Control $75,000 Fire

By JOE MULLEN

Hampered by three lapses in the water supply, firemen from five area communities battled a $75,000 blaze yesterday afternoon in Waterford Township for nearly five hours.

The fire gutted the D & J Cabinet Shop on M59 at Williams Lake Road and an adjacent vacant building.

Damage was estimated at $50,000 for the buildings and $25,000 on the contents.

Four of the 50 firefighters on the scene suffered injuries. Richard Watson, 35, is reported in satisfactory condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with facial and head burns.

Watson, who also suffered smoke inhalation, was pumping water into the rear of the building when an explosion, touched off by paints and paint thinner, sent a billow of smoke and flame toward him.

Fire traced to a faulty chimney resulted in $150 damage to the Charbonneau Cabinet Shop, 109 S. Josephine St., Waterford Township at 10:30 a.m. today.

Also injured was Waterford Township Fire Chief Elmer Fangbner who slipped on the slick water covered ice in front of the buildings injuring his leg. Fangbner was treated at the hospital and released.

Ernest Lawson, 36, of the Waterford fire department was treated at the scene for minor burns on the hand.

Douglas MacLeod, 30, of the White Lake Township department suffered a shoulder burn and was given first aid outside the burning buildings.

Reported at 3:10 p.m. the fire was apparently under control within a half hour but a five-minute period without water allowed the blaze to gain new momentum, leading to the explosion.

Firefighters, after exhausting their initial supply of water, had to rely on tanker trucks to replenish the water until a line was anchored in nearby Pontiac Lake shortly after 4 p.m.

Sections of hose extending across M59 from the lake broke twice due to the heavy flow of traffic and had to be replaced with new sections.

Fangbner said the blaze could have been controlled much sooner had it not been for the water supply being cut off at a crucial time.

"After the explosion and the resulting new burst of flame, we began to concentrate on protecting the endangered surrounding buildings," Fangbner said.

Fangbner said the cause of the blaze had not been determined although it was known to have started in the front area of the cabinet shop.

The four other stores in the block were not damaged.

Mrs. Jennie Hemberg, 9776 Bonnie Brier, White Lake Township, was not injured.

Marines Were Ready for Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine Corps commandant, said today that 45,000 leathernecks were poised last October for invasion of Cuba if necessary.

Shoup, noted for his salty language, told his command that "only by the grace of God and an aerial photo is it possible to make these remarks to many of you in person rather than to your spirits."

He said the invasion force was "one of the greatest assault teams in American history." It is known to have included more than 100,000 Army combat troops, with more than 150,000 Navy and Air Force men aboard ships and planes in the Cuban area or on special alert at air bases.

Shoup's 3,000-word statement was prepared for a meeting of his staff commanders at Marine Corps headquarters today. It also was sent to Marine commands throughout the world.

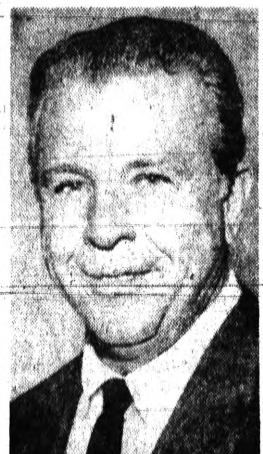

ship, owner of the gutted stores, was reportedly in Florida.

Fangbner praised the work of firefighters from White Lake Township, Independence Township, West Bloomfield Township and the village of Union Lake, who joined with men from his department to battle the blaze in sub-freezing temperatures.

The alarm was answered by 12 pieces of equipment.

The fire at the one-story brick buildings was the worst in Waterford Township since the $750,000 blaze that gutted the Huron Bowl on Feb. 23, 1959.

Two More Film Greats Die Victims of Cancer

JACK CARSON

By The Associated Press
HOLLYWOOD — Dick Powell, who made his fame singing love songs to Ruby Keeler, and his millions in the tycoon role he loved best, died of cancer Wednesday night with June Allyson holding his hand.

The 58-year-old movie and television veteran had been in a coma two days.

His death climaxed a sad day for Hollywood, following by only five hours the death — also of cancer — of Jack Carson.

For the first time in recent memory, two funerals for major Hollywood personalities will be held on the same day—Friday. Powell was the fourth Hollywood giant felled by the disease in 18 days. Charles Laughton, who died Dec. 15, and Thomas Mitchell who died two days later, were the others.

"I THINK HE'S DEAD" — Miss Allyson, Powell's actress-wife, had sat holding his hand most of the evening. It was she who discovered that he had breathed his last.

She calmly announced to the other members of the family: "I think Richard has died."

From Our News Wires
ENCINO, Calif. — Actor Jack Carson turned in one of his greatest performances during the last two months of his life by concealing a death-dealing cancer.

He died yesterday at the age of 52 of a malignancy of the liver.

Although Carson had been ill for six months, and knew two months ago that his case was terminal, his death caught most of Hollywood by surprise.

That was because Carson told no one — not even his wife or his closest friends — how sick he was until two weeks ago.

On New Year's day, he watched the Rose Bowl game and was thrilled with his beloved Wisconsin's amazing fourth quarter surge. Then yesterday he was walking around normally and talking to his wife.

She left the room for a few minutes and when she returned, Carson was dead.

DIED WITHOUT WEIGHT

Frank Stempel, Carson's partner and close friend for 28 years, said: "Amazingly, Jack didn't

Pontiac Rates Third in '62 Car Production

Pontiac Motor Division was top producer of cars in the traditional medium-price field and ranked third in total production in the auto industry in 1962, according to figures released yesterday by the nation's five passenger car manufacturers.

In addition, Pontiac and Tempest production was second only to Chevrolet-Corvair among General Motors Corp. divisions.

Passenger car production last year was up 25.7 per cent from 1961 throughout the industry. There were 6,935,380 cars built in 1962, second only to the 1955 total of 7,942,125.

GM accounted for 53.9 per cent of all industry output, an increase of 4.5 percentage points over its 1961 share.

Pontiac Motor produced 401,674 Pontiacs and 145,676 Tempests last year for a division total of 547,350 cars.

This compared to 244,391 Pontiacs and 115,336 Tempests produced in 1961 for a total of 360,336.

Katanga Town Taken by U.N.

Columns Move Toward Moise Tshombe Hq.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Vital equipment at Union Miniere plants in Jadotville, Katanga, was destroyed by Katangan forces last night, the company said today.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — U.N. forces captured the important Katanga town of Jadotville today, a U.N. spokesman said. This gave the attackers a springboard for an advance on president Moise Tshombe's headquarters at Kolwezi, about 90 miles away.

Katangan forces resisting the U.N. sweep through the secessionist province had been expected to make a major stand at Jadotville, a mining center midway between Kolwezi and the fallen Katangan capital of Elisabethville.

U.N. troops stopped six miles from Jadotville last night after crossing the Lufira River on improvised pontoons and buckled girders from three bridges the Katangans had blown up. The U.N. units were forced to leave their heavy equipment behind.

Indian, Irish and Ethiopian troops in the U.N. force took Jadotville by noon, a U.N. spokesman said. This indicated that they had little resistance.

The prime objective, Kolwezi, is 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Kolwezi is the base for most of Katanga's air force as well as temporary headquarters for Tshombe's government.

As the U.N. column moved toward Kolwezi, the United Nations prodded Tshombe to end his secession from the Congo central government once and for all.

Foreign consuls in Elisabethville, however, were reported still fearful Tshombe would carry out his threat of widespread sabotage and destruction of mining and other installations in the ore-rich province.

At U.S. Embassy

Russ Beg Refuge

MOSCOW (AP) — A determined little band of Siberian peasants, describing themselves as persecuted Christians, forced their way into the U.S. embassy today and appealed for refuge.

Protesting loudly, the 32 men, women and children were taken away in a Russian bus nearly four hours later after Soviet officials promised the embassy they would be put up in a hotel and would not be harmed.

The demonstration — almost unheard of in the Soviet Union — brought to light an unpublished protest by a group of Russian Baptists six months ago at the British Embassy.

A British embassy spokesman said the Baptists had appealed for help in "getting in touch with the United Nations," but did not seek asylum. They tried to hand over a letter, which was not accepted, and then went away.

It was reported in Washington that U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler did not ask for instructions from the State Department

6 Accountants to Keep Close Tab on Finances

Governor Says Group to Insure Maximum Service Rendered

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney today named a group of six certified public accountants to help his new administration keep a close check on state expenditures.

Romney described it as a special task force on expenditure management.

He said the efforts of this force "should enable us to make certain we are rendering the maximum service possible with the least amount of money."

The accountants who are volunteering their services will make available to the governor a monthly balance sheet and other management information on the state's financial position.

It will deal with information only and not policy.

The accountants named to the task force are John W. McEachren, Detroit, chairman; Paul F. Ieremian, Ann Arbor, secretary; Mark B. Littler, Arthur P. Bartholomew Jr., and John J. Fox, Detroit; and Don Edwards, chairman of Michigan State University department of accounting and finance.

The governor said the formation of the task force was first proposed by L. William Seidman of Grand Rapids, who is special assistant to the governor for financial affairs.

Seidman will be an ex-officio member of the task force. Romney made the announcement at a news conference here before making a speech at the Metropolitan Conference on Open Occupancy.

PLEDGES SUPPORT

In that speech, Romney pledged his full support for the bipartisan civil rights commission which would be established under the proposed new constitution and said it could be "a significant step" toward ending racial discrimination in the real estate market.

The governor said if voters approve the new document in April, he will:

—Appoint members of the civil rights commission on the basis of "demonstrated interest and competence in the cause of civil rights."

Split Over State GOP Boss

By JIM DYGERT

Selection of the next Republican state chairman looms as a crucial decision—one that could prove to be a turning point in the history of the state GOP.

Delegates to the party's state convention in Grand Rapids Feb. 15-16 must make the decision.

How tough the selection will be may depend to a great extent on an equally critical choice by Gov. George W. Romney before the convention opens.

Oakland County Republicans, who boast the most powerful county GOP organization in the state and the one that led Romney into politics, are caught in the middle.

Both leading contenders — Arthur G. Elliott Jr. and John A. Gibbs — are well-known, popular and respected among county Republicans, who are currently split about 50-50 on the choice.

The final answer may determine whether the state GOP can take advantage of the opportunity afforded by Romney's victory.

Will it be able to build a strong party organization based on the "citizens' party" ideas advocated by the governor?

The beginnings of this type of party, some Republicans say, already exist in the Republican organization in Oakland County and other parts of the state.

"FAVORS ELLIOTT"

Romney reportedly favors the 45-year-old Elliott, Oakland County GOP chairman from 1957 to 1961 and Romney's campaign manager in 1962.

But many Republican leaders, throughout the state as well as in Oakland County, strongly support Gibbs, now executive assistant to the current state chairman, George M. Van Peursem.

Van Peursem is not expected to seek re-election to the $21,500 a-year post. Republicans close to the situation say he would not be re-elected, anyway.

They say Gibbs and Mrs. Elly Peterson, state vice chairman, have done all the work and Van Peursem, though well-liked and popular, does not grasp the complexities of modern political organization.

Gibbs' supporters feel strongly that Elliott's election to the top state party post would be a mistake, though not because they think he is not qualified.

They hope Romney will see it their way before making his choice known to convention delegates. Many feel delegates would not go against the governor's desires.

SEEK TO AVOID FIGHT

They also would like to avoid a bitter floor fight, which many expect if Romney's choice is Elliott. Some even believe that

Gibbs will have enough support from throughout the state to win.

Romney only increased speculation on the matter when he named Elliott to the temporary and somewhat vague position of "special administrative assistant with duties still to be defined" on Dec. 21.

The governor was thought by many Republicans to be keeping Elliott in reserve to serve as his liaison with the party from the party leadership post.

This would be in line with Romney's appointment pattern of designating one key man for each area — legislature, legal, party affairs, etc.

Others are convinced, however, that Romney has not definitely made up his mind on the right job for Elliott, a former Royal Oak real estate dealer who now lives in Bloomfield Hills.

Viet Nam Quiet Now

TAN HIEP, Viet Nam (AP)—After 20 hours of battle, Vietnamese and Americans picked up their dead and wounded from this Mekong Delta area today.

The Vietnamese forces showed little interest in chasing the Communist guerrillas who had trapped them with blistering gunfire.

Across the rice paddies, evidence of yesterday's battle was grim.

Five American helicopters lay crashed in the mud. The bodies of two of three Americans killed in the fighting were recovered. The third American died after he was evacuated yesterday.

One U.S. helicopter bore 21 bullet holes. On its deck lay the open wallet of one of the dead Americans, a 21-year-old gunner. There was a picture of his wife and child.

By early afternoon, more than 100 government dead and wounded had been picked up from thatched-roof huts, dikes and the open ricefields.

Dick Powell Loses Battle With Disease

Someone had better call the doctor.

She never called him Dick—although every one else did.

Powell's personal physician was there in minutes and pronounced the actor dead.

Miss Allison, who had lived for months in dread of the final moment, was given a sedative by the doctor.

Ruby Keeler, who starred with Powell in "42nd Street" and other musical movie hits in the 1930s, mourned her ex-partner's death, along with the Hollywood community.

"It's as if part of my life is gone," Miss Keeler said. "We made eight or nine pictures together, just about all the pictures I made. And I've known him for a long, long time. He's always been a fine man."

Jack L. Warner, president of Warner Bros., the studio that brought Powell to Hollywood, said:

"Whatever greatness means to the world of show business, Dick Powell had it. He also had the great qualities that make for lasting friendships.

"He never forgot a friend and he was a friend to everyone in Hollywood. We will miss him terribly."

Stempel said the actor's closest friends were told of his illness only recently.

"Jack evidently knew he had cancer, but he didn't tell anybody," he said last night. "I talked to Jack last night and this morning. He wasn't feeling well, but he was all right."

But a hint of Carson's failing health came last Aug. 26 at Andover, N.J., when he collapsed on stage during dress rehearsal for "Critics Choice." Physicians said—at the time—he had a stomach disorder.

His last appearance was on Walt Disney's "Wonderful World of Color" on television four months ago when he appeared to be in good health and spirits.

In recent years, Carson had been touring the country in stock shows.

Carson's first stage appearance came when—because of his size—he was chosen to play the part of Hercules in a college production. It was an auspicious debut. He tripped during a performance and knocked down half the set.

Newsman who flew in late this morning saw smoke rolling out of the devastated hamlet of Ap Bac, where communist guerrillas—entrenched in deep fortifications, had hit the government forces with automatic weapons fire.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of the U.S. forces in Viet Nam, told newsmen in Saigon after a visit here he believed the government forces had encircled the Communist Viet Cong and stood a chance of crushing them. But there were no signs of any new drive against the Reds immediately.

The battle was one of the bloodiest—and costliest to U.S. support forces—so far in the war.

Two more American injured were reported, bringing American casualties in the past 24 hours in Viet Nam to three killed and 10 wounded.

A U.S. Army captain and two helicopter crewmen were killed and six helicopter crewmen were wounded in the opening phase of the battle near Tan Hiep. Last night a U.S. Army captain and a sergeant, both paratroopers, were wounded when they jumped into the battle area with a group of Vietnamese reinforcements.

DeGaulle Replies to JFK on Polaris

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle has sent a reply to President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles, authorized French sources said today.

The reply was sent yesterday, these sources added.

The message was more in the nature of an interim reply of courtesy to the effect that the offer is under study.

A government spokesman also announced that France will keep building its own independent nuclear striking force despite the offer of Polaris missiles.

The statement by Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte clearly reflects President Charles de Gaulle's present position.

Peyrefitte issued it following a cabinet session in the Elysee Palace in which de Gaulle took an active part.

The minister said the American offer to sell Polaris missiles was discussed in connection with a long report by foreign minister Maurice Couve de Murville on the recent British-American summit meeting in Nassau.

The foreign minister got additional details yesterday from U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen. Bohlen will see de Gaulle tomorrow.

Peyrefitte told newsmen that France still does not completely understand how Kennedy's proposal can be pertinent to France.

France, Peyrefitte pointed out, does not possess any submarines capable of launching a Polaris missile, nor any nuclear warheads for such a missile.

Under these conditions, he said, there is no reason for France to abandon its own nuclear program.

NO HINT

The information minister gave no hint of de Gaulle's attitude toward Kennedy's offer—whether

Kaline to Get $52,000 in 1963

DETROIT (UPI)—Al Kaline became the highest-paid Detroit Tiger today when he signed a 1963 contract for an estimated $52,000.

The 28-year-old outfield star was cagey about revealing the exact terms of his new pact but admitted:

"Considering the circumstances, it is the best I've ever had."

Kaline's contract surpasses the $50,000 pact given teammate Rocky Colavito last season. Colavito made slightly more than Kaline did in 1962.

The raise came as a slight surprise to Kaline because he missed 57 games last year after making a game-saving catch May 26.

He hit .304 and slugged .29 homers.

He predicted a good year for himself and the Tigers.

Revive Telstar; Set Europe TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Telstar communications satellite came back to life today and plans were immediately made for an attempt at a live television transmission to Europe tomorrow.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories said they succeeded in getting transmitters and receivers on the satellite to respond to signals from the ground shortly before noon.

They said they sent a test pattern of messages with such encouraging results that the decision to attempt a live broadcast to Europe resulted.

Eye Veteran Educator for Junior High Post

BIRMINGHAM — A veteran educator now in the Hazel Park School System is a prime candidate for the position of principal of the new junior high school in Beverly Hills.

The appointment of John Dickey, currently principal of Hazel Park High School, will be decided Jan. 22 by the Birmingham Board of Education.

Walter J. Piel, administrative assistant in the school district, said Dickey has emerged as the top principal candidate from a field of 28 considered by a selection committee headed by Kenneth F. Nagley, personnel director.

Piel said the new junior high school at 14-Mile Road and Bellvine Trail should be completed by next September.

If hired, Dickey would begin organizing a staff for the new school immediately.

Dickey still must be released from his present contract by the Hazel Park Board of Education before the Birmingham board acts on his appointment, according to Piel.

A Detroit policeman and a machinist in the 1940s, Dickey holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne State University.

Dickey, no relation to Birmingham School Supt. Otis M. Dickey, first worked as an elementary school teacher in 1935.

He later taught in the Detroit Public Schools, came to Hazel Park as an elementary school principal in 1956 and was appointed high school principal in 1960.

before turning over the peasants to Soviet officials.

State Department officials said Kohler acted in accordance with the principle that the United States does not recognize the granting of asylum by embassies or consular offices.

Therefore, they stressed, there was no need for specific instructions.

They said Kohler had filed a detailed report on the incident.

The shabbily dressed peasants who appeared at the U.S. embassy said they had come by train from Chernogorsk, a Siberian town about 2,100 miles east of Moscow.

They said they were fleeing from persecution by local officials who threatened to jail them and take their children away from them.

A U.S. embassy official told newsmen the group wanted help to get out of the Soviet Union rather than to seek asylum. They made no specific request to go to the United States.

The peasants said they had heard they could go to an embassy and get refuge while the embassy arranged for them to be sent out of the country.

During an argument before the protesters were packed aboard the bus, one man complained: "They will shoot us. Let us be sent to any country. It doesn't matter. There's no place for us here—no place to go."

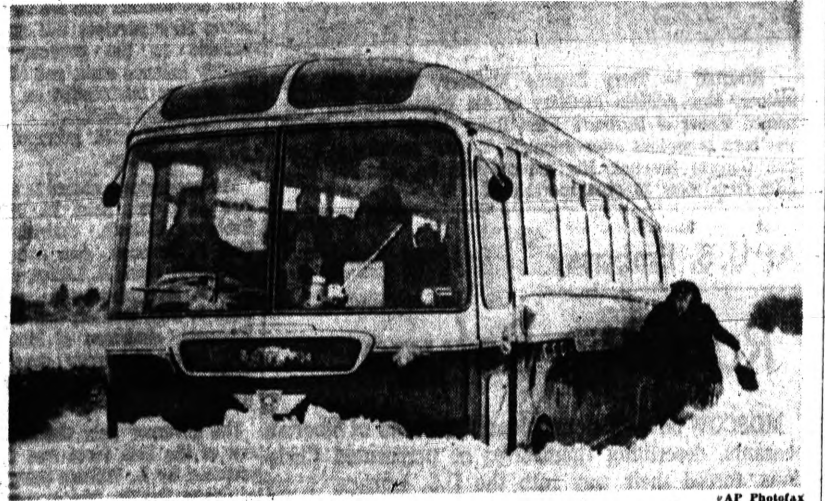

Orders Recess in Death Exam

DETROIT (AP)—Recorder's Court Judge Arthur Kosciński has recessed until Monday the preliminary examination of Robert M. Thorson, 31, on a charge of first degree murder in the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dorothy M. Thomas, 62.

The recess was ordered yesterday after attorneys argued over the admissibility of evidence. Thorson is accused of beating and strangling Mrs. Thomas at her home here Dec. 4.

Judge Kosciński, who will determine whether the Birmingham stock broker is to be held for trial, said, "the case now hinges on the admissibility of the evidence, which must be ruled upon by this court before any testimony can be taken."

Thorson's attorney argued that a blood-stained coat, trousers and hat taken from his car by police could not be entered because they were seized illegally.

NATIONAL WEATHER — There will be snow flurries tonight in the lower Lakes region while rain is predicted in the northern and southern Plateau regions turning to snow in higher elevations. It will continue to become warmer in the Northern Plains and from the Southern Plains northeastward through New England. Cooler weather is expected in the South Atlantic coastal states, the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Pacific Northwest.

Winter Belts Britain Again

LONDON (UPI)—The third, and possibly worst, storm of Britain's grimmest winter of the century blanketed southern England today.

The new storm came out of continental Europe—which enjoyed a respite in the 12-day winter siege—crossed the English Channel and struck England and London with a fast-moving mixture of snow and sleet.

More than 2 inches of snow fell within an hour at Hendon, in suburban London. Weather and road officials said the outlook was "grim—very grim."

By dawn, the snow covered all of England and southern Scotland and was closing roads as far north as Edinburgh, Scotland.

At least 855 persons have died in auto, rail, air, exposure and asphyxiation accidents since the vicious storm first swept the continent, from the Atlantic Ocean to Siberia, before Christmas. France reported 303 deaths, Britain 168.

England, ill-equipped to handle the kind of weather this winter has brought, suffered the most. Weather experts said two days ago that it was the worst winter here in 81 years.

Today's storm could make it the coldest and snowiest since records first were kept a century ago.

London temperatures were expected to hover around yesterday's low of 27 degrees.

"Snow is just tumbling out of the sky," an automobile association spokesman said. "The only thing traveling is snow."

Oakland GOP Caught in Middle

know where Elliott could best serve both Romney and the party.

They argue Elliott should be in a job much closer to the governor than the state chairmanship. They feel Elliott would not be able to devote the time, attention and effort to give the needed leadership to build the party on the foundation already begun.

Elliott would be spending too much time trying to coordinate party affairs with the governor's office, they say.

At the same time, they continue, Elliott would be more effective in bringing Romney to the realization that a "citizens' party" already exists in parts of the state GOP if he remains in the governor's office.

This is crucial, they believe, both to forging a stronger tie between Romney and the party, necessary for the good of both, and to building a strong party organization.

They envision the ideal outcome as Gibbs' holding the top party post with Elliott as liaison between Romney and Gibbs.

Although they do not dispute Elliott's ability, they feel Gibbs not only would have more time to devote to building the party, but also that his accomplishments have proven he is the best man for the mission.

