LOW BRIDGE — The top of this 12-foot high truck was peeled off like a sardine can yesterday afternoon when the driver went under the Grand Trunk Western Railroad viaduct on Orchard Lake Avenue near Cass Avenue. The driver, Jerry L. Daniels of Vero Beach, Fla., said he didn't see the 10-foot, 6-inch clearance sign until it was too late. Daniels was not injured. He said he was traveling about 25 miles per hour.

Shot for Venus Delayed a Day by Radio Woes

Stray Booster Signal Called Minor Problem; Try Again Sunday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A stray radio signal in the booster rocket forced the United States today to postpone for 24 hours an attempt to launch a Mariner I spacecraft to investigate mysteries of the planet Venus.

Officials said the trouble was not serious and that it could be corrected in time for another launch try Sunday morning.

They described the trouble as a spurious radio signal detected in the Atlas-Agena B rocket.

Such a stray signal shooting through the rocket during launch could upset delicate electronic components or give ground trackers a false reading which could lead to the vehicle's destruction by the range safety officer.

The postponement announcement came only 90 minutes before the scheduled time for launching the 446-pound, gold and silver plated Mariner I payload.

Mariner I is slated to race across 224 million miles of interplanetary space en route to a rendezvous with the cloud-shrouded Venus on Dec. 8—140 days after launching.

2 Officials Explain Release of Jackson Prison Riot Chief

(Editor's Note—No convict in recent Michigan history attracted as much attention as did "Crazy" Jack Hyatt, who was released this month from Marquette branch of the Michigan State Prison. He was a ringleader of the fiery Southern Michigan Prison riots of 1952; he later tried to grab former Gov. G. Mennen Williams as a kidnap hostage on the governor's visit to Marquette Prison.)

LANSING (AP) — Two state officials today explained the release of one of the ringleaders of the violent riot at Southern Michigan Prison in 1952.

Gus Harrison, state corrections director, termed the release of Jack Hyatt, 39, from Marquette State Prison a routine administrative act.

Harrison added that he didn't "feel safe with men like Hyatt around," but that Hyatt had earned good time and according to law had to receive an early release.

Hyatt, known as "Crazy Jack" when he helped lead the violent riot 10 years ago, was released by Marquette Warden Raymond L. Buchkoe last Friday and hurried across the border into Canada.

News of his release was not announced until early this week.

NATIVE OF CANADA

Hyatt, who is a native of Canada, made headlines in an earlier stay at Marquette when he was among a group of convicts, armed with knives, who staged an unsuccessful attempt to kidnap then Gov. G. Mennen Williams for use as hostage in an escape try.

He was not prosecuted for this incident.

Buchkoe explained that Hyatt was kept in prison for almost two years beyond his special maximum release date.

"He has had a good record for several years and was locked in solitary confinement for more than eight years," said the warden.

"Today he is a sick man. He has an infection of long standing of both ears and is almost completely deaf," he added.

★ ★ ★

Buchkoe went on to explain that Hyatt's release was outright and unconditional.

He was not paroleable because he had served beyond his minimum term and the case did not go before the parole board as a result.

Harrison suggested that Hyatt might not have accepted a parole since he knew he would soon be up for release. Hyatt would have been subject to certain regulations under the terms of a parole.

Hyatt was transferred to Marquette in 1953, following his sentencing to 15 to 23 years for kidnapping a guard.

The term was served concurrently with his previous term of

Mother, Two Children Die, Two More Badly Injured by Mishap

From Our News Wires

BRITTON — Three were dead today and two children lay injured in the wake of a powerful wind that swept their car off a highway, slammed it against a tree and left it upside down in a farm home yard.

Killed were Patricia Reed, 34, Britton, her son, Francis, 10, and Mary Applegate, 14, a niece whom Mrs. Reed adopted as a daughter after her brother, John Applegate Jr., died in 1958.

Another son, Mark, 8, was reported in critical condition at a Tecumseh hospital, where his sister, Celina, 13, was reported in fair condition.

Mrs. Reed's other son, Greg, 8, was safe at the home of Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Applegate Sr., where the Reed family had been visiting just before the accident Friday night.

The Reed car rolled into the yard of Kenneth Zeemer, where the same wind demolished the farm home's front porch, flattened a garage, shed and chicken coop and damaged the barn.

Mrs. Reed was a divorcee whose former husband, Daniel, lives in another state. She was employed as a factory office receptionist.

Britton police said it appeared the area had been struck by an isolated tornado. A Weather Bureau spokesman in Detroit said reports of a tornado had not been confirmed but 90-mile-an-hour winds accompanying a thunderstorm could sweep a car off the road.

ALONE IN HOME

Mrs. Zeemer was the only person in the farm house at the time.

She said the first thing she heard was a "loud crashing of glass on the porch." Next, she said, the porch blew down and the tool shed was carried away.

A neighbor across the road, Joseph Osborne, said he was in his house when he heard a "dynamitelike explosion."

RUNS TO BASEMENT

He said he ran to his basement thinking a tornado had struck. A minute later, he said, he rushed back upstairs.

He said he looked across the dirt road and saw the Reed car up against the tree in front of the Zeemer house.

Mrs. Reed and her son were still pinned inside the car. The other children had been thrown free of the vehicle.

Elsewhere in the state, the storms left a wide area of damage in their wake.

Seeking to Stay Redistricting

LANSING (AP)—Efforts to overthrow the Michigan Supreme Court's order declaring the State Senate illegal will be carried to the United States Supreme Court next week.

Plans to petition the federal court to halt action on the state tribunal's directive were announced yesterday by Sen. John Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, one of three Republican senators intervening in the case.

The Michigan court, in a 4-3 decision this week called off the Aug. 7 Senate primary and directed the Legislature to reapportion the upper chamber on a population basis by Aug. 20—with no district to have more than twice the population of any other.

If redistricting is not achieved by the Aug. 20 deadline, the Senate would be elected on a statewide at-large basis.

A request for a stay of execution on the order was turned down by the state court yesterday and Fitzgerald said a petition asking for a stay from the federal court would be filed in Washington Monday.

WOULD OK PRIMARY

"If the stay is granted," Fitzgerald explained, "this would have the effect of restoring the Aug. 7 primary to the ballot—with the state court's decision to be reviewed on our appeal.

"If the stay is refused, we still will file an appeal from the lower court ruling. But then we probably wouldn't get a decision until October at the earliest, because the federal court is in recess until then."

Republicans, who almost cer-

Solon to Offer Reshuffle Plan

Roberts Will Present Senate Judiciary Unit With Proposal Monday

State Senator Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland, will present a preliminary Senate redistricting plan to the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday.

★ ★ ★

Roberts was assigned the job by the committee which is meeting over the weekend in Lansing to work out a request for a stay of the State Supreme Court redistricting order until an appeal can be filed with the U.S. Supreme Court.

The stay would permit conducting the regular senatorial primary Aug. 7.

The committee's redistricting plan will be presented to the Senate on Tuesday or later if there is a delay in its meeting date, Roberts said today.

Roberts commented, "It still looks as if the Senate election will be at large, but we'll try to come up with an acceptable plan."

★ ★ ★

The plan must win approval of two-thirds of the house and also please Governor John B. Swainson who already has warned nothing but a straight-population set up would satisfy him.

WON'T LIKE IT

One of the problems of any redistricting, Roberts said, is that "several incumbents will have to run against each other . . . and they won't like that."

Billy Casper, 2 Unknowns in Early PGA Lead

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — Billy Casper, former U.S. Open champion and one of the biggest money winners on the pro golf tour, shared early honors with two relatively obscure club pros in the third round of the National PGA championship today.

Casper shot the front nine of the hilly, 7,065-yard, Aronimink course in two-under-par 33.

Pat Schwab, a long-hitting one-time tourist who now has a club job in Wilmington, Del., and Dick Bury of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., had 34s going out. Aronimink's par is 35-35—70.

All three were striving to escape elimination when the PGA field is reduced to the 60 low scorers and ties for tomorrow's final round.

They just made it into the third round after the first cut, Casper with a 36-hole 150 and Schwab and Bury with 151s, the top qualifying score.

Union Bows to JFK, Delays Missile Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Machinists' Union announced today a 60-day postponement of a threatened Monday strike deadline at U.S. missile plants and sites, as requested by President Kennedy.

The announcement was made here by Vice President Jesse McGlon of the union, the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, shortly after Kennedy appealed for a delay to permit a fact-finding panel to study the dispute.

The union represents about 120,000 of the 150,000 aerospace industry workers who had been scheduled to strike major missile manufacturing plants at noon Monday.

A spokesman said officials of the United Auto Workers Union, which represents the remaining 30,000 men, were meeting in Los Angeles to consider the President's appeal.

South Saginaw Demolition to Get Started Monday

The long-awaited beginning of urban renewal demolition of S. Saginaw Street properties downtown will begin Monday morning.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said today that wreckers will begin demolishing commercial structures in the R20 project immediately south of the Chapman Hotel site at Pike and S. Saginaw.

Three structures — 10, 12 and 14 S. Saginaw — are to be torn down in the first wrecking operation.

"We don't expect the demolition to interfere with vehicle traffic but pedestrian traffic on the west side of Saginaw will be temporarily rerouted in that block," Stierer explained.

The wrecking firm, Louis D'Ilondi, of Mount Clemens, estimated it would take two weeks to clear and fill the site.

★ ★ ★

Eight-foot-high barricades will be constructed around the structures. Wrecking will begin on Saginaw frontage and move back to the west, engineers said.

Hilltop Home of Relocated Central Methodist

Pontiac Press Aerial Photo

NEW CHURCH — Situated on the highest crest of the 38-acre wooded plot at 3929 Highland Road in Waterford Township is the new Central Methodist Church, relocated from West Huron and Perry streets. Built of buff brick, Central Church with its grounds, furnishings and organ, is expected to cost near $1 million, Pastor Milton H. Bank said. The various functional elements of church organizations will be provided in individual structural units. These will be grouped around an interior court which will have the atmosphere of a quiet garden. Major entrances into the building will be under a canopy directly off the parking area north of the buildings. The area to the east, across the creek, will be reserved for future parsonages. The cross atop its stately tower will stand higher toward the heavens than any man-made object in the area, the pastor said. Beneath the spire on the front wall will be a "goldanodyzed" aluminum plaque more than 30 feet high depicting Jesus Christ as the Good Shepherd and the lover of little children. Designing the plaque is internationally known Marshall Fredericks of Birmingham. Plans call for completion of the building in the fall.

1 State Hopeful Keeps Going in Western Amateur

One of two Michigan hopefuls kept going and the 72-hole qualifying medalist was the victim of a stunning upset today in the opening round of match play in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Salomon sank a seven-foot putt for a birdie four on the second extra hole to eliminate Harris.

Detroit's Bud Stevens stayed alive with a 4-2 victory over Tim Holland, but Michigan's other challenger, Tom Draper, dropped a 1-up verdict to George Boutell of Phoenix, Ariz.

Top Military Post to Gen. Taylor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who stalked from the Pentagon in a row over Eisenhower defense policy, is returning as top military chief. This time, he has the strongest White House backing.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy announced Friday that Taylor, his close personal military adviser, will replace Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff this fall.

Lemnitzer will become U.S. commander in chief in Europe—and probably NATO supreme commander there—after his 2-year term as JCS chairman runs out Sept. 30.

In effect, Kennedy appeared to be easing out the Eisenhower-appointed JCS chairman who reportedly has been under a cloud since the Cuban invasion disaster 15 months ago.

These were the key moves in one of the biggest top military command shuffles in years. The shift was set in motion by Gen. Lauris Norstad's decision to retire as NATO commander in Europe in November, after six years of service in that post. Lemnitzer will take his place perhaps for only a year.

Overshadowed by those top-level changes was Kennedy's announcement from his weekend retreat at Hyannis Port, Mass., that Gen. George H. Decker will retire Sept. 30 at the end of his 2-year term as Army chief of staff.

Decker will be supplanted by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, little known here but reputedly a brilliant officer. Wheeler now is Norstad's deputy and for all practical purposes the operating head of U.S. forces in Europe.

Rumors of Lemnitzer and Decker's departure have been in the wind for months. Both Eisenhower administration appointees, they were said to be considered by Kennedy administration officials as rather plodding and unimaginative.

Their replacement by Taylor and Wheeler will all but clear the service chiefs of men who were put on that highest military panel by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The only one left is Gen. David M. Shoup, who has about 17 months left of a 4-year term as commandant of the Marine Corps. Shoup reportedly rates high with Kennedy.

Last summer, Kennedy installed Adm. George W. Anderson as chief of Naval operations and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as Air Force chief of staff.

QUIT RETIREMENT

The tall, slim, straight-backed Taylor has been Kennedy's closest military adviser since June of last year, when the President called the 4-star general out of retirement after the Cuban debacle.

In that role, Taylor went on a special mission to South Viet Nam last fall and came back with recommendations that led to this country's big-scale effort to help the Vietnamese turn back the Communist guerrilla offensive.

East-West in Agreement

Formally OK Laos Pact

GENEVA (AP) — The 14-nation Laos Conference today gave formal approval to a treaty of neutrality and independence for the Southeast Asian kingdom.

★ ★ ★

The accords—intended to take the Southeast Asian kingdom out of the Cold war—mark a milestone in East-West diplomacy with the Western Big Three, the Soviet Union and Red China on the same side.

'COMPLETE ACCORD'

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, in opening the meeting before it was closed to newsmen, said:

"Today we are realizing complete accord on an agreement which all of us here helped to draw up."

★ ★ ★

The conference started work on a Laos settlement 14 months ago to avert a major conflict over the strategic kingdom wracked by civil war involving pro-West and Communist-sponsored factions.

The atmosphere for today's session was one of self-satisfaction by the delegates, who included foreign ministers of 12 nations—including the United States and the Soviet Union.

GOOD OMEN

The speech-making ceremony preceding Monday's actual signing brought the United States and the Soviet Union together on a point of agreement that smaller nations viewed as a good omen for other East-West disputes.

The pact called for a free, independent and neutral Laos and pledged the coalition government of Prince Souvanna Phouma to remain neutral.

★ ★ ★

The treaty not only had a strong impact in Washington and Moscow, but was of prime interest to divided Viet Nam, neighboring Thailand, Red China and India. It calls for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Laos within 75 days of the signing, except for a small French contingent training the Laotian army.

★ ★ ★

The United States has several hundred military advisers in Laos and Communist North Viet Nam has an estimated 10,000 troops there.

Withdrawal will be supervised by the International Laos Control Commission, composed of Canada, India and Poland.

★ ★ ★

The commission, which has no power to enforce the treaty terms, was expected to have trouble carrying out its task and policing the rugged border area against re-entry of foreign troops.

K-K Talks Credited With Geneva Accord

GENEVA (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said today the declaration of Laos as a neutral state is a direct outcome of President Kennedy's Vienna meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev 13 months ago.

★ ★ ★

Gromyko and Secretary of State Dean Rusk joined in praising the successful conclusion of the 14-nation Laos conference at its final meeting today and Rusk offered Laos economic and technical aid to eliminate the wastes of war.

The session of the conference today saw the foreign ministers of all 14 participants accept the neutrality declaration of Laotian premier Prince Souvanna Phouma — thus setting up Laos as an independent and neutral state.

Gromyko and Rusk addressed the conference a few hours before they were scheduled to meet together for their first session on the major cold war topics of Berlin and disarmament.

TO RESUME TALKS

Their presence here for the signing of the Laotian neutrality declaration has given them an opportunity to resume high level talks on crucial cold war issues, including Berlin and nuclear testing.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot fail to recall," Gromyko told the conference meeting in the old council chamber of the Palais des Nations, "that the favorable turn toward business-like negotiation at the conference on Laos is linked above all with the outcome of the meeting between Chairman of the USSR Council of Ministers Nikita S. Khrushchev and United States President John Kennedy in June of last year.

In a hint that Khrushchev may want another summit conference with Kennedy on other issues between them, Gromyko went on:

"As the head of the Soviet government Nikita S. Khrushchev recently said, the example of Laos shows that, given the desire to reach agreement, ways can be found to settle complicated international problems."

MAP STRATEGY

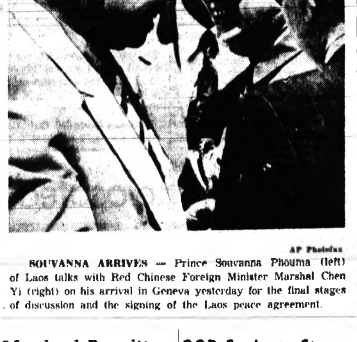

The United States and Britain, meanwhile mapped their own strategy in preparation for the new talks on Berlin with Russia.

Western sources said the two major Western powers intend to stand pat on their position in the Berlin situation and leave any initiative for new moves to Moscow.

Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home scheduled a lunch meeting with their advisers.

★ ★ ★

Later, they planned to meet with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

Masked Bandits Rob Bar Owner, Wife of $250

The thieves, wearing silk stockings over their heads, escaped with about $250 taken from his wife's purse, according to Harry Chambers, owner of Harry's Bar at 568 S. Sanford St.

Chambers told Pontiac state police he and his wife had just parked their car in the garage about 2:40 a.m. when the bandits surprised them on the back porch.

Chambers said one of the men fired twice into the air with a chrome-plated pistol.

The other grabbed him from behind, Chambers said.

The present Senate lineup is 23 Republicans and 10 Democrats, with one vacant seat.

Four Democratic justices prevailed over three dissenting GOP justices in handing down the decision.

While assailing the court ruling as tending to create chaos and confusion, GOP leaders were attempting to draw up a redistricting plan that would not be vetoed by Gov. Swainson, a Democrat.

The Day in Birmingham

To Form Language Plan for Elementary Schools

BIRMINGHAM — The first step to introduce foreign languages into elementary grades has been taken by the Birmingham School Board with the appointment of a Walled Lake teacher as director of the program.

★ ★ ★

Initially, however, the job of Mrs. Louise Couture, as coordinator of foreign languages, is to develop, strengthen and expand the current program on the secondary level and then to include the elementary grades in the program, beginning in the fall of 1963.

A limited foreign language program has been offered to some youngsters the last couple years, taught by a volunteer staff after regular school hours.

A recent community survey showed, that about three-quarters of the parents interviewed believed that the introduction of a language program in the lower grades would benefit their children.

PROBABLE PLAN

The elementary language program probably would start in the sixth grade and then work down through the lower grades, according to a school official.

