House Tax Cut OK Predicted

SERIOUS TALK — Gov. George Romney and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh discuss fiscal reform plans at the Capitol in Lansing this morning. Cavanagh urged five changes in the governor's proposal.

Cavanagh Asks 5 Changes in Romney Fiscal Reform

LANSING (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh today urged five major modifications in Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program, touching on sales, income, corporation and property taxes.

The mayor entered Romney's office with a five-point modification program he said will "most equitably and adequately take account of the needs of local units of government."

Cavanagh has been critical of portions fo the tax reform program Romney presented to the legislature.

One proposed change, asking that 10 per cent of the proposed 2 per cent state income tax be returned to the county of its source, "would minimize the impact upon municipalities presently levying a municipal income tax," such as Detroit.

POINTS IN PLAN

Other points in Cavanagh's plan called for:

- Continuing the state sales tax on food and drugs, but giving taxpayers a $25 to $50 credit on their state income tax bills. Romney's plan would exempt food and drugs for household use from the sales tax.
- Raising the proposed state income tax on corporations from 3½ to 4½ per cent and rfom 5½ to 6 per cent on financial institutions.
- Eliminating a clause which would put a lien on the property of persons who, because of advanced age, would get a tax deferral under Romney's plan.
- Change Romney's proposed 20 per cent reduction in school property taxes to a 15 per cent credit to individual taxpayers and a five per cent payment to individual school districts by the state.

The Mayor said the return to counties of part of the income tax would provide a significant new source of county revenue totaling about $33 million.

U.S. Suspends Relations With Dominican Republic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department announced today that U.S. relations with the Dominican Republic "are suspended." The U.S. aid program to that country also has been suspended.

A spokesman said such suspension is normal when a government recognized by the United States has been overthrown. The action allows time for the United States to sort out the facts and to determine the new government's intentions.

But State Department Press Officer Richard I. Phillips, told a news conference that "any overthrow of a democratically elected government is a loss to the policies of the countries of this hemisphere, including our own."

★ ★ ★

The suspension action followed receipt of reports from the U.S. Embassy in Sante Domingo that the armed forces under defense minister, Maj. Gen. Victory Elby Vinas Roman, had ousted President Juan Bosch.

The suspension action followed receipt of reports from the U.S. Embassy in Sante Domingo that the armed forces under defense minister, Maj. Gen. Victory Elby Vinas Roman, had ousted President Juan Bosch.

"We have no firm information on the intentions of the armed forces regarding the formation of a new government so it would be inappropriate for me to comment further," Phillips said.

State Department officials said their reports indicated the situation in the Dominican Republic was calm. They also said it seemed obvious the government which the United States had recognized had gone out of existence.

★ ★ ★

Under questioning, Phillips said that whatever military aid program existed for the Dominican Republic also was suspended.

Asked whether the U.S. quota of sugar purchases from the island country was affected, Phillips said he understood any charge in that would require legislation.

On another point he told newsmen that so far as he was aware there had been no approach to the U.S. Embassy by the armed forces leaders for recognition of their coup.

Wheat Sale to Russ Not Yet Decided

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said today that sale of American wheat to the Soviet Union is a decision that will be made "at the highest levels of government at the proper time.

★ ★ ★

"Reports that a decision has been made are untrue," Freeman said. An aide in Washington said the Soviet Union has not approached the U.S. government.

Freeman, who flew to Duluth with President John F. Kennedy yesterday, said careful consideration will be given the "matter from all angles." The secretary declined to specify what tests or what kind of tests the proposal must meet to win approval.

In Washington, Thomas R. Hughes, executive assistant to the secretary, said top government officials are aware of efforts by American traders to contact Soviet trade officials on possible sale of wheat but he said no approach has been made to U.S. officials.

American traders started seeking possible transactions after Canada last week agreed to sell the Soviet Union $500 million worth of wheat.

Hughes said the question of whether the United States would give the Soviets the benefit of its export subsidy on wheat was purely academic at this time and would remain so until specific proposals were made by the Russians, either directly or through American traders.

$11-Billion Bill Seen Without Spending Lid

Amendment Backers in GOP Being Deserted as Last Debate Held

WASHINGTON (AP) —Democratic leaders predicted with increasing confidence today that the House will pass President Kennedy's $11-billion tax cut bill before the day is over — and without nailing a Republican-backed spending lid to it.

As the final round of debate began in the House, there were indications a number of Southern Democrats would vote against the spending lid. Backers of the amendment had hoped to attract their votes.

"We're in good shape," Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., told his news conference. McCormack has been urging the House to do its part to make possible lower income tax withholding and therefore increased take home pay beginning Jan. 1.

The Democratic leader, Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, said, "We are optimistic."

If both the House and Senate approve the measure, the proposed cuts would begin to be felt in paychecks next January. Ultimately the reduction would range between $100 and $200 a year for most taxpaying families —more in the upper brackets. Two-thirds would go into effect next Jan. 1, the rest a year later.

But passage of the bill intact in the House would still leave a long, hard road ahead.

The Senate Finance Committee may not begin hearings on the tax legislation before mid-October, and an expected protracted civil rights fight could delay the tax bill almost indefinitely.

Democratic leaders were heartened by the apparent willingness of many members of the party's Southern wing to go along in opposition to the spending limit. Even some Democrats who oppose the tax cut bill itself were reported ready to vote against the Republican motion.

BETTER AFFORD

The administration can better afford to lose Democratic votes on passage of the bill. Many Republicans are expected to vote for it, whether or not the limitation is attached. But the GOP ranks are practically solid in support of the spending-curb amendment.

Mercury Will Drop With Evening Rain

Scattered showers forecast for this evening will turn temperatures a little cooler with the high tomorrow near 68. Tonight's low will be a mild 55.

For the next five days, temperatures will average 3 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 70 and low of 51.

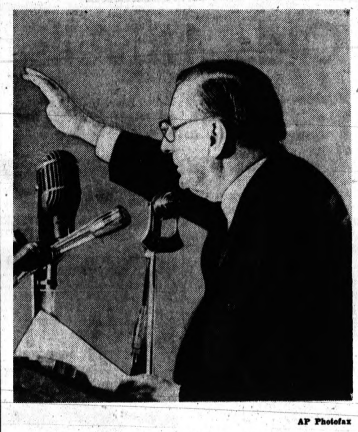

The warmest weather will be over the weekend.

Precipitation will total about one quarter of an inch in showers tonight and another period about Sunday.

The low recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 52. The mercury had climbed to 70 at 2 p. m.

R. Kennedy Praises Detroit Law Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit was cited by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy today as a city in which local law enforcement officials have shown dedicated, honest and courageous action.

In testimony before a Senate Investigations subcommittee, Kennedy related this Nov. 9, 1962 incident in Detroit:

"Operating with complete secrecy, they then conducted one of the most successful gambling raids in history," Kennedy said.

"The indictments of a number of gambling figures, including the chiefs of six numbers games in the city, have followed.

"While these have not yet been tried, Detroit officials tell us that many gambling figures have moved out of town, that those who remained move around constantly, and that the numbers business in the city has dropped sharply."

Seized records, Kennedy said, show that prior to the raid, this single Detroit operation brought in $21 million a year.

FIRST WITNESS

The attorney general, the first witness in a subcommittee check into the nation's crime operations, said the work of local law enforcement of officials in many communities has been outstanding.

Kennedy set the stage for the subcommittee's hearings into organized crime, which he called "one of the biggest businesses in America."

But getting a look at its clandestine operations is difficult because of the curtain of fear, he explained.

CODE BROKEN

"This is one reason the disclosures made by Joseph Valachi are significant," he said "For the first time an insider—a knowledgeable member of the racketeering hierarchy — has broken the underworld's code of silence."

Valachi, 60, the convicted narcotics peddler and murderer who has been singing to federal agents since he heard the syndicate had issued a death warrant for him, has brought the jigsaw picture of organized crime into sharper focus, said Kennedy.

Henry Will Ask Petition Ruling

By DICK SAUNDERS

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry last night said he would ask Oakland County Circuit Court to rule on the validity of Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce charter amendment petitions.

He said he'd take the action despite a 4-2 vote favoring a resolution accepting the petitions as certified by City Clerk Olga Barkeley and ordering ballots prepared for a special election.

Henry, an attorney, claimed a majority of the petitions failed to conform with state laws in regard to the manner in which they were notarized.

The statute requires a notary to print or stamp his name and the date his commission expires under his signature on such petitions, Henry claimed.

He said he checked all petitions submitted and "petitions containing only about 2,000 signatures are so stamped."

★ ★ ★

He said he planned to file a case in Circuit Court today, with hopes it can be placed on the docket Monday, asking the court to rule on the need for such printed information on petitions.

HEATED DEBATE

Louis H. Schimmel Jr., chairman of the Jaycees' charter amendment committee, and Henry became engaged in a heated debate over the petitions.

The petitions request a special election on a proposal to change procedures in electing city commissioners. Electors would vote for seven commissioners (one from each district) instead of just one, in the April municipal election.

Henry charged that such a procedure would "do away completely with the concept of local (democratic) government.

"The petition would have the same affect as having Alabama nominate a congressman and having everybody in the United States vote for him."

He said that it "makes it practically impossible for a poor man to run for office" and that the proposed change "would lead to corruption of a type unparalleled in the history of any local government."

Commission to Ask Investigation by State

By JIM DYGERT

City Commissioners last night voted 5-1 to ask a state attorney general's investigation of 1962 city election expenses and "other areas of law violations" in Pontiac.

Their action came in a meeting that produced no controversy over the move but provided a couple of surprises from the audience.

The resolution called for an "impartial and complete" investigation, citing evidence of "serious violation of the election laws" by opponents of present city commissioners in last year's municipal balloting.

ONE NEGATIVE VOTE

The vote came, with Commissioner Charles H. Harmon casting the lone "no" vote, after former City Commissioner John A. Dugan startled spectators with a call from the audience for "a real investigation."

Granted permission to speak by Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom, who presided in Mayor Landry's absence, Dugan said, "I want to go on record in favor of a grand jury investigation."

With a reference to what he termed Commissioner Loy L. Ledford's "pretending" to want an investigation, Dugan said, "If you call off now on a grand jury, I hope we have a real investigation by the attorney general."

★ ★ ★

Ledford, who defeated Dugan last year and who last week called for the city to request the attorney general to seek a grand jury, said, "We must have an in-

City to Borrow for R20 Project

City commissioners last night gave preliminary approval to a proposed $409,000 loan to keep the R20 urban renewal project from going broke.

The financial status of the R20 project brought harsh criticism of Pontiac's urban renewal officials from several commissioners.

It also resulted in adoption of an accompanying resolution ordering a report from all city departments indicating their financial status preparatory to submission of the 1964 budget in November.

Final approval of the $409,000 loan is slated for the Oct. 8 commission meeting. Last night's action authorizes City Finance Director Marvin Alward to file necessary applications and other documents with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Ten days public notice is required before the City Commission can give final approval to the loan. Applications must then be approved by the state.

The loan is needed because there are no funds available to keep the R20 urban renewal operating much longer until a revised R20 plan can be approved by the federal government.

EXPECT APPROVAL

It is expected the plans will be approved by March 31, 1964. They are now being prepared along with an amendatory loan and grant contract for submission to federal agencies in the near future.

Federal approval of the new plan and contract would increase the R20 budget and make appropriations available for repayment of the $409,000.

However, if approval was not granted, the city would be obligated to repay the loan from 1964 capital improvement millage, according to terms of the resolution.

The problem rests in the fact that costs of some areas of urban renewal have exceeded original budget estimates.

Notable examples, according to James L. Bates, planning and urban renewal director, are in the cost to buy land and structures and the estimated resale values of urban renewal land.

The court awards to property owners in the R20 condemnation case last December brought aquisition costs and associated legal fees to some $230,000 higher than originally estimated.

VALUES LOWER

"In the meantime," Bates noted, "we received updated resale appraisals last May that showed resale values about $600,000 lower than originally estimated when the project began."

The need for the $409,000 wasn't questioned last night. Commissioners voted 6-0 for the measure, Mayor Robert A. Landry being absent.

However, Commissioner Milton R. Henry and several others criticized local urban renewal officials for not keeping the commission informed of the cash crisis.

OUT OF HAND

"Urban renewal has gotten out of hand," Henry asserted. "It sounds to me like they've been spending the city's money like drunken sailors.

"Furthermore, there hasn't been any harmony among the so-called planners that we've been paying these tremendous salaries, about what direction they want to go in."

He suggested the commission should have "a little more control over what they do and what they spend" if the commission was to be "confronted with . . . bailing out urban renewal at this stage, on the spur of the moment.

"I'd like to know how we get into a situation like this . . . and we weren't notified by the city manager or somebody," Henry added.

Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom agreed that commissioners had asked for "a complete breakdown of urban renewal costs and he (the manager) didn't get it for us."

Henry and Bottom criticized Bates for not bringing the $409,000 need to commissioners until Sept. 10 when condemnation awards were known more than six months ago.

WASN'T KNOWN

Bates, however, had explained in detail to commissioners at the Sept. 10 informal meeting that the $409,000 need wasn't even known until Sept. 6.

"Federal officials in Chicago told us last winter that we would qualify for a $400,000 federal grant around Sept. 1, based on progress in the project," Bates said at the Sept. 10 meeting.

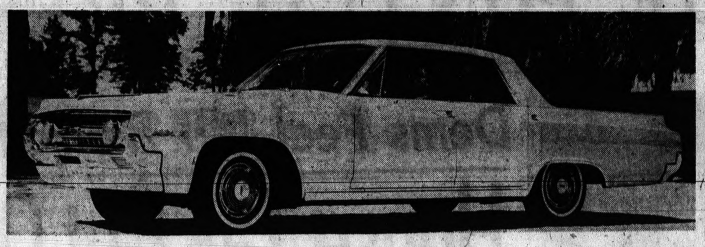

"There was some misunderstanding," he explained, "and we were told Sept. 6 that we couldn't get the $400,000.

"We qualified for it in terms of the amount of work completed so far, but we had reached our contract limitation on the total amount we could get in federal funds."

Bates confirmed his Sept. 10 report today.

In addition, the commission was first made aware of the possible need for an expanded budget and plan at an informal meeting Sept. 27, 1962.

At that meeting, held in conjunction with a dinner meeting at Pontiac General Hospital, Bates gave them a three-page memo outlining the proposed R20 project expansion and steps necessary to get federal approval.

NEW SERIES ADDED — The Jetstar 88 joins the lineup of full-size 1964 Oldsmobiles with its own engine design in lightweight cast iron. The car, also equipped with a new transmission, is distinguished from other models by grille, rear-end treatment and trim.

Other New Models Shown

Olds Unveils New Jetstar

J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager, describes the Jetstar 88 as a "lower-priced companion" to the other models. It is powered by its own 330-cubic inch ultrahigh compression Jetfire Rocket engine.

The cars go on display Oct. 4 at Jerome Motor Sales Co., 80 S. Saginaw; Houghten & Son, Inc., 528 N. Main, Rochester; Taylor Chevrolet Sales, 142 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; and Suburban Olds, 565 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

Jetstar 88's come in four-door sedan, hardtop sedan, coupe and convertible models, all on a 123-inch wheelbase. A lighter car, it is designed for "up-and-coming younger families," according to Oldsmobile.

The Jetfire Rocket engine embodies an inverted "A" cylinder block construction and integrated manifold and engine cover. The block casting is made under a new foundry process.

Each Oldsmobile series in 1964 is distinguished by special grilles, rear bumpers; rear quarter panels, taillight assemblies and placement and accent of trim.

Also new is the Jetstar I series, which is equipped with bucket seats and console, and has roof styling similar to the Starfire coupe.

IGNORE GRAND JURY

No mention of a grand jury was made in last night's resolution.

Also before the vote, Edward C. Sourial of 807 Pensacola, asked Bottom if he had received campaign money last year from Clovis Skelton, Pontiac bar owner currently awaiting trial in federal court on a charge of gambling without a federal tax stamp.

Bottom, who appointed Skelton to the city's Civic Improvement Advisory Committee in 1961, said, "No, not personally."

NOT PUBLIC

The evidence cited in the resolution was not made public. Although Ledford said it would be revealed later, Bottom and City Attorney William A. Ewart said it was "confidential" and it would be up to the state attorney general to disclose it.

"Other areas of law violations" mentioned in the resolution also were not explained, although Bottom indicated after the meeting that they included vice, which Ledford mentioned last week.

The resolution said opponents of the present commissioners "have not been subject to an investigation by county officials."

★ ★ ★

The "failure of the chief law enforcing officer of the county to make an impartial investigation," it said, "is further evidence of bias against this commission and justifies an appeal to the attorney general."

'DIDN'T KNOW RULES'

Dugan said, "If I violated any rules, it was innocently, because I didn't know the rules."

"I only reported the money I spent," he said, referring to a committee that backed him but which did not file a campaign expense report.

Dugan said there were "a couple of" newspaper ads backing his candidacy, "but I didn't pay for them and don't know who did."

Displaying literature circulated in support of Ledford last year, he said, "That really cost; I only spent about $35 on some post cards."

LISTS EXPENSES

Dugan's expense statement listed expenditures of $30, Ledford's $191.20.

One of the circulars supporting Ledford stated it was paid for by a committee, Dugan said.

After the meeting, Dugan said, "I have nothing to hide," but added that he knew a committee was working for him. He said other candidates also had committees working for them.

Only committee to file an election expense statement for the campaign was one supporting unsuccessful candidate Curtis E. Patton.

State Bank Plans Expansion

Pontiac State Bank has announced plans for simultaneous construction of three new branch offices, an unusual expansion step for financial institutions.

Milo J. Cross, bank president, said construction will be under way within 30 days. All are scheduled to be open for business by March 1, 1964.

"The expansion program is a necessity," said Cross, "due to the rapid growth of population in our area of operation, and proves our faith in the future of Pontiac and Oakland County."

New offices will be located at 970 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township, where a trailer branch recently opened; on Opdyke near the Blue Sky theater in Pontiac Township; and at M59 and Duck Lake Road in Highland Township.

ALMOST IDENTICAL

Cross said the branches will be housed in almost identical buildings, all designed in colonial style.

Each will offer full banking services, including drive-in windows. Construction cost for the triple expansion is estimated at $270,000.

Concurrent with the new construction, which will give Pontiac State Bank a total of eight locations, a $200,000 systems modernization will be under way at the main office at 28 N. Saginaw.

This involves installation of a computer and other high speed office machinery.

Henry to Ask Petition Ruling

Schimmel replied. "The basic problem is that six commissioners are afraid to go before the complete electorate of this city."

Schimmel said he thought Henry was "tampering with a big thing when you tell the great majority of voters in Pontiac they can't turn in an initiative petition."

He said there were 11,543 signatures submitted "and if we'd waited another week, I'll bet we could have had 70 or 80 per cent of the city's registered voters signed up."

There were 605 petitions filed. The clerk disqualified 29, certified 400 and didn't check 176.

Voting to accept certification and get ballots prepared were Commissioners William H. Taylor Jr., Charles H. Harmon, Loy L. Ledford and Dick M. Kirbv.

RICHARD D. KUHN

Hopeful Lists Con-Con Duty

Pontiac lawyer and businessman Richard D. Kuhn, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress in the new 19th District, was a delegate to the state's constitutional convention in 1961 and 1962.

A graduate of Michigan State University and the Detroit College of Law, Kuhn served on the convention's education committee and committee on legislative powers. He also chaired the subcommittee on the legislature.

In announcing his candidacy, Kuhn said, "This nation is in economic chaos, mainly because of the ever - increasing socialistic pressures which have been so detrimental to our finances."

Kuhn, 33, said he believes that government that governs least governs best and favors an amendment to limit the amount of income tax the federal government can levy.

RAN FOR SENATE

He owns and operates Kuhn Auto Wash, 149 W. Huron. He lives with his wife and two children at 205 Gateway, Waterford Township.

FULL RESTYLING — All 1964 Rambler Americans have been restyled, from grill to tail lights. Unseen beneath the clean lines is a refined unit body construction. This 330 station wagon also carries the standard new no-lube front suspension and ceramic-coated tailpipe.

Rambler American Is All New

From its ceramic - armored tailpipe to a redesigned aluminum grille with horizontal bars, the 1964 Rambler American has a host of changes in the first complete body revision since it was introduced in 1950.

★ ★ ★

The car also, has a new overall length of 177 inches.

"But the four - inch addition goes into greater passenger comfort and more usable space, and none into overhanging sheet metal," said Thomas A. Coupe, vice president of automotive sales.

The new Americans go on display Oct. 3 at Superior Rambler, 550 Oakland; Russ Johnson Motor Sales, 89 M24, Lake Orion; Houghten & Son, Inc., 528 N. Main, Rochester; Rose Rambler, 6145 Commerce, Union Lake; Birmingham Rambler, Inc., 666 S. Woodward, Birmingham; and Bill Spence, Inc., 6673 Dixie, Clarkston.

The car's styling gives the appearance of greater length. Trim, clean-cut lines provide a sporty look. Sedans have twice as much rear window glass area as before.

Interior head room is said to be improved, although there is an inch and a half height reduction on sedans, and three inches on convertibles. Step-down design is incorporated in refined unit body construction.

Convertible tops are available in four colors without extra cost. A more durable battery is offered on all models and windshield wipers with a parallel action for greater sweep.

What Are Homes Without Tomes?

Bookworm Won't Turn Over New Leaf

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — I don't know what's going on in your apartment, but in our apartment we're having a battle of the books.

BOYLE

Right now it looks like it may be a long war.

Every three years or so — to please the landlord and annoy the spiders we have our four-room tenement castle repainted, whether it needs it or not.

Over a quarter of century my wife, Frances, and I have developed a formula to divide the chores. For example, by an unwritten tenet of our marital code, she takes down my library books and dusts them before the painters come. After the painters leave, it is my job to put the books back on the shelves.

RAW DEAL

As anyone who has gone through this procedure knows, my wife has the better of this bargain. Any child can pull down books. That's easy. It is putting them back that is hard work.

First, there is the big argument about which books can be discarded. When our place was repainted not long ago, my wife filled up four boxes of volumes which she denounced as "useless trash."

* * *

After carefully reviewing her choices, I said, "Okay, you can throw away three."

"Three boxes?" she asked hopefully.

"Of course not! Three books."

"But you've got more than a thousand books. The way they're piling up, they'll crowd us out of house and home."

"Then throw out the sofa," I told her. "Throw out the television set."

JUST TO CHECK

The trouble with putting back books is that for every five you place back on the shelf you find one that you must sit down and thumb through.

Your library is never more interesting to you than when it is piled in stacks and boxes on chairs and on the floor.

Recently my wife issued an ultimatum after finding no place to put down the breakfast dishes except on a collection of speeches by Daniel Webster and a copy of Taine's "History of English Literature."

* * *

"This isn't a home, it's a literary junkyard," she said. "I want you to promise that this weekend you'll do nothing but put back your books—and really concentrate on it."

* * *

WHAT'S THE USE

Jumping up guiltily, I showed my wife the weekend hadn't been wasted. During the two days I had managed to fill up one entire shelf with books.

"You know we have 54 shelves for books in this apartment," she said. "And, at the rate you're going, when you put the last book back on the last shelf, it'll be time to take them all down and dust them again."

The United States accounts for 37.1 per cent of the world's production of electricity. The Soviet Union is second with 13 per cent, followed by Britain at 5.8 per cent, Japan at 5.3 per cent and West Germany at 4.9 per cent.

Farm Unit Backs Tax Plan

AREA NEWS

LANSING (UPI) — There has been no official poll of individual viewpoints, but the Michigan Farm Bureau stands ready to support Gov. George Romney's proposed fiscal reform program.

Dan Reed, legislative counsel for the bureau, said, "It is so nearly in line with our established policy, any question of support undoubtedly would be answered in the affirmative.

"We find very few points of difference in the program," Reed said.

The Farm Bureau, long a vocal opponent of a statewide income tax, switched horses last year at its annual meeting. At that time an unofficial count showed at least a 2-to-1 margin on a vote favoring tax reform which included an income tax.

The farm people recognized that property taxes must be relieved and any program should be one of 'balanced taxation,'" Reed said.

"The convention resolution decided that if property tax relief was in a reform program, the bureau would accept a broad-based, flat-rate income tax to offset the loss from this relief.

VERY PLEASED

"We are very pleased with the way this property tax relief is earmarked in the governor's program. It must take place," Reed noted.

Romney's program called for a 20 per cent reduction in the school property tax to be shown on the individual's tax bill. The state will make up this loss to school districts.

"In general we will be urging support of the governor's proposals," Reed said. "Our voice will be one, pointing out the features that we like particularly and those that we might like to see changed or added.

"Our major point of concern — property tax relief — has been well answered in the program.

"The governor's program accomplishes about the same thing we asked for although it does it in a little different way. There are, of course, some things which we view with ambivalence."

The "take it or leave it" viewpoint applies, for example, to the sales tax exemptions on food and drugs, Reed said.

"We didn't ask for these exemptions but we hold no real objection to them. Farmers will benefit from these as much as any other person, of course," said the spokesman.

One point of difference Reed cited which the bureau spokesmen might seek to change during the session is the local income tax which affects nonresidents," he said. Romney's program would allow counties to impose a maximum 2 per cent income tax, half of which could apply to nonresidents who work in the levying county.

"There has been no re-evaluation of the standing policy which was established at the convention, so barring a reversal by the board of directors, which we do not expect to occur, we will generally support the program".

PLAN SASHABAW FAIR—Making arrangements for the Sashabaw School PTA Fair Saturday are (from left) John Reabe, school principal; Mrs. Robert Scott, publicity chairman; Marguerite Munro, teacher vice president; and Daniel Donnelly, general chairman. To be held from 2 to 6 p.m., the fair will feature a country store, fish pond, pony rides, games and refreshments. The school is at 5275 Maybee, Independence Township.

TO BE INSTALLED — Bob Geliske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Geliske Sr., 7000 Williams Lake, Waterford Township, will be installed Saturday as master councilor of Cedar Chapter, Order of DeMolay. The ceremony will take place at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple, Clarkston.

Building to Be Dedicated for Children's Aid Society

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — New headquarters for the Michigan Children's Aid Society at the corner of Grand River and Drake will be dedicated Sunday afternoon.

The ceremony will climax Michigan Children's Aid Week, which began Monday by proclamation of Gov. George Romney.

The 3 p.m. dedication will be followed by tea and a tour of the building for guests of the society.

The two-story building, constructed by the Walbridge Aldinger Co. on the site of the old C. F. Smith estate, houses offices for the staff of the society's central office. Also included are a lobby-reception area, conference room, library-conference room and presentation room.

Estimated cost of the structure was $200,000. The L-shaped building, with a light brick and redwood exterior, was designed by Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton, Inc., architects and engineers.

The Michigan Children's Aid Society, founded in 1891, annually provides care through its branches for almost 2,000 dependent and neglected children.

UNWED MOTHERS

Adoptive services, foster home care and help to unwed mothers and their children are provided by more than 140 staff members and numerous volunteers.

A charter member of the Child Welfare League of America, the agency is also affiliated with united funds, community funds and community chests throughout the state.

