90 PROOF — U.S. Treasury Agent James DeLuca of Detroit tests alcoholic content of illegal whiskey while Pontiac state trooper J. T. Gehring examines the moonshine still that produced it in the basement of old converted farmhouse in Independence Township. Agents and state police raided the house today and made one arrest. Officers smashed the still with pickaxes. (The moonshine checked out at 90 proof, according to DeLuca.)

Jury Indicts Teamster Agent

Official From Hoffa's Home Local Charged With Illegal Receipts

WASHINGTON (U)—George Roxburgh, business agent of the home local of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, was indicted by a federal grand jury in Detroit today. The Justice Department announced the indictment here saying Roxburgh was charged with taking illegal payments from an employer.

Local 299, which he represents, is one of the largest in the Teamsters with about 15,000 members. Roxburgh, 43, who has been business agent of the local since 1943, is the third Teamsters official indicted recently on similar charges. Thomas H. Keegan, business representative of Local 710, and Edward J. Donovan, secretary of Local 735, were named last month in indictments returned by federal grand juries in Chicago.

Hoffa told the Senate Rackets Committee several years ago that Roxburgh was one of a number of Teamster officials who had made interest-free loans to him. He said the loan from Roxburgh was $1,000. Hoffa gave that testimony when Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, then chief counsel for the committee, was questioning the Teamsters chief about large amounts of cash he had on hand.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Byron R. White said the Detroit jury accused Roxburgh of conspiring to defraud the federal government from firms employing members of his local. Roxburgh was accused of taking $100 or $200 on four occasions between November 1958 and January 1959 from the Interstate Motor Freight System of Grand Rapids, Mich. The same firm, which employs members of Local 299, was named in 48 counts returned against Keegan last Sept. 21.

Named as co-conspirators, but not indicted, were Interstate Motor Freight System, Inc.; Lawrence D. Burt, president of the firm; John L. Burt of Grand Rapids, its vice president for operations; Robert Baker of Detroit; and Donald E. Brower of Port Huron.

Hallmark said it rented the house and set up the still after his gas station at 6748 Dixie Highway went bankrupt. "I had to meet the bills somehow," he said. Hallmark was to be arraigned 3 p.m. today in Federal Court, Detroit.

Arrested in last Friday's raid, Elmer L. Edmisten, 37, of 873 Tyrona St., Waterford Township, is awaiting trial in Federal Court. Hallmark has been charged with the possession and operation of an unregistered distillery.

Soviet Negotiator Arrives JFK Standing Firm on Berlin

Man Behind the U.S. Presidents

THROUGH THE YEARS — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, critically ill with cancer in a Texas hospital, was a familiar figure on the congressional podium at all House and joint sessions. He heard President Franklin D. Roosevelt address a joint session in 1933 and was still in the seat, alongside Vice President Lyndon Johnson, when President Kennedy appeared at the joint session last May.

President's intention in meeting with Russian disclosed by official

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, arriving here today for a face to face White House talk with President Kennedy, on the Berlin crisis, declared the danger of nuclear war "must be averted, must be prevented."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy will tell Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today that the United States and its allies cannot surrender the freedom of West Berlin to the Reds.

The President's intention was disclosed in New York by Roger Tubby, assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

Kennedy and Gromyko arranged to meet at the White House at 4 p. m. to discuss the possibility of submitting the Berlin crisis to negotiations before it sparks a nuclear war. Gromyko was scheduled to arrive here from New York a few hours before going to the White House.

Tubby forecast Kennedy's position in a speech prepared for delivery at a New York ceremony honoring West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

He recalled the President's statement to the United Nations last week that "We cannot surrender the freedom of these people for whom we are responsible."

"This afternoon in Washington, he will make this clear once again to the Russians in his meeting with Mr. Gromyko," Tubby said.

Another matter that may come up in their conversation is the United Nations. The Soviet Union and the United States were reported Thursday night to be in agreement on a candidate for temporary U.N. secretary-general, a successor for the late Dag Hammarskjöld.

Ford and UAW Resume Talks

Hoping to Wrap Up Master Contract for 120,000 by Sunday

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union and Ford Motor Co. resumed national negotiations today in hopes of wrapping up a master contract for 120,000 striking workers by Sunday.

Still to be resolved are five major non-economic issues on the national level, plus local disputes at 47 Ford plants. Money matters were settled Tuesday just before a nationwide strike started.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford Vice President Malcolm L. Denise met this afternoon for the first time since Wednesday. Both spent the last two days working by telephone trying to iron out local issues before returning to national bargaining.

J. They will tackle problems of production standards, outside contracting, jurisdictional rights and representation. The men hoped by settling these national issues the local contracts—based on the same problems—would fall into line quickly.

Rayburn Is Looking Better; No Longer Under Sedation

DALLAS, Tex. (U)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn, suffering from extensive cancer, looks a little better today, his physicians said.

They reported in a bulletin that Rayburn no longer was under sedation and was resting comfortably.

Rayburn, 79, entered Baylor Hospital Monday after he failed to respond to treatment in his home town of Bonham, Tex. He left Washington Aug. 31 for his home.

McCormack Seen Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sam Rayburn's long, unchallenged reign as speaker of the House of Representatives apparently has cleared the way for an orderly succession by Majority Leader John W. McCormack to Rayburn's state of power—at least temporarily.

The grip of the strong-willed, but kindly Texan on the speakership has been so strong no rival faction ever developed. And his tenure has been so long the ambitions of any potential rivals have cooled with age.

Flashes

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States officially denied today that it had agreed with Russia on selection of U. Thant of Burma as acting U.N. secretary general.

Allied Leaders Protest 'Dangerous' Berlin Acts

BERLIN (UPI) — Western military leaders protested to the Russians today about "dangerous and irresponsible" shooting by Communist police who fired into West Berlin Wednesday night.

Maj. Gen. Sir Rohan Delacombe, British commander in Berlin, said October 5 was the first time the West Berlin Military Council delivered the protest on behalf of his U.S. and French colleagues as well as himself.

A three-power announcement said Delacombe presented the protest to Col. A. V. Solovye, the Soviet commander.

The Western leaders were protesting the action of Communist police who fired into West Berlin while blocking the escape of two young East Germans to West Berlin. One refugee fell to his death and the other was captured by the Reds.

Delacombe also protested shots fired at a West Berlin policeman Thursday.

Communist police armed with a machinegun and several tommy guns fired a hail of bullets at two refugees who tried to swim across the Spree River to West Berlin Thursday night.

Both of them died, one from gunshot wounds and the other apparently from exhaustion and fright.

West Berlin police said some of the bullets fired at the two refugees ripped into the river's western shore. Western patrolmen did not return the fire.

The best of firing at the two refugees revealed for the first time that the Communists had mounted a machinegun on the Oberbaum Bridge in addition to the tommy guns carried by most Red patrolmen.

West Berlin police said one man was wounded and he sank with a cry for help. The other was swept

Death Toll Climbs to 33 in Hamburg Train Crash

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — The death toll rose to 33 today in the wake of Hamburg's worst train wreck since World War II.

The wreck occurred Thursday night when an electric train loaded with homeward bound theatergoers rumbled full-speed into a work train that was stopped on a curved section of the elevated track over the city's main canal. The first car of the six-car passenger train was crushed and a 20-ton steel girder on the parked work train speared through the passengers like a rapier.

Pulley said that 48 others were injured, four critically. All are in Hamburg hospitals.

The fire department said some of the passengers were so seriously injured that doctors performed emergency amputations right at the scene.

The bodies were so badly mangled that the dead were counted only by heads. The 45-foot girder, projecting from the work train, sliced through the middle of the passenger train like a kitchen knife cutting ripe fruit.

KEPT FROM E. BERLIN—Edmond Khayat, a Lebanese pacifist, carries an 8-pound cross and a sign along barred wire entanglements after Communist guards refused to let him cross through the Brandenburg Gate into East Berlin Thursday. In the background are East German soldiers. The 10-foot cross carries the words "humanity." The sign reads: "After 2,000 years humanity still suffers from exploitation and war, and still carries its cross. When will peace come to earth at last? When will peace come? When?"

British Doctor Tells of Misuse of Socialized Health Care

A British doctor told his comrades with socialized medicine last night before a gathering of the Oakland County Medical Society and expressed his hope that a similar system would not be instituted in the United States.

Roger V. Pierson, now a psychiatrist on the staff of Pontiac State Hospital, addressed an estimated 80 doctors at the society's October meeting at Kingsley Inn.

He said of British under-socialized health care: "This is a country of people, independent for hundreds of years, who suddenly produced a medical set-up which I can only describe as totally inadequate.

"I understand a proposal for a compulsory health care will come up before Congress next year, and I hope we won't get into some of the same mistakes as did England."

Dissatisfaction with the British system is already resulting in a slow return to a more responsible system of paying for one's own health care by those who are able, he said. The plan started in 1948.

Pierson, who started general practice in the slums of London and worked up to famous Harley Street, cited cases after case of misuse of the British National Health Service.

FREE SERVICE

The patient (who must pay a compulsory deduction from his wages for the service) no longer has any financial worries when he becomes ill. Pierson pointed out. Service by doctors and hospitals is free; fees for prescriptions are nominal.

The socialized doctors are paid $2.50 a year for each patient, no matter whether they see him once or a hundred times. The maximum limit of patients per doctor is 3,000.

He said doctors were swamped by patients wanting the free treatment even for minor or imaginary illnesses, while the British people were being "sapped" of their responsibility for even first aid.

The consequences of this something-for-free concept, Pierson said, is that doctors often treat as many as 50 patients in the morning, go out on 30 to 40 house-calls and treat 30 patients in the evening.

"It is impossible for any doctor to do a good job for so many people," he said.

He said the original intention of the National Health Service was helping those who couldn't afford to pay but specifically provided that socialized medical service should not undermine or supersede the personal responsibility of the people.

"Yet this is exactly what it does do," Pierson said.

AMA, Government Join in Effort to Drive Fakes Out of Medicine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association and government officials joined today in pledging total war on medical quackery.

The goal: To force medical quacks out of a billion-dollar-a-year business. The battle will be waged on legal, scientific and educational fronts.

The plan was made at the First National Congress on Medical Quackery, jointly sponsored by the AMA and the Food and Drug Administration.

Postmaster General J. Edgar Day declared: "The peddling of false medical cures is the most prominent fraudulent activity conducted through the U.S. mails today."

He said he might use a law originally intended to combat obscene literature to seize fraudulent medical products.

Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, said he was ready to do everything possible to eliminate "charlatan and the quack who prey upon the innocent in search of better health."

Ribicoff said the $1 billion annual take of medical quacks tells only part of the story. "In terms of false hopes raised, in terms of ugly delusions fostered, in terms of interfering with human life itself, the cost cannot be measured," he said.

The Day in Birmingham

'Bloomfield Twp. Requires 80 Acres for Recreation'

BIRMINGHAM — Nearly 80 acres will be needed in Bloomfield Township for recreational sites to provide for the ultimate use of the area, the township planning commission reported today.

The seven-member commission cited the need for 72.5 acres of land in addition to the existing 129 acres of school playgrounds.

The planning group also recommended an additional 10 acres for school playgrounds which could be acquired as future school sites are purchased.

The studies made by the commission in conjunction with a master plan were based on the American Public Health Administration standards.

The commission stated in its report that "it is evident that the school system will serve as a nucleus for recreational facilities in the township."

"However, we would suggest that even with the provision of generous sites by the school system, the distance factor is such that a number of residential areas will not be conveniently served by neighborhood recreational areas."

"Bloomfield Township's low density pattern of residential development provides a pleasant environment for living but nevertheless children still require active recreation facilities such as local diamond-shaped parks according to the commission."

It reported that a total of 208.7 acres will fill the overall needs of the township's recreational plan.

This acreage, 136.1 acres would be provided in conjunction with school sites and the remainder would be township-owned parks. The township now does not own any parks.

To meet the needs for adequate recreational sites, the planning commission is giving consideration to the establishment of a recreational committee to explore the desirability of a recreation commission.

This commission would be empowered to acquire land and accept gifts of land for recreational purposes.

The planners are also studying the possibilities of giving developers incentives to include open space for new subdivisions.

If approved by the commission, these incentives would be included in the new zoning ordinance which will be presented to Bloomfield Township citizens within the next few months.

Airplane Falls on Detroit Street

DETROIT (UPI) — The peace of the evening meal in Michigan summer was shattered in a quiet residential area Thursday when a twin-engine private plane had engine trouble while attempting to land, glided off the roof of a house and crashed into the street.

Pilot James Randle, 29, and his passenger, Henry Dalgreen, 59, were seriously injured.

Officials at the Detroit City Airport, where the plane was attempting to land, said Randle apparently lost power in one of his engines as he was making an approach.

