City Trying 2 Ways to 'Deodorize' Lake

Septic-smelling Osmun Lake continues to be a problem, according to a report submitted last night to the City Commission.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reviewed efforts to abate the odor coming from the lake.

Warren said two steps had been taken by the city in its battle to get rid of the foul lake odor, which apparently is caused by decaying raw sewage.

The sewage passed into the lake when a diversion chamber was blocked by a small tree.

Warren said that an attempt has been made to aerate the lake by pumping air through a perforated hose out into the lake.

Ad Urges End to Detroit's Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — A newspaper advertisement is being used in this city which has been without its two major daily newspapers for more than four months to urge an end to the long strike.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reviewed efforts to abate the odor coming from the lake.

Warren said two steps had been taken by the city in its battle to get rid of the foul lake odor, which apparently is caused by decaying raw sewage.

The sewage passed into the lake when a diversion chamber was blocked by a small tree.

Warren said that an attempt has been made to aerate the lake by pumping air through a perforated hose out into the lake.

The pumping process will continue through today, said Warren. It began yesterday.

A second step to combat the odor has been an attempt to chlorinate the lake water.

DUMPED INTO LAKE

Five hundred pounds of powdered sodium hypochlorite was dumped into the lake yesterday, he said.

Warren added that a second batch of chlorine would be dumped today.

The commission was also told last night that a temporary dam in Pontiac Creek had increased the lake level by approximately 15 inches.

The State Water Resources Commission in Lansing has been contacted for suggestions on solving the odor problem.

Warren said they indicated the only possible solution was to wait for cold weather, rain or snow, allowing the water level to increase and the natural action to clear the lake.

Test Reaction to Tax Change

Tax assessing and equalization officials in the Detroit area were given the opportunity yesterday to sound off on the State Tax Commission's new personal property assessment schedule.

However, the results, if any, may not be known for some time.

Headline speaker in a Detroit hearing before the state legislative interim committee on taxation was Mayor Verone P. Cavanaugh of Detroit.

Vance C. Fouts, Hazel Park supervisor and chairman of the Oakland County equalization committee, also presented his views on the new depreciation schedule.

Others who attended from Oakland County were Harold J. Remer of Royal Oak and Clark H. Hagstrom of Birmingham, assessors of their respective cities and equalization committee members, and Frank F. Webber of Addison Township, chairman pro tem of the board of supervisors.

SERIES OF HEARINGS

The interim committee is holding a series of hearings in industrial areas to learn reaction to a recent revision of personal property assessment regulations.

Centered mainly on factory machinery and equipment, the new depreciation schedule is designed to provide a tax break for industry.

It is viewed with alarm by assessors and equalization departments in Michigan's industrial areas, however, because it takes a big slice out of their income from tax revenue and provides no means of reimbursement.

Edwin C. Sage, Oakland County Equalization Department director, estimates the potential loss to the county's tax base at $22 million, which would cut the county's 1965 tax revenue by some $2 million.

PONTIAC THREATENED

Pontiac, as well as other industrial cities in the Detroit area, is also threatened with a sizable cut in personal property tax revenue.

City and county officials are hopeful that the State Tax Commission can be induced to reconsider its latest directive, but the outlook is dim.

"We'll probably have to go over their (the tax commission's) heads," Fouts said.

This new system of assessments originated with the governor, and it will be up to the governor to change it.

Unless some means of reimbursement is found, Fouts said, school districts and real property owners may feel the pinch.

Birmingham Area News

Bloomfield Hills Board Gets Teacher Pay Plan

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education last night received the teachers' incentive salary schedule from which it will draw a February millage proposal.

Cost has been estimated at $568,730 for the schedule's first year of operation. The figure is expected to be pared before the program is taken to district voters.

Levy required to finance the program is expected to be between 3 and 4.5 mills.

The proposed schedule presented last night was the result of three months of work by the board's teacher salary study committee.

For the first time, it would boost over the $10,000 mark the salaries of teachers now in the system who rank at the top level in terms of service and training.

UP TO LEVEL

The study committee composed of board members, administrators, teachers and citizens was appointed in July to make recommendations which would bring the pay of Bloomfield Hills teachers up to the level of comparable districts in the area.

Committee members noted last night that the Bloomfield Hills rates now compare unfavorably to those in districts like Birmingham, Oak Park, Grosse Pointe, Southfield, Dearborn and Royal Oak.

Outstanding characteristic of the proposed schedule is the provision for incentive or merit increases, which would allow "superior pay for superior performance."

The program would reward the teacher who excels in his field and continues his education while working in the system.

BASE PAY

The base pay for a beginning teacher would be unchanged at $5,300.

But increases spread over a 12-year period would take the holder of a bachelor's degree up to $8,650 a year, while the maximum now is $8,110. Incentive pay would add $600 to the top figure.

INCENTIVE PAY

For a teacher who has obtained 20 credit hours beyond his bachelor's, the range would be from $5,450 as a beginner to $8,800 after 12 years, marking an increase of $500 in the latter category. The top incentive pay at this point would be $9,400.

The 12-year teacher with a master's degree and 30 additional credit hours who qualified for incentive pay would get $10,600.

WOULD BE ELIGIBLE

Under the tentative schedule, teachers would be eligible for incentive pay consideration after their third year.

Administrators have estimated that 85 per cent of the district's teachers would merit the incentive — salary raises.

A system for reviewing their qualifications now is being devised by the study committee.

Last night's board meeting was attended by some 75 persons, many of them teachers.

The session pointed to an even more lively one Dec. 3, when the board is expected to formulate a millage proposal.

COST FIGURES

At that time, trustees will receive cost figures, a report from board attorney Lawrence King and another from the League of Women Voters to aid in consideration of the matter.

They also will get an operational millage recommendation from Schools Superintendent Eugene Johnson.

Seek Millage for Recreation

Request for Program at Bloomfield Hills

The Bloomfield Hills Recreation Commission wants a millage levy to finance a 50 per cent increase in its program.

Board of education members last night agreed that the levy is needed, but they indicated they had reservations about putting the request on the same ballot with that for teachers' salary increases.

The recreation commission, which operates under the jurisdiction of the school board, urged trustees to seek a half-mill or one-third-mill levy designated specifically for recreation.

Commission Chairman Merrill O. Bates and his associates made their presentation just before the board received a tentative teachers' salary schedule from which they will form a February millage request.

Bates noted that the commission and Bloomfield Township officials were contemplating a joint survey which would bring to light the recreational needs of the two units and indicate more efficient ways to use existing facilities.

BOOSTED IN '63

The school district's recreation program, boosted in 1963 when Edwin Wichert was appointed to direct it, last year attracted some 4,000 participants. The commission now would like to hire an assistant director and a secretary.

Regarding the effect of the planned survey on a millage proposal, Bates said, "There is no need to wait. We don't have to justify the excellence of the program we already have."

The commission last year received $13,000 in operating funds from the school board and collected about $28,000 in fees.

"We would like a definite sum for long-term planning," Bates said.

DIFFICULT

Wichert noted it is difficult to hire good instructors when he can't guarantee that registration will warrant holding a particular class.

"We need to have something behind us," he said. "We could offer a program and give people a chance to try it out."

Using the district's present assessed valuation, a half-mill would net about $41,000, and one-third-mill about $38,000.

The school board will give further consideration to the request at its Dec. 3 meeting, when it also is expected to draft the millage proposition for salary increases.

Manager Defends City Income Tax

The Nastrooms have indicated they are not necessarily opposed to the income tax, but feel that a referendum should be conducted.

They intend to gather 2,500 signatures before the Dec. 15 filing deadline.

Customs officials heard faint cries of help from the trunk. When they opened it, they found an almost unconscious man strapped to an apparatus that looked like it came from a medieval torture box.

The trunk was lined with leather and had a tiny seat, built-in shoes and ankle clips to hold the feet in place, and a metal neck clamp and a kind of crash helmet to hold the head steady.

Growing Nuisance

Junk Thieves Ransack Boyle's Desk

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Office thievery, is a growing problem today.

"Big industries steal their big and small secrets from each other. Spies in business may make more money than spies in government. But most office thieves merely are novelty larcenists—junk takers."

BOYLE

My desk has been invaded by them too often, and I feel they are an ordeal and an unnecessary nuisance.

Most people keep immaculately clean desks. They live as if, when they quit their desks on any day, they had no reason to come back to them tomorrow. If they died overnight, the newcomer who took their place the next morning would find a mirror newness.

FRIGHTENED MIND

I live another way. I believe a clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind.

Most people lock their desks. I don't. I leave my desk unlocked and piled daily higher with a clutter of wistfulness, postponed decisions and unanswered letters.

This is why it puzzles me that I am more often a victim of office thievery than those who keep neat, locked desks.

Experience has convinced me that office thieves either use my desk for practice, or that, mistaking availability for value, they take what is there and hope it may be useful later. Certainly I don't cuddle the secret of how to make cheaper steel or a protein-enriched cola drink.

OFFICE SPIES

I hate to think that an international ring of office espionage artists is employing my desk for a training ground, but how else can I explain that—

My letters from admiring old ladies have been ruthlessly opened, and peered into.

So have been the follow-up

High Tides Hit Alaska City

SELDovia, Alaska (AP) — Thirty-three homes were flooded Tuesday night as record high tides hit this quake-tilted community.

Seldovia sank 3.4 feet after the March 27 earthquake and the high tides of this week were expected to do minor damage. Sandbags had been flown in from Anchorage.

The community of 400 is a boardwalk town largely built on piers.

"We're jacking up some buildings to get them above the high water mark," Bud Dietz, manager of the telephone company said.

Tides of 21 feet were expected here today. A 22.4-foot tide, the year's highest, is expected Friday.

Freeway to Be Opened

LANSING (AP) — The $40-million east-west freeway in Grand Rapids will be opened to traffic Dec. 14, the State Highway Department has announced. The 12.5-mile freeway extends from I-96 at the east edge of Grand Rapids to M21 east of Grandville.

letters from their husbands saying, "No matter what my wife wrote you, if you try to sell her anything, I'll tell you right now that I'll not be financially responsible."

So have been my invitations to cocktail parties to celebrate a new tractor, or to judge the vocal excellence of a troupe of visiting canaries.

RESENTED

Careless as I am, I still resent the fact that any office thief should purloin from my desk such as the following:

My unmailed encouraging note to Gen. Custer, before the Battle of the Little Big Horn in 1876, "just keep on herding those Indians." George, and you'll be back in Washington as Army chief of staff.

A wry postcard from William Jennings Bryan following his defeat for the presidency in 1908, after earlier losing in 1896 and 1900. "Well, you can't win them all, kid!"

The telegram I sent to a man named Ford: "If you ask my advice, Henry, don't put your trust in a four-wheeled vehicle just because it wears out more tires. The big future is in a three-wheeled car."

And the advice I gave to Tom Edison: "What's the use of putting a light inside a closed glass bulb — if it makes it just that much harder to reach with a match?"

The trouble with an office thief is that he usually steals something that isn't at all important to him but may be to the one he preys upon. And he comes to a disorderly desk as a moth to a flame.

The less there is worth stealing, the more he takes — simply because it is there.

There isn't much glory in robbing a city dump, and a guy who holds up a dump instead of a bank shows himself to be a pitiful amateur — and so do most office thieves.

Relief, Education Measures Considered

Johnson Legislative Program Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's legislative program is expanding like a batch of yeast bread in a warm kitchen.

Until Tuesday, about all that had been mentioned in the way of priority legislation were two big bills the President did not get last year — medical care for the aged under Social Security and the Appalachia bill to pump federal aid into the depressed 11-state mountain region.

But after a White House conference with the President Tuesday, House Democratic leader Carl Albert talked to reporters in his Capitol office and said these measures also are being considered as next in line after those two:

— Expanded Social Security benefits for all present recipients.

— A new life for the area redevelopment program, aimed at jacking up the economies of high-unemployment areas. This proposal fell by the wayside in the last Congress.

— An immigration bill revising the old quota system.

— A program for increased and liberalized unemployment compensation.

— And perhaps a general aid to education bill below the college level, a program that in the past has always foundered on the shoals of the religious school question.

TO BE CONSIDERED

As to the last, Albert said, "Well, I'm sure that will be considered."

vacation in his Oklahoma district.

Albert emphasized that none of these things were discussed in detail at the White House, but only in the most general way.

The President, with whopping majorities in both houses, is in a position to get almost anything he wants through Congress.

NUISANCE TAXES

The President also has called for repeal of a number of "nuisance" type excise taxes on handbags, lipsticks and the like. House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who engineered some serious setbacks to the President's legislation program in the last session, already has conceded quick passage of the medical care and Appalachia bills.

Halleck told a news conference Monday that "maybe everything the President wants will be automatically enacted into law."

Albert said the President promised to complete his legislative program as soon as possible and put it in the hands of the congressional leaders.

QUICK ACTION

In the meantime, Albert said, the leaders would "get together with these committee chairmen with legislation hanging over from the last session . . . and see if we couldn't put them together quickly for quick action."

Social Security, medical care and Appalachia fall into that category.

Albert said the new Congress probably would take five or six weeks to get organized.

Asked if passage of medical care in June sounded like a good guess on the timetable, Albert said: "That sounds pretty slow to me."

Sets House Afire to Reunite Parents

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy told police he wanted to bring his parents back together so he set his mother's house afire.

Detective Fairlee Morgan reported Tuesday, that the boy said his father lived in Montgomery, Ala., and his mother lived in Mobile in a house belonging to relatives.

The boy was quoted as saying he thought his mother would have to go to Montgomery if the house burned.

The fire was stopped before much damage was done to the small frame house.

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, as acting governor in the absence of Gov. George Romney, has declared Nov. 15-21 as Freedom from Hunger Week in Michigan. Lesinski urged support of the Freedom from Hunger Foundation and other groups working through the United Nations.

Blind Young Lawyer Has Good Record

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. David Murrell of Frankfort, Ky., prepares a case for the Kentucky State Court of Appeals. The blind lawyer has only been practicing one year and has won 10 straight cases before the appeals court.

That's probably not an incredible record for many attorneys, but Murrell, blind since he was a child, has been out of law school only about a year.

Murrell, 27, has never orally argued a case before Kentucky's highest court, which rarely calls for oral presentations, and he's eager to get into a courtroom.

"I'm looking forward to getting out and doing trial work — sort of face-to-face combat," he says.

Murrell has done exceptionally well in handling criminal and alcoholic beverage cases and writing legal opinions, says Atty. Gen. Robert Matthews.

GOOD GRASP

"I'm impressed with him," Matthews says. "He has a firm grasp of the legal situation and a good legal mind."

"You know lawyers either have an understanding of the law or they don't. Dave does. He has a very retentive mind."

Murrell joined the government last October under former Atty. Gen. John Breckinridge, and Matthews retained him. "This is the best experience possible," says Murrell. "In my first year I've learned quite a bit about law."

WIFE AT SCHOOL

Murrell's wife, Laura, is attending the University of Kentucky Law School, where he got his degree.

Laura, who is not blind, was an honor student in economics before taking up the law.

"She says I persuaded her to go into law school, but I think she has natural inclinations to be a lawyer," Murrell said.

Laura often helps him at the office. Some day, Murrell says, they plan to set up a private practice.

A second-year law student, Gene Lewter, works part-time helping Murrell research cases. Murrell tells him where to look, and Lewter reads the law books.

Murrell writes his legal papers with a standard typewriter, and a secretary retypes them for him.

BEVERAGE EXPERT

He is becoming an expert in state alcoholic beverage laws and is slowly building up a library on the subject.

Matthews' admiration for Murrell's work is reflected in his aide's paycheck. Murrell got a raise a few weeks ago.

Federal Hand Bitten Trying to Feed State

A "man bites dog" on a national scale took place recently.

With Federal grants becoming a way of life to many state and local governments, Oregon made news by turning one down.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture offered the state $25,000 a year to pay for milk served children in four state institutions. As it happens, this milk is produced on a farm operated by the state prison and the children are getting it now.

The Oregon Secretary of State said: "This is a prime example of the idiocy of the Federal government. They want to give us some of our own money back for doing what we already do."

And GOP Governor HATFIELD added condemnation worthy the consideration of all thoughtful Americans: "I don't know if one small state can stop this foolishness. It takes courage to show that the states can't be bought off by a Federal bribe. This is an attempt (by the administration) to tranquilize the states. I vote 'no.'"

The amount of money involved in this case is trivial, by Federal hand-out standards. What is important is the question of principle it raises. The word "bribe" as used by the governor is a strong one — but it seems to fit the occasion.

A round of applause for Gov. HATFIELD.

Local Schools Expand Service to Community

Gratifying progress marks the vocational - occupational program initiated last spring by the Pontiac school system.

The advanced concept in vocational and adult education has had encouraging acceptance, with 88 students currently enrolled in Manpower Development Training Act programs, 150 in company-financed apprenticeship courses and 340 in adult education classes.

Under the MDTA, a Federal project to train, retrain and upgrade individuals in needed skills, the government foots the bill — with no charge to the trainees.

Local industries finance the apprentice instruction.

In the adult education area, a program of 10 night school courses is offered, pointing toward a high school diploma, personal improvement in office skills and trade extension.

School officials are to be warmly commended on their enlightened step in community education and local residents on the alacrity with which they have responded to it.

Natural Hazards Are Undoing of Humanity

Reminiscent of the disastrous dust bowl of the 30s that enveloped the Great Plains area of the United States, impoverishing thousands of landholders, is the current drought that has struck two-thirds of the country from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast.

Colorado's $100 million wheat crop may be a total loss, while in the Midwest, corn and soybean crops have suffered heavily. Thousands of head of cattle have been sent to market for lack of feed.

Water has been critically short in several Eastern and North-eastern states, and sinking water levels of the Great Lakes have obliged shippers to lighten cargoes of freighters. Meanwhile forest fires blazed in a dozen states from Iowa to New England.

Authorities termed the drought the worst in a century in some areas and pointed out that in many sections this is the third year of below-normal rainfall. They predict that, unless there is heavy rainfall soon, farmers might be in trouble for years to come.

Only the Deep South and Far West have escaped, with California experiencing heavy rains and floods, and Arizona one of the worst blizzards in its history.

Reflecting the gravity of the emergency is the action of the U. S. Interior Department in setting up a new office in Denver to study ways of getting the elements to cooperate. Some $500,000 in contracts was awarded firms to look into rain-making methods.

This is indeed a grim reminder that despite man's giant strides in the realm of science, he is still but a puppet in the hands of nature's awesome forces.

Senators Vying to Be New Whip

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Johnson is preparing to send his own legislative program along the old, storm-swept congressional trail.

This time it will carry his brand alone, rather than the joint JFK-LBJ sign of the previous Congress.

The Texas rancher is sure to watch over it as if it were a prize newborn calf.

The congressional signs bode well for the President's program.

Johnson's Democrats will have their biggest majority in the House since the New Deal days and have increased their top-heavy edge in the Senate.

KEY TO SUCCESS

But big majorities don't dazzle Johnson. The man who made his reputation generating Democratic forces in the Senate believes that leadership is the key to success.

So he is faced with the problem: filling Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey's shoes as the party's assistant leader, or more descriptively, the whip, in the Senate.

It's a big job and big shoes.

Russell B. Long of Louisiana, Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island all have announced they would like the job and circulated letters to their colleagues seeking support.

HART MENTIONED

Other names have been mentioned, including Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

Technically the President has no hand in making the selection. The decision will be made by the Democrats voting in caucus before Congress opens.

But realizing what a quietly spread word from the President can mean, Long and Monroney told newsmen Johnson had informed him he wasn't taking a hand in it.

Long reported that he thought the caucus would pick him "provided President Johnson does not enter the situation."

It is the "bantam roster of the Senate," Pastore, whom Long regards as his toughest opponent.

Will The Real GOP Stand UP . . . And Get Going

David Lawrence Asks:

Who Will Pull NATO N-Trigger?

WASHINGTON — Despite the outward signs that all nations fear a nuclear war so much that they will be hesitant even to use such devastating weapons, the United States government and the governments of its allies in Western Europe nevertheless are today deeply engrossed in the problem of how to handle a nuclear war.

The principal question at issue is who shall pull the trigger in reprisal if an attack comes. Up to now, it has been assumed that the president of the United States would have the veto.

Now it looks as if there will never be an effective Western alliance under such conditions and that the European governments will insist on an equal voice.

The question emerges because of the possible power of what is called a "multilateral force." It would consist of a fleet of 25 surface ships, each of which would carry eight Polaris nuclear-tipped missiles.

These missiles are the same as those aboard Polaris submarines of the United States Navy and have a warhead of one megaton, which is equal to one million tons of TNT. These weapons are capable of destroying the 140 main cities of Russia.

Up to now, the world has been given the impression that most of the nuclear power would be exerted through missiles from bases either in this country or on the European continent.

But apparently the idea of firing nuclear weapons from the ocean is considered very effective because it would be difficult for enemy submarines or aircraft to distinguish the surface ships from the thousands of other merchant vessels traveling the high seas.

SURPRISE ATTACK

The theory is that, while Russia might make a surprise attack on the land bases and at the same time destroy a substantial part of the areas heavily populated by the Western peoples, it would be possible for ships at sea equipped with nuclear-tipped missiles to survive and, by retaliating immediately, to lay waste a vast area of the enemy country.

It is obvious, of course, that if any such retaliatory power can be exerted, the mere possession of such weapons would be a deterrent.

But the whole problem has many perplexing aspects from a practical standpoint. The firing of the missiles from the surface ships would be controlled by a multilateral group of allied officials, not on board any of the ships.

These would represent the various countries which provide the crews, and the officers would take orders from the decision-making group.

CONTROL FORMULA

As of now, the countries participating in the preliminary experiments are the United States, West Germany, Britain, Italy, Holland, Greece, Turkey and, to a lesser extent, Belgium. The exact control formula has not been worked out, but will be the subject of intensive negotiations in the coming weeks.

The British prime minister is expected to discuss this subject with President Johnson here in early December. One proposal has been made that a majority of the group should order the fleet into action.

The secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has just declared at Paris that NATO must have full military and political control over the allied multilateral nuclear force, and that this must be incorporated in the alliance.

So it does look as if no one man in the Western alliance finally is going to decide who uses nuclear weapons.

For if the United States doesn't delegate some authority to NATO, as was recommended during the campaign by Sen. Goldwater, the likelihood is that each of the larger nations in Europe will develop its own nuclear force.

Bob Considine Says:

Popularity of Twist Bodes Ill for Future of Poland

Passed through the Iron Curtain:

Poland's days are numbered. The Twist is the rage at Warsaw's Hotel Europejski on Saturday and Sunday nights. Complete collapse must soon follow.

