

End of Uneasy Palship?

NEW BITTERNESS — Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, shown saluting a Russian warship on a recent Caspian Sea cruise, is rattling his saber again. Today he said the U. S. spy plane incident has changed his attitude toward President Eisenhower and that the two will discuss at the summit whether Eisenhower should visit Moscow as planned.

K Turns Sour on Ike—May Nix Moscow Trip

MOSCOW (U)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the U.S. spy plane incident had changed his estimate of President Eisenhower and that they will discuss in Paris whether the American leader should come to Moscow as planned.

He made the statement as he stood on a wicker chair talking to correspondents amidst the wreckage of the plane he claims was shot down May 1 east of the Ural.

One of the newsmen asked him plain blank "Do you want Eisenhower to come here in view of the plane incident?"

"What do you want me to say?" Khrushchev said. "You get into my place here and reply for me."

An American correspondent then asked whether, in view of his changed attitude toward Eisenhower, he would want him to postpone the visit to Russia now scheduled for June 10.

"I would not like to comment," the premier said. "We can exchange views with the President on that in Paris."

He announced he is leaving Saturday for the summit conference in Paris opening May 16.

Khrushchev spoke to newsmen in Gorky Park where the Russians displayed what they say is the wreckage and some of the personal belongings and equipment of Francis G. Powers, pilot of the American intruder jet.

There had been speculation Powers, who faces possible trial, might be there but he was not present.

In the park's chess clubrooms, two wings of an aircraft were propped up as the exhibit's centerpiece. They appeared to be in almost perfect condition except for a series of small holes which looked like they were made by shrapnel.

Great twisted pieces of metal from the plane were also shown, along with the personal contents of Powers' wallet.

Eisenhower Renews Plea to Reds for 'Open Skies'

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower challenged the Soviet Union again today to join this country in opening its skies to inspection flights which might give each assurance against surprise attack.

In a news conference review of the furor over Russian capture of an American spy plane, the President called espionage "a disastrous but vital necessity" lest there be another sneak blow such as the 1941 Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Eisenhower said he still expects to visit Soviet Union next month. He said there has been no change at all in his plans, but added that you never can tell what will happen from day to day.

The President said the Soviet "fellow of secrecy and concealment" is a major cause of international tension and uneasiness, and forces the United States to engage in "below the surface" activities to gain information to protect the free world.

"We prefer to work for a different kind of world—a different way of obtaining the information essential to confidence and effective deterrence," he said.

"Open societies, in the day of present weapons, are the only answer."

"This was the reason for my 'open skies' proposal in 1955, which I was ready instantly to put into effect—to permit aerial observation over the United States and the United States which would assure that no surprise attack was being prepared against anyone."

"I shall bring up the 'open skies' proposal again at Paris—since it is a means of ending concealment and suspicion."

Reds to See A-Detection Tests by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. underground nuclear tests to try out detection systems will be controlled by a joint group including Soviet representatives, President Eisenhower said today.

The President was told at his news conference that last Saturday's announcement of the forthcoming tests caused some confusion over the extent of Soviet participation.

Eisenhower said the underground tests will be supervised by a body representing Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States and that no weapons whatsoever will be involved.

DETECTION TEST

In fact, Eisenhower said, many of the tests won't even involve nuclear materials.

The purpose of the test series is to determine whether effective detection devices can be perfected which will enable all nuclear powers to abandon weapons tests with the assurance that other cannot continue them in secret.

Emphasizing that the explosions will be solely for this purpose, Eisenhower said they will not even be connected with "Operation Plowshare"—a program for using nuclear explosions to move mountains and achieve other peaceful purposes.

Asked if the Soviets will be shown every detail of American nuclear devices used in the tests, Eisenhower said he believes they will and that they ought to see everything necessary for their participation in the venture.

Census Figures Indicate Pontiac Tops in County

Oakland Population Up to 687,611 From 1950 Total of 396,001

After a 10-year population boom in Oakland County, Pontiac remains its largest city, figures released by the Census Bureau showed today.

From a 1950 figure of 73,681 in 1950, the number of persons in the city has risen to 81,525, said William C. Hintz, district supervisor of the census.

Since the last counting of noses, Oakland County's population has increased by 73.6 per cent, he pointed out.

The completed county tabulation shows a population of 687,611, compared to 396,001 residents of 10 years ago.

Hintz said that Oakland would retain its place as the second largest county in the state behind Wayne.

The second largest city in Oakland is Royal Oak with a tally of 31,140. The city's figure 10 years ago was 21,638.

Oak Park boasted the largest percentage increase among cities in the county. Its population has leaped from 5,267 in 1950 to 36,616—a whopping jump of 600 per cent.

During the past 10 years Hamtramck climbed from 17,770 to 25,473; Huntington Woods from 4,492 to 8,882; Farmington from 5,237 to 8,235; Clawson from 5,494 to 14,482.

Birmingham was up from 15,467 to 25,331; Berkley from 17,531 to 23,210; Ferndale from 29,675 to 31,265; and Troy from 10,087 to 19,331.

Nixon Triumphs With Write-Ins

Number Is Surprising; He and Kennedy Gain Prestige in Nebraska

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Democrat Sen. John F. Kennedy and Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon pocketed easy presidential preference victories in a Nebraska primary election Tuesday.

Both the Massachusetts senator and Nixon smothered their rivals and both could claim prestige gains from the balloting.

Kennedy was the only candidate formally entered. All Nixon votes were write-ins.

As vote counting neared the half way mark, Kennedy was polling more votes than Nixon. But the size of the apparently spontaneous write-in vote for the Vice President provided one of the election's few surprises.

Democratic returns from 1,099 of 2,017 precincts gave Kennedy 57,588 votes. Write-in votes for the other Democrats included 1,434 for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 884 for Sen. Robert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, 291 for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and 178 for Adlai Stevenson.

Republican returns from 1,009 precincts gave 20,364 write-in votes to Nixon; 280 to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller; 216 to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Williams Republican?

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams admitted last night he had once been a ranking Republican.

36-Degree Low Seen for Tonight—Rain Will End

The light gentle rains and drizzle of the past few days will end tonight or Thursday in the Pontiac area. The mercury will dip to a chilly 36 tonight.

Temperatures for the next five days will average six degrees below the normal high of 67 and normal low of 47. Tomorrow and Friday will continue cool with the high near 50 but Saturday and Sunday will be somewhat warmer.

Moisture will total less than a quarter inch on occasional light rain Thursday with a chance of a few showers Sunday. From 12:15 a.m. yesterday until the same time this morning .45 inches of rain fell here.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 39 degrees. The recording at 2 p.m. was 41.

SEN. JOHN KENNEDY

Hubert Chokes Up Admitting Defeat

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (U)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey had the glister of tears in his eyes and a break in his voice this morning when he admitted defeat as a candidate for president.

It was the only time he lost control of himself in public after finding out that the West Virginia primary, which he had such hopes of winning, turned against him.

News Flashes

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced today he will let the long-sought park fee bill become law without his signature. On previous occasions, he vetoed similar bills.

As he did, Jimmy Wolford, a Williamson boy, began the song that he had sung and played on his guitar to the Humphrey crowds all over the state.

"We're gonna win with Hubert Humphrey, we're gonna win with me," Then Jimmy broke down.

"That's all right, Jimmy," the senator said, putting an arm around his shoulder.

The original plan had been for Humphrey not to come to his headquarters. "He's gone to bed," the reporters were told. They protested that there had to be an appearance, and after a while Humphrey obliged them.

Shortly before, Robert Kennedy, the senator's brother and campaign manager, turned up outside the big plate glass window covered with a Humphrey poster, his collar turned up against the rain.

He and Herb Waters, administrative assistant to Humphrey, went off to make the arrangements for the meeting with Kennedy that, like the announcement ceremony, had to take place.

Off walked Humphrey, by then almost alone, to the Kanawha Hotel, where the Kennedy headquarters were located. He was taken to a littered basement room.

When Kennedy arrived, there were smiles all around, handshakes, and then it was over. Kennedy left to go upstairs to a great crowd of admirers and well-wishers. The stage was all his.

What We Don't Know CAN Hurt Us

U.S. Spying a Must for Survival

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Here is the disturbing inside story of why the U. S. is making desperate, chancy attempts to spy on the interior of the Soviet Union.

It could be a matter of our national survival.

The truth is we don't know where even one of Nikita Khrushchev's big intercontinental ballistic missile military launching sites is located.

We know the top priority push Khrushchev is putting on ICBMs. We know where Russia's experimental testing sites are. But we don't know where the big military birds that could destroy U. S. cities would come from.

Not knowing where those ICBM launching bases are could be disastrous. It could make as sitting ducks for a surprise Red missile attack some Sunday morning.

WOULD MONITOR THEM

If these missile sites were known, the U. S. would find a way to monitor them, spot missiles as they blasted off.

That would give the Strategic Air Command and other U. S. defenders the vital extra minutes they need to prevent disaster.

We have not a scrap of evidence on how many atomic submarines the Soviet Union is building. We don't know where they are being built. We don't know, in fact, whether any are being built at all. We just guess they are.

We have only scraps of direct information on how many intercontinental missiles the Russians are actually building at present.

Our estimates are calculated from indirect evidence on the basis of capability. These estimates could be considerably off.

Humphrey Says He's No Longer Dem Candidate

Victory Boosts Stock of Catholic Senator for Presidency

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (U)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) took a giant stride toward the Democratic presidential nomination today with a smashing victory in the West Virginia primary.

He not only rolled over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), he also knocked him out of the presidential race completely.

At 1:08 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) Humphrey conceded. Moments later he issued a statement in which he said:

"I am no longer a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination."

Kennedy flew back from Washington early today.

"West Virginia has tonight given me a major boost toward the Democratic nomination for president," he said happily.

Kennedy, a Catholic running in a predominantly Protestant state, thanked the voters.

"I had no doubt," he said, "that you would cast your vote on the basis of the issues and not on any religious prejudice."

Kennedy jumped ahead at the start and steadily increased his margin.

With 2,163 of 2,730 precincts reporting, Sen. Kennedy looked like the Kennedy 181,757; Humphrey 114,314.

SAW CLOSE RACE

A few observers had thought that Kennedy might take a close-brother bet. But usually the guess was that it would be close, with the edge, if any, going to Humphrey, a Congressionalist.

"The timetable shows how unexpectedly easy it was."

West Virginia ballots are long, and most are counted by hand, so the prediction was that it might be 2 a.m. before a winner could be declared.

Yet by 9:30 p.m., only two hours after the polls closed, a reporter found Humphrey gloomily studying the early but, for him, already ominous returns.

An hour later Kennedy's headquarters reported Kennedy would fly back here after all. Like Humphrey, he had gone to Washington Tuesday. Unlike Humphrey, he hadn't definitely planned to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Haircut Prices to Rise 25 Cents in Area Saturday

Pontiac area barbers voted last night to boost the cost of haircuts 25 cents beginning Saturday.

Normal haircuts will cost $2 and special ones $2.25.

Pontiac Local 59 of the State Barber Assn. also voted for a p.m. closing time on Saturdays, an hour earlier than at present.

The changes had been deliberated by local members for a month and were adopted by nearly a 4 to 1 vote, said Arthur Blankenship, secretary-treasurer of the local.

Blankenship said that the price boost was the first since 1955.

"The cost of living has gone up since then but barbers' prices have not," he said.

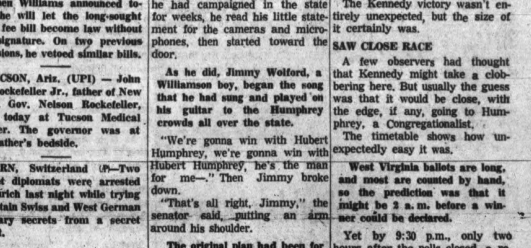

Pontiac Local 59 represents virtually all barbers in Pontiac, Warrenton Township, Dayton Plains, Keego Harbor and Auburn Heights.

Prices for other barber shop services will remain the same, said Blankenship. Except for the earlier Saturday closing hours, he said, the same — 9 a.m. — 8 p.m. weekdays, with shops closed Wednesdays.

Automakers Held Liable

New Jersey Supreme Court Backs Guarantee on Defective Parts

TRENTON, N.J. (U)—The New Jersey Supreme Court Monday ruled automobile manufacturers and dealers are liable for defective cars, in spite of their standard warranty.

In a 6-0 decision the court held the Chrysler Corp. and Bloomfield Motors liable for a new car which was wrecked because of defective construction.

Justice John J. Francis was strongly critical of the automobile manufacturers' marketing practices. He said they issued warranties on their cars which were meant to sound like guarantees, but actually weren't.

The decision came in a case involving a car bought by Clara H. Hemmingson of Keanburg, as a Mother's Day gift for his wife in 1955.

It was a new Plymouth. Ten days afterward as Mrs. Hemmingson was driving it, the car swerved off the road and hit a brick wall. It was demolished. She testified something snapped in the steering mechanism.

Hemmingson won a $4,000 judgment for damages to the car and $25,000 for injuries to his wife.

Chrysler and Bloomfield Motors contended their warranty covered only replacement of defective parts. If they were sent to the factory by the buyer. The warranty is the standard one used by all major American car manufacturers.

"The ingenuity of the Automobile Manufacturers' Assn. by means of its standardized form, has metamorphosed the warranty into a device to limit the maker's liability," Francis said.

Cass, Dowagiac Areas Jump in Population

DOWAGIAC (UPI) — Dowagiac and Cass counties were reported today to have gained population of 620 and 8,348 respectively in the past 10 years.

The district census office at Benton Harbor reported to Mayor Eugene Jensen that the new population in Dowagiac from the 1950 census was 7,184, compared with 6,564 in 1940. Cass County's population in the 1950 census jumped to 36,628, up from 28,282 in 1940. The area was reported to be in a "population explosion" belt in southwest Michigan, which was said to extend between Niles and Dowagiac, primarily in the Barron Lake, Howard, Milton, and Silver Creek and Pokagon areas.

Weekly Roundup of Editorials From Press Staff Members

Will You Be Among 1960 Traffic Deaths?

If you're a motorist who likes to hop in the car and drive around scenic Oakland County on sunny weekends, then maybe we'd better wish you a happy Memorial Day, July Fourth, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas all in one.

Judging from the current slaughter on County highways, you may not be around to enjoy some or all of these coming holidays.

At the present time, the County is averaging two traffic deaths per week. At that rate, six motorists will not be with us by Memorial Day.

Moreover, 16 won't be here for Independence Day and 34 will miss Labor Day. Looking way ahead, the traffic toll should be in the neighborhood of 66 between now and Christmas.

Police and sheriff's deputies throughout Oakland County fear the 1960 toll will go over 100. Last year it was only 82.

Currently the death toll stands at 37. It was only 23 as of this date last year.

In fact, to be on a par with last year's toll of 37, Mr. Motorist, would have to keep the slate free of fatalities from now until July 5.

So take it easy behind that wheel. There were seven traffic fatalities in May last year. There haven't been any yet this May.

Let's go for a shutout.

You Can Give Meaning to Last Years of Aged

There are some 225 patients in the winter of their lives (average age is 68) at the Oakland County Medical Care Facility who often think of death and often thirst for a look at life, rather than its shadow.

These, most of them alone in the world, are afforded every care and comfort during their confinement. Only lacking are adequate provisions to save their awareness of life's eclipse and to satisfy their spiritual needs. These, to the aged, are as important as medicine.

The Facility has only six television sets for the entire patient population. With no projector of their own, movies come only when a civic group committee chairman remembers to include an infrequent hospital visit on her agenda. The Chaplain's Room affords privacy but little spiritual environment. A rug and some religious pictures for the walls are just a few of the things needed.

Thomas J. Leonard, manager of the Facility, says, "In all the 20 years I've been here, I have never met a patient who has wanted to die. They all want to hang on to see what is going to happen tomorrow."

Leonard says it is difficult to find people who are concerned. We are deficient in our responsibility to the human needs of these oldest. Isn't someone, or some group, concerned enough to see that they have something to live for tomorrow?

"Short, sharp make girls look taller," says a dress designer. They also make men look longer.

Voter Apathy May Kill Citizens for Michigan

Is voter apathy—the thorn in the side of democracy—slowly pricking to death citizens for Michigan? Its founder GEORGE ROMNEY, hates to admit it.

He says the success of CFM is "not assured."

Pontiac's chapter has disbanded. "No participation or interest" was given as the reason after seven meetings with an average attendance of eight persons.

"I did not anticipate the depth of apathy among Michigan citizens which we have encountered," ROMNEY, of Bloomfield Hills, said.

Encouragement, not discouragement, comes from some other Oakland CFM leaders. One said that his group was by no means giving up the ship, although he admitted being "troubled with apathy."

Rochester's group has two meetings a month, a total membership of 50 and meeting attendance which ranges between 12 and 35 persons.

Bloomfield Hills says it has 200 "paid" members but only an "active" group of about 30.

CFM's stellar test comes in Lansing May 21 at a general membership meeting. Whether they favor a constitutional convention and Michigan's tax problems will be the big question. Disagreement could spell defeat.

And, without fail, those non-participating men and women who said phooey when CFM was starting up last fall will be the first to say "I told you so."

