Unarmed A-Bomb Hits Dixie City

Heading for Altar

FRANK SINATRA

LAUREN BACALL

Lauren Bacall to Wed Sinatra; His Third Wife

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Actress Lauren Bacall has admitted that she will become the third wife of Frank Sinatra.

The blonde 34-year-old widow of Humphrey Bogart hardly had a chance to keep her marriage plans secret, for several people overheard Sinatra propose to her at a restaurant.

She admitted yesterday that Sinatra, who has been seeing her since the death of Bogart, had asked to marry her and that "of course" she accepted.

Miss Bacall was known to have been extremely devoted to her late husband and Sinatra was a good friend of Bogart's.

Miss Bacall will join Sinatra, who is now in Florida, on March 25 in Chicago for the Robinson-Basilio fight. They leave the next day for New York and then to Palm Springs, Calif., on the 27th.

The marriage will be the third for Sinatra whose marriage to Ava Gardner was one of the most torrid romances to hit Hollywood in years. Miss Gardner recently obtained a Mexican divorce.

Sinatra's first wife, Nancy, bore him three children to whom he is very close.

Miss Bacall had two children by Bogart, Stephan, 7, and Leslie, 4. The famed movie tough guy died January 14, 1957 of cancer.

Tear Gas, Guns End Prison Riot

Complaints of Cruelty Spur Demonstration by Tennessee Convicts

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) — Rioting prisoners at Brushy Mountain State Prison—their disturbances ended by gunfire and tear gas—told newsmen they were ready to return to work.

A spokesman for the convicts, peering through the shattered glass of a window in his riot - wrecked cell block, said the men were satisfied with the agreement made with Keith Hampton, commissioner of corrections.

Kenneth Ray Lawson, the rioters' spokesman, said "They gave us everything we asked for except two things—they wouldn't give us a five-day work week in the mines and they wouldn't agree to stop using the strap."

The men began demonstrating Monday night. Among other things they complained of what they called cruelty of guards and unequal treatment of prisoners.

This morning the men began an orderly procession from their cell blocks to the prison mess hall. "It looks like the trouble is over," Hampton said.

After the men had returned to their cells, newsmen in the prison yard called for a convict spokesman.

Lawson came to a window and said the men had decided to return to work.

One prisoner, Fred Roberts of Knoxville, was wounded in the cheek by a guard's shotgun during a mass attempt last night to break out of the prison, isolated in the rugged Cumberland Mountains about 50 miles west of Knoxville.

As he was carried out to a hospital at nearby Oak Ridge—where his condition later was reported not serious — the other prisoners became silent. They returned to their cell wing.

Rossellini Suit Delayed

ROME (INS)—The annulment suit brought by Roberto Rossellini against his wife Ingrid Bergman was postponed today until May 7 after a brief court hearing. The public prosecutor's demand for a longer adjournment was rejected.

Administration Holding Back on Any Tax Cut

Secretary of Treasury Gives Statement After Meeting With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson said today the administration will make no decision on any antirecession tax cut until "the future course of the economy has been clarified."

Anderson read newsmen a prepared statement dealing with the business slump after he and other government economic advisers concluded a conference with President Eisenhower.

Anderson said his statement had been approved by Eisenhower.

"No decision regarding taxes has been made," Anderson said.

"Whatever decision regarding taxes is taken will be reached only when the impact of current developments on the future course of the economy has been clarified and after consultation with congressional leaders."

Replying to a question, Anderson said he would expect to confer with the leaders of both major parties.

Meanwhile, the Defense Department informed Congress it is stepping up construction spending to a rate of approximately two billion dollars for the next five months as a boost for the economy.

Undersecretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles said this was "admittedly a very much higher rate" than planned "and will tax the capabilities of the responsible agencies."

Quarles testified before the House Armed Services Committee on a Democratic - sponsored resolution calling for a speedup in defense spending as a check on the business slump.

Anderson declined to speculate as to when the administration may reach a decision regarding taxes.

Eisenhower met with his economic advisers amid signs the administration is hesitating between tax cuts and spending as a means of bolstering the economy.

A-Bomb Leaves Its Mark in South Carolina

WHERE BOMB HIT — This hole 50 feet wide and 20 feet deep was made after an Air Force nuclear weapon from a B-47 fell accidentally at Florence, S. C. The home of Walter Gregg was damaged, and he and several members of his family were injured.

Blast Damages Mile-Wide Area and Injures Six

SAC Ship Accidentally Drops Nuclear Weapon on Florence, S.C.

FLORENCE, S. C. (INS) —The first atomic bomb dropped on an American city — its devastating nuclear effect harnessed by standard safety precautions —left property damage over a mile-wide area today and six persons slightly injured.

There was no atomic explosion, and Air Force tests showed no radioactive contamination near Florence, where an unarmed atomic bomb fell Tuesday.

The Air Force kept a 300-yard area cordoned off today, however, to complete its investigation.

A B47 of the Strategic Air Command — part of America's nuclear-armed instant - retaliation force — accidentally dropped the A-bomb late Tuesday, five miles east of Florence.

Explosion of TNT, which is part of the bomb's trigger, virtually demolished one six-room frame house, and damaged five other buildings, including a church.

Walter Gregg, his wife, their three children and a child visiting them received slight injuries from flying debris. The blast, caused by what the Air Force has described as a part of "conventional explosives" in an A-bomb, was heard over a wide area, and shattered windows in homes as far as a mile away from the Gregg home.

The explosion was accompanied by a dense, black mushroom cloud which shot up hundreds of feet in the air, followed by a smaller puff of black smoke. Force of the blast spun one auto around, tore holes in others, and bored a crater 30-feet wide and 25-feet deep.

HEARD MILES AWAY

A sheriff's deputy cruising seven miles away heard the explosion and saw the mushroom cloud. Gregg, who was in a workshop in the rear of his home, said he thought at first that a plane had exploded.

"There was this big explosion,

Fighting Centers Around Caltex Oilfields

Indonesian Forces Hit Rebels

PAKANBARU (AP) — Central Sumatra government paratroopers landed in force today and locked in combat with rebel forces in this Central Sumatra heartland where the U.S. Caltex Oil Co. has major installations.

The Central Indonesian Government launched its biggest land, air and sea offensive to wipe out the rebel movement which demands that an out-and-out anti-Communist government be set up in Jakarta.

Jakarta troops also landed at Dumai, on Sumatra's east coast, the one remaining Caltex oil port.

An Indonesian navy corvette took up a position off Padang, rebel port on the west coast, and gave all ships in the harbor until 10 a.m. Thursday to leave or face destruction.

The Jakarta forces at Dumai fought some skirmishes with rebel defenders. They apparently sought to drive inland to the Duri oil field, where a Caltex pipeline to Dumai starts.

AIRFIELD CLEARED

The paratroopers landed on Pakanbaru's airfield and cleared it of obstructions in preparation for transport landings.

Rebel Interior Minister Djambeak said over Padang radio that rebel forces had inflicted heavy casualties on the invaders. He said the fighting was still going on.

Djambek said government planes bombed and strafed the airfield before the paratroop landings. He called the attack a "brutal deed, the same as those committeed by Fascists and Communists."

He appealed to the people to fight the invaders.

"There is no other alternative but the defense of our soil," he said. "Kill them if you meet them."

The rebels had vowed they would fight for the oil fields.

In London the Indonesian Embassy denied today the Jakarta government is "availing itself of assistance from the Soviet Union" to crush the rebel regime in Central Sumatra.

An Indonesian government official said in Singapore Sunday Jakarta expects to receive at least one squadron of Soviet-built MIG jets and another of long-range bombers through Egypt.

No Caltex evacuation was expected. Some wives and children of U.S. workers left several days ago after Caltex suspended operations. Remaining workers and their families had been ordered to concentrate near here, the headquarters of Caltex operations.

The feeling here was tense but

Youth, Juvenile Arrested in 150 City Tire Slashings

A 17-year-old youth and a juvenile were arrested yesterday for slashing an estimated 150 automobile tires in Pontiac.

Police Juvenile Officer James Lafnear charged Arthur O. Marotz, of 312 N. Saginaw St., with malicious destruction of property.

The youth pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to 90 days in jail by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Lafnear said the youth's only excuse for the vandalism Monday night was, "I was sore at my father." Asked if he had slashed tires on his father's car, he answered, "No, but I was going to get around to it."

The juvenile was also implicated by police in a burglary Monday of a house at 64 Clarence St. He and another juvenile have admitted the breaking, Lafnear said.

Marotz also is awaiting trial in municipal court on a charge of assaulting his brother. He was free on personal bond at the time of the tire slashings.

Some Sun to Shine Despite Predictions

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts considerable cloudiness through tomorrow—but with some sunshine in the Pontiac area. There will be little change in temperature.

The low tonight will be 26-30 degrees and the high tomorrow 36-40.

The outlook for Friday is mostly cloudy with a chance of rain.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's five-day forecast predicts temperatures will average about the normal high of 43 and normal low of 27, with no important changes expected.

Occasional rain or snow is expected about Saturday and possible showers Monday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 28. At 2 p.m. the mercury had reached 39.

Clock Thief Strikes City Parking Lots

A thief who may be thinking of going into the parking lot business on a big scale is being sought today by Pontiac police.

The burglar hit three parking lot offices belonging to the Pontiac Parking Co. and made off with the identical item at each place—a time clock.

The clocks are used to punch in and out the time cars are parked. They are valued at $200 each.

Burglarized were lots at 163 N. Perry St., 55 N. Perry and 58 N. Perry.

"With those clocks clunking every minute it's going to be pretty noisy wherever he hides them," one police officer said. "He may wind up as jumpy as the clocks."

3rd Launching in 6 Days Postponed

Vanguard Still Earthbound

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS)—Another attempt to launch the Vanguard earth satellite rocket was called off today after "count-down" procedures twice came within minutes of the firing point.

The postponement of the launching was the third in six days.

A missile crew that had worked through most of the night was within four minutes and 12 seconds of firing the temperamental Vanguard at 7:50 a.m. EST today. Then, the trouble started.

At noon, this statement was issued: "Technical difficulties slowed the test to a point, where the allowable time liquid oxygen could safely remain in the Vanguard test vehicle was exceeded, necessitating a postponement. The test will be rescheduled in the near future."

The 6.4 inch sphere is only a test model for the 20-inch, basketball-size satellites that the Navy expects to begin sending up next month to aid the International Geophysical Year studies.

Defense, Roads, Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are business acceleration moves listed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell today as already planned or undertaken by the Eisenhower administration:

1. DEFENSE—Orders during the first six months of 1958 will total 5½ billion dollars worth more than in the last six months of 1957. Total 1958 allocations will be 23½ billion to be spent largely in industries where employment has sagged the past year.

2. HIGHWAYS—Expenditures were 750 million dollars in 1957 and will be 1¾ billion in 1958, rising to 2½ billion in 1959. The administration will ask Congress in the next few days to suspend certain expenditure limitations to spend another 2½ billion during the next three years.

3. PUBLIC WORKS—Projects to be pushed to spend an additional 200 million dollars earlier than planned. Public works spending will total two billion dollars in the fiscal year beginning July 1, and will include 186 million dollars in water resource projects Congress is being asked to finance.

Company Lawyer Tells Rackets Probers:

Mob Menaced Kohler Executives

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Auto Workers get a chance today to answer sworn charges that a spitting, cursing mob of union members moved in on Kohler Co. officials.

"I was in fear of my life" at one point, Gerard Desmond, a company staff lawyer, told the special Senate Rackets Committee yesterday.

Desmond testified that UAW members "by and large" formed a crowd which all but engulfed a station wagon in which he and other Kohler officials rode July 5, 1954.

He said he feared mob violence when people in the crowd tried to reach into the car to get at Desmond Biever, the Kohler superintendent.

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee's chief counsel, said he had written of plans to call UAW President Walter Reuther for questioning this week. He said he now expects the hearings may last another two or three weeks, with Reuther to be heard sometime along the way.

The committee bumped into its own rules in trying to question John Gunaca, a Detroit UAW member and bartender, about charges that he participated in the beating of a Sheboygan Falls, Wis. nonstriking father and son.

The father, William Bersch Sr., died of a heart ailment 16 months after the July 4, 1954, beating.

The son, William Bersch Jr., testified that "the doctors say" the beating had some causal connection with his father's death. He pointed to Gunaca and said "this one here" was one of those involved. Gunaca has denied this, but was not questioned directly about it.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) upheld an objection by Gunaca's lawyer on the ground that Gunaca is under indictment in Wisconsin on felony charges in the case.

The committee has held uniformly that witnesses may not be questioned against their wishes about matters on which they are awaiting trial.

Desmond, telling about the July 4 incident, said his car was surrounded twice by a crowd whose members spat upon it, and shouted curses while kicking and pounding it. He said this was when he sought to supervise efforts to unload a boatload of clay consigned to the bathroom fixtures firm.

West to Push Summit Talks

Foreign Ministers Ask Adequate Preparations at SEATO Parley

MANILA (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers agreed today to continue to push for an East-West summit meeting but again underscored the need for adequate preparations beforehand.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation at the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization conference said Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau were in general agreement about what preparatory steps are necessary.

The U.S. spokesman said that President Eisenhower is expected to answer Soviet Premier Bulganin's latest summit conference letter within 10 days.

Dulles, Lloyd and Pineau were reported to have discussed a French proposal for an anti-Communist defense alliance of Mediterranean countries. The nations mentioned as possible members are Britain, France, Spain, Italy, Tunisia, Morocco, Libya and the United States.

The spokesman described this as an interesting proposal.

Before the Big Three foreign ministers met, Dulles declared that the United States would welcome a summit meeting that would not be a "mere spectacle" and that offered prospects of progress toward peace.

British Explode Over A-Bomb Dropped in U.S.

LONDON (AP) — The accidental dropping of an unarmed atomic bomb on a house in Florence, S.C., stirred up black headlines today in Britain, where American planes carry nuclear bombs on patrol flights.

Opposition Laborite members likely will bring up the accident in the House of Commons in their campaign for a cessation of H-bomb-carrying flights by American planes based in Britain.

The bomb was dropped from a B47 jet bomber, the same plane the U.S. Air Force uses here.

Prime Minister Macmillan told Laborite critics recently that if a U.S. Air Force plane carrying an H-bomb crashed in Britain, there would be no danger of an atomic explosion. Press accounts of the accident in South Carolina stressed there was no nuclear explosion.

While agreeing with the government that American planes are needed here as part of the West's nuclear deterrent against Communist aggression, Labor party leaders have demanded that the planes make their patrol flights with dummy bombs—at least until after an East - West summit conference.

Girl, 11, Holding Own After Heart Surgery

CLEVELAND (INS) — Eleven-year-old Susan Kurtz of Onsted, Mich., was reported "holding her own" today after undergoing delicate open heart surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in Cleveland.

Doctors who performed the operation yesterday said it will be 48 hours before the critical period passes and they can say whether the surgery was successful.

The odds for success are only one in five. Without the operation, it was estimated the youngster would have had only six months to live.

The operation was made possible by 24 Onsted area residents who drove to Cleveland so they could volunteer blood for Susan during and after surgery.

Susan lived during the operation with the aid of a machine which functioned as her heart and lungs.

Surgeons closed a hole in the heart partition, shut off an artery that had been transplanted in a previous operation and enlarged the main heart-lung artery.

Jet Bomber to Serve as Missile Launcher

WICHITA, Kan. (INS)—B52G jet bombers scheduled to start coming off the assembly line this summer will serve as launching platforms for supersonic guided missiles besides carrying nuclear bomb loads.

This was disclosed last night by the Boeing Aircraft Corp. in Wichita.

N. D. Showalter, vice president and general manager of Boeing-Wichita, declared the B52G will be the most powerful strategic weapon in the world.

The aircraft executive said the bomber will be able to launch the GAM77, the guided airborne missile known as "Hound Dog." He added:

"The B52G, with its missile-launching capability, is a heavy bomber which will fly farther, strike harder and defend itself better than any other aircraft now flying."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Do barometers prove good weather forecasters?

A barometer alone is not a complete weather forecaster. Most people assume that the movements of a barometer are considerable but the reverse is true. The movement of the arrow of a barometer is very slight.

There are times when the barometer is an unfailing instrument for warning of very bad weather or good weather. When it is around 31, you can be certain that good weather is yours for a day or more.

If it is very low, likewise, at 29 or below, look for wind and rain. But most of the time the barometer will stay between these marks and the arrow will move only slightly. In these times you must know the trend, have weather reports from other localities and take other factors into consideration, in forecasting the weather.

Snow, Rain Pelt West, Southwest Portions of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's major wet belt was confined to western sections of the country today, with southwestern areas getting both snow and rain.

Heavy snow showers hit the higher elevations of New Mexico as snow fell throughout the state. Biggest amount was a 3-inch blanket in the southern part of the state.

Northern Arizona also got snow, while at El Paso, Tex., the snow measured 6½ inches.

In the Eastern half of the country, snow flurries continued in the lower Great Lakes region and the northern section of the upper Great Lakes. Only other wet spot was in southern Florida, which reported light rain.

With Good Candidate, Says Truman

Dems Will 'Go to Town'

WICHITA, Kas. (INS) —Former President Harry Truman asserted tonight that the Democrats would nominate an outstanding candidate for president in 1960 but he refused to predict who it will be.

In Wichita to address a brotherhood dinner of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Truman, asked by newsmen to predict the next Democratic standard bearer, said:

"I'm no prophet but we'll have a good one and we'll go to town."

In other off-the-cuff comments, the former president, who described himself as a "retired Missouri farmer," tossed brickbats at the administration.

Of the present recession, he said: "No one's to blame but those in office."

On this country's satellite and Sputnik problems, Truman noted that he had started the U.S. missile program, and asserted, "If they (the present administration) had followed out the plan, they wouldn't have any problem."

Truman denounced Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson as having succeeded in placing farmers on relief rolls.

On the question of foreign aid, however, Truman indicated at least partial agreement with President Eisenhower. He said the foreign aid program originally was designed to save the free nations, and he added:

"They need to be saved just as much today as then."

Thief Takes Off on Wrong Foot in Pulling Job

Bloomfield Hills Police have found four suitcases in a vacant lot along Woodward Avenue just south of Cranbrook Road.

They were filled with new shoes.

None of the merchandise was missing. Police are looking for a slightly dismayed two-legged thief.

All of the shoes were for the right foot.

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Excess Sausage Fat

The Kentucky Sausage Co. of Detroit, pleaded guilty in Pontiac Municipal Court today to selling pork sausage which contained fat in excess of the legal limit.

Joseph M. Silverman, appearing for the company, was fined $15 and $10 costs or five days in jail by Judge Cecil B. McCallum. He paid the fine.

'No Pressure,' Mack Claims

But Former Member of FCC Admits Friends 'Bothered Him'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack said today nobody put any pressure on him in a contested Miami television channel case—"they bothered me."

Mack, telling reporters he felt not too good, returned for questioning before a House subcommittee investigating alleged pressures and influences on the Federal Communications Commission.

Mack broke off his previous testimony before the committee almost two weeks ago and resigned from the FCC 10 days ago.

Mack testified several people contacted him concerning the contest over TV Channel 10 in Miami.

"Nobody put any pressure on me," he said. "They talked to me, and I don't react to pressure."

Then Mack said, "Let me put it this way—they bothered me."

Asked what he meant by "bother," Mack said he had lived in Florida all his life, he had known some of the people involved in the Channel 10 case for years and they contacted him.

When he used the term, "bothered," Mack said—"It's pretty hard to slam the door on a friend." He told the questioner, Rep. Harris (D-Ak), committee chairman, he thought Harris had had the same experience in legislation. Several committee members commended Mack for what they said was, in their opinion, his attempt to answer all questions.

City Opposes Use of Funds

Fighting Plan to Take Highway Monies to Pay State Troopers

Pontiac went on record last night opposing a legislative attempt to raid state highway funds to defray expenses of the State Police highway patrol.

The City Commission acted on a resolution passed by the Board of Supervisors legislative committee against a proposed Senate bill.

"Gas and weight tax monies rightfully belong to highway construction, I believe," said City Manager Walter K. Willman. "We need more roads and should resist any attempt to reduce highway funds."

The Senate bill, designed as an economy move according to its backers, would switch up to $6 million in state trunkline funds this year to pay 80 per cent of the highway patrol's salary and operational costs.

The Commission authorized letters to Sen. Lodge (R-Drayton Plains) and Rep. Hudson (D-Pontiac), urging their opposition to the bill.

Says He Killed Wife, 87, for 'Stepping Out'

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—An 87-year-old woman was slain yesterday and police said her 75-year-old husband told them he killed her because he was "jealous and she was stepping out on me."

George J. Ostrom was charged with murdering his wife Ella by clubbing and choking her.

"She done it to me three or four times before," police quoted the husband. "Hard to believe that of an old lady 87 years old, huh?"

Police said Ostrom told them he attacked his wife with a heavy piece of timber as she sat at a dressing table "fixing herself up."

Michigan Low on Missile Work

State Now Ranks 9th; Could Increase Projects Here, Says Governor

LANSING (AP)—Michigan ranks a poor ninth among states receiving contracts for defense missiles, Gov. Williams reported.

The Governor made his report after consulting with Col. E. D. Mohlere, of the Detroit Ordnance Depot of the U. S. Army, and other experts in the field on possibilities of stepping up missile work in the state.

Michigan's share of the total missile program is in the neighborhood of 300 million dollars but could be much greater if industry were to vigorously go after such contracts, the Governor said.

Williams suggested that the state concentrate on missile development, such as through research work at the University of Michigan, as well as missile production.

At present, the Governor said, Michigan industries have only three prime contracts and three principal subcontracts although there are numerous other smaller subcontracts for part.

These six major contracts compare with California with 63 such contracts, New York with 32 and Maryland and Massachusetts with 17 each, the Governor said. New Mexico, New Jersey, Texas and Pennsylvania also are ahead of Michigan in the total number of missile contracts, he said.

Inactive A-Bomb Falls in Carolina

and the whole side of the house was blown all over the yard," Gregg said. Timbers in the workshop gave way and struck him in the chest.

His wife, the only person in the house at the time, was sewing. "The next thing I knew," she said, "I was crawling out from under boards and plaster."

It was several hours before the Air Force announced that one of its planes had dropped a nuclear weapon. The SAC emphasized that the A-bomb was "unarmed," and there was no danger of an atomic explosion. A thorough check of the area with radioactive detection devices disclosed no danger of contamination.

The Air Force had said that contamination over a small area was possible in such an accident, but that its effects could be overcome by washing the area.

SECOND INCIDENT

The bomb dropped near Florence was the second nuclear device dropped from a plane in little more than a month. Early in February, a B47 jettisoned a nuclear weapon in the Atlantic off the Georgia coast to eliminate the danger of an explosion when the bomber was damaged in a collision with another aircraft.

This bomb, too, was unarmed, or incapable of causing a nuclear explosion. The Air Force has explained in the past that an atomic explosion will not occur unless the bomb is triggered by the aircraft crew.

Most people in the town of Florence did not hear the explosion. The newspaper office was flooded with telephone calls from amazed citizens who had seen the mushroom cloud, however.

The Air Force did not say whether nuclear parts of the bomb were recovered, but teams of airmen rushed to the scene with geiger counters and a truck, under heavy guard, which carried a large lead container.

The Day in Birmingham

Pair Sues for $60,000 in Golf Course Accident

BIRMINGHAM — A Birmingham couple is suing that city for $60,000 because of injuries the woman suffered when she stepped on what she called an "improperly placed" manhole cover while playing golf at Springdale Park last summer.

Mrs. Helen B. Cecil, 58, of 1145 Pilgrim St., suffered "severe and permanent" head, spine, back, arm, and leg injuries when she stepped on the 80-pound cover and was pinned in the hole when it fell on her leg, the suit says.

It was filed Tuesday in Oakland County Circuit Court. Along with the $40,000 Mrs. Cecil is seeking, her husband, Raymond E., 58, a real estate broker, asks an additional $20,000.

The suit says the city failed to operate the course "in a reasonably safe and proper condition," and that no sign warned golfers of the water sprinkling system cover.

Cecil said his wife continues to undergo medical treatment for back injuries and that the family doctor said she cannot engage in any strenuous athletics again.

On the recommendation of Commissioner Carl Ingraham, the Birmingham City Commission has gone on record as backing the Oakland County Board of Supervisors in its protest against diverting state highway funds toward State Police salaries.

Ingraham, also a member of the board, said it is strongly opposed to the proposed bill which would divert millions of dollars from highway funds to State Police.

"We feel the state highway program needs every cent it can get to bring our main roads up to a condition needed to serve the great demands on them," Ingraham said.

Approval has been given for the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars to sell the veteran-made poppies on Birmingham streets May 22. Proceeds from the sale are used to aid hospitalized veterans and their families.

