'Large Number' of Notables Are Hanged in Riots

Strange Radio Hookup Reports Fight Spreads to Second City

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Two Cairo newspapers reported today that a Communist uprising in Iraq against the government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in the oil city of Kirkuk was still raging and that the Communists were hanging a "large number" of notables there.

The death toll was estimated at between 50 and 100 persons.

A clandestine radio calling itself the voice of free Iraq also reported today the fighting had spread to the city of Anah across the top of Iraq from Kirkuk and that Communists there had made "another" attempt to capture the city.

(Conflicting reports received in London from the British embassy in Baghdad indicated that "the situation in Kirkuk now seems to be calm," a British foreign office spokesman said. The spokesman said the reports from Baghdad were dispatched late yesterday. He said there were no reports of injury among Britons in Kirkuk or of damage to British property).

Most of the happenings in Iraq were veiled by heavy government censorship but the government confirmed last night that the Communists began an attempt on July 14 to seize control.

July 14 is the first anniversary of the uprising against King Faisal.

Major fighting was reported confined to the city of Kirkuk where an army brigade there mutinied and joined the Communist rebels, the semiofficial Middle East News Agency reported in Cairo.

Reports today said the Reds held large areas of the city and had seized an arms depot.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

Two Cairo newspapers, the government organ Al Gomhouria and Al Shaab, reported fighting was still under way in Kirkuk and that the Communist-led second brigade of the second army division had blown up a number of bridges in its mutiny against the government.

Nixon Assures Nikita He'll Keep Mum

Hopes Soviet Premier Will Feel Free to Relay Confidences to Ike

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has sent word to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that he will keep in the strictest confidence any discussions they may have in Moscow.

Nixon, who leaves Wednesday for a tour of the Soviet Union, was said to hope that his assurance of secrecy would encourage Khrushchev to transmit to him any confidential message he might have for President Eisenhower.

It was emphasized that the vice president does not know whether Khrushchev will have such a message. But if he should, Nixon wants him to feel free to state it and to discuss cold war problems generally.

There has been no announcement that Khrushchev will confer with Nixon. But such a meeting is regarded as virtually certain, especially since Eisenhower received First Deputy Soviet Premier Frol R. Kozlov during his recent visit here.

Nixon asked Kozlov to relay to Khrushchev assurances that he intended to respect the privacy of any conversations he might have with the Soviet leader.

Associates of the vice president said this reflected the view Nixon takes of his expected talks with Khrushchev. They said he feels he could best serve the U.S. government by creating an atmosphere in which Khushchev would talk freely.

Nixon said Saturday that he expected to visit six cities in Russia, including four key industrial areas in Siberia. A tentative itinerary

Rain Welcome, More Predicted

Farmers and homeowners throughout the Oakland County area are cheering the much-needed rain which has been falling periodically since Friday afternoon. But they also are hoping there is more to come.

Actually, the "lick and a promise" of the last three days has done little to affect the critical drought currently withering farm crops, lawns and flower beds alike.

The best the Weather Bureau can come up with is scattered afternoon or evening showers developing tomorrow, and for Wednesday? Generally fair with moderate temperatures.

According to Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural extension director, the farm situation is "still critical." He concurred that the current rainfall can prove to be very valuable if more follows soon.

"Our crop yield this year will be vastly reduced if we don't get more rain," he noted.

So far less than .199 inches of rain have been recorded for the area since June 1. About .65 of an inch has fallen since Friday's initial shower.

This slight moisture has done little to alleviate the situation.

Homeowners have achieved a respite from watering the brown stubble where green lawns once existed. Farmers report their crops, for the most part, are dehydrated and thinning out disasterously.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded before 8 a.m. was 64. By 1 p.m. the mercury had reached 80 degrees.

Peasants Flock to Back Castro

Converge on Havana to Demonstrate Support of Farm Program

HAVANA (AP) — Thousands of straw-hatted, machete - carrying peasants are arriving early for a demonstration next Sunday of support for Fidel Castro and his agrarian reform program.

The revolutionary leader himself was in seclusion today. There was some speculation that he might not take back the prime minister's post he resigned Friday. Possibly he might pick someone to carry out his policies while he devotes most of his time to the land redistribution program. In any case he clearly will continue to boss Cuba.

The farmers were spilling into Castro's capital from as far as 500 miles away, answering the call of their bearded leader for 500,000 to attend the anniversary celebration of Castro's first unsuccessful attack July 26, 1953, on Fulgencio Batista's forces.

The visitors are being housed in private homes and on cots in government buidings and warehouses. Havana's normal population is 1,200,000, and the city is aready crowded.

The first 5,000 — from Oriente Province—marched up Havana's famed Prado Sunday to a brass band. Many of them had never seen a large city and seemed awed by the capital's traffic, luxurious hotels and sprawling business buildings.

Narrow Motives for House Arson

Probers Still Hunting New Clues in Blaze at Bloomfield Residence

The motive behind the deliberate burning of Detroit Teamster official Charlse O'Brien's Bloomfield Township home was narrowed down to possible revenge or arson for insurance today by investigators.

Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell, head of the Redford State Police post arson squad, and Det. Hubert Hanley will travel in opposite directions today while working toward one end—solving the puzzle of who put the torch to the $50,000 home last Thursday night.

O'Farrell will go to Lansing to see if technicians at the State Police crime laboratory have finished their analysis of four five-gallon cans used by the arsonists.

Before leading this morning he said, "We can narrow this down to two motives, revenge or collecting insurance."

"In arson cases," he explained, "there are these and two other motives always prescent. The others are that the fire was set by a pyromaniac or with the purpose of covering up a burglary."

DISCOUNTS PYROMANIA

O'Farrell discounted a pyromaniac in the burning of the O'Brien home at 205 Harrow Circle.

"The burglary motive is very weak. The jewelry reported missing could easily have been consumed by flames; in fact a wrist watch has already been

Admiral Leahy Dies of Stroke at Navy Center

The veteran naval officer, diplomat and senior adviser to the White House was 84.

The Navy said death resulted from a "cerebral vascular accident," the usual medical term for a stroke. Death took place at the Navy Center in Bethsesda, Md.

Leahy, who was the senior five-star officer elevated to that rank during World War II, was a native of Hampton, Iowa.

During a career which began in 1897, the year of his graduation from the Naval Academy, he served in four wars starting with the Spanish-American War. His next fighting assignments were during the Philippine Insurrection and in the Boxer uprising in China.

Leahy reached the peak of his service in the Navy in 1937 when he was appointed Chief of Naval Operations.

After his retirement two years later he served successively as Governor of Puerto Rico and ambassador to France during the early stages of World War II.

In 1942 he was recalled to active duty as chief of staff to the commander in chief. In that capacity he was the senior member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a member of the Combined Chiefs which included senior officers of principal allies of the United States.

West Tries Another Berlin Compromise

GENEVA, (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his Western allies undertook today to win Soviet agreement to a compromise proposal for German peace settlement negotiations during an East-West truce in the Berlin crisis.

Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met at U.S. headquarters at noon and put the final polish on a plan for trying to get Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to lower his price for a truce deal.

Then they went into a luncheon meeting with Gromyko at Lloyd's house.

The private meeting lasted 2½ hours. The ministers agreed to meet again for a working lunch tomorrow at Gromyko's villa. They decided to cancel a plenary meeting set for tomorrow.

The foreign ministers then went into a semi-public session at the palace of nations at 4:02 p.m. (10.02 a.m., EST).

The Western counter proposal reportedly contained a provision that could provide for the direct German talks that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko demanded as one part of his price for a truce in Berlin.

Under the Western plan the Big Four commission could direct the West and East Germans to form a subcommittee to discuss specific items assigned by the parent commission. But any decision would still rest with the Big Four.

The outline of the counterproposal was reached in a strategy session over the weekend held by U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville together with West German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano.

Western officials called the counterproposal a compromise. But few, if any, expected the Soviets to accept the plan.

A Western spokesman described the offer as "one of the most important concessions the West has made" in the eight-month-old conference here on a test ban.

And What Is Missing?

LONDON (UPI) — A huge notice spotted yesterday outside a Roehampton Church said: "This is ch--ch. What is missing?"

Sale of Mysterious Ring Initiates UF Tribute Fund

The romance of an unmarked package from Corte Madera, Calif., a valuable lady's diamond ring, and the helping of a needy person somewhere in the Pontiac area, has proved the beginning of a new way to contribute to the Pontiac Area United Fund.

A Tribute Fund has been set up for this year's UF campaign.

It all started several weeks ago when Norman Pattison of 3401 Devon Brook Dr., Bloomfield Township, owner of Connolly's Jewelers, 16 W. Huron St., received the unmarked package containing a valuable ring.

An anonymous hand-written note asked that the dollar value of the ring be given to charity.