These are the same people who say at election time: "What's one little vote count anyway?"

The Man About Town

Tulips Delayed White Chapel Display Is Feeling the Late Spring

Weather man: A guy who doesn't cooperate with the calendar.

Michigan's largest and most beautiful concentrated tulip display (right here in our own Oakland County) will be at its best during the coming week. It is at White Chapel Memorial Park in Troy Township, less than ten miles southeast of Pontiac.

According to Manager Doral D. Symons, some added varieties this year push the number well above the 100,000 mark, considerably more than ever before.

With a little warmer weather, they will reach their peak next Sunday, but if it remains cool the show will not be at its best until later next week, and without doubt will be good until around May 25.

All are arranged in symmetrical beds, some of which number several thousand. Every possible color is represented, all from overseas bulbs.

The display is free to all, and everything can be seen without leaving your car. Keep to the right at all times on the drive ways. It is a good plan to go early in the day, to avoid the crowds.

The park is open every day, including Sundays, from eight o'clock in the morning until sunset.

From Pontiac the best route to White Chapel is east on Auburn Ave., through Auburn Heights, to Crooks Road, where you turn right three miles to East Long Lake Road, on which is the entrance, a few rods east of Crooks Road.

'On Your Way Out Drop These in the Mail'

David Lawrence Says:

Spy Plane Criticism Unjustified

WASHINGTON—Some of the comments being made currently about the U.S. plane that went down in Russia are stranger than the incident itself.

Thus, it is being lamented that the incident happened "just before the summit conference," as if this were something "important." Actually, it would have been most unfortunate if the episode had occurred after the summit conference. For then a long time would have elapsed before the matter could have been disposed of by the governments concerned at a subsequent summit session.

It is also being asserted that the President should have known in detail every minute of the day that missions were planned for every pilot in the far-flung operations of the United States overseas, so that this particular flight could have been capped.

This is precisely what the Communists desire—to halt all defense operations by the Allies, including information-gathering, while they themselves pursue their customary infiltration and spying tactics.

To say that the President should have known about the Powers' flight is to assume that he is to be held responsible for the functioning of the top level and a policy adopted. General authority to carry them out was delegated.

The United States government, under this or any other administration, is not likely to be lulled into the dangerous attitude that, while diplomats talk, all weapons must be grounded and America must take the chance of being subjected to surprise attack by missiles that carry nuclear weapons.

CONGRESS SENSIBLE

Fortunately, criticism from Congress is more restrained and sensible. The administration has again and again briefed members of both parties in secret about intelligence activities.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic majority leader, during the course of a splendid speech to the Senate, said on Tuesday: "Espionage and intelligence-gathering are not something that cause the 'cold war.' They are merely by-products of the 'cold war'—something that follows logically when nations cannot trust each other."

Chairman Clarence Cannon, Democrat, of the House Appropriations Committee, in a similar note of statesmanship, said to the House of Representatives that the Central Intelligence Agency has been soundbored by Congress each year that it must meet situations that might result in surprise attack by adopting effective measures.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Go for Good Nutrition, Forget Fancy Medicine

"Deterioration of a tissue or an organ in which its vitality is diminished; a substitution of a lower grade for a higher form of structure; either by chemical change of the tissue or the deposit of abnormal matter in the tissue." (Webster)

"Deterioration: change from a higher to a lower or less functional, usually active form." (Dorland)

"Retrospective change in cells or tissues in consequence of the functioning power is lost and the living substance becomes converted into an inert mass." (Stedman)

Stedman's definition is the best. I think only I wish he had not called the retrospective change "pathological." And I wish he had said functioning power is impaired or diminished. Certainly it is not just until one turns up one's toes.

MEANS MORIBID

Pathological means moribund, due to or pertaining to disease. Degeneration is not disease and confusing them leads to a great deal of misunderstanding and ineffective treatment. Take for instance the most familiar and wide-spread chronic cell disability.

This is not a disease, even though ten million poor souls spend hundreds of millions for treatment of their "arthritis" with the unending succession of "wonder" drugs which, reported the "Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, give no more relief than the less dangerous pain-killers, aspirin, dose, aspirin, dose, aspirin, dose."

The important point to remember is that the presence of more calcium, cholesterol or fat in the tissue of the arteries, joints or other structures is the consequence of degeneration and not the cause of it.

It is because some physicians do not quite understand the "retrogressive change in cells or tissues" which constitutes degeneration that they make ludicrous attempts to restrict the intake of cholesterol in their patients' everyday diet.

Ladies, I say, because nearly all wholesome foods contain more or less cholesterol and how can doctor or patient tell whether following such a freak diet for a month, a year or 25 years does any good?

If you're a paying customer of a merchant of medicine you may still prefer to call your chronic joint disability "arthritis," but it is degeneration just the same.

If the doctor asserts vehemently that your trouble is "arthritis," ask him what he thinks causes it. Whether he takes five seconds or five minutes to answer, you won't know any more about it than you do now.

Dr. William Brady Says: "The American forces must be applied of any future preparation for attack in time to meet it. The plan they have been following is their answer to that demand. And I want to take advantage of the opportunity to compliment and thank Director Allen W. Dulles and his remarkable corps for the admirable way in which they have met the situation through these later years. They are entitled to the highest commendation by the department and the Congress and the American people."

"We cannot permit another Korea. We cannot take the risk of carnage and national devastation which would follow a similar attack from across the Russian borders."

Both sides are engaged in spying. Khrushchev talks in righteous tones as if the Communists do nothing on this score. An important revelation, however, has just been made.

And if you will send 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, I'll send you little booklet No. 12, Chronic Joint Disability, which tells how to correct your nutritional deficiency and retard, arrest or even reverse the degeneration—promote regeneration. This is all nutrition, remember, and not medicine.

Signaled letters not more than page or 30 words long pertaining to health and medicine, all disease, diagnosis or treatment, answered by Dr. William Brady, in a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1960)

'We Had Enough Nerve but Not Enough Sense'

I see we had enough nerve to go into enemy territory and take pictures but not enough sense to keep our mouths shut—pity the poor pilot. Also, if the Dems get into office and there's a war, just remember who was in office when it first started—not that it will matter then. Lippy

'I Don't Understand What Complaint Is'

Patrick Thomas says in Voice of the People that "a commoner has about as much chance as a pig of rising to royalty as a share cropper's son has of becoming President of the United States." Many share croppers' sons have done so. I particularly remember a Mr. Thomas Lincoln whose son "made it" almost a century ago. And according to all the accounts that have been published or uttered, a commoner married Margaret, What's all the shoo-in about, Patrick?

Russians realize what saps we were before, so they probably bank on having us burn our noses in their behalf in the Chinese mess. *

They're due for a surprise when they find Eisenhower isn't a Roosevelt. Already he tells the world Nixon may have to "sit in" for him. The Reds have caught on, for that means if they start out delivering their meaty mouthed speeches, he intends to go home. *

Roosevelt would have sat there and listened with jaws ajar and nodding "yes, yes, yes." Hearing Republican

By the time I pay all my taxes I have 120 left and with three dogs, that leaves $3 to eat on till next year, but what really bothers me is someone will come up with an ordinance or tax on false teeth and there goes my $5 and my tooth. Case Records of a Psychologist:

Marriage Problems Aren't Sudden

Dora's story is a sequel to yesterday's confession by his wife, Dorothy. Scroopbook these true office cases for they help everyone. Wives, wake up and quit telling us doctors, "We were happily married for 16 years, when suddenly..." You can't speak for your husbands! They often deny that they have been equally happy, so keep on guard!

By GEORGE W. CRANE CASE E-67. Don L., aged 29, is the drunken husband of Dorothy, who was debating a divorce, as mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane," he began, after his wife had urged him to come to my office, "I hate myself when I get drunk."

"I really wish I could quit the bottle. But I don't want to have the proper will power. I don't know why whiskey has such control over me."

"Dorothy is debating a divorce, and I don't blame her. For I have failed her terribly."

LIQUOR CAMOUFLAGE Please note that Don says he doesn't know why whiskey has him in its clutches. But he really does.

Patients try to avoid painful ideas and thus will often talk in circles when consulting a doctor, though in reality they know the root of their problem.

Sometimes it requires hours to dig out the missing "big new" piece that makes the puzzle clear-cut and simple.

But that missing piece is always available!

Notice, too, that Don says he has failed Dorothy terribly! That is his disguised reference to his sexual impotence, though he tries to make us think his drunkenness is the focus of his problem.

Alcoholism is usually just an external symptom of a serious inner burning. The victim is in a serious emotional conflagration.

He feels on fire with fear, worry, anger, guilt or twinges of conscience.

Because of this consuming inner "fire," he seeks a fire escape. Thus, millions of alcoholics never discover that whiskey will dull their inside turmoil and give them at best a few hours of relief from their pain.

Besides, it often serves as a convenient red herring to direct their wives' attention away from the fact these men are growing impotent.

Not all cases of alcoholism are due to sexual inferiority complexes, for many other forms of guilt will likewise drive victims to whiskey.

But you can be pretty sure that worry over a platonic condition (impotence) is behind the usual husband's alcoholism after the age of 35 to 40.

FACE THE FACTS

So I spent an hour leading Don around to the focus of his problem.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," finally admitted, "I'm scared. I'm scared, good as a husband, and I know Dorothy would lose respect for me if she knew the real facts."

"If I weren't such a coward, I'd have committed suicide. Instead, I've got to go on every night, so she doesn't suspect my real problem."

Then I explained to Don that impotence is usually a state of mind. And a smart wife can generally banish such a problem in a few minutes if she will throw off womanhood's natural passivity and become more seductive in her own boudoir.

Comment Continues About Chessman

I don't think this silly rat, Chessman, has paid sufficiently by a wide margin. Let's give his "sacred" remains to Steve Allen, he seems to be so interested. Jaddy

You're to be congratulated on your editorial on the Chessman case. A.S.

Royal Oak

I agree with The Press about the Chessman case. When you say, "when will we worry about the killed instead of the killer?" that goes for drunk drivers who witness at the scene of an accident admitted being the driver, but as soon as one of the passengers dies, all the blame is given the dead man. Naturally he gets off easily without even a day in jail and he's free to murder again. Disturbed Average Man

'Ike Just Wants to Help GOP'

Eisenhower's own private medical advice isn't any better than any of the rest except that this way the Democrats won't get any credit and that's all he's after. He's trying to make the Republicans look big. M.J.

'More Scriptures Could Save Lives'

I've been wondering why we can't have a few more Scriptures on billboards along the highways instead of all the liquor signs. Michigan is called the most scenic state so why not something more along our highways to help beauty? People would see these signs and think twice before driving recklessly and some men who are bound for beer gardens and clubs where drinks are sold might be saved for their families. L.M.N.

Michigan Vacation Trail

To Honor Pere Marquette Atop Ludington Sand Hill

By United Press International
One of Michigan's most hallowed historic sites is located at Ludington atop a sand dune overlooking the city's Lake Michigan harbor.

A huge steel cross marks the death site, on May 28, 1675, of Pere Jacques Marquette, Jesuit missionary and explorer.

Each year on the anniversary of Pere Marquette's death, the memory of the missionary is honored by the Pere Marquette pilgrimage. The ceremony includes a slow-moving motorcade over an eight-mile route from Ludington to the cross.

A wreath is placed on the shrine and a narrative script on the life of the missionary-explorer is read.

Pere Marquette became ill while on a mission to Indian villages scattered along the shores of Lake Michigan. Indian companions placed him in a canoe and raced northward toward Mackinac Island, base of the Roman Catholic Mission in the Great Lakes region where medical care was available.

When the party reached the mouth of the river now named the Pere Marquette, the priest was taken ashore for the night. During the night the holy man died at the age of 33.

The body was first buried at the death site, but soon afterwards was moved to St. Ignace, where it remained for more than 150 years. It was later taken to the campus of Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wis.

For many years Indians of the Ludington region maintained a rustic cross atop the dune. The steel cross was erected and the site landscaped in 1955 when Ludington observed its centennial anniversary. During the summer months the cross is lighted at night and is visible for miles.

The composer of one of the world's most famous hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross," is honored by a huge rustic cross along U.S. 121 north of Reed City.

The cross, along one of Michigan's main north-south highways, directs travelers to the home of the late Rev. George W. Bernard, located five miles northeast of Reed City.

Rev. Bernard is also honored by a marker in the yard of a country church along M40 between Niles and Cassopolis. He was pastor there at the time he composed "The Old Rugged Cross."

Many Children Doomed to Ignorance and Poverty

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Almost half of the world's school-age children are not in school and are growing up with no opportunity to develop their talents and skills.

For the most part, these unfortunate children live in the economically less developed countries where schools are few and far between and where even the pittance earnings of minors are needed to help keep families from starving.

In the advanced nations such as the United States, the problem of educating young people today is not so much one of teaching them the "three R's," which they learn as a matter of course, as of channeling their tremendous creative energy and pioneering spirits into socially useful work.

These questions are discussed in a thoughtful report issued recently by the director-general of the International Labor Organization, linked to the United Nations.

The report pointed out that adults everywhere are so preoccupied with juvenile delinquency that they do not give sufficient attention to primary issues of youth development and its relations with the community.

The issues are of staggering size in Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America, where millions of children under the age of 15 work long hours on farms, in factories, mines and offices.

Even if the schools existed to accommodate them all, their families could not spare them from their jobs. The poverty in these continents makes child labor in desperate.

In countries which already have an educational system, the report stressed, young people need much more guidance than they are now getting to help them choose suitable occupations.

In the underdeveloped nations, too many educated youths prepare themselves for white-collar jobs instead of for technical and professional occupations where trained manpower is in short supply.

Throughout the world, the modern generation of youth is displaying a distaste for manual labor. To counteract this attitude, some countries—in particular, the Soviet Union—are combining practical work with education so as to develop in youth an appreciation for labor of all kinds.

Democrats Eye Old Farm Plan

Advisory Group Urges Return to 90 Per Cent of Parity, Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats may propose a return to the farm programs of the Roosevelt-Truman administration to win farm votes in this year's elections. A 24-member advisory committee on Democratic farm policy proposed Tuesday that the government return farm price support levels to 90 per cent of parity and impose more rigid crop controls to halt accumulation of surpluses.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

Production controls and supports at these levels were the keystones of farm programs evolved under Democratic Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

The Eisenhower administration, which inherited them, has backed away from them, contending they encouraged overexpansion of farm productive capacity with resulting surpluses.

The committee recommendations will be laid before the Democratic platform drafters at the party's national convention in Los Angeles in July.

The Republican administration has pressed for and obtained reduction in price supports and some relaxation of controls. Most support now are at 75 per cent of parity or less. The administration wants even more lowering of supports now are at 75 per cent of farm controls.

But whether the Eisenhower program will be the one endorsed by the party's presidential nominee is a matter of conjecture. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the probable candidate, is casting about for possible new farm approach.

Slaughter Count Varies

LANSING 10—The number of hogs, cattle and calves slaughtered in Michigan in March rose from February while the sheep and lamb kill was dropping, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said. Hog slaughter was up 9 per cent, cattle 19 per cent and calves 25 per cent. The sheep and lamb slaughter fell off 12 per cent.

The Browning Automatic Rifle (BAR) used by U.S. Army infantrymen weighs 17 pounds.

Dies in Gun Mishap

FLINT 10—Police said Mrs. Sophie Ferguson, 32, was killed Monday night in a shooting accident in her home. Her husband, Joe, 36, told police his 12 gauge shotgun accidentally discharged when his wife walked in front of him. He was not held. During World War II German submarines were refusing to hide in hidden fjords (an arm of the sea) with high, rocky basins in Greenland.

Why Don't Ya Learn to Count?Census Bureau Gets Set for Civic Belly-Aching

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau is getting ready for a flood of complaints that it doesn't know how to count.

Many cities, just as a matter of civic pride, are expected to protest that the government shortchanged them in counting noses this year.

A spokesman said the bureau always is willing to check figures for a city or county and do a limited recount if there are obvious mistakes.

But local chambers of commerce and similar organizations generally have an inflated idea of their hometown's population, the spokesman added.

No city has yet complained that the Census Bureau found too many people within its boundaries.

The Census Bureau's position was explained after the Allentown, Pa., Chamber of Commerce demanded a recount when the city's estimated 1960 population showed a drop of 2,100 from the 1950 total of 106,750.

"We are under the gun now and we will be for the next few months while preliminary population totals for major cities and all counties are announced," the census spokesman said.

The Census Bureau wants to present honest and accurate figures but we are going to collide with local pride if they are not up to the usual optimistic expectations.

Aside from damaging a community's esteem, a drop in population can mean less representation in Congress and state legislatures and less federal aid state aid for an area.

In past complaints about alleged miscounts, communities generally have cited figures showing increased housebuilding, telephone installations and utility connections.

"But these are indicators of economic, not population, growth," the Census Bureau spokesman said.

Rayburn, Aiken Help REA Mark 25th Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Rural Electrification Administration observed its 25th anniversary at ceremonies here today featuring speeches by its congressional backers—Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.).

By making loans to farm cooperatives and other local units, the REA has helped to put electricity on all but 3 per cent of the nation's farms.

It has made loans totaling $4,011,000,000 to borrowers since the start of the program in 1935.

