Newest Member of GMC Truck & Coach Division's Line Is This Specialized "Tri-Axle" Truck Designed to Haul Increased Loads.

New GMTC Truck Ups Limit for Transit-Mixed Payloads

GMC Truck & Coach Division has added a giant to its new model line.

Current weight restrictions for transit-mixed payloads in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana will drop by the way side to the division's new specialized WAX6512.

The latest innovation in GMC Truck's highly versatile 6000 series of models will be added as a special quotation vehicle. It was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, GM vice president and general manager of the division.

The new eight-wheeler also offers what GMC officials described as excellent weight transfer capabilities and maneuverability.

HAS 'TAG' AXLE

The WAX6512 has an air-suspended "tag" axle mounted behind its regular two tandem-drive rear axles.

This axle setup spreads the vehicle's load weight over a greater number of axles, permitting the hauling of eight yards of transit-mix concrete in Michigan and Ohio and nine yards in Indiana. Before, seven yards were maximum in each state.

City Leaders to See Development Plans

The Central Business District Plan, in preparation for a year, will be presented at a meeting in the City Commission meeting chambers at City Hall tomorrow night at 8.

The $60,000 plan to guide development of Downtown Pontiac in the coming years will be viewed by city officials, civic, business and industrial leaders.

The Downtown Pontiac Association and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will set up committees to implement the plan's various recommendations following its presentation.

The plan was prepared by David S. Geer Associates Planning Consultants, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills.

'U.S. Intends Proposals to Spy on Reds'

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko charged today that Western disarmament proposals at Geneva were designed for spying and X-raying the entire territory of the Soviet Union.

He spoke before the Supreme Soviet which opened Monday with the disarmament stalemate in Geneva as one of the chief items on its agenda.

Premier Khrushchev went through the motions of submitting the resignations of himself, said his government to the newly elected Parliament, and was chosen unanimously to resume his office.

The Supreme Soviet also unanimously re-elected Leonid Brezhnev chairman of the Presidium, or president of the U.S.S.R.

Surprisingly, the body also re-elected 81-year-old Klement Voroshilov a member of the Presidium. Voroshilov was denounced at the last party congress as a member of the Molotov-Malenkov anti-party clique.

Reporting on disarmament, Gromyko said "the government of the United States is urging control for control's sake, or to be more exact, for the sake of intelligence."

On the other hand, he declared, the Soviet Union has submitted a plan for complete disarmament by which "the entire war machine is to be smashed and abolished in three consecutive stages."

'THROW UP OBSTACLES'

Western delegations, he added, were throwing up obstacles to real disarmament and trying to get it to meet "to the rear of nuclear explosions."

The Soviet delegates have threatened to walk out of the conference if the United States goes ahead with its intention of starting a series of nuclear tests in the Pacific.

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Re-Elect Publisher to High-AP Position

Harold A. Fitzgerald, president and publisher of The Pontiac Press, was re-elected yesterday as second vice president of the Associated Press.

Fitzgerald also remains a member of the executive committee after the AP's annual meeting in New York.

Re-elected president was Benjamin M. McKelvey, editor of the Washington Star. Other officers are Paul Miller, president of Gannett Co., Inc., first vice president; Harry T. Montgomery, secretary; and Robert R. Booth, treasurer.

Threaten Tests of New Arms

Gromyko Says Soviets Will Set Blasts if U.S. Launches Its Series

From Our News Wire
MOSCOW — The Soviet Union threatened today to test "new types" of nuclear weapons if the United States goes through with its planned tests in the Pacific.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko

He made the threat in a report to the Supreme Soviet on the results to date of the Geneva Disarmament talks.

He spoke to the two houses of the Soviet parliament — the Soviet of the Union and the Soviet of Nationalities.

He said the eight-nation neutral proposal to the conference was not clear and precise on some matters, but said there was no doubt that the neutrals had preceded from the premise that national detection systems would be adequate to insure compliance with any test had straggled.

REFUSED PREMISE

This is a position the United States and Britain refused to accept, maintaining that only international inspection with the right to make on-the-spot checks would be foolproof.

In Washington today it was disclosed that the first explosion in a new series of U.S. nuclear tests will probably involve research devices intended to yield data on the electromagnetic and other effects of blasts on the nation's defense system.

Later in the two to three-month series in the Pacific will come proof tests of full nuclear weapons—including all those in the U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile arsenal and submarine-launched Polaris rockets.

Informed authorities said today this is the likely schedule when President Kennedy signals the test go-ahead, maybe within the next few days.

Perhaps three or more of the tests will be at high altitudes ranging from about 30 miles to several hundred miles.

New 'YM' Building Starts at Long Last

Ground-breaking ceremonies yesterday at the Young Men's Christian Association building on Mt. Clemens Street, set the wheel in motion for construction of one of the largest and most modern recreational facilities in Michigan.

For more than three years, Pontiac area business and professional people have been working toward the expansion. Before the end of this week, footings will be laid for the addition. The present building also will be modernized.

Although the final goal of $650,000 is still $10,500 short, YMCA officials felt that the "building climate is so attractive that they plan to move ahead right now," according to T. N. Stoen, director.

Solicitors are continuing their calls to make up the deficit.

Stoen said the general construction contract was awarded to J. A. Utley Co. of Royal Oak, the low bidder at $317,000. Additional contracts for mechanical and electrical work will be let soon, Stoen said.

As part of the expansion, a $40,000 swimming pool for instructional purposes will be installed near the present 30 by 60 foot pool in the old building.

An all-purpose room, new kitchen, men's club area, snack bar and main lobby will be located in the new wing. Women and girls will have their own locker room.

Tomorrow's Motto: Bask in the Sunshine

Pontiac area residents may look forward to basking in the sun for the next few days.

The weatherman said tonight will be fair with a low of 45 degrees.

The forecast for tomorrow and Thursday is fair and warm with the high tomorrow climbing to 73.

Southwest morning winds will continue at 8 to 15 miles per hour tonight.

The warmest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 73. The mercury had climbed to 65 by 2 p.m.

Scientists Drop Try to Remedy 'Injury'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A mooncraft with an injured brain tumbled through space today toward an almost useless collision with the moon after scientists abandoned futile efforts to awaken it from its coma.

The 730-pound silver and gold craft, Ranger 4, will zip by the leading edge of the moon early Thursday and crash at about 8:55 a.m. on its hidden backside, the Administration says. The deeply disappointed director of NASA's jet propulsion laboratory, William H. Pickering, said: "It's kind of fun though, to hit the backside. It's not everyone who can do that."

In Pasadena, Calif., a spokesman for the jet propulsion laboratory, which made the spacecraft, said there's a longshot chance it may not impact.

Calculations indicate it will skim by the moon's leading edge at a height of 900 miles, then hook in for a landing on the backside.

Should it not impact, trackers will pick it up when it emerges from behind the moon. In this event, it would go into an elliptical orbit around both earth and moon.

The laboratory gave these figures:

Estimated range at 12:04 p.m. (Pontiac time), 11,738 miles; speed 3,709 miles an hour; at 4:04 p.m. 125,583 miles, 3,389 m.p.h.

The craft's speed is gradually slowed by the earth's gravity until it completes nine-tenths of its journey, then moon gravity takes over and it speeds up until impact.

Impact is expected to occur 8.3 hours after liftoff, at 13:06 degrees south latitude on the moon, 23.9 degrees east longitude.

Ranger 4 was lifted aloft by a towering Atlas-Agena B booster at 3:30 p.m. Monday in what appeared to be a beautiful beginning. Its assigned job was to gather information, including closeup television pictures, on the composition of the moon.

A NASA spokesman said the Atlas had pushed the vehicle to an altitude of about 100 miles and separated, that the second-stage Agena had pushed the craft into parking orbit and cut off, that the Agena had fired a second time to launch Ranger 4 on the second leg of its journey, that the vehicle was on the proper flight path away from the earth at 24,500 miles an hour.

Bottom Gets Pro-Tem Post

Landry New City Mayor

The new Mayor of Pontiac is Robert A. Landry.

The District 7 commissioner for the past four years, Landry, 48, of 47 Center St., was elected mayor last night at the City Commission's organizational meeting.

District 4 Commissioner Winford E. Bottom was elected mayor pro tem. Bottom, 36, of 174 Euclid Ave., has been on the commission for two years.

The new commission was sworn into office by City Clerk Olga Barkley at the opening of the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

New members are Charles H. Harmon, from District 2; Loy L. Ledford, from District 5; and Dick M. Kirby from District 6.

THREE NOMINATED

Rounding out the commission are incumbents Milton R. Henry, District 1; William H. Taylor Jr., District 3; Bottom and Landry. Henry and Landry are starting their third terms and Bottom and Taylor their second.

Landry, Bottom and Taylor were nominated for the mayoral post. After Landry had received four votes to two for Bottom and one for Taylor, commissioners moved to unanimously elect him mayor.

In a prepared speech, Landry said: "Never in my life have I ever felt a greater need for divine guidance as I do at this moment."

He stressed the need for "harmony and unity of thought" and dedicated future action by the commission "to the interest of the common good of all our people."

"Intolerable minorities or majorities have no room on this commission," he said.

By BOB THOMAS
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—What is there about world's fairs that seems to call for exposure of the female form?

It beats me. All I know is that the undressed babe is as much a part of a world's fair as audience exhibits and cotton candy.

What do folks remember about the Chicago Fair of 1893? Little Egypt and her hootchy-kootchy. Who was the star of the 1933 Century of Progress? Sally Rand and her fans.

The Century 21 Exposition is not going to be caught napping. Operators on the glittering show street have come up with new and ingenious ways to present girls in the near-alongther. The customers are lining up for tickets.

LIKE SOPHIE

As yet, no star like Egypt or Sally has appeared. But then, the fair has just opened.

Nudity on show street ranges from the ridiculous to the faintly sublime. Best of the shows is Harry Ashton's revue at Gracie Vanant's Paradise. This is a 600-seat theater-restaurant fronted by a Sophie Tucker-type hostess whose previous experience was producing PTA shows.

Ashton presents his usual blend of beautiful babes, stunning costumes and well-drilled dances. A special nod toward the fair's outdoor theme is offered by the "Planet Eve" ballet. Two astronauts land on the planet Venus to be greeted by inhabitants clothed merely in rhinestone G-strings. Stirring stuff.

A variation of the familiar theme is offered by "Backstage, USA." This is a gimmick devised by longtime Hollywood dance producer Leroy Prinz, in which showgirls are presented both on stage and off in their native habitat. The off-stage area provides reason for the cuties to be seen changing costumes, taking showers and doing other things that might provide interest for backstage peepers.

Then there are the "Girls of the Galaxy," which reduces the sidewalk attraction to the lowest denominator. These are a series of lame tableaux in which a couple of semi-nude stand in total embarrassment while a more energetic dancer does a routine to an electric organ accompaniment.

The Japanese village offers a pearl-diving tank with authentic divers. As any student of pearly knows, the Japanese women collect their oysters in only the scantiest of trunks.

All these have met the approval of the special theater supervisory board, appointed by the mayor of Seattle to safeguard morals.

At least two attractions managed to escape the censorial scrutiny and still present spicy shows. One is the "Paris Spectacular," a French import composed of famous historical figures and nudes, all of them waxed.

The feature attraction in front of the show is the much-publicized queen of the Nile.

Another nude show is offered by a Hollywood import, "Les Poupes de Paris." These are highly talented but scantily clad three-dancers—perhaps the only puppet show advertised "for adults only."

Those are the bare facts about

Township Tries for U.S. Aid

Waterford Looks Ahead

A general development planning program to be financed mainly by federal funds was approved last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Total out-of-pocket cost to the township for the total grant of $85,140.55 will be $6,285. The program is being launched to insure an orderly future growth of the township.

TO SECURE CONTRACT

The township will now proceed to negotiate a contract with the state which acts as agent for the federal government in the development program known as "701." The federal plan has been in effect since 1954. Michigan gained approval for participation in 1960.

During the two-year course of the program, monthly staff meetings will be held by the Township Planning Commission and the planning consultants, Perkins and Rogers of Detroit, as well as the township planning director, Robert Dieball. The planning consultants were selected this month by the planning commission.

Trustee John Coleman seemed to sum up the sentiments of the board members when he remarked, "We can't afford not to enter into the program." The motion was carried unanimously.

In other business the board began a discussion on a proposed site for the water system building and ended up making a motion giving the planning commission the green light to seek a site large enough for a future civic center.

Reasons for exploring the possible purchase of such a site were that land values are probably as low now as they ever will be in the township. A site of approximately 20 acres was considered advisable. Financial aspects of the purchase will be investigated when a recommendation is made by the planning board.

STANDING TALL — Sea cadet Leon Broadway of 14 Cooley St., braces for an inspection by three veteran Navy men (from right): retired Admirals Herman D. Scarney and Leon J. Jacobi and Commander John Tobin. Cadets and Navy men gathered in Pontiac last night for the launching of Oakland County's participation in the newly formed Metropolitan Detroit Council of the Navy League.

Oakland Official Member Form Navy League Council

The new council, Jacobi said, is designed to lend financial and manpower support to the Navy League's sea cadet program for boys 14 through 17. Membership in the council is open to all Oakland County residents who are U.S. citizens.

Pontiac's present sea cadet unit consists of 40 boys commanded by Albert F. Lusk, of 7686 Barnsbury Ave. The group meets weekly at the Pontiac Naval Reserve Training Center.

The sea cadet program offers military training to youngsters but does not commit them to naval service.

Falls Behind Schedule

Con-Con Tied Up on Court

LANSING 4P—The constitutional convention fell behind its self-imposed timetable for a May 11 adjournment last night as delegates bogged down in debate over Michigan's court system.

Still scheduled for second-reading argument was the most controversial proposal of the entire judicial article—the makeup of the State Supreme Court and the selection of justices.

Robert Dunhof, R-Muskegon, chairman of the judicial committee, said that the vote on a proposal to elect supreme court justices by districts—rather than on a statewide basis—could go either way.

"It's neck and neck," Dunhof told the newsmen. "The issue could be decided by the number of absentees on each side of the question."

Supporters of a district system for the high court were defeated on a close vote during the first reading of the committee's whole package, but at the time they vowed to renew the fight when the court system proposal came up again for later consideration.

Delegates debated a half-dozen judicial article proposals for nearly eight hours yesterday, winding up their session near midnight for the third time in five convention days. Much of the time was taken up by parliamentary wrangling.

When they adjourned, the delegates had:

—Established a new court of appeals system, consisting of nine judges, but at the time they vowed to renew the fight when the court system proposal came up again for later consideration.

—Provided that justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners be abolished within five years after adoption of the new constitution.

LICENSED JUDGES

—Required that most judges be licensed to practice law in Michigan.

—Defeated a proposal to abolish the one-man grand jury system.

Under the new appellate court system, the nine judges would be nominated and elected from districts to six-year terms, with their jurisdiction to be spelled out by the legislature. The number of judges and their districts could be altered by law.

The appeals court judges could sit in divisions, with each division consisting of not fewer than three judges.

In calling for the abolition of justices of the peace, the delegates provided that the legislature should establish other courts of limited jurisdiction to replace them.

Also adopted was a provision eliminating the present fee system which reportedly has brought some justices a higher annual income than the salary paid the governor.

The proposal to abolish the one-man grand jury system was sponsored by Harold Bledsoe, D-Detroit, who argued that it involved a system of inquisition, paid witnesses and star chamber proceedings.

The first commercial sugar cane production in the New World was in San Domingo where Negro slaves were imported to cultivate the fields.

Africans Stone Whites in Northern Rhodesia

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A crowd of Africans stoned antiwhite soldiers and hurled bricks at white motorists near here Monday, injuring several drivers and a 14-year-old boy passenger.

The outbreak five miles west of Ndola followed a series of weekend clashes between members of rival African political parties in which six persons were killed.

'Ceremony' Outlawed for Disgraced Marines

The Marine officer who ordered the drumming-out ceremony for a dishonorably-discharged Corps member probably has a black mark on his record. Higher echelon brass condemned the move and outlawed further ceremonies of this nature.

Outcries have been raised that such ceremonies humiliate someone who already has received his punishment — dishonorable discharge.

Training efforts and operational practices of the Marine Corps are frequently under fire. In their attempts to make this outfit an elite corps of professionals, officers sometimes have overstepped the bounds of good judgment. But we fail to put the drumming-out ceremony in this category of questionable taste or values.

It is designed to impress those men who are not being discharged for bad conduct, and we think it would be an effective device toward doing this.

So many punishments today are removed from public notice that the deterrent effect intended is completely missing.

British Papers Write of Common Market

Progress on the Common Market in Europe continues to draw steady attention from European newspapers. The British Information Service comments currently on the situation.

The Daily Herald (Labor) believes the Government might find it very difficult to get Britain's entry into the Common Market through Parliament if it had to accept a completed scheme which took no account of Britain's views and needs.

The paper notes that negotiations in Brussels are now approaching their crucial stage. They will be far more difficult if foreign policy and defense issues are lurking unresolved. Britain's Minister, Mr. Heath, has tried to please both sides.

The Daily Herald points out that the French Government wants an European confederation which would combine Euratom with the European Coal and Steel Community and the Common Market. It would have a defense and foreign policy roughly agreed among the members, though they would keep their full political sovereignty. The Belgians and the Dutch want a closer form of federation, in which the members would give up a good deal of their political sovereignty. Nevertheless they would remain far more closely linked with America through NATO.

The paper continues: "The French, in their heart of hearts, do not believe in NATO. They want a Western Europe with its own deterrent, able to talk on more level terms. Mr. Heath does not want the NATO link weakened. The French want each nation to retain full political sovereignty. It is a complicated business."

The Scotsman (Independent) says it is assumed that the British Government are with President de GAULLE in preferring a loose union to a federation; but the paper notes that the countries most eager to open the door to Britain are dissatisfied with de GAULLE's idea of a union of governments and want to move toward political integration, and Mr. HEATH indicates that Britain is ready, if invited, to join with the Six in working out a political arrangement.