The participants go about with a neat combination of determination and coy abandon. They are young and well-dressed, though the city itself is burdened with privations and inconveniences that would bring a howl of indignation from any American slum.

Best guess is that they are the sons and daughters of Polish Communist officials: Sort of a case of "playboys, and girls, of the Eastern world."

For a fellow fresh from the American election rumpus, the reaction of Antonin Nowotny was a letdown.

We've heard of such things for years, but the sight of 300 members of the central committee of the Czechoslovakian Communist party putting a man into office by simply raising their hands was a bit hard to watch.

Czechoslovakia once was a dream of Woodrow Wilson's come true. It was once the land of Benes and of the Masaryks. To watch 300 of its 14 million persons choose the leader was therefore depressing.

NO HURRAHS

There wasn't a whisper of a hurrah from the people, at least from the people we looked at in downtown Prague right after Novotny's acceptance speech, which was a matter-of-fact "thank you."

There was no bunting displayed, no public pictures of the man, no loud speakers playing the anthem. Nothing.

In Poland, the U.S. Embassy's first secretary, popular Pat Kelly, has found a way of stopping Polish officials who kid him about the belated discovery of "bugs" in that place.

He shakes them by saying, "Yes, you're right. Now what was that thing you told me in the embassy about how you disapprove of what's happening in Poland?"

In 1962, George Romney became Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years.

He won with an 80,000-vote margin in an otherwise predominantly Democratic state election.

At the time, we contended that while he had won the governorship, he was faced with an even more difficult task. He had to prove himself.

In two years he would have to make considerable headway in correcting a mess that had existed for more than a decade and had worsened with each succeeding fiscal year. And he would have to do it in the face of a hostile Democratic "cabinet" and a bloc of resentful old-guard Republican legislators who took a dim view of this political upstart — especially when he accused Republicans

LBJ Calls In Advisers for Strategy Session on U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson called in his top diplomatic advisers today to plan U.S. strategy for a fast-approaching crisis with the Soviet Union over United Nations financing.

The future of the world organization may be at stake in the moneybag showdown between the two great powers over Russia's refusal to pay more than $54 million in past due assessments for U.N. peace-keeping forces in the Congo and Middle East.

A clash is expected Dec. 1 at the opening of the 20th U.N. General Assembly in New York City unless the United States or Russia backs down on the issue.

"We're on a collision course," said one State Department official.

Johnson arranged a conference at 1 p.m. EST with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland to discuss the financing deadlock and other U.N. matters.

There were indications the Chief Executive would reaffirm the nation's hard line and demand payment of the Soviet share or move to deprive the Russians of a vote in the U.N. assembly.

"American officials said they believed the U.S. position would be supported on a separate vote in the assembly, even though many nations trying to preserve neutrality in the East-West conflict probably would abstain."

Under a provision of the U.N. Charter, Russia could lose its assembly vote for being two years behind in paying assessments. U.S. sources said, however, they doubted Russia would allow this to happen.

Eager to avoid a Soviet-American clash, several African nations are supporting a compromise proposal. This would allow the Soviet Union and other nations in arrears to make "voluntary" contributions to a separate fund and thus escape the penalty for nonpayment — loss of a vote.

FOLLOWED LINE

So far, the new Soviet regime has followed the line laid down by ex-Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that assessments must be approved by the U.N. Security Council, where Russia has the vote, and not by the General Assembly as was the case in the Congo and Mideast missions.

The United States showed firmness Monday in declaring it would make no pledge at this time to contribute to the 1965 U.N. technical aid program for developing nations.

In the past, U.S. donations accounted for 40 per cent of all contributions.

If Johnson continues this course and the Russians still refuse to pay up, the United Nations could disintegrate from lack of funds for both its technical aid and policing missions.

Despite the serious nature of the dispute, one U.S. source said there was a glimmer of hope that the Russians would accept some compromise to avoid an open clash.

BOUFFANTS SPARK RIFT

Hair-Styling Pupils Rebel

KANSAS CITY (AP)—George Heavilin was chagrined to find about half of his 30 pupils in hair-styling yesterday were wearing their long, up and out.

"Short and down," he decreed.

The 30 sat all afternoon refusing to attend classes or practice.

"I happen to think this bouffant looks good on me," said Karen Bowling, 18.

Heavilin flourished the contract his pupils sign. It has a clause in which they agree to wear their hair in a professional style.

Bouffants, Heavilin said, went out seven years ago. He recommended the new "flirtation" hairdo—no longer than around the nape of the neck with soft curls and gentle waves. After sitting all afternoon, Heavilin's pupils went to see a lawyer. He advised them not to let anyone take their picture.

New England Water Shortage Critical

Rain, Snow Dampen Some Drought Areas

CHICAGO (AP) — Moderate precipitation dampened the dry Midwest Tuesday, but barren New England remained in the grip of its most prolonged drought in history.

The water shortage in the New England areas became more critical. Officials feared the supply would be depleted within weeks.

The situation was different in Oklahoma when light rains continued after downpours which caused floods in several areas.

Intermittent rains which began over the weekend continued in the eastern third of Kansas and adjacent Missouri. The rains eased a record autumn siege of dry, hot weather.

SNOW SQUALLS

Colder temperatures brought locally heavy snow squalls to most of Michigan, the heaviest around Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. The snow was expected in Detroit tonight.

A thin blanket of snow covered sections of northern Indiana Tuesday morning. Rain continued to fall on parched rural areas. It was the first substantial precipitation in Indiana in more than a month.

Pasture conditions improved somewhat in Illinois due to weekend rains.

The drought continued almost unabated in New England where the U.S. Department of Agriculture says the worst pasture conditions in the nation exist. Crop losses are expected to reach $20 million.

NO RELIEF

No drought relief is sighted in Connecticut where the state's woodlands and bushlands have been closed, banning all hunting and fishing in these areas.

New York State received some snow flurries along with a wave of cold air. Woods in 45 counties are still closed because of the fire hazard the state's six-month-long drought has created. Many communities are low on water and are using emergency supplies.

Waters receded in north Oklahoma despite light rains. The Chickasaw River, which overflowed Tuesday and drove scores of families from their homes, was back in its banks in most places. However, both Ponca City and Tonkawa were braced for a rise in the Arkansas River from steady rains. Subzero temperatures and heavy snows hit the northern mountains of Arizona again.

FEARS EASED

Rains eased fears of forest fires in West Virginia and New Mexico. Rainfall in both states, however, is less than normal.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt lifted the ban on entering woods and forests in 62 Kentucky counties following rain and cooler temperatures.

On the West Coast, snow measuring two to eight inches was reported in desert areas. The mercury dropped to near freezing at Daguerre, Calif., one of the nation's summer hot spots. A half foot of snow covered nearby Palmdale.

Snow also fell in the northern and central Rockies and drizzle sprayed areas from the eastern slopes of the Rockies into the central plains. Light rain sprinkled areas from Tennessee to New England.

COLD SPREADS

Cold and windy weather spread into the Northeast. Winds of 50 m.p.h. swept the Mesas, N.Y., area.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 5 below zero at Ely, Nev., to 74 at Laredo, Tex.

GENEROUS PRISONER—Thomas Bommarito, 70, serving a life sentence in the Southern Michigan State Prison for a gangland-style killing, greets children in the St. Joseph Home for Boys in Jackson. Bommarito has been sending checks from his prison salary to the home for many years. Now he has made parole and soon will be deported to his native Italy. Special permission was given for his visit to the home.

Prisoner Gives to Boys' Home

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The following is another in the weekly AP Michigan membership feature exchange series. The story is offered by The Jackson Citizen Patriot.)

JACKSON (AP) — Through the years the checks came to the St. Joseph Home for boys in Jackson. They were for $20, $25 and sometimes $50.

There was always a note, said Sister Mary Arcadia, home director. Like this one:

"With this money buy each of the children an orange, an ice cream cone and some clothing." The notes and checks were always brought by the Rev. Father F. Leon Cahill, Catholic chaplain at the nearby State Prison for Southern Michigan.

WHO WAS DONOR?

One day Sister Arcadia asked who the donor was.

"It had been going on for so long," the priest said, "that I didn't realize it was a secret."

The donor: Thomas Bommarito, 70, serving a life sentence for a gangland-style killing. Bommarito said he didn't want anyone to think he was trying to make "points" with God through his charity. He had used his prison salary to provide extras for the youngsters on Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving and other holidays.

EMBARRASSED

Bommarito was embarrassed when he was found out. But Sister Arcadia said his embarrassment soon turned to happiness.

"I started getting letters from the sisters and Christmas cards from the kids," Bommarito said. "I can't explain how much it has meant to me."

In a letter, Sister Arcadia asked Bommarito if he could come for a visit.

"If I asked the administration that," he replied, "they'd probably place me in a mental ward."

But Warden George Drupp didn't think that way. Bommarito had made parole. He would be deported to his native Italy soon. The visit was granted.

"It was like meeting my family for the first time," said Bommarito. "The boys all knew me by name."

"One boy even kept saying 'my name's Tommy too, my name's Tommy too," Bommarito said.

Before leaving for Italy, Bommarito recalled that "many times I thought I'd die in prison. But the prayers of the sisters and the kids must have been answered. There is nothing stronger than a child's prayer."

"I'll still do what I can for them but I wish others would make sure they keep getting those little extras."

Bommarito was to work on a church estate in Italy where his brother is a parish priest.

"Before he left, Tommy promised that he would remember the home," said Sister Arcadia said. "He didn't say how. He just said he would remember the home."

Ball Optimistic on N-Accord for NATO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball has returned from Europe optimistic about prospects for agreement early next year for formation of a nuclear weapons force within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ball came back Tuesday from the first of two scheduled European missions concerned primarily with divisions among the Atlantic allies over a variety of military, political and economic problems.

His primary concern, however, has been to do everything possible to move forward work on the nuclear weapons problem.

He told reporters that he brought back "a good deal of optimism as regard to the spirit" with which interested European allies are now working on the U.S. proposal for organization of a seaborne nuclear missile force.

GERMANS DETERMINED

"I think the German government is very determined to try to make a success of this proposal," Ball said.

However, he said it would take some weeks beyond the previous year-end deadline for an agreement in order to give the new British Labor government time to work out its position on the nuclear weapons issue.

Ball devoted his trip of the last few days to conferring with German leaders, including Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

He made it obvious that Germany, which was earlier pressing hard for an agreement by the end of the year, and the United States have agreed on a delay of at least some weeks so the British may have time to come up with any new proposals they may wish to make.

Other officials said, in fact, that it is the new British Labor government's active interest in finding solutions for the various heretofore divisive issues in the nuclear weapons project which is the real cause of the new surge of optimism about getting an agreement.

The United States and West

Germany have been pressing vigorously for the seaborne nuclear force for more than a year.

One purpose of the United States in supporting the project is to give West Germany a more active role along with other allies in nuclear weapons strategy and control. Otherwise, U.S. authorities believe, the day may come when West Germany will press for its own national nuclear force.

The projected nuclear missile force would be composed of 25 surface vessels each armed with eight nuclear-tipped Polaris missiles. It would be jointly paid for and jointly manned by all the participating countries.

As U.S. officials see the present situation, Britain's more active participation in allied consultations on the proposal means that other European countries may now also become more interested.

So far there is no hope here, however, that the French government of Charles de Gaulle can be induced to participate.

De Gaulle has committed France to build a national nuclear force, and allied divisions with France over this issue now seem certain to continue.

Uphold Decree in Chrysler Suit

Settlement of Dispute

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The Delaware Supreme Court unanimously upheld Tuesday a Chancery Court decree that could become a major step in settling a lengthy legal battle by some stockholders against Chrysler Corp.

Unsettled, and still to be waged, however, is a legal war over attorneys' fees estimated to run $5.8 million.

The 3-0 decision by Delaware's Supreme Court upheld a report of March 10 by Chancellor Collins J. Seitz.

That ruling provided for the dropping of stockholders' suits against the automobile concern by Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann, A. James Gallo of New Castle, Del., and his wife along with countersuits against Dann by Chrysler.

COMPENSATION PLAN

The settlement also provided for a new incentive compensation plan for Chrysler executives. The old incentive plan was based on pretax income. The new plan provides executive bonuses figured on an after-tax basis.

The stockholders' legal action started in August 1960, when Dann and others charged mismanagement and conflict of interest by some Chrysler executives.

The Chrysler executives then filed countersuits.

In February, as the final agreement was being worked out, Dann announced he was disassociating himself from his attorneys. He presented his own oral argument opposing the proposed settlement. Tuesday's ruling, however, ruled his arguments could not become a part of the record.

Justice Daniel F. Wolcott, wrote the opinion. He was joined by Justice James B. Carey and Delaware Superior Court Judge Albert J. Stifel, sitting as a temporary member on Delaware's highest court. There was no immediate indication if there would be further appeals.

Indict White Man for Rape of Negro

CHIPLEY, Fla. (AP) — The Washington County grand jury has indicted a white minister from Slocomb, Ala., for the rape of a Negro girl.

The Rev. Trim Finch, 46, listed as pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church in Slocomb, was named in the indictment, returned Tuesday after two days of testimony.

Police said the 16-year-old alleged victim had been hired by Finch as a baby sitter.

Confab for Teachers of the Handicapped

EAST LANSING (AP) — Some 400 teachers of the mentally handicapped are expected to attend a conference Friday and Saturday on the "3 B's—Being, Behaving and Becoming." Keynote speaker will be Dr. Earl C. Kelley, distinguished professor of education at Wayne State University.

AAUW Branch Has Report on Families

"The Concerns and Satisfaction of Families in the Tri-County Area" were discussed at the Monday meeting of the Pontiac branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) held in the Community Services building.

Speaker was Carol Kurth of the Michigan State Cooperative Extension Service. The content of the talk was taken from a study survey of families in Oakland, Lapeer and Livingston counties.

Branch president, Mrs. Philip Lockhart represented the unit at a recent meeting held to plan the "Explorations in Education" lecture series scheduled to start in January. The series is sponsored by the Oakland University Scholarship Committee.

Chairman of the committee composing the "Roster of Qualified Candidates" for the state and city appointments by Gov. George Romney is Margaret Steward.

OTHERS HELPING

Participating in other parts of the Monday program were: Laura Belz, Mrs. Robert Oliver II, Dorothy Lawyer, Mrs. Chester Arnold, Mrs. Ervin Bartel and Mrs. E. C. Carlson.

Others assisting were: Grace Clark, Mrs. Gerald Frericks, Mrs. Harold Gillow, Mrs. Homer McVean and Elesta Schaeffer. Mrs. Norman Cheal and Mrs. Julius Middeldorf were guests for the evening.

Auxiliary Set to Give to Families

The Waterford Jaycee Auxiliary made final arrangements to supply Thanksgiving holiday food baskets to five families for their Monday meeting.

Each member brought a food contribution to the gathering in the Sheryl Drive home of Mrs. David Zuehlke. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Marshall Katchka and Mrs. Jack Cooper.

Heading the annual project is Mrs. James Curd, assisted by Mrs. John Radenbaugh, Mrs. Ray Freebrey, Mrs. John Trulu and Mrs. Jeffery Cornish.

Mrs. Tim Patterson, Mrs. Cornish, Mrs. Robert Wright and Mrs. Cooper will work on another project by giving permanent to four girls at the Oakland County Children's home this week.

TO AID JAYCEES

Assisting the Jaycees with the "Junior Miss" program will be: Mrs. Freebrey, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Michael Patterson.

New members at the meeting were Mrs. Roy Linn, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Kenneth Wright. Guests were Mrs. Charles Hopkins and Mrs. Charles Wood.

Athletics to Benefit From Party

An evening of card games, 8 p.m. Saturday in the parish hall of St. Michael's Catholic Church, will help sponsor a year of school sports.

The "Thanksgiving Card Party," sponsored by the school's athletic association, is held annually to raise funds for the purchase of sports equipment.

Chairman Mrs. Dennis Daugherty is assisted by Mrs. William Brown.

Others working on the event are Mrs. Warren Newton, Mrs. Joseph Cassaban, Mrs. Tom Thornberry and Mrs. Charles English.

Grant Lampher, association president; Mrs. Harry Cook, Mrs. Michael Harbert and Mrs. Louis Petruska are also assisting.

Completing the list of workers are Mrs. Edwin Backes, Mrs. Gordon Gillette and Rose Griffin. The public is invited to attend.

Hunt Ball Attracts a Capacity Crowd

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

The 47th annual Hunt Ball takes place in the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club on Saturday evening.

Joint Masters of Fox Hounds, Albert A. Clark and Richard P. Kuschel, have issued invitations to all members in the club as well as to all other hunts in the state.

The club rooms will be filled to capacity. Among those entertaining for dinner are Mrs. John G. Wood with 26 guests; and the C. P. Noonans and Mr. and Mrs. A. Howard Maedel, each having a table of 12.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. William Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs.

Raymond Danto, the Harold Havermales and the John Taylors.

Dorothy Ann Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Norman J. Norman Jr., son of the Frank E. Hoags of Freeland, has been honored at many parties.

Her sister - in - law, Mrs. James Ellis, was cohostess with Mrs. D. A. Listello at a luncheon and kitchen shower Saturday in Mrs. Ellis's home.

This Saturday Mrs. Ralph Freeman will entertain the bride - elect and bridesmaids for luncheon in her Birmingham home. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hoag are giving the rehearsal dinner at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Others who have feted Dorothy Ann are Mesdames: Charles M. Huber, William Massey Jr., Kenneth Tregenza, George Jacoby and Earl Bramblett.

Sorority sisters of Delta Gamma in East Lansing where Dorothy Ann is attending Michigan State University gave a dinner party and miscellaneous shower at The Poplars in Lansing.

The Nov. 25 ceremony will be in Kirk-in-the-Hills.

Just 'Friends' 16 Years

He Falters at the Altar

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How long is a girl supposed to wait for a man to marry her? I've been going with him for 16 years.

I am 46, have been married, no children. He's 58, has never been married, owns his own business, lives in style and likes to travel (alone).

At first his excuse was that he had to support his mother. That may have been true 16 years ago, but today she needs his "support" like I need a hole in my head.

He's made some shrewd investments for her (she owns two luxury apartment buildings) and her income is over $35,000 a year. (I know, I work for him.)

In private he tells me he "loves" me. In public he refers to our relationship as "pals" or "buddies." I'm sure he doesn't have anybody else (in town, anyway) and I certainly don't have another man and don't want one. How do I get him to marry me?

ON ICE 16 YEARS

DEAR ON ICE: No preacher would marry a woman to a man with a gun in his ribs.

Your friend is surely not waiting for you to propose, so give him the "now or never" ultimatum.

But be prepared for a negative reply.

DEAR ABBY: I know it's bad psychology to keep after my teen-age daughter to stand up straight, but her lovely figure is spoiled by the way she stands.

She either has one hip sticking out, or one toe turned in, or she stands with her shoulders stooped and her stomach sticking out.

I hate myself for constantly criticizing her in front of others, but how else can I get her to pay some attention to her posture and improve it?

ON EDGE

DEAR ON: Don't ever criticize your teen-aged daughter in the presence of others. Humiliation never improved any one.

Explain how important good posture is to the impression one creates. Work out a few signals between yourselves as a silent reminder to improve her posture. (Smooth your hair, or touch your left eyebrow.)

She'll appreciate your consideration and you'll get your point across painlessly.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the woman whose daughter had been badly disfigured in an accident and was fearful of returning to school while in dire need of plastic surgery:

My neighbor had a son who had a dental problem and he was worried about going back to school wearing the necessary brace-type appliance on his head.

His teacher had him get up before the class and explain what it was all about.

There was never one bit of ridicule or rudeness from the children once they understood the problem.

If that mother would go to school and speak to the class and explain what had happened to her daughter and how they hoped to correct it in the future, I'm sure she would find the children very sympathetic and extremely kind to the child.

Young people are amazingly cooperative when put to the test.

After Recent Nuptials

Pair at Home in Area

At home in Auburn Heights following their recent marriage in the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ, are the James Arthur Baldwins (Susanne Jones).

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Jones of Meadow Drive, the bride chose a white peau satin sheath gown with bodice and cathedral train of Chantilly lace. Her veil was French illusion.

The bridal bouquet of white roses, carnations and lilies of the valley rested on a horse-shoe made in Scotland.

BEST MAN

John Baldwin stood as best man for his brother and Michael Baldwin ushered. They are the sons of the Robert Baldwins of Henbert Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Ronald Crowe and Paul Kumley of Union Lake completed the usher list.

Reception in the Amvets

Hall on Oakland Avenue followed the afternoon ceremony performed by Robert B. Murray, minister.

Personals

Mrs. Ralph Beebe of Sylvan Lake will leave Thursday for a two-week visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Steger of Bay Village, Ohio, near Cleveland. She will spend Thanksgiving with them.

A daughter, Leslie Diane, was born Nov. 12 to Mr. and Mrs. Lavados Lee Aplin (Jo Ann Ulligan) of Anaheim, Calif. Grandparents are the Charles Ulligans of Starr Avenue.

Mrs. Ulligan left Sunday for several weeks in Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart R. Kern, (Mary Slater) of Desmond Drive are the parents of a daughter, Mary Blanche, born Nov. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gadd, Orchard Lake, have returned from New York City where they attended the National American Youth Hostel annual meeting. Mr. Gadd is in his second year as president of the Detroit Council of AYH; Mrs. Gadd is vice president.

Asian Policy to Be Probed

The vice president of the national board of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, (WILPF), will speak 8 p.m. Friday in the Birmingham Community House.

Mrs. Elizabeth Weideman of Detroit, presented by the Oakland County branch of the organization, will discuss "Our Asian Policy."

In addition to being vice president, Mrs. Weideman is a referent on Asia to the WILPF national policy committee and has lived in Asia. Public attendance is invited.

Past Prexy Speaks With WNFG Unit

The past president of the National Association of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (WNFG) and current president of the International Association spoke at the Monday meeting of the Pontiac branch.

Reviewing the purpose of WNFG, Mrs. Frederic G. Garrison reminded local members that they automatically belong to the Associated Country Women of the World whose purpose is to further literacy.

The gathering was held in the Pine Tree Trail home of Mrs. Edward P. Barrett.

The tea following the meeting was supervised by Mrs. Verne C. Hampton with the assistance of Mrs. Leamon Hunt, Mrs. James Corwin, Mrs. Robert Glenn, Mrs. Philip Hubbard, Mrs. Percy Hunt and Mrs. Ross Thompson.

Mrs. Robert J. Alton, president, announced a "Holiday Tea" to be held Dec. 9 at First Federal Savings of Oakland.

Mrs. William B. Hartman also participated in the program.

Lee Haslinger, city director of physical education, spoke at the Monday evening meeting of Chapter AW, P.E.O. Sisterhood.