The note, written with pen on the inside wrapper, read:

"Value $125. Please sell this. It means nothing to me anymore. My loved one's dead. Keep the money or give it to charity."

There was no hint as to who sent the ring.

Today, the heart-broken person who sent the ring has something to rejoice about. The sale of the ring for $125 marks a major contribution to the UF fund campaign and has led to the creation of a Tribute Fund.

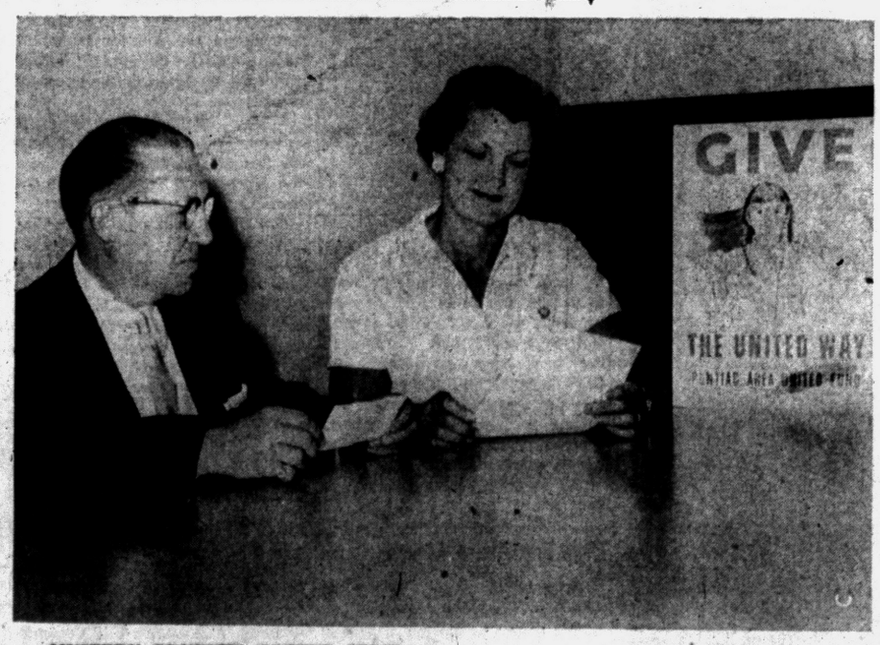

The new fund will be devoted to aiding individuals and families throughout the Pontiac area whose personal tragedies have come to the attention of local social service agencies.

Dollars can be donated to the Fund through special bequests by Pontiac residents. It is expected that many contributions will be made during instances of bereavement.

The Tribute Fund will send an engraved card to the bereaved family stating the donor's name and that a contribution has been made.

Teamsters Try Again to Block Monitor Cleanup

Union attorney Raymond Bergan said he expected to ask Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black to stay an order by the U.S. Court of Appeals authorizing the monitors' housecleaning efforts.

Bergan said he would file the papers with Black because Chief Justice Earl Warren, who normally handles appeals in this area, is on the West Coast.

Legal sources said chances were slight that Black would interfere with the monitors' reforms until the Supreme Court decides whether to review the Appeals Court ruling. The high tribunal does not met again until October.

The three-judge Appeals Court turned down the Union's request for a stay last week. The court ruled unanimously that Teamsters President James R. Hoffa must follow cleanup directives if federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who appointed the monitors, approves them.

Racing Midgets

One of the area's newest and most popular sports for participants and spectators alike is the Quarter-Midget racers involving boys and girls between 4-15 years of age.

Crowds as high as 5,000 have watched the midget racers at Miracle Mile on Sunday afternoons.

Asks Court Halt Steel Picketers

Jones & Laughlin Corp. Claims USW Members 'Sealing Off' Mills

From Our News Wires

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Jones Laughlin Steel Corp. asked the courts today to break up mass picket lines of striking United Steelworkers which the company declared have "unlawfully" imprisoned supervisory employes in three Pennsylvania plants.

The legal action, first of the six-day walkout of 500,000 basic steel workers, came as the government's top mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan, was striving in New York to get negotiators for the union and industry back to the bargaining table.

J & L, the nation's fourth largest producer, filed requests for injunctions in both the courts of Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) and Beaver County. Hearings of the petitions were set for tomorrow in the Beaver County Court and Thursday at Pittsburgh.

J & L charged that USW members had through "malicious conduct" sealed off its mills, even blocking deliveries of milk to the "hundreds" of supervisory workers trapped in the plants.

The company asked that the courts limit picketing to two men at each gate, spaced 10 feet apart and in motion. It asked a bar to any form of intimidation of persons entering or leaving the property. Should the injunctions be granted as outlined by J & L, even a "jeer" by a picket could be construed as contempt of court.

The petitions named as defendants all of the union's international officers, including USW President David J. McDonald, and officers and committeemen of the local unions at the firm's two plants at Pittsburgh and one at nearby Aliquippa.

Finnegan and three key aides went into a private morning discussion with contract negotiators for the basic steel industry. A similar session with the United Steelworkers Union's team was scheduled in the afternoon.

President Eisenhower met in Washington with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today for another discussion of the steel strike.

Eisenhower has been getting almost daily reports from Mitchell since the strike started last Wednesday.

Rapidly spreading economic effects of the nationwide strike lent an air of urgency to the meetings.

Nearly 90 per cent of the country's steelmaking capacity is shut off. Steel production losses entering the sixth day of the walkout totaled about 214 million dollars.

A half-million striking steelworkers counted pay losses amounting to some 50 million dollars.

8 Survive Agonizing Heat, Thirst

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Eight parched people and one pint of water, a spoonful at a time. . .a burning sun with only a disabled car for shade. . .a little salmon-egg fish bait for food. . .and, finally, a thirsty child's question: "Mommy, what does it feel like to die?"

That was Diane Scott, 9, trying to sleep after almost two days of this. Mommy, 35-year-old Laura Scott, answered gravely:

"It would be like going to sleep. You'd just go unconscious and gradually die."

"Will I get water in Heaven?"

"Yes, honey, all you want."

Diane didn't die. Neither did Mrs. Scott, her husband Virl, 37, or their five other children, ages 4 to 12. A search plane spotted them Sunday, where their car had stranded them for two days in the remote Country of Standing Rocks. It's near where the Green and Colorado rivers join in southeastern Utah.

They drove into the rugged, treeless country Friday morning, to see the breathtaking view from Dead Horse Point, a bluff that overlooks the convoluted Colorado River gorge. It's about 35 miles southwest of Moab, the nearest community.

They took some wrong turns and got lost on Shafer Trail, a boulder-crowned pair of ruts suitable only for trucks or jeeps. Scott said the car's radiator burst. He drove on, thinking they were pointed toward

GMC Picnic Draws Thousands

EGG-CITING — All the action wasn't on the kiddie front at the annual outing, as it shows here. The ladies were competing in an egg and spoon race, and if the little woman brings your eggs that way in the morning, we hope you like them scrambled.

PASS THE MUSTARD — Sharing a table at the picnic were the families of Roscoe Helsel, retired trim department employe, and Clifton Persful, of the sheet metal department. Brief showers and high humidity didn't stop appetites.

found in the rubble," the investigator said.

O'Farrell said the lab reports had not been issued but he hoped they would be ready today.

Discounting previous reports that no fingerprints were found on the cans, he said, "The fingerprint findings aren't even filed yet. We may have no report on them for several days. We won't know until then if there were prints left."

Det. Hanley plans to continue questioning neighbors. Saturday, questioning didn't turn up any new leads, said detectives.

O'Brien's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Paris, 41, who owns the house, was staying there while O'Brien was in Wyoming on a combined business-pleasure trip.

MOVED CAR

She wsa asked Saturday by police why she drove her car to a neighbor's house about 100 yards away and left it there about 1½ hours before the fire broke out.

"I had intended to drive to a meeting," she told detectives. "Instead, Mr. Schjolin drove."

She referred to Mr. and Mrs. Hans Schjolin, of 127 Stoney Brook Lane, with whom she attended a township meeting. Police said they plan to question her again.

Another big development police expect to unfold today is the identification of a "mystery repairman."

Mrs. Paris said a man came to the huose last Tuesday and said he was a telephone company repairman.

He said he was lost and looking for a house on Big Beaver road. She let him into the house to consult a map and offer him directions.

The man, she said, was driving an unmarked truck.

Police expect a report from Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today telling whether this was one of their man or someone posing as a repairman in order to check the interior layout of the O'Brien home.

CHECK MYSTERY AUTO

The "mystery car" seen driving near the house shortly before the fire is still under investigation. Mrs. Paris saw it, as did the Schpolins.

"No other neighbors questioned saw the car," O'Farrell reevaled.

O'Brien, 23, is business agent for Local 299, in Detroit, and a close friend of James R. Hoffa. Police haven't talked to him since Friday and don't plan to question him today.

