Ike Orders Federal Troops Into Little Rock

Probers Calling Hoffa Men; Quiz on 'Loans' Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators today called in a half dozen of James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union aides to tell whether money they gave him represented loans or kickbacks.

The probers said the subordinates will be asked whether the payments they made to Hoffa were voluntary or forced. Hoffa has testified he borrowed the money but has not repaid it.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said it is now "a probality" that the 44-year-old Hoffa will be called here from the union's Miami Beach, Fla., convention sessions for testimony, although he is not under orders to appear today.

Witnesses due to be called today, with the amounts Hoffa has testified he borrowed from each but never repaid, are:

William Bell, $1,000; Paul Allen, $2,000; Frank Fitzsimmons, $2,000; Roland McMaster, $1,000; James Clift $1,000, and Herman Kierdorf $2,000. All are from Detroit Teamsters Union units dominated by Hoffa.

Hoffa Upholds Loan

MIAMI BEACH (INS) — James R. Hoffa, favored candidate for the Teamsters presidency, emphatically denied today there was anything illegal or unethical about a $1,000,000 loan he made to a Minneapolis department store from union funds. Hoffa said the loan, disclosed by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee yesterday in Washington, was made with full approval of union trustees and was earning 6 per cent interest for the Teamsters.

PREDICT SHAKEDOWNS

McClellan predicted the new hearings would produce evidence of shakedowns and alleged misuse of $100,000 to $150,000 in union funds and would touch on promotion schemes, rigged elections and union - employer entanglements.

In New York AFL-CIO investigators charged today that the 138,000-member Bakery Workers' Union and the 40,000-member United Textile Workers are corruption-ridden.

The Federation's ethical practices committee made this finding in reports to the AFL-CIO executive council, which is holding a two-day meeting in New

5 Die, 6 Rescued in Mine Blast

Safety Crew Trapped Repairing Vent Fan in Pennsylvania Shaft

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Five of 11 miners trapped by an explosion 565 feet down in a mine they were trying to make safe for fellow diggers were killed yesterday near this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

One of the six rescued by heroic crews using a makeshift hoist is reported in poor condition at the Washington Hospital. He is James Wright, 59.

Killed in the blast which ripped through the Marianna mine of Bethlehem Steel Corp. were George Demko, 56, Philip Kornet, George Harmuth, Joseph Smith and Stanley Collins.

The five had a total of 17 children.

Hospitalized with Wright were Mike Knizner, Stanley Majesky, John Krupzig, Charles Sprowls and William Nelson. They are suffering from shock and burns but hospital officials said they were expected to recover.

The 11 men, many of them foremen and safety experts, had entered the mine nearly eight hours before the terrifying blast let go at 7:15 a.m.

★ ★ ★

A mine spokesman said they were attempting to repair a ventilation fan which had forced shutdown of the mine. Normally, about 600 men are employed at the mine and at least 250 would have been on duty had it not been for the ventilation trouble.

Just what caused the blast could not be determined immediately.

Talk by J. C. Penney to Launch Special Gifts Campaign Thursday

The Special Gifts Division of the 1957 Pontiac Area United Fund drive will kick off its activities Thursday with a meeting for 60 UF workers.

★ ★ ★

Guest speaker at the affair slated for the Waldron Hotel at 8 a.m. is J. C. Penney, founder of the national department store chain.

The Special Gifts Division, under the leadership of Howard W. Huttenlocher, will seek $74,724 from over 290 contributors who gave at least $100 to the local drive in the past year.

The hard core of advance givers traditionally sets the pace for the rest of the community in the solicitation of funds for the 55 health, welfare and character-building agencies supported by UF.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the division's solicitors, the UF's board of trustees, administrative committee and campaign cabinet headed by drive chairman Dana P. Whitmer will attend the session.

Official kickoff of the drive will be Nov. 4, with workers seeking $612,000.

Claims Girard Shot at Woman 'Just for Joke'

Soldier From Inkster Says Slain Japanese Was Enticed on Range

SOMOGAHARA, Japan (AP)—A U. S. soldier testified today that William S. Girard just for a joke fired an empty cartridge case that killed a Japanese woman after the two enticed her within range.

Victor Nickel, testifying at an outdoor session of Girard's Japanese manslaughter trial, said he tossed more than 10 brass cartridge cases from a machine gun emplacement they were guarding at Girard's suggestion.

"Girard then pointed to the ground and said 'Mamasan, daijobu okay,' the Inkster, Mich., soldier declared, adding that Girard "motioned to her that it was all right to go ahead and pick up brass."

Testifying on the muddy firing range hillside where Mrs. Naka Sakai was fatally wounded last Jan. 30; Nickel said he did not see Girard toss out any shell cases.

SHOT IN FUN

Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi, wearing a raincoat and broad straw sombrero, asked Nickel: "Did you think Girard shot the woman in fun?'

"Yes, for a joke," Nickel said.

Nickel said, however, he did not see Girard scatter brass, as the indictment against Girard contends.

"If he did, I didn't see him do it," Nickel testified.

Testimony by Nickel, the only American witness to the shooting, varied at least on some points from that given by Girard himself at a morning session.

POINTS DIFFERENT

The two indicated points approximately 25 feet apart as the spot where Girard stood when he fired the shots. Nickel's testimony would put Girard about 25 feet closer to Mrs. Sakai.

★ ★ ★

"Did the mamasan, in response to Girard's motion, come from here to here?" Judge Kawachi asked, motioning forward with his hands.

★ ★ ★

"Yes," Nickel answered. "I saw her bend over and start picking up the brass . . . Then when she

Date of Sept. 24 Ike's 2nd Crisis

In '55—a Heart Attack; Today Faces Decision on Integration Riot

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Once again Sept. 24 is a day of crisis for President Eisenhower—just as it was two years ago today when a heart attack hospitalized him.

Then, at Denver, the stricken President fought for his life. It was a day of great drama and tremendous tension.

Today he faces a new crisis. He has made up his mind to use force, if necessary, to compel school integration in Little Rock, Ark.

There is no question that he made that decision reluctantly. Last July 17 he said he could not conceive of circumstances under which he ever would be induced to send federal troops into any area in an effort to compel integration.

★ ★ ★

Now, in rioting yesterday at Little Rock, he has found these circumstances. He has commanded the rioters to cease and desist.

As for that other crisis that started in Denver two years ago today, from all outward appearances Eisenhower has weathered that one in fine shape.

And his doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, says here at the President's vacation headquarters that medical examinations bear out those appearances.

"So far as all our tests show regarding his heart, the President is in good condition," Snyder told a reporter.

Frieda Could Be Meek as Lamb, Fierce as Lion

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—A woman phoned airport manager C. R. Moss and asked: "What's the status of Frieda?"

"She's on the way to the airport," he said.

"That close!" the woman exclaimed.

"You do mean Frieda Lamb, my secretary, don't you?" Moss asked.

"No," the woman replied. "I mean Frieda the hurricane."

Police Block Traffic for Parents' March

Parents of children living in the Hudson Covert Elementary School area in Waterford Township again marched their children down the center of Scott Lake road this morning, as State Police blocked off traffic.

The parents are protesting the lack of school bus service and safe walking facilities for students attending Covert and other schools in the district. They want transportation facilities for all students who must walk on the highways to school.

All traffic was halted in front of the school—parents led their children in and the same procedure will be duplicated this afternoon when they return from school.

This is the second day the parents have demonstrated their concern over transportation accommodations.

Pickets were stationed at the Board of Education office on Walton boulevard and the bus garage on M59 for the second day. However, no trouble was encountered.

According to the parents, speed limits of 40 and 45 miles per hour in the township make walking on the narrow roads dangerous.

They say that in many spots slight hills in the road make it impossible to see a child until the motorist is too close to avoid an accident.

At the present time there is noth-

Directs Arkansas Guard to Enforce Integration

President Flying to Capital to Present Radio, TV Address to Nation at 7:30 Tonight

NEWPORT, R.I. (INS)—President Eisenhower today ordered federal troops into Little Rock to enforce school integration.

Troops are expected to enter Little Rock later today to take up position around strife-torn Central High School.

The President directed Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson to order the Arkansas National Guard into federal service immediately and use it or any other units of the armed forces to control the situation.

Eisenhower simultaneously scheduled a 15-minute radio-television address to the nation for about 7:30 p.m., Pontiac time, to discuss the integration crisis.

He is flying back to Washington from Newport to make the address, which will be delivered from the White House.

The chief executive signed the history-making order in his office at the Newport Naval Base at 12:22 p.m. (EDT).

He acted despite the fact that there were no new outbreaks of violence at Central High School when classes resumed this morning after an angry mob had forced the removal of eight Negro students Monday.

But, the President noted that his proclamation of Monday, ordering an end to "willful obstruction" of integration was violated when a crowd of some 300 gathered at the school today.

OBSTRUCTION EXISTS

In his new proclamation, he declared that "willful obstruction of enforcement" of the federal court order for integration "still exists and threatens to continue."

Eisenhower directed that the National Guard should "serve in the active military service of the United States for an indefinite period and until relieved by appropriate orders."

His directive applies to both the Arkansas National Guard and the Arkansas Air National Guard.

Before issuing the proclamation, the President conferred by telephone with Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff.

FIRST SINCE 1914

It was the first time a President of the United States had ordered federal troops into a state to enforce a court order since 1914 when Woodrow Wilson called out military forces during coal mine disturbances in Arkansas.

The National Guard was employed by Gov. Orval Faubus to bar Negro students from entering the school until its removal was ordered by Federal Judge Ronald Davies last Friday.

In taking his action, Eisenhower disregarded the contention of Faubus that he has no authority to order federal troops into Little Rock without the governor's approval.

This was the order to Wilson:

"The secretary of defense is authorized and directed to take all appropriate steps to enforce any orders of the United States

Graham Has Solution

NEW YORK (INS) — Evangelist Billy Graham declared today the answer to the Little Rock school integration problem can be found "in Christ."

Police Applying 'Nashville Plan'

Little Rock Authorities Get Tough With Crowd Around School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Police, applying the "Nashville plan" to the integration turmoil at Little Rock Central High School, seized eight persons today while Gov. Orval Faubus flew back to the Arkansas capital.

★ ★ ★

The arrests were made while tense groups gathered at the southern entrance of the high school where nine Negroes entered as students for the first time yesterday, setting off a day of mob violence.

The beat - them - to - the - punch maneuver was copied from Nashville, Tenn., where police nipped mob violence in the bud in school integration tangles.

School resumed at 8:45 a.m. CST at the high school with no Negro pupils attempting to enter.

Despite the arrests, the crowd at the school entrance grew from a scattered few to more than 100.

Gov. Faubus broke away from the Southern Governors' Conference in Sea Island, Ga., and flew home in a National Guard plane. The flight which began at 9:50 a.m. EST, will take about five hours.

As he boarded the plane, Gov. Faubus told newsmen he hoped his presence would have a "settling" effect on the troubled integration dispute where an angry mob of 300 attacked several Negro adults yesterday.

6 MEN SEIZED

As tension mounted waiting for the opening school bell, police swooped down and hauled away six men, two of them aremed with knives, from the milling groups.

★ ★ ★

One of those arrested was Arthur J. Bickle, a leader of the segregation group fighting the admittance of Negroes to the school.

Two teenaged youths were escorted from the school area forcibly by police.

Police also broke up 40 white students who grouped themselves on the south school steps and ordered them inside 15 minutes before school started.

Little Rock Police held back the mob for the second straight day with barricades at the north and south street corners flanking the school, permitting none — not even newsmen — to congregate directly in front of the school or on its grounds.

At the beginning of the day, today's crowds were smaller and quieter in comparison with yesterday but many of the faces were familiar and defiant.

Nixon Blames Faubus

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Nixon today said the "disgraceful Litle Rock integration situation" is largely the fault of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus.

Opinions Vary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The halls of U. N. headquarters buzzed today with comment — almost all favorable — on President Eisenhower's decision to use troops in Arkansas, but Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said that Eisenhower's order sending troops to Little Rock may touch off "more trouble than it will prevent."

But Won't Have Any Say at Teamsters Convention

Dues-Paying Truckers Oppose Hoffa's Candidacy

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

If it were up to the dues-paying men behind the wheels of the nation's trucks, James Riddle Hoffa wouldn't stand much of a chance for the presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

TRUMBULL

This was revealed yesterday in a random survey of truckers that form the 1,500,000-member union.

But these men that came from Midwest locals haven't and won't have a say at next week's Teamsters' convention in Miami Beach.

Of all interviewed, not one said his local's rank-and-file membership had voted on delegates to the Sept. 30 meeting.

This supported charges by New York and Pontiac Teamsters that delegations had been "rigged" with pro-Hoffa members to guarantee his elevation to the $50,000-a-year top spot of the gigantic union.

SELECTED BY VOTE

Section I of Article III of the Teamsters' constitution says "all delegates to the International convention shall be selected by vote at a regular meeting of the local union."

The truckers pulled their heavy loads into a popular "truck stop" at Telegraph and Square Lake roads. They came not only from Pontiac and Detroit, but from Toledo, Indianapolis, Alpena and Gary and Kokomo, Ind.

Of the men interviewed, there were several that supported Hoffa in his bid for the presidency. A 47-year-old member of Detroit Local 299 (Hoffa's "home" local) said. "He's always used me all right, and I've been trucking since 1936."

All the men stopping for a quick cup of coffee Monday pleaded for Hoffa "because we didn't get a say in the convention delegates."

A 31-year-old steward with a Pontiac building supply firm was emphatic in what he thought of Hoffa and the affairs of Local 614 here. "He hasn't helped us a bit. He's only helped the gangsters and hoodlums in the organization. I'm ashamed to belong to Local 614."

Hauling food north from Indiana, a 36-year-old and 12-year member of Indianapolis Local 135 said the fiery Hoffa "has no business in the presidency if all they say about him is right."

★ ★ ★

"I agree with those New York fellows. This shouldn't be a picked party but the whole union should say something," he said.

Asked if his local informed him where his $5 per month dues went, he shrugged his shoulders and said, "Hm! I sometimes wonder. I sometimes wonder what I pay it for."

Two new members of the Pontiac local driving gravel trucks declared investigators have not yet proved anything on Hoffa. "If those guys can prove he's crooked, he shouldn't be in the driver's seat," one said.

JIMMIE TO PROFIT

A member of Local 299 in Detroit since 1938 at first refused to state an opinion. "Just say that the only guy that will profit if he's elected will be Jimmie himself," the 41-year-old trucker said.

The owner of his own truck

AMC's Romney Makes New Bid

Might Cut Car Prices by $100 if Unions First Reduce Labor Costs

DE[illegible] (INS)—American Motors President George Romney said today his company might agree to a rebate of $100 on 1958 model cars if labor costs were first reduced.

There was no immediate comment from the United Auto Worker's Union.

UAW President Walter Reuther recently proposed to Ford, General Motors and Chrysler they cut prices on 1958 cars by $100 as a move to curb inflation.

The Big Three of the industry quickly tossed out the plan as a "Reuther publicity stunt."

Romney quickly pointed out that his suggestion was in no way a firm proposal to the UAW.

"The rebate idea I discussed with our employes is the exact opposite of Reuther's price proposal," he said. "My suggestion starts with a reduction in present labor costs; his starts with a proposed reduction in prices and promises consideration of a reduction in future economic demands.

"The Reuther proposal is absolutely impractical."

Romney reportedly told the AMC employes in Milwaukee earlier this month the offer was contingent on the sale of 180,000 cars next year and concessions to the AMC on contract provisions covering working conditions.

Last week Romney made auto industry headlines with a demand for industry-wide bargaining with the UAW as the only effective method of combatting Reuther's new contract demands.

3 Break Into Trucks to Look for Some Pie

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Three boys, aged 8, 10 and 13, have been placed on probation by Juvenile Court here for breaking into two tractor-trailer trucks.

Detective Sgt. Glen Thomas said the boys ripped open box after box of lighting fixtures and rolls of wire in the trucks, owned by the Pacific Intermountain Express Co., better known by the label on its trailers: P.I.E.

Thomas said the boys, whose names were not released, explained: "We were looking for the pie."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Does bad weather always accompany a very low pressure system?

Bad weather invariably accompanies a very low pressure system unless the pressure dips only for a few hours and then rises quickly. A freak situation does occur occasionally and momentarily the weather will hold good, even as the mercury column falls.

But, invariably, this decline, if not reversed, will bring winds and probably precipitation.

Very low pressure means a valley on top of the layer of gases surrounding the earth is above you. Air swirls into this valley from mountains (high pressure areas) and sets up a counter-clockwise rotation motion and a weather disturbance — in this hemisphere.

Below the Equator, the motion is reversed — it is clockwise in low pressure areas, counter-clockwise in high pressure (good weather) systems.

RALPH W. BEEBE

Ralph W. Beebe Started His Career in Detroit; Came Here in 1920

After more than 45 years in newspaper editorial work, Ralph W. Beebe, a member of The Pontiac Press staff since 1920, has retired. He has been an editorial writer since 1943.

Born Aug. 27, 1892 in Detroit, Beebe graduated from Detroit Central High School and the University of Michigan. He started his newspaper work on the Detroit Journal in 1912, and worked later on the Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Evening Times and the Border Cities Star in Windsor.

He and his wife, whom he married in Detroit in 1916, came to Pontiac in 1920 when he became a reporter for The Press.

He became telegraph editor of this paper in 1924 and in 1943 left the wire news desk to devote his time to editorial writing.

In recent years failing health has kept him from the office but he continued his editorial work from his home in Sylvan Lake. In 1951 he was a member of the American Press Institute seminar for coverage of governmental news, at Columbia University.

The Beebes have made their home in Sylvan Lake for many years and in the past he has been active in civic affairs of the community. He served two terms on the Board of Trustees.

When the woman fell, the soldier said, "The Japanese started to kick up a commotion. Girard went over and when he came back he was scared."

"He asked, 'What'll we do next?' "

★ ★ ★

Nickel's testimony came after Girard had pointed out to the court where he said he stood and where Mrs. Sakai fell.

"Did you fire one, two or three times?" Kawachi asked.

"Two times," Girard replied.

Asked which of his shots hit, he replied, "The second.'

The trial is to resume tomorrow.

Square Dance Season to Begin Saturday Night

Square dancers from all over Oakland County will be "grabbing their partners" Saturday night and heading for the kickoff of the fall square dance season at the Waterford Township CAI building.

The event will be a dance given by the "Hoedowners" of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. It will begin at 9 p.m. Music will be by Ralph Haan's orchestra.

According to Leonard T. Buzz, recreational director for the department, all the best callers from 25 county clubs will be represented. The public has been invited to attend. Charge will be $2 per couple.

Supervisors OK Budget for 1958

Deny Themselves Hike in Pay, Veto Boost for Chairman

The Oakland Board of Supervisors today denied raises for themselves and the chairman of the board of auditors, refused to raise child care funds by $20,000, and passed without change the recommended $10,732,014 budget for 1958.

The proposal that supervisors' per diem salaries be raised from $10 to $15 fell flat, as supervisors felt it necessary for financial reasons to hold their contribution to the Oakland County Child Guidance Center to $32,500.

This was the recommendation of the Ways and Means Committee which had trimmed an original request of $52,500 in order to develop the clinic's South Oakland County center.

The Salaries Committee's recommendation for $4,592,472 in 1958 salaries was approved despite the attempt to raise Robert Moore's salary. Moore is chairman of the board of auditors.

Ferndale Supervisor Clayton G. Lilly had objected to Moore's salary remaining stationary as the salaries for positions not filled by appointment got an annual 5 to 10 per cent hike.

"I know that our policy in the past has been to set the salaries of appointed officers at the beginning of their appointments and not change them during the two, three, or four-year terms that they are in office," Lilly said.

"However, wouldn't it be fairer to give the appointees annual cost of living raises as we do for everyone else?"

Lilly's suggestion that the board adopt a sliding scale of wages for appointed employes was called "perfectly legal" by Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt.

Before considering a recommended $10,732,014 budget, which includes $4,592,472 in salaries, the board approved the annexation to Holly Village of about 200 acres in Holly and Rose Townships.

No objections to the annexation were heard during a public hearary remaining stationery as the

Although the Negro students did not attempt to attend classes today, the crowd gathered again outside the school this morning.

Thus, they were in clear violation of Eisenhower's order for all unlawful assemblages obstructing integration to "disperse forthwith."

The President acted under his constitutional powers and federal statutes authorizing him to use the armed forces in such cases.

Eisenhower plans to take off from Quonset Naval Air Station for Washington shortly after 3:30 p.m. (EDT). He will return to Newport early Wednesday morning.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty emphasized that the primary reason for the President's decision to make the address from the White House was mechanical. He was advised by the networks that transmission difficulties would arise in Newport.

Eisenhower warned Monday that he would never permit the orders of a Federal Court to be "flouted with impunity by any individual or any mob of extremists."

★ ★ ★

His subsequent action brings a dramatic end to the careful course of moderation he has steered since the 1954 Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools.

★ ★ ★

Only two months ago, he told a news conference that he could not conceive of any circumstances which would ever cause him to order federal troops to enforce the rulings of a federal court.

At that time, Eisenhower said he could not conceive that the "common sense of America" would ever require such action.

Sees Purpose in Red Arms Shipments

Lloyd Warns U. N. of Mideast Danger

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd solemnly warned the United Nations today that the Middle East is an area "of greatest tension at the moment."

He appealed to the Soviet Union to give some thought to "the dangers in their policies of increasing tension" by supplying arms and agitating Arab states.

Lloyd declared that the deliveries are on such a large scale that some quarters feel "the purpose behind this is to prestock forward bases for the Soviet Union itself."

The foreign secretary said Britain views the situation in Syria "with grave concern."

"I do not think that the Syrian people have any idea of how far their true interests are being subordinated to those of the Soviet Union," he declared.

"The long term bill will be a heavy one."

Lloyd told the 82-nation forum that the Russian outline of the Middle East situation, as delivered last Friday by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, was "utterly divorced from reality." He added:

"I cannot conceive that they really believe in them (Gromyko's words) themselves."

The top-ranking British diplomat delivered his government's official viewpoint on the possibilities for a partial disarmament agreement.

On test explosions, he reported that all sides, including the Soviets, now agree in principle on suspension of tests and the need for an inspection system.

But he reiterated that "the suspension of tests by itself does not stop the arms race" and there was no agreement on cessation of production of fissile material for warlike purposes.

Lloyd described as "valueless" the Russian promises to renounce the use of nuclear weapons while refusing to allow controlled cessation of manufacture.

Major Highway Plan Revealed

Road Would Connect Cities Over 50,000, Mackie Says

DETROIT (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie's plans include a major highway that would tie together all Michigan cities of 50,000 population or more.

Addressing a meeting of the Inter-County Highway Commission, Mackie last night said the route would extend from the new Straits of Mackinac Bridge to the Ohio River.