Road Dispute Goes to County

Milford, Resident Feud Over 'Dike' He Built

A role of peacemaker in a court dispute between the Village of Milford and one of its residents has been handed the Oakland County Road Commission.

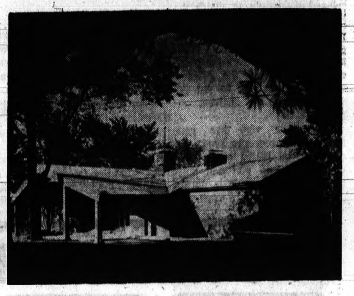

Attorneys in the case Monday agreed before Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer to have the road commission study the level of Peters Road and adjoining property owned by R. D. Bangham.

The road commission will then report back its recommendations to the court by Oct. 21. A new hearing is set for Oct. 28.

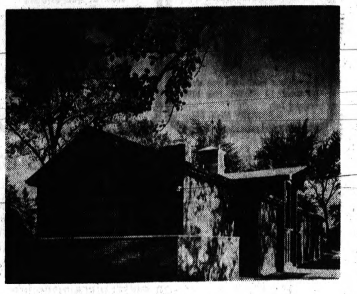

The village claims Bangham has built a "dike" to prevent the natural flow of surface water onto his property, making Bangham responsible for flooding Peters Road.

Every time the village raises the road, Bangham also raises his property, says the village, which is seeking an injunction to bar Bangham from continuing such tactics.

Bangham countered with the charge that the village has failed to provide proper drainage for the road. He reportedly is ready to reach an agreement with the village if the village will consent to a final determination on the road's level.

Oxford Sets Program for Street Lights

A program for installation of 28 street lights was begun.

This year four of the lights are to be placed. A few lights will be added annually in the next three or four years.

★ ★ ★

In other business at last night's council session, Village Manager Michael Kilgore said that Appraiser Leslie Tripp will report Oct. 8 on the proposed sewage treatment plant site.

PRESENTLY CONSIDERING

Presently the council is considering the Stewart Drahner farm, east of town and adjacent to the Oxford Cemetery, for the treatment facility.

★ ★ ★

It has until Oct. 20 to submit sewage plans to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Contract Approved for Bridge to Park

Construction of a $129,875 bridge, which will serve as part of the main entrance to Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, has been approved by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

The authority's board of commissioners awarded the bridge contract to C. A. Hull Co., Inc., of Bloomfield Hills.

The structure will be built over 26 Mile Road near Shelby Road, northeast of Rochester.

Plans call for the 3,500-acre recreation area to be open for limited public use in 1964.

To Study School Sports

Oxford Citizen Group Formed

OXFORD — The establishment of a citizens' committee to study Oxford School District's athletic program was one of several significant steps taken at last night's school board meeting.

The board also set up a combined third and fourth grade class, due to overloading of the two grades.

Schools Supt. Roger Oberg said today the citizen's committee was requested by the Dad's Club, and would begin with an organizational meeting some time next week.

"PTAs, civic groups and other local organizations will be asked to send representatives," he said. The group will study present and future needs of the athletic program.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night the board considered the feasibility of bringing extra trained personnel into the system, to aid those teachers with overloaded classes.

CONTINUE STUDY

It also resolved to continue the curriculum study program, to see if updated materials and books are needed in the fields of English, mathematics and social studies.

Oberg said the curriculum studies, in addition to researching books, will delve into the area of teaching methods.

★ ★ ★

Talking of the school system in general, Oberg pointed out that "in certain areas we are overloaded, while in other areas we have quite small classes."

★ ★ ★

The school board last night also received approval to borrow $80,000 in anticipation of state aid this year.

ENROLLMENT HIKE

Oberg said a record jump in enrollment occurred this year, with Friday's official count expected to show very close to 2,000 students.

"We had to set up a new combined class to relieve the overcrowded third and fourth grades at Daniel Axford and Thomas elementary schools," Oberg said.

Nursing Home Not Requested

KEEGO HARBOR — Petitioners for a $500,000 nursing home have withdrawn their request for a building permit, thus ending a lengthy controversy here.

Between 50 and 60 persons attended last night's City Council hearing at which prospective developers of the home were to present information about financial backers and building details.

The session lasted just over two minutes. Mayor Vernon B. Edward read the letter which the city received yesterday from the developers giving notice of the withdrawal.

State Okays Sale of Bonds for Farmington Twp. Water

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday authorized issuance of $1.56 million in revenue bonds for part of a $2.66-million water system here.

The bonds will finance construction of main transmission lines to bring Detroit water to areas in the southern portion of the township.

One of the transmission lines will be built along the southern boundary of the township on Eight Mile Road. Another main will follow 11 Mile Road west to Middlebelt. The third will be extended along Inkster Road between Eight Mile and 11 Mile roads.

The internal system of water lines is to be paid for by special assessment. Establishment of a special assessment district was approved by the commission about two months ago.

CURRENT SUPPLY

Private and community wells currently supply water to residents in the northern half of the township.

The township board has set Oct. 14 as its target date for opening bids on sale of the bonds.

Contracts for the work have been awarded pending the sale.

Supervisor Curtis H. Hall said work would probably start within days of the bond issuance. Six concerns will be working on the construction.

The water system will be built and maintained under the authority of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Church Marks 125th Birthday With Program

ALMONT — A Family Night pot-luck supper and program at 6:30 tonight is one of six events marking the 125th anniversary of the Congregational Church of Almont.

The first was a pioneer service Sunday. A similar service is planned for 10:30 a.m. next Sunday.

On Oct. 4, a Women's Fellowship tea will honor all past presidents of the group.

Climax of the anniversary observances will come Oct. 6 when a worldwide communion will be held in connection with the 10:30 a.m. service and a banquet is staged at 6 p.m.

Speaker at the communion service will be the Rev. Daniel Boxwell, former pastor.

Drain Bond Taxing to Start in December

Pontiac taxpayers will pay $171,052.75 along with their county taxes in December to begin retiring Clinton River Drain bonds that haven't been sold yet.

The City Commission last night okayed a resolution directing City Assessor Edward C. Bloe to spread the $171,052 on the 1963 county tax roll.

The assessment represents the first payment of interest on a $2.5-million bond issue to finance the drainage project.

* * *

Bonds would mature over a 30-year period. The first payment would come due April 1, 1964, if the bonds are sold.

BEING HELD UP

Sale of bonds is being held up by an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court involving a suit challenging the legality of a section of the Michigan Drain Codes under which the river project is being financed.

The suit, filed by a group of property owners in Macomb County, was dismissed by federal judges in Detroit July 9. The decision is being appealed, and no financial institutions will bid on bonds pending outcome of the appeal.

However, City Attorney William A. Ewart explained that the assessments must be levied and payments made according to the schedule set up in the bond ordinance.

"The project plan and our agreement with the county to supervise this as a special drainage district are based on the bond issue," Ewart said.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

"In addition, contracts were advertised and awarded based on financing by a bond issue to begin maturing April 1."

If the lower court decision is overruled, the money would be transferred to another fund to pay for the project, under another section of the drain codes. If there is no ruling by April, it will be held aside for payment as soon as the appeal is settled.

In other business, the commission voted 4 to 2 to exercise the city's option to buy 65 acres of vacant property with Galloway Lake frontage for a future city park.

The land will cost $123,646.50 to be paid over a seven-year period. Commissioners had already put $50,000 down on the option last November.

DUE TO EXPIRE

The option was due to expire Oct. 1. Last night's action will also free a $34,000 grant under the federal open-space program which was already approved by federal officials contingent on exercising the option and mortgage agreement.

Although commissioners eyed the site as a prospective swimming beach and park facility, the Oakland County Health Department said last fall that Galloway Lake was polluted to the point of being unfit for swimming.

Commissioners also okayed a $3,100 contract with H. H. Stanton Plumbing for installation of water lines in a proposed neighborhood park in the R20 urban renewal project.

* * *

Stanton was low bidder for the contract. The bid tabulation was accepted by commissioners last week.

OFFICIALLY NAMED

Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck was officially named the city's representative in dealings with federal agencies concerning a federal public works acceleration grant for a community center at Wessen and Walnut.

He merely replaces former city manager Robert A. Stierer on the federal forms.

Cost estimates were accepted for a proposed sanitary sewer in Balboa Place, East Boulevard to De Sota Place.

The total cost was estimated at $5,647.40. The city's share will be $3,664.43 while $1,550.97 will be paid through special assessments. Sewer stubs will cost $432.

Attending last night's meeting, Charles Nasstrom of 502 E. Mansfield announced that the first Civic Improvement Advisory Council (CIAC) meeting of the 1963-64 season will be at city hall, Wednesday night, Oct. 9.

He urged interested parties to contact their commissioner to see about joining the council. Nasstrom and his wife are active CIAC members.

The bride-tunnel across the mouth of Chesapeake Bay will cost $139 million and is scheduled for completion late in 1963.

Storm Rages Over Play Criticizing Pope Pius XII

LONDON (UPI) — "The Representative," a controversial German play criticizing Pope Pius XII's failure to protest Adolf Hitler's persecution of the Jews, opened in London tonight.

The production has brought widespread protest as well as critical acclaim for author Rolf Hochhuth since its premiere last March in Berlin.

Hochhuth accuses the late pontiff of not speaking out in an effort to save the millions of Jews exterminated in Nazi concentration camps.

"Once the individual is no longer to be held responsible for anything, either because he has nothing more to decide about, or because he does not grasp the fact that he has an obligation to decide, once an alibi has been created for guilt, the play is over," Hochhuth says.

DEFENDS POPE

Pope Paul VI, the present pontiff, has led the counterattack on behalf of Pius, who reigned from 1939 until his death in 1958.

Roman Catholic organizations have been vigorous in protest.

Eighteen youths were detained last night in Basel, where 2,000 to 3,000 persons demonstrated at the Swiss premiere of the play.

OTHER PROTESTS

Similar protests have taken place in other European cities.

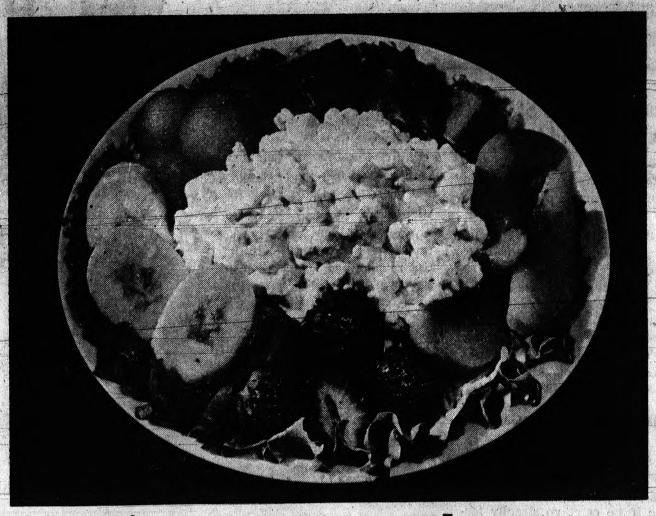

In Jerusalem last night, informed government sources said the Israeli Foreign Ministry has placed strong pressure on Habimah, Israeli's leading theatrical company, to cancel plans to put on the play, because it could hurt relations with the Vatican.

The Royal Shakespeare Company, which is putting on the play here, issued a special supplement to its playbill setting forth the Roman Catholic viewpoint.

Among the contributions is Pope Paul's defense of his late superior. Written while he was still a cardinal, it reached the British Catholic periodical, the Tablet, one hour after his elevation to the papacy.

Volume of trading Oct. 29, 1929 — the day the stock market crashed — totaled 16,410,030 shares in the rush to sell.

CARRY-ALONG CASSEROLE

12 servings — Preheated 350° oven — Buttered baking dish, 3 quart

1 8-ounce package wide noodles
2 tablespoons butter
2 pounds ground beef
2 cups (2 8 oz. cans) tomato sauce
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups small curd cottage cheese
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped green onions
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped ripe olives

Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain. In a skillet melt buttery then brown meat. Drain excess drippings; stir in tomato sauce and flour; simmer 10 minutes. Mix together cottage cheese, sour cream, salt, onion, green pepper and olives. Place half of noodles in baking dish; spread on all the cottage cheese mixture. Top with remaining half of noodles and cover with ground beef mixture. Bake 30 minutes. Let stand about 10 minutes before serving.

Treaty Is First Step Toward World Peace

This treaty isn't perfect.

Somewhere, somehow, someplace the nations of the world must move toward the ending of all war, all mass murder and international hatred. The current level of human ingenuity in perfecting ways to slaughter people by the millions is simply appalling.

SOMETHING must be done.

This treaty has been seized by the great powers of the world as a beginning. Let's accept it on this basis and see if we can't go steadily forward toward greater security, greater understanding and a brotherhood of man that becomes a reality instead of a high sounding phrase.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Senate adopted the document by a fairly substantial vote — 80 to 19. Other lesser powers in the world have embraced the opportunity eagerly. The attention of the entire globe was sharply focused on Washington to see what the top nation proposed to do. Repudiation might have set the peace move back a decade or indefinitely.

We were on the spot.

One of the most significant factors lies in the Russian attitude which has actually been conciliatory. Some of their previous belligerence and lofty disdain has lessened. They seemed more friendly. They accepted this agreement readily and turned to us. Opponents say it's a smoke screen and the Reds are already engaging in double dealings, treachery and secret repudiation. But if you follow this line of reasoning completely, you are closing the door on ultimate peace and security for all mankind.

There must be a start.

This seems like a beginning.

Obviously, it doesn't suit everyone. It doesn't completely suit those that urge its recognition. You can shoot a few holes into almost anything.

To this newspaper, the big point lies in the fact that we are recognizing a movement toward ending wars and wanton killings that can run into the millions in the first move. We agree the Russians should be watched sharply. We agree their past record is one of lies, deceit, double-crossing and infamy. But even scoundrels with records like this must have a chink of decency somewhere in their armor. It's worth a search and a try.

If 3 billion people sank to their knees tonight in earnest and heartfelt prayer for the success of the move, it might count more than all the signatures.

Let's leave no stone unturned.

Cross-Country Relay to Aid Olympic Bid

Back in 490 B. C., Greek General MILTIADES raced the 20 miles from Marathon to Athens to proclaim an upset victory over the Persians—thereby establishing designation for long-distance running.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, the pedal aficionados of the day booted one: no one was on hand to sun-dial the general's solo run.

But come Sept. 27, there will be a clocked, latter-day version of the ancient event. Though vastly different in length and logistics, the flaming spirit will be undimmed.

Starting in Los Angeles, scene of the 1932 Olympics and the last held in the U. S., the 20th century "marathon" was inaugurated by Detroit Mayor JEROME CAVANAGH at a recent meeting of the Olympic Committee. It will cover 2,600 miles, and is timed to cross the Detroit finish line on Oct. 10.

A corps of 200 torch-bearing runners will engage in intermittent running and recuperation in accompanying vehicles across the 11 states.

The first marathon commemorated a victory. It is to be hoped that this one will also—a victory to be won by the awarding to Detroit, in a mid-October meeting, of the 1968 Olympic Games.

Treaty First Step; What Is Second?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The United States, now that the Senate has approved the limited nuclear test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union, is like a man who just made a down payment on a new business although he hasn't figured out what kind.

MARLOW

The treaty is an improvement in the relationship between the two countries and could lead to better things—President Kennedy spoke of it as a first step—but nobody is sure, or could be, what comes next, if anything.

The Soviet Union's Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at the United Nations last week proposed, among other things, another disarmament conference. But disarmament conferences are not new with either side.

★ ★ ★

Since the Russians won't agree to an inspection system to prevent cheating on disarmament, and the United States won't agree to disarmament without inspection, it was no wonder Gromyko's idea caused no gasps.

MOON EXPEDITION

When Kennedy followed Gromyko at the United Nations with the suggestion that the United States and the Soviet Union get together to send a joint expedition to the moon, this wasn't new, either. It explains why the Russians didn't get excited.

It wasn't the first time Kennedy had mentioned it to them.

A White House spokesman said the President had proposed the joint moon trip to Premier Khrushchev at Vienna in 1961. Khrushchev didn't buy it. And, oddly enough, only two months ago Kennedy told a news conference it was impractical.

★ ★ ★

Gromyko, while he was at it, offered another idea which was also not new with the Russians: a nonaggression agreement with NATO allies and the Warsaw Pact allies in Eastern Europe. The West has never grabbed at that one.

PERMANENT LINE

That's no wonder, either.

It could have the effect, if the allies bought it, of allied agreement to the permanent division of Germany and Europe: a line down the middle with East Germany on the Eastern side and West Germany on the Western side.

The wall was built to split West and East Berlin. But it has remained, and probably was so intended, more than just a symbol of a divided city.

Since the allies are unwilling to risk war by tearing the wall down, it is a symbol to their own bafflement in dealing with the Soviets.

There has been talk, also not new, about the two sides agreeing to setting up observation posts in each other's territory to be alert against military buildups or surprise attacks.

This idea alone, if the two sides ever seriously considered it, would probably require almost fantastically dragged out negotiations. Even if they did agree, the final arrangements probably wouldn't mean much.

Something Is Happening To Us!

David Lawrence Says:

U. S. Should Probe Dixie Group

WASHINGTON — At last the eyes of the law are on a trouble-making group in Birmingham which has been playing a mysterious role in Alabama and elsewhere to the consternation of both those citizens who favor and those who oppose integration of the public schools.

LAWRENCE

Just why should an organization call itself a "National States Rights party" and adopt a name that has been used in previous years in the South by persons who had no connection with racial demonstrations?

Just why should such a comparatively new group — composed to no small extent of individuals from outside the state and Canada — issue a monthly newspaper in Birmingham which has been printing scurrilous and baseless attacks on the personal life of President Kennedy and other articles impugning the patriotic motives of prominent persons in the North, with bitter attacks especially on Catholics and Jews?

What has all this to do with "states' rights?"

A federal grand jury has just indicted some of the members of this so-called "states' rights" group — all of them white — for alleged conspiracy to interfere with a court order and some for allegedly obstructing by violence the process of law enforcement in desegregating public schools.

★ ★ ★

Two white boys — arrested and charged with shooting a 13-year-old Negro boy a few hours after a Negro church was bombed on Sept. 15 in Birmingham — had just attended an impassioned rally held by the "states' rights" group.

FOREIGN FUNDS

Where does the money come from to finance such a mischief-making organization? The time would seem to be ripe for the House Committee on Un-American Activities to subpoena records and ascertain whether any foreign funds have been coming to the Birmingham group.

Again and again, in different parts of the world — especially in Latin America — groups that seem to be still espousing the Hitler-Nazi doctrines are found to have close links with Communist agents. What more natural way for the Communists to stir up trouble and friction!

The whole story of how the law-abiding people of Birmingham have been maligned through such incidents as the church bombings and otherwise will sooner or later be revealed.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has not been able under federal law to delve into crimes which are in the category of state offenses and can only come into a case where some specific federal statute is involved, such as transporting dynamite across state lines.

DISCLOSE PERPETRATORS

Before long, it is conceivable that leads turned up by the FBI will disclose the perpetrators of the church bombings. In fact, there are rumors that such a breakthrough is not far distant.

Meanwhile, it is reassuring to note that reason is beginning to be manifested in the racial controversy. President Kennedy has put aside demands for the use of federal troops and has sent an able team of two prominent men to Birmingham to help persuade civic leaders there that they can solve their difficulties locally by conference.

As has been pointed out in these dispatches, the series of contemplated "demonstrations" and "marches" in Southern cities should be halted, as they would not lead to a cooling of passions but rather to an intensification of bitter feelings among whites and Negroes.

Maybe a congressional committee should take a look at the previous background of the personnel and also inquire into the sources of all the financial aid that may have been received by some of the various organizations which seem so anxious to foment trouble inside the United States.

Bob Considine Says:

Tokyo Rebuilding Itself for 1964 Olympic Games

TOKYO — The remorseless approach of the 1964 Olympic Games is hastening the greatest rebuilding program in the history of what is now the world's largest city.

In several respects more work is being done today to lift the face of Tokyo than occurred in the wake of the disastrous 1923 earthquake and the horrendous fire bombings of World War II.

CONSIDINE

We had a talk today with the honorary secretary general of next year's games, Shigeru Yosano, a former track and field star who was Japanese ambassador to Spain and still holds ambassadorial rank.

He gave us a new comprehension of the enormous costs the Japanese people are bearing to play hosts to 7,500 athletes and officials due to swarm into this already almost hopelessly overcrowded city of 10 million.

Directly or indirectly the super simon pure Olympics, where even the hint of five yen being paid to an athlete would bring down the thunder and lightning wrath of Olympic committee poobahs, will cost Japan two billion dollars.

The present Tokyo stadium is superb, as are the many other ventures being readied for the games.

GIANT TASK

Frank Conniff and I flew over the sites in a helicopter the other day and could grasp from the air the enormousness of the operation. Taking everything into account the preparation for the Tokyo Olympics must be classed as one of the most colossal engineering tasks in generations.

The 90-odd nations which will send their athletes to Tokyo next year will find a fitting stage for the performance, and good housing in the Washington Heights area, which American officers and their dependents are now vacating for quarters near Fuchu Air Force Base.

The thousand newsmen and cameramen who will cover the games will enjoy good communication lines and the services of an extraordinary IBM—tele-processing—system which will keep accurate score on 4,000 events in 20 different sports.

Told by the new Tokyo Hilton that it was all sold out for the events of October 1964, I applied for a room at the Sheraton Tokyo.

All sold out too, the man said. It has not been built yet.

'Skin Doesn't Alter Fact — We're All Human Beings'

Wanton people bombed a Christian house of worship and snuffed out the innocent lives of four small children whom God elected to create with dark skin. We are not sure that when God created man that he was white. What, has the Negro done to deserve this lot? Remember, he was brought in chains and in slavery.

★ ★ ★

The Constitution made all persons born in this country, citizens, regardless of color. When will all such persons be granted first-class citizenship? The Negro regiment of World War II consisted of citizens and American soldiers. Their blood flowed into the Mediterranean from the beaches and mixed with the blood of the white Americans.

★ ★ ★

Are not Negroes, Chinese, Indians and Japanese human beings? No person who attends any church can defend the mistreatment of the American Negro and not be a hypocrite in the eyes of his Creator. America can no longer tolerate a second-class type of citizenship.

★ ★ ★

It is also the time for bigots to move out and let human dignity return to the country. "Do unto others as you would have that they would do unto you." I do not note any parenthesis which says, "Only if you are white."

'Poor Service at Huron Street Post Office'

I tried to mail a registered letter at the Huron Street post office. When I arrived there was only one lady as a customer. The man who took care of that position was sitting at his desk writing. Finally the lady went to another desk to be informed that what she wanted could only be handled by the one man. Finally, the employe took care of her business. In the meantime a police officer walked in and he and the employe took up a conversation and I had to wait through the whole thing.

★ ★ ★

My three children had gotten so restless I left. I took my letter to the Keego Harbor post office. I was greeted with a smile and was in and out in a couple of minutes. The atmosphere there was a vast improvement.

'Must Retain Influence Over Free China'

One hundred and fifty years ago, Napoleon Bonaparte said: "Let China sleep. When she awakes, the world will be sorry." One hundred years later, Lenin said: "The road to Paris lies through Peking."

★ ★ ★

These are some of the reasons which illustrate the absolute necessity for the free world to retain influence over the destiny of China. They dramatize why the United States should promote the survival of the government of free China under Chiang Kai-shek, now located on the island of Formosa.

★ ★ ★

The rise of the Red Chinese was aided by the United States through an incredible combination of blind rejection of reality and actual subversion. Our China policy just after World War II weakened the free Chinese and strengthened the Red Chinese until a Communist victory was inevitable. Out of the wreckage of our postwar China policy, only Formosa and the free government of Chiang Kai-shek were saved.

Major Tragedy

The Holland Evening Sentinel

Recently we wrote of the mountain of unsolicited "junk" mail and referred to it as a minor vexation. But when the contents of such material is lewd and lascivious and addressed to the younger members of the household from mailing lists procured by conscienceless purveyors of smut, then a minor vexation becomes a major tragedy.

★ ★ ★

There is no need to point out "the high cost of low reading." J. Edgar Hoover has shown the connection between sex crimes and the distribution of pornographic material. According to the testimony of Charles H. Keating before a House Post Office subcommittee, more than $2 billion annually is realized by the sale of pornographic literature, photos and movies in the U. S. Mr. Keating is a Cincinnati attorney, chief counsel of the national organization Citizens for Decent Literature.

★ ★ ★

The Post Office Department is engaged in a campaign to keep obscene material from the mails. It has been aided by a Supreme Court decision which holds the test of obscenity to be "whether to the average person, applying contemporary community standards, the dominant theme of the material taken as a whole appeals to the prurient interest."

★ ★ ★

We know that smut peddlers are no respecters of persons or places. Any such material arriving at your home should be promptly reported to the local postmaster, including the envelope in which it came. Cooperation is needed in stamping out this menace.

Worry About Us

The Indianapolis Star

Shed no tears for Nikita Khrushchev.

News reports from the Communist camp indicate that the Reds are in the business of shredding themselves for the benefit of their enemies. This is a delightful prospect. One of the oldest bits of advice in human nature is the classic "Let's you and him fight."

★ ★ ★

Reportedly, the Russians are ready to rip the Chinese limb from limb because the Chinese are meaner than the Russians when it comes to communism. For the moment, assume the best—or worse—that could happen. Suppose there is an active, open war between the Red Chinese and the Red Russians for control of the Communist Party. There has to be a winner, sooner or later. Either winner will be a dedicated Communist, with his belief case-hardened in the fire of a holy war. This sort of contest would merely provide an answer to the question of whether it is better to bury the West through peaceful co-existence, or through military conquest.

There is no prospect that any other result could come of an out-right conflict between the world's two largest Red nations.

There is no cause for relaxing in any way in our relations with the Communists, whether they call Moscow or Peking headquarters. Indeed, this is a time when even greater wariness is in order.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev has proved by his rise through the murderous maze of Stalin's regime that he can take care of himself. The United States of America, and its allies, would do well to look to their own well-being without hoping that somehow the Reds will destroy themselves.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment

A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with the Erickson representative—saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method.

Erickson HAIR and SCALP CONSULTANTS

World's Largest Home Treatment System

Will Be in Pontiac, Waldron Hotel, 36 E. Pike

FE 5-6168

Tomorrow, Thursday, September 26 Only

The Erickson Hair and Scalp Consultants' District Director, Mr. R. W. Loveday, will be at the Waldron Hotel between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Erickson Method is known all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Erickson representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Erickson organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a prorated basis.

If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp, take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Thousands have reported satisfaction from the Erickson Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway, it costs you nothing to come in and learn how thousands have been helped by the years of Erickson experience, plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Waldron Hotel in Pontiac on Thursday, September 26 only, between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for Mr. Loveday. He will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

The majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss is a condition called "male pattern baldness" and no treatment, including the Erickson Method, is of any value.

Tax Cut Hitch Logical

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — There's more method than madness in the Republican strategy to tie a reduced spending string to the $11-billion tax-cut bill which comes up for House action this week. Lawmakers have seen presidential "economy" promises go awry before.