Mrs. Couture, who began her teaching career in 1938 and had been on the Walled Lake staff for 12 years, has been active in the development of foreign language curriculum on the state level.

She has written two publications for the Michigan State Department of Public Instruction. They are the "State Guideline in Teaching of Foreign Language" and "The Establishment of Foreign Language in Elementary Schools."

★ ★ ★

She is chairman of the State Committee on Foreign Language, an appointment made by State School Supt. Lynn Bartlett.

The mother of three children, Mrs. Couture is a member of the Walled Lake Business and Professional Women's Club, serving as president from 1958 through 1960.

Seaholm High School language teacher Alan Odnert is one of 60 French and Spanish instructors attending a language institute at Ohio State University.

The seven-week program, which continues through Aug. 23, provides training in the audio-lingual approach to language teaching and a study of new methods, textbooks and materials.

Director of the institute is Dr. Edward D. Allen, associate professor of foreign language at the university.

Roberts to Offer Redistricting Plan

the preliminary redistricting plan, his campaign manager, Dale Wianie, released a slashing attack by Roberts on the Democratic party.

"The people of Michigan have been asked point blank to declare themselves free men or slaves," Roberts said, "by the unconscionable action of the boss-controlled Democratic party in the senatorial apportionment dispute."

★ ★ ★

"For a period of 15 years, irresponsible, power-hungry influences have worked on the unsuspecting people of the Democratic party towards domination of their party machinery and gaining control and influence in every appointed and elected office in the state," the statement charged.

★ ★ ★

The statement also criticized the 4-3 Democratic majority on the State Supreme Court for "throwing out" a statewide 1952 vote setting up present apportionment.

★ ★ ★

The statement added a sharply worded appeal, asking that, "good citizens that are not socialistic or boss-dominated will break away from the unfortunately corrupt and sick Michigan Democratic party now or never and build anew in Michigan either with or beside the Republican party in the coming election."

Two Explain Release of Prison Riot Chief

25 to 30 years on an armed robbery charge in 1945.

1965 TERMINATION

His maximum term, had it not been for the good time he earned, would have ended in November 1965.

He was placed in semi-solitary confinement a year and a half ago, and was allowed to mingle with fellow prisoners last March.

"We don't consider the nature of the offense which sent the man to prison when he is eligible for release," Harrison said, "it is his prison conduct which is considered."

Releases usually stem from the suggestion of the warden, and must be signed in effect by the corrections director.

Harrison said he was surprised at the interest shown in the release and made it clear that he approved of some such law as the one under which Hyatt was released.

★ ★ ★

"It's intended to encourage good behavior in the prisons," he said, stressing that this view held rehabilitations to be primarily the function of the community, not the prison.

He added that those who opposed the move were only "setting up their judgment against our own. They should try to have the statute rewritten if they're unhappy with it.

"Hundreds of prisoners are released this way each year without any to do," he added, "and there were 783 such last year alone."

Under Michigan law, prisoners who have not broken prison rules are "entitled to and shall receive a reduction from their sentence."

Under the provisions of the law, long-term prisoners accumulate so-called good time more rapidly than those with short terms.

5 DAYS A MONTH

During the first two years of a prison term, for example, a prisoner earns five days good time per month.

The number of good days per month increases until, after 19 years, he earns 15 days a month.

Hyatt had forfeited his good time when sentenced for his part in the riot, but accumulated enough since then to be eligible for discharge as early as September 1960, Harrison said.

Gov. Swainson said that "Hyatt has served his time in Michigan. His release at this time seems to me to be a saving to the taxpayers of Michigan."

Hyatt is reported to be in the vicinity of Leamington, Ont., where his father and a number of relatives live.

Waterford Twp. Parents Offered Tutoring Classes

Parents of Waterford Township school children, who have encountered difficulty in helping junior with his arithmetic, will have an opportunity this fall to become competent tutors.

★ ★ ★

Special classes in arithmetic for parents were approved Thursday by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Both elementary school and high school level curriculum will be included.

The idea was inspired by the parents themselves and developed into a planned program by Dr. Chandos Reid, assistant to the superintendent.

Dr. Reid had been approached often by parents at Parent-Teacher Association functions and other activities. Many said they were inept in helping their youngsters in the arithmetic programs utilized in the schools today.

★ ★ ★

Robert Scrivens was named to conduct the classes beginning in October. Sessions will be held in four regions of the district for elementary parents plus additional meetings for junior and senior high school parents.

★ ★ ★

A total of 48 two-hour sessions are planned with the $550 cost of the program to be born by the school district.

Arrangements for classes will be made through the various PTA organizations.

The storage fields will be leased from an affiliate, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., also of Detroit.

It's Unfair for Wayne to Control Whole State

This newspaper believes Michigan citizens have suffered another blow in the current court decision on apportionment.

★ ★ ★

When the nation was founded, the early patriots devised two legislative bodies: a House which was based largely on population; and a Senate which recognized area and geography.

Nevada, with less than 300,000 people, has two Senators which is the same number allotted to New York with nearly 17 million. But in the House, New York possesses infinitely more Representatives than Nevada.

It was done for the double protection it affords.

★ ★ ★

GUS SCHOLLE is sick of this. He wants control of all of Michigan to lie in and around Wayne County where there is probably a bigger concentration of undesirable elements. When single big cities dominate an entire State, control flourishes more easily.

★ ★ ★

For the most part, Michigan has been relatively free of a real mugwump government. Recently we'd had a fearful dose of inefficiency and stubborn stupidity and the Republicans can take a large part of this to their own bosoms. Many people think the endless bickering and constant deadlocks in State affairs have resulted in the present predicament.

★ ★ ★

The Press feels that repudiating the form of government designed by the framers of the constitution is a titantic step in the wrong direction and counter to American principles and sound concepts as worked out at the beginning. Basically, it satisfies the whim of the individuals who seem to exercise complete control of the Democratic Party. This began with the absolute domination of "Soapy" Williams and has continued unabated and even on a broader scale.

★ ★ ★

The net result has been a "bad name" for Michigan throughout the United States and even beyond. We've been looked down upon. We've been ridiculed. We've been labeled hostile to business and employment and for a time we were plastered with the ignominious title of "bankrupt."

We need upbuilding.

★ ★ ★

We need a fresh start in the hands of people who seek to strengthen the State instead of themselves. This is no time to repudiate the success that has attended our national policies and made us the greatest country in the world.

We need a House of Representatives based largely on population.

We need a Senate based largely on location and geography.

And, incidentally, we need a stronger State Supreme Court.

Celebrezze Appointment Unexpected but Wise

A dark horse got the nod from President KENNEDY when it came to picking a new man to succeed ABRAHAM RIBICOFF for the post of Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

★ ★ ★

Actually JFK's candidate, Anthony J. Celebrezze, is mayor of one of the Nation's largest cities, Cleveland, Ohio. This would not quite label him a political unknown. Yet, on the national level he has not been active.

Most observers feel the announcement was a surprise only in its unexpectedness; however, not in its wisdom.

★ ★ ★

Known as a vote getter, an eminently honest and able administrator, CELEBREZZE, now 51, made Cleveland history last year by winning an unprecedented fifth term with a record 73.8 per cent of the total vote. Obviously this is not the work of a rank amateur.

He is president of the Association of the United States Mayors.

Celebrezze has been called an immigrant, following in the tradition of a long line of those who came to a new world and made good. He was born in Italy, but his parents were already naturalized American citizens and had returned for a visit when he was born in 1910. He was the ninth of 13 children.

But his story, while not in strictly classic tradition, shows that this is still the land of promise for someone with the intestinal fortitude to drive ahead.

★ ★ ★

However, one thing is certain—the Republicans in Cleveland will be among the foremost in welcoming Democrat CELEBREZZE'S new honor. Somewhat of a mountain has been removed from the path to the Cleveland City Hall.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

When the Arab-Israeli war broke out a man whom the Arabs called "the old saint" decided, for the sake of his Jewish family, to flee his home in the Arab section of Jerusalem.

As anticipated, all the houses in his neighborhood were plundered and destroyed—except one. The Arab raiders left the house of Martin Buber intact, its possessions untouched.

Some regard Buber, at 84, as the greatest living Jewish philosopher. Certainly his writings have had a profound influence on Jew and Christian alike. One of his greatest books is a small volume titled "I and Thou," which stresses the need for a creative bond between man, his neighbor and God. For years Buber has worked toward betterment of Arab-Israeli relations. He wants Jew and Arab to live together in peace and love, as he has lived with them, not just side-by-side in fear and suspicion.

"When there is faith and love," says Martin Buber, "a solution may be found even to what appears to be a tragic contradiction."

Days of All Faiths:

No One's Sure About Magdalene

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

St. Mary Magdalene, remembered Sunday in the Christian calendar, is a shadowy, mysterious sort of figure. Nobody is really sure who she was.

★ ★ ★

St. Luke — chapter 7, verses 37 to 50 — tells about a woman who anointed the Lord's feet with both ointment and tears. He does not tell her name, but in his gentle way he makes it pretty clear that she was no lady.

★ ★ ★

Then, in his 8th chapter, verse 2, he mentions, "Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils." There is nothing at all to indicate that this Mary was the "sinner" in the previous chapter.

★ ★ ★

To complicate the matter further, many church scholars go on to say (though many disagree) that the Mary in Luke, chapter 10, verse 39, is this same woman again. There is nothing to prove this, either.

So, who was she — one person, two, or three?

★ ★ ★

Whoever she was, history has not been kind to her. Everyone assumes she was a prostitute, though there is not one word anywhere to substantiate this.

★ ★ ★

Neither has the English language given her a fair deal. Because of the New Testament references to Mary weeping at the Holy Sepulchre, and because in Christian art she is always shown weeping, the English used the word "magdalene" to mean "copious shedding of tears."

★ ★ ★

And with their British trick of telescoping words, they pronounced it "maudlin." As time went on the word deteriorated until now when we say someone is maudlin we are invariably talking about a silly sentimentalist or an affectionate drunk. Certainly we don't realize we are likening such people to St. Mary Magdalene.

★ ★ ★

It is no way to treat the loyal lady from Magdala who was one of Our Lord's best friends and most faithful followers.

Accidently I discovered that I got a better night's sleep if I keep the bedroom window closed. I am not awakened in the small hours by the pre-dawn cold . . . (E. M.)

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

What is the consequence of varicocele in the left cord? Can a man with such a condition marry and have children? (S. M.)

Ans. — That is the name given to varicose (enlarged) veins in the spermatic cord or scrotum. It is just an annoyance, has nothing to do with fitness to marry and have children.

★ ★ ★

It is pretty difficult for a sales representative to refrain from drinking the usual cocktails and highballs every day, and this leads to destruction . . . so many years back I decided to refrain from all intoxicants, and it paid off beautifully in good health, for which I am quite thankful. Moreover, I found abstinence didn't handicap me as I thought it would — in fact . . . (P. H.)

Ans. — The idea that you have to drink is just an excuse.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 500 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady. If a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Gloating Republicans Can Little Afford Wisecracks'

Republicans are gloating over the defeat of the Medicare plan. Perhaps they should be reminded when Nixon was rejected by the voters. Smart-alecky remarks and wisecracks about the President are in bad taste and show a lack of patriotism and a low intellect.

Mr. Nixon should be the last to remark about the present administration. If the public had been interested in his opinion, he would not now be grasping at political straws.

'Should Have Given Soapy That Job'

Why didn't Kennedy turn Ribicoff's job over to our own Soapy Williams? Ribicoff managed to spend a whole billion dollhrs more than his predecessor and Soapy would fit perfectly into a wild extravagance like that.

With her limited resources, Connecticut could never afford to elect Ribicoff to any state office, but he's running for the U.S. Senate where he can continue to dig his way into Uncle Sam's main pork barrel.

Retirement's Out for Rotary Head

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Nitish C. Lahairy of Calcutta, India, who was received by President Kennedy at the White House, is something more than the proverbial "one man in a million." He is the first Asian to be elected president of Rotary International.

"After living out of suitcases all over Southeast Asia as a motion picture distributor for 34 years, I decided to retire," he says. "And look what happens. A nominating committee of 11 Rotarians picks me to be president—out of two billion people in Asia."

One reporter, riding a shuttle bus up the driveway of Ike's Gettysburg farm, noticed that the general's corn didn't look too robust for early July.

"Was he willing to go to jail for THAT?" asked the reporter incredulously.

And another reporter cracked, "I didn't see any of the prize bulls that were given the general while he was president, but there were an awful lot of Republican sacred cows around the farm."

A group of Temperance League members came to protest at a recent Scent-a-Rama whisky publicity display in Washington's Union Station.

Some of the drys even tried to exhibit a wrecked auto alongside the display. After some inquiry it was found there was no space available in the station.

What actually happened was that their appearance brought the whisky company more free publicity than it had ever hoped for. Television cameras were rolled on the scene and newsmen turned up for on-the-spot interviews. What they didn't know was that all the so-called "whisky barrels"—with the exception of two "sniffing barrels" — contained only colored water.

Estes Indicted on New Charges

Previous Grand Jury Action Thrown Out by Texas District Judge

PECOS, Tex. (UPI) — The Reeves County Grand Jury returned four new indictments against Billie Sol Estes yesterday, charging theft, embezzlement, swindling and theft by bailee.

★ ★ ★

Dist. Judge J. H. Starley threw out eight previous indictments against the farm financier.

★ ★ ★

Estes was brought to trial in June on one of the eight previous indictments. However, a jury could not be selected and Starley ordered the trial transferred to Tyler.

★ ★ ★

McGowen said the action was taken yesterday because of "new additional evidence obtained since the presentment of the indictments in this case."

★ ★ ★

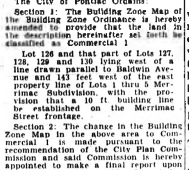

He said the move was necessary "to properly change the criminal offense surrounding the facts in this case."

Estes has been free on a total of $22,500 bond in the eight previous indictments. Starley set a total of $50,000 bond in the four indictments returned yesterday.

Conviction on any one or more of the different counts would result in a prison sentence of 2 to 10 years.

★ ★ ★

The eight previous indictments accused Estes of theft totalling $828,377, involving paper transactions for sale of nonexistent anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks to farmers.

Alliance for Progress Test Nears

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Latin American events these days suggest that President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress is heading rapidly toward its moment of truth.

The Alliance is cast in the role of nervous mortician waiting for the death rattle of a moribund system. But the patient is struggling desperately to survive. And the struggle is churning up revolutionary ferment.

News Analysis

The well intentioned Yankees often can do little but stand on the sidelines and wring their hands in frustration. They are becoming painfully aware that democracy as it is known in the United States has little meaning in nations where the vast majority are impoverished and illiterate.

The Public Affairs Institute in Washington released a study yesterday pictured the Alliance for Progress as engaged in "a life and death struggle with completely unscrupulous men who seek power through violent means."

The Alliance, it says, has failed to make itself believable to key groups in Latin America that will determine whether changes will be peaceful or violent. It urges the program to aim its benefits directly at those groups on a people-to-people rather than government-to-government basis.

MUST CHANGE DIRECTION

"The odds against your success are so great," the institute tells the Alliance, "that unless you change direction of our aid and the methods of operation very quickly, you are likely to fail in your great task."

But there is danger in this approach, too. It implies end runs around existing governments that could, in the long run, undermine them. And whatever they may be, these governments are all the Alliance has at the present time to work with.

The struggle of military leaders and entrenched oligarchies to survive spurs the battle-scarred old Argentine Socialist leader, Alfredo Palacios, to comment that the new military takeover in Peru was "one more example of the situation Latin America is going through."

"Some time ago," he said, "President Kennedy stated that Latin America was going through a revolution. I think the action by armed forces in the continent indicates they have resorted to violence at the service of reactionary revolution. It cannot be said chaos is comig. We live in chaos."

Palacios is fairly representative of a broad sector of popular Latin American opinion, reflecting impatience with the inability of the continent to tailor its systems to the 20th century.

Peru's military deliberately interrupted six years of hopeful democratic development. Brazil is in such chaos at the moment that, in the words of former President Juscelino Kubitschek, it is in the preparatory phase of revolution. In Argentina the military is in control, with the result that Communists, extreme leftists and Peronists are considering joining forces in a combined stab for power.

WORRY ELSEWHERE

There is worry elsewhere that activities of the military in some nations will become a model for the oligarchies in others in their desperate search for quick solutions. If so, they will be flirting with disaster.

Communists don't worry about military dictatorships. They welcome them as indicative of the last stage before violent popular revolution.

Implicitly, the Alliance for Progress sought to contribute to a merciful death for the anti-quated systems. It asked those in power to reform in return for aid that might provide orderly progression to a more humane distribution of rights, privileges and wealth.

The message does not seem to get across. Waiting in the wings are organized extremists, waiting to pick up the pieces if the Alliance fails.

Soviet-Led Bloc to Spurn Court Edict on U.N. Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A World Court opinion that all United Nations members are legally bound to share peace-keeping costs of the Congo and Suez sparked predictions today that some debtor nations would swing into line—but not the Soviet-led Communist bloc.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union, which refuses to pay on either the Congo or Middle East operation, already has made clear it will ignore the 9-5 decision handed down at The Hague and oppose any attempt by the U.N. General Assembly to endorse it.

Diplomats generally expressed confidence that the 104-nation assembly can muster enough votes when it convenes this fall to uphold the court's advisory opinion.

The Hague decision opened the way for crucial assembly debate not only on whether to uphold the court's opinion, but whether to revoke the voting power of any nation falling more than two years behind in its dues for the peace-keeping operations and the regular U.N. budget. The U.N. charter provides for such penalties, but they have never been imposed.

TWO YEARS BEHIND

At present only Bolivia, Guatemala, Paraguay and Yemen are two full years behind in all U.N. assessments. By paying a total of about $37,000 they could avoid sanctions. Diplomats close to the issue predicted they would do this before the assembly meets Sept. 18 for the new session.

The United States hailed the decision as one "of fundamental importance to international law and to the present and future capacity of the United Nations to maintain peace."

Officials in Washington said the court action should strengthen President Kennedy's hand in getting Congress to let him buy up half of the $200-million U.N. emergency bond issue to help save the world forum from bankruptcy.

The General Assembly had asked the World Court to hand down an opinion whether the cost of the U.N. Congo force and the emergency force stationed between Israel and Egypt should be borne by all U.N. members as apportioned by the assembly.

Tuesday Referendum on Wheat Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department yesterday canceled a wheat referendum it had ordered for next Tuesday.