He said it probably would follow a course along U.S. 27 from the bridge to Grayling, parallel M76 to Standish, follow U. S. 23 past Bay City, Saginaw, Flint and Pontiac into Detroit.

The exact route has not been determined, he said.

Mackie, elected last April, said he also had under study a proposed network of expressways in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The Inter-County Commission includes representatives of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe Counties. It is seeking to co-ordinate highway construction in the metropolitan area around Detroit.

Shannon said the Clinic made $200,000 profits in 1956. He said Haluska insisted his salary as administrator be raised from $600 to $1,000 monthly. Check stubs were introduced to show that Haluska received as much as $3,000 a month from the Clinic.

Commissioners to Study 6-Part Zoning Ordinance

BIRMINGHAM — Overtime hours were indicated last night when commissioners said they would hold special sessions to study the six-part proposed zoning ordinance.

First session is slated for early next week.

The new ordinance will consider such revision reports as: existing land use and zoning report; proposed zoning ordinance report; proposed zoning ordinance text; revisions of other ordinances; schedule of regulations and proposed zoning map.

Prepared by the Plan Board, the new ordinance is designed to meet all possible situations in development in the city.

Norman W. Berry, vice chairman of the planners, has requested that commissioners adopt the new ordinance as early as possible.

This is necessary so that new business building may be governed and controlled along more desirable lines.

Bloomfield Hills Police have scheduled a Friday session with four Birmingham boys, 15 and 16 years of age.

Hills officers report the boys have allegedly stolen hubcaps and tires, broken windows and driven across lawns.

Three families, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mack and Mrs. Eleanor Bordinat have petitioned the city of Birmingham to change the name of their street.

The three houses are located on Merritt Lane, which actually is a short continuation of Midvale street. Property owners say that legal papers use the Midvale address, as does the post office.

Tradesmen visiting the homes, plus guests and persons making delivery are confused and spend many hours searching for the homes.

Commissioners notified them that a public hearing will be necessary and will be set up as quickly as possible.

In connection with the national observance of Kids' Day, Birmingham Kiwanis Club will hold its annual peanut sale Saturday.

Proceeds will be used to further the club's youth programs.

The school district receives state aid for transporting children who live outside of the 1½-mile radius of the school they attend.

The Waterford Township school board, supplementing monies from the state general fund, allows children to ride the buses if they live outside a one-mile radius, rather than the 1½-mile distance set by the state.

Shunck said that the position of the Board of Education is that the district is not in a financial position to transport all of the children.

★ ★ ★

Total enrollment for Waterford Township school district is 10,300. There are approximately 4,000 children living within a one-mile radius who do not receive bus transportation.

Some 6,000 children are transported throughout the school district by 29 buses now in operation.

"The only way that more funds can be made available financially from the state is through legislative action," Shunck said.

A trucker from Local 142 in Gary, Ind., said Hoffa "should not be condemned until proven guilty."

Little Rock Integration Crisis at a Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Negroes stayed away from strife-racked Central High School today. Quiet crowd of some 200 white persons watched with placid detachment, contrasting sharply with a wild mob which rioted at the scene yesterday when nine Negroes entered. Five white men apparently recognized as agitators and two North Little Rock High School students taken into custody by police. Quick nabbing of agitators seemingly has quieting effect on crowd.

SEA ISLAND, Ga. — Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus cuts short his attendance at annual Southern Governors Conference and announces he's flying back to Little Rock today in National Guard planes. Says thinks his presence at scene will be "a settling influence." Also urges that "my guard" — Arkansas National Guard—be again called out to restore order. Faubus barred Negroes from Little Rock's Central High School for nearly three weeks earlier this month, asserting he called out the troops to maintain peace and order. The guardsmen were withdrawn after federal court proceedings.

NEWPORT, R.I.—President Eisenhower moves quickly to place the power of the federal government behind public school integration at strife-torn Little Rock, Ark., and insure attendance of Negro children at a white high school without molestation. He ordered the Arkansas National Guard and the state's Air National Guard federalized to deal with the crisis. Eisenhower's vacation headquarters announced he would fly back to Washington and make a nationwide television-radio address on the crisis tonight. His order to Secretary of Defense Wilson to federalize the Arkansas military units said Eisenhower's cease and desist order to Little Rock rioters had not been needed. He also authorized Wilson to call out federal troops.

SEA ISLAND, Ga. — Governors from Southern and border states express shock over Eisenhower announcement that he ready to use federal troops. Immediate reaction of governors is against presidential assumption of federal authority to force integration in the South.

NEW YORK — Vice President Nixon lays blame for Little Rock disorders at Faubus' door, asserting the governor's handling of the situation "had the inevitable effect of inspiring extremist elements."

Local Boards Weigh School Bus Problem

By SYLVIA DE STEIGER

Oakland County school boards this fall are confronted with the problem of deciding if they want to foot the bill themselves for school bus transportation for a total of more than 10,362 children or let them walk a maximum of one and one half miles to school.

If they decide to pay, they then have another problem . . . where will the money come from?

RESTRICT BUDGETS

The boards are and will have to continue to reduce, postpone and restrict several phases of their budgets since transportation will not be available through state funds for these children who took the school bus last year, according to William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools.

This school bus problem arose following the June decision of the Michigan legislature to provide school bus transportation funds only for those students living outside of a one and a half mile radius of the school.

Previously, the state paid for the traveling expenses for all children except those living within one mile from school.

MONEY IN TILL

Emerson suggested four steps or alternatives boards could take to help put some money in the till to pay for school bus transportation.

1. Reduce maintenance services such as repairing furniture and desks; washing walls and reseeding grounds.

2. Add students to each classroom if the pupil-educator ratio is low.

3. Restrict carefully all transporting by developing shorter and quicker routes.

4. Postpone the replacement of outmoded instructional equipment.

5. Restrict the purchase of instruction supplies such as maps and supplies.

Emerson pointed out that the personnel could not be cut this year because the law was passed after contracts had been signed.

Thus far, two repercussions have occurred in the county on the school bus problem and one of them is a direct result of the amendment to the state school aid act.

Parents of students in the Avondale school district who have protested the bus service curtailment, gained ground on the subject Thursday when the Avondale School Board voted to have school buses pick up students, even those with the controversial half mile.

The schedule of when and where the buses will stop now is being rearranged. Where funds will come from has not been determined.

★ ★ ★

School bus transportation has also caused trouble in Waterford Township. Yesterday parents began picketing the school bus terminal and the school board office.

They want bus transportation for all school children in Waterford Township until safe walking facilities are available.

The parents claim their children are in danger, walking to and from school because of the lack of sidewalks.

MAKE 2 CHANGES

According to Emerson, two changes were made in the recent amendment to the statute:

1. The state will underwrite the cost of bus transportation to and from school for children living one and one-half miles or more from school instead of the previous one mile distance.

2. Appropriations on the total amount of funds to be issued to all Michigan schools for bus transportation was limited for the first time to 12 million dollars per year.

The effect of the legislative action on the school boards was also two-fold, according to Emersan.

1. "It forced local districts to immediately underwrite transportation of students between the one and one-half mile radius which, in many districts, amounts to more than 50 per cent of the children," Emerson said.

Throughout the entire county, the students last year living between the one mile and one and one-half mile radius totaled 10,362 of the total 45,822 county children transported by bus to school.

Transportation is provided through state funds in 22 of the 30 county school districts since it is limited to rural areas.

Secondly, according to Emerson, the statute limits school districts to a maximum of $60 per child for the bus transportation.

The amount to be provided for each county is determined by the number of children in the district who require transportation, the density of population of the district and the distance traveled beyond the one and one-half mile mark, Emerson explained.

Last year, Oakland County received approximately one million dollars for school bus appropriations.

In the 1955-56 school year, Brandon, which transported 908 of their 950 students more than one and one-half miles to school received the highest amount of money per student $39.76.

Avondale and Waterford each average approximately the same with about $17 in state funds being given to their district for bus transportation.

He stressed that the school population throughout the county this year increased approximately seven per cent.

He estimated six miles was the farthest distance elementary students lived from schools in Oakland County while 12 miles would be the maximum for high school students.

★ ★ ★

The average distance which elementary school children would travel on a bus would be two to four miles, four to six miles for secondary schools.

The statute prohibits transportation claims for students living within the city limits.

Women Love Dogs More Than Husbands

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — It is a known fact, especially in the Park Avenue set where they gossip considerably if not always considerately over the pentyard fence, that many a woman lavishes more love on her dog than her husband.

A common expression is, "Hate him, love Fifi."

WHY SO

What is not so well-known, except by an expert in such poodling matters as this, is that even more men lavish more love on more dogs than wives do.

★ ★ ★

"Some are quite silly about it, really," says Joan Kruger. She's the expert. "A man wants his dog to have the very best—mink, if he can afford it, for outdoors; smoking jackets to match his own for nights at the television; the finest leather shoes for inclement weather, that sort of thing."

★ ★ ★

Many's the man, in fact, whose poodle looks more at home in El Morocco than his wife does.

Mrs. Kruger, a stately woman with hair the color of Irish setters, runs a grooming and canine couturiere shop on Park Avenue called "Poodletown" — subtitled "Chi, Chi Chien, Inc."

BRING THEM IN

She has spent the last seven years there, observing the widely varying species of people whom dogs bring in on leashes.

She has concluded that man is perhaps dog's best friend.

"One man, who'd had his dog to me for grooming, took him all the way home to Gramercy Park before he noticed that the whiskers on one side were an eighth of an inch, maybe, longer than on the other side. The man brought the poodle back immediately—was afraid to even off the whiskers himself.

"He thought," and Mrs. Kruger smiled understandingly, "he might hurt the little fellow."

Both masters and mistresses these days tend to want to keep up with the Jones's dog, even if it means a slight scrimping on the wardrobes of other family members. Mrs. K. points out, for example, that the women's dress and cosmetic business has tripled in the last decade—but the canine clothing and grooming industry is 10 times what it was in '46.

The new offerings for dogs, in "Poodletown's" rather exclusive line of costumes and separates, includes: Six varieties of mink coats, priced from $300 to $900 ("The white mink is rather ridiculous, because most dogs would rather eat it than wear it," says Joan, "and I never push it"); nylon pajama sets, specially constructed for ease in squat, sprawl and playing "dead dog;" satin and lace doggy cocktail collars to match ladies' cocktail aprons.

★ ★ ★

"Velvet is the big thing in women's fashions this year, so there are also velvet collars and leashes to go with cashmere sweaters and other smart things," Mrs. Kruger adds. "The only things we can't copy successfully from Paris styles are the low decolletage and the long-waisted chemise look.

★ ★ ★

"They don't seem to 'do anything' for dogs.

"Except fall off."

Wooed Girl Conductor

LONDON (INS)—Some men may haunt stage doors, others may camp under balconies, but 21-year-old David Archer rode on a bus. A London court told Archer to keep away from attractive girl conductor Gwynneth Sang after she complained he rode on her bus "night after night for hours on end."

Will Is Fulfilled: Hundreds of Pets Are Put to Death

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Hundreds of pets owned by the late Mrs. Gladys Poctor were shot or put to death with anesthetics yesterday.

The will of the wealthy Mrs. Proctor, read after her death in her moldering 30-room mansion last week, specified that all her pets and other domestic animals must be destroyed.

★ ★ ★

The animals and birds, killed by veterinarians and cattle slaughterers under supervision of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, included: 120 sheep, 4 ponies, 2 cows, 2 bulls, 3 pigs, 2 spaniels, 3 cats, 7 parakeets, a hutch of chinchilla rabbits, and flocks of pigeons, geese, ducks and guinea fowl.

★ ★ ★

"My sister was devoted to her animals," Mrs. Christabel Taylor told a reporter. "She feared that when she died they would not be looked after properly. This has been a terrible day."

Rows Over to U.S. to Start Crime Career

WAUSA, Wis. (AP) — Police said yesterday they were holding a young Canadian for illegally entering the United States in a row boat. Authorities identified the man as William C. Cobban, 21, Toronto, Ont. He was being detained for Milwaukee immigration officers.

Police quoted the young man as saying he rowed a boat across the St. Clair River near Detroit so he could launch a career in crime. But he said he couldn't go through with his plans and was on his way home when he was arrested Sunday trying to hitchhike.

Officers said Cobban was carrying gloves, a glass cutter, a dagger and a piece of rubber hose made into a blackjack.

Without the earth's atmospheric pressure — about 18 tons per person — blood would literally boil in the veins of human beings.

Dominican Leader Seriously Wounded

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Dr. Tancredo Martinez Garcia, a leader of Dominican Republic exiles, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday in an apparent assassination attempt.

He was felled by a bullet fired by a gunman at the door of his office in downtown Mexico City. He was taken to a hospital with a head wound. Police were looking for a Cuban who came here three weeks ago from the Dominican Republic.

Famed Surgeon, 97, Ends Career

Dr. Rudolph Matas Dies After Outstanding Work in Surgical Techniques

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dr. Rudolph Matas, whose revolutionary work in surgical techniques opened broad new fields to medicine, died last night at 97.

Death came quietly to the kindly, stooped surgeon once lauded by another great doctor, William J. Mayo, as the "greatest surgeon I have known." Matas had been hospitalized for two years.

★ ★ ★

He drew honors from a dozen nations for his work in blood vessel surgery, the use of anesthesia and transfusions.

The son of a Spanish physician, Matas was born near New Orleans Sept. 12, 1860, and studied in France, Spain and Mexico before graduating from Tulane University Medical School here in 1880.

★ ★ ★

When he was 80, he said he was through operating, with a few exceptions.

On his 93rd birthday, he said he was not afraid to acknowledge his age.

"Most people are afraid to admit their antiquity," he said, "but I am proud of the fact that I've resisted so successfully the erosions of nature for so many years."

He served as president of the American and International College of Surgeons.

His wife died in 1918. They had no children.

Rare Prairie Animal Faced With Extinction

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (INS) — Poisoning of the obnoxious prairie dog has led to the near extinction of a rare animal, the black-footed ferret.

Olaus J. Murie, author of "A Field Guide to Animal Tracks," reports the rare mamal is only found in Wyoming now, although it once roamed nearly all the prairie states.

Ferrets depended up the prairie dog as their basic food and have disappeared as mankind introduced poison to kill off the prairie pests.

Takes Snakes to Church but Reptiles Just Bored

ARENA, Wis. (AP) — Woodrow Roberts took his rattlesnakes to church here but it didn't do the reptiles much good. They just rattled and writhed all through the services.

The Rev. Gene Kordick, pastor of the Arena Bible Church, said he'd never had such competition before.

Roberts, who stopped for services on the way to a reptile farm, kept the three snakes in a glass topped container.

Dulles Declares Plan of Improving Weapons

Secretary of State, JOHN FOSTER DULLES, just made a plain and straightforward statement that we applaud.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Dulles declared that he hoped no nation would be so naive as to believe — or hope — that in case of war, "ethical principles" would prevent us from using our nuclear weapons. He added that this country proposed to keep right on testing and improving the ones we have already produced.

And there are others "in process."

★ ★ ★

These blunt, sweeping assertions were made before the United Nations General Assembly. We heartily approve of this springboard. The Secretary of State couldn't have picked a finer original audience or a more understanding group of listeners.

Everyone caught on.

This includes the Russians.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the Air Force announces that it has just brought about a very satisfactory test of a Snark, inter-continental missile that carries a nuclear war head in jim-dandy style. That, also, is comforting and welcome news.

★ ★ ★

When a reduction program is launched that prevents cheating and a faithless acceptance of terms, this nation will be in the front ranks. But until then, the Secretary suggests, our manufacturing units will be busily engaged in producing more and better engines of complete and total destruction.

★ ★ ★

How does all this read when it is clearly translated into the Russian language?

Good King Haakon

When Norway and Sweden dissolved their union in 1905, Norway invited Prince KARL of Denmark to be king.

As early evidence of his democratic outlook, Prince Karl agreed on condition that the Norwegian people were permitted to vote on the question of a monarchy. They did — almost four to one in favor. As a result since 1906 the Danish prince has been the much beloved, and deservedly so, King Haakon VII or Norway.

HAAKON married a granddaughter of VICTORIA, Princess MAUD of England who died in 1938. The king's death at the age of 85 recalls his heroic role in World War II. He defied the mighty German army and directed Norway's mercantile fleet to join the Allied fleet. But as we all know, Norway was betrayed by VIDKUN QUISLING, later executed as a traitor, and the royal family was compelled to flee to London under direct Nazi plane attacks.

★ ★ ★

HAAKON's son, 54 year old OLAF V, whose wife PRINCESS MARTHA of Sweden died in 1954, has taken over as constitutional monarch. As provided by law, there will be no formal coronation. In World War II OLAF helped organize a force of free Norwegians based in Great Britain and became commander-in-chief of Norway's armed forces in 1944. He is expected to continue the democratic traditions of his father.

★ ★ ★

The death of King HAAKON, the world's oldest ruling monarch, is genuinely mourned by Norway's 3.5 million people and in all freedom loving nations of the world.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN is reputed to have said it was impossible to overestimate the dumbness of the general public, which may have been true in his time, but producers of television and radio commercials do so with the greatest of ease.

"IF YOU are attacked by a shark, grab his pectoral fin and ride with him, and he can't bite you," advises a fisherman. Maybe not, but he could drown us, and that would be discouraging.

"IT IS a mistake to display a great deal of your merchandise in the show window," asserts a merchandising journal. The modern girl might do well to take note of this.

Sept. 28—Southern Methodist vs. Georgia Tech.

Oct. 5—Maryland vs. Duke.

Oct. 6—Detroit Lions vs. Green Bay Packers.

Oct. 12—Michigan State vs. Michigan.

Oct. 18—Saginaw vs. Pontiac.

Dec. 7—Pitt vs. Miami.

Dec. 15—Detroit Lions vs. Chicago Bears.

All entries must be received in The Press Office by NOON on Friday of this week. That's less than three days away.

Better send in your entries NOW, or you may deprive yourself of the easiest $300 you ever earned. Perhaps you'd rather see somebody else have those bonds. It's up to you.

Last year many entries arrived too late. Send in your predictions by next mail, and you won't be numbered among the 1957 contestants to kick themselves out of a chance on that $300. The mailman's ready.

Where Segregation Is Vital!

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Must Not Call Out Troops

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's threat to use "whatever force may be necessary to prevent any obstruction of the law and to carry out the orders of the Federal court" presents America with her gravest internal crisis since the Reconstruction era.

LAWRENCE

It's a constitutional crisis in which the law advisers of the President apparently have boldly sought to bypass the state of Arkansas itself and to declare the people of that area in what amounts to a state of insurrection.

NOT BY TROOPS

For Federal court orders are not usually enforced by Federal troops. They are enforced by U.S. marshals with warrants for the arrest of specifically named individuals who flout the authority of a court or its injunction decrees.

To send Federal troops into any area without a request from a governor or the state legislature violates the Constitution.

To call out by a Federal order the militia of a state except to put down "insurrection" also violates the Constitution. Do the President's advisers mean to issue a proclamation telling the whole world that an "insurrection" has broken out in America?

ERASE BITTERNESS

The President's statement says, "It will be a sad day for this country—both at home and abroad—if school children can safely attend their classes only under the protection of armed guards." But can they attend them amicably even then? Can Federal troops overnight erase the bitterness of parents, reflected in the attitudes of their children, and compel harmony where there is already a highly emotional discord?

The President would have been better advised to have asked the governor of Arkansas to close the schools to all children for a cooling-off period during which the processes of reason and moral suasion could have been brought to bear as the rights of the states and of the community were argued out in the Federal courts.

As it is, the people in Arkansas are confused. They want to obey the Constitution. But the Constitution says that Congress passes the laws. No law has been passed forbidding segregation. The people of Arkansas, through their senators and representatives in Congress, have had no opportunity to express themselves on whether or not segregation shall be forbidden by law.

The Supreme Court of the United States, of course, has spoken and says that no state shall retain any law that compels segregation. But having said this, there is no formula for dealing with the problem by specific laws. The Fourteenth Amendment itself says that Congress alone shall pass legislation to "enforce" the amendment. This has never been done.

Many people in America do not realize that the issues raised by the Supreme Court of the United States in the desegregation cases are not clear-cut and that there must be time given for definition and clarification. It will never be done by threats of military force in free America.

The governor of Arkansas called out the National Guard to preserve order and prevent bloodshed. He was enjoined by a Federal court order from continuing to do what he thought to be his duty as chief executive of a state. Now there is disorder and the Federal government is reported to be ready to ignore altogether the state government of Arkansas and intervene of its own accord on the theory that Federal troops may be used to enforce a court order.

It is still up to the governor of Arkansas to preserve order. If he cannot do so, the Constitution of the United States says he can ask the legislature to convene and request Federal aid or, if the legislature is not in session, he can ask Washington directly for the aid. That's the constitutional way to proceed. Anything else is a "might makes right" doctrine buttressed only by the questionable philosophy of dictatorships that the end justifies the means.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not; I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. —Rev. 19:10.

★ ★ ★

We must not forget to keep worship at the heart of life.—Henry Hodgkin.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Infants, Adults Both Need Daily Quota of Calcium

Did you know that human infants are born calcium poor? The body of a newborn baby contains only 20 grams of calcium, or about seven-tenths of one per cent of its weight. The body of a fully developed human adult, on the other hand, can safely be said to contain over one and four-tenths per cent of its total body weight or twice the amount per pound the child's body contains.

Hence, the normal development of infants and children requires food relatively richer in calcium than in other body building elements. This is necessary in order that the body may increase both in size and in its percentage of calcium at the normal rate.

For infants in their first year, the recommended allowance of calcium is one gram per day. A gram is about a quarter of a teaspoonful.

At 21 years of age the recommended allowance for adult maintenance drops to 0.8 grams per day, with the exception of pregnant or lactating women. However, it is better to allow one gram (instead of 0.8 gram) for adult maintenance in order to provide for the individual variations of calcium needed among various people. Variations of available calcium content among various types of food are an important additional reason for the more liberal allowance.

With advancing age the assimilation of calcium and the utilization and retention of calcium in the bones, teeth, nerves, voluntary muscles and heart muscle tend to decline. Whether this is due to aging or to faulty diet and inadequate daily exposure to sunlight or diffuse daylight is a moot question. It is like another moot question — which came first, the chicken or the egg?

From our newer knowledge of nutrition and from my own observation of the state of health and functional efficiency of children and adults, I am more disposed to believe that lifelong nutritional deficiency (malnutrition) — especially calcium, D, B-complex and iodin deficiency — accounts for most of our everyday complaints and explains why most Americans are not fit for military service.