His talk on "Physical Fitness for Families" was heard in the Dixie Highway home of Mrs. Ashton Emery and Marian Emery.

Those Women Over 40 Enter the Business World

By GAV PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Say the children are grown, there's not enough around the house to keep you busy full-time, and you've decided to get a job.

Then you're pretty typical of the growing numbers of women entering the U.S. labor force. Statistically, half of the 24 million working women in the United States are 41 years of age or older; almost two-fifths are 45 or older.

The U.S. labor department says more mature women are working partly because of the large numbers who contributed to the World War II effort and stayed on, and partly because of the expanding economy which opened more jobs to women.

But if the woman is not working and wants to — what steps should she take to find an outside job?

"First off, know what she can do that will be of use to an employer," said Frances Schon who since 1964 has supervised the "older worker" program of the New York State Labor Department's division of employment.

"There's no job called 'anything,'" she added. "When you approach the employer this way, he's on the spot. And, he couldn't care less."

Miss Schon helped prepare a new publication from the department — "Are You a Woman Looking for a Job," which is being made available to labor departments in the other 49 states also, if they want to distribute it.

"We find that the person who hasn't been in the labor force is not aware of the little things that add up," said Miss Schon. The booklet listed some of these "little things" that should concern a woman.

"If money is your major concern: there's daily carfare and lunch — will you carry it? Tip at a counter? Line up at a cafeteria?"

City Women Have Meeting

On the committee for the day at a Monday meeting of the Pontiac Women's club were Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. George Barnard, Mrs. Forrest Brown, Mrs. Frank Harndenburg, Mrs. J. Gardner Lewis, Mrs. Joseph Panter and Mrs. Arthur G. Nicholls.

The group visited Consensus Group Company for a cooking demonstration on "The Party Scene."

"And the cost of maintaining personal appearance — for beauty parlors, dry cleaners, laundries. And the cost of clothing; 'house dresses' won't do on most jobs."

There are the personal "costs" too. "Day after day you must be at work and on time. There may be rush-hour travel, even standing all the way. You will have little time to call your own."

"If you decide a job is for you," says the booklet, "list everything you have enjoyed doing — on any previous jobs, in volunteer work, in school at home, while helping friends — check those you feel you did well."

This checklist serves both you and any vocational counselor you'd consult as guide to what type of work you're best equipped for.

Once job - hunting, "Tell everyone you are looking for work," the publication advises. "Tell your friends, neighbors and relatives. Tell your storekeepers, church officers, school teachers."

"If you have worked before, visit your former employer. Follow want ads . . . find names of firms in the classified telephone directory, in the kinds of businesses which interest you, and apply to them directly."

Beta Chi Christmas Party Set

Plans for the Dec. 12 dinner-dance at the Holiday Inn were completed at the Monday meeting of Beta Chi chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

Cochairman of the affair, Mrs. James Stone and Mrs. Rudy Mazza, said the 8 p.m. dinner will be preceded by a 7 p.m. cocktail hour.

Open to the public, the dance will raise funds to be donated to the Caroline Carr chapter of the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan. Tickets are available from Mrs. Carl Rose of Silver Circle.

The Monday gathering was held in the Levee Street home of Mrs. John Christoff.

MONDAY PROGRAM

At the meeting, Mrs. Fred Mueller showed members how to make Christmas wreaths out of pine cones. She was assisted by Mrs. Gordon Carlson and Mrs. Ralph Allen.

Assisting with hostess duties were Mrs. Edgar Plympton, Mrs. John Orsey and Mrs. James George.

Budget Suggested for Young Bachelor

By MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley: My problem as a 26-year-old bachelor is learning to live by a budget.

I've recently taken an apartment on my own at $60 a month. My take-home pay is roughly $300 monthly. I have several bills that I pay monthly, including rent, utilities, and insurance.

I'm hoping you might set some sort of an example for me to follow.

example of a young bachelor who wants to stabilize his financial position more than he wants to be known by name on the nightclub circuit. Is this you I'm talking about?

Because you can work things out very well for the next couple of years, if you're content to keep recreation and entertainment expenses at $18 a month.

That's not much in the way of high life, I admit. But those installment payments won't last forever. And at your age, a pay raise is logically in the picture. So how about this:

Housing, $80; household operating costs, $15; food at home, $31 to $42; clothing, $20; savings, $15; loans, $58; personal allowance, $43; miscellaneous, $10; medical costs, $10; recreation and entertainment, $18. Total $300.

The allotment for savings is 5 per cent of your income, and that's about as low as you should consider. Why don't you try this plan for awhile and see how it works.

Dear Miss Feeley: I would like you to help me with a problem. If my bungalow is valued at $1,950, how much fire insurance should I have to cover it?

My house is valued at $8,000—although we paid almost three times that amount for it. The bungalow cost four times the value put on it.

I heard you shouldn't carry much insurance over the valuation. Is this correct?

Mrs. N. M., Middle Village, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. M.: I think you're quoting the assessment values of your properties for tax purposes, and these aren't the figures that determine the value of the two buildings for fire insurance coverage.

The amount of fire insurance you should have determined by the replacement cost of the cottage and the home, less depreciation of the construction.

This figure is known as the cash value. An insurance agent specializing in this field can make an accurate estimate of this property for you.

Many people under-insure property either because they expect any fire loss that occurs to be only a small percentage of the total value of the property.

Or because, having taken out fire insurance some years back when they bought the property, they didn't take into consideration the increasing value of it due to inflation.

NOT EXPENSIVE

Fortunately, fire insurance is not too expensive. For instance, in the suburbs of a large city, with good fire-fighting facilities, the cost of $20,000 worth of fire insurance would be only about $120 for five years, or $24 a year.

Ordinarily, fire insurance policies are written for one, three and five years — but generally speaking, the three-year policy is the best buy. Premiums vary widely depending on construction of home, use, water supply, availability of fire fighting equipment, and other factors.

New Art-by-Quilting Is for Everyone

You don't have to be a genius with a paintbrush to create handsome pictures, according to the National Cotton Council.

An interesting new craft — one that will satisfy your creative talent — is making pictures with cotton fabrics.

Just select an attractive print, stitch around the design, quilt, mount and frame. The result: a distinctive three-dimensional picture that looks for all the world like an oil painting.

The best place to find fabric suitable for your "painting" is in the home furnishings fabric department. Cotton drapery material lends itself well to this craft since it has an interesting texture and will "give" when stuffed. It also offers the widest range of rich colors and designs.

EVEN PICASSO

For the traditionalist, there are scenic prints like a Grandma Moses or a Currier and Ives design. And for the modern art enthusiast, even Picasso designs are now available in handsome decorator cottons.

In selecting your fabric, look for a material with a design large enough to be cut for quilting without overlapping the repeated motif.

Cut the desired picture from your fabric, lay it face down and cover with a thin layer of quilting cotton and a piece of medium-weight tarlatan or crinoline cut to the same size.

Pin or baste together and quilt on the right side with your sewing machine. Stitch around objects in the picture using matching thread.

ADD DIMENSION

Then turn your picture over and make small slits in the

'Buttonhole' Snaps

crinoline behind the stitched objects. Use a small pick to stuff additional cotton filler in these areas for a raised or three-dimensional effect. Larger objects in the picture can be stuffed to stand out as much as one-half inch. Now staple the quilted picture to a piece of corrugated cardboard or building board and slip into a frame. Simple, wide frames are most effective and your fabric pictures will show to best advantage when not under glass.

Two other techniques can be used to create a slightly different art form.

One is a collage effect, made by combining designs from several prints into one interesting picture. For example, you might cut out animals, flowers or a landscape scene from different fabrics. Arrange these cut-outs in an artistic collage on a background fabric which can be either a solid color or a coordinated print.

SATIN STITCH

Follow the same quilting and padding steps as outlined above but be sure to use a narrow satin stitch around each cut-out to prevent fraying.

Another technique is to cut a single large motif from a print, applique it to a solid color fabric, and quilt. A life-like floral print, a fruit design, or an Alice in Wonderland pattern are possible choices.

Whether your home is modern, traditional, or a little bit of both, you can find almost any type of design you desire in today's extensive lines of cotton fabrics. And you can create colorful and decorative pictures for any room in the house.

Area Students Will Get Caps in December

Twenty-three area students will be among the 102 freshman students of Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit who will receive their nurses' caps Dec. 6 at 2:30 p. m.

Members of the freshman class from the Pontiac extension on Fulton Street are Catherine Callendo, Patricia Ellis, Diane Evangelista, DeLores George, Joann Grobbel, Karen Hayes, Susan Haylett, Mary Higgins, Mary Jo Leithem, Deborah Linsenman and Helen Mackinder.

Other students are Barbara Moroun, Nancy Newton, Pamela Przybylowicz, Judith Reid, Scarlet Rutherford, Lynn Smith, Diane Snigen, Sally Stickle, Gail Sullivan, Mary Thibodeau, Arlene Vinson and Mary Wilhelm.

One technique for creating a distinctive fabric picture is cutting motifs from one cotton print and applying them to another. To make this unusual collage-type design, sewing experts recommend using a narrow satin stitch to prevent cut-outs from raveling or fraying.

Name Award Committee

Judges for the 1964 Lane Bryant Annual Awards competition have been named by Raphael Malsin, President of Lane Bryant, Inc. The distinguished panel of judges will select winners of the Lane Bryant Annual Awards for outstanding volunteer work performed in 1964 throughout the United States.

Judges on the 1964 awards committee are: Andrew Goodman, president, Bergdorf Goodman; Senator Robert F. Kennedy; Henry Cabot Lodge; Thurgood Marshall, U.S. Circuit Judge; and Rosemary Park, president, Barnard College.

Lane Bryant gives two $1,000 awards annually — one to a group and one to an individual for dedicated volunteer efforts benefiting the American home and community. The annual awards program is in its 17th year. Awards will be presented in November, 1965.

Nominations may be made by anyone who would like to submit a dedicated volunteer group or individual as a candidate for the awards. The number of nominations one person may make is not limited.

Candidates who were previously nominated, but who did not win an award may be resubmitted. All fields of volunteer work are eligible, but must be wholly voluntary and non-remunerated.

All nominations must be received by the Lane Bryant Annual Awards committee not later than April 5, 1965. Further information and official nomination forms may be obtained by writing: Lane Bryant Annual Awards, 465 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

Question on Seating at Wedding

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My son is going to be married next month and a question has come up in connection with the seating at church and we would like your help.

Who sits on the aisle in the first pew, my husband or I? I have been told that my place is on the aisle.

A: If this is true, then how is this managed since I will be taken up the aisle before my husband?

Should I stand at the pew and let my husband, who will be following me, enter first or do I take my place and then let him in front of me to take his place beside me?

A: You enter the pew first and take your place on the aisle. You then, either by turning your knees sideways, or if necessary, by standing, make room for your husband to pass in front of you to take his seat beside you.

Q: I am secretary to an executive and take care of addressing of Christmas cards for him to people with whom we do business.

There are several women on this list who are known professionally as Miss, although they are married.

I would like to know how cards to them should be addressed. Should it be Miss or Mrs.?

A: If sent to their offices, the cards are addressed to whatever names they are known in business. If sent to their home addresses, they should be addressed to Mrs.

Q: I am having my two nieces, ages 11 and 12, as junior bridesmaids in my wedding.

I would like to know their proper position in the wedding procession.

I have had conflicting opinion on this.

A: They follow the ushers and precede the bridesmaids.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby."

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: I am struggling with a notched collar on a suit and am sure convinced that I have bitten off more than I can chew. The places where all the seams meet just don't want to fit without a lumpy look. Surely I can't be the only gal with these troubles.

Dear Mrs. J. J. E.: From the number of letters I get on this very tricky part of a garment, I am sure that everyone has problems with the notched collar. You will have to mark your garment accurately with all the key matching points given on the pattern.

1. Machine-stitch the under collar to the neckline seam of your garment. Do not machine-stitch to the edge of the fabric; stop on the 1/4-inch seamline and secure the stitching. Clip the curved seam, press open, and catch-stitch to interfacing.

2. Machine-stitch the top collar to the neck edge of the facing. Clip the curved seam and press this seam open.

3. Pin and machine-stitch the facing to the front of garment. Be sure all previous seams you have stitched end at exactly the same spot, where the collar joins the neck edge. Again, secure the stitching. At no time on this collar construction should you stitch the seam allowance in the seams, stitch only two layers of fabric at a time, carefully folding excess seam allowance out of the way.

4. The last stitching will be the outer edges of the collar. Again carefully pin and match the critical spot where the collar joins the garment.

5. Press all seams open on your edge board, grade the seams and check to see where you can eliminate excess fabric by clipping and notching. Always remember to make your garment as flat as possible and eliminate as much bulk as possible.

6. Edge-baste from the facing side of garment. Don't forget that the facing becomes the top collar at the beginning of the roll line. The edge-basting should be done from the wrong side of garment. Bring a small edge of the top layer to the back, as you baste, to prevent facing slipping out and showing from the right side.

7. Press carefully with a press cloth and a hot iron. Push the excess fabric you will need for your collar and lapels to roll nicely, baste in place and catch stitch the edge of facing to the interfacing.

SKIRT STAYS IN
A strip of light-weight corduroy, cut on the cross-grain, attached to the inside of the skirt waistband will keep skirts and blouses from slipping up and out. (Works great on slacks and shorts, too.)

Mrs. Ruby Wentworth, Hicksville, Ohio, wins this week's Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

KNIT NOTES
Hope your readers will take the advice of a "dyed-in-the-wool" knitter. With me it's not a rage that comes and goes. I knit all the time. I have found that if I knit coats 1/4 length instead of full length, I eliminate the constant problem of either knitting a coat that is too long, or else being caught in a style change which alters the length.

As we all know, shortening a coat that is already knitted is almost impossible because of the bulky yarns. A 1/4 length coat actually is smarter looking with slim skirts.

Dear Eunice Farmer: I'm going to be sewing on satin this fall, what is the best way to press it? Also, is there any way to let out seams without the stitches showing forever?

Mrs. LeR. Wee
Dear Mrs. LeR. W.: Don't use moisture on satin, press with a warm iron on the WRONG side of your fabric. If you are pressing over edge-basting, be sure the basting is done with silk thread so it won't mark the satin.

With satin it is almost impossible to change seams and hems after the material has been pressed and worn. The stitches will probably never come out completely. If anyone has had good luck removing the stitch marks, let us know about it.

To Mrs. G. Sumicsek, Chicago, Ill., we are sending a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for the Christmas suggestion of the week.

To make a little girl's face light up on Christmas morning, make her Barbie and Tammy doll hats out of feathers. Save all canary and parakeet feathers and ask friends to save them. Glue them on the tiny hats and use them for trim. They're just the right size and don't cost a cent!

There are some 35 other suggestions for Christmas gifts described and illustrated in Eunice Farmer's "Quickie Christmas Gifts" booklet. There still is time to make many of the simpler items. You may obtain the booklet by sending 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Growing Room for Her Elbows
NEW YORK—Dresses without belts or definite waistlines will fit comfortably as a little girl grows taller, sewing experts report.

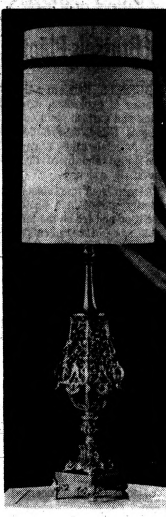

Roomy armholes and short sleeves without cuffs or bands also have more growing room. Bands hamper arm movement and become tighter as the child grows. Deep hems and ample seams also give growing room—with needed adjustments as the dress becomes too tight.

Open House After Vows for Couple

The First Baptist Church, Walled Lake, was the setting for the recent marriage of Mrs. Jeanette Clevering Campbell to William Edwin Coleman.

Her parents, the Owen Cleverings of North Hiett Drive, Commerce Township, held open house following the ceremony performed by Rev. Carl Grapentine.

Linda Coleman attended the bride who chose Capri blue lace over tulle with matching satin shoes and bow hat. An orchid and white carnations rested on her white prayer book.

The bridegroom, son of the William F. Colemans of Sylvan Lake, had Dennis Brown for best man, Thomas Burnham and James Thielsen were ushers.

'House' Pests 'Reception'
The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends scrubbing before applying pesticides in your home.

Use hot soap or detergent suds to thoroughly pre-wash shelves, cabinets, baseboards, flooring around water pipes or toilets, and wherever else pests are found.

Then postpone washing newly-treated surfaces for several days, so the effect of the spray or powder won't be destroyed too soon.

Measles—Serious Threat

NEW YORK—The view of medical specialists that common measles can result in mental impairment, other physiological damage and a relatively high death rate apparently has not yet been accepted by parents.

This is the consensus among 152 science and health writers and editors, and editors concerned with women's interests, replying to a questionnaire on the subject.

The group, representing a cross-section of newspapers, syndicates and magazines, are all but unanimous in the belief that antimeasles vaccination is largely disregarded because parents consider the disease a mere inconvenience of childhood and not a serious health threat.

CONDUCT SURVEY
The survey of writers and editors was conducted nationally on Nov. 7 by the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau, New York, to help determine why only 25 per cent of children in the measles age are actually vaccinated.

Although three antimeasles vaccines have been available for more than a year, there were 80,000 more cases of measles in the first six months of 1964 than in the same period of 1963.

Eighty per cent of the replies attribute the existing apathy to a lack of public education on the hazards of the disease.

Some science writers report that the problem is further complicated by the following:

(1) the cost of inoculation;
(2) resistance to the practice of giving children repeated injections;
(3) doubts on the part of

INFORMATION SCARCE
Thirty-eight women's interest editors noted a scarcity of specific information on the medical complications of measles which they could pass on to their readers.

Ignorance of the whole subject, including the availability of antimeasles vaccines, is reported to be widespread. Nineteen cases of measles were reported in Pontiac during the month of October.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

When You Blow Your Stack, Cool Off

Let's see what happens when you "blow your stack" when angry. It has been found that you take deeper breaths, your pulse, quickens, your blood pressure rises and your digestion stops as the blood is drawn from your alimentary tract to your muscles. BRANDSTADT In such blinding rage you may be especially prone to an accident if you are driving a car, operating a machine in a factory or handling hot soup in a kitchen.

ASTHMA MUCUS LOOSENED WHILE YOU SLEEP
A quiet way to combat difficult breathing, coughing, retching and wheezing due to recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma and Bronchitis is by taking Fertilel MENTACOL. Acts fast to combat allergy, relax bronchial tubes and help remove thick, constrictive mucus. This usually eases breathing fast, silences coughing. Also promotes sound sleep. One MENTACOL at bedtime. Let it help you.

Plainly such a state calls for cooling off.

On the other hand, pent-up anger can cause a chronically high blood pressure, peptic ulcer, colitis, angina pectoris and other so-called psychosomatic ailments.

Because anger causes a sudden squeezing of adrenaline into your blood it may be associated with a sudden pain in the region of your adrenal glands and a sudden surge of blood to your head may precipitate a headache.

BURST OF ENERGY

Adrenalin poured into the blood served the primitive purpose of preparing a person for a sudden burst of energy fight or flight. But in a civilized community neither of these actions is appropriate.

Since it is no longer socially acceptable to lose control of your temper, you are apt to wind up with physical symptoms. Illness is still socially permissible and may even get you a certain amount of sympathy.

The hidden rages within us often have their origin in infancy. As children we all have desires that cannot or should not be granted.

This leads to frustration and anger. As adults, the problem becomes one of letting off steam.

OTHER WAYS

There are various ways of doing this. You can whack away at a golf ball, beat the stuffing out of a punching bag, or hammer nails in the back fence.

This will enable you to use up the physical energy your anger has summoned up and will act as a safety valve. If it is not convenient to do any of these things a brisk walk will serve the purpose very well.

Some persons get the same kind of relief vicariously by watching a boxing or wrestling match or some other contact sport. Still others take it out in writing a scurrilous letter of protest even though they know they won't mail it.

Or you may want to take it out on the keys of a piano as a means of releasing your emotions.

The moral of this story is: Don't harden your recent contact. That is the path that leads to neurosis and a whole Pandora's box of diseases.

3 Killed in Blasts at Brussels Plant

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A series of explosions wrecked an ink and varnish plant outside Brussels today. A fire department official said 3 persons were killed and more than 40 injured, 15 seriously.

Firemen said the blasts apparently started in a photography shop and fed on the inflammable store of ingredients used to produce inks and varnishes.

Workers told of being hurled through the air by the blasts, which set the plant ablaze and touched off nearby gasoline tanks. The factory is in a large industrial complex at suburban Uccle.

Year in Prison Has Taken Heavy Toll on Jack Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A year behind bars has taken a heavy toll on Jack Ruby.

The once well-groomed, well-exercised night club operator now is a sloppy, befuddled man who apparently suffers from delusions of persecution.

He is confined to a blocked-off section of a hallway inside the Dallas County Jail, a stone's throw from where President Kennedy was assassinated last Nov. 22.

Ruby has been in jail since Nov. 24 when he shot Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of the President. Since March 14 he has been under the death sentence imposed by a jury which found him guilty of murder with malice.

SEEK REVERSAL

Ruby's lawyers hope to win a reversal of this verdict when they argue before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin sometime next spring.

They will contend, among other things, that local conditions made it impossible for Ruby to get a fair trial in Dallas, and that testimony from certain police officers, which tended to show malice on Ruby's part, should have been ruled inadmissible.

A succession of attorneys have joined and left the Ruby defense team since Melvin Belli was dismissed after the trial. At present, Phil Burleson of Dallas and Joe Tunahill of Jasper, Tex., are the attorneys of record in the case, with Sol Dann of Detroit apparently acting in a consultant capacity for the Ruby family.

Burleson said he intended to file a complete statement of facts by Nov. 21, which will complete the legal process leading to a hearing by the appellate court. Because of the backlog of cases, this hearing probably will not take place before next March or April.

MAY BE FREE

Tunahill said Ruby might be a free man in a year if the Austin court reverses the case.

"If the appellate court supports us on the issue of inadmissible police testimony," he said, "then the element of malice will be gone from the case. Murder without malice means two to five years, and considering time off for good behavior, Jack already will have served the minimum time on such a sentence."

Both Burleson and Tunahill said a family hearing could not be ruled out. If a jury found

Ruby insane, he then would be committed to a mental institution, where his lawyers say he belongs.

Meanwhile, in his constantly guarded jail quarters, wearing white coveralls and sandal-type shoes, Ruby waits. Sheriff Bill Decker maintains strict security measures.

FOOD SELECTED

Ruby's food each day is selected at random from serving carts to avoid the possibility of poisoning. His visitors are restricted to his family, his rabbi, and his lawyers.

Those allowed to see him say he often appears to lose touch with reality, and raves about how Jews are suffering because he killed Oswald. He has attempted suicide by banging his head against a steel wall, and by sticking his finger into a light socket. He has lost weight, and let his body go soft.