The cancellation was announced soon after President Kennedy signed legislation to extend the deadline for the voting from July 25 to Aug. 31.

The extension was the latest of several authorized while Congress battles over the shape of new farm legislation.

Cadillac Nursing School Gets $164,000 U.S. Aid

LANSING (AP) — The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a grant of $164,470 for the Mercy Hospital School of Practical Nursing at Cadillac, Gov. Swainson's office reported.

The grant will be to aid in construction of a new residence and training school at a total cost of $583,000.

Application for the grant was made by Mother Mary Maurite, head of the Sisters of Mercy of Grand Rapids.

"(E)arth) Den has a new tree growing at the center of her vineyard that has not been properly identified, for tradition buried it's description into an empty treasure chest of worthless relics. The tree is still a sapling, yet already reaches far up into the heavens. Imagine then, if you can, how wide and tall this mushroom cloud, which forms the exact likeness of a giant tree, will one day become.

No man can prune the tree — No man can hew it down. Birds of the air can not light in it's branches. Beasts of it's field must flee from underneath it. Because it does not shelter but takes all shelter away, because it's fangs contain more venom than all other serpents of the world combined; this tree has placed man and woman in the "Garden of E(arth) Den completely naked.

Fig leaves or fall out shelter lays open too great a gulf between the illusionary dream of defense and the limited capabilities. Only a DIVINE SHELTER can clothe our body against the H. Fire. If this has not opened man's eyes to "good over evil," constructiveness over destructiveness, then our garden of paradise will see this fire in it's entirety.

The foregoing is based upon Daniel 4:13, Psalms 133—Genesis 27:27, 28, 29 — and the allegorical riddle of Adam and Eve. To unlock this riddle one must understand this key: Tree of Adams, Tree of Life, Tree of Understanding, Tree of Composition, Tree of Genesis, Tree of Source. One must see that all of these phrases describe the tiny seeds, tiny particles of dust, which our Creator named us from. He said, "Man, thou are Adam, and Adam is the father of all living." But above all, one must realize that many, many parts of the Bible are allegorical and future tense. And not one man, no, not one upon the face of the earth has read this book.

College Students to Make Church Survey

In a push button world where people complain that life is dull and there isn't enough to do, members of the Lutheran Mission Builder Teams have no such complaints, according to Rev. Clark McPhail, pastor of the Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church.

"They have a remedy. They find great satisfaction in their service to the church, and, in addition make many friends.

"There are nine teams, each of which includes four college students, spending 10 weeks this summer in serving American Lutheran Church congregations throughout the United States and Canada," he added.

Two young men and two women are coming to Sylvan Lake Church at the request of the pastor and the board of elders. The group will arrive Friday and be in the area through Aug. 19.

Members of the congregation will provide lodging meals for the team during their stay here.

Assisted by members of the Senior Luther League, the team will start a distric survey visiting approximately 4,000 homes in the West Bloomfield Township area with calls in Keego Harbor, Sylvan Lake and Washington Park in Pontiac.

Unchurched families and Lutherans not active in a church will be invited to participate in the local congregation.

Coming to serve will be Friedi Hartzendorf and Ken Fuchs from Texas Lutheran College, Carolyn Boehm of Capital University and Rolf Nasterud of Camrose Lutheran College in Canada.

"Many lonely people who haven't made the effort to join in the fellowship of attending church may find a new interest and purpose in life as a result of the efforts and friendly sincerity of the Parish Mission Builder Teams," the pastor said.

The board of elders consists of George Pinlott, Merle Smith and William Cotter.

★ ★ ★

Opening their homes to the young people will be Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of Pine Lake Manor, the Ray Norlands of Sylvan Lake Manor, the Paul Kornafels of Keego Harbor and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cheek of Sylvan Lake.

Rev. Clifford H. Erickson to Preach, Quartet to Sing

Preaching at the Alliance Church, Cass Lake Road at M-59, Sunday evening will be Rev. Clifford H. Erickson, director of development at Nyack Missionary College. The time is 7 p.m.

A graduate of Nyack College in 1939, the pastor-minister served as pastor of Union Evangelical Church at College Point, L. I., before ministering to Christian & Missionary Alliance Churches.

Rev. Mr. Erickson was a member of the district executive committee of the South Pacific District for 16 years. He served on the board of trustees of Simpson Bible College at San Francisco for 10 years.

Currently he is heading the 80th Anniversary Challenge Program of Nyack Missionary College along the Eastern seaboard.

The Ambassadors Male Quartet of Nyack College will present a special program of music tomorrow evening. They are visiting this area on an 11-week tour, traveling through central and eastern parts of the United States.

"Nyack Missionary College is one of largest pre theological schools in the East. It has trained more than 12,000 young people for the work of Christ.

"Although the college is a regional school of the Christian & Missionary Alliance about 30 denominations are represented in the student body," said Rev. G. J. Berache, pastor of the church.

Choir Director Slated for Solo Sunday Morning

Jack Byers, choir director at Trinity Methodist Church in Waterford Township, will be soloist at the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday. Serving as guest pianist will be Mrs. Joy Norberg.

The period consists of devotions and recreation. The pastor said all young people of the community are invited.

Florentine Painter Raps Abstract Art Addicts

Abstract art has been dealt a blow by one of the 20th century's foremost painters.

Florentine artist Pietro Annigoni, who has executed portraits of most of the free world's heads of state, says in the July Catholic Digest: "The market for abstract art is small and select. Buyers have neither culture nor taste. But they do have money!"

Don't Invite Just Niece to Wedding

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going to be married next month. The wedding is to be a small one, with just the immediate families and aunts and uncles attending.

My mother's only sister is not living but her husband (my mother's brother-in-law will be invited to the wedding. He has one grown daughter. I would like to know if it would be proper to invite my mother's niece to the wedding to represent her mother. No other nieces will be invited.

My father thinks that if she is invited the nieces on his side of the family will be hurt and that it would cause family friction. Under the circumstances would it be proper to make an exception and invite this one niece to the wedding?

A: Your father knows better than I do how sensitive his nieces are and as he thinks they will be hurt if only this one niece is invited, my advice is not to do so.

★ ★ ★

Q: At the table when a bite of food is taken into the mouth that turns out to be burning hot, what is one supposed to do? This happened to me the other night while dining out with my wife.

I immediately dropped it from my mouth to the plate. My wife bawled me out and said it was a most improper thing to do. It seemed to me to be the common sense thing to do. What is your opinion?

A: To spit food out of your mouth is definitely not the proper thing to do. All you can do is to instantly breathe fresh air in through your slightly opened lips and quickly take a swallow of water.

★ ★ ★

Q: Is it correct to refer to a college instructor as Professor Smith or should he be called Mr. Smith by those who know him only socially?

A: An instructor who is not a "professor is called Mr. Smith, and he is called Professor Smith only when he actually is one.

★ ★ ★

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self - addressed stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Abby Says He's Old Enough

He'd Better Untangle Strings Before You Get Strangled

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've been keeping company with this 42-year-old bachelor for about a year. During this time his mother has nagged, cried, developed "dizzy spells," heart pains and hysterics whenever he told her he was serious about me.

This didn't keep him from seeing me, however (Her only objection to me is the fact I am a widow.)

ABBY

Now she has a new weapon. If he marries me, he will be cut out of her estate.

★ ★ ★

I have never met this woman and am self-supporting.

This man and I get on very well together.

He is the only one of five children at home with his mother. I love the guy, Abby. Is there any hope for a "Mamma problem"?

GETTING OLDER

DEAR GETTING: It's not a "Mamma problem" — it's a "Sonny problem."

Any man who is old enough to tie the marriage knot is old enough to untie the apron string.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband goes for weeks without sleeping with me. He takes his pillow and goes on the porch. He has even gone out in the car.

He says I snore so loud I keep him awake, but I can't believe I snore that bad. I have stopped putting up a lunch for him. He got mad.

I told him that if he is going to stop acting like a husband I am going to stop acting like a wife. What should I do?

MARRIED BUT SINGLE

DEAR MARRIED: Break the sound barrier! Buy your husband a pair of beeswax ear plugs, and he'll sleep like a boney!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Am I crazy or what? Whenever I meet someone, the first thing I notice is his teeth. I ask you, is this normal?

TEETH WATCHER

DEAR TEETH WATCHER: There is nothing abnormal about it. Almost everyone "notices" something in particular about people on first meeting. I notice noses.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Janie June that all healthy, normal cats WILL land on their feet when tossed up in the air. If hers landed on his head it must have been a fat cat or an old cat.

KNOWS HIS CATS

New Group Lays Plans for Year

The new Concord Green Chapter, in operation since the beginning of June, recently formulated plans for its first full year of activity as a fully accredited member of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

★ ★ ★

The new branch was welcomed into the national organization during a tea given by Mrs. Laurence Herman, a member of the sponsoring Cranbrook Branch.

The new chapter arose out of the Concord Green Subdivision in Bloomfield Township. Officers for the group all live in that area.

★ ★ ★

They are: Mrs. Donald Maunders, president; Mrs. Allen Hennes, vice president; Mrs. Norman Johnson, recording secretary; and Mrs. James Cook, corresponding secretary.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fred Booth is treasurer and Mrs. William Lee, program chairman. Appointed as historian was Mrs. Richard Garrison and Mrs. John Kaichen is publicity chairman.

★ ★ ★

The group met last week and staged a floral arrangement display—everything from tea roses to weed and stone arrangements. They also devised a cooperative method of lawn and garden care for vacationing members.

★ ★ ★

In return for this service, the vacationing member contributes to the chapter's social welfare fund for needy groups.

Dog 'Captures' Bus

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — A bloodhound with a taste for power and a dislike of walking stowed away on a double decker bus Friday and then took possession of it.

The dog boarded the bus at Stourbridge, Worcestershire, by following a passenger. When no one paid his fare, conductor Fred Gould asked who owned the dog. No one did.

★ ★ ★

Gould tried to put him off.

The bloodhound stood by the door and growled. Fred stepped off the bus to coax the dog off. The dog stood firm, and wouldn't let the conductor back on.

Passengers let Fred back in through an emergency door. The conductor decided it was best to give up. The passengers piled out through the emergency exit.

★ ★ ★

"We had to unfasten a seat and shove it in the dog's face to keep him back, said Fred. "The passengers couldn't get out quick enough. That dog was really fierce."

With the bloodhound in command of the passenger compartment, Fred and driver Sam Bloomer started back toward the garage.

★ ★ ★

On the way they met a policeman and enlisted his help. The policeman went into a butcher's shop and emerged with a bone. He tried to coax the bloodhound off the bus.

The dog jumped off the bus, grabbed the bone and jumped back.

★ ★ ★

The dog was still in command of the passenger section when the bus pulled into the garage, where four policemen and numerous bus line employes were waiting armed with poles and lassoes.

★ ★ ★

After a 3-hour fight to capture the bloodhound, they gave up and called in an inspector of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

An hour later he had the dog lassoed and trussed up for shipment to the dog pound.

Judge Moore OKs Group on Waterford Juveniles

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore Thursday approved a proposed 26-member Waterford Township citizens committee that will work locally on juvenile problems.

Last April the Waterford Township Board voted to become the 21st community in Oakland County to participate in the Juvenile Court-sponsored youth assistance program.

★ ★ ★

The general citizens committee is the main cog in the program.

The list of recommended committee members was confirmed by the Township Board Monday and then referred to Judge Moore. Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson said a few more persons may be recommended later to raise membership to 30.

An organization meeting of the group may take place within a few weeks.

TO REVERSE TREND

In essence the youth assistance program is designed to help stem the tide of juvenile delinquency at the local community level. Youngsters 17 and under come under the plan.

James VanLouven, director of protective services for Oakland County heads the program. Detective Arthur Holmes, the local youth officer, will work closely with Probate Court case workers and the general citizens committee.

Those named to the committee are: Rev. Walter Teeuwissen, chairman; Robert Lawyer, Robert Bauer, Mrs. Edmund Windeler, Mrs. Howard Bertram, Arthur Johnson, Elmer Fangboner, Robert Beattie Jr., Erwin Greer, Blair Easton, Dr. William E. Crommett, Harold Richardson.

Mrs. Helen Iceberg, Mrs. Max Coleman, Mrs. David Zamek, H. Delos Nicholle, Donald Porter, Charles T. Gaffney, Judge Fred Ziem, Clyle R. Haskill, Michael Patterson, Felix Anderson, Paul Mandel, Patrick Daly, Mitchell Sloma and William G. Beal.

Swainson Tells Why U.S. Hikes Manpower Aid

LANSING (AP) — Michigan preparedness to participate in the federal manpower development and training program was a major factor in the U.S. Senate action to increase the appropriation for the program by $25 million, Gov. Swainson reports.

An amendment introduced by Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., resulted in the addition of $25 million to make the total appropriation $75 million, Swainson said.

Michigan will receive an estimated $4 million of the appropriation.

Michigan currently has approval for 14 courses involving 413 trainees at a cost of $650,000.

The state will ask for approval of 50 courses involving 3,700 trainees at a cost of $5.38 million, the governor said.

Truck production was estimated at 25,129 against 24,431 last week and 23,630 last year.

Ward's noted Chrysler Corp. and American Motors will end 1962 production next week.

U.S. TV Nets to Join Telstar at JFK Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — The three national television networks will carry the portion of President Kennedy's Monday news conference that is to be relayed to Europe by Telstar, the orbiting communications satellite.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said about 12 minutes of the news conference will be televised by way of Telstar, beginning at 3:04 p.m. (Pontiac time). The telecast will start about four minutes after the beginning of the news conference.

Salinger said CBS and ABC will televise only the portion of the news conference that is sent by way of Telstar, but that NBC would tape the full 30-minute news conference for televising beginning at 4 p.m.

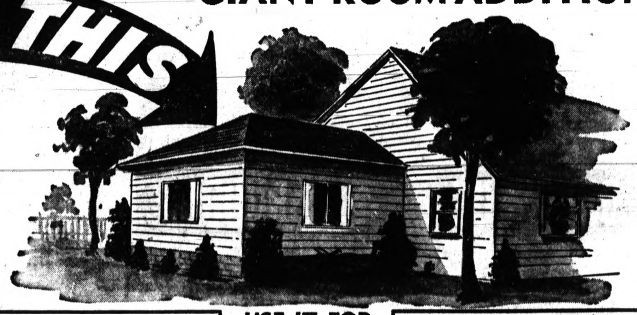

All the radio networks—CBS, ABC, NBC and Mutual — will carry the entire conference live.

Profitable Barter

If you have a dollar, and I have a dollar, and we exchange . . . we each still have a dollar. No profit there.

But if you have an idea, and I have an idea, and we exchange . . . we each double our ideas.

That's the kind of profitable exchange you benefit from when you actively participate in your trade or professional association. Multiplication of ideas between members goes on all the time. It's such a natural process you may never be aware of it.

About all it takes to get started is, "Well, Mac, how's business . . ." and from there ideas begin to flow.

Your association works hard to create the right atmosphere for this profitable idea exchange. Conventions, seminars, workshops, all of the activities that pull members together, help to keep ideas moving.

The oftener you can put yourself in this company, the more you'll benefit. Step number one is to join and support your trade association.

Step number two is to attend their next meeting. And take an idea along with you. You're bound to at least double it before you come away.

Can Mean $200 More to Seller

Absence of Rust Jumps Value of Older Cars

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — One sure way to lose money on that car you hope to trade is to allow rust on the body to go unchecked.

★ ★

A four- to five-year-old model without rust will bring $100 to $200 more. Add a reasonably clean interior and you've built a tidy difference.

Dealers figure that at least 80 per cent of the cost of reconditioning a used car for resale is devoted to its appearance.

One used car lot which specializes in older models estimates an average expenditure of $100 on preparing such a car. Most of this is spent on replacing and repainting rusted panels.

IT'S A CANCER

Rust is a cancer. Once it appears it must be treated or it will spread, eventually eating holes in the metal body.

Rust is more of a problem in wet and cold climates than in hot and dry areas since it can't start without moisture.

The automobile manufacturers have perfect laboratories right outside their doors since northern cities, such as Detroit, which use huge quantities of salt to keep streets passable in the winter, are the worst rust areas.

"We can tell a Detroit car in a minute," said one large used car operator in Pennsylvania. "It will have more rust than anything else on the lot.

The three most vulnerable areas for body rust are the trailing edge of the front fender, the leading edge of the rear fender and the small steel panel directly below the doors, known as the rocker panel.

These are places where moisture can be trapped — perfect breeding conditions for rust.

Car manufacturers have become very concerned about rust, especially with the growing change to unitized bodies.

A unitized body eliminates the use of a separate frame. Panels which once were only coverings become part of the basic structure of the car.

Additionally, a badly rusted car is a poor advertisement.

"I wish we could buy up all of those models and get them off the streets," said one Detroit executive as he viewed pictures of his particular make from five or six years ago.

TWO APPROACHES

The two most common manufacturing approaches in the fight against rust have been dipping in solutions which coat and protect the vital areas, and the use of galvanized steel.

Several companies use both. Others use primer coats especially formulated to minimize rust.

Chevrolet, which uses galvanized rocker panels, designed a special cleansing system for its new Chevy II.

Water entering the cowl air intake during a car wash or rainstorm is channeled through the rocker panel area to keep it clear of salt and dirt.

Other General Motors cars will adopt this soon.

★ ★ ★

Rust also tends to form wherever the surface finish of the car is broken, such as by stones or in minor bumping.

At least four aids for rusting cars have been introduced on the market recently.

One, limited to dealers and body shops, consists of specially pre-cut steel panels to be riveted directly over the rusted areas. New headlight assemblies can be installed in a matter of minutes, for example.

Two items are for the retail trade. One is a do-it-yourself kit of plastic putty for body repairs.

The other is an install-it-yourself kit of stainless steel rocker panels. Both are being sold through auto parts stores, department stores and service stations.

GLASS FIBER FENDERS

Also available are replacement front fenders made of glass fiber, to be painted to match your car. These are said to have the double advantage of being rust proof and highly dent resistant, more so than metal.

'Mr. X' Sought in Stock Theft

Four Men Are Arrested in Neatly Maneuvered $1.2 Million Job

NEW WYORK (UPI) —Police focused on finding a mysterious, missing "Mr. X" today in efforts to close up the rapidly breaking case of the theft of $1.2 million in blue chip stocks from a big New York brokerage house.

Four men were arrested yesterday — including the alleged "inside man" — in the supposedly neatly maneuvered stock theft from Bache & Co. late this spring.