The Scotsman declares: "Britain's gesture should have a good effect on the Six as evidence that we have no wish to evade the political problems of membership. The differences among the Six are subtle and technical, and Britain's view that the new political structure should be built on the foundations of the existing communities should be reassuring since it agrees with the majority view — and even De Gaulle may be brought to accept it. The exercise of devising political institutions for the E.E.C. is important, though it is of a long-term character."

The Guardian (Liberal) refers to the meeting in Brussels between Ministers from the sixteen African countries at present associated with the Common Market and their counterparts from the Six. The meeting proved inconclusive. The paper says it is impossible to estimate just how much the African Commonwealth countries may stand to lose economically if they do not seek association with Europe. GHANA agrees with Moscow in arguing that Europe's attempts to associate African countries with the Common Market is colonialism in a new form. Nigeria has the same suspicion, but she is increasingly coming round. Britain's negotiators in Brussels obviously believe that the African Commonwealth countries stand to gain by joining with the sixteen in negotiating an association agreement.

The Man About Town

The Reason For It Pontiac Merchants Show Unique Ways of Selling

By JOE HAAS

A survey through Pontiac stores shows some clever merchandising. Different lines of goods that seemingly have no relation to each other are often displayed together. But the buying public can rest assured that there's wholesome meaning in the seeming madness. You can get a lot of satisfaction by sampling a variety of goods a little to discover the reason for some of the combinations. For instance, in one large store the boats are next to the beauty parlor, as it has been found that many a man will buy a boat while waiting for a milady.

Bible: A book that in too many homes gathers dust.

The quest for the oldest life insurance policy on a person still living in the Pontiac area gets more interesting. Latest is on the life of of 147 East Howard St., taken out by her parents when she was five years old, on June 2, 1890.

Writing me from St. Petersburg, Fla., Ward Eagle sends news of the St. Pete city council has outlawed vicious cats.

There's something quite unique in the announcement of garbage collector George Robinson of Holly: "Satisfaction guaranteed or double your garbage back."

A letter never comes from Elmer Lahring of Grand Rapids, formerly of Pontiac, without razzing Pontiac for its delay in fluoridating our water. He says Grand Rapids people like it so well that when they go away on trips they take along enough drinking water in jugs to supply them until they get back.

Again first to report garden progress is Peter Glasco of Keego Harbor with his usual announcement that he had radishes with leaves "as big as a quarter."

David Lawrence Says:

JFK Trying to 'Pack' Electorate

WASHINGTON — Just as President Franklin D. Roosevelt became impatient with the processes of the judiciary and asked for laws to permit him to "pack" the Supreme Court, President Kennedy now has started an analogous controversy which will occupy the attention of the Senate for the next two weeks.

He wants to "pack" the electorate by ignoring the rules laid down in the Constitution concerning voter qualifications.

If Kennedy has his way, a rubber-stamp Congress could do at the behest of a President pass a law making children 11 years of age eligible to vote in Federal elections.

The Constitution, of course, specifically gives only the states the power and right to fix the qualifications of voters.

It reserves to Congress merely the right to alter state regulations as to the "times, places, and manner" of holding the elections themselves.

But Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in a formal statement to a Senate subcommittee, declares he is tired of the bother of filing lawsuits and says, in effect, that it's easier just to get a law passed to set voter qualifications than to go through the prescribed process of amending the Constitution to take this right away from the states.

ENFORCEMENT IS ISSUE

Now, it will be conceded that there is any discrimination in any state because of race or color in preventing anyone from voting, then certainly the Constitution should be invoked to secure equal treatment.

The, however, really isn't the issue. For the basic question is right, the Constitution shall be enforced.

The Attorney General says that when the 15th Amendment was adopted in 1870, it became illegal to practice racial discrimination in the voting process, but "it is necessary today, 82 years later, to file lawsuit after lawsuit to make this constitutional command a reality."

The late President Roosevelt argued the same way.

He wanted the justices of the Supreme Court to decide cases that he wanted them decided, and he declared that he didn't care to wait until enough vacancies on the bench occurred to give him the opportunity to appoint new judges who would support his views.

The Country Parson

"Maybe we could get more folks to do right if we could make it seem just a little bit naughty."

persons with a sixth-grade education should not be required to take a literacy test as a qualification for voting.

He feels that completion of the sixth grade is sufficient without an examination.

With amazing frankness, the Attorney General proclaims the rule of expediency and the doctrine which has caused the overthrow of many an established government—the "end justifies the means." He says in his formal statement:

"The question is not whether this bill is valid, but whether it would correct the situation."

Kennedy, further on in his statement, says:

"I believe legislation, to accomplish directly what can be unquestionably done through litigation, is plainly justified under the 14th and 15th Amendments."

But is this really true? Litigation can be instituted only when there is evidence of discrimination in denying the vote to any one eligible.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Bell's Palsy Takes Patience to Cure, but It's Not 'Fatal'

Bell's palsy is in most instances annoying but not dangerous! It is a temporary paralysis of muscles on one side of the face due to injury or inflammation of the facial nerve, the 7th cranial nerve.

The nerve supplies all the muscles of the face—the frowning muscle, the wrinkling muscle, the smiling muscle, the whistling muscle, blowing muscle, chewing muscle. Hence the mouth and the entire face droops on the affected side, giving a characteristic expression (or lack of it) which is often the first notice the victim or his or her relative notices. There is generally no pain or only incidental pain.

I hate to admit it, but exposure to cold—a cold draft or cold wind blowing on one side of the face—is the only apparent cause of facial palsy in many cases. All right, all right, this has nothing to do with C.R.I., the common respiratory infections that unteachable attribute to everyday "exposure."

By way of treatment, protect the eye, which does not wink, blink or close unconsciously as it should, by wearing a "patch" and washing three times a day with comfortably warm freshly prepared saturated solution of boric acid—all the boric acid boiled water will dissolve.

Keep the weakened or temporarily paralyzed muscles toned by the use of galvanic or faradic electricity two or three times a day, as instructed by physician or physical therapist. Don't expect much from massage, but there's no harm in gentle upward push on the cheek two or three times a day, such as the dummies use for face lifting.

RECOVERY TAKES TIME

Recovery, usually complete, sometimes with some slight weakness remaining, occurs in three to six months. You must have patience. That's easy to say to—out of both sides of my face.

I wrote an article recently about Bell's palsy and had a reader's expression of gratitude. It made me think.

What is it about some doctors that wins for them the loyalty of their patients?

My secretary and her family have such a doctor, and so do my daughter and her family—both unpretentious general practitioners, whom I haven't met personally. Both doctors, I find, take the trouble to explain things, and neither

They will work hard in the

seems to be irked when patients is what Dr. Brady says—as I believe I'd be if our positions were reversed.

Perhaps my admiration of these good doctors is inspired by the feeling that they have kept something which the rank and file of the profession today is losing or has lost—friendly personal contact with patients.

Signed letter, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Much has been said regarding our school systems and present day teaching methods. We visited McCarrall School and took a tour of the classrooms, library, special activities room, etc. We were amazed at the projects students in all grade levels were undertaking.

If this school is an example of our system and methods, we are fortunate. The students have wonderful facilities and instructors who are dedicated to their profession.

Not all husbands are guilty of this short-sightedness, of course, but it is really surprising how many intelligent men are blind to the kitchen inconveniences which their hard working wives must endure.

If we all took a critical attitude about our own daily lives, we could detect many instances of inefficiency and waste. Sometimes a little head work will save weeks of back work.

For example, many farmers will let their costly equipment stand out in the field or barnyard all winter unprotected from the elements. They are compelled to waste hours and even days reconditioning it in the spring.

Moreover, they will struggle hard to fill their granaries and then let rats or mice gobble up dozens of bushels. A piece of garden hose from the exhaust pipe of the car to the rat hole, is sufficient to clear out the rats, or a quarter's worth of rat poison will also save $100 worth of grain.

Internal Revenue Coverage Appreciated by Director

During the first three and one-half months of each year, the Internal Revenue Service strives to keep the general public informed about income tax through the media of newspapers.

Again this year, our newspaper coverage in the Pontiac area was very successful.

Internal Revenue Agent R. Rumbach has informed us that a large part of the credit for our success has been the extensive coverage by The Press.

It's my pleasure to thank The Press for aiding the Pontiac public in preparation of their income tax returns.

'Shall Stores Stay Open Continuously?'

We wish to make a suggestion to the Sunday merchandisers who now offer lampshades, rugs, clothing, etc., seven days a week. They should not overlook the possibility of marketing goods on national holidays.

There are people who do not care to observe Thanksgiving and others who do not approve of Christmas, so it is quite possible that profits might be increased by keeping stores open on holidays as well as on holy days. Think what a splendid full-page ad could be made, announcing that the store would be "Open All Day Christmas!"

A policy of staying open around the clock could be made so that every hour could be utilized. Whenever it became necessary to take time off for eating or sleeping there would be the joyful thought that the wage-slaves were still on the job producing the sweetest of all sounds, the jingle of the cash register. All life could be nobly dedicated to the pursuit of money, money, money!

People Still Write on David Lawrence

Having read David Lawrence's column for many years I have yet to see anything but criticism of any form of government. He is a definite agitator.

When the reading public comes in continual contact with it is bound to have an effect on the thinking of every American.

Anti-

I am in complete disagreement to David Lawrence's opinion that a "dictatorship complex" has seized the Kennedy administration.

I'm proud that the man who heads our government has initiative to take a step such as this. Perhaps Mr. Lawrence thinks that a price increase is insignificant, but I believe it is a sizable amount. He mentions a rise in price of three-tenths of a cent per pound, but it is also very little steel. I appreciate President Kennedy's high regard for public welfare and I hope he is able to maintain this regard despite the protests of those who do nothing but complain.

Price of Parking Going Up at MSU

EAST LANSING UP — The price of parking has gone up at Michigan State University.

Faculty and staff members will be charged a $25 a year parking fee and students will pay $5 a year starting in September. At present the faculty and staff park free and students are charged $2 a year. Jack Breslin, MSU secretary, said the money will be used to finance the construction of new parking ramps.

Great Helen Traubel Loves Her Life: Nightclub Singing

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK—The great Helen Traubel resigned from the great Metropolitan Opera Company in 1953.

Many of us have wondered if Miss Traubel misses the opera as much as opera (particularly Wagner) fans miss her.

"Yes, yes—oh, surely I do," she admitted. In the lovely, luscious way she has of making even a rather and fact seem joyous.

"Opera was a very large part of my career, and I'd be only fooling myself if I said I didn't miss the wonderful release you get from being on that stage, and knowing you have the equipment to handle it."

"But," said Miss Traubel, "that was one career and now I have another career, and I think I'm one of the rare artists who can stop a career and not talk about the past with nostalgia."

"Why, I've prepared myself even for the time when I have to stop singing — Heaven knows when that will be," she boomed, "when they wheel me onstage, I suppose—and I think I'll have a happy time when that day comes. I think time takes care of everything, if you have security within yourself . . . that is the thing."

The magnificent Helen, whose voice (and ah, that laughter) has resounded through most of the world's concert halls since her Met debut in 1937, resigned from opera because she wanted to expand her activities to include nightclub singing—and Rudolf Bing, Met director, didn't want her to do so. He implied that it was not dignified.

"So I informed him that I took my dignity wherever I went," she recalled merrily, utterly without rancor. "And we both went our successful and merry ways."

THE LATIN QUARTER

Miss Traubel's successful and merry way led most recently to New York's jazzy night club, the Latin Quarter (the closes there tonight). Let no opera snobs click their tongues in sympathy or disapproval, however; as always, Miss Traubel turned a potentially rowdy audience to respectful silence.

"Audiences are all the same — and what is the difference, really, if you sing in a concert hall or a nightclub?" she asked happily. "When I was concertizing, I schooled myself to be ignorant of the acoustics in various halls. Why should I be miserable? I carried my acoustics around in my throat."

"When I was concertizing, I clubs, I still had that idea. "And what is the difference between a recital audience and a nightclub audience? Nothing. You look at them, and they look at you, and there is respect. Do they keep quiet? If I don't have the quality to keep people quiet, in whatever kind of hall I'm singing, I have no right to be there."

But Miss Traubel's life has changed since she gave up the rigors of opera singing. For one thing, she and her husband—more age—as buoyant as she is—can afford to live on the water in Southern California. She has taken up smoking — "It's such fun; I think, wow, I'm a big shot now!"

She roams the country and constantly meets new people ("And old friends—I leave the end of this week to start rehearsals with Jimmy Durante for a four-week stay in Las Vegas").

And she loves every moment of it.

People are always saying, "Do you have to do so much? You must be exhausted."

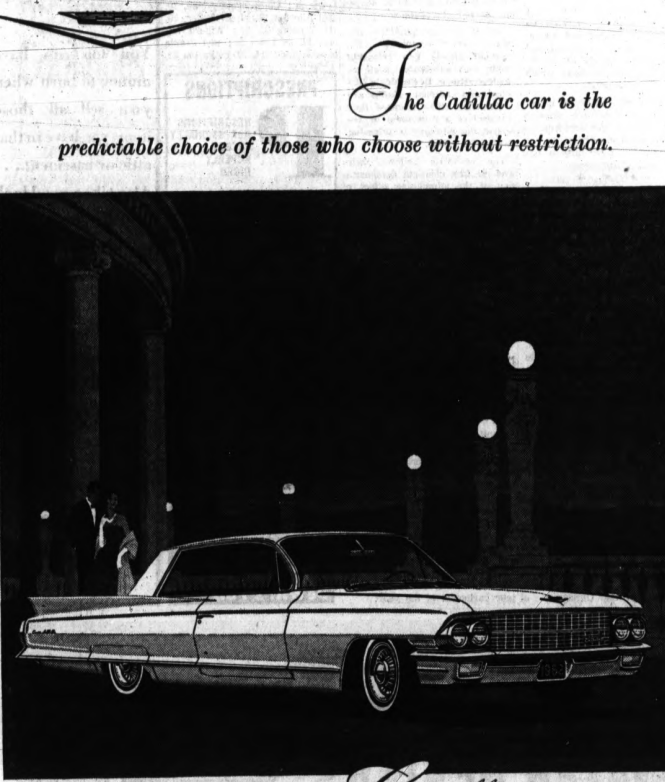

"My husband suggested that maybe people really WANT me to be tired, and I should act tired to make them happy." There was an explosion of Traubelian laughter. "But I just can't fake it! I don't think I can ever be tired as long as I'm doing what I want to do—and what I want to do is sing."

New Capital, Brasilia, Being Built for Future

BRASILIA, Brazil — A young woman is a welcome sight in this hinterland capital. So is a bird, for that matter.

Brasilia, which celebrated its second anniversary Sunday is still building. It takes a bit of pioneering spirit to put roots down here.

The city is dusty during dry spells and muddy in the rainy season. It is still predominantly masculine — as suitably placed for a girl used to the remoteness of seculo Rio de Janeiro.

A paucity of trees keeps birds away. Flowers, domestic help and a thousand other things accepted as commonplace in other cities are often lacking.

Brasilia has many aspects of a frontier town despite careful planning and the spending of $2 billion.

LACKS A SOUL
Gleaming glass, marble, concrete and steel make it one of the world's most modern cities — but some critics say it lacks a soul.

About 70,000 live in the city proper and 130,000 on farms and in satellite areas in a federal district. The surge of population has brought a housing problem; thousands live in shacks.

The cost of living is higher than in any other city in Brazil, but the wages are generally higher too.

The city is mainly supplied by truck from the industrial center of Sao Paulo and agriculture centers of Minas Gerais state. Its meat, milk and rice — a staple in the Brazilian diet — come from farms in surrounding Goias state.

Electric power comes from generating stations nearly 300 miles away. The power falls frequently. Brasilia has one hospital and few doctors.

FOREST FIRES AND YOU!

Did you ever wonder about forest fires and why Smokey Bear tries to keep them down? SMOKEY says that every forest fire costs too much. Just putting out last year's fires cost more than $100,000,000, and it came right out of your pocket.

What else did you lose? You lost timber, millions of feet of it—timber that won't be there when you want to build your new home or put up a summer cabin.

You lost birds, animals, and fish, that add so much to your outing.

You lost priceless scenery, and recreation areas that are needed now more than ever.

Worst of all, you lost soil and water—the lifeblood of our land. Burn off the cover of a watershed, and the sure result is soil erosion, and destructive runoff of water, flooding our towns, silting our reservoirs. Water—most precious of all resources—wasted through carelessness!

There's much at stake. So, please, be extra careful with fire in 1962!

Remember—only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Glands 'Show' Fear in Tests on Students

NEW YORK (UPI) — Scientific fans of the endocrine glands are cheered by a clear-cut demonstration of a chemical bridge between human emotion and prime chemical regulators of the physical human body.

The whole future of psychiatric science depends upon finding and understanding such bridges, and the endocrinologists have long maintained these glands are the golden gates.

The demonstration was of a direct reaction of emotion on the pituitary gland and an indirect reaction upon the adrenal glands. These glands all secrete substances into the body which keep it up to snuff.

But only when secreted in correct amounts which are extremely tiny. When larger amounts are put into body chemistry on any regular basis, there are a host of physical disturbances.

The demonstration was made in medical students experiencing the emotion that goes with an examination. This is accepted scientifically as a standard emotion made up of anxiety to do well and fear of doing poorly.

Blood was taken from them when they were finished. These samples contained the pituitary substance ACTH in amounts 30 to 100 times those which normally circulate in the blood. These measurements were made possible by relatively new chemical techniques.

Even this refined method was incapable of measuring the ACTH in the blood of the same number of medical students who had not been subjected to the examination emotion.

That tiny is the normal amount of circulating ACTH. The measured adrenal substance was hydrocortisone. It was roughly twice as high in the emotion-hit students as in their "controls."

The investigating scientists, J. R. Hodges, M. T. Jones and M. A. Stockholm of the University of London remarked that the blood levels of ACTH attained temporarily by the students approximated those which routinely circulate in the blood of victims of Cushing's Disease.

