Bill of Rights for Labor Union Members Urged

Would Be Tacked Onto Kennedy Bill That Has Now Survived 2 Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contending some workers need more protection within their labor unions, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) proposed today what he called a labor bill of rights.

He offered his proposal as an amendment to the Kennedy labor regulation bill, which survived intact its first two floor tests Tuesday.

In a prepared speech, McClellan said the Kennedy bill "does not adequately meet the needs of union members for the protection of their rights. It does not afford adequate sanctuary to the exploited and oppressed."

Urging passage of an effective bill, he said the "invasion of unionism by thugs and hoodlums has gone much further and is more extensive than you think."

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, proposed that labor unions be required to write into their constitutions and by-laws a series of provisions designed to assure the rights of individual members.

Tuesday the Senate turned down 67-27, an attempt by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) to knock out of the bill all of the changes it makes in the Taft-Hartley law. These changes are strongly supported by labor.

★ ★ ★

Next the Senate rejected, 67-24, a move by Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) to substitute the Eisenhower administration's Taft-Hartley package for the provisions in the Kennedy bill.

★ ★ ★

Chief effect of this substitute would have been to add provisions aimed at organizational picketing and secondary boycotts. The administration contends these are essential to any effective legislation.

McClellan said he will offer similar provisions as separate amendments.

FINISHING UP — Workmen at the Bay City Defoe Shipbuilding Co. finished the launching platform this morning in the shadow of the USS Henry B. Wilson, which was launched today. The Wilson is the Navy's first guided missile destroyer, and is the largest warship ever built in a Great Lakes shipyard.

New Destroyer Hailed as Key Weapon on Subs

Several Records Set as '59 Seaway Enables Construction on Lakes

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

BAY CITY (AP)—Naval history was made on the Great Lakes today as America's first missile carrying destroyer was launched at the Defoe shipyards here.

The 4,500-ton Henry B. Wilson went down the ways at 12:50 p.m. as 7,000 spectators cheered.

The 438-foot destroyer, with its 47-foot beam, made a tremendous splash as it went into an 80-foot wide slip.

It was the first U. S. destroyer ever launched sideways.

It is the largest U.S. warship ever built in the Great Lakes and Rear Admiral Edmund B. Taylor, commander of destroyer forces in the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, described it as "potentially the most powerful destroyer in the world" and a ship that "marks the greatest progress in U.S. destroyer construction in 20 years."

Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, wife of a former secretary of war and a daughter of the admiral for whom the Wilson is named, christened the ship.

POLARIS LIKELY

Adm. Taylor said that the ship's "anti-submarine equipment is infinitely superior to anything that we have had in the fleet heretofore" and "it is entirely possible" the ship ultimately may be fitted for ballistic missiles, such as the intermediate range Polaris.

Taylor, who will lead a flotilla of 28 warships through the St. Lawrence Seaway later this year, said:

"Given sufficient numbers of

Ike Voices Confidence as Herter Is Sworn In WASHINGTON (AP) — Christian A. Herter was sworn in as new Secretary of State today. President Eisenhower pledged him full backing.

With the President and virtually the entire Cabinet looking on, Herter became the nation's 54th full time foreign policy chief in a brief White House ceremony.

"God bless you," Eisenhower said. "All the people of the United States hope for your success."

Eisenhower said he and cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles "were as one in deciding you were the best qualified to take over the office of secretary of state."

Herter, standing erect without the crutches he sometimes uses, told Eisenhower, "You can't know how much it means to have your confidence."

Shaking Herter's hand, Eisenhower said "You know you have that." His tones amounted to a pledge of support.

In addressing Herter, Eisenhower said that he and the 64-year-old former Massachusetts governor were "hoping and praying for Foster's (Dulles) early recovery."

Mrs. Dulles attended the brief ceremony. Also present was the former secretary's younger brother, Allen.

From his hospital bed, Dulles countersigned Herter's official commission as his successor.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Dulles signed the commission Tuesday night.

Mrs. Herter, along with their three sons and a daughter, Adele Seronde of Stow, Mass., stood by as Herter was sworn in.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who also witnessed the ceremony, warmly shook Herter's hand afterward as did the Cabinet members.

Herter's promotion as secretary of state was viewed in Congress today as a big boost for closer bipartisan cooperation on foreign policy at a critical time.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said that he felt certain Herter "will cooperate closely with the Congress in every way."

The Senate demonstrated what it thinks of Herter when it gave him a rare 93-0 roll call vote of confirmation Tuesday. It acted only 24 hours after receiving his nomination from President Eisenhower, and only a few hours after the Foreign Relations Committee gave him a 17-0 endorsement.

As Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the Senate Majority leader, put it: The Senate wanted Herter and the whole world to know "we are united behind our secretary of state."

Fulbright said Herter wants to talk with key members of Congress before he leaves Monday for a Paris meeting with other Western foreign ministers. That meeting will lay the groundwork for negotiations with the Soviets in Geneva May 11.

To Issue Murder Warrant in Independence Slaying

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today a first-degree murder warrant will be issued against Mrs. Sue Lawrence, who police say fatally shot an Independence Township mother of two Saturday.

Mrs. Lawrence is scheduled to appear before Township Justice of the Peace William H. Stamp on the charge either today or tomorrow. She is recuperating at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital from a bullet wound in the leg, inflicted during a scuffle with Mrs. Donald Crenshaw, the dead woman.

Ziem said he issued the order for the warrant as investigators were still looking into Mrs. Lawrence's story that Mrs. Crenshaw, 33, of 6230 Snow Apple Dr., and her husband were blackmailing Mrs. Lawrence, a Berkley beauty shop employe.

"There's no proof that Crenshaw participated in any blackmail," Ziem said. "There's been only hearsay or inference."

Crenshaw, a credit salesman for a tire company in Pontiac, has taken a lie detector test in which he denied any part in an alleged blackmail plot.

Mrs. Lawrence, 32, of 2652 Oxford St., Berkley, dated Crenshaw before his marriage last January.

In a statement given from her hospital bed to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor James E. Roberts, Mrs. Lawrence charged the Crenshaws with "repeatedly" calling her at home and at work asking for money.

She said they demanded money, saying physical harm might come to her 9-year-old son, Wayne Jr.

Mrs. Crenshaw was shot twice in the chest Saturday after Mrs. Lawrence went to the Crenshaw home. She said she had gone there to pay off $500 which Mrs. Crenshaw had demanded in a telephone call.

Detectives also found a note with the money in which Mrs. Lawrence expressed the hope that the $500 payment would be the last, Detective Leo Hazen said.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Lawrence was scheduled to be discharged today.

Seek New Trial for Thompson

Teamster's Attorneys to Dispute Flint Arson Conviction at Hearing

A new trial will be sought for Flint Teamster official Jack D. Thompson who was convicted of arson.

★ ★ ★

Thompson's attorneys — James E. Haggerty Sr. of Detroit and Joseph R. Joseph of Flint — yesterday filed notice in Genesee County Circuit Court to obtain a new trial.

They said the jury decision against Thompson was contrary to the law and against the great weight of evidence.

The lawyers said they would argue eight major points at a May 25 hearing.

That is one week after Thompson, 42, was scheduled to be sentenced for the Aug. 3 arson of the Latreille Dry Cleaners outside of Flint. It was in this fire that fellow Flint Teamster Frank Kierdorf was believed to have suffered fatal burns.

Thompson was convicted of the arson April 3 after a three-week trial. He has been free on a $1,500 bond awaiting sentence.

Haggerty and Joseph said Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth, who heard the trial, was wrong in refusing testimony on a dying declaration by Kierdorf and limiting cross-examination of witnesses.

They also said the judge erred in refusing to permit cross-examination of Michigan Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams on certain questions.

Something They Ought to Know About 'Jurist'

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP) — Vincent Van Derhoff, of Chester, N.Y., answered an Orange County summons for jury duty with a letter saying: "I got good sense and if you really want me I'll be there."

He continued: "But first I think I should square it with you. You see, I'm only nine years old."

Contrasts With Shootings Last Night

No Violence at Carolina Mill

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — About 350 workers, many of them riding bullet-scarred autos, went to their jobs without incident today following the worst outbreak of violence in the 23-week Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills strike.

Clusters of strikers watched grimly in a steady drizzle as first-shift employes entered the north and south Henderson plant gates under heavy police protection. There were occasional jeers and shouts of "scab."

The scene contrasted sharply with last night when rifle shots slammed into cars bearing non-strikers and homemade gasoline bombs burst on the streets.

No one was reported injured, although an official said it was a miracle no one was hurt.

It was the worst outbreak of violence in 23 weeks of labor unrest in this industrial city of 16,000 near the Virginia line.

The city looked toward a meeting today in Raleigh for a strike solution from Gov. Luther H. Hodges and officials of the mills and the Textile Workers Union of America.

A strike settlement was reached last weekend. It came apart Monday when the union complained few of its members were getting their jobs back.

Boyd Payton, Carolina's director of the union, complained to the governor the mill management had hired new workers for the mills' second and third shifts.

Hodges asked company president John D. Cooper to bring all data on available jobs, along with copies of the proposed contract.

Tuesday night's violence erupted 20 minutes before the approximately 100 workers on the second shift were to leave the plants.

Bottles filled with gasoline were thrown into the streets around the mill gates. The gasoline was set afire.

State Highway patrolmen and local police were on hand to escort workers from the plants.

When the first auto appeared at a plant gate, shots rang out from some distance away. Reporters heard the bullets slam into the autos as the cars drove through the glass-littered streets.

The plants were struck Nov. 17 after failure by negotiators to agree on an arbitration clause in a new contract. About 1,000 of the company's 1,200 workers walked out. Cooper reopened both mills Feb. 16 without a contract.

Partly Cloudy, Mild Forecast Tomorrow

It will be generally fair and not so cool tonight in the Pontiac area, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast today. The low will be near 38 degrees.

Thursday will be partly cloudy and mild with a high of 62. Southwest winds of 10-15 miles an hour today will diminish tonight, becoming 15-25 miles an hour tomorrow.

For the next five days high temperatures will average in the 50's and the low near 34-36.

Precipitation will total about one-tenth inch with chance of a few showers Friday and again Sunday or Monday.

Thirty-four was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. The thermometer registered 62 at 2 p.m.

License Seeker Finds Road Full of Trouble

Raymond Ross of Detroit got more than he bargained for when he applied for a driver's license yesterday.

A check by Bloomfield Hills police disclosed that Ross was wanted in Pontiac for five unpaid traffic tickets.

So Ross, a former Pontiac resident, was brought to the local station.

A check by Pontiac officers turned up that Ross has been sought by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department since 1954 for violation of probation.

By nightfall Ross was in the hands of Washtenaw County authorities.

City Centennial Planners Named

A stride towards the city's 100th birthday celebration, March 15, 1961, was taken today with the initial appointments to Pontiac's Centennial Committee.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston announced the first 20 members of the planning body. He planned to name a few more shortly.

The committee is comprised of Pontiac leaders representing the many sides of the city's business and industrial life.

It will be charged with initial planning for special events and celebration of the occasion. The century date is 693 days away.

Named to the committee were: Howard Canfield, Oakland Division manager, Detroit Edison Co.; Norman Dunn, public relations department, Pontiac Motor Division; Smith Falconer, executive vice president and director, Pontiac State Bank; Fred V. Haggard, president, Oakland County AFL-CIO Council; William Hart, manager, radio station WPON.

From Wooden Boats to Secret-Missile Destroyers

Defoe Firm Men Started Small

BAY CITY (UPI) — The Defoe Shipbuilding Co., which today launched the first destroyer designed from the keel up to carry missiles was founded by Harry J. and F. W. Defoe and G. H. Whitehouse in 1905.

★ ★ ★

They built only wooden boats at first but won a contract from the U.S. Army Transport Service to build eight steel harbor planters just after Whitehouse sold out to the two Defoes around the end of World War I.

The little boatyard couldn't handle the construction of the 100-foot boats so the Defoes moved across the river and established a new yard stretching from the Michigan Central Bridge downriver some 2,200 feet to the old Foss Slip, where the missile destroyer Henry B. Wilson will be launched.

QUITE A RECORD

Since launching the mine planters, the Defoe ship yards has turned out 51 pleasure yachts, 14 Great Lakes freighters, tugs and other commercial boats, 33 for the Coast Guard, four for the Lighthouse Service, two 650-foot ore carriers and 152 Navy boats, including mine planters, landing craft, a British rescue ship, a Navy yard tug, submarine chasers, minesweepers, destroyer escorts and fast troop transports.

In 1952, the Navy asked Harry J. Defoe, who then owned the ship yards, if he could build a plastic boat which would be used as a non-magnetic minesweeper.

He accepted the challenge, although there was no previous design for use as a pattern, and came up with two thin plastic skins covering a honeycomb type of lightweight plastic which gave the ship rigidity.

When the ship was almost completed it was destroyed by fire and Defoe convinced the Navy to continue with the project only by agreeing to rebuild the ship at no additional cost. In July 1956, he proudly delivered the world's largest plastic vessel, a 30-ton, 54-foot minesweeper.

ROLLS HULL OVER

Defoe also originated the unique method of building a ship's hull upside down and then rolling it over for completion. This technique cut the time needed to build one type of ship during World War II from 14 months to one week.

In March 1957, Defoe went with his two sons to Washington to seek contracts to build missile destroyers. He suffered a heart attack and died before completing negotiations for the contract.

But his two sons, Thomas J., now the company's president, and William M., carried on and secured the contract.

City Merchants Plan Downtown 'Blossom Time'

The Downtown Merchants Assn. has won permission from the City Commission to stage a flowery version of last fall's successful Fall Festival Days.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said Oakland County farmers would be invited to display on the downtown sidewalks such items as flowers, shrubbery and other plants during the three-day affair, April 30-May 2.

The display should prove attractive to shoppers and provide a handy mart for home gardeners, Hirlinger said.

Retail stores are expected to announce special sales in connection with the event, he said.

them the Navy will be more than a match for the 500 Soviet submarines which presently pose a serious threat to our control of the seas and to our national security."

The Wilson is one of 13 such missile-carrying destroyers under contract. She is the first to be launched. Sister ships are scheduled to go down the ways at Seattle tomorrow and at Bath, Maine, Saturday.

Three more are scheduled to follow the Wilson at the Defoe yards under a 68-million-dollar contract.

The 438-foot Wilson's living quarters for 24 officers and 330 enlisted men will be air conditioned.

HULL OF ALUMINUM

Her superstructure will be of aluminum, instead of the customary steel. She also incorporates a new hull design.

The Wilson will be armed with the Navy's Tartar surface-to-air-missiles and the still super-secret rocket assisted anti-submarine missiles, plus two five-inch rapid-fire guns.

Steam turbines geared to twin propellor shafts will provide power for the 47-foot wide ship.

Completed and shaken down in Lake Huron trials, the Wilson is scheduled for delivery to the Navy in Boston in November 1960.

Only the building of the St. Lawrence Seaway made the construction of the Wilson possible on the Great Lakes. Without the seaway's 27-foot channels, the destroyer would have been landlocked — shut off from the seas.

Even the launching itself will tie the Wilson to the Great Lakes.

LAUNCH SIDEWISE

It will slide into the water sidewise, the first destroyer ever to be launched this way. The side launching is a trademark of Great Lakes shipbuilders who don't have enough space to let a ship slide into the water lengthwise.

And the bottle broken over the Wilson's bow to send her down the ways will contain fresh water from the Saginaw River and the seaway and salt water from the Atlantic instead of champagne.

Defoe has been building Navy vessels since World War I. In World War II it turned out more than 150 sub chasers, minesweepers, destroyer escorts and other fighting vessels and transports.

Banquet to Fete City Fire Chief

Retiring Fire Chief John F. Schroeder will be honored tonight at a testimonial banquet at the Elks Temple.

This is Schroeder's last day as chief. He has been with the fire department for almost 48 years, working for the city longer than any other full-time employe in Pontiac history.

Seventy-five persons are expected to attend the banquet, including City Manager Walter K. Willman, Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, city commissioners and city department heads.

Also on hand will be fire chiefs from neighboring communities, and 10 retired Pontiac firefighters.

They passed a resolution citing the 66-year-old chief's "qualities of leadership which have won him the lasting respect of his men and the admiration of the fire department and the city."

Commissioner William W. Donaldson said he would recommend to subdivision developers that some Pontiac street in the future bear the name of Schroeder, in honor of the long-time fire chief.

Schroeder will be succeeded by Assistant Fire Chief James R. White, who will be officially promoted to chief in ceremonies Friday at City Hall.

Pierce Junior High Dedication Thursday

Dedication ceremonies for Waterford Township's new John D. Pierce Junior High School will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Highlighting the program will be choral numbers by children from every school in the district and a two-hour open house.

The school features spacious, well lighted halls and colorful classrooms. Folding doors in the larger rooms make several units from one without decreasing outdoor light coming through directional-glass blocks.

The big $2½-million school opened last September.

Classrooms have no "extras" and are streamlined for strict efficiency, according to Principal Paul O'Neil. Desks, attached to 'counter' seats, make it uncomfortable for a pupil to twist around and talk to a classmate behind him.

One of the most attractive areas in the school is its gymnasium—so large that a curtain can be drawn dividing it into two standard size gyms.

The science, biology, home economics, shop and drafting rooms all have modern equipment.

TWO DINING ROOMS

One of the most successful features of the new school has been the operation of the one-kitchen, two-dining room section. Rather than one long line of waiting pupils during lunchtime, two complete cafeterias afford continuous movement of two different lines—each directed to separate dining rooms.

Opening the dedication ceremonies will be the Rev. Walter Teeuwissen, who will give the invocation. A story written by David Wilson in 1954 on how and why the Isaac Crary and John Pierce junior high schools were named will be read by Claudia Wagner. David is now a senior at Waterford Township High School.

Crary pupil Susan Turrell will present the Pierce school to the junior high pupils, and president of the Pierce Parent-Teacher Organization, Donald Redmond, will present the school to the principal, faculty and pupils. O'Neil will give the acceptance speech. Student Council President Jerry Goff will also present a short talk.

Boys and girl choruses from all elementary schools in the district, the Pierce Junior High School mixed chorus and the Waterford Township High School a capella choir will present the musical program.

Longest Stable Period on Record

Cost of Living Unchanged in March

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, as measured by the government, held unchanged in March.

The Labor Department announced today its consumer price index stayed at 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average, completing the longest period of relative price stability on record.

The index has not fluctuated by more than two points in the past nine months, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said, and now stands two-tenths of a point below the all-time high of 123.9 per cent touched last July and again in November.

In March, falling food costs offset higher prices for some other items in the family budget.

EARNINGS AT HIGH

At the same time, the spendable earnings of factory workers reached the highest level in history.

Their actual buying power set a record for March. It stood 7 per cent higher last month than a year ago because of rising hourly rates and longer hours worked, on the one hand., and stability, meantime, of the cost of living

Some 1,350,000 workers whose wages are subject to adjustment in line with consumer price changes will receive no increases since March living costs remained stable. About 900,000 of these are railroad workers. The rest are in electrical and aircraft industries.