So remember — a gram a day — as much as you can dip up on a dime — as much calcium as you get in 1¼ pints (three glasses) of whole milk, skim milk or buttermilk.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"A change in public opinion will alter our laws—but not God's laws."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Prescribes Treatment for 'Shakes'

Teenagers aren't the only one to get the "shakes" when they are asked to speak or sing in public. Just notice the case of Clark outlined below. As we grow older, we are likely to develop tremors of the hands. So scrapbook this case for future reference or mail it to relatives and friends who may need it.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-302: Clark T., aged 57, is a very able clergyman.

"Dr. Crane, I have a very serious problem with my hands," he began, "for when I get into the pulpit, they tremble constantly.

★ ★ ★

"And if I lift up the church bulletin or a sheet of my notes, the paper rattles till it is audible to those in the front pews.

"And because we have a loud speaker system, my wife tells me that the noise can even be heard all over the sanctuary.

"This tremor of my hands has grown worse the past few years. Now I am becoming so self-conscious about it, that I forget my sermon and stumble like an amateur.

"I am so disturbed that I have even considered giving up my pulpit, but I don't like to surrender to this complex. Is there any psychological help for me?"

HAND TREMORS

As people grow older, they often develop tremors of the hands. Sometimes these tremors are greatly increased when we take hold of any object or try to use our hands in public.

★ ★ ★

We may call them "intention tremors," meaning that the trembling gets worse when we intend to do something.

And certain ailments like Parkinson's disease also involve the hands. So a medical check-up is always in order, and certain drugs can often help a great deal in allaying our nervousness.

These tremors of older folks are not to be confused with the normal stage fright or "shakes" of the teenager who makes his first speech in class or proposes to his sweetheart.

★ ★ ★

But even an experienced clergyman like Clark can have a throwback to his teenage feeling of stage fright if he grows too self-conscious about his defects.

CALM YOUR HANDS

So learn to be philosophical. Realize that tremors of the hands are much like gray hair, arthritis and other signs of advancing years.

Laugh at them and you can become partially free from their domination. If you don't develop this wider outlook, you may then end up as an abject slave of your trembling digits.

But here is a little psychological trick that will reduce your tremor whether you are a teenager or an older person.

Seize your paper (or music) IN BOTH HANDS! Then pull gently in opposite directions.

Oddly enough, you may then show no quiver at all, though you are still as nervous or jittery as before.

★ ★ ★

For the counter-traction or opposing pull of the two hands seems to neutralize the quivering of both.

For further advice on such matters, send for my booklet "Strategy for the Public Platform," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets

Voice of the People

Says Organized Labor Is Responsible to All America

My apologies to readers of The Press for making this reply to Hoffa Supporter, whose letter isn't worthy of consideration and is an insult to the intelligence of other working men. It does, however, reflect the irresponsible logic by which labor has become infested with crooks. With this observation in mind, it can be said that the majority of organized working men despise intimidation and collusion which make graft and theft possible. All responsible laboring men strive to maintain an honorable relationship in their bargaining, which in turn sums up their security and happiness as well as that of other Americans. Organized labor is responsible to all America and not only to its members, as Hoffa Supporter and cohorts would have us think.

More Discuss Police Situation

I've been reading that the Pontiac Police Department is going to have a top to bottom study made by a Chicago firm. The force should be at the top of the survey. While driving on Saginaw, a policeman in an unmarked car made a U-turn in front of us, almost causing two wrecks, yet when he had to slam on his brakes to avoid hitting another car, he gave the driver a ticket. Police are trained to uphold the law, not break it. The Department does a good job in nine out of ten cases, but let's get rid of the one who gives the others a bad reputation.

Mrs. Betty Martin

Orchard Lake

Why should a police chief try to get rid of a policeman with a long and good record because he let a man get away? This wasn't the first such case, and no others have been suspended. One of the men has never had a blot on his 11-year record, has received citations for outstanding work plus a letter of commendation from the Detroit Narcotics Bureau. Is a suspension the type of support you would expect? The city is advertising for more policemen while trying to get rid of experienced ones. Any man would be foolish to answer that ad with such working conditions.

20-Year Resident

What a show we are being treated to here in Pontiac. We scour the country for a chief of police, make him take tests, pay him a top salary to do one of the most important jobs in the city, then stand by and watch a municipal judge hamstring his attempts to do his job. The judge acquits a lawyer of assault on an officer, dismisses I don't know how many traffic violations and glibly says he is not guilty. I wonder if the reaction among other lawyers in town is thinking they must have missed a couple of law classes that McCallum attended. Yet we will sit by and next election we'll see the names Finnegan and McCallum on the ballot, say to ourselves, "Now, there's a couple of good Irish names. Let's vote for them." My recommendation is to overcome this voting lethargy.

We want to thank the many Pontiac citizens who attended the Civil Service Commission hearing last week. It's inspiring to know so many are interested not only in the welfare of officers who serve them, but also in boards, committees, etc., whose decisions and proposals directly affect their everyday life.

We would also like to thank members of the Commission, Mr. Ewart, the City attorney, and Paul Meredith, attorney for the Police Officers Association, all of whose efforts resulted in the fair and just decision handed down by the Commission. To members and officers of the Association go our heartfelt thanks for both moral and financial support offered by these men.

Contradicts Article on Judge Moore

I was shocked to see an article on Judge Arthur E. Moore in a Detroit paper.

I've been a practicing attorney in Pontiac for over 46 years and have known the Judge since he was admitted to the bar. I have had to appear in his court many times and he has been an excellent and capable judge. The suggestion that he plays favorites is uncalled for. It's such articles as this that make it hard to get capable men to take public office.

In supporting the Judge, I'm not looking for favors, but I believe in treating everyone fairly. This article is certainly unfair and someone is trying to nail Judge Moore to the cross.

Bob Considine Says:

Haakon 7th Symbol of Norway's Resistance

NEW YORK (INS) — King Haakon VII of Norway, who died the other day, was a unique monarch. For one thing, he was elected king — the first king Norway had had in 500 years of union with Denmark and Sweden. His name was Carl, Prince Carl. No last name. The Danish royal house doesn't go in for last names.

(Another Danish prince named Philip, son of Prince Andrew of Greece (a Dane), renounced his royal title when he became a British subject, and took his mother's family name — Montbatten — for want of a father's surname. He is a great-great-grandchild of queen Victoria. So is his wife, Queen Elizabeth II.)

Haakon showed unlimited contempt for the Nazis when they marched into his country. He refused to appoint Vidkun Quisling his prime minister, escaped to England, ran Norway's 4,000,000-ton fleet of merchant ships from there, became one of the symbols of the resistance movement.

He had a long run. The plebiscite which accepted him (he refused to consider the job unless it was held) supported him by a vote of 259,563 to 69,264 — back in 1905.

He liked to joke about the limitations of his authority, as ordained by the constitution. One day he dropped a handkerchief on a Oslo streetcar (a not unusual perch) and was delighed when a fellow passenger retrived it and handed it to him with a bow. "Thank you," the King said. " I treasure my handerchief, it's the only place in my kingdom I can poke my nose into."

The Paris Review, published by Sadruddin Aga Khan, contains an interview with Truman Capote in its current issue:

Interviewer: When did you first start writing?

Capote: When I was a child of about ten or eleven and lived near Mobile. I had to go into town on Saturdays to the dentist and I joined the Sunshine Club that was organized by the Mobile Press Register. There was a children's page with contests for writing and for coloring pictures and then every Saturday afternoon they had a party with free Nehi and Coca Cola. The prize for the short story writing contest was either a pony or a dog, I've forgotten which, but I wanted it badly.

Junior Editors Quiz on ASTRONOMY

QUESTION: Is there any life on the planets?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Most astronomers agree there is no evidence of life as we know it on any of the planets. It's fascinating to think there might be people on the planets we see gleaming in the sky from time to time—and on the planets we can see only through a telescope. But although we can't say definitely it's impossible, it isn't very likely. The planets have poisonous gases or such extremes of heat and cold or other conditions that no human life such as we have on the earth could live there. Our neighbor, Mars, probably interests more people than any other planet. Most scientists believe Mars has simple plant life, such as lichens or mosses. We still don't know if that means conditions exists on Mars that could also support some kind of animal life.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find out when one of the planets visible to the unaided eye will appear in the sky—and look at it. Or visit a planetarium.

Frank Sinatra got off the floor with his role "Maggio" in "From Here to Eternity." From all accounts, Red Buttons, crushed to earth like truth, and by TV critics, has risen similarly as Airman Kelly in "Sayonara." Speaking of actors, James Parker, who plays the air force sergeant in the new Cinerama "Search for Paradise," was drowned during the filming of the fantastic voyage of a rubber raft down the bruising rapids of the Upper Indus River as it pluges crazily toward the Arabian Sea. "Search for Paradise" opens in New York tonight. It is a travelogue bedeviled by plot and the two seams of the Cinerama system. But the Air Force scenes are as breathtaking as anything ever filmed. No script can dilute the shock of a sonic boom.

Brawl at Banquet in Honor of Britain

MONTEVIDEO—A visiting mission composed of British Members of Parliament nervously watched a battle royal they had innocently caused in Montevideo.

The British mission was so popular that the Uruguayan politicians at the banquet in their honor began a heated argument about the order of precedence. It exploded into a brawl.

Celebrities stripped off their dinner coats, tore tablecloths, threw cutlery at each other and waved their arms. Deputy Jaime Baylay challenged former vice president Hector Gerona to a duel.

Negroes Leave 'Finest' School

Desert Modern Building in Little Rock to Battle for Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Negro students who entered Little Rock Central High School today left behind them what officials say is "one of the finest schools in the South."

The city's high school for Negroes—the Horace Mann—was completed only last year at a cost of a million dollars. It is an ultra-modern structure with 36 classrooms, 28 teachers and 688 students.

NEARER HOMES

The Negro students entering Central High School told Federal court last week that they wanted to make the move because it is nearer their homes than Horace Mann and because Central High offered certain subjects not taught at the Negro school.

Privately, however, the students admit that their main reason is "principle"—their wish to help end racial segregation.

Horace Mann High was named after the famous 19th century Massachusetts educator instead of a Negro, as is customary for colored schools in the South, because officials felt that white students would one day have to attend it.

★ ★ ★

Horace Mann Principal L. M. Christophe, one of a handful of Arkansas school heads with a doctorate degree, declined to compare his school with Central High. He would only say:

"We are accredited. We have our strength and we have our weakness."

Ed McCuistion, assistant commissioner of education for the state and for 14 years director of Negro education, said:

"The curriculum at Horace Mann compares very favorably with that of Central High. In fact, they have the same curriculum planned.

★ ★ ★

"There are more courses offered at Central High, but that is because there are more students. However, there are more courses offered at Horace Mann than at Little Rock's other white high school, Hall High.

★ ★ ★

"As for the faculty, teacher for teacher Horace Mann will have more and better college degrees than you will find at Central. But that is true throughout the state. Most all the Negro schools have teachers with more qualifications than a comparable white school."

★ ★ ★

Little Rock school officials call Horace Mann "one of the finest schools in the South" — Negro or white. Situated on a 22-acre tract in the very heart of Little Rock's Negro population, it is a complete school unit—lacking only a football stadium.

★ ★ ★

But the Negroes can—and do—make use of the 14,000-seat stadium attached to Central High.

Expert Predicts End of Rabies

Recent Research Finds New Vaccine; Appears to Offer Hope of Safety

BERKELEY, Calif. (INS) — America's top expert on rabies said that recent field tests on new vaccines offer hope that the dread disease can be eliminated completely in the foreseeable future.

Dr. Ernest Tierkel, who heads the U. S. Public Health Service's Rabies Research and Control Center in Atlanta, Ga., told INS he was "much encouraged" over recent progress in battle against the disease.

Rabies untreated, he pointed out leads to inevitable, agonizing death both in animals and humans. The standard treatment until recently for human beings has been virtually the same as that developed more than half a century ago by Louis Pasteur.

Within the past year, Dr. Tierkel said, a new vaccine has been devoloped which appears to be without danger of ill effect to the patient. It has been tested successfully on patients bitten by rabid animals in California and elsewhere and may be available for general use within another year, he said.

★ ★ ★

A newly-developed dog vaccine is so effective, he said, that its general use can eliminate completely this source of the disease.

Top public health and wildlife experts from western states, Alaska and British Columbia gathered in Berkeley over the weekend for a work shop conference on rabies control.

Red China Bars Tourists From Getting Real Facts

WASHINGTON (INS) — An expert on China states that official Communist guides are barring foreign visitors from seeing conditions as they really exist in Red China.

★ ★ ★

The view was set forth by Richard L. Walker, chairman of the University of South Carolina's department of international studies, in an article for the U.S. Information Agency's bi-monthly magazine "Problems of Communism."

★ ★ ★

Walker declared: "For handling foreign visitors, the Mao regime has applied the same techniques developed by the Soviet Communists over the past four decades."

He explained that this includes organized "shepherding" of visitors in narrowly restricted itineraries aimed at showing only the favorable sights of the "New China."

DENIED ACCESS

Meanwhile, Walker said, they are "denied access" to such places as "Tibet, minority areas, border regions, the coastline of South China, forced labor camps, and famine and flood areas."

In Hong Kong that the story of the 1954 floods, the worst in Chinese history, broke."

He added: "Most of the visitors to the mainland in the late spring and summer that year knew nothing about the seriousness of the situation until they left China."

★ ★ ★

Walker said that a study of numerous accounts of trips to China indicated that most were "reports on the same model factories, farms, collectives, Shanghai kindergarten and other sights."

No foreign visitor yet has been allowed "to rove the countryside at will," Walker said. He asserted: "None has talked with such controversial purged intellectuals as professors Liang Shuming or Hu Feng."

Instead, Walker said, visitors nearly all fall into a 20-to-40-day pattern of a train trip from Canton to Hankow and then to Peiping, and sometimes Manchuria or western China.

Fateful Warning About Suez Given in Strange 1951 Prophecy

A strange man in Los Angeles known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64-page booklet analyzing famous world prophecies covering these times. Written in 1952, it successfully predicted that the next great world crisis would be at the Suez Canal. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and the years that change the world are at hand. Great dangers but still greater opportunities, confront forward looking people in 1957.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now being simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64-page booklet he is now offering free to the public gives guidance for those who wish to prepare themselves for the momentous days ahead. It gives details of what to expect, and when. Its title is "Beware of These Days!"

The book formerly sold for a dollar, but as long as the present supply lasts, it is offered free to readers of this notice.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page book, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 768-E, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

70-Year Effort Pays Off; Mackinac Bridge Reality

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

ST. IGNACE (AP)— The spectacular bridge across the Straits of Mackinac really is a dream come true.

The dream began away back in 1884. It came true in 1957.

The Lansing Republican, long-since gone, reprinted a story Feb. 5, 1884, from the Grand Traverse Herald saying that an experiment to provide year around boat service across the Straits had failed.

And the story went on to say that a bridge or tunnel would be required if a great east-west route were ever to be established through Michigan. The writer viewed either a bridge or tunnel as practicable, but raised a question of cost.

The answer to the question finally turned out to be 100 million dollars. And the mode of crossing is the Mackinac Bridge, not a tunnel.

★ ★ ★

William Saulson, who ran stores in St. Ignace and Seney, acquired in 1884 a woodcut of the Brooklyn Bridge, which was dedicated in 1883, and used it in his weekly newspaper advertising, as well as on wrapping paper.

Above the artist's conception of the Brooklyn Bridge, Saulson had this printed: "A Glimpse of the Future."

And below the bridge was this: "Proposed Bridge across the Straits of Mackinac."

Minutes of a meeting of directors of the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island July 1, 1888, quote Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt thus:

"We now have the largest well-equipped hotel of its kind in the world for a short season business. Now what we need is a bridge across the Straits."

The great Firth of Forth bridge was then being built in Scotland. It was completed in 1889.

SUGGEST FLOATING TUNNEL

In 1920 Frank F. Rogers, then state highway commissioner, suggested a floating tunnel connecting Michigan's two peninsulas. He invited other engineers to submit their views.

C. E. Fowler of New York suggested a series of bridges and causeways, starting at Cheboygan, 17 miles south of the Straits, and touching Bois Blanc, Round and Mackinac Island in its leap to St. Ignace on the north.

The legislature ordered the highway department to start ferry service in 1923. Railroad car ferries which had carried a few automobiles and passengers each trip no longer could handle the traffic.

By 1925 Gov. Fred Green ordered the highway department to make a study of the feasibility of a bridge. A cost estimate of 30 million dollars caused what construction steps had been taken to be abandoned.

In 1934, when Public Works Administration money was available from the government as a depression-beater, talk of a bridge was revived.

The 1934 legislature, meeting in extra session, created a Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, but the latter never was able to obtain loans or grants from PWA.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, then highway commissioner and later governor, never gave up hope of bridging the Straits. Under his administration a new, direct route was mapped and borings made along it for bedrock. Comprehensive studies of traffic, ice formations and water currents were made.

Finally, Van Wagoner built a rock causeway jutting out 4,200 feet from the north shore off St. Ignace and preliminary plans for a double suspension bridge were drawn.

But by 1940, with armies on the march in Europe, progress halted. And in 1947 the Legislature abolished the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority.

Bridge dreamers didn't quit dreaming, though, and in 1950 the Legislature created the Mackinac Bridge Authority. But the authority was limited only to determining feasibility of a bridge.

In 1951 the Authority came up with a report holding a bridge feasible and estimating the cost at 86 million dollars. A shortage of materials occasioned by the Korean war stymied progress this time.

In 1952, however, the Legislature granted the Authority powers to sell revenue bonds. It finally sold $99,800,000 in 1953 to an investment syndicate.

Ground-breaking ceremonies for what is now one of the world's wonder bridges took place May 7-8, 1954.

Industrial Gas Use Up

NEW YORK — Industrial consumption of natural gas in the United States during the last 25 years has increased from 4½ billion therms to nearly 38.4 billion. Utility revenue from this source has risen elevenfold, from $90,674,000 to $1,059,000,000.

Build-It-Yourself Home to Be Erected

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A packaged build-it-yourself house will be erected today in Washington Square.

It's a dome-shaped structure designed by R. Buckminster Fuller of New York. It consists of 30 sheets of plastic-faced plywood, bolted together.

The house is 25 feet in diameter with about 500 square feet of floor space. It has kitchen and bath with screens separating the living area.

The do-it-yourself house will become part of San Francisco's art festival, opening Thursday.

Drained crushed pineapple and grated lemon or orange rind may be added to prepared whole cranberry sauce and used as a relish for poultry or meat. Chill after mixing and before serving.

State Group's Meeting Postponed for Series

DENVER (AP)—A scheduled public hearing by the Governor's Apportionment Commission has been postponed a week to Oct. 9, 10 and 11, Gov. Steve McNichols said today.

★ ★ ★

The commission was named by the governor to study ways of reapportioning the membership of the State Legislature.

★ ★ ★

McNichols said the week's postponement was ordered because the commission figured too many witnesses and commission members would be centering their attention on the forthcoming World Series.

Nasser Offers Arms to Tunisia

Ambassador to Cairo Says Pact May Come After Official Visit

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser moved yesterday to extend his influence westward in North Africa with an offer of arms to pro-Western Tunisia.

Tunisia's ambassador to Cairo, Altayeb al Sahbani, said the offer had been accepted. But government sources in Tunis declined to confirm or deny the report.

★ ★ ★

They said, however, a Tunisian-Czechoslovak commercial accord was scheduled to be signed today and it "might also provide for arms."

★ ★ ★

Al Sahbani said the types and quantity of weapons would be agreed on when a Tunisian military mission visits Cairo. He did not say when the talks would be held.

The ambassador also announced President Habibi Bourguiba of Tunisia would visit Egypt later this year and that Nasser has accepted an invitation to visit Tunisia. No dates for the trips were set.

★ ★ ★

Nasser and the Bourguiba have not been on close terms in the past. Moves toward friendlier relations came after Bourguiba ousted the Bey of Tunis and became president of the Tunisian republic last July.

Tunisia and Egypt are separated by Libya along the rim of North Africa.

Egypt has received large shipments of Communist bloc arms in the past two years and now has surplus of obsolete British, French and U.S. military equipment.

★ ★ ★

Tunisia, which won independence within the French Union last year, has been seeking arms for its 6,000-man security force.

Says Teamsters Would Go Back to AFL-CIO

MIAMI BEACH INS — Thomas L. (Honest Tom) Hickey, who is opposing Detroit's James R. Hoffa for the presidency of the powerful Teamsters Union, predicted 75 per cent of the Teamster membership would go back to the AFL-CIO if the union is ousted.

The 64-year-old New Yorker, general organizer for the 1,400,000-member organization, said in Miami Beach AFL-CIO president George Meany would have to form a separate Teamsters Union if he kicks the present organization out of the merged body.

★ ★ ★

Hickey said "90 per cent" of the membership wants to remain within the AFL-CIO. The merged organization has indicated the Teamsters will be ousted unless they rid themselves of Hoffa and outgoing President Dave Beck.

Hickey contended the forthcoming general elections, which will take place at the union's convention opening Sept. 30 in Miami Beach, "are wide open."

He said his own candidacy is "a lapse of the gods" but that he is in the race to stay. He questioned that Hoffa will win in a walk and said: "I'll have to see it to believe."

Hickey, who is secretary-treasurer of Local 807 in New York, said in his opinion the Teamsters "can't operate individually."

New Flu Epidemic Expected in Colorado

DENVER (AP) — Outbreaks of Asian flu at Fort Carson, near Colorado Springs, and at the University of Colorado in Boulder are on the wane.

But health officers predicted today between 10 and 15 per cent of the state's 1,600,000 residents would be stricken by new waves of the disease within the next two months.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Gordon Meiklejohn, director of medicine at the university's medical center, said epidemics during the next few weeks "will be just as explosive as the one at Boulder. They come up awfully fast."

★ ★ ★

Director Roy L. Cleere of the State Health Department said the new wave "won't hit everywhere at once. It will hit a community in a period of a week or so, then pass on."

About 3,000 cases of Asian flu have been confirmed in Colorado. Fort Carson has reported 1,800. About 900 have been ill at the university. There have been no deaths.

Both lacrosse and tokonhon (stick ball), or shinnny, were played by American Indians long before coming of the white man.

Security for You

Renting Rooms Poses Many Problems

By RAY HENRY

"Dear Mr. Henry: My husband died ten years ago without ever working under Social Security. He owned a neighborhood store which I continued to run until a few months ago. I sold it because it got too much for me.

"He also left me a large, rambling home which I've continued to keep up. Our children have all married. I love my home and don't want to give it up. I'm thinking of making a rooming house of it. If I should, what's the deal on Social Security? Mrs. H.D."

The question raised in this letter is one that crops up often. It seems that a lot of widows and older couples, unwilling to give up the family home, have turned to renting rooms—particularly in cities.

What to do about Social Security in such cases does pose a problem. And, what to do to solve it is not always clear.

Generally, if you're renting rooms, you're considered self-employed in the eyes of the Social Security law.