LIST SYMPTOMS
This is a disease caused by extreme over-activity of the adrenal glands and its symptoms are muscular wasting, obesity, salt and water retention, diabetes, high blood pressure and skin eruptions. Unless the over-activity is stopped the outcome is death.

ACTH is the pituitary substance which stimulates the adrenal glands into releasing their own substances such as hydrocortisone. In Cushing's Disease the adrenal glands are over-active either because they themselves are diseased or because the pituitary is releasing too much ACTH.

The scientists believed theirs was the first clear-cut demonstration of the stimulating effect of emotion on the human pituitary-adrenal "axis."

It is well known scientifically that physical stress will have the effect — a surgical operation, for instance.

Their results indicate that "emotional stress is a much more powerful stimulus than a physical stress," they said in a report to the technical journal, "Nature."

French Chief to Decide Salan's Life, Death

De Gaulle Again Controls the Fate of Hero

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Feature News Analyst

It is a quick of history that President Charles de Gaulle is being called upon for the second time to pass upon a sentence of life or death for a great French national hero.

It was at 4:15 on the morning of Aug. 15, 1945, that a jury in Paris returned a verdict of death against Marshal Henri-Philippe Petain, hero of Verdun in World War I, Nazi collaborator in the Vichy French government of World War II.

Then, as by magic now in the case of Gen. Raoul Salan, it fell to De Gaulle to make the final decision.

It was near the end of De

Gaulle's first term as the first premier of the French Fourth Republic.

He commuted the aged Petain's sentence to life imprisonment. Petain lived with his disgrace for two years, finally dying at the age of 91 on his prison island of Yeu off the French Atlantic coast.

PARALLEL CONTINUES

The parallel does not end with Petain.

Petain served the Vichy government as chief of state. It was upon Laval that the chief blame fell for the crimes against Free France and he also received a death sentence.

De Gaulle refused to intervene and Laval died before a firing squad at Fresnes Prison on Oct. 15, 1945.

The firing squad of the guillotine also awaits Salan and his second in command in the outlawed OAS, Gen. Edmond Jouhaud, who was captured a month ago in Oran.

Jouhaud already has been tried and his sentence passed on to De Gaulle for review.

Salan, sentenced to death once in absentia, now will be tried again in person, with the verdict a seemingly forgone conclusion.

SPECIAL TRAGEDY

There is special tragedy in the case of Salan.

Before he turned to the OAS and its assorted atrocities against Muslim and European alike, he was entitled to wear more decorations than any other officer in France.

He had served as De Gaulle's own emissary in Algeria and he had served France as a soldier at home, in Africa and in the Far East.

This is a part of the contradiction in the man. For the wanted slayings from ambush of unarmed and innocent civilians seem out of character in the man who claimed to value above all his honor as a soldier.

Certainly, the reasons which led Salan to abandon a distinguished career to become a hunted figure of the underground had to be compelling ones.

But, as the hero image fades, and as the cries of "Salan to the gallows" begin to drown out the shouts of "Algeria Française," it seems that other contradictions will appear.

As Petain before him, he will plead that he acted for the good of France.

This, and not the glory of the battlefield, is Salan's moment of truth.

And from grim Sainte Prison already is emerging the picture of a man anxious to disavow

Business in Pontiac Area Continues Good in March

The economic climate in the Pontiac area continued to look bright during March, with some figures reaching record proportions.

Local banks did more business through customers' checking accounts than in any previous month this year and bank figures were a good $10 million over March of last year.

More people rode buses in the city than ever before, electric and gas consumption were well above last year's figures for the same month and postal receipts showed an increase over February figures.

New construction suffered somewhat of a slump, but this is due partially to the fact that February was much higher than normal in the number and amount of building permits issued.

Figures indicating business trends for March were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., the city water and inspections departments, the post office, Pontiac Transit Corp., and North Central Airlines.

	March 1962	Feb. 1962	March 1961
Bank debts to customers' accounts (exclusive of public funds)	$95,810,508	$82,751,762	$84,821,427
Postal receipts	$133,206	$127,547	$143,201

Frustration Room an Innovation at New Chicago Inn

CHICAGO (UPI)—A motel under construction will include a "frustration room" where guests will be permitted to smash things, designer Harry Linsky said yesterday.

Guests will be able to ease their tensions or prove by smacking such things as lamps and ash trays against a brick wall, Linsky said. "Throwing a lamp base is safer than striking martini," he said.

The motel, called the Imperial Inn, is being constructed near the three-way cloverleaf connecting Chicago's Congress Expressway, the Northwest Expressway and the still-unfinished South Expressway.

Lions Club Planning Drive to Aid Blind

A goal of $2,000 has been set by the Waterford-Clarkston Lions Club during its annual fund-raising campaign for the blind the week of April 29-May 5.

Miniature white lapel canes will be given all those who aid the blind.

The club also seeks discarded eye glasses to be shipped to distant countries.

Howard Altman, Independence Township clerk and James Secor, lin. clerk of Waterford Township are in charge of this program.

N. Y. Cartoonist, Wife Injured in Car-Truck Crash

CHESTER, Conn. (AP)—C. D. Batchelor, 74, New York Daily News cartoonist, and his wife, Al, were injured Saturday when their sports car and a bakery truck collided.

Both were reported in good condition at Middlesex Memorial Hospital in Middletown.

Batchelor, of nearby Deep River, is famed for his cartoons on highway safety. The 100-lb. cartoonist, and his wife, Al, were in his "inviting the Under-taker" series appeared in the Daily News today.

Mrs. Batchelor suffered fractures of the wrist and ribs and collapsed lung. Her husband had cuts of the face and scalp.

Police identified the driver of the truck as Henry J. Maroz, 22,

20 Plead Innocent in Gambling Raid

Twenty men arrested Saturday during a raid on an alleged gambling house at 14 Putnam St. pleaded innocent yesterday morning before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

All 19 men charged with loitering in a gambling house will be tried Thursday. They were released on $25 bond each.

A May 3 trial date was set for Walter Stafford, 45, described by police as the owner of the home at 14 Putnam St. Stafford, charged with aiding and abetting the operation of a gambling place, was released on personal bond.

Man Survives Jump Despite Chute Mishap

GOODWOOD, England (AP)—Tony Miller hurtled 5,000 feet to earth Monday with a parachute that only partly opened. He escaped with a dislocated shoulder. His rigging lines crossed after a delayed opening drop in the national sky diving championships. He hit the ground making about 30 feet a second, twice the normal landing speed.

Want to Drive to Mexico City?
New Toll Speedway Is 65 Miles Long; Old Road Covers 84
PUEBLA, Mexico (U)—The town first driving between Mexico City and this colonial capital has his choice this week: An old route featuring history, beauty and hairpin turns, or a new speedway.
Puebla is Mexico's fourth city. For almost four centuries the highway to Mexico City has followed virtually the route worked out by Hernan Cortes, the Spanish conqueror.
It twists over mountains, some 12,000 feet high, with steep grades and 380 curves over an 84-mile route.
The new highway, with 78 curves, is 65 miles long. You can drive 60-75 miles an hour on a divided highway, whizzing by more than 100 underpasses and overpasses.
Through tolls, expected to be a dollar or less, the government hopes to recover in 20 years the $16 million investment.
There is only one midway toll station, so tourists traveling out of Mexico City to see snow-capped Popocatepetl volcano need not pay.
The speedway, already open, will be dedicated by President Adolfo Lopez Mateos May 5, when a $5-million fair opens at Puebla.

Find 4 on Missing Boat
LORAIN, Ohio (U)—A Coast Guard plane found four Plymouth, Ohio, men adrift in their boat on Lake Erie yesterday and reported the four, missing since Saturday, appeared in good condition. The amphibious plane landed at the scene and summoned a Coast Guard boat, which towed the boat to Lorain. The disabled boat was found nine miles north of Lorain.

London Puts On Diet Campaign for Pet Doggies
LONDON (U)—A British manufacturer is marketing a prepared reducing diet for overweight dogs. The company also offers charts so that a fat dog's progress toward a normal waistline can be checked.
The canned product includes fresh meat, liver, ground bones, vegetable fiber, vitamins and minerals.
Theoretically, this doggy diet is available only through veterinary surgeons.
Dogs tend to be pampered in Britain. Many a pedigreed spaniel waddles along like a wounded heartthrob. British animal societies carry on an endless campaign against owners who feed crockers and candy to pets between meals.

Lafayette's Kinsman Succumbs in France
PARIS (U)—Gen. Count Albert Chambrun, 88, a descendant of Marquis de Lafayette, died Sunday night at his Paris home. Gen. De Chambrun was married to Clara Longworth, sister of Nicholas Longworth, longtime speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives. His wife died in 1961.
As a descendant of Lafayette, Gen. De Chambrun was an honored citizen of the United States. He was born in Washington, where his father was legal counselor for the French embassy for many years.
During World War I, De Chambrun was a member of the staff of Gen. John J. Pershing and at the end of the war he accompanied Pershing to the United States. He stayed to lecture at the Army War College.

News Analysis
tense mass hysteria gripping Oran's 200,000 Europeans.
WHY? WHY?
You ask European men and women striding under the palm trees why they are willing to court disaster rather than seek peace.
The answer with cold hateful stares: "Disaster and Arab rule are the same to us."
Each day seems to bring down closer.
Most of the Europeans admit that Algeria's independence is inevitable and that Moslem rule will come sooner or later.
But they continue to support the desperate, bloody resistance of the Secret Army Organization. The terrorist organization's new commander, ex-Gen. Paul Gardy, has vowed to fight until the end.
Oran is a city outside French law and order. It is a city bracing for final combat against the authority of France.

HELD FOUR ISLANDS
For weeks in the so-called European Oran, French troops and police have held only four islands: The old and new City Hall, the once-thriving Hotel Martinez and the cable and telegraph office.
Elsewhere the law has been the secret army with its slogans, posters and terrorist attacks. French army patrols seldom penetrated the heart of the city.

Grace's Film Return Postponed Until 1963
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Grace Kelly's return to the screen will be delayed until next year, says producer Alfred Hitchcock.
Miss Kelly, who retired from films to marry Prince Rainier of Monaco, was to have appeared in Hitchcock's production of "Marnie" in Hollywood starting Aug. 1.
Hitchcock, now filming "The Birds," said Monday "there would not be enough time after completion of that picture to allow adequate preparation for the princess' return."

Builds Tractor to Do Chores
Engineer at MSU Has Machine That Thinks for Farm Work
EAST LANSING (UP)—A "thinking tractor" may be just the thing for the farmer of the future, say as mechanical brains are gaining in use in the urban business world.
Michigan State University agricultural engineer W. F. Buchele has developed a mechanism which is considered a first step toward a "thinking tractor."
The chore tractor built by Buchele is just a model of the real thing but it is rigged to drive, to a driver, through a farm yard, load a silo and shut off when enough silage has been loaded, evenly distribute silage into feeders in the livestock area, back itself into a shed and shut itself off.
Buchele says a full-scale working chore tractor could also be built to do this work without a driver at the wheel.
The "thinking tractor" would require only the initial work by the farmer.
The farmer would have to work out a system of automation and then, manually, use the tractor through the job once, to cut a recording tape.
The revolutionary tractor would work on the principle of a tape recorder that rewinds itself and can "play back" any part of the tape. Buchele said once the tape was cut, the farmer would insert the appropriate section into the tractor when he wanted a certain task performed. The tractor would "read" the tape and perform the job automatically.

Thousands Celebrate Shakespeare's Birth

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England (AP)—Thousands from many parts of the world gathered in Stratford yesterday to celebrate the birth of William Shakespeare 388 years ago.

The annual commemoration of the English poet's birth in 1564 brought out huge crowds to watch a ceremony of unfurling the flags of 105 nations honoring Shakespeare. Those present included Soviet ambassador Alexander Solzhenitsyn.

The exact date of Shakespeare's birth is not known, but in line with antiquarians' theories the town always celebrates it on April 23.

Considering Building City Hall Underground

HARKER HEIGHTS, Tex. (UPI)—City fathers are considering building the Harker Heights city hall underground, with enough shelter space to accommodate part of the city's 1,200 persons.

The town near Ft. Hood was recently incorporated and has no physical facilities yet.

DUAL DEVOTION—T. O. Duckworth, jet mechanic at Miami International Airport, has two loves — jets and tin lizzies. Here he cranks up his 1921 Model-T Ford in preparation for drive home after day's work on sleek jets.

Another Clay Is Active Countering Red Tactics

MY THO, South Viet Nam (AP)—Another Clay is an American adviser on countering Communist tactics—this one in South Viet Nam.

He is Lt. Col. Frank B. Clay. His father, Gen. Leslie B. Clay, won the mastery of the aircraft that broke the Communist blockade of Berlin in 1948 and President Kennedy's personal envoy to Berlin after the Reds erected the wall dividing the German city.

The younger Clay is quietly confident the U.S.-supported South Viet Nam government is making headway against Communist guerrillas.

He is chief U.S. adviser to Col. Huynh Van Cao, commander of South Viet Nam's 7th Infantry Division and the 32nd Tactical Zone. The zone includes five of the country's critical provinces in the war against the Red Viet Cong rebels.

'ON THE MOVE'
"The Vietnamese soldiers are on the move," said Clay. "You don't get spectacular results. If you do it's an accident. But you keep the Viet Cong off balance. We're definitely on the offensive."

Clay emphasized major efforts are being made to train the local militia to form a first line of defense in the villages.

"When this self-defense training program is completed — in about a year—life will be a lot tougher here for the Viet Cong," Clay's unit is based just outside this village 45 miles south of Saigon.

Col. Cao, the 35-year-old Vietnamese commander, is enthusiastic about the way things are going. He boasts he doesn't mind if more Communist guerrillas come into his territory.

"The more that come, the more we kill," he said. "Then the people lose confidence in the Viet Cong."

Private Label Brands Headache to Distillers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Private label liquor brands that generally sell from 10 per cent to 15 per cent under nationally distributed brands are causing headaches for major distillers. Although there are no official figures, it is reported these private brands currently account for a quarter of the total volume in New York and are increasing their share of the liquor market.

Expressed Fears in 1955

Claim Ike Had Misgivings About U2

NEW YORK (AP)—Five years before Francis Gary Powers crashed in Russia, then-President Eisenhower expressed misgivings about just such an event involving a U2 spy plane, Look magazine said today.

Eisenhower expressed those fears at the time he approved the U2 program in 1955, Look said. The article quoted friends of the President as saying Eisenhower told his advisers then:

"If one of these planes is shot down, this is going to be on my head. I'm going to catch hell. The world will be in a mess."

Russia wouldn't disclose it, Look quoted the advisers as having replied, because the Soviets wouldn't "run the risk of being humiliated by the revelation that their skies had been invaded repeatedly."

NOT CONVINCED

The magazine said "the President was not convinced. They would protest, he felt, because that would be the only way to stop the flights."

Nevertheless, Eisenhower approved the U2 flights.

But three years later — two years before Powers' plane went down in Russia on May 1, 1960 — Eisenhower disclosed continued misgivings about the project in a conversation with his press secretary James Hagerty, Look said, adding:

He told Hagerty he often had asked the Central Intelligence Agency, "What happens if you're caught?" But the CIA always replied, "It hasn't happened yet."

The Look report, "The Secret History of the U2," also asserted that Allen W. Dulles, then CIA director, inspected records of the routine preflight psychological examination Powers took just before his flight.

"If he (Dulles) had been the agent on the scene, he decided, he would not have sent Powers over the Soviet Union that day," the magazine said.

"Dulles did not reveal the specific reasons for his reservations about Powers."

The tests "were used to determine whether the pilot had confidence in himself, his plane and his equipment," the magazine stated.

Powers was captured, convicted of spying and sentenced to prison. He recently was freed in exchange for Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy convicted in the United States.

Volcanic Island to Be Newest National Park

ST. CROIX, Virgin Islands (UPI)—An uninhabited, 300-acre chunk of volcanic rock off the east end of St. Croix soon may become the United States' newest national monument.

The territory's legislature has authorized transfer of the area—known as Buck Island—and about 500 acres of surrounding marine gardens to the National Park Service. A proclamation by President Kennedy is required to give the monument official status.

Buck Island, once a pirate rendezvous, now is a sanctuary for thousands of pelicans and frigate birds. A few wild goats and deer subsist on scant grass and shrubs, and herds of green turtles crawl its beaches.

Of primary importance, however, are the reef formations of the surrounding underwater area. They are described by John G. Lewis, superintendent of the Virgin Islands National Park, as "a coral garden of unusual beauty and scientific interest."

Buses Help Students Get to Class on Time

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A campus bus system has been started at the sprawling University of Florida to help students make their classes on time.

Students complained that dormitories, fraternity and sorority houses were so far from classroom buildings it was impossible to get to class without being tardy. Student government leaders set up the new campus bus system to provide express service for the first three class changes each morning and the lunch break.

College gag, via the O.S.U. Sundial: "I hear the administration is trying to stop napping." "Yeah! First thing you know, they'll be trying to make the students stop, too." With modern medicine increasing our life expectancy, we'd better be careful about adding to the national debt. Instead of passing it on, we might have to pay it ourselves." Earl Wilson.

This Special Week Honors All Secretaries

Courtesy, skill and efficiency are prerequisites of her job.

She's the secretary, who this week has been singled out for special recognition by the National Secretaries Association with the proclamation of April 22-23 as National Secretaries Week.

Competent and confident, the secretary maintains a job that not so long ago was held exclusively by men. Women came to the fore in the profession with today's increased demands for accurate record keeping in the progressive areas of business, industry and education.

History reveals that male secretaries were at work in the ancient cultures of Egypt and Babylonia, keeping records for public officials, priests and merchants.

And in the Middle Ages secretaries achieved greater status as an advancing civilization's needs for their skills grew. They were known as confidential clerks. Origin of the term secretary, incidentally, is the Latin secretarius (a confidant) and secretum (a secret).