A man who formerly liked to flash a large roll of bills, Ruby now is a destitute pauper. His family is said to have little money. Voluntary contributions apparently help defray legal and other expenses.

Ruby's old club, the Carousel in downtown Dallas, looks dirty and deserted. A number of new owners have tried and failed to bring it back to life.

RUBY'S THOUGHTS

Does Ruby realize the first anniversary of the assassination is approaching?

"I'm sure he's aware of it," said Burleson, "but he doesn't like to talk about these things anymore."

To Spot Diseases

U.S. to Try Palm Reading

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is launching a scientific investigation to find out whether a person's future really can be told by reading the palm of his hand.

The study was announced today by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), which feels there is enough evidence to warrant research on the subject.

The agency decided to launch the experiment after publication of data suggesting some correlation between finger and palm prints and certain neurological diseases.

Approximately 100,000 sets of fingerprints and palm prints will be analyzed during the 18-month project.

Dr. Fred Rosner, who will supervise the study, said it was inspired by "recent reports in medical literature concerning fingerprint abnormalities that occur in various diseases."

UNUSUAL PATTERN

"Unusual patterns have been reported in patients with organic brain syndrome, neuroses, various congenital and genetic diseases, diplegia, congenital heart disease and schizophrenia," Rosner said.

He stressed that the research project was strictly a gamble. But he said that if it paid off, science some day might be able to look at a newborn baby's palm and determine his proneness to mental illness, heart ailments, cancer and other diseases.

Rosner said this would be a valuable aid to medicine, especially in treating mental abnormalities which occur at birth but are not immediately detectable using conventional techniques.

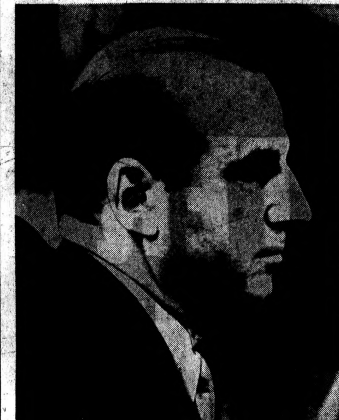

He said that certain forms of mental retardation could be arrested if discovered early in an infant's life.

POPULAR BELIEF

The popular belief is that palm reading is one of the fortune teller's black arts.

But Rosner said that scientists have been aware for some time that certain abnormal finger and palm print patterns occur in about 70 per cent of cases of mongolism — a form of mental retardation.

"The present study is an attempt to see whether this diagnostic tool used to some extent in detection of mongolism has further and wider application," Rosner said.

CONDEMNED SLAYER—Now under heavy guard in Dallas County Jail, Jack Ruby (shown as he was sentenced to death on March 14) is a befuddled man in poor physical shape. His lawyers are readying an appeal on Ruby's conviction for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of the late President Kennedy.

Glenn Back in Flight Training

EL TORO, Calif. (AP)—It's back to school for Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the first American astronaut to orbit the earth. Glenn checked in at the El Toro Marine Air Station Tuesday for a two-week refresher course in flight training.

Purpose of the course is to restore his status as an unrestricted pilot.

Glenn has been grounded since a bathroom fall earlier this year impaired his sense of balance.

Glenn plans to retire from the Marine Corps in January to enter private business.

He will continue working part time for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Cabarets Close: 'La Vita' in Rome Not So 'Dolce'

ROME (AP) — La Vita wasn't so dolce in Rome today as bars, restaurants and small shops locked their doors for 24 hours to emphasize the small businessman's demand for lower taxes and license fees.

Strike-wise Romans went on a buying spree Tuesday, stocking up to get comfortably through the drought, but there was no way to assure themselves of one of the deeply treasured daily joys — the frequent stops at cafes for cups of espresso coffee.

Even tourists were affected. During past shutdowns of this kind, hotel restaurants stayed open. This time they were supposed to lock up.

'But Officers, I'm Only Collecting Trucks'

BRIGHTON, Colo. (UPI) — Adams County law enforcement officials arrested a "truck collector" yesterday.

They became suspicious after they noticed four trucks parked in the yard of 27-year-old Ronald Taylor. A check showed they were stolen. Officers arrested Taylor when he returned home driving another truck. It also was stolen, they said.

Junior Editors Quiz on Chameleons

QUESTION: What makes chameleons change color?

ANSWER: The true chameleon is the funny little fellow shown at upper right, living in Madagascar and Africa, as well as parts of Asia and Europe.

He has a very long sticky tongue with which to catch insects (1), can roll his eyes (2), has peculiar grasping toes (3) and a tail he can wrap around twigs for support (4).

The American chameleon is an American lizard of another kind, usually called "chameleon" because he can change colors so often, like the Old World one.

It is a popular idea that chameleons change color to match their surroundings, but there is little truth in this. Scientists say that changes in temperature and in the intensity of the light as well as the lizard's emotional feelings such as fright, anger and so on, make the differences in color.

Under ordinary conditions a chameleon may be gray green with small spots; in the dark this may fade to cream color.

Under bright sunlight the lizard may turn black. Hot conditions without sunlight may make the chameleon green; when startled, he may turn to a lighter tone with brown areas and yellow spots.

FOR YOU TO DO: The American chameleon, often sold at pet shops and circuses, is lots of fun to keep in a vivarium such as we show. Feed them meal worms and flies and be sure to sprinkle the cage with water so they can lap up the drops. If you can't keep one, try to find someone who has a pet chameleon and check up on the colors.

Lack of Staff Hampering Urban Renewal Planning--Warren

Progress on the city's 701 planning projects was reviewed last night by the City Commission.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren presented a progress report on the eight-point planning program.

The planning projects, initiated under Section 701 of the Federal Urban Renewal Planning Program, are moving "very slowly" for lack of city planning staff, according to the Warren report.

Under the 701 program, the city made application for federal funds to cover 75 per cent of the cost of the planning projects, with the city contributing the remainder, mostly through staff time.

Warren said, however, that at the time the planning projects were undertaken the city cut the budget and personnel of the planning staff by almost 50 per cent.

In addition, the engineering staff was cut 20 per cent.

All of which, according to Warren, has made for "very slow" work on the 701 master plan.

The 701 planning projects encompass eight areas:

- Commercial land use
- Industrial land use
- Major thoroughfare plans
- Residential neighborhood plans
- Study of community facilities
- Review and analysis of existing zoning
- Study of municipal facilities, particularly storm sewers
- A city capital improvement program

To date, the planning staff has gathered information on only one of the city's 16 arterial streets (Baldwin), said Warren.

TIMETABLE

A realistic timetable for the rest of the streets, according to Warren, would be a completion of mid-February 1965.

Warren suggested that unless $16,000 can be reallocated in the 1965 planning budget, the city might consider contracting planning services.

"Recruiting and training planning personnel cannot be accomplished overnight," he pointed out.

The city has contracted for study of the city's storm sewers, Warren mentioned.

The entire 701 planning project is to be completed by January 1966.

In other business last night, the City Commission approved a lease agreement with the federal government for the U. S. Naval Training Center on East Boulevard South. The agreement runs until June 30, 1977.

Also, a lease agreement with Michigan Aviation Co. for space at Pontiac Municipal Airport was okayed by the commission.

The agreement calls for a rental of $900 per year for space for a hangar.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, odd-lot benefits were granted Jack Prasil for Lot 152, Newton Estates Subdivision, on Kenilworth, south of Perry.

Upon the recommendation of City Engineer Joseph E. Nepling, the commission allowed an adjustment of the street paving assessments. The total amount was trimmed from $780 to $400.

Nepling said that a revision of the frontage was justified.

In related action, a policy change was okayed for double frontage lots.

SEVERE INEQUITIES

Again, Nepling said that severe inequities are created on sewer and water project special assessments.

"These two types of public improvements are without a doubt," said Nepling, "tied to the principle of a single benefit to each subdivision lot."

The city engineer added that since a single benefit is the only advantage to a lot, the policy of levying assessments for multiple street frontages is questionable.

Many communities follow a more logical approach of assessing on the "basis of a unit of benefit," he said.

The commission resolution directed that all special assessments for water and sanitary sewer be levied on the basis of the "first street improved" and none for the second street.

Nepling said that this would take in corner lots as well as those lots that front on two streets at the front and back of the lot.

Estimates on a water main in East Boulevard from Woodward to the DGH & M Railroad were presented last night to the commission.

Total cost of the main was put at $15,095 with the city's share totaling $10,568 and the assessed cost $4,135.

HOUSING PROJECT

A housing project is planned for the area and would pay the assessed portion of the cost.

Final action was taken last night on a subdivision ordinance, which sets standards and in the city.

Gridiron 'Hurlers' in Showdown

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Snook of Iowa and John Huarte of Notre Dame are due to meet in a pitchers' battle Saturday but the best either can hope for is to wind up as No. 2 behind Tulsa's Jerry Rhome.

Rhyme, with a half dozen or so passing records safely stowed away, is far in front in both passing and total offense, according to figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau. With two games to go, it appears impossible to overhaul him.

The big statistical contest is between Snook and Huarte for the runner-up spot in total offense and in the rushing department, where Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest has a lead that isn't safe yet.

NCAA Will Crown New Harrier Titlists

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — New team and individual champions are assured for the 26th annual NCAA cross country run Monday at Michigan State University since both titlists won't be back to cover the four-mile course.

Two-time defending titleholder San Jose State is not sending a team. Vic Zwolak of Villanova, the individual winner last year in 19:35.0, has completed his eligibility.

Some 300 runners from 48 universities are expected for the race. This will be the university section of the NCAA distance grid. The college division title run was contested at Wheaton, Ill., last Saturday.

Vaulters Has Heavy Mail Problem

SEATTLE (AP) — Brian Sternberg's got a problem. His mail is coming by the pound these days.

Sternberg, former University of Washington pole vaulter injured in a trampoline accident, said Tuesday most of the mail has come from Scandinavian countries.

"People there seem so friendly and I can't possibly answer all those letters. I hope it does not affect what people think about Americans, but answering these would be a problem — in postage alone."

"As far as I know," Sternberg said, "he was a well-wisher, just a fellow who was interested and wanted to talk to me."

FOUR LETTERS

"About a month later I got four letters from strangers in Sweden. The next day I got eight, and the day after that 20. Then 40."

"Some of them said something about an article — and in the article it said I liked to receive mail. Boy, did I receive the mail."

Sternberg, partially paralyzed in the 1963 accident, uses a special typewriter. He has been able to write some letters, but it is a slow process.

The flood of mail presents other problems — stacking and sorting.

Claims Self Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leo Durocher and the Los Angeles Dodgers, answering a $200,000 damage suit, say that if the former Dodger coach hit a fan it was only in self defense.

The suit was filed Aug. 26 by Robert J. Hallsworth, 29, who charged that Durocher struck him on the jaw outside Dodger Stadium after a game.

State Elevens Closing Successful Grid Season

By The Associated Press
With the last three teams completing their regular schedules this Saturday, Michigan's 18 collegiate football teams are assured of finishing with a winning overall record.

State teams won only three of 11 games last weekend, bringing their combined record to 74-70-5.

Ten teams are assured of winning seasons, and Michigan State can make it over the 500 mark with a victory over the Illinois Saturday.

Central Michigan slipped below the break-even point by bowing to Hillsdale in its final last week. Detroit's loss to Xavier halted the Titans' chances of making 500.

Hillsdale's Bruce McLenna scored three touchdowns to take over the individual scoring lead with 84 points. Michigan's Bob Timberlake, with one game to go, has 76.

In his own good time, any time in the day, almost anywhere, a man can enjoy his newspaper. He can read the headlines, make up his mind when to read further and when to skip on to the next item. He can read his favorite columnists, catch up on sports or whatever interests him, read the ads, agree with the editorials or not, and laugh at the comics or not. He can even find out when he wants to turn on TV. He can lay the paper aside... pick it up later and still get the whole story. Nothing waits on his personal convenience like a newspaper in his pocket. No wonder newspapers are the primary advertising medium. Celtics Slump in Second Half

Lose to Baltimore; Hawks, Royals Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics shook up the rest of the National Basketball Association with 11 straight victories at the start of the season and now they're doing a pretty good job on their coach, Red Auerbach.

The Celtics have lost three of their last four games and blown huge leads each time. The Baltimore Bullets took advantage of Boston's latest letdown Tuesday night, scoring a 102-99 victory over the Celtics.

In other NBA action Tuesday night, St. Louis outlasted Philadelphia 114-107 and Cincinnati turned back San Francisco 114-108.

Boston had a 17-point halftime lead against the Bullets and built it to 23 in the first four minutes of the third period. Then Don Ohl ignited a Baltimore burst that caught the Celtics with 4½ minutes left in the game.

Michigan and Buckeyes Plan Strategy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chalmers (Bump) Elliott of Michigan and Woody Hayes of Ohio State will do a lot of plotting and planning this week. They clash here Saturday, before more than 80,000 fans, with the Big Ten Title and a Rose Bowl bid awaiting the winner. Both mentors are spending this week's workouts seeking tactical trickery to add to their offensive repertoires.

Michigan-Ohio State games, even if last place is at stake instead of all the honors, have been classics down through the years since 1918. The Wolverines hold a 35-21-4 edge over the Buckeyes, but Ohio has won the last four, and 9 of 13 under Hayes. Michigan hasn't won here since 1956.

Each team is 7-1 for the season. Michigan is 5-1 in the conference. Losing only to Purdue by 21-

20, while Ohio State is 5-0. The Buckeyes can take it all with a tie, but Michigan must triumph to sniff the Pasadena roses.

Elliott would like nothing better than to succeed his brother Pete, Illinois coach, as Big Ten champ and Rose Bowl representative. No brothers have ever put such a feat back to back.

COMMON FOES
The ancient rivals have met three common foes. Michigan defeated Northwestern 35-4, and Ohio did it 10-0. Michigan defeated defending champion Illinois 21-6, and Ohio won 26-0. Against Iowa Saturday the Wolverines won 34-20, while Ohio skied out a 21-19 win over the Hawkeyes.

Michigan outscored the three mutual opponents 90-26, Ohio did it by 57-19.

Michigan, fourth in offense nationally, has outscored eight foes by 191-76. Ohio has a 146-67 edge.

Back in 1950, in the famed "Blizzard Bowl," the same "take it all" situation prevailed. With the temperature 10 above zero, and the field covered by deep snow which fell throughout the contest, Michigan won by 9 to 3 without making a first down. Two blocked punts gave the Wolverines their scores.

Vic Janowicz, who booted an "impossible" field goal for Ohio's only points, punted 21 times for 665 yards that day — both Buckeye records.

That game sent Michigan to its last Rose Bowl appearance, but Ohio State has been there twice since then, winning each time.

Ohio State, by introducing the "T" formation for the first time, and running for a first down on a punting situation, broke out of its traditional conservative play Saturday in beating Northwestern.

A week before the Buckeyes had been battered 27-0 by four-time loser Penn State, ending a six-game winning streak.

But the experts figure Ohio State will have to rebound still further to have a chance against the hungry invaders.

U-M Showing Top Running

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan is No. 1 in rushing for the third straight week, NCAA statistics reveal.

In eight games Michigan has averaged 253.3 yards a game on the ground. Over-all the Wolverines made 471 rushes for a total of 2,026 yards.

In total offense, Michigan ranks fifth with a 364.3 average in eight games. The over-all statistics are 605 plays for 2,914 yards.

Mets Happy to Acquire Berra

NEW YORK (UPI)—Yogi Berra made it official and you can't find two happier people than Manager Casey Stengel and President George Weiss of the New York Mets.

Unlabeled, of course, it's those 1.1 million rabid Met fans who outdrew the American League champion New York Yankees last year.

Berra, who led the Yanks to the American League flag in his first managerial assignment and who was fired after losing the rubber game of the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals, signed a two-year contract for an estimated $35,000 a year as a coach and part-time player with the Mets.

And that indeed made Casey "delighted." It also made George Weiss "most pleased."

Casey, talking from his Glendale, Calif., home over a coast-to-coast telephone hookup, said, "I am delighted. I know you'll make a good coach. I looked over your record and it took up two pages, so I know you did great work. I'm very glad to have you."

UP TO CASEY
Weiss said later, "I'm most happy to have Yogi with us. I don't know yet where he'll be — that's up to Casey," Weiss said.

Berra, who picked up $25,000 for not being a member of the Yank's system next season, said later in the day, "of course I'm happy to be back with Mr. Weiss and I think I was given a raw deal by the Yankees."

Berra, too, doesn't know just where he'll be when the 1965 season gets under way next April 12.

But most New York Met fans know exactly where he'll be: Common logic will demand that Yogi make his appearance in the coaches' box along the first base line.

Stockholder Initiates Suit Against Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee attorney Francis J. Demet initiated an antitrust action in Federal Court Tuesday seeking to prohibit the Braves from moving to Atlanta until another major league franchise is obtained for Milwaukee.

Demet, who owns a single share of stock in the Braves but claims he represents 4,000 minority stockholders, called baseball a monopoly.

North Carolina State, Atlantic Coast Conference co-champion, has only 13 lettermen back.

Book Collector Has Facts

Humor Spices 'M' Grid History

WILMINGTON, Del.—(NEA)—"The University of Michigan exists for but one purpose," reads the old newspaper clipping, "to win games. Hence, Michigan players slug bite, gouge, trip and hack."

It sounds like an Ohio State plant, but no, there were references to Stagg and Heston, Yost and Eckersall, and another line that stands engraved.

"If the Ann Arbor boys prove themselves poor losers, it must be remembered they have had little experience in that line."

This put the action at the turn of the century when for four straight years the University of Michigan didn't lose a game. Dave Nelson, the head football coach at the University of Delaware, is a Michigan man, circa 1940, when Hurry Up Yost was still alive and on campus and the flames of Michigan spirit made Notre Dame look like a soggy match.

COLLECTOR
Dave is also a collector of rare sports books, for the Clement Halan collection at Delaware. And there was this little nondescript shop on Santa Monica Boulevard that Dave wandered into last summer when he was in Los Angeles for a football clinic.

For $75, said the proprietor, Dave could have this old scrapbook, bound in pale green and yellowed with age. Dave bought, and the tidbits in it are priceless. They were evidently gathered by a Michigan man, in 1905-06.

"The faculty at Ann Arbor," begins one, "has greatly hampered the team's chances of beating Illinois. . . . The yell masters have been knocked out. At a mass meeting held to welcome Willie Heston, the order was read from President Angell that the word 'hell' was to be cut out of all Michigan songs and yells."

The great rival in those days was not Michigan Agricultural College (now Michigan State) but Chicago and Amos Alonzo Stagg. In 1905 the Wolverines suffered their first defeat in five years because a back named Denny Clark picked up a Wally Eckerall punt in his end zone, and instead of downing the ball, tried to run it out. He was hit on the two-yard line and driven back across the goal for the safety that meant a 2-0 loss in the last game of the season.

They couldn't find "grief-crazed Denny after the game in Chicago, and many friends 'feared he had made good his incoherent threats to do himself harm.' But Denny had simply ducked out to another hotel and was found the next day. "He had no idea of committing suicide, he declares, but couldn't bear to face the other members of the team. . . . or so says the story. "Heg was just too scared to come home and face Yost," says Nelson.

Johnny Garrells, a sophomore end, was forced by a band of angry freshmen to climb a tree and bark at the moon. Coach Fielding Yost appeared suddenly and demanded his release. The frosh backed up.

Garrells shinned down the tree, and then Yost said to his tormentors, "Now make him climb a higher one," while he vanished into the shadows of the night.

And football was not without scandal then, either. Michigan dug up a picture of Walt Eckersall "participating in a professional track meet." A Chicago man claimed that after a game he saw "Germany Schultz receive a reward — a vicious, black cigar from a sporty looking man."

No Problem for This Hunter

Dragging a big deer out of the woods can be a major chore for one man. It reaches back-breaking proportions when the field-dressed animal weighs 229 pounds.

Fred Rigotti, 23 Spokane, discovered an easy way to handle the job.

He downed the 10-pointer Sunday morning about 100 feet off an old logging road a quarter of a mile from his cabin near Tiquamenon Falls in the Upper Peninsula.

"I hooked a large branch between the horns and worked the deer out to the road," reported Rigotti. "Then I walked to the cabin and drove the car down to the deer, loaded it on and went back to the cabin."

The buck is the heaviest entered in The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest. A $150 savings bond will be awarded to the hunter from Oakland County entering the heaviest buck taken during the firearms season now under way.

Only bucks taken in Michigan are eligible.

The entries must be weighed on state approved scales and witnessed. The weight slip must be brought to The Press sports department and the deer seen by Press staff member.

Rigotti nailed the buck with one shot from a 300 Savage. "It was easy," he said, "the buck didn't know I was there and he wasn't frightened."

FIRST DEER

It was Bland's first deer hunting trip. The buck was tagged west of Houghton Lake on the edge of the Dead Stream Swamp.

"I proved one thing to some other fellows," chortled Bland. "They said a shotgun with slugs couldn't do the job. That old 16 gauge double of mine took care of the argument."

Drummond Island yielded a 176-pound, 11-point buck to Jay Stanley, 1494 Welch, Walled Lake, Sunday morning.

He was hunting out of a D-I Club and used a 35 Marlin to record his first buck in 14 years.

Lee Goyon, 2489 Blair, took an eight-pointer that weighed 150 pounds Sunday near Grayling. Richard Cloutier, 2875 Newberry, downed an eight-pointer that tipped the scale at 147 near Grayling.

Conservation Department officials are pointing to the overall improvement in deer weight and antler size as an indication that the "any deer" phase of the hunt and present seasons is beginning to pay off.

The majority of bucks checked through the Birch Run station Sunday night were one and a half years old and most of the deer carried three and four points.

Two or three years ago, deer the same age were only spike-horns.

Does checked at the station were in good physical condition, according to the biologists.

Sunday's opener in the Lower Peninsula and eastern U.P. was marked by mid-day thunder storms. But the army of hunters that invaded the woods the first day was the largest in several years.

"I understand there was a block of traffic 25 miles long, bumper to bumper, on the I-75 freeway at one time Saturday night," said Tom Osmer of the Leaper State game area who was working the Birch Run station.

Traffic headed north between 3 and 4 a.m. Sunday was extremely heavy. It was heavier Sunday night heading south.

The buck kill was down opening day, but plenty of antlerless deer were tagged under the special permits.

WENT NORTH

A majority of hunters with permits apparently went north for Sunday's opener with the idea of getting a deer and heading home. The usual practice is to wait a couple of days to see if a buck can be taken and then, if this fails, try for "any deer."

Heavy production schedules at automobile factories coupled with the recent General Motors strike appears to be the reason fewer hunters are taking time off than in previous seasons.

