Leaders Happy Over Advance for Urban Plan

For many city leaders today a big dream was really beginning to come true.

Members of the city's administration, Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Pontiac Assn. hailed the announcement that Pontiac would get $90,000 in federal funds to begin planning its first urban renewal project.

They were jubilant on learning that an additional $1,600,000 had been set aside in Washington to finance the project if its plans are approved.

The announcement was made yesterday by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), who said the city should receive official confirmation soon from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, parent agency of the Urban Renewal Administration.

The money is for renewal of 155 acres in the south central portion of Pontiac. The advance funds would be used to plan a $4 million project, with a net expense of about $2.5 million of which the federal government would pay two-thirds.

The agency today confirmed the advance grant in a telegram to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Officials were impressed by the fact that the advance funds were made available from six to eight weeks sooner than expected.

Willman believed that the completed project would be "tremendously beneficial" to many Pontiac residents, both directly and indirectly.

"When the advance funds arrive, we will begin the difficult task of planning the project, carefully keeping in mind two things—the interests of the community as a whole and the interests of the people living in the area effected.

"I want to stress that the interests of this latter group will be protected."

A forward-looking note was sounded by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

New Infection Killing Babies

Tough Bacteria Resists Antibiotics; 16 Infants Die in Texas Hospital

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A spreading bacterial infection, which resists antibiotics, has claimed the lives of 16 babies in 2½ months in the newborn and premature nurseries at City-County Hospital.

The hospital board of managers said incomplete statistics show at least 81 babies have been infected, and 21 mothers infected in February alone.

The announcement said the bacteria are suspected of a key role in an increased number of pneumonia cases among elderly patients. It was described as the same epidemic strain that has been picked up in other hospitals throughout the country.

Staphylococcus causes a myriad of troubles ranging from boils and abscesses to frequently fatal infections such as blood poisoning, pneumonia and heart valve infections.

Ben Taub, chairman of the board of managers, said emergency measures are being taken, but added: "These procedures may not be adequate to control the infection among the newborns and in that event the only alternative may be the re-establishment of the maternity and nursery divisions in entirely new locations."

Panic Blamed for Many Deaths in Factory Blaze

Flames at Underwear Firm Triggered by Blast on Floor Below

NEW YORK (AP) — A flash fire triggered by an explosion shot smoke and flames into a fourth-floor underwear factory in a lower Broadway loft building yesterday, killing 24 persons—18 of the 36 workers.

A man and woman lived through the two-hour blaze.

A medical examiner said most of the victims were asphyxiated before the flames reached them.

Six women in all leaped to the street. Two other persons were caught in fire nets; five were rescued via aerial ladders.

Fifteen persons were injured. Twelve persons — including a truck driver who aided the firefighters — are in hospitals. Two were in critical condition. The other three were treated and released.

Fire Commissionner Edward F. Cavanaugh Jr. said there was no evidence of fire law violations on the premises, adding: "It would seem that panic played a most important role in this blaze.

"Some bodies were piled one on top of the other—evidence of mass hysteria. At least three jumped

Can't See Cents in Collecting 2-Cent Penalty

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—A taxpayer's $44 tax payment arrived a day late because a snowstorm delayed the mails.

She was sent a bill for two cents as a penalty payment.

Councilman James S. O'Brien said it cost the city three cents for a stamp, plus the cost of stationery and labor to collect the two cents.

Hatcher Attacks College Cutback

Effort to Trim Budgets Seen as Serious Blow to U. of M.

LANSING (AP) — The argument waxed hotter today over plans by Senate budget planners to trim spending at state colleges and universities by some 2½ million dollars in 1958-59.

The University of Michigan would reel under "one of the most serious and most crippling blows" in recent years if the Legislature goes through with the cutbacks, U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher said last night. Michigan's budget faces a $929,000 trimming.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) rankled under criticism that spending cuts recommended by his Senate Appropriations Committee were "stupid" and "inhuman." Gov. Williams used both terms in attacking the committee proposals.

Such criticism, Porter said, will aggravate the state's growing money problems and help destroy public confidence in state government.

Hatcher, addressing the University of Michigan Club of Lansing, asserted reduced spending would force U. of M. officials to take these steps:

1. Limit enrollment.

2. Cut back the University's program at its Flint branch "to which the people of that area have made substantial contributions in private funds and effort."

3. Postpone development of its new Dearborn branch, which is scheduuled to open in the fall of 1959.

4. Eliminate the U. of M.'s human resources program, including research into the causes of cancer, deafness, childhood diseases and in other fields.

Winter Gasps for Life in the East

WHO SAYS IT'S SPRING? — Spring-like weather may be in evidence in the Pontiac area, but residents of the mid-Atlantic states aren't putting too much stock in their calendars today.

10 to 24 Inches Cripple State of Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Among Hardest-Hit Cities

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eastern Pennsylvania, including the nation's third largest city of Philadelphia, was crippled by a snowstorm today with depths of from 10 to 24 inches.

The wet, heavy snow weighted, bent and frequently downed trees, power and telephone lines.

Roads were blocked, public transportation crippled, schools closed and emergencies declared in almost all of the vast area affected by the storm.

If the second major snowstorm in less than a month was not enough, the Transport Workers Union threatened a city-wide transit strike in Philadelphia for 7 tonight after an all-night grievance session over a disputed assignment of a mechanic's helper ended in a deadlock. The dispute and ttrike threat came as a complete surprise.

Philadelphia police said traffic tieups and power failures were worse today than those caused by Hurricane Hazel on Oct. 15, 1954. Only main roads were open in most sections.

The storm-swept area extended from northern Virginia to southern New York and was blamed for at least three traffic deaths. Snow piled up to a depth of 16 inches in the northern suburbs of Baltimore.

EMERGENCY PLAN

The District of Columbia invoked a snow emergency plan requiring motorists to use chains or snow tires and making drivers blocking traffic subject to arrest.

Many power lines sagged and snapped under the weight of wet snow in the storm area. Whole trees toppled under the crushing weight of snow, blocking streets.

At noon today, the snow measured 20 inches.

Two Manhattan patrolmen were killed when their car skidded into another car. A car carrying four young women went through a road barrier and plunged down an in-

Vice Squad 'Acting' Fills New Cellblock

Theatrical performances by disguised officers of the Pontiac Police Vice Squad brought the first "customers" into Pontiac's new jail last night.

Vice squad officers raided an alleged gambling house, and arrested 24 persons.

The squad, led by Sgt. John DePauw, used grease paint, wigs, odd costumes and spoke in dialects to secure entry to the house at 91½ Bagley St.

A man peeked out in traditional Hollywood movie style, but, failing to recognize the officers under their disguises, let them in.

The mass arrest gave the city's new jail its baptism.

Although the jail is not officially open, the prisoners were locked up there, filling both the men's and women's sections to overflowing.

Arrested for allegedly operating a gambling place was Curtis E. Crouse, 29, who lives at the house.

Spring to Flurry In Along Snowy Path

For the Pontiac area, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts mostly cloudy with little temperature change and occasional snow.

The low tonight will be near 30 degrees and the high tomorrow near 44.

Saturday's outlook is partly cloudy and mild.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 32. The reading at 2 p.m. was 42.

House Calls Up Parity Freeze

Bill Expected to Pass; Would Hold the Line on Supports for Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hold-the-line farm price support bill was called up for probable House passage today in the face of a threatened presidential veto.

The bill, a toned-down version of Senate-passed legislation, would impose a one-year freeze on government price supports and planting allowances at levels no lower than those now in force.

Speaking to a gathering of Republican women Tuesday, President Eisenhower said a freeze of "price-depressing practices of the past represents in my opinion a 180-degree turn in the wrong direction."

Despite his opposition, Democrats and many Republicans pushed the proposal as a temporary means of halting any further decline in the farm economy.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee said a half-billion-dollar drop in agricultural income could be avoided.

Administration backers, on the other hand, cautioned that the measure would jeopardize chances of permanent farm legislation this session, and would invite disastrous drops in livestock and grain prices.

Hothouse Living Causes Malady

Spring Fever? Blame Self

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Spring fever is blamed by a university professor on winter hothouse living.

Spring officially starts today.

Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse says the Easterner who reacts to ice and snow by creating a tropical climate within his home, hotel or automobile is a sure victim of spring fever.

He is a professor of physical education at the University of California at Los Angeles.

In his view, the spring fever victim is out of condition. His temperature-regulating mechanism—the tiny blood vessels under the skin—reacts slowly at first to warmer days.

Then these capillaries overreact, as do the heart, larger blood vessels and the blood pressure of an out-of-condition body under sudden stress. This overreaction creates above-normal temperature.

Thus, while Webster defines spring fever — "the lazy, listless feeling which comes to persons with the first warm days of spring"—as a humorous state, the victim actually has a feverish feeling of weakness and inaccurate temperature control.

To prevent spring fever—and this may do more good next year than this, if you've already got it, Morehouse suggests:

Get daily physical activity, indoors, or out, to keep your muscles from hibernating" in winter months. Have frequent and regular exposure to temperature changes at a "graded and gradual pace."

If you've already got it: Resist the initial temptation to outjump the spring lambs or, later, succumb to lassitude.

Begin a gradual program of physical exercise. Drink plenty of water. Be more generous with the salt shaker.

FATAL BLAZE — A roaring fire in a lower Broadway loft building killed 24 persons in New York yesterday. An explosion in a textile firm on the third floor set off the blaze. Workers reached safety by leaping into firemen's nets and climbing down firemen's ladders. Those who died were trapped by the flames.

The Day in Birmingham

1,000 Families Surveyed on Education, Recreation

BIRMINGHAM — About a thousand families in Birmingham and nearby communities will be contacted within the next few weeks for their opinions on local adult educational and recreational needs.

The survey, which originated in Birmingham a year ago, is being conducted by the University of Michigan Department of Community Adult Education.

Edwin Kirbert, executive secretary of the Birmingham YMCA, one of the originators of the idea, will serve with representatives of the Board of Education, Recreation Board, Police Department, Council on Community Services, church groups, Boy and Girl Scouts, the Junior League and service clubs.

The university will handle the analysis of information returned by the families selected to receive questionnaires. They will be sent out to every 25th family from a list of 25,000, according to Kirbert.

Local volunteer interviewers will be trained by Robert Butman, U. of M. field coordinator for the survey.

Richard Armour, noted author and poet, is the closing speaker in the Birmingham Town Hall series this season. He is appearing at the Birmingham Theater today and tomorrow.

A doctor of philosophy and professor, Armour has been a regular contributor of light verse to the New Yorker, Saturday Evening Post and Saturday Review magazines. He also has written several books.

At present he is professor of English at Scripps College, Claremont, Calif.

Two Lake Orion boys were returned to Bloomfield Hills this morning from Jenkins, Ky., charged with stealing a car and taking it out of the state.

The vehicle, owned by Mrs. Ray Cunningham, 185 Hawthorne St., Birmingham, was stolen March 13 from a Bloomfield Hills bowling alley parking lot.

Police are holding Clarence K. Lipford, 17, of 445 S. Broadway St. His 16-year-old companion was released to his parents.

Bloomfield Hills Police said the pair was picked up by Kentucky police. The boys said they were en route to Florida.

Birmingham Police this morning reported the recovery of a car stolen last night from Fred Swider of 2467 Yorkshire Dr., Birmingham.

Officers said the auto had been driven to 15-Mile and Coolidge roads. A shotgun, fishing equipment, tire and wheel were taken.

Mrs. Homer Gasgill

Service for Mrs. Homer (Elizabeth) Gasgill, 75, of 175 W. Frank St., Birmingham, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Officiating will be the Rev. W. Glen Harris of the First Presbyterian Church with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Gasgill died at her home yesterday following a heart attack.

A resident of Birmingham since 1919, she had been a member of Pythian Sisters Temple 94.

Income Tax-Fax

Information on preparing your income tax return, issued by the Internal Revenue Department.

DECLARATIONS

All taxpayers are required to file a Declaration of Estimated Tax (Form 1040 ES) and make quarterly payments in advance of filing the annual income tax return if gross income from wages subject to withholding can be expected to exceed:

1—$5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint declaration and the combined income of both spouses can be expected to exceed $10,000; 2—$10,000 for a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates; 3—$5,000 for other single individuals; 4—$5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint return, or 5—in any case, the gross income can reasonably be expected to include more than $100 from sources other than wages and the total gross income exceeds the sum of $400 plus $600 for each exemption.

Credit for the amounts paid on declaration of estimated tax is taken at the time of filing the tax return.

Circuit Judge Bill Held Up

Fight Develops Over Parts of Proposal Put In to Please Governor

A bill to provide a fifth circuit judge for Oakland County was held up in Lansing today as a senatorial argument developed over provisions placed in it to please Gov. Williams.

Faced with objections by fellow senators, Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains) said he only wanted to see the bill passed in a manner that would assure its approval by the governor, who vetoed a somewhat similar measure last year.

The arguments centered around changes that the House made in the bill before approving it. At the request of Oakland County's six representatives, the bill was amended to provide that an additional judge, elected in the spring of 1959, would take office the following July 1.

Circuit judges normally take office Jan. 1 in Michigan.

Sen. Ryan (D-Detroit) observing that a six-year term is normal for circuit judges, said the language of the bill raised a question whether the fifth judge would serve six and one half years, or only half a year.

In either event, or if the candidate would be obligated to file for both a short (six months) and a long term (six years beginning Jan. 1, 1960) the bill needs clarification, Ryan objected.

Sen. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) filed an amendment proposing that the date for taking office be changed from July 1, 1959 to Jan. 1, 1960, but action on it was deferred.

According to thinking of Oakland County officials, candidates for the new position would run for both the long and short terms.

The short term was added, supporters of the bill explain, because gubernatorial approval apparently hinges on how soon the new judge takes office after his election.

According to Rep. Leslie H. Hudson (D-Pontiac), the governor's position is that if a new judge is necessary, he should go to work immediately.

Many Operations on Slipped Discs Thing of Past

DETROIT (INS)—A Boston specialist said yesterday that the "epidemic" of operations for "slipped discs" of the spine appears to be at an end.

Dr. Alexander T. Aitken, professor at Tufts University, made this statement in a lecture at the annual Clinical Institute of the Michigan Medical Society in Detroit.

Dr. Aitken said such operations became "almost an epidemic" in the 1930s and '40s. He said many of the failures of such operations resulted because of faulty diagnosis.

Heavy snow still was falling in parts of the storm area.

DUE TO CONTINUE

The eastern storm was expected to continue. Warnings of heavy snow were issued for central and northeastern Pennsylvania.

The 24-inch fall was reported in Montrose, Susquehanna County, with 22 inches registered in West Chester, Chester County. It was the deepest snowfall there since 1909 when 21 inches fell on Christmas Day and the day following.

In lower Bucks County more than 15,000 homes were without electricity and heat.

The Philadelphia Electric Company reported hundreds of power lines down because of the snow. All public and parochial schools were closed in the city.

A state of emergency was declared in Delaware County where roads were closed and thousands of homes were without electricity.

MIXED WITH RAIN

The storm moved in on the eve of spring from the Atlantic Coast and was mixed with rain at intervals.

A state of emergency was declared in Chester by Police Chief Howard H. Winfree. Fifty off-duty policemen were called to help in the storm. Only two main streets were open.

The surprise of the storm increased its chaotic effects. In Philadelphia, neither the city nor transportation officials expected such a snowfall.

The Weather Bureau reported these snow depths: Allentown 6 inches, Harrisburg 6, Williamsport 1, Bradford 7, Philadelphia 8, Altoona 4, Brookville 1, Blairsville 8, Willow Grove 11, Lancaster 18.

City Leaders Pleased by Urban Plan Grant

new era in our city," said chamber president John A. Riley.

"It should bring optimism to everyone concerned — property holders, tenants and residents — that the day will soon come when we will see completed new modern dwellings, modern business blocks and modern highways so sorely needed to revitalize our downtown area."

The allocation of the funds, Riley said, "is indeed encouragement to all who have been working to rehabilitate the central area of Pontiac."

He noted that advance planning could now proceed sooner than anticipated. "The community is grateful to those who have fostered and worked so hard for this program," Riley said.

A group that heard the news with evident satisfaction was the Downtown Pontiac Assn., which listed urban renewal as one of its big aims when it was formed a year ago. Leaders of the association hailed the advance grant with enthusiasm.

"The report of the approval of the urban renewal project planning funds is wonderful news," said Robert R. Eldred, executive vice president of Community National Bank.

"Pontiac is a good business town and only needs a spark like this to set off its enthusiasm. This renewal project can lead us to other face-lifting improvements that will have a good effect on business."

Another association member, Frank S. Lyndall, said that the community is "tremendously interested" in the project.

"Naturally, we are very jubilant to learn that its initial stage has been approved," said Lyndall, manager of Sears Roebuck & Co. "With the help of improvements such as this project would provide, I see terrific things in the future for Pontiac."

Lyndall proudly noted that the downtown association could chalk up one success in its threefold ambition for Pontiac of modern expressways, more downtown parking and slum clearance.

Arthur Rosenthal, owner of Arthur's Women's Apparel store, said that "a big step in the right direction" has now been taken. "The project undoubtedly will help Pontiac's future," he said.

A. C. Girard, president of Community National Bank and president of the downtown association, was out of town on vacation and unavailable for comment.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

Lent must be remembered every day from Ash Wednesday until Good Friday. This season is not one to be started with fervor and forgotten until Holy Week. Each day must find everyone on his knees praying for humility, for sincerity and for the ability to bring others to the Master.

This task is for everyone. It cannot be left to a selected few.

Our spiritual service is essential to the well-being of the world. It can be more powerful than hydrogen bombs and guided missiles.

The love of God can do more to assure a peaceful world than can the sum total of military strength.

Yet the task is for individuals. It is for people who have dedicated their lives to the One who established love and sacrifice.

Are you remembering your Lenten responsibilities?

Through Science of Orthodontics

Correct Badly Shaped Mouths, Teeth

NEW YORK — Malformed teeth, twisted mouths and protruding and receding chins on adults can be corrected with proper treatment.

The science of orthodontics, heretofore considered the exclusive province for children with "Bugs Bunny" teeth, has proven available and successful to all people, regardless of age.

The Dental Information Bureau reports in a recent national magazine article on orthodontia that adults comprise up to one-fifth of an average orthodontist's patients, and the number is steadily increasing.

Successful orthodontic treatment is paying off in far healthier, and certainly far happier lives. In many instances, treatment can mean the difference between 'heart-sickness' and a completely new life.

The article "What Everybody Should Know About Orthodontia", illustrates several cases where orthodontic treatments bringing about physical changes resulted in marked personality improvement.

In one case, a brilliant young executive was by-passed for promotion, time after time, because his superiors considered him sullen and unfriendly. Actually he was afraid to smile because of ugly, unsightly teeth.

In another case cited, a woman of 37, an intelligent college graduate, could not advance beyond the steno pool because of a dull expression on her face caused by a badly shaped mouth. She looked stupid, and her bosses assumed she was.

These are two cases where the proper orthodontic treatment was able to help.

In the case of children, the article outlines the actual procedures that are taken to prevent malformed teeth in youngsters which often cause tragic physical and psychological problems.

Blending art and science, orthodontic "oral architects" are constantly adding new dimensions to the lives of those afflicted with malformed jaws and teeth.

Take Heed, Mr. Taxman: We've Placed Our Order

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service regional office today found this note attached to an income tax return:

Last year we had to pay;
This year, I'm glad to say,
It's going to be great fun
Receiving a nice refund.
Next year will be even better.
Take heed, and remember this letter.
The reason, for anticipated reduction—

Right-to-Know Loses Support

State House Committee Likely to Scrap Bill in Favor of Study

LANSING (AP)—Hopes for passage of a right-to-know bill faded today in the wake of what a Republican legislator called "confusion and misunderstanding" over the proposal.

Rep. Lloyd Gibbs (R-Portland) said the House State Affairs Committee, which he heads, probably would scrap the bill in favor of a committee study of right-to-know proposals after the Legislature adjourns next month.

Gibbs produced a letter from Elmer E. White, executive secretary of the Michigan Press Assn., agreeing to the tabling action provided the study committee is appointed this spring.

The bill, approved by the Senate, would assure public access to all meetings of governing bodies, school boards and other such groups at which final action is taken.

Dissension has arisen over a provision which would allow such bodies to conduct secret "executive sections." Opponents have attacked a provision carrying a penalty of up to 30 days in jail and a $100 fine for violation.

"Most of the opposition appears to come from school boards," Gibbs said. "They claim that if they aren't allowed executive sessions, public announcement of such things as plans to condemn land for new buildings would increase property values, and would not be in the public interest."

"There is so much confusion and misunderstanding over the bill at this time that we would be better to postpone enactment and look into it a little further," he said.

San Francisco's famed cable cars carry 35,000 passengers each day.

Kidnaper's Relatives Seeking Freedom

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A legal move to free from prison the wife and mother-in-law of George (Machine Gun) Kelly opened in Federal District Court yesterday.

Kelly, who died in 1954 in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., was the kidnaper of Oklahoma City oilman Charles Urschel in the 1930s.

Kelly's widow Katherine, 54, and her mother Mrs. Ora Shannon, 71, are serving life terms in the women's reformatory at Alderson, W.Va., for their part in the abduction.

Their motions for release contend that in the 1933 trials here they were denied proper legal counsel and that the court proceedings were "circus like."

Strong Quake Recorded but Location Indefinite

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The Spring Hill College seismograph recorded a severe earthquake last night.

Father L. J. Eisele estimated its distance at 4,536 miles from Mobile but said he was not sure in which direction.

The seismologist also said the quake was probably the start of a major series.

Files Suit to Divorce Marie McDonald

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Millionaire shoeman Harry Karl has filed a divorce suit against actress Marie McDonald, who last Tuesday recanted her charges that he arranged her 1957 kidnaping.

Charging cruelty, Karl said in the petition that it is impossible for the couple to live as husband and wife because Miss McDonald "issued false statements to the press accusing him of a capital offense. . . ."

During the couple's 11-year marriage they have been divorced twice. They have three children, Denice, 8, and Harrison, 7, both adopted, and Tina Marie, 18 months.

19 Persons Escape Injury on Airliner

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Nineteen persons escaped injury at Municipal Airport yesterday when they had to use an emergency exit to escape from an airliner which landed with one engine smoking badly due to an oil line break.

The 16 passengers and three crew members left the Trans World Airlines plane by a canvas emergency chute. The flight originated at Newark, N.J.

Workers Returning at AEC Test Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Workmen return today to the two-million-dollar construction job on the Jackass Flats test site. Construction halted last Thursday when 21 workers walked off after a foreman had been fired.

At a hearing yesterday before Dist. Judge Frank McNamee, the Sierra Construction Corp. and the Hod Carriers Union agreed to arbitrate the dispute.

The job is on a site where nuclear rocket propulsion systems will be ground-tested.

Birthstone of August is Sardonyx.

British Students to Teach Science

Manchester University Seeks to Ease Shortage of Physics Instructors

MANCHESTER England (INS) —The British, short of science teachers in this era of atomic energy, automation and electronics, are calling on their university graduate students to fill the gap.

Manchester University is about to launch a pilot project, whereby some graduate students will do part-time teaching at grammar schools in the area while continuing their research work at the university.

The schools to be selected for the experiment will enjoy an easing of their staffing predicaments as far as qualified physics teachers are concerned and the graduates will have the opportunity to discover whether teaching appeals to them as a vocation.

The project was conceived as a way in which the university could lend a hand to local schools during this difficult period for obtaining science teachers. As in the U.S., industry gets the bulk of the science graduates these days.

The pilot program has been made possible because of financial help from the Nuffield Foundation, which has made a grant of $5,600. The pay which the graduates will receive from local authorities for their part-time teaching work will be supplemented by the grant money to provide a practical income.

Six new Nuffield science teaching fellowships will be awarded in the Physics Department of Manchester University this year. The value of the fellowships will be between $840 and $1,120 a year. In addition, the graduates will work an average of two to two-and-a-half days a week at teaching, for which they will be paid the appropriate rate.

The proportion of time which the graduates will spend teaching has not been finally decided. It will vary according to the graduate and the requirements of the schools.

The university is already being flooded by applications from local schools for the services of the graduates.

Danish Exports Rise

COPENHAGEN—Danish exports to the United States rose from the equivalent of $39,875,000 in 1954 to $43,730,000 in 1955 and to $69,022,000 in 1956.

Nation Has Right to Be Proud of Vanguard

This nation can rightly be proud of the Navy for hurling a second satellite into the heavens. This one is "up there" and established for a long haul. Some scientists say that Vanguard will whiz about for five or ten years.

That's plenty.

Just the fact the pesky ball's shooting through space at 19,000 miles an hour is a well deserved triumph.

Russia's early and unexpected entrance into this field, which we had viewed as rather exclusively our own, certainly built a bonfire under U. S. efforts. Probably it was a good thing for all concerned.

An amusing sidelight on the current success lies in the fact that only a day or so before the launching, a North Carolina Democrat who heads a special committee on missiles declared that it looked as though the Navy were permanently stymied.

National Library Week Deserves Our Attention

The flood of national "weeks" flows by quietly, without much ado raised about the advent of "National Eat Custard Pie Week" or "National Bow Tie Week," but we welcome as significant and worthwhile the first celebration of National Library Week, March 16-22.

It is being observed here in Pontiac and across the nation. We feel it is one of the best weeks to come along in some time.

Now, more than ever before, this is a time for reading and increased understanding of the world about us. Scientific developments have squeezed the world into a matter of hours of travel and reduced most of the world's borders to a few minutes of swift jet travel.

And outer space adventures indicate much more is to come.

Awakening Americans to the rewards of reading, whether for pleasure or profit, is the aim of this first National Library Week. As our City Librarian PHYLLIS POPE says, we must be well-informed in these complex and difficult times, or we perish as a nation. We cannot afford a country of lazy minds, we cannot afford a nation of non-readers.

Books, newspapers and magazines are in the front line of defense when it comes to maintaining traditions of freedom and quelling or containing governments based on slavery.

Batista on Way Out?

Forty-two organizations have called on Cuba's President BATISTA to resign in order to avert anarchy and bloodshed.

A manifesto signed by fraternal, professional, civic and cultural organizations calls for dissolution of congress and formation of a provisional government representing all major parties. This action followed Batista's reimposed censorship and suspension of civil rights for the eighth time since December 1956. Key men in his cabinet have resigned.

Impartial peace proposals by the Roman Catholic Church were rejected by rebel leader FIDEL CASTRO when BATISTA refused to grant amnesty to rebels and to postpone the presidential election slated for June 1.

Amid much publicity civil rights were restored the last time on January 31. Cubans used their short-lived freedom to express themselves freely. 1 election and peace with CASTRO. The Cuban press used its temporary freedom to give detailed accounts of the charges against the regime and They asked postponement of the June its efforts to stifle all liberty.

The 45 day suspension of civil liberties will leave little time for the opposition to organize for the June 1 election. Less extreme reform groups, not in accord with CASTRO'S methods, had hoped for a peaceful solution. But without amnesty and more time the anti-BATISTA forces can't carry on an effective campaign.

If, before the election Batista isn't forced to seek refuge elsewhere as other dictators have done recently, he is likely to put a hand-picked successor in power and bloodshed will continue. Rebel Leader Castro has given the President until April 5 "to quit or face a fight to the finish."

"That Blankety-Blank Tree Is Spoiling the View"

David Lawrence Charges:

Supreme Court Assists Gamblers

WASHINGTON — Most people probably will be shocked to learn that the Supreme Court of the United States has just ruled that it's all right for the Federal Internal Revenue Service to grant an income-tax deduction on expenses incurred by persons who are engaged in operating businesses that violate state laws.

LAWRENCE

Thus, the state of Illinois has a law forbidding the operation of gambling enterprises, but the Supreme Court of the United States says the persons engaged in it had a right to deduct rent and the wages of their employes before paying federal taxes on profits.

The U.S. tax court had found that these enterprises were illegal under Illinois law, that the acts performed by the employes constituted violations of that law, that the payment of rent for the use of the premises was also illegal under that law, and that hence the amounts paid for wages and rents should not be allowed as a deduction for federal income tax purposes.

The Supreme Court, however, reversing this view, said the expenses were "ordinary and necessary" and hence deductible. The court pointed to a regulation of the U.S. internal revenue code which permits the deduction of federal excise taxes levied on persons "engaged in the business of accepting wagers or conducting wagering pools or lotteries."

How the Supreme Court could tolerate such a regulation, which makes it more profitable for persons violating state laws to conduct their businesses, is a mystery that is not explained by a reading of the text of the latest decision.

In fact, on Monday of this week the Supreme Court handed down two other decisions that refused to allow deductions for income tax purposes on the thousands of dollars paid by trucking companies in state fines incurred in violation of state laws. These laws penalize truck drivers for excess weights of loads in their trucks.

The court said in its opinion that, even if the truck drivers and their companies "acted with all due care and without willful intent, it is clear that allowance of the deduction sought by the petitioner would severely and directly frustrate state policy."

Yet, in the third decision, involving deductions of expenses by gambling establishments, the Supreme Court closed its eyes to the possible "frustration" of state policy by making it easier for the gambling enterprises to make money.

For certainly if their expenses were not held deductible, the added burden would operate as a penalty against their continuance of enterprises outlawed by the Legislature of the State of Illinois.

The Supreme Court took refuge in the fact that the U.S. internal revenue regulations permit the taking of such deductions. But this does not explain why the court, which can at any moment invalidate a federal statute, could not declare invalid the regulation of a governmental bureau insofar as it operates to frustrate those policies and criminal statutes of a sovereign state designed to maintain law and order.

It now would appear that, if the Bureau of Internal Revenue chooses to allow the owner of a disorderly house to take deductions for wages paid the inmates and for rent and other items of expense, the Supreme Court, to be consistent, would have to rule that these deductions from income taxes are just as permissible as deductions for the expenses of a gambling enterprise.

As a result of the latest decision in the gambling case, the citizen who obeys moral law and the laws of his state is placed under a handicap. He has to pay more federal income taxes than otherwise would be the case because other citizens are allowed deductions for immoral and illegal activities.

Nothing evidently can be done except by Congress to protect the states against federal action which increases the profits obtained by owners of certain illicit enterprises.

For the present paradox is sanctioned by the Supreme Court of the United States and now becomes "the law of the land."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Put away from thee a forward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee. — Proverbs 4:24.

SELF-REVERENCE, self-knowledge, self-control. — These three alone lead life to sovereign power. — Alfred Tennyson.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Expectant Mother Right to Be Proud of Condition

Some people can remember that it was customary and proper for expectant mothers to efface themselves and hide from public view as though their "delicate" condition was shameful.

DR. BRADY

Happily the pregnant woman today is justly proud of her great mission, and on any occasion her appearance commands only admiration and respect.

The difference between the woman of yesteryear who was "in a delicate condition" and ashamed of it and the woman of today who is pregnant and proud of it is simply that the latter has more intelligence than her mother or her grandmother had.

Mother and grandmother received little or no instruction in the hygiene of pregnancy, the physiology of childbirth and the science of infant care and feeding. They depended almost entirely on what older women pleased to tell them — which was generally wrong.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE

Expectant mothers today find a profusion of information and instruction available in pamphlets and books.

Unfortunately many expectant mothers don't seek such instruction. They just leave everything to the doctor. They are going to the hospital anyway. They expect to receive an anesthetic and, when they wake up, find it's all over.

I won't say any more about this now, because—well, I don't want to make everybody mad at me.

Instead I hold out my little tin cup and beg you to drop 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope into it for a copy of the booklet Preparing for Maternity.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Would like to know if there is any significant difference between wheat organically grown and wheat grown with chemicals, in respect to good nutrition. (F. & H. J.)"

Answer — "Organically grown" means, I believe, grown in soil naturally fertilized—that is, fertilized with manure, vegetable matter or animal matter. I assume "grown with chemicals" means grown in soil fertilized with nitrates, phosphates and other manufactured substances. To the best of my knowledge, there is not enough difference to matter.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Change in Veterans Day Brings Varied Opinions

Thank you for your excellent editorial on the cancellation of Veteran's Day by our City Commission.

Mrs. M. P. Lucas

15 Portage St.

I want to add my "boo" to the person who wrote about changing Veteran's Day to Washington's Birthday. We'll have a better country when people think of giving value in work for their salary instead of all amusement and pay for not working.

Clarissa

Don't you think city employes are humans like everyone else? We had friends and relatives die in the wars, and we suffered as much as anyone. When the nation observes this day with a few moments of silence and prayer, we do too. We pray for our dead and yours.

All we wanted to do was help balance our budget so it would be easier to make ends meet. I feel sorry for you if you begrudge us this. Now that you've had time to think I'm sure you'll understand we're still human and still praying.

Vet

The only city employes under Civil Service are Police and Fire Departments, 80 per cent of which are vets. They comprise only a small percentage of total employes and they in no way participated in the request to replace Veterans Day by Washington's Birthday as a paid holiday.

The writer seems to have a stronger desire to condemn Civil Service, municipal employes and the City Commission than any feeling of outrage for the alleged disrespect for Veterans Day.

I'm neither for nor against the issue, but I'm sure both PMEA officers and City Commissioners were trying to promote the best interests of those they represent. I'm surprised The Press would print a letter bearing such malice without investigation into accuracy of its contents.

'Practice Differs From Preaching'

I often wonder why people who argue so heatedly against birth control never seem to practice what they preach. The average woman in countries where birth control methods are unknown produce many, many more children than women in our country, including those who theoretically oppose birth control.

I've never met a woman who didn't want to limit the size of her own family, regardless of her abstract ideas. When you consider most healthy women can bear 15 to 20 children in a lifetime, then consider how few do so, it's evident practices don't go hand in hand with creed.

It's this obvious difference which causes those who favor birth control to wonder about those who claim they don't.

No one can condone his crime, but it happened long ago and no amount of tears can change it. All he can do now is to live as useful a life as possible. Everything indicates this is his intention.

Urges Thought on City Issues

If you don't like the way things are going in Pontiac, remember there's an election coming up in April. Find out how your present City Commissioner voted on some of these deals and what those running intend to do about it. They should be trying to cut a few corners. We need cooperation at City Hall.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains Cause of Homosexuals

Don wonders how his college professor ever developed into a homosexual. So read the explanation below for there are literally millions of homosexuals and other sex-deviates in modern society. The best way to avoid having your children succumb as their victims is to fortify them with the plain facts. And send for the sex booklet below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-358: Don K., aged 18, is the college student who almost got embroiled with a homosexual professor.

"What makes people homosexual, anyway?" Don asked.

DR. CRANE

Well, they aren't born that way but acquire this emotional habit by various factors in their environment.

Some girls develop such a terror of the opposite sex, as by witnessing in childhood some neurotic mother who screamed and cried that she was dying as she bore a baby, that such girls then become "conditioned" unfavorably toward romance with the opposite sex.

But you can't dam up deep-seated emotions entirely, for they must have some outlet or sublimation.

So in the middle teens or at college, such a girl may unwittingly be praised and petted by her girl roommate.

The latter buys expensive gifts for such a "victim" and finally gets the innocent girl under such a sense of obligation, that she gradually acquiesces to subtle sex advances by the older classmate.

Boys are seduced in much the same manner by older men. And they are frequently thrown off guard because the aggressor may be a resident of a moral place like a YMCA or CYO, and even be a teacher or clergyman.

HOW LOVE DEVELOPS

We are all born with a potential capacity for love. But whether we shall love our own sex or the opposite sex, or even animals and money, depends largely on our training.

Suppose a baby girl's daddy dies. Mama takes her home to live with grandma and a couple of maiden aunts. Grandpa may also be dead.

Such a girl grows up in a feminine atmosphere where all the affection she witnesses is always between two females.

She fails to see daddy kissing mama, and thus she misses the subconscious training that leads most children to look to the opposite sex when they grow romantic or contemplate future marriage.

If such a sheltered daughter also attends a girls' boarding school and a girls' college, she obviously will miss much of the heterosexual training that causes children to look to the opposite sex for romantic love.

NORMAL HOMOSEXUALITY

What many intelligent people fail to realize, too, is the fact that we are all homosexual in our psychological outlook at the age of 9 or 10.

For that is the "gang" stage wherein little boys have no use for girls and regard the term "sissy" as the height of insult.

Girls of that age, too, may band together in girls' clubs and regard boys as nuisances on the face of the earth.

But by the middle teens, this true homosexual outlook has usually changed to what we call the heterosexual attitude. Then the teenagers grow romantic about the opposite sex.

But a small percentage, say 5 to 10 per cent, grow fixated at a more primitive emotional level and may remain there all the rest of their lives.

That's the explanation for such cultured homosexuals as Don's college teacher.

A homosexual, however, can grow up to the higher level of heterosexual romance, but he must force himself to do so with as much resolution and willpower as a diabetic uses to force himself to omit sugar foods.

If a homosexual resolutely dates a desirable member of the opposite sex and acts the role of a normal emotional adult, ultimately he (or she) will feel normal.

Another Disgusted With Dog Laws

As a Waterford taxpayer, I'm thoroughly disgusted with the dog laws of Oakland County. The law says all dogs must be vaccinated and licensed.

The dog warden says he cannot pick up any dogs that aren't licensed, including strays that run wild and have no home at all. In other words, you don't need to buy a license unless you want to. I counted over 50 dogs in one pack in my neighborhood, plus several small packs. People who never license their dogs just laugh at the rest of us suckers who waste money.

Blames American Capitalist System

Under the capitalistic system it's either war or depression. Some blame Republicans and some Democrats, but I say it's the system and wealth has gotten into too few hands.

They can make good times or bad anytime they wish. Under our system they can let people work and exist, or they can lay them off and let them starve. I've worked for a company almost 31 years and last week I worked only 27½ hours. There have been many predictions about when this depression will end. I'll say it will end when the money changers have gotten back all the houses and cars that have been bought on time for the last three years.

Seconds Hoover's Recent Warning

I hope every true American read J. Edgar Hoover's article. He warned Americans of a fool's paradise. The American citizens aren't exercising their duties to their government, such as voting and doing active work toward things which make a good country. But if we conduct ourselves contrary to these Laws and lead a selfish and greedy life, we create hell within ourselves and don't need to wait until death for a fiery hell.

If more realized this our present worldly troubles would disappear and we could have paradise here on earth. Won't you give it a try?

Iowa Dog Bets on Life When He Nips Postman

DES MOINES (AP)—In Iowa, a dog that bites a postman could be executed on the spot by the postman.

The privilege actually extends to others. The Iowa statute says that when a dog is caught in the act of worrying, chasing, maiming or killing any domestic animal or attacking or attempting to bite any person, it may be killed forthwith.

But that's "a lot more than we would ever do," said a Des Moines postal official.

Australians Searching for New Farmlands

DARWIN — To find usable land in some of Australia's little known valleys and forests, scientific expeditions now are exploring, in trucks and jeeps, great areas of the northern and central sections. Botanists, son surveyors, meteorologists and geologists make up the parties, combining their abilities to assess the value of vast areas of virgin land.

That is the way the Humpty Doo rice-fields were discovered and developed. Because of poor rainfall and soil and the great distance from civilization, only a fraction of the land has been developed. Already 325,000 square miles have been survyed by the new explorers.

Nursing Student Breaks Finger at Ceremonies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tradition at the University of Tennessee School of Nursing allows undergraduates to rip uniforms from those just graduated.

Sue Buchanan, a third year student from Wynne, Ark., followed custom enthusiastically in ripping the sturdy training uniform from a friend in the girls' dormitory — and wound up with a broken finger.

Finds One Patrolman Enough to Make Arrest

BALTIMORE (AP) — William H. Dawson, Jr., fined $10 for disorderly conduct on a street corner, had boasted to Patrolman Joseph Hudgins:

"If you lock me up it will take three policemen."

The magistrate asked later how many officers made the arrest. Patrolman Hudgins, about four inches shorter than the 6-3, 190-pound defendant, replied:

"Just one, your honor."

Suva Envisions Building the 'Riviera of Fiji'

FIJI ISLANDS — Suva is discussing making a stretch of choice coastline into the Riviera of Fiji—60 miles of tourist delights.

This coast — opening on Queen's Road 30 miles from Nadi Airport and leaving the road about the same distance from Suva — has the white, sandy beaches, waving palms, blue lagoons, coral gardens and the colored fish of the tourist pamphlets.

Many other parts of Fiji lack these advantages, it is pointed out. Northern Hotels, Ltd., a company which operates a hotel chain in Fiji, has announced plans to have its Beachcomber, Korolevu and Sigatoka hotels, in this beach area, make strong bids for more tourist trade.

First Phone Message Gets Classroom Twist

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A group of eighth grade students at a Little Rock school were being tested on the question: "What was the first message Morse sent over the telegraph after he invented it?"

One student knew the answer—"What hath God wrought?"—and whispered it to a desperate student next to him, who in turn whispered it to another, and so on until everyone in the group had the answer. However, about half the answers came out: "What has gone wrong?"

Kiss Stays in Family

DES MOINES (AP) — One of the interviewers in a Des Moines traffic survey caused a mild sensation recently. He left his post, walked over to a car being driven by a pretty girl, leaned in, and gave her a kiss. Turned out that she was his wife.

Blaze Witness Recalls Cries of 'Don't Jump!'

Eli Goldman is a plumbing supply manager for the firm that occupied the ground floor of the New York factory building in which 24 persons were killed in a flash fire yesterday. Herewith he describes panic that broke out when the blaze erupted and the attempts made to rescue the trapped victims.

By ELI GOLDMAN

NEW YORK (INS) — I was waiting on a customer. Then it came. A loud explosion.

I ran toward the front door of the shop and glass was showering down on Broadway. I ran to the back entrance of the store. I couldn't get out of there, either. Glass was showering down.

I just couldn't imagine what had happened, but I knew it must be terrible.

By this time, thick black smoke was billowing out the windows. I heard the truck men outside hollering: "Don't jump — don't jump!"

I ran out of the store. I saw three or four women hanging out of the fourth-floor window—hanging with one hand and holding the other hand out as if pleading for someone to save them, as if they were asking, "Do something, do something."

Somehow they didn't scream or speak. I guess they were too scared.

Then the Fire Department arrived. An aerial ladder and nets were thrown up. Sometimes the smoke would cover those people up hanging out the windows, then they'd reappear again, looking so terrified.

Some of the truckmen helped with the nets, then one by one, three of the women jumped. My heart jumped with them. They made it—and were injured only slightly.

GRABBED LADDER

Then that last woman, she grabbed the aerial ladder. She wrapped one foot around it and one hand around it. That is, on the underside of the ladder.

Then the aerial ladder firemen reached out and grabbed her leg. They both hung there, balancing, fighting for their lives.

As they brought the nets up again, she let go. She came crashing down. She hit one of the truck drivers who was helping with the nets. There was a sickening thud. I knew him. You know, he was a nice guy. He had six kids. I understand he died (he was seriously injured.)

Then the building seemed one huge mass of flames. I saw seven or eight more women saved, taken down the ladder.

I knew the casualties would be horribly heavy. They were.

We were all sick to our stomachs.

I thanked God I was still alive.

24 Workers Killed in New York Fire

from windows where there was no evidence of smoke or flame."

An inquiry opens today at the city fire marshal's office. In Albany, Gov. Averell Harriman ordered the State Department of Labor and the Division of Safety to investigate the fire in cooperation with city officials.

Mrs. Edna Murray, 33, employed in the workrooms of the Monarch Underwear Corp., who was led to safety by firemen, said: "There was heavy smoke. It was hard to see. People were bumping into each other. It looked like a panic."

The blaze broke out when an oven exploded shortly before 4 p.m. on the third-floor textile factory in the five-story structure. A bolt of fabric was being treated in the oven when the blast came. The three employes on the third floor escaped unharmed, as did persons on all other floors but the fourth.

Five alarms brought 200 firemen and dozens of pieces of equipment to the scene. But it was almost 6 p. m. — two hours — before the fire fighters, repeatedly balked by intense heat and smoke, were able to enter the fourth floor by aerial ladder.

They saw bodies piled atop one another. Some were heaped near the doorways, others lay under work tables and benches, and some were huddled near windows.

Still alive amid the charred ruins were an unidentified woman and a man. The woman had saved her life by crawling into a large metal container which shielded her from the flames. The streams of water being poured onto the fire cooled the metal enough to keep her from being roasted to death. The man was found flat on his face, hugging the floor.

Among the injured was Edward Wine, 36, a truck driver who volunteered to help hold one of the fire nets. A woman leaping from the building missed the net and landed on Wine, father of five children.

The woman and Wine were taken to a hospital.

Survivors were high in their praise of Abraham J. Becker, 37, Hicksville, N.Y., a Monarch Co. foreman, who not only tried to restore order but went back into the flaming fourth floor time and time again to lead others to safety.

But the World War II veteran, married and the father of two children, did not survive his last rescue attempt. He was overcome by smoke and died.

were also taken into custody: W. C. Wilson, 33, of 313 Fisher St.; Oscar Paige, 31, of 231 Rockwell St.; Hezekiah Sadler, 26, of 924 Taylor, Flint; and Lonnie Phillips, 30, 419 Highland St.

Others are George McGee, 37, of 62 Jackson St.; Allesia Gillespie, 55, of 78 Elizabeth St.; Joel Rodber, 33, of 73 Jackson St.; John Jackson, 37, of 130 Wesson St.; and Annanias Giles, 31, of 92½ Bagley St.

Also, Vang Shelton, 27, of 21 Edmond Ct.; Wallace Foxall, 47, of 514 12th St., Flint; Brice Allen, 32, of 188 Earlmore Blvd.; George Allen, 52, of 932 E. 7th St.; Flint; and Oliver Baker, 40, of 81 Earlmore.

Still others are Arthur Sanders, 44, of 735 McClellan St., Flint; John Taylor, 55, of 40 Harris St.; Fobbie Jones, 69, of 1315 Clifford St., Flint; Judy Clark, 33, of 16 Lull St.; and James Smith, 49, of 431 Howard McNeil St.

Finally, James Bowers, 28, of 1310 Lay St., Flint; Wiley Williams, 35, of 180 Prospect St.; Willies Jones, 44, of 411 Franklin Rd.; and Dave Crawford, 48, of Muskegon.

All pleaded not guilty this morning in municipal court. Bonds of $50 each and $300 for Crouse were set pending trial on March 27.

Refugees Paid Though Remain Idle in Britain

LONDON, England—Britons have been advised that every week 800 men are being paid by the National Coal Board for doing nothing—the wage bill being about $16,800 a week.

These are Hungarian refugees recruited by the Coal Board and trained for jobs. But British coal miners won't work with them.

The board had promised to find work for the refugees so that 800 are still living in National Coal Board hostels. They attend English language classes and film shows and play football and table tennis.

For this they are paid between $17.90 and $23.80 a week as "training" pay. Besides $2,800,000 has been spent on training, accommodations and wages since the first 3,500 refugees were taken on.

Only 437 found jobs in British pits. There's no limit to how long the men may stay idle, the board members say.

Whitmore Lake Woman Killed in Car Crash

ANN ARBOR (INS) — A woman was killed and her husband injured early today when the car in which they were riding overturned in a ditch on U.S.-23, a mile north of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Katherine Kilpatrick, 36, of Whitmore Lake, was dead when taken to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

George Kilpatrick, 37, her husband, was treated for cuts and bruises. He is being held to make a statement to the Washtenaw County prosecutor.

Vanguard Moon Roller-Coasters on Global Swing

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Vanguard satellite swinging around the earth once every 133 minutes is varying its speed each orbit.

Engineers at the Martin Co., which built the Vanguard, estimate the satellite hits a top speed of 18,400 m.p.h. when it reaches the point in its egg-shaped orbit closest to the earth—about 400 miles. It travels slowest, about 12,000 m.p.h., when its farthest from the earth—about 2,500 miles. It averages, they say, about 13,000 m.p.h. on its 29,300-mile road trip through space.

They compare it to a roller coaster which slows when it goes up an incline and speeds up when going downgrade.

Bound to Circuit Court for Breaking, Entering

Andrew Horbatiuk, 30, of 80 N. Merrimac St.., was bound over to circuit court yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering at night.

He was examined by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Horbatiuk was arrested, along with a 15-year-old boy, inside the Montcalm Builders Supply Co., 156 W. Montcalm St., on March 2.

Ike Readies Plan to Help States Extend Jobless Pay

From OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower expects to iron out the wrinkles "very shortly" and send Congress his plan to help states extend unemployment payments and aid the jobless through the recession.

Eight governors came from a conference with the President a bit confused about whether he wants to give states the money in "grant" or "loan" form.

There was also some question about how many extra payments he wants to provide for, although it was said to be 13. The current periods of payments vary from 6 to 30 weeks but states having 75 per cent of covered workers pay 26 weeks.

(Related story Page 20)

The details will be spelled out in a message to Congress completing the chief executive's seven - point program for ending the recession.

An administration spokesman said the federal aid would be in the form of no-interest loans from a special fund set up some years ago to make such loans to states that depleted their unemployment benefit reserves.

A summit conference devoted solely to seeking a disarmament agreement also was under consideration by the Eisenhower administration today.

Officials said disarmament in all its aspects—from futuristic plans for taming outer space to the age-old issue of curbing armed manpower—seems to offer the best hope for progress among the points of East-West tension.

A new letter from Soviet Premier Bulganin to British Prime Minister Macmillan emphasized how far apart East and West are on the other issues.

Bulganin once more stressed Soviet opposition to discussing at the summit such topics as German reunification, barring the U. N. veto, and greater political freedom for Red Eastern European satellites.

These three items have been advanced by President Esenhower. Only in the disarmament field, therefore, is any "give" apparent to U. S. officials.

The greatest flexibility on the Soviet side, they said, was new Kremlin willingness to accept Eisenhower's space-for-peace proposal. But to this the Soviets attached an impossible condition — elimination of all U. S. bases abroad.

On the U. S. side, Eisenhower was reported ready to drop his insistence that any halt in nuclear tests must be linked to a cutoff in the making of nuclear weapons.

Missing Woman Arrested by Police

MUSKEGON (AP)—Mrs. Irene Hertel, 38, who disappeared from her rural Whitehall home Monday, was held on a drunk and disorderly charge here today.

Mrs. Hertel, mother of two, was arrested by Muskegon City Police last night while she was driving north of here. Sheriff Arthur Davis quoted her as saying she had been staying with a friend in Muskegon.

A statewide police search began after blood splotches were found in Mrs. Hertel's home following her disappearance. Davis said she told him the blood came from a cut on on her finger.

She is married to Russell Hertel, 38, a factory worker.

TV Surgery Patient to Get Out of Bed

DETROIT (AP) — Carl Miltenberger, who underwent an aortic transplant operation before television cameras Tuesday night, may get out of bed Saturday or Sunday, a medical spokesman said today.

The Wayne County Medical Society, which sponsored the regional televising of the surgery, said Miltenberger's condition was "quite good."

Miltenberger, 65-year-old railroad worker from Battle Creek, suffered from Atherosclerosis — commonly called hardening of the arteries.

The telecast was carried by WWJ-TV in Detroit and relayed to WJIM in Lansing, WOOD-TV in Grand Rapids and WPBN in Traverse City.

Proposal for Government Clear Up Letters, Save $$$

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government can save money by having its employes write clearer letters, U.S. Archivist Wayne C. Grover says.

It should be done "so the poor fellow out in the country won't come in with a second letter asking what the first letter meant."

Grover told a House Appropriations subcommittee that one agency which handles thousands of letters each year cut its correspondence workload by 10 per cent that way. He did not name the agency.

New Diet Aids Streamlining.

Many Lose Pound Per Day Through Eating Bananas, Skim Milk

NEW YORK — How would you like to slim down at the rate of a pound a day for the next 3 or 4 days?

A brand new diet featuring the basic ingredients of bananas and skim milk is the reducing package that can enable you to do so, states an article in a recent issue of a national magazine.

Called the "magic 888" diet, this plan allows the dieter to shed pounds and extra inches pleasantly and safely, on only 888 calories a day.

Since most reducing diets are set within a calorie frame of 1,100 this new "magic 888" offers about 20 per cent additional calorie savings, the article points out.

Equally important, the diet is well balanced in all the health-essential proteins, vitamins and minerals. In fact, the dietary evaluation for the banana and skim milk diet surpasses the "recommended daily dietary allowances" for specific food substances released by the Food and Nutrition Board.

Among the foods listed in the "magic 888" reducing diet are bananas, cottage cheese, skim milk, mushroom buttons and boiled chicken.

It is possible to have so many hunger-satisfying foods on only 888 calories a day, because the basic foods, bananas and skim milk, have only calorie counts of 88.

It's almost amazing, states the article, how two bananas and a cup of skim milk for breakfast and lunch can see you through to dinnertime with no pangs of hunger. However, it is understandable, because both foods, according to nutritionists, rank very high in appetite satisfaction and satiety value.

Most important in this diet, is the fact that all its components for breakfasts and lunch are available everywhere, all year around and at moderate costs. From a practical point of view, the "magic 888" diet is a convenient diet in every sense.

Security for You

'Wage Freeze' Misunderstood by Many

By RAY HENRY

An erroneous impression of the meaning of the term "Social Security wage freeze" seems to be going the rounds.

Some people have the idea that whenever they stop work for any reason they can get their Social Security office to put a freeze on their wage records.

Thus, they think, when it comes time to figure their retirement payments, the periods when they didn't work won't affect the size of their payments.

They're wrong. The idea no doubt stems from the fact that such an arrangement does exist. But, it can only be used on the Social Security record of a person who:

1. Has a disability which is so severe that he can't do any substantial work and which appears to be permanent.

The disability may have resulted from an injury, any kind of sickness, mental illness or blindness. To determine whether a disability meets the necessary requirements, a physical examination will almost always be required.

The only exceptions to the "substantial work" requirement are blind persons. They're considered severely disabled without regard for their ability to work.

A permanent disability, is one which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued or indefinite duration.

2. And, has had the disability for at least six months.

There's no use applying for the wage freeze until the disability has existed six months or more. Your application will be held up until the time element has been satisfied.

3. And, has worked in a job covered by Social Security for five of the ten years before he was disabled and for 1½ of the three years immediately before he was disabled.

4. And, is under age 50.

Persons disabled after reaching 50 who meet the four requirements listed above are entitled to monthly disability payments of $30 to $108.50.

5. And, applies at his Social Security office for the wage freeze.

What does it mean to have a wage freeze on your Social Security record?

Suppose you were severely disabled at age 37, you couldn't work and had to wait until you reach 50 to start collecting disability payments.

Without being able to freeze your record, your payments at 50 would probably be based on your average monthly earnings in jobs covered by Social Security between Jan. 1, 1951, and your 50th birthday.

The years between 37 and 50 when you had no earnings because you were disabled would be used in figuring the average. Naturally, this would greatly reduce your average monthly earnings. It would, in turn, reduce the size of your payments at 50 since the lower your average monthly earnings the lower your payments.

By being able to put a wage freeze on your Social Security record, you would freeze it as of the time you were disabled. Thus, the years between your disability and your eligibility for disability payments wouldn't be used to figure your average monthly earnings. This, naturally, would result in the average being higher and your payments at 50 being higher.

Science Heads Ask for Space Research

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the scientific leaders of the U.S. satellite program has recommended to the administration a long-range program of space research.

The program looks toward exploration of the moon and planets and manned space flight, a Washington dispatch to the newspaper added.

The story also said in part:

The far-reaching recommendations for scientific research in outer spaces were drafted by the earth satellite panel of the United States National Committee for the International Geophysical Year.

The program—to follow the end of the geophysical year in December—calls for launching progressively bigger and more complex scientific satellites in the coming years.

The satellites would probe farther and farther into space until finally satellites were circling or landing on the moon and the planets.

The panel says that all this would be but "the prelude to the drama to follow"—manned flight into outer space.

To Discuss 3 Topics

Purchase of weed-cutting equipment, mosquito control and Dutch Elm disease are topics slated for discussion at the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of the Lake Oakland (East End) Civic Assn. at Jayno Adams School.

Making Mistakes on Income Taxes in Their Favor

CHICAGO (AP) — Many persons get an arithmetical mental block when they figure their income taxes—but two out of every three of their mistakes are in their favor.

Commerce Clearing House in an analysis of the 1957 annual report of the Internal Revenue Service reported:

Bills averaging $90 each were dispatched to 1,090,000 taxpayers who underpaid a total of $98,123,000.

Automatic refunds averaging $70 each and totaling $42,979,000 were sent to 615,000 who overpaid.

Commerce Clearing House is a private agency that reports to its clients on tax and business developments.

Death Takes Officer Linked to Brutality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Col. James A. Kilian, central figure in a sensational 1946 court-martial stemming from brutality to prisoners in a World War II replacement depot in England, died yesterday at Walter Reed Hospital.

Death of the 67-year-old retired Army officer was attributed to cancer.

Kilian, wartime commander of the U.S. Army replacement depot at Lichfield, England, was convicted by a military court of permitting brutality to Army prisoners at the depot guardhouse. He was fined $500 and reprimanded after his trial at Bad Nauheum, Germany, in August 1946.

He contended he knew nothing about the mistreatment.

Sheets Give Toe Room

NEW YORK —Contour-fitted bed sheets are now being made with pleats at the bottom for sleepers who like room at the bottom for their upward-sticking toes. Colored and striped sheets now make up 20 to 25 per cent of the industry's sales, an increase from the 10-to-15 per cent share they had in 1954.

Federal Bureau Provides Rehabilitation

Trains Prisoners in Electronics

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Industry may some day be able to recruit needed electronic equipment specialists from an unexpected source —a U. S. penitentiary.

The Federal Bureau of Prisons is now making a study of several industries in order to pick one suitable for its penitentiary at McNeil Island, Wash.

And FBP officials reveal one of the possibilities is a plant to manufacture parts for electronic devices.

If adopted, this prison industrial program could play an important part in turning out vital equipment required to meet the demands of the nuclear age. At the same time it would provide inmates with the training necessary for them to get jobs in this field after they are paroled.

Prison experts believe tight security regulations would limit the types of electronic projects that inmates could work on. But they explain that prisoners might be allowed to make parts for classified equipment without knowing their ultimate use.

FBP officials proudly point to the McNeil Island study as an example of their efforts to rehabilitate inmates by preparing them for responsible, profitable employment in a rapidly changing world.

Today federal prisons are turning out men trained in a multitude of modern, complex, mechanical skills. This is because FBP officials keep in constant touch with the latest trends in employment, machinery and industrial techniques.

Based on their expert, first hand observations, FBP officials decide what new industries can be successfully undertaken by prisons.

LATEST TECHNIQUES

Also they make sure present vocational training programs teach the latest industrial techniques and that the most up-to-date equipment is installed in prison shops as soon as possible.

To further insure success, they hire only training instructors and supervisors of the highest caliber.

This emphasis on modern methods and machinery is necessary since all prison - made goods are bought by the government. And only the best know-how and tools can turn out products good enough to meet Uncle Sam's rigid specifications.

But just as important is the effect that the streamlined industrial projects have on the lives of the inmates themselves.

FBP's Arthur F. Lykke, one of the country's outstanding authorities in prison industries, declares:

"In order to overcome resistance to prison-made products, we have to make them of a quality higher than average. The same holds true of preparing men for return to the free world. When we certify that a man is trained, the employer and the union can be certain he meets the requirements 100 per cent."

LESS PREUDICE NOW

Lykke explains that employers today have considerably less prejudice against hiring ex - convicts than they did 10 years ago. He gives a lot of credit for this to the highly trained inmates now being released from federal prisons.

For example, he cites the case of prisoners trained in a new tire reconditioning shop in the Federal Reformatory at Petersburg, Va. Recently, they were faced for the first time with the problem of overhauling tubeless tires.

At that time, a fool-proof way of reconditioning this type of tire was still a mystery to every commercial shop in the area. But before long the supervisor in charge of the prison operation came up with a method that worked.

Some of the commercial firms were so impressed they sent men to the prison to learn the secret. And what's more important they offered to hire every prisoner trained in the shop after he was paroled.

In spite of this encouraging example and others like it, reluctance to hiring ex-prisoners still exists in many parts of the country.

That's why prison officials conduct an intensive public relations program to try to convince commercial enterprises of the importance of giving the ex-convict another chance.

Business men are taken on tours of prison workshops so they can get a first hand look at work produced by the inmates. Also prisons submit many of their training courses to unions for their stamp of approval. They have found out that union acceptance can pay big dividends in impressing management.

And whenever they get an opportunity, prison officials make speeches to civic groups on the necessity of helping ex - convicts build new lives.

REHABILITATION PROGRAM — Federal prison puts this inmate at U. S. Medical Center, Springfield, Mo., to work making radiosonde parachutes for use in weather forecasting.

Super Rocket Fuels Not Ready for Cars

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Imagine driving your 1965 Road Runner Special into a service station and ordering, "Fill 'er up with New Exotic Boron."

Why not? Those new boron superfuels used by the military have more power than gasoline.

But Dr. George R. Hill, head of the University of Utah fuel technology department, has been studying boron superfuels and he says gasoline will be around for some time.

Superboron fuels are fine for rockets, but they aren't ready to power the family auto.

Boron superfuels cost about $80 a gallon to produce in liquid form with present techniques, Dr. Hill says. And they leave a heavy residue in the engine far thicker than gasoline carbon.

Boron, says Hill, is derived from California-mined borax, the same material used in some heavy duty soaps.

Hill says boron substances are being added to some automotive gasolines to give them more zip.

They can't be added at present in any great amount. They would soon fill the conventional engine with soot or worse—cause enough zip to blast the auto off the highway.

One unidentified sage remarked: "Children are natural mimics — they act like their parents in spite of every attempt to teach them good manners."

Plagued Day And Night with Bladder Discomfort?

Unwise eating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations — making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. And if restless nights, with nagging backache, headache or muscular aches and pains due to over-exertion, strain or emotional upset, are adding to your misery—don't wait—try Doan's Pills.

Doan's Pills act 3 ways for speedy relief. 1 — They have a soothing effect on bladder irritations. 2 — A fast pain-relieving action on nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 3 — A wonderfully mild diuretic action thru the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. New, large, economy size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Greenland Sets Lures

GODTHAAB, Greenland — Despite many handicaps, such as great distances and the lack of hotels and communications, a newly formed Greenland travel association is expecting a bright future. It points to Greenland's scenic beauties, salmon rivers, and bird mountains as tourist lures, along with Eskimo culture and craft work. Flying boats are to be used to transport tourists, and a former sheep raising station near Cape Farewell is to be converted into a tourist center.

Brazil is practically the only source of bountiful quantities of high-grade Quartz crystal, important in precision instruments.

Resin Lasts Long

AARHUS, Denmark — A Danish painter has devised a synthetic resin for road markings which tests have shown to be nine times as durable as paint.

Florida 'Sun' Tan May Be Electric

By JOE HAAS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — With little more than half the size of Pontiac in permanent residents, but with an annual influx of tourists in excess of ten times the number of its home folks, this city is in the worst dither since it was a group of islands with human inhabitants.

JOE

The principal basis of Florida's "Gold Coast," along whose 40 miles more billions are invested in hotels and motels than any other similar area in the entire world, Miami Beach's business was frosted the worst in what it had expected to be its biggest season.

The older of the ocean front hotels along Lummus Park were completely sold out far in advance — and most everybody came, in spite of the freeze.

But it was so cold here that their customers were obliged to get their tan under sun lamps in their heated rooms, instead of in the sand near the beach.

These lamps were shipped here in plane loads and sold or rented at fancy prices. Many people were thus enabled to return home with beautiful tans, yet they hadn't been near the beach nor seen much of the sun.

With the coming of the usual warm weather a few weeks ago, many of the earlier visitors returned for a real tan, and have been joined by thousands who had remained in the north until the mercury here got normal.

This now gives the coast the biggest March tourist population it ever has enjoyed, coming after many of the hotels and motels had decided to count up their liabilities, and call it quits for the season. It now looks like this will not be as bad a winter here as has been feared.

Most places will keep the sun lamps as regular stock in trade, and not be so much at the mercy of the mercury in future years. One big hotel already is advertising, "If you come down again for the winter, and again find it, we'll be ready for that unexpected emergency."

The last few days have been warm enough to bring out the sand addicts in great numbers; those who never get their bathing suits wet, and who wear them only to show off.

Ocean beathing is practically obsolete. Most of the 1,500 hotels and motels have fresh water pools for their customers. Nobody thinks of sea bathing without a fresh water shower or plunge afterwards.

Centering in Miami, Florida claims to be the fishing capital of the nation. This may be true on deep sea fishing, where the monsters hooked run up to nearly half a ton, and the small ones in dozens of varieties are prepared in tempting dishes.

After sampling most of them, give me a Michigan trout or blue gill.

Florida also claims more bridges than any other state. And any auto driver who's been around it will agree to that, for it also has more drawbridges, all of which must open to let any dinghy pass through, while traffic waits. That's the Florida law, enacted when autos were scarce.

Fort Lauderdale boasts the title of boating capital of the nation. Besides its natural waterways and the ocean, it has almost as many canals as streets, and as many boat registrations as automobiles.

Around the Greater Miami area, the people feel that Publisher John S. Knight still has his eye on the Republican nomination for president. His chain of newspapers gets continuously cooler toward the Eisenhower-Nixon administration.

It is thought here that he may make the try in 1960 if the chances appear good. Saddened by the recent death of his youngest son, Frank, formerly with The Pontiac Press, he refuses to make any statement on his alleged political ambitions — or anything else.

Woman Accused of Theft Lives in Tree Trunk

WORCESTER, England (AP) — A woman accused of stealing a pair of shoes looked uncomfortable when the court clerk asked for her address.

"The prisoner is of no fixed address," said Police Inspector Joseph Davidson, "and is, I believe, residing in a tree trunk."

Mrs. Doris Parkes, 37, confirmed that she and her husband, a farmhand, have been living in the tree for six weeks.

The tree, dead and burned out inside, has a diameter of five feet. The Parkes sleep curled up in the trunk and do their cooking outdoors. Mrs. Parkes said they moved into the tree when evicted by the owner of an auto trailer.

U.S. 23 Tie-Up Set for Hearing

Ohio Highway Bureau Plans Four-Lane Route to Michigan Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Department of Highways proposal to speed movement on U.S. 23 traffic from Toledo north into Michigan will be discussed at a hearing April 9.

The plan calls for building a new four-lane divided highway from Central avenue about one-mile east of McCord road to the Michigan line where it will connect with U.S. 23 in Michigan. The Michigan portion of the route has been relocated.

The new road will be about three miles long and will become part of U.S. 23. About eight-tenths of one mile of the road from U.S. 223 (Monroe street) north to the Michigan line will be built first. The department expects work to begin this summer. No tentative construction date has been set for the remainder of the project.

U.S. 23 traffic now goes over Collingswood and Lewis avenues. After the new road is built it will run over Monroe street from downtown Toledo to Central avenue and then west on Central to the new road.

The initial section will cost about two million dollars.

The hearing will be in the Lucas County courthouse in Toledo.

You Can't Talk on Telephones While Driving

NEW YORK (AP)—You can have a telephone in your automobile in New York City, but you are not allowed to talk on it while driving.

Peter Bucky was fined $10 in Vehicle Accident Court today for allegedly violating this traffic regulation.

Bucky, president of the International Medical Research Corp., said he would appeal. He argued that he was at a traffic halt when he spoke on the phone.

He denounced the regulation as ridiculous and unconstitutional.

Magistrate Neal P. Bottiglieri found Bucky guilty after a patrolman, Sidney Eisenberg, testified he saw Bucky driving with a telephone in one hand Feb. 21.

Airline Makes Feature of Transporting Pets

MIAMI — One East Coast airline, which handles only cargo, has a full-time zoological consultant to handle its animal shipments.

Special instructions of pet owners are followed while the animals are being shipped, and a dog can be walked and exercised during stops or special food can be given to any animals at specified times.

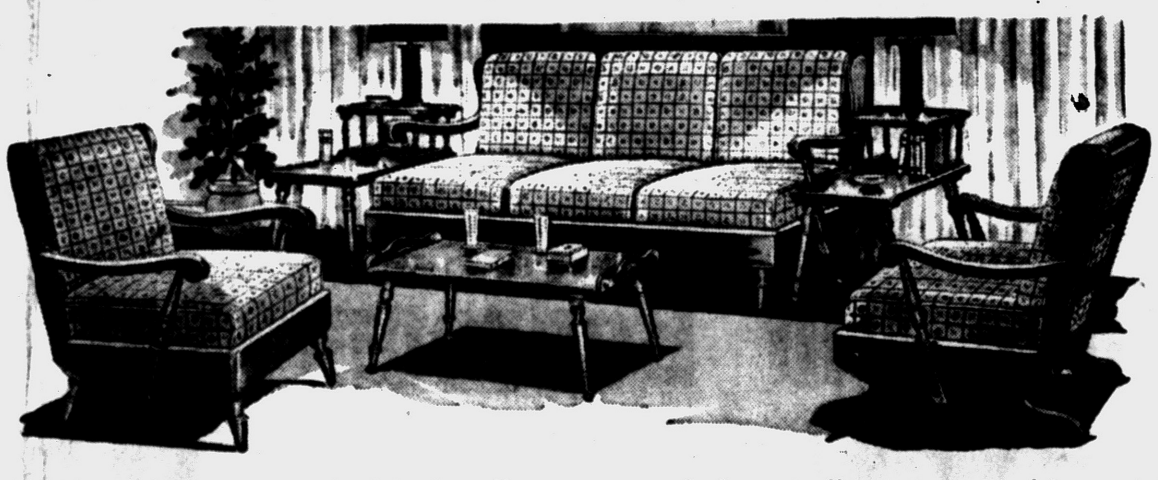

The fare for an average - sized dog from New York to Miami is about $10.

GEORGE'S - NEWPORT'S

MUSICAL CHIEF — Chief Petty Officer Charles A. Roeper and the "ping pong drum" which carries the tune for the Navy's oil drum band.

Navy Band Performing on Old Steel Oil Drums

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — What may be the first "All American" steel band will make its North American debut at Chicago before the year is out.

That is the word from the 10th Naval District here, where a group of United States sailors have mastered the peculiar art of making music from steel oil drums.

DENTS IN DRUMS

It all started when somebody found out that by putting dents of different sizes in the top of a 55-gallon drum, you could get several different notes out of one drum. By trial and error, Trinidadians found that by using the whole drum a deep bass was achieved; that by cutting it in various lengths the range of the notes could be changed.

Progress was continuous—and today the "ping pong drum" — which carries the melody — has a range of 24 notes. The range of a complete set of drums covers four octaves.

Last February, Rear Adm. Daniel V. Gallery, commandant of the 10th Naval District here, visited Trinidad at carnival time. He was so taken by the music of the steel drums he ordered a set. When the drums were ready, he ordered the Navy's band here to go to Trinidad for a week and learn to play them.

DID WELL

Even though many thought a week would not be enough, the boys did well. Upon their return, they began appearing at Navy benefits and charity affairs outside the base. They have been a howling success.

Now they are about ready to go to the States, probably to Chicago, but the date has not been fixed.

The band plays all kinds of music, from the West Indian calypso to slow "boleros" and foxtrots. Even "From the Halls of Montezuma" has been played by the band to a calypso-like rhythm.

Leader of the band is Chief Musician Charles A. Roeper of Butler, Pa. He plays the "ping pong drum" which carries the tune. He sees "a great possibility that steel bands will increase not only in Puerto Rico, but also on the mainland."

"Lots of people will be sold on the idea," he says. "It's fun to play the steel drums. The music is popular and the instruments are inexpensive and easy to make. It's a natural for high school bands."

Tropic Paradise Is Isle of Pines

Boasts Ideal Climate, Mineral Spas, Bargains Fantastic — and Peace

NEW YORK — Americans seeking a tropical paradise complete with a calm unhurried way of life will find it just 80 minutes away from the United States on Cuba's Isle of Pines.

Called a "Treasure Island" in the new issue of a national magazine, this tiny 43-by-35 mile area is covered with palm flecked valleys and acres of pine woodlands. It also possesses the Caribbean most ideal climate, mineral springs that have received world acclaim, and fantastic shopping bargains.

Only 190 miles from America, Cuba's island paradise can be reached by the vacation-minded tourist for a mere $17 plus tax, from Key West, Florida.

Typical of the island's low-cost luxuries is the cost of a five-room house and patio. A house, points out the feature, built in the style o fthe most gracious Stateside home goes for only $5,000. Since Pines is a free port, untaxed goods flow in from around the world.

Whiskey, for instance, sells at the low price of $2 a fifth; perfumes and luxury fabrics are available well below U.S. price levels, and haircuts are only 40 cents.

However, stresses the article, don't place a dollar and cents vaue on this island. The greatest of its treasures is its over-all attitude and atmosphere. For on the Isle of Pines lives one of the world's most contented cultures. There are no strikes or riots. Juvenile delinquency was never heard of, and there are no factories, daily newspapers or radio stations — only 10,000 of the world's happiest and most carefree citizns.

The residents of the Isle of Pines like to demonstrate that they can leave valuable possessions on the main street without fear of theft. Only one person in the history of the island has ever gone to prison for a major offense. The islanders, says the magazine, are almost unbearably ashamed of this blot on their record.

Song Brings Korean on Pennsylvania Visit

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—John D. Yoon, a Korean telephone engineer studying U. S. methods, recently visited Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania.

"Why did you come to Pennsylvania to make your observations?" the Governor asked.

"I heard the song 'Pennsylvania 6-5000' so much in Seoul that I wanted to see what Pennsylvania actually was like," Yoon answered.

Farmington Board Viewing Increases in Appropriations

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Increases in appropriation for the Township Assessor's Office and salaries for clerical personnel are under consideration by the Township Board.

The proposals were received and discussed at a special budget meeting of the board Tuesday night.

TO MEET TWICE

Supervisor Frank J. Stephenson said the board hopes to meet two more times to complete the 1958-59 fiscal year budget which is scheduled to be presented to taxpayers at the annual meeting April 5.

Also to be studied were requests for park and recreation allocations. The Farmington Recreation Commission is seeking $5,000, the Clarenceville Recreation Commission, $1,400, and the Park Commission, $10,000.

A request by Trustee William Fisher for increases in Fire department salaries was approved after Fisher pointed out that the township now has the services of 37 men on call 24 hours a day for a total cost of $8,000 a year.

The board also approved a $304 allocation to purchase jackets for volunteer firemen.

A request by the Oakland County Department of Public Works for the appropriation of $5,000 to help defray engineering costs on the sewer interceptor was regarded favorably but will not be acted upon until the next regular meeting.

Agreeing that an emergency exists, the board allocated $3,000 to purchase two new police cars to replace those which are presently beyond repair.

Trustee Wendell Brown, recommended that $23,150 allocated for the tax assessor's department be raised to $30,000 to complete the job of reassessment in the township.

Supervisor Stephenson pointed out that once tax equity is obtained, the assessor's office can almost become a one-man job.

Salaries for clerical personnel will be discussed by heads of township departments before a final figure is submitted for adoption.

Stephenson requested that the board consider the purchase of two new units of road equipment, which would be financed over a three-year period. The legality of this was questioned and the request was referred to the township attorney for an opinion.

Six thousand dollars was appropriated for four new voting machines.

UAW to Protest Short Weeks

Pontiac Motor, Fisher Workers to Hold Mass Meeting Saturday

A mass meeting for workers of two Pontiac UAW locals has been called for Saturday to protest short work weeks.

The protest will be made on behalf of workers at Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 and Fisher Body Division Local 596 at 10 a.m. Saturday in Local 653 Hall, 386 E. Kennett Rd.

Harold A. Grant, Local 596 president, said that the union is pressing for an end to three-day work weeks.

"We want our members either to be working a full 40-hour shift, or else be laid off so they can be eligible for unemployment compensation," Grant said.

Grant explained that many workers on short weeks are "actually making less money" than their compensation, if laid off, would be.

He said that shop committees at both Fisher and Pontiac plants had pressed for an end to short weeks without success.

He believed that workers should be laid off on the basis of seniority.

Local 653 president Charles Beach was not available for comment on the meeting. He is scheduled to act as chairman.

The president of Pontiac's other UAW local, 594 at GMC Truck & Coach Division, said his membership was not planning to attend.

"Local 594 has not been affected by short weeks," said the local president, Andy Wilson.

Financial Picture Brighter Than Scary Headlines Show

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— It's getting harder today to tell the front page of your newspaper from the business-financial page. Look at the headlines on the front page this week:

Bank reserves cut to free three billion dollars of credit; industrial output in sharp drop; tax cut plans debated; two billion dollars proposed for public works; plan federal loans to states for jobless benefits; big inflationary federal deficit feared; American oil companies caught in middle in Indonesian civil war; exports decline; farm price props by Treasury debated.

U.S. crop acreage to drop further; big steel calls federal taxes confiscatory; stock market reacts to Washington reports; mail order house cuts prices to bolster sales; new security offerings flock to market; profits rise for an oil firm, drop for a metal company; appliance manufacturer sees sales comeback in making.

Economic news is closer than ever today to your pocketbook, the worker's job, to the merchant's chance of breaking even, to the manufacturer's prospect for getting up full steam again.

Sometimes business news moves onto the front page when the economy is on the uptick — as fortunately it had been for several years. And it hits the front page when business is on the downtick —as unfortunately it is today.

But before you let the front-page emphasis get you down, the big thing to remember is this: the downtick, although probably more pronounced than at any time since the war, isn't really too bad yet, and may not become too much worse.

And the downswing started from the highest peak our economy ever reached. Therefore, if the recession follows the path of the two previous ones, the bottom would be considerably higher than the low point they reached.

Also a number of the economy's sectors appear to be untouched by the troubles centering chiefly in the durable goods industries.

Whole regions of the country, too, continue to prosper. Where the long drought has ended things are looking bright. In others, where the recession started well ahead of the rest of the nation, some hopeful signs are being reported that the turnabout seems close at hand.

The most excitement now is in Washington. That's where most of the economic headlines are born today. There party politics are so mixed in with the economic news that it's all but impossible to tell just what is happening and what should be done.

Bidding High in California for Island of Ano Nuevo

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A fish grotto owner bid $100,000 yesterday for Ano Nuevo, a wind-swept, government-owned, nine-acre island half a mile off the nearby San Mateo County coast.

Frank Spenger, 68, said he wants to build a causeway to the island and convert the abandoned lighthouse station into a resort and commercial fishing base.

Whether the Berkeley, Calif. man gets the island depends on California's ability to arrange to buy it from the federal government before May 29. The state gets first chance to buy despite the federal auction.

Spenger said he hadn't been closer to the island than two miles and that only for five minutes two weeks ago.

"I've been a fisherman since I was 9 nine years old," he said. "I like the water. And I just like to do things."

Spenger's bid may mean the state will have to pay more if it wants the island. The state can buy Ano Nuevo for 50 per cent of the market value, previously set at $36,000, but the $100,000 bid may change that.

A General Services Administration spokesman said the market value is set in Washington.

The crowd of 350 gasped as the bids jumped quickly by the thousands. Bidders, about 20 per cent of them women, gave an assortment of reasons for wanting the island, inhabited by thousands of sea lions and with six empty buildings.

Mrs. Margaret W. Taylor, a Tucson, Ariz., housewife, said she wanted it "for fishing and for fun.

"The salt breeze on the island is quite a bit different from the desert air. Besides, I've always wanted an island."

'Sack Dresses No News in Russia'—Hope

By BOB HOPE

MOSCOW (INS) — I've been doing the tourist bit here in Moscow. I visited the armory chamber in the Kremlin, that is a sort of historical museum. I saw the ivory throne of Ivan the Terrible. I think it was copied from Howard Hughes' barber chair.

Jack Benny asked me to bring him back a fur hat with a part in it. So yesterday I went shopping.

Gum department store is the largest in Moscow. It has beautiful fountains, wide stairways and roomy balconies on which an occasional woman may be leaning incongruously eating a salami sandwich. At the perfume counter I was bewitched by such sexy sounding names as "Kremlin" and "Our Moscow."

The new look in clothes hasn't exactly hit here yet. The men look like they're wearing George Raft's old suits. The women, of course, are more in style. They've been wearing sack dresses for years. Everybody looks at my narrow lapels as if to say "couldn't afford more material, eh?"

Sen. Kefauver would be a smash here. All the men wear fur hats. And many of them wear fur coats or coats with fur trimmings. On a dark street you can run into no end of trouble.

Souvenir hunting is no cinch. Almost nothing starts under $20. To encourage tourists they've pegged rubles at 10 to the dollar but it's still expensive.

How do you figure it? Here in the heart of the Communist world you still have got to be a capitalist to enjoy it.

Saginaw River Eyed as Port

Committee Sees Trade Being Drawn From 33 Nearby Counties

BAY CITY (AP)—By drawing cargo from 33 nearby counties, foreign shipping facilities on the Saginaw River could be developed into one of the leading ports on the Great Lakes, a researcher said last night.

Dr. John L. O'Donnell, chairman of the Michigan State University Bureau of Research, presented half of a two-part study authorized by the Tri-County (Midland, Bay and Saginaw) Seaway Study Committee.

O'Donnell said he sent 1,600 questionnaires to business firms in 33 nearby counties and from their answers was "amazed" at all the cargo the tri-county area could draw when the St. Lawrence Seaway is finished.

He said last year 170,000 tons of cargo was shipped to foreign ports other than Canada and 70 per cent of this was to northern European ports.

Potential tonnage, he said, compares favorably with actual tonnage now moving overseas through other Great Lakes ports. O'Donnell said the major exported commodities are beans, grain and chemicals.

He was authorized to finish the report, which he said would deal with port facilities needed and how to develop potential business.

Slate Civil Defense Talk in Groveland Township

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — Ransford Bromley, Oakland county civil defense director, will speak at the Groveland Grange Hall at 8 p.m. Saturday on organizing the township for action in the event of enemy attack or natural disaster.

At the meeting, sponsored by the Mt Bethel Church, he also will show a tornado film. Refreshments will be served.

Keego Harbor Plans 'Clean-Up Week'

KEEGO HARBOR — Preliminary plans for "Clean-Up Week" in Keego Harbor were formulated at the regular meeting of the City Council held Tuesday night in the City Hall.

A tentative date, May 18, was set for the beginning of the drive.

City departments will work in conjunction with the Keego Harbor Junior Chamber of Commerce in carrying out the project.

The council decided to vacate a portion of Wall street for Louis Doyble and John Daherty and accepted the dedication of a portion of the old Detroit United Railway from them. This transaction amounted to a trade of properties of about equal size, according to Mrs. Eileen Van Horn, city clrk.

In other business, the council approved revisions of the 1957-58 budget.

Council members appointed John Zurbrick to the Planning Commission and Vernon Edward to the Election Commission.

Male Birds Offer Gifts

NOME, Alaska—Many birds offer gifts when they become suitors. The male tern may hold a fish crosswise in his beak. Twigs are offered as a present by the night heron; they are a hint to the female that she should set up a nest.

Tiny Vanguard Pooh-Poohed by Red Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — As far as the Communist press and radio are concerned, Vanguard I is just a sour grapefruit-sized satellite.

The Navy's successful launching of its tiny test moon is being reported behind the Iron Curtain.

But the reports from Moscow, Peiping and other Communist places emphasize Vanguard's past failures. They give short shrift to the Vanguard's success last Monday.

The Communist East German report started out with the words "After several abortive attempts . . ."

It pooh-poohed the size of the test satellite, saying Vanguard I was "jocularly described as a grapefruit by the Americans themselves."

The Peiping dispatch started out "After failure in a number of experiments. . . ."

Moscow played it straight, simply reporting the Vanguard launching and successful orbiting. But the Moscow report took twice as much space to record Vanguard's earlier failures as well as postponements prior to the successful shot.

Pontiac Schools Shut Tomorrow

City Teachers to Attend Professional Growth Day at Central High

Pontiac public schools will be closed to students tomorrow so that their teachers may attend the ninth Professional Growth Day.

Dr. Elona Sochor, professor of psychology and director of the reading clinic, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., will be the guest speaker at the morning and afternoon sessions.

The program's theme will be "Developing Better Readers in Secondary Schools". Dr. Sochor will speak on the changing emphasis in reading instruction at the morning session for elementary teachers at 9:20 a.m., at Pontiac Central High School.

At the afternoon session, she will speak to the secondary teachers.

Pontiac teachers will observe other school systems during the day. Some will travel to Birmingham to visit classes at the Adams, Quarton, Pembroke, and Greenfield elementary schools.

Some of the resource persons from out of town for the various panels throughout the day include: Dr. Tom Edwards, reading consultant for Flint Junior College and Flint public schools; Dr. Philip Jones, professor of mathematics, University of Michigan; Dr. William Forbes, science consultant, Oakland County Board of Education; Dr. Harry Hahn, head of instructional services, and Phillip Hilair, head of the reading clinic, both of the Oakland County Board of Education; and Dr. William Peterson, music education department, Wayne State University.

For Waterford Community Activities Center

Sports, Builders' Show Slated

This year's Waterford Township Sports and Builder's show, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Community Activities Center, promises to be the biggest and best show of any produced by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to General Chairman Tom Belton.

Official opening of the fourth annual show will be at 6 p.m. Friday, with the present "Miss Waterford Township," Diane Erickson, performing the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

In addition to the hundreds of displays, entertainment will be presented throughout the three-day affair, along with demonstrations by experts in their fields.

There will be a pistol shooting demonstration by Michigan State Police Lt. Clayton Kendall, and Woody Coe will wrestle a live alligator on the stage on Friday and Sunday.

Trained dogs will be put through their paces by experts from the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club on Saturday and Sunday.

Highlighting the show Sunday evening will be the crowning of the new "Miss Waterford Township" by the present queen. Fourteen girls have qualified for the honor, and preliminary judging will be held Friday and Saturday nights.

Judges for the queen contest are Kenneth Markee, Albert Anselmy, William Bawden, Henry Karwas and Mrs. George Dean.

More than 7,000 people are expected to attend the show. Some 5,000 spectators attended last year, Belton said.

ELAINE JOY KORTE

Nancy J. Gillard Exchanges Vows in Rochester

The engagement of Elaine Joy Korte to Lawrence A. Follis has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Korte of Grange Hall road, Ortonville. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Follis of Ball St., Ortonville. A fall wedding is being planned.

IMLAY CITY—St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Rochester was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Nancy Jane Gillard of Imlay City and John Thomas Humphreys Jr. of Birmingham. The Rev. Edgar Lucas officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Gillard of Imlay City. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John T. Humphreys of Detroit and the late Mr. Humphreys.

The bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and carried white roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas D. Stone, and the bridesmaid was Mrs. Philip McGraw of Grosse Pointe, a sister of the bridegroom.

William G. Winchester III of Birmingham served as best man. Ushers were William Carleton Healy Jr. and Philip McGraw of Grosse Pointe; Joseph Hardig and Charles Campbell of Birmingham.

A reception in the church parlors followed the wedding. The newlyweds are spending their honeymoon skiing at Aspen, Colo.

Thieves Get Jewels From Detroiters

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jewelry worth "at least $100,000" was taken last night from the plush apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Allen, winter visitors from Detroit, police said.

Allen, president of Allen Industries, Inc., said $75,000 in gems belonged to his wife and about $25,000 worth of the missing valuables belonged to a house guest, Mrs. Max Fisher, also from Detroit.

Posses Hunt Boy, 5, Missing Four Days

GAILLIPOLIS FERRY, W.Va. (AP)—Volunteers and National Guardsmen went on a shoulder-to-shoulder search today for 5-year-old Johnny McKinney.

They are covering a 1,200 acre farm near the Ohio River where the boy's father is employed.

Johnny, one of four children, disappeared Monday with two dogs. The dogs came back.

The ground was wet from earlier snow, but the area is relatively clear and the temperatures above freezing.

The boy's father told Dep. Sheriff Mark Harshbarger that at 1:40 a.m. he saw a parked car and heard a child crying while tramping near the river.

The father said the crying stopped and the car drove away.

Harshbarger said he found the tracks of a car and recent footprints leading to the river's edge.

The deputy had said earlier "that too many different stories have been told about the disappearance of this boy. We are not satisfied."

He would not elaborate.

To Take West Point Examination

Township Assisting Youth

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — The result of the second trip to Fort Sheridan, Ill. by Otis Hill today is being awaited anxiously by township officials, police and firemen who made the trip possible.

The 17-year-old youth, who lives at 10672 Ellsworth Ct., was nominated recently for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point by Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

Last week the youth's family scraped up enough money together to send Otis to Fort Sheridan for his written and physical examinations. After his return home the family received a telegram saying the eye examination had been overlooked.

With no money for a second trip, Otis' mother, Mrs. Allree Hill, took the telegram to the Township Hall. Albert West and Howard Dibb, officers of the Goodfellows, organized a drive and collected nearly $40, enough to pay for Otis' round-trip train ticket and meals.

The first township youth to be nominated for West Point, he also would be the first Negro to enter the academy if he meets all the requirements.

New Post Office to Be Built in Troy

TROY—A new Troy post office will be built in the near future, Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) announced today.

The 5,800-square-foot building on Livernois near Leetona will replace the present 810-square-foot facility.

Construction is expected to start this summer and completion is scheduled for Nov. 1, Broomfield said.

Construction firms wishing to bid on the new building may obtain detailed information from John Jehowski, real estate officer, Post Office Department, Main Post Office, Detroit.

Hal Boyle Says:

Joe's Place Safe Harbor for All Seamen

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—"My God is so great. I am only a piece of nothing," said Joe Palughi.

But to thousands of sailors around the world modest Joe Palughi is distinctly a somebody. He is a friend at port to men at sea—men who often feel nobody cares what happens to them.

Joe does. That is why, when their ships dock here, seamen of all nationalities—English, Greek, Italian, Japanese—head first for "Joe's Place," a restaurant.

SAFE HARBOR

Word has gone from ship to ship that here is a place where seamen can spin a yarn, eat or drink, or bring his girl and dance in peace. Nobody will rob or roll him. And if he needs help—there is Joe, an ex-seaman himself who knows the sailor's problems.

Palughi, a short, dark-haired patient man whose eyes always look as if they are fixed on the horizon, is deeply religious and Pope Pius has made him a Knight of St. Gregory.

To many landlubbers the sailor ashore is a noisy troublemaker. To others he is merely someone to exploit or rob. Few bother to try to understand him.

'WONDERFUL FELLOW'

"A seaman actually is a wonderful fellow," insisted Joe. "His mouth may sometimes be as big as his heart. But he isn't vicious. He's lonesome. And usually he is harmless and easy to handle—if you know his ways."

Joe was born on a mountain farm in Italy and was brought to this country at the age of 2. He never has been to school. At 14 he enlisted in the Navy by using his older brother's birth certificate.

In World War I he served aboard a U. S. destroyer in the British Channel.

After that for several years he sailed as a common seaman. Then he got a job here driving a cab. One of his tasks was to meet the merchant ships, and he became indignant at the way roistering sailors were plucked like chickens in waterfront dens.

In time Joe built up a big cab business of his own, built up a big restaurant, too, as a haven ashore for seamen.

NO ROLLING

"I won't let a man be rolled, or taken over by bar girls," he said. "And if he gets in trouble, I like to try to help him."

Joe has been known to take as much as $4,000 from a celebrating seaman, throw him in jail to sober him up; and then, when he emerged chastened, to hand him back his money.

Palughi realizes that a seaman in port is hardly an angel on a picnic, but said:

"When I first went to sea the monthly pay was $42.50. Now it's around $300. As the world progresses, as the living standard gets better, people get better, too. At least they act better."

No missionary but a businessman, Palughi has prospered—and is proud he's done well enough to see that his three children will get the education he didn't.

OFFERS PHILOSOPHY

Here is his philosophy:

"I am grateful to my Creator and humble toward Him. I have no kicks against life, because this life was given to me. Therefore it does not belong to me.

"I do the best I can. If I desired more, God would give it to me. He has already gone out of his way to be kind to me, and I don't deserve that. How can anyone kick against life?"

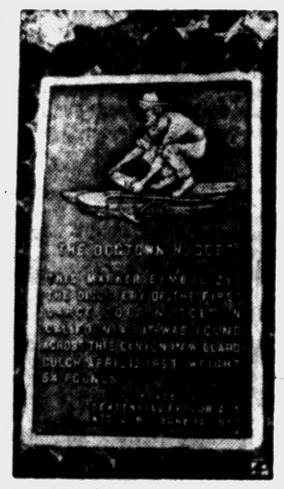

Plaque Reminds World of Dogtown's Finest Hour

MEGALIA, Calif. (AP)—A bronze plaque along a sunbaked canyon road is all that stands today as a reminder of Dogtown's finest hour—the day in 1859 when a 54-pound gold nugget was found.

Back in those day there was shouting in the streets and free drinks at the saloon.

First, it is necessary to explain that this sleepy little community in the rolling hills of northern California once carried the name of Dogtown.

HISTORIC TABLET: The sole reminder of a rowdy day in 1859 whent a 54-pound gold nugget was found. It brought $10,690 to its owners, free drinks to the town.

An early writer tells why:

"Dogs in the stores, dogs in the saloons, dogs in the hotels, dogs in the roads, dogs in the woods, dogs in the miners' camps — in fact, dogs everywhere!"

But getting back to the nugget. It was washed down during hydraulic mining operations on the Willard Claim, along a gulch.

OWNER'S STORY

The three owners of the claim were absent on the big day, but here's an account given by one of them, Ira A. Wetherbee:

"I was playing a game of poker in the afternoon of that day in the saloon at Dogtown when several of the miners demanded that I set up the drinks.

Quite a pot was on the poker table where we were playing, amounting to about $1,300, and I insisted the game be finished before I responded to their request.

"No attention was paid to my desire. . . They picked me up from the chair . . . and set me on the bar and demanded the drinks.

"Thinking some calamity had befallen the mine, and wanting to know all about it, I ordered the drinks. After which I was told of finding the nugget."

The massive chunk, the size of a cantaloupe, was put on exhibit under guard at the Wells, Fargo & Company office for a few days, then was taken to San Francisco and smelted, returning its owners about $10,690.

Special Painting Valued at Million Gets the Works

NEW YORK (AP)—A painting valued at a million dollars got a combination mailed fist and kid glove treatment as it arrived on loan from the Art Institute of Chicago.

To guard against theft, a detective rode in a special railroad car with the masterwork. A police radio car then escorted an insulated truck carrying the painting to the Museum of Modern Art.

Persons near the painting during the unloading were required to remove their shoes so as not to stir up dust. The painting is vulnerable to dust damage because it has never been varnished.

The 6½ by 10 foot painting is "A Sunday Afternoon on the Island of La Grande Jatte" by the late French artist Georges Seurat, who first exhibited it in Paris in 1886.

The present U.S. trust territory of the Marshall Islands, in the South Pacific, was first occupied by Spain and Germany. After World War I, the islands were ceded to the Japanese.

See Beef Costs Nearing Peak

Livestock Men Expect Decline; Prime Brings $39 a Hundredweight

CHICAGO (AP) — Beef prices still are climbing but livestock men believe they are very near the peak.

Prices of slaughter steers at the Chicago stockyards have advanced as much as $1 a hundredweight on each of the last two days due to light receipts. The scarce prime grade of slaughter steers sold for $39 a hundredweight in Chicago yesterday, highest in six years.

The sharpest upturn has been in the top grades, classified as prime and high choice, seldom found at retail in supermarkets. These grades usually reach the consumer through the best hotels and restaurants. They constitute about 3 per cent of slaughter steers now offered to packers.

Good and choice grades are far more plentiful, about 90 per cent of the supply. These grades are expected to become more abundant soon.

The prime or high choice steak you eat in a good hotel or restaurant is the best that livestock men know how to produce. They had that steer on grain feeding—mostly corn—for as long as eight months or perhaps 11 months.

The steak from a choice grade steer is produced in only four to seven months of grain feeding and often it is not as much of the high quality grain which goes to the high choice or prime steer, and the good grade of steer usually has been on grain feed only two or three months. Prior to the heavy grain feeding the choice and good grades may have been mainly on a hay or grass feed.

There are some seasons when high choice and prime grades are sold in retail stores at bargain prices.

These cuts, however, will not be in retail markets before summer since prime beef will continue scarce until late spring.

Photographer Owner of Island in Indonesia

HONOLULU (AP) — Photographer John Florea says he is now the owner of an island in Indonesia.

Florea just returned from the southeast Asia country, where President Sukarno made him a present of the island, in return for travelling with the rebel forces in the fight against the Dutch for Indonesian independence.

Florea said the island is named Pulau Psiang. It's four miles long, two miles wide, and populated by fishermen.

The photographer said he may apply for "foreign aid."

Governors Not Certain of President's Plans

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—In 15 years in Washington this writer has never seen anything more fouled up than what happened yesterday at the White House after President Eisenhower conferred with eight state governors.

It was hard to tell whether a rabbit was being pulled out of the hat, or a rabbit was being put back into a hat.

Eisenhower called in the governors to discuss his idea of providing federal money to those unemployed workers who have used up the jobless pay given them under the federal-state system of unemployment compensation.

When Eisenhower first offered his idea March 8 he seemed to indicate he was thinking of a grant—a gift, which didn't have to be paid back—to the states to give to the unemployed who had exhausted their UC benefits.

This would be a plain dole. The idea of a dole got furious reaction within Eisenhower's own administration. Then administration people began talking of a loan, not a grant, to the states.

So nothing was clear when the governors went in to see Eisenhower. When they came out and held a group news conference this was the main question: Was Eisenhower thinking of a grant or a loan?

That news conference was plain hash. It was so vague it was almost unbelievable. James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, was there and could have cleared it up, or tried to, but he didn't.

Then the reporters tackled the governors individually. Republican Gov. Knight of California and Democratic Governors Rosellini (Washington), Faubus (Arkansas) and Muskie (Maine) talked of the federal help as being in the form of grants.

Knight and Rosellini told this writer the grant idea—requiring no repayment by the states—was the only one on which all eight governors agreed.

But then a White House spokesman gave a different version after newsmen, now thoroughly confused, besieged him for clarification. He said the President was thinking in terms of a loan that would have to be paid back.

He was asked how there could be such a difference of interpretation on what the President had in mind that the governors talked of a grant and he talked of a loan. The spokesman said: "Well, if you were a governor you might look on it as a grant while we look on it as a loan."

Then he got into the arithmetic to explain how states—while getting the money as a "loan"—might not have to raise any new money to pay it back. But when it came down to details on how this could be done, this was the answer: this was something which would have to be worked out.

But there is the point: all but perhaps six states have enough money in their own UC funds to extend the period in which the jobless can draw UC — in most states the maximum is 26 weeks—but they have declined to do so.

So this writer asked one governor who wished to remain unnamed: "Since no more than six states might need federal help to extend the jobless pay periods and all the rest have enough money to do it, if they want to, why should the government have to hand out money to those other 42?"

He said: "That's the best question of the day. And the best answer to it is that the question answers itself."

At this point it seems safe to say the Eisenhower administration is all fogged up itself on what it's going to propose.

Pontiac Library Adds Many New Books to Shelves

Among the many new volumes being put on the shelves of the Pontiac City Library during Library week, March 16-22, are the volumes listed below.

A brief description of the books is also included.

THE ARTS AND CIVILIZATION OF ANGKOR, by Bernard Groslier, is an illustrated volume on ancient Cambodian (Southeast Asian) temple city, which had a great school of sculpture and architecture all its own. This region is comparatively new to archaeology.

THE LOVE OF FINGIN O'LEA, by Theodora McCormick, is a historical novel of Ireland in the 12th century. Romance, daily life and customs of the period, and some journeyings about Europe occupy the characters.

THE BATTLE OF CASSINO, by Fred Majdalany, covers all five of the battles for the Mount, from February to May 1944, and will be of particular interest to veterans.

DEADLINE EVERY MINUTE: THE STORY OF THE UNITED PRESS, written by Joe Morris, covers the wire agency's activities from 1907 to the present, journalism of the times, and UP's worldwide coverage.

THACKERAY: THE AGE OF WISDOM 1847-1863, by Gordon N. Ray, is the second volume of a definitive biography of the Victorian writer. It encompasses many of the great men during a great era, with Thackeray as the focus.

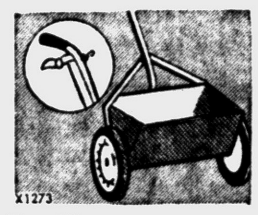

MAGNIFICENT MISSOURIAN: THE LIFE OF THOMAS HART BENTON, by Elbert B. Smith, is a picture of one of our pre-Civil War statesmen, and is also an example of the contemporary art of documented but highly readable biography.

College at Battlefield Site to Be Study Center

Gettysburg Plans Civil War Institute

BATTLE VETERAN — This is Pennsylvania Hall at Gettysburg College, whose cupola served as watchtower first for Union then Confederate officers during the Battle of Gettysburg. The college hopes the historic building will be the first home of a National Civil War Institute.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A long-sought dream of Civil War buffs and historians may be near reality in this battlefield community.

With the centennial observance of the nation's bloodiest struggle only 3½ years away, Gettysburg College is mapping plans to set up a National Civil War Institute to collect the treasures, fact and fiction of the four-year conflict.

"Gettysburg is a magic name in American history, it marked a beginning in this nation's long rise to world leadership," says Lt. Gen. Willard S. Paul, president of the college.

"We feel the time has come for such an institute, and we are convinced this battlefield is properly the place for it."

TO USE OLD DORM

To help the plan along the college has earmarked its bullet-scarred Pennsylvania Hall — more familiarly "Old Dorm" — as the first building to house the proposed institute.

"Some 94 years ago Old Dorm shook to the sound and fury of the nation's bloodiest battle. It's long halls were slippery with the blood of wounded Union and Confederate soldiers. Its cupola was the watchtower first of Northern, then of Southern officers plotting the carnage that was the battle of Gettysburg.

Today it stands in quiet repose, shrouded by trees, a home for students.

CENTER OF STUDY

"We hope the institute will become a center for Civil War studies," Paul said. "Our aim is for it to assist students—both professional and amateur—toward better research and interpretation of the war."

The idea of setting up such an institute grew out of the recent first national conference on the Civil War held at the college in mid-November in conjunction with the school's 125th anniversary.

Top Civil War scholars from across the nation joined forces to reappraise the impact of the conflict on the growth of the United States as a world power. All agreed that there was a need for such an institute and that Gettysburg was the logical place for it.

CONFERENCE BEGINNINGS

The conference was the curtain-raiser on what promises to be a massive observance of the Civil War centennial — which will probably continue well into 1965, the 100th anniversary year of the war's end.

Paul says the planned institute would not be limtied to military developments, but include civil affairs, arts, literature, politics, international relations and studies of the long-range impact of the war on current national problems.

"To implement this aim we hope to establish first a summer school Civil War workshop, bringing in the top men in the field as lecturers," Paul said. "Field trips to other Civil War battlefields would be part of the program."

Paul said the long-range plan for the institute is to build up an extensive library and museum covering not only the war period, but also the period leading up to the war and during its aftermath.

"With a central institute," adds Paul, "perhaps these elements of our greatest national tragedy can be brought together or catalogued with an eye to preserving them for the future."

Threatens Officer With His Own Gun

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Patrolman Don Ansel, a policeman for only 14 months, stared at his own gun. "Let my brother loose or I'll kill him.

"You're under arrest for assault with a deadly weapon," Ansel said levelly, "and feloniously obstructing (an officer in the line of duty)."

None interfered.

A few minutes earlier, Ansel, 27, arrested Richard Haupt, 31, for investigation of drunk driving. Haupt's brother Bernard, 29, a passenger in the car, grabbed Ansel's gun as the patrolman wrestled with Richard, who resisted arrest. Bernard shouted: "Let my brother loose or I'll kil you."

Ansel remained motionless as Deputy Paul Cavicchi arrived on the scene. The deputy distracted Bernard and Ansel snatched back his weapon. Both brothers were arrested. No charges have been filed.

The famous cherry trees in Washington, D.C., which were given by the City of Tokyo to the United States in 1912, bloom for only about 12 days each year. No one can say exactly which 12 days.

Says British Planes Avoid Red Borders

LONDON (AP)—Air Minister George Ward has brushed off a student magazine's charge that British planes cross the Iron Curtain so the Soviet military reaction can be monitored for intelligence information.

"There are stringent precautions to prevent penetration of the frontier area between East and West Europe by any aircraft," Ward said in answer to a Laborite challenge in the House of Commons.

Laborite Frank Allaun had taken up the report, which first appeared in the Oxford University student magazine Isis and was attributed to an unidentified ex-serviceman.

Science Learns Driving Makes Them Tense

Never Try to Argue With Truckers

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — In a smashing new victory over the unknown, modern science has at last come to understand why you should never argue with a truck driver.

It turns out that truck driving, like some other activities, imposes relentless vibration on the driver, making him argumentative and tense—regardless of his usual manner when at rest.

According to the U. S. Army Surgeon General's office and the Bostrom Research Laboratories who together have scientifically vibrated monkeys, truck drivers and people, effects on performance have been noteworthy.

Tests of truck drivers immediately after a session on the vibrating table show: impairment of visual acuity; loss of equilibrium; inability to steer a vehicle accurately.

In real-life truck driving, according to a Bostrom Laboratory engineer, it is not uncommon to read accident reports in which drivers say they swerved to avoid an hallucination: giant spiders, imaginary cows, etc.

"Vibration," the engineer said, "is a stress on any body. Relentless vibration on the human body can be a terrible stress."

He explained that autopsies of monkeys which had been shaken to death revealed burst hearts and a complete smoothing out of the usually convoluted brain surface.

The stress of vibration, the research shows, is a matter of frequency as real and perceptible as any sound.

All bodies—bells, glasses, people — have a natural frequency, the engineer explained. If you hit a bell it will send out a tone of its natural frequency. And if you jar a person at his normal frequency, he will silently resonate.

Natural frequency for most people, according to the laboratory tests, is four-per-second—almost exactly the frequency of vibration in many vehicles.

And so a truck driver behind the wheel of his rolling vibrator will be bounced furiously at his natural frequency. If he has a cushion of any sort under him, he can vibrate up to four times more violently than the truck.

In any case, his resonance will punish both his body and his emotions.

In reverse, with fewer pulses than his most comfortable one-per-second, vibration will cause seasickness.

Today, the problem facing engineers from this source is one of building an independent system for drivers and passengers that will let them vibrate at their comfortable frequency regardless of what the vehicle does.

Vibration research has made enough dramatic discoveries to interest the U.S. Department of Health in this hazard that jeopardizes many more people than the nation's 10 million truck drivers.

Laboratory work has come up with other vehicles vibrating at the natural human frequency. For example, most earth-moving construction equipment, farm tractors, helicopters.

One of the most common vibration offenders, according to laboratory reports, is the school bus. Which may explain why you should never argue with school children.

4-Cent Stamp Gaining Favor

Senate Conferees Pick Letter Rate Less Than Administration's Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances for a final victory for the 4-cent letter stamp over a 5-cent rate appeared improved today by the choice of Senate conferees on postal rate-pay legislation.

Republican Senate leaders grumbled privately over the makeup of the conferees but said they had decided against any floor fight on the matter.

The Senate named only three conferees on the bill — Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate Post Office Committee and Senators Monroney (D-Okla) and Carlson (R-Kan). Republicans said the number of conferees is usually five.

Johnston and Monroney both were strong proponents of a flat 4-cent rate for letters instead of the higher figure asked by President Eisenhower.

Carlson led the successful floor fight for the administration's position. The Senate voted 49-42 for the 5-cent rate on nonlocal letters and 4 cents on local mail, with the 5-cent stamp limited to three years. The current rate is 3 cents.

Carlson said he did not believe the setup necessarily would mean the defeat of the 5-cent stamp.

Carlson said the conference had many complicated issues to face, including other rate changes and Senate inclusion of pay increases of about 737 million dollars annually for the 500,000 postal workers.

The House last year voted for 527 million dollars worth of rate hikes including a flat 4-cent letter rate, but has not acted on a postal pay raise.

The Senate voted an average 12½ per cent pay boost for the postal employes.

This is far higher than Republican leaders have said Eisenhower will accept, although Carlson himself offered an 8½ per cent raise on the floor as a substitute for the Democratic 12½ per cent plan.

Old Troopers, Especially Rebs, Never to Fade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some old soldiers, especially Confederates, never fade away so far as the National Archives are concerned.

A House Appropriations subcommittee was asked for $60,000 to start microfilming cards which contain the military service records of Confederate veterans.

"There has been a great demand for such data from the Southern states which did not get this kind of information from the federal government after the Civil War," U.S. Archivist Wayne C. Grover told the subcommittee.

He said once the cards were filmed, copies could be prepared inexpensively for the 12 or 13 states interested and ultimately the National Archives would have fewer requests for information.

Seeking to Clean Up Reds' Money Mess

SAN MARINO (AP) — The anti-Communist government of the world's tiniest republic wants the United States and Italy to help clean up the financial mess the Reds left behind.

Foreign Minister Federico Bigi told San Marino's Parliament that the Communist government, ousted in a bloodless revolution last October, left the treasury $1,225,000 in the red.

Bigi said San Marino "can cure its ills only if it has the friendship, understanding and extraordinary aid from great democratic countries, especially Italy and the United States."

The stegosaurus, a prehistoric dinosaur, was 30 feet long and had a heavily armed body and tiny head.

Test Solar Heat Plan

NEW YORK — Several of the nation's big metals companies are treating and blackening metal roofs to absorb the sun's rays and heat a circulating water system.

Now being used experimentally, the system provides only a part-time fuel-saving alternative for regular heating plants because it can operate only during days when the sun is out.

Demand Rising for Prefab Steel Structures

NEW YORK — A boom may be in the making for flexible, low-cost prefab steel structures to house valuable equipment for farm and industry.

Some steel companies report there is a rising market for "do-it-yourself" steel prefabs that can be put up quickly, simply and without high-priced help.

FORESEES STEEL HOMES

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says the demand for steel prefabs comes primarily from farms and industry but speculated that "do-it-yourself" buildings for human habitation may be in the offing in the not-too-distant future.

Farmers and industry long have been on the look-out for this type of structure that would be flexible in size and height, fireproof, termite, rodent and rot proof as well as be insulated to provide all-weather comfort.

NEATLY PACKAGED

Steelways says an entire structure complete with doors and windows can be delivered as simply as if it were one of the large appliances. It comes in neat packages, all parts of factory pre-punched and pre-engineered, to facilitate assembly by the unskilled.

MSU Computer Plays Australian Army Song

EAST LANSING (AP)—The versatile MISTIC, Michigan State's electronic computing wizard, now can play the Australian Army song, "Waltzing Mathilda."

A special tape that produces the tune via the computer's audible signals recently was received as a gift from operators of MISTIC's sister machine at the University of Sydney, Australia.

It resulted from an exchange of information of common problems and operating techniques.

Life Isn't All Steak, Potatoes and Dollars

Coeds Learn to Eat on 50 Cents a Day

PROVO, Utah (AP)— Coeds at Brigham Young University are constantly doing what any housewife knows can't be done—eating on 50 cents a day when meat and potatoes come high.

The girls don't seem to lose weight; they get nutritious but simple meals and they have a reasonably varied diet.

They do it in a sort of combat course for senior students of instructors feel every girl should learn how to avoid starvation in hard times.

For nine-day stretches, two of the girls move to a separate apartment set up by the university. Mrs. Stella Lewis, homemaking instructor, hands over "hubby's" paycheck—a measly $10 for the nine-day period.

One girl becomes "husband" or "host" and the other becomes "planner" or "wife." With these trappings of reality, the shoestring campaign begins.

Just to prove that life needn't be all steak, potatoes and dollars, seniors Pauline Barlow, 22, and Rachel Schmidt, 23, produced the following evening meal:

Beef stew, dumplings, tossed salad with a microscopic slice of bacon and a razor-thin egg slice, milk (whole mixed with powdered and chilled to taste better) and apricot gelatin dessert.

The cost: just over 49 cents for both girls—or about 28 cents each.

Sumptuous dinners like that mean breakfast and lunch must be held to pennies per girl.

The meals wouldn't provide ballast for a lumberjack's fork, but they would hold him until he could find a restaurant.

Mrs. Lewis says the girls have no trouble living on 50 cents a day—that all of them turn back a dollar or two from the $10 paycheck.

They are required to prepare three meals daily. Skipping breakfast or lunch brings on a wave of icebox raiding that depletes the budget.

Others are fully aware they probably won't snag a millionaire.

Needy Will Receive U.S. Surplus Butter

LANSING (AP) — An Agriculture Department announcement that butter will be added to the list of surplus commodities distributed to the needy will benefit about 220,000 persons in Michigan, Gov. Williams said today.

Williams said the distribution from the butter now in government storage will amount to about a pound and a half per month per person. This will be in addition to butter distributed through the school lunch program.

The governor recently sent an aide to Washington to urge such distribution to benefit those receiving surplus commodities, particularly older persons.

There are now 30 gold producing mines in Ontario, Canada, and their production of gold and silver is about 85 million dollars a year.

Acquires Detroit Plant

DETROIT (AP) — C. M. Hall Lamp Co., manufacturer of automotive lighting equipment and parts, announced Thursday it has acquired a second Detroit plant. It is a three-story building on East Grand blvd. No details on price were given.

40-Hour Week Set at Waterford

Office Employes Plan Will Begin on April 1; Police Not Affected

Beginning April 1, Waterford Township office employes will work a full 40-hour week, rather than between 35 and 37 hours which they now work, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

This does not apply to the police department, Johnson added, as patrolmen are presently working a 40 - hour week and "sometimes more."

Township office workers have been scheduled to work from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and then take turns working Monday nights until 8 p.m. They also alternate work until noon on Saturdays. By accumulating hours, they have one full day each week from work.

In the new setup, the office employes will work from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily in addition to working until noon each Saturday. In mid-summer the township offices are closed on Saturday.

Township assessors will start work at 8 a.m. and work until 5 p.m. each day, and will not work on Saturdays.

In other changes, Carl Walton has been appointed acting Chief Building Inspector, effective April 1, replacing Emil Grischow, who will continue in the department as an assistant.

Two township stenographers will be cut from the payroll in an economy move by officials. During the peak periods, extra part-time employes will be hired, Johnson said.

He added that officials are now working on the 1958-59 township budget, which must be in the Oakland County treasurer's office by April 15.

Can't Find Judge Who's Willing to Marry Them

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Maynard L. Crothers, 30, and his 19-year-old girl friend want to get married but they can't find a judge to perform the ceremony.

Crothers is in the Kalamazoo County Jail awaiting examination on an armed robbery charge.

Municipal Judge Clark M. Olmsted refused to marry him and Arlyn Blanche Udvare yesterday because he said it would be "morally wrong."

The Ligonier, Ind., couple previously got refusals from Probate Judge Donald T. Anderson and Justice William Wright of nearby Paw Paw.

Olmsted said, "I refuse to make my name and the office which I hold party to such an arrangement."

Crothers is held in the $7,000 holdup of a Kalamazoo supermarket about six weeks ago. He previously was released from Michigan City, Ind., prison after serving 7½ years for armed robbery.

Miss Udvare had taken out a marriage license and was given permission by Sheriff B. K. MacGregor to marry Crothers outside the jail under police escort.

Babies' Pacifiers Making Comeback

CHICAGO—Writing in Today's Health magazine, Peter C. Goulding, a staff member of the American Dental Association, says that many pediatricians and dentists now are beginning to look on the babies' pacifier as "at least a partial answer to the vexing problem of how to prevent prolonged thumb sucking and the dental disfigurement it causes."

Goulding said bacterological studies have shown that pacificers are actually more sanitary than the thumb and that, because of their soft texture, pacifiers are less likely than the thumb to force teeth out of position.

Studies indicate also, Goulding wrote, that children apparently give up pacifiers earlier and with less trouble than thumbs.

Tea Factory Is Flown to Area in New Guinea

WAU, New Guinea — A new industry transplanted bodily to the New Guinea highlands is reported to be getting off to a good start.

To grow tea in the Waria Valley, half way between the gold fields of Wau and the rubber and coffee fields of Kododa, the administration found it necessary to fly in a complete tea factory, after successfully planting an initial 200 acres and lining up 130 natives willing to learn tea plantation work. The factory had to be flown from Lae, a main port, to Garaina, 80 miles away in the Waria Valley.

The parts of the plant—costing around $80,000—were prefabricated in Britain and shipped out. They were crated to fit the DC3 freighter planes used in New Guinea. It required 23 flights to get them in. Now a further 100 acres of tea has been planted and prospects seem good.

9 States Aid Drivers

WASHINGTON—The Inter-Industry Safety Committee reports that Oregon and Utah have passed laws providing financial aid to schools offering high school driver education. Their action brought to nine the number of states now helping schools pay the cost of training young drivers.

Vanguard Satellite Rocket Lends Hope to 'Moon Shoot' This Year

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense officials said today the success of the Vanguard satellite rocket brightens hopes for placing a one-ton TV-equipped satellite into orbit and hitting the moon this year.

These are two of the projects known to be in America's space research plans and both reportedly will employ parts of the electronically-refined Vanguard rocket to accomplish their missions.

There was some speculation that the "moon shoot" may be a combined Army-Navy-Air Force operation under the Defense Department's new Advanced Research Projects Agency, which is known to have a plan under study.

The success of the 72-foot, three-stage Vanguard rocket in placing a grapefruit-size sphere into a high orbit around the earth, after two previous failures, gave impetus to planning for the more spectacular space accomplishments.

As matters stand, these projects are known to be in the works:

The Navy is planning six more Vanguard launchings with fully-instrumented, 21 and a half-pound payloads compared to the three and a fourth-pound, 6.4 inch sphere launched yesterday.

The Army, which launched America's first satellite, the 30.8 pound Explorer I, on Jan. 31, is planning two and possibly three more similar attempts with its Jupiter-C rocket assembly. It then looks toward five more launchings — possibly with its Jupiter 1,500-mile ballistic missile and Vanguard components — of progressively heavier satellites, some with television equipment.

The Air Force, thus far shut out of the satellite business, plans on using its Thor 1,500-mile missile, with Vanguard's second and third stages, to launch a TV-equipped reconnaissance satellite of 1,300 to 2,000 pounds this year.

The Air Force also claims it can place a marker on the moon or orbit a TV-equipped satellite around the moon with existing equipment. The Army says its Jupiter, with other components, has the capability, too.

Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker says there are "definite plans" in the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency for an attempt to "push something in the direction of the moon" in a few months.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, said "the next logical step" in the space experiments would be to put a satellite into orbit as far out as the moon — 240,000 miles from earth. He said a camera could be placed in the satellite to photograph the back side of the moon.

He said "we have a vehicle now that could be used" for this purpose but felt it would be a year or so before such an attempt could be made. Hagen said such a satellite could orbit around the moon instead of earth.

The company which built the explosive third stage of Vanguard said it packs enough power to land a marker on the moon.

Hagen also said the U. S. may put a total of ten satellites into orbit around the earth by the end of the year.

The Vanguard I rocket, which officials exulted "met or exceeded expected performances," placed its payload into an orbit varying from 400 to 2,500 miles — higher than either of the Russian Sputniks or the Army Explorer I.

Officials estimated that because of its height, it would remain in orbit from five to 10 years.

It is circling the earth once every 135 minutes and radioing back radio signals to tracking stations around the globe.

Trailing about a mile behind the satellite, also in orbit, is the five-foot long third stage of the rocket which gave the satellite the final push to attain the 18,000 miles an hour speed necessary to orbit.

Hagen said "moonwatch" teams probably will be able to spot the rocket launcher with the naked eye but the 6.4 inch satellite can only be seen through a telescope.

The sphere contains two radios, one powered by conventional batteries, the other using energy drawn from the sun by solar cells. Hagen said the solar battery speeds the anticipated achievement of a TV-equipped satellite.

Hagen and other project officials were delighted at the success after two previous Vanguards blew up at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile test center and 14 other tries had to be called off because of technical difficulties.

This time, there was only one short delay and the rocket blasted off beautifully at 7:16 a.m. (EST). At 9:40 a.m., President Eisenhower announced that it was in orbit.

Vanguard crewmen, disappointed but undaunted by previous failures, prophetically painted on the nose cone of the rocket:

"Have ball, will travel."

Prober Detects FCC 'Pattern'

House Quiz Chairman Says Charges Made of 'Certain Influences'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of a House investigating subcommittee said today he thinks there has been a pattern in the way the Federal Communications Commission decides cases.

Harris said in an interview there had been charges a "pattern" in the FCC "developed out of certain influences and particularly White House influences."

He said his subcommittee needs to look into more contested television cases to establish whether there was such a pattern.

For more than a month, the Harris subcommittee has been investigating allegations that influence and pressures were exerted on behalf of various applicants for TV Channel 10 in Miami. In a 4-2 decision, the FCC awarded the coveted license to a National Airlines subsidiary in February 1957. But the FCC now has moved to reconsider that grant.

"We cannot say any one pattern has developed out of this one case," Harris said, referring to the Miami contest.

The subcommittee today summoned two more witnesses connected with applicants for the Miami channel.

First on the list was Milt Dean Hill, public relations employe for National Airlines.

Due to testify next was Paul A. Porter, FCC chairman in 1944-46 and lawyer for A. Frank Katzentine, Miami Beach radio station operator who waged an unsuccessful fight for the Miami TV license.

Hill has been mentioned in connection with a $2.40 telephone call.

Alexander G. Hardy, a vice president of National, testified Hill listed the call as made in connection with the Channel 10 case although actually it was a personal call to someone not connected with the controversy.

A memorandum on the call was in a file marked "Political."

Forester Appointed

HOUGHTON (AP) — Philip L. Thornton has been appointed research forester at Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center at Alberta. He previously was employed by the Lakes State Forest Experiment Station.

Takes Ferris Post

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Dr. P. Lowell Chapman has been appointed head of the accounting department of Ferris Institute's Commerce Division, effective June 1. He now is professor of accounting at Northern Illinois University.

Stoneham's Son Faces Manslaughter Hearing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Charles Horace (Pete) Stoneham, son of the San Francisco Giants' president, was scheduled for preliminary hearing today on a traffic manslaughter charge.

The 30-year-old Stoneham, vice president of the club, is free under $2,500 bond since his car collided with that of William B. Leach, 63, of Victoria, B.C. ast Feb. 4. Leach's wife, Jennie, 55, was killed in the crash.

Deaths Elsewhere

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sen. Joseph Rodriguez Claveria of Veracruz, political leader of the upper chamber, died in a hospital yesterday of a heart ailment. He was a close friend of President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines.

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — Arde Bulova, 69, of New York, chairman of the board of the Bulova Watch Co., Inc., died yesterday. His father Joseph Bulova founded over the past 45 years. He was born in New York.

NEW YORK (AP) — Montgomery Wright, 65, retired newspaperman died yesterday of a heart attack. Wright started his newspaper career with the Kansas City Star and later held jobs with the old New York Sun, Radio Corp. of America and Voice of America. He was born in Kansas City.

CHICAGO (AP) — Walter Bartky, 56, University of Chicago vice president in charge of special scientific programs, died yesterday of cancer. An expert in applied mathematics, Bartky was a member of the university staff since 1926. He was born in Chicago.

LANSING (AP)—Frederick E. Lenhard, 40, executive director of the Michigan Welfare League, died suddenly of a heart attack here yesterday afternoon. Lenhard collapsed in his office at the Lansing Civic Center and was dead on arrival at the St. Lawrence Hospital.

Charlotte Bronte, author of "Jane Eyre," wrote in such a small hand that she could get 16 lines on each inch of paper.

South Africa at Top in Uranium Export

CAPE TOWN — The Union of South Africa exported some $95,000,000 worth of uranium during 1956.

The country's 4,400-ton production ranked it with Canada and the United States as the world's top producers.

Learn Disease Through Analysis of Blood Drops

BALTIMORE (AP) — Studies at Johns Hopkins indicate it may be possible to diagnose many diseases simply by analyzing a drop of blood.

However, the announcement cautioned that studies to date were not conclusive. Many hundreds and possibly thousands of tests will be required for each disease before conclusive results will be known.

The diagnoses are obtained by studying one group of blood constituents, the mucoproteins or serum mucoids.

The theory of Dr. Winston Price, who was in charge of the tests, is that blood particles take on characteristics peculiar to a certain disease whenever the disease is present.

The blood particles might determine if cancer, tuberculosis, ulcers, heart disease, or some other disease is in the patient.

Slate Dinner Saturday

Members of the Rae-Vens, an all-girl drill team, are sponsoring a spaghetti dinner Saturday at the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn. Building, 761 W. Huron St., to raise funds to attend a national contest in Milwaukee this summer.

As originally written, Verdi's "The Masked Ball" was an opera concerning the assassination of a king. But, as played mostly in these times, it has to do with the murder of the "Governor of Boston."

Waterford Unit Hears Statement

School Superintendent to Present Preliminary Budget Tonight

A preliminary statement of the 1958-59 Waterford Township school district operating budget will be presented by superintendent William Shunck, when the Board of Education meets at 7:30 tonight.

In other business, another request from the Association of Handicapped Children for use of a school storage building at the rear of the Waterford Village school will be presented.

The Board of Education had turned down the first request of the group for use of Newberry Elementary school on Clintonville road, due to the growing need for Waterford Township school space.

Shunck will present recommendations for a proposed attendance area for the new Thomas Cooley school to be constructed on the north side of Watkins Lake. The $325,000 school is expected to be finished some time next year, he said.

Board members will also discuss senior high school sites, and further consideration will be given the request for the school district's participation in paving the road on the west side of Donelson school.

Bids on library furniture for the new John D. Pierce Junior high school will be opened and the board will also be asked to make selections of classroom furniture for the school, scheduled to open in September.

South Africa Studies Control of Evaporation

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — South Africa is testing methods to halt rapid evaporation of water in dams, Cape Town reports.

Evaporation of the Roolberg Dam costs an average of 2,500,000 gallons of water a day, exceeding the daily water supply discharged from the dam for irrigation.

Annual loss by evaporation from open water surfaces in the Union varies from four feet to more than nine feet, according to the Department of Hydrology in Pretoria.

Australia has experimented with the use of Cetyl Alcohol on the surface of the water, reducing evaporation by 27 per cent and this method may be used in Africa. Saving water this way costs one penny per 1,000 gallons.

Negotiated Through Defense Department

Potter 'Shocked' by Deal to Buy Japanese Trucks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) today disclosed a Defense Department contract to buy 21 million dollars worth of Japanese-manufactured military trucks this year. He called it a "shocking" agreement.

He said the purchase starts a proposed five-year program of buying Japanese trucks for use by the Japanese armed services under the military assistance phase of the foreign aid program.

The Defense Department confirmed Potter's announcement, adding it decided on the program last year "after careful consideration."

"To my mind," said Potter in a speech for the Senate, "it is unthinkable and unconscionable that our own people should be bypassed in this fashion, particularly when we remember that their taxes are helping to pay the bill."

Potter is seeking re-election this year in a state where widespread unemployment, primarily because of the prolonged slump in the automotive industry, preceded the nationwide recession.

The Army yesterday said it will award 100 million dollars in truck and trailer contracts to U. S. auto makers within the next 30 days. Of this total, 3,200 three-quarter ton trucks and 1,000 one-ton trucks would be produced in Detroit. An earlier report that the order consisted of 33,000 trucks proved erroneous and was later revised by Potter's office.

A Defense Department spokesman said this country will purchase Japanese versions of trucks used by the U. S. Army in World War II and no longer produced in this country. He said they will be manufactured in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

"If we tried to produce them here," the spokesman said, "it would mean complete retooling." He said Japanese manufacture will be much cheaper.

The spokesman said the World War II-style trucks probably were desired because the Japanese armed services will find them easier to maintain than present models.

When asked why no announcement of the plan was made last year, he replied, "We don't announce these things."

Potter, a strong foreign aid backer in the past, hinted he might now modify his support. He said he would "pursue this matter most vigorously when appropriation of funds for the military assistance program comes before our (appropriations) committee, to see that the best interests of our own workers are protected."

When Rogers reached him about the Japanese contract, Potter told the Senate, "I could not believe that our Department of Defense would take action so adverse to our own automotive industry and to the men and women employed therein."

He called the Japanese contract "tragic . . . for almost a half a million unemployed automotive workers in my Michigan to say nothing of the unemployed across the nation in industries which supply the automotive companies."

The Church of Sweden Assembly in Stockholm recently voted, 62 to 26, against the proposal to permit women to become ordained ministers.

Sets Up Committee on State Economy

LANSING (AP) — Establishment of a committee on Michigan's economic future has been announced by Gov. Williams.

William M. Day, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., will be chairman of the committee. Other appointments will be made shortly.

"The function of the committee will be to study the past and present economy of Michigan and predict, as accurately as possible, what conditions we will face in the future so we can plan for those conditions," Williams said.

He said the committee would cooperate with existing state agencies and he hoped for private financing to support its work.

The governor said the committee would be divided into four "task forces" concerned with industrial and commercial modernization, manpower trends and future needs, Michigan's changing economy and evaluation of Michigan's growth assets.

Six U.S. Jets Salute New Zealand Air Force

TOKYO (AP) — Six U.S. jet warplanes sped south today on a good will visit to salute New Zealand's air force and demonstrate the mobility of Western airpower.

Four F100 Super Sabres and two RB66 twin-jet light bombers took off from Yokota Air Force Base near Tokyo on the first leg of their 5,360-mile flight. They will refuel in flight and stop at Guam and Brisbane, Australia. They are due in New Zealand next Tuesday.

TEACHING THE TEACHERS — New Jersey grade school teachers learn new techniques at Rutgers University's education workshop. Tomorrow's teachers face even tougher refreshers.

Tomorrow's School Teachers Face Difficult College Courses

MEET CHALLENGE

School experts believe preparation for the teaching profession must be placed on a par with that received by doctors and lawyers if the U. S. is going to meet successfully the Soviet challenge in science and education.

Dr. T. M. Stinnett, executive secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, declares.

"People are going to have to be more broadly and richly educated than ever before in our history." The high ranking National Education Association official explains that this will call for teachers of the highest quality.

And the best way to guarantee that they meet top notch standards, he believes, is to design a rigid college curriculum for teachers comparable to professional studies like law and medicine.

"Indeed, the basic distinguishing mark of all respected professions is the completion of a prescribed college or university program of preparation," Dr. Stinnett says. "If no prescribed program exists, then no profession exists."

First of all he believes all teachers should train for at least five years and receive a masters degree. In fact, he looks forward to the day when they will have to go to college for six years.

"You just don't turn out a broadly educated teacher in four years and train him professionally, too," Dr. Stinnett declares. He would like to see teachers take only general academic courses until they reach their junior year in college.

PICK UP COURSES

Then they would pick up courses in teaching techniques which would continue throughout the next three years along with more academic work. The sixth year would be reserved for intense specialization in professional fields like school administration or complicated subjects like advanced math and science.

With the possible exception of the sixth year, emphasis would always be put on academic subjects instead of on courses dealing with teaching methods.

Dr. Stinnett explains that the undergraduate liberal arts workload would contain special pre-education subjects to prepare students for the stiff professional training awaiting them during their graduate years. These subjects would compare to those which students must take to get into law or medical school.

But before this beefed-up education program can be successful, Dr. Stinnett believes major changes must take place in graduate schools. For instance, he explains that many graduate science courses are designed for students planning to work for industry.

Consequently, education students often can't enroll since they don't meet the prerequisites for these subjects. Dr. Stinnett wants graduate schools to offer science courses which will meet the special needs of teachers.

Accident Death First

GREENFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A 4-year old girl was killed yesterday when struck by an automobile as she crossed U.S. Route 67 in front of her home. It was the first traffic death in the 74-year history of this southwestern Illinois town of 987. The child was Susan Thornton.

Yellowstone National Park was created in 1872, the first and still the largest of the U. S. national parks.

OKs Conviction of Portland DA

High Court of Oregon Rules Against Langley in Gambling Case

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Conviction of Dist. Atty. William Langley on a charge of deliberate failure to prosecute gambling was upheld yesterday by the Oregon Supreme Court.

Langley, 42, was removed from office and fined $100 a year ago in one of the major trials of Portland's vice investigation.

The former chief legal officer of Multnomah County (Portland) appealed the conviction, contending he was deprived of a fair trial because photographers were permitted in the courtroom and because the gambling in question was for charity and therefore legal.

The opinion by Justice Hall S Lusk deplored the photographers' presence in the court but said this was not an error on which Langley's conviction could be reversed.

The opinion also said that Langley should have moved against the gambling which took place at a party given by a paint dealers' association to raise charity funds.

Langley, who recently filed for Democratic nomination to regain the job of district attorney, said he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Two other state charges are still pending against Langley, accusing him of conspiracy to hinder and obstruct justice and conspiracy to take a bribe.

These indictments are among more than 100 returned against some 40 persons in the yearlong investigation of charges of vice and corruption here.

Strictly on Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — People order things from catalogues, but the government buys them from schedules. Clarence D. Bean, commissioner of federal supply, explained the difference this way: "Catalogues have pretty pictures and numbers."

2,100 Parks in States

WASHINGTON—The states have 2,100 park areas, which occupy 5,165,000 acres. There are 6,048 year-round state - park employees and 8,884 seasonal employees.

Japanese Workers Clash With Police

TOKYO (AP) — Police and postal workers tangled in minor clashes today as Japanese labor stepped up its annual spring drive for more pay.

Thirty thousand postal and telegraph workers across the nation left their jobs for two-hour rallies. Seventy thousand members of Sohyo, the General Council of Japanese Trade Unions, joined the rallies in sympathy.

In Tokyo 1,000 policemen around the central post office tussled with 2,500 workers and sympathizers. No one was hurt, but minor injuries resulted from similar clashes in other cities.

The National Railway Workers Union carried out a slowdown strike, especially on freight trains, and the miners union, now on a 48-hour strike, intends to call 35,000 of its members off the job indefinitely starting Friday.

The three unions seek wage boosts ranging from $5.55 to $6.66 a month. Basic wages range from $44 to $51.50.

"FLYING JEEP" — A considerable departure in design from all previous "flying platforms" is the 59-K VTOL. The "jeep" has an operator's seat and passenger compartment in a center section between the rotors. The new vehicle is designed to combine the utility of jeeps with the hovering and flying capabilities of helicopters.

Term 'Money' Not Used in Politer Circles

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Money is the unofficial badge of success and happiness in America. It is also a dirty word.

Nobody of good taste mentions the actual word "money" in polite conversation these days. It seems that the people who have it are increasingly fearful of appearing to boast, and the people who don't have it are psychologically shy of the term.

TALK IN CIRCLES

Instead of saying "money," therefore—or even of using the crassly specific word "dollars"—both the wealthy and the poor of America now are talking in picturesque circles.

Take a millionaire at a cocktail party. Asked a question about his investments, he invariably will hedge and possibly blush and reply that "things" could always be better.

Horseplayers once bragged only about their wins. Today they tend to concede that they "dropped a few" at the track.

Even teenagers refuse to refer, bluntly, to "money." The "knowing teen" will use a flip synonym like coin, gold, bread, the filthy stuff, green paper or vitamins.

Lester Rand of the Youth Research Institute, which surveys the nation's teenagers on many questions, says that young people feel there is something "unsophisticated" about the word "money."

"It is the betrayal of extreme squareness to use it in conversation," he concluded.

THUGS AFRAID

In the old days, it seemed that only thugs and ignorants were afraid to use the proper word for those lovely green slips of paper that are exchangeable for the next-best things in life.

"Dough" and "lettuce" were nonchalant, superficial terms to cover up an intense, and illegitimate, interest in money. All the synonyms had a dishonest connotation, and in my palmy (outstretched) days, any teenager who spoke of "dough" was presumed guilty of shady dealings.

But today, the youngsters certainly cannot be blamed for seeking new terms to describe money . . . because everybody seems to have a guilt feeling about this touchy subject. The curious fact of it is that, with the progressive accent on financial success in our country, a body can't help but suffer complexes unless he is exceedingly middle-class.

Too little money makes a man guilty of being a bum. Too much makes him a capitalist. Ignoring its importance makes him a square. Demonstrating its importance makes him a snob.

What can a kid do, then, but learn from society?

That is why teenagers with plenty of coin are referred to as "strong." And those without filthy stuff are called "weak."

Enter Suggestions in Hospital Contest

Money-saving ideas originated by four St. Joseph Mercy Hospital employes have been entered in a $4,000 state-wide contest sponsored by the Michigan Blue Cross Organization and the Michigan Hospital Assn.

The competition is known as Michigan's First Search for New Hospital Achievements, and is important because it encourages operational improvements, "the major area in which hospitals are able to make economic savings," according to Sister Mary Williams, R.S.M.

The hospital has submitted contest entries in behalf of Mary A. Johnson, Irene Cuthbertson, Ida Wilson and Mrs. Robert Dorse.

Miss Johnson and Miss Cuthbertson combined on an idea that led to the hospital's new procedural manual for handling miscellaneous insurance claims.

Miss Wilson and Mrs. Dorse were instrumental in developing a telephone pool.

Portable Plastic Silo Has 80-Ton Capacity

ALLIANCE, Ohio — A new portable plastic tubular silo is being distributed by an Alliance firm that says its product will lessen feed costs and increase profits for farmers.

The plastic silo is laid flat and pulled up like a stocking as it is filled with silage, the firm says, and it is highly resistant to mold, moisture, and chemicals. The silos have a capacity of up to 80 tons.

Says Tree Spray Can Help Home Fruit Growers

EAST LANSING (INS) — A Michigan State University entomologist says an all-purpose fruit spray is the most practical answer to insect and disease problems for backyard fruit growers.

Alfred C. Dowdy said one of the safest and most effective combinations tested in Michigan contains malathion, ethoxychlor and captan. He recommended using this mixture at weekly intervals and said it gave good results with a wide variety of tree and small fruit.

Dowdy warned, however, that sprays should not be applied later than seven days before harvest to avoid dangerous residues on the fruit.

Says Reds Seek Summit Failure

Nixon Indicates Talks Blocked by Demand for Ruinous Conditions

CHICAGO (AP) — Soviet leaders, says Vice President Nixon, are preventing a summit conference by demanding conditions that they know would assure its failure.

"A conference which is not preceded by adequate preparatory discussions is doomed to fail," Nixon told 800 atomic experts attending the 1958 Nuclear Conference. He added that a summit conference which failed would increase rather than reduce international tensions.

The Soviet Union can prove its dedication to peace, Nixon said, "by agreeing that preparatory meetings discuss the substance as well as the form of proposed agenda items.

"Only in this way can the summit leaders be assured that they will be spending their time at such a conference in discussing subjects in which an area of agreement is possible, rather than participating in a propaganda exercise which would inevitably increase international tensions."

Nixon drew heavy applause from the atomic scientists when he said: "We must not be limited by military needs or military thinking in exploring outer space, just as we are not so limited in developing nuclear energy."

The best way to insure that a space scientist makes the greatest contribution to national welfare "is to keep him free from the requirements of immediate military necessity," Nixon said.

"The participants in our space program must be free to scout and explore, not mustered solely to man the frontier forts."

Star Matches Zipper to Console Youngster

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A kindergarten teacher at Anthony School was placing stars on good work papers. She put a blue star on one little girl's paper and a red star on another girl's paper, saying: "These will match your dresses."

Five-year-old Mike Grayson, who had received a silver star, commented philosophically: "Well, mine matches my zipper."

Cameraman Sees Jakarta Regime Wrest Oil Holdings From Rebels

By FRED WATERS

PAKANBARU AIRFIELD (AP) — Crack troops of the Jakarta government seized the rich American operated oil port at Dumai and the Pakanbaru Airfield in a sea and paratroop invasion that went off with clocklike precision.

They met no opposition from a small revolutionary force which faded into the steaming jungles.

The operation was aimed at securing a beachhead at Dumai and Pakanbaru Airfield as an inland base.

Dumai is a port on the Malacca Strait for the American Caltex Oil Co.'s huge installations in Sumatra. Pakanbaru, 93 miles from the coast on the Siak River, is the center of Caltex operations. Dumai is about 100 miles northeast of Pakanbaru.

Four invasion transports and one small gunboat slipped into Rupat Strait off Dumai at about 3 a. m.

Landing craft and small boats were lowered. By 7:30 a. m. at least one full rifle company was ashore, deployed along the shore road for a distance of a mile and a half.

It was a strongly equipped outfit well-armed with light weapons, mortars, grenades, burp guns and walkie-talkie radios. Discipline was excellent. The soldiers were well dressed in camouflaged battle gear with highly polished boots. They were friendly, offering food and cigarettes to curious Indonesians who came to watch.

While the initial assault force strengthened its positions, the first transport—the Berau, formerly belonging to the Dutch KLM shipping line—was berthed at the new Caltex wharf in Dumai.

Jeeps, trucks and ambulances rolled out of the port area as the transports disgorged men and equipment. Officers declined to say how many men were in the Dumai operation.

An advance of three miles inland had been made by midmorning. The troops were headed southwest in the direction of the oilfields at Duri.

The Pacific Bechtel Corp., American contractor for Caltex, is building a 30-inch oil line to carry crude oil from the Duri and Minas fields to Dumai.

President Sukarno's paratroopers launched their strike on Pakanbaru Airfield with a bombing and strafing run as dawn was breaking.

The attack continued until 8:30 a. m.

Then more than 500 paratroopers from an elite red beret battalion began their jump on the airfield from 16 C47s. Revolutionary forces hastily moved out to prepared positions about 12 to 15 miles from Pakanbaru on the road to the rebel strongholds of Padang and Bukittinggi.

The paratroopers made no attempt to move into Pakanbaru immediately. They could any time they wanted to.

I went out to meet them and was well-treated. After explaining who I was, I was told to go ahead and take my pictures.

Caltex and Bechtel trucks and cars were commandeered by Jakarta troops to carry them toward Pakanbaru. Officers and men were courteous. Caltex and Bechtel employes did not try to stop them. They just recorded the numbers of the trucks and cars and released them.

2½ Pct. Wage Boost Suggested in England

LONDON — A wage agreement to end the present "dreary routine" by giving every worker an annual wage increase of 2½ per cent for five years, has been advanced in Britain. It was made by Lord Chandos, president, at a conference of the Institute of Directors in London.

He stressed that this was only his personal view. A wage agreement over a wide field, which would embrace the majority of all the nationalized industries, would give the Government and labor a new foundation on which they could re-align their whole attitude to wage claims, he suggested.

Kids, Take Note! 'Story Hour' Back at Pontiac Library

They're going to have "story hour" at Pontiac City Lirary again. The time and place will be from 2-3 p.m. Saturdays at the main library, Williams and Lawrence streets.

The audience will be a youngish one, mainly, beginning about age five and including as many children of older ages as like a good story.

And the storyteller will be the city's new children's librarian, Mrs. John H. Eddy, a lover of good tales who has been a library assistant in Royal Oak and Highland Park.

Mrs. Eddy was graduated from the University of Vermont and holds a graduate degree in library studies from Western Reserve University.

As for the stories, they'll be of the variety common to anyone's childhood, full of cowboys, Indians, adventures, an occasional pirate perhaps and possibly a few space-travelers. Good stories brought up to date.

The first part of the hour will be devoted to stories of special interest to the five-to-seven-year-olds, the rest to stories for "sevens and up."

Gun-Toting Legislators Deprived of Weapons

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A state legislator, who asked his name not be used, said Sergeant-at-Arms Delbert Vaughn took pistols from two other legislators during a late session of the House of Representatives yesterday.

There was no fuss, but three state detectives were assigned to the corridors just in case. Vaughn took the pistols after being tipped the two lawmakers were flourishing them playfully in the hallways.

The last time a gun was pulled in the Kentucky Legislature was in 1950. The sergeant-at-arms of the House drew one when two representatives got into a fight.

Atoms Exhibit Slated

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's "Atoms for Peace" exhibit will be on display at the University of Michigan from March 28 to April 13.

Does Suburbia Afflict Minds?

Doctor Doubts Charge That These Localities Breed Mental Illness

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Are the suburbs of American cities truly breeding places for mental illness, as some social critics have said?

Dr. Donald C. Klein, director of the Wellesley (Mass.) Human Relations Service, asked the question today in a panel discussion of modern life stresses at the 1958 National Health Forum, sponsored by 63 agencies.

Then he gave his own answer: "Personally, I do not think so. But it should be emphasized that we may never be in a position to answer such a question adequately. In the first place, the effects of childhood milieu usually do not become fully apparent until children are grown.

"Moreover, there are several factors which should make us cautious in evaluating the suburb as a social environment. We are in a period of rapid transition and it is difficult to distinguish between the strains of suburban living per se and strains which have arisen from rapid growth, mobility and sudden dislocations in community life."

To a degree, Dr. Klein conceded that the critics had reason to speak of cracks in the picture windows of modern suburbia.

Such critics, Dr. Klein said, represent modern suburbia as "inhabited by conformist organization men and their hyper-active, frustrated and club-happy wives. These communities reputedly raise their children at a level of a somewhat frenzied, but basically conformist, directed-by-others mediocrity.

"The results, we are told, are a high rate of psychosomatic afflictions and marital difficulties, family acquiescence to social pressures which violate the family's own standards for appropriate child behavior, and an underlying, chronic, gnawing feeling of purposelessness."

According to the ancient Salic Code of Laws, proclaimed by King Clovis in the Fifth Century, a woman cannot become the ruler of France.

Movies' Joe Palooka Unhurt in Plane Crash

DENVER (AP)—Joe Kirkwood, 35, the movies' Joe Palooka, escaped injury last night when he crash-landed his light plane at Municipal Airport. He said the landing gear failed to function.

Kirkwood, a pro golfer in Hollywood, continued by commercial airliner to Columbus, Ohio, where he is scheduled to appear at the opening of a new Joe Palooka movie.

For City Elections

Registration Deadline 24th

Monday the 24th of this month is an important date not only for new residents of Pontiac but also for older ones who have moved within the city recently.

Not only is 8 p.m. next Monday the deadline for new voter registrations, it is also the last time before the April 21 election that changes of address can be registered at the City Clerk's office by voters already registered.

Why should registered voters worry about a change of address? Won't they be allowed to vote anyway, since they are legally registered?

Sure they can vote, but maybe not for the candidate they want to vote for, City Clerk Ada A. Evans warned.

"State law says that voters must vote in the district in which they are registered," she pointed out.

This means that a voter who has moved out of one of the city's seven voting districts and into another, without letting City Hall know about it, is going to have to vote in his old district, not his new one.

"If such a voter shows up at the polls April 21, election officials will register a change of address for him. But it won't go into effect until the next election," Mrs. Evans explained.

At the April 21 election, seven city commissioners will be elected, one from each voting district.

"If you want to vote for a commission candidate in the district in which you now live, you have to be registered in that district," Mrs. Evans warned absent-minded voters who have not filed changes of address in her City Hall office.

PAN FRIED LIVER — Thin slices of beef liver cooked gently and served with an herb flavored sauce are a real delicacy. Brightening the serving platter are grilled tomatoes topped with buttered crumbs and garnished with sprigs of parsley. In the background, fluffy mashed potatoes round out this tempting meal.

Tender Pan Fried Liver Better With Herb Sauce

For those who are already fond of liver this recipe for pan fried liver with herb sauce will come as a pleasant variation. It may also change the minds of those who think they don't like liver.

This calls for thinly sliced liver which really needs only a few minutes cooking. The meat should be nicely browned, but cooked gently so that it will remain tender. The perfect foil is the smooth creamy white sauce that goes with it. Made with rich evaporated milk so that its flavor and consistency will be the finest, the sauce is deftly seasoned to enhance the meat.

Pan Fried Liver

3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
3 tablespoons butter or bacon drippings
1 lb. beef or calves liver, sliced

Mix flour, salt and pepper in a pie pan. Dredge liver slices in the flour mixture. Melt butter or drippings in a large fry pan. Place liver in fry pan and cook over low heat until done, browning both sides. Serve hot with Herb Sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Herb Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 cup evaporated milk
¼ teaspoon crumbled oregano

Melt butter in a small saucepan. Add onion and cook gently until onion is yellow and transparent. Remove from heat. Stir in parsley, salt and flour. Dissolve bouillon cube in the boiling water. Add gradually to flour mixture. Cook over low heat until mixture is smooth and thickened. Gradually stir in evaporated milk, and add oregano.

Bring to serving temperature over low heat, stirring frequently. Do not boil. Serve hot over pan fried liver. Makes sufficient sauce for 4 servings.

Rhubarb Brings Spring Into Menus

The red of rhubarb is like a stop light at the food counter—stop and buy. Its bright color and tartness is certain to perk up appetites states the MSU Marketing Information Agent.

Team rhubarb in sauce or pie with fresh frozen strawberries. Rhubard red goes with pineapple yellow too.

Hothouse rhubarb is young and tender. Leave the peeling on. Go easy with the water when you cook it suggests Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. If you bake rhubarb, two tablespoons of water is plenty for two pounds. Just for fun and flavor interest, add orange juice to rhubarb. One-four cup of juice to a pound of rhubarb will make the family sit up and take notice.

Different Fruit Salad

Budget Meat Dishes Can Be Appetizing Creations

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you brace yourself for a shock as you approach the meat counter, then shudder when your worst fears are realized? I do. Just about that time I decide the family is going on a permanent diet of ground beef, variety meats and canned fish. But reason prevails and I start to figure out what else I can buy.

If your family is large — your paycheck low or completely absent, this problem becomes more acute. But the family must have some meat in their diet. How are you going to do it?

You may not like this, but it's true. You'll get the same food value from the inexpensive cuts and grades of meat as from the most delicious and highest priced porterhouse steak. Of course, we'd all prefer the steak. But let's be practical.

Go to a store that sells a lower grade of meat. Sure, it's all right. It has to be government inspected. The cut you pick out won't have the marbling of fat through it that better grades do. Still, you can get a good meal from it.

If you like the way meat tenderizers work, use some on this cheaper meat. Then broil or fry it. If you prefer to braise or pot roast your cut, you can count on the long, slow cooking to tenderize the meat fibers.

This version of Mexican style beef steak can be made with commercial grade meat.

Mexican Style Beef Steak

1 pound round steak
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
⅓ cup flour
2 tablespoons lard
½ clove garlic, minced
1 medium onion, chopped
1 No. 303 can tomatoes

Mix ½ teaspoon salt, chili powder, and flour and pound into steak. Cook garlic and onion in fat until tender; add meat and brown on both sides. Add tomatoes and remaining salt. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Prepare gravy from drippings. 4 servings.

Liver — unless you insist on calves liver — is always an economy meat. The following recipe calls for lamb liver, but it can easily be made with beef or pork liver.

Herbed Liver Loaf

2 pounds lamb liver
½ pound pork sausage
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons celery salt
¾ teaspoon powdered dry mustard
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
2 eggs, beaten
¾ cup liver stock
2 slices bacon

Parboil liver for 5 minutes in enough water to cover. Remove liver from water and put through a food chopper using the medium blade. (Save water to use later.) Add pork sausage, bread crumbs, instant minced onion, seasonings, eggs and liver stock. Mix well.

Turn into a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan, patting the mixture firmly in pan. Cut bacon strips in half and place over the top. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Don't overlook luncheon meat as a budget item. By now your ex-GI husband may have overcome his dislike for canned meat and be willing to eat it. Maybe you can just serve it and not mention what it is.

Luncheon Meat—Tart Topping

1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
2 tablespoons salad dressing
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 egg white, beaten
16 small strips of pimiento

Cut luncheon meat into 8 slices. Combine lemon juice, salt, pepper, salad dressing, pickle relish and parsley. Fold into unbeaten egg whites.

Set regulator for broiling. Place luncheon meat on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the top surface of the meat is two inches from the heat. Broil 5 minutes or until lightly browned.

Turn, spread egg white mixture on meat slices. Place 2 strips of pimiento on each slice. Broil until topping is lightly browned, about ½ minute. Yield: 4 servings.

Oranges Heighten Flavor

Fresh tangy oranges bring ont a delightful flavor in ham — something that's really new and different. Best of all, it's so easy to make this dish. Prepare ham the way you prefer — broil, bake or fry —then add orange chunks that have been marinated in brown sugar. The orange juice and brown sugar penetrate the ham, giving it that different flavor.

Deviled Crab a Supper Dish

Perhaps the meal most fun to prepare is a Sunday night supper. You can make it as informal as you please, because everyone is relaxed and in a mellow mood at the end of a day of leisure. Then is the time to experiment with recipes until you find something you enjoy making and that everybody will like.

If you have individual ramekins, or baking dishes in the shape of crab or scallop shells, why not try out new recipes for them, beginning with this one for Deviled Crab, recommended by the National Fisheries Institute:

Deviled Crab

2 cans crabmeat
1 small onion, minced
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 sprigs parsley, chopped
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg, beaten
1 cup grated Italian cheese

Pick over crabmeat and remove any fibrous membranes. Set aside. Saute onion in butter until tender but not brown. Remove pan from heat and stir in flour and dry mustard until well blended. Gradually add milk and stir until smooth. Return pan to heat and cook sauce, stirring constantly, until thick, about 2 minutes. Add salt, pepper, parsley and nutmeg.

Stir a little of the sauce into the beaten egg and then add egg mixture to hot sauce. Stir constantly until sauce starts to boil. Remove from heat before sauce boils and stir in grated cheese and crabmeat. Turn into 6 or 8 individual ramekins or shells. Brown in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., about 10 minutes or until top is brown.

SPANISH OLIVE CHICKEN STEW — Serve a tempting supper with bowls of Spanish Olive Chicken Stew and assorted relishes. Potato snack crackers are delicious accompaniment with stew.

Stuffed Green Olives Add Flavor, Color to Dishes

Spanish olives add flavor, texture and a bright note of color to chicken and vegetable stew. It is a recipe you'll find especially useful if there happens to be left-over chicken in the refrigerator. The addition of vegetables, olives and cheese makes a hearty, nutritious and tasty main course at suppertime.

Spanish Olive Chicken Stew

1 cup chicken stock
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
3 cups sliced carrots
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
1½ cups milk
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese (about ½-pound)
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash cayenne pepper
2 cups diced cooked chicken

Combine chicken stock, onions, celery and carrots. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionaly, until cheese is melted. Serves 6.

Spanish Rarebit

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion, sliced
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 1-pound can kidney beans, drained
1-3 cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese (about ½-pound)
¼ cup catchup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
4 slices buttered toast

Melt butter or margarine; add onion and green pepper and cook until tender. Add kidney beans,

BAKED PINEAPPLE — Golden fresh pineapple lends a Midas' touch to your dinner table when it's baked with spice and served up with your favorite ham or pork dish.

Add Glamor to Meal With Baked Pineapple

Fresh pineapple has a special flair for reviving tired menus, so send it an invitation to dinner whenever you detect signs of the family's flagging interest in mealtime fare. Don't wait for the dessert course, either, for beneath the pineapple's sun-bronzed exterior there hides a wonderfully versatile flavor that's equally happy to accompany the main course.

As prosaic a dish as baked pork chops, for instance, acquires a surprising amount of pomp and circumstance when set beside Savory Baked Pineapple, and a baked ham for a special occasion become next to ambrosial. Almost as easy to prepare as the common baked potato, this spicy emissary from the tropics puts an air of distinction into a family meal—and a bright feather into your chef's cap.

Savory Baked Pineapple

1 whole fresh pineapple
½ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter, melted
3 tablespoons honey

Scrub pineapple with a stiff brush. With a sharp, serrated knife, remove top and split pineapple into quarters lengthwise. Remove "core" and cut each wedge carefully away from the skin. Slice wedges in ½-inch thick slices, and replace them in the skin.

Sprinkle each wedge with mace and salt. Brush with a mixture of the melted butter and honey. Wrap each wedge separately in foil, leaving a small opening at the top. Place wedges in a baking dish in a moderate oven (350 degrees) and bake for one hour, basting occasionally during baking by spooning the remaining butter and honey into the opening in the foil wrap.

Serve as an accompaniment to baked pork chops or ham. Makes four servings.

Coffee Filling Zips Doughnut Layers

Try this new "coffee and" dessert for a quick delight. Split powdered sugar doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department in half crosswise.

Combine ½ pint whipping cream, ¼ cup confectioner's sugar, 2 teaspoons instant coffee, and ½ teaspoon of vanilla in a chilled bowl. Beat mixture until thick enough to hold its shape.

Put doughnut halves together sandwich-fashion with thick filling of coffee-flavored whipped cream. Garnish with whipped mixture. Mixture will make eight servings.

Turkey Stuffed Apples

Stuff medium sized apples with chopped or ground turkey seasoned to taste with salt and pepper and a pinch of allspice. Top with one tablespoon of cranberry jelly. Bake in moderate oven in covered casserole for about one hour or until apples are done, basting occasionally with cranberry sauce.

Wholesome twosome! Soup and

SOUPER SPECIAL

Float crisp bacon curls on hot, hearty vegetable soup. Make every sip extra special with Krispy Saltines. Baked the new Sunshine way, they're fresher, flakier, "Krispy-er" than ever . . . to flavor-accent your favorite foods.

Peach Top Cake Best if Warm

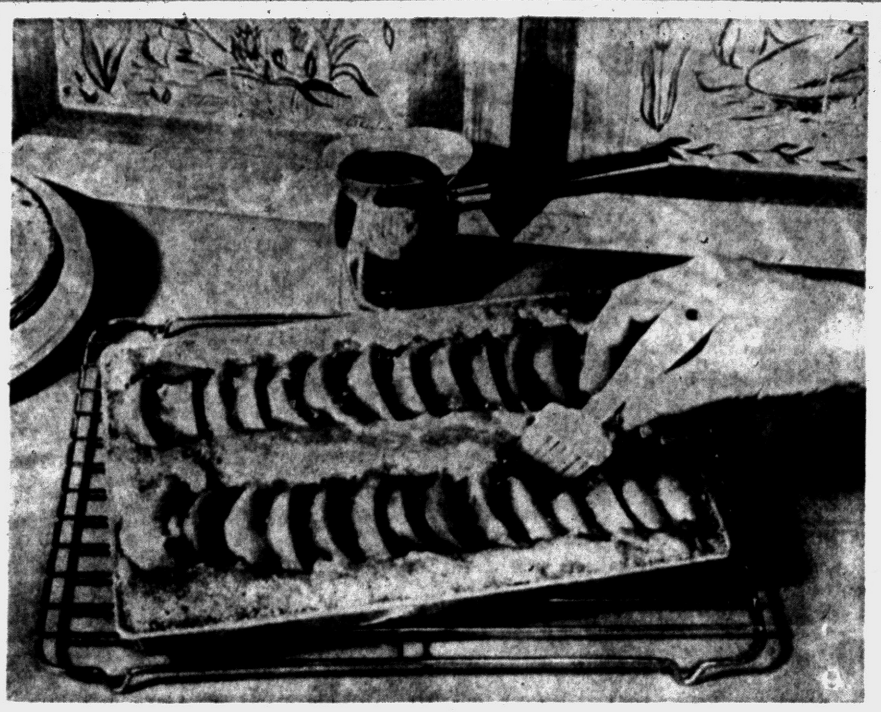

Different dessert ideas are always welcome to those who like to cook. For a real peach of a dessert your family will love Dutch Peach Cake at lunchtime, dinnertime or snacktime. It's made flavorful with a topping of canned sliced peaches brushed with currant jelly. Serve it warm with light cream.

Dutch Peach Cake

1 egg
¼ cup light cream
⅓ cup sugar
1 cup packaged biscuit mix
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) sliced peaches
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅓ cup currant jelly
1 tablespoon water
Light cream

Mix beaten egg and cream. Add 3 tablespoons of the sugar and the biscuit mix; stir until smooth. Spread in a buttered shallow 8x12-inch baking pan. Arrange drained peach slices over the dough. Mix remaining sugar, spices, flour and melted butter; spoon over peaches. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) about 30 minutes, until browned.

Mix currant jelly and water in a small saucepan; heat until jelly is melted, stirring. Brush over peach cake. Serve warm with light cream. Six to eight servings.

DUTCH PEACH CAKE — Make your dinner special tonight by serving Dutch Peach Cake for dessert. This quick taste treat is made extra good with a topping of canned peaches and hot currant jelly. It's best served warm with cream.

Pound of Pork Can Serve Four in Pie

To make pork pot pie for four people, get a pound of pork shoulder meat cut into cubes. Coat the pork with flour and fry with a sliced onion and a cut-up stalk of celery in fat until the pork is well browned.

Add two cups of water, a bit of bay leaf, salt and pepper and cook in a covered skillet for 20 minutes. Add a half cup of sliced raw potato and ¾ cup of sliced raw carrots and continue to cook for another 20 minutes.

Prepare biscuit dough. Transfer the cooked meat and vegetables to a casserole; add one small can of peas and a small can of whole kernel corn. Put the biscuits on top of the mixture and bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees. In about 12 minutes, the biscuits should be done, and the pork pot pie is ready to serve.

Stuff Apples With Corn

The idea of sunshine being stored in a can or package of sweet corn is not entirely a product of an overworked imagination.

It took sunshine, working on the green of the corn leaves, to build up sugar in the corn kernels and make them sweet and tender. By coincidence, most of the varieties of sweet corn are a sunshine yellow.

Home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggest combining plentiful sweet corn and apples in a hearty dish, Corn-Filled Apples. For this particular use, you may find Rome Beauty apples a good selection. They're large and they hold their shape and color well. Use either canned or frozen corn whole kernel style.

For each serving, hollow out the center of a large apple, leaving a wall of about a quarter inch. Place apple shells in a greased baking dish, 400 degrees for 10 minutes, then remove.

While apple shells are baking, dice apples taken out of center and dice a strip of bacon for each apple and fry in skillet until bacon is crisp. Add whole kernel corn to frying pan and heat thoroughly. Fill apple shells with mixture of corn, bacon and apples. Return to hot oven until apple shells are soft. Sprinkle with sugar and crisscross with bacon strips. Slip under broiler until bacon is browned. Then rush to the table.

Controlled Atmosphere Stretches Apple Season

Apple time can now be any time in Michigan, thanks to C.A. Controlled atmosphere storage stretches the season of some apple varieties by several months, relates the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. McIntosh apples can now reach the markets in good condition as late as June, where before they have usually disappeared by February.

Apples kept under refrigeration in air with higher-than-normal carbon dioxide and lower-than-usual oxygen keep fresh and crisp much longer than apples kept in ordinary storage.

Root Vegetables Budget Balancers

If you are a price conscious shopper, you are probably having some rough sledding at the fresh vegetable counters. Many of the fresh, tender vegetables usually found at the markets are scarce, high priced and variable in quality.

Let root vegetables come to your rescue, suggests the MSU Marketing Information Agent. Turnips, rutabagas, parsnips and carrots have flavors all their own when buttered or served in a cream sauce. Add their flavors in stews or with pot roasts. For crisp crunchy salads serve them raw.

Root vegetables are a clue to cutting fresh vegetable costs says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

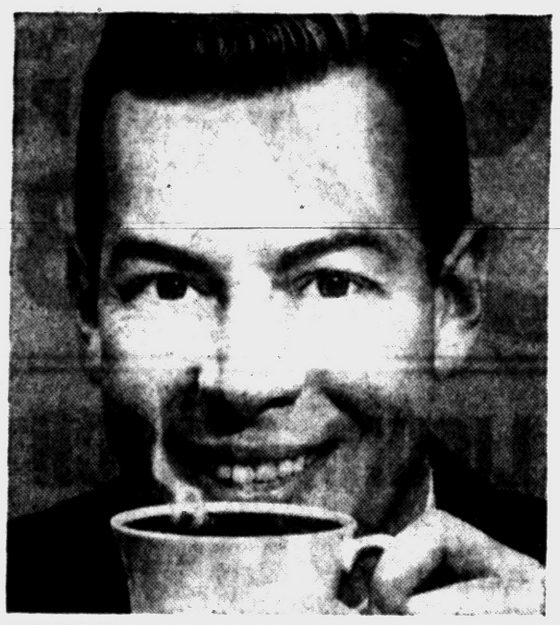

Curl Bacon for Broiling

To add distinction to a serving platter of a breakfast entree, serve bacon curls to prepare, loosely roll strips or half strips of bacon and fasten with wooden picks. Panbroil bacon curls the same as bacon strips.

"TRADING STAMPS" SAID the UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT Are an APPEAL to STUPIDITY.
Here's a very "good" reason why.
More Than 25 MILLION DOLLARS was paid out last year by retailers to Trading Stamp Companies in the METROPOLITAN DETROIT AREA ALONE.
This is enough money to cover the deficits in the city budget and go a long way toward helping solve the state financial crisis.
$25,000,000.00 is a lot of money to shell out for "FREE" STAMPS.

Rhubarb Pie Recipe Takes Prize

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Living next door to the hothouse rhubarb capital of the world — Macomb county — we should be big boosters for and users of the delicious fruit. You can buy it now in your grocery stores, long deep pink stalks that have a wonderful delicate flavor.

Earlier this month the annual Rhubarb Festival was held at Utica. In connection with the day's festivities a prepared rhubarb contest was held. Hundreds of good cooks from surrounding areas brought in pies, cakes, puddings, beverages and other foods made principally of rhubarb. Three home economists judged the entries.

Mrs. John F. O'Donnell of Rochester entered a Blushing Bunny Rhubarb pie, made with tapioca and egg yolks. She took home a ribbon and a merchandise prize.

The mother of five young children, Mrs. O'Donnell is an enthusiastic user of hothouse rhubarb. She also grows and freezes her own rhubarb during the regular season. Mrs. O'Donnell's hobby is "going antiquing."

Here is her recipe:

BLUSHING BUNNY RHUBARB PIE
By Mrs. John F. O'Donnell

4 cups cubed hothouse rhubarb
1 cup sugar
¼ cup quick cooking tapioca
3 beaten egg yolks
Few drops red food coloring
1 tablespoon butter
Baked pie shell

Combine first five ingredients in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water until tapioca dissolves and rhubarb is tender. Stir in butter. Pour into pie shell.

For meringue: Beat 3 egg whites. Add 6 tablespoons sugar, one at a time. Continue beating until meringue folds over in soft peaks. Swirl over pie, spreading to edges. Bake at 425 degrees until delicate brown.

The grand prize went to an Armada cook who submitted a Rhubarb Chiffon Cake. We think you may like to try this unusual recipe.

RHUBARB CHIFFON CAKE
By Mrs. Frank Lambert

Sift together:
2¼ cups cake flour
1½ cups white sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated orange rind

Make a well and add in order given:
½ cup salad oil
5 egg yolks
½ cup cold water
¾ cup rhubarb juice
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat with spoon until smooth. Measure into large bowl:
1 cup egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Pour egg yolk mixture gradually into egg whites, folding gently. Then add ⅓ cup rhubarb sauce, drained. Fold in carefully.

Pour into 10-inch tube pan. Bake 55 minutes at 325 degrees; increase heat to 350 and bake 15 more minutes. Frost with Creamy Icing.

Creamy Icing
½ cup milk
2½ tablespoons flour

Cook to very thick paste; cool. Meanwhile cream ½ cup shortening with ½ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add cooled paste to sugar and shortening mixture; beat until fluffy. Fold in ⅓ cup drained rhubarb sauce.

A PRIZE WINNER — Mrs. John O'Donnell of Rochester displays the pie that won her a ribbon at the Third Annual Hothouse Rhubarb Festival in Utica. Mrs. O'Donnell's pie is thickened with both tapioca and egg yolks, has a meringue topping.

CLABBER GIRL'S LUNCHEON

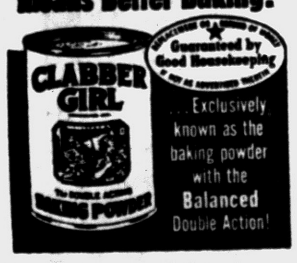

Corn Bread

Sift together 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder, 3 tablespoons sugar, and 1 teaspoon salt. Blend in 1 cup yellow corn meal, 9 slices cooked crisp bacon, finely snipped, 3 tablespoons finely diced green pepper, and ¼ cup chopped pimiento. Combine 1 egg, slightly beaten, with 1 cup milk, and ¼ cup melted bacon fat, butter or margarine; add all at once to corn meal mixture and stir until dry ingredients are just dampened. Pour batter into a greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking pan. Bake in a 425° F. (hot) oven about 25 minutes. Serve hot, cut into serving pieces. Yield: 6 servings.

You should know THIS about baking!

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven... That's the story of Clabber Girl's double action!

Balanced Double Action means Better Baking!

Cream of Rice Added to Meat

Oven-baked meatballs that are light and puffy . . . and the trick is quick cooking rice cereal. Here's a dish that can be prepared in advance and baked just before serving. It makes a good laundry day or P.T.A. Meeting day dish. Make full use of the oven by baking some glazed carrots and an Apple Betty to complete this menu. Add a salad and dinner is on the table.

Meat Balls En Casserole

1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons cream of rice, quick-cooking rice cereal
1 pound ground lean beef
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon minced onion
⅓ cup catsup
1 tablespoon water
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet

Place water, salt and pepper in saucepan over moderate heat. Bring to boil and sprinkle in Cream of Rice so that boiling does not stop. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick, about 1 minute. Lower heat, cover and cook, stirring frequently, for 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat and let col, covered, to room temperature.

When cooked rice is cool add ground beef, beaten egg, minced onion and mix well. Shape mixture lightly into 8 balls and place in shallow baking dish, about 8x10 inches. Mix catsup, water and kitchen bouquet and top each ball with about 1 tablespoon of this mixture. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until done, about 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Fresh Fish, Eggs Offer Best Bargains of Week

The difference in what you want and what you get at the food store depends upon you. What you see, read and decide makes the difference in being satisfied or dissatisfied with your choices.

As you make the weekly market list, do you consider the season of the year and how this affects supplies of meats, produce, frozen and canned foods, eggs and dairy products?

Do you recognize good quality and keep that quality by proper care and storage at home?

Do you notice that supplies available and customer demand control prices to a great degree?

Do you compare prices of similar foods before deciding which to put into the basket?

MEAT FORECAST

There is little change to report in the red meat picture pricewise. Beef prices are holding strong. Pork prices are steady at the wholesale level.

You will find some stores offering picnics, Boston butts, rib roasts, sausage meats and turkey at special prices.

Fish is a featured item in many homes this time of year. Heavy ice in the Great Lakes is the reason for small fresh fish supplies. Fresh herring and smelt are the thriftiest fresh fish buys. Frozen fish is easy to prepare. Buy packages that are frozen solid, and keep them that way until ready to use.

Frozen fish can best be thawed by taking from the freezer and placing it in the refrigerator for about 18 hours. If you need to thaw it quickly, immerse the package of fish in cold running water for about thirty minutes. Thawing at room temperature allows thinner parts of the fish to thaw faster than other parts, may allow spoilage of these parts.

THE EGG MARKET

You may notice a slight change at the egg case. Generally, eggs have dropped a few cents a dozen since last week. Brown or white, quality is the same, providing both have been cared for properly. Meaning, eggs need refrigeration.

FRESH PRODUCE

Two fresh fruits, guaranteed to give a spring time touch to your meals appear in most produce departments — pink rhubarb and plump pineapple.

About 80 per cent of the hothouse rhubarb in the United States is grown in Macomb county. This year's crop is much improved in quality and quantity over the 1957 crop.

Baked rhubarb holds its shape better than rhubarb cooked on top of the range. Cut stalks in half-inch pieces, place in a covered dish with no water. Bake in a 400 degree oven until tender. Add about one cup of sugar to one quart of rhubarb.

Fresh pineapples come from Cuba. Pick one heavy for its size. A reliable sign of ripeness is that the green leaves at the crown of the fruit can be easily plucked out. One medium - sized pineapple gives al least six servings of fresh fruit sauce.

Fresh vegetable supplies are still below normal. Radish and green onion supplies are improving. And are one way to add more color to salads for little cost. Cabbage is a good value at an average of 10 to 15 cents a pound.

CANNED AND FROZEN FOODS

Extra space and a few extra dollars can go far in placing food in the cupboard or in the freezer. It is easy to find economical buys in one pound cans of peas, beans, beets and corn; 46-ounce cans of juice; frozen strawberries and peas.

Hot Slaw Better With Ripe Olives

By International News Service

Make your cold ham or turkey, hot rolls and fruit cake luncheon into something a little special by serving ripe olive slaw. The following recipe serves eight:

1 medium sized cabbage, shredded
3 canned pimentos, cut into strips
⅔ cup ripe olives
½ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ cup oil
2 eggs
3 tablespoons cream

Cut olives into large pieces and combine with cabbage and pimento strips. Blend vinegar, water, salt, sugar, paprika, mustard and oil and heat to boiling. Remove from heat and add slowly to beaten eggs and cream. Return to heat and cook four or five minutes, stirring constantly. Pour over cabbage-olive mixture and serve.

Special stuffed buffet eggs: mix crabmeat, finely chopped celery and green pepper and seasoning with mayonnaise and mashed egg yolk to fill egg white halves.

Onions, Rice Good in Lent

Onions have been grow nand used as a food since the beginning of time. Rice is an ancient food as old as civilization itself. It has been so important as a food that the word "rice" was the same as "food" in some languages.

Here's a delicious way to combine these low cost, easily cooked foods to make a baked vegetable. Canned mushroom soup is used to add a creamy texture and to serve as a sauce. If you like peanuts, add a few peanut halves before the dish is baked.

Onion Rice Casserole

3 cups sliced onions (halve large slices)
⅔ cup uncooked white rice
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
4 cups water
1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ cup Parmesian cheese
¼ teaspoon garlic salt (if desired)

Put the onions, rice, salt, pepper and water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes.

Stir in the mushroom soup, Tabasco sauce and Worcestershire sauce. Pour this mixture into a greased 2-quart oven dish. Sprinkle the cracker crumbs over the top. Pour the melted butter or margarine over the cracker crumbs. Sprinkle with the Parmesan cheese. Sprinkle the garlic salt over the top.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for 40 minutes. If a darker crust is desired, sprinkle with paprika 10 minutes before the cooking time is over. This recipe makes 8 servings.

Toast and Ham Form Base for Baked Egg Dish

"Now there's an egg dish I'd go for even on the day after Easter, when eggs are still running out of my ears from Lent."

When eggs can be made tempting even to a man who has substituted eggs for meat once or twice a day for 40 days, they must be good. Good in looks, good in taste. The dish that prompted this enthusiastic outburst is "Ham and Eggs, Delicious." It's recommended by home economists of the Department of Agriculture as one of the most appetizing of all ways to serve eggs, now that egg production is reaching its seasonal peak of the year.

Here's how to make Ham and Eggs, Delicious.

Make a piece of toast for each serving. Brown a slice of ham in a skillet with butter. Separate white from yolk of a large size egg. Beat the whites until stiff and place on top of ham, which is on the toast. Make a hollow in the center of the egg white, and put the egg yolk in the center. Sprinkle with grated cheese, and a little salt and pepper.

Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until the yolks are firm and white is slightly browned. (P.S. Better count on at least two servings for the men of the family.)

Give Individual Touch to Favorite Frozen Meal

The kitchen of 1958 is a far cry from that of 1900 . . . as are the pleasing easy meals that come from it.

The recipe file has also undergone a change since Grandmother copied bits of her culinary knowledge onto scraps of paper. Gone, too, are the recipes calling for "a half egg shell of water" or "butter the size of a walnut."

True there will always be old favorites . . . but new recipes and ideas soon find their proper place in the file. Here's a trick . . . with frozen prepared dinners, which you might like to use. Before the dinners go into the oven, carefully turn back the foil half way . . . and spoon in a delectable morsel . . . your own "touch" to a beef dinner, fried chicken, haddock or turkey dinner.

Once you've added your choice of ingredients pull the foil forward . . . over the meat . . . and seal securely. (Haddock is the only exception.) Then follow the label directions for heating temperature and time.

To start off, try these ideas:

a) Spread 1 tablespoon ginger marmalade over chicken in frozen dinner . . . for zippy flavor and a soft, shiny glaze.

b) Sprinkle ⅛ teaspoon old fashion French salad dressing mix . . . the kind you buy in the small paper packets . . . over beef and gravy in beef dinner.

c) Another one for beef dinners . . . horseradish and beef are practically teammates when it comes to flavor. Spread ½ teaspoon of this prepared condiment over the beef slices in the dinner.

d) For the gourmet approach we suggest ½ teaspoon drained capers . . . scattered over the haddock and golden cream sauce in haddock dinner.

Now you're on your own to gather new ideas. But we'll wager the price of your recipe file that Dad and the youngsters will have numerous contributions to offer . . . once they catch on to this novel way of serving frozen prepared dinners.

Tartare Sauce Puts Zip Into Stuffed Eggs

Make these eggs several hours ahead of serving and refrigerate so flavors will develop.

Stuffed Eggs Tartare

6 hard-cooked eggs
6 tablespoons commercially-prepared tartar sauce
1 tablespoon minced parsley
¼ teaspoon (generous) dry mustard
Paprika
Parsley sprigs
Salad greens
Other raw salad vegetables

Shell eggs and cut in half lengthwise while still warm from cooking. Remove yolks and mash fine; add tartar sauce, parsley and mustard; mix well. Spoon mixture back into egg cavities. Cover and refrigerate to allow flavors to develop. Sprinkle with paprika and garnish each half with a parsley sprig just before serving.

Serve 3 egg halves to a portion on salad greens and accompanied by other raw salad vegetables such as radishes, cucumber, tomato. Makes 4 servings.

Vegetable Oil Is Preferred

Only recently doctors and nutritionists have discovered the special value vegetable oil has in helping to keep the bloo dcholesterol level in balance. Housewives have long known its value—in terms of convenience and good results—in all phases of cooking, frying, baking, for use in salad dressings.

Here's a recipe that puts all-time favorite family tastes into a nourishing one-dish dinner—and that uses corn oil as a natural component. Easy to make, delicious, we predict it will be a week-in-week-out standby.

Heavenly Hamburger Casserole

1 8-ounce package of noodles or macaroni
¼ cup corn oil
1 medium onion, chopped
1 pound ground beef
¼ pound sharp cheddar cheese, grated
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
crumbs
minced parsley, to garnish

Cook the noodles or macaroni in rapidly boiling salted water according to package directions; drain. Heat corn oil in heavy skillet over medium heat about 3 minutes. Add onion and ground beef. Cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned.

Place the noodles or macaroni in bottom of individual casserole a baking dish (7½x11½x2 inches or a 2-quart casserole. Spread the cheese over the noodles or macaroni. Top with the browned meat.

Combine the tomato soup, water and seasonings; pour over meat. Garnish with the crumbs and minced parsley. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Makes 8 generous servings.

Macaroon Parfait Has Cherry Layer

Occasionally we encounter a reader who is perfectly willing to give us her recipe but does not wish to have her name used in connection with it. Such was the case with the following recipe. But it sounds delicious and should be shared with The Press readers.

Macaroon Delight

6 coconut macaroons
½ cup maraschino cherries, drained and cut
¼ cup broken (not ground) nutmeats
¼ cup rum or rum flavoring
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Break macaroons into small pieces. Stir them into the ice cream that has been allowed to soften slightly, along with nuts and rum. Layer this in parfait glasses with the cut cherries. Top with a cherry or mint leaf. Make ahead of time and let stand in freezing compartment of refrigerator. Serves 4-6.

Stew Meat Less Tender

Beef, veal or lamb are often used in stews. When using veal for a stew, the meat may be cut from any one of the following places . . . neck, breast, shoulder or flank. Being less tender, the meat is naturally cooked by a moist heat method of meat cookery.

Second Day Pork Goes Into Salad

For a quick and simple luncheon, simply incorporate some diced cooked pork into this delicious fruit salad—the name—Pork Salad Jamboree. The salad is also a gathering . . . a gathering of diced cooked pork, diced red apple, lemon juice, green grapes, chopped celery, seasonings and mayonnaise.

Pork Salad Jamboree

2 cups diced cooked pork
1 cup diced red apple
4 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup green grapes
⅛ cup chopped celery
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup mayonnaise
Lettuce

Sprinkle apples with lemon juice. Combine pork, apples, grapes and celery. Chill. Add salt and mayonnaise, mix lightly. Serve in lettuce cups. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Only Half a Cup of Water

You can cook a couple of pounds of turnips (peeled and diced) in a half cup of boiling water, adding a teaspoon of salt. Put the covered saucepan over high heat and as soon as steam appears reduce the heat to simmering. If water evaporates before vegetable is tender, add a little more.

Hamburger Inexpensive When Facts Are Known

Have you questioned the higher prices of ground beef? Actually, prices for hamburger have risen justly explains the MSU Marketing Information Agent. Boning beef, the meat from which ground beef is made, has been in fairly short supply Mrs. Lawyer reports.

A pound of hamburger will serve three or four depending upon the size of appetites. If you divide this number into the cost per pound, you will see that hamburger always rates as one of the thrifty meat buys.

Dilly Frank and Potatoes Delight Cook and Family

Cheers from the family and a cheer from the cook will result from this dilly frank and potato scallop. It's a main dish so delicious and so simple to prepare that it's certain to become a favorite with everyone.

This is a combination of potatoes and lightly browned chunks of frankfurters in a delectable sauce, herb-seasoned with crumbled dill weed. The sauce is interesting in that all it requires is evaporated milk and water (besides the seasonings). The evaporated milk and water are added to the cubed potatoes as they begin cooking and by the time potatoes are tender the liquid has thickened to just the right consistency for a creamy sauce.

Dilly Frank and Potato Scallop

3 slices bacon
6 frankfurters
4 cups cubed raw potatoes
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup boiling water
1 tall can evaporated milk (1½ cups)
1 teaspoon dill weed
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper

Place bacon in a large fry pan and fry over low heat until crisp. Remove bacon to paper toweling to drain. Add frankfurters, which have been cut into 1-inch chunks to bacon fat in fry pan and cook over low heat, stirring frequently until lightly browned. Remove to paper toweling to drain.

Add cubed raw potatoes and onion to bacon fat in fry pan, and cook and stir over low heat until most of fat is absorbed and onion is transparent, about 3 or 4 minutes. Add water and evaporated milk and continue cooking over low heat until potatoes are tender and sauce starts to thicken, about 20 to 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Crumble dill weed with fingers and add during the last few minutes of cooking. When potatoes are tender, add frankfurter chunks, salt and pepper, and stir gently until heated thoroughly. Remove from heat and crumble bacon on top. Makes 4 servings.

DILLY FRANK AND POTATO SCALLOP — Here's supper in a skillet and this is a dish that will bring them all running. It's dilly frank and potato scallop and the aroma it gives off from the franks and dill weed is practically irresistible. Evaporated milk cooks into a beautiful sauce for the potatoes and franks and crumbled bacon makes an edible decoration for the top.

Nut Butter Flavors Fluffy Egg Dish

Fluffy Peanut Butter Scramble

4 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons peanut butter
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add salt and beat until stiff but not dry. Beat egg yolks until thick and light yellow. Blend peanut butter with milk and add to yolks, beating to blend thoroughly. Add parsley. Fold into egg whites. Melt butter in double boiler, pour in fluffy egg mixture and cook over boiling water until just set, stirring frequently. Serve on hot buttered toast points. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

When you store fish in the refrigerator, cover it well so no odor will escape.

Hunters' Stew Full of Fish, Rice

In the Pee Dee section of South Carolina, this stew is popular at indoors and outdoor gatherings. The story of the origin is that a party of hunters and fishermen cooked this stew on a pine bark fire and ate it on sheets of dry pine bark.

Pine Bark Stew

3 tablespoons cooking fat
2 cups chopped onions
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes, broken up
⅓ cup catsup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1 pound fish fillets, skinned and cut into 2 inch squares
¾ cup uncooked white rice
1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt

Melt the fat in a 2-quart saucepan or in a skillet. Add the onions. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the onions begin to brown. Add the tomatoes, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco sauce and fish. Cover and simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until the fish flakes easily.

While the fish cooks put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down. Cover with a lid and simmer 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from heat but leave lid on 10 minutes.

After the fish is done stir in the rice or serve the fish stew over servings of the rice. This stew is thick enough to serve on plates. Hot cornbread, corn muffins or corn sticks would be the ideal bread to serve with this fish dish. This recipe makes 6 to 7 servings.

RECIPE FOR RAINBOW Cookie Eggs

Try these decorative and delicious "Easter Egg" treats. They're two-bite size (that's one bite better than bite size).

Cream ¼ lb. margarine and ½ cup confectioners sugar well. Add ½ tsp. salt and ¾ tsp. Durkee's Vanilla. Blend in 1 cup sifted flour and ½ cup Durkee's Coconut. Form into small egg shapes (¾ tbsp. dough). Bake on lightly greased cookie sheet at 300° F. for 25 min. Cool.

For frosting: cook to thin syrup 2 cups granulated sugar, ⅓ tsp. cream of tartar, 1 cup hot water. Cool to lukewarm. Add ½ tsp. vanilla, about 1½ cups sifted confectioners sugar, 'til frosting is of consistency to pour.

Tint 3 sauce dishes of coconut different colors using 2 drops Durkee's Food Color in ½ tsp. water to ½ cup Durkee's Coconut.

Residents Shop for Traditional Spring Finery

Pontiac Gets Ready for Easter Parade

Traditionally people buy new spring outfits for the Easter season, and Pontiac residents are getting a good start on their Easter shopping. Brian Wideman decided that a Fraternity Prep Ivy-styled suit with washable dacron tie and perma-smooth shirt would be just the thing for this year's Easter parade. Ann Rupert chose a navy and white cupioni sheath dress by Kerrybrooke with white hat and gloves for her Easter ensemble.

Clutching her stuffed doll, Kathy Boettcher shows off what she'd like to wear in the Easter parade this year. She looks like a perfect little lady in a blue nylon dress which is held stiff by crinoline.

Easter will find Mrs. LaVon Ryden decked out in her best spring finery — perhaps she'll decide to wear this Minx Mode sheath dress which features a pure silk black and white polka dot scarf. A black straw hat with white pique band and veil tops off her outfit.

Women's Missionary Society of Eastern Michigan District met all day Tuesday at St. John Lutheran Church for an annual district meeting.

Mrs. Reuben Norling, WMS conference president from Detroit, greeted the 150 women who came from 11 societies.

Marian Anderson and A. F. Angster spoke on phases of social missions.

Offers Tickets for 'Oklahoma'

Reserved seats for "Oklahoma" by Rodgers and Hammerstein will be available in Pontiac Central High School corridors from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturday, according to George Putnam, vocal music director.

The musical will be presented March 26, 28 and 29 by the Vocal and Dramatics Departments of the high school. The production will have orchestral accompaniment.

Mrs. Leon Bigger votes for a gray tailored suit with a red and white blanket plaid coat topped with a small white and black hat as her favorite spring ensemble.

Pattens Visit Hills, Travel Abroad

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mr. and Mrs. Marc T. Patten, formerly of Bloomfield Hills, have been visiting in the Hills en route from their Wyoming ranch to New York. They sailed from there Wednesday on an extended trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Patten were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders and the Denton Andersons. Between the visits they drove to Urbana, Ohio, to see their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stadler (Joan Patten) and their children.

Mrs. Paul Gorman was elected president at the annual meeting, with Mrs. John McNeeley as first vice president; Mrs. Lee Hill, second vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Farley, recording secretary; Mrs. C. W. Crawley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Schingeck, treasurer, and Mrs. Russell French, auditor.

Committees appointed included Mrs. Leonard Saari, Mrs. Robert MacLaren and Mrs. Robert Dorman, membership; Mrs. J. C. Norton and Mrs. Robert G. Scharf, house; Mrs. John Braid and Mrs. Dale Moats, publicity, and Mrs. H. N. Watson, historian.

Others are Mrs. John Gemmell, custodian, and Mrs. Dale Nolf, Mrs. Erwin Christie, Mrs. Alex McVean, Mrs. Harry Eaton, Mrs. Edwin Solomon, Mrs. Theron Taylor, Mrs. J. R. Shaffer, Mrs. George Watters, Mrs. Moats, Mrs. Lester Oles and Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, telephone.

Guests were Mrs. Kenneth Crawley, Mrs. Dean Lacy, Mrs. Byron Cole and Mrs. John McConnell.

WCTU Gathers

Mrs. George Golding opened her home on South Jessie street to 20 members and two guests of the Frances Willard Unit of WCTU for a fellowship dinner Wednesday. Participating in the program were the Rev. Lola P. Marion, the Rev. LeRoy Shafer and Mrs. John Little.

Bridge Winners

When the Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met at Elks Temple, G. W. Sparks and Stanley Conn were winners north and south. East and west winners at the Monday affair were Mrs. James Ross and Mrs. Leon Haskins.

Pontiac Press Photos

Hospital Volunteers to Receive Training

Volunteers working on Pontiac General Hospital projects will meet for training periods on Tuesday and Thursday, March 25 and 27, from 10 a.m. until noon, and Wednesday, March 26, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Those interested in doing volunteer work have been cordially invited to attend these meetings, which will be held in the new hospital wing.

Fellowship Class See Alaska Slides

Mrs. George Hill, formerly associated with schools of Sitka, Alaska, spoke and showed slides at a Tuesday evening dinner meeting of Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Luscumb and the Ira Davises were in charge of the program and dinner.

Boys Eye Sky, Dream of Becoming AF Pilots

Wild Blue Yonder Calls Many Teenagers

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Not long ago we disparaged slightly the adventurous spirit of American youth on the basis of our finding that only a few youngsters want any part of pioneering a trip to the moon.

But there is another side to the coin.

Questioning several hundred youths, we find that more than one in four of the boys would like to be an Air Force pilot.

Granted that piloting an air fighter, however hazardous it might be, is much less of an unknown quantity than taking a space trip, the fact remains that a 25 per cent vote for such a service seems high.

It bears out what an Air Force officer told me recently that the service has plenty of pilot volunteers, although it needs more technicians to keep the service ships flying.

FEW HAVE FLOWN

Among both boys and girls, about 1 in 15 hopes someday to pilot a plane of his or her own. And yet, only one in six of the girls, and one in four of the boys have been in the air at all.

Of those who have flown the overwhelming majority tell us that they like it better than traveling by train, auto or bus. Only 1 per cent of the boys and 3 per cent of the girls would rather travel by land.

This despite the fact that even those who prefer the air over ground travel have qualms over what they consider the hazards involved.

"I love flying but there is always the danger of a crash," said Jo Ann Whately of New York City.

Mike Crosner, 17, of Kansas City expressed fear of running out of fuel during flight.

"It's too expensive," said Eileen Eagen of Yonkers, N. Y.

MISSING THINGS

"By traveling at such rapid rates of speed we seem to be missing things," observed philosophical Don Lawrence of Ilion, N. Y. "This is not just with reference to airplanes but refers to a great many aspects of modern life."

Some of this anti-airplane reasoning carried over into thoughts about joining the Air Force.

Reasons for not wanting to be a service pilot ranged from "I don't see any room for advancement or self-improvement," to "It just doesn't interest me."

On the other hand, some had practical and idealistic reasons for preferring the Air Force.

"It's better than carrying an M1 rifle," said a 16-year-old from Indianapolis beset by visions of slogging through the mud with the infantry.

"I have an obsession to fly a B-52 bomber someday," 17-year-old Douglas Merchant of Ilion, N. Y., told us.

GIRLS INFLUENCE

About three out of five told us they would not like to see their boy friends flying in service. Mostly, they were concerned about his safety.

"I'd worry," said Judy Markowitz of Passaic, N. J.

"It's not a family man job," said Linda Epstein, 17, of Syracuse, N. Y. "He has to be away too often."

Dad Discovers Daughter Isn't Ready for Marriage

Blames Himself, Mom for Raising Girl Without Homemaking Skills

By RUTH MILLETT

"Much as I love our daughter, I can't help but feel sorry for the young man she is going to marry next month," a suddenly worried father writes.

"Though she is a pretty, sweet and popular girl and has had two years of college, the things our daughter doesn't know about keeping a house are enough to make it tough on a young man just starting his career.

"She doesn't know how to cook a meal, because she has never cooked a real one.

"She can't know much about housekeeping, for her own room is always in a mess, with clothes piled on chairs and covering the beds, dresser always cluttered, and so on.

"She doesn't know what it is to do without, because for years her mother has been doing without for her — getting her twice as many clothes as she could possibly need while making old ones do for herself.

"I admit she has always been able to wheedle everything she wanted out of me, so I can only suppose she will turn on the charm whenever she wants something her husband says they can't afford.

"I don't blame my daughter for being so completely unprepared for marriage. I blame my wife and myself.

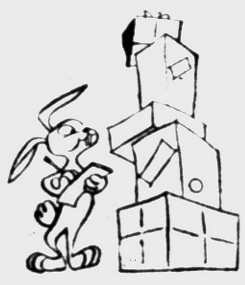

"But the sad thing is I never realized how little training she has had for marriage until she came to me and said, 'Dad, Jim and I want to be married.'"

There's a letter that ought to wake up a few parents of daughters before it is too late to see that they learn at home some of the skills they will need as future homemakers and that they face some of the realties they will have to face when Mama and Papa can no longer hand them happiness on a silver platter.

Dear Abby . . . .

She Does Act Like Grandma---'58 Model

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument. Where I work there is this woman who has silver-gray hair but a young face and a good figure. She must be about 50 but looks younger.

ABBY

She has 12 grandchildren, but she goes swimming with them, rides a bicycle with them and she belongs to three bowling leagues. She says she never baby-sits with her grandchildren unless there is an emergency.

Everyone says I am all wet with my ideas, but I think a grandmother should ACT like a grandmother and should be proud of her grandchildren and not her bowling score.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: This grandmother IS acting like a grandmother. A modern one. Nowadays you can't tell a grandmother by looking at her, and I say more power to her!

DEAR ABBY: Our little boy is eight years old and very much overweight, so our doctor put him on a strict diet. I've tried to keep him on this diet but I can't follow him around every minute because I have three other children to look after and my work to do.

My next door neighbor told me she's seen my son eat the dog food right of the dog dish and also that he eats the bread she throws out for the birds. What should I do?

TROUBLED MOM

DEAR MOM: Tell your doctor how the boy has been supplementing his diet and explain to the boy the dangers of same. If he doesn't heed your warnings, keep him indoors where you can keep an eye on him.

DEAR ABBY: My parents have been married for 19 years and I have been hearing the same arguments ever since I can remember.

My father says he works harder at his office than my mother does at home and she claims she would like to go to his office and do HIS work and let him stay home and do the cleaning and cooking. Who do you think has the harder job, Abby?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: It's the Papa's job to bring home the bacon and the Mama's job to cook it! Neither is a cinch.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I wish you would help me with. I am a young girl who would like to become a bullfighter. Please don't laugh at me. Two women (Pat McCormick and Bette Ford) made it and I think I can if I try hard enough.

I am graduating from high school this year and want to know if I can get into this kind of work in this country or should I go to Mexico?

D. J.

DEAR D. J.: Before you take the bull by the horns, discuss this matter with your parents and also the vocation guidance counselor at your school.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DISAPPOINTED FISHERMAN:" She wasn't the only fish in the sea, was she? Bait and see!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Evening Groups Gather

Evening groups of the First Congregational Church met on Wednesday:

John Youngpeter showed slides of his trip through Mexico and the West Coast to members of the Alden Group. Ten members were present at the meeting in the church. The group discussed plans for a money-making project in May.

Mrs. Wallace Edwards was hostess to 15 members of the Mary Lyon Group in her home on Otsego drive. Mrs. George Gaches gave a talk on "Women of the Bible." The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Haskins on Spring road.

Plymouth Group met at the Opdyke road home of Mrs. Lawrence Ferman. Assisting hostesses were Lulu McCully and Mrs. Martha Larsen.

Mrs. Gerald Hunt presented a program of Easter stories. Mrs. Tabor Eggleston was a guest. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Olson on Dover road.

Earrings grow longer. Kept above the chinline; drop earrings slim the round face. Below the chinline is for the dramatic type.

Extreme earrings are an especially bad choice when they merely emphasize a not-so-perfect feature. A short skirt too narrow to permit a normal stride, earrings that extend almost to the shoulder; how ridiculous can we look?

Salesman Complains of Rudeness

Tells About Doors Being Slammed in His Face

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a salesman for a large company and my job is to go from house to house trying to sell my company's product. I am rather new at this job but already I am discouraged—not because of my failure to sell the product, but because of the rudeness I have met.

"In many instances, before I am even given a chance to speak, the door is slammed in my face. I can understand people being wary about letting strangers into their houses, but I do think that they can at least show a little courtesy by listening for a very few minutes to what I have to say.

"I feel sure that this problem is familiar to many other salesmen, so won't you please write something in your column on this subject so that people will show us a little courtesy and not treat us as though we were beggars."

Answer: I think that the instances of rudeness you have met can be explained, if not condoned, as a defense against the sometimes encountered salesmen who will not accept a polite no, but who aggressively force their way into a house and browbeat the homeowner into buying an unwanted article.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Someone told me that if a dinner guest makes a mistake — such as using the wrong implement — the hostess should do the same in order to save the guest embarrassment. Will you please tell me if this is a rule of etiquette?"

Answer: No—even if the hostess were alone with this particular guest it would not be a kindness to confirm her in her error by imitating it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: May a girl keep a man's fraternity pin after their romance has cooled off? A fraternity pin is not exactly the same as an engagement ring, or is it?"

Answer: The sentiment of a fraternity pin is very much the same as an engagement ring. You should certainly return it.

Many Dwellings in the U.S. Lack Bath Facilities

Eight and a half million homes without private bath or shower! That's what we've got in this country today, according to statistics. Furthermore, three million homes lack even running water.

It just doesn't seem right, does it? We Americans love our soap and water, we love that daily bath. Somehow or other, bathing in comfort must be made available to more families.

Whatever the solution may be, we can be sure that it will come—because washing ourselves, our clothes, our homes, becomes more important to national health and happiness every day of every year.

Electric Cords Need Good Care

Here are some suggestions to prolong the life of electric cords: Disconnect the appliance by pulling the plug, not the cord, from the electrical outlet — turning off the switch first.

After disconnecting the cord, draw its full length through a sudsy cloth or sponge; follow up by rinsing with a clean damp cloth or sponge, and let the cord air dry before replugging the appliance.

Slim Waist Is Great Asset

Take Time to Mold Your Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women wish to know what time is best for doing figure-molding exercises. The answer is, "Any time which is most convenient for you."

There is one exception. Do not exercise when digestion is at its height. In other words, take your exercises three or more hours after eating. Exercise takes blood from the stomach which is needed there for best digestion.

You will get the same figure results whether you exercise before going to sleep at night or at midmorning or afternoon or early morning. Most of us lead such busy lives that there seems to be no time for the things we most want to do, such as regaining that youthful, slim figure. However, the time is there if you will just take it!

Some exercises slim the waist and stimulate or massage the liver. Livers often are lazy and many of the bending exercises give this organ a much needed pinch while banishing unwanted inches on the waistline. The following exercises will do both:

1. Stand tall with the feet comfortably separated. Raise the arms sidewards, shoulder height. Bend the trunk to the left and touch the left toe with the left hand if possible. If not, go as far down as you can.

Raise the trunk to erect position. This time bend to the right and touch the right hand to the right toe. Raise trunk and continue, alternating left and right. Be sure to keep your knees straight.

2. Take the same starting position. This time extend the fingertips down the left leg, all the way to the instep. Drag the hands up the leg to the waist and pull back to the right. Continue. After a while do the same on the right leg.

3. The following peps up the liver: Lie on the floor on your back. Your arms rest on the floor overhead and your legs are straight. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Grasp the knees with the hands and pull back toward the abdomen. Return arms and legs to the floor and continue, slowly.

A slim waist adds more to the attractiveness of the figure and to a youthful appearance than any other one asset.

If you would like to have my tested waist-slimming exercises, which will take a few inches from your waist in a few weeks time, send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Five-Seven Isn't Too Tall; Wear and Enjoy High Heels."

Defending 'A' Champ Victim of Valley King

Indians Race to 72-61 Victory; Austin Cagers Win Impressively

Muskegon Heights, king of Michigan's Class A high school basketball for two years, has fallen.

A successor will be chosen from among Flint Central, Detroit Austin, Benton Harbor and Dearborn Fordson — last night's quarter-final winners — at East Lansing Saturday when the high school tournament ends.

Austin (21-0) vies with Fordson (14-5) and Benton Harbor (18-1) meets Flint Central (18-1) in tomorrow's semifinals.

It was Central that last night toppled the Heights (16-3) from its throne.

The red hot Flint quintet blossomed in the third quarter, overtook the Heights and won going away 72-61. The Heights had led 33-30 at halftime.

But Central outscored Muskegon Heights 18-8 in the third period. Keith Richardson and Dale Lucas put in three field goals apiece during the third-quarter surge. Felix Miller was high for Central with 21 points, one more than Floyd Cook of the Heights.

Muskegon Heights had won three of the last four championships.

Detroit Austin immediately became heir apparent by throttling Highland Park (16-2) 65-48. Austin lost to Muskegon Heights in last year's finals and has been unbeaten since, the only undefeated Class A team this season. Dave DeBusschere was Austin's top point man with 31 points.

Benton Harbor got scoring punch from Chet Walker and Ron Lange and turned back Inkster (14-7) 62-52. Benton Harbor outscored Inkster 18-6 in the second period. Lange and Walker each had 17 points. Benton Harbor's lone defeat was administered by Muskegon Heights.

More than 3,000 fans muddled around outside as the doors closed at 7:00 p.m. with 10,000 screaming people in the U. of D. fieldhouse for the Austin-Highland Park and St. Florian-River Rouge twinbill.

An estimated 12,000 witnessed the games, as many waited and entered after the first game.

Fordson caught fire late in the third period and defeated Livonia Bentley (18-3) 56-51 in the other Class A quarter-final. Bentley had led by as much as 10 points early in the game. Larry Montre knotted it for Fordson at 40-40 with 1:13 left in the third quarter. Then Frank Giorgi and Dick Halleen followed with baskets and Fordson was home free. Montre topped Fordson's scorers with 16 points.

ONE HAPPY MOMENT — Troy cheerleaders had a happy moment or two when their basketball team faced Flint Tech last night in the quarterfinals in Lansing. The Colts were eliminated from the state tourney 48-46.

Freezing Colts Rally but Can't Catch Flint Tech

Belated Comeback Falls Two Points Shy as Troy Goes to Sideline

By BILL CORNWELL

LANSING—Troy chose the quarter-finals to have its coldest shooting night of the season and the chilly spell put the Colts on the sidelines in the state high school basketball tournament.

The Colts, who made a practice of combining a rock-ribbed defense with a sparkling field goal percentage while rolling to 20 straight wins this year, shot a dismal 17 per cent in the first half and had a 27 per cent game total as they dropped a 48-46 decision to Flint Tech here Friday night at the Civic Center.

It was Troy's 1st loss of the season and the 23rd consecutive triumph for Tech after an opening setback to Flint Bendle. The Eagles will now collide with River Rouge Friday afternoon at five o'clock in the state semifinals at Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse.

Despite their frigid shooting, the Colts almost won the contest with a furious 4th quarter rally. If the game had lasted another minute, they might have rescued the verdict.

Troy had great difficulty untracking itself and it was not until the 4th period that the Colts loosened up and started firing with reckless abandon.

Coach Peyton Goodwin's cagers trailed from the opening minute of play and their deficit ranged from four to 11 points until they began their savage belated surge.

Tech enjoyed a 16-7 first quarter lead and the score was 27-19 at halftime. The Eagles boosted their margin to 11 points, 41-30, entering the 4th period.

Jerry Beebe, Tech's high-scoring forward, netted 16 of his 17 points in the 1st half to keep the Eagles in command. When Beebe cooled off, guard Angelo Panoff came through with key buckets in the 3rd period to preserve Tech's edge.

Troy's sound defense, which didn't even allow the Eagles a bonus free throw until late in the battle, actually meant the Colts' downfall before the struggle was over.

Tech started to freeze the ball in a frantic effort to keep charge of the situation and personal fouls resulting from a close Troy press gave the Eagles four valuable points in the waning seconds.

Dick Booth's field goal with 2:20 remaining cut Tech's lead to 43-40. Beebe's free toss, his only marker of the 2nd half, made it 44-40.

A fielder by Dave Roat reduced the deficit to 44-42 and Rod Harris missed a layup shot at the 1:30 mark which would have tied the score. Panoff's gift toss put the Colts three behind.

Two more foul throws by Panoff after Booth had bagged a pair of charity shots brought the count to 47-44. Then, with eight seconds left, Wayne Figley connected to cut Troy's deficit to 47-46. Guard Mike Kerner potted a free throw with four seconds to go and the Colts could not get up the floor in time for a possible tying goal.

Booth captured game scoring honors with 20 points and Figley notched 11. Panoff added 13 points to Beebe's 17.

Pistons Lose Opener at St. Louis

SPORTS

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

George Halas, the outspoken master of the Chicago Bears' football organization, is back in the driver's seat at the Wrigley Field gridiron.

Actually, Halas never left the seat even when Paddy Driscoll had the title of head coach. He now merely holds the reins with two hands instead of one.

This is the 4th time that Halas has taken over the head coaching job since 1920, and Driscoll was only the third head coach sandwiched in among the Halas eras. Unfortunately, his two years was the shortest of stays.

It hasn't been often in the 38 years of existence of "Halas U." that the Bears were seen as low as 5th place as they were in 1957.

In fact Halas' record of 308 victories is unequalled by any other coach in the pro football empire, and probably no one has had a greater impact on National Football League than the Chicago emperor.

Halas has wasted no time laying his plans for 1958. In a by-lined pamphlet right out of Chicago, Halas has set his blueprints.

He begins by asking two questions — What happened in 1957? What's going to happen in 1958 to make the Bears championship contenders again?

He answers these questions in a few thousand words and he doesn't hesitate to predict that the Bears will be back in contention next Fall.

In short Halas sees the 1957 downfall due to a sharp drop in offensive power, poor line blocking, no depth at left halfback and fullback, too many injuries and some pretty poor football.

His 1958 plans call for shifting J. C. Caroline from defense to left halfback on offense, to develop 218-pound rookie Bo Dickinson for halfback-fullback duties thus giving Rick Casares more rest, and to give the offensive line more speed by shifting number one draft choice Chuck Howley from linebacker to guard along with addition of rookie tackle Dick Klein of Iowa.

Halas is an optimistic soul. He's used to winning and even though the first call for football is five months away, it is apparent that the president of Halas U. isn't letting any grass grow under his feet.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

While on the subject of football, it looks like there will be a Karras family rivalry when the Bears and Lions meet next season. Alex, the Lions' number one draft from Iowa choice, will be across the line from his older brother Ted, a guard who is now out of the service after playing at Indiana.

Numerous county coaches have called to comment on Tuesday's Press Box article "County Teams Taken for Ride." Plans are to bring out these printed facts at the coaches meeting in Lansing Friday.

Hawks 114-111 Victors as Hagan Stars With 38

Shue Hits 31; Series Moves to U. of D. Gym Saturday

ST. LOUIS (INS)—Former Kentucky great Cliff Hagan pumped in 38 points and flu-ridden star Bob Pettit contributed 14 as the St. Louis Hawks turned back a stubborn Detroit Piston quintet, 114 to 111, last night in the first game of their best out of seven National Basketball Association series.

The score was tied 11 times and the Hawks trailed after every quarter before tying up the game, 99 to 99, with less than six minutes left. Baskets by Jack Coleman and "Easy Ed" Macauley gave the Hawks a lead they never relinquished.

Pettit, the third best scorer in the NBA this season, played despite the bad effects of the flu.

Gene Shue, ex-Maryland star, paced the Pistons by scoring 31 points. Teammate George Yardley, the first man in NBA history to score over 2,000 points in a single season, was held to 20 points.

Yardley and St. Louis rookie Win Wilfong were involved in a brief fist fight during the hectic first quarter. Both men went after a ball and then started toossing fists. The flurry was quickly broken up.

The Boston Celtics defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 107-98 led by Bob Cousy who had 29 points.

The Celtics opened an 8-2 lead and never were headed. The slick Boston guard was helped by big Bill Russell, who scored 18 points and grabbed 25 rebounds. Woody Sauldsberry paced Philadelphia with 25 points.

The team will rest until Saturday when the competition moves to Detroi. and Philadelphia. The Pistons-Hawks game will be nationally televised starting at 2 p.m., EST (NBC).

Grill Quintet Ousted, 70-40

Griff's Grill, Pontiac's Class B champion, was handed a 70-40 thumping by Luigi's Bar of Detroit Wednesday night to fall by the wayside in the Inter-City basketball tournament at Detroit's Lasky Recreation Center.

Hampered by the absence of 6-foot-5 Ken Titherage, the Grill quintet was no match for the speedy, clever Detroiters. The winners held a 39-22 halftime lead and continued to build their margin.

Tom Moore scored 18 points to pace the Detroit club, which advanced to the final round. Bill York's eight points were high for Griff's.

Auburn 5 & 10 seeks the Inter-City Recreation Class D title tonight in the 7:30 final at Hamtramck High School. The Lakeside Royals have already won the MRA Class A district and are waiting for action in the state tourney at Ypsilanti.

State Slate for U. of D.

DETROIT (INS) — University of Detroit baseball coach Lloyd Brazil said today U. of D. will play 19 of its 21 games this season with other Michigan colleges.

The Titans will be operating as independents this season, the first time in nine years they have not participated in the Missouri Valley Conference.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., last night moved closer to a fifth successive National Women's AAU basketball title, defeating Omaha 54-26 in a quarter-final game.

Chassell Only Champion Left After Win No. 63

Chassell, the wonder team that's forgotten what it's like to lose, was the only defending champion alive today as the state high school basketball tournament got down to the nailbiting stage.

The seemingly invincible Upper Peninsula team tolled off victory No. 63 last night in its record string. Chassell (25-0) advanced to tomorrow's Class D semifinals by trouncing Glen Lake (20-3) 76-52. Don Mattson again spearheaded the attack for the champions of the last two years with 27 points.

Powerful Schoolcraft (21-0) loomed as Chassell's top challenger on the strength of a 58-46 triumph over Fowler (15-6). Larry Cole scored 29 points for Schoolcraft, which led throughout the game.

Holland Christian (20-4) gave East Lansing a struggle all the way and led until there were four minutes to play. But East Lansing kept nipping away at the three-point lead Christian carried into the final quarter. Art Brandstatter finally sunk the basket that put East Lansing ahead to stay halfway through the period and it won 55 - 49. Brandstatter totaled 19 points.

West Michigan Christian of Muskegon (20-3), Hudson (21-1), Harbor Springs (16-5) and Highland Park St. Benedict (20-2) advanced to the Class C semifinals.

Christian defeated Holt (17-6) behind Ken Van Dyke's 17 points.

Hudson won its 20th straight with a quarter-final 70-42 romp over Bronson (20-2). It was close for only one quarter, but Hudson quickly solved Bronson's all-court press and broke away. Dan Cisco's 23 points paced Hudson.

Harbor Springs overcame a 10-point Crystal Falls (17-4) halftime bulge in the third quarter and went on to win 57-50.

Highland Park St. Benedict's blistering fourth quarter sent giant killer Marlette (15-6) down to defeat 50-34. Marlette ousted two previously unbeaten teams in the regionals and held St. Benedict to a 30-30 tie after three quarters. But Al Philion headed the Highland Park club to a 20-4 advantage in the fourth quarter and victory.

Marquette led all the way and overwhelmed Alpena Catholic Central (19-3) 70-49 in Class B. River Rouge rolled over Hamtramck St. Florian (17-4) 59-47 in the other Class B quarter-final. Jim Dunson scored 22 points for Rouge and had a 53 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Ray Kennedy led Owosso St. Paul's second half bombardment as it won its Class D battle with Manton (20-3) 72-57. Kennedy tallied 35 points, 31 in the second half. He connected on 13 of 15 field goal attempts after intermission.

Hanover-Horton rubbed out the Class D chances of Dimondale (13-8) with a 55-45 victory behind 6-foot-6 Jerry Swope's 24 points. Dimondale had led by three points at the half. But Swope's rebounding and shooting nullified the advantage in the third quarter.

Pontiac 'Y' Bows to Saginaw, 67-54

The Saginaw YMCA Intermediate basketball team handed the Pontiac "Y" a 67-54 setback Wednesday night in the Pontiac YMCA gym. Saginaw took an early lead and was never headed, although Pontiac came within two points in the 3rd quarter.

Dick Eley meshed 25 points and Dexter Jarrett added 15 for Pontiac. John Wells netted 16 for the winners.

Saginaw will now represent the Northeastern YMCA district in the state "Y" tournament March 28-29 at Detroit. Intermediate teams are for boys from 14 through 17 years of age.

Cage Coaches Gather at NCAA

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's Johnny Cox has reinjured a finger on his right hand, but he's expected to be ready to play against Temple tomorrow night in the NCAA basketball championships.

Cox's finger was painfully swollen yesterday and he missed practice.

The Wildcats, Temple and Kansas State are due to arrive today and hold their practice sessions at the 18,500-seat Freedom Hall, site of the tournament.

Seattle, the other finalist, arrived last night and Coach John Castelani said "everybody is in good shape."

The only other man who's known to have been injured is Temple's high-scoring Guy Rodgers. But Temple Coach Harry Litwack said Tuesday Rodges will be in good shape after a strained back last week.

Castellani said Seattle's battle with Kansas State in the second game tomorrow night "probably will depend on the question of rebounding."

Kentucky and Temple open the battle for the title and the winners meet Saturday night in the finals.

Meanwhile, some 400 coaches arrived here for the 32nd annual National Assn. of Basketball Coaches convention. Scheduled today are nominations and voting for the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Basketball Assn. Award to the person doing the most for the sport.

Also slated are election of officers, clinic talks and research committee reports by coaches.

One of the most controversial questions being batted about by coaches is the 24-second rule which the pros use, requiring a player to shoot or pass within 24 seconds of getting the ball. Some want it adopted for college play.

Phil Woolpert of San Francisco, definitely is against the proposed rule.

Semi-Final Games Listed

These are the pairings for tomorrow's semifinal rounds of the State High School Basketball Tournament:

CLASS A

Pint-Sized Albie Pearson Fills Bill in Outfield

Senators See New Hope, Thanks to Bosox

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) —Thanks to the Boston Red Sox, there is new hope in the camp of the Washington Senators this spring. It all stems from a deal that brought a center fielder and a first baseman to the cellar club for handyman Pete Runnels.

Albie Pearson, a half pint 5-6 outfielder is counted upon to fill the defensive manhole in center. Norm Zauchin, a .264 hitter with the Red Sox who never has lived up to his rookie promise of 1955, is the new first baseman.

When they asked Manager Cookie Lavagetto what he needed most after the 1957 season, he said "outfielders who can catch and throw." Pearson may fill the bill.

"Everybody in the Pacific Coast League speaks highly of him," said Lavagetto. "He definitely is my center fielder."

Washington finished last in 1957 and it is difficult to see anything but more of the same. The pitching still is the worst in the league with not much hope of improvement.

"We hope to do better," said Lavagetto bravely. "We hope to play .500 ball."

Playing .500 ball would involve some fancy hi jinks for the club that had a 55-99 won - lost record last season.

"We're going to be better defensively," said Lavagetto. From some hidden corner he dragged out a figure—70 per cent better. The Senators' pitchers who saw the enemy score 808 runs, will welcome any tightening.

"Pearson and Zauchin should help us," said Lavagetto. "With a winter's rest, Camilo Pascual ought to win 15, he had an 8-17 record last year. Pedro Ramos 12-16 should do better and Chuck Stobbs 8-20 has to improve."

Lavagetto also counts on bonus boy Ralph Lumenti, a 6-3 lefty, to make the big hop from campus to the majors despite only nine innings of pro experience.

Pascual, Ramos, Lumenti, Stobbs, Russ Kemmerer 7-11 and possibly Hal Griggs (21-12) at Chattanooga fall short of an imposing starting array. Ramos, a chunky righthander who was voted the most valuable player in Cuba during the winter, must curb the home run ball habit. He gave up an awesome total of 43 last year.

For relief, Lavegetto looks to Bud Byerly (6-6), who beat the Yankees three times, Truman Clevenger (7-6) and Dick Hyde (4-3). Bob Wiesler, the ex-Yankee is back for another whirl after a (12-12) year at Richmond.

The best part of the Washington club is Roy Sievers, the left fielder who led the league with 42 home runs and 114 runs batted in. The club's all-time home run champ is a real threat to any enemy pitcher. Pearson in center and Jim Lemon .284 but 94 strikeouts in right will be the starting outfield. Pearson had 28 assists at San Francisco where he hit .297 with fair extra base power for a little fellow.

Neil Chrisley .343 at Indianapolis strengthened his chances with three homers, including a grand slam, in a recent exhibition game. Faye Throneberry (.184) and Whitey Herzog (.167) are the other outfielders.

With Zauchin at first base and Rocky Bridges (.228) set at short the infield is half ready. Harmon Killebrew, a former bonus player who hit 29 homers and batted (.270) at Chattanooga, is giving Eddie Yost (.251) a wrestle for third base.

Second base is up for grabs. Bob Malkmus, drafted from the Milwaukee organization out of Wichita where he hit (.291), has not been too impressive. John Schaive, a whiz at Chattanooga before he went into the Army, is back to challenge for the job. Cookie always can fall back on Herbie Plews (.271) or Jerry Snyder (.151).

Lavagetto wants to groom one of his top two catchers, Clint Courtney (.267) and Lou Berberet (.261) to carry the load since both are lefthanded hitters. The other might go in a deal. Eddie Fitzgerald (.272) a capable receiver and righthanded batter, holds down the No. 2 job.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Ninth of a series)

By BEN OLAN

Frank Malzone turned in an outstanding performance for the Boston Red Sox in 1957. As a result, the young third baseman was voted sophomore of the year in the American League.

In the following situation, Malzone played an important role. See how well you can match wits with Boston manager Pinky Higgins. His strategy helped win the game.

Lou Sleater (L) is on the mound for Detroit as the Tigers and Red Sox play in the top of the 10th at Detroit. The score is tied 7-7. Malzone opens the frame for Boston by drawing a base on balls. Billy Consolo bunts and reaches first safely when Sleater kicks the ball and then throws wide to first base. Malzone moves to third while Consolo holds first. Duke Maas (R) replaces Sleater. Sammy White pops out, for the first out. Relief pitcher Ivan Delock (R) is the next batter with Jim Piersall (R) and Billy Klaus (L) to follow.

Would you:

a. Let Delock swing away?

PINKY HIGGINS

b. Have Delock try a squeeze bunt?

c. Gamble on a double steal?

d. Put in a lefthanded pinch hitter for Delock?

(Other data: Delock has given up three hits in 3⅓ innings; Gene Stephens (1-for-14 as a pinch-hitter) is available; Malzone has two stolen bases in 80 games.)

Result: D — Stephens bats for Delock and singles, scoring Malzone. Boston picks up another run in the frame and wins 9-7 (July 11).

Senate Body Kills Deer Control Bill

LANSING (AP) — The House-approved bill to take away discretionary deer herd controls from the State Conservation Department was killed yesterday by the Senate Conservation Committee.

Sen. Charles T. Prescott (R-Prescott), committee chairman, said the committee's action was unanimous. Four members attended the session.

The committee also killed a bill to advance the deer season opening in the Upper Peninsula from Nov. 15 to Nov. 10 and a third bill to remove the bounty on wolves.

Tigers Concerned Over Relief Pitching

Shaw to Start 2-Game Series With Dodgers

Detroit Plays in Miami Tonight; Boros Is Sent Out on Option

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Jack Tighe is making no effort to conceal his disappointment over his second-line pitching — which at the moment looks for the most part second rate.

The young men on the roster are not giving the Detroit Tiger manager the help he expected and to say Tighe is concerned is an understatement.

"We just have to get some help for our reserve pitching," said the manager. "Of course, we expect good work from Tom Morgan and we're hopeful that Lou Sleater and Harry Byrd can do as well as they did last year. But after that, where we go is anybody's guess."

With the club about to end its fourth week of spring training about the only pitching surprises have been unpleasant ones. Tighe is getting just about what he expected from Bob Shaw, the young righthander who was such a hit in the Cuban Winter League. If Shaw continues to perform as he had to date, then Tighe can count on one more relief pitcher. Beyond that, Tighe now is looking to Bob Bruce for help.

The 6-foot-3 right hander, with four years of minor league ball and a year of army service behind him, is on terminal leave from the Army and will get his official discharge soon.

Tighe did not expect Bruce to be a contender for a Major League job, since he last pitched in Class A ranks and the Army kept him away from baseball for a year.

Bruce's record to date in the Grapefruit League is not impressive. He has yielded four runs and seven hits in six innings but Tighe likes the way the 24-year-old righthander throws.

Shaw and Bruce are scheduled to work against the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight in Miami when the Tigers make their first night start of the spring. The club will stay over and on Friday night meet the Dodgers again with Jim Bunning and Morgan scheduled to pitch.

Outfielder Al Kaline did not make the trip. He pulled a tendon in his throwing arm Tuesday in St. Petersburg and will not be able to throw for several days. Trainer Jack Homel says the injury is not serious.

The Tigers sent two bonus infielders—Steve Boros or Flint and the University of Michigan and George Thomas of the University of Minnesota—out on options to Birmingham of the Southern Assn. That club is working out at Ocala about 100 miles north of Lakeland.

DIBBLE TRADED — Dorne Dibble, veteran end of the Detroit Lions was traded today to the New York Giants for a "high" draft choice in 1959. Dibble lives in Pontiac. He played his college football at Michigan State.

Dibble Traded to NY Giants

Lions Make 2nd Deal in Two Days for High Draft Choice in '59

The Detroit Lions made their second deal in two days by trading veteran end Dorne Dibble to the New York Giants today for a high draft choice in 1959.

Dibble, who resides in Pontiac, started with the Lions in 1951 after leaving Michigan State. He was Detroit's 3rd draft choice that year.

He was in the service in 1952 and in six seasons he caught 146 passes for 2,552 yards and 19 touchdowns. Last year he had his poorest year in catching eight passes for 121 yards.

He is 29 years old.

Pro Hoop Ace Stokes Now Off Critical List

CINCINNATI (AP) — Doctors say Maurice Stokes, pro basketball star stricken with encephalitis, is on the mend but will likely take weeks to recover.

Dr. C. R. Hunter said yesterday the disease has been pinpointed as encephalitis, a brain inflammation. Stokes was taken off the hospital critical list.

Stokes, Cincinnati Royals' star became ill on a flight here from Detroit last Saturday and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, Ky.

Maxwell Is Regular

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Manager Jack Tighe has decided he will carry on part-time platooning in left field.

Charlie Maxwell still is the Detroit Tigers' No. 1 left fielder — but against certain American League pitchers it will be Gus Zernial and possibly Lou Skizas in left.

"That's my thinking right now," says Tighe. "Of course, I'm supposing that Zernial is going to be able to hit for us. If he can't, well, that's another story."

No one has been more disturbed than Maxwell about the frequent stories that he and Zernial will share the left-fielding job. The popular gent from Paw Paw, Mich., doesn't understand all that talk — especially since he has hit 326 and .276 for the club the last two seasons, and belted 52 home runs.

"I've never said that Charlie can't hit lefthanded pitching," said Tighe. "But there are some pitchers who give him trouble. Naturally, being a lefthanded hitter, he has a little more trouble with the southpaws."

Tighe said "cute" pitchers like Whitey Ford and Bobby Shantz of the Yankees, and other top-flight lefthanders like Herb Score and Don Mossi of Cleveland give Maxwell more trouble than others.

Maxwell has had more success against southpaw Billy Pierce of Chicago than many righthanded sluggers. One righthander in particular who gives Maxwell trouble, said the manager, is Baltimore's Connie Johnson.

"As of now," the manager added, "I'm not planning to carry this platooning right down the line. But we're thinking in terms of part-time platooning. But even those plans can change before we open the season. That's a long way off, you know."

Eisenhower Denies He Will Donate Trophy for October Winner

LONDON (AP)—A world amateur golf championship will be inaugurated next October at St. Andrews, Scotland, but the trophy isn't being donated by President Eisenhower.

News of the global golf tournament was given yesterday, with the trophy for the winning national team to be donated by an anonymous American.

There were hints this was the President, but in Washington, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was not so. He said he had no idea who was donating the trophy to the winning team.

The 72-hole medal play affair will last four days, with each country entering four players. The three lowest scores of each team will determine the champion, according to plans of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club and the U.S. Golf Assn.

The individual low scorer would become the unofficial world amateur champion.

Has to Play Somebody

DENVER (AP) — Murray Armstrong, Denver hockey coach, says his team may play Michigan and Minnesota next year.

The two Big Ten schools and five other members of the seven-school Western Intercollegiate Hockey League pulled out this season, leaving Denver alone in the league.

Highland Club Opens '58 Golf Season Saturday

Unless there is a drastic change in current spring-like weather in this area, Highland Golf Club will be in full operation on Saturday.

Frank Dursek's layout is the first among area courses to announce formal opening of the 1958 club-swinging season.

"Only things that could stop us from getting under way this weekend," Dursek says, "is a freeze-up, or snow, or a heavy downpour," none of which is indicated by the weatherman.

The club, contrary to reports, will continue as a semi-public course. "And, another thing," says Frank, "there will be no change in costs." Dursek will continue as manager.

O'Dell Whips Cubs; Indians, Pirates Win

Oriole Hurler First to Go 9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This could be the year the Baltimore Orioles can quit "nursing along" Billy O'Dell, the southpaw pitcher who jumped right out of Clemson College in 1954 via the bonus route and into a major league uniform.

O'Dell, only 25, became the first hurler in the majors to go nine innings this spring when he defeated the Chicago Cubs with a 7-hitter yesterday at Mesa, Ariz. Of course, O'Dell played in the Cuban winter league, and is further advanced than other moundsmen.

Chicago scored three runs off O'Dell in the first inning, two coming on Lee Walls' home run, but the young lefty from Newberry, S. C., blanked the Cubs from then on.

Five games were cancelled, all in Florida, because of rain or wet grounds. The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7 in 12 innings at Ft. Myers, Fla., and the San Francisco Giants were beaten 6-3 by the Cleveland Indians at Phoenix, Ariz.

O'Dell had a 1-1 record with Baltimore in 1954, when the club said "we'll nurse him along, for we don't expect him to start or win a lot of games for us right off the bat."

In 1955 and through August of 1956 he was in the Army. He had a 4-10 record last year.

Harry ("The Cat) Brecheen, former St. Louis Cardinals star southpaw and Orioles pitching coach, has been tutoring O'Dell since he left college.

Last June Billy shut out the Chicago White Sox 5-0 on six hits in his first start. Brecheen said O'Dell would be one of the best pitchers in the league "as soon as he develops a change of pace."

O'Dell, who walked one batter and struck out six Cubs yesterday, admits he still has a lot to learn.

"Sure, I've copied Brecheen's style," said Billy. What's wrong with that? He and Paul Richards (Orioles manager) taught me everything I know. I never dreamed I could throw a fast ball until they got hold of me.

Vic Power tripled in the 12th and Woody Held singled for the winning Kansas City run, and Luis Arroyo was charged with the defeat, eighth in 10 games for Pittsburgh. Johnny Powers and R. C. Stevens homered for the Pirates.

Billy Harrell, who is trying to win the third base job with Cleveland, didn't hurt his chances as he powered the Indians to their victory over the Giants.

He drove in the first Cleveland run with a single in the fifth, then broke a 1-all tie with a three-run homer in the seventh. To top it off, he tripled in the ninth, and scored on Milt Bolling's hunt. Pete Burnside, victim of Harrell's homer, was the losing pitcher. Daryl Spencer homered for the Giants.

FOXY PAIR — Bernie Martin has his hands full of foxes which were found in a hole after digging out a wounded male fox on a recent hunting jaunt. The fox pups, which are three weeks old, have been mothered by Martin's house cat which has four kittens of her own.

Orphaned Foxes Given New Home With 4 Kittens

Two tiny red fox pups that lost their maw and paw when a pair of Pontiac hunters and their dog ran Mr. Fox to earth, have wound up as permanent (as of the present) members of a feline household. The little creatures, just three weeks old, share the care and nourishing ministrations of a mother cat and her four kittens, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Martin, 78 Hamilton.

And kittens and pups get along fine — so far — says Martin, a city fire department ladder truck driver of 13 years tenure. Martin says he will keep the foxes as long as they get along with the rest of the family. "Just now," he says, "they're outgrowing the kittens."

The little foxes were dug from a den on Maple road, while Martin and his hunting pal, Lee Nye, another fireman, were running foxes with their dog. The male fox was hit, crawled into the den, and the pups were found when the hunters dug the old fox out.

Park Approved for Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco baseball Giants cleared one big — but reluctant — obstacle today in building Bayview Park as its future home.

The San Francisco Supervisors Finance Committee yesterday gave unanimous, but definitely reluctant, approval to the measure.

The stadium is a "poor proposition for San Francisco financially," said Chairman Harold S. Dobbs. "But I don't want to take the responsibility for saying baseball is too expensive for San Francisco."

Supervisor Clarissa McMahon observed:

"I am the greatest baseball fan on the board, but I am not particularly happy about this proposition. The stadium is not going to pay for itself."

The stadium is to have 40,965 permanent seats and 4,035 bleacher seats and is to cost 10½ million dollars. It will be located about five miles from downtown San Francisco.

It will be financed by city bonds, lien bonds held by contractor Charles Harney, owner of the stadium land, and a loan from a Chicago insurance firm.

Dobbs said the city probably will lose about $430,000 a year on the stadium for the first 15 years, assuming that average annual attendance is 900,000.

The committee figures about two million customers a season, or nearly the level maintained by the Milwaukee Braves, will be needed to break even.

After 15 years, the debt retirement cost will decline slightly. The obligation drops again after 30 years and ends entirely after 35.

PCH Thinclads Trip Skippers 63-14½

Chiefs Show Power in Opening Tests

By H. GUY MOATS

If yesterday afternoon's first track test for the 1958 prep season, for the state champion Chiefs, is any measure of the squad's potential, then Pontiac Central High is going to present another promising, strong outfit in a tough schedule.

Dean Wilson's thinclads blasted 74½-14½ victory over a pretty good Waterford Skipper squad in the area's first meet of the year. The meet was an indoor affair, that made use of the two Central High gymnasiums and the school's hallways.

Only one event went outdoors. The shotput, won at 44 feet 9 inches by Charley Brown of PCH, was held outside. All jumping events, and the pole vault took place inside. Running events, beyond the 60-yard mark, were run off on the venerable board track in the girls' gymnasium, and the hurdles took place in the halls.

"While there was nothing spectacular in the times the meet revealed we will be all right, barring unforseen circumstances. I think we may have a pretty good squad by the time the outdoor season gets under way," Coach Wilson commented.

Probably the outstanding features of the trial event were the showings of two transfers, Dan Sowell and Bobby Manning. But the top performance was smooth-jumping Fred Brooks' leap of 6 feet 3½ inches. This junior, close behind state champion Hud Ray last year, looks good enough to come close to the 6-4 or 6-5 mark. Two other PCH jumpers, Willie Robinson and Arzo Carson tied at 5-10, yesterday.

Sowell won the 65-yard high and low hurdles and broad jump, while Manning took the 60-yard dash in 6.6 seconds. State half mile champion Larry Beamer did not take part in the meet.

Meet was a good prep for the Huron Relays, a week from Saturday, at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. A full team entry will represent the Chiefs.

Summary:

65-yard high hurdles—1, Dan Sowell (P); 2, Bill Cole (W); 3, Jim Hawkins (P). Time 8.6.

60-yard dash—1, Manning (P); 2, Jim Keller (P); 3, (tie) Nelson, Nicholle (W). Time 6.6.

Two-mile relay—1, (P), Pete Cox, Del Benson, Wall Chance, Roger Coats. Time 9.10.3.

65-yard low hurdles—1, Sowell (P); 2, Manning (P); 3, (tie) Hawkins and Smith (P). Time 8.0.

Mile relay—1, (P), Jim Prichett, Dave Burtch, Ken Smith, Bob Richards. Time 3:41.9.

Shuttle hurdle relay—PCH disqualified for fast start. Waterford, Time 32.2.

Three-lap relay — 1, (P), Bill Lee, Brown, Frank Shorter, Marc Turner. Time 2.05.3.

Shot—1, Brown (P); 2, Wright (W); 3, Pritchet (P). Distance 44 feet 9 inches.

High jump—1, Fred Brooks (P); 2, (tie) Robinson and Carson (P). Height 6 feet 3½ inches.

Pole vault—1, Bob Finley (P); 2, Keller (P); 3, Cole (W). Height 10 feet.

Broad jump—1, Sowell (P); 2, Hawkins (P); 3, Keller (P). Distance 19 feet 7¼ inches.

Harbor Springs Merrymakers to Invade MSU

Team Paraded Through Streets After Beating Crystal Falls

HARBOR SPRINGS, Mich. (AP)—The roll of drums and the blare of bugles cut through the early morning stillness today as hilarious Harbor Springs made merry on a continued basketball binge.

An American Legion drum and bugle corps escorted Harbor Springs High's victorious team back into town around midnight after it advanced to the semifinals of the Class C state high school tournament by beating Crystal Falls 57-50.

Two weeks ago, when Harbor Springs won its district tournament for the first time in 16 years, there was dancing on Main Street at 2 a.m. Then many on the high school's faculty changed their hairdos. The men suddenly became crewcuts, some in full view of a school assembly, and the women became flaming redheads.