As tools of the trade have changed—from stylus and clay tablets to electric typewriters—secretaries' responsibilities are more diversified now, office responsibilities depending on one's training or specialized knowledge.

Typing, filing and shorthand are functions generally associated with secretarial work, but confidential clerks today are equally at ease planning itineraries, screening job applicants, solving math problems or acting as reference and information librarians. One local secretary told us, "I assume as many of the details as is practicable, thereby conserving my boss' time."

Any secretary will concur that assistance to her employer must go beyond mechanical skills and routine tasks—these are expendable in our highly competitive society. She strives to maintain an office atmosphere of pleasant efficiency, building for her employer a reputation for service and dependability. Thinking "just one step" ahead of her boss, she is ever alert to his needs and wishes.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston has proclaimed Secretaries Week locally, with Wednesday set aside as Secretaries Day. The occasion will be marked by Pontiac Chapter, NSA, with a dinner at Fox and Hounds Inn honoring the Secretary of Oakland County.

The chapter's annual secretarial workshop is slated Saturday at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Pictured in today's Women's Section are but a few of Pontiac's numerous skilled secretaries who, we feel, exemplify the aforesaid qualities of excellence in their field.

Abby Keeps Her Point

Why Are You Suspicious? What Are Your Memories?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We had a discussion about the letter in your column from "Neighbor Lady" who noticed while cleaning her Venetian blinds, that a high school couple stood out in front of her house for an hour looking into each other's eyes, holding hands and acting so in love right there on the sidewalk.

ABBY

She asked if she should tell that girl's mother because that's the way trouble starts. And you gave her one of your smart aleck answers like, "You must have the cleanest Venetian blinds in town. Now go to work on your mind."

Abby, I think you were wrong. You should have told her to tell the girl's mother. That is the way trouble starts with those boy-crazy girls. Please retract your answer. ANOTHER NEIGHBOR LADY

DEAR ANOTHER LADY: Sorry, but I can't retract my answer. Just what did you do in high school that makes you suspicious of every teen-age girl who holds hands with a boy, and in the open yet?

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for four months. I'm 44 and my wife is 40. She insists on doing her housework in her nightgown. I think she ought to put on some clothes, especially to hang the laundry on the line. She says it is old-fashioned and I say I don't care if it is. What is your opinion?

HOUSTON
DEAR HOUSTON: I say she should put on a neat house-dress every morning. Sloppiness is "old-fashioned" in modern living, too.

DEAR ABBY: When a father dies, and the mother is not able to pay for the funeral, which of their children should pay for the burial? Is it the duty of the sons or the daughters?

DEEP IN DOUBT
DEAR DEEP: Each son and daughter should contribute according to his or her capabilities, for the deceased was the father of all of them.

DEAR ABBY: You are mistaken. Pizza is not pie. It is bread. And no one eats pizza with a knife and fork. An Italian would no more think of eating pizza with a fork than a Mexican would think of eating pizza with a fork. Thank you.

Be Careful but Suggest Your Idea

Q: I have two children and every year on their birthdays my sister-in-law sends each of them a birthday present. I think it is very nice of her to remember the children, but the things she chooses are useless to them. You see, we live in the country and wear very simple things.

Her way of living is entirely different from ours and the clothes she sends the children are much too fancy for our here and, as a result, they are packed away and never worn. Would it be permissible to write and tell her this and ask that she send more practical things?

A: When you write to thank her for the present you might say, "The dress you sent Mary is too beautiful for words, but it is really much too extravagant for out here where everyone wears only the plainest clothes."

Q: I do quite a lot of preserving and from time to time I give my friends and neighbors jars of vegetables or fruits which I have put up. However, they never return the jars to me. I really need these jars and can't afford to go out and buy new ones every year. Would it be proper to ask them to please return the jars when they have finished the contents?

A: To make a very positive request such as, "Will you please remember to give these jars back to me, as I really need them," would be entirely proper.

Q: When open saltcellars are used at table, is it proper to take the salt from these with the fingers or should one of the table implements be used? A: If it is an individual saltcellar intended for your use alone, you may use your fingers. But if it is to be shared and there is no small spoon in it, then you would have to use whatever unused implement you have at your place.

Q: When writing a letter to my son and his wife, whose name shall I write first in the salutation? When I write to my son and his wife, I begin my letters "Dear Bill and Mary" because it seems natural to do so. My daughter-in-law thinks I am very rude to her by doing this and that I should mention her name first. Will you please tell me if there is any ruling on this?

A: She is very petty to be offended by this. It would, however, be more polite to begin your letters "Dear Mary and Bill" and for her mother to begin her letters "Dear Bill and Mary."

Mrs. Elwyn A. Olsen, North Marshall Street, handles many duties efficiently for her employer C. W. Werner, a General Motors vice president and general manager of the GM Truck and Coach Division. She's also found time for lessons in Italian.

Poised and attractive Roma Nephler of Cherokee Road, takes letters awaiting signatures to her employer A. C. Girard, president of Pontiac's Community National Bank.

Mrs. Dobrynin Feels Young

'1st Lady' at Red Embassy

By JOY MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The slender, smiling wife of the new Soviet ambassador makes no bones about the fact that she's 40 — and happy about it.

"I don't feel my 40 years," said Irina Nikolaevna Dobrynina, apple-cheeked and pretty. "I think it is a good age for a woman. You can understand so much more than when you are younger. You think more deeply. Yes, it is much better."

She came to this conclusion Monday night during an interview at a reception she and her 42-year-old husband, Ambassador Anatol F. Dobrynin gave for a group of eight Russian professional women on a month's tour of this country.

Although they've been in their Washington post only five weeks, the Dobryns have spent seven of the last 10 years in this country, first on his assignments in Washington and later when he was an under-secretary of the United Nations.

EVERYDAY ENGLISH
An everyday kind of English is something she has learned in her years in this country. "When I first came in 1952 I couldn't understand a word although I had studied it in Moscow," she said.

Her only child, Elena, 14, wants to teach English, she said, with mingled amusement and pride. The girl is now in school in Moscow, living with Mrs. Dobrynin's widowed mother.

Both the ambassador and his wife hold engineering degrees. They met as students at the Moscow Aviation Institute.

"There were only a few girls," she recalled. "I was always interested in mathematics and technical things." After graduating she worked in an aviation plant until Elena was born. Her other interests include music, she said.

PLAYS PIANO
"When I was six my mother began to teach me music. I play the piano and sometimes I still love to sing."

"I like table tennis, volleyball, skiing and skating." As for fashion, she said, looking down at the chic black little nothing dress she was wearing. "I don't go to any particular designer. When I see something I like, I buy it. I think every woman likes good dresses."

Wagon Wheelers to 'Roll Up Carpet'

The Wagon Wheelers Square Dance Club will dance Friday at the Waterford Community Center. Hosts and hostesses for the social will be Mr. and Mrs. Al Runyon and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Genies.

Mel Shetter will call and sing for the members.

Irina Dobrynin, wife of Russia's new ambassador to the United States and one of the newest arrivals in Washington diplomatic circles, appeared last evening at the Soviet Embassy in Washington wearing a conservative black short-sleeved dress, with a single strand of pearls. Personal News

The birth of a second son, Kurt Charles, April 16, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Koella (Mrs. Louise Turbush) of Mariner Drive, Drayton Plains.

Mrs. C. H. Turbush of Flint is the baby's maternal grandmother and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Koella of Sylvan Lake are his paternal grandparents.

Special guests honored by Arene Chapter No. 565, Order of the Eastern Star on Chaplain's Night were Mr. and Mrs. Esaki Morse of Decker Chapter, and their daughter Mrs. Lloyd Marks of Bad Axe Chapter.

Mrs. Morse is grand chaplain of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, OES and Mr. Morse is associate patron of his chapter.

While Lt. Michael T. DeWitt is on a tour of Europe with the U.S. Navy, Mrs. DeWitt and their daughter Michelle Lynne are visiting her parents, the Clifford E. McLeans of Elizabeth Lake Road.

The DeWitts are presently living in London Bridge, Va., where the lieutenant is a jet pilot.

Dr. and Mrs. V. F. Conger announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Sue to Nicholas S. Sekles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles of Ottawa Drive. Linda's fiancé attended University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Two Sides to This Tale

Wives Get 'Sick,' Too

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are certainly always two sides to every question! I read many articles about protecting husbands from extra strain. I have written some of them myself. Now a reader wants to say something from a woman's viewpoint. In part, here is her letter:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: "I wish you could help me and others like me, if there ARE any others like me. I have always been interested in many things: crafts, people, going places, BUT I am married to a man who has ulcers."

"He has had them over 10 years and slowly I have given up on one thing after another. My husband never wants to go anywhere, no matter how casual or how important. I ask him to go. His answer is always negative."

"He has absolutely no interest in what I do or what I say. I have tried, and have been patient with him when he was ill with ulcers or any other illness. I do not have beautiful clothes nor demand them."

"I wash my own floors, clean my own windows, rake leaves, shovel snow and put the storm windows up and take them down to relieve and help him. BUT he never unexpectedly or impulsively asks to take me any place."

"All he wants to do is eat, go to work, come home and eat, talk about his work, have clean clothes ready for him, and a place to sleep and look at TV. We have absolutely nothing in common but our child. I want a husband, not just a male in my presence."

"I used to go swimming but I gave that up. I used to go to night school but I gave that up. What about other women whose husbands have ulcers? I am lonely. I tried visiting other women but their children are younger than mine and they can't easily return my visits. When they go out in the evening or on weekends, they have their husbands with them."

"I am turning into a mess. I think it is time someone wrote some articles directed to men and their behavior and attitudes and how they affect the rest of the family."

ANSWER

"This man may not be well, but if he is able to hold down a job it does seem that he might once in a while take his wife out and show some interest in the things she is interested in. It sounds as though he is riding that ulcer pretty long and pretty far."

Many men fail to remember that they have been with their wife all day long at work, while their wives often are isolated at home."

I think couples such as this one would be greatly helped by contacting The Family Service Association of America in their community."

Also, the wife seems to be in a rut. She should develop a life of her own if her husband will not or cannot join her. She will revive once she pursues some of the interests she has given up. Perhaps her husband will think of the saying, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

Men will be interested in reading Josephine Lowman's column today — it's just a reminder that mates often have been in the home all day and would appreciate an evening out occasionally.

Smith-Jenkins Vows Told

Dr. Milton H. Bank officiated at the marriage of LaVerne McDonald Jenkins of Lincoln Avenue to Edmond W. Smith Wednesday in Fellowship Hall of the Central Methodist Church, Highland Road.

The bride is the daughter of Frank McDonald, Knoxville, Tenn. and the late Mrs. McDonald. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. George A. Smith, Hazel Park.

Attendants at the small informal ceremony were Mrs. Chae

Club Members Hear Stories During Meeting

Better Home and Garden Club members gathered in the club rooms on Cass Lake Road to hear Mrs. Clifford Ketchum, Detroit, Story League president.

She told the stories "A Handful of Clay," "The Denominational Garden" and "The Silver Spoon." Mrs. Ketchum also works with underprivileged children.

Proceeds from the May 11 benefit sale at the Community Activities Building, Waterford, will help purchase one more wheelchair for the Oakland County Medical Care Facility. Mrs. J. D. Dufield was elected delegate to the annual meeting of the State Federation of Garden Clubs in Lansing. The club will also participate in Michigan Week.

Musicians Unit Meets

Twenty-one members of Pontiac Junior Musicians gathered Saturday afternoon in the Third Avenue home of Glenda Farnsworth.

Responding to roll call, each member told of his or her Easter Day musical activities and was presented with a decorated Easter egg of spun sugar made by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. M. W. Farnsworth.

Piano selections were played by Mark and Debi Davis, Patti Dell, Pamela Pillow, Heather Sue Lockhart, Constance Rightmire, Ruth Ann Garner, Laurie Blakeney and Barbara Jean Pratt.

Easter hymns were played by Connie Smith, Daniel Arnold and the hostess, Roderick Wooten—presented violin solos and Patti Dell and Ann Latzo gave readings.

Miss Pratt will complete the year as treasurer to fill the vacancy due to the resignation of Brian Selles.

Jaycee Women Name Head in Waterford Twp.

Mrs. Jack Cooper was elected president of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary at the April meeting of the group held in the Nancywood Court home of Mrs. Dave Packard.

Other newly elected officers are Mrs. Richard Schwab, vice president; Mrs. Packard, recording secretary; Mrs. John Radenbaugh, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Frank Larkey, treasurer.

Three new members were welcomed into the organization at the meeting. They are Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. Jeff Cornish and Mrs. Robert Wright.

Hair Holders

(NEA) — If your hair won't curl for the new styles, try using a stronger setting solution and setting the hairline and cheek curls with clear tape in a wide curl, instead of pin curls.

The Arthur Atkinsons of Birmingham were guests at the six o'clock ceremony.

Donna Marie Canfield Weds William Lunsford

The Perry Park Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday vows of Donna Marie Canfield and Pvt. William A. Lunsford spoken before Rev. Hilding E. Bild in a candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the bride couple are Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Canfield of Kenilworth Avenue and the Richard E. Lunsfords of Joslyn Road.

A wide satin Dior bow accepted the bride's ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, styled with scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara. She carried white carnations with pink rosebud streamers.

ATTENDED BRIDE

Matron of honor, Mrs. Perry Douglas, Auburn Heights, appeared in aqua chiffon over tulle and carried pale pink carnations with aqua streamers.

Mrs. Lawrence Holm and Beverly Canfield, attending their sister, as bridesmaids, wore pink chiffon over tulle with lace boleros. Their bouquets were pink carnations.

On the esquire side were Billy Harvey, best man for his nephew, and ushers, Edward Lewis and John Clymire.

After a dinner-reception in Fire Hall No. 3, Joslyn Road, the newlyweds left for San Francisco, Calif., where Pvt. Lunsford is stationed with the U. S. Army.

Tangerine carnations accented Mrs. Canfield's beige linen dress chosen for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom, wearing lavender linen, wore white carnations at her shoulder.

Slate Fun Night at Figure Club

The Waterford Fashion Your Figure Club will meet 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at the Community Center Building with a fun night and open discussion on personal dieting problems.

Trophy winner for the week is Mrs. John McGowen. Mrs. McGowen and Mrs. Robert McGowen won the contest run during the past six-week marriage.

Methodist Women Meet for Luncheon

Mrs. John Lamont of Nelson Street opened her home to the Mary Martha Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church for a recent luncheon meeting. Mrs. James Deeg was a guest.

The group repeated the 23rd Psalm at the request of Mrs. Beesie Slaybaugh, circle chairman. Mrs. Irt Williams led devotion. "The next meeting will be on May 9 instead of the 18th, at the Dover Road home of Mrs. Williams."

Elks' So-Shay Club Elects Its Officers

Elks So-Shay Quadrille Club met recently at the Elks Temple for their bimonthly dance and to elect the following 1962-63 season officers:

Oscar Denham, president; William Schmel, vice president; Mrs. Harold Longway, secretary; Mrs. Denham, treasurer; Norman Underwood and Fred Haring, board of governors. Callers for the evening were Howard Upton, Mr. Denham and Mr. Schmel.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 8

Babies, like everyone else, want to be the world's best. What better reason for trying to creep? And those first attempts at creeping are adorably awkward, wonderful to behold. Some try it forward, others backward. Still others fancy crabwise creeping. No matter what style your baby selects, the important thing is that he's learning the 3 big C's: Confidence, Co-ordination, Control. Happy new horizons.

Girl or boy creepers, sit-about or gababouts, every darling one of them needs protein... to help develop strong muscles. Tasty way to give baby extra protein: Gerber High Meat Dinners. These baby-style "casseroles" have 3 times as much meat (and therefore more protein) as regular combination baby dinners. And all this savory meat is subtly blended with garden-grown vegetables for bright flavor... hearty nourishment.

Roaming routine. When baby becomes a "four-walker" you'll really have to keep an eye on your National Baby Week is here (April 28-May 5). What better time to check your grocer and see how many baby values he has.

A word from Dan Gerber. "Our agricultural experts work on a year round basis to improve the quality of your baby's food. Take Gerber Green Beans, for example. It took several years of experimentation to develop a superior strain. As a result, the beans we use are tender, succulent and extra-flavorful... have less fiber and more flesh... and most important, they have a higher nutritive value." Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

'But, Mother I'll Die if I Don't Get to Go'

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It doesn't take the mother of a teen-age daughter long to get the hang of what her daughter actually means by her extravagant speech.

"But mother, everybody is going," means, "everybody is busy telling their mothers that 'everybody is going.'"

"It's late," spoken about a boy who for weeks has been monopolizing the family's sofa and telephone simply means, "we had a fight today but, maybe, he'll call up tonight and everything will be all right."

"All the girls are going to get a certain thing or a certain that" means two or three of her close friends decided they would all buy such-and-such, if they could convince their mothers of the necessity for the purchase.

"I'll do it if I don't get to go," means, "I want to go to it something better doesn't come along."

"Everybody says it was the best party this year," refers to any party the teen-ager didn't get to.

Nursing Chapter Holds Its Annual Bazaar, Sale

Pontiac chapter of the Psychiatric Attendant Nurse Association held their annual Easter bazaar and bake sale at Pontiac State Hospital Thursday, proceeds to be placed in the patients' benefit fund.

In other activities this month, the chapter heard a lecture on "Narcotic Investigation" by Detective George Kerr of the Lansing State Police Post, and delegates attended the FANA workshop at Mount Pleasant State Home and Training School.

Representatives from the Pontiac State Hospital were: Mrs. Nellie Young, state president; Mrs. Ethel Pettibone, state corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marie Larsson, Mrs. Guineh Mervin, Mrs. Helen Humphreys, Mrs. Georgia Meachum, Mrs. Eleanor Price, Ruth Moore and Mrs. Alzina Shortway.

The group also plans a variety show in May. The date will be announced later.

Least Cream Creams Best

Use creams with discretion. The many fine creams and emollients on the market are a boon to beauty but should be used with common sense. Instead of troweling on a thick layer of cream, use a much smaller amount and work well into the skin with the fingers.