Food prices dropped four-tenths of one per cent last month, a movement contrary to the usual seasonal trend.

Meat, poultry and fish prices dipped 1.2 per cent and eggs went down 3.1 per cent.

CARS COSTLIER

The general trend of other costs was upward.

One surprising bulge was in transportation costs. An advance of 1.6 per cent in used car prices and of one per cent for gasoline contributed to this rise.

Ordinarily dealers are discounting new car prices at this season and used car prices are falling as the number of trade-ins in dealers' hands increases.

But this year new car prices were unchanged from February to March and the demand for used machines was forcing up prices of used autos.

H. E. Riley, chief of the price division of the BLS, said prices probably will be rising moderately in the next few months because of the seasonal movement of foods.

The increase may be less than in recent years, however, because of the seemingly adequate supplies and favorable crop conditions, Riley said.

Housing costs rose two-tenths of one per cent in March because of higher repair and maintenance charges and a one-tenth of one per cent increase in rentals.

The householder also found himself paying higher water and telephone rates and bigger laundry-dry cleaning bills. Utility costs were unchanged but fuel prices rose two-tenths of one per cent.

Clothing prices went up three-tenths of one per cent, due mostly to increased costs of shoes and women's and girl's clothing. The medical care index continued gradually up.

Tel-Huron Center Will Celebrate 5th Anniversary

Merchants at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center will mark their fifth anniversary by giving away more than $1,000 in prizes during a 10-day celebration.

Among the gifts to be given away is a colored television set.

During the celebration, which opens tomorrow and runs through May 2, merchants at the 16 shops also will offer many outstanding values to area customers.

To be eligible for the prizes, customers must participate in a "Price Is Right Contest." A booth will be set up containing articles from the various stores in the center.

Customers then will fill out blanks available in all stores by going into the shops and obtaining the correct price of all articles in the booth.

No purchase need be made to obtain contest applications, said Fred Niedelson, publicity chairman of the Tel-Huron Merchants Assn.

CRIEFF, Scotland (UPI)—The trash man is sifting daily the contents of a bin outside the local post office. It's clearly labeled "litter," but people persist in filling it with letters.

JAMES C. ZEDER

Heads 'Fair Share' Torch Promotion

James C. Zeder, Chrysler Corp. vice president, has been reappointed cochairman in charge of the Fair Share Promotion for the 1959 Detroit Torch Drive, John C. Cronin, general campaign chairman, has announced. The Zeders reside at 1040 Orchard Ridge Rd. in Bloomfield Hills.

Zeder, who headed the promotion in the 1958 campaign, will be responsible for reaffirming the Fair Share philosophy by developing factual information and promotion literature to be distributed to more than 35,000 business firms for use in the chapter solicitations.

Active in civic affairs, Zeder is a director of the budget and finance committee of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, Inc., and a trustee of the Michigan Heart Association.

Pontiac Centennial Committee Named

Rowston said he expected to name the women members of the committee soon.

It was formed at the suggestion of City Commissioner William W. Donaldson, who cautioned that other cities that have celebrated centennials have found it wise to begin planning well in advance of the centennial date.

Rowston and Hirlinger visited Lansing today in connection with centennial planning there.

This is Lansing's centennial year and the two Pontiac leaders said they wanted to observe Lansing's centennial operation.

They planned to confer with the executive staff of the Lansing Centennial Corp., as well as with city officials and leaders of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce.

IT IS TOP SECRET

The ship is equipped to launch the Navy's Tartar surface-to-air missile and is armed with the latest antisubmarine weapons, including ASROC.

★ ★ ★

ASROC is a closely guarded secret of the Defense Department which has described the weapon succinctly thusly: "ASROC, meaning Rocket Assisted Anti-Submarine Missile, is the latest addition to the Navy's growing arsenal of modern weapons. The potential of the ASROC system is so great as to have caused the Chief of Naval Operations to cancel the RAT (Rocket Assisted Torpedo) program and concentrate on the greater range and versatility of its successor."

Showdown Vote Nears

Vet Fund Plan to Get Test

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

LANSING — The Beadle plan for using the veterans trust fund to cure state cash ills bore down on its first Senate floor test today.

Lingering doubts of some GOP senators about the gravity of the financial emergency dogged its course.

An uncertain fate awaited the Republican proposal despite qualified endorsement by Democratic Gov. Williams. Sen Frank D. Beadle (R- St. Clair), its author, would venture no prediction.

A showdown vote on passage was likely today or tomorrow.

Leaders of both parties in the Senate, who usually insist on independence from pressure groups, said the plan might not pass unless organized veterans endorse the plan.

"They risked their lives for their country and now we are asking them to come to the aid of their state," said minority leader Harold Ryan (D-Detroit).

Ryan and the rest of the lawmakers were invited to drink and dine tonight at the annual legislative dinner thrown by commanders of veterans organizations.

The Labor Committee today aimed at reporting an unemployment compensation bill onto the House floor after committee members previously failed to agree on amendments.

The committee studied a bill proposed by House Democratic leader Joseph Kowalski of Detroit for extension of temporary unemployment compensation benefits to about 28,000 jobless Michigan persons.

The Day in Birmingham

Berlin Authority to Speak at 39th Ruth Shain Reunion

BIRMINGHAM — A hundred and fifty persons are expected to attend the 39th annual reunion of the Ruth Shain International Relations Class Friday at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

A breakfast will be served at 9:45 a.m. with the program scheduled to begin one hour later.

James K. Pollock, Ph.D., writer and authority on Germany, will speak on "The Berlin Situation; Its Prospects and Implications."

Dr. Pollock, head of the Department of Political Science at the University of Michigan, has made a specialty of the study of the democratic form of government.

★ ★ ★

Since the end of World War II, he has made many trips to Germany to study the political scene, and has been an observer at all German elections since the war.

He was political advisor to Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Mrs. Shain, founder of the class, said, "I do not think there is a man in the United States who knows and understands today's Germany as well as Dr. Pollock does.

"I feel that by getting him here as our speaker, we will be able to get a true picture of the German situation. Through his knowledge, we will be better informed of our stake in the near future."

There are about 25 reservations still open for the breakfast, Mrs. Shain reported. Persons wishing to attend may contact her at her home, 813 Pierce St., before noon tomorrow.

Registrations for the summer University Program at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater on W. Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills, are now being accepted.

The school is approved by the Michigan State Board of Education, and a limited number of scholarships will again be offered for the summer term, according to a theater spokesman.

The eight-week term for college students begins June 22 and continues through August 16. Students will attend classes 1½ hours a day, four days a week, Monday through Thursday.

Classes will be held 4-5:30 p.m. or 6:30-10:00 p.m. or hours will be arranged to fit the student's schedule. Three terms of dramatic work are scheduled in the summer course.

The Senior Mens Club members know who their speaker for Friday's program will be but do not know what the subject will be.

Edward Moseman of Farmington has been a farmer, taught dramatics, acted on the stage and at one time was chief counsel for the Standard Accident Insurance Co. of Detroit.

Which of his careers he will speak on is not known.

The discussion group will have salesmanship for their afternoon topic. G. A. Ziegler will be moderator.

Past Chief's Club of Pythian Temple 94 will meet at 8 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. John Simetz, 1385 Pierce St. Members are asked to bring items for the bake sale being held the following day.

The Womens Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold two card parties Wednesday.

The 12:30 p.m. party is for women and the one at 8 p.m. for couples.

Mrs. Robert Thompson is chairman with Mrs. Burton Lord as ticket chairman.

President of Greenfield Chain Died Monday in Detroit Hospital

Funeral service for Jack Lawrence, 50, president of Greenfield restaurants will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mr. Lawrence died Monday in Woman's Hospital, Detroit, after a short illness. He lived at 1160 Lake Park Dr., Birmingham.

Associated with the Greenfield Restaurants for the past 25 years he was elected president five years ago. Since last August, he also had been an officer of Prophet & Co. industrial caterers.

He was a member of Corinthian Lodge 241, F&AM; the Detroit Athletic Club, Orchard Lake Country Club, the National Restaurant Assn., Rotary Club and was a former director of the Michigan Restaurant Assn.

Surviving besides his wife, Elizabeth W., are a daughter Judith at home and two sisters.

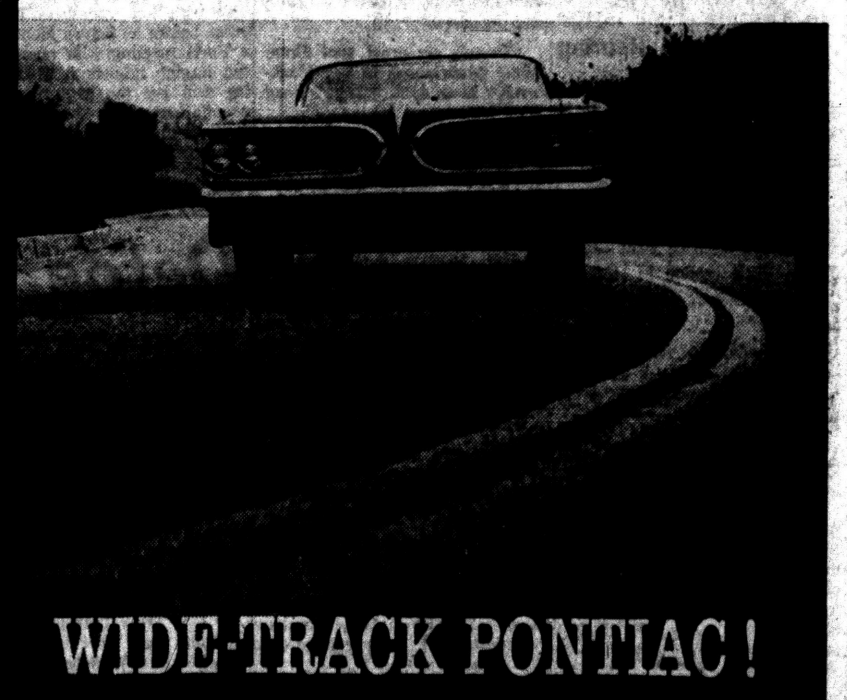

The body will be at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. until 1 p.m. tomorrow. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

Doctor Leitch of Detroit Heads Dental Group

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Dr. Murray A. Leitch of Detroit took office today as new president of the Michigan State Dental Assn., which is concluding a three-day convention at Grand Rapids.

The 102nd annual meeting drew about 3,000 delegates.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Mental Week Tours Scheduled

Lapeer State Home to Mark Program April 26 Through May 2

LAPEER — The Lapeer State Home and Training School will mark Mental Health Week, April 26 through May 2, with a daily schedule of tours to acquaint officials and organizations with the work of the local institution.

The Michigan Society for Mental Health program to be conducted in all state hospitals during the week is called "Operation Friendship." It is authorized by the Mental Health Commission and the Department of Mental Health.

Monday will be "Public Officials Day." At the Lapeer Home and Training School a tour is planned at 10 a.m. for visiting dignitaries after which luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

On "Church Day" Tuesday, members of the clergy and laymen from the Councils of Churches in Saginaw, Bay City, Flint and Pontiac will visit the Home and School at 1 p.m.

The facilities will be open on Wednesday to service clubs and to the general public beginning at 1 p.m. On Thursday visitors will be members of Child Study Clubs, high school classes and the general public.

Among those who will be present for a tour at 1 p.m. Friday are members of professional and nursing groups, child guidance clinics plus special education teachers in the area.

During the first decade of the antibiotic era—from 1944 to 1954—infant deaths in the United States declined 33 per cent and maternal deaths dropped 77 percent.

CHARLES N. LENTZ

Holly Native Chosen Albion Bank Director

HOLLY—A native of Holly, Michigan Deputy Treasurer Charles N. Lentz has been elected vice president and director of the Bank of Albion, it was announced today by the bank's president.

The action was taken at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors and stockholders of the bank.

Lentz, 32, has submitted his resignation to State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, to be effective as soon as a successor is named, and intends to join the staff of the bank on or before June 1.

He is the son of Walter E. Livonia Voters Approve Tax, Bonds for Schools

LIVONIA — Both a $7.7 million bond issue and a seven mill operating tax for Livonia public schools were approved by a record number of voters here yesterday.

The bond issue was passed 4,794 to 2,417 and the tax issue by 4,676 to 2,620.

The school board intends to build eight new schools, enlarge six others and hire about 100 more teachers and other personnel in the school district.

Orion Masonic Diners to Hear Noted Auto Racer

LAKE ORION — Orion Chapter 46, F&AM, will hold its annual Father and Son Banquet Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple here.

Mauri Rose, a three-time winner of the Indianapolis "500" Race, will be the featured speaker. He will describe the thrills of big car auto racing and will also show a film of the 1958 Speedway Races.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 by Orion Chapter 340, Order of the Eastern Star.

Won't Refill Ponds, Says Robbins

MILFORD — The Milford businessman who unexpectedly drained three scenic Ford-created mill ponds in the heart of this village last weekend said today that his company does not intend to refill the ponds with water.

Eventually James Robbins said, they will be filled in with dirt and sold as real estate property. If the village council requests it some water will be held back in the ponds to lessen a possible health hazard until land-fill operations can be set up, he said.

When the flood gates of the Huron River dam were opened Friday, the river dropped some 20 feet on each side, and water from the three upper mill ponds in Milford went pouring down into the Huron River and eventually on to Kent Lake.

Officials of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority keep Kent Lake at a low level throughout the winter as a safeguard against spring floods; consequently there was no flood hazard with the releasing of the flood gates, engineers said.

Robbins owns the former Ford Motor Co. carburetor plant, three dams, three 40-foot deep, scientifically designed mill ponds and all water rights of the Pettibone Generator Station controlling nearby Moore's Lake level.

Robbins said that his reason for deciding to fill in the ponds was strictly for business. "We do not let sentiment interfere with business," he said.

"It costs money to operate the ponds and the insurance liability policy-costs prohibit the maintenance. It's just not good business to retard our progress in this way.

"A man was hired for three shifts seven days a week at the Huron River power plant and three more men were hired for round-the-clock, weekly operation at the Pettibone plant.

"Records show that the combined salaries of those employes were more than the total profit that was generated from the power stations," he said.

In filling in the ponds, Robbins contends that the area would become valuable real estate property, thereby providing additional tax revenue for the village.

Six months ago the Robbins company offered to sell the mill ponds, dams and water rights to the village council for $37,000, according to a former councilman.

Members tabled the project for further study and the purchase probably will be reconsidered at Monday night's council meeting according to City Manager Oliver Taylor.

HAS 14 PLANTS

The James Robbins Co. manufactures a variety of commodities in 14 plants throughout the United States and Europe and the Milford plant is only one small part of the organization.

"We believe that Milford will benefit by the pond-filling operation," Robbins said, "If people do not become acquainted with the situation in time, business will grow—not in—but all around Milford," he added.

In conclusion, Robbins stressed the fact that the one thing his company did not want was confliction with the community.

He said, "I don't feel that we have conflicts of interest—because what is good for us as a manufacturer is also good for the community."

Senate Approves Herter With Unanimous Vote

The United States Senate yesterday overwhelmingly confirmed the nomination of CHRISTIAN A. HERTER as Secretary of State by a 90-0 vote.

This swift action is as it should be. It was obvious that President EISENHOWER had complete faith in Mr. HERTER as a successor for the ailing Secretary DULLES.

The 64-year-old HERTER has had long years of experience in the U. S. foreign service, was a staff assistant, along with Sec. DULLES, to President WILSON in Paris in 1919 and later directed the Hoover Relief Commission in Europe.

★ ★ ★

On the domestic front he served 10 years in the Massachusetts legislature, (four years as speaker), 10 years in Congress and eight years as a successful Governor of his state. In the latter post he is credited with getting 85 per cent of his program through the state legislature.

★ ★ ★

One of his most important achievements as a Congressional member of the Joint Economic and Foreign Relations Committees was in lining up support for the Marshall Plan which passed the Republican 80th Congress. As Chairman of the Herter Subcommittee on Foreign Relations he made a personal survey of Western Europe to determine its needs and capabilities.

★ ★ ★

Acting Secretary HERTER necessarily has been working more or less behind the scenes as operating head of the department. But during Sec. DULLES' frequent absences, he made the decisions and otherwise was in full control.

American foreign policy is not likely to change in the immediate future as it is generally bipartisan. But the methods and implementation of foreign policy will be more of a co-operative undertaking.

New Insurance Favors Those Who Drive Safely

A recent news story revealed a merit-type plan for automobile insurance which will start in California May 1, on a trial basis. The idea would be to provide lower insurance rates for motorists with good driving records and higher rates for drivers with poor records.

With auto insurance rates at an all time high, it would seem like sound planning to give some sort of relief for the careful driver. Motorists with good records are being penalized by the few who are habitual traffic violators.

Incentive is always a strong persuader. If the driving public realized they would be rewarded by lower rates if they completed a period of no accidents, it might well eliminate some of our unnecessary violations.

Also being tagged a "safe driver" would tend to put more responsibility on the motorist, which in turn could make him a more cautious driver.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the safety angle, it seems reasonable to believe that some type of preferred policy should be offered the motorist that is an infrequent violator. This merit plan being inaugurated in California deserves careful study and consideration.

Two Scientific Teams Studying New Guinea

Two groups of scientists are on their way to explore the island of New Guinea in the South Pacific.

The United States is sending a team from the Museum of Natural History under the Archbold Expeditions Foundation to conduct further studies in the biological field. The second group, from the Netherlands, is preparing to explore the interior of Western New Guinea where some hundreds of dialects are known to be in use.

★ ★ ★

Wartime observation has brought some general knowledge of the region but much of the island still is unexplored. Modern explorers can take full advantage of planes and helicopters and the Dutch already have established an advance base. Scientists can learn in a few hours what used to take months to discover.

These expeditions point to the fact that there still are challenging frontiers to conquer.

The Man About Town

Name's the Same

Also Size of Cities; but Managers Are Not Related

Committee: What often keeps minutes and wastes hours.

On two visits to Columbus, Ga., the past winter, I was impressed with its resemblance to Pontiac. About the same size, a hustling town, it has grown rapidly and now is its state's second city.

Among the other resemblances is the quite coincidental fact that its City Manager is

Joe A. Willman,

Walter K. Willman,

although it is such a rare name. Until recently there was only one Willman in the Chicago telephone directory, and the Detroit directory has less than a dozen.

Anyway, in Columbus I discovered another good town, and Walt and Joe are good friends, the former recently making a short visit to the latter.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Worried About Future of Cuba

WASHINGTON — Fidel Castro has had the limelight for several days now, but it is an open secret that his visit here has sharply increased the worry that the United States government feels about the future of Cuba.

LAWRENCE

This leader of a successful revolution gives the impression that he is a dedicated man and seeks only the good of his people, but, unfortunately, Cuba's destiny is not in his hands alone.

If anything happened that suddenly removed him from the scene, matters would be much worse. For the truth is the Communists have a toehold in Cuba and have managed to infiltrate the army, the educational institutions and the labor organizations.

Fidel Castro himself is not a Communist but his brother, Raul, who heads the army, has expressed on many occasions his Communist sympathies.