Has No Comment on Spy Affair

Hush-Hush CIA Mum

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency is one of the biggest, and at the same time one of the most hush-hush, of the scores of federal agencies in Washington.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev says Francis G. Powers, the American pilot downed on a flight over the Soviet Union is a CIA agent.

As it has before and probably will continue to do in the future, CIA is saying nothing about the U.S. airman. It neither confirms nor denies that it had any hand in the affair. It remains as mum as the crypt.

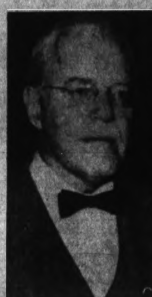

There is a reason for this: For CIA to give any hint of its activities, even to deny anything, might give out clues that would harm CIA's effectiveness.

It is widely known—though not officially stated—that CIA has undercover intelligence agents around the world in Washington, the agency directs its far-flung operations, assesses the information gathered, and reports it to President Eisenhower and other appropriate government officials.

The agency employs thousands and spends millions of dollars yearly. Yet its activities are kept so secret that its appropriations are concealed in the money bills for other agencies and the number of its employees is not given out publicly.

CIA was set up in 1947 to meet modern, cold war needs. A main aim was establishment of a central intelligence unit both to coordinate and to go beyond the work of various military and civilian intelligence agencies.

The Army, Navy and Air Force still have their separate intelligence arms but they are supposed to operate primarily in the fields of special interest to their service.

The CIA director is head of the intelligence advisory board, on plus cost of installation.

which sit representatives from the various intelligence organizations. One of his jobs is to give Eisenhower's National Security Council intelligence concerning the national security as a whole.

Head of CIA since 1953 has been Allen W. Dulles, 57, brother of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. CIA's deputy director since 1953 has been Gen. C.P. Cabell, 58, formerly of the U.S. Air Force.

Sylvania Announces TV Ticker Tape Reader

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has announced development of a device which reads brokerage office ticker tape and transmits it to other areas through direct wire television.

The new apparatus, named the Argus TV ticker reader, is designed for use with the Argus line of direct wire TV equipment.

The General Telephone & Electronic subsidiary said the apparatus will sell for just under $300, plus cost of installation.

Oldest Cuban Paper Seized by Unionists

HAVANA (AP) — Pro-government unions early today seized "Diario de la Marina," Cuba's oldest newspaper and the loudest critic of Prime Minister Fidel Castro and his regime.

The 128-year-old morning paper was taken over by the Graphic Arts Union and the National Confederation of Newspaper Workers.

A spokesman for the newspaper management said officials of the two unions said they were "intervening" the paper because "its counter-revolutionary position could no longer be tolerated in the national interest."

Seizure of Diario leaves only one outspokenly anti-Castro paper publishing in Cuba, La Prensa Libre, and two other independent papers which are not considered pro-government, information and El Cristal.

Gets Ordinance on Ambulances

Commission to Act on Long-Awaited Measure After 2-Week Study

The long-awaited ordinance controlling ambulances was introduced to the City Commission last night and Mayor Philip E. Rowton said it would be up for action after two weeks' study.

The measure was written by Sherwin M. Birkmair, assistant city attorney, with the help of officials in the health, fire and police departments.

Birkmair said the ordinance had been given a year's thought and revision. It already has been the subject of discussion by a City Commission subcommittee headed by former Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

Birkmair said the measure was designed to protect the public, ambulance operators and the city.

NEED ADDED TRAINING
It provides for public liability insurance and bonding as well as police inspection of vehicles and health department inspection of sanitary conditions and medical provisions.

Not only are drivers and attendants asked to have standard Red Cross first aid training, they are required further to take added training under the director of public health in more advanced public health techniques.

Annual refresher training courses are stipulated in the ordinance.

Important is a provision providing $300 penalties and 90-day jail terms for ambulance personnel operating in violation of the proposed regulations.

"I am satisfied that most of our present ambulance companies can qualify under the proposed ordinance with no trouble at all," said Birkmair.

"But irresponsible, fly-by-night outfits will be discouraged from operating here."

The proposed seven-page ordinance would replace an existing one-page measure which Birkmair described as "legally ridden with holes."

Pontiac City Affairs

Accept $53,000 Blacktop Bid

With one dissenting vote, City Commissioners last night accepted the low bid of $53,000 from A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham for the city's annual blacktopping contract.

"The company will probably be awarded, also, the $30,000 contract for resurfacing Orchard Lake avenue between Saginaw and the Clinton River bridge west of Cass avenue."

Commissioner Milton R. Henry dissented after suggesting that the contract be split among the three bidders. Detroit Concrete Products Inc., was second lowest with a bid of $57,522. Detroit Asphalt Paving Co. bid $50,016.

Henry noted that although A & A was low as far as the blacktopping was concerned, the company's bid was a few cents higher on preparation of road bed.

City Manager Walter R. Willman and City Engineer James N. Carlisle believed A & A would withdraw the bid if the city proposed to split the contract.

GRANT DANCING RIGHTS
Another dissenting vote came when dancing permits were granted to two establishments, the Cave of the Ninth Cat at S. Perry St., and a new dance hall at 550 N. Perry St.

Commissioner Wesley J. Wood voted against the license at S. Perry St., but for the license at 550 N. Perry.

Although new dancing permits have not been issued in the city for several years, there was little discussion among the Commission members as to how to deal with the applications.

"We've already fought our legal battle and lost," commented Mayor Philip E. Rowton in reference to the Commission's unsuccessful fight to bar so-called beatnik coffee houses from Pontiac.

The president of the Tel-Huron

Merchants Assn. announced that his organization is dropping plans to fight the bid on promotional carnivals brought about by citizen complaints last week.

"We won't ask again for carnivals this summer," said Raymond Smith, association president. "But we want to complain formally, both the ruling case before we had any chance to defend ourselves or to answer any specific complaints."

A new gasoline and oil concession at Pontiac Municipal Airport was announced and the Robbins Aviation Corp., which signed it, was allowed to rent some of the city's old fuel equipment at $50 a month.

A $3,000 bid from A. E. Harbeck, 580 Osmun St., for purchase of the city-owned home and lot at the corner of Osmun and Starford streets was accepted. The only other bid, from Franklin D. Elias, 342 Osmun St., totaled $2,100.

HEARING TUESDAY

Hearings were scheduled for Tuesday on eight projects. Plans will be aired then for the resurfacing of Orchard Lake avenue and for curbs, gutters, grading, gravel and drains on Third avenue, Joslyn to Highland. Some curbs and gutters are involved in the Orchard Lake job.

Up for public consideration will be the assessment rolls covering curbs and gutters on Roland road, from Assessor's Pk 130 to Argyle; Fourth avenue, Joslyn to Highland; Second avenue, Joslyn to Laurel; and Terryon avenue, Fuller to Arlene.

Also scheduled Tuesday are hearings on assessment rolls for three sewer extensions—500 feet on the south side of Oakland avenue, south of Furbush; on the north side of Walton boulevard, Stanley to Richmond; and two connected jobs, one on Aster street from 500 feet north of Pike street south to Michigan and the other on Northwest drive, Aster to East boulevard.

The annual Oakland County 4-H Fair was approved. The dates are Aug. 9-13.

Mrs. Ada R. Evans, clerk, announced that city employees had contributed $35 to the fund to send the parents of Hayes Jones to the Olympic Games in Rome this summer if the Pontiac track star wins a place on the U.S. team.

Placed on the public improvement program was a water main on Locke street, east of Bay, slightly longer than the one approved at hearings last year.

After a public hearing at which no objections were raised, the Commission acted on a recommendation from the Planning Commission and removed from residential to commercial three and a fraction lots at the northeast corner of Oakland avenue and Blaine street for a used car lot.

City Beverage Co., Inc., 117 Turk St., was given a permit for a new beer and wine warehouse at 333 Featherstone Rd. and Cecil C. Newstead was given authority to transfer an SDD liquor license from 888-W. Huron St. to 689 N. East Blvd.

A petition signed by 80 per cent of the affected property owners, was accepted for consideration of a 90-foot sidewalk on the west side of S. Josiah street south of Chandler.

Commissioner John A. Dugan ascertained that the city would have chloride spread available within a few weeks for dusty roads during the next dry spell.

Commissioner Robert A. Landry passed on to the manager six recent complaints of speeding automobiles in his district.

Ireland has about 3,000 miles of railroads.

Rap Rate Hike Plea of Michigan Truckers

LANSING (AP)—A proposed 45 per cent boost in freight rates sought by Michigan truckers is under sharp attack before the Public Service Commission by representatives of business interests.

Dale Edwards, a partner in the Michigan Traffic Co. of Detroit, told the PSC yesterday the rate hike would cost $1,735,000.

He objected to any across-the-board percentage increase for all classes of freight.

He was joined in opposition by traffic managers of several firms including Cecil G. Porter, Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Co., Rockford; R. D. Goddard, Kawneer Co., Niles; Dudley Filkins, L. A. Darling Co., Coldwater; and J. R. Bosburgh, Michigan Trucking Co., East Creek.

Queen Mother Off to Africa Despite Threats

LONDON (AP)—Undeterred by threats of violence, Queen Mother Elizabeth today flew south on a good will visit to the troubled African federation of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland.

Prior to her departure, Colonial Secretary Linn Macleod received a telegram from the white mine workers of the Northern Rhodesian copper belt warning of possible racial trouble. Macleod said the situation would be watched carefully but there were no present plans to alter the Queen Mother's program.

She was seen off at the airport Tuesday night by her daughter.

Willman Plans New Waterford Pollution Fight

City Manager Walter K. Willman is planning to renew pressure on the State Health Department to bring about pollution control in Waterford Township.

The manager promised this after Mayor Philip E. Rowton and Commissioner Milton R. Henry last night again complained about pollution.

The mayor was concerned about the east side of Sylvan Lake along James R. boulevard properties, and Henry cited continued pollution in Crystal Lake within the city limits.

The city officially complained to the Water Resources Commission last year that inadequate sewage disposal in the township was polluting the Clinton River and its lakes.

State Health Department officials said then that the Clinton River basin sewage disposal system being contemplated by the Oakland County Department of Public Works was the best answer to the problem.

Housewife's Charge Jails Ex-Sheriff

MUSKOGON (AP) — Ex-Sheriff Arthur Davis today was sentenced to 90 days in Ottawa County Jail by Muskegon Municipal Judge William T. Caughey on conviction of assault and battery.

A jury of four women and two men last night returned a verdict against Davis to end a trial on charges lodged by 28-year-old Mrs. Saralouise Dawson, a Whitehall housewife and mother of four children.

There was no fee ordered for Davis who resigned his Muskegon post last March 23.

The jury brought in its verdict against the 50-year-old overtime law enforcement boss of Muskegon County after deliberating one hour and 24 minutes.

Beforehand, and after hearing Davis testify that he and Mrs. Dawson had kissed in his car, the jury received a definition of the charge from Judge Caughey.

The court defined assault as the act of touching another person without the person's consent and battery as inflicting injury to a person's feelings.

Key Legislators Knew About U.S. Spy Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Claude Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee said Tuesday the ill-fated U.S. spy flight over Russia last week was "one of a series" about which a handful of key congressmen were kept fully informed.

The Missouri Democrat also said he had no doubt that the House would be able to fill or overtake the U.S. reconnaissance craft at its cruising height of 70,000 feet.

Cannon said the Russian "spies" captured the plane undamaged after it "developed some unforeseen and unavoidable mechanical or physiological defect."

But he said Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev tried to give the impression the plane was shot down by distributing "a picture of a pile of rubbish which those who know the plane recognize as spurious."

Asked to explain his remark, Dirksen added: "Wouldn't you wonder, if you were Khrushchev, how much we know?" Cannon commented on the plane incident in a speech for the first time.

which he was given a standing ovation in the House.

He told his colleagues the mission was "part of an established program" which not only turned up essential military information but also "completely destroys" Soviet claims of inviolability against American air attack.

"The discovery that we have been four years sending our planes across that border (that is Khrushchev) said was impenetrable... completely destroyed his vaunted ability to stop SAC (the Strategic Air Command) at the border," Cannon said.

He said the Central Intelligence Agency and its director, Allen W. Dulles, "are entitled to the highest commendation" for arranging the flights. His praise came while other lawmakers were renewing demands to put the ultrasecret espionage organization under tighter congressional control.

Cannon told newsmen his speech was not cleared in advance "by anybody." He was one of 18 congressional leaders briefed on the spy plane episode Monday by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Dulles.

FORD AN INSIDER
The plane was on an espionage mission authorized and supported by money provided under an appropriation recommended by the House Committee on Appropriations and passed by the House," Cannon said.

Cannon revealed to newsmen for the first time the membership of the small group within his committee which he said has been briefed periodically on CIA activities and budget needs. He said those in addition to himself were Reps. John Taber (R-N.Y.), George Mahon (D-Tex.), Gerald R. Ford Jr. (R-Mich.) and Harry Sheppard (D-Calif.). He would not say whether the senate had a similar group.

CIA appropriations — said to come close to 400 million dollars a year for the agency's worldwide intelligence work—are valued by being listed for other purposes. The arrangement is so secret that only a few congressmen know the sum and none knows exactly where all the money goes.

Cannon said this country is fully justified in spying on Russia. He said Russia had been as assiduous as any nation in history in practicing the art.

Depressed Area Bill to Get Veto

Dirksen Terms It's More Modest Proposal Better Than Dem Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will veto the 23-million-dollar depressed areas bill, perhaps on Friday, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says.

Dirksen conferred with Eisenhower Tuesday at the White House along with House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck.

Dirksen said Eisenhower's original proposal for a 33-million-dollar area aid program would do far more good than the much larger program approved by the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"I'm advised there were some communities that did not know they were distressed until the House bill was passed," Dirksen said. He named one as Louisville, Ky.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) told a luncheon of AFL-CIO leaders that a veto would mean "thousands of able-bodied men will be condemned to the industrial scrap heap."

PARIS (AP)—A French Arctic expedition left Paris for Greenland Tuesday. The group of 50 scientists, including one woman, will participate in an international study of the Greenland ice cap with scientists from Denmark, Austria, Switzerland and Germany.

Brisk Session Coming Up for Circuit Court Jurors

Jurors reporting for work in the May term of Circuit Court next Tuesday will be kept busy.

Louis E. Fairbrother, Circuit Court assignment clerk, said there are 208 civil law cases to dispose of, as well as some 15 city ordinance appeal cases requiring jury decisions.

There are 115 criminal cases to hear, according to Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Notices to report for jury duty at the Courthouse May 17 have been sent to 30 prospective jurors.

TO RUN 4 WEEKS
Plans are to run the jury about four weeks to take care of the many civil and criminal cases before the summer months, when juries are not usually impaneled. The next term won't come until September.

"We hope to get rid of as many of the criminal cases as possible this term so the prisoners won't have to wait in jail during the summer," Taylor said.

Fairbrother expressed hope that at least 75 per cent of the outstanding civil cases could be handled during the term. Addition of a fifth circuit judge helps, he added.

Present plans call for Judges Clark J. Adams and Frederick C. Ziem to hear criminal cases. Judge Ziem will be presiding.

Judge Stanton G. Dandero will hear the first-degree murder case of Carlo Velez, a Detroit whose body was found in January in Commerce Township.

Accused are Richard H. Shirk 29, and Gerald A. Mackay, 23, two Detroit ex-convicts.

Studebaker-Packard Picks 4 Vice Presidents
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Directors of Studebaker-Packard Corp. have appointed four new vice presidents of the company's Automotive Division, Executive Vice President A. J. Porta announced Tuesday.

Argis, general manager of the Automotive Division, said the new appointees included Eugene J. Hardig, chief engineer; Clifford W. MacMillan, director of industrial relations; John Soole, director of purchases; and Arthur D. Whitmer, general manufacturing manager.

Canadian Seeks Disarmament

Another Spy Incident Could Cause A-War; Foreign Secretary

OTTAWA (AP) — Foreign Secretary Howard Green views the U.S. aerial spy incident as pointing up the need for a world disarmament agreement. He said Monday another such case might start a nuclear war.

Spokesmen for all three parties represented in the House of Commons voiced concern over the flight that landed U.S. pilot Francis G. Powers in Soviet lands. Speakers of the Socialist Cooperative Commonwealth Federation also suggested that Canada should protest to the United States.

VERY SERIOUS

Speaking for the Conservative Cabinet, Green said, "The Canadian government regards this as a very serious incident and we think it points up clearly the vital need for a disarmament agreement. If incidents of this kind are to go on, one of these days such an incident might trigger a nuclear war."

Green, said in response to Liberal questions that some unidentified planes have been spotted over the Canadian Arctic. He said none has been proved to be Soviet.

Big Exhibition Tonight

Pierce Pupils to Show Wares

Tonight, Waterford Township's Pierce Junior High School will open its doors on a large exhibition of pupil handicrafts.

Weather permitting, there will be an outdoor fashion show in the natural amphitheater patio. Girls in the ninth grades will wear and display dresses, coats and suits made during the year.

There will be displays in the metal and wood shops, with demonstrations. In the social studies classrooms, there will be field trip exhibits, and arts and crafts will be shown in the art department.

Small model stock cars will be exhibited, and the journalism classes will have every "Pierce Arrow" school newspaper systemically arranged for parents scrutiny.