The buck kill was about average in the western Upper Peninsula where the season opened Saturday under clear skies. Rain fell Sunday in the U.P.

The bear kill has been light. A cub is the only known bear taken in the Lower Peninsula, near Roscommon. The others were shot above the Straits.

Hunting pressure was light in Oakland County as most of the nimrods headed north. Conservation department officials expect southern Michigan areas, including Oakland County, to take a heavy pounding this weekend.

BIG BUCK — Fred Rigotti, 23 Spokane, returned from the Upper Peninsula this week with a 10-point buck that weighed 229 pounds.

The large buck leads The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest. Weight is the only determining factor in the contest.

Contest Winners Announced

Pheasant Season Facts Under Study

The pheasant season is over and the Conservation Department is starting to compile the facts and figures that are expected to show the kill was lower than predicted.

But two area hunters will be doing another kind of counting.

Arthur G. Sabourin, 144 Euclid, will receive a $50 savings bond for entering the longest pheasant in the Pontiac Press Pheasant Derby. His ring-neck stretched 41¼ inches.

A three-pound, 12-ounce rooster downed by James Turner, 600 Kenyon, Troy, earned a $25 bond.

Conservation Department experts predicted before the season that 700,000 ring-necks would fall before hunters' guns. This figure is now expected to be revised downward to around 500,000.

The big opening day kill, when over 70 per cent of the birds are taken, failed to live up to past seasons.

SPRING HATCH

Older birds dominated the flocks, indicating that the spring hatch did not come off too well and that the predicted good second hatch failed to fill the gap.

Sabourin's pheasant, shot in Pontiac Township, was one of six entered in the contest that topped the 40-inch mark. This number is a record.

The rooster taken by Turner north of Lakeville is on the tight site for average contest weight winners of the past.

The southern Michigan grouse season is closed until Dec. 1. It will reopen through December. The season is closed until next fall in the northern Lower Peninsula and above the Straits. The duck season closed Monday. Mild weather kept the big flights north too late to benefit Michigan gunners. The goose season continues into December.

During 1963, state park visitors in Michigan spent more than $3 million for gasoline, groceries, and other such items. Receipts from park concession sales and camper fees totaled another $2 million to set an all-time high.

City Pros Face Hot-Shooting Cagers

If North American Basketball League statistics are any indication, the Pontiac Nationals will have their hands full Saturday night in Benton Harbor.

The Pontiac quintet's defense is going to receive a formidable challenge against the offensively minded Twin City Sailors.

While the Nationals were dropping a rough-and-tumble 112-98 verdict at Grand Rapids — the pre-season title pick — Benton Harbor completely overwhelmed Muskegon's Panthers, 139-89.

The Sailors obviously relish playing on their home court — an advantage that means a lot in this league — and Pontiac is the next NABL foe to come visiting.

In quashing Muskegon's attempt for an opening night triumph, the Sailors' Johnny Egan, Larry Comley and Al Saunders hit for 30, 26 and 24, respectively and each connected at a better than 500 rate from the floor.

PACE LOOP

The three lead the league in scoring and Egan also is the top percentage shooter with 84 per cent on 11 of 13, including one three-point field goal (from beyond 25 feet.)

Comley's nine for nine pace the league foul shooters.

Pontiac's Charlie North paces the loop rebounders with 19, is fourth in scoring (21) and has hit six of six charity tosses to rate second in that category.

Willie Merritweather of the Nationals is tied for fifth in the individual point race with 21. The Pontiac squad showed good balanced scoring while staying with Grand Rapids for three quarters.

Playing coach Bob Bolton is looking for more rebounding and will be stressing conditioning in an effort to keep up with the fast-breaking Sailors, something the Pontiac five did not do at Grand Rapids.

Locally, plans are progressing rapidly for the Nationals' home opener a week from Saturday on the Pontiac Northern court.

Adult tickets will be on sale beginning today or tomorrow at Griff's Grill. They are priced at $1.50 for general admission; there are no reserved tickets on sale.

Student tickets are in the process of being distributed to merchants who will give them away as part of a special opening night youth promotion under the direction of Jack McDougall.

Other ticket distribution points will be announced shortly. Game time for the PNH appearance will be 8:15 p.m. and there will be tickets on sale at the door.

WHITE HOUSE PARTY — President and Mrs. Johnson sit in the Blue Room of the White House yesterday during a party celebrating the couple's 30th wedding anniversary.

30th for Couple

Johnsons' Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson mixed sentiment and fun in a surprise dinner for his wife on their 30th wedding anniversary.

The President, with the aid of White House staff members, planned the celebration himself — inviting 20 guests to dinner Tuesday night, choosing the menu and planning the anniversary cake.

The guests were personal friends of the First Family. The Johnsons' daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17, brought their dates to help their parents celebrate. The Johnsons were married Nov. 17, 1934, in St. Marks Episcopal Church in San Antonio, Tex., when he was a secretary to a Texas congressman.

One of the gifts the President had for his wife was arrangements for a trip for her. Where or when, the White House would not say. After the campaign, Mrs. Johnson had said she wanted to go away on a trip for a few days and "walk under the sky."

In fun, the President also gave Mrs. Johnson a picture of "Gunsmoke" star Marshal Matt Dillon, whom the First Lady likes to watch on television on Saturday night.

Johnson inscribed the picture, "To Lady Bird and my Saturday night competition." The White House did not disclose what Mrs. Johnson had given her husband to mark the day.

The cake was a big white frosted sponge cake of three layers with lemon filling, decorated with yellow roses, white doves, two silver springs and snapshots of Mrs. Johnson and her family.

MENU CARD

The menu card, engraved at the top with C.T.J. (Claudia Taylor Johnson, the First Lady's name) and L.B.J., included such items as presidential fillet of beef and mixed green salad a la Xochimilco.

The 30th anniversary calls for gifts of pearls. When the Johnsons posed Tuesday for anniversary portraits, the First Lady wore a single strand of pearls and also a pearl ring.

However, White House aides said they were not new, and they knew of no gift of pearl Tuesday from the President.

Colorado Plans to Loosen Snow With Jet Booms

DENVER (AP) — Sonic booms, sometimes blamed for cracking windows and jangling nerves, may be put to beneficial use in Colorado's snow country this winter.

The state's chief engineer, Charles E. Shumate, said yesterday he plans to try shaking loose snowslides with the booms. Jet fighters would be flown at supersonic speeds over 10,000-foot Wolf Creek Pass, where avalanches are an annual hazard.

Sonic booms are loud blasts caused when an aircraft exceeds the speed of sound.

For years, artillery pieces have been used by highway department crews to jar loose snowslides under controlled conditions.

SHRIMP ORIENTAL — Nestled in a bed of rice is this appetizing Oriental shrimp dish. Bright wedges of tomato give it color while the addition of apple sauce provides the smooth texture.

Shrimp Dish Is Made With Apple Sauce

How about giving your next supper party a Far East air with Shrimp Oriental? The Honorable Main Dish? Could be you'd have a real triumph to chalk up.

Use big meaty shrimp. It's what goes with the shrimp, however, that brings the big excitement — zesty canned apple sauce, bean sprouts and water chestnuts, crunchy bits of celery, sharp little chopped scallions, fresh tomato wedges and green peppers. Your fork goes down into a thick, savory medley, in a spicily pungent sauce.

Serve Shrimp Oriental on a bed of rice with such accompaniments as bowls of fiery chutney, crisp noodles, and cups of hot fragrant tea.

Making this dish is a real pleasure. It looks complicated but actually it can be put together in minutes because so many of the ingredients are canned foods. Canned apple sauce, the canned bean sprouts, canned water chestnuts and sauce ingredients are all ready-to-use.

Shrimp Oriental
1/4 cup sliced onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 1/2 pounds cooked shrimp, shelled and deveined
1 cup canned bean sprouts
2 1/2-cups cans water chestnuts, sliced
1 cup diced celery
1 cup diced green pepper

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Pork Rib Chops.

Where do they come from? How are they identified?

A. They come from the loin section of pork. They have one muscle and may or may not have a rib bone, depending upon how thick they're cut. The chops with no bone are called boneless rib chops.

Q. How are they cooked?

A. Usually by broiling or baking but they are also popular for grilling or broiling. Broiling is a moist heat method that calls for browning the meat in its own fat or drippings before a small amount of moisture is added. After browning, the chops are seasoned, the cooking liquid is added and the pan is covered tightly. The cooking may be done on a surface unit or in the oven, but it must be done slowly for best results in flavor and appearance. Chops cut 1/4 to 1-inch thick require 45 minutes to an hour for cooking time. Chops may be baked in a 325-degree to 350 degree at a moderate temperature so that the chops are well done by the time they are browned.

Q. For what is pork noted?

A. Pork, in addition to being good to eat in the best natural source of thiamine, one of the B-complex vitamins.

Chocolate-Walnut

Dessert That's Different

Those two great favorites, chocolate and walnuts are perfectly paired in a new dessert idea that's delicious to taste, easy to make and really fancy enough for the most important occasion. It's an interesting blend of ingredients, too, and just one more fine example of how the nation's favorite flavor, chocolate, is teamed with the nation's favorite nut, the California walnut.

Chocolate and walnuts are natural in candies, sauces, pies, cakes, frostings, cookies and desserts of all kinds.

Try Walnut Chocolate Pear Cream for your next special occasion. When you're purchasing walnuts for the recipe, be sure to pick up some for the traditional nut bowl serving, too, and for all your cooking and baking needs.

California walnuts are widely available either in-the-shell or shelled in handy vacuum cans and clear bags.

You'll like the walnuts toasted for this dessert. To prepare them, just drop the walnut kernels into rapidly boiling water; boil three minutes. Drain well. Then spread the kernels evenly in a shallow pan and bake at 350 degrees, stirring often, for 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden.

Walnut Chocolate Pear Cream
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 cup coarsely chopped California walnuts
3 cups drained, canned pears, cut into large pieces
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 teaspoons vanilla

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels and syrup together in top of double boiler; stir in chopped walnuts. Set aside to cool slightly. Drain and cut up pears.

Whip cream stiff and fold in sour cream and vanilla. Gently mix in cooled chocolate-walnut mixture and pears. Chill for several hours before serving.

Spoon into individual dessert dishes and decorate with toasted walnut halves. Makes eight to ten servings.

Fish Cooked in Foil Makes Its Own Good Tasty Sauce

It's often the sauce that's the secret of a good fish recipe. But you don't have to be a French chef to prepare fish with a delicious sauce. Just bake it with condensed cream soup and savory flavoring ingredients, all tightly packaged in aluminum foil.

The sauce forms in the foil—a blend of the juices of the fish and everything else that has been added. Nothing is lost.

Open the fish at the table and mouth-watering aromas arise such as you've never breathed before. The fish itself is moist, tender, and the sauce a smooth and savory delight to the palate.

FOR ALL FISH

All fish fillets can be prepared this way... sole, salmon, perch, or others you prefer, either fresh or frozen. Canned condensed cream of celery, mushroom and frozen condensed cream of shrimp soups all have flavors that combine deliciously with fish.

The frozen cream of shrimp with delicate white fillets such as sole or flounder, is a true gourmet dish for a party.

Add other ingredients for still more flavor, if you have the time... chopped onion, celery, parsley, mushrooms, if they are available and inexpensive herbs, freshly ground black pepper. Lemon juice or dry white wine should be added for the piquancy so necessary with fish.

Vegetables can go in the package... thinly sliced potatoes, match stick carrots or other quick cookers, to make a complete dinner, if you wish.

Seal everything in individual foil packages or make one big package and bake in the oven. The juice from the fish dilutes the condensed soup to just right consistency and the seasonings and vegetables add their goodness.

Truly, you could cook and stir for hours to prepare a sauce such as this one that blends itself inside the foil as the fish cooks.

Here is the master recipe for preparing fish with sauce in foil. But let your own inventiveness lead you to many more wonderful combinations.

Fish Fillets with Sauce in Foil 1 to 1½ lbs. fillets, fresh or frozen—cod, haddock, salmon or sole

1 can condensed cream soup
4 teaspoons dry white wine OR lemon juice
4 teaspoons chopped onion
4 teaspoons chopped celery
4 teaspoons chopped parsley
pepper and salt
sprinkling of herbs
4 portions of vegetables that will cook quickly

Thaw fish, if frozen. Cut fish in 4 portions and place each in center of large square of heavy duty aluminum foil. Spoon condensed soup over the fish and sprinkle on all seasoning ingredients, dividing them equally.

Add a serving of vegetables to each package, if desired. Or place fish, condensed soup, seasonings, optional vegetables, on one large sheet of heavy duty foil.

Bring the foil up over fish and close all edges with a tight double fold. Seal on ends should be turned up, so juices will not leak from package. Place packages on shallow pan and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Serve individual packages to be opened at the table and eat right from the foil. If one large package, place on platter, open and serve at table.

OITSMIJTER — The Dutch call it an "Oitsmijter" . . . and a tempting, man-sized sandwich it is, too, made with a delicious kraut slaw, sliced roast beef, topped with a fried egg. Hot coffee with chichory will give you the full-bodied rich brew to go with it.

Open Meat Sandwich Is Topped With Kraut, Egg

While to some a "Dutch treat" may mean everyone pays his own way, here's a Dutch treat that will mean delicious eating to everyone! The Dutch call it an "oitsmijter" . . . and consider it one of their favorite sandwiches, akin in popularity to our hot dog.

Oitsmijter literally translates into "outside meat" and the hearty sandwich is always served open-faced.

On the Dutch island of Aruba in the Caribbean, where the swimming is serene, the shopping superb and the food fabulous, it is served this way: based on rye bread, liberally spread with a crisp kraut slaw that contains chopped onion and green pepper, the sliced meat (roast beef in this case) is topped with a well-fried, fresh egg. This is a substantial main dish for most . . . with meat and vegetables all in one.

The kraut, an economical and flavorful vegetable, not only adds zest to the sandwich, but excellent nutrition as well since it has so much in the way of vitamins and minerals to offer. You can vary the choice of meats . . . use leftovers if you have them.

And, of course, serve steaming

ing coffee, in generous cups, with it. Either black, or with cream or milk and sugar.

No sissy coffee will do with this dish, however . . . a stalwart brew with body is called for. Coffee with chichory will give you a robust beverage with a full, rich flavor. Lace it with spices . . . cinnamon, nutmeg and clove . . . then take just one whiff of the enticing aroma and you'll know you had best prepare lots of it to go along with your Kraut Oitsmijter.

Kraut "Oitsmijter" Sandwich
4 cups drained sauerkraut, chopped
2½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon chervil
Pepper
6 eggs
Butter or margarine
Salt
12 slices rye bread
12 slices roast beef

Combine kraut, mayonnaise, green pepper, onion, chervil and dash pepper; mix and chill. Fry eggs on both sides in butter, until yolks are thoroughly cooked. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Spread kraut relish on bread slices; top with beef. Place 1 fried egg over center of 2 open-faced sandwiches. Garnish with parsley, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Toast bread if desired.

Kaffee Aruba
Ground coffee with chichory
3-inch cinnamon stick
3 whole cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Brew 6 cups strong coffee, adding the spices to the coffee with chichory grinds. Serve hot coffee with cream and sugar, as desired. Makes 6 servings.

Canned Green Beans Marinated for Salad

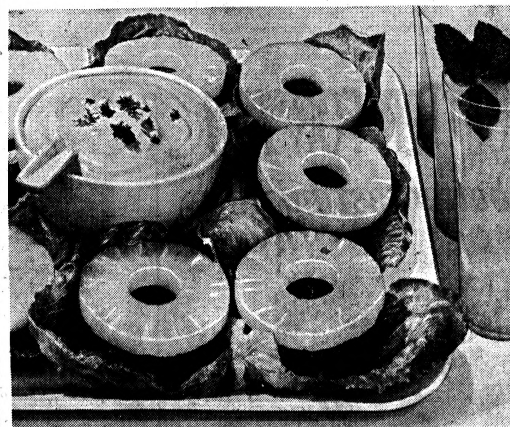

Mix canned green beans with sliced onion rings, French dressing, a pinch of tarragon, salt and pepper. If you wish, add a little dry white wine. Chill to blend flavors.
Serve in lettuce cups and garnish with sweet red pepper or pimiento strips.

Put Dry Toasted Peanuts Into Pie Crust

Dessert and coffee for the bridge club in the early afternoon or later in the evening should be an interesting event. For handsome eating, serve a delicious pie with a peanut crust and a delicate chocolate chiffon filling.

The crust is made with the dry toasted peanuts that have a special herb and salt coating, and graham cracker crumbs to give a delightfully crunchy taste sensation and a gentle flavor contrast to the chocolate chiffon filling.

Peanut Chocolate Chiffon Pie
1 1/4 cups dry toasted peanuts
1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
5 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Preheat oven 375 degrees. Chop the nuts very, very fine and mix with graham cracker crumbs and sugar. Add melted butter and mix well. Spoon mixture into 9" pie plate, pressing mixture on bottom and sides of pie plate with back of tablespoon. Bake for 7-8 minutes. Remove from oven and cool before filling.

Chocolate Chiffon Filling:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt

PEANUT CHOCOLATE PIE — Instead of a pastry crust, this pie is made with a nut crust. The nuts are the dry toasted kind, combined with graham cracker, vanilla wafer or ginger snap crumbs. Filling is chiffon type.

Cauliflower Is Elegant Eating

"California Style" usually suggests the unusual, the new, or the different — whatever it describes — and the term is especially well-suited to this delicious and nutritious side dish.

This unusual recipe adds a "just right" flip of onion to give the casserole a unique, delightful flavor. And, to make it even more appealing, convenience foods such as cheese sauce mix, canned French fried onions even frozen cauliflower, enable you to prepare it in a jiffy!

California Style Cauliflower
2 packages (9 oz. each) frozen cauliflower
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package cheese sauce mix
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup sliced almonds
1 1/2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1/2 teaspoon ground pepper
1 can (3 1/2 oz.) French fried onions
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Parsley flakes

Prepare frozen cauliflower according to directions on package, using no salt or seasonings in the water while cooking. Drain and place in a buttered 2-quart casserole dish. Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Add sauce mix to 1 cup milk and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Mix in almonds, margarine or butter, pepper, and 1/2 can onions. Pour mixture over cauliflower, and sprinkle top with paprika.

Bake, covered, for 15 minutes in a 400 degree oven. Remove from oven, sprinkle remaining onions on top. Garnish with parsley flakes, and return to oven, uncovered, for 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Self-Rising Flour Convenient to Use

If you've recently noticed a type of flour called self-rising flour on your grocer's shelves, don't be hesitant about trying it. Enriched self-rising flour is the same high quality as the regular, enriched all-purpose flour you've been using, but it has the convenience of leavening and salt already blended into it.

Each cup of self-rising flour contains 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Potato Chips Crisp Topping for Casserole

Long ago adventurers made fortunes by finding new food ingredients. Today's homemakers have some that ancestors never heard of, such as potato chips. They contribute a delightful flavor that has your guests coming back for more, as this unusual recipe will prove.

Chopped Cauliflower
1 medium sized head of cauliflower
2 cups of cooked ham, finely chopped
1/2 cup sliced, blanched almonds

Cream Sauce
1 1/2 cups commercial sour cream
2 teaspoons chopped chives
2 egg yolks
2 teaspoons paprika

Chop Topping
1/2 cup crushed potato chips
1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese
Cook cauliflower in salted water until tender-crisp; drain well and separate into flowerets. Arrange flowerets in greased casserole; sprinkle ham and almonds over cauliflower.

Blend together sour cream, egg yolks, chives and paprika; pour over cauliflower. Mix crushed potato chips and grated parmesan; spoon over top of sour cream. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until thoroughly heated.

Buttery Avocado Sliced Into Salad

Main dish salad is ideal for light meal.

Green Salad Plus
4 cups salad greens
1/2 cup thin strips Muenster cheese
1/2 cup thin strips cooked ham
1 cucumber, pared and sliced thin
French dressing and seasonings
1 avocado, peeled and sliced thin

Thinly sliced shallots or red onion rings
Gently toss together the salad greens, cheese, ham and cucumber. Toss again with enough French dressing to moisten and flavor, adding salt, pepper and seasoned salt if desired. Garnish with avocado and shallots or onion rings. Makes 4 main-dish servings.

Chop the peanuts very, very fine. Mix peanuts and vanilla cookie crumbs together. Add melted butter and mix well. Spoon mixture into 9" pie plate and press against bottom and sides of pie plate with back of tablespoon. Bake 7-8 minutes.

Remove from oven and cool before filling. Butterscotch pie filling is delicious in this crust.

Peanut Ginger Snap Crust
1/2 cup dry toasted peanuts
1/2 cup ginger snap crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

Dry Roultir First
Preparing chicken for frying? If the poultry pieces are moist and undrained, they will take up more of the seasoned flour into which they are dipped than if they are thoroughly drained and dried on paper toweling.

Curry powders vary in strength, shop around and find one that just suits your taste!

New Slant on Pumpkin Pie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Dare you tamper with your recipe for pumpkin pie? Dare you suggest that there are other ways of making this all time favorite holiday dessert?

Early pumpkin pies were not pies at all. They were scooped out whole pumpkins filled with ginger, cinnamon, brown sugar and rum. After baking, they were sliced in wedges for serving.

If your taste runs to a spicy rich filling, Maple Pecan Pumpkin Pie is the one for you. Dark corn syrup in the filling and maple flavored whipped cream are special notes about this recipe.

Maple Pecan Pumpkin Pie
1 stick pie crust mix
3 eggs
1 cup mashed cooked pumpkin
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup pecan halves
Maple Whipped Cream (below)

Heat oven to 325 degrees (hot). Prepare pastry for 9" one-crust pie as directed. Beat eggs, pumpkin, corn syrup, sugar, butter, spices, salt thoroughly with rotary beater. Pour into pastry-lined pie pan.

Bake 45 to 50 minutes, or until a silver knife inserted 1" from side of filling comes out clean. Garnish with pecan halves. Serve topped with Maple Whipped Cream warm or cool.

Maple Whipped Cream: Blend 1 cup chilled whipping cream, 2 tablespoons brown sugar and 1/4 teaspoon maple flavoring. Beat until stiff.

If your oven is needed for the rest of the meal on Thanksgiving day, perhaps a frozen pumpkin pie will solve your problem. You can make it the day before or even earlier.

Frozen Pumpkin Pie
1/2 cup pitted dates
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 cups corn flakes
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 cup cooked pumpkin
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened

Combine dates and water; cook over low heat, stirring to form a soft paste. Add butter and stir until combined. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Add to date paste together with sugar and nuts; mix well.

Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

Combine pumpkin, brown sugar, salt, spices and ice cream; blend well. Spread in chilled corn flakes date crumb crust. Freeze until firm.