He radioed the control tower that he would circle the field so crash investigators could be spotted along the runway.

An airport spokesman said that as the plane made its turn after the approach, it apparently lost altitude and crashed.

The plane, a Piper Apache, glided off the roof of the home of Shannon Seibert, 32, of 4408 Elgin.

It then careened into the street, striking four parked cars, and then into two more. The cars and the plane were demolished.

James Dzedzie, whose car was wrecked in the crash, rushed from his home.

He said he saw Randle outside the plane, apparently badly burned. He said that before he could get to the plane another person pulled Dalgreen from the wreckage.

Before that firemen, who quickly put out the blaze. But not before it had taken its toll on the plane and the cars.

The plane struck a glancing blow on the roof of the house, narrowly missing the chimney and television antenna. It littered the street with shingles.

Secret said his family was at the dinner table when the plane struck his house. "It made a terrific noise. I thought a lot more damage was done than really was."

His wife was not so calm. "I was scared. I ran out of the house."

The plane skittered across the street and slammed into the parked cars. One of them was owned by Albert E. Lerner.

"I have lived in the neighborhood for 20 years and there have only been three (car) accidents on the street. I still think it is safe to live here. I thought the crash wasn't so bad. I thought it was a lot worse," Lerner said.

Bentley's move also was supported strongly by Ann Donnelly, 37, a Highland Park attorney, and Melvin Nord, Detroit, patent attorney. Lundgren and Miss Donnelly are Republicans; Nord is a Democrat.

Adelaide Hart, a Detroit Democrat, and Mrs. Dorothy Judd, a Grand Rapids Republican, favored open meetings without restrictions.

The organization committee voted down two Bentley proposals after Republican National Commission John B. Martin of Grand Rapids urged that no stand be taken in the recommended rules.

"We don't want to start out with the assumption that we might close meetings," he said. "We should leave this matter to a time when it comes up as a problem — if ever."

Bentley countered that he felt such provisions should be explicit rather than implicit.

In two votes, the committee voted down proposals to: —Allow any standing committee, by a majority vote of its members, to conduct its business in executive session, provided that no votes taken during the closed meetings.

Swedish Scientists Is New East-West Chief as Red Walks Out

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A Swedish nuclear scientist, Dr. Sigvard Ekund, was inaugurated as director-general of the East-West International Atomic Energy Agency today. The Soviet chief delegate, Vasily Emelyanov, walked out in protest after a sharply worded attack on Ekund and the Western powers.

Emelyanov, in a statement immediately before Dr. Ekund was sworn in, declared the election would have "very negative consequences for the agency."

He added that Ekund "will not enjoy the support of the Socialist countries as IAEA director-general."

He charged the election had been "railroaded by the Western majority in the agency," and that Dr. Ekund was accepting his nomination, "has shown that he is willing to become a tool of the Western powers."

But he specified that no military organization may sponsor or co-sponsor such programs unless he is a service secretary expressly approved.

Pentagon sources said the rules, filling out what have been general policies, are intended to dispel any doubts or confusion in the minds of local commanders.

McNamara circulated the memorandum at the top level of the Pentagon as a Senate subcommittee was preparing to open an inquiry, perhaps next month, into Defense Department policies in this field.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has argued that the Pentagon has been stopping officers from espousing anti-Communist views in speeches and lectures.

Other senators have complained that some military officers have been involved in seminars leaning toward the far right.

Youth Is Sentenced in Murder of Girl

ALLEGAN (UPI) — James Scott, 16, was sentenced to 20 years in prison today by Judge Raymond L. Smith for the late shooting of 11-year-old Carol Geis last April 29.

Judge Smith's sentence was made without recommendation. The youth, however, will be eligible for a parole hearing in 10 years.

Stephen had been found guilty of second-degree murder by a jury of seven men and five women Sept. 11 in an Allegan County circuit court.

Carol and her friend, Margaret Chambers, 12, were shot to death in the Macatawa Hills near their homes last April 29. The Stephen youth was arrested four days later at Kodak, S.D., in connection with the crime.

The victims, two sailors and a woman, were taken to Orange County Hospital for treatment along with the elderly man, who, officers said, would be held for psychiatric examination.

Treated for stab wounds of the neck were Gwendolyn C. Copeland, 13, of Los Angeles; seaman Charles J. Johnson, 18, attached to the USS Thompson at San Diego, and seaman Lawrence Robert Serna, 21, Port Huene, Calif.

Taken into custody by highway patrolmen was Thomas C. Buchanan of Mineral Bluff, Ga. Officers said he told them he was dependent on leaving his home.

Childhood Sweetheart's Books Became a Burden

NEW YORK (AP)—The things a man learns about women when young educates all his days and ways.

It was then, a time ago: There were four of us, going home after school, in the time when arithmetic counted, and the recognition of adverbs and a and their purpose was something to be proud of.

He, the other fellow, carried the other girl's books, and the day was done, and a feeling of recklessness swept the campus of the grammar school. I carried the real girl's books. Her name could have been Agnes. Agnes wasn't the class clown or the school genius. She had brushed brown hair, the most languorous eyes in the fourth grade, and a sense of command.

GREAT GAI! She was a great gal in her time. She had everything going for her—beauty, freckles, charm, and the power to carry her books home.

I felt mighty proud the first time I was allowed to walk Agnes home, even though she wasn't too good at short division and she spelled by hearsay.

But as it went on day after day, and I listened to her repetitive prose over and over, a rainbow left the reach between us. All she talked about was herself and her own dreams. She never asked about mine.

It occurred to me that all I was doing was listening to her, and her books were getting heavier and heavier. Time was invisibly throwing dishwater on my romance.

So was Agnes. "You're the smallest boy in the class, Harold," she said. "I'm at least a head taller than you. It's embarrassing. Can't you grow any faster?"

"I'll try, Agnes," I answered manfully. Easier said than done. Every school was a kid known as "stretch." My nickname: "Non-stretch."

HORSES COLLAPSE. In those days many horses still pulled many wagons in the streets. Now and then a worn-out horse would collapse in midcity, fall upon the street, kick bric-a-brac with his tangled harness, then lie quiet—the ultimate in the dignity of workhorse.

On a day going home from school we came upon such a horse, fallen in the street and quivering. It lay there at the end of its will and its ability—dubious, unresponsive, unresponsive, saved from total despair only by the roving eye of aimless hope.

Agnes didn't feel the way I did. She walked blithely over, kicked the horse where its mane met its shoulder and said, "Get up, horse! Get up!"

Across 40 years I remember I learned about women from her. Later experiences taught kinder lessons.

Presents Brandt 'Freedom Award'

NEW YORK (UPI) — U. S. Information Agency Director Edward R. Murrow Thursday told West Berlin's mayor, Willy Brandt, that if free Berlin falls "we fall with you."

Murrow presented Brandt with the Freedom House annual Freedom Award inscribed, "In the shadow of tyranny your integrity and courage sustained the spirit of liberty."

Murrow said West Berlin "is a city under siege — we shall all of us share in its ultimate destiny."

He said the Berlin struggle is a test of "whether our company of free men has the will to remain free."

"There is a great act of courage shot in the world today," Murrow said, "and it is committed daily by the more than two million people who continue to reside in West Berlin."

"Berlin has demonstrated its will to be free," Murrow said. "It has maintained its freedom behind the Iron Curtain where no other spot of freedom exists."

But he said Khrushchev's "vicious vivisection" of the city "condemns it to live in the shadow of a wall."

Drawing an analogy to the wall the ancient Romans built from the Danube to the Upper Rhine, but which was overwhelmed in the third century, Murrow said "the wall around East Germany 'will be no more enduring.'"

Italian Pays Traffic Fine After 18 Years

CATANZARO, Italy (AP) — Cesare Perricelli, 81, Wednesday paid a fine for a traffic violation back in 1932, when Mussolini was in power.

Village officials found the fine never was paid, decided the original notification must have been mislaid, and sent him a new notice.

He paid 2½ lire, today worth half a cent. Back in 1932, the fine would have amounted to half a dollar. The old man said he couldn't even remember what the traffic violation was, unless it was the time he drove his farm wagon through town without a lantern on the tailboard.

Gov. Brown Pops Into Nixon-Knight Pot of Hot Water

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California's Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown, has jumped into the middle of the controversy between Republicans Goodwin J. Knight and Richard M. Nixon.

Brown told a news conference Thursday his legal staff was examining the state election code to see whether a law was violated in the alleged proposal to appoint Knight in the 1962 California gubernatorial race.

Brown said the staff would report to him "in four or five days." The controversy involves Knight's charge that an emissary of Nixon telephoned Knight and said he could have any high state job he wanted including state supreme court chief justice if he would stay out of the race for the Republican nomination. Nixon has denied the charge.

Says Scarbeck Admitted Crime

Security Office Claims Ex-Diplomat Confessed He Agreed to Aid Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department security officer says former U. S. diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck admitted getting his Polish passport out of Poland into West Germany with the help of Polish intelligence agencies.

Scarbeck, 41, former second secretary of the American Embassy in Warsaw, is accused of slipping secrets to Polish agents while trying to protect himself and his friend, Ursula Discher, from blackmail and threats. The security officer, Kenneth W. Knauf, testified Thursday that when he talked with Scarbeck June 5 in Frankfurt, Germany, Scarbeck at first denied he had ever been blackmailed by Polish Communist agents to turn over secret documents from the U. S. Embassy in Warsaw.

AGREES TO SCHEME
But he said Scarbeck soon admitted "he agreed to furnish them provided they would not affect the security of the United States. In answer to their demands for ciphers and codes he assured them he would not cooperate to this extent."

Scarbeck, who is married, is charged with turning over to the Polish Reds four secret embassy papers.

He managed to get Miss Discher out of Poland and into West Germany in April. Knauf said Scarbeck admitted he obtained a passport for Miss Discher "by intercession with Polish intelligence agencies."

Soviets Drop Income Tax on 60-Ruble Monthly Pay

MOSCOW (U) — The Soviet Union has announced the second stage of its five-year plan to abolish income taxes.

The news agency Tass said Thursday that starting Oct. 1 the ministry of finance abolished taxes on workers earning up to 60 rubles a month. Taxes on incomes of 61 to 70 rubles were cut 40 per cent. (The official rate pegs the ruble at $1 to $1.11, the free market at $1 to 40 cents.)

The government said at the start of the plan last year all taxes on workers would be abolished by October 1965.

Politicians Intrigued by Nixon Decision

RICHARD M. NIXON'S decision to run for Governor of California and forsake the Presidency continues to intrigue leading political figures in both parties.

It is relatively certain that he didn't come by this decision lightly. The GOP standard bearer in the last election must have evaluated all the circumstances involved and concluded this was the best move for him.

He faces a case-hardened campaigner in the primary, for GOONWYN KNIGHT isn't a Johnny-come-lately in the political arena. He has been under withering fires on all fronts and possesses political savvy beyond the ken of the average performer. And even if he wins this one, Nixon finds himself facing a seasoned campaigner in the election proper for he clashes with Governor PAR BROWN. Governor Brown hasn't the slightest intention of folding up or meekly abdicating and his long list of loyal partisans will plumb the depths in his behalf. Nixon will know that he has been in a slugfest.

Of course, the popular Nixon has a grand record in California. The voters have supported him strongly for Representative, Senator, Vice President and the Presidency. He is well-known and a very popular choice. The fact he lost the Presidency of the United States by something less than one-tenth of one percent of the national vote wouldn't place any blemish on his personal escutcheon.

This leaves the door relatively wide open for BARRY GOLDWATER and NELSON ROCKEFELLER. They now become the two favorites and are leading the field with no especially formidable opponents trailing them at the moment. Both of these men suggest that NIXON is still an off-stage candidate for Presidency, even though he announces that he is relinquishing his ambitions in that direction.

A defeat in California would leave him high and dry and slam the Presidential door shut for good. It is hardly likely that he could get up off the floor in California and come on to challenge the other contestants anew. Surely Nixon has this well in mind. The Press believes he meant what he said when he declared he would not be a candidate for the Presidency.

Until this statement was made, he was probably the most formidable of the three.

Censoring Best Seller List Brings Praise

Recently, the Editor of The Chicago Tribune was confined to a hospital for an unconscionable period of time.

During this enforced "vacation" he read some of the best sellers as listed in his own newspaper and which reflected the actual activities in the book stalls.

He was aghast. Now, W. D. Maxwell isn't a prude or a twentieth century Puritan, and his associates aren't little Lord Fauntleroy. At the same time, he believes earnestly in the rules of decency and honor. And sad to relate, many of the current best sellers are a concoction of verbal sewage and obscenity. They depict back room scenes that may be transplanted to moonlit patios but which still savor of indecency.