Formerly with Pontiac Motor Division, Gibbs, of Royal Oak, was executive director of the Oakland County Republican Committee before becoming Van Peursem's assistant in mid-1961.

Many county Republicans believe he was largely responsible for the success and progress of the county party organization and for starting it on the direction of Romney's philosophy, although Elliott has received most of the credit in the past.

Gibbs also is credited with conceiving organizing and making effective the southeastern Michigan office of the GOP State Central Committee located in Detroit.

A number of GOP leaders gave this office more credit for Romney votes in the Detroit metropolitan area than Gov. Swainson's veto of the controversial Bowan Bill.

Much opposition toward Elliott exists among outstate Republicans too, because of Elliott's sudden withdrawal for "business and personal reasons" from the contest for the state chairmanship at the 1961 February convention.

Because he had enough support to win easily, Elliott's move left delegates grasping for leadership. Gibbs was a darkhorse candidate at the time, but Van Peursem was elected as a compromise candidate.

Gibbs' organizational and leadership talents would be lost to the party if he does not become chairman. Romney and other party leaders have considered the solution of Gibbs' remaining as assistant to the state chairman, presumably Elliott.

But it is known that Gibbs feels he would not be able to do so, mostly for financial reasons. Since he began his political career soon after completing college, he feels he does not have the financial or career stability to stay in the same slot.

All in all, many Republicans are convinced that the state GOP needs Elliott closer to him than for the good of its future—needs Gibbs as chairman and that Romney—for the good of his future—it the same way.

Top Income to Lawyers, MDs, Dentists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has tabbed doctors, dentists and lawyers as the country's leading money makers.

Using 1959 statistics, the Census Bureau found the median, or middle point, annual income of male doctors, dentists and lawyers to be $10,000-plus. Following them were salaried managers in manufacturing plants, whose median income was $9,156 and aeronautical engineers, $9,059.

Women earned considerably less than their male counterparts in most categories. Women doctors headed the list at $5,517.

The 44-million men in the nation's experienced labor force, the median income was $4,621. For the 20-million women, the figure was $2,257.

Line Gets Extension to Resume Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Riddle Airlines was granted 90 additional days yesterday by the Civil Aeronautics Board in which to resume service over most of its air cargo system, which includes Detroit.

Riddle faces cancellation of its service by March 2.

Riddle was authorized last April — because of financial difficulties — to discontinue service temporarily to some of its points.

The CAB had ordered the service to be resumed by Jan. 1, but Riddle filed in mid-December for a three-month delay.

Michigan Firm Given $1,507,362 AF Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $1,507,362 Air Force contract award for work in Michigan was announced yesterday by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

State Road Toll Up During '62

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Police reported yesterday that traffic fatalities on state highways in 1962 exceeded the 1961 death toll.

All-time record highs in injuries and accidents also were set during the year, it was reported.

A spokesman for the department said that although the state's provisional 1962 death toll of 1,539 was four less than the 1961 total of 1,543, delayed reports will raise the count from 1 to 2 per cent.

The spokesman said that December's provisional death toll of 92 fell off 34 per cent from the 140 reported for the month last year.

"This was the lowest peacetime December since record-keeping began in 1933," he said. "The only lower mark for the month was 79 in wartime 1942 when there was gas rationing and fewer persons motoring."

Previous peacetime low was 118 in 1934, and December's average over the past 29 years was 153.

Self-Determination Dispute

Congo Crisis: Maze of Contradictions

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Almost from the beginning, the Congo crisis has been a maze of contradictions.

And if the casual reader finds himself lost in its twists and turns, surely no apology is needed.

For example: On Dec. 14, 1961, President Kennedy, a strong supporter of the United Nations' campaign to unify the Congo, received from Katanga's secessionist President Moise Tshombe a request that he intervene so that Tshombe could begin negotiations with the central government Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Out of this came the agreement at Kitona in which Tshombe agreed to end Katanga's secession.

Yet, almost exactly one year later, the agreement not only had not been implemented, but Katanga students were shouting "Down with Kennedy," trampling the U.S. flag and starting a fire on U.S. consulate grounds in the Katanga capital of Elisabethville.

Tshombe himself was denouncing Americans in general as "racists who think they can buy the African with dollars."

This was an initial result of a U.S. decision to send a military team to the Congo to determine military needs of U.N. forces there.

Within the dispute between Tshombe and the central government itself there is danger of over-simplification, even if one makes no attempt at a judgment.

It could be declared a simple question of self-determination—whether the people of Katanga have the right to decide their own future relationship with the Congo as a whole.

It also could be declared simply the result of the central government's desire to take over the income from Katanga's copper and cobalt wealth.

It also could be regarded as question of Tshombe's own desire to remain in power and his refusal to surrender to central authority.

It is doubtful that the tribesmen in the bush has much interest in any one of the three, so a certain amount of self-interest must be involved.

The U.S. and the U.N. take the position that Katanga has no more right to secede from the Congo than would a state to secede from the United States.

Katanga's tax income from the Union Miniere copper mines this year will amount to between $30 and $40 million, just about enough to cover a one-month deficit for the central government.

So the money itself cannot be, at the moment, a controlling factor.

The U.N. position is that neither Katanga nor the remainder of the Congo can achieve stability without each other. Katanga needs the Congo's agricultural produce and a port through which to ship its minerals without depending on Rhodesia or Portuguese Angola.

Even with the income from Katanga, it is expected the Congo will need outside aid for years.

Aside from his income from Union Miniere, Tshombe's support has come primarily from powerful voices in Belgium and Britain and from some members of the U.S. Congress.

Leaders of the newly independent African state in general oppose him.

Financier Buys Peché Island in Detroit River

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Peché Island in the Detroit River at the mouth of Lake St. Clair has been purchased by Detroit financier and real estate man, Emanuel J. Harris.

The island was bought by Harris and his company, Strah Limited—for $300,000 from Windsor Construction man R. C. Pruefer.

Transfer of the deed was registered in the Essex County registry office, and the price of $300,000 was declared in the documents. Details of the transaction were not known.

Harris, 56, owner of the Book Building in Detroit, said he has made no final decision regarding future development of the island which Windsor residents had hoped might be bought by Canadian interests and developed as a recreation and park area.

Hoffa Accuses Bob Kennedy

Says Attorney General
Pressured Publisher

WASHINGTON (AP)—President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters union accused Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy yesterday of "pressuring" a Nashville, Tenn., newspaper publisher about "what the newspaper should or should not print" in connection with Hoffa's recent federal court conspiracy trial.

A Teamsters union spokesman, elaborating on Hoffa's statement, said the publisher was James G. Stahlman of the Nashville Banner.

The case resulted in a mistrial Dec. 23 when the jury could not agree on a verdict.

Hoffa's statement said if Kennedy questions his statement that Kennedy had "pressured" Stahlman, then Hoffa would "be glad to supply the attorney general with a transcript of the attorney general's telephone conversation with the publisher."

"The recording was made by the publisher with the full knowledge of the attorney general," Hoffa's statement said.

'ATTEMPTED SUPPRESSION'

The union spokesman said the attorney general attempted in the call to have Stahlman suppress information which the publisher "felt it was necessary to publish in the interest of defending the integrity of the Banner."

Reached in Nashville, Stahlman said, "I don't care to make a statement." But he indicated he might have a statement later.

A justice department spokesman also declined to comment. He said any statement on Hoffa's charges would have to come from Stahlman.

Hoffa was charged in the Nashville case with conspiracy to get employers that dealt with the Teamsters to set up a profitable trucking business that benefited Hoffa.

Hoffa's statement today reiterated prior contentions that Kennedy was "wasting his time in carrying on a personal feud with me and our union" through many grand jury investigations and prosecutions.

Kennedy May Act to Halt Dock Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy likely will have to recommend special legislation to end the crippling East-Gulf Coast docks strike if the walkout, now in its 12th day, is still on when Congress reconvenes next week.

The Taft-Hartley law requires that when its national emergency provisions are exhausted and a strike imperils the nation's health and safety, the President must submit a full report on the situation to Congress "together with such recommendations he may see fit to make."

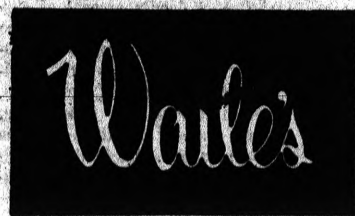

The administration is reported already considering what steps it could suggest, such as a ban against the strike continuing with a requirement the strike issues be submitted to final and binding solution.

This would be compulsory arbitration, a procedure officials are very dubious about because it would mean a curb of basic freedom in collective bargaining. Some members of Congress, however, have been urging a tight ban on strikes in transportation and defense industries.

REJOINS NEGOTIATIONS
Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz rejoins the docks negotiations in New York today, intent on a major new effort to obtain a strike settlement before Congress convenes next Wednesday.

From the President's holiday vacation headquarters at Palm Beach, Fla., come reports that Kennedy is worried about the year-end rash of labor strikes, particularly the docks tie-up and the New York newspaper strike.

It is reported that while the administration has some ideas for recommended changes in the basic labor laws the President probably will steer clear from operations up this always controversial subject for the time being.

FBI Reports Increase in Nation's Crimes

Although most year-end reports for 1962 are tinged with brightness, the one released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation is not.

It documents on a Federal level the increase of crime in all categories that local communities have experienced.

The director, J. Edgar Hoover, pegs FBI convictions for the year at 12,700, slightly more than a year ago; arrests at 11,400, likewise moderately up; but the total of fines, savings and recoveries at an impressive increase of 30 per cent.

Bank robbery violations bore the largest proportion of crime growth, running 25 per cent over 1961. A reason advanced for this significant jump is the increasing number of branch banks and savings and loan offices in suburban areas.

The bureau also was called upon for broadened investigation in the civil rights field. This stemmed mainly from intensification of civil rights agitation and flare-ups in the South.

And the object of the FBI's continuous vigil—the Communist Party in the United States—accounted for a sizable share of investigative activity. "During the most critical moments of the Cuban crisis," said Hoover, "the party openly proved its loyalty to the international Communist cause. Its members stood unwaveringly opposed to our country's efforts to stop the Soviet Union's buildup of offensive military equipment in Cuba and to assure removal of such weapons already there."

A sobering phenomenon, it seems, of our country's increase in population and trade activity, and the strain of sociological diversification, is the comparable rate of increase in crime.

Industrial Space Usage on Upgrade in Michigan

Complementing year-end reports attesting to the improvement in Michigan's economic climate is the Available Plant Summary, issued by the Michigan Economic Development Department.

It shows that during 1962, 3.6-million square feet of floor space was returned to use.

The latest summary—it is issued twice yearly—shows 281 available buildings in 135 communities. This reflects a drop of 17 in the number of buildings and seven in the number of communities since the summer compilation.

These figures do not include a total of 7.8-million square feet of new construction for industrial purposes, warehousing and commercial use.

A gratifying note struck by the study is that the Upper Peninsula, long in the economic doldrums, shows a drop of four unoccupied buildings from the 27 listed six months ago.

Findings such as these go a long way toward righting the negative industrial-business image that has for some time plagued our state, and we congratulate the Development Department on the steady upsurge reflecting its endeavors.

A Fine Leader Is Lost in Death of Senator

In the death of Sen. ROBERT S. KERR, this country loses a strong Democratic leader. Sen. KERR believed in the party, yet he was not blinded to follow straight party lines when he felt another decision was right.

Sen. Kerr differed with the President on the medical care program but was reported ready to back the Chief Executive with the proposed tax cut. The loss of his leadership on the tax issue might well be an important factor in the 88th Congress.

The chances are now better for medical care without Sen. KERR's opposition, but of primary importance is the fact that the chairmanship of the important Public Works Committee which he was in line to head is now up for grabs.

The loss of such a powerful and independent figure is bound to cause confusion, and it will be interesting to note who can emerge with the political strength of the deceased senator.

Mix-Up Re Teeth Home Communication Fails Over Fallout

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

From Lake Orion comes a warm holiday message from

Mrs. Juanita Bonino along with a bit of merriment concerning her son's family.

Seems he was just home from a two-month hospital stay. In bed, and trying to update himself on domestic goings-on during his absence, he called loudly to his wife: "Have (5-year-old) Dana and (4-year-old) Toni Marie lost any teeth lately?"

The good helpmeet, misunderstanding "lost" for "brushed," replied in equal decibel register: "Dana does every day and Toni Marie does when I can catch her."

Although my correspondent didn't say so, the MAT's betting that at least one member of the household is now brushing her teeth with painful regularity.

Walter C. Williams

of 71 S. Jessie St., phones in a timely warning that any clinging tinsel should be removed from Christmas trees if they are disposed of outdoors. Otherwise, the birds will feast on it—with fatal results.

And, by the way of a bonus, my friend points out the unusual fact that only twice during 1963 does the 13th of a month fall on Friday . . . in September and December. Usually, this bad-luck omen occurs four to five times yearly . . . And calendarians may ponder on his assertion that the 13th of the months falls less frequently on Friday than on any other day.

DID YOU KNOW?—The world's record alimony was the $11,550,000 paid by Reuben Hollis Fleet, the American millionaire aircraft manufacturer, to his second wife, Dorothy (nee Mitchell) in 1945, after their separation following "verbal abuse" . . . Better start giving thought to how you address the li'l woman!

There has been plenty of evidence that the flora of the area have been writing new ground rules all fall, but now we learn from

of Orchard Lake, that the fauna have likewise been revamping their way of life. For visiting recently at the Royal Oak home of

she saw five robins at the feeder . . . Either the red breasts are real bitter-enders or were late making nest reservations in the South!

At a recent luncheon, the Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association honored two dedicated members on their retirement. The honorees were:

of Bloomfield Township but moving to Florida, with 25 years' service and

of 102 Hudson Ave., who has served 21 years.

Verbal Orchids to—of Commerce Township; golden wedding anniversary.

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Fails to Speak for Captives

WASHINGTON — Almost unnoticed, the United Nations has thrown in the sponge. It is willing to play the role of bully among the weak, defenseless tribes of the Congo, but has given up the idea of trying to use its moral force to liberate the people of Hungary from the strong arm LAWRENCE of Soviet imperialism.

A resolution adopted in 1956 by the U.N., condemning the enslavement of the Hungarian people by Soviet troops, has been restated every year since. It was not repeated in 1962, though lip service was paid to its principles.

Moscow has consistently refused to permit the U.N. even to send an inspection team into Hungary, and the U.N. now has canceled the special mission of Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand to investigate the Hungarian situation.

The whole matter was turned over to Secretary General U Thant just before Christmas to take whatever action he thinks best.

The U.N.'s principal members, including the United States, now have acquiesced in the "colonialism" of Communist Russia. It's a tragic record.

MIGHT 'HURT' K

The line handed out is that President Kennedy, Secretary of State Rusk and American Ambassador Adlai Stevenson felt that it might ruffle the feelings of Soviet Premier Khrushchev if the U.N. were to adopt a strong resolution on the subject of Hungary.

The idea seems to be that the Soviet ruler made a substantial concession to the cause of world peace when he withdrew his missiles from Cuba and that this deserves some kind of gesture of appeasement from the United States, which had been the principal proponent of the U.N. resolutions concerning the situation in Hungary in past years.

It is paradoxical that President Kennedy could make such a spirited speech in Miami last Saturday on the subject of "liberation" of the Cuban people from the yoke of Castro and his Communist masters, though no such brave words have come in recent months from the White House or the State Department with reference to Hungary.

The people of that unfortunate country and the peoples of Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Poland, Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia are in precisely the same situation as Cuba.

They have lost their independence and the kind of rights exercised by free peoples just a few miles away in the Western world.

The strange thing, however, is that the leaders in government among the democracies seem to have grown inarticulate on the subject of encouraging the peoples of the Communist-bloc countries to think in terms of eventual liberation.

DISCOURAGES CAPTIVES

This silence tends to bring discouragement to the captive nations. They get the feeling that the rest of the world has forsaken them.

Plenty is said about "colonialism" in Africa and Asia, where again and again the U.N. members have raised the banner of anticolonialism.

But somehow, when the Communist-occupied countries are mentioned, there is a sudden fright — a fear of offending Moscow.

Hal Boyle Says:

Move Slowly, Carefully With New Resolutions

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you made any good resolutions for 1963?

I have.

I have resolved not to get tattooed.

Living has taught me that in the matter of good resolutions it pays to move slowly and carefully.

On the way to a place where I sometimes lunch, I pass the parlor — or perhaps den is the better word — of a tattoo artist. His window is full of brightly colored designs and fascinating photographs of his human needlework.

For 10 years, I have had a wild and unwholesome urge to go inside and have a favorite design tattooed on my forehead—the great ship Titanic sinking—in four vivid colors. The design naturally includes the iceberg which caused the ship to go down.

Each year I have resolved not to yield to temptation and let myself be tattooed in this manner. I credit my success so far to inherent strength of character, and two other factors:

UNNERVING

My wife says the sight of any kind of shipwreck makes her nervous.

Few companies would issue credit or lend money to a man with the sinking of the Titanic inscribed on his forehead, no matter how much such a tattoo would enhance one's prestige at cocktail parties.

When 1964 dawns, my forehead will be disappointingly bare as ever, but I'll have the consolation of knowing that I kept my word to myself and carried out the good resolution I made.

At the risk of being smug, I'd like to point out the major error of millions of Americans today in the seasonal throes of trying to fulfill their good resolutions.

They go on too big a self-improvement binge.

"I'm going to give up smoking, drinking and overeating," says the man. "I'm going to take off 20 pounds and get more exercise."

"I'm going to get more sleep, and loaf less at the office. I'm going to be kinder to my wife and children, and quit kicking the neighbor's dog around. I'm going to—"

In three days he turns himself into a nervous wreck, and by the end of the week he has made everyone around him miserable, too.

But just as the United States is implying that it will not take a single action in a military way to help the people of Cuba regain their liberty, so the peoples of the Communist-held areas—since their uprising in 1956—have come to believe that, when the chips are down, the West will likewise be afraid to help them.

Voice of the People:

'Tshombe a Good Leader--U.N. Should Stop Pushing'

I would be highly distrustful of the United Nation's efforts to force Tshombe to join the central Congolese government — even more so when I hear no opposition from the Communists. Still the United States takes a leading part.

Despite constant pressure of hostile outside forces, Tshombe has shown the mark of a true leader while the rest of the Congo is tottering. It seems that we want to destroy the last bit of leadership in the Congo to pave the way for a Communist takeover.

If we are to reward Tshombe's strongly pro-Western sentiments by throwing him on the mercy of God and the United Nations mercenaries, then may God help us, too.

B. Sienkiewicz

'Situation in Cuba Calls for Action'

Cuba is an enormous warehouse, a deadly arsenal of surplus Soviet weapons, ready to be distributed by any means possible, to well-organized, well-trained Communist guerrillas, which receive their instructions, their money and their supplies from Havana. This is a fact well-known by all responsible governments in this hemisphere.

Only firm American action and leadership will present a strong front against the Communist plan of hemispheric conquest, sprouting from its Caribbean bridgehead. Remove that willingness, and that leadership, and you have a rickety hemispheric structure. The dawn of 1963 shows that the known and unknown threats and their continued presence will heighten the danger to the peace of the hemisphere. Latin America will not act, unless the United States initiates boldness and action; for nothing else will suffice.

The answer is to be found in Washington, not in Moscow.

In 1959, Alaska became the 49th state to join the Union, when President Dwight Eisenhower signed the Document of Proclamation.

In Washington:

U.N. War-Minded, Says Tshombe

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe's climactic blast at the United States is contained in a cable to President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, made public by its embassy in Washington.

Tshombe charges that "The United Nations, under the influence of the United States, is preparing a third war in Katanga with a view to exterminating the black people in this region of Africa."

"Behind the ostensible motive of unification of the Congo," Tshombe continues, "is hidden the desire of the United States of America to plunder the riches of Katanga and to paralyze the economic life of Africa."

Any similarity between these charges and the rantings of Cuba's Fidel Castro against the United States is, of course, coincidental. Tshombe is an extreme rightist, co-operating with the old Belgian colonial interests and the leading industrial operators in the Congo, Societe Generale de Belgique and Union Miniere de Haut Katanga, whose taxes finance his government.

Castro and Nkrumah are close collaborators with Russia. To the Ghana president's credit, however, his reply to Tshombe's cable repudiates the latter's charges against the U.S. and the U.N. and urges the Katanga leader to join Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula to work for central government unity.

There is some basis for Tshombe's concern, however, just as there was in Castro's charges that the United States was preparing to invade Cuba before the Bay of Pigs landing.

There are numerous Americans, also, who believed with Tshombe that the United States is preparing to go into the Congo with both feet.

Dispatch to the Congo of a U.S. military mission under Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman was cited as evidence of American intent to increase direct military assistance to the United Nations and the Congo to force Katanga's accession.

It is officially denied in Washington that there is any intention to send U.S. troops to the Congo — at this time.

Whatever military action is necessary to keep peace in the Congo will be left to the United Nations Operation in the Congo — UNOC — apparently successful in its initial engagements. Its forces now include 13,700 combat troops from 10 countries, 3,600 support troops from 18 countries and 420 civilian officials.

About 40 per cent of UNOC troops come from India. Most of them are in Katanga, but they may have to be replaced soon as they are needed at home for the war with Red China.

Kennedy's policy back of his decision is that there is no known alternative to making a complete success of U.N. Secretary General U Thant's Congo unification policy.

If this can be achieved by negotiation, no matter how long drawn out, or if it can be achieved by a Katanga boycott or other economic sanctions, well and good and all credit to UNOC.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, Jan. 3, the third day of 1963 with 362 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1777, George Washington defeated three British regiments at the Battle of Princeton.

In 1938, the "March of Dimes" campaign to fight infantile paralysis was organized, as an outgrowth of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Warm Springs Foundation.

In 1947, the 80th Congress, first to be controlled by Republicans since 1933, was convened.

In 1959, Alaska became the 49th state to join the Union, when President Dwight Eisenhower signed the Document of Proclamation.

A thought for the day—American short story writer William Sydney Porter, better known as O. Henry, said: "A straw vote only shows which way the hot air blows."

If U Thant's plan fails, either through overthrow of the Adoula central government or lack of funds to support the U.N. operation or the defeat of its forces in the field, then the United States might have to intervene directly.

Plans are unquestionably being made for such a development. It is explained that if such action were taken, it would be on a preventive basis — to keep the Russians out.

Intelligence reports from Africa indicate that the Soviet ambassador to Leopoldville has already been dropping hints that Russian military aid would be available to any coalition that overthrows the Adoula government and adopts a more left-wing, anti-U.N. and anti-U.S. policy.

Curiously enough, both the left-wing deputies in Congo's parliament and those supporting Tshombe's policies have been waiting and working for just such an opportunity.

An added reason for the Russian desire to establish a Communist presence in Central Africa is to gain the position it tried to establish in the Congo in 1960 and to recover the world prestige it lost after being forced to withdraw its missiles, aircraft and military forces from Cuba.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROME

QUESTION: Why did the Romans build their aqueducts above ground instead of laying pipelines below ground?

ANSWER: Roman water lines ran both above and below ground. Many an ancient city was built on hillsides because such a site was easier to defend against enemy attack. This meant that water had to be brought in somehow. The ancients would find springs or lakes in higher hills and then bring the water into the city by the flow of gravity (see top drawing.)

Such an arched stone structure with a "conduit" or channel through which the water could flow, on top, was called an "aqueduct," and was used to take the water over rivers and ravines. Of course, on level spots, the conduits could be laid on the ground, or, in places where the land suddenly rose high, water would be routed through an underground conduit.