The part that doesn't get into the skin isn't going to be of any benefit but it will impart a greasy look and it may even impede the normal functioning of the pores.

Before applying makeup be sure the skin is not only clean but dry. Apply a mild astringent such as good quality witch hazel. Dried quickly, makes ideal foundation.

St. Benedict School students, Marc Chircop, Pioneer Drive, and Paulette Bochnig, G.D. Drive, might like to ride a "bicycle built for one" to the school Fun Time Fair Saturday, but were it not for Charles Carrs of Tilden Avenue's steady hand their transportation could fail. Sponsored by St. Gertrude's Auxiliary of St. Benedict's Catholic Church, the event is scheduled for 4 to 8 p.m.

PTAs List Week's Events

A fair and guest speakers are highlights of this week's local Parent-Teacher Association activities.

ST. BENEDICT'S
St. Benedict's Fun Time Fair is scheduled for Saturday from 4 to 8 p.m. at the school on Lynn Street.

Sponsored by St. Gertrude's Auxiliary of St. Benedict's Catholic Church, general chairman of the event is Mrs. Joseph Chircop and co-chairman is Mrs. Paul Bochnig.

Among the festive features will be make-up and jewelry displays, a millionaire room, fish pond, cat-o'-nine-tails, bowling game, sweet shop, doll walk, white elephant, cake walk, treasure hunt, bake sale and pony rides. Food will be served in the church's lower level again this year.

Assisting Mrs. Chircop and Mrs. Bochnig are Mrs. Robert O'Brien, Mrs. August Boucher, Mrs. Arthur Frechette, Mrs. Louis Zoch, Mrs. Maurice Pinnegar, Mrs. Arthur Ellis, Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Alex Morris, Mrs. Arthur Barnett, Mrs. Ted Vitashinsky, Mrs. Lionel Freilberg, and Mrs. F. James Bridge.

MARK TWAIN
The Honorable Arthur E. Moore, judge of the Probate and Juvenile courts of Oakland County, will be guest speaker at the Mark Twain PTA 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Well-known in the county and also nationally for his progressive beliefs on the problems of youth, Judge Moore has served on the Child Welfare Michigan Congress, Parent and Teachers; a member of the Study Commission originating the "Michigan Visiting Teachers Act," coauthor of the Michigan Juvenile Court Code and co-organizer of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic.

Also the YWCA board of directors, the Family Service Association of Pontiac, Royal Oak Boy's Club and Big Brothers of Oakland County are among his many activities.

Refreshments for the meeting will be served by the first grade mothers. The event is open to the public.

BETHUNE
Bethune School's Parent-Teacher Association will meet 2 p.m. Thursday with guest speaker Mrs. Doris Stearns, reading consultant for the Pontiac Public Schools, presenting, "How Parents Can Help Their Children in Reading."

Mothers from Mrs. Grace Shackelford and Allen Davis' room will be hostesses for the affair.

Gloucester Stephens is the PTA president for the coming year. Assisting Mrs. Stephens are Mrs. Elizabeth McDougall as vice president; Mrs. William Bard, John Murton, teacher vice president; Rubin Rice, father vice president and Mrs. Chester Jones, treasurer.

Mrs. Stephens is secretary; Mrs. Sallie Ford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Woods, historian; and Mrs. R. D. Winfield, Mrs. Herman Stephens, and Mrs. Neal Smith, delegates.

East Indian Curry Dish Is Hot and Spicy

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This week we are giving you a couple of foreign recipes that will be used to prepare food for the upcoming buffet sponsored by the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom.

This first one comes from Mrs. Nathan Chalsnick of Oak Park, co-chairman of the South Oakland County Branch of the League. She obtained it from the wife of a former American vice consul in Bombay, India.

COLABAR CHICKEN CURRY
By Mrs. Nathan Chalsnick

1 package shredded coconut
1 cup boiling water
1 steaming chicken or large fryer, cut up
1 bay leaf
1/2 cup butter or salad oil
2 large onions, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
3 tablespoons curry powder
1 tablespoon ground coriander
1 teaspoon turmeric
1 tablespoon whole cloves

Melt butter in large heavy pot and saute onions and garlic until just golden brown. Add curry powder and simmer 3 minutes. Put remaining spices in cheesecloth bag and add. Simmer one minute.

Add chicken pieces, turning to absorb as much color as possible. Add about 1 1/2 cups chicken stock and the coconut milk. Salt to taste. Simmer to blend flavors.

Remove spices and serve. Sauce may be thickened with flour if necessary. Very spicy. Serves 4-6.

Park Areas Discussed at Session

Mrs. William L. Lowrie, Birmingham, state chairman of natural areas, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Inc., Michigan Division was featured speaker at the club's April meeting of the Sylvan Lake Branch in Oakland County Boat Club.

Teaching briefly on the desirability of preserving these areas, Mrs. Lowrie showed slides of Huron Rocks and Porcupine Mountain Parks, Isle Royale and the proposed Sleeping Bear National Park.

Of Michigan's 3,600-mile Great Lakes shoreline, only five are included in public recreation areas. Mrs. Lowrie also showed pictures of Michigan wildflowers in their native habitat.

Officers for the coming year are Mrs. Raymond Dombrowski, president; Mrs. Willis Brewer, first vice president; Mrs. Irving Menucci, second vice president; Mrs. George Tozer, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Lyons, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Wayne Smith, treasurer.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Raymond Heyes, Mrs. Henry Green and Mrs. Samuel G. Warwick. Mrs. Wayne Smith presided at the Easter tea table. Guests included Mrs. Frank Weber, Romeo and Mrs. Clark Smith, Harrisville.

Elect Officers at Meeting of Beta Mu Chapter

At a meeting of the Beta Mu Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Wednesday evening in a local beauty salon, officers were elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Helen Lowe is incoming president; Mrs. Joseph Swengros, vice president; Mrs. Jack S. John, recording secretary; Mrs. Raymond W. Schuch, corresponding secretary and Gloria Ramirez, treasurer.

Among members who will attend the state convention May 4-6 at Hotel Witherill, Detroit, will be Mrs. Lawrence Hartman, delegate, nominated for the State office of second vice president and Mrs. Lowe, alternate.

Mrs. Fred Vollrath, ways and means chairman, reported the purchase of a silver tea service for the chapter.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Mendonza, welfare chairman, who announced that Easter baskets for the Oakland County Children's Center are ready for delivery.

Wood Swells

(NEA) — To preserve the beauty of those bulky sweaters with wooden buttons, remove the buttons before you launder the sweaters. Wooden buttons tend to swell when wet.

Welcome to the Show!

Extending a warm welcome to all Saints Episcopal Church's 10th annual antique show and sale which opened today are Mrs. Robert Tricker of Dick Avenue (left), general chairman, and Mrs. Walter Wharton of Bedford Road, Bloomfield Township, new Episcopal Church Women president. The show runs through Thursday.

College Happenings

Three men from this area plan to join their daughters for the 15th annual Sophomore Fathers' Day at Wellesley College this weekend.

They are Dr. Jerome Flak, Bloomfield Hills, father of Sherry J. W. Eklund, Birmingham, father of Patricia, and Bethel B. Kelley, also of Birmingham, whose daughter is Patricia.

Mrs. Kelley is a student member of the committee which has planned the event on the Wellesley, Mass. campus.

Some 340 fathers are expected from 34 states and from Canada, Puerto Rico, Colombia, the Philippine Islands, England, France and Belgium.

Friday, the visiting fathers will attend classes and laboratory sessions with their daughters. Saturday morning, lectures by faculty members of the art, music, chemistry and political science departments, are planned.

Sophomore Fathers' Day will close Saturday evening with the traditional dance at which members of the class of 1964 will be escorted by their best men—their fathers.

Brownies Observe 1st Year

Malkin School's Brownie Troop No. 68 observed its first anniversary at the school recently and presented six new members with Brownie pins.

Mrs. Norman DeHaven, retiring leader, presented the following girls with their new pins: Sandra Brazzaski, Annette Chapin, Sheri Hattenhorne, Robin Short, Carolyn Martin and Margaret Trammel.

Following the investiture, the girls enjoyed refreshments. The troop has 40 members and is sponsored by the Malkin Parent-Teacher Association. Eighteen of the members earned membership stars for this first year.

Guiding the girls through the coming year will be Mrs. Howard Dow as leader. Her assistants are Mrs. Leslie Hotchkiss and Mrs. Anthony Stadler. Troop committee-women are Mrs. DeHaven, Mrs. Jean Mielke and Mrs. Rudy Pfeiffer.

Daughters of Isabella Circle 493 of Pontiac are sponsoring a "Showdown" Monday at the Knights of Columbus Hall on South Saginaw Street. Prizes and refreshments are being ready.

Proceeds will be used for the circle's charitable activities and the public is invited.

Organ Society Sets Meeting

Hammond Organ Society's final meeting of the season, and the last in their present location, is set for May 1 in the Grinnell Auditorium on South Saginaw Street.

A special musical program will begin at 7 p.m. before the regular meeting. Guests and members are invited to participate during this time. The final gathering, commemorates 45 years of service.

Foundation Makes Plea for Cancer Pad Material

Every woman in the community is asked to join in this drive for clean white material to be used for cancer dressings.

It can be bought directly to the Michigan Cancer Foundation, on West Lawrence Street, or to the local Detroit Edison Co. office. They are acting as collection depots for this project.

In the Pontiac area alone more than 80,000 dressings are made and distributed each year free of charge to cancer patients in the home.

Michigan Cancer Foundation is an agency of the Pontiac Area United Fund and carries on a year-round program of research, education and service to cancer patients.

Calm After High Court Order

LANSING (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court's order directing the Michigan Supreme Court to look into the question of the current apportionment of the legislature has caused no great commotion among delegates to the constitutional convention.

Majority Republicans said it didn't change their plans one iota. Democrats, who had only a third of the 144 convention seats, said it should, but they doubted it would.

The 14 Republican members of the committee on legislative apportionment tentatively agreed to recommend to the convention tomorrow that its proposed new constitution provide for Senate based on area, as well as population.

It also tentatively was agreed, however, that the Senate should have 40 members, instead of the current 34, with heavily-populated Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties getting an additional member each immediately and Kent County keeping the two it now has.

But after the 1970 census, the constitution would require that the Senate be divided among 40 districts in which population would be given four times the weight allotted to area factors.

If this system prevailed now on the basis of the 1960 census, Wayne (Detroit) County would be entitled to nine senators, instead of the seven it has; Oakland (Pontiac) County would have four, instead of the present one; Macomb (Mount Clemens) and Genesee (Flint) would be entitled to two, instead of one, and Kent (Grand Rapids) would keep its two.

Under the proposed 11-member House apportionment, any county or group of counties containing seven-tenths of 1 per cent of the state's population will be entitled to one member, with the others distributed among the more populous counties on an equal proportions basis.

SUBJECT TO REVIEW

Tom Downs, a Detroit Democrat and convention vice president, said the U.S. court's decision would not affect the convention's schedule.

After considering four offers, Boyd took a job with Medical Development, Inc., across the Hudson River from New York City. As soon as he obtains his New Jersey driver's license he also will drive a truck.

Boyd received 50 shares of stock with a book value of $50—in the closed corporation as part of the company's hiring policy. The stock will be paid for out of paycheck deductions for the next 100 weeks.

PLANS FOR FAMILY

The company is making arrangements for Boyd to move his family into living quarters about a block from the plant. In the interval they will continue to live in a guest-town Manhattan hotel in midtown.

The Laotian Defense Ministry said the Reds launched "a new large-scale action" against the city on Saturday and at least 1,000 troops from each side were still engaged in the fiercest fighting near Nam Tha in the past 60 days. Heavy casualties were reported by both sides.

Informal sources said it was too early to determine whether the enemy was attempting to capture Nam Tha or merely to occupy the territory which it had let slip to the Royal Laotian army during the past two months of relative quiet.

The sources confirmed that Viet Minh or pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels had driven Royal Laotian troops away from most of a mile-high hill just southeast of Nam Tha.

CAPTURED OFFICER

The Laotian government claimed for the first time yesterday that an officer of the Communist North Vietnamese army had been captured.

A military communiqué said Lt. Nguyen Van Quy, identified as a North Vietnamese company commander, was among the 15 enemy wounded "left on the field" Sunday following a battle in the Nhoi River valley in central Laos.

The communiqué said 10 others were killed.

The royal government occasionally has produced captured North Vietnamese enlisted men to back up charges of massive Viet Minh intervention here. But it had never captured an officer.

A government communiqué said the enemy forces attacked at dawn Saturday under 85 mm artillery fire.

The attack was preceded and accompanied by sharply stepped-up parachute supply drops by Russian aircraft, sources said.

U.S. Defense Mission in London for Talks

JORDON (AP) — A 10-man U.S. defense mission arrived today to hold talks with British officials.

Assistant Secretary of Defense John Rubel told newsmen they would discuss "technical matters of mutual interest," would inspect installations in Scotland and would leave late Thursday.

Sukarno Calls Off Visit to Britain

LONDON (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia has canceled a state visit to Britain because of tension over Dutch-held West New Guinea, the Foreign Office announced today.

Sukarno was due next month. A Foreign Office spokesman said the government regrets Sukarno can't come and hopes he can make the visit at some future date.

Sukarno is locked in a dispute with the Netherlands over the future of West New Guinea, which he claims as part of Indonesia. He threatened again 11 days ago to go to war with the Dutch if they did not hand over the territory.

Negro Finds Job; Boss Happy Also

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI) — A New Orleans Negro longshoreman became a stockholder today and ended one year of unemployment by reporting to work as a $100-a-week handyman.

about a vote on a constitutional amendment, whereas Michigan voters could force a vote by petition.

Boothby said he felt the U.S. justices were being consistent in ordering a rehearing in Scholle's suit and said no indication had been given that the Supreme Court viewed Michigan's legislature as malapportioned.

"I think it was a procedural action, since the U.S. Supreme Court now has decided that the courts can enter the political field," Michigan's court had ruled they could not.

Ethiopian Prince Dies in Addis Ababa

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie's young son, Prince Selesse, died of a liver ailment complicated by pneumonia and gastrointestinal hemorrhages.

Except for one medical bulletin two weeks ago, there has been no official announcement of the prince's illness. When he failed to attend the funeral of his mother, Empress Menen, last February it was learned he was ill.

The prince leaves his wife, Princess Mahtsemet, and one child.

Negro Finds Job; Boss Happy Also

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI) — A New Orleans Negro longshoreman became a stockholder today and ended one year of unemployment by reporting to work as a $100-a-week handyman.

Lewis Boyd, his wife and eight children began a new life with the state's population will be entitled to one member, with the others distributed among the more populous counties on an equal proportions basis.

After considering four offers, Boyd took a job with Medical Development, Inc., across the Hudson River from New York City. As soon as he obtains his New Jersey driver's license he also will drive a truck.

Boyd received 50 shares of stock with a book value of $50—in the closed corporation as part of the company's hiring policy. The stock will be paid for out of paycheck deductions for the next 100 weeks.

PLANS FOR FAMILY

The company is making arrangements for Boyd to move his family into living quarters about a block from the plant. In the interval they will continue to live in a guest-town Manhattan hotel in midtown.

The Laotian Defense Ministry said the Reds launched "a new large-scale action" against the city on Saturday and at least 1,000 troops from each side were still engaged in the fiercest fighting near Nam Tha in the past 60 days. Heavy casualties were reported by both sides.

Informal sources said it was too early to determine whether the enemy was attempting to capture Nam Tha or merely to occupy the territory which it had let slip to the Royal Laotian army during the past two months of relative quiet.

Largest Membership in Red China

Communist Party Counts Forty Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government intelligence report says there are approximately 40 million Communist party members in the world with 38 million located in nations belonging to the Sino-Soviet bloc.

The largest single party membership is in Red China, with an estimated 17 million. More than 9 million are in the Soviet Communist party.

The report, prepared by a government agency for Congress, said the biggest Communist parties outside the Sino-Soviet bloc were in Indonesia, with an estimated 1.5 million members, and Italy, with 1.2 million to 1.5 million. Figures for the U.S. Communist party were not given. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has estimated the U.S. party's membership at 10,000.

Cuba's party membership was estimated at 27,000 but the report said the number of persons in Cuba now calling themselves Communists may exceed 100,000. The report said that among the United States' allies in Western Europe, the Communist party is biggest in Italy and France. It estimated French Communist party membership at 250,000.

AND IN ITALY:

In Italy, the report said, the party has supporters in almost every social class and every geographic area. The dedication of its cadres, many of which were formed in 20 years of underground and exile opposition to the Fascist regime, is one of the main sources of party strength, the report said.

Britain's Communist party was pegged at 28,000 to 29,500 and is considered insignificant as a national political party.

In Africa, the report said, Communist movements of some significance exist in Morocco, Tunisia, Sudan, Madagascar and the Republic of South Africa, but the emergence of full-fledged Communist movements has not yet paralleled the constitution of new states in the area south of the Sahara.

The party's relatively large membership in Indonesia rests basically on its legitimacy and respectability attributable to President Sukarno's public endorsement of the party as a genuine participant in the political process and in the nationalist movement, the report said.

In a breakdown by countries, the report had this to say about the Soviet Union:

The Communist party of the

There has been an unusually rapid and accelerating growth since January 1960. The party is universally recognized as the ruling organ of Soviet society and while the degree of its popular support is questionable, broad acquiescence to its rule is not.

Survey to Launch Bid for Urban Renewal Aid

Rochester Asks E. 3rd St. Study

Want to Present Results to U. S. Govt.; Hearing Held on Budget Plans

ROCHESTER — The village council here last night took its first step toward asking the federal government for urban renewal funds for the East Third Street area between two railroad tracks.

Village planning consultant Villan-Leman & Associates, Inc., was instructed to prepare a survey and a planning application to be presented to the federal government at a cost not to exceed $1,000.