Mr. MAXWELL revolted and tossed all these titles to the four winds. The Tribune's best sellers list is now composed of books that you can commend to your sons and daughters — and even read yourself.

This literary rebellion has drawn comment all over the Nation. The anticensorship cult probably deplores Maxwell's forthright actions as unwarranted censorship. But millions and millions of normal, fine, clean Americans applaud.

The Pontiac Press does.

We admire this uncompromising stand in behalf of a better literary world. All too often we lower the bars on one pretext or another and shamelessly compromise with our conscience. Mr. MAXWELL's stand was taken in behalf of the huge number of people who read The Tribune and who depend on it for the exercise of prudent judgment and a regard for the rules of decency. It would have been easier to have shrugged a shoulder, looked out the window and followed the easy route of laissez faire.

Newspapers around the Nation have sounded the praise of The Tribune Editor who took this step. So far as we know, this is the first case on record. Let's hope that Mr. Maxwell is blazing a trail that's widely copied.

on Our Area's Production

Jack Frost: An inevitable character with devious ways.

Raising a few sugar beets, primarily as a reminder of the times when they were a leading Oakland County farm crop, and quite incidentally for chicken feed, Orlando Sinnott of Rochester has them up to 25 pounds. Around the turn of the century his home town of Rochester had one of the largest beet sugar factories in the country.

But our soil ran out of the elements that are conducive to the profitable growing of this crop, which, coupled with the increased cost of labor, caused the plant to discontinue operations.

Raising hops on a small scale is still continued by David Brearley of Troy Township. Between 75 and 100 years ago Oakland County was the leading grower of hops in Michigan, with Troy Township as its top producer.

Pontiac then had a number of breweries, and they depended largely upon Troy Township for the hops required in manufacturing beer. But substitutes for hops and the incursion of other industry caused a practical cessation of their growing in this area, and the discontinuance of the breweries.

Once one of the leading navy bean growers of the nation was Oakland County, but we now find Blair Osgood, who works a farm in Oxford Township, with about ten acres of beans, to be among the few remaining growers. Changing soil conditions and the labor element are the reasons.

The Original Cinderella Job Was Easy

School Aid a Confusing Problem

WASHINGTON — Loud are the laments from different groups throughout the country that Congress failed to provide the billions of dollars advocated by President Kennedy for aid to education. The President is blamed for lack of aggressive leadership or for compromising with opponents or for inept handling of the legislation by his own party.

Factionalism in Congress itself is blamed for the use of various parliamentary procedures to block passage. The religious issue is blamed as a disruptive influence. Opponents of federal subsidies are blamed.

Also, many who harbored doubts about loading the Treasury with an annual commitment for any field as big as education have gladly accepted some of the responsibility for defeat of the measure.

But the sad fact remains that education in America is in need of more funds—better teachers and better buildings.

Whether all the states need federal aid or some of them can do the job themselves may be debated.

Because of the varying conditions throughout the country, the average man finds it difficult to get a clear idea of just what ought or ought not to be done by the federal government.

DEFENSE AN EXCUSE

The most recent excuse for federal aid is "national defense." What is done in the Soviet Union is being held up constantly as something to be paralleled.

Much money is evidently spent there for training engineers and technicians.

On the theory that Soviet Russia is a potential enemy, the argument is made by spokesmen for educational organizations that we give a better education to American citizens in some other way.

In fact, if she continues this six month period beyond the age of six months and is otherwise well and happy, you may dismiss the matter from your mind. It's rough on the parents but you'll survive.

Q—Can you give me the name of the vitamin that is used for patients who have suffered strokes?

A—If you are referring to claims for vitamin P or the so-called bioflavonoids, you can save your money.

The Journal of the American Medical Association states that "there is little or no merit in claims that these products are of value in preventing hemorrhage."

And since most strokes are due to clots within blood vessels (thrombosis rather than hemorrhage) due to breakage, it is wiser to concentrate attention on other methods of treatment.

Q—My husband has coughing spells almost every night. And in the morning, when he wakes up, his pajamas take a very dark stain. But he feels well every day and goes to work so he thinks he must be all right.

I put mustard plasters on his chest before he gets ready to sleep but they don't seem to help. And he says he won't bother to see a doctor as long as he feels OK during the day.

Is it safe to wait any longer before he goes to be examined?

A—It is decidedly unsafe. Night cough and night sweats are often evidences of serious lung infections. Your husband needs to see and the rest of the household, as well as to him-

The Kennedy administration says this is constitutional.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

What is hard to understand, however, is why, if a Catholic boy is supposed subsequently to enlist and defend his country in war, he should be helped in his education at the elementary school level only if he keeps out of a parochial school.

He must give up the religious education he wants in order to get the benefits of federal money granted to public elementary schools.

This is widely criticized as reducing the doctrine of separation of church and state to an absurdity.

Literally, the Constitution says that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion."

Some argue that this means no law should ever be passed that deals with any religious institution in any respect whatsoever.

If this be true, then the ability of national defense is ineffectual and no money can constitutionally be appropriated by Congress for higher institutions or elementary schools or anything else if they have the slightest connection with a church.

But there are some passages in Supreme Court decisions which cast doubt on this doctrine. Each side quotes the passages that seem to support its own view. The truth is that the decisions are not clear.

If Congress would leave it to the courts to decide the extent to which the teaching of religion bars the use of state or federal funds for a college or high school or elementary school that isn't under public control, then the passage on its merits of an all-inclusive bill to foster education in America could be made easier.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Baby's Sleeping Habits Are Rough, but Normal

Q—Our baby, which is our first, does not sleep for more than a few hours at a time. My mother says that her children used to sleep through the night without interruption.

Our baby wakens almost as if by alarm clock at 11, 3 and 6. Do you think there's something wrong with her? We feed her regularly and keep her warm and dry. But it doesn't seem to make any difference.

A—You didn't give the age of your baby. But a recent study of the sleep habits of normal full-term infants, during the first few days of life, showed that the longest period of sustained sleep was about 4½ hours.

Unless your infant is more than six months old, you may consider the sleep pattern you described as entirely normal.

In fact, if she continues this sleep pattern beyond the age of six months and is otherwise well and happy, you may dismiss the matter from your mind. It's rough on the parents but you'll survive.

Q—My husband has coughing spells almost every night. And in the morning, when he wakes up, his pajamas take a very dark stain. But he feels well every day and goes to work so he thinks he must be all right.

I put mustard plasters on his chest before he gets ready to sleep but they don't seem to help. And he says he won't bother to see a doctor as long as he feels OK during the day.

Is it safe to wait any longer before he goes to be examined?

A—It is decidedly unsafe. Night cough and night sweats are often evidences of serious lung infections. Your husband needs to see and the rest of the household, as well as to himself, to consult your doctor without delay.

He certainly requires an X-ray of his chest in addition to a regular physical examination. And, you might record his rectal temperature for a few days and nights before you visit the doctor.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Horse Play—Humor Side by Side

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-417: David, our youngest son, is a medical student at Indianapolis.

Recently he visited the dental clinic for a check-up. And one of his pals, a senior dental student, injected a local anesthetic.

David knew his friend was being graded by his professor, who was his chair.

So David pulled his lower jaw down and twisted it into an incongruous position.

"Come on now, David," his friend protested loudly, "cut out the clowning and close your mouth, for the prof is going to grade me on that injection and he'll be here any second."

David still held his face in that contorted position and motioned that he couldn't talk or close his jaw.

His friend began to get jittery. Beads of sweat came on his forehead.

"David, snap out of it! Quit your horse play, he urged, 'my prof is coming.'"

But David still kept his face in that deformed shape until the professor finally arrived.

The latter looked surprised and startled at this unexpected reaction to a local anesthetic.

Then David closed his mouth and grinned. The professor grinned back for both enjoying seeing the anxiety and tension that David had caused his friend, the senior dental student.

David considered this a good

Handling of New Contract Disliked by Union Member

I am a member of the UAW-CIO Local 653 and I am ashamed of the way the ratification of the new contract was handled.

Our union is only as good as the people elected to office, and I am of the opinion that the majority of them are only looking for a soft berth.

We had a meeting to ratify the new contract and it seemed to me that the ones that agreed with the party in power were given permission to speak and to praise our officials and those that didn't agree were immediately silenced. The union is supposed to improve our working conditions but they seem to have forgotten that.

An official from the national office was there and he badly and strongly told about how we have to fight to hold onto what we have. I think he was trying to cover up.

I work in plant 8 and there are a great deal of small things that could be done for us that would appreciate.

Many in Agreement About Contractors' 'JFK Handles Affairs Even When Away'

I received many calls and letters on my article in regards to hiring local people on local jobs. We are going to organize a committee to look into this vital matter.

MSUO is being done by local contractors. Consequently most of the people hired there are local people. I checked two out-of-town contractors where 90 per cent of the labor is out of this district. On one small job at least $10,000 a week is leaving here for Detroit.

If this can be taken as an example the county over, then millions of dollars are leaving here every month.

'Letter on Weekends Was Misinterpreted'

A letter in The Press says that county Kennedy should spend the weekend with his family and why shouldn't he. Of course, he should, but the first writer was protesting because Kennedy's weekend began Friday noon and ended Wednesday night and yet the Democrats used to froth at the mouth because he spent three or four hours on the golf course. Let's keep the figures and the facts straight.

JK's In-Law May Enter GOP Congress Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — An in-law of President Kennedy is planning to run for Congress as a Republican.

Newton L. Steers Jr., whose wife is Mrs. Kennedy's step sister, said he hasn't finally made up his mind but expects to seek the Republican nomination for congress at large in Maryland next year.

Steers, a Washington broker, lives in Suburban Bethesda, Md. Last year he supported Republican Charles Mathias Jr. in his successful race for congress against former Rep. John F. Kennedy, a Democrat. As a presidential candidate at the time, Kennedy supported Foley in several campaign appearances.

"I've known him (President Kennedy) for 13 years, and I like and admire him," Steers said. But he added "I don't think he was sufficiently prepared for the presidency."

Rabbi Warns Against Trend Away From Religion

Judaism's Shift to Nationalism Leading to Suicide?

By JULES LOH
NEW YORK (AP)—A prominent rabbi, anticipating that his views might be "criticized as heresy," believes Judaism is headed for extinction unless it abandons sharply from what he considers its present course.

Rabbi Phillip Sigal of Beth Abraham Synagogue in Bridgeport, N.J., says the trend nowadays is to regard Jews as a nation of people rather than simply a religious fellowship, and that this "tragic shift from religion to political science in Jewish life and thought is the first real step Jews have taken to commit suicide."

ARTICLE TO APPEAR

Rabbi Sigal is founder of the Bridgeport chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and a participant in the Continuing Conference on Conservative (Jewish) Ideology. He outlines his views in an article scheduled to appear next week in "Issues," a publication of the American Council for Judaism. Rabbi Sigal is not a member of the council.

Rabbi Sigal takes particular issue with Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion who views Zionism as nothing less than "aliyah"—emigration of all Jews to Israel.

"Even if America is not our Zion," says Rabbi Sigal, "it certainly is our Babelonia. The whole controversy ought to be put to rest." His reference is to an ancient rabbinic quarrel between the two Jewish centers.

RITES 'NATIONALISM'

But Rabbi Sigal is equally distressed over what he considers a rising spirit of nationalism among Jews, spurred by the success of the nation of Israel.

"Now it is taken for granted in almost all circles," he says, "that nationalism is a perfectly normal and authentic expression of Judaism."

"The transformation of the nature and destiny of the Jew from a theological concept of a 'covenant people' into a political concept of a 'nation' has become so deep-rooted by now that one is looked upon as a Jew who questions the idea."

Rabbi Sigal's own idea is that Jews share a bond of religion, nothing more.

COMMON DENOMINATOR

In antiquity, he says, "Jews were an association with the common denominator being neither race, descent, citizenship, language or civilization, but exclusively religion."

"To raise Zionism to the level of our modern raison d'etre is so many seek to do," says the rabbi, "is to further confound our tragedy." Nationalism, he says, "can only lead to denuding Jewish life and perverting Jewish history. Its end result must be a catastrophe."

His answer:

"We must recapture the one permeating strand of our history which is the source of our being and the object of our destiny: religion."

JKF Told Belt Won't Cut Space Flights, Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was advised by a panel of scientists Thursday that the planned placing of a "belt of needles" in orbit around the earth would not interfere with scientific observations or manned space flight.

"Project West Ford," as it has been named, contemplates the release of 75 pounds of tiny, filamentous from a satellite, to form a narrow belt which could be used to reflect signals between microwave transmitters and receivers.

Some scientists have had apprehensions that the belt might impinge the study of the skies by lightwaves or the reception of radio signals.