The point to remember was that the ancients had to rely on gravity to keep the water flowing so they had to have the conduits level all the way, with just a little drop to keep the water running toward the city. Some of the flow would be piped into wealthy peoples' homes, but most gushed out in public fountains, where everyone could get water.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find out why water in the ancient aqueducts didn't freeze and break the conduits.

Warren Man Shoots 'Friend'

Jaycees Hunt for Area 'Man of the Year'

WARREN (AP) — A 21-year-old Warren man was killed last night by his "best friend" who suspected him of having a love affair with his wife.

William D. Hallums, 22, of Warren is being held for investigation of first degree murder in the slaying of William L. Higdon, 21, also of Warren. Higdon died instantly of a shot in the forehead.

Hallums told police he shot Higdon, a roomer at the Hallums home, after a day of brooding over the suspected affair.

Hallums told Warren Detective Insp. Gordon Tullock he became convinced that his wife, Gail Marie, 20, and Higdon were lovers. When his wife asked him for a divorce a few days ago.

He said his wife went to see a lawyer about a divorce yesterday and the couple were to return to the lawyer's office to gether last night.

Hallums said he went to a sports store in Warren and bought a rifle and some bullets and went home after spending the day drinking.

He said he only aimed at Higdon's right shoulder because "I wanted to scare my wife. I figured if she saw a little blood on his arm she'd get scared. I guess I got nervous and moved the gun."

Carl Benz of Germany made the first successful three-wheeled gas powered car which went eight miles per hour.

Investigate Shooting of Father by Son, 11

PELLSTON (AP) — Police will continue their investigation today to unravel the incidents which preceded the shooting of a 46-year-old rural Pellston man by his 11-year-old son last night.

Police said Leonard L. Kent, 46, was hit in the chest by a charge from a 30-30 rifle fired by his son, Leslie L., 11. Kent died instantly.

Young Kent apparently heard his mother and father arguing and rushed to his mother's defense, police said.

New York Wanders Aimlessly Without a Newspaper

Editor's Note—Since Dec. 1, nine of New York City's major newspapers have been shut down because of a strike. It is a situation rarely faced in a metropolis. It means adjusting to a new way of life.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK—If there are no newspapers printing, how do you:

Find a job without the want ads?

Learn that a new violin genius just made his debut or a new Picasso had his first one-man show?

Make public notice, as the city fathers are required by law to do, that there will be an air raid test later this month?

These are some of the things with which New Yorkers are coping.

Because of a strike that began Dec. 8, nine newspapers are closed, some 18,000 workers are idled, eight million people are without 5.7 million daily copies, and at least $50 million has gone down the drain.

In its first 3½ weeks, the strike has cost $10 million in salaries, $32.5 million in lost advertising and $5.5 million in circulation revenue that never will be recovered.

There have been emergency measures to fill the yearning for news and the need to read.

Radio- and television stations are busier than ever before. Out-of-town newspapers are coming into New York City in greater numbers. Paperback book and magazine sales are booming.

Still, New Yorkers had the feeling this week that the world was passing them by.

What about the friend whose funeral was missed?

10th Polaris Sub Will Receive Its Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy will commission its 10th Polaris submarine, the Thomas Jefferson, next Friday.

It probably will be midsummer, however, before she is deployed with nine other missile-firing submarines off the coast of northwest Europe.

The intervening time will be needed for missile launching tests and a shakedown cruise.

The commissioning ceremony will be at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. yards in Virginia, where the Jefferson was built. Principal speaker at the ceremony is to be Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va.

New Mayor Elected for City of Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP)—The Muskegon City Commission yesterday elected Commissioner Victor J. Yurick as mayor for the next two years.

Yurick, a commissioner since 1958, succeeds Alfred A. Meyers, who was defeated in the November election.

George F. Liddle was reappointed by the commission to his $17,300 post as city manager.

Some parents permit children to check grocery price slips to help them improve their arithmetic for school assignments.

The Frank Campbell Funeral Home, which says it handles 2,000 funerals a year, reports attendance down.

As a result florists are complaining of lower sales.

Some 350 blind newsmen have gone out of business for the strike's duration, the license commission reported.

Broadway, which cannot exist in silence, feels muted even though it has turned to radio.

Several critics broadcast their reviews.

But a spokesman for Variety, the entertainment daily, comments: "A published review is presumably much more valuable than a broadcast or a telecast review."

And Joshua Logan, producer of a show which opened in the midst of the strike, said gloomily: "Make no mistake about it, this (the strike) is a dire emergency."

For many nightclubs and restaurants it was a less than happy new year, even though they worked harder than ever to bring in the crowds.

Guy Lombardo, whose orchestra was a New Year's Eve attraction at the Americana Hotel, made 20 personal appearances in as many days preceding the show to drum up interest, a spokesman said.

Well, how do you get a job?

Or for that matter, how do you write an irate letter to the editor if there aren't any newspapers, or obtain editorial comment, or advertise for a lost ring or find out about an auction?

You don't at least until some substitute arrangement is worked out.

"Normally this season is a little slack," said a spokesman for the association of personnel agencies of New York, "but recently, he paused and sighed, "it has dropped off as much as 75 per cent."

The association hopes to distribute free about 100,000 copies of a new publication, "Jobs in New York." It won't be permanent. "Too expensive," said the spokesman.

The new publication will have competition from "Help Wanted Weekly," which will cost 15 cents for eight pages.

If you were a housewife you would miss the Thursday ads of best food buys.

"The inability to advertise doesn't hurt our sales as long as our competitors are in the same situation," said a spokesman for A&P.

"It will, bother the housewife, though. Instead of deciding what she'll buy by reading the paper at home she'll have to go counter to counter to determine the lowest prices. And that takes time."

$2 Million in Building Plans Eyed

By DICK HANSON

Expansion of Oakland County governmental facilities to keep up with increased population needs could cost over $2 million this year.

But much of the year's construction plans hinge upon the receipt of federal aid, Robert Lilly, secretary of the County Board of Auditors explained.

He oversees the expenditure of funds for construction in the county.

Included in the county's building plans for 1963 are:

1. A new south Oakland health center to cost an estimated $800,000.

2. Initial units of a children's village to absorb an overload of court wards placed in the county's care, at a cost of approximately $450,000.

3. An expansion of public utilities and additional parking lots at the County Service Center to cost about $400,000.

The County Board of Supervisors also must consider spending $500,000 this year to remodel the County Infirmary according to state regulations.

Only the cost of the proposed health center has been included in the 1963-64 budget. The county plans to split its share of the cost over the next two years.

Federal grants under the Hill-Burton Hospital Act will cover 35 per cent of the project's cost.

SEEKS U.S. FUNDS

The county likewise has applied for federal grants, under the Public Works Acceleration Act, to pay up to 50 per cent of the cost of the children's village units and the utilities and parking lots at the service center.

But the local share of the costs for these two projects isn't included in the county budget.

David Levinson, chairman of the Board of Supervisors' ways and means committee, was confident that the county could scrape up its share of the utilities and parking lot—approximately $200,000.

But he has recommended asking for voters' approval of an additional tax levy to finance the children's village construction.

The federal government has approved funds only for the health center so far.

"It would be perplexing if the federal government were to approve funds for the children's village before the utilities," Lilly noted "because the utilities are needed in order to make the village construction feasible."

Otherwise he envisioned the youth units built with no heat, water and sewage to service them.

OTHER DEMANDS

He is further plagued with the demands of other county departments for more space to operate.

These include, he said, the planning commission, drain commission and the department of public works.

All three departments currently are housed in county buildings three miles south of the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

Plans call for the eventual incorporation of these departments, with expanded quarters, at the service center.

Meanwhile, the Board of Supervisors is hesitant to approve additions to existing building used by the three departments.

The county has a couple possible sources of more money for construction this year that could be tapped.

These are a possible year-end surplus of funds budgeted for last year and money that would result if the county could sell its property in downtown Pontiac.

The downtown property includes the old courthouse site, now being used as a parking lot, and the County Office Building at 1 Lafayette St.

The latter is scheduled to be vacated Feb. 11 when the offices are to be relocated in a wing of the new courthouse nearby, completion.

The five-story office building

downtown has been appraised at $220,000. The razed site of the former courthouse was appraised at $400,000.

But many county supervisors agreed the latter appraisal was too high after futile efforts to sell the property since last spring.

Unofficially, several supervisors have indicated the site could be purchased for between $200,000 and $300,000.

It contains two lots at Pontiac's main intersection containing 34,560 square feet.

Tax Collections Up for State

7.5 Per Cent Increase in Sales, Use Levies

LANSING (AP)—The state's collections from sales and use taxes during the calendar 1962 year rose 7.5 per cent from 1961 and included an "astounding increase" in taxable retail sales.

State Revenue Director Clarence Lock said yesterday.

Lock said sales tax collections for the year totaled $441,889,241, an all-time high and an increase over the previous year of $41.8 million.

In figuring the percentage of increase, Lock said, he took into account the fact that January 1961 collections were based on sales in December 1960, when the sales tax was 3 instead of 4 per cent.

The sharp increase in taxable retail sales in 1962 amounted to $75.4 million and can be attributed to an excellent year in the auto industry and "general improvement in business conditions," he said.

After a year in which tax collections on auto sales exceeded the previous year for 11 months, they dropped off by $627,000 in December 1962. Lock said he was "frankly surprised" by this development.

"I don't know how to explain it except maybe the extremely cold weather had some effect," he said.

Over-all, for December 1962, sales and use tax collections came to $40.4 million, an increase of $2.1 million or 5.6 per cent over the same month of 1961.

About $800,000 came from the telephone service tax not in effect in 1961 and another $1.9 million from nonautomobile sales taxes.

In 1962, the business activities tax produced $72.6 million, an increase of 4.7 per cent over the previous year. Use taxes brought in $38.4 million, an increase of 4.2 per cent over 1961.

City Looks Ahead to Big Building Year

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac is moving into what promises to be one of the biggest construction years in its history.

Rarely, if ever, have so many major public improvement and private redevelopment projects fallen into one year.

Much of the activity will take place in the central business district — which will look like London after the blitz on one hand and London rebuilding on the other.

3 MAJOR PROJECTS

Within the central business district, these major projects will be going all at one time:

1. Urban renewal will continue at a faster pace with many buildings reduced to rubble and private developers announcing major plans for new, modern buildings.

2. The Clinton River will be rerouted; its channel deepened, widened and enclosed in a tunnel.

3. The State Highway Department will begin construction of the perimeter road around the central business district.

What it all amounts to is a drain being dug, buildings coming down, buildings going up and interior streets being built — all enclosed by a major highway construction project.

The city's $9-million urban renewal program will now enter its critical phase.

The long-awaited condemnation verdict in the R20 project area has been handed down.

The second project, R44, is well along in property acquisition.

With less than 50 properties in the whole project area, condemnation proceedings should be completed and demolition well under way by midyear.

Urban renewal officials are already studying redevelopment proposals from developers interested in buying urban renewal land.

"Urban renewal redevelopment will begin in 1963," said City Manager Robert A. Stierer in commenting on plans.

PROGRAM SPEEDED

"We're accelerating our program now and new construction should be in progress on urban renewal parcels before the end of the year."

Renewal officials fully expect to advertise and open bids for major urban renewal parcels before midyear.

Plans for the proposed $2.7-million Clinton River improvement program call for construction to begin about April 1.

The channel will be carved out from Grand Trunk Western Railroad's main line at Orchard Lake Avenue, directly east and then northerly to Union Street.

The loop in the river to West Huron Street, where it connects with Pontiac Creek, and back to Orchard Lake Avenue, will be partly removed.

The west leg of the loop will change direction of flow.

The east leg, cutting through properties between Saginaw and Cass, will be removed and filled in.

This will make those properties much more appealing to developers.

The river will be tunneled through the downtown area and the entire project should be done by about the third quarter of 1964.

ROAD PROJECTS

Current schedules for the perimeter road call for construction to proceed in two projects.

The east leg follows Parke Street from Saginaw north to East Huron Street; the north leg loops around in the area of School street, connects with Cass Avenue and continues south to West Huron; the west leg follows Cass extended back to Saginaw.

Contracts are slated to be awarded for the east and north legs in March.

Bid openings on the west leg won't be advertised until 1964 since surveys have indicated building the whole highway at once would create a gigantic traffic jam downtown.

Total price of the project is estimated at $3.5 million.

The highway department has already begun demolition of structures in the area of School Street for right-of-way.

In addition to these downtown projects, engineering plans are nearing completion on an interior loop road.

The interior loop will follow Perry, Pike, Wayne and Lafayette extended back to Perry. Traffic will circulate in a one-way direction, opposite that of the perimeter road.

City officials plan to have the inner loop under construction or completely built in 1963.

Most of the work will be in extending Lafayette eastward and Wayne Street southward to connect with Pike. Rough estimates place the cost at about $151,000.

Outside the central business district, major projects include:

1. Completion of the new $3.2-million sewage treatment plant on Pontiac's East Side.

2. Completion of a water plant at Opdyke and South Boulevard, storage facilities and water system improvements at a cost of some $3.9 million.

3. Possible construction of two major trunk sewers at an estimated cost of about $2 million.

The sewage treatment plant should be finished and operating within 90 days, according to city officials.

Water system improvements are due for completion around June 1, so the city can begin using Detroit water July 1.

Water mains are being replaced throughout Pontiac, adapting the current system to take and distribute water from a single source instead of some 30 wells now supplying water.

Two major storage tanks are being built on the plant site and a third, elevated tank is under construction at Montcalm and Edison streets.

Plans have progressed smoothly on proposed trunk sewers to serve Pontiac's northeast and southeast sectors. Financing is the big problem.

"The method of financing is still under study," Stierer said.

FORMULA UNDECIDED

"The formula concerning the city's payment and that to be raised through special assessments is still undecided."

"We expect to make a more definite announcement on the project in the near future."

Original estimates called for construction to start in March. Stierer now feels it will be difficult to get the projects under way much before midyear.

With the added treatment capacity afforded by the new sewage plant, trunk sewers are of vital importance to the southeast and northeast sections.

They have gone undeveloped for years because of a lack of sewage facilities.

Construction of the two trunks would result in a corresponding boom in development in the two areas.

Two other projects awaiting possible federal grants under the Public Works Acceleration Act are:

1. A $35,000 storm relief sewer in Glenwood Avenue near Pontiac Motor Division.

2. A proposed $337,000 community recreation center on old water works property at Westsen and Walnut streets.

The city has applied for federal aid on both projects. If it is granted, both will get under way soon after.

Even if the application is rejected, the city will still proceed with a community center of more modest proportions, slicing the price to around $200,000.

In the early hours of 1963, Pontiac is a city about to explode with construction activity.

Six Blasts Kill 18 Over Nation

No Injuries Reported in State Explosion

By The Associated Press
Eighteen persons were killed yesterday and last night in three of six major explosions in the nation.

The blasts occurred in Terre Haute, Ind.; San Francisco; Riverside, Calif.; Mount Kisco, N.Y.; Gainesville, Va., and Vicksburg, Mich.

Terre Haute was the scene of the worst disaster. Thirteen persons were known to have died there and three others are officially assumed dead in a scalding explosion at the Home Packing Co. plant. Fifty-five other workers were injured.

Authorities today remained uncertain of the cause of the blast.

Crumbling rubble from the explosion burst ammonia lines in the refrigerator unit in the basement. A stifling blanket spread over the area.

In San Francisco, one fireman was killed and seven injured in a gas explosion that blew a house apart in the foggy southeast section of the city.

EVACUATE 1,000

Some 1,000 persons were evacuated from a five-block area.

Fire Battalion Chief Frank Lamey was killed after he led a mother and her four children from the destroyed house where the explosion occurred. One report said Lamey had gone back into the house and was caught by the blast.

The injured firemen had responded to a gas alarm. Firemen said gas from a 28-inch main apparently had seeped under and into the house. What ignited the gas was not determined.

A modern bowling center, Lakeway Lanes, mysteriously blew up one mile north of Vicksburg, Mich. There were no injuries reported. The loss was estimated at $250,000 by owners of the building.

A propane gas tank explosion in Mount Kisco, N.Y., killed night watchman John Gleason, 52, of Bedford Hills, N.Y. The tank exploded in a garage, sending flames 50 to 75 feet into the air.

In Gainesville, Va., an explosion of undetermined origin occurred at a rocket propellant research plant. State police said there was no fire and only one minor injury.

POLICE KEPT OUT

Police and firemen were not even admitted to the restricted facility, operated by the Atlantic Research Corp., about 20 miles from Washington, D.C.

A blast at Riverside, in southern California, injured 16 workers at an ordnance plant of the Aerojet-General Corp. officials said a tray of primers ignited at the secret facility, which does munitions work for the Army.

100 Prisoners Riot in Arizona Jail

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — More than 100 prisoners rioted for four hours last night in the Maricopa County Jail, shouting and setting fire to their bedding.

Police turned fire hoses on the rioters and fired tear gas at them, but quelled the disturbance only after promising to investigate complaints about food and medical care.

There were no injuries. Officials haven't estimated the damage.

Pontiac City Affairs

Accept Deed to Lot at Water Tank Site

The city now owns all of the property on which it is constructing an elevated water storage tank on Montcalm Street across from the Pontiac Motor Division plant.

City commissioners last night okayed a resolution to accept a deed to the lot from the Pontiac School District without cost.

Thieves Enter Utica Offices

UTICA—Thieves broke into the office building at 8323 Hall Road last night, ransacking five offices and stealing $90 in cash and other miscellaneous items, according to Utica police.

After breaking a window pane in the rear door the thieves opened a night latch and forced their way into the office of Dr. Paul Woolley, where they scattered equipment and files on the floor and stole a typewriter.

Missing from the hairdressing salon of George Oprea are $60 and two cans of hair spray.

The thieves also took $30 from Ed's Barber Shop, run by building owner Edward Ringler, and ransacked the office of the Utica Insulation Co. and an unoccupied office.

Police today are continuing their investigation of the crime.

BOSTON (UPI) — The Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health Dr. Alfred L. Frechette showed up at his office yesterday with his right foot in a cast and so hoarse from a cold he could hardly talk.

Area Archers Mean Business! Stay Away From Gym Door

By JOE MULLEN

Stay out! Such a sign will hang on the Community Activities, Inc., gymnasium door tonight.

And, unless draped in a suit of armor, it would behoove one and all to observe the warning.

Actually, the sign is incidental because the doors will be securely barred. But, there is good reason for the maximum safety precautions.

Inside the gym will be a line of archers shooting their arrows toward targets at the gym door end of the spacious room.

The Waterford Township Recreation Department's winter archery league will swing into action tonight signaling the end of the holiday lull and the beginning of a full slate of winter recreation activities.

An anticipated 12 archery teams will participate this season, two more than a year ago. Mel Inglehart is league director. Recreation department archery is strictly a family affair.

The general pattern has been for parents to interest their offspring in the sport but the reverse has also been evidenced. At any rate, it makes for an ideal family function.

Competition among the four-member teams adds spice to the weekly sessions. Further incentive for excellence on the bow-and-arrow range is the opportunity for the top team to engage the foremost Oakland County Sportsmen's Club quarter in a shoot-off at the end of the season in early April.

Sending swishing arrows at targets backstopped by bales of hay is just one of many activities scheduled by the recreation department this winter.

Basketball got under way early in December and will continue through March.

Participation in both the boys' and men's leagues has been ample. Over 400 boys play each Saturday and the 10-team men's league takes the courts three nights a week at Cray and Pierce junior high schools.

Among the activities slated to begin this month are intermediate bridge instruction, advanced cake decorating, men's and women's volleyball, ice skating at five rinks and dog obedience classes.

Additional recreation department civic band and chorus which meet weekly at Kettering High School, the Fashion Your Figure Club, Golden Age Club and the Saturday gym and craft program for youngsters which began in December and will continue through March.

Following a holiday recess, the civic chorus will begin rehearsing Monday for its Jan. 18 concert at Kettering High School. The band will reassemble the same evening to prepare for its concert scheduled in late February.

The recreation department is operating on a current annual budget of slightly over $46,000, of which $36,438 is provided in a joint grant from the township and school system.

The department depends on income from activity fees for the approximately $10,000 balance needed.

Robert A. Lawyer directs the year-round recreation program.

Realtors Plan Talk at Banquet

The Pontiac Board of Realtors will have W. Heartsill Wilson, noted sales and business management speaker, as featured guest at its annual banquet next Tuesday night.

The event will be held at the Pontiac Elks Temple beginning at 7 p.m.

Realtors will install their 1963 officers, headed by President elect Robert C. Irwin of 435 W. Iroquois Road.

Officers were elected in October.

Also to be formally presented is the Realtor of the Year Award. This year's plaque goes to Thomas Bateman of 3145 St. Jude Court, Waterford Township.

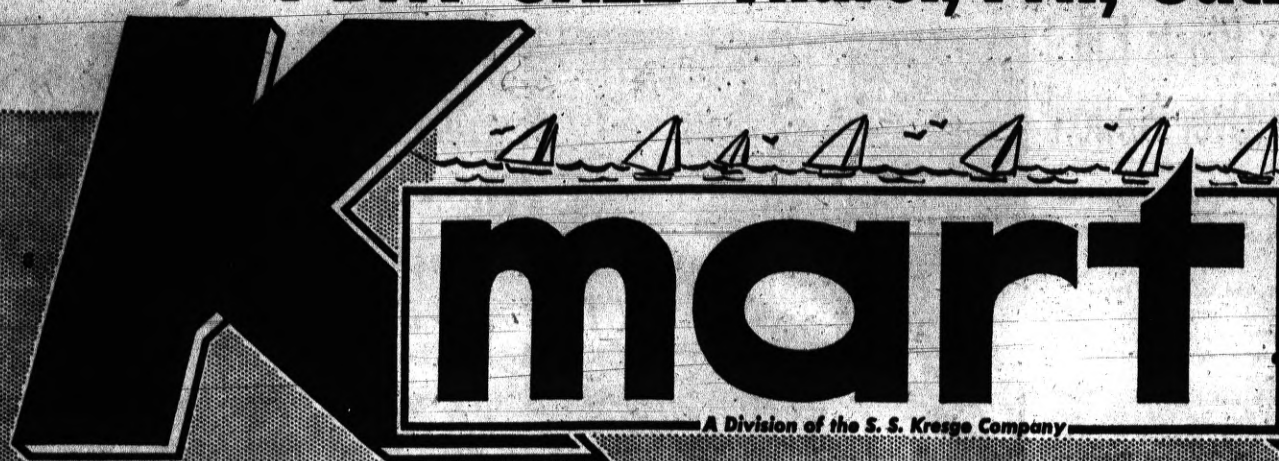

Some 450 persons are expected to attend the banquet to hear Wilson, who a year ago left a position as general sales manager for Chrysler Corp.'s Plymouth Division to form his own company devoted to sales motivation.

Mackie to Talk in 3 Tongues

LANSING (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John Mackie will have his talk simultaneously translated into French, Spanish and German when he speaks at a seminar of the International Road Federation at Chicago Feb. 25.

Mackie, new president of the American Association of Highway Officials, will explain highway administration in the United States.

The translation will be necessary because of the large number of foreign highway officials expected to attend.

Pisa's Leaning Toward 2nd Holiday Revel

NEW YORK (UPI) — The owner of a night spot here thinks New Year's Eve didn't really take place and wants another shot at it.

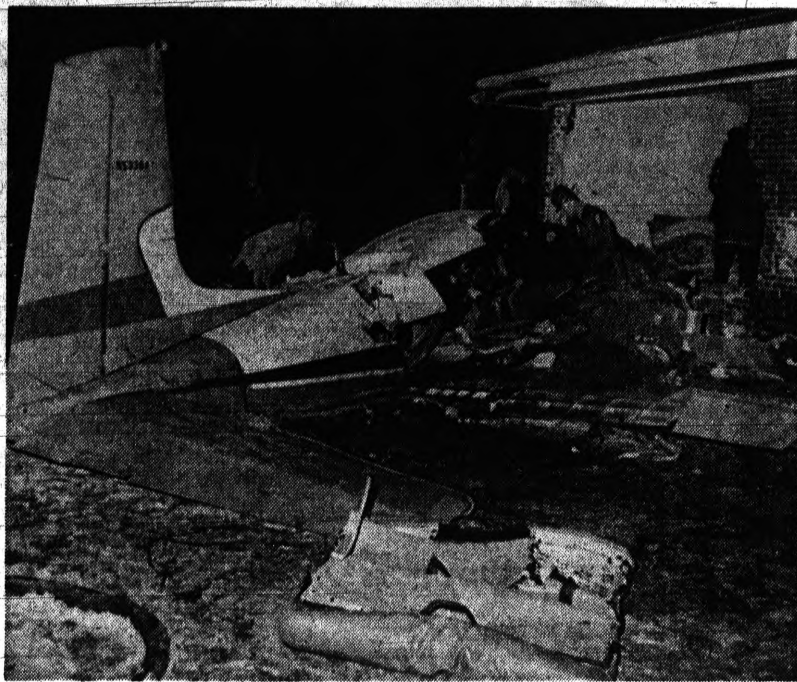

Vito Pisa, proprietor of Chez Vito, sent the following telegram to Mayor Robert F. Wagner:

"The newspaper strike made the New Year's Eve not the joyous occasion customary to millions of New Yorkers. I respectfully urge you to proclaim the first night newspapers resume publication as holiday eve, with restaurants and hotels treating it as a second New Year's Eve."

More Talk, Fewer Crises Is Hopeful Forecast for 1963

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—The new year started with bloody fighting in the Congo and Viet Nam—just as 1962 started with assassinations in Algeria. Yet 1963 may be far less hair-raising, although much more talkative, than the year just ended.

If it is, it will be because 1962 turned out to be such a shocker before it was over. This was the Cuban crisis. No sign of any such crisis is in sight now. If anything, relations between the United States and Russia should be a little more sensible.

The biggest hope in the West is that the Soviet-Russia partnership will split and, in splitting, cut the Communist world in half. Their relations now are strained to bursting by recriminations whose real origins no one knows.

The biggest immediate problem of the West is whether Western Europe shall achieve real economic unity and whether, particularly in the case of France, it will be content to save its money by letting the United States remain its nuclear guardian.

CONGO WOE GOES ON

The Algerian massacres ended at last in 1962 in independence from France for the Algerians. The struggles in the Congo and Viet Nam were going on last year, and the year before, and in one form or another will probably be there in 1964, too.

They can be lived with so long as they remain dilemmas on the fringes of the rest of the world.

reckless—crazy is a better word—determination of communism to test the will of the United States to resist a Red push even in its own back yard.

This Russian attempt to slip missiles into Cuba was a gamble as the Soviets demonstrated by backing down when challenged. What they showed was that they positively lacked the will, and very probably the weapons for a showdown, at least then.

MADE IT LOOK GOOD

Premier Khrushchev cannot survive many such humiliating defeats, although in typical Moscow fashion he sought to make his withdrawal look like the act of a humanitarian.

Therefore, it can reasonably be expected he will now pause for station identification before taking another risk. He has shown signs of soft-pedaling his demands on Berlin.

After the Cuban crisis there were optimistic pronouncements out of Washington that big changes were in the making around the world. They may be, indeed. But as of now there is no evidence to support the optimism.

Khrushchev's pause can take two forms:

1. He can make tremendous effort to achieve overwhelming weapons superiority for Russia. If that could be done, it would take years. But it would also mean enormous sacrifices for the Russian people who are just beginning to enjoy some comforts.

2. He can drop his ambitions for a Communist world—at least for a time—and seek reasonable relations, perhaps even solutions, with his Western neighbors.

POSSIBLE NECESSITY

This will become a necessity for him if Russia splits with Red China.

Although the Cuban crisis demonstrated that nuclear chaos can happen suddenly, it seems highly unlikely that the United States and Russia will in 1963 agree to disarmament or perhaps even to an inspected ban on nuclear testing.

Neither is likely to strip or limit itself in weapons—even if they could otherwise agree—so long as Red China remains both hostile and unpredictable, continues to build its arms, and is not a party to agreement.

These next few years will seem extraordinarily calm and uncomplicated compared with what lies ahead when Red China develops its own nuclear weapons and begins to assert itself in a way which is too risky so long as it lacks such weapons.

Europe—meaning Britain and France—is so far behind the United States in the development of nuclear weapons it would take years, if ever, to catch up. The United States is against their trying.

USE MONEY ELSEWHERE

It offers itself as the loyal ally who will use its weapons to protect Europe in case of need. It whole problem will be fomented suggests its allies put their money into things other than trying to build individual nuclear forces.

This has not pleased French President de Gaulle. He may resist, preferring his usual do-it-yourself system for France. This certainly big in talk.

So will Europe's economic unity and, in one fashion or another, this country's role in that unity. It will be a big and busy year, yourself system for France. This certainly big in talk.

Old Bomber Disappears

He got this flying start on the new year when he found out his 15,000-pound Navy World War II torpedo bomber was not where he had left it in a hangar at the inactive Santa Rosa Naval Air Station.

Jensen, a Sacramento, Calif., airport owner, said he stashed the plane last May and wanted to start repairing it.

Sonoma County Sheriff's deputies said the machine probably was fixed and flown away—or stolen in pieces and carted away.

Heroic Pilot Saves Day

Jet Nearly Drops on LA

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — When his engine failed at 40,000 feet, an Air Force pilot pointed the nose of his F106 jet fighter into the clouds in a blind descent — and emerged from the overcast directly over the center of Los Angeles.

Maj. Keith D. Chrietberg stayed at the controls, stretched his glide as far as possible, and headed for the sea, 20 miles away.

He crossed the coastline at Malibu only 1,000 feet up, fired his ejection seat, and parachuted to the sea as his plane crashed offshore. He was picked up uninjured by a fishing boat minutes later.

An Air Force spokesman praised Chrietberg's heroism in staying with his plane. The major was on a training mission from George Air Force Base, Victorville, Calif., when the incident occurred Wednesday.

Street Folds Under Auto

MASON, (AP) — Charles Hills and his wife were driving home slowly from a New Year's Eve party early Tuesday when the street collapsed underneath them.

"The car stood right there on its nose," said the amazed Hills.

A Mason city official explained later that a broken underground water main had washed the street's foundation away, leaving only a thin shell which Hills' auto broke through.

Hills and his wife, Arline, both 27, suffered minor injuries.

Holiday Accidents Fatal to Over 1,400

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 1,000 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the long New Year's and Christmas holiday periods. The over-all total of accidental deaths was more than 1,400.

The nation's traffic death toll for the four-day New Year's holiday was 382 compared to the record low of 375 for a similar holiday period in 1951-52. The record high since World War II is 409 set in 1956-57.

In addition to the traffic deaths during the New Year's holiday, 84 perished in fires and 132 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 598.

'Lit-Up' Girl Recovers From 'Odd' Influenza

MODENA, Italy (AP) — The doctors said a severe case of influenza was making 4-year-old Maria Cristina Bertoni feel bad. Her parents insisted on an X-ray.

One look at the X-ray plates and Maria Christina was rushed to the local hospital Wednesday. A surgeon removed a small electric light bulb from one lung and said afterward she was getting along fine.

geographer is the author of the newly published book "Africa South."

Wesley Fishel, specialist in Asian affairs and former head of the Michigan State University project in South Viet Nam, will bring a fresh viewpoint garnered from his recent study in Asia on a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Edward Haubel professor of comparative government at MSUO will conduct the last of the series. A Fulbright lecturer at the University of Buenos Aires, he intends to include Mexico, Argentina, Uruguay and Guatemala in his Latin American survey.

The purpose of these eight lectures is to give the women of this community vivid illumination into the history, economic factors, and social factors which are in conflict behind the news.

Chairman of the series is Mrs. Arthur Otis with Mrs. Roland Berndt as cochairman.

Full Petticoats Starch Easily

Full petticoats can be starched with the family wash. Then, use a spray-on starch on ruffles and flounces for additional stiffness.

Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham presented a check for $500 Wednesday to the Sister Kenny equipment fund at Pontiac General Hospital. The women's service club raised the money with a lecture series sponsored in cooperation with Michigan State University Oakland.

Dr. Ethel T. Calhoun, a member of Altrusa, is the medical director of both the physical therapy and occupational therapy departments at the hospital. Although the United Foundation contributes funds to the Kennedy Foundation, the checks from Altrusa the past several years have bought additional equipment that is needed.

The physical therapy department opened three years ago and the occupational therapy department 18 months later.

In addition to the Sister Kenny Equipment Fund, the Altrusa Club is working with Oakland County Juvenile Court on a musical training program for wards of the court in juvenile facilities.

The members are attempting to locate musical instruments no longer used which are stored in attics and basements. Anyone wishing to donate such an instrument may contact the president of Altrusa, Mrs. Leslie T. Shanks, at the county board of auditors' office.

Other projects of Altrusa are a grant-in-aid fund to help Asian and South American women finish graduate work in this country and a fund that helps certain women get back into the labor market.

Dr. Ethel T. Calhoun (center), Pontiac General Hospital, and Mrs. Leslie T. Shanks (right), Ferndale, look over a catalogue of physical therapy equipment as Kathryn Vedder, Sylvan Lake, holds a check for $500 which the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham is presenting to the Sister Kenny equipment fund at the hospital. Dr. Calhoun is medical director of the Kenny physical and occupational therapy departments. All three women are members of the Altrusa Club.

Telstar No Help Here

Within a few miles of the Telstar station in Brittany, France, women are still scrubbing laundry by hand — using wooden wash tubs out-of-doors, just as washerwomen have done for centuries. What a contrast between the ultimate in communications progress and housekeeping status quo!

Tell Fiance You Love Another

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I have a very serious problem that I hope you will be able to help me with. A year ago I became engaged to a girl I grew up with in my home town.

Shortly after our engagement was announced, I was sent to a distant city to work.

I could not get home too often to see my fiancée, but we wrote each other often.

One evening I was invited to dinner at a friend's house and while there I met his wife's sister. After that I got to see her quite often.

Well, to make a long story short, we fell in love.

Now comes the task of task of breaking the news to my fiancée. Will you please tell me how to properly and tactfully terminate this engagement?

A: If you are really sure you are in love with this other young woman and not merely attracted to her because of your loneliness, the proper thing to do is to go to see your fiancée as soon as you can and explain that during the months you have been separated you met and fell in love with someone else and that you feel it would be very unfair to her (your fiancée) to go through with the marriage under the circumstances and hope that she will understand.

Tell her that if it will save her any embarrassment she may tell her friends that she broke the engagement.

Q: How should one leave a large dinner napkin after finishing a meal? Some people leave it sprawled out on the table.

I think this is wrong and that it should be folded together and put on the side of the plate. What is your advice concerning this?

A: It is placed naturally beside one's plate, neither sprawled out nor actually folded.

All Teens, Take Heed

Boys Need Skin Care, Too

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have two letters before me. One is from a mother who is worried about her teen-age son's complexion. She wants to know if the directions for skin care for girls are also effective for boys. The other letter is from a young man who is 14 years old. He writes,

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I am 14 years old and have a lot of blackheads and a few pimples. I know that boys are not supposed to care about their looks except to be athletic and clean, but I do care.

"I do not think that boys look any better than girls with blackheads and pimples. Do you? Do you think I am being sissy to care? Please write a column about this and what teen-age boys should do."

I certainly do NOT think that you are being sissy nor do I think that boys look any more attractive with blackheads and pimples than do girls.

Although girls and women are generally more concerned about their appearance and figures than boys and men, when it comes to a blemished skin, the teens are the time for both young men and young women to take action.

Complexion problems can be controlled if they are not allowed to get out of hand. With proper care they usually disappear after a few years. During the teen-age years the oil glands in the skin are extremely active in both sexes.

This is the reason for so much complexion trouble during these years.

Real trouble can usually be avoided if the young man or woman will resist squeezing or picking at the face and will wash the face three or four times a day with soap and water.

(The mother whose letter I mentioned could not get her son to wash his face frequently.)

There are also soaps which are recommended by skin specialists as being particularly good for facial conditions. If you would like to have the names of some, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Complexion problems can be controlled if young people will wash the face three or four times a day with soap and water.

Your Wife Needs to Lose Her Twisted Theories on Life

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a father showering with a 4-year-old son?

We recently took our son on a trip and, when I let him shower with me, my wife went on a rampage. She also has many other ideas about life and nature that I think are unnatural.

I can't understand how I ever ended up with her as a partner because it wasn't a must.

If you agree with me please say so in your column. She never misses it.

HER HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Merely "agreeing" with you (which I certainly do) won't solve your problem.

Your wife should have a talk with her family doctor about her "unnatural" ideas.

She needs to trade some of her twisted, unhealthy theories for some enlightened, healthy ones.

DEAR ABBY: Our son (22) and his girl (23) eloped. We were very hurt but we forgave them.

Dad and I offered to furnish their apartment as a wedding gift. We told them to go to my brother's furniture store and pick out what they wanted.

Well, this girl walked around the store half a day and couldn't find one thing she liked. Imagine! Then she asked if they could have the cash instead.

Our son sits and lets her do all the talking. So far we haven't decided what to do about it.

My husband says to give them the cash. I say they don't deserve anything. We'd like your advice.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: You appear to be still "hurt" by the elopement and haven't really forgiven them. Also, you blame the girl.

If you really want to give them a wedding gift, give them something. But don't invite them to select whatever they want in a grand, magnanimous gesture — and then spoil it by telling them where they must buy it.

DEAR ABBY: Before my boy friend went into the service he gave me a diamond and we became officially engaged.

We plan to be married when he returns in 13 months.

Now that is a long time to sit home, Abby. I have gone out a few times, but only to keep from going crazy.

I don't let anyone kiss me or anything like that. I am really being true in heart to my boy friend, because I do love him.

My family thinks I am terrible.

Is it wrong for a girl to hook a fellow to take her out when she tells him from the start they can only be friends?

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: It is wrong! The diamond you accepted puts you in solitaire confinement. Stay home and start "hooking" a rug or something. But no dates.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town where rummage sales, dances and food sales are posted in the store windows for all to read.

Lately we have had a new type "notice," which had me completely flabbergasted.

Baby and bridal showers are being announced, inviting anyone interested to attend. What is your opinion of this?

CANYON CITY

DEAR CANYON CITY: It sounds like a free-for-all — but not exactly free.

Newlyweds Head West

Airman 2.C. Floyd James Dobson and his bride, the former Carol Jean Vassallo, who were wed Saturday in St. Dennis Church, Royal Oak, are en route to San Bernardino, Calif.

An afternoon reception in Roma Hall, Detroit, followed the noon ceremony performed by Rev. Hector Saulino.

Parents of the couple are the Fred Vassallos, Royal Oak and the Raymond Dobsons of Loon Lake Shores.

A yoke of Alencon lace enhanced the bride's floor-length gown of white satin which swept into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion fell from a double crown of pearls and sequins. She held a cascade of white roses and Stephanotis.

Wearing azelia pink peau satin were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Carl Holmyard, Laurel, Md., matron of honor, and Pamela Vassallo who served as bridesmaid with Jean Bilbrey, Davison. They wore velvet crowns and held white muffs topped with pink roses and carnations.

James Atherton, Parma, Ohio, was best man. Seating some 200 guests were Pfc. Carl M. Holmyard, Jack Palmer, Port Charlotte, Fla.; and Terry Sherer.

Wendy Vassallo served her sister as flower girl and Ronnie Shapton carried the rings.

The couple, who spent the weekend in Chicago, attended Michigan State University Oakland. The bridegroom is a graduate of Air Force Electronics Technical School, Lackland AFB, Tex., presently stationed at Norton AFB.

Will Address Alumnae Unit

South Oakland County Kappa Delta Alumnae Association will hear Province President Mrs. Edwin F. Lau at Tuesday's meeting.

Mrs. Lau will discuss Kappa Delta college chapters in the state.

Hostess for the 8 p.m. affair is Mrs. Stuart M. Totty of Henrietta Street in Birmingham. Cohostesses are Mrs. George F. Heine Jr., Mrs. Richard Meurer and Mrs. Emanuel Christensen.

The new Greenup Locks and Dam on the Ohio River at Greenup, Ky., contains enough steel to build seven U. S. Navy destroyers. The structure cost $53.9 million.

Hang Bathroom Clock

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—One of the best tricks I know is to hang a clock in the bathroom. The husband knows he has 10 minutes to eat breakfast.

It saves wear and tear on nerves and lungs because there is no need for a blow-by-blow description of the passing minutes.

The children know they have so many minutes to get off to school or down to breakfast. Try it! MRS. E. W. G.

DEAR POLLY — We have a teen-age daughter who never eats breakfast. The most I could force down her was one-half glass of milk and then I had guilty feelings all day about what a horrible mother I was for letting her go off to school without enough food.

But no longer! Instead of milk there is a glass of liquid dietary food—brimful of vitamins, proteins, carbohydrates—an adequate breakfast for her and I am laughing instead of crying. MRS. J. R.

DEAR POLLY — When ripping a seam with a razor blade or a stitch ripper, place the cloth to be ripped under the foot of the sewing machine and put the needle down through it. This holds the fabric firm and it is easier to open or rip the seam. MRS. G. B.

DEAR POLLY—An easy and inexpensive way to acquire a new lamp shade is this: take an old lamp shade or an inexpensive one from the dime store and size you want.

Wrap it around lengthwise with four-ply yarn in a color to match your decor. The yarn hides any defects in the shade and makes a very attractive accessory in any room. MRS. G. A. J.

GIRLS: But be sure there's no fire danger.

Rocky Eager, Romney Cool, Scranton 'Both'

3 Top Republicans View Presidency—All Differently

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has started courting Republicans of all shades of opinion in his obvious quest for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan is playing it cool on whether he will be attracted later by the "greener pastures" of national office.

Gov.-elect William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania—who will have a further opportunity to sound off when he formally takes office Jan. 15—already has said he would not resist an "unlikely" draft for the nomination.

That's the political rundown at the beginning of 1963 for the three Republicans most talked about as the possible GOP choice for undertaking what promises to be a Herculean attempt to oust Democrat John F. Kennedy from the presidency next year.

Rockefeller, taking in stride his second inauguration as governor, chose to spice his homily on the virtues of the American system with advice to Republicans to forget the labels which tend to divide them and to unite in a happy family.

ROMNEY'S POINT

Romney has made the same point in declining to classify himself as either a conservative or a liberal. Scranton has downgraded labels although he says if he had to accept one, it probably would be in the liberal category.

Rockefeller obviously has felt constrained for some time to try to shake off the liberal label generally pinned on him because of what he likes to call his "forward-looking Republicanism."

Whereas Romney talked in terms of solving Michigan's mountainous problems and Scranton may be under the same requirement to speak of Pennsylvania's ills, Rockefeller felt free to address himself to areas where there may be party opposition to his 1964 ambitions.

It could hardly be regarded as accidental if Rockefeller warned former President Dwight D. Eisenhower with his observation that "the local community can justly appeal to the state for help in meeting its economic and social needs only if it does all in its own power to satisfy these human wants at the local level."

MORE FOR SCRANTON

Eisenhower has kept his own counsel in the matter, but there is some suspicion that he might be more enthusiastically for Scranton—or even Romney—than for Rockefeller if the governors wound up bidding against each other for the nomination.

It might have been Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., speaking when Rockefeller said:

"We should respect conservatism—because we know the measureless value that is our heritage to save, to cherish and enrich—because we believe that everything that is soundly built for the future is built in the present on the foundations of the past."

Goldwater is the choice of a great many GOP conservatives for their party's nomination. He is taking a look at the possibility that he might bid for it. But he has not closed the door against supporting Rockefeller if he himself doesn't run.

Rockefeller certainly expects no dissent from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck to his declaration that "I believe that political leaders have the affirmative duty ruthlessly to prune out wasteful and nonessential expenditures of the taxpayers' money."

RIGHT IN LINE

Federal Court for Swainson?

Say Collins to Stay Dem Chairman

DETROIT (UPI) — John J. (Joe) Collins, chairman of Michigan's Democratic party, will be retained at his post, it was learned today.

The decision by Democratic party leaders ended speculation Collins would be replaced. Many party officials had voiced discontent over losing the governorship for the first time in 14 years.

It had been reported that former Gov. John B. Swainson and his executive secretary, Zolton A. Ferency, were both interested in the post.

But those speculations were quashed when it was learned that Swainson would be recommended for a position with the Federal District Court.

Ferency was given the appointment as special assistant to Collins for governmental affairs.

SUPPORT FERENCY

The power bloc in the party fighting for the state chairmanship lined up with labor backing Ferency. But many prominent elected Democrats, including Secretary of State James M. Hare and Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler, championed Collins.

One party spokesman pointed out that despite the loss of the gubernatorial race to Gov. George Romney, Democrats had the largest turnout for an off-year election in years.

With party leaders backing him all the way Collins only needs the official stamp of the Democratic convention which meets Feb. 2 in Grand Rapids.

The appointment of Ferency smoothed over intraparty differences that threatened to split the Democrats into two factions at their convention.

Ferency, in Lansing, said unequivocally he would support Collins for re-election.

Staebler, however, said yesterday there had been no divisions in party ranks.

But he conceded an "adjustment" between the two people involved (Collins and Ferency) was needed.

He said the party believed it had found positions for both men.

Padded Bras Start Fires

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Fire Chief Jack Comstock warns there is a hidden danger in padded brassieres. He says they can cause fires.

Comstock said Wednesday that an increasing number of fires in home and commercial dryers are being caused by bras.

The foam rubber padding breaks down in about six months, Comstock said, and the garment develops a very low ignition temperature.

To be safe, Comstock added, such brassieres should be laundered separately and dried the old-fashioned way.

Can't Dispute Claim He May Be Prejudiced

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Lewis G. Switzer was excused yesterday from the jury hearing a $25,000 damage suit brought by a man whose car was struck by a Transit Mixed Concrete Co. truck.

"I think I should explain, your honor," Switzer said, "that I'm the president of the Transit Mixed Concrete Co."

Thief Takes (W)rap

BRENTWOOD, England (UPI) — Albert Westcott, 24, was convicted yesterday of stealing the coat of a policeman who had gone to a restaurant to check into complaints of coat stealing.

Little Change Forecast for 1963 Food Prices

Food supplies and prices for 1963 can be predicted, states the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's unmatched record keeping system and skilled economists make such forecasts possible.

Indications are that average prices for food used at home will change little in 1963 from levels of 1962. Retail food prices through the first three quarters of 1962 averaged 0.7 per cent higher than a year earlier while consumer disposable income (income after taxes) increased around 5 per cent.

Pork prices are expected to average slightly lower in 1963 while beef prices will continue about the same to slightly higher. Lamb prices will be higher than in 1962.