Also at last night's council meeting, a public hearing on a proposed budget calling for a 1.5-mill tax increase failed to turn up any opposition to the impending tax boost.

Two or three village residents asked budget questions of the Village Council and City Manager Paul York, but did not pose any objections during the half-hour hearing.

The federal urban renewal program had been recommended for the E. Third Street area by Villan-Leman and the Avo-Rochester Planning Commission.

Since any rehabilitation of the area would require a new bridge, planning officials said they felt the village could not come up with the money for a program of its own. The federal government would pay three-fourths of the project under the U. S. program, according to Villan-Leman.

Preparation of plans and an application does not commit the city to participation in the federal U. S. program, however, York said.

TO SHOW BUDGET

The proposed budget, with its recommendation for a tax increase from 17 to 18.5 mills, will be available for public examination at village offices until May 14, according to York. He presented the budget proposal at the council's April 9 meeting.

Final adoption of a budget will take place at the council's May 14 meeting. If adopted as presented, the budget's tax increase will be the first since 1946.

Rochester Elks Choose Ruler, C. A. Bartlebaugh

ROCHESTER — Clyde A. Bartlebaugh has been installed as Exalted Ruler of the year-old Rochester Elks Lodge No. 2225, taking over from Jack Martin, the lodge's first exalted ruler.

The Rochester lodge was organized as the largest new lodge in Michigan history April 20, 1961, under the sponsorship of Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 818. Martin, now past exalted ruler, has been presented with an honorary life membership.

Other officers recently installed were Alfred A. Wade, esteemed leading knight; Lee N. McCotter, esteemed loyal knight; William H. Parker Jr., esteemed lecturing knight; R. B. Widley, inner guard; William Trydell, tier; Edward J. Chmiel, chaplain.

Also installed were Richard W. Stranahan, esquire; George Martin, secretary; William Porter, treasurer; Bob Warren, five-year trustee; and Leon Robertson, three-year trustee.

To Compensate Troy for Station Highway Dept. Offer Accepted by City for Property Near X-Way

Highway Dept. Offer Accepted by City for Property Near X-Way

TROY — The city's spat with the State Highway Department over a fire station came to an official end at last night's City Commission meeting.

An offer of $39,500 for the city's Fire Station No. 1 on Rochester Road near the site of the state's projected Chrysler Expressway interchange with Stephenson highway and Rochester Road was accepted by the city.

Originally the State Highway Department had not planned to pay the city anything for the fire station — because the department didn't quite need it to make room for the expressway.

But, an exit ramp was to end in front of the fire station and the city protested it couldn't operate a fire department properly under such a circumstance.

The state finally relented and agreed to pay for the fire station and its property.

A city study is under way to determine a site for a new fire station.

Child Welfare Worker to Address PTSA Unit

D. W. Rolph, child welfare worker at Oakland County Juvenile Court, will speak on juvenile protection at Thursday's meeting of the Avo-Rochester Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

Rolph also will speak at the 8 p.m. meeting to be held in the high school cafeteria. Installation of officers also is on the agenda.

For Utica, Townships Reject Merger Plan

UTICA — The townships of Shelby and Sterling and the City of Utica should plan and grow together through establishment of a metropolitan district, but should not merge into a giant city at the present time.

"This was the essence of the recommendations announced last night by a study committee of the Greater Utica Chamber of Commerce at a general membership meeting at Utica High School.

Water, sewer, parks and recreation, transportation and other public services should be included in the scope of the metropolitan district, the three-man committee recommended.

Such a plan "provides for a consolidated acquisition and operation of the major capital needs of the community, which should result in tax savings," said the committee's report.

REJECTS PROPOSAL — The committee turned thumbs down on the proposal to incorporate the three governmental units into one huge city because residents could not afford its tax burden.

Services now provided by Macomb County and the state would become the responsibility of such a city, the report indicated.

A new and larger C. of C. committee to delve thoroughly and comprehensively into the matter of setting up a metropolitan district was recommended by the study committee if the general membership votes approval of its report and recommendations.

A vote is expected within a week.

The idea of a metropolitan district emerged from a number of possibilities examined by the committee, established in December to study and make recommendations on community progress and development.

Annexation and chartering townships as solutions to area problems, which center mainly on water and sewer facilities, were also rejected.

Annexation would be a piecemeal approach, and changing townships to a charter status would mean separate striving by each governmental unit. Both would be contrary to the committee's recommendations of coordinated and well-planned growth.

Incorporation into a huge city, the report said, should be put off until residents can afford the tax burden.

The recommendation for a metropolitan district parallels a recent proposal by Shelby Township Supervisor Lorin E. Evans for three metropolitan authorities to develop and control major public services.

Members of the C. of C. study committee are Harold Dillebaugh, Odilon Houtekier and Richard C. Stave.

Icebreaker Opens Soo Lock Entry
SAULT STE. MARIE, (UPI) — Ship traffic in the Whitefish Bay area of Lake Superior picked up headway today as the icebreaker Mackinac opened the route.

The Mackinac and the cutter Naugatuck kept the channel to the Soo Locks free of ice as 20 ships bound westward and 18 headed toward the locks followed their path.

The Mackinac was on standby duty all day yesterday to assist any ships that became stuck in the ice. It returned to the locks late in the day and was scheduled to return to Whitefish Bay today.

Capt. Joseph Howe, skipper of the Mackinac, said everything went smoothly as the iron ore traffic began in earnest. He said channel traffic was unusually heavy for this time of year.

Eight Students in Area Win Ford Scholarships

DEARBORN — Eight area young people have been awarded 1962 Ford Motor Co. Fund scholarships to attend colleges or universities of their choice in the United States.

The area winners were among 46 in the state and 71 in the nation, all sons and daughters of Ford employees.

All the winners were notified of their selections by telegram from Benson Ford, fund president. A nine-member board of educators chose the winners from among approximately 1,000 applicants.

The scholarships pay tuition and fees and 80 per cent of normal living costs up to a maximum of $750 a year for students away from home — a maximum of $500 for those living at home while in college.

The winners will be guests of the Ford Motor Co. Fund here June 25 at a formal awards presentation.

Area winners are: Clarkston — Judith Joralee Webb, Clarkston High School; parent, Victor Duane Fife, Winzom assembly plant.

Farmington — Jill Carol Slingerland, Farmington Senior High School; parent, Jack Carlin Slingerland, Rawsonville plant.

Romeo — Michael John Stenvig, Romeo High School; parent, John Stenvig, Sterling plant.

Southfield — Mary Dolores Brosius, Our Lady of Mercy High School; parent, William Peter Brosius Jr., tractor division, product engineering office, Birmingham; Roger Thomas Maki, Southfield High School; parent, Wilma Samuel Maki, Dearborn stamping plant.

Birmingham — Mary Josephine Dumon, Marian High School; parent, Harvey Joseph Dumon, tractor division general office, Birmingham; Roy Marie Heikkinen, Ernest W. Seasholm High School; parent, E. O. Heikkinen, research and engineering center, Dearborn.

Berkley — Peter Bruce Prange, Lutheran High School West; parent, Vernon Alvin Prange, tractor division general office, Birmingham.

Noncouncil Members Appointed to Civic Center Commission

SOUTHFIELD — Appointments were made here last night of all noncouncil members, except one, of the recently created Civic Center Development Advisory Commission.

The 17-member study group, which includes the mayor and the seven-man City Council, was organized to aid in development of a proposed $7-million civic center.

Appointed by the council at its meeting were Will J. Oliver, former treasurer of the Southfield Board of Education; Mrs. Wilhelmina L. McCracken of 2680 Meadowlark St.; and R. A. Fay of 2250 Rougemont St.

Others named were Jack Anderson of 213 Tamarack St.; Gus Undy of 24175 Lee Baker St.; William L. McCracken of 2680 Meadowlark St.; and R. A. Fay of 2250 Rougemont St.

TO ACT BY MAY 5 — Councilman John J. Hollywood was the only one who did not name his appointee. He said he would make his choice by May 5.

The civic center proposal, first presented about three months ago, includes construction of 14 buildings, an outdoor amphitheater and facilities for more than six summer and winter sports.

The civic center would be built on a 166-acre site at 10½-Mile and Evergreen roads.

The development would be constructed in five-year stages over a 20-year period.

The first will include a city hall and a portion of the recreation building and a park. Cost of this phase of the project has been estimated at $1.5 million.

Architects for the development are Pirscher and Jarret of Ferndale.

Walled Lake Men Invite Detroit Minister

WALLED LAKE — Dr. Robert H. Bodine, minister of Metropolitan Methodist Church, Detroit, will be the speaker Thursday at a special program of the Men's Club of Walled Lake Methodist Church.

The 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting will mark the first anniversary of the club receiving its charter.

Dr. Bodine, who has had numerous articles in newspapers and magazines, is co-author with other leading clergymen of the book "Christian Strategy for a Struggling World."

A year ago he was called upon to provide United Command Eastern Services for the American forces in Panama, a service which brought him a government citation.

Holly Voters Decide Tax Hike Tomorrow

HOLLY — A one mill tax increase and the continuation of six other mills for operations will be decided tomorrow by voters in the Holly School District.

It is the second time in two months that voters have been asked to increase taxes.

An eight mill tax proposal, which included the renewal request, was rejected on Feb. 19 by a vote of 478 to 578. In the same election a $500,000 bond proposal was defeated 474 to 331.

Another bond vote is expected to be scheduled by the school board for the fall.

The one additional mill being sought would provide funds to pay the salaries of new teachers needed to meet increasing enrollments, according to school officials.

WOULD CUT STAFF

Unless the extension of the current millage is approved it will be necessary to reduce the teaching staff by 16, they say. The millage represents $100,000 of the school system's operating budget.

The total seven mills would be levied for a five-year period if it is approved.

The six mills expire with the school year in June.

The total school tax in the district would be 22.75 mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation if the request was accepted tomorrow. It would be collected this winter.

It would be one of the lowest tax rates in the county, according to Superintendent Raymond Barber.

3 Flint Men Mute as Arraigned on Robbery Charge

Three Flint men charged with the $71 armed robbery of an Independence Township service station last week stood mute yesterday at their circuit court arraignment.

Judge Stanton Dondero entered pleas of innocent for Donald W. Schauman, 18, Ronald D. Wilson, 20, and Clifford E. Johnson, 25. Bond for each man was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000.

Wilson is free on bond and the other two are held pending trial.

A Flint girl also held in the case, Gloria J. Yager, 18, has not been bound over to circuit court. She will be examined on an armed robbery charge Thursday in Springfield Township Justice Court.

Miss Yager and the three men are accused of robbing the Red Fox Gas Station, 6294 Dixie Highway.

Engineering Students Honored at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR, (UPI) — The University of Michigan yesterday presented 18 awards to 37 outstanding engineering students, including one from Royal Oak.

The Royal Oak student was Blake R. Patterson, majoring in science engineering.

Gordon Feldman, of Ypsilanti, received the top award, distinguished scholar, for maintaining a straight "A" average throughout his student career at Michigan.

Maple Leafs 'Real Champs'

TORONTO, (AP)—"It's good we won it on the road. That makes us real champions."

That was Red Kelly's comment Monday on the 2-1 victory scored by the Toronto Maple Leafs at Chicago Sunday night to win the Stanley Cup in six games from the Black Hawks.

"Until the last one, we hadn't won a road game in this year's playoffs," Kelly said. "If we'd won it in Toronto, people might have called us second rate champions."

Split Decision Won by Detroit Boxer

DETROIT (UPI)—Tommy Payne of Detroit battled his way to a split decision victory over veteran Charles McCreary, Youngstown, Ohio, last night in a middleweight main event at Greyhound Ballroom here.

The decision was unusual in the respect that referee Tom Briscoe awarded his vote to McCreary by a six-point margin, 49-43, while judge Abe Abeoff gave Payne a six-point edge, 48-42. The second judge, Andy Brown, called it for Payne, 47-45.

Payne, 22, who turned pro following a 1960 Golden Gloves title, picked up his 12th win in 13 bouts. He started strong, winning the first four rounds. But McCreary, who has been fighting for pay since 1955, came back and staggered the youngster in the fifth, seventh and eighth rounds.

As an added attraction, Henry Hank of Detroit, a middleweight contender, boxed a four-round exhibition with Walter Turner of Middletown, Ohio.

What's more, the Black Hawks were defending champions, and when you can beat them in the big one, in front of that wild Chicago crowd, you deserve to be called champions."

Most of the people in Toronto felt the same way. A crowd of some 3,000 met the team at the airport in the wee hours when they brought the Cup home, and there will be an official city ticker tape parade and reception on Wednesday.

WILL TAKE IT EASY

Most of the Leafs will take it back next season. He has WELCOME, RED—Toronto Maple Leaf fans carry Red Kelly in a celebration yesterday when the new Stanley Cup champions arrived home from Chicago. Kelly, one of the key performers, had to hold his daughter with one hand and sign autographs with the other.

easy after that, but Kelly will swing into a campaign on the Liberal ticket for the York West seat in Parliament. He says he has his work cut out for him.

"I don't think people will vote for me just because we won the Stanley Cup," he said.

Kelly is one of four players on the Leafs who has been on a Stanley Cup winner before. The Leafs last won the Cup in 1961. The other three are Bert Olmstead, Al Arbour and Eddie Litzenberger.

Olmstead has hinted he may not back next season. He has

"I've been in the finals twice before, and we were beaten badly both times. After this one, we're all very happy."

So was the switchboard girl at Maple Leaf Gardens. She answered the telephone all day with a bright:

"Stanley Cup Champions."

Final Meeting for Church Loop Set Here Tonight

The final organizational meeting of the Pontiac Church Softball League will be held tonight at 7 at the Pike Street Church of God at East Pike and Anderson streets.

Twenty teams attended a previous meeting. Any other teams interested must have a representative at this meeting. No entries will be accepted after tonight.

Men interested in serving as umpires in the loop may apply by attending the meeting or calling Al Carline at FE 2-3427.

U-D Records Double Win

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The University of Detroit yesterday swept a doubleheader from Kalamazoo College, 19-3, 6-0, and pushed its 1962 record to 10 straight victories.

Titan batters dominated the first game with a 14-hit attack. U of D scored seven times in both the second and third innings.

U of D pitchers Dan Osimski and Jim Kraus combined for a two-hit shutout victory in the night game. Ed Meier was the winning pitcher for the Titans in the first game.

Leftfielder Rico Zuccaro paced U of D batters in the doubleheader with four singles and a double in eight trips to the plate.

(First game) U of D 19, Kalamazoo 3. (Second game) U of D 6, Kalamazoo 0.

Central Michigan and St. Joseph College split a doubleheader Monday with Central Michigan taking the nightcap 3-2 after dropping the opener 5-0. A two-run double by Dick Fenech in the fourth inning gave Central its margin in the nightcap.

Rickey Hits NL Draft Used for New Teams

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Strongly reiterating his belief that major league baseball must expand to three leagues, venerable baseball executive Branch Rickey says the National League's new teams walked into the special player draft with their eyes open—but still were victimized.

Rickey called the draft "a highly illogical procedure" Monday.

"The major league owners know that and they don't know what to do with it. A new team starts off with $2 million in player purchases and a tremendous overhead."

"The other teams dispose of players they don't want; they send them to the new teams and then expect those players to compete favorably with teams already in existence. In that sense all new clubs are victimized. Of course the new teams know what they were doing. They were all open-eyed."

The 80-year-old Rickey, head of the defunct Continental League, further told The Associated Press it will be in the third year before a new team will compete seriously with anyone for the pennant.

"There may be exceptions of course," Rickey conceded. "This Houston club is starting out great with a bang. And New York will win some games. These new clubs should win a third of their games."

AL SUFFERING

"The American League has suffered for it for a year and will do it for a couple of more years. They were forced to go to 10 teams."

Houston has split even in its first 16 games and is in sixth place. The Mets, in the cellar, won their first game Monday night after nine losses. They beat the previously unbeaten Pittsburgh Pirates.

Last season, the first for the American League's two new teams, Los Angeles finished eighth while Washington tied for ninth.

Rickey said the success of a new team depends largely upon who runs the club.

"The new teams in the National League are well-manned organizations," he offered. "You've got a lot of wonderful people with the new teams."

There's no doubt in Rickey's mind that in order to survive, major league baseball will expand into a third league. Congress could aid the majors in this by serving themselves, he warned.

"If congress validates the reserve clause under present conditions," he said, "and doesn't specifically provide for expansion to other major leagues, then monopoly becomes eternal. The major leagues don't ever have to worry about taking in extra clubs. They are secure, and they seal their own doom."

Just Like 1961 Season

HAZEL PARK (AP)—Hazel Park's 1961 champion driver, Del Cameron, drove Newport Pride home at $11.40 for $2 in the ninth and final race, providing 5,746 fans with Monday night's first winner to pay more than $10.

Denver vs. San Diego in Opening AFL Game
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Denver's Broncos and the San Diego Chargers get the American Football League football schedule moving Sept. 7.

The league office Monday announced the 16-game schedule that runs over 15 weeks and winds up Dec. 15.

Midnight Oil—One of Our Leading Products. Beyond the lighted window, a Marathon scientist works on after hours. Tomorrow, or next week, or next year, he will solve his problem ... and his answer will be better products or methods. Burning the midnight oil is typical of Marathon and Speedway people. Work goes on around the clock at our exploration and production areas on five continents, at our four refineries, at our Denver research center (above), at 3800 Marathon and Speedway stations. This dedication pays off in higher quality products and more efficient service. Drive in at the sign of Marathon or Speedway soon, and try our petroleum products. Midnight oil is just about the only one we don't sell.

Speedway's merged with Marathon ... now two great traditions carry on!

'Fallout Rate Should Double'

AEC Adviser Predicts Debris From Red Tests Twice That of 1958

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the world's leading authorities on fallout said today radioactive debris from the Soviet Union's atomic test series last fall is expected to be about twice as plentiful this spring and summer as the fallout was following the Soviet tests in the autumn of 1958.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission and still a member of AEC's Advisory Committee, told a reporter, "Even though Russia's 1961 series was a 'cleaner' series, relatively speaking, in comparison with the (fall) 1958 series, the fallout still will be twice as big as it was in 1958."