The big question is whether the Communist underground apparatus is in a position to do great harm to the relations between the United States and Cuba. The fear is that it can achieve that result if economic conditions grow worse and are exploited in a wave of anti-Americanism.

★ ★ ★

Fidel Castro is quite right in telling of the tragic plight of his people—the vast amount of unemployment and the weaknesses in the economic structure. His visit here had a profound effect in the sense that it opened the eyes of officials to the fact that the Cuban situation is far more urgent—and, indeed, more dangerous—than had been hitherto believed.

CUBANS HAVE GRIPES

What policy ought the United States to pursue? Certainly the situation in Cuba should not be allowed to disintegrate through inaction at Washington.

★ ★ ★

The Cubans have some gripes against this country because of tariff matters, especially sugar quotas. There is a breakdown of confidence outside of Cuba concerning the future of capital investments there. Cuba desperately needs a prop.

So the best thing that could be done would be for the United States government to send a commission to Cuba to make a survey. It should be composed of economists and businessmen as well as experts in labor matters.

Cuba's finances should be examined and recommendations made as to what is needed to bolster the economy of the country and stimulate the creation of jobs for the idle. Cuba, in short, needs a complete overhauling from the economic standpoint.

If this should involve some financial help from the United States, this is a matter which surely would be given due consideration after a report is received from a commission of competent observers with a background knowledge of similar problems in other Latin American countries.

Fidel Castro has for more than two years been living in the hills of Cuba fighting a revolution. His visit to this country probably exposed him for the first time to the dispassionate examination of the outside world.

★ ★ ★

He is a devoted believer in revolutionary doctrines and probably has absorbed much from his fellow-revolutionaries who are more skillful than he is in the ways of national socialism. Unhappily, the impression lingers here that Castro could be used by others and that he is naive about the tactics of Communist infiltrators.

★ ★ ★

But, when all is said and done, it is the future of Cuba that is at stake, and the United States, as the next-door neighbor and godfather of the little republic, still has an obligation — by economic means and by disinterested advice —to help bring stability to the freedom-seeking people of Cuba.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol Subs for Reality but Ends as Depressant

The narcotic addict (alcohol is a narcotic) who went on periodic bouts tried to explain, in a sober interval, why he behaved so abominably to his wife and children. At times, he said, he just felt the need of a stimulant, a bracer or a pick-me-up — he drank because he wanted to feel better.

DR. BRADY

Every narcotic addict, no matter which drug he takes, gives very much the same reason or excuse if he tries to explain his habit at all.

Whether the addict calls his drug a "stimulant,' 'a bracer," a "pick-me-up," a sedative or a tranquilizer, he takes it, of course, because he wants to be less aware of how miserable, wretched, frustrated, incompetent, worthless, untrustworthy, selfish, unfaithful or contemptible he is.

Now comes a reputable physician who says:

"I am not an alcoholic and yet I reject the statement that alcohol is not a stimulant. It does not, of course, stimulate motor cells but sensory cells or, psychologically speaking, emotion.

"Like all stimulation to excess, this one, too, is followed by collapse of the stimulated cell—in this case becoming depression or anesthesia.

"In every other respect I agree with you as a matter of course."

"I don't know what difference there may be between psychologically and physiologically speaking.

Whether one drinks for "Dutch courage," to assuage grief, drown sorrow, help one relax or cheer up, it is all a childish attempt to substitute make-believe for reality.

The trouble with the make-believe is that, after an hour or two of fantasy produced by the narcotic, one comes back to reality, which seems more unbearable than before, and so one anticipates or craves another drink, and still another . . .

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Neglect Hubby in Pregnancy

Nora is like many supposedly innocent wives, who think their husbands are 100 per cent to blame for such sordid affairs as Ralph entered. But Nora was 50 per cent to blame and so are most wives, for their sins of "omission" are as great a cause of divorce as the more evident sins of commission.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

They were at the point of divorce because Ralph had an affair with a bar maid the very night his wife was at the hospital bearing their first baby.

DR. CRANE

Nora thought Ralph must have been insane to be unfaithful to her, especially at such a crucial time. Ralph admitted that he was the lowest creature on earth and didn't know why he ever acted as he did.

But you readers will know henceforth, if you finish this column today. You can thus prevent such future domestic tragedies.

★ ★ ★

Even though Nora's parents created the impression that Nora was in jeopardy and a "Medical Specimen," Nora could have avoided this tragedy if she had seen this column in advance.

For a pregnant wife MUST realize that her husband's basic hungers still continue, regardless of the fact she will bear a baby.

Thus, she should see that he still gets three square meals per day.

The delightful prospect of having an heir some months later, still does NOT kill a husband's hunger for ham and eggs or other table viands.

Nor does it stop his normal erotic hunger, either, so you young wives must be on guard.

Nora is like most wives, who can remain fairly content on a ration of kisses and hugs, without any further extension of romantic regard between themselves and their husbands.

And that is especially true during pregnancy, when the young wife is indulging in future plans for her baby's arrival.

GUILTY WIVES

"But I was quite content," Nora protested.

That's not enough in marriage. The husband must also be quite content.

And Ralph was definitely NOT content.

Like many wives, she forgot the disparity that exists between the usual husband and wife in sexual hungers.

Time and again I have warned you that this same difference exists in their gastric hungers.

A man demands 3,500 calories of food per day while his wife may be quite content with 2,500.

And no smart wife would try to ration her husband to her own more limited caloric quota. For she'd realize he would then be half starved when he left home and thus tend to be tempted by outside cooks, chefs and hamburger joints.

Well, to put it bluntly, the very same thing holds true in the erotic realm.

A man demands more "erotic calories" than his wife does, so she better feed them to him, whether pregnant or not, or he will be more easily tempted by bar maids and other unscrupulous sirens.

It isn't enough to teach people the 10 Commandments and then send out hungry husbands. For hungry men may develop such appetites they will steal bread or clandestine romance.

The best way to keep a husband moral is to teach him ethics, but also see that he has no unsatisfied hungers when he leaves your wifely arms.

Get hep therefore to reality and you'll nip divorce in the bud. To help to do so, send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Americans Should Learn to Avoid Being So Gullible'

Americans are constantly bombarded by fantastic advertising matter, in full page ads, on radio and TV. They use high-sounding slogans and catch phrases to lure us into buying. They're so cleverly written it takes a discerning mind to separate the wheat from the chaff.

★ ★ ★

It's been said Americans are gullible. We're too quick to accept what we see and hear, too blind to read between the lines, too lazy to read the fine print. We make little attempt to inquire about facts and fundamentals. We listen to the silver-tongued orator, politician, priest or preacher and meekly nod our assent without question.

★ ★ ★

A wise man once said, "Doubt is the beginning of wisdom." Wherefore, we should resolve to cultivate the inquiring mind, encourage honest doubt and subject all creeds, political philosophies and the salesman's pitch to the clear light of reason.

'This Health Issue Should Be Forced'

The Department of Welfare in Washington has ordered an Iowa city to stop dumping its sewage in the Missouri River. What the Iowa city thinks about it isn't important. If the State of Michigan doesn't order Pontiac to correct our own sewage problem, let's have the federal authorities step in. I voted for the sewage ordinance every time and the people they want disease germs and filth should have the correction forced on them.

Flint Schools in Constant Use

Nearly as Many Adults as Children Participate in Extensive Program

FLINT (NEA)—This is a strange city. Boys and girls go to school on Saturdays for the fun of it. And come to school an hour early two days a week because they want to.

Nine-year-old girls stay after school to learn how to be better housekeepers and wives. Children volunteer for after-school French, reading, art, science, sewing.

There are almost as many adults — 32,000 — taking school courses at night, as there are children — 40,000 — going to school in the daytime.

Throughout the city, counting athletics, meetings, dances, parties and classes, more parents than children use the schools.

And in Flint, they're not looking for federal millions for slum clearance. Instead, school community leaders are organizing the wards block by block in their own do-it-yourselves "improvement" campaign.

School leaders are teaching homeowners to hang paper, paint, plant shrubs. Volunteers come in to help their neighbors like the old house raising bees of the frontier days.

It wasn't always like this in Flint. Back in 1935, the boys and girls of a depression-ridden city had no place to play, they roamed in gangs.

Frank Manley, then athletic director of the Flint schools, wanted to open the doors of schools, idle after 3:30 every day. He was convinced athletics could cure juvenile delinquency and that schools should be the center of community life. But he couldn't get the school board to listen.

Then he met Charles Stuart Mott, a multi-millionaire who'd made his fortune in automobiles. Manley sold Mott on his idea. Mott, an ex-mayor, invited the school board to lunch, gave it $6,000 for the afternoon athletic program. It started in five schools.

With Mott's backing, Manley were brought into the schools in started other projects. Parents father-and-son, mother-and-daughter clubs.

The aim always was to get the parents, teen-agers and children running the programs themselves, to get the programs paying their own way while Mott's money and Manley's energy pushed into something new.

That's how it has worked ever since. But the Flint program hasn't been a big-money program. The total expanded on the school-adult education-community center-health-athletic program is 14½ million dollars a year in a city of some 200,000.

This includes a million dollars from the Mott Foundation, of which Manley is now director. All the money is spent under the supervision of the Flint Board of Education.

Manley's concept of the "Community School" is solidly established. At 3:30 every afternoon a building director takes over. His job is to see that the school runs full tilt for parents, children and community until late in the evening every night, all day Saturdays and all summer long.

Parents Seek Curbs on Married Students

WEST POINT, Miss. (AP)—A newly formed parents league adopted a four-point resolution aimed at banning married high school students from any extra-curricular activities.

More than 200 parents of high school students met recently with school and city officials to discuss youth problems.

The resolution, presented to the school board, asks that married students:

1. Relinquish any offices or honors they have received.
2. Be banned from school social activities.
3. Be banned from inter-school athletics, including varsity football and basketball.
4. Be forbidden to participate in commencement exercises, and instead, pick up their diplomas from the school office.

Man Perishes in Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Andrew Jewett, 72, perished today when flames swept his bedroom on Detroit's east side. Firemen said Jewett apparently fell asleep while smoking a cigarette.

Discoverer's End Now Expected Over Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — The satellite Discoverer II now is expected to spiral down to its death in the earth's atmosphere late Saturday night or early Sunday. It has been in orbit since April 13.

This is the moonlet that made history by successfully ejecting a capsule that fell safely back to earth, scientists say, somewhere near the Norwegian island of Spitzbergen.

The capsule has not been recovered, but radio data from the satellite indicated the capsule experiment was a success — the first time anything has come back intact after orbiting the earth.

Discoverer II, fired on a polar route from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., at first was expected to stay up a month. Later forecasts had it falling early this week. Tuesday night, however, the Defense Department said new calculations showed it would plunge into the atmosphere and burn up this weekend.

Union Liable for Halting Job

Rehearing Is Refused in $20,000 Saginaw Damage Judgment

SAGINAW (AP)—Teamsters Union Local No. 486 yesterday was refused a rehearing on a $20,000 damage judgment in favor of a Saginaw builder.

Circuit Judge Arthur M. Bach of Bad Axe, who handed down the judgment last October, held that the union had not shown sufficient cause.

The judgment was awarded Andrew J. Haenlein on his charges that the Teamsters and other labor groups interfered illegally with his construction projects in 1956.

Haenlein charge illegal picketing and coercion of his suppliers. He said the union did this in an attempt to force unionization of

In rejecting the petition for a rehearing, Judge Bach pointed out the union had ignored Haenlein's suit, refusing both to answer his bill of complaint and to appear at the trial.

The union asked the rehearing on grounds the testimony did not support the damages award. The union also contended state courts lacked jurisdiction.

Governor Will Preside

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has been picked as one of four chief executives who will preside at tax and revenue panels at the annual Governors' Conference at San Juan Puerto Rico, Aug. 2-5.

Pontiac City Affairs

Drop Plans to Vacate Glenwood Alley

City commissioners last night dropped plans to vacate an alley in Glenwood Estates subdivision to aid in residential development there.

★ ★ ★

Developers requested that their proposal to vacate the alley be dropped due to difficulties in working out proper easement for utilities along the alleyway.

The developers said that existence of the alley might hinder future plans for new homes, but won't affect immediate plans to build several new homes along the south side of Walton boulevard.

Commissioners last week rezoned the subdivision from manufacturing to residential use for the home building project and were prepared to drop the alley if easement agreements could be reached.

The alley extends along the western side of the subdivision, parallel to Highwood street between Walton and the Grand Trunk Railroad.

Commissioners, in other business, heard no objections at public hearings on assessment at public ing five neighborhood paving projects.

The rolls were for paving on West Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley; Cornell avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Gladstone place, Cooper to Edison; South Jessie street, Wilson to Prospect, and Longfellow avenue, University to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad.

Public hearings were set for next Tuesday on intention to construct a sanitary sewer and install curbs and gutters along three streets.

The sewer would extend 325 feet along Court drive from the corner of Mt. Clemens street. Assessed cost would be $960; city cost, $1,211; cost for a 214-foot lot, $306.

Cost estimates on the curb and gutter projects were:

Dellwood avenue, Earlmoore to Howland — assessed cost, $5,864; city cost, $579; cost for a 39-foot lot, $195.

Court drive, Mt. Clemens to Grandview—assessed cost, $10,002; sewer stubs, $936; city cost, $5,711; cost for a 50-foot lot, $250; cost for a sewer stub, $72.

Myra avenue, Voorheis to Sylvan—assessed cost, $7,304; city cost, $2,018; cost for a 50-foot lot, $250.

The Court drive sewer will be installed before the curbs and gutters, according to Lewis M. Wrenn, city engineer.

A resolution to receive an assessment roll covering paving on Kinney Road, Oakland to Stanley, was deferred two weeks again at the request of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, who said he was still studying a protest petition signed by one-third of the affected residents.

Consideration of cost estimates for seven recapping projects—including three important downtown jobs—was postponed at least two weeks at the request of City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Willman said he wanted first to detail at the Commission's April 30 informal meeting "a full explanation of the work involved."

There was a possibility, he said, that the regular $5-a-front-foot special assessment formula might be altered, and the cost estimates changed.

The streets are S. Cass avenue, Pike to Orchard Lake; E. Huron street, Saginaw to Perry; Orchard Lake avenue, Clinton River to Saginaw; Judson street, Saginaw to Parke; Prall street, Huron to Washington; Raeburn street, Paddock to Sanford; and Sanderson avenue, Oakland to Cass.

Commissioners agreed to license use of a city alley to a beer distributor's warehouse, planned on Columbia avenue west of the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad. The license would let the warehouse use the short alley exclusively as an entranceway, but not a parking place. The license is subject to revocation on 60-day notice by the city.

Henry, who lives at 192 Bassett, asked that the extension receive curbs and gutters this year and blacktopping next year.

"It is my own street," Henry said, "but it happens to be a needed public improvement, too."

Commissioners gave the Pontiac Elks Temple permission to hold its annual midsummer festival July 14-25.

A request that a public dance be allowed on the grounds of a new drive-in restaurant, 1231 Baldwin Ave., from 7:30 p.m. to 2 a.m. April 27 was referred to the city manager.

Approved was a request to add Roy B. Patterson as a partner with Derfla P. Bishop, holder of an SDM liquor license at 322 Baldwin. Also approved was a request to let Charles Haas drop Alfred A. May as a partner in a 'B' hotel license at 125 N. Perry St.

Waterford Man Hurt in Two-Car Accident

Clarence Moshier of 3963 Airport Rd. told police his car was stopped for a left turn when struck in the rear by Robert S. Curtis, 21, of 3232 Avalon St., Avon Township.

Naval Warships Come and Go

Carvette, Battleships, Sloops Out; Destroyer Escorts New

WASHINGTON — Warships, like women's fashions, are subject to change. They go out of style, take on a "new look," and sometimes enjoy a revival.

World War II saw the revival of two honorable nautical types, the frigate and the corvette. Today, only the frigate survives, and the corvette has again returned to naval limbo, says the National Geographic Society.

World War II also marked the beginning of the decline of the battleship, and today the dreadnought has become almost a museum piece. Thus it joins the monitors, the battle cruiser, the armored cruisers, and the protected cruisers—all names once suggestive of naval might.

The British Navy still classifies some of its light patrol and escort ships as sloops, but the United States Navy has not operated a sloop of war since shortly after the Civil War. The American sloop joined double-ended gunboats and tin-clads in the Navy's discard pile. The iron-clad ruled supreme until steel took over near the close of the 19th century; then it, too, vanished as a name.

Only the last part of the dashing torpedo boat destroyer's name survives, and today the conventional destroyer itself carries torpedoes.

World War II produced a brand-new name in the destroyer escort. This name still survives to describe a ship ranking next to a destroyer in size and capability.

The famed Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., one of the most influential museums of scientific knowledge in the world, was donated by James Smithson, an Englishman who had never been to the United States.

Man Starts to Drive 'Identical Twin' Car

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—Claude T. Smallwood, a routeman for the Northern Virginia Sun, was eating breakfast in a restaurant when he saw his car being driven away by a stranger.

He ran out and stopped it, but the stranger insisted it was his own. Smallwood called attention to his newspapers in the back seat. Then they laughed—the cars were exact duplicates except for the license plate.

'Some Sonic Booms Are 100 Miles Wide'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, said today some of the newest military jet planes produce sonic booms 100 miles wide.

★ ★ ★

"So far as we know today, there are no technical or scientific solutions to counter this phenomenom," LeMay said in a talk prepared for the opening session of the World Congress of Flight here.

★ ★ ★

"We also know — from the amount of fan mail we receive on this subject — that these pressure waves, aside from causing considerable apprehension and discomfort, in some cases inflict physical damage to property."

★ ★ ★

LeMay declared that high airplane speeds and increased aircraft population have crowded usable air space to the degree where air safety and traffic control have become the major limiting problems.

If positive control of current traffic at all times was attempted with present equipment, three out of four planes would be unable to leave the ground, he said.

In Public Interest?

THETFORD MINES, Que. (AP)—The Civic Council adopted a resolution urging the Bank of Canada to lower interest rates on loans, so that municipalities could undertake public works projects at lower cost.

Oil-industry scientists have patented about 5,000 inventions in the past five years.

Can Nixon 'Travel' Self Into 1960 Nomination?

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—If travel will do it, Vice President Richard M. Nixon is going to be one of the best-informed men available for a presidential nomination in 1960.

Nixon's forthcoming trip to Moscow in July will add about 10,000 miles to the 279,647 he already has logged since January 1953, when he took office.

* * *

Although Nixon's penchant for getting around in the world falls short of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' 560,000 miles of total travel, Nixon has visited more countries—54 to Dulles' 46. Nixon also has been in five U. S. possessions.

Nixon's first—and longest—overseas official tour came in his first year as vice president. That 70-day trip in 1953 took him through large areas of the Middle East and Asia.

In 1956 he again visited the Pacific area and other Asian countries, and early in 1957 made a major tour of Africa. Europe has been on his itinerary several times.

Last year he made a violence-marked 18-day tour of eight South American countries, and a four-day trip to London to help dedicate a memorial chapel to U.S. servicemen.