Remove from freezer and let stand about 10 minutes before cutting. Garnish with whipped cream, chopped nuts or orange peel or ginger, if desired. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Even the most inexperienced cook can prepare the filling for this third pie. The only cooking necessary is preparation of the pudding you use.

Yes, pudding. This pie filling combines vanilla pudding mix with pumpkin and spices. Could anything be easier? The result will be a smooth creamy mixture.

Heavenly Pumpkin Pie
1 package (3 1/2 ounces) vanilla pudding and pie filling
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar

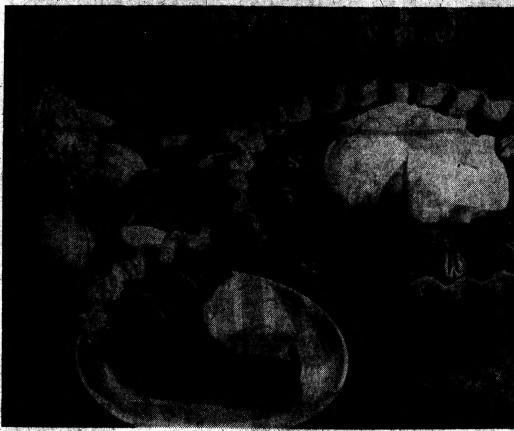

1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon*
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg*
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger*
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 1/2 cups mashed cooked or canned pumpkin
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Prepared whipped topping or sweetened whipped cream
Chopped walnuts
*Or use 1 1/2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice.

Combine pie filling mix, sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, salt, milk, and butter in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat.

Cool about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Add pumpkin; stir until well blended. Pour into pie shell.

Chill until firm — about 3 hours. Garnish with prepared whipped topping and chopped walnuts.

MAPLE PECAN PUMPKIN PIE

Fine Flavor of Walnuts in No-Bake Confection

To prepare No-Bake Walnut Cup, mix together 2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries and 1 cup chopped walnuts. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice, and 2-3 cup sweetened condensed milk. Form in balls. Roll in sugar and decorate with walnut halves.

For extra flavor, marinate chicken pieces in oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper before flouring and frying.

Vegetables Are Given Tasteful Touches

If you're looking for something new to serve, unusual vegetable dishes will take high honors. These treats are quick to get ready with canned food ingredients. Here are two recipes to offer menu suggestions that are tasty as well as attractive.

"Spinach Parmesan" presents the distinctive flavors of Parmesan cheese and canned spinach mingled into one harmonious blend. A bit of nutmeg is added for extra taste appeal.

Glazed Beets and Onions
1 cup seedless raisins
1 can or jar (1 lb.) sliced beets
1 can or jar (8 oz.) whole onions
2 tablespoons butter, or margarine

Put raisins in a saucepan with 1/2 cup liquid drained from beets. Bring to boiling; remove from heat and let stand 15 minutes.

Spinach Parmesan
1 cup toast cubes (about 1/2 inch)
2 tablespoons butter, or margarine
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 can (1 lb. 11 oz.) spinach
3 eggs
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Toss toast cubes in melted butter. Combine nutmeg, 1 cup liquid drained from spinach and egg yolks; beat well. Add coarsely chopped drained spinach and toast cubes; mix. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and 1/2 cup of the Parmesan.

Put in a shallow-baking dish and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 40 minutes, until firm. Six servings.

Ever add herbs to the flour or crumbs you use for dipping, chicken that is to be fried?

LOUISIANA YAMS — Fall colors abound in this Louisiana yam-fruit combination. Spiced ever so gently, it's a marvelous dish for company or on nights when you feel like splurging for the family.

Bake Fruit and Coconut With Yams in Casserole

"Sugar and spice and everything nice" . . . such as prunes, pineapple and apple . . . go into a casserole with copper-colored Louisiana yams. These beauties abound with vitamins in their deep orange skin and flesh, are moist and sweet, and boast of a stringless texture.

Louisiana Yams and Fruit
4 medium yams, cooked, peeled and quartered or 2 cans (1 pound each) yams, drained
1/2 cup silvered prunes
1 1/2 cups sliced red apple (about 1 medium)
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) pineapple tidbits, undrained
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon each: ground allspice, ginger and monosodium glutamate
Water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup flaked coconut

In 2 1/2 quart baking dish, combine yams, prunes and apple slices. Drain pineapple; reserve syrup. Add pineapple to yams.

In saucepan, blend sugar, cornstarch, onion and spices. Add enough water to reserved syrup to measure 1 cup; gradually add to sugar mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is slightly thickened and clear. Remove from heat; stir in lemon juice and butter.

Spoon over yams and fruit. Bake, basting occasionally, in 375 degrees (moderate) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until apples are tender. Sprinkle with coconut, bake 5 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.

Triangle Treats Are Made With Biscuit Dough

Frozen blueberries are perfect for this pastry dessert.

Biscuit Dough
2 tablespoons butter, soft
1 cup frozen unsweetened blueberries, not defrosted
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon flour
Roll out the biscuit dough into a 16 by 12-inch rectangle, cutting off tag ends; cut into 12 four-inch squares; shape tag-end dough into two four-inch squares. Spread with butter.

Mix together the blueberries, sugar and flour; place a generous tablespoonful to the side of each square. Fold over dough in triangle shape; press edges with fork tines to seal.

Bake on a buttered cookie sheet in a hot (400 degrees) oven until lightly browned — about 20 minutes. Serve at once or reheat. Makes 14.

Biscuit Dough: Use 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 cup butter and about 1/2 cup milk.

Green cabbage (shredded) tastes especially good when it is pan-cooked with a little butter and water.

Homemade Cake Mix Is Simple to Prepare and So Convenient to Have on Hand

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Conversation piece: cakes made from a homemade mix. When we served these desserts and friends asked about them, we said casually, "They were made from our own mix."

Well! The idea of concocting a cake mix at home entranced our tasters. They asked for the recipe and vowed to do likewise.

Actually there's nothing brand-new about homemade cake mix — the procedure has been around for some years. But this particular version and the ways of using the mix are new.

Homemade Mix For Cake
8 cups (2 pounds) sifted enriched flour
2 cups canned white shortening
5 cups sugar
¼ cup double-acting baking powder
4 teaspoons salt

Into an extremely large bowl turn half of the flour.

Add shortening, remaining flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. With a pastry blender cut in shortening until it is in fine particles and mixture looks crumbly.

Store in air-tight container in refrigerator up to 6 months. Makes about 15 cups (not packed down).

Note: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Layer Cake
4 cups Homemade Mix for

Cake, spooned lightly into measure and leveled

1 cup milk
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Into a large mixing bowl turn the cake mix. Add ¼ cup of the milk and stir to blend. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer (or 300 strokes by hand).

Add remaining ½ cup milk, eggs, and vanilla; stir to blend. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed (or 300 strokes by hand).

Turn into two 8- or 9-inch round greased wax-paper lined layer pans. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 35 to 36 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Place pans on wire racks to cool for 10 minutes; turn out on racks; turn right side up; cool completely before filling and frosting as desired.

Up-Side-Down Cocktail Cake
¾ cup butter or margarine

¾ cup light brown sugar
1 can (1 pound) fruit cocktail, well drained (1½ cups)
¾ cup finely chopped walnuts
¾ cup Homemade Cake Mix
¾ cup milk
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter or margarine over low heat in 9-inch round pan; remove from heat. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Spoon fruit cocktail and nuts over sugar; reserve.

Turn cake mix into a small mixing bowl. Add ¼ cup milk and stir to blend. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand.

Add remaining ¼ cup milk, egg and vanilla and stir to blend. Beat 2 minutes or 300 strokes more. Turn batter into prepared pan.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 5 minutes before turning out of pan.

One More Tin Can to Clutter Roadside!

The latest innovation on the Paris scene is canned wine. The wine is France's Beaujolais, now available in red and white tins, which hold a third of a quart, and cost about two francs, or 38 cents each.

The cans have a newly developed lining which protects the wine's bouquet. They are approximately the size and shape of those used for other beverages, which makes them handy for shipment, storage, and for outdoor use as when picnicking, hunting, boating, or skiing.

Ground Almonds Replace Flour

This European type dessert calls for whipped cream topping.

Almond Torte

1½ cups almonds
5 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ teaspoon almond extract
¾ teaspoon salt

Grind almonds using fine knife of food chopper. Beat egg yolks until lemon colored; gradually beat in sugar. Fold in ground almonds, vanilla and almond extract. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff; fold into almond mixture. Turn into a buttered baking pan (9 by 9 by 1½ inches). Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven about 50 minutes.

Cut into 9 squares and remove with wide spatula. Cool in pan. Serve with whipped cream.

Keeping Cookies

In making Christmas cookies remember you can make fruit drops weeks ahead, thin cookies a week in advance and the macaroons, butter types and meringues only a few days before the holidays.

Artichoke Hearts Make It Elegant

Artichokes contribute extra flavor for green salad.

Tossed Greens with Artichokes

2 quarts mixed salad greens
1 jar (6 ounces) marinated artichoke hearts
Olive oil and wine vinegar
Seasoned salt, salt and pepper
Turn greens into a large salad bowl. Turn the artichoke hearts with their marinade over the greens; cut largest pieces of artichokes smaller leaving leaves attached to heart. Add remaining ingredients to taste; toss well. Makes 8 servings.

Tarragon Is Sauce Flavor

Tomato cocktail sauce for seafood has unusual flavor.

Tarragon Sauce

1 cup tomato catchup
¼ cup tarragon vinegar
1 teaspoon dry crumbled tarragon
2 teaspoons prepared bottled white horseradish
Stir together all the ingredients; cover tightly and chill overnight or longer to allow flavors to blend. Serve with seafood cocktail. Makes 1½ cups.

Simmered Pork Falls Off Bones

Pork Hocks With Vegetables

6 fresh pork hocks, cleaned
¾ teaspoon salt
6 medium potatoes, peeled
6 large carrots, pared
1 medium green cabbage, cut into 6 wedges
Cover pork hocks with boiling water in a kettle. Simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until fork-tender. Meat should pull away from bone. Remove hocks and keep warm.

Drain liquid from kettle leaving enough to come up about 1 inch; add salt and bring to boiling. Add potatoes and carrots; boil, covered, until tender, adding cabbage 10 to 15 minutes before end of cooking period.
/ Serve hocks with vegetables; pass a pepper grinder. Makes 6 servings.

Apples Will Help

Add one cup of freshly peeled and grated apples, tart and tangy, to each four cups of a bland, seasonal vegetable, such as mashed squash, sweet potatoes, rutabagas, or pappasins, to impart flavor and flair.

Diced Bacon Is Surprise in Soup

Ever try this way of varying tomato soup?

Special Tomato Soup

3 slices bacon, finely diced
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons minced celery
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1½ cups water
In a saucepan, gently cook together the bacon, onion and celery until bacon is well browned. Add undiluted soup and the water. Mix well and heat. Makes 3 servings.

18 Awaiting Executions in Alabama Prison

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Death lives in a steel-barred cell in a closely guarded wing of Kilby Prison. He has 18 roommates.

Twelve condemned Negroes and six white men convicted of murder or rape wait for their numbered days fade away. Unless the courts or Gov. George C. Wallace intervene, they are doomed to die in a gaudy yellow electric chair.

Some have been in the death cell for years, living from reprieve to reprieve. Some, newly convicted, have just begun to wait it out.

Three convicted as killers and one as a rapist have exhausted their remedies in court, and now only the hope of mercy from the governor separates them from death.

14 APPEALS
The 14 others have appeals

SPECIAL REPORT

pending in the courts. In Alabama, all death sentences automatically are reviewed by the State Supreme Court, and sometimes by federal judges as well. The governor has the power to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. By refusing to intervene further after the execution had been delayed 11 times, Wallace ordered a white man, James W. Coburn, to die for a robbery in which a woman was slain.

In every other death case awaiting his verdict, the governor has put off the decision. He once told a condemned man during a clemency hearing, "I have agonized over such matters, but it is a decision the governor must make."

That was last Sept. 8, when a Negro, Caliph Washington, 24, begged him, "Pleese spare my life."

FATE IN DOUBT

Three times since then, Wallace has let the Negro slayer's fate in doubt by granting three and four-week reprieves; without announcing his ultimate verdict. Washington, who was convicted of killing a white policeman at Lipscott, Ala., near Birmingham when he was 16, now is under sentence to die Friday.

Since he first walked into the death cell on Jan. 26, 1960, the Negro's execution has been postponed 12 times — by former Gov. John Patterson, by Wallace, and by the courts.

Some of his reprieves have come only hours before he was to die.

Coburn's execution a few moments after midnight last Sept. 4 was the first electrocution in Alabama in more than two years.

7 WAITING

When Wallace became governor in January 1963, seven men were waiting in death row. One, Coburn, has been electrocuted; another won a new trial and received a life term. Fifteen others doomed by trial juries have come into prison since Wallace took office.

Of the 18 in death cells now, five white men and nine Negroes still have a chance to beat the sentence in court. But for Caliph Washington, Leroy Taylor, William Bowen and Drewery Aaron, it's up to the governor to say whether they live. Bowen is white; the other three are Negroes.

"This is a very solemn and awesome duty," Wallace told The Associated Press recently.

DREADED JOB

"Any governor would dread this duty and responsibility.

But it's something the governor has got to face under the law." Washington has had his clemency hearing before the governor; the other three whose appeals have been turned down by the courts likewise will get a chance to talk with the chief executive face to face before he takes final action.

In making the grim decision, Wallace will be guided by these basic facts:

Washington says he killed Police Sgt. James B. Clark in a scuffle and that he didn't mean to hurt the officer. The state says it was deliberate.

CONVICTED

Taylor was convicted of killing a 7-year-old Negro girl in Talladega County by holding her head under water until she drowned. Taylor is scheduled to die next Feb. 19.

Bowen was sentenced to death for killing a woman, Janice Thayer, in Madison County. He dies Dec. 4 unless Wallace intervenes again.

Aaron was tried for raping a white woman at her home near Montgomery, and is under sentence to die Feb. 5.

Four white men convicted of killing an elderly soft drink salesman, Leonard Culpepper, and tossing his body into a well at his home near Cuba, Ala., last December, are among those awaiting court action on their appeals.

FOUND IN WELL

Harold Leon Edwards of Randall, Okla.; John Lokos of Racine, Wis.; Gerald Eaton of Buckholts, Tex., and Clarence Cecil Coon of College City, Calif., were arrested after Culpepper and his wife were found in the well. Mr. Culpepper survived.

The other white man in death row is James Milford Duncan, 54, father of 12 children. He was convicted of killing an 18-month-old girl who was sexually molested after being taken from a room at a Gadsden motel where Duncan was employed in February, 1963.

The Negroes are Roosevelt Howard, convicted of killing a white storekeeper; Robert Swain, convicted of raping a white woman; Billy Boudien, convicted of killing a white state game warden; Frank Lee Rudolph, convicted of raping a white woman; John Coleman, convicted of killing a white man; Riley Sanders, convicted of robbery and the killing of a white storekeeper; Ben Mathis, convicted of killing an elderly white man and wife after escaping from a prison camp; Johnny Beecher, convicted of raping and killing a young white bride after escaping from a prison road gang, and James E. Hinton, convicted of killing a white man.

To Fight Bulls Again

MALAGA, Spain (UPI) — Famed bullfighter Antonio Ordonez will come out of retire-

Latin Move to Self-Help Is Bright Spot

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

With plenty of bad news throughout the world to worry about, an Alliance for Progress report of a brighter picture in Latin America is one to be cherished.

The improved outlook is reported both by the Inter-American Committee which coordinates and sets policy for the Alliance and by U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Thomas NEWSOM. C. Mann who reports on Alliance affairs directly to President Johnson.

Especially encouraging was a notation that nations which in the past had shown more interest in U.S. handouts than in reform, were themselves attacking economic and social problems with greater vigor.

Mann's report also found noteworthy the peaceful transfer of power in free elections in Venezuela and Chile, the economic and social programs being instituted by Brazil's revolutionary regime and the decision of the United States and Panama to settle their differences at the conference table.

Contributing also to amiable relations within the hemisphere was this year's settlement of a border dispute between the United States and Mexico.

The Mann report also noted a greater tendency among Latin-American nations toward self-help.

As result of this and other improvements, loans for Alliance projects have been granted at a rate more than double that of 1963 in which commitments totaled about $400 million.

A renewal of confidence in the future of Brazil and high growth rates in the economies of Venezuela, Mexico and Central America also had meant a doubling of the rate of private investment.

All this, of course, does not indicate that Latin America is getting out of the social and economic woods or even is close to it.

Watch for Phony Cash
During Holiday Season

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Secret Service warns merchants and others who handle sums of money to be on guard against counterfeit currency during the Christmas shopping season.

Service Chief James J. Rowley said yesterday merchants and their employees are "particularly vulnerable" at this time of year. He said that counterfeiting reached an all-time high during the fiscal year which ended June 30. The Secret Service seized $7.8 million in phony bills.

tionary regime there proves it is interested in a return to democratic government.

Argentina, Brazil and Chile all have enormous short-term debts which will have to be repaid in 1965 or refinanced. Brazil's bill for 1965 comes close to a billion dollars. Argentina's is around $400 million and Chile's nearly $250 million.

Chile hopes to double her income from exports in the next five years, but in the meantime has no foreign exchange with which to carry out her development program.

POLITICAL UNREST

Complicating Argentina's problem is continuing political unrest, stirred by recurring reports that its ousted former dictator, Juan D. Peron, intends to return home. Peronism still is a very live force in Argentina.

Largest of all and with problems correspondingly large is Brazil.

Continuing inflation saw Brazil's cost of living nearly double between September 1963, and September 1964. Supporters of the new regime, however, say it would have been even worse if it had not been for the overthrow of President Joao Goulart.

Aside from meeting its debts, the Brazilian government figures that its economic recovery program needs $70 million for outside sources in the next two years. These are staggering figures emphasizing a staggering problem.

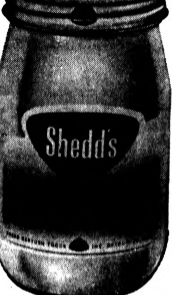

PLAN, PREPARE, RELAX—ENJOY YOUR GUESTS

The first rule of being a good hostess is to enjoy your guests yourself. So, of course, you always try to have as few things as possible to do the last minute in the kitchen. It takes a little extra planning to be a relaxed hostess...not always leaping up to watch the roast or make the gravy or put the salad together. Prepare the basic gravy in advance and just heat it through later will take care of the party. Vegetables in a casserole that it can wait a bit if necessary...and a dessert made early in the day. If the roast is beef or pork, try a quick trick with Shedd's Salad Dressing. Mix a tablespoon of prepared horseradish and a few drops of tabasco sauce with one cup of Shedd's Salad Dressing, to be served with the roast. Naturally, you've chosen a molded salad for your dinner and have made it the day before. We call this one "Out of this World Salad" and you'll find that men love it because it's hearty and tangy, and women love it because it's pretty to look at as well as easy to make.

1 package lime gelatin
1 package lemon gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 large can evaporated milk (chill 24 hours)
1 carton small curd cottage cheese
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup Shedd's Salad Dressing

Dissolve both packages of gelatin in the boiling water and allow to chill till slightly thickened. Drain pineapple. Beat evaporated milk till fluffy and add cottage cheese, pineapple and walnuts. Fold into the partially set gelatin and chill till set. This will fill a large ring mold and serves 10-12 people.

Of K-Mart in Troy

Ceremony Set for Opening

TROY — Top executives of the S. S. Kresge Co. and key officials of the City of Troy will gather for the opening of the new K-Mart at Maple and Livernois tomorrow.

Attending the 10 a.m. ceremony will be Troy City Manager Paul York and Mayor Robert J. Huber, Kresge vice chairman of the board Stanley Kresge, store manager Harvey A. Kresge Jr. and Howard R. Veselius, central regional manager for Kresge.

Troy city commissioners were also invited to the opening. The ribbon-cutting duties have been allocated to Mrs. Harvey A. Kresge Jr. and Mayor Huber.

The ceremony will take place simultaneously with the opening of seven other K-Marts across the country and a Kresge variety store in Puerto Rico.

OLD PRINCIPLE
Stanley Kresge is scheduled to tell the guests that the Troy store, one of eight in the Detroit metropolitan area, continues a long-standing retailing principle.

"We have spent 65 years adhering to a principle laid down by my father, Sebastian S. Kresge," he will say.

"The principle is a simple one—to distribute quality goods at the lowest possible price to as many people as possible."

"The principle of our founder, the will to innovate, and our determination to stand behind every item we sell, we feel, are definite assets to every community."

ADDS TO NUMBER
Opening of the Troy store will bring the number of K-Marts built in the last 32 months to 88, 35 of them this year.

The new K-Mart will have 40 departments on one huge floor, and an inventory of 35,000 items.

A staff of 150 permanent employees has completed intensive training for the opening for business.

The new store is built of, or will make use of, the following in a one-year period:

- Enough concrete to make a sidewalk four feet wide, three inches deep and 125 miles long.
- Enough electrical wiring to make one telephone line 41 miles long.
- Enough glass in the store front alone to make a fence 10 feet high and 250 feet long.
- Enough fluorescent light tubes to make one fluorescent tube more than two miles long.
- Use enough electricity to keep 1,000 homes lighted for a year and enough gas to heat 800 homes for a year.
- A parking lot with a capacity of 1,000 cars is ready to handle crowds of shoppers in search of everything from furniture to clothing and TV sets to sporting goods.

BUSY PLACE—In preparation for tomorrow's official opening, the new K-Mart store in Troy was bustling with activity yesterday as shown by the number of cars in the parking lot. The opening ceremonies, set for 10 a.m. at the store on the corner of Maple and Livernois, will be attended by representatives of the S. S. Kresge Co. and Troy city officials.

Workshop Set for 4-H's on Saturday

A 4-H junior leadership and officer training workshop will be held Saturday at the Cooperative Extension office, 155 N. Saginaw, Pontiac.

Leaders and all 4-H members over 14 years of age are eligible to attend. The session will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and participants are requested to take a sack lunch.

Members and leaders who attended a special program at Camp Kett will be passing on the information they received.

Among members who will be involved in the training and their clubs are Joyce Canfield, Busy Fingers; Jerree Bachelor, HI-Lo; Duane Austin and Norman Mills, Oak Hill; and Donna Horning, West Bloomfield.

Others are Robert Tyson, Paint Creek Valley; Brenda Long, Milford; Rosalie Kibler, Bloomfield; P. M. Mirakian, East Orion; and Gail Kilbourn, Orionville.