That brought to eight the number in custody in the case, which is replete with stock smuggling under clothing, a buried treasure in securities, and an FBI man who posed as a crooked stock buyer.

Arrested in New York were Gordon A. Tallman, 30, a stock record clerk in Bache's Wall Street office, which disclosed the million-plus theft earlier this month, and Robert J. Dodge, 24, an unemployed truck driver. Both are from New York City.

FBI agents in Newark, N. J., arrested Joseph George Martinelli, 48, Jersey City, N.J., and John Lombardozzi, 36, Brooklyn, brother of Carmine Lombardozzi, who attended the Appalachian gangland convention.

Martinelli and Lombardozzi were seized after supposedly closing a deal to sell $200,000 in stolen blue chip stocks. The buyer turned out to be an FBI undercover man.

House OK Seen on Foreign Aid

Compromise Measure Approved by Senate After Some Grumbling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House is expected to approve and send to the White House next week the compromise $4.7-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

The House scheduled action on the bill for Tuesday. The Senate approved it yesterday after a little grumbling over aid to Communist countries.

The Senators were assured that the administration plans to keep aid to India at last year's level even though a provision requiring it was stricken from the bill.

The measure would allow the President to send aid to Yugoslavia and Poland if he thought it was in the interests of national security.

CHOSE HOUSE PLAN

The Senate originally voted to ban such aid altogether, but the House softened this and a Senate-House conference committee chose the House version.

Before the vote yesterday, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said he believed it was the last time the Senate would approve a bill allowing aid for Red nations.

Occupational Hazard

Lyin' Down on Job?

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — The African postman was coasting downhill on his bicycle in Uganda's Murchison Falls National Park.

★ ★ ★

As he rounded a curve, he was horrified to see 14 lions sunning themselves on the track ahead.

The postman's brakes did not work and there was nothing he could do but charge straight on.

Luckily, the lions were as terrified as he.

Two leaped right over him to avoid being run down and the rest made off to more peaceful sunning places.

★ ★ ★

The postman has now applied for danger money, the Park Warden reports — and he has had his brakes fixed, too.

Right now Don is spending his vacation from the Andy Griffith show making "Mr. Limpet" at Warner Brothers. Don is the man in the title. Also the fish. This is a part-animation, part-live action movie in which he transforms from man to mackerel.

★ ★ ★

As soon as he gets out of the deep, he'll go back to the third season as Deputy Barney Fife on the Griffith show. He doesn't mind his position as supporting actor (he won the Emmy twice for his first two years with the series).

★ ★ ★

"It's a good show to be identified with," he explained. "People don't just like the show; they feel very strongly about it. That kind of acceptance isn't very easy to find.

COULD HEAD SHOW

"I've had chances to head up my own series, but I don't think the time is ripe for it. I'd be willing to stay with Andy for a five-year run—no longer than that because people can get too used to you in one spot.

★ ★ ★

"Then I'd lay off television for a year or two and do movies, night clubs or a Broadway show. It's best not to push yourself too long in television. After a layoff, I might try my own series."

★ ★ ★

Offhand you wouldn't tab Don as any candidate for stardom. He has a face like—well, it is a little fish-like. His physique amounts to a strapping 125 pounds. Yet he has managed to work almost steadily for the past dozen or so years—five years on a radio show, two in the play "No Time for Sergeants," four on the Steve Allen show, two with Andy.

★ ★ ★

"I think there's more competition for the guys who are tall, dark and handsome," Don observed. "People are always telling those guys, 'Gee, you ought to be in movies.' A lot of them try, and Hollywood is filled with good-looking men.

"But people don't tell guys like me, 'You ought to be in the movies.' So there are less of us in them."

★ ★ ★

If he wasn't urged into acting, who did he get the yen?

"It's a mystery," he admitted. "Neither of my parents were in show business. I grew up in West Virginia, and that ain't exactly Broadway.

★ ★ ★

"Yet my mother tells me I wanted to be an actor from the time I was 4. I started a ventriloquist act when I was 13, and there was no stopping me then." Nor yet.

Copying the Kennedys Is Hard

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The social influence radiated by the President and his family naturally has its greatest impact on those of us who live in or near the capital.

And we are finding that "keeping up with the Kennedys" is a good bit more strenuous than was "emulating the Eisenhowers."

During the previous administration, a suburban housewife could feel in tune with the times merely by having her hair cut in bangs.

By the same token, all that was demanded of her husband was that he build a putting green in the back yard.

This simple way of life has drastically changed in the last year or so. The ladies tell me that maintaining the "Jackie look" is virtually a full-time job.

A BIT HARDER

As for their husbands, they have their hands full trying to convert putting greens to pony stables.

At the moment, the cosigner of my joint tax return is in a state of severe frustration, owing to the fact that we have no swimming pool.

Her condition, however, was not caused by a craving to swim. She doesn't give a hoot about that.

As she explained it to me the other evening, her thwarted feeling came about as a result of trying to plan a patio party without having anything for the guests to fall into.

★ ★ ★

"You could fill the bathtub with water," I suggested, wanting to be helpful. "That might catch a few of them, particularly if you leave a cake of soap on the floor."

"It wouldn't be the same," she said. "This is going to be an outdoor party. We would look foolish making the guests submit to indoor dunking."

"Well," I said, "how about that little plastic pool the kids had a few years ago? It's still up in the attic."

★ ★ ★

"A guest who fell in that wouldn't even get his socks wet," she replied. "It wouldn't be much better than a dishpan."

"We could borrow that bird bath next door," I said.

"It's on a pedestal," she said. "People would just think it was a martini pitcher. They might try to drink out of it, but they wouldn't fall into it."

★ ★ ★

I finally cheered her up a bit by promising to douse a few guests with the water hose. But she still fears that the party will be a disaster.

Gemini Flights to Be Controlled From Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced yesterday the nation's two-man space flight Project Gemini — will be controlled from Houston.

★ ★

Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of NASA's manned spacecraft center, announced July 4 the three-man moon shots — Project Apollo —would be controlled from the center's new headquarters here. Other NASA officials said on July 4, however, Gemini flights would be controlled from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Launchings of Gemini and Apollo flights will be at Cape Canaveral.

Yesterday's announcement was released simultaneously from NASA headquarters in Washington, D.C., and from the space lab here.

Control of other flights under the current one-man Mercury Project will continue from Cape Canaveral.

Out of Contention? No, States Palmer

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) —He'e five strokes behind the leader. There are 12 players ahead of him and seven more tied with him with only 36 holes to go. But Arnold Palmer doesn't think he's out of the PGA championship.

Palmer's comments, after surviving what he considered a sour roupd in spite of the figures on the scoreboard, were typical of the attitude that has made the Latrobe, Pa., strong man one of the most exciting figures in sports.

★ ★ ★

"I don't feel like I'm out of the tournament yet. I still have a chance," he said before setting out on today's 18-hole round. The tournament ends Sunday.

LONG NIGHTMARE

"It was one of those awful rounds—like a nightmare all day. I had three birdies and an eagle and I should score better than a 72 with that. I'm glad I got away with it as well as I did."

Palmer's 72 over the hilly, heat-drenched 7,045-yard Aronimink course was one that would have satisfied most of the pros shooting for this big prize.

Doug Ford, whose customary description of his shots is "crooked as usual" scrambled his way around to a second straight 69 for the 36-hole lead. He's the only player who beat par on each of the first two rounds.

★ ★ ★

Ford's 138 total put him just one stroke ahead of Cary Middlecoff, a two-time National Open champion; stubby Gary Player of South Africa, and Georger Bayer, the 6-foot-5, 240-pound former pro football player from Miami, Fla.

At 140 were Bob McCallister, a talkative brush-haired young pro from Claremont, Calif., who seemed slightly dazed to find himself among the leaders, and burly, 50-year-old John Barnum of Belmont, Mich., who shed his illusions shortly after taking the first round lead.

"My nerves caught up with me, just like I said they would," Barnum said after shooting a second round 74 on top of his opening 66. "But I'm hitting the ball well so don't count me out."

3 TIE RECORDS

Barnum's 66, a record for the Aronimink course, was matched twice Friday—by Middlecoff and McCallister. Player shot a 67 and six players fired 1-under-par 69s.

By way of contrast, one player who won't be around for today's third round is Jerry Barber, who won the title last year. The 46-year-old Californian has said all along that the hilly Aronimink course was just too big for him.

★ ★ ★

Barber, who beat Don January in a playoff for the PGA crown at Chicago last year, wound up with 79-73—152, one stroke too high to qualify for the last two rounds. Ninety-one pros with scores of 151 or better made the grade.

Meanwhile the crowds, which have been setting records every day of this tournament, aren't counting Plamer out any more than Arnie himself. He isn't out of reach of the leaders and the Palmer finish in golf now is as famous as the Garrison finish in horse races was years ago.

Three other Michigan golfers survived yesterday's cut to 91 players. They are Bob Gajda of Bloomfield Hills, with 145, Walter Burkemo of Franklin, with 147, and Dick Bury of Grosse Pointe Woods, with 151.

Former Michigan pro Chick Harbert, who plays out of Port St. Lucie, Fla., matched par with a 144 for the first two rounds.

Larry Tomasino of Ann Arobr, with 153, and Eldon Briggs of Detroit with 155, were cut after yesterday's round.

Ferrell's Visit Comes Just in Time

GM Is Present as Tigers End Losing Streak

Rip Kansas City, 10-3, for 1st Victory Since All-Star Break

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Maybe Rick Ferrell ought to be a permanent fixture on Tiger road trips.

His unexpected visit (to the Tigers) paid off handsomely. They broke out of a seven-game hitting and scoring slump with six home runs — 12 hits in all — to rout the Athletics 10-3 last night, before their general manager.

The victory was the Tigers first since the All-Star game break last week. It also was their first win on the current road trip which opened disastrously in Chicago (four straight defeats to the White Sox) and continued in Los Angeles (three losses to the Angels).

The era of futility seemed at an end as Norm Cash belted two home runs and Billy Bruton, Chico Fernandez, Bob Farley and Dick McCauliffe added round trippers.

Don Mossi hurled the win, his eighth of the season. Diego Segui suffered the loss and was relieved by Jerry Walker and Bob Giggie. Mossi has lost 10 times.

★ ★ ★

SLOW START

After the Tigers got their first run in the third on McAuliffe's double and Bruton's single, the home run bats got hot.

Cash homered in the fourth, his 24th, with one man on base, Fernandez hit a home run in the sixth with a mate aboard, McCauliffe's was a solo blast in the seventh, and in the ninth Bruton hit his with one on and Cash and Farley followed with solo homers. The second homer of the night was No. 25 for Cash.

Cash's second homer cleared the second wall in right field, the fifth time the feat has been accomplished by an American Leaguer. Previously Mickey Mantle had done it twice, and Larry Doby and Harry Simpson once each. The six home runs in one game tied an all-time Tiger record, accomplished twice before.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, which remained in seventh place 11 games off the pace of the league-leading New York Yankees, will send either Sad Sam Jones (1-2) or Hank Aguirre (7-4) against Walker (8-7) here tonight.

Hits Wrong Ball, Eventually Loses Match Play Berth

Smith's Error Costly

By BILL CORNWELL

One of the costliest mistakes in Ben Smith's distinguished golfing career forfeited his right to compete in match play today in the 60th Western Amateur Golf Championship at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Smith, the 41-year-old Birmingham shotmaker who has been one of the state's finest amateurs for the past 20 years, broke into a wry smile and talked about his "boo-boo" as he dried out in the clubhouse after participating in a rain-soaked playoff.

"If there's one thing I learned in this tournament, it's not to hit the wrong golf ball," Smith said as he forced a grin.

BEN SMITH

"I've been playing this game for 26 years and that's the first time I ever hit the wrong ball. I'll bet I never do that again," he declared.

Smith had a "mental blackout" Friday during his 4th and final round of qualifying and the error came at a time when he looked like a cinch to be one of 16 match play contestants.

TWO-STROKE PENALTY

The lapse came on the 8th hole when Smith clubbed Cobby Ware's provisional ball from the edge of the fairway for his 2nd shot. The miscue resulted in a two-stroke penalty and threw Smith into a tie with four other players at 296.

If you subtract the two penalty strokes, Smith would have been home free and clear.

As it was, he had to wage a sudden-death playoff in a pouring rain with Detroit's John Molenda, Charles MacCallum of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Gilbert Larson of Waukesha, Wis., and Howard Everitt of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa. The five were bidding for one remaining position.

Smith was eliminated on the 1st hole where he overdrove the green, scuffed coming back, took four to get home and putted once for a bogey.

The other four parred No. 1, then Molenda and MacCallum birdied the 2nd hole to oust Larson and Everitt. MacCallum won the final match play spot with a par three on the 3rd extra hole as Molenda bogied.

Birmingham's veteran Tom Draper and long-hitting Bud Stevens of Detroit were Michigan's only representatives when match play got under way this morning over Orchard Lake's 6,921-yard course.

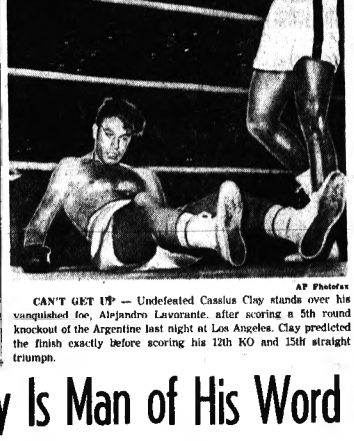

The 14 other survivors of yesterday's 36-hole qualifying session include:

Labron Harris Jr., Stillwater, Okla.; Sid Salomon, St. Louis, Mo.; Arthur Hudnutt, Elyria, Ohio; Howell Fraser, Panama City, Fla.; George Boutell, Phoenix, Ariz.; Johnny Stevens, Wichita, Kansas; Dean Lind, Rockford, Ill.; Dudley Wysong, McKinney, Texas; Don Cherry, Wichita Falls, Texas; Ware, Decatur, Ga.; John Schlee, Memphis, Tenn.; Tim Holland, New York City; Jim Jamieson of Moline, Ill., and MacCallum.

Harris carded only one above-par round for 72 holes over Orchard Lake's par 36-36—70 layout to win the qualifying medal by eight strokes.

The 20-year-old Oklahoma State graduate shot 72-73 in yesterday's intermittent showers for a grand total of 281, seven below par, to be the only man in the field to equal or better par. He led at the end of every round.

Double rounds of match play, all set for 18 holes, will be conducted today and Sunday to determine the 1962 winner.

CAN'T UP — Undefeated Cassius Clay stands over his vanquished foe, Alejandro Lavorante, after scoring a 5th round knockout of the Argentine last night at Los Angeles. Clay predicted the finish exactly before scoring his 12th KO and 15th straight triumph.

Cassius Clay Is Man of His Word

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Cassius Clay is proving himself a man of his word, far-fetched as it sometimes may be.

For days he predicted he would knock out the giant Argentine heavyweight, Alejandro Lavorante. He named the round; the fifth.

Friday night Cassius Marcellius Clay knocked out Lavorante in the fifth round.

A crowd of about 11,000 saw the prediction come true in the Sports Arena and paid an estimated $64,000 for the night.

Lavorante, at 208 nine pounds heavier than Clay was unquestionably the toughest opponent in the unblemished 15-bout career of the 20-year-old Louisville, Ky., youngster. He's won 12 by knockouts.

★ ★ ★

The end came in 1:48 minutes of the explosive fifth round, only the fourth loss in 23 matches for the handsome 22-year-old Lavorante.

Referee Tommy Hart didn't even bother to count on this, the second and concluding knockdown in the final round of the scheduled 10-rounder.

"It took the old man' 10 rounds. I'll do' it in five," said Cassius in a pre-fight Clay pep talk to Cassius. "A good young man is twice as good as a good old man."

The "old man" was Archie Moore who knocked out Lavorante in 10 rounds earlier this year.

Cassius reflected a moment. "People get mad if I predict wrong," he explained.

"I know I brag and open my big mouth, but I called it, didn't I?"

Consulted immediately after the knockout, old Archie seemed undisturbed but he may soon meet young Cassius.

Willie's on a Homer Kick

Mays Hits 2nd in Two Nights to Spark Win

Giants Defeat Pirates, 6-3, to Keep Pressure on Dodgers

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wonderous Willie Mays, a notorous streak hitter, is off on a home run binge. And it couldn't come at a more appropriate time for the San Francisco Giants in the National League.

Willie, the no longer young say hey kid, belted his second in as many games Friday night as onrushing San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 6-3 and kept the pressure on front-running Los Angeles.

The victory kept the Giants just one game back of Los Angeles, 8-2 victor over the Chicago Cubs. Of equal importance, it gave the Giants a little more edge over the third-place Pirates, now 2½ games back of San Francisco and 3½ behind the Dodgers.

MEJIAS HERO

Roman Mejias' two-run ninth inning single brought Houston a 4-3 decision over St. Louis. Cincinnati beat New York 3-1 and Milwaukee and Philadelphia split a pair. The Braves took the first 7-5 and the Phils the nightcap 3-2.

Mays' homer, which came with one on in the first inning, was his 27th of the season, giving him the major league lead. He also doubled and scored twice.

The Pirates, who had won 22 of 28 starts going into the game unnouid have taken over second place with a victory. A crowd of 37,905 — the largest at Forbes Field in two years — was on hand to watch the try.

Willie spoiled their fun with his drive off Pirate starter vernon Law and Willie McCovey produced what proved to be the winning run with his sole homer in the fourth. Jack Sanford 12-6 got the victory, but needed help from Don Larsen in the seventh.

The Pirates' Roberto Clemente extended his hitting string to 17 games with a double and single. Houston struggled back from a 2-0 deficit and finally pulled it out against the Cards on the strength of Mejias' bases-loaded single in the ninth. Dick Farrell (6-12) struck out 12 in going the distance for the victory.

U.S. Has Opportunity for Early Track Lead

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — The United States had a chance to take a quick lead over Russia today in the opening session of their International dual track meet because of a schedule that listed five events which America has dominated in the past.

While an overweight Wilma Rudolph tries to make it four straight wins for America in the Women's 100 meters, the United States males will seek to maintain their superiority over Russia in the 100 meters, 110 meter hurdles, 400 meters and 400 meter relay.

Coach John Oelkers of the United States thinks that a world record might fall in the 400 meter relay, which will be handled by Hayes Jones, Bob Hayes, Homer Jones and Paul Drayton.

And he was emanating confidence while Gavriel Korobkov, the Russian coach, played it close to his ample chest.