* * *

The July trip to Moscow to open an American fair there will be Nixon's first venture behind the Iron Curtain. He has hit the edges during visits to Austria and Germany, and in various countries in Asia.

There is no doubt in administration circes that Nixon will get the red carpet treatment in Moscow. He can be expected to confer with Soviet Premier Nikita khrushchev and lesser officials.

Bolshoi Ballet Cheered Again

'Swan Lake' Danced by Russians on Tour in America

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bolshoi Ballet, which opened its American tour last week in the Metropolitan Opera House, waited until Tuesday night to put its best foot forward.

Welcomed warmly enough for their starting number, "Romeo and Juliet," these dancers were welcomed this time with real enthusiasm for "Swan Lake."

* * *

This classic is the most famous number in their repertory, and it showed them off in all their glory. Any doubts anybody had after seeing the first presentation vanished for good on this occasion.

It was a beautiful production by what proved to be, after all, a top-flight company led by a second prima ballerina, the dazzling star Maya Plisetskaya, seen for the first time outside the Soviet Union.

"Swan Lake" is the evening-long, full-length, four-act story of the prince evpected to marry; Odette metamorphosed into a swan whom he chooses for bride; Odile foisted on him instead; and his final confounding of the evil sorcerer.

In details this production differs little from "Swan Lakes" done in the West, but there is a subtle and vital change in the mood. Where we, and the English, strive for speed, precision and style, the Soviets settle for poetry.

* * *

Miss Plisetskaya gave us a touching Odette, and an Odile a little less wicked than she might have been. A bit larger than Ulanova, it seemed, she is a remarkable dancer with a superb sense of style and a fine feeling for drama, too. She was called back repeatedly for bows.

Her admirable prince was Nicolai Fadeyechev, and Vladimir Levashev played the sorcerer. Georgi Soloviev was the jester, a more successful comic figure than the quartet that appeared in "Romeo and Juliet." Gennadi Rozhdestvensky conducted the too familiar Tchaikovsky score with fine spirit.

This Is Going Too Far

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—State Sen. Elmer Kinnaman took a dim view of some lobbying during the Wyoming Legislature. He received a telegram, signed by about 35 Rawlins residents, urging him to support a bill being considered. Among the signatures was his own name. He hadn't signed the petition.

News Service Elects Leaders

McKelway Again AP Head While Etheridge Is Made First V-P

NEW YORK (AP) — Benjamin M. McKelway of the Washington Star has been re-elected as president of the Associated Press.

At the reorganization meeting of the 18-member board of directors, Mark Ethridge of the Louisville Courier-Journal was named first vice president and Dolph Simons of the Lawrence, Kan. Journal-World, second vice president.

Frank J. Starzel continues as general manager and chief executive. Lloyd Stratton, an assistant general manager of the Associated Press, was re-elected secretary, and Robert Booth was re-elected treasurer.

Associated Press members elected three new directors and re-elected three others to the board at their annual meeting.

Value of Water Safety Work Described at Firemen's Dinner

LEONARD — With the advent of warmer weather, water safety becomes a problem of prime concern to emergency units in Oakland County, requiring the cooperation of firemen and policemen alike, Officer Donald Kratt of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department told an audience of area firemen last night.

The occasion was the annual dinner meeting of the Northeastern Oakand County Firemen's Association held at the Leonard Elementary School. Approximately 110 firemen and guests attended.

Kratt told the firefighters that without their cooperation and help the work of the Sheriff department's water patrol "would be impossible."

The officer described the origin and growth of the patrol and told of its service in cutting down water fatalities and accidents on county lakes last year.

DEATHS CUT 14 PCT.

Kratt said deaths were cut 14 per cent in 1958. He added that he and fellow officers issued 800 warnings for misdemeanors and wrote 63 tickets which resulted in 63 convictions.

★ ★ ★

A special feature was the presentation of an antique iron fire mark, dated 1835, by Cmdr. Melvin F. Lanphar, U.S.N.R. to Addison Township Fire Chief Edward Porter. The fire mark was used in earlier days to designate the house where a volunteer fireman lived. It will be hung above the door of the fire hall.

★ ★ ★

Lanphar is a Detroit financier who owns Pleasant Acres Farms in Addison Township. He also donated the meat for the meal.

Another speaker was William Jackson, Sheriff's Department diver, who told briefly about his job.

Toastmaster was Oxford Fire Chief Ellsworth Sage.

City of Southfield to Mark Birthday

SOUTHFIELD — On Sunday, the City of Southfield will observe its first birthday and next week has been proclaimed Southfield Anniversary Week by Mayor Donald L. Swanson.

★ ★ ★

A dinner for residents and officials to mark the event will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church, 21200 Southfield Rd.

★ ★ ★

Eugene Swem, former township supervisor and the city's first administrator will be honored as special guest at the dinner. Tickets are available at the City Hall.

Donkey Basketball Slated for Avondale High

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Band Boosters Club will sponsor two donkey basketball games beginning at 8 p.m. Friday at Avondale High School.

The Avondale Teachers team will be challenged by the Auburn Heights Lions Club, and the Pontiac Township firemen will be pitted against the Avondale firemen.

Refreshments will be served between games.

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Auburn Heights Community Club is holding a public pinochle party at 8 p.m. Thursday in the clubhouse, 220 S. Squirrel Rd.

ROCHESTER — Bethel 81, Job's Daughters of Rochester has scheduled a smorgasbord for Friday at St. Paul's Methodist Church on Walnut street. Serving will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

FOUR TOWNS — The Elizabeth Russell Child will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Four Towns Methodist Church to elect officers. Annual reports will be given at this time and plans will be discussed for the forthcoming Mother and Daughters Banquet.

CLARKSTON — The Library Board of the Clarkston Elementary School is sponsoring a card party at 8 p.m. Friday at the school. Area residents are invited.

Plans for the Keego Harbor Boy's Club Father and Son Banquet are under way. The event is scheduled for May 2 at the Veteran's of Foreign Wars Hall in Keego Harbor. Those wishing to attend are urged to contact the club director, Carl Misfeldt, at the clubhouse for reservations before May 2.

ROCHESTER — The Congregators of the First Congregational Church will hold their April meeting at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Social Hall of the church. Mr. and Mrs. George Beatty will present a program and show films on the Family Church Camp. All Congregational Church couples are invited.

Dalai Lama Joyfully Received on Arrival at Indian Headquarters

MUSSOORIE, India (AP) — Tibet's living Buddha arrived at this Himalayan resort yesterday to live in exile on the same estate where India's departed saint, Mohandas Gandhi, used to stay.

The Dalai Lama's special train pulled into the railhead at Dehra Dun after an epic 35-day flight from Lhasa by foot, yakskin raft, horseback, jeep and rail.

The 23-year-old fugitive from the Chinese Communists climbed into an open car and rode at the head of a long motorcade along the 21-mile route to 7,000-foot high Mussoorie, a summer retreat for the rich.

Prime Minister Nehru is scheduled to come to Mussoorie Thursday or Friday for his first meeting with the distinguished fugitive. Nehru has been widely criticized in India because he has not condemned the Chinese Communist subjugation of Tibet.

Mussoorie, queen of the Himalayan hill stations, had been busy for days getting ready to receive the exalted guest. Already he had a familiar name, Chacha Buddha, or Uncle Buddha.

His home in exile is a 32-room mansion owned by B. M. Birla, a leading industrialist. Gandhi used to retreat from central India's summer heat to one of the two guest houses on the estate. The Indian leader was living at the New Delhi home of another Birla when he was assassinated in 1948.

The Birla mansion is ideal both as a residence and for security reasons. Situated atop a hill, it looks up to the giant, snow-capped ranges extending into Tibet. In steep descent below it, terraced rice and fruit fields merge into one long green vista.

The estate has a long paved drive on the front and steep drops on the other three sides, making it easy to guard.

AP Wirephoto

BLESSING HIS GREETERS — Tibet's Dalai Lama gestures as he blesses the crowd greeting him in Tezpur, India. The fugitive god-king was en route to his home-in-exile, Mussoorie, north of New Delhi. His flight has been an epic 35-day trip from Lhasa by foot, yakskin raft, horseback, car and rail. The late Mohandas Gandhi used to stay on this same estate in the Himalayan resort area.

Indian Foreign Secretary Subdimal Dutt and his aide in charge of Tibetan affairs, J. S. Mehta, have been here for several days supervising arrangements to receive the Tibetan ruler.

Masons and painters have been busy sprucing up the Birla mansion and fixing things so crowds will be able to have audience with the Dalai Lama.

The Uttar Pradesh state government is setting up a special office to take care of the ruler and his entourage of 90 persons. The Mussoorie municipal corporation has earmarked $21,000 to wake the hill station up from its winter sleep.

Orders have gone out to renovate the bandstand where an orchestra used to play during British rule, when Britons and wealthy Indians came here to escape the summer heat of the plains.

Mussoorie's social life waned when the British departed in 1947, although wealthy Indians and foreign residents of north India continued to come in the summer. It became still duller when the Indian military academy moved from Dehra Dun, at the foot of the hill station, and was re-located near Poona, about 1,000 miles away.

Mussoorie shopkeepers and hotel owners are hopeful prosperity will return with the arrival of the Dalai Lama.

Parolees Admit Armed Robbery

2 Held in Southfield Holdup

A warrant charging two Detroit parolees with the armed robbery of Epps Sporting Goods Store in Southfield last Thursday was expected to be issued by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office late today.

Brothers, the two were arrested by State Police in simultaneous raids on their homes at about 6 p.m. yesterday.

They were identified as Carl Bailey, 30, of 19488 Fielding, and James Bailey, 28, of 8545 Dunbarton. The arrests came after a witness identified their pictures out of a rogues' gallery at 4 p.m. yesterday.

Two "look alikes" had chained eight employes and customers together at the Epps' Store, 27661 Northwestern Highway, taking $720 from a safe, $45 from a customer's wallet and $563 worth of guns.

Detectives waited for Carl to arrive home and apprehended him as he stepped from his car. James was arrested in the hallway of his apartment building while talking to a friend.

"Carl was armed with a loaded pistol, but neither man had any time to give us any trouble," Whaley said. The other stolen guns and wallet were found in Carl's house. The brothers said they had already spent the money.

A pillowcase filled with ammunition was found.

A loaded rifle in Carl's home was "for use on police in case they gave us any trouble," Whaley quoted Carl as saying.

Carl was paroled from a Texas prison last May after serving a minimum sentence for armed robbery. James was paroled last March 26 from Jackson Prison where he had served time for carrying a concealed weapon and for breaking and entering.

Both men currently had been employed as salesmen for a nursery. They were booked today at the Oakland County Jail.

It was George Eliot, noted English authoress of the 1850-s, who said, "Animals are such agreeable friends—they ask no questions, they pass no criticisms."

Tax Federal Government, State Bill Asks

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) is preparing a bill to charge the federal government the state's 3 per cent sales tax on its purchases in Michigan.

He figures about two billion dollars in federal purchases would be subject to the tax and adds:

"That would raise an estimated 60 million dollars without seriously adding directly to the tax burden of Michigan residents.

"If accepted by the Legislature, we could get by with only some minor taxes, thus avoiding the much opposed state income tax."

★ ★ ★

The Holland lawmaker said there was nothing new or revolutionary in taxing the federal government. He said it was now being done in Illinois, Indiana, New Mexico, South Carolina and Arizona.

"If those states can do it, there is no reason why Michigan should not take advantage of such a tax program," Geerlings said.

New Yorkers Hail Cuban

Castro Likes Welcome

NEW YORK (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba, "pleased and impressed" by an enthusiastic welcome from New Yorkers, calls on the United Nations today.

At the halfway mark of a tour to "promote Cuba" among Americans and Canadians, Castro told reporters that the noisy welcome by some 20,000 New Yorkers — largely made up of the city's big Latin-American colony — "pleased and impressed me."

It was almost midnight Tuesday when he wound up the last official event in a 14-hour schedule that included three speeches, lots of handshaking and police-led scrimmages in and out of his hotel headquarters and other places.

The reception by so many Latin Americans so impressed him, Castro told a University of Columbia School of Journalism conference, that it made him wonder why the Spanish-speaking Americans do not band together in a United States of South America.

But he has no aspiration to head such a union, he said.

In his first full day in New York, the 32-year-old lawyer-revolutionary also said:

1. His government might set a date next month for elections, but the actual date is another matter. Castro previously said his government would not stay in office longer than four years, but that elections could be called at any time.

2. He may not seek the presidency when the elections are called.

Wallets Are Stolen From Two at Hotel

Two men had their wallets stolen last night while sleeping in the Roosevelt Hotel.

Rodney Perry of Fredrick, Okla., and James Nails of Benton Harbor told police they went to sleep last night with their room door open.

The man who is perfectly content has either a poor memory or no imagination . . . A comic described Jack Benny: "I won't say he's tight, but he's the only man I know with Lincoln-head fingerprints." —Earl Wilson.

Jail Escapees Who Held Hostage Say It Was Bluff

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Two small time burglars, who escaped from San Quentin Prison and held a woman hostage at knifepoint for six hours at the end of a fishing pier before surrendering Tuesday, say they were bluffing.

"We really didn't want no hostage, just a car to get away," said Billy Joe Wright, 26.

At the beginning of the ordeal, she said, "I was scared. I felt sick and I was faint. When I almost fainted, one of the boys wrapped my coat around me."

The trusty who did that was William D. Werner, 24. Both he and Wright had jail-break records.

They broke away from work parties outside the bleak walls of the huge prison 20 miles north of San Francisco, Wright fleeing from a grass-mowing party and Werner from the prison quarry with guards in hot pursuit.

Failing to find a car, they ran down the half-mile wharf that juts into San Francisco Bay near the prison entrance.

Mrs. Gschwend, a beauty operator, was fishing there with Doug Harrison, 62, a hotelman and friend of 35 years. Her husband, Walter, was working as a hotel bellman. All live in San Francisco.

Harrison recalled that "Louise let out a scream and I saw they had a knife at her neck." He added that Wright "told officers 'don't come any closer or I'll kill her' but I think they were just bluffing all the time."

Wright and Werner, with Harrison carrying messages between them and the guards, demanded a speedboat with plenty of gasoline and at another time the keys to Mrs. Gschwend's car and a half hour start.

Finally the prisoners gave up when Marin County Prosecutor William Weissich promised not to prosecute them for escaping and they were given a chance to tell their grievances to newspapermen.

Call Snuff Snooze

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Foresters and loggers in Oregon chew snuff, but they don't call it snuff. They call it snooze. Some claim it is spelled snus, others like snoos, and a few individualists prefer snuska.

Bob Considine Says:

Teenager Tells Why Parents Are Squares

NEW YORK—Teenage boy I know writes:

"I don't know what I'm going to do about my parents. They're such squares. All they do is work, work, work, and when they're not working they're questioning me about school. 'How did things go today in school?' 'I see by your report card that you flunked geometry again.'

"All I want to do is close the door and be by myself in my room and think where I'd like to be. Where I'd like to be is where they aren't, and where school and geometry isn't. It's not that I hate them and it's not that I don't realize that I've got to go to school and get an education or I'll wind up a bum.

"It's just that I have nothing to talk about with them, and they have nothing to talk about with me.

"So they met the Duke of Windsor. That don't send me. So what? They met the Duke of Windsor. They never met a friend of mine named Pete. He's 17 and already in the Navy. They wouldn't like Pete, but maybe I wouldn't like the Duke of Windsor.

"Sure, I know what you'll say. You'll say, 'Why, how can you say that about your parents who sweat and slave just to give you all the things they didn't have when they were your age.'

★ ★ ★

"Okay. They've given me everything I ever asked for and a lot of stuff I didn't want. You know, a shotgun, bikes, antique knives they've collected on their trips, a boat, outboard motor, and even a golf lesson. That was the craziest. Who wants to play golf when you can be around with the kids?

DON'T UNDERSTAND

"I'm grateful. Sure, it's more than most kids get. But what they don't give me—well, it's hard to explain—is the feeling that they know me and understand me. I'd rather be real poor and feel that they knew me and could talk like I talk and think like I think.

★ ★ ★

"Now that geometry. I'm going to flunk geometry as long as I go to school, and I'm going to flunk what comes after it. I'm also never going to need it because nothing I want, after I get out of school, has anything to do with geometry and that kind of jazz. It won't be in my climate at all.

"I'm going to find a school, some kind of business school, an easy school, so that anytime anybody asks me, 'Well, how were things in school today?' I can just show them a report card. It will be great, because the school is easy, and the school don't teach geometry, or try to.

"Then I'm going to try to borrow some money and open, maybe, a small hotel, or get a place like Luchow's, where they take me sometimes on Sunday nights, and take it easy the rest of my life.

"My parents don't know what it means just to stretch out and relax. My father thinks it's a national holiday whenever he has a chance to play a game of golf, even if he gets to the place late and has to play alone.

"Don't they ever just want to lie back and relax and think? Don't they ever want to live in Greenwich Village and grow one of those cool goatees? Don't they ever want just to sit around and listen to the music.

ALWAYS ON THE GO!

"No. They're on the go all the time. Guys say to me, 'Hey, that was some news about your father buying that shoe company,' and I look at them like a jerk because I didn't even know it. He didn't tell me. Sure it was in the paper—at least, I guess it was. But I don't go past the front page.

"What I can't get over to them is that I don't want to be the smartest kid in my class, or the cleanest, or the best at something like the Glockenspiel. I don't want to be the dope of the class neither. I just want to be average; dress like everybody, talk like everybody, think like everybody.

"I want to get by. That's all. But my mother was a Phi Beta something and my father worked his way up from Western Union boy and they can't understand why I don't want to be best. And I can't tell them.

"I can't tell them something else, either. They'd laugh at me. And that is: When I watch television I don't know whether to switch to the President or Looney Tunes."

O'Dwyers Owe Back Taxes

Appeals Court Upholds Ruling Against Former N.Y. Mayor, Ex-Wife

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed a Tax Court ruling that William O'Dwyer and his former wife owe $8,242 in back federal income taxes.

At one point, the opinion termed accusations made by O'Dwyer's counsel "scurrilous and scandalous" and unsubstantiated. Also, the court noted the O'Dwyers did not testify or produce witnesses to testify in their behalf.

The appeals court found this significant in considering the U.S. Tax Court's acceptance of testimony that the Uniformed Firemen's Assn. of New York City made a $10,000 cash contribution to O'Dwyer personally during his 1949 campaign for re-election.

In the case, argued Jan. 13, the government alleged deficiencies in income taxes for the years 1949-1951 totaled $8,242. These taxes were based upon the alleged $10,000 contribution, upon allegedly unsubstantiated deductible expenditures while O'Dwyer was ambassador to Mexico, and upon a $1,500 deposit made in a New York bank by Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer from Mexico.