SHAKESPEARE SLOW

A Shakespeare exhibit on Hamlet will be held in the English departments, and pupils dressed in Roman garb will demonstrate Latin passages and playlets.

Old coins and rare books will be on display in the library, and along with the dairy panel, there will be refreshments following a short debate by pupils.

After the open house, there will be a business session in the gymnasium for the election of officers. The public can attend.

Accident Uptrend May Hike Insurance

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Insurance Information Service said today an upward trend in highway accidents is threatening to push the cost of insurance up.

"Preliminary figures indicate that auto insurance loss payments for 1959 Michigan accidents increased about 18 per cent," the service said.

A three year trend of reduced accidents were reversed in 1959 when there were 85 more highway deaths than in 1956, 7,106 more injuries and $9,837 more accidents reported, the service said.

Copies Magellan in Long Underwater Cruise

Triton Shows 'Em--Hard Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Triton's odyssey is over. The huge gray submarine, first to be powered by twin atomic reactors, has shown the world it can circumnavigate the globe entirely underwater.

When Triton surfaced off Delaware Tuesday it had completed a 14,500-mile submerged trip that began 83 days, 10 hours and 15 minutes before, it had retraced the course Ferdinand Magellan charted 420 years ago.

College Funds, Pay Unresolved

State Lawmakers Back Tonight for Final Try

LANSING — Michigan lawmakers, tempers cooled by a four-week recess, will assemble once more tonight to settle differences over state spending and—hopefully—close out the 1960 session.

If deadlock doesn't set in, they will wind up their business for the year by Thursday or Friday. Republican members will be anxious to take off for the GOP state convention Friday and Saturday in Grand Rapids.

Fights over spending for college operations and pay raises for legislators were the major roadblocks to adjournment. Nearly all other spending bills have been passed and signed by Gov. Romney.

Lawmakers split in disgust April 16 when two days of negotiations failed to produce agreement on either issue. Republicans and Democrats blamed each other for the impasse.

House Republicans controlled the central issue was a Democratic demand for a $2.50 increase in the legislators' annual salary.

Democrats flatly rejected a compromise by a Senate-House conference committee which called for a $1,000 raise, a $250 increase in the $12,500 yearly expense allowance and a second 10 cents per mile round trip home each month. Only about $500,000 separated the House and Senate from agreement on a recent high 100 million dollar budget to support state colleges and universities in 1960-61. Cur-

Ike Reports Figure Past $500 Billion; Has Bright Job Facts as Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today announced that the nation's economy has passed the half-trillion dollar mark for the first time in history.

The President also disclosed at his news conference that employment last month scored the biggest April gain since World War II.

Reading from notes, Eisenhower took advantage of a question about housing legislation to discuss the economic picture which has been causing puzzlement and concern in many quarters since the first of the year.

Eisenhower said employment increased by 1,500,000 in April to 68,200,000. He said unemployment dropped sharply — falling by more than half a million.

Detailed figures on the job picture were to be announced later by the Labor Department.

Eisenhower's disclosure of the favorable employment report, it was learned on reliable authority, was pushed up a day to give the President something good to announce amid all the criticism of the handling of the American spy fight over the Soviet Union.

The government had planned to announce the new job figures Thursday. The job data is rarely handled out of the White House.

Church Sets Ham Dinner

LAKE ORION — The Women's Department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints is holding a public family-style baked ham dinner at the church, 531 E. Flint St. tomorrow. Serving will be from 3 to 7 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the proposed church addition.

the White House, where a grinning President Eisenhower commended him and pinned on his tunic the Legion of Merit.

Triton, docked on northward this morning toward home base, New London, Conn., where its out-sized crew of 182 officers and men were due for a well-deserved shore leave.

SUMMIT BOOST FOR IKE

No one mentioned it, but the Triton's world-girdling feat was timed nicely to give the President a boost at the Paris summit conference, which starts next Monday.

Beach, 42, jet-jawed and crew-cut, is the picture of a modern naval officer. Decorated several times for submarine forays against Japan in World War II, he is both a fighting man and a writer. His "Submarine" was a personal account of his wartime service in the "Trigger." He followed it with a spine-tingling novel, "Run Silent, Run Deep."

Although submerged for nearly 84 days, Triton retraced Magellan's course in just 60 days, this beating by 20 days the feat of Jules Verne's hero, Phileas Fogg, who made it "Around the World in 80 Days."

It took Magellan's ship three years.

The historic voyage of Magellan so long ago was much in the minds of the officers and crew.

The ship's latin motto was "ave nobilis dux iterum sactum est" — "hail noble captain, it is done again."

GIMPSE AT MONUMENT

The crewmen were able to catch glimpses by periscope of the monument that marks the spot where Magellan died on Macart Island in the Philippines. And on the way home the sub came ashore to the surface to pay homage to Magellan's point of departure, Cadiz, Spain.

Only one other time did the Triton "branch," or come up with its conning tower out of the water. This was off Argentina, where it made rendezvous with the cruiser Macon to remove a crewman seriously ill from kidney stones.

Mark-Seeking Flier Given Up for Lost

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Coast Guard has "suspended" activity in the case of flying watchmaker Peter Gluckmann, who disappeared April 27 on an attempted nonstop flight from Tokyo to New York.

The Coast Guard did not attempt to look for the missing pilot because of the 1.5 million square mile area in which he disappeared.

"It's worse than looking for a needle in a haystack," a coast guard spokesman said here yesterday. "All we can do is check out leads — and everything so far has checked out negative."

Gluckmann was trying to set a new world's long-distance record for a small plane. His plane was equipped with a life raft, seven days of survival food rations, canned water and a signal device.

Knows What He Wants

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Two-year-old Sammy Yost slipped in a different word the first time he gave the blessing at the table. Said

Sammy: "Give us, Lord, our daily bread."

For Purple People?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Harriett Tyler said she carefully followed directions on the box of food coloring, thought she added the proper amount, but ended up with purple gravy for supper.

Suppose It Were Yours... for an Hour!

Imagine yourself faced with this happy prospect.

Where would you go? What would you do?

Well, we'll wager you'd make some very special plans for the exciting sixty minutes ahead of you.

But no matter where the highway might lead you, we know what your journey would be like.

It would be filled with the most wonderful comfort imaginable. You would be literally surrounded by beauty and luxury and spaciousness — with every conceivable motoring convenience in constant attendance.

You would feel marvelously rested and relaxed. For this great motor car is incredibly easy to drive... and it is miraculously smooth and quiet in operation.

And how proud and thrilled you'd be! For it's a remarkable experience to sit here where the world's distinguished motorists ride — and find yourself heir to the approving glances that seem inevitably to come a Cadillac's way.

A pleasant daydream, you say? Not at all.

In fact, the reality is no farther away than your nearest Cadillac dealer's showroom.

Wouldn't tomorrow be a good day to introduce yourself to the "car of cars"? The car and the keys await your pleasure.

Birmingham a Hollywood for Premiere of 'Huck'

Star of the evening, Eddie Hodges arrives at the premiere performance of "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." Sister Diane with him looked like a star in her own right in, cornflower blue nylon. Eddie's mother, Mrs. John Hodges, in the background, was lovely in a short wheat colored chiffon with draped harem skirt and beaded bodice.

By MARJORIE ECHER
Women's Editor The Pontiac Press

A brightly dressed audience in festive mood attended the world premiere performance of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" Tuesday evening at the Birmingham Theater. Benefiting Camp Oakland's Building Fund, the affair drew a full house.

The pace of arrivals at the theater's marquee was as rapid as the action in the movie that followed. Discharging dubis caricatures of area people on the red carpeted entry, cars created a minor traffic jam.

MANY CELEBRITIES
Onlookers were roped off from the klieg-lighted area in true Hollywood fashion. Their good humored wait was not in vain, however. Arriving celebrities included Soupy Sales, Capt. Jolly, TV's Doc Halliday, fashion commentators Mary Morgan, Bud Guest, and Birmingham's Mayor Florence Willett.

The star of the show, Eddie Hodges, arrived with his family. Looking relaxed and friendly, they might have been "the family next door" except for Eddie's carrot top.
Appearing shorter than his 13 years, the young star handled himself with maturity and charm during a short premovie interview by Bud Guest.

Special guests were the boys and girls who live at Camp Oakland. Any parent would have been proud of any of them. En masse they were a tribute to the broad community effort that has provided Camp Oakland as a setting for their growing-up years.

'Headache' Polite Way to Object

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I was a guest at a party in a neighbor's house. Most of the other guests present were people I knew only casually. During the course of the evening, one of the men started telling extremely off-color stories.

As I dislike stories of this kind intensely, I got up and walked out of the room. I have heard since that several of the guests thought me very rude for doing this. I think I was perfectly justified in walking out of the room and see nothing wrong in what I did. Was I wrong?

Answer: There is no reason why you should have stayed on and been forced to listen to objectionable stories. However, it would have been more polite of you to have said quickly and quietly to your hostess, "I'm sorry, but I have a terrible headache, and am going home," and then have left the party.

Dear Mrs. Post: Should a man happen to meet a woman friend returning from a shopping trip who is carrying several packages, is it considered ungentlemanly of him if he does not offer to carry them for her?

I say, "no," but my wife insists that a well-bred man would not allow a woman to carry packages when he himself is empty handed. Will you please settle this argument?

Answer: He should offer to carry a package that seems to be heavy or difficult for her to carry, but he is not expected to offer help with any small one that she is carrying easily.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to have a sweet sixteen party next month. Some of the girls I plan to invite are "knowing steady" with boys whom I do not know. I would like to know if I am required to invite these boys.

Answer: If the girls are seriously interested in the boys, they will in all probability not go to the party without them, and it will be best to tell them that you will be glad to have them bring their "steady" boy friends even if you don't know them.

Informal Rites Unite Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Studebaker of Andersonville road, Waterford Township, have announced the marriage of their daughter Virginia to Ronald Coventry, son of Mrs. Cameron Coventry of Airport road.

The vows were spoken at 2 p.m. Saturday at the home of the Rev. E. H. DuBois at an informal ceremony.

A reception for the immediate family followed at the bride's home.

The newlyweds will reside on Andersonville road following a short honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Birmingham; William J. Bird, also of Birmingham; and Mrs. John Shenfield of Bloomfield Hills.

First night at a theater and premiere performance at a movie have an excitement all their own. Enjoying the latter at the Birmingham Theater Tuesday evening were patrons from left, Carleton C. Patterson, Sr. and Mrs. Patterson of Birmingham and Mrs. C. Henry Purdy of Mary Day avenue.

Hears Chorus, PCH Flutists

Musicale Winds Up Year's Card

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

Gray skies and a poorly timed cold spell failed to dull the spirits of Pontiac Tuesday Musicales members at their annual May luncheon yesterday. They met in the new dining room at Pine Lake Country Club to wind up the year's activities.

Musical program director Jean Fittman presented the Musical Chorus in two groups of compositions with the flute ensemble from Pontiac Central High School furnishing variety. Early English madrigals and folk songs sung without accompaniment made up most of the first group sung by the chorus. This type of music calls for perfect intonation, precise attacks and releases, clear diction and a good balance of parts.

The chorus met every requirement exceedingly well, and in addition to this musical excellence responded to Mrs. Fittman's musical interpretations with sensitivity.

Sharply contrasting to the contrapuntal style of the Elisabethans were the four songs from our own musical comedies "Porgy and Bess," "South Pacific," "Kismet," and "Aladdin Men." These songs are becoming the light classics of our day as was "Come Lasses and Lads" in its day. "Good Night, My Love" from "Music Man" seemed an appropriate ending to a fine performance. Helen Schmidt provided able accompaniment for the second chorus group.

Barbara Atwell, Sheila Kinder, Pamela Moren and Sara Wood, Pontiac Central's flute ensemble presented Beethoven's "Symphonies" Opus 32 for four flutes. Demonstrating each girl's individual excellence, it permitted some finely blended quartette playing.

Because of the limited range the harmony was necessarily close and parts were interwoven with a kind of classic purity. (It was like a quartette of sopranos.)

Mrs. Donald Hogue was program chairman. Preceding the program, tribute was paid to Mrs. Ralph Norvell, outgoing president. Mrs. George Pultman and Mrs. James Forman gave brief resumes of their experiences as delegates to the third convention of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs held in Jackson last month.

Mrs. Forman, newly elected president, also announced her officers and committee chairmen.

First vice president and program chairman is Mrs. George Pultman. Others are Mrs. R. M. Todd, second vice president and yearbook editor; Mrs. E. D. Foley, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles W. Buck, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. D. Ealer, treasurer and budget chairman; Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Loula H. Schimmel, historian; Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck, auditing chairman; and Mrs. E. C. Russell, auditor.

The list continues with Mrs. R. J. Howarth, chorus; Mrs. W. H. Sink, constitutional revision; Mrs. Phillip Veriech and Mrs. Marvin Alward, floral chairman; Mrs. H. T. Romberg, hostesses; Mrs. J. O. Radenbaugh, house chairman; Mrs. W. S. Furlong, junior club; Mrs. E. R. Bigler, membership; Mrs. J. B. Nicolls, music in hospitals; Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, publicity; Mrs. W. D. Thomas, social committee; Mrs. J. L. Bennett, symphony; Mrs. Havelle, scholarship; and Mrs. C. T. Eklund, ways and means.

Hostesses for the May luncheon committee were Mrs. A. C. Kirby, Mrs. Richard Esser Jr., Mrs. A. K. Oakley, Mrs. Frank Kirby, Mrs. Brooks Bennett and Mrs. E. D. Foley.

Hospital Guild Has Gift Cart

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Guild is operating a gift cart as a patient service. Patients are visited Monday through Friday by volunteers in red smocks, pushing a cart of the same color filled with stationery, candy, magazines and children's items.

Chairman of the cart committee is Mrs. Jerry G. Margolis. Working with her are Mrs. Frank Alderson and Mrs. Mildred Eiling of Birmingham. Mrs. L. E. Blodgett of Rochester, Mrs. B. F. Dickerson of Royal Oak and Mrs. Alfred Hamilton of Clarkston.

YWCA Offers Golf Lessons

Golfing instructions will be offered by Pontiac YWCA beginning May 19 at 8:30 a.m. First session will be at the Y on Franklin boulevard. Later, actual playing will be at the municipal golf course on West South boulevard. Mrs. E. L. Looney will teach. Six lessons comprise the course. Nursery service for preschoolers will be available at the YWCA from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Sylvanites Set Meal

The Edgewood Country Club will be the setting for the New Sylvanites annual banquet and installation of officers May 13. Elected at Thursday's meeting in the Warwick road home of Mrs. Thomas Reese were Mrs. Anthony Oler, president; Mrs. Reese, vice president; Mrs. Robert Smith, treasurer, and Mrs. Felix Woltz, secretary.

Enjoying the glitter of a premiere performance at Hollywood-on-Woodward were Mr. and Mrs. Dix Humphrey of Maple Lane, Birmingham. Their choice seats gave them an excellent view of the pre-movie activities.

The annual Carnival Capers fair of the St. Benedict School is scheduled there from 4 to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Gordon Low is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Max Chastin.

Pony rides will highlight fair activities. Other attractions include baked goods, under Mrs. H. N. Lepisto; cherry tree, Mrs. R. C. Simons; doll walk, Mrs. P. E. Meagher; cake walk, Mrs. L. E. Einhuuser; fish pond, Mrs. R. E. O'Reilly; and millionaire's room, Mrs. J. S. Coleman.

Others are movies, Mrs. Ralph Sandolov; games, Mrs. W. C. Cleven; military and check room, Mrs. C. H. Vanover; treasure hunt, Mrs. J. C. Lynch; refreshments, Mrs. D. A. S. in Simpson and Mrs. L. M. Moore.

The list concludes with white elephant and grab bag, Mrs. John Ogg; lollipop tree and malsup, Mrs. J. F. McHugh; religious goods, Mrs. Stanley Niemanski; plants and jewelry, Mrs. W. D. Dickerson.

Weather permitting, a shooting range, huckleback game and darts will be played on the school grounds.

Crowns with pockets to pick will tour the halls.

Mrs. William Haddad is financial chairman and Mrs. Lawrence Duseprou, publicity chairman.

In connection with its 12th annual exhibit May 23-28, Pontiac Society of Artists has arranged for two displays in downtown Pontiac.

Paintings will be in the lobby of Pontiac State and Community National banks Thursday through May 21.

Community National will feature last year's award-winning pictures. Work from other members of the society will be shown at Pontiac State Bank.

The society's annual public exhibit, an all new show, will be at Adah Shelly Library May 23-28 during library hours.

Oil paintings, water colors, pastels, charcoal drawings and sculpture will be shown. Ribbons in the library exhibit will identify this year's award winners.

11 Women Probate Judges

LANSING — Outsiders sometimes are surprised to learn that Michigan has 11 women judges of probate, most of them in the less densely populated upstate counties.

"It's a trend of the times," said Court Administrator Meredith H. Doyle. "Women are getting more active in politics and public affairs."

NOTHING SURPRISING

"There are women in the Legislature, city councils, school boards and everything else. There's nothing surprising about it anymore. It's a matter of political evolution."

