

7 Persons Die in Area Weekend Accidents

Allies Ready to Reply to Reds

(From Our News Wires)

WASHINGTON — The White House announced today that the United States, Britain and France have started drafting a reply to the Khrushchev proposal for an emergency summit conference on the Middle East.

The United States, it was learned, has proposed to Britain and France a draft which would definitely turn down the Soviet Premier's call for an immediate meeting outside the United Nations, and would keep Middle East diplomacy concentrated in the U.N. Security Council.

The U.S. version would counter the sensational Soviet move of last Saturday with a proposal that Khrushchev take to the Security Council his charge that the United States and Britain endangered peace by putting troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

Britain and France were reported in agreement with the United States on this general line of approach. There appeared to be some difference, at least of emphasis, between Washington and the two European capitals on how hard to plug the idea of an early summit conference. The British government is under heavy pressure of its Labor party opposition to get into a summit meeting.

New Pontiac Post Office Opens Doors Next Week

Pontiac's new main post office will be open for business a week from today, according to Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster.

The $850,000 single-story modern building, located on West Huron street between Genesee avenue and Chipewa road, will open July 28.

Moving from the present post office on East Huron street to the new building is scheduled for Friday and Saturday although the "flow of mail will not be halted or affected," he added.

O'Dell Carriage, 133 Oakland Ave., will begin moving certain equipment and furniture on Friday. Saturday the post office services will continue as usual from 8 a.m. until noon at the old post office, including delivery and dispatching.

For the first time since Nov. 23, 1929, the sorting of the mails in Pontiac will be halted from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, according to C. A. Ebey, superintendent of mails. During this time the distribution cases and office equipment will be moved to the new site.

The distribution was halted in 1929 when the post office was moved from 48 Patterson street to the E. Huron street building, he explained.

Mail will be dispatched from the present E. Huron building until midnight Saturday. After that all operations will begin at the new building.

The Huron Gardens branch will be closed at the end of regular business hours Saturday. On Sunday, this branch's equipment and employees will move to the present downtown post office which will (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Fair Weather to Stay Awhile; Low Tonight 52

Pontiac area residents can expect fair weather for the next few days, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The outlook for tonight and tomorrow is mostly fair, with little change in temperatures.

The low tonight will be 52-56 degrees and the high tomorrow 76-80.

The forecast for Wednesday is partly cloudy and warmer.

The weather bureau's five-day forecast predicts temperatures with average three to four degrees below the normal high of 87 and normal low of 63.

Showers and warmer temperatures are predicted for Wednesday or Thursday, turning cooler Friday and Saturday.

Fifty-four was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 80.

GM Picnic Success

General Motors Truck and Coach Division's annual picnic drew thousands to Walled Lake amusement park Saturday for a day of fun and contests, rides and raids in the picnic basket. Pictures of the outing are found today on page 15.

President Eisenhower met with his top diplomatic and military advisers in an extraordinary Sunday afternoon session to consider what the United States should do about Khrushchev's move.

The Soviet Premier had sent notes to the leaders of the United States, Britain, France and India calling for a summit conference at Geneva Tuesday or any other time. He expressed willingness if necessary to meet in Washington.

ACCUSES WEST

He accused this country and Britain of committing aggression by sending troops into Lebanon and Jordan and declared they had gravely endangered the peace.

The sensational Soviet gambit, authorities here said, put the two Western Powers in a bad spot before world public opinion, already alarmed over the possibilities of war in the Middle East.

Eisenhower at his Gettysburg farm, promptly conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone. Dulles discussed the Khrushchev proposal immediately afterward with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

The commander of U. S. forces in Lebanon reminded possible aggressors in the Middle East today that his land, sea and air forces have "atomic capabilities."

The U. S. commander, Vice-Admiral James L. (Lord Jim) Holloway, aimed his statement at no specific nation and he emphasized that all U. S. forces have such capabilities.

But his statement took on added significance since it was issued through the U. S. Embassy here at a time of increased saber-rattling in Moscow and as Communist and Egyptian-Syrian United Arab Republic radios were building increased tensions through a stream of inflammatory broadcasts.

MIDEAST WORSENS

In Beirut, the heaviest firing in two weeks broke out today. The nearly 10,000 American troops here were not involved although some Marine units were alerted during the night.

A spokesman for rebel leader Saeb Salam said the fighting was between his men and partisans of the pro-government PPS party. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Japan Offers Plan in U.N. to Replace GIs in Lebanon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Japan counted on Western support today as she went to the U.N. Security Council with a plan to expand operations of the U.N. observer group in Lebanon so U.S. Marines could be withdrawn.

Some diplomats believed the Soviet Union, intent on getting a special session of the General Assembly in which to attack the West, would veto Japan's proposal. The council scheduled a mid-afternoon session but there was no indication when a vote would come on the Japanese resolution. If it failed, the Council then could take up U.S. and Soviet resolutions calling for an emergency assembly session on the Middle East Crisis.

The Japanese resolution would ask the U.N. observation group in Lebanon to "develop its activities" aimed at insuring against illegal infiltration of arms and men from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

It also would have the Council ask U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to arrange such additional measures as he may consider necessary to prevent aid from reaching the rebels and to "insure the territorial integrity and political independence of Lebanon, so as to make possible the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon."

BRITAIN APPROVES

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, leaving New York for London late yesterday, told newsmen that Britain would vote for the Japanese resolution. A source close to the Japanese delegation said the United States would too.

The United States in pressing its own resolution to authorize a U.N. emergency force for Lebanon had promised to withdraw its Marines when the U.N. troops took over.

The Soviets vetoed the American proposal Friday, and the Council majority voted down a Soviet demand for immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

RUSSIA DISAPPROVES

Radio Moscow indicated last night that Russia will oppose the Japanese plan as a "rehash" of an American resolution vetoed by the Soviet delegate in the council.

Police Seeking Fleeing Killer

Shot Ludington Officer in Bar After Trying to Kidnap Waitress

LUDDINGTON (UPI) — Police units throughout the Midwest today searched for a wounded young Chicago gunman who killed a Ludington policeman in a hotel bar after trying to kidnap a waitress.

Ludington Police Chief Fred Nantke believed Charles Hanna, 25, Chicago, was probably still in this west Michigan resort area but State Police said they believed Hanna fled Ludington in a stolen car.

Hanna shot Patrolman Arlo Slagle, 28-year-old father of two, just above the heart with a .38 caliber pistol early Sunday morning. Slagle and two fellow officers, Wallace Bentz and Stanley Collar, had just arrived at the bar of the Grand Hotel to investigate a complaint.

Nantke said bar owner-manager Anthony Karp reported Hanna and a companion from Chicago, Benjamin Franklin Davis, 29, were trying to force waitress Jane Clark to return to Chicago with them.

Davis, who said Miss Clark was his former girl friend, was held without charge by the Ludington police.

Hanna and Davis indicated their willingness to leave the bar peacefully with the three officers, Bentz said, but then Hanna drew his .38 from beneath his coat near the door. He shot Slagle and ran from the hotel spraying more shots with Bentz and Collar firing back as they pursued.

Hanna ran across the street, through a lot beside a factory and police lost his trail in a railroad yard.

Police in Chicago were watching Hanna's residence in case he showed up there and Connecticut police received an unofficial report Hanna might have been seen heading for Boston.

Fatality Toll Worst of 1958 for Oakland

3 Lose Lives in Mishap on Woodward Avenue in Bloomfield Hills

A total of seven persons died on area highways and lakes this weekend, marking Oakland County's worst weekend death toll of 1958. The county contributed nearly half of the 16 deaths recorded in Michigan.

The dead are:

Rufus Flakes, 42, of Detroit. Ollie Brownlee, 65, of 461 Nevada St.,

Mrs. Minnie Gardener, 72, of 301 E. Wilson St.,

Mrs. Fredia Harper, 15, of 4161 Mapleleaf Rd., Waterford Township.

Diana Irwin, 14, of 275 Pioneer Dr.,

Frank Messina, 14, of Detroit. Gary Larson, 6, of Detroit.

The weekend's worst traffic mishap took the lives of three persons shortly before midnight Saturday on Woodward Ave. just south of Charing Cross Rd., Bloomfield Hills.

Flakes, Brownlee, and Mrs. Gardener were killed as the northbound auto driven by Flakes went out of control at high speed, police said.

Witnesses told Bloomfield Hills Police that the car swerved from side to side, started to roll, hit a utility pole on the right and rolled about 150 feet to a stop.

Injured and reported in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Flakes' wife, Lucy, 44.

Two separate accidents in the city took two lives.

Mrs. Harper, the mother of a one-month-old baby, was killed instantly Saturday afternoon when the motorcycle driven by her husband, David, was struck by a train at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing on W. Huron St.

Police said Harper drove onto the tracks into the path of an eight-car freight train being pushed northward by a Grand Trunk engine. The warning signals were operating, police reported.

Harper was thrown clear of the train and suffered minor injuries. He is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital. His wife was thrown under the wheels of the train.

The Irwin girl died moments after being admitted to Pontiac General Hospital shortly after 4 p.m. Saturday.

She was struck while riding her bicycle by a car driven by Hurley King, 36, of 4047 Silver Birch Dr., Waterford Township. The accident occurred at Telegraph and Voorhees Rds.

Witnesses told police that the girl was going west on Voorhees and ran a red light at the intersection. King was not held.

Adding to the death toll were two drownings reported Sunday afternoon.

The Messina youth drowned while swimming in Beving Lake, just north of Holly, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Deputies said he was swimming around a raft 70 feet from the east shore in approximately 20 feet of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Plan Looks Ahead for City

Former Mayor Backs Perimeter Road

"I was mayor when we authorized the Origin and Destination Traffic Survey in 1947," he declared to The Press, "and I am satisfied that this is a better one. Obviously it differs because of the passage of time and the difference in parking problems, but I think the new plan would prove to be an even greater boon."

"It is a practical solution to the acute problem which we in city government recognized in 1947. This Barton study looks at the picture ten years later and offers a practical supplement to the construction of previous years in order to meet the anticipated needs of the future generations of Pontiac."

"With the proper cooperation of the State Highway Department and in the State Legislature, Pontiac will be able to meet its share with the income from the gas and weight taxes now being received.

"If Pontiac is to serve the needs of its citizens and also to profit to the utmost by the construction of Michigan State University on our eastern border, we must have immediate and positive action by our City Planning Commission and City Commission to adopt and put into effect the major portion of this Barton report."

"The downtown businessmen who visualized the need of, and what is to their credit, paid for this engineering study, exemplify a high degree of good citizenship. Any and all of us should be willing to do more than is demanded of us by our City, State, or County. These men did. I commend them highly."

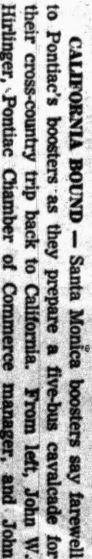

Resigns as Director of Washington Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Calvin Griffith of the Washington Baseball Club today announced the resignation of C. Leo Deorsey, outspoken member of the club's board of directors. Griffith issued this terse statement through his office.

"On July 11, 1958, Mr. C. Leo Deorsey resigned as a member of the Washington Board of Directors of the Washington American League Baseball Club, Inc." No reason was given for the resignation, nor was there any elaboration.

Threaten States Today

The auditorium's last call for a conference was made by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in addition to the Oakland County death toll, eight persons died on Michigan highways and another drowned.

Michigan's traffic toll was the worst for a regular weekend in the state since May 9-11, when a 1968 record 17 died.