Tailor Paid for Coat Comes 31 Years Later

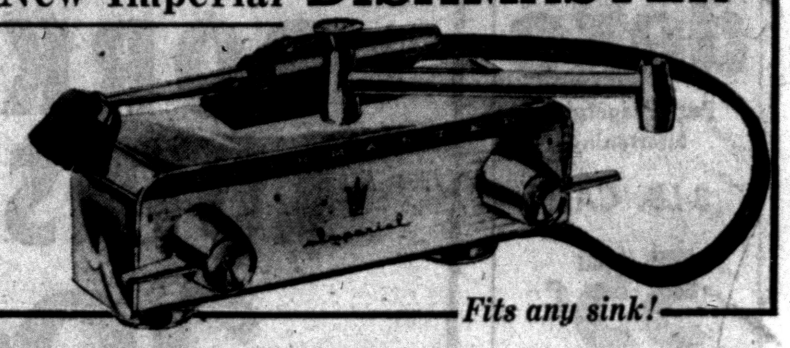

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Edward Dann received a letter from a man asking if he operated a tailoring shop in Milwaukee in 1928. Dann replied he had for 25 years before retiring in 1946.

Now... 3 easy ways to enjoy delicious Egg Coffee

DRIP Fine grind—for drip or vacuum coffee makers.
INSTANT Fine egg coffee, right in your cup—instantly.

There's never been a cup of coffee made that equals coffee brewed with whole fresh egg—the way good cooks everywhere have been brewing it for generations. Only egg coffee gives you the clearest brew, the full strength of flavor, and brings out the mellow richness of fine coffee. And now North Woods brings it to you... adds the country-fresh eggs right in the roasting process. Saves you the work and expense of adding eggs to ordinary coffee. Nothing extra for you to do—just make your coffee in your usual way and have "company" coffee in every cup.

North Woods Egg Coffee costs just a few pennies more per pound; but remember, the egg is already in North Woods. After your first cup, you'll never be satisfied with ordinary coffee flavor. You must agree it's the finest cup of coffee you've ever tasted, or your money cheerfully refunded.

Symphony Winds Up Season

Pontiac Press Photos

Kenneth E. Turner Jr. of Bloomfield Township discusses last evening's Pontiac Symphony program with Julie O'Brien. Mr. Turner is stage director for the group and Miss O'Brien is chairman of poster distribution.

Loyal supporters of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra arrive for the final concert of the season. Left to right are Philip Steinhaus, organist (who will be heard with the symphony next season), Mrs. C. T. Ekelund, and Dr. Ekelund, who have been patrons since the first year the orchestra was formed.

Final Pontiac Concert Called Finest of Series

By WILLIAM WALROD

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Francesco DiBlasi, presented its fifth and final concert of the season last night at the Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium. Featured soloist of the evening was Thaddeus Markiewicz, assistant solo cellist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for the past twelve years.

★ ★ ★

Mr. DiBlasi and the orchestra opened the concert with Rossini's popular overture to his little-known opera, "La Gazza Ladra" (The Thieving Magpie). This colorful overture features an unusual and unexpected opening drum roll by the snare drums. The orchestra's performance was very exciting; Mr. DiBlasi does an excellent job of interpreting Rossini's music.

CONCERTO IS HIGHLIGHT

Highlight of the concert was Mr. Markiewicz' rendition of Boccherini's Cello Concerto in B-Flat Major. Assisted by Mr. DiBlasi and the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, he played a memorable performance of this beautiful but seldom heard 18th Century masterpiece.

As an encore, Mr. Markiewicz, Mr. DiBlaise and the string section of the orchestra performed a transcription of the fourth movement of Boccherini's Quintet in C Major.

★ ★ ★

In contrast to the preceding music and in representation of the American spirit, the orchestra played "On The Trail" from Ferde Grofe's popular "Grand Canyon Suite." Although "On The Trail" is the best known excerpt from the suite, it also is the most intricate and technically difficult to perform. After the opening violin solo, it features half a dozen solo instruments, thus requiring a virtuoso orchestra to do the work complete justice. The performance was very interesting.

★ ★ ★

One of Zoltan Kodaly's most popular works is his "Hary Janos Suite." The intermezzo, a Czardas, is typically Hungarian in flavor, featuring overtones of gypsy music and very complicated rhythmic patterns. Mr. DiBlasi and the orchestra gave the "Intermezzo" a real Hungarian flavor; the performance was sparkling and vivid.

NOTABLE PERFORMANCE

In conclusion, the orchestra performed Tchaikovsky's "Overture Fantasia" based upon the tragic love story of Romeo and Juliet. This was, without a doubt, one of the finest performances Pontiac concert-goers have ever heard.

Mr. DiBlasi and the orchestra did magnificent justice to Tchaikovsky's masterful orchestration.

I have never heard a woodwind section in any orchestra which could surpass the Pontiac Symphony in beautiful intonation and perfect blend. This was undoubtedly the orchestra's finest performance of this entire season.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and Mr. DiBlasi deserve special tribute in recognition of the fine cultural opportunity which they have afforded so many Pontiac citizens. The city of Pontiac can well be proud of its wonderful orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Simon seldom miss a concert and have been of great assistance in promoting the orchestra. They have watched its development with interest and feel justly proud of its achievements.

Addresses Women of Moose

Mrs. Herter Chops Trees for Fun

Heiress No China-Doll Socialite

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'd never know Mrs. Christian A. Herter was a Standard Oil heiress if you saw her chopping down trees.

It's good exercise and good fun, she says, and "I enjoy it a great deal more than playing golf."

You'd hardly expect the secretary of state to speak of his wife as "Mac" but he does.

Homey things like that do a lot to take away the impression some people get of Mrs. Herter in formal society—the picture of a frosty Bostonian, tall, lean and imperious.

Actually, she was Miss Mary Caroline Pratt of Brooklyn when the handsome Chris Herter—a Parisian-born, Harvard-educated young patrician—took her for his bride in 1917.

The years have been kind to them except, of course, in the matter of Herter's sometimes crippling arthritis. They have had a full family life, with four children and 14 grandchildren.

They have enjoyed other good things of life, too. For example, they've had three homes to be happy in.

There's a 150-year-old town house here in Georgetown. There's a 260-acre farm (fine for wood chopping) at Millis, Mass. There's a vast plantation, called Cheeha-Combahee, in South Carolina.

Mrs. Herter's father, Frederick Pratt, bought the plantation in 1929. He was the son of Charles Pratt, one of the founders of Standard Oil.

Charles Pratt also was the founder of Pratt Institute, which includes a well known art school in Brooklyn. Mrs. Herter is herself a talented painter.

Her liking for painting—she modestly regards herself as an amateur—affords another common interest with the secretary. His parents were both artists and he inherited some of their talent, with a bent toward architecture.

The Herters are fortunate in another way; neither has to diet consciously.

There's a small library in the P Street home here, where an eyecatcher is a painting of a Chinese mandarin in crimson robes. The Herters have painted this room red six times, each coat slightly different from the last, to carry along that particular shade of crimson.

Plans May 18 Luncheon

Plans were made for the annual luncheon at the meeting of Pontiac Woman's Club Monday afternoon at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

The luncheon will be held May 18 at Hotel Waldron, with Robert Bills of Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority as guest speaker.

Mrs. Harry Stowell reported on the state convention just held in Detroit.

The president, Mrs. C. W. Myers announced the adult institute to be held May 6 in Ann Arbor and the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs meeting at Oak Ridge Clubhouse, Royal Oak.

Mrs. William Bedard, welfare chairman, reported that large donations had been made to Girls' Town scholarship funds and other civic organizations. A start has been made on next year's welfare funds with a breakfast at her home.

Ruby Dunstan entertained members with a talk on floral arrangements and showed simple arrangements to be used in the home.

Chairman of the day was Mrs. Stowell. On her committee were Mrs. Charles Lloyd, Mrs. George Chrisman, Mrs. Henry Simpson, Mrs. Eleah Patten, Mrs. W. H. Eustice, Mrs. Netti Hymers, Mrs. Clarence Smith and Mrs. Lewis Stuart.

8 Win at Bridge

Twelve tables were in play at Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club meeting held Monday evening at Elks Temple.

Plan Benefit Party

The Psychiatric Aid Association of Pontiac State Hospital is holding a benefit card party Thursday, April 23, at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. The affair will start at 7 p.m. Proceeds will go to the benefit of the Patients Fund, and tickets will be available at the door.

Pontiac Press Photo

Guild 7 of All Saints Episcopal Church is sponsoring a dessert bridge and style show April 29 at Stevens Hall. The affair will get under way at 7:30 p.m. with fashions by the DeCor Shop. From left to right, Mrs. Norman Dyer, Jane Danton and Mrs. Standish Sibley, model some of the smart spring apparel which will be shown at the event.

Man Right to Wait in Car Outside

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband often comes for me when I go to a woman's party. He usually sits outside in the car and waits until I am ready to leave. He insists that there is no reason for him to come into the house when his presence would just make a commotion.

"I think his attitude puts him in the position of being a discourteous husband and I don't want my friends to think he is thoughtless of me when he is really very much the reverse. What is your opinion?"

Answer: In my opinion he is right! Certainly waiting for you shows you quite as much, if not more, courtesy than going into the house and breaking up the party.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am on the faculty of a small college and would like your opinion concerning what is correct in connection with boutonnieres at the formal banquets on our campus. Of course the men buy corsages for their guests.

"Is it proper for the women, in turn, to buy the boutonnieres for their escorts, or are the men to buy their own? On some occasions the men invite the women to the banquets and on other occasions the women invite the men."

Answer: Unless it is an established local custom for the women to buy boutonnieres for the men, no woman is ever expected to buy flowers for a man if he is not in a hospital.

But, Be Gentle

Don't Forget Your Skin Needs Attention

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This is "Why Grow Old's?" Spring Makeover Week. No man can possibly imagine the tremendous urge we women have toward improvement at this tme!

The spirit of the season gets a stranglehold on us and we want desperately to improve our houses and ourselves. Curtains are laundered, windows washed, floors polished, closets and drawers straightened out, porch furniture painted, perhaps a new slip cover added, and often the furniture is moved about some.

This frenzy of ambition and action includes us personally too. We are likely to want to move a few bulges about, to freshen up our complexions, buy new clothes or recondition old ones, get a new hairdo and just generally touch up the rough spots in our appearance. My SPRING MAKEOVER program is here to help you.

Few women give their complexion the regular daily care it requires for best looks. Even those of us who are seriously interested in keeping a youthful appearance for as long as possible run into busy, hectic times when our skin care is much more "hit and miss" than it ever should be.

Reconditioning the skin is especially important after the winter months of cold weather, soot and overheated houses, rough winds and sudden changes in temperature. We cannot think of a personal rejuvenation without considering some special skin care, at least for a few weeks.

Dryness is the problem most women have, especially from middle age on, and especially just following winter. As a part of your beautifying program resolve not to pass by a single day without adequately cleansing and lubricating the skin of your face and neck.

I believe in using a rotary motion with the fingers (very gentle) when working cleansing cream or lubricating cream into the skin. I think that the long upward strokes so often advised are much more apt to stretch the skin than a light, rotary motion.

Let your oily cream soak into the skin for at least a half hour—longer when possible. Masks and astringents are helpful to those who have large pores. If your problem is an oily epidermis, use a complexion brush and soap and water SEVERAL times a day EVERY day. In a few weeks this sort of care will show results.

For those of you who are following my 9-Day Reducing Diet, here are your menus for tomorrow.

THURSDAY'S MENUS

Breakfast
One poached egg on toast
Black coffee

Luncheon
One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat)
Celery sticks
One glass skimmed milk
Two raw carrots

Dinner
Small lean steak
One-half cup cauliflower
One baked potato (no butter)
Medium sized potato has only about 90 calories)
One orange
One glass skimmed milk before bedtime

And here is your exercise. Stand tall with feet separated. Bend forward from the waist letting the trunk head and arms, fall forward. Lift the trunk and raise the arms upward, bending elbows slightly above shoulder height in a relaxed manner. Now lower the head backward and lift the rib cage. Continue.

If you would like to have my 9-Day Diet booklet which shows you how to lose from five to 10 pounds, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Use Cardboard to Line Drawer

While you are at the business of lining drawers with paper, first cut a cardboard the size to fit the drawer then three or four pieces of paper to go over it.

The cardboard will keep the paper lying straight. Then it is a simple matter to remove the top layer of the paper as it becomes soiled and drawers will stay clean longer.

Scholarship Tea to Aid College Music Students

Chairman of a scholarship benefit tea and musicale to aid Pontiac area college music students is Bertha M. Roth. The program will

★ ★ ★

Assisting with the affair are cochairmen, Mrs. Allan Neville, invitations, and Mrs. Floyd Zielinski, patron. Miss Roth's students from Pontiac Central High, Pontiac Northern High, St. Frederick, Washington Junior High and Emmanuel Baptist Schools will take part in the program.

They are David Brien, Joyce Livingston, Michael Marion, Mary Slowik and Lynn Thompson. Donald Zielinski will perform a two-piano arrangement with Miss Roth.

Mary Slowik, will present violin selections. Miss Roth will award her the Outstanding Student Award of the year for outside activities in violin and piano playing.

All former pupils of this area are encouraged to attend and take part in what is hoped will be an annual drive to assist college music students of the future.

Dear Abby . . .

He's Attracted by Her Fresh Line

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am a single man, age 35 and I live in a rooming house. There is a young woman (about 27) who has a room in the back apartment; mine is in front and there is a bathroom in between us. She has a clothesline strung up in the bathroom and every night she washes out her underwear and hangs it up. I get up first and see these things in the bathroom every morning. She must have only two sets of underwear because one set is on the line every single morning.

ABBY

"Both sets are getting very ragged so I guess that's all she has. Would it be too personal a gift for me to give her some new underwear? I am not very forward and it might be a good way to get better acquainted."

SQUARE SHOOTER

DEAR SQUARE: A gift of intimate apparel would be out of order. If you want to know her better, engage her in conversation casually like a gentleman Duz. Good Lux.

"DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 19 and so is her boy friend. Her father and I are worried about the car this boy takes our daughter out in. He has a 1934 Ford with a big Oldsmobile motor in it. My husband is a mechanic by trade and he says the motor is too heavy for the car. Also, this boy puts his car together any old way and my husband says it is a wonder it stays in one piece for an hour.

"The minute we criticize this boy or his car our daughter bursts into tears. Do we have a right to say anything or not?"

WORRIED PARENTS

"DEAR PARENTS: It's the DUTY of parents to keep their children safe. If your husband feels that this boy's car is dangerous, he should tell the BOY (not your daughter) and if possible, help him to put something safer together.

"DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a wonderful girl and want to ask her to marry me but I cannot. I have a good job, no debts, a nice bankroll, and a record. A few years ago I was a wild teenager and started playing with marijuana and before long I was addicted to heroin. I spent six months in a hospital at Lexington, Ky., then I was sentenced to a Federal Correction Institute for 3 months followed by two years' parole.

"I paid for my mistake, 'kicked' the habit and haven't been in trouble since. My girl and her family know of my record so that's no problem, but I am constantly being picked up by the police for investigation. Can I ask a wife to put up with this? Maybe your answer will help others in the same boat. There are lots of us"

SHADOWED

DEAR SHADOWED: If you love her enough you can ask her — and if she loves you enough she will accept you for what you are today. If you behave yourself long enough, you won't be "picked up" forever.

★ ★ ★

"How can I get him to notice me?" Get Abby's booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby in care of this paper.

★ ★ ★

Whole Nuts Add Crunch to Peanut Butter Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wilbur Bailey, today's cook, is the mother of six children under twelve years of age. Needless to say, she has no time for outside activities. She says she collects records and likes to sew.

CRUNCHY PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES
By Mrs. Wilbur Bailey

1 cup shortening
1 cup peanut butter
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2¼ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup whole peanuts*

*If salted peanuts are used, omit salt.

Marijane E. Vollmar and Wayne F. Lundy were married Saturday evening at Bethany Baptist Church. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Vollmar and the bridegroom is the son of the Frank Lundys.

MRS. WAYNE F. LUNDY

Marijane Vollmar Wed in Candlelight Service

Marijane Ethel Vollmar and Wayne F. Lundy were married Saturday evening at Bethany Baptist Church. Dr. Joseph I. Chapman officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Vollmar of North Perry street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lundy of Elizabeth Lake road.

IN PRINCESS GOWN

The bride wore a full-length princess style gown of Italian mat faille. The sleeves were long and the square neckline was outlined with rose petals of the same material. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was held by a crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of two white orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible.

★ ★ ★

Carol Lazenby was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of Cotillion blue Italian taffeta with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. A matching crown of iridescent sequins and pearls held her short veil of French illusion.

Bridesmaids were Jerri Wiggins and Marlene Lazenby. They were dressed like the maid of honor but in mauve color. All carried pink parasols with flowers to match their dresses.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Best man was Robert Prince. Ushers were Jack Fear and Quenton J. Vollmar, the bride's uncle.

Before leaving for a honeymoon to New York City, the bride changed to a beige silk shantung sheath dress with a scoop neckline and matching jacket. Her accessories matched her dress, and she wore the white orchids from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live on Lapeer road.

The bride attended the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. The bridegroom attended Wheaton College.

Glove Etiquette

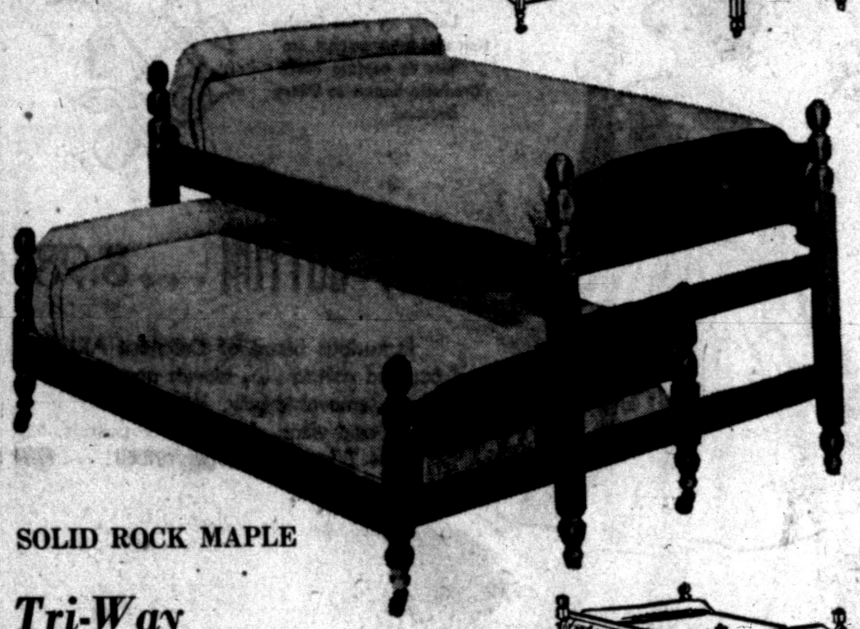

If you admire the smartness that brief white gloves add to a simple cotton dress, why not adapt the habit! It's well worth the effort. The rules for gloves are very simple: On when you are outdoors and off when you go indoors. Short and brief unless your arms are long and thin (wrist-band length in that case.) A medium length for afternoons and weddings and long above-the elbow length on evening or formal occasions only.