Retail prices of chicken in the first part of 1963 may be somewhat lower than in the comparable period of 1962, for supplies will be larger. As for 1963 as a whole, chicken prices are likely to average well below prices for 1962.

Egg prices in the first quarter of 1963 may be fairly close to 1962 levels for that period. But they may average slightly lower for the year as a whole.

FRESH PRODUCE

If we do not have severe weather damage this winter, prices of fresh fruits and vegetables will be somewhat lower in the first quarter of 1963 than in the same period the year before. Freeze damage, particularly of the fresh vegetable crop, caused unusually high prices in 1962.

Prices of foods for which processing and distribution costs play a relatively important role in the cost to the consumer are expected to continue slightly upward. Examples of such foods are sugar and sweets and cereals and bakery goods.

Supplies of fresh and processed fruit during the first half of 1963 will probably be a little larger than in the same period of 1962. Supplies of canned vegetables will be substantially larger than a year earlier, but those of frozen vegetables may be somewhat smaller.

Refrigerator Rolls Can Be Topped With Cheese

Unroll 1 can Refrigerated Quick Crescent Dinner Rolls and separate dough into 8 triangles. Roll into crescents as directed on label. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 13 minutes until golden brown. Remove from oven, top each Crescent with grated Cheddar cheese and return to oven for 1 minute until cheese softens. Serve hot. Makes 8.

Pork and Kraut Roll Together

Here's a good choice for these colder days because it's made with pork which is at its prime right now, combined with zesty Kraut. What better combination can you find? Kraut, ample in vitamin C and minerals, is economical to use, convenient, and a real perk-up for menus. Pork can boast of more than its fair share of protein and B vitamins.

Kraut Pork Plan
1 pound lean, boneless pork shoulder
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 cups sauerkraut, drained
1 small onion, finely chopped
4 slices bacon
Applesauce

Cut pork into large chunks and put through food grinder or ask meatman to grind. In a bowl, combine ground pork, Worcestershire, salt, pepper and bread crumbs; mix thoroughly. On a large piece of waxed paper, flatten meat mixture with rolling pin into a 7x10 inch rectangle.

Cut sauerkraut into short lengths with scissors or sharp knife. Spread sauerkraut and onion evenly over surface of meat. Roll up jelly-roll fashion. Place slices of bacon diagonally across top of roll.

Place in greased shallow pan. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven 40 minutes or until done. Slice crosswise and serve with applesauce. Makes 6 servings.

Pare Broccoli Cut Stalks and Cook Quickly

This method of preparing broccoli may be new to you.

Skillet Buttered Broccoli

1 bunch broccoli
½ cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter

With swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare fibrous outer covering from broccoli stalks up to buds. Cut broccoli in half crosswise; cut heavy bottom ends into about ½-inch thick sticks. Cut floweret pieces lengthwise so each is the thickness of a heavy asparagus stalk; pare off any fibrous outer covering that shows up.

In a 10-inch skillet, stir together the boiling water, salt and butter. Add broccoli, placing "sticks" at bottom of skillet and having floweret tops toward the top. Boil gently, covered, until crisp-tender — 10 to 20 minutes; lift cover a few times and watch so skillet doesn't boil dry.

Remove broccoli to hot serving plate; keep hot but do not cover.

New Salads Brighten Winter Meals

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Although there are salad materials in the stores the year round, it seems more difficult to make an interesting salad in winter.

One year we went to Florida for Christmas. My sister-in-law served a tossed salad the first night we were there. It tasted so good that we told her to repeat it every day during our visit.

With the wide variety of salad dressings now on the market (both regular and low caloric), you should have no trouble keeping your salads interesting.

The first group of recipes given uses the new corn oil dressings. Most of the salads are hearty ones, the kind you can serve on a buffet table.

Greek Salad

3 tomatoes, cut in small pieces
1 cucumber, pared and cubed
1/4 pound feta or Gouda cheese, cut into chunks
1/2 cup whole black olives
Corn oil Italian dressing
Toss all ingredients together lightly. Makes about 4 servings.

Mediterranean Salad

1 (1-pound 4-ounce) can chick peas
1/4 cup corn oil spicy French dressing
Salt
Pepper

1/2 medium green pepper, cut into strips
Chopped parsley

Heat chick peas and liquid in saucepan; drain. Toss peas with corn oil spicy French dressing. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Garnish with green pepper strips and parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Italian Salami Salad

1/2 pound salami, cut into cubes
2 medium tomatoes, cut into wedges or 4 Italian plum tomatoes; halved
1 cup cubed cucumber
Corn oil Italian dressing

Salad greens

Toss salami, tomato, cucumber and corn oil Italian dressing. Arrange on salad greens. Makes about 6 servings.

This last salad will appeal to the younger set. It also occurs to us that it is an excellent salad for someone who cannot tolerate roughage in his diet.

Banana Cheese Loaf

2 3-oz. packages or 1 6-oz. package lime-flavored gelatin
1 pint cottage cheese

1 cup diced bananas

Prepare gelatin according to package directions and let it set to about consistency of cold, unbeaten egg whites. Pour one cup of gelatin into a loaf pan (9x4 1/2x2 1/4).

For a party touch, arrange banana slices into a flower, using a thin celery stalk as stem in the clear layer. Refrigerate this while folding diced banana and cottage cheese into remaining gelatin. Carefully spoon the mixture on to clear layer. Chill until firm. Serve with lemon mayonnaise.

Lemon Mayonnaise
1 cup mayonnaise
6 tablespoons lemon juice, fresh frozen or canned
6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
6 tablespoons heavy cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
Combine ingredients and blend thoroughly. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Down at our friendly neighborhood tavern, one of the chaps said, "A mermaid is one half girl and more fish than you need." You can be pretty sure that anybody who wakes up to find himself famous hasn't been asleep." — Earl Wilson.

Cranberry Juice Adds to Gelatin

This simple luncheon menu is attractive enough to serve when a friend or two drop in for an informal visit.

- Grilled Cheese Sandwiches
- Molded Ruby Salad
- Cookies Beverage
- Molded Ruby Salad

1 package (3 ounces) raspberry flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold cranberry juice cocktail

1 cup Tokay grapes (halved and seeded)
Pour boiling water over gelatin and stir to dissolve; stir in cranberry juice cocktail. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in grapes. Turn into individual molds; chill until set. At serving time, unmold gelatin and serve on salad greens with mayonnaise or a creamy French dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Ripen on The Tree

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prunes are the only fruit allowed to completely ripen on the trees. They are not picked like other fruit but allowed to fall, either on the ground or on canvas catching frames.

WORLDLY SALADS — Four salads from around the world made with three corn oil dressings. The salads from top to bottom are: Italian Salad bowl with greens, tomatoes, cucumbers and salami; a tossed green salad; a Greek salad made with tomatoes, cucumbers, black olives and a special Greek cheese; Mediterranean Salad made with Marinated chick peas.

Artichokes Serve as Party Dip Containers

Artichokes, plus delectable dips, plus spicy sauces, add up to Partichokes, a new way to please old friends the next time you entertain. Fill cooked, chilled artichokes with an imaginative variety of dips, and set them out where everyone can pluck and dunk whenever he feels the need for a nibble.

Few will be able to resist the fun of eating attractive Partichokes, whether it is someone who has loved this nutritious vegetable for years, or a newcomer who must be told to pick off a leaf, dip the fleshy end in sauce, draw it through the teeth to scrape the flesh off, and discard the rest of the leaf.

The saucy ideas below, created to bring out the subtle flavor of low-calorie artichokes, go well with your favorite potables at a buffet. Because the recipes are meant to fill Partichokes to the very brim and sate festive appetites, they are extra generous.

Slice Avocados into Rib Sauce

"Spareribs Tropicana" is a new and exotic sparerib treatment. Everyone has tasted ribs with a sweet-sour sauce, but California avocados put new life in this old favorite.

Many people think of the avocado only as a salad fruit, but its versatility is almost without bounds. Use it to garnish soups and casseroles or add it to favorite meat, fish or cheese sandwiches.

Spareribs Tropicana
3 lbs. spareribs
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon salt
1 can (13½ oz.) pineapple chunks
1 cup diced celery
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 California avocado

Cut spareribs into serving-size pieces. Combine ginger and salt and rub into sparerib pieces. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 1½ hours. Remove ribs from pan to heat-proof platter and keep warm in oven.

Drain pineapple, saving syrup. Add pineapple, celery and pepper to sparerib drippings in pan; cook until vegetables are soft. Stir in pineapple syrup. Combine cornstarch, brown sugar and vinegar. Add to pineapple-vegetable sauce and cook and stir until thickened.

Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin and cut fruit into strips. Arrange avocado strips on spareribs and pour sauce over all.

A Calorie Is a Calorie

No matter how thin bread is sliced or spaghetti is rolled or how big wheat or rice is puffed, there are still the same number of calories per gram, points out the Food and Drug Administration. And no matter in what form energy is consumed, a calorie is still a calorie. Only eating fewer calories or exercising more can take off fat.

Whenever Partichokes appear, you can be sure friends and family will know you care enough to serve the very best.

To prepare artichokes: wash artichokes; trim stems to 1-inch; pull off tough outer leaves and snip off tips of remaining leaves. Place artichokes upside down on table or board and press firmly. Remove chokes (fuzzy portion) using sharp knife and metal spoon. Place artichokes in 1-inch boiling water; add lemon juice, allowing 1½ teaspoons for each artichoke. Sprinkle each artichoke with ¼ teaspoon salt.

Cover tightly and cook 20 to 45 minutes (depending upon size of artichokes) or until stems can be pierced easily with a fork. Turn artichokes upside down to drain immediately.

Partichoke With Chutney Sauce

Prepare 1 artichoke as directed above and chill
2 tablespoons chopped chutney

1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
Blend chutney and cream cheese; add more chutney, if necessary, for desired consistency. Fill chilled artichoke with chutney sauce.

Partichoke With Anchovy Sauce

Prepare 1 artichoke as directed above and chill
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon anchovy sauce
Combine cream cheese, mayonnaise and anchovy paste; mix well. Fill chilled artichoke with anchovy sauce.

Partichoke With Sour Cream Sauce

Prepare 1 artichoke as directed above and chill
½ cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

¼ cup grated process American cheese
¼ teaspoon prepared horseradish.

Combine sour cream, chili sauce, onion, cheese and horseradish; mix well. Fill chilled artichoke with sour cream sauce.

Partichoke With Cocktail Sauce

Prepare 1 artichoke as directed above and chill
¼ cup catchup
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon crushed basil
1 to 2 teaspoons wine vinegar

Pickling Spices Add Zest to Tongue

Serve this meat hot the day you cook it, then use the leftovers in sandwiches, salads.

Good Smoked Tongue
1 4-pound smoked beef tongue
1 tablespoon mixed pickling spice
2 bay leaves
¼ teaspoon whole cloves
1 clove garlic
Cold water

Simmer tongue, mixed pickling spice, bay leaves, whole cloves and garlic in cold water (to cover tongue) about 4 hours or until tongue is tender when tested with a fork. Drain tongue; skin and trim off roots; slice as much as needed and serve hot.

Salad Dressing Rates High in Protein

Here's a salad dressing weight-watcher will love for its rich taste and low calories. Blend until smooth ½ cup cottage cheese, ½ cup buttermilk, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, and 3 hard-cooked egg yolks. Add ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese.

Then stir in ½ green pepper and 4 radishes all finely chopped. Mix well and serve over torn salad greens.

Fresh Oranges Get New Taste When Baked

For a different dish, try baked fresh oranges. Boil 4 to 6 whole fresh unpeeled California oranges in water to cover, for about 30 minutes or until tender. Drain and cool. Cut into halves, quarters or ½-inch slices.

Combine ¼ cup corn syrup, 2 cups sugar and 2 cups water and simmer for 5 minutes. Place boiled oranges in baking dish and cover with this syrup. Place light fitting cover on baking dish or seal with aluminum foil.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1½ hours. If you prefer not to cover the oranges, be sure to baste frequently with the syrup to insure uniform sweetening.

Serve hot or cold as an accompaniment for dinner. Or use as a salad with cream or cottage cheese topping.

Add Nuts to Relish

No cooking is required with this appetizing fresh apple-cranberry relish. Simply put through the food chopper 1 large red Delicious apple, unpeeled, ½ orange and 2 cups fresh cranberries. Add 1 cup sugar and ½ cup chopped walnuts. Let stand in refrigerator for several hours or overnight.

Can of Cheese Soup Turns Into Rarebit

Vegetable Rarebit
1 can (11 ounces) condensed cheddar cheese soup
½ cup milk
1 package (10 ounces) frozen carrots and peas (cooked and drained)
1 can (8 ounces) broiled sliced mushrooms (drained)

In a medium saucepan, slowly stir the milk into the soup. Add the cooked drained carrots and peas and the mushrooms. Heat gently, stirring occasionally; do not boil.

Movie Industry Recovering From Long Illness

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—That long-ailing giant, the movie industry, is at last showing signs of stirring from its sickbed.

No industrial illness has been so widely diagnosed. But while the causes are well-known—competition of television and other forms of amusement, flight of production abroad for cost and tax advantages, rising film industries in Europe—the cure has been elusive.

The movie bosses have concluded that there will be no dramatic solution to their problems, that they will survive only by better pictures,

BACKGROUND

SPECIAL

harder selling and sounder management.

Eric Johnston, the constant optimist, sees a rosy future for the industry which he heads. To support his view, the president of the Motion Picture Producers Association declares that the number of theaters in the world rose from 79,000 in 1947 to 154,900 in 1960.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW

Tough-minded movie maker Harold J. Mirisch ("Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," "West

Side Story" also takes an optimistic view:

"The rest of the world, as well as the United States, is hungry for entertainment. Our business is going to flourish in the next six months and year."

Having made 16 films in the past five years, the Mirisch brothers have announced they will produce 20 in the next two years—class attractions budgeted for a total of $65 to $70 millions.

The most encouraging news for Hollywood came when MCA entered into a consent decree with the Department of Justice, which had sued to prevent merger of the show business giant with Decca Records and its subsidiary, Universal Pictures.

TOUGH-MINDED

With the announcement that the merger will be permitted, MCA disclosed a $10-million program for modernizing the Universal lot. It already hums with television filming by MCA's Revue, the networks' young supplier, and the features of Universal. The tough, young-minded management of MCA is expected to bring new vigor to the film business, which has suffered from hardening of the executive arteries.

Hollywood also finds hope in the Century-Fox by its onetime founder, Darryl F. Zanuck.

Hollywood still faces a major problem in runaway production, which has been a hardship for labor. During one week, 15 features were being filmed in Hollywood while 21 American-sponsored movies were being shot overseas. The ratio would have been 10-1 in favor of Hollywood 10 years ago.

Some of the films were being shot abroad to use foreign locales here. But many were being made to take advantage of cheaper labor costs, tariff breaks and tax concessions for the talent.

TAX RULES CHANGE

Now the tax situation is changed. New regulations that become effective Jan. 1 make movie stars and other Americans who live overseas subject to U.S. income tax on money earned abroad. The law also increases taxes for many firms doing business overseas.

Another Showdown in W-O for 2 Bloomfield Schools

Friday Cage Contest Tops Local Card

West Bloomfield, Hills
Still Boast Unbeaten
Court Records

Nothing was settled last fall when West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills met on the gridiron. The game ended in a tie.

This won't be the case Friday when the Barons and Lakers battle for first place in the Wayne-Oakland League basketball race at Bloomfield Hills.

Once the game gets under way, only an electrical power failure with the score tied could keep one team from leaving the court a winner. Even if sudden death overtime is needed.

The Barons and Lakers went into the final game of the football season with perfect records and battled to a 19-19 standoff to share the W-O title.

Neither team has lost a basketball game. Both schools boast 4-0 league marks and 5-0 overall records.

Friday's game won't decide the championship. There is a rematch at West Bloomfield before the tournaments and Holly, 3-0 in the league, must also be considered a top contender.

HOLLY IN ACTION

Holly will be home for an encounter with improving Northville. Brighton goes to Clarkston and Milford is at Clarenceville for other league games.

West Bloomfield appears to have a little more offensive punch than the Barons, but this is offset by Bloomfield Hills having the home court advantage.

The Lakers also have a slight height advantage, but it isn't enough to make West Bloomfield a favorite. Both teams have exhibited strong defensive ability.

Two first year varsity players have played key roles in Bloomfield Hills success. John August is the top scorer on the squad with a 12.8 average. Jay DeBant, another non-letter winner, is at 9.6.

Veteran center Bill Calhoun is averaging in double figures and guard Brian Bish has had a couple of good scoring games. Roger Stewart is another veteran who can't be left unguarded.

The Lakers have shown balanced scoring, too.

Chuck Robison is hitting at a 12.3 clip and Bill Ellison has a 10.1 mark. Dan Armstrong has come on strong to average 10 points a game.

Dan Greig is a good outside shooter and Dave Helmreich drives well off the high post. Neither team is blessed with an abundance of experienced players on the bench and this could play a major role if excessive fouling takes place.

TOUGH SETBACK

Clarkston threw a major scare into West Bloomfield last time the Wolves played before losing 59-48. This indicates that the Wolves may be ready to start moving.

Northville is playing its toughest first semester games on the road. So far, the Mustangs haven't been too fortunate, losing to Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield on the road and to Clarkston at home.

The top three teams in the race have to journey to Northville next month and there could be some title hopes scrambled.

Newsome Held to 9 in 70-60 WMU Loss

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI) — Bowling Green throttled Western Michigan's high scoring Manny Newsome last night and emerged a 70-60 victor in a Mid-American conference game.

Newsome was held to nine points by the virus-weakened Falcons, who stifled to a zone defense instead of its usual man-for-man style of play.

It was a tight contest in the first half, in which Newsome got six of his points. At the intermission, Bowling Green led 36-30.

Midway in the final period the lead ballooned to 56-42 but the Broncos came within five points of the Falcons with 5:40 left on the clock.

Badger Gets Offers

Pros Bid for 'Forgotten' QB

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron VanderKelen was a forgotten young man by pro football clubs a month ago—but several of them have become keenly interested in the Wisconsin sharpshooter due to his super-sensational show in the Rose Bowl.

HULA NEXT — The forgotten quarterback in the pro football drafts, Ron VanderKelen of Wisconsin, is now one of the most sought after players after his Rose Bowl performance. The Badger star plays in the Hula Bowl this weekend after which he has at least seven pro offers to weigh.

USC's McKay Denies Quote

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California football Coach John McKay, quoted after the Rose Bowl game as saying Wisconsin would "finish about sixth in our league," says he must have been misunderstood.

"I said they are a real fine football team," McKay told a reporter when questioned about the quotation Wednesday. "Then I said Wisconsin certainly would not finish last in our league."

McKay said someone evidently thought he said Wisconsin would finish last (or sixth) in USC's league—The Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU), known as the Big Six.

Southern Cal, surviving a 23-point fourth-period rally by Wisconsin, defeated the Badgers 42-37 New Year's Day.

PNH Matmen in Top Test

It will be 'survival of the fittest' tomorrow night when the unbeaten Pontiac Northern grapplers visit Hazel Park in a battle for area mat supremacy.

Both the PNH and Viking squads are undefeated in three dual meets highlighted by a first place tie for the championship of the recent Pontiac Northern Wrestling Invitational.

Tonight Pontiac Central travels to Port Huron. Lake Orion is at Kettering. Oak Park is guest to Fitzgerald and Royal Oak Dondoro hosts East Detroit.

The Huskies, pre-season favorites to take the Inter-Lakes crown for the third straight year, are showing winning form but as of yet haven't met the other top I-L contender, Walled Lake, in a dual meet.

HUSKIE HOPEFULS
Scrapping 145-pounder Don Weyer will be spearheading the lead ballooned to 56-42 but the Broncos came within five points of the Falcons with 5:40 left on the clock.

wrote one of the brightest chapters in post-season football history in the New Year's Day classic, firing a dramatic final period rally that barely fell short as Southern California's national champions outlasted Wisconsin 42-37.

BY-PASSED

Afterwards, it was noted with some amazement that VanderKelen had been bypassed completely by the 14 National Football League clubs when they drafted 280 players last month and had been ignored in the American League draft until the 21st round when he was picked by the New York Titans.

But if the boy who paced Wisconsin to the nation's No. 2 ranking this past season was virtually unwanted in December, his dazzling performance at Pasadena, Calif., has made him a prize catch in January.

SEVEN INTERESTED

At least seven NFL teams are interested in him now, the AFL is angling for him and a Canadian Football League club is in the race for VanderKelen's signature.

In an Associated Press survey, the NFL outfits that expressed interest in the Badger star were the champion Green Bay Packers, the Los Angeles Rams, Chicago Bears, St. Louis Cardinals, Cleveland Browns, Minnesota Vikings and Philadelphia Eagles. In addition, the San Francisco 49ers said they had not yet decided whether to make a bid for VanderKelen's services.

The New York Giants, Baltimore Colts and Dallas Cowboys all reported they were satisfied with their quarterback staffs, while the Detroit Lions said they were emphasizing build-ups at other positions.

Comments were unavailable from the Washington Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers, but both seem well set at quarterback.

The Titans, in deep financial trouble and with the "for sale" sign out, are in no position to enter into a dollar war for VanderKelen, but are likely to deal their rights to him to another AFL team.

Winnipeg's champion Blue Bombers have Canadian rights to VanderKelen and Coach Bud Grant of the Bombers says his club was the only one interested until the explosive Rose Bowl performance.

DEVELOPED LATE

NFL clubs were at a loss to explain why VanderKelen was skipped in their draft, several of them saying simply that they "missed one." Some factors noted were that since VanderKelen played only 90 seconds as a junior and developed somewhat late this past season, it was hard to assay his talents; and that he was more an all-around player rather than the specialist type the pros seek.

The Packers, who would have a territorial interest in a Wisconsin standout, said they did not draft VanderKelen because he had expressed a wish not to be picked by Green Bay due to the champions already having established quarterbacks in Bart Starr and John Roach.

The Packers aren't alone. VanderKelen has been contacted by a number of NFL entries since his record-smashing day in the Rose Bowl. But the Badger ace, now in Honolulu for Sunday's Hula Bowl all-star game, is going to take his time in cashing in on his new-found fame.

'Cheap' Goal Spurs NY Win

Bathgate Ties Mark

By The Associated Press
Andy Bathgate wasn't at all concerned that his record-equaling goal was of the so-called "cheap" variety.

"I'll take the good with the bad or is it the other way around?" the smiling veteran said in the New York Ranger dressing room Wednesday night.

The goal in question was a weird one, bounding off the stick of a Toronto defenseman into the Maple Leafs' nets and setting the Rangers off on a comeback that brought them a 3-2 victory in the only National Hockey League game on schedule.

MATCHES RECORD

What's more important, it allowed the 30-year-old Ranger captain to equal one of the league's most prized records. It was the ninth consecutive game in which Bathgate had scored a goal, matching the mark held jointly by Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffron, both of Montreal.

Toronto held a 2-0 lead midway through the middle period when Bathgate's goal trickled into the net. It couldn't have been intentional. The veteran wing was shooting from an impossible angle.

He picked up the puck at the left side of the net, beyond the goal mouth and whipped a whirling, backhand pass, apparently intended for teammate Dean Prentice across the goal.

Instead, Toronto defenseman Red Kelly got his stick on the pass and, attempting to clear the puck, flipped it behind the amazed Toronto goalie, Don Simmons, into the net.

Many observers felt Bathgate may be a bit embarrassed in the manner in which he made the record book. Not so, said Andy. "Maybe it's better this way," he said. "This way I'll remember it—and so will they."