Mrs. Herbert Masters of 888 Ann St., Birmingham, will entertain members of the Franklin Cemetery Association at a potluck luncheon at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Donald Brownlee will show movies taken at outdoor meetings of the group.

Supplies of 1958 YMCA camp brochures now are available at the Birmingham "Y," according to Edwin Kirbert, executive secretary of the YMCA. The "Y" will assist parents in placing their children in summer camps, he said.

Friends of the Baldwin Public Library are planning an open house and afternoon of music Sunday. The event will mark the opening of National Library Week.

The program, beginning at 3 p.m., will feature Mary Gardner Pardee, soprano, and Teruko Yamasaki, pianist.

Atomic Blast Seen Unlikely

One Chance in 2 Billion of Nuclear Explosion by Unarmed Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The odds are figured at better than two billion to one against a nuclear explosion of an unarmed atomic bomb such as fell accidentally near Florence, S.C., yesterday.

The one-sided odds were set by a senior Pentagon nuclear official last year after analyzing the results of tests run by the Atomic Energy Commission. The tests were made to find out what happens when an unarmed nuclear weapon is unintentionally dropped or subjected to the heat of a non-atomic fire.

By unarmed, military men mean a bomb whose triggering device—which often contains a conventional explosive such as TNT—is not connected with the fissionable enriched uranium sealed inside a separate part of the bomb casing.

Pentagon officials today considered the Florence atomic bomb as a case in point to prove their official contention, issued Feb. 15, that the possibility of an accidental nuclear explosion "is so remote as to be negligible."

The TNT trigger of the Florence bomb did explode, but no nuclear explosion resulted.

MEDICAL EXPENSE

Some of the items considered as medical expense are the doctor, dental, or hospital bills that you paid during the year; the cost of drugs or medicines, or transportation necessary to get medical care; the premiums paid for hospital and medical insurance; or payment for X-ray examinations or treatments.

If you paid someone to perform both nursing and domestic duties, only that portion which is for nursing duties is to be considered under medical expense.

Here are some of the items that are not considered medical expenses — funeral expenses; purchase and upkeep of a cemetery plot; travel ordered or suggested by your doctor for rest or change; premiums on life insurance, toothpaste or cosmetics. Remember—there are limitations.

Injuries Are Fatal to Farmington Man

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Douglas G. Stowe, 28, of 32273 Marblehead Rd. died last night in the Detroit Receiving Hospital of injuries received in an auto accident early Tuesday. He was father of three children.

Stowe was injured when his car struck a utility pole on Grand River near Glastonbury in Detroit about 3:40 a.m. A construction superintendent, he was returning from a builders' banquet in Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, Jo Ann; twin daughters, Annette and Elaine, 6; another daughter, Denise, 9 months, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Stowe of Redford Township.

Not in School 5 Years, Named Valedictorian

LUDINGTON (AP) — A youth who hasn't attended sessions at Ludington High School in five years is valedictorian of the 1958 graduating class.

Richard Johnson, named to the honor post yesterday, is a polio patient. He has studied at home by means of an intercommunication system and has maintained a straight "A" record through four years of high school.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic N. Johnson.

Dow Chemical Plans for Seaway

Preparing Port at Bay City

MIDLAND (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. is establishing a marine terminal at Bay City in a move it says is designed to take advantage of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The terminal, Dow said, will be ready when Great Lakes shipping resumes this spring, probably in early April. The Seaway is scheduled for completion in 1959.

Shipping, handled the last three years from Detroit, will be transferred to Bay City.

Dow said chartered vessels will load at Bay City, on the Saginaw River 15 miles east of Midland, for Rotterdam, Holland, and for Dow's eastern terminals at Philadelphia and Newark, N. J. Dow Chemical of Canada, Ltd., will continue shipping from Sarnia, Ont., to Rotterdam, headquarters of Dow's Dutch subsidiary, Nederlandsche Dow Maatschappij.

Vessels chartered this year will have cargo-carrying capacity of approximately 1,500 tons, but Dow said the terminal will be able to accommodate larger vessels expected to use the Seaway.

The dock used for the terminal was built by Dow in 1937 to handle coal shipments to its vast Midland plants. It has been idle since discontinuance of coal shipments via that route in 1952.

Dow is building a 12,000-square-foot warehouse, plus a concrete loading apron of 18,000 square feet.

George R. Anderson, traffic manager of Dow's Midland Division, said the development "is an effort to place the Midland Division on a better competitive basis by bringing it the advantages of being on navigable water."

Indonesian Forces Tangle With Rebels

there was no panic because both the rebels and the Central Government gave assurances on the safety of American lives and interests.

Government forces apparently were seeking to retake control of the Central Sumatra oil areas and bring oil royalties back into Jakarta hands. The rebels have been bartering the oil and collecting royalties for themselves.

In Jakarta, the usually reliable newspaper Sulah Indonesia reported that the Central Government military commander in the North Celebes had conceded the rebels have captured the port city of Gorontalo.

UP Couple Sight Sputnik

IRONWOOD (AP) — A naked-eye sighting of Russia's Sputnik II satellite in this western Upper Michigan area was reported Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jacobson of Ironwood. They reported the star-bright satellite was sighted at 5 a.m. traveling from the northwest about 40 degrees above the horizon.

Howell Church Burns

HOWELL (AP) — The West Marion Methodist Church was destroyed by fire Tuesday. Damage to the 80-year-old frame structure was estimated at $20,000 by Harold Maycock of Howell, a member of the congregation. The Howell Fire Department said the blaze was started by a faulty oil burner.

Teller Slated in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)— Dr. Edward Teller, associate director of the Radiation Laboratory and professor of physics at the University of California, will address the Economic Club of Detroit Monday on "How Can America Win the Cold War?" Dr. Teller is known as the "Father of the H-Bomb."

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

Operating rooms in hospitals ought to be entirely free from germs which might infect the patients undergoing surgery.

Much has been done to kill microbes and to keep them out of vital areas.

Recently, however, many germs have been finding new ways of entering these antiseptic spots where they can infect and even kill.

New and complicated procedures have had to be developed to sterilize the supposedly clean rooms, beds and people.

Sheets, towels, bandages, floors, air ducts and the air itself must be guarded from infinitesimal organisms of destruction.

Our spiritual well being must be protected from new temptations which have come into existence.

We must all protect ourselves and our fellow beings from the dangers of sins. We must recleanse our souls of hatred, criticism, gossip, and spiritually degrading thoughts.

Garment Strike Not All Settled

Three-Quarters of the Workers Out Pending Signing of Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Ladies Garment Workers Union has given orders to about a quarter of 105,000 striking dress workers to return to work today.

Return of the remaining workers awaits ratification of a settlement by two of the five employer associations that were involved in the six-day strike.

The three groups that accepted contract terms yesterday represent dress jobbers, who prepare materials for dressmaking and handle distribution of the finished product. Their acceptance returns 25,000 to 30,000 employes to work.

The jobber groups are the National Dress Manufacturers Assn., the Affiliated Dress Manufacturers, Inc., and the Popular Priced Dress Manufacturers Group.

The two other groups represent contractors — employers who actually make the dresses.

One, the United Better Dress Manufacturers Assn., voted last night to put off until today a vote on whether to accept the contract.

Association President Jack Rosen told a reporter: "The whole thing could blow up again." No reason for the hitch was given.

Nat Boriskin, executive director of the United Popular Dress Manufacturers Assn., said he thought his group would ratify the agreement today.

The returning dress workers go back under a three-year pact which provides an average 11.14 per cent package increase, including an 8 per cent hike in wages that averaged $2.10 an hour in New York City and 50 to 75 cents an hour less elsewhere.

Steps were taken to curb contract violations, union-sanctioned special privileges and nonunion penetration.

David Gingold, ILGWU vice president and director of the union's Northeast Department, said in Scranton: "The strike is not settled in Pennsylvania. We are keeping our pickets in front of Pennsylvania Garment Manufacturers Assn. shops."

World's largest privately owned gun collection and western art exhibit is at Claremont, Okla.

JAPANESE ISSUES — These are two of the colorful commemorative stamps to be issued by the Japanese postal service on the occasion of the opening of the Asian Games in Tokyo in May of this year.

Auto License Plates for Princess Grace?

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Royalty or no, auto license plates should go only to residents, says the director of Pennsylvania's Bureau of Highway Safety.

O. D. Shipley, attending a regional leadership conference of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety here, said Pennsylvania should stop sending licenses to former residents now living in foreign countries.

"We are even sending a Pennsylvania license to the princess of Monaco each year," Shipley complained.

The princess is former movie actress Grace Kelly, whose parents still live in Philadelphia.

'Join and Serve' Is Local Theme for Red Cross

This year the theme of the Oakland County Red Cross chapter's observance of March as National Red Cross Month is "Join and Serve."

No appeals will be made for funds in the Pontiac Area United Fund's solicitation area since the local chapter is one of the 55 community service agencies supported by the fund's annual fall campaign.

"Our chapter is gearing its activities towards an educational and volunteer recognition program," stated Mrs. Mildred B. Bennett, executive director.

During March, the chapter is making an extra effort to publically acknowledge the volunteer's work, she added.

The local chapter is one of more than 1,500 chapters in the country which receives financial aid from United Fund and Community Chest federated campaigns.

Though Unlikely

Asian Flu Could Return

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service feels it is unlikely — but possible — that a second epidemic wave of Asian flu will follow on the heels of the virtually ended recent outbreak.

So says Dr. William H. Stewart, assistant to Surgeon General Leroy W. Burney, in summarizing the American experience in the recent worldwide epidemic which:

Sickened millions and killed thousands throughout the world, although the death rate was very low; struck an estimated 20 million Americans, killing not less than 6,500; caused the temporary closing of hundreds of U.S. schools and cost industry a staggering total of man-hours lost.

FEWER DEATHS

But even if a second nationwide epidemic should occur between now and the first of May, said Stewart in an interview, the service feels it would be "relatively mild from the standpoint of the mortality being very, very low, as it has been in the recent epidemic."

"Since you can't say with certainty that a second wave will or will not occur," he said, "the wisest course is to be conservative and make your plans" on the basis of possible recurrence.

URGES SHOTS

"Thus the health service is continuing to urge people who haven't already done so to get vaccinated —particularly people in the 'high risk' groups such as the chronically ill, the aged, and pregnant women," Stewart emphasized. "In these groups we are also recommending second shots for the highest individual protection."

On the unlikely side of the picture, health officials point out that despite the global scope of the recent epidemic, only one country has reported what appeared like a substantial second wave. That was in Japan, but the outbreak there has pretty well died down now.

But Federal health experts caution that sporadic cases of Asian flu can be expected through early spring.

Reinstated Teacher Suing School District

DETROIT (AP) — A high school teacher who was fired 11 years ago and recently got a reinstatement order from the State Supreme Court, is suing the school district for $100,000.

Clark Rehberg, 42, of Ypsilanti, filed suit yesterday in circuit court against Melvindale School District No. 11.

Rehberg was fired in 1947 after six girl students brought charges of "undue familiarity" against him. The charges grew out of a discussion he conducted in a science class he taught.

Rehberg took his case to the State Tenure Commission, where his dismissal twice was reversed. In 1956 the State Supreme Court upheld the Tenure Commission decision.

He asked in the suit of $47,000 back salary he contends is due him for the period he was out of the teaching profession — from 1947 to 1956 — plus 5 per cent interest, and damages:

At the time of the stormy school board sessions over his dismissal, there were student strikes in protest.

Lodge Will Present Toboggan to Children

Youngsters at Oakland County Children's Home not only will get a new toboggan this week, they'll also have a visit from their state senator.

The toboggan, gift of the West Bloomfield Kiwanis Club, will be presented to the youngsters at a 7:45 p.m. program Friday, and Republican Sen. L. Harvey Lodge will be on hand to make the presentation.

About 20 members of the club, which meets weekly at Rotunda Inn, also plan to attend.

Fire Hits Resort Hotel

JACKSON (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the north wing of Eagle Point resort hotel at Clark Lake Tuesday. The two-story frame building was closed for the winter. The wing housed sleeping rooms, bar, lobby and storerooms.

Proposal for Non TB Use of Sanatoria in House

LANSING (AP) — A proposal for using empty space in the four state tuberculosis sanatoria for purposes other than TB care landed in the House today following Senate approval.

Facilities could be put to non TB use with consent of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium Commission provided the state administrative board gave its okay.

Similar rights were extended last year to local sanatoria, which also have declining patient populations.

A second bill passed yesterday by the Senate and referred to the House would prohibit Wayne County employers from threatening discharge of workers for serving on juries.

Motor vehicle fatalities in 1957 resulted in 47,000 life insurance death claims, reports the Institute of Life Insurance.

Bake Sale to Benefit Handicapped Children

The Association for Handicapped Children will sponsor a bake sale Saturday to raise funds to continue their work in educating handicapped children.

The benefit will be held at the Federal Department Store, 91 N. Saginaw St.

The group conducts a "Jack and Jill Room" at the Emerson Elementary School in which 24 children, 6-4 to 16 years old, unable to attend regular school, are taught.

Employment Is Down but Plenty Still Work

The other day The PRESS had a phone call from a very sincere citizen who urged us to run photographs on page one of the people on relief. He suggested big news stories about local unemployment.

First, we doubt whether anyone would be happy to have himself photographed and the fact that he was in distress emblazoned across page one. Isn't everyone entitled to privacy in such a personal matter?

Secondly, what would be the result if 1,700 daily newspapers came out with big page one photographs of unemployed workers? After all, there are still more than 60 odd million employed?

How about a photograph of THEM?

A front page smash such as our friend suggests might jump the unemployment to ten million over night. It could scare the whole nation. Russia would love this. That's for sure. The action might stop so much purchasing that unemployment would be doubled or trebled quickly. When you make people afraid to spend, the sales of Pontiac automobiles, GM trucks and everything else fall off additionally.

Relief lines would multiply.

The PRESS continues to print the local statistics on unemployment and the national totals. We always will. But there must be a sense of balance and proportion.

For 1947 and through 1957, the average unemployment was 2,700,000. There are somewhere near two million who won't work, who can't work, who are between jobs when the count is taken and who are sick and infirm. That number is normal.

The national figure has touched five million and Washington says March will be the critical month, for normally there is a seasonal upturn. If this doesn't materialize, quick measures will be adopted. The Pontiac PRESS gave the country's story front page prominence on Tuesday. A complete roundup for the Pontiac area ran the same day on page two.

Attempts are under way already to ease the decline. Utopia isn't here, and the millennium won't arrive in 1958. In the meantime, we can get lots of solace from the fact 66,732,000 people were at work in January and the total is still comfortably past 60 million.

That's a lot of pay checks.

"Depend on Her"

The first Girl Scout troop was formed in Savannah, Ga., with 12 members. Today this nationwide organization for girls from 7 through 17 years of age has a membership of 3,115,500, including 727,000 men and women leaders. Its troops are active throughout the country, in territories of the United States and in foreign countries where Americans are stationed and are at work.

The North Oakland County Girl Scout Council (a United Fund agency) has a current enrollment of some 8,000 girls and leaders, divided into 410 troops.

The Council operates a permanent camp, Camp Sherwood, in Lapeer County, with accommodations for 500 girls, and this year will maintain 13 day camps for some 1,500 girls. Camping, of course, is but one interest, supplementing the week-by-week program of activities and training.

Theme for this year's anniversary observance is: "You Can Depend On Her."

It is an appropriate theme, for the basic goal of the movement is to help girls develop as happy resourceful individuals, willing to share their abilities as citizens in their homes, their communities, their country and the world.

In our book, Girl Scouts and their leaders rank high among the community's finest citizens.

On this, their 46th birthday, we salute them.

Attractions of Neighboring Cities Draw Attention

Cigarette lighter: What often doesn't work, because his feet are on the desk.

A Flint friend pokes fun at me. He has a directory issued in 1861, in which the two cities are combined, 48 pages being required to extol the advantages of Flint, while Pontiac gets 54 pages. He writes:

"What a difference in 97 years," but I disagree with him. The space required for the same purpose in this 1958 would be in about the same proportion. Yes, on second thought, I'm sure it would lean heavier on the side of Pontiac. In fact, we'd need at least twice the space that Flint might blow itself up to. A Pontiac resident whose grandparents lived in the woods, 38 miles up the Saginaw Indian Trail from Pontiac, told him that Flint once was known as but finally was able to outgrow it.

"Another dangerous period with the ice on our lakes," says

Sheriff Frank W. Irons,

"is when the spring breakup occurs. After the first continued warm spell, the ice is porous and honeycombed, and quite unsafe, even after another big freeze makes it look OK. Warn the children about this."

Absolutely in agreement am I in the sentiments expressed in a letter from which points out that when a family moves to a new community it's much harder on the children than on the grown ups.

Peddling ways to reduce milady's weight now is numbered away up among big business. One of these outfits, started only seven years ago, has passed the $20 million mark per year. The man behind it, calls it, "The darndest merchandising thing to break out since Mickey Mouse."

Larry Mack

A rather raw idea comes over the signature,

"Been Through Seven Wrecks,"

to the effect that if pavements are to be tinted, as proposed, they should be a good, practical red that won't show blood.

A reader of this column says somebody is trying to sell him an

and he wonders what it is. The office expert says it is a new automobile gadget that tells you when you're too sleepy to drive.

Fifty years ago today an adv. over the name of regretfully announced that "rising costs of doing business" made it necessary to increase the price of chestnut coal to $6.50 a ton.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

David Lawrence Prescribes:

A Perspective on Unemployment

WASHINGTON — It is important to put the unemployment figures in perspective. Thus, while the actual number now out of work is as large as in 1941, it was then 10 per cent of the total labor force, it is only 6.7 per cent of the nation's labor force today.

LAWRENCE

This latter percentage figure is the same as it was in 1949, during the Truman administration, just prior to the Korean War.

The truly significant figure on unemployment is not the approximately 5,200,000 just announced by the U.S. Department of Labor, but the amount of the increase over 1956, which in many respects was a normal year.

For there were 2,800,000 unemployed in March 1956, and these are the people who normally "float" from job to job or are temporarily idle or who work when the spirit moves them.

The net increase above the 1956 "float" is about 2,400,000. Where are these people located? How would more defense contracts allocated to a full-employment area do any good in other sections of the country where factories are shut down?

People just don't give up their homes and nearness to relatives and move to other cities and towns to get new jobs. How could a tax cut, which puts more money in the pockets of those already working, do anything for those who are out of jobs and are not paying any taxes at all?

These are the searching questions that must be asked when every one of the proposed remedies of an anti-recession nature is examined.

For the fact is that unemployment is highest in the automobile centers and in the cities and towns where machinery and plant equipment are customarily manufactured.

The Department of Labor itself announces that the increase in unemployment has occurred in automobiles, aircraft, metals aand machinery plants.

It is argued that a tax cut will induce more buying. But experience in past recessions does not bear that out. Thus, in 1948 there was a tax cut, but it did not prevent the 1949 recession.

A tax cut could result in more purchases of groceries and what are called consumer items but, unless public confidence in the employment situation as a whole is restored, the tax-cut remedy will not be immediately effective.

This is but another way of saying that, when any tax-reduction plan is voted by Congress, it must be of the kind that will persuade the economists generally and businessmen as a whole that a healthy step has been taken.

If there were an across-the-board cut, as advocated the other day by Vice President Nixon, it would do more to encourage businessmen to hire additional persons than if the tax cut were limited to those in the lower brackets.

Any "redistribution of wealth" doctrine of the latter type looks well on the surface to some politicians, but it failed to bring recovery in the 1930s and has never been looked upon as a sound device.

The importance of the "across the board" theory is that it gives businessmen an incentive to expand and to make purchases of new plant and equipment. There can be no doubt that psychological factors are the most important of all today.

People are hesitant to buy things they need because of a fear of unemployment. While this is true of individuals, it is even more noticeable in businesses, which fear a continued lack of new orders and are drastically curtailing expenses.

A recovery program is bound to be developed by the President and Congress as more and more unpleasant news breaks on the economic front in the next few weeks. The unemployment figure could go to 6,000,000 without being as high in proportion as the 10 per cent of the total labor force in 1941.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Trick 'Specialists' Reap Profit From Rheumatism

Before physicians knew anything about vitamins, some of them considered cod liver oil the best remedy for chronic rheumatism. Joint disability lasting a year or more was just plain rheumatiz in the 19th Century, generally ascribed to "exposure to cold and damp."

DR. BRADY

In the 20th Century the profession was debauched by the mushroom growth of the twin evils, trick specialism and phony "clinics." The operators engaged in these rackets found plain old rheumatism awkward and unprofitable, so they quietly tossed it into the ashcan and gave all their gullible customers a diagnosis of "arthritis."

I do not mean to imply that arthritis (joint inflammation) doesn't occur. Streptococcic, pneumococcic, tuberculous, syphlitic, and gonorrheal infection of the joint is properly called arthritis.

In most instances of real arthritis, if the trouble lasts more than a year, there is a history of acute inflammation in the beginning—heat, pain, redness, and swelling of the joint, usually associated with some elevation of body temperature (fever).

DEVELOPS GRADUALLY

In chronic rheumatiz, there's no such history, as a rule. The trouble develops gradually—in any weather or climate, in any walk of life—month by month or year by year, advancing from bad to worse unless . . .

The treatment of real arthritis is not within my province. This is a health column. If you want medical advice, diagnosis, or the significance of any sumptoms you may have worked up, consult a physician.

Chronic rheumatiz, in my opinion, is physical degeneration of the joint or joints, due principally to nutritional deficiency through the years from early childhood to breakfast this morning.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Several times, you have advised foods containing vitamin D but you do not mention which foods contain it." (G. B.)

Answer — No food contains enough to meet the demands of infants or growing children or even enough for adults. However there is some vitamin D in fresh milk, cream, butter, egg yolk, canned salmon, sardines.

"Here at the — Homc a lot of these old folks have what they call arthritis . . . of course they can't afford expensive treatments . . . (H. D. T.)"

Answer—They are fortunate in that. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Chronic Joint Disability. It may help 'em—unless they are snooty about having "arthritis."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Urges Voters to Support Repeal of Auto Excise Tax

January 14 Senator Potter introduced Bill S 551 which would repeal the Federal excise tax on automobiles and trucks. Senator Potter is doing everything possible to repeal this unnecessary tax but he needs help. If this useless tax were repealed Michigan would benefit greatly because more cars and trucks would be sold. Everybody interested in the repeal of this Bill S 551 should write his Senator and urge that the bill be acted upon immediately.

'Can't Blame GOP for Dems' 3 Wars'

Thank goodness for people like Thankful. The first half of this century the U.S. had five Republican presidents with no wars and three Democratic presidents with three wars.

The Democrats can't blame the wars on their predecessors as they broke out in the fifth year of Wilson's presidency, ninth year of Roosevelt's and fifth of Truman's.

If we must have war in order to have prosperity, then it seems there is something sadly wrong with our government.

Still Hopeful

Concerned Mother Receives Replies

Concerned Mother should remember "there is a grave waiting for everyone and the choice of two ways of coming to it: Loaded with vanities of this world, so that one goes down, or light with Christian grace, so that one inclines naturally to rise."

Fear is established from not knowing, just plain ignorance. If we knew everything, we wouldn't need leaders. But then we wouldn't have time for our children, our home or our various recreations. Stop trying to figure out what Reuther has up his sleeve, because the majority never had a big bank roll when we were working 40 hours, but we had good credit.

If you want to feel sorry for someone, think about the downtown business center that can't get anyone to use their credit.

Another Concerned Mother Who Is Laid Off From the Shop

Concerned Mother asks why working women shouldn't be removed from factory jobs, believing this action would put all unemployed men back to work.

She contradicts her logic by stating the things these working wives purchase with their wages: New homes and new cars. I'm a working wife and my husband and I couldn't afford the new car we buy every other year unless I helped pay for it.

Working wives have added tremendously to the nation's purchasing power. If they were all laid off, production of new cars, TV sets and other expensive luxuries would drop drastically.

'At Present Rate, GOP's Doomed'

In that recent Minnesota election, the Democratic candidate got about 55 per cent of the vote. In 1956 and 1954, the Dems got about 40 per cent and in 1952 they got just a shade over a quarter.

In 10 more elections there won't be any Republicans at all. Goodie.

'Place the Blame Where It Belongs'

Instead of putting the blame on President Ike for the way work is, why not put it where it belongs—on Governor Williams and Walter Reuther? There have been lots of shops moved from Michigan because taxes are too high here.

Reuther helps himself to the amount he wants to take out of "our" pay checks, and doesn't wait to find out if any child will be going hungry because of it. He lives like a king and drives Cadillacs.

Governor Williams is a puppet. Reuther barks and Williams jumps. Let's get a man in office who doesn't. If not, all of us will be jumping for Reuther. Wake up and fight for your rights, for your children's sake. It's almost too late now.