Bengals Continue to Disprove Norman

'We're Not That Bad,' He Claims —Fans Wonder

Indians Rout Detroit, 14-1, in First Night Game of Season

Things certainly will get better for the Tigers. They can get no worse than they got last night when the Cleveland Indians drubbed them 14-1 while a jeering, hooting crowd of 12,935 attended the earliest night game of any season at Briggs Stadium.

Not only was it the earliest night game — but the fastest. It was over in six pitches.

Cal McLish needed no more support as he twirled a six-hitter that was tainted only by an unearned Detroit run in the eighth inning.

The Indians raked six Tiger pitchers for 13 additional base hits. Minoso got five of them, driving in five runs with two home runs and batting across another with one of his three singles.

George Strickland hit a two-run homer in the first inning and routed Foytack before he could get the third out.

It was as pitiful a showing as the Tigers ever made. Foytack failed to survive the first inning. Susce, third pitcher to work for Detroit, could retire only two batters in the seventh. Then Hank Aguirre, the fifth moundsman, could not retire one of the four batters he faced in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

Detroit did not give McLish even a mild scare until the eighth and it took a throwing error by shortstop Strickland to accomplish that. Lou Berberet singled and got to second when Strickland's throw sailed into the Cleveland dugout. He scored on rookie Larry Osborne's first hit of the season, a double down the line in right.

★ ★ ★

Only Don Mossi escaped the Cleveland assault, and his ninth inning work may have earned him a shot at a starting job. He replaced Aguirre with one run home, the bases loaded and no one out. Mossi struck out pinch hitter Dick Brown, Woody Held and Strickland.

But the fans present at the time were well past the cheering stage. The temperature at game time was 47 degrees.

As one writer commented after the contest: "Those who wanted to see baseball in the worst way certainly did."

The second game of the three-game series was scheduled for this afternoon and Frank Lary was Detroit's choice to oppose young Gary Bell.

PCH Golfers Lose 1st Dual Meet of Season

The Flint Central golf team handed Pontiac Central its first dual setback of the season yesterday in cold, blustery weather at Flint's Brookwood Country Club. The final score was 11½-3½ and the Saginaw Valley loss left the Chiefs with a 4-1 record.

Tom Deaton led Pontiac's five-man squad with an 84. Other scores for the Chiefs were Mike Samardzija 89, Bill Davis 90, Ron Sugg 92, and John Taylor 93. Doug Parker of Flint Central was medalist of the meet with a five-over-par 78.

But Gus Knocks In All 5 to Pace Oriole Victory

Passed Balls Irk Triandos

BOSTON (AP) — Gus Triandos who drove in all Baltimore's runs in a 5-2 victory over the Red Sox yesterday, might have been expected to dance a jig in the locker room afterwards. Instead, the huge catcher sank into a chair and heaved a tremendous sigh of relief.

"How many passed balls did I have, two or three?" he asked. When told he was charged with two passed balls and an error, Triandos laughed and said: "Well at least I was lucky today. I drove in more runs than I let in."

Triandos, recognized as one of the best receivers in the American League, was concerned over his handling of the knuckleball offerings of Hoyt Wilhelm.

"The only thing you can do with Wilhelm is . . . call for the knuckleball nine out of ten pitches and try not to let it worry you when one gets by now and then," Triandos said.

Wilhelm went the distance and allowed only eight hits for his first victory. A grand slam homer by Triandos in the first and a bases-empty blast off the left field screen in the sixth accounted for the Orioles' scoring.

Triandos' homers were his third and fourth and his RBI total climbed to 14 for nine games.

Bob Grim held Chicago to four hits Tuesday night and the Kansas City Athletics blasted White Sox pitching for an 8-3 victory.

The A's took only two innings to dispose of Billy Pierce, scoring five times against the Sox' ace lefthander.

Hank Bauer hit two singles and a homer in an 18-hit New York attack as the Yankees walloped Washington 11-4 before 13,297 fans Tuesday night.

Mickey Mantle also hit a homer, first of the season and 250th in the career of the 27-year-old Yankee switch hitter.

Pitchers Pedro Ramos, rookie Jack Kralick and Vito Valentinetti were dealt with indiscriminately by the defending world champions who charged into second place past the White Sox.

Yankee starter Don Larsen was credited with his second victory against no defeats although he was chased in the sixth as Washington rookie Bob Allison homered, Norm Zauchin singled and Jim Lemon homered in succession. Allison's homer extended his hitting streak to nine games.

Duke Maas, who relieved Larsen with two out in the sixth, held the Senators to one hit the rest of the way.

Grim had a no-hitter going for five innings. But in the sixth, Don Mueller batted for Buck Shaw, who had relieved Pierce on the mound, and sent a single through second baseman Hec Lopez. A single by Jim Landis and a two-bagger by Sherm Lollar scored two runs.

GOING GREAT — Bob Allison of the Washington Senators is off to a great early season start and hopes for becoming a candidate for 1959 rookie-of-the-year. Allison has hit safely in all eight games with 12 hits in 33 tries for a .364 average.

ONE HIT HOBBIE — Glen Hobbie, 23-year-old Chicago Cub pitcher was on his way to no-hit fame yesterday until Stan Musial shattered the dream with a 7th inning hit. Hobbie won the game 1-0 over the Cardinals for his second win of the season.

Wings-Leafs Trade Winds Blow

Toronto Wants Delvecchio in Offer to Deal

Punch Imlach Denies Any Trade but Would Like to Make It

DETROIT (AP) — A trade is in the wind between the Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs and Alex Delvecchio may be the key.

The Wings finished out of the National Hockey League playoffs this past season for the first time since 1938. They want to rebuild with youth.

But whether they'd surrender a proven veteran star such as Delvecchio for young talent is debatable. The Toronto Telegram said yesterday Detroit would be agreeable.

Delvecchio was about to be traded to Toronto for the Cullen brothers, Barry and Brian, Noel Price and Marc Reaume, the paper said. The Wings also would give the Leafs an unnamed Minor League defenseman.

"Sure I want to trade, but no one wants to trade with me. I've only got a half dozen players anyone is interested in and those I can't spare."

Delvecchio would be classified among the half dozen.

"I can't see trying to get any older players," Adams said. "That's the kind of trading you do to patch up a lineup or to strengthen it just a bit for a year or so.

"Any trades, any changes I make this summer will emphasize putting in young players for a general rebuilding."

HAPPY WIGWAM — Cal McLish (right), Cleveland Indian pitcher, has a pow wow with the big clubbers who gave the Tribe a 14-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers last night. From the left, Vic Power, hit a two run homer in the 7th; George Strickland, connected with one in the first, and Minnie Minoso, who hit a three run homer in the first and a two run blast in the 6th. Minoso had five hits and six RBIs.

Green Wins 1st Match, Faces Tough Foe Today

PINEHURST, N.C.—Young Pete Green of Birmingham, Mich., had his work cut out for him today in the annual North and South Amateur Golf Championship.

The former Birmingham High School golfer, now a freshman at the University of North Carolina, met Gene Andrews, the experienced tournament campaigner from Pacific Palisades, Calif., in the 2nd round of match play.

Green, the 18-year-old shotmaker who led Birmingham to the Michigan prep golf title last spring and won the state Jaycee crown in July, defeated George Toms of Durham, N.C., in yesterday's opening round of head-to-head combat.

Green, who was 1-down at the turn, pulled even on the back side and closed out the match with a par four on the 19th green as Toms missed a three-foot putt.

Green was one of two Michigan players remaining in the field as the tourney entered its 2nd match play round today at Pinehurst Country Club.

Dr. Robert Corley of Jackson was the other state golfer still in the running after Birmingham's Tom Draper bowed out in the 1st round.

The veteran Draper, ex-Michigan amateur champ, lost a 1-up decision to Dr. John McKey of Orlando, Fla. Dr. Corley, another seasoned performer and long a standout figure in state amateur circles, also scored a 1-up victory.

Dr. Corley, like Green, was pushed to the 19th hole to conquer Kelly Grice of Charlotte, N.C.

Another tested player, Dr. Wendell Aldrich of Angola, Ind., fired par golf for a 2-1 conquest of Dave Smith, who shared medal honors with Green on Monday. Aldrich, a 38-year-old dentist, is well known to Michigan golf fans in the Detroit area.

Ability and stamina were demanded today with two rounds scheduled to cut the field to quarter-final size by nightfall.

Pinehurst's Dick Chapman, the defending champion, and Mal Galletta of Old Westbury, N. Y., who won this event 19 years ago, met in one of today's top matches. Chapman advanced with a 6-5 win over George Towbotham, King of Prussia, Pa.

UPPER HALF

Dr. Wendell Aldrich, Angola, Ind., defeated Dave Smith, Gastonia, N.C., 2 and 1.

Pvt. John Schubeck, Ft. Knox, Ky., defeated Alpheus Winter, Fairfield, Conn., 1-up.

Don Essig, Baton Rouge, La., defeated Bob Batdorff, West Lawn, Pa., 3 and 2.

Dr. John McKey, Orlando, Fla., defeated Tom Draper, Birmingham, Mich., 1-up.

LOWER HALF

Dr. R. W. Corley, Jackson, Mich., defeated Keely Grice, Charlotte, N.C., 19 holes.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

DIAGNOSIS: Faulty gripping.

Treatment: Those of us who teach golf may differ on some minor points. But we all agree that the importance of the proper grip cannot be overemphasized. The grip being the only tangible link between the player and the club, it's obvious that a wrong grip can nullify any and all right things done by the body —the feet, and the rest of it.

Here we see a bottom view of the grip. It shows that the palm and fingers combine to produce the proper grip in the left hand, and that the right hand grip is essentially in the fingers.

The little finger of the right hand lies in the groove between the index and middle fingers of the left hand, and should apply some slight pressure of its own.

The main pressure to be applied in the left hand is in the last three fingers nearest the end of the grip. The main pressure point in the right hand is in the middle and ring fingers. The proper overall pressure is best described as "gentle but firm."

Long Island Sailors Even Race Series

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — The international one-design class team from Long Island Sound defeated Bermuda in the second race of the series for the Amorita Cup Tuesday after losing a morning race that subsequently was cancelled.

★ ★ ★

Bermuda won Monday's first race in the best-of-7 series and made it two in a row this morning. However it was decided later that this race should not count because Sam Barton of Rye, N. Y., the American captain, withdrew to prevent his boat from losing its mast.

After this show of sportsmanship by the Bermuda team, the Long Islanders went out to win the official second race by the narrow margin of three-quarters of a point, 43-42¼.

City Bowler Bows in Masters

Only 2 Keglers Undefeated

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ray Bluth of St. Louis and Billy Golembiewski of Detroit are the only undefeated bowlers left in the American Bowling Congress Masters tournament.

Bluth's untarnished record is simply explained: He has averaged 221-7 for 20 games.

Golembiewski has averaged a comparatively tepid 198 for 20 games. But none of his foes have scored a four game series of 800 or better in this rugged double elimination test.

Golembiewski and Bluth meet early today to decide the winner of their winners bracket. The victor will meet the winner of the losers bracket tonight for the Masters championship.

An 18-year-old bowler from Lansdale, Pa., took fourth place in the singles division of the regular ABC competition yesterday. Don Schmidt rolled games of 227, 244 and 265 for a 736 series.

Monroe Moore, of Pontiac, Mich., bowed out in yesterday's competition following victories over Fred List and Bob Crawford, E. H. (Pete) Treybig, of Houston, Tex., was the kegler who eliminated Moore.

Treybig bowled an 855 series compared to 827 for Moore the proprietor at Auburn Lanes. Carl Richard of St. Louis handed Moore his 1st defeat as the local bowler got off to a poor start and rolled badly throughout the match.

Moore placed 16th in the Bowlers Journal tourney, which is held in conjunction with the Masters meet. Moore had a total score of 1067 and a high game of 268 in the Journal competition, which is a five-game match across 10 alleys.

Ex-Pitcher Was 40

Death Takes Don Black

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The swift stroke of death has come to Don Black, the baseball pitcher who made more than one uphill fight in his comparatively short life. He was 40.

He was watching his old team, the Cleveland Indians, on television last night when he collapsed. Taken to St. Thomas hospital, he was pronounced dead.

Black was a right-hander who came up from the Minors to the Philadelphia Athletics. In three years, his activities off the field had resulted in a waiver deal at the end of the 1945 season, and he became Cleveland property.

He made a big comeback in 1947, when Bill Veeck took charge of the club. Called back from the Minors, he won 10 games and pitched a no-hitter against the Athletics, on July 10 of that year. It was publicly acknowledged that Alcoholics Anonymous helped his comeback.

His next battle came in a hospital. In the pennant year of 1948 he was used only occasionally, and had a record of two wins and two losses when he keeled over at the plate on Sept. 13. A blood vessel had broken on the surface on his brain, and for weeks he was in critical condition. But he finally recovered.

He became a sportscaster, later a salesman of automobiles and insurance here. Then on Christmas Day of 1957, en route to a visit with relatives in Virginia, he was in an auto accident that nearly killed him. There was a long convalescence again.

Last summer he was a teacher for the city recreation department, but recently he had become ill and was on county relief.

Pointers' Tight Win in 880-Relay Nails Victory, 56-53

A scant half a foot distance at the finish of the 880-yard relay probably was the deciding factor in yesterday's 56-53 win for a good Grosse Pte. track squad, at PCH's home field. Victory in the relay would have given Chiefs the win.

Birmingham won its first dual meet (EML) of the season, at home, with a 70½-38½ count over East Detroit.

Three field records fell in the PCH meet, Rem Purdy's 4:30.1 mile for GP; Bob Spivak's 2:03.8 in the 880 and PCH's Charley Brown's 51 foot 8¾ inch shot toss are new marks.

Maples took 11 firsts, tied another. Bill Green's 52.2 time for the 440, was a Maples field record. Dick Zaino won the dashes, ran anchor on the 880 relay. Boyd Mayhew transfer from Ohio, won both hurdles.

Summaries of PCH-Grosse Pte. meet:

Seven losses in eight games are costing the owners money and will cost them much more unless the club can pull out fast from the early tailspin.

★ ★ ★

There were 12,935 spectators on hand last night as Cleveland walloped Detroit 14-1. Many of them booed Manager Bill Norman and starting pitcher Paul Foytack when the Indians routed the Tiger right-hander in the first inning.

★ ★ ★

Norman got the treatment in the seventh when he replaced George Susce, and again in the ninth when the Indians routed Hank Aguirre.

★ ★ ★

Big Ten Bowl Position Altered

AP Wirephoto

PITCHER AND CATCHER — Pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm (right) has a word of thanks for his catcher Gus Triandos, who yesterday was also the big hitter as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Red Sox 5-2 at Fenway Park in Boston. Triandos had two home runs, one a grand slam.

Northwestern Changes Vote to Peril Pact

Reversal May Create 5-5 Tie; 6-4 Needed for Continuance

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern's decision to vote against continuance in the Rose Bowl could mean an end to Big Ten participation in the post-season football classic.

Northwestern last night announced it will vote against the Rose Bowl at the Big Ten meetings next month. This apparently would create a 5-5 stalemate on the situation. At least a 6-4 majority is needed for Western Conference participation.

Northwestern's decision brought a new twist to the Rose Bowl story. Last week it was speculated Northwestern would vote for the game.

This immediately brought an unsigned editorial by the student newspaper — The Daily Northwestern—urging the university senate to vote "no" at the conference meetings May 23-24 at Ann Arbor.

The Daily Northwestern called the decision to vote "yes" hypocritical.

T. Leroy Martin, chairman of the university faculty committee, said:

"Northwestern's faculty athletic committe voted tonight to reaffirm the university's long standing position of opposition to all post-season games including the Rose Bowl."

The decision will guide Northwestern's vote at the conference meeting, said Martin. Northwestern never before announced its vote before the meeting but other universities have and because of speculation on changing its vote, Martin decided on the release.

Last month at a meeting in Madison, Wis., the conference took a straw vote and received a 5-4 decision in favor of continuance with Northwestern abstaining.

Illinois, Ohio State and Minnesota have announced they are against continuance. Wisconsin is known to be against it although it has not announced its decision.

Michigan is in favor of continuance. Indiana, Iowa, Purdue and Michigan State are believed to be for it although they also have not made any announcements.

The present contract ends with the 1960 game. A new contract also must be approved by the Tournament of Roses and the big four of western college football—California, Southern Cal, Washington and UCLA.

Skippers Drop League Opener, 9-7

Avondale, Romeo, Cranbrook 9s Win

Baseball activity got under way in the Inter-Lakes and Oakland B leagues with Southfield and Avondale posting opening victories.

Southfield pushed two runs across in the 9th inning one on a squeeze play by pitcher Bob Filar, to defeat Waterford 9-7.

Otto Jancik was the big gun as Avondale whipped Clawson 4-2. Jancik homered in Lamar Stephens in the first inning and singled home two more in the second for all four RBI's. He also doubled in the game for his third hit.

The Skippers tied the score at 7-7 with a five run 7th inning but the Jays won it in the 9th as Terry Odom scored on Filar's squeeze.

Romeo blanked Lake Orion 13-0, on the Romeo diamond, with a 4-hit mound job by Jim Busch and Paul Hoxsey. The winners scored in every inning, getting 3 in the 1st and 3rd and 5 in the big 4th frame. It was Romeo's 3rd win against one loss.

Cranbrook won a ball game, 11-9, but dropped a tennis match at Hamtramck, 5-2. The ball game was won in the top of the 7th, on a four-run blast when Tom Demerick hit a 2-run single to make the count 9-6. Andy Billedson was winning pitcher, giving up 7 hits. Win was Crane's 3rd.

A triple knot, and a playoff marked yesterday's triangular golf match in Wayne-Oakland league at North Hills, with West Bloomfield the eventual winner over Bloomfield Hills and Holly. The clubs all wound up the regular match at 173.

Paced by Mike Wiegand's medal 45 card, St. Michael golfers yesterday won their opening match of the season. Shamrocks defeated Servite over the Municipal course here, 199-220.

Other Shamrock cards were Bruce Brown 47, Dennis Patterson 50 and Paul Harding 57.

Milford won a dual track test at Bloomfield Hills, 59½-49½. The 880-relay decided the win. A new field record was set for the pole vault by Milford's Veresch, at 10-6.

11th Frame

By CHUCK ABAIR

Donald Martell, all of 5-4 and 140 pounds, has been outstanding in the city's two top leagues—the Huron and West Side Classics.

He captains both the 11th Frame Bar which has clinched the West Side crown and Humphreys, currently in a close race for Huron honors at Motor Inn.

The rugged league pressure has failed to have much bearing on his scoring. He averaged over 200 in both circuits.

MARTELL

A game little competitor, Don, already a member of the new local 700 chapter, almost earned the right to join Le Societe 800 with his 780 recently. "I missed the 300 when I had a split on the last frame," said Don. The 267-246-277 is the highest sanctioned series ever shot in Pontiac. And it came in the 33-year-old city resident's 1st real good year as a kegler after six years of mediocrity.