A special panel of the President's science advisory committee was directed to investigate these possibilities and report.

Commissioner Henry Requests Action

Pontiac Again Urged to Pass Rabies Law

By DICK SANDERS

The fact that Pontiac has no law requiring that dogs be immunized against rabies before they can be licensed is again before the city commission.

The latest request for action on the problem came from Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

Several weeks ago, a similar request came from a Pontiac woman whose father had been bitten and maulled by a dog.

Last summer, Dr. Bernard Herman, city health officer and coordinator of the Pontiac Department of Health, recommended a law requiring rabies shots and currently is preparing a study on the situation.

Eight years ago, another Pontiac City Commission came under fire from "dog owners" when

39 From Oakland Enlist in the Army

A total of 38 men and one woman from Oakland County joined the U.S. Army in special enlistment programs at the Pontiac Recruiting Station, 3 1/2 Huron St., in September. The enlistment is for three years.

From Waterford are Joel L. Harnack and Gaius E. Kelly. From Birmingham is Monte Peppercorn. From Bloomfield is Spencer D. Olson, from Clarkston are Jimmie D. Winslow and Gordon Lacey.

From Drayton Plains are Gary L. Best and Bruce W. Brady. From Farmington are: Lee Ann Clark (joining the Women's Army Corps), Joseph Letwiniski, Paul Mechem, Marvin L. Muriel, Thomas A. Sale and Lawrence Steen.

Others are Paul G. Ostin, Milford; Frank C. Roemer, Orchard Lake; Albert E. Buston and Sterling H. Hill, Rochester; William H. Segrest, South Lyon; James R. Lewis and George M. Hile, of Troy; Robert K. Brown, James D. Hilliker and David W. Janeway, of three of Union Lake; and Gerald W. Farnall, Waller Lake.

Selective Service Inducts 14 Pontiac Residents

Fourteen men from Pontiac were inducted this week by Local Board No. 65 of the Selective Service System.

They are: Herbert Boenick, 119 Henderson St.; Herbert J. Butler, 457 Anderson St.; Charles E. Fields, 19 E. Sheffield Ave.; Dennis S. Gilchrist, 284 W. Hopkins Ave.; Richard Goodman, 402 Bloomfield St.; William D. Hampton, 149 W. Rungled St.; David L. Hughes, 945 Keeler Ave.; Mayrice McAllister, 231 Rockwell St.; Harold E. Masters, 968 Boston Ave.; Carley J. Kowls, 268 South Blvd. West; Raymond B. Travis Jr., 24 S. Shirley Ave.; Lloyd D. Tyson, 92 Elm St.; Freddie Vining, 562 Arthur St.; and Phillip G. Young, 294 E. Wilson Ave.

Another item that would seem to place less importance on the need for a law is the fact that there have been only 13 human deaths from rabies in Michigan since 1955.

But, the doctors agree, one human death is enough to warrant legal action. There are few more horrible ways to die, they say.

"Back in 1953 the city was pressured by a small group of misinformed individuals who claimed the vaccine would kill or paralyze their dogs," said Dr. Bates.

"HE GREW HAIR"

Warren Feather, Clayburg, Penna. (near Altoona), shows his regrown hair by the Lesley Hair Treatment Method.

Hair Consultant Here Tomorrow; Learn If Your Hair Loss Can Be Stopped and Baldness Prevented

Mr. W. K. McMahan, representing the Lesley Hair and Scalp Consultants will give hair and scalp consultation to hair worried men and women at the Waldron Hotel in Pontiac, Michigan, Saturday only, October 7, 1961, from 1:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M.

The Lesley Consultants point out that remarkable results have been attained by means of a personal examination followed by simple individual treatment that anyone can easily carry out in the privacy of his or her own home. Regular checkups in your city by a Lesley Consultant assure success in the minimum period of time.

WHO CAN BE HELPED?

The Lesley Organization urges that you do not resign yourself to a future without hair.

When you first notice your hair thinning, brought on usually by dandruff, itching, dryness, oiliness or follicles clogged with sebum or seborrhea, take positive action at once. See a Hair and Scalp Consultant.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED

Of course, we must have a client who still has some hair. If a person is completely bald, he waited too long and is refused treatment. The Lesley consultant wishes you to understand that the majority of cases of baldness or excessive hair loss are of a type known as male pattern baldness. There is a known cure for this, and Lesley does not claim to have such a cure.

Study Doctors' Draft Status

State Selective Service Preparing to Supply Share of Medical Call

LANSING (AP) — Classifications of physicians, dentists and veterinarians throughout Michigan are being reviewed this week in anticipation of an expected draft call for all three professions, the State Selective Service said Thursday.

Defense officials have announced that 718 doctors, dentists and veterinarians will be inducted into the armed forces soon. Classifications of those born since Dec. 31, 1932, will be reviewed.

Local draft boards have been directed to review cases of health specialists who have been deferred as fathers or persons with dependents.

Interns will be permitted to finish their training, the Selective Service said. However, they will be ordered for physical examinations and instructed to apply for commissions prior to completion of their internship.

Deferment of those in residence training will be limited largely to physicians who accept commissions in the armed forces or public health service residence programs.

Qualified registrants who fail to accept a commission are subject to induction.

Citizens' Committee in Troy Backs a 3-Mill Operating Levy

TROY — A special citizens' committee last night recommended that the board of education ask voters to approve a 3-mill operational tax for four years in the Troy School District.

Following a discussion of the needs of the district by School Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith, the committee elected officers and decided to submit the millage request to the board.

The committee, which suggested Nov. 28 as the date for the millage election, is made up of representatives from business, labor, professional, service clubs, churches and neighborhood associations in the Troy district.

Elected chairman was Arthur Lovejoy of 829 Sylvanwood St. Other officers are Jack B. Mair of 2425 Cheviot St., vice chairman; and Mrs. John D. Vagnetti of 431 Kirk Lane, recording secretary.

STEERING COMMITTEE

A steering committee also was appointed.

It includes the three officers of the new group, Board of Education President Alex. Tumstall, Board Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Horton, Marvin E. Olson of 6100 Beech Road and Mrs. William T. Stewart of 6170 Livernova Road.

Action on the committee's millage recommendation is expected to be taken at Tuesday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Troy Board of Education.

Dr. Smith said today a lower amount of state aid than was expected and the need for adding one full-time and one part-time teacher during the district's operational budget deficit balance by about $30,000.

Total enrollment in the district is 3,770, about 110 students less than expected for this year, according to Dr. Smith.

He said the fewer students meant an $15,700 reduction in state aid.

The superintendent also explained that the district already is saddled with an operational deficit of approximately $22,000 from previous years.

The millage request, if placed on the ballot by the board and approved by voters, would not represent an increase of as much as 3 mills over last year's total tax since the district's debt recording levy is lower for 1961-62, according to Dr. Smith.

Speaks Vows With William Stafford

Barbara Maddox Wed at St. Michael's Church

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Barbara Diane Maddox and William L. Stafford exchanged nuptial vows recently at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Pontiac, Rev. Charles Cushing performed the morning rites.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe G. Maddox, 4408 Lake George Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Eileen S. Griffin, 125 W. Elmwood St., Leonard, and the late Lee Stafford.

A floor-length gown of Rochelle lace over tulle was chosen by the bride for her wedding. It featured a large waistline, long tapered sleeves and a bouffant skirt.

A crown of pearlized orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of nylon illusion. Her bridal bouquet was comprised of white chrysanthemums centered with red roses and accented with ivy.

Monica Maddox was maid of honor for her sister, Barbara, sister, Marcia, and Sharon Griffin, bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was John Speria. Ushers were Ronald and James Stafford, brothers of the bridegroom.

MRS. DENNIS G. BROWN

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Joanne Yvonne Cherry and Dennis Gregory Brown by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Connolly of 2933 Locust Wood Road, Union Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown Sr. of Round Lake Road, Union Lake.

Tip From Spain Helps Solve Roseville Killing

ROSEVILLE — Police in this Detroit suburb spent 13 fruitless months in the search for the slay-uppers of Mrs. Albertina Boli, a motel operator.

But the break that helped them solve the case came some 5,000 miles away — from a cafe in Barcelona, Spain — where a sailor got drunk and talked too much.

The sailor, Kenneth D. Funke, 25, is one of the three men named in first-degree murder warrants for the Aug. 16, 1960 slaying. Another is Milton Chamberlain, 26, already serving a prison term for parole violation.

The third man, John D. Coulter, a 24-year-old ex-convict, identified by Funke as the actual triggerman, is sought on the West Coast.

Police said Funke, a veteran of a previous two-year hitch in the Navy, re-enlisted after the crime and applied for overseas duty.

One night, while on liberty from his ship in Barcelona, Funke divulged details of the slaying to a shipmate. The story was overheard by a third party who informed naval authorities.

LAPEER Faces Loss of Newest Factory

LAPEER — Because there are no buildings available, Lapeer faces the loss of its newest factory, E. E. DesJardins, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said today.

The plant, Fabricators, Inc., was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, but management can find no place to resume operations.

One building is believed to be under consideration for sale to another firm. Fabricators employed about 50 persons, most of whom commuted from Detroit.

TO NORTHERN MICHIGAN

80 Volunteers for Torch Drive to Be Briefed

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Some 80 volunteers solicitors of the 1961 Torch Drive here will meet 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Highland Township Hall to receive final campaign instructions.

The goal of this year's fund drive in the township has been set at $15,555.

At this meeting the five area chairmen will have the opportunity to give specific directions and distribute United Fund kits to all solicitors.

The area chairmen are Mrs. Elmer Monterial, assisted by Mrs. Jack LaBrec; Mrs. Elynn Walls, assisted by Mrs. Everett Cole; Mrs. Howard Armstrong, Mrs. Frederick Ike and Mrs. Emiel Bouckaert.

According to Division Chairman Mrs. Walter Eas of 1325 Harvey Lake Road, the official kick-off date for the Community Business Solicitation this year is Wednesday.

In charge of this section of the campaign will be Mr. and Mrs. James M. Keith, assisted by James O. Sullivan.

Alerted for Gold Piece

LANSING — Coin collectors have been alerted by state police to watch for a $5 gold piece, dated 1900. It is valued at $25 and was stolen from the Michigan Historical Commission Museum this week. Solon Weeks, museum director, said the gold piece, long taken without a display of gold coins was unlocked.

To Start Immediately

Troy Commission OKs Six Resurfacing Projects

TROY — Work is expected to start immediately on resurfacing two major roads and four subdivision streets here following action taken last night by the City Commission.

The commission approved the purchase of materials to resurface Square Lake Road and Wadsworth Road, both between Livernova and Rochester roads, and streets in Thornwood Subdivision.

Commissioners also approved buying four new voting machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Co. of Jamestown, N.Y.

The new machines are needed because the number of voting precincts in the city recently was increased from seven to 11, according to City Clerk J. Lawson Lockhart.

No action was taken on a proposed reorganization of Troy's civil defense setup.

Mayor Robert J. Huber had suggested that he should replace Clarence R. Long as Troy Civil Defense director.

SPOTS FOR OTHERS

The mayor, pro-tem, city manager, a school official and a private citizen would take positions as assistant director and deputy directors under the mayor's plan.

Long and Huber have frequently clashed over Troy's civil defense program at City Commission meetings. Huber defeated Long in the election for mayor over two years ago.

Residents in the Thornwood Subdivision have complained about the condition of their streets since severe weather broke up the former asphalt surfaces two years ago.

Koenig Coal and Supply Co. of Detroit will supply the aggregate and Midwest Asphalt and Paving Co. the seal coat material for the resurfacing project.

Work will be done by the department of public works.

The aggregate will cost $2.22 to $2.36 per ton, depending on the distance the material has to be hauled. The seal coat was purchased for about 17 cents per gallon.

DISCOVER "GOLD MINE" — These are three of several $5 and $10 gold coins found by construction crewmen working on the Kalamazoo River diversion channel. No one knows where they came from and the finders are keeping the exact location of their gold mine a secret. Altogether coins worth a total value of $100 were found.

Transportation System in Danger, Rocky Says

RENO (AP) — "Only drastic and immediate action by the federal government can save America from a national disaster in its entire transportation system," New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said Thursday.

Rockefeller came here to address the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders on problems of federal-state relations.

"Instead he devoted almost his entire talk to 'a financial crisis' in the nation's transportation."

He called for creation of a department of transportation and sweeping new regulatory and taxing policies and "restructuring of our national transportation system."

"The Republican leader told legislators from nearly every state and territory that local governments should help out with tax relief and other financial aid for transportation."

"The people of the United States annually spend $100 billion or one-fifth the gross national product on transportation," he said.