Law and Order

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Choose Child's Name With Care

Notice the five names for our children cited below. They were all chosen with deliberate intent. But Philip grumbled about his name for several years, despite all our attempts to "sell" him on it. It wasn't until he met the famous Chinese pastor, Philip Lee, that he finally relished his name.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-351: Yesterday I told you about the folly of saddling your infant sons with sissy names.

To show the advantage of giving children strong names with honor attached thereto, I'll go down the line with our own five Crane children and show you the results.

Since my grandfather and my father and I had all been named George Washington Crane, we carried that name onward with our firstborn son.

When he entered grade school, he confided to his mother one day that he was never going to tell a lie for he was named after George Washington, the Father of our Country, and George Washington never told a lie.

This episode shows the constructive value in the social development of a child when parents give him a name that embodies some high ideal or desirable trait that can serve as his goal.

When our second son arrived we went to the Bible for his name. We debated between Stephen and Peter, Samuel and Philip.

We finally settled on Philip, partly because of the nickname "Phil."

Then we employed Judith for our daughter. Daniel and David were the names of the final two.

In all cases, we also looked ahead to see if the nicknames would be fairly musical and fluent. We liked Judy and Danny and Dave.

PHILIP'S DILEMMA

But when Philip entered grade school, he expressed dislike of his name. He wished he had been called George Washington or Thomas Jefferson or some such weighty name.

"Philip" apparently meant little to him in the way of historical glamor or adventure.

So Mrs. Crane and I told him stories of Philip, King of Macedonia and father of Alexander the Great.

We also regaled him with tales of King Philip, the Indian chief of New England in Colonial Days.

And we emphasized the great influence of the Apostle Philip in launching the foreign missionary work of the infant Christian Church by his baptism of the Ethiopian whom he converted while riding in the chariot.

And I even created a dramatic adventure story, laid in Canada, which was titled "Philip and Janet." Philip was the hero.

This was a continued story that lasted for weeks. I'd tell a chapter each night while the children were on their beds in our bunk house at the farm.

I'd make it as dramatic and thrilling as possible and get my characters into a desperate situation. When I couldn't figure the way out of their dilemma, I'd call that "quits" for the night and give myself another 24 hours in which to think up a solution.

To this day I don't know how I ever got them out of the apparently sure-death traps, but I always came up with something.

Anyway, despite all this press-agentry for the name of "Philip," our second son was still only lukewarm to his name until he met the Rev. Philip Lee, a talented Chinese singer and clergyman.

Rev. Lee visited our home and I had him and his wife as guests over a weekend in Indiana where he also addressed a packed church auditorium on a Sunday afternoon.

Our son was very much impressed with Rev. Lee, and latr confided to his mother that he now liked his name, because Rev. Lee also bore the name "Philip."

At some length I have recounted the reactions of our children to their names for all too many young parents fail to look ahead.

Picking a name for a child may affect his entire future, so don't do this glibly. Try to give him a great name which will inspire him to nobility, honor and truth.

Doctor Discusses Endocrine Glands

Surgery May Make You Person You Want to Be

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Someday you may wake up after a minor operation and find yourself the kind of person you've always wanted to be.

"We are, to a large extent, what our endocrine glands make us," Dr. Francisco Grana said. "Surgical stimulation of the endocrine glands, correction of certain imbalances that exist in all of us, may someday lead the human race to perfection."

Dr. Grana is professor of surgery at San Marcos University in Lima, Peru, the oldest medical school in the Western Hemisphere. He is here to address the 11th biennial Congress of the International College of Surgeons.

"There is hope even today that surgical modification of endocrine glands may lead to the cure of cancer," he told an interviewer.

"We know that there is some connection between the endocrine system and cancer. It does little good in most cases to simply remove the cancerous organ. The real answer, we believe now, lies in the chemistry of the human body. A healthy body does not have cancer. If we restore the endocrine glands to proper functioning, it may be that we will end cancer forever."

The endocrine glands are a system of chemical factories in the head and body which release secretions into the blood. These secretions control growth and well-being by their effect on the various functions of the body.

"A minor, very delicate operation can change the amount of secretion these glands produce," Dr. Grana said. "Underactive glands can be made to produce more. Overactive glands can be brought under control."

Mme. Rubinstein Foresees No Depression

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The business and beauty shrewdness of a tiny, scrupulous immigrant named Helena Rubinstein has made her worth more than $100 million. She seemed the oracle to go to for advice—since the current state of the stock market is tending to cause wrinkles.

"I tell you what to do for beauty," said madame, "but in stocks I do not want to appear the smart-alecky. I am not, not at all. I can't help from making money"—the tiny face was distressed—"that is all."

But, she added, she sees no depression in America's future. "Oh, no. People should live sensibly, live up to their means; then there is no depression. If people wouldn't lose their heads, this recession might be three months. Perhaps six. That's all."

Mme. Rubinstein who sold out her U.S. business in 1928 for more than $7,000,000, and then bought it back, after the crash, for $1,500,000, was asked about the current state of the market.

"I'm lying low," she replied. "I do nothing for several months now but lie low. But let's not talk of this."

The under-five-foot financial giant does not like to dwell on the topic of money. "To tell you the truth, I never think of it," she said. "I shouldn't be very unhappy if I didn't have money. There is so much to do. Science doesn't stand still. Interesting things to read.

"Nobody is unhappy who is busy."

Madame is busy. At a vague age, believed to be closer to 80 than any other round figure, she works a seven-day week, travels half the year, has a rough time of it impatiently seeing through seven hours in bed nightly. Despite age, New York soot and duty, her petal complexion is still a legendary ad for her products.

"Shall I tell you what I use? My people will kill me. They hate to sell anything as inexpensive as $1.25. No profit. But (and madame leaned closer as if to reveal the punchline to Ponce de Leon) thousands of women think that if something isn't expense—then it is not good. I think they should get sense . . ."

Rubinstein's remedy for all facial flaws is a compound of the juice from water lily leaves, and herbs, which she claims she's been using since she was a child in Poland.

The cream has posed under many names in her four decades of business, but currently it is called "wake-up cream."

Another of madame's favorite theories is that women should not expose their faces to the sun. "Any woman over 30 who will allow herself to get scorched by the sun is crazy! Sun makes skin very leathery, very sallow, very wrinkled, very hideous.

"It takes two years, really, to take away the lines that one awful sun-brown can give you."

Urge Geese Be Sold When 16 Weeks Old

WASHINGTON — Although geese usually go to market when they are 26 weeks old, Govrnment researchers have found that a 16-week-old bird roasts well and has less fat and up to 6 per cent more edible meat in proportion to its size than the older fowl.

Growers are urged to market their geese at the 16-week level for greater profit, since the birds do most of their growing in the first 10 weeks.

Hal Boyle Says:

Carelessness Costs $100 Million in '57

NEW YORK (AP)—Money may be harder to get now—but it's still easy to lose.

A survey by the American Express Co. showed that U. S. citizens reported losing more than 100 million dollars in cash last year, in most cases through their own carelessness.

This is enough to buy a Harvard education for 10,000 students—or to build a community of 5,000 homes.

Astonishing as this figure is, Donal E. J. MacNamara, crime consultant for the company, says it doesn't tell the whole story.

The reported losses alone come to 100 million, he said, but the amount of money actually inadvertently lost each year, and not reported, is probably many times that figure.

MacNamara, dean of the New York Institute of Criminology, spent 15 years abroad as an investigator for the armed forces and has concluded, "Americans are by far the most careless people in the world with money."

The American man, not the American woman, is the major culprit.

"A man often won't even bother to report a loss if it is less than $25," said MacNamara, "but if a woman loses a quarter in a restaurant, she'll report it to the manager."

If your car is stolen, you have a 95 per cent chance of regaining it. But only 10 per cent of lost money is ever returned. Most money is lost around Christmas and Easter, and during the peak travel months of July and August.

"Although most money is lost outside the home," said MacNamara, "hidden money in the house is often lost, too."

People still hide money in a furnace in the summer, forget and burn it up the next winter. Or they bury it, only to discover later that mice, rot, insects or water have ruined it. Every year about 45,000 people bring currency fragments to the U.S.Treasury, hoping to redeem it, he said.

Or they leave it where small children can find it, throw it out the window, cut it into paper dolls, or flush it down the bathroom plumbing.

Many children seem to take great delight in seeing pretty green money go down the drain. This hobby costs their parents at least a million dollars a year, but the parents alone are to blame, he added.

Here are his tips for cutting down careless money losses:

Don't have any more cash on you or in your home than you absolutely need. Use checks.

A woman should carry her money only in a small bag she can hold in her hand at all times—not in a big bag slung over her arm or shoulder.

A man should carry his wallet in his inside coat pocket. That is the safest place, because to get at it a pickpocket has to face you, something he doesn't like to do.

Red Troops to Begin Korea Exit Saturday

TOKYO (AP) — The first contingent of Red Chinese "volunteers" will pull out of North Korea Saturday under Peiping's publicized withdrawal plan, Pyongyang radio said today.

Peiping radio said earlier that the first lot already had been given "a warm sendoff" at the Yalu River border by North Korean leaders. But Pyongyang reports said that none of the troops had left yet.

* * *

The Pyongyant broadcast said the first six divisions of Red China's forces — 80,000 men — would be pulled out by April 30. It asked the Neutral Nations Commission, made up of teams from Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia, to supervise and inspect the withdrawal.

Mailman Soothes Fido to Avoid Being Nipped

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Mail carrier Dale Strahle says dogs are like people — they don't want to be ignored. So he says the way to avoid being nipped by mean pooches is to speak to them.

In case they don't get your lingo, he says their owners will. Carriers are authorized to discontinue service to any home with a vicious dog.

Keego Harbor Man Albert Barnett Dies

KEEGO HARBOR — Service for Albert Barnett, 59, of 2322 Pine Lake Ave., past commander of both Post 23 and Great Lakes Command, Canadian Legion, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Barnett Chapel of the First Baptist Church. Fake Money for Taxes —but He's Only Kid-ing

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says Robert Fallon of Norwalk paid income tax this year with phony money. It's okay, though.

Robert, who is 4½, sent in 35 cents in play money "to be sure the President will have enough money to run the country."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Escaped Florida Prisoner Caught

Accused Rapist Nabbed by Sheriff's Deputies in Suburban Miami Home

MIAMI, Fla. (INS) — One of two prisoners—an accused rapist—who escaped from their 23rd floor cells in the Dade County Jail at Miami was back in custody today.

Sheriff's deputies, acting on tips, converged on a house in suburban Miami last night and captured Howard Bartlett Piccott, 40, who is charged with raping a nine-year-old Homestead, Fla., girl.

Piccott, unarmed and alone in the house, surrendered without resistance.

His companion in the daring escape last Sunday night, Norman J. Mackiewicz, 32, accused of slaying a Bal Harbour, Fla., policeman, remained at large.

The pair, using ropes braided from mattress covers and a washroom roll towel, had clambered down the outside of the skyscraper jail like human flies to freedom.

Two other prisoners also attempted to escape, but were caught before they could get out of the building.

The escape touched off one of south Florida's biggest manhunts in years.

FBI Holds State Man Wanted in Detroit

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Customs agents have arrested and turned over to the FBI a man they said is wanted on federal charges in Detroit and Asheville, N. C.

Leonard Blaylock, FBI agent in charge here, said the prisoner is Paul David Church, 31, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Blaylock said church was indicted in Detroit a year ago on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen property involving fictitious checks and in Asheville last November on a charge of taking a stolen car across state lines.

U. S. Commissioner Frank Y. Hill set bonds at $2,500 on each charge at a preliminary hearing for Church yesterday.

Drunk-Driving Charge Erroneously Recorded

In Tuesday's edition of The Pontiac Press, Benjamin C. Greenless, of Lake Orion, was listed as having to furnish financial responsibility for drunk driving.

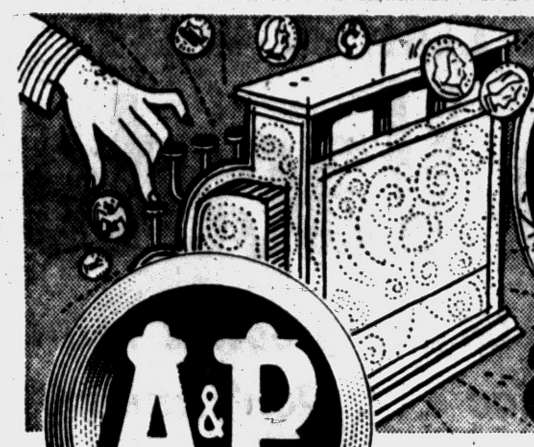

This was erroneously recorded by the Secretary of State's office. He was actually convicted of reckless driving.

Youngsters Do Their Share to Ease Mother's Life

"That's right, pull the spread up a little more," instructs Carolyn Bannow. She is teaching her brother, Jim, how to make his bed because she thinks all young men should be able to keep their rooms neat. They are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bannow of Bloomfield Hills.

Pontiac Press Photos

My, how the weather does change! Just a few days ago John Burgess Jr. was entertaining his sister, Marlajean, and brother, Buddy, like this while mother got some work done in the house. Now John is getting roller skates oiled instead. They are children of the Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Burgess of South Shirley avenue.

Your Family Page

In the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wayne E. Welton on West Pike street, children are taught how to take care of their own playthings to make mother's work a bit easier. Jill, who is 4 years old, shows 3-year-old David and Kathy that putting toys back in their proper places can be fun.

Undertake Many Jobs in the Home

Most children are taught at an early age to assume responsibilities. In some families this means nothing more than picking up after oneself — other homes have children who do a great deal to aid the busy, harried housewife.

Pontiac area children follow the pattern expected because pre-schoolers and teenagers alike, we found, had various household duties, leaving mother time to get her work completed.

Stephens Club Plans Meeting

Mrs. J. H. Bower will open her Birmingham home for a March 19 meeting of South Oakland Alumnae of Stephens College. Cohostesses will be Lynn Hannaum and Mrs. Mark R. Kraus Jr.

At this meeting plans will be discussed for a March 25 bridge luncheon being given by all Stephens alumnae clubs of the Detroit area.

Nurses Hear Two Doctors

Dr. John Maz and Dr. Rockwood Bullard spoke to Oakland County District Nurses Association at Baldwin Library in Birmingham Monday.

This was the first of three classes to be given on Civil Defense for registered nurses of Oakland County.

The next meeting is to be held in McAuley School Auditorium March 18.

Style Show Set

Final arrangements have been made by Insurance Women of Pontiac for a spring fashion show to be held this evening in Pontiac Central High School. Fashions for the show are being furnished by Alicia Bridal Salon and De'Cor Shop.

Dear Abby ....

Stick With the Cubs, Mother, and Keep Lion Out of the Den

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please don't use my name if you print this letter. I am one of a sister act. We sing and have been very successful. I am very much in love with a terrific man who wants to marry me, but he doesn't want me in show business.

ABBY

My sisters and I have worked so hard to get to the top but do you think I owe them more than I owe myself? I can't sleep nights and it is showing on me. This man won't wait forever. What would you do?

BEWITCHED, BOTHERED AND BEWILDERED

DEAR B. B. AND B.: A good marriage lasts longer than a good career. Fulfill your present commitments and marry the man . . . but, please don't tell your agent it was my idea.

DEAR ABBY: I have two sons. One is a Boy Scout and the other is a Cub. I am a den mother and the pack always meets in my basement. The father of one of these Cubs comes to take the boys home. But he always comes early and expects me to entertain him.

He is on the forward (fresh) side and pats my cheek and calls me "Honey." His conversation is very suggestive and he has been known to ask a lady for a dance (at the club) and disappear with her for an hour. How can I discourage him without being obvious?

DEN MOTHER

DEAR DEN MOTHER: There's safety in numbers, so stick with the Cubs . . . and keep this lion out of the den, mother.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend bought me an electric blanket for Valentine's Day. It has dual controls—just what do you think he has in mind?

MARIE

DEAR MARIE: Marriage—I hope!

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my problem is my stepfather. Mother has had him for three years now and he doesn't seem to be improving any. Sometimes I think I can't live in the same house with him for another day he is so funny in his ways.

Mother and I have a beautiful understanding and there is always a peaceful atmosphere but Daddy comes home and spoils it up completely.

Mother made him go talk to a psychologist and the psychologist told him to send me, but I didn't go because there is nothing wrong with me. What can we do with this mixed-up stepfather or is he hopeless?

G. K.

DEAR G. K.: Your stepfather isn't hopeless—but the situation is as long as you refuse to talk to the psychologist. If you really want to improve the atmosphere at your house, I advise you to go, girl.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JANE: To loosen the purse strings, tug a little on the heart strings.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHIRLEY: That man doesn't want to BUY, he wants to RENT. Tell him he is in the wrong neighborhood.

She Refuses to Give Up Her Turn

Patient's Behavior Was Not Rude in This Case

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I went to see my doctor yesterday afternoon for my usual checkup. When I arrived at the office there were three other patients before me, so I sat down and waited. While I was sitting there several other people came in, one of them a young woman. She seemed quite impatient and kept looking at her watch.

"After a while she came over to me and asked me if I would mind if she went in ahead of me. She said she was in a hurry and that she only had to get an injection and wouldn't be long. By then I had been waiting over a half hour and was getting pretty restless myself, so I said that I was sorry but that I was anxious to get out, too.

"I am sure the others in the office thought me impolite, but I think she had a nerve asking in the first place and that I was quite justified in refusing. Will you please set my mind at ease and tell me if I was rude?"

Answer: If the woman who asked to go ahead of you had a legitimate reason for doing so she should have explained it to the nurse. Then, if the doctor agreed, the nurse would have asked you if you would let her go first. As things were, I do not think you were rude.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if, after eating the fruit from a half a grapefruit or orange, it is proper to pick it up in the hand and squeeze the juice into a spoon held in the other hand. I have a friend who insists that this is perfectly acceptable. I cannot believe it."

Answer: At breakfast or other informal family meals it is quite correct to squeeze the last bit of juice from a grapefruit or orange into one's spoon. This should not, however, be done when company is present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man says 'Thank you' after a dance, is this ignored or is a woman supposed to answer, 'You are welcome'?"

Answer: "No, not "you're welcome," but she might say "thank you" or "I enjoyed dancing," or perhaps answer with only a pleased expression.

Bridal Shower Given to Honor Miss Schymik

Francille Schymik was honored at a bridal shower given by Mary Powers and Kathleen Krokker. The Sunday affair was held at the Henry Clay avenue home of Mrs. J. B. Clifford.

Francille, of Bloomfield terrace, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Schymik of Evansville, Ind. She will exchange vows with William F. Burns of Mark avenue, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Burns of Royal Oak, on April 12 at Christ the King Catholic Church in Evansville.

Final plans for Pontiac's sixth annual Antique Show and Sale are being discussed by (left to right) Mrs. Frederick J. Cockle, treasurer for the show; Mrs. Robert Tricker, who is general chairman of the April 8, 9 and 10 event; Mrs. James Hampton, ticket chairman, and Mrs. L. C. Sheffield, decorating chairman. Sponsored by Women's Auxiliary to All Saints Episcopal Church, the show is to be held in Stevens Hall of the church.

All Saints Auxiliary Will Hold 6th Antique Show April 8, 9, 10

Dates for Pontiac's sixth annual Antique Show and Sale were announced today by Mrs. Robert Tricker, general chairman.

The show, which is scheduled for April 8, 9 and 10 in Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church, is sponsored by Women's Auxiliary of the church.

SIGNS COLLECTORS

Mrs. Dawson Baer chairman in charge of dealer contracts, has signed antique collectors from points in Ohio as well as Michigan cities of Jackson, Dearborn, Detroit, Saginaw, Battle Creek, Flint, Nashville, Birmingham, Brighton, Grand Rapids and Walled Lake.

Dealers will also include one of the first to be licensed in the state and one of the latest, both from Pontiac.

Mrs. Mary O'Leary, who recently moved her collection from her home in Linden to a shop on Telegraph road, has been a collector for 40 years, a licensed seller for 20 years and is a veteran of antique shows.

Leonard Berry of Howard street, who has been collecting for his own pleasure and family use, has just joined the professionals and will exhibit for the first time.

Collections will range from primitives to Sheraton, Hepplewhite and Chippendale pieces, from iron, tin and pewter to Sheffield silver.

There will be antique jewelry, costume, semi-precious and precious. Glass, china and pottery will be shown in quantity, as well as lamps, prints and other accessories.

There will be a collection of hand-woven items being shown by Michigan Weavers Guild and Detroit Weavers Guild.

Other chairmen for the event include Mrs. James Hampton, tickets; Mrs. Frederick Cockle, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Reaves, mailing list; Mrs. L. C. Sheffield, decorating; Mrs. William Isgrigg, dining room; Mrs. Robert Evans, posters; Mrs. Vernon Abbott, Mrs. Clayton McCoy and Mrs. R. M. Rasmussen, food, and Mrs. C. R. Gatley, publicity.

Luncheon and tea are to be served daily.

Poor Homemaker Cheats Husband of Rightful Pride

Messy House Reveals Her Lack of Respect for Her Role in Life

By RUTH MILLETT

It's a mistake for any wife to overlook the importance a man places on a well-run home.

More than his comfort is at stake when a man's wife is too lazy or too inefficient or too busy outside the home to be a competent homemaker.

It damages a man's pride not to have a home that he can be proud of—the kind of home that plainly shows the woman of the house has done all she can to make it comfortable and attractive, neat and clean.

The wife who from laziness or indifference lets her home acquire a rundown, untidy, unloved look not only tells her husband but tells the world that she doesn't have much respect for her role as homemaker.

And no matter how successful a man is, if he comes home at night to a messy, cluttered house and to a poorly prepared meal that is served without any attempt at graciousness, he is bound to lose a little of his pride and self-confidence.

Yet men are slow to complain about incompetent housekeeping.

A man who would fire a lazy or careless secretary will put up for years with a wife who takes no pride in her job and makes no attempt to become more efficient at it as the years go by.

But just because he doesn't complain doesn't mean he doesn't notice or doesn't care. He is bound to envy his friends whose wives take the job of homemaking seriously enough to excell at it.

And he is bound to feel that in not having a home that he can be proud of he is being cheated.

No matter how well-educated or talented or intelligent a wife is, if she isn't a competent homemaker she isn't any real bargain as a wife. And no wife can afford to forget that.

Winners at Bridge

Mrs. Douglas Haddock and Harry Brown were east-west winners when Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening in Elks Temple. Edwin Clarke and Robert Bryant were north-south winners.

The very thin face and neck looks lost in bulky neckline, blatant stripes. Softer neckwear, toned-down color, far more flattering.

Smart sports sweaters from Paris are in the shops now. Again, just as in a dress neckline, the sweater neckline is important. Wide turtle-neck is not for the "skinny" nor for the overly plump. Less bulk is flattering.

Tonic Advised to Clean Scalp

Cleaning the scalp between shampoos sometimes is necessary. Cotton and scalp tonic will do this. Moisten cotton with oily scalp tonic for dry hair or an astringent scalp tonic for oily hair.

Apply this to the scalp with hair parted at 1-inch intervals. Use a soft towel to wipe off excess tonic from each section.

SPRING HAIR COLOR

There will be no compromise in hair color for spring . . . it must be bright and fresh to command the brilliant shades of clothing fashions. If you are a bit timid or wish to avoid drastic change you can readily have your own hair color made more your very own.

Butter brown and shades of nut colors highlight brunettes while platinum tones vary from rice to birch for blonds. There will be touches of violet among grays and bright ambrosia and hibiscus for redheads.

Put Heart at Throat to Be Chic

NEW YORK (INS) — It's chic to wear your heart at your throat this season. Also your pearls and flowers.

The "little jewel" look has taken over in necklaces, and women who don't care for a mess of beads at the throat are buying delicate gold chains with a tiny pendant.

The pendant can be a heart—in colored glass or enamel—a pearl, preferably cultured, or a flower.

POSIES IN ALL SIZES

"Flower pendants are newest," says jewelry expert Albert Abby (of Jewels by Sandor). "Little enamel flowers—from a rosebud that's less than an inch big to two-inch tulips."

Abby says the posies, which copy real-life roses, lilacs, camellias, tulips and lilies, will be available in high-style colors ranging from yellow to blue. They're also being made into pins, so that a woman can scatter a bouquet over her lapel.

Though flowers are expected to be very fashionable as spring necklace pendants, the "sure seller" will be pearls and hearts: One little cultured pearl hanging from a thin chain, or a heart of gold or imitation gem.

New Interests Can Be Found Everywhere

Bored? Then You Need Hobbies

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Few people earn their living doing what they most enjoy. This is true in all walks of life though less usual in the arts and sciences. It is hard to imagine anyone being a professional poet unless he is nuts about poetry; or gazing into a microscope all day unless he is crazy about micro-fossils—or writing a daily column unless she is just plain crazy!