They said, "It will be the Son of Man's turn to start saying, 'I am the Son of Man.' We cannot continue to appear before our people as supplants a conference with the West."

The floods in Kansas and Missouri were blamed for at least two deaths during the weekend and two other persons were missing.

James Holmes, 35, Fulton, Mo., drowned when a car in which the boy Saturday night plunged into a flooded creek. Phillip Smith, 14, drowned at Warsaw, Mo., yesterday while playing along a railroad.

Boy, 14, Steals Plane, Crashes

Police Report Denver Youth Had Never Been Up in Aircraft

DENVER (AP)—A 14-year-old boy who police said stole a $17,000 light plane from busy Stapleton Airfield was seriously injured last night when the craft crashed two miles from the airport.

Stephen Oulford was taken to Denver General Hospital with a broken arm and internal injuries. Patrolman Lee Harold said the boy walked boldly to the airport parking ramp where private planes are moored, selected a near-new, four-passenger Cessna and took off.

Harold said Stephen kept the plane aloft for about 10 minutes. He said the plane wavered over an outdoor theater where hundreds of persons were attending a movie. It barely missed the top of the movie screen.

The plane finally crashed into power lines. The boy was thrown clear.

There was no fire. Officers said as far as they could determine, Stephen never before had been in an airplane. He is the son of a roofing firm vice president.

It found that in the year ended April, 1937, some 31,900,000 people, or 19.4 per cent of the population, moved. The bureau added that proportion has remained fairly constant in the past 10 years.

A majority of the persons who moved in the year surveyed stayed within the same county. About one-third changed states.

WILLIAM H. HARRIS

Ex-Treasurer of City Dies

William H. Harris, 82, Held Pontiac Office From 1904-1906

Former City Treasurer William H. Harris, 82, of 18 Hartung Ct., died Sunday at his home.

He held office from 1904-1906. For 36 years he was manager of Pontiac Employees Mutual Benefit, retiring in 1956.

He was a life member of BPOE, No. 810, F&AM No. 21; K of P No. 19 and Pontiac H. Club, No. 12.

Surviving are his two daughters, Mrs. Minnie VanNorman of Detroit and Mrs. Harold M. Brown of California.

His body is at Hulton Funeral Home.

Church Organist Dies in Ann Arbor

Mrs. Henry D. (Helen L.) Carner, 70, of 45 Franklin Blvd., died Saturday at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor, after a seven-week illness.

She received her master's degree in pipe organ and piano at American Conservatory of Music and was a member of American Guild of Organists.

A church organist for many years, she taught piano in Pontiac and Birmingham.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Clair Paulson of Ann Arbor; a son, Kenneth Carner, of Pontiac, and a brother, Russell Marsh of Pontiac. Two grandchildren also survive.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Punsley Funeral Home with burial at White Chapel Cemetery.

Furnace Shipments High

NEW YORK — Shipment of gas-fueled furnaces, boilers, and conversion burners for residential central heating totaled about a million in the United States in 1957. Only in 1956, 1955, and 1950 — all periods in which there was more home construction — was the million figure exceeded.

The pulse rate of newborn infants ranges from 130 to 140 beats per minute.

Favors 8 Years for Governor

Office-Seeking Johnson
Advocates New Limit,
One-House Legislature

IRONWOOD (AP)—William L. Johnson, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, would like to see an eight-year limit on holders of that office.

Announcing his platform, Johnson advocated a four-year term for governors in place of the present two years, but suggested they be limited to two terms in office.

Johnson also said he favors a one-house, non-partisan legislature; a sales tax reduction from three per cent to two, and a real estate tax exemption for veterans and residents over 65 whose income is $3,000 a year or less.

Johnson is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination over Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is campaigning for a sixth consecutive two-year term.

A radio station executive in Ironwood, Johnson is backed by Michigan Democratic Clubs, Inc. This group has been denounced by State Central Committee Chairman Neil Staebler as an organization made up of disgruntled job hunters. The Johnson backers deny the accusation and say they favor state government not controlled by a party machine.

Navy Balloon
at 130,000 Feet;
Men to Follow

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Navy sent a balloon and scientific equipment up 130,000 feet for cosmic ray data yesterday and plans to put two veteran space explorers, 10,000 insects and a television camera 15 miles over the earth later this week.

An altitude record for film - reording plastic balloons was set by the one launched here with a 225-pound cargo of cosmic ray research equipment.

The instruments, however, were jettisoned to earth and have not been found. Near Forsyth, Mont., the load was automatically released and dropped by parachute. A spotting plane traced the orange and white chute down to 10,000 feet, then lost it in a haze.

The average American uses about 23 pounds of cotton a year.

Union Rank 'n' File
Defies Top Official

TRENTON (AP)—Members of a union on strike against the Aurora Gasoline Co. defied their international president yesterday and voted to reinstate four top local officials 24 hours after they were ordered expelled.

The action was taken at a meeting of Trenton Local 11-456 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, which has been on an unauthorized strike against the Aurora refinery since May 15.

Union members also passed a resolution urging that AFL-CIO President George Meany take action to stop what was termed the "high-handed and illegal action" of International President O. A. Knight in expelling the local officers.

Annual number of hospital admissions increased from 57 per 1,000 population in 1934 to 131 per 1,000 in 1956, marking one of the top numerical gains in medical history.

U.S.A. and Russia Caught Off Guard

Our intelligence division and that of the Russians seem to have fought to an ignominious draw in one phase of the current Iraq revolution.

Apparently our department didn't have the faintest glimmering that this catastrophic stroke was impending. It came as a complete surprise to our best boys in the inner circles.

At the same time, the dramatic landing of several thousand United States Marines in Lebanon was a wholly unexpected event in Russia; and Russia is supposed to have more spies to the square mile than any nation on earth.

At about the same hour that our Marines swept into Lebanon the Commies were passing out a new note suggesting "limited disarmament" and a lot of other fake suggestions for "world betterment." Had they known our warriors were currently entering the Near East, they would never have made such monkeys of themselves.

This is a minor skirmish, but both camps were caught off first.

Congress Will Debate Supreme Court Bill

Our Supreme Court just handed down a ruling which invalidates the anti-secession laws of 42 states.

What are those judges thinking? What's behind their actions?

For a considerable period of time now, foes of our form of government have been benefiting by opinions that "Earl Warren's Supreme Court" (as The New York News calls it) variously hands down with a light wave of the judicial wand.

What's happening?

The New York News says, "of all the Warren court's Pro-Red decisions, we think the Nelson thing (referred to above) was one of the most impudent, unjustifiable and productive of aid and comfort to the enemy."

Congress has been disturbed along with other students of government at many Supreme Court rulings. Now the House voted decisively to debate a bill that will exactly reverse this Supreme Court decision.

This shouldn't be necessary. But, unhappily, it is.

Be Sure That the Bathing Beach Is Safe

Many of the numerous lakes in the Pontiac area have good beaches and offer excellent bathing facilities.

But some others have soft bottoms or beaches that suddenly drop off into deep water. If you cannot swim, they're death traps.

To date this year we have had fourteen drownings in Oakland County. This figure is high with barely half the summer gone.

The best plan is to go bathing only where there's a competent lifeguard, and then not too soon after a meal or waiting to rest a bit after any exertion on a hot day.

If your beach is not guarded, beware of sink holes and ledges that descend to deep water. And never go swimming alone.

Don't let anybody tell you that water wings are sissy. On the contrary, they're an evidence of good sense.

Never take a dare or make one. You're gambling with life.

Never try to cling to a boat or canoe, even if it is unsinkable. They usually are slippery and offer little support.

There's a terrible and unseen treachery behind the beautiful ripple or placid surface of any lake. You can foster that treachery and make yourself its victim.

It will snuff out your life, and then ripple just as beautifully or appear just as innocent and placid above the very spot that it enacted the tragedy. Don't make it necessary for it to do this.

Our lakes are one of our greatest blessings, but they need our help and cooperation in order to keep them so.

The Man About Town

Memorial Site

At Agawam Is Dedicated in Honor of an Eagle Scout

Retirement: What should be FROM something TO something.

It surely is quite fitting and proper, and in the true spirit of one of the great adjuncts of basic Americanism, that a new outpost campsite has been dedicated at Camp Agawam. It honors the memory of Ted Garlick who lost his life in naval aviation in the service of his country. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Garlick of Lake Orion, and an Eagle Scout, also a member of the Order of the Arrow. He came from a family in which the spirit and purposes of Scouting was indelibly instilled. The campsite is a wonderful manner in which to perpetuate Ted's memory.

The 1958 tall corn marathon gets under way with a nomination by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith of Scott Lake, with stalks approaching eight feet.

The first 1958 potato vines with what look like tomatoes on them are submitted by Mrs. Marjorie Hoffman of 971 Voorhels Road. This was the original manner in which potatoes generated their seed, and has no connection with tomatoes. Mrs. Hoffman states that a great number of vines in her potato patch are growing "tomatoes" above ground and good potatoes under ground.

A national survey shows that 17 million of our people are allergic to something or other, including, according to that allergy expert,

Dr. Randall Parker, several million who are allergic to work.

With this column's freckles contest only a couple of weeks away,

Beverly Shayne of Oxford writes that she's given up a treatment that makes them disappear.

"Isn't this doing well for a late start?" phones

Mrs. Joseph Kingman of Rochester, who has a 25-foot pumpkin vine in her garden.

According to one of my most dependable sources of news about our wild life,

A pair of wild ducks nested beside the Clinton River, near the home of

Are We Ready for Showdown?

WASHINGTON — The crisis in the world today turns on an age-old and relatively simple issue—whether one side is really ready for a showdown with the other.

For, despite all the Moscow propaganda and its call for a "summit" conference, the basic facts are clear enough. Those facts convict the Soviet government of subverting the weak governments in the Middle East and of instigating rebellion and then hypocritically denouncing the western powers for coming to the aid of constituted governments.

The hypocrisy is all the more brazen since not so long ago the Soviets were defending their own armed intervention in Hungary on the ground that the existing government in Budapest had requested help.

The letter from Khrushchev urging the governments of Britain, France, the United States and India to participate, along with Soviet Russia, in a high-level conference is couched in words of bold distortion in complete disregard of previously established facts.

For obviously if any international conference of heads of government were needed quickly, it could be held—as is being proposed by the British government—in New York City. Already in existence there are the buildings and facilities of the United Nations, which has a Security Council and a General Assembly designed to take up the very problems which Khrushchev now argues almost hysterically should be the subject of formal discussions.

Hasn't the United Nations been trying to do that for the last few days through the representatives of the same governments, and isn't the U.N. still striving to accomplish that purpose? Except for the Soviet veto in the Security Council, the U.N. would have been further along now in its efforts to find a peaceful solution.

The Khrushchev note, despite its phrases of braggadocio and "rocket rattling," together with the Communist propaganda accusing America and Britain of "unprovoked aggression" are merely a cover-up for a state of fear inside the Kremlin that perhaps, after all, the hour of showdown is really approaching.

For the Soviet regime doesn't want a war now—it would mean uprisings among the captive peoples in eastern Europe as well as inside the Soviet Union itself. A war does not always consolidate an internal situation on the basis of national patriotism, as was proved in 1917 by the break-away of the Bolsheviks in the midst of World War I.

It is questionable indeed whether either side would venture now to use nuclear weapons if there is a war. There would probably be a voluntary taboo on them as happened with the self-imposed ban on poison gas in previous wars.

The question is whether the big decision will come while the western alliance is still intact or whether a big war will have to be fought when some of the western countries themselves have also been subverted from within.

Winston Churchill in his memoirs published in 1948 gives a soul-searching review of what happened in the 1930s. He writes critically of the policy of six years of "placatory appeasement" and of the "catalogue of surrenders" as having contributed to a "line of mistakes to disaster." Noting that the British and French had strategic opportunities to fight when the situation was militarily favorable to them, he says they finally found themselves fighting "at the worst possible moment and on the least satisfactory ground."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Rejuvenation Diet Turns Key to Greater Vitality

Realizing that only a minority of readers know what vite means, I feel frustrated at the outset. There is room here for only an abbreviated definition:

"Vite means preservation of the characteristics of youth... material improvement of the life expectation of adults... greater pep... reserve power to tide over emergencies and strains."

One of the seven keys to vite is the rejuvenation diet. This is also a corrective, protective, reduction, regeneration and basic health diet, a pattern on which to build your own everyday diet. Get the details in booklet, "The 7 Keys to Vite," (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope).

The diet includes four glasses (one quart) of milk daily, as well as other good sources of calcium.

The ordinary American diet is more deficient in calcium than in any other element. Therefore, growing children and adults experience a long continued loss of calcium through the years. As Boas said in his book, "The Patient Past Fifty" (available to physicians only): "This does not become superficially manifest because the great stores of calcium in the bones constantly make up for the losses in the blood and other tissues." (Actually, not only nerves, muscles, glands, organs and blood are tissues, but also bones, teeth and joints.)

Dr. Boas, speaking of bed rest, said:

"The deleterious effects of bed rest on the aged are well known. It induces loss of muscle tone with wasting of the muscles. There is a remarkable loss of calcium from the skeleton."

In fact there is not only wasting of muscle but wasting of bone. This accounts for the increased fragility of the bones in mature adults who are confined to bed or chair for weeks or months. It explains also why feeble persons of advanced age wither away, shrink in height and weight.

Now, while I do indulge in banalities just for the heck of it, I must admit that all I know about the physiology and pathology of calcium is what I read in textbooks, medical journals and letters from people and what I pick up from chats with and letters from doctors and near-doctors. I'm afraid all some doctors know about it is what they learned from 19th Century textbooks—which were woefully wrong, as I have pointed out many times—and what they read in pot-boilers by Aunt Polly or Uncle Pete about "calcium deposits" and the like.

The "long continued loss of calcium (from the bones) through the years" is, in my opinion, one of the principal causes of mollycoddlism and lack of exercise is the chief contributing cause.

It is now pretty well established that (1) high calcium diet plus, if necessary, a daily ration of calcium and vitamin D to supplement the diet; and a reasonable amount of general exercise every day (equivalent to two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day) will prevent mollycoddlism.

Friday, I'll harp some more on mollycoddlism.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Beware of Bad Advice by Quacks

Lois wrote to a female "Advice Columnist" about her husband's violent temper. That woman urged Lois to get a divorce at once! Such a flippant suggestion is a tragic indictment of untrained people who think they can conduct a scientific advisory service just because they know how to operate a typewriter. Beware of quacks in the field of Human Relations.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE Y-367: Lois M., aged 32, is the mother of two grade schoolers.

"Dr. Crane, I am very upset," she began, "for my husband has a violent temper. The past few months he has grown so angry at times that he has insulted me and now has even started berating my parents."

Then I enrolled in Northwestern Medical School for the four years and interned at Wesley Memorial Hospital.

In offering you this scientific background, I want you to realize that this column does NOT offer flippant advice nor does it try to wobblecrack about your serious problems and make a joke of them.

It is true that some of the dilemmas of teenagers are not very serious, as viewed by a mature adult, especially a doctor. But to those teenagers, their problems are crucial. In fact they are literally of life-or-death importance.

That's why many teenagers still attempt suicide to get away from their supposedly vital dilemmas. It is thus dangerous for any writer to set herself up as an authority on "Advice to the Lovelorn" without proper scientific background.

And to make light of human foibles, is disgraceful! Some of these distraught people are on the verge of entering a sanitarium, so their problems should be treated with medical dignity and not brushed off with a smart aleck.

Strong Support for Public Schools Urged by Taxpayer

It seems to me it's time we had some peace and good will in our own country and we should begin right in our own neighborhoods.

If we are going to have an America that our young men have been fighting our wars for, we should be willing to furnish good schools for their children.

It is small reward for the years they gave up—everything for and many did not come back.

To my way of thinking, our public schools are the backbone of our democratic way of life and I am willing to support them.

There may be some mistakes made but who of us doesn't make mistakes?

If there is another war, it will be the youth of our country who will be called to fight it. The least we can do is to try to prepare them for it.

I could use the money I pay for taxes, but not for a better cause.

More Thinking on God and Communism

The dictionary defines a hoax as being a trick played for deception; a practical joke. If Christianity is a hoax, then it is one of the most cleverly planned and executed "practical jokes" the world has ever known.

In this world of strife and turmoil, it is only natural that its inhabitants, living on the brink of total destruction, be filled with fears and suspicions. One only needs to read the Bible to confirm this.

However, it does not take a whole lot of intelligent thinking to discover the difference between Christianity and Communism.

Communism demands, "Take from the rich and give to the poor." Christianity teaches, "Give to the poor, willing."

I John 4:20 says, "If a man say, I love God and hate his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?"

Our Marines in Lebanon Never Had It So Good!

By BEN PRICE

BEIRUT (AP) — For the U.S. Marines the Lebanese situation is "strictly no sweat."

By and large they are hot, bored and puzzled.

Most have only a vague idea why they are here.

Perhaps the best summation of the Marines' attitude came from Platoon Sgt. Clarence Kelly of Carlisle, Pa. "Saipan, Iwa Jima and Korea—and now this," he observed with the resigned shrug of a man to whom the fates have not been kind.

Where else are the front lines marked with a rope across a street?

All over Beirut you can find people picnicking, swimming or just sitting and gossiping. The only truly busy people are the Marines. Like combatwise veterans, many of them are working like mad, improving positions as if they expected an attack almost any minute.

They probably are the best behaved Marines in history. To date not one has been embroiled in a fracas with a civilian. The fact that some units have not been paid lately may have something to do with this.

This wife admits her husband loves her. She says their children are crazy about him. And he is a good provider.

But he explodes in a violent temper at times. Is that adequate reason for a recommendation of divorce?

Not on your life! Any competent Marriage Counselor knows better than to offer such a juvenile prescription, yet this columnist is still writing for many American newspapers.

Lois and her husband simply needed some modern medical advice on the sexual aspects of marriage. Tomorrow I'll go into this problem more fully.

Meanwhile, be very careful about jeopardizing happy marriage or true romance on the basis of flippant retorts by unscientific advisers.

Quackery is just as dangerous in the field of Human Relations as in Medicine.

Milford Residents Protest Newly Proposed Gravel Pit

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — At a five-hour hearing Saturday, more than 100 Milford Township residents protested vigorously a proposed zoning change which would permit another gravel pit operation in the township.

The Township Zoning Board, meeting in the Township Hall, tabled the matter for further study after hearing the protests.

Seven township property owners seeking to sell their land to the American aggregates Corp. of Detroit had requested a zoning change from rural to agricultural use for establishment of the pit in a one-mile square area. The land involved is located between an area from West Commerce road to Honeywell Lake road and from Hickory Ridge to Garner road.

Petitions with more than 200 names were submitted to the Zoning Board.

During the morning session of the hearing, the protesting group told the board that to permit another gravel pit in the area not only would destroy the natural beauty for which Milford is noted, but that the gravel trucks would tear up pavement, create dust hazards on the gravel road and add confusion to the present traffic problem in the township.

City attorney for Dearborn, Ralph Guy, urged the residents to retain their present zoning law. He said Dearborn, which owns and operates a $2 million dollar community camp in the township, would be definitely opposed to the proposed zoning change.

Oscar Miller, one of the protesting residents, said that although the proposed ordinance would require rehabilitation of the land at the conclusion of the gravel pit operation, there is no time limit or guarantee that the owners could be forced to rework the pit.

The zoning change either will be approved or turned down by the board when it meets at 8 p.m. July 31, according to Board Chairman Frederick Hill.

Museum Traces Weaponry From Clubs to Missiles

CARLISLE, Pa. (UPI) — Here at the U. S. Army's Carlisle Barracks historians and seekers of the curious can see displayed combat weapons ranging from primitive war clubs to models of the most modern electronic missiles.

The Hessian Guardhouse Museum is itself a historic structure. Built in 1777 as a powder magazine, it takes its name from its builders, prisoners of war captured by Gen. George Washington's troops at the Battle of Trenton during the Revolutionary War.

The building consists of three large rooms and four small cells which were used to confine prisoners, both military and civil, as late as 1930. Constructed of native limestone over six feet thick, the museum is the oldest structure at this historic installation, one of the nation's oldest active military posts and the site of the famous War College, the graduate school for military experts.

The museum display traces the evolution of weaponry from the hand-to-hand wooden war clubs used by South Seas natives, through Indian clubs, tomahawks, swords, pistols and rifles, to modern day hand-to-button missiles.

Lincoln Plant on Tax Role

Walled Lake Schools Get Big Boost

WALLED LAKE—Despite an appropriation cutback of from 8.81 to 7.98 mills by the Oakland County Allocations Board, the Walled Lake School District will not have to make any drastic curtailments in its 1953-54 school program, nor is it likely that it will have to operate at any great deficit.

Walled Lake Schools were spared the fate of many other county districts, according to Clifford H. Smart, superintendent, due to the placing on the tax roles of the new Lincoln plant in Wixom. This increased the district's property valuation by about 20 per cent, or 10 million dollars, he said.

There are other bright spots in the district's picture, too.

Seven new classrooms at the Twin Beach Elementary School will be opened this fall, and because the bids for construction of the new junior high school on Commerce road were lower than anticipated, plans now are being drawn to determine if it is possible to build an addition to the Walled Lake Senior High School within the limits of the 2 million dollar bond issue voted for school construction, Smart said.

The junior high building will be finished by September, 1953.

In Smart's 13 years as superintendent, the district has built six elementary buildings, an addition to one school and a new senior high. During this span, enrollment climbed from approximately 1,500 to 5,500 last school year. About 5,900 students are expected to enroll this fall.

To keep the budget nearly balanced, however, the board hired 13 new teachers instead of the 16 it had planned to add to the staff. Classroom loads also will be slightly increased—from approximately 30 to 32 pupils per teacher, Smart said.

There were no across-the-board salary hikes for teachers. The only increases granted were those provided in the salary schedule.

Sheep Out of Work

WARREN, R.I. (AP) — Power mowers have replaced sheep as grass cutters on the historic North Burying Ground. Since 1954, at the instigation of the late Rev. Arthur M. Dunstan, president of the Massachusetts Historical Society, sheep have been used to keep the grass trimmed. Now it's power mowers. Sheep transportation is too much of a problem.

Takes Care of Rodents

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rats were digging up Donald Serkin's front lawn, so he pumped carbon monoxide gas from his car through a vacuum cleaner hose into one of the rodent's holes, after plugging all the other holes on his lawn. "I just turned the motor on and let her run for about an hour," he said. "And there are no more holes."

Hunter Will Fill Southfield Post

Named Administrator's Aide, He'll Continue as City Planner for Now

SOUTHFIELD — Assistant City Planner Gordon Hunter has been named assistant administrator for the city of Southfield.

Hunter, of 2448 Nine Mile Rd., will continue his present duties as city planner until Mayor Donald L. Swanson appoints a successor.

City Administrator Eugene Swann had recommended Hunter for the post. The city's Civil Service Commission will determine how much Hunter's salary will be increased over his present $5,050 a year.

Hunter's new job will be strictly administrative, Swann said.

Another city post also was filled with the hiring of Henry Ristau as bookkeeper by the City Council. Ristau, of 140 W. Granet St., Hazel Park, accepted the position on a three-month basis at a salary of $325 a month.

The first bookkeeper for Southfield Township, he has had 18 years of experience as a commercial bookkeeper.

Children Blamed for Fire on Farm

ROME — Children playing with matches were blamed for a fire Saturday which destroyed a barn owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hougan, 12818 Ebeling Rd., four miles north of Romeo.

The Hougans, away when the fire broke out, drove into the driveway to find the barn ablaze.

Romeo firemen were called too late to save the structure, and confined their efforts to keeping the fire from spreading to nearby buildings.

One hundred bales of hay and another 100 bales of straw were destroyed. There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

Pontiac Local Votes to Back UAW Strike

Members of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653, UAW, voted yesterday to support any strike the International UAW might call. If current bargaining sessions fail.

Charles A. Beach, local president, said about 500 out of an eligible 6,000 members voted by secret ballot, 85 per cent in favor of striking.

Fisher Body Division Local had previously supported strike action. General Motors Truck & Coach workers have not voted as yet.

Arrest Two Suspects in Safe Burglary Case

Two men have been arrested for investigation of burglary in the theft of a safe from the home of Susan Carry, of 236 Judson St., Friday evening.

Held are Paul J. Carry, 19, of 194 Perry St., a grandson, and Robert C. Woodham, 1942 N. Perry St.

The stolen safe contained bonds and stocks valued at about $800, plus deeds and other papers.

ROME — A 5-year-old Romeo boy escaped serious injuries when he was struck by a car Sunday evening on Morton street near his home.

He is William Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cleveland, 340 W. St. Clair St.

Driver of the auto, W. Donald Dietlin of 179 Crosswell St., Romeo, told Romeo Village police he saw the boy dart out of the tall weeds into the path of his car, but was unable to stop in time.

The youngster was treated by a Romeo physician for cuts and bruises. Dietlin was not held.

Miss Universe Contestants in First Parade

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The public has had its first close look at the entrants in this year's Miss Universe contest—and the 79 beauties drew whistling and hand-clapping approval.

The occasion was the official pageant parade, viewed by an estimated 250,000 persons yesterday. Each girl rode on her own float, pushed by Army and Navy reservists, who appeared to enjoy their work despite a brilliant sun.

The contestants wore bathing suits and some of the fair-skinned girls came away with slight sunburns.

College Students Surveyed

Show Less Disapproval of Immoral Acts in Sex

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A survey of today's college students discloses they show less disapproval of immoral acts connected with sex than any of their predecessors of the past three decades. The study just completed by two psychiatric researchers at Ohio State University here shows, for instance, that:

A man's desertion of an unwed mother, which students of the past 30 years ranked high among the "top 10 sins" of our time, has now been relegated to last place on that list.

Today's students, while still condemning premarital sex relations and adultery, do so less strongly than their predecessors.

However, divorce for incompatibility, where no children are involved, was acceptable to many students of 1929 and 1939, yet it is meeting with growing rejection today.

Similarly, disbelief in God was never strongly condemned by the surveyed students of previous decades. What disapproval there was reached a low in 1939, but is now rising.

"Perhaps the most important finding of this study," said its co-directors, Dr. Salomon Rettig and Dr. Benjamin Pasamanick, "is the great lack of stability of many moral values" and their apparent change with economic and political changes.

They note that 1939 students represent the parents of today's undergraduates—yet the responses of both groups differ.

"Either parents aren't getting across their values to their children or the parents have changed too," said Dr. Pasamanick.

The two researchers are interested too in the conflicting moral judgments represented in the student replies.

"The least we can do is point them out," they said, "and make people think about them."

Their findings were drawn from anonymous responses to a 50-item questionnaire by nearly 500 undergraduates — 204 men and 285 women.

Student ratings of moral acts or specified situations, in degree of "rightness or wrongness," were then compared with studies of three previous decades at other Midwestern schools.

Railroad Tank Car Derailed, Explodes

MERRIAM, Kan. (AP)—A railroad tank car derailed and exploded just south of this Kansas City suburb yesterday, igniting a fire that destroyed 48 cars of a 110-car train.

Flaming wreckage was spread along about 500 feet of track. There were no injuries.

Firemen kept the fire from reaching two cars loaded with artillery shells.

Cause of the derailment on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Line was not known.

The federal district of Rio de Janeiro city contains 270 square miles of forests and 45 devoted to farm land.

Doctors Tell Mothers Warts Should Be Removed

New Compound Removes Common Warts Without Cutting or Burning

New York, N. Y. (Special) — Doctors know their patients and warts may cause bleeding and infection. But today, medical science has developed a new compound, that removes common warts quickly and safely, without painful surgery or electrolysis.

Developed by a famous medical laboratory, this remarkable new formula penetrates warts... destroys their cells... actually causes warts to dissolve away.

Tested by a leading New York skin clinic under careful medical supervision, this remarkable formula proved so effective, only one application a day was needed, proved so safe, it is now used for both children and adults. This new compound contains no mineral acids... serves no ugly scars.

Today, this new compound is being widely recommended for quick removal of unsightly, troublesome warts. Known as Compound W, it is now available for the first time without a prescription, at all drug counters for just 50¢. Compound W is guaranteed to remove warts... or money refunded.

Several Parties Highlight Tournament

A French motif was featured at Birmingham Country Club for the many parties held in conjunction with the club's invitational golf tournament held Thursday through Sunday. George Provard was showing a portrait of Mrs. James McCamey (left,

The David K. Wirth family enjoyed the French dainties at the Birmingham affair, but that American institution, the ice cream cone, was still a real treat. Here, Mr. Wirth was presenting four-year-old Paula K. her cone, while twins, Jeffrey K. and Stephen K., six years old, awaited their turns. Mrs. Wirth also had ice cream ready for one of the youngsters.

Shampoo Fine Hair

Keeping fine hair under control is a problem. One way is to shampoo it every day or two. It seems that fine hair feels and looks thicker after a shampoo. When washing hair this often be alert to dryness, though.

Mrs. Trancik Feted at Shower

Mrs. Edward Trancik Jr. was honored at a stork shower Sunday at the West Iroquois road home of Mrs. Dale Moats. Nancy Moats was cohostess. Attending were Mrs. Don Breen, Maria Jackson, Eida

Sutter, Mrs. A. J. Cadieux, Mrs. Max Evans, Mrs. Robert Zimmerman, Mrs. H. C. Dearing, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. Thomas Hollis, Mrs. Robert Lazelle, Mrs. Chris Anderson, Mrs. William Blue, Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mrs. Edward Trancik and Mrs. Walter Naurat.

Join in the Fun

If you go to a party and most of the guests are dancing, don't sit back in a corner and refuse to dance. If games are played, join in. It only takes a few wet blankets—sometimes only one—to put a damper on a party.

Mrs. William Colby (left) was social chairman for the country club banquet. In this photo Mrs. Colby and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. Jarosz are sampling a few of the delicacies included in the day's French menu.

Parents Invited to Theater

During the second four-week recreation program at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater, parents have been invited to bring their children for "trial mornings" beginning Monday through Friday from 9-12 noon.

The summer program, which is open to teenagers through 17 years and children, eight years through 12 years, combines dramatic training with supervised recreational activities.

The "trial mornings," allow teenagers and children to observe the program at the school by participation. Those interested in the program may call the school.

Auditions Slated by Music Camp

Concerto auditions are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings at 6 p.m. this week at the National Music Camp, Interlochen. All sessions are open to the public, with string and wind preliminaries and voice auditions slated for Tuesday; string and wind finals and piano preliminaries, for Wednesday; and piano finals for Thursday.

Clubine Reunion Is Held Sunday

The 31st annual reunion of the Clubine family was held Sunday at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Roos at Lakeview Lake. Officers elected were Ila Lucas, president; Melvin Rhodes, vice president; Elizabeth Clubine, treasurer, and Carl Lyon, secretary.

High Caliber Music

Four Artists Perform in Cranbrook Series

By MAX E. SIMON

In most communities, both large and small, the arrival of summer means the end of the concert season for music devotees. Traditionally, the hot days usher in music of a "pops" nature, which all can enjoy, but which is hardly enough to satisfy the appetite of the constant concert-goer.

Fortunately for the Pontiac area audiences, music of an uncommonly high caliber is readily available at Cranbrook House, Sundays during the Cranbrook Gardens Summer Music Festival.

Yesterday's program featured Alexander Sucek, troubador; Gordon Staples, violinist; Paul Olefsky, cellist; and William Doppman, pianist.

TRIOS PERFORMED

Trios performed by Olefsky, Staples and Doppman opened and closed the program. The Beethoven "Archduke" trio revealed Doppman as a pianist of great musical sensitivity, and unusual perception. One of the greatest of Beethoven's works, the trio's beauty and power received a searching performance from the three artists.

The other trio performed was the Mendelssohn D-Minor which the artists played with gusto.

In between the two trios, the singing of Sucek was a bright change-of-pace. He has a pleasant and light voice, and accompanies himself on the guitar.

His varied offerings included Adam de la Halle's "Robin Meme," and two Dowland songs, "Shall I Sue" and "The Peddler's Song." He closed his part of the program with the "D-Day Dodgers," a satirical British Eighth Army tune.

Next week's festival program, beginning at 4:30, features Staples, Olefsky and the young Detroit pianist, Ruth Meckler. On the program are the "Kreutzer Sonata" by Beethoven; the "Arpeggione" Sonata by Schubert and a Tchaikowsky trio.

JANE E. NICHOLS

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nichols of Pellston announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ellen, to William C. Goodwin. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Goodwin and the late Commodore C. Goodwin of Lakeview street. No wedding date has been set.

Elegant Linen Easy to Iron

Besides its age-old connotation of great elegance, real linen napery commends itself to many homemakers because of its carefree ironing. Linen is one fabric that doesn't need constant watching of temperature controls. In fact, it responds best to a hot iron. Give linen plenty of soap or detergent suds—in plenty of water—and then give it plenty of ironing heat for best results.

Natural Shades Best

Be Particular About Your Sun Glasses

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
It is estimated that about 75 million dollars will be spent on sun-glasses this summer.

Time was when everyone avoided all kinds of eyeglasses at all possible. Those were the days when girls thought they wouldn't get passes if they wore glasses, and men thought of glasses as a sign of aging. Today people are much more sensible when presbyopia hits. Presbyopia is when your arm becomes too short for you to read without glasses, and it happens to practically everyone soon after 40.

Many women have eyeglass wardrobes, with everything from sporty glasses to wear with sports clothes to very dressy ones for evening gowns. It is literally true that today glasses can add to rather than detract from a woman's appearance if she takes advantage of the many styles and colors available.

Sunglasses have become a fad and almost everyone has at least one pair. The person who has eye trouble or is very blonde needs their protection in a special way.

When buying sunglasses there are a few things to remember. In the first place you can get glare from the peripheral edges. Therefore your glasses should be large enough to give you wide coverage. Your glasses should screen out about 80 per cent of the total sunlight. Seventy per cent is better when you are driving a car. Each lens should have equal density. Distortion is unnecessary and uncomfortable. You can test glasses for distortion by looking at parallel lines through the glasses and rotating the glasses. The lines should not change.

NATURAL SHADES BEST

Natural shades are probably best although lenses of a light yellowish tint make a dark day appear cheerful and those with a rosy tint may give some folks a psychological lift. The color should be neutral when driving a car because you must recognize the green and red signal lights.

You never should wear colored glasses at night when driving. They reduce the distance you can see with headlights.

We often can spot husbands and wives who are out for an evening because they hardly say a word to each other, and when one of them does speak the other listens in a vague, indifferent sort of way.

If, before marriage, men and women ever stopped to think that they are selecting the person with whom they will talk more than with anyone else FOR THE REST OF THEIR LIVES, some weddings might not come off.

It seems to me that it is almost as important for a couple to be well mated conversationally as emotionally. Their conversation does not have to be brilliant or intelligent or witty or anything! They do not even have to have the same interests. The important thing is simply that they enjoy talking together. I suppose another way to say it is that they enjoy communicating and have fun together. Whenever this happens in marriage it is a great bonus.

Many husbands and wives who are interesting or amusing when talking with others, rival the Sphinx in silence when at home. That is why television and radio are such boons to so many radio pies. Not that there is anything wrong with television or radio except when they are turned on only to fill the great marital gulf. The 'gulf' can occur in homes where the man and woman are truly devoted and would lay down their lives for one another, but if they don't communicate, in some subtle way they become strangers in the same house.

This is bad for marriage and therefore for happiness and health. Boredom, resentment, loneliness and frustration follow. Tomorrow, How does it happen? Whose fault is it?

MRS. MEREDITH R. SMITH JR.

Nancy Mae Farmiloe Wed in Birmingham Rite

Nancy Mae Farmiloe became the bride of Meredith Reynolds Smith Jr., Saturday in a ceremony performed at the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

She is the daughter of the Don Farmiloes of Cooley Lake road, and his parents are the Meredith R. Smiths of South Josephine avenue.

The bride wore a silk peau de soie gown featuring a victorian neckline and a panel of seed pearls, iridescent sequins and lace.

Her veil of Chantilly lace was caught to a crown of seed pearls, rhinestones and sequins. White roses comprised the bridal bouquet.

Bridal attendants were Sue Leslie, of Grand Rapids, Sue Welch, Anita Lauckner and Judy Smith as maid of honor.

Their gowns were of white silk organza with harem skirts. Their flowers were Happiness roses. Flower girl Debbie Knight wore a full-length white silk organza dress and carried a basket of red rose petals.

Best man was Robert Steecker of St. Louis. Karl Livenssee, Grand Rapids, and James Douglas, and Fred Keenig of Royal Oak seated the guests.

A reception was held in the church parlors following which the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Washington, D. C. where the bridegroom has an appointment in the honor guard.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Farmiloe wore a blue lace sheath dress with blue accessories and a corsage of white tea roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray chiffon dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink tea roses.

The newlyweds are graduates from Michigan State University where the bride was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and the bridegroom was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

My children come first—that's why I buy Wonder Bread, and besides, they love it!
Mr. Thomas Habore

TODAY! BUY WONDER BREAD BECAUSE IT HELPS YOUR CHILDREN GROW BIGGER 12 WAYS!

Contains 12 Food Elements Absolutely Essential For Growth And Health

For normal physical and mental development, children must have a well-balanced diet of protein, fat, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, such as in meats, milk, eggs, fruit, green-leaved and yellow vegetables.

Wonder Bread helps supply your child with protein for growth, carbohydrates for energy and many vitamins and minerals for normal development.

12 Ways To Grow
This does not suggest that Wonder Bread take the place of other foods. Or that your child is deficient in any of these elements, particularly cobalt, copper, zinc and manganese. However, Wonder Bread does contain 12 food elements important in nutrition.

Thus, you can help your child 12 ways.

This suggests that you do 3 things:

- (1) Start your child eating 8 slices of Wonder Bread today.
- (2) Measure your child's height and weigh him today.
- (3) See how height and weight increase in 3 months; 6 months; each year.

Fresh And Tender
Children love fresh Wonder Bread.

Because it has a tender texture and crust. And—makes perfect toast.

Get Wonder Bread fresh today.

Use Care in Applying Lipstick

The perfected lipline which everyone admires is only possible by following a simple but important application technique, says a famed makeup authority.

Foundation makeup should be carried over the lipline itself for a base, so that there is no jump in color between the flesh foundation color and the brilliant lipstick itself.

Apply the lipstick to a powder-dry surface. Avoid moistening the lips with your tongue at any time during the application since this causes your lipstick or brush to slip and ruin the lipline you wish.

Extend the color just inside the lips for uniform beauty. Blot lips with tissue if you wish a dull surface. However, if you wish a glamorous lustre, leave it application-fresh.

Ann Skelley Feted at Bridal Shower

Ann Skelley was honored at a miscellaneous shower Thursday given by Joan Skelley and Jane Skelley, two of her bridesmaids.

Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon R. Skelley of Woodland drive, is bride-elect of Richard Eldredge, son of the O. B. Pedersen of Watkins Lake.

Don't Panic Now! See Family Doctor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am almost crazy with worry. I am 18 years old, come from a good family and have gone steady for ten months. I think I am pregnant. If I go to our family doctor I am afraid he'll tell my parents. Should I pick any doctor out of the telephone book and go to him?

If I go to a strange doctor could I get into trouble by giving him a false name? My boy friend has a lot of school ahead of him so we can't get married yet, but we are very much in love. Please help me, Abby, or they will find my body in the river.

EIGHTEEN

DEAR EIGHTEEN: GO TO YOUR FAMILY DOCTOR! I promise you he won't tell your parents without your consent. If you ARE pregnant your parents will have to know sooner or later, anyway.

DON'T consider going to a strange doctor. If you absolutely refuse to go to your family doctor call the American Medical Association and ask them to recommend one.

This is not the end of the world. You'd be amazed how many young couples have been in your spot, have gotten help from their parents and have lived happily ever after. It can happen to you. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: I would sure like to get my hands on that daughter-in-law who says she has nothing in common with her in-laws because they are from Europe and don't speak English very well.

I am married to a man whose parents can't speak English, either, but I learned to talk THEIR language. If that girl is so smart she can do it, too. Ach du liebe!

HAZEL
DEAR HAZEL: Gut. Gesagt!

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I am home and the phone rings, when I answer it the other party hangs up as soon as they hear my voice. When my wife answers it, it is always a "wrong number." Now I wasn't born yesterday, but I can't get my wife to admit anything.

The whole thing looks very fishy to me. Is there any way I can get the telephone company to watch our line and find out who is calling? I would be glad to pay for this service.

SUSPICIOUS
DEAR SUSPICIOUS: The telephone company does not sell this kind of service (thank heavens!). I am afraid you will have to find other means of identifying the mysterious callers.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever we are out in company and I start talking, my wife gives me the signal to shut up. When we get home and I ask her what she gave me the signal to shut up for, she says she can't remember. This has been going on for thirty-nine years and I am getting mighty tired of it. Do you think I ought to shut up when she gives me the signal next time or not?

SHUT UP
DEAR SHUT: Just keep talking—and when you get home she will REMEMBER why she gave you the signal to shut up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SUSAN: What alcohol does, prayer can do better.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MOST HAPPY FELLA — One of many happy farmers in America's boom-crop grain belt is C. R. Berry, who grows wheat near Thompson, Mo., and he's happier than most. That's because his wheat made more than 60 bushels to the acre on a government-measured 38-acre field. Yield for the field, weighed at the Missouri Farmers Association elevator at Mexico, Mo., was 2,284 bushels. Berry and his two sons have 130 acres in wheat this year.

Middle East Looms as Campaign Issue

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ominous shadow of the Middle East crisis threatened today to blot out other issues and force some major revisions in congressional campaign strategy.

Campaign leaders were watching public reaction to President Eisenhower's decision to send troops into Lebanon. There was no certainty in either camp about the immediate or long-range political effect.

But one thing stood out in their reports from grass-roots canvasses: if American troops are still in Lebanon on election day, Middle East developments are likely to have more effect on voting results than any other single issue.

While GOP National Chairman Meade ALCORN has contended Eisenhower's troop decision has "won wide acclaim," a Republican campaign strategist who didn't want his name used said his survey showed very mixed reaction.

He said that while many voters approved the President's firm action in a dangerous situation, others believed American intervention in the internal affairs of any other nation would be likely to boomerang.

A leading Democrat, who thinks Eisenhower should first have appealed to the United Nations and then sent troops if necessary, said he is advising party colleagues to soft-pedal their criticisms and let events speak for themselves.

Fresh in the minds of the Democrats is the use the Republicans made of the Korean War issue in the 1952 presidential election. In speeches, ALCORN still stresses the theme that the Eisenhower administration settled the Korean conflict and can be depended on to chart a course that would avoid war.

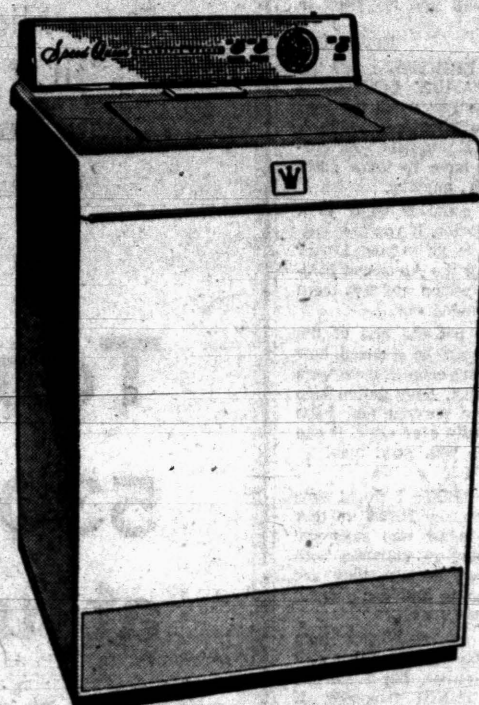

Democrats reason that even if U. S. troops avoid fighting—and they hope fervently there is none—the American voter will be mighty restive if the weeks stretch into months without a Middle East settlement.

The Republicans hope, of course that some way can be found to bring about an agreement that will permit the honorable withdrawal of U. S. forces long before election time. They feel that would be a political bonanza. But they have serious doubts it can be done soon.

GM Truck, Coach Picnic—a Day to Remember

"Wow, what a day we had," was a typical comment among workers at the GM Truck & Coach Division plant today.

Concentration on work proved rather difficult as the many men and women reviewed the pleasant memories of Saturday's 22nd annual GMC family picnic held at the Walled Lake Amusement Park.

READY FOR ANOTHER

For the thousands of children of GMC workers, who covered every inch of the park, it was a question of when the next picnic would be. Souvenirs helped the kids recall that one big day they always yearn for.

As always, it's a question who had the most fun Mom and Dad, or the children.

The noon hour couldn't come fast enough for the children. When the clock struck twelve this was the signal for free rides for all. There was a stampede in the direction of the ever-popular roller coaster.

CONTESTS FOR ALL

Both young and old alike didn't have to look far for contests of every variety. The hot dog eating contest proved a messy challenge.

Features along with a Nike guided missile from the Auburn Heights anti-aircraft base were the truck and coach products of the thousands of GMC employees.

The division gave away an array of 50 prizes ranging from a brand new Pontiac to lawn sprinklers.

The theme of the 1958 affair was "The Golden Milestone Campers Round Up" in keeping with General Motors Corp.'s golden anniversary.

There was an exhibition by Kurt and "Buck" Heide of trick rifle and shotgun shooting. "I can't even do that good looking at the target," said one spectator when "Buck" knocked down his target in his mirror act.

The archery exhibition by Ann Clark made the bow and arrow sport look a lot easier than it really is.

Picnics are a good time to just sit, relax and "chew the fat." Many workers did just that around the picnic benches.

SHOES DON'T MATCH

Several young ladies this morning reported that their shoes don't match. The result of the girl's shoe scramble, apparently.

Another report came from the many mothers. Dinner was not much of a chore Saturday night thanks to the many refreshment stands scattered around the park.

Attracting large crowds were the golf chip shot, baseball throw, basketball free throw and horseshoe pitch events. The screwball throw had even the best pitchers scratching their heads in amazement.

Five o'clock was a sad time for most of the children when they learned all good things must come to an end sometime.

But the kids and grown-ups alike can take note that there will be bigger and better things in store for them at next year's gala family picnic.

HOT DOG CONTEST — A hot dog with mustard is standard fare for a picnic, but when you have to eat them off the end of a string, smothered in mustard, it's a little harder. These contestants were taking part in one of the many contests which kept the thousands at the picnic busy.

Picnic Photos

by GM Photographic Dept.

and Pontiac Press

ATTENTION GETTER — Drawing the interest of the many happy employees at the picnic was this Nike display set up by the U.S. Army Nike station at Auburn Heights. Questions came fast and furiously to the men stationed at the display to explain its function in the defense of the area.

UP AND OVER — Demonstrations of Truck & Coach Division's products caught the interest of the families of many of the workers. Here a 4-wheel drive pickup truck roars up over an embankment. Buses on display also got a careful inspection by the spouses of division workers.

NAP TIME — A brief nap is necessary, even at a busy picnic. Here Mrs. Nick Ahnen watches over her sleeping grandchild, amid the bustle of the picnic. The noise and activity didn't seem to bother the slumber of this tuckered-out youngster.

PASS THE BEANS, PLEASE — Put the top back on the lemonade, the files are circling it, and please pass Herman the onions for his hot dog. Do you have a mortgage on the potato salad down there? Well, I thought you were going to bring the napkins, if I brought the paper cups! Family picnics were held throughout the day as GM Truck & Coach employees took over Walled Lake park for the division's annual picnic Saturday.

ROUNDUP RIDERS — Truck & Coach Division employee Robert Walters had his two western-watching sons aboard this wooden bronco, and it seemed to suit them fine. Bigger brother Jimmy seems right at home, but Steven is a little dubious about the merits of this form of locomotion. It has its ups and downs.

Jim Bunning's No-Hit Gem Is Fourth in Tiger History

Bunning's Wife Nearly Wrecked in Excitement

DETROIT — Detroit Tigers' no-hit pitcher, Jim Bunning, yesterday, after a 10-inning performance, was driving his wife, Mary, to the hospital in a taxi cab. Mary, who was nearly wrecked in excitement, was taken to the hospital for a check-up. Bunning, who was the first pitcher in the history of the Detroit Tigers to throw a no-hit game, was driving his wife to the hospital in a taxi cab. Mary, who was nearly wrecked in excitement, was taken to the hospital for a check-up. Bunning, who was the first pitcher in the history of the Detroit Tigers to throw a no-hit game, was driving his wife to the hospital in a taxi cab. Mary, who was nearly wrecked in excitement, was taken to the hospital for a check-up.

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers were back home today after a lack-luster Eastern trip but with Jim (No-Hit) Bunning taking plenty of bows. The 26-year-old right-hander's 3-0 gem over the Boston Red Sox yesterday—Detroit's first no-hit game in 44 years—sifted Tiger wounds from a less than profitable tour. It was the fourth no-hit game in history by Detroit Tiger pitchers. Virgil Trucks pitched two of them, both in 1932. He beat Washington May 15 and the New York Yankees Aug. 25, both by 1-0 scores. The first Detroit no-hitter was pitched by George Mullin against the St. Louis Browns in 1912. Mullin won by a 1-0 score. Bunning's great performance, a 12-inning effort in which he faced only 20 men, permitted the Tigers to split a doubleheader. They lost the second game 4-2. Even according tradition by mentioning his chances for a no-hitter before the game was over, Tiger pitcher did a masterful job that went to the very last moment when he faced his last man, Ted Williams.

Podres Blanks Phils on 4-Hitter Dodgers Finally Leave NL Cellar

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 20.—The Chicago Cubs may still be a last, thanks to the percentage of the game, but the Dodgers have won the first game of the first time since May 17, Los Angeles is out of last place. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh are tied for sixth and Cincinnati is 10th. Philadelphia, 6th, on four hits Sunday afternoon, a turnout of 17,266 saw the Dodgers' first break. In the meantime, the Giants, who were supposed to be knocking around sixth or seventh place, continued to step along in front. They routed Bob Feller with three runs in the first inning and continued to down Pittsburgh 8-3, protecting their half game lead on Milwaukee.

Jewelers Down Battle Creek Wild Pitch Decides Issue in 9th, Trot and Taylor Star

A wild pitch in the last of the ninth with the bases loaded and one out enabled batting star Hal Trot to dash home with the deciding run as Shaw's Jewelers nipped Battle Creek 5-4 in a Michigan State Amateur baseball game at Warner Field yesterday.

Brown Brothers Stage Battle for Skeet Honor

A pair of Birmingham youngsters, skeet-shooting experts at tender ages, yesterday grabbed top honors in the West Michigan tourney at Grand Rapids. Eddie, youngest of three Brown boys, and brother Bill Jr., tied for high-over all with the 40, at 46-50. Eddie won the shoot-off 57-56.

Allows 4 Passed Balls

Ex-Tiger J. W. Porter
Has a Fluttering Day

BALTIMORE (AP)—J. W. Porter, Cleveland Indians handyman who works with three types of baseball gloves, could've used one in each hand yesterday.

The 25-year-old outfielder-first baseman-catcher was assigned the unhappy task of receiving pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm's deliveries in the game against the Baltimore Orioles.

Wilhelm is a knuckleball specialist—one of the best in the business. His darting knuckler is described by Cleveland pitching coach Mel Harder as "a butterfly in flight."

Porter must have known what was in store for him because when he caught Wilhelm along the sidelines in pre-game practice he wore his mask. And when the game started, he wore a first baseman's mitt behind the plate to facilitate the handling of the fluttering pitches.

With Wilhelm relying almost entirely on the knuckler, Porter was charged with a passed ball in the first inning and two more in the second. All came with men on base.

After that, Porter discarded the first baseman's mitt and went back to the orthodox catcher's glove. He held his own—and Wilhelm's pitches—until the eighth inning when he missed a third strike to Bob Nieman and the Oriole batter reached first.

The four passed balls—none of which figured in the Oriole scoring—tied an American League record set by John P. Henry of Washington on Aug. 25, 1911.

Baltimore players were high in the praise of Wilhelm's knuckler, including Nieman who said his two-run triple in the fifth was "just lucky."

"You just level the bat and hope the swing connects where the knuckler happens to dip or dart," Nieman said. "That Wilhelm has about the best knuckler I ever saw, and he gets it over the plate."

5-Pound Smallmouth
Puts Up Tough Fight

White Lake gave up a fine smallmouth bass during the weekend, that gave its captor a rough time landing it. Clarence Reading Jr., 135 West Lafayette, Milford, tangled with a 5-pound, 4-ounce, 22-inch-long specimen, landed it only after the fighting bronze-back had dashed under the boat three times.

Reading did not have a net, finally "horsed" the fish in. He almost lost it laughing over his 3-year-old son Robin's remark when the fish came in, "Guess you caught a shark, huh, daddy?"

Dow Finsterwald Finally Is 'The Bride'

Youthful Ohio
Golfer Winner
of PGA Crown

Finished in 2nd Place in 18 Tournaments Since
February 1957

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—His dad wanted him to be a lawyer, but Dow Finsterwald was glad today he decided to become a professional golfer.

For he won the P.G.A. golf championship with a pressurized par-busting round in a head to head battle with old Slamm'n Sam Snead, and it enabled him to beat out Billy Casper by two strokes for one of the most coveted titles in the business.

In addition to winning the first place money of $5,500—raising his money winnings this year to $25,423 and making the total $102,000 during the past four years—the triumph yesterday took Finsterwald out of the "the bridesmaid class."

"I sure was tired of being a bridesmaid," said the smiling, good natured 26-year-old pro from Athens, Ohio, after his 31-36-67, three under par, gave him a 278 and a two stroke victory over Casper in the 40th annual P.G.A. tourney. Snead slipped to third place, four strokes off the pace.

It marked Finsterwald's first tournament victory since he won the Tucson Open in February, 1957. From that time until yesterday he had been second 12 times—and there was a string of 78 tournaments in which he finished in the money.

"My dad wasn't too glad when I turned pro when I still was a college student at Ohio University," Finsterwald recalled. "But I guess he has changed his mind—especially after yesterday."

Finsterwald was two strokes behind Snead and one stroke behind Casper starting the fourth and final round before a crowd of 14,000 which jammed the Llanerch Country Club course for yesterday's final round.

Casper was playing in the next to last threesome Finsterwald Snead and former Masters and P.G.A. champion Doug Ford were in the final group. It looked like it was all over when the 46-year-old Snead started out with two birdies in the first three holes, but then Snead's driver started to let him down and Finsterwald's putter started getting hot.

By the time they reached the turn, the good-looking Finsterwald was two strokes in front of Snead, as Sammy bogeyed the eighth and ninth holes. Snead cut that margin to one stroke when Finsterwald bogeyed the 11th, but Snead really went to pieces. He bogeyed the 22nd when he three-putted from 45 feet and then double bogeyed the 13th by three-putting again—from eight feet.

That turned out to be the end of Snead.

Meanwhile, Casper made a game run to close the gap, but wasn't quite up to it. His closing round 35-36-79 left him at 278. Snead's 35-38-73 gave him a total of 280 and third place money of $2,400. Casper won $3,500.

Jack Burke, with a final round 70, which included an eagle, finished fourth with 281. Far back were U.S. Open champion Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert at 285. At 287 were Mike Souchak, Porky Oliver and Buster Cupit while Doug Ford, Bob Rosburg and Art Wall finished at 288.

Dick Mayer, the 1957 Open champion, finished with a 290, as did Fred Hawkins, while at 291 was defending champion Lionel Hebert, former P.G.A. champion Walter Burkemo, John Barnum and Bo Wininger. Cary Middlecoff finished with 292 as did Ken Venturi while Frank Stranahan was far back in the pack with 295.

Southfield Near Legion Crown

Southfield's strong Junior Legion baseball team moved another step closer to the District championship yesterday by whipping Birmingham 8-3 paced by the hitting and pitching of Tom Ridley.

Milford hung a double defeat on Rochester, 3-0 and 5-1, and Royal Oak nipped Berkley 6-5 in 11 innings in other Sunday games. Clawson was awarded a forfeit over Waterford.

Ridley struck out 13 and batted in two runs with a double and triple leading Southfield to its 10th victory in 11 outings. Bob Filar batted four with a triple, double and sacrifice fly. Birmingham led 1-0 in the 1st but trailed the rest of the way.

Terry Anderson hurled a four-hitter and stole home for the 1st run to star in the opener and belted a long triple to bat in a run in the nightcap for Milford. Tom Mayes scattered six hits to win the 2nd contest. Dave Halliday had five singles for the day for the victors. Milford is now 7-6.

Gary Bryce got the big hit that produced the Royal Oak triumph for Frank Sanders, who hurled shutout ball in relief over the last nine innings. Berkley blew a 5-1 lead in losing. Three tallied on a homer by Woodworth. The Oaks now have an 8-4 record.

Jameson-Faulk Team
Four-Ball Champs

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Old pros Betty Jameson and Mary Lena Faulk streaked from far behind into a tie for the lead, then whipped young Wiffi Smith and Ruth Jessen on the first hole of a sudden death playoff here Sunday to win the $7,500 Hot Springs Four-Ball Golf Tournament.

Five strokes off the pace as the final 18-hole round began, Miss Jameson and Miss Faulk overhauled Miss Smith and Miss Jessen with a brilliant 4-under-par 70 while their 21-year-old rivals were blowing themselves to a 75. Both teams finished the 72-hole event with best balls of 290.

Pair of Golfing Aces

Pontiac Country Club and Franklin Hills golf layouts produced holes-in-one during the weekend with Harvey Huber canning a 165-yarder on the 9th hole at Franklin Saturday and John Schubeck of Detroit acing PCC's 17th Sunday afternoon.

Huber is Franklin Hills club champion. He used a five iron, finished the nine with a 36 (par), had 77 for the round.

Schubeck was playing in the Chrysler Corp. tourney. He holed his four-iron shot on the 165-yarder. It was his first ace in 22 years at the game.

Dave Sime of Detroit aced the 130-yard No. 2, Saturday, at Bonny Brook, Telegraph road layout.

Oberon PYC Winner

Sailing in variable winds Sunday, over the Pontiac Yacht Club's course on Cass Lake, Al Oberon's boat led the fleet of 20 Lightnings home, followed by Clarence Holman and Fred Prince.

Crewing for the winner were Penny Vedder and Bob Greishaber. Holman's crew included Mrs. Holman and Ken Bonnett. Mayo Roe and Jerry Cane crewed for Prince.

About a dozen PYC craft will be taken to Tawas this week for a district Lightning regatta.

Guards Replaced at AEC Installations

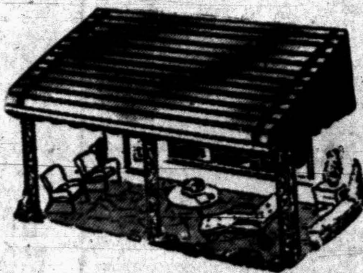

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Civil service guards flown in from New Mexico have replaced striking security personnel at three Nevada installations of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The 105 regular guards left their posts at noon yesterday in a wage dispute and set up picket lines at AEC installations in Las Vegas, Tonopah and Mercury. Forty-two civil service guards from Los Alamos, N.M., replaced them.

Even George Washington Troubled by Presents

Issue of Political Gifts Has Always Plagued U.S.

(Editor's Note — Presidents from Washington through Eisenhower have wrestled with the same politically bothersome question: What is the difference between a bribe and a gift? Here are some of the answers they've come up with.)

By ROGER GREENE
AP Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The furor that has swirled around Bernard Goldfine's gifts to Sherman Adams is little more than a mild squall compared to storms that buffeted administrations as far back as George Washington.

Political morality seems to change with the times. Under the table deals that scarcely stirred a ripple a century or more ago now kick up a veritable tempest when exposed to public scrutiny.

MISDEEDS ENDLESS
The list of misdeeds is almost endless:

Andrew Jackson's spoils system... the "Credit Mobilier" railroad give-aways and whisky ring scandals of the Grant Administration... Teapot Dome, the Ohio gang and "The Little Green House on K Street" of Warren G. Harding's presidency... the mink coats, deep freezes and five per centers of the Truman era... Even honest Abe Lincoln felt the backlash of scandalous doings by men in his Cabinet.

Late in 1861, Lincoln sat in the White House and listened in amazement as crusty old Rep. Thaddeus Stevens (R-Pa.) told of ugly rumors circulating about Secretary of War Simon Cameron.

Lincoln: "You don't mean he'd steal!"
Stevens (dryly): "He wouldn't steal a red-hot stove."

The enraged Cameron demanded an immediate retraction. Coldly, Stevens replied:

"I said you wouldn't steal a red-hot stove. I now take that back."

ALLOWED TO QUIT
When the stench from Cameron's war contract deals grew too bad, the kind-hearted Lincoln permitted him to resign from the Cabinet and packed him off as minister to Russia.

It was Cameron, incidentally, who spelled out his credo as a wealthy Pennsylvania political boss in these words:

"An honest politician is one who, when he is bought, will stay bought."

The easy-money trend in Washington runs the gamut from free congressional haircuts, free postage and free travel to the often suspected but seldom exposed backstage boodle.

President Grant's Secretary of the Navy, George M. Robeson, who entered the Cabinet as a penniless lawyer, went into partnership with a firm selling supplies to the Navy. In eight years, Robeson banked $330,000.

Grant's Secretary of War, William W. Belknap, sold the trade monopoly at an Army fort for $5,000 a year and became the first U. S. Cabinet officer ever tried for impeachment. He escaped by a narrow five-vote margin after hurriedly resigning.

The Grant administration still ranks in the forefront of any history of scandals in government.

Victimized by friends and betrayed by spotters, Grant himself was apparently an honest man. He accepted countless gifts, but on at least one occasion he foiled a great public swindle.

The event centered on the 1869 "Black Friday" speculations of Jay Gould and Jim Fisk, Wall Street plungers, who thought they had "bought" Grant by winning and dining the war-hero President and persuading him not to let the U. S. Treasury sell gold for a short period.

The scene, which involved Grant's brother-in-law, Abel Rathbone Corbin, a New York stock speculator, was no less than an audacious attempt to corner the gold market.

But while Fisk ran up the price of gold from 137 to 162, Grant quietly ordered the U. S. Treasury to sell. The Gould-Fisk bubble exploded.

Later a furious storm broke around Grant in 1873 when an investigation of the Credit Mobilier scandals disclosed the wholesale bribery of congressmen in the give-away of nearly 200,000 square miles of public land to the railroads.

Chief culprits included such figures as Vice President Schuyler Colfax and House Speaker James G. Blaine of Maine.

Blaine said:

"Why should I not be friendly with the well-to-do? I like rich people."

But the scandal stuck to Blaine like tar and probably was one of the causes of his defeat as the Republican presidential nominee against Grover Cleveland in 1884.

Aside from Teapot Dome, the Harding Administration was marked by a riot of corruption in which "The Little Green House on K Street" figured as a shadowy symbol of the prohibition era.

The green-painted house at 1035 K Street, a few blocks north of the White House, was the hangout of the so-called Ohio gang which illegally sold permits to bootleggers for the withdrawal of liquor from government-sealed distilleries.

Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes testified that a $5,000-a-year state dry chief could rake in a million dollars a month in bribes. One of his agents, he said, had been offered $300,000 a week.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president, John N. (Cactus Jack) Garner had his own answer to offers of unexpected riches. Rejecting a $100,000 radio offer, Garner said gruffly:

"I am not worth it as Joan Garner, and any value I have attained as vice president of the United States is not for sale."

Bearing Up Under Yoke

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Air Force band leader Nikolai Kuksov drinks too much, the newspaper Soviet Aviation charged. It said he wears dark glasses to hide his bleary eyes, sometimes passes out on the podium at rehearsals, and sways out of rhythm. The paper complained that Kuksov's drinking habits have spread to bandmen and some have been fired. But Kuksov sways merrily on, the paper said.

Even Set Up Medical School

Witch Doctors Form Association

(Like professional men everywhere African witch doctors have banded together in a professional society. In South Africa's Transvaal Reserve, they have even set up a medical school, run by an affluent witch doctor who rides around in a Cadillac, which he trades in for a new model every year.)

By ADRIAN S. HAGEN
PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—One of the world's strangest organizations, the African Dingaka Assn.—or Witch Doctors' Medical Society—is headquartered here in a dingy room in the non-white Lady Selborne suburb.

On its membership rolls are some 4,000 witch doctors who practice throughout the country, dispensing herb cures and sometimes telling fortunes.

The association examines witch doctors for proficiency and issues certificates which entitle them to affix the title "Dr." before their names.

The Dingaka Assn. is extremely reticent about discussing its activities, except to admit that it charges an entrance fee of $7 and an annual membership fee of $2.80.

Lucas Somo, founder and president, offers this explanation for holding cards close to his chest: "Once a medicine man gives away the secrets of his herbs, he loses his power to cure."

This same reason was given this spring when another witch doctors' association (The South Rhodesian Nanga), declined to cooperate with university-educated medical men.

In May an African doctor appealed to a gathering of association members to reveal the source of their medicines. The tribal practitioners refused.

"The white doctors keep their medicines secret," the association president replied. "If they simply show us a bottle with a label on it, then we will do the same." He added, "We will send our medicines to the laboratory—but not the whole plant."

The ordinary way for an African to become a witch doctor is to serve an apprenticeship under an established medicine-man. This is detrimental to the profession, Lucas Somo claims, because the instruction is not uniform.

"We need 53 acres of land on which to build a medical school," he said. "Someday we will find a suitable place."

Such a school has been operating for a number of years in the Transvaal Reserve. It is owned and run by witchcraft's most fascinating figure, Khatso Sethutsa.

Sethutsa recently walked into an automobile dealer's showroom in Durban, handed over $8,960 in bank notes and drove away in a 1958 model Cadillac. This wealthy witch doctor, who owns two palatial homes (one housing his medical school), buys a new American automobile every year.

A white doctor in Johannesburg has suggested that non-white hospitals employ a resident witch doctor, not to diagnose and treat the sick, but to assist modern medicine by allaying fears.

Modern medicine's major problem in dealing with Africans is communicating with them. The doctor pointed out that a lot of witch doctoring is based on a sound concept of psychology.

Waterford to Decide Fate of Town Meetings Aug. 5

As the time draws near for Waterford Township residents to make a decision on their annual township meeting, there is a variety of mixed opinions as to the worth of the 60-year-old state law.

At the last annual township meeting April 5, it was proposed from the floor to abolish the meeting. However, the suggestion was over-ruled, and the people at the meeting voted to have the issue placed on the ballot in the primary election Aug. 5 for township voters to decide.

Waterford Township officials believe that the law is now obsolete so far as Waterford is concerned because of the weekly business sessions conducted by the township board.

They maintain that when townships were small, the meetings were a good thing but with Waterford Township's total population well over 44,000, conditions are vastly different.

This is the one meeting of the year when people may approve or disapprove an issue, recommend and pass laws, budgets and vote on tax rates for the coming year if they so desired.

According to Supervisor Elmer Johnson a minority group of people representing only a small percentage of the total population could have complete control of government operations. "This could be disastrous," he added.

Originating in the early 1800s, the law required that the meetings be held for the purpose of electing officials, approving bills and occasionally passing a new law.

Three years ago the Legislature authorized townships, with a population of more than 5,000, to abolish the annual meeting by vote of the people.

Those people who insisted that the issue be placed on the ballot for public approval, maintain that this is the one direct form of government control and policy-making left to the people.

For example, each year Pontiac Township residents whose population is well over the 5,000 mark, vote 2-mills for operation of their fire department. This eliminates a special election, or the expense of placing the proposition on the regular ballot.

Iraqi Colonel Stages 'Coups'

He Ousts Ambassador as Head of Embassy in Britain

LONDON (AP) — A smartly dressed Iraqi colonel staged a polite and smiling coup here today. He ousted his ambassador and top aides and set up a minor diplomat as temporary head of the Iraqi mission to Britain.

Col. Abdul Kadir Falk, mustached 35-year-old graduate of a British military staff college, appeared at a news conference to announce that the onetime embassy of the Kingdom of Iraq is now the Embassy of the republic.

"The ambassador and minister do not hold their positions now," he explained.

The colonel said he had conferred by telephone today with Brig. Abdul Karim Kassem, premier of the new Iraqi regime, and received his instructions.

Col. Falk brushed aside references to the ambassador, Prince Al-Amir Zeid ibn Al-Hussein, great uncle of the slain King Faisal and now sole surviving member of the Iraqi royal family.

"He's a member of the royal family," the army officer said in explaining why he is no longer ambassador.

Col. Falk said that Kassem had told him on the telephone: "For God's sake make it clear to the West that we are still their friends. We will be their friends and we should like to continue the former relations between Iraq and the West."

Falk said such questions as the Baghdad Pact were matters for Baghdad to determine. He said he had received no instructions to attend a Baghdad Pact meeting July 28 in London.

Thieves to Try Again

DETROIT (AP) — Burglars broke into the Quality Photo Service, Inc., store but were unable to crack the safe. Scrawled in fingernail polish on the wall near the battered and dented but unopened safe was this message: "You have got a hard safe to crack. We will try again soon. So long. Hope to see you soon in prison."

Five largest bridges in the U. S. are the Golden Gate, Mackinac Straits, George Washington, Tacoma Narrows and the San Francisco-Oakland span.

TEN YEARS LATER — Ever wonder what becomes of the Miss Americas... and whether their title-winning beauty lasts? Here's the answer for at least one queen. The Miss America of 10 years ago is a Mrs. now, and proud of it. In 1948 as Beatrice "Bebe" Shoppe, the present Mrs. Bayard David Waring, of Arlington, Mass., won the Miss America contest. Now, she has traded beauty contests, but not beauty, for her two children, Kimberly, 2½ (left), and the baby Lorie, and says of the trade, "I'd do it again."

Filmland Whipping Up Big Tribute to Alaska

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The screen's biggest tribute to Alaska is being whipped up by a husband and wife team who admit they are unabashedly in love with the 49th state of the Union.

They are Art and Jo Napoleon, a writing and producing combo (he also directs) who are preparing the film version of Edna Ferber's latest novel, "The Ice Palace." They went to Alaska to get background for the film, intending to stay two weeks. They lingered six.

"And still we only touched the surface," said dark-haired, in tense Art. "The place is fascinating—fascinating!" added his lovely wife. Art explained: "We went up there to get the feeling of the place and also to find some action sequences for the picture. The book is more of a clash of ideologies — pro and con statehood — and we needed some interesting scenes photographically."

"We found all we needed and then some. We went all over Alaska, by dog sled, plane and boat. We visited Eskimo villages and Dew Line installations (radar stations for warning of air attacks) and even went polar bear hunting. We came back big Alaska boosters."

Among their observations of state No. 49:

"Everybody knows what is going on. We went up unannounced. We didn't intend to talk to anyone in Seattle, because the book is somewhat anti-Seattle and we did not want to start any problems. That is, Miss Ferber argued that the interests in Seattle controlled Alaska, depleted the salmon by using traps that are outlawed everywhere else and avoided paying taxes in Alaska."

"We talked to just two people in Seattle and the word went everywhere. At each stop, they knew who we were and what we were doing up there."

"At least 90 per cent of the citizens favored statehood. Of the rest, many of them weren't in favor of it because they had come to Alaska to avoid the usual problems in the States. They were afraid they would lose that independent feeling of being in a territory."

"The biggest problem is roads. Most of them lead only a few miles out of town, even from the biggest cities."

Some Alaskans think that statehood will solve all the problems. It won't. The best hope for Alaska is in developing the tourist trade. The scenery is unbelievable. Alaska could be a great tourist attraction if they had adequate housing and transportation for visitors.

"Prices are 75 per cent above the United States. That's natural because everything has to be shipped up there, and there is nothing to send back on the boats. So freight charges are double."

"Fires are a constant problem. All the houses are overheated, the wood is dried out and the heating is oil. When a fire starts, not much can be done, because the fire truck can't start and the river is under four feet of ice."

The Napoleons intend to shoot much of "The Ice Palace" in Alaska, probably starting next winter. They realize there will be a rush to get other Alaskan films on the screen, but they're not concerned with the competition. "We've got the big one," they say.

City Police Hold Pair as Burglary Suspects

Five hours after a burglary was reported to Pontiac Police, most of the loot was recovered and two men arrested on suspicion.

Mary Swain, of 472½ S. Saginaw St., reported Saturday evening that someone had stolen a radio, television set and a hi-fi phonograph from her apartment.

At 2 a.m. Sunday, Detective James LaFosse arrested Robert B. Shuster, 20, of 90 Virginia St., and John C. Miracle, 20, of 109 W. Fairmont St., for investigation of breaking and entering.

He recovered the radio and phonograph, but the television is still missing and a third man is sought.

Show Movie That Shakes Alabama

WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP) — Cars blocked the gates of a drive-in theater which advertised it dared to display a movie last night showing a romance between a Negro man and a white woman.

A Montgomery Advertiser reporter said some 75 cars arrived at the Dixie drive-in at 8 p. m., shortly after it started showing the movie "Island in the Sun." An estimated 200 persons milled about the gate, but many of them were spectators.

A man holding a shotgun sat in one of the cars blocking the gate while other men stopped prospective patrons. One of those halting persons approaching the theater near here said he was from a White Citizens Council.

Shortly after the demonstrators arrived, the power line to the drive-in was cut, and the picture was not completed. The men then started allowing the 15 to 25 cars of patrons to leave.

In the darkness the demonstrators tried to drive cars into the theater from fields along the side. Employees firing shotguns into the air turned back the cars.

Theater owner Max Singleton and his wife drove out of the drive-in through a field, and were chased by three other cars. They went to a nearby house and telephoned officers. The theater has no phone. Singleton was quoted as saying, "We will not attempt to show the show again for our own protection."

The theater had advertised: "This is the one that is banned all over the South. While we dare to show it, we do not endorse it. Make up your mind about seeing it."

Do-It-Yourself Plan
KARACHI (AP) — Do-it-yourself apparently has reached the U. S. foreign aid program. Pakistan asked for 500 American buses. The U. S. International Cooperation Administration sent instead 3½ million dollars worth of bus parts so the Pakistanis can assemble their own.

Stiff Curfew Rules in Cyprus

British Threaten to Get Tougher if New Violence Breaks Out

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — All Cyprus today was under a dusk-to-dawn curfew clamped on by the British for the next 30 days in a desperate attempt to stop violence. Tougher measures were threatened.

The longest curfew imposed since the violence between Greek and Turk Cypriots began in 1955, it resulted from a bloody vendetta that has killed 20 persons in the last week.

The Greek and Turk communities on this British island in the eastern Mediterranean have been fighting over the future of Cyprus.

The 400,000 Greeks want the island to be independent so they can unite with Greece. The 100,000 Turks want the island partitioned because they fear they would lose their rights under Greece.

The night curfew in all principal towns is from 7 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. Road traffic is prohibited except with special permission. Villagers may move from house to house but may not leave their village boundaries.

In the cities, Cypriots will be hoisting themselves over garden walls to spend the curfewed evenings talking and drinking with neighbors.

The curfew will make little real difference to their nightly habits. Even before, movie houses, open-air restaurants and coffee shops were either closed or almost empty. People are afraid someone will have a bomb in their midst or ambush them on the way home.

TWO ON A SKI — Making quite a splash in the calm waters at Cypress Gardens, Fla., Mary Lou Rhodes and Buster MacCalla find one ski is enough, when two people are close enough. Even their shadows are close friends.

Ex-Detroit Gambler Dies in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Merv Wertheimer, 74, who parlayed a Detroit crap game into a multimillion dollar gambling operation, is dead of leukemia.

Wertheimer, who died yesterday, was the last of four brothers who at one time controlled a gambling empire stretching from California to Florida.

During the Roaring 20s, Wertheimer made his first fortune when he and his brother Al converted a 36-table pool room in Detroit for dice games.

In Florida, the brothers ran several casinos, including the Royal Palms in the Miami area.

Fed-Up Wife 'Fries' Hobby in Boiling Oil

AGRICENTO, Italy (UPI) — A husband has been hospitalized in serious condition after being "fried" by his wife, police said here today.

Carolina Milazzo, 56, poured half a gallon of boiling olive oil on her husband Ferdinando Chilara, 49, who was sleeping in their bedroom last night, police said.

Then she calmly walked to the nearest police station. "I tried him," she told police officials. "I was fed up because he used to manhandle me almost every day."

First coin-operated dial telephone was installed in New York in 1927.

Bikinis on Beaches During the Day

Beirut Warlike at Night

By RELMAN MORIN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A starshell blazes suddenly in the night sky and hangs there bathing the hills outside Beirut in a pale unearthly light—the U.S. Marines are hunting snipers above the airfield.

Coming into the city, you pass through that eternal symbol of danger after dark — a sandbag roadblock bristling with tommy guns.

The streets are completely deserted, but along the docks you see all the massive clanking machinery of war—gray-hulled warships, tanks, guns, mortars and rockets, mountains of equipment piled behind barbed wire stockades under the glare of powerful searchlights.

By night it all looks painfully familiar, the grim trappings of war.

But by day you might as well be in Atlantic City or Long Beach, Calif.

Bikinis blossom on the beaches. The white sails of pleasure craft glitter on the sea.

"Hey, sarge, when are we going swimming?" asks a stock Marine in a mortar position. A beggar kneels beside the highway staring up at the sun with sightless eyes. A Marine goes over to him and puts a candy bar in his hand.

"Hey, sarge, this Arab kid says he will bring us ice for a package of cigarettes," a Marine yells. "How about that?"

You want to visit the Lebanese rebels who have brought all this about? All you have to do is walk up the street to that sandbag barricade. They are watching government buildings from there. Or if you want you can pick up the telephone and talk with their leaders.

Why don't government forces walk up the street and clean them out? They have armored cars parked nearby and the Lebanese security forces look tough. So why not wrap this thing up and get it over with?

Well, that's a good question. But nobody seems to have the answer. It is lost in the inextricable tangle of politics here, where there seem to be no sharp lines or clear divisions between the various factions.

In short, Beirut today is a perfect, pluperfect symbol of war that is not a war and peace that certainly is not peace.

This is an Alice in Wonderland situation where nothing makes much sense.

New Zealand Men Hired to Cull Deer

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — "Deer culling" is a profession unique to New Zealand, where Government hunters are employed to keep the deer population down to save the bush and forest country.

Nearly 5,000,000 noxious animals have been destroyed in New Zealand since 1946. Killings reached a peak last year when 1,259,083 animals were destroyed, including more than a million opossums, 72,000 goats, 62,000 deer, 5,000 chamois, 9,000 wallabies, and 5,000 wild pigs.

That in fact is the very heart of the question. The United States and Britain have taken action in the Mideast and perhaps somehow the situation will stabilize itself so the troops can be withdrawn.

But the incredible contradictions of a war that isn't a war and a peace that isn't a peace multiply on every hand. And the strident almost screaming voice of Gamal Abdel Nasser comes regularly over the radio, inflaming Arab feelings.

The situation is not going to get better very soon and it may take an irreparable turn for the worse.