Radiation Dose to Be Used at Demonstration

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Unless you read this story or others like it, you'll be in for a surprise if you attend a civil defense demonstration here Saturday.

City officials are planning to bombard all those present with a tiny—and they say, harmless—dose of radiation without telling them beforehand.

Then, speakers will explain that the dose—not felt, seen, smelled or otherwise sensed—could have been a killer if increased many, many times. A laboratory licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission will furnish the radiation, described as just sufficient to activate a geiger counter.

The idea is to dramatize the power of radiation.

Draws an Analogy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—A coffee drinker, apparently irked by Gov. Matthew Welsh's curtailment of state employees' coffee breaks, hung the following sign in a passage leading to the employees cafeteria: "Entering East Berlin."

She's an Expert in Plane Rates

Airline Teacher Gets Plenty of Travel

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elizabeth J. Williams ranks as one of the world's most traveled teachers—and her students also get around.

Miss Williams, a brown-eyed, red-haired beauty, product of Minneapolis, is an expert on airline travel rates (tariffs, the industry calls them). She teaches other airlines personnel from management to ticket counter staff the complex technique of figuring the most advantageous fare for the passenger.

"On a round trip say from New York to Paris, the fare is cut and dried, no matter what regularly scheduled line you're on," she explained in an interview.

view. "But when you get into the real itinerary stuff... say around the world with a lot of stopovers and side trips, there are many possible fares.

SHOP AROUND

"We want to give the customer the most for his money," said Miss Williams. "Today's airline passenger shops around for fares and nobody flies from A to B and let's it go at that... the American tourist now wants to cover the continent and take in all the airline stops en route."

Miss Williams is the newly named manager of tariff training at Pan American World Airways, the first woman ever to hold the post with the carrier. She will leave in late October on the first of what promises to be many round-the-world trips in the years ahead. Her major destinations—Hong Kong and London, to teach rate structure to traffic and sales people detached temporarily from their regular jobs and flown to "school" in the two cities.

The airline has three other training centers in New York, Miami and Los Angeles.

AROUND THE WORLD

Miss Williams will spend the first week in Hong Kong, which means her itinerary will be from New York to San Francisco, Honolulu, Tokyo and Hong Kong, four to London, then to Bangkok, New Delhi, Teheran, Istanbul and Frankfurt to London, then on to home base when school recesses for 1961. Her 1962 teaching schedule calls for two trips to Hong Kong, four to London, three to Los Angeles and one to Miami.

Miss Williams explained that instruction in passenger and cargo rates has become increasingly necessary as air travel has boomed. The matter of rates generally is set at regular conferences of the International Air Transport Association (IATA).

IATA's some 60 member carriers must reach unanimous decision on airline regulations before they become effective. Miss Williams is the first woman Pan Am ever has sent as a delegate to an IATA meeting... one of the few women ever to represent any of the world's carriers.

The variation in rates comes about in part because of all the various types of flights airlines offer, she explained. To name a few: First class jet, first class propeller, economy jet, economy propeller, excursions, family plans, military personnel, even thrill plans on some routes.

"Bess" Williams began her airlines career in 1942 in the company's revenue accounting department. She has served as assistant superintendent and

Displays Bad Manners

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My 20-year-old daughter is entering her third year at the state university. Her "fiance" is a senior there.

They say they are engaged, but I haven't seen a ring. I came home unexpectedly one afternoon and my "prospective son-in-law" was sprawled out on my living room sofa. He had removed his shoes. He did not even get up when I entered.

He refers to my husband as "the big wheel" or "the old man." He never says, "I beg your pardon" when he interrupts, which is frequently. Is this the sort of thing they teach at the university?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Common courtesy and respect for elders is learned at the mother's knee. Evidently your "prospective son-in-law" learned his manners at some other low joint.

DEFINITION, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Will you please write, in simple language, the difference between going "steadily" and going "steadily"? I have heard so many different definitions.

CURIOS

DEAR CURIOS: According to my teen-age experts, a boy and girl who go "steadily" have agreed to go with no one else, and make it "official" by exchanging class rings, pins or some other symbolic trinket. When a couple goes "steadily" they simply ditch each other, to the exclusion of others. There is no "commitment" or exchange of trinkets.

PLAYING CUPID

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with playing cupid? There is a young man who works with my husband. He is such a nice, clean person. And good-looking, too. He is unmarried, and always alone. I have a cousin about his age. She lives at home caring for her invalid mother. He is a fine girl who has very little social life outside her church.

I would like to see these two lovely people get together, but my husband says to leave the man alone because he looks so happy. I have an idea these two would hit it off, but I don't know how to go about getting them together. Should I try it? If so, how?

PLAYING CUPID

DEAR PLAYING: Invite the couple to a little get-together at your home. But invite others, too, so your scheme won't be so obvious. Cupid does some of his best work by appointment.

ALICE ENGRAM

Musical to Open Season on Tuesday

Pontiac Tuesday Musicals will open its season Tuesday afternoon with guest artist Alice Engram, mezzo-soprano presenting a recital. Sharing the solo honors with Miss Engram will be Birmingham pianist Teruko Yamasaki. Robert Bates will accompany Miss Engram.

Miss Engram, a Detroitist is well known for her range and color. She has worked extensively in oratorio roles and has held important roles with the New York City Center Opera, Philadelphia's LaScala Opera and the Philadelphia Civic Opera companies.

A graduate of the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts and the Juilliard School of Music, she has cooperated throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

MAKE PREDICTION

Of her Town Hall debut, The New York Times predicted, "We will be hearing more of this singer."

Miss Engram has planned a program to include a group of Hebridean folk songs and selections by Debussy, Tchaikovsky and D'Alba.

Mr. Bates is presently organist and chormaster at Christ Church Cranbrook and has directed music at Cranbrook School for many years.

Mrs. Yamasaki's selections will include numbers by Brahms and Faure.

Paris Has Another Face

NEW YORK—What experienced traveler hasn't climbed the peak of the Eiffel Tower, seen the Arc de Triomphe, spent an evening on Place Pigalle and been in and out of every church, museum, and swank restaurant of the city? Ask "the man who's been there," and chances are, he knows Paris "like I know my home town!"

But, there's another side of Paris—a whole different world that lies beyond the brilliance of the Champs-Élysées and Place de la Concorde. It's a world rarely visited by tourists, inhabited primarily by Monsieur and Madame Dupont, Durand, and Dumont—the Joneses, Smiths, and Browns of France's capital city.

Like their counterparts in America, the Joneses of France can rarely afford expensive night clubs and cabarets. Saturday and Sunday afternoon are hardly ever spent on the Eiffel Tower, any more than a New Yorker totes to climb the Empire State Building.

Parisians do, however, visit the many zoos and parks of the city—the Jardin des Plantes, the Jardin d'acclimatation, and the Tuilleries—and chances are, they'll visit the Catacombs. Less famous, perhaps, than the ones in Rome, the Paris Catacombs are every bit as ancient and every bit as Roman, and they can be visited on Saturdays from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Place Denfert-Rochereau.

ORIENTAL COOKING

If, by the way, you're a hankering to taste good oriental cooking, Paris serves the best. There are many fine, small restaurants with the rich decor of the Middle East—copper chandeliers, oriental rugs, inlaid tables—near the Sorbonne. Here the finest chefs of the Middle East have established restaurants whose food is quite in keeping with the high standards of Paris—the Mecca of the gourmet world.

In addition to the finest French food, you see, Paris offers the finest treats of other lands, too. While you're on the Left Bank, why not try one of the Chinese restaurants near Montparnasse or the Pantheon. The authentic food of these restaurants differs substantially from what is served in Chinatown, U.S.A.

One reason for the high quality of non-French food in the French capital is that Paris has long been the most popular haven for wealthy exiles of other nations. The Russian nobility, for example, fled to Paris after the Bolsheviks took over—and these princes brought their own chefs with them! That's why Paris' Russian restaurants outshine anything in Moscow.

FRENCH SPECIALTIES

Parisian restaurants, however, not only give you a chance to sample food from different regions of the world, they also provide a fine opportunity to taste the specialties of the various French provinces. Near St.-Germain, a Basque restaurant serves a complete meal with fine, features authentic Basque music played by three guitarists, for a modest 6.5 N.F. ($1.30).

Unusual food, however, is not the only attraction in "off-beat Paris." Unusual entertainment can be found in the famous "caves," or "caveaux." Many on the left bank feature rock-and-roll "a la Française" and you can see French teen-agers behaving much the same way as their American counterparts.

IN OWN ELEMENT

Remember, though, that what's usual for the Parisian may very well be "off-beat" for the visitor from abroad. Many Frenchmen, for example, make the mistake of waiting for such stars as Maurice Chevalier, Edith Piaf, and Yves Montand to cross the Atlantic before seeing them. Fall, winter, and spring is the time to see these performers in their own element—the Paris music halls, where they are received by their audiences as national heroes.

The same holds true for the concert world. Paris has more than a dozen concert halls, scheduling everything from symphony orchestras, led by such names as Igor Markevitch and Andre Cluytens, to chamber music recitals and individual performances by such personalities as Jean-Pierre Rampal, Robert and Daisy Casadesu, Samson Francois, Zino Francescatti, and Pierre Fournier.

Caution Husband's Visitors

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband is home recuperating from a serious operation. He is well enough to be up out of bed but is still very weak. Since he has been home many of his friends have come in to see him. He is very happy to have visitors, but some of them stay too long and after they have gone he is completely exhausted.

A: There is any way he can tactfully get them to leave after a certain length of time without hurting their feelings and making them feel that he does not appreciate their visits?

A: You must take each visitor aside and explain seriously that the doctor insists that your husband must not see any visitor for more than a specified time — and remind all visitors the moment their time is up.

Q: Will you please tell me if it is permissible in the present day for a girl to accept such items as stockings, blouses, sweaters, etc., from a boy friend?

A: I contend that no girl should accept any article of clothing from a man, but her daughter and her young friends tell me that all of the girls do it and that it is no longer considered improper. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: You are right, even today a girl should not accept articles of clothing from a man. An exception would be if the man brought back some article from a foreign country that is a specialty of that country and which can not be bought here.

Q: Why do you say a man must remain standing at the table in a restaurant when a woman stops a few moments to talk with his wife and the woman friend asks him to be seated?

A: Asking him to remain seated doesn't alter the situation because all who see him seated would look upon him as either ignorant or willfully rude. So the real answer to women readers is: Don't linger at any table at which there is a gentleman.

Q: My husband has been dead for the past five years but I am still receiving letters from well-educated people addressing me as Mrs. Jane Doe. Should I not be addressed as Mrs. John Doe?

A: You must certainly should be addressed as Mrs. John Doe.

You Could Win

Fight 'Losing' Battle

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q: "Please comment on my problem. I am 5 feet 7. My measurements are just 42 inches, waist 26 and hips 43. I am really overweight, but when I complain about my weight my friends say, 'Your weight is nicely distributed.' I feel that they are being kind."

A: It's always a question of whether folks are being friends or foes when they tell us with such sweet talk. They probably are trying to be kind and don't know what else to say, since they do not think you are going to diet. You do have a remarkably small waist for the other measurements. Why not lose pounds and surprise your friends?

Q: "Could you please explain in your column the advantages and disadvantages of having one's teeth capped?"

capped? Is it expensive or painful? Can just anyone have teeth capped, or just certain persons?"

A: Usually, people who have their teeth capped do so for cosmetic reasons. Often actresses have this done, or women or girls who are unhappy because of jagged or crooked teeth which detract from their appearance. Sometimes it is necessary to cap a tooth when it has broken off or is deeply decayed.

Anyone can have teeth capped if he has the price. This is usually rather expensive, but is no more painful than any other dentistry which, actually, isn't painful at all if you have a local anesthetic. Some dentists object to capping teeth unless absolutely necessary, or just for cosmetic reasons, but most of them will do so if there is a real reason for it, either physical or psychological.

Isn't There Any Place for Average Students?

"Colleges aren't strictly for geniuses. We can't afford to slam the door of opportunity in the faces of Cleveland high school seniors, who will help make our country's future. We must fight for our average students!"

This is a quote from former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Arthur S. Flemming, now President of the University of Oregon. "If colleges don't provide opportunity for the genuine 'C-level student,'" asserts Dr. Flemming, "we will seriously undermine our country's strength. Secondly, and just as important, we will be abandoning a great tradition of providing equal opportunity for the education of every youngster to the fullest limit of his capacity."

America's percentage of college enrollees is now 50 per cent. However, if colleges reject more and more students, this figure will decrease at a time when it is imperative for it to be moving up to at least 75 per cent. Flemming wrote in a popular woman's magazine.

NEED GUIDANCE
Our schools must be provided with adequate guidance programs. We now have only one full-time high school counselor available for every 600 students, he points out in this article. While this is an increase over previous years, it must be further accelerated.

