'Hand-Tailored' for Versatile Service

GMC Truck Introduces New Models

Show Varied Advances in '56 Blue Chip Line

Sweeping advances, ranging from more powerful V-8 and 6-cylinder engines to road shock dampers and versatile axles, were introduced today in the GMC Truck & Coach Division's light and medium duty "Blue Chip" truck line for 1956.

The list of innovations are headed by a number of new engineering features which GMC executives say virtually "hand-tailor" the truck line for every vocational use in the one-half through two-and-a-half-ton trucking field.

Besides mightier engines, vibration absorbers and new axles, the new GMCs also boast tubeless tires, and 12-volt electrical systems.

Power steering with its control valve and power cylinder integral with the steering column, is optional for light-duty trucks; while a special sheet metal grille for trucks using front-mounted equipment, such as snowplows, is available for medium-duty GMCs.

KEEP LOW SILHOUETTE

The improved trucks retain the low silhouette and graceful lines that have made GMC the styling pace - setter in the trucking industry.

"This year marks the introduction of some of our most significant engineering developments," said Philip J. Monaghan, GMC vice president and general manager of the division.

"Among these are air suspension, road shock dampers, a new V-8 engine which is the largest short-stroke V-8 in its field, new axles for improved performance and additional truck versatility, and numerous other advances such as our complete conversion to tubeless tires and 12-volt electrical systems.

'BEST AVAILABLE'

"We are convinced our improved GMCs will have a profound influence on the trucking industry and give operators the best looking and hardest working trucks presently available."

One V-8 and three 6-cylinder gasoline engines power new light and medium-duty GMCs. With 316-cubic-inch displacement and a 180-horsepower rating, the new V-8 is available for every basic model in the entire 100-370 series. Its power rating tops its predecessors by 25 horsepower.

More horsepower also is evident in the "sixes." One with 130-horsepower compared to the previous one's 125 is offered in 100-300 mod-

Plans Launched for Construction of Sewage Plant

New Installation Would Serve Eastern Portions of Pontiac Area

Preliminary steps were taken last night by the City Commission on a proposed second sewage treatment plant for Pontiac.

Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) moved that the City Commission accept an agreement with the Toledo engineering firm of Jones, Henry and Williams for the design and supervision of the second plant.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the installation is proposed for the 37-acre plot at Opdyke road and Auburn avenue, and will serve the northeast and southeast quarters of the city.

He added it would be an auxiliary plant to the present system located on East boulevard and would serve the areas that cannot now be developed without pumping stations.

When the financing of the project is arranged, Willman expects work to begin in the coming fall. The project is expected to be completed by 1957.

"I'm going to be consistent on this matter," Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) said. "As long as I remain on this commission I want to see that we go forward with this."

"We need sewers so bad and this can be only done by the installation of this new plant," Dugan added.

Answers Newsmen's Questions on Bulganin Note

Ike Vows to Watch Health While on Job; Nixon Must Decide for Himself on '56

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower said today at his weekly news conference that if he ever feels he is unable to carry the burden of the presidency, he will withdraw as a candidate for a second term.

He said he has told Vice President Richard M. Nixon that Nixon must decide for himself whether he wants to seek re-election to the number two post.

Eisenhower again ducked a direct answer to whether he himself wants the 43-year-old Nixon to be his running mate again.

But he again praised Nixon highly, but said he would not presume to tell the vice president what he should do with his future.

LEAVES IT TO NIXON

The President told the press with eye-flashing emphasis that he would angrily rebuff anyone who had the effrontery to suggest that he "dump" Nixon from the 1956 GOP ticket.

He gave the impression that he was determined not to lose his temper, but also appeared to some observers to be a bit tired.

Eisenhower also answered questions about his note to Bulganin.

He had again asked Bulganin to approve the "open sky" atomic inspection plan and to couple it with ground inspection teams to check on disarmament.

The text of Eisenhower's letter was released yesterday. He challenged the Soviet leader to accept a mutual program, "directed especially to bringing under control the nuclear threat."

Bulganin promptly acknowledged receipt of the message, and indicated that he would like to visit Washington and confer personally with Eisenhower (but hesitated because of the U. S. fingerprinting rule.)

PUSHES 'OPEN SKY'

The chief executive was certain to be questioned today by newsmen about his views on Bulganin's announced interest in the atomic weapons issue and the idea of a visit to Washington by the Red leader.

He said he hadn't given any thought to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin paying a visit to this country in the immediate future.

The President said this government should be alert to follow up any opening which looks like it might lead to a lessening of world tensions.

Another reporter tried to get Eisenhower to say why the United States won't ship arms to Israel.

He replied that peace cannot be assured by touching off an arms race in the Middle East.

Israel, he pointed out, has a population of only 1,700,000 people while her Arab neighbors number 40,000,000.

The President said he didn't believe the United States could assure peace by pouring as many arms into Israel as her small population could absorb.

Ice Jams Blamed

St. Clair Flooding Homes

MARINE CITY (INS)—The churning ice jam in the St. Clair River today forced rapidly-rising flood waters to the doors of 30 homes near Marine City and ripped up docks and boathouses all along the shoreline.

State Police waded through knee-deep water to evacuate an elderly lady and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leo DeCloedt, trapped in the flood. The woman, an invalid, had to be carried out on a stretcher.

Other families in the area were keeping rowboats moored in their backyards as they gathered up valuables and lifted their furniture onto old crates and boxes.

The flooded area is two miles north of Marine City, bordering the Belle River, which flows into the St. Clair River near the town.

Recent thaws have shaken ice loose in the upper St. Clair River and much of it has ground its way south to form a new jam at the mouth of the Belle.

Roads Flooded in Storm Wake; Basements Fill

Power Lines Downed;; Phone Service Out for 300 in Area

Tornadoes killed at least one person in Indiana and injured 35 in Ohio, Illinois and Missouri yesterday, while violent flash storms in Michigan raised rivers to flood stage and made small lakes of Oakland County roads last night.

Locally, countless roads and basements were flooded, high-tension and telephone wires were reported down and fire departments throughout the county answered lightning calls.

Hail struck most county areas during the storm, reaching golf ball size in some places.

Telephone service for 300 area subscribers is being restored today. Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reported 11 cases of main cable breaks.

A three-minute pocket-size tornado whipped a rural area 30 miles east of Windsor, Ont., last night, causing considerable property damage but no reported injuries.

The small, isolated twister smashed windows and damaged barns, sheds and homes in rural Kent County. Power was cut off in many sections.

In Marion, Ind., a woman was killed and two persons were reported missing in the wake of a tornado which injured 25 more and wrecked damage estimated by State Police at 1½ million dollars.

Jet Planes in Trouble, Says Probe Committee

WASHINGTON (INS) — House investigators denounced today as a failure and a debacle a half-billion dollar Navy plane program for 280 Demon fighters.

A House government operations subcommittee reported after an investigation that 56 of the planes have been grounded and will never fly while the remainder "now or soon may be obsolete."

The House group, headed by Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif), assigned the blame for the costly mistake among the Navy which ordered the planes; Westinghouse Electric Corp., which had a contract to furnish a jet engine, and the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., which manufactured the air-frames.

The subcommittee stated in a unanimous report: "There were large and costly errors in judgment and, cumulatively, the program ended in failure.

The congressmen termed the procurement program, which stretched over an eight-year period, an "ill-fated venture."

The investigation disclosed that the Navy ordered the J40 jet engine from Westinghouse, with McDonnell to build the frame.

The subcommittee said that when Westinghouse was unable to build an engine sufficiently powerful for the airframe, "the Navy accepted second-best engines from Westinghouse, and McDonnell in turn accepted these lesser-powered engines."

Before the 56 planes were grounded, nine aircraft were lost in 11 accidents between August 1952 and October 1955 which resulted in the death of four test pilots.

Senate Group OKs Deepening of Lake Routes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee today approved legislation to authorize deepening of the channels connecting the Great Lakes. The work would cost an estimated 110 million dollars.

This project would provide a 27-foot channel in the Great Lakes west of Lake Erie so that ocean-going ships could sail westward from the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Fingerprint Convicts Man on Theft Count

A fingerprint led to conviction of a Detroit man on a larceny-from-a-motor-vehicle charge yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court after a jury deliberated five hours.

He was traced by State Police through a fingerprint left on one of the car's vent windows which had been forced open, according to Assistant Prosecutor Donald A. Brown.

The case against Kuzenko was built around the fingerprint—there were no witnesses to the theft and the stolen goods were not recovered. Kuzenko will be sentenced March 19 by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Italy's President Leaves Detroit for Frisco Visit

DETROIT (INS) — President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy today prepared to fly to San Francisco after spending two hectic days in a whirlwind tour of the Motor City.

Gronchi—the first Italian chief of state to visit the U.S.—was honored last night at a civic banquet that was attended by a host of dignitaries, including U.S. Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce and Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

In his address at the dinner, President Gronchi told the huge audience:

"Democratic stability in Italy is in no danger at all and my country has finally reached economic stability."

He also said the economic situation in Italy is better than it has been since the end of World War II. He added:

"The American taxpayer does not need to worry about Italy borrowing money. There is no need for any loans."

War Dangles Over Near East

Israel and Arabs Stand on Brink of Conflict as Big 3 Disagree

By International News Service

The road toward war is shortened by the swift events in the Middle East.

Israel's Parliament has defeated—for the moment—demands by some of the countrymen for an immediate preventive war against the Arab state neighbors.

Why has this situation developed?

Some of the reasons are:

1. Egypt is receiving a big flow of Soviet arms under a Moscow maneuver to provoke trouble—without real trouble to the Soviets. At least, that is the opinion of Western officials.

2. Jordan has given the British a real jolt by kicking out Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, who had been the founder and leader, the "second Lawrence of Arabia," of the Jordanian army, the Arab Legion.

3. The British, Americans and French are divided on what policy to pursue in the critical Middle East—where the Soviets hover to the north and Arab Nationalism flames from the Atlantic coast on the west to the Persian Gulf in Asia.

In fact, the Big Three Western powers, the United States, Britain and France, never have seen eye-to-eye on the multiple problems in the Middle East and the French domain of North Africa.

Oil is one of the big factors in the whole complicated situation. Arab nationalism and local Arab-versus-Arab feuds are another.

The United States also has aerial facilities in Saudi Arabia and Britain has defense bases in the Middle East, and also a vital stake in the oil of Iraq.

The Israeli nation is surrounded by this whirlpool of trouble. Its Parliament may reverse its anti-war decision any day.

William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools will be the panel moderator.

Call Toll Roads 'Unlikely'; Turnpike Power Bid Hit

Meanwhile in Lansing, a proposal for increasing powers of the state's turnpike-building agency was dumped by its sponsor.

Speaking before the Pontiac Kiwanis Club, Gerald W. Graves, executive director of the influential Michigan Good Roads Federation, listed reasons why his group feels the toll-road project will not be realized.

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) abandoned a bill to let the turnpike authority build pay-highways at any location it deemed feasible, rather than along two routes approved by the Legislature in 1953.

Graves, whose group worked closely with the Legislature and Automotive Safety Foundation in formulating a 20-year state road-building plan, said "we are not opposed to toll roads if they can fit into the overall plan.

"But the bonding companies have said they won't finance the project unless the state will pledge its full faith and credit to support half the proposed $600,000,000 bond issue."

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature which would authorize a public vote in November on putting the state's credit behind half the issue. "Right now the bill seems to have little chance for passage," said Graves.

Graves and Nichols both stressed importance of proposed federal legislation increasing aid to road building.

He withdrew his bill, said Nichols, because of uncertainties over fate of the so-called Fallon bill for a new and greatly enlarged federal road program.

As it now stands, states would get credit in allocation of federal highway aid funds for turnpike construction lying on the national system of interstate highways.

Graves pointed out that the federal legislation is aimed at bringing the 40,000 miles of national interstate highways up to standard to meet present and future traffic needs. Michigan has 970 miles of the system.

"Michigan can meet its needs in 10 to 15 years if Congress acts favorably regarding the national system.

"If Congress will accept the responsibility of meeting needs on the interstate system, the millions of dollars of state funds we are spending on it will be usable on state trunklines and county primary roads.

"We will see an increase from the $150,000,000 per year planned for state highways to more than $225,000,000 per year.

"If Congress does not act, Michigan will have to boost its highway-user taxes by 20 per cent to meet needs," he asserted.

In the next 15 years travel on state highways is expected to increase 72 per cent and vehicle registrations 68 per cent, he added.

Wilson Joining Defense Parley

Tells Reporters Missiles Important but Cause Too Much Talk

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's conviction that the importance of long-range rocket missiles has been exaggerated appears likely today to dominate the intensive "new look" being taken at America's security.

Wilson leaves Washington today to join the Joint Chiefs of Staff in a secluded meeting at Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico, where an historic three-year blueprint for America's defense is being drafted.

The defense secretary told reporters before taking off that a 1,500-mile rocket, whether Russia or America gets it first, will be "just one more weapon" in the total arsenal, and that there has been "too much emphasis" on this development.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, led by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, are in Puerto Rico primarily to determine how America's armed forces should be reshaped to meet the requirements of the guided missile era.

Although Wilson does not pretend to be a military man, his views are often controlling. He overruled a 2 to 1 vote by the Chiefs that would have prevented the army from developing a 1,500-mile rocket missile, and would have assigned this job exclusively to the Air Force.

Wilson's views on long-range and inter-continental missiles are difficult to categorize.

He obviously does not mean that America has devoted too much effort to these projects, since he himself has recently earmarked hundreds of millions of additional dollars for their development.

Bell Begins Delivery of Phone Directories

Delivery of 73,500 copies of 1956 telephone directories to Pontiac area residents began today, according to local officials of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Distribution is expected to be completed within three days.

The new books have buff-colored covers as contrasted with the gray color of current directories. The number to be distributed constitutes an increase of 5,700 copies over last year.

Old books will be picked up when the new ones are delivered, according to Edward J. Novak, district commercial superintendent. He suggests that customers remove valuable papers and notes in preparation for giving them up.

City Commission Applauds Vote Favoring Parking

The City Commission last night unanimously acknowledged its appreciation for the vote of confidence Pontiac voters demonstrated by approving Monday the $600,000 municipal parking lot program.

In a resolution introduced by Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5), the commissioners stated the 3-to-1 winning margin indicated "the thought, consideration and good judgment exercised by Pontiac citizens, and in rejecting the claims of the private parking lot interest."

The resolution continued by saying that "the work on the parking lot project will commence immediately so that the serious downtown parking and traffic problem may be eventually solved."

City Manager Walter K. Willman said that after Thursday's canvass of the election returns, the city would file a certificate of canvass with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission. "As soon as we get their approval we will be up to the time of the bond sale," he told the commissioners.

PTA of Detroit Backs Spanking by the Teachers

By International News Service

A resolution opposing spanking in public schools was defeated last night by the Detroit Council of Parent-Teacher Associations at one of the most heated meetings in its history.

The meeting was attended by strongly divided delegates from 135 PTA local associations.

Backers of the anti-spanking resolution, led by David Wineman, vice president of the Hally School PTA, were unsuccessful in attempts to postpone a vote on the proposal until May 3.

The delegates, after defeating the anti-spanking resolution, adopted almost unanimously an executive board resolution.

The executive board resolution approves the liberalized school policy giving the teacher the right to act as a parent and use physical force in establishing and maintaining discipline.

It also promised Board of Education backing for teachers involved in litigation resulting from spankings.

The corporal punishment policy is being tried in Detroit public schools this year although it has not been adopted officially by the Board of Education.

Scholarship Offered

MILAN (AP)—The Milan PTA has offered again this year a $150 scholarship to a 1956 Milan High School graduate who intends to become a teacher. A similar scholarship was granted last year.

Broomfield Bills Pass in Senate

Water Needs Subject of One Measure Given Vote of Approval

Three bills sponsored by Oakland County's State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R - Royal Oak) have passed the Senate and gone on to the House.

Senators also approved a bill which would provide an average increase in workmen's compensation benefits of $4.71 a week, increasing those for an injured workman with a single dependent $1 to $33 a week and for a workman with five or more dependents $15 to $57 a week.

Of the three measures backed by Broomfield, one passed by a 24-6 vote this morning which would expand powers of the State Water Resources Commission. It would allow the commission to join with local communities in surveying long - range water needs.

A second part of the water program, authorizing a $200,000,000 revolving fund from which communities could borrow money to finance water supplies, is still in a Senate Committee, but is expected out next week, said Broomfield.

Another Broomfield measure to take away from Democrat G. Mennen Williams and succeeding governors the power to fill a U. S. Senate vacancy passed 19 to 11 yesterday, getting one more vote than required for passage.

The bill would force the governor to call a special election if a Michigan senator died or resigned more than six months in advance of a general election.

Broomfield is chief backer of another bill, passed 20 to 11, which would take the state out of the retail liquor business.

The measure proposed elimination of 99 existing retail outlets doing between four and five per cent of the state's total liquor business. Broomfield maintains profits to the state do not warrant continuation of liquor retailing. Votes on both the senator-appointment and liquor bills split along party lines.

GOP Stands Firm for Majority Vote

Bridges arranged to meet with the three other GOP members today to discuss proposed rules to be submitted to the four Democrats later in the day.

'Halftime on Job Good Enough'

GOP Hall, Dems' Butler in Battle of Wits Over Ike

KANSAS CITY (AP)—GOP Chairman Leonard Hall says President Eisenhower is ready for full-time duty in a second term but even if he could spend only halftime at the job he would be better than anyone the Democrats have.

This observation came in a political battle of wits between Hall and Democratic Chairman Paul Butler last night on the Kansas City Press Club Griddle Show.

Butler promised the Democrats would retire Eisenhower completely next Nov. 6. And he said it was the President and not the Democrats who had injected health into the campaign.

Butler contended special interest on the Republican side and a Democratic program for all the people was the paramount issue.

The fireworks started when Hall was asked if the Democrats were going to make Eisenhower's health a campaign issue. It got even hotter when Butler was asked to tell why the Democrats should be returned to office.

Butler wanted to talk about a billion-dollar drop in farm income last year and blamed the Republicans for it. And he said the small business man is complaining his volume and profits are down while the big corporations report increased earnings.

Hall said Butler "approached the brink of truth" in his summation and Butler replied that was a "good phrase coming from a Republican." Hall said Butler neglected to tell his questioners "there are 65 million people working in this country at $11 a week more than when the GOP came into power."

RALPH S. MOORE JR.

Ralph S. Moore Jr. Appointed by Ziem

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today announced the appointment of Ralph S. Moore Jr. as an assistant prosecutor.

Moore, 32, of 4239 Kenmore, Berkley, will work from the courthouse in Pontiac, but is also scheduled to handle justice court duties in the county's south end.

He has been in private practice since graduating from the Detroit College of law in 1950. A World War II veteran, Moore is married with two children.

Five States Struck by Twisters, Rain

tornadoes still exist in Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Tennessee and as far west as Texas, the Weather Bureau said today.

The ill wind blew some good into Missouri, where rain and a shift of wind dampened a huge forest fire in the Ozarks area. The threat is expected to ease further today when a promised six inches of snow blankets the area.

In Michigan, more rain, snow and violent winds are forecast for tonight, with snow up to three inches deep expected in the Detroit area. Temperatures are expected to drop to 20-24 degrees tonight.

HIGH WINDS STRIKE

In yesterday's storm, winds of near hurricane force ripped through the state. The hail which struck locally also was reported in Wayne, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties.

More rain will seriously threaten Lansing, Battle Creek, Saginaw and Flint areas, where rivers already are at or near flood stage.

Hardest hit yesterday was Reed City, where winds reported up to 75 miles per hour demolished three barns, ripped roofs off two buildings, uprooted trees and knocked power lines out of service.

WALL TOPPLES

A cement wall was blown down in Wyoming Township, near Grand Rapids, and two walls and the roof of a television shop were blown out in Paris Township.

Wedding plans were disrupted near Denison when a house trailer containing the trousseau and wedding gifts of Miss Ruth Scholten was bowled over four times. Trailer and contents were called a total loss.

Miss Scholten was to have married George Morren, owner of the trailer, Friday.

Evacuation of downtown Flint homes was under consideration this morning as the river neared complete flood stage. Similar conditions were reported in Battle Creek.