Libby's views were not in conflict with those of the AEC which has said radiation to humans from all nuclear tests since 1945—including the Soviet Union's 1961 bursts—will remain within acceptable health limits.

New GMTC Truck Ups Limit for Transit-Mixed Payloads

GMC Truck & Coach Division has added a giant to its new model line.

Current weight restrictions for transit-mixed payloads in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana will drop by the wayside to the division's new specialized WAX6512.

Fund Lacks $10,500

YMCA Gets Under Way

Ground-breaking ceremonies yesterday at the Young Men's Christian Association building on Mt. Clemens Street, set the wheel in motion for construction of one of the largest and most modern recreational facilities in Michigan.

For more than three years, Pontiac area business and professional people have been working toward the expansion. Before the end of this week, footings will be laid for the addition. The present building also will be modernized.

Pontiac Plan to Be Presented

City Leaders to See Guide for Development of Downtown Tomorrow

The Central Business District Plan, in preparation for a year, will be presented at a meeting in the City Commission meeting chambers at City Hall tomorrow night at 8.

The $40,000 plan to guide development of downtown Pontiac in the coming years will be viewed by city officials, civic, business and industrial leaders.

The Downtown Businessmen's Association and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will set up committees to implement the plan's various recommendations following its presentation.

'West Wants to Spy'

The plan was prepared by David S. Geer Associates Planning Consultants, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills.

At the meeting, Robert Boyce, director of the plan, said that Western disinformation proposals at Geneva were designed for spying and "x-raying" the entire territory of the Soviet Union.

The latest innovation in GMC Truck's highly versatile 6500 series of models will be added as a special quotation vehicle.

It was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, GM vice president and general manager of the division.

Although the final goal of $50,000 is still $10,500 short, YMCA officials felt that the "building climate" is so attractive that they plan to move ahead right now," according to T. N. Slossen, director.

Solicitors are continuing their calls to make up the deficit.

Slossen said the general construction contract was awarded to J. A. Utley Co. of Royal Oak, the low bidder at $317,000. Additional contracts for mechanical and electrical work will be let soon, Slossen said.

As part of the expansion, a $40,000 swimming pool for instructional purposes will be installed near the present 20 by 60 foot pool in the old building.

An all purpose room, new kitchen, men's club area, snack bar and main lobby will be located in the new wing. Women and girls will have their own locker room, lobby, shower, and drying room for the first time.

Before yesterday's ground-breaking ceremonies, the YMCA elected eight men to three-year terms on its board of directors. They are the Rev. Milton Bank, Edward Barrett, Robert Critchfield, L. H. Cole, John W. Fitzgerald, W. E. C. Hubwaite, Gelson Poole, and Howard Powers.

Another member, Robert Boyce, was elected to serve the unexpired term of Robert Nelson, who has resigned.

The new eight-wheeler also offers what GMC officials described as excellent weight transfer capabilities and maneuverability.

HAS 'TAG' AXLE

The WAX6512 has an air-suspended "tag" axle mounted behind its regular two tandem-drive rear axles.

This axle setup spreads the vehicle's load weight over a greater number of axles, permitting the hauling of eight yards of transit-mix concrete in Michigan and Ohio and nine yards in Indiana. Before, seven yards were maximum in each state.

In addition to increased load capacity, the extra rear axle—offered as a factory installed option—can transfer vehicle weight from the front axle to the rear driving traction when greater vehicle traction and flotation are required.

Despite its loading capacity exceeding from 56,000 to 62,000 gross vehicle weight, the WAX6512 has a turning radius of only 39 feet, giving it a high degree of maneuverability.

Gal Bowls Over Purse Snatcher, He Strikes Back

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Veronica Kostovick, a secretary, told police she won a moral victory against a purse snatcher even though she lost her purse containing $1.

Using a roundhouse swing, Miss Kostovick struck the man on the head with her bowling ball when he accosted her outside a bowling place last night, she said.

The blow staggered the man, police said, but he fought back, punching the secretary in the mouth. She was treated for a cut lip and scuffed knee.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs, as measured by the government, rose two-tenths of one per cent in March to a new record level.

N-Blast Effects Will Be Tested

First U.S. Explosions Will Seek Results of Attack on Defenses

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union threatened today to test "new types" of nuclear weapons if the United States goes through with its planned tests in the Pacific.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first explosions in a new series of U.S. nuclear tests will probably involve research devices intended to yield data on the electromagnetic and other effects of blasts on the nation's defense system.

Later in the two-to-three-month series in the Pacific will come proof tests of full nuclear weapons—including all those in the U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile arsenal and submarine-launched Polaris missiles.

Informed authorities said today this is the likely schedule when President Kennedy signals the test go-ahead, maybe within the next few days.

Perhaps three or more of the tests will be at high altitudes ranging from about 30 miles to several hundred miles.

The biggest blast is expected to equal that of about 10 million tons of TNT—far below the 50 megaton Russian are said to have detonated in their test series last fall.

Some of the test devices may be fired to high altitudes by missiles. Others will be placed on stands and still others carried into the sky by balloons.

Instruments placed at vantage points throughout the test area will monitor the effects of these blasts. Among other methods, specially instrumented rockets will be sent up to gauge the fireballs and radiation.

The experts will chart the explosive yield of the devices, the pressures they create, the radiation they release, relationship of damage to distance from the blasts, effects of heat on various materials such as steel and concrete, impact on underground structures such as missile launching bases—these and many more.

Among the effects to be watched most closely is the impact of electromagnetic emissions from nuclear blasts on radar and communications. Conceivably an enemy nuclear explosion could cripple the vital radar and communications of a U.S. missile system, thus rendering it ineffective against follow-up missiles.

The Weather. You Ask? The Byword Is Bask

Pontiac area residents may look forward to basking in the sun for the next few days.

The weatherman said tonight will be fair with a low of 45 degrees.

The forecast for tomorrow and Thursday is fair and warm with the high tomorrow climbing to 73.

Southwest morning winds will continue at 8 to 15 miles per hour tonight.

The warmest temperature in downtown Pontiac, preceding 3 p.m., was 59. The mercury had climbed to 66 by 1 p.m.

Bottom Gets Pro-Tem Post

The new Mayor of Pontiac is Robert A. Landry.

The District 7 commissioner for the past four years, Landry, 48, of 47 Center St., was elected mayor last night at the City Commission's organizational meeting.

The new commission was sworn into office by City Clerk Olga Barkley at the opening of the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

New members are Charles H. Harmon, from District 2; Loy L. Ledford, from District 5; and Dick M. Kirby from District 6.

THREE NOMINATED

Founding out the commission are incumbents Milton R. Henry, District 1; William H. Taylor, District 3; Bottom and Landry. Henry and Landry are starting their third terms and Bottom and Taylor their second.

Landry, Bottom and Taylor were nominated for the mayoral post. After Landry had received four votes to two for Bottom and one for Taylor, commissioners moved to unanimously elect him mayor.

Reds Launch Earth-Ringer Cosmos III

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put another scientific satellite into orbit around the earth today as America's Ranger 4 sped through space toward the moon.

It was the first time the space powers had launched space vehicles so close to one another in time.

The Russians said their newest Sputnik, Cosmos III, carried scientific instruments to continue the Soviet program of outer space exploration and a multichannel radio telemetry system to relay information back to earth.

The announcement by the Soviet news agency, Tass, gave no indication that there was a man aboard. Presumably the satellite was unmanned.

The radio telemetry information received from the satellite shows that the instruments are functioning normally," Tass said.

Cosmos III was the third Soviet satellite to be launched since March 16 after a long period of Soviet inactivity in space. Cosmos I was launched on March 16 and Cosmos II on April 1.

TO PROBE METEORITES

Announced aims of the new Soviet program of space research include investigation of radiation belts and meteorites around the earth and the dangers they may hold for space travelers.

Tass said first estimates showed Cosmos III was close to its planned course and orbiting the globe every 93.8 minutes. It said the orbit's inclination to the plane of the equator was 48 degrees 39 minutes, its farthest distance from the earth 448 miles and its closest 142 miles.

Today's session of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, recessed early so the delegates could hear the announcement of the new Sputnik.

News of the American moon shot was withheld in Moscow until after the dramatic break in Soviet radio programs to announce the launching of the Russian satellite. Forty minutes later Tass told of the American shot in a 50-word dispatch from New York.

Nikita S. Khrushchev Elected Unanimously

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet (parliament) went through the motions today of unanimously re-nominating Nikita S. Khrushchev as premier.

He submitted the resignation of his government to a joint meeting of the Soviet Union and the Soviet of Nationalities, the two houses of parliament.

Khrushchev told the gathering: "In accordance with Article 70 of the constitution and in connection with the fact that the question of forming a government of the U.S.S.R. has been submitted for examination by the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet, the council of ministers has stressed the need to have the Supreme Soviet and regards its duties as completed."

Bottom Gets Pro-Tem Post

Landry New City Mayor

In a prepared speech, Landry said, "Never in my life have I ever felt a greater need for divine guidance as I do at this moment."

He stressed the need for "harmony and unity of thought" and dedicated future action by the commission "to the interest of the common good of all our people."

"Effective minorities or majorities have no room on this commission," he said.

Scientists Drop Efforts to Save 'Injured Craft'

Expected to Crash on Lunar Backside 8:55 A.M. Thursday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A mooncraft with an injured brain tumbled through space today toward an almost useless collision with the moon after scientists abandoned futile efforts to awaken it from its coma.

The 720-pound silver and gold craft, Ranger 4, will zip by the lunar edge at the moon early Thursday and crash at about 8:55 a.m. on its hidden backside, the Administration says.

The deeply disappointed director of NASA's jet propulsion laboratory, William H. Pickering, said: "It's kind of fun, though, to hit the backside. It's not everyone who can do that."

Ranger 4 was lifted aloft by a towering Atlas-Agena B booster at 3:50 p.m. Monday in what appeared to be a beautiful beginning. Its assigned job was to gather information, including closeup television pictures, on the composition of the moon.

A NASA spokesman said the Atlas had pushed the vehicle to an altitude of about 100 miles and separated, that the second-stage Agena had pushed the craft into parking orbit and cut off, that the Agena had fired a second time to launch Ranger 4 on the second leg of its journey, that the vehicle was on the proper flight path away from the earth at 24,500 miles an hour.

Two hours later a spokesman said, "Tracking information indicates that a malfunction occurred in the spacecraft telemetry."

Pickering said it could be in the craft's transmitting system only. However, he added, "There is an indication that the spacecraft has no locked onto turned its solar battery panels toward the sun. The spacecraft is slowly tumbling."

RAD TIMER

Later, the trouble was tentatively diagnosed as a malfunctioning timer—a clock-like electronic device which was activated a few seconds before launching. It was supposed to provide the time, specify a command and sequence which were to issue steering commands to Ranger 4.

Through the evening, commands were sent to the errant rocket from ground stations in an effort to shock it into action. Shortly before midnight, the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Goldstone, Calif., issued a statement.

Southern Dems Set to Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern Democrats attacked the Kennedy administration's literacy test bill unconstitutional today as the Senate moved to pass it.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., directing three teams ready for rotation in a talk marathon, said in a statement the bill attempts to give the federal government authority denied it by the Supreme Court as recently as 1959.

Hill cited a decision in which the court upheld North Carolina's literacy test for voters with the statement that this involved "the exercise by the state of a lawful power vested in it."

Twenty-one states have tests of this nature which supporters of the administration measure contend have been used to prevent Negroes from voting.

Hope to Resume Talk at Dailies

Papers in Detroit Await Meeting by ITU Head, Publishers' Spokesman

DETROIT (AP)—The reappearance of two key figures in contract talks raised hopes today that the sides in the labor dispute that has divided Detroit's two largest newspapers for nearly a fortnight might get together soon to talk things over.

Joseph Bingel, international representative for the International Typographical Union (ITU), arrived in Detroit last night to confer with leaders of Local 18.

DETROIT (UPI)—Officials of the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow with representatives of the International Typographical Union local in an attempt to resolve a dispute which has left this city without a daily newspaper since April 11.

representative for the International Typographical Union (ITU), arrived in Detroit last night to confer with leaders of Local 18.

Robert C. Butz, executive secretary and chief spokesman for the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association which negotiates contracts for both the Free Press and the News, was back today from New York, where he attended the convention of the National Association of Newspaper Publishers.

Earlier, the dispute became more complicated after union and management spokesmen disagreed as to whether a meeting of their differences had been arranged.

In a statement, the publishers of the Free Press and the News said they had tentatively arranged a proposed meeting "as a step toward resolving differences" between themselves, the ITU and Local 18, Plate and Paper Hander.

But Harlow Banks, president of Local 18, said he had not been informed of any such arrangement. "If they're talking about a meeting to negotiate, I know nothing about it," he said.

Banks said to his knowledge the only meeting now planned is an April 30 meeting on a union decision for compensation to its members for layoffs at other papers during an earlier strike by the Teamsters against the Free Press.

Although not struck, the News suspended publication in accordance with an agreement that a strike against one paper is a strike against both. Some 4,000 employees at the two papers subsequently were laid off.

To HANG IT ON

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has given notice he will move to attach the bill to a major measure now pending before the Senate. The bill would substitute for state literacy tests a provision under which completion of a sixth-grade education would qualify voters to cast ballots in federal elections.

Mansfield's move is certain to touch off a filibuster which may run 10 days before he and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois seek to invoke the Senate's cloture rule to limit debate.

To cut off the talk, the two leaders will have to have the backing of two-thirds of those voting on the cloture proposal.

As matters now stand, Senate strategists doubt that Mansfield and Dirksen can muster the necessary support. If they fail, the literacy bill will remain in the Senate Judiciary Committee, a graveyard for many civil rights proposals. The Senate then would turn to other business.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., headed Hill's contention that the administration measure is unconstitutional.

"The Congress does not have power to enact this legislation, for many reasons," Stennis told the Senate Monday. "The language of the Constitution itself plainly prohibits congressional action in this field of voter qualifications."

Area Boy Killed When Bike Hits Moving Auto

A 14-year-old Beverly Hills boy was killed yesterday when he rode his bike into the side of a moving car.

Ronald Fawcett, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fawcett, 16220 Birchwood St., was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Witnesses told Beverly Hills police that the boy was riding east on Beverly Road when he smashed into the car traveling north on Southfield Road. The accident occurred about 6:30 p.m.

The driver of the car, Martin A. Samanen, 30, of 18925 Birchwood St., Beverly Hills, was not held.

The boy apparently saw the car and attempted to turn his bike into the direction the car was traveling but it was too late, witnesses said.

Hamsters Are Getting Headaches Over Study

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—Giving hamsters headaches is part of an 11-year air purification study at St. Bonaventure University.

Scientists there, working with hamsters and rabbits, are studying the so-called ion balance in fresh and stale air to determine exactly how it affects humans.

Officials said yesterday they had found a cake in the home which also was "highly contaminated" with lead arsenate. Two other children, Robert, 4, and a playmate, Julie, 7, had their stomachs pumped as a precautionary measure because they ate part of the cake. Neither had become ill, however.

Still in fair condition in a hospital was a maid, Romaine Burton, 36, who used the poisonous fluid in the cake and also poured some on her tea.

Police Chief Hugh Brown said officers were investigating the possibility that the poison may have been left in the neighborhood by employees of a lawn spraying firm, and brought into the house by one of the children in the mistaken belief it was milk.

Flint Bank Robbed by Two Armed Bandits

FLINT (AP)—Two men—armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol—held up the Genesee Merchants Bank of Flint shortly before 10 a.m. today.

Police were unable to determine how much was taken in the hold-up. The two men, described by detectives as Negro and about 35, escaped in a late model car which they abandoned within the city limits.

industrial and labor climate as two "important tools for doing the job ahead."

He emphasized that "Downtown Pontiac is not dead."

"Our central business district," he said, "will not disappear... it will bounce back bigger and better than ever... it must be the focal point of our future social, civic and cultural endeavors."

Landry added that he has "an unshakable faith in the ability of our city manager (Robert A. Stier) and his administrative staff."

He said that the new commission "would naturally recommend some changes" and that it wouldn't "condone interference from outside individuals or small pressure groups."

"I am highly honored to be chosen the chairman of this commission."

"I can only pledge honesty, sincerity and determination in striving to make Pontiac a better place to live, work in and worship in," Landry said.

Bottom strongly supported Landry's views and re-emphasized the importance of the commission working for the common good of all Pontiac citizens.

The Boyd family—parents and eight children—were given bus transportation and incidental expenses to New York last week. They were put up in a hotel suite and showered with attention, groceries and cash.

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP)—Police said today they are still uncertain as to how a bottle of fluid containing deadly lead arsenate got into the home of Robert J. Drummond and caused the deaths of two of his children.

Drummond is a former Michigan industrialist who moved to Florida four years ago.

The children, James Drummond, 3, and Deborah Ann, 9, died after drinking what they believed to be milk, from a bottle in the family refrigerator.

Officials said yesterday they had found a cake in the home which also was "highly contaminated" with lead arsenate. Two other children, Robert, 4, and a playmate, Julie, 7, had their stomachs pumped as a precautionary measure because they ate part of the cake. Neither had become ill, however.

Plan to Send Negroes North on Special Train

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An official of the pro-segregation Citizens Council says unnamed donors have agreed to underwrite the cost of a special train to move Negroes northward.

The claim from George Singelmann, a member of the Citizens Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked Negroes to leave the segregationist offer of free one-way tickets out of the South.

Singelmann, a director of the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans, said in an interview Monday night that donors whom he declined to name have underwritten a special train to cost $20,000. The train would handle about 1,000 passengers.

THIRP DELAYED

Two busloads of Negroes were to leave for Washington Wednesday, but Singelmann said he was occupied in Baton Rouge on the train project, and did not have time to make final arrangements for the trip. He said two buses would head for Washington and one for New York later in the week.