Flemming also points to the "population explosion" as he reveals that in 1965, there will be more than 4,600,000 students Elected to the nominating committee for 1963 were Maxine Davison, chairman; Mrs. George Ferguson and Miss Fought.

The guest list included Mrs. Philip Sauer, Mrs. John R. Bell, Mrs. Olive K. Casey, Mrs. John Sheehan, Mrs. Sue Jenks, Mrs. Joan C. McGarry, Mrs. Carl E. Rehm, Shirley Dobson and Mrs. Norma Lewis.

A. I. don't know why you are so worried about the line. I think the type you describe is rather rugged and attractive looking for a man. It seems to go along with a lean look, and maybe a mischievous eye. Actually, sometimes underweight is one of the causes for this. A gain in weight helps will out the face—and the line.

I do not recommend a vibrator for the face. Just pat on the hormone cream, forgetting the upward stroke. The cream should be left on longer than the 20 minutes you mention, and should be applied every 24 hours. Remember, too, that posture can cause the line you mention. If you have the habit of sitting, standing, talking, reading and working with your head ducked, it would cause this line.

Present from the newly chartered Royal Oak Chapter were Mrs. Florence M. Patterson, Virginia Conrad, Pauline O'Hara, Theresa Marie Nelson, Betty DeChene and Norine Schack.

Plans for a "Torchbearer" chapter in Pontiac are still under way.

Don't Have to Splurge on Girl's Wedding

MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

My 20-year old niece is marrying a boy that the family doesn't approve of. He has no trade, can't hold a regular job. But my niece wants my sister to give her a big wedding so that she'll get presents to furnish a home with.

ANSWER: No, I do not think she should.

Traditionally, lavish weddings are given to young people by parents who've had a voice in the selection of their wives and husbands. Before a marriage was solemnized, the bride's parents had assured themselves of the bridegroom's character, his financial ability to maintain a wife and children.

The bridegroom's parents had assured themselves of the girl's worthy qualifications. As well as possible the future of the home about to be made had been protected by adults who understood the problems of maintaining one.

Under these circumstances, the bride's parents naturally expressed their consent with its promising beginning by releasing money for wedding feasts and other celebrations.

But in America young people feel entitled to marry without interest in our approval. Parents concerned with the financial stability of the home about to be made are comic figures to them. So we do not always feel content to spend money for big wedding festivities. Under such situations, I do not think that the money should be released.

Big, bedragged wedding celebrations are cruel to everyone involved.

Have you ever attended a wedding that wasn't wanted? It's painful. There's the church canopy, the white ribbons, the organ music, the flowers—but the faces of the young people's parents returning down the aisle are cold as stone or flamed with strain. There are confetti and congratulations — but in the church lobby the families of the bride and groom do not greet each other.

Getting married without parental good will is a lonely and difficult enterprise for young people.

Shortening Coats

(UPI)—Three-quarter length fur coats are among the most likely to succeed in '61. Running parallel with the short coat trend will be the newer one of longer jackets as fashion avant gardes prepare to extend their line to the wrist, the knuckles and the fingertips.

Jackie Look Is Gone— Thank Goodness!

RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By the way, what ever became of the Jackie Kennedy Look? It just occurred to me the other day when glancing through the latest fashion magazines that I hadn't heard anything about the Jackie Look lately.

Not only that, all those carbon copies of the First Lady that blossomed on Main Streets throughout the land seem to have faded away along with the last roses of summer — both the ones in the store windows and the ones walking along the street.

Even the models in the advertisements have gone back to being themselves, instead of Jackie Juniors.

What happened, I suppose, is that the Jackie Look had such a swift and sudden vogue it couldn't last. Just as we quickly got sick of women looking like sacks in their sack dresses, we quickly tired of seeing Jackie Kennedy every place we looked.

And just as we threw out the sacks and went back to a little individuality and variety in clothes, we've left the Jackie Look to Jackie and have decided to go back to being ourselves.

Of all the people in the world who are glad to see that the Jackie Look had such a short vogue, the gladdest must be Jackie Kennedy, herself.

For It would be frustrating to any woman to work hard to emphasize her own individuality — and then to suddenly find the look she had made her own staring back at her from models, shop girls, waitresses, matrons, and magazine cover girls.

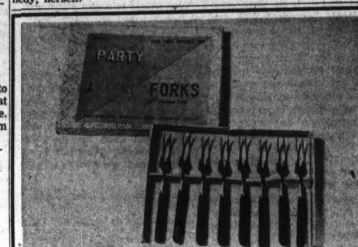

I for one, am happy that we have given the Jackie Look back to Jackie. On her, it looks good. But you couldn't say the same for most of the carbon copies.

League Sets Program for Year

The year's program was organized by the executive board of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac at Tuesday's meeting in the Country Street home of Lillian Davidson.

The 1961 membership meeting will be 7:45 p.m. in the Community Services Building. Metropolitan problems relating to what the league feels should or should not appear in the new constitution will be covered. Any Krueger will present the program.

Reports were read by Mrs. Frances Coons, calendar sales; Elizabeth Halsey, publication sales; Laura Bell, publicity; and Mrs. Roy B. MacAfee, finance drive. The fund drive from both members and non-members now stands at 25 per cent of the goal.

Julia Delahai, Mrs. Ann Krueger and Mrs. Robert Matheson were chosen to attend a statewide workshop at the Young Women's Christian Association in Lansing Oct. 16. Laura Bell, treasurer of the LWV of Michigan, will assist in the workshop which is a training session for co-con chairmen, budget and finance chairmen and treasurers of local leagues.

Mrs. Coons was appointed by the board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Charles Neldret who resigned to run as delegate to the constitutional convention. The league's non-partisan status policy allows no person to serve on the board if she or a close relative runs for or is serving in an elective office. Members were urged to attend sessions of the constitutional convention now in session in the Lansing Civic Center.

Some 2,000 copies of "They Represent You," a publication listing national, state and local officials, as well as board of education members in the area, are being distributed by Aldine French and her voters service committee. The booklets will go primarily to area schools for use in civics classes and to libraries.

The next board meeting will be Nov. 7 at the Genes Drive home of Mrs. William J. Hanley.

This summer was a busy one for the cheerleaders as they planned and prepared for the 1961-62 season. Gretchen Gaensbauer, Sandy Gowen, Patti Hamilton, Sue Johnson, and Sue Rogers went to the Wisconsin Dells accompanied by their sponsor Jean Smith and her husband.

Besides attending weekly practices all the cheerleaders took a trip to cheerleading camp. This trip was made to gain more knowledge as new cheers could be made up.

benefits of the JA program. They are: (1) an opportunity to see how a business functions and what it is like; (2) to develop talents of leadership and imagination; and (3) possible job contacts through the advisors, men who are specially trained for the purpose of helping out in the program.

Congratulations are in order for Carolyn Brown, Evelyn Daugherty, and Theresa Orrick. The three were announced at last week's Bon-Fire, to be the new junior varsity cheerleaders. Shirley West, sophomore, was chosen their captain.

Will Gather in Detroit

Press Meet Attracts St. Mike Girls

By SHARON RODDEN

Representing St. Michael's High School at the Detroit Student Press Association Saturday are Pat Donley, Susan Hunt, and Diane Hope.

The principal convention speaker will be Martin Hayden, editor of the Detroit News.

Another guest will be Allen Hurlbert, art director of Look Magazine, who will show slides on how to apply his principles of picture page design to yearbooks.

Included on the agenda for the DSPA meeting are a series of talks on various journalism careers.

TO CONVEY IDEAS

General purpose of this meeting is to convey new and better ways of forming opinions and ideas so that the high school year paper and yearbook will adapt itself to the various tastes of those who read it.

Tuesday, a group of students welcomed Jack Kinsella, a representative of Junior Achievement of South Eastern Michigan, Incorporated, to speak to us on the Junior Achievement program.

Mr. Kinsella explained that the underlying purpose of JA is to present to youth the opportunity to understand and appreciate the American Free Enterprise System.

Junior Achievement, in the past few years, has grown into a nationwide organization, sponsored by large business companies and men and women who are chief executives and executives in the different companies to which they belong.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENTS

The idea of JA is for a group of junior and senior high school students to meet one night a week for two hours in order to operate a business of their own. They will produce, on a small scale, a product of their choice and they will sell it for profit.

In the process they will learn to manage financial matters, including the cost of building and machinery, cost of materials, wages, and taxes. They will also sell both common and preferred stock just as the big business does.

Mr. Kinsella pointed out three

Walled Lake Awaits Game

Homecoming Tonight With Northern Clash Culminates Plans

By JEANNIE SPENGEEMAN

Preparations for tonight's 1961 Homecoming game have been continuous for the past two weeks at Walled Lake Senior High School.

A large crowd is expected to gather to see the Walled Lake Vikings clash with the Pontiac Northern Huskies on the Walled Lake field at 8 p.m.

Accompanying the excitement of the game, there will be a gala half-time celebration in which, among other things, the new stadium will be dedicated.

During the half-time festivities, the band and majorettes will be out on the field to add a colorful performance.

Fifteen floats have been made by high school clubs and organizations for the annual parade of floats.

An important part of every homecoming celebration, the Walled Lake Homecoming queen and her court were chosen last Friday.

Marilyn Gerd was selected by the student body from a group of seven nominees to be this year's queen.

Lee Thompson was elected senior attendant. Cheerleader Peggy Sofko was chosen to represent her class as junior attendant, and Carol McEvoy was selected from a bevy of five to be sophomore attendant.

Coronados' Popularity Soars

Waterford Teens Are Tops

By SHERYL LEHIGH

"As a challenge," the Coronados, an instrumental group from Waterford Kettering High School, appeared on the television program "Starlight Stairway" Saturday walking away with the grand prize in the senior division.

The group, consisting of Gene Gustafson, piano; Bill Goddard, drums; Jerry Schemel, saxophone; Bob Statton, lead guitar; and Ricky Stockwell, bass guitar, received an RCA Victor stereo-phonograph hi-fi record player as their prize.

The Coronados, after auditioning appeared on the program Sept. 23, during that performance the boys played "Hard Times", and five other acts presented their talents.

MAIL IN VOTES

Viewers were asked to mail their votes for the best acts to the studio. Saturday they appeared again, playing "Stop and Go" for the final judging.

Presently, the group is getting estimates on the stereo they won. They would like to sell the set and add the money to their bank account, which is being saved to purchase a tuxedo.

On certain Saturday nights the Coronados play at the Music Box, a local dancing pavilion for teenagers. Also, they often entertain for charitable organizations, such as this Sunday when they will play at the USO center.

Al Remington, manager of the Music Box, is considering sponsoring the boys, who have only been working together three months, on a tour of New York next summer.

With instruments amounting to $3,700 in value, the Coronados try to practice at least two times each week for two or two and a half hours. They have also written three songs titled "Going Home", "No Parking", and "Fast Period."

Gene, the piano player, is taking saxophone lessons from a faculty member, in preparation for a number in which all the boys plan to switch from one instrument to another.

YEARBOOKS TO SELL

Journalism students of Kettering are preparing for the sale of yearbooks next week.

Barb Secan, editor of the 1961 yearbook, has been busy working with the Journalism I and II students. Her staff, although not complete, is Joanne Lovett, business manager; Mary Ann Blesinski, special events editor; and Sheryl Lehigh, academic editor.

Monday morning, sales of the yearbook will begin during home-room and continue for the following eight days.

As yet the yearbook is nameless! When the students place their orders, each will be given the opportunity to enter a name for the yearbook. The person who suggests the winning name will receive a free yearbook for as many years as the names of the students attending Kettering.

Both rings and pictures are expected to be returned sometime in December.

Homecoming End of Frantic Week for Oxford Fans

By ANN PICKFORD

Last Friday marked the end of a frantic week for students of Oxford High School — it was our homecoming game against Romeo, and all the activities of building floats, selecting a queen, and preparing the extras for the concession stand were culminated.

This Homecoming was, no doubt, very similar to that of other schools, but to OHS it was a little different than usual. First of all, it didn't rain. Secondly, our queen, Elna Skinner, a sophomore, reigned with her court of Ronnie Kint, Sharon Mann, and Rhonda Barger.

The Junior Class and the Latin Club, for the second consecutive year, captured the trophies for the most humorous and most original floats, respectively. The Youth for Christ Club was awarded the trophy for the most beautiful float.

Concession stand provided such specialties as buttered popcorn, cotton candy, and homemade caramel apples.

Though absent from the winner's circle, the Senior class was not to be outdone by any underclassmen! Through concentrated effort, the eighty-seven Seniors won the "Big Jug" at the pep rally for the loud cheering!

K Approves Wall Around Borders of West Berlin

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev approved today the erection of the wall between East and West Berlin.

This was not surprising, since the East Germans closed East Berlin's border with West Berlin Aug. 13 immediately after the Soviet bloc Warsaw Pact members ordered effective border controls to stop the flood of escaping refugees.

Khrushchev also predicted a German peace treaty would be signed soon—but without specifying whether he meant between the Soviet Union and East Germany alone. He has threatened to sign such a treaty before the end of the year.

Rayburn's Cancer Heavy Blow to JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In striking down speaker Sam Rayburn, cancer appeared today to have dealt a crippling blow to President Kennedy's liberal legislative program.

The young President is losing his most powerful congressional ally—one whose backing made the difference in the nip-and-tuck victories scored by the "New Frontier" over powerful conservative forces in the House this year.

"Mr. Sam" — hospitalized in Dallas with incurable cancer — is the one man in Congress that Kennedy could least afford to lose.

Even before the bad news came from Dallas the legislative outlook for Kennedy next year looked grim. The new problems of the change-over in leadership could prove disastrous.

UNIQUE COMBINATION
The speaker—an American invention—uniquely combines the judicial powers of the House's presiding officer with the partisan leadership of the majority party.

By custom, a speaker is expected to use his vast judicial powers in pushing the legislative program of the majority party.

The job pays $45,000 a year, same as the vice presidency. In Washington social protocol, it ranks third behind the vice president.

Actually, its powers are second only to those exercised by the President.

Rayburn, who came to Congress almost 50 years ago, has served as leader of the House Democrats for 21 years.

He has served 17 years as speaker, more than twice as long as any man in history.

Shooting Victim Testifies Today

Only Witness to Death of Peebles' Wife Will Take the Stand

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Roy Staples, Columbus, Ind., executive who was crippled by the same hail of bullets that took the life of Louise Peebles, was scheduled to testify today in the second murder trial of J. Otto Peebles.

Prosecutor Richard J. Loughrin of Kent County said Staples, 43-year-old vice president of Engleking Pattern, Inc., would be brought to Grand Rapids by ambulance.

Staples, who was paralyzed from the waist down by a shot which severed his spinal column, was the only witness to the March 18 shooting at the Silver Lake home of Mary Catherine Voss.

Staples was prevented by his condition from traveling to Grand Rapids for Peebles' first trial, which ended in a mistrial when the jury failed to reach a verdict. Thursday the defendant showed the most visible emotion he has displayed publicly since his wife and Staples were blasted with slugs from a .44-caliber magnum revolver. As State Police Detective William Menties told the jury his reconstructed version of the shootings, Peebles began crying softly.

BATH, N.Y. WHOPPERS—Teresa Green is only four years old, but she certainly can grow big watermelons. Watermelons were the only thing she planted last spring. The first one her parents, the Earl Greens of 2647 Mann Road, weighed tipped the scales over 30 pounds. The two shown here (and the one she's sitting on) look as large. Must have been a good year for watermelons.

Think About Planting
Ground Cover on Yard

Tired of mowing the lawn? If you have an aversion to lawn-mowing you might substitute a ground cover, sometimes referred to as a living mulch.

Cover plants conserve moisture. They keep the ground cool in summer, warm in winter and because they will grow in shady places, reduce the work of maintaining beds around shade trees.

Once the cover has taken hold, the only effort is occasional edging, light weeding and annual fertilizing. Ground covers require well-prepared beds rich in humus. Peat moss or a compost should be used liberally in the top soil.

Satisfactory ground covers resembling forest floor conditions include vinca-minor, pachysandra and ajuga. Vining plants, including euonymus coloratus or Bala. Ivy are not satisfactory in areas of deciduous (leafy) shrubbery or low evergreens because of their climbing tendencies.

Ground covers spread quickly to form a dense carpet for your outdoor living room. They are useful where lawn grasses will not grow well or are difficult to maintain. They improve your landscape, particularly on steep banks where they prevent erosion, and in wet areas where mowing would be difficult. They also are adapted to woodland and rock gardens.

You can develop an interesting landscape by setting out a few well-spaced plants and thinking them with a ground cover to form a unit.

Early spring is the ideal time to plant ground cover, but it can be set out almost any time during the growing season. For most of the ground covers, one plant every one to four square feet is a guide in ordering. Closer spacing quickens the covering process, but is more expensive.

Before the cover gets too thick, plant some spring bulbs. These will add interesting touches of color.

Say GOP Has Been Fair at Con-Con

By CHARLES C. GARDN

LANSDING (AP) — Two of the top leaders of the Democratic delegation at the constitutional convention hit back hard yesterday at an intraparty charge they were being too soft on Republicans.

John Kelsey of Warren raised the issue at a Democratic caucus. He told fellow Democrats:

"I enjoy bipartisanship, but I dislike seeing prominent members of this group praising Republicans . . . saying such things as 'he hasn't got a dishonest bone in his body.'"

"We were elected as partisans. We have an election coming in 1962. We should refrain from getting into print with some of these statements."

Tom Downs, who had been elected only an hour earlier as the top-ranking Democrat of the convention — getting one of the three vice presidential spots — was the first to answer Kelsey.

Downs recalled that on Monday night Stephen S. Nisbet, then a Republican candidate for convention president, came before the Democrats to outline his views. He was elected president the following day.

DEFENDS STATEMENT

Said Downs:

"I did tell the caucus that Stephen Nisbet did not have a dishonest bone in his body. I also said he was not a New Deal Democrat."

"We've got to face up to the situation that we are a minority party at this convention (Republicans have 99 seats to the Democrats 45). I've seen the situation in the legislature when we had 54 Democrats to 56 Republicans and we never got our fair share of committee appointments."

"The Republicans have given us a fair share thus far in this convention."

He pointed out that in pre-convention talks between leaders of both parties at the convention, it was agreed Republicans would have a 2-1 edge on all committees and two vice presidencies to the Democrats' one.

"Let me say this," he added, "that any time I think that the Republicans or Steve Nisbet are wrong, I will oppose them."

William Marshall, vice president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, supported Downs in taking exception to Kelsey's charge.

"I did say that the Republicans had been fair to us thus far and I stand by that. Let's face it — if the Republicans at this convention showed the same attitude that Republicans in the Legislature show, they could run committees pretty much as they wanted. We could come in once a month, collect our pay and go home."

"I was misquoted in part the other night. But I said then and say again that I thought

Marshall also told the caucus that there were two views on what Democrats should do about the chairmanships of convention committees.

His said-one group favored having the various committees name their own chairman, possibly relating the office. Another group favored having the convention president name the chairman and vice chairman.

Communist Brand of 'Freedom' Very Close

Memories of War Keep West German Fears Alive

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
SELE, on the West German Frontier — Frau Josef Mindel is an attractive woman in her middie thirties who has three daughters, 8, 10 and 12. Her home is within a few kilometers of the barbed and electrified wire which separates West Germany and Czechoslovakia.

When she talks about the possibilities of war between East and West, her face takes on an air of worried tenseness.

She explains her feelings in a tumble of words which boil down to this:

She passed her own childhood as a member of the Hitler Youth.

and then lived through the war years.

She does not want her own daughters to suffer the same fate.
She as all other Germans, is acutely aware of the fact that Germany has fought two world wars and has lost both.

Today, she lives in happiness with her husband, an official in one of Selb's porcelain factories, and her three daughters, despite the fact that the guarded frontier is only steps away from her home.

"WE OR THEY?"

To her the question is simple.

"Either we have them, or they have us."

With her memories fresh from the last defeat, she doesn't want to take the chance.

The people near the border here in Upper Bavaria long since have learned to live with the barbed wire and the Communist guards who shout across the wire that some day the Communist will come and "liberate" them.

They are used to the villages split by the wire and they know of the leather factory at nearby Hirschberg where 1,000 West Germans formerly earned their living and now only can gaze across a blasted bridge which separates them from their former source of livelihood in the East zone.

Mrs. Mindel would not sacrifice the East Germans to the Communists. This section of Bavaria is too full of refugees to allow one to ignore the territories to the East.

Her fear of the future springs from her memories of the past.

Her father was an officer in the former German army.

She says she knows now that he mentioned nothing of politics at home because "small pitchers have big ears" and careless talk before children at home easily could spread to unfriendly neighbors.

As a child, she grew up believing implicitly in the false Hitler legend of the invincible Atlantic wall.

"We didn't know that we were not free," she says. "We believed Hitler when he said all others were oppressed."

platform while painting scenery

Stage Designer Injured in Fall at Radio City

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Wexler, designer who arranged the sets for the Shakespeare production at the White House Wednesday night, was injured Thursday in a 20-foot fall onto the stage of Radio City Music Hall.

Kennedy Puts Signature to Congress' Last 8 Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy signed eight bills
Thursday to dispose of all legislation approved by Congress this year.

This gave him a record of 885 bills signed and eight vetoed. The signed bills included 401 public laws and 284 private relief measures.

"They are not our enemies," he says. "But they are being taught that we are theirs. And they will believe it."

They are being brought up in the pattern of the Hitler youth. Only this time it is the Communists.

That, she says, is when she began to think.

And that is a source of her unhappiness now.

Clothing Firm Told to Stop Fur Fakes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission today ordered a Detroit clothing firm to stop misbranding or falsely advertising furs.

The commission adopted an initial decision by a hearing authorized and agreed to by the firm, Winickman Bros. Apparel, Inc.

In a June 28 complaint, the commission charged that the company falsely identified fur products and violated the fur products labeling act in its advertising and labeling practices.

The agreement was for settlement purposes only and does not constitute admission by the firm of any violation.

Trims $7,840 in School Bids

Pontiac Board Cuts Sum on Projects at Jefferson, Whittier

The Pontiac Board of Education last night sliced items worth $7,840 from architectural and mechanical trades bids submitted to renovate, join and expand Jefferson Junior High School and Whittier Elementary School.

The action reduced the $568,000 architectural bid at Jefferson Construction Co., 2431 Pontiac Road to $562,160.

Sylvan Plumbing and Heating Co., 2005 Orchard Lake Road, had its bid for mechanical trades work reduced from $149,999 to $147,669.

The approved cuts were those recommended by school administrative officers after consultation with the two firms.

ASKED RENEGOTIATIONS

Last week, the board had asked for renegotiations to bring the bids closer to the estimate of school architect Eberle M. Smith Associates.

The architect and the two firms had come up with possible cuts totaling more than $24,000. Of this figure, administrators last night marked as "not recommended" or made no recommendation on about $48,000.

Most of the rejected cuts would have left glaring differences in appearance between the two buildings or left out items which would have impaired functioning as a junior high school.

Before giving unanimous approval to the "recommended" $7,840 figure, board members agreed to pursue a course of action which would not hamper the functioning or "togetherness" in appearance of the combined schools.

The first stage of the renovation-addition program would provide an extra 37,363 square feet of space, join the now separated buildings into one and revamp the Whittier building for junior high school use.

Second Crash Victim Is Dead of Injuries

A head-on crash of two cars on Dixie Highway claimed a second victim last night at Pontiac General Hospital.

Russell K. Ely, 46, of 6091 Waldron Road, Independence Township, died of internal injuries received in the accident Saturday night.

His brother, 49-year-old James A. Ely of 90 Cadillac Ave., Pontiac, was dead on arrival at the hospital following the collision in Waterford Township.

Today's victim was driving when his car collided into an oncoming car driven by Jack M. Vincent, 29, of Detroit. The crash occurred near the Scott Lake Road intersection.

Thurber Resting After Surgery; Still Critical

NEW YORK (AP)—Humorist James Thurber rested comfortably Thursday night at Doctors Hospital after undergoing surgery for removal of a blood clot on his brain.

Although Thurber had a steady pulse and normal blood pressure, the hospital continued to list his condition as critical.

The Ohio-born Thurber, 65, collapsed in his hotel room Wednesday.

Thurber came to New York in 1925 and became famous through his stories and drawings in the New Yorker magazine. He has been blind in recent years.

Ask New Trial for Negro Boy

Youth Faces Execution Unless Georgia Lawyer Succeeds in Efforts

MIDDLEGEVILLE, Ga. (UPI)—Lawyers for a 15-year-old Negro one of their few chances today to block the youth's scheduled execution for killing a white farmer.

Atlanta attorney Donald L. Hallowell, acting at the request of the NAACP, is due to appear before Jasper County Judge George S. Carpenter to ask for a new trial for Preston Cobb Jr.

Hallowell said that if his motion is granted he would have the case into the background of the case in search of facts not brought out at the original trial last summer.

Cobb was sentenced to death for the slaying of Frank Coleman Dumas, 70, a Monticello farmer, on June 1. He was scheduled to be executed Sept. 22, but an appeal stayed the sentence.