In Lansing, the Red Cedar River was more than a foot above flood stage this morning, with the water at 9.4 feet and still rising.

Twenty-four families were evacuated from a trailer court between Lansing and East Lansing, and temporarily lodged on a Michigan State University parking lot. Floods were also expected to hit the campus.

Saginaw State Police reported the flooding Cass river seriously threatened submersion of Michigan highways 13 and 83.

Floods across Dixie Highway, just north of Drayton Plains, forced a family of ten last night to abandon a combination bicycle shop-home at 4755 Dixie.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warden sought aid from the Michigan State Police post in Pontiac to lodge eight children, ages 3 to 16. Foot-deep water reportedly covered the first floor.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 34 degrees. The thermometer registered 32 at 2 p.m.

Sen. Sparkman Hits GOP Farm Policy

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) last night charged the Republicans have been an "absolute failure" in handling the nation's farm problem.

Sparkman, the 1954 Democratic vice presidential nominee, told about 500 Democrats of the Washington County area the Republicans "cannot escape the fact" that in 1952 the farmer was getting 100 per cent parity and in 1956 80 per cent.

The Alabama political leader cited the farm question as his party's best issue against the GOP. And, he told the crowd, "we have got real issues."

The Day in Birmingham

12,500 Voters Are Eligible for April 2 City Election

BIRMINGHAM — About 200 voters were added last week to the city's registered voters lists, but the total will be only about 12,500, a realtively low number, according to City Clerk Irene Hanley.

Miss Hanley's estimate followed closing of registrations Monday for the April 2 election in which two commissioners and two library board members will be chosen. Exact number of registrations is not possible until cancellations have been tallied, she said.

Colored paper strips in voting machines were approved by the commission this week, and ballots are being printed. Miss Hanley indicated that coral color for questions and blue for candidates might ensure that the questions are not ignored by voters.

Candidates for commission are Mayor Charles Renfrew, Carl F. Ingraham, Donald K. Fill and Omar Hansen. Seeking to retain their library posts are Dr. Dwight D. Ireland, and Mrs. Cassius Miller. Ingraham is on the city planning board and Dr. Ireland is superintendent of schools.

With 400 parents of junior high school children expected at tomorrow night's Barnum Learn-Shop, the Barnum PTA is confident that its second annual event will be a success, says Mrs. Joseph C. Cook, chairman.

The event featuring 15 experts on child psychology starts at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium and is open to the public.

Flooded intersections were numerous during last night's rain according to the department of public works, but only one basement, at Willits and Baldwin, was reportedly flooded.

An emergency call to police from a telephone operator brought aid, in the form first of the fire department's inhalator and then an ambulance to Beaumont Hospital, for 16-month-old David Bair.

His mother had found him choking in his nursery at their home, 1369 Stanley, but he was breathing again regularly when he reached the hospital.

Community House Roll Call totals had reached $37,569.92 yesterday afternoon, according to Mrs. George A. Weinhold, chairman of the annual drive for funds which ended Monday for home solicitors.

The total will be boosted towards the $50,000 goal by business solicitations, not yet complete, several of the 850 individual solicitors whose funds are not yet tallied, and vacationers who have not been reached. Mrs. Weinhold indicated that there is $12,856.40 from home solicitations so far.

The Matthew Cammareris, the Herbert Gardners, the G. Glen Hurns and the W. H. Joneses, of Birmingham and the Lester Colberts of Bloomfield Hills were among those at the banquet honoring President of Italy and Senora Giovanni Gronchi and Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce in Detroit last night.

A missing clarinet was reported to police Monday by the K. L. Atkins family, 2122 Dorchester. Their home was apparently entered Saturday night, but the robbery not discovered until Monday.

Sweeping Advances Shown in '56 Line

els; another with 140-horsepower against the former 130-horsepower engine in the model 350 and 370 medium - duty trucks.

This upward power trend also is reflected in new package delivery models, with their 6-cylinder engine achieving 120-horsepower instead of last year's 105. All of the sixes have 270-cubic-inch displacement.

Two major advancements in riding comfort and steering safety make their bow in the improved light and medium-duty trucks. Road shock dampers, with floating weights that counteract road jolts by dynamic vibration absorption, are standard on GMC Suburbans and optional on other half-ton models.

Kudu Stabilizers are factory installed on all 100-250 models. Two metal braces run from the engine side of the cowl fire wall to the frame, anchoring the body securely to the frame and providing a smooth, vibration-free ride.

ALL TUBELESS TIRES

Tubeless tires are standard equipment. Their semi-self-sealing inner linings and cooler - running qualities resist punctures and blowouts, reducing truck operator's "downtime," accidents, damage claims, emergency road repairs and maintenance cost, according to Monaghan.

Giving even greater versatility to GMC's light and medium-duty line are several optional axles, including a unique "wide-range, one-shift axle."

Optional on standard transmission 300 - 379 series models, the wide-range, one-shift axle is also teamed with all Hydra-Matic transmissions in 370 models. Its high and low ranges are spaced to permit obtaining progressive gear combinations with a single shift of the axle, accomplished by simply flicking a lever on the steering column.

Its low gear ratio with as much as 18 to 1 reduction uses full engine power to start up a fully loaded truck, and its high ratio assures peak cruising performance.

Another major axle development is the fast-ratio cruising axle, optional on 100 series models. Combined with either Hydra-Matic or synchromesh transmissions, the axle gives fuel economy similar to that achieved with overdrive at a fraction of the overdrive cost. Economy benefits of the axle also are obtained in all gear ranges, not just in the overdrive range.

Available also are axles that boost the gross vehicle weights and heighten the load-hauling abilities of 300 and 370 truck models.

Either Hydra-Matic or synchromesh transmissions are used on every model in the light and medium-duty bracket, with Hydra-Matic drive available in every model series.

Other electrical features are new T-3 Guide headlamps for extended visibility, brighter tail lamps, key-type starting switches with safeguard fuses, and suppressor wiring eliminating radio and TV interference.

Styling changes for individual models include a honeycomb grille on 100 - 250 fleet models and a brush-guard type grille shearing 2¼ inches off the overall length of dual-purpose tractors in the F350 and F370 models.

Other features include power steering as optional equipment on models 100-250, improved V-8 engine mountings that are extra-sturdy and curb vibrations, and an optional power take-off gear box for power take-off conversions in Hydra-Matic models 350 and up.

Cranbrook Sets Textiles Show for Two Days

Open to the public Saturday and Sunday afternoon, the exhibit features needlework wall hangings, space dividers and framed works.

Using fabrics and threads ranging from burlap to frayed silk, Miss Karasz achieves textural variations and color harmonies which have been lauded for their subtlety, grace and lyricism.

She has previously exhibited at the Chicago Art Institute, Cincinnati Modern Art Society and Cleveland Museum.

Move for Dismissal of Embezzling Count

A motion to dismiss charges against former Lake Orion auto dealer, David P. Dawson, will be heard tomorrow at 4 p.m. by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Dawson, 32, is charged with embezzlement and larceny by conversion in a complaint by the Universal CIT Credit Corp. alleging he kept $28,862 from new car sales which should have been turned back to CIT.

The motion to dismiss was filed by Dawson's attorney, David C. Pence, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Pence claims insufficient evidence was presented at a previous justice court examination to show Dawson's guilt, Ziem explained.

McGuire to Be Principal of Westview Rd. School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—William McGuire, sixth grade teacher at Wing Lake School and former recreation director in that area, has been named principal of a new school on Westview road by Bloomfield Hills Superintendent of Schools Eugene Johnson. McGuire will assume his new post when the school opens next September, Johnson said.

Children from the east of Squirrel road will be included in the school's area, according to Johnson. Others east of Woodward, will not be able to attend it because of the fast growing population in the area, he says.

ARTHRITIS PAINS UNBEARABLE SAYS DETROIT MAN

The real test of a medicine is not in words, but in its use. Thousands of people right here in Michigan like Mr. Thomas Bunn, 641 Charlotte street, Detroit, have tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS and have been so pleased with the results, that they are continually telling others, so that they too, can gain from their experience.

Mr. T. Bunn

"I am an elevator operator, and naturally am on my feet for long periods at a time. About eight years ago, I began to get rheumatism and arthritis in my feet and legs. My feet would get so sore from standing, that I had to sit down. Then when I got up, I could hardly stand. The pain was so unbearable, that I would walk around trying to ease the soreness out. Then about three years ago, I saw an ad in my newspaper for O-JIB-WA BITTERS, so thought I would see if it is as good as everybody claims. I'm glad to report that it is, and in fact, even better, because in just three weeks, the pains were all gone. I'm not tired, have more pep, sleep good, and feel better all over. Since that time, I haven't been bothered with any pains. O-JIB-WA BITTERS sure did wonders for me, and I'm glad to have this chance to recommend it to all of you who suffer."

Deserted Wife Inherits Cash 38 Years Later

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP) — A Brooklyn housewife whose first husband walked out on her after two weeks of married life 38 years ago has inherited $260,000 from his estate.

Mrs. Myra Richman Duck, 53 had never heard from the husband since the marriage. She mistakenly believed she had divorced him nearly 20 years ago.

Mrs. Duck married Nelson when she was 15 and he was 17. Then he left.

Nearly 20 years later she wanted to marry Frank L. Duck. She hired a lawyer to get a desertion divorce from her long-departed husband in the event he was still alive.

The lawyer, she told Surrogate Edgar Hazelton, informed her later that he had gotten a divorce decree. She went ahead and married Duck.

A search for possible survivors was launched. It turned up Mrs. Duck.

The lawyer, it developed, had misinformed her and had never gotten a divorce decree after all. She was still Nelson's legal wife.

Under the agreement, Mrs. Duck is to inherit 40 per cent of the estate. The other 60 per cent goes to Nelson's sister, a half-sister and a half-brother.

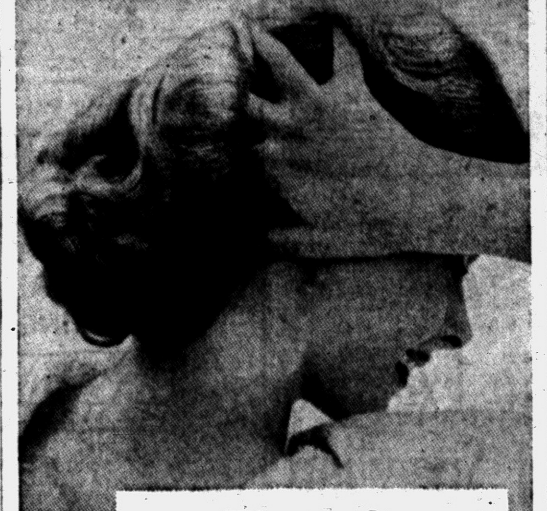

Dorothy Compisi got nothing.

The walled terraces on Inca farms represented an investment of about $18,000 an acre in terms of modern labor costs, it is now estimated.

SAFETY MEASURE? — Royal Oak inventor, H. S. Benjamin (right) yesterday showed Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem his "excess speed recorder." Benjamin points up a gauge on a car speedometer which would register the number of miles traveled at speeds over the limit. He would have a state law enacted making the fixture mandatory on all Michigan cars. At periodic inspections, drivers would be fined a certain amount for each mile shown on the gauge.

State Legislators Asked to Examine Device to Record Miles of Speeding

Oakland County's state legislators will be called together by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem for a demonstration of a device which a retired Royal Oak technical consultant sees as aiding enforcement of Michigan's statewide speed limit.

Invented by H. S. Benjamin, of 1841 W. Farnum Ave., the "gadget" would record the number of miles traversed at speeds above the limit.

Benjamin showed his "excess speed recorder" to Ziem after reading Ziem's suggestion that the new driving law might be better enforced by some mechanical instrument restricting a car's speed.

The inventor, who recently completed a job as a technical adviser for the Department of Defense, envisions a state law requiring that each Michigan car be fitted with the recorder, at cost of $10 to $12 each.

The clocking mechanism would be sealed like a gas company meter. Periodic inspections would be made and car owners fined a set amount for each mile traveled while exceeding the limit.

"A person could see on his own speedometer just how much driving he is doing at high speeds and when the bill started running too high, he would slow down," said Benjamin.

"And parents could keep a check on their youngsters' driving habits," Ziem noted.

The prosecutor, who said the device "might have possibilities," stated he will schedule a meeting of the county's state legislators at which Benjamin has agreed to give another demonstration.

The inventor said he also has a plan for an auto accessory which "would make it easy for the driver to be sure he wasn't speeding and also relieve fatigue on long trips."

A gauge would be installed on the dashboard and a button, or buttons, placed where the driver's foot could rest on them easily.

A driver could set the gauge for the speed he wished to maintain, "then while his foot covered the button the car would maintain that speed," Benjamin explained. "The car could be speeded up or slowed down simply by placing your foot back on the accelerator," he added.

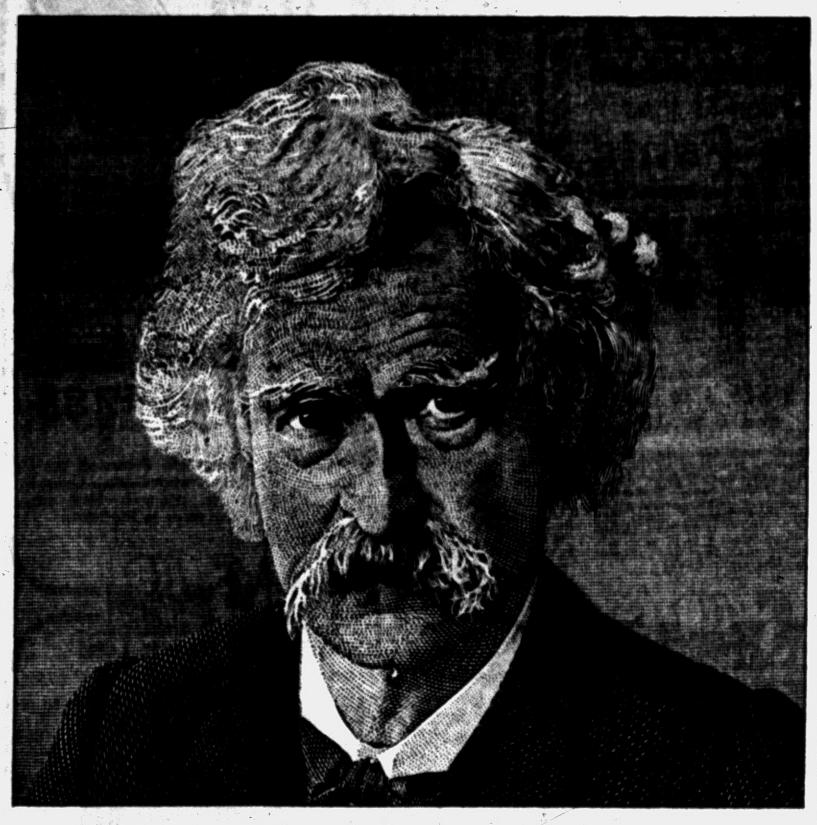

The second accessory would not be mandatory under the law, as the inventor sees it, but be a "convenience" measure. "I intend to approach car manufacturers about it," he stated.

Even an Ex-Convict Says Women Are Very Gullible

He was arrested here yesterday while conducting a young woman to a pearl-gray Cadillac convertible — someone else's, naturally.

Police said Younger, whose face has adorned many "wanted" circulars, amiably admitted stealing a dozen automobiles, writing rubber checks here and there, and stopping now and then to charm birds out of a tree.

Women, he said modestly, were apt to go crazy over him.

Officers said he reported marrying a Kansas City girl and bolting after she surrendered $1,600 to him.

There were a few other wives in his past, he acknowledged, and occasionally more than one at the same time. He was hazy on details.

In addition to warrants against him in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri, Younger is also charged by the federal government with transportation of a stolen car and impersonation of a federal officer. Police said he would be turned over to the government for prosecution.

Younger arrived here Sunday from Tulsa, Okla. Flat broke, he persuaded a musician he met in a night club there to sell his guitar and accompany him to Kansas City.

The musician, Frank D. Russell, said Younger promised him a job in a Kansas City night club. Younger ditched him in a tavern here.

After signing reams of admissions, according to authorities, Younger told officers he started his car dealings with a rickety model which he "traded in" by simply departing with a demonstration car, leaving the relic to the dealer.

Younger progressed through the automotive field until he crowned his "achievements" with the expensive convertible, stolen in Little Rock, Ark.

Russell, meantime, prepared to hitchhike back to Tulsa.

"The big thing is I miss my guitar," he said sadly. "I believe I was a little stupid."

Younger credited correspondence courses in salesmanship and personality development for part of his unconquerable charm. He pursued those studies while serving a stolen car term at the Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary.

Kefauver, Stevenson Doubt Full Performance by Ike

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said last night President Eisenhower isn't giving enough time to his duties, and Adlai E. Stevenson questioned whether Eisenhower would if he is re-elected.

The two active candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, competing for the 30 votes Minnesota will send to the party's August convention, also rapped administration farm programs.

Stevenson winds up his five-day barnstorming tour of the state and flies to Chicago today.

Kefauver has conceded a margin to Stevenson in the March 20 primary. Stevenson has the endorsement of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor State Committee and has such figures as Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Gov. Orville Freeman on his delegate slate.

WEATHER BALKS ESTES

Kefauver was balked by snow and sleet from delivering a scheduled talk at Winona last night. The storm grounded his plane and icing highways prevented him from keeping the date by car.

Speaking at Fosston, Stevenson said the soil bank plan the administration is supporting, together with flexible price supports, wouldn't work unless fair prices are set for products farmers raise on their remaining acres.

Kefauver said he would not make Eisenhower's health or physical condition a campaign issue.

"But I will criticize his failures to reach decisions and his failure to give sufficient time to the office," Kefauver said. "I take his statement in good faith that he is physically able to campaign and to serve if elected."

Says Leisure Time Wasted by U. S. Folks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The more leisure time Americans get, the less they do with it constructively, says a leading industrial designer.

The average worker in this country, Henry Dreyfuss, New York, told a luncheon club, has a thousand hours more spare time each year than his grandfather had.

In frank recognition of a new development in automotive manufacturing, General Motors has named an executive vice president in charge of dealer relations.

The post goes to Ivan L. Wiles.

Mr. Wiles has been General Manager of Buick and he ranks as one of the best known figures in automotive circles; and incidentally, he qualifies easily as one of the most popular. Under his capable administration, Buick has set up a tremendous record and right along with it, he became identified as one of the past masters in knowing "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

The whole dealer relationship became strained throughout the industry by virtue of circumstances. Without question there was sufficient grounds for complaint on both sides. All automobile companies became convinced to some extent that dealers had grown complacent with the trend of business since the war. All of the companies sought to rectify this condition.

Probably there was truth here.

On the other hand, the dealers declared that companies were forcing cars on them unfairly in the light of the exceptionally stern competitive race that developed.

Probably there was truth here.

General Motors has faced the matter squarely, and certainly they have picked a star to handle the situation. Mr. Wiles can get along with dealers; and he can get along with General Motors brass.

Both entities are recognized.

Good should result.

Taking Mr. Wiles' place at Buick is Edward T. Ragsdale who is also highly regarded in automotive circles. The whole situation is highly reminiscent of a facetious remark attributed to W. A. P. John many years ago.

Quoth the astute Mr. John:

"General Motors is lousy with brains."

Truly, the Corporation is tremendously well fortified with capable and brilliant men everywhere. In baseball and football parlance "GM has a strong bench."

Critics Unable to Stop Eastland Chairmanship

This unsuccessful challenge did serve a useful purpose, however. It illustrated how the often criticized seniority rule can operate to the detriment of the Senate and the Nation. Critics' objections to Eastland were based on his vehemently vigorous opposition to the Supreme Court's desegregation order. But when the voice vote came there were only a few "nos" and the Senator was elected overwhelmingly.

Objections outside the Senate are similarly based. For example, Eastland was reported to have attended a recent meeting of desegregation foes in Montgomery, Ala. There he urged militant grass roots organization against our highest court's decree.

Thus, as we see it, Senator Eastland is in open defiance of the law of the land. His attitude is the more serious because he now leads the very Senate committee which will have to deal with that law.

It would be hard to argue that this election by the Senate doesn't diminish its prestige. In truth, the Eastland case easily could be made the basis of an argument for modification of the 100 year old seniority rule.