Leaders assisting them are Mrs. Herbert Kilner, Ranahans; Mrs. John Lessiter, East Orion; and Mrs. W. G. Kilbourn, Orionville.

Clarkston Board to View Needed School Facilities

CLARKSTON — Faced with a projected increase of nearly 1,800 students in the next five years, the Clarkston Community Schools' Board of Education will discuss needed new facilities at a special meeting Monday night.

The school system has experienced a continued enrollment growth since 1951 and present buildings generally are filled beyond capacity, Schools Supt. Dr. L. F. Greene said.

Enrollment increased from 4,536 in 1963-64 to 5,029 in the current school year.

Most of this 493 increase, which was higher than anticipated, was in the elementary grades. The high school, however, experienced a greater percentage growth.

The projected 1970 enrollment of 6,800 students anticipates 1,132 more pupils in the elementary grades and 639 more at the secondary level.

ABOVE CAPACITY
Presently, six of the school system's seven schools have enrollments above designed capacity.

The lone exception is Sashabaw Elementary School with an enrollment of 381 and a 390-student capacity.

Designed for 1,000 students, the senior high school has 1,145. The junior high school, which was planned to accommodate 800 students, has 821.

Auburn Heights PTA to Hold Open House
AUBURN HEIGHTS — An open house sponsored by the Auburn Heights Elementary School PTA will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Teachers will be in their respective classrooms, and students' work will be on display.

Union Asks Policy Talks With Board
ROCHESTER — The school board has received notification that a new statement of policy governing maintenance and custodial employees will be asked in the near future.

The request will be made by Metropolitan Council No. 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

A letter to the board said that a majority of custodial and maintenance employees have joined the union and asked that a meeting be scheduled for discussion of the policy statement and procedures.

Schools Supt. Dr. William T. Early said that, to his knowledge, no maintenance employees in the school system have joined the union, but that a majority of custodial employees had become members.

The board tabled the matter "until it has had time to consider action," Dr. Early said.

Research at Iowa State University shows concrete feeding floors and an overhead shelter for spring and summer feeding can save an average of $3.78 per steer over a two-year period.

Adult Classes to Be Offered

Walled Lake Courses for School Credits

WALLED LAKE — An evening adult education program which will provide high school course credits soon will be initiated here.

The courses now being planned will be offered for the first time during the second semester.

Basic courses in mathematics and English will be available at the outset of the program.

Registration has been scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Feb. 2, 1965, at Walled Lake High School, 2978 S. Commerce.

Grammar, communication skills and business English will be emphasized in the English course. The mathematics course will include some algebra, geometry, general mathematics and shop mathematics.

CLASS MEETING
Classes will meet two evenings a week for 15 weeks.

To qualify for the program, a student must be at least 16 years old and not registered in a regular high school program. An eighth grade educational background is expected.

Residents of the district will be charged a nominal service fee, while the cost for non-residents will be slightly higher.

Students will buy their own textbooks which can be offered for resale at the end of the course.

STAFF TEACHERS

Berle Dean, adult education director, is being assisted in establishment of the course by E. V. Ayres, high school principal, and members of the high school counseling staff.

NEWS OF THE AREA

To Ask Plans, Cost for Pool, Auditorium

ROCHESTER—Architects will be asked for preliminary plans and cost estimates on a community swimming pool and auditorium at the senior high school.

The board of education authorized the administration to contact O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham.

A total cost of about $900,000 is anticipated by the board for the two facilities.

If the board decides the pool and auditorium should be constructed, it could put the proposition up to the voters next spring in the form of a bond issue proposal.

INITIAL PLANS

The pool and auditorium were part of the initial plans for the senior high school.

Schools Supt. Dr. William T. Early emphasized, however, that no action has been, or will be taken toward an election on the twin issue until the preliminary plans and cost estimates have been prepared.

The administration has also been authorized to prepare a five-year projection of building needs and growth for the school board.

The board has been informed that the permanent stadium bleachers at the senior high have been installed at a cost of $39,850. Estimates had placed the cost at between $40,000 and $41,000.

Dr. Early said he and the board were "very happy with the installations."

Contracts Let in Rochester

Bids Accepted on High School Addition

ROCHESTER—Contracts have been awarded for the construction of a nine-room addition at Rochester Senior High School at a saving of $6,418 as compared to the estimated cost of the project.

Bids totaling $349,582 were accepted by the board of education. The estimated cost of the addition had been put at $356,000 before bids were asked.

Given the general contract was Powell General Contractors of Waterford Township with a bid of $211,185.

This was about $1,685 higher than the low bid submitted by Baker Construction Co. of Oak Park, but the Baker bid did not include an alternate which was included in the final plans.

Reid Electrical Co. of Detroit was awarded the electrical contract with a low bid of $34,250.

MECHANICAL CONTRACT

The mechanical contract went to Detroit Temp Engineering of Detroit, which was the low bidder at $104,147.

The saving over the estimated cost will be used for paved driveways at elementary schools, according to Schools Supt. Dr. William T. Early.

The superintendent said that the contractors will begin work on the addition before the end of the month, and that "we hope that it can be ready for the start of the 1965-66 school year."

The addition will provide three rooms for fine arts, one each for homemaking, instrumental music, vocal music, speech and dramatics and two general classrooms.

Missionary Pair to Talk at Church

IMLAY CITY — A missionary couple on furlough from the Middle East will speak at the 11 a.m. service Sunday at Imlay City Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Morgan, returned missionaries and teachers to Lebanon and the Middle East, are engaged in deputation work among churches of the denomination.

They are on their second furlough since going abroad for the Department of Foreign Missions in 1952.

Cushman Colonial

There is a delightful variety of Cushman Colonial bedroom suites. And each group is totally different from the others, each with its own personality, each reflecting its owner's innermost good taste. Cushman design is superb — the delicate turnings, sturdy hardwood and smooth, silent drawers speak eloquently of construction that would have delighted fastidious early New Englanders. And Cushman's exclusive Deep Grain Antique Finish, with its patina like that of a museum piece, lets the rich graining of Vermont's native hardwood show through.

Repeated Complaint Is Warning

'Illness' May Indicate School Problem

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
The problems of elementary school children usually disappear in the normal course of growing up. Even so, some loom large to a small child. He needs immediate help.
It is of no use to ask a child, "What's the matter?" He probably doesn't know. Neither is it ill or easy for a parent to find the real trouble. Outward signs seem to have little or no connection with the actual causes.

Resistance to getting out of bed and getting ready for school, or a general statement of not feeling well, might be associated with any one or more of the following: An unpleasant experience with other children; inability or timidity in class recitation or reading; difficulty with handwriting or arithmetic; lack of skill in playing games at recess; or any one of a number of other unrelated things.
A child knows that illness is an acceptable excuse. When he becomes upset, he is allowed to stay home. This usually happens automatically; the child does not necessarily decide to be come ill.

One mother, after two weeks of allowing her first-grade daughter to stay home because her stomach became upset as she was getting ready for school checked with the family doctor. Finding nothing physical wrong with the child, the mother firmly sent her on to school.
In the meantime, she had a conference with the teacher. Everything seemed to be going well except art work.
Drawing pictures was an ordeal the child was trying to avoid. Special attention from the teacher soon solved the problem.
There are leading questions that can help a parent or teacher recognize problem areas before they become critical.

1. Does he enjoy both children and adults?
2. Has he learned to accept and respect authority favorably other than that of his parents?
3. Has he learned to enjoy group activity?
4. Will he listen attentively, awaiting his turn to speak?
5. Does he take directions and follow through?
6. Has he learned to share graciously with his possessions and his time with others?
7. Has he learned to accept losing as well as winning?
If the parent must answer "No" to two or more of these questions, he should discuss the child's problem with a counselor or teacher. It is wise to secure help for these signs of difficulties before they become emotional problems and hamper the learning process.

State Cannon Ball Unearthed in South

SPANISH FORT, Ala. (AP) — Compliments of the 6th Michigan Heavy Artillery Battery — Civil War unit.

That, according to Civil War buffs, was the origin of a 125-pound cannon ball found Tuesday in an area where earthmoving equipment is preparing an extension of streets for a subdivision.

The cannon ball was a leftover from the battle of Spanish Fort, fought almost 100 years ago. It was found by Billy Mills, a resident of the area, with the aid of a mine detector.

No Police in Birch Unit: Chiefs

NEW YORK (AP) — Police chiefs in more than 40 major cities surveyed by the Associated Press say they know of no John Birch Society members in their departments.

However, many said they had no way of determining who was a Birch member, and some said the matter was private. Few chiefs reported being aware of any recruiting drive by the ultra-conservative society, but some told of getting society literature.

Philadelphia and Santa Ana, Calif., officials had previously acknowledged knowing of Birch members on their police forces, a total of more than two dozen. Spokesmen for the society, however, claim many more than that, without giving figures.

NO MEMBERS
Houston's assistant police chief, George Beber, said he knew of no officers who have joined the organization. The society's Houston area coordinator, Philip Blair Jones, said there were a number of Houston police officers in the organization.

One unnamed Houston police officer said he and others on the force had received Birch literature almost a year ago.

But, he said: "If anyone joining the society they are keeping it very quiet. I haven't heard of any officer who is a member."

Hugh Fine of San Jose, the society's San Francisco Bay area coordinator, said: "A fair portion of the members of the society in communities around the bay are law enforcement officers."

Thomas Cahill, San Francisco's police chief, said he is convinced there are no Birch members in his department.

"We avoid any association that would place us in a position where we could not be completely impartial," he said.

In Philadelphia, where Mayor James H. J. Tate said he plans to take action against 15 police men who are Birch members, the American Civil Liberties Union urged him to refrain.

A policeman's membership in the society should be ignored, the Civil Liberties Union said, unless it is proved that the society had influenced his execution of duties.

In New York, Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy ordered a study made to determine whether membership in the society would conflict with regulations.

Deputy Commissioner Walter Arm said there were "no indications at this time" that any of the city's 26,000 policemen were Birch members.

The first public knowledge of Birch members on police forces came two weeks ago in Santa Ana, county seat of politically conservative Orange County, 30 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

Federal Buyers Eye Car Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government automobile buyers are considering requiring many additional safety features in the thousands of new cars they buy each year, a General Services Administration spokesman said Tuesday.

The agency's Division of Standards is holding conferences with auto industry representatives and seeking suggestions from federal agencies, safety, engineering and technical groups.

The spokesman emphasized that no conclusions have been reached, but said that among safety improvements which might be required are:

- Collapsible steering columns, to reduce chest and face injuries; steel "roll bars" to resist roof cave-ins when cars overturn; auto bodies built so they would crumple just enough to absorb more of the impact of a crash; bumpers equipped with hydraulic shock absorbers; padded dashboard; and recessed instruments, handles, and knobs; head rests to prevent neck-snapping in certain kinds of collision; stronger tires, better brakes, and antiskid devices.

N-Test Waves Strong in East

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Shock waves from a recent underground nuclear test blast in Mississippi were four to six times stronger than expected throughout the eastern part of the United States, the Defense Department said yesterday.

The results of the test explosion — equal to 5,000 tons of TNT — raised the possibility that a global system for detecting underground tests might be set up with less difficulty than had been supposed.

Overseas detection was less spectacular, however. Two stations in Finland and one in Sweden recorded the tremors, but nine other European listening posts alerted to the explosion failed to receive the signals.

The explosion was set off Oct. 22 at a depth of 2,700 feet in the Tatum Salt Dome near Hattiesburg, Miss.

Another Mousketeer to Wed: Annette Winding Up Details

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Oh, those marrying Mousketeers!

Cheryl Holdridge became the bride of sportsman-hair Lance Reventlow this month. Now Annette Funicello will wed her manager, Jack Gilardi, Jan. 9.

What's more, Annette reports that all of the onetime performers of the Mickey Mouse Club are now married "all except Cubby and Karen, the two little ones."

Annette, the most successful alumna of the club and the only one remaining under contract to Disney Studios, was busy this week with final details for the wedding — and doing her Christmas shopping as well. Why now?

STARTING PICTURE
"Because I'll be starting another beach picture, 'Beach Blanket Bingo,'" she explained. "I won't finish it until nine days before the wedding. But nearly everything is set now. I've picked out the flowers for the church. St. Cyril's in Encino."

"I've just about completed the menu and decorations for the reception. That's no small matter, because we're having 550 for a sit-down dinner in the grand ballroom of the Beverly Hilton."

"We wanted a smaller wedding, but you know how those things go. It just sort of got out of hand."

The bridegroom is executive for a talent agency firm, General Artists Corp., and one of his clients has been Annette.

FIRST MEETING
"I first met him," she recalled, "when he was managing Frankie Avalon. I was 14 and dating Frankie at the time, but I had a big crush on Jack. To him, of course, I was just a little girl."

But, as Maurice Chevalier's, little girls grow up in the most enchanting ways. Six months ago Jack and Annette began dating exclusively. He will continue as her agent after their marriage.

"We keep our professional and personal lives separate," she remarked. When we meet in the evening, I'll tell him what

To Consider School Plans

Waterford Township Board of Education members tomorrow night will consider authorization of preliminary planning for a new elementary school.

If the board authorizes the architects to proceed with plans for the proposed school on Vandant, construction could begin next spring.

The new building, one of several included in the school system's five-year building program, is slated for completion in September 1966.

In other business, the board will hear a report by John E. Hills on the school system's transportation program.

Hills, who supervises school bus transportation, also is director of buildings and grounds for the school system.

COST PROPOSALS
New cost proposals on construction work at the Waterford Township High School annex building also will be considered.

The board rejected earlier bids on the project because they were considered too high.

The board is expected to act on recommendations from the superintendent of schools concerning reinvestment of debt retirement funds, naming of depositories and staff appointments.

Work Stoppage Ends at Site of New Soo Lock

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A days-long work stoppage has been ended at the $46.3 million construction site of the new Soo Lock at the Sault Ste. Marie waterway.

A spokesman for McNamara Corp. Ltd. of Toronto, builders of the huge new lock, said work resumed Tuesday and employees were being called back to their jobs as they were needed.

Work was resumed following a resolution of differences between McNamara and the International Union of Operating Engineers Monday, the firm's spokesman said.

The issues over which the union halted work for more than a week were not explained, but they reportedly involved a layoff of some union members.

Prince Short on 'Royalties'

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles got top marks today for democratic views after publication of excerpts from his school essays. But one newspaper gave him a minus for business instinct.

Queen Elizabeth II, Charles' mother, was not amused that the German magazine Der Stern had published extracts from the copybooks of the 16-year-old heir to the British throne.

"It is highly regrettable," said Buckingham Palace, "that the private essays of a schoolboy should have been published in this way."

"If the essays are genuine," said the Daily Mirror, Britain's largest daily, "Prince Charles' views on democracy are very democratic."

But the Daily Telegraph, reporting that Charles himself was the original vendor of the essays, indicated the prince had greatly underrated their worth.

Quoting Terence Smith, head of a press agency which handled one stage of the deal, it said the prince ran short of pocket money while at school. He recalled, the paper said, that collectors were paying good prices for manuscripts — and sold four of his school papers to a schoolmate for 30 shillings — $4.20.

When the essays were offered in Fleet Street some weeks ago, the price started in the thousands.

GENUINE ARTICLES
Reliable sources in London made clear that the four essays in Der Stern were genuine. They said three were original compositions — essays on democracy, newspapers and television, and on what four possessions he would take to a desert island.

The fourth was his summary of history readings set by his tutor. The sources said the ideas — on such things as the state of oratory in the House of Commons — were not the prince's own.

From extracts printed here, however, Charles emerges as a staunch democrat.

One passage quotes him thus: "Only if every adult has the right to vote can one say that democracy has been fully realized."

The excerpt deplores the tendency to vote on strict party lines.

TRAINING MISSION
The patrol plane was returning from a six-hour training mission in the Argentina area. The Navy said it was not armed with weapons normally carried on antisubmarine assignment.

The plane and its crew were attached to a small detachment of antisubmarine Orions that belong to the Navy's VP-45 squadron which has its headquarters at Jacksonville, Fla.

There are about six Orions based here that fly daily patrols over the North Atlantic.

There was no speculation about what had caused the crash. There was no voice report from the plane on what went wrong.

PROBE STARTED
A full-scale investigation was started immediately. The Navy said a special team of crash experts being mustered in the United States would head for the crash scene today.

"This kind of operation seems to run counter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's plea," to reduce spending in the Defense Department," said Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio.

A high-ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee, Bow said: "It will be interesting when the Defense Department's budget comes in next year to find the cost and the reasons for a trip of this kind."

Rep. William G. Bray of Indiana, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said he favors foreign trips by congressmen and staff members when they serve a useful purpose.

But of this trip, Bray said: "I can't see any justification for it and I think it's one of the expenses that could be cut down."

The Air Force furnished the Associated Press yesterday with some facts about the tour and the names of those on it after Capitol Hill sources had made the trip known.

Acknowledging that it is foot in the bill, the Air Force said it has not calculated the cost.

City Manager Offers Defense of Income Tax

Outlines Advantages for Fulfilling Pontiac Role as Area Center

City Manager Joseph A. Warren defended Pontiac's proposed income tax last night and hit back at critics of the levy on non-residents.

Warren presented to the City Commission his reply to a resolution against the tax by the Rochester village council.

Warren said the tax "recognizes the equity of requiring at least a token contribution on the part of persons who live in the area outside the city but gain their livelihood from inside the city."

Pontiac has been hard pressed for some time to provide services expected of a core city, claimed Warren.

He added that the income tax offers an opportunity to change the base of the city's financing from property to income, a base recognized as being more equitable.

Warren also pointed out that the income levy is spelled out in state legislation, which sets the amount of the levy and the means of adopting it.

GIVES ADVANTAGE
"This has the advantage of providing that all income taxes the roughout that state shall be uniform," said the city manager, "but it makes it impossible for any city to change the income tax application in any manner."

Replying to the "taxation without representation" charge, Warren said that cities, townships and villages already tax the property of non-resident owners.

"I am sure that you (Rochester) regularly tax nonresident property owners in the village who, because of their resident status, have no voice in electing village officials."

He pointed out that the income tax was not new to Michigan, having been in use in Detroit and Hamtramck since 1962.

WELL-ESTABLISHED
Further, Warren said that the city income tax was well-established in many other states. At last count, he said, there were 1,500 cities with the tax, some having it for as long as 24 years.

The city manager said that resolutions opposing the tax had come also from Oakland and Pontiac townships. The Commission directed him to draft similar replies.

Waterford Township has also come out against the half of one percent on non-residents, Mrs. Charles Nixson, 208 E. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Hope to Head Off Strike

Rail Negotiations Resumed

CHICAGO (AP) — Railroad and union officials resume negotiations with federal mediators today in attempts to reach an agreement in a long wage dispute and head-off a nationwide strike.

Some 140,000 nonoperating employees of six shop craft unions are set to strike at 6 a.m. local time Monday.

The walk-out, a spokesman for the unions said, would halt service on 187 major railroads and terminal switching companies which handle most of the country's rail traffic.

Francis A. O'Neill of the National Mediation Board said no progress was made in yesterday's talks with union and rail officials in a wage dispute which started nearly 18 months ago.

"We're just working back and forth," O'Neill said after meeting with officials. "We'll just keep plugging along."

TEMPERATURE ACCORD
A tentative agreement was reached yesterday with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, representing about 28,000 firemen.

Intelligence sources in Cairo speculated that the affair was part of the continuing espionage war between the U.A.R. and Israel. Israeli agents drawn from Arabic-speaking Jewish communities in North Africa and the Middle East have been planted in branches of the U.A.R. government before.

Only one Cairo paper carried a brief story on the incident, but said nothing about U.A.R. Embassy personnel being involved. No government official in Cairo would comment.

Wide Track Completed!!!

Dedication Scheduled for City Loop Road

Wide Track Drive is complete to traffic yesterday. Pontiac's new loop road frees traffic congestion that has plagued work and home-bound motorists for nearly a month.

City officials opened the completed west leg of Wide Track as the final phase of the road's construction.

Motorists can now travel the tear-shaped highway from its entrance on the east side of South Saginaw near Osborn, around the central business district and back to the starting point where Wide Track merges with the west side of South Saginaw.

Eventually, South Saginaw will be part of an intricate network of crossovers and turn-around lanes in the area where the two ends of Wide Track Drive merge.

WORK REMAINS
City Engineer Joseph E. Nepling, however, said work still remains to be done on South Saginaw from Wide Track north to Auburn.

Paving of the Auburn-Orchard Lake crossover got under way today. All concrete is to be in place by Friday, but probably won't carry traffic until the weekend, he said.

Patterson has been closed at Wide Track, but access to Lewis Furniture Company and Pontiac schools remains off of South Saginaw.

Although Wide Track is complete so far as traffic is concerned, Nepling said cleanup and curb work will remain.

Dedication ceremonies for the new loop road are planned for Nov. 27 at 2 p.m.

Details are still being worked out, but tentative plans call for a ribbon-cutting ceremony with state and city officials participating.

In opening of the final leg, running south from West Huron to South Saginaw, city officials also reopened West Pike and Lawrence to through traffic, thus easing a traffic problem which has existed several weeks on West Huron.

UAW Leader Is on His Way Back to Detroit

81,500 at Ford Idle as Three Local-Level Pacts Still Unsigned

DETROIT (AP)—A strike which has idled 81,500 Ford Motor Co. workers may end soon, says United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther said in New York last night that telephone reports he had received from union officials here indicated the strike might end soon. The UAW chief had cut short a European visit to return to the United States and was to leave New York for Detroit today.

He was expected to attend a meeting tomorrow of the Ford-UAW national-level bargaining committees.

Ford blames the continuing UAW strike for idling half its workers and cutting its auto output to 1,000 a day. The firm normally employs 160,000 production workers in 90 plants and had been building 10,000 cars a day in recent weeks.

Agreements on ending strikes at Ford's Ypsilanti, Mich., factory and its Buffalo, N.Y., plant were reached last night. The 3,300 hourly rated workers at the Ypsilanti plant were to meet today to ratify the agreement.

No date was set for a Buffalo ratification meeting.

UNSETTLED STRIKES
The firm still has unsettled strikes in progress at three other plants. They are a parts plant in Sterling Township, Mich., and two assembly operations at Wayne, Mich.

The UAW originally struck 13 days ago at 9 o' clock 11 Ford plants without local-level working agreements which supplement a national contract agreed to Sept. 18.

Reuther said the issue of excessive overtime was one of two remaining stumbling blocks to settlement of the strike.

LEVEL TROUBLE
The other issue, he said, was that "Ford has not really made it clear to us what level of management makes decisions."

He said at one plant officials had reached agreement with local union officials, only to have it nullified later by the "Ford central office."

Congo Rebels Get U.S. Plea on 'Prisoners'

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The United States apparently directed to Congo rebels leaders today to protect medical missionary Paul Carlson and other Americans and to permit their safe evacuation.