For every person who does the kind of work he or she enjoys most there are hundreds who are just plain bored with their jobs. Nothing is so aging or fatiguing as boredom. If you find that this is true of you and you cannot make a change in your work, get a hobby, get 2 or get 22.

Have you ever noticed that the people we find magnetic are interested in many things? Part of the business of being interested is a mater of exercising our curiosity. A hobby can massage our bump of curiosity and our imagination which, like any other attributes, need exercise. "That which is not expressed dies."

Life is full of excitement and charm, and if it has begun to go stale on you, that is a danger signal which calls for an addition of new interests. These are all about you.

Remember though that there is danger in grabbing the first hobby which comes to your attention. Your hobby should suit your individual tastes and personality as well as available time and money. To be lastingly rewarding, a hobby should be constructive or creative.

MORE AWARENESS

We do not have to look far afield in order to find life brimming with interest. With a little more awareness brought to daily life, you will find more to do than you could possibly accomplish in a whole lifetime. Folks with this special awareness usually have hobbies, but it works both ways. Hobbies also build awareness and multiply our interests.

Our tastes naturally change from one period of life to another but be sure that you add rather than drop interests as you grow older. You will have more leisure to enjoy a wider range of activities than you did when responsibilities were heavier.

I believe that hobbies are an important part of staying youthful. Also, many hobbies turn into remunerative activities.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Want a Business of Your Own?" Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 73 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Your Hobby Might Mean Money to You."

Mrs. Hans Schjolin of Birmingham is dress chairman for the dressmaking contest of Birmingham Branch of National Federation of Women's Clubs.

Modeling a dress for the contest is Mrs. Edred Williams of Birmingham. Judging on the local level is to be done April 4 at a Presidents' Day luncheon being held in Baldwin Library. Presidents of all women's clubs in Oakland County are being invited.

Christening New Baby Is an Occasion to Plan

If a new baby has recently joined the household, it's time to plan a joyful christening and for what will probably be her first formal appearance in public.

Questions about specific baptismal procedures can be answered by your minister.

Ordinarily, a baby is baptized when she's very young, although this is not a hard and fast rule and church denominations vary as to christening procedure.

Baptisms may be performed at church or at home.

Select godparents from among your best friends or relatives.

Three godparents for a child are permissible in some denominations; a baby girl would have two godmothers and one godfather, a boy, two godfathers and one godmother.

Being a godparent is both an honor and a responsibility, so choose with care.

If a godparent can't be present for the christening, you'll need his permission to get a proxy to stand in for him.

A baby customarily wears all white for her christening. If you have an heirloom christening outfit for your baby, here is a little tip:

Unpack and try it on the infant as soon as you can. A robust baby might outgrow the delicate little gown and robe handed down befor the baptism.

If you're buying a new ensemble that your little beauty will treasure for HER firstborn, some of the most luxurious looking, rich with delicate embroidery, lace, satin and ribbons, are of nylon. Easily washed and dried, nylon won't yellow with age.

You're not obliged to observe the occasion with any kind of party.

But a small informal gathering of your closest friends, relatives and the minister at your home or the grandparents' home, is a pleasant way to introduce formally the newest member of the family and to wish her luck and happiness all of her life.

Keloa, Amies, Trabajamas Clubs Prepare for Kat Kick

Pontiac Press Photos

Saturday evening is the big night for Keloa, Amies and Trabajamas clubs, the occasion of their annual KAT Kick. Going over the all-important last-minute dance details are (left to right) Ann Hamilton, Trabajamas general chairman; Gail Blamy, Keloa publicity chairman, and Ellen Taylor, Keloa general chairman.

Bonny Cretal (left), Trabajamas patrons committee chairman, calls to check on reservations as Judy Baker, Amies general chairman, looks up phone numbers. This dance, given jointly by the three clubs each year, will feature a live orchestra Saturday.

Finishing decorations (which will be cats dressed in plaid Bermuda shorts!) for the Saturday evening dance at AFL-CIO Hall are (left) Maria Cosma, Trabajama decorations chairman, and Darlyne Gould, Amies decorations chairman.

This Makes Big Batch of Cookies

Mrs. Whitsett's Oatmeal Drops Are Raisin Flavored

By JANET ODELL

This cookie will please the youngsters when they dash in after school, "simply starved." Not only will it satisfy their sweet tooth, but it will add good nutrition to their diets. Mrs. Willard Whitsett tries to keep these cookies on hand most of the time.

With one tiny baby and another preschool child, Mrs. Whitsett doesn't find too many free hours for her favorite hobby—drawing. She likes to cook, loves to try out new recipes.

RAISIN ROUGHS
By Mrs. Willard Whitsett

1 cup shortening
½ cup peanut butter
2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1 cup sifted flour
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
¼ cup milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla
3½ cups raw oatmeal
2 cups raisins

Cream shortening, peanut butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Sift dry ingredients and blend in. Add milk and vanilla. Stir in oats and raisins.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake 12-15 minutes at 375 degrees. Makes about 5 dozen.

Soprano Artist Maria Roumell Acclaimed by Tuesday Musicale

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

Members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale were unanimous in their verdict of "wonderful" for the program they heard Tuesday afternoon in the Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church. The artist was Mrs. Maria Roumell, Detroit soprano, with Margaret Anderson at the piano.

Mrs. Roumell possesses a lovely lyric soprano voice, a warm and charming personality, a fine dramatic sense, and a shining kind of beauty, all of which contributed to the enjoyment of the audience.

EFFECTIVE OPENING

She chose for an unconventional but effective opening group, four Spanish songs of contrasting mood. The first of these, "La Partita" (Farewell to Granada) by Alvarez, filled with typically Spanish dance rhythms, revealed her fine vocal quality and the ability to use her voice with skill and assurance.

Mrs. Roumell is able to fit the character of her tone quality to the text and music of the composition, and this was most apparent in her next two songs. The first was a folk song, "El Pauo Moruno," arranged by deFalla, which was bright and saucy.

This was followed by a love song, "Del Cabello Mas Sutil" by Obradors, which was so gentle that the audience was spellbound. With its smooth rippling accompaniment, it was one of the high spots of the program.

The group was closed with "Chiquitita la Novea", also by Obradors, describing the desire of a young girl for love, which displayed the full range of Mrs. Roumell's voice, sometimes dramatic, sometimes plaintive.

SCHUBERT SONGS

The second group consisted of three well-known Schubert songs. "Du Bist die Ruh" (My Sweet Repose) was done with the serenity and fine breath control it requires. "Haiden - Roslien" (Hedge Rose) was bright and descriptive, and "Ungeduld" (Impatience), with its restless accompaniment skillfully executed, was sung with verve and brilliance.

For her aria Mrs. Roumell chose "De Puis le Jour" from "Louise" by Charpentier, which provided an excellent opportunity to show the true lyric quality of her voice plus a sense of the dramatic.

Four songs in English completed the program. The quiet, moody "Silent Moon" by R. V. Williams was followed by the livelier "At the Well" by Hageman with its tricky rhythms.

An audience favorite was "Evening Prayer" by Moussousky. Mrs. Roumell's voice, facial expression and posture portrayed that of a child saying her evening prayer.

"How Do I Love Thee" by Leppe closed the scheduled program, with "Love's a Merchant" by Carew for an encore.

ACHIEVES VARIETY

Mrs. Roumell's voice is not big, and she never forces it but achieves variety and dramatic effects more by vigor of attack, greater intensity, clarity in the high register, and a fine comprehension of the emotional elements inherent in the composition.

The success of the program was due in no small measure to the excellent piano work of Miss Anderson. She played as one with the singer and performed many difficult accompaniments with technical skill and artistry.

At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, officers for the coming year were chosen. Elected were Mrs. Ralph Norvell, president; Mrs. J. B. Forman, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Stimpert, second vice president; Mrs. Roland Gegoux, recording secretary; Mrs. Duane Arnell, treasurer; Mrs. W. H. Heller, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Jack Strait, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Joseph L. Bennett, historian.

Social committee cochairman for the event were Mrs. Frank Syron and Mrs. F. H. Grady, assisted by Mrs. Webster Francis, Mrs. Zac Endress, Mrs. Perc Carr, Mrs. Cecil Newstead, Mrs. C. E. Galloway and Mrs. M. A. Calbi.

Mrs. Frank Bonner and Mrs. Galloway served on the floral committee. Door hostesses were Mrs. C. H. Harmon and Mrs. Robert B. Tarr, and presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Lula Luby and Mrs. George Shearer.

Yomar Unit Meets With Mrs. Wood

Mrs. Earl Bright, Mrs. Donald Williams and Mrs. Melvin Brim were hostesses when 33 members and guests gathered Tuesday in the Garland drive home of Mrs. Harry Wood.

The occasion was a meeting of Yomar Group of First Presbyterian Church. Participating in the program were Mrs. Earl VanDyke and Mrs. Gene Feneley.

The University of Miami, opened in 1926, had fewer than 2,000 students in 1945. Today some 13,000 students fill three campuses and more than 50 new buildings.

Firmly Lassoed Into Classic Shirtwaists

Waists Won't Roam on Texas Range

By OLGA CURTIS

DALLAS (INS)—Waistlines won't wander on the Texas range this year: The new Dallas fashions for 1958 have waistlines firmly lassoed into classical shirtwaist dresses.

The lassoing this year is done with sashes instead of belts. The classic shirtwaists still feature full skirts and trimmed or tucked fronts, but the preferred belting is a contrast fabric sash tied at the left side.

Even the many chemise shirtwaists shown at the eighth annual Dallas Fashion Press Week have optional belts or sashes; you can leave them loose as high style "sacks" or rope and tie them to show off the waistline.

Almost all the new Texas fashions are of drip-dry, non-iron cotton-and-synthetic blends. Permanent finish cottons are also popular, especially checked gingham.

The Texas fashions, now the third largest sportswear market in the U. S., stress "air-conditioning" for summer. Sheer supima cotton voile is used for dressy frocks; heavier fabrics are "air-conditioned" with sunbacks or deep necklines and tiny sleeves.

APRICOT FEATURED

The featured '58 color in shirtwaists is apricot, but beige, white, and summerweight black and aqua are riding along strong as ever.

Non-apricot dresses sometimes offer a bit of this color as trim. For example, one beige shirtwaist carried bands of apricot and brown on the skirt. Another was sashed in apricot.

The newest color combination for separates is aqua and white. Aqua has even changed the color of "The Yellow Rose of Texas." This year the rose is aqua and it's decorating white cord cotton.

Like one-piece dresses, separate skirts and blouses offer sashes at the waistline; some of the blouses are cut like overblouses but have a long sewn-on sash which can be wrapped around the true waistline like a cummerbund.

Loose backs are a feature on most of the new Texas sportswear. Some are gathered from a wide shoulder yoke and dropped loose. Others are shirred both above and below the waistline.

Front bodices are almost unanimously tucked. One of the prettiest tucked shirtwaist dresses, in a black and white check, was so carefully tucked that only the black part of the check showed in front, making the body look slim under plenty of fabric for easy movement.

GM Girls Club Has Dinner and Meeting

One hundred and thirty members and guests of General Motors Girls Club gathered Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron for a dinner meeting.

Mrs. Harold Kellogg was chairman for the meeting and H. Dean Salisbury, of the estate planning department of Detroit Bank and Trust Co., spoke. His topic was "Your Family and Your Will."

Square Dance Held

Oscar Denham was master of ceremonies for a dance of Elks SaShay-Quadrille Club at Elks Temple. Guests were present from Royal Oak Elks Lodge.

News Secretary Says Alternates Being Studied

Hagerty and Mitchell Clash on Tax Cut Planning

WASHINGTON (INS) — White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty and Labor Secretary James A. Mitchell clashed yesterday on just how far the administration has gone in considering a tax cut.

Mitchell told an AFL-CIO conference on unemployment that a tax cut plan "is ready for immediate use as an additional stimulus to the economy, and it will be used if necessary."

Hagerty, informed of the statement, first insisted that Mitchell had been misquoted. But after checking with Mitchell, he explained that the cabinet member "didn't mean it quite that way, he told me."

The White House aide insisted that there has been "no final decision" on either when or how to cut taxes although a number of alternatives are "under study" by the administration.

As for Mitchell's further statement that a tax cut "is the main additional measure" for fighting the recession and "certainly this is the next big step," Hagerty told newsmen:

"What he meant was that the administration is considering additional alternatives."

When reporters insisted that there was a sharp conflict between what Mitchell was quoted as saying and Hagerty's words, Hagerty declared: "Mitchell said it. The President hasn't said it."

Reminded that Mitchell had spoken from a prepared text and apparently had thought out his remarks, Hagerty declared:

NO FINAL DECISION

"I am talking for the President and the White House and I am giving you answers to the best of my ability . . . I'm telling you there has been no final decision."

Asked why Vice President Richard M. Nixon had been talking about a tax cut, Hagerty said that Nixon's sentiments were "exactly in line with what the President said" in opposing pump-priming projects along the lines of the PWA and WPA of the new deal.

At this point, Hagerty said that Eisenhower, in his message to congressional leaders on anti-recession proposals last weekend, had said that a tax cut "could be the next step" rather than going into such programs.

But questioned about this later, Hagerty denied he had said it. When several newsmen said they thought they had heard him use those words, he said: "I didn't say that. If I did, I didn't mean it. I didn't mean to say that."

DISCUSSED ISSUE

Hagerty also said there had been a "brief discussion" of the tax issue by the President and congressional leaders at their conference today. House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin had said earlier that they "had a quite lengthy discussion on taxes."

Hagerty said he did not know whether Nixon had talked to President Eisenhower about the statement the vice president made Monday on taxes.

Asked whether Eisenhower and Nixon were in agreement that a tax cut, if necessary, is preferable to "Massive" public works spending, Hagerty replied:

There has been no decision either on the form (of tax cut) or whether to recommend one — although it is quite true that some agencies of government, particularly treasury, are studying all possible alternatives."

Newsmen who persisted in their questioning about the apparent conflict in administration statements were accused by Hagerty of "trying to rush a gun when a gun doesn't exist."

The White House spokesman said it was "perfectly natural" for officials to say different things when there are "different alternatives" under study.

Senate Debates Housing Bill

Faces Sharp Fight on Hiking Interest Rates on GI Mortgages

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, debating a $1,850,000,000 housing bill, faces a sharp fight today over whether the interest rate on GI mortgages should be raised.

The bill is a part of the anti-recession package being pushed by Democratic strategists at the Capitol. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) estimates it could bring construction of 200,000 more homes in 1958 than are now contemplated. He said this would mean up to 600,000 new jobs.

The biggest dispute centers on a provision inserted by the Banking Committee which would permit the President to raise the interest rate on GI home loans from 4½ to 4¾ per cent.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader, said he believed the Senate would delete this provision and hold the line on the interest rate.

The Eisenhower administration had asked for a 5 per cent maximum, contending that private lending funds were not available at the 4½ per cent figure and that the GI loan program thus was about dead.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) promised a floor battle to retain the present rate. His amendment was co-sponsored by 19 other Democrats and two Republicans.

Monroney said it would be a serious mistake for Congress to vote higher rates on VA mortgages when all other interest rates are starting to move down.

Other provisions in the bill would:

Extend the VA home loan guarantee and direct loan programs two years to July 25, 1960.

Provide an extra billion dollars to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy FHA and VA mortgages on new homes where the loan does not exceed $13,500.

Provide an extra 500 million for direct VA loans, and 50 million to be used by FNMA for military housing mortgages.

Lower down payments on FHA loans to 3 per cent on the first $13,500 of a mortgage. At present it is 3 per cent on the first $10,000, with higher amounts above that.

Raise the interest rate ceiling on military housing mortgages from 4 to 4½ per cent.

Man, Wife Safe After 42 Hours Lost in Arizona

WINSLOW, Ariz. (AP)—A Phoenix disc jockey stumbled into a small mountain community today after a 42-hour, 50-mile walk through snow in sub-freezing temperatures.

Raeburn Curtis, 31, left his wife, Janice, 21, in their snowbound car on a deserted northern Arizona road Sunday morning to seek help.

He arrived at the community of Strawberry yesterday and sent a rescue party which found his wife in an abandoned store building 11 miles from their car. She said she had tired of waiting for help and tried to walk to safety.

Both Curtis and his wife were suffering from exposure and frostbite but were reported in good condition.

Curtis said they had taken the little-used road as a short cut to Phoenix after visiting the Painted Desert.

Ceylon Buses Tied Up

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Oil transport and maintenance workers in Ceylon have gone on strike, crippling the island's newly nationalized bus system. The unions struck yesterday after three foreign oil companies — American Caltex and Standard Vacuum and British Shell — refused to pay a $3-a-month cost of living boost.

'The Dam Has Broke!'

75-Foot Wave Swept Into Valley on That Night of Terror and Death

By JACK LEFLER

SANTA PAULA, Calif. (AP)—The green valley of the Santa Clara, curving gracefully from the mountains to the sea, sleeps peacefully.

In towns down the sloping southern California valley, only a few lights gleam.

It is near midnight March 12, 1928.

Among the thousands who dwell along the usually dry, sandy channel of the Santa Clara River below St. Francis Dam, only a handful are aware that the concrete dam above them is leaking. They are nervous but not quite believing.

Chester Smith, a rancher, dozes fitfully four miles away. He can't forget his trip to the dam the day before. He saw water seeping from where the western side of the dam anchors into the San Franciscqueto Canyon wall.

'DAM HAS BROKE!'

A thunderous roar and the sound of snapping trees springs Chester Smith from his blanket.

"The dam has broke! The dam has broke!" he shouts to his family.

They reach the hilltop as a wall of water surges by with the roar of a thousand locomotives, sweeping everything before it.

Behind the thundering flood, St. Francis Dam—188 feet high, 600 feet long — lies in ruins, split asunder by the power of 12 billion gallons of water stored for the people of Los Angeles, 35 miles southeast.

75-FT. WAVE

The wave of water is 75 feet high as it sweeps by the towns of Saukus and Newhall, edging the widening valley some eight miles below.

In the chill night, George McIntyre of Newhall hears a roar. The water hits the house as George and his father dart outside. Within a moment they are swimming side by side in the torrent. George grabs at a tree and pulls himself into the upper branches. His father disappears. His two brothers never got out of their beds.

The onrushing water scoops up 400 houses in the 16-mile gorge between the damsite and the village of Piru, and 450 persons perish.

FORTY ESCAPE

The old watchman, Ed Locke, is up and about at the Southern California Edison Co. work camp at Piru. A terrifying roar sends him scrambling through the bunkhouses to awaken 200 men. Forty escape. The others, among them Ed Locke, are carried away.

The watery avalanche, holding its crest at 30 feet as the valley fans out, plunges on through Fillmore and Santa Paula, rolling houses with it.

Hundreds quickly grab belongings and head for the hills. Many are too slow, too late.

Mrs. Sisto Lunas drags a mattress from her home and hurls her three children and herself upon it. They float to safety.

Bill Spring swims two miles with a child clinging to his neck.

As the sun rises, the flood has passed and lost itself in the Pacific. Behind lie 45 miles of desolation and terror:

Rescue workers search the muddy, waterlogged valley. Bodies are piled in makeshift morgues. Rancher Henry Kensinger cries: "I've lost seven. And I haven't found a one."

This was the St. Francis Dam disaster.

Investigation brought out that the dam was anchored in an unsuitable geological formation that weakened and gave way under tremendous pressure of the lake it impounded.

30 YEARS AGO

On the 30th anniversary of one of the nation's greatest disasters, the valley and its people still bear the scars of tragedy.

At the damsite two hillocks of shattered concrete stand as grim monuments. A tiny stream cascades between the mounds. Squirrels play in the ruins.

Down in the valley there are people who lost their families and who, themselves, felt the clutches of the rushing waters. For most, the memories are so terrible that even now they do not want to talk about the night the St. Francis Dam burst.

Airline Sadly Admits Claim to Record False

DENVER (AP)—Sunday Continental Air Lines claimed a record for commercial aircraft when one of its new jet-prop transports flew from Denver to Washington in 4 hours 45 minutes.

United Air Lines heard about the claim and hastened to point out it has a regular Denver-to-Washington flight that takes 4 hours 25 minutes.

Moreover, a UAL official said, one of its DC7 transports once flew the route in 3 hours 25 minutes.

Said a Continental public relations man: "We goofed."

No Cut in State Tax Seen by Williams

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams said today he sees no chance of a cut in general state taxes as a move to combat the economic recession.

He was asked the matter at a news conference.

The governor said tax reductions by state governments in hard times present an altogether different problem from federal government tax adjustments.

"A general tax cut in any state means an immediate cut in services," he said. "This is not so with the federal government which has the monetary power and can carry a deficit in a way not possible for states."

Williams was asked about Vice President Nixon's advocacy of a general tax reduction in preference to a massive public works spending.

"My first reaction was that he and the President didn't seem to be very well coordinated," the Governor said.

Williams said it was "pretty close" to "an Ike-Humphrey deal," referring to differences between the President and former Secretary of Treasury Humphrey on government fiscal policies.

The Roman province of Lusitania corresponded to modern Portugal.

Lapeer Board Approves High School Land Purchase

Price Lowered on 40-Acre Tract

State Site Formerly Used by City's Home, Training Institution

LAPEER — The Lapeer School Board last night decided to purchase 40 acres of land from the state on which to construct a new senior high school.

The land, known as the Millville - Oregon site, formerly was used for farming by the Lapeer Home and Training School. It is within Lapeer city limits.

Action, taken at a public meeting attended by about 325 taxpayers, followed notification by the state that it had lowered its per-acre price from $850 to $500.

Read at the meeting was a telegram from Representative Louis C. Cramton of Lapeer to Superintendent of Schools Clyde Schickler, stating that the state had come down in its price. Rep. Cramton convinced the state that its original price was too high.

The motion to purchase the land was adopted by the board by a 5- to 2 vote. In favor of it were Olaf Moore, board president; Albert Seelye, vice president; Dr. Robert Stern, secretary, and board members George Greenlee and R. C. Rasmussen.

Opposed were Robert L. Taylor and Howard Stone.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the site is ideally located for a high school. The school system, greatly in need of another high school, had been seeking a site for some time.

My Lost Son! Cries Old Lady; Clips Him of $22

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The little old lady went up to S. J. Jelalian, threw her arms around him and cried:

"You're the spitting image of my long lost son!"

When they were finally disentangled yesterday, she told him she hadn't seen her boy in 20 years. She said Jelalian's amazing resemblance made her lost control. She apologized and hurried away.

Jelalianlater discoveged his billfold containing $22 was missing, he told police.

Far from being embittered, he philosophized: "I'm not angry. I'd like to shake hands with that little old lady. Everybody else waits around for the government to take care of them in their old age and here she is employing a real technical skill to take care of herself."

Briggs Reports Loss of $466,545 Last Year

DETROIT (AP)—Briggs Manufacturing Co. today reported a loss of $466,545 for the year ended last Dec. 21.

The loss was after a federal income tax refund of $680,000 and compared with a net profit of $1,410,798, after taxes, for the previous year.

Briggs is a Detroit plumbing-ware manufacturer.

It blamed the loss to a lower sales volume, to a drop in home building starts, the competitive pricing situation prevailing in the industry and non-recurring costs incident to relocation and start-up of new plant facilities.

Conlin Plan Gathers Dust

State Still Pays for Liquor in 30 Days

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP)—What happened to the Conlin Plan for deferred payment on state liquor purchases?

Remember? Seven weeks ago today it was advanced as a cure for threatening state bankruptcy —and for example, keeping state school aid distributions on or near schedule.

The answer as of now is: Practically nothing.

The idea was for the state to switch from a 30-day to a 90-day basis in paying for liquor bought for the state monopoly, and thus convert to cash 18 million dollars tied up in inventory.

Yesterday, as usual, the State Liquor Control Commission had its bi-weekly liquor purchase day. And, as usual, it ordered nearly four million dollars of whisky and wine on a 30-day payment basis.

But the plan, authored by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), is still alive. There probably will be some action on it in short order.

An aide to Gov. Williams said it might take the form of a "60-day moratorium" on payment of liquor bills as they fall due, something a little different from what Conlin said he originally had in mind.

Why wasn't the plan put in effect a long time ago?

Here's a brief chronology:

Jan. 22—Conlin proposed plan.

Jan. 23—The governor called it "interesting" and said "it may work out."

Jan. 29—Joseph L. Wisniewski, liquor commission chairman, pronounced plan "administratively workable."

Jan. 30—Williams said he still preferred an immediate 20 million dollar boost in the state intangibles tax but "I will not stand in the way" if the Legislature preferred Conlin's solution.

Feb. 6—House passed bill necessary to permit use of monies freed from liquor inventory for meeting state's general obligations.