"I don't know why 15 martinis made me drunk," a Milwaukee man told the police, "unless somebody put something in them." Possibly the bartender put an appreciable quantity of liquor in each—possibly.

The Man About Town

Sap Now Running

Old Practice Being Revived in Pontiac and This Area

Parking: What soon should cease to be Pontiac's principal headache.

What for a century or more was a sizable spring industry in the Pontiac area seems scheduled for a partial revival. It is the making of maple syrup and sugar. Thousands of trees, many within the city limits, were tapped early in March of each year, and their sap boiled down into the delicious pancake spread or further condensed into maple syrup.

Clearing away of the forest, including most of the maple trees, and a consequent shortage of the cheap wood fuel for the boiling process, almost did away with the whole system.

But now a good many people, mostly as a hobby, are getting back into the game. The recent warm weather causes the sap to rise in the trees, and run profusely when a gash is made in the bark and the proper spigot used.

This column is anxious to learn the name of anybody who has a "sugar bush" of a dozen trees or more, and is putting them to work.

Some idea of the expected growth of this area can be gained from the surveys made by the public utility corporations so they can be ready to accommodate their new customers. According to it is computed that the Detroit metropolitan district will need 36,000 new housing units per year for the next 20 years.

Unity, Initiative to Use Force Lacking Among Jittery Free World Members

WASHINGTON—This is a jittery and jumpy world—if the news dispatches are a reflection of the moods of statesmen and people alike.

Guy Mollet, French premier, is finding it necessary to woo the French Communists in his Parliament to keep a majority.

Britain's Parliament is waking up to the fact that the Great British empire can't just crack the whip any more in the Middle East. So there's irritation and agitation, with a cry of "let's do something about it" and demands that Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd come back to his desk from his travels—he's in Asia at the moment with Secretary Dulles.

America's Congress is restive and touchy. If a shipment of arms to Saudi Arabia is held up for 24 hours—to find out whether a shipping license that was approved many months before is really all right—and then the shipment is allowed to go forward, the critics bombard the State Department and call it "on again, off again."

Secretary Dulles is promptly assailed, and the critics say all this wouldn't happen if the government were clearly led and firmly administered from the top—as if any president of the United States can spend his time inspecting routine authorizations of export licenses. The importance of the episode was grossly exaggerated by the partisans.

Britain has decided, after five months of fruitless negotiations, to stamp out terrorism in Cyprus. This has tended to increase the tension with the Greek government.

The truth is that, under all these circumstances, American foreign policy is a difficult thing to administer nowadays, for two simple reasons—first, military force cannot be used and, second, the Soviets are infiltrating many countries where Communist sabotage is treated either as legal or as some abstract right of political belief. Unfortunately, the latter concept has many advocates even inside the United States.

As for the travels of the Secretary of State, it isn't realized how important personal contact can be today, especially with the smaller countries, which show sensitiveness when their governments are not consulted directly on regional affairs.

COLLECTIVE SECURITY

Sometimes the public loses sight of these main lines of policy. It is so easy to forget that "SEATO" means Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and that, as in "NATO," the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the basic hope of the free world today is inseparably interwoven with the deterrent power of a group of nations operating together under the doctrine of "collective security."

The intricacies of regional pacts needed to keep the peace are hard for many observers, especially the captious ones, to bear in mind. For the United Nations is effective today only as a forum for debate. It can't enforce peace. That hope died in the Korean War when India joined hands in playing the game of Red China behind the scenes and the Communists saw the Western nations failing to let the United States apply maximum power to win a war already begun.

Today the Communist regimes of Peiping and Moscow are calling the turn, and the free world is handicapped in making policy because of internal politics. The Red Chinese actually are holding Americans as hostages, but there is little that can be done about it as long as military force is not to be used.

But, even if moral force were applied, would the British and French stand with the Americans? What would some of the Asian nations say if a firm hand were shown with the Communists? Thus, it is possible to tell Peiping that for every month each American is held in bondage, at least a year must elapse before any consideration will be given to lifting the embargo on any products desired by the Red Chinese.

All these matters are complicated because the Department of State has to keep its eye not only on what American opinion wants done, which means also watching what the politicians here may do to distort the picture, but on what the Allies themselves are willing to do. Running an alliance, whether in wartime or in peacetime, is at best difficult. The United States, as a single member of the allied group, does not get a free hand to adopt its own policies even though it supplies the bulk of the troops and the money.

Respiratory Infections Are Easily Spread by Carriers

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Quiet, please. It doesn't matter at all that you have been through the big clinic or that you have consulted the best advertised specialists. If you get your money's worth out of it, hang onto your superiority complex. We are not impressed.

My job, as I understand it, is not to argue with anybody about the diagnosis or treatment of his case. My job is merely to teach everybody who wants to acquire practical knowledge of physiology, hygiene, nutrition, and prevention of illness.

Take for instance the preventable cause of most of the everyday indisposition, illness, loss of time from work and hospitalization which keeps doctors busy, the C R I (kree), that is, the common respiratory infection.

Interviewing a guest on television the M C sat beside the lady at a table or desk with a microphone between them. Upon the lady's entrance the M C dutifully warned her not to get too close to him, for he had a bad you know what and he'd hate to give it to anyone else. So they began conversing and laughing for several minutes, and all the time with nothing between them but three feet of atmosphere.

It would be difficult to escape infection in such circumstance. But, having shown his consideration for the welfare of the lady, the M C exercised his typical Yankee Wiseacre freedom to spray the guest with whatever he had. Conversation moisture or droplet spray carries less than five feet, usually two or three feet.

SPRAYS CARRY FAR

Laughter spray carries farther, and cough or sneeze spray may carry ten to twelve feet.

A lot of Yankee Wiseacres with a health I. Q. like that of the M C might resent it if someone coughed or sneezed at them, so that the impact of the spray droplets was noticeable. They'd resent it even though they didn't suspect the boor had a communicable disease.

But if they can't feel the minute spray droplets striking the face and they don't know that an invisibly fine droplet of moisture may contain the germ or virus of disease, they don't mind being sprayed, especially by a person who is kind enough to give fair warning of the danger.

In view of the gravity of some C R I—such as meningitis, poliomyelitis, streptoccic sore throat—will someone give me one valid reason why the M C should not wear a suitable mask or use a transparent screen 4 by 4 feet between himself and the guest?

In the C R I book (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) you will find instructions for making an efficient transparent washable mask to use at home to protect the rest of the family from catching whatever you have.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Wants Recreation Center Across From New City Hall

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Why not start the ball rolling for a public recreation center that would have a public swimming pool outdoors that could be frozen in winter for ice skating?

An ideal location would be the property across from the new City Hall. The City should buy the buildings there, tear them down and put in a a beautiful park. This is a good spot because of the location in the center of town.

Also, where the City Hall was, a new library should be built, or some place else, because Pontiac truly needs a larger, more modern library.

While I am expressing my views, why not tear down the old courthouse and build a tall building that could house both the courthouse and the Department of Health? Use the Department of Health building space for parking space for people on business at the courthouse.

I want to emphasize my pleas for a recreation center, for I feel this is most important.

Reports Say Soviet Agents Inciting Middle East Tribes

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Reports from the Middle East say that Soviet agents are busy again trying to incite 1,500,000 Kurds to revolt and establish their own independent state.

Such a state would be aimed at creating a new pro-Communist buffer between the Soviet frontiers and Turkey, Iraq and Iran, which are all members of the Baghdad Pact Moscow is trying to undermine.

The ancient and colorful Kurds inhabit a 600-mile-long strip about 150 miles wide that runs from southeast to northwest across northern Iran, Iraq and eastern Turkey.

There also are probably 200,000 Kurds inside the Soviet Union's southern borders.

The Iranian government announced last week it had crushed a revolt by Jevandoudi tribesmen, part of the Kurd group, in the mountains of northern Iran after a 21-day battle in which 120 tribesmen were killed.

Kurds have been at odds with the various controlling governments for centuries. The Turks smashed the biggest rebellion by the tribesmen in 1925.

FREE STATE URGED

For years Communist radio agitators from Soviet Russia's Azerbaijan province have been urging in broadcasts that the Kurds join their brothers across the frontiers and create an independent Kurdistan.

The Kurds are an ancient people who were at the height of their power in the 12th century when they held sway over a vast territory.

They are of a mixed character, brave, freedom-loving, hospitable, at times rather shy and to some extent true to their word.

These people, most of whom are Moslems, on the other hand do not like any orderly work system and are firmly devoted to bloody revenge and consider robbery as honorable as an heroic act.

They love flowers, bright colors and music. The men swathe their heads with huge turbans or yellow globular fur caps.

The waists of the men are swollen with a splendid cummerbund of blinding color. One purpose of the cummerbund is to keep the stomach warm; another is to enable the wearer—if he ever gets in a tight spot—to use it as a rope to escape from an upper story captivity.

Kurdish women have more freedom than is usual among Orientals, going outdoors unveiled. But the women still do the work of carrying burdens and walking while the men ride comfortably astride their stocky horses, rifles slung across the back and bandoliers across the chest.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dr. Crane Explains 'Rhythm Theory' and Gives Several Causes of Sterility

Arline follows this column in Honolulu and raises a common question of wives. We marriage counsellors encounter it at every lecture or clinical session, so scrapbook this case for future reference. Modern medical discoveries are as striking as the discoveries in physics which have given us TV. So use them to attain the more abundant life.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-393: Arline D., aged 27, is a daily reader of a Honolulu paper.

"Dr. Crane, my husband and I not only follow your column faithfully, but we are making a scrapbook of it," she graciously commented.

"But we haven't had access to it until the past few months, so we have missed some cases dealing with marriage problems.

"We are Catholics and interested in having you explain once more the 'rhythm theory.' I'm sure other wives would like to know about it, too."

RHYTHM THEORY

It is wonderful to be living in this modern age where new discoveries and inventions have made life so much richer and happier.

Paralleling the commercial inventions have been many medical discoveries, such as penicillin, sulfa drugs, etc. And the "rhythm theory" falls into that category, too.

Only in the last generation have we physicians obtained the true facts about pregnancy in human beings. Now we realize that the 15th day before the onset of the next menstrual period is the most probable time for conception to occur.

That is when the ovum (egg) ruptures free from the ovary and is then capable of fertilization by the male spermatozoa.

This egg may lose its capacity for fertilization in a short time as 12 to 48 hours. Indeed, some researchers think 12 hours might be its limit.

Meanwhile, the male sperm cells may lose their vigor in 6 to 24 hours, too, so a married couple might remain childless through 25 years of marriage just by missing this brief pregnancy interval in the month.

In fact, literally hundreds of supposedly sterile couples have informed me, after reading this column, that they utilized the data I am repeating today and then obtained babies.

FERTILITY PERIOD

Arline outlined her monthly cycles for the past year. They ran the following number of days —27, 29, 28, 28, 27, 24, 27, 26, 28, 29, 28, 30, 28.

You will see that she varied between 24 and 30 days, with 28 being the usual cycle.

"Dr. Crane, how can I tell the 15th day before my next period begins," she asked, "when I may be on a 24-day cycle this month and then again this might prove to be a 30-day cycle?"

Well, Arline cannot tell, so she must make allowances, and assume that the current cycle could run anywhere from 24 to 30 days.

The "rhythm theory" allows for this variation. Since Arline knows the exact date of the last onset, she can always employ it as a fixed point of reference.

If this should prove to be a 24-day cycle, then 24 minus 15 would mean her likely ovulation time would be 9 days following the onset of her last period.

If this should happen to be a long cycle of 30 days, then 30-15 would place the pregnancy day as the 15th following the last period's onset.

The 9th day and the 15th thus mark the extremes. If her current cycle were to be 26 or 27 or 28 or 29 days in length, then her ovulation date would fall on one of the intervening days between the 9th and the 15th.

ALKALINITY VS. ACIDITY

Many wives remain sterile due to excessive acidity of the vaginal secretions, which are normally acid, anyway, but sometimes are unduly so.

A baking soda douche remedies this matter and may spell the difference between sterility vs. fertility.

The "rhythm theory" also allows an extra three days on each side of the extremes, as leeway, so Arline's full fertile period would run from the 6th to the 18th.

Send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It offers further pertinent data for married couples.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

Go West, Young Man, With Geiger Counter

NEW YORK (INS) — Go West, young man, but be sure to find uranium. The incredible matter on which the peace of the world now depends, the fabulous fuel for the machines of the future, is today more eagerly prospected for than gold, silver and precious stones ever were. The finders will make Croesus look like a bum.

Uranium strikes read like futuristic fiction. Vernon Pick wouldn't have recognized a nugget of uranium ore if one had dropped on his head, when he began his search.

Two years later in a wild place in Colorado, Pick's stake was sold for $9,000,000 and a twin-engined amphibious plane.

Charles Steen, young Texas oil geologist, borrowed $1,500 in 1952 to drill a test hole near Big Indian Wash, Utah, in search of uranium. He ran out of money and got only rock.

Seventy feet down at the end of the line, he hit a layer of dark sandstone. He popped a chip of it in his pocket and made a mental note to expose a Geiger counter to it—if he could find somebody rich enough to own a Geiger counter.

Busted and driving home, Steen pulled into a forlorn Utah gas station. The operator had a counter. Steen held his bit of sandstone up before it and the needle shot off the scale.

He leased a bit of his vast strike to get capital. He will personally operate the huge property, owns a fat interest in the big uranium mill which will open at Moab, Utah, in July. His millions are said to be hardly calculable.

Indians are sitting on uranium as they once sat on endless lakes of oil. Paddy Martinez, a Navajo, found uranium-bearing limestone near Grants, N.M., in 1951. The vast resources of Anaconda came into play. Soon there were leases on the Laguna Indian Reservation.

Jack Knaebel, Anaconda's local manager, flying a plane equipped with uranium-detecting devices, came upon the precious stuff imbedded in the wall of a mesa on the reservation. Biggest uranium deposit yet found in the U. S. could be worth billions.

These and other breathtaking facts are supplied by Jesse C. Johnson, director, Division of Raw Materials, Atomic Energy Commission.

When F.D.R. set in motion the vast machinery which produced the atomic bomb, the world's only two known uranium mines were the Shinkolobwe in the Belgian Congo and the Eldorado in Canada above the Arctic Circle.

The former was 1,400 miles by rail, river and rail again from an ocean port. The Eldorado was 1,600 from railhead. For nine months of each year the Canadian route was closed.

Chief uses of the ore at the time were the extraction from it of radium and as a component of the ceramics trade.

We needed uranium in great quantities desperately and immediately. Col. Kenneth D. Nichols, later major general and then general manager of the AEC, was dispatched to talk with Edgar Sengier, a Belgian who headed the great Union Miniere mining enterprises.

Sengier had escaped from his homeland just before it fell to the Nazis. He received Col. Nichols in his New York office and before the colonel could whisper the order he said: "If you are looking for uranium, I have some on Staten Island."

He certainly had!—1,200 tons of the highest grade ore. Sengier had heard of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute work of Strassman, Hahn and Meitner in the release of energy by means of splitting the uranium atom.

He managed to ship the treasure before he shipped himself. That was 1940. For two years he tried to get somebody in Washington interested in what he had for sale.

We bought 40 carloads of uranium ore from the Shinkolobwe mine during World War II. Two of the ships went down with torpedoes. The others got through—and won a war.

Now we buy from Shinkolobwe, Eldorado, South Africa (where uranium is processed out of gold tailings) and from a mounting army of modernistic diggers, all of them determined to out-pick Pick and out-steam Steen.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

First submitted by: Karen Lee Weber, Bay City, Mich.

Indian Boy and Girl — 3

There are many tribes of Indians scattered over the North American continent and today we will visit the Blackfeet in the northwest. Here are two children of this tribe.

The Blackfeet originally were wanderers because they had to follow their food supply. That's why they live in movable tents called teepees. Their clothing is made of buffalo, deer and elk skins decorated with beads, shells and porcupine quills.

The little girl wears bright shells in her hair and carries a corn husk doll. The boy wears a dyed eagle feather and carries a small bow. Both wear moccasins. In the background are the teepees of their tribe.

Color the picture with crayons or paints. Make the clothing tan and the ornaments all sorts of bright colors. The doll is yellow and the bow red.

Forger Is Sentenced

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—Elmont B. Bowman, 53, a used car dealer who operates agencies in East Jordan and Mancelona, was sentenced Monday to 7½ to 14 years in Southern Michigan Prison by Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown after pleading guilty earlier to a charge of forgery. Bowman was arrested Jan. 18. He was charged with signing his son's name to a chattel mortgage with intent to defraud. A charge of uttering and publishing was dismissed by Judge Brown.

Missing Girl, 2, Found Unharmed Near Her Home

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Looking like "a little lump of sand," a 2½-year-old girl was found unharmed after spending a chilly night wedged under a porch five blocks from home.

A bath, hot soup and milk restored little Virginia Gardner at Desert Hospital yesterday, but she was kept there for observation.

About 150 searchers looked high and low in the desert resort for more than 18 hours after Virginia disappeared Monday night.

A laborer, Jess Garnica, said he "heard a baby crying somewhere" and when he traced the sound he found Virginia under a porch, covered by drifted sand. Apparently she slept through a howling wind storm during which the temperature dropped to 30 degrees.

"She can't tell us how it happened but it doesn't matter, not now," said her happy father, William Gardner, a postal clerk.

He Controlled Nautilus

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., (R-Mich) revealed in a newsletter Tuesday that "for a limited time and with some apprehension" he recently was at the controls of the atomic-powered submarine Nautilus "while it cruised at great depths and high speeds." Ford was a Navy officer in World War II.

Court's Segregation Ban Clearly Extends to College

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Supreme Court — knocking down another racial barrier to education—has just rounded out its historic ban on segregation in public schools. Its ban now clearly extends from kindergarten through college.

When it ruled May 17, 1954, against segregation in public schools, the court didn't say in so many words that it was ruling against segregation all along the line up to and including colleges and universities supported by tax money.

Yesterday it ruled that's exactly what it meant. It took this action at a moment when:

1. The Deep South is twisting and turning in search of devices for preserving segregation in the lower public schools.

2. Alabama is still rocking from the violent reaction of a mob against the efforts of Autherine Lucy, a Negro, to get into the University of Alabama.

The court didn't mention the University of Alabama yesterday. It was ruling on the case of three Negroes who want an education at the University of North Carolina. But the ruling applies to all Southern colleges and universities dependent on public financing.

This doesn't mean that those Southern states insistent upon preserving segregation in schools will now throw open the doors of their tax-supported colleges and universities to Negroes.

They probably won't do it any more quickly than they've done it with their lower public schools. Different schools and different states will probably follow this course in one form or another:

A Negro, denied admittance, will appeal to a lower federal court judge who, in keeping with yesterday's action of the high court, can only order the college or university to admit the Negro.

Then the school will try to go over the lower court judge's head with an appeal to the Supreme Court. The decision there is a foregone conclusion. And the action will no doubt be fast.

The court in the future won't have to take time for reaching a decision on the problem of segregation in public schools. It's been through all that.

Yesterday's ruling was the result of this: A special three-judge federal court in Greensboro, N.C., ordered three Negroes admitted to the University of North Carolina. They were acting under the May 17, 1954, ruling.

The university appealed to the Supreme Court. That court simply said the lower court was right—the Negroes had to be admitted. Actually, the university already had admitted them, pending the outcome of its court fight.

Eight Southern states — Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee and Louisiana — have accepted Negroes, ranging from a handful to hundreds, in both graduate and undergraduate schools. The schools did this either voluntarily or under court order.

High Tonnages Seen on Great Lakes Ships

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shipment of near-record tonnages in iron ore, coal and limestone on the Great Lakes this year is predicted by Donald C. Potts, president of the Pittsburgh Steamship Division of U.S. Steel Co., operator of the largest fleet on the lakes.

He said steel mills have been operating at nearly 100 per cent of capacity since the close of the 1955 navigation season and that steel companies have cut deeply into their reserves of iron ore, coal and limestone.

"To keep the mills going at their present rate through this summer and next winter," Potts said, "it is obvious that the combined Great Lakes fleet has a big job to do between early April and next December."

He said his staff would make an aerial survey of the Great Lakes trade routes on April 1 and 2 to determine ice conditions.