Thirty-three years ago, President Roosevelt captured the White House on a platform pledge to reduce government expenditures. Long before the outbreak of World War II, however, FDR had set a new record for presidential spending.

Shortly before candidate Kennedy's election in 1960, he said on Sept. 14: "I see no magic to tax dollars that are sent to Washington and then returned. I abhor the waste and incompetence of large scale federal bureaucracies."

NEW EMPLOYES

At the time he spoke, the federal payroll boasted 2,352,242 civilians. During the first two years of the Kennedy administration, the payroll increased by 60,000 employes, and in 1963 new employes are reportedly being added at the rate of approximately 2,500 a week.

Inasmuch as 1964 is an election year, it's highly unlikely that Democrats will reduce the number of federal job holders, unless forced to do so by congressional action.

Federal employes are, of course, only a part of the ever-burgeoning cost of big government. In the three years since 1959, federal taxes collected from the American people rose $20 billion, to $100 billion in 1962.

* * *

During that same fiscal year, federal grants-in-aid to states and localities went up 6 per cent over the preceding year, to a new high of over $10 billion.

ITEMS COVERED

Those federal grants-in-aid, which have increased over 250 per cent since 1952, cover such items as welfare, public health programs, conservation, education and highways.

The two states whose residents pay the most in federal taxes are New York and California. Those residents should indeed echo President Kennedy's campaign platitude that there's "no magic to tax dollars that are sent to Washington and then returned."

After all, New Yorkers paid 13.54 per cent of the federal tax load last year, while recovering only 7.10 per cent of the national share from grants-in-aid.

* * *

Californians paid 11.16 per cent of the national kitty, while receiving 8.01 per cent of the grants, and citizens of Connecticut, New Jersey and Delaware received an even lower proportionate return on their federal tax dollars.

MOST MONEY

By contrast, Alaska, South and North Dakota residents received the most grants in proportion to their taxes. In fact, each resident of Alaska received nearly seven times as much, percentage-wise, of the U.S. tax dollar as a resident of New Jersey.

The Republican strategy is to force economy on the administration by stipulating that no part of the tax cut shall take effect unless President Kennedy states to Congress in January that he plans to hold spending to $97 billion during the fiscal year ending next June 30, and $98 billion the following year.

Current spending estimates are $98 billion this year and up to $102 billion next year.

* * *

Although President Kennedy sent a four-line letter to House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills endorsing Mills' statement that "every effort" must be made to hold down government spending, Republicans say vague statements of intent are insufficient.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, senior Republican on the Ways and Means committee declared: "Such assurances are not enough, in view of the administration's request for a tax cut and a record-high deficit budget at the same time."

* * *

The two-day debate opening today should provide some interesting fireworks for packed galleries. May the best plan win!

2 Area Doctors Cited for Work

Surgeon, Pediatrician Honored by State Unit

Two Oakland County physicians are among those singled out for special awards during the annual session of the Michigan State Medical Society, being held this week at Grand Rapids.

Dr. Forest D. Dodrill, 225 Woodberry, Bloomfield Hills, yesterday was cited for outstanding contributions to medicine.

A noted chest and throat surgeon, Dr. Dodrill was awarded a certificate of commendation, one of four presented this year. A member of the Wayne County Medical Society, his offices are in Detroit.

Pontiac pediatrician Dr. Frank B. Gerls, 4425 Motorway, is slated to receive the society's 50-year award for his half-century of medical practice.

* * *

Dr. Gerls, who has practiced in Pontiac since 1913, and presently maintains offices in Pontiac State Bank Building, was voted a life member of the Oakland County Medical Society in 1959.

He served as president of the county group in 1924, holding several other offices prior to that.

Bids Due on Highway Widening

Widening of M59 from Elizabeth Lake Road to Airport Road at an estimated $1.3-million will be one of 24 highway construction projects for which the State Highway Department will open bids Oct. 9.

Also in the list of projects estimated to cost a total of some $19.5 milion are pavement repairs on Rochester Road (M150) and grading and culverts for a reservoir in Southfield.

The M59 work will expand the road's present two lanes to five lanes, with the center lane for left turns only, for 3.3 miles. The bridge carrying the road over the Clinton River also will be widened to five lanes.

* * *

Completion date for the project is June 30, 1965.

The Rochester Road project, estimated to cost $30,000, will involve 3.9 miles of the roadway in Troy, Madison Heights and Royal Oak. It's aimed for completion by July 30 of next year.

The Southfield reservoir is being built to store water during flash floods and heavy rainfalls in the McKinley drain area near Evergreen Road, Northwestern Highway and 10 Mile Road.

Expected to cost some $20,000, the highway department's grading and culvert work is slated for completion by June 30, 1964.

MARY LEE DAVIS

Runaway Found in Iowa City

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Mary Lee Davis, 15-year-old niece of Princess Grace of Monaco, and a youth with whom she had eloped from Philadelphia four weeks ago, were found here Tuesday night.

Miss Davis, daughter of wealthy parents, had been working as a waitress in a hotel coffee shop, and the youth she intended to marry, John Paul Jones Jr., 20, had been selling encyclopedias.

Mary Lee said they were not yet married but were in love.

Acting on a tip from the boy's employer, who had seen Mary Lee's picture in the Des Moines Tribune, officers took the young couple to the police station for questioning. They were not held.

Mary Lee, who at the age of 7 was a flower girl at the wedding of Princess Grace to Prince Rainier of Monaco looks much like her famous aunt, the former Grace Kelly. She is the daughter of George L. Davis Jr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Conlan.

She was a student in the exclusive Academy of Assumption in Philadelphia. Authorities there said Jones was graduated from Chestnut Hill Academy, a college preparatory school. Mary Lee said they had known each other about a year.

A newsman asked Mary Lee if she would return to Philadelphia to stay and she said, "That depends on what happens."

Jones refused to talk to reporters except to say, "We are in good hands."

President's Mother to Sub for 1st Lady

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Rose Kennedy, the President's mother, will fill in for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy as official hostess at a state dinner Oct. 1 honoring Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

The First Lady will leave for Greece Oct. 2 for a vacation. This will be the second time the President's mother has served as official hostess.

She substituted for her daughter-in-law in July 1962 when the former president of Ecuador, Carlos Julio Arosemena, and his wife, were state visitors.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Effort Syndrome?---Or Just Cold Feet!

Q—My doctor says I have poor circulation. What do you recommend for this?

A—Since there are several forms of poor circulation, this is a rather vague term.

I would assume, to begin with, that you do not have the extreme form which your doctor would have called heart failure, but rather that your hands and feet are cold at times when other people's are warm. BRANDSTADT

This could be due to neurocirculatory asthenia, a very common ailment that goes under other names such as "effort syndrome" and "chronic vasomotor instability."

This condition is often due to unwarranted worry about the heart.

Another cause of poor circulation could be one of the so-called vascular diseases of the extremities. These include localized hardening of the arteries, and Raynaud's disease and Buerger's disease, in which both the arteries and the veins become obstructed.

Because causes are widely varied, the proper treatment of one cause would not benefit the others. When your doctor has determined the type of poor circulation, he will be able to recommend appropriate treatment, but very often these conditions are hard to cure.

Q—I have rheumatoid arthritis for which I take Plaquenil, Dexamyl, and asprin daily. If I became pregnant, would these affect the unborn child?

A—Since the discovery that thalidomide taken in the first three months of pregnancy can cause tragic malformations in the fetus, the whole subject of drugs and pregnancy has come under close scrutiny by the medical profession, the drug manufacturers, and the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

There is at present no evidence that hydroxchloroquine (Plaquenil), dextroamphetamine with amobarbital (Dexamyl), or asprin in the amounts usually prescribed would be harmful to the developing embryo, but it is a good rule to cut the use of all drugs to an irreducible minimum in the early months of pregnancy.

Your doctor should supervise your prenatal care and help you to regulate the amount of these drugs that you should take.

Q—Can a person take too much rutin? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Rutin is a form of vitamin P. No deficiency of this vitamin in human beings has ever been reported. This makes me wonder why you are taking it.

Vitamin P has the same effect as the vitamin C found so abundantly in tomatoes and citrus fruits. A person can get too much of any good thing, so my advice is: Get your vitamins at the grocery store and not at the drug store.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Pontiac Press. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Businessman-Politician Meets Death in Canada

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP)—Sen. Clarence V. Emerson, 62, a member of the Progressive Conservative party since 1957, died Tuesday. Emerson was a prominent businessman and held offices and directorships in a number of companies.

The first coast-to-coast paved road in this country was the Lincoln Highway, opened in 1913. The 3,300-mile highway crossed 13 states from New York City to San Francisco.

WHEELS FOR '64 — A 100 bus order has been placed with GMC Truck & Coach Division by Greyhound Corp. The bus firm, which is official transporter for the 1964-65 New York World's Fair, says the vehicles will be put into service for sightseeing and general passenger service at the fairgrounds.

World Event in New York

GM Buses Will Mobilize Fair

GMC Truck & Coach Division will literally put the New York World's Fair on wheels. The division is supplying 100 new buses for Greyhound Corp., official transporter for the fair.

The special-order coaches will be put into sightseeing service and bring visitors to the fairgrounds.

Sixty of the vehicles will be the Rapid Transit Bus model, a 40-foot long, air-conditioned coach.

Greyhound says the buses will operate between the fairground gates around a perimeter road, and to the transportation, lake and amusement areas at the fair.

Forty scenicruiser models, a 38-passenger bus with glass top and air conditioning, will be used for lecture-sightseeing tours of the entire fairgrounds.

Tonnage Stays High on Seaway, Canal

OTTAWA (AP)—Heavy increases in tonnage on the St. Lawrence Seaway and Welland Canal continue to mark the 1963 shipping season.

★ ★ ★

However, the St. Lawrence Seaway authority reported yesterday that at the same time fewer vessels were in transit through the seaway with a slight increase in the number of ships in transit through the Welland Canal.

Preliminary figures released showed that tonnage on the seaway's Montreal — Lake Ontario section increased 18.3 per cent from the opening of the navigation season in April to the end of August to 17,541,937 from 14,830,042 tons a year ago. Vessel transit dropped to 3,724 from 3,735.

The oldest public library on the Dalmatian coast is on Murter island, Yugoslavia. It was founded in 1866 and, at first, peasants who rented books paid a fee in olives instead of money.

Coed Defies Police to Greet President

ASHLAND, Wis (AP) — A persistent college girl vaulted onto a wooden platform, then wrestled with state police and Secret Service agents to get a handshake from President Kennedy yesterday.

Christine Petersen, a 20-year-old student at Superior State College, broke from the crowd that greeted Kennedy here, jumped onto the speakers' platform and twice broke away from a state policeman who tried to hold her by the ankle.

Two Secret Service agents presented a further hurdle as they collaborated in an effort to block Miss Petersen's headlong dash toward the President.

Kennedy, turning toward the commotion, saw the young lady and looked concerned about her plight. After telling the two bodyguards to unhand her, the President stepped forward to offer a smiling handshake.

Space Pack Launched by U.S., Japan

WALLOPS ILAND, Va. (AP)—An Aerobee rocket carrying an 185-pound instrument package of United States - Japanese experiments was fired 139 miles into the ionosphere today.

★ ★ ★

The eight-minute flight was "considered good," said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman.

The payload splashed down in the Atlantic 80 miles from NASA's launching station here and the spokesman said "a preliminary look at telemetry from the flight indicates all experiments functioned."

The rocket was launched at 3:09 a.m. NASA said the second flight in the series is scheduled for Thursday and will be a daytime launching.

SPACE MEASUREMENTS

Today's shoot was designed to measure electron density and temperature simultaneously by different methods.

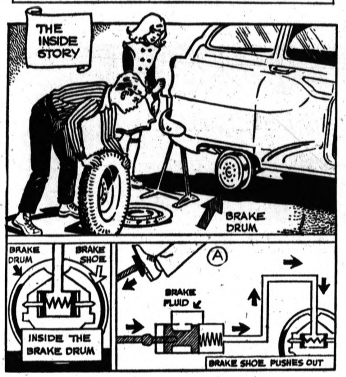

Measurements made by a Langmuir probe, supplied by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md., were to be compared with measurements made with a radio frequency resonance probe developed by the Radio Research Laboratory in Tokyo, Japan.

The Aerobee payload also carried equipment for two secondary NASA experiments. One was a narrowband receiver for a study of radio wave propagation at very low frequency (vlf) and the other was a small sodium lamp to measure the sodium gas content in the lower ionosphere.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUTOMOBILES

QUESTION: How do automobile brakes work?

ANSWER: If you ever watch while a wheel on the family car is being changed, you will notice the metal disc from which the wheel was taken. It is called the brake drum and its position is shown in our picture.

On the inside of this drum is the brake shoe which can be either free from the revolving brake drum with its wheel, or pushed against the whirling brake drum causing it to slow down and the car to stop.

When the driver's foot presses down on his foot brake pedal, it starts fluid flowing from the master cylinder to pistons in the wheel cylinders. These press the brake shoes against the brake drums.

Large trucks and buses use air instead of fluid for pressure. With power brakes, the fluid or air is forced to the brakes by means of a vacuum made by the engine.

A car also has an "emergency brake," somewhat similar to the foot brake, which generally operates against the rear wheels. To prevent friction from causing great heat when the metal parts rub together, brakes are covered with asbestos or some other kind of heavy fabric.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time a tire is changed on your car, take a good look at the brake drum and see if you can find the piston cylinder behind it.

Reds Fail to Block Formosa at Parley

ROME (AP) — Screaming Red Chinese delegates tried in vain Tuesday to block the admission of Nationalist China to the 17th International Medical Conference on the fight against tuberculosis.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Pontiac Press Photo

Anyone registering for a course at the Village Woman's Club this fall will find a newly opened education building for classes. Mrs. M. M. Burgess, Bloomfield Hills (left), was in charge of remodeling of the old garage. Mrs. John Lifsey (center), and Mrs. Karlton W. Pierce, both of Birmingham, work on registrations. Mrs. Pierce is program chairman.

Fall Plans Completed for Benefit

The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac completed details for the Oct. 5 fall benefit sale in Four Towns Methodist Church, at Monday's dinner meeting in the Waldron Hotel.

Taking the group on an armchair tour of Russia, Mrs. Ira J. Davis Jr. narrated films of her participation in a 10-week summer Slavic Language Institute at Indiana University and in Russia.

★ ★ ★

Bridge Club Starts Second Lesson Series

The Pontiac Motor Bridge Club has begun its second series of contract bridge lessons for beginners and new players. The lessons are being made available to Pontiac Motor employes and retirees and their spouses every Tuesday evening for the next four months.

★ ★ ★

All important phases of contract bridge will be covered, including bidding, playing the hand, defense, developing extra tricks and winning plays used by championship players.

Instructor is Mary Malchie of Detroit, a ranking Life Master in the American Contract Bridge League. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Pontiac Motor Division personnel division.

Women's Club Prepares Fall Calendar of Events

Coming events were discussed at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital at the home of Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William Fox and Mrs. Eugene Carey, cochairmen of the Follies, outlined plans for "Showtime '63" to be held at Pontiac Northern High School October 18 and 19.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Mary Guthrie announced a total of 25,721 hours worked by volunteers at Pontiac General Hospital in the last 10 months.

The 15th annual Tri-State Workshop sponsored by the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries at Boyne Mountain Lodge, October 23 and 24 will be attended by auxiliary members who will participate in the "Idearama" presentation.

The third annual award luncheon will be held October 29 at the Elks Temple.

Announcement was made that the auxiliary will again sponsor a booth at the Bloomfield-Miracle Mile fair October 11 and 12.

Mrs. LaVon Ryden, accompanied by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, presented a musical program at the meeting.

On the hospitality arrangements for the day were Mrs. Horace C. Hall and Mrs. J. C. Walker with Mrs. F. R. Wood and Mrs. Arnold Hillerman puring during the coffee hour.

The social committee, headed by cochairmen Mrs. Cecil McCallum and Mrs. James Clarkson, included Mrs. William R. McClure, Mrs. Harold A. Cousens and Mrs. Philip E. Rowston.

Baths Featured in Threesomes

Far from being a mere sales gimmick, the three-bathroom house makes real sense in view of the nation's rapidly expanding family growth and the generally rising standards of living.

Also noted is a trend-within-a-trend: the builders are often extending the colorful ceramic tiled surfaces all the way to the ceiling. Why cut off beauty and waterproof practicality at wainscot height?

New Teacher at Will-O-Way

A former Pontiac resident has joined two others as teachers at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre.

Mrs. A. Roger Welton, recruitment chairman for the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, will train organists and pianists as accompanists. Her husband is flutist with the orchestra and teaches at Madison Junior High.

Mrs. Welton holds a master's degree from Indiana University School of Music and studied piano with Dr. Bela Boszornenyi-Nagy.

Mrs. Clark E. Pardee Jr. and Evelyn Falatine are the other newcomers. Mrs. Pardee will coach actors on singing style and Miss Falatine will teach musical theatre choreography.

Other Attendants

Other attendants in the Gratopp - McDonald wedding last Saturday were Kathryn Grant, flower girl, Glen Nelson Jr., ring bearer; and Albert McDonald, brother of the groom, usher.

Music Guild Has Delegate to Convention

★ ★ ★

The convention will be held Oct. 13-15 in Battle Creek. The guild meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Carl Clifford on North Telegraph Road with Mrs. Claud Kimler and Mrs. James Morris as cohostesses.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Also serving this year are Elda Sutter, Mrs. Walter Schmitz, Mrs. Clifford and Mrs. Kimler. Completing the list are Mrs. Morris and Amy Hogle.

Folders Tell of 'Y' Fall Term

Some 4,000 folders announcing the YWCA fall term of classes, interest groups and clubs will go into the mail early next week.

The Pontiac State Hospital "Y" Group will meet at 7:30 this evening in the "Y" Building, Franklin Boulevard.

A meeting of the board of directors at 8 p.m. Thursday will follow the serving of dessert at 7:30 p.m.

Among two new coed clubs which will meet on alternate Friday evenings this year will be an International Club for persons of foreign birth who are temporary or permanent area residents. Many are students or professional hospital personnel.

The other club called the "Post Twenties" is for 'older young people'. Both groups will plan their own programs, according to Mrs. John Streit, young adult chairman.

HAIR STYLING

James LaVergne will instruct new classes in do-it-yourself hair-styling, and Mrs. Bertha Boehmer will teach flower arrangement technique.

Classes in ballroom dancing will be taught by Mrs. Streit.

Other instructors this term include Mrs. Thomas Hollis, bridge; Mrs. C. D. Agnew, sewing; Mrs. Robert Hines, cake decorating; Mrs. Everett Warner, china-painting; Mrs. Hector Buene, Spanish; Amy Krueger, silversmithing; Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff, furniture refinishing.

The nursery, open five hours a day four days each week, will again be supervised by Mrs. Hazel Beutler, assisted by Mrs. Leslie Pickup, Mrs. Harold Wagg, Mrs. Choren Manukian and Mrs. Cecil Shelton. Mrs. Bruce Hubbard is nursery chairman.

Cosupervisors of the swimming staff are Mrs. Streit, who has taught since the program's inception, and Mrs. Leonard Buzz. Mrs. George Beauchamp and Mrs. Bernard Stickney are instructors. Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Robert Watson are lifeguards.

Still to be announced are instructors in children's art and evening sewing classes.

The 10-week term of classes begins the week of Oct. 7. Folders and information are available at the "Y" Building.

If Not Sure, Ask Person Who Knows

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: One of the young women in my office is going to be married soon and the whole office was invited to the wedding and reception.

We did not receive individual invitations, but a general invitation was posted in the office.

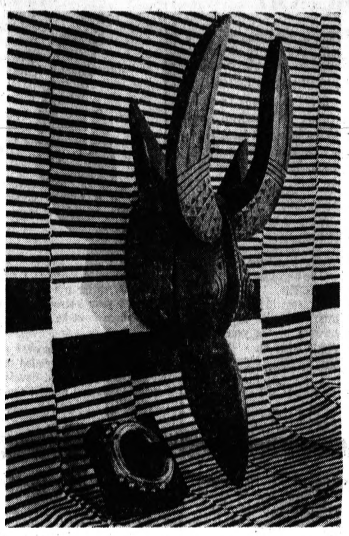

I am married and would like to know if it would be proper to have my wife come along with me, or is this intended just for the employes?

A: As no mention was made of husbands and wives in the general invitation, it would seem that they are not expected.

I would suggest that you ask one of the girls in the office who knows the bride-to-be well whether or not the invitation includes husbands and wives.

Q: Is it ever permissible to leave the dance floor in the middle of a dance? I mean, if a man finds himself with a partner who is an impossible dancer could he suggest that they sit out the remainder of the dance, or must he struggle through to the end?

A: There is no reason why he has to struggle with an impossible dancer, and he may suggest that they leave the floor on the pretext that the music is too fast, or the floor too crowded or perhaps suggest that they stop and have a cold drink.

Cotton cloth, a wooden mask and a cast brass anklet are among the African art objects to be exhibited at Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries Oct. 4-24.

Slides of Trip Viewed

Colored slides were shown at the Monday meeting of Beta Chi chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, at the Shawnee Lane home of Mrs. Lacey Schiefler.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Schiefler, Mrs. Jack Andress, Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Harry Jones also will be directing activities. Completing the list of chairmen are: Mrs. William Jacobsen, Mrs. Joseph Ray and Mrs. James Stone.

The Bridal Path She Rides Must Be Wearing Out a Bit

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and am married for the sixth time.

I know that makes me sound like a terrible person, but I'm really not. (I married my third husband twice.)

ABBY

My problem is I am still in love with my fifth husband. I lived with him longer than with any of the others (four years) and I loved him with all my heart.

He kept accusing me of still being in love with my ex-husbands, first one and then another. I couldn't take it any longer, so I divorced him.

The day my divorce became final I married the lawyer who got me my divorce. I don't love him, Abby. I only married him because I am afraid to stay alone at night.

How can I get my fifth husband back? He is now going with my younger sister. I know it is only because she reminds him of me.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: After six trips to the altar and five to the divorce court, you are not likely to take my advice — which I am reluctant to give.

Forget your numbers game and make No. 6 your No. 1 for life.

DEAR ABBY: We have a nice-looking 16-year-old daughter who has never given us any trouble. She helps her mother and has always brought home good report cards.

She has a boy friend who is 18. They have gone together for almost a year. He is a good kid, quiet like our daughter.

Lately he has been bringing his laundry here (underwear, shirts and socks) for my daughter to wash and iron. I told my Mrs. this was all wrong.

A SAD DAD

★ ★ ★

DEAR DAD: You're not! Your daughter is generous to a fault, and her mother isn't helping matters much.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Just a few lines to let you know what you did for us. I saw your column on donating your eyes to the blind.

My husband said for years he wanted to do it, so I called the Lions Club in Marysville, and my husband, myself and our five children, ages from 4 to 21 are now going to donate our eyes after death.

I want to thank you, Abby. I know this is what God would want us to do. Forever grateful.

DONNA MARTIN, HARRISBURG, PENNA.

City Guild to Hold Tea

The Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Guild will sponsor a membership tea at the Bloomcrest Drive home of Mrs. P. W. Trimmer Oct. 4 at 1:30 p.m.

Cranbrook to Display Africa Art

African handicrafts and fabrics will be featured when two new exhibitions open Oct. 4 in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

★ ★ ★

Handicrafts, including 112 handcrafted items in wood, ivory and other materials will be featured in "Arts of Africa" circulated by the American Federation of Arts.

★ ★ ★

Fabrics will be displayed by Jack Lenor Larsen in what he calls the "African Collection."

The exhibits will remain through Oct. 24 and will be open daily except Mondays from 2 to 5 p.m.

Backsplash for Clean Kitchen

Greasiest spot in the house? Behind the kitchen range. Recommended is a backsplash of an easy-to-clean material (must be fireproof, too) that can be cleaned immediately with just a damp cloth.

★ ★ ★

Choirs Plan Concert

The combined choirs of the Trinity Methodist Church will sponsor a concert by the A. C. Spark Plug choral group Sunday at 4 p.m. The concert is open to the public.

2nd Writers' Parley Slated at OU

Former Detroiter Anna Mary Wells will be luncheon speaker at the second Writers' Conference Oct. 5 at Oakland University. Her title will be "Travels with a Notebook: Researching."

★ ★ ★

Her well-researched biography of Thomas Wentworth Higginson, the man who recognized the talent of Emily Dickinson, was published by Houghton Mifflin Co. last June.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wells describes herself as perhaps the only living author who is a member of both the Mystery Writers of America and the American Association of University Professors.

★ ★ ★

Now a professor of English at Douglass College, the women's college of Rutgers University, Mrs. Wells for many years has maintained membership in the Detroit Women Writers' Club.

This group and the Oakland University of Continuing Education are cosponsors of the Writers' Conference themed to "Craftsmanship of Creative Writing."

Beginning and practicing writers will each have a choice of three round tables out of a selection of five on poetry; six on books; seven on magazine pieces; three on humor; one on drama and several on manuscript marketing.

★ ★ ★

Participating authors include syndicated light verse columnist Elinor K. Rose and Sheila Pritchard, who has had four tapes of her poetry recorded by the Library of Congress.

★ ★ ★

Dan Marlowe's eight mystery novels published in five languages qualify him to lead the discussion of "Particular Problems of the Suspense Novelist."

Josephine Wunsch will cover "Writing for Teens," while Margaret Hillert and Margaret Williamson will talk about poetry and science books for children.

★ ★ ★

Reservations for the 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. conference may be made through the Division of Continuing Education at the University.

Gay Umbrellas Call for Soap

Plastic-covered umbrellas eventually become spotty. Fabric ones, whether nylon, treated rayon, or some other material, become dirty, too. It is particularly easy for pastel umbrellas to lose their gay good looks, but it is equally easy to give them just the sort of cleanup necessary.

Open your umbrella and use a cellulose sponge which has been dipped in sudsy water to wash it. Rinse it any way you choose — with another sponge dipped in clear water or under the bathtub faucet or shower spray.

Let it dry, opened, and it will be ready for stylish service through many more showers.

Tattooed Men Miss Mark in Marriage

A study by University of Southern California scientists found that tattooed men showed a higher rate of divorces plus a greater number of courts martial then did non-tattooed men.

Play Guild Picks Cast for Comedy

The cast has been selected for the St. Dunstan's Guild performances of the comedy hit "The Critic's Choice" by Ira Levin.

★ ★ ★

Taking the leading roles will be Jerry McMechan, Mrs. Eugene Moore, and Larry Finn. Others in the play include Bud Scribner, Mrs. Robert Frick, Mrs. Donald Hutton and Mrs. George Ryder.

★ ★ ★

Working on sets, properties and costumes are James Kickler, Mrs. Martin Strandbergh and Mrs. Frederick Pahr, respectively.

The first performance will be Oct. 18 at the Cranbrook Pavilion, with additional performances Oct. 19, 25 and 26.