Feb. 7—Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski reported accumulated state bills exceeded available cash by two million dollars—not to mention $28,500,000 in Jan. 15 state school aid checks then drawn but being held. He called situation "first in series of crises" predicted two months before.

Feb. 14—Conlin and governor blamed each other for delay. Conlin said governor should "stop playing political tag." Governor said Conlin had "created an impasse" because Legislature dragged feet on enabling bill.

March 7—Enabling bill reported to Senate floor by Senate Taxation Committee and placed at foot of calendar where it remained today.

March 10 — Wisniewski said state liquor purchase March 11 and subsequently would be made on usual 30-day basis until Legislature passed bill, or until Legislature or governor gave him different instructions.

March 11 — State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown announced March 15 school aid payment will have to be put off until early May.

Meanwhile, there were other developments, too.

The federal alcohol tax unit raised the possibility of objections to the plan, but refused to take a clear-cut position. Conlin minimized the meaning of this, Williams said doubts raised were serious.

Distillers, realizing the plan would cost them money, got cooler toward it, and alternatives were discussed.

State treasury balances ebbed.

Thrive on Coldest Weather State Can Produce

Shaggy Cattle Invading Beef Industry

BEAVERTON (AP) — Shaggy-coated cattle that look like overgrown sheep and thrive on the coldest weather Michigan can produce have invaded the state's beef industry.

Ralph Peterson of Beaverton and his brother, Herbert, pioneered the move to raise Scotch Highland cattle in Michigan and say they're the coming thing.

Peterson bought 14 head of the long-horned breed from a Belvidere, S. D. farmer three years ago. He recently had 10 head slaughtered in Saginaw and reports they were well received.

Why are they superior to Michigan cattle? Peterson isn't yet sure that they are, but from present indications their advantages are several.

"They're a rugged animal," he says, "and can stand severe cold—even 60 degrees below zero. They don't seem to mind the wind." Under their shaggy hair is a fine wooly undercoat that seems impervious to rain.

As advertised in their native Scotland, Peterson says the animals are good brush eaters and browsers. And the Petersons believe current diet trends should help promote the breed.

"They produce a good lean meat and are not given to excessive fat," says Peterson, "and nobody seems to want fat today in their beef or pork."

The Petersons pasture their Scotch Highlands in an open field. "They like water and frequently wade into ponds in the field during the summer," he says.

The cows weigh up to 900 pounds while bulls will go to 1,200—about the same weight as American breeds.

Scotch Highlands, say the Petersons, do not adjust to strange conditions easily and are just now beginning to adapt themselves to Michigan after three years.

"They look ferocious and resemble Tibetan yaks," said Peterson, "but they're just as gentle as any other cow."

Find Floating Body of Detroit Seaman

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—A body found floating near Galveston's West Beach has been identified as that of James Agar Bellinger, 22, Coast Guardsman from Detroit.

Bellinger was one of three Coast Guardsmen missing since Feb. 12 when their harbor patrol craft was rolled under a passing barge. The body was found Saturday.

The men still missing are Jerry Boyette, 17, seaman apprentice from San Antonio, and Charles H. Moore, 21, seaman from Canton, Ohio. Bellinger was an engineman second class.

Father Shoots Son, Himself

Despondent Man Treats Youth to Candy, Toys Before Tragedy

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A despondent father took his son to dinner last night, bought him toys and candy and then, police said, penned a lengthy note to his estranged wife and shot and killed the boy and himself.

Police found the bodies of Louis C. Larson, 32, and his 6-year-old son Ronnie together in bed in Larson's one - room basement apartment. Larson was an employe of a U.S. Department of Agriculture laboratory in Peoria.

Police said a five-page handwritten note telling of the father's despondency and his reasons for the shooting was found in the room. A new kite, several candy bars, a half-empty bag of candy and an empty milk shake carton were on a bedside table.

Police said the boy, fully clothed and tucked into bed, had been shot in the back of the head. Larson, a 22-caliber rifle along side him in bed, had been shot in the right temple.

Officers said Larson and his wife Gladys had been estranged two weeks ago after a series of marital difficulties. Both had taken separate apartments. The boy had been living with his mother and police said Mrs. Larson told them her husband apparently had taken the boy from her apartment while she was out.

Special music will be provided by delegations from Bethany Baptist and Holly Baptist Churches.

Taxi Cab Fare for 18,000 Miles 2 Years in Jail

BOSTON (AP)—How much does it cost to take an 18,000-mile ride in a taxi cab?

Two years in jail, said Federal Judge William T. McCarthy.

He imposed that sentence on Robert L. Smith, 31, Cleveland, Tenn.

Smith was accused of stealing his employer's taxi and taking it on a three-month joy ride, logging 18,000 miles.

Judge McCarthy remarked Smith needs a long rest after such an arduous trip.

Street Repair Hearings Slated

Public hearings on the city's intention to construct more than $142,000 worth of street improvements including new curbing, gutters and graveling were scheduled by the City Commission last night for next Friday evening.

Other progress on the 1958 public improvement program was made as assessment rolls for a new sanitary sewer system and seven paving projects passed public hearings.

Cost estimates on the following seven projects were accepted for next week's hearings:

Cornell avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $15,352; sewer, $2,892; city cost, $689. Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $12,354; sewer, $1,872; city cost, $8,929. Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $9,270; sewer, $648; city cost, $752. Euclid avenue, from High street east about two blocks: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $7,171; sewer, $504; city cost, $6,466. Wyoming avenue, Bagley to Franklin road: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $16,022; sewer, $4,104; city cost, $4,286. Stanley avenue, Kinney to Kennett: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $14,344; sewer, $4,858; city cost, $14,124. Pensacola avenue, Oakland to Monticello: assessed costs — curb and gutter, $10,690; sewer, $936; city cost, $8,961.

On these projects, the cost for a 40-foot wide lot for curbing and gutters is figured at $200. The cost for a sewer stub on the Stanley avenue job is $72.79. On the other projects, it is $72.

The sanitary sewer project would serve the vicinity of Arlene and Fuller avenues on Columbia, Fourth, Third and Second avenues.

The total cost, including a pumping station, is $76,900, but property owners are being assessed only $25,000 for sewers. The city is paying the rest, including the cost of the pumping station.

Confirmation of these assessment rolls was deferred, as was conformation of other rolls for the following paving projects:

Tregent street, Baldwin to Saginaw; Tennyson avenue, Joslyn to Highwood; Rundell street, Baldwin to Pingree; Putnam street, Cadillac to LeGrande; Pingree street, Cadillac to LeGrande; Pike street, Astor to East boulevard; and Yale avenue, Carlisle to Stanley.

On recommendation of the Planning Commission, the city attorney was authorized to prepare two zoning changes. One involves the rezoning of two lots at the corners of Oakland and Inglewood avenues and at Oakland and Sarasota avenues from Residential 2 to Commercial 1. The other is for rezoning of 7.8 acres in the Crystal Beach Housing project at the end of Lake street to Residential 3.

A gas station is planned for the corner of Oakland and Inglewood and a small office building at Oakland and Sarasota.

Because plans fell through to build a multi-family building on the corner of Elizabeth Lake avenue and Murphy street, the commission decided to drop plans to rezone this land from Residential 3.

Air Force Launches 5-Day Test

Five Fliers 'Blast Off' to Outer Space

DAYTON, O. (INS) — Five Air Force fliers climbed into a small compartment, settled into their "capsules" and theoretically headed for a five-day tour of outer space today.

In four hours they were to be "orbiting" earth at the altitude of 140,000 miles — approximately half the distance to the moon.

In actuality, they will be among the most restricted humans on earth for the next 120 hours, rather than the most travelled men alive.

Their earthbound quarters until 9 a.m. Monday is a 17 foot long cabin, measuring seven feet in width and six in height.

The test is designed to determine the ability of an air crew to live together and perform efficiently under long range flight conditions. The project chief is Charles Dempsey of the aero-medical lab escape section of the Wright Patterson Air Development Center.

The five, all volunteers, are rated pilots. Craft commander is Major Russel D. Brewington, 33, of Houston, Tex.

Making up the rest of the crew are: Capts. William D. Johnson, 33, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Dan D. Fulgham, 30, Pasadena, Tex.; James V. Kennedy, 36, Chicago, and Lawrence J. McEachern, 37, Millinocket, Me.

The first four hours of flight were spent at station in their capsules during the "climb out" to orbit.

Afterward, the commander, co-pilot and engineer were to follow a schedule of 16 hours on duty and eight off. The defense director and navigator spell each other at 12-hour intervals.

At one point in the trip, the crew is supposed to return to the "capsules" for an imaginary attack on some objective.

The capsules are hooded individual enclosures with minimum space for comfort. In theory they would provide air and protection to a crew member in the event of disaster, and could be ejected from the craft.

The cabin has a raised-floor "duty" section, and a carpeted leisure section complete with bunks and taped music.

During the test, crew members will put in 15 minutes of duty each hour during which reaction will be checked to psychological tests, light response, and other performance tasks. Cameras will record everything during the full 120 hours.

Gain Life Membership in Local Engineer Group

Stanley J. Filkens, retired Oakland County deputy drain commissioner, was one of two men presented with a life membership to the Oakland County Engineering Society last night.

The occasion was the annual dinner meeting and ladies' night of the society held at the Elks Temple.

Filkens lives at 1474 Benvenue St. and retired from the position last year. Earl Fuller, of Pleasant Ridge, retired mechanical engineer, was also given a life membership.

Lee V. Brown Elected President in Clifford

CLIFFORD—Surviving the challenge of a strong sticker candidate, Lee V. Brown won the village president's post in Clifford. He received 45 votes to 35 for Stanley Pasckla.

Elected clerk was Dick Markle; treasurer, Emily More, and assessor, Millard Easton. Voted in for two - year turstee terms were George McGinnis, Norris Clothier and John Wiater.

Missile Marked 'Fragile'

Atlas Delicate Monster

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Atlas missile is a delicate monster.

"It has "Fragile" printed in red letters up and down its shiny, stainless sides. The least little thing can throw its complicated electronics nervous system out of order.

These details were observed by and described to newsmen yesterday when, for the first time, they were allowed close enough to the missile to touch it. It was wet and cold, because of rain.

But it was impressive—a silver column with a rounded nose and red fins, standing on a launching platform. It was nearly as high as the 100-foot steel service tower around it.

Col. Otto Glasser, U.S. Air Force deputy commander for weapons systems, told newsmen that "inevitably, it will be the Air Force's first operational intercontinental missile."

That means it will be the first to soar across oceans with the capability of carrying a nuclear warhead.

The Atlas, which was on display at a test firing stand in Sycamore Canyon, 20 miles inland from here, is one of an undisclosed number that have been turned out by Convair-Astronautics, a subdivision of General Dynamics Corp.

Several of the two-million-dollar missiles have been test-fired out over the Atlantic from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

They have also been test-fired 14 times at Sycamore, but there they are anchored to launching platforms.

Great Lakes Channels Included

OKs River, Harbor Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee has approved an Army engineers' request to transfer $13,156,000 appropriated for other purposes to keep construction going at seven river and harbor projects.

The projects, and amounts which the corps said are required to keep work going through June 30, include:

Great Lakes connecting channels, Michigan, $1,000,000.

MORE PROOF THAT O-JIB-WA BITTERS WILL HELP YOUR ARTHRITIS

"I tried about everything for my arthritis and even went to Hot Springs, Arkansas for 11 weeks, but the results from O-Jib-Wa Bitters beat them all," says Mrs. Lucille Carey, 215 Lathers St., Garden City, Michigan.

"First, let me tell you how I suffered with arthritis for 12 long years. I had it in all parts of my body, as I couldn't close my hands, or raise my arms, and my neck was so stiff I had to turn my whole body to see to the side. Then to top it all off, my ankles were swollen to nearly three times their normal size, and I was down and couldn't even walk. The pain was so bad I couldn't touch my skin, and shots only helped me temporarily. A friend told me a year ago to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS, but I put it off, as I thought nothing could help, especially after a trip to Hot Springs didn't do much for me. I was getting worse, so three months ago I decided to try O-JIB-WA. To my surprise, after taking it only two weeks, I got up in the morning feeling like a new person. I could use my arms and legs again, and turn my head without pain. I continued to improve and now am about 100% better, and also notice that it helped my stomach, as I don't suffer from indigestion anymore. I offer this testimonial in hopes that you won't put off trying O-JIB-WA BITTERS immediately if you suffer, for I firmly believe that O-JIB-WA BITTERS will help you too."

Quietly Battles Oklahoma City Police

Widow Ahead in Garbage Row

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Mae Laverton Ross, 74, still had a point today in her quiet battle with the Police Department over garbage service.

Last Thursday, police knocked at her door to ask why she hadn't subscribed to the mandatory service at $1.50 a month.

Mrs. Ross wouldn't answer the door. The police decided to wait her out. They waited and waited and waited.

"I have enough to take care of myself but I don't have enough to spare for things I don't need," Mrs. Ross said later. "I'm a widow woman and I've been here 43 years. I've got along all that time without garbage service and I'm not of a mind to start now."

She said what little garbage she has goes into her compost pile.

The police on Monday asked her son to explain the city ordinance to her.

"I'll try," said Glen Ross. "Mother's sort of independent."

The police caught Mrs. Ross on the telephone yesterday and delivered an ultimatum — subscribe or go to jail.

"One of them told me he'd kick the door down and come in after me if I wasn't so old," Mrs. Ross said. "I got to thinking he might change his mind and kick it down anyway so I packed me a little bag just in case. If I was going to have to go to jail I figured I might need some things."

Some of the widow's friends approached the police and offered to take care of the garbage thing if the police would withdraw the ultimatum. The police agreed.

But Mrs. Ross had the last word.

"I haven't bought no garbage can," she said.

No Money for Payments Due Saturday

State to Hold Up School Aid Until May

LANSING (AP) — Michigan school districts will have to wait until some time early in May for the $28,500,000 in state school aid payments due on Saturday, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown reported.

Brown said that he, Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski and Controller James S. Miller all studied the state's shaky financial position separately and all came up with the same answer.

Brown explained that the March 15 distribution is in reality an advance payment against March and April sales tax collections, two-thirds of which are given to school districts under the constitution. This advance, he said, ordinarily has been financed by cash from other sales tax collection sources.

"The state's total cash position is presently so weak, however," Brown said, "that we agreed that under the law there will be no other cash resources which can be used to provide temporary financing, and the schools will have to wait for their March payment until early in May."

Brown said the state must meet a 15 million dollar bond principa and interest payment and a six million dollar payroll this week with a current cash balance of 10 million dollars.

In addition, Brown said the school aid fund currently is 21 million dollars in the red.

"We are assuming that a seven million dollar transfer from the state liquor monopoly and other miscellaneous revenue during the next few days will permit the state to squeeze through another fiscal crisis," Brown said, "without, however, offering any immediate relief for the school districts."

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, has warned that some school districts are in bad financial shape and already borrowing up to the hilt. The delay in state aid payments was expected to add to the troubles of these districts.

The last school aid distribution, due Jan. 15, was made a month and three days late because of a similar state cash shortage.

Agnes Moorehead Gets 'Harassed' Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Agnes Morehead, 48, has divorced actor Robert Gist, 36, as she said he had "harassed" her to do.

She testified yesterday that 17 months after their marriage he asked her to obtain a quick Mexican divorce so he could remarry.

"He harassed me for the next two years with as many as three telephone calls a day, and in the past two years various women have called to urge me to get a divorce," the red-haired actress told Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch.

Under a property settlement she retains a Beverly Hills home and Gist gets a chicken ranch. He will pay $1 monthly token alimony.

Most Acclaimed Movie of Year Coming to City

Most acclaimed screen production of the year, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," is coming soon to the Oakland Theater. The Technicolor spectacular, produced by Columbia Pictures, stars William Holden, Alec Guiness and Jack Hawkins.

The film, based on a novel by French author Pierre Boulle, is the ironic story of a gigantic timber bridge in Malaya, over the River Kwai.

The bridge is built by British war prisoners for their Japanese captors during World War II. It becomes a symbol of pride for the prisoners and a symbol of defeat for the Japanese.

Realistically filmed in the Ceylon jungle, two years of research went into background work for the movie before production was started or a cast chosen.

They're Lucky This Time

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The children who tossed a match into a tanker filled with gasoline are lucky to be alive. Fire Chief August Rassche said the only reason there wasn't an explosion was because the tanker was full, leaving no room for fumes to develop. The children scattered when the gasoline caught fire. None were injured.

Reunited With Dog

Blind Man 'Set Free'

HACKBRIDGE, England (AP) — With joyful laugh, Jeff Davis Duty, 22-year-old blind American student, was reunited with his Seeing Eye dog today after half a year's separation.

"Thank God, now I can be independent again," said Duty, of Rogers, Ark., hugging his Alsatian, Binney.

In accordance with Britain's strict quarantine laws, Binney was locked up when Duty arrived last September to study law at the London school of economics. Since then the American has been living in a hostel with English students and has been visiting his dog two or three times a week at the government's quarantine kennels.

"I've had her five years and I don't think we could ever forget each other," Duty told newsmen before being driven back to London.

"But it's a long business training a guide dog and teaching her your ways and I didn't want her to forget anything I had taught her. Besides, we are much too attached to each other to want to be parted for long."

Duty was one of 200 young Americans who came to Britain last fall to study on a Fulbright fellowship. He plans to stay another six months.

"I have another year to put in at the University of Arkansas," Duty said. "After that it is my ambition to work in the State Department."

Britain's Ministry of Agriculture refused to relax the rigid quarantine laws to allow the LOS ANGELES (AP) — Someday young American and his dog to stay together. But he was allowed to visit Binney more regularly than other owners.

"My English friends have been wonderfully kind to me," he said, "but I shall be able to get out and about by myself now that I have Binney back again, and I shall begin to enjoy life more."

Duty does his studies partly with the help of Braille and partly with friends to read to him.

Forrest Tucker Gets Role in 'Auntie Mame' Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — What a break for Forrest Tucker who has been a globe trotter for the past few years. He now lands his most important role in Rosalind Russell's "Auntie Mame."

Jack Warner, just back from New York where he's been on business and where he received an award, said today that Forrest will bring to the screen the character of Beauregard Burnside, the distinguished southern gentleman who marries Auntie Mame. If you saw the Broadway hit, you know he figures importantly.

Morton da Costa, who is directing, agreed with Jack on the selection of Forrest.

The science-fiction films get a great play throughout the country. Most men like them and all teenagers and also many women. That's why Buddy Adler bought "The Fly," a story by James Clavell.

Patricia Owens, who played the jilted American girl in "Sayonara" and was also in "No Down Payment," gets her biggest nod in "The Fly" which Kurt Neuman has been assigned to direct and produce.

Seems Charlie Chaplin Jr. has no fear of incurring Sr's wrath because he's listening to a proposition from Jackie Coogan to play Chaplin Sr. in Coogan's life story.

When Chaplin heard that the young man he discovered when he was a little boy (he put Jackie in the well known comedy "The Kid") was planning to make the Coogan biography, he warned Jackie that a lawsuit would result if Chaplin Sr. was so much as mentioned.

Chaplin Jr. and Jackie became good friends on the set of "High School Confidential" at MGM, with the result that junior, who had a great war record during World War II and is a nice boy, said he was interested.

I caught up with Cary Grant who was sunning himself in Palm Springs to ask about Ingrid Bergman's new romantic attachment, Lars Schmidt, whom I assumed Cary must have met when he was making "Indiscreet" with Ingrid.

"Yes, I met him," said Cary, "and he is a very personable young man. I am deeply and sincerely devoted to Ingrid and I hope she will be happy."

This brought about the question of when Ingrid will be free to marry. Cary and I wondered if her marriage to Rossellini in Mexico was really a legal marriage since neither party was present. I had heard indirectly that the attorney sent to Mexico to represent Ingrid and Rossellini wants to find out if the marriage had been entered in the registry and, if it had, to ask for an annulment.

Woman Interrupts Broadway Play to Slap Actor

NEW YORK (AP) — A young woman got into the third act of the Broadway play "Look Back in Anger" last night by climbing from the audience to the stage and slapping Kenneth Haigh, the male star, across the face.

Haigh was seated and reading a newspaper. At this point in John Osborne's play about domestic conflict, Haigh has settled down to live with a woman not his wife.

On stage with him were Vivan Drummond and Alan Bates.

Miss Drummond called for the curtain and Bates and Haigh carried the interloper off stage.

Haigh said the woman murmured, "He left me, he left me," as she approached him.

Harold Stone, the stage manager at the Lyceum Theater, offered to refund the audience its money. The audience called for the play to continue and it did after a short interval.

No charge was placed against the woman.

Current Economic Guessing Game Crucial

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy may be saved or wrecked by the guessing game now going on: Is it better to start a huge federal spending program to fight the recession or wait in the hope it will go away?

The antirecession arguments focus on two main methods: a tax cut or big and new federal spending. This is a good time to ask:

What's the difference—in principle — between big government spending or a big tax cut to overcome the depression? There's no basic difference. They'd both cost the government money. One might work faster than the other.

Both the Eisenhower administration and the Democratic leadership in Congress are cautious about a tax cut now. Eisenhower, full of optimism the economy will take a natural upturn, is full of caution in all directions.

He shows no eagerness for a big, antirecession spending program, although he has urged speeding up of projects already approved by Congress.

Not all members of Congress are as hesitant about a tax cut as Eisenhower and the Democratic leaders. For instance, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) wants a tax cut now of around $5,200,000,000.

The Eisenhower administration —despite the dim view the President previously took of it — is showing increasing signs of thinking of a tax cut. Vice President Nixon this week urged it—unless the economy improves soon.

Yesterday Eisenhower put off any immediate decision on the tax cut idea, but he's going to start discussing it with top Republicans.

On March 8 Eisenhower made this statement: ". . . The proper relation of government to the growth and vigor of (the American) economy must necessarily be to stimulate private production and employment, not to substitute public spending for private spending."

And he derided the Democrats' "pump-priming schemes." But most of the steps he's urged—in speedup of authorized programs or the spending of new money—are essentially pump-priming steps.

In one sense, at least, a tax cut also would amount to public spending.

Government spending programs hand out government dollars. But a tax cut would just as truly be handing out government money by letting people keep their dollars which otherwise would have gone to the government.

A five-billion-dollar spending program or a five-billion-dollar tax cut would cost the government exactly the same.

There is this difference in effect: a tax cut would put money faster into the hands of people to spend on things they want and thus create jobs for people to make the things they want. A big federal spending program wouldn't affect everybody and no doubt would take longer to boost the economy.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: How can anybody eat birds' nests?

ANSWER: Most birds' nests are made of dried grasses, feathers, twigs and string. Certainly no one could eat materials like that. But "bird's nest soup," which is a great delicacy to the Chinese, is made from one particular kind of bird nest, entirely different from the ones we are used to thinking of.

Along the coasts of Siam and the Malay Archipelago are many high cliffs, which are used in the nesting season by thousands of birds which resemble our own Chimney Swift. The swifts build nests with their saliva, which dries into a kind of thin white gelatin. This is the material which the Chinese use for making soup. Europeans who have tasted it say it is very good. Gathering the nests is an important industry.

You may wonder how the swifts keep on multiplying if so many of their nests are taken for food. After the gatherers have taken the first nests, the swifts start to build others. These, too, may be taken, but the third nests are always left so the swifts can rear their families.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look in your bird book to find information about the nesting habits of swifts. But even if you should find the nest of a swift in an old chimney, don't try to eat it!

Little Rock School Reinstates Student

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—School officials last night announced the reinstatement of a 16-year-old white girl they had expelled from integrated Central High School.

Sammie Dean Parker, who figured in several racial incidents at the strife-torn school, won another chance after she promised to behave.

Shortly before the announcement by the school board, her attorney withdrew a state court suit which sought to make officials readmit her.

The petite blonde was expelled Feb. 28 for the rest of the term. The school board said she was ousted in connection with an attack on a woman school official.

Earlier the board had suspended Sammie Dean after cards appeared at the school reading "One down, eight to go." This was a reference to the expulsion of Minnijean Brown, one of nine Negro students who entered the school last fall under the protection of federal troops.

Ruling Covers Expense Funds

New Tax Regulation Won't Require Itemizing of Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most taxpayers can relax and quit worrying about keeping detailed records of their expense accounts for their 1958 tax returns.

The Internal Revenue Service gave out the news in the form of a proposed change in its regulations.

An employe who accounts to his employer for his business expenses will not be required to report such expenses on his return, either itemized or in total amount. He simply will have to state that expense funds received by him from his employer didn't exceed ordinary and necessary business expenses.

But the employe who does not account to his employer must report on his return the total of his expenses for such things as travel, transportation and entertainment. He also must report the number of days away from home on business, and the amount of his expenses broken down in broad categories.

Technically, the changes are still in the nature of a proposed regulation. This is customary procedure, to give interested persons 30 days in which to file written comments, pro and con. Formal adoption comes later.

Detailed records of expense receipts and expenditures were supposed to be included in 1957 tax returns, but the revenue service said people with small expense accounts could forget it.

Ringing Doorbell Saves Family From Burning

BALDWIN PARK, Calif. (AP)—A ringing doorbell awakened Jesse A. C. Niemela, 39, vice principal of Baldwin Park High School, his wife and 10-year-old daughter.

It got them up in time to flee from their burning house.

Firemen said an attic fire from an overheated furnace short-circuited the doorbell.

3 German Reds Quit

BERLIN (AP)—Three rebel East German Communist leaders purged last month from the party Central Committee have resigned from Parliament. The trio—Karl Schirdewan, Ernst Wollweber and Fred Oelssner—lost out in a power struggle with Stalinist boss Walter Ulbricht. They have been ousted from most of their official functions.

3 'Uncertain' of Crop, Judge Says Marijuana

BOSTON (AP)—Three men who rented a farm in Westport last summer said they weren't sure what they grew there.

Eladio Rivera, 67, and his brother Victor, 63, both of Hartford, Conn., said they thought the crop was corn.

Alphonse Amarello, 42, of Fall River, contended he didn't know the seeds "were loaded."

A federal court judge told them the crop was marijuana.

He sentenced the elder Rivera to three years and the other two men to two years each for growing marijuana.

Tigers Drop Another One-Run Decision

From The PRESS BOX

Dick Parfitt, whose Marysville team opens the Class B regional here tonight against Brighton, is hopeful of meeting his brother John's Inkster Roosevelt team at Lansing next week. Roosevelt won its regional opener last night. Parfitt, a former Central Michigan star, has a 6-4 195-pound native of Germany as his starting center. Uve "Krait" Wiese came to this country four years ago.

The Michigan Elks bowling tournament comes to a close this weekend at Muskegon. Detroit entries are currently leading both team divisions and actual scores in singles and doubles.

Pro basketball on the West Coast may not be too far off. NBA boss Maurice Podoloff is reportedly being bombarded daily by L. A., Portland and San Francisco interests with former league stars leading the bidding.

Bowling star Joe Joseph, who has appeared at several local alleys in recent weeks as an instructor, says pretty Bowlerama participant Dot Kummer has the potential to become one of the top women bowlers in the country. The 3rd place finisher in the Press tourney may team with Joseph in a mixed doubles lead. She is the daughter of Montcalm Centre proprietor Stan Mayes.

Manchester, N. H. writer Lee Cloutier, a close friend of Ted Williams, claims he has seen the Thumper's 1958 contract and that it is for $150,000, not $125,000, as estimated earlier. Ted gave Cloutier an almost new car a few years ago when he learned he was going to be given a new one by the Boston fans.

Bruce Jones, a junior from Ravenna, has been named captain of the 1958-59 Ferris Institute basketball team. Most valuable player of the past year, for an unprecedented Ferris mark of four consecutive seasons, is Roger Vanderlaan, a senior from Grand Rapids. Vanderlaan, a center, scored 973 points during his Ferris career.

NEW CATCHER — The Detroit Tigers have a new catcher this season, but he's no stranger to major league baseball. Jim Hegan, the veteran backstop acquired from the Cleveland Indians in a Detroit-Cleveland trade this winter, is shown here warming up a pitcher at the Tigers' spring training camp in Lakeland, Fla.

Yanks, Pirates in 1st Florida Exhibition Wins

Boston Now Has Three Victories, Cards Bow Despite Grand-Slam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees came up with their initial exhibition victories, while rain in Florida and Arizona marred three other games on yesterday's exhibition schedule.

Pittsburgh rapped Washington pitching for 15 hits in a 7-3 decision at Fort Myers, Fla., but three Senator errors accounted for four unearned runs, Bennie Daniels, Eddie O'Brien and Don Gross held Washington to seven hits.

The Cincinnati Redlegs jumped on starter Tom Sturdivant for three runs in the first inning at Tampa, Fla., but the Yankees rallied for a 5-3 victory. The Redlegs got four hits in the first inning, after which Sturdivant set them down. Mark Freeman, up from Denver, and Al Cicotte each pitched three scoreless innings for New York, each permitting one safety.

Joe Cunningham slapped a grand-slam homer to put the St. Louis Cardinals ahead 8-7 in the seventh inning against the Kansas City Athletics at St. Petersburg, Fla. but the A's shoved seven runs over the plate in the ninth and took a 14-8 decision.

With one away in the ninth inning, successive singles by Haywood Sullivan, Gene Stephens and Billy Consolo brought in the run which gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla. It was the third straight exhibition victory for Boston.

The Chicago Cubs scored four runs in the fifth inning on two singles, Jerry Kindall's double, and two errors by Orlando Cepeda San Francisco Giants first baseman, to win a 4-2 decision. The game at Mesa, Ariz., was called in the sixth on account of rain.

GETS BACK IN TIME — Detroit Tiger outfielder Al Kaline dives safely back to second base to escape a rundown during Tuesday's exhibition game with the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater, Fla. Solly Hemus, Phillie second baseman, takes the throw from shortstop Roy Smalley. Kaline was trapped between second and third after Ray Boone grounded to Smalley. The Tigers lost the game, 10-9.

Detroiters Can't Produce Big Hit When Needed

Bengals Get 16 Blows but Phillies Chalk Up 10-9 Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

CLEARWATER, Fla.—It is often said in baseball that the mark of a champion is the ability to win the close ones. The Yankees have thrived on this adage for many seasons.

But for the Tigers, who have battled back in the 9th inning of each of the four exhibition games played to date, the story is the same—another one run loss.

Yesterday it was the Philadelphia Phillies who handed the Tigers their third loss in four starts by a single run margin, 10-9.

In each case, Detroit just didn't have that extra base hit needed in the clutch which could have produced a victory.

The Tigers rapped out 16 hits but still left 11 men stranded on the bases as the Phillies got to five Detroit pitchers for 11 hits and nine walks.

Paul Foytack started and he was followed by Lou Sleater, who suffered the loss, with Joe Presko, Fred Gladding and Don Lee following in that order.

The most vicious pounding was handed little Presko, the 165-pound righthander who probably signed his bus ticket to Charleston after being knocked from the hill for the second time.

Against Milwaukee in the opener, Presko pitched only two innings as he gave up six runs, six hits and a walk. Yesterday the Phillies hit him for a homer, double, triple and two singles and five runs before he was removed without retiring a batter in the 7th inning.

Foytack allowed three runs, two hits and six walks in his three innings after the Tigers took a 3-0 lead in the second inning.

After Ray Boone singled, Lou Skizas singled and Charley Lau singled to load the bases, Boros walked to force home Boone, Martin hit a fly to score Skizas and Kuenn slapped a triple to score Lau for the 3rd run.

When Foytack walked Roy Smalley in the third inning, he forced in a run to tie the count at 3-3.

In the 5th inning Skizas got his third straight hit of the game to drive in Kaline who singled and was sacrificed. This made it 4-3 for Detroit.

In the 6th frame, pinch hitter Bob Bowman blasted one of Sleater's pitches over the 380-foot mark in left field and a moment later Skizas let the ball go through him for an error, allowing Don Landrum to score after he had walked to give the Phillies a 5-4 lead they never lost.

After the big 7th inning, highlighted by Tom Shollin's homer and Landrum's triple with the bases loaded, the score was 10-4.

But the Tigers fought back with four runs in the 8th when Lau tripled, Bertoia walked, Frank Bolling doubled, Martin doubled and Kaline doubled to account for the scoring.

Lau also started the 9th inning rally with his third hit. Bertoia followed with a single and Martin singled to make it 10-9. But Groth popped out with two men on base to end the game.

Skizas now has seven hits in 11 trips to the plate in exhibition play. Kuenn has had five hits in the last two games and Kaline has had three hits in his last five trips to the plate.

Bob Miller, formerly of U. of D., who relieved starter Robin Roberts, formerly of MSU, got credit for the win.

The Cincinnati Redlegs are at Henley Field today, with Billy Hoeft, Ronnie Rozman and Hank Aguirre sharing Tiger pitching duties.

Ted May Oppose AL Helmet Rule

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

What's happening along baseball's exhibition circuit after four days? For one thing, the first rhubarb of the year involving Ted Williams may be brewing.

For another, the Yankees and Braves have been officially installed favorites but between them have lost five of their seven spring starts.

Boston and the Chicago Cubs have yet to lose. Willie Mays is still hitless. And Joe Cunningham is establishing himself as the best substitute first-baseman in the business.

The American League officially notified its umpires yesterday that all players must wear helmets or some kind of protective headgear this season.

The rule already is on the National League books and the junior circuit approved it by a 7-to-1 vote at Colorado Springs last December. Boston general manager Joe Cronin was the only dissenter because he knew Williams wouldn't go for it.

The American League batting champion adamantly has refused to wear a helmet, asserting that it interferes with his hitting. There was no immediate reaction from Ted, who was ordered to pass up batting practice for the next few days because of a stitch in his left side.

The oddsmakers came out with their first line on the pennant race yesterday and established the Yanks as 3-to-5 favorites to repeat in the American League and Milwaukee as 6-to-5 choices in the National.

28 Other County Wrestlers Entered

4 Chiefs in State Tourney

Four Pontiac Central Chiefs will be among 32 Oakland County wrestlers to compete in the state wrestling tournament at the University of Michigan this weekend.

All earned the right to compete against mat stars from three other regionals by finishing in the top four of their weight class in last weekend's tourney at Berkley.

The county group represents eight schools with Hazel Park's nine entries topping the list. Berkley and Royal Oak Kimball, surprise team of the area regional, will have six boys each, Southfield follows Pontiac with three, Farmington will have two, Royal Oak Dondero and Oak Park one each.

Regional winners Dave Payne, 127, and Mel Nosanchuk, 133, little Jack Keller and sophomore Erasmo Trevino will carry the PCH colors.

One of the outstanding candidates for state honors is 95-pounder Ruford Black of Hazel Park. He is unbeaten in 24 matches for the last two seasons and pinned four straight foes at Berkley.

State competition will be at the Intramural Sports Building Friday afternoon and night and again Saturday.

The county entries are:

95—Black, Don Margherini (F), Dave Butler (S).
103—Tony Licata (HP), Keller (P).
112—Jerry Gleason (B), Bob Tribula (HP).
120—Jim Marsh (F), Jim Mitchell (HP), Jerry White (B).
127—Payne (P), Butch Harris (ROK), Jim Wellman (HP).
133—Nosanchuk (P), Tom Casselman (ROD), Norman Gussin (OP).

Webb to Fight Mims Tonight

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Spider Webb, one of the hottest middleweight contenders since he knocked out Rory Calhoun in January, will risk a possible shot at the title tonight in a 10-round bout with crafty Holly Mims.

Carl Nelson, Webb's trainer and formerly Joe Louis', frankly called it a bad match for Webb, who won't gain much prestige by defeating the 29-year-old Mims but has everything to lose.

Manhattan Upsets Top Team in NCAA Tourney

West Virginia Out of Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The far-flung NCAA basketball tournament takes another step tonight toward lining up its 16-team field for four class-packed regionals this weekend while the biggest of them all, top-ranked West Virginia, lies flat on its face.

Even a team rated best in the nation by the experts voting in the final Associated Press poll couldn't help West Virginia overcome the baffling jinx that says WVU just doesn't win in the NCAA tournament.

Four straight years they've tried in their Southern Conference reign under Coach Freddie Schaus, and four times they've been bounced to the sidelines in their first game. Last night, it was the most baffling of all as the Mountaineers, thrown far off balance in the first half, fell before an inspired Manhattan College team, 89-84 in the feature of a tournament triple-header at New York's Madison Square Garden.

"Manhattan hustled like hell, drove like hell and rebounded like hell," said Schaus. "That's the story."

"Weren't the kids great?" asked Manhattan Coach Kenny Norton, who was nearly mauled by his team and delirious spectators after the startling upset.

It's on to the NCAA Eastern Regional at Charlotte, N.C., Friday night for Manhattan, in which they'll meet Dartmouth's Ivy League champions, who won the Garden opener from Connecticut 75-64. Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference champions will play streaking Temple, which drew a first round bye, in the other game at Charlotte. The Terps crushed Boston College 86-63 in the Garden windup.

Notre Dame routed Tennessee Tech 94-61, Miami of Ohio surprised Pitt 82-77, and Oklahoma State used free throw accuracy to beat Loyola of New Orleans 59-42 in other NCAA first round games last night.

Arkansas joined the tournament field by cuffing Southern Methodist in a playoff for the Southwest Conference championship, 61-55.

Tonight at Berkeley, Calif., Wyoming of the Skyline Conference meets Seattle and Rocky Mountain champ Idaho State plays Border champ Arizona State of Tempe, with the winners advancing to the Far West NCAA regional at San Francisco.

The National Invitation Tournament, with a 12-team field, opens at Madison Square Garden on Thursday.

No Upsets in Opening Night of Regional Hoop Action

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's talent laden Class C high school basketball teams continue to batter each other around in the chase for the championship won last year by Lakeview.

Another flock of strong Class C clubs dropped out of the tournament last night as the regionals began with a sparse schedule.

Edmore (16-3), Corunna (13-5), Hudsonville Unity Christian (14-6) and Ypsilanti Lincoln (15-5) all were knocked off. And there wasn't an upset in the bunch.

West Muskegon Christian (17-3) toyed with Edmore and won easily, 64-36. Ken Vendyke, a 6-6 rebounder, cleared both backboards to keep the strong Edmore team at bay. Olivet (17-2) brushed past Hudsonville Unity Christian 50-46.

Michigan Center (15-3) opened up its attack in the fourth quarter and broke open a tight game while downing Ypsilanti Lincoln 53-43.

Corunna also was a victim of a last period outburst as it lost 59-41 to Marlette (13-5).

Flint Utley (20-0) trounced Saginaw St. Mary 58-37, Grosse Pointe St. Paul (19-1) whipped Orchard Lake St. Mary 65-45 and Hudson (18-1) won an overtime squeaker with Riverview 42-40 in other important Class C games.

Don Cisco was Hudson's star as he scored the winning basket early in the overtime period and permitted his once-beaten team to freeze the rest of the way.

Holland Christian (18-3), Inkster Roosevelt (18-1) and Detroit St. Andrew were winners of the only Class B games last night.

Holland Christian was tied at halftime by Portage (11-7), but quickly opened up a gap in the second half and won 50-36. Inkster Roosevelt never was in trouble as it defeated Tecumseh 65-54 for its 18th straight victory after bowing in its opener. St. Andrew beat Detroit Cathedral Center 58-43.

Hebert's Form Colorful Pro Golf Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Until Lionel Hebert won the national PGA championship last summer, he was generally known just as Jay Hebert's younger brother—the fat one who blows a hot trumpet.

Even after Hebert captured the national match play title, with a 2 and 1 victory over steady-shooting Dow Finsterwald, golf fans found it hard to change their viewpoint.

Rotund, good natured "Liney" played the same kind of golf as champion that he had as an unknown. He seldom visited the tournament pay window during the rest of 1957.

But on Feb. 9, 1958—three weeks after his 30th birthday—Lionel won his first medal play tournament, the Tucson Open. Then it became evident that the younger of the Hebert brothers from the Louisiana Bayous had arrived as a serious contender on the pro tour.

Hebert was the third of the comparatively young and little-known winners on the winter tour. Billy Casper and Ken Venturi were ahead of him.

With Lionel a winner, it appears that he and Jay will form a brother team as strong and colorful as any pro golf has known. And quite likely the driving force will come from "Liney."

He's a deceptive sort of guy. His pudgy frame conceals a lot of solid muscle and though he's pleasant mannered and tremendously popular, he periodically chews out his older brother for being too easy-going to win in rugged competition.

The Hebert brothers are throwbacks to the old-time golf pros. They started as caddies in a little Louisiana town, Lafayette, because that was one way a kid could earn two bits in depression times. They shared one battered club, playing down a dusty road to the 9-hole course—and occasionally, when the pro wasn't looking, on the course itself.

Jay turned professional in 1949, Lionel in 1950, after he had won the Louisiana State Amateur and Open titles.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Third of a series)

By BEN OLAN

MAYO SMITH

Mayo Smith probably is the least known among major league managers. Baseball men, however, are quick to point out that he has turned in a fine showing with the Philadlphia Phillies.

Smith's quick thinking was responsible for many of the Phillies' 1957 triumphs. Here's an example of his sound strategy. Would you have done the same thing in this situation?

It's the last of the ninth at Chicago and the Cubs and Phillies are tied 1-1. Warren Hacker (R) is on the mound for the Phils. Jerry Kindall starts the inning by striking out. Bob Speake grounds out. With two out, Ernie Banks draws a base on balls and moves to third on Walt Moryn's single to right. Chuck Tanner (L) is the next batter with Jim Bolger (R) to follow.

Would you:
a. Let Hacker pitch to Tanner?
b. Bring in a lefthander to pitch to Tanner?
c. Have Hacker walk Tanner intentionally?

(Other data: Hacker has given up three hits and walked three in 8⅔ innings; Tanner has no hits in two tries and Bolger is one-for-three in the game; Harvey Haddix and Curt Simmons are the Phils' available southpaws.)

Result: C — Hacker walks Tanner intentionally filling the bases. Then he retires Bolger on an infield grounder to end the inning. Phils pick up two runs in 10th and win 3-1 (July 26).

Walled Laker Hits Sizzling 748 Series

One of the area's hottest actual pin series was fired last night at the B&M lanes, in Walled Lake, by Art Griffon. Griffon compiled a 748 pinfall on games of 215-296-237, missed a possible "perfect" 300 when his last ball missed the headpin, left the 1-2-4-10 pins standing.

Griffon rolls with the Tuesday Night league, a 12-team loop in which his team, the Taylor Chevrolets, is 6th. His big series and game are his best kegling efforts and loop's top total for the season. Jim Walker of Weldon's Sports, in the same league, fired a 732 earlier in the month.

Rookie Hobbie Making Cub Brass Smile Plenty

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The tall, blond rookie took his place on the mound against Willie Mays and the San Francisco Giants, retired seven straight batters as if he owned them, walked the eighth and got the next two out with no trouble at all.

Such was the 1958 debut of the 21-year-old right-hander, Glen Hobbie. And the Chicago Cubs, from the front office brass to the batboy, agreed that the $50,000 paid for the youngster looks like a sound investment.

It was only a three-inning stint by Hobbie the Horse, who stands 6-3 and weighs about 198, but it was an impressive start for the young man from Witt, Ill.

As a matter of fact, Manager Bob Scheffing noted today that Hobbie has a fast ball that is even faster than the one he let loose against the Giants yesterday.

"His fast ball? Well, it goes like this—." And Scheffing indicated with his hands a streak of lightning.

Rochester Top Threat in PCH Event Starting Tonight

Troy Favored in Regional

By CHUCK ABAIR

The curtain goes up on another week of tournament basketball at Pontiac Central tonight with the 1st of four games which will decide this sectors representative in the quarter-finals.

Hot-and cold Wayne - Oakland League quintet Brighton and Marysville, co-champion of the St. Clair area loop, will get things under way tonight at 7:30.

The winner will meet West Bloomfield in the nightcap of a big Friday night twin-bill.

ENTHUSIASTIC ROOTERS — Part of the fan gallery at the opening round of play in the Birmingham regional Class "C" cage tourney, was snapped by The Press' Ron Wagman, Tuesday night, just after a nice scoring play by St. Mary's Eaglets. The group above are Orchard Lake backers. Their enthusiastic support, however, didn't help the Eaglets win. St. Mary lost to Grosse Pte. St. Paul 65-45.

Opening that program will be a game which many observers feel will decide the tourney champion. It matches unbeaten Troy (18-0) and a determined Rochester quintet now sporting a 14-5 mark.

Friday's victors go right back at it Saturday for the title and the right to move on to Lansing.

Troy is rated the slight pre-tourney favorite because of its perfect record and an earlier triumph over rugged Rochester but the Falcons have been coming along fast. Marysville is considered the darkhorse.

The Oakland B champion Colts hit their scoring peak with 80 points in winning their home district easily. Rochester got a chance to play twice at PCH last week while taking Oxford and Lake Orion.

Both teams have a deliberate style of play with well balanced attacks. Dick Booth and Wayne Figley head the Troy contingent while Rchester has an outstanding playmaker - scorer combination in Carl Montross.

Tonight's contest is somewhat of a puzzler. Brighton was only 5-9 for the regular slate but numbered W-O powers Clarkston and Northville among its victims with big scoring ace Brian Watson leading the way. Marysville has won 15 of 19 with good height and scoring power.

West Bloomfield can't be counted out with such capable scorers as John "Jump Shot" Lucadam and Jim Hollister in the lineup. The Lakers will be a definite threat if center Rolf Gordhammer can contribute some point - getting and rebounding help to the cause.

There will be no tournament play Thursday.

Survivor Meets Bentley Friday for 'A' Honors

Livonia Quintet Ousts Catholic Central With 55-49 Triumph

By BILL CORNWELL

A berth in the finals of the Class A regional basketball tournament and possible advancement to the state quarter-finals will be at stake tonight when Pontiac Central and Waterford clash in the Livonia Bentley gymnasium.

The two neighborhood rivals will be struggling for tourney survival and the right to play host Bentley on Friday night for the regional crown.

Bentley's well-balanced quintet qualified for a place in the finals with a 55-49 victory over pesky Detroit Catholic Central last night before a jam-packed audience.

Tonight's Pontiac-Waterford collision will be the 2nd between the two high schools this season. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

The Chiefs and the Skippers met on the hardwoods for the 1st time in history a little less than two months ago, a January 14 encounter at PCH. Waterford gave the Chiefs hard competition for two quarters, then yielded to superior force for a 71-41 setback.

Pontiac held only a 33-26 halftime lead against the inspired Skippers, but ran away from the enemy after intermission for a comparatively easy win.

John Herrington, Waterford's scoring ace, was held to a skimpy nine points in that contest and it was the 17-point shooting of guard Jim Devine that helped to keep the Skippers in contention.

Herrington would like to have a prosperous point - making effort against the Chiefs to atone for his previous poor showing and he could think of no better time to do it than this evening.

The 6-foot-2 Skipper center holds the school's individual single game scoring record of 31 points, a feat he has performed twice this season.

No matter how you look at it, the Chiefs must be strongly favored to win this engagement. They appear to have too many horses and too much balance for the Skippers to contain.

Overconfidence is the greatest single factor working against the Chiefs. The history of tournament play proves conclusively that what happened during the regular season has to be thrown out the window when the schoolboy scramble begins.

Bentley and Catholic Central waged a nip-and-tuck battle yesterday. Bentley maintained a steady lead throughout the game, but the Shamrocks were always in contention.

The Bulldogs held a 29-27 edge at halftime, then spurted to boost their margin to 10 points in the 3rd quarter. Central rallied to cut Bentley's lead to 48-46 with 1:10 of game time remaining, but four consecutive foul shots by the Bulldogs secured the win.

Paul Bibeau of Catholic Central took scoring honors with 22 points while Ron Gable and Jim Carmichael topped Bentley with 18 and 14 respectively.

The Birmingham Class A regional tournament gets under way tonight with Berkley and Highland Park locking horns at 8 o'clock, followed by the 9:15 duel between Royal Oak Dondero and Ferndale.

Eaglets Bow to Flyers at Birmingham

By H. GUY MOATS

Last of the Pontiac area Class "C" high school basketball teams bowed out of the MHSAA tourneys last night when Orchard Lake St. Mary's Eaglets were blasted by a sizzling Grosse Pte., St. Paul club, 65-45, in the opening tilt in the Birmingham High School regional event.

Three contests marked this regional's first night of action.

Suburban Catholic League's unbeaten loop champion St. Benedict of Highland Park spanked a stubborn Detroit St. Thomas five, 59-50, and St. Gregory of Detroit won over St. Charles of Detroit, 45-43.

The Tuesday winners, plus Richmond, which drew a first round bye, get back in action Thursday, with the final set for Saturday at 8 p.m. St. Paul meets Richmond at 8 p.m., and St. Benedict plays St. Gregory at 9:15.

Eaglets started fast against the tall Flyers, taking a four-point lead early in the first period, and holding on for a 11-8 count going into the second session. But that was it for the Orchard Lakers, as long Russ Beaupre and 6-6 Gary Anderson collaforated for a string of 10 fast points to lead the Flyers to a 25-point 2nd period and a 33-19 halftime scre.

Anderson was the game's top scorer with 26. Two other Flyers were in double figures, Dave Ayeault with 11 and Joe Lauer with 10. Eaglets also had three in double figures, Stan Moniuszko with 12, Art Goisdinski with 11 and be-spectacled Chet Wlodkowski with 15.

St. Mary's season record wound up at 15-6.