"If all is well our ships will head for the upper lakes on April 4, five days ahead of our original target date," Potts said.

Announce Building Date

MANISTEE (AP)—City spokesmen have announced construction of a $400,000 Manistee National Guard Armory-Community Building will begin early in June. A total of $43,000 was raised by public conscription toward the major share of financing by federal, state and local funds. The building is scheduled for occupancy by January, 1957.

Want to Boss Hubby? — Then Ask Cary Grant

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Deborah Kerr told me of seeing Cary Grant eating lunch at the studio at 9 o'clock in the morning (out of a fancy, bright-hued box) exclaiming: "That woman—she hypnotized me so I wouldn't smoke today!

"Now I can't stand the taste of a cigarette and I'm starved. It's awful to have a wife who literally hypnotizes her husband."

CARY

His wife, Betsy Drake, hypnotizes him frequently.

"Wait'll she starts working on your stocks and bonds," Miss Kerr told Grant, who shrugged, "Oh, she got those years ago."

Teacher Louis Ginsberg of Paterson, N. J., Central High asked a pupil to define vacuum. The pupil answered, "I can't explain it, but I have it in my head" . . . Then there's Zaddie Bunker, 68, "the flying grandmother" of Palm Springs, Calif., heroine of Mothers-in-Law Day observed there every Feb. 29. Reserve Plan Stressed by Ike

Letter to Security Unit, Proclamation of Day, Emphasizes Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower in two actions has emphasized the need for pushing the six-month reserve training program for young men.

In proclaiming Armed Forces Day to be celebrated on Saturday, May 19, he pointed out the armed forces are now placing "added emphasis" on the reserve program for those between 17 and 18½ years of age.

In a letter to the National Security Committee, a private group sponsoring Military Reserve Week April 22-28 to educate the people regarding the program, the President pledged full government support to the group's efforts and added:

"I am hopeful that all elements in American life, whether they be labor, business, scientific, or educational, will see the advantages of this new six-month reserve training program both to the young men of our nation, and to the national security.

"If all of us work together to point out to the 17 and 18½ year old age group the opportunities offered to them in this program, I am sure that it will succeed."

The President's letter was addressed to Harry H. Semms, co-chairman of the committee which is composed among other groups, of the American Gold Star Mothers, Amvets, Disabled American Veterans and Reserve Officers Assn.

Funeral for Teacher

OWOSSO (AP) — Funeral service for Gove Holman, 44, a former teacher-coach in Owosso schools, will be held Wednesday. He had been in failing health several years before his death.

CASHIER ARRESTED —James Irving McWilliam (above), 45, assistant cashier at the Santa Monica Commercial and Savings Bank, was arrested by the FBI and charged with falsifying records at the bank in the amount of $134,000. The FBI said McWilliam related he had used none of the funds for his own benefit, but had diverted the money to accounts of other customers.

Argentine Gets 21 Lungs to Fight Polio

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has announced 21 iron lungs are being rushed to Argentina where, it said, "a serious epidemic of poliomyelitis has broken out."

The department said "upward of 800 cases have been reported, most of them in Buenos Aires," since Jan. 21. The disease was reported spreading at the rate of approximately 60 cases a day.

The Air Force said the lungs will be flown from Logan Airport, Boston, Mass., in a C124 Globemaster plane.

Takes Jackson Post

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Jerry P. Gilbert, civil engineer on the staff of Grand Rapids Traffic Engineer Jerome D. Franklin, says he will leave March 16 to become Jackson's first traffic engineer. Gilbert, formerly of Fremont, is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has been a member of the Grand Rapids traffic engineering staff four years.

Loyal Wife Opens Love Letter 50 Years Later

ST. GEORGE, Maine (AP) — When Lillian Warren accepted Eugene Backliffe he was confident their marriage would endure.

This happened 50 years ago. Yesterday was their 50th wedding anniversary and Mrs. Rackliff opened the letter for the first time.

Hal Boyle Says:

Be Happy—Just Pick Your Own Tensions

The current issue of Newsweek magazine, in a notable article on the subject, estimates that 25 per cent of the nation's industrial force is emotionally upset and frustrated, and puts the annual cost in lost wages, medical bills and damaged machinery at three billion dollars.

Some toll! The waste from this kind of tension would build 250,000 homes costing $12,000 each. Not just one year. Every year.

Frightful as this estimate is, it is no indictment of tension in itself. Tension is as essential to the normal human body as it is to the functioning of a rubber band or a watch spring. Without tension life would be as dull and monotonous as a piece of string.

The basic trouble with our tense times is that we have let our tensions run wild, like a bedspring that suddenly bursts its moorings and goes "boing, boing, boi-i-i-ng!"

There are two kinds of tensions — the good and the bad. A good tension, such as one we get from playing a game or watching a well-acted drama, is followed by a feeling of both physical and emotional release. The tension relieves itself; we end up relaxed.

A bad tension, such as the kind we build up while pursuing an impossible goal or doing something we know is foolish (like chasing our friend's wife), only tangles our emotions deeper. We tie ourselves inextricably in knots of our own devising.

Therefore we have no one to blame but ourselves.

How many of our tensions are caused because we let our neighbors—or our envy of our neighbors—determine our own ambitions?

Just because Jones went into debt and worried himself into an ulcer buying a big car he couldn't afford, is it really necessary for us to buy a bigger car, go deeper into debt, and wind up with a double ulcer? Where is the reward in that kind of tension?

Our own infantile attitude toward what we think we want in life is also a major source of the wrong kind of tension.

Perhaps all men yearn to grow up and earn a million dollars and marry the prettiest girl in town, but the fact remains that all men can't. There aren't that many millions of dollars or that many pretty girls.

But there are plenty of good jobs that pay a man a living wage, and a girl doesn't have to win a beauty contest to make an endurable wife.

As a people we aren't really "success happy." We are actually more often unhappy because we don't know what real success is. A spoiled child gets tense and throws a tantrum because it can't get what it thinks it wants when it wants it. Most of our malignant tensions reflect the fact that we have remained spoiled children instead of growing up.

True success lies in the ability to discard goals that we can't achieve or that fail to make us happy. The art of living lies in an intense interest in things that add to our pleasure and enjoyment of life.

If you feel yourself acquiring an ulcer over tensions, the thing to do is to take a long cold shower, then look in the mirror and ask yourself:

Family Enjoys Making Music

Every Member of John Hedrich 'Clan' Plays Instrument

SAGINAW (AP)—Name a tune, any tune, and chances are someone in the John Hedrich family can pick up a musical instrument and play it on the spot.

All seven Hedrichs, from 8-year-old Jimmy up to father Hedrich, are musicians. Living in the southwest Saginaw County village of Oakley, they make up a family orchestra known as "John's Hot Shots."

Although none has ever had a formal music lesson, every member of the family can perform on more than one instrument. They all play strictly by ear.

Usually it's Jimmy tootling on the French horn; Johnny, 12, on the drums; Gloria Jean, 13, the violin; Richard, 14, guitar, and Helen Ann, 16, accordion. Mother Hedrich plays the guitar and sings and dad handles the banjo and mandolin.

With such a conglomeration of musicians in the house, there's bound to be music, music, music from early morning till late at night. And it's not all harmony. Frequently each one is practicing a different tune.

Mrs. Hedrich, who is home all day, admits this instrumental bedlam becomes too much for her at times.

COULDN'T STAND IT

"I've had to leave the house because I couldn't stand it," she says. "Yet I knew if I stopped them they would lose thir interest so I never did."

In 1952, when Jimmy was just learning to hold a harmonica, the family turned professional, branching out to perform at county fairs, various centennial celebrations, talent shows and the Michigan State Fair.

But the greatest value of their music is the harmony it has brought to the family, in more ways than one. Because of their orchestra, the Hedrichs are a close-knit family.

"It has also taught them to compete and has been educational in many ways," says Hedrich. "The nicest part is that we always know where our children are."

Mother and dad Hedrich say they plan to keep the group together "as long as the kids are willing." The oldest are thinking of studying music in college.

Use of Cancer Drugs Brings Temporary Victories

(This is the third of six articles describing up-to-date developments in a massive and dramatic research attack on cancer.)

By JOHN GEIGER

NEW YORK (INS) — A new chemical one-two punch has temporarily obliterated almost all signs of disease in 23 of 29 children marked for death by one form of cancer.

The new combination is not a cure. The victory is transient, and with the limited knowledge now available, cancer will inevitably return to snuff out these lives. But "temporary" victory means as much as 17 months of normal, cancer-free life for the luckiest—and it helps provide the foundation for more enduring triumphs to come.

The real significance of these results is that they are not just lucky accidents. They are the fruits of a deliberate, logically planned campaign—a complete, concentrated attack on cancer.

This is the massive effort, at institutions like Sloan-Kettering Institute, to find drugs or medicines that will help cancer victims beyond the reach of surgery or X-ray.

The chemical one-two punch is a combination of two drugs, 6-mercap-topurine and azaserine, used against leukemia — a blood cancer that claims young children as its most frequent victims.

Many leukemia patients had been treated with 6-mercaptopurin alone, but only 16 in a typical group of 28 had responded for any length of time. In many of these, the cancer quickly became resistant to the drug.

PATENT CANCER-FIGHTER

Azaserine had been tried too, but with fewer good results. Then researchers tracing out the exact chemical actions of each drug suggested that azaserine might injure cancer cells resistant to 6-mercaptopurine, if the two were used simultaneously.

And careful clinical trials showed that a quarter-dose of each of the drugs—taken together — made a two-fisted cancer-fighter more potent than a full dose of either drug alone.

Now—although azaserine still is labelled "experimental" and is not available for general use—the combination is planned for test by five other cancer centers across the nation, to confirm its effectiveness.

In the clinics and research wards at James Ewing Hospital and other units of the huge New York cancer center, other new drugs are under trial. Some are so new that they have no names—only code numbers. Others, like 6-chloropurine and 6-thioguanine, represent modifications of existing drugs—modifications made in the hope that the shift of an atom here, a cluster of atoms there, will yield increased effectiveness.

The cancer-drug search began with the use of female sex hormones to free from pain and return to work men with prostate cancer. It was followed with something designed to kill, not cure—a World War II poison gas called nitrogen mustard. American Army researchers of the chemical warfare service found it could slow down lung tumors and some blood and gland cancers.

That was a beginning. In 1948, a Boston study showed that two compounds, amethopterin and aminopterin, could produce dramatic though temporary relief from acute leukemia in children.

Later, researchers at Sloan-Kettering and other centers found that adrenal hormones like cortisone could check leukemia, and that male hormones could ease the ravages of breast cancers.

Somehow, mostly by trial and error, the list grew. On the cancer-fighting shelf appeared vials with strange shorthand labels like tem, tepa, or myleran. These seemed to act like chemical X-rays. Radioactive isotopes of iodine and gold and phosphorus were added to the arsenal.

The results, at best, are limited—and yet even small victories are better than nothing at all. To some extent, the percentages are held down by the fact that new drugs are tried mainly on last-chance, end-of-the-road patients with far-advanced cancer.

CANCER DRUGS — Years of research effort at Sloan-Kettering Institute and other centers have put all these drugs on the cancer-fighting shelf. Most of them are still experimental and not in general use. A few already have definite, though limited, effect against human cancer. But ceaseless effort makes it seem certain that newer and still more powerful drugs will be found.

Yet the records at Sloan-Kettering show that 50 per cent of children with acute leukemia now live one year or longer—a significant advance. Drugs can give transient relief of pain and other symptoms in about 50 per cent of patients with multiple myeloma, a bone marrow cancer, and objective improvement in 15 per cent. Chemicals bring at least brief and slight improvement in about 50 per cent of lung cancer cases.

In three to five of every ten women attacked by cancer of the ovary, the records show, drugs slow the disease for one to three months and "sometimes longer." Three out of four cases of thyroid gland cancers can be checked for long periods of time. Female sex hormones and radioactive gold give "definite prolongation of life" in an astonishing 80 per cent of men with cancer of the prostate gland.

There are still wards at Memorial Center—and at many other cancer hospitals, too—crowded with patients beyond help: Children with grotesquely swollen bellies, enormous brain tumors; adults with more cancer tissue than healthy flesh.

But there is at least one change from the outlook of ten years ago. "Often today," Dr. Charlotte Tan of Sloan-Kettering Institute reported recently, "we have more new compounds to try in our research wards than we have patients who might be helped."

There is no chemical cancer cure, in short, but there is a steady flow of promising experimental drugs, each representing some advance either in treatment or in knowledge of what to try next.

And gradually, the scientists are learning the relationship between a drug's chemical structure and its biological effect. This, in a way, is the most important advance of all, for it will affect every field of medicine and the treatment of almost every kind of disease.

The ultimate conquest of cancer may well require many drugs, for cancer comes in more than 200 forms, and each may require a specific chemical weapon.

Over 15,000 drugs have been tested at Sloan-Kettering Institute alone. More than 1,000 have been custom-made—synthesized in test tubes. And Dr. C. P. Rhoads, the center's scientific director, reports that "new compounds and better compounds are steadily coming to hand."

There is a vast organization now, to carry experimental compounds from test-tube to test animal to human trial, and a growing body of knowledge with which to narrow the search.

And the search is ceaseless.

Kavanagh Gives Medical Opinion

Only Licensed Medics and Pharmacists May Dispense Drugs

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanaugh holds that drugs must be dispensed under the immediate supervision and in the presence of a licensed physician or pharmacist.

Kavanagh issued the opinion in answer to a question from O.K. Grettenberger, director of the state board of pharmacy.

Grettenberger asked whether non-pharmacists, nurses or doctor's wives could dispense drugs from stock bottles to smaller packages for patients when the doctor is not present.

Kavanagh answered that this could be done only when the doctor or a licensed pharmacist is in the room.

In a second opinion, Kavanagh held that state law does not permit establishment of "seasonal" branch banks in resort areas, branch banks in factories or on military reservations limited to the use of personnel in the establishments or of part-time branch banks open only on certain business days.

Kavanagh also held that a registered professional engineer may survey a plat and certify it so that it can be legally recorded.

Another opinion held that a container of fortified milk must carry the word "fortified" in addition to describing the amount and type of vitamins or minerals added.

Infections of Gums Cause Tooth Decay

DENVER (INS)—The Colorado State Medical Society says people lose fewer teeth today from decay than from deep gum infections that cause the supporting bone to retreat.

The Medical Soctiey notes that pain is not a common symptom of pyorrhea, nor is bleeding. "Pink toothbush" may or may not mean a thing.

The best general antidote for pyorrhea is continued regular use of the toothbrush of which the most important service is not to clean the teeth but to remove food particles from the gums and stimulate the tissue.

GMC brings you the most impressive improvements of all 1956 trucks

NOW we can show them to you—these great new 1956 GMC's that not only clinch power supremacy—but reach into fields still unexplored by other truck-makers.

For example, GMC's Road Shock Damper Suspension*—plus a unique new stabilizer—produces in half-ton models a ride comparable to the finest passenger car.

An optional new fast-ratio cruising axle in light-duty GMC's gives you an overdrive's pace and economy without its cost.

Sharply increased engine displacement in both sixes and V8's gives you 14.4% GREATER displacement on 6-cylinder models, 16.2% on V8's than our nearest light-duty competitors. And GMC V8's match the shortest stroke ratios of the truck industry in peak-efficiency "over-square" design.

Styling is well into the future—from panoramic windshield to snug sand-tight tail gate. Tubeless tires, of course. And a 12-volt electrical system is standard.

These are some of the strides presented in new 1956 Blue Chip trucks we now have on view. The values are even more notable. Come in and get the facts!

New Blue Chip Advances in Heavy-Duties, Too:
New wide-range, 1-shift rear axles • New "road-builder's" tandem model with 14,000 lb. front axle • Improved Hydra-Matic Drive teamed with 210 hp V8 • New sixes leading the 55,000 to 65,000 GCW classes in power • Higher payload ratings—lower vehicle weights

Alabama Soph Defies Officials

School House Cleaning Proposed by Student; Challenges University

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A 20-year-old sophomore at the University of Alabama last night called for a top-to-bottom housecleaning at the school and challenged authorities to throw him out for his prosegregation views.

University officials had no immediate comment on the remarks of Leonard Wilson, a student from Selma, home of the first Citizens Council in Alabama.

Wilson told a rally of the Association of Citizens Councils of Alabama that the university's investigation of mob action which drove Negro coed Autherine Lucy from the campus was a "witch hunt" and an "inquisition."

The tall, slender student quoted an Associated Press dispatch saying that Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, president of the university, had said qualified Negro students might be admitted to the university if the Board of Trustees approved.

LACKED COURAGE

"He didn't have the courage to tell that to Alabama newspapers," Wilson declared.

(The Associated Press story quoted dispatches from Birmingham to the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune.)

There were shouts from the 2,600 persons assembled in the livestock hall at the State Fair Grounds of "throw him out" and "impeach him." The yells were in direct reference to Carmichael.

Byrd to Discuss 'Polar' Claims in Washington

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd says he will discuss claims to land in Antarctica with officials in Washington.

Byrd, director of the U.S. antarctic expedition, arrived last night from Panama and said he plans to leave Friday for Washington.

"We will discuss claims to the land that we explore," he said, but he declined to say whether he would recommend that the land be claimed for the United States.

"These claims are naturally a delicate matter," he said.

He said there had been no friction with the Russians or other nations in Antarctica.

He said about 200 men are now in Antarctica, representing Russia, Argentina, New Zealand, Australia and the United States.

They are planning for larger exploratory forces who will represent about 40 nations in the International Geophysical Year program starting July 1, 1957.

Senate to Speed Farm Bill Vote

Two Night Sessions, Limited Debate Set for Tomorrow, Friday

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate is under notice today that night sessions are planned for this Thursday and Friday in a drive to speed action on the omnibus farm bill.

Starting Thursday, debate on any amendment will be limited to two hours, so that voting can get started. The first showdown is due to come on the big fight over rigid versus flexible price supports.

One of the latest of some 70 amendments tossed in the hopper would call on the government to pay elderly persons for taking their entire farms out of production.

Sponsored by acting Democratic leader Earle C. Clements, the amendment would apply to persons 65 years or older. They could raise food for their own table but no products for sale. Should they elect to come under the program, the government would pay them on the basis of their acreage net income during the preceding five years.

* * *

Clements said he introduced the amendment as the result of letters from elderly farm operators who said they were physically unable to farm and did not receive sufficient income from the farms to pay tenants and provide a decent living for both the tenants and themselves.

Commissioners' Agenda Dispatched in 15 Minutes

With the canvass of Monday's primary election returns waived until tomorrow evening, the City Commission last night whipped through a relatively short 15-point agenda in 25 minutes.

As Monday's election was not a general municipal election but a special city election, the City Commission postponed their canvass of the returns until 8 p.m. Thursday.

Included on the slate of routine city business last night was an engineer's estimate for a combined sewer for the west side of Joslyn avenue from Second to Third avenues. It was accepted.

The total cost of the sewer will be $2,483.25. It will be advertised in a public hearing to be held March 13.

At the same time, another hearing will be held on proposed curb, gutter, and related work for three streets in the city. This work was estimated by the engineer at last night's session.

Total cost on the three projects is estimated at $39,330.01 and involves E. Princeton avenue from Baldwin to University, W. Princeton avenue from Baldwin to Stanley, and Del Ray drive from East boulevard to 94 feet west.

In other action, the commissioners accepted two more engineer estimates for water mains in Grandview boulevard from Paddock to Omar, Peacock avenue from Joslyn to Fuller, Clara avenue from Joslyn to east property line of lot 30, assessor's plat 102, and for Fuller avenue from Peacock to Columbia.

These two jobs will also be aired in public hearings to be held next week.

Further business involved a public hearing on a special assessment roll for a water main in Elm street from Anderson to Marshall with the confirmation deferred on the roll.

An application for the transfer of ownership and location of a 1955 specially designated distributor and merchant license from Angeline Gillotte at 145 Oakland Ave. to Tom and Parashivia Poponea at 904 Mt. Clemens St., was accepted by the commission.

A transfer into a corporation involving a wholesale beer and wine license of Peter Metes and Howard Powers of Central Distributors, 375 Franklin, was also approved by the commissioners last night.

In other action, the City Commission heard the first reading of an ordinance to rezone to commercial 1 part of lot 3 assessor's plat 78.

