One-Man Grand Jury Will Probe Flint Police

Auto Association Plans Car Show for Next Month

February 1-3 Selected for Display of Seventy New Models Here

Plans for the biggest and best automobile show in Pontiac's history, were disclosed this morning by officials of the Pontiac Automotive Trade Assn.

The three-day extravaganza will be held Feb. 1, 2, and 3 at the new service building of the Oliver Motor Sales, Inc. at 40 Walnut street.

The highlight of the weekend show will be some 70 1957 glittering, new automobiles displayed by eight auto dealers in the city. Some smaller truck models might be shown also, officials said, by Wilson GMC Co.

The show will be first in this area in the last 25 years. In 1952, the association held a smaller showing at the 4-H fair.

Participating dealers in this year's show will be: Cy Owens, Pontiac Retail Store, Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., Oliver Motor Sales Inc., Braid Motor Sales, Central Lincoln Mercury Sales Inc., Jerome Motor Sales Inc., Riemenschneider Brothers, and Wilson GMC Co.

DREAM CARS TOO

Planned also will be an added attraction of model dream cars to be displayed through the courtesy of the different divisions of the automotive industry participating in the show.

"This promises to be the biggest and best auto show the city has ever seen," E. Curtis Matthews, newly-elected president of the association and president-secretary of Matthews-Hargreaves Inc., said.

All net proceeds from the show will be turned over to the building fund for the new addition at Pontiac General Hospital. It is expected a special room will be designated as one sponsored by the auto group.

Plans for the show were decided upon at last night's annual meeting of the association.

NAME CO-CHAIRMEN

Co-chairmen of the event will be Matthews, Robert B. Oliver, president of Oliver Motor Sales, Inc., and Henry E. Gotham, manager of the Pontiac Retail Store.

Oliver pointed out that the Walnut street site was ideal for the show in that the 80 by 200-foot building had some 16,000 square feet. Two acres of land are available for parking, he added.

As yet plans are not complete, he said, but entertainment will be sprinkled throughout the afternoon and evening showings.

Ousted Justice Given Sentence

Williams Fined, Placed on Probation on Charge of Attempted Indecency

Charles O. Williams, 48, ousted on immorality charges from his job as Madison Heights Justice of the Peace, yesterday was sentenced in Kalamazoo for attempted gross indecency.

Kalamazoo County Circuit Judge Lucien F. Sweet assessed Williams $200 in fine and costs and placed him on probation for a year. Williams had pleaded guilty to a charge brought by a Vicksburg man., who testified Williams made improper advances Oct. 29.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart removed Williams from office after she testified he offered to change her boy friend's sentence if she accompanied him to a motel six nights.

A police trap, in which Miss Slate cooperated, resulted in Williams pleading guilty to a charge of false motel registration. He paid a $90 fine.

A.P. Wirephoto

PLANS VISIT TO U. S. — Saud Ibn Abdul Aziz Al Saud, king of Saudi Arabia, will be the guest of President Eisenhower for several days beginning Jan. 30, White House sources said yesterday. Purpose of the king's visit presumably will be to discuss Eisenhower's plan to block Red aggression in the Middle East. Saud last visited this country in 1947 as a crown prince.

Study Mideast Resolution

See House Unit OK on Ike Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and a top Republican committee member both predicted today that the House group will speedily approve President Eisenhower's resolution on the Middle East.

Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill) and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) expressed that opinion as the committee called Secretary of State Dulles back for more questioning.

Extensive hearings still lay ahead in the Senate. Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said that "I, for one, am not going to be stampeded into action on this."

Eisenhower's resolution, delivered to Congress Saturday on a top priority basis, would authorize dollar help to Middle East countries and use of U. S. armed forces in case of open Communist military attack.

Dulles reserved for today's closed session details on some of the military matters he touched on during daylong questioning yesterday. He did tell the congressmen that:

1. There is no plan for stepping up American forces in the Middle East.

2. Despite manpower cuts in the U. S. armed forces, America's military "effectiveness" has increased and he is satisfied the United States has enough strength to commit itself against possible brush fire wars in addition to its other commitments. He said, for instance, that we have the power to protect Syria.

3. American military actions might not be confined to the country where the Reds attack, but could involve strikes in such other areas as the aggressor's staging areas and communications lines.

4. He does not envision an all-out attack on the Soviet Union, unless it is determined that a Communist invasion is really the beginning of World War III.

Generally, Dulles portrayed the Eisenhower resolution as a "declaration of peace" which would deter war by serving notice of U. S. willingness to fight a Red aggressor and by bolstering the military and economic strength of independent Middle Eastern countries.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said after conferring with Eisenhower yesterday that he believes Congress will pass the resolution, but may make some changes in it.

Fire Destroys Tanks at Canadian Refinery

MONTREAL (AP)—A series of explosions and a huge fire shook the Shell Oil of Canada refinery on the eastern outskirts of Montreal today.

The blaze was reported "in check" two hours later, but smoke and flames were still pouring 200 feet into the air and the glow was visible 20 miles.

No fatalities or injuries were reported. An estimate of the damage was not immediately available, but six storage tanks containing propane, gasoline or oil were reported to have gone up.

Crews from the five refineries in the area — Canada's biggest refining center — turned out to battle the fire. Firefighters said there was little danger it would spread to adjoining plants.

Suspects Freed by Ballistic Test

No New Clues in Case of Mysterious Sniper, Say Royal Oak Police

Royal Oak police were at a standstill today in their investigation of December sniping incidents in that area after four Pontiac residents and a Royal Oak man were cleared of any connection with the shootings.

"They have been released. Their guns checked out all right," said Royal Oak Chief Ray C. Hayward this morning. "We have no new clues or suspects."

The five gained freedom when ballistics tests at the State Police Laboratory in Lansing showed their guns were not the .22s used in the Royal Oak incidents.

On December 21 a Royal Oak teenage girl was wounded and shots narrowly missed another woman.

Two men and two women from Pontiac were suspected following their arrest here Saturday when a gun was found on the seat of a car in which they were riding.

Indict County Man for Hate Letters

John R. Mc Alpine, of Pleasant Ridge, a Detroit advertising man, today was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on two counts in the alleged distribution of "racial hate letters" during last November's political campaign in Michigan.

The indictment said Mc Alpine was involved in the circulation of letters urging recipients in Detroit to vote Democratic "to keep Negroes in restraint."

The first count accused Mc Alpine of causing the literature to be distributed. The second charged that he caused it to be transported in interstate commerce.

The so-called "racial hate letters" showed up by the thousands in Detroit shortly before the Nov. 6 election.

Michigan and State Play Home and Home Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Michigan has agreed, at least temporarily, to place its football series with Michigan State on a home-and-home basis.

Michigan State had threatened to cancel the series unless the old ratio of four games in Ann Arbor to one in East Lansing were changed to home-and-home.

The 1960 Spartan - Wolverine game will be played in Michigan State's Macklin Field. That was settled last night as the Big Ten completed drafting of its 1959 and 1960 gridiron schedules.

The 1957 game already was scheduled for Ann Arbor and the 1958 game at East Lansing. The Spartans will go to Michigan in 1959.

The two schools met at Ann Arbor in 1954, 1955 and 1956 under the old four-for-one plan. MSU was host in 1953.

Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic director, said the 1959-60 agreement did not mean a permanent home-and-home basis for the series, but conference observers expressed belief that once precedence has been over a four-year span it would be next to impossible to go back to four-for-one.

Clarence (Biggie) Munn, MSU athletic director, had indicated that the series would be ruptured, at least, unless MSU and Michigan got on a home-and-home basis.

Another major development at the NCAA meeting here involving Michigan State was the announcement by Munn that the Spartans would play the University of Detroit at East Lansing in either 1959 or 1960.

Knowland to Bid For Top Post?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) appears to be moving himself toward a position where he can challenge Vice President Nixon and all other comers for 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, announced yesterday a carefully considered decision not to seek re-election to the Senate next year. His term expires in January 1959.

But he declined to eliminate himself as a possible contender for the Republican nomination for the California governorship in 1958. And neither would he close the door against another bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Significantly, Knowland said he has "no plans" to relinquish his position as Republican leader during the two years remaining in his term. That job keeps him prominently in the public eye.

After first informing President Eisenhower and his GOP colleagues of his intentions, Knowland told a news conference that he is quitting the Senate to spend more time in California with his wife, three children, five grandchildren and elderly father.

SEN. WILLIAM KNOWLAND

He said he wants to become more active as assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune, of which his father is publisher.

He replied only "No comment" to questions about whether he will seek the California governorship in 1956 or the presidential nomination in 1960.

But politicians probed behind the reasons he gave and many of them thought they came up with a carefully drawn plan for Knowland to seek the California governorship as a stepping stone for a renewed bid for the presidency.

Some Knowland associates in Washington said they believed the senator had decided that if he wants to be president he will have to break the three-way knot that now exists over potential control of the hefty California delegation to the Republican convention four years from now.

Knowland filed for the GOP presidential nomination last year in several early primaries before Eisenhower announced his own second-term intentions, and the senator's friends say they don't think his desire for the post has lessened.

While he did not divulge any further plans, Knowland told a closed Conference of All Republican Senators yesterday his decision not to run again for the Senate was "irrevocable." He said he would not yield to any "draft" move that might be started.

Charge Student in Coed Beating

Spurned Suitor Faces Exam in Slugging of U. of M. Senior

ANN ARBOR (INS)—A 24-year-old University of Michigan sophomore was free under $2,500 bond today to await examination on a charge he beat a pretty coed while she slept in her dormitory bed.

Virginia L. Large, 21, of Detroit, a senior student nurse at the university was struck four times on the head as she slept Sunday morning in her Couzens Hall room. She was released in good condition from University Hospital.

Castrop, who has denied having anything to do with the beating, is described as a thwarted suitor of Miss Large. He is married and the father of a small son, but is separated from his wife.

Court Suspects Cases of Bribes and Corruption

Two Men Arrested for Conspiracy; 70 Served With Subpoenas

FLINT (AP) — A one-man grand jury probe into alleged corruption and bribed police protection of gambling has been ordered for this industrial city.

Subpoenas have been issued for some witnesses, among them former Police Chief James Byars, one-time Vice Squad Chief Clare Sobey, and 68 gamblers.

The investigation, tentatively set to begin Thursday, was called by the Genesee County Circuit Court just six hours after two men were charged with conspiracy to bribe police.

County Prosecutor Jerome O'Rourke asked for the probe and said he was prepared to present witnesses and evidence of a conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The request capped a long self-investigation by Flint City Police.

In rapid order yesterday, Jacob M. Waldo, 55, and James Biagga Barraco, 54, were arrested and arraigned on conspiracy charges. Waldo, vice president of a Flint real estate and insurance agency, is a former Democratic state central committeeman. Barraco is a motel operator.

Waldo met bond of $2,000 and Barraco put up bond of $5,000 as guarantee for their appearances at a hearing later this month, set by Municipal Judge John W. Baker.

Both men were accused of making payoffs to protect gambling.

O'Rourke, in his petition, said "certain persons" have conspired to violate gambling laws and that "certain" police and public officials have "wilfully failed" to enforce the law.

'THEY WILL TESTIFY'

"Due to the nature of the offenses," O'Rourke said, "and the persons involved, they (the witnesses) are unwilling to volunteer information, but if this court will convene as a one-man grand jury with the purpose of investigating these matters, they will testify."

O'Rourke, just six years out of the University of Detroit Law School and Flint Community College, is one of the state's youngest prosecutors at 29.

Waldo and Barraco were both accused of making payoffs to Lt. John Jerome, chief of the police Vice Squad, who issued the complaint against the pair.

Jerome said he accepted the payoffs from the men on advice

LONDON (INS) — The proposed "Eisenhower Doctrine" for the Middle East was at the top of the agenda today as Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden presided at a meeting of the British cabinet.

Pot-O-Gold Fans:

Cross Out That Word!

Because of an error in the illustration furnished The Press by the General Features Corp. of New York City, the letters and Page One words published yesterday do not jibe with the clue: "Circus —— would be delightful to a small boy."

Consequently, Word 12 will be deleted by the judges of Puzzle No. 33 and the remaining 15 words will be used in judging possible winners. Entries already mailed or received will receive the same consideration.

Because of a typographical error in yesterday's Home Edition, one word was misspelled in the Page One list of possible words. The corrected list is as follows:

Second Installment: 'The FBI Story'

Perfect Coordination Key to FBI's Efficiency

Editor's Note: The following article is the second in a series of daily episodes on the activities and accomplishments of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Taken from Don Whitehead's new book, "The FBI Story," today's account is one of 30 which will appear each day in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

By DON WHITEHEAD

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is almost half a century old, although until 1935 it was known simply as the Bureau of Investigation.

Its name to millions is a symbol of integrity and efficiency. But it remains a mystery organization to a great many Americans even though its activities are interwoven with the protection of civil rights and the security of the nation.

Few know how the FBI operates. Few realize that in the protection of the country the FBI also maintains a rigid around-the-clock system of checks and controls over its own agents and their activities.

Director J. Edgar Hoover can and does pick up his telephone and within a matter of minutes learn where an agent is at any given time, the case on which he is working and the progress being made.

The control system works in this fashion. The special agents in charge of the FBI's 52 field divisions are considered to be Hoover's personal representatives. They are responsible directly to him for the work within the geographic area of their assignments.

Each special agent in charge has an assistant—a position regarded as a training ground for the development of future FBI executives.

RIGOROUS TRAINING — FBI agents, even those working in laboratory, undergo extensive training in self-defense as part of strict fitness program. Here agents using tracer bullets practice night firing on range at Quantico, Va. Cardinal FBI rule: never shoot on the run.

FBI offices, such as in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, have field supervisors who direct the work of agents and are responsible to the special agent in charge and his assistant.

In the smaller cities surrounding the field offices, the FBI has stationed some 1,200 resident agents who are responsible for the work in given sub-sections of the division.

* * *

This distribution of agents in strategic centers gives the FBI a well-deployed force which can move quickly to any given place, saving time and money.

Construction Climbs in Waterford

Township Tops 1955 Figure

Total Near $13 Million, Fewer Home Permits Issued in '56

Fast-growing Waterford Township had another banner year of construction within its limits, topping last year's figure of $12,895,639, but residential building dipped.

The 1956-year recorded 1,556 permits totaling $12,916,170, compared to 1,653 permits in 1955.

Residential permits dropped from 1,026 valued at $10,503,573 in 1955 to 788 homes for $8,887,597 in 1956.

COMMERCIAL TOTAL

Commercial building included 63 new structures, totaling $3,001,270. Sixteen houses were moved during the year for $27,450. For additions, both commercial and homes, there were 43 permits issued totaling $274,354.

This report from the Building and Electrical Permits department was given at the Township Board meeting last night.

Felix Anderson, of Johnson and Anderson Engineers, presented preliminary plans for a municipal water supply system for Waterford Township. Approximate estimates were presented, and after all plans have been completed this week, they will be given to a bonding expert to see if the plan is possible.

Township Treasurer, Dorcas Tibbals, has announced that the property tax deadline has been extended from Jan. 20, through Feb. 28. This does not include the personal property tax, she added.

* * *

Other business included board approval of an additional water softener for the township buildings for $390. A $450 softener was approved by the board at the last meeting, but proved inadequate for both the fire hall and the township hall.

Tom Belton presented his annual report on the Recreation Department's activities for 1956, which was approved by the board.

He was complimented on his work as director and supervisor for the some 7,000 members, using recreational facilities.

MOVING DAY — What Beaudette Park is losing these days, Rotary Park is gaining. Members of the Forestry Division of the Parks and Recreation Dept. have moved eight trees, including this Norway Maple, from Beaudette, where there is a surplus of trees, to Rotary. Donald Nagel, city forester, said the transition is part of the landscaping program in the development of Rotary Park.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The possibility of a nationwide gasoline price war because of excessive surplus is seen by the Texas Service Stations, Associated.

Joseph J. Malec, executive secretary, said the program plus the recent gasoline price increase by several oil companies has "placed Texas service station operators in an almost impossible squeeze."

The Day in Birmingham

Conduct Traffic Survey; Shows Ban Unnecessary

BIRMINGHAM — A survey conducted last Friday by T. M. Vanderstemple, Birmingham traffic engineer, showed, he said, that the left hand turn ban from Hunter boulevard to Oak street is unnecessary. He explained that the cars making this turn would have ample time to clear traffic lanes if a ten-second delay light were installed. Commissioners asked that the State Highway Department be notified of their willingness to participate in light costs if this left hand turn is permitted.

Banning the left hand turn at this point would throw additional traffic on Hamilton street, Oakland street, Woodward avenue and other already heavily burdened streets. Vanderstemple's report is being forwarded to Samuel LaVine this week for state consideration.

* * *

Several traffic surveys have shown that there is no immediate need for a Webster street crossover at Hunter boulevard. Plans for it were officially abandoned last night.

* * *

The possible widening of Adams road was discussed by city commissioners last night as one solution to the traffic hazard that exists now in the vicinity of Adams and Derby schools. Requests for a higher speed limit in the area were frowned upon by commissioners, who said there is already too great a hazard for children using the area.

The unpaved condition of Derby road is causing many people to stop on Adams road, to let their children out of the cars to reach Derby school. This practice ties up one lane of traffic since Adams is only two - lane at that point. Buses using the turn-around at the school more or less prohibit the use of the area by private cars, commissioners noted.

* * *

Commissioners have expressed their opposition to the proposal of increasing Cranbrook road speeds to 30 miles per hour. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said that traffic already is too fast there and in so far as there is no posted speed limit there are little grounds for law enforcement.

The commission indicated that they felt a 25 mile per hour speed limt was sufficient there due to the excessive traffic of students using Cranbrook on leaving the school parking lot.

They recommend this speed limit, proper posting of it and suggest that Chief Moxley instruct his officers to rigidly enforce it.