On the circuit bench, where eligibility requirements are higher, only one of the 78 seats is filled by a woman. Circuit judges must be lawyers. Probate judges may be but need not be.

The lone circuit judge on the distaff side is Lila M. Neuse, of Dearborn, serving in Wayne County's Third Circuit.

HERE'S THE LIST

Doyle supplied this list of women on the probate bench in the state's 83 counties:

Mary McLean, Alpena County; May E. Campbell, Baraga; Donna Hecker, Clare; Beulah Pfeiffer, Crawford; Marie D. Peters, Delta; Mildred E. Taff, Gratiot; Thelma V. Uvan, Hillsdale; Myrtis B. McDonald, Midland; Mae N. Haas, Montmorency; Dorothea E. Cohen, Newaygo; and Vero I. Black, St. Clair.

The court administrator mentioned another little known fact about Michigan's judiciary—that it includes a father-son combination.

Probate Judge Boyd C. Baird of Ogemaw County is the son of Robert S. Baird, Cheboygan County judge of probate.

Gold Stars Are Honored

Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine members were honored at a card party given by the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary. The Saturday affair was held at the DAV home on Auburn avenue.

Guests were Mrs. Lauretta Stockwell, Mrs. Hilda Lakone, Mrs. Edna Olmsted, Mrs. Sybella Stevens, Mrs. Edna Matheny, Mrs. Lola Erb and Mrs. W. C. Pile.

LONGER HAIR

With revival of the French roll hairstyle, the swing in hair fashion is slightly longer. No doubt the appearance of a chignon in Princess Margaret's hair for her wedding will give fast rise to the popularity of this hair fashion, too. Neither of these hairstyles require the long flowing tresses that you might imagine. Both are an illusion of hair in abundance and we can show you how it is accomplished.

However, both styles are out for the brief shingled bobbed head of hair of a few seasons back.

Have You Tried This?

Layer Blueberry Pie Mix in Rich Cookie Torte

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Going to have "the girls" in for cards? You haven't the faintest idea what dessert to serve them? Mrs. Thomas J. Schmidt comes to your rescue with her recipe for Blueberry Torte.

Mrs. Schmidt (Kay Kramp) is a teacher and a homemaker. Her husband says her biggest hobby is their new home. She likes to water ski at Union Lake in the summer.

BLUEBERRY TORTE
By Mrs. Thomas J. Schmidt

1 package cake mix
1 pound butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups white sugar
2 eggs, uncooked
1 cup blueberry pie mix
1 pint whipping cream

Crush nabiscoes. Put half the crumbs in an 8-inch square pan.

Cream butter, sugar and egg yolks well. Beat whites until stiff and fold in. Pour on top of crumbs. Add blueberry pie mix.

Add layer of whipped cream and rest of cookie crumbs. Chill overnight. Serves 9 to 12.

Be Graceful

(NEA) — If you must cross your legs when you sit, at least do it gracefully. Put the under leg far forward and let the upper one swing loosely, with the pointed toe just slightly above the floor. In this position, the calf of the top leg won't be pressed into prominence.

There is evidence Alaska's climate once may have been somewhat warmer.

Explains Transfer of Blood

Dr. John J. Marra explained the history of blood transfusions and use of new equipment when Oakland County Hospital Assn. members held their annual meeting at Pontiac General Hospital.

President Miss Emma Howard announced 29 patients have been treated by the new cabot machine, donated by service clubs. The membership club was notified that some 200,000 examinations are performed in the hospital's laboratory each year.

Dr. Marra told the group that Pontiac General is the only hospital in this area outside Detroit that is approved for training of medical technologists. He said there are 19,000 certified medical technologists in the United States while some 75,000 are needed.

Among needs of the hospital mentioned were more equipment for the medical technician training course and micro-chemical apparatus for children. The association will purchase the latter this year.

This year members purchased blood bank equipment for the hospital.

Three Mills Chopped From Walled Lake Tax

Cut Partly Due to Population

Expect Census Totals to Show Town Nearly Doubled in 10 Years

WALLED LAKE — Property owners here can expect a substantially lower tax rate when they receive their tax bills the first of July.

With the adoption of the 1960-61 city budget, councilmen were able to chop three mills from the current 18 mills levied against taxpayers.

The 18-mill levy was the highest ever charged property owners here. It was in effect only one year. The city has a tax limit of 20 mills.

During the 1959-60 fiscal year the tax levy was only 15.5 mills. The 4.5 mill increase the following year was due mostly to the street paving program.

The anticipated increase revenue from the state sales and intangible taxes of about $11,200 is partially responsible for the tax decrease. The city is expected to receive approximately $25,500 compared to $14,500 received last year.

The expected tax return from the state is based in the population of the city of about 3,500. The city had been receiving figures based on the 1950 census of 1,600.

The budget for the 1960-61 fiscal year has been set by the Council at $117,000. This compares with the current budget of $104,620.

This does not include the $37,000 road fund budget or the $3,000 water fund budget. However, the road fund does include $33,000 that will be transferred from the general fund.

EXPERT BALANCE

The three budgets total $144,800. Current estimates indicate the general fund will show a balance of about $11,000 at the end of the 1959-60 fiscal year, according to City Manager George A. Shaw.

The balance in anticipated excess revenues are expected to exceed the current budget and expenditures are predicted to fall below appropriations.

Included in this balance is $7,000 remaining of $12,000 appropriated to the road fund for street paving. The $7,000 was carried in the new budget.

Property taxes will provide about 56 per cent of the total revenues this year, compared to 50 per cent for the current year. More than $85,000 is expected to be brought in to the city through property taxation against some 1,700 property owners.

MORE FOR ROADS

Expenditures in the 1960-61 road fund budget of $37,500 is $5,500 more than the estimated expenditures in the present budget.

The increase is caused by an appropriation of $11,600 for the replacement of road equipment. A deficit of $4,000 is anticipated in the water fund for the current year. Taking into account the prior years reserve fund of $1,400, the net deficit of the water fund will be $5,400.

The expected deficit was caused by the replacement of an impeller shaft and screen in one of the city's wells.

Orchard Lake Police Take MSU Course

ORCHARD LAKE — Patrolmen Ivan L. Grubbs and Richard G. Hildgren have recently completed the Basic Police Training Course at Michigan State University.

The course is designed to train officers in the fundamentals of effective police service.

Participants are schooled in procedure, accident investigation, traffic law, patrol techniques, defensive tactics, delinquency, and interrogation.

Teaching the course are practicing attorneys, FBI agents and members of the MSU School of Police Administration and Public Safety staff.

Avon Photo Club to Host Detroit Area Competition

ROCHESTER — The Avon Photo Club will host the Greater Detroit Camera Council's annual black-and-white print competition at its meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at Woodward Memorial Library.

The competition occurs bi-monthly and draws entries from 25 membership clubs.

Persons interested in amateur photography are invited to attend.

THRILLING RIDE — An antique fire engine will be used to give rides to youngsters at the Roosevelt School Fair Saturday from 2 to 6 p.m. "Trying out" the old engine at the Keego Harbor school are David and Marilyn Reese of Sylvan Lake. Once used by the fire department at Marshall, the 1917 engine is owned now by the Bloomfield Township Reserve Firemen's Assn.

Appointed Attorney in Holly

HOLLY — Robert A. McKenny, attorney for Holly Township, was appointed last night by councilmen as attorney for the village.

Village President Aron Krikorian put McKenny to work immediately by asking him to determine the residence requirements for village officers.

Krikorian said that he had a doctor in mind to be named village health officer but he lived in neighboring Rose Township. McKenny said that the doctor wasn't entitled to hold the office since he was not an elector of the village.

With that answer, Krikorian said he would have to revamp several appointments he had made to the planning board.

Krikorian told the Council before the attorney was appointed that McKenny had offered his services to the village as a citizen and expected no compensation.

However, Krikorian said that he felt it only right that McKenny submit to the village at the end of the year a bill for the services he performed. The Council agreed.

McKenny succeeds Donald Bremer as village attorney. Bremer resigned early in April shortly after the resignation of village manager Norman E. Tufford.

Since Tufford resigned the village has been without a manager.

Last night, L. Anne T. Wilkins of 1366 Thompson Rd. applied for the position.

Council will study his application and give him an answer in two weeks.

Wilkins, a process engineer for the manufacturing industry, told the Council he would work on a three month probationary period at a starting salary of $5,000. He asked for a maximum salary of $8,500.

An $8,700 budget was presented to the Council for study.

Elmwood Churchwomen Set Mom-Daughter Tea

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Women's Society of Christian Service of Elmwood Methodist Church is sponsoring a Mother and Daughter Tea Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the church, on Grant street at Auburn avenue.

The program, open to all mothers and daughters, will feature a film on Bermuda.

Oxford Millage Unchanged Despite Higher Budget OK

OXFORD — The local tax rate of 18 mills will remain the same next year, the Oxford Village Council determined last night as it passed a budget of $137,665 for the 1960-61 fiscal year.

The newly adopted budget is up $14,594 over last year's which was $123,071.

A total of $5,000 was cut from special funds in several departments, to set up a contingency fund for emergencies.

Revisions made in the general fund budget included a cut of $1,500 in the assessment program, making that total $1,000, a cut in special legal services allotment from $700 to $500.

The budget was presented several weeks ago by Village Manager Ralph Precious who reported that parking meter collections were down and that the capital improvement fund was lower but budgets for all departments were up.

He said reasons for mounting expenditures were increased cost of maintenance, labor and materials, compared to a relatively static income.

In other action last night, Council adopted a resolution creating a child protection and youth assistance program for Oxford. In pursuance of the rule established by the Oakland County Juvenile Court.

Named to serve on the committee to carry out the program locally were Roy E. Cloud, junior high school principal; Police Chief Albert Roberts; William Mathis, director of Camp Oakland; Ted Gawry, a local teacher; Mrs. Robert Brower, and the Rev. G. E. Delane.

Ticket reservations can be made through Mrs. A. W. Navals, 4048 Crocus St., Birmingham, until Friday.

Avon Center Hospital Growing

Open House to Reveal Changes

AVON TOWNSHIP — The open house at Avon Center Hospital from 1-5 p.m. Sunday is planned particularly to show results of the current remodeling and expansion program there.

Hospital administrator Mrs. Helen Smith said the most recently completed projects are the employees' dining room, the emergency room and entrance and the fully equipped stainless steel kitchen.

This is the final phase of a construction program begun last fall when ground was broken for a $40,000 addition joining the administration building to the main hospital.

The move enabled hospital officials to relocate the kitchen, emergency rooms and dining room in the administration building.

HOUSE BOUGHT IN '58

In 1958 the Hospital Board purchased the J. W. Eastman house next door, and the administration offices were moved into this building, providing room for 10 additional beds in the vacated space.

The hospital has been enlarged from a 28- to a 48-bed facility with the opening of the new addition the first week in February.

Remodeling of the older section is under way, Mrs. Smith said. The old kitchen is being converted into two patients' rooms and the old emergency room will become a recovery room for surgery, to accommodate about four patients.

The patients' rooms in the original building have been redecorated, and the due date for completion of the expansion program is about July 1.

The estimated cost of the remodeling, including the $40,000 addition, furnishings and equipment, is $70,000.

Sunday's open house is sponsored by the Avon Center Hospital Guild which will serve refreshments throughout the afternoon.

Department heads will show their facilities and explain their functions.

The Girls in Pink, members of the Future Nurses Club at Rochester High School, will be guides.

Name Four to Judge Contest at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The four judges who will select "Miss Rochester Independence Day Queen" and her two attendants May 25 have been chosen, Mrs. Walter V. Sawyer, contest chairman, announced today.

They are Ardis Kenney, popular television performer; Dorothy Seifert, who has a model agency in Detroit; Gus Meadows, radio station owner, and Gordon Miller, a motion picture and play writer as well as an actor, director and producer.

They will see the girls competing for the crown in three phases of judging: bathing suit, talent and formal wear. The contest will be patterned again this year after the "Miss America Pageant."

It will take place in the high school gymnasium.

The contest winner will reign for the second annual Kiwanis "4th-O-Ram-A" celebration on Independence Day. She will be given a complete wardrobe by local merchants and a modeling school gift certificate. The two runners-up also will receive gifts.

Tickets now are available from any Kiwanis Club member.

Heads Retiree Group

MILFORD — Edwin C. Clark, former head of the Milford school system 21 years, has been elected president of the Michigan Retired Public School Employees Assn.

EMERGENCY ROOM READY — The new emergency room at Avon Center Hospital, near Rochester, will be one of the main attractions at the hospital's open house Sunday afternoon. Checking equipment are Dr. Martin Kublians, emergency room doctor, and Mrs. Hazel Smith, hospital administrator. Other new features of the hospital are an employees' dining room and a fully equipped stainless steel kitchen. The date for completion of the $70,000 remodeling and expansion program is about July 1.

Most Criminals Need Prison Cell, and Less Psychiatry, Say Doctors

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Three psychiatrists said Tuesday there is such a thing as a bad boy—and bad men as well.

Furthermore, they told the 116th annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn., what these people need are prison terms—not psychiatric care.

In reports prepared for the meeting, Dr. Sidney Bolter of Northville, Mich., and Benjamin Apfelberg and Emanuel Messinger of New York City discussed the point where serious psychological disturbance ends and crime begins.

The report states that less than 5 per cent of the total of those convicted of crimes need to be considered for special treatment for psychotic, neurotic or mentally deficient states.

"One is led to the conclusion," says the report, "that the management of the great mass of adult criminal offenders rightly is and should remain in the hands of penologists, judicial and correctional authorities, parole boards and probation bureaus."

Bolter suggested that many criminals put on a "mask of sanity" to escape punishment. Psychiatrists have swallowed the bait, he said, sending many criminals to mental hospitals when they rightfully belonged in jail.

Characterizing this as the "age of permissiveness," Bolter said: "There are many among our profession who feel that all criminal behavior is the result of mental disease, as they would define mental disease, and who visualize a utopian chain of hospitals and clinics devoted to the 'treatment' of every individual who breaks the law."

The criminal offender may not be normal in the accepted sense, Bolter said, but neither is he necessarily in the category of the mentally ill.

FITS ON ACT

"This type of person does what he wants when he wants to and then can be an extremely charming or frightened looking person as need be to suit the occasion," he contended, adding:

"It is the author's feeling that these people belong in penal institutions rather than in state mental hospitals."

The "dumping" of criminal elements into the hospital creates more problems than it solves, Bolter said. These elements can disrupt the routine of a hospital so that people who can really benefit from psychiatric treatment will not get it.

As for juvenile offenders, Bolter suggested that "we have blamed parents and everyone other than the adolescent himself. It seems about time we placed the responsibility at least upon one of the parties involved, and that would be the party who committed the criminal act."

The paper submitted by Apfelberg and Messinger dealt with the operation of the psychiatric clinic of the Court of General Sessions of New York County (Manhattan) over a 26-year period.

The statistical findings were based on some 71,000 examinations of about 57,000 individuals who have been involved in the more serious types of criminal behavior.

Economic Data Looking Good

People Soon Should Realize Recession is Not in Sight, Says Unit

NEW YORK (UPI)—Confidence in the market surely will be restored when people realize that we are not at the beginning of a recession and that first quarter earnings do not foreshadow a similar trend for the rest of the year, is the opinion of the International Statistical Bureau.

The earnings trend actually has an encouraging outlook for the rest of the year, the bureau maintains. In addition, it says, stocks traditionally show a stable advance prior to a national election.

With stocks now well liquidated and with the latest economic data more favorable than seemed likely weeks ago, the rebound this summer should be most impressive although the trend will lack uniformity, according to the bureau.

Bache & Co. notes that the recent divergent action of the industrial and rail sections of the list usually is a sign of internal technical weakness, since it indicates that two important market forces are pulling against each other rather than providing mutual support.

Each sees no reason to expect any sort of broad upward movement at this point.

Let Safety Guide Your Water Fun

EAST LANSING (UPI)—The State Police today warned boaters May through September are the most critical five months from the standpoint of the need for water safety.

Eighty-three per cent of the 467 water accidents in the state last year happened during the similar period.

Boat operators or passengers made up the bulk of the 325 drownings reported last year, and swimmers or waders were second high.

Operator negligence was blamed for the most fatal accidents involving boats, with fires, explosions or equipment failures next and upsets because of waves, winds or weather accounting for the rest.

Swimming deaths were chiefly caused by physical failure, next by nonproficiency, then disregard of safety rules and last by unfamiliar waters, State Police said.

Expedition Did Not Find Lost Cities, Says Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (U)—As far as Jordanian authorities are concerned, a Baptist missionary-pleader failed to find anything new in his recent Dead Sea search for the wicked Biblical cities of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Daya Rifai, acting director of the Jordan Antiquities Department, asserts that Dr. Ralph E. Baney of Kansas City, Mo., "did not produce any photographic material or evidence whatsoever" to back up his claims of dramatic discoveries.

Baney announced in an interview April 28 that his four-member American expedition, "located two lost cities under the Dead Sea, which are believed to be the two lost cities of Sodom and Gomorrah."

He said he and three other divers found extensive underwater remains of a civilization that flourished 4,000 years ago and then was inundated, apparently as a result of an earthquake.

Among the discoveries he claimed were a cistern, a viaduct, a roadway, and a wall and a levee, all submerged in the Dead Sea.