Mrs. O'Brien nad two children are visiting her parents in Kansas City, Mo.

Family of 8 Survives Desert Sun, Thirst

Moab—by now more than 40 miles to the northeast. Then the crankcase oil pan ruptured and the car quit.

"We survived by keeping cool under the dirt," Scott said after their rescue; "drinking water—about a pint from the radiator, one spoonful every 2½ hours. All we had to eat was some salmon eggs, and we tried to eat cactus but our mouths were so dry we couldn't swallow it. . . .

"We gave the children the radiator water after trying to purify it by straining it . . . it had a permanent type anti-freeze in it"—not the poisonous denature alcohol type.

Scott explained that the family buried themselves in sand up to their necks, to avoid the burning rays of the sun. Relatives in Moab reported the Scotts missing when they didn't return Friday.

Two fliers, searching for the Scotts, saw the car near an "S-O-S" sign made of rocks. They radioed Moab, then landed a few miles away to take water to the family. A pickup truck reached them later and drove them to a spot where two other planes landed. The planes flew them here.

"When two fliers reached us this morning," Scott said, "the kids were bursting with laughter and then they started to cry—and so did we. I don't see how we survived as long as we did and I'm sure we couldn't have made it through today. . . prayer and the Lord helped us. . . ."

Scott works in a factory in Salt Lake City and lives in Murray, a suburb.

He said a doctor told him the children were in better condition than they should have been after such an ordeal. Besides Diane, the children are Virlene, 12; Laurene, 10, Byron, 7; Duwayne, 5, and Leland, 4.

Patricia A. Hrycko, 17, of 34825 Dequindre Rd., Troy, was taken to the Avon Medical Center with a friend Sunday as a result of paying too much attention to a wasp, said Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Patricia was driving south on Rochester road when a wasp flew in an open car window. She told officers she was keeping an eye on the wasp and ran off the road into a ditch.

She and her companion, Dianne Kaminski, 18, of 1750 E. Maple Rd., Troy, were treated at the center and sent home.

Almont Couple Named in Lien

U. S. Government Says $1,095,103 Owed by Glenn, Mary Averill

A federal tax lien of $1,095,103 for alleged unreported income, penalties and interest has been filed with the Oakland County Register of Deeds office against Glenn and Mary Averill, of 6330 Boardman St., Almont.

The case covers a period from 1950 to 1956.

S. R. Cash, internal revenue officer of the Flint district office, reported that Averill is a retired Detroit police officer and presently is a land property owner in Lapeer.

Cash said that similar liens, of the same amount of assessment, have also been filed in Wayne, Macomb and Lapeer counties.

"Averill owns a farm and other properties that border on the boundary lines of these counties," said Cash. "We don't know as yet how much, if any, of the properties are in Oakland County. The separate liens have been filed as a precautionary measure.

Averill could not be reached for comment. He is reportedly vacationing with his wife at their summer cottage in Canada.

According to James F. Deane, assistant director of the Detroit internal revenue office, attempts are being made to reach a settlement with the Almont man.

"We'll try and work out a settlement with him to pay this liability," Deane said. "If suitable arrangements cannot be made, we will then have to seize any assets he may have."

Deane said criminal charges against Averill are possible.

Averill cannot dispose of any of his property of holdings as long as the federal government has the lien against him.

The amount the Averills owe in taxes, penalties and interests, broken down successively for the years 1950 to 1956 are $119,794; $275,710; $196,568; $225,980; $106,836; $99,591; and $70,623.

Kassem, in a radio appeal to the nation, asked Iraqis to avoid "blind fanaticism" that might lead to further civil war.

He warned that his government would "settle accounts" with the Communists and other antigovernment forces but expressed hope no further force would be necessary.

Heavy Baghdad censorship kept most of the details from the outside world, but reports reaching Cairo and other Middle East capitals said antigovernment flareups occurred throughout Iraq with the heaviest fighting at Kirkuk, 90 miles from the scene of a major antigovernment revolt last March.

The March revolt in Mosul was crushed in a week of heavy fighting in which the Iraqi government said the rebels were aided by Egypt and Syria.

The Damascus Newspaper Al Wahdah said the Communists began "fierce battles" in Kiruk three days ago and that Communists and Turkmen tribesmen battled in the streets.

'HANG EIGHT CORPSES'

"The Communists hanged eight of their corpses on gallows and dragged the remaining two in the streets of the city," the Middle East News Agency reported in Cairo.

It said army units rushed to restore order but one army unit, the second regiment, defected to the Communist side.

It said the Communists assassinated the anti-Communist second-in-command of the defecting unit, dragged his body through the streets and then seized "control . . . of important sectors of the city."

The communists have become increasingly influential in the Kassem government since he came to power last year and Western diplomats have expressed fear they would try to take over the oil-rich nation.

Reports from Iraq today indicated that the Communists' major effort may have started.

Many Governors Avoid Naming Election Favorites

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the presidential nominating conventions still a year away, half the nation's governors say it's too early to commit themselves to any potential candidate.

In their respective parties, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) each got the nod from three governors willing to name a single choice in an Associated Press canvass. Many of the governors listed alternative choices or none at all.

Nixon's support came from Govs. J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, John E. Davis of North Dakota and Harold W. Handley of Indiana. On the Democratic side, Govs. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts and Joseph J. Hickey of Wyoming said they prefer Kennedy as their party's candidate.

Twenty-four of the 45 governors who responded to the canvass wouldn't name a favorite at this time. Twenty of those who wouldn't make a public choice were Democrats, including governors of such politically strategic states as California, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Conspicuous Republican holdouts included Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a possible strong challenger to Nixon for the GOP nomination, and Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, regarded as a vice presidential hopeful.

Democratic Govs. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia and Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas support Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who hasn't indicated that he is running.

Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin named Kennedy, Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) among the most likely Democratic nominees—but he did not choose among them. Washington's Gov. Albert D. Rosellini added Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) to this list without stating any preference.

Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri said he is for Symington. Gov. Ralph G. Brooks of Nebraska said he is for Stevenson. Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky, himself an aspirant for the nomination, said he believes Stevenson will wind up again as the standard bearer.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, has the support of Texas Gov. Price Daniel.

On the Republican side, Gov. Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island said he expects Nixon will get the nomination. But he made no final commitment. Govs. Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon and George D. Clyde of Utah said either Nixon or Rockefeller would suit them.

Assures Khrushchev He'll Keep Mum calls for him to visit Leningrad and the Siberian cities of Novosibirsk, Sverdlovsk, Nizhni Tagil and Beloyarsk, as well as Moscow.

Nixon will spend four days in Moscow where he will open the American National Exhibition Friday. After opening the American fair, he will confer with top Soviet officials, visit the Russian agricultural and industrial exhibit, and see housing projects and other government works.

Nixon's official party, including his wife Pat and Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, will take off Wednesday from Friendship International Airport near Baltimore aboard a luxurious VIP version of the Boeing 707 jet airliner. They will use Soviet planes to fly between Russian cities.

Nixon's office said final details on the exact installations he will visit will be announced in Moscow after the vice president's arrival. Mrs. Nixon is expected to visit schools and hospitals and meet with women's groups.

The vice president's return date is uncertain but his office said he probably would be back about Aug. 3.

Nixon has told friends he wants to pepper his talks with frequent proverbs when he meets with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. He has been impressed with Khrushchev's flair for proverbs.

Nixon and his wife have been getting a concentrated course in Russian from Alexander G. Barmine, chief of the Russian language section of the Voice of America.

Fish Fry Must Move

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Firemen chased a column of black smoke to the top of a nine-story apartment building Saturday night expecting to find a major blaze. Instead, they found a family firing up a portable barbecue grill for a fish fry. The firefighters strongly urged them to cook elsewhere.

CHECKING DAD'S JOB — Michael and Timmy Kelly, sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Kelly, take a look at a new GMC Model 5301 Coach, one of the first to be produced at the plant. The work passed their inspection.

Castro Supporters Converge on Havana

do. But the new president, Dr. Osvaldo Dorticos, told a Boston radio station by telephone that he considers Castro still is prime minister.

The 40-year-old lawyer also said that former President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro forced out of office Friday, was in no danger in Cuba and probably would remain in the country. Urrutia was at the heavily guarded home of his brother-in-law outside Havana. Dorticos said the guard had been requested by the ex-president.

Castro accused Urrutia of near treason because he had spoken of a Communist menace in Cuba after the ex-chief of the Cuban air force, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, told a U.S. congressional committee that Castro and leaders of his government were Communists.

Castro's attack on Urrutia found strong support among the Cuban masses, but the reaction in some middle and upper class circles was adverse. The president, a former judge, was considered a moderate, and the business community felt his departure had removed a brake on the revolutionary forces.

The new president, who had laws, said Saturday night, "I most been minister of revolutionary certainly am not (a Communist) and neither is the government."

Lapeer Brothers Gone

Build Factory Near 'Fort'

MARLETTE (AP)—"Fort Ziegenhardt," the makeshift bastion of two elderly brothers in a long, futile fight against eviction from their farm, has been stormed once more—by industry.

The farmland in northeastern Lapeer County has been purchased by Henry Drettman, a Detroit industrialist.

The steel framework of a 240-foot by 75-foot building is going up near the old sand bagged fortress home of the brothers, Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt.

Drettman said the farm will be the site for an assembly plant for "special vehicles of some kind." He did not specify employment statistics.

"Mobile homes, milk trucks, some special type of assembly for the automotive trade, that's our specialty," Drettman said.

The fort was the result of a court fight in which the brothers refused to pay assessments in the failure of a mutual insurance company. The land finally was sold to satisfy the court judgements.

The brothers fought eviction. They battled with State Police and sheriff's deputies sent to put them off the land.

After several attempts, the eviction was carried out. The farmers adviser finally landed in jail.

Chris died two years ago. Paul now lives in Marlette.

Last year, more color ads appeared in daily newspapers than ever before. 1,000 daily newspapers in the United States and Canada, with a combined circulation of over 47,000,000 copies daily, now offer advertisers run-of-paper color.

Long Fidgets at Services

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — After a day of telephone talks and attendance at church services Sunday, Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana planned, at last notice, to go to Denver today.

He had reservations, it was learned in the Colorado city's Brown Palace Hotel.

The governor cancelled a planned second trip to Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from here, Sunday night. His plan to go to Denver today also upset a previously announced itinerary that was to take him to Phoenix, Ariz., Colorado Springs, and Monterrey, Mexico.

Sunday morning, twitching his hands nervously, Long heard Dr. W. Herschel Ford thunder, "You can't live with the devil six days and live with the Lord on Sunday," as he attended services at the First Baptist Church.

After the services Long said, "That's good preaching. It was only 35 minutes long. In the country they used to preach for an hour and a half. That's too long for an old man to sleep."

Waterford Relocates Elementary Classes

Until more school buildings have been completed in Waterford Township, many elementary school pupils will be assigned to buildings other than they attended last year, according to Supt. William Shunck.

Some 80 pupils in the Jayno Adams fifth grade will be accommodated at two rooms in the Newberry School. Sixth grade pupils will have two rooms in the Drayton Plains School, and kindergarteners will have half-day sessions at the Church of the Atonement.

Arrangements are being made with officials of the Christian Alliance Church, located across from the Isaac E. Crary Junior High School, to rent four rooms to accommodate approximately 140 pupils from the Leggett School. This will include the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Sixth grade pupils of Monteith School will attend nearby John D. Pierce Junior High.

Fourth graders who attended the Schoolcraft School will now occupy two rooms at Webster School. Sixth graders of the Williams Lake School will also attend classes in two rooms at the Webster School.

Sixty-six pupils from Waterford Center will attend Stringham School.

The disposition of pupil overloads culminated months of geographical study, Shunck said.

There will be two sessions set up for Waterford High School pupils, and, although they will attend approximately six hours daily, this does not mean they will be on half-day schedules, Shunck explained.

Pupils in the 10th and 11th grades will begin at 7:40 a.m. and finish at 2:30 p.m. Seniors will begin at 7:40 a.m. and complete their classes by noon.

Another shift will begin at noon and end at 4:30 p.m. Studyhall and lunch periods have been eliminated.

Charge Astronautics Program Big Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — From a Senate group handling legislation dealing with space has come a complaint that information about the country's astronautics program is being kept from Congress by a presidential secrecy decision.

The complaint was contained in a report by a subcommittee to the parent Senate Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences.

The report said there should be improvements in reports by agencies dealing with aeronautics, space and science so that Congress could receive more complete information.

But Farmers Still Fish

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Fishermen are hundreds of years behind farmers in their methods of obtaining food, according to a Cornell University professor.

The fisherman, said Prof. John P. Barlow, must "still depend on luck and skill to find fish. He is still essentially a hunter.' Barlow called for more research in getting food from the sea.

They'll Pick From Four New Silhouettes

Fashion Aims to Suit Men

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — For a change, the men have the wider choice of fashion silhouettes for fall.

One look — the fitted Look — is just about it for the girls. But the men can choose from the true "Continental," the "Middle of the Road Continental," the "Ivy Continental" and "American Ambassador."

The true Continental, inspired by Italian tailoring, appeared on the scene last spring. Its major features were a natural shoulder and definite shaping of the coat through the waistline. The coat was two-button and the trousers were unpleated and worn without cuffs. Side tabs kept the pants up — no belt, no belt loops.

TWO VARIATIONS

Now, for fall, the Continental continues, and has two variations. The Middle of the Road has squared shoulders, side vents to the coat, the two-button front, a slight cutaway effect, semi-peaked lapels, a slight fit to the waist, and pockets cut at about a 20-degree angle with welt seaming instead of flaps.

The Ivy Continental is more shaped to the torso, and is most popular with the under-35 set. With Ivy, you're supposed to add a vest—in solid flannels with fancy metal buttons and patterned linings.

American Ambassador still is largely a West Coast style, where it originated. This also is a shaped silhouette, but with shoulder padding for a "he man" look. The jacket has the three-button front, slanted pockets with welt or flap, and the single-pleated trousers are cuffed.

New for fall is the shawl collar, in suits, on dinner jackets, sweaters and sports coats. The shawl also is taken from the Italians, and does away with the peaked and notched lapel. Instead the narrow collar forms one smooth line around the neck and down the front. When used in sweaters, it is more of a soft rolled collar.

A report on trends in men's wear comes from Harold Dessler, stylist for the Wool Bureau Inc., whose job is covering the men's wear market. Other highlights for fall, according to Dessler:

TOPCOATS SHORTER

In topcoats, it's the Continental influence again — they come with the two-button front, slight fit at the waist, slanted welt pockets, minus a breast pocket and with cuffed sleeves. The topcoats are two inches shorter than last year, coming to slightly below the kneecap.

Look also for the "split sleeve" in the topcoat, for both town and country. This is a dress-type, set-in sleeve at the front, but with a raglan back. Looks best worn with the snap brim hat.

The Continental also influences sports coats, with the cutaway front, side vents and welt pockets. Coming back for sports is the Norfolk jacket, a favorite with the Duke of Edinburgh and the Duke of Windsor. It has a belted back, paneled front and usually is made in Harris tweed.

Blazers in solid colors go into fall, in wool flannel or hopsacking if in solid color; and in wool challis, paisley patterns.

The new permanent crease process now is used in most wool slacks; this is a process developed recently in Australia. You will find the permanent crease in slacks with the pleatless, the single or double pleat front. For braver souls, patterned slacks will be on the market by fall, in muted plaids of miniature checks.

Tops in sweater styles is the cardigan, usually with an eight-button front. And the bulkier the knit, the better.

This full-skirted evening dress of stucco colored silk-faced satin, combined with olive green wool fleece for a brief jacket costume, was designed by Anne Klein for the fall 1959 collection of Junior Sophisticates. The back-buttoned jacket covers a sleeveless bodice, belted with a draped pink cummerbund.

New York Fashion Finale Resembles United Nations

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Closing sessions of this week's fall fashion showings by New York designers resembled a meeting of the United Nations, as 25 women from foreign consulates and three Moscow fashion experts viewed American styles.

The consular ladies were present at the invitation of Leonard and Andrew Arkin, father-and-son team presenting a group of typically American, moderately-priced fashions.

A number appeared in native dress, and all applauded the smart, wearable clothes. Their favorite of the Arkin collection was a black broadcloth cocktail dress, cut on slender lines, with plunging back neckline and a satin belt.

All those present appeared captivated by the children's fashions shown by Helen Lee, featuring pint-sized school and party dresses worn by small glamor girls, aged 4 to 8. A favorite of this group was a red calico smock over a black cotton full-skirted dress, for the smart kindergartner.

Suzy Perette, who often sells as many as 10,000 copies of a single dress, showed a group of the top fashions already ordered in volume by store buyers throughout the country.

Best-sellers included: A plaid sheer wool dress with sweater to top and full skirt; a black jersey sheath with square neck, long sleeves and a wide leather belt; a dress and jacket in violet wool jersey; and a dress-and-jacket outfit in dark green and red-checked wool, with waist-length jacket and scarf neckline.

Betty Carol, of Mam'selle, showed a slick group of junior fashions which stressed dress-and-jacket costumes with "space girl" capes and hoods.

Lightning Strikes Tree, Kills 4 at Bronx Beach

NEW YORK (AP)—Lightning—"Like fire from the sky"—struck a tree on a crowded Bronx beach Sunday, killing four people.

About six miles away another bolt struck near the Bronx Zoo, injuring four more.

Police estimated 100,000 people packed Orchard Beach and the nearby picnic area seeking relief from the heat.

Late in the afternoon the sky darkened and thunder rumbled. The crowd scattered to seek shelter.

Carmen Colon, 21, and Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Moya, all of the Bronx, ran to a bus stop shelter. Moya, 28, remembered he had left his guitar under a tree. He ran back to get it.

Suddenly, Mrs. Colon said later, "there was a big light, like electricity. It was like fire from the sky. I heard a big noise. I looked up. Then I looked down, and I saw Antonio."

Lightning had struck the tree, tearing a huge slice of bark from the trunk, and killing Moya and three others who had been standing under it.

The others were Pedro Rivera, 20, Paul Joannides, 57, and his wife, Despina, 51, all of the Bronx.

4 Flying Boats Fire Fighters

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Four giant Mars flying boats—now in mothballs after setting world records for the Navy—are scheduled to become the world's largest aerial fire fighters.

The huge planes, which weigh 72 tons each and have wingspans of 200 feet, probably will be based on big lakes in the rich timber country of western Canada.

In the event of a forest fire, each flying boat would be capable of dumping 35 tons of water in the burning area within minutes after the blaze was reported.

A spokesman for the company which bought the planes from the Navy as surplus told United Press International they were negotiating with an unnamed Canadian lumber company in regard to the project.

The planes became outmoded for Navy use and were retired in 1956. They were purchased from the Navy in April for a total of $23,243.23—almost negligible since they cost a total of 10 million dollars to build during World War II.

Fire, Smoke Threaten 400 Subway Riders

NEW YORK (AP) — Four hundred passengers faced the mounting threat of panic for 30 minutes Sunday when fire trapped two subway trains in a tunnel under the East River.

After the trains finished the trip from Queens to Manhattan, 63 passengers were treated at hospitals for smoke poisoning.

The fire started around a section of the electrified rail. A subway spokesman said later that sparks apparently ignited grease and dust.

"I was looking out the front window," said Nicholas Aldorisio, 26, a bank clerk from Beechhurst, Queens, "and I saw this little fire on the tracks. "The motorman tried to ride over it, but the train stopped. The motorman and I jumped onto the tracks. I told him I'd run up to Grand Central. (Grand Central Terminal in Manhattan was the next stop.) I went to the dispatcher's office, and they summoned help."

Power was shut off as soon as the fire was discovered. The cars began filling with smoke.

"Women and children were screaming," said John Kulas, 57, a Manhattan shipping clerk.

People were coughing. Older people were down on their knees praying. Some passengers lay on the floor, where the smoke was not so thick.

The lights went out when power was shut off leaving only the dull glow of the emergency lights.

Several passengers got out and walked back to the Queens station, about a 15-minute trip on foot.

People began opening windows and doors in an effort to get air but the conductors ordered them to keep them closed, since they only let in more smoke.

Finally the trains started to move. The next thing people knew, they were being helped off at Grand Central. Police with portable oxygen units gave first aid to the coughing passengers, many of whom collapsed on the subway platform.

Find No Wrongdoing by Retired Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman F. Edward Hebert(D-La) of a House Armed Services subcommittee says his group's two-week investigation hasn't yet turned up any cases of undue influence by retired military officers on defense contracts—and may never do so.

"We're dealing with something both nebulous and elusive," he said. "Influence—what is it? When is it bad?"

His main hope for the inquiry, Hebert said, is that it will result in legislation to clear up the ambiguity of the present situation.

'Cops' Weren't There

VERGENNES, Vt. (UPI) — There wasn't a single "cop" around when 175 graduates of the FBI Academy held their annual convention here. They said "professionally trained lawmen aren't 'cops' any more; they're law enforcement officers."

Great Salt Lake Has New Bridge

12.6-Mile Span to Cut 43 Miles Off 'Frisco to Ogden Rail Run

LITTLE VALLEY, Utah (UPI)—A train ride between San Francisco and Ogden, Utah, usually more than 700 miles, is about to become 43 miles shorter.

The short cut, a 12.6-miles earth and rock causeway across the Great Salt Lake, begins carrying Southern Pacific rail traffic in July.

The new causeway divides the lake from Promontory Point on the east shore to Lakeside on the west and replaces a 56-year-old wooden trestle that helped link Ogden with Lucin, Utah, a 102-mile distance of which 31.5 miles went across the lake.

The new trestle, built on a bed of solid rock, cost $49 million and required four years of construction work. The top of the trestle is about 18 feet above the lake and 38 feet wide.

To conquer the quicksand-like bottom of the Great Salt Lake and reach a solid base, more than 16 million cubic yards of material was dredge. This created a trench 175 to 480 feet wide and 20 to 35 feet deep.

Thirteen barges, some as long as a football fiel, were used to fill the trench with rock and gravel. The earth fill is covered by rock loosened in a series of dynamite explosions, including a 1,069-ton blast in August 1957 that is considered the nation's largest nonatomic explosion.

Thar's Gold in Them Thar Bags This Year

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—Gold dust is legal tender again in Colorado—two bits' worth to the sack—as part of the state's centennial celebration.

It's the idea of a Boulder engineer named Kent Schneider, who panned the dust from what's left of an old mill, mixed it with what he admits are a "few impurities" and packaged the stuff in small plastic bags which he sells for 25 cents.

Schneider, who figures the gold in each sack is actually worth 26 cents, arranged for business establishments throughout the state to accept the bags in exchange for a quarter's worth of merchandise.

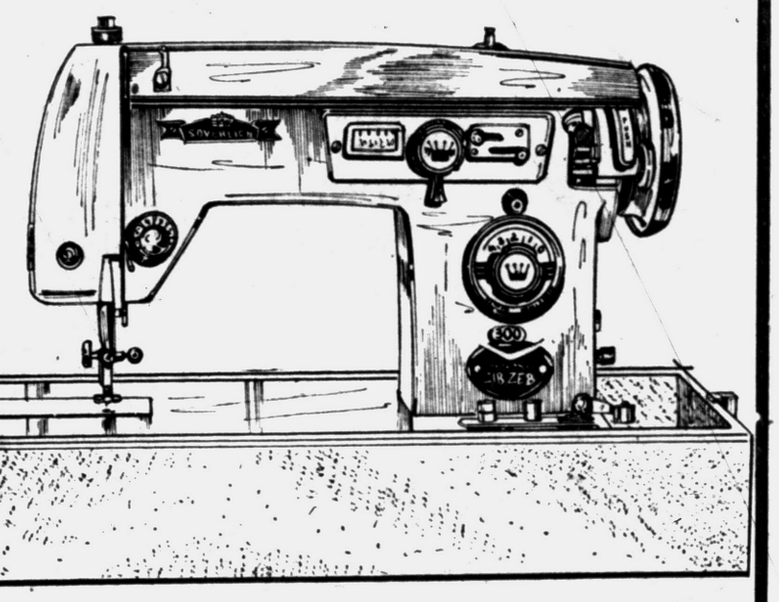

United States lumber production for 1958 was an estimated 32 billion board feet.

Congressman Sympathtic

Little Girl vs. Library

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This is the story of a little girl, a librarian, a puppy dog and a congressman.

A letter written in pencil on ruled paper from Patricia C. Vaughn of Akron, Ohio, to Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) opens this way:

"Dear Mr. Ayres, I am 8 years old and I am very sorry to trouble you."

Patricia plaintively writes that some time last May she checked out two books from the Maple Valley Public Library in Akron—"The Happy Prince and Other Tales" and "Wicked John and the Devil."

Now tragedy: Her puppy chewed the corners of the books. "But the pages were undamaged. The puppy was not to blame," she writes.

Conflict: "Mrs. Vinepaul and Miss Coleman (the librarians) said I must pay $6.70 for the books."

"Daddy said I must work and pay for these books to teach me a lesson."

The righteous way: "I am getting 15 cents a day for washing breakfast dishes," mowed lawns and swept floors to earn, finally, $5.00.

Cruel reverse: The library said the $5.00 wasn't enough but Patricia was told she coludn't have the books even if she paid the $6.70 because they were government property and "would be destroyed."

"Please sir, is there something you could do that these books could be given to me. I worked so hard for them. I have learned my lesson to respect other peoples property, and I will never forget it as long as I live."

Plot thickens: Ayres worte Akron head librarian Russell Munn, received a reply from Munn that he had no authority to sell the books and besides, they cost $6.70, not $5.00.

And guess what the bookstore here said they cost—$2.50 each.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Congressman Squashes Plans for Air Base Frills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressman reported victory today in his battle with the Air Force over what he called "costly frills" planned for a new base in Wisconsin.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis.) said he had been notified that the Air Force will not build either a squash court or an indoor swimming pool at Bong Air Base. Both projects had aroused the legislator's ire.

Besides eliminating the squash court and indoor pool, estimated to cost nearly $250,000, Reuss said the Air Force had satisfactorily explained to him other facilities he had questioned.

These included a Turkish bath and massage room, Hi-Fi shops and bowling alleys.

Like Mother, Like . . .

OLEAN, N. Y. (UPI) — Mrs. Donald Neuland gave birth to her first child — a girl — about six hours before her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Keller, gave birth to her 10th child, also a girl, at St. Francis Hospital.

Tommy Watrous Shares Second Position With Barnum, Zakarian

Hill, who played on two state championship high school golf teams, won his biggest purse, $750, in finishing three strokes ahead of runners up John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Joe Zakarian of Detroit and Tommy Watrous of Birmingham.

Playing cautiously, Hill had a morning round of 71 and posted a 72 in the afternoon, finishing the 72-hole tournament with a 285 total over the 6,374-yard Green Ridge Country Club course.

Hill, who finished fourth in the event at Atlas Valley near Flint last year, started his afternoon round with a 34, two-under-par for the course.

He bogied the 170-yard 10th hole, flubbing a chip shot, and also picked up a bogie at No. 12 where he hit his tee shot against a fence and was forced to chip out by hitting a shot against a fence and was forced to chip out by hitting a shot left handed.

But from there on he played it safe all the way.

Play yesterday was marked by the disqualifying of Wally Burkemo, former National PGA champion from Detroit. Burkemo called the disqualification penalty on himself when he signed an erroneous scorecard.

Burkemo's 11th hole score on the card was a par 4, but he had three-putted and never noticed the error until signing the card and turning it in.

Watrous, whose father Al won the State Open title six times, turned in rounds of 73 and 72 yesterday in gaining a share of the second place money.

Hayes Jones Scores 110-Meter Hurdles Victory

U.S. Wins Despite Decathlon

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The greatest all-around athlete in the world is a Russian, but the men's team of the United States still is the greatest track and field power.

The two day track meet Saturday and Sunday ended with victory for the American men, 127-108, and defeat for U.S. women, 67-40.

The combined score was 175-167 in the Soviet's favor, but the U. S. considers the male and female events to be separate.

Regardless of the score, dark-haired Vasily Kuznetsov proved himself to be the No. 1 track star of the world.

Only a drenching thunderstorm that hampered the last three events kept Kuznetsov from breaking his own world record in the decathlon event yesterday. The Russian ace was 74 points ahead of his own record pace going into those three events, but then finished seven points shy of the mark with 8,350 points.

"The weather prevented it," said, Gabrial Korobkov, coach of the Soviet squad. "He will do better the next time."

The top U.S. rival to Kuznetsov, former world record holder Rafer Johnson of Kingbury, Calif., missed this meet because of injuries in an auto accident. But Kuznetsov looked yesterday as if he would have beaten even a healthy Johnson.

As expected, the Russian women scored a 67-40 triumph in their meet against the best U.S. girl athletes.

Last year, when the two nations clashed in Moscow, the Russians combined the point scores of men's and women's events (illegally, according to the U.S. claim) and claimed an overall victory, 172-170. This time, if they chose, they could make claims of another "overall" win, 175-167.

Korobkov hinted at such a claim when he said, "we won the combined meet mainly because of the women."

Final figures on this year's meet and last year's were strikingly similar — both times U.S. men won 14 of 22 events. Russian women won six of 10 events at Moscow, eight here.

The surprises were about evenly divided—the defeat of American Olympic hammer throw champion Harold Connolly by Russia's Vasily Rudenkov, the surprise second place in the hop, step, and jump by Ira Davis of Philadelphia.

Hayes Jones of Pontiac ran away from his closest competitors Lee Calhoun and Russian Anstoly Mikhailov after he cleared the final hurdle in the sprint to the wire in 110-meter event. His winning time was 13.6, Calhoun, the favorite, was second.

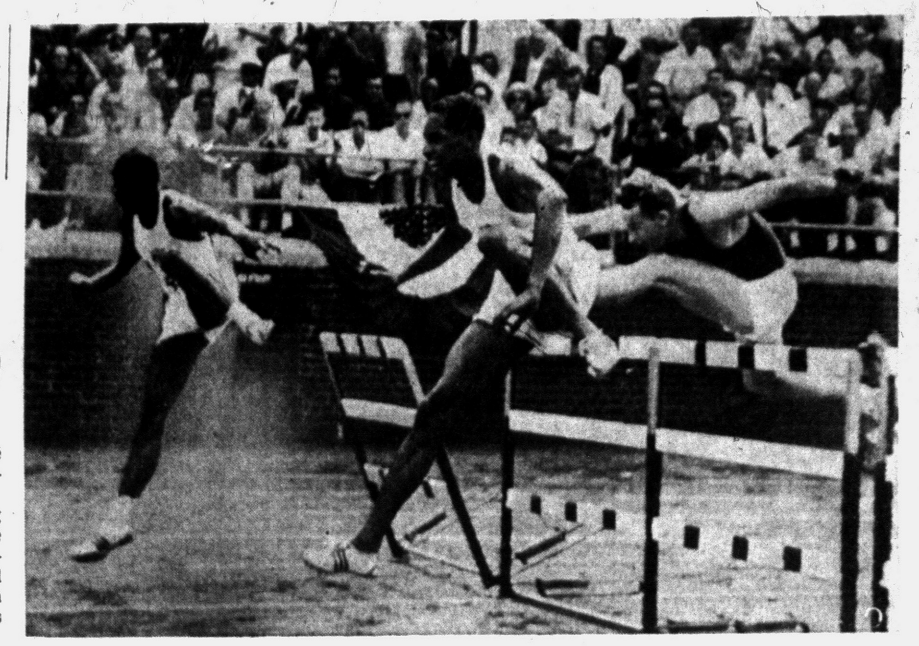

Record honors also were evenly divided—Parry O'Brien of Los Angeles eclipsed the world shot put record with a heave of 63 feet, 2½ inches; Russia's Tamara Press bettered the women's shot put mar with a toss of 55 feet, 6¾ inches. Neither mark probably ever will be recognized as a world record—they were better than the listed world marks but not as good as previous performances by O'Brien and Miss Press which still are awaiting official recognition.

HAYES WINS HURDLES — Pontiac's Hayes Jones (far left) clears the final hurdles of the 110-meter event which he won for the United States in the meet against the Russians in Philadelphia over the weekend. Jones ran away from Lee Calhoun, center foreground and Russian Anstoly Mikhailov (right) in the final sprint to the wire. His winning time was 13.6 seconds.

The United States went into the Sunday half of the men's meet with a 59-47 lead and never faltered. The clinching points came in the 1,600 meter relay when anchor man Eddie Southern who won the 400 meter run on Saturday, ripped off a 46.2 second 400 meter leg to cross the finish line 30 yards in front.

Ray Norton of San Jose State, America's new claimant to the title "world's fastest human," was the only double individual winner. He took the 100-meter dash in 10.3 seconds on Saturday and the 200 meters Sunday in 20.7 seconds.

The U.S. men won all running events up to 1,500 meters, where 19-year-old Dyrol Burleson of Oregon continued his march toward world fame with a 3:49.4 eyelash win over Jim Grelle. The Soviets took all long distance events.

The only two U.S. victories in women's events also were in sprints, Barbara Jones of Chicago taking the 100 meters and Lucina Williams of Nashville, Tenn., the 200 meters.

Tigers Limp Home for 13-Game Stand

Eastern Swing Nets 1 Victory in 8 Contests

Maxwell's Sunday Hit Not Enough to Prevent 2-1 Loss at Baltimore

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers limped into town today trying to pick up the pieces before opening a 13-game home stand tomorrow night against the Washington Senators.

The Tigers ended an eight-game invasion of the east yesterday with a 2-1 loss to Baltimore. Even slugging Charlie (Paw Paw) Maxwell couldn't pull the skidding Bengals out of their current slump.

Maxwell came through with his 10th home run of the year—clearing the right field fence off Baltimore starter Billy O'Dell in the fourth inning. It was his 21st round tripper of the year and a cut a two-run lead given O'Dell in the first inning.

Neil Chrisley delivered a pinch-hit double in the seventh off Oriole reliefer Billy Loes, (O-Dell retired in the sixth because of a blister on his pitching hand) and Frank Bolling singled in the third for the only other Tiger hits.

But it took Baltimore 40 minutes to get the final out. Loes retired Maxwell and Chrisey in the ninth before the game was delayed by rain just as Lou Berberet came up to bat for Red Wilson.

Berberet ran the count to 3-2 before popping out as the rain started again.

Baltimore got to Jim Bunning for its two runs after two were out in the first. Albie Pearson singled and stole second. Gene Woodling walked and Gus Triandos lifted a pop fly behind second base.

Harvey Kuenn, Johnny Groth and Bolling converged on the ball. Bolling made a swipe as the ball bounced up from the ground and threw to the plate. But Pearson was across and Woodling scored all the way from first.

Bunning gave up 7 hits in absorbing his eighth loss in 16 starts. Ray Narleski relieved Bunning in the eighth and gave up one more safety.

O'Dell received credit for his sixth victory in 13 starts.

Still Can't Consider Yanks Out of AL Race

By The Associated Press

Just when you get ready to count the Yankees out, they pop right back into the thick of the American League fight.

A week ago, after losing an entire 5-game series in Boston, they were dead. On Friday morning they were very much alive with a series sweep over Cleveland.

The magic of Early Wynn and Bob Shaw gave Chicago the first two games of an important weekend series. Once again they were ready to hang the crepe on Caseyy Stengel's office door.

But the Yanks knocked the lid off the coffin Sunday by sweeping two from Chicago. The explosion knocked the White Sox out of first place. The Cleveland Indians, who had been eased out of the lead by the Yanks, regained "control" by .001 percentage. New York is 5½ back.

This should teach people a lesson. From the looks of things at this stage, nobody is going to romp off with this American League pennant until late September. Each club has a vital weakness.

Stengel found help from unexpected sources in his Sunday sweep, ending a streak of eight straight Sunday defeats dating back to June 7. In the first game it was 43-year-old Enos Slaughter, oldest active player in the majors, hitting a pair of two-run homers in a 6-2 victory for Whitey Ford. In the second it was Eli Grba, a 6-2, 200-pound rookie from the Richmond farm, turning back the White Sox 6-4. Ryne Duren helped out both Ford and Grba, but Chicago did not score an earned run all day.

The rain that left them slipping and sliding around Yankee Stadium in the late innings, gummed up things at Boston.

The Red Sox nipped the Indians in the opener 6-5 on Frank Malzone's double with two out and the bases full in the last of the ninth. Cleveland grabbed first place by taking the second 5-3, a game interrupted and finally called because of rain as Boston came to bat in the ninth.

Brooklyn-New York Rivalry Flourishes Again

Like Old Times for Dodgers

By The Associated Press

It is just like old times for the Dodgers. Duke Snider and Gil Hodges are hitting home runs. Clem Labine is winning in relief. And an important series with the Giants is coming up next.

The old rivalry that flourished in Brooklyn and New York seems to have lost little of its vigor transplanted 3,000 miles west in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Giants' National League lead measured 2½ games with the second place Dodgers coming to town Monday for a two-game series.

Pittsbrgh shaved the Giants' lead a half game Sunday when Bill Virdon's eighth-inning home run beat the pace setters 3-2 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game went only two innings before it was postponed because of the Sunday curfew.

Los Angeles gained ground although it had to settle for a split at Philadelphia. Hodges' three-run homer and Snider's blast helped the Dodgers win the opener 8-4 behind Labine's relief work. Eddie Bouchee's two-run double gave the Phils a 3-2 second game, cut to 5½ innings by rain.

Milwaukee continued its tailspin, losing its sixth straight as St. Louis mounted a 16-hit attack for a 9-5 victory. Curt Flood drove in three runs with a homer and double, Ken Boyer hit his 18th homer, Don Blasingame had four hits and Bill White drove in two runs with two doubles.

About 30,000 fans waited for 90 minutes in Wrigley Field before a doubleheader between Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs had to be postponed because of rain.

It took 5½ hours to play the first game at Pittsburgh with three rain delays interrupting the battle between Vern Law and Stu Miller. Pittsburgh led 1-0 after two innings of the second game which must be replayed.

Hodges' 17th homer clinched the first game for the Dodgers as it came with Jim Gilliam and Snider on base. They started strong in the second game, but the Phils got to Johnny Podres for three big runs while Taylor Phillips pitched effectively in the clutches.

Vinegar Bend Mizell won his 11th at the Braves' expense but had to leave the game after seven innings because of a pulled back muscle. Marshall Bridges held the fort although touched for homers by Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock in the ninth.

Expect 150 in OCBC Regatta

Outboards Here July 26

When the APBA rejected an application for a July 26 outboard regatta at Oakland County Boat club, on Sylvan Lake, club officials moved to the younger Racing Outboard Drivers Assn. of America (RODAA) for sanction.

"The APBA," says John Benson, chairman for the regatta, and OCBC commodore, "wanted us to operate the inboards, so we had to make another move. Our regatta is now sanctioned by the RODAA."

The speedboat test here will be all outboards, and all seven classes will be raced, with many of the midwest's (Region Six) drivers expected to be on hand. Benson said a field of 150 or more entries is anticipated. Post entries will be taken in all classes.

Regatta is a one-day affair, starting at 1 p.m. July 26, over an oval course of two-and-a-half miles. This is a departure from former layouts, designed to bring the fast action nearer to the spectators.

A regatta ball is set for Saturday night, preceding the races, at OCBC clubhouse.

Drivers will compete for total awards of $1,000, split into 3-places for each event.

Benson said that all entries are of the "Alki Group," their fast motors using special fuels.

Among top pilots, coming from Canada, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Wisconsn and West Virginia, will be Ken Saunders, of Detroit, RODAA commodore, and Harry Demski of Midland.

Other regatta officials, besides Benson, will be Fred Hershey of Detroit, chief timer and starter; secretary, Robert Bullard of Detroit, both Region 6 officials; John Pemberton (OCBC), grounds; Jack Skelton (OCBC) manpower; Ken Peterson (OCBC rear-commodore) docks, and reagatta ball, Don Kelly (OCBC).

Bill Wells, London, Ont., in three classes; Jerry Kerns, West Milton, Ohio, (3 classes); Jack Dertinger, Delhi, Ont.,; Phil Barbour, Illinois; Ralph Dowling, Cleveland; Clint Gieth, Ohio, and Nels Kirtz of Elkhart, Ind. are among the top drivers.

Konchis and Boykins Hurl Shutout Games

Stadium Inn shut out the Lakeside Royals, 3-0, behind the steady seven-hit pitching of Fred Konchis in City Softball League action last night at Beaudette Park. The game was a makeup from a July 6 rainout.

All three Stadium runs were scored in the 6th inning with Ray White's solo homer igniting the rally. Walt Travis hurled four-hit ball in defeat.

In a women's exhibition contest at Northside Park, Katie Boykins twirled a two-hit shutout as the CIO Local 653 team of Pontiac trounced the Flint Herald Examiner club, 9-0. Margaret Liddy paced Pontiac's 12-hit attack with a homer and single.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I'll never learn the game!"

DIAGNOSIS: That's true of us all.

TREATMENT: Many a temporarily frustrated golfer has confided in me that he fully intends to quit the game because he is convinced that he will never really learn to hit the ball right.

I can sympathize, because I have felt the same way myself.

What I think golfers in this frustrated state of mind fail to realize is that nobody — but nobody! — ever really conquers the game.

Golf is really a game of misses. Three or four really fine shots per 18 holes is about the most that even the greatest experts ever hit. The rest of the shots are, to some degree or other, misses.

What you must do is keep on striving for improvement—not perfection. Realize that you're go-to hit some bad shots every round, but try to make them fewer and less costly. Try to improve the way you THINK on the golf course, as well as the way you swing.

Overall improvement in your golf score comes this way—and also more pleasure in your game.

Midgets List Point Champs

It was trophy day at the Wolverine quarter-midget race track at Miracle Mile yesterday and mid-season champions were crowned in each age division.

Larry Joe Wallace of Pontiac took points honors in the 7-8 age group and Jimmy Briney of Pontiac was champion of the 11 year olds.

In other classes: Novice point champs were Tom Ostrander of Walled Lake and Bill Garcia of Pontiac. Alex Kujawski of Hamtramck was 9-year-old victor; Eddie Ross of Detroit the 10 year olds; Terry Allen of Livonia in the 12-13 bracket and Bobby Thomas of Detroit in the 14-15 bracket.

Nearly 5,000 fans watched the midgets race and the only driver casualty was a bee sting treated by Dr. Charles Bowers of Pontiac.

Warrant Awaits 'Mad Dog' Killer

Charge Missouri Youth With Slaying of Former County Judge, Girl

QUAKER, Mo. (AP) — A coroner's inquest and a murder warrant today await a 19-year-old youth accused of the "mad dog" slaying of a former county judge and a teen-age girl.

Robert Carr, Washington County prosecuting attorney, said a first-degree murder warrant will be filed today against John Crump, described by Sheriff Thomas B. Allen as a "hard boiled punk."

Authorities said Crump told them the slaying spree Saturday night started as a plan to take the car of the slain man "to go out and have a big time."

Leonard (Lynn) Barr, 57, a former Washington County judge, was shot in his general store while preparing a sandwich for the two youths.

Sheriff Allen said the boys ran to Barr's home next door and shot his wife, Vallie, 52, when she refused to hand over the car keys. Crump clubbed the Barr's daughter Ella Jo, 16, and her friend, Bobbie Lou Supp, 17, of Belgrade, Mo., with his 12-gauge shotgun, the sheriff said. Bobbie Lou was killed. Mrs. Barr and her daughter are in critical condition at Bonne Terre (Mo.) Hospital. The shotgun was broken by the blows.

Sgt. Ernest Dennis of the Missouri highway patrol called the killings "an act of mad dog violence."

Gangsters Gun Beer Distributor

Near Death in Chicago; Indicted 2 Months Ago by Federal Grand Jury

CHICAGO (AP)—A beer distributor indicted two months ago by a federal grand jury lay near death today after being gunned down in what police described as a bobbled attempt at a gangland-style assassination.

Victim of the attack Sunday by two gunmen, their faces blackened in disguise, was Joseph Bronge, 50, of suburban Melrose Park. He is the only person indicted to date by a special grand jury which has been seeking possible links between organized crime and beer distribution.

Giles said witnesses reported the assailants wounded Bronge in the head in front of his suburban office. Bleeding heavily, he fled to the rear of an apartment building where a gate blocked his path.

Bronge fumbled with the latch, witnesses said, fell face down in the grass, and the gunmen pumped a second volley of .45 caliber slugs into his head. The pair fled to a waiting auto driven by a third man.

Bronge was in critical condition with at least five bullet wounds in the head. Police guarded his room in Westlake Hospital.

Four Sets of Twins Just Routine to Her

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Gerald E. Hendrickson didn't have time to read a news story about a woman who had given birth to four consecutive sets of twins. She was too busy caring for her own four consecutive sets.

Mrs. Hendrickson was unimpressed when told that the odds of such a thing happening were about 100,000,000 to one. "I thought it was routine," she said.

The Hendricksons have 12 children. He is a chief petty officer in the Navy.

Stock Prices Recede Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices receded in moderate trading early today.

Steels and motors paced the retreat which lopped a few cents key shares. A handful of gainers to arround a dollar off fought the downtrend.

The downswing sustained last week's market decline, touched off by the national steel strike and fears the shutdown would be lengthy.

Among the steels, both U.S. Steel and Bethlehem sagged about a dollar. Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Jones & Laughlin fell fractions.

Motors followed with Ford and American Motors down close to a dollar. American Motors, which slumped sharply at the opening on several large trading blocks, rebounded a bit later.

Rails, which worked steadily lower last week, generally continued to decline. Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central all took modest losses. But New York Central crept a notch higher.

Hold Man in Auto Death of Cecil Betron and Wife

DETROIT (AP)—A 34-year-old factory worker was held today for investigation of manslaughter and leaving the scene of a fatal accident in which veteran Detroit newspaperman Cecil Betron and his wife were killed.

Police said a car driven by Norman Glover Saturday sideswiped one carrying Betron, 59, and his wife Jessie, 57. The Betron car spun into a concrete abutment on the westbound Ford Expressway. Glover was arrested more than an hour later three miles from the scene.

Betron was a feature writer for the Detroit News from 1925 to 1952, when he retired and became news editor of the weekly Dearborn Independent. At his death he was news editor and feature columnist for the Dearborn Guide.

Of Italy's one million licensed drivers, only about 40,000 are women.

An Ortonville teenager escaped with minor injuries Sunday afternoon when the car in which she was a passenger struck another auto and overturned.

Wanda Robinson, 17, of 69 Viola Lane, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. She was riding with Alby L. Klump, 17, of 9406 Dixie Highway, Springfield Township.

To avoid the stopped auto, Klump swerved into the westbound lane, careened off the right front fender of an oncoming car, and overturned in a field. No one else was injured.

Burglars Back, Take Typewriter on Return Call

Burglars who don't succeed at first sometimes try again and get what they're after on their second attempt.

That was the story of two breakins this weekend at the Sarjac Steel Supply Inc. offices, 115 Branch St.

Thursday night someone entered the offices and pried open the safe, but nothing was taken.

The burglars returned a second time the next evening.

They stole an office typewriter and a man's suede jacket. The total value of the two items was estimated at $167 dollars.

Police believe the same burglars broke into the Pontiac Waste Material Co., 135 Branch St., the same two nights.

The first time the burglars dragged a large floor safe out the door and into the yard behind the building. There was nothing of value in it, however.

The second attempt to burglarize the firm also flopped. Nothing was reported missing.

Poland Tells Newsman From U. S. to Get Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley Johnson, Associated Press correspondent at Warsaw, has been notified by the Polish government that he must leave the country this week.

The reason assigned involves an erroneous attribution of part of a speech by Wladyslaw Gomulka, leader of the Communist Party in Poland.

A dispatch which Johnson filed last Thursday from Sosnowiec, Poland, erred in quoting Gomulka as saying that President Charles de Gaulle of France "may be compared to a dog who barks loudly but is nevertheless only a toothless dog."

The error arose through a mistranslation by an Associated Press translator.

The Arkansas Gazette is the oldest newspaper in the United States to be published west of the Mississippi River.

Morreros' Death Ends Struggle

Dominican Labor Leader Believed Instrumental in Relaxing Policies

NEW YORK (AP) —The New York Times said today the mysterious death of Dominican Labor Minister Ramon Marrero Aristy ended a "long, lonely struggle" by the progressive minister to liberalize dictator Rafael Trujillo's regime.

Marrero and his chauffeur were burned to death Friday night in the mysterious crash of their automobile on a mountain highway. no details of the crash.

Tad Szulc, Times correspondent who was forced out of the Dominican Republic Sunday, reported from Miami that Marrero, 45-year old newsman and labor specialist, was convinced Trujillo's regime could weather the crisis now facing it only by becoming more liberal and wiping out spreading corruption among high officials.

There is reason to believe Marrero may have looked on himself as a possible leader for the republic if Trujillo's regime collapsed.

The Dominican regime is under strong pressure from opponents at home and in Cuba, where a number of anti-Trujillo men have taken refuge.

In espousing some of the opposition demands for changes in the dictatorship's policies, Marrero made many powerful enemies. However, he had remained loyal to Trujillo, believing the 66-year-old dictator was still the best person to run the country.

There were some indications, Szulc said, that Marrero succeeded in persuading Trujillo to relax his policies a bit.

Foreign newsmen were given more freedom and allowed to work without censorship because of Marrero's efforts. Then stringent curbs were placed on correspondents after Szulc on July 12 sent a dispatch about corruption in the government.

Informed sources told Szulc Marrero's car had fallen off a mountain top and that the minister and his chauffeur had been burned beyond recognition. Marreo was buried with military honors.

The fire spread over the one-story building 10 minutes after closing time. It attracted a crowd which police estimated at 15,000 persons.

Jack Sarnow, general manager, said damage would run "well over a million dollars."

Jim Perry, 35, manager of the diamond department, said the fire started in the carpet department and the houseware and small appliances section.

"I started to gather up some of the diamonds and jewelry. I got some, but not enough, then somebody grabbed my sleeve and said, 'Come on, the whole roof is gonna fall.'"

YOU ARE SEEING DOUBLE — This is the way it looks when you pass a "double-bottom," two trailers hitched to a single tractor. In use in Western states for some time, the double units are now in use on the New York Thruway, the first time they have been allowed on any of the East's toll roads. Specially equipped tractors hauling two trailers doubles payloads and cut expenses. Thruway authorities report few difficulties with the huge units and only scattered complaints from motorists.

Manhattan Takes Fat Phone Book Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago is ceding to New York the honor of having the world's fattest telephone directory.

The new Chicago directory has 1,779 pages, compared with 1,836 pages in New York's Manhattan directory.

The old Chicago directory had 2,133 pages, but the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. cut the size by using five columns of listings per page instead of four.

Chicago still claims the most listings, about one million in its directory compared with 776,000 in the Manhattan book.

Seek Strategy of Southerners

Bill in Senate Group Will Test Resistance to Civil Rights Measures

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents of civil rights legislation looked to a Senate Judiciary Committee meeting today for a tip-off on the strategy of Southern opponents.

The closed meeting is the first scheduled since a subcommittee approved an abbreviated two-point bill by a 4-3 vote last Wednesday.

The move to take the measure up for consideration will test how much resistance Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss) and other Southern Democrats on the committee are going to offer to any kind of civil rights measure.

Two years ago the committee proved to be a graveyard for all such legislation. Congress succeeded in passing a bill only after the Senate voted to bypass the committee and act directly on a House-passed measure.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) has said he expects the committee to approve a bill this year.

The track was cleared for today's committee meeting when Johnson obtained agreement last week not to have a session of the Senate itself.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Kirksen of Illinois also has urged action, but he said recently that any civil rights bill probably can be talked to death in the Judiciary Committee by Southern opponents. He offered to join any move initiated by Johnson to short-circuit the committee, as was done in 1957, and take up for Senate hearing any civil rights bill the House passes.