A representative of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will feature "Spotlight on Entertaining," as guest speaker for the North Suburban Alumnae of Chi Omega Luncheon, Thursday, at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. John J. Southard, 4500 N. Adams, will be hostess for the occasion. Mrs. Farnum Fitzpatrick, of Berkley is committee chairman and may be contacted for reservations.

Mrs. Alley Josephine Warner

Service for Mrs. Alley Josephine Warner, 91, of 1674 E. Romeo Rd., Romeo, who died yesterday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Roger Toothaker, will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday from the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home with the Rev. Alan Wittrup, assistant pastor at the First Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Hamburg.

A native of Port Huron, she moved to Romeo a year and a half ago, after many years in Birmingham.

She is survived by two daughters other than Mrs. Toothaker, Mrs. Adelaide Hoover of Romeo and Mrs. Russell Spooncer of Brighton, one sister, Mrs. Nettie Davidson of Benton Harbor, nine grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Coordination Is Key to FBI's Efficiency

methods in robbing a Chicago bank is recognized by a supervisor as the identical method used a few days earlier in Los Angeles.

There may be some piece of information known at headquarters which ties a suspect to a crime. This same operating procedure is used in espionage cases to tie together widely separated operations and to coordinate the agents' work.

The agents are required to telephone their home offices at intervals throughout the day and report their movements. Periodic reports are made on the progress of each investigation, and the progress is reflected on the agents' assignment cards.

DISCIPLINE RIGID

Through more than 30 years, Hoover has insisted on discipline in the ranks of the FBI. This discipline is sternest, of course, in the special agent force of some 6,200 men.

But it is also maintained among the other 8,000 employes. Obedience to official regulations is demanded to a degree that is astonishing to an outsider.

The reason for this obedience is always clear to anyone who knows anything of the undisciplined operations which almost destroyed the bureau in the pre-Hoover days.

Over and over, Hoover has stressed the point that there must never be a scandal in the operations of the FBI. "One man can't build the FBI," he says, "but one man can tear it down."

NO EASY LIFE

The life of a special agent isn't an easy one. He knows he may be dismissed summarily from the service if he violates certain rules. For example:

1. He cannot drink intoxicants while on duty. Even off-duty excessive use of intoxicants is banned, since the agent is subject to call at any time.

2. He cannot use a government automobile for any purpose except official business.

3. He is forbidden to use brutality or duress in dealing with persons under investigation.

He can be disciplined for a number of other things. Among the "shall nots" are these:

1. He cannot disclose information to any unauthorized person, not even his wife.

2. He cannot accept rewards or gratuities in any form.

3. He cannot fail to pay his taxes or to meet other financial obligations.

4. He must not lose official property issued to him.

INTENSIVE TRAINING

The newly appointed agent begins to learn discipline from the day he reports into headquarters to begin an intensive training course which lasts for 18 weeks.

* * *

The course is divided into two parts. There is the classroom study of investigative techniques, FBI responsibilities under the law and administrative work; and there is the rugged training in self-defense and the use of firearms given at the FBI Academy on the Marine base at Quantico, Va.

Each agent, including the scientists and engineers who work in the laboratory, must know how to take care of himself in a gun battle.

He learns the "quick draw," in which a pistol is whipped from a holster with split-second precision in a stance which gives the steadiest position for firing accurately. "Never shoot while running" is an FBI axiom.

He is instructed in jujitsu and other tricks of taking care of himself in a rough-and-tumble fight. The roll of 18 agents killed in line of duty is a reminder that the battle against criminals is a dangerous one.

The FBI's training system produced such sound results that even prior to World War II the Marine Corps arranged to have agents train the Marines in hand-to-hand defensive and disarming tactics.

But the FBI traveled a long road to reach this point. It had its beginning in 1908 when President Theodore Roosevelt demanded an investigative agency in his crusade against the "land thieves" in the West and the big-business "trusts" in the East.

Three Youths Injured When Car Hits Pole

A Pontiac youth was hospitalized and his two companions received slight injuries when their car went off the road and hit a utility pole in Pontiac Township last night.

Bobbie L. Belcher, 15, of 133 W. Brooklyn Ave., is under treatment at Pontiac General Hospital for a concussion. Treated and released for cuts and bruises were Richard V. Gibson, 18, of 2761 Vendome Rd., the driver, and Robert W. Servera, 14, of 3404 Rochhaven Dr., both in Avon Township.

Condition Still Critical for 2 Injured on Jan. 1

Two Oakland County residents remain in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital seven days after they were badly hurt in New Year's Day morning auto accidents.

Sheriff's deputy Ross Miller, 28, of 331 Reitman Ct., Rochester, who has head injuries, and John E. Queen, 49, of 6615 Tipsico Rd., Highland Township, have reportedly both shown very slight improvement in recent days. Queen has severe internal injuries.

Police Have Busy Year in Waterford Township

CHIEF VAN ATTA

Waterford Township police drove almost 100,000 more miles patroling their area in 1956 than they did the year before, according to an annual report submitted to the Township board at last night's meeting.

According to Police Chief Frank Van Atta, police drove 358,715 in 1956 as compared to 265,507 in 1955, patroling the 31-square mile township.

There were 940 accidents in 1956 as compared to 876 in 1955, and 695 people were arrested last year with 623 the previous year.

Total complaints issued were up two thousand according to the report. For 1956 there were 8,596 and only 6,565 in 1955.

The Waterford Township police department has just received three new Chevrolet scout cars bringing the total cars now in use, to seven. There are 15 men on the Waterford Township force.

Radar equipment will be installed in one of the cars as soon as possible according to Van Atta.

Ready to Report on Parking Issue

Welcome news is expected to be presented to a group of East Boulevard residents tonight when they hear City Manager Walter K. Willman report that the parking ban there has been lifted.

* * *

Willman is expected to inform the people that after talks with the police department and city traffic engineer, parking on the west side of East Boulevard from Whittemore to Elm will be permitted except during the rush hours of 6 to 8 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. This does not apply to Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays.

* * *

Twenty-five residents protested the ban to the City Commission last Tuesday. Willman promised them a study would be made.

* * *

City Commissioner Gilbert W. Long (District 7) also handed Willman a protest petition bearing some 150 names. Willman said he had been informed by the police and traffic engineer that parking had been removed due to increased traffic on the road.

* * *

With the new year beginning, tonight's commission agenda contains 10 engineering estimates for public improvement work in the city during the year.

TO COMMEND WILSONS

Commissioners are scheduled to hear and approve a commendation resolution thanking Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson for the gift of their Avon Township estate for an Oakland County branch of Michigan State University.

* * *

An approximate $35,000 surplus from a $700,000 revenue bond act which financed the expansion of the present sewage plant is expected to receive transfer approval to a fund toward the city's second plant now in the planning stage.

In other action, Willman is scheduled to be appointed as the city's representative on a new Oakland County Civil Defense Council.

An amendment to the personnel rules of the city will be considered, which will allow for the partial payment to employes of accrued sick time under the pension plan up to a total of 90 days. A maximum of $1,500 will be set.

This payment is part of a pay hike and increased benefits approved for employes by commissioners last week.

The Michigan State Highway Dept. has asked the city to consider the abandonment of a section of M58 in the vicinity of the Orchard Lake-Telegraph road grade separation, as being necessary in the project. This will be discussed tonight.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 in the commission chambers on the second floor of the City Hall.

7 Years of Drought Is Like a Malignant Disease

Money Can't Restore Grass, Topsoil, Water, - or Hope

(This is the second article in a series describing the human drama and economic devastation President Eisenhower will see when he tours the Great Plains drought area Jan. 13-15.)

By CHARLES DENTON

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (INS)—The drought-tortured ranchers and farmers of West Texas will be "right glad" to see their famous fellow-Texan, President Eisenhower, when he flies here next week on his tour of the nation's new dust bowl.

They are encouraged by his official demonstration of sympathy with the desperation of their situation. They are honored that he has chosen to begin his personal survey in the state where he was born.

But they are dubious about the ability of the government to relieve the distress of seven years of drought.

Legislation, they reason, cannot restore grass to barren ranges where even ancient oaks and mesquite trees, ordinarily capable of sucking life from the poorest earth, now stand like distorted skeletons risen from an abandoned graveyard.

It cannot replace topsoil on farmlands already sandpapered down to naked rocks by wind. It cannot "green up" dessicated pastures or heal dry cracks so wide and deep that lambs frequently fall into them and are lost.

They question whether it can put water back into streams that have run dry for the first time in recorded history, or hold down the swirling brown dust that even the most meticulous housewives have stopped battling and are "learning to live with."

And they doubt that it can rekindle the fire of hope in the weary eyes of farmers who have not had a paying crop since 1949, sheepmen who have watched their flocks grow thin and sickly or cattlemen who are staring into the drawn guns of bankruptcy.

They believe the President "couldn't have picked a better place" to study drought conditions, but they feel the answer to their problems must come from a Higher Authority—in the form of merciful rainfall.

Of Texas' 254 counties, 238 already have been declared drought disaster areas. A frightening 6,503,000 acres of land are regarded by the Department of Agriculture as likely to become a dust bowl when the winter winds come to rip at the fallow soil.

The most sorely afflicted region is the rolling land between San Angelo and San Antonio.

There the gates of ranches hang open in bewilderment, and some ranchers have even offered their horses free to those who will take them away—tragic evidence of the plight of cowmen, who have reduced or liquidated their herds to avoid the high cost of buying and hauling feed to them.

Sheepmen have cut their flocks so drastically that Texas' normal production of 80 million pounds of wool probably will be slashed to 35 million pounds this year.

Some cotton rose out of the baked soil last season, but so timidly that it could not be harvested. Several communities have been forced to haul in drinking water.

DISPLACED WORKERS INCREASE

The problem of employing displaced farm workers who have fled the ravaged land increases weekly in cities like San Angelo. In Karnes County, near San Antonio, almost half of the 17,500 residents are receiving surplus federal food commodities.

Farmers who have not yet been driven from their land keep trying with the heroism that comes from fighting nature for food. Each season they ready their land for planting. But usually they sow with the knowledge that their sweat will earn them little, if anything.

"They keep going, though I don't know how some of them do it," said an amazed Floyd Jones, of the Farm Home Administration.

"They go ahead and spend all that time and money and get nothing back. It's hit them hard, too. Most of them would be better off if they didn't. Another year like last year and it's going to be mighty bad, I can tell you.

One experienced farmer, wiry, gray-haired Floyd Grant, lost 40 per cent of his alfalfa crop last season and had to cut his stock of cows and sheep in half.

"It sure don't pay," he admitted wistfully, sucking on a battered pipe. "I've gone in the hole every year, and I had my farm paid for when it started, too. Why keep on? Well, there's just something about watching things grow, if they grow."

* * *

Many are not keeping on, however. While land abandonment is not a serious problem yet, abandonment of farming is. Many farmers have been forced by sheer economic necessity to surrender and find jobs in the cities, although they continue to live on their land.

Nor are the farmers the only sufferers. Drought is a malignant disease whose roots reach through the land into the vitals of an agricultural country. They can follow a man like his conscience.

One "busted" rancher, W. C. Burton, of San Angelo, stands a good chance of being stricken twice by drought. Forced out of livestock ranching, he is trying to recoup by operating a small filling station. But his business—and that of his fellow merchants—has fallen off almost 50 per cent.

"It's terrible. God, it's bad," he murmured. "It broke me. It broke my dad—he was a wool and mohair buyer — and it's darn near broke my brother, a livestock man. And he was worth quite a lot!"

Another non-agricultural victim, J. W. Vaughn, who buys wool and mohair and has an interest in a feed store in San Angelo, spat:

"It's plain awful! Some of the biggest people I know are broke. Most of the folks around here are broke — only some of 'em don't know it yet. I'll bet we've lost $100,000 in the feed business on people who just can't pay.

"Credit is getting tough, too. Some of us just can't borrow anything any more. Like me. I'm through!"

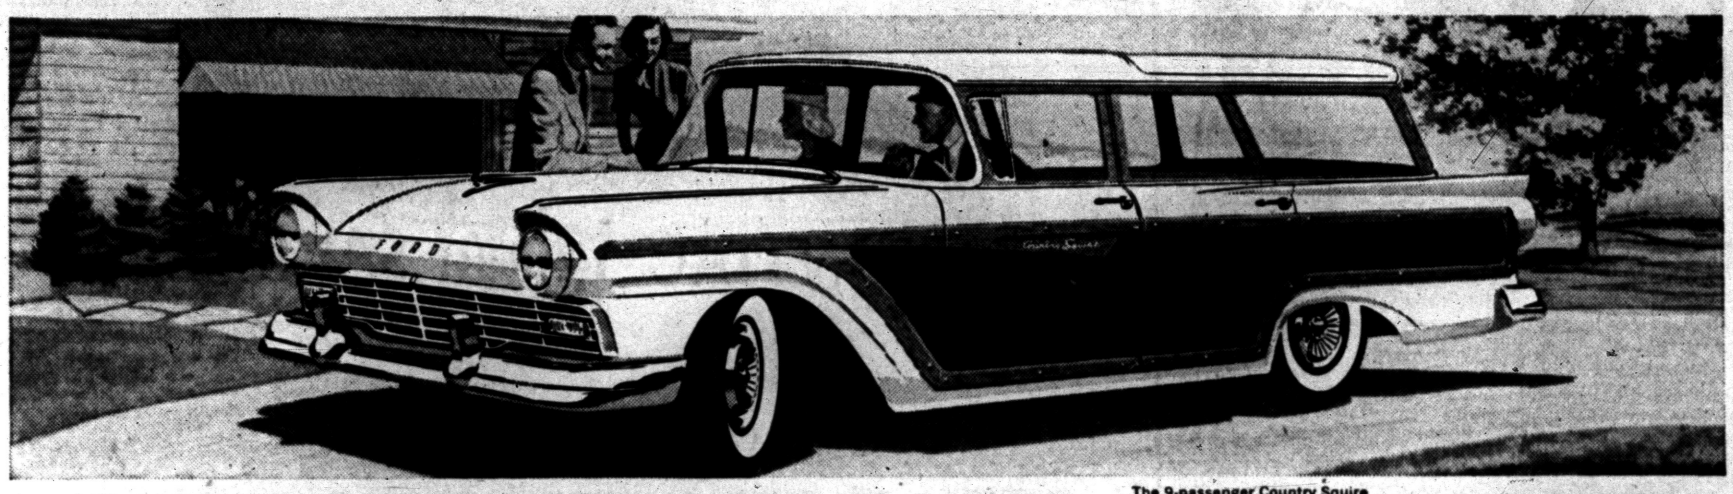

(Next: How do you fight the ravages of nature?)

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so powerfully different, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the new front-hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power!—V-8 power!—proved-in-action power. The wheels, the frame, the chin-high roof lines—wherever you look you'll admire its long, lean greyhound grace.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace than you ever dreamed possible. And for greater loading ease, the liftgate wraps right around the back of the car.

If your choice is the 9-passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new kind of glamour wagon with its luxurious and smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the spacious room of the new Country Sedan. And when you fold the rear seat into the floor, (a matter of mere seconds), you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. Like the Country Squire, it has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon. This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, the last word in modern decor. The beautiful color-mated interiors are made of new wonder-wear fabrics which defy muddy little shoes and drippy chocolate cones. And for quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2-door, 6-passenger wagon-life at its luxurious best.

Better see for yourself—and soon. Take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart . . . for work and power, it's a nimble, obedient slave!

Senate Probes Army Contract

Looks Into Bid Awarded Wife of Congressman for Military Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Defense Robert Tripp Ross says he had nothing to do with the award of an $834,150 Army contract to Wynn Enterprises, Inc., a company headed by his wife.

* * *

In a statement issued last night, the official said he saw nothing improper about the contract awarded last November. Mrs. Claire Wynn Ross is president of the firm.

Ross, a former vice president of the company, said earlier he had severed his connections with the firm in February 1952 after being elected to Congress from New York's 6th Dist.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee is looking into the contract to determine whether a conflict of interest is indicated.

Mrs. Ross has said her bid was low by $75,000. In his statement, Ross cited a New York trade journal report on opening the bids of nine firms.

"The record shows that Wynn Enterprises, Inc., was subsequently awarded the contract by the quartermaster general as the low responsible bidder," Ross' statement said.

The assistant secretary said he fully explained his stock holdings to the Senate Armed Services Committee during hearings on his confirmation.

His holdings, he added, "did not include any stock in Wynn Enterprises, nor in Southern Athletic Co., or any of its affiliated companies."

Kim Novak, Escort Sued for $50,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Kim Novak and her frequent escort, investment broker Mac Krim have been named defendants in a $50,000 damage suit of a traffic accident.

The suit was filed by Clarabelle Duncan, 41, who said she was hit by a car last Dec. 9 while crossing Sunset Boulevard. She said the car was driven by Krim and that Miss Novak was a passenger in it.

Miss Duncan said she suffered a fractured leg and other injuries in the accident.

Music Groups Meet at U. of M.

Three music groups of the Pontiac Public Schools will participate in the 12th annual Midwestern Conference on School Vocal and Instrumental Music at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor Friday and Saturday.

The event, planned to help music teachers meet practical problems and those of their profession in its relationships with other areas of music and education, will attract some 2,500 persons from Michigan and other states.

The Pontiac musical groups will be among 26 high school and college instrumental and choral groups participating in the conference.

Attending from Pontiac will be the Pontiac High School band under the direction of Dale C. Harris; the Combined Junior High School Band conducted by Lewis Crew, Eldon C. Rosegart and Frederick Weist; and the Webster School Autoharp Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Laudenslager, of the Elementary Music Vocal Department.

The conference's opening session at 9 a.m. Friday will be highlighted by a talk by Charles C. Hirt, director of choral organizations at the University of Southern California on "Music Education: A Process or a Product."