This means that you must pay Social Security tax on your net earnings from the room rent and, thus, you earn credit toward old age, disability and survivor payments provided in the law. The only qualification is that your net earnings must be at least $400 a year. If the earnings aren't that high no Social Security tax must be paid and no credit toward future payments is given.

★ ★ ★

But, not all rooming house operations are covered by the Social Security law.

The test is whether in renting rooms you also provide certain services to the people occupying the rooms.

For example: Suppose you had a large home in a college town and you rent rooms to a number of students. If, in the course of renting the rooms, you supply maid service to the students, you're covered by the Social Security law.

Maid service, incidentally, includes such things as making beds, furnishing towels and linens, providing laundry service and regular dusting and cleaning of the room and furniture.

On the other hand, if you rent rooms and don't provide these services, you don't have to pay the Social Security tax and aren't covered by the Social Security law.

For example: Suppose you own and live in a large row house in New York City. If you rent the rooms of the upper stories as apartments to married couples, your earnings don't come under Social Security.

★ ★ ★

The furnishing of heat and light, the cleaning of public entrances, exits, stairways and lobbies, the collection of trash and so forth are not considered the kind of personal services which qualify you for Social Security.

In this case, your income is considered rent from real estate which is excluded from consideration as earnings under Social Security, unless you're in the trade or business of a real estate dealer.

Unfortunately, these examples don't cover all the Social Security problems which might come up when a person rents rooms. Borderline or questionable cases are always showing up.

If you think your situation might be one of them, you should talk with the nearest Social Security representative and get a decision about your Social Security status.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to 'Social Security,' in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Duvalier Winning in Haiti's Election

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Dr. Francois Duvalier rolled up a top-heavy lead in presidential election returns today and a losing candidate hinted at violence.

Unofficial counts in heavily populated rural areas indicated that the 48-year-old Negro doctor was winning there by about 10 to 1.

Duvalier claimed victory last night. His headquarters indicated he was sure of more than 60 per cent of the 1,300,000 votes cast Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Former Sen. Louis Dejoie, Duvalier's principal opponent, hinted that there might be widespread disorders. Some of his supporters threatened to burn the capital if he lost.

Dejoie charged wholesale fraud. He charged that his followers had been harassed by mass arrests and intimidation.

Scores of sullen Haitians clustered about the porch and lawn of Dejoie's home here awaiting word from their leader, a 61-year-old mulatto plantation owner. He gave no indication he was about to concede Duvalier's election.

2 More Shots Listed in 1958 Nuclear Testing

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says only two more performances remain in its 1957 nuclear extravaganza—both balloon shots.

No. 23 in the long test series, a shot code-named Charleston, had been tentatively scheduled for firing this morning. But it was canceled last night. The AEC said on-site contamination from yesterday's Whitney shot was the reason.

Officials said Charleston may be fired at 5:30 a. m. tomorrow. No date has been set for the final one.

Baghdad Allies Ready Defenses

Work on Joint Shield Against Red Moves in Middle East

LONDON (AP)—The five Baghdad Pact allies and the United States worked today on a common shield against Soviet penetration and internal subversion in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

Delegates studied a secret intelligence report describing moves by Red agents in Syria to bolster antigovernment elements in Lebanon and Jordan. While neither belongs to the pact, both are friendly to the West.

Delegates also tackled other intelligence reports assessing Soviet influence in Syria, Egypt, Yemen and other Arab nations.

★ ★ ★

The delegates, who began their work yesterday, are members of the Antisubversion Committee of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact.

Britain, Pakistan, Turkey, Iraq and Iran are full members of the pact. The United States belongs only to the organization's anti-subversion, economic and military branches.

★ ★ ★

The Antisubversion Committee will draw up for the pact's Ministerial Council a report outlining a joint program to combat internal and external pressures created by anti-Western plotters.

As the Baghdad Pact representatives met in London, a Syrian leader made new charges against the West.

Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry, the Syrian army chief of staff, told several hundred officer cadets at the graduation exercises of Syria's Homs military academy that the army must be ready "for the forthcoming battle which imperialism might launch by surprise."

Bizry asserted the United States was "caught red-handed" plotting to overthrow the Syrian government.

Science Will Study Drinking Motorists

LANSING (AP) — Drinking drivers will come under scientific study in a new move to cut Michigan's traffic accident toll.

Leaders of the Citizens Highway Safety Action Committee yesterday directed a subcommittee to collect available scientific data which might permit the state to crack down on drinking drivers and drinking pedestrians.

Dr. John Rodger of Bellaire, named to head the investigating group, said a wealth of such information already is available from safety and medical organizations. He said his committee will look into the desirability of legislation to curtail highway drinking.

Secy. of State James M. Hare, who called the meeting, said the Legislature eventually will have to fix more exact standards to determine drunk driving, possible with scientific testing devices.

Meanwhile, he said, his department needs some "rule of thumb" to determine to what extent alcohol is responsible for individual accidents and arrests.

Mother Made Men Out of 5 Rockefeller Brothers

NEW YORK (INS) — The five Rockefeller brothers were made multi-millionaires by their grandfather and father, but they were made men by their mother.

And those two influences have worked throughout the individual, yet similar, lives of David, the brain; Winthrop, the charmer; Laurance, the mechanic; Nelson, the energetic, and John D. III, the slow but sure.

MILLIONS AT WORK

The five brothers, aged 42 through 51, have put their millions to work in everything from developing special agricultural grasses to Latin American diplomacy, and recently to the distinctly non-esoteric question of how to keep the baseball Dodgers employed as "Brooklyn Bums."

Crusty, dime-giving John D. Rockefeller, oil "robber baron" and philanthropist, left them America's most fabulous fortune, estimated once at a billion dollars.

But it was the late Abby Greene Aldrich, daughter of the millionaire Rhode Island Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, who gave them rock-ribbed character.

WED SON

She wed old John D's son, John D. Jr., and worked with him to turn the family more and more from getting money to giving it. Both she and John D. Jr., who is still living at the family's huge Tarrytown, N. Y., estate, were devout Baptists.

Although she had more money than she could ever spend, she never owned a diamond tiara nor an opera box. Rarely did she leave her children to servants. She raised them herself.

Thus by the time she died nine years ago, they had become a fitting tribute to an amazingly strong-principled yet humane woman who numbered among her favorite philanthropies, for instance, a Negro school she helped establish at Williamsburg, Va.

RESEMBLED BY SONS

You can see her sharp, slender nose on every one of her sons, but even more you can see her influence in the men they are and the things they do.

For instance, she was interested in a Negro philanthropy. Her son Winthrop finally found himself building and managing his huge Winrock stock farm on petit Jean Mountain in the Ozarks of Arkansas. He appointed James Hudson, a Negro, general superintendent of the huge operation not far from Little Rock.

This, then, is the background that made them, bound together by family loyalty, yet divided by distinct interests. Their relationship is perhaps best shown by their homes. All have houses on the huge family estate, Pocantico. But David's is Georgian, Winthrop's modern, Laurance's a sort of continental modern, Nelson's Dutch colonial and John's a French farmhouse.

David is a Harvard graduate, Winthrop a Yale man, Laurance a Princeton grad, Nelson, Dartmouth, and John D. III, a Princeton alumnus.

Were you to see any one of them getting out of a cab in New York City, you'd never look twice. They always appear as conservative, well-dressed businessmen, except perhaps Winthrop who reportedly has worn cowboy boots into one or two New York nightclubs.

Gift of Enos De Waters Big Boost for School, Art Center Project

FLINT (AP) — The $20,000,000 Flint college and cultural development program moved another step nearer completion this week when Enos A. De Waters, a former General Motors executive, added $320,000 to the $1,000,000 he previously had contributed.

The 83-year-old De Waters served as chief engineer of the Buick Motors Division of GM from 1910 until his retirement in 1930.

De Waters' latest gift brought the development fund to $16,000,000.

De Waters' total contribution of $1,320,000 represents the entire cost of the cultural art center which will bear the names of Enos A. and Sarah De Waters Art Center. Mrs. De Waters, his wife and also a noted philanthropist, died in 1949.

The art center originally was designed as a two-story building but construction of the second floor had been planned for the future.

★ ★ ★

The increasingly heavy enrollment at Flint Junior College created an urgent demand for more classrooms, and officials decided to go ahead with the second floor which will include 12 classrooms, conference rooms and study rooms.

SPONSORS ASSIST

The committee of sponsors of the college and cultural development fund came to the assistance of the city's board of education and appropriated the money for the second floor.

De Waters' latest gift matches the money put up by the committee of sponsors for the addition.

The art center will include a huge gallery for exhibitions, plus working space for the various artists. It will be ready for use in late 1958.

Meanwhile, in another phase of the college and cultural development project, officials announced plans for an Oct. 2 dedication of the Mott Memorial Building.

★ ★ ★

The Mott Building will be used primarily by the Flint college of the University of Michigan.

GAVE MILLION

Charles Stewart Mott, three-time mayor of Flint, an automotive pioneer and philanthropist, gave $1,000,000 towards the building as a memorial to his parents, John C. and Isabella T. Mott.

The total cost of the building and equipment was $1,150,000 with the committee of sponsors making up the difference from the general contributions.

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, U of M president, will be the main speaker at the dedication ceremonies which will be attended by the faculty members of the Flint College of the U. of M.; regents, officers and deans of the U. of M.; public officials and the U. of M. band.

EXPENSIVE PARKING — Time was when a man could tie his horse to a hitching post, amble inside the nearest saloon, and not worry about his mount for the rest of day. That was the way it was when the west was really wild, but it isn't that way any longer. In fact, the owner of this horse in Independence, Mo., has only 20 minutes left of his nickel's worth on the parking meter and he'd better hurry if he doesn't want to return to find a ticket pinned to the saddle horn.

Only 25 Others May Be Alive

5 Men of German Vessel Taken Off Leaky Lifeboat

LONDON (AP)—Five crewmen of the German sailing ship Pamir were rescued yesterday from a leaking lifeboat. They said no more than 25 others could have survived.

They reported only one other lifeboat—loaded with 25 crewmen—got away when disaster and Hurricane Carrie struck Saturday in the Atlantic. The Pamir carried a crew of 86.

Their report spurred a search by 10 ships in the stormy area 350 miles southwest of the Azores.

It was a race with the violent sea. The five men said high waves washed five of their comrades overboard to their deaths only a short time before a U.S. freighter came out of the murk to save them.

Orange-colored lights and flares were spotted earlier in the day, leading to hope that the other lifeboat still was afloat.

★ ★ ★

The five survivors were found by the 7,251-ton Isbrandtsen Lines freighter Saxon. The Saxon radioed they were in fair condition despite the buffeting.

They were transferred last night to the Military Sea Transport Service ship Geiger for medical treatment. They will be taken to Casablanca.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Coast Guard officials in New York said messages from the Saxon indicated the second lifeboat had been launched Sunday night. But there was no information as to how long the five men had been in their small boat.

The operators of the Pamir, the Zerssen Co. of Hamburg, quoted the survivors as saying they do not know whether the vessel actually sank. They said their lifeboat was launched while the Pamir was still afloat and that they did not see her go down.

★ ★ ★

The last word from the Pamir came Saturday when she sent out a distress signal saying: "Heavy hurricane. All sails lost. 45-degree list, danger of sinking."

The ship was bound from Buenos Aires to Hamburg with a cargo of barley. She left Buenos Aires Aug. 9. She carried 51 cadets training for the German merchant navy and 35 regular crewmen.

Laborites Demand Debate on Economy

LONDON (AP)—The opposition Labor party last night demanded that Prime Minister Macmillan recall Parliament for an urgent debate on Britain's economic situation.

★ ★ ★

Parliament is scheduled to end its summer recess Oct. 31 but the Laborites want an earlier session to take up the financial situation that precipitated last week's boost in the Bank of England interest rate to 7 per cent in an effort to check inflation.

★ ★ ★

Macmillan is not bound to grant the Laborite request, but when an important issue arises a government normally grants an opposition demand for Parliament to reassemble.

Canada Reports Fifth Flu Death

Outbreak Is Spreading Across Nation and Into Far Northland

TORONTO (AP)—A fifth death was reported today in the influenza outbreak spreading across Canada.

A 23-year-old religious teacher died from pneumonia after catching flu in Rouyn, a northwestern Quebec community.

Three other deaths have occurred in Ontario and one in British Columbia.

★ ★ ★

Flu has spread into the country's northland, infecting citizens of Whitehorse in Yukon Territory. Schools there and in two other territories were closed yesterday.

In some areas health officials said laboratory tests have not yet determined whether the outbreak is Asian flu.

But at Amos, in northwestern Quebec, officials said there definitely have been cases of Asian flu. Four schools were closed there.

★ ★ ★

Schools also have been closed at Sturgeon Falls, in northern Ontario; Sherbrooke, in Quebec 80 miles east of Montreal; and Trail, B. C., where more than 500 students were infected.

About 350 of the 2,000 air personnel at a depot at St. Johns, Que., had flu. Eight nurses were flown in, and emergency hospital units were set up in several buildings.

★ ★ ★

At Calgary, Alta., Dr. W. H. Hill said an epidemic exists. The health officer said thousands of new cases had been added since Friday.

U. of M., MSU Plan Expansion

Would Double Rate in Next Five Years

LANSING (AP) — Between them, the University of Michigan and Michigan State University have been adding plants during the last five years at a rate of better than 200 million dollars annually.

If the state Legislature would go along with their present plans, the two institutions would more than double the rate in the years immediately ahead.

★ ★ ★

These facts emerged from a survey of construction activity on the Ann Arbor and East Lansing campuses, plus their announced future intentions.

At its last five regular sessions, the Legislature has appropriated a little over 42 million dollars for capital outlay at the U. of M. and MSU.

But with the aid of other financing, the two big schools, with enrollment totaling over 43,000, have been able to add structures costing a total of about 110 million dollars—counting those begun since 1951 and either completed or in course of construction.

The figure does not include work started prior to 1952 and finished in that year or later.

A breakdown by institution assigns 53 million dollars in plant additions to the U. of M., and about 57 millions to MSU.

HOUSING AT MSU

A great bulk of the 42 millions in projects financed at MSU other than by funds voted by the Legislature was put into housing of one sort or another. At the U. of M., housing represents a little less than half of outlays totaling about 26 million dollars.

Generally, dormitory charges and student fees have provided most of the financing for improvements undertaken with other than legislative appropriations, although the U. of M. benefited from some large gifts.

The dormitory charges and students fees were pledged in support of bonds which provided the cash directly.

FUNDS FROM ATOM STUDY

At the U. of M., the Pheonix Memorial Laboratory to develop peacetime uses of the atom, the Ford Nuclear Reactor and medical school library were built with gifts totaling more than three million dollars.

Other than housing, a women's physical education building and a Union addition at the U. of M. were two of the larger projects financed out of fees.

MSU by this method provided nearly three million dollars for enlargement of its football stadium, more than 1½ millions for a health center addition and about $450,000 for a music practice building and is paying for intramural buildings for men and women plus a student services building with aggregate value in excess of nine millions.

Only last week, the U. of M. programmed 123 million dollars in new construction for the next five years, counting about 22½ millions for hospital and medical facilities construction. MSU laid out a blueprint for 111 million dollars in capital outlay during the next four years.

Presumably, the U. of M. regents and the state board of agriculture, MSU governing body, are looking to the Legislature for much of the 234 million dollars.

Since the Legislature for general state purposes in 1957-58 appropriated only 341 million dollars, their chances of getting any very sizable proportion from this source would not appear too rosy.

Two Boys Find Sightless Man's Seeing Eye Dog

Charles Spencer's sight was returned yesterday after two boys found Chips, the blind man's "best friend" and pilot.

Spencer, 59, of 45 Virginia Ave., who has been blind since 1924 following an accident, reported to police his five-year-old doberman pinscher was missing.

★ ★ ★

Within 24 hours, Chips was found by Bill Eddy and Jay Bedtelyon in the rear of their home at 58½ Franklin Blvd.

The boys reported their findings to police and Spencer was escorted in a police car to the garage where Chips was barking as if frightened.

"I held out the harness and he jumped up and put his head in it," Spencer happily reported.

★ ★ ★

A report that a dog following the same description as Chips was struck by an auto at Saginaw and Huron streets yesterday was believed true since Chips was favoring his hip, Spencer said.

"I think it's just a bruise," he said, "but I'll take him to the vet today for a checkup anyway."

Given Prisoner on Straits Span

State Police Use Bridge in Transporting Suspect to St. Ignace

ST. IGNACE (AP) — State Police have used the not-quite-completed Straits of Mackinac Bridge to return a prisoner from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace.

Two details of troopers met yesterday at a barricade on the center of the five-mile span that links Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas and William Franklin, 26, was turned over to Detective Harold Morrison of the St. Ignace Post.

It marked another "first" in the history of the 100 million dollar bridge.

Franklin, an unemployed laborer, was wanted here for investigation in the theft of movie and press cameras and an office typewriter from the public relations department of the Bridge Authority.

Morrison quoted Franklin as saying he committed the theft. Herman Ellis, official photographer of the Bridge Authority, estimated the value of the articles at $2,500.

Franklin was picked up at a Petoskey bus station on the report of a man he is alleged to have tried to sell a camera.

Troopers from the Petoskey post got permission from the Bridge Authority to effect the transfer at the barricade after they learned they would be unable to make immediate ferry connections at Mackinaw City.

The barricade, consisting of two lowered crane booms, was erected to discourage unauthorized crossings. The bridge will not be open for traffic until Nov. 1.

Clark Equipment Co. Starts Layoff of 250

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The Clark Equipment Co.'s Truck Division has begun a gradual layoff of 250 of its 1,800 employes in an economizing of operations.

Robert Andrews, plant manager, said yesterday the plant is undergoing a realignment to meet with "shifting needs of the national economy." He said sales programs are being readjusted with the company "tightening its belt and getting rid of some of the frills."

'Boarder No. 93' Starts Routine at Cheam School

LONDON (INS) — The clanging of a bell at 7:15 this morning signalled the first day of school for Prince Charles—"Boarder No. 93" at Cheam.

After a quick wash, Charles had breakfast at 8 a.m.

He then began sorting out his clothes and sports gear in preparation for commencement of the school term. It was perhaps the first time the eight-year-old heir apparent to the British throne had ever sorted out his own clothes.

Charles was taken to Cheam, about 50 miles from London, by the Queen and Prince Philip. They remained a few minutes then left him to face life on his own for the first time.

★ ★ ★

Unlike the other boys at the school, Prince Charles—called simply Charles by his classmates—dressed in a black tie today in mourning for his great uncle, King Haakon of Norway who died Saturday.

Russians Invent 'Sleep Machine' for Mental Health

MOSCOW (INS) — A leading American neuro-psychiatrist reported today that the Russians have invented a "sleep machine" for treatment of mental illness.

Dr. Horsley Gantt, director of the Pavlovian laboratory at Johns Hopkins Medical School, also said the Soviets have developed a technique which could be used, perhaps, to diagnose organic disturbances, such as cancer, at an early stage.

The psychiatrist said that the new "sleep machine" puts patients into a deep sleep during which many of their nervous troubles disappear.

Soviet scientists, he said, in another advance, are now able to predict manic depressive attacks in advance and prevent them.

Gantt spent four and one half years in Russia in the early 1920s studying under the "conditioned reflex" biologist Ivan Pavlov. At that time, he found the Pavlovian technique was used to treat neurotics and psychotics in Russia.

★ ★ ★

But present-day Russian psychiatrists, he said, treat mental patients with the "sleep machine." The contraption is operated by electricity. It repeats a tiny galvanic stimulus until the patient falls into the deep sleep.

John Martin Urges Probation Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—John B. Martin Jr., former Michigan auditor general, was among civic leaders from five states who urged increased prison probationary services yesterday at a study group meeting in New York.

★ ★ ★

The Grand Rapids attorney said it costs Michigan $1,200 to $1,600 yearly to keep a law violator in prison and only $150 to $250 yearly to supervise an offender on probation.

★ ★ ★

The civic groups said at a news conference that crowded prisons were causing huge tax expenses and that many prisoners could advantageously be put on probation at great savings, if facilities were available.

She'd Like to Remain on Ranch

But Eva Bowring Devotes Talents to Serving Nation

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Eva Bowring says if she could live selfishly she'd stay in her "home meadow" in Cherry County, Neb., rock on her porch and run her Bar 99 Ranch.

★ ★ ★

"But, we can't just live for ourselves," she says, "and citizens owe something to their country."

Twice Mrs. Bowring has come to Washington to serve. From April to November 1954 she was a member of the United States Senate, filling out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Neb.).

ON PAROLE BOARD

She had no desire thereafter to run for a full term. However, she returned to the capital in November 1956 to serve as the only woman member on the U.S. Board of Paroles.

★ ★ ★

There were other considerations besides patriotism which prompted her to accept the last appointment.

"I felt it would be a way of showing my appreciation of the fact that I had raised three sons who behaved themselves if I could help those who had misbehaved," she told me.

★ ★ ★

The job also presented a real challenge, she added. "I wouldn't have accepted otherwise. There are too many interesting things I want to do."

TOO MUCH TOWN

She has run the 7,000-acre ranch single-handedly since Art Bowring's death in 1944. Her sons by her first husband who died in 1924, she guesses had "too much town in them" and like the ranch only as a place to visit.

★ ★ ★

Visit they do frequently and with five grandchildren make the comfortable six-bedroom ranch house, which she also takes care of all by herself, ring with gaiety.

The colorful, energetic ranch woman, who looks much younger than her 65 years, has been too busy with her government job to get back to the Bar 99 the past year as much as she'd have liked.

★ ★ ★

Members of the parole board go quarterly to each of the federal institutions assigned to them where inmates have made application for paroles. They go through the individual's files, make recommendations.

MANY RELEASED

Between 30 and 40 per cent of federal prisoners eventually get out on parole, though not always on the first application, Mrs. Bowring says, and the majority will get along all right.

★ ★ ★

There are times, she says, when she has to refuse an application on the basis of the inmate's prison conduct.

Balance Toy Diet

According to Professor Emma Dickson Sheehy, Teachers College, Columbia University, a balanced diet of toys is essential to proper growth of children. Just as every growing child needs a proper balanee of nutrients to build a healthy body, he also needs the right assortment of play equipment to help him in his all-around growth — his physical, mental, and social development. Such an assortment should include toys that provide action, concentration, and relaxation.

Spain Boasts Best Buys in Leather, Lace, Jewels

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

BARCELONA (INS)—If you want to get in on a shopping bargain in Europe, visit Spain.

The sunny land of castenets and bullfights offers some of the best buys available to the American tourist—from U. S. cigarettes at 15 cents a pack (they're 60 cents in France) to custom designs by Balenciaga at half the Paris price.

Leather, lace and jewelry top the list of what-to-buy cheaply. Clothing is an excellent buy if you don't mind spending a bit more money.