Patch Board Cover

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: Just exactly what is meant by 'half-size patterns?' They sound dull and matronly, yet I strongly suspect I should be using them. Mrs. J. D.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. J. D.: This is a question that had many women confused, the answer has been supplied by one of the largest pattern companies. A "half-size" is a figure type, not an AGE. It is generally an adult type, with a short, compact figure, with slightly different body measurements than the average.

Shoulders are slightly narrower, bust, waist and hips, slightly larger. The bodice is short waisted. This type of figure is shorter, sturdy-looking and rather stocky.

This special type pattern is a real boon for the woman whose proportions fit in the above category because you can save endless time in pattern alterations. These patterns have the same good style and will look the same as other patterns, the changes are simply in the fit.

Dear Eunice: I have just begun sewing and my buttonholes are frayed when I cut them. Please help me, as this ruins the garment's appearance!" Miss V. A. M.

Dear Miss V. A. M.: I imagine you are referring to machine made buttonholes. The problem could be one of two things. First, perhaps there is not quite enough space between the two rows of stitching (all attachments have a way of regulating this), and the reason for this could be that you didn't go over the buttonhole TWICE. This second stitching will give a stronger edge that should prevent pulling and ripping.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER:

Mrs. L. P. Faddis, Des. Moines, Iowa, wins a tailor Trix pressing board for this idea.

When making a garment with a flared or gored skirt, here's a way to eliminate some of the excess fabric in the hem! Stitch your seams on the regular ⅝ inch seamline until you come to the point where the hem will be turned up. At this point, taper the seamline in toward the skirt, making this seam wider at the lower edge.

(This is an excellent solution to a rather common problem, let's have more of these good ideas from you readers!)

Dear Eunice Farmer: I am up to my ears in alterations, trying to shorten the trousers for my three boys in time for school. I misplaced your instructions and am hoping you will put them in again. There must be many other mothers who could use this information. Mrs. J. B.

Dear Mrs. J. B.: Because of space, I cannot repeat this answer again, however if you failed to save the answer, you may send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press and request the FREE copy of the leaflet "Cuffing Trousers."

HELPFUL HINTS

"You have compartments for scissors, thread, all sewing notions, etc."

Please send your questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of this paper. Perhaps you can win a Tailor Trix pressing board in time for your fall sewing.

Art Classes for Students Set at Center

The students are to assemble for instruction in YPAC Gallery below the library where they will be divided into age groups.

The fall session runs for 10 weeks. Classes meet for 90 minutes after school on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. There are three 90-minute classes on Saturdays.

Rusk, West Allies to Seek Further Accord With Russia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk intends to review possibilities for further East - West agreements with two major Western allies before seeing Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on Saturday.

Rusk will meet with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home Thursday morning and with Home and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder on Friday.

Rusk and Home will sit down with Gromyko Saturday at a "working luncheon" in Rusk's hotel suite. It will be the first major East - West political parley since the signing of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty Aug. 5.

U. S. sources said that while Rusk, Home and Schroeder may touch on such matters as the proposed multi-nation nuclear force. The main attention will be devoted to issues coming up with Gromyko.

DON'T EXPECT IT

Rusk was reported to have told Dahomey Foreign Minister Emile D. Zinsou Tuesday not to expect wide East-West agreement during the current session of the U.N. General Assembly.

★ ★ ★

American authorities see the possibility of smaller accords, such as agreements on a New York - Moscow commercial air route and building new embassies in Moscow and Washington. They believe a lot more spadework will be needed on broader issues even with the more genial climate prevailing since the signing of the test-ban treaty.

Schroeder's views are important

Meet on Berlin Issues

WASHINGTON (UPI) — West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder met with President Kennedy for an hour yesterday. He later called for a "permanent readiness" to deal with the issues of Berlin and a divided Germany.

Scientists have found that common materials break down and undergo chemical changes under pressures of 60,000 to 100,000 atmospheres. Foods such as eggs and meat have been cooked without heat in giant hydraulic presses.

American authorities see the possibility of smaller accords, such as agreements on a New York - Moscow commercial air route and building new embassies in Moscow and Washington. They believe a lot more spadework will be needed on broader issues even with the more genial climate prevailing since the signing of the test-ban treaty.

Schroeder's views are important on the larger issues because they tend to involve Germany—for instance the proposals to exchange observers to guard against surprise attack and to conclude a nonaggression pact between the rival NATO and Warsaw military blocs.

The West German foreign minister was said to be agreeable to exploring such questions with Gromyko provided the Bonn government continues to be consulted and nothing is done to jeopardize reunification of Germany.

The row over Malaysia was Rusk's principle concern Tuesday. He met separately with the foreign ministers of the Philippines and Indonesia, both of which have refused to recognize the new British-backed nation.

African Bloc Fears Russia-U.S. Alliance

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

TUNIS (AP)—Unlike leaders on other continents, a number of African statesmen show increasing concern because tensions between the West and the Soviet bloc appear to be easing.

Since the signing of the limited nuclear test ban, many African officials have expressed fear privately that the two power blocs may reach an agreement that would reduce East-West competition in Africa.

That struggle for influence is a main source of income for most new African nations. Much of Western and Communist aid for Africa stems from the fear that "if we don't do it, the other side will."

Most African nations get money from both East and West and don't hestiate to play one against the other.

THROW BACK

Many Africans fear that reduction or elimination of the big power competition would throw them back on the mercy of their former colonial masters.

Slim's statement was broadcast by the Tunisian radio which also quoted him as saying any international entente should be used to speed up decolonization in Africa.

A number of editorials and comments have accused representatives of the major powers at the U.N. General Assembly session of a lack of interest in Africa.

BITTER TALK

The African nations want to make the current assembly session an "African session." Officially the liberation of Portuguese territories and of South Africa from white rule are the aims. But many observers believe some nations are using the campaign to divert attention from overwhelming problems at home.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON ESTABLISHING NORMAL HEIGHT AND LEVEL OF WATER IN FOX LAKE IN COMMERCE TOWNSHIP, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN.

To Whom It May Concern, Particularly:

All owners of property fronting on, abutting or having access to rights in Fox Lake, or who are interested in having fixed and maintained the normal height and level of said lake pursuant to the provisions of Act 146 of the Public Acts of 1961, as amended, said lake being located in Section 3 of Commerce Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are hereby notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has caused to be filed in this Court a complaint praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal height and level of Fox Lake, said lake being located in Section 3 of Commerce Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are further notified that a hearing on the matter will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland at the Oakland County Court House Tower, 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, on Monday, the 14th day of October, A.D. 1963, at the opening of Court on that day at 1:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as Counsel can be heard.

You are further notified that on said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 930.00 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 930.00 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why:

(A) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established.

(B) Why 930.00 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lake;

(C) Why such other and further relief as to the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to petitioner.

Owner Wouldn't Buy, So Salesman On Trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Milton Max Moses, 53-year-old cook and ex-convict, today faced a burglary trial for assertedly trying to sell a stolen radio — to its owner.

Authorities said Robert W. Bryan Jr. recognized the radio as his own when Moses approched him in a laundromat and offered to sell it to him.

Moses was held to answer in Superior Court Oct. 8.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again-for '64

More luxury, more style in the most luxurious Chevrolet ever. Look at it, you'll see the luxury. Sit in it, you'll feel the luxury. Drive it . . . you'll want the luxury of the 1964 Chevrolet.

If you thought Chevrolet was luxurious before, you should see it now. With smart new bumper-to-bumper styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new luxury series this year, the Impala Super Sports, with 15 color choices and about the posh-est interiors you've ever seen (front bucket seats are standard and come in an elegant new vinyl that's softer and thicker).

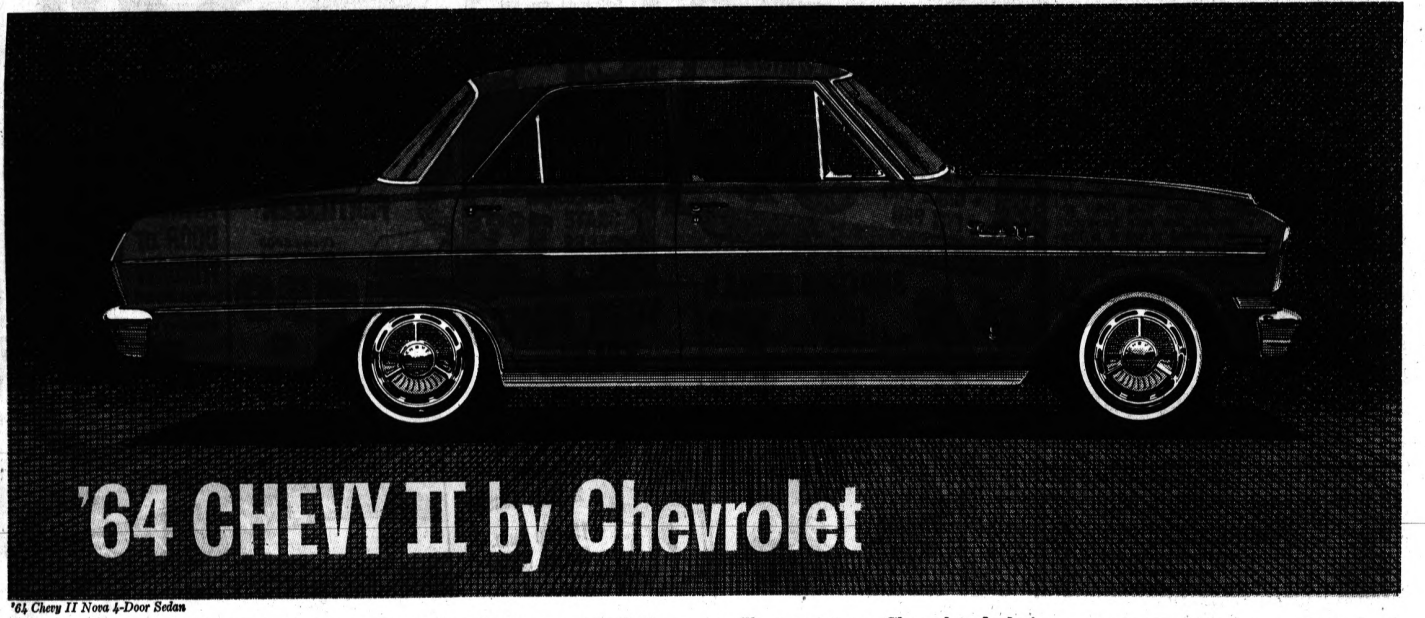

The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted. Of course, you'd expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet.

A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's ranging up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost) with quieter transmissions to match. The great roadability of Jet-smooth ride with its stable Full Coil suspension. Things like flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delcotron generator, self-adjusting brakes and the sturdy, long-lasting Body by Fisher that cut down upkeep.

Maybe you've wondered just how luxurious Chevrolet can get. This year—with all the extra-cost options like air conditioning, Comfortilt steering wheel, AM-FM radio and even an automatic speed and cruise control available at your Chevrolet dealer's showroom—that seems to be entirely up to you.

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets

'64 CHEVY II by Chevrolet

'64 Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan

Never before have you had this choice of power in a Chevy II, the Super-Thrift four-cylinder, two six-cylinders or a new Turbo-Fire V8—more kinds of engines than any other car. Now you can have your economy as lively as you want it!

One of the things you'll like most about the low-cost '64 Chevy II as far as economy goes is that it doesn't go too far.

Those four lively, economical Chevy II engines you can choose from this year will show what we mean. With any of them—the 90-hp Super-Thrift 4, 120-hp Hi-Thrift 6, new extra-cost 155-hp Turbo-Thrift 6 or the new extra-cost 195-hp Turbo-Fire V8—spending less on gas is just half the fun.

Add everything else about Chevy II you'll see at your Chevrolet dealer's showroom—the comfort of its family-size Body by Fisher, the smooth-riding Mono-Plate rear suspension, along with such low-upkeep features as flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delcotron generator and larger self-adjusting brakes—and you'll know why it's hard not to like saving money with a car like this!

THERE'S 5 IN 64 CHEVROLET

Not a new model, but a wholly new and different line of cars. See it, admire its styling. Sit in it, admire its room. Drive it, admire its own particular ease and comfort. You've never seen, felt or driven anything like it before.

Chevelle is a new kind of car you may find very attractive in more ways than looks alone. It's a good foot shorter than the big cars, so Chevelle fits into standard metered parking spaces by a comfortable margin. Yet its interior dimensions—seat width, leg room and the likes—are surprisingly generous. (Chevelle's trunk is roomy, too.)

Just about everything's new in Chevelle but the Chevrolet quality. It has a Body by Fisher, of course, with flush-and-dry rocker panels, protective inner front fenders and expensive-looking touches like curved side windows and recessed controls. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprising for Chevrolet, you can get anything from a 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp 4-barrel-carbureted V8 (optional at extra cost) —14 engine/transmission choices in all.

See the new Chevelle at your Chevrolet dealer's showroom. It's available in three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series—with eleven models to choose from. One of them could be exactly the kind of car you've always wanted.

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

'64 Corvair Monza Club Coupe

'64 Corvette Sting Ray Sport Coupe

Big new engines, same old fun.

Actually, even the fun can't help being more so with the big new air-cooled 6 that goes into every '64 Corvair. It's still at the rear, of course, for better traction and easy handling, but gives Corvair more hill-climbing and cruising power than ever—nearly 19% more with the standard engine, a full 110 hp in the extra-cost version. The engine isn't all we've improved upon, either. We've geared up all Corvair transmissions to handle that extra power. We've even added a whole new Corvair series this year—the 150-hp Turbocharged Monza Spyder. If you think all these changes in the '64 Corvair are just for kicks, try one out today at your Chevrolet dealer's showroom—and see for yourself just how right you are!

America's sports car never felt better

What may look like the biggest change in the '64 Corvette is that new one-piece rear window. But wait till you drive it. Major refinements in the independent 4-wheel suspension make Corvette ride more smoothly and quietly than you might think any all-out sports car has a right to. Without, we hasten to add, the slightest change in roadability or handling precision. There's more, too—including new and improved manual transmissions to go with any of Corvette's four big V8's —standard 250 hp, extra-cost 300 hp and new 365 hp or 375 hp with fuel injection. All in all, about the only competition this one's got is the Corvette Sting Ray Convertible. See them both at your Chevrolet dealer's showroom!

Old Soviet-Chinese Sore Opened Over Border Violations

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

One hundred years and more ago when European powers busily were carving up imperial China, Czarist Russia was taking its shape.

Maps published by the Red Chinese since they took over the mainland in 1949 show that they do not recognize these conquests and intend to get them back.

And so to India has been added the Soviet Union as a nation having a border dispute with Communist China, and to the ideological quarrel between the two Communist giants has been added a new and potentially even more explosive issue.

For outsiders attempting to assess the depth, probable duration and cause of the quarrel, the latest turn taking up space in Moscow and Peking newspapers and in the propaganda airwaves has given new food for thought.

5,000 BREACHES

Last weekend the Soviet government charged the Chinese with 5,000 border violations in 1962. The Soviets said the Chinese had attempted to reclaim isolated parts of Soviet territory "without preliminary permission."

Specifically, it cited the case of a fisherman on the Amur River which separates Siberia from Manchuria. It said documents taken from the fisherman demanded that fishermen tell Soviet border guards that river islands belong to China.

It said that Russian attempts to negotiate border disputes had been ignored by Red China, and from this India's Jawaharlal Nehru could draw a wry smile.

Two weeks earlier, the Red Chinese had accused Russia of luring tens of thousands of Mongol nomads across the border of Sinkiang province into the Soviet Union and of trying to engineer an anti-Chinese coup in the region.

SCENE OF CONFLICT

Both areas, Sinkiang and the Amur and Ussuri river borders with Siberia, are historic scenes of conflict between the Russians and the Chinese.

Sinkiang, China's largest province, far back beyond the days of Marco Polo, has been a highway of civilization. An ancient silk route linked it with India. It is marked by extremes of hot and cold, ferocious winds, mountains, green forests and pastures and rivers that end in salt marshes and arid deserts. And while it belongs to China, it borders on the Soviet Union and its communications and trade traditionally look toward the U.S.S.R.

In recent years, the Chinese have poured hundreds of thousands of soldier-farmers into the area, in a counter move to Khrushchev's haste to open up the Soviet Union's western virgin lands.

As for the Amur and Ussuri river areas, Sino-Russian conflict there goes back 300 years when the Chinese first tried to hold back Russian explorers and settlers.

ISSUE WARNING

But as Chinese confidence grows, so apparently do Chinese ambitions. The root of the Soviet-Chinese quarrel may be a challenge for leadership in the Communist world. But the results of the quarrel could go far beyond either Khrushchev or Mao Tse-Tung.

He let out a yell as he arrived at headquarters. There, tethered on the lawn, was the pony.

The night shift, answering a householder's complaint, had caught the pony at 5:30 a.m. and spent the next three hours trying to locate the owner.

"Gosh," said Schmid, "the only place I didn't call was the police station."

Romantic Telephoning Brings Prison Term

BALHAM England (UPI) — Laborer Michael McKeown, 23, was sent to prison yesterday for three months on charges he broke into a shop during the night and made an $81.20 telephone call to his girl friend in the United States.

McKeown was traced when the shop owner got his telephone bill. The girl was not identified in court.

Man Is Held for Theft Trial

Larry G. Sloan of 760 Bald Eagle Lake was ordered to stand trial and returned to the county jail when he was unable to furnish $5,000 bond.

State Bill Would Defer Guard's Homestead Tax

LANSING (AP) — Reservists and National Guardmen who go on duty would get a homestead tax deferral if a bill introduced last night by Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, becomes law.

The taxes would be deferred until six months after the reservist or guardman returned from active duty, payable during that time without interest or penalty.

House Unit Approves Retirement for CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee yesterday approved establishment of a special retirement system for the Central Intelligence Agency.

The plan, which would cover about 30 per cent of the CIA employes, is similar to that of the Foreign Service. It is not known how many employes would be covered because the number the CIA employs is a secret.

The human foot has 26 bones. The smallest is three-eighths of an inch long and the largest 2½ inches.

Patolee Admits to 100 Burglaries in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Police said yesterday that Melvin C. Kellner 37, has admitted burglarizing more than 100 Detroit businesses since his parole from prison last December.

Recorder's Court Judge Elvin L. Davenport refused to accept Kellner's plea of guilty of breaking and entering a business place in the night and entered an innocent plea for him.

Yemen Will Observe 1st Year Since Revolt

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI) — A 21-gun salute will usher in festivities marking the Yemeni Republican revolution's first anniversary, the Middle East News Agency (MENA) reported yesterday.

MENA said a new electric power station and new roads will be opened tomorrow on the anniversary of the revolt against the royalist regime.

Indonesia Troops Mass to Train Malaysia Rebels

From Our News Wires

JAKARTA — Indonesia sent crack troops including army commandoes, to the Malaysian border in North Borneo today and said it is prepared to train and aid Malaysian rebels.

★ ★ ★

The official news agency Antara said at least two battalions massed on the border of Sarawak, which became part of Malaysia on Sept. 16, are being held in constant readiness to face any attack "that might be launched by the imperialists."

The agency quoted Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution as saying that Indonesia is prepared to train North Borneo rebels and to aid their struggle.

From the Malaysian capital of Kuala Lumpur came reports of a mortar attack a half mile from the Indonesian border in Sarawak, with shells clearly marked with the Indonesian Army star, and the recall of Malaysia's defense chief from Pakistan.

AIR, LAND SUPPORT

Antara reported that troop movements on the Sarawak border were disclosed by Army Col. Ibnu Subroto. Subroto was quoted as saying that the troops are being supplied both by air and by land.

Subroto said no border incidents have been reported so far. He did not disclose the size of the troop concentrations being moved into the area.

The news agency said also the air force has been alerted and instructed to shoot down any foreign aircraft violating Indonesian air space if they ignore warnings to land.

★ ★ ★

Already backed by Britain in its dispute with Indonesia, Malaysia today was promised military aid by Australia if it is invaded.

RESIST SUBVERSION

Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies made the pledge in laying before Parliament the text of a defense commitment with the new federation. He said Australian forces are also committed to help resist subversive activity in Malaysia.

Menzies made no reference to Indonesia, said all nations concerned had been informed of Australia's decision.

Australian forces are in Malaysia as part of a strategic reserve set up with Britain and New Zealand for defense of Southeast Asia.

Qualified sources in London reported both Britain and Indonesia are considering a break in diplomatic relations as a result of angry Indonesian reaction to the creation of Malaysia, the British - sponsored federation of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo).

LONDON FEARS

London officials fear further attacks on British nationals and property in the wake of last Wednesday's sacking and burning of Britain's embassy in Jakarta, Indonesian capital. The Indonesians also have made no move to return seized British firms.

About 40 Indonesian students gathered for a demonstration in front of the British Embassy in Moscow, but were handed a Russian - language statement that the demonstration would not take place.

The statement was signed by the head of the Indonesian student organization in Moscow. Western diplomats believed Soviet authorities banned the demonstration to prevent disturbing Soviet - British relations.

The United States was trying to calm tempers. Foreign Minister Subandrio of Indonesia was flying back home after a talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the United Nations. Rusk called for a prompt normalization of relations in the area.

Barnett Appearance Causes Little Stir

From Our News Wires

KALAMAZOO — Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi told 1,400 persons at Western Michigan University last night the "race issue" is a smoke screen for "the biggest political power grab in history."

Barnett's appearance generated little reaction, although 1,000 persons were turned away from hearing him talk about Southern segregation because of limited space in the WMU physical education building.

Except for one placard — "Kill Jim Crow" — signed by the Detroit chapter of the NAACP, and some booing by a small group when he left, Barnett's visit produced little in the way of heckling.

An outspoken foe of President Kennedy — "He won't get enough votes in Mississippi to wad a shotgun" — Barnett in his speech struck at "centralization of power in Washington." He called for greater exercise of states' rights as a remedy.

SCORNS BILL

Barnett scorned the administration's civil rights bill as "10 per cent civil rights and 90 per cent extension of federal executive power."

He said Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and "other Southern states" were reviving a "free and unpledged presidential elector plan" to offset "insufficient choice" of candidates offered by the two national political parties.

He predicted in press conference earlier that the South would remain segregated. He said "Everywhere integration is practiced long enough and extremely enough you have a mongrel race. We in Mississippi believe in maintaining the purity of the White and Colored races."

In a discussion period after his address, Barnett was asked whether he would consider the $270 million paid in taxes by Mississippi and the $650 million received in federal aid and grants as federal intrusion on state's rights.

INCORRECT

"You are wholly incorrect in your figures," was his reply.

To another question, Barnett said civil rights legislation was unneeded in Mississippi. He asserted that 90 per cent of the Negroes who complete high school and college in his state remain there because "They love our way of life."

Barnett made no bones about his desire to lure industry out of Michigan and into his state, where he says "Labor is very friendly to industry.

"I'm calling on industries every day to sell them on Mississippi," he added.

★ ★ ★

The governor spent four hours on his own after arriving here in a Mississippi national guard plane. "I've been visiting friends," he explained. The visits were paid to Oliver Eletcrical Manufacturing Co. and the Sutherland Paper Co.

Rome Demonstrators Protest Mme. Nhu's Visit

ROME (AP) — More than 50 young demonstrators gathered in front of the South Viet Nam Embassy Tuesday night shouting protests against the presence of Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu. Police broke up the crowd.

★ ★ ★

Keep Troops in Congo—U.S.

West Seeking Funds for U.N. Peace Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Racing against an Oct. 1 deadline, the United States and other Western nations today sought General Assembly action to raise $25 million to keep the U.N. peace force in the Congo until next June.

The move won support from the 32-nation African group. It is framing an appeal to Secretary-General U Thant to extend for six months the Dec. 31 target date for liquidating the U.N. force.

The problem of raising money to keep the force in the field was the prime concern as the assembly's 111-nation finance committee gathered for its first meeting of the 18th session.

HAS WARNED

Thant has warned that he will pull out the 7,000 troops in the Congo by year's end, unless the assembly approves maintenance costs within the next week.

Thant explained in a report to the Security Council last week that action must be taken by Oct. 1 because "supplies for the Congo force are no longer being fed into its logistics pipeline in anticipation of its termination by Dec. 31."

The United Nations has run into financial difficulties in the Congo because some nations, including the Soviet Union and France, have refused to pay their share of the peace-keeping operation.

Thant conferred Tuesday with members of his Congo advisory council after he met with U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson. The United States has been carrying on talks with other U.N. members on means of raising a stopgap fund to keep U.N. funds in the Congo.

SOME MISGIVINGS

Thant has expressed some misgivings about complete withdrawal of the U.N. Congo force. But he contended the United Nations' costly three-year involvement provides a solid basis from which the Congolese should be able to move toward a peaceful future.

The United States and Britain have questioned how solid this basis will prove if U.N. military supervision is removed.

Belgium also has expressed doubt whether its former colony can move ahead without U.N. troops. Belgium recently agreed to give the Congo one billion dollars in financial aid.

Premier Cyrille Adoula of the Congo has asked the United Nations to keep 3,000 U.N. soldiers on Congo soil at least until the first half of 1964. Thant insists that if U.N. troops are left, there must be a minimum of 6,000 to protect their own bases and lifelines.

At the peak of its peace-keeping effort, the United Nations had 21,000 soldiers in the Congo. It has been paying $120 million a year for the operation.

For $47-Billion Appropriation

Senate OKs Defense Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DEFENSE: By a 77-0 vote, the Senate has approved a defense appropriation measure calling for $47,339,707,000 after brushing off all major efforts to cut it.

The bill now returns to the House which previously approved $258 million less than the Senate.

POETIC: When the new "hot line" linking Washington and Moscow was tested, the United States sent the traditional "The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back."

Not so the Russians.

William C. Foster, head of the U.S. Disarmament Agency, told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that the Soviet test message on the circuit "described in lyrical language the beauties of a Moscow sunset."

"I would think we would be ingenious enough to say something original, or maybe poetic, each time we test," remarked Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J.

BAMBOOZLE: Rep. John W. Byrnes, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, has challenged President Kennedy's assertion that federal employment increased by only 5,600 last year.

Byrnes said that Civil Service Commission figures through July show an increase of 168,580 federal employes during the 2½ years of the Kennedy administration.

COOL SHOULDER: The United States is reported to have put a freeze on any new economic aid to Indonesia, including participation in a $250-million economic stabilization program.

It was learned from U.S. officials that the Sukarno government has been told that the United States is reserving judgment on the feasibility of participating in a multination effort to aid Indonesia until that nation's intentions toward Great Britain and British-backed Malaysia become clear.

★ ★ ★

An International Monetary Fund official said the fund had notified Indonesia that a $50 - million standby credit arrangement concluded last July has been temporarily suspended.

PLATEAU: After climbing steadily for the first seven months of the year, the U.S. economy paused in August, the Commerce Department reports.

Several important economic barometers such as personal income, nonfarm employment, industrial production and consumer spending showed little change last month.

Rocky Sees Pontiff in Secrecy

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, whose divorce and remarriage caused a political stir in the United States, had a secrecy-shrouded meeting with Pope Paul VI today.

★ ★ ★

Since the Catholic Church strongly opposes divorce, Vatican sources described the audience as "unusual" and said there was some consternation among prelates because the pontiff agreed to receive Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's second wife, who has been divorced, did not attend the audience.