Special assessment rolls for 2-inch blacktop pavement for the following streets were accepted last night:

Hill street from Auburn avenue to north line of lots 23 and 28 assessor's plat 132 and from north line of Bliss street to Pike street; St. Louis avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood; Sheffield street from Baldwin to University; Sylvan court from Orchard Lake to 50 feet west of Myra; Tennyson avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood; Virginia avenue from Baldwin to Saginaw; Whitfield street from Saginaw to Edison; Willard street from Jessie to Shirley; and Ypsilanti avenue from Carlisle to Stanley and from Baldwin to University.

Replace Detroit Fireboat

DETROIT (AP) — The 26-year-old fireboat John Kendall is going to be replaced with a new $400,000 boat. Mayor Albert E. Cobo Monday agreed with fire commissioners, that the Kendall, which has been protecting Detroit's waterfront since 1929, is getting too expensive to operate. The new fireboat will be 90 feet long and will be driven by twin screws with diesel power.

Fee Office Deserted; Books Under Probe

DETROIT (AP)—Auditors from the secretary of state's office today pored over books of a branch fee office in suburban St. Clair Shores following the disappearance of the office manager and her husband.

State Police said Mrs. Anne Thorpe, 42, the manager; her husband, Floyd, 57, and their 9-year-old daughter, Kay, vanished Friday. Troopers said Mrs. Thorpe closed the office that day after telling an assistant she was taking her husband to University Hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment of a heart condition.

* * *

The couple's married son, Frank, told officers that hospital attendants said he was not admitted there. He said he had no clues to his parents' whereabouts.

Mrs. Thorpe operated the fee office from the family-owned dry cleaning shop.

Secretary of State James H. Hare ordered the office closed while the books were checked.

Costs Hit $378,000 in Hart Estate Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lawyers' fees and court costs in the eight years of litigation over the William S. Hart estate have reached a total of $378,000.

The actor died in 1946. He left his 1½ million dollar ranch in Newhall to Los Angeles County.

Harold W. Kennedy, county counsel, says that all deductions, including maintenance and taxes, have brought the value of the ranch to about $890,000.

The actor's son, William S. Hart Jr., sued to invalidate the will but the Superior Court ruled against him. An appeal is pending.

Romeo Grants Pay Increases

Village Employes Win 10-Cent Hike; Firemen Get $1 Hour More

ROMEO — All village employes have been granted a pay raise retroactive to March 1 by Romeo Village Council.

Requests for a pay raise of $1 an hour for volunteer firemen was presented to the Council at its last regular meeting. The request was tabled pending consideration of an overall pay raise for all village employes.

The firemen were granted the raise of $1, bringing their pay to $3 per hour, at a special meeting. A 10-cent per hour increase for hourly employes in the police and public works department was approved by the Council.

The police chief and superintendent of public works will receive a $5 per week pay hike; the village assessor and treasurer were granted an increase of $150 a year each; and the clerks, $260 per year.

The village also voted to retain one voting precinct. Voting machines will be rented from Washington Township for $50 each for use in Monday's election.

Village Auditor Edgar A. Priest was on hand at the special meeting Monday to present the 1956-57 budget, which approximates $74,000 in the general fund. This was used as a basis for the raises, Priest said today.

The budget cannot be formally adopted until the new council takes office following Monday's spring election, he pointed out.

Souls in Conflict to Be Shown at Oxford Church

OXFORD — "Souls in Conflict," newest film by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., will be shown at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the First Baptist Church here. All seats are free, and the movie is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

The movie, a full feature-length color film, was made during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. The story encompasses the lives of three "typical" individuals, troubled with the present and confused about the future.

Joan Winmill, star of the British TV thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," plays an actress; Eric Micklewood and Charles Leno portray a jet pilot and a factory worker, respectively.

Their need for a soul-satisfying religious experience is realized when each attends one of Graham's meetings in Harringay Arena, London's vast stadium.

Sunday School Sets Night for Parents

Sunday School staff members under the direction of Rev. Dorr W. Fockler, the pastor, will act as hosts and hostesses for the evening. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. the church will have an old-fashioned potluck dinner with pre-dinner table activities provided for both children and parents.

The film, "This Way To Heaven", will be shown following the dinner and many of the children will present special music under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Hoffman, Mrs. Kenneth Ganzel and Mrs. Howard Armstrong who are department superintendents. The church is located on Round Lake Road in White Lake Township.

Twins and Brothers Marry

ROCHESTER—A real-life romance that starred one set of twins, featured another, included a third twin and spotlighted two happy brothers as bridegrooms had even the minister confused Saturday.

Karen Kay Kinzie and Rheata Ray Kinzie, 16-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kinzie, 601 Quarter St., were married to Darrol Lee Juhl, 20, and Dennis Don Juhl, 18, respectively in a double ceremony at St. John Lutheran Church here.

Although Karen was married to Darrol and Rheata to Dennis with no errors in the solemn candlelight ceremony, the Rev. Walter C. Gerken, pastor of the church, later admitted that marrying twins to brothers involved difficulties in the matter of identification. Adding to the confusion was the fact the twins wore identical dresses and both brothers wore Air Force uniforms.

Darrol, an Airman 2.c., is on leave from the Air Force in Manchester, England. Dennis, who lives in Rochester, has a third class rating with the Air Force Reserves. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Juhl of 840 John R Rd., Rochester.

Twins, other than the brides, who had part in the unique ceremony were Marvin and Melvin Juhl, 14-year-old brothers of the bridegrooms, who served as ushers; and Barbara Teague, 15, a twin, of Rochester, who was bridesmaid.

The brides were radiant in Colonial style gowns of white nylon lace, with ruffled, hooped skirts and lace gauntlets. Each had a fingertip veil secured by a lace tiara and carried a Colonial bouquet of white camellias and carnations.

Maid of honor for both brides was Norma Boyd of Rochester. Bridesmaids, in addition to Barbara Teague, were Judy Halliday of Mt. Morris, Beverly Davis of Detroit and Pauline Gerken of Rochester.

Pamela Strong of Rochester, niece of the bridegrooms, was the flower girl and ring bearer was John M. Kinzie 3rd, brother of the brides.

Best man was Larry Kesthely of Pontiac. Seating guests, along with Marvin and Melvin Juhl, were Arthur Gruener of Rochester and Bart Halliday of Mt. Morris.

A reception for some 200 guests was held in the church hall, following the ceremonies. Twin, four-tier wedding cakes dominated the bridal table.

A twin honeymoon is also a feature of the wedding, with both brides and bridegrooms embarked on a festive trip to Pennsylvania. On their return, Dennis and Rheata will live in Rochester. Darrol, on 30 days leave from the Air Force, has requested a transfer to the United States. He and Karen have deferred making plans until word on the transfer comes through.

Store at Romeo Set to Reopen

D & C Shop Remodeled After December Fire Ready Tomorrow

ROMEO—The local D & C store, gutted by fire last Dec. 5, will reopen in its former location, Main street near West St. Clair, tomorrow.

The blaze which ruined professional offices on the second floor as well as the variety store was caused by faulty wiring, Fire Chief Walter Werth said at the time.

Business has been carried on since the middle of December, in a temporary location on North Main street just a few doors from the scene of the fire.

The store is closed today to allow the move into the remodeled quarters, George Tisch, store manager, said. All new equipment, shelves, wall and floor coverings have been installed. One innovation is an additional entrance at the rear of the building to facilitate customer traffic.

Church Council Plans Preview

Represent Year's Study by First Congregational at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Building Council of the First Congregational Church, after a year of study, is inviting the families of the parish to preview the plans of a new church.

The plans represent the fourth exterior and the second floor plan which the group has considered with their architect, Harold Fisher of Fisher and Associates of Detroit.

Small groups of the parish families are being invited to special meetings during the month of March at which time they will be shown the exteriors, be given information on the basis of selecting the plan as well as opportunity for discussion and suggestion.

When the entire parish has examined the plans a Congregational meeting will be called for further action. Three major committees within the church have concurred in recommending this plan for congregational examination: Building Council Board of Trustees and the Prudential Committee.

Slides showing front elevations and an overall aerial perspective as well as of floor plans will be shown.

The Brigantine Yankee takes off from the old fishing port of Gloucester for her "Return to Paradise," with a crew of 18 young men and women from all over the country, strictly amateurs except for the cameraman.

Through the pictures you sail with them to a South Sea paradise. The Galapagos Islands right on the equator are of such strange volcanic formation and known to so few people that the ship's company feel like explorers of another planet.

These meetings will be held at 7:30 nightly and 11:30 on Sunday mornings. The public is invited to attend.

Invite 13 Areas in Pipeline Idea

Propose Getting Water From St. Clair; Meeting Set for March 13

UTICA — Shelby Township and Utica officials, following a preliminary meeting Feb. 28, at Shelby Township Hall, have gotten the ball rolling on the possibility of constructing a water pipeline into Lake St. Clair. The proposed system would service Utica and surrounding communities.

Shelby Township officials and George Roberts, attorney for the City of Utica, have issued invitations to the following areas to participate in planning:

Pontiac, Troy, Birmingham and Royal Oak, the Village of Rochester, and Sterling, Avon, Troy, Pontiac, Oakland, Waterford, Royal Oak and West Bloomfield Townships.

Representatives are asked to meet at 8 p.m. on March 13, at Shelby Township Hall in Utica to further discuss plans for the waterline.

John Lehner, city of Utica engineer, originally suggested the plan as a source of water supply for Utica and its surrounding communities.

Currently the counties of Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair, Wayne, plans for constructing a water pipeline from Lake Huron. If such a development should materialize, the Lake St. Clair plan would be abandoned.

Coenen - West Ceremony Performed at Dryden

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle West of South Attica and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coenen are the parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, Betty wore a gown of nylon lace over white stains, trimmed with pearls and sequine. Fashioned with a fitted bodice, low neck and long, pointed sleeves, the full shirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil was of illusion and her flowers were white orchids.

The bride wore a strand of pearls and carried a white Bible, both gifts of the bridegroom.

Mary Jane West was her sister's maid of honor, and acting as bridesmaids were another sister, Patricia, and Elsie Kelly.

Robert's attendants were his brother Donald, Max Seidell and Stanley Walker. Seating the guests were Neil West and Harold Molzon.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Legion Hall, in Lapeer. The newlyweds will make their home on a farm north of Imlay City.

REV. AND MRS. W. SCHMIDT

Ladd Road Area Residents Push 'Urgent' Paving Plan

WOLVERINE LAKE — In an expression of their "urgent need" for the complete paving of Ladd road, 158 residents of Wolverine Lake village attended a meeting of the Improvement Association held last night at the West Maple Elementary School.

The townspeople heard the latest developments concerning the project from the 5-man Association board, composed of Oscar Fritz, Walter Dawes, Clifford Cottrell, Victor Green and Joe Newmyer.

As it now stands, the section of Ladd road in Wolverine village will be blacktopped as soon as practicable. However, the segments of the road in the city of Walled Lake and in Commerce Township will remain unpaved.

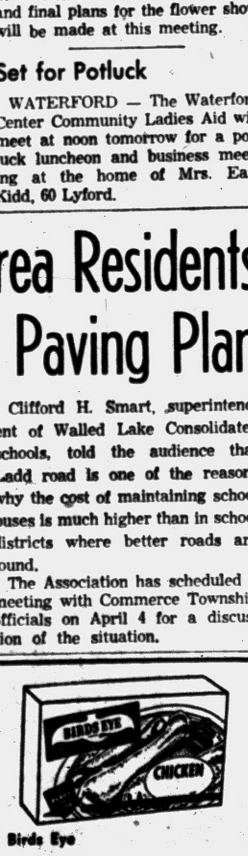

Ladd road is the link between Wolverine village and the city of Walled Lake. It covers less than a mile and a half.

The No. 1 objective of the Association is to convince both Walled Lake city and Commerce Township officials that the sections of Ladd road under their jurisdiction should be paved as soon as possible

Clifford H. Smart, superintendent of Walled Lake Consolidated schools, told the audience that Ladd road is one of the reasons why the cost of maintaining school buses is much higher than in school districts where better roads are found.

The Association has scheduled a meeting with Commerce Township officials on April 4 for a discussion of the situation.

Speeder's Story Fails to Sway Court's Fine

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Wayne H. Gyles, 21, was in a hurry.

Police said they trailed his auto at speeds up to 95 m.p.h. before it careened into a fence. Then, officers said, Gyles sprinted down the street.

"Why?" asked Magistrate Fred J. Mack.

Because, said Gyles, an unidentified man had been calling by telephone, warning him to leave the city. He said he thought the police car was that of the man who had threatened him.

Hollywood Headlines:

Marilyn Acquires Poise During Stay in New York

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I must say Marilyn Monroe's 15-month stay in New York has improved her. She came to see me on Sunday, and she is more poised, and has none of the little girl nervousness of the old Marilyn who used to get so frightened when she was on my radio shows that she became positively ill. She is prettier, too.

She told me that she played the Greta Garbo role in "Anna Christie" and Maureen Stapleton (of "Rose Tattoo" fame) played the Marie Dressler role at the Actors Studio.

"It was a great experience working with Lee Strasberg as our director," she said. "I learned so much. My ambition now is to do a Broadway play after I finish 'Bus Stop' and 'Sleeping Prince.'"

There's no halfway effort about Donald O'Connor's study of Buster Keaton in preparation for his life story. Buster, himself, has been put on the payroll at Paramount to work with Donald so that Don can observe his every little mannerism.

Twenty-seven old Keaton comedies have been resurrected so they can be studied in detail by Don.

I was interested to hear that the former Natalie Talmadge, first wife of the famed comedian, has signed a release to allow Paramount to portray her in the picture.

WONDERFUL SCRIPT

I cornered William Perlberg and told him I heard he has a perfectly wonderful script in "Tin Star." It's the story of a 'small town Western sheriff who doesn't make enough money to pay his bills and so goes over to the wrong side of the law.

I asked Bill for whom this is intended. He said, "Both George Seaton and I would settle for Gary Cooper or Spencer Tracy—either one would be good."

The old town is beginning to be like it used to be with some of our colorful characters back. Chiefly, of course, I mean Errol Flynn, who is always amusing.

He tells me that the castle he's supposed to own in Italy is really a two-bedroom villa he rented. His yacht, the Zacca, costs him only $30 a month to maintain because of the low wages paid Spanish sailors—and in Hollywood, the car he's driving is second hand.

In spite of being broke he's got his alimony debts in better shape than they've been in a long time. He still wants to make "William Tell," but whether that ever will be made remains to be seen.

DRESSED ALIKE

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Dressed exactly alike in black sweaters, trimmed with white, Kim Novak was escorted to her Studio Club home by Mack Krim, whom she saw as soon as she returned to town.

Mrs. Lee Strasberg, wife of the director of Actors Studio, is in town to help Marilyn Monroe with her lines in "Bus Stop."

When Eve Arden showed up at CBS-TV for my life story on "Climax," she met Ginger Rogers, who was there for the same reason. The first time the girls had seen each other since they did "Stage Door," and they really had a gabfest.

Nostalgic to see Teresa Wright, who plays me, wearing a dress so like the one I wore at the dinner given me at the Cocoanut Grove seven years ago.

It's three now in the Beverly Richards-Stanley Gamel family. Jeffrey Lynn, 8 pounds 1½ ounces, arrived on schedule. Beverly was formerly one of the Jimmy McHugh singing stars.

Derby Tickets Offered

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Want a pair of hard-to-get reserved seats to the Kentucky Derby May 5? The Derby Parade Committee is offering a pair of tickets to the person suggesting the best name for a big parade scheduled Derby Week. A name is wanted to convey the idea of a spectacular event in which Louisville, the state of Kentucky, thoroughbred horses and the derby are central themes.

Foundling Surprise

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Andres Collado Atrasanchez left his parked car unlocked for ten minutes and returned to find a 5-year-old baby on the front seat. No one knew its mother, and the worried bachelor finally turned it over to the Casa de Cuna (house of cribs) Orphanage.

Great Gildersleeve Faces Divorce Suit

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Harold J. Peary, the former "Great Gildersleeve" of radio, was sued for divorce yesterday by actress Gloria Holiday, who charged him with mental cruelty.

The actress said in her complaint that although she had always been a dutiful and loving wife, Peary had subjected her to mental cruelty, the familiar accusation in Hollywood divorce cases.

She said she and Peary had reached a property settlement. Miss Holiday asked for custody of the couple's only child, 3-year-old Page, and support for herself and the boy.

U.S. Can Keep Planes in Britain, Says Eden

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden said that U.S. planes can remain based in Britain so long as they are needed to defend the free world.

Eden was replying in the House of Commons to Laborite Emrys Hughes, a pacifist and frequent critic of American policies, who asked if Eden discussed the bases in his Washington talks with President Eisenhower.

Jimmy Durante Recalls 4 Who Influenced His Life

By JIMMY DURANTE

I owe a lot to many people, but mostly to four special ones. To remind myself of what I owe them, I carry on a chain around my neck four little gifts they give me.

One of these gifts is a medal of the Madonna. My pop gave me that. He was a barber, and when I'm a kid he lets me lather up the faces of his customers. Bartolomeo Durante, the barber, the kindest, gentlest man I ever know. In giving me the medal he teaches me the art of giving. If his customers don't have the price, he'd cut their hair anyway.

DURANTE

The second gift on the chain around my neck is a medal of the Crucifixion. My wife, Jeanne, give it to me when we was married in 1921. She died in 1943. Lord have mercy on her.

Her medal of the Crucifixion always reminds me of the art of forgetting and forgiving.

The third thing on my chain is a St. Christopher's medal. To me it's the art of friendship. A stranger I still don't know and the St. Christopher medal keep reminding me of what friendship means.

I get the medal about seven years ago. I'm ready to start a 17 day grind of one night stands across the country on a bond drive tour when Lou Clayton takes me to the doctor for a check-up. The last X-ray shows a polyp in my lower stomach.

So I'm elected for surgery. No tour. No radio. Nothing. But Al Jolson, Bob Hope, Red Skelton, and Frank Morgan took turns doing the radio show for me. That's what success really is, to have friends of that sort.

When they give me that shot in the arm, right before I go into the surgery, I feel someone touching my neck. When I wake up I see this St. Christopher medal around my neck and I ask the nurse: "Where does this come from?"

And she says: "Right before we took you up a nice lady with grey hair dressed very nice comes in, and kneels down, and says a prayer, and then slips this around your neck, and then she begs the doctor: 'Please doc, take good care of him,' and then she runs out."

I can never forget this stranger with the St. Christopher medal.

Before my mother dies over 25 years ago she gives me a little beat-up cross.

That's the fourth gift on my chain. She wore it all her life, and when she gives it to me she says: "Never take it off, and God will always be with you."

I start each day with a prayer. That I get from Mom. She teaches me the art of believing. That's probably the greatest of the four commandments on my chain.

As a kid she tells us: "Without believing, you're nothing." And we always follow her to church, without her asking, to find where God is. Even after she dies I still follow her.

And you know the nicest thing about following my mother go where God is? I always feel it's like walking out of darkness into the sun.

City Lots Delinquent

LANSING (AP)—Lansing city fathers were red-faced to find that four city-owned lots had been advertised for sale for delinquent taxes. City council members learned that the lots, deeded to the city, had been placed on the delinquent lists by oversight. They ordered payment of an old tax bill of $34.38.

Dr. C. Edgar Thompson Carries On Business, Studies of Father

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—Dr. C. Edgar Thompson, an optometrist and jeweler, is carrying on his father's hobby of collecting books and items about Lincoln as well as following the same business.

The late Sid D. Thompson, a jeweler for more than 50 years, started his Lincoln collection in the early 1920s. A friend had presented him a book on Lincoln to occupy his time during a short illness. That got him started as a Lincoln scholar.

The elder Thompson set up a Lincoln room in his home and started a collection that was widely known by the time of his death in 1953.

The Thompson family has presented this collection to the new Central Michigan College Library. It is housed in a special section of the million dollar library. Students and others interested in it are permitted to use the material upon special arrangements with the library director. It includes 70 books, five pamphlets, two loose leaf note books and a penciled sketch of Lincoln and his cabinet.

Dr. Thompson plans to continue collecting items about Lincoln and he already has become something of a Lincoln scholar himself. He made many trips around the country with his father.