Baney also said he found "a small forest of petrified palm trees" in the area of alleged sites of the two cities.

Rifai made the following comments:

"The claimed viaduct was a channel built by the American Point Four program to prevent the Dead Sea's salty water from infiltrating to fresh water in Roman-built cisterns near the Lisan Peninsula.

"The alleged road... was a road built for the former Palestine Potash Co. and was destroyed during the 1948 Palestine War.

"There is nothing new about trees and forests, which anybody could see rising above the water and which were pictured and written about by John Harding, the former antiquities director in Jordan 30 years ago.

"Concerning the two cities which Baney claimed might be Sodom and Gomorrah, he did not produce any evidence to support his claim, either in pictures or in material proof. He claimed his underwater photography apparatus failed to penetrate the Dead Sea water's density."

Rifai also expressed belief that the high salt content of the water "would surely eat up any ancient remnants, if such remnants ever existed under the Dead Sea water."

Dr. Baney qualified his original announcement in a later report to the antiquities department on the results of the two-month expedition. In this, he said "We have located the site of two cities which I believe might be the two cities of Sodom and Gomorrah...."

When he arrived in New York May 2 he told reporters he had found "evidence of ruins in the areas where leading archaeologists believe Sodom and Gomorrah are buried." He then denied he ever had claimed that what he found were actually the lost cities of evil fame.

"I'm not an archaeologist and neither is Rifai," Baney declared at the time.

Jordanian Premier Hazza Majali received a cable from Baney Sunday announcing that "the outcome of my probe and samples of my discoveries have been examined and received with approbation by famous American archaeologists."

The Coast Guard rescues about 9,000 civilians a year.

Kalamazoo Contrasts With Western Michigan

Private Colleges Struggling for Survival

KALAMAZOO (U-P)—A classic example of the struggle of private education to survive in the face of the rapid expansion of tax-supported schools can be viewed from a pair of green clad bills divided by a railroad track in Kalamazoo.

The railroad track, traditional symbol of division in America, has lost its harsh mark of class distinction in this case because of the friendship and cooperation which have developed over the years between Kalamazoo College and Western Michigan University which face each other "across the tracks."

Kalamazoo College, proud of the 127 years which make it Michigan's oldest college, is a private liberal arts institution trying to balance the problem of ever-increasing tuition and operating costs with the assets of a successful faculty, small classes and the charm of small campus life.

Across the tracks is big, booming Western Michigan University. Only 57 years old, Western is exploding after many years service as a teacher training school into an era in which it is expected to meet the demands of a full fledged university.

Kalamazoo College, working under a program of controlled and highly selective enrollment, has about 650 students on campus today. Ten years ago the number wasn't much smaller.

FROM 4,000 TO 6,000

Western Michigan, meeting the demand for state-supported college education by thousands of Michigan high school graduates, has jumped from approximately 4,000 students in 1950 to nearly 9,000 today, despite a tightened up entrance program.

A high school senior planning to attend Kalamazoo College must face a tuition cost of $650 a year. If he plans to live in one of the dorms on the beautiful campus quadrangle he can count on a total cost of more than $1,200.

The high school graduate turning toward Western will find a tuition fee of $215. If he plans to live in one of the many new dorms scattered over the 200-acre WMU campus he can plan on a combined cost of about $1,000.

These figures represent the basic difference of cost between private and tax-supported colleges. It is a difference which faces the average student and his family even before the factors of what the student intends to study enter the picture.

The cost situation looms large in the planning of the two men who serve as presidents of these next door neighbor colleges.

To Dr. Weimer K. Hicks, president of Kalamazoo College, the cost factor creates a problem which must be met by providing the "extras" of private school education coupled with the continual search for financial assistance from friends of the college. Since World War II, Kalamazoo College has been able to raise more than $2,500,000 to improve its facilities.

"It is simply impossible for a private school to offer an education at a cost comparable to that charged by a tax-supported university," Dr. Hicks says.

OFFERS DIVIDEND

"The private colleges which will survive are those which strive to improve the quality of their facilities and find ways to provide the dividends which come with small college life."

Kalamazoo College offers just such a "dividend" in a unique foreign-study program which will give one of every two graduates a summer of schooling in Europe at the expense of the college. A special fund, set up by Dr. Rudolph Light of Kalamazoo, makes this possible.

"The private school must always turn to its alumni and friends when it needs money," says Dr. Hicks. "Here at Kalamazoo we use the bulk of our tuition money to pay above average faculty salaries. To provide operating funds for the college itself, we must conduct a fund drive for about $125,000 every year. It is not easy."

While he turns to Lansing rather than to private sources for funds, Dr. Paul V. Sangren, president of WMU, also classes money as his major problem.

Unlike that of Dr. Hicks, Dr. Sangren's problem is not the threat of ever-increasing tuition fees, although that is a worry-some factor.

Rather, he is faced with the demand for more and more housing, classroom and service space as the lines of would-be students form at his campus door. He cannot add the buildings to care for the students unless the legislators provide the funds.

"We have spent about 24 million dollars on new buildings in the past decade and we are still short of classroom space," says Dr. Sangren.

"Western has an obligation to students, parents and the state of Michigan to provide buildings, equipment and faculty needed to carry on a sound educational program. Our nation is economically able to give adequate support to higher education. Whether tax-supported schools can meet the increased student load is up to a decision by the people who pay the taxes."

Michigan has more than 14 million people.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon will also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowels become constipated and dry and stricken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and mousters may create gas, side 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and grip the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new Colosolv gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

share of small, privately financed colleges as well as its excellent state-supported schools but only in Kalamazoo are they within walking distance of each other.

Is there room in the future for both? Drs. Hicks and Sangren feel that "big" education at the state level must grow even bigger as the student load increases. But they also agree that the accomplishments of small college education warrant increasing support from industry and private citizens who recognize its worth.

The world population has been estimated by the United Nations in excess of 2 1/2 billions of persons.

Two Tell Stand on Church Bias

White, Negro Hopefuls for Presbyterian Post Favor Integration

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Two candidates, a white and a Negro minister, for the post of moderator of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. have stated their goal for a nonsegregated church.

The Rev. Edler G. Hawkins, New York Negro, and the Rev. Herman L. Turner, Atlanta, Ga., white minister, issued a joint statement defining their views. They said:

"We are committed to the ideal of a nonsegregated church in a nonsegregated society" which by repeated action of the General Assembly is the policy of the U.S.A."

The two are among candidates for moderator when the denomination's General Assembly meets May 18-25. A preliminary conference on evangelism begins May 16.

The assembly is the top governing body of one of the largest and most important Protestant denominations. The United Presbyterian Church has about 9,000 local congregations throughout the nation and over 3,100,000 members. The moderator will be elected for one year at the meeting's opening session.

PCN, Skippers Win, Huskies Lose on Track

By H. GUY MOATS
Yesterday's busy week at the Pontiac County Fair, which closed up today, was a three-day event. Wet grounds in the afternoon stopped all area prep baseball games, but didn't prevent Bloomfield Hills golfers from chalking up their 17th straight Wayne-Oakland victory in a triangular meet at FCC.

On a wet and slow course, Bloomfield Hills carried a good 179 to outscore West Bloomfield, with 179 and Milford at 186, for its seventh win in a row for the season. Three Hills bellies tied for medalist honors with 42. Fourth member of team hit 44 (Bruce Billings). The medalists were Jim Koryan, Chuck West and Fred Ewald.

Melvin Law led WB with 43, while Milford's best was John McCormick with 45.

Drysdale Wants Traded Away From Coliseum

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale, the ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers' pitching staff, says he is convinced he cannot win in the Coliseum and the Dodgers should trade him.

"I mean that," he told a newspaper. "You make a mistake in the Coliseum and you're dead. I'm not lucky."

Drysdale has made gloomy statements before but has been working hard this season to curb his well-known temper.

He struck out 13 Pittsburgh batters Monday night and allowed only one infield single going into the eighth inning, yet had to give way to Larry Sherry in the ninth after two homers had tied the game at 4-4.

"I made two bad pitches," said Drysdale. "One was a curve to Bill Mazeroski, another to Dick Groat."

"This ball park is a farce. Look at the ball Charlie Neal hit to win the game in the ninth (a towering fly that fell behind the left field screen for a homer), and yet Duke Snider hit one a mile to right field and it was caught. That makes a joke out of baseball."

"I've pitched against San Francisco, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh here in the Coliseum and haven't won a game."

What would Drysdale bring on today's market? There isn't a pitcher in either major league that wouldn't jump at the chance to get him, and most of them would be willing to give up a lot of talent for him.

Several managers and a great many players consider Drysdale, 23, has more potential than any other pitcher in the majors. He led the majors in strikeouts last year and is leading right now.

Buzie Bavasi, Dodgers' general manager, declined comment on Drysdale's statements, but Red Patterson, the team's public relations director, said he believes Drysdale doesn't really want to be traded.

"Being deprived of a victory, as he was, is hard to take," said Patterson. "and Don may be excited for saying something he really doesn't mean. We're going to be playing in our own ball park in the not too distant future."

Don Fulmer and Redl in TV Fight Tonight

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — The youngest of the "fighting Fulmers" — 21-year-old Don Fulmer — battled veteran Stephen Redl of Germany here Wednesday night in a 30-round middleweight bout to be televised by ABC.

The bout scheduled for 9 p.m. EST, will be fought at the West Jordan Athletic Club owned by Marv Jensen, manager of the Fulmers, including NBA middleweight champ Gene and lightweight Jay.

San Francisco Maintains Edge Over Bucs

STEEL PITCHING — Veteran southpaw Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves pitched hay instead of baseball yesterday when the team worked out in a stable near Milwaukee to escape the rain and cold weather. Spahn is slated to open the Braves' 13-game home stand tonight.

Unearned Runs Assist Giants In 4-2 Victory

Blasingame's Hit Wins; Pirates End Skid With 3-2 Triumph

Associated Press Sports Writer
It isn't how many runs in a few that counts in the National League race, it's whom you beat and when. Ask the San Francisco Giants, who have a modest, four-game winning streak but a 14-game lead.

They matched their longest success string since 1953 with a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night after replacing Pittsburgh in first place with a three-game sweep over the Pirates.

And they needed this one to keep the Bucs from making up any lost ground. The second place Pirates, who had lost four straight after winning 10 of 12, defeated

The only other NL game scheduled, Cincinnati at Chicago, was rained out. It was the Cubs fifth straight postponement.

The Giants, getting a pair of unearned runs, won it on Don Blasingame's tie-breaking single in the seventh after blowing a 3-0 lead.

The Phils caught up with Wally Post's two-run homer in the seventh of Johnny Antonelli, who was working on a two-out double.

But Miller (1-1) was hit by a line drive and retiring just one man, loser Gene Colton (0-1) in the seventh. Billy O'Dell then blanked the Phils on one hit over the last two frames.

Right-handed Vern Law became the first pitcher to win five in the majors as the Pirates backed his eight-hitter with home runs by Hal Smith and Bill Mazeroski. South-

new Johnny Podres (5-2) lost to Pittsburgh at Los Angeles for the first time in four decisions, giving up both homers, Norm Sherry, who hit a home run in the second inning, and Junior Gilliam, who tripled and scored on an infield out in the eighth, had five of the Dodgers' hits between them.

It was the second major league home run for Sherry, the catcher-brother of Dodger relief ace Larry Sherry, and they came on consecutive at bats. His first beat Philadelphia 3-2 in 11 innings Saturday night. This one was the first since Memorial Day, 1957.

Both Los Angeles runs were earned, although the Pirates were charged with two errors—giving them 13 hits in three games and 17 in their last six.

Running at Hollywood

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Hollywood Park, which has led American racetracks in attendance for eight of the last nine years, opened its 21st season of thoroughbred racing today with the $22,300 Premier Handicap.

The race is for sprinters and Fleet Nasrullah, apogee at 120 pounds—is the horse to beat at the six furlongs. He has the veteran Johnny Longden aboard and drew the rail.

State Eyes Restoration Plans for Area Lake

Radical Project Given Conservation Approval

By The Press Outdoor Editor

An Oakland County lake of some 146 acres area, that has been in the throes of "dying" for a long span of years, is going to be restored, revitalized into what amounts to an almost new (geologically speaking) body of water.

The some 200 residents about the shores of Long Lake, are going ahead with the radically new plans that include a "vacuum-cleaning" job on the bottom, and restoration of marine plants, restocking with fish, and in general bringing about a bright and clear-water lake where stagnation and peat (muck) have choked the lake until it is nearly "useless."

"The big job is removal of the accumulated peat that ranges in depth from a thin layer at the shoreline to depths up to 20 feet" says Don Rutter, who has been commissioned by the lake's residents to effect the restoration.

CLAIMS PROJECT FIRST OF KIND

Rutter became interested in lake restoration several years ago, broached his ideas to Institute of Fisheries Research, at the University of Michigan, conservation men and engineers and was encouraged to make a pilot run on some Michigan lake.

"They suggested Long Lake as a typical dying lake. So we talked to residents and found them highly interested," Rutter explained. As a result of these conferences, Rutter's company, the Waterways Control and Development Co. of Lansing has assumed the task, that Rutter says is the first of its kind anywhere.

"There are thousands of such lakes about the country that may be restored to clear, beautiful waterways, where now they are geologically dying," he explained. "vacuum clean" the entire bottom of a lake to remove ages-old "vacuum clean" the entire bottom of a lake to remove ages-old muck.

USE RADICAL NEW TYPE DREDGE

The method to be used, when funds are ready (expected about June 1) is a radical new type of "walking" dredge. The dredge will use specially designed agitators to loosen the peat-muck which will be discharged into present swamp area. If the dredge works the entire length of the lake, the floating line carrying the muck, will be some 5,000 feet long, "longest such line anywhere," according to Rutter.

The dredge itself will be the biggest portable equipment used in Michigan, it is claimed.

The project, which will take about 4-6 months for completion will be watched carefully by the conservation department, because of the very real hope it is said to hold for restoration and development of many waterways controlled by the commission, to fill increasing need for more fishing and boating waters for the state's expanding population.

The organization of property-owners backing the project that Rutter calls "the world's greatest junior service," is the Long Lake General Council, headed by Detroit industrialist James Reardon. The council is comprised of top officers of the four owners' associations on the lake.

JOB TO COST ABOUT $125,000

Some of the benefits of the restoration job include better property values, creation of fine sand beaches, without having to bring in sand. The lake's bottom is sandy, but is now silted up with muck so that the deepest water on the lake is six feet. Depth averages 2 1/2 feet, but after removal of the peat it will run up to 18 feet, with an over-all average of nine feet, says Rutter.

How much material will have to be moved?

The operator said 1,500,000 cubic yards. And the 12-inch discharge line will pour out some 600,000,000 (61) gallons of muck-bearing water, with most of the water, cleared of its load, going back into the lake.

What will the project cost?

It is figured at $180,000, says Rutter, with property owners on the lake front lots paying $11.50 a front foot and off-lake owners considerably less.

'DU' Approves Duck 'Factories' $550,000 Fund

DETROIT (UP)—Ducks Unlimited, an international waterfowl conservation group, has appropriated $550,000 to continue restoration and building duck breeding grounds in Canada.

The organization's board of trustees, at its 23rd annual meeting, for the fifth straight year allotted more than a half-million dollars for development of "duck factories" in Canada.

The latest appropriation seemed to nearly $7 million, the annual Ducks Unlimited has poured in reestablishing more than 100 duck breeding sites in Canada, where more than 65 per cent of North America's migratory waterfowl raise their young.

Federal law prohibits use of duck stamp funds outside the United States so duck-breeding areas in Canada's prairie provinces are supported directly by sportsmen.

Carleton Thomas, of Grand Pointe Farms, was elected to his second year as president.

BULLS-EYE—Another species is added to this bird watcher's "collection" as he sights an osprey hovering over its lofty home.

Michigan's spring and summer pageant, featuring a multitude of colors, songs, calls, habits and movements of some 300 species, provides a genuine bird-watching bonanza.

A good pair of binoculars and a field guide are standard equipment for those who want a close-up of this colorful outdoor show. One of the most rewarding techniques for this popular type of nature study is to find a strategic spot in the woods or along the water's edge and then wait for the passing parade of birds almost certain to follow.

At Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park

Tours Mark Acorn Nature Trail Opening

To celebrate the official opening of the "Acorn Nature Trail" at Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park near Ann Arbor, naturalists will provide guided tours along the new trail on Sunday, May 15 from 1 p.m. through 4:30 p.m. There is no charge for this service.

Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park is located 22 miles northwest of Ann Arbor near the junction of North Territorial road and Huron River drive. It is one of several parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, five-county park agency serving Oakland, Livingston, Macomb, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

"Persons interested in taking the one hour guided tour, which covers a labeled trail for three-quarters of a mile, should meet at the parking lot where the "Nature Walks Start Here" sign is posted.

"We feel this new nature trail will prove as popular as the others we have at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Brighton, Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville and Metropark Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens. It is just one of the many improvements completed at the 400-acre Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park," remarked Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, authority director.

"This trail is labeled so that persons may identify flowers, trees and rocks along the path, and we encourage visitors to take unguided hikes," he said.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority naturalist program also provides guided tours by appointment at Hudson Mills and its other parks to Boy Scout, Girl Scout, school and other civic groups.