Not since Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzubel, saw the late Pope John XXIII has such secrecy surrounded an audience.

The Vatican newspaper "Observatore Romano" was asked not to mention the fact that Rockefeller had seen the Pope. Normally, the newspaper publishes a daily list of persons received by the pontiff.

All photographs were prohibited.

Vatican sources said only that Rockefeller and two unidentified men went into the papal apartments at 12:15 p.m. Mrs. Rockefeller was shopping in Rome at the time.

Oakland County is one of six in the state that has a compulsory meat inspection program; the others are Macomb, St. Clair, Ingham, Kalamazoo and Grand Traverse.

The rest of the state does not require inspection of meat killed and dressed locally.

Meat coming in from national packing concerns bears the federal stamp of inspection. But the majority of Michigan residents must take their chances if they buy meat from the local packing plant.

HOUSE BILL

This year's first session of the Legislature had a bill on compulsory state meat inspection, House Bill No. 11.

Although it failed to get out of the House Ways and Means committee, it is being studied by an interim committee of three Democrats and four Republicans with E. D. O'Brien of Detroit as chairman.

The big hurdle seems to be finances — as always. But proponents of the bill argue that the $514,000 now being spent for meat inspection by local units would be a part of the $900,000 some think needed to start a state program.

The committee thinks that a cost of ten cents per person per year would finance everything.

Why should we concern ourselves about this law? We're the housewives who do the buying. We are presumably loyal to local industry which cannot compete on an equal basis now with inter-state meat.

We go on vacations to other parts of the state that aren't adequately protected. There is no way of knowing whether the meat we buy then has had both ante-mortem and post-mortem inspection.

If a statewide meat inspection law were passed, it would be a tremendous stimulation to the Michigan livestock industry.

At the present time 33 per cent of the corn grown here is exported. With a meat inspection law in line with the federal law, cattle feeders would have a great incentive to feed more cattle for local slaughter.

It doesn't take much imagination to see how this would benefit the economy all down the line from cattle raiser to butcher. New jobs would be created.

LICENSES

Under the proposed law all slaughter houses and meat packing plants would have to be licensed. This would not work a hardship on the smaller plants for fees would be graduated.

That we do not have uniform state meat inspection laws probably has not occurred to most of our readers. We didn't know about it until Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, brought it to our attention.

It seems like a subject that calls for some study and a word of encouragement to the legislators who are trying to pass a much needed law.

APPETIZER SPROUTS — Come close to the fire and help yourself to an appetizer before dinner. Whole California Brussels sprouts are braised in white wine for dunking in a sauce of sour cream and caraway seed.

Brussels Sprouts Are Unusual Served as Hot Appetizers

A warm and crackling fire, a buffet bearing a chafing dish with a bubbling dip or fondue and a bowl of good things for dunking . . . here is a lovely prelude to dinner.

For an unusual and very elegant appetizer course, braise whole Brussels sprouts in a dry white wine. Set them out . . . crisp and delicate and dewy . . . looking like little emerald roses. With long fondue forks dip them into a milk white sauce made with sour cream and caraway seed.

Served with chilled Champagne, tokay or a white still wine, the Brussels sprouts and dipping sauce also make a fine late supper. For this you might add hot fresh rye bread with curls of sweet butter and chocolate mousse.

For another appetizer, which is absolutely unique, roll whole Brussels sprouts in a savory peanut crumble and fry them to a gorgeous golden brown.

If you wish to serve either of these appetizers as a vegetable course, simply double the recipe.

SPROUTS WITH SAUCE

1 cup water
2 chicken bouillon cubes
¼ cup tokay or dry white wine
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen Brussels sprouts
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon caraway seed
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
1¼ cups milk
1½ cups dairy sour cream

Heat water in saucepan, add bouillon cubes; stir until dissolved. Add wine and Brussels sprouts. Cover and cook 5 to 10 minutes, or until just tender. Drain and keep warm.

Melt butter in saucepan. Blend in flour and seasonings. Slowly add milk; cook and stir until sauce thickens. Add sour cream; stir and heat. Keep warm and serve with Brussels sprouts. Makes 6-8 servings.

Brussels Sprout and Peanut Fry

2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen Brussels sprouts
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons milk
2 teaspoons dry sherry
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup finely chopped salted peanuts
½ cup butter or margarine

In small bowl; blend eggs, milk, sherry, onion and salt. In shallow pan, mix bread crumbs with peanuts. Dip Brussels sprouts in egg mixture; roll in peanut mixture. Melt butter in heavy skillet; add Brussels sprouts and fry, turning frequently, until golden brown on all sides. Spear with toothpicks to serve as hot appetizer.

Strawberry Pink Icing

The same quick strawberry milk-flavoring mix that goes into the children's milk provides delicious strawberry frosting.

★ ★ ★

Dissolve 2 tablespoons quick strawberry milk-flavoring mix in 3 tablespoons milk; reserve. Combine 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, ½ cup soft butter or margarine, and ⅛ teaspoon salt; beat until creamy. Gradually add another 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar alternately with strawberry mixture, beating until blended.

two 8-or 9-inch layers.

Yield: Filling and frosting for

Simmer Carcass With Vegetables

Make broth from the leftovers of a turkey to serve "as is" or to use in a sauce.

Turkey Broth A La Julienne

Roast turkey carcass and bones
2 quarts water
1 carrot, pared
1 rib plus ½ cup celery leaves
1 medium onion
Several parsley sprigs
2 bay leaves
Salt to taste
¼ teaspoon peppercorns
Cooked vegetables

Break up carcass and place in a kettle with all the ingredients except the cooked vegetables. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer for a few hours. Strain; refrigerate; remove any fat. Reheat, correcting seasoning, and adding thin strips of such cooked vegetables as snap beans, carrots and celery.

Board to View Building Bids

School Facility Offers Had Been Rejected

Bids on two proposed buildings will be considered tomorrow night by the Pontiac Board of Education.

Bid tabulations on a new central administration building and a combined service-warehouse facility will be presented to the school board.

The school board previously rejected bids on the new service building, which is slated to be constructed at Montcalm and N. Saginaw. The low bid came in $50,000 over the estimated $545,480 cost.

★ ★ ★

School officials redesigned the service building and combined the project with the school district's proposed administration building, which is to be a part of the city's civic center district.

REPLACE OFFICES

The two new buildings will replace the school district's present offices at 40 Patterson, which are part of the city's urban renewal plans.

In other action, the school board will consider the purchase of a house and property at 77 Franklin for $10,000. The property is adjacent to the Pupil Personnel Building at 87 Franklin.

The school district's rental policies will be discussed also by board members.

The city parks and recreation department has requested that the school board modify its policies on the renting of school facilities for outside activities.

★ ★ ★

Several reports will also be submitted to the school board at tomorrow night's meeting.

On Olympic Petitions

Wanted--One Million Signers

Citizens of Michigan and the United States don't have to join the delegation in person when the official bid is made Oct. 18 in Baden-Baden, Germany, to bring the 1968 Olympics to Detroit.

One stroke of the pen by every individual, regardless of age, will help the cause.

Olympic petitions, as found on this page of The Press, are being circulated throughout the state, Midwest and nation by members of the Detroit Olympic Committee.

The goal is to have one million signatures to be recorded on IBM tape and to be presented to the International Olympic Committee (IOC) when it gathers at Baden-Baden.

The decision on the Olympic site, chosen from nominees, Detroit, Mexico City, Buenos Aires and Lyons, France, will be made known Oct. 19.

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, who expressed confidence that Detroit will be selected on the basis of its presentation by the U.S. delegation, said that "A million signatures would be impressive evidence of support" from Michigan to the IOC.

The other three cities are working hard to get the 1968 games, which will bring more than 6,000 amateur athletes and thousands of the spectators to the chosen site.

The 1964 Olympics will be held in Tokyo, Japan.

UNIQUE IDEA

Chairman of the Detroit Olympic Committee called the "signature to Baden-Baden" plan a unique idea and urged all civic groups and clubs to initiate this project within their organizations and their communities.

"Anyone who can write, can sign" said George Lahodny, who is heading the signature campaign for the Detroit committee.

"We will measure the signatures from the foot of Woodward Avenue north as far as they will go on a role of IBM tape," said Lahodny, "and this will be impressive in making the Detroit bid."

A similar drive, when the Detroit group was bidding for the U.S. nomination, brought forth 300,000 signatures from the Midwest. Lahodny is hoping organizations throughout the country will join in the signature drive which will run until Oct. 13th.

★ ★ ★

'Cowboy' Charged With Drunken Horse Riding

CARLOTTA, Calif. (UPI) — Jack Leroy Irwin, 65, was cited for drunken driving yesterday when a highway patrolman spotted a horse zigzagging along a highway with Irwin lurching in the saddle.

Want the '68 Olympics Here?

Bring the Olympics to Detroit? Sure, I'm in favor of that!

Thousands of signatures on petitions backing Michigan's bid to get the 1968 Olympic Games are being sought, to present to the International Olympic Committee.

On Oct. 19, the committee will hear presentations of the cities' bidding for the games, and make its decision.

By signing the petition below, and getting others to sign it, you will be playing an important part in Detroit's presentation.

Broomfield Urges Aid Cut Be Restored

U.S. Representative William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, made a strong pitch Monday before Congress to have a $150-million cut in foreign aid restored.

He said the money is needed desperately to maintain the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

"The restoration of this cut would be used to help the underprivileged of a continent and a half, to give them hope for a better life, to help them find freedom and opportunity," declared Broomfield.

He said the alternative means spending much more for military purposes if the Latin American countries "are forced" to turn to Communist nations for help in building a sound economy "at the price of freedom."

★ ★ ★

Broomfield pointed out that the cut in appropriations "just about equals" the cost of a new governmental office building now under construction in Washington.

Barry Gaining on JFK, Says Gallup Pollster

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI) — George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, says Sen. Barry Goldwater gained on President Kennedy in the latest Gallup Poll and demonstrated his greatest "election potential" to date.

A copyrighted story by Gallup also says Kennedy continues to hold a wide lead over the conservative Republican senator from Arizona.

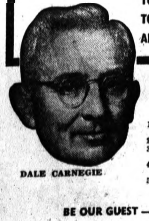

The test run shows a 60-to-40 vote split in Kennedy's favor, compared to 63-37 for Kennedy in last month's poll.

To Study Space Role

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Speakers and editors attending the 46th annual meeting of the University Press Club of Michigan will examine Michigan's role in space-age research. The meeting will be held Friday and Saturday.

Freeze Whole or Half Purple Plums on Cookie Sheets

Idaho's fresh purple plums are the easiest of all fruits to freeze, especially if standard ways (books are full of the sugar-layering and heavy syrup methods) are put aside and the plums —whole, halved or cut in the sizes needed for the made dishes, are prepared in this lazy but highly successful fashion.

TO FREEZE

To prepare for freezing (the unorthodox way!): wash firm purple plums in cold water. Remove at once and dry on old bath towels or plenty of paper towels. Using dry cookie sheets, shallow pans or trays which will fit into the quick-freezing section of the freezer, arrange the whole plums or plum halves, cut-side up and not touching.

The halves have more practical uses and take up less space but it is fun to have a few whole plums to garnish a salad plate or make up into a whole fruit sauce. Since purple plums are a freestone fruit, when cut in half lengthwise along the little "crease," a flick of the paring knife zips the seed right out.

Stack the cookie sheets in the freezing section with custard cups or something on each to keep the fruit from touching the top contained. Freeze rapidly.

* * *

Immediately put the completely-frozen plums in freezer bags, twisting the ends tightly using a rubber band or wire-centered plastic tape strip to hold. Be sure to press out the air as much as possible. The frozen plums will keep well for a year. But who wants them to, when there are so many purple plum treats to be enjoyed throughout the winter and spring.

Note: no lemon juice or ascorbic acid treatment before freezing is needed for the cut plums, as they do not discolor. Even when thawing, they do not turn dark. Frozen so, they do not stick together, which makes them pretty handy to have on hand.

USES

To use: without thawing the whole frozen plums may be poached in a light syrup for a tasty sauce or put into a sweet pickling sauce for Spiced Plums. The plum haves in their frozen state are easily cut lengthwise to use as a topping for a coffee cake along with a Streusel mix.

Cut them once again crosswise to use in pies, open-face, counter-paned, or lattice-top; in cobblers, pudding, and many other dishes. Halves or quartered plums go into a variety of salads.

For Purple Plum Jelly (made this winter!): using 1 quart halved or quartered plums and ¾ cup cold water, bring to the boiling point, then simmer for 10 minutes only. Allow the juice to drip through a jelly bag. Put the chilled juice in jars, allowing ½ inch head room. Place lid on jar. Freeze until there's time for jelly making.

The pulp may be put through a food mill and frozen to be used later in the making of jam. Mighty good for plum sherbet and ice cream, whips and soufflés. And the juice, sweetened before going to the freezer or after thawing, makes into many a delicious beverage. Or add sugar and cook to the thick syrup stage for a pancake and waffle topping, to use in home-made ice cream sodas, on sundaes, and the like.

Tahitian Food Cooked in Leaf

This recipe will really set the Tahitian mood. It combines "puaa" pronounced poo-AH-ah, which is fruit. It is served in individual packages.

Laulaus

1 pound lean pork
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon ginger
8 romaine leaves
1 can (1-lb., 4½-oz.) pineapple chunks, drained
1 green pepper, quartered
2 tomatoes, quartered
Wooden picks

Cut pork in 1 inch cubes; sprinkle with paprika and ginger. Arrange 2 large romaine leaves at right angles. Place on each ¼ of pork cubes, 6 pineapple chunks, 1 piece green pepper, 2 tomato quarters. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

2 tomato quarters. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Fold leaves around meat and vegetables to make a package; fasten with wooden picks. Arrange in a baking pan, cover with foil and bake in 350 degree oven 2 hours.

Serve packages on individual dinner plates, letting each person open his own. 4 servings.

2 cups water
2 tablespoons chicken stock base
2 tablespoons minced onion flakes
¼ cup, soy sauce
2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice

Olive Sauce Is Good All Ways

A simple sauce you can mix in minutes is all it takes to turn vegetables into mealtime stars. Served with Olivedaise, asparagus or artichokes are truly elegant party fare.

But what the sauce does for everyday vegetables such as carrots, broccoli, and cauliflower must be tasted to be believed.

Sauce Olivedaise takes its smooth texture from mayonnaise and its spirited flavor from sliced, stuffed olives. It's easy to mix at the last minute, but may be made in advance and stored in the refrigerator.

Unlike most sauces, Olivedaise is as good cold as hot. For a buffet supper or luncheon, it's delicious served chilled over white asparagus from a glass jar.

Sauce Olivedaise

1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons soft butter
1-3 cup stuffed green olives, sliced
2 to 4 tablespoons lemon juice
Dash of Worcestershire sauce.

Mix all ingredients together. Just before serving, heat over low heat, stirring frequently. Or serve cold on cold vegetables. Yield: 2 cups of sauce.

All Except Policemen, That Is

LONDON (AP) — "The farther west you travel, the more civilized the American cop gets," said Joan Crisp.

Joan and her husband, Henry, were talking about their trip to the United States.

Said Henry: "A New York cop is surly. Ask him the way and he gives you a cold look and swings his truncheon (night stick). 'Street?' he says, repeating the word, 'You mean block? he answers, surprised. Then he directs you with his truncheon. That gets you nowhere. Our London policeman pulls out a map and shows you how to get there."

STILL LIKE UNITED STATES

Nevertheless, the Crisps rave about America.

"Seeing the States is an educational experience and what I have seen of it is enough to make me want to settle there," said Joan. "If I were years younger I'd have a bash at it." That means having a try.

★ ★ ★

Henry intervened: "They're years ahead of us, they've everything we have and a lot more."

Joan added: "Everything, of course, except the queen and Rolls-Royces. And no tradition. They envy us for that."

MIDDLE INCOME LEVEL

Last spring they decided to go to the United States.

They gave themselves a week to get the tickets. A travel agency booked their passage and two $99 bus tickets which permit unlimited travel in the United States. They left London with no clear idea what they would do when they got to New York, and no hotel reservations.

"But we had no trouble," said Crisp.

Seven weeks later, on their return, they found they had spent:

Return fares by boat, tourist class, $742; bus tickets, $198; hotels, $126; means, amusements, tips and other expenses, $336.

Five weeks in the United States took them from New York to Miami Beach, New Orleans, San Diego, La Jolla, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Monterey, Salt Lake City, Chicago, Niagara Falls and back to New York.

STAYED AT MOTELS

They stayed at motels when they could.

"It took us a few days to get wise," Crisp, 58, explained. "When we got to New York, we paid $12 a night for a twin room. Just before sailing home we found another one, just as centrally situated, and paid only $9.50. In motels, when we told them we'd stay a week, they cut their charges."

They brought back $400 worth of clothing and souvenirs for themselves and gifts for friends.

"The cowboys who boarded our bus down in Texas looked like the ones we saw on the telly, and much friendlier," Joan said. "We enjoyed every minute of it, even the monotonous rides through deserts. And the cactus, it looked fascinating."

"One woman, on La Jolla beach came to me," Joan recalled. 'Come, my dear' she said, 'sit near me and just talk. Say anything you like. I want to just hear your cute accent. It's so-oh civilized.'"

NEW YORK LIVELY

The Crisps found New York full of life and quicker than anything they'd seen at home; San Francisco—with its cable cars—most American, and New Orleans, with its French district, Bourbon and Canal streets, the most cosmopolitan.

A trip down the Mississippi in an old paddle steamer was "absolutely wonderful," but the river was muddier than the Thames in London.

★ ★ ★

At one bus station, at San Diego Crisp found an American sailor standing in his underpants in the men's room. "Must have looked puzzled. He explained he was having his pants pressed. So I had mine pressed too."

'WOMAN'S WORLD'

America, Joan said, is definitely a woman's world.

"The women seem to like ordering their menfolk about — 'Johnny get this' and 'Johnny do that'," she said. "They're spoilt by their men and the manufacturers who make their kitchens and household tools. Everything seems made for the women."

Crisp, who considers himself an expert on food, said: "We didn't go to fancy restaurants or night clubs. We ate in snack bars, cafeterias and motels and the food was good. It was all on the counter for you to choose, hot or cold, and tasty."

They found Americans work harder than Britons.

"There are no hour lunch breaks, just 30 minutes and time for a double-decker and a glass of something. No tea breaks, And Americans get up early to go to work," Crisp said. "To me, work over there looks just like one huge rat race, but a rat race in which everyone wants to have a go."

Will they go back?

"As soon as we can go again, we will."

LOVE AMERICA—Henry Crisp and his wife Joan share a bottle of beer in their London pub where they are back at work after a visit to the United States. The Crisps said that U.S. police officers weren't as courteous—especially in New York—as London bobbies but other than that they rave about America.

She Broke Into Jail to Get Boyfriend Out

LINCOLN, England (UPI) — Phyllis Strutton, 29, says she broke into Lincoln Jail and marked an escape route for her boyfriend with lipstick. She then used the route to get back out.

Exiles Charge Cuba Airdrop

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Exiles say Cuba intends to parachute Colombian, Venezuelan and Panamanian Communists into their own countries by the end of October to wage guerrilla war.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban Revolutionary Student Directorate, an anti-Castro exile group, said 600 such paratroopers have been trained. Brazilians, Peruvians and Bolivians also are practicing jumps and tactics, the directorate said.

A directorate spokesman said Tuesday it had been advised by underground sources that three drops have been made — two in Venezuela and one in Panama.

"No weapons, only men landed," the informant said.

Syria was under French mandate between the two world wars. It won full independence in 1944 although French troops did not leave until 1946.

Viet Police Crush New Protest Try

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Evidently hoping to capitalize on the presence of President Kennedy's top military advisers in Saigon, some Buddhists today made their first attempt in five weeks to demonstrate against President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Accompanied by two civilians, a yellow - robed monk defiantly tried to unfurl a multicolored Buddhist flag in front of the National Assembly building. Police clubbed him down. They arrested him and his companions, then blocked off the plaza in a hunt for other monks.

★ ★ ★

Five monks garbed as peasants were rounded up from nearby shops and arcades and dispatched to police headquarters. Hundreds of Vietnamese and foreigners witnessed the incident.

1ST SINCE AUGUST

This was the first such outburst in South Viet Nam's political-religious crisis since troops and police, operating under martial law, cracked down on Buddhist opposition leaders in the pagoda raids of Aug. 21.

★ ★ ★

It happened less than 100 yards from the U.S. Information Agency building where newsmen were being briefed on the day's activities of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

★ ★ ★

REGISTRATION NOTICE FOR CITY ELECTION, Tuesday, November 5, 1963. To the Qualified Electors of the CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE, County of Oakland, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law" I, the undersigned Clerk, will upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office Monday, October 7, 1963 last day, the thirtieth day preceding said election, as provided by Section 498, Act No. 116 Public Acts of 1954, from 8 o'clock A.M. until 8 o'clock P.M. on said day for the purpose of revising the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said City as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ROSALAND WILDGREN
City Clerk
September 24 and 25, 1963

Boy Hurt Trying to Evade Police

A Commerce Township youth was hospitalized early today with injuries suffered when the car he was driving hit a tree in Orchard Lake Village. He had been trying to outdistance a police car.

Orchard Lake police received a stolen-car report at 1:15 a.m. and spotted the car five minutes later.

Psychiatrists View Hospital Relations

The relationship between the staff of Pontiac State Hospital and volunteers was discussed at an American Psychiatric Association institute recently in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ted A. Panaretos, community relations director at Pontiac State Hospital, represented the Michigan Department of Mental Health at a meeting of the American Association of Volunteer Services Coordinators.

Dry Soup Mixes Are Boon to Campers, Picnickers

Campers and picnickers find informality a built in necessity in outdoor cookery . . . but that informality can have a quiet air of elegance. Pick the perfect spot . . . a shady green nook . . . plan a lazy meal . . . and serve it serenely.

Picking the spot and serving a meal may be no problem . . . but plan a lazy meal? Canned convenience foods solve that detail. Canned dry soup mixes pack easily into the hamper and turn into delicious meals in moments.

Simmer a spectacular soup such as this for your next outing.

Supper Soup

1 can (1⅜ ounces) onion dry soup mix
1 can (8 ounces) stewed tomatoes
Generous dash crushed oregano
2 cups boiling water
1 can (5 ounces) boned chicken
¼ cup ore-cooked rice

In heavy saucepan, stir soup mix, tomatoes, and oregano into water. Cover; simmer 10 minutes about 1 inch above glowing coals, stirring now and then. Add chicken and rice; bring to boil.

Strips of Pepper Accent Cut Corn

Creamy Fresh Corn With Green Pepper

6 medium to large ears corn
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 medium green pepper cut in thin strips (about ¾ cup)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup heavy cream

Husk corn; with a sharp knife cut away kernels without scoring them; run dull side of knife down cobs to release corn pulp and milk. (There should be 4 cups.)

In a 10-inch skillet, melt the butter; add corn and green pepper; cook over low heat, stirring often, until corn is cooked and loses starchy taste. Mix in salt, pepper, sugar and cream; reheat but do not boil. Makes 6 servings.

Tuna Pineapple Dip

Tuna goes well with pineapple and cream cheese for a chunky potato chip dip. Combine a 6½ or 7-ounce can of tuna, plus a 9-ounce can of crushed pineapple and 3 tablespoons of juice, an 8-ounce package of cream cheese, and a dash each of salt and nutmeg.

Gherkins come in two varieties—sweet and sour.

Forecast New Foods That Are Different

New and useful forms of food are in the offing. The October issue of The American Home magazine predicts that the next few years will bring apple chips, frozen whipped cream and a low-calorie cream substitute to perk up family meals.

The puff-dry chips can be eaten as snacks or reconstituted for desserts and such. The whipped cream can be defrosted and returned to the freezer, and dieters' cream will be made of skimmed milk and sell for as little as non-fat dry milk.

Add Almonds to Filling

Finely diced celery mixed with chopped toasted blanched almonds and enough mayonnaise to moisten make a delightful tea-time sandwich spread. This filling is particularly good on brown bread.

Crystallized Ginger Zips Up Cheese

Cottage Cheese Spicy Delight

1 pint small-curd cottage cheese
½ cup pineapple preserves
1 tablespoon crystallized ginger (finely chopped)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup coarsely chopped pecans

* * *

After the big football game, when the gang comes back to your house for refreshments, a well-balanced array is sure to score with your guests. Prepare-ahead-of-time items are easiest for the hostess and usually taste best to the hungry crowd.

An unusual salad such as this Cottage Cheese Spicy Delight, may be made beforehand and stored in the refrigerator.

New Scrambled Eggs

If you like scrambled eggs, try this variation. Cook the eggs in the top of a double boiler over hot water, stirring constantly. When the eggs start to thicken, stir in some cottage cheese — about 1 tablespoon for two eggs. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until eggs are done.

You can use undiluted evaporated milk as the liquid in a Welsh Rabbit.

Pureed Plums Go in Sherbet

Purple plum puree (the "meat" of purple plums when seeds have been removed and skins pureed out) makes a most delightful sherbet, especially good served with meals or combined with "store" vanilla ice cream in layers as a parfait.

To make it, combine 1 cup purple plum puree, the grated rind of 1 lemon and juice of 1 and ½ lemons, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup granulated sugar, and cook over low heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat. Cool; stir in 1 and ½ cups buttermilk.

Pour into ice tray and place in freezing zone of refrigerator or freezer until fairly thick. Remove tray. Turn contents into a chilled bowl and beat until fluffy. Return to tray and freezing unit and freeze. Makes 4 servings.

Use for Kitchen Shears

Use extremely fresh eggs for poaching if you want them to hold their shape well during the cooking process. When the eggs come out of the poaching water, trim off any ragged edges—that's what French chefs do!

Report on Drinking in America—Part III

On-the-Job Drinking: Ominous Sign

(Editor's note: This is the third of five dispatches on America's drinking habits. It describes business drinking and how it grew.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Business drinking has become so prevalent in the United States that scientists have coined a name for a certain type of executive—"the half man."

In a study of business drinking habits Alcoholics Anonymous defines the half man as "an individual who does not get too drunk to function at all but who can operate only at half speed with his morning hangover and his four-martini lunch."

Many "half men" drink because it is part of their job to entertain customers and build good will for the firm. The nation recently became highly conscious of such men from the motion picture "Days of Wine and Roses," the story of a public relations man who went sliding down the tobogan toward alcoholism and took his wife along.

The Internal Revenue Service says it does not compile statistics on the total amount of money spent annually on business entertainment.

But it does believe the figure is excessive and recently cracked down on tax deductions for entertainment. An educated guess would be $500 million a year at the minimum.

Not all of that is spent on whiskey and wine, of course, for much of it goes toward expensive food, companionable females and aisles seats at hit shows. But alcohol lubricates the wheels of business to a large extent, and a firm that is criticized for using it has the plausible answer that competition must be met.

WORK IN RELAYS

No corporation designates a man "vice president in charge of drinking with customers," and, in fact, the job of entertaining most often is assigned to several men, sometimes working in relays.

But Ivan Underwood, who made the study of executive drinking for Alcoholics Anonymous, thinks there are more hard drinkers in top jobs than anybody realizes:

"There are few people in better position to cover up their drinking than those in higher executive positions. Their time is for the most part their own and they are not under the constant surveilance that could detect the trend toward over indulgence . . .

"Club luncheons, mid-day entertaining of clients, conventions and all the other business occasions of which drinking has become an inseparable part face the executive with a very real danger . . .

"The company medical directors who are very much concerned with the problem of alcoholism in industry say that they may be aware of only about half of the alcoholics in their company. It is reasonable to suppose that a considerable number of these unknown alcoholics are in executive positions."

Even if a business man does not have the primary duty of entertaining customers, he can run into a day of heavy drinking through a combination of circumstances.

A CASE HISTORY

Herbert Brean in his book "a handbook for drinkers" cites the case history of one rough day in the life of a man he calls Bernard B.:

He has a big day's work ahead of him and he gets to the office early. He accomplishes a lot by lunch time when he departs to meet a friend. Bernard decides he will have only one drink, but the friend insists on two and he goes along.

He gets back to the office feeling a little dopey and tries to work hard because he has a date to meet a customer for a drink around 4 p.m.

Bernard decides he will have only one drink and after they have had it, he tries to excuse himself on the grounds he has an appointment back at the office.

The customer says you cannot fly on one wing, and they have another. Bernard tries again to get away but the customer says one for the road and they have a third.

Bernard phones his wife he will be late for dinner. He usually has one drink before dinner when he gets home, but tonight dinner has been held up so he has three.

NEIGHBOR VISITS

He is hoping to go to bed right after dinner, but at 8:30 p.m. a neighbor drops in to discuss plans for the spring golf tournament at the country club. Bernard offers him a drink and, under urging, takes one himself.

If you had asked Bernard that morning how many drinks he expected to take that day he would have said three at the most, adding that he really didn't want that many. Actually, he had taken nine drinks.

The point is that if Bernard has many days like that he soon will become accustomed to taking five, six or maybe nine drinks a day and thinking nothing of it.

Many big corporations are alert to the danger that alcohol will get a firm grip on their executives. A few even go so far as to put their younger men to the test by carefully observing their behavior at social and business functions.

Boy's Forearm Sewn Back On

RONALD MARION

Both bones in the forearm were broken and only a muscle and a half-inch of skin held the limb to the body.

Doctors at Ford Hospital here were not optimistic over the tiny boy's chances of retaining the arm. He was rushed to the hospital from the Sanilac County community in Michigan's Thumb and doctors sewed the arm back to the rest of the limb.

UNABLE TO USE IT

Even if the boy retains his arm, a hospital spokesman said, he would be unable to use it.

Two previous cases where arms were restored by doctors have met with only limited success.

Everett Knowles Jr., 12, Boston, had his arm restored in 1962 when it was cut off. The Knowles boy fell under a train in the mishap.

★ ★ ★

The first such operation was performed in August 1961, when Robert Orono of Los Angeles had his right arm sewed back on after it had been mangled and torn loose by a road tamper.

PITCHED FORWARD

Ronald was sitting on the lap of his grandfather, Morris Shadley, when the accident happened. Shadley was driving the power mower when Ronald suddenly pitched forward to grab a bush and fell under the mower.

The boy was taken to a local physician who called Ford Hospital and arranged to have a grafting operation performed immediately upon Ronald's arrival at the hospital.

Rules Hearing Set on Drive-In Trouble

ROYAL OAK (UPI)—The Royal Oak City Commission has scheduled a public hearing for Oct. 21 on tighter ordinance controls on youthful drivers leaving Woodward Ave. drive-in restaurants.

Amendments to the city ordinance have been recommended by City Manager Bruce W. Love and Police Chief Ray C. Hayward.

They included requiring driveins to put up movable barriers from 8 p.m. until closing to prevent the drivers from circling parking lots, penalties for driving through lots without stopping for service and penalties for gathering around autos which are parked in drive-ins.

Dodgers' Pennant Celebration Model of 'Propriety'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers had just clinched their first National League pennant in four years and all but obliterated the memory of their humiliating collapse in 1962.

But one of the most gratifying victory celebrations in Dodger history was strangely one of the most restrained.

There was probably a wilder celebration at Alf Landon's campaign headquarters after the 1936 election.

The trouble was they waited too long to hold the party. The Dodgers actually won the pennant last week in St. Louis, when they took three straight games from the Cardinals.

Worse yet, the Dodgers clinched the pennant Tuesday before they even got to the ballpark. The Cardinals were eliminated when they lost an afternoon game to the Cubs at Chicago.

LAST INNING

Inning-by-inning reports of the St. Louis-Chicago game were broadcast by a local radio station. In the last inning, the station picked up a play-by-play account direct from Wrigley Field.

The day's wildest demonstration may have been the one at the home of Dodger outfielder Wally Moon.

"I was out in my workshop when they picked up the broadcast of the ninth inning," Moon said. "My wife called me in. Then she went to school and took the kids out. We had a little family party."

Dietetic cola and cookies were consumed with reckless indulgence.

Moon drove in the deciding run with an eighth-inning single Tuesday night when the Dodgers scored a meaningless 4-1 victory over the New York Mets. Don Drysdale pitched seven innings for the Dodgers, allowed four hits and picked up his 19th victory.

"I don't think you could say we backed in," Manager Walt Alston told newsmen. "We played pretty good when the Giants were right on our tail and when we had to win in St. Louis.

"We might have gotten a little more kick out of it if we had won it right here ourselves by beating the Mets. But we can't feel too badly about it either way."

CONGRATULATIONS

"I walked over here to say congratulations so I could save the price of a wire," Casey said.

"That St. Louis series I thought was amazing. No doubt they were the best club in the league when you played them, and you took all three. It's amazing."

Bill Skowron, acquired by the Dodgers from the Yankees last winter, said he figures his new club has an excellent chance against his old one.

"I'll put it this way," he said. "I'd rather be going into the series with the Dodgers than with the Yankees. Great pitching always stops good hitting."

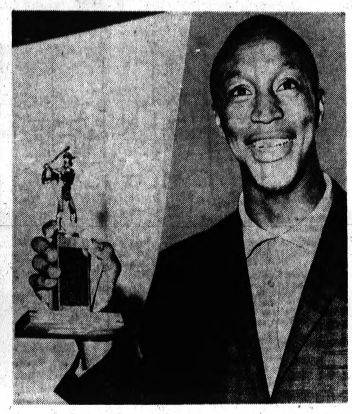

Moon predicted the Dodgers will win the series in five or six games, but conceded there's a chance it will take seven.

Left-hander Sandy Koufax, who will start against the Yankees in the series opener a week from today, will go against the Mets tonight. Koufax, a 24-game-winner, may get one other start before the season ends Sunday.

EFFORTS REWARDED — Successful seasons were concluded this summer in both the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's softball and baseball programs. In addition to Harvey's Colonial House and Huron-Airway winning the team championships in softball and baseball, respectively, Tom Studt (left) and Felix Brooks were voted the most valuable players in their leagues by the managers. Studt was a key performer on the softball champions; while Brook won the unofficial hitting and runs batted in titles in the hardball loop while playing for The Clippers. They are shown holding trophies presented them by The Press in recognition of their recreation accomplishments.

Studt, Brooks Named Most Valuable

By JERE CRAIG

A baseball playing mailman and a credit union employee who is a softball devotee have been voted the top players in the summer program sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Felix Brooks, the mailman, oddly enough never played varsity baseball while at Pontiac Central High School. Instead he won letters in track and cross-country.

Conversely, Tom Studt, who starred for Harvey's Colonial House city softball league champions, earned three letters while playing baseball at Augustana College in Rock Island, Ill.

PRESS AWARDS

In conjunction with the recreation department announcements, Brooks and Studt received trophies emblematic of their selections as the most valuable players in the leagues from The Press. Managers in both circuits balloted to determine the respective winners.

Brooks, also, received the Billy Pike award from the memorial committee honoring the former city league baseball standout. The committee also presented the Duke Greenway plaque to Roger Hayward of the Auburn Heights Boys Club junior baseball district champions.

Studt batted over .300 in both the city softball league and Inter - City circuit. A left-hander at the plate and in the field, he has patrolled left field on four of the last five city titlists.

Employed by the GMC Credit Union, he also played on a junior baseball championship team and two Waterford Township softball winners. He is 28 and lives with his wife Carol in Drayton Plains.

"Tom is a very conscientious player," manager Carl Shell reports. "He gives you all he's got. I have very high praise for him."

Brooks delivers mail on a South Saginaw Street route. In his spare time this summer, the lithe speedster covered the right field beat for the Clippers, a top contender in the city men's baseball league.

Gifted with a good throwing arm and fine defensive ability, he nonetheless attracted the most attention with his bat. He stroked Class A hurling for an unofficial .519 average with a late season rush that enabled him to win the city hitting and runs batted in laurels.

He has played recreation baseball in Pontiac for 11 years, and also was named the most valuable player in the basketball league two seasons ago while performing for the 300 Lounge title team.

SMU's Mustangs Optimistic for Game With Wolverines

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist's downtrodden Mustangs go to Ann Arbor Saturday with a more optimistic view of the situation than marked their football start last season.

They had gone through a nightmare of a campaign during which they won only two games and tied one and their coach was given the gate.

SMU played Maryland a tight ball game, however, and played all except one of the remaining games the same way.

And while they didn't win any more games than 1961 they tried so hard and fought so well their coach, Hayden Fry, who came in to try to pick up the pieces, was voted coach of the year by the sports writers.

And so, as 1963 dawned, Southern Methodist counted up, found it had 18 lettermen and a half-dozen top prospects from an unbeaten freshman team, that it would be bigger, faster and have more depth.

Fry said he figured playing Michigan Sept. 28 would be a tough way to start the season but he wasn't giving up and expected to play the Wolverines to the hilt.

SMALL LINE

Fry called Michigan improved over last year when it also won only a couple of games, pointing to the many fine sophomores and the size of the Wolverine teams.

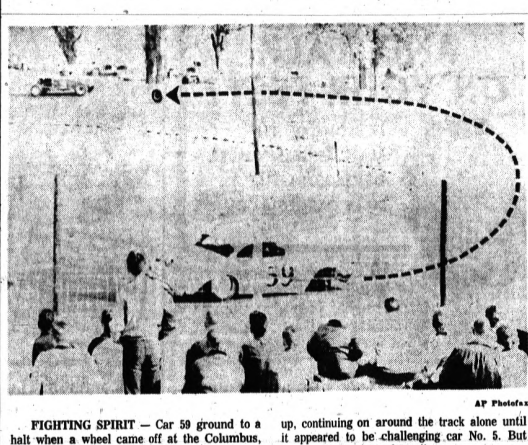

He will start a line that averages only 195 pounds to the man —a pretty small forward wall for college football.

Five of last year's starters are back — Don Campbell at quarterback, Billy Gannon at tailback, Bill Harlan at end, John Knee at tackle and John Hughes at guard.

Hughes is the heart of a Methodist defense that had the best teams talking to themselves last fall. His forte is intercepting passes.

The SMU starting lineup against Michigan will have 10 lettermen and one sophomore. It will be Harlan and John Graves at ends, Knee and Buddy Miller at tackles, Martin Cude and Jim Sitton, the sophomore, at guards, Hardy McAlister at center, Campbell at quarterback, Tommy Caughran and John Richey at halfbacks and Tom Sherwin at fullback.

Hughes probably won't start since he has become a defensive specialist and will be used on offense only when necessary.

Final Bow for Musial

NEW YORK (AP)—Next season Stan Musial will begin a new career with the St. Louis Cardinals as vice-president in charge of good will. That should be a breeze for Stan the Man. He's had more than 20 years experience at it.

In his long and honorable service with the Cardinals, Musial has earned fame, wealth and immortality with his bat but also with his innate good sense, restraint and balance. Despite his enormous individual gifts, he has been a star without a first person complex who always kept the welfare of his team ahead of his own.

A man of fierce pride, he is also a man of good humor and priceless disposition who never allowed himself the luxury of temperament. He has, in fact, never argued with an umpire. He is not just a player in St. Louis; he is also a leading citizen.

Fans of the Mound City, as well as those from all over the nation, will bid farewell Sunday to the National League's greatest player but they'll never forget him.

They'll remember him for his numerous records, for his peculiar, hip wiggling batting stance, for his iron man performances, for his versatility and they'll also remember him for his character, his integrity, his kindness, his consideration of others and for his wonderful ability to remain just plain Stan Musial despite his enormous greatness.

MANY TRIBUTES

All of his managers — Billy Southworth, Eddie Dyer, Marty Marion, Eddie Stanky, Harry Walker, Fred Hutchinson, Solly Hemus and Johnny Keane — have paid tribute to him. So have hundreds of persons from all walks of life, from Presidents to Butch Yatkeman, the Cards' clubhouse man.

"Musial is the greatest player of our time," said Stanky, "but what I remember best about Stan was his power of example...the way he used to make it easy for me as a manager by always being on time, not taking extra swings in batting practice, not flying ahead of the club. In other words, he never sought the extra privileges often demanded by top stars to the detriment of team morale."

"He's never changed," said Yatkeman, one of the few Cardinal employes who antedates Musial. "There's no difference between Musial the rookie and Musial the star. In all my years with the club, I've never heard him ask for a favor and never heard him turn one down."

Among those who will miss the 42-year-old Musial the most will be his long time friend and roommate, Red Schoendienst.

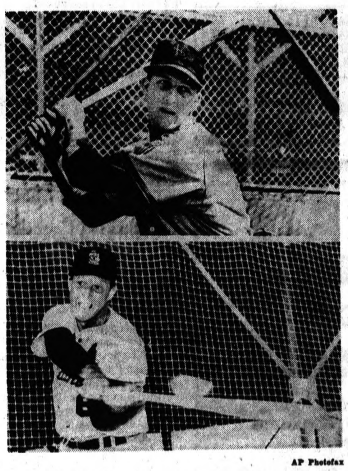

"He's the easiest person in the world to get along with," said the former brilliant second baseman now serving as a coach with the Cardinals. "He's the most unaffected, most agreeable and most even tempered guy I've ever known. I've been places with him where no one ever guessed he was the great Stan Musial."

"He's spoiled me," said club trainer Bob Baumann. "I expect everybody to be like him but nobody can. He never complains. He has the greatest tolerance of pain of any man I ever knew. He's played at times when lesser men would have folded."

BEST SEASON

In many ways, this season, his 22nd with the Cardinals, has been one of Stan's best despite his comparatively low batting average and almost complete loss of speed.

"He astounded me during the last 30 days of the season by the way he responded despite aches and pains and obvious weariness," marveled Manager Keane. "During the surge in which we won 19 of 20, he kept getting key hits that either tied the score or put us ahead. Every day I'd say to myself, 'He can't do it again,' but he did through some superhuman effort. I wanted to rest him but I didn't dare because I knew if I did I'd be hurting the club."

STAN THE MAN — Here's Stan Musial who has earned fame, wealth and immortality as a baseball player for the St. Louis Cardinals in a career spanning more than 20 years. He closes his active playing career Sunday. The photos show Musial in the batting cage during spring training, in March, 1956, top, and in March, 1963.

Gordie Howe Keeps Mark With 2 Goals

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe maintained his goal-a-game output Tuesday night, scoring two as the Detroit Red Wings defeated an All-Star team of Pittsburgh and Indianapolis farm hands, 4-1.

The goals were Howe's fourth and fifth of the exhibition season. The Wings have won three of the pre-season games and tied two.

The 35-year-old Howe, entering his 18th season with Detroit, scored in the first period and again in the second period, beating Hank Bassen both times.

A crowd of 5,462 paid $1 a seat to see the game proceeds go to the Detroit Olympic fund.

MSU-Michigan Contest Still Has Empty Seats

By United Press International

They're not exactly standing in line for Michigan-MSU football tickets this season but officials at both schools are still hoping for a sellout of the traditional clash Oct. 12.

"Tickets for the game have been moving slower this year than in previous years," said John Laetz, business manager for athletics at Michigan State. "But we still expect to draw a large crowd."

Laetz recalled that many times the grid classic between the state's top football powers had been a sellout in July and August.

However, U-M ticket manager Don Weir added, "The game doesn't always sell out until the week of the game."

The fact that neither the Spartans nor Wolverines are expected to be contenders for Big Ten or national honors in 1963 may be one reason for lagging sales.

Another reason, Weir points out, is that Michigan is charging students $12 for season seats this year where, in the past, they got in free.

This has sliced the expected student attendance for each game from 21,000 to 14,000, he said, but adds $168,000 to football revenue.

U-M'S GAME

Each school expects from 60,000 to 65,000 fans Saturday for their season openers. Michigan hosts Southern Methodist and the Spartans meet North Carolina.

Music will fill the air both at Michigan Stadium and Spartan Stadium with the annual band days pushed up to the first game. Michigan expects around 13,000 high school musicians while state has invited 3,500.

MSU is trying a new twist in ticket peddling this season. All Sears stores in Michigan and a few in Northern Ohio are selling Spartan tickets.

NL Flag Chase Ends Happily for Alston

Dentist Fixes Teeth; Cubs Clip Cardinals; Champagne Flows

By The Associated Press

Walt Alston was feeling no pain today.

It happened this way: Walt's dentist took care of his teeth, the Chicago Cubs took care of the St. Louis Cardinals and the champagne took care of everything else.

The champagne put the finishing touches on the 1963 National League pennant chase—some nine hours after Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers had clinched their first flag since 1959 without even so much as lifting a bat or throwing a pitch.

Alston had just left his dentist's chair Tuesday when the news was broadcast in Los Angeles that the Chicago Cubs had defeated second-place St. Louis 6-3 in a day game, eliminating the Cardinals and wrapping up the race for the Dodgers.

"Anybody who says we backed into the pennant missed our five games last week," said Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale before taking the mound in a night game and holding his own pennant celebration by posting his 19th victory in a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets.

As for Alston, he said he thought the pennant-clinching was "wonderful." But he didn't figure it would end the way it did. "I thought the Cardinals would win today and we'd win tonight."

NORMAL REACTION

Notified before they even reported to the ballpark that they were the National League champions, the Dodger players reacted as expected — except for catcher John Roseboro.

Veteran Wally Moon said, "I'm happy." Tommy Davis said, "It's a great feeling." Moose Skowron called it "real wonderful."

Roseboro's wife told him she had heard of the Cardinals' loss on the radio. She said Roseboro yawned, and went to take a nap.

The Dodgers had little opportunity to nap during the season until they moved into St. Louis last week with a one-game lead, swept a three-game series from the Cardinals and returned to Los Angeles with the pennant all but officially clinched.

Meanwhile, the American League champion New York Yankees began final preparations for the opening game of the World Series, Wednesday, Oct. 2 by trotting out the entire first-string—for the first time since June 5—and bombing the Los Angeles Angels 8-1.

★ ★ ★

Tony Kubek ss, Bobby Richardson 2b, Tom Tresh lf, Mickey Mantle cf, Roger Maris rf, Elston Howard c, Joe Pepitone 1b, Clete Boyer 3b, Whitey Ford p.

Ford brought his record to 24-7, going seven shutout innings before giving way to Ralph Terry. Elston Howard hit a three-run triple in a four-run first inning against Bo Belinsky and the Yankees rolled the rest of the way. Mantle and Maris, in and out of the line-up all year, each stroked one hit.

BULLPEN HELP

Drysdale, 19-17, had Ron Perranski's relief help in beating the Mets after allowing four hits in seven innings. Wally Moon broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh with a single that drove home Marv Breeding. Moon had only one hit in 26 previous trips to the plate.

Red Wings Sign Three

DETROIT (AP) —Norm Ullman, Bruce McGregor and Floyd Smith signed their 1963-64 contracts with the Detroit Red Wings Tuesday, bringing to 10 the number of players in the fold.

BOWLING

Other first day scores saw 300 Bowl defeat Airway Lanes, 21-12, Wonderland Lanes top Cooley Lanes, 11-8, Sylvan Lanes make a successful debut, 15-8, over Montcalm Centre Howe's Lanes nipped Dixie Bowl, 15-14, and North Hill Lanes forfeited to Fairgrounds Bowling, 4-0.

The Rothbarths played key roles in Sunday's action. Ron came up with a 217 closing game victory to give Howe's its one-point win over Dixie. In all, Ron Rothbarth accounted for eight of his team's 15 points.

Mike Samardzija Jr. led Huron Bowl with 215-213-194 for four points. Other high scores reported were Pat Treacy's 243 and Chuck Williams' 240 for Sylvan Lanes, a 248 by Paul Horie of Wonderland and a 240 by Airway's Bob Hudson.

In Huron Bowl's Rolling Pin League, Mary Wood posted the first game over 200 when she bowled a 211 last week. The Blind Bowlers Loop reported Irene Palen with a 151 and Ray Wadley a 162-144 the first week.

The North Hill Lanes Junior Bowling League Saturday morning witnessed a 236 game by Tom Tadajewski, although Dave Carpenter took high series honors with a 566 total. The Tigers five-man team rolled a 1,002 team game.

Giants Send Guglielmi to Frisco

NEW YORK (AP)—Forced into an early-season shift in manpower in their quest for a third straight Eastern Division title in the National Football League, the New York Giants have traded reserve quarterback Ralph Guglielmi.

The well-traveled former All-America from Notre Dame was sent to the San Francisco 49ers Tuesday along with a 1963 draft choice for defensive back Eddie Wood.

The deal was triggered by the Giants' first regular season shutout loss in 10 years, Sunday's 31-0 rout by Pittsburgh. Guglielmi was ineffective as the replacement for injured quarterback Y. A. Tittle, and defensive halfback Allan Webb came out of the rugged battle with a twisted knee that probably will keep him out of next Sunday's game at Philadelphia.

With Webb sidelined, the Giants could have put rookie quarterback and defensive back Glyn Griffing on fulltime defensive duty and gone with two quarterbacks — Tittle and Guglielmi. Instead, they decided to promote Griffing to No. 2 quarterback and use Guglielmi as trade material for defensive secondary help.

"We think we gave Guglielmi a real chance," commented Coach Allie Sherman of the Giants. "Maybe not in game time, but in a lot of other ways. When we decided on two quarterbacks, we felt Griffing had shown enough for the job."

BIG GAMBLE

This is a gamble for the Giants. Tittle has recovered from the rib injury suffered in the opening day victory over Baltimore, but he is 36 years old. And his new understudy has had just 10 minutes of pro experience, gained last Sunday in finishing up the debacle against the Steelers.

But the Giants feel Griffing was a better risk at second string than Guglielmi, and in that case they needed another defensive back to free the Mississippi rookie from double duty.

Guglielmi, 29, was the top draft choice of the Washington Redskins in 1955 and was with the club through 1960, with two years out in the Air Force. He spent 1961 with St. Louis, then was swapped to the Giants.

Pro Football Probe Clears QB Conerly

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP) — Old quarterback Charley Conerly, cleared by the National Football League of any wrongdoing in financial dealings with accused gambler Maurice Lewis, repeated today he knew Lewis only as a successful businessman and still considered him his friend.

At the same time, he struck out at first published accounts of the transactions, claiming they were one-sided and based upon incomplete information.

"The whole thing probably wouldn't have happened if they'd have asked my side of the story," the 42-year-old former New York Giants star said in reference to disclosures last Friday that he had accepted five checks from Lewis in 1961 and 1962 totaling $9,575.

Grouse, Deer Seasons Coming Up

Prospects Good for Next Week

Shotgunners Go North; Bows for Whitetails

That is the day Michigan's hunters can quit shooting trap or skeet with shotguns and go after grouse, squirrels, rabbits and woodcock in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Michigan.

Archers will infiltrate woodlands around the state with deer as the legal target instead of paper tacked against a straw backstop.

Duck hunters will go into action four days later on Oct. 5.

The state's army of pheasant hunters must wait until the small game season opens Oct. 21 in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula.

Although there is an indication that grouse are starting on the down cycle, the kill is expected to come close to last year's total. Michigan set a woodcock kill record for the nation in 1962 and this mark is expected to be topped this fall.

The dividing line for Zones 2 and 3 is M20 between Muskegon and Saginaw Bay. Hunting in Zone 2 will be prohibited Oct. 21 until 10 a.m. to coincide with the opening of the pheasant season.

RUFFED GROUSE (Pats)—Oct. 1-Nov. 10. 5 daily, 10 in possession, 25 for season.

RABBITS AND SNOWSHOE HARES — Oct. 1-March 1. 5 daily, 10 in possession, 50 in season (all limits singly or combined).

SQUIRRELS — Oct. 1.-Nov. 10. (no season on fox squirrels in the Upper Peninsula). 5 daily, 10 in possession, 25 in season (limits singly or combined).

WOODCOCK — Oct. 1.-Nov. 10. 5 daily, 10 in possession.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS AND SHARPTAILS — Zone 1, Oct. 1-Nov. 10. No open season on Drummond Island, Baraga, Gogebic, Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon Counties. 2 daily, 4 in possession, 8 in season.

Zone 2—Oct. 21-31 in parts of Antrim, Otsego, Crawford, Roscommon, Missaukee and Kalkaska Counties. Sharptails only, no open season on prairie chickens. Limits same as Zone 1. (limits singly or combined).

DEER (archery)—Entire state Oct. 1-Nov. 5. Deer of either sex can be taken except in Menominee and Emmett Counties and the mainland part of Chippewa County where only bucks are legal. Limit is one per hunter.

BEAR (archery) — same as deer. (Keweenaw County closed to bear this year).

Duck Tourney Set Sunday

Pointe Mouille Site of Annual Event

Duck hunters will jump the gun on the opening of the season with the 16th annual tournament Sunday.

The gun will be a punt-gun, a cannon ten feet long, a wild fowling weapon that has been in the family of George Storey for 114 years. The Storey punt-gun is fired to start tournament events.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Duck Hunters' Tournament is held each year at the Point Mouillee state game area headquarters on the Sunday prior to the opening of the season.

The tournament was originated by Hy Dahlka of the Trenton Sportsmen's Club, who is permanent chairman of the tournament committee.

The 1963 event is sponsored by the Trenton Sportsmen's Club and the Gasco Sportsmen's Club in cooperation with the Department of Conservation.

With clay birds substituted for ducks, contests are held in various types of duck shooting. There is a hip-boot race through the marsh, a decoy show and contest.

There will also be an exhibit of championship decoys by the world champion decoy maker, Tom Schroeder of Fairhaven.

Migrating Ducks Now Arriving at Kensington

Migrating waterfowl are starting to pay their annual visit to Wildwing Lake in Kensington Metropolitan Park south of Milford.

★ ★ ★

In recent days the resident Canada Geese and the locally raised mallards, black and wood ducks have been joined by a few widgeon, a species that does not nest in Kensington Park. A few Wilson's snipe have also been observed by naturalists at the park.

★ ★ ★

As autumn continues, other species are expected to visit for a few days or for several weeks, with some expected to stay until the lake freezes.

The best time to view the ducks is during morning hours.