Another feature of the conference will be a public concert given jointly by the University Symphony Band, directed by William D. Revelli; the University Symphony Orchestra, directed by Josef Blatt and the Michigan Singers, directed by Maynard Klein, at 8 p.m. in the Hill Auditorium.

* * *

Guest soloist with the band concert will be Vincent James Abato, clarinetist of New York City, formerly with Toscanini's NBC Symphony of the Air.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

FAMOUS HORSES — 2

Early Horses

Horses have lived on this earth a long time, although not in the form we know them today.

The earliest or "dawn" horse called Eohippus was small, about the size of a cat or perhaps a fox. He had four toes which he walked on, unlike the hoofs of today's horses.

Horses developed and grew larger over the ages. Here is a cave boy with one of the early domesticated horses — still not so large as today's ponies.

In the corner is a diagram of a way you make a corral to hold the horses you will collect this week. We hope you saved the stable you made yesterday. It will be a good place for them to stay at night. In the daytime the horses will like their corral or exercise yard.

Fold a piece of stiff white paper in two — as shown in diagram A and cut it as shown. Make a number of these, paste them end to end, as shown in B and set them up to form a corral. Make the fence as high as you please.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut it out along the heavy outlines. Fold the two end panels under and bring the center one forward. Now the cave boy and his horse will stand.

State Employes Ask Speedy Pay Raise

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Employes Assn. has asked the state to make the recently approved 10 million dollar pay boost for state employes effective Jan. 1, 1957, instead of July 7.

* * *

The executive committee of the 11,000-member organization said that postponing the increase until July served "neither the general welfare of the state employes nor the public interest."

* * *

M. A. Riley, MSEA executive secretary, said wages of state employes already lagged far behind salaries paid by other employers and a delay in the increase until July would mean a 17-month period between revisions in salary schedules.

* * *

The commission Dec. 19 approved an increase averaging 8.8 per cent for 29,000 state employes, the bulk of it earmarked for workers in lower salary brackets.

Plan 3-Power Talks on Suez

Britain, France to Meet With Egypt; U.N. Head Will Be Intermediary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain and France were reported today to have agreed to a plan for indirect talks with Egypt on a Suez Canal settlement with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold acting as intermediary.

The Egyptian government refuses to meet face to face with British and French diplomats on the Suez problem.

There is hope the discussions can be started within a few days, but no specific time has yet been fixed.

* * *

The United States would stay out of the talks, to be held in New York, but would be ready to use its influence with both sides to speed a settlement.

* * *

Under the plan, officials said, Hammarskjold would meet with the British and French to hear their views, then relay these views to the Egyptians, who would be in another room.

He would pass on their reaction to the British and French and continue to move back and forth between the two groups with the aim of drafting a settlement all could agree upon.

Little 'Cowboy' Must Be Big—Mommy's Gone

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Cowboys must be big and strong, and so, too, must Charles Duane Jackson, though he's only 2½.

Cowboys have pistols. Charles has a pistol too, though it's only a toy.

* * *

The pistol was about the first thing this mitesized cowboy asked for Saturday when he finally was able to talk through his puffed and lacerated lips in Stonewall Jackson Hospital.

There is just one uncowboylike thing about Charles. Every now and again he calls for "Mommy," and this he must forget.

* * *

For "Mommy," Mrs. Marie Regina Jackson of Scranton, Pa., will never come. She, along with Charles' 3-week-old brother Edward, died Friday night in a bus crash near Lexington.

Five other lives also were lost when the bus slammed into the rear of a parked tractor-trailer on U.S. 11. Thirteen persons — including little Charles—still are hospitalized.

* * *

Charles appears happy in the hospital in spite of a fractured leg and head cuts. He's become the pet of nurses, doctors and other patients.

The nurses have set him up in style, in a bed in a waiting room opposite the nurses' station where they can keep a watchful eye on him as he steadily grows well.

At first, the tot was something of a problem. When he was brought to the hospital, he had only the clothing he wore. Doctors and nurses found some books and toys which had been left at the hospital by previous patients.

* * *

Getting Charles to eat was an early, but minor, problem. Soon the nurses found that the word "cowboy" had a magic meaning for the youngster. Now, when he balks at meals, they tell him: "You must eat if you want to grow up to be a cowboy . . . Cowboys must be big and strong."

And Charles eats.

* * *

Though he's not old enough to realize it, today was to be an important one in Charles' life.

His father was coming to see him.

Edward E. Jackson was on a temporary work project in Dover, N.J., when the bus crash wiped out most of his family last week. Today will be his first opportunity to visit Charles.

Birmingham Youth Mute on Charges of Breakin

A Birmingham youth, James H. Williamson, 17, of 2792 Dorchester Rd., yesterday stood mute to a charge he stole a case of beer Christmas Eve from a Birmingham market.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of innocent to the charge Williamson broke into the store at 1056 S. Woodward Ave. and remanded Williamson to jail under $200 bond.

British Government Faces Financial Crisis

Wage Hikes Could Wreck Economy; No Raise Means Disaster to Workers

Some seven and one-quarter million workers — more than a third of those in civil employment — are urgently demanding more money.

Granting of all these demands would add nearly three hundred million pounds sterling (about $840-million) to the nation's wages bill.

This is a critical week for British industry and British economy, for this week alone, an estimated five million workers are involved in pay talks which, if not resolved with reason, could lead the nation to disaster.

And this decisive week is likely to mold the eventual shape of all wage settlements for the remainder of the workers in the pay fight and others bound to join it.

Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's government is most seriously concerned for there are dangers of an industrial upheaval if concessions are not made. And some government officials feel lasting damage to the national economy could result if the concessions are made.

A number of major trade unions are battling to force this year's pay increases above the three per cent which was awarded in a number of cases last autumn.

KEY INDUSTRIES INVOLVED

Key engineering and shipbuilding industries, coal mining, railway and passenger transport and building are all involved in this week's talks.

Each industry is closely watching events in others, for the amount given in one section is likely to have vital repercussions in another.

Before the Suez crisis, it appeared that the unions might in the end settle for a three per cent wage increase. But price increases since the war have caused a sharp change in attitude.

Several three per cent offers from employers have been categorically rejected and demands today are for wage boosts ranging from five to fifteen per cent.

At the same time it is not only the manual workers, but the nation's physicians who are pressing for more money.

The medical men want as much as a 24 per cent increase in renumerations under the National Health Service set up.

The government last week refused to consider the merits of their claim for the time being, because it could not afford to in the present economic circumstances.

This reflects the government's attitude that there should be a period of both wage and price stabilization.

STABILIZATION VITAL

Consequently, the employers are just as firm and tough as labor over the wage demands.

Britain's economy today is face to face with a fuel and shipping crisis. And even without the wage increases, observers feel it will be a struggle for Britain to maintain her position in a competitive world.

And while living costs rise as a result of these crises the labor force is losing confidence in the government's ability to hold prices at a stable level.

The fear is that living costs will continue to rise and there is the prospect of more short time work.

Filibuster Legislation May Come up Again

Despite the vote to kill the move changing Senate rules making it easier to halt filibusters, Senate supporters of civil rights proposals believe such legislation may be passed by Congress this year.

Backers of the move, endorsed by both Senators Potter and McNamara, argued that the present system, in continuous effect with some amendments since 1884, gives a small group of Senators veto power. Opponents, mostly Southerners who have used the filibuster in years past to block civil rights legislation, contend the issue involved the traditional freedom to debate in the Senate.

Although Republican Senate Majority Leader Knowland voted against the proposed change, he said he would introduce new legislation to make it easier to end filibusters.

His proposal would permit debate to be halted by two-thirds of the Senators present and voting, instead of two-thirds of all 96 members. But if his bill gets out of committee, it would be subject to a Senate filibuster under existing rules.

If cloture by two-thirds vote of those present were applied to all motions, bills, proposals to change rules, etc. it would be a moderate improvement on which both parties might agree. No civil rights legislation can be passed without doing something about the anti-democratic filibuster which is the principal barrier to such legislation.

New Mayor in Okinawa Elected by Leftist Group

The election of pro-Communist Kanejiro Senaga as mayor of Naha, capital of Okinawa, population 170,000, is presenting a big problem for the U.S. command in that Pacific outpost.

Senaga, 49, received 16,000 votes, 2,100 more than his nearest rival. Two other candidates split the pro-U.S. vote. American authorities had jailed the new mayor two years ago for concealing a Japanese Communist smuggled in from Japan and for giving false evidence.

★ ★ ★

On release he immediately started an anti-U.S. campaign. His platform called for an end to U.S. rule and the return of Okinawa to Japan. According to Senaga, American authorities are "criminals, murderers, rapists, arsonists and thieves."

Okinawa's conservatives are aware that U.S. dollars built new schools, hospitals, roads and many other public improvements. Two days after Senaga's election, 27 of Naha's 30 councilors resigned in protest

★ ★ ★

The Bank of the Ryukyus in which the U.S. holds 51 per cent of the stock and supplies most of the funds, announced that "no new loans would be made to that city." Its manager explained that "Americans did not order me to chop off Naha's credit. I am doing so because Senaga in his campaign speeches said that if elected he would refuse all U.S. aid. You do not lend money to a man who has said he will never touch it."

★ ★ ★

If the new mayor is thrown out of office on the order of our military leaders, it would violate the principle of free elections. On the other hand, if left in office he most likely will serve only to strengthen the Communists. That is the quandry the anti-Communist elements in Okinawa will have to solve.

Alaska Puts on Show

To dramatize their desire for statehood, Alaskans have sent a delegation motoring to Washington in a caravan of white and gold automobiles.

At departure ceremonies in Fairbanks, the flag displayed had 49 stars. In last fall's election, acting as a state, a constitution for Alaska was adopted and two "senators" and a "representative" were elected.

★ ★ ★

Simulated Congressional stationery was presented to the delegation listing their office address as "Any Park Bench, Washington, D. C." Eskimos at Point Barrow are sending to President Eisenhower with the caravan a paper weight ivory seal balancing an ivory golf ball on his nose.

★ ★ ★

Their sense of humor doesn't discount the deadly earnestness with which the Alaskans are asking to be admitted as a state. They are resourceful and determined and will put up a good argument for statehood.

The Man About Town

Valuable Land Was Among First to Be Settled Here

Women: The smarter sex—and some of them have the figures which they think is the way to prove it.

The 1,400 acres of real estate which comprise the major portion of the $10 million gift of

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson to Michigan State University was among the first in Oakland County to be settled by white men. Its general terrain attracted even our earliest pioneers.

It is situated within three miles of the first white settlement in the county, in 1817, at Rochester, and within a couple of miles of the present Pontiac city limits.

Comprising over two sections of land, the earliest records show that most of it was taken up from the government about 1818, the year that Pontiac first was settled. The price paid the government was generally one dollar per acre, the terms being 25 cents per acre down, and 25 cents per acre per year until paid for.

Records now on file in the Register of Deeds office at Pontiac show that early families owning a portion of the 1,400 acres included: Fuller, Douglas, Hubbell Bros., Kimball, Mumby, Coffin, Butler, Barnett, Weaver, Fox, Renshaw, Lomason, Eley and Shoemaker.

Snug Fit

David Lawrence Says:

Filibuster Protects States' Rights

WASHINGTON — Back of the present controversy in the Senate as to whether debate shall be limited or unlimited is a larger battle over "civil rights" legislation, shortly to be pressed for passage, which would give the federal government police rights in the states never before granted by any law of Congress.

Perhaps another way of describing it is to say that it is a battle over constitutional rights.

Time was when every state in the Union sent two Senators to Washington specifically to protect the rights of those states.

Today, no matter how vigorously the senators from the southern states may protest against the loss of the constitutional rights of their own states, an arbitrary majority of the Supreme Court of the United States can apparently take away those rights.

GREAT RISK

Hence, there is a great risk to the South in allowing any laws—abridging the rights of the states—to be passed by the Senate which would be put up to the present Supreme Court to rule upon as to constitutionality.

For the Supreme Court has revealed itself in decision after decision in recent months as ready to cut down the rights of the states to govern themselves in matters of education and the maintenance of order — both of which have long been recognized as issues for state governments and courts to handle.

Abuses of power lead to further abuses of power. The Constitution doesn't spell out the limits of every right or privilege, so it is up to the Supreme Court to interpret them. Until now the court has been a judicial body. It has paid attention to precedents in law as laid down from time immemorial.

UPSET PRECEDENTS

But lately the court has taken "psychological" questions into consideration and has upset precedents of long standing because "public opinion" apparently feels that way. It's another tragic example of the doctrine of the end being cited as justifying the means.

Under the Nazi dictatorship in Germany in the 1930's, the German constitution was swept aside and instructions were issued to the courts to decide cases in accordance with "public sentiment." Legal precedents were disregarded. The late John W. Davis, in a speech at the time, bitterly criticized this as judicial tyranny.

Today American judges, using the power of injunction that has no limits placed upon it either as to time or scope, apparently may order citizens arrested and, without jury trial, punish them if they appear to have violated the terms of a sweeping injunction.

SAME SITUATION

Precisely this situation has arisen in Clinton, Tenn., where a federal judge has issued about as broad an injunction as has ever come from the judiciary. It has been used to arrest persons who were not parties to the original Supreme Court order such as local school boards and state governments.

It has been construed so as to arrest citizens exercising their right of free speech. Cases of intimidation by one citizen as against another have arisen, but these have been hitherto handled by state courts and not by federal injunction.

This has always been the constitutional rule. In fact, in February 1950, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals of the eighth circuit held that the district court had no jurisdiction to enter a decree "enjoining the world at large" and that the defendants who were not parties to the original action in which the injunction was issued could not be adjudged in contempt. Judge Learned Hand of the second U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled the same way in a notable case.

FEARS CIVIL RIGHTS

Now the South, fearing that a new set of "civil rights" laws may be passed, is disturbed about what may be done with the broadened power of judicial injunction. So the southerners in the Senate are not going to let any new laws on "civil rights" get through Congress, even if they have to block them by filibusters and delaying tactics.

No legislative body in the world has been as careful to protect the rights of the minority in its ranks as has the United States Senate. "Filibustering" has been denounced again and again as obstructive, but those in the minority nevertheless have been able to stop impulsive action and the passage of many unwise measures by compelling a thorough discussion.

A "cloture" can, under existing rules, be invoked to cut off debate whenever two-thirds of the Senators want to do so. The new effort is aimed at amending the rules so that a simple majority of 49 can override the will of 47 in the Senate.

Last week the Senate, by a simple majority vote of 55-to-38, refused to adopt a new set of rules. So the old rules still prevail and, as long as at least one-third of the Senators stand up for states' rights they can by prolonged discussion prevent any bills from being voted on in the Upper House of Congress.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Deft Guide for Diabetics Avoids Twisting Tongues

A health column that goes medical can do a lot of harm. The very best physicians are generally inept in expressing themselves in language the layman understands. A lowly practitioner may have the knack. I'm good at drawing myself into the argument, too.

I am reminded of my discovery of Doctor Duffie. The name should be familiar to many readers, especially those who have or are Training For Diabetes (title of my booklet available for 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope).

Browsing in the stacks of current medical literature one day in the '20s I came upon an extraordinary succinct and instructive article on diabetes by Dr. Don H. Duffie, Central Lake, Michigan.

The article made such an impression on me that I wrote to the author and . . . well, the good Dr. Duffie thereafter made his sound and practical knowledge available to the public in an admirable guide book, "A Book for Us Diabetics," which went through I don't know how many editions, but is now out of print, I regret to say.

VIVID DESCRIPTION

In all my reading I have come across no more vivid description or explanation of a disease than this masterpiece which I quote from my prized copy of the handbook no longer available:

"A diabetic is one who is starving for sugar while his blood is full of it."

Diabetic or not, we all eat food. Much of our food, in the stomach, is digested into sugar, and as sugar it is picked up by the blood stream for delivery to wherever needed in the body.

The difference is that the healthy body can pick this sugar out of the blood again, as needed, whereas the diabetic body cannot. So the sugar piles up on the diabetic's blood, because for some reason his tissues cannot make use of the sugar after he gets it. It might be said that his blood-sugar rides 'round and 'round on the delivery wagon instead of being delivered.

It seems to me it would be a blessing to potential and actual diabetics if Dr. Duffie's book, with whatever revisions he may think necessary, were published again.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Driver Answers Letter About City Bus Service

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We, the drivers, are very sympathetic with you the people in the recent change of schedules, service, etc. It is as much to our disadvantage as it is yours. However, we do not appreciate the criticisms in your article of Jan. 4 of the drivers.

There are about 45 drivers at Pontiac City Lines, and I would venture to say that 90 per cent of these drivers are very competent in their line of work, considering the adverse conditions they are forced to work under. Driving a bus in Pontiac is by no means an easy job. Our passengers consist of drunks, fanatics, cheats, eccentrics, and what have you. We get cussed at, preached to, slandered and criticized, all for $1.65 an hour, plus fighting this Pontiac traffic.

Otherwise, I did like the article and wish more people in Pontiac and the City officials, would show a little more interest in the operation of our bus lines, then perhaps we would all realize better conditions.

Disabled Veteran Asks Refugee Aid

We hear much about charity. God grant that we see more of it in our works. God also says charity starts at home. I am a war veteran, 100 per cent disabled. I can walk a block without sitting down and resting. The government gives me 30 per cent disability pay and takes $14 a month for my 14-year-old daughter. But I say come on, America, let's help those Hungarians. God will surely bless us abundantly for it.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Create Roots for Happy Marriage

Mary sabotaged her chances of a happy marriage by failing to play the batting averages. Every smart woman should realize you can't expect to establish a "home" atmosphere unless you grow spiritual and social and civic roots where you live. Church folks rarely get divorces. There's a reason!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-368: Mary D., aged 23, is the wife of Larry, who was described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, I'll admit I may not have done my part in our marriage," she finally confessed.

"But we never had any home life in the college town. We lived in small quarters surrounded by a lot of other married students.