That seemed obvious. The veteran Kelly, a member of the Canadian Parliament when not playing hockey, pounded his stick on the ice in frustration after the shutout had been broken.

ROOKIE SCORES

Two goals by rookie Rod Gilbert provided the tying and winning markers for the Rangers and a superlative, 47-save performance by goalie Gump Worsley made it stand up.

Bathgate, who had missed the far, open corner of the net on two previous major rushes, confirmed that he was not shooting for the net when Kelly tipped in his shot.

"I was trying to get the pass back to Dean," he said. "But I'll take it."

The goal was his 18th of the season and gave him a league-leading total of 40 points.

Toronto Coach Punch Imlach locked the door on the Maple Leaf dressing room, and answered newsmen's questions himself.

"Yes, Kelly was just trying to clear the puck," he said, then added thoughtfully: "At least, I hope so."

Moreland's Markers Peps Up Pistons

DETROIT — Jackie Moreland twice sparked Detroit rallies last night as the Pistons romped to an easy 138-118 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Syracuse whipped St. Louis 120-95 and Boston beat San Francisco 135-120 in overtime in the only other games played.

The Pistons spotted the Royals an 8-2 lead and knotted the count three times before Bailey Howell scored a pair of baskets with three minutes left in the first quarter to put them ahead to stay.

Moreland paced a 10-point flurry mid-way in the second stanza as the Pistons went on to open a 63-58 advantage at halftime.

The Pistons led by as many as 21 points twice in the third period before the Royals erupted for eight straight points to narrow the gap, but finished on the short end of a 96-82 count as the period ended.

OLIVET (UPI) — Alma College kept its MIAA record spotless and handed Olivet its seventh straight loss of the season with a 73-63 basketball victory last night.

Alma took a 41-27 halftime lead and coasted to its third consecutive win without defeat. Alma's over-all mark is 5-1.

Bud Acton and Ray Moore each scored 21 points for the victory, while Ed Donaldson led Olivet with 15 points.

AP Photofax

EQUALS RECORD—Veteran New York Ranger, Andy Bathgate, equalled the NHL record last night when he scored a goal in his 9th consecutive game against Toronto. The feat ties the record held jointly by Maurice Richard and Bernie Geoffron, both of Montreal. The Rangers defeated the Maple Leafs, 3-2.

Chiefs Hoping Trip Remedies Cage Woes

Both Teams Seeking Second Win in SVC,
Chemics Lack Punch

Pontiac Central High School's varsity basketball team may have a little something extra going for it Friday night when it takes the floor at Midland for the Chiefs' fourth Saginaw Valley Conference game of the season.

Earlier this season the Chiefs had dropped their first two games at home when they made the long ride to Bay City and copped an impressive 71-52 victory.

Since that game the Orange and Black warriors have lost two straight games in Pontiac and are hoping that the long ride this Friday will have rewards similar to the first Bay City trip.

Coach Art Van Ryzin has indicated no startling lineup changes for the Chiefs despite a 1-4 record overall (1-2 in the Saginaw Valley Conference) that includes the Chiefs' first basketball loss to Pontiac Northern in the nine-game city series.

However, the PCH mentor did report backliner Jesse Hodge has been looking good in practice and may be ready to reclaim a starting position from Ernie Pickett soon.

ON PAR

Midland this year is expected to be on par with Central. The Chemics are 1-3 (1-2 SVC) for the year.

Faced with an inexperienced squad, Coach Keith Carey has had trouble developing any scoring punch from his taller players. Center Jim Livingston, 6-4, forward Dan Jaster, 6-2, Paul Hultin and Tim Chanter, both 6-1, have not scored consistently.

Guard Ray Tucker, a letterman, has been steadily improving and may cause PCH some problems. The Chemics have been getting balanced scoring, though, with seven or eight players a game in the scoring column.

PCH has let Mel DeWalt (13 points per game), Gerald Henry (13) and Ray Sain (10) carry the offensive load. Center McKinley Jones is the Chiefs' big rebounding threat.

In its five starts, Central has averaged 53 points a game. Midland, after tallying only 33 in its opener at Mt. Pleasant, has scored 54, 53 and 54 in the last three games.

However, the Blue and Gold Friday will be playing only game number two this season on the home court. The home opener was a 53-48 win over Bay City Handy.

Werkman No. 1 College Scorer

NEW YORK (AP)—There does not seem to be any immediate race for team scoring honors, but Nick Werkman of Seton Hall may have difficulty holding on to his top spot in the race for individual major college basketball scoring honors.

Werkman, who has played only four games this season, was idle last week so his 36.0 average per game did not change, while his two closest pursuers and six of the next nine improved their marks.

Leading the attack on the Seton Hall star's top rating are Barry Kramer of New York University with a 29.9 average and Eddie Miles of Seattle, at 29.7.

Bearcats Win 28th in Row; Unbeaten Quints Triumph

By The Associated Press
Chalk up another big number for Cincinnati's hot-handed Bearcats—28.

The Bearcats, unchallenged as No. 1 in college basketball and gunning for their third straight national championship, extended the country's longest current winning streak and set a school record for consecutive victories

Wednesday night by taking their 28th in a row. They humbled Houston 79-56.

Elsewhere — seventh-ranked Duke overcame Virginia 82-65 behind a brilliant second-half performance by Moon Mullins; Georgia Tech and DePaul remained unbeaten, the Engineers whipping the Air Force 61-48 and the Blue Demons routing Baldwin-Wallace 89-70; Notre Dame tripped Indiana 73-70 and Purdue downed Drake in overtime 83-79.

BEST NIGHT

Tom Thacker had the most productive scoring night of his three-season varsity career for Cincinnati with 23 points as the Bearcats breezed against visiting Houston. Cincinnati broke an early 6-6 tie with nine straight points, led 43-28 at the half, and kept pouring it on.

Mullins pumped in 25 second-half points in Duke's unexpectedly tough tussle with Virginia in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Cavaliers led through much of the first half and had a 45-41 edge on the favored Blue Devils midway in the second. But scoring bursts of six and eight points by Mullins sparked Duke to the victory. The 6-foot-4 junior had 25 points after intermission and 30 for the night.

TECH ROLLS

Georgia Tech's tall and muscular Yellow Jackets, now 8-0, took charge early against the Air Force in an attack led by Keith Weekly, who scored 10 of their first 11 points. DePaul, 7-0 and with its three front-men averaging 6-7, sputtered at the start against Baldwin-Wallace's press but gradually pulled away to a healthy 54-33 advantage at half-time.

Larry Sheffield paced Notre Dame's Irish, who trailed by 21 points at one stage of the first half and were behind 46-30 at intermission.

Titans Dumped by Marquette

DETROIT (UPI)—A red-hot University of Detroit quintet gave Marquette University a scare last night but the Warriors hit on 11 of 14 foul shots in the final minutes to notch an 85-76 victory.

The Warriors trailed 47-43 at the half as the Titans shot their way to a 50 per cent field shooting average. But the Titans cooled off in the second half and their percentage mark dropped to 27 per cent.

However, they held on to the lead until slightly more than seven minutes remained on the clock and at 6:41, Al Cech pumped in a jump shot to knot the score at 64-all.

Then Ron Glaser hit a basket on the following play and Marquette jumped into the lead to stay. Glaser was high for the night with 23 points.

The foul line hero in the waning minutes was Warrior Jim Poulsen, who hit six of six.

Dick Dzik led the Titans in the scoring columns with 18 points. Detroit now has won six and lost five for the year and Marquette has a 6-3 mark.

Coaches Parker, Ewbank, Svare May Be on NFL 'Carpet'

NEW YORK (AP) — Three coaching changes may be made in the National Football League next season at Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Los Angeles, where the status of Buddy Parker, Weeb Ewbank and Harland Svare is uncertain. Parker, at least, can have the job if he wants it.

The 11 other coaches appear to be set. George Wilson, for instance, was rewarded for his fine job with the Detroit Lions by a three-year contract at a reported $32,000 a year.

NEW CONTRACT
Vince Lombardi, general manager and coach of the champion Green Bay Packers, is working on a five-year contract signed in 1961, and Allie Sherman of the New York Giants, his playoff rival last Sunday, is all set with the Maracan. Red Hickey probably will stay at San Francisco although some of his assistant coaches have departed.

Wally Lemm, one of those originally thought to be on unsteady ground, recently signed for another year with the St. Louis Cardinals. Brought up from the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, Lemm had his troubles with the Cards.

However, the club finally developed some scoring punch with the installation of young Charley Johnson at quarterback. By winning their last two games, the Cards escaped the cellar in the Eastern Conference.

Bill McPeak, who doubles in brass as general manager and coach at Washington, strengthened his position by the fine early season showing of the Redskins. McPeak was a strong contender for coach-of-the-year honors, finishing fourth with a club that won only one game in 1961. Unbeaten in their first six games, the 'Skins lost seven of their last eight.

Parker can call his shots if he wants to return for another term with the Steelers. Owner Art Rooney told Parker he wants him back but will not stand in his way if he wants to make a move. Although Buddy's contract ran out Jan. 1, he is remaining at least through Sunday's Playoff Bowl game with Detroit at the Orange Bowl in Miami.

"Buddy said he wanted to wait a week or so after the game in Miami," said Rooney when in New York for the championship game. "He has done a good job for us and we'd like to have him back."

Baltimore is an entirely different situation. Ewbank, the toast of the NFL when his Colts won the title in 1958 and 1959, was walking the tightrope in 1961 but was re-hired. Although the Colts finished fourth with a 7-7 record and actually outplayed Green Bay in two losing games, a 57-0 beating by the Chicago Bears caused unrest. Perhaps Ewbank again will weather the storm on a "one more chance" basis.

Svare took over the head coach of the season only. His future was uncertain but there was reason to expect he would be given another shot if the club improved.

Under Waterfield the last-place Rams had a 1-7 record. Under Svare they were 0-5-1. They tied Minnesota and led Green Bay until the final period before bowing 20-17. It was the consensus that the Rams' attack and defense perked up under Svare, former New York Giant linebacker and assistant coach.

The switch in owners at Los Angeles clouds the issue. Dan Reeves, the co-owner who bought out his partners within the week, plans to act as his own general manager with Elroy Hirsch as his assistant. They have yet to make an announcement on a coach for next season.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The National Football League Players' Association, with all 14 teams represented for the first time in its six-year history, began study today of five proposed changes.

The Chicago Bears sent a member to the meeting for the first time—center Mike Pyle. Pete Retzlaff, offensive end for the Philadelphia Eagles, is president of the group.

Subjects to be discussed during the meetings include:

1. Income tax relief for pro football players.
2. Increase in the minimum salary for pre-season games. The current pay is $50 and some want it raised to $100.
3. Job placement service for players during the off season.
4. Deadline for receipt of player contracts for the new season. Veteran players want copies of contracts by May 1 for study before signing.
5. New sources of income for the league's pension fund.

Gross to Guide North in Annual Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Coaches for the North and South have promised both their quarterbacks plenty of offense work in Saturday's Senior Bowl football game.

South Coach Weeb Ewbank chose Gary Cuozzo of Virginia as signal-caller on his starting-offense unit but said Glynn Griffing, star of Ole Miss and the Sugar Bowl, would have ample playing time.

GROSS TO START

North Coach Tom Landry made a similar promise to Paty McCarthy of Holy Cross although he named Jerry Gross of Detroit to his starting offense team.

Both coaches announced starting line-ups after the teams completed two workouts each on practice fields here Wednesday.

Both teams were brought to full strength with the arrival of several Southerners from other bowl games. Besides Griffing, late arrivals included Alabama's Lee Roy Jordan, Butch Wilson and Bill Battle, all from the Orange Bowl victory over Oklahoma Tuesday.

The South practice field attracted a large turnout of fans. Many apparently wanting a glimpse of the hard-hitting Jordan,

All-America center and Lineman of the Year.

In the North work camp, Gross put in a full session on passing. He and McCarthy are among the nation's total offense leaders for the season just ended.

Joining Cuozzo in the South backfield are Johnny Skpan of Southern Mississippi and Billy Gambrell of South Carolina at halfback, and Keith Kinderman of Florida State at fullback.

In the North backfield with Gross are halfbacks Dave Hoppman of Iowa State and Al Snyder of Holy Cross, and Dave Katterhenrich of Ohio State at fullback.

Rival Leagues Wave Checks at Collegians

All but 4 Top Choices Signed by NFL or AFL Pro Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—The owners of the National Football League and the rival American Football League are squared off, check-book and pen in hand, for the final stages of the annual talent hunt. The chief beneficiaries are the college players who are finishing their careers.

Of 22 first-round draftees by the 14 clubs of the NFL and the eight in the AFL, the signing of all but four has been announced.

NFL LOSES 4

The NFL lassoed six and lost four of its 10 committed No. 1 picks. The AFL grabbed six and lost two of its eight. The four first-round men who have not signed are Terry Baker, Oregon State quarterback; Pat Richter, Wisconsin end; Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama center, and Don Brumm, Purdue end.

Five of the 22 were picked by both leagues on the first round. The NFL got halfback Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State (St. Louis) and halfback Kermit Alexander of UCLA (San Francisco). The AFL signed tackle Jim Dunaway of Mississippi and center Dave Behrman of Michigan State (both by Buffalo) and tackle Ed Budde of Michigan State (Dallas).

The AFL lost Stovall and Alexander of its first-round picks but came up with Dunaway, Behrman, Budde and end Art Graham of Boston College (Boston), tackle Junious Buchanan of Grambling (Dallas on Oakland's first pick) and end Walt Sweeney of Syracuse (San Diego).

The NFL missed out on Behrman, Dunaway and Budde as well as guard Rufus Guthrie, signed by San Diego, but came out of the struggle with end Dave Robinson of Penn State (Green Bay), end Tom Hutchinson of Kentucky (Cleveland), two Ohio State tackles, Bob Vogel (Baltimore) and Darv Snaders (Detroit) as well as Stovall and Alexander.

UNSIGNED

Two of the four No. 1 picks who remain unsigned won't break down until after the basketball season, if then. Baker and Richter both are star basketball players and Richter also has a future in pro baseball. Baker also has played baseball.

Grid Survey Favors 2-Point Conversion

NEW YORK (AP)—College football should move the goalposts up to the goal line to encourage field goals and permit unlimited substitution, and the National Football League should adopt the two-point conversion option.

This was the opinion of the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters who participated in the annual year-end Associated Press survey of highlights and trends of the college football season.

The question was a two-part query, asking: 1. What rule does the pro football code have that you would like see adopted by the colleges? 2. What rule do the collegians have that might help the pros?

SUBSTITUTION

The substitution change for colleges ran slightly ahead of the goalpost switch. In favoring unlimited substitution, this merely reaffirmed a subject already dealt with on a straight "yes" or "no" question in the poll. The "yes" had outnumbered the "no's" by a big margin.

Moving the goalposts up 10 yards from the end zone to the goal line would increase the use of the field goal as a major scoring weapon as in the professional game. That was the general opinion of those who favored this change for the college game.

The rule was changed years ago to protect college players who faced injury when they scrimmaged on the goal line near the goal posts.

Badger Halfback Left in Hospital

Attendees described the compact halfback's condition as good. He underwent 2-hour surgery Wednesday for a compound fracture of the jaw.

He also lost six teeth. Smith, the smallest player on either team, was hurt when he tackled towering Hal Bedsole of Southern California. Bedsole wasn't hurt.

Smith, 5-foot-10 and 158 pounds, is a clever, swift-moving huntsman on defense, and hits hard despite his size. Bedsole, the Trojan's star end, stands 6-5 and weighs 213.

The majority of the Wisconsin team took in the sights of Hollywood Wednesday. An exception: Ron Vanderkelen, Wisconsin's star quarterback, who took off for Hawaii to play in the Hula Bowl Sunday.

Cass Lake Ice Boats to Compete in Meet

Twelve ice boats from the Cass Lake Ice Yacht Club will compete in the International Championships Saturday and Sunday on Lake St. Clair.

The Cass Lake club, one of the largest fleets in Michigan, has its home base near the Pontiac Yacht Club.

Last Sunday, the club competed against the Detroit Ice Boat club and lost a challenge race 147-140 despite the individual honors won by Chuck Cartwright of Pontiac.

Ten boats from each club competed in the first race of the season for both clubs. Eddie Grant of Detroit finished second behind Cartwright in overall standings.

Nine Area Residents Eye Charter Unit Jobs

ROCHESTER—Nine area residents have filed petitions as candidates for election Feb. 18 to the charter commission for the proposed city of Rochester.

Also on the primary ballot will be the question of incorporation of the village and an adjacent portion of Avon Township.

These two propositions are in addition to the voting on township officials.

Should the proposed incorporation be approved, the charter commission will convene within 10 days after the election to frame a charter for the proposed city. This must be accomplished within 90 days after the meeting, according to state law.

Two of the men who filed

AREA NEWS

petitions for the charter commission are members of the Village Council and the incorporation study committee, which started the move toward incorporation.

They are Village President Roy Rewold and Councilman John J. Lowes.

Others running for the commission are councilmen John S. Terry and study group members Alvin O. Ensign, Robert M. Rosso, Charles Sead and Frank B. Wolff. J. Francis Vell and Edwin H. Forbush also will appear on the ballot.

Ensign and Wolff are residents of the township. The rest of the commission candidates live in Rochester.

For some technical purposes, as soon as incorporation is approved the affected area becomes a city.

AWAITS FORMAL CHARTER

Officially, however, should the proposition be approved, Rochester would not exist as a city until a formal charter is adopted and filed in the secretary of state's office.

The move to incorporate the village began, this time, last June when a nine-man study committee was approved by the council.

A similar cityhood proposal was turned down by voters in 1958 in a 2-to-1 decision.

Since the committee's formation several public hearings have been held to explain incorporation plans to area residents.

Definite disapproval has been expressed by Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller and representatives of Parke Davis & Co. The firm's biological research facility, Parkdale Farms, is included in the area proposed for incorporation.

Boundaries of the proposed city would be Tienken Road on the north and Dequindre Road on the east, with the present western and southern limits being retained.

The cityhood request increases the village's size of 1 9/16 square miles to a city of 4 1/8 square miles.

Some 150 persons signed petitions to bring the issue to a vote.

The petitions were filed with the Oakland County Clerk on Sept. 26 and the election subsequently was set by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Walled Lake Fire Chief Quits to Take County Job

WALLED LAKE — City Manager E. V. Mercer will be responsible for reorganizing the Walled Lake Fire Department following the resignation last night of Fire Chief Joseph Nephew.

Nephew, whose resignation becomes effective Jan. 15, has been with the department for two years and has served as chief since last May.

The 46-year-old fire chief is leaving his job to join the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. He will work as a turnkey in the County Jail.

Mercer recommended to the City Council last night that Ernest Campion, Walled Lake's building, electrical and plumbing inspector, be moved to the fire department.

MERCER'S PLAN

Under Mercer's plan, Campion would act as dispatcher for the fire department in addition to his present inspecting duties.

Mercer said Assistant Fire Chief Arthur Graham, a volunteer member of the department, could become acting chief.

Another plan discussed by the council would integrate the city's police and fire departments. Instead of replacing the fire chief, an extra man then could be hired who would be available for police work.

Nephew and Lt. Franklin Hamilton currently are the only full-time members of the fire department.

The council directed Mercer to work out a solution to the problem.

The council took action to fill vacancies on the City Election Commission and the board of review.

Former Councilman Clyde A. Mottor was appointed to a three-year term on the board of review and former Mayor Marshall E. Taylor and Mrs. Charles Rifffenburg were named to one-year posts on the election commission.

Tax Foes Won't Give Up Drive

DETROIT (UPI) — Berkley Mayor George Kuhn said yesterday the Vigilance Tax Committee which he heads would continue to try for its goal of 225,000 signatures on petitions outlawing city income taxes against non-residents.

Kuhn said the committee would not disband its efforts despite the fact that it got only 180,000 of the needed signatures in time for the Dec. 29 deadline.

When the additional 45,000 signatures are obtained, he said, they would be presented "informally" to the State Legislature in hopes of getting lawmakers to act during this year's session.

If the committee failed to get legislative action this year, he said, they would present the petitions again next year.

Business Success Doesn't "Just Happen"

Since 1896

There is no "shortcut" to personal and financial success. Leading businessmen throughout the world attribute their success to opportunities gained through the knowledge of bookkeeping, office machines, business law, math, English and related business training.

Successful secretaries, who enjoy highest incomes and the best working conditions, are quick to point out that "half-training" is not enough. Only those who are well trained can command the better positions.

Excellent career opportunities, in business, industry and government abound for those who qualify.

At PBI young men and women are preparing for better jobs, higher salaries and future security. We should like to tell you about our program. There is no obligation to you.

Blasts Push Aswan Dam

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — The morning alarm clock in Aswan is the roar of 5,000 pounds of dynamite.

At 6 a.m. each day some 16,000 tons of granite erupts, moving that much closer to reality the giant Aswan Dam — Egypt's dream and the Soviet Union's largest foreign aid venture.

"We are right on schedule," says Osman Ahmed Osman, contractor who is a key man in the project which may largely decide Egypt's place in the 20th Century and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's role in history.

Nasser sees the dam as the crowning symbol of his socialist revolution.

To back Nasser the Russians have lent $200 million and pledged as much again. This followed U.S. refusal to finance the dam.

The well-being of Egypt's impoverished millions could well depend on the outcome. The dam is Egypt's chance to ease the relentless pressure of an exploding population — 27 million people, a total which will be doubled in 25 years.

DREAMS OF GREATNESS

The dam will give Egypt vast electric power plus almost a million acres of new farmland. Much of this can be plowed back into the economy without being offset by hungry new people. Egypt hopes the effect will snowball, making her the first industrial power in the Arab world.

The senior engineer, Ibrahim Zaki Kennawi, sees a dam by-product in 600 top-drawer engineers and 10,000 skilled construction workers.

Aswan is attracting Egypt's best. Pay and allowances triple what a man might make in Cairo. Ambitious young engineers and government bureaucrats realize the word Aswan in their records will aid advancement. Visitors note a quickened pace even among ordinary laborers.

The site itself is impressive. The timeless Nile has carved a gently curving channel through desert sands and stone cliffs, widening to embrace eroded islands reminiscent of Japanese rock gardens. Blistering in mid-summer, it is balmy in the winter.

NEW CITY

A new city is rising with thousands of boxlike airconditioned apartments. Officials speak ambitiously of a new industrial complex—textiles, fertilizer, aluminum and even steel. For the present the dam absorbs almost all effort. There are 16,000 men working there—soon to be 25,000.

In the excavation sites and on the cliffsides 50 men have been killed—about two a month. It is an uphill battle to impress often illiterate laborers of the hazards inherent in such a massive project. Danger abounds—unmarked holes, loose rock, miles of un-insulated wiring and hundreds of screaming machines.

Work is now concentrated on a mile-long diversion channel—two thirds completed—through which the river will flow while the actual dam is constructed. This 300-foot-deep canyon will also house the power station perched over six awesome tunnels, each big enough to gulp down a three-story house.

Work will start soon on the massive rock-filled structure that will eventually span the Nile. When completed it will be 436 feet high, 2.8 miles long.

Commercial candlemaking in the United States was pioneered in 1855 in Syracuse, N. Y. by Anton Will, a German immigrant. The firm he founded now makes candles for the Vatican.

The Gerber convention is similar to Blackwood. It uses the four-club bid to ask for aces, instead of four no-trump. The convention has never achieved popularity except that many players use the jump response of four clubs to an opening no-trump to ask for aces and follow with five clubs to ask for kings. In that situation the bid proves very valuable and is worth including in your kit of bids if you are willing to take the trouble to learn it.

NEW YORK The camera—or at least the man behind it—can be as guilty of the cliché as the writer. Thus, producer Gerald Green recently issued a list of tired news shots he wishes could be banned forever from the television screens.

Green, who produces NBC's "Chee Huntley Reporting," started his list with the familiar shot of people looking in shop windows.

Other cliché scenes—most of which are short cuts to making a point—are close-ups of price tags, film showing slums quickly followed by pictures showing life among the rich, and new apartment buildings going up on the outskirts of the town.

Green's cliché list was directed charged with producing foreign news reports. He expressed strong feelings about the almost inevitable shots of "the minister of security explaining, in unintelligible English, that here is a Communist threat."

All these have a familiar look to the television viewer. Green however neglected to mention my favorite—if that's the right word—news-show cliché. That is the "correspondent on the scene" shot. The intrepid reporter is shown, usually hatless but bundled up in overcoat or trenchcoat, standing smack in front of a familiar landmark—the Arc de Triomphe or 10 Downing Street—usually in a strong wind, reading his off-camera notes.

Ancient Greeks tried to ward off colds by inserting a pinch of gold dust in a glass of wine.

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Airport manager Floyd Boyer says traffic is too heavy at the Vero Beach Airport—horse traffic that is.

He said Wednesday the airport area has no fence around it and horsemen are using the runways for riding strips. Boyer said he intends to stop the horseplay, but he didn't say how.

New IRS Laws Take Freeloaders Off Taxpayers' Backs

Editor's Note—For many Americans, the phrase "it's deductible" has been a first-class ticket to out-of-town fun. Now the "expense account set" will have to pay for its own vacation. This is the second of three articles on the new tax rules.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has set the brake on free-wheeling fun at the expense of other taxpayers.

The cost of business travel is always a legitimate income tax deduction. But too many trips—when examined by the tax man—have turned out to be work-and-play excursions with the emphasis on play.

From Jan. 1 on, out-of-town playtime is strictly at the taxpayer's own expense under the Internal Revenue Service's new regulation for business travel, entertainment and gifts.

The regulation, effective for 1963 income tax returns, is designed to insure that the great body of American taxpayers isn't footing the bill for freeloading junkets, night club and theatre forays to the big city, and winter vacations under the southern sun.

The rules by which taxpayers must substantiate the deductions they claim for business travel add up to a formidable burden of paper work for many businessmen.

TERMS EASED

IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin has eased some of the stringent terms of his original proposed regulation but it still requires more detailed proof than many companies ever have required of their executives, salesmen and employees.

Sakoon keepers, hotel men, theatre owners and night spot operators are edgy, especially in resort and tourist centers. Will many convention-goers simply stay at-home now?

The bartenders' union has served up a warning that about 100,000 bartenders could lose their jobs. The Hotel Association of New York has predicted that the "onerous and unreasonable" record-keeping rules will be "very damaging to the hotel industry." Caplin thinks not. He calls the regulation "reasonable and practical." He says it conforms with what well-run companies have been doing—or should have been doing—right along.

MUST KEEP DIARY

Taxpayers who claim deductions for travel costs must record in a diary or account book every expenditure for out-of-town meals, lodging and incidentals, large or small. A voucher or receipt must be retained and kept for any outlay of $25 or more, except for train, plane or bus tickets.

However, employees who are reimbursed for travel, entertainment and gift outlays, and therefore do not claim deductions of their own, are not expressly required to keep the diary of costs which IRS otherwise demands.

But the IRS advises employers to instruct such employees to meet the same reporting standards in their expense accounts as is now required of individual taxpayers.

If this is done, the company will have on file all the records it needs when and if the IRS demands proof that the employee spent as much as the company claimed for tax deductions.

However, if a traveler is reimbursed by his employer, and if he spends not more than $25 a day for meals, lodging and travel incidentals, the government will accept his employer's word that the expenses are reasonable and need not be substantiated, either by the company or the employee.

Companies which follow the fairly common practice of giving employees a flat per diem allowance for travel of $25 or less need not keep substantiating records. The $25 limit does not include entertainment, or plane or rail fares.

MILEAGE LIMIT

Similarly, a mileage allowance for transportation can be used without substantiation if it does not exceed 15 cents a mile.

One major corporation has protested that it will have to rent warehouses to store all the expense accounts, receipts, and vouchers. These substantiating papers must be kept for at least three years, but IRS expects to shorten this.

The new regulations stem from the tax law passed by Congress last October. It says that deductions henceforth shall be based on precise records rather than "reasonable estimates" as in the past.

Under "reasonable estimates," some taxpayers have estimated their expenditures, given them a blanket label like "sales promotion," and claimed their deductions. If challenged they needed only to make a reasonable showing that the outlays were "ordinary and necessary" in the pursuit of business.

The day to day record of business travel which the new regulations require must be completed within a couple of days after the expenditure was made and must include the following information:

1. Amount. Each outlay must be noted separately, although breakfast, lunch and dinner may be shown for each day as a single item. "meals." Small and incidental items also may be grouped under such headings as taxi fares, tips, or gas and oil.

2. Time. The record must show the dates of departure and return, and the number of days spent away from home on business.

3. Place. The city of destination or area of travel.

4. Business purpose. The business reason for the travel must be stated.

ALL OVER

No longer will it be possible for a traveler to deduct the full transportation costs to and from Miami, for instance, if he attends a convention for a week and then stays on for two weeks of vacation.

He must pro-rate the transportation expense if he devotes as much as 25 per cent of the trip to personal matters, if the whole trip lasts longer than a week.

In another regulation still to come, IRS will spell out its rules for implementing one other important decree of Congress. The law forbids deductions for "lavish or extravagant" outlays during business travel.

The mysterious border between what is extravagant and what isn't will have to be defined. The clarification, due next month, probably will make it hard for an executive to justify a business meeting on a yacht cruising the Bahamas, or for a salesman to make his sales-pitch in an expensive night spot.

Romney Picks Six

Task Force Selected

Oakland GOP in Middle on State Chairman

By JIM DYGERT

Selection of the next Republican state chairman looms as a crucial decision—one that could prove to be a turning point in the history of the state GOP.

Delegates to the party's state convention in Grand Rapids Feb. 15-16 must make the decision.

Columns Move Toward Moise Tshombe Hq.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — U.N. forces captured the important Katanga town of Jadotville today, a U.N. spokesman said. This gave the attackers a springboard for an advance on president Moise Tshombe's headquarters at Kolwezi, about 90 miles away.

Katanga forces resisting the U.N. sweep through the secessionist province had been expected to make a major stand at Jadotville, a mining center midway between Kolwezi and the fallen Katanga capital of Elisabethville.

U.N. troops stopped six miles from Jadotville last night after crossing the Lufira River on improvised pontoons and buckled girders from three bridges the Katangans had blown up. The U.N. units were forced to leave their heavy equipment behind.

Indian, Irish and Ethiopian troops in the U.N. force took Jadotville by noon, a U.N. spokesman said. This indicated that they had little resistance.

The prime objective, Kolwezi, is 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Kolwezi is the base for most of Katanga's air force as well as temporary headquarters for Tshombe's government.

As the U.N. column moved toward Kolwezi, the United Nations prodded Tshombe to end his secession from the Congo central government once and for all.

Foreign consuls in Elisabethville, however, were reported still fearful Tshombe would carry out his threat of widespread sabotage and destruction of mining and other installations in the ore-rich province.

How tough the selection will be may depend to a great extent on an equally critical choice by Gov. George W. Romney before the convention opens.

Oakland County Republicans, who boast the most powerful county GOP organization in the state and the one that led Romney into politics, are caught in the middle.

Both leading contenders — Arthur G. Elliott Jr. and John A. Gibbs — are well-known, popular and respected among county Republicans, who are currently split about 50-50 on the choice.

The final answer may determine whether the state GOP can take advantage of the opportunity afforded by Romney's victory. Will it be able to build a strong party organization based on the "citizens party" ideas advocated by the governor?

The beginnings of this type of party, some Republicans say, already exist in the Republican organization in Oakland County and other parts of the state.

'FAVORS ELLIOTT'

Romney reportedly favors the 45-year-old Elliott, Oakland County GOP chairman from 1957 to 1961 and Romney's campaign manager in 1962.

But many Republican leaders, throughout the state as well as in Oakland County, strongly support Gibbs, now executive assistant to the current state chairman, George M. Van Puseur.

Van Puseur is not expected to seek re-election to the $21,500-a-year post. Republicans close to the situation say he would not be re-elected, anyway.

They say Gibbs and Mrs. Elly Peterson, state vice chairman, have done all the work and Van Puseur, though well-liked and popular, does not grasp the complexities of modern political organization.

Gibbs' supporters feel strongly that Elliott's election to the top state party post would be a mistake, though not because they think he is not qualified.

They hope Romney will see it their way before making his choice known to convention delegates. Many feel delegates would not go against the governor's desires.

SEEK TO AVOID FIGHT

They also would like to avoid a bitter floor fight, which many expect if Romney's choice is Elliott. Some even believe that Gibbs will have enough support from throughout the state to win.

Romney only increased speculation on the matter when he named Elliott to the temporary and somewhat vague position of

Siberian Peasants Ask U.S. for Refuge

MOSCOW (AP) — A determined little band of Siberian peasants, describing themselves as persecuted Christians, forced their way into the U.S. embassy today and appealed for refuge.

Protesting loudly, the 32 men, women and children were taken away in a Russian bus nearly four hours later after Soviet officials promised the embassy they would be put up in a hotel and would not be harmed.

The demonstration — almost unheard of in the Soviet Union — brought to light an unpublished protest by a group of Russian Baptists six months ago at the British Embassy.

A British embassy spokesman said the Baptists had appealed for help in "getting in touch with the United Nations," but did not seek asylum. They tried to hand over a letter, which was not accepted, and then went away.

Shoup's 3,000-word statement was prepared for a meeting of his staff commanders at Marine Corps headquarters today. It also was sent to Marine commands throughout the world.

Will Compile Balance Sheet on Expenses

Accountants Volunteer Services for Checking on State's Finances

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney today named a group of six certified public accountants to help his new administration keep a close check on state expenditures.

Romney described it as a special task force on expenditure management. He said the efforts of this force "should enable us to make certain we are rendering the maximum service possible with the least amount of money."

The accountants who are volunteering their services will make available to the governor a monthly balance sheet and other management information on the state's financial position.

It will deal with information only and not policy.

The accountants named to the task force are John W. McEachren, Detroit, chairman; Paul F. Iceman, Ann Arbor, secretary; Mark B. Littler, Arthur P. Bartholomew Jr., and John J. Fox, Detroit; and Don Edwards, chairman of Michigan State University department of accounting and finance.

The governor said the formation of the task force was first proposed by L. William Seidman of Grand Rapids, who is special assistant to the governor for financial affairs.

Seidman will be an ex-officio member of the task force.

Romney made the announcement at a news conference here before making a speech at the Metropolitan Conference on Open Occupancy.

At the news conference, Romney was asked whether he expected to deal with tax reform before the year is over.

Romney replied that he wanted to emphasize that the key problem in Michigan is jobs.

"The key problem in this state is not an income tax," he said, "it is one aspect."

REVIEWS PROGRAM

Romney said he had reviewed with Republican legislative leaders yesterday the aspects of the legislative program in broad and tentative terms. He added, "We did not get into specific terms."

McEachren said the task force planned to meet once a week.

He said industry followed a similar procedure in management of finances but he added the task force would adapt from business only what would be helpful for management of state finances.

Romney, who during the campaign said he would appoint a fiscal "task force" to probe spending by state agencies and determine whether Michigan is getting full mileage from its tax dollars — hinted at the plan in a news conference yesterday in Lansing.

December production totaled 37,266 Pontiacs and 12,306 Tempests compared to 30,342 Pontiacs and 12,237 Tempests produced in December 1961.

Total General Motors production for 1962 was 3,741,609 compared to 2,726,577 in 1961, a 37 per cent increase. GM accounted for a full million of the 1.4-million industrywide increase from 1961.

While the division's total production was topped by Chevrolet Division and Ford, the 401,674 production figure for Pontiacs was highest in the medium-price field.

4 Firemen Hurt in Waterford

Control $75,000 Fire

By JOE MULLEN

Hampered by three lapses in the water supply, firemen from five area communities battled a $75,000 blaze yesterday afternoon in Waterford Township for nearly five hours.

The fire gutted the D & J Cabinet Shop on M59 at Williams Lake Road and an adjacent vacant building.

Damage was estimated at $50,000 for the buildings and $25,000 on the contents.

Four of the 50 firefighters on the scene suffered injuries, Richard Watson, 35, is reported in satisfactory condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with facial and head burns.

Watson, who also suffered smoke inhalation, was pumping water into the rear of the building when an explosion, touched off by paints and paint thinner, sent a billow of smoke and flame toward him.

Also injured were Waterford Township Fire Chief Elmer Fangbner who slipped on the slick water covered ice in front of the buildings injuring his leg. Fangbner was treated and released at the hospital.

Ernest Lawson, 36, of the Waterford fire department was treated at the scene for minor burns on the hand.

Douglas MacLeod, 30, of the White Lake Township department suffered a shoulder burn and was given first aid outside the building.

Reported at 3:10 p.m. the fire was apparently under control within a half hour but a five-minute period without water allowed the blaze to gain new momentum, leading to the explosion.

Firefighters, after exhausting their initial supply of water, had to rely on tanker trucks to replenish the water until a line was anchored in nearby Pontiac Lake shortly after 4 p.m.

Sections of hose extending across M59 from the lake broke twice due to the heavy flow of traffic and had to be replaced with new sections.

CRUCIAL TIME

Fangbner said the blaze could have been controlled much sooner had it not been for the water supply being cut off at a crucial time.

"After the explosion and the resulting new burst of flame, we began to concentrate on protecting the endangered surrounding buildings," Fangbner said.

Fangbner said the cause of the blaze had not been determined although it was known to have started in the front area of the cabinet shop.

The four other stores in the block were not damaged.

Mrs. Jennie Hemberg, 9776 Bonnie Brier, White Lake Township, owner of the gutted stores, was reportedly in Florida.

Fangbner praised the work of firefighters from White Lake Township, Independence Township, West Bloomfield Township and the village of Union Lake, who joined with men from his department to battle the blaze in sub-freezing temperatures.

The alarm was answered by 12 pieces of equipment.

JACK CARSON

HOLLYWOOD — Dick Powell, who made his fame singing love songs to Ruby Keeler, and his millions in the tycoon role he loved best, died of cancer Wednesday night with June Allyson holding his hand.

The 58-year-old movie and television veteran had been in a coma two days.

His death climaxed a sad day for Hollywood, following by only five hours the death — also of cancer — of Jack Carson.

For the first time in recent memory, two funerals for major Hollywood personalities will be held on the same day — Friday.

Powell was the fourth Hollywood giant felled by the disease in 18 days. Charles Laughton, who died Dec. 15, and Thomas Mitchell who died two days later, were the others.

'I THINK HE'S DEAD'

Miss Allyson, Powell's actress-wife, had sat holding his hand most of the evening. It was she who discovered that he had breathed his last.

She calmly announced to the other members of the family: "I think Richard has died."

From Our News Wires

ENCINO, Calif. — Actor Jack Carson turned in one of his greatest performances during the last two months of his life by concealing a death-dealing cancer.

He died yesterday at the age of 52 of a malignancy of the liver.

Although Carson had been ill for six months, and knew two months ago that his case was terminal, his death caught most of Hollywood by surprise.

That was because Carson told no one — not even his wife or his closest friends — how sick he was until two weeks ago.

On New Year's day, he watched the Rose Bowl game and was thrilled with his beloved Wisconsin's amazing fourth quarter surge. Then yesterday he was walking around normally and talking to his wife.

She left the room for a few minutes and when she returned, Carson was dead.

DIDN'T LOSE WEIGHT

After 20-Hour Battle

Viet Nam Quiet Now

TAN HIEP, Viet Nam (AP)—After 20 hours of battle, Vietnamese and Americans picked up their dead and wounded from this Mekong Delta area today.

The Vietnamese forces showed little interest in chasing the Communist guerrillas who had trapped them with blistering gunfire. Across the rice paddies, evidence of yesterday's battle was grim.

Five American helicopters lay crashed in the mud. The bodies of two of three Americans killed in the fighting were recovered. The third American died after he was evacuated yesterday.

One U.S. helicopter bore 21 bullet holes. On its deck lay the open wallet of one of the dead Americans, a 21-year-old gunner. There was a picture of his wife and child.

By early afternoon, more than 100 government dead and wounded had been picked up from thatched-roof huts, dikes and the open ricefields.

Newsman who flew in late this morning saw smoke rolling out of the devastated hamlet of Ap Bac, where communist guerrillas — entrenched in deep fortifications, had hit the government forces with automatic weapons fire.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of the U.S. forces in Viet Nam, told newsmen in Saigon after a visit here he believed the government forces had encircled the Communist Viet Cong and stood a chance of crushing them. But there were no signs of any new drive against the Reds immediately.

The battle was one of the bloodiest — and costliest to U.S. support forces — so far in the war. Two more American injured were reported, bringing American casualties in the past 24 hours in Viet Nam to three killed and 10 wounded.

A U.S. Army captain and two helicopter crewmen were killed and six helicopter crewmen were wounded in the opening phase of the battle near Tan Hiep. Last night a U.S. Army captain and a sergeant, both paratroopers, were wounded when they jumped into the battle area with a group of Vietnamese reinforcements.

Someone had better call the doctor."

She never called him Dick — although every one else did.

Powell's personal physician was there in minutes and pronounced the actor dead.

Miss Allyson, who had lived for months in dread of the final moment, was given a sedative by the doctor.

Ricky, Powell's 12-year-old son by Miss Allyson, was at the home of Justin Dart, a close friend of Powell.

Death came in a plush penthouse apartment into which the Powells had moved only a few days earlier.

lose a pound of weight during his illness."

Stempel said the actor's closest friends were told of his illness only recently.

"Jack evidently knew he had cancer, but he didn't tell anybody," he said last night. "I talked to Jack last night and this morning. He wasn't feeling well, but he was all right."

But a hint of Carson's failing health came last Aug. 26 at Andover, N.J., when he collapsed on stage during dress rehearsal for "Critics Choice." Physicians said — at the time — he had a stomach disorder.

His last appearance was on Walt Disney's "Wonderful World of Color" on television four months ago when he appeared to be in good health and spirits. In recent years, Carson had been touring the country in stock shows.

Carson's first stage appearance came when — because of his size — he was chosen to play the part of Hercules in a college production. It was an auspicious debut. He tripped during a performance and knocked down half the set.

Mekong Delta rice country. The Viet Cong yesterday claimed their biggest victory in the continuing struggle in Viet Nam as they shot down five U.S. helicopters.

France to Continue Building Up N-Force

PARIS (AP) — France will keep building its own independent nuclear striking force despite President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles a government spokesman said today.

The statement by Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte clearly reflects President Charles de Gaulle's present position.

Peyrefitte issued following a cabinet session in the Elysee Palace in which de Gaulle took an active part.

The minister said the American offer to sell Polaris missiles was discussed in connection with a long report by foreign minister Maurice Couve de Murville on the recent British-American summit meeting in Nassau.

The foreign minister got additional details yesterday from U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen. Bohlen will see de Gaulle tomorrow.

Peyrefitte told newsmen that France still does not completely understand how Kennedy's proposal can be pertinent to France.

France, Peyrefitte pointed out, does not possess any submarines capable of launching a Polaris missile, nor any nuclear warheads for such a missile.

Under these conditions, he said, there is no reason for France to abandon its own nuclear program.

NO HINT

The information minister gave no hint of de Gaulle's attitude toward Kennedy's offer — whether the French president will accept, or reject it. He said there has not yet been a decision one way or the other.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that West German Chancellor

Konrad Adenauer will visit Paris Jan. 21-22 for talks with President Charles de Gaulle.

Announcements in Paris and Bonn said the talks would be primarily on tightening defense, cultural and foreign policy links between the two countries, but it was assumed that President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles France will be taken up too.

The President's offer, on the same terms as to Britain, was described by informed French sources yesterday as a step in the direction of de Gaulle's expressed desire of 1958 for the conduct of Western affairs by a triumvirate of the United States, Britain and France.

Russ Peasants Ask for Refuge

sy said they had come by train from Chernogorsk, a Siberian town about 2,100 miles east of Moscow.

They said they were fleeing from persecution by local officials who threatened to jail them and take their children away from them.

A U.S. embassy official told newsmen the group wanted help to get out of the Soviet Union rather than to seek asylum. They made no specific request to go to the United States.

The peasants said they had heard they could go to an embassy and get refuge while the embassy arranged for them to be sent out of the country.

During an argument before the protesters were packed aboard the bus, one man complained: "They will shoot us. Let us be sent to any country. It doesn't matter. There's no place for us here — no place to go."

"We told them there was no way we could help them leave the Soviet Union unless they went through Soviet authorities," an American official said. "When they heard that, they agreed there was no point in staying."

Just before being taken away, the man who seemed the leader of the Siberian group said in a loud voice:

"We appeal to all brothers and sisters who believe in Jesus Christ."

As the bus drove off, Soviet policemen manhandled several American newsmen after they took photographs but they did not confiscate the cameras or film.

The group's leaders said they were Evangelical Christians, a Protestant sect whose religious doctrines do not recognize any form of state authority.

Eye Veteran Educator for Junior High Post

BIRMINGHAM — A veteran educator now in the Hazel Park School System is a prime candidate for the position of principal of the new junior high school in Beverly Hills.

The appointment of John Dickey, currently principal of Hazel Park High School, will be decided Jan. 22 by the Birmingham Board of Education.

Walter J. Piel, administrative assistant in the school district, said Dickey has emerged as the top principal candidate from a field of 28 considered by a selection committee headed by Kenneth F. Nagley, personnel director.

Piel said the new junior high school at 14-Mile Road and Bellvine Trail should be completed by next September.

If hired, Dickey would begin organizing a staff for the new school immediately.

Dickey still must be released from his present contract by the Hazel Park Board of Education before the Birmingham board acts on his appointment, according to Piel.

A Detroit policeman and a machinist in the 1940s, Dickey holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne State University.

Dickey, no relation to Birmingham School Supt. Otis M. Dickey, first worked as an elementary school teacher in 1935.

He later taught in the Detroit Public Schools, came to Hazel Park as an elementary school principal in 1956 and was appointed high school principal in 1960.

Orders Recess in Death Exam

DETROIT (AP) — Recorder's Court Judge Arthur Kosciński has recessed until Monday the preliminary examination of Robert M. Thorson, 31, on a charge of first degree murder in the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dorothy M. Thomas, 62.

The recess was ordered yesterday after attorneys argued over the admissibility of evidence. Thorson is accused of beating and strangling Mrs. Thomas at her home here Dec. 4.

Judge Kosciński, who will determine whether the Birmingham stock broker is to be held for trial, said, "the case now hinges on the admissibility of the evidence, which must be ruled upon by this court before any testimony can be taken."

Thorson's attorney argued that a blood-stained coat, trousers and hat taken from his car by police could not be entered because they were seized illegally.

The attorney, Conrad D. Kohl, said homicide bureau detectives had no search or arrest warrant. Kohl claimed the detectives, Henry Lahousse and Delore Richards, were outside their jurisdiction when they searched Thorson's car, parked outside his Birmingham home.