Afternoon Session Is Planned

Obedience Class Draws 62 Canines

A total of 62 dogs were registered for obedience training classes at Bloomfield Hills High School Monday.

"And we expect more," said Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club president Reg Armstrong. SMOTC conducts the weekly sessions for canines and their owners.

Schools are also getting under way at Whitfield school in Pontiac, Woodard school in Rochester and Walled Lake Junior High. Additional registrations are being accepted in Walled Lake.

The training club is attempting to organize an afternoon class at the Waterford CAI building. Registrations are being accepted for night sessions at that location.

"If we can get enough interested dog owners, say nine or 10 at the least, for the afternoon, we'll hold a class," said Armstrong. The first class is tentatively scheduled next Wednesday.

"We will set whatever time the people prefer," Armstrong pointed out.

Those interested in the afternoon obedience work can obtain additional information by phoning 682-3260 or FE 5-8467.

Lake Orion's Dave Grubb had a successful day last Sunday handling dogs in the Southwest Michigan Field Trials near Benton Harbor.

He directed a pointer, Coal Smoke, owned by John Martin of Witchita, Kan., to first place in the open derby and Skylight Doctor, a setter, owned by John Stopka of Mt. Morris to third place.

He will be at the Lake Huron Trials near Port Huron this week-end.

Liston Plans New Tour

DENVER (AP) — Sonny Liston will resume his European boxing tour "in a couple of weeks" and then will probably go to Capetown, Union of South Africa, a spokesman said Tuesday.

The tour would include an exhibition for American servicemen at Frankfurt, Germany.

Jim Bunning's 1-0 Win Over Nats His Tiger Finale?

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Bunning's surprising change of heart in the closing days of the season saved one of his best for front office — was his last game with the Tigers, what — unless there is a sur- prising change of heart in the front office — was his last game in a Tiger uniform.

He'll pitch no more as the Tigers play their final four games this season. And he's expected to be one of the first frontliners to go when the Tigers start their planned wholesale trading in the off-season.

When it was over, manager Charlie Dressen's talk again drifted to next year. Wert was mentioned prominently. Bunning wasn't.

Dressen said Bunning will be bypassed in the final three-game series at Baltimore starting Friday. He'd rather look at rookie Denny McLain — who was to pitch in today's Tiger Stadium finale — Sunday in what would normally be Bunning's turn.

★ ★ ★

"McLain's the guy I'm depending upon to be one of my starters next year," said Dressen. "I like him a lot, and so what if he's only 19. A lot of young pitchers can make it up here."

MORE EXPENDABLE

If the right - handed McLain comes through, that'd make Bunning a little more expendable in the Tigers' thinking. It's no secret the Tigers' top brass as well as Dressen is down on Bunning, who pitched 7½ seasons in Detroit.

He's only had a losing record twice over a complete season — 1960 and this year, which he finished with a 12-13 record.

The Tigers got only three hits for Bunning Tuesday — and he had one of them himself. That has been Bunning's case much of this season — strong pitching and little hitting support.

Osteen, who lost a three-hitter, had a no-hitter until Wert's sixth homer with one out in the fifth. Bunning gave up eight hits, struck out eight and allowed only one Senator to advance as far as second.

The game was played in one hour, 44 minutes — fastest in Tiger Stadium since Aug. 7, 1960.

Senator Hart at Torch Run

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D Mich., will represent Michigan Friday at ceremonies here launching a 2,521-mile relay to dramatize Detroit's bid for the 1968 Olympic games.

★ ★ ★

He will join with Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty in sending off the first of more than 200 distahce runners who will carry an Olympic torch non-stop from the Los Angeles Collseum to Detroit's city-county building by Oct. 10.

The Detroit Olympic Committee and the National Amateur Athletic Union are co-sponsoring the "Olympic Torch Run—Detroit 1968."

2 Receivers Among Ailing Detroit Lions

Barr, who has been plagued with leg trouble for the past two seasons, was limping yesterday because of a pulled muscle suffered in the Lions' 31-10 licking at the hands of Green Bay Sunday.

Cogdill, who nearly gave the Lions fits when they thought he'd be sidelined with a thigh injury for several weeks, said yesterday the injury didn't appear as bad as it had earlier.

Also ailing from various leg injuries are defensive ends Darris McCord and Sam Williams and halfback Dick Compton.

Bill Proposes Repealing Tax on Ring Sports

LANSING (AP) — A bill to bolster professional boxing and wrestling in Michigan by wiping out the five per cent tax on gross television receipts has been proposed in the legislature.

Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, sponsor of the bill, said promoters of professional fights have complained the tax discourages the staging of championship and other important bouts in Michigan.

Winners of Go-Karts

Morrow was followed by Dan Trowbridge and Harry Edwards in Juniors; Minton, Ken Hadcroft and Gary Wells took A-stock heavy honors. Evelyn Diehl was followed in A-stock lite by Percy Clark and John Carroll and Owen Laughlin and George Diehl followed behind Kline in A-unlimited.

Racing continues next Sunday afternoon.

JFK Will Discuss What Happens to U.S. Wilderness

By DOU GHUIGEN

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Sections of the country far from the public spotlight will be the center of attraction this week when President Kennedy inspects conservation and resource development projects.

Less than one-half of 1 per cent of the continental United States qualifies for the most rigid definition of the term wilderness. Most of it is in the northern Rockies.

Use of the word wilderness makes it controversial. Some industries consider it a last frontier for opening up new sources of raw material. On the other side, it is argued that at least a few areas should be conserved in their frontier natural state as a recreational heritage for future generations.

PRESIDENTIAL POINTS

The President can be expected to make a point of wilderness values. The administration supports legislation to preserve thousands of wilderness acres that was approved by the Senate a year ago and now is awaiting House action.

Wilderness preservation has been a concept since it was realized that use of the land and conservation of resources had to be compatible. The National Park Service and U.S. Forest Service were early developments of this thinking.

* * *

In 1931 the first public land was classed as "primitive" by administrative order. By 1940, some areas which still qualified were placed under the more restrictive "wilderness" classification.

The proposed wilderness law is controversial in the West where mining and lumbering are major industries. It would require that any changes in the vast system come only after presidential and congressional action.

14 MILLION ACRES

Some 14 million acres of national forest land presently are classified as wilderness, wild or primitive. These areas range from the 801,000-acre North Cascade primitive area of north central Washington to the 35,267 acres of Devil Canyon - Bear Canyon primitive area only a 40-mile drive from Los Angeles. There are the 5,400-acre Great Gulf wild area in New Hampshire's White Mountains and 886,673 acres of the Boundary Waters canoe area in northeastern Minnesota.

The largest and one of the most recently designated wilderness areas, the Selway-Bitterroot of Montana and Idaho, provides an example of the pressures involved in preserving such an area.

lion acres of roadless mountains, forests, lakes and streams. However, a privately owned landing strip was established before the area was redesignated from wilderness to primitive status in 1962.

In the lengthy hearings, some groups contended that protecting the area as wilderness would forever lock up valuable mining and logging areas. Wilderness enthusiasts argued the area's value in material resources was relatively low, that its recreational potential alone was of more worth than the multiple-use status of most national forest land.

Several thousand acres were excluded from the original proposal as boundaries were pulled back from planned or existing roads and farmers successfully fought for a high mountain irrigation reservoir.

Miners and loggers are not always antiwilderness. Within 100 miles of the Selway - Bitterroot, hearings resulted in establishment of the 157,903-acre Anaconda-Pintlar wilderness with relatively little opposition; there was agreement that mineral and timber resources were low.

Conservationists point out that as nonstop jet flights, electric can openers, Telstar communications and radio-controlled garage doors become more common, value of natural surroundings increases.

National parks provide natural scenic wonders — and man-made conveniences — for millions of tourists each year. But the parks are becoming as crowded as cities.

Wilderness will never be visited to the extent national parks and forests are used by the public. If it should be, it would cease being wilderness.

* * *

Congress has the job of deciding what will become of this wilderness—the last unchanged portion of public domain.

He Can Be Helped With Effort

Learn to Spot 'Scatterbrained' Student

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the eleventh in a series of articles on faulty learning habits and what to do about them.)

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

The student often called a scatterbrain says the first thing that comes to his mind. His responses are influenced by prejudice and emotion as well as lack of due consideration.

★ ★ ★

He usually does well on short answer tests but poorly on open-end questions. He can give you the facts but cannot relate them to problems.

In class he seems to be paying attention and can repeat specific information just encountered. But he cannot relate it to previous knowledge.

DR. NASON

As problems become more complex, both in and out of school this student meets more and more frustration.

Evidence of the onset of such a faulty thinking habit may be the child's desire to please, to show off, or to always be first.

At an early age he supplies answers for others — is quick to correct or add to statements made by other children. Given a chance, he tends to say what he is thinking about rather than seriously considering the question asked by the teacher.

By the third grade he blurts out answers and interrupts others.

A little later he may have become stubborn about holding a single idea in mind, and can insist on saying it even though the class has passed on to other matters.

Reading of long assignments is now difficult. He understands each idea as he reads it, lets each new idea take over the center of attention as he comes to it and, at the end of the assignment, remembers very little of what he has read.

As the student proceeds through high school and into college, the habit of one idea at a time, with sudden responses, progressively interferes with true learning. He fails to see similarities, and teaching him by analogy is ineffective. He has trouble with multiple choice tests, which is unfortunate because so many are now in use.

To nip such tendencies in the bud, mothers must take time to discuss problems and events with their children, and help them form habits of thinking about all of the possibilities involved.

SIMPLE GAME

Good thinking procedures can be developed. For example try a simple game of "How many kinds of animals have four legs?" Each child in turn gets to name an animal, being careful not to use a name already presented.

A child must hold many names in mind while endeavoring to think up another one. There are endless variations of this type of activity.

In higher grades, reading assignments should include questions to be answered through the reading. The questions should become progressively more difficult calling for the relating of cause and effect or the analysis of situations.

Pencil and paper lists of ideas should be used when necessary to bring a great number of facts to bear on a problem.

Use of the Jacoby Transfer Bid (JTB) after an opening bid of two no-trump is most effective.

JACOBY

Three clubs is Stayman, three diamonds, a heart transfer, and three hearts a spade transfer.

The use of the transfer bid allowed South to play four spades after he made the wise decision to go to four spades instead of passing three no-trump.

North's three heart response was a transfer bid. He followed up with a bid of three no-trump to inform his partner that he held a hand that might play spades. It was just as well that he did. Almost any line of defense would beat three no-trump provided that West remembered to duck two spades but the only way to beat four spades would be for the defenders to upset the table and steal a trick in the resulting confusion.

Of course, this hand does not represent any great triumph for the transfer bid. If North were declarer he would make four spades also.

No convention is so good that it leads to a gain every time it comes up. The only thing about the transfer bid is that when you do get to use it, you are far more likely to get a favorable result than if you are not playing the convention.

Kingston Trio Says Folk Music Isn't Due to Decline

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Is folk music due for a decline?

The Kingston Trio, the fellows who started the craze, have this to say: "Nothing can kill folk music; it's too basic in the American consciousness. It won't be like calypso, which went out of style because of overplaying. But the profusion of folk acts is bound to cut in on the business."

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

The Kingstons' spokesman most often is stubby Nick Reynolds. John Stewart, the handsome chap who replaced founder Dave Guard, also lends a comment or two. The silent member is Bob Shane.

The Kingstons, who actually started out as a calypso combo (hence the name), switched to folk and found the mother lode with "Tom Dooley." Many more followed.

'TOO MANY'

"Too many," remarked Nick. "The business can take just so many attractions. Supposing Peter, Paul and Mary are booked into a town for a concert. Then comes a 'Hootenanny' troupe. Then we come along soon after. Somebody is bound to suffer."

So far the trio hasn't. They were here for a sell-out smash at the Greek Theater, and that has been pretty much the usual thing wherever they go. Their records continue selling at a rapid clip.

Their success may be partly the cause for so-called purists to look down their noses at the trio. The boys just aren't ethnic—a word that is carried like a flag by the dead-serious devotees of the folk art.

"We're entertainers," stressed Reynolds. "We just played the Dunes in Las Vegas and it was a real pleasure to be accepted for what we are. The audiences were not interested in our ethnic qualities. They wanted to be entertained.

RESPONSE GREAT

"The same was true in England where we went earlier this year. Except for 'Tom Dooley' and 'Where Have All the Flowers Gone?', they weren't familiar with our work. They accepted us as entertainers and the response was great."

Despite the ethnic critics, the Kingston Trio remains in the forefront of the folk field in terms of public acceptance. In communities all over America young people have taken up guitar and banjo in imitation.

"They're lucky," observed Stewart. "They are able to hear and learn from good guitar and banjo work, whereas we had no one to pattern after when we were starting out."

"A good number of the kids who knock us can play and sing better than we do," added Shane.

"I think the tide is turning," said Reynolds. "We used to be 'out' with the smart crowd. Now we're starting to be 'in.'"

What Study Materials Do You Need?

By THE READING LABORATORY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Before we start talking about the best ways to handle textbooks and tests, there's just one more item we have to cover — the materials you need for effective study.

The notebook is the most important piece of equipment you need as a student.

This might sound a little elementary, but too many students get into course difficulty because they don't keep the right kind of notebooks, or don't keep them in the right way — or don't keep notebooks at all.

Get yourself a notebook for each course, preferably the kind with the coiled wire binding; they lie flat for easy reading and writing and the pages are easily removable.

Above all, keep the notebook clean. When you take notes in class, take them quickly but take them as neatly as possible — unless you plan to recopy them.

There's no more pitiable sight than the student who has taken ultra-complete class notes only to find that when it comes time to study he can't read them.

ARE YOU DOODLER?

If you're a doodler (and who isn't?), get into the habit of carrying a doodle book with you. Just get an extra notebook, bring it to class, and if the work that day is such that you don't have to take notes, then doodle in your doodle book.

Whenever you're seized with an uncontrollable urge to doodle, have your doodle book handy; it'll save a lot of notebooks.

Whenever you run across a new word, write it down. Then once a week you can look up all of the week's new words in the dictionary.

And after you look them up, use them. You'll impress all of your friends — and teachers — if you keep a good vocabulary notebook.

NOTEBOOK FOR IDEAS

Remember a few chapters back when we talked about all of the outside reading that you're going to do? Sure you do.

You're reading a nonrequired book and one of the better magazines for at least 15 minutes a day. Right? Well, if you're really enterprising you might also get a notebook for all of the new ideas you're getting from that outside reading.

Finally, if you're in a spending mood, a set of 3x5 flash cards can be a great help for learning foreign language vocabulary. Write down the new word on one side of the card, its English equivalent on the other.

We'll talk more about note taking later. For now, just remember that a textbook has a lot of pages.

If you can start to keep most of what you have to know in notebooks, you can save a lot of reading at the end of each term.

Michigan 4th in Size of Pay for Jobless

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michigan ranks fourth in the amount of jobless pay available to unemployed workers, Commerce Clearing House (CCH) news bureau reports.

Only Alaska, Massachusetts and Connecticut provide higher benefits than the Wolverine State, according to a survey by the national office which provides reports on tax and business law.

In Alaska an unemployed man can draw a maximum of $70 per week, while in Massachusetts the basic maximum for a single jobless worker is $45, but $6 additional is provided for each dependent child. The maximum in Connecticut is $67 per week.

Michigan's maximum under a law revised this year which boosted benefits by $5 per week, is $60.

The CCH news bureau report showed the lowest weekly maximum rates are paid in Alabama and Oklahoma, where $32 is specified by law.

Commission Chief Has Been Selected

LANSING (AP) — A spokesman for Gov. George Romney said yesterday that a new public service commission chief has been picked although an announcement on the choice would not be made until later this week.

Among those under consideration for the post was Robert McIntosh, a Port Huron attorney and former U.S. congressman.

The vacancy was created with the resignation of Thomas Burns of Saginaw, who left to return to his law practice. The three-man commission has the authority and power to regulate public utilities, including electric light and power companies, gas, telephone, telegraph, oil and pipe line companies, motor carriers and railroads.

Kiwanis Sets Travel Series

Ireland's Countryside Scene of First Film

Armchair travelers will be taken around the world, with the first stopoff in Ireland, in the Downtown Kiwanis Club's annual travel and adventure series beginning Oct. 8.

Seven noted photographer-lecturers will appear during the series, said Kiwanis travel and adventure committee chairman Curtis E. Patton.

Lecturer Willis Butler presents the first color film tour. It will cover Ireland's countryside, festivals, folkways and historic spots. These include Blarney Castle, Galway Bay and the cities of Dublin and Belfast.

AMAZON TRIP

Curtis Nagel will screen "Road to Mandalay," Dec. 3; Thayer Soule will present "Footloose in France" Jan. 21; Karl Robinson appears Feb. 25 with "Story of Hong Kong."

The series comes to a close with Spence Crilly's "Budapest Today," on March 17, and Clifford J. Kaman's "Mexico — on the Trail of Cortez," April 14.

20 Bombs Exploded in Colombia; None Hurt

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Terrorists exploded about 20 small bombs in three Colombian cities Tuesday night. Damage was slight and no casualties were reported.

Two persons were arrested in Bogota, where 14 bombs went off. One exploded 20 yards from the main entrance to the presidential palace, shattering some palace windows. Officials blamed Communists.

Market Gains, Anyway

Profit Takers Trim Stock Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—A powerful upsurge by blue chips was followed by profit taking, but the stock market remained higher in heavy trading early Wednesday.

Expected passage by the House of President Kennedy's $11-billion tax cut measure lent a psycholog-ical stimulus to trading, but this was already being discounted as speculators skimmed the cream from the stock rise.

Enthusiastic buying of a num-ber of the glamorous office-equip-ment and photographic stocks brought them early gains but many of these were wiped out in the wave of profit-taking.

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading. Barnes Engineering spurted more than 3 points on publication of an article in a national magazine about one of the company's prod-ucts. Gulton Industries and San Carlos Milling gained more than a point, Stanley Aviation was a 2-point loser. Padding "A" and Syn-tex dropped a point or so. Frac-tional gainers included General Gas Corp., Israel-American Oil, Utah-Idaho Sugar, North Canadian Oils and Lease Plan International.

Down fractionally were Falcon Seaboard Drilling, White Stag "A" and Mackey Airlines. Ray-ette was off about a point.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR SINcere wish of thanks and appreciation to Dr. Milton H. Banks, Pursley Funeral Home and Friends from his Brothers and Sisters. Lucius Davis.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PHIL D. Orencia, who passed away two years ago Sept. 25, 1961.
Our pain is not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, Our hearts are sore
As time goes by, we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face and Ways

British Royal Children Begin Fall School Term

The prince was driven to the school from Balmoral Castle by his father, the Duke of Edinburgh. Charles' sister, Princess Anne, 13, began her lessons Monday at Benenden School for girls near London.

FIRST OFFICIAL PHOTO — The U.S. Senate in session was officially photographed yesterday for the first time in the chamber's history. The work was done by National Geographic Society photographers for the U.S. Capitol Historical Society. The picture was made during vote on the test-ban treaty.

Barry's Running Mate?

Woman Veep Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith is once again being talked about as a possible Republican vice presidential candidate, as she has been at intervals ever since she first was elected to the Senate in 1948.

Maine's champion vote getter, Mrs. Smith says she is startled by the mail she has received urging her to run on the GOP ticket next year. But she also says she is realistic enough to know she doesn't have a chance.

Regardless of how much she may discount her chances, associates said today a fairly steady stream of mail flows in suggesting her for the No. 2 spot—particularly as a running mate for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona if he becomes the Republican nominee.

★ ★ ★

When Mrs. Smith joined Goldwater Tuesday in voting against ratification of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, some political observers saw this as a sign she might be moving in that direction.

VOTED AGAINST

When newsmen asked her about it, she pointed out that the day before she had voted against Goldwater's reservation to delay the effectiveness of U.S. ratification until the removal of Soviet nuclear weapons and military personnel from Cuba had been verified by the United Nations.

Aides of Goldwater said he has not made overtures to Mrs. Smith or anyone else about the vice presidential nomination. They emphasized he hasn't even announced whether he would be a candidate for the presidential nomination.

Despite the absence of any declaration from Goldwater, he got a boost Tuesday from Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., who called a news conference to announce his support of the Arizona senator for president.

As New Hampshire's senior Republican, Cotton said he expects to be a candidate for delegate to the GOP national convention in the state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary next year and will fight for Goldwater's nomination.

LETTERS URGE

Aides of Mrs. Smith said she has received some letters urging her to enter the New Hampshire primary to give voters a choice other than Goldwater or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

She has replied that while she appreciates the suggestion, she doesn't have the time, the money, or the organization to go after the presidential nomination.

No woman ever has been nominated for president or vice president, but letters she has received urging her as Goldwater's running mate suggest she not only would draw the women's vote but also would provide geographical balance for the ticket.

Menominee Sailor Dies En Route to Hospital

HANCOCK (AP) — Vernon C. Spaude, 33, of Menominee, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Medical Center yesterday after the Coast Guard picked him off a freighter five miles out in Lake Superior and rushed him here.

A Coast Guard patrol boat removed Spaude, a crew member, from the steamer Thomas Girdler, and took him to Lilypond, near the mouth of the Portage canal. He was rushed by car to the hospital. Doctors said he died of a heart attack.

Midwest Chorine Blasts Mink-Hunting 'Sisters'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Miss Debbie Agin, a prominent (and beautiful) figure in the undressed Latin Quarter chorus, is giving sermonettes these nights about the conduct of other Broadway and Hollywood girls of the so-called "nuder gender."

"It's getting ridiculous," says Debbie — referring to efforts of Suzanne LeRoy, who sits next to her at the makeup table, to prove the chorus gals are gold-digging for millionaires and minks.

"Suzanne had a millionaire husband," says Debbie, "and he wasn't any gem. Millionaires usually aren't gems."

It's when Suzanne goes on TV and talks of bringing back the Ziegfeld champagne era that Debbie, who's from Cincinnati, Battle Creek and Detroit, rises righteously and says:

"Audrey Hepburn and Katherine Hepburn don't pose naked," she says. "They have talent. Actresses say it's 'art.' It's box-office They know it. Same as with us. We're handed scanty costumes—we wear them."

New Marine Chief Has Eyes on Space

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marines' new space-minded commandant has some ideas that may strike a chill in the hearts of Navy men.

Lt. Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr. met with newsmen Tuesday soon after being named to become the new Marine commandant at the end of this year.

This sent newsmen digging around to learn more about the views of the 55-year-old Marine planning expert who until now has stood in the shadow of Gen. David M. Shoup, the colorful Medal of Honor winner he will succeed as the Marines' 23rd commandant.

TALK TO NAVY

Greene discussed some of his advanced concepts in a talk to a Navy League group in Boston on Sept. 14—a talk which generally went unnoticed.

Greene said then the impact of space technology on the projection of national military power "is staggering to contemplate."

Then he asked a rhetorical question which some Navy advocates might consider heresay—especially coming from a senior officer in the Navy's sister service.

SUPPLEMENT OR REPLACE?

"Will rocket operations then in this new sea supplement or replace conventional sea power and amphibious operations?" Greene asked.

"Glimmering on the horizon of our research and development endeavor today is the thought of applying present space rocket technology to the transport of Marine Corps troops," Greene told the Navy League group.

Among other things, Greene envisioned rockets which would hug the earth and speed at 4,000 miles an hour in delivering troops, ammunition and supplies across the surface of the world. He said: "these things can be done with very little, if any, additional research and development."

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

• What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

• Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

• Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

• Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

• GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most healthful food known; (2) Your family will like its nutlike flavor. If you are not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carrollton, Michigan, for full refund.

Elected to succeed Goodnow as first vice president was Christian F. Matthews of Mount Clemens. Matthews served during the last year as second vice president.

20 Area Motorists Ordered Off Road

Jesse Cooks, 133 Houston; Morris C. Jackson, 260 Luther; David Kaake, 400 Ferry; James M. Miskimins, 986 Premont; Perry E. Myers, 456 Mount Clemens; and Charles D. Ray, 5835 Shetland;

Others were Wesley J. Howie, 1003 E. Thompson, Holly; Anthony E. Kenny, 18385 Bedford, Birmingham; Edward G. LeFevers, 2900 Cordell, Keego Harbor; Daniel R. Payne, 3789 Percy King, Waterford Township; and Harold L. Zimmerman, 2940 Woodlawn, Walled Lake.

FINANCIAL

Highest winds in the area, forecasters said, were better than 25 knots.

Polish Bishops Get Passports to Council

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—State authorities have issued passports to 31 Polish bishops including Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski to attend the Vatican Council, a Roman Catholic Church official said Tuesday.

An official at the Warsaw Curia said it is hoped that more of the 48 bishops who applied for passports will receive them in time for the reconvening of the council next Sunday in Rome.

Thirty-one bishops would be the largest delegation from Poland or any other Iron Curtain country ever to travel abroad, but the number is still less than half of Poland's total of 65 bishops.

Dems Confident on Tax Vote

AP Photofax

Ideas Growing for Tax Reform

LANSING (UPI)—A divergence of legislative opinion on how to reshape Michigan's tax structure vastly broadened the proposed path to fiscal reform last night.

The new proposals, which sharpened the belief that Gov. George Romney will have no easy time pushing his own sweeping tax reform plan to passage, included:

● A demand from Sen. John J. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, that no income tax be adopted without a constitutional referendum, which would also freeze the rate of such a tax.

● A resolution from five other Republican senators seeking a constitutional amendment that would limit the personal income tax to 5 per cent, the corporate tax to 7 per cent and the financial institutions tax to 10 per cent.

● A recommendation from Sen. Stanley F. Rozycki, D-Detroit, that all tax reform be postponed until next year so the legislature could devise its own tax and spending reforms.

● An alternative tax program, proposed by Democratic Sens. Basil Brown and Stanley Novak of Detroit, calling for 5 per cent personal income and 10 per cent corporate profit taxes.

● And various proposals in both the House and Senate calling either for minor changes in the governor's program or for incorporation of new features in his plan.

All these ideas will be up for discussion during the next two weeks as the tax committees of both chambers hold public hearings throughout the state.

★ ★ ★

Basically it appeared the major concern of many legislators is that there is no guarantee the income tax Romney wants the legislature to enact will remain at the same level he has asked.

Another Blast in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Another bomb blast shook Birmingham today a few hours after a two-man presidential team arrived to help restore racial unity to the big steel city.

There were no reports of casualties and no disorder.

The latest bombing — Birmingham has had more than 40 since World War II—was in a middle-income Negro neighborhood on Birmingham's south side, across town from the 16th Street Baptist church where four girls were killed in a blast Sept. 15.

CLIMAXED MONTHS

The church bombing climaxed months of racial unrest and resulted in the sending of former Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall and former Army football coach Earl Blaik to the city yesterday.

The bombing was reported to the Birmingham police department at 1:30 a.m.

Chief Deposed by Dominicans; Reds Outlawed

Army Leaders Proclaim 'Rightist State' to End Nation's 'Chaos'

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican armed forces and police deposed President Juan D. Bosch today, and proclaimed they were turning the country into a "rightist state."

Reliable sources said Bosch, 53, author-professor, was a prisoner in the presidential palace. Another report said he was flown out of the country.