"My father would practice his Lincoln speeches on me, and I guess some of it rubbed off," he said.

You Have Good Deal---Don't Toss It Away

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

With the first twittering of birds in the early morning comes spring fever. The kids in the neighborhood get out their baseball mitts. The little girls appear without their snowsuits.

And you begin to feel mighty restless. You're sick and tired of your winter clothes. And slightly bored with your winter boy friend.

You want to slough off the old cocoon and be free. Be free for new fun, new excitement, new clothes—and a new love.

That's spring fever—and I suspect it's what's biting this girl. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: Now that I've been going with him for a year, I feel that I want to be free. My friends all tell me that he's very much in love with me.

"Knowing this, I haven't the heart to break up with him. I did it once before, but went back to him. Should I do it again or keep going with him?"

Answer: Bringing a perfectly fine friendship to a bitter and hurtful end, for no good and valid reason except that you're restless, seems rather brutal to me.

If you were going away, it would be different. If there were someone else, you might have an excuse. But voluntarily hurting a boy who loves you seems mighty selfish to me.

Can't you remember how you both felt when you broke up that other time? Wasn't he sunk? And didn't you feel mighty high and dry?

You obviously found that the old habit of going with him was better than the new one (whatever it was), for you went back together. What's to guarantee you from feeling the same lost and lonely way this time?

What you really need is a change of pace not a change of partner.

Confess gaily to him that you've got a bad dose of spring fever, and you're feeling restless. Between you, think up things to do to double your dating fun. Get variety into it.

Let him stick around to appreciate any new clothes you get. And let spring be your chance to rekindle your excitement over him. You've a very good thing there—hang on to it.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going with him for five months, and still think lots of him. Recently my ex-boy friend came home from the Navy, but although it seems I'm not over him at all, I don't see him very often. So do you think I should keep going with the boy I'm dating now?"

Answer: You have a tried and true friend who's always on hand and you like him. Your Navy friend is unavailable most of the time, though you still like him.

If you prefer dating to staying home wishing you could; if you prefer going places and seeing people to being lonely; if you like the warmth and companionship of a boy who is around to show you that he likes you, your choice is easy.

Lawns in U.S. Costliness Crop

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (INS) — A Texas agriculture specialist says that the nation's most expensive crop is its lawns.

Dr. E. C. Holt, chairman of an annual conference at Texas A & M College on grasses, said that "few people realize that more money is spent for lawns, parks, cemeteries, airports, golf courses and highway shoulders than any other single crop."

* * *

Dr. Holt said that no accurate figures are available but that probably "more of the nation's acres are planted to turf than to any other single crop."

The bloused line and the cape both require a bra that does not exaggerate its uplift if a topheavy look is to be avoided

Top interest, a concentration of design on the upper portion of the body, makes the rounded, natural bustline more important. This lifted, more subtly shaped bustline is part of the Empire line. Watch this in your bra.

Bride-to-Be Wants Gifts Unopened

By EMILY POST

The followng letter comes from a bride-to-be: "The invitations to my wedding have been sent out and wedding presents are beginning to arrive. Quite a few of these presents—those from my fiance's side of the family—have been sent to his house addressed to me, in care of his parents.

"My fiance's mother has taken it upon herself to open these presents before sending them on to me. This has annoyed me no end as I think she has no right to open these presents.

"Don't the wedding presents belong to the bride and shouldn't she have the pleasure of opening them? I would like to know if I am right about this as it has caused much unpleasantness."

Answer: You are entirely right in feeling as you do. If the packages were addressed to the bridegroom, he could give his mother permission to open them. But if they were addressed to you, you alone should be given the right to open them.

It would not be unreasonable to tell your fiance that your pleasure is being spoiled by having the packages opened by someone else and receiving them "secondhand."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to send an invitation to a bridal shower to a very dear friend of the bride who lives much too far away to be able to come to the shower. If she were here I know she would want to come."

Answer: It seems to me not very fair to ask this friend to send a present to a party she cannot possibly come to.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Just recently I received a rhinestone-studded bracelet watch with matching necklace and earrings. Will you please tell me when I may properly wear them?"

Answer: To luncheon, the theater, or whenever you are dressed for a party whether it be in the afternoon or evening.

Leather Lighter in Spring Shoes

With the simple uncluttered shoe silhouette prominent for the coming season, leather soles, too, fit into the fashion picture with a slim, clean-edged sharpness that aids in creating a streamlined shoe line.

A new leather sole has just been perfected which retains the interesting random markings of nature, while still providing the pliant walking ease and foot support characteristic of leather soles.

The kitchen rolling pin can do effective double duty in smoothing out a new rubber tile floor, if a conventional flooring roller isn't handy.

Temper Initiative With Good Sense

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There's a narrow line between being too aggressive and being a Miss Milquetoast, between being overpowering and being too lacking in initiative. But how do you know where to draw the line?

That problem is bothering Edna, who says: "I have just been fired from my secretarial job for 'not having enough initiative.'

"I don't know what to make of it. I am a good secretary and feel that I did a good job. After all, the boss would have been mad if I had rewritten his letters or changed his dictation. You know how men are.

"What is initiative, anyway? And don't men hate to have a secretary try to wear the pants in the office, so to speak?"

This is indeed a touchy point. Of course, a lot depends on the kind of man you have as an employer.

But that is a point on which your own observation is your only guide. Beyond that, there are some pretty good rules of thumb.

GO CAUTIOUSLY

First, go very cautiously in the beginning, while you get accustomed to the job.

Nothing is more irritating than a new secretary who, the second day or so, begins giving out with the brilliant ideas on how to revolutionize the system and how many improvements she could make with her enormous initiative.

Usually, there are pretty good reasons why those ideas are no good. She would learn why if she'd just observe things for a while.

But the other extreme, and a bad one, is what I believe Edna must have done. That is never, never coming up with any new ideas even after she'd been there long enough to know something.

If you see a more sensible way of filing the correspondence, and have been there long enough to know that it's good, suggest it.

Don't take it for granted that no man will take suggestions from his secretary. Most men welcome and appreciate them and are miffed if they get none.

GOOD MEDIUM

Also, as far as rewriting the letters is concerned, there's a good medium ground there, too.

Don't transcribe the letters verbatim week after week with no suggestions for improvement; don't remain silent if you think of a way to make them more clear.

But don't go hogwild rewriting them in finished form. Transcribe one rough and fast, indicate the changes you think should be made and get his okay before doing the finished draft.

Evening Gloves Are Magic

NEW YORK (ANS)—There's a new fashion trick on the market that turns any woman into an amateur magician.

She may not be able to pull a rabbit out of her hat, but now she can pull her glasses out of her glove.

It's all done with a secret compartment in a new pair of fine leather evening gloves. The gloves, the 16-button length that reach up over the elbow, has an elasticized edge.

Under the edge of the left glove is a secret pocket that holds a real lorgnette, so you can read a menu or a theater program without wearing horn-rims.

The maker of this patented fashion trick sell the gloves complete with a four-inch sparkled lorgnette with magnifying lenses. A woman can substitute her own lorgnette or her own prescription lenses. If she's blessed with 20-20 vision, she can use the secret pocket for mad money.

The elasticized five-inch cloth pouch is invisible from the outside of the sleek evening glove it hides under. The gloves sell in fancy stores in white, pink, blue and beige glace leather.

Pantry Shelf Has Items for This Pie

Mrs. Forker Puts Lemon Juice, Rind in Her Raisin Filling

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Raisin pie is a nice old-fashioned sounding recipe. You are likely always to have the ingredients for this pie in the house so that you can make it at a moment's notice. Mrs. Ernest Forker is our cook today.

Mrs. Forker is a full-time homemaker. She has two children in school and two at home. Her husband works nights so that her special cooking is reserved for weekends. She likes to read. An outside activity she enjoys is the Fashionette Club.

RAISIN PIE
By Mrs. Ernest Forker

1½ cup seeded raisins
1½ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon flour
½ cup sugar
¼ cup chopped walnuts
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Grated rind ½ lemon
Prepared crust

Wash raisins and cook in boiling water until tender. Mix flour and sugar and add to cooked raisins. Stir until thickened, then add grated lemon, lemon juice and walnuts. Cool a little. Pour into a prepared pie shell, cover with a top crust. Bake 30 minutes in a 425 degree oven. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 10 minutes longer.

1956 will see world's loveliest legs sheathed in stockings as sheer as spray from an atomizer. From Germany will come 7½ denier, 90 gauge perlon hosiery, sheer enough to read through, fine print, at that.

To save both time and energy, learn to use both hands to clean and dust.

Beautiful Fabrics Highlight Paris Spring Fashions

Straw Type Footwear Paris Vogue

Spring and Summer, Styles and Shades Designed for Dior

PARIS (INS)—Straw shoes will be the latest from Paris for girls who like to be dressed "a la Dior" down to the toes.

These straw shoes come in the new Paris spring shades including sand, string, champagne, lavender, orange and geranium-red. They have curved, 2-inch-high heels for day and straight 3-inch heels for evening wear. The prettiest model is a geranium-red straw pump shoe with a red satin-covered curved heel and a red satin bow as trimming.

Some of Dior's new clothes are shown with elegantly pointed shoes with two straps crossed to an X on the instep. In champagne colored kid leather, for instance, they can be worn around the clock and have a smart, custom-made look.

For spring and summer evenings open-toe shoes are still the most feminine footwear. Dior-Delman shows them covered with lace, silk or brocade and the spiky heels covered with sequins for additional glamor.

An amusing novelty for lounging at home are flat-heeled socks inspired by Japanese "tabis." These ankle-length socks cover the foot completely and separate the big-toe from the others like mittens on the hands. They are made of satin or silk to wear around the house and of terry-cloth as footwear on the beach.

Buy Chiffon, Silk

If you must wear a peasant scarf to thesupermarket, invest a couple of dollars in a solid color chiffon or silk and do away with that gaudy print. You'll look and feel prettier.

Materials Dramatize Slim Silhouettes

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Much of the excitement in the Paris spring fashions, as reported by returning buyers and New York manufacturers, is in the beauty and variety of the fabrics.

In a season when the silhouette remains straight and narrow, with the column look still predominant for daytime, designers have looked toward unusual fabrics for drama. There are many blends, such as silk and wool, silk and cotton, orlon or dacron and wool, and other fiber combinations.

There also are interesting new treatments and uses of the old favorites—silk, cotton, linen and wool. In the wool lineup are brocaded wool jerseys, featherweight flannels and tweeds and a new attention to wool knits, used in new ways.

For instance, Parisian designer Renee Collard shows a full-length sweater coat in heavy rib knit, made exactly like an elongated cardigan and slated for high popularity.

Pastel wool jersey brocade is used by Pierany in a distinguished summer costume consisting of sleeveless dress and brief jacket. There also are lightweight textured woolens much in evidence in spring suits and light summer wraps.

As to silhouette, no drastic changes are reported in the Paris lineup. In some cases there is slight easing of the skin-tight skirt. The empire line continues popular. And Dior's arrow line appears to be merely a new name for the slender silhouette with high, rounded bosom.

Meeting Conducted by First Philathea

The First Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Lena Terry on Edison street Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harry Newhouse led the group in the opening prayers and Mrs. Howard Barnett presented devotions using "Our Perfect Substitute" as her subject.

"Our Responsibilities to the Church" was the message of the evening given by Mrs. Harold Elliott, followed by musical selections presented by Mrs. Gordon Shelton.

Refrigerators Hang on Kitchen Walls

Built-in refrigerators are hung on the wall and resemble conventional cupboards. The freezer is contained in one cabinet and the food refrigerator section, in a double-width cabinet with two doors, is hung right next to it.

More wall space is required, of course, and home buyers have to decide whether they want larger kitchens at the expense of something else, or whether they are willing to sacrifice cupboard storage space in order to have the convenience of built-in refrigeration in a small room.

Home Wedding Unites Couple

Minnie G. James and Newman Robinson were married Saturday by the Rev. William H. Marbach in a 4 o'clock ceremony performed at the home of the Earl Andersons on Cozeyburn drive.

The new Mrs. Robinson wore a steel blue dress of crepe and lace with pink accessories and a white orchid for her wedding.

Mrs. Max James wore a beige and brown dress with beige accessories for her duties as matron of honor. Mr. James was best man.

Jersey Single Men Gird for Trying Year

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — This is going to be a trying year for bachelors in New Jersey, that is for those trying to stay single.

Statistics show, among other things, that 41,125 men became husbands during the last leap year, 1952.

The figures dropped to 39,744 in 1954.

Stop running, you cowards.

Green Lake Unit Will Hear Panel

A panel discussion on "Election Procedures and the Role of Political Parties in the American Way of Life" will be presented for members of the Green Lake Women's Club. The group will meet Monday at 12:30 p.m. at the Green Lake Community House.

The panel will be under the auspices of the League of Women Voters and will have as members Mrs. Jack Couzens, Mrs. Graham Overgaard and Mrs. Art Mowrey.

* * *

Mrs. Richard Schmid will be refreshment chairman assisted by Mrs. A. Fryer, Mrs. Dan Geisler and Mrs. George Rapp.

Hood-Collar Sparks New Blouse Line

Dior Pairs Chiffon Tops, Slim Skirts for Spring

PARIS (INS) — Besides clothes in the "arrow silhouette" and "F" line, fashion emperor Christian Dior has brought fancy blouses worn with slim skirts back into the Paris fashion picture.

Two of these new spring blouses are delightful, extremely French looking affairs. They strike a new fashion point with a hood-collar to cover a lady's head.

One Dior blouse is of sheer, honey-colored chiffon. It has short sleeves and is buttoned in front with tiny chiffon covered ball-buttons. Its neckline seems to be drawn in by a string at throat-height. Dior shows it with its large cowl collar pulled up on the head to a loose hood and pinned to a tiny brown straw pill-box hat.

This blouse is shown with a short-jacketed grew suit of worsted wool with the chiffon hood growing out of the suit neckline. Honey colored suede gloves and shoes are the accessories.

For outdoors the blouse-hood is pulled up and again pinned on top to a blue straw pill-box hat and worn with a white coat. Indoors the hood is turned down to form a cowl-drape at the blouse back.

Watch also for romantically hooded spring evening coats and hooded beach-wear as 1956 style news.

Opti-Mrs. Meets With Mrs. Miller

Mrs. H. A. Miller opened her home on Wenonah drive for the Tuesday evening meeting of Opti-Mrs. Club. Mrs. Robert Zimmerman assisted the hostess.

* * *

Mrs. Roy Lewis, president, appointed Mrs. Irving Gillies, Mrs. Fred Coleman and Mrs. Bud Shelton as members of the nominating committee.

The group completed 100 articles for the American Cancer Society during the evening.

THE MODERN TREND

The casual carefree look of the spring hairstyle are anybody's hairdos. Most every one can wear some type of thing and every kind is "in" this spring. This trend is particularly adaptable to glasses . . . this new gone with the wind hairdo is short but not tailored. Casual waves, carefree curls lend themselves to an infinite variety and one of these was meant for you. The most popular length will be one and a half to two inches at the nape and three inches around the face. However this varies with the individual. A long neck calls for longer hair. The shape of the face and texture of the hair also determinds the exact length. May we help you have fun this spring.

Use Contrast Rule for Choosing Finish

As for leather finishes for gloves, the mat finish (doeskin and suede) and the glace kid are equally prominent. The French Leather Glove Producers suggest that the rule of contrast be followed when selecting a finish for any particular costume.

Thus, doeskins and suedes offer a soft, dull finish in pleasing contrast to shiny fabrics, including cotton-and-synthetic blends. Glace finishes offset textured and dull-surfaced fabrics like new raw silks, linen-weave tweeds and twills and late-day chiffons.

Use for Old Togs

Do you keep unbecoming clothes in your closet because you feel it's wasteful to get rid of them. Don't. Someone else can use them. If you can't bear to give them away, turn them over to your town's thrift shop for resale.

Fashion Draws Note to Facial Features

Fashion now is elegant and feminine. Lines are simple, drawing attention the the face. Fabrics are rich and wonderful. There is a big story in texture, and the complexion story is one of texture too.

Makeup, beautifully done, glorifies the new well-bred fashions. Above rich tweeds, brocades and deep velvets, be sure your complexion is properly cared for. If so, it will play up these lovely fabrics.

Help Child to Relive His Babyhood

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A week or so ago she noted that Lloyd's behavior changed at this time. As she'd settle down to feed the baby, the 4-year-old energy that had been so purposefully expended in shoving his train across the living room floor would be replaced by a certain languor.

Leaning his head against the davenport, Lloyd would begin to suck his thumb, his face taking on a look of dreamy reflectiveness. Just as all our faces do when an old song, an old love letter — or some other sight, sound, smell associated with intense, precious experience of our past evokes a sudden yearning to relive it.

Like us, Lloyd is struggling with nostalgia for his past. The sight of his mother feeding his brother is an almost unbearable reminder of the delight he experienced as the baby she used to feed with similar intimacy.

He becomes suddenly very discouraged with a present that no longer allows him 4-month-old satisfaction—and to comfort himself, begins to suck his thumb.

Do we then feed the baby in privacy?

SHARE MEMORIES

I shouldn't, if I were Lloyd's mother. Instead of protecting him against his memories of past delight, I'd try to make them bearable by sharing them with him.

I'd make the baby's mealtimes a time for stories of Lloyd's babyhood. I'd say, "And so, after I'd fed you like this, you'd go to sleep. And I'd wait and wait for you to wake up so we could begin to have fun. Oh, it was so wonderful when you woke up! First, I'd put you in your carriage . . ."

But when the baby's feeding time was over, I'd lead his brother back to his present.

Instead of continuing to support his yearning for a 4-month-old satisfaction, I'd give him the one that belongs to him—a sense of his useful importance.

I'd ask him to collect the clothespins as I remove the baby's wash from the line. And to help me carry it into the house and fold it.

RELEASE HIM

Through my stories of his babyhood, I'd have reassured him of its dearness to me. By making his past express love to him, I should hope to release him from yearning for it.

Civic Association Chooses Officers

The board of directors will include Harold Dovre, Clinton F. Hardy, Maurice Schlussel, Virgil J. Myers and Donald Raymond.

The newly elected officers drafted plans for the year's program. Mrs. Harold McDonnel was appointed chairman of a social event to be held following the Easter holiday.

Junior Groups of Musicale Hold Their Meetings

The East Iroquois road home of Lynn Benter was opened to members of the Junior League for their meeting. Mrs. Rudolph Hartman was hostess assisted by John Bishop and Judy Haroutunian.

Acting as the baseman is manager Birdie Tebbetts. Temple led the club in stolen bases last season with 19. He's wearing the team's new uniform. Birdie wears the old one. Player Request for Pay Boost Gets Attention

Owners Have Yielded Little in Regard to Boost to $7,200

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The rejection of the ballplayers' request for a boost in minimum salary from $6,000 to $7,200 likely will be among the prime topics of discussion today among the 16 major league player representatives.

The team representatives and their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, are scheduled to meet to ascertain the "precise meaning" of the owners' program, adopted at their winter meeting in New York last February.

The owners have yielded little ground on the salary point. And according to the league presidents, there are only a limited number of players who are now receiving the bare minimum of $6,000.

The players also have asked for a voice in the negotiation of the multi-million dollar contracts for television and radio rights for World Series and All-Star games.

Commissioner Ford Frick has reiterated, however, he would be solely responsible for negotiating the new TV and radio contract after the old one expires at the end of the 1956 World Series. The new contract is expected to bring in about $3,000,000 a year compared to the current $6,000,000 deal for six years.

The players also are expected to discuss changes in the current pension plan, which would increase benefits as a result of increased TV and radio receipts. There also is a move on to include players' years in the service to the pension benefits.

Rivals Will Meet in 'A' Pairings at Birmingham

Eastern Michigan and Inter-Lakes League rivals will get another crack at each other when the Class A regionals start next Tuesday at Birmingham High School.

In the pairings made this week, arch-rivals Southfield and Berkley, Inter-Lakes foes, will meet for the third time as will Birmingham and Mt. Clemens of the EML.

Action gets started in the Maple gym next Tuesday with East Detroit meeting Detroit St. Joseph at 7:00 p.m. and Berkley tangling with Southfield at 9:00 p.m.

Next Wednesday evening at 7:00 Royal Oak and Detroit Catholic Central will take the court with Birmingham following against Mt. Clemens.

Tuesday's winners will meet in a single game Thursday, March 15th, and Wednesday's winners the next with the championship Saturday, March 17th.

During regular season play Berkley and Southfield split a pair of games but the Bears came back strong to capture the league title in a crucial game at Southfield.

The Maples hold a two game edge over the Bathers this year. Early favorites would list East Detroit and Catholic Central as the teams to beat, even though Southfield could make a strong comeback in the regionals.

In the regionals at Ferndale, Austin and Highland Park meet in the opener at 7:30 next Tuesday. On Wednesday at 7:00 p.m. DeLaSalle meets Hamtramck and at 8:45 p.m. Hazel Park tangles with Ferndale.

Grosse Pointe plays the Austin-Highland winner in the first game Friday and the winners of Thursday's games play in the second contest. Finals are at 8:00 p.m. March 17th.

2 Tackles, Back Signed for 1956

McCord, Perry, Trcka Boost Lions' Roster to Total of 17

DETROIT (AP)—Defensive tackles Darris McCord and Jerry Perry and halfback Mike Trcka, a 1955 draft choice, have signed contracts for the 1956 season, the Detroit Lions said today.

Perry, another 240-pounder, signed with the Lions in 1954 as a free agent after his release by the Los Angeles Rams. A former University of California mainstay, he played last year at Ft. Ord, Calif., and is due for discharge from the Army next September.

Trcka, a 6-foot-1, 195-pounder, was graduated this year from Trinity College in Texas where he earned honorable mention on the Little All-America team.

Shaw's Win 'A' Title

Shaw's Jewelers in Class A and Oliver Buick in the D ranks wrapped up championships Tuesday night in the city league basketball playoffs, but Stadium Inn and Griff's Grill triumphed to force the B and C finals to the limit.

Shaw's made its capture of the Class A title very convincing with a smashing 100-64 victory over Stone Front at Pontiac High. Five Shawmen hit double figures in their conquest of the century mark, headed by Bob McManus and Ken Titherage who tallied 24 and 21 points respectively.

It was the Jewelers' 3rd tourney win and 17th overall this season. The Jewelers will now face Corey's Market, the Lansing titlist, in district play for the right to enter the state tournament at Battle Creek on March 16-17.

In one of last night's top attractions, Oliver Buick annexed the Class D crown by downing Boys Club, 55-52, at Lincoln. Perry Williams scored 20 points for Oliver's while Dean Perkio and Terry Houston each notched 16 for the losers. The Buick club now enters the Inter-City Recreation tourney in Detroit starting Thursday.

Griff's Grill, also once-beaten, rose to the occasion by nipping the Trojans, 56-55, in a Class C thriller at Lincoln. Chuck Franklin's 18 points paced the Grill quintet while the Trojans' Mel Karrigan took scoring honors with 20.

The final game between the two squads is scheduled tonight at Lincoln at 8:30.

Touring Pros at Pensacola

Tomasino Wins Pre-Tourney Driving Test With 308-Yard Hit

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The touring pros polished their strokes today on the eve of Pensacola's $12,500 PGA-sanctioned golf tournament while 34 amateurs squared off in a qualifying round.

The field in the medal play tournament starting tomorrow lists 119 pros. Ten amateurs were exempt from qualifying, as were all pros.

Professionals who shot practice rounds yesterday said the liberally trapped Pensacola Country Club course would place a premium on accuracy. Par is 72 for the 6,627-yard course. About 20 traps have been added for the tournament.

Most of the pros playing full rounds yesterday reported rounds of par or better. Tops among the practice rounds was a six-under-par 66 by Johnny Trish of Pensacola. A step behind was Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass., with a 68.

Larry Tomasino of Detroit, Mich., won a driving contest in a tournament preliminary with a long knock that measured 302 yards from the tee. Harold Williams of Tuscaloosa, Ala., was second with a 291-yard drive.

Hold Special Shoot

Arrangements have been completed for a special merchandise trap shoot, for members and friends of the Birmingham Gun Club, on Sunday. Many awards have been provided for 50-16 yard, and 50-handicap target events.

The club also has a regular shoot set up for March 24, a Saturday date.

DUKE SNIDER

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers had to make a split-second move with Snider approaching the plate. His strategy paid off. Would yours have?

Would you:

a. Let Snider swing away?

b. Have Reese try a steal of second?

c. Try a hit-and-run?

d. Order Snider to Sacrifice?

Result: D—Snider Sacrificed and when Jeffcoat threw the ball past first base, Reese went to third and Brooklyn won 4-3 (June 22).

Disagreement Long Standing

Titan Sports Chief Resigns

DETROIT (AP)—Ray E. Null resigned last night as athletic director at the University of Detroit in a move that capped a long-standing dispute with the Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S. J., university president.

Null, contending his authority had been curtailed to the point where he was acting as a mere figurehead, made his resignation effective Aug. 31. He said he hoped to find a similar post at another school.

Coming to Detroit two years ago from Hillsdale College, where he was assistant athletic director, Null quickly adopted measures aimed at boosting sagging athletics revenues.

He said he "honestly felt" his campaign was successful. Under his leadership, he said, "football receipts per game have been increased more than 50 per cent since 1953; basketball revenue has been increased more than 200 per cent per game and several new members have been added to the staff to strengthen the over-all program."

Despite his success at the tollgate, Null disagreed sharply at times with Father Steiner over certain athletic policies. The situation reached a crisis last week when Father Steiner named John Mulroy, a former English professor, as vice president in charge of development, alumni affairs and athletics.

Null's authority was promptly cut, notably in a memo from Mulroy which forbade him to make any future schedule commitments.

"It thus becomes apparent that at the University of Detroit an athletic director, as such, under the accepted definition of the title, is no longer a necessity," Null's statement said.

Among other things, Null and Father Steiner disagreed over whether Detroit should remain in the Missouri Valley Conference. Null said he and the athletic board agreed the Titans should stick with the league, at least for the time being, because "there are few schools which can operate successfully without a conference membership."

Father Steiner, deploring the great distances between Detroit and other MVC members, has recommended that the school affiliate with such Midwest independent universities as Marquette and the University of Cincinnati.

Null also objected to Father Steiner's attempt to have legislative pressure applied to force Michigan State to include Detroit on its football schedule in a move to increase football attendance.

Father Steiner also voiced disapproval of Null's plan to improve attendance last fall by enlisting the help of the Detroit police department in selling tickets.

Olympic Trials for Wrestlers at Ypsi Normal

Midwest Regional Test Scheduled for April 13 and 14

YPSILANTI (AP) — The Midwest regional Olympic Wrestling Tournament will be held April 13-14 at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti.

David H. McCuskey of Iowa City, chairman of the U. S. Olympic Wrestling Committee, said the tournament site has been awarded to Ypsilanti under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Winners of this tournament and other similar affairs throughout the country in the next few weeks will automatically be entered in the final Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles April 28-May 5. Thirty-two wrestlers will represent the United States in the Olympics at Melbourne Nov. 22 through Dec. 8.

The tournament in Ypsilanti will feature competition in eight weight classes in both free-style and Greco-Roman wrestling. It is designed primarily for amateur grapplers in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois. But it is open to wrestlers in any part of the nation, McCuskey said.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

FLORIDA PICKUPS: Casey Stengel believes Yogi Berra will develop into a steady .300 plus batter if he can get more rest. "In this era of three-hour games, it's pretty rough on a catcher to play day after day, including doubleheaders, and still ask him to hit over .300. If Howard can do the job behind Berra, Yogi will be close to the batting leaders!"

Charley Dressen confesses he has no idea who will patrol the outfield for him this season. "If I was an outfielder trying to make the majors, I would have to pick Washington as my club choice," says Chuck. "There are three positions open there!" Dressen's one outfielder regular, Roy Sievers, will play first base this year.

★ ★ ★ ★

Virgil Trucks needn't worry about working in the Detroit bullpen, Bucky Harris discloses: "Trucks is the type who takes too long to warm up to even consider him for our relief corps on a steady diet." It's no secret Trucks does not relish the idea of becoming a bullpenner.

Despite his speed, the Tigers' brilliant outfielder, Bill Tuttle, hit into 25 double plays last year. It seems Tuttle is strictly a pull-hitter.

He can be pitched to hit down on the left side of the infield. Tiger coaches will try to teach him to hit behind the runner in training camp.

IT'S NOW 'BUDDY HASSET, PRESIDENT'

Joe Black looks great and should be headed for a fine comeback with Cincinnati. Black never hit his stride after posting that remarkable 15-4 record with the Dodgers in 1952.

Warren Spahn has his aim set on at least 17 wins next season. The lefthander needs that many to reach the 200-win mark.

Russ Meyer asked the Cub front office to inform manager Stan Hack he wants every pitching start possible against the Dodgers! It's well known in the Brooklyn clubhouse Meyer and manager Alston weren't exactly buddies.

Tourney Conscious

Hurons Rated Strong Regional Foes

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

When Pontiac High School's cagers step out on the big IMA floor at Flint, next Wednesday night, in their 1st MHSAA test they'll meet a perennial tourney contender, and a strong outfit, in Port Huron.

The Big Reds, coached by Reid Laughlin, are a tourney-conscious club. They have always performed well in these Class A regionals, as the Chiefs have learned.

Hurons are a senior-junior club, with lots of experience, and a very good record for the year. They have won 10, lost five, identical to the Chiefs' 1955-56 mark. Big Reds did better in their loop, the Eastern Michigan circuit, winning the title with the loss of but a single game (to East Detroit 68-54). Chiefs tied for 3rd in the SVC.

Only common foe for Chiefs and Port Huron is Flint Northern. Vikings defeated the Lake Huron city club early in the season. Northern also tripped PHS twice in the Valley race.

In the last scheduled meeting between the two clubs, Big Reds took the honors, 52-41, on their own floor. That was in 1954.

"Different individuals have come through at important times; at least three have hit 20 or more point in these games," he says. "Ken Martin, Rick Robins, Carl Chandler, Warren Wade and Don Capps, who will probably be our starters. Each has hit more than 100 points this season."

Reds have been in the Flint regional for the last five years. Two years ago they lost to Arthur Hill in a 1st round game, and in last year's test went to the 2nd round. Lansing Eastern eliminated them that time, Laughlin said.

Critical Period for Deer

Early Spring Can Help to Cut Losses

By JACK PATTERSON

Well, sir, we did it. Got rid of February and so far as we know it left no one to mourn its passing. March is a much better month, if for no other reason than that it comes later in the year and thereby represents progress.

PATTERSON

Biggest problem in March is to keep from falling through the ice and getting an unscheduled bath. This is an unsettling experience and should be avoided. We know. We've done it.

Although there's plenty of ice in many lakes, danger spots increase rapidly with every day of above freezing temperatures. The time to get that ice shanty in is this week, to be on the safe side.

Children should be encouraged to stay off the ice from now on. Maybe we harp too much on this subject but as an editorial in this paper stated last week, children forget very easily and must constantly be reminded of changing conditions that have made the lake they played on all winter a place of danger. If it does any good we'll continue to harp.

March is the critical month for the northern deer herd. There's a good deal of snow in much of the north, particularly the northeast, and from now on it's a fight for survival for the weaker members of the tribe.

An early spring is the major factor in preventing substantial starvation losses. Regular feeding, whether it is useful or not in the overall picture, is mighty welcome to deer in the affected area.

A group of area sportsmen and their wives spotted more than 400 deer last weekend at a club in Alcona county where feeding has been carried out regularly all winter.

A three-legged deer, apparently hale and hearty, observed stuffing himself with hay, offered evidence that deer are pretty tough citizens and can take a lot from man and nature before calling it quits.

Visions of open water in the not too distant future bring into focus a problem that is going to get worse before it gets better. The problem is unrestricted use of outboard motors on inland lakes.

It is a problem because it creates a major conflict of interests an average local lake whose shores between various legitimate users of the lake. Take, for example, are for the most part privately owned, but which has public access.

There are generally three types of users of such a lake, the swimmer, the fisherman and the water skier. (We leave the marine hotrodder out of this because he's generally a nuisance to all the rest).

Now the swimmer doesn't require, of necessity, auxiliary horsepower. The fisherman finds low horse power motors a distinct convenience. The water skier requires plenty of horsepower. It doesn't take a crystal ball to see how friction can and does develop between advocates of the several activities. Yet they are all legitimate sports. If they can't be carried out in harmony, what must go?

Efforts to limit horse-power on inland lakes have failed, and we think rightly. This is not the answer. Water sports requiring high horsepower are here to stay. But for the same reasons that there are restrictions on the use of public highways, there should be some measure of control over the use of public waterways.

What form this control should take is a matter that deserves a lot of thought. One way or another, controls on the use of outboards on inland waters are definitely in the future picture.

Fishermen Told They Must Take Shacks Off Ice

Stiff Penalties Face Owners Who Fail to Obey Law

"This sort of weather," reported Howard Johnson, Michigan Conservation officer in this area yesterday, "drives home the present need for removal of ice-fishing shanties from lake ice surfaces.

"Snow ice is softening up fast, and the hard ice below will soon be softened. Hence the necessity for owners of these shacks to get them off the ice."

Johnson says that many fishermen are already complying with the department's directive. "Lots of them were taken off during the last weekend," Howard said. "Altogether they're doing pretty well."

Shore ice is loosening up, officers report.

Anglers are reminded that the law provides that these ice fishing shelters must be removed and placed high and dry, so that there is no danger of them going through when ice breaks up. Removal must be made before ice becomes unsafe.

"Failure to obey the law can result in fines up to $50 and or 30 days in jail. In addition to these penalties, if the shanty breaks through the ice, and conservation officers have to remove it from the water, owner must pay the costs of removal," the officer added.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Defending champions J. Wood Platt and Thomas C. Robbins met Egon Quittner and John W. Roberts today in the 18-hole title match of the annual Pinehurst Seniors Four-Ball Golf Tournament.

Platt, of Philadelphia, and Robbins, of Larchmont, N.Y., advanced to the final round with a 4-and-3 victory over Perron C. Jarboe of Cape Elizabeth, Maine, and Oral T. Carter of Cincinnati.

Conservation Body to Consider Acqusition of 368 Acres

LANSING (AP)—Seven game land purchases totaling 368 acres will be considered by the state conservation commission at its March 15-16 meeting in Lansing.

Purchases under consideration include 120 acres at Rouge River State Game Area, 80 acres at Deford State Game Area, 41 acres at the Middleville Game Area, 40 acres at Gratiot-Saginaw Game Area, 37 acres at Dansville Game Area and 40 acres at the Nayanquing Pointe Wildlife Area.

Federal funds under the Pittman-Robertson act would be used to acquire all six of the parcels. The commission is also considering purchase with game protection funds of 10 acres near the Gregory State Game Area.

Unlicensed Fishing Costly in Michigan

LANSING—Fishing without a license is a costly pastime in Michigan.

Conservation law convictions reported last week listed 12 persons guilty of fishing without a license. Total penalties for the 12 amounted to $158.80 in fines and court costs.

Michigan resident licenses—good for all species except trout—cost $1.50 a year. Annual nonresident fees are $4.00.

Anglers over 17 years of age—except fishermen's wives—must be licensed to fish on inland waters.

Plan Prison Camp as Conservation Aid

LANSING — Conservation and Corrections officials have agreed to establish a prison camp in Baraga county to carry out work on conservation projects in the Upper Peninsula.

Exact location of the new camp will be decided after a survey by the Conservation and Corrections Departments.

Gerald E. Eddy, director of the Conservation Department, said a centrally-located site is desired that would be suitable for prisoners to work on development of the new Van Riper state park and other projects on state land in the U.P.

State Leads Entire U. S. in Fishing, Hunting Permits

LANSING (AP)—Michigan, long a favorite of outdoorsman, leads all other states in issuance of fishing and hunting licenses.

In announcing this today, the state conservation department quoted U. S. Department of Interior figures for the last fiscal year showing that Michigan was tops in hunting licenses with 1,186,454.

Trailing Minnesota and California, the state was 3rd in fishing licenses with 1,188,134.

No other state hit the one million mark.

The report said 33,046,361 persons, a record high, bought hunting or fishing licenses throughout the country, paying nearly 87 million dollars for them, together with permits, tags, trout stamps and federal duck stamps.

* * *

The conservation department noted that Michigan does not require a license for a resident fisherman's wife, for sport fishing on the Great Lakes or for children under 17 years of age.

Florida State will have 14 of its 1955 backfield men back for 1956.

Musial Sets Sights on 7th NL Batting Crown

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Stan (The Man) Musial, checked the last three years after racking up six batting championships in his first 10 campaigns with the St. Louis Cardinals, has confided to friends he expects to nail down his seventh title this year.

The National League's greatest player of the last decade predicted, during one of those rare times when he talks about himself, he would hit between .340 and .350. He thinks that should be sufficient to win the batting crown and he thinks Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn and New York's Willie Mays are the players to beat.

Declaring he felt a good deal younger than his 35 years, Musial maintained he's at his best physically since 1952—the last time he won a batting championship. He weighs 177, two pounds lighter than when he finished the 1955 season.

* * *

"I've got to win the batting championship this year," Musial quipped. "I haven't received a raise in salary in five years."

* * *

An $80,000-a-year man since 1952, Stan said as usual, he's "going to concentrate on getting base hits to reach 3,000 (his total is 2,587). I figure I can get 200 this year and about 175 the next. The other 25 should be a breeze in 1958."

Harrigan Aids Santee's Cause

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, America's controversial miler who is fighting a lifetime suspension in the courts, has the director of the Knights of Columbus track meet in his corner.

Tom Harrigan, the K of C director, criticized the Amateur Athletic Union yesterday for its "unfair" treatment of Santee.

"Punishment should never be banishment for life," he told the weekly meeting of the Metropolitan Track Writers yesterday.

"Proper punishment for Santee would be that he should be bound to return the overcharge and be suspended for one year. He should be given a just hearing, with a chance to be represented by competent counsel, and should be warned if he transgresses again he would be washed out."

State Champs Hard-Pressed to Sign Foes

Just ask Wally Schloerke, Pontiac High School track and cross-country coach.

"Do you know that we're having a difficult time getting dual meet dates with schools in this section?" Wally queried. "It's a fact. Look — for instance Hamtramck High has dropped its usual spring meet with us. But we're still trying."

At present the 1955 MHSAA track and field champions have only two duals on the books. Flint Central will entertain the Chiefs on April 10, and on May 1 Flint Northern's Vikings will come to Pontiac.

Perhaps, as Schloerke says, "that must be the penalty for being so good."

PHS won the Valley and State titles last spring, and even at this early date loom as another track powerhouse.

Bucky Scans Pitchers, Looks at 1st Basemen

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Like any other manager, Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers is forever on the lookout for more pitching talent. That's why six likely looking 2nd string hurlers will get a workout when the Tigers open their Grapefruit League schedule against the Washington Senators this weekend.

Harris says he plans to use Jim Bunning, Pete Wojey, Gene Host and Bill Froats Saturday in the 1st of their two-game set with the Senators at the Tiger training camp here. Paul Foytack and Bob Miller are expected to get the call Sunday at Washington's home grounds at Orlando.

Others to get careful watching include rookie Jim Small at 1st base and J. W. Porter, who's been used as an outfielder and infielder, behind the plate.

Whether the Tigers will be able to gain the services o ftheir regular 1st baseman by then was a question still very much up in the air.

Earl Torgeson, the No. 1 man at the position and the only holdout on the roster, appeared no closer to a contract signing today than he was a week ago.

"We'll let him sweat it out a few more days," said Muddy Ruel, Tiger general manager. "Then maybe we'll give him a phone call to see if he's changed his mind."

The whole issue revolves around whether the Tiger offer of $19,000 for his services this season means a salary boost.

Torgy says no. He contends that his salary last year amounted to $20,000 — $18,000 regular pay and a $2,000 bonus from the Philadelphia Phillies when he was traded to the Tigers.

Tiger brass insist the $2,000 was extra pay and shouldn't be counted in with his salary.

GRAPEFRUIT League

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Ten pounds overweight but conditioned by handball and squash games in Detroit, Vic Wertz has started training to win back the first-base job he held when polio afflicted him last Aug. 25.

Wertz, arriving in camp a week later than the rest of his Cleveland Indians' teammates, has no doubt his comeback will be successful.

"I see you have five or six first basemen," he noted. "Well, that's going to be my job. I won't be a gazelle around the bag, but I can feel in my bones I'll have a good year at the plate."

At 212, Wertz is about 10 pounds over what he considers his best playing weight, but in his initial two-hour workout yesterday the 31-year-old slugger looked "in good shape," Manager Al Lopez said. Lopez won't hurry Wertz.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Manager Marty Marion announced his regular lineup for a Chicago White Sox intrasquad game today and with possible change in the batting order it could be the same lineup he'll use when the season opens.

Marion listed Minnie Minoso lf, Nellie Fox 2b, George Kell 3b, Larry Doby cf, Jim Rivera rf, Sherman Lollar c, Walt Dropo 1b, Luis Aparicio ss. The Opening Day pitcher will probably be lefthander Billy Pierce.

That's what Manager Stan Hack indicated today after surveying Kellert's deeds thus far this year. The 32-year-old Oklahoman is the top hitter in the Cub camp to date with a .429 average. He's also blasted a pair of home runs and two doubles.

OLYMPIC HOPEFUL? — Winner of the recent combined, downhill and slalom ski championships at Boyne Mt., Pontiac's Ross Hohn may be an Olympic prospect at Squaw Valley, Idaho in the 1960 games. Ross is the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hohn, 3105 Wellington Drive, Green Lake. Ross is shown above in a fast turn on the Boyne Mt. course. He won a handsome trophy given in memory of the late Don McLouth, as emblematic of the state title. The Detroit steel man was a friend of the Hohn family. Ross won the downhill, slalom and the combined event. He is now an extension student at University of Michigan.

Kocsis Defender

National Publinx July 9th

NEW YORK (AP)—The championship field for the National Public Links tournament was reduced from 200 to 150 today in a move to shorten the event.

The U.S. Golf Assn. announced a change of format in the tournament which also will combine with sectional team competition with the 36-hole individual qualifying at the site.

The Public Links tournament is scheduled July 9-14 at the Harding Park Golf Course in San Francisco. Sam D. Kocsis of Detroit is defending champion.

Under the revised form, there will be a qualifying round of 36 holes on Monday and Tuesday and six rounds of match play for 64 qualifiers Wednesday through Saturday.

For the last eight years the team championship has been held as a separate, 18-hole event on the Saturday preceding the championship, which comprised eight rounds of match play.

This year the team championship will be extended to 36 holes and combined with the qualifying round. Each team consists of three men.

Kentucky to Represent Loop at NCAA Tourney

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS) — Kentucky has been named to represent the Southeastern Conference in the NCAA basketball tournament.

Imlay City, Capac Fall in Tournament

In the Marine City Class B-C district basketball tourney, Tuesday night's opening 'C' action found Marine City dumping Imlay City, 72-64, and Armada turning back Capac, 59-39.

Only for a brief time in the Marine-Imlay tilt were the Spartans close to the eventual winner. Imlay battled to within one point in the 3rd quarter, but a burst of speed by the opposition put the game out of reach.

Two Marine City cagers hit double figures, led by Beatty with 23 points. Larry Dorow scored 10 points for Imlay.

Sellouts for 'A' 'C' Finals

EAST LANSING (AP) — Tickets for the class A and C night finals of the State High School Basketball Tournament are a complete sellout, the State High School Athletic Association reported today.

Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director, said this is the first time in tournament history there have been no tickets sales to the public.

All the 11,291 reserved seats in Michigan State University's Jenison fieldhouse for the night session went by allotment to high schools and registered officials of the state, Forsythe said.

Refunds are being made to unsuccessful schools and the general public, he reported.

Forsythe said there are still about 1,000 tickets available for the Saturday afternoon class B and C finals in the fieldhouse. These can be ordered from L. L. Frimodig, MSU ticket manager.

Tickets for the Friday evening and night SemiFinals at the Lansing civic center and the MSU fieldhouse will be sold at the door on a general admission basis.

The schedules for semifinal games. Civic Center—Class D, 5 and 6:30 p.m.; Class C, 8 and 9:30 p.m. Fieldhouse—Class B, 5 and 6:30 P.M.; Class A, 8 and 9:30 p.m.

Sullivan Slight Bout Favorite

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Somebody's losing streak has to come to an end tonight when John L. Sullivan, one-time English carnival fighter, and Jackie LaBua meet in a 10-round middleweight bout at the Syracuse War Memorial.

Sullivan, filling in for an ill Gene Fullmer, has lost two of his three bouts on his current U.S. visit, but stacked up as a slight early favorite over LaBua, who lives in East Meadow, N.Y., and lost decisions to Gil Turner in his last two bouts.

The two youngsters, Sullivan's 23, LaBua 24, are expected to come in at 160 pounds, the contract limit.

Burning Barn Comes Before Cage Session

Vermontville Quintet Battles Fire En Route to Practice at Ionia

IONIA (AP)—The nearby Vermontville high school basketball team was supposed to arrive by 6 p.m. last night to "try out" Ionia's gym in preparation for their upcoming district basketball tournament competition. They were a little late.

The 11 boys, riding in two cars, saw a barn on fire en route and stopped to investigate. Nobody was home and the boys took action. While some of them led livestock from the burning barn, others rushed to another farmhouse to telephone the Vermontville fire department.

They left when the fire department arrived, missing an hour of their scheduled practice at Ionia.

Local Eliminations Start in Class B Ranks Today

The feature locally will have Oxford (2-11) against Romeo (7-8) in the opening round at 7 p.m. at Pontiac High.

In the second game at 8:15 p.m. Rochester (6-10) tangles with Lake Orion (1-14).

Romeo and Rochester are expected to emerge victorious and enter the semifinals Friday night against Avondale and Clarkston respectively.

In the lone B game at Troy, the host Colts meet Fraser at 9:30 p.m. Preceding this game a pair of Class D contests will pit Detroit Country Day against New Baltimore St. Mary at 6:30 and Memphis against Detroit St. Rose at 8 p.m.

At Van Dyke, the big battle features Oakland B rivals Fitzgerald and Madison clashing at 7:15 p.m. with Shrine against Van Dyke at 8:45 p.m.

Bloomfield Hills and Oak Park clash in Class C eliminations at Farmington at 7:30 p.m. The two teams split a pair of games during regular season play.

Golf Costs More

Ball Makers Boost Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—It will cost you a little more every time you lose a golf ball or chop one up in the rough this season, but the folks who sell them don't think the raise in price is excessive.

The wholesale price on top-grade golf balls was increased from $8.65 a dozen to $9.50 by the principal manufacturers this spring. That lifted the cost from $13 to $14.75 a dozen when you buy them at the pro shop—a retail increase of approximately 15 cents a ball.

"That's only the third price rise in 25 years," said Vincent Richards, one-time tennis star who now is an executive of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co. "The cost of the balata we use for covers has increased 100 per cent in the last two years. Rubber for cores and windings also has gone up and so have labor costs."

Market Runs Into Irregularity

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market ran into a lot of irregularity today with prices leaning down in the early afternoon.

Changes with only a few exceptions went to around a point either way. A number of leaders held unchanged for considerable periods.

Trading was relatively light with the pace well under the 2,770,000 shares sold in yesterday's slightly lower market.

Biggest feature of the day was the start of trading in Ford Motor Co. stock on the New York Stock Exchange. In a flurry of ceremony and trading activity the stock opened at 62 on a block of 1,300 shares. It was followed by 500 at the same price and then 100 shares at 62.

Thereafter, Ford traded moderately in a range of 61⅞ to 62⅛. An estimated 7,600 shares changed hands in the first two hours of dealings. The stock closed yesterday in the over the counter market at 61⅞ bid and 62⅛ offered.

Aircrafts were in demand today as they were yesterday, and they had good gains at times. Oils were under some selling pressure today as yesterday. Losses weren't sizeable. The rest of the market was steady to mixed.

Wheat, Beans Move Lower

CHICAGO (AP) — A nervous undertone and lower prices developed in wheat and soybeans on the Board of Trade today.

In fairly active dealings both these cereals ran up losses to around a cent or more before putting up resistance and rallying from their lows. They did not get back to the previous close.

Feed grains tended a little lower early but corn staged a fair-sized rally, recording fractional gains. Rye was steady, aided by firmness in this grain at Winnipeg.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ lower, March $2.18⅝; corn ⅜ to ⅞ higher, March $1.30¼; oats ¼ lower to ¼ higher, March 60⅜; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.32; soybeans ¾ to 1½ lower, March $2.59, and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.60-62.

Gentleman Wants Social Crowd When Drinking

Joking with those nearest him, he reached the head of the line. Then, he headed to a rest room. In a moment he returned and took his turn at the end.

Again he reached the head of the line. Again he left for the rest room. That kept up for a couple of hours.

The explanation?

"Well," said the mystery man, "you see I don't like to drink alone, and I saw this line of people, so I just fell in."

22 Cars to Compete Over 1,500 Miles

Pontiac Catalina to Enter Mobilgas Economy Event

A Pontiac Chieftain Catalina will be among 22 stock automobiles which will compete in the Mobilgas Economy Run from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs, March 19-22.

The Pontiac has been entered in the low-medium price class along with a Mercury Montclair Phaeton and Dodge Coronet 8. All of the cars in the run will be equipped with automatic transmissions for the first time in the history of the annual event.

In announcing the entry list Mobilgas officials said the automatic transmissions are mandatory because most 1956 automobile models are so equipped.

The car attaining the highest ton-miles per gallon, regardless of price, will be awarded the sweepstakes award. Ton-mile figures are the result of multiplying the distance traveled by the weight of the car and occupants, and dividing that by the number of gallons of fuel consumed.

Other entries, with competition in the separate divisions as well as for the sweepstakes, are:

Lightweight—Rambler Deluxe 6, Studebaker Champion 6.

Low Price—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan 6, Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan 8, Ford Fairlane Victoria 6, Ford Customline Victoria 8, Ford Fairlane Victoria 8, Plymouth Belvedere 8.

Jobs Dip, but Still Higher Than Figures of Year Ago

Employment declined in the Pontiac area 2,200 between mid-January and mid-February but till remained 2,100 higher compared to a year ago, James H. Dudley, Pontiac branch manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported.

The largest decrease was noted in the motor vehicle plants which recorded a drop of 1,700. Other losses were noted in the metal industries 200, and in machinery, 100.

Dudley added that the present labor force in the Pontiac area was 2,600 more than a year ago.

He expected increases in employment for the next two months for non-manufacturing, construction, retail trade, service and government fields.

During February, unemployment reached 4,800 compared to 3,300 in January and 4,200 a year ago. Currently, the unemployment makes up 5.6 per cent of the total labor force compared to 3.8 in January and 5.1 per cent in 1955.

Due to the unemployment, claims were 65 per cent higher than in January but still remained below the level of February 1955 when 8,654 checks were issued for $265,270. Last month, 7,141 checks totaling $233,057 were issued.

Gotham Officials Shushing Horns in Seeking Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're looking for a nice, quiet place to go, this may be it — sometime.

Officials are out to shush all unnecessary noise.

But they're well aware that's not going to be an easy job in a city that just naturally doesn't hanker to be shushed.

Roaring subways, clattering garbage cans, the riveter's rat-a-tat-tat, thundering trucks and squeling brakes are as much a part of the big town as the Empire State Building.

Still, you never know. The new antinoise campaign started off with a bang . . . er, pardon . . . a quiet but dramatic success.

In just one week, authorities claimed today, the damper has all but completely been put on the No. 1 noise maker of all time: the horn honker.

His unnecessary blaring has been cut 75 per cent or more. Furthermore, even the necessary honking during the past few days has been muted.

John J. Hornblower, No. 1 target in the noise battle, was given until March 15 to reform. After that, he'll be given a summons.

Deputy commerce commissioner Martin Dodge said the antinoise program was launched because New York had become about the noisiest city in creation.

"It's not impossible," he said, "but it will take time."

Cosmetology Chief Under Senate Fire

LANSING (AP)—The executive secretary of the State Board of Cosmetology has been brought under fire in the Senate, and his job threatened by a legislative maneuver.

Lane said Murphy was doing "nothing to benefit the profession" supervised by the board, which regulates beauty operators and beauty shops, but a "lot to benefit himself."

Murphy later was defended by Mrs. Frances Burns, Grand Rapids, the board chairman, who said "we have never had better cooperation" from an executive secretary.

They called on Eastland, an outspoken foe of racial integration, as part of a "lobbying" drive by assembly delegates who sought support for civil rights legislation.

Russian-U.S. War Predicted Century Ago

NEW YORK (AP) — Commodore Matthew Galbraith Perry, the man who opened up Japan, predicted 100 years ago that war "must sooner or later inevitably be fought" between the United States and Russia.

* * *

He indicated, too, that the conflict would occur in Southeast Asia or possibly on the mainland of China, with the Russians dominating the Chinese.

The statements were made in a paper written by Perry and read to a meeting of the American Geographical and Statistical Society by the Rev. Dr. Hawks.

The observations never were printed but the missing portions of the paper were obtained by former Rep. George Holden Tinkham of Boston. He does not remember how he got the missing portion but he made it available to the New York Times.

Biological Warfare Topic of Area's Naval Recruits

Pontiac Navy recruit William Imboden, now in his fifth week of Navy recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill., with the civic-sponsored Pontiac-Flint-Saginaw Navy company, has written his fourth weekly letter to Pontiac recruiters.

Imboden writes:

"The Tri-City Company starts its fifth week of Naval training March 5. Training and Navy life are proceeding at a fair rate.

"The fourth week was one of the most interesting spent so far. The men learned some facts of protection against 'ABC' warfare, better known to civilians as biological warfare.

"They also had a taste of a harmless but effective gas in one class. This gave the men a chance to see just how effective and disabling gases can be in a war.

"Classes in seamanship, covering all sorts of deck equipment and its uses, were also given.

"As a whole, the Company is doing fine and living a wholehearted Navy life."

Attack Demolishes GOP Jobless Bill

LANSING (AP) — House Republicans today picked up the pieces of their unemployment compensation bill after a shattering attack by Democrats and "Young Turk" insurgents practically disintegrated it.

The bill would have limited combined payments of state unemployment compensation and private supplemental layoff pay to two-thirds of a worker's wages.

The measure was introduced by Rep. George Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), chairman of the House Labor Committee.

In its original form, it would also have given legislative sanction to the combined payments, the legality of which was doubted by some lawmakers.

As the bill goes to the Senate, it will do neither of these things. The amended measure effects relatively minor administrative changes which neither party considered controversial.

Accident Cutback Possible, Says President of GM

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A sharp nationwide reduction in traffic accidents is "quite feasible" as well as urgently needed, declared Harlow H. Curtice, chairman of the President's committee for traffic safety, in speaking at the annual meeting of the committee in Washington.

"Fortunately," said Curtice, president of General Motors, "there is no great mystery about the basic causes of or cure for this problem. The question is not so much what to do as how to get it done on an expanded and sustained basis.

"President Eisenhower has emphasized the two most important steps we must take. First, more active public support must be mobilized for necessary action. Secondly, a major program of highway improvement must be undertaken. This should begin with an expanded federal aid program such as Congress is now considering."

Network Plans Program Shift

NBC to Make Changes to Strengthen Its Hand Against Silvers

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Martha Raye told us NBC has no Tuesday night plans for her next season . . .

In a fit of cheerful hopelessness, the lovable bigmouth shrugged she might have to tighten her belt and live on the $100,000 a year minimum guarantee NBC must fork over for the next 15 years if they can't dig up a sponsor for her expensive low comedy . . .

NBC however said Martha has not been eased out of its plans, that this time a year ago Martha had no sponsor for this season and in time two turned up.

It's no secret NBC is worried about its Tuesday 8 to 9 problems, with Milton Berle being buried regularly by Phil Silvers, Martha ditto, and even Bob Hope, who once regularly floated atop the Tuesday ratings whenever he came to Trendex grips with Phil Silvers.

NBC next season will toss Martin and Lewis into five Tuesday night assaults on Phil's amiable "Sgt. Bilko" series, and several special Dinah Shore shows will be added to Dinah's customary quarter-hours.

NBC says Berle "probably" will not be seen Tuesdays next season . . . Talks are on now to determine just what the erstwhile Mr. Television actually will do next year . . .

NBC suspects he'll do three or four shows, although Berle announced on the coast he prefers to take off all of next season to rest up his fans . . .

Uncle Miltie owes NBC about 24 shows before his "lifetime" contract activates—similar to Martha Raye's $100,000 per year pension as payment for past big ratings.

GIVEAWAY FOR GUY

When Guy Lombardo nudges "Meet Millie" from its TV time March 13, it'll be a giveaway gimmick called "Guy Lombardo's Diamond Jubilee," with diamond rings for dolls due to wed guys . . .

Oscar Levant is a hit all over again in a West Coast panel show, "Words About Music." It'll go network if the management can harvest Oscar's bed of neuroses . . .

Warner Bros. may hit the biggest TV sale price to date for a studio-load of major pictures not on TV to date: 850 features plus assorted shorts and cartoons for an estimated $21,000,000.

MGM's 1,000 A-Movie and 1,100 shorts are up for TV grabs, for a huge sum . . .

Franchot Tone's next TV job will find him playing a hunchbacked German midget. They'll do it by putting Franchot among huge sets, big props and giant surrounding actors . . .

COCA AND COMO

Deborah Tells Women to Shed False Airs

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Deborah Kerr, the movie queen with the dresden face and bonfire hair, tried to slip into New York for a respite between scenes of her new film, "The King and I." This was about as feasible as President Eisenhower's slipping out for a quiet flagpole sit.

"You hear Deborah Kerr's in town?" barked phone voices. "This is the greatest. This dame you've gotta meet."

If you've gotta, you've gotta, and—in the interests of her career—so hadda Miss Kerr. She opened the door of her suite with unqueenly verve and looked exactly as they'd said, like the greatest.

She bore no resemblance to the girl next door, the sweetheart of Sigma Chi or the one who married dear old dad, but it's easy to see why Miss Kerr is the ideal "wifely" woman of our time.

What was it that made her everyman's dream of a spouse?

"Well really, that's a most flattering thought if true, I mean it's awfully nice to be liked—ah, in the right way—by men." She flushed and the pinkish cheeks clashed impressively with the reddish hair.

"But how can I answer that without sounding immodest? I know, I'll tell you what I really think men are looking for in a woman, down underneath all the curious surface nonsense."

LIKE 'EM NATURAL

"In spite of all the whistling and eyebrow raising and wowee! that goes with the relationship of a man and a woman," she said, "there's something entirely different a man is looking for than a pretty or weird or eye-catching surface coat.

"Men like women unaffected and natural. Physically, they like them without polish on their nails, things like that." Deborah waved a polishless hand.

"Not literally. Figuratively I mean. Men don't want girls covered up with all sorts of make-up and you know what I mean—unreal airs, sophistication out of bottles and tubes."

But this is what man wants on the outside of the woman. On the inside, that's the important part. "He wants to know what's inside. So many women hide themselves even from themselves."

Miss Kerr leaned forward. "Haven't you watched men who love a woman without really knowing her? You can almost see them longing to reach out and touch her and say, 'Now, what is really you? How are you feeling, what are you thinking?'

MUST BE HONEST

"The woman can't give the man what he wants, because she's covered herself too long with affectations. I don't say that she is wrong. I just say isn't it a shame.

"A man wants a woman who is natural. She doesn't have to be perfect, certainly not sweet. She can be fiery and nervous and neurotic, but she must be honest.

"Then she is a wife."

It's easy to see, then, why Miss Kerr is a "wife," not only in movies but in real life where she is married to Anthony Charles Bartley, a European representative for CBS.

She is undoubtedly the least arty or artificial actress about. We asked how she manages to stay that way amid the potted palms of Hollywood.

"How in the world," she replied, "when one is surrounded by so much staging, could one help but stay natural. Every day you live an object lesson."

To Use Voting Machines

EAST LANSING (AP) — The East Lansing City Council has authorized the rental of voting machines for its seventh precinct, which embraces all the Michigan State University campus within city boundaries and includes 945 registered voters. The rental was recommended to avoid the necessity of splitting the precinct to comply with new state election law which requires that no precincts using paper ballots may contain more than 800 voters.