Gretha Castle, chairman of the New Orleans unit of the Congress of Racial Equality and a student at the New Orleans branch of Louisiana State University, joined other Negro groups in turning the transportation offer "a hypocritical effort... to gain cheap publicity."

She held a news conference before attending classes and produced a letter allegedly signed by Singelmann.

The last paragraph of the letter, written on stationery bearing the letterhead of the Citizens Council, said if Negroes accepting the bus offer to northern cities "find living and working conditions are not what they are supposed to be... and wish to come back, we will be glad to try and help them get back."

Singelmann said reports that such a letter existed were "absolutely false."

"The Citizens Council make no offer of any kind to return Negroes accepting the bus offer," Singelmann said. "This is a one-way deal entirely. If they're dissatisfied with New Orleans and want to leave, we'll provide the transportation... one way only."

Any letter to the contrary, he said, "is categorically false."

Sgt. Lester E. Martin Dies in Seoul, Korea

Sgt. Lester E. Martin, 51, of 53 Wisner St., died Sunday in Seoul, Korea, of a brain hemorrhage, the U.S. Army reported today.

Martin, who was attached to the 7th Infantry Division, is survived by his wife, Yoshiko; a daughter, Sally, 12; a son, John, 2, and his sister, Mrs. Lorraine Whiteside, all of the Wisner Street address.

The Day in Birmingham William Roberts Named New County Supervisor

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioner William E. Roberts was appointed the city's fourth representative of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors last night.

Roberts succeeds commissioner Ralph A. Main, who only last Monday was named to the post.

Main, however, informed the commission Friday that he would not be able to accept the job "due to several reasons."

Main said yesterday that his work wouldn't permit him to assume additional duties.

The appointment of another commissioner in place of Main was expected because it was the intention of the commission in naming Main to strengthen its contact with county government.

The commission had appointed Main to succeed Mrs. Hope F. Lewis, who had been a member of the county board for 14 years.

The commission now has direct representation on the board with Roberts and City Commissioner Carl F. Ingram, a supervisor for about five years.

The other two city representatives are David Levinson, chairman of the Supervisor's Ways and Means Committee, and Luther Hancock, chairman of the Building and Sites Committee.

Ronald B. Fawcett

Service for Ronald B. Fawcett, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fawcett, 16220 Birchwood St., Beverly Hills, will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Manley Funeral Home.

The boy, an eighth grade student at Groves High School, was killed yesterday in a bicycle-car accident near his home.

Surviving besides his parents are a sister, June M., a brother, William J. Jr., and grandparents, Mrs. and Mrs. Ora Bugbee of Fernside and Mr. and Mrs. John Fawcett of Birmingham.

His body will be at the funeral home after noon tomorrow.

Mrs. John A. Gould

Service for former Birmingham resident Mrs. John A. Gould (Marilyn) Gould, 74, of 61840 Van Dyke Road, Washington, will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Manley Funeral Home. Burial will be in Royal Oak Cemetery.

Mrs. Gould died yesterday at St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, following a short illness.

She was a member of the VFW Auxiliary of Royal Oak.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. William Kottke of Kaleva and Mrs. Raymond DeVincent of New Haven; three sons, Pringle of Birmingham, Gordon of Almont, and John A. of Lake Orion; one sister and brother and 12 grandchildren.

Navy chiefs were reported standing by their vow to use all available means to force Guido to bar the Peronists once more from political life.

The navy has been pressing for a federal takeover in all of Argentina's 22 provinces, a move that would replace all elected officials with federal appointees and dissolve the provincial legislatures.

PREDICTS ACTION

Informants predicted Guido would sign a decree declaring null and void all elections held since ballots cast last month for gubernatorial and legislative posts in Dec. 17. This would throw out all the provinces and for half the membership in the federal chamber of Deputies. The Peronists won nine governorships and 43 seats in the chamber.

Seattle Fair Reveals Bare Facts

By BOB THOMAS

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—What is there about world's fairs that seems to call for exposure of the female form?

It beats me. All I know is that the undraped babe is as much a part of a world's fair as science exhibits and cotton candy.

What do folks remember about the Chicago Fair of 1893? Little Thomas of 1893? Little Egypt and her hootchy-kootchy. Who was the star of the 1933 Century of Progress? Sally Rand and her fans.

The Century 21 Exposition was not going to be caught napping. Operators on the glittering show street have come up with new and ingenious ways to present girls in the near-nude. The customers are lining up for tickets.

LIKE SOPHIE

As yet, no star like Egypt or Sally has appeared. But then, the fair has just opened.

Nudity on show street ranges from the ridiculous to the faintly sublime. Best of the shows is Barry Ashton's revue at Gracie Hansen's Paradise. This is a 600-seat theater-restaurant fronted by a Sophie Tucker-type hostess whose previous experience was producing PTA shows.

Ashton presents his usual blend of beautiful babes, stunning costumes and well-drilled dances. A special nod toward the fair's outer-space theme is offered by the "Planet Eve" ballet. Two astronauts land on the planet Venus to be greeted by inhabitants clothed merely in rhinestone G-strings. Stirring stuff.

A variation of the familiar theme is offered by "Backstage, USA." This is a gimmick devised by longtime Hollywood dance producer Leroy Prinz, in which showgirls are presented both on stage and off in their native habitat. The off-stage area provides reason for the cuties to be seen changing costumes, taking showers and doing other things that might prove interest for backstage peepers.

Then there are the "Girls of the Galaxy," which reduces the sidewalk attraction to the lowest denominator. These are a series of lane tableaux in which a couple of semi-nudes stand in total embarrassment while a more energetic dancer does a routine to an electric organ accompaniment.

OYSTER COLLECTORS
The Japanese village offers a pearl-diving tank with authentic divers. As any student of pearls knows, the Japanese women collect their oysters in only the scantiest of trunks.

All these have met the approval of the special theater supervisory board, appointed by the mayor of Seattle to safeguard morals.

At least two attractions managed to escape the censorial scrutiny and still present spicy shows. One is the "Paris Spectacular," a French import composed of famous historical figures and nudes, all of them waxed. The feature attraction in front of the show is the much-publicized queen of the Nile.

Another nude show is offered by a Hollywood import, "Les Poupées de Paris." These are highly talented but scantily clad three-footers—perhaps the only puppet show advertised "for adults only."

Those are the bare facts about

Township Tries for U.S. Aid

Waterford Looks Ahead

A general development planning program to be financed mainly by federal funds was approved last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Total out-of-pocket cost to the township for the total grant of $53,140.35 will be $5,265. The program is being launched to insure an orderly future growth of the township.

TO SECURE CONTRACT

The township will now proceed to negotiate a contract with the state which acts as agent for the federal government in the development program known as "701." The federal plan has been in effect since 1954. Michigan gained approval for participation in 1960.

During the two-year course of the program, monthly study meetings will be held by the Township Planning Commission and the township consultants, Perkins and Rogers of Detroit, as well as the township planning director, Robert Dieball. The planning consultants were selected this month by the planning commission.

Dieball appeared at the meeting to answer questions on "701." He explained that although the total cost would be $53,140.35, an actual $79,135 in planning services will be provided.

Waterford Civic Chorus to Sing at Hospital

The 30-member Waterford Civic Chorus will sing for patients at Pontiac State Hospital Friday evening. Arden Sears will conduct the group.

The chorus, sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department, is already making preparations for its annual spring concert set for June 8 at Pierce Junior High School, Waterford Township.

The township must pay a total of $11,250 over the two-year period, he added, but $11,000 of this is reimbursable to the township and will be paid in installments as the program develops.

Dieball also read letters from George N. Skrabish, director of the Oakland County Planning Commission and George Reid, director of the Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission commending the proposed adoption of "701" by the township.

Trustee John Coleman seemed to sum up the sentiments of the board members when he remarked, "We can't afford not to enter into the program." The motion was carried unanimously.

In other business the board began a discussion on a proposed site for the water system building and ended up making a motion giving the planning commission the green light to seek a site large enough for a future civic center.

Reasons for exploring the possible purchase of such a site were that land values are probably as low now as they ever will be in the township. A site of approximately 20 acres was considered advisable. Financial aspects of the purchase will be investigated when a recommendation is made by the planning board.

Falls Behind Schedule

Con-Con Tied Up on Court

convention fell behind its self-imposed timetable for a May 11 adjournment last night as delegates bogged down in debate over Michigan's court system.

Still scheduled for second-reading argument was the most controversial proposal of the entire judicial article—the makeup of the State Supreme Court and the selection of justices.

Robert Danhof, R-Muskegon, chairman of the judicial committee, said that the vote on a proposal to elect supreme court justices by districts—rather than on a statewide basis—could go either way.

"It's neck and neck," Danhof told the newsmen. "The issue could be decided by the number of absences on each side of the question."

Supporters of a district system for the high court were defeated on a close vote during the first five convention days. Much of the time was taken up by parliamentary wrangling.

Delegates debated a half-dozen judicial article proposals for nearly eight hours yesterday, winding up their session near midnight for the third time in five convention days.

When they adjourned, the delegates had: —Established a new court of appeals system, consisting of nine judges.

—Provided that justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners be abolished within five years after adoption of the new constitution.

LICENSED JUDGES

—Required that most judges be licensed to practice law in Michigan.

—Defeated a proposal to abolish the one-man grand jury system. Under the new appellate court system, the nine judges would be nominated and elected from districts to six-year terms, with their jurisdiction to be spelled out by the legislature. The number of judges and their districts could be altered by law.

The appeals court judges could sit in divisions, with each division consisting of not fewer than three judges.

In calling for the abolition of justices of the peace, the delegates provided that the legislature should establish other courts of limited jurisdiction to replace them.

Also adopted was a provision eliminating the present fee system which reportedly has brought some justices a higher annual income than the salary paid the governor.

The proposal to abolish the one-man grand jury system was opposed by Harold Bledsoe, D-Detroit, who argued that it involved a system of inquisition, paid witnesses and star chamber proceedings.

The first commercial sugar cane production in the New World was in San Domingo where Negro slaves were imported to cultivate the fields.

Africans Stone Whites in Northern Rhodesia

Ndola, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A crowd of Africans shouted antiwhite slogans and hurled bricks at white motorists here Monday, injuring several drivers and a 14-year-old boy passenger.

The outbreak five miles west of Ndola followed a series of weekend clashes between members of rival African political parties, which six persons were killed.

Today's Status Seeker Stocks Up on His Pills

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The medicine cabinet has become the hope chest of civilization.

A man is no longer judged so much by the company he keeps as by the number of pills, potions and lotions he stocks in his bathroom medicine cabinet.

There was a time when a bathroom was a place where you went to take a bath. Today a bathroom is a combination clinic, drugstore and beauty parlor.

"The desire to take medicine," said wise Sir William Osler "is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals."

A COMPULSIVE PASSION

Medicine used to be merely the candy of the middle-aged and the elderly. Now it has become a compulsive passion with us and we all seem to be in the grip of a kind of pharmaceutical voodooism.

We no longer take medicine merely to cure what ails us. We can't wait that long anymore. We swallow all kinds of medicines now to forestall all kinds of ills real or imaginary that might even possibly afflict us. We coat our insides with medicine as if it were an inferior protective blanket.

Many a man now alive can remember when the family medicine cabinet contained only some iodine and castor oil for the children some aspirin for Dad and Mom and some baking soda and laxative tablets for the old folks.

One wonders how they all managed to live so long and feel so well amid such black medical medical paperhood. Not even a single wonder drug in the entire house!

NEED TWO CABINETS

Today the two-bathroom home is a necessity not because the average family requires two bathrooms—but because it simply has to have two medicine cabinets in which to stock all the boxes and bottles containing new miracle lozenges and ointments for everything from athlete's foot to eczema.

As a matter of fact practically every part of the modern home has become something of a disaster area. You'll find medicines from the kitchen refrigerator to the drawer in the bedside table. Sometimes they even get absently minded swept under the living room rug.

Individuality also has become an outstanding feature. There was a time when everybody with the same symptoms could gulp down the same medicine and hope for the best.

Now the medicine has to be tailored to suit your own personality. Your neighbor may thrive on a plain purple pill, whereas to do you any good at all you may have to take the stuff in an orange-colored emulsion, or have it thrust into your left elbow by needle just at twilight on Wednesday.

MUST PLAY GAME

You violate this hierarchy at your own peril. The medicine can tell if you try to cheat. It won't do you any good unless you play the game according to the doctor's rules.

In the old days of the frontier people gladly exchanged home remedies. Not any more. We've become medical misers. A man may lend you money, but he won't let you borrow his medicine. He hoards it sternly to himself. Why should you enjoy a miracle cure at his expense?

But the real miracle of our times is this—why, with all this medicine taking, doesn't every man get more fun out of life than his grandfather did?

A fellow now who wakes up in the morning feeling good has an almost irresistible impulse to rush into the bathroom and swallow a tranquilizing pill. We are so used to chasing health that when we actually gain it we suspect something is wrong with us.

Swainson Eyes Sunday-Sale Bill

Merchants Lobby Both Pro and Con for Signing or Vetoing

LANSING — Gov. Swainson was caught in the middle today in a battle over a bill to compel most retail stores to close on Saturday or Sunday.

The governor said hundreds of letters supporting or opposing the ban have poured into the executive office since the legislature completed passage of the bill April 17.

"People have strong feelings about this matter," he said. "It has brought more correspondence than any other bill this year."

Swainson will have 10 days to decide whether to sign, veto or permit the ban to become law without his signature after the bill reaches his desk. It still is being proofread and checked for errors.

Seven representatives of retail groups met with the governor for more than an hour yesterday and urged him to sign the bill.

The measure gives stores the alternative of closing on Saturday or Sunday. Food stores with less than 4,000 square feet of floor space open to the public or employing three persons or less would be exempt.

The ban also would not apply to items considered necessities or those required for recreation or emergencies.

In addition, a county board of supervisors, with a two-thirds favorable vote, could remove all or part of the forbidden items from the list set forth in the bill.

Charles E. Boyd, consultant for the Detroit Retail Merchants Association, estimated the ban would affect about 10 per cent of the retail store employees in the Detroit area and three or four per cent statewide.

"The great majority of those employed in retail sales are not in favor of Sunday selling," said James H. Winepan, former president of the association.

Many stores, however, feel they must stay open to meet competition, he said. And the trend toward seven-day-a-week operations is growing.

Albert E. Perlin, attorney for the J. L. Hudson Co. Department Store, said merchants opposed to Sunday sales agreed that a state law is the only way to make a Sunday closing law effective.

Argentina expects to spend $3,251,000 building a 25,000-ton grain elevator at Mar del Plata and a wharf for simultaneous loading of two or three ships.

MORMON DIES — George Q. Morris, 88, a member of the Council of Twelve Apostles of the Church of Latter-Day Saints, died yesterday of a stroke. He became an apostle in 1954 at the age of 80.

The decidar, a species of coniferous evergreen tree allied to the cedar, yields a light-red wood that is prized for cabinet work. It grows in the Himalayas and in Afghanistan and Baluchistan.

Court Enters Plea for Pontiac Man

A plea of innocent was entered by the court yesterday for a Pontiac man charged with breaking and entering April 9 at Law Market, 200 Eastmoor Blvd.

James W. White, 38, 588 S. East Blvd., stood mute at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Stanton Donders.

White, driving away from the market, was arrested by police answering a burglar alarm.

Inside the market, police said they found Nor C. Gamble, 25, 221 Rockwell St., who is awaiting circuit-court trial.

White is free on $1,000 bond pending trial.

Prisoner Runs Off
but Not for Long

An escaped prisoner was recaptured within minutes after fleeing from a sheriff's deputy at circuit court yesterday.

Deputy Marshal Francis was escorting six prisoners from Judge Stanton G. Dondero's court when one of them, Herbert Jones, 20, of 240 Hughes St., ran off as they left an elevator at the main floor.

Francis, who is assigned to the Friend of the Court's Office, said he was unable to give chase for fear of losing the other five prisoners in his custody.

Summons by radio to the scene, patrol deputy Robert Newman intercepted the escapee on the front lawn of the courthouse.

Jones, who had just pleaded guilty to a contempt of court charge, surrendered without a struggle. He was returned to the county jail with the other prisoners.

Smuggler in S. Korea to Hang, Insists Chief

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's justice chief, Gen. Chung Hee Park, has confirmed the death sentence given Han Pil-ko for large-scale smuggling.

Several sources said Han, 37, would be hanged some time after Wednesday.

City to Hear Resolution for Improved Air Service

City commissioners tonight will consider proposed resolution requesting the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to authorize improved scheduling of North Central Airlines (NCA) flights at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The resolution also calls for an extension of presently authorized air service under the prescribed CAB quota. The present service authorization expires in June.

Included in the resolution are requests for CAB approval of flights from Pontiac to Chicago and to Cleveland and for south-bound flights in the morning and northbound in the afternoon.

The minimum CAB quota needed to keep airline service here is five passengers per day. With the exception of August 1961, NCA patronage has never reached the monthly minimum.

A resolution officially putting the old main library up for sale will also come before commissioners at the 8 p. m. meeting.

Commissioners authorized city officials to advertise for bids on the building and property at Williams and Lawrence Streets.

Another resolution up for approval will authorize City Engineer James N. Carlisle to proceed with the annual inspection of city sidewalks and other repairs were needed.

The monthly agenda also includes cost estimation on a proposed storm drain project, curb and gutter construction on three streets and resurfacing of three streets.

Public hearings will be held on special assessment rolls for four blacktop projects and two curb and gutter projects.

Special assessment rolls for nine other blacktop projects will be presented and slated for future hearings.

Blough Calls Showing for First Quarter 'Far From Satisfactory'

NEW YORK (AP)—United States Steel Corp., looser in a head-on dash with President Kennedy over an attempted price boost, tells today how its profits fared in the January-March quarter.

Roger M. Blough, chairman, already has described the showing as "far from satisfactory," and is offering dollars and cents figures.