Reservations for fall hikes can be placed by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1150 Guardian Building, Detroit 26 or phone WO 1-5865.

Wildflowers will be of particular interest along the trail during May and it is hoped that the flowering dogwood trees will be in bloom.

Pollution Penalty

LANSING (UP)—Conservation Department Director Gerald E. Eddy asked Attorney General Paul L. Adams this week to start legal proceedings against the Michigan Sugar Company of Cary when it discharges of wastes killed fish in the Cass river late last month.

IN THE BAG—At Clearwater, Fla., the other day, a cameraman snapped this appealing wild picture. His tail forming a reversed question-mark, the squirrel appears to ask "what's in the bag?"

Good News for Duck Shooters

LANSING (UP)—The State Highway Department has recommended transfer of 477 acres of prime duck hunting land south of Monroe to the State Conservation Department for a game reserve.

The property fronts on Lake Erie and Muddy and Bay Creeks. It represents unused portions of 57 parcels of land purchased in 1944 for construction of the Detroit-Toledo Expressway. Appraised value is $48,000.

The transfer is proposed under a plan allowing mutual exchange of properties between the two departments. The state administrator will be asked to approve the transfer at its June 7 meeting.

Waterford Bow Leaguers End Winter Season

The Archery League, sponsored by Waterford Township Recreation Department, has finished league competition after a 16-week period. Twelve teams (40 adults) participated in this year's program, three more teams than last year.

First place honors in the league went to Douglas Arthur, Les Wise, Charles Blake, Barbara Cascardi and Morris Cascardi. Second place, to Outlaws; third to Robinhoods.

Individual honors with high shooting averages went to Jane Morrow, Helen Orr, Louis Stockton, Douglas Arthur, Janice Means and Dan Walters.

Increased popularity in the sport has been shown in this year's program by increased number of active participants and plans are being made now to provide an even longer program for next year.

13,000 Birds Fall in Preserve Season

LANSING (UP)—Michigan's 37 shooting preserves had a slow start this year but business picked up because of good weather, better operation of the preserves and hunter interest.

The preserve season ended March 31 with hunters at the public preserves bagging slightly over 13,000 of the 13,847 birds released.

Wide Range of Duty for Conservation Men

In addition to their primary duties of protecting Michigan's game and fish, conservation officers cooperate with other divisions of the Conservation Department in making game checks and creel census, reporting land fills, pollution and land matters, and explaining the why and wherefore of regulations, law changes and various policies to local residents. He also assists other agencies in searching for lost persons and fugitives.

Aid Studies of Migrations

Color Codes for Swans

LANSING—Michigan residents are urged to report colormarked whistling swans, including the locations and dates of their sightings, to local conservation department game men or officers.

The migrating birds were banded and marked this spring to learn more about the relationship between populations wintering on the Atlantic Coast, concentration areas for breeding in the North Central states and Canada, and other patterns of distribution.

Swans trapped at the Shawnee Refuge in Michigan are colored red on their bodies and lower neck regions. Those taken in the Lake Erie marshes of Ohio are colored green while wings and tails of swans from Maryland are yellow or purple. The purple markings may appear black.

Department game men request that all observations be reported by June 10 so that this information may be forwarded according to schedule to the Mississippi Flyway Council which is conducting the survey.

Carp Carnival This Weekend

The annual Birmingham Carp Carnival will be held at Barton Lake on Saturday, May 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This event is open to anyone 14 years of age or under with awards being given in four divisions for the longest fish and largest numbers of fish caught.

Awards will also be given for the youngest fisherman and the most unusual fishing equipment.

Anyone planning to enter the contest should register upon arrival on the east bank of the lake on Lakeside Drive between Harmon and Oak Streets Birmingham. Bait will be furnished. For further information call the Recreation Office, MI 4180.

Commercial Trawling Up for Discussion

LANSING—A proposed change in commercial fishing regulations to permit the use of trawls in Michigan waters of the Great Lakes will be discussed before the Conservation Commission during a special public hearing tomorrow at the Higgins Lake conservation school.

Commercial operators and interested parties unable to attend the hearing which will begin at 10 a.m. are encouraged to forward their views to the Higgins Lake school. Commission action may be taken next week, although a time element and other considerations could force a delay.

Mother Nature's 'Baby Parade' Now Under Way

LANSING—Mother Nature and her long-legged helper, the stork, are enlivening Michigan's out-of-doors with its yearly "new look."

This mythical bird has already filled some orders and for the next few weeks will plow plenty of fine hours delivering more babies to his wildlife ward. These precious "little packages" come in all sizes, shapes and degrees of helplessness.

Baby opossums are extremely undeveloped and almost helpless when born. They are so small that 10 of these bee-sized babies would fit on a teacup-spoon. The mother incubates and nurses her premature offspring in her belly pouch for about a month.

Infant porcupines, complete with soft quills and long black hair, hold a brief weight and size advantage over newborn cubs when they enter the wildlife world. Baby fox and gray squirrels are dependent upon their mothers for about three months whereas beaver "kits" are able to swim at once after birth.

By and large, the young of wild animals must be protected and trained for quite some time after birth.

ACTOR DIES — Maurice Schwartz, one of the great actors of the Yiddish theater, died in a Tel Aviv, Israel, hospital Tuesday. He was 72. Death was caused by a heart ailment. His body will be flown to New York.

RANDALL E. SPURGEON

Letter Carrier Dies On Trip From South

Service for Randall E. Spurgeon, a past president of the State Letter Carriers' Assn., will be at 3:45 p.m. Friday at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, Pontiac. Burial will be in Otawa Park Cemetery.

The National Letter Carriers will conduct a memorial service at 2 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home.

Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon were on their way home from a state convention of letter carriers at Jonesboro, Ark., when he was taken suddenly ill and died of a heart attack at a hospital in New Lenox, Ill.

Mrs. Spurgeon, a national officer of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the association, had given an address at the convention.

A member of First Presbyterian Church, he was a letter carrier at the Pontiac post office.

Mr. Spurgeon, 58, of 2539 Colrain Dr., is survived by his wife Maude; his mother Mrs. John Spurgeon of Detroit; a daughter, Mrs. Melvin Auten of Alma; five grandchildren; and three sisters, Mrs. Halle Bardwell of Caro, Mrs. Ted Coleman and Mrs. Robert Elvin, both of Detroit.

Mrs. Kern died unexpectedly Monday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. William — Flood — and Mrs. Theodore Flood, both of Troy; a grandson and a sister.

CLARENCE NORMAN

ROCHESTER — Service for Clarence Norman, 53, of 120 E. Fourth St., will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Pisker's Memorial Chapel. Burial will be in Mount Avon Cemetery.

Rochester Man Dies After Being Found Shot

A 53-year-old Rochester man died in Pontiac General Hospital early this morning, three hours after he was found shot in his car on Tinklin road in Avon Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said that Clarence Norman, 53, E. Fourth St., had apparently killed himself.

Rhode Island Invites Ike to Stay at Newport

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower has been invited to spend his summer vacation in Newport.

Gov. Christopher Del Sesto (R) signed Tuesday a General Assembly resolution extending the invitation.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower vacationed at Newport in 1957 and 1958.

Dog Licenses Receive Little Interest Here

Pontiac dog registrations are lagging again for the third straight year, according to Mrs. Olga Barkeley, deputy city clerk.

She said that as Monday's deadline nears only about half as many 1960 dog licenses have been issued as should be.

Yesterday afternoon the figure was 1,575, while Mrs. Barkeley estimated it should have totaled around 3,000.

Monday is the last day that licenses can be purchased at the regular $2 price. Beginning Tuesday, the price will be $3.

Fl. Laramie in Wyoming was established in 1834 to control the fur trade between rival Indian tribes.

Former Opera Soprano Bori in Critical Condition

NEW YORK (AP) — Luce Bori, for many years a leading soprano with the Metropolitan Opera, was reported in poor condition today from a brain hemorrhage.

The 72-year-old Spanish-born singer, in retirement since 1936, has been unconscious at Roosevelt Hospital since May 3. She suffered the hemorrhage the day before.

Says Welland Canal Shackles Seaway

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Assn. says the St. Lawrence Seaway never will realize its full potential as a vital trade route "until the bottleneck at the Welland Canal is eliminated."

Dr. N. E. Danielian said yesterday the 77-mile Canadian canal linking Lakes Erie and Ontario must be improved or bypassed.

He told the Council of Lake Erie Ports that canal traffic should be speeded "either by duplication of the single locks of the Welland or by construction of an all-American canal, whichever is quickest and cheapest."

The secretarybird in South Africa has long legs and is a deadly enemy of snakes.

Serve Kids Old Favorite, Eggs a la Goldenrod

Your small fry might enjoy an old-fashioned dish called Goldenrod eggs. To make it, add the whites of hard-cooked eggs to a medium white sauce and pour over hot buttered toast.

Put the hard-cooked yolks in a fine-mesh wire strainer and press through with a wooden spoon. Sprinkle the sieved yolks over the toast and sauce for the goldenrod effect.

Maine Sardine Fingers Go Well With Salad

Add flavor and spice to your menu by serving Maine Sardines on toast fingers. These hot little fingers are perfect as appetizers or served with salads and soups.

for a luncheon treat. Soften 4 tablespoons of butter and mix with a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce and 1/4 teaspoon of powdered dry mustard.

Add a teaspoon of lemon juice and salt to taste. Spread the mixture on toast fingers and top each with a Maine Sardine. Pop them into the oven until they sizzle and delight family and friends with this tangy treat.

You can give tomato juice a lift by combining it with bottled clam juice on toast fingers and top each

Juicy Fruit Kabobs Get Sweet Spicy Basting

Spark the flavor of outdoor grilling hamburgers and frankfurters with unskinned fruit kabobs. Thread your favorite fresh fruit chunks with canned pineapple chunks on skewers. Brush with Kabob sauce and grill over hot coals 7-10 minutes, turning frequently. Continue to brush fruit with sauce during grilling.

To make sauce combine 1/4 cup

(1/2 stick) butter, 1/4 cup pineapple juice, 3 tablespoons honey, 1/4 crushed, fresh mint leaves and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Heat until mixture is slightly thickened.

Cranberry Fluff Sings a Song of Springtime

Whip together a pound of jelled cranberry sauce, two tablespoons sugar and one tablespoon grated orange peel. Fold in 3 cups of whipped cream that has been lightly flavored with almond extract.

Put into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. Remove from freezer and beat until fluffy, and return to freezer until time to serve three hours.

Top with a rosette of whipped cream if desired. Prepare to repeat at an early date.

Frozen sandwiches will thaw at room temperature, in about three hours.

Blue Cheese Topping Adds Zing to Apples

NEW YORK (UPI) — Apple crisp with a special tang uses blue cheese in the topping. Combine 1½ cups each of sifted all-purpose flour and firmly-packed brown sugar. Cut in ½ cup each of butter and crumbled blue cheese (about 3 ounces) with pastry blender or 2 knives.

Arrange 1½ quarts sliced tart apples in greased 8 x 12 x 3-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese mixture. Bake in 375-degree oven 35 to 45 minutes, or until apples are tender.

Want your French toast golden brown? Add a little sugar to the egg-milk mixture used for dipping the bread.

Came From Turkey

"Yogurt" is a Turkish word. In the Eastern Mediterranean countries, this milk food was made for centuries by leaving fresh milk uncovered in the open air, there to ferment. Now it is made scientifically with laboratory-produced cultures, and packaged in sanitary waxed paper tub containers.

You'll find the top of a cottage can makes an excellent cutter when you want to cut out pastry rounds for tart shells.

New Era of Jet Planes Pinches Airline Profits

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's airlines are suffering from an old and recurring ailment—growing pains.

This time it's from catapulting into the jet age at a cost in excess of two billion dollars.

The remedy some lines are seeking and expecting is higher fares. But a turn for the worse is that a few observers fear is an overabundance of seats that could tempt a move toward fare cutting. The outcome that most fears is a period of financial stress while passenger demand grows up to the new and costly seating capacity, and then prosperity.

GREATEST EVER

The airlines haven't too much choice today.

The cost of changing to jet planes is the greatest in a history peppered with costly changeovers. And the new fleet will offer more capacity—both because of larger planes and speedier flights—than present demand justifies.

But not to change could be even more costly. Those who don't buy jets could fall by the wayside in an increasingly competitive race.

Airline earnings statements tell the story. Most so far this year aren't reporting profits at all, but losses. The price of their stocks has fallen as much as 40 per cent in the last 12 months. Dividend omissions have been common.

Some have had trouble raising the money to finance purchase of the jets. Many are deeply in debt—and with more jets still on order.

CAPITAL BEING SUED

One, Capital Airlines, is being sued for $1 million dollars which the British firm of Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., says the line owes on 60 Viscount turboprops bought in 1955. Capital has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for a temporary mail subsidy of 13 million dollars a year. CAB refused.

But the government agency is reported willing to grant the airlines relief. It holds that the 12 domestic airlines as a group should make 10.5 per cent as a fair return on their investment. It has been five years since their earnings approached that.

The airlines expect to have 250 jet planes by the end of the year. Since most of them carry up to twice as many passengers as the older propeller planes, and since they can make a third again as many trips a week, the number of seats available on a mileage basis is skyrocketing.

Although the domestic lines carried 44 million passengers last year, the new equipment added to the old would leave them with costly excess capacity—that is, many empty seats. And you don't pay for jet planes that way.

So some airlines are asking CAB to increase fares by 3 to 5 per cent, and also grant $1 extra on each ticket sold. CAB is believed ready to grant the extra $1 a ticket—which would help meet the smaller lines making the shortest trips—and to consider fare hikes. A little over a year ago, when jet purchases first began to pinch, it approved an increase of 4 per cent plus $1 extra per ticket.

Airlines make a surcharge on jet flights based on mileage.

TOO BIG FOR FEEDERS

Getting rid of their old planes, once the new jets arrive, is another headache for some lines. The huge props are too big for small feeder lines or corporation private fleets—the second-hand market for previous periods of upgrading flying equipment. Some trunk lines are turning their old prop planes into cargo carriers. A few have them idle on their hands.

Another problem is that competition has stepped up in the last five years as CAB granted new routes so that now more lines compete for passengers between given points, with no one making much, if any, profit.

But if it's just growing pains, as many believe, a little help over the rough period could see them through. At least that's what they're telling CAB.

High-gloss enamels, suitable for both indoor and outdoor use, are made by using mixtures of heat-treated linseed oil and elastic copal varnishes, in many formulas.

Decision on Pecho Delayed to Friday

LANSING (UPI)—The decision on whether to recommend a pardon for Walter Pecho, convicted Lansing wife-killer, has again been delayed at least until Friday, Parole Board Chairman Roy Nelson said.

Nelson said board members would be in separate cities until the end of the week.

Pecho, now 41, has served five years of a 15-year sentence for second degree murder in the 1954 shotgun death of his wife Eleanor.

A two-day hearing last month will result in a recommendation to Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Williams will then decide whether to pardon Pecho or turn down the bid for freedom. Pecho claims his wife committed suicide. Conflicting testimony given at the hearing has to be sifted by the parole board before it can reach a decision, Nelson said.

2 in Group Out on Bond After Betting Roundup

DETROIT (AP)—Two of seven Detroiters arrested April 28 in a nationwide roundup of persons accused of operating horse race betting rooms without a $50 federal gambling stamp pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court Monday.

Judge Theodore Levin released Phil Wall, 57, and Louis Schmitter, 51, on bonds of $1,000 each to await sentence. No date was set for sentencing. The other five still are awaiting court action.

SPAGHETTI

BEEF STEW

7 MINUTES TO BAKE

LIBBY'S SPAGHETTI WITH MEAT BALLS

If you like spaghetti, you'll love Libby's. The smooth tomato sauce is lightly touched with just the right delicate spices, as are the juicy all-beef meat balls. Truly a taste-thrill—and a sure way to delight a hungry family—all yours for the heating. For a succulent extra tang, sprinkle shredded Italian cheese on top. And to round out this hearty menu, serve your own favorite tossed salad on the side.

LIBBY'S BEEF STEW

"Most like homemade" is what we say about this delicious meal-in-itself. It's true! We use as much lean, tender beef as you yourself would. Also garden-tasty vegetables. And the gravy? Ymmmmmm! Try Beef Stew topped with Herbed Biscuits. (Cut packaged biscuits in halves. Dip tops in melted butter mixed with caraway seeds or oregano. Heat stew in saucepan while biscuits bake, buttered side up, in 475° F. oven for 5-7 minutes.)

CORNER BEEF HASH

15 MINUTES TO BAKE

LIBBY'S CORNER BEEF HASH

You'll find plenty of good lean corned beef in with tasty little chunks of Idaho potato. Not only delicious as is, Corned Beef Hash lends itself to a variety of easy "dress-ups." One yummy example: Spoon contents of a 1½-lb. can Libby's Corned Beef Hash into an oven-proof casserole. Top with half slices of Libby's Hawaiian Pineapple. Bake in 400° F. oven for 15 minutes.

Good Party Punches Have Full Fruity Flavor

Pioneer Press Home Editor

From now until the end of the school year there will be many occasions when punch is served. Not that punch won't be served after the middle of June, but this coming month is a series of parties and receptions.