When the team won its regional playoffs, junior coeds dyed their hair blonde and seniors two-toned their locks orange and black—the school colors.

Pontiac 'Y' Swimmers in District Saturday

The Pontiac YMCA swim team will be among four competing in a "Y" district meet to be held at the Flint Northern pool Saturday.

Others entered are Flint, Saginaw and Bay City.

Four members of the Pontiac contingent turned in outstanding performances at the annual Glass City Invitational at Toledo last weekend in a good warmup for the districts.

Chuck Ries won the diving title for boys 10 years old and under. Bill Ratliff took 4th place in diving for boys 15-16. Tom Eley was 4th in the 50-yard freestyle for boys 13 and 14 and the 100-yard breaststroke for boys 13 and 14 was won by Bruce Norvell.

Eight other Pontiac swimmers participated at Toledo posting several heat victories among 750 individual entries.

Yardley Athletic Star of February

NEW YORK (AP) — George Yardley, Detroit Pistons star and National Basketball Assn. scoring champion, has won the February award in the Hickok athletic of the year poll.

Yardley received 26 first place votes and 108 points in voting yesterday. Golfer Ken Venturi of San Francisco was runnerup with 16 first place ballots and 101 points.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro (83) was third, basketball star Dolph Schayes (75) of the Syracuse Nationals was fourth, and Andy Bathgate, New York Rangers hockey player, was fifth.

Pick Ferraris to Win Florida Grand Prix

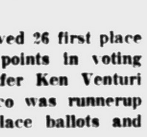

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — The always dangerous Ferraris of Italy and two "sleepers" from England —Aston-Martin and Lister Juguar —will be in the spotlight in Saturday's Florida Grand Prix of Endurance, the top North American sports car race.

Ferrari, with a three-car entry from the factory in Modena, Italy, and drivers from the cream of the world's crop, must be given a favored role in the 12-hour speed battle.

You're looking at the business end of the biggest low-priced pickup built . . . Chevy's new Fleetside! It's designed to help you handle more cargo with less work . . . greater efficiency.

Here's the pickup specifically designed and engineered to haul big loads—and look good doing it—Chevy's new Fleetside! The handsome, spacious body is a full 6 feet wide—and available in lengths of 78" and 98". The Fleetside offers the greatest load space of any comparable low-priced pickup.

Body sides are double-walled where it counts. Hardwood floors and steel skid strips mean easy loading as well as long life. And the graintight tailgate becomes a sturdy platform for extended loads.

There's built-in ruggedness under that snappy new styling. The new Fleetside comes up smiling from the toughest jobs. It's powered by the improved money-saving Thriftmaster 6. If you need more power, a 160-h.p. short-stroke V8 is available as an extra-cost option.

In addition to the handsome new Fleetside, Chevrolet offers hard-working Stepside models, including America's lowest priced popular pickup. See your Chevrolet dealer and look 'em over.

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Sir Leslie Munro, president of the United Nations General Assembly and New Zealand ambassador to the United States, will address the University of Michigan's annual honors convocation May 9.

Adenauer Strikes at Socialists

Raps Opposition to NATO

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today that West Germany must equip itself with atomic weapons and permit rocket bases on its soil if NATO considers that necessary for Western defense.

Otherwise, Adenauer told the Socialist opposition, West Germany must get out of the North Atlantic Alliance.

"If we refuse the technical advice of NATO military experts," he declared, "then we are withdrawing from NATO." West Germany cannot withdraw from NATO, he continued, if it is determined to play its part in defending the free world against potential Soviet aggression.

West Germany's opposition Labor party has been loudly demanding that Adenauer's government renounce atomic weapons and refuse to let American missiles be based in West Germany in hopes that this would make the Soviets more amendable to German reunification.

The government so far has not committed West Germany to accepting either nuclear weapons for its own forces or NATO missile bases. Nor have the recommendations for base sites been made public by NATO's military planners, although they are expected to be submitted at a meeting next month of the alliance members' defense ministers.

West Germany appears likely to be one military choice for the missiles which can reach the Soviet Union. NATO's supreme commander, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, said in an interview last month that "atomic weapons for defensive purposes are absolutely essential for the defense of West Germany . . . West Germany must not be committed to weapons of several generations ago."

Speaking in a major foreign policy debate, Adenauer once more told the Bundestag — the lower house of Parliament—that the Soviets are the potential aggressor and that they have long-distance rockets and atomic weapons.

"If an important part of NATO does not have the same weapons to use against the potential aggressor, then NATO is reduced to insignificance," he declared.

Insists French Leave Tunisia

But Bourguiba Doesn't Keep Threat to Break With West Today

TUNIS (UP) — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba today reaffirmed his desire to keep his North African country on the side of the West but launched a blistering new demand that France pull her troops out of his "occupied" country.

Although he roundly denounced the French, the Tunisian leader did not follow through on his threat to break with the West today, the second anniversary of Tunisia's independence from France. Instead he said in a speech to the National Assembly: "We have to prefer cooperation with the West in order to shut the gates of hell. . . . Once again we must reason and remain lucid."

Leaning heavily on the U.S.-British good offices mission now trying to patch up the bitter dispute between France and her former protectorate, he assured his audience that "the Tunisian republic will be evacuated of foreign troops."

This was a reference to the modified proposals Bourguiba and the good offices team worked out which the U.S.-British negotiators now are discussing with French Premier Felix Gaillard in Paris. They call for progressive evacuation of French troops, a French declaration of Tunisian sovereignty over Bizerte and further negotiations on French withdrawal from the naval base.

Gaillard continued to try to put off the conservative critics. He refused to reveal the Tunisian proposals to the National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee in Paris and said the negotiations on them would be lengthy.

'Porgy and Bess' Movie Finally Nears Premiere

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Only one member of the trio who created "Porgy and Bess" survives to witness its vindication as an international work of art.

He is Ira Gershwin, wry, bald master of lyrics. With DuBose Heyward, author of the story, he penned the lyrics to the monumental score by George Gershwin. Now that "Porgy and Bess" is reaching the screen under the aegis of Sam Goldwyn, I dropped by Ira's house to bring him up to date.

He lives in a stunning modern home in Beverly Hills, surrounded by impressionist paintings and relics of the days when the Gershwin brothers were turning out great American music. Ira is recovering from an operation.

I asked him why "Porgy and Bess" took so long to reach the screen.

"We were always stymied by a legal matter concerning the Heyward estate," he explained. "Sam Goldwyn was the only one with enough resolution to step in and solve the problem.

"Recently I counted up the offers we have had for 'Porgy' over the years. There were 90. I was at a party two years ago where five big producers came up to me during the evening and said they would like to make the picture."

Ira exhibited a scrapbook which his brother had kept until his death. It contained all the reviews and news about "Porgy." The critics raved over the premiere of the folk opera, yet it was a commercial failure.

"It was ahead of its time," Ira explained. "When it was brought back seven years later, people had heard the score on radio and records and they were ready for it."

Since George's death in 1937, Ira has worked with many top composers, including Jerome Kern, Harold Arlen, Harry Warren, etc.

"Managing my brother's estate occupies a great deal of my time," he said. "And right now I'm putting together a book of my lyrics, with a commentary about how they were written."

Ghoul Gein's Home Destroyed by Fire

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (UP) — The farmhouse where Edward Gein butchered his murder victims and hid bodies he looted from graves was destroyed by fire early today.

Several area clergymen, among others, had protested plans for an auction of the Gein property on Palm Sunday.

Authorities are investigating cause of the blaze.

The fire at the farm, seven miles from here, was spotted from town by Police Chief Burt Carlson at about 2:30. He notified the fire department whose chief is Frank Worden, son of Mrs. Bernice Worden, one of Gein's murder victims.

Gein has been committed to Central State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Waupun.

Gein has admitted slaying Mrs. Worden in her hardware store last fall, and the death of Mary Hogan, a rural tavernkeeper in 1954. He also admitted several grave robberies in the area.

Burns, Allen's Daughter Divorces Executive

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP)—The daughter of television comedians George Burns and Gracie Allen has obtained a divorce on testimony her husband preferred beach life to family life.

Mrs. Sandra Jean Wilhoite, 23, testified in support of her cruelty charge that Young James Wilhoite, 28, film production executive, spent "a lot of time at the beach leaving me alone with the children."

Unlike their cousins of tropical America, the Red Ground Monkeys of Africa cannot swing by their tails. These simians live on plains and savannas, often venturing miles from the forest's safety. Should a leopard appear, however, they frantically seek the protection of trees.

Bob Considine Says:

Menshikov Is Wearing New Soviet Face

WASHINGTON (INS) — Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov of the U.S.S.R., having waved us into the comfortable living room of his digs on the third floor of the Russian Embassy, served coffee, French and Armenian brandies, Russian cigarettes (50 per cent filter) and cigars. A pleasant luncheon for W. R. Hearst and his national editor Frank Conniff and myself had just ended.

The smiling Russian also served familiar propaganda lines we had heard last November from three of his superiors — Khrushchev, Bulganin and Gromyko. That's his job.

His excellency strongly resembles a successful member of the alumni of almost any American college, but speaks generally better English. One surmises immediately why he was appointed the Soviet Union's top emissary to the U. S. after four years in New Delhi where he obviously did a tremendous sales job.

Menshikov is here because he epitomizes the new face of the Soviet Union. He smiles, jokes, is sophisticated, speaks glowingly of peace, plugs for a summit conference, is urbane under tough questioning (but can duck a direct question as ably as Benny Leonard could slip a punch) and is not calculated to blast the feelings of Americans in general.

"There could be a terrible war at any moment if a madman is set loose in the world," the Russian ambassador said as he sipped his brandy. He gently asserted that he personally doubted that the "madman" would come out of the United States. He said he was convinced that President Eisenhower personally wanted peace. He seemed surprised at the suggestion that any "madman" might come out of Russia.

The Russian ambassador's point was that there must be some lessening of the tension that makes World War III a possibility. A summit meeting might do it, though he could not or would not spell out just how it could.

The question of U. S. bases overseas came up, naturally. The ambassador said with his only trace of sharpness, "I must say that it is difficult to believe that these are defensive bases when all of your gun-barrels, so to speak, point at us."

An embassy aide eagerly volunteered that he had read recently of Mexico's complaint against U. S. "aggression," but was vague about the nature of the charge. Hearst said the Mexican critic could not have expressed the feeling of his government and challenged him to give particulars.

"It is well known that your country greatly expanded its holdings in the last century," the aide said defensively.

"What about Russia's expansion in this century—since World War II, let's say?" Bill asked.

The man looked surprised and asked for details.

"Well, we'll start with Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia," Hearst said, "and then go on to Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, the Kuriles . . ."

"The Kuriles was simply a case of retaking what Russia owned before the Russo-Japanese War a half a century ago," the man said.

"But the others?"

"They joined us willingly," the Russian embassy man said blandly. They debated intently but quietly in the pleasant room as the big Russian maid tip-toed about with her cigarettes and cigars. The courtly ambassador persevered. To the rest of us he spoke of the exchange of U.S.-Soviet sports teams, the willingness of Khrushchev to meet anywhere with Eisenhower.

We shook hands on leaving and, not wanting to burden the little elevator, walked downstairs through the mansion. The second floor, where official Soviet Embassy receptions are held, was much more lushly furnished. Huge reproductions of paintings of Lenin and Stalin hung on one wall.

As we reached the ground floor a startled supernumerary bounded across the reception foyer, turned on a light and offered to help us with our coats. We said goodbye and walked out into the bright sunshine of 16th street. Conniff waved absently across the street.

"If the FBI pictures turn out good I hope they'll send us one," he said. We walked back to the Statler, a capitalist hotel.

U.S. Youth Criticized by Finnish Teenager

DENVER (AP) — Antero Siirila, 17-year-old Helsinki, Finland student, thinks American boys and girls drive automobiles too early and the girls dress in "a very unladylike manner."

But he thinks American teenagers are "more open-minded and better socially adapted" than Finnish youngsters. Antero is at East Denver High School under an international scholarship program.

A Junior Editors Quiz About YOU

QUESTION: How do you hear?

ANSWER: Next to sight, hearing is the most important of man's senses because it enables him through speech to exchange his ideas with other persons.

Each of your ears consists of three sections—an outer ear, a middle ear and an inner ear, as shown in this drawing. The outer ear catches sound waves in the air and directs them through a passage or canal to a drum, which vibrates much like a real drum when it is struck. These vibrations are carried across the air-filled middle air to the inner ear by three bones called the hammer, anvil and stirrup. In the inner ear, the vibrations travel through a spiral coil which contains thousands of tiny hairs. These hairs pick up the sound and send it along a series of nerves to the brain.

FOR YOU TO DO: Your hearing is very important, so take care of your ears. Never put things in them, protect them from dust and cold, and if anything seems wrong with them, see that they are tended by a doctor.

Vanguard Director Brings Lunch to Work

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Dr. John P. Hagen takes his lunch to work these days so he won't waste any time getting vehicles into outer space tomorrow.

The pipe-smoking astrophysicist now has experienced both defeat and victory as the Vanguard project director. He has come through both characteristically.

After the first Vanguard exploded on its launching pad, Hagen said his Naval research crew would make another test "just as soon as we possibly can."

When the second Vanguard swerved from its path and had to be destroyed, Hagen cried, "Oh, no," but within moments promised, "We'll try again."

When the third Vanguard Monday shot neatly into space and launched its satellite, Hagen said simply, "It's in orbit."

Then he told newsmen the U.S. may put up 10 more satellites this year and that the next major step in space research would be to send a satellite to circle the moon.

Hagen believes in persistence, and in looking ahead.

He is a small man with thinning hair who wears glasses, speaks in a mild manner and works up to 16 hours a day, including weekends. He was a physicist who became an expert in radio frequencies and radar. That led him into research on radio frequencies encountered from celestial bodies. So he took a Ph.D. in astronomy at Georgetown University.

Despite his rarefied scientific interests, Hagen is a very normal kind of man, as shown by his anguished cry of "Oh, no," when the second Vanguard had to be destroyed.

He is a baseball fan, drives a small foreign car, yet takes his lunch to work in a little black dinner pail. Monday, he wore a kelly green tie in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

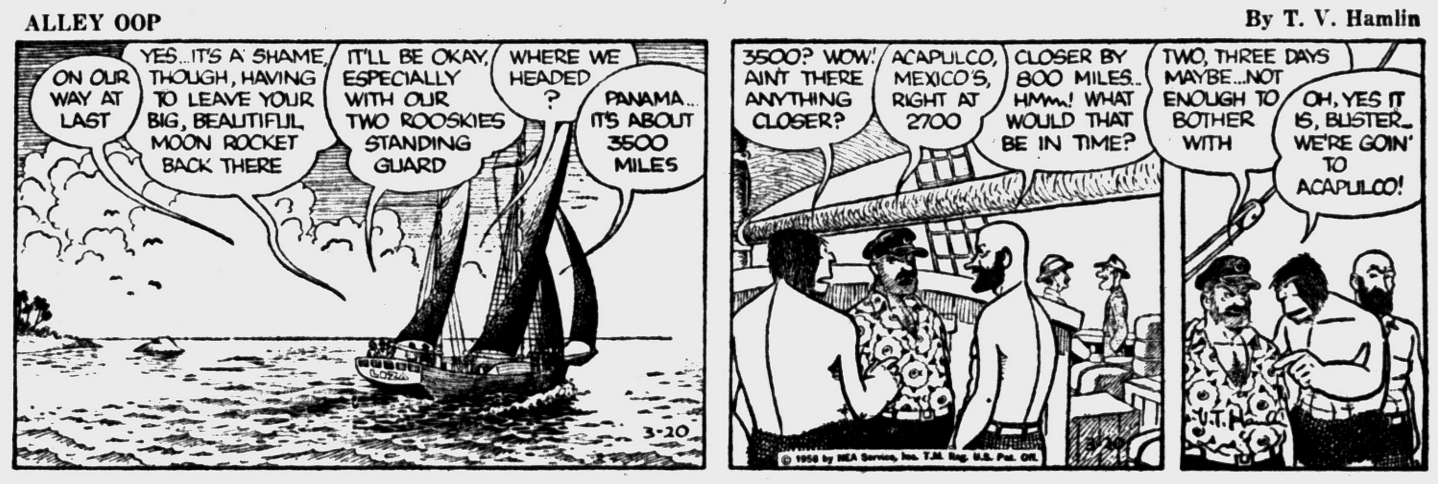

Hagen was born July 31, 1908 in Amherst, Nova Scotia. After studying physics at Boston University, Wesleyan and Yale, he went to the Naval research laboratory in 1935. He was selected in 1954 to head the laboratory's newly formed atmosphere and astrophysics division.

When the laboratory was given the job of launching at least six satellites during the International Geophysical Year, Dr. Hagen quite naturally got the job of project director.

Kohler Shooting Sets Off Row

Affidavit Charges Four Firm Officials Gunned Man in '34 Riot

WASHINGTON (AP)—An affidavit charging that four deputized Kohler Co. officials shot a man in a 1934 riot set off a heated row today in a Senate Rackets Committee hearing.

Lyman C. Conger, the company's counsel and one of those accused in the affidavit, angrily denounced the allegation as "a complete and utter fabrication."

"If it's made under oath and submitted to this committee it is perjury," Conger said. He said that if anyone makes the statement without the immunity that surrounds congressional hearings "I will sue him for libel."

The committee is investigating violence in the four-year-old strike against Kohler, Wisconsin plumbing fixtures company, by the United Auto Workers Union.

The 1934 strike, in which two persons were killed and several dozen injured, involved another union.

The affidavit was read to the committee as the sworn statement of an absentee witness, John Deis. It was read by Leo Breirather, an official of the UAW's Kohler local. He claimed no first hand knowledge about the 1934 incident, but said he believed the affidavit.

He said Deis is not a UAW member.

Deis' statement named Conger, Kohler plant manager Edmund Biever, William Runge and John Raml as the men he said shot him. Runge and Raml also are Kohler officials. Deis said they were serving as special police deputies on the night of the mid-summer 1934 riot.

Both Biever and Conger previously had sworn they did no shooting in the riot.

Army to Order Trucks, Trailers

Auto Industry Getting Contracts Which Total $100,000,000

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army announced today it will let 100 million dollars worth of truck and trailer contracts within 30 days to help ease unemployment in the automotive industry.

Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said nearly all of the work will be placed in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), earlier reported unofficially that Chrysler was getting the entire $100 million order. He explained:

"I received the information from a high administration source and I was delighted to pass it on immediately as the most cheerful news our state has had in recent months. I released the information in precisely the form it was given me."

Brucker said "Placement of these contracts is being accelerated and should help to bring employment to the automotive industry.

The contracts being negotiated call for 250 mechanical "mules" from Willys Corp., Toledo; 3,200 three-quarter ton trucks and 1,000 one-ton trucks from Chrysler Corp., Detroit; 5,000 two and one-half ton trucks from the Utica Bend Corp., South Bend, Ind., and 32 heavy trucks from Mack Trucks, Inc., Allentown, Pa.

In addition, Brucker said the Army will advertise for bids on 4,755 trailers ranging in size from one and one-half ton to semi-trailer gas tankers.

Pontiac Toastmaster Takes First Place

Dr. Harold Bussey representing the Pontiac Toastmasters Club, took first place in the area contest yesterday held in Birmingham.

Bussey was competing with speakers from Birmingham, Detroit and Royal Oak. His topic was "Fall in Love With Your Wife."

Second place went to Ed Kirbert, of Birmingham, who spoke on "So You Want to Sell."

Dr. Bussey now faces the district contest on April 19. The winner there goes to the state competition, from there to a five-state zone meet and finally to an international contest in Pittsburgh.

Drawing Ends Tie in Novi Election

NOVI TOWNSHIP—The deadlock for the fifth post on the charter commission elected to draft a charter for the proposed village of Novi was broken in a drawing of lots in Oakland County Clerk Lynn Allen's office this morning.

Declared winner was J. Philip Anderson who tied Dirk Groenenberg at 346 votes in Monday's special election.

Coppers Strong, Stocks Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved higher early today in moderately active trading.

Coppers showed strength on news of a sharp rise in copper prices abroad.

Pivotal stocks rose fractions to about a point. There was a scattering of losers in about the same range. Specialties made wider moves.

News after yesterday's close that the short interest on the New York Stock Exchange had risen to its highest level since 1931 was a fundamental technical factor.

Lorillard, with short interest more than doubled, was off fractionally. Lukens Steel, in which the short interest declined sharply, trimmed a loss of about a point. Polaroid, which had a big leap in short interest, rose more than a point.

Among coppers, Magma advanced well over 2 points. Anaconda and Kennecott were ahead around a point. Oils were mixed as company officials made pessimistic statements about the supply situation. Superior Oil of California dropped 16 points from its high price.

Zenith added more than 2. Fractional gains were made by U.S. Steel, U.S. Rubber, Boeing, United Aircraft, Du Pont, Southern Pacific, Royal Dutch and Johns-Manville. Goodyear fell around 2 and Goodrich a major fraction.

State Police Puzzled by South Haven Flash

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — A salmon-colored flash which lit up the sky southeast of here last night has State Police puzzled.

Cpl. Robert Peterson of the South Haven post said he and two Boy Scouts saw the flash about 10 p.m. He said it was stationary and lasted about 30 seconds before disappearing. There was no sound.

Cars dispatched to investigate found nothing.

Peterson said several area residents called and also reported seeing the flash.

City Police, Fire Rules Adopted

Regulations for Running Departments Set After 10-Month Hassle

A set of rules for Pontiac Police and Fire Departments was adopted last night by the Pontiac Civil Service Commission.

The rules ended 10 months of discussion and controversy among commission members and department personnel.

The new rules are substantially those hammered out by a committee representing police and firemen, heads of the two departments and city officials.

A few minor changes were made last night on the suggestion of Police Chief Herbert Straley and Attorney Paul Merideth, representing the Police Officers Assn.

The commission and Chief Straley also discussed the fact that applicants for the police department were being turned away by the city personnel office.

"Although we can't hire men now, we should take their applications and investigate their backgrounds so that when the freeze is off we can hire immediately," the chief said.

REQUEST IGNORED

Chairman Theodore Carlson said, "We agree entirely. We have ordered the personnel director to give out applications, but so far we have been ignored. We'll have to try again."

Personnel director Harold Marshall commented today that three applicants who have passed physical and written tests are now awaiting clearance by the police department.

"We also have three others who have passed the written and physical examinations and can be turned over to the police for clearance as soon as the first three are processed," Marshall said.

"This should give us an ample backlog of men and if we need more we should have no trouble getting them quickly in today's labor market," he added.

"We do take the names of those who apply if they seem likely prospects," Marshall stated.

Several police officers presented letters to the commission asking that a copy of the police department's table of organization be placed on file with the Civil Service Commission.

Meredith said that this would allow the commission and the officers to know just what ranks were open for promotion.

The commission agreed to request a copy of the chart from the city manager.

Give Thomas Mair Testimonial Dinner

The Bloomfield Hills Country Club was the site of a testimonial dinner for Thomas Mair, of 725 Stirling Ave., last night.

The dinner was given by the Pontiac Manufacturers Association in honor of Mair, who has been treasurer and chairman of the finance and budget committee of the association since January of 1944.

The group presented Mair, who is now office manager of Jig Bushing Company, 454 N. Cass Ave., with a watch. Mair is a former comptroller of Pontiac Motor Division.

Athens to Build Acropolis Anew

Birthplace of Freedom, Ancient Agora Center, to Be Reconstructed

ATHENS — The Acropolis, cradle of classical Greece, is in for a face-lifting. A new road now rings the ancient citadel, and plans, cut short by war and strife, are now under way to restore its broken temples.

The Athenians have announced a desire to recreate the simple beauty of the Acropolis as the citizens of Pericles knew it in 440 B. C. The missing roof of the massive Parthenon, or Temple of Athena, for example, will be reconstructed, and the last remnant of its frieze will be preserved.

The vast market place or Agora, located below the Acropolis, is also being excavated. This square,

The Greek Government with the aid of the American School of cradle of western democracy, saw Zeno lecture to his Stoics and Socrates expound his radical views. Here, the Athenians did their shopping, talked politics and listened to their poets.

NETS 60,000 RELICS

A favorite meeting place in the ancient market place was the handsome Stoa of Attalus, an open-air gallery of cassic colonnaded beauty. The Stoa, like most of Athens, was razed to a crumbling ruin in 267 A. D. Its remains were lost beneath the accumulation of 18-odd centuries.

Classical Studies began to excavate the Agora a few decades ago. The Stoa was rebuilt, and thousands of relics were dug up at a cost of $3 million — half of it from John D. Rockefeller Jr.

Today, there are some 60,000 art objects on display at the Stoa Museum, Pan Amercian World Airways estimates. The relics range from a Spartan shield, a trophy of Athenian victory in 424 B. C., to a collection of ostracism ballots, tiles on which the Athenians scratched the names of potential dictators.

Disease Causes Low Grades?

MSU Research Team Says Lack of Study May Not Be Responsible

EAST LANSING (AP) — A disease called mononucleosis, and not lack of study, may be responsible for low grades made by some college students, a Michigan State University research team reported today.

The virus disease common to young aduts is characterized by general discomfort, fever, sore throat, aches and pains, headache, abdominal pain and sleepiness. One or several symptoms may occur.

A survey conducted by the staff of the MSU Hospital and compiled by Dr. Joe L. Saupe, of the Office of Evaluation Services, indicated that students hospitalized for the disease had a greater decrease in grades than those hospitalized for other reasons.

Of 31 cases studied during one term, 17 patients had lower grades after their illness than before and five withdrew.

The sickness is caused by an unidentified virus and sometimes is called "glandular fever."

Students call it "kissing disease" but Dr. C. J. Menzies, head of the MSU Health Services said "kissing does not seem any more related to mononucleosis than it is to any other contagious disease."

The hospital had about 85 cases of the disease last year but Dr. Menzies said he believed many mild cases never come to the attention of the hospital.

Cottonwood Fallout Scared Nevada Visitor

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—A visitor to this New Mexico city seemed uneasy recently when asking what the bits of white fluff floating over the town were. He was told it was the yearly fall of "cotton" from the city's many cottonwood trees.

He was relieved when told. He said he was afraid it might be some kind of a fallout from the Nevada nuclear tests.

Watchdog Fails to Bark, Hashish Maker Caught

MORRESBURG, S.A. — Simon Stuurman always ties his dog outside his house. But the other night a passing policeman saw the dog tied to the gate, 40 yards from the house. To find the reason, he went around the back way. Through a window he saw Stuurman making up small packets of hashish. Beside him was a pile of money.

In court, Stuurman paid a $1,100 fine, plus $100 for assaulting his wife because she dozed off when she should have been watching for policemen, plus a $40 fine for kicking the dog viciously because it had not barked when the policeman came along.

Gypsy Gets Thousands Each Night for Talking

By EARL WILSON

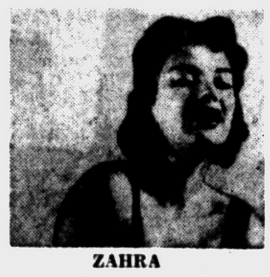

NEW YORK — Gypsy Rose Lee's starting a lecture tour—aided by movies that tell her life story—and plays Town Hall next month. She'll earn $4,000 to $5,000 a night on the lecture, tentatively titled, "The Glamour Of It All." Her sister June Havoc has asked to be cut out of it—because it shows her in the Arthur Murray dance contest but doesn't show that she won.

WILSON

Jack E. Leonard was one of the funniest comedians in the world on the Steve Allen show; especially with these: "My wife bought three cocktail dresses and she doesn't even drink . . . I would stand up here and be funny all night but I don't want to spoil the format of this show."

Wilson Girl Zahra Norbo happened to walk into a dressing room both she and Carmen Basilio had been using at different times. "Don't let me in a room with a beautiful girl!" screamed Basilio. "I'm in training."

ZAHRA

Shirley Temple hopes to see "Seesaw," "The Music Man" and "Blue Denim" this week . . . Jack Carter figures today's the day to own a "Gaelecatessen"—on St. Pizza's Day.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra's out of the Miami show—bad throat. Joe E. Lewis and George DeWitt subbed . . . Bob Hope say's he's visiting Moscow unarmed: "I left my writers home". Cartoonist Al Capp underwent major surgery in Boston . . . Statuesque Julie ("Li'l Abner") Newmar visited a famed cafe, took off her shoes to dance and someone stole 'em.

Says Summit Terms Unacceptable

Bulganin Charges West Rushing War Preparations

LONDON (AP) The Western Allies' most prolific and most troublesome pen pal charged today that the West is rushing war preparations while delaying a summit conference by insisting on discussion of unacceptable terms.

Soviet Premier Bulganin's fresh wording of old demands and accusations came in another letter to Prime Minister Macmillan, made public today.

Bulganin gave no hint that the Kremlin is willing to modify its conditions for the summit talks which it proposed originally. Progress toward the meeting of government heads is now stalled by the inability of the Soviets and the West to agree on either what will be talked about or the level at which to open preliminary negotiations.

Bulganin's letter replied to one Macmillan had sent him Feb. 8 in reply to one Bulganin sent him Jan. 9. Macmillan also wrote Bulganin Jan. 17 but that one answered a Bulganin letter of Dec 11.

This time the Soviet Premier wrote that the West is rushing "war preparations which cannot but worsen the international situation." He cited the recent agreement for U.S. intermediate range missiles to be based in Britain and plans to place the nuclear warhead weapons in some other nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He said "it is now more than ever necessary to refrain from all measures of a military nature" which might complicate holding a summit conference.

Officials in London and Washington concluded that the main purpose of the letter was another attack on America's supplying nuclear missiles to its European allies. The request "to refrain" apparently meant the Allies should not modernize their defenses while waiting for Soviet summit promises.

Bulganin accused the West of delaying a summit conference by holding out for discussion of issues "known to be unacceptable."

President Eisenhower has proposed. Macmillan has endorsed and the Kremlin has refused discussions on restoration of political freedom in satellite East Europe and restrictions on use of the veto in the U.N. Security Council.

Bank of England Drops Interest Rate

LONDON (AP)—The Bank of England today reduced its interest rate from 7 to 6 per cent, allowing money to be borrowed at a lower rate. The result will be cheaper money throughout the sterling bloc.

The nationalized bank increased the bank rate to 7 from 5 per cent—the highest in 37 years—last Sept. 19 as one of the tough anti-inflationary measures of the Conservative government to protect the value of the pound sterling, the British currency.

Since that time the pound has strengthened on world financial markets.

WALTER CRONKITE

Radio Program Deals With Data

Walter Cronkite Finds Most of the Questions Concern Science

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Possibly never before have so many Americans wanted to know so much about such a great variety of subjects.

One result of the growing desire for information is the emergence of Walter Cronkite on CBS-Radio in a program called "Answer, Please!"

Definitely not a quiz program, it bravely undertakes to toss nubbins of knowledge into the cavernous maw of the public mind five nights a week at 8:30.

The idea evolved naturally, Cronkite says, as a means of answering questions which listeners ask the year around. By the second week of the program's life letters were coming in at the rate of 6,000 weekly.

Radio is a much better means of answering questions than a TV program, says the television-seasoned Cronkite, because you can answer more questions more completely without making a production of each.

MORE COMPLICATED

Thus far the predominating questions have concerned science in general and science in relation to world affairs.

Next come questions about the machinery of the U. S. government and provisions of the Constitution on various specific points.

Queries about the White House and the Eisenhower family have turned "Answer, Please!" researchers into experts on the presidential life.

Since the program began Cronkite has answered about 14 questions per broadcast, some of them at length.

VAGUE QUESTIONS

The specific questions are a cinch. But when someone asks: "Will we ever get ahead of Russia? Who will reach the moon first? Will we ever have war again? When will we get our satellite up?" Cronkite eases out of it by replying:

"If I knew, I'd be working for the Pentagon instead of CBS-Radio."

Hot Water in 2 Seconds

GREAT NECK, N. Y. — A new faucet water heater has been marketed by a Great Neck company, which says it will produce hot water in as little as 2 seconds, weighs less than 2 pounds, and can be adjusted to fit almost any faucet. It was designed particularly for summer homes, camps, and other places where hot water isn't readily available.

Sagan Novel Becomes French Best Seller

PARIS — Young Francoise Sagan's novel, "A Certain Smile," which soold 420,000 copies, was France's best-selling book last year. It was followed by Romain Gary's "The Roots of Heaven," 162,000 copies.

The only American author represented among the top 20 best-sellers was Pearl Buck, who tied for 13th place with her "Imperial Woman." 60,000 copies.

U.S. Has 240,000 Licensed Attorneys

NEW YORK — According to the American Bar Association, the nation now has about 240,000 licensed attorneys, with 190,000 in practice. lawyers are said to be independent and the remainder working for firms or partnerships.

The approximately 50,000 non-practicing lawyers are working for trade associations, as executives in business concerns, or for schools, colleges, and fields related to law.

First Day His Worst

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Beginning of school meant nothing but bad luck for Michael Feyen of Albuquerque. The first day of school, Mike's best friend — Dennis Drury — was hit by a car and suffered head injuries. A week later Mike lost a prize rod and reel at a fishing derby. Returning home from the derby, Mike discovered his new bike which he bought with summer earnings had been stoln.

Fire Engines, Police Car Crash on Way to Fire

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—It was a minor fire, but you should see the fire trucks.

The pumper was hit by a skidding car as it pulled out of Central Fire Station onto an icy Zanesville street. The aerial truck was rammed by another car as firemen backed it into the garage after the fire.