LOW BRIDGE! — Chet Wlodkowski (12) with ball, St. Mary's guard, looks up in surprise at the arched arms of Gary Anderson (11) and Dave Ayeault (44) of St. Paul. Tight Games Mark Waterford Action

Two tight contests marked action Tuesday night in the Waterford Recreational Basketball League, with Johnson and Anderson defeating Hutchinson Mobile 53-40 and Drayton Drugs taking over first place on a 58-57 thriller against White Swan.

Thursday's games, at Crary Junior High gymnasium, pit Jaycees against an as yet unnamed five in an exhibition, and M59 Sunoco vs. Ryesons in the nightcap at 8:30.

First game last night was close most of the way, but in the finale the JA's hit 15 to 3 for Mobile, led by Bill Newcomb's 6 points. Bill had 16 for the game, but Joe Umphrey's 18 for losers was tops.

Drugs won the seesaw battle that changed leaders a number of times in the last 40 seconds. Going into last period Swans led, 52-43. Then Drugs blasted the hoops for a 15-5 total, led by John Collins with 8 and Bob Pickett with 6 points, to snatch the win. Pickett was tops for the game with 27. Harry Dearborn had 18 for Swan.

Lou Koprince Bowls 299 at West Side

This is one bowling season Motor Inn proprietor Lou Koprince will never forget. Except for a below par showing in the Pontiac Press Bowlerama finals, he has turned in some remarkable keg feats.

The topper occurred Monday night when he rolled a 299 game in the West Side Classic league which is made up of some of the leading local bowlers.

It was the peak effort of a lengthy career for likeable Lou. A 288 twelve years ago had been his best previous one-game showing in 25 years of constant bowling.

"I hit too high on the last frame and got the Brooklyn," commented Lou about just missing the 300 mark. He had no excuses but admitted he was nervous.

All other activity halted at West Side as Lou battled his way down the stretch. There has never been a sanctioned 300 in the eight-year history of the Orchard Lake avenue establishment.

Koprince was bowling with the strong Sam Benson team when his big game turned up. The team currently leads the state tourney and the National Elks meet in actual pins and is 3rd in each in handicap. Lou hit 705 to rank 4th in all events in the state and had 673 at the Elks tourney which gives an indication of his success during the past few weeks.

Go to Bentley Early if You Want a Ducat

If you're planning to attend tonight's Pontiac Central-Waterford regional tournament basketball game at Livonia Bentley, get there early or you may be out of luck.

That's the advice of Tom Dodson, Pontiac athletic director. Dodson was unable to obtain tickets for Pontiac and Waterford fans at Monday's regional draw at Bentley.

"Tickets will be sold strictly on a first-come-first-served basis," Dodson announced.

Game time is 8:30 p.m. Bentley High School is located on 5-Mile Road just west of Middlebelt.

Rangers Tie Wings Again, 2-2

New York Team Clinches Berth in Cup Playoffs

Visitors Finish Unbeaten at Olympia; Wings Now Share 3rd With Boston

DETROIT (AP) — If the New York Rangers feel a warm glow when they skate onto the ice at Olympia Stadium, there's a reason. They haven't lost a game there all season.

The Rangers kept the record intact last night, tying the Detroit Red Wings 2-2 and clinching a berth in the Stanley Cup playoffs for the third year in a row.

New York is the only National Hockey League team that has kept the Wings winless on their home ice in the last 14 seasons. The Rangers won 4 and tied 3 at Olympia this year.

The Rangers slick-sticked their way from behind in the last period on a three-footer by elusive Camille (The Eel) Henry who feinted Wings' goalie Terry Sawchuk out of position for his 32nd marker of the year.

Detroit's Norm Ullman opened the scoring at 15:09 of the first period. Andy Hebenton tied it up for New York with a 10-footer in the second. Detroit took the lead again in the third 2-1 on a goal by Bob Bailey.

Minutes later, Henry rifled in the equalizer.

The Red Wings slapped 38 attempts at New York goalie Lorne Worsley. Sawchuk had a somewhat better time of it, stopping 26 Ranger efforts.

A crowd of 12,130, one of the year's biggest, watched the Wings tie Boston again for third place in the NHL. Each team has six more games in which to break the deadlock.

ALPINE SKI SITE — Aerial view shows Snow Basin, 20 miles from Ogden, Utah, where the National Alpine Ski Championships will be run this weekend, starting with the giant slalom Friday. Race cources will be in the vicinity of Wildcat Run. Steep canyon where two skiers were killed by avalanches last Sunday is at extreme right, below Mt. Ogden, some distance from main ski area.

Warriors Finally Clinch Playoff Berth in NBA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even William Penn, atop Philadelphia's City Hall, seems to be smiling today after a week of furrowed brows.

The Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. finally clinched a playoff berth after scaring the daylights out of their followers by losing five out of the last seven games.

The Warriors knocked over the Western Division champions, St. Louis Hawks 106-101, only a few hours after they were insured of a playoff spot when the Eastern champs, Boston Celtics defeated the New York Knicks, 126-110, eliminating the Knicks for the third straight year.

Giant Killer Chapman Tries Again Tonight

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Little Chapman College of Orange, Calif. will try to continue its giant killing tactics tonight and knock off defending champion Wheaton of Illinois in the NCAA small college division basketball taurnament.

The game should be one of the most interesting as eight regional winners open play in the three-day championship battle.

Tom Fletcher of Purdue led the Boilermakers in scoring last season with 31 points. The halfback made 16 out of 19 placements, kicked a field goal and scored two touchdowns.

Burkemo Finishes 3rd

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Slender Ken Venturi, a steel-nerved former San Francisco automobile salesman, and husky Bill Casper absent from tournament golf in recent weeks because of flu, met today in an 18-hole playoff for the $20,000 New Orleans Open title.

Venturi, hailed as the "new Ben Hogan", came in with a scorching six-under-par 66 in the final 18 holes yesterday. Casper, an easy-going native of Apple Valley, Calif. finished minutes behind Venturi in gathering twilight to tie for the lead at 278.

Victory was worth $2,800 with $1,900 going to the loser.

Casper, Venturi and Walt Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Mich., started yesterday's 36-hole grind tied for the top spot. Casper recorded 70 in his third round while Venturi fell to 73.

Burkemo had a third round 71 and dropped from contention with a final round 71 to tie Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., for third place with each collecting $1,300.

Casper could have won the tournament yesterday had he dropped a 20-foot putt on the 18th. He stroked the ball past the cup, but sank a two-footer for par to force the weather-plagued tournament into a playoff.

Tournament supervisor Harvey Raynor originally had planned for a sudden-death playoff, but it was near darkness when Venturi and Casper finished yesterday. The touring professionals are due to start the $15,000 Pensacola, Fla., open tomorrow and today's playoff forced cancellation of any pre-tournament activities.

Middleton Is First Lion Veteran Signed

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions have signed end-halfback Dave Middleton to his fourth National Football League contract.

The 24-year-old University of Tennessee medical student signed at Memphis yesterday and thus became the first veteran to come to terms with the world champion Lions for 1958.

Middleton, who played his college football at Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), is to be married a week from Friday to Jeanette Rousseau at Paint Rock, Ala.

City Playoffs Are Extended

The City League basketball playoffs in Classes C and D were extended to the best-of-three limit Tuesday night at Lincoln Junior High when the Pontiac Police and Pontiac Boys Club came through with last-ditch victories.

A 13-point scoring splurge in overtime brought the Boys Club a 60-49 verdict over Auburn 5 & 10 in the Class D finals. The Policemen also adopted the overtime method for a 62-58 Class C conquest of Bud & Lou's Bar.

Auburn and Boys Club ended regulation play in a 47-47 draw, then the latter spurted behind Glen Ray's 10-point overtime spree to gain the decision. Gene Gidcumbe took scoring honors for the Boys Club with 19 points while Ken McClintock meshed 18 for Auburn.

The Police and Bud & Lou wound up regulation distance in a 56-56 tie, but the tavern club could notch only two free tosses in the extra session as the Police matched that plus two field goals. Dale Davis led the winners with 17 points and Al Piche netted 19 in defeat for game honors.

ANCIENT ART REVIVED — Recent legalization of the art of falconry, the use of certain species of trained hawks, for hunting, has started a revival of the sport in Michigan. Right in line with the revival is the appearance here, this week, of a bird trained to catch game (above). Gloria Stoesser (holding hawk), with a film showing here, trained the big red-tailed hawk since it was three weeks old. This 2-year-old henhawk is exceptionally tame, hasn't been fitted with a hood, as yet. Falconry has just been legalized again in the state.

Administration Supports Proposal

Would Earmark $3 Duck Stamp for Wetlands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The spectacular proposal of Fish & Wildlife Service director Dan Janzen that the duck stamp be increased to $3 with the entire revenue earmarked for purchasing of remaining wetlands will get the administration's support in Congress.

Word of the decision, which will be implemented through the bureau of the budget, was brought to light yesterday by R. G. Lynch, natural resources writer for the Milwaukee Journal. It was confirmed by Ross Leffler, assistant interior secretary for wildlife.

Leffler said, "We had to make one concession, that we would seek no congressional approval whatsoever for purchase of additional lands or their development."

The lands acquired, Leffler said, would go to help establish the wetlands bank, long the aim of waterfowl biologists.

Even if the proposal sails through Congress—and it might, since it previously had substantial Democratic support — the gathering of the 4 million acres of wetlands to round out the federal refuge system at 7½ million still would be a long job.

With revenues estimated at 6.6 million dollars annually, as a matter of fact, it would take nearly 25 years, according to Janzen's estimates before a senate subcommittee last week. But it would be four times as much as the 1.6 million proposed for acquisition in the Fish & Wildlife Service's budget for fiscal 1959.

"Nevertheless," Janzen declared, "it would be a program that would enable an accelerated rate of progress toward our goal and would permit an effective concentration of effort on on the more critically needed areas."

Janzen put forth his counter proposal while testifying on a bill that also would have kept the present $2 migratory waterfowl hunting stamp but would have earmarked only 65 per cent of wetlands purchase.

He suggested that only the post office department charges for printing and selling the stamps—estimated at $144,000 a year at current costs—be deducted from the receipts.

About 2½ million stamps were sold last fall.

'Hawking' Regulations Relaxed

Falconry Returns to State

A pretty girl and a keen-eyed red-tailed hawk, in Pontiac with a current film production, have pointed up the fact that recently relaxed state conservation department regulations have again permitted return of falconry, or "hawking" for game.

Gloria Stoesser, trainer for an agency that provides animals for theatrical work, brought a handsome, 18-inch tall, red-tailed bird to Pontiac. She has trained many animals for stage and screen, from birds to elephants, finds the task a fascinating one, she says.

The two-year-old hawk she carries around on a gloved hand, is not yet trained to the lure, as hunting hawks or falcons are. "She is so tame we hate to try putting a hood on her," says Miss Stoesser. The hawk is fed raw beef, but is "gentle," says Gloria. It has heavy claws, a 4-foot wing spread.

Some years ago, in this area, a number of persons worked at the ancient art of flying hawks for game. The move didn't last long, however.

Falconry began some 3,000 years ago as a means of providing food. It became a popular sport for European ruling classes, and only recently has been revived in this country and abroad.

Hawks usually trained for this sport are the smaller, extremely fast fliers such as the peregrines, duck hawks, pigeon hawks or goshawks. Larger hawks also occasionally are trained for bigger game.

Michigan game animals and birds can be taken only during regular seasons. State rules permit tethering hawks and owls for use in hunting, but retain a ban on capturing and caging Michigan birds. They must, therefore, be obtained from out-of-state sources.

Little Stories About Outdoors

A fat, beautifully-furred otter that was caught by an Oakland county ice-fisherman, angling in the Fletcher flood-waters upstate, in all probability will soon become the latest exhibit in taxidermist Al Hilde's shop.

The animal was hooked, pulled through the fishing hole, and killed in excitement following the unusual incident, explains area conservation officer Warren Kendall of Rochester. The angler called the officer on his return home, and a round of calls to authorities followed regarding disposition of the animal. Taking the animal was illegal, but accidental.

"So, finally," says Kendall "in the absence of other orders, I guess Hilde will add it to his collection." There was no charge against the fisherman.

Breaking the game laws, however, was a much rougher dose for two other county and area men, and one Detroiter.

James Paul, Detroit and James Yaters, Livonia, paid $100 each in Justice Dieterle's court (KH) for having a loaded gun and two cock pheasants out of season in their car, in Farmington township. "A pair of road hunters," Kendall commented. In a prior case involving Henry Corey, Troy township, and a hen and three pheasant roosters found by Kendall in Corey's car, Dieterle also imposed a $100 fine.

Annual spring field trial of the Valley Forge Field Trial assn. takes place March 28-29 at Gaybird Farms, Carversville, Pa. Entries close March 17. A Cocker spaniel open all-age, English springer spaniel open all-age and amateur gun-handler's stake for both breeds will be held, using live birds.

A new self-contained night running light system for small-boats in a compact kit to meet Coast Guard requirements for marine lights is now on the market (Burgess Battery Co.).

A fishing contest that offers $4,000 in cash and merchandise is set to start April 1, at Lakes Mead and Mohave in southern Arizona. Bass, trout and catfish are the fish figuring mostly in the event that runs for seven weeks.

No Respect for Pets, Companions, Friends

Dog Poisoner Hits Cedar Island, Oxbow

By JACK PATTERSON

The onset of Spring brings many seasonal phenomena, mostly good but some not so good. In the latter category we find one of the lower forms of human life, the dog poisoner, who seems most likely to launch his brutal performance as the vernal equinox draws near. First occurrence we've heard of this year involves the poisoning of a number of dogs in the Cedar Island-Oxbow Lake district. Capt. Oliver "Red" Lemeaux of the Pontiac Police relayed the information to us and noted that George Andrews, of the Parks and Recreation Department, was one of the victimized dog owners.

PATTERSON

It is customary, in such cases, to point out that some "valuable" dogs were included in the list of victims. But it seems to us that it's a pretty hard thing to separate dogs into "valuable" and "not-so-valuable" classifications.

It is true that some dogs with impressive backgrounds have a high cash value on the market place. Others, mutts, might not be worth a plugged nickel in cash, but as friends, companions and pets they have a true worth not measurable in money. The dog poisoner strikes them all. Under such circumstances, talking about "valuable" dogs is a little like talking about "valuable" children.

Now it's true that not all people are dog lovers. It is also true that dogs can be a powerful nuisance, particularly in the springtime when they like to roam. But there are many ways to abate the nuisance of dogs running loose that fall far short of the vicious practice of seasoning hamburger with arsenic or strychnine.

Legal ways, too.

The dog poisoner hasn't a leg to stand on, legally, morally, or on the grounds of expediency. We hope the one presently at large can quickly be brought to justice. Should justice, in this case, be administered a little loosely on the rough side, so much the better.

To get on to a happier subject we are pleased to announce another substantial break-through in the search for the perfect dry fly. On paper, this is a killer.

It's really a problem in logic. Standard dry flies, regardless of names or patterns, represent mayflies. Mayflies, at times, ride high. Many other species which trout eat ride awash. Often, there are no high-riding naturals on the water. Wet, bedraggled dry flies often are great fish-getters.

Putting these several observations together we come up with a picture of a straddle-legged fly, flat on the surface. Take any favorite pattern. Instead of bunching the hackle behind the eye, palmer it, then cut off all hackle top and bottom. Result: Legs, spread out horizontally, the way legs usually are except on tippy-toe mayflies.

To Charge, or Not to Charge Boat Fee

Mixup in Registrations

LANSING (AP) — To charge or not to charge owners of boats operating in the Great Lakes and connecting waters with the new two-dollar state registration fee.

That was the question that puzzled state authorities today in the first mix-up to arise out of the boat registration system which went into operation March 1.

Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state who is administering the program, scheduled a conference with Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams to settle the issue.

Acting on a memorandum from Adams, Farnum sent out instructions to secretary of state branch offices and sheriffs through the state to levy the two dollar fee on boats plying inland waters and the Great Lakes and connecting waters. The 1957 act setting up the system limits the law to inland waters, although the legislature currently is considering an amendment to bring Great Lakes boats under the system.

Adams told Farnum yesterday that his memorandum had been misinterpreted, that he did not intend it to open the way for registration of Great Lakes boats by the state.

As it stands, the law requires registration of all boats powered by a permanent or temporary motors and other boats over 16 feet in length except for U.S. government craft and those operated by muscle power. The state designates a registration number which must be attached in letters at least three inches high to both prows.

The registration fee is good for the life of the boat.

Heavy Schedule for Field Dogs

Highland, Lapeer Areas Sites for Many Trials During 1958 Season

Highland Recreation area and the Lapeer Game area, sites for many important field trials in past seasons, will again be "loaded" during the 1958 season. A long list of events has been set up by the state's field trail clubs, starting with the Genesee Sportsman's event this weekend at Lapeer, and followed by the Saginaw Valley Brittany club run at Lapeer, and the big event of the German Shorthair Pointer club of Michigan at Highland, March 29 and 30.

Poiner trial is open to all German pointing breeds, and an open gun dog stake will include all pointing breeds.

Other trials include:

APRIL

5-6 — Greater Det. Bird Dog Assn. Highland rec.
12-13 — German Shorthair Pointer Club, (AKC) Highland
19-20 — Irish Setter club, Highland, Mich. Sportsmen's assn. Classic, Highland.
26-27 — Mich. Pointer club, Highland.

MAY

3-4 — Mich. Sportsmen's club, Highland
4 — Wolverine Retriever club, fun trial, Highland.
17-18 — Wolverine Retriever club, licensed trail, Highland

JULY

6 — Annual Field Trailers picnic, Silo course, Highland 20 — Wolverine Retriever club, fun trial, Highland; fun trial 24th also.

AUGUST

30-31 — Genesee Sportsmen's club, Lapeer area

SEPTEMBER

6-7 — Farmer Sportsmen's club, Lapeer area
20-21 — Irish Setter club, Highland; Northern Shooting Dog Classic, Highland
27-28 — German Shorthair club, Highland (AKC)

OCTOBER

NOVEMBER

29-30 — Mich. Sportsmen's club propagation trial, Highland.

Strange Tales of Hunting

Bowman Shoots Same Deer in Two Seasons

ALL OUTDOORS, U.S.A. (INS)—Many strange and interesting events have been reported during the past hunting seasons. Following is a collection of some of the more outstanding ones:

—Seldom does a bowman get a second chance at a deer, but Glenn Fleagle of Stouchsburg, Pa., did. He hit a four-pointer with an arrow in the 1956 buck season. The deer escaped. Last season he shot a seven-point buck in the same area with a rifle.

While dressing out the buck he found his broken arrow in the animal. Fleagle is convinced it is the same deer, only now its a better trophy.

—Talk about pessimism? Writer Dick Wolters carries a set of 5x3 inch cards with him when he goes hunting. On them he has printed ready-made excuses for missing game. Examples: Stepped in hole; arm caught on bush; lighting pipe; sun too low; twinge of bursitis; hat slipped over eyes; sneezed; jacket too loose (too tight); boots hurt; and he is down somewhere over there.

—A new forest ranger for the Michigan Conservation department is named Forest A. Burns.

—Game man Ed Cox of Somerset County (Penna.) reports: "When two hunting parties met near Friedens, and their rabbit dogs started to fight, the owner of one of the beagles laid his gun on the ground while he separated the battlers. In the scuffle his hound jumped on the trigger of his gun, discharging it and killing the other dog."

—A music-minded Pennsylvania deer hunter took a portable radio along on a hunting trip last December. He relaxed on his "stand" enjoying band music as an antlered deer with an ear for musical tones ambled along. The hunter fired a fast volley in the general direction of the buck. The deer dashed off as the band played on.

—Dog is man's best friend? Game Warden Ray Holtzapple was investigating two pheasant hunters in a field last season when a dog belonging to one of the nimrods proudly ran up with a dead hen pheasant. The dog dropped the illegal bird before Holtzapple and sat back waiting for a pat on the head. One of the men admitted he was responsible for the bird.

Public Hearing Is Set on Duck Hunting Rules

Proposed changes in the state's duck hunting regulations will be placed before a public gathering of interested persons, Friday at the Conservation headquarters in Lansing. Opportunity will be afforded at this time for expression of opinions regarding the changes in certain areas.

The proposed changes were approved "in principle" by the commission after recommendation by the department's game division.

Special regulations would apply to Sebewaing and Wildfowl bays, long favorite duck hunting spots for eastern Michigan hunters, also to St. Clair Flats, other Great Lakes bottomlands and to the bottom of inland waters where land is state owned.

Changes would prohibit decoys or blinds more than 200 feet from shore or well-defined vegetation on Sebewaing bay, the southern part of Wildfowl bay and at the Flats.

Permanent blinds and monopolization of shooting areas on state-owned bottomlands in Great Lakes and inland waters would also be banned.

Birmingham Man Leads Fish Derby

Down Miami, Fla. way they're holding an annual Metropolitan Fishing tournament, and an Oakland county angler has just taken over the lead in one division.

According to newspaper reports from the Florida city, Gaylord E. Smith, 618 Westbourne drive, Bloomfield Township (Birmingham), fishing with Capt. Bill Schuler on the Sea Raider, landed an 80-pound amberjack, which was listed as heaviest of the new leaders in the general division of the contest.

Ice-Fishermen Take Shanties From Ice

With the close of the state's spear-fishing most shanties that have dotted the surfaces of most Oakland county lakes, have been removed. State law requires these structures be removed before ice becomes unsafe and the shanties fall through into the water.

Conservation officers say there are still many fishermen on the lakes, but they warn that the ice has become unsafe during recent soft weather and extreme care should be exercised venturing out upon the surfaces. "From now on, better stay off the ice entirely" advises officer Warren Kendall.

Spartan Fifth in WIHL

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ross Parke of Michigan State scored 24 points in placing fifth among the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League's 1957-58 scoring leaders. Neil McDonald of Michigan tied for sixth with 23 points.

Bill Hay of Colorado led the scoring with 48 points followed by teammate Bob McCusker with 42.

Michigan's Barrie Haton set a WIHL record for penalties, 95 minutes for 30 infractions. Michigan State's Joe Selinger tied Jack McCarton of Minnesota for second place in the lowest goals-against average, 3.3.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Joey Lopes 137¼, Sacramento, outpointed Jimmy Carter, 139, New York, 10.
RICHMOND, Calif. — Vic Cardot, 140 Oakland, Calif. outpointed Buddy McDonald, 142, San Francisco, 8.
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Bobby Rogers 133½, Chicago, outpointed Angel Robinson Garcia, 133½, Havana, 10.

Team to Live 5 Days in Mock Space Ship

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Five Air Force men will climb into a permanently grounded aircraft cabin at 9 a.m. today and live together five days under conditions similar to those in a flight through space.

They will be helping to determine how efficiently an air crew can perform under long-range flight conditions in cramped quarters. The cabin measures 17 by 7 by 6 feet.

When the five step out of the cabin the morning of St. Patrick's Day, the Wright Air Development Center will have completed the second such test looking toward the space age. The first was conducted last August.

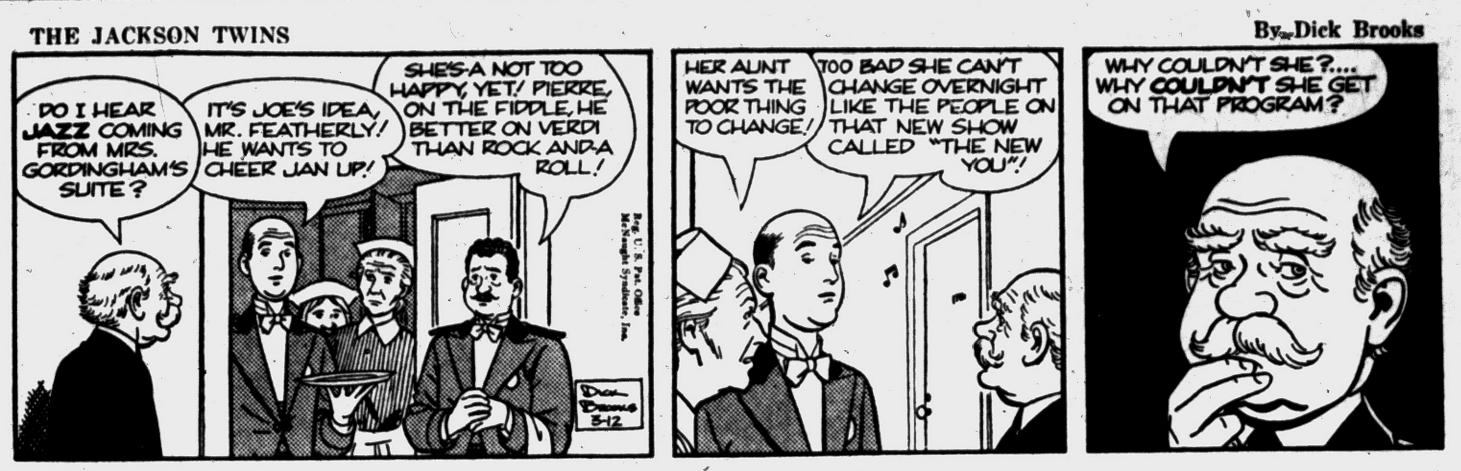

A major and four captains—all volunteers—will form the air crew. The alternate is a major. None is from Michigan.