"I don't want to sound cocky," Oelkers said. "But I think we will win this meet."

"I haven't seen the United States team," the genial Korobkov fenced. The Soviet coach also doubled as a diplomat, promising Sacramento, Calif. housewife that he would deliver her written letters to Premier Khrushchev asking that her brother be released from prison.

BOSTON SET

In other leading events today, Ralph Boston of the United States squared off against Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, who has leaped a world record 27 feet, three inches.

But Ter-Ovanesyan only has taken one jump all week and spent the rest of the time undergoing heat treatments for a sore leg.

"How is he?" smiled Korobkov. "He is all right. He has some sore muscles but that happens to every athlete at one time or another."

The feature attraction in the women's field division was the discus, where world record holder Tamara Press of Russia was slated to tangle with comely Olga Connolly of the United States.

★ ★ ★

Roger Sayers and Bob Hayes were named to run for the United States in the 100 meters with Jerry Tarr and Hayes Jones teaming up in the 110 meter hurdles. And in the 400 meters it was Uhl Williams and Ray Saddler going for the United States.

The Soviets are expected to win the 20 kilometer walk and 10,000 meters run for the fourth straight time.

Jockey Is Handed 5-Year Suspension

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jockey Edward McIvor Jr. was suspended for five years Friday by the Maryland Racing Commission.

The charges against McIvor, 32-year-old native of Paterson, N.J., were use of a stimulator and associating with undesirable persons.

A battery-operated buzzer was found in a starting stall at Laurel Race Course April 24. McIvor had left the gate on Rapir Rise and won at odds of 17-1.

The racing commission was told at a hearing Thursday that McIvor was seen taking money from a man with a criminal record.

McIvor's suspension will be in force at all thoroughbred racing tracks in the country.

TOTE THOSE TOOLS — When the time arises for a work party in the William-Austin-Burt school neighborhood, the mothers also turn out to shovel dirt, cut grass and rake the diamond of the three baseball fields built by the parents in four years for the four teams in the Elizabeth Lake Estates-Lincoln Heights areas. Mrs. Charles Opie and Mrs. August Boucher handle the rakes, while Mrs. Don Hornbeck pushes the wheelbarrow and gets shovel help from Mrs. Ray McMorris.

Heave, Ho Parents! Junior Has to Play

When junior wants to play baseball, very often it's the mom and dad who have to pick up the shovel and rake, hammer and nails and get out the work party to build a playing field.

★ ★ ★

It happens in many neighbodhoods and a typical example are the parents of Elizabeth Lake Estates and Lincoln Heights where 70 boys from 65 families owe their baseball opportunities on their pick packing pops and money making moms.

It was four years ago when several parents organized to get baseball started in their neighborhood. They received permission to use an empty bayfield near William-Austin-Burt school for setting up a playing field.

Out came the rakes, shovels, hoes, picks and even bulldozers. The mothers went out to do some fund raising among neighbodhood families and even went out to push wheelbarrows and shovel dirt.

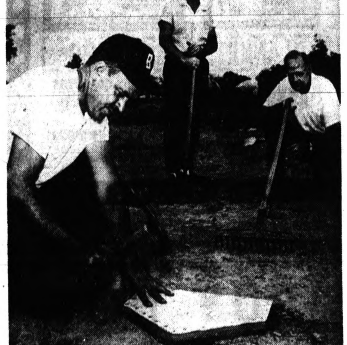

★ ★ ★

At last a baseball field came into being. But after one year, the teams grew from one to three and now to four.

The wheelbarrow brigade grew in numbers and a second field was built. More fund raising, more coffee and donut sessions and more work parties brought about a third field last year.

With a team of 9-10 year olds in the Keego Boys' Club league, and three others from 11 through 13 in other leagues in Waterford, the Edwards, Hornbecks, Opies, Hammonds, Brights, Gilmores, Bouchers, McMorris', Grants, Childs', Marvosh's, Ridder's and rest of the parents have found their reward in base hits of happy sons.

HOME FOR JUNIOR — This is where junior will spend his eveing recreation hours — at home plate. Ken Gilmore builds "home" with the help of Roy Cowger and Duane Hammond (right).

TIME FOR PLAY — When the work parties are over for the families in the Elizabeth Lace Estates area, junior takes over and the parents stay back and cheer them on. Steve Hornbeck does the hitting and Mike Hammond is the catcher in this picture.

Warriors' Tom Gola Wants Football Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tom Gola, star player with the Warriors—formerly Philadelphia, now San Francisco — of the National Basketball Association, is seeking a berth in pro football.

Gola said Friday he has spoken to Vince McNally, general manager of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League club, about the possibility of switching to the gridiron.

McNally said Gola could join the Eagles at the Hershey, Pa., training camp this Sunday, but emphasized no deal had been made.

"Tommy came to my office and said he would like to try out for the team," McNally said. "I told him he'd be welcome to come to camp.

"I've always felt [illegible] about basketball players. They have wonderful reflexes, quick especially, and that's what we look for in players for pass defense.

"Tommy might be a natural . . . we're willing to look."

Gola said his action was motivated by the sale and transfer of the Warriors to San Francisco.

He continued:

"I don't want to play in Frisco. If the football thing doesn't work out I'd prefer to play basketball for the New York Knickerbockers.

"All my ties have been in the Philadelphia area. I don't want to be away from my family for the six or seven months of the basketball season. Also, I have business interests here."

The 28-year-old Gola is 6-foot-6 and weighs between 220 and 225. His basketball playing weight was 217 on the average.

He last played football at La Salle High School here. He quit to concentrate on basketball after suffering a shoulder injury.

Famous Trotter Dead

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Victory Song, a holder of the world record for 4-year-old trotting stallions and harness horse of the year in 1947, died Friday at Castleton Farm.

Officials at the farm said the 19-year-old son of Volomite-Even Song died of a heart attack following a brief illness.

108 Sailboats Set to Go

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ticonderoga and Mitena were installed as the favorites today as 108 sailboats prepared to start the 333-mile dash from Chicago's Monroe Harbor to Michigan's Mackinac Island.

The fleet will be divided into two divisions and six classes according to handicap ratings, with the smaller boats starting first.

The 58th annual race should end sometime Monday.

Ticonderoga, owned by William L. Brittain, also was favored in last weekend's Port Huron-Mackinac race. But she faltered and finished back in the field. Mitena, a 12-meter sloop owned by a Grand Rapids, Mich., syndicate, won last week's race in her division, but had only one rival.

Another big favorite was Gypsy, the Milwaukee boat that came home first in the Port Huron-Mackinac affair, but was beaten out by two other ships on corrected time.

Top prize last year was won by Blue Horizon, a 34-foot ship.

Ticonderoga, Gypsy and Mitena were all placed in the cruising class under Chicago rules.

Favorites among the smaller boats were Blue Horizon, Rangoon, Sixth Girl, Apache, X-Touche, Last Straw and Nimbus.

Hope to Raise $1,000 Amateur Event Tomorrow

Aiming at a goal of $1,000 to further improve Pontiac baseball facilities, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department holds its annual Amateur Day Sunday at Jaycee Park.

A total of 14 games involving teams in all city classes will be held starting at 1 p.m. The final will get under way at 8.

Besides the fund-raising idea, the program gives local officials an opportunity to give parents and others a comprehensive picture of the entire baseball program. It also serves as a means of bringing the families together for baseball and picnics in one location.

There will be an admission charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for those under 18. Parking will be 25 cents per car. A charge of $1 plus 25 cents for parking will be followed for large families.

It is the only time in the summer baseball season that admission is charged.

The participating teams were selected by various committees made up of team managers.

Score 8 Times in 5th Inning to Whip Tribe

8-5 Decision Enables Los Angeles to Stay 3½ Behind Yanks

By The Associated Press

Put another halo around the heads of those soaring Angels from Los Angeles. They haven't run out of miracles yet. By scoring eight runs in the fifth inning —the biggest in their two-year life on this planet — they gave Billy Rigney another heavenly evening Friday night.

The Angels' 8-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians (who led 3-0 going into the fifth) left them the most active dissenters to any notion of a New York Yankee runaway in the American League.

Although the Yanks powered their way to theire lighth straight, beating Washington 3-2, the Angels still are hanging in there only 3½ games back in second place.

★ ★ ★

The Yankee triumph served to emphasize again Mickey Mantle's role as their most valuable player, regardless of any poll. The Mick contributed a two-run homer and two singles.

BIG CHANGE

While Mickey was out of action with a pulled leg muscle and a damaged knee, the Yanks crawled along at a 15-15 pace. Since his return they have galloped at a 39-20 level (.660). During that period of recuperation Mantle has hit .372. For the entire season his on-base average is a gaudy .514. In 249 appearances at the plate he has reached base 128 times. His season average is .346.

Earl Battey, a goat in the eighth inning when his error permitted Baltimore to tie the score, emerged the hero with a two-run homer in the 10th that gave the Minnesota Twins a 7-5 decision over Baltimore. The Twins tightened their hold on third place, trailing the Yanks by 5½.

Boston's outfield went on a spree of extra base hits as Carl Yastrzemski, Lu Clinton and Carroll Hardy helped the Red Sox bomb Chicago 8-4. It was the White Sox' fourth straight defeat.

The Angels handed the Indians their eighth straight defeat before 23,863 fans who were treated to a big thrill in the fifth-inning explosion.

Willie Tasby's three-run homer in the third gave Sam McDowell, recalled Friday from Salt Lake City, a comfortable working margin. But it wasn't enough. Sam ran into a wild streak in the fifth and the Angels kept on swinging against a long string of successors. Lee Thomas' homer accounted for the last three runs of the big inning.

The Tribe staged a mild threat in the ninth when Chuck Essegian homered. They had two men on and the tying run at the plate before the Angels finally snuffed them out. Bob Botz, an ex-New York Met who didn't make the club in spring training, was the winner.

Mantle's 19th homer and Hector Lopez' sixth gave the Yanks all their runs and broke Washington's five-game winning streak. Whitey Ford was the winner over Steve Hamilton although Whitey complained of tiredness after seven innings and gave way to a pinch hitter. Marshall Bridges finished.

GOAT TO HERO

They were all set to put the goat's honors on Battey of the Twins because he dropped an easy pop foul by Jerry Adair in the eighth. Adair then singled and scored an unearned run that tied the score at 5-5. However, Battey came up in the 10th after Harmon Killebrew walked and Bob Allison sacrificed, moving pinch runner Orlando Martinez to second. Battey hit his seventh homer near the left field foul pole off loser Hal Brown. Ray Moore was the winner.

Yastrzemski hit two homers for the Red Sox, the first time he had done that in his brief major league career. He also added a double and knocked in three runs. Clinton tripled with the bases loaded and Hardy hit a two-run homer. Don Schwall won his fourth with ninth-inning help from Dick Radatz. John Buzhardt lost his ninth.

The four low scorers at Morey's will qualify for the State Jaycee tourney July 27-28 at Hemlock. The national J. C. event is scheduled Aug. 20-25 at Huntington, W. Va.

Monday's event will also feature a driving contest and hole-in-one contest. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

Tournament chairman is Jeff Cornish, who also was in charge of Waterford's local chapter outing June 18 at Morey's.

Briane Keen of Walled Lake won the local tourney. Keen was a national qualifier last year.

Junior Net Finalists

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two Californians—top-seeded Jerry Cromwell of Long Beach and unranked Garry Rose of Grenada—gained the final round of the junior boys singles division Friday in the St. Louis Invitational Junior Tennis Championships.

See One Shift in Lineup for U.S. Cup Team

CHICAGO (AP) — At least one change is expected in the regular U.S. Davis Cup tennis team for its invasion of Mexico City for the American zone finals.

Robert Kelleher, non-playing captain, said he probably would name a squad today after conferring with Edward W. Turville, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Kelleher indicated the possibility of a change in the team that last week blanked Canada in Cleveland 5-0.

Only Chuck McKinley and Jon Douglas remained in today's quarter-finals, both in the upper bracket.

Rain, which postponed the start of the meet Monday, struck again yesterday and washed out all matches. The men's singles and doubles finals were set back to Monday. The women's singles and doubles championships will be tomorrow.

Your Neighbor's House

R. W. Wrights Do-It-Yourself Decorators

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last week in this section we featured a home that will never be anything more than a dream to most people. Today's home is the direct result of time and effort expanded by the owners to get what they wanted. It is an excellent example of what the average couple can do with a minimum of money and a maximum of elbow grease.

★ ★ ★

The house isn't so new, except to the Robert Wrights who live in it. It originally belonged to Mrs. Wright's sister-in-law. She and her husband had purchased it as a shell and subcontracted the work to finish it. The Wrights have been the owners a year. Previously, they lived in an apartment on Voorheis Road.

★ ★ ★

Four-year-old Sabrina is perpetual motion. It was with difficulty that her mother induced her to come in from play long enough to have her picture taken. There was a new wading pool across the street that was attracting all the children in the neighborhood and Sabrina was afraid she might miss something.

Baby brother, Gregg, is more phlegmatic at 16 months. But he investigated the photographer's equipment.

The Wright home is on a 100x130 lot in Huntoon Lake Estates. It's a low white frame structure with aqua trim.

★ ★ ★

Across the front of the house is the living room-dining room. At present it is all living room; the family eats in the kitchen.

A low planter marks off an entry way at the front door. This is covered with plastic bricks. Walls and woodwork are all white. The carpeting is a black, white and gold tweed. Draperies are white linen.

There are two benches painted black in the room. The longer one has a thick sofa-size pad with back bolster cushions. At each end is a pair of drawers with white fronts. On the shorter bench which juts into the room from the front wall there is a single cushion and bolster. The other half of the bench holds magazines. Table lamps are white.

★ ★ ★

The television set has its own bench, also painted black. On each side of the set is a cushion, one white, the other black.

Placed with their backs to the front picture window are two deep blue armless chairs. Between them is a table with one birch and one black shelf.

The colors of the room are brought together in an abstract print over the sofa; this repeats the black, white and blue of the furnishings with an accent touch of orange.

MATCHING CLOCK

On the far wall in the dining room area there is a black and white buffet. Above it is a diamond shaped clock with half the face black and half white. The other corner holds a large split leaf philodendron plant.

Louvered doors to the kitchen fold back against the dining room wall.

In the kitchen there is gray tile on the floor. Red "brick" covers the wall behind the range and above the counters. The rest of the walls are papered in a gay pattern. On a white background there are watermelon wedges, celery, salad bowls, wine bottles and other kitchen miscellany. This paper is used also on the soffit.

★ ★ ★

Below the corner windows there is a sink placed diagonally in the white counter. Curtains are white linen cafes. All appliances are white. The other window has a double set of shutters.

The round table is black with a white Formica top. The black chairs have white leather upholstery.

We have a picture of the bathroom but we didn't use it. Mrs. Wright has just finished "doing" the room and it is delightful. But it does not make a good picture.

CHARM

The trouble is the harlequin type wallpaper which is charming in the actual room, but too busy in a picture. The diamonds are green, blue and aqua on a white background. Floor and fixtures are aqua. The vanity top is gray.

At the window there is a double set of white cafe curtains. A white bird cage planter hangs from the ceiling.

In the bedroom there is more of Mrs. Wright's carefully planning and the work of both adult members of the family. Again the walls are white. Carpeting is gold. One window is louvered; the other has louvers only on the lower half.

The double bed is pushed into a corner. Lengthwise of it on the wall an upholstered flat bolster is hung. This, the bed skirt and the round throw pillows are made of striped sailcloth in two shades of gold, black and white. The spread is a white tailored one. Four other tiny pillows are square black ones.

The black chests were bought unpainted, given several coats of shiny black enamel and treated to brass hardware. On the wall is a brass sunburst clock.

The chair in this room is a black rocker with leather cushions and a little striped sailcloth pillow. Near it is a black stool.

★ ★ ★

In the children's room most of the furniture was made by their father. There is a long chest of drawers along one wall and sliding door storage chests across the room. These are pink, white and blue. Wright built also the frame for Sabrina's bed and the little lamb clothes hanger that holds her dresses.

Walls and the rug are pink. Curtains are pink and white organdy.

The Wrights' small house can be an inspiration to couples with the champagne appetite and the beer income.

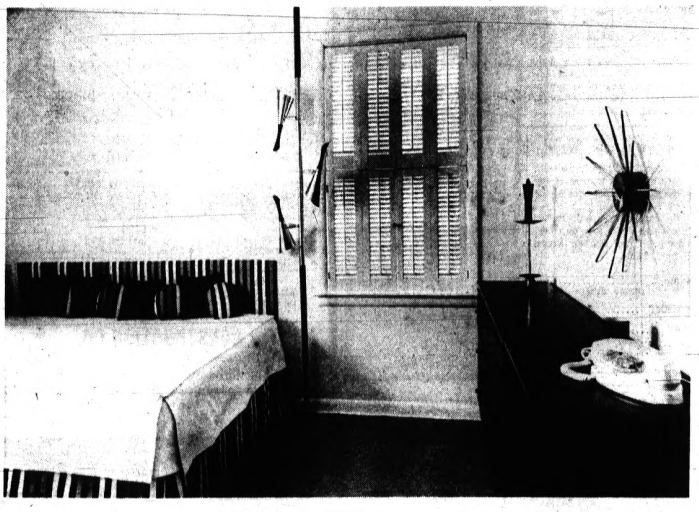

Remember that color, judiciously used, is your best decorating aid. Keep your walls more or less neutral; keep the color scheme coordinated throughout the house, and you will end up with a pleasing place to live.

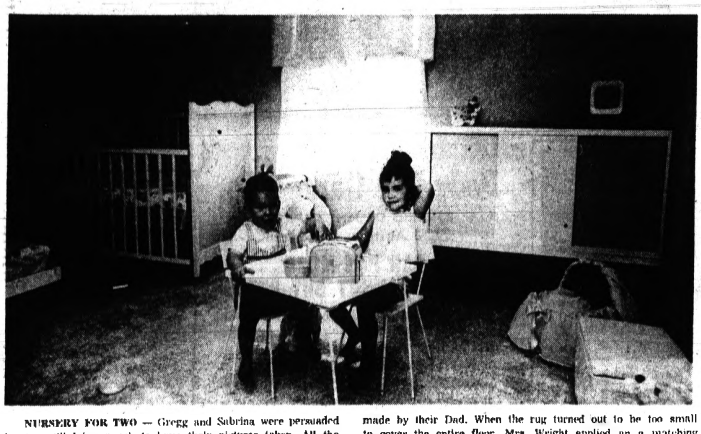

GOOD JOKE — What the joke was shared by Mrs. Wright, Gregg and the photographer isn't known; but it makes a good picture. The kitchen is mostly all white with an accent of red in the brick paper behind the stove and under the cupboards at the left. The same shade appears in the wallpaper covering both the soffit and one wall. Table and chairs are white. The corner window overlooks the back yard.