Chess Playoff on Tap Today

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arthur Bisguier and Bobby Fischer both of New York, are paired off today in a final-day match of the American chess championship tournament that may determine the winner, if the two do not play to a draw.

Bisguier moved into a first tie with Fischer yesterday by playing to a draw with Samuel Reshevsky of Spring Valley, N.Y.

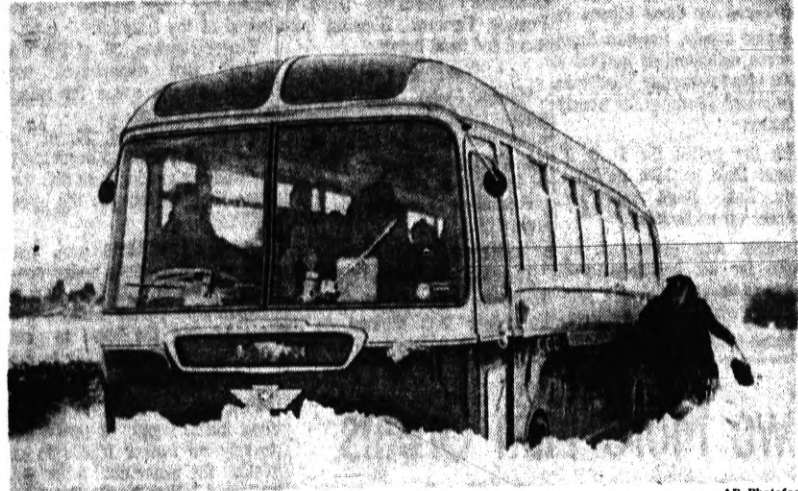

Fischer and Bisguier both have seven wins and three losses.

Third and fourth places are shared by William G. Addison of Los Angeles and Larry Evans of New York. Each has six wins and four losses.

NATIONAL WEATHER — There will be snow flurries tonight in the lower Lakes region while rain is predicted in the northern and southern Plateau regions turning to snow in higher elevations. Cooler weather is expected in the South Atlantic coastal states, the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Pacific Northwest.

Winter Belts Britain Again

LONDON (UPI) — The third, and possibly worst, storm of Britain's grimmest winter of the century blanketed southern England today.

The new storm came out of continental Europe — which enjoyed a respite in the 12-day winter siege — crossed the English Channel and struck England and London with a fast-moving mixture of snow and sleet.

More than 2 inches of snow fell within an hour at Hendon, in suburban London. Weather and road officials said the outlook was "grim — very grim."

By dawn, the snow covered all of England and southern Scotland and was closing roads as far north as Edinburgh, Scotland.

At least 855 persons have died in auto, rail, air, exposure and asphyxiation accidents since the vicious storm first swept the continent, from the Atlantic Ocean to Siberia, before Christmas. France reported 303 deaths, Britain 168.

England, ill-equipped to handle the kind of weather this winter has brought, suffered the most. Weather experts said two days ago that it was the worst winter here in 81 years.

Today's storm could make it the coldest and snowiest since records first were kept a century ago.

London temperatures were expected to hover around yesterday's low of 27 degrees.

Oakland GOP Caught in Middle

"special administrative assistant with duties still to be defined" on Dec. 21.

The governor was thought by many Republicans to be keeping Elliott in reserve to serve as his liaison with the party from the party leadership post.

This would be in line with Romney's appointment pattern of designating one key man for each area — legislature, legal, party affairs, etc.

Others are convinced, however, that Romney has not definitely made up his mind on the right job for Elliott, a former Royal Oak real estate dealer who now lives in Bloomfield Hills.

Supporters of the 30-year-old Gibbs, however, are sure they know where Elliott could best serve both Romney and the party.

They argue Elliott should be in a job much closer to the governor than the state chairmanship. They feel Elliott would not be able to devote the time, attention and effort to give the party on the foundation already begun.

Elliott would be spending too much time trying to coordinate party affairs with the governor's office, they say.

At the same time, they continue, Elliott would be more effective in bringing Romney to the realization that a "citizens' party" already exists in parts of the state GOP if he remains in the governor's office.

This is crucial, they believe, both to forging a stronger tie between Romney and the party, necessary for the good of both, and to building a strong party organization.

They envision the ideal outcome as Gibbs' holding the top party post with Elliott as liaison between Romney and Gibbs.

Although they do not dispute Elliott's ability, they feel Gibbs not only would have more time to devote to building the party, but also that his accomplishments have proven he is the best man for the mission.

Formerly with Pontiac Motor Division, Gibbs, of Royal Oak, was executive director of the Oakland County Republican Committee before becoming Van Pusem's assistant in mid-1961.

Many county Republicans believe he was largely responsible for the success and progress of the county party organization and for starting it on the direction of Romney's philosophy, although Elliott has received most of the credit in the past.

Gibbs also is credited with conceiving organizing and making effective the southeastern Michigan office of the GOP State Central Committee located in Detroit.

A number of GOP leaders gave this office more credit for Romney votes in the Detroit metropolitan area than Gov. Swainson's veto of the controversial Bowan Bill.

Much opposition toward Elliott exists among outstate Republicans too, because of Elliott's sudden withdrawal for "business and personal reasons" from the contest for the state chairmanship at the 1961 February convention.

Because he had enough support to win easily, Elliott's move left delegates grasping for leadership. Gibbs was a darkhorse candidate at the time, but Van Pusem was elected as a compromise candidate.

Gibbs' organizational and leadership talents would be lost to the party if he does not become chairman. Romney and other party leaders have considered the solution of Gibbs' remaining as assistant to the state chairman, presumably Elliott.

But it is known that Gibbs feels he would not be able to do so, mostly for financial reasons. Since he began his political career soon after completing college, he feels he does not have the financial or career stability to stay in the same slot.

All in all, many Republicans it the same way.

$2 Million in Building Plans Eyed

By DICK HANSON

Expansion of Oakland County governmental facilities to keep up with increased population needs could cost over $2 million this year.

But much of the year's construction plans hinge upon the receipt of federal aid, Robert Lilly, secretary of the County Board of Auditors explained.

He oversees the expenditure of funds for construction in the county.

Included in the county's building plans for 1963 are:

1. A new south Oakland health center to cost an estimated $600,000.

2. Initial units of a children's village to absorb an overload of court wards placed in the county's care, at a cost of approximately $400,000.

3. An expansion of public utilities and additional parking lots at the County Service Center to cost about $400,000.

The County Board of Supervisors also must consider spending $500,000 this year to remodel the County Infirmary according to state regulations.

Only the cost of the proposed health center has been included in the 1963-64 budget. The county plans to split its share of the cost over the next two years.

Federal grants under the Hill-Burton Hospital Act will cover 35 per cent of the project's cost.

SEEKS U.S. FUNDS

The county likewise has applied for federal grants, under the Public Works Acceleration Act, to pay up to 50 per cent of the cost of the children's village units and the utilities and parking lots at the service center.

But the local share of the costs for these two projects isn't included in the county budget.

David Levinson, chairman of the Board of Supervisors' ways and means committee, was confident that the county could scrape up its share of the utilities and parking lot—approximately $200,000.

But he has recommended asking for voters' approval of an additional tax levy to finance the children's village construction.

The federal government has approved funds only for the health center so far.

"It would be perplexing if the federal government were to approve funds for the children's village before the utilities," Lilly noted "because the utilities are needed in order to make the village construction feasible."

Otherwise he envisioned the youth units built with no heat, water and sewage to service them.

OTHER DEMANDS

He is further plagued with the demands of other county departments for more space to operate.

These include, he said, the planning commission, drain commission and the department of public works.

All three departments currently are housed in county buildings three miles south of the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

Plans call for the eventual incorporation of these departments, with expanded quarters, at the service center.

Meanwhile, the Board of Supervisors is hesitant to approve additions to existing building used by the three departments.

The county has a couple possible sources of more money for construction this year that could be tapped.

These are a possible year-end surplus of funds budgeted for last year and money that would result if the county could sell its property in downtown Pontiac.

The downtown property includes the old courthouse site, now being used as a parking lot, and the County Office Building at 1 Lafayette St.

The latter is scheduled to be vacated Feb. 11 when the offices are to be relocated in a wing of the new courthouse nearing completion.

The five-story office building

downtown has been appraised at $220,000. The razed site of the former courthouse was appraised at $400,000.

But many county supervisors agreed the latter appraisal was too high after futile efforts to sell the property since last spring.

Unofficially, several supervisors have indicated the site could be purchased for between $200,000 and $300,000.

It contains two lots at Pontiac's main intersection containing 34,560 square feet.

7.5 Per Cent Increase in Sales, Use Levies

LANSING (AP)—The state's collections from sales and use taxes during the calendar 1962 year rose 7.5 per cent from 1961 and included an "astounding increase" in taxable retail sales, State Revenue Director Clarence Lock said yesterday.

Lock said sales tax collections for the year totaled $41,889,241, an all-time high and an increase over the previous year of $41.3 million.

In figuring the percentage of increase, Lock said, he took into account the fact that January 1961 collections were based on sales in December 1960, when the sales tax was 3 instead of 4 per cent.

The sharp increase in taxable retail sales in 1962 amounted to $75.4 million and can be attributed to an excellent year in the auto industry and "general improvement in business conditions," he said.

After a year in which tax collections on auto sales exceeded the previous year for 11 months, they dropped off by $627,000 in December 1962. Lock said he was "frankly surprised" by this development.

"I don't know how to explain it except maybe the extremely cold weather had some effect," he said.

Over-all, for December 1962, sales and use tax collections came to $40.4 million, an increase of $2.1 million or 5.6 per cent over the same month of 1961.

About $800,000 came from the telephone service tax not in effect in 1961 and another $1.9 million came from nonautomobile sales taxes.

In 1962, the business activities tax produced $72.6 million, an increase of 4.7 per cent over the previous year. Use taxes brought in $38.4 million, an increase of 4.2 per cent over 1961.

Heroic Pilot Saves Day

Jet Nearly Drops on LA

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—When his engine failed at 40,000 feet, an Air Force pilot pointed the nose of his F106 jet fighter into the clouds in a blind descent — and emerged from the overcast directly over the center of Los Angeles.

Maj. Keith D. Chrietberg stayed at the controls, stretched his glide as far as possible, and He crossed the coastline at Malibu only 1,000 feet up, fired his ejection seat, and parachuted to the sea as his plane crashed offshore. He was picked up uninjured by a fishing boat minutes later.

An Air Force spokesman praised Chrietberg's heroism in staying with his plane. The major was on a training mission from George Air Force Base, Victorville, Calif., when the incident occurred Wednesday.

Street Folds Under Auto

MASON (AP) — Charles Hills and his wife were driving home slowly from a New Year's Eve party early Tuesday when the street collapsed underneath them.

"The car stood right there on its nose," said the amazed Hills.

A Mason city official explained later that a broken underground water main had washed the street's foundation away, leaving only a thin shell which Hills' auto broke through.

Hills and his wife, Arline, both 27, suffered minor injuries.

Holiday Accidents Fatal to Over 1,400

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 1,000 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the long New Year's and Christmas holiday periods. The over-all total of accidental deaths was more than 1,400.

The nation's traffic death toll for the four-day New Year's holiday was 382 compared to the record low of 375 for a similar holiday period in 1951-52. The record high since World War II is 409 set in 1956-57.

In addition to the traffic deaths during the New Year's holiday, 84 perished in fires and 132 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 598.

Movie Industry Recovering From Long Illness

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—That long-ailing giant, the movie industry, is at last showing signs of stirring from its sickness.

No industrial illness has been so widely diagnosed. But while the causes are well-known—competition of television and other forms of amusement, flight of production abroad for cost and tax advantages, rising film industries in Europe—the cure has been elusive. The movie bosses have concluded that there will be no dramatic solution to their problems, that they will survive only by better pictures.

THOMAS

harder selling and sounder management.

Eric Johnston, the constant optimist, sees a rosy future for the industry which he heads. To support his view, the president of the Motion Picture Producers Association declares that the number of theaters in the world rose from 79,000 in 1947 to 154,900 in 1960.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW

Tough-minded movie maker Harold J. Mirisch ("Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," "West

Side Story" also takes an optimistic view:

"The rest of the world, as well as the United States, is hungry for entertainment. Our business is going to flourish in the next six months and year."

Having made 16 films in the past five years, the Mirisch brothers have announced they will produce 20 in the next two years—class attractions budgeted for a total of $65 to $70 millions.

The most encouraging news for Hollywood came when MCA entered into a consent decree with the Department of Justice, which had sued to prevent merger of the show business giant with Decca Records and its subsidiary, Universal Pictures.

TOUGH-MINDED

With the announcement that the merger will be permitted, MCA disclosed a $10-million program for modernizing the Universal lot. It already hums with television filming by MCA's Revue, the networks' young supplier, and the features of Universal. The tough, young-minded management of MCA is expected to bring new vigor to the film business, which has suffered from hardening of the executive arteries.

Hollywood also finds hope in the Century-Fox by its onetime founder, Darryl F. Zanuck.

Hollywood still faces a major problem in runaway production, which has been a hardship for labor. During one week, 15 features were being filmed in Hollywood while 21 American-sponsored movies were being shot overseas. The ratio would have been 10-1 in favor of Hollywood 10 years ago.

Some of the films were being shot abroad to use foreign locales here. But many were being made to take advantage of cheaper labor costs, tariff breaks and tax concessions for the talent.

TAX RULES CHANGE

Now the tax situation is changed. New regulations that become effective Jan. 1 make movie stars and other Americans who live overseas subject to U.S. income tax on money earned abroad. The law also increases taxes for many firms doing business overseas.

Treat an Alcoholic Like a Drug Addict

In a piece, titled "Alcohol Is a Narcotic," recently, I quoted here the plea of an unhappy girl: "My father drinks to extremes. He will not go to Alcoholics Anonymous nor permit our pastor to talk to him. He has made us all so unhappy. . . ." (Signed, Doris B.)

As intern in a large charity hospital, a country doctor, a general practitioner and member of the staff of a semiprivate hospital in the city, I have seen the misery and sorrow such drinking brings upon children, parents, brothers, and sisters; and that's why such alcohol addicts should be treated as narcotic addicts, in my opinion.

That is, they should be committed to a suitable hospital, under control of the physicians, for a term sufficient for a course of medical treatment for addiction, together with whatever help family friends, spiritual advisers or Alcoholics Anonymous can give them.

In God's name, cries one reader, what could be more tragic than that? To my mind, the situation described by Doris B. is far more tragic than that.

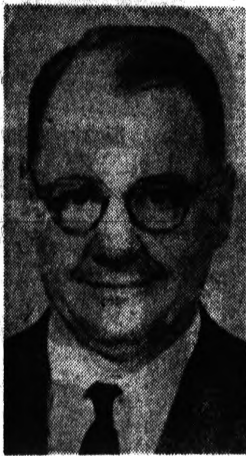

A committee of the World Health Organization said "alcohol must be considered a drug whose pharmacological action is intermediate in kind and degree between addictive-producing and habit-forming drugs"—if you understand the difference—"so that compulsive craving and dependence can develop in those individuals whose make-up leads them to seek and find escape in alcohol."

That's pretty confusing, but on coming to, I must say the WHO composed a good description of the way narcotic addiction works.

Since Tony was a pup I have recommended, whenever I had the opportunity, that the man or woman with the alcohol problem get in touch with an A.A. group in the community where he or she lives or works.

One or more A.A. groups listed in telephone directory. Every member of A.A. has been through it—knows something about the battle the victim must wage and will give him or her every kind of help to win.

Rules Bridge Tax by Windsor Legal

WINDSOR, Ont. (U.P.)—The City of Windsor will continue to tax the owners of the Ambassador International Bridge.

James E. Watson, city solicitor, said the Ontario Supreme Court decision in favor of the city was received at City Hall yesterday. He said the written judgment—which will tell the reasons for the court's decision—has not yet been received.

The loss of the right to tax the owners—Canadian Transit Co.—would have deprived the city of about $250,000 per year in tax revenue.

Body Found Amid Ashes Near South Rockford

SOUTH ROCKWOOD (U.P.)—A body tentatively identified as that of Charles Bondy, about 80, was recovered yesterday from the ruins of a rural farm house destroyed by fire.

Bondy lived alone in the two-story frame building which burned to the ground yesterday morning. The cause of the blaze had not been determined.

Kennedy, Freeman to Discuss Threat of Common Market

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy meets today with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to ponder mounting farm surpluses and a threat by the European Common Market to stifle U.S. agricultural exports.

Freeman, who flew to Palm Beach yesterday, was invited to the holiday White House for a mid-morning meeting.

This may be the final visit by a cabinet member to the President's vacation retreat. Except for work on the state of the union message he will send to Congress in a week or 10 days, Kennedy is trying to keep the decks clear for relaxation in the Florida sun — which has been trying hard to hide behind clouds the past couple of days.

In advance of his conference with the President, Freeman told reporters the administration is keenly worried about threats by the Common Market to impose special levies on U.S. farm goods that could effectively cut off agricultural sales in the market area.

The products which could be affected most seriously, said Freeman, are poultry, rice and grain.

Freeman said the United States

Market not to adopt policies that would be considered excessively harsh in Washington.

If these pleas are ignored, he hinted, the United States might retaliate against European sales in this country.

The agriculture chief also was called here to discuss with Kennedy the administration's 1963 farm program, which is still pretty much unresolved.

The administration is expected to come up with new plans for dealing with surpluses of feed grains and dairy products and special marketing difficulties affecting cotton.

The present voluntary feed grain program expires with 1963 crops and Freeman wants a replacement plan for 1964 and thereafter.

DETROIT (AP) — The State of Michigan was ordered by Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday to reimburse General Motors Corp. $435,856 in intangibles taxes on dividends from English subsidiaries.

Judge James N. Canham held the state required excess taxes on dividends from 1953 through 1955 to GM from Vauxhall Motors Ltd., and General Motors Ltd., of England.

General Motors paid the taxes under protest. GM claimed the tax was due on net amounts instead of gross amounts.

'Procurement Fair' Scheduled by Army

Area industries interested in securing defense contracts will have an unusual opportunity Jan. 10 when the U. S. Army Mobility Command will hold a one-day procurement fair in Jackson.

The event will be held at the Hayes Hotel, beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at 2 p.m., according to Milt King, Michigan director of the National Small Business Association.

The fair is being sponsored by the Jackson Manufacturers Association, the NSBA, and the Small Business Administration.

About 250 items of immediate supply requirements will be presented for production quotations, King said.

Included among the items will be a wide variety of aeronautical, automotive, construction, electrical and electronic equipment and parts, the majority of which have been selected as appropriate for manufacture by relatively small tooling, machining and fabricating plants.

Twister Breaks Knee at Ball for Gov. Romney

LANSING (AP) — A youth who twisted too vigorously at Gov. Romney's inaugural ball is in a Lansing hospital with a broken right knee cap.

John Lawrence, 20, of Kalamazoo, suffered the injury Tuesday night while dancing the twist to the music of the King's Four, a musical outfit from Saginaw.

Dobski's Bar, 7960 Cooley Lake Road, Waterford Township, was burglarized and $12 stolen, it was reported yesterday to the sheriff's department.

Michigan's available plant summary still showed 281 buildings available in 135 communities. This was a drop of 17 in the number of buildings and seven in communities.

Robert Byers, acting director of the economic development department, termed it an encouraging sign.

"We are showing gains," he said. "The summary lists buildings particularly suited to industrial purposes. Some of them are not in use because previous occupants required larger quarters to permit expansion."

"We try to put these buildings back into production and every effort will be made to bring them to the attention of new industries and businesses expanding into Michigan."

Some experts say the Mercury capsule can hold out for 34 hours, he said. "Generally, it's question of consumables — carrying enough water, oxygen and providing enough electrical power."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Reactor Development Co. goes before a panel of the Atomic Energy Commission today in quest of a provisional operating license for its controversial $95-million power reactor near Monroe, Mich.

A three-man atomic safety and licensing board is sitting to hear the request for authority for low-power operation of the reactor to one megawatt thermal. The ultimate full power of the reactor is 60,900 electrical kilowatts.

The board, headed by Samuel W. Jensch, chief hearing officer for the AEC, denied a motion by three unions, the UAW, the IEU, and the paper makers, for a postponement of today's hearing.

The unions cited an accident at the reactor on Dec. 12 while tests were being made on one of the three steam generators which caused a sodium-water reaction.

The unions said if nuclear fuel had been in the reactor at the time, there could have been a dangerous reaction.

The PRDC in an answer filed Dec. 27 denied any danger existed as a result of the accident. The company said the incident showed that the reactor performed as it had been designed to do.

It said that even if nuclear fuel had been in the reactor at the time, there would have been no release of fissionable material.

PRDC is composed of 21 corporations including 13 operating utilities, seven industrial companies and one service company. One of the 21 corporations is Detroit Edison Co., which owns the team generators and would use the electrical energy to be produced.

PRDC is asking for authority to permit loading of nuclear fuel into the reactor for the first time, although at a very low operational level.

U.S. May Set Next Orbit at 34 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's next man in space — scheduled to be astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper — may try to orbit the earth for 34 hours, 10 hours longer than originally planned, reports a space agency spokesman.

A decision on whether to try for 22 instead of 16 orbits probably will be announced next week, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman added last night.

He said there was no particular scientific advance that brought about consideration of a longer flight.

"Some experts say the Mercury capsule can hold out for 34 hours," he said. "Generally, it's question of consumables — carrying enough water, oxygen and providing enough electrical power."

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's next man in space — scheduled to be astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper — may try to orbit the earth for 34 hours, 10 hours longer than originally planned, reports a space agency spokesman.

A decision on whether to try for 22 instead of 16 orbits probably will be announced next week, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman added last night.

He said there was no particular scientific advance that brought about consideration of a longer flight.

"Some experts say the Mercury capsule can hold out for 34 hours," he said. "Generally, it's question of consumables — carrying enough water, oxygen and providing enough electrical power."

Cooper now is in training for the space venture scheduled for April.

The last U.S. orbital flight, by Walter Schirra, continued for six orbits and lasted for 9 hours, 12 minutes.

Russian cosmonauts have stayed in space for periods ranging up to four days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Reactor Development Co. goes before a panel of the Atomic Energy Commission today in quest of a provisional operating license for its controversial $95-million power reactor near Monroe, Mich.

A three-man atomic safety and licensing board is sitting to hear the request for authority for low-power operation of the reactor to one megawatt thermal. The ultimate full power of the reactor is 60,900 electrical kilowatts.

The board, headed by Samuel W. Jensch, chief hearing officer for the AEC, denied a motion by three unions, the UAW, the IEU, and the paper makers, for a postponement of today's hearing.

The unions cited an accident at the reactor on Dec. 12 while tests were being made on one of the three steam generators which caused a sodium-water reaction.

The unions said if nuclear fuel had been in the reactor at the time, there could have been a dangerous reaction.

The PRDC in an answer filed Dec. 27 denied any danger existed as a result of the accident. The company said the incident showed that the reactor performed as it had been designed to do.

It said that even if nuclear fuel had been in the reactor at the time, there would have been no release of fissionable material.

PRDC is composed of 21 corporations including 13 operating utilities, seven industrial companies and one service company. One of the 21 corporations is Detroit Edison Co., which owns the team generators and would use the electrical energy to be produced.

PRDC is asking for authority to permit loading of nuclear fuel into the reactor for the first time, although at a very low operational level.