U.S. Ambassador G. McMurtrie Godley directed the appeal directly to Congolese Geny's headquarters in Stanleyville, where about 60 Americans and nearly 800 Belgians are "prisoners of war."

Godley presumably sent the appeal by radio or through an intermediary.

The United States does not have direct contact with the rebel capital 775 miles northeast of Leopoldville.

The United States said it holds the rebel authorities "directly and personally responsible for the safety of Dr. Carlson and of all American citizens in areas under their control."

A broadcast from Stanleyville yesterday gave the first indication that Carlson was still alive.

Ad Urges End to Detroit's Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — A newspaper advertisement is being used in this city which has been without its two major daily newspapers for more than four months to urge an end to the long strike.

The morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News were struck July 13 by Local 10 of the Paper and Plate Handlers Union and Local 13 of the Pressmen's Union. The handlers have since settled with the publishers. The pressmen have not.

The advertisement appeared in a number of area newspapers Tuesday. Purchased by a group called the "Citizens' Committee for Community Affairs," it urged the public to contact the group's Detroit headquarters.

According to mediators, the major obstacle to settling the strike is the question of how many men should man new eight-unit presses at the News.

WANT 16
The pressmen want a basic crew of 16 men. Management contends the presses need only 11 or 12 men as a basic crew but will settle for 15.

Seek Millage for Recreation

Request for Program at Bloomfield Hills

The Bloomfield Hills Recreation Commission wants to the millage levy to finance a 50 per cent increase in its program.

Board of education members last night agreed that the levy is needed, but they indicated they had reservations about putting the request on the same ballot with that for teachers' salary increases.

The recreation commission, which operates under the jurisdiction of the school board, urged trustees to seek a half-mill or one-third-mill levy designated specifically for recreation.

Commission Chairman Merrill O. Bates and his associates made their presentation just before the board received a tentative teachers' salary schedule from which they will form a February millage request.

Bates noted that the commission and Bloomfield Township officials were contemplating a joint survey which would bring to light the recreational needs of the two units and indicate more efficient ways to use existing facilities.

BOOSTED IN '63
The school district's recreation program, boosted in 1963 when Edwin Wichert was appointed to direct it, last year attracted some 4,000 participants. The commission now would like to hire an assistant director and a secretary.

Regarding the effect of the planned survey on a millage proposal, Bates said, "There is no need to wait. We don't have to justify the excellence of the program we already have."

The commission last year received $13,000 in operating funds from the school board and collected about $28,000 in fees.

"We would like a definite sum for long-term planning," Bates said.

DIFFICULT
Wichert noted it is difficult to hire good instructors when he can't guarantee that registration will warrant holding a particular class.

"We need to have something behind us," he said. "We could offer a program and give people a chance to try it out."

Using the district's present assessed valuation, a half-mill would net about $41,000 and one-third mill about $38,000.

The school board will give further consideration to the request at its Dec. 3 meeting, when it also is expected to draft the millage proposition for salary increases.

Bloomfield Hills Board Gets Teacher Pay Plan

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education last night received the teachers' incentive salary schedule from which it will draw a February millage proposal.

Cost has been estimated at $568,730 for the schedule's first year of operation. The figure is expected to be pared before the program is taken to district voters.

Levy required to finance the program is expected to be between 3 and 4.5 mills.

The proposed schedule last night was the result of three months of work by the board's teacher salary study committee.

For the first time, it would boost over the $10,000 mark the salaries of teachers now in the system who rank at the top level in terms of service and training.

UP TO LEVEL
The study committee composed of board members, administrators, teachers and citizens was appointed in July to make recommendations which would bring the pay of Bloomfield Hills teachers up to the level of comparable districts in the area.

Committee members noted last night that the Bloomfield Hills rates now compare unfavorably to those in districts like Birmingham, Oak Park, Grasse Pointe, Southfield, Dearborn and Royal Oak.

Outstanding characteristic of the proposed schedule is the provision for incentive or merit increases, which would allow "superior pay for superior performance."

The program would reward the teacher who excels in his field and continues his education while working in the system.

BASE PAY
The base pay for a beginning teacher would be unchanged at $5,300.

But increases spread over a 12-year period would take the holder of a bachelor's degree up to the $29,250 level, while the maximum now is $8,110. Incentive pay would add $600 to the top figure.

INCENTIVE PAY
For a teacher who has obtained 20 credit hours beyond his bachelor's, the range would be from $5,450 as a beginner to $8,000 after 12 years, marking an increase of $500 in the latter category. The top incentive pay at this point would be $9,400.

A $10,000 salary would be awaiting the holder of a master's degree after teaching 12 years. Incentive pay, also granted for 30 additional hours of study, would take the sum to $10,300.

The 12-year teacher with a master's degree and 30 additional credit hours who qualified for incentive pay would get $10,600.

The scale for teachers with doctorates would be unchanged, ranging from a $6,000 beginning rate to $12,500 after seven years. The district now has no teachers in the category.

WOULD BE ELIGIBLE
Under the tentative schedule, teachers would be eligible for incentive pay consideration after their third year.

Administrators have estimated that 85 per cent of the district's teachers would merit the incentive-level salaries.

A system for reviewing their qualifications now is being devised by the study committee.

Last night's board meeting was attended by some 75 persons, many of them teachers. The session pointed to an even more lively one Dec. 3, when the board is expected to formulate a millage proposal.

COST FIGURES
At that time, trustees will receive cost figures, a report from board attorney Lawrence King and another from the League of Women Voters to aid in consideration of the matter.

They also will get an operational millage recommendation from Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson.

Test Reaction to Tax Change
Tax assessing and equalization officials in the Detroit area were given the opportunity yesterday to sound off on the State Tax Commission's new personal property assessment schedule.

However, the results, if any, may not be known for some time.

Headline speaker in a Detroit hearing before the state legislative interim committee on taxation was Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit.

Vance C. Fouts, Hazel Park supervisor and chairman of the Oakland County equalization committee, also presented his views on the new depreciation schedule.

Others who attended from Oakland County were Harold J. Remer of Royal Oak and Clark H. Hagstrom of Birmingham, assessors of their respective cities and equalization committee members, and Frank F. Webber of Addison Township, chairman pro tem of the board of supervisors.

SERIES OF HEARINGS
The interim committee is holding a series of hearings in industrial areas to learn reaction to a recent revision of personal property assessment regulations.

Centered mainly on factory machinery and equipment, the new depreciation schedule is designed to provide a tax break for industry.

It is viewed with alarm by assessors and equalization departments in Michigan's industrial areas, however, because it takes a big slice out of their income from tax revenue and provides no means of reimbursement.

Edwin C. Sage, Oakland County Equalization Department director, estimates the potential loss to the county's tax base at $42 million, which would cut the county's 1965 tax revenue by some $2 million.

PONTIAC THREATENED
Pontiac, as well as other industrial cities in the Detroit area, is also threatened with a sizable cut in personal property tax revenue.

City and county officials are hopeful that the State Tax Commission can be induced to reconsider its latest directive, but the outlook is dim.

"We'll probably have to go over their (the tax commission's) heads," Fouts said. "This new system of assessments originated with the governor, and it will be up to the governor to change it."

Unless some means of reimbursement is found, Fouts said, school districts and real property owners may feel the pinch.

Ironouls, who along with her husband, is conducting a petition drive for a referendum on the income tax, said today just under 2,000 signatures had been turned in so far.

This number is well over the 1,433 needed to cause a vote next spring on the tax question. The Nastroms have indicated they are not necessarily opposed to the income tax, but feel that a referendum should be conducted.

They intend to gather 2,500 signatures before the Dec. 15 filing deadline.

Question on Seating at Wedding

By The Emily Post Institute.

Q: My son is going to be married next month and a question has come up in connection with the seating at church and we would like your help.

Who sits on the aisle in the first pew, my husband or I? I have been told that my place is on the aisle.

A: If this is true, then how is this managed since I will be taken up the aisle before my husband?

Should I stand at the pew and let my husband, who will be following me, enter first or do I take my place and then let him in front of me to take his place beside me?

A: You enter the pew first and take your place on the aisle. You then, either by turning your knees sideways, or if necessary, by standing, make room for your husband to pass in front of you to take his seat beside you.

Q: I am secretary to an executive and take care of the addressing of Christmas cards for him to people with whom we do business.

A: There are several women on this list who are known professionally as Miss, although they are married.

I would like to know how cards to them should be addressed. Should it be Miss or Mrs.?

A: If sent to their offices, the cards are addressed to whatever names they are known in business. If sent to their home addresses, they should be addressed to Mrs.

Q: I am having my two nieces, ages 11 and 12, as junior bridesmaids in my wedding.

A: I would like to know their proper position in the wedding procession.

I have had conflicting opinion on this.

A: They follow the ushers and precede the bridesmaids.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby."

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: I am struggling with a notched collar on a suit and am sure convinced that I have bitten off more than I can chew. The places where all the seams meet just don't want to fit without a lumpy look. Surely I can't be the only gal with these troubles.

Mrs. J. J. E.

Dear Mrs. J. J. E.: From the number of letters I get on this very tricky part of a garment, I am sure that everyone has problems with the notched collar. You will have to mark your garment accurately with all the key matching points given on the pattern.

1. Machine-stitch the under collar to the neckline seam of your garment. Do not machine-stitch to the edge of the fabric; stop on the 1/2-inch seamline and secure the stitching. Clip the curved seam, press open, and catch-stitch to interfacing.

2. Machine-stitch the top collar to the neck edge of the facing. Clip the curved seam and press this seam open.

3. Pin and machine-stitch the facing to the front of garment. Be sure all previous seams you have stitched end at exactly the same spot, where the collar joins the neck edge. Again, secure the stitching. At no time on this collar construction should you stitch the seam allowance in the seams, stitch only two layers of fabric at a time, carefully folding excess seam allowance out of the way.

4. The last stitching will be the outer edges of the collar. Again carefully pin and match the critical spot where the collar joins the garment.

5. Press all seams open on your edge board, grade the seams and check to see where you can eliminate excess fabric by clipping and notching. Always remember to make your garment as flat as possible and eliminate as much bulk as possible.

6. Edge-baste from the facing side of garment. Don't forget that the facing becomes the top collar at the beginning of the roll line. The edge-basting should be done from the wrong side of garment. Bring a small edge of the top layer to the back as you baste, to prevent facing slipping out and showing from the right side.

7. Press carefully with a press cloth and a hot iron. Push the excess fabric you will need for your collar and lapels to roll nicely, baste in place and catch stitch the edge of facing to the interfacing.

Open House After Vows for Couple

The First Baptist Church, Walled Lake, was the setting for the recent marriage of Mrs. Jeanette Cleveland Campbell to William Edwin Coleman.

Her parents, the Owen Clements of North Hiett Drive, Commerce Township, held open house following the ceremony performed by Rev. Carl Grapentine.

Linda Coleman attended the bride who chose Capri blue lace over tulle with matching satin shoes and bow hat. An orchid and white carnations rested on her white prayer book.

The bridegroom, son of the William F. Coleman of Sylvan Lake, had Dennis Brown for best man, Thomas Burnham and James Thieliesen were ushers.

'House' Pests 'Reception'

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends scrubbing before applying pesticides in your home.

Use hot soap or detergent suds to thoroughly pre-wash shelves, cabinets, baseboards, flooring around water pipes or toilets, and wherever else pests are found.

Then postpone washing newly-treated surfaces for several days, so the effect of the spray or powder won't be destroyed too soon.

Measles—Serious Threat

NEW YORK — The view of medical specialists that common measles can result in mental impairment, other physiological damage and has a relatively high death rate apparently has not yet been accepted by parents.

This is the consensus among 152 science and health writers and editors, and editors concerned with women's interests, replying to a questionnaire on the subject.

The group, representing a cross-section of newspapers, syndicates and magazines, are all but unanimous in the belief that antimeasles vaccination is largely disregarded because parents consider the disease a mere inconvenience of childhood and not a serious health threat.

The survey of writers and editors was conducted nationally on Nov. 7 by the Medical and Psychological Information Bureau, New York, to help determine why only 25 per cent of children in the measles age are actually vaccinated.

Although three antimeasles vaccines have been available for more than a year, there were 80,000 more cases of measles in the first six months of 1964 than in the same period of 1963.

Eighty per cent of the replies attribute the existing apathy to a lack of public education on the hazards of the disease.

Some science writers report that the problem is further complicated by the following: (1) the cost of inoculation; (2) resistance to the practice of giving children repeated injections; (3) doubts on the part of family doctors concerning the advisability of using vaccines now available.

INFORMATION SCARCE

Thirty-eight women's interest editors noted a scarcity of specific information on the medical complications of measles which they could pass on to their readers.

Ignorance of the whole subject, including the availability of antimeasles vaccines, is reported to be widespread.

Nineteen cases of measles were reported in Pontiac during the month of October.

Lack of Staff Hampering Urban Renewal Planning--Warren

Progress on the city's 701 planning projects was reviewed last night by the City Commission.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren presented a progress report on the eight-point planning program.

The planning projects, initiated under Section 701 of the Federal Urban Renewal Planning Program, are moving "very slow" for lack of city planning staff, according to the Warren report.

Under the 701 program, the city made application for federal funds to cover 75 per cent of the cost of the planning projects, with the city contributing the remainder, mostly through staff time.

Warren said, however, that at the time the planning projects were undertaken the city cut the budget and personnel of the planning staff by almost 40 per cent.

In addition, the engineering staff was cut 20 per cent.

All of which, according to Warren, has made for "very slow" progress.

A Million Dollars to Relieve Itch of Piles

It is estimated that over a million dollars a year is spent on varied remedies to relieve itch of piles. Yet drop pills tell you that cooling, astringent, Peppermint's Gintment soothes pile trouble in minutes. The box or tin tube applicator, Peppermint's Gintment gives fast, soothing relief from itching. Be delighted of nightly back.

slow" work on the 701 master plan.

The 701 planning projects encompass eight areas:

- Commercial land use
- Industrial land use
- Major thoroughfare plans
- Residential neighborhood plans
- Study of community facilities

- Review and analysis of existing zoning
- Study of municipal facilities, particularly storm sewers
- A city capital improvement program

To date, the planning staff has gathered information on only one of the city's 16 arterial streets (Baldwin), said Warren.

TIMETABLE

A realistic timetable for the rest of the streets, according to Warren, would be a completion of mid-February 1965.

Warren suggested that unless $15,000 can be reinstituted in the 1965 planning budget, the city might consider contracting planning services.

"Recruiting and training planning personnel cannot be accomplished overnight," he pointed out.

The city has contracted for study of the city's storm sewers, Warren mentioned.

The entire 701 planning project is to be completed by January 1966.

Other business last night, the City Commission approved a lease agreement with the federal government for the U. S. Naval Training Center on East Boulevard South. The agreement runs until June 30, 1977.

Also, a lease agreement with Michigan Aviation Co. for space at Pontiac Municipal Airport was okayed by the commission.

The agreement calls for a rental of $900 per year for space for a hangar.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, odd-lot benefits were granted Jack Prasil for Lot 152, Newton Estates Subdivision, on Kenilworth, south of Perry.

Upon the recommendation of City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling, the commission allowed an adjustment of the street paving assessments. The total amount was trimmed from $780 to $400.

Neippling said that a revision of the frontage was justified.

In related action, a policy change was okayed for double frontage lots.

SEVERE INEQUITIES

Again, Neippling said that severe inequities are created on sewer and water project special assessments.

"These two types of public improvements are without a doubt," said Neippling, "tied to the principle of a single benefit to each subdivision lot."

The city engineer added that since a single benefit is the only advantage to a lot, the policy of levying assessments for multiple street frontages is questionable.

Many communities follow a more logical approach of assessing on the "basis of a unit of benefit," he said.

The commission resolution directed that all special assessments for water and sanitary sewer be levied on the basis of the "first street improved" and none for the second street.

Neippling said that this would take in corner lots as well as those lots that front on two streets at the front and back of the lot.

Estimates on a water main in East Boulevard from Woodward to the DGH & M Railroad were presented last night to the commission.

Total cost of the main was put at $15,095 with the city's share totaling $10,959 and the assessed cost $4,135.

HOUSING PROJECT

A housing project is planned for the area and would pay the assessed portion of the cost.

Final action was taken last night on a subdivision ordinance, which sets standards and in the city.

* Pain of Arthritis Conquered By New Discoveries!

Research at Spears Chiropractic Hospital has opened the door to health for thousands of sufferers who have been led to believe there was no relief. Because of these excellent results, thousands of "hopeless" and discouraged people who knew little about this hospital or chiropractic have found new hope and relief from Arthritis and Rheumatism and many other types of diseases.

WORLD FAMOUS SPEARS HOSPITAL

Arthritis is seldom fatal, but it is America's number one crippler, its actions and symptoms make it one of the most painful and crippling of all diseases. Because about 90% of our patients reach us after having been given up or declared incurable elsewhere, naturally some of them arrive too late for complete relief, but the great majority go home well satisfied and happy.

Fish Cooked in Foil Makes Its Own Good Tasty Sauce

It's often the sauce that's the secret of a good fish recipe. But you don't have to be a French chef to prepare fish with a delicious sauce. Just bake it with condensed cream soup and savory flavoring ingredients, all tightly packaged in aluminum foil.

The sauce forms in the foil—a blend of the juices of the fish and everything else that has been added. Nothing is lost.

Open the fish at the table and mouth-watering aromas arise such as you've never breathed before. The fish itself is moist, tender, and the sauce a smooth and savory delight to the palate.

FOR ALL FISH

All fish fillets can be prepared this way... sole, salmon, perch, or others you prefer, either fresh or frozen. Canned condensed cream of celery, mushroom and frozen condensed cream of shrimp soups all have flavors that combine deliciously with fish.

The frozen cream of shrimp with delicate white fillets such as sole or flounder, is a true gourmet dish for a party.

Add other ingredients for still more flavor, if you have the time... chopped onion, celery, parsley, mushrooms, if they are available and inexpensive, herbs, freshly ground black pepper. Lemon juice or dry white wine should be added for the piquancy so necessary with fish.

Vegetables can go in the package... thinly sliced potatoes, match stick carrots or other quick cookers, to make a complete dinner, if you wish.

Seal everything in individual foil packages or make one big package and bake in the oven. The juice from the fish dilutes the condensed soup to just right consistency and the seasonings and vegetables add their goodness.

Truly, you could cook and stir for hours to prepare a sauce such as this one that blends itself inside the foil as the fish cooks.

Here is the master recipe for preparing fish with sauce in foil. But let your own inventiveness lead you to many more wonderful combinations.

Fish Fillets with Sauce in Foil 1 to 1½ lbs. fillets, fresh or frozen—cod, haddock, salmon or sole

1 can condensed cream soup
4 teaspoons dry white wine OR lemon juice
4 teaspoons chopped onion
4 teaspoons chopped celery
4 teaspoons chopped parsley
pepper and salt
sprinkling of herbs
4 portions of vegetables that will cook quickly

Thaw fish, if frozen. Cut fish in 4 portions and place each in center of large square of heavy duty aluminum foil. Spoon condensed soup over the fish and sprinkle on all seasoning ingredients, dividing them equally.

Add a serving of vegetables to each package, if desired.

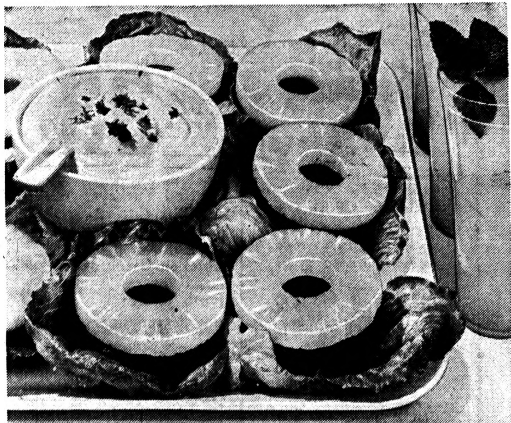

Or place fish, condensed soup, seasonings, optional vegetables, on one large sheet of heavy duty foil.

Bring the foil up over fish and close all edges with a tight double fold. Seal on ends should be turned up, so juices will not leak from package. Place packages on shallow pan and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Serve individual packages to be opened at the table and eat right from the foil. If one large package, place on platter, open and serve at table.

OITSMIJTER—The Dutch call it an "Oitmsmijter" and a tempting, man-sized sandwich it is, too, made with a delicious kraut slaw, sliced roast beef, topped with a fried egg. Hot coffee with chicory will give you the full-bodied rich brew to go with it.

Open Meat Sandwich Is Topped With Kraut, Egg

While to some a "Dutch treat" may mean everyone pays his own way, here's a Dutch treat that will mean delicious eating to everyone! The Dutch call it an "oitmsmijter" and consider it one of their favorite sandwiches, akin in popularity to our hot dog.

Oitmsmijter literally translates into "outside meat" and the hearty sandwich is always served open-faced.

On the Dutch island of Aruba in the Caribbean, where the swimming is serene, the shopping superb and the food fabulous, it is served this way: based on rye bread, liberally spread with a crisp kraut slaw that contains chopped onion and green pepper, the sliced meat (roast beef in this case) is topped with a well-fried, fresh egg. This is a substantial main dish for most... with meat and vegetables all in one.

The kraut, an economical and flavorsome vegetable, not only adds zest to the sandwich, but excellent nutrition as well since it has so much in the way of vitamins and minerals to offer. You can vary the choice of meats... use leftovers if you have them.

And, of course, serve steam-

ing coffee, in generous cups, with it. Either black, or with cream or milk and sugar.

No sissy coffee will do with this dish, however... a staid brew with body is called for. Coffee with chicory will give you a robust beverage with a full, rich flavor. Laced it with spices... cinnamon, nutmeg and clove... then take just one whiff of the enticing aroma and you'll know you had best prepare lots of it to go along with your Kraut Oitmsmijter.

Kraut "Oitmsmijter" Sandwich
4 cups drained sauerkraut, chopped
2 1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon chervil
Pepper
6 eggs
Butter or margarine
Salt
12 slices rye bread
12 slices roast beef

Combine kraut, mayonnaise, green pepper, onion, chervil and dash pepper; mix and chill. Fry eggs on both sides in butter, until yolks are thoroughly cooked. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Spread kraut relish on bread slices; top with beef. Place 1 fried egg over center of 2 open-faced sandwiches. Garnish with parsley, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Toast bread if desired.

Kaffee Aruba
Ground coffee with chicory
3-inch cinnamon stick
3 whole cloves
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Brew 6 cups strong coffee, adding the spices to the coffee with chicory grains. Serve hot coffee with cream and sugar, as desired. Makes 6 servings.