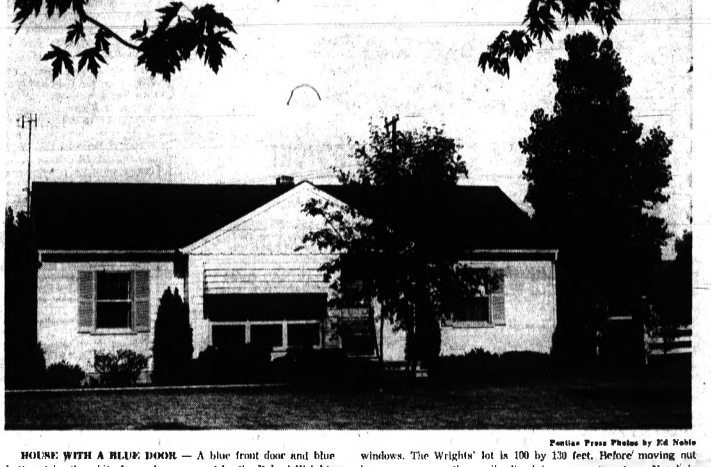

SIMPLE LINES — The Wrights painted all their walls white and used draperies to match. For interest the end wall is covered with plastic paper resembling bricks. Carpeting is black, white and gold. Sofa, small sofa (rear) and tables are all black. The chair in the window and its twin this side of the table is bright blue. This blue appears again in the abstract painting at the right and in the candles on the magazine table halfway down the room.

STRIKING — What looks like a headboard is really a padded board along the length of the bed. Like the bed skirt, it is striped in gold and black and white. The bedspread is white like the walls. Half of the pillows match the shiny black chests; the others are striped.

NURSERY FOR TWO — Gregg and Sabrina were persuaded to stay still long enough to have their pictures taken. All the furniture in their pink, white and blue room is scaled to their small size. Clothes and toys are kept in chests and cupboards, made by their Dad. When the rug turned out to be too small to cover the entire floor, Mrs. Wright applied an a matching adhesive plastic material around the edges.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Noble

HOUSE WITH A BLUE DOOR — A blue front door and blue shutters trim the white frame house owned by the Robert Wrights in Huntoon Lake Estates. A white metal awning shields the front windows. The Wrights' lot is 100 by 130 feet. Before moving out here a year ago the family lived in an apartment on Voorheis Road.

Protects the Wall

Hang a large aluminum-covered asbestos pad against the wall adjacent to your stove. It will be easier to wash grease splatters from this pad than from the wall itself.

Weather Strip Rocker

Does your rocking chair mar your floor or jar you by working its way across the room as you rock? If so, attach some felt weather stripping to the underside of the rockers.

Functional Foyer Puts Wasted Space to Work

By JULES LOH

When you count the rooms in a house, do you count the foyer?

Normally, of course, you don't. But in today's House of the Week you probably should, because this foyer is a functional room which clearly will serve a nobler purpose than merely a place for the umbrella stand.

Architect Herman H. York, who designed the handsome three-bedroom split, believes the foyer is an ideal location for the downstairs lavatory. It is convenient not only to the kitchen, where the housewife spends most of her day, but also serves as a powder room adjoining the formal entertaining area.

Architect York also included a shelf outside the lavatory. With a mirror above, it makes an ideal freshening up spot for guests. Also, he located the coat closet well out of the way of both the front door and the living room entrance, eliminating the unholy congestion that develops in inadequate foyers when folks arrive and depart.

"A foyer is an important part of any house," York said. "It's almost impossible to have smooth traffic flow without one. But its space is all but wasted if it is used simply as a hallway and nothing more."

Getting the most out of every square inch of space is a specialty of York's and this house — design J-31 in the series — is a fine example.

The house has all the room and facilities most three-bedroom families require; large living room, family room, separate dining room, kitchen roomy enough for a breakfast table, 2½ baths, double garage, basement.

Yet the lower levels contain only 1,221 square feet of floor space, including the 429-square-foot garage. The bedroom level contains 1,031 square feet.

Overall dimensions of the house are 34'5" deep by 46' wide. The garage doors are on the side, but they could be shifted to the front if the lot is too narrow. It takes about 28 feet of property on the side of the house to provide the necessary driveway clearance for a side entry.

The kitchen and family room of this house form an extremely livable 24-foot expanse where the housewife can maintain easy supervision of both the indoor and outdoor play areas.

Only three steps divide the two rooms, instead of the usual six, breakfast area remains. The table space, incidentally, is out of the path of the kitchen work zone.

A broad window over the sink provides plenty of light as well as a good view of the backyard. The family room has a window at one end and sliding glass doors leading to the rear terrace.

The living room features triple windows at the front and a long wall where a fireplace could be located if desired. A fireplace isn't shown on the plans, but it easily could be placed in the center of the wall and the furnace flue located at that point in one chimney.

Upstairs, the three bedrooms are all of ample size and each has an abundance of closet space. The master bedroom has a dressing area with built-in vanity outside the adjoining full bath.

LINEN

The main bath has an extra large vanity and a linen closet inside the room. This is in addition, of course, to the large linen closet in the hall. Anyone who has suffered from inadequate upstairs storage space will appreciate these two features.

For the exterior, architect York is an advocate of restraint in both materials and colors. He feels white always is attractive for the wood siding along with any color of local brick, and if an accent color is used it should be limited to perhaps a pastel shade under the roof overhang. "Avoid the spotted, busy look of heavy accent colors in too many places," he advises.

Renovating Old Bathroom Easy

Be Sure You Include Ample Storage, Light and Sturdy Flooring

The bathroom is losing its inhibitions and becoming as decoratively appealing as other rooms in the house. It's also coming in for increasing use as a health center, with space for sunbathing, exercise equipment and lounge chairs.

★ ★ ★

Luxurious fixtures and accessories, new textures and colors, and dramatic new uses of ceramic tile are combining to bring glamour and convenience to the bathroom.

★ ★ ★

If you are planning a major renovation of your bathroom, be sure to include balanced lighting, adequate storage and durable materials such as ceramic tile. Since tile now comes in a wider selection of sizes, shapes and colors than ever before, it will be easy for you to design a bath that's both artistic and durable.

Ceramic tile is the ideal material for a garden bath. A tile wall can be extended from the bathroom into the outdoors with no concern for drastic temperature variations. There will be no loss of privacy if your garden bath is properly enclosed by a wall or fence.

Because it's exposed to the elements and will be subjected to rough wear if it's used as an exercise area, your "outdoor" bath should be surfaced with a tough and slip-proof material such as quarry tile.

★ ★ ★

Take another look at your existing bathroom or rooms. You may discover that a few changes can transform an old bath into a room of elegance and added convenience.

Rock carvings uncovered recently at the Norwegian town of Mollerstufossen, all depicting moose, are estimated to be 3,000 to 6,000 years old.

H-Design Is Helpful in Home Planning

At this time of year, private pools and air conditioning are prime contributors to our comfort.

How much we enjoy them depends on factors other than the quality of the cooling units or the depth and size of the pool.

The logistics and character of the house itself are equally important, the Southern Pine Association says.

A "private" pool, for example, is hardly worthy of that descriptive if it's overly exposed to the view of neighbors and passers-by. Then, too, there's the risk of invasion from uninvited juveniles and attendant legal liability, if the pool area suffers from over exposure.

In the case of the cooling system, the very finest units may labor in vain if the dwelling itself isn't conditioned to counter the steaming impact of the summer sun.

★ ★ ★

To solve these and other problems on a comparatively small lot, the Association recommends, as a starter, an H-design.

The floor plan assumes the shape of a perfect "H." The house consists of two wings and a connecting link. The latter provides passageway between the two wings and also a fairly large family room.

One wing provides sleeping quarters and bath with parents on one side and children's bedrooms on the other.

★ ★ ★

The other wing embraces dining and living rooms and kitchen.

Not only does the H-design provide practical zone planning and logical separation of interior living areas, but it also effectively partitions the outdoor area to make maximum use of the available lot space.

The "H" shape brings into being two primary yard areas, one on each side of the connecting corridor, with each patio surrounded on three sides by the house itself. The outdoor area sandwiched between the parents sleeping quarters and living room is ideal for a pool.

PLAY YARD

On the opposite side, the yard lies between children's sleeping quarters and kitchen. This, of course, is an ideal spot to reserve for the youngsters' outdoor recreation.

★ ★ ★

Large window areas are located on walls facing the patios. Here, the outdoors become part of the interior view and the rooms seem larger than they really are.

Walls facing the street or neighboring dwellings are solidly sided with wood boards - and - battens. When the house is oriented so that these walls accept the brunt of the hot afternoon sun, full value is received from the high natural insheathing to effectively counteract sun exposure, air conditioning works more efficiently at lower cost.

The plank-and-beam construction provides an effective roof structure for the H-design. The high self-sufficiency of this system gives the desired flexibility of floor plan. The two inch thick wood roof decking further improves the insulation of the house.

In the case of Southern Pine lumber, roof decking, other items of framing and boards-and-battens siding, are "pre-shrunk" by proper seasoning. The resulting firmness and fullness of dimension assure the over-all snugness needed for maximum air conditioning efficiency.

PATTERN 243

It adds value to a home property to build a substantial outdoor fireplace. A handsome brick model with work space, storage cupboards, hooks and shelves for utensils and slots for adjusting grills is made with Pattern 243. This pattern, which gives illustrated directions and material list, is 35 cents. It also is in the Home Improvement Packet No. 29 with three other patterns — all for $1.

Water Tanks Need Regular Draining

Home water tanks will give more years of service if two or three gallons of water are drained from them about once a month. This removes sediment and rust which tends to collect in the bottoms of the tanks.

★ ★ ★

Glass or enamel-lined tanks, contrary to popular belief, are not completely immune to this service treatment because rust is frequently carried to them through water pipes.

One way to remember to do this simple job is to keep a galvanized steel pail near the water tank. Drain off a pail of water from time to time and the life of the tank will be greatly extended.

Also, the steel pail, located next to a good supply of water, makes a convenient piece of fire fighting equipment. It's always ready for use.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Where do the slum dwellers go after the wreckers level their dwellings?

★ ★ ★

An increasing percentage are moving into private housing and growing numbers, including negroes, are buying their own homes, according to a survey now being completed by the Urban Renewal Administration (URA).

★ ★ ★

The problem of finding decent housing for those forced to move by urban renewal projects promises to become more critical. During the next 10 years, the URA predicts, one million families will be forced to move because of programs to improve the blighted cores of America's cities.

By comparison, government figures indicate that only 112,000 persons actually moved during the past decade as many cities barely launched their rejuvenation programs.

While urban renewal often brings to mind public housing projects rising on the sites of razed slums, the overall trend actually is toward private housing.

★ ★ ★

Local officials were unable to keep tabs on about 15,000 of the 72,000 families forced to move because of renewal projects during the last four years. But of those accounted for, nearly 70 per cent—and increase of 17 per cent—moved into private housing.

Urban Renewal Commissioner William L. Slayton recently told the U.S. Civil Rights Commission that about 67 per cent of the families forced to move were Negro.

Some states, including New York, do not keep a racial breakdown of relocated families, but the available statistics show that about 30 per cent of the white families and 20 per cent of the non-whites bought their new homes. This was an increase of 4 and 5 per cent respectively.

Rentals went down 1 per cent for whites and increased about 4 per cent for non-whites.

Officials see in the survey a reflection of the greater ease whites have in purchasing homes, in the suburbs.

The rise in home ownership is encouraging in that a higher percentage of the "sales" housing meets standards than the rental housing.

★ ★ ★

Planners see little sense in merely moving people into another overcrowded slum. However, one official described the 112,000 families relocated by developments as a drop in the bucket compared to the estimated million and a half families which migrated into the cities during the same decade.

The nicest thing to be said about South's five heart bid was that it was a gambling chance. North did not have to go to six, so maybe some of the blame for getting too high should go to him.

For some reason, known only to himself, West made the deceptive lead of the deuce of clubs. South looked over dummy and saw no real chance for his contract unless he could avoid the loss of a trump trick. But there was one faint ray of additional hope. South played the four of clubs from dummy!

Now it was East's turn to do some thinking. He did not study long. There was no reason to assume that West had opened with his fifth best club and if South held either the ten or jack it would be fatal to East to hold back so East played the ace.

Now South had a pretty good chance to make his contract. He laid down the ace of trumps to see if he could drop the king. When that failed he led the jack of spades and finessed. It held and the second spade trick went to dummy's ten.

Now South was able to discard two diamonds on the ace and king of spades and two more on the king and queen of clubs to wind up losing one trump trick and naught else.

Seek to Scuttle Tax-Credit Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Powerful Senate forces plan to try to scuttle the $1.1-billion tax break for business which the Senate Finance Committee approved last week.

★ ★ ★

Finance Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., was in the vanguard of those senators opposed to the provision which grants businessmen and utility companies a tax credit to spur investments in new equipment.

Byrd has been quietly conducting a poll of Senate sentiment and has become convinced there are enough votes to kill the feature when it comes before the full Senate, according to reliable sources.

The tax "bonus" is the major revenue-losing provision in the trimmed down tax revision bill tentatively approved by the committee yesterday.

NOW IN RED

Its elimination would put the bill back in balance. As it stands now the drastically amended bill is heavily in the red.

When the over-all tax revision bill came to the Senate panel from the House March 29, it would have produced an estimated $120 million in new revenues.

The Finance Committee whittled it down to the point where it now is estimated it will cost the treasury anywhere from $500 to $800 million in revenue losses a year.

★ ★ ★

Although the bill still is subject to further change, and a final vote on July 27, the committee for all practical purposes has completed its work on the measure.

★ ★ ★

In eight days of closed drafting sessions, it gutted the House bill. The result, if allowed to stand, amounted to another legislative reversal for President Kennedy, who was counting on picking up revenues to balance the budget by closing some tax loopholes.

She's Back on Stage; Picture Back at Sardi's

NEW YORK (AP) — Lillian Roth has been restored to the picture gallery that is a feature of Broadway's best-known theatrical restaurant (Sardi's) after a 20-year absence.

★ ★ ★

Miss Roth was one of the first celebrities to be caricatured by the restaurant's first artist, Alex Gard, but the portrait was stored away when she slipped out of show business. She recently resumed her career as a principal player in the musical "I Get It for You Wholesale," and the rehanging ensued.

Princess Jumps Gun in Swimming Race

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne, only daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, jumped the gun by mistake in a girl scouts swimming meet last night.

Anne, competing in the 30-yard free-style event for the Abbey troop, leaned forward for a racing dive when the starter said "on your mark" — and fell in.

The princess climbed back up on the edge of the pool. Then they started the race and she finished third.

BEAUTY OF FRIENDSHIP

J. L. VOORHEES

Our Eskimos strip their existence to the barest essentials—art is one of them; the art of friendship is an essential for us. The Eskimos have no contrast in scenery; without friendship we have no contrast in living experience. For thousands of years these people have carved beautiful figures from ivory; they say, "It is the form of beauty in that ivory." We seek that something we call friendship in people we meet. The Eskimo expresses his beauty in the form of a bird, fish or seal; we express our beauty in a form we call love. What emerges explicates the beauty and meaning of our life. They consider integrity the greatest virtue and deception the greatest vice; so do we. We, as a group, have no enemies, we are loyal to each other; this is friendship, an emotional attribute that bridges every strata of our society.

M. E. SIPLE

We build dams and schools, homes and highways, hospitals and bigger banks as expressions of humanity that explicates our way of life. Our expression of beauty is friendship from the raw form of life.

Seriously Hurt Trio in Fair Condition at Pontiac General

Three persons seriously injured in area auto accidents are reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

* * *

Hospitalized are Nicholas A. Stykos, 32, Detroit; Dallas W. Schmitzer, 23, of 5819 Mill St., Waterford Township, and Schmitzer's wife Gail, 18.

The Schmitzers were traveling southeast on Dixie Highway near Oak Hill Road shortly before 4 a.m. today when their car struck the rear of a truck parked at the side of the road.

Schmitzer, who suffered a hip injury, told police he fell asleep at the wheel. His wife suffered possible internal injuries.

* * *

Styko's car collided head-on yesterday afternoon with one driven by Charles W. Cramer, 57, of 9810 E. Highland Road, Waterford Township on M59 near Ormond Road.

Stykos told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he was behind a car which was starting to make a right hand turn just before the accident occurred.

He said he pulled around the car and it came back onto the road.

* * *

Stykos said he hit the brakes, his car went out of control and across the center line where it hit Cramer's auto.

* * *

Cramer was treated and released from the hospital.

Lake Erie Shore Combed for Plane Believed Down

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A search party combed the hushland near the Lake Erie shore for the wreckage of a light plane believed to have crashed or exploded yesterday.

* * *

The search began after Ontario Provincial Police officers found part of the wing of a plane about a mile from the lake shore, 25 miles southeast of here.

Farmers in the area told police they heard what sounded like an explosion during a thunderstorm that hit the area around 5 p. m.

Provincial police said they believed the plane was a four-seater Cessna en route from Ohio to Muskegon, Mich. They did not know how many persons were aboard.

The wing piece was blue and white and bore the letter "D."

Dead are James R. Beyer, 8, Redford Township, and Michael H. Biogini, 55, Fenton.

Biogini, according to sheriff's deputies, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after his car went off a curve and crashed into a tree about 1:30 a. m. today in Holly Township.

The accident occurred on Grange Hall Road near Fagan Road.

Deputies said Biogini, travelling westbound on Grange Hall Road, apparently was driving at high speed. He was alone in the car.

The Beyer boy was struck by a car yesterday afternoon in front of the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. MacKenzie, 21716 Lahser Road, about one-half mile north of Eight Mile Road.

Mrs. MacKenzie said her grandson had asked permission to go to her mailbox on the opposite side of Lahser Road.

She refused, but he ignored her, she said.

The boy was hit by a car as he was returning from the mailbox, she said. He was thrown in the air and was run over by the car.

The driver, Mrs. Carol L. Dunham, 22, of 24661 Sargent St., Southfield, told police she saw the boy standing by the mailbox.