The trick is to buy custom-made items. For instance, Spanish shoes for women are both stylish and astoundingly cheap—but often they don't fit American feet. Yet you can order shoes made to measure for $10 up—and get them ready to wear within a few days.

The question is where to find a custom shoe-maker. The answer comes easily from your airline office, the Spanish Tourist Office, or even from your hotel staff. The same people can help if you have trouble finding what you want or in having it sent home.

The Spanish Tourist Office in either Madrid or Barcelona will provide the address of a business called "American Visitors Bureau whose main work is to pack and ship purchases made by U. S. tourists in Spain.

Shops offering lace and the famed Spanish filigree jewelry can be found in any tourist - favored city. Buy these as you would at home —from a store recommended as reputable.

Custom clothing should be chosen in the same way, either from a recommended dressmaker or from a recognized couture designer like Pertegas, Rodriguez or the world-famous Balenciaga. Woman have no trouble locating the first two, but Eduardo Otero of Pan American World Airways reports many tourists complain "they can't find Balenciaga."

★ ★ ★

Otero explains the reason: Balenciaga in Spain is spelled "Eisa," because the designer is a member of the French Haute Couture and can't sell in his native Spain under his own name except at Paris prices. The Paris prices start from $350; you can buy the same model in the "Eisa" shops in Barcelona, Madrid or San Sebastian for $150.

Their Guidance Protects Teenager on Hazardous Road to Adulthood

By RUTH MILLETT

Somebody's darling daughter, age 15, thinks her parents don't trust her because they want to know where and with whom she goes out.

In her letter she says, "Most of the girls don't have such snoopy parents."

Snoopy is hardly a just word for parents who are concerned enough to want to keep track of where she is and who her friends are.

Loving would be a kinder and fairer word. Sometimes a teenager thinks that parents who let their children go and come as they please love and trust their children more than do stricter parents.

The reverse is true, of course. It's easy to turn a teenager loose, to feel no responsibility for what she does or what happens to her.

★ ★ ★

It is much more difficult to try and guide a teenager throughm the difficult stage of growing up. Only parents whol ove their children try their hardest to help and guide them.

SHE'LL THANK THEM

So don't, Miss 15, make any mistake about the reason for your parents' concern for your welfare and safety. They aren't being strict for their own enjoyment.

They are only doing for you the things that you will thank them for when you are just a few years older.

If they loved you less they might take the easy course of letting you do as you please and taking the consequences of any mistakes you might make.

Instead they are trying to make the road from childhood to adulthood less hazardous for you to travel.

Bath Rubdown Helps Circulation

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Yesterday I wrote about the importance of the bath as a beauty and personality routine. Today I would like to discuss the health angles.

Baths long have been connected with health treatments and therapies. We all know how essential water exercises are for the polio victim. Then we have steam baths, mineral baths and even air baths.

The very hot bath is beneficial to some troubles such as mild arthritis, and there is the Sitz bath for hemorrhoids. Swimming and leisurely warm baths long have been recommended for nervousness.

You can make your bath a health measure. For instance, stimulation or friction should be a part of your routine. Body circulation should be stimulated with a rough bath mitt or a bath brush. A vigorous rub with a towel after your bath is also most beneficial.

★ ★ ★

There has been some evidence that an increase in surface circulation promotes health and especially the well being of the blood vessels. This stimulation of surface circulation is an aid to everyone and even more valuable to older persons.

INSOMNIA ANTIDOTE

Air baths have been used for many years as an antidote for insomnia and nervousness. When you take these, there should be a circulation of air in the room but you should avoid a draft. These are taken in the nude.

★ ★ ★

There always has been much argument about whether or not cold showers are beneficial. According to medical advice, this depends upon how each individual reacts to them. If yon shiver about for some time after a cold shower, leave them alone. If, on the other hand, you feel warm and glowing and stimulated by them, take them.

The swimming season is over now but if you hate to give up your daily swim or if you are troubled with tenseness or insomnia, why not continue in an indoor pool?

There is something relaxing and healing about water.

Vinegars Differ

Cider, distilled white and tarragon vinegars are made for certain purposes. Cider vinegar is an all-purpose vinegar, but is a favorite for salads and salad dressings. Distilled white is absolutely pure and best for pickling and preserving. Tarragon vinegar is seasoned with herbs and is used sparingly, because its flavor is prominent and distinctive.

Good cooking, one expert chef explains, requires a clean, well-organized, neat kitchen.

Good Nutrition Best Way to Ward Off Old Age

Many older people tend to skimp at mealtime because of the mistaken idea that as you grow older, your need for vitamins, minerals and proteins decreases.

On the contrary, modern science reveals that age makes little difference in the amount of most of the vitamins and minerals your body requires once you become an adult. In fact, in a case of less efficient absorption, the need for a particular nutrient — calcium for instance may increase as you grow older.

Developing good eating habits is one way which you can help ward off old age. One of the easiest ways for you to make sure your body is getting what it needs is to make mealtime the highlight of your day.

Preparing meals that are appetizing to the eye as well as nutritionally adequate can be a real challenge to the older person's resourcefulness.

If you eat alone, add variety by fixing tray meals which can be eaten in front of the television set, beside the radio or out on the back porch. There may be a food, eggs for example, which you should eat every day, but how many different ways can you think of to serve that food?

Delve into the cookbooks to make breakfast, luch and dinner the highlights of your day — to make mealtime an interesting, relaxing and cheerful time!

If your dog growls at a person who comes to the door, try to quiet him before you answer the door. No caller should be greeted by a growling dog.

Typing Skill Opens Many Doors

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In grandfather's day, a lot of diehards refused to have anything to do with the automobile, insisting that horses were here to stay. And today, people who refuse to have anything to do with the typewriter are in the same class.

★ ★ ★

It seems ridiculous, but day in and day out, I have to reiterate that it does pay to know how to type. However, there are several reasons for the reluctance so many people have about learning this skill.

HARD TO LEARN

First, they think it's dreadfully hard to learn to touch-type. For the one in a thousand who has abnormally low manual dexterity, it may be hard. But for the average person, it is easy as can be.

The trouble is that the one in a thousand makes the most noise and gives the impression that it is difficult.

Actually anyone who can play the piano, open a can, sew a fine seam, put bobby pins in her hair or repair a broken light cord has the necessary dexterity for typing.

Second, people think it takes forever to learn.

True, if you put up a lot of mental resistance and convince yourself that it's impossible to do, you will take a long time to learn it. But many people learn to type adequately in four weeks. After that, speed comes with use.

PROOF OF CREATIVITY

Third, a lot of people think, if only subconsciously, that it's proof of creativity not to be able to type.

"I'm not mechanical at all," they'll brag. "I'm the really creative type."

Most of the creative people I know, in writing and the arts and business, know how to type fast and accurately. Especially the young ones, almost all of whom are picking up typing in high school or college as a matter of course. It's a wise idea.

★ ★ ★

Fourth, people imagine that typing leads only to a dull job which leaves your hands swollen, back aching and nerves jangled. Of course, there are some traight typing jobs, but most of them require other skills.

OPENING WEDGE

"Some typing" can be an open sesame to such jobs as the following: Receptionist in business offices, receptionist-nurse in a doctor's office (many times you don't need any nursing training or experience at all), assistant to decorator, Girl Friday in sales office, assistant to the head of a nursery school or trade school. And hundreds and hundreds of others.

★ ★ ★

If you can type, you can add that skill to almost any other interest in the world, from sewing to cooking to children to wallpaper, and make a career for yourself.

★ ★ ★

If you've been putting off learning this skill, don't! If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, I'll send you my pamphlet on learning to type at home.

Chocolate Nut Cake Wins Prize

Mrs. Carr Uses Lemon Juice in Chocolate Frosting

By JANET ODELL

Not long ago we went to a church fair where the women participated in a cake baking contest. One of the winners was Mrs. Frederick Carr whose Chocolate Nut Cake was eagerly bought as soon as the judging was over. The lemon juice in the frosting is unusual.

Mrs. Carr says it seems as if she is baking all the time. She has three children who enjoy their mother's cooking. She belongs to the Immaculate Heart guild of her church.

CHOCOLATE NUT CAKE

By Mrs. Frederick Carr

½ cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
4 squares chocolate, melted
2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts

Cream butter or margarine and sugar. Add chocolate, then eggs. Beat well. Sift dry ingredients. Add alternately with milk. Stir in vanilla and nuts.

Bake in two greased 9-inch layer cake pans for 45 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

Frosting

½ cup butter or margarine
2 squares chocolate, melted
1½ pounds confectioners sugar
1 cup chopped nuts
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg

Cream butter, chocolate, sugar and beaten egg. Add flavoring, salt and nuts. A little milk may be needed to thin this frosting to spreading consistency. The nuts may be spread over the frosting after it is on the cake instead of being put into the frosting.

May Men Be Included in Shower?

Hostess Wants to Ask Husbands and Fiances of Guests

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give a shower for a friend of mine, but instead of having all women as is customary, I would like to have a mixed group.

"Most of her friends are either married or engaged, and I thought it would make for a much pleasanter evening if the husbands and fiances were invited. Will you please tell me if such a plan is permissible?"

Answer: Usually when men are to be included, they are asked to come in after the bride-elect has opened her presents. However, if it is a household shower instead of a personal one, there would be no objection to asking the men.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not bad manners to file one's nails in the presence of visitors? A friend and I are having a disagreement over this and would like very much to have you settle it."

Answer: To file a broken nail that is catching onto things would be permissible, but to give yourself a manicure in the presence of anyone whom you consider a visitor would be very discourteous.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Since my fiance's favorite flowers are red roses and she has requested them, I planned on having her bridal bouquet consist of American Beauty roses along with other appropriate white flowers.

"My family insists that any flowers other than white ones are not only wrong for a bridal bouquet but in the poorest of taste. Will you please tell me if red roses can be used?"

Answer: I have to agree with your family. The bride's bouquet must be white. The red roses can be beautiful in a small corsage for her going-away costume.

Hospital Needs Are Explained to Garden Club

Dorothy D. Roe, recreational director at Pontiac State Hospital, spoke to members of the Sylvan Lake Garden Club when the group met at the Oakland County Boat Club.

Miss Roe discussed ways to help make patients' lives more pleasant. She suggested projects that the various garden clubs could undertake to beautify the recreational plot at the hospital.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Roeper, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Cromis, Mrs. Charles Chandler and Mrs. Sam G. Warwick.

New members introduced at the recent event were Mrs. Richard DeWitt, Mrs. Ray Heyse, Mrs. Richard Valuet, Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. Eugene L. Johnson and Mrs. S.A. Velkolff.

Mrs. G. W. Kiefer, Mrs. Anthony Osler and Mrs. Waid Hood were welcomed as guests.

Education for Childbirth

YWCA Class to Dispel Fears

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Great expectations without great fears is taught in a San Francisco WYCA class.

Students wear maternity dresses. The teacher, Mrs. Margaret Farley, is a graduate of the University of California School of Physical Therapy and the mother of four.

"Education for Childbirth" limits enrollment to ladies-in-waiting who have written permission from their doctors.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Farley, a prime example of practicing what she preaches, was a student in one of the Y's first classes before the birth of her oldest child, a five-year-old boy.

Two years later after a daughter's arrival, she joined the teaching staff. She believes in the program so much she taught right through her third and fourth pregnancies.

"Natural childbirth, which I prefer to call educated childbirth, tries to prepare the expectant mother physically and mentally for the delivery of her baby," Mrs. Farley explains.

Most of her students are young women nervous about their first babies.

She recommends starting the eight-week course during the fourth month of pregnancy. Husbands are invited to one session to learn the facts of labor and delivery.

Mrs. Farley uses charts and movies to show mothers-to-be what to expect during pregnancy, labor and delivery.

"We don't promise childbirth without medication, anesthetics or pain," she adds. "Each woman's delivery is different and calls for individual handling by her doctor. This course will teach her to relax and cooperate, rather than fight labor, and will reduce her labor."

More than three-fourths of the "graduates" of the course are conscious through their deliveries and report "satisfying experiences."

In the exercises, women learn breathing and relaxing techniques, better posture for sitting and standing to prevent back discomfort, stretching and limbering of the pelvic area as delivery preparation, and how to increase circulation to the breasts to permit breast feeding.

They also get exercises for post-pregnancy conditionings.

The students and their husbands are urged to tour the maternity ward of their hospital so they will know what to expect. Mrs. Farley and her husband, James, approve the spreading practice of permitting husbands in the labor room with wives. The class session for men explains how they can be of help during labor.

Educated childbirth has another important benefit, the physical therapist says.

"There is less shock to the baby, particularly with a minimum of medication. And a calm, relaxed mother reflects this attitude in handling her baby."

Study Duties, Procedures

PTA to Hold Workshop for Leaders

A concentrated one-day workshop has been scheduled for October 1st at the Bethany Baptist Church to assist leaders for Parent Teacher Association groups in Oakland County.

According to officials of the Oakland County Council, various PTA personnel lack the necessary knowledge to conduct a smooth running organization.

President of the county council Mrs. Walter Havrane said, "Many parents are completely lost as to their duties in PTA work when they are elected, and with the workshop in operation, they can be trained for good, intelligent leadership."

The council, composed of 30 different schools and some 5,000 parents in the county, has felt the need for more delegates to represent their schools, Mrs. Havrane said.

★ ★ ★

Although the council has been in existence for 21 years, many people do not know the real objectives, she added.

One of the main policies is to unite efforts of educators and parents in securing the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education possible.

"The exchange of ideas, the development of leaders and the undertaking of community service projects, is the number-one aim of the county organization," president Mrs. Havrane said.

The workshop will include classes in president and parlimentary procedures, the duties of secretaries, hospitality, publicity, and membership committee leadership.

★ ★ ★

Other PTA workshops throughout the county will be conducted by the council upon invitation. The programs will be scheduled to help solve any problems that may come up in the groups, Mrs. Havrane concluded.

Reservations for the workshop luncheon from 12 to 1 p.m. must be made before Sept. 26, by calling Mrs. Alfred Keith, FE 2-1324.

School Girls, Mothers Vie for Honors in 2 Groups

By STAN BOK
Press Correspondent

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — It's no time for calorie counting in West Bloomfield Township and many other areas throughout Oakland County.

The annual Kiwanis Club apple pie contest is just around the corner.

It may well be that apple pie appears frequently on the dinner table in many township homes during the next two weeks as homemakers and school girls "practice up" for the contest.

During the week ending Oct. 12, many local contests will take place to determine winners who will compete for top county honors.

The county-wide contest will be staged on Saturday, Oct. 26, at West Bloomfield high school.

Prizes await both local and county winners.

For the first time, West Bloomfield and other Kiwanis Clubs have divided the contestants into two sections: one for junior high school and high school girls, the other for homemakers regardless of age.

2 CENTERS

There will be two centers of activity in the area covered by the West Bloomfield Kiwanians. The Walled Lake and West Bloomfield high schools will each hold a contest to be arranged by home economics teachers.

The competition is limited to double crust pies, one each per contestant, which may be no less than eight inches in diameter. Pies should be baked on aluminum (disposable) pie plates.

Each contestant is asked to submit three copies of the recipe used in baking the pie.

Judges will be furnished with apple pie score cards which allow a maximum of 50 points each for crust and for the pie filling. The highest score possible would be 100 points.

★ ★ ★

This year's contest is expected to attract a record number of entries.

Kiwanis Clubs of Oakland, Genesee and Wayne counties are joining hands with the Michigan Apple Commission in a promotion known as the "Big Ten" program, so named to link Michigan apples to the football season.

Homemakers wishing details of how to enter the contest are asked to contact John Finlayson at MA 4-1710 for details. Finlayson, chairman of West Bloomfield Kiwanis Club's agricultural committee, is arranging the county-wide contest.

'Adopted' Refugee Dies in Delaware

ROMEO — Word was received here yesterday of the death by hanging of Mrs. Johann Freiderich Haessner, 54, in Wilmington, Del.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Haessner and her husband, 60, were refugees from Poland who were "adopted" by the First Congregational Church here last winter.

They moved to Delaware after living in Romeo for several months, to be near old friends from home. The Rev. Peter Vos told of the tragedy after receiving a letter from Dr. Haessner.

The doctor said he had two offers of jobs in his field, chemical engineering, in Bavaria, West Germany. He and his wife, who had been ill, were planning to sail there Oct. 8. The couple was childless.

Rochester Names New Village Clerk

ROCHESTER — Village Council, at its regular meeting here last night, appointed Maxine Ross for village clerk.

Miss Ross will succeed Mrs. Helen Palmer, whose resignation is effective Oct. 15.

A special committee has been interviewing and receiving applications for clerk's position for the past week. Councilwoman Elizabeth Maltrott, chairman of that committee, made the recommendation and nomination for Miss Ross.

The new clerk, with the Dale and Nina Martin Insurance Co. the past 10 years and a licensed realtor, will receive $5,000 a year in her new position.

Autopsy Into Death of Monroe Athlete, 17

MONROE (INS) — An autopsy will be performed to determine if a 17-year-old Monroe High School football player who died yesterday succumbed from an injury suffered in a game last Friday.

Colin A. MacFarlane Jr., collapsed a few minutes after he was removed from the game because of a leg injury. He never regained consciousnss despite a three-hour operation at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Richard L. Waters, athletic director of the high school, said:

"MacFarlane was hurt in the leg and taken out of the game. He talked to two of the coaches and carried on a lucid conversaton. There appeared to be no sign of a head injury then.

"To all intents and purposes he appeared normal, except for the injured leg. Then, a few minutes later, he just collapsed.

Doctors said it might have been an aneurysm, or a dilation of the blood vessel."

Your PTA Is Planning

Parents View Purchase of Playground Equipment

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Roland Langerman, assistant superintendent of Walled Lake Consolidated School District, will be the guest speaker when Glengary Elementary School PTA meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday, in the school's multi-purpose room.

Langerman will discuss plans for the location of new playground equipment which will be purchased by the PTA.

PTA officials have allocated about $400 for new equipment. The money represents part of the profit realized from the annual spring fair.

Current plans call for the purchase of two new teeter totter units and the construction of two cement strips. One strip would serve as an outdoor basketball court for boys, the other would be utilized for various games by girls.

PTA members intend to make the playground complete with all facilities, a goal that represents a 3-5 year project.

A short business meeting will be devoted to the presentation of the budget for approval.

A half-hour period, from 7:30-8 p.m., has been set to permit parents to meet teachers in their respective rooms.

Refreshments will be served.

Avondale

Avondale High School PTA will hold its first meeting of the year at 8 p.m. Thursday, in the music room.

The program for the evenjng is the introduction of the teachers by R. V. Crowell, principal, and a musical period under the direction of Barbara LeBeau, choral director.

Filer City Paper Mill to Be State's Biggest

MANISTEE (AP) — American Box Board Co. officials said yesterday the firm's new $19,000,000 bleached Kraft Food Board Plant at Filer City will be Michigan's largest paper mill operation.

The new mill, with a capacity of 150 tons of bleached Kraft board daily, will boost the plant's total daily output capacity to 525 tons. It now produces about 375 tons of the corrugating medium daily.

James Challas, technical superintendent, said the new bleached board plant is expected to begin operation early in 1958.

A $1,000,000 filtration plant is being constructed as part of the new mill for treatment of water taken from the Little Manistee River and Manistee Lake and returned after plant use.

Gerald Callahans on Honeymoon

Waterford Couple Wed

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Honeymooning in Ohio are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Callahan, who were married Sept. 14 in Christ Lutheran Church here. The Rev. Arvid Anderson officiated at the evening ceremony, which was attended by some 300 guests.

The bride is the former Jo Ann Marie McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. McLaughlin of 2243 Hartford Dr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callahan of 3809 Airport Rd.

A floor-length gown of white satin, fashioned with fitted bodice and scooped neckline formed by lace roses, was the bride's choice for her wedding. The lace-rose motif was repeated in her long net gloves, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings which matched her engagement and wedding rings.

Nancy McLaughlin was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaid was Marjorie Musgrove of Keego Harbor.

Best man was Ronald Callahan, a brother of the bridegroom. Robert Gustafson of Pontiac, Jerry Gray of Bloomifeld Hills and Richard Ryan of Waterford served at attendants and ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors.

Both the newlyweds are graduates of Waterford High School. They will make their home in Miami, Ohio, where Mr. Callahan is studying to become a teacher.

Farm Bureau Lists Problems for Discussion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau federation has put out a leaflet in which it lists what it considers to be the six most important problems facing the nation's farmers.

They are:

1. How can home markets be further developed?
2. What can be done to reduce government regulation of farming?
3. What should be done about inflation?
4. What should be done about "labor monopoly"?
5. What should be done about the transportation problem?
6. How shall we expand markets abroad?

The leaflet is being distributed among the bureau's members. It makes no attempt to say how each problem should be solved. Answers will be sought, bureau officials said, at the organization's national convention in Chicago in December.

Replies to Republican Barbs

Mackie's Deputy Blames GOP for Poor Parks

LANSING (AP) — A deputy to John C. Mackie, Democratic state highway commissioner, says maybe the answer to Republican criticism of roadside park maintenance is to take the work out of Republican hands.

Deputy Sidney H. Woolner raised the possibility yesterday of a return to the "Democratic plan" of direct highway department maintenance of the state trunkline system, which includes roadside parks.

Since shortly after the advent in 1943 of Charles M. Ziegler, Mackie's Republican predecessor, maintenance largely has been handled on a contract basis, with county road commissions — mostly Republican — exercising local supervision.

Now, there is direct maintenance by the state department in only 15 of the 83 counties. In the others, the state has gotten rid of its heavy equipment and local highway garages, and would have to replace them if it went back into the maintenance business.

Woolner replied to criticism by George M. Van Peursem, Republican House speaker, about the condition of many roadside parks. Van Peursem wrote Mackie they were in "deplorable" shape and that he had received many complaints.

In August, similar criticism was voiced by Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor).

About 4,000 persons work at trunkline maintenance outside of Wayne County, keeping up shoulders, cutting right of way grass, making minor pavement repairs, removing litter and tending roadside parks.

Woolner said that after Democrats were installed in the highway department July 1 "a good many of Van Peursem's political friends" and a number of other Republican legislators expressed "great concern" lest the department go back to direct maintenance.

★ ★ ★

If Republicans agree with the speaker that contract maintenance has not been satisfactory, Woolner said, "we can and will take immediate steps to cancel all contract maintenance agreements."

Report Noel Field Visited Warsaw

WARSAW (AP) — Mystery man Noel Field recently visited Warsaw presumably in connection with the secret trial of three Polish former security chiefs, it was reported reliably today.

★ ★ ★

Field, employed by the State Department in the 1930s, accepted asylum in Communist Hungary in 1954 after five years in jail as an alleged American spy.