Martell is a teammate of Monroe Moore, who has been doing well in thet ABC Masters at St. Louis. The Auburn Lanes proprietor was a last-minute entry but he wasted no time showing his stuff.

Demeter Hits 3 Homers, Fowler Beats Giants in Relief

Youth, Age Spark Dodgers

By The Associated Press

Don Demeter, a kid who's been a long time coming, and Art Fowler, an old guy who's trying to come back, have the long lost Los Angeles Dodgers sittin' pretty in that National League race.

Demeter, at 23 a lean and lanky outfielder who was signed as a favor to two other kids, ripped his third two-run homer of the game in the 11th inning last night at the Coliseum for a 9-7 victory over the San Francisco Giants. And it was Fowler, at 36 returning to the majors after being cut loose two years ago, who collected his second relief victory with the blast.

That gave the Dodgers a four-game winning streak, matching their longest string of successes last season when they finished seventh, and kept them in second place, within .133 percentage points of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves stayed on top by whipping Cincinnati 7-4 as Warren Spahn won his second. Glen Hobbie of the Chicago Cubs defeated St. Louis 1-0 with a one-hitter after 6 2-3 innings of perfect pitching in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

Demeter, signed in '53 because the Dodgers were interested in two of his Oklahoma City high school buddies who insisted he be signed, too, has shown promise of power but hasn't been much of a percentage hitter (.189 last year). Now, after a build-up diet of vitamins and cod liver oil, Demeter leads the majors with six home runs, shares the RBI lead at 14 with the Giants' Orlando Cepeda and Baltimore's Gus Triandos, and is second among NL hitters with a .412 average.

All of the Dodger runs came on homers last night. Don Zimmer's first of the season was a two-on shot in a five-run third that got rolling on Demeter's inside-the-park homer—the first ever at the Coliseum. Felipe Alou and Jackie Brandt homered for the Giants, who tied it 7-all with four runs in the fifth. Demeter's payoff homer came off reliever Al Worthington (1-1), who allowed only two hits in his 4 1-3 innings as the fourth Giant pitcher.

Fowler, dumped by Cincinnati in 1957, relieved starter Stan Williams in the San Francisco fifth. He gave up two hits and the tying run, then blanked San Francisco on four hits, striking out six and walking but two. The stubby right-hander, getting a chance after tying for the Pacific Coast League lead with 16 victories plus a runner-up 3.00 earned run average, at Seattle last year, has worked 18 1-3 relief innings in five games for the Dodgers.

Hobbie, (2-0), who'll be 23 next Friday, retired the first 20 men he faced, then gave up a double to Stan Musial with two out in the seventh. In the ninth, the right-hander who was billed as a reliever, gave up his lone walk and hit a batter, then retired Musial on a tap to the mound for the final out.

Trouters Poised for Opener

LANSING (AP)—That well known spring malady known as trout fever is breaking out in more than 200,000 Michigan fishermen.

On that day, if the weather is right, possibly 100,000 or more anglers will crawl from their beds before dawn and head for lakes and streams across the state.

In the wake of one of the worst winters in years, state conservation men are going ahead with their trout planting program pretty much on schedule. A stretch of good weather in recent weeks improved planting conditions considerably, particularly in the southern lower peninsula.

Planting began in late March. If today's fine weather holds up, about half a million trout, most of legal size, will have been released by the end of April. That's about 25 per cent of the total for a normal year.

Of that early planting, nearly 250,000 will go into waters of the southern Lower Peninsula about 180,000 in the area north of the Bay City-Muskegon line and the rest in the Upper Peninsula.

Over the whole season, however, about half of the two million trout to be planted will be released in the northern Lower Peninsula and roughly 25 per cent in the other two regions.

Mostly because of fishermen's habits, the big plantings in southern areas are made before the season opening and prior to Memorial Day and the Fourth of July. After that, interest shifts to northern streams, where plantings are smaller but more frequent and stretched out over a longer period.

At least two-thirds of the planted trout will be rainbows, the rest brooks and browns.

Because of the declining trout populations in the Great Lakes, there won't be any early season on rainbow (steelheads) in either Upper Peninsula or Lower Peninsula waters tributary to the lakes. Last year, the early season was confined to designated waters north of the Straits.

Car Racing Has Water Counterpart

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Columnist

The active sports car racing enthusiast finds his waterborne counterpart in the inboard hydroplane pilot. He's in the competition strictly for the glory of winning.

When he pulls open the throttle and heads down the straight-away toward the inevitable pile-up at the first turn, he's not thinking about how much money and how many hours of labor he spent to put that throbbing roar into the exhaust, to send all the horsepower screaming down the shaft as he hurtles along at 100 miles per hour supported only by a few square inches of water contact.

He's in there to win—in a sportsmanlike manner—and that's all that counts.

He knows that the wake of a passing boat or even a sudden gust of wind may lift his bow into the air and cause him to flip. A floating bottle would put a hole through his delicate hull as though it were shot from a cannon.

When I asked my old friend Chuck Hunter, how much it cost him to campaign his 225-cubic-inch hydro when he was top driver in the class, he said:

"I started to figure it out once, but it was so depressing I quit trying to keep records and just concentrated on racing. It's more fun that way."

So much mechanical work is involved in building and tuning a racing hydro that quite often a man with talent in this line will team up with a good driver. The mechanic creates the engine by hand from an automobile motor. He polishes the intake passages, installs the dual carburetors, the high-lift cams and all the other hop-up gimmicks.

He doubles as pit crew and gives the engine its final tune before the skipper takes off in a blaze of glory, and he gets just as big a thrill when his creation crosses the finish line first.

In selecting a class to enter, you'll find a couple which actually use ordinary gasoline. This is simpler than lugging your own supply of methanol. Also the classes using stock engines are less expensive than the souped jobs.

If a class strikes your fancy in the list below, you can get more information by writing to the American Power Boat Association, 2534 St. Aubin Ave., Detroit 7, Mich. The APBA will put you in touch with a regional or technical chairman who can assist you.

Questions and Answers

Is there any place where I can get a ready-built hull for use in the seven-litre (H) class?

This calls for custom work. As this is being written, the leading race hull builders are Henry Lauterbach, 125 Stewart St., Portsmouth, Va., and Richard Hallett, 8231 Quoit St., Downey, Calif.

Is there any other way of cooling a racing inboard than by a pump or sponson scoops?

Combined License Bill Before House

LANSING (UPI) — An Upper Peninsula lawmaker Tuesday introduced his promised bill for a combined "sportsmen's license" for all hunting and fishing.

The license, under the bill sponsored by Rep. Gilbert Wales (D-Stambaugh), would cost $10 and permit the licensee to hunt small game and deer, to trap beaver and otter and to fish for all species.

Angler Turns Fish 'Peeking' Into Business

WEST POINT, Neb. (AP)—Fisherman I. E. Stratton always wanted to peek beneath the water to spy out weed beds, holes and ledges where fish might be hanging out. But he could never find anyone who could sell him a gadget that would do the job.

★ ★ ★

So he had an engineer draw plans for something he calls a Fishscope. With the scope, a large tube with glass in one end, you can peer as far as 30 feet into reasonably clear water, says Stratton.

★ ★ ★

He has applied for a patent and is in business as the West Point Fishscope Co. Stratton says he's had orders from as far as Reykjavik, Iceland, and Guaymas, Mexico.

Spots Big 'Laker'

Oakland county deputy sheriff Don Kratt can bear witness that there are big lake trout in Maceday lake. From time to time anglers have succeeded in landing some of the big fellows, which are very seldom seen.

Lone Bald Eagle Seen Near City; Few Left Here

Up to recent years there had been a number of the huge graceful-flying creatures in this area. However, reports have been few and far between the last several years.

Mrs. Kenneth Horton, 978 Sunset, Lake Orion, with her husband, driving this week along Joslyn road near Clarkston, spotted a beautiful adult eagle, perched atop a dead pine tree. When they stopped to admire it, the big bird soared away. About the same time they saw another large bird that could have been a mate to the one on the tree.

"It was a big thrill to see this grand bird that is our national emblem," Mrs. Horton said. "It reminded me of our country, beautiful, strong and proud." She said the bird had a 5- or 6-foot wing spread.

For many years, up to a half dozen years back a pair of the great birds lived near Willoway, in The Hills. They were a familiar sight, soaring high or perching atop some tall, bare tree.

Bald eagles nest late in spring, (early May), with a clutch of usually three large eggs that are incubated ordinarily in 35 days. The nest is almost always a big collection of twigs and sticks high up in a tree or on rocky cliffs where available.

WHY NOT*

Why not be known as a better motoring citizen? Why not support the safety patrol boys, the traffic surveys? All safety? Why not lend your aid for good motoring legislation? The better roads program? Why not support such civic affairs?

A membership in the Automobile Club does all of these things and then, in addition, gives you the biggest dollar's worth in the automobile field by the AAA advantages, privileges and protection.

Membership for everything costs only about the price of a half a cup of coffee a day. Why not call the Club today and ask for a membership?

Humphrey Warns Resources Neglected

EUGENE, Ore. (UP) — Forest, range land and water development are neglected in the United States and the nation is living in the past because of it, Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) said Tuesday night.

The price of such a policy paid by other nations in history, he said, "is written in the seared, over-grazed and deforested Middle East."

A nation that forgets its natural resources is living on borrowed time, said Humphrey, speaking to Democrats in the heart of Oregon's rich lumber country.

Forests, he warned, do not spring up overnight and 28 million acres of bare land need reforestation. He said forest output must be upped by 50 per cent in the next 50 years to meet future needs.

Humphrey, often cited as a possible Democratic presidential nominee, said the kind of a struggle this nation should seek with the Soviets is a struggle to see who can first de-salt sea water.

Hendrik Hudson Festival Slated for New York

Along with theaters both on and off Broadway, the stores, the big motion picture houses, museums, parks, the 1959 season will also include the Shakespearean Festival in Central Park, summer concerts at Lewisohn Stadium, pop concerts on the Mall of Central Park, baseball at Yankee Stadium and horse racing.

In addition, visits can be arranged to the world-famous ocean liners and 'around Manhattan by boat' excursions are available. Special art showings are held, especially in Greenwich Village.

There also are the national tennis matches at Forest Hills, jazz concerts, night clubs and restaurants to attract visitors and help fill the city's 120,000 hotel guest rooms.

Hotel Just Cat's Meow

'Room Service, Mice Please'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The most exclusive hotel in Hollywood is occupied entirely by cats—the feline, not the musical, variety.

It is called Blackford's Hotel for Cats, and its purpose is to make sure that the pets of movie stars and other well-to-do persons will live in the surroundings expected of their social position when their masters are out of town.

"The owners of our client," said James W. Blackford, 55, founder of the establishment, "include Elizabeth Taylor, Kim Novak, Mona Freeman, George Murphy, Jeff Hunter, Ira Gershwin, Robert Culp and Meredith Willson.

"We lost Miss Taylor temporarily when she married Mike Todd. He made her get rid of her cats, and she cried about it. We are thinking of erecting a hot tin roof in her honor."

Blackford, a slender, blond-haired man who was born in Brownsville, Pa., said it was more difficult to get a reservation at his hotel than at any other in the world.

"We are very snobbish," he said. "We will turn down people if we don't like their looks. Our reservations are now booked seven months ahead, and we don't guarantee them.

"People have delayed their vacations for months until we have an opening because of the way we cater to their felines."

Among the services offered, said Blackford, were:

—Single rooms, five feet wide by six feet deep by eight feet high, for $1.50 a day. Or doubles, triples and quadruples for cats who get lonely.

"You must remember," said Blackford, "that these animals were born to the purple and have delicate tastes.

We have one feline that eats yogurt and strawberries. Another takes cantaloupe mixed with Spanish peanuts. Another will eat only scrambled eggs. And another likes shrimp cocktail with pitted ripe olives.

"We play FM only," said Blackford. "And, of course, we have air conditioning."

Blackford, who is assisted by his wife Edith, said that owners generally write to their cats several times a week.

"We read the letters to their pets," he said, "and leave the stationary in the rooms so the cats don't forget their owners' odor. Cats go by odor."

—"No female cats may enter the rooms of male cats unattended."

Iraqi Downfall Has Middle East Worried

Arab Chiefs Ripe for West Backing

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

The West soon may be obliged to accept as a melancholy fact the descent of an iron curtain around the Arab state of Iraq. What to do now?

The answer may be in oil. But there's not much time.

Communism already is a real menace in the Arab East, whose oil and geography are of vast importance to Western economies and defenses. The only sensible approach which seems to suggest itself to the West now, after years of fairly senseless blundering in the area, is to get behind the Arab economies and build them to a point where they will be strong enough to prevent a repetition of what happened in Baghdad.

Arab leaders seem ready for the West to make an intelligent move in this direction. This becomes more apparent each day from the reports of the important Arab League oil congress currently meeting in Cairo.

Unhappily watching Iraq, other Arab leaders seem to be revising their thinking. Perhaps it would be wise for Western policy makers to revise some of their own thinking.

A new wariness has crept into Arab leaders' attitudes with respect to their relations with the West. This was indicated at the oil congress. One instance of it was the cool reception Arab leaders gave a proposition from Saudi Arabia that Arabs should declare their unhampered right to modify oil concession agreements at will.

ARABS WARY

A year ago this notion would have stirred enthusiasm among Arabs. Now it is being cold-shouldered. The Arab leadership does not appear willing to worsen its business relations with the West at this critical moment. It is in danger enough already from the Communist threat.

Another indication is the reception being given to the proposal of Emile Bustani, the Lebanese industrialist, for an all-Arab effort to lift the area out of its morass of backwardness by common effort. Bustani advanced this proposal more than two years ago. Not much attention was paid to it, possibly because Bustani believes in cooperation with the West.

Now the Arab oil congress takes the proposal quite seriously. Bustani envisions an inter-Arab bank for development, using a certain percentage of the oil states' huge revenues to raise standards in both have and have-not nations.

Egypt's controlled press now welcomes the idea. On newspaper which speaks for Gamal Abdel Nasser hails the proposal as offering great opportunities for "bolstering relations between the oil producing states and the foreign states which import oil." This is an important statement.

WEST COULD HELP

It is possible for the West to get behind the plan with a show of enthusiasm. But before it tries to cooperate effectively with the Arabs, it may take account of the awkward and uncomfortable positions of the Arab leaders and show some patience.

Nasser and the Pan-Arab nationalists are out on a limb. They are committed to the notion that Western imperialism has been responsible for all Arab woes. It will be difficult for these leaders now to commit themselves openly to cooperation with Britain and France in a scheme to raise Arab standards.

★ ★ ★

But the United States could take the lead. Perhaps there are political obstacles, but for Western policy there is only one answer to Arab turmoil: an attempt to ease it by encouraging some measure of stability.

Last of Bomarcs Launched in Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force has launched the last of its present Bomarc interceptor missiles from the Cape on an Atlantic test flight.

A new version of the missile, capable of twice the range, is expected to be ready for testing late this spring.

The results of the test were not announced.

The launching came 10 hours after a Snark intercontinental guided missile logged a highly successful round trip flight covering about 2,000 miles.

Ex-Wife Seeks Freeze on Hayden's Funds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sterling Hayden's ex-wife is trying to take the wind out of the actor's sails — financially speaking. Hayden is on a cruise to China with the couple's four children in defiance of a court order.

Betty de Noon filed suit Tuesday seeking to tie up money she says various movie studios and magazines planned to advance her former husband for a television filmmaking cruise.

Wheat Futures Hit by Selling

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy selling of May wheat by one major broker knocked about two cents a bushel off the futures price within the first few minutes of dealings today on the Board of Trade.

Some estimates were that the offerings amounted to more than four million bushels, perhaps as much as five million, at the opening gong.

Reporting of the opening price from the pit fell behind dealings and it was several minutes before a break of as much as 2⅛ cents was posted on the board.

Rye also slipped sharply but other grains and soybeans shifted mainly in small fractions during the first few minutes.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to 1¾ cents a bushel lower, May $2.00⅝; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, May $1.26⅛; oats ½ to ⅞ lower, May 66; rye ½ to 1⅛ lower, May $1.37½; soybeans ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, May $2.27⅝.

Tot Slightly Hurt When Hit by Car

The driver, Mrs. Rosemary Hull, told Pontiac Police she had just started her car after pausing for a "stop" signal when Stacy Wayne Beedle, of 689 E. Pike St., started to cross.

The boy was knocked down by the car, but not seriously hurt, police said.

Expel Accusers, Bufalino Pleads

Asks Senate to Oust Committee Members Who 'Vilified' Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union official William Bufalino asked the Senate today to expel committee members who accused him of an alliance with racketeers.

★ ★ ★

Bufalino, president of Teamsters Local 985 in Detroit, made his appeal in a document he termed a petition for the redress of grievances he contends he suffered at the hands of the Senate Labor-Management Committee and its chief counsel, Robert F. Kennedy. He filed the petition in the office of Felton M. Johnston, secretary of the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The committee wound up its stormy investigation of Bufalino on April 15 with a charge by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) that Bufalino had given evasive answers to questions about testimony which linked Bufalino's name with Detroit mobsters and jukebox racketeers.

★ ★ ★

The committee had received testimony that Bufalino left a business partnership with a jukebox peddling Mafia mobster to become president of the local, and that under his leadership the local has been allied with racketeers.

★ ★ ★

Bufalino charged he was "berated, abused and vilified" because Kennedy claimed Bufalino did not "have the courage to avail himself of a constitutional right."

Kennedy had accused Bufalino of giving long, unresponsive answers to questions in an effort to avoid replying to derogatory testimony without resorting to the Fifth Amendment.

1. "A good portion of the questions propounded are answered by the interrogators themselves, since they predicate these questions on false major premises" and follow through to "illogical conclusions."

★ ★ ★

2. That McClellan failed to allow Bufalino adequate time to answer allegations against him.

3. That the committee failed to bring out evidence that would show Bufalino to be "a loyal American dedicated to his church, to his family, and to working men everywhere."

★ ★ ★

McClellan had charged that Bufalino never did answer allegations that he had negotiated "sweetheart" contracts with the operators of some Detroit car wash firms which cut wages of employes from $35 to $25 for a seven-day, 70-hour working week.

Market Crests After Four Days

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly early today at the crest of four straight days of historic highs.

Key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point.

The market was mixed from the start in active trading. The ticker tape was late for a 9-minute period.

Oils and aircrafts were lower. Steels, motors, chemicals, coppers and drugs were irregular. Airlines edged off.

The market had apparently reached a kind of "rest period," brokers said. On the past couple of sessions, while the popular averages of pivotal stocks rose there were more losers than gainers in the list as a whole.

American Telephone continued to back away from its recent advance on the 3-for-1 stock split. It dropped another 2 points or so. AT&T when-issued stock, based on the split, was off about a point. Glen Alden, surviving corporation in a merger with list industries, began trading on the big board. It opened at 13⅜ and improved slightly.

Gains of about a point were score by Detroit Steel, Lukens Steel and U.S. Gypsum. Off about a point were united Aircraft and Royal Dutch.