Some Grains Rise Sharply

CHICAGO (AP)—A good demand sent prices of some grain futures sharply higher in early dealings today on the Board of Trade.

The old crop wheat, most soybean and rye deliveries were up well over a cent a bushel during the first few minutes when trading was at a rapid rate.

Within the first half hour, however, the demand appeared to be pretty well absorbed and prices had eased slightly from their highs with the distant wheat and rye contracts slipping to the minus side.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was 1½ cents a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, March $2.23½; corn unchanged to ¼ higher, March $1.16¼; oats ⅛ to 1 cent higher, March 66⅜; rye ¼ to 1½ higher, March $1.35¾; soybeans 1⅝ to ⅜ lower, March $2.24¼; and lard 2 cents a hundred pounds lower to 5 cents higher, May $12.47.

Steels, Motors Backing Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors backed away from recent gains as the stock market turned generally lower in heavy early trading today.

The ticker tape fell behind the pace of transactions for a brief three minutes in the opening rush as the market's upward drive of the past eight sessions seemed to have reached a temporary halt.

Key stocks showed losses ranging mostly from fractions to about a point.

Lorillard and Lukens Steel, favorites in the recent recovery drive, jogged upward at the opening, then fell back. Lorillard showed a net loss of more than a point and Lukens a major fraction. Polaroid, another recent favorite, dropped about two points.

Youngstown Sheet was off around a point. U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel lost major fractions. General Motors dropped a bit. Chrysler and Ford eased.

While the anti-recession moves in Washington and the possibility of a tax cut lent fundamental confidence to Wall Street, profit taking was expected as the market bumped close to the Feb. 4 recovery high.

$10,000 Blaze Ruins Grocery Store in Novi

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Fire of an undetermined origin last night gutted a Novi Township grocery, causing an estimated $10,000 damage.

The store, at 2215 Novi Rd., near 13 Mile road and the Walled Lake Amusement Park, was owned by William McKnight, who lives in a trailer behind the building.

Detected shortly before 1 a.m., the blaze wasn't brought under control until 3 a.m. Novi Township Fire Chief Fred Lyones said. The township department was assisted by firemen from Walled Lake.

Lyones said all the merchandise in the store was lost. The fire started in back of the store, he said.

GM May Revive Spectacular Motorama This Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)— There will be no national auto show this year but the lavish General Motors Motorama may be revived.

General Motors has not yet announced the revival but there is an excellent prospect the big GM show will be reopened in New York next December. If previous programming is followed there would be a nine-day engagement there and then the show would go on the road for presentations at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Miami Beach and Boston.

Excepting that it is strictly a General Motors project, with no participation by other car makers, the Motorama is one of the most ambitious — and costly — presentations made by the car industry.

Shown are examples of just about everything GM makes, barring such items as Diesel locomotives and huge earth - moving vehicles. Tiny ball bearings, cars and trucks, household appliances and engineering research projects are among the exhibits.

Previous New York showings of Motorama have been held in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. A 1958 revival might be staged in New York's Coliseum.

LAST SHOWING IN 1955

The most recent Motorama showing was late in 1955, aimed at promoting the 1956 model cars. Plans for a show the following year were canceled when the industry decided to hold its first postwar national show in New York. From an attendance standpoint the national show was not an unqualified success.

An industry - sponsored show scheduled for last December was called off — but not until mid-year. That made it too late for GM to get its Motorama together in time for a showing aimed at 1958 models.

Product promotion is the sole purpose of auto shows. That will be the purpose of a revived Motorama. Its revival can be looked upon as part of the all-out effort General Motors has been making to pull the auto industry out of the tailspin that began almost with the introduction of 1958 models last November.

It has been estimated the industry spent 1½ billion dollars getting the 1958 model cars to the assembly line. General Motors' share probably was close to half the total. But despite this heavy investment most makers are planning broad design changes for their 1959 models.

New body styling reportedly is in the planning for numerous volume selling lines of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

General Motors would have all its 1959 models out in time for a full line showing at a December Motorama. For the remainder of the industry the big Chicago show next January will offer the initial broad scale presentation of new cars.

Pontiac Models Get Hard Finish

Lacquer Coating Given at No Extra Cost on Bonneville, Star Chief

Following two years of extensive testing, experimentation and limited production use, Pontiac Motor Division's new acrylic lacquer is now available at no extra cost with two complete series of 1958 Pontiac automobiles.

The durable lacquer for which some manufacturers charge the customer as much as $185 extra, is a standard finish with all Pontiac Bonneville and Star Chief custom models.

Pontiac's acrylic lacquer has been hailed as the most durable finish ever produced in the industry. The finish is virtually impenetrable to sun, salt, air, moisture, and temperature changes. It affects a coating or "skin" over the color which produces greater depth and, in the use of metallics, higher quality lusters.

In addition, acrylic lacquer offers much greater resistance to stain and fading than regular lacquers or enamels. Polishing or waxing requirements under normal operation are reduced to an absolute minimum and actual field tests indicate the acrylic lacquered Pontiac will realize up to as much as three times longer acceptable appearance life.

Pontiac first utilized acrylic lacquer experimentally with its 1956 models after a stringent test period in Florida. The use was expanded in 1957 to a limited amount of automobiles.

Steel Firm Recalls 650 Idled Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Midland Steel Products Co. has recalled 650 workers laid off six weeks ago.

Plant Superintendent Frank Pazzi said the men were idled when Chrysler Corp. cut car assemblies during a work standards dispute with the United Auto Workers Union.

Midland Steel produces Plymouth and Dodge body frames. Pazzi said the recall will increase the firm's production force to about 1,000 employes.

The Dodge and Plymouth divisions started a 40-hour production schedule Monday following an agreement with the UAW to give full work weeks to high seniority employes.

Chrysler Talks Slated

DETROIT (INS) — Chrysler Corp. announces it will begin new contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers on April 1 in Detroit. The present UAW contract covering 90,000 workers in 60 Chrysler plants expires June 1.

FORD FIRST — The Birmingham Tractor and Implement Division of the Ford Motor Co. has announced the production of the first American-made diesel Ford product, a new line of tractors for farm and industrial use. They will carry suggested retail prices $395 above gasoline tractor prices, compared with the normal premium of $550 to $850 for diesel tractor power.

Western Home Builder Benefits Most

More Money Available for Mortgages

By SAM DAWSON
Second in Series

NEW YORK (AP)—There is more money around today for the man who wants a mortgage. This puts downward pressure on the actual costs of financing a home purchase—over and above the formal interest charge.

The Western home builder seems to have benefited more than the Easterner.

Anxious to spur home building as an antidote to recession, various government agencies have moved to make mortgage investment money more plentiful. Other factors make it a little less costly. This has turned many builders from pessimists to optimists.

They had squawked that tight money was making it impossible for many families to finance a home purchase.

Walter C. Nelson, vice president of the Mortgage Bankers Assn. of America, sees substantially more money for mortgages in 1958. This leads the president of the National Assn. of Rreal Estate Boards, H. Walter Greves of Philadelphia, to predict that housing starts could top 1957 by as much as 10 per cent. And Nels G. Severin, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, with 40,000 members, adds that "home builders feel the worst is over."

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington predicts that nearly 17 billion dollars of new money may be invested in mortgages this year, exclusive of loan requirements for apartment houses and refinancing of existing mortgage debt, which at the start of the year was 107½ billion.

Several factors are bringing more investment funds into the mortgage market. Falling interest rates on other investments—U.S. government securities, corporate bond issues and a variety of short term loans — make mortgages more attractive.

Government policy has changed. First, money was lured into the mortgage field by allowing interest rates on Federal Housing Administration guaranteed mortgages to rise. The Federal National Mortgage Assn. raised the price it would pay builders when buying up Veterans Administration guaranteed mortgages to sweeten these a little for those finding the 4½ per cent ceiling too low. Cash that builders get when selling mortgages is freed for further home loan investment.

Finally some of the federal home loan banks cut the interest rate on loans to member savings and loan associations. These furnish about 40 per cent of the nation's total mortgage credit.

Conventional mortgages — those without government guarantee — alrady have been affected by easier money. Investors say the going rate now in the East is 5¼ to 5½ per cent and 6 per cent on the West Coast.

They further note that the biggest aid the home purchaser has had so far was when the discounts that investors demand before taking an FHA mortgage shrank to 1 to 2 points in the East and 3 points in the West.

Mortgage bankers also predict that as investment money becomes in still greater supply there's sure to be keen competition by investors — a definite switch—with the promise of easier terms for the would-be home owner.

Tomorrow: Will it be easier to live on the cuff?

GM Plants in Ohio Will Lay Off 1,200

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Chevrolet and Fisher Body divisions of General Motors Corp. in nearby Norwood will lay off about 1,200 employes next Monday, management informed union officials yesterday.

The workers are members of Local 674 of the United Automobile Workers Union, it was said.

Ed Hellkamp, assistant regional director of the UAW, called it a serious layoff, involving more than one third of the total working force of the plants.

About 800 employes will be laid off at Fisher Body, and approximately 400 at Chevrolet, according to the announcement.

Hellkamp said the Chevrolet plant, which assembles cars, will reduce the work schedule so only 25 cars an hour will be put together. At present the average is 40½ per hour.

Truck production will not be affected, Hellkamp said.

Company spokesmen could not be reached immediately for comment.

'Big 3' Scraps United Front?

Paper Says Car Firms Junking Industry-Wide Bargaining Plans

DETROIT (INS) — Leaders of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have scrapped any plans they may have had for industry-wide contract talks with the United Auto Workers Union this year, it is reported by a Detroit newspaper.

The decision was reached after several recent top-level meetings. GM President Harlow H. Curtice, Ford Board Chairman Ernest R. Breech and Chrysler President L. L. Colbert took part in the conferences.

Curtice reportedly was the chief opponent of industry-wide talks wherein the auto firms would present a united front to the UAW.

It was understood that Curtice took the position that industry-wide bargaining was fundamentally wrong and that GM would have everything to lose and little to gain by such an arrangement.

Henry Ford II, president of Ford, attended at least one of the recent meetings, and made a plea for industry-wide bargaining after the 1955 negotiations.

Ford at that time said his company was forced to accept the principle of the guaranteed annual wage — the supplemental unemployment benefit plan (SUB) — because of the "competitive situation in the industry."

GM is scheduled to begin talks with the UAW on March 25, Ford on March 31 and Chrysler on April 1.

The UAW this year will seek a profit - sharing plan, wage increases, expanded SUB programs and other benefits.

Push for Elections When Senators Die

An end to appointments of U. S. Senators to fill unexpired terms was urged today under a Constitutional change proposed by Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

The proposed amendment would make it mandatory that an election be held to fill a vacancy if a senator dies or resigns from office.

Under the present system, governors from 47 to 48 states have the power to appoint a person to fill at least part of the unexpired six-year term.

Dryden Elects Leever President of Village

DRYDEN — G. H. Leever was elected president of the Village of Dryden. Other officers voted in were Robert Hebert, clerk; Mrs. Hazel McCauley, treasurer, and Robert Weingartz, assessor.

Elected trustees for three-year terms were Robert White, Ralph Russell and Oliver Braidwood. Voted in for a one-year term was Robert McCauley.

OPEL

"Europe's Most Distinguished Economy Car"

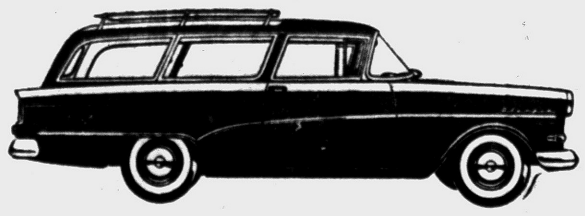

NOW SHOWING AT

OLIVER MOTOR SALES

The Opel car has been distinguished in Europe for 57 years and, since 1929, has been a General Motors subsidiary. Typically German in its precision manufacture and excellence of its materials, it has won and held a reputation that few foreign cars — of any size — can equal. Indeed, the Opel is known throughout Europe as "The King of Dependability."

General Motors believes that the Opel models presented here have a definite place in the American way of life. Their low weight, great gasoline economy and ease of handling admirably fit them for "second-car" needs. Their low price and low maintenance cost make them a practical answer for the person desiring low-cost transportation. There is no question of service. Skilled mechanics and a full stock of parts, should they be needed, are available throughout the United States through Buick dealers. The same warranty, even the same financing plans, that apply to all General Motors cars apply to the Opel.

We present for your consideration the deluxe Opel Olympia Rekord, and its very able station-wagon counterpart, the Opel Caravan.

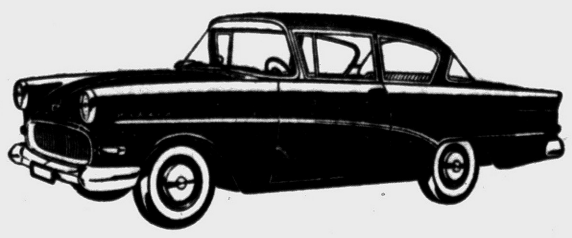

CARAVAN STATION WAGON

Standard Equipment on Both Cars Includes:

Heater, Defroster, Oil Bath Air Cleaner, Clock, Cigar Lighter, Inside Rear-View Mirror, Turn Signals, Dual Sun Visors, 2-Spoke Steering Wheel with Chrome-plated Horn Ring, Ash Trays (front and rear), and Safety Glass in All Windows (Windshield Laminated). The Caravan Station-Wagon also includes Roof Luggage Rack as standard equipment.

Gas Mileage Out of This World!

REKORD TWO-DOOR

Specifications of the REKORD and CARAVAN:

4-Cylinder Engine, 56 horsepower at 4400 rpm (SAE), 3 forward speed and 1 reverse speed transmission, 4 wheel hydraulic brakes and mechanical rear wheel hand brake, wheelbase 100.04", car length 174", car width 63.6", Rekord car height 59", Caravan car height 63", Rekord curb weight 1995 lbs., Caravan curb weight 2160 lbs., Rekord tire size 5-60x13 (both front and rear), Caravan tire size 6.40x13 (both front and rear), fuel tank capacity 10.57 gals., and an approximate maximum speed of 77.67 m.p.h.

BREATHTAKING GETUP — A cry baby for science, volunteer coed Kay Kerdraon models the plastic mask she'll wear as part of a new air pollution experiment on the University of California's Riverside campus. Smog will be pumped inside the mask, and also applied to plants to determine if eye irritation and crop damage result from the same chemicals in the combination of smoke and fog. Kay will breathe pure air through the respirator she's holding.

U.S. Post Office Down to Last Dog Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department says it is down to its last Alaskan dog sled mail route, a rugged operation which was once common in the northern territory.

In an area where air and other transportation has largely taken over mail delivery, the surviving sled route is being operated on remote St. Lawrence Island, in the Bering Sea.

Postmaster General Summerfield says the operation "still symbolizes the mailman's spirit of dedication to duty in the face of adverse conditions."

Chester Noonwook, 22, of Savoonga, an Eskimo village on the island, handles the service as a contract carrier between his home village and Gambell, 50 miles northwest. He makes the 100-mile round trip about twice a week, and has been at it since 1956.

Between June and October, Noonwook handles his route by skin boat directly over the open sea, but in the frozen months he relies on his 10 huskies. His pay is $40 a round trip.

The Savoonga-Gambell sled trip usually takes a day, unless Noonwook runs into one of the frequent howling storms or has trouble on a "soft" trail. The return trip takes twice as long, because the mail load in that direction is always heavier.

Boss Gives Money to 'Beat Recession'

DETROIT (AP) — The way to beat the business recession, says Samuel Schiff, is to put more money into circulation. So he is giving his employes the money to do it with.

Schiff, publisher of Industrial Machinery News in Detroit, gave each of his 14 employes a $5 bill this week.

The only requirement was that it must be spent on something extra, something outside the range of the usual living expense.

Schiff says he plans to slip 14 fins a week into the nation's economy for at least three weeks.

Ford, 1957
Here's a little sharpie just waiting for a new home. Finished in sparkling Ebony black set off by Red & White interior. You'll be in style and you'll smile when you flick the Fordomatic selector into drive and happily roll away. Practically no effort is required when you step on the power brake pedal or when you power steer your way into a tight parking place. An older car of value will handle. $1795.

Studio Suing Actor for Intoxicating Delay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $159,768 damage suit has been brought against actor Dana Andrews by a studio that claims he frequently was too intoxicated to work during the filming of a picture.

Advised of the action, the 47-year-old actor said: "I deny all the charges. It's ridiculous and childish. This is a conflict of personalities."

The suit was filed in Superior Court by Waverly Productions, Inc., which claimed it had to interrupt the shooting of the picture at least 20 times at locations in Mexico because Andrews couldn't work. The company said he left Mexico before finishing his work. It asked to be freed from a contract under which it was to pay the actor $100,000 or 10 weeks of work.

Josiah Quincy, 15th President of Harvard University, expelled the whole sophomore class for a rough-house in 1834.

HEALTH COMES FIRST — Dinah Shore insists that health is more important than beauty, brains or talent when it comes to making a success in show business. The singer diligently keeps herself in trim for her hour-long NBC-TV show, which is presented three Sundays out of four at 9 p. m.

She Keeps Fit for Video Grind

Star Maintains Bounce Despite Her Strenuous Television Schedule

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"To be a success in show business," said Dinah Shore, "you don't have to be beautiful. You don't have to be smart—or talented. But you've sure got to be healthy."

Whenever Miss Shore makes a pilgrimage to New York, I make a pilgrimage to see Miss Shore as president of the Dinah Shore Fan Club of Glen Ridge, N. J.

While drinking coffee we talk mostly about her husband George Montgomery, whom I haven't met, and my wife whom Miss Shore hasn't seen in—well, how many years is a deep secret.

They used to play together when they were very young in Nashville, Tenn. Miss Shore went on to a strenuous career in show business. Mrs. Mercer went on to a strenuous career of getting me to the office on time.

Miss Shore's three hour-length shows every four weeks make for a strenuous career indeed. Her shows this season speak—and sing—for themselves, and she doesn't need to say a word about them.

TOP ENTERTAINMENT

They're tops in variety entertainment—and that's speaking as an objective so-called critic rather than as a subjective Dinah Shore fan.

The grind has no visible marks on Miss Shore. She looks grand and still has the bounce of a new tennis ball. How does she do it? Does she diet or sleep 10 hours a night or what?

"Sometimes I cut down a little on food," she said, plunging a fork into a couple of eggs fried in butter after having slept six hours.

"My regular weight is 128 and it's quite easy for me to stay there. Last summer we went abroad and I ate my way from one end of Europe to another. When we came back home I took it easy on food for a while and dropped right back to 128."

Swedish Princess Ingeborg Dies at 79

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Princess Ingeborg of Sweden, the daughter, sister, mother-in-law and grandmother of kings, was found dead in bed today. She was 79.

One of the most popular members of Scandinavian royalty, Princess Ingeborg wasthe daughter of King Frederick VIII of Denmark and her brother became King Christian X on their father's death.

The princess was married in 1897 to the late Prince Carl, a younger brother of the Swedish King. Their youngest daughter was the late Queen Astrid of Belgium, mother of King Baudouin. Their second daughter was the late Crown Princess Martha of Norway, whose widower became King Olav V last year.

Florida Propaganda Has Reverse Effects

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—After Miami Beach began running ads defending its weather and boasting of high temperatures, Nick Manero, the steak house owner, cancelled his reservations, explaining, "It's just too damned hot down there."

WILSON

Rita Hayworth and Jim Hill got reservations on several European flights for their postponed honeymoon—but they've done that before . . . Sammy Davis Jr. and bride will divorce within three months . . . You've reached middle age when you decide you look a lot handsomer in glasses.

The first "Wilson Girl" nominee to get a professional break due to that designation is Zahra Norbo. She will be the Coming Attractions Girl on the Steve Allen TV show March 23. Producer Bill Harbach chose her from six Wilson Girls he interviewed at Steve's 7th Av. offices. Zahra was "Miss Sweden" in the Miss Universe contest in 1954 and is now studying acting under famous coach Lee Strasberg.

We caught Fran Warren and she revealed the secret behind such successful albums as "Hey, There! Here's Fran Warren!" Said Fran: "I always bring a case or two of scotch for the musicians—and me."

Myron Cohen—in the dan-dan-dandy new Copa show with Sam Cooke and the Jay Sisters—tells of two drunken golfers who staggered to the first tee. "Which one of these balls do I hit?" asked the first souse. "Hit 'em all—you got clubs enough in your hand!" replied No. 2.

ZAHRA

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Victor Borge's European tour doesn't include Russia. "Because you might have trouble getting in?" someone asked. "No," said Victor, "—getting out." That's earl, brother.

Bob Considine Says:

Indians Standing Together Against Klan

NEW YORK (INS) — A noble Redman, Leo W. Vocu, a member of the Oglala Sioux Tribal Council, Pine Ridge, S.D., has sent the following message to the Lumbees who recently put a Ku Klux Klan meeting to rout:

"As fellow American and fellow Indians, we wish to congratulate you (the letter is addressed to Simeon Oxendine of Pembroke, N.C.) and the Lumbee Indians on your successful resistance to the un-Christian, un-American and outrageously provocative actions of the Kant Keep Kools.

LIVE IN PEACE

"You live in peace with your fellowmen. You served the Republic in time of war. You have a perfect right to all the privileges of American citizenship. These privileges include the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Your happiness should not be disturbed by cowardly, and masked night riders, burning crosses to scare you. You fought in World War II to give mankind freedom from fear — surely, you good people should have that freedom. We should have no hooded gestapo or iron curtain in America.

"We are especially surprised to learn that the Imperial Lizard is a clergyman, a man who is supposed to be serving our Lord. Our Lord said, 'Thou Shalt Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself.'

"Here in Pine Ridge, clergymen of all faiths have promoted the welfare of the Indians. The selfless dedication of missionaries has been the most glorious page in the history of the Red-White relations. They have been our best and truest friends.

"Our council meetings are held in the Episcopalian Hall. The Friends organized our recreational programs. The Presbyterians have done much to help poor Indian families. The Catholic mission school, Holy Rosary, has educated three generations of Indian Children.

With more than 500 boarders it is now the largest Indian mission school in the United States. Here in South Dakota our clergymen have taught us to be citizens of the United American Republic, as well as subjects of the kingdom of heaven.

"They have baptized our babies, educated our children, fed our hungry people, given clothing to the poor, nursed our sick and buried our dead.

"They have done all of this in the name of Him who hung upon a cross. The Imperial Lizard burns crosses.

"Dear Lumbee brothers, if the KKK hinders American Indians from enjoying the rights guaranteed to all by our Constitution, we stand behind you all the way, with everything that we have are are."

The letter was approved by James Iron Cloud, president of the Oglala Sioux Tribal Council, Charles Little Hawk, secretary, and Charles White Wolf, treasurer.

"One cannot doubt that both Christian and American ideals have taken firm root in the people who formulated and approved this letter," writes the Rev. Lawrence Edwards, S.J., Holy Rosary mission superior, to his friend Hank McCann of the Long Island Press.

"This letter is one of the most moving documents that I have ever read. It should be a great consolation to everyone who helped the Sioux in their assimilation to the American way of life. Red Cloud and Crazy Horse would be very proud of this letter."

101,589 Motor Vehicles Built in Past Week

DETROIT (INS) — The Automobile Manufacturers Assn. states 101,589 vehicles were produced in car and truck plants in the United States last week.

The total included 83,378 passenger cars and 17,611 trucks and motor coaches.

This compares with a total of 109,139 produced in the previous week, including 91,599 passenger cars and 17,540 trucks and motor coaches.

Arrival in America Brings Tragic News

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Carmelia Pasut crossed an ocean to sorrow yesterday, but no one had the heart to tell her.

Throughout an eight-day passage from Genoa, the 29-year-old immigrant told her children — Alessandro, 9, and Liliana, 7 — that they would be in a new home in Canada with their father.

Mrs. Pasut recognized no one in the crowd waiting on a pier when the American Export liner Constitution docked. She scanned faces, expecting her husband to meet her, but he wasn't there.

Luigi Pasut, 43, died a week ago today in Oakville, Ont.

Ike Asked to Support School Construction

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's school chief has urged President Eisenhower to support an immediate program of school construction as an anti-recession measure.

In a telegram yesterday to President Eisenhower Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said such activity would benefit every school age child and every state in the nation.

Bartlett said in addition it would result in immediate employment of thousands of persons in communities from coast to coast.