"It was only 125 miles to my home, so I used to drive back to visit my parents frequently.

"We never went to church or had any social life at college, so I felt as if I were almost living out of a suit case all the time I was there.

"My idea of home was to be with my parents, for there I was well acquainted. Larry and I had no social roots in the college town."

"HOME" ROOTS

Every young couple should start to church together the very first Sabbath of their honeymoon.

And the moment they settle down into an apartment or cottage, they should look up a neighboring church and transfer their membership to it.

Far too many young couples fail to do this, so they don't develop the religious and social and civic roots that create an atmosphere of "home."

No wonder young brides then want to run back to mamma and daddy, for the latter represent all the peace and pleasure of home.

BANISH NOSTALGIA

* * *

They get so lonely they go home every week-end. Then they add an extra day and don't come back till Tuesday.

Soon they are so badly behind in studies that they get on probation, and finally flunk out.

Married couples likewise "flunk out" for the same reason. So brush up your proper marital behavior as diligently and frequently as you brush your teeth.

Happy marriages are made that way by conscious effort on the part of the bride and groom.

So Larry and Mary should have linked up with a church. They should have become active in a class.

* * *

They should also have launched their little boy in a Sunday school class, too. And they should have gone through the proper romantic motions of one date per week, despite Larry's heavy law studies.

LOVE DEVELOPS

For emotions must be exercised in order to remain strong, just as is true of muscles and glands.

And you can't wait till a summer vacation to make muscles strong. One or two weeks of high pressure calisthenics is not the secret. No, you must use your muscles daily.

* * *

And satisfy your mate's basic hunger for gastric and erotic calories. Since husbands demand far more of both than wives do, act accordingly.

Send for my 200-point "Test for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Rate yourselves thereon every week.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Museum Curator Considers 'Moth' a Dirty Word

Cleanliness Keeps Heirloom Clothes Intact

By LEE CARSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Do you have a little heirloom in the house?

The Metropolitan Museum of Art has well over 3,000 in its collection of costumes worn by our venerated ancestors dating back to the post fig-leave era — and all in excellent condition.

"The trick is constant attention and inspection," states Polaire Weissman, curator of the museum's fabulous collection.

"We keep them spotlessly clean — for the most part with gentle dunkings in soap and water — and if you pack anything away be sure and get it out and hang it up every three months, if not more often."

* * *

Miss Weissman also recommends a sort of Mae West hanger that has both bosom and hips to lessen the drag on the material.

To anyone in loving possession of an heirloom wedding gown or christening robe she advises blue tissue and very soft linen as wrappings when the valuables are folded away, and that shapely hanger plus a soft linen cover when they are hanging.

CAREFUL RINSING

To avoid, as much as possible, the discoloration that comes with age, Miss Weissman swears by gentle suds, very very careful rinsing and frequent spot cleaning with soap and water.

* * *

Bleaching is dangerous and oftimes fatal. Chemical cleaning is to be avoided like the plague except in dire emergency.

Silks, furs and other unwashables are simply "kept clean," protected with your life against moths or other such destroyers and dotingly rotated between hanger and drawer.

As for unmentionables, Miss Weissman strongly recommends rolling them cylindrically in tissue — even if they are brand new. Some of the pieces of lingerie in the museum collection date back to Elizabeth I, and all are in fine shape.

* * *

When you wander through the huge and somber "library" of costumes which Miss Weissman keeps under constant surveillance, it becomes appallingly clear that the modern man, woman and child is lucky in the extreme.

Our ancestors were a horrendously dressy lot, given to bows, furbelows, braid, embroidery, gussets, pleats, lace, beading and complicated systems of entrance and exit. Children wore replicas of their parents' clothes cut to size and usually fussier, if anything.

In the 1600's well-dressed small boys went out to play in a cross between Lord Fauntleroy's rig and the court dress of a regency marquis. Thirty years later the puritan trend hit and everyone was dressed in somber browns, grays and clay colors but the outfits were no less intricate and unwieldy.

All females, no matter what age, had their crowning glory tucked securely out of sight under a little cap that tied under the chin. Aprons were de rigeur.

In George Washington's time toddlers were weighted down with devices called "bumpers" bearing a distinct resemblance to football helmets and just about as heavy.

The museum collection, which boasts everything from robes of the 15th Century down to ball gowns belonging to best-dressed Mrs. Byron Foy and the Duchess of Windsor, is ferociously guarded by Miss Weissman.

"There is daily inspection, regular refreshing — and moth is a dirty word around here," she says firmly.

* * *

"We have some magnificent things, some very sentimental ones, some rather pitiful and revealing items. But it is an invaluable record of 5,000 years of civilization.

* * *

"And the watchword is — keep it clean."

Security for You

Self-Employed Must Now Pay SS Tax

Income tax time has a new meaning this year for about 200,000 self-employed professional people who were brought under Social Security by Congress in 1956.

For it's then that they must mail their first Social Security tax payments to the government—along with their federal income tax returns.

The professional people affected are self-employed lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturopaths and optometrists.

If you're one of these new members of the Social Security family, you'll probably have to take two steps to prepare for making your tax payment:

Get a Social Security number from your nearest Social Security office. The number is necessary because it must be listed on the special Social Security tax form which you must file with your tax payment.

If you've already got a number, you should use it rather than get a new one. If you were given a number, but have lost track of it, your Social Security office can give it to you.

Fill out the special Social Security tax form which you should have received last week as part of your regular federal income tax package. (Only persons among the newly-covered professional people who don't have to complete the form are those with net earnings in 1956 of less than $400.)

This form must be mailed with your income tax form and your Social Security payment to your district director of the Internal Revenue Service by April 15, 1957.

SIMPLY FIGURED

Once you figure out your net earnings, the task of figuring out your Social Security for 1956 will be fairly simple. The tax will be 3 per cent of the first $4,200. For example: If your net earnings was $4,200, your tax payment will be $126.

(The Social Security tax on your net earnings in 1957 will be 3⅝ of the first $4,200. Periodic increases from 1960 to 1975 will eventually bring your tax to 6% on your earnings up to $4,200.

* * *

Whatever the amount of the Social Security tax, you'll be expected to include a check, a money order or cash to cover it when you return your tax form.

Although you make the payment and send the special tax form to the Internal Revenue Service, both will be turned over to the Social Security Administration within a few months after you send them in.

On the basis of the form and the payment, your future Social Security benefits are figured. Of course, your past Social Security payments, if you made any, and those you'll make in the future will all be a part of record on which the benefits are based.

Chances are, in fact, you already have accumulated Social Security credits. If you worked in a job covered by Social Security before you entered your present profession, you have.

Also, if you served on active duty in the armed forces after Sept. 15, 1940, you have credit toward future benefits, unless the same period of active duty is counted toward certain other government benefits.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your own Socity Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed enevelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Lathrup Official Quits

By NANCE BELLEFLEUR
Southfield Correspondent

LATHRUP — Katheryn V. Feyereisen resigned as councilwoman at the regular meeting of the council held here last night.

In her letter, Miss Feyereisen said "Events of the past seven months make it increasingly difficult for me to fulfill my obligations to the people of Lathrup Village as their representative."

The resignation climaxed efforts by Miss Feyereisen and Mayor John G. Campbell to oust administrator Leonard A. Watchowski on charges of poor administration.

Mayor Campbell said this morning "It all started seven months ago when Lathrup's Justice of the Peace, Leonard W. Pylgas and Police Chief, Lt. Dave Bourgeois resigned.

The reason given at that time was that they could not work with the inadequate volunteer police department.

Watchowski supported Pylgas and Bourgeois in their claim. Campbell maintained that the police force was adequate.

Watchowski has been under attack by Miss Feyereisen and Campbell ever since demanding his resignation.

At a closed hearing held Dec. 3 Watchowski was given a chance to answer charges brought by Miss Feyereisen and Campbell.

He was given a vote of confidence by the council at that time by a three-to-two vote.

Small Business May Get Help

Special Federal Bank, Other Proposals Made by House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The majority of the House small business committee is considering a proposal for a special federal bank to help finance and expand small business operations.

Chairman Patman (D-Tex) said today the Democratic majority has agreed on 21 recommendations which were "not concurred in by the Republican members of the committee."

* * *

One is that the committee considered a proposal to establish a federal small business bank, to have authority and capital equal to that of the Export - Import Bank, the Treasury's agency for making loans abroad.

Tax recommendations in the Patman said in a statement, include:

Placing corporate income taxes on a progressive basis like personal taxes, so that smaller businesses would pay less and larger businesses more.

* * *

2. Various revisions in the tax code to help unincorporated firms heirs of closely held business concerns, and owners of businesses whose assets are sold for corporate stock, and to bring excise taxes back to pre-World War II levels.

* * *

Patman also said the report calls for investigation of price increases to see if some of them result from "inadequate competitive restraint and unwarranted profit-taking."

Other recommendations, he said, deal with tightening of the antitrust laws and implementing federal policies of procuring goods from small businesses when possible.

Clarkston High, Musicians' Host

The seventh annual tri-session of the Wayne-Oakland County All-League Bands met Saturday at the Clarkston High School and 70 musicians were chosen out of 200 students to play in four concerts to be held this year.

Students from eight schools in the league participated in the all-day affair and five from Clarkston High will be represented.

Those chosen for the All-League Band concerts are: Glen Underwood, clarinet, Pat Thayer, sax, Robert Furman, tenor sax, Sue Ellen O'Dell, clarinet and Harold O'Berry, bass drums.

Two alternates were chosen by the judges and they were Ed Shadowen, clarinet, and Robert Lawsen, tuba.

Delay Drain Hearing of Troy, Southfield

An Oakland County Circuit Court hearing by which Troy and Southfield Township hope to escape from the Twelve Town Drain project was postponed one month today.

It was rescheduled to Feb. 7, assignment clerk C. Richard Smith said, because the court docket is crowded with jury trials.

* * *

The communities claim they are overly-assessed in the $38 million project. The county says they can't back out.

Harry J. Merritt, county corporation counsel, has filed amending complaints in an effort to speed a supreme court ruling on constitutional questions involved.

The case was originally scheduled for Dec. 8 and postponed one month at Merritt's request.

Pontiac Man Arrested, Takes Life in County Jail

A 62-year-old city man who was jailed yesterday afternoon on a drunk and disorderly charge was found dead in his cell at the Oakland County Jail last night.

Donovan Jack Thompson, of 411 N. Cass Ave., was discovered by turnkey Deputy Earl Beason after a call from a trusty. He was found sitting on the floor with a shirt wrapped tightly around his neck and through the bars. Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette pronounced the death as suffocation by hanging.

McNamara Proposes $2 Billion School Plan

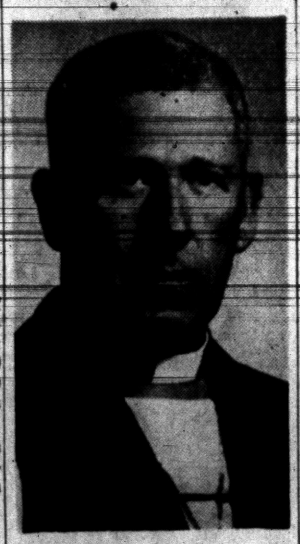

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan to spend one billion dollars a year for two years for a federal school construction program was proposed yesterday by Sen. McNamara (D-Mich).

McNamara called his two billion dollar plan "a crash program designed to immediately attack the rapidly increasing shortage of schoolrooms across the nation."

The bill would earmark federal funds to assist states and communities in building schools.

Seek Voters Approval on Village Bond Issue

ALMONT—The voters of Almont will be asked to approve a $100,000 bonding issue for the village to finish the construction of a sewage disposal plant. The special election will be held Monday Jan. 14. The bonding issue will require a majority of 60 per cent in order to carry.

The total cost of the treatment plant has been estimated at $155,000 but the special assessment on water bills established a few years ago, will make up the difference, officials say.

Did Candidates Fake Petitions?

State Officials Examine Signature Lists Entered by Court Nominees

LANSING (AP)— Nominating petitions of two Wayne County circuit court candidates were under scrutiny today after state elections officials said some of the signatures might have been faked.

The petitions of John T. McWilliams, Dearborn associate municipal judge, and Joh nJ. Wojcinski, Detroit attorney, were under examination by Wayne County elections officials.

Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, said a "sizable number" of signatures on the petitions were in the same handwriting.

"We are not saying at this point that the signatures are phony," he said. "We are only saying that they look suspicious."

* * *

Petitions of most circuit court candidates who filed for the Feb. 18 primary contained a few signatures which appeared to be written by the same person, Montgomery said.

But in the case of McWilliams and Wojcinski, there were enough doubtful signatures to possibly disqualify them from the primary, he said.

* * *

Some of the petitions looked as if they might have been "round tabled," Montgomery said.

This is a practice in which supporters of the candidate sit around a table and pass petitions to each other, signing names from a telephone or city directory.

Parents and Teachers to Confer on Progress

MILFORD—Supplementing regular report cards, parents of elementary and junior high school pupils in the Huron Valley schools, have been invited to confer with the teachers regarding the progress of their children during the first semester.

Conferences with parents are being scheduled by the teachers on Jan. 17 and 18. The semester ends Jan. 18.

Arthbur Burklund, elementary supervisor, stated that this is the time for the teachers and parents to take into account the progress the child has made, and to arrange to strengthen weaknesses and study strong points.

The conferences are designed to bring mutual understanding between the teacher and the parents, whose mutual interest is the student, according to school officials.

A letter of explanation entitled "What Parents and Teachers Bring a Conference" has been sent to parents this week.

The two-day conference is divided into 20-minute periods, and parents will be notified of their scheduled appointment.

Burklund added that the conference will be more successful if the parents come prepared with their own thoughts and questions regarding their youngster, instead of leaving all the talking up to the teacher.

Refuse Delay in Ecorse Case

Judge Denies Request to Postpone Hearings to Oust Officials

DETROIT (AP) — Removal hearings against Mayor William W. Voisine of suburban Ecorse and three of the suburb's councilmen will not be postponed.

Probate Judge John W. Conlin yesterday denied a request by their attorneys who asked that the hearings be held up until criminal actions against the men are concluded.

Conlin, an Ann Arbor judge, was appointed to conduct the hearings. He said he had no authority to grant a delay and ordered the hearing begin.

* * *

All four have been indicted on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice by allowing operation of gambling establishments. All except Councilman Elmer G. Korn face trial Jan. 15. The others are councilmen Francis A. Labadie and Albert B. Buday.

A date has not yet been set for Korn's trial.

Meanwhile, Hubert A. Mitchell, a Livonia attorney, has asked the Wayne County circuit bench to extend Bohn's grand jury investigation to Livonia. No immediate action was taken.

Throw Out Charge in Paddling of Pupil

IONIA (AP) — An assault and battery charge, arising from the paddling of a school pupil, has been dismissed against Harry Flowers, school superintendent at nearby Palo.

Flowers had been arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Vicie Wolfington, mother of 7-year-old Robert Wolfington, object of the paddling last November.

In obtaining the dismissal, Prosecutor Van Buren said he "didn't feel it was in the interest of the people of Ionia County" to have further action in the case. Flowers, once suspended by the school board, was later re-instated.

Stolen Car, Money Orders; Trio in Trap

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Two Chicago men and a woman were held for federal authorities today in connection with stolen postal money orders cashed through southern Michigan.

Detective Lt. George Stauch said the trio, arrested yesterday, are held for investigation of uttering and publishing fraudulent checks.

He identified them as Edwin W. Swanson, 27; Elmer F. Criggers, 26, and Mrs. Marian R. Stokes, 18, all of Chicago.

Stauch said that Swanson admitted breaking into a Battle Creek hardware store which also served as a post office sub-station. Stauch said Swanson took some 400 blank money orders and the postmaster's official stamp.

The trio were driving a car stolen in Chicago, Stauch said. The car bore stolen Michigan license plates.

John H. Sampson, 23, of 4532 Dequindre Rd., was committed by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green after failing to pay fine and costs totaling $100.

Rochester police reported Sampson stole the tires from a used car he and his wife supposedly were trying out under the pretense of buying. The tires, which were later sold, were recovered by police.

Attlee Lectures on Red 'Empire'

Briton Cites Domination of Russia by Minorities in Satellite Fringe

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Soviet Union is the outstanding example of an imperialistic nation in action, says the postwar prime minister of Great Britain, Earl Attlee.

Attlee made this statement to a University of Michigan audience last night as he embarked on a 12-lecture tour of the United States and Canada.

"There are many minorities in the U. S. S. R. who are dominated by the Russians," he said in support of his charge.

He mentioned the Georgians, the Armenians and the peoples in the satellite fringe as those in the cloak of Russian dominance.

* * *

Attlee's talk dealt with the evolution of the British empire to its present status as a commonwealth of nations which exists with each other by "contact and conference."

He explained how two different movements — nationalism which had its roots in 19th century Europe and a larger unity among nations stemming from scientific advancements — brought about the transformation.

* * *

He cited the Boer War in South Africa during the first years of the 20th century as the beginning of the decline of imperialistic Britain.

Earlier, at a news conference, Attlee said he is glad President Eisenhower told the world of the United States' responsibilities in the strife-torn Middle East, but he wished the President had made his declaration earlier.

Army Probing Security Leak

Unauthorized Persons Had Access to Papers Relating to Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is conducting a formal investigation of a reported leak to "unauthorized persons" of a document dealing with limits put on the Army's development and use of new missiles.

A brief announcement yesterday said a document which "apparently contained secret information" was found "in the hands of unauthorized persons." The document pertained to the Nov. 26 decision by Secretary of Defense Wilson on the Army's roles and missions in the missile field. The Air Force was given major control over missiles.

* * *

The Army did not identify the unauthorized persons who obtained access to the information, but informed sources at the Pentagon said that after the Wilson order, some Army people distributed several papers that criticized the decision. Some of these papers were made available to interested congressmen.

* * *

Although several officers are being questioned, the announcement said, it named only one: Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. He is chief of the field coordinating office at the Army's ballistic missile center, the Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

Nickerson, a 1918 graduate of West Point, said he would have no immediate comment.

The investigation was revealed by the Army in a written reply to an inquiry. The service did not indicate details of the document, but said it discussed Wilson's decision limiting the Army to use of missiles with a range of not more than 200 miles, and those specifically assigned to antiaircraft defense.

* * *

The Army said steps were being taken to recover any copies of the document which may have been distributed.

Meat of the Matter Was in the Sermon

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—After listening to a seemingly endless debate on a relatively minor bill, State Sen. J. C. North rose in the Maryland Legislature last night to tell the one about a man who stole a ham hock on his way to church.

* * *

Seated in a front pew with the stolen ham hock tucked under his coat, he listened to a rousing sermon against the wages of sin, growing more uncomfortable with every fiery phrase. Finally, he hauled out the ham and surrendered it to an elder.

"Take it!" he pleaded. "I've never before heard so much hell raised over such a little piece of meat!"

Diplomat Stays in Pacific Post

Robertson Will Remain Dulles' Aide in Charge of Far East Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter S. Robertson, vigorous foe of diplomatic recognition for Red China, has agreed to a White House request that he stay on as assistant secretary of state in charge of Far Eastern affairs.

A Virginia investment banker, he has served as chief aide to Secretary of State Dulles in drafting and maintaining this government's political and economic boycott of the Peiping regime.

Robertson, a 63-year-old Eisenhower Democrat, reportedly could have had his choice of a wide number of ambassador posts, if he had wanted one.

His decision to remain as assistant secretary came as responsible informants disclosed that John Allison, ambassador to Japan since 1953, would be shifted to a new post as ambassador to Indonesia.

He'll Represent Chippewas

'Chief' Needs Costume to Wear in Ike's Parade

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Chief Ga-mah-gee-jeeg drove a snow plow today over the roads of Chippewa County.

At the controls of the plow, he was merely Arthur Le Blanc, an employe of the county road commission.

* * *

But while plowing snow, Le Blanc could think about what he was going to wear in President Eisenhower's inaugural parade. As chief Ga-mah-gee-jeeg he will represent the Chippewas.

Every American Indian tribe is being invited to have a representative in the parade marking Eisenhower's second inauguration Jan. 21.

Inaugural committee officials said that some tribes already have accepted. They estimate that 165 such invitations would be issued.

However, the Michigan chief has a problem. He has been studying old documents and portraits of ancient chiefs, seeking an authentic costume.

* * *

"The elders of our band," he said, "say that the ancient chiefs had no standard attire and had costumes designed for each big ceremony."

Le Blanc is a direct descendant of the famous chief Waub-Ojeeb, leader of the Chippewa nation a century ago when some 45,000 Indians ranged from Upper Michigan through Wisconsin and Minnesota. Waub-Ojeeb was a great warrior and gave the Sioux Indians a bad time.

Chief Ga-mah-gee-jeeb, which means "leader of this time," is president of the Bay Mills general tribal council. He was elected to that post under a federal charter.

* * *

Le Blanc, 34, is the father of six children and his pay as a snow plow driver isn't enough for him to finance a trip to Washington. But he has received promises of assistance to pay his expenses. The Chippewa County Republican Committee will pay his plane fare and hotel bill.

* * *

Le Blanc's main problem is to decide what his great great great great (4 of 'em) grandpappy, chief Waub-Ojeeb, the Great White Fisher, would consider a suitable costume for Ga-mah-gee-jeeg to wear before Big Chief Ike.

There is now no possibility that total prohibition can be enforced in India by April 1, 1958, as recommended by a government commission, experts believe.

Hello, It's Marathon Time Again!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's Marathon time again! I am here, as I am each January, with my eight-week self-improvement Marathon. Hello out there to you "repeaters" and welcome to you newcomers to this adventure of increased attractiveness and health.

Many women think of Marathon as a regular part of their beauty routine. They may have regained some of the pounds (or all of them) which they lost last year, or they may have developed some other new defect in good looks during the year.

To thousands of women Marathon is as much a sign that January is here as green is that St. Patrick's Day has arrived.

Those of you who wish to lose weight will have to count calories. In my Marathon booklet you will find all the information necessary for that, along with a calorie chart. Yesterday I gave you some suggestions in order to help you plan healthful reducing menus. Today I want to pass along some more first aid.

It seems that hunger and the amount of blood sugar are correlated. A rise in blood sugar decreases appetite. Dr. Frederick J. Stare of Harvard University has given the following rules which should be helpful to your reducing efforts:

GOOD BREAKFAST

First, eat a good breakfast. If you have only toast and coffee, by mid-morning your blood sugar level will be very low and you will be hungry. You may dash out and eat something much higher in calorie count than an adequate breakfast would have been, and not nearly so important so far as the essential foods for health are concerned.

One of the first reducing rules is to eat a good breakfast. By mid-morning when you are hungry you may eat something higher in calorie count than an adequate breakfast would have been, and not nearly so important so far as the essential foods for health are concerned.

* * *

Eat slowly. It takes a while for food to raise your level of blood sugar and if you eat slowly your appetite will decrease more rapidly as the meal continues.

Do not leave off all fat. Some fat acts as a blotter and allows you to eat less with less discomfort.

Eat the protein in your meal first. This will raise the level of your blood sugar and therefore decrease appetite. Thus you will not be quite so interested in other items which follow and which may be calorie-packed.

* * *

These general rules should go along with your calorie counting.

PROGRESS REPORT

I would like it very much if, at the end of eight weeks, you would write to let me know how you got along. Many women do this each year and I always get a big kick out of the wonderful improvement they have made in themselves and how it has affected their lives.

* * *

If you would like to join thousands of other women all over the country in seeing how much you can improve your appearance and personality in eight weeks time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fashions Feature 'Soft Touch' for Spring

Gentleness Eases Slim Silhouette

Suits and Dresses Designed for Both Comfort, Flattery

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—It's the "soft touch" for spring, visiting fashion editors learned today, attending sessions of the New York Dress Institute's 28th National Press Week.

* * *

Clothes have a new gentleness about them, with many devices used to soften and ease the predominant slender silhouette. The new suits and dresses allow freedom of movement, follow, but do not bind, the natural lines of the body and are designed for comfort as well as flattery.

* * *

Pauline Trigere, an Americanized Parisian with a French flair for style, uses peplums, tunics and capes to break the uncompromising lines of the straight silhouette. One of her devices is a double peplum which she calls "Tu-Tu" and which does suggest the perky skirt of the ballerina. She also uses tunics in various ways, usually only at side or back, with a straight line in front.

Trigere uses dots and dashes as the theme of her spring collection, heading the program with a line of Morse code and highlighting a series of outfits in bold polka dots and stripes.

* * *

Oleg Cassini, who always has believed that the feminine figure provides its own best lines, announces at the outset of this collection that the clothes are all easy to wear, and shows a series of highly flattering fashions with slim midriffs, casually bloused and softened bodices and slender skirts eased with pleats, darts and peg-top lines.

Trigere's checked mantelet in tones of herb tea color is typical of the capes seen in New York collections. The sheath dress and cape are in sheer wool.

Apple pie has an unusually good flavor when a dash of fennel seed is added to it. Fennel seed is a small fruit with an aromatic sweet taste somewhat like anise, and is used in sweet pickles, sausage, boiled fish, pastries, candies and liqueurs.

Asks $1 Million to Protect Fish

Solon Urges U.S. Back War on Sea Lampreys in Great Lakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Reuss (D-Wis) has called on the Eisenhower administration to ask Congress for a million dollars to complete "an all-out extermination campaign" against the fish-killing sea lamprey.

In a letter to Percival Brundage, director of the budget bureau, Reuss said that amount of money should be provided for the year starting next July 1.

"We must not slow down the campaign to end once and for all the menace of the parasitic sea lamprey in Lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron," said Reuss.

"If the President requests the one million dollars needed to carry on the lamprey extermination program at full speed, I shall do all I can to insure that Congress acts promptly to appropriate funds."

U.S.-CANADA DRIVE

Killing devices have been built on all Lake Superior streams, and about 20 have been erected in Lake Michigan, Ruess said.

"Thus," he said, "the remaining job is to complete the stream barriers on Lake Michigan — about 25 or 30 more are needed — and to tackle the Lake Huron tributaries."

Portray Ike, Nixon on Official Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — A portrait of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon will appear on the cover of the official inauguration program, it was announced today.

Officials arranging the three-day celebration said the inauguration prayer Eisenhower delivered four years ago will be engraved on the back of the program.

Seabees Finish Building Base at Antarctica

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP) — U. S. Navy Seabees have finished building a U. S. base at the South Pole. It will be home during the approaching antarctic winter to 18 American scientists and Navy men who will make observations for the International Geophysical Year.

The Seabees in six weeks put up seven buildings on the two-mile-high plateau around the pole. Prefabricated parts for the building were dropped by parachute to the 24-man construction party.

The rest of the scientists are en route to Antarctica by ship.

* * *

The buildings are connected by tunnels. Eventually all but the weather observation dome, the radio towers and ventilation pipes will be covered by the deep winter snows.

Mental Health Talk Set

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Probate Judge Wallace Waalkes Jr. is scheduled to preside Feb. 4 at a meeting of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, Inc., to be held at Kalamazoo State Hospital. The group will discuss the need for adequate in-patient services in adult mental hospitals for severely emotionally disturbed children.

THE BERRYS

By Carl Grubert

Williams, GOP Continue Feud Over Taxes

LANSING (AP) — The 69th Michigan Legislature sets up shop Wednesday for a regular 1957 session likely to be dominated by arguments over taxes and governmental spending.

Both branches again will be under Republican control, with the prospect that major proposals of Democratic Gov. Williams might result in wrangling aplenty as they have in the past.

The Governor will present his program in broad outline in a message to a joint meeting of Senators and House members on Thursday.

With the session yet to start, assertions of leaders in both the legislative and executive camps made it appear that the overshadowing issue would boil down to this:

Williams will recommend sizeable increases in spending on education—at the grade and high school and junior college and college level, on public health, mental health, care of the aged, key officers' salaries, parks and for other purposes.

INCREASE UNAVOIDABLE

He has no choice but to budget substantially more this time for pay of state classified employes, since the Civil Service commission has ordered an 11½ million dollar annual pay raise effective in July.

The governor is expected to propose paying the higher costs by substituting a corporation profits tax, at a rate still to be determined, for the existing corporation franchise tax and for the business activities tax as now applied to corporations.

The Republican lawmakers probably will reject some of the Williams spending recommendations, pare down others and seek to find some other answer to raising the additional revenue needed.

Four times in the past the legislature has turned down the corporation profits tax, although in somewhat different circumstances and when there were more alternatives to choose from.

The first real business of the incoming lawmakers will be to organize for the next two years.

The top question here will be answered at a Tuesday night Republican House caucus when the GOP majority will settle on a choice for speaker.

SETTLE LEADERSHIP FIRST

Contending for the post are Reps. Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton, George M. Van Peursem of Zeeland and Andrew Bolt of Grand Rapids. Rep. Allison Green of Kingston was expected to retain his job as majority leader.

House Democrats will rename Rep. Ed Carey of Detroit as minority spokesman.

Republicans in the Senate already have filled their leadership positions. The Democratic Senate minority will chose between Sen. Harold M. Ryan and Sen. Swainson, both of Detroit, for the minority leader spot Ryan currently occupies.

After formally organizing on Wednesday and hearing from Williams on Thursday, the lawmakers probably will take a 10-day recess to facilitate a scheduled Senate recount and allow more time for other shaking-down activities.

With a spring election in the offing April 1, little beyond political jockeying probably will materialize before then, with the real business of the session being settled between then and late May or June.

Some lawmakers were guessing they'd be lucky to wind up their work before mid-June. There is no statutory or constitutional limit on the session's length.

Assuming they go into June, the legislature then will have wound up a 21-month stretch marked by meetings in each month except October and December, 1956—either in regular or special session.

Although Williams has not yet named a figure, the amount of added revenues to be found has been estimated by House Republicans at from 40 to 80 million dollars.

Senate Republicans have been silent—perhaps ominously.

Alternatives discussed to Williams' proposed corporation profits tax have stirred as much dismay, or in some cases more, as the new type corporations levy.

For one reason or another, several legislative financial experts have ruled out a personal income tax, boosting the state sales tax and various proposals involving "nuisance" taxing schemes.

In the House, there will be 21 new members—four of them Democrats and 17 Republicans. The Senate will have six new members.

Senate Republicans will hold the same 23 to 11 command over Democrats they enjoyed for the last two years. The Republican edge in the House, slightly increased, will be 61 to 49.

State Democrats Set Meeting for Leaders

LANSING (AP) — State Democrats have scheduled two conferences to acquaint local leaders with the Democratic legislative program for the session opening Wednesday.

Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, said the meetings will be held Jan. 15 in Lansing and Jan. 19 in Detroit's Veterans' Memorial Building.

Conservation Clubs Ask New State Park

KALAMAZOO (AP) — District four of Michigan United Conservation Clubs has voted to ask the legislature to appropriate a million dollars to develop the Sherman Hills area between Three Rivers and Sturgis into a state park.

Lyle Stanard, district four director, said his group also voted to ask the state to obtain through condemnation, if necessary, land being purchased in the area by the Indiana-Michigan Conference of the Mennonite Church.

The church has acquired 280 acres on Perrin Lake and plans to subdivide it, Stanard said. It also contemplates, he added, acquiring an additional 800 acres in the area.

Hearing on Harbor Plan

BAY CITY (AP)—The Army Corps of Engineers will conduct public hearings at Bay City Feb. 13 on proposed harbor deepening projects in that area, to take advantage of the 27-foot draft of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Next Monday's meeting of the Clarkston village council has a special meaning for many residents of the area — they'll know whether one of the landmarks of the village is to remain or be razed.

Clarkston pioneers and old-timers are concerned over plans for tearing down the century-old Caribou Inn on Main street. It would be replaced by a service station.

According to lifetime residents of Clarkston, the Caribou Inn was one of the very first structures to be built in this 126-year-old town, which has the same charm of antiquity and leisurely manner of living usually found in the New England states.

The inn is situated right in the heart of Clarkston on a half-acre of wooded ground. The long screened-in porch runs the full length of the building and faces a picturesque old mill pond that Edsel Ford has restored.

Many of the 600 residents hate to see their town go commercial in any way, because most of the Early American and Southern Colonial homes date back to the middle 1800's.

PRESERVE VILLAGE BEAUTY

Many thousands of dollars have been spent to revitalize and preserve the beauty along Main street, according to Milton Cooney, village attorney. "This is a village of homes for living," he said.

No one in Clarkston seems to know who the first owner of the Caribou Inn was, but in later years from 1917 to 1942 the Barry family owned and operated the inn in conjunction with the Deer Lake Inn, just one mile west of Clarkston.

Most of the residents in the town realize that the inn will have to make way for progress, and several people have made efforts to contact benefactors who do restore historic landmarks.

However, no one has been interested in buying the building.

The Socony Mobil Oil Co. has signed a 25-year lease with inn owner Ernie Felice. The firm also has petitions signed by all but four of the adjacent property owners who must approve the change.

The oil company has asked for a hearing with the Zoning Board of Appeals to clear the way completely for the new Early American-type station they plan to build.

GOING OR STAYING? — Many residents of Clarkston have voiced opposition to the razing of the Caribou Inn shown above, to be replaced by a service station. The Clarkston village council will discuss the matter at a meeting next Monday.

It Might Be Missing Husband

Mrs. Streeter Awaits Call

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

May Streeter, whose clear eyes and brown hair belie her 62 years, stared at her phone and said, "every time it rings I pick up the receiver and expect to hear him say 'Hi Ma, what are you doing?"

"He's been calling me and saying those very words every day for the 17 years we've been married," continued Mrs. Streeter. "I can't give up hope that he will call again. Not until I know for sure."

NOT YET FOUND

Stanley Streeter has not been found since he left his party of six in their cabin in the Porcupine Mountain area on the opening day of the season. A blizzard that Thursday hampered his companions' efforts to search for him. More than 17 inches of snow had fallen.

* * *

It was not until Saturday that the snowed-in hunters could summon aid from the State Police for a search party. By that time, the State Police reported, it was too late. The snow was too deep to find anything. They combed the area unsuccessfully for two weeks.

Streeter's campsite is deep in densely-forested surroundings. His companions explained that they could drive only to within 11 miles of the site. They then had a tractor transport them and their equipment the rest of the way.

PRAISED STREETER

They praised Streeter as an "excellent hunter and woodsman."

"Stanley always wondered how people could get lost and starve in the woods," said Mrs. Streeter. "He always said it could never happen to him.

"Year after year he'd say 'Ma, all I'd need is a knife and a gun and I could live in the woods all winter long. I'd make a hut out of wood and brush and I'd live off of rabbits. I'll bet I'd come out of the woods in the spring a lot healthier than I am now.

"All Stanley's friends used to hear him say that. The ones who knew him believed he could do it too. He had his gun and a lot of ammunition with him when he disappeared. I can't give up hope."

SEARCH DELAYED

Mrs. Streeter was told that the search could not be resumed until the spring thaw.

At first there were many days of seemingly endless tears. Today she is dry eyed. "Time does that much for you." But time is also her enemy. She counts the days since her husband left their Drayton Plains home at 4746 Clinton Dr., and she waits. With each snowfall her heart grows heavier.

"If I knew for sure that he was dead," said Mrs. Streeter, "it would be a different story. You can accept that and eventually bury your grief. But this is a terrible thing to live with. I won't believe he is dead until I know for sure.

RESUME IN APRIL

"The police and friends tell me that they will start searching again about the middle of April. I plan to offer a $500 bond as reward to the finder of his body. I have to know one way or another."

Grief is not a newcomer to Mrs. Streeter. Previously married, her first husband died and left her with three children to support. She had been working at the Fisher Body Plant for eight years when she met Stanley Streeter. He too had been previously married and had a son.

The two joined their "incomplete households" and began to build a home for one happy family. All four children have married since. Streeter worked as a projectionist at the Strand Theater and his wife worked in the checkroom of the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford Township.

* * *

"It was like starting life all over again for both of us," said Mrs. Streeter. "Right up to the day Stanley left for the trip I never saw a man that worshipped his home and family as much as he did. We loved one another dearly.

"He was always doing something for the house. The day he left he had just finished putting up a breezeway for the garage. And just before he got into the car he told me, 'Ma, I think I'll put up some jalousies around the front of the house when I get back. Would you like that, honey'?

* * *

"I told him I'd like it very much and then he kissed me goodbye. He left making so many plans for the spring. I can't help but have the feeling that he has to come back to complete the plans he made."

Richards Couldn't Say 'No' on Telephone

Accepts Ike's Personal Plea to Be Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) — James P. Richards couldn't say "no" the other day when the telephone rang. It was President Eisenhower saying he needed a key man for his Middle East program.

* * *

So yesterday Richards — retired from the chairmanship of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and looking forward to law practice with his son in a small South Carolina town—instead found himself being sworn in at the White House as a $20,000-a-year special ambassador.

* * *

Eisenhower picked the 62-year-old Richards to aid him and Secretary of State Dulles on problems of the Middle East. The South Carolina Democrat will head a team to visit the troubled area, then come back to report to Washington.

* * *

In his first interview since he stepped into the new post, Richards said he agrees "basically" with Eisenhower's proposed resolution authorizing economic help to Middle East countries and the use of U.S. troops in case of Communist attack there.

* * *

"I wouldn't have accepted the job if I couldn't go along with the President and the secretary of state on this," he said. He predicted Congress, "in the final analysis," would pass the resolution overwhelmingly.

* * *

Richards' appointment could help smooth the way for congressional action. Earlier, the President had picked former Sen. George (D-Ga) as an ambassador to deal with North Atlantic Treaty problems. George was chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee before retiring from the Senate.

* * *

Rep. Vorys (Ohio), a senior Foreign Affairs Committee Republican, predicted Richards would be "extremely effective on both sides of the aisle and on both sides of the Capitol."

* * *

"I think that whatever his conclusions are," Vorys said, "they will be given great weight in the Congress because we know him to be a level-headed but thoroughly independent man."

* * *

Vorys didn't mention it, but both he and Eisenhower were on the losing side of a fight with Richards over foreign aid last year. Richards decided more than a billion dollars could be lopped off Eisenhower's five-billion-dollar aid program, and that's what Congress did despite urgent appeals from the White House.

* * *

But on foreign policy generally — outside of its cost to the American taxpayer — Richards has backed both Democratic and Republican presidents.

* * *

As an amiable, soft-speaking pipe-smoking prototype of a true Southern gentleman, "Dick" Richards was always personally popular on Capitol Hill.

* * *

A 24-year veteran of the House, he announced last year he would not run for the new 85th Congress. "I don't want to grow old on the job," he said.

WATCH THAT LEFT, DOC! — Eight-month-old Mike Gray of Bloomington, Ill., cocks a mean fist and stares fixedly at Dr. W. J. Iron Horses Lose Last Stand in Texas

Eleven are headed for the scrap heap. Two will be turned out to pasture in city parks here and in Beaumont, Tex., where old railroaders can expound and children play engineer.

They're the last steam engines to be used in Texas and Louisiana by Southern Pacific, although there still are eight more being held in Louisiana on a standby basis.

The last of the old water tanks used to replenish thirsty boilers has been torn down in Texas, and steam engines can no longer operate on the lines.

Indian, Killed in Revenge, Forfeits Skin to Bind Book

DENVER (AP) — A book titled "History of Christianity" in the library of the Iliff School of Theology is bound in the skin of an Indian, killed more than 200 years ago in combat with a Virginia general.

An inscription on the inside cover, dated Sept. 16, 1893, reads: "This book was published 150 years ago and is covered with the skin of an Indian who was killed after a desperate struggle, by General Morgan, proprietor of Morgantown, West Virginia, and presented to my father, William Barns, M.D., by the hand of General Morgan himself."

The volume was donated to the school by the Rev. R. M. Barns, a Methodist minister who came to Colorado in pioneer days and was a chaplain at the state prison in Canon City.

The late Horace M. Barns, son of the minister, gave a history of the book when he visited Denver many years ago.

This was the story:

The book was part of the private library of Gen. Daniel Morgan, a Virginian, officer of the Revolution and Indian fighter.

Indians, fearful of fighting Morgan directly, plotted to raid his home when it was unguarded. An Algonquin warrior killed his beautiful young wife and infant daughter.

Morgan trailed the killer for three years. But when he met the warrior unexpectedly, Morgan was unarmed. The Indian carried a tomahawk and gun.

The enraged general ordered the skin stripped from the Indian and tanned. Later the gruesome trophy was fashioned into a cover for a sacred Latin book titled "Institutionum Historiae Christianae Compendium" ("History of Christianity").

WINNING PUTT — Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., knocks in an 18-inch putt on the final green for a 69 and victory by one stroke in the Los Angeles Open golf tournament yesterday. The husky New Yorker posted a four-round total of 280, four under par, and won $7,000 for his efforts.

Montross Hits 23 for Falcons in "Y" League

Gordon Montross, burning the netting at a 21-point per game clip, led the Falcons to victory and the Gators easily defeated GM Tech in YMCA Intramural League basketball action Monday night at the 'Y' gymnasium.

The Falcons downed Seminary, 31-26, behind a 23-point spree by Montross, the league's leading scorer. Montross tallied 11 counters in the 4th quarter to rescue his team from a 20-18 3rd period deficit.

Bruce Ross scored 12 points to pace the Gators to a runaway 33-13 triumph over Tech.

Seaman's quintet had only three players at game time and was forced to forfeit to the YMCA in the other scheduled game.

Michigan Pro Fined, Quits LA Golf Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fines of $100 each were assessed against three professional golfers who withdrew during the Los Angeles Open tournament.

One of them, Charles Rotar, San Bernardino, Calif., was only four strokes off the pace at the 36-hole mark with 70-70—140 but in the third round he fell far back with a 79. He shot 42 on the first nine in yesterday's final round and picked up on the 14th hole.

The other two, Bill Ogden, Chicago, and John Barnum, Belmont, Mich., withdrew during the third round.

Single Point Gives 'M' Five Win Over MSU

Spartans Put Up Hot Battle but Fail to 'Buy' Needed Goal

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State had the one-point basketball blues today — brought on by a 70-69 edging by the University of Michigan.

Just as in Saturday's 72-71 defeat by Purdue in their Big Ten opener, the Spartans fought frantically right down to the final whistle, but couldn't buy that last precious basket.

The victory gave Michigan a 6-4 overall record and a 1-1 conference mark. State stands 4-5, including the two conference defeats.

* * *

A pair of home grown hoopsters, George Lee of Highland Park and Pete Tillotson of Ludington, led the Wolverines to their first win in the last six games with State.

Lee scored 20 points and Tillotson 15. Both forwards were particularly effective with set shots from outside the MSU defense.

Michigan shot less but hit better, connecting with 27 of 60 tries. State scored on 28 of 70 shots for a 40 per cent shooting mark. Michigan State, playing in Jenison field house before the season's top crowd of 11,271 local fans, jumped to an early 5-1 lead.

* * *

The score was tied at 10-10 and 25-25 before the Spartans led at the half.

A tip shot by John Green and a free throw by Dave Scott left Michigan State still one basket shy of victory with 61 seconds left. Time ran out for the Spartans while they juggled a flurry of tip shots that kept missing the basket.

Kansas Continues to Lead Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—Kansas continued its reign as the kingpin of college basketball today according to the latest Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters, but North Carolina's Tar Heels are awaiting just one faltering step.

The Jayhawks, led by Wilt Chamberlain, have fashioned a perfect 11-0 record, and for the fifth consecutive week were ranked No. 1 in the nation, but Frank McGuire's club, with the identical record, was only 48 points back in the balloting.

* * *

The two teams completely dominated the voting, heading all but nine of the 83 ballots cast. Kansas drew 45 first place votes and amassed 732 points while North Carolina received 29 top votes and 684 points on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc.

* * *

Kentucky, with four first place nominations, remained in third place followed by Southern Methodist, Louisville, Vanderbilt, Iowa State, UCLA, Seattle and Illinois.

No new teams were able to break the hold of the top 10, but there was some shuffling about in their order as a result of Illinois' loss to Minnesota Saturday. The Illini dropped from fifth to 10th with the others moving up or holding their positions. Vanderbilt made the biggest jump among the leaders after handing Tennessee its first setback Saturday. They advanced from ninth to sixth.

Oklahoma City heads the second 10, followed by Oklahoma A&M, Wake Forest, Canisius, Duke, Tennessee, St. Louis, West Virginia, Minnesota and Western Kentucky. Duke and Minnesota are the new faces, replacing deposed Manhattan and Memphis State.

'D' Teams Grab Spotlight in City Basketball Loop

Class D teams grabbed the spotlight in last night's City League basketball activity with the Boys Club, Wolverines and Bussey's Whirlwinds claiming American division victories at Lincoln Junior High gym.

Shaw's Jewelers and Booth Homes were easy winners in adult American League games at Pontiac High.

The No. 1 Class D attraction was the Boys Club's 47-45 verdict over State Spartans. Leon Weeks field goal in the last second of play netted the win. Terry Houston scored 14 points for the Boys Club while the loser's Roger Heiple made 16.

Rudy Quince scored 12 points to lead the Wolverines to a 35-30 triumph over Pietz Market. Bud Hayward of Pietz took scoring honors with 13.

The Whirlwinds lived up to their name by blowing down Booth Homes, 58-33, behind Perry Williams' 18 points.

Bob McManus dumped in 18 points as Shaw's Jewelers stayed unbeaten with a one-sided 94-65 victory over Walled Lake Super Market. Scoring honors went to Walled Lake's Jim Bates, who meshed 31.

Booth Homes gained a lopsided 71-56 decision over Stadium Inn on 19 and 18-point efforts by Jerry Sohn and Bill Dunston. Maurice Stack fired 20 for Stadium.

Kroll nailed down a whopping $72,835.83. His biggest single chunk came from the world tournament title at Tam O'Shanter last August.

Jackie Appraises Himself

Retirement Reasons Given

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the reasons that prompted Jackie Robinson's retirement was his deep conviction he no longer could be of any value to a major league ball club.

In a frank appraisal of himself, the former Brooklyn Dodgers star said today he felt he was too old to help the New York Giants, to whom he had been traded by Brooklyn last Dec. 13, and added it would be too much of an ordeal to try to get himself in proper shape to play again.

"Let's face it," he said. "I'm 38 years old. I'm not near the player I used to be. I don't think I would have been of any help to the Giants. They need much more than an old guy like me to put them back in contention. They've lost too many young players — fellows like Jackie Brandt and Bill White and Willie Kirkland — to the service. I wish the Giants all the luck in the world next year but I don't think they have much of a ball club."

Robinson, who announced his decision to quit baseball for a job with a restaurant chain, said one of the reasons he was happy over his new job was because it would relieve him of having to go through the torture of trying to get in condition.

Lake Orion 5 Duels Oxford

Slumping Dragons Hope to Get Moving Against Wildcats Tonight

An erratic Lake Orion team and winless Oxford High School resume their basketball rivalry tonight on the Lake Orion court.

Lake Orion has been a disappointing club thus far. Figured to be a strong Oakland B League title contender in pre-season forecasts, the Dragons have fared no better than two wins in four conference starts.

Roseville and Fitzgerald were chalked up on the winning side of the ledger, but Madison and Clawson knocked them down to almost eliminate them from the race.

Coach Hal Carlin has failed to receive the consistent scoring from Jim Drake and Nick Niera that he expected and the Dragons' inaccuracy at the free throw line has also been costly.

Oxford has yet to taste victory in three games and furthermore, coach Jean Harkness' cagers have never been in on the contest. The Wildcats have taken bad beatings at the hands of Millington, Troy and Imlay City. Forward Bill Noles has been their most reliable point-maker.

The up-and-down Dragons, who bowed twice to Oxford last season, are favored to win this one. In view of the intense rivalry, however, the edge is slight.

Ford's Win at LA Ends 'Dry Spell'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Open golf tournament's $7,000 first place money ended a long dry spell for 34-year-old Doug Ford, a tanned and husky professional from Mahopac, N.Y.

"It was the first major tournament I've won since the Sponsors' tournament in Boston in October, 1955," Ford said.

Through a drizzling rain, Ford came home yesterday with a two-under-par 69 for a 72-hole total of 280, one stroke ahead of Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla.

* * *

"After my first shot on the 14th hole I heard that Hebert had come home with a 281," Ford said. "So I knew I had to shoot par to beat him."

* * *

The stocky New Yorker did better. He chipped with a seven iron to within five feet of the pin and then dropped it for a birdie.

Before that, Ford said, he thought the most trouble would come from veterans Jack Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Tommy Bolt, the terrible tempered Los Angeles professional.

But they fell off the pace on the final nine to finish behind Hebert at 283 along with Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.; Dave Jacobs of Los Angeles. Each picked up $1,900 for his efforts.

Going into the final nine holes, 13 players, including third-round leader Gardner Dickinson, of Panama City Beach, Fla., were bunched within two strokes. But the pressure told on all except Ford the Imperturbable, who later told newsmen:

* * *

Hebert, who earned $3,750 for second place, watched Ford on a press room television screen putt 50 feet to within two feet of the 18th hole and then sink it for the big money.

Dickinson held a one stroke lead over Wall and a three stroke edge on Ford at the end of the third round. He ballooned to a 77 on the last 18, however, to finish at 285 along with Cary Middlecoff, Dallas, Tex.; Billy Casper, Chula Vista, Calif., and Doug Higgins, Midland, Tex.

Ebben Gets 26, but Titans Lose

Marquette Holds Off Detroit Five in Wild Finale to Win 69-64

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Despite a 26 point barrage by Detroit's Bill Ebben, Marquette turned in its sixth basketball victory in 13 starts last night, defeating Detroit, 69-64.

The Warriors hit on 24 of 28 free throws in a wild second half, but managed to hold off the Titans from Detroit. It was Detroit's sixth loss against six victories.

Ebben, the nation's fourth leading scorer, led the Titans in a second half rally that almost overcame Marquette's lead. But the Titan attack stalled with Marquette leading 64-62 and little more than a minute to go.

Drawing fouls off Detroit's full court press, Marquette's Bob Walczak, Gerry Hopfensperger and Gene Suppelsa plunked in free throws to insure Marquette's victory.

Horvath to Fill In for Jean Beliveau

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens today called up Bronco Horvath from Rochester of the American Hockey League to fill in, if necessary, for the injured Jean Beliveau.

Horvath started the season with the Rangers but was purchased by Montreal and optioned to Rochester.

Rochester Faces Milford

Milford's sagging basketball fortunes seem destined to take another turn for the worse tonight when the Redskins invade Rochester to tackle a strong Falcon quintet.

* * *

The once-proud Redskins, who humbled everything in sight last season to win the Wayne-Oakland Conference title, are not the mighty cagers of yore. All the might has vanished under successive lickings by Clarkston, Brighton, Northville and Holly.

While Milford is still looking for its 1st victory, the Falcons will be gunning for their 4th triumph in five starts. Rochester holds decisions over Romeo, Davison and West Bloomfield. Utica inflicted the lone reversal.

The Redskins will be forced to contend with the Falcons' triple-barreled offense of Dave Peters, Jim Van Nocker and Dave Eldred. Pat and Bill Kelley spark Milford's lagging attack.

* * *

Milford trimmed Rochester twice last season, but that was when Jim Davison, Fred Baker and Company were available. Tonight's outcome could well be a different story.

Reagan Assumes Top Place at Villanova

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frank Reagan took over today as Villanova University's new director of athletics under a three-year contract. He will continue as head football coach.

* * *

Reagan met with the Very Rev. James A. Donnellen O.S.A., Villanova president, last night and signed the new agreement. Reagan succeeds Ambrose F. (Bud) Dudley, who resigned last week.

PCC Seeking Middleground

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Search between a free ride and nothing at all for collegiate football players continues in the troubled Pacific Coast Conference.

* * *

Some thought the problem virtually licked, except for details, when the conference approved in principle by a 7-2 vote last Friday, a liberalized plan based on need.

* * *

That plan would provide for grants-in-aid making up the difference between living costs of the school year and what an athlete's family plus his own campus work could provide.

* * *

Both Stanford, which voted against the plan, and California, which voted for it, have expressed official dismay at the possibility an athlete might be given special financial treatment when not participating in his sport.

Harvard Fires Jordan, Seeks New Grid Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard joined a half dozen other major schools in search of a new football coach today after terminating Lloyd Jordan's seven years with the University.

Speculation as to a successor, which once centered on backfield coach Harold (Josh) Williams, ran in all directions.

* * *

Athletic Director Thomas Bolles undoubtedly is shopping for candidates in St. Louis this week where he is attending the NCAA coaches' convention. Jordan, also there, is seeking work.

Ford Reported Backing Idea for 'Relief' Game

WASHINGTON (AP) —Henry Ford II reportedly has invited several prominent persons — including Dr. Milton Eisenhower — to join in trying to arrange a football game between Oklahoma and the University of Miami to raise funds for Hungarian relief.

* * *

Any such game would have to be approved by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers has said it was "highly improbable" the contest could be arranged.

In Detroit, a spokesman for Ford had no comment last night. However, it was reported the automobile executive had sent invitations to participate in the plan to Sens. Smathers of Florida and Monroney of Oklahoma, Gen. Omar Bradley, former Budget Director Joseph Dodge, and to Dr. Eisenhower, a brother of the President.

* * *

Spokesmen for the two senators confirmed they had received the invitations, and a Smathers aide said it was estimated the game, if played, might produce up to $500,000.

The money, he added, would be used to aid Hungarians already admitted to this country. No site for the game has been mentioned, but tentative plans call for scheduling it late this month or early in February.

Skippers Meet Avon

By BILL CORNWELL

A neighborhood basketball feud dating back to the 1951-52 season will be renewed for the 11th time tonight when Avondale and Waterford collide on the Avondale court.

The two high schools have been meeting on a home-and-home basis since the rivalry began and Waterford has dominated the series. Avondale's last victory came during the 1954-55 season on the Avon floor.

Avondale lost a heartbreaker at home last season when John Bersche meshed a field goal in the final five seconds to give the Skippers a 73-72 win. Waterford won the return engagement handily, 71-53.

There's no Bersche around this year to spoil things for the Jackets, but the Skippers do have one of Oakland County's best players in Chuck Gillis. The big center has collected 65 points in three games for a 21.2 average.

The Yellow Jackets have no one on their squad reminiscent of sharp-shooting Jerry Paul, who scorched the nets for them last year. But they hope to offset Gillis with better balance.

Gillis' gangling 6 foot-4 frame gives the Skippers a height advantage. In other respects, the two teams appear about even. Both schools suffered from inexperience when the season started.

Waterford defeated Clarkston in its opening game, then absorbed a thorough shellacking from strong Berkley before rebounding to beat Van Dyke. Avondale took the measure of Fitzgerald in its opener, then dropped decisions to Troy and Madison.

Defense has been Waterford's biggest flaw, according to head coach Don Beedle. "Our offense has improved, but our defensive play has been weak," Beedle commented.

The probable starting five for the Jackets are Tim Mulholland and Steve Saunders at the forward posts, Jerry Hill at center and Dick Gronski and Dwight Moulton at guards. Fred Hyten is expected to see considerable action.

* * *

NCAA Lashes Pro Baseball

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The powerful 18-man policy making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. begins its executive sessions today to iron out details of the organization's 51st annual convention, opening tomorrow morning.

* * *

The council, which handles interim business of the Assn. between conventions, has a number of cases pending, but no new cases will come up at this meeting. NCAA bylaws stipulate any new business must be submitted to the members 30 days prior to the convention.

Of the 14 major colleges presently on probation only the University of Miami (Fla.) is in a situation where it must give the right answers. Miami's probation, originally a one year stint but later extended to two seasons for recruiting violations, is up Jan. 10.

The four-year probation penalty assessed against North Carolina State last Nov. 13 in the Jackie Moreland recruiting case isn't expected to come up in view of the Atlantic Coast Conference's recent $5,000 fine against the school. The NCAA's action against North Carolina State for recruiting the Minden, La., athlete was the most severe since the Assn. got into the enforcement business five years ago.

* * *

Yesterday the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches struck at professional baseball in retaliation for its elimination of a rule against recruiting college athletes.

Ethan Allen, Yale coach and a former major league player, said the executive committee would recommend major league scouts be barred from contacting players on the campus.

The Big 10 Conference last night completed its 1959 and 1960 football schedule session, continued from its meeting in Chicago. Michigan State, which reportedly had demanded its big game with the University of Michigan be played on alternate years at East Lansing, apparently won a point. The 1960 Wolverine-Spartan game will be played at Michigan State.

Big 10 commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson explained that Illinois and Northwestern switched 1959 dates to permit a change of the 1960 schedule.

Clarkston-Laker Clash Tops W-O Card

West Bloomfield's invasion of Clarkston in Wayne-Oakland Conference play headlines tonight's limited league activity in the Oakland County area.

Full schedules are in the offing in the Wayne-Oakland and Southern Thumb circuits to just about sum up league action for tonight. Single games are scheduled in the Saginaw Valley and Suburban Catholic loops.

Spearheaded by a couple of pint-sized guards, Leroy Parks and George Lang, Clarkston has won three decisions in five starts. The Wolves of Dom Mauti have a 2-1 league record.

The Lakers, under new head coach John Collins, are still hunting for their 1st victory. Brighton, Northville, Clarenceville and Rochester have taken their turns thumping the Lakers.

A dangerous Brighton quintet goes to Holly for an engagement with the up-and-down Broncos and Northville, threatening to run away with Wayne-Oakland honors, visits unpredictable Clarenceville in remaining conference tussles.

Teague Signed for Citadel Job

Salary terms were not disclosed.

Teague, who was assistant to Tatum at Maryland before coming to North Carolina, succeeds John Sauer who resigned for "personal reasons" last month. He had served two years of a five-year contract with the Southern Conference school. His 1956 record was 3-1-5.

Big Welcome for Champ

* * *

He also had some new possessions: a king-sized welder's helmet and orders from his union to get back to work in the Bingham Copper Mine; a valuable female mink (royal pastel) to add to his start toward a mink ranch; and the key to Salt Lake City.

* * *

With the key to the city, presented at a rousing reception upon his arrival from New York Monday night, he got an admonition from Salt Lake City mayor Adiel F. Stewart:

* * *

"We want you to be the same throughout your championship that you have been up to now."

* * *

Fullmer was welcomed home Monday night by a crowd of more than 3,000 which stood in 27-degree weather for more than an hour at the airport, and more than 6,000 who jammed Salt Lake City's Main St. Other thousands lined the roads along the 20-mile parade route through several suburbs as his party drove to his home town of West Jordan — temporarily named Fullmerville.

Winner, Loser Given Rewards

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Courchesne and Johnny Busso put on such a good scrap at St. Nicholas Arena last night, the loser was rewarded along with the winner today.

* * *

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said Courchesne, victor of the close, exciting television 10-rounder, would be pitted against featherweight contender Carmelo Costa, and the loser, the favored Busso, would be matched with former lightweight champion Paddy De Marco.

* * *

Courchesne, an aggressive little fellow from Holyoke, Mass., earned a shot at De Marco by his split decision victory but said Paddy, now a 143-pounder, was too heavy. So Brenner named Costa as his opponent if the commission will okay the bout.

Hawks Plagued With Troubles

* * *

They lost their coach yesterday When Red Holzman quit. They've dropped into third place in the loop's Western Division. And now, Bob Pettit, the Hawks' big gun, has relinquished the individual scoring lead to Philadelphia's Paul Arizin.

* * *

Arizin took over the top spot on the strength of a 177-point spree in four games last week. He has scored 884 to Pettit's 877. The Warriors' ace, however, has played in two more games than his closest contender. So his average is 25.3 points a game to Pettit's 26.6.

The Boston Bruins are the oldest United States team in the National Hockey League. They entered the circuit in 1924. The New York Rangers, Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings first campaigned in the 1926-27 season.

Lure of Ring Still Haunts Retired Champ

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Retired world heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano says he'll be true to his word but he finds the lure of the ring still haunts him.

"I still feel an urge to return to the ring and have had several offers, indirectly," Rocky said last night before refereeing the semi-final bout on the fight card at the Valley Arena.

* * *

"But you know," he added, "I'm a man of my word and when I say something I mean it" (referring to his decision to quit).

Beliveau Tops Howe 8 Points in Scoring Race

MONTREAL (AP)—Jean Beliveau, gangling center of the champion Montreal Canadiens, has opened an eight-point lead over Detroit's Gordie Howe in the National Hockey League's individual scoring competition.

Beliveau garnered four points in last week's games, giving him 56 for the season. Howe has 48 points on 25 goals — tops in the league—and 23 assists.

'Hawks Have Rough Time but Still Claim 11th Win

The Associated Press

The Kansas Jayhawks still were sitting on top of the basketball heap today as they threatened to make a rout of the Big Seven Conference race while protecting their No. 1 ranking among the nation's colleges.

With Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain grabbing 22 points, Kansas had rough going before defeating Oklahoma 59-51 last night. But the unbeaten Jayhawks have been winning 'em big (80-54 over Colorado) and small (58-57 over Iowa State). The triumph over the Sooners was their 11th.

* * *

Meanwhile, Iowa State which had been tabbed one of Kansas' chief contenders for the Big Seven crown, was tripped up by Missouri 77-59.

* * *

There also was plenty of action in the Big Ten and when the firing was over, Ohio State and Indiana were ahead of the pack with 2-0 records. The Buckeyes knocked off Purdue 75-68 and Indiana trounced Wisconsin 79-68. Illinois got back on the beam with a convincing 81-70 victory over defending champ Iowa. And Michigan edged Michigan State 70-69.

* * *

Kentucky, ranked third in this week's Associated Press poll, finished strong to defeat Loyola of Chicago 81-62 and Vanderbilt, No. 6, dumped Georgia Tech 81-73 in a Southeastern Conference game.

Hillsdale, Central Sign Football Pact

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Michigan's two top small college football teams — Central Michigan and Hillsdale — put their victory streaks, totaling 40 games, on the line early next season — against each other.

It was announced yesterday that the two schools would meet for the first time since 1950 in a two year home and home series.

The series begins next Sept. 28 at Mt. Pleasant. At that time either Central's 15-straight victory streak or Hillsdale's 25-straight streak will end or, they will tie.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The two top players in the Florida West Coast tennis tournament, Mervyn Rose and Don Candy, play their first matches today.

The Australian pair finished one-two in the Dixie Tennis tournament last week. Rose was the winner. They are seeded that way here.

NBA Hawks Lose Coach

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Owner Ben Kerner looked around today for a new coach for his St. Louis Hawks and the names of prospects flew faster than a basketball in a fast break.

* * *

Coach Red Holzman tendered his resignation yesterday, saying it was by mutual agreement with Kerner. Holzman came to the National Basketball Assn. club in 1954, had a 10-15 record the last part of that season, a 26-46 mark in 1955, and a 33-39 chart last year.

* * *

The men Kerner reportedly had under consideration were Andy Phillip of the Boston Celtics; Jim Pollard, former Minneapolis star now coaching La Salle, and Ken Loeffler, now coaching Texas A&M.

CHICAGO (AP) — Relief pitcher Turk Lown, who set two all-time Chicago Cub records last season, has signed with the club for 1957.

Arizona Coach Resigns

Another Grid Post Vacant

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Football Coach Warren Woodson of the University of Arizona — who dared to talk back to critics — resigned last night.

The fiery-tongued Woodson once described his job at Arizona as the "most miserable experience of my life." His resignation ended a 26-year coaching career that once saw him listed as the nation's ninth most successful football coach.

Woodson's injury - ridden, winged-T Wildcats last year ended their most disastrous season since 1950 with a 4-6 record. His star tailback, Art Luppino, holder of the all-time college four-year rushing record, spent most of the season nursing a hobbled leg.

Dr. Richard A. Harvill, university president, said the 52-year-old veteran coach will be retained as a physical education instructor. Harvill said a search will begin immediately for a new coach. Woodson's salary reportedly was $9,600.

* * *

Woodson, who was urged for the coach of the year nomination in 1954 for his outspoken handling of critics and alumni, came to Arizona at the start of the 1952 season. He never won a Border Conference crown in his five seasons at Arizona.

Tony Curtis Enjoys Job as Producer of New Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bernie Schwartz's success story — from $75-a-week bit player to star and producer of a $2,200,000 movie.

* * *

Bernie Schwartz is Tony Curtis, a handsome, fast-talking, refreshingly frank actor. He is the Curt in the Curtleigh Productions, which is now making a film with the appropriate title, "The Sweet Smell of Success." Tony is not only successful, he smells good.

* * *

"This being a producer, I love it," he said. "It's not because I can give orders. It's just the pleasure of being consulted about things. I can say what clothes I wear, make suggestions about how the scenes should be played.

"It's never like that in the major studios. They tell you what to do, and that's it, brother. 'Don't tell me what suit you're going to wear, kid,' they'll say. 'I've been in this business 40 years.'

* * *

"Yeah? Well, maybe that's what's wrong with this business. They need some new blood. Believe me, it's the young guys in this business I'm going to stick with — the men of my generation. Five years ago, did George Stevens or Alfred Hitchcock send for me to make me a star? The answer is no. So I don't need them now."

How does the Bronx kid take to making decisions on a film costing over two million bucks?

* * *

"I like it fine," he said. "The important thing is to go easy at first. And then don't listen too much to what people say in this town.

"If you listened to all the self-styled critics in this town, you'd never make a picture in 40 years. You can show them the best script in the world and some of them will say, 'You're not going to actually film that, are you?'"

Choose Woman From Rochester to Attend Meet

Mrs. Donovan Tubbs of Rochester is the representative of the Oakland County Home Demonstration women to the tenth annual Michigan Rural Health Conference.

The three-day meeting will be held Jan. 16-18 at Kellogg Center on the campus of Michigan State University in East Lansing.

The first day of the session will be devoted to professional people who will hear papers on rural health and medicine and the second day, Rural Health Conference Day, will answer questions on "fringe" area health problems, said Mrs. Mary Hixon, home demonstration agent.

Community Health Day will end the conference. This last day, representatives will exchange ideas in workshops, panels and informal sessions, she said.

Topics expected to be brought up at the conference which is open to the public, include fluoridation, sanitation, school health, water supply, lack of doctors in rural community, traffic safety, and farm accidents, Mrs. Hixon said.

13 Ships Leave Suez Canal Net

Trapped by Invasion 2 Months; No Escape Yet From Lower Half

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP) — Thir teen ships stranded in the Suez Canal more than two months be gan steaming out of Port Said Harbor today into the open sea.

The vessels of seven nations were caught in the canal by the BritishFrench invasion and Egyptian countermeasures. They moved out under their own power from a point 29½ miles south of Port Said, the canal's northern terminus. The southern portion of the waterway still is blocked and the ships were turned around by tugs for the trip back north.

* * *

The first ship through Port Said was the 11,110 ton Norwegian tanker Eli Knudsen. It moved carefully along a harbor channel cleared of obstructions, dropped off its Egyptian pilot and headed into the Mediterranean.

Next to clear the harbor was Statue of Liberty, a Cities Serv ice tanker. As the ship entered Port Said Harbor, it sounded its whistle several times and drew answering signals from other ves sels.

* * *

The stranded ships were in a southbound convoy which left Port Said Oct. 30. They were trapped about seven miles north of Ismailia, the canal's midway point. Most of the crews lived in Cairo until their ships were freed.

Adult Courses Offer Wide Variety

Enrollments Now Open at Isaac Crary High School

Enrollments are being taken during the school day at the Isaac E. Crary Junior High school office and will be open for registration from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. on the evening of January 15th.

If sufficient interest is shown, other classes such as auto mechanics, art, knitting, public speaking, current events, and blue print reading will be available.

Enrollments will be accepted at the first class meeting; however, classes will be set up on the basis of enrollments received in advance.

McMeans said that each class should have an enrollment of 18 students, and fee for the 10-week course is $5.

* * *

Interested persons have been asked to enroll as soon as possible, in an effort to establish each class training course.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Color photography has been adopted by Philadelphia police as a new means of obtaining convictions in Brunetti, chief fire and police surgeon, says the city has bought a microfilm color camera to photograph hypodermic needle puncture marks, and that henceforth the pictures will be used when accused addicts deny police surgeons' testimony.

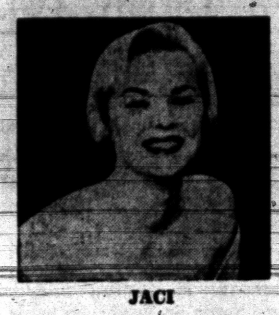

Purple Heart for 1957 Goes to Connie Bennett

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Constance Bennett won the first Purple Heart of '57 for her courageous opening at the Versailles on the coldest night of the season. But a trouper always wins—there were two drunks at a side table, one of whom slumbered. And Connie's gown even came unzippered.

She was, however, magnifique; looked as gorgeous as Dietrich.

Laundry Washes Diamond Rings at No Extra Cost

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mrs. Frances Werth realized last night that three diamond rings valued at $3,000 had been sent to the laundry pinned to one of her brassieres.

She made a hurried call to police, and Detectives John Gillen and Michael Vincitore combed through 200 clothing bundles at the Consolidated Laundry in West New York, N.J., before finding the three rings still intact.

Claus Kardell, the laundry sales manager, said the rings had been thoroughly cleaned with the afternoon wash and would have been pressed today. There will be no extra charge for the service, he said.

Oil Painting Torn While Unloading Van

DETROIT (AP) — A painting in the four million dollar art collection of Walter P. Chrysler Jr. was torn yesterday while being unloaded from a moving van at the Detroit Institute of Art.

The damaged painting is the oil-on-canvas "Dream of St. Joseph" by Juan De Valdes Leal, a 17th century Spanish artist.

* * *

It was the first such mishap since the Chrysler collection of 101 masterpieces was started on a cross-country tour a year ago.

No specific dollar value was placed on the painting, but Detroit art experts said it was the only one by Valdes Leal in America. It measures 82 by 77 inches and was ripped about six inches.

Paul L. Grigaut, associate director of the Art institute, said the painting would be withdrawn from exhibition and sent to New York for an attempt at restoration.

Tax Decision Sets Precedent

Wisconsin Court States Claims Against Firm Are Legitimate

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled that personal property taxes of $336,000 assessed by the city of Kenosha against the American Motors Corp. (AMC) were valid despite the company's contention that the property was, in effect, owned by the federal government.

AMC, formerly Nash-Kelvinator, manufactured aircraft parts for the Air Force from 1952 to 1954. The taxes were assessed against supplies, materials and non-durable tools used in aircraft manufacture. The company contended that this property actually was owned by the government.

The decision conceivably could affect millions of dollars of similar taxes throughout the nation, a brief presented by the city stated.

"The ownership of the property is in the company and assessments are valid," the Supreme Court stated.

The city appealed from a decision of Circuit Judge Alfred R. Drury who had ruled that the federal government had title to the taxed property and therefore it should be exempt from local personal property taxes.

The Supreme Court said:

"The government has performed no act whatever with respect to the property in the company's possession except to make partial payments under the contract. It has not inspected, accepted and paid for. There was, indeed,, no certainty at the time the assessments were made, that the property so segregated would be accepted; and the contract provides that title to all such property not eventually delivered and accepted by the government should vest in the company.

Texas Woman Slain, Child Waits by Body

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The body of Mrs. Anne Louise Marston, about 35, was found on a lonely road near Houston yesterday. Ronnie, her 4-year-old son, was standing nearby, crying and "waiting for Mommy to wake up."

Sheriff C. V. Kern said Mrs. Marston's throat had been slashed and she had apparently been raped.

* * *

Police said Miss Lois Morrison, Mrs. Marston's sister, told them Mrs. Marston had run a newspaper advertisement seeking work as a practical nurse. A man came to the house yesterday morning and hired her to take care of his elderly parents. Mrs. Marston and Ronnie drove away with him.

* * *

Investigators said Ronnie could tell them nothing about what happened except a man in a tan Ford drove them into the country. Police theorized he had been sent away to play when his mother was killed.

Miss Morrison said Mrs. Marston was either divorced or separated from her husband.

Delegates to Revamp Union's GM Council

DETROIT (INS) — Reorganization aimed at setting up the UAW's General Motors council on a functional rather than geographic basis will be undertaken by 350 delegates meeting in Detroit Thursday and Friday.

The proposed setup calls for the council to be organized with delegates from various divisions appointed to subcouncils that will deal with their respective problems.

* * *

Two Killed, One Hurt in Head-On Car Crash

SANDUSKY (AP)—A head-on, two car crash killed two persons yesterday, one of them an elderly woman.

Mrs. Cork was being driven by her son, Kenneth, 51. He was hurt seriously. The cars collided on M19, two miles south of Sandusky.

Farmers in soil conservation districts last year converted more than 1.3 million acres of cropland to grass and trees, according to a summary released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

FLINT (AP)—Roosevelt Morrison, 53, convicted of manslaughter in the stabbing of his brother-in-law Aug. 11, was sentenced Monday to 7½ to 15 years in prison. The victim, Arthur Robinson, 34, was slain with a hunting knife following a quarrel between the two men.

Pace Sluggish in Mixed Deals

Prices of pivotal issues moved narrowly in moderate trading.

The opening was fairly active as key stocks were traded higher or lower by fractions to around a point at most. Then turnover fell off and the pace became quiet as quotations remained about the same.

The failure of the list yesterday to penetrate a supply area in the averages which had provided resistance on past occasions since September left the market in an indecisive mood, analysts said.

NEWS LACKING

Outstanding news was lacking to provide a decisive thrust through this barrier. A drop in steel scrap prices was an element of doubt in immediate business prospects but price rises in crude oil and the progress of highway construction were heartening.

* * *

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem lost fractions while Youngstown gained. General Motors retreated a bit while other motors showed little change.

Leading rails were mainly unchanged. Nonferrous metals were narrowly mixed. Mail order and farm implement stocks eased. Oils were narrowly mixed to unchanged.

* * *

Opening blocks included International Nickel off ¾ at 110¾ on 1,800 shares, Cities Service up ½ at 68½ on 1,500 and Radio Corp. off ⅛ at 34⅛ on 1,200.

Success Comes to Kuldip Singh

Young Indian Gives Up His Study of Medicine for Musical Career

HOLLYWOOD—Kuldip Sings, the young Hindu who radiates a charm reminiscent of Valentino and whose voice is compared to both Tony Martin and Mario Lanza, has signed as a featured singer with the Ray Anthony television show.

* * *

Anthony personally selected the handsome singer to appear on his show and Ray's judgment proved sound when it became apparent that Kuldip had hit the entertainment industry like a storm, attaining star status after one brief appearance on television.

Born in India and reared in the British West Indies, Kuldip had completed three years of medical college in Puerto Rico and was pursuing that education in the U. S. when he appeared recently on Grouch Marx's television quiz show.

When it was requested by Groucho, good-natured Kuldip, whose name means Prince of Light, ad-libbed a song and the response is still showering down on the young student.

* * *

OVER 8,000 LETTERS

Fan mail has reached large proportions, the first count reached above the 8,000 mark with the number still growing. Fifty-eight fan clubs started up spontaneously after his first appearance.

* * *

So ended the medical career of the 22-year-old Kuldip, as television, record and nightclub representatives lined up. In addition to his appearing on the Ray Anthony show, Kuldip has signed an RCA-Victor recording contract.

Supported by the Anthony band, Singh and his talents will be introduced to every home in America on Ray's show, telecast over the ABC network Fridays at 10 p.m.

Plea of Innocent Given at Arraignment

A plea of innocent was entered yesterday for Paul McDonald, 30, of 51 Hillside Dr., arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering charge resulting, Pontiac police say, from his and a partner's capture while burglarizing a super market.

* * *

The alleged partner is Russell D. Timlock, 35, of 70½ Auburn Ave., who pleaded guilty Jan. 2 before Adams to breaking into Wrigley's super market at 536 N. Perry St. Dec. 20. Timlock also is free under $3,000 bond, awaiting sentence Jan. 14.

Women employes on British railways are regularly given "aids to beauty" lectures.

Cell of a Note Court Discovers Almost Too Late

DETROIT (AP) — The more that Leonard Saunders insisted he was not the right man, the harder Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara pounded his gavel and ordered silence.

* * *

While the court picked its jury, Saunders managed to catch the ear of his defense counsel, Cora Brown. One look, with a double take, convinced her. The court did have the wrong man.

It seems that Patrolman Oscar Day went to the wrong cell, called out "Donald Saunders" and Leonard Saunders, freshly awakened, sauntered out.

* * *

It wasn't until Leonard, held on a nonsupport charge, heard the prosecutor call him Donald and charge him with breaking into a car, that he realized it himself.

Step-Up Bus Integration, Negro Leaders to Urge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Plans for a stepped-up campaign to integrate buses in the South will be discussed in Atlanta this week by Negro leaders encouraged by a report the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People received more than a million dollars in receipts in 1956.

* * *

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of Montgomery, Ala., last night called on Southern Negro leaders to attend a strategy meeting in Atlanta Thursday and Friday "in an effort to coordinate and spur the campaign for intergrated transportation in the South."

"We have no moral choice, before God, but to delve deeper into the struggle," said King, leader of the 38-day Negro bus boycott which ended peacefully in Montgomery Dec. 21 with federally ordered bus integration.

* * *

Other segregation developments included:

Pine Bluff, Ark.—A Negro foundry worker, William Dove, made an unsuccessful attempt to enroll his five children at the Dollarway School. Mrs. Hazel Watkins, school superintendent, said she told Dove the school "just hadn't planned" for integration this year and that she was anxious to avoid any incidents.

* * *

Tallahassee, Fla. — The City Commission approved a plan for bus drivers to issue tickets to riders assigning them to seats in an effort to get the buses running again on a segregated basis. Gov. Leroy Collins suspended bus service in the Florida capital by executive order Jan. 1 after an outbreak of violence.

* * *

Knoxville, Tenn. — Fourteen Negro children filed a petition in federal court seeking admission to two all-white secondary and two all-white elementary schools. The petition said the 11 girls and three boys were turned away in September.

* * *

Nashville, Tenn. — Gov. Frank Clement's legislative leaders introduced resolutions in the Tennessee General Assembly criticizing the U. S. Supreme Court's ban on segregated public schools. No action was taken on the resolutions immediately.

WWJ to Inaugurate New TV Quiz Program

DETROIT (INS) — WWJ-TV in Detroit will start a new program entitled "Ask the Camera" on Jan. 19.

The half-hour program, called "The Encyclopedia of Television," will answer questions submitted by Detroit area viewers, with prizes being awarded to those whose questions are selected for use on the show.

Ike Sends Richards to Arab States to Combat Red Propaganda on Aid Plan

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is going to great lengths — perhaps too great to suit the British and French — to win Arab support of President Eisenhower's Middle East plan.

Acceptance is virtually a foregone conclusion among other elements of the area — Israel, Turkey, Pakistan, for example.

But Arab rumblings of suspicion and distrust are being nurtured by Soviet propaganda claims that formula for halting communism in the Middle East is really old-fashioned Western colonialism in disguise.

* * *

It is to combat this propaganda that Eisenhower is sending former Rep. James P. Richards, the South Carolina Democrat who used to head the Foreign Affairs Committee, to the area. Richards was sworn in yesterday as a sort of ambassador for education and acceptance.

The Arab view apparently was on Dulles' mind when he told the House committee repeatedly yesterday that the British and French "invasion of Egypt" last October was an "error".

He declared his confidence that the Eisenhower plan as a whole — providing a military umbrella sheltering economic development — would "give as complete protection against internal subversion as is possible unless you want to go around the world invading countries to throw out communism."

* * *

"That in effect is what the British and the French did," Dulles said. "If we did that it would start a series of wars over the world that, I am sure, would end up in a world war."

But while all this might have made the Arabs feel more kindly toward the Eisenhower plan, Dulles offered them no hope of any new offer of U.S. aid to help realize the Egyptian dream on the Nile.

"I can assure you of one thing," Dulles told the committee, "there is no intention on the part of the United States to finance the Aswan Dam."

* * *

Could a country get military or economic aid without endorsing the basis of the plan, which is that U.S. troops will be used if needed to deter overt Red aggression? Some Arab states might like U.S. aid but not at the price of estrangement from the Soviet Union, which already has sent guns to Egypt and Syria.

Could a country get U.S. military aid at cut rates or easy-pay terms? Egypt asked vainly for 28 million dollars worth that way without success before getting 250 millions in Soviet arms. Israel has a similar request for 65 million dollars worth still on file.

Russia Vows Aid, Control of Troops in East Germany

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has promised Communist East Germany more economic help and more control over Russian troops "temporarily" assigned to East German soil.

A communique signed last night at the Kremlin apparently did not go as far, however, as recent agreements on the Soviet forces stationed in Poland.

* * *

There was no suggestion, for example, that the East Berlin government would be given any say-so on the number of Russian troops in East Germany and their movement about the country. This has been promised the Poles.

Instead the communique said an agreement on the Soviet forces in East Germany, to be concluded "shortly," would cover such matters as jurisdiction in "criminal cases and civil action, the use of housing and service premises occupied by Soviet military units, the use of lines and means of communication and means of transportation."

* * *

There also was no time limit set for the Soviets' stay in East Germany, something the Poles have not been told either.

(The East Berlin radio said Russia had pledged that its troops would not interfere in East Germany's internal affairs, but no such specific pledge was contained in the official text of the communique. Poland was given such a guarantee in an agreement signed in Moscow in December.)

* * *

Signing of the communique completed three days of negotiations here between Soviet leaders and an East German delegation headed by Premier Otto Grotewohl. The talks took place in an atmosphere of "great friendship," the statement said.

On the economic side, the Soviet Union said it would grant East Germany during 1957 a credit of 340 million rubles (85 million dollars at Russia's official rate of exchange) in gold and free currencies for the purchase of "commodities needed by the national economy" of East Germany.

* * *

The two countries also agreed to "increase substantially" the volume of trade between them during 1957, with the Soviet Union pledging to increase its deliveries to East Germany by 30 per cent over 1956. The communique did not say what a 30 per cent boost would mean in hard figures. Last June Russia promised the East Germans trade and aid worth 7½ billion marks ($3,400,000,000 at the official rate).

* * *

The Soviet Union said it would increase its exports of coke, oil, ferrous rolled metal, timber, some other raw materials and food. This would be in exchange for machinery, equipment and "other manufactured and household goods" from East Germany.

Asks Fund to Provide Mental Illness Research

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. William C. Menninger says it is imperative that public funds be provided for mental illness research because private support has largely been given to other illnesses.

The Topeka, Kan., psychiatrist told a news conference there is "15 times as much money available for cancer research" as for mental illness. He said of the care given the nation's 750,000 inmates of mental institutions:

"It isn't treatment. It's custody."

Preceding the meeting will be a Problems Clinic for new leaders to receive suggestions on problems encountered by experienced 4-H leaders, Worthington added.

The 4-H fair plans for 1957 and coming Achievement Day are also on the discussion agenda.

Wife of Alfred Krupp Drops 5-Million Demand

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The estranged wife of Alfred Krupp, German industrialist, has dropped a demand for a five-million-dollar settlement and expects to get a divorce in the near future.

Mrs. Vera Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, 42, sued for divorce here last Oct. 24, charging Krupp, 48, with mental cruelty and demanding the five millions. But yesterday in a statement she said:

"I value my freedom in America more than his money."

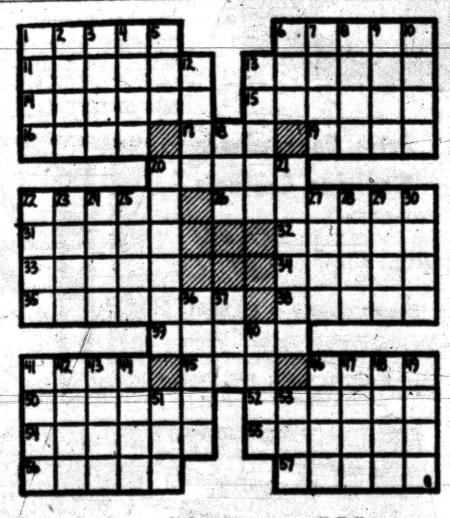

Disrupts Phone Service

DETROIT (AP) — Long distance telephone service to Lansing and Grand Rapids was disrupted Monday when a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. cable was cut near Brighton. An excavation crew was blamed for the cut. Calls were temporarily rerouted through Chicago and Saginaw, while repair crews replaced the 2½ foot break in the cable.

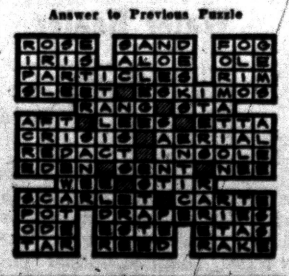

About 80 per cent of all motor truck trips are 20 miles or less in length.

Charge Youth in City Holdup

Alleged Ring Member Accused in Robbery of Gas Attendant

An alleged member of a teenage holdup ring, Velton Wilder, 18, of 476 Branch St. yesterday stood mute to a charge he participated in a $170 gas station holdup Dec. 20.

He is accused of holding up the lone attendant of the Progressive Oil Co. station, 477 S. Saginaw St., along with a partner, Kenneth Marshall, 18, of 314½ Wessen St.

Marshall is awaiting sentence in Oakland County Jail for the $56 stickup Dec. 17, of Riddick's Pharmacy, 373 Franklin Rd. Marshall and Joseph Page, 21, of 497 Ditmar Ave. both pleaded guilty to an armed robbery charge Dec. 28 and are awaiting sentence by Adams Jan. 21.

Salute Ends With Dud

SALT LAKE CITY (UP) — The script called for a 19-gun salute as George D. Clyde took the oath of office as Utah's 10th Governor. But only 18 bangs were heard. Redfaced Utah National Guard officials explained that a dud shell put one of the two howitzers being used for the salute out of action. They continued with the remaining gun, only to find that the 19th shell was another dud.

MSU Opens 7th Student Teacher Center

21 Start Careers in Pontiac

Michigan State University opened its seventh center for student teachers in Pontiac yesterday, under the direction of Dr. Ted Ward, coordinator of the program in Pontiac.

Twenty-one student teachers arrived to take up residence in Pontiac and began teaching in an actual job situation, each under the eye of a supervising teacher, he said.

Eight schools are the recipients of these helping teachers: Pontiac High School, Madison, Washington and Eastern Junior High Schools; Bethune, Webster, Wisner and Mark Twain elementary schools.

The student teachers on the job as part of their actual school curriculum will be in the classroom four of the five class days. The remaining day will be spent in seminar sessions with consultants from campus, county and city offering aid and suggestions.

The group which includes several Pontiac residents, visited their schools Dec. 3 in an orientation session. Their beginning yesterday marks the start of the winter term at MSU. They will spent the equivalent of one term . . . or 11 weeks on the job.

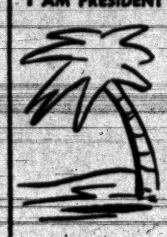

Aims of these residence centers set up by the university, Dr. Ward said, is to give the future teachers better practical teaching knowledge. "The situations are similar to the first teaching experiences they will encounter," he said.

Other residence centers are located in Birmingham, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area, the Niles-Buchanan-Dowagiac area and Jackson.

Officers Hold Thug Surprised in Holdup

"Say, George," Cowan said, "doesn't that look to you like a guy in there holding up that gas station?"

"Yeah, it does," Pederson agreed.

They said they watched a gunman force attendant William R. Miller to lie face down and start trussing him with wire. Suddenly the man looked up, right into the muzzle of Cowan's riot gun.

"Surprise, surprise!" Pederson said.

Sheriff's Dream True—to Moonshiner's Rue

* * *

He said he dreamed "so plain" Friday night about a still under a cliff that he took two deputies and went after it.

Mexico Denies Plot Against Guatemala

MEXICO CITY (UP)—The Foreign Ministry says it knows nothing about a reported plot under way for a Communist-backed invasion of Guatemala from Mexico. It denied the government is taking any action.

* * *

The plot was reported by the newspaper La Prensa. Quoting what it called reliable sources, La Prensa said the scheme was financed by international communism and that trucks carrying men and weapons already were at the border.

* * *

The newspaper added that non-Communist enemies of President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala were joining the plotters, hoping for an internal uprising. Castillo Armas became president in September 1954 after leading the revolt that overthrew the leftist government of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in June of that year.

The Guatemalan Embassy said conditions in Guatemala were quiet and the first it had heard of any plot was the newspaper story.