He suddenly darted out in front of her car and she was unable to stop in time, she said.

Tax Rate Dips in Waterford

New Lower Equalizing Coefficient Cuts Levy Despite Millage Hike

The tax rate of $37.26 per $1,000 of equalized valuation for 1962 represents the first year-to-year decrease in seven years, James Denlierder, assistant to the superintendent of Waterford Township schools, said yesterday.

Approved Thursday by the board of education, the rate is 37 cents per $1,000 of equalized valuation lower than the 1961 figure of $37.63.

For the three year period from 1958 through 1960 the tax rate stood at $37.20.

The slight decrease in the 1962 rate compared with that of a year ago occurred despite the fact that the millage rate for this year will be 25.76, or .26 more than the 25.50 mills for 1961.

A lower equalizing coefficient used in computing the 1962 tax rate accounts for this situation.

Pontiac Man's Death Is Listed as Suicide

A 51-year-old Pontiac man was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning yesterday afternoon in a car parked in an Orion Township field. His death was listed as a suicide by Asst. Coronor Dr. Isaac C. Prevette.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies identified the man as Clarence D. Bergeron of 213 State St. His car was parked near Bald Mountain and Dutton roads, deputies said.

A vacuum sweeper hose was attached to the exhaust pipe and the rear window, police said.

Negro Leaders Slate March on City Hall in Civil Rights Battle

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—A racial showdown—one that Negro leaders say will affect the integration movement throughout the world—was promised for this southwest Georgia city late today.

With white officialdom refusing to negotiate, a Negro integration group headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. planned a massive march on City Hall to underscore their long fight against Albany's racial policies.

READY TO MARCH

Negroes were told at a mass rally Friday night to assemble at two churches at 2 p.m., ready to march two hours later.

* * *

This city of 58,000, designated by Negro leaders as a decisive spot in the over-all civil rights fight, calmly went about its business with little outward indication of a fight-to-the-death battle lines.

About 35 per cent of Albany's population is Negro.

More than 150 police officers, including state troopers, were briefed and ready.

"Get on your walking shoes," said King at the Negro rally .He sized up the racial impasse with these words:

"We've gone too far now to turn back."

City officials echoed this view. Although they declined to be quoted by name, several key officials have said the integration test here would be a decisive one for King's nonviolent movement, which started six years ago with a bus boycott at Montgomery, Ala.

Judges Split Over Rights of Dixie Negroes to Vote

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (AP) —In a small, rural northeast Louisiana parish (county), a state judge has lit the fuse to a smoldering federal-state civil rights fight over Negro voting just eight days before the state's Democratic primary.

* * *

Dist. Judge Frank Voelker Sr. issued a restraining order Friday aimed at U.S. Dist. Judge Edwin F. Hunter Jr., who ruled last week that 28 Negroes from East Carroll Parish, where no Negro has voted in 40 years, were qualified to vote.

Hunter's action was the first in the nation under the 1960 Civil Rights Act, which gives judges the power to register qualified voters if there is no other way to alleviate discriminatory conditions. East Carroll's voter registrar, Cecil Manning, resigned June 14 and has not been replaced.

Federal attorneys say the voter registrar office here has been closed ever since U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. issued an injunction May 30 that forbade discrimination against prospective Negro voters.

'OVERSTEPPED BOUNDS'

Voelker's order claimed that the federal judge overstepped judicial bounds and performed actions of the executive, rather than the judicial branch, of government.

* * *

Issued just hours after it was asked by the state, the state court order has the apparent effect of blocking final action to register the Negroes, set for Monday by the federal judge.

Hunter has scheduled a hearing in Shreveport Monday.

* * *

After the restraining order was issued, Hunter declined to say what he would do.

But federal attorneys in Shreveport indicated the judge could remove the state action into his federal court, the normal procedure in state court suits against federal officers.

East Carroll is one of the staunchest segregationist areas in the Deep South. More than 60 per cent of its nearly 15,000 population live in rural areas, and more than 60 per cent of its population is Negro.

Students Ask, so MSUO Adds Chinese Course

Learning the Chinese language will become a regular course at Michigan State University Oakland this fall, "by popular request."

Last fall, students of Chinese civilization at MSUO asked to learn something about the language of the people they were studying.

The demands were so strong that Asia expert Dr. Charles O. Hucker taught the students on their own time.

Last spring, learning something of the language became part of China courses taught by Hucker and Dr. Sheldon Appleton, assistant political science professor.

* *

This fall's course is the first separate Chinese language course at MSUO.

The course adds to MSUO's pioneer program which requires all students to take a one-year sequence of non-Western area studies on top of a year of Western cultures.

MSUO reports it is the only institution in the nation which requires both area study sequences.

Senate Vote Indicates Trend

Opposition to Foreign Aid Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increasing opposition among the voters to heavy outlays for foreign aid seems indicated by the narrow 15-14 margin by which senators seeking re-election supported a $4.6-billion authorization measure.

* * *

The Senate passed the foreign aid bill 56 to 27 Friday and sent it to the House despite complaints that its prohibition against any but surplus food assistance to Poland and Yugoslavia had been stripped out in a compromise with House conferees.

GET AUTHORITY

President Kennedy got authority to extend aid behind the Iron Curtain if he finds that it is vital to U.S. security or strengthens a country's independence of Moscow, and so reports to Congress.

This deletion from the measure obviously influenced some votes against the bill. It remains popular among some candidates to be again, 11 Democrats and 5 Republicans supported the bill, either by voting for it or making their position known by pairs. Pairs indicate the stand taken by two senators on opposing sides when one or both are absent.

4 DIDN'T VOTE

Eight Democrats and six Republicans voted against and four other Republicans who are running again did not record themselves.

There were some lifted eyebrows when Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, voted against the bill Friday. He had supported the original Senate version.

* * *

Wiley told a reporter he had always voted for the foreign aid program but is worried about the prospect for a badly unbalanced budget this year.

$100,000 Reward Decision Awaited in Brink's Case

BOSTON (AP)—The final chapter in the Brink's robbery saga that began more than a dozen years ago will be closed soon—when $100,000 in reward money is paid.

More than 20 persons including a police chief have filed claims to the money, put up by embattered Brink's officials shortly after 11 Halloween-masked bandits robbed the Boston Counting House of $1,219,000 in cash.

The deadline for filing claims was Friday. Ten persons barely beat it by sending in their bids to a 5-member committee.

POOR EXCHANGE

If the entire $100,000 reward money is paid to one or more of the claimants, it will have been a poor exchange for Brink's. Only $56,000 — or 4.6 per cent of the biggest cash haul in the nation's history—ever was recovered.

The reward represents the last chapter in the story that began on the night of Jan. 17, 1950. Seven men of the robber gang are serving life sentences at Walpole State Prison after their conviction in 1956, six and one-half years later. The U.S. Supreme Court recently turned down their last possible appeal.

The reward committee delayed the decision on who gets the money to allow the convicted men time to exhaust their appeals.

Head-On Crash Kills 7 on Hill in Wisconsin

SHAWANO, Wis. (UPI) — Three couples leaving on a fishing trip and a young neighbor were killed early today in a head-on collision of their cars on the crest of a hill southwest of here.

The seven deaths made the accident one of the worst in Wisconsin road history.

JFK Will Wait to Ask Tax Cut

Wants Reports on July Business Activity to Guide Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will wait for reports on July business activity before deciding whether to ask Congress for a tax cut this year.

* * *

Officials said Friday that Kennedy will delay the decision until mid-August, by which time most of the reports and economic indexes for July will be available.

The President and his economic advisers met late last week and looked over the figures for June, the first full month following the stock market price skid of late May. These figures, including retail sales, industrial production, unemployment, and personal income, were on the disappointing side.

BELOW HOPES

They were capped Friday when the President's Council of Economic Advisers reported that the gross national product (GNP) for the second quarter of the year was running at an annual rate of $552 billion. This is a record high but well below the hopes and forecasts of the administration early this year.

* * *

Predictions of a balanced budget had been based on tax collections on a GNP rate of $570 billion by the end of 1962. Economists figured that to reach this figure the second quarter rate should have been about $565 billion — $13 billion more than what was reported Friday.

Kennedy and his advisers reportedly want more information to determine whether the June figures represented a lull in the recovery from the 1960 recession or a leveling off that could presage a new recession.

* * *

Kennedy reportedly is reluctant to push for a quick tax cut because he wants to use that as a sweetener for the tax system overhaul he plans to submit next year.

There also has been opposition in Congress to a quick tax cut. Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., is cool to the proposition, although there are unconfirmed reports that the tax writing Ways and Means Committee he heads soon will announce public hearings on the economic advisability of tax reduction this year.

Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, also has said he will oppose any tax cut as long as federal spending exceeds income.

The uphill climb facing any tax legislation was underscored Friday when Byrd's committee gave tentative approval to a tax revision bill first proposed by Kennedy in 1961.

The bill didn't get through the House until last March. It won't get final committee action until next week and isn't expected to reach the Senate until August.

Seek Clawson Man in Royal Oak Death

Police are searching for a 30-year-old Clawson man for investigation of murder in the early-morning death of a 25-year-old Howell man in the parking lot of the Royal Inn, Rochester Road near 14-Mile Road, Royal Oak.

* *

Dead is Donald Greer of 3275 Fausett Road, Howell.

According to witnesses, Royal Oak police said, Greer was in a fist fight at 2 a.m. today with Theodore Surgener of 642 N. Manitou Road, Clawson, now being sought.

The witnesses told police that they placed Greer in his pickup truck after he slumped to the ground after the fight and that they did not call police until after they noticed Greer was not moving.

A post mortem examination was to be held this morning to determine cause of death.

Kill Amendment to Buy Bibles for Court Justices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House rejected a proposal Friday to purchase Bibles for the justices of the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

Rep. James A. Haley, D-Fla., offered an amendment to that purpose to a Justice Department appropriation bill, saying he thinks "they ought to read the Bible over there."

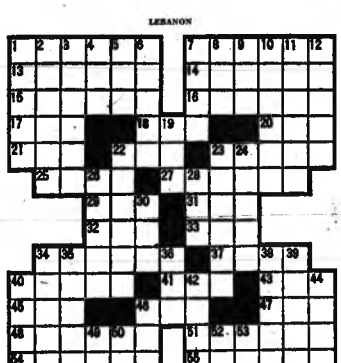

Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., floor manager of the bill, urged Haley to withdraw the amendment. He said he felt it would be an insult to the court. Haley insisted on putting the amendment to a vote, however, and it was defeated 66 to 47.

No mention was made during the brief debate of the Supreme Court's recent ruling against the use of official prayers in public school.

Italian Printers Strike

According to Hubby, Eydie Will Work Less

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—So you see it's like this Eydie Gorme isn't going to work so much. Is it clear?

"As great a performer as my wife is," Eydie's husband, Steve Lawrence, was very explicitly explaining the other afternoon, "she's greater in the kitchen — preparing me my nightly heartburn.

"She cooks Turkish. I eat Hungarian. If I'm not doubled up with cramps after dinner, she thinks I haven't enjoyed the meal."

That's when Steve, with much more to say about Eydie's wonderful home-cooked dinner, revealed that now that she's the mother of two sons, she'll work a lot less."

WILSON

"The bulk of the work will fall on me," is the way he said it. "Oh, she'll do her records, we'll play Las Vegas, and the Copacabana, and one or two other outside things.

"Oh, and I forgot. We have four shots to do with Garry More. Four each, that is. Working alone. And they asked Eydie if she'd be interested in playing Fanny Brice, and she said, 'Yes, I'd be interested.'"

"Eydie isn't working so much, is that the way it is, in short?" I said.

★ ★ ★

"How long is it since you met Eydie on the Steve Allen show?" I asked Steve.

"I met her once before that but she snubbed me," Steve answered.

"Eydie and her manager were coming out of the Brill Building. I was with Bob Manning, the singer. Bob introduced us. She had a ponytail and she swung it right in my kisser and walked away. She doesn't remember meeting me at all.

"I got even with her. I married her," he said.

"She's such a wonderful cook and wife and mother—she's going to be happy working a lot less," Steve said.

EARL'S PEARLS: Some girls are single for the same reason that some drivers run out of gas—they pass too many filling stations looking for their favorite brand.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The proposed postal insurance may cause some weddings. It'll be cheaper to marry the girl than to write to her every day.

Playwright Herb ("A Thousand Clowns") Gardner was asked if he'd like an invitation to the White House. He considered it a moment, then said, kiddingly, "Well, I don't know—do they have a swimming pool?" That's earl, brother.

LOW BRIDGE — The top of this 12-foot high truck was peeled off like a sardine can yesterday afternoon when the driver went under the Grand Trunk Western Railroad viaduct on Orchard Lake Avenue near Cass Avenue. The driver, Jerry L. Daniels of Vero Beach, Fla., said he didn't see the 10-foot, 6-inch clearance-sign until it was too late. Daniels was not injured. He said he was traveling about 25 miles per hour.

Shot for Venus Delayed a Day by Radio Woes

Stray Booster Signal Called Minor Problem; Try Again Sunday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A stray radio signal in the booster rocket forced the United States today to postpone for 24 hours an attempt to launch a Mariner I spacecraft to investigate mysteries of the planet Venus.

Officials said the trouble was not serious and that it could be corrected in time for another launch try Sunday morning.

They described the trouble as a spurious radio signal detected in the Atlas-Agena B rocket.

Such a stray signal shooting through the rocket during launch could upset delicate electronic components or give ground trackers a false reading which could lead to the vehicle's destruction by the range safety officer.

Such a stray signal shooting through the rocket during launch could upset delicate electronic components or give ground trackers a false reading which could lead to the vehicle's destruction by the range safety officer.

The postponement announcement came only 30 minutes before the scheduled time for launching the 446-pound, gold and silver plated Mariner I payload.

Mariner I is slated to race across 224 million miles of interplanetary space en route to a rendezvous with the cloud-shrouded Venus on Dec. 8—140 days after launching.

The spacecraft is not intended to hit the planet but to whiz within 10,000 miles of it before setting into eternal orbit about the sun.

2 Officials Explain Release of Jackson Prison Riot Chief

(Editor's Note—No convict in recent Michigan history attracted as much attention as did "Crazy" Jack Hyatt, who was released this month from Marquette branch of the Michigan State Prison. He was a ringleader of the fiery Southern Michigan Prison riots of 1952, he later tried to grab former Gov. G. Mennen Williams as a kidnap hostage on the governor's visit to Marquette Prison.)

LANSING (AP) — Two state officials today explained the release of one of the ringleaders of the violent riot at Southern Michigan Prison in 1952.

★ ★ ★

Gus Harrison, state corrections director, termed the release of Jack Hyatt from Marquette State Prison a routine administrative act.

Harrison added that he didn't "feel safe with men like Hyatt around," but that Hyatt had earned good time and according to law had to receive an early release.

Hyatt, known as "Crazy Jack" when he helped lead the violent riot 10 years ago, was released by Marquette Warden Raymond L. Buchkoe last Friday and hurried across the border into Canada.

News of his release was not announced until early this week.

NATIVE OF CANADA

Hyatt, who is a native of Canada, made headlines in an earlier stay at Marquette when he was among a group of convicts, armed with knives, who staged an unsuccessful attempt to kidnap then Gov. G. Mennen Williams for use as hostage in an escape try.

He was not prosecuted for this incident.

Buchkoe explained that Hyatt was kept in prison for almost two years beyond his special maximum release date.

"He has had a good record in several years and was locked in solitary confinement for more than eight years," said the warden.

"Today he is a sick man. He has an infection of long standing of both ears and is almost completely deaf," he added.

★ ★ ★

Buchkoe went on to explain that Hyatt's release was outright and unconditional.

He was not paroleable because he had served beyond his maximum term and the case did not go before the parole board as a result.

Harrison suggested that Hyatt might not have accepted a parole since he knew he would soon be up for release. Hyatt would have been subject to certain regulations under the terms of a parole.

Hyatt was transferred to Marquette in 1953, following his sentencing to 15 to 23 years for kidnaping a guard.

Auto Smashes Tree, Overturns in Farm Yard

Mother, Two Children Die, Two More Badly Injured by Mishap

From Our News Wires

BRITTON — Three were dead today and two children lay injured in the wake of a powerful wind that swept their car off a highway, slammed it against a tree and left it upside down in a farm home yard.

Killed were Patricia Reed, 34, Britton, her son, Francis, 10, and Mary Applegate, 14, a niece whom Mrs. Reed adopted as a daughter after her brother, John Applegate Jr., died in 1958.

Another son, Mark, 8, was reported in critical condition at a Tecumseh hospital, where his sister, Celina, 13, was reported in fair condition.

Mrs. Reed's other son, Greg, 8, was safe at the home of Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Applegate Sr., where the Reed family had been visiting just before the accident Friday night.

★ ★ ★

The Reed car rolled into the yard of Kenneth Zeemer, where the same wind demolished the farm home's front porch, flattened a garage, shed and chicken coop and damaged the barn.

Mrs. Reed was a divorcee whose former husband, Daniel, lives in another state. She was employed as a factory office receptionist.

Britton police said it appeared the area had been struck by an isolated tornado. A Weather Bureau spokesman in Detroit said reports of a tornado had not been confirmed but 90-mile-an-hour winds accompanying a thunderstorm could sweep a car off the road.

ALONE IN HOME

Mrs. Zeemer was the only person in the farm house at the time.

She said the first thing she heard was a "loud crashing of glass on the porch." Next, she said, the porch blew down and the tool shed was carried away.

A neighbor across the road, Joseph Osborne, said he was in his house when he heard a "dynamitelike explosion."

RUNS TO BASEMENT

He said he ran to his basement, thinking a tornado had struck. A minute later, he said, he rushed back upstairs.

He said he looked across the dirt road and saw the Reed car up against the tree in front of the Zeemer house.

Mrs. Reed and her son were still pinned inside the car. The other children had been thrown free of the vehicle.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere in the state, the storms left a wide area of damage in their wake.

A severe thunderstorm raked its

Swainson Sets Visit at Picnic

Governor to Be Guest of Honor at Pontiac UAW Event Sonday

Gov. John B. Swainson will be the guest of honor at the annual picnic Sunday of Pontiac Motor Division UAW Local 653, Cecil C. Mullinix, local president, announced late yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Gov. Swainson has accepted our invitation and expects to arrive at the picnic at about 2 p.m. with Secretary of State James H. Hare and Auditor General Billie Farnum," Mullinix said.

The picnic is to be held at the John F. Ivory Farm on Cooley Lake Road in Commerce Township from 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

"We expect between 5,000 and 6,000 members and their families to attend," Mullinix added. Swainson will speak briefly at the affair.

★ ★ ★

For the children there will be pony and small amusement rides, balloons, ice cream and clowns, according to Mullinix.

Seeking to Stay Redistricting

LANSING (AP)—Efforts to overthrow the Michigan Supreme Court's order declaring the State Senate illegal will be carried to the United States Supreme Court next week.

Plans to petition the federal court to halt action on the state tribunal's directive were announced yesterday by Sen. John Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, one of three Republican senators intervening in the case.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan court in a 4-3 decision this week called off the Aug. 7 Senate primary and directed the legislature to reapportion the upper chamber on a population basis by Aug. 20—with no district to have more than twice the population of any other.

If redistricting is not achieved by the Aug. 20 deadline, the Senate would be elected on a statewide at-large basis.

A request for a stay of execution on the order was turned down by the state court yesterday, and Fitzgerald said a petition asking for a stay from the federal court would be filed in Washington Monday.

WOULD OK PRIMARY

"If the stay is granted, Fitzgerald explained, "this would have the effect of restoring the Aug. 7 primary to the ballot—with the state court's decision to be reviewed on our appeal.

"If the stay is refused, we still will file an appeal from the lower court ruling. But then we probably wouldn't get a decision until October at the earliest, because the federal court is in recess until then."

Republicans, who almost cer-

Solon to Offer Reshuffle Plan

Roberts Will Present Senate Judiciary Unit With Proposal Monday

State Senator Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland, will present a preliminary senate redistricting plan to the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday.

★ ★ ★

Roberts was assigned the job by the committee which is meeting over the weekend in Lansing to work out a request by a study of the State Supreme Court redistricting order until an appeal can be filed with the U.S. Supreme Court.

The stay would permit conduct of the regular senatorial primary Aug. 7.

The committee's redistricting plan will be presented to the Senate on Tuesday or later if there is a delay in its meeting date, Roberts said today.

Roberts commented, "It still looks as if the Senate election will be at large, but we'll try to come up with an acceptable plan.

★ ★ ★

The plan must win approval of two-thirds of the house and also please Governor John B. Swainson who already has warned nothing but a straight-population set-up would satisfy him.

WON'T LIKE IT

One of the problems of any redistricting, Roberts said, is that "several incumbents will have to run against each other . . . and they won't like that."

While Roberts was working on

Billy Casper, 2 Unknowns in Early PGA Lead

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) Billy Casper, former U.S. Open champion and one of the biggest money winners on the pro golf tour, shared early honors with two relatively obscure club pros in the third round of the National PGA championship today.

Casper shot the front nine of the hilly, 7,045-yard, Aronimink course in two-under-par 33.

Pat Schwab, a long-hitting one-time tourist who now has a club job in Wilmington, Del., and Dick Bury of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., had 34s going out. Aronimink's par is 35-35—70.

All three were striving to escape elimination when the PGA field is reduced to the 60 low scorers and ties for tomorrow's final round.

They just made it into the third round after the first cut, Casper with a 36-hole 150 and Schwab and Bury with 151s, the top qualifying score.

South Saginaw Demolition to Get Started Monday

The long-awaited beginning of urban renewal demolition of S. Saginaw Street properties downtown will begin Monday morning.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Robert A. Steere said today that workers will begin demolishing commercial structures in the R20 project immediately south of the Chapman Hotel site at Pike and S. Saginaw.

Three structures — 10, 12 and 14 S. Saginaw — are to be torn down in the first wrecking operation.

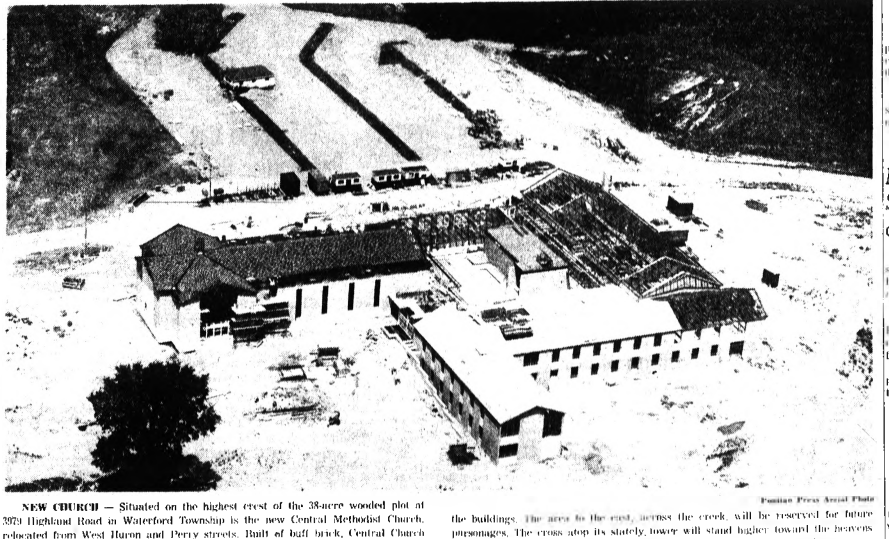

"We don't expect the demolition to interfere with vehicle traffic nor pedestrian traffic on the west side of Saginaw will be temporarily rerouted in that block," Steere explained.

The wrecking firm, Louis D'Ilanfi, of Mount Clemens, estimated it would take two weeks to clear and fill the site.

★ ★ ★

Eight-foot high barricades will be constructed around the structures. Wrecking will begin on Saginaw frontage and move back to the west, engineers said.

Hilltop Home of Relocated Central Methodist

NEW CHURCH — Situated on the highest crest of the 38-acre wooded plot at 3979 Highland Road in Waterford Township is the new Central Methodist Church, relocated from West Huron and Perry streets. Built of buff brick, Central Church with its grounds, furnishings and organ, is expected to cost near $1 million. Pastor Milton H. Bank said. The various functional elements of church organizations will be provided for in individual structural units. These will be grouped around an interior court which will have the atmosphere of a quiet garden. Major entrances into the building will be under a canopy directly off the parking area north of the buildings. The area to the east, across the creek, will be reserved for future parsonages. The cross atop its stately tower will stand higher toward the heavens than any man-made object in the area, the pastor said. Beneath the spire on the front will will be a "goldanodyzed" aluminum plaque more than 30 feet high depicting Jesus Christ as the Good Shepherd and the lover of little children. Designing the plaque is internationally known Marshall Fredericks of Birmingham. Plans call for completion of the building in the fall.

Flying Saucer Strikes Worker of Kiwanis Park

Pontiac has recorded its first space-age accident, according to David S. Teel, assistant city manager.

★ ★ ★

"That's not all," he asserted. "A Parks and Recreation Department employe has intimate knowledge of flying saucers."

The following city accident report passed across Teel's desk yesterday afternoon:

"Employe: Cecil Brown, 300 W. South Blvd.

"Date and time of accident: June 21, 10 a. m.

"Location: Kiwanis Park.

David R. Ewalt, department director, explained the report this way:

★ ★ ★

"Brown was moving equipment when the accident happened.

"A flying saucer is a piece of playground equipment.

"Injuries were minor."

Top Military Post to Gen. Taylor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who stalked from the Pentagon in a row over Eisenhower defense policy, is returning as top military chief. This time, he has the strongest White House backing.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy announced Friday that Taylor, his close personal military adviser, will replace Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff this fall.

Lemnitzer will become U.S. commander in chief in Europe—and probably NATO supreme commander there—after his 2-year term as JCS chairman runs out Sept. 30.

In effect, Kennedy appeared to be easing out the Eisenhower-appointed JCS chairman who reportedly has been under a cloud since the Cuban invasion disaster 15 months ago.

These were the key moves in one of the biggest top military command shuffles in years. The shift was set in motion by Gen. Lauris Norstad's decision to retire as NATO commander in Europe in November, after six years of service in that post. Lemnitzer will take his place perhaps by only a year.

Overshadowed by those top-level changes was Kennedy's announcement from his weekend retreat at Hyannis Port, Mass., that Gen. George H. Decker will retire Sept. 30 at the end of his 2-year term as Army chief of staff.

Decker will be supplanted by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, little known here but reputedly a brilliant officer. Wheeler now is Norstad's deputy and for all practical purposes the operating head of U.S. forces in Europe.

★ ★ ★

Rumors of Lemnitzer and Decker's departure have been in the wind for months. Both Eisenhower administration appointees, they were said to be considered by Kennedy administration officials as rather plodding and unimaginative.

Their replacement by Taylor and Wheeler will all but clear the service chiefs of men who were put on that highest military panel by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The only one left is Gen. David M. Shoup, who has about 17 months left of a 4-year term as commandant of the Marine Corps. Shoup reportedly rates high with Kennedy.

Last summer, Kennedy installed Adm. George W. Anderson as chief of Naval operations and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as Air Force chief of staff.

QUIT RETIREMENT

The tall, slim, straight-backed Taylor has been Kennedy's closest military adviser since June of last year, when the President called the 4-star general out of retirement after the Cuban debacle.

In that role, Taylor went on a special mission to South Viet Nam last fall and came back with recommendations that led to this country's big-scale effort to help the Vietnamese turn back the Communist guerrilla offensive.

East-West in Agreement

Formally OK Laos Pact

GENEVA (AP) — The 14-nation Laos Conference today gave formal approval to a treaty of neutrality and independence for the Southeast Asian kingdom.

★ ★ ★

The accords—intended to take the Southeast Asian kingdom out of the Cold war—mark a milestone in East-West diplomacy with the Western Big Three, the Soviet Union and Red China on the same side.

'COMPLETE ACCORD'

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, in opening the meeting before it was closed to newsmen, said:

"Today we are realizing complete accord on an agreement which all of us here helped to draw up."

★ ★ ★

The conference started work on a Laos settlement 14 months ago to avert a major conflict over the strategic kingdom wracked by civil war involving pro-West and Communist-sponsored factions.

The atmosphere for today's session was one of self-satisfaction by the delegates, who included foreign ministers of 12 nations—including the United States and the Soviet Union.

GOOD OMEN

The speech-making ceremony preceding Monday's actual signing brought the United States and the Soviet Union together on a point of agreement that smaller nations viewed as a good omen for other East-West disputes.

The pact called for a free, independent and neutral Laos and pledged the coalition government of Prince Souvanna Phouma to remain neutral.

★ ★ ★

The treaty not only had a strong impact in Washington and Moscow, but was of prime interest to divided Viet Nam, neighboring Thailand, Red China and India. It calls for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Laos within 75 days of the signing, except for a small French contingent training the Laotian army.

★ ★ ★

The United States has several hundred military advisers in Laos and Communist North Viet Nam has an estimated 10,000 troops there.

Withdrawal will be supervised by the International Laos Control Commission, composed of Canada, India and Poland.

★ ★ ★

The commission, which has no power to enforce the treaty terms, was expected to have trouble carrying out its task and policing the rugged border area against re-entry of foreign troops.

K-K Talks Credited With Geneva Accord

GENEVA (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said today the declaration of Laos as a neutral state is a direct outcome of President Kennedy's Vienna meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev 13 months ago.

★ ★ ★

Gromyko and Secretary of State Dean Rusk joined in praising the successful conclusion of the 14-nation Laos conference at its final meeting today and Rusk offered Laos economic and technical aid to eliminate the wastes of war.

The session of the conference today saw the foreign ministers of all 14 participants accept the neutrality declaration of Laotian Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma — thus setting up Laos as an independent and neutral state.

Gromyko and Rusk addressed the conference a few hours before they were scheduled to meet together for their first session on the major cold war topics of Berlin and disarmament.

TO RESUME TALKS

Their presence here for the signing of the Laotian neutrality declaration has given them an opportunity to resume high level talks on crucial cold war issues, including Berlin and nuclear testing.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot fail to recall," Gromyko told the conference meeting in the old council chamber of the Palais des Nations, "that the favorable turn toward business like negotiation at the conference on Laos is linked above all with the outcome of the meeting between Chairman of the USSR Council of Ministers Nikita S. Khrushchev and United States President John Kennedy in June of last year.

In a hint that Khrushchev may want another summit conference with Kennedy on other issues between them, Gromyko went on:

"As the head of the Soviet government Nikita S. Khrushchev recently said, the example of Laos shows that, given the desire to reach agreement, ways can be found to settle complicated international problems."

MAP STRATEGY

The United States and Britain, meanwhile mapped their own strategy in preparation for the new talks on Berlin with Russia.

Western sources said the two major Western powers intend to stand pat on their position in the Berlin situation and leave any initiative for new moves to Moscow.

Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home scheduled a lunch meeting with their advisers.

★ ★ ★

Later, they planned to meet with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

Masked Bandits Rob Bar Owner, Wife of $250

A Pontiac bar owner and his wife were robbed at gunpoint early today as they were entering the back door of their home at 2206 Middlebelt Road, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The thieves, wearing silk stockings over their heads, escaped with about $250 taken from his wife's purse, according to Harry Chambers, owner of Harry's Bar at 568 S. Sanford St.

Chambers told Pontiac state police he and his wife had just parked their car in the garage about 3:40 a.m. when the bandits surprised them on the back porch.

Chambers said one of the men fired twice into the air with a chrome-plated pistol.

The other grabbed him from behind, Chambers said.

★ ★ ★

They took Mrs. Chambers' purse and fled on foot.

State police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies were unable to find any trace of the holdup men.

GOP Seeks to Stay Reapportion Ruling

tainly stand to lose some Senate seats under any redistricting system following the 2-1 guideline were still seething over the decision.

★ ★ ★

The present Senate lineup is 23 Republicans and 10 Democrats, with one vacant seat.

Four Democratic justices prevailed over three dissenting GOP justices in handing down the decision.

The ruling upheld the contention of the State AFL-CIO President August Scholle that under the present "frozen" senatorial districts with their wide population disparities he was being deprived of the equal protection guaranteed under the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

★ ★ ★

While assailing the court ruling as tending to create chaos and confusion, GOP leaders were attempting to draw up a redistricting plan that would not be vetoed by Gov. Swainson, a Democrat.

The Day in Birmingham

To Form Language Plan for Elementary Schools

BIRMINGHAM — The first step to introduce foreign languages into elementary grades has been taken by the Birmingham School Board with the appointment of a Walled Lake teacher as director of the program.

★ ★ ★

Initially, however, the job of Mrs. Louise Couture, as coordinator of foreign languages, is to develop, strengthen and expand the current program on the secondary level and then to include the elementary grades in the program, beginning in the fall of 1963.

A limited foreign language program has been offered to some youngster the last couple years, taught by a volunteer staff after regular school hours.

A recent community survey showed that about three-quarters of the parents interviewed believed that the introduction of a language program in the lower grades would benefit their children.

PROBABLE PLAN

The elementary language program probably would start in the sixth grade and then work down through the lower grades, according to a school official.

Mrs. Couture, who began her teaching career in 1939 and had been on the Walled Lake staff for 12 years, has been active in the development of foreign language curriculums on the state level.

She has written two publications for the Michigan State Department of Public Instruction. They are the "State Guideline in Teaching of Foreign Language" and "The Establishment of Foreign Language in Elementary Schools."

★ ★ ★

She is chairman of the State Committee on Foreign Language, an appointment made by State School Supt. Lynn Bartlett.

The mother of three children, Mrs. Couture is a member of the Walled Lake Business and Professional Women's Club, serving as president from 1958 through 1960.

Seaholm High School language teacher Alan Odnert is one of 60 French and Spanish instructors attending a language institute at Ohio State University.

The seven-week program, which continues through Aug. 23, provides training in the audio-lingual approach to language teaching and a study of new methods, textbooks and materials.

Director of the institute is Dr. Edward D. Allen, associate professor of foreign language at the university.

the preliminary redistricting plan, his campaign manager, Dale Winnie, released a slashing attack by Roberts on the Democratic party.

"The people of Michigan have been asked point blank to declare themselves free men or slaves," Roberts said, "by the unconscionable action of the boss-controlled Democratic party in the senatorial apportionment dispute."

★ ★ ★

"For a period of 15 years, irresponsible, power-hungry influences have worked on the unsuspecting people of the Democratic party towards domination of their party machinery and gaining control and influence in every appointed and elected office in the state," the statement charged.

★ ★ ★

The statement also criticized the 4-3 Democratic majority on the State Supreme Court for "throwing out" a statewide 1952 vote setting up present apportionment.

★ ★ ★

The statement added a sharply worded appeal, asking that, "Good citizens that are not socialistic or boss dominated will break away from the unfortunately corrupt and sick Michigan Democratic party now or never and build anew in Michigan either with or beside the Republican party in the coming election."

Two Explain Release of Prison Riot Chief

25 to 30 years on an armed robbery charge in 1945.

1960 TERMINATION

His maximum term, had it not been for the good time he earned, would have ended in November 1965.

He was placed in semisolitary confinement a year and a half ago, and was allowed to mingle with fellow prisoners last March.

"We don't consider the nature of the offense which sent the man to prison when he is eligible for release," Harrison said, "It is his prison conduct which is considered."

Releases usually stem from the suggestion of the warden, and must be signed in effect by the corrections director.

Harrison said he was surprised at the interest shown in the release and made it clear that he approved of some such law as the one under which Hyatt was released.

★ ★ ★

"It's intended to encourage good behavior in the prisons," he said, stressing that this view held rehabilitations to be primarily the function of the community, not the prison.

He added that those who opposed the move were only "setting up their judgment against our own. They should try to have the statute rewritten if they're unhappy with it.

"Hundreds of prisoners are released this way each year without any to do," he added, "and there were 793 such last year alone."

Under Michigan law, prisoners who have not broken prison rules are "entitled to and shall receive a reduction from their sentence."

Under the provisions of the law, long-term prisoners accumulate so-called good time more rapidly than those with short terms.

5 DAYS A MONTH

During the first two years of a prison term, for example, a prisoner earns five days good time per month.

The number of good days per month increases until, after 19 years, he earns 15 days a month.

Hyatt had forfeited his good time when sentenced for his part in the riot, but accumulated enough since then to be eligible for discharge as early as September 1960, Harrison said.

Gov. Swainson said that "Hyatt has served his time in Michigan. His release at this time seems to me to be a saving to the taxpayers of Michigan."

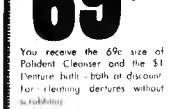

Hyatt is reported to be in the vicinity of Leamington, Ont., where his father and a number of relatives live.