Richmond Chooses U. of M. Professor

RICHMOND (AP) — Dr. William Throw of the University of Michigan School of Education has been chosen to replace Walter P. Reuther as commencement speaker at Richmond High School June 11. Dr. Throw is a psychologist and author.

★ ★ ★

The United Auto Workers president withdrew as speaker after his selection was criticized by some residents of the community.

★ ★ ★

Reuther had been invited by School Supt. Alex Nelson to make the commencement address. Nelson said he wanted a speaker of national prominence.

★ ★ ★

In bowing out, Reuther said it would be unfair to graduates to inject controversy into the commencement but he criticized the attitude of what he called a small minority in the community.

Armenian Day Set Saturday in Pontiac

Saturday has been set aside in Pontiac as Armenian Memorial Day.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston proclaimed the event last night as a tribute to the contributions of naturalized Armenians in Pontiac and to the Armenian people's continuing battle against oppression.

More than 100 Pontiac residents of Armenian descent are expected to attend memorial services at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the Armenian Hall, 223 Ferry Ave. The public is invited.

Mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Souren Papakhian, pastor of St. Sarkis Armenian Apostolic Church in Detroit.

Rowston and City Commissioner Robert A. Landry will be honored guests during a short program sponsored by the two Pontiac chapters of the Armenian Revolutionary Federation.

Also speaking will be Detroit representatives of the federation and the St. Sarkis building committee.

NATIONAL OBSERVANCE

It was 44 years ago — in 1915 — that the Armenian massacres occurred at the hands of the Turkish nation wiping out half the population of the little country.

Many Armenians fled their country, emigrating to the United States, and many of Pontiac's older generation of Armenians first arrived in this country then.

The country grew strong again, so strong that in the early 1920s it was able successfully to defy Communist Russia, throwing off its Communist chains for one glorious month, until masses of Russian troups quelled the revolt.

One reason for the little country's troubles with its neighbors is that it has stood as a Christian bulwark for nearly 2,000 years.

Only a little more than 100 years after the death of Jesus Christ, Armenia was proclaimed a Christian nation, one of the first countries to take such a step.

Troy Man, Nephew Hurt in Truck Crash

TROY — A Troy man and his 16-year-old nephew were seriously injured yesterday about 1:30 p.m. when their milk truck collided with a gravel truck at the intersection of 16-Mile and Crooks Rds.

George G. Simpson, 27, and Robert Carmichael, 16, both of 90 Tacoma St., are reported in "satisfactory" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac this morning.

Arnold R. Harriman, 57, 302 N. Troy St., Royal Oak, was driving the gravel truck when the accident occurred. He was treated for bruises at St. Joseph Hospital and released yesterday.

Police said Harriman told them "the light was green and I don't recall putting on my brakes or slowing for the light." Officers were unable to question Simpson or the youth as yet. There were no witnesses reported at the scene.

Norman Thomas Talks to Newsmen

DETROIT (AP)—A former presidential candidate says the West is protecting Berlin only by threatening a nuclear war and hoping our bluff won't be called.

Norman Thomas, six-time Socialist party nominee, said last night that "it is nonsense to think we can go on forever this way in Berlin." He said the only hope is a phased withdrawal of troops by the East and West to create a demilitarized zone.

He declared that world leaders have acknowledged that it would be impossible to wage a ground war to maintain the Western position in Berlin, and asked:

"If it would be impossible to limit a war for Berlin, how could we fight a ground war in Russia's backyard?"

Thomas said that America's foreign policy originally was aimed at maintaining a balance of power, but all it can now hope for is a balance of terror.

State Justices Hold Confab

Aim to Aid Michigan's Circuit Court Procedure and Administration

SAGINAW (AP) — With three State Supreme Court justices present, another of the court's series of regional conferences was held here yesterday.

The conference marked the first meeting of Chief Justice John R. Dethmers and Circuit Judge Eugene S. Huff since the latter's rebuke and $200 fine by the high court last year.

The two shook hands and Justice Dethmers emphasized to newsmen he was not present to talk of last year's incident. However, he did say there had been good progress in the Saginaw County courts.

Huff was ordered off the Saginaw bench for a month and assigned to Wayne County because of a backlog of cases in his court. When he refused to accept the order, he was fined $200. Ultimately he concurred. Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Caro served in his absence by appointment of the high court.

Economic Giants Hurt, Says Romney

NEW YORK (AP)—Concentration of power in giant industries and labor unions is sapping the nation's economic strength, American Motors Corp. president George Romney said last night.

Romney called for a division of this economic power, which, he said, jeopardizes the national interest.

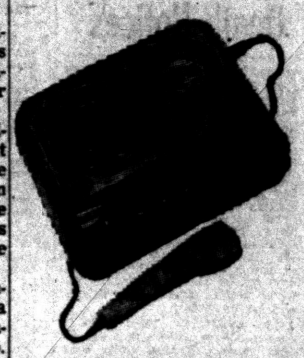

★ ★ ★

The motors executive cited the current threat of a major steel strike this summer. "The steel industry situation today is in direct conflict with the national principle of having power divided," Romney said.

Romney spoke to an audience of about 400 persons at the annual dinner of the New York Financial Writers Assn. Inc.

Fallout Cut Aim of Ike's N-Ban

Proposal Would Limit Test to 30 Miles Up or Underground

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's proposal to the Soviets that nuclear tests be banned below altitudes of 30 miles—unless underground—is aimed to eliminate danger from fallout.

A nuclear explosion spews out radioactive particles. Their rain to the earth is called fallout. The extent of the threat this offers to the world population is a point of some controversy among scientists. But all agree that in sufficient concentration there is a danger.

An underground explosion, if sealed deep in the earth, brings no fallout. The radioactive particles are confined.

As to high altitude shots, such simple factors as gravity and the rate of decay of fission products entire into the calculations of reduced danger.

Radioactive particles from a nuclear burst in the earth's atmosphere drop fairly fast toward the earth. This means that they reach the surface while they are still radioactivey hot.

But as altitude increases, particles released from a nuclear explosion descend more slowly since gravity is diminished as distance in space increases.

This means that most of the particles have longer opportunity to lose their radioactivity. By the time they reach earth, some scientists believe, contamination has become a mere harmless trace.

Lake Carriers Urged to Stick to the Rules

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of the Lake Carriers Assn. has urged foreign vessel operators to be especially careful "to observe Great Lakes navigation rules to the letter" during the shipping season now getting under way.

Vice Admiral Lyndon Spencer said the situation will be doubly dangerous this year because narrow Great Lakes connecting channels are partly blocked by heavy dredging equipment while improvements are being made in connection with the seaway.

Texas School Children Prize Letter From Rhee

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Fifth grade teacher Bill Bryant had his pupils write letters to world leaders, conveying friendship messages to all children.

He displayed Tuesday an answer to the class. It read:

"My dear American friends:

"Your world friendship project is most commendable, and I am pleased to send you a message of advice for all boys and girls everywhere.

"I am about to observe my 84th birthday. To you, I imagine, that is an almost unbelievable age. When I was as old as you, there were no automobiles, no airplanes, no radio, no televiion, no miracle drugs — and no atom and hydrogen bombs.

"Also, there was no peace, and some of the peoples of the world were trying to push other people around. That is something that has not changed; yet, it is the aspect of our life that most required change.

"The generations that precede you have provided a wonderful heritage of inventions to make life more interesting and comfortable. But to you, they have left the supreme task: that of creating a world order of freedom, of justice and of peace.

"Because you are citizens of the United States, which is the strongest and most democratic country in the world, your own role is especially important. If you don't understand what is going on, and if you are not alert to the intentions of the enemy that we call communism, there won't be much hope for the rest of us.

"My counsel is to stand firm for the values and the actions that have made your nation great. Do not compromise with evil. Do not think that you can live as free and happy men and women when others are enslaved and miserable.

"This is your challenge, and it is one that those who came before have never been able to meet. But I am confident that you will not fail, because you have greater opportunity for knowing, for finding out the truth, than any boys and girls of the past.

★ ★ ★

"My very best wishes to all of you."

★ ★ ★

Swimming Pool 'for Free,' Says Former Mate

Actress Rosemary Lane would like to know, too, she said Tuesday in a suit seeking $1,160 in back alimony from her former husband, makeup man George (Bud) Westmore.

She contends she allowed Westmore to lower alimony payments from $100 to $70 weekly after he claimed to be short of cash. Then she learned Westmore was building a new swimming pool.

Westmore replied, through his attorney, that he was doing his best — considering he has remarried, has two children and a third on the way.

Ties Wage Hikes to Productivity

Nixon Economic Group Rejects Idea Increases Are Inflationary

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Cabinet committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon has charted an anti-inflation program in which rising wages would be linked with increased economic production.

★ ★ ★

In its first major decision since it organized a month ago, President Eisenhower's Committee on Price Stability has decided to launch a campaign directed at spurring economic growth.

Reporting this unanimous decision, Executive Director Allen Wallis emphasized in an interview that the Nixon group has rejected the theory that the way to curb inflation is to prevent all wage increases.

"There has been too much of the atmosphere that the way to keep prices stable is merely to keep wages down," Wallis said.

"Wage increases have given us our present high standard of living and they are not necessarily inflationary. Wages should continue to go up as productivity goes up."

★ ★ ★

Wallis, a Chicago economist, said the committee believes that, in addition to combatting inflation, there are compelling international reasons to encourage economic growth at home.

Fire, Blast Level Home Near Charlotte

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A $15,000 fire and explosion partially leveled a 2½-story wooden farm home about five miles southeast of here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Firefighters from Charlotte, Eaton Rapids and Olivet combined to quell the blaze which built up enough hot air pressure to blast out all the windows in the structure shortly after it broke out.

Charlotte Fire Chief Calvin Fullerton, who estimated the damages, said the fire apparently was caused by faulty wiring in a basement switchboard.

Panama Ousts Margot Fonteyn

Fly Her to Miami Today as Search for Husband Continues

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's government shipped British ballerina Margot Fonteyn out of the country by plane today and pressed a search for her Panamanian husband, wanted on revolutionary charges.

The famed dancer took off for Miami before dawn aboard Panagra's Interamericano flight. She was released from jail Tuesday night after being held for 24 hours and questioned for three hours about the activities of her husband Roberto Arias former ambassador to Britain.

President Ernesto de la Guardia's government said Dame Margot's presence in Panama is "inconvenient in the present circumstances." She was ordered out on the first plane after her release from jail.

Arias was a fugitive. The National Guard was believed hunting him around Santa Clara, 75 miles west of the capital, where officials claimed he brought a 10-man armed band ashore Sunday night.

The government announced that it had found the boy of a Cuban in an area near Santa Clara where the National Guard swapped shots with part of the band Monday. The government has charged that opponents of De la Guardia have been forming a hired force in Cuba to invade Panama.

The government ordered the arrest of Arias over the weekend, accusing him of plotting an attack on a National Guard garrison at Chorrera, 20 miles west of the capital. At the time he and his wife were cruising in the Gulf of Panama on their 42-foot yacht Nola.

6 Naval Grads Choose Army at Graduation

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Naval Academy will commission 800 officers at graduation ceremonies this June — six of them as second lieutenants in the Army.

★ ★ ★

A new law permits a certain number of graduates of each service academy to pick any branch of service. Preference in picking Army careers was given midshipmen who served in the Army or are the sons of Army men.

Two of the Army-bound middies are the sons of Army colonels, but one is the son of an admiral.

★ ★ ★

As far as anyone knows, no West Point graduates are choosing Navy careers under the new law, but a few have picked the Marines. One Air Force senior also wants to be a Leatherneck.

Cite Lunch Workers

LANSING (AP)—More than 13 centuries of combined service in the Michigan school lunch program wi be recognized at a State Department of Public Instruction meeting here Saturday. Citations will go to 52 persons with 20 to 30 years in the program.

Retired Ward Chairman to Undergo Surgery Soon

CHICAGO (AP) — Sewell L. Avery, 85, retired board chairman of Montgomery Ward & Co., will undergo surgery soon for an intestinal obstruction.

In a statement Tuesday night, the hospital said: "doctors confirmed a minimal intestinal obstruction. Examinations indicate that he can withstand surgery and surgery is contemplated."

Doctors Will Leave an Historic Memento

80 Seen as Top Average

Longevity Near Peak

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — America's senior citizens of the future will be living it up until their dying day but that few would live past 80.

He told a Michigan State University meeting that man's quest for longevity has nearly reached its peak. He said the average age of mortality — now about 74 — will level off at about 80.

But Smith said medical advances will allow most oldsters to remain active to the end.

Bolshoi Ballet Is O.K. but Night Club's Better

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'm still a slob, because the Bolshoi Ballet, which is kind of a Russian Cha-Cha-Cha, hasn't driven me out of my mind yet.

WILSON

Artistically, I was probably already out of my head, because I got more enjoyment watching the new Billy Daniels and Betty Kean-Lou Parker show. I've got to be daffy to say that; call the keeper!

"I think it was very, very nice of that American audience to stand up and cheer for the Russians for 15 minutes," said my Beautiful Wife — who had the gall to disagree with me.

★ ★ ★

"Yeah, but was it really that good?" I debated.

"Well, but look at the way they received Van Cliburn and Jan Peerce. Now we're returning their kindness," the B.W. argued.

I had to admit that some of our leading American capitalists turned out to greet some of the leading Russian Communists. Marilyn Monroe canceled out — she had an earache. (Funny, I never noticed her ears.)

Greta Garbo begged the photographers, "Please, please, no pictures!" Marlene came with Noel, and Moss was with Kitty, and I didn't see who Tennessee was with; probably Kentucky or Alabama. Cole and Adlai were both supposed to come but after I gave the nice captain a fin for a table in a local club, I was so fluttery I couldn't keep my eye on the hall.

Mitzi Gaynor had a party of about 14 and I kept thinking, "I'd like to see her do that Moscow Mambo."

Ed Sullivan was claiming he'd like to book it for TV providing he could get Khrushchev to sit in the audience.

BETTY

Oh, as the Sinatra crowd would say, it was a gas. It's only because I'm a moron that I got the first laugh all evening when Betty Kean, the comedienne, strolled out like a clothes horse at the ballet, swathed in breath-of-spring mink, and smoking a long cigar.

Billy Daniels sang with all the old, old feeling, too, and said, probably sincerely, that he had no place else to go ("I promised the Commissioner I'd go right home after work"). Betty and Lou finished up with Betty saying if anybody in the audience had a good recipe for gefulte fish, to leave it with Ronnie, the headwaiter.

"Gefulte fish! What you want it for?" asked her husband, Lou.

"It's not for me. Liz Taylor asked for it!" Betty said.

And then that woman reader came over and told the B.W. that she does just like the B.W.: keeps her shoes off and her contact lenses in, and has a ball. After that, I even was raving "Oh Boy" for the Bolshoi.

EARL'S PEARLS: A reader saw this ad: "We Paint Signs —All Kigns."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Nowadays when a mother hangs a star in her window, it means she has a son playing a sheriff on TV... That's earl, brother.

TV News and Reviews

Television Heyday Over for Chic Barefoot Boys

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Arthur Godfrey has been beset by a fair muster of woes in recent years—bad publicity, mopish ratings, physical ordeal.

This season his CBS-TV shows have failed to create much stir except for a couple of extended chat sessions with Jackie Gleason and Sam Levenson. Last night in a bid to rejuice a melancholy season, Godfrey brought back Levenson in a taped interview, but sad to say, the show was sapless.

Yesterday on his CBS-TV morning show, Godfrey talked about his coming chest surgery and advised viewers: ". . . if you keep your fingers crossed, I think I'll be back with you again one day."

I would like to think Godfrey is right in this hope because TV needs more of his barefoot boy with chic quality. But I think it's time to face up to doleful fact: The heyday of the Godfrey-type performer has passed on television.

The character of TV has changed in recent seasons. Once it specialized in creating personalities, but the bulk of its current effort is devoted toward the manufacture of group formula shows.

The reason is this: During a formative period, the individual helps carve and chart paths. There is room in a seedling milieu for experimentation, for a low pressure approach, for personality.

But television has moved out of its infant period and into the settled stage. As a result, it has little inclination to create and instead has become an organization man medium—in the same fashion that the movies did after their early and heady days.

The Godfrey-type of performer will not disappear from TV in the immediate future, but I suspect that he and his pioneering fellows are the last of their bunch. A business created by committee finds it difficult to tolerate the assertive individual.

Short Shots: Visually, last night's NBC-TV Jimmie Rodgers show was a couple of cuts above his opening show, but Rodgers sure fingers his guitar peculiarly. All he moves along the frets is his thumb—the other fingers are never called into use at all. It looks suspiciously as if he is faking.

★ ★ ★

Betty Sinclair turned in a nice job as a lady bank robber on ABC-TV's Naked City last night. The show was pretty solid too . . . I've seen a couple of NBC-TV's David Niven shows now and it strikes me as a standard anthology series, sliced from the same tired salami as TV's other half-hour dramas.

Dalai Lama Again Denounces Red Rule

MUSSOORIE, India (AP)—The Dalai Lama today said he stands by his statement denouncing Chinese Communist rule in Tibet.

Tibet's fugitive religious and political leader denied Red China's charge that he was not responsible for the statement issued at Tezpur, India, Saturday.

The Dalai Lama's denial of the Communist charge coincided with a speech in Peiping by the usurper of his throne, the Communist-installed Panchen Lama, who defended the Chinese Communists and parroted the Red line that his holy colleague was a captive of "reactionaries."

Cypress Coffin, Shift in Contents Pose a Puzzler

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—Last fall when Henry Kalabany of Norwalk visited Colonial Cemetery he noticed a depression in his plot. He and his sons dug and found a coffin with a body.

They quickly covered the coffin and told authorities. An exhumation order was needed to open the coffin, it turned out, and this was obtained last week from Superior Court.

Kalabany said it wasn't the body he found last fall. "I saw a body with a freshly pressed suit, white shirt and red face," he said.

Authorities, and Kalabany, are still at a loss to explain the body. Cypress caskets haven't been used here for more than 40 years.

Bill Widens Camp Use

LANSING (AP)—The Senate has passed and referred to the House a bill to make persons convicted of high misdemeanors, as well as felonies, eligible for admittance to state probation recovery camps.

Hospital Lot Ready Sooner

Parking Area Expected to Be Finished June 1 Instead of July 1

Target date for completion of the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot has been moved up a month.

The city won approval last week from the Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing to sell $175,000 in revenue bonds to finance land purchase and construction.

Bids from bond buyers are being sought by May 12, Willman said, when the City Commission is scheduled to consider the sale.

In the meantime, Willman said, city crews are finishing the grading of the 10-lot parking lot south of the hospital between Johnson and Seminole avenue.

The few remaining properties which the city purchased in the area have been resold, Willman said, and are in the process of being removed.

Nothing Suspicious, Just a Woman's Way

Tooth Transplants Successfully Done

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An impacted tooth is an extra and there's no reason a dentist can't transplant one somewhere else in your mouth if he has the proper equipment, says an Alameda, Calif., oral surgeon.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Sanford Plainfield told the provides a three-way benefit:
