Polio Immunization Starting Today in County

Hart and GOP Work Together on Free Shots

Draw Plans to Make Salk Vaccine Available to All State Children

LANSING (AP) — In an unprecedented burst of political cooperation, the Republican-controlled Michigan Legislature and Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart worked together today to provide Salk polio vaccine for all children regardless of their parents' wealth.

Their goal was vaccination of one and a quarter million children under 10 years of age outside of the first and second graders who will get free vaccine from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in community clinics.

Although the matter had been discussed tentatively by Republican Senate leaders last weekend, Hart set the ball rolling yesterday by calling in some of those leaders for a conference.

Hart first proposed the state appropriate one million dollars to buy the Salk vaccine and allocate it to local health departments under a system of priorities. He said this would not do the entire job but would provide all the vaccine the state could obtain.

Later Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, reported conversations with pharmaceutical manufacturers which indicated the state could obtain all the vaccine it needs in 60 days and at a price much cheaper than expected—80 cents per dose.

No complaints have been received about insufficient amounts of vaccine, inadequate facilities or personnel in connection with the giving of Salk shots to Michigan's first and second graders, the state health commissioner said today.

Dr. Heustis reported that "everything is going like clockwork."

However, a gray market in the vaccine has been reported in Detroit.

"Almost anybody with the proper 'connection' could obtain at least a three-shot supply—even before it began going to the city's first and second grade children under the auspices of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis," one Detroit newspaper said.

Dr. Heustis cautioned against panic.

"We have sufficient vaccine on hand for all of the state's first and second graders," he said, "and we understand that additional vaccine will be made available to those needing it most."

"There is no need to run to any unethical source for the vaccine, should one exist," he said.

State officials huddled last night to consider tackling the vaccination of the entire child population of Michigan—possibly to the tune of about two million dollars. They considered giving the vaccine free to physicians, who would charge patients for administering it only.

Hart said one proposed priority plan would provide the vaccine first to kindergartners, next to those between 1 year and kindergarten and then those from second grade to 10 years of age.

The President also recommended that Dr. Salk be the first to receive a proposed distinguished civilian award.

Russia Asks Big-Four Meet to Sign Austrian Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union called today for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Vienna in the nearest future to sign an Austrian state treaty.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov called in the top diplomatic representatives of Britain, France and the United States this morning to hand them notes declaring:

"As a result of the exchange of opinion with Austrian Chancellor Raab and his delegation last week it is clear that the possibility exists to settle the Austrian question and conclude a state treaty with Austria."

The note said representatives of the Austrian government should take part in the talks.

"The Soviet government expresses the hope that the government of the U. S. A. will on its part contribute to the necessary understanding between the governments of the four powers and the government of Austria concerning the conclusion of a state treaty with Austria.

"The Soviet government considers it expedient that the ministers of foreign affairs of the United States, France, Britain and the Soviet Union with the participation of Austria convene in the nearest future to consider the question of a state treaty establishing an independent democratic state of Austria and to sign this treaty.

"This city of Vienna is proposed as a place of the said conference."

Foreign Ministry spokesman Leonid Ilyachev told a news conference that Bohlen, British Charge d'Affaires C. C. Parrott and French Charge d'Affaires Jean Leroy had promised to transmit these notes to their governments without delay.

Reports reaching here from Vienna have said that the Austrian Parliament was expected this week to request the Big Four to meet with Austrian representatives in Vienna to sign a treaty ending the 10-year-old occupation of the country.

Strikers Grow to Over 50,000

Walkout at Sperry Co. Idles 9,000 as Labor's Unrest Increases

By THE ASSOCIATED PRES

A new walkout added 9,000 persons to the nation's total of more than 50,000 workers on strike today.

Nine thousand CIO electrical workers struck the Sperry Gyroscope Co. plant at Lake Success, N.Y., despite a federal mediator's request that they continue working during negotiations.

There were already 23,000 CIO textile workers on strike against six New England companies operating 24 mills. Some 30,000 employes of Louisville & Nashville Railroad have been off the job, some since March 14.

A meeting of governors was scheduled for 11 a.m. in Nashville, Tenn., today in hopes of settling the railroad strike and also a CIO communications workers strike against Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. which have affected nine southern states.

Just what procedure the governors will adopt was not clear. The walkouts have cost the South millions of dollars in undelivered freight and lost salaries. Violence has marked each passing day.

Two operating unions—the Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen—joined the strike of 10 nonoperating brotherhoods Monday.

U.S. Subverting Red China, Chou Tells Delegates

Claims Peaceful Aims at Bandung Meeting of Asians, Africans

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) —Red China's Premier Chou En-lai told the Asian-African conference today his country is not interested in "subversive activities" but instead is being "subverted by the United States of America."

"If you do not believe this," he told the delegates, "then you can send representatives to China to take a look. You are all welcome."

Chou continued: "We do not hide the fact that we believe in communism. But this is not a meeting to discuss ideologies but to seek a common ground and not great divergencies."

Communist China, he said, had come to Bandung ready to comply with the decisions of the sponsoring nations, and not to raise other questions.

"We have no proposals," Chou asserted. "China could raise the question of the liberation of Taiwan 'Formosa' and the neighboring islands. We could have made criticism of the unfair treatment of China in the United Nations but we are not going to do that."

Aside from the charge of U. S. subversion, most of Chou's speech followed a conciliatory line, emphasizing chiefly his contention that "peaceful coexistence of countries with different social systems can be realized."

Chou invited others of the 29 Asian and African countries to jol. with Red China, India and Burma in supporting the five principles of "peaceful coexistence" proposed by India's Prime Minister Nehru.

He said Communist China would not raise at this conference, the question of its admission to "its rightful place in the United Nations" even though the Colombo powers sponsoring the Bandung conference at an earlier meeting endorsed without exception Red China's claim to the right to replace Nationalist Chinese representatives in the U. N.

Chou's speech followed new attacks on Communist expansion by Asian allies of the West today. They did not call the Reds by name but their meaning was clear.

Trick-Treat Killer Gets Electric Chair

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Harry Gossard must die in the electric chair for the pre-Halloween trick-or-treat slaying of six-year-old Karen Mauk.

Gossard pleaded guilty to strangling the child. Sentence was passed yesterday. Evidence to fix the degree of Gossard's guilt was heard about a month ago.

The child's body, half nude, was found near the entrance to a cemetery two miles from her home in nearby Conemaugh.

Gossard, a husky, 39-year-old unemployed merchant seaman, testified he met the little girl as she toured the neighborhood near her home playing trick-or-treat.

He said he coaxed her into his car and took her to the cemetery. When her body was found, a bag of candy, given her by neighbors was clutched in her hand.

Execution date will be set later.

Inoculation Project Under Way

FIRST IN LINE — Jeffery Wurges, of 140 Buell Rd., Lake Orion, was first in line at Rochester this morning as mass immunization against polio got under way. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wurges. About to administer a shot of vaccine is Dr. Eve Schlecte assisted by Mrs. Robert Blome, nurse (standing) both of Rochester.

Dulles Names His Assistant McCardle as Man Who Released Yalta Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that Asst. Secretary Carl W. McCardle was the man who gave out the Yalta papers a day ahead of their general release.

Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that McCardle, "gave a galley proof" to the New York Times the evening of March 15.

"This involved an exercise by Mr. McCardle of a discretion that was his," Dulles said. "It involved no breach of security."

Dulles said he had concluded by the time the one copy was given out that the British government had withdrawn its objections to publication and that the publication would not hurt U.S. relations with Allies.

Release of the single copy came just a day after the State Department had said disclosure of the record of the wartime conference between British Prime Minister Churchill, Soviet Premier Stalin and the late President Roosevelt would not be in the national interest.

Dulles was summonded to a closed-door session of the committee headed by Sen. George (D-Ga.) and read a prepared statement. In it he said James B. Reston of the New York Times told Dulles and McCardle the morning of March 15 that it was Reston's "impression" of a conversation he said he had with George "that the senator wished to see the Yalta record made public by the State Department."

Reston, Dulles said, "urged that it was of the utmost importance that the papers be published as a whole and not in garbled form."

"I said that such matters fell under the jurisdiction of Mr. McCardle ... who was a former newspaperman."

Dulles said Reston and McCardle left him at that point and Dulles "subsequently learned" that McCardle "gave a galley proof to Mr. Reston about 8:30 p.m. that evening."

Dulles told the committee it was not until shortly after 10 a.m. of March 16 that "the British Ambassador phoned me that his government agreed to publication and

The shy physicist who died in his sleep early yesterday had asked that fellow scientists study his brain and other vital organs and they were removed shortly before his body was cremated yesterday afternoon.

"His brain looks like everybody else's," a pathologist remarked after a brief examination. But scientists planned to study the gray mass carefully for any physical manifestation of its extraordinary capacities.

Disposition of the ashes of the humble man whose name was known throughout most of the world was not expected to be ordered for some time.

An autopsy disclosed that Einstein died of a rupture of the aorta, the main artery of the body. He was quietly admitted to the Princeton hospital Friday after he was seized with severe nausea.

No funeral service was held for the scientist although he was not an atheist. He once said he believed in God as a "superior reasoning power, which is revealed in the incomprehensible universe."

He also said, "I cannot believe that God plays dice with the universe. God is subtle but He is not malicious."

The Flag flew at half mast yesterday at the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study where Einstein was a staff member, and passing employes gazed reverently into the cluttered office where Einstein worked on his complex mathematical equations.

Papers, books and pads scribbled thick with formulae were strewn over the desk and around the room in profusion.

580 Rochester Children Getting Vaccine Today

First Shots for Other Rural Schools Slated Tomorrow Afternoon

Shots of the Salk polio vaccine were given to 580 first and second graders in Rochester district schools this morning, leading off the mass immunization of Oakland County school children.

The Rochester pupils received the first in a two-shot series in clinics set up in Harrison Central and Brooklands schools.

They were transported by bus from eight other public and parochial elementary buildings to the two central locations.

Booster shots for children who got the vaccine in last year's tests will be given with the second round, scheduled in one month.

Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, said only 10 per cent or less of the parents of eligible children have declined the shots.

About 24,000 youngsters will get their first shots this week, while an additional 8,000 are scheduled for booster shots next month.

Children in the cities of South Oakland County will receive their shots in Saturday clinics. Parents will be responsible for having their children at the proper place.

Shots for Pontiac and Waterford Township children will be given in a series of clinics Saturday, May 7.

In all localities, children will receive the second in the two-shot series approximately one month after the first. Schedules for these clinics will be announced next month.

Tornado Threat Comes to End

Pontiac Area Lashed by Rain, High Winds Early Today

The threat of the season's first tornado hovered over the Pontiac area for three hours early this morning, then faded as the storm failed to materialize.

Worst to come was a thunderstorm with lashing rains propelled by gusts of wind up to 65 m.p.h. No damage was reported from the high winds or rain.

A bombardment of lightning bolts in the Birmingham section also failed to cause any reported damage.

A quarter-inch of rain, borne by the gusts, fell on Pontiac between midnight and 2 a.m.

Tornado warnings were issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau in Detroit at 12:30 a.m. and continued for three hours. The warning area covered 40 miles on either side of a line between Battle Creek and Mt. Clemens.

By 8 a.m. today, winds in Pontiac had diminished to 10 m.p.h. The forecast is for cloudy skies with occasional showers and more thunderstorms tonight and tomorrow.

Cooler tempreatures are seen for tonight, with a low of 50-54. The mercury is expected to climb to a high of 66-70 tomorrow.

Tomorrow night is to be partly cloudy with occasional showers or thunderstorms and turning cooler. Low is expected to be near 45.

At 8 a.m., the mercury in downtown Pontiac stood at 56 degrees, rising to 62 at 2 p.m.

England Cuts Taxes

LONGON (AP) — The government announced today a cut in income taxes. The basic rate will be 42½ per cent of taxable income instead of 45 per cent.

Horn Player Takes His Bow Minus Invitation

He was playing his last concert with the Cincinnati Symphony Saturday night. Fearful conductor Thor Johnson would not call on him for the traditional last bow, Andraud took the bows uninvited. He came to the front of the stage and bowed several times just before intermission. A surprised audience applauded mildly.

"Mr. Johnson was angry with me and I could tell he wasn't going to invite me to take a bow, a custom for retiring musicians," Andraud said yesterday. "So I took a bow without being invited. After a quarter of a century with the orchestra, it was the honorable thing to do."

Johnson made no comment, but a puzzled audience finally had its answer to the bowing horn player.

Reds Tried to Break Him Up, Judge Medina Reveals

DETROIT (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina has described the strategy of the American Communist Party during the 1949 New York trial of 11 of its leaders as "a demoniacal plot to break me up."

The defendants, their counsel and the party staged a "psychological campaign to drive me crazy" during the nine-month trial, Medina told the Detroit Economic Club yesterday.

He said that prior to the trial he had considered Communists "a bunch of roughnecks who wanted to divide up our property and have a good time with it.

"I know now," he said, "that they are capable of the most diabolical scheming man ever conceived."

The 11 Reds were convicted of advocating the violent overthrow of the federal government. Their conviction later was upheld by the Supreme Court.

"I began the trial," Medina said, "thinking I could handle it like any other—calmly, judiciously, patiently. I soon realized I was in for the time of my life.

"They began by firing daily delegations of workers, housewives, farmers and what-not at me—delegations supposedly from all over the country. I tried to explain the trial to them—after all, they were American citizens.

"I soon realized it was just a Communist maneuver to wear me down. When I ordered that no more delegations be allowed to come it, it was like shutting off the roar of a fast-flowing faucet. From that point on, I settled down to fight the battle of my life."

Medina said the real issue of the trial was: "Was the American system of fair trial equal to the task of trying Communists?"

Communist pickets, he said, chanted obscenities as they marched under court room windows during the trial.

"They even tried for several weeks to drive me into jumping from a window, a kind of psychological campaign to drive me crazy," he said.

"I used to think they pushed (Jan) Masaryk and that Russian school teacher (Mrs. Oksana Stepanova Kasenkina) out of the window, but I know differently now," Medina said. "When you hear a chanted cry of 'jump, jump, jump' coming at you for five or six weeks, wherever you turn, you can understand how people could jump of their own will."

Medina said he went into his chambers daily when the pressure mounted, "praying to God for that day's allotment of courage and patience to carry the trial through."

During the trial, he said, he stood virtually alone—isolated from colleagues, friends and associates, guarded by government agents. When the trial ended, a flood of congratulatory mail descended on him from every corner of the country.

"The people of America wrote to me out of their hearts," he said. "From every walk of life, from every field of endeavor, from every social station they wrote to say 'thank you, Judge Medina for giving us faith in our America, for showing us that America can be strong in the face of attacks from its bitterest enemies."

"I got my reward in those letters," he said.

800 Polio Monkeys Arrive in America

NEW YORK (AP)—A shipment of 800 Rhesus monkeys to be used in research and development of Salk vaccine arrived here by plane from London yesterday.

The caged monkeys started their journey at New Delhi, India. They were consigned to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which ordered them taken to Okatie Farm, Pritchardville, S.C., to be conditioned for medical research.

Says Fluorides Effective, Safe

American Dental Assn. Head Acclaims Measure as Fully Proven

DETROIT (UP) — Dr. Daniel F. Lynch, president of the American Dental Assn., said today treatment of public water supplies with fluorides to prevent tooth decay has been proven effective and safe beyond all reasonable doubt.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Michigan State Dental Assn., Dr. Lynch said:

"Since it can be prevented, the loss of permanent teeth in children and young adults is shocking."

Dr. Lynch said that in a Democratic society it is up to each community to decide whether its water supply should be fluoridated.

At East Lansing last night the city council unanimously ordered fluoridation of the city's water supply, and in the Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe Farms councilmen split 3-3 on the question of discontinuing fluoridation.

East Lansing councilmen estimated fluoridation could begin six to eight weeks after delivery of equipment, as yet unpurchased.

Grosse Pointe Farms voted 1,832 to 1,366 to halt fluoridation in an advisory election April 4. After last night's tie, Mayor William F. Connolly Jr. said a new vote would be taken when all seven councilmen are present.

LIVE DAVY CROCKETTS — Davy Crockett, fabled frontiersman, would be proud of his namesake and descendant in Houston, Tex. For Davy Crockett III, great-grandson of the Alamo hero, is a modest man who acts like he doesn't give a whoop or a holler for the current jukebox glorification of his name. "They're sure makin' a thing of it," says the 31-year-old architect. A taciturn man in the true mountaineer tradition, he admits hearing "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" a "couple of times." And his four-year-old son, Davy Crockett IV, also allows as how he's heard it. Crockett says he's a descendant of the legendary Davy through the hero's youngest son. Of the original Davy's mementos he hasn't so much as a shred of coonskin. In fact, to show Davy IV how things were in the old days, he had to go out and borrow a Tennessee long rifle.

Argos Made Secret Try for Jim Martin

TORONTO (UP) — A secret move by the Toronto Argonauts to sign guard Jim Martin away from the Detroit Lions of the National Football League came to light here today, less than 24 hours after the Lions had gone to court to recover two other players signed to Argonaut contracts.

The Canadian Big Four team wants Martin as an assistant playing coach to Bill Swiacki, signed as head coach after being picked up from the New York Giants a few weeks aback.

The Lions filed motions for injunctions in Toronto yesterday that would prevent quarterback Tom Dublinski and tackle Gil Mains from playing with Toronto next season.

Then reports leaked out they also were attempting to lure Martin across the border.

Wife of Naturalist Hurt in Bloomfield Crash

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Billie Nickell, 52, of 10 Faculty Rd., Bloomfield Hills, wife of Walter Nickell, naturalist at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, suffered bad cuts and a wrenched back in an auto accident at Woodward and Square Lake Road yesterday.

Tot Struck by Auto

Four-year-old Ernest E. Morris of 372 S. East Blvd., is reported in good condition in Pontiac General Hospital today after suffering a fractured skull yesterday when struck by an auto near his home.

RO Man Is Sentenced

Carldean Drappeaux, 30, of 417 N. Minerva, Royal Oak, yesterday was placed on two-years probation and assessed $100 costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Unauthorized Picket Line Gives Up at Plant Here

An unauthorized picket line thrown up in front of the Fisher Body Division gates yesterday morning and again yesterday afternoon failed to form this morning.

Officials of Local 596 (UAW-CIO) said they believed Monday's action was instigated by a disgruntled ex-worker who was fired about a week ago for falsifying his application papers.

About seven men appeared at the gates as day shift workers began going to work Monday morning. About 25 to 30 pickets appeared in the afternoon.

A union sound truck urged workers to ignore the pickets. There was no work stoppage.

Joseph C. Sawyer, 56, of 760 Robinwood St., was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with shoulder and hip injuries suffered yesterday after his auto collided with one driven by Donald G. Heard, 29, of 620 Kenilworth St. Sawyer is reported in good condition.

According to Pontiac Police, both drivers said they were unable to stop in time to avoid the accident at Manhattan Ave. and Kenilworth St.

'Dentist of Year' Still Busy at 87

Dr. Edward Spalding of Birmingham Shrugs Off Retirement Talk

DETROIT (UP)—Dr. Edward B. Spalding of Birmingham, 87-year-old Michigan "Dentist of the Year," shrugged off the thought of retiring today and said he plans to "keep right on fixing teeth."

"There's no such animal," Spalding said when asked if he was thinking about retirement. "People thought I was going to retire 25 years ago, but I didn't and I plan to keep right on fixing teeth."

Spalding, a native of Sault Ste. Marie, yesterday was named Michigan's "Dentist of the Year" at the 98th annual meeting of the Michigan State Dental Association.

He is one of the originators of the porcelain jacket crown now widely used in dentistry. He developed the porcelain crown along with Dr. Charles Land, the grandfather of aviator Charles Lindbergh and one of the first dentists to work with porcelain.

PHS Students in East Lansing for Conference

Thirty Pontiac high school students are in East Lansing today attending the eighth annual conference of the Retailing and Office Club of Michigan at Michigan State College.

A former Pontiac student, Charles Gamester, now a student at MSC, will participate in the panel discussion, "Is a Co-op Worth His Salt?"

The youths go to school part-time and work part-time in retail stores and offices under this local program.

Joan McLean of Pontiac is treasurer of the state organization and she also went with the group.

Blazing Green Auto May Be Gaca Link

DETROIT (UP)—Police examined a partially burned green automobile today in an effort to determine whether it might have been involved in the kidnap-slaying of 7-year-old Barbara Gaca.

Police said the car was deliberately set afire after license plates had been removed last night. It was found abandoned and blazing in Eliza Howell Park, near five mile road (Fenkell) and the Rouge River.

Barbara was kidnaped March 24 while en route to school. Police have received several tips that a motorist in an old green sedan had been seen loitering in the area and had approached children.

Barbara's body was found in Oakland County a week after the kidnaping.

The partially burned car was a 1941 or 1942 green, four-door Hudson sedan. Police said its interior obviously had been soaked with gasoline before it was set ablaze.

Police were attempting to trace ownership through the motor number.

Late Member Honored

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a resolution honoring the memory of the late Charles VanBuskirk who was a board member for several years prior to 1919 and later was employed by Pontiac city.

Population of Greater Tokyo is 7,593,000, an increase of about 358,000 in one year.

Inspection Set for Bicycles Here Tomorrow

Pontiac's annual bicycle inspection and issuing of licenses will begin tomorrow morning at 9 in the Wilson School, Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, reported today.

The yearly event, which will include every school here, is cooperatively sponsored by the Safety Committee, Pontiac Police Dept., the Optimist Club and the schools.

Over 2,000 bicycles will be inspected and licensed during the 2-week program, said Haskill who is contacting parochial schools for participation in the event.

Taking an integral part in the bike inspections, Glenn Husted, Wilson School principal and chairman of the Safety Committee of the Principals' Assn., is drawing up a schedule of inspection tours for other schools.

Hospital Conversion Bill Goes to Senate

LANSING (UP) — The Senate State Affairs Committee today approved a bill to convert the Howell Tuberculosis Sanatorium into a mental hospital.

The committee voted six to one to send the bill to the senate for full debate.

Committee Chairman Perry Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said he believes conversion would be "the logical thing to do under the circumstances. The state tuberculosis hospitals have empty beds while mental institutions are overcrowded."

Probate Judge Arthur Moore, Pontiac, suggested last month that the Howell Sanatorium be converted to house mentally deficient children being turned away from the overcrowded State Home and Training School at Lapeer.

Painless Dentistry Seen in Few Years

DETROIT (UP) — The dentist who tells his patient to "open wide—it won't hurt a bit" will be telling the absolute truth a few years from now, 3,000 Michigan dentists were told today.

Chief attraction at the 98th annual meeting of the Michigan State Dental Assn. which opened Monday was the cavitron, an instrument that drills teeth with sound waves.

Dr. Carl R. Oman of New York, professor of dentistry at Columbia University, told the opening session of the three-day meeting that dentistry by ultrasonics may well become a standard dental operating procedure in the future.

However, there are still some ultrasonic bugs to be ironed out of the cavitron before it can be used by any practitioner of dentistry, Dr. Oman pointed out.

The University of Michigan is one of the few places in the nation where the cavitron is being perfected. Dr. Floyd A. Peyton, professor of dental materials in the U. of M. school of dentistry, is in charge of experimental work with the cavitron at Ann Arbor.

Man Pleads Innocent on Two Driving Charges

Arnett Fink, 28, of 444 E. Pike St., charged with drunk driving and leaving the scene of an accident, pleaded innocent yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and posted a $400 bond pending trial April 27.

Fink was apprehended Saturday by Waterford Township Police Chief Frank J. VanAtta after, he said, Fink's auto struck a Pontiac patrolman's car and left the scene. During the brief chase by VanAtta, Fink's auto struck another on Clark street. No injuries were reported.

Youth Gets Probation

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Gerald R. Watkins, 17, of 28730 Grand River, Farmington, was placed on one-year probation and assessed $50 costs by Judge H. Russel Holland.

Watkins admitted April 11 carrying a concealed shotgun in his car when arrested April 6.

U. of M. Project Visited by Army

3 High Officials View Secret Center Located at Willow Run

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Three high-ranking Army officials today visited the University of Michigan's secret "Project Michigan," designed to develop methods of gathering accurate up-to-date combat information.

One of several classified projects at the Willow Run Research Center, "Project Michigan" was the center of a controversy involving the movement of an Air Force reserve unit to Willow Run Airport recently.

Dr. Newbern Smith, Project Michigan supervisor, said there was no connection between the visit and the Air Force controversy.

The Army officials were Frank H. Higgins, assistant secretary for logistics, research and development; U. M. Milton II, assistant secretary for manpower and reserve forces, and Brig. Gen. W. P. Corderman, chief of research and development division of the office of the chief signal office.

Project Michigan was begun in 1953 and deals with highly refined optics and other means of detection.

Beaten Girl Still Listed as 'Critical'

Victim of a brutal attack a week ago, Cindy Lynne Montgomery, 4, of 575 E. Mansfield Ave., today was reported still on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital.

Cindy, who has been in critical condition since last Tuesday, suffered multiple nail punctures and head injury. Doctors previously thought the child had suffered a broken neck, but later learned she hadn't.

Meanwhile, Cindy's accused 12-year-old attacker Terry Allen Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. King of 255 W. Fairmont St., is held in the Oakland County Children's home, awaiting a hearing April 26 in juvenile court. Sanity test for the boy also had been ordered.

Dulles Says Aide Released Papers

that a confirmation cable from London was on its way to me."

Thus the papers were, by Dulles' account, given to the Times before the British formally agreed to publication.

But Dulles said the British ambassador had "indicated his concurrence" to publication on March 15. In a telephone conversation with the ambassador that morning, Dulles said, "I said I would advise Sir Anthony Eden (now Prime Minister and then Foreign Secretary) of my views" that publication should not be delayed longer.

* * *

"I sent a message to Sir Anthony saying that I thought it undesirable to perpetuate a situation which created an atmosphere of mystery and concealment and that, accordingly, unless he felt strongly against it, I proposed to publish."

The papers themselves set off political battle. Many Republicans said the published record supports claims that former President Roosevelt made unwise and unnecessary concessions to Russia at the 1945 conference. Democrats contend the concessions were needed to get the Soviet Union into the war against Japan.

* * *

The "side" remarks the committee wants to ask Dulles about include one in which Roosevelt is quoted as toasting the liquidation of 50,000 German officers, and one by former British Prime Minister Churchill saying he didn't have much use for the Polish people.

Thieves Loot Apartment of Singer Pearl Bailey

NEW YORK (UP)—The Greenwich Village apartment of Pearl Bailey, star of the hit musical "House of Flowers," has been looted of $17,000 in furs and jewelry, police reported today.

She told police that five days ago she took some $40,000 worth of jewels from the apartment to her bank vault.

Democrat Women Set Workshop on Saturday

LANSING (UP) — Michigan Democratic women will meet Saturday in Lansing for a day-long workshop on party organization, the Democratic State Central Committee said today.

Subject of the meeting is "Recipes for Successful Women's Activities." The program was arranged by Mrs. Burnette Staebler of Ann Arbor, wife of the Democratic state chairman.

Eugene McCarthy, Democratic congressman from Minnesota, will be the principal speaker.

Oakland May Join Macomb in Study of Critical Water Problem in Area

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted to name seven of its members to round out a 13-person water-study group being formed by the county's plan commission.

The move was requested by the commission which has been studying Oakland's water problem since January 1953, through a water study committee.

It has been definitely decided, he stated, that the Detroit water system will include "generally the area south of the north line of Royal Oak Township. Areas north of this will be required to look elsewhere for their water.

"There is a definite trend of industrial and residential expansion north of Detroit, extending well up into Oakland and Macomb Counties." This will spread farther, he stated, if adequate water and sewage systems can be provided.

All present information indicates areas north of the Detroit system and east of and including Pontiac cannot supply enough ground water for any great expansion, said Goodspeed.

The Macomb County Supervisors, he said, have also established a water committee.

The Oakland water group will attempt to work out a program with Macomb looking toward solving both counties' water problems by bringing a long-range supply from the Great Lakes, said Goodspeed.

If no agreement can be reached with Macomb, then Oakland should investigate the plan itself, under the commission's recommendation.

Speed is necessary, Goodspeed pointed out, because even if an organization is set up "many years may pass before its work can become effective.

"For many years we've done nothing but talk," he asserted, "now we've got to study the economic, fiscal and legal problems involved and turn the talk into action."

Area Hospital Directors Will Meet Here Tonight

The Oakland County Hospital Directors' Association will meet tonight at 6:30 p.m., with Pontiac General Hospital acting as the host hospital.

One of the most important items to be discussed is "Hospital Participation in Hospital Week," which is upcoming May 8-14.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners, Residents Debate Eton Buffer Strip

BIRMINGHAM — Anxious residents of the only Birmingham area where homes and factories meet will learn next Monday evening whether the city will create a landscaped "buffer" strip by acquiring two lots at the end of each block where six side streets enter Eton Rd.

After heated argument by several dozen residents of the South Eton area last night, the city commission agreed to give an answer next week on whether it will try to acquire the lots from a real estate developer or merely provide parkways on a widened Eton Rd.

Industry on the east side of Eton would bear the brunt of the expense if the latter plan were followed. Acquiring the lots for a wide buffer area would require creating a special assessment district and charging property owners on the six streets an average of $400, City Manager Donald C. Egbert estimated.

The city's plan for a widened Eton calls for three 11-foot traffic lanes, a parking strip and parkway which would be 21½ feet wide on the residential side and 11½ on the industrial side.

The commission also instructed City Attorney Forbes S. Hascall to prepare a resolution for the permanent dedication of Shain Park, the civic center area which voters at the spring election said, by about 3½ to 1, should not be turned into a parking lot.

Commissioner Mrs. Florence Willett described the park as "the core of the fruit that is Birmingham." She deplored the tendency to provide needed paving and sewers for outlying areas while "forgetting the heart of the city."

The permanent dedication was requested by a group of citizens who had started the campaign to keep the park where it is.

Joe Haas of the Pontiac Press staff will be the speaker at the Birmingham Lions' Club meeting at the community house Wednesday noon. He will talk on his travels.

Death Takes Member of Pioneer Family

He was born June 13, 1885 at 1090 Voorheis Rd. Pontiac, the son of the late James K. and Lucinda S. Voorheis.

His grandfather, Isaac Voorheis, who took up 160 acres from the government was one of the first white settlers in Oakland County and his aunt, Lucy Ann Voorheis was the first white child born here.

James K Boulevard was named after Mr. Voorheis' father and the streets in Pioneer Highlands after members of the Voorheis family.

Mr. Voorheis was employed in the State Highway Department, Lansing until 10 years ago when he retired.

Also surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Oscar (Myra) Goss of South Bend, Ind., Mrs. Samuel (Ruth) Coultis of Calgary, Alberta, Mrs. Peter (Susie) Davidson and Mrs. Russell (Hazel) Rogers, both of Pontiac.

Service will be Thursday at 2 p.m. from the D. N. Cooley Funeral Home on S. Gratiot Ave., Mt. Clemens, with Reader Clarence Cherbaneau officiating. Burial will follow in the Clinton Grove Mausoleum.

Sam Porumb

Sam Porumb, 60, of 250 Dick St. died Sunday morning at his home. He had been ill six months.

Born Oct. 6, 1894 in Rumania, he was the son of Andrew Porumb.

Coming here from Dayton, Ohio, 25 years ago, he was a member of the St. George Rumanian Church and was employed by the Pontiac Motor Division. He had worked previously at the Wilson Foundry.

Surviving is a nephew, Sylvester Cojecar of Pontiac.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. from the St. George Rumanian Church with the Rev. Ted Scala officiating. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery. His body is at the Pursley Funeral Home.

Re-elect Sparks Tax Allocation Board Chairman

In an organizational meeting yesterday, the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board re-elected County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks as chairman.

The board will meet again early in May after the state equalized property valuation has been announced.

Under a State Supreme Court decision made last year, counties such as Oakland with fractional school districts overlapping county boundaries, must assess local taxes on the state equalized valuation.

The Oakland rate previously has been figured on lower county equalization ($5.14 per $1,000 of property valuation last year.)

If the same rate were continued under higher state equalization, the result would be increased tax bills to property owners.

The tax board's job this spring will be to set a new rate on state equalized figures which will bring in the $6,063,512 which the 1956 county budget calls for from taxes.

Other board members are Harcourt S. Patterson, of Pontiac; James Thorburn, of Royal Oak; Howard Warner, of Farmington; Auditor Robert Y. Moore, and Superintendent of Schools William J. Emerson.

Detroit Girl Injured in Two-Car Collision

Miss Pani Todson, 16, of Detroit, was treated for cuts and bruises by a private physician in Oxford Monday after the car in which she was riding collided with another on Drahner road near M-24.

The driver, Richard Trapp, 16, of Detroit, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he lost control after his car ran onto the road embankment. His car crossed the center line and struck one being driven by Edward Barnes, 39, of Oxford Township.

Wolfson in Windy City to Prepare for Meeting

CHICAGO (INS) — Louis E. Wolfson, who is battling Sewell L. Avery for control of Montgomery Ward and Co., arrives in Chicago today to take charge of preparations for Friday's important stockholders' meeting.

The outcome of the heated proxy fight between Wolfson and Avery, chairman of Ward, may not be known for at least three weeks.

Genesee County Judge Will Hear Case Here

Genesee County Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth will be in Pontiac tomorrow to hear a case in Oakland County Circuit Court, according to Assignment Clerk C. Richard Smith.

The case is a civil suit in which a Royal Oak attorney is plaintiff and the three Oakland judges thought it best to ask an outside jurist to handle it, Smith explained.

A veteran circuit judge, Roth was an unsuccessful candidate for the State Supreme Court in the April 4 election.

Gets Year Probation

After admitting April 11 to felonious assault, John L. Shaw, 30, of 55 Elizabeth St., was placed on one-year probation by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Shaw was accused of attacking a man at Bagley and Wessen Sts. April 1. He will spend the first 60 days in Oakland County Jail.

Eisenhower Wants High Honor for Salk

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower wants to honor Dr. Jonas Salk, the discoverer of an effective polio vaccine, with "the highest civilian award our nation could give."

And if Congress acts swiftly enough, the chief executive may be able to do so when Salk visits the White House Friday to receive Eisenhower's congratulations on behalf of all Americans.

The award Eisenhower wants to present to Salk hasn't even been authorized by Congress yet, but he hopes it will have been by Friday afternoon.

Portrait of Shy Genius

Einstein Shunned Public Flattery

(Editor's Note: One of the greatest mathematicians of all time is dead at 76. Albert Einstein died in Princeton, N. J., where he had lived more than two decades. Here, in the first of a series of three stories, is a portrait of what the great scientist was really like, behind his shy, kindly smile.)

By FRANCES LEWINE

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—All his life Albert Einstein wished he could have been permitted to do his work without the disturbing influence of fame.

The world famous mathematician and physicist, who died Monday at the age of 76, once pleaded:

"Let every man be respected as an individual and no man idolized.

"It is an irony of fate that I, myself, have been the recipient of excessive admiration and respect from my fellows through no fault of my own."

* * *

Public attention began for this unusually shy and modest man at the age of 26, when he presented his theory of relativity to the world.

The reward for his startlingly new ideas was heaps of honors, offers of fortune, the Nobel Prize and the constant gaze of the curious public.

Einstein responded by turning down fortune for a quiet, modest existence devoted to study. He shrank from publicity.

* * *

More than 20 years of his life were spent in the quiet university town of Princeton, N.J., where he had a lifetime job as head of the school of mathematics at the Institute for Advanced Study.

Einstein's theories—hailed as among the greatest in the history of the sciences—were understood by very few. But they were written about and discussed freely by those who had the mental capacity to understand them. Einstein himself was always ready to talk about his work. But the door was slammed on the inquirer wanting simply to know about Einstein.

GETS AEC POST — Brig Gen. K. E. Fields, 46, has been appointed general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission. The Elkhart, Ind., soldier succeeds Maj. Gen. K. D. Nichols, who resigned.

* * *

March 14th each year—the anniversary of Einstein's birth in 1879 in Ulm, Germany—was an occasion for seeking some celebra- mathematician and physicist.

Sometimes Einstein complied, but mostly he took the stand: "What is there to celebrate; birthdays are automatic things; birthdays are for children!"

Another outward symbol of Einstein's deprecation of self was his disregard for clothes and appearance.

* * *

His hair, in later years completely grey, was usually uncut and bushy. He had a scraggly mustache, wore baggy trousers and preferred well-worn sweatshirts and sweaters to starched shirts.

Once at a formal dinner when others were eulogizing him. Einstein turned to author Fannie Hurst and confided: "You know, I never wear socks."

When his wife once objected to his baggy look, he quoted Spinoza to her: "It would be a sad situation if the bag was better than the neat wrapped in it."

At Princeton, Einstein was associated with many other world-famous scientists. For years, he carried on his daily routine on a timetable schedule. At precisely 1 p.m., he left his institute office, usually deep in discussion with a colleague. He always walked the mile across clipped lawns and through tree-lined streets to his unpretentious home.

* * *

"I call him Einstein. He's my friend," one little blond boy said proudly.

* * *

He did not own a car. But great limousines frequently were seen before his modest home, bringing such world figures as Nehru of India and Ben-Gurion of Israel to his door.

Among the personal accomplishments Einstein hid from public view was his violin playing. Acknowledged as a fine musician, he sometimes performed for gatherings of friends. He made a few public appearances, but only for charity benefits.

But he loved to sail and frequently spent summer vacations at lake resorts.

* * *

Humor and compassion are seen most frequently in the glimpses Einstein gave of himself.

Once in China, he refused to ride in a ricksha, announcing: "I will not be a part of the making of man a draft animal." He relented, though, when his wife pointed out that he would be depriving the man of a livelihood.

He could always stand back and take a laughing look at himself.

He admitted in 1944 that he had to call in a tax expert to help prepare his income tax form.

* * *

When an expectant audience burst into applause at his entrance at a meeting, Einstein whispered to a friend: "I think they ought to wait to see what I say."

He once said of himself:

"I am happy because I want nothing from anyone, but I do get pleasure out of the appreciation of my fellow workers."

(Tomorrow: Einstein's social conscience.)

Strong Man Floored After Winning Cigar

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Merle Albright is a strong man and when he came upon a strength-testing machine in the amusement zone he decided to find out how strong.

He picked up a hammer yesterday and came down with a mighty blow that sent the indicator zooming up the shaft until it rang the bell.

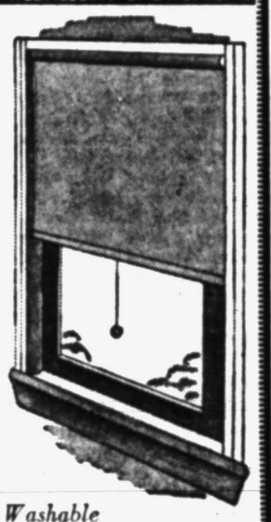

But Albright didn't hear the bell. At Seaside Hospital it was explained to him that the hammer had rebounded and struck him atop the head, inflicting a two-inch cut.

Say Tax Refund Due McCarthy

Internal Revenue Men Reported Finished With Probe of Finances

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service was understood today to have cleared Sen. McCarthy's income tax record after a detailed investigation of his finances.

Various informed sources reported last night the Wisconsin Republican had been granted an income tax refund for the years 1946-1952. One report said the refund was $1,056. Another version placed it at $1,046.75.

* * *

In Des Moines, Iowa, State Department Security Chief R. W. Scott McLeod, a friend of McCarthy's, said he had been informed that T. Coleman Andrews, Internal Revenue commissioner, had notified McCarthy last Friday that he had a refund due him. McLeod said he understood it is over $1,000.

The revenue service refused to comment on the McCarthy case.

A Senate elections subcommittee raised questions about McCarthy's financial affairs during a 1951-1952 investigation. However, the subcommittee did not attempt to answer those questions, saying in its report that McCarthy had declined to testify on his finances.

* * *

The matter was turned over to the Internal Revenue Service which then began its long investigation. The subcommittee report also went to the Justice Department. In October 1953 Atty. Gen. Brownell said his department had found nothing to show that McCarthy had broken any laws.

The disclosure that McCarthy apparently has received a tax refund indicates the Wisconsin senator was able to furnish records or other evidence sufficient to convince the Revenue Service the amounts in question were gifts and donations—and thus were not taxable income.

Ladies and Gentlemen— stay seated!

EVER see a "hardtop" where the front-seat passengers didn't have to move to let someone from the rear get out?

You see one pictured here. It's the Buick Riviera with four doors—and it's fast becoming the biggest hit in hardtops since Buick originated the first one six years ago.

But look again, if you please, at this brand-new kind of automobile.

Yet it's also a true sedan—with separate doors to the rear compartment. So here you have the much-wanted convenience of four-door entry and exit—plus rear-seat legroom and headroom as extra generous as a Buick-size family sedan.

As we said, this rock-firm beauty is headed for the best-seller lists—and for more reasons than just style and comfort.

It's tagged at really modest prices—for it's available in Buick's budget-priced SPECIAL Series and the medium-priced 236-hp CENTURY Series.

And you can have it with the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—the "switch pitch" wonder drive that's taking the country by storm.

So why not drop in on us and test-pilot a new Buick—just for the sheer thrill of it?

That way you can also take a firsthand look at the 4-Door Riviera—and judge for yourself how smart it is to place your order promptly for what is very definitely the last word in automobiles.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Local Delivered Price of the 1955 Buick SPECIAL 2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan, Model 48 (illustrated) is $2267.88

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

Top Brains Work by Numbers

BALTIMORE (AP)— Management may have tipped its hand to the enlisted men of industry today and let leak the secret of how a big boss makes up his mind.

He does it by arithmetic.

The secret slipped out in a technical paper at the four-day diamond jubilee (75th) meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Using a formula once locked tightly in the breasts of the big brass, an employe can now calculate right down to the dollar the financial risk involved in playing hookey from work.

* * *

This brainy type wants to build a plant in California, but he has heard a lot about earthquake damage there.

It is assumed for the sake of this example (the paper said) that he finds the cost of insurance too high, and is therefore left to his own evaluation.

He figures the probable damage from former "quakes to a $100,000 plant at $50,000 with another $50,000 going down the drain from loss of prospective sales and unavailable capital.

* * *

The probability of a severe earthquake at the location of his 20,000 square foot plant over the 10-year period of financial strain is figured at one in 2,000. Geologists told him that.

Thus, he calculates the "expected cost" of earthquakes over the next 10 years by arithmetic. He multiplies $100,000 (the probable damage) by 1-2,000 (probable rate of occurrence) and gets $50.

Finding that the "expected cost" from former 'quakes to a $100,000 minor item, our executive makes his decision and eliminates earthquake damage as a serious consideration in his plans.

He learns from the local employment office that it takes the average guy one month to find a new job. Therefore, he sets down as the probable damage a month's salary—$350.

He knows his buddy played hookey four times before he got sacked.

Our genius now multiplies $350 by ¼ (the risk odds) and comes up with $87.50, the "expected cost" of pulling a fast one on the boss.

So he goes to work. There isn't a fish in the world worth $87.50.

THE RED EMPIRE—Newsmap shows huge land area and vast numbers of people now under Communist control. Communist countries of Europe and Asia occupy 13,038,653 square miles, one quarter of the world's land area. Their population totals 941,868,086 people, almost 38 per cent of the world's 2½-billion population. Small maps show the tremendous growth of Communist control in the 10 years since the Reds started their drive after World War II.

Water Survey Proposal Deserves Legislative OK

Slated for consideration in the State Senate this week is a measure of vital importance to the five counties of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Genesee and Lapeer.

The bill was introduced by State Senator William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak. Its provisions in general duplicate those of a bill approved last year by the House but killed in a Senate committee.

The measure would authorize a request by the State Water Resources Commission for $20,000 so that it could match the counties' contribution in financing a long needed water survey. It is hoped and expected that this survey will point the way to means of bringing Great Lakes water to communities now facing probable serious shortages.

No community in this five county area has more at stake in this matter than Pontiac. A week ago City Manager Willman urged the City Commission to take the lead in efforts to find new water resources.

His stand was based on the known facts that despite the drilling of new wells our underground water resources are steadily diminishing as demand grows with the growth of the city. Pontiac simply can't afford to permit a water shortage which might cripple local industries.

The Broomfield bill should be approved by both branches of the Legislature and signed into law by the Governor.

FBI Working to Curb Bank Robbery Upsurge

The recent $305,000 robbery of a New York City bank's branch is a disturbing reminder of the rapid increase in this form of crime.

Fortunately the FBI, chief nemesis of bank bandits, is working with the banks and expects to reverse this trend. The rate at which bank robberies have increased is revealed in the 1954 report of FBI Chief, J. Edgar Hoover.

Back in fiscal 1951 there were 244 bank robberies in the United States. That number increased to 289 in 1952 and to 379 in 1953. In the 12 months ending June 30, 1954, a total of 438 financial institutions were victimized by armed bandits.

★ ★ ★

It would be a grievous mistake, however, to conclude from these figures that the business of bank robbing has become safe. In the last fiscal year the FBI obtained 246 bank robbery convictions. This is an increase of 50 convictions or 25.5 per cent over the preceding 12 month period.

Fines and recoveries in these cases totaled $541,565, sentences imposed total 2,367 years and 63 fugitives were captured.

Germans Reviving Cartels

News from Germany that cartels are coming back has a sinister tone.

Even before V-J Day the stated objective of our Government was the eradication of cartels there and the evils they breed.

As they were then, cartels today are first cousins of our trusts. Whether national or international they restrict production, control prices and allocate markets. Their purpose is purely monopolistic and they act to keep production low and prices and profits high.

Now that Germany is in almost complete control of its internal affairs, reports show that the tide is running strongly in favor of cartels' legal restoration.

A short time ago the Adenauer government, pursuant to agreement with the Allies, submitted a substitute for the occupation ban on cartels. It was so weakened in parliaments by amendments, however, that free enterprise spokesmen called it virtually useless.

As might have been expected, another proposal to legalize cartels and punish only the abuses was warmly received.

It now is abundantly clear that it was too much to expect occupation legislation to undermine the German's basic fondness for cartels. But it can be hoped that defeat and recovery have modified German opinion and that the Adenauer government will punish abuses traceable to these monoplies.

$1,500,000 Recommended for Improvement in This Area

Figures: What may not lie—but they often girdle the truth.

Arthur C. Elmer,

Chief of the Park Division of the Michigan State Conservation Commission. He recommends that the commission spend $1,500,000 this year in expanding facilities in seven recreational areas, all of which are in Oakland County or near its borders. They are Bald Mountain, Ortonville, Holly, Metamora, Brighton, Island Lake and Pinckney. He says, "This must be done to take care of the booming population in that area." The commission already owns enough land here, Mr. Elmer states, and the funds should be spent entirely for improvements, without any further acreage expansion. A complete study and survey now is under way.

It was on a summer day in 1920 that we paused at a crude roadside stand in Royal Oak for a glass of a new orange drink. There we met

Roy Hedge,

The Rats Start Sniffing

James Marlow Says:

Relaxed Controls Asked for Transport Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — It might seem Washington would have enough to talk about if it stuck to just a few things, like the Yalta papers, the chance of a Red Chinese attack, or the firing of Edward Corsi from the State Department.

But now a special advisory committee of the President has recommended the government relax its controls on the transportation industry to allow greater competition among railroads, airlines, trucks and water carriers.

What do relaxed controls and greater competition mean? If you owned a railroad you might like it. But if you owned a fleet of freight trucks, competing with a railroad, you probably wouldn't like it at all.

* * *

The White House had hardly made the recommendations public before Neil J. Curry, president of the American Trucking Assn., blasted them:

"If the President and the Congress follow the recommendations, it will be the biggest step backward in American transportation history . . . No independent form of transportation can long survive the unbridled money power of the railroads."

The report, made by a committee of President Eisenhower's Cabinet members whom he appointed last July 12 to "review transportation policies and problems," was released last night.

It will cause talk. Nothing is likely to come of it unless Eisenhower backs it up by sending it to Congress, with recommendations of his own and a detailed explanation of the changes he wants. And then Congress may ignore it.

* * *

The report, one of the most poorly written to come out of the White House, is full of special jargon which might be understood by transportation specialists but not by ordinary citizens.

It is full of concern for the money losses of the railroads. It complains there is too much government regulation of transportation. It says the whole country will benefit by fewer regulations intended to create stiffer competition.

The government first began to regulate transportation in 1887 with the creation by Congress of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It was set up to regulate railroad rates and services.

* * *

Congress gradually expanded ICC's powers by giving it added fields to regulate: Pipe lines (1906) motor carriers or trucks (1935), water carriers (1940). The Civil Aeronautics Board regulates airlines.

One thing seems clear from the report, if its recommendations were followed: The power of the ICC to regulate transportation would be weakened. It was railroad abuses 68 years ago—rate discrimination, overcharging, monopoly—which led to the creation of ICC.

The committee's report was supposed to have been submitted to the President last December. It was, according to the understanding in Washington, but was then shuttled back and forth between the White House and the committee for changes.