Exonerated after Stalin's death, he declined to return to the United States. In congressional testimony he has been called a Communist. He is a translator for a Hungarian government publishing house.

★ ★ ★

Field was in Poland in 1948 shortly before his arrest by the Communists. His participation in the trial could give it wider significance than it previously appeared to have.

Field was the key figure in all the big satellite purge trials from 1949 to 1953 under Stalin.

The resolution proposed continuing stalled U. N. subcommittee disarmament talks and suspending nuclear tests for one year.

New Type of Blonde in Films Has Her Way

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — My, how Hollywood has changed!

There was a time—not too long ago—when any gorgeous blonde who came to Hollywood for a starring role would be whisked into the photo gallery for a hot session of cheesecake. The photos would be broadcast throughout the world, together with breathy sayings by the blonde on such matters as sex, world politics and sex.

But now look what has happened to Gena Rowlands.

She hasn't been asked to pose for leg art, though she's got admirable legs. She hasn't been photographed in a bathing suit, though she fills one very well. Not a word has been said to her about cheesecake.

It's just as well.

"Because I'd say no if they asked me," she said.

SHE'S TALENTED

Gena (rhymes with Henna; real name: Virginia) is a new kind of movie blonde. She can act.

She proved it on Broadway for a year and a half as the young sweetheart of Edward G. Robinson in "Middle of the Night." MGM latched onto her for movies, but she came on her own terms—two pictures a year only.

★ ★ ★

"That's the only way I would work in Hollywood," she explained. "I'm married, and I think it's important for a husband and wife to spend as much time together as they can. This business of being apart for 8 months or 10 months is no way to have a marriage."

SENATOR'S GIRL

Her husband is John Cassavetes, the bright young actor, and he is tied up to MGM for one picture a year. He and Gena try to set up their schedules so they're working in the same place.

Gena is the lovely product of the hamlet of Cambria, Wis., the daughter of a onetime Wisconsin state senator who now is in oil in Houston, Tex. She started studying drama early, took three years at the University of Wisconsin, headed for New York and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. Another student there was John Cassavetes.

Gena jumped into television in 1954, and her big break came there.

★ ★ ★

Josh Logan caught her in a dramatic show (with her husband) on Television Playhouse, tagged her for the role opposite Robinson in "Middle of the Night."

Youth Admits Lying About Being Beaten

PRINCESS ANNE, Va. (AP) — A white Akron, Ohio, youth who said three Negroes beat him up, then drove off with his girl friend and his car was arrested early today on charges of giving false information to police.

★ ★ ★

The youth was identified as Kenneth Charles Cody, 18.

Norfolk Patrolman L. E. Miller said Cody confessed his story was a hoax after an interrogation at Norfolk's DePaul Hospital, then was transferred to the Princess Anne County jail to await a hearing.

Miller said Cody had given the allegedly abducted girl's name as Sharon Oppet, but admitted later that no such girl existed.

Miller said Cody told police that he made up the story after being dishonorably discharged from the Navy yesterday morning, after which he engaged in a drinking bout with a couple of men in a Norfolk tavern.

Hubbard Wins Primary by Nearly Two-to-One

DEARBORN (AP) — Mayor Orville L. Hubbard piled up almost a two-to-one margin over his nearest opponent yesterday in the Dearborn municipal primary election.

Hubbard polled 14,191 of the 26,253 votes cast. His nearest contender was William L. Mills, a newspaper publisher, with 7,183 votes.

Hubbard will seek his ninth straight two-year term when he Assn. at 7:15 p.m. yesterday at finals.

Nine candidates were entered in the primary.

It takes a GIANT to speed up traffic

It takes a giant highway to speed up automotive traffic and it takes a giant medium to speed up sales traffic. That medium is the daily newspaper, a giant that lives in every town.

Reader traffic through the daily newspaper is greater than ever. According to Sindlinger & Co., national statistical analysts, newspaper reader traffic reached an all-time high of 100,000,000 on an average day in January. More people read newspapers than viewed, listened to or read any other medium.

Reader traffic leads to sales traffic. The greater the traffic the greater the opportunity for retailers, wholesalers, distributors and regional manufacturers to sell more goods to more people. Your daily newspaper gives you that opportunity to knock at practically every door every day throughout the year.

Your newspaper makes it easier and faster for you to reach more prospects in your trading area. Use the direct route to speed up your sales. Use the daily newspaper.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Everyone loves a scrapper, especially in pro football where the little guy is apt to get run down by some of the mammoth hunks of beef who make up the forward walls of the pro teams.

★ ★ ★

And when you talk about scrappers with guts, you can't overlook little Marvin Brown, 149-pound halfback of the Detroit Lions from East Texas State.

If Brown makes the squad, and we should know before too long, he will be the smallest player ever to make the NFL ranks.

As a rookie, Brown could hardly be called a youngster in the league. He is 25-years old and has a son three years old.

★ ★ ★

But as a newcomer to the Detroit pro scene, with only one home appearance, he has already won the hearts of Briggs Stadium fans.

After the four huge linemen of the New York Giants smothered him with their total of 1,000 pounds Sunday to put him out of action late in the fourth period, no one since the great Doak Walker, another pint-sized pro player, ever got a bigger ovation.

Brown was helped off the field after getting the wind knocked out of him. In the locker room afterward he said," I feel good, nothing like getting hit with a half-ton truck to remind you this is pro football."

GIANTS COMMENT ABOUT BROWN

In the Giants' locker room several players were commenting about the little Lion.

Big Sam Huff, 235-pound linebacker, was talking: "That guy just doesn't give up. He doesn't hurt you when he throws a block, he just keeps getting in your road to harass you."

Brown on one occasion threw a block at Huff, bounced off without budging the big Giant but got up again and rolled right under Huff's feet to keep him from getting to the ball carrier.

★ ★ ★

It is a difficult decision for coach George Wilson to keep or cut the little guy. He would be invaluable for kickoff and punt returns, but could hardly help in blocking or tackling.

One thing for sure, whether Brown stays or goes, today's little men in football, high school or college, should feel encouraged by this fiery competitor.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

"You guys sure made yourselves at home in the Lions' backfield," this writer said to Dick Modzelewski and couple of the Giant linemen in the locker room after the game.

"You really want to know what it is," said Modzelewski, "I've got these guys on a diet of Polish 'kelbasas' and it gives them that added drive," he laughed.

The evening before the game, the 260-pound Modzelewski and several of his teammates visited his uncle in Hamtramck and put away about five pounds of 'kelbasa.'

In case you don't know, this is Polish sausage.

Basilio Dethrones Sugar Ray on Split Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—Swashbuckling, indestructible Carmen Basilio, 30, today reigned as middleweight champion of the world while dejected, dethroned Sugar Ray Robinson pondered whether to end his fabulous ring career for good.

The ever-pressing, ex-Marine from Chittenango, N. Y., stepped up from the welterweight throne to the middleweight kingdom last night by gaining a split decision in 15 gruelling, bloody and thrilling rounds over Sugar Ray at Yankee Stadium.

Robinson, 37, who won the 160-pound title four times, has a contract for a return bout within 90 days. He indicated he might hang up the gloves for the second time in his 17-year career. But the betting on Broadway was that he would be back next June for another helping of the $500,000 pie he collected Monday night.

"I don't know whether I'll ever fight again," he said in his dressing room. "There are things about boxing I don't like. There is too much intrigue. I had to battle for everything I got in this fight. I'll decide in a few days whether I'll fight Basilio again."

★ ★ ★

About the split verdict, which saw the two judges voting for Basilio and the referee for Robinson, Sugar Ray said "I have no squawks. There were two judges and a referee. I abide by their decision."

Basilio, who was cut over the left eye in the fourth round and bled from the nose, said jubilantly "I won it without question. I forced the fight and got in the most punches.'

"If Carmen doesn't get cut in the fourth, he knocks out Robinson," said Joey De John one of Basilio's co-managers. "The next time he knocks him out sure."

★ ★ ★

"The return is up to Robinson," said De John. "But we'll have to see Jim Norris (ailing president of the International Boxing Club) and see what's what."

The dramatic battle of champions was a see-saw fight which could have gone either way. The 38,000 who paid an estimated $560,000 to watch the scrap, quieted down when the scores were announced. Judge Artie Aidala had it 9-5-1 in rounds for Basilio, Judge Bill Recht made it 8-6-1 for Basilio while Referee Al Berl cast the dissenting vote for Robinson, 9-6. The AP scorecard had it even, 6-6-3.

★ ★ ★

Of 42 boxing writers polled at the ringside, 24 had Basilio the winner, 10 scored for Robinson, and eight had it even.

★ ★ ★

Robinson, snapping his jab with precision and force, reddened Carmen's face, drew blood from his nose, and kept his lighter foe off during the early rounds. Basilio, the heaviest of his career at 153½ pounds to Robinson's 160, came on to break through Robinson's defenses to sweep the eighth, ninth, 10th and 11th rounds. He staggered the big man in the 10th and 11th rounds, clobbering him with a 12-punch volley in the 12th.

That seemed to be it for Robinson. His legs appeared ready to fold under him. But in the 12th, with blood trickling from his nose, he found a hidden reservoir of strength. He took command again with his stabbing left jabs in the 12th.

In the 13th he staggered his blood-smeared rival with a left hook to the jaw seconds before the bell. In the 14th, Ray doubled Carmen over with a stunning right hand to the pit of the stomach but again Basilio, never stopped in his career, refused to fold.

His cheeks swollen, blood dripping from the cut over his left eye and his nose, Carmen drove doggedly on in the 15th to win that crucial final round with his aggressive tactics and body banging.

Tax Boys Hit Sugar

NEW YORK (INS) — The U.S. Bureau of Internal Revenue made Sugar Ray Robinson a double loser last night by filing a "notice of levy" of $514,310 against him.

The tax action was primarily an "anticipatory lien" against his expected 1957 income.

Round by Round

ROUND ONE
Robinson grazed Basilio with a good right. His flicking jabs reddened the welterweight's face. Basilio rushed the classic Robinson with hard lefts and rights, dropping in one good one to the jaw. But Robinson wasn't hurt. Robby's superlative reach enabled him to pile up points. The round ended without bloodshed.

ROUND TWO
Robinson missed a hard right and spun away during the follow-through. He tried to touch gloves with Basilio but the welterweight would have none of this and pressed him hard. He drove Robinson around the ring. Ray missed a murderous right. His jab began scoring for him again, and he moved away delicately from Basilio's durable attack. Basilio scored to the body. Ray, angered, hit him with a good right and dizzied him with subsequent punches. But Basilio kept charging, and was booed briefly when he threw (and missed) a hard right to Robinson's jaw after the bell.

ROUND THREE
Basilio, forcing the fight, went to Robinson's belly and below. Ray played it costly, dug a deep left into Basilio's middle after slipping a punch or two. A trace of blood spread out of Basilio's left nostril, as Robinson's jabs found their targets. Basilio kept probing, taking punishment, giving out a bit more than he took — for a change.

ROUND FOUR
Basilio rammed Robinson and emerged from the collision with a cut left eye. "Downstairs!" his corner shouted. Robinson was the stalker now. He had lost his hair-do, finally, and was a man looking for an opening. Ray landed a hard right on Basilio's face, but missed a much harder one. He clipped Basilio on the side as the bell sounded.

ROUND FIVE
Basilio came out with a blob of vaseline on his cut. He got in a nice left hook to Robinson's jaw. Ray was wild with his right. Basilio backed Ray to the ropes and got in two good punches to the head. Basilio outscored Ray in an exchange, then hit him a good right on the side of the head after Ray had missed again. Basilio was slippery as Ray tried to nail him.

ROUND SIX
Ray stabbed Basilio's eye like a trip-hammer. Basilio drove low to Ray's body, as the middleweight champion's jabs kept peppering him. Ray retreated judiciously whenever charged, sticking his left in Basilio's face as he did. Once, on the ropes, he held the rope with his right hand and hit Basilio a beauty with his left. Just at the bell he shot his best punch to Basilio's jaw.

ROUND SEVEN
Still, Basilio carried the fight to the heavier man, and drew a yell from the crowd with two stiff straight lefts that sent Robinson into a disorderly retreat. A one-two and two low blows also sent Ray back. Ray took a sucker right to the jaw. Carmen blocked two good Robinson punches and send two loud slaps to Ray's body.

ROUND EIGHT
Robinson's corner complained about the amount of grease Basilio was using. Basilio got in a hard right that reddened Robby's nose. Robinson retaliated with a right that was too high. Basilio beat Ray to a good combination, and then hurt him near the ropes with a one-two. Robinson grew very serious, studying his man, probing him with long jabs, but missing the openings he found. Ray was bleeding from the nose now.

ROUND NINE
Ray's left went rata-tata-tat. But Carmen fought back well, and took command. Ray was warned for a low punch and mutely apologized to Carmen, to the referee and to the crowd.

ROUND TEN
Basilio got in a flashy right, took a good one, and then fought Robinson around the ring as if he owned him. Ray was hurt and worried looking. The crowds, smelling a kill, urged the lighter man on to greater deeds. Ray stabbed, opening the old eye wound. Carmen pressed him, hurting him with lefts and rights. Ray looked weary as he found his corner.

ROUND ELEVEN
Robinson's corner again complained about the wad of ambergris, or whatever it was, that adorned Basilio's eye. Ray stunned Basilio with a right, then missed one himself and stumbled on the follow-through. But Basilio fought back amazingly, got Ray to the ropes, hit him almost without a reply — and the crowd went wild over the amazing turn of the tide.

ROUND TWELVE
Ray came out swinging. But his aim continued bad and he went back to stabbing at Basilio's face. Basilio continued to force the issue, taking punches as he closed. His nose started leaking. Ray rocked him with a long right, then two, three, four fine lefts. Basilio was wobbly. The bell saved Basilio.

ROUND THIRTEEN
Ray had regained his poise now. He moved back, struck, avoided the stumbling charges, waited.
But Basilio kept coming after him strong still. He chased Ray like a bloody bull, and got in a right hand punch that bloodied Ray's nose and sent a spray of stale sweat fanning out over the ring.

ROUND FOURTEEN
Ray stuck him and watched, keeping him away as much as possible. Ray beat him to a right, close in, and Carmen retreated for a change. Both men were arm-tired.

ROUND FIFTEEN
"It gets in Robinson's eyes," George Gainford, one of Ray's managers, said of the bear grease on the side of Basilio's head. The ref said "ug," and the round went on. Ray fought this one like a man with money in the bank. The crowd whistled for action.

Constant Pressure Won for Relentless Basilio

NEW YORK (AP)—It must have been discouraging, watching that craggy, seamed and bloody mask coming toward him relentlessly round after round, the cold eyes merciless.

Constant, unadulterated pressure, that's what won the middleweight championship for Carmen Basilio Monday night in a stirring, fluctuating battle. Won it by a split decision which will touch off arguments to the last gasp of the final witness.

★ ★ ★

The old master, Ray Robinson, showed flashes of the class which has made his name synonymous with skill, and power, and guile. But there were too many times when the 37-year-old legs got oh, so tired, and the deft defense failed, the quick reflexes dulled by weariness.

And just when you believed the once invincible titleholder was through; when his stout left jab was reduced to a light flick and, back against the ropes, punches bounced off his agonized face, from some hidden reserve he would draw a resurgence of power, and take the play away from his ever-pressing opponent.

Drive, and courage, and pride, and an unquenchable spirit were on the side of the little man Monday night. He took Robinson's best punches, and just when the howling fans sensed the kill he would come up with a tremendous barrage of punches to send his gasping rival into full retreat.

It was a delaying action fight from the start on the part of the one-time dancing master; a sniping warfare pin-pointing his jabs and relying on his nimble feet to carry him out of danger. When he did find an opening for his heavy artillery he would pour over a barrage of punches.

★ ★ ★

But nothing happened, except that the bloody mask forever in front of him became bloodier. Basilio was a man of purpose, and nothing was going to swerve him. When Robinson, after a warning for a rule infraction, held out his hands in a conciliatory gesture, the little man in front of him would slap down on them disdainfully. He came to fight, and the niceties could wait.

★ ★ ★

The 11th round was the highlight of the battle. Robinson had slugged with the devastating combinations which usually are an omen of the end. Instead of wilting, Basilio suddenly attacked furiously, driving his tormenter to the ropes where he belabored him mercilessly until it seemed guy wires couldn't hold him up.

Carmen Vacates Welter Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Carmen Basilio's victory over middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson automatically vacates the welterweight title. Boxing commissions no longer permit fighters to hold two or three titles as they did in the days of Henry Armstrong.

The National Boxing Assn., the New York State Athletic Commission and the World Championship Committee are expected to designate tournaments to select a successor.

Abe Greene, commissioner of the NBA, said last night his organization had named four fighters at its convention to participate in a tournament. The four were Tony DeMarco, ex-champ from Boston; Isaac Logart of Cuba; Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J. and Virgil Akins of St. Louis. Greene, however, said in view of Akins' defeat by Gil Turner last Wednesday in Atlantic City, N. J., Turner may take his place.

Northern Leads 'A' Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Flint Northern Vikings have started the 1957 schoolboy football season right where they left off a year ago — atop the Associated Press Class A football poll of the top 10 teams in the state.

A 41-0 winner in its opener Friday night against De LaSalle, Detroit's defending City League titlists, Northern retained its No. 1 position in the voting by a six-member panel of experts.

★ ★ ★

Six sports writers scattered around the state are making weekly rankings of the top Class A evelens and a similar panel of experts is rating Class B teams.

Serving on the Class A sports editors panel which carefully selects and lists the teams are Wendy Foltz of Battle Creek Enquirer, Roscoe Bennett of the Grand Rapids Press, Bruno L. Kearns of the Pontiac Press, Al Cotton of the Jackson Citizen Patriot, Lou Chiesi of the Saginaw News and Mike Sturm of the Bay City Times.

Hank Fonde is tutoring another powerful team at Ann Arbor and the board members placed the Pioneers in the No. 2 spot, just a shade ahead of the Bay City Central Wolves.

★ ★ ★

Bay City, which lost only to Flint Northern last year and nailed down the second spot in the final rankings, whipped Owosso 48-0 while Ann Arbor was downing Wayne 27-0. Mike Sturm, sports editor of the Bay City Times, says the Wolves are capable of attaining great heights this season.

Midland, minus big Oscar Hahn but showing a big, balanced crew, skipped into fourth place in the rankings after defeating Flint Central 25-7.

Dearborn Fordson, unbeaten in 16 straight games for the longest string in Class A ranks, won its opener 14-7 over Lincoln Park and took seventh spot.

Here's the way the panel picked the "top ten" in Class A:

1. Flint Northern
2. Ann Arbor
3. Bay City Central
4. Midland
5. Muskegon Heights
6. Saginaw Arthur Hill
7. Dearborn Fordson
8. Muskegon
9. East Detroit
10. Benton Harbor

OTHERS IN ORDER: Muskegon Catholic, Lansing Eastern, Birmingham, Wyandotte and Traverse City.

Durelle Can Earn Shot at Moore

Will Fight German in Olympia TV Go Wednesday

DETROIT (AP) — Yvon Durelle, Canada's fighting fisherman who has been promised a crack at Archie Moore's title, must get by German Willie Besmanoff tomorrow night before arranging a bout with the ageless king of the light-heavyweights.

The Durelle-Besmanoff bout will be televised and broadcast nationally — ABC, 9 p.m. EST—from Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Durelle, who depends on his fishing boats in Nova Scotia for the major part of his income, has won two fights since battling favored Tony Anthony to a draw in Detroit in June.

Many of those at ringside felt Durelle beat Anthony, who suffered a seventh round knockout last Friday night trying to take the championship away from Moore.

"He's ready to be taken," said Durelle, echoing words that had been spoken previously by more than a few light-heavyweights. "I would get in close with him and wear him down. I'd take my time.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers Monday purchased the contract of pitcher Ron Rozman from their Augusta farm club in the South Atlantic League.

Casey's in Bed as His Yankees Back Into Flag

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel heard the news that the New York Yankees had won their eighth American League pennant under his guidance after retiring for the night.

The 66-year old manager attended the Carmen Basilio-Ray Robinson fight with general manager George Weiss and then returned to his apartment in a midtown hotel. He had retired by the time the Kansas City Athletics had snuffed out the last Chicago White Sox hopes with a 6-5 victory.

"The score was tied when the fight was about over," said Stengel, "so I didn't hang around long. I feared we might still have a fight on our hands. Those White Sox are tough, you know."

But there was not much prospect for sleep for Old Case for his phone kept ringing constantly as friends called to extend their congratulations.

A's Hand Yankees Another Pennant

Milwaukee Wins NL Flag

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee's long badgered Braves finally did it!

And they did it big, these "choke up" Braves, snatching a 4-2 victory from second place St. Louis—the one club they had to beat—on Hank Aaron's two-run, two-out homer in the 11th last night that wrapped up the National League pennant and set up a World Series date with the New York Yankees.

Almost overlooked was the fact that the Braves, who slumped and lagged after gaining a whopping 8½-game lead on Labor Day, built a seven-game winning streak under pressure to nail their first pennant since 1948.

At the clinching, they had a six-game bulge with five to play—and to top it off, they actually locked up their flag minutes before the "runaway" Yankees put away their third consecutive AL pennant.

The Yankees made it while most of the Bombers were taking a busman's holiday at Yankee Stadium—watching the middleweight championship fight while their "kissin' cousins," the Kansas City Athletics, eliminated Chicago's White Sox 6-5.

That defeat left the White Sox, the team that wouldn't die, 6½ games behind with six to play.

The Braves couldn't have picked a better guy to do the linching than Aaron, the wrist-snapping power man who virtually won the league's Most Valuable Player award with the dramatic home run.

It was Hammerin' Henry who set the pace for the Braves' comeback from a worrisome, 11-game batting slump in which they won only three and found their 8½-game bulge whittled to 2½ by the Cards. Aaron batted only .220 in that mess, but started a nine-game streak that included a .500 spurt in the Braves' seven straight winners.

The homer was Henry's 43rd, regaining the major league lead from Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs. It followed a single by Johnny Logan sandwiched between a pair of flies by Red Schoendienst and Eddie Mathews off relief loser Billy Muffett.

It had been a single by Schoendienst, the ex-Card, and a double by Mathews that gave the Braves a 2-all tie in the seventh against Larry Jackson, the Cards' second pitcher.

Jackson, who relieved starter Wilmer Mizell with the bases loaded, none out and a run home in the second and got out of the jam, had been staked to a 2-1 lead in the sixth as Al Dark tagged Lew Burdette for a two-run single.

Burdette stayed with it until the 10th, when he was lifted for a pinch-hitter. Gene Conley took over for a hitless 11th, winning his ninth in 18 decisions—his first victory since beating the Cards for No. 7 in the Braves' 10-game August streak that broke up the tight race.

Oddly, it was St. Louis that threw a block to Milwaukee's 1956 pennant bid, beating the Braves on the next to last day of the race.

While the Braves were gaining their first pennant since shifting from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953, the Yankees were winning their eighth in nine years under manager Casey Stengel.

A pair of ex-Yankees did it for the A's. Bob Cerv got the tie-breaking run home with a sacrifice fly in the eighth after Minnie Minoso, who homered for Chicago's first run, brought the White Sox even with a two-run single in the seventh. Woody Held, another ex-Yank, Alex Kellner and Gus Zernial also homered for the A's.

Lopez Says Loss of Key Contests Hurt White Sox

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "We had no one to blame but ourselves," said Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox last night.

Lopez had watched his club shove the idle New York Yankees into the American League pennant by losing a 6-5 game to the Kansas City Athletics.

"We played well enough to win the pennant against every team in the league with the exception of the Yankees. But against them, particularly in Chicago, we lost too many tough ball games."

Bunning Fails to Win 20th Again

Home Runs His Downfall in Second Attempt

Tigers Lose 5-4 in 11 Innings at Cleveland; 4th Place in Jeopardy

CLEVELAND, O. (AP) — Jim Bunning failed again last night in his second attempt to win 20 games for the Detroit Tigers.

The young righthander was yanked in the 10th inning and Cleveland rookie Dick Brown nicked reliefer Joe Presko for a run-scoring single in the 11th that gave the Indians a 5-4 victory.

The defeat dropped the Tigers to four games behind the third-place Boston Red Sox. It narrowed to two games Detroit's margin over the Baltimore Orioles.

Brown's game winning single was his third hit of the night. The young catcher doubled in the second inning and hit his third home run of the season in leading off the fifth.

★ ★ ★

Cal McLish scattered nine hits in picking up his ninth victory against seven losses. Presko's loss evened his record at 1-1.

Detroit opened the scoring in the first when Bill Tuttle doubled, took third on a passed ball and came in on a wild pitch.

The Indians evened the score in the next frame when Ken Kuhn singled home Brown from second.

Detroit went ahead 3-1 in the third when Jim Finigan walked, advanced on an error and scored on Al Kaline's single to right.

'M' Respects Trojans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Michigan coaching staff, which never takes a future opponent lightly, believes the Wolverines are in for a rugged tussle Saturday at Southern California.

Much of the pessimism is based on last week's woeful performance by the first and second stringers who were beaten by the reserves.

The line looked especially weak as Coach Bennie Oosterbaan predicted it would.

After hearing reports from scouts Matt Patanelli and Bob Hollway, Michigan is more concerned than ever.

"Southern Cal's line averages 216 pounds," said Patanelli. "They outweigh us 10 pounds a man and all their linemen are bulls."

He and Hollway scouted the Trojans in their opener against Oregon State, considered the best team on the West Coast. Oregon State blanked Southern Cal 20-0.

"Oregon State is much better than it was last year when it went to the Rose Bowl," Patanelli said. "We're in for trouble if Southern Cal gets off to a good start. I feel they're going to go a long way before the end of the season. They have good depth and lots of potential."

The huge Trojan line is anchored by left tackle Monte Clark. He stands 6-5 and weighs 255 pounds.

The Wolverines worked against the Southern Cal attack yesterday for the first time.

The Michigan State - Indiana game, opening the football season for both Big 10 teams at East Lansing Saturday, is an assortment of oddities.

1. Indiana coach Phil Dickens cannot coach his team for a year because of conference charges he promised his players under-the-table payment. The boss will be watching from the stands while assistant coaches run the team from the bench.

2. The new side-saddle T offense Indiana will show for the first time in the Widwest. The quarterback faces the customers in the stands and the ball can be snapped anywhere.

★ ★ ★

3. MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty and Dickens made a gentlemen's agreement to exchange films of spring games for scouting purposes. Neither, obviously, could scout each other before because it was an opener for both.

After a relaxed practice session Monday, the Spartan football squad last night saw a showing of the Indiana varsity—old timer game. And the varsity looked good, beating the returnees 29-6.

Down in Bloomington, Ind., coaches are showing movies of the 20-20 Michigan State varsity-Old Timers tie.

Michigan State, incidentally, beat Indiana 56-6 last year and has measured the Hoosiers for the last seven years.

Players May Get Day Off

Still Celebrating at St. Fred

They're singing in the halls and everyone is talking about football at St. Frederick High School this week celebrating the Rams' 1st grid triumph in four years Sunday over Marine City Holy Cross.

The jubilant crowd that attended the game started the festivities and the students have carried it on. The fans began cheering early in the game sensing history being made and never let up until long after the 50-0 rout.

A horn-blowing car caravan around the city and a wild welcome for the players and coaches on their return to the school climaxed the evening but not the celebrating.

"All the students have been smiling and singing in school and talking about the game. There has been no special assembly but I think the players will be given a day off Friday," said happy coach Gene Wright today. He called off practice yesterday in honor of the big triumph.

Gene had one of the happiest moments of his life following the game when over 250 people greeted the team with loud cheers at the school parking lot. "They even woke up the nuns and told them what happened," commented the coach.

It was his 1st football win after two fruitless seasons bossing the Rams and also the 1st time several of his players had played on a winning team of any kind.

"I think the football outlook will be absolutely different here now," stated Wright as he looked ahead to his 1st Suburban Catholic contest against St. James Sunday.

Gandee Lost to Lions for Season

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran linebacker (Sonny) Gandee will be lost to the Detroit Lions for the entire 1957 football season.

The 28-year-old former Ohio State star will undergo surgery next week to correct cartilage and ligament injuries suffered in the Lions' pre-season game against the Cleveland Browns 10 days ago.

Today is the day the Lions will trim the squad of 38 to the league limit of 35 players. Up until this morning, coach George Wilson had not decided which players would be cut.

★ ★ ★

At the annual Board of Directors' party last night in Detroit, president Edwin J. Anderson announced that quarterback Bobby Layne had been selected as the Lions' Most Valuable Player for the 1956 season. Layne also won the award for his 1955 performances.

Layne called it "the greatest award a player can receive from his teammates."

The biggest "winner" at the dinner was lineman Gil Mains. The husky former Murray State player, one of the toughest linemen in the National Football League, won the 1957 automobile in the player drawings. All players received gifts and heard Anderson advise them to "forget the things that have happened in the last six weeks."

"Anything that has happened up to now is history," said the president. "On paper, we have one of the finest teams we have ever put on the gridiron. Those of us on the Board of Directors are not disturbed by the three straight losses. We have all the confidence in the world in you players and coaches. If you make up your minds to go all the way, you can do it."

Wilson expressed confidence that the Lions can go just as far in the league race as they want to go.

Mains said the new car prize couldn't have come at a better time.

"The transmission on my 1955 model — which has 80,000 miles on it — just dropped out this very day," he said. "My wife drove the car to her mother's home and it just quit."

★ ★ ★

Mains said his wife had been "after me for quite a while to buy a new car. But I kept putting her off, telling her to wait until after the banquet because I'd probably win the new car. But I really never thought I would. It's the first time I ever won anything in my life."

The Lions split even in six exhibition contests and open the NFL season Sunday in Baltimore against the Colts.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

Last spring, I advised you bowlers to keep active during the summer months. If you listened to the old Professor, you probably bowled in a summer league or at least got in some regular open bowling. Then, getting ready for league play should be no problem.

For you bowlers who haven't touched a ball in three months or so, let me recommend some practice sessions. Don't be surprised at how stiff some of your muscles are and how easily you can strain them. And don't let timing and footwork trouble throw you! Your arm swing may also bother you.

All these things are natural. You can't lay off for three months and pick up correct habits again easily. It'll take bowling to get your game in shape. Don't waste your league sessions in practicing either. It hurts your team's record and your average. Get out before your league begins and practice. Bowl on weekends after your league starts. But get plenty of practice games under your belt early in the season to help you reach your form as quickly as possible.

Don't try to do it all in one day. When you feel tired, quit for the day.

City Loop Hurler Signed by Tigers

A Pontiac city league baseball star was among three rookie pitchers signed by the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

Ron Falkenhagen, who hurled for the Jets, was assigned to Class C Idaho Falls for next season after agreeing to terms. He will report to spring training with the Tigers at Lakeland, Fla.

An 18-year-old former Mt. Clemens High ace, Falkenhagen had a no-hitter in city loop play, pitched in the all-star game and was a member of the strong Shaw's Jeweler staff in the state tournament. He had an 18-6 overall record at Mt. Clemens featuring a one-hitter against Hazel Park.

The two other rookies inked by the Bengals Monday were William Julio, 18, a pitcher from Erie, Pa., and Jamerson Taylor, an outfielder from Hodgenville, Ky.

Cardinal Boss Heaps Credit on Champions

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"I guess it's justifiable retribution," said General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals last night. "We took the pennant away from them last year, and they beat us to win this year."

Lane spoke quietly and there was no trouble hearing him as the Cardinals sat after watching their National League pennant hopes go sailing out of Milwaukee County Stadium on a long home run by Hank Aaron.

His reference to last year, of course, meant the second from the last day of the 1956 season when the Cardinals defeated the Braves in St. Louis and handed the league flag to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Card Manager Fred Hutchinson said, "The Braves did a hell of a job—everyone concerned. There's not much you can say. Milwaukee won when they had to. You've got to give them credit. They had a lot of injuries, but they refused to quit."

Great Lakes Ports Assail Railroads

Sees Seaway as Starting Boom in '60

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The Great Lakes Harbors Assn. was told today that America's next great industrial boom will come in 1960 as a result, primarily of the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

John C. Beukma of Muskegon, one of the Great Lakes port cities, made the forecast in a speech to the annual convention of the Harbors group. Beukema is president of the association.

Approximately 125 port cities men met at opening sessions of the convention with the seaway and port development projects as the prime interest. The seaway is scheduled to open in the spring of 1959.

Railroads and competitive port cities of the eastern seaboard and Gulf of Mexico were assailed by Beukema and Sen. Potter (R-Mich).

Potter charged the railroads with what he called a "backstage grab for power" over the seaway. He said the railroads are "pressuring for high tolls on the seaway in order to restrict the waterway's usefulniess.

★ ★ ★

Making his boom prediction for 1960, Beukema said the railroads would benefit rather than suffer from the advent of the seaway.

★ ★ ★

He said the seaway will mean increased shipments for the railroads because benefits of the waterway will not be limited to the Midwest only but will extend all the way to the Pacific Coast.

★ ★ ★

He said the ports are underestimating the seaway's possibilities and forecast that most Great Lakes ports will not be ready for the waterway's opening.

"We in the Great Lakes region," Beukema said, "anticipate that America's next great industrial boom — a boom of the 60's — will center here in the Great Lakes primarily because of the seaway."

★ ★ ★

Criticizing eastern and Gulf interests, Beukema said, "The Eastern seaboard has done a wonderful job of underselling the seaway."

★ ★ ★

The harbors association president said the seaway route is virtually unknown to Europe and that work is needed for trade promotion.

★ ★ ★

He said the ports are underestimating the seaway's possibilities and forecast that most Great Lakes ports will not be ready for the waterway's opening.

Stock Market Bounces Back

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied briskly in early trading today.

Prices bounced back partially after falling to nearly a two-year low in yesterday's sharp setback.

Leading issues were up from fractions to a point or more. Steels and oils were in special demand.

A technical recovery was in the cards after yesterday's slump which was preceded by a sharp decline on Friday, analysts said. There was nothing particular in the news to justify the upward move.

In fact, General Motors traded about unchanged despite news that some 16,000 of its workers are to be idled indefinitely because of strikes at supplier plants.

U.S. Steel was ahead around a point. Republic Steel and Youngstown rose fractionally. Small gains were posted by Sinclair, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Gulf Oil.

Gains of about a point or better were made by Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Zenith, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, Westinghouse Electric, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio.

Smaller gains were made by Boeing, Goodrich, American Cyanamid, Du Pont, Southern Railway and Schenley.

50 Migrating Birds Hit Empire State Building

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 50 migrating birds crashed into the Empire State Building in the early morning dark today.

Many dead or injured birds dotted the sidewalk in front of the world's tallest building.

An Empire State employe said the birds, of various kinds, struck the 1,472-foot building as they tried to fly out of stormy altitudes.

"It happens every year," he said.

Nat Cole Deplores 'Potshots' at Ike

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Singer Nat "King" Cole said today he is not in accord with members of his race who are taking "potshots" at President Eisenhower over the racial situation in the South.

The well-known crooner made his statement following a published criticism by Eartha Kitt of the President's handling of the Arkansas school integration issue.

Earlier, jazz musician Louis Armstrong announced his refusal to represent the United States on a tour of Russia because of the issue.

Cole, who claims he has as many, if not more, friends in the South than in the north, feels the racial problem would more clearly resolve itself if so many pressures were not brought to bear. However, he added:

"I do think the President should have made a speech to let the American people know how he feels about the situation.

"Most of us are in doubt about how he feels—not only the Negroes, but the white people as well."

German Ship Sailing for Holland, Mich.

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—The first foreign vessel in more than 10 years is scheduled to dock at Holland about Sept. 30 to unload a cargo of imported autos, according to a Chamber of Commerce announcement today.

William Vandewater, executive secretary of the Holland Chamber, said the SS Marisco originally was scheduled to unload at Muskegon as the only port of entry on Lake Michigan's east shore.

He said plans were changed after the chamber received U.S. customs permission to have the Holland harbor declared a port of entry for the ship, which sailed from Germany with 74 cars for Michigan and Indiana dealers.

Fast Man With Needle

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Dr. Joseph Smith, city health superintendent, has the reputation of being a fast man with a needle. He gave 175 anti-polio injections to city firefighters in 20 minutes. Assistants prepared the syringes as firefighters moved in a quick line before him.

Grain Futures Lower—Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures were lower to steady in early dealings on the board of trade today.

Wheat started about unchanged from yesterday's closing levels with no special news to stimulate the trade. Buying by flour interests was not as good as expected and there was virtually no export business.

★ ★ ★

A large quantity of soybeans were reported sold at the opening but these were well taken. A government report showed soybean crushings during August totaled 25 million bushels, about a million more than were crushed in July and four million more than August, a year ago. The report had little effect on the current trade.

Corn futures prices also were steady. Oats and rye showed little change from previous levels.

Light frosts occurred overnight in parts of Illinois, Indiana and Iowa but caused little or no damage to maturing corn and soybean crops.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Dec. $2.17½; corn was ¼ to ½ lower, Dec. 1.21⅞; oats were ½ to ¾ lower, Dec. 67½; rye was ⅝ lower to ¼ higher, Dec. $1.31⅛; soybeans were ⅛ to ½ lower, Nov. $2.30¼; and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, Oct. $11.65.

Gas Burner Blast Injures Two Men

Two men were burned when a gas burner exploded this morning at the site of the new Milford High School, on Milford Rd., about one and one-half miles south of M59, according to Milford Police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

John Schneider, of Flint, a construction company worker, and Boyd Braun, of Ann Arbor, an employe of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., were injured.

Schneider received first and second degree burns of both arms, face, and neck, while Braun was burned slightly about the head and received first degree burns of one arm. Both were treated by Dr. W. D. Hackett, of Milford.

★ ★ ★

The men said they evidently had forgotten to turn a valve, which evacuated any excess gas from the burner they were working on. When they lit the pilot light, the burner exploded.

Curtice Will Inspect GM Plants in Europe

NEW YORK — President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors left today aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth on his annual business trip to Europe.

He will spend approximately two and one-half weeks visiting General Motors installations in France, West Germany and England.

Plants which Mr. Curtice will inspect include those producing the German-made Opel Rekord and British-made Vauxhall Victor passenger cars, which GM is offering for sale in the United States this fall for the first time.

The Vauxhall and Opel installations are among GM European operations participating in a $204,500,000 expansion and modernization program, announced by Mr. Curtice during his 1954 European trip. The program is near completion. In addition to Great Britain and West Germany, European nations in which major GM units have headquarters and plants include France, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark and Sweden.

Say GM Layoffs Caused by Strikes

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says some 16,000 employes in seven Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac assembly plants across the country will be idled indefinitely because of strikes at two GM supplier plants.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said yesterday that assembly work on 1958 models is being held up because stampings are not available from the strike-bound Mansfield, Ohio, and Marion, Ind., factories. The two plants fabricate stampings for the Buick, Olds and Pontiac Divisions. Assembly work on 1958 models was scheduled to start yesterday at the three divisions.

★ ★ ★

Those idled include some workers who were laid off earlier for the model changeover period.

Members of the United Auto Workers union struck the Mansfield and Marion plants last week in disputes over local issues.

Says: 'Still Is Integrated'

Little Rock School Official Denies Fights in Building

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Little Rock School Superintendent Virgil T. Blossom said tonight that other than "a little shoving" there were no acts of violence committed inside Central High School after eight Negro students gained admission.

Blossom told a news conference that he had determined this on the basis of reports from the teaching staff at the school.

Blossom said he did not believe the Negroes would "be back immediately."

He said while the Negroes "have a right" to return at any time, he was looking to the federal government "to make the next move."

"I would not anticipate what they (federal government) intend to do," Blossom said.

WITHDRAWN AT NOON

Blossom said the Negroes actually were withdrawn from the school at noon because Assistant Police Chief Gene Smith, directing city police at the school, had warned at 11:30 a.m., "that the situation is not improving — in fact it is getting worse. We would be better off taking them out."

Blossom said he told Smith, "Let's take them out then."

Blossom maintained that the school "still was integrated" as far as he was concerned and that Negroes could return whenever they judged the situation to be proper. He said:

"It is the opinion of the staff at Central High School that the great majority of the white students are no problem."

He reported that approximately 450 white students walked out of their classes after the Negroes arrived. The school has an enrollment of 2,000.

★ ★ ★

He asserted there had been no pre-arranged plan for getting the Negro children into the school.

Blossom added that no disciplinary action would be taken against the students who walked out.

★ ★ ★

Blossom said he felt certain that his actions in no way violated the federal court injunction against interference with integration. He added that he said he went to U.S. District Attorney Osro Cobb's office to discuss the situation but declined to disclose what they talked about.

Accidentally Shovel Cat Into Deep Dry Well

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — A kitten was accidentally shoveled into a 70-foot abandoned dry well.

This stopped the job of filling the well until rescue could be completed by Frank Boforth and Martin Roberts, two U.S. Marines, who had been working on the job.

They lowered a parakeet cage into the well at the end of a long wire. The kitten obligingly crawled into the cage and was hoisted out of the well, unharmed.

2,000 Picket Lone Star Factory

Human Chain Blocks Plant

LONE STAR, Tex. (AP)—An estimated 2,000 strikers threw rocks and bottles and kept the midnight shift from going to work at the Lone Star Steel plant by forming a human chain around the entrances today.

★ ★ ★

Texas Ranger Red Arnold, called to the scene, said the Rangers had been ordered to clear the strikers from company property.

E. B. Germany, plant president, said no one was hurt trying to get in, but he said numerous bottles and rocks were thrown by the pickets at autos of persons trying to enter the gates.

★ ★ ★

Highway patrolmen cleared pickets from in front of the plant yesterday, the company said, after it obtained a restraining order against striking workers. But they returned last night.

L. D. Webster, Lone Star vice president, said about 75 per cent of the 2,500 striking steelworkers were members of Local 4134. The East Texas plant employs about 4,500.

W. T. Follis, president of the local, said, "This strike is not of 4132 or the international steelworkers union."

★ ★ ★

The trouble, he said, appeared "to be concerning the way the company fills temporary vacancies." He said 40 cases of that type are being arbitrated.

Germany set midnight last night as the deadline for strikers to return to work under certain conditions. He said leaders of the strike would not be allowed to return.

Webster said, "Notices calling for five days suspension subject to discharge were mailed to the strikers late Sunday.

"If the men return to their jobs by Monday midnight, or the first scheduled shift thereafter, and have not actively supported the strike, no penalties will be assessed for failing to report for duty Sunday and Monday.

"Those failing to meet these provisions will be discharged at the end of the suspension period."

Announce Plan on Car Repairs

Buyers of Used Autos Protected for Full Year Under Firm Warranty

DETROIT (INS) — Buyers of used cars will be protected for a full year against costs of repair or replacement of major mechanical parts under a plan announced in Detroit today by Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp.

"This is the first time such a nationwide organization has offered a car warranty program," Rude said at a news conference. "It will not only protect used car buyers against costly repairs, but will be an additional sales tool for auto dealers."

The program will be administered by the Car Warranty Corp., a new subsidiary of C.I.T. Financial Corp. Harold Bishop, former executive vice president of the service insurance companies, has been named president of the subsidiary.

The value of the warranty, Bishop explained, is illustrated by the average costs of repairs covered.

"An average engine overhaul," Bishop pointed out, "would cost more than $300. To overhaul an automatic transmission could amount to more than $200, rear axle repairs would average $60, and replacement of steering mechanism parts would average more than some $40."

When a dealer wants a car to bear the Car Warranty Corp. guaranteed seal he calls the nearest C.I.T. office to arrange for an inspection.

A specially trained inspector will test and inspect the car and apply the guaranteed seal on the wing window of the car if it passes inspection. The dealer pays a fee for the inspection and the buyer of the car receives a one-year warranty.

Small Car Building Not in Ford Plans

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has no immediate plans to produce small cars in the United States, but will continue to watch the competitive market "to see if it justifies action on our part," says Henry Ford II.

However, the company has boosted imports of its British model this year and will continue to step up importation next year, the Ford president said yesterday in a copyrighted interview with the Detroit News.

Although the company has no immediate plans for domestic production of small cars, "that is not to say that if the public wants them we won't produce them," Ford said.

"We make what the public wants," he added.

"Ford already has entered the small car field," the company president said. "We are importing the British Ford and want to sell as many of our British cars in this country as possible."

Waterford Board Discusses, Tables Items of Vital Interest

Although last night's Waterford Township board meeting lasted to near-midnight, many items of vital interest were tabled for further consideration.

★ ★ ★

A two-hour discussion for the issuance of a license for the sale of packaged liquor at the Elizabeth Lake Pharmacy brought heated arguments both pro and con from residents who packed the town hall.

Petitions with 210 signatures protesting the issuance of a liquor permit were presented by residents who contended that there were enough dealers in the area to accommodate the local population.

Owners requesting the license, William Hallibough and Sonia Zoch, have been approved by the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission.

Final decision was postponed one week so that members may review the petitions.

★ ★ ★

After rezoning a triangular shaped lot on the corner of Williams Lake Road and Maceday Drive from residential to commercial, the township board now is considering rezoning the area back to residential.

The site was originally rezoned to commercial to accommodate a proposed drug store. Since that time the deal has been canceled and board members feel that undesirable commercial business might take over the land.

Work on a storm drain leading from a swamp to Lotus Lake in Lotus Lake Subdivision has been discontinued and township officials are concerned over the results of the work stoppage.

★ ★ ★

The Slavic Brothers Construction Company have installed storm sewers throughout the subdivision but say that they are out of funds to complete the project.

★ ★ ★

Further study on the matter was promised by the board regarding the water level near the pumping station located there.

There was a three-week postponement of the controversial Walton Boulevard property rezoning from residential to commercial which is near Indianwood Manor. Both attorneys for the proposed gas station and the township plan more negotiations:

The township case against the Ward gravel pit now pending in circuit court was discussed by the board who visited the area recently. Members agreed that the company was not damaging the contour of the land located at Maceday Lake.

Board members were told by Supervisor Elmer Johnson that a 90 day extension for sewer service to the Pontiac Shopping Center at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph roads has been offered by the city of Pontiac.

Jack Kennedy, who owns the real estate company at 3097 West Huron St., was present protesting the parking of cars from the newly opened Lakewood Bowling Alley on his property.

Kennedy questioned the issuance of a building permit by the township without stipulating adequate parking facilities. Johnson promised to check the matter today.

Howard Summerville was appointed constable to replace John Coleman who resigned to accept the position as township trustee.

Hungarian Officials Fly to Red China

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Radio Budapest reported that Premier Janos Kadar and Minister of State Gyoergy Marosan left today by air for Red China.

★ ★ ★

The fact that Kadar took Marosan along was interpreted by informed observers in Vienna as a safety measure on the part of Kadar.

★ ★ ★

While Kadar was on vacation in Russia two months ago, Marosan —"tough man" among the Hungarian Communists—was reported to have attempted to maneuver for power in Hungary.

Pontiac police report that someone broke into the Mansfield Sinclair Gas Station, 1046 Baldwin Ave., late Monday night or early this morning, escaping with $42 cash.

Fund Appeals to U. S., West Germany

Seeks Monetary Ease

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Monetary Fund today aimed at the United States and West Germany an indirect appeal for lower trade barriers and larger foreign investment.

The fund's managing director, Per Jacobsson, presented to his 64-nation Governing Board an annual report urging vigorous measures to cope with inflationary pressures and — in the case of some countries — slipping trade balances in shaky currencies.

The nine-billion-dollar fund, a pool of currencies on which member countries may draw to tide them over temporary shortages of dollars or other foreign exchange, is holding its 12th annual meeting here jointly with the World Bank.

Countries which are in a "strong surplus position" in foreign trade, the prepared report said, should consider alleviating "their own difficulties and those of other countries through such measures as the reduction of trade barriers and the encouragement of capital exports."

★ ★ ★

Though it did not name specific countries in this recommendation, the report said that among the creditor countries "only the United States and the Federal Republic of Germany are large enough for their policies to have significant effect" on other nations.

It noted that the overseas spending of the U.S. government, through military aid, foreign loans and grants, and offshore buying, have been "an equilibrating factor of first-rate importance." But, the report added, "it would be rash to take for granted its indefinite continuance on the scale of recent years."

★ ★ ★

The problems of rising prices and sagging finances in a number of countries, the fund said, can be attributed primarily to reduce the share of the national income devoted to current government expenditure, and to accept a slower rate of increase in private consumption."

SALUTING SGT. BILKO—Phil Silvers as Sgt. Ernie Bilko is typically smug as his two aides, Cpl. Rocco Barbella (Harvey Lembeck, left) and Cpl. Henshaw (Allan Melvin), salute him in the Phil Silvers Show seen Tuesdays at 7 p. m. over CBS-TV. A new series of Bilko comedies was launched last week. This season European locales will form the background for the filmed show.

But Background Will Be Varied

Sergeant and Buddies Will Travel to Hawaii and Europe

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Phil Silvers looked jaunty in a red knit shirt, a pair of gray slacks, alligator loafers and a yachting cap. He walked briskly along 57th street, hurrying to the Friars Club in time to catch the ball game.

★ ★ ★

"I could go home," he said, "but by the time I get there I'd miss the first two innings. This is closer."

A perspiring man with a salesman's briefcase passed and called out, "Hi, Phil." Silvers turned with a warm, "Hi, Jackie," and chatted with him a few moments.

"That's one of my many brothers," he said. "I have six, you know."

★ ★ ★

And he quickened his pace, to make up for the time he'd lost. He'd broken rehearsal early to see the game.

The Silvers show rehearses around sports events like ball games—"Oh, if it was necessary, of course, we'd go right through"—and the Ernie Bilko platoon is made up of rabid sports fans, possibly as a consequence.

PHIL THE FATHER

Silvers and his men had taken eight weeks off, but Phil himself didn't have much of a vacation. For one thing, he had a baby, with the assistance of his wife.

★ ★ ★

"She is a beautiful baby," he said. "And I was prepared for the worst — every baby I'd ever seen looked like Buddy Hackett. But this one is truly beautiful."

For another thing, his vacation was taken up with working with a new production team.

Nat Hiken, the man who helped him create Bilko, had left—"He was tired; I'm tired too, but I can't afford to leave—they can't paint me on the film"—and there was a new director and a new producer and new writers to see.

★ ★ ★

Phil turned south, down Sixth avenue. And he practically bumped into Farley Granger. They greeted each other warmly, exchanged news and projects. Then Phil strode more rapidly than before.

THE HIKEN METHOD

"If Hiken was around," he said, "he'd say, 'You know Farley Granger? Try and get him on the show.' And I'd say, 'Nat, Farley Granger gets $5,000 an appearance.' And he'd say, 'Tell him we'll plug his picture—and if he doesn't have a picture, I'll write him one.'"

★ ★ ★

Hiken was famous for getting famous people to appear in cameo guest spots with Silvers. Ed Sullivan and Bing Crosby were two who appeared.

Silvers says he had to stop him from trying to get President Eisenhower, who is an avowed Ernie Bilko fan. This year, they're planning a baseball show and hope to have Yogi Berra as a guest.

There was some talk, Silvers explained, puffing as he went, of changing the show this year. He himself felt that after two years, the public must be getting tired of the same people, the same situations.

★ ★ ★

"But Paley disagreed," he said, dropping the name of CBS' president. "Paley said it was going strong, don't change. I'm going to change some, though, some backgrounds maybe. I think I'll have Bilko go to Hawaii for a few weeks. That's the beauty of this format — he can go to different places if we want."

ANOTHER GOOD YEAR

Phil and his new producer, Ed Montagne, think there's at least another good year left in Bilko, without major changes. They mean, by major changes, something as drastic as having Bilko discharged and take up some civilian occupation.

He's slightly upset at the network because "they take us for granted." They don't promote the show, they take no ads, they don't even bother to have a rating taken.

Phil says if he wants to know his rating, he has to call up a friend at NBC, because NBC gets a rating service on his time period. He doesn't like being taken for granted, even though he knows it's a compliment.

The Friars Club was just ahead and Silvers sprinted the last few yards.

First Flu Death of '57 in Arizona Is Army Private

PHOENIX (AP) — Arizona's first flu death of the year is an Army private stationed at Ft. Huachuca, in the southeast corner of the state.

Pvt. Kenneth N. Rockstroh, 22, Danville, Ill., died Sunday of "acute overwhelming pneumonia, a complication from the flu."

The statement was given out by Col. Alfonso Libasci, post surgeon, after an autopsy. Libasci said 350 military cases had been admitted to the post hospital, but Rochstroh was the only one to develop complications.

★ ★ ★

Libasci said the outbreak appears to be Asian flu but laboratory tests will have to confirm the clinical diagnoses.

Possible Rival Abandons Hoffa

William Lee of Chicago May Be Darkhorse in Teamster Race

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A possible darkhorse candidate for the presidency of the huge International Brotherhood of Teamsters has withdrawn his support of James R. Hoffa.

★ ★ ★

William Lee of Chicago, a union vice president, and also president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, yesterday confirmed he had withdrawn his support for the Midwest Teamster boss considered the leading candidate to succeed Dave Beck.

Available Teamster sources were at loss to evaluate the effect of that development on the candidacy of Hoffa, Detroit Teamster leader.

Beck will retire upon election of a new president at the international convention of Teamsters beginning here Sept. 30.

In an interview, Thomas Hickey of New York, a Teamster vice president and one of the two announced candidates opposing Hoffa, said that he foresaw the possibility that a darkhorse candidate will emerge as winner.

★ ★ ★

Hickey declined to name any possibilities to avoid embarrassing anyone, but sources in the Teamsters Union reported that Lee is one of the possibilities.

Seeks Amateurs for Safety Studies

DETROIT (AP) — The head of the General Motors Corp. research staff says traffic engineers should seek the answers to highway safety problems from "mixed" research teams that include competent amateurs as well as professionals.

They should be given a free hand to explore "the novel and the interesting as well as the obviously practical," Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad told the Institute of Traffic Engineers at its annual convention here yesterday.

The GM vice president said that the professional-amateur research team has been employed widely since the beginning of World War II in the missile, aircraft and communications industry. He credited it with opening the way to the electronic age.

A Day to Haunt Men's Consciences

Arkansas Rioting Holds Special, Chilling Air

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Look at their faces, and shudder.

You don't need to have been in Little Rock yesterday. The news pictures give you the horror of the scene.

★ ★ ★

The faces:

Hate-gnarled features, twisted by passions as old as mankind.

Thin-lipped, squint-eyed faces. The "Give it to the black ——" grimace. And "Let's you and him fight" look.

Stunned, anxious faces. The gasp of "Can this really be happening?" Like the one of the white schoolgirl being led away by a sobbing older woman. The blonde girl's hand half-shields contorted lips and eyes.

And the numb look — terror? Resignation?—of the Negro newsman being kicked in the chest by a white man clutching a half brick.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 23, 1957.

A day to haunt men's consciences. A day for reappraisal.

The nation has known worse disorders. But this one had a special, chilling quality. The eyes of the world were on Little Rock. And they saw mob violence triumphant.

Police lines held, but the shrieking, surging crowd had its way.

Who can say where lies the blame for the ugliness of the scene?

★ ★ ★

Was it with the raging segregationists? Or were they justified in their consciences for pitting force against law in a desperate effort to save a way of life?

Was it with the Supreme Court, which ordered integration? With the "Yankee" judge from North Dakota who ordered it started in Little Rock without further delay?

With President Eisenhower? Should he have taken a stronger stand before the violence developed?

With the Little Rock authorities, who gave assurance they could cope with any disorders?

★ ★ ★

With the Negroes? Did they press too hard, too fast?

With public sentiment in Little Rock, and in much of the South?

Was Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus right after all when he called out the National Guard three weeks ago to stop integration and, as he said, to head off violence? Or did his action only apply the spark to a powder keg?

★ ★ ★

But the search would waste time that could better be spent in looking for a hero — someone who can point a way out of this mess.

Inevitably, the search starts at Newport, R.I.

President Eisenhower, vacationing there, pledged yesterday that "the full power of the United States — including whatever force may be necessary"—will be used to enforce the law in Little Rock.

He followed that up with a formal proclamation commanding "all persons engaged in such obstruction of justice to cease and desist therefrom and to disperse forthwith."

That cleared the way under the law for him to call out either the National Guard or federal troops to enforce the law and suppress rebellion. It did not necessarily mean the troops will be called out, and Eisenhower did not say what other steps he might have in mind.

★ ★ ★

He did say, as he has said before, that he is confident the people of Arkansas "will respect the law and will not countenance violations of law and order by extremists."

Condemned Convict Provided Office

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The district attorney is going to provide condemned Caryl Chessman with an office in which to prepare for his next legal battle.

★ ★ ★

Chessman, seeking a new trial, won this and other concessions yesterday when he came back into the same courtroom in which he was sentenced to death nine years ago for two kidnapings in which young women were subjected to sexual outrages.

A hearing was set for Nov. 25 on Chessman's contention that the transcript was approved after his conviction. At that time he was in San Quentin prison.

★ ★ ★

The other privileges he won yesterday are the right to be visited by attorneys, witnesses and investigators in the county jail and in the office provided by the district attorney; to have shorthand experts appointed to examine the transcript; to have in his possession legal documents and papers, and to communicate by mail and telegraph with anyone.

Gets Away From It All

BELMONT, N.C. (AP) — The George Moody family said it had just about enough when an out-of-control car slammed into the living room of their house. No one was injured, but what irks the Moodys is that they moved fro Cramerton, two miles away, after a freight train jumped the tracks and tunneled into their house.

In Diversifying State's Industries

Small Firms Asking Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan representatives have asked President Eisenhower's small business conference for help in diversifying the state's industries. They said small business in Michigan is too dependent on the automotive industry.

Lee Uhl of the Michigan Economic Development Commission told newsmen yesterday he was particularly interested in scheduled discussions about new products that could be manufactured and sold by small businessmen.

★ ★ ★

He said Michigan unemployment stemmed primarily from fluctuations of the automotive industry. Drops in the industry's prosperity, he added, have hurt small business dependent upon it.

Uhl said the state's small business should "get these eggs out of one basket" by turning to new products not connected with autos.

"That's the point we've been trying to put over for five years," he added, "to get Michigan to diversify."

★ ★ ★

Harry Richert of the Detroit Board of Commerce said that information dispensed here about new fields for small business will have to be relayed to the state's small businessmen if the conference is to have any effect on Michigan's economy. He indicated a series of state and local conferences may be held.

Maynard Phelps, University of Michigan market professor, discusses distribution of products today.

Wholesaling was to be analyzed during a panel discussion by George Wedemeyer, president of the Wedemeyer Electronic Supply Co. of Ann Arbor.

More than a dozen businessmen, government officials and economists from Michigan were present at the opening yesterday of the three-day session.

The meeting was called by the president to provide guidance in research and selling for small business.

USW Strike Closes White Pine Copper

WHITE PINE MINE (AP) — A strike of United Steel Workers has closed the White Pine Copper Co. here.

Gene Saari, USW international representative, said the miners voted overwhelmingly last night to reject the company offer of a seven-cent hourly wage increase. There was no breakdown of the vote.

The union's contract expired Sept. 1. Negotiations on a new pact have been going on since then.

The union refused to disclose its demands. Average wages were not available.

Plays Anthem on Comb

SALEM, N.H. (AP)—Third grade urged pupils to bring their musical instruments to class for a demonstration. Mark L. 8, produced a tissue paper covered-comb. When he began his solo, the class stood and listened with rapt attention. His selection: "The Star Spangled Banner."

1,500 Students in Bed With Flu

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Some 1,500 students at Texas A&M College were down with the flu today—more than twice the number reported Sunday.

The University of Houston had 18 members of its 48-man football squad down with flu. New outbreaks were reported in Newton County on the Louisiana border and at Conroe, in southeast Texas.

Several more elementary schools were closed.

Some Texas cases have been diagnosed as Asian flu. Doctors said others were ordinary fall flu.

General Strike Called

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Leaders of 62 unions today called a 24-hour general strike for Friday to back up demands that wages be adjusted to keep up with rising living costs.

Movie Nobody's Seen Already Huge Success

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Mr. Red Buttons told me at Lilo's big opening that it's ducky to be in a highly-publicized movie nobody's seen yet.

★ ★ ★

WILSON

"I hope," said Red, who went to Japan with Marlon Brando for the "Sayonara" film," that it never opens! Until somebody sees it, I'm a successful rumor."

Red'll do a rash of TV—two Perry Comos, one Dinah Shore, one Patti Page — and fluffed off four movie offers, based on publicity about the unseen movie.

"Everybody says they hear it's going to be good," said Red, "but a guy from the Bronx said, 'Saw your movie, Red. GREAT picture!'"

Eddie Cantor, hero of "The Big Record" TV premiere, for saying "All right, boys, let's do it live" when a taped recording of "Whoopie" broke, is off to sell Bonds for Israel. "Know who's helping us sell 'em?" Eddie asked me. "Russia! For pouring munitions into Syria!"

★ ★ ★

We had a very educational hour taking Greta Thyssen, the beautiful ex-Miss Denmark, now in movies and TV, to see Max Asnas, "the Cornbeef Confucius," at the Stage Delicatessen.

"Why do you have such an accent?" Greta asked Max, a Russian.

"I didn't even have an accent when I came to America," he said. "I got it when I went to Miami Beach one winter."

"Why is sturgeon so expensive?" she asked.

"It's because of the price," Max said.

"Oh, I see," she said.

"That's all it is," Max said. (Egghead Hour Over!)

GRETA and MAX

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . . .

Ted Lewis quit gambling — without half-trying . . . Hoagy Carmichael can't let a beer go by so he drank some with a "foreign substance" that made it foam on "The Big Record" premiere. Hadda wash his mouth out with scotch!

Little Richard, the one-time rock 'n' roll star, quit to become a preacher . . . Judy Holliday loses three pounds at every "Bells Are Ringing" show, and is taking vitamin shots and eating raw meat . . . Benny Goodman bought an armload of records by another clarinetist—Buddy deFranco.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Every woman has seven ages—six wild guesses and the right one. That's earl, brother.

Hal Boyle Says:

Be Yourself---or You Are in Real Trouble

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The thing that beats most people in this world, said Joe E. Lewis, is "not being themselves.

"When you aren't yourself, you're in trouble—real trouble."

Lewis, a man beloved for his vices as much as his virtues, is celebrating his 35th year in show business—and has never bothered to pretend to be anything except what he is.

★ ★ ★

At 55 Joe, whose quips earn him from $250,000 to $400,000 a year, is the acknowledged king of the night club circuit, rivaled in durability only by Jimmy Durante and Sophie Tucker.

"A guy can't go on forever telling jokes and getting tight," he remarked cheerfully. "Already I can see the handwriting on the floor.

"But I have no frustrations. I've never been to see a psychiatrist—but a lot of them come to see me."

Joe's success as a performer lies in the fact that, like the late W. C. Fields, he has created a kind of personal cult. His fans never tire of tales of his prowess with the bottle or his uncanny ability to bet large sums of money on horses that never come in first.

A symbol of his first hobby stands on the coffee table in his hotel suite here. It is a "booze bush," a plant whose branches are decorated with 25 small bottles of liquor.

★ ★ ★

Actually, although Joe likes to say his favorite foods are scotch, steak and cole slaw, his drinking feats are exaggerated. Asked what was his favorite hangover remedy he said seriously:

"I rarely have hangovers. I get eight or nine hours of sleep every day.

"Some people drink to forget. I drink to remember. After a couple of drinks I do remember better."

Joe sold the story of his life, "The Joker is Wild" to Hollywood for $400,000 and a 75 per cent cut of profits from the picture.

★ ★ ★

"So far we've got a lot of royalties—but no money," he remarked.

"But I'm hoping it will put me in a tax bracket so high it has snow on it."

Lewis was born on the lower East Side, just around the corner from the neighborhood that produced Irving Berlin, Eddie Cantor and Al Smith.

"I've done an awful lot for Irving Berlin," he said. "In all my years in show business I never sang one of his songs. If I ever write a song, I hope he'll do the same for me. He can't sing either."

★ ★ ★

Joe, who said he doesn't believe in living by rules, because "there are no rules," has a simple suggestion for keeping in shape:

"Run up and down a racetrack until you don't have a superfluous ounce of cash on you."

Doesn't he ever secretly envy the ordinary man who works daylight hours and goes home at night to a wife and three kids in a happy home in the suburbs? A look of horror spread over Joe's face.

"I'm a gambler—not a lunatic," he replied.

★ ★ ★

Here are the three basic tenets of Joe E. Lewis' philosophy for happiness:

"Never spend more than three seconds every day on regret.

"You're only young once, but if you work it right, once is enough.

"When things look black, send them to the laundry."

★ ★ ★

Two years ago Joe underwent an operation for the removal of most of his stomach, and now, every morning when he wakes up, his first grateful thought is:

"Gee, I made it again."

U. S. May Turn It Down

India Looking for Loan

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, whose foreign policy views clash repeatedly with those of the United States, now is shopping in Washington.

★ ★ ★

He could use a tidy loan, say about a half-billion dollars, to finance his part socialistic, part capitalistic second five-year plan.

Nehru has sent Tiruvellore Thattai Krishnamachari, his finance minister with the somewhat difficult name, on this very tough assignment. Failure will mean tightened belts and an even more strained economy in India.

Krishnamachari's immediate purpose in the United States is a meeting of the World Bank. But it is no secret that more important for India will be his talks with American officials and businessmen in the hope of getting a huge loan to help fill the $1,470,000,000 gap in foreign exchange needed for the five-year plan.

A HUNGRY TIGER

The 57-year-old finance minister has said that "a hungry tiger cannot feed on grass." Thus India has turned to the United States as the only country that can provide a loan on anything like the scale needed.

Britain and other Commonwealth nations are in no shape to aid India's ambitious industrialization program, and the Soviet Union is not on Krishnamachari's itinerary.

Indian informants say the minister's mission is "strictly business" without involving politics or sentiment. His job is to convince Americans that India is a going financial concern with a prospect of good dividends on investments, a market worth cultivating, etc.

But the minister certainly is aware that India's non-alignment policy has angered some political quarters in America, and he also must know that fear of nationalization has made many investors wary of doing business in India. For instance, one Indian constitutional amendment removes from jurisdiction of the courts the question of the value of compensation for nationalized undertakings.

MAY FAIL

The Indian envoy's mission is fuurther handicapped by the fact that it comes at a time when America is on a saving binge at the expense not only of educational programs but also of its military security.

News from India also says that the public there is not well informed of the fact that the Americans at the moment are in no lending mood and that even if Congress did approve a loan it would not be on such a big scale and it would take a long time to gain approval.

Indian newspapers have been pinning high hopes on hte urgent expedition of Krishnamachari.

So it is regarded as inevitable that there is going to be a letdown in India after the mission's results are known.

Reds Show Discretion

SALIDA, Colo. (INS)—A report by the Justice Department that Communnists once used the Colorado mountain town of Salida as a meeting place brought this comment from George Koenig Jr., president ofthe local chamber of commerce: The Reds "used good judgment in picking a place with such wonderful scenery and delightful climate."

Says Mackie Fails to Keep Up Parks

BAY CITY (AP) — House Speaker George M. Van Peursem Monday accused Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie of failing to keep Michigan's roadside parks in good condition.

★ ★ ★

Van Peursem, resuming a speaking tour here in behalf of Republican legislative objectives, wrote Mackie in a letter that both tourists and state residents had complained to him about the "deplorable" condition of the parks. Van Peursem has been out of action six weeks with a throat ailment.

Mackie is a Democrat who took office July 1 after 14 years of Highway Department rule by Charles M. Ziegler, a Republican.

The GOP speaker said he was "quite perplexed" by the situation, since the Highway Department has more money to do its job today than at any other time in our history."

Wooden Poles Fade

CHICAGO (INS) — Wooden telephone and telegraph poles may be on the way out. The electronic section of the Association of American Railroads reported in Chicago that a new fibre-glass pole has many advantages over the wooden models now in use. Glass poles are lighter, stronger, non-decaying and non-corrosive.