We get calls all the time from housewives asking how much punch to prepare for large groups. If you will figure on one cup (8 oz.) per person, that will be enough. Since punch cups are small, that means everyone can have two servings. Two and one-half minutes and remove tea bags or gallons will serve fifty. If you're using loose tea, strain. Cool serving teen-agers, you should make more than that!

With all the wonderful array of canned and frozen fruit juices available, there is little excuse for inept punch. Start out with a base of lemonade or iced tea and add your own combination of fruit juices.

Strawberry Tea Punch
12 tea bags (or 4 tablespoons loose tea)
1 quart boiling water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1-1/2 cups frozen strawberries

Pour boiling water over tea bags. Steep 3 to 5 minutes and remove tea bags or strain. Cool.

tea. Add defrosted lemonade and strawberries, and sugar. Stir well to blend. Serve over ice in punch cups or glasses. Makes about 4 quarts.

Just recently we read about an interesting food decoration for a punch bowl. Freeze a can of fruit cocktail. Open both ends and let the frozen cylinder slip out into the punch bowl. As this melts in the punch it will release pieces of fruit.

Other ices to float in the punch are large blocks of sherbet (lemon and lime are especially good) and ice in ring shape. Use your ring mold for the latter, fill it with lemonade and freeze solid.

If you have a heart or star-shaped mold, it makes pretty floating ice. Put in maraschino cherries or other fruit for color.

This next punch recipe has five different fruit juices in it. One is lemon-flavored carbonated beverage which will add zip. The punch will be a golden color.

Golden Punch
1 can (12 oz.) orange juice
1 bottle (12 oz.) lemon juice
1 cup maraschino cherries
1 bottle (12 oz.) cranberry juice
1/2 cup lemon-lime carbonated beverage

Combine chilled juices in punch bowl. Add a block of ice. Just before serving, add lemon beverage and mix. Garnish with maraschino cherries and slices of lemon and orange. Makes about 1/2 gallon.

The last punch recipe is a creamy one. Easily made with frozen juice, it has vanilla ice cream in it.

Happy Times Punch
2 small cans frozen lemonade concentrate
1 can (8 oz.) frozen orange juice concentrate
1 cup cold water
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine frozen concentrates and water. Place sherbet and ice cream in bottom of punch bowl. Break in small pieces with large spoon. Add juices. Stir until sherbet and ice cream are partially melted. Garnish top with orange slices, if desired. Makes 5 quarts.

Conduct Own Study on Fish Sticks

In comparing fishery products, "it is the same old story" . . . how much are you willing to pay for an ounce of cooked noodles, poultry or bread? When time is short, of course, you are willing to pay more than you might otherwise, says Josephine Lavyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent for Oakland County.

Those who buy fish sticks might do well to try different brands. Since, in an "informal survey" of prepared and partially prepared fishery products, a case was found where the weight of the breading was more than the weight of the fish.

This was one of the instances, where the actual weight of the product was greater than the stated weight on the label. Looking at this from "the protein point of view" . . . the fish products and mixtures rate a little higher than did some of the meat and poultry products.

Granting that a pie is only a pie and not a complete meal . . . a glass of milk will take care of the protein nicely; at least in the 2 and 3 ounces of fish mixtures. And don't forget . . . while 2 or 3 ounces of fish may be an adequate portion from a nutritional point of view, it may not seem adequate from the appetite point of view.

Next time you are preparing salad almonds for a party, try sprinkling them with a little curry powder. Spicy munch!

Rabbit Mixture Is Poured Over Eggs

Tossing Rabbit with Deviled Eggs
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
2 cups milk, strained
2 cups grated cheddar cheese (medium) (or finely shredded)
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup celery, finely chopped
1/2 cup parsley, finely chopped

In a saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in the flour, salt, mustard and curry powder. Add milk; cook and stir until thickened. Add mustard and cheese; stir over very low heat just until cheese melts. Pour over toast; top with egg halves; garnish with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

'Round the World With After-Dinner Coffee

For those who would like to give variety to the after-dinner coffee served, here are some suggestions from a famous coffee producing company:

AFTER-DINNER COFFEE DRINKS

DEMITASSE. Brew double-strength coffee and serve in small cups without cream or sugar. For Italian-style demitasse, serve in warmed, small glasses with sugar and a twist of lemon.

CAFE AU LAIT. Using two coffee servers, simultaneously pour equal amounts of double-strength coffee and hot milk into cups.

IRISH COFFEE. Into each warmed wine glass or tall coffee cup, place two teaspoons of sugar. Fill glasses or cups two-thirds full with double-strength coffee. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Add a jigger of Irish whiskey to each serving. Top with whipped cream.

CAFE ROYALE. Fill small cups three-fourths full with double-strength coffee. Place a café royale spoon on the rim of each cup. Put a cube of sugar in each spoon and cover it with warm cognac. Ignite and slowly drip the burning sugar into the coffee.

MEXICAN COFFEE. Four double-strength coffee into small cups containing a tablespoon of chocolate syrup, or a chocolate milk wafer. To each, add a cinnamon stick and a spoonful of whipped cream flavored with sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg.

COFFEE MOCHA. Four equal amounts of double-strength coffee and hot chocolate into cups. If desired, add a jigger of brandy to each. Top with whipped cream and a sprinkling of grated orange peel or shaved, unsweetened chocolate.

VIENNESE COFFEE. Brew double-strength coffee, then sweeten to taste. Serve with or without the addition of hot milk and spices, but always top with a spoonful of whipped cream.

COFFEE FRANK JOSEF. Fill tall coffee cups three-fourths full with regular-strength coffee. Add a scoop of chocolate ice cream to each. Top with whipped cream and a sprinkling of cinnamon or nutmeg.

BYRIAN COFFEE. Place two or three crushed cardamom seeds in each cup and fill with double-strength coffee.

CAFFE CAPPUCCINO. Beat together equal amounts of steaming milk and double-strength coffee until frothy. Pour into cups and top with cinnamon or nutmeg. If desired, garnish with whipped cream and a cinnamon stick.

BRUSSELS COFFEE. In the bottom of each cup, place a spoonful of meringue mixture made by folding an egg white, beaten until stiff, into sweetened, whipped cream. Fill cups with double-strength coffee.

Peanut Brittle Tops Dessert

Apple Cream Froth is a high, airy, chilled foam, delicate and faintly sweet. It begins with canned apple sauce with little cake bits and top of whipped cream folded into it. It ends with a thick peanut brittle crunch top over the frothiness... a dessert to charm the eye, and also delight with its through-to-through taste of apples.

This is a special "conversation piece" dessert for guests. On a summer day, for example, it's a wonderful refreshment teamed with glasses of ice-cold apple juice and little cakes or cookies.

Apple Cream Froth With Peanut Brittle Top

3 cups canned apple sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups dried lady fingers or vanilla wafers
1/2 pint heavy cream
1/4 pound crushed peanut brittle
Chill apple sauce; add nutmeg and ladyfingers. Whip cream until stiff; fold into apple sauce mixture. Place in serving dish. Garnish top with peanut brittle; chill. Serve with little cakes or cookies. Makes six servings.

Bake Cheese and Eggs for Luncheon Dish

Cheese and eggs complement each other in Cheese Baked Eggs. For each serving, pour 2 tablespoons milk or cream into baking dish. Use well-buttered individual baking dishes or one large baking dish. Carefully break in 2 eggs; season with salt, pepper and paprika; dot with 1 tablespoon of butter and top with 3-4 tablespoons of shredded sharp Cheddar cheese.

Bake in a 350-degree oven for 15 minutes or until eggs are desired firmness. A drop or two of Worcestershire and Tabasco sauces may be added to the milk or cream for extra zip.

Lewis Can Really Pick 'Em

By DOC QUIGG
NEW YORK (UPI) — Lewis Mathews is in town.

Not too many people have heard about Lewis. In his business he is famous. His business is orange picking (that's the way you pronounce it). In competition he has picked 5,400 oranges in an hour. If you don't think that's something, just go down to Florida and try it.

It includes time spent moving the ladder and transferring the picked oranges from your field bag to the boxes. A box holds two bushels, which is 90 pounds, which is 200 to 220 oranges. Lewis takes a bag that holds a whole bushel.

"Seventy per cent of your pick is in your ladder work," Lewis said in an interview. "I pick with both hands, picks two oranges with each hand—they tell me I've got big hands—and using what we call the repeat system; rotate the hands, first one and then another."

Lewis has won the National Orange Pickin' contest in Florida four straight times, an all-time record. He was champion in 1955, '57, '59 and '60. If there had been a contest in '56 (it was scuttled that year by a rather nasty freeze) he might have won five straight times.

HE'S STRINGBEANY

He is a nice, soft-spoken, crewcut, stringbeany fellow from Davenport, which he says claims to be "the biggest little town in Florida" because it employs—in citrus—more people that its population.

Lewis, who is 37 and has been pickin' for 11 years, has a girl friend, Bertha Gilley, who promised to marry him if he won this year's championship. Bertha is in citrus too. She's a sectionizer. When Lewis wins a championship, the citrus business sometimes awards him a trip to New York hoping he will appear on TV and in newspaper pieces like this one and spread enlightenment like:

"More Florida frozen orange juice is sold in California than California frozen orange juice."

Meanwhile, Bertha is busy back home, sectionizing. She told him she'll marry him all right, but she wants to get married on national television. Lewis will send for her if he finds a program that will marry them. But it doesn't look very hopeful. No TV show to date is willing.

WHY NOT CALIFORNIA?

Somebody asked him why didn't he go to California and try to get on TV? More from television originates in California than in Florida or any place else in the world. Lewis said he figured he better keep his citrus-pickin' hands off California.

Lewis said he had about 18,000 other pickers pick from October to June, working 8 to 18 hours a day at 17 cents a box, the same pay rate he got 11 years ago when he started.

For speed, he works with his palms under the oranges, flipping the fruit with his fingers about a yard into the bag which is slung at his shoulder. His ladder work secrets include quicker ways of setting it. Sometimes he is monkeying up the ladder even before its top is resting against the tree.

In case you're wondering, a sectionizer sectionizes fruit with a tapered knife for canning—mostly grapefruit, although Bertha sometimes does a few salad oranges.

Teen-age drivers are involved in more fatal auto accidents in the United States than drivers in any other age brackets.

Sen. Anderson Is Renominated

Two House Members Also Win Dem Bids in New Mexico Primary

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson and New Mexico's two members of the House of Representatives won re-nomination in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

At the same time New Mexico's two House members arranged another November ballot between Gov. John Burroughs, Democrat and former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, Republican, whom Burroughs defeated in 1958.

Anderson won away from his field of three virtual unknowns. In 667 of the state's 960 voting divisions he piled up more than 72,000 votes against his combined 18,000 plus.

MONTROYA STRONG

Rep. Joseph M. Montroya, opposed by Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), showed surprising strength in turning back the challenge of State Sen. Gene Lusk of Carlsbad.

Rep. Thomas G. Morris decisively defeated Calvin Horn of Albuquerque, oil man and former legislator.

WIN EASILY

Gov. Burroughs turned back an old foe, Joseph A. Burey of Santa Fe, and Mechem had little trouble defeating Albuquerque Dist. Atty. Paul W. Robinson.

The count in 671 divisions gave Burroughs 48,260; Burey 38,655; and Thomas E. Holland, 7,243.

In 629 divisions Mechem polled 39,441 and Robinson 7,305.

William F. Colver of Santa Fe, a Mechem running mate, won the Republican nomination to oppose Sen. Anderson.

In 625 divisions Colver had 11,042; Joseph Rendón, Albuquerque, 7,617; and Frederick W. Alry, Albuquerque, 3,557.

No Red Planes Tracked Spying Over America

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — If the Soviet Union has sent aerial spies over the continental United States or Alaska, the North American Air Defense Command says it has no knowledge or report of it.

A NORAD spokesman made the comment Tuesday in response to calls prompted by the downing of what Soviet leaders say was an American-built jet on an intelligence flight. The U.S. disclosed Monday it has sent spy flights over the Soviet Union.

NORAD today in electronics gear has followed Soviet planes over U.S. territory in the area around the Bering Strait, between Alaska and the Soviet Union.

But the NORAD spokesman said this occurs only when the Soviet craft are turning, or when bad weather forces them of course.

"We do not consider this a hostile act," he said.

NORAD directs a system of advance warning devices at the top and along the shores of this continent to alert this country to any possible attack.

U.S. Wheat Surplus to Bulge Even More

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wheat surplus already of record size, will get larger with harvest of this year's crop.

The Agriculture Department forecast yesterday that the 1960 winter wheat crop would total 992,000,000 bushels.

This would be the fourth-largest winter wheat crop on record, 1 per cent bigger than the 1959 crop, and 19 per cent above average.

The 1960 crop was expected to be 66,000,000 bushels larger than was predicted after last fall's planting.

Gen. Van Fleet's Dog, Rhee Gift, Disappears

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Gen. James Van Fleet's internationally famous dog, Happy, is missing.

The dog was a gift to the retired general from Syngman Rhee, the recently ousted president of Korea.

Happy, a Korean husky, disappeared from the home of Van Fleet's brother, R. R. Van Fleet, who was keeping the dog for the general.

U.S. Starts Eviction Suit Against River Squatters

BEYTHE, Calif. (AP) — The group which built a bridge across the river without legal sanction, a determined band of nearly 1,000 who for half a century have farmed land they knew they didn't own.

"It's a terrible blow," says Fay Olson, secretary of the Associated Farmers of the Lower Colorado River.

He referred to an eviction suit filed Tuesday in Los Angeles against Benjamin and Lucille Langendorf of nearby Crossroads, Calif.

U. S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters said it was the first of suits to evict 970 people from 27,000 acres of rich bottom land on the Arizona and California sides of the river from Hoover Dam to the Mexican border.

The Associated Farmers are headed by Bill Murphy, who a few years ago headed another

Hart Urges Steady Drug Quality Check

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) said Tuesday that testimony before Senate investigators points more and more to a need for continuous government inspection of drug manufacturing plants.

Hart, who took over temporary chairmanship of the inquiry from Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), hinted that such legislation might be proposed.

His comment came after Dr. Charles O. Wilson, dean of Oregon State College's school of pharmacy, testified there were significant differences in drugs because of the way they were made even though they were identical chemically.

Britain to Continue N-Weapon Flights

LONDON (UPI)—Bombers carrying hydrogen or atomic weapons will continue to fly from British bases despite the forthcoming summit conference, it was announced Tuesday.

Laborite M. P. Harold Davies said if the government would order these patrol flights to stop for the duration of the summit talks.

Home Secretary R. A. Butler, saying that aircraft using British bases occasionally carry nuclear weapons, told him, "We see no reason to make any change at this time."

The Baltic Sea covers about 163,000 square miles and is up to 1,500 feet deep.

Club Always Gains by Losing

TOPS Weighs Queen Decision

DETROIT (UPI)—The biggest losers will be the winners when TOPS holds its national convention here May 18-21.

TOPS—which stands for Take Off Pounds Sensibly—is a nonprofit group therapy organization for overweight persons modeled after Alcoholics Anonymous. The overweight persons get together once a week to encourage each other to follow the orders of their doctors in diet, exercise and other reducing methods.

TOPS will name a national queen May 21 and the queen will come from among eight candidates, each of whom lost more than 100 pounds during 1959, the biggest weight losers among TOPS's 20,000 members from 41 states, including Alaska and Hawaii, and Canada.

Last year, TOPS announced that its members lost a total of 867 tons. At this national convention, TOPS hopes to announce the weight loss in 1959 topped 1958.

LOSES 140 POUNDS
Michigan's candidate for TOPS queen is Mrs. Barbara Giammetti, Taylor Township. Mrs. Giammetti, who lost 140 pounds during 1959 and is the state queen.

Mrs. Greta Coulter, leader of an East Side Detroit TOPS club, is acting as publicity chairman for the national convention. So it was natural to ask Mrs. Coulter what TOPS had done for her.

Mrs. Coulter refused to present herself as a strong-willed example of TOPS, but said she joined the organization five years ago when she weighed 181. She's 5 feet, 8 inches tall and has 171 pounds and her weight is 130 pounds.

TOPS, said Mrs. Coulter, was founded Jan. 21, 1948, by Mrs. Ester Schindler Manz, a Milwaukee housewife who joined three other girls in the first TOPS battle against fat. Some 3,000 members are expected for the convention here.

Mrs. Coulter said there will be some men members of TOPS at the national convention. But she conceded the big majority of the members are women.

"We've got one man in my group," she said. "But there are 50 women. He's losing weight so I guess TOPS is helping him."

Just as losing those first pounds is the toughest, TOPS dues also go down after the first two years. It costs $6 to join and $6 the second year but only $4 after that.

Weight Curbs On Again

LANSING (UPI)—Weight restrictions have been reinstated on all state trunks in the Upper Peninsula because of adverse weather the past weekend, the State Highway Department reported. Routes designated as all-season trunk lines were exempted from the rule.

The real head of the family is plain it to anybody... A local one. Whenever I drove through the park people tried to feed it. The man said his miniature sports car, explaining: "It got too embarrassed—Earl Wison."