Baering Down

(International News Service)

Glad to state our ever-normal granary up Canada-ways is having no ten-ton truck with world upstrakes.

The Canucks take their hockey as serious as a hanging judge. When it comes to war they fight at the drop of a hat. And it doesn't have to fit.

But in these piping times of peace they hit the pipe. They had a sixteen-nation meerschaum coloring tournament in Montreal some weeks ago. It was won by a citizen of Copenhagen who kept 3.3 grams of burley stoked for 99 minutes.

Just to prove their ability at free-hand capers a fellow in Quebec played the piano for 30 hours and 30 minutes. While we were worrying about atomic fallouts he was running glissandos on the horizontal escalator. They primed him with brandy eggnogs.

We might state that one Quebec eggnog will give you air pockets under your teepee.

Up in Halifax a contestant swallowed thirty-six oysters on the half-shell in eleven seconds. And an extra dozen on the whole shell.

There was a time when we were happy and gay setting on flag poles, nesting in trees, rollering in skating marathons, dancing for distance and wearing out four shoes in three-legged races.

Since we've become global-intellectual we have been bogged down on parallels, stuffed with meridians and scared to scatter cellophane wrappers at picnics. While we have been worrying about Matsu and Quemoy our Canadian neighbors held a rocking chair Olympics. It was won by a baker rocking ninety-two hours in a car dealer's showroom. That's living.

Pontiac High School Band Commended for Fine Concert Recently Presented

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like to commend the fine concert the Pontiac High School Band presented last Thursday evening. Under the leadership of Mr. Dale C. Harris and guest conductor Mr. Ralph Hermann, the band members displayed an ability for shading, balance, tone, and finesse in the compositions that were presented on the program.

These qualities are just a few of the reasons why the Pontiac High School Band has become one of the finest bands in the United States and has won a fine reputation throughout the years.

Many of you Pontiac people do not realize the long hours Mr. Harris and the band members must spend in rehearsals to present a concert of such high quality.

To you people who are always complaining that Pontiac does not offer any entertainment, it is about time you take the advantage and the privilege of attending future band concerts.

I salute the Instrumental Music Department and the band members who participate in the system.

Oxford Calf Scramble Shocking, Say Writers

I wish to express my indignation of such spectacles as the "Calf Scramble" recently held in Oxford and sponsored by their Chamber of Commerce.

It is incredible that a group of civilized adults would sanction and enjoy as entertainment the maltreatment of dumb creatures. I am informed that boys from 14 to 17 years were encouraged by the noisy crowd to use any means of cruelty to capture and subdue a steer.

In the melee, one animal died of strangulation and others were observed bleeding and terrified before the "sport" was stopped by Albert Sundell, the Oakland County Humane Officer.

A boy who is cruel to an animal will invariably grow up to be a menace to society. It has been established that many of the most dangerous criminals were those who in early life were cruel to helpless animals, taking delight in abusing and killing them.

We take from our animals milk, fleece, hide, flesh — in fact everything to give us life. Could we not give them in return, a small measure of human kindness?

Charlotte W. Taylor,
Secretary Oakland County
Animal Welfare Society
987 Ann Arbor
Birmingham

I wonder whether the people of Oxford realize how shocked the thinking people of the rest of the state were when they heard of the "Calf Wrestling" contest held on the 13th of April by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city.

Not only was it a pitiful sight to see the frightened calves brutally handled and abused, but it was also a terrible, efficient way of encouraging boys to be cruel. The world might be a better place if we all remembered that "Blessed are the Merciful."

We wish to commend Mr. Sundell of the Oakland County Humane Society for his handling of a difficult situation.

'Some Divorces Just, Some Unjust'

In answer to "V. C," I agree that many of your thoughts are true. Let's say divorces are just and unjust. I presume your husband is loyal, hard working and his paychecks are dependable. He probably makes a supreme effort to give his family security to the best of his ability.

Through divorce, I was relieved of heartbreaking, backbreaking burdens and uncertainty. I have no more worries for the bare necessities of existence, no more drunks to sober. Through divorce and remarriage, I have found contentment, security, kindness, and a helping hand forever there when needed.

Those who divorce without justification never find happiness in doing wrong to the innocent partner who has tried but to no avail.

'Teenager' Backs Idea to Give Dr. Salk Car

I wish to congratulate "Pontiac Mother" for her gallant suggestion that we reward Dr. Salk with a Pontiac car.

It would show our appreciation for taking the burden of polio off our shoulders. I cannot think of a more appropriate gift to present to Dr. Salk.

It will remind him that the people of Oakland County had a place in their hearts for him.

Dislikes Earl Wilson Column in Press

Is it not time that we look at the terrible results that are present in the younger generation because of blatant exposure to sex, passion and sin through the medium of the theater, many of the programs on TV, and even our home newspaper?

Regardless of the appeal that a column such as Earl Wilson's may have for a certain class of people, its effect and influence is bad. Let's get rid of it.

I want to ask you for your hand . . . And yet I do not dare . . . Because I am not able now . . . To keep you in my care . . . I know your parents would object . . . And they would be correct . . . And I could not oppose them and . . . Retain my self-respect . . . I know that you are willing, love . . . And we might make the grade . . . And, oh, believe me, dearest one . . . My heart is not afraid . . . I do not worry for myself . . . But I must think of you . . . As you rejoice or suffer by . . . Whatever I may do . . . We might succeed or we might fail . . . However we might try . . . But, oh, my love, I would not take . . . The chance that you might cry.

Smiles

Clever Horse

The husband and wife were having breakfast, the former ensconced behind the newspaper.

"You had a very restless night, dear," said his wife, "and what's more, you kept murmuring a woman's name in your sleep. Now who is Daisy?"

"Oh—er," he stammered, "the fact is, my dear, Daisy is a filly I backed yesterday. It won, ten to one, and here is your share." He handed his wife five dollars, and hid himself once more behind his newspaper. In the evening, when he returned to dinner, his wife once more returned to the attack.

"By the way, dear," she said, "you know that horse you backed yesterday?"

"Yes," he grunted.

Can't Write

A man-about-town was in serious trouble and called up his lawyer.

"It's a dirty trick," he screamed into the 'phone, "a dirty trick."

The lawyer soothed him with "calm down, calm down and tell me what's the trouble."

"The girl's husband has made a horrible mistake," screamed the man. "He's named me as co-respondent in a divorce suit, and I can't even write!"

Wives Often Satisfy Gastric Appetite, Ignore Romantic Hunger of Husbands

Wives, listen to Tim. He tells you the husband's viewpoint. And almost every marriage, even those that are deemed happy, confronts this same dilemma. A successful modern wife must tantalize her husband with romantic calories, as well as meat and potatoes.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-308: Tim J., aged 31, is the irate husband of Teresa whom we mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, I'll admit that I bawl out my wife in no uncertain terms," Tim admitted, reluctantly. "And she is correct in saying I have even picked on her parents, too. For when I blow up at her, I explode on anybody or anything that is connected with her.

"But here's my side of the story. I work hard and turn over my full pay check to Teresa every week. And I try to do my share of the work at home and play with the children.

"Then, when I feel romantic, Teresa may say, 'I'm too tired' or else she will add, 'Let's wait till Sunday.'

"Now I admit that she is a wonderful wife and mother. But I go berserk at times like those just mentioned and for several days I call her all sorts of names and am as snarlish as a tiger."

The second most powerful hunger in the male is erotic, including sex in all of its romantic aspects.

But this second basic hunger causes more domestic feuds and divorces than the primary hunger of mankind, which is gastric (including self-preservation).

Furthermore, most wives are on guard about man's gastric hunger. In fact, new brides usually purchase two or three cook books and soon offer their hunbands more food than they need.

Most wives even tantalize their husbands with fancy dishes and rich pastries until the average husband after 10 years of marriage has put on extra weight.

But the average wife fails to spend even 10 per cent as much effort remaining a seductive sweetheart to her husband.

She often rebuffs him, as Teresa has done to Tim, either by her fear of pregnancy or her fatigue and lessened erotic hunger, since the average wife is much less ardent than her husband.

At the age of 25, a man's gastric and erotic appetites are both greater than when he is 45.

But his wife will tantalize her 45-year-old husband's gastric appetite until he still consumes as many calories as at 25, which is why middle-aged males have a roll of excess upholstery around their equator.

But she fails to tantalize his erotic hunger. Although it tends to

When natural romantic hunger diminishes, it can still be revived by various devices of a psychological nature.

Every wife who has been married 10 years should learn to whet her husband's ardor, even though she doesn't feel hungry for the extra romancing.

For this is man's secret dread, namely, premature impotence! It causes divorces even in the mid-thirties when wives grow sluggish and unaware of the true facts. That was Teresa's failure in dealing with Tim.

Send for my medico-psychological booklet, "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus a dime.

Teresa changed her husband into a happy, calm personality by using the advice therein and thus saving herself from a divorce.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Enlarged Thymus Gland Found in Healthy Babies

By William Brady, M. D.

The favorite hobby or sport of a husky college freshman aged 19 is mountain climbing. It seems that the more difficult and dangerous the climb the better he likes it.

Oddly enough, when he was a baby he would become frightened if you tossed him or even lifted him high, in the play-babies usually like. Also the baby had what the doctors called enlarged thymus gland. The diagnosis was confirmed, the doctors said, by X-ray.

The baby breathed noisily, both inspiration and expiration, all the time, and occasionally had a spell of difficult breathing resembling asthma.

Extension of the neck aggravated the breathing difficulty; flexion or bending the neck relieved it.

Along with the breathing difficulty the baby sometimes looked cyanotic, bluish or livid, instead of the warm pink one expects in a baby.

Temper brought on or aggravated all these symptoms.

Up to this point the medical story seems justified for the sake of reassuring anxious parents. But we can't go one step beyond this point, not in a health column. Nor in a personal letter.)

When the baby was about three years old he fell into the hands of a group of trick specialists who passed him around for all the "tests" the various members of the "clinic" could contrive—and they finally decided to operate—not on the thymus, but on what they diagnosed as adenoid hypertrophy.

The original diagnosis of enlarged thymus gland seemed to answer the classical medical textbook description of a condition known as "status lymphaticus" or "status thymico-lymphaticus." The X-ray film seemed to confirm this phony diagnosis—I say phony now, because we know more about it than we did then.

Among other treatments the boy received was a series of exposures of the upper part of breastbone area to X-rays. The X-ray specialists, enthusiastically playing the guessing game with all the other specialists, thought such treatment would reduce the size of the thymus gland. Sure enough, in the course of a few months X-ray films showed gradual reduction in the size of the gland.

A study of the subject by A. Graeme Mitchell, M. D. and Josef Warkany led to the conclusion that—

"If such a condition as status thymicolymphaticus exists . . . there is no justification for the belief that radiologic X-ray treatment, extirpation of the thymus or administration of thymus extracts would have prevented . . ."

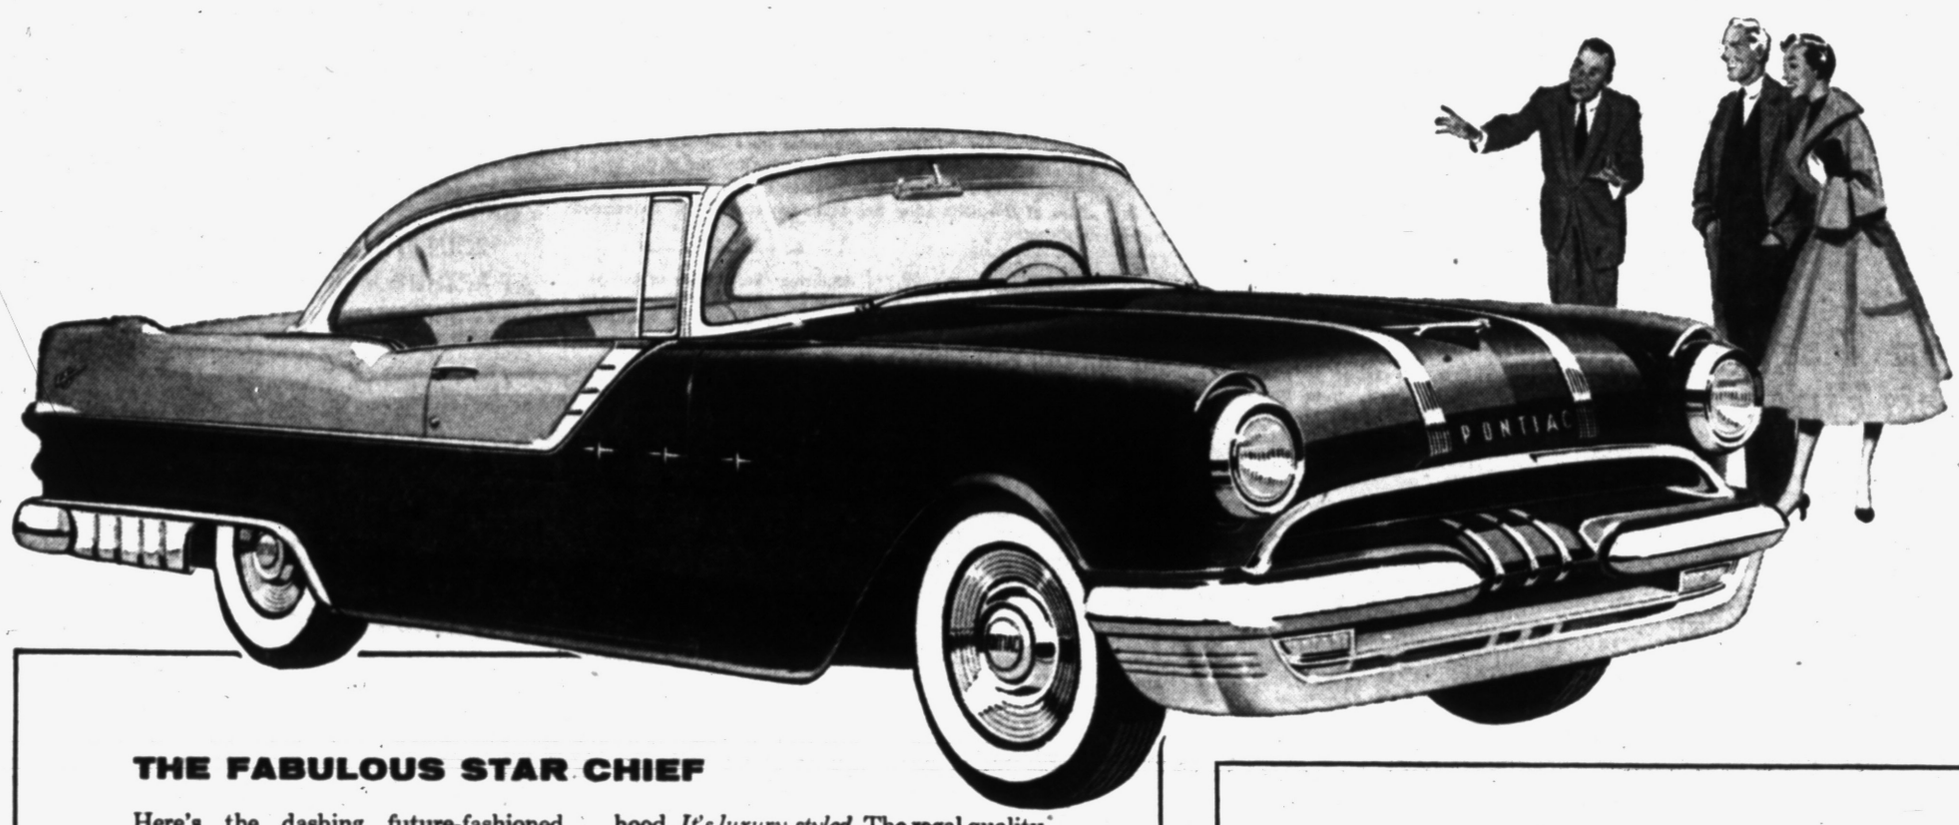

"If such a condition as status thymicolyphaticus exists," these doctors said.

As nearly as I can learn, it doesn't.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

THE FABULOUS STAR CHIEF

Here's the dashing future-fashioned beauty that is taking business from the costliest cars—and no wonder! It's luxury-sized. The roomy body, with Panoramic vision fore and aft, is mounted on a road-leveling 124" wheelbase. It's luxury-powered. The Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor puts 200 blazing horsepower under the handsome hood. It's luxury-styled. The regal quality of fabrics and interior appointments matches that of the highest-priced cars. It's beautifully distinctive—way out front for mode-of-tomorrow styling and smartness. And it's a Pontiac—which means topmost reliability, thrift and resale value, and—the easiest price placed on any big, luxury car!

THE FUTURE-FASHIONED 870

Your favorite body style becomes really new and exciting when it's a Pontiac 870. Choice of Vogue Two-Tone colors is as wide as your imagination. Sumptuous color-keyed interiors reflect your special taste. And it's just as outstanding in all other ways. Outstanding in performance with exclusive Strato-Streak power. Outstanding in comfort and riding ease with a long wheelbase and big-car stability unmatched at the price. Especially outstanding in the wonderful way it handles in traffic, responds with passing power, eases both body and mind on long tours. For luxurious driving at modest cost, you simply can't do better.

THE SPECTACULAR 860

Here is the biggest, smartest, highest-powered car ever priced so low—less than many models of the lowest-priced lines and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes. Yet it's a king-sized car with a 122" wheelbase, delivering 200 "horses" of exciting Strato-Streak V-8 power with the optional power-package. Beauty? Just look! And remember—you can choose from 4 luxurious interiors and some 36 modern color combinations. Never has it been so easy to own a truly fine car!

All with the history-making 200-H.P. Strato-Streak V-8 Engine!

Every model in every line of Pontiacs has the sensational Strato-Streak V-8 engine, one of the most efficient power plants ever developed. Here's more take-off punch, more passing drive and more years of smooth performance than you have ever enjoyed in any car within hundreds of dollars of Pontiac's low cost range. And that applies whether you decide on 180 horsepower or specify the optional, low-cost power-package which moves you up to a mighty 200 horsepower. Either way you get the topmost power per dollar available with any car built today.

Overpopulation Troubles Egypt

1,500 Babies Are Born Every Day While 1,000 Persons Die

With the present population at 23,000,000, there are 1,500 children born every day. The rate of infant mortality has declined in recent years so that now only 18 of 1,500 die before reaching adolescence.

The general death rate is less than 1,000 daily.

Egyptian sociologists said it is practically impossible to increase production and national income to keep pace with the population growth.

Educational and health programs barely meet the increase, and production projects, including land reform and industrialization, can never match it.

They explained that this increase of birth rates is due to the fellaheen (peasants) who form two-thirds of the population.

To the fellah, a child is extra capital which costs nothing, because children start working as hands in the fields or servants in houses as soon as they are old enough to walk, thus adding a bit more revenue to the family's income.

To the fellah's wife, there is more security for her in constantly producing children because her husband, under Moslem law, can easily divorce her for lack of fertility.

Sociologists put forward two inter-dependent solutions.

The first is a countrywide program of obligatory education. This would have the double effect of depriving the fellah's children of their value as immediate capital because of their being obliged to attend schools, as well as spreading education.

The second is to outlaw polygamy and restrict divorce. This, they pointed out, would result in strengthening the female's position in the family as well as bettering the Egyptian family bonds.

The Challenger:

Wolfson Parlays $10,000 Into Vast Financial Empire

By DOUGLAS LARSON

CHICAGO (NEA)—There's nothing small-time about the assets which handsome, 43-year-old Louis Wolfson controls, reliably reported in the vicinity of $750 million.

The profits buy him such baubles as three luxurious houses in Florida, more cars than he keeps track of, a super-plush apartment in New York and expensively tailored clothes.

They permit him to have the suave, former Notre Dame football coach, Frank Leahy, as his constant traveling and business companion, the ready advice of a slick public relations firm always on tap, and the comradeship of such sports figures as Jack Dempsey and Joe Di Maggio.

These things he has won by building a Florida junk business into a financial empire that includes one of the biggest construction firms in the U.S., a huge shipbuilding company, a paint factory, a home appliance firm and Washington's streetcar and bus company, among other interests.

But his bid for a permanent berth in the major league of American finance, putting him in the class of Robert Young, the Vanderbilts, the Fords and Morgans is his fight for control of the $750 million Montgomery Ward mail order firm.

If he wins Ward's, Louis Wolfson will prove beyond doubt that he's more than a flash in the financial pan, that he's ready to take up permanent residence in the top-level financial community.

And it appears to be this goal which Wolfson seeks above all others. This is the opinion of persons who have done business with him and is apparent in his speeches and interviews.

"I won't really be satisfied until every stockholder in the U.S. is protected against unscrupulous or inferior management. And this will result when the abuses I want to correct in Montgomery Ward's management are eliminated in other businesses," he insists.

"And after that I think I will devote my time to fighting juvenile delinquency and communism," he adds.

These things he claims as his long-term goals in life. Then he turns to Frank Leahy, who has been at his side constantly since the Ward fight began, slaps him on the back and says:

"And this fine man is going to help me do that job, too."

In running the meetings of Ward stockholders which the Wolfson group has been holding around the country, Leahy introduces Wolfson as "the Knute Rockne of the business world."

Wolfson is tall, slim and completely relaxed and confident. But he obviously would be more at home swapping sport yarns with Joe DiMaggio than he is making lofty statements about crusades against delinquency and corporate malpractices.

Wolfson has not amassed his fortune with public speaking talent. His speech is an interesting blend of Georgia Cracker and Brooklynese. But he helps make up for a lack of rhetorical polish with a refreshing frankness. At a recent talk to Washington investment experts he was asked if he favored giving out contracts let by his firms on a personal basis.

"You can always count on me giving contracts to friends. That is the way I do business," he said to a startled audience. "But that is only when everything else is equal and they meet the lowest price of a competitor," he added.

Another speaker might have gotton a laugh from that, but Wolfson is a particularly humorless speaker.

"The bankers you have to do business with and your tough competitors teach you all you need to know about getting ahead in the financial world," he says. "The trick is learning from your mistakes, and I made plenty of them," he adds.

Wolfson is at his best when discussing one of the business he controls. "As far as the future of Capital Transit goes we may have to have a 30 or 40 cent fare to keep up profits," he says, for example.

When he discusses Ward's he talks in terms of specific stores which have to be remodeled, ways of improving the mailing rooms and other details which reveal a shrewd business man's analysis of a firm.

Wolfson, who is married and has four children, is the son of a Russian immigrant. He was born in St. Louis and moved to Jacksonville, Fla., with his family when he was 14 months old. His father ran a junk yard and was prosperous enough to send Louis to the University of Georgia with the aid of a football scholarship.

In 1932 Wolfson borrowed $10,000 to start the Florida Pipe & Supply Co. After that there was no holding the young man back in the financial world.

Norway Battles Alky Smuggling

Police Boost Strength to Cope With Increase in Lawbreaking

OSLO (UP) — Three new police cruisers have been stationed in the mouth of the Oslo Fjord to give alcohol smugglers a hard time.

The number of smugglers — profiteering highly on the skyrocketing prices on all kinds of wine and brandy in Norway — has increased heavily during recent months, police claim.

Only a small percentage of the smugglers have been caught, owing to the modern methods they are using and the old-fashioned methods employed by customs and police officials.

Now, this is being changed. The water police force is slowly but surely catching up with the lawbreakers, even if the improvement does not come with the speed they could wish. Lack of funds is still a handicap.

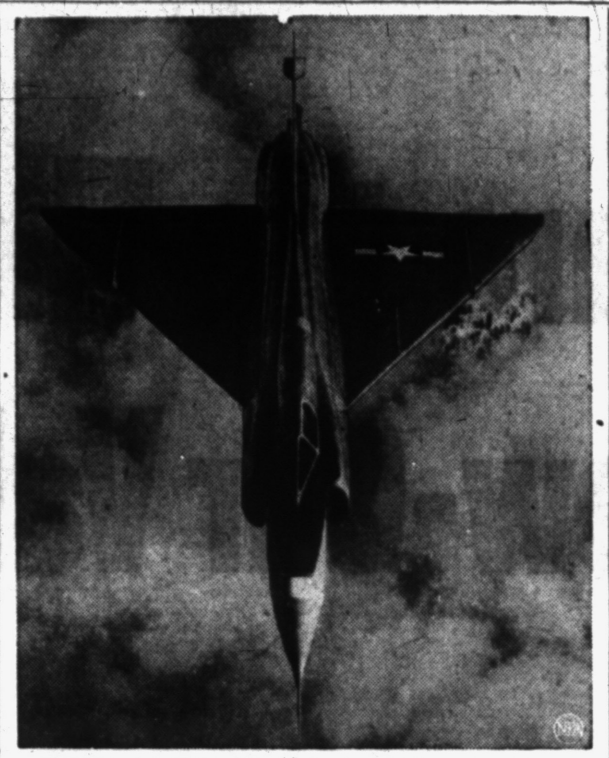

Sources here, who do not want to be identified, claim that an increasing number of Dutch and West German freight vessels engage in the smuggling in Scandinavian waters.

From these vessels, watertight containers filled with alcohol are dropped in the Norwegian fjords. They are fished out later by the Norwegian contacts of the foreigners.

The smuggling of alcohol into Norway has taken such proportions, recent statistics show, that court of justice actions against smugglers this year show the highest number since 1927, the last year of the prohibition period in Norway.

More than 30,000 U. S. tourists visited Ireland in 1954 and spent an estimated $200 each in that country.

Urges Women Push for School Aid Funds

EAST LANSING (UP)—The women of American were urged last night to demand that half a billion dollars in federal aid for school construction be spent annually for the next five years.

Mrs. Agnes E. Meyers, author-journalist and wife of the board chairman of the Washington, D. C., Post and Times-Herald, was the speaker at the Michigan State College symposium on women in the middle years.

"It is high time the women of America act," Mrs. Meyer said, declaring the attitude of the Eisenhower administration toward school aid is one of "indifference."

Mrs. Meyer urged women to telegraph their demands for federal aid to school construction to their senators and representatives in Congress.

Hotel Fire Kills One, Injures Six

2 Still Unaccounted For After Blaze in Chicago; $150,000 Damage

CHICAGO (AP) — One man was killed and six persons, including four firemen, were injured yesterday in an extra alarm fire which destroyed a West Side hotel.

The Red Cross said two men were unaccounted for but firemen delayed further search of the ruins because of the danger of falling debris.

* * *

The fire swept through the four-story Humbolt Park Hotel at 2621 W. North Ave., and spread to two other buildings. About 50 guests in the hotel fled into the street, many escaping down fire escapes. The dead man, Roger Hack, 45, was trapped in his third floor room.

Hack's brother, Arthur, and George Wyman, were reported unaccounted for by Red Cross workers who arranged lodgings and clothing for 42 residents of the hotel.

* * *

Cause of the fire was not determined. Police held for questioning a hotel handyman who they said had started a rubbish fire at the rear of the building. Fire officials estimated the damage at $150,000.

Rep. Reed Better After Suffering Attack in Rome

ROME (AP)—The condition of Rep. Dan Reed (R-NY) was described as "improved" this morning, but his doctor said "he is not yet out of danger."

The 79-year-old congressman from Dunkirk, N.Y., was taken to the Little Company of Mary Hospital Sunday after suffering a heart attack.

His physician, Dr. Domenico Bolognese, said "his condition is satisfactory this morning. He passed a restful night. But his illness is still grave, and he is not yet out of danger."

* * *

Reed came to Rome about 10 days ago to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Interparliamentary Union, an organization of representatives from a number of national parliaments. Friends here said he had complained recently that he was not feeling well.

A member of Congress continuously since 1918, Reed was chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means committee in the 1953-54 session.

5-Year-Old Hanged in Freak Accident

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Richard Henry Lemmer, 5, of near Kalamazoo, was hanged accidentally yesterday in a freak home accident.

The boy was climbing through an open window in a garage behind his parents' home to see his pet turtle when the window fell down across the back of his neck, trapping him between the window and the sill.

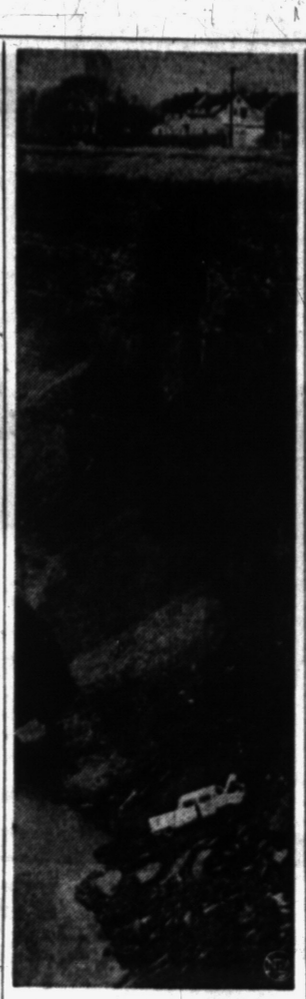

Police said he strangled.

The boy's body was found by his mother.

Detroit Woman Is Sent to House of Correction

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Stephanie O'Daniel, 40, of Detroit, was sentenced to one to four years in the Detroit House of Correction by Judge H. Russel Holland.

Songwriter Pays Off Late Father's Debts

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—There's a good reason nowadays for songwriter Johnny Mercer to whistle a merry tune. He's fulfilled an ambition of long standing — at a cost of $300,000.

The Hollywood songwriter deposited a check for that amount yesterday in a Savannah bank to pay off about 500 persons who invested in a real estate and insurance firm owned by his late father, G. A. Mercer.

The company failed 28 years ago.

Free Publisher in Federal Trial

Find Nevada Newsman Innocent of Inciting Murder of McCarthy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Hank Greenspun, Brooklyn-born publisher with a touch of Western maverick in his editorial makeup, was free today of a federal charge of mailing matter tending to incite the murder of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis).

A jury of six men and six women acquitted the 45-year-old publisher and columnist of the Las Vegas Sun last night after 2 hours 45 minutes deliberation.

Jury Foreman Gail Andres said "there was never any doubt in our minds" that Greenspun's fiery column posed no threat to McCarthy's life. The jurors, however, had to wade through a long list of technical instructions.

Greenspun, stormy petrel of Nevada journalism, hailed the verdict as an affirmation of freedom of the press.

A grand jury indicted the publisher April 8, 1954. The next morning Greenspun reprinted the column in its entirety.

The publisher, incidentally, has a one million dollar damage suit on file against McCarthy in Nevada State Court. He charges McCarthy falsely called him an ex-Communist.

Fair Better Than Sunny in Weather Forecasts

ATLANTA (UP) — Rookie weathermen in Atlanta are taught to use the word "fair" instead of "sunny" in their forecasts.

To show why, the old hands drag out a summary from a Raleigh, N.C., forecaster who preferred "sunny" to "fair."

Three New Cars Just Old, Used Heaps Now

CHICAGO (UP) — Three brand new automobiles became used cars yesterday without leaving the showroom floor.

An auto agency employe, Alec McQuire, lost control of a car outside and crashed through the showroom window. He banged into a floor model car which smashed into two others.

Announcing — America's newest, lowest, smartest 4-door Sedan

Newest model in Mercury's Montclair Series lets you enjoy "hardtop" beauty with 4-door convenience

It's the newest Mercury of them all—the Montclair 4-door Sedan, and the photograph shows you that not one bit of the original Montclair hardtop beauty has been lost. It has the same dramatic lowness—only 58¾ inches from road to roof.

And see how convenient it is to get in and out. Everyone who admires hardtop styling, but wants the roominess and convenience of a 4-door model, can now eat his cake, and have it too!

198-hp Super-Torque V-8 with dual exhausts

Seldom has an engine caused as much enthusiastic comment from auto editors. And once you drive a Montclair, you'll see why. It gives you instant, on-the-spot pickup at every speed—from zero to super-highway limits. A four-barrel carburetor, unique new high-compression spark plugs, and dual exhausts are yours at no extra cost. Features like these are usually extra on medium-priced cars.

The Mercury Montclair offers a new optional power feature—power lubrication. And it's exclusive with Mercury in the medium-price field. You push a button on the dashboard and vital parts of your car are automatically lubricated. You can also choose optional power steering, power windows, power brakes, 4-way power seat and Merc-O-Matic Drive.

Why not come in and see this newest Mercury? It costs a lot less than you think. And right now your present car is worth a lot more than you might think on a trade-in at your Mercury dealer's.

Hal Boyle Says:

Bull Fight Fans Ache for Old Days

MADRID (AP)—Leaves from a touring notebook:

The bullfighting industry in Spain is in somewhat the same unhappy plight as the boxing industry in America.

The cash customers complain they never know when they will get a good show for their dough. The aficionados yearn for the good old days here, just as the fight fans back home sigh for the time when Jack Dempsey, Benny Leonard and Mickey Walker were in their prime.

• • •

They sigh for another matador like Manolete, a legend of bravery and skill. Manolete was fatally impaled on the horn of a bull in its death lunge after he had delivered it a mortal sword thrust. Because "he killed the bull and the bull killed him" he has become an immortal in Spain's bullfighting annals.

"At the time Manolete went into the ring he was worth $3,000,000," one aficionado said. "Young matadors today don't want to risk his fate. They want to get rich quick and retire or become a movie star.

"Bullfighting now has become a big business. That is what is wrong with it. Nobody wants to take a real chance of getting killed, but they all want to make a killing out of it. The only honest one in the ring is the bull."

• • •

Although soccer is a far more popular sport than bullfighting here, it would be a mistake to conclude that the art of bullstabbing is on the way out in Spain.

The true aficionado may grouse about the decline in the quality of the matadors, but the sport still draws him.

It draws tourists, too. It is estimated that tourists make up at least half the gate at bullfights in Madrid.

• • •

Many a cynical aficionado suspects a great deal of trickery goes on in his national sport, and that a good manager has more than one way of keeping a promising young matador from being messed up by a brave but ignorant bull.

"Naturally, a bull can't be bribed," said a veteran ring observer. "But there are other ways to fix a fight. If a bull is particularly big and strong, it might be possible to arrange to have a few heavy sandbags dropped on his back the morning of a fight.

"Of course, you don't want him to take all the starch out of him. The object is just to slow him down a bit."

• • •

The fighting bull is as old as the soil of Spain, and for more than two centuries he has been intensively cross bred to create an animal aristocrat of the pasture until he is four or five years old, his prime fighting age.

He comes to the crossroads of his brief life at the age of two. In the "tienta" he then is subjected to his first test of bravery. A man on horseback goads him repeatedly with a stick. The number of times he counterattacks, in spite of his wounds, is registered in a book.

• • •

If he shows excessive bravery he is kept for breeding purposes, and never enters the fight ring. If he shows cowardice, he goes to the slaughterhouse right then, and fetches a price of only about $75.

Bulls with physical defects, such as broken horns, are fought at the age of three as "novillos."

A prime fighting bull at four or five brings $750 in the Madrid ring. But in less than half an hour after he goes into that ring, magnificently and ferociously alive, the mules drag him out dead. Even if he gores the matador he gains no reprieve. Another matador merely comes in and finishes him.

In some Latin American countries the life of a brave bull is sometimes forgiven. That rarey if ever happens here. Good bulls are scarce in other lands, but there are 243 bull raising ranches in Spain.

• • •

Recently matador Domingo Ortega, himself owner of a famous ranch, pleaded in a lecture that a bull who had fought exceptionally well should be saved and returned to pasture for breeding purposes.

The public generally resented Ortega's plea. In Spain the "luck of the killing" is regarded as the crucial moment in the drama of a bullfight. The bull must die to complete the symbolic struggle of man's skill triumphing over the force of brute courage.

To me the most inhuman thing about the whole spectacle isn't merely the fact the bull is slain—it is that the crowd often jeers as its carcass is dragged off, because they feel it didn't put up a good fight.

For the life of me I can't see how a human being can hoot at a belaguered animal in pain, fighting blindly to the death in a game the rules of which it cannot possibly understand.

CHILDREN WHO DARED

Benjamin Franklin—The Boy Who Wanted to Learn

Born in Boston in 1706, Benjamin Franklin was a poor boy who had to leave school and work as a soap and candlemaker. He was unhappy stirring the fat and lye all day. He dreamed of the sea, of books he wanted to read and the things he wanted to learn.

His father sent him to work as a printer on his brother's newspaper. Ben learned this trade, educated himself, read a lot and started to write. Then he struck out on his own and went to Philadelphia still so poor that he walked along the street eating a loaf of bread, his pockets stuffed with his clothes.

Ben was a pioneer in many fields. He started a newspaper and became the city's first printer and bookseller. He wrote "Poor Richard's Almanac." He invented the lightening rod, bifocal glasses and a stove. He organized a fire department, the first hospital, the first circulating library. He founded an academy and improved the police and postal systems.

As a statesman he went to France and England, served in the Continental Congress, and helped draft the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. He died in 1790.

Color the picture of young Franklin and add it to your week-long collection of famous Americans.

Million-Dollar Fire Hits Japanese Port

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A million dollar fire burned most of a city block in this port city last night. Police said two dance hall girls were burned to death.

The fire broke out in a dance hall and swept through an amusement center. More than 200 U.S. sailors fought the blaze with Navy equipment. Yokosuka is headquarters of the U.S. Fleet in Japan.

Cuban Legislators Okay Political Freedom Bill

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuba's new Chamber of Deputies gave preliminary approval last night to a bill granting amnesty to all political offenders.

The bill was sent to the senate today. It is expected to get its second, final passage required by the constitution in a special session called early next month.

Political observers anticipate that President Fulgencio Batista will sign the bill as soon as it is approved on the second reading.

Chiang Diplomat Sees Overthrow of Chinese Reds

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Wellington Koo, Nationalist China diplomat, says he is confident the time will come when the Chinese masses will turn against their Communist government and bring about the overthrow of the Chinese Reds.

"I cannot predict when this cherished hope will be realized, but I have great faith in my belief," said the Nationalist China ambassador to the United States in an interview yesterday.

Dr. Koo also told a reporter for the St. Petersburg Independent that the Nationalists will defend Quemoy and Matsu "to the last man" if the Reds attack.

Failure to defend those islands off the China coast, Dr. Koo said, would pave the way for the invasion of Formosa.

Pop

—gets so much done by telephone

Leave it to Pop. He says, "I'll give Joe a call," and you know the problem's licked. Who's Joe? Well, he could be any one of a hundred people Pop counts on to keep his family percolating nicely . . . the insurance man, the dentist, the scoutmaster, the garageman, the fellow down at the drug store.

And nine out of ten times, Pop will get in touch with Joe by telephone. That's because the telephone is fast and it's convenient and it saves time and money.

So even if you aren't a Pop, and your druggist's name isn't Joe, let your telephone work for you.

Use it for everything that makes life easier and more fun. For pleasure, for convenience and for protection—what can equal your telephone?

Will 1955 Be the Year That Changes the World?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64 page booklet analyzing famous world prophecies covering these times. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and the years that change the world are at hand. Great dangers but still greater opportunities, confront forward looking people in 1955.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64 page booklet he is now offering free to the public gives guidance for those who wish to prepare themselves for the momentous days ahead. It gives details of what to expect, and when. Its title is "Beware of These Days!"

The book formerly sold for a dollar, but as long as the present supply lasts, it is offered free to readers of this notice. This liberal offer is made because he expects that many readers will later become interested in the entire system of mind power he learned in the Far East and which is now ready to be disclosed to the Western world.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page book, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. R58 Los Angeles, 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Anteaters Association Expanding

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — I am a member in bad standing of The Anteaters Association, and am eating humble pie.

It's a lot tastier than ants, I can tell you that.

But I did not allow my membership in the fine, culinary "AA" to lag for any such simple reason. The thing goes deeper, darker. Truth is I forgot my responsibilities and rebuked my privileges, and no longer deserve the right to call the fried termite my meat.

Here's how these things happen.

The Anteaters are a genial bunch of game-loving gourmets from all over America, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., and upon meeting their founder, Dr. William Mann last February, I dropped a hint that I would like to belong.

Dr. Mann, who is curator of the National Park Zoo, where the anteaters hold regular feast-meets, was cagey. Well, he said, he would be delighted except that women usually make unsuccessful anteaters. Women like to eat everything in casseroles and cream sauce, and the flavor of wild game is not conducive to cream. It is also too big for casseroles, he added.

I protested I was different, and told how only three years ago I had eaten scrambled ostrich egg. "Perfectly delightful," I said, "Except that they ruined the pure simplicity of it by adding truffles."

Dr. Mann was impressed. Muttering unprintables about truffles, he shuffled off to his office near the monkey house and returned with membership card No. 1634. Declaring me the 1,634th vice president (everyone's a vice president in Anteaters), he described the traditions and by-laws of the club.

AA was begun on a wintry day in 1940, he said, when a group of Fish and Wildlife Service boys were lounging by the fire in the zoo restaurant. "Just the kind of day to be eating haunch of buffalo," said one. Gordon Leech, the zoo's concessionaire, noted that there weren't any buffalo on the menu but added, "You get me one, I'll cook it."

Dr. Mann, knowing these Fish and Wildlife Service boys well, ran out in the cold to count his caged buffalo. "just a precaution," he explained.

Two weeks later, however, a buffalo carcass showed up at the zoo, and Leech cooked it, and a lot of people dropped in to eat it. Thus was born the Anteaters Association, which now includes in its membership some of the country's top senators, jurists and businessmen.

There are only two basic credos for members who live out of town and cannot attend the regular meetings, Dr. Mann said. First, that you do not snoot such delicacies as boiled octopus, smothered rattlesnake, roast bear and so on, when they are offered to you; and second, that in the event you do not run into such dishes in the normal round of dinner parties, you will make a sincere effort once a month to dig them up (as in the case of gophers en brochette) or rout them out (as in shark's fins, devilfish bellies, etc).

Good and true Anteaters also will remember that if they are catching their own dinners, they will do it the hygienic way. For instance, always shoot a bear going downhill. "A bear going uphill when shot is apt to be muscular and indigestible," is an Anteater slogan.

This is not a by-law. It is merely a health precaution.

I thanked Dr. Mann for his confidence and returned to New Yrok, vowing to be the best Anteater I could possibly be. Then alas, in the whirl of chicken patty luncheons with the ladies and routine dinners with steak-and-potatoes man, I goofed.

My wildest culinary gesture in two months was a spree on brandied brains a la maintenon, which showed a certain gameness—but not the kind Anteaters stand for.

Apologies, VP's. And if it's any consolation, I feel lower than an alligator's tongue, in wine or plain.

Experts estimate that traffic accidents cost Americans $4,300,000,000 a year.

Popcorn Will Sting Texas Youngsteres

HOUSTON (AP)—Principal Henry Jahnke of an elementary school here said he expected some befuddlement among his students today when 75,000 Harris County youngsters line up for mass inoculations of the Salk polio vaccine.

Jahnke said some youngsters were mixed up yesterday in a test run when electric popcorn poppers were used as improvised sterilizers for vaccine needles and syringes. Some, he said, thought they were going to get popcorn.

But the poppers worked fine, Jahnke said. "We tried electric roasters first," he added, "but they kept tripping the fuse switches."

Americans Eat More and Better Groceries Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today Americans are getting more and better foods today than 30 years ago for the same percentage of take-home pay.

The average family a generation ago spent 25 per cent of its income for food. The same things today would cost less than 20 per cent of income, the department said.

The Department published a 43-page illustrated pamphlet to show what it said science and invention have contributed toward better foods.

It said today's diet contains much more of the essential nutrient, provides a wider variety of foods the whole year around, and supplies them in a way that takes much less time of the housewife to prepare.

Thirty years ago each farm worker was said to have produced enough for himself and seven others. Today he was said to be producing enough for himself and 18 others.

2 Electrocuted as Kite Hits High-Voltage Line

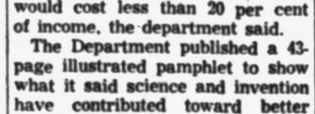

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A copper wire being used to fly a kite came in contact with a high voltage wire yesterday, electrocuting a man and his wife. A third person suffered shock and burns.

Sheriff Dorsey Rayl said Mrs. Fred Martison, 22, was flying the kite. When the kite wire struck the high voltage line, the husband attempted to rescue his wife. Both were enveloped in a ball of fire. Also injured was Sgt. James J. Wagnitz who was nearby.

TUESDAY, APRIL 19, 1955 PAGES 13-15

Pontiac Press Photo

A tea given by the Pontiac Women's Club at YWCA Monday afternoon was the time chosen by members to present a check for $1000 to the Wisner Home Fund. Richard Poole of South Shore drive, Watkins Lake, accepted the check on behalf of the home from Mrs. M. E. Baldwin of North Perry street. Looking on is Mrs. Ray S. Falk also of North Perry street. Both Mrs. Falk and Mrs. Baldwin were appointed to the restoration committee of the Wisner home.

Club Aids Wisner Home Restoration

Richard Poole, chairman of the Restoration Committee of the Wisner home accepted a check for $1,000 from the Pontiac Women's Club Monday at the YWCA.

Accepting the check, Mr. Poole said, "This generous contribution will give a tremendous boost and give encouragement to the working committee of the Oakland County Historical Foundation in this project."

This specific sum is to be used for the restoration of the dining room of the Wisner home. To further assist the foundation, Mrs. Ray Falk and Mrs. Harry Chapman of the club were appointed to membership on the restoration committee.

The Holly Singers, a talented choral group were featured during the afternoon. The group led by Carol Rhodes, director of music at the Adelphian Academy in Holly, last year won the Grinnell choral award.

Their selections included "Holy, Lord God" by Noble Cain, "O Lovely Clouds" by Mozart and "Lovely Things" by Gustav Klemm.

Mrs. I. M. Lewis, delegate to the 60th annual convention of Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs reported on the convention held last week in Detroit. She explained that the theme for the coming year is "to succeed through selfless service."

The Girls Town project, sponsored by the Michigan Federation is making rapid progress and has been assured of the co-operation and guidance of the University of Michigan. The purchase of a 10-room home in Ann Arbor was recommended and referred to the Girls Town board of directors.

A display of "Articles of Long Ago" was a feature of the afternoon. An issue of the New York Herald dated April 15, 1865, marked "Extra, 8:10 a.m." announcing the assassination of President Lincoln was displayed. This paper is a highly prized possession of Mrs. H. G. Lusty, whose father purchased the issue as a young man in Moline, Ill.

Another interesting display was a water cooler of the "Ticonderoga" dated March 23, 1863, brought by Mrs. Harry Chapman, whose father, J. L. Stoughton, was commander of this Clipper.

Guests of the day included Mrs. Willard Stevens, president of the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. H. G. Rouse, president of the southeastern district and members of the Women's Literary Club including, Mrs. J. Harry Baker and Mrs. Mabelle Wilson.

Others were Mrs. Maude Place, Mrs. Fred Bohlman, Mrs. E. D. Moessner, Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh and Mrs. Thomas Luby.

Australian Couple Wed in Oakland Park Church

Alva Dorothy Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Randall of Australia became the bride of Harold Herbert Ingamells, son of Mrs. Gyril B. Ingamells also of Australia.

The ceremony was performed Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in Oakland Park Methodist Church with the Rev. James Deeg officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by Clyde Marshbanks.

The full skirt fell into a long train, and a handmade headpiece from London, England, held her finger tip veil.

Charlyne Deeg was maid of honor wearing an orchid strapless gown with a short sleeve jacket and a matching hat. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Samuel David Horrolein of Australia was best man, and the ushers were William Hertel and Walter Stork of Germany.

Mrs. James Deeg, substituting for the bride's mother wore a raspberry dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was of hyacinths and carnations.

Mrs. Joe Wagley took the place of the bridegroom's mother, and wore a blue and white dress with matching accessories and a yellow corsage.

A reception was held in the church parlor. The couple will reside in Flint where the bridegroom is a student at General Motors Institute of Technology.

Let Menfolk Choose Own Wardrobes

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

One of the reasons, says Peter Knize of New York and Vienna—a man who makes clothes for such diverse personalities as Marlene Dietrich and the Shah of Iran—is that most of their clothes are selected by women.

That's an understandable opinion for a man who's in the business. But Knize, one of the founders of an exclusive and expensive tailoring firm, points out most men seem to know by instinct what's right in clothes.

* * *

"If you leave men alone, they will look fairly decent most of the time," says Knize. "That is, most men. I'm not speaking of the ones who wear horse-blanket sports coats and unpressed slacks to business. I'm talking of the average American businessman.

"His instincts about clothes generally are right. He may be inclined to be ultra-conservative, but that's better than going overboard the other way.

"The real trouble starts when the little woman decides he will look cute in a pink shirt and an orange tie, buys them for his birthday and weeps if he doesn't wear them."

* * *

Knize tries to keep the feminine influence out of his male customers' wardrobes, but he admits that even in his shop most of the ties are bought by women.

"Since they insist on buying them anyway, we try to educate them a little," he says. "Actually some women are getting much better in their tie tastes, after these years of training. But even the ones with the best taste would be doing their husbands a favor if they let them dress themselves."

All this doesn't mean Knize discourages women customers. Far from it. He makes many suits for women, including the glamorous Marlene and the spectacular Carol Channing. It's only when they start trying to run the sartorial lives of their husbands or men friends that he objects.

* * *

During a recent New York visit by the Shah of Iran, Knize made $25,000 worth of clothes for him—and that doesn't include things bought by the queen.

"He wanted to select a few things to fill out his wardrobe," says Knize casually. "Suits, vests, topcoats and the like, you know."

One of his favorite customers is song writer Cole Porter, who has in his wardrobe more than two dozen fancy vests made of everything from flowered silk prints to rich brocades. Says Knize:

"He wears them with his evening clothes, instead of the usual white pique vest. He likes them. And they suit him."

Knize believes American men are becoming more clothes conscious, and reports he has sold more full dress suits in the last three months than in the last three years.

All Saints Choir to Present Cantata

At a service of Choral Evensong on Sunday evening, the choir of All Saints' Episcopal Church will be heard in a performance of Johann Sebastian Bach's cantata "God's Time Is the Best."

Miss Phyllis McFarland will sing Buxtehude's solo soprano cantata "Lord, in Thee Do I Trust." The performance will be conducted by Phillip Steinhaus, musical director at All Saints.

Before coming to Pontiac, Mr. Steinhaus was organist-director at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Ypsilanti, where he presented a series of recitals yearly.

Under the Boston celebrity management, Steinhaus has made several tours and recently appeared in organ recitals at Columbia University, New York City, University of Michigan and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

An instrumental ensemble from the University of Michigan will accompany the choir. Dr. Marilyn Mason, associate professor of organ at the university will play the realization of the figured bass on the harpsichord.

Other instrumentalists are Camilla Heller, cello, George Papich, viola, Louise and Nelson Hauenstein, flutes. Mr. Hauenstein, formerly with the Chicago Symphony, is now professor of woodwinds at the university.

Miss McFarland, young concert singer, has appeared as soloist with the University of Kansas Chorale, and more recently in performance of "The Marriage of Figaro," "Ariadne auf Naxos" and "La Boheme." Miss McFarland holds a teaching assistantship in voice at the university.

Joining the choir as contralto soloist is Mary Mattfeld, who has sung leading roles in "The Magic Flute," "Marriage of Figaro" and "Carmen."

Tenor Lowell Byler, formerly instructor of music at Hesston College, Hesston, Kansas, now doing graduate work at the university is a member of the Michigan Singers and a student of Harold Haugh, widely known oratorio soloist.

Robert Kerns, well known concert and operatic baritone appeared this season in performances of "Madame Butterfly," "Falstaff" and "Cosi fan tutti."

Miss Wihla Hutson, former organist and choirmaster at All Saints' will play the prelude music to the service.

The public is invited to attend the 8 p.m. performance.

Should Pair Pay for Food on Visit?

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "Some friends of ours who have moved to another city have asked my husband and me to spend a week with them.

"I would like very much to go but feel that our visit will be a burden on them since they do not have a great deal of money, and with the cost of living being what it is today that our visit will add greatly to their expense.

"Do you suppose we could offer to pay something toward the food bill for that week, and is there some tactful way to go about this?"

On the other hand, there are many things you will probably find you can do, such as taking them out often to restaurants, or taking them to places of amusement. You can do this and other things whereby you can turn the tables and be hosts to them.

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend is expecting a baby shortly and a group of us had planned to give a stork shower for her, all of us having bought the gifts.

Her father died last week and we don't know what to do. Shall we give the party as planned?

Answer: I think a party would be out of order so soon after her father's death.

But I can't think of anything that would help her more in these days of sadness than to take her your presents separately when you go to see her, since the baby's things cannot help but divert her thoughts from her present sorrow to coming joy.

Dear Mrs. Post: Every now and then my husband and I and another married couple dine out together. Very often we go to a restaurant where there is dancing.

Both our husbands do not care very much about dancing, but I love to dance and so does the other wife. Would it be proper for the two of us to dance together?

Answer: I'm sorry, but two women dancing together is really not an example of best taste.

Scholarship Ball Slated by Alumni

Plans for the annual spring dance to be held May 14 were made when St. Joseph Mercy Hospital alumni met Monday evening in the hospital auditorium.

The public will be invited to the "Scholarship Ball" and tickets may be purchased from committee members or at the door.

Hotel Pontiac will be the setting for the dance. Mrs. Earl Floyd, policewoman with the Oakland County Sheriff's department, was speaker at the evening's session.

Mrs. Wendell Wilkinson of Wise road will be hostess for the picnic to be held in June.

The gay whimsy of see-through lovelies continues into spring in "Nite Out," bowed-for-beaux halter back sandal by Delman. Stronger-than-strong vinyl plastic has a delicately etched spider web design with the sheer lacy look of black lingerie. Photographed here in rich coppertone calfskin, it's an enticing come-hither beauty in black suede or patent leather accenting the crystal-clear plastic. For all leathers, a crushy bow is perched on the foot-baring vamp.

Central Methodist Women Open Homes to Units

Lucy Webb Hayes

The Lucy Webb Hayes group met in the Spokane drive home of Mrs. Gene Calhoun.

Mrs. Donald Kibbie presented the devotional theme, "Be Ye Doers of the Word."

The program topic, "Our Woman's Society Is as Wide as Human Neds," was in the charge of Mrs. Robert Byrnes.

Also taking part in the program were Mrs. William Lacy, Mrs. George Horsley, Mrs. James McCurdy, Aileen Cook, Mrs. David Brown and Mrs. Glenn McClure.

Fruit 'n' Nut Tea Wafers Are Dainty

Mrs. Taylor Makes So-Good Cookies Without Shortening

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Here's an excellent cookie recipe that does not call for shortening—and it's not a macaroon type of cookie either. Mrs. James Taylor says these dainty little wafers will keep for weeks in a tightly closed tin can.

Asked if she had a family, Mrs Taylor laughingly said, "No, just a husband who likes to eat all the fattening foods I cook." Mrs. Taylor is a member of the Urban League. She collects china and spends as much time as possible in her flower garden.

SO-GOOD COOKIES
By Mrs. James Taylor

4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cloves
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 pound confectioner's sugar
4 eggs
½ pound blanched almonds, chopped
½ pound candied citron or other candied fruit, chopped fine

Sift flour with baking powder and spices. Add chopped nuts and fruit. Beat eggs with powdered sugar for fifteen minutes. Add flour mixture. Form into a roll and place in refrigerator overnight. Slice thin and place on buttered cookie sheet. Brush lightly with milk. Bake in 375 degree oven until brown. Makes about 100 small cookies.

Mrs. Waldie Has Bridal Shower for Joan DeLong

Mrs. Philip Waldie of Earlemoor boulevard was hostess at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon honoring Joan DeLong of Roseville.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeLong of Roseville, and he is the son of Mrs. Howard Jackson and Gaylord Rosebrook of Dearborn.

New China Sets Combine Plain, Patterned Pieces

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Dinnerware of lesser quality came in first in plain colors, but china followed, every piece with no pattern at all.

Now there's another idea and a good one, the combination of patterned and plain china. The sketch shows a dessert setting with china in an excellent new quality designed by Raymond Loewy.

The plate, cup, and saucer are white with a harlequin design in shades of blue and brown and bright engraved gold; and the coffee pot, sugar and creamer are a new luminous, somewhat metallic crystalline taupe or blue.

The plain and the pattern bring out the best in each other and set a handsome table.

Girl Advised to Ignore Date Jitters

Try Compliment, Melting Gestures, to Ease Tension

By ELIZABETH WODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm afraid he got the idea on our first date together that I didn't like him, and I'm afraid he still feels that way. We go out with another couple all the time, but there's always a sort of strain between us.

I know it bothers him as much as it does me. I like him very much indeed by now and I'd like to talk the whole thing over with him, but I don't know how to go about it. Have you any ideas?"

I strongly suspect that a great deal of this tension exists in your own mind. Were he as upset over you as you think, he would have stopped dating you long since.

A boy will avoid painful experiences if he can, you know. So its my guess that you're feeling a strain over what he might be thinking.

You're imagining that what bothers you might be bothering him too.

But bringing up the subject and making a big thing of it would turn out to be a confession on your part. And that won't put him more at ease.

So make a few melting gestures and see if it doesn't lessen the tension. Apropos of nothing, look up at him and say, "You grow on a girl, do you know that?"

Follow it up with some remarks about most fellows being like open books, but he's different, and the funny thing is that you like him better all the time.

Another time, slip your hand companionably into his and give him a big, comfy, cozy smile while you snuggle back completely relaxed and easy. He's bound to react to that.

Call him up some night just to tell him you were thinking about him and wondering how he was. It won't take much of this treatment to make him feel that you're for him, not agin' him.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I like Jim very much and I want to ask him to a formal at our church this spring. He knows I like him, I think.

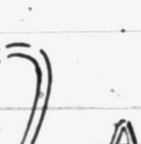

The trouble is that some of the girls at school are always talking to him about me, and I don't think he likes that too much. He's shy, so he never says anything about it.

Can you tell me how to keep the girls from saying things to him without hurting anyone's feelings?"

He doesn't say much about such things, so you've no way really of knowing how he feels. You suspect that he doesn't like jabber about you from the girls.

But you can't tell about that either. He might make faces and act annoyed just to cover up.

And underneath he might be pleased to pieces to hear that some girl likes him a lot. It bolsters his ego and does his shyness good.

To reside on Osmun street are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gonzales. The bride is the former Betty Jane Humes, daughter of Albert Zinser of Osmun street. Mr. and Mrs. Jose P. Gonzales of South Shirley street are the bridegroom's parents.

MR. and MRS. THOMAS GONZALES

Newlywed City Couple Honeymoons at Niagara

Honeymooning at Niagara Falls are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gonzales. The bride is the former Betty Jane Humes, daughter of Albert Zinser of Osmun street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose P. Gonzales of South Shirley street.

The Rev. Ralph Claus performed the candlelight ceremony Friday evening at eight o'clock in St. Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over nylon tulle in ballerina length. A crown of iridescent sequins and pearls secured her fingertip veil of scalloped illusion. Her jewelry was the bridegroom's gift of a single strand of pearls and matching earrings.

She carried a prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom's parents, and two orchids.

Mrs. Albert Kinkade attended her sister as matron of honor and Florence Myre was a bridesmaid.

The matron of honor wore a ballerina length gown of blue net over taffeta. She wore a spray of blue flowers in her hair and carried an arrangement of blue carnations.

The bridesmaid was gowned in pink net over taffeta. Her headpiece was a spray of pink roses and she carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

Joe Priestley served as best man. Seating the guests were Allen McBride and Alfonso Costello.

Sprays of snapdragons, gladioli and pink roses decorated the home of the bridegroom's parents for the reception. Mrs. Gonzales wore a steel gray dress with rhinestones and a lavender orchid.

Give Bride-Elect Linen Shower

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Perry of State avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Jones of Collingwood avenue.

Guests at the recent shower were Mrs. Roy Savage, Mrs. Arnold Campbell, Mrs. Don Meecke, Mrs. Carolyn Meecke, Mrs. Cecil Harper and Mrs. Lulu Agree.

Others were Mrs. Bruce Ferguson, Mrs. Eugene Redmond, Mrs. Jones, Patty Campbell, Mrs. J. H. Perry, Mrs. Hersey Pete and Mrs. Perry.

'Weight and Wait' Will Restore Figure

So your abdomen didn't flatten right out the minute you had baby. A wise doctor said it: "Two things —weight and wait." If you don't try to kill yourself with violent exercises at first and do keep your diet balanced, but calorie conscious, it will get flat soon enough.

Don't, whatever you do, start on a figure-reforming binge during your first six weeks out of the hospital.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penney: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at better stores.

Missouri Revisited Inspires Apology

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Besides wanting to see everybody, what I really went back to Missouri for, after all those years away, was to pick up some charming stories about my childhood.

I had a sort of notion that the minute I set foot in Missouri soil, neighbors, cousins and aunts would begin spilling delightful tales about me as a little girl.

The whole venture was more important than it sounds, stated casually like that. The truth is that I've just about run out of nostalgic memories and to one of my trade, that is tragedy.

I've long thought that writers should have nine lives like cats so that when one life is used up they can begin promptly on the next.

In Paris, Mo., my cousin Mary, about my age, importuned to reminisce, did her best to dredge up suitable incidents, but it was obviously hard going.

Then suddenly I began an apology which through the years clear across the country I had sometimes rehearsed in my own mind.

When I was 7, my family had moved in from the country to a house in Paris, but Mary's folks still lived on their farm a few miles away. Paris, which had about 1,500 population, seemed like a big city to me at first.

I felt like a country yokel and all those town children seemed much smarter and more attractive than I could ever hope to be.

There wasn't anything I could do to impress THEM—so I took to venting my inferiority complex upon my poor country cousin Mary. Suddenly I became a zealous correspondent.

In long letters I described in glowing colors the life of the metropolis. I listed all the Christmas presents I had received and, as if that weren't enough, put down birthday gifts, too.

I bragged arrogantly about my popularity and how well I was doing in school, making up little showing-off yarns.

In the advanced spelling book I discovered some simple French phrases with their translations—"S'il vous plait—if you please," "merci—thank you," "respondez s'il vous plait—answer please" —and these I sprinkled lavishly through my communications, implying that they were common usage in the great world which I inhabited.

Now, back home, hungrily eating Aunt Pearl's good fried chicken, I said remorsefully what a little monster I had been to write all those braggy letters.

Mary looked genuinely amazed. "Why, I didn't think they were like that at all," she protested. "I always thought your letters were wonderful. I guess I was impressed by them.

Then, in a desperate effort to produce a story about our youth she unwittingly confirmed my worst fears about myself when young.

"When you'd come to visit, you were always looking in mirrors and combing your hair," said Mary, "and you'd say to me, 'Don't you think I have beautiful hair?' "

Then at my stricken look—"I'm sure some older person had told you so," kind Mary added quickly

Doctors Hunting for Better Vaccine

Editor's Note: Last of four articles describing the long battle against Polio.

By EDWIN DIAMOND

ANN ARBOR (INS) — What is ahead in the polio fight? Is the disease definitely and finally defeated?

Even before the announcement that the Salk vaccine is safe and effective in preventing all three types of paralytic polio, there was general agreement that polio could and would be controlled by a vaccine granting prolonged immunity.

Several other vaccine methods were being developed at the same time Dr. Jonas E. Salk was working with his killed virus.

But the licensing of the Salk Vaccine and its use before the onset of the polio season in June does not mean that this polio research will stop now.

Dr. Salk himself has no intention of stopping. Ever since last summer's mass field trials involving his vaccine, he has been working with his associates at the University of Pittsburgh to improve its effectiveness.

There are other projects going forward with vaccines.

One of the most important is at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago.

There doctors are treating polio virus with ultra-violet irradiation instead of the formalin chemical used by Dr. Salk in making his vaccine. It might be a better process.

The Michael Reese Research Foundation, under Dr. Albert M. Wolf, is cooperating with the Illinois Department of Health on an inoculation program using this radiation-killed virus. Dr. Wolf reports that initial results are encouraging.

Also in Chicago, Dr. George Le Roy, associate dean of the Division of Biological Sciences at the University of Chicago, has offered an explanation for some of the "paradoxes of polio"—the apparent increase in cases in the more advanced countries and the rise in the age-incidence of polio.

Dr. Le Roy points out it is maintained now by infectious disease specialists that polio is caused by a virus which may be produced in the human body and excreted in the body wastes.

In a society such as ours, Dr. Le Roy says, with our modern plumbing and santiary conditions, there is not the constant exposure to polio virus doctors find in such outdoor plumbing areas as the Middle East and Asia.

With no mild natural polio exposure occurring to build up our disease-fighting antibodies, when the one big dose comes the result is paralytic polio.

This also explains why the average age of polio victims continues to increase. In the countries with high standards of living, infections occur increasingly later in life; in the underdeveloped countries early mild infection gives natural life immunity.

This has prompted Dr. Le Roy and others to call polio one of the growing "diseases of civilization."

One of the most experienced workers in the polio vaccine field is Dr. Albert B. Sabin, professor of research pediatrics at the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Sabin has for some time been working on the theory that a live virus might grant better and longer immunity than the killed virus used by Dr. Salk.

It is Dr. Sabin's theory that there are both good and bad polio viruses occuring in nature. He explained:

"The bad virus causes paralytic polio; the good virus gives us infection without dangerous consequences and hence grants us immunity from later bad virus.

"Where there are epidemics, you can be sure there are these bad virusus."

He hopes to isolate the natural good virus or alternatively, to produce it in the laboratory. He believes a vaccine made from such a virus would be the best possible protection against polio.

Dr. Sabin describes his efforts to produce a live virus vaccine as an attempt to imitate what happens in nature.

The live virus, sufficiently treated to prevent paralytic polio, would be capable of stimulating into protection a high level of antibodies as they multiplied.

Dr. Sabin has experimented with the live virus on volunteers from an Ohio prison (the Chillicothe Reformatory). He will report on these results at the May meeting of the American Association of Physicians.

Dr. Sabin makes it clear he intends to follow through on his live virus vaccine. He is convinced that his goal in research—the development of a vaccine giving "solid immunization that lasts a life-time to everyone in the world"—is realistic.

"It would be a drop of liquid which could be put into the formula of babies when they are three or four months old It would be so effcctive that we would never have to worry about polio again."

Reno Harold's Club Will Sell Property

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Harold's Club of Reno, Nevada's biggest gambling enterprise, put an estimated 2½ million dollars worth of its property up for sale yesterday.

Club officials would not explain why, publicly. But some said privately that a sharp increase in state taxes and the cost of an expansion program prompted the move.

On the block are two big Reno motels, a trailer park, two large ranches and other property in the city.

Explosion of Dud Shell Hurts 33 in Mess Line

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—A smaller caliber artillery shell, accidentally dropped by a Marine standing in a mess line, exploded and injured 33 enlisted men yesterday.

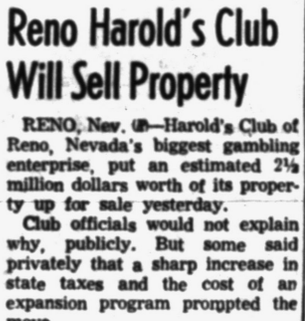

A spokesman for the 1st Marine Division said the Marine was believed to have picked up the 'dud' artillery shell on the firing range as a souvenir.

"He was showing it to his buddy in the mess line," the spokesman said, "when he dropped it and it exploded."

Pvt. Dorman T. Swann of Winnsboro, Tex., was in critical condition.

Trailer Sheds Its Tires

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Truck driver Riley Lee Barton, Temple, Tex., thought it was strange when he saw a pair of dual tires complete with wheel rolling past the cab. He pulled up short and took a look. The tires were off his trailer.

Boom 2 Plans to Boost Business Receipts Tax Income

LANSING (AP)—Rival plans for increasing the income from Michigan's unique business receipts tax bloomed in the House and Senate today.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, leaped upon recommendations by a citizens' advisory committee and announced he would file a bill to put its proposals into effect. Morris appointed the committee.

The 57-man committee, composed of business, industrial and farm representatives — with one labor leader who did not attend— uroposed to increase the present f uomrill levy to five mills and bring in an additional 12 million dollars a year. It now collects about 30 million.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the House Taxation Committee, already is pushing his own bill to increase the four-mill levy to seven—bringing in about 60 million a year.

The citizens' committee proposed to provide a new formula for imposing the tax on multistate businesses. The law now levies on half of a company's interstate business and on half of its intrastate business.

He commented only briefly on the committee recommendations saying "the courts have always favored a three-factor formula because it tends to eliminate inequalities between various types of business."

Both Conlin, the committee and Morris recommend allowing businesses to deduct depreciation from the tax base.

The citizens committee, headed by Paul Curran of the Micromatic Hone Corp. of Detroit, also recommended the business receipts (or activities) tax become a permanent part of the state's tax structure.

Enacted two years ago, it was to expire on March 15 this year but the Legislature extended it until Dec. 31 to give time for study of the tax problem.

Morris said the citizens committee reported the state needs only 12 million dollars more revenue next year.

Gov. Williams had recommended 46 million more and Republican leaders have talked of 20 to 30 million more.

Morris said his bill would aim at 12 to 16 million more on the theory the state needs 14 million more.

He said conversations with the appropriating committees convinced him they will recommend a budget of 267 million dollars, compared to this year's 242 million and Williams' recommendation of 292 millions.

The indicated budget, Morris said, will contain 17 million for institutional construction—half of what Wlliams' recommended.

To Test A-Blast Effect on Electricity

Four great steel transmission towers now mark the place on the desert at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site, where construction has just been completed on two identical electricity supply systems.

Each resembles in detail the complicated networks of power lines and other equipment which provide essential electric service to homes, farms, and factories throughout the outstate Michigan service area of Consumers Power Company.

What effect on electricity supply would an atomic attack have? What can be done about it? Consumers Power, along with its sister electric companies of the United States, intends to find out at the atomic open "shot," scheduled April 26 at the test site.

"There is no doubt that the electric facilities like all other installations and services within a bombed area would be seriously stricken," stated Harold Quinton, president of the Edison Electric Institute, national trade association of the electric power industry.

"However, we want to determine the extent of damage to power lines, transformers, substations, and other installations beyond the area of total destruction." The results of the test will be revealed to Consumers and other member companies of the EEI.

"It is most important," Quinton continued, "to find out the nature of repairs or rehabilitation required to restore service in the fringe areas, where homes, factories, and other establishments would survive sufficiently to permit occupancy and operation, or even require power for reconstruction following an atomic explosion."

At the invitation of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, under whose auspices the equipment test will be made, the Edison Electric Institute arranged with the Bechtel Corporation for the construction of the two identical systems.

These will be in working order, serving some of the residential buildings to be tested by FCDA.

"It is expected that analysis of the atomic explosion's effects on these systems will give us a good indication of the parts most susceptible to this kind of blast," Quinton said.

Supervisors Board Hears Road Commission's Report

The Oakland County Road Commission will build a portion of its planned new buildings in the county service center on North Telegraph road this summer at an estimated cost of $460,000.

The commission summed up last year's accomplishments and plans for this year in its annual report to the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

New office and garage buildings will be constructed on the service center site. They are needed, the report stated, because the present facilities are not large enough to house personnel and equipment.

In addition, the planned Telegraph Rd.-Orchard Lake Ave. grade separation will require the land now occupied by one of the present garages and part of the storage yard.

"The funds are available ... from an established building fund, supplemented by moneys from current income and sale of right-of-way through the present site," it explained.

The commission continued resurfacing old cement pavements with asphaltic concrete (blacktop) last year, it reported. This "has in large measure reduced the amount of maintenance necessary on this type of road."

The resurfacing will be continued until all 110.61 miles of old primary concrete pavements are redone.

"The grade and surface of gravel and blacktop roads are gradually being improved, but "there is considerable work to do in this respect and funds are limited ...

"A highway needs study being made by the Legislature may bring about additional finances for this purpose."

Maintaining the 706.87 miles of county primary roads cost $1,331,678 last year, or an average $1,883 per mile. Upkeep on the 1,856 miles of county local roads required $1,006,180, or $541 per mile.

The 188.98 miles of state trunk line in Oakland were maintained by the road commission under a contract with the State Highway Department. The state paid the costs of $376,833, or $1,996 per mile.

There were 51.72 miles of new subdivision streets added to the local road system in 1954. The incorporation of Lathrup Village, Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake and Franklin reduced the local total by 53.21 miles.

Window Washers Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's 300 window cleaners were on strike today. They walked out at 7 a.m. yesterday. Members of AFL Window Cleaners Local 139 declined to work without a new contract with the Detroit Window Cleaning Contractors Assn.

Dutch Elm Disease Study Planned Here

A study of the spread of Dutch Elm disease in Oakland County will be made by the road committee of the Board of Supervisors aimed at determining possible steps to check the tree killer.

The move was decided on yesterday following a report from the road commission that it removed 80 diseased trees last year as required under state law, compared with 11 in 1953.

If the increase keeps up, removal costs "will seriously impair our local road budgets," the commission warned.

The removals are expensive, it explained, because "the wood has to be sprayed with a strong DDT solution and then hauled away to a place where it can be burned."

SHOW CHAIRMEN — Fred Poole and Harry Zering, co-chairmen of the second annual Greater Pontiac Builders' Show, discuss last minute details for the 4-day event which opens in the Pontiac Armory Thursday. Sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees, there will be 35 participating merchants with 51 booths. Many will feature do-it-yourself materials for everything from home construction to house decoration. Show hours are: Thursday, 2 p. m. to 10 p. m.; Friday, 2 p. m. to 10 p. m.; Saturday, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.; and Sunday, 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Show Will Answer Building Questions

Whether you be a "do-it-yourselfer" or a "hire-it-doner," this year's Greater Pontiac Home and Builders Show which opens Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Pontiac Armory will offer everything for your home from actual construction materials to gossamer draperies for that new picture window.

Fifty-one booths will be featured in the four-day event sponsored by the Jaycees.

Co-chairmen of the affair, Harry Zering and Fred Poole, stated today that the Show has been developed around the problems of the prospective home buyer or builder as well as the present home owner.

How do you finance a new home? The local banks will be on hand to tell you the procedure.

How do you go about selecting plans for a home? Pontiac's leading builders and lumber dealers will have booths which will show you plans and give you estimates on cost.

What are the merits of dry wall construction as compared to conventional plaster walls? These two methods will be exhibited in a model home directly across from the Armory which has been especially constructed for this purpose.

Are there different kinds of wood for paneling, flooring, and woodwork and what are the comparative costs of these? Samples of these woods will be on display.

What about appliances for the new home, the types of windows which are available, the furnishings and the window dressings? All of these and many other items will be shown to the public during the four-day Builders' Show.

How do you adequately insure a house? If you have a basement which leaks, what can be done to seal it without excavating around the exterior wall sections?

The Show will continue through Sunday with official closing time set for 6 p.m.

Pontiac YMCA Schedules Annual Meeting Thursday

Program for Thursday's 54th annual meeting of Pontiac YMCA has been announced by Ted Slosson, executive secretary.

Nohn Nuveen, Chicago investment banker and president of the Chicago Sunday Evening Club, will be guest speaker. He will discuss "Let's take a straight look at the future."

A dinner, served by Pontiac Chapter of the Blue Star Mothers, will start the affair which begins at 6:30 p.m. in the YMCA building, Mt. Clemens at Seneca Sts.

Gelston V. Poole, president, will give a report on last year's activities and program.

Nominating committee report will be presented by Ralph Norvell, Candidates for six directorships are John Cowe, Harold Euler, Richard Fisher, Tom Horowitz, E. A. Maxwell, Berkley Voss, Mac Whitfield and Walter K. Willman.

Entertainment will be supplied by members of the vocal music department of Pontiac High School, under the direction of George Putnam, and master of ceremonies will be Robert R. Eldred.

JOHN NUVEEN

New board officers will be elected at a meeting of the directors following the general session. Nominating committee chairman L. H. Cole will report on candidates.

Other activities this week, being held in observance of the group's 54th anniversary, include father and son swims Tuesday and Friday nights, and a World Service Party Friday at 9 p.m.

Bloomfield Area Students Plan 2-Day Seminar

Students from Kingswood and Cranbrook, as well as representatives from Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills public schools, will have the opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge about the political and cultural affairs of Europe and Russia in a two-day seminar April 28-29, at Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools.

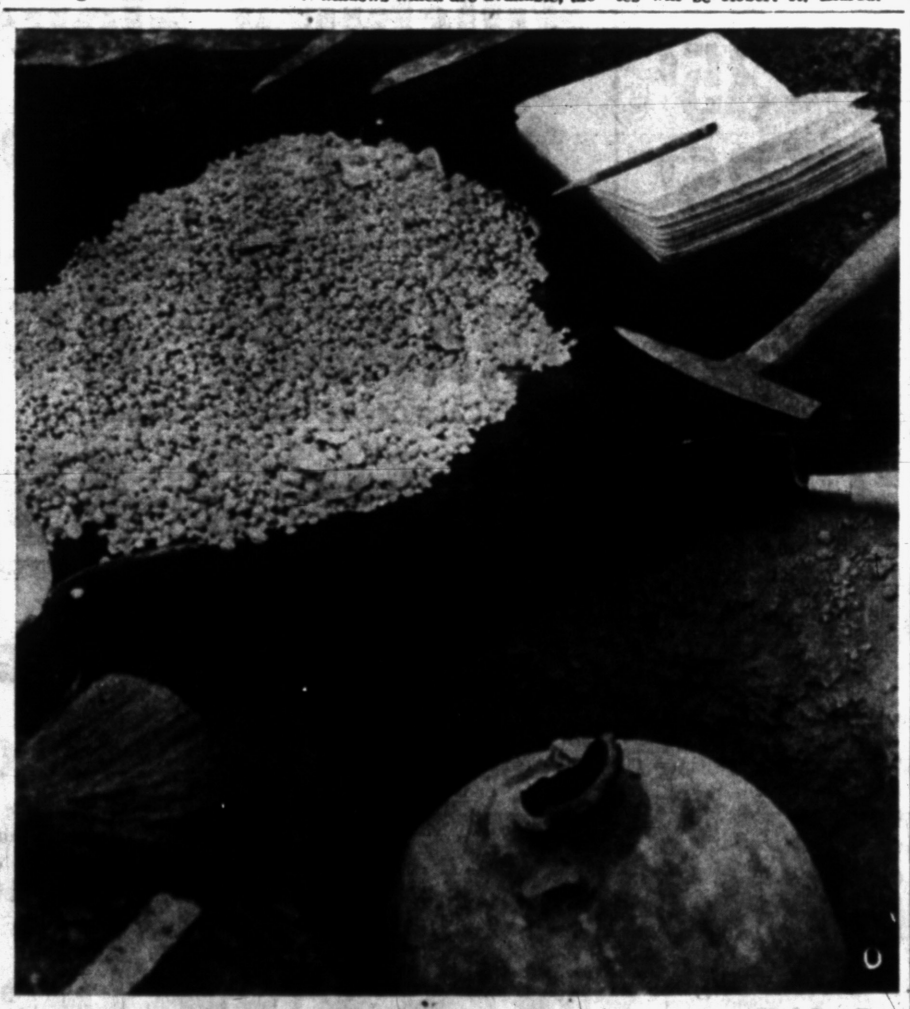

Featuring distinguished members of six foreign nations, speakers will be:

From the University of Michigan, Professors A. Lobanov-Rostovsky, Vincent A. Scanio and James H. Meisel will represent Russia, Italy and Western Europe, respectively. Foreign consuls stationed in Detroit, Jean Belaird of France, W. H. Van Almsick of Western Germany and John M. Fisher of Great Britain will be in attendance.

"It is hoped that through a seminar program such as this, students will gain an understanding of international problems as they concern the U. S. relationship with foreign powers."

The seminar is an outgrowth of an original program proposed several years ago by the United Nations, when speakers from foreign delegations were sent to various parts of the country to participate in school conferences. The program was abandoned, however, because of its costliness.

VALUABLE FIND — An estimated $300,000 worth of pearls is exposed for the first time in 400 years amid the tools used to unearth them at Cubango Island, Venezuela. The once-in-a-lifetime discovery of more than 3,000 pearls — believed to be the cache of a resident of the village of Nueva Cadiz which was leveled by a hurricane in 1534 — was made by Dr. Joseph M. Cruxent, director of the Museum of Natural Sciences in Caracas. The entire treasure was in the jug buried only two inches under ground.

Two Items Top Agenda Tonight

Commission Also Slated to Listen to Report on Taxi Fares

The City Commission tonight is slated to consider again a request to rezone most of Glenwood Estates Subdivision and an ordinance to ban additional public housing in the city.

Located north of Pontiac Motor Division, above Columbia avenue and Highwood boulevard, the subdivision has been the center of controversy between manufacturing and residential interests for months.

A construction firm's offer to buy the vacant land for new homes prompted the request to rezone from manufacturing classification to residential.

The company, which has since purchased about half the acreage, has stated it will build lower-priced homes on its land if the Commission refuses to rezone.

An attorney explained FHA financing could not be obtained for higher-cost homes unless the land was zoned residential.

It is believed Pontiac Motor Division will purchase the remaining land. The rezoning request included all but other strips of property owned by Pontiac Motor, a railroad and utility companies.

* * *

Last week the Commission turned down by a 4-3 vote a motion to present to the voters an ordinance prohibiting additional public housing construction.

The commissioners tonight will consider adopting the ordinance without putting it to a vote.

The proposed ordinance was presented via petitions, which gave the Commission the option of putting it up to a vote or adopting it.

In new business, the Commission is scheduled to hear a report from City Manager Walter K. Willman regarding an increase in taxi fares.

Reports are due also from City Attorney William A. Ewart concerning a right-of-way release, a mortgage and a set-back line agreement.

Renewal of Class C, tavern, club and hotel liquor licenses for 1955 will also be considered, as will an application for a food license filed by Arnold Capogna.

Up for approval will be a contract with A & A Asphalt Paving Co. for blacktopping city streets under the 1955 capital improvements program.

Introduction is set for an ordinance to rezone to commercial 1 classification lots 3 to 5 and portions of lots 128 to 130, Merrimac Subdivision.

Also on the agenda is a petition to replace existing sidewalk on the east side of Marquette street from Nelson to Edison.

* * *

Communications are to be read from Adrian B. Fleming, 20 S. Saginaw St., asking more time to conform to the new air conditioning ordinance, and from Andrie Csiki, 825 E. Pike St., submitting a bid for three city-owned lots in Marquette Subdivision.

Engineer's estimates are scheduled to be presented for curb, gutter, drainage and eight-inch concrete pavement on Kennett road from Baldwin to Wing and on Portland street from Montcalm to Owen.

The latter includes assessment for sewer stubs. Under a new policy, the Commission decided to install the stubs, or lead-ins, from the sewer beyond the pavement to now-vacant lots.

Purpose is to avoid digging up new streets when the property's owner wants to build on it and needs a sewer outlet.

Public hearings are slated on intention to construct the following projects:

from trunk sewer east of Motor to

Sanitary sewer and house connections on Nebraska avenue from trunk sewer east of Motor to Franklin road.

Sanitary sewer and house connections on Colorado avenue from trunk sewer east of Motor to Motor.

Curb, gutter and drainage on Beverly avenue from Baldwin to University.

Curb, gutter and drainage on Cornell avenue from Baldwin to University.

Other hearings are set on special assessment rolls for a sanitary sewer on Wyoming avenue from trunk sewer east of Motor 80 feet west of Motor, and curb, gutter and drainage on Elm street from Jessie to Sanford.

Astronomers Will Meet Thursday at Cranbrook

Pontiac-Northwest Detroit Astronomers Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Speaker will be George Carhart, who will discuss satellites of the solar system. Mrs. Nell T. Sprinkle, secretary, said the meeting is open to the public.

Loyalty Firing Before Jurists

Supreme Court Asked if Accused Has Right to Confront Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court takes up today the question of whether the government can legally fire an employe on loyalty grounds while keeping secret his accusers.

Central figure in the case is Dr. John Punnett Peters, professor of medicine at Yale University. He contends his constitutional rights were violated by not being allowed to confront and cross-examine his accusers.

* * *

Dr. Peters was fired in May 1953 as an occasional consultant to the U.S. Public Health Service after a three-member hearing panel found a "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty. He denied he had ever been a Communist and declared his loyalty to the United States.

Atty. Gen. Brownell has expressed concern that sources of information "might well dry up" if the government had to disclose them in loyalty cases.

* * *

The Supreme Court was expected to call the Peters case for argument at 2:30 p.m. in its first look in four years at key procedures of the federal loyalty-security program.

Dr. Peters' attorneys do not question the government's right to discharge employes "without a fair hearing" when other than loyalty grounds are involved.

Solon Hits Silence About Island Defense

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) says U.S. refusal to say whether it will defend Chinese Nationalist islands off Red China has created "a delicate situation which could develop into all-out war at any time."

Mansfield also told the Northwestern Council of Lumber and Sawmill Workers Convention yesterday that U.S. preoccupation with Formosa is causing neglect of Japan. He said Japan must have new sources of trade, and may have to turn to China if the West fails to provide them.

Loot Only Worthwhile for One-Legged Thief

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Shoe salesman Fred Nordstrom told police someone broke into his garage and opened five cartons of sample shoes.

But the intruder left empty-handed — probably because all of the shaes were for the right foot.

ON HIS WAY OUT — What could be his replacement is examined by a broom toting street cleaner in Paris, France. A British businessman, Frank Ely, claims it's the world's largest vacuum cleaner. He wants to "clean up Europe" with such devices.

Godfrey Says Fired Nine Lost Sense of Teamwork

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey says the nine people he fired last Friday had lost their sense of being on a "team."

He says they no longer "had their hearts" in his television and radio shows, and spent too much time looking for greener pastures.

Godfrey gave his version of the sacking of six singers and three writers in an interview yesterday at his office at CBS.

* * *

Up popped the angle that some of the dismissed performers were complaining they were let go without notice and that Godfrey had been too brusque.

"They're wiping tears out of their eyes with fistfulls of dollar bills," he said. "Notice? I gave them 11 weeks notice and paid them off to the tune of $75,000 (through the expiration of their contracts July 1.)

In talking of a lack of teamwork and of a yen for advancement elsewhere, Godfrey referred mainly to Marion Marlowe, the Mariners male quartet and Haleloke, Hawaiian girl singer and dancer.

* * *

Saying it was nothing personal, Godfrey added that he should have let them go a long time ago, probably shortly after he sacked Julius La Rosa.

Godfrey said "some" people in his troupe were impressed by the publicity and big offers La Rosa received after being fired.

"They sat around wondering how to get into the big dough," Godfrey continued. "They tried to figure ways of getting attention for themselves. They got off the team."

Godfrey said he has no personal enmity toward Ed Sullivan, who runs the "Toast of the Town" television show and who hired La Rosa and Miss Marlowe after Godfrey let them go.

Godfrey said of Sullivan with a smile:

"He's an opportunist and a sage one. He's a newsman — smart enough to grab anything newsworthy. I think he ought to change the name of his show to 'The Tossed of the Town.' But I'm not mad at him or any one."

Goes Back to Sweden to End Tax Worries

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) — A safeteria owner apparently has taken steps to end his income tax worries once and for all.

Lander Hiage was due in federal court here yesterday on charges of evading $10,000 in taxes.

However, Hiage's lawyer appeared with a letter from his client. The letter was postmarked Sweden, and in it Hiage said he did not intend to return to the United States.

State Assessors Increase Values of Public Utilities

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Assessors has tentatively placed the 1955 tax valuations of Michigan public utilities at $571,426,900.

The board said final assessed valuations will be determined after appeal hearings on May 10.

This year, the average state tax rate is $29.69 per $1,000 assessed valuation, compared with an average rate of $28.20 in 1954.

Revenues from the tax go to the primary school fund. They are distributed to all school districts in the state on the basis of attendance.

The tentative figures call for an increase of $8,165,000 in the valuations of railroad companies, $25,957,700 in the valuations of telephone and telegraph companies, and $225,200 in the valuation of car lending agencies.

Although some lizards take readily to water, none are thoroughly aquatic.

Stevenson Still Cagy on Plans to Run in '56

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, asked about his plans for 1956, says "I haven't anything to say at this time. I don't know if I'm needed or wanted."

Asked if former President Truman would suit him as a running mate next year, the 1952 presidential candidate replied:

"Mr. Truman would be satisfactory to me in any position. I don't know if I'd be satisfactory to Mr. Truman."

Grandma Makes Shopping Her Career in Russia's Food-Short Grocery Stores

(Editor's Note: Alfred G. Hill of the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Oakridger and George Johnson of the Long Beach (Calif.) Independent and Press-Telegram have returned to the U.S. after a 12-day tour behind the Iron Curtain with a group of American editors. This is the second of three articles on their observations and impressions.)

By ALFRED G. HILL AND GEORGE JOHNSON

(Written for International News Service)

Soviet propagandists regularly boast of their success in curbing food prices. Soviet censors just as regularly blue-pencil stories of foreign correspondents telling of Moscow's food shortages.

These shortages exist not only in the officially-controlled gastronomes where prices are fixed, but also in the collective farmers' markets — the free markets where prices are determined by the interplay of supply and demand.

In Moscow, there are constant shortages of such staples as beef, pork, sugar, butter and sunflower seed oil (the Russian housewife's standard cooking oil). This year the meat shortage has been more severe than last.

We went to Moscow's gastronome No. 1 and saw first-hand how the Russian housewife has to struggle to get the raw materials for her family's daily meals.

Working wives are far more common in Russia than in America. Economic necessity, coupled with the desire to escape the confines of one and two-room apartments, sends the wife trudging off to the shop or factory with her husband, leaving grandmother at home to run the "house" and handle the shopping.

At least half of the patrons we saw in gastronome No. 1 were—or appeared to be — grandmothers. The remainder were younger women and men, some of them in Red army uniforms.

Everything is cash-and-carry. There are no deliveries.

The gastronome itself is an unbelievable combination of marble, gilt and stained glass—a "cathedral" of commerce complete with high vaulted ceiling.

But the crowding customers show little sign of appreciating their grandiose surroundings. They are intent on the food stocks and whether they will last until their turn comes in the queue.

After a fair amount of jostling and buffeting in the gastronome, we proceeded to one of the 30 collective farmers' markets regularly operating in Moscow. Here we found free interprise making one of its last stands in Soviet Russia — and a rather vigorous one at that.

These markets operate on a principle which must horrify the doctrinaire Communists. In order to give them an additional incentive to produce, collective farmers are permitted to raise some meat, fruits and vegetables for their own disposal. Small plots have been allocated to them for this specific purpose.

The farmers' market we visited consisted of a large number of stalls, some in the open and some in a large barn-like building.

Peasants, complete with high felt boots, were displaying their wares—meat, poultry, eggs, fruits, and vegetables. The market did not lack for customers, but there was not the mass of pushing humanity we encountered in the gastronome.

Whereas the gastronome was purely a seller's market, the farmers' market was unmistakably a buyer's market. At the gastronome, blank-faced clerks doled out their merchandise with complete disinterest. At the farmers' market, the peasant-merchants showed remarkable salesmanship.

All food prices are, of course, quoted in rubles and kopecks. When you convert them into dollars at the fixed, and artificial, rate of four rubles to the dollar, you come up with these prices in the state-operated gastronome:

Sugar $1.70 per pound, pork chops $4.20 per pound, cheese $4.72 per pound, Vodka $12.34 per quart. On the day of our visit the gastronome had no beef, but we were told that it recently had ranged in price from $1.13 to $1.70 per pound.

In the farmers' market, we found pork chops for $2.84 per pound, which undercut the gastronome—an unusual phenomenon. Beef of indifferent quality was available for $3.07 per pound. We could not identify the cut. Eggs were the equivalent of $3.60 per dozen and milk was $1 a quart, with the customer expected to supply his own container.

Fat hens were offered for $10 to $12 depending on their weight.

Potatoes and cabbage, essentials in the Russian diet, brought 19 cents and 45 cents a pound.

Use of the artificial official rate in converting rubles to dollars results in a considerable overstatement of these prices.

But the fact remains that for the average Russian it is expensive to eat—and virtually impossible to eat well by American or even Western European standards.

Private Golf Course Taken From Felons

In addition, Deputy Warden Albert Thompson and a guard, Victor Anchukiatis were suspended yesterday for lowering four golf clubs from the wall to the prisoners March 31.

Acting Warden Perley S. Vance said he had no knowledge of any golf course within the prison walls.

An employe of the corrections department said, however, that some prisoners who work in the foundry built a miniature course in the yard outside the shop.

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Orville Maynard was expecting her seventh child. About 10 a.m., things began to happen. The seventh child was born. At 1 p.m., the eighth was born. Her doctor decided she should be taken from nearby Cedar Creek to Georgetown for "further treatment." The treatment consisted of delivery of a ninth child. All are girls.

Texas Delays Action on Unfair Sales Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Committee action on the controversial "unfair sales" bill was delayed a second time last night when the Texas House of Representatives held a night session.

The night session forced cancellation of a subcommittee report to the House State Affairs Committee.

The measure would require grocery stores to take a six per cent markup over inventory costs on groceries. Independent grocers contend some chain stores are attempting to drive them out of business.

Marie Louise Welch Wed in Methodist Church Rites

MRS. ROBERT A. LEWIS

Rev. C. F. Oliver performed the double-ring rites at 8 p.m. before 175 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mason J. Welch, of 1960 Pontiac Trail. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis of Auburn Heights are the parents of the bridegroom.

A white embroidered organdy over white taffeta gown was the bride's choice for the wedding. It had a full skirt and a shawl collar, and a matching embroidered headpiece.

Maid of honor was a cousin of the bride, and Helen Shelford and Virginia Myers were attendants.

Livonia Mayor Guest Speaker

High School Is Scene for 8 P. M. Confab on Change in Status

TROY TOWNSHIP — Township residents attending the public meeting on incorporation will hear a voice of experience this evening.

Livonia Mayor Albert M. Hartom is slated as the speaker for the 8 p.m. meeting at the Troy High School.

Livonia is the only city, in this area that made the incorporation move from an entire township.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has called a June 7 election for residents of Troy Township to vote on incorporating the greater portion of the township.

At the meeting tonight will be Troy officials, including Supervisor Norman Barnard. They will be available to answer questions on what the change would mean to residents.

The incorporation move followed an attempt by Royal Oak to annex a portion of Troy on which the Vickers Corp. of Detroit is building a $2,000,000 plant.

Waterford Play Deals With Aged

'The Room Upstairs' Slated for Donelson at 8 P. M. Thursday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Waterford Township PTA Program Planning Committee in co-operation with the Recreation Department, is presenting a one act play Thursday on the problems of the aged.

"The Room Upstairs" will be given at 8 p.m. at the Donelson School.

Objections of this co-operative affair between the schools and the recreation department is to focus attention on problems of old age, and how both agencies can help.

"The Room Upstairs" depicts grandmother's room, and the associated problems of living with the family of her daughter.

Forming the cast are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bergemann of Lambert School; Mrs. Clifford Temple of Waterford Center School; Mrs. Virginia Wagner of Williams Lake School, and township recreation superintendent Thomas Belton.

No admission charge will be made.

Fay Shrieked Her Way Up in Ghoul Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's time for a visit with Fay Wray, the actress with the wonderfully rhyming name.

For the benefit of those who feared for Miss Wray in the clutches of King Kong and other monsters of another film era, it can be reported that she came through those experiences unscathed. In fact, she is more beautiful than ever now in her 40s. She can hold her own with the more recent glamor girls and probably outscream them all.

* * *

Although she has had a varied movie career, she is perhaps best noted for her screams. Only the other day a sound man at Columbia Studios was seeking a shriek to use in a new picture.

"I've got a Fay Wray scream stored away," said a co-worker. "It's still the best."

Fay became so noted because she starred in the original "King Kong." Audiences were chilled by the way she recoiled in terror when grasped by the king-size ape. When Kong held her in his palm atop the Empire State Building, she let loose a scream that could have been heard on Staten Island.

After that, she became the sweetheart of the monsters. She shrieked her way through films with vampires, waxen mummies, etc. She did many other kinds of roles, too.

After a 10-year-old absence from the screen, Miss Wray reactivated her career two years ago and has been doing very well. She performed a few film roles, then spent almost a year as Paul Hartman's wife in the TV series, "Pride of the Family."

Miss Wray's film career goes back to the '20s. A native of Alberta, Canada, she went to school in Los Angeles and met a lot of movie people. She got the old line: "If you ever want to do something in pictures, look me up."

She accepted one of the invitations and landed a contract with Hal Roach, where she got her training in comedies. She went from there to Universal and then did an Erich Von Stroheim epic, "The Wedding March." It established her as a star. She is married to Robert Riskin, a film writer.

Work Slackens for Look-Alike

Truman Double Played Last Role as President Three Years Ago

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Harry Truman is not the only "forgotten man" in America. So is Apostolos Pooleon—the Greek-born Hollywood waiter who used to turn an honest buck making like the ex-prez in movies and television.

Pooleon, who has been serving up tasty dishes to TV and film stars at the Hollywood Brown Derby for the past 10 years, landed his last Truman job nearly three years ago, after Ike took over the White House.

"It was on Ralph Edwards' show 'Place the Face' and I haven't had a job since," Pooleon lamented.

Only they don't call him Pooleon, or even Apostolos.

"Everybody calls me Truman," the waiter said, peering through his pale-rimmed specs. "I don't think a half a dozen people in this town know my real name!"

Pooleon, who has appeared as Truman on the Spade Cooley show, with Red Skelton, Abbott and Costello and the Colgate Comedy Hour, spent 25 years juggling food trays in such famed Washington, D. C. hotels as the Mayflower, Carleton and the New Willard, but he never had a chance to drop a single bowl of soup on the chief executive.

"I saw him a few times," Pooleon said, "but I never got to rub his elbow. That was when he was vice president."

"I waited on her in the Derby once," he recalled, "but she didn't say anything."

The would-be actor, six years Truman's junior, never was allowed to talk during any of his presidential appearances.

"I guess it was because of my accent," he admitted. "But once I did a lot of talking about the Truman family on a filmed Horace Heidt show but they never released it. I guess they decided they didn't like it."

Pooleon, who started out as a bus boy in a Detroit hotel, says he still has ambitions to become a "movie actor."

"I keep hoping," he said, "they'll make a movie on the life of Truman. That could be my big opportunity."

The fashion nowadays, however, is for Eisenhower doubles. Talent scouts already have uncovered several of these, including a Hollywood studio gateman and a San Diego longshoreman, both of whom have been used in TV and motion pictures.

Big Ten Wins Eight TV Grid Dates in '55

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big Ten Conference, which led the fight against the NCAA national game-a-week football television program, will be able to show its wares on TV on eight successive Saturdays next fall.

* * *

The eight-game national program was announced Monday by the NCAA television committee and the National Broadcasting Company, which will telecast the national programs. Five Saturdays were left open for regional programs.

* * *

Four Big Ten teams are scheduled for national network appearances, two against non-conference opponents, and the regional dates are spaced so as to make a continuous eight-week program possible for regional viewers.

The schedule:

Sept. 17—Miami (Fla.) at Georgia Tech.
Sept. 24—Regional date.
Oct. 1—Ohio State at Stanford.
Oct. 8—Regional.
Oct. 15—Notre Dame at Michigan State.
Oct. 22—Regional.
Oct. 29—Iowa at Michigan.
Nov. 5—Regional.
Nov. 12—Regional.
Nov. 19—UCLA at Southern California.
Nov. 24 (Thanksgiving—Texas at Texas A&M.
Nov. 26—Army vs. Navy at Philadelphia.
Dec. 3—North Carolina at Duke.

Lindsey Nelson and Harold (Red) Grange will be the commentators on the national series. NBC also plans to program regional games on the five available dates to provide a continuous series.

* * *

This isn't what the Big Ten originally sought in its demands for regional programs under national controls, but it can put at least one conference team before regional viewers on all but the last Saturday of the Big Ten season. Conference rules provide that the season may not open before the last Saturday in September and must end the Saturday before Thanksgiving

* * *

The Pacific Coast Conference, which also objected to the national TV controls of the past four years, didn't fare so well. Its teams can't appear on more than six Saturdays between Sept. 24 and Nov. 19.

Argentine Marathon Favorite

BOSTON (AP) — Reinaldo Gorno, a 36-year-old sanitation engineer from Buenos Aires, ruled a solid favorite today to maintain the recent monopoly of foreign foot-racers in the famed Boston A. A. marathon—but showery weather might be his undoing.

The dark, wavy-haired Argentinian had been hailed as a favorite of almost "sure thing" proportions until a forecast of cool, cloudy weather with showers gave a new cast to the situation.

Gorno, 2nd to Czechoslovakia's great Emil Zatopek when he broke the Olympic marathon mark in 1952, would prefer a sunny day with temperatures in the low 60s, for this 26-mile, 385-yard grind from rural Hopkinton to downtown Boston.

* * *

But the advent of showers boosted the chances of the other foreign stars to spring an upset. Sweden's lean, swift Gustaf Jansson, who lost by only an eighth of a mile to Gorno for second place in the last Olympics, was accorded a strong chance to take it all.

Like most of the other foreigners except Gorno, Jansson will be at his best on a coolish day. The 31-year-old woodsman lives near the Norwegian border and wound up his training in the snow before flying across the Atlantic.

Others benefitting from the threatening weather will be Finland's "mystery men," Paavo Kotila and Eino Pulkkinen. The 1954 BAA winner, Veikko Karvoen, was a countryman of theirs

Karvonen is not back to accept a double victory. He had his choice between this race and last fall's marathon at Kamakura Japan. Gorno won that one, with Karvonen second.

Japan's entry is always powerful. This year its three-man squad consists of two men who have run this course before and one first-timer, Sadaaki Tanaba. Yoshitaka Uchikawa was 8th in 1951 and Hideo Kammamura 6th in 1953, when Japan's little Keizo Yamada set the record of 2 hours, 18 minutes, 51 seconds.

Top U. S. hope is Nick Costes, a Farrell, Pa., native who teaches school in Natick — one of the communities along the marathon route. Costes, ninth a year ago, moved up in the reckoning when John J. Kelley, New London, Conn., star who was the first American to finish the past two years, decided he wasn't in shape to run.

Lopata scored when Hodges fielded Earl Torgeson's roller and tossed to Erskine who fell and was unable to recover. Erskine threw to the plate from a sitting position. Umpire is Jackowski and the Dodgers won, 5-2.

Pirate Ace Should Know!

Thomas Says It's Tough to Play for Tailender

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone who thinks it's easy to play for a last place club is crazy.

That's the sober opinion of Frank Thomas, star outfielder of the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates and one of the top sluggers of the National League. Thomas should know because he's never been on any but a last place team ever since he came up to the major leagues in 1953.

"Regardless of what some think," Thomas said sorrowfully in the gloom of the Pirate clubhouse following Pittsburgh's sixth successive defeat Monday, a 12-3 loss to the New York Giants, "it's hell to play with a last place club. A guy is supposed to be relaxed. Relaxed my eye. What's so relaxing about losing day after day?"

"Its much easier playing with a pennant contender. There's supposed to be more pressure on a fellow playing with a championship club. I wouldn't know about that. I've been in baseball eight years and I've played on a team that finished as high as fourth only once. That was the Charleston Club in the Sally League back in 1950.

"I feel certain, however, it would be much easier and more fun to play on a club that's going somewhere. As for the pressure, any good ball player welcomes it. That's when he's usually at his best."

Lions Invoking Help of Courts

File Suit Against the Argonauts to Halt Use of Ex-Detroit Pair

TORONTO (AP) — The Detroit Lions of the National Football Leauge have filed motions for injunctions that would prevent quarterback Tom Dublinski and tackle Gil Mains from playing with the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four this season.

The motions, filed Monday and returnable next Monday, ask the Supreme Court of Ontario to restrain Dublinski and Mains "from breach of contract with the plaintiffs."

Meanwhile, the Argonauts, the most controversial football club in Canada, signed Bucky Curtis, an end from the Browns, Cleveland previously had not been touched by Argonaut player raids.

St. Michael's Sports Banquet Set May 10

Annual all-sports banquet of the athletic association of St. Michael's parish is scheduled Tuesday, May 10, at 6:30 p.m. at St. Michael's Hall.

Wally Fromhart, head football coach at the University of Detroit, will be the principal speaker. Other guest speakers include Ray Null, athletic director at UD; Bob Calihan, UD basketball coach; and Bob Morris, parochial prep writer of the Detroit Times.

Toastmaster will be Andrew Bertoni, secretary of Meadowbrook Country Club.

PHS Golfers Handed Setback at Saginaw

Up against a steadier squad in the Arthur Hill golf team, Pontiac High School's chief linksmen dropped their opening test of the season yesterday. They bowed to the 'Jacks 11½-3½ at Green Acres course, Saginaw. Pontiac's Jayvees beat Saginaw juniors, 10-5, with Tom Jacobson's 84 medalist figures.

Three PHS players were shut out. Bill Martin's 86 against Arthur Hill Bill Turmer's 80 gave PHS one point, and Jerry Richards hit 85 for 2½ points against Bill Feldt who had 91 for a half point.

'Gotta Hit' to Make Money Is Logan's Slogan

Braves' Infielder Is Making It Pay With Fat .591 Average

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National League's top fielding shortstop believes "you gotta hit to make money" and that's one good reason Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves carries a fat .591 plate average after Milwaukee's first half dozen games of 1955.

Troy Trackmen Win Opener at Clawson

Don Hill's Troy High School track team won its opening meet of the season Monday with a 56 5/6 to 52 1/6 decision over Clawson on the latter's track.

Floyd Bailey and George Burnard each came up with multiple victories, but the deciding points came on a surprise 2nd place finish by Dick Kelly in the shot put. Bailey won the shot and the quarter-mile and tied for first in the pole vault with teammate Jim Murdock.

'Highly Exciting Race' Is Prediction by the Veteran Shaughnessey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The ancient International League, sprawling through three countries, opened its 72nd consecutive season today and President Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy optimistically said "there is a chance for a record gate."

"Futhermore," said Shag, starting his 19th season as president of the Triple A loop, which in recent years has been beset by television problems, "I look for a highly exciting race."

There will be one new member. Columbus, 52 years in the rival American Association, took the place of Ottawa. Last year, in order to fight off the inroads of TV, Havana and Richmond, took over for Springfield and Baltimore.

* * *

Several years ago, Newark and Jersey City, two of the onetime pillars of the league, were forced to drop out because of dwindling attendance.

Only Richmond and Havana will open tonight. The Virginians expect to have 9,000 in the stands against the Montreal Royals. Righthander Bob Habenicht probably will pitch for the home club against lefty Ken Lehman.

In Havana, Connie Marrero, back in the minors after a 5-year hitch with the Washington Senators, will match slants with Buffalo's Dick Marlowe, who hurled for Detroit last season.

Wednesday, in the second round of the openers, Syracuse entertains Toronto, 1954 champion, and Columbus will play host to Rochester.

The new entry includes mostly members of last year's Ottawa club, which finished last, plus a few hand-me-downs from the Kansas City A's. Although few expect the club to finish higher than seventh (last year's Columbus American Assn. team was fourth), 160,000 tickets already have been sold.

There are three new managers—Nick Cullop of the Jets, as the Columbus outfit has been nicknamed; Greg Mulleavy of Montreal and Danny Carnevale of Buffalo.

* * *

The Maple Leafs, with practically the same team that won the title last year, are favorites. Only Elston Howard, now with the New York Yankees, is missing. But his place has been taken by catcher Lou Berberet, who hit .317 with Birmingham of the Southern Assn. last year.

Only One Available

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. — Only one Hyperion colt will be offered at auction in the nation this year—and buyers will get their chance to bid for it at the annual Saratoga Sales.

Land O'Lakes, Gay-Day Track Agreement Set

Racing Group Discloses Tie-Up With Speedway Near Pontiac

Contract arrangements between the Land O'Lakes Racing Association and the Gay-Day Speedway were disclosed Monday night at the LLRA meeting at Butch's collision Shop. A total of 140 drivers and owners attended the meeting.

Korte is planning extensive improvements at Gay-Day. The new surface will be of clay and chloride. Grandstands will also undergo remodeling with modern rest room facilities added.

President Gene Chidester reports that Land O'Lakes body was unanimous in the approval of the move to the new track. The Association raced last season at Pontiac M-59 Speedway.

Racing programs are planned for Wednesday nights, with twilight races on Sunday. A tentative starting date of May 15 has been set.

Michigan Modified Racing Association was represented at Monday's meeting by vice-president Bill Volke and that group pledged full support and cooperation with the new venture.

Detroit Pfeiffer 5 Rolls in ABC Tonight

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Only one change was recorded in yesterday's shooting in the American Bowling Congress tournament, on the 24th day of its scheduled 72-day run.

Tonight the highly ranked Pfeiffer Beer quintet of Detroit takes a shot for the team lead. The Detroit team, which under the E. and B. banner won the ABC title in 1952 and 1953, will be aiming to top the 3,047 total which gave the 620 club of Mineapolis the lead.

In the open division yesterday, two teams, the M. P. Heinze Machine five of Chicago and Topsy's Cafe, of Fort Worth, appeared headed for the top 10 but they didn't make it. The Chicago five finished with a 2,950 count, while the Texans rolled 2,930 after starting out with the night's highest game, 1,017.

Tiger Deal Is Looking Better All the Time

Chisox' Lane Figures Dropo, Nieman, Gray Will Come Through

CHICAGO (AP)—"We don't want to crow yet, smiles the Chicago White Sox General Manager, Frank Lane, "but that winter trade with Detroit is looking bigger and better to us every day."

In the exchange last December, Lane dispatched first baseman Ferris Fain and two minor leaguers to the Tigers for Walt Dropo, Bob Nieman and pitcher Ted Gray.

"Dropo and Nieman are doing for us what we hoped they would do," Lane beams. "And any time now you'll see Gray out there on the mound. He's been looking real good."

First sacker Dropo, a hulking 6-5, 220-pound giant, and outfielder Nieman so far have made the trade with Detroit look mighty good.

Dropo is batting .313 and last Saturday slammed a 425-foot bases loaded homer that gave the Sox a 9-4 triumph over Cleveland.

Nieman, who played for Sox Manager Marty Marion when he was skipper of the St. Louis Browns, is batting a lofty .545. He has hit three homers and driven in five runs.

No-Hitter Beats Chips

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Jack Kenney pitched a no-hit, no-run ball game yesterday as Eastern Illinois defeated Central Michigan, 5-0, in a seven-inning second game of a doubleheader. Central Michigan won the opener, 2-0.

Kenney also pitched no-hit ball as a reliefer in the last three innings of the nine-inning 1st game.

Junior High Track Season Set to Start

Track season for Pontiac's junior high schools will begin Wednesday afternoon with Lincoln meeting Jefferson and Washington opposing Eastern at Wisner Stadium.

Meets will be held each Wednesday until May 25, on which date the annual Junior High School Meet is scheduled. Washington Junior High is the defending champion for the 3rd straight year, having lost only one dual meet, while winning 13 meets over the 3-year period.

Em Ghianni's Braves will be favorites again this year, with stiff opposition expected from Jefferson.

Crary Thinclads Win School's First Meet

Crary Junior High School won the first track meet in the new school's history Monday with a 50½ to 26½ victory over Farmington Junior High on the Waterford High School track.

Mike Ewer paced the Clippers with the first places in the 75-yard dash and the broad jump, as they took 6 of 8 events. Cary, coached by Jack McCaffrey, competes in the Inter-Lakes Conference's Cinder Path League for 7th and 8th graders.

Crary will meet Southfield next Monday.

Detroit Men Propose Sports Hall of Fame

DETROIT (AP)—A committee of Detroit newspaper and radio sports editors have been named to set up plans for a statewide sportswriters vote on nominations to a proposed Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

Gene Poirer Impressive in Debut on Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The name is Gene Poirer and mark it down if you're a fight fan. You're going to hear a lot more about this 23-year old ex-platoon sergeant from Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The angular-faced Korean War vet faintly resembles Tony Zale facially and he hits hard like the old middleweight champion. For two rounds against Johnny Busso Monday night Gene showed a pretty good left. Then early in the third he exploded an overhand right against the 20-year-old New Yorkers jaw and that was that at 1:16.

Busso went down on his seat. At five he staggered to his feet. Referee Mark Conn rubbed his gloves and gave him the mandatory eight count. Then Busso's mouthpiece fell out as he wobbled hands down, to Poirer who was waiting in a neutral corner.

* * *

Conn jumped over to Busso, wrapped his arms around the dazed youngster and stopped the fight. Busso couldn't remember anything that had happened as he sat in his dressing room with blood trickling from a cut over his right eye.

It was Poirer's sixth straight victory and his eighth kayo. The record is 16-1 with two draws. It was the first time Busso has been stopped. His record now is 21-3-1.

Ypsi Horseman First in Move to Hazel Park

Driver-Trainer Bill Douglas, of Ypsilanti, became the first to ship into Hazel Park Harness Raceway, after the veteran driver received special permission from Hazel Park officials to beat the tentative April 20 date for the opening of the stable area.

Bucky Still Uncertain About Pitchers He'll Keep on List

DETROIT (AP)—Al Kaline and J. W. Porter both got home runs yesterday. But neither will count in official American League records.

It was the only run the regulars got in a 5-1 defeat by the reserves. Porter's four-bagger and triples by Ronnie Samford and Wayne Belardi accounted for the reserves' runs.

Maas and Paul Foytack gave the regulars only two hits besides Kaline's blast. Bud Black and Ray Herbert pitched for the regulars. Black gave up all five reserve runs.

He must trim the Tiger roster from 33 to 28 by May 12 and the problem of which pitchers are to go is giving him headaches.

Harris has 16 pitchers. He has indicated he will keep 11.

Yesterday's performance left him puzzled.

Black was hit for six of the reserve safeties including Porter's homer and the two triples. Herbert retired six straight then pitched himself out of a hole after he gave up a single and two walks.

Kaline's four-bagger and a single by Fred Hatfield were the only hits off Maas. Foytack held the regulars to one other single in his turn.

"I haven't seen enough of our pitchers to know what to do about them," Harris said. "And I don't know how I can see any more of them. This is the toughest job I ever had."

"I guess I'll just have to use my best judgment," Harris added. "I hope I do the right thing."

Bonus baby Bob Miller must be kept until June.

Viking, Bluejay Golf Teams Are Victorious

Walled Lake and Southfield of the Inter-Lakes Conference won golf matches Monday. DeForest McIntyre's Vikings measured Waterford's Skippers, 339-352, over the Edgewood Golf Club course.

Southfield won a triangular at Plum Hollow, scoring 351 to 383 for Farmington and 457 for Fitzgerald. Don Sherer and Don Bradley scored 86 and 87, respectively, in the Southfield triumph.

At Edgewood, Walled Lake's Dick Dewling took medal honors with an 81. Bob Stewart and Norm Dierkes added 83s, while Jack Reynolds paced the Skippers with 83.

Unique Engine, Designed as Airplane Motor, Is Feature of Unusual Entry in Indianapolis '500'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter F. Strader has entered 1955's most unusual race car in the 500-mile Indianapolis Race. It's so unusual Strader doesn't even know how to describe it.

"The engine is what's different," Strader, an ordained minister, inventor and mechanic, explained at his Los Angeles shop Monday night. "There's no way of comparing it to a regular engine."

Strader calls it a "Planacircle" engine, and calls his car the "Planacircle Special." The engine looks something like an electric motor. "Everything in it moves in a circle," Strader said.

He isn't disclosing all the details of the engine's operation. But he explained this much:

It has no pistons.
It has no valves.
It has no crankshaft.
And it's air-cooled.

"I built it primarily as an aircraft power plant," Strader said. "As it is it could go right into an airplane. The car is incidental to the engine. This will give it a first-hand demonstration in a place where the most people will see it."

* * *

Strader said he has paid the $500 entry fee, and officials of the 39th annual Indianapolis classic, although frankly puzzled by the builder's description, have accepted it. For the officials, Strader defined his power plant this way:

"The fuel mixture is compressed in two combustion chambers through a system of rotors."

* * *

He said the engine has a displacement of 137 cubic inches, half the 274 cubic inches allowed on non-supercharged engines. Although it has a system of rotors, it isn't a turbine. "It's an internal combustion engine, all right, Strader said.

How did he figure the displacement without cylinders to measure?

"It had to be figured on compound curves and arcs of circles," Strader said, a trifle mysteriously.

* * *

As a matter of further interest, Strader said his power plant, as yet untested in its normal-appearing chassis and body, is connected to the rear end at a one-to-one ratio. "You can tell by that it doesn't turn at a high rpm," he said.

* * *

Strader formerly had an auto sales and service shop in Syracuse, Indiana. He came here five years ago, continued his work on the engine, and also attended Bible college, becoming an ordained minister.

He said he got his engineering experience on the job. He built the engine himself and is finishing the car in a small Los Angeles shop.

Stout Steve Gromek Aims for First 20-Game Season

GROMEK

The 34-year-old right-hander, who relies on control rather than speed, already has two victories to his credit with the American League season only one week ago.

And he's certain he is every bit as sharp as he was last year when he turned in 18 triumphs to lead the Detroit pitching staff—maybe even sharper.

"Those fast-ball pitchers slow down a lot as they get older," Gromek said. "But a control pitcher can keep on winning for a long time and he gets smarter every year."

Gromek admitted the Tigers made his job easy in his 1st two starts this season, both against Kansas City, by running up a total of 26 runs against the Athletics.

But the fact remains that stout Steve was plenty stingy. He was touched for only two runs in his 1st outing, A 10-2 victory, and blanked the Athletics in the next start, a 16-0 rout.

He walked only one batter in the two games, proving that his control is as sharp as ever. Last year, he walked only 57 batters in 253 innings and had a 2.74 earned run average.

Gromek, who came to the Tigers in a 1953 mid-season trade with the Cleveland Indians, has twice come close to the coveted 20-victory mark. He won 19 games and lost nine for the Indians in 1945 and wound up with an 18-16 mark a year ago.

Heading for Big Time?

'Ducky' Oertel May Put Pontiac in Big Leagues Within the Next Couple Years

Pontiac may well be represented in the big leagues within a year or so.

Charles (Ducky) Oertel has made a very favorable impression on officials of the Baltimore Orioles baseball team, including general and field manager Paul Richards.

Oertel, one of the best all-around athletes ever to perform for St. Frederick's High School in Pontiac, is just starting his 4th season in professional baseball, but will be playing his 2nd season in a Class AA league.

Oertel spent 3 weeks with the Orioles in spring training, but was optioned on March 20 to the Birds' San Antonio farm team of the Texas League, where he played in 1954.

The Pontiac youngster was the youngest of 9 outfielders on the Baltimore spring roster and with such veterans as Walter (Hoot) Evers and Gil Coan having fine spring training seasons, the competition was just a little stiff.

* * *

The Orioles also have ex-Yankee Leaguers Cal Abrams and Chuck Diering and former Red Sox up-and-downer Chuck Maxwell. However, at 24, Oertel has the years on his side and may well jump to the majors in the next season or two.

Evers is 34; Woodling, 33; Diering, 32; and Coan and Abrams, 31, so their future in the American League may be limited

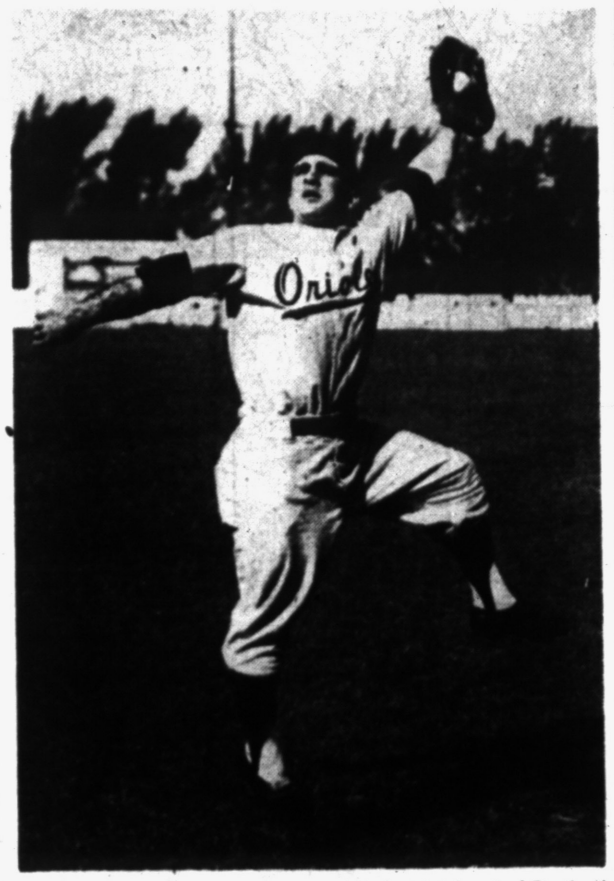

The former Ram ace began his pro career in 1950 at Baxley, Ga., where he hit .352 in 92 games, earning a promotion to Appleton, Wis., where he maintained an identical batting average for the remainder of the season. He was playing 3rd base at the time.

In 1951 at Appleton, he hit .325 for 122 bases, and his hits included 27 doubles, 13 triples and 10 homers, as well as 19 stolen bases. His fielding mark also showed improvement.

The seasons of 1952 and '53 were spent in the Marines, but "Ducky" joined San Antonio and played 159 games last season, hitting .276 in what is traditionally regarded as a "pitchers' league".

He again hit 10 home runs and his all-around play and hustle as an outfielder earned him the spring bid with the Orioles. A stocky 5-8, 170-pounder, he is a speedy, aggressive base runner with a strong throwing arm from right field.

"Ducky" looks like a future Oriole.

Cleveland's 'Hatchet Men' Blast Blackwell

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If one slugger doesn't get the job done, the next guy might. If he doesn't, the other clubbers are lined up for their whacks.

All of which gives manager Al Lopez the guaranteed payoff of a savings bond. With Al Smith, Bobby Avila, Larry Doby, Al Rosen, Ralph Kiner and Vic Wertz swinging for him, he's shooting for a second straight American League pennant with loaded dice.

* * *

Cleveland's hatchet men have knocked in 29 of the Tribe's 36 runs this season, with the big four of the wrecking crew—Doby, Rosen, Kiner and Wertz—driving in 19.

What they can do to the opposition was evident on opening day. Chicago's Virgil Trucks bore down to fan Kiner with the bags loaded in the first, only to find Wertz next at the plate. Wertz singled home two runs and the tribe was off to a 5-1 victory

* * *

Last night at Kansas City, Ewell Blackwell got the treatment. He came on in the ninth for the A's, who had clubbed five homers themselves for an 8-0 lead after four frames. When Blackwell arrived, Cleveland had swung back to a mere 9-8 deficit.

A walk and a hit batsman put Blackwell in the hole. But he struck out Smith and got Avila to pop up. Then he had Doby to face. Blackwell got as far as a 3-2 count and the next pitch was swatted 375 feet over the right field fence.

That was it. Cleveland had it 11-8, moving to within half a game of the American League leader, Boston, which was idle.

* * *

There were only two games played in the league. The other, also a nighter, saw the New York Yankee's Whitey Ford set down Baltimore on three singles 6-0 as the Orioles, still winless, lost their sixth.

The National had a full slate. Brooklyn stayed unbeaten with a five-run sixth that beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 for the Dodgers' seventh victory; and Cincinnati got rid of Vic Raschi quick to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 7-4. Both were night games.

In an afternoon pair, the New York giants whipped Pittsburgh 12-3 and Milwaukee slipped past the Chicago Cubs 2-1.

Four Hits in Second Inning Do All Damage in 2-1 Game

Flint Northern's Viking baseball club yesterday afternoon in Flint, smashed the Chiefs' string of wins with a 2-1 victory.

The loss was Pontiac High's first of the new season. It came as a result of an outburst of base-hits in the second inning.

The Northern victory started with singles by Bill Basilus and Gary Morris, and both moved around on a throw to third from centerfield. Don Daniel barely touched Morris' hit and Bruce Campbell came through with another blow that sent both runners home. That was all of Vikings' scoring, but it was just enough to win.

Only other runners to get on for Northern were in the fifth, and sixth when a walk and a single put men on the paths where they were left stranded.

Chiefs collected six hits and Northern only four. Bob Johnston went all the way for Pontiac, while Roger Ross, Jim Moore and Bob Star did the chores for Northern.

Stephens Gets Walking Papers From Orioles

BALTIMORE (INS)—The Baltimore Orioles gave veteran 3rd baseman Vern Stephens his unconditional release last night and optioned rookie 2nd baseman Don Leppert to Charleston of the American Association on 24-hour recall.

Stevens, whose .285 average was the 2nd highest on the Orioles last season, saw little action this spring as Billy Cox was installed as the regular 3rd baseman.

Leppert, one of the nine players the Orioles acquired in their 18-man trade this winter with the New York Yankees, batted .313 with Birmingham last season and hit .367 this spring in exhibition games.

112 Gridders Report at UM

Kramer, Branoff and Hendricks Missing Due to Spring Sports

ANN ARBOR (AP) —An eager 112 hopefuls turned out for spring football practice at the University of Michigan yesterday. Drills will continue until May 14.

Missing from practice because of other spring sports were such players as Ron Kramer, Tony Branoff and Tom Hendricks.

Other changes were evident. Mike Rotunno, an end last year, was working out with the fullbacks. Charlie Brooks, another end on last season's squad, worked out with the tackles.

Skippers, Avon, Clarkston, Keego Win Baseball Games

Waterford's baseball Skippers broke a 3-game losing streak. Avondale opened its season with a victory, and Clarkston and West Bloomfield claimed Wayne-Oakland League decisions in Monday's prep baseball activity in the Oakland County area.

Waterford tripped Rochester, 8-3, behind the 5-hit hurling of southpaw Chuck Gillis, who struck out 9 and walked only 1. Leading the attack for Dave Freeman's Skipper nine were Ron Kind, with two doubles; Leroy Nicholas, with a triple and single; and Loren Bray, with a brace of singles.

Buss DeBaene had 2 of the Falcons' five hits. Southfield of the Inter-Lakes bowed to Redford Union, 4-2, as the winners tallied 2 runs in the final inning. Dick Covera and Steve Klamik homered for Southfield.

Avondale nosed out Oxford, 4-3, with a 2-run rally in the 5th. Larry Herron and Ron Henderson each singled with the bases loaded for the deciding runs. Lyn Wright pitched 5-hit ball for the Yellowjackets, fanning 10 and walking 3.

In the W-O, Bob Yahnke and George Lang teamed up to stop Milford with a 4-hit shutout, 9-0. Yahnke worked 5 innings, whiffing 9 and walking 2. West Bloomfield halted Holly, 9-2, with Bill Nicholson tossing a 3-hitter and striking out 11.

Orland West collected 3 hits for the Keego Harbor club. Clarenceville drubbed Northville, 12-1, and Brighton nipped Fenton, 1-0, on freshman Brian Watson's 4-hitter in other contests.

Valley Champs Oppose Chiefs

Arthur Hill Netters Here Today; Lauchner Wins No. 5 Spot

Biggest test of the early spring tennis schedule for PHS Chiefs is set for today at Murphy Park courts. Coach Vic Lindquist's charges will oppose the Valley champion Arthur Hill contingent.

Only one change in makeup of the PHS squad was announced today by Lindquist. As a result of a challenge match yesterday, Kurt Lauchner has moved into the No. 5 singles spot. He replaces Bob Erb who held the place in the Flint Central match.

Chiefs face a stiff schedule next week, with matches against Lapeer on Monday, Flint Central Tuesday and Bay City Friday. All are PHS home contests.

How do you swing a wood club? Notice the player at the left. His stance is slightly open, his grip is correct. Notice that both arms are virtually straight. And because the left hand is at the top of the shaft, the left shoulder is slightly higher than the right in the address position. The player is bent over in an approximately correct position for an upright swing. As he swings back, all-in-one-piece, his hands will pass back-around-and-up, close to his body, until his club is horizontal at the top, or just a bit more, his left shoulder will be under his chin, and both hands will be under the shaft. This good player will see to it that his right elbow is kept in close to the body and his right forearm perpendicular to the shaft, at the top of the backswing. In the second picture you will note both hips have begun to pivot on a horizontal plane. And he is keeping knees level by raising his left heel. Good!

Fellow Employes Have Same Hobby

CHICAGO (UP)—Two employes of the Powers Regulator Co. in suburban Skokie have had the same license plate numbers for 44 years.

Elmer W. Reitz of Highland Park, Ill., export manager of the firm, and Paul Charles, Winnepeg, Manitoba, Can., first received their respective numbers in 1912 and have been reissued the same numbers every year since.

Both have their old plates on their garage walls, but neither knew of the other's collection, though each had worked for the Powers Co. 35 years, until a recent chance conversation.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Tailor John Askew was asked on his 90th birthday if he was making plans to retire. "Nope," said Askew. "Don't figure it's quite time yet."

Wheat, Beans Fall on Board

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and soybeans were easy in early board of trade dealings today after Monday's sharp upturn.

Traders said they considered the Far Eastern outlook a little more peaceful. Apprehension over the situation there led to buying in the previous session.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $2.10⅞; corn was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.46⅝; oats were ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May 72⅞; rye was unchanged to ¼ higher, May 99¾; soybeans were ¼ to 1¼ lower, May $2.53; and lard was 3 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $13.10.

I HAD TO EARN $200 A WEEK

So I sent $6 to The Wall Street Journal

High prices and taxes were getting me down. I had to have $200 a week or reduce my standard of living. Like Alice in Wonderland, I had to run faster to stay in the same place.

So I started reading The Wall Street Journal. I heeded its warnings. I cashed in on the ideas it gave me for earning extra income and cutting expenses. I got the money I needed. Now I'm slowly forging ahead. Believe me, reading The Journal every day is a wonderful get-ahead plan.

This experience is typical. Each day The Wall Street Journal tells you about far-reaching changes taking place in America. New inventions. New industries. New ways of doing business. New opportunities to earn money. The Journal gives you quick warning of any new trend that may affect your pocketbook. The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to the owner of a small business. It can be of priceless benefit to young men who want to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Profit-Taking Drops Market

Many recently strong individual stocks were singled out for concentrated selling.

Losses went to between 1 and 2 points in many cases, but there were gains going to around a point.

The decline was most apparent in the motors, steels, railroads, and aircrafts. The latter division started higher then turned lower.

Yesterday's market was strong with the Associated Press average of 60 stocks up $1.20 at $166.00, the highest level it ever has reached. The rise represented the ninth straight advance, and it was the fifth consecutive new record high.

For a time at the start today it appeared as though the market wanted to go higher again, but within a matter of minutes it turned lower in an irregular manner.

Among stocks going down were New York Central, Chrysler, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Amerada Petroleum, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, Boeing, United Aircraft, General Dynamics, General Electric, International Paper, and Johns-Manville.

Gas Turbine Powered Plymouth Under Tests

DETROIT—The first car ever to be powered by a gas turbine—the engine many believe will power the cars of the furture—now is being tested on city streets under actual driving conditions for the first time, Chrysler Corporation revealed today.

Chrysler said it has been test-driving a 1955 Plymouth, equipped with a gas turbine, on Detroit streets to find out what the car can do under actual driving conditions.

Chrysler said many metallurgical and manufacturing problems still remain to be solved before such an engine could be put in actual production.

But announcement that development of the engine had progressed to the point where it could be driven on city streets in regular traffic was a significant development in gas turbines.

New Safety Device

The installation is designed to combat possible oil fires in the department's metal tempering vats by sending sodium bicarbonate and other chemicals cascading over them like a raging snowfall.

In the event of fire, sensitive heat controls automatically trigger the dry chemical extinguisher. Then compressed nitrogen gas blows the chemical powder through a series of pipes to the trouble spot.

AMC Gets Contract

DETROIT—An Air Force contract with Hudson Special Products Division of American Motors Corporation under which the division will engineer, design and develop a series of six versions of a retaractable wheel utility trailer was announced today.

Although the dollar value of the new contract was not disclosed, it is said to represent a "substantial addition" to other development work now in progress at the Hudson plants.

Dodge Timed for Spring

Timed for spring is the latest addition to the Dodge line, the new Dodge Custom Royal Lancer four-door sedan.

Available in any standard color, in two-tone or three-tone combinations, the new Lancer four-door sedan is expected to open up a new segment of the automotive market—those buyers who like the dashing styling of previous Lancer hardtop models, but who want the convenience of the four-door sedan.

Legislators Vote to Give Teachers Maximum Sum

LANSING (AP)—Duly warned, the Senate voted last night to commit the maximum amount possible annually to meet teachers' pensions.

The vote was on a bill to implement the Conlin Amendment to the Constitution and require that 7½ per cent of the annual state school aid appropriation be earmarked for teachers' retirements in Detroit.

Under the Conlin Amendment to the State Constitution, adopted by the voters last fall, the schools must set aside 5 to 7½ per cent of their state aid for retirement.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) told the Senate he was not objecting, but that it should be aware that by its vote it was committing the state and local units to the maximum amount possible under the Constitution.

Hutchinson said the Senate vote would mean a reduction in a proposed per-pupil increase in state aid this year.

Ford Motor Names New Vice Presidents

A major reorganization and management expansion launched by Ford Motor Co. is accompanied by election of two new vice presidents, to head separate Lincoln and Mercury divisions.

F. C. Reith, who has been managing director of Ford of France, will be a vice president and general manager of the Mercury division. Ben D. Mills, elevated to the rank of vice president, will be general manager of the Lincoln division, and continue as assistant general manager of the Continental division.

Fulbright Eyes Stock Gambles

Says Market Reveals Beginning of Excessive Speculation

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) says he believes the nation is "experiencing the beginning of excessive speculative activity in our market."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, says this activity of stocks has resumed after a brief respite during his committee's hearings on the stock market last month.

* * *

Fulbright discussed the rising trend in stocks last night in an address at a dinner of the Economic Club of New York.

He said it would be good if the general public, active participants in the market and government leaders "broke the hypnotic spell cast over them by the rise in stock prices and looked at the danger signs in the larger economy of which the stock market is a part."

"I am not implying," the senator said, "that I think prices are too high in the case of individual stocks or in the average market level." He added that only the free market itself "can say whether a stock price is too high as long as buyers are willing to pay for it."

Fulbright said his reference to "excessive speculative activity was limited to the way stock prices are being reached."

He said this involves the "prevalence of tipsters, flamboyant advertising keyed to expectations of quick appreciation, increases in the amount of credit, the tendency to avoid credit restraints, the tendency to resent and resist all warnings of caution, and the introduction in the market of a rash of new issues such as penny uranium stocks which are transparently speculative in character."

Home to Be Enlarged

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Work is due to start Wednesday on a $450,000 addition to M. J. Clark Memorial Home of the Methodist Church. The addition will provide 32 apartments for residents and a 40-bed addition to the hospital conducted in conjunction with the home, the Rev. Floyd M. Drake, superintendent, said.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear Father and husband, George R. Brown, who passed away 2 years ago, April 18th, 1953.
Loving memories never die,
As years roll on and days pass by.
In our hearts a memory is kept,
Of one we loved and will never forget

IN LOVING MEMORY OF BYRON E. (Sparky) Clark, who passed away 15 years ago April 18.
Within our hearts you'll always live,
Lovingly, Arvella and Wanda.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LYLE Wier, who passed away April 17, 1954.
Today recalls sad memories,
And the ones who think of him today,
Are the ones who loved him best.
Mr. and Mrs. John Sancher and family.

Plan or Accident Creates Show

Edward R. Murrow's on-the-Spot Interviews Often Pose Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Murrow's "See It Now" program evolves in a variety of ways, by plan, by accident, and sometimes, by sheer nerve.

As of this morning, for example, Murrow and his co-producer, Fred Friendly, have three shows "in the bank," all filmed and ready to go. They concern book-burning, cigarets and cancer, and the story of a U.S. atomic bombing unit in Europe. These represent the planning phase, the shows which have been in the making weeks.

Murrow's memorable interview with Dr. Robert Oppenheimer was accidental. Friendly and his wife happened to be driving near Princeton, N. J., and droped in for a look at the Institute for Advance Study.

That suggested a program on the Institute, and arrangements were made. Several weeks later, Murrow came back with a camera crew. He began by interviewing Niels Bohr, the physicist. Then Murrow began talking to Oppenheimer, thinking they would get a five-minute segment for the show. Murrow got so interested he and Oppenheimer talked for almost four hours.

On another occasion, Murrow and Friendly were warned that they probably wouldn't get a picture if they attempted a "live" interview with the captain of a submarine submerged off Long Island. Ten minutes before air time, they had a picture. But during the show, the sea became rough, the picture was lost and Murrow had to rely only on the captain's voice.

Once, during the presidential campaign, the program was running excerpts of speeches by Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson. Everything went fine until the picture showed Stevenson speaking and the sound carried Eisenhower's voice.

Gleason Builds a Cafe Just for 1-Night Stand

By EARL WILSON

Suppose he'd built one of the world's prettiest cafes to put on one show? Suppose he'd hired stars Sammy Davis Jr., Hildegarde, Paul Whiteman, and Noonan and Marshall . . . They're not exactly old movies, you know.

Then after the one show, he cut off our cider, and locked up. Crazy, huh?

★ ★ ★ ★

"Au contraire," like I always say. It was very sagacious, and assuredly historic. Our host, Jackie Gleason, rebuilt the interior of CBS' Color Theater into a vast "Cafe Mardi Gras"—on CBS money—to make a "TVR."

JACKIE

Plump Jackie "has been up since last Saturday," announcer Jack Lescoulie said, rehearsing this "Cafe Mardi Gras" night club program which he hopes to produce—but not appear on—next season.

★ ★ ★ ★

Gleason even wrote—or "dictated" the show's music.

"He can't read music, so he sings what he wants," a fellow said. "When he says, 'Give me some pussycats in there' we know he wants a glissando—a rapid slur of the violin. The arranger writes in 'Pussycats' instead of 'Glissando'."

Hildegarde had two accompanists—three would have been overdoing it. Tophatted stagehands had brought out the acrobatic Ashtons' props. Marshall—or was it Noonan?—said, "I'm going to emulate an operatic voice seldom heard."

BETTY LEE

"Is Mario Lanza here?" screamed the other one.

And on came Sammy Davis Jr. and the Will Mastin Trio, climaxing it.

"He thinks people like night clubs but don't have the money. He wants to give 'em a big free night club TV show Saturday from 9 to 10."

"And incidentally," I said, "it'd keep them home Saturday so they could also see his 'Honeymooners' and 'Stage Show' programs from 8 to 9."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Betty Hutton and Morey Amsterdam leave May 6 for an Australian tour . . . Don Ameche has returned to "Silk Stockings" . . . Mario Lanza's cancelled all future singing dates; he'll concentrate on his movie, "Serenade."

★ ★ ★ ★

A famous crooner blew his top on 7th Av.—his wig went scooting in the wind . . . Got any extra dough? Howard Hughes would sell Jane Russell's contract for half a mill, it's said . . . Betty Lee, of the Jack Carson TV show, stands 6 foot 4, and she's from Texas—naturally.

★ ★ ★ ★

Earl's Pearls . . .

You never can tell. The boy who saves old magazines may grow up to be a doctor or a dentist.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A really small town is one in which the newspaper editor can write his headlines a year in advance."

Sees Gas Rule Pinching North

Oil Company Attorney Says Southern Users Will Get Most Fuel

DETROIT (AP)— Members of the Michigan Petroleum Assn. were told today that the movement of northern industry to the south will be accelerated if the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in the Phillips case is allowed to stand.

In that case the high court held by a 5-3 majority that the Federal Power Commission has jurisdiction over well-head prices paid for natural gas delivered to pipelines for interstate commerce.

Samuel B. Pettengill, former Indiana congressman and now an attorney for the Pure Oil Co., said "this great natural resource (gas) is in jeopardy at least so far as Northern consumers are concerned.

"If the decision stands," Pettengill said, "the inevitable trend will be to divert gas from the interstate markets to those located in the states where the gas is produced, chiefly in the Southwest."

He added:

"A chemical plant in Texas and an aluminum plant in Louisiana already consume half again as much gas as all household users in Detroit, Milwaukee and Kansas City combined."

Pettengill said the Phillips decision in effect made the business of producing gas a public utility.

"It is a return in times of peace, not war, to the philosophy of government price fixing," he asserted.

Clinton Valley Council Plans to Meet Thursday

Annual meeting of Pontiac District, Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Washington Junior High School auditorium.

Van R. Braidwood, district executive, said officers for the coming year would be elected. A brief progress report and a film also are scheduled.

All Aboard for Spuds

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Southbound passengers on the Florida East Coast Railway can travel from Spuds to Dinner Island by way of Potatoville. If it doesn't agree with them they can get on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and go from Doctors Inlet all the way to Doctor Phillips.

Draft Board Gets Thank-You Notes

OSKALOOSA, Iowa (UP)—Most draft boards seldom receive "thank you" notes from Army inductees, but the Mahaska County Board is an exception.

Since 1950 the Mahaska County Service League has prepared nearly 500 going-away packages for the draft board to give inductees or enlistees when they leave for service.

Each package contains stationery, postcards, a ballpoint pen, two candy bars, two packages of cigarettes and a bar of soap. The new soldiers usually write a note of thanks.

Hungary Sending New Minister for Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Radio Budapest said today that Lenard Szery, Hungarian minister in Vienna, has been replaced.

Western diplomats in Vienna said the change may be connected with the dismissal of Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy yesterday for alleged right-wing tendencies.

Utah Showered With Mud, Salt

Mountain Ski Resorts Are Covered by Weird Chocolate-Hued Snow

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Parts of Utah were bathed in mud and salt during a weird weather sequence yesterday.

A heavy south wind, with velocities topping 45 miles an hour, preceded the grimy rain and snowfall. It tumbled several wooden buildings into heaps of wreckage on the shore of the Great Salt Lake.

* * *

The wind whipped up dust from newly plowed fields in southern Utah. As the dust spread north, visibility lowered at times to a quarter of a mile.

Later rain came. The dust particles in the air clung to the rain drops, then spattered grime everywhere. Automobile windshield wipers only spread the mud across the glass. Police reported a number of mishaps, none serious.

* * *

Salt from the desert near the Great Salt Lake was lifted into the air by the wind, only to return to the earth in the rain. The mixture caused several short circuits in Salt Lake City by coating insulators on power poles, then conducting the electricity to the wooden cross-arms.

Several Salt Lake City residents, their Geiger counters always at hand in this uranium-rich country, said their instruments showed radioactivity. But C. N. Stover, Energy Commission, said counters at the University of Utah showed only normal background radiation.

* * *

Late last Monday night the rain turned to snow in the valleys. By that time the rain had cleansed the dust from the air and the moisture in the snow helped wash away much of the grime which had coated cars and buildings.

First Tension Noted in UAW Bargaining

DETROIT (AP)—The first noticeable air of tension was reported today in the CIO United Auto Workers' bargaining talks with the auto industry on new contracts.

This led to speculation the union presented actual demands for a guaranteed annual wage during a four-hour session yesterday with negotiators representing the Ford Motor Co.

* * *

Neither side would confirm reports the union had formally placed its proposal on the bargaining table. But newsmen waiting outside the closed conference room in a downtown hotel noted tension for the first time. Union and company representatives, affable and easy-going during the preliminary contract talks, became more reserved and cagey.

Negotiations between the UAW and General Motors Corp. will resume tomorrow.

Coal production in the U. S. in 1954 amounted to 392 million tons, 38 per cent lower than the peak production in 1947.

Just Don't Tell Aunt Flora

By MARGARET LATROBE

"Have you written Aunt Flora?" When you do, don't tell her how you are feeling, unless it's good. She is 80, you know, and hasn't time for how folks feel unless it's the same way she does—fine and dandy.

"Got your hands full with the kids?" Well, don't write her about that, either. She raised a family, cooked for harvesters, washed and cleaned, taught every child in the country to play piano, violin and guitar, organized recitals (and Paderewski wasn't worried, either).

Anyhow, they still play and sing, and enjoy every minute of it. (There was a time, remember, when people sang for the joy of singing, played for the joy of sound—they weren't trying to impress anybody with talent, they were just having a good time with music.)

"And maybe your beds aren't made, the dishes not washed, and it's nearly noon?"

Best skip this detail when you write Aunt Flora. She's been an early riser for nearly 80 years. Her last letter mentioned something about packing up 60 dozen eggs for market—just a little sideline of hers, raising chickens and selling eggs to kill time between her Sunday school class, the study club, making quilts for the state fair, and a couple of lectures in Carrolton she wants to hear this month.

"Planning meals getting you down?" Well, let's see. Aunt Flora has been married 61 years to Uncle Clint, who is a toothless and happy 83 and likes biscuits and gravy. She has made gravy three times a day (you know how men are, have to kind of humor them) for 61 years. Counting off the two weeks when they took The Trip, "visiting" Sunday dinners when she couldn't get the church congregation to come home with them, it would add up to 65,000 batches of gravy.

"Pretty heavy diet, you think?" You haven't heard the half of it. For breakfast a family had to get a good start on the day. Country ham or "red meat" and natural gravy (salty as the mischief), hot oatmeal, fried eggs and maybe a piece of apple pie.

After that, meal planning for the day was simple—a few fried chickens, six or eight vegetables, that good rainbow cake, marble cake, a crock of doughnuts, pickled peaches and jam about does it. Nothing complicated there. Aunt Flora would be dumfounded by a child "problem eater" — humph! Hers always ate; where is the problem?

"But one thing you could write her about is your hospital experience. The ulcer, remember?" She has always wondered what it would be like—doctors hovering around, people waiting on you. Aunt Flo has never been sick a day, never had a doctor except when Sonny came. She's love to hear about hospitals. And when you went to the Stork Club. She would adore to see it herself—might even take some sherry if you promised it wasn't alcoholic!

And what else could you write, except you hope she lives to be 100?

ANNUAL CHECKUP — This Philippine macaque monkey, who has flown higher than any earth dweller, gets his annual physical check-up by Capt. John Reeves, Air Force Veterinary Service, in the Washington, D. C., zoo. Several years ago he and another monkey were placed in a rocket that carried them about 200,000 feet into the upper atmosphere—outside the gravitational force of the earth. Annual checkup is to determine if there are any latent ill effects from their spaceman adventure. Looking on is Brig. Gen. Wayne O. Keser, AFVS chief.

Wife Slips Out for Spin, Smashes Auto, House

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A 33-year-old housewife slipped the family automobile out of the garage yesterday while her husband was working and went for a spin. She was jailed for reckless driving after the car went out of control, smashed up a five room house and narrowly missed hitting a woman taking an afternoon nap. The vehicle was demolished.

The woman also was charged with failure to have a state driver's license. Her husband said he didn't know his wife could drive.

THE BALL IS HALF . . . THE USUAL SIZE