The armed forces issued a communique saying they seized power because "there was a chaotic situation in the country."

Reached by telephone Tuesday night, Bosch seemed unconcerned and unaware that the coup was imminent although it had been predicted for weeks.

★ ★ ★

The communique was signed by Victor Elby Vinas Roman, minister of the armed forces; the air force, navy and police chiefs, and some prominent civilians.

8-POINT PLAN

Urging the public to maintain law and order, they proclaimed an eight-point explanation and program:

● Outlawing parties supporting communism or Castroism.

● The preceding government failed to respect individual rights.

● The constitution is abolished.

● The legislature is dissolved.

● The post-Trujillo constitution of Dec. 17, 1962, is put back in force.

● The armed forces will remain in control until a "provisional government of respectable men" is approved by the different political parties.

● All international obligations will be respected.

● Guarantees are extended for human rights and property and for free commerce.

Henry Will Ask Court to Rule on Petitions

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry last night said he would ask Oakland County Circuit Court to rule on the validity of Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce charter amendment petitions.

He said he'd take the action despite a 4-2 vote favoring a resolution accepting the petitions as certified by City Clerk Olga Barkeley and ordering ballots prepared for a special election.

Henry, an attorney, claimed a majority of the petitions failed to conform with state laws in regard to the manner in which they were notarized.

The statute requires a notary to print or stamp his name and the date his commission expires under his signature on such petitions, Henry claimed.

He said he checked all petitions submitted and "petitions containing only about 2,000 signatures are so stamped."

★ ★ ★

He said he planned to file a case in Circuit Court today, with hopes it can be placed on the docket next Monday, asking the court to rule on the need for such printed information on petitions.

HEATED DEBATE

Louis H. Schimmel Jr., chairman of the Jaycees' charter amendment committee, and Henry became engaged in a heated debate over the petitions.

The petitions request a special election on a proposal to change porcedures in electing city commissioners. Electors would vote for seven commissioners (one from each district) instead of just one, in the April municipal election.

Henry charged that such a procedure would "do away completely with the concept of local (democratic) government.

"The petition would have the same affect as having Alabama nominate a congressman and having everybody in the United States vote for him."

★ ★ ★

He said that it "makes it practically impossible for a poor man to run for office" and that the proposed change "would lead to corruption of a type unparalleled in the history of any local government."

'BASIC PROBLEM'

"It is unparalleled now," Schimmel replied. "The basic problem is that six commissioners are afraid to go before the complete electorate of this city."

Schimmel said he thought Henry was "tampering with a big thing when you tell the great majority of voters in Pon-

Commission to Ask State Investigation

City Commissioners last night voted 5-1 to ask a state attorney general's investigation of 1962 city election expenses and "other areas of law violations" in Pontiac.

Their action came in a meeting that produced no controversy over the move but provided a couple of surprises from the audience.

The resolution called for an "impartial and complete" investigation, citing evidence of "serious violation of the election laws" by opponents of present city commissioners in last year's municipal balloting.

★ ★ ★

ONE NEGATIVE VOTE

The vote came, with Commissioner Charles H. Harmon casting the lone no vote, after former City Commissioner John A. Dugan startled spectators with a call from the audience for "a real investigation."

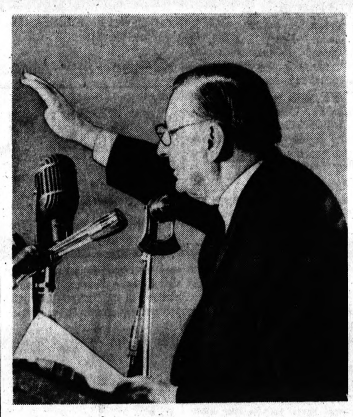

Granted permission to speak by Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom, who presided in Mayor Landry's absence, Dugan said, "I want to go on record in favor of a grand jury investigation."

With a reference to what he termed Commissioner Loy L. Ledford's "pretending" to want an investigation, Dugan said, "If you call off now on a grand jury, I hope we have a real investigation by the attorney general."

Ledford, who defeated Dugan last year and who last week called for the city to request the attorney general to seek a grand jury, said, "We must have an in-

Senate Crime Probe Hears R. Kennedy as 1st Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate probe into the dark workings of a national crime syndicate opened today with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy telling of its secret meetings, assassinations and the chance of a major underworld power struggle in New York.

As the first witness, Kennedy set the stage for the Senate Investigations subcommittee's hearings into organized crime which he called "one of the biggest businesses in America."

But getting a look at its clandestine operations is difficult because of the curtain of fear, he explained.

CODE BROKEN

"This is one reason the disclosures made by Joseph Valachi are significant," he said "For the first time an insider—a knowledgeable member of the racketeering hierarchy — has broken the underworld's code of silence."

Valachi, 60, the convicted narcotics peddler and murderer who has been singing to federal agents since he heard the syndicate had issued a death warrant for him, has brought the jigsaw picture of organized crime into sharper focus, said Kennedy.

"The picture is an ugly one. It shows what has been aptly described as a private government of organized crime, a government with an annual income of billions resting on a base of human suffering and moral corrosion."

Because of information from Valachi and other sources, Kennedy went on, the government has learned that Cosa Nostra — also known as the Mafia and the Black Hand—is run by a commission of nine to 12 active members.

RESPONSIBLE TO GROUP

The leaders of Cosa Nostra in most major cities are responsible to the commission which "makes major policy decisions for the organization, settles disputes among the families (gangs) and allocates territories of criminal operation."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the imprisoned New York mobster Vito Genovese, whom Valachi is reported to have portrayed as the chief of Cosa Nostra, Kennedy said that because of his power and the fear in which he is held in the New York organization, "no move has been made to take over the top spot while his appeal of a narcotics conviction is pending in the courts."

Grain Men Setting Up Red Sale

OTTAWA (AP) —A spokesman for a team of American grain merchants indicated today his group hopes to make a huge sale of U.S. grain to the Soviet Union, similar to the deal recently concluded by Canada.

Burton Joseph, president of I.S. Joseph, Inc., of Minneapolis, said his group is in Ottawa to sell wheat but it is "far premature to talk of a trade between these two countries"—the United States and the Soviet Union.

Joseph said he has not met with the head of the Soviet group that bought $500 million worth of Canadian wheat and flour last week. He declined to say whether a meeting is scheduled.

★ ★ ★

"We just don't know what we have here ourselves," said Joseph. "We're way ahead of ourselves."

MAY SAY MORE

The Soviet delegation is still in Ottawa although it concluded its dealings with the Canadian government last week. It is headed by S. A. Borisov, first deputy minister of trade.

With Joseph in Ottawa are two other Minneapolis grain men Charles Ritz, board chairman of International Milling Co., and Ralph Bruce, a vice president of Archer Daniels Midland Co., and Leopold Stern, director of the Louis Dreyfus Corp. of New York.

Joseph said there are "a few more" representatives of the American grain industry in Ottawa but would not identify them.

Activity among the American wheat men was intensive. They held meetings at their hotel through the night until early today.

Republicans Want Lid on Federal Spending Before Ballot on Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) —Democrats are confident they can defeat a Republican effort to nail a government spending lid onto President Kennedy's $11-billion tax reduction measure when the bill comes up for a House vote today.

"We are optimistic," said Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the Democratic leader.

If both the House and Senate approve the measure, the proposed cuts would begin to be felt in paychecks next January. Ultimately the reduction would range between $100 and $200 a year for most taxpaying families —more in the upper brackets. Two-thirds would go into effect next Jan. 1, the rest a year later.

But passage of the bill intact in the House would still leave a long, hard road ahead.

The Senate Finance Committee may not begin hearings on the tax legislation before mid-October, and an expected protracted civil rights fight could delay the tax bill almost indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

Democratic leaders were heartened by the apparent willingness of many members of the party's Southern wing to go along in opposition to the spending limit. Even some Democrats who oppose the tax cut bill itself were reported ready to vote against the Republican motion.

BETTER AFFORD

The administration can better afford to lose Democratic votes on passage of the bill. Many Republicans are expected to vote for it, whether or not the limitation is attached. But the GOP ranks are practically solid in support of the spending-curb amendment.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, which wrote the tax legislation, was reported to have advised Democratic House leaders to let him handle the job of persuading Southerners.

Mercury Will Drop With Evening Rain

Scattered showers forecast for this evening will turn temperatures a little cooler with the high tomorrow near 68. Tonight's low will be a mild 55.

For the next five days, temperatures will average 3 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 70 and low of 51.

The warmest weather will be over the weekend.

Precipitation will total about one quarter of an inch in showers tonight and another period about Sunday.

The low recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 52. The mercury had climbed to 68 at 1 p.m.

Pontiac Appeals for Romney Action on Tax Appeals

Pontiac officials yesterday appealed to Gov. George Romney to use whatever influence he can to obtain a quick decision from the State Tax Commission on several Pontiac property assessment appeals.

In a telegram, Mayor Robert A. Landry explained to Romney that the city had already obtained more than $2 million in advance payment of 1963 taxes from major taxpayers.

He said unless the pending appeals are ruled on soon, the city will have to borrow $750,000 in tax anticipation warrants to cover operating expenses.

City and school taxes are normally levied in July, but were held up this year pending settlement of a General Motors Corp. tax appeal and six other smaller appeals.

City to Borrow for R20 Project

City commissioners last night gave preliminary approval to a proposed $408,000 loan to keep the R20 urban renewal project from going broke.

The financial status of the R20 project brought harsh criticism of Pontiac's urban renewal officials from several commissioners.

It also resulted in adoption of an accompanying resolution ordering a report from all city departments indicating their fiancial status preparatory to submission of the 1964 budget in November.

Final approval of the $409,000 loan is slated for the Oct. 8 commission meeting. Last night's action authorizes City Finance Director Marvin Alward to file necessary applications and other documents with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Ten days public notice is required before the City Commission can give final approval to the loan. Applications must then be approved by the state.

The loan is needed because there are no funds available to keep the R20 urban renewal operating much longer until a revised R20 plan can be approved by the federal government.

EXPECT APPROVAL

It is expected the plans will be approved by March 31, 1964. They are now being prepared along with an amendatory loan and grant contract for submissions to federal agencies in the near future.

Federal approval of the new plan and contract would increase the R20 budget and make appropriations available for repayment of the $409,000.

However, if approval was not granted, the city would be obligated to repay the loan from 1964 capital improvement millage, according to terms of the resolution.

The problem rests in the fact that costs of some areas of urban renewal have exceeded original budget estimates.

Notable examples, according to James L. Bates, planning and urban renewal director, are in the cost to buy land and structures and the estimated resale values of urban renewal land.

The court awards to property owners in the R20 condemnation case last December brought aquisition costs and associated legal fees to some $230,000 higher than originally estimated.

VALUES LOWER

"In the meantime," Bates noted, "we received updated resale appraisals last May that showed resale values about $600,000 lower than originally estimated when the project began."

The need for the $409,000 wasn't questioned last night. Commissioners voted 6-0 for the measure, Mayor Robert A. Landry being absent.

However, Commissioner Milton R. Henry and several others criticized local urban renewal officials for not keeping the commission informed of the cash crisis.

OUT OF HAND

"Urban renewal has gotten out of hand," Henry asserted. "It sounds to me like they've been spending the city's money like drunken sailors."

"Furthermore, there hasn't been any harmony among the so-called planners that we've been paying these tremendous salaries, about what direction they want to go in."

He suggested the commission should have "a little more control over what they do and what they spend" if the commission was to be "confronted with . . . bailing out urban renewal at this stage, on the spur of the moment.

"I'd like to know how we get into a situation like this . . . and we weren't notified by the city manager or somebody," Henry added.

Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom agreed that commissioners had asked for "a complete breakdown of urban renewal costs and he (the manager) didn't get it for us."

Henry and Bottom criticized Bates for not bringing the $409,000 need to commissioners until Sept. 10 when condemnation awards were known more than six months ago.

WASN'T KNOWN

Bates, however, had explained in detail to commissioners at the Sept. 10 informal meeting that the $409,000 need wasn't even known until Sept. 6.

"Federal officials in Chicago told us last winter that we would qualify for a $400,000 federal grant around Sept. 1, based on progress in the project," Bates said at the Sept. 10 meeting.

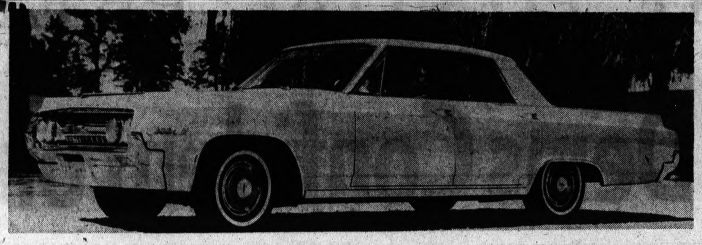

"There was some misunderstanding," he explained, "and we were told Sept. 6 that we couldn't get the $400,000.

"We qualified for it in terms of the amount of work completed so far, but we had reached our contract limitation on the total amount we could get in federal funds."

Bates confirmed his Sept. 10 report today.

In addition, the commission was first made aware of the possible need for an expanded budget and plan at an informal meeting Sept. 27, 1962.

At that meeting, held in conjunction with a dinner meeting at Pontiac General Hospital, Bates gave them a three-page memo outlining the proposed R20 project expansion and steps necessary to get federal approval.

NEW SERIES ADDED — The Jetstar 88 joins the lineup of full-size 1964 Oldsmobiles with its own engine design in lightweight cast iron. The car, also equipped with a new transmission, is distinguished from other models by grille, rear-end treatment and trim.

Olds Unveils New Jetstar

J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager, describes the Jetstar 88 as a "lower-priced companion" to the other models. It is powered by its own 330-cubic inch ultrahigh compression Jetfire Rocket engine.

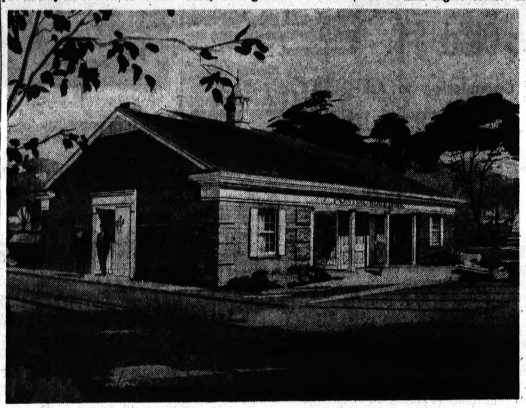

The cars go on display Oct. 4 at Jerome Motor Sales Co., 80 S. Saginaw; Houghten & Son, Inc., 528 N. Main, Rochester; Taylor Chevrolet Sales, 142 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; and Suburban Olds, 565 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

sedan, hardtop sedan, coupe and convertible models, all on a 123-inch wheelbase. A lighter car, it is designed for "up-and-coming younger families," according to Oldsmobile.

The Jetfire Rocket engine embodies an inverted "A" cylinder block construction and integrated manifold and engine cover. The block casting is made under a new foundry process.

Each Oldsmobile series in 1964 is distinguished by special grilles, rear bumpers, rear quarter panels, taillight assemblies and placement and accent of trim.

COLONIAL MOTIF — Three new Pontiac State Bank branches will open next spring, and each will resemble this artist's drawing. Exterior colonial architecture will be complemented by the interior furnishing theme. All three branches will offer full banking services, including drive-in windows. The expansion will cost an estimated $270,000.

Democrats Hopeful in Tax Cut Voting

Democrat, Mills told associates he has had pledges of support from a number of members who usually vote against the administration on economic matters.

In a speech that reached an emotional note seldom heard in tax debates, Mills pleaded with his colleagues yesterday to make possible a "turning point in economic policy."

AIMED ARGUMENTS

He argued that if Congress does not leave more dollars in the private sector of the economy, it may fail to solve the problems of unemployment and unused industrial plant capacity. Then, he said, those who favor massive government spending would have their best opportunity.

The Republican proposal to cancel the tax cut unless the President announces cutbacks in expenditure plans, Mills said, is no "unbreakable magic way" to control spending.

IGNORE GRAND JURY

No mention of a grand jury was made in last night's resolution.

Also before the vote, Edward C. Souriall of 807 Pensacola, asked Bottom if he had received campaign money last year from Olovis Skelton, Pontiac bar owner currently awaiting trial in federal court on a charge of gambling without a federal tax stamp.

Bottom, who appointed Skelton to the city's Civic Improvement Advisory Committee in 1961, said, "No, not personally."

* * *

NOT PUBLIC

The evidence cited in the resolution was not made public. Although Ledford said it would be revealed later, Bottom and City Attorney William A. Ewart said it was "confidential" and it would be up to the state attorney general to disclose it.

"Other areas of law violations" mentioned in the resolution also were not explained, although Bottom indicated after the meeting that they included vice, which Ledford mentioned last week.

* * *

The resolution said opponents of the present commissioners "have not been subject to an investigation by county officials."

* * *

The "failure of the chief law enforcing officer of the county to make an impartial investigation," it said, "is further evidence of bias against this commission and justifies an appeal to the attorney general."

'DIDN'T KNOW RULES'

Dugan said, "If I violated any rules, it was innocently, because I didn't know the rules."

"I only reported the money I spent," he said, referring to a committee that backed him but which did not file a campaign expense report.

Three New Branches

Bank Plans Expansion

Pontiac State Bank has announced plans for simultaneous construction of three new branch offices, an unusual expansion step for financial institutions.

Milo J. Cross, bank president, said construction will be under way within 30 days. All are scheduled to be open for business by March 1, 1964.

"The expansion program is a necessity," said Cross, "due to the rapid growth of population in our area of operation, and proves our faith in the future of Pontiac and Oakland County."

* * *

New offices will be located at 970 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township, where a trailer branch recently opened; on Opdyke near the Blue Sky theater in Pontiac Township; and at M59 and Duck Lake Road in Highland Township.

ALMOST IDENTICAL

Cross said the branches will be housed in almost identical buildings, all designed in colonial style.

Each will offer full banking services, including drive-in windows. Construction cost for the triple expansion is estimated at $270,000.

Concurrent with the new construction, which will give Pontiac State Bank a total of eight locations, a $200,000 systems modernization will be under way at the main office at 28 N. Saginaw.

This involves installation of a computer and other high speed office machinery.

He said there were 11,543 signatures submitted "and if we'd waited another week, I'll bet we could have had 70 or 80 per cent of the city's registered voters signed up."

* * *

Of the 400 certified petitions, 317 had no imprint below the notary's signature. Of the 176 unchecked petitions, 96 had the imprint and 80 did not.

NATIONAL WEATHER — It will be slightly warmer in the northeast and the central Rockies tonight. Cooler weather is forecast for the southern and central Plains and the upper and central Mississippi Valley. Precipitation will be limited to showers in Florida, on the Gulf coast, in the western Ohio and Tennessee valleys and on the north Pacific Coast.

FULL RESTYLING — All 1964 Rambler Americans have been restyled, from grill to tail lights. Unseen beneath the clean lines is a refined unit body construction. This 330 station wagon also carries the standard new no-lube front suspension and ceramic-coated tailpipe.

Rambler American Is All New

From its ceramic - armored tailpipe to a redesigned aluminum grille with horizontal bars, the 1964 Rambler American has a host of changes in the first complete body revision since it was introduced in 1950.

* * *

The car also, has a new overall length of 177 inches.

But the four - inch addition goes into greater passenger comfort and more usable space, and none into overhanging sheet metal," said Thomas A. Coupe, vice president of automotive sales.

The new Americans go on display Oct. 3 at Superior Rambler, 550 Oakland; Russ Johnson Motor Sales, 89 M24, Lake Orion; Houghten & Son, Inc., 528 N. Main, Rochester; Rose Rambler, 8145 Commerce, Union Lake; Birmingham Rambler, Inc., 666 S. Woodward, Birmingham; and Bill Spence, Inc., 6673 Dixie, Clarkston.

The car's styling gives the appearance of greater length. Trim, clean-cut lines provide a sporty look. Sedans have twice as much rear window glass area as before.

Interior head room is said to be improved, although there is an inch and a half height reduction on sedans, and three inches on convertibles. Sept. down design is incorporated in refined unit body construction.

Convertible tops are available in four colors without extra cost. A more durable battery is offered on all models and windshield wipers with a parallel action for greater sweep.

RICHARD D. KUHN

Local Hopeful at Con-Con

Pontiac lawyer and businessman Richard D. Kuhn, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress in the new 19th District, was a delegate to the state's constitutional convention in 1961 and 1962.

A graduate of Michigan State University and the Detroit College of Law, Kuhn served on the convention's education committee and committee on legislative powers. He also chaired the subcommittee on the legislature.

In announcing his candidacy, Kuhn said, "This nation is in economic chaos, mainly because of the ever - increasing socialist pressures which have been so detrimental to our finances."

* * *

Kuhn, 33, said he believes the government that governs least governs best and favors an amendment to limit the amount of income tax the federal government can levy.

RAN FOR SENATE

Trading Is Heavy

Stock Mart Generally Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy buying in Chrysler and American Telephone continued early today in a generally higher stock market. Trading was heavy.

AT&T jumped 1¾ to 130 on a big opener of 20,000 shares following its bullish performance of yesterday when hopes of a higher dividend and a stock split were prevalent.

Chrysler continued to attract buyers on the basis of glowing reports of sales and earnings. The stock climbed ⅛ to 86% on opening blocks of 30,000 and 3,000 shares.

Yesterday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .9 to 281.5.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included National Bellas Hess, General Plywood and Data-Control Systems.

Antibias Bill Strengthened

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sweeping ban on racial discrimination in places of public accommodation has reportedly been added to the administration's civil rights bill by a House Judiciary subcommittee.

An authoritative source said the action was taken Tuesday but was not made public at the request of the administration because of the crucial vote coming today on President Kennedy's tax cut bill.

* * *

The votes of Southern Democrats are needed to defeat a Republican amendment that would block the tax cut unless a lid is placed on federal spending for the coming year. The source said the White House fears news of the strong new addition to the civil rights bill might endanger those votes.

The provision the subcommittee is reported to have accepted tentatively goes beyond the administration's original proposal by giving the attorney general additional authority to intervene in cases of racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, based on the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

BILL'S AUTHORITY

In its proposed bill the administration pinned its basic authority to the narrower right of Congress to regulate interstate commerce. The amendment reportedly approved uses both the commerce clause and the 14th Amendment.

Talk of Red Trade Hikes Grain Futures

Steady gains in futures for more than a week have resulted from reports of a possible U.S.-Russian grain deal following huge Soviet purchases of wheat from Canada and Australia.

Most wheat futures advanced from one to more than two cents a bushel shortly after the opening as demand increased. Reports that Russians are seeking large amounts of U.S. corn helped corn futures and prices moved up more than a cent a bushel in early dealings.

Oklahoma, Kansas Up Oil Production in U. S.

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Increases in Oklahoma and Kansas helped boost U.S. oil production last week, as most states showed little change, the Oil and Gas Journal reports.

The journal said average daily production last week was 7,531,121 barrels, up 52,344 per day from the previous week.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My wife and I are a young couple. We own 1,200 shares of Republic Aviation bought at 17¼ and 16½. The stock now sells around 16 and we are wondering if we should add to our holdings. Our financial position is sound, with adequate savings and insurance. What is your advice?" E. G.

A) Please allow me to congratulate you on your thrift. I am obliged to say, however, that your financial position, in my opinion, is not entirely sound.

At the present market, you have over $19,000 invested in Republic Aviation, apparently your only holding. Republic is a well-managed company, but its major source of income — the F105 — is being phased out at the end of 1964, which makes the company's future somewhat uncertain.

Rather than buying more Republic, I believe you should sell a substantial proportion of your present holdings and diversify into companies with a better outlook. I suggest International Tel. & Tel., Avco, Interstate Department Stores, and Pacific Gas & Electric.

Q) "I am 66 years old, and my wife and I are retired. We own 400 shares of Texas Utilities common, and a friend advised us to sell this stock and buy mutual funds, which would give us a larger return on our investment. What would you advise?" P. I.

A) Unless you positively require more income, I advise you strongly to sit tight.

Your Texas Utilities has one of the very best records in the electrical industry. It has grown consistently in a growing territory and has lifted earnings and dividends in each of the past ten years.

Your stock has almost quintupled in price since 1953. Earnings are up again this year, and I believe the dividend will be boosted next February.

I think it would be difficult to find a mutual fund which would match the over-all record of Texas Utilities. You're on a good wicket, as the English say, and if I were you, I'd stay on it.

lion a year of its poultry trade. It has been studying a long list of European products on which it could raise tariffs with the aim of hurting European trade by an equal $46 million.

Wheat is in the picture today because the United States owns huge stocks it has acquired in supporting domestic prices. It has been selling some of this wheat abroad, but has refused to sell to the Red bloc. Canada has just completed deals to sell huge amounts of its wheat to Red China and to the Soviet Union, with some of the latter supply being shipped to Cuba.

SOME ANNOYED

American reaction has been varied. Some Americans are annoyed at their Canadian friends' dealing with the Communists, especially Cuba. Others think the United States should be cutting its burden of wheat by selling to the needy Red bloc. Still others hail the Canadian sales as taking that much wheat off the world market. This would leave more demand, presumably, for U.S. grain in other parts of the world that import wheat. And all hands would like to see some of the American grain sold before it spoils in storage.

* * *

There is sometimes a thin line between what economists and politicians call healthy competition and what they admit are trade wars. And the effects at home of either can ripple out far from the impact of just the poultry or the wheat.

K Seen Ready for Next Step

Pressures on Russia Are Key to Red Policy

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the test-ban treaty safely through the Senate, administration leaders were reported cautiously hopeful today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will be ready soon to negotiate on a "second step" to reduce dangers of nuclear war.

The same pressures believed to have influenced Khrushchev's decision to sign the limited ban on nuclear weapons testing are still present. Thus U. S. experts think Khrushchev may see further need to improve his relations with the Western powers.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet today ratified the limited nuclear test - ban - treaty — 24 hours almost to the minute after the U. S. Senate acted.

tween the Soviet Union and Red China and the apparently severe crop failure in the Soviet Union this year which makes Khrushchev partially dependent on Western sources for wheat and other food grains.

Furthermore, U. S. officials believe that after the Cuban missiles showdown last October Khrushchev decided the danger of nuclear war had been so great that steps toward minimizing future risks of worldwide destruction were necessary.

NEXT STEPS

Possible next steps include proposals which Khrushchev himself has made for an East-West nonaggression pact and for the stationing of observers on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against surprise attack.

Of the two propositions, U. S. authorities think agreement on the observer plan is more likely because the nonaggression proposal has been tied by the Western powers to counterproposals for greater security for West Berlin.

* * *

So far, Khrushchev has shown no pressing interest in proceeding urgently with further negotiations. Several reasons have been advanced for this in official Washington.

Khrushchev may have wanted to be sure the treaty would win Senate ratification before proceeding with further measures. He may also have decided that urging consideration of other issues during the Senate debate might complicate matters.

Another and more generally accepted reason is that Khrushchev wanted to assess the impact of the nuclear test ban, particularly on his struggle with the Red Chinese for leadership of Communist parties in Asia, Europe and Latin America.