Defense lawyers may try several legal avenues in the attempt to save Cobb's life. The Georgia Pardon and Parole Board also could commute the sentence. Gov. Ernest Vandier, however, can only delay carrying out the sentence by granting reprieves.

Cobb was one of nine children living with their widowed mother on a "poor" farm at the time of the slaying.

He was convicted by a white jury of shooting Dumas following an argument over fish which the two caught in the farmer's pond.

Cobb's age was not brought to the attention of the jury at his trial and the panel returned a guilty verdict without a recommendation of mercy.

Georgia law, the judge could hand down only one sentence—death.

3 Hurt in Collision in Rose Township

Three persons were injured in a head-on collision 5:30 p.m. Thursday on Eagle Road, Rose Township, according to sheriff's deputies.

Both drivers, David B. Sikard, 34, of 237 S. Edith St., and Dennis Symanski, 17, of 13880 Nell Road, Davisburg, are in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

A passenger in the Symanski car Michael A. Magvite, 18, of 7971 Eagle Road, is in fair condition with head injuries and a broken jaw.

Deputies said the accident happened on a hillcrest where the road was too narrow for cars to pass, and there were steep embankments on either side.

Soviets Set Off Largest Test in Current Series

PARIS (AP)—The Soviet Union today staged its 15th and by far the largest nuclear test in its current series. French government detection services reported.

The blast was 1 1/2 times the strength of the last test Wednesday, the detectors said. The last test was reported to have been several megatons in strength. A megaton is equivalent to a million tons of TNT.

The Soviet Union resumed testing Sept. 1 after a long halt while nuclear test ban talks were going on in Geneva.

Lane Leaves for Paris to Fight Hashas

MUSKOGEE (UPI) — Lightweight Kenny Lane of Muskogee has left for Paris, France, where he will fight Alois Hashas, the French Algerian 135-pound champion, Oct. 28.

The bout will be Lane's fifth outside the United States. He has previously fought twice in Canada, and once each in Mexico City and Caracas, Venezuela.

Lane, who came close to beating lightweight champion Joe Brown three years ago, will be after his 70th win in 73 fights.

Cards Are 'Incredible Cripples' of NFL

The St. Louis Cardinals, already known as "The Incredible Cripples" of the National Football League, have been hit further by injuries to front-line players.

In the wake of their stunning 30-7 upset of the champion Philadelphia Eagles the Cards got the word offensive end Hugh McInnis will be out about a month with an injury to his left knee and rookie Pat Fischer, the flashy punt return man, will miss this week's home opener with the New York Giants.

Fischer, capable of playing in both the offensive and defensive backfields, has a shoulder separation and may miss more than the one game.

Fullback Frank Mortuli (sprained arch) and defensive end Joe Robb (sore foot) may see only limited action against the Giants. Other crippled Cards are halfback Joe Childers (out for the season), offensive tackle Ken Fanni, fullback Mel Hamrick and John Crow, their top running back. Latest word on Crow is that he should be ready for Cleveland on Oct. 29 or possibly Washington on Oct. 30.

Despite their string of injuries the Cardinals are one of five teams tied for the Eastern Conference lead at 2-1. The West is in a similar knot with four 2-1 records sharing the top.

Other games this Sunday are Baltimore at Green Bay, Chicago at Detroit, Dallas at Minnesota, Los Angeles at San Francisco, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia and Washington at Cleveland.

Tackle Dave Banner — only 12 days after an appendectomy — played about three quarters on defense for Green Bay last Sunday and is fit for the Colts. Late last week the Packers activated linebacker Tom Bettis, who had suffered a pre-season injury.

In the only other roster change, the Cardinals signed linebacker Monte Lee, a rookie from Texas who was cut recently by Philadelphia.

Quarterbacks Zeke Bratkowski of Los Angeles and Bobby Layne of Pittsburgh are doubtful starters. Bratkowski has a badly sprained ankle, Layne a bruised shoulder and side. Offensive guard Mike Sandusky of the Steelers is definitely out with a severe leg sprain and may miss more than the Philadelphia game. The Eagles report defensive backs Tom Brookshier and Jimmy Carr recovered and ready.

Linebacker Les Richter of the Rams suffered a small fracture in the cheekbone but will play against the ers. Offensive halfback Hugh McInnis will return to the Minnesota lineup after missing one game, and Washington is expected to have defensive backs Jim Grody and Jim Warr and offensive ends Lew Lane and Steve Knicker back in action.

However, guard Bernie Darre (twisted knee) and defensive tackle Don Lawrence (ankle injury) figure to miss the Redskins' meeting with Cleveland.

Defensive tackle Gil Maling of Detroit was operated on for a damaged knee and might possibly be out for the season. L. G. Duper of Dallas has a pulled muscle, and it looks as if Don Perkins of the Cowboys will have to go all the way running back against the Vikings.

Cleveland reports speedster Bobby Mitchell fully recovered from a slight concussion even though he played little last week. Coach Paul Brown said he preferred to use rookie Tom Watkins on the wet field.

As reported last week, offensive halfback Tom Matte of the Colts is sidelined. He has since been removed from the active list.

Hillsdale, Northern Clash in Game of Ranked Powers

By the Associated Press

Hillsdale and Northern Michigan, both nationally rated, collide Saturday in the state's small college football classic of the season.

The battle for Michigan's small college supremacy — and a possible level bid at the end of the season — will be played at Marquette.

The game is rated as a tossup. Northern has the home field advantage and Hillsdale has enough in numbers plus a revenge motive.

Frosty Ferrasca's Vikings were the only team to beat Muddy Waters' Dales last year, 29-6.

Hillsdale is rated second nationally in the Associated Press' small college poll. Northern, upset 14-6 last Saturday by Bradley, is ranked eighth. In the NAIA weekly rankings, unbeaten Hillsdale is first and Northern fifth.

Both teams have individuals high in the NAIA statistics. Gene Valenau, Northern's top runner, is sixth in rushing with 543 yards in 35 carries. Hillsdale's Tom Kilday of Southfield is eighth with 526 yards in 35 carries.

The Dales were idle last week and have a 3-0 record. Northern is 2-1.

Hillsdale ranks ninth in the NAIA in total team defense and is 14th in rushing.

The Upper Peninsula attraction is one of an 11-game state schedule this weekend.

Illinois State visits Eastern Michigan tonight for an IAC tilt. Eastern is looking for its first point, having a scoreless tie and two defeats.

In MIAA games Saturday, league favorite Albion (2-0) is at Saginaw (0-2) and the state's surprise team, Olivet (3-0), visits Kalamazoo (0-2). Olivet is Michigan's only team with three straight victories and the Comets' Dave Cutler is 12th in the NAIA's individual offense figures.

Western Michigan (3-1), a prime contender for Mid-American Conference honors, travels to Ohio for a clash with Bowling Green.

Central Michigan, with an 6-4 record, is at home against Western Illinois in an IAC encounter. Western Illinois is the last of the Chippewas' five killers at the start of the season — a schedule problem that prompted coach Bill Kelly to say "If we win one of our first five games, we'll be a pretty good club."

Michigan Tech goes to Minnesota for a Northern State's Conference game with Mankato State. Tech has a 1-1 record, the victory coming in its lone conference game.

Ferris, which suffered its first defeat after two triumphs last week, is at Eastern Illinois.

Sarnia Back Leads 2 AFC Departments

TOLEDO, O. — Lamar Lee, the rangy end from the Sarnia Golden Bears, has taken over the lead in two departments of the American Football Conference.

The ex-Ontario Rugby Football Union in scoring last year, has regained the scoring lead in the AFC and retained his first place hold among the league's receivers.

The 6-2, 210-pound Lee has 36 points on three touchdowns, two field goals and 12 extra points.

Navy Expects Tough Game in Miami's Orange Bowl

By The Associated Press

Navy's football team knows it is in for a tough night when it takes on Miami's Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl tonight. But far be it from the hosts to underestimate their opponents.

There is a mutual respect on both sides, Navy because of the passing and running of quarterback George Mira and the pass catching of end Bill Miller, and Miami because of Navy's all-around good condition, hustle and offensive potential.

Mira, whose action may be limited by rib bruises suffered in the victory over Kentucky two weeks ago, ranks fourth nationally in total offense with 394 yards, 35 of those through passing. Miller has caught 12 for 172 yards and is a pillar on defense.

Navy, loser in its opener 20-10 to Penn State which Miami leveled 25-8 last week, showed good offensive power in beating Villanova, 44-6, with junior quarterback Ron Klemick leading the way.

Penn State tries to regain its tough at Boston against Wakefield (0-2) Boston University while tough Tulane, which has given only a pair of field goals and touchdowns in two losing games, meets Florida, which has a victory and a tie.

Penn State won't have quarterback Galen Hall against Boston U., but soph Pete Liske will run the club. Florida's Gators are expected by diminutive quarterback Larry Liberator as both teams meet in their first 1961 Southern Conference game.

There is full-scale action Saturday, with all the top teams except 10th-ranked Baylor in action. Iowa, ranked first in the current Associated Press Poll, journeys to Los Angeles to meet the University of Southern California, in a game that will also be televised nationally (ABC-TV, 4 p.m. EST). The Hawkeyes, who walked California last week, will be without halfback Larry Ferguson against the Trojans (1-1).

There are some other intersection games involving members of the top ten. Fifth-ranked Texas (2-0) plays pass-minded Washington State; Michigan State (No. 6) takes on surprising Stanford (2-0); UCLA travels to meet eight-ranked Ohio State, held to a 7-7 tie a week ago, and Michigan, ranked ninth, is at home to Army (3-0).

Second-ranked Mississippi tackles a tough little customer in Florida State as it goes for its 18th straight game without a loss. Georgia Tech (No. 3), the surprise so far of the 1961 season, has an SEC game against defense-minded Louisiana State while fourth-ranked Alabama (2-0) has an SEC battle against Vanderbilt, also (2-0). Both are at night.

The other top ten, seventh-ranked Syracuse, has its most serious test of the year at Maryland.

The Ivy League has a full slate of four games while Virginia Tech and Virginia Military, both (1-0) in the Southern Conference meet. There are three games in the Atlantic Coast Conference and a pair in the Big Ten. The Kansas Colorado tilt is the top attraction in the Big Eight.

Texas Christian plays Arkansas at night in the first big Southwest Conference action while Utah State and Wyoming play for the lead in the skyline.

Other top games include Notre Dame at Purdue, California at Missouri, Oregon at Minnesota and Pittsburgh at the University of Washington.

FOOT: Kentucky at Auburn, Richmond at the Citadel, Wake Forest at Duke, Wake Forest at Clemson, Clemson at North Carolina, Wake State at Tennessee, T.C. State at Virginia, Virginia Tech at West Virginia, Northwestern at Illinois, Wisconsin at Indiana, Nebraska at Kansas State, Xavier at Cincinnati, Ohio at Oklahoma State, Iowa State at Oklahoma.

SOUTHWEST: Hardin-Simmons at Arizona, night, New Mexico State at North Texas State, night, Boston College at Boston State, Texas A&M at Texas Tech, night, Wichita at West Texas State, night.

PAN WEST: Utah at Arizona State, night, Montana at Brigham Young, night, Texas Western at New Mexico, night, Idaho at Oregon State.

PCH Needs This One

By BILL CORNWELL
The odds are against them, but the Chiefs of Pontiac Central will make an all-out effort to score an upset and post their first win of the 1961 football season tonight.

A hard-nosed Midland squad invades Pontiac's Wm. L. Stadium this evening for a Saginaw Valley Conference game, and the Chiefs desperately need a victory.

The lower depths of the Valley's second division threaten PCH as the season nears the halfway mark.

Rugged contests with Bay City, Flint, Northern, Flint Southern and Saginaw High still remain on the '61 schedule and the way the Chiefs' luck has been running thus far, victory may be a very elusive thing.

Although the Chiefs have yet to taste victory in three attempts, their spirit is excellent, according to head coach Paul Delleria.

"Our kids have been enthusiastic in practice this week and their spirit is real good," Delleria said. "I don't think their spirit would be as high if they had played badly in their previous games," claimed Delleria, "but they actually have played quite well and this helps to keep their confidence up."

"One of these nights this team is going to put everything together in the right way and knock off somebody," Delleria continued, "maybe this will be the night."

Mistakes have been the bane of the Chiefs' life to date. Fumbles and penalties at the wrong time have really hurt them in key situations. This was especially true in last week's 13-13 tie at Arthur Hill.

The Chiefs still have a lot of gridiron potential, however; and if they can ever "jell," some opponents will be due for a lot of trouble.

Midland coach Bob Stoppert has a great deal of respect for PCH. "They have fine speed and we always respect speed," Stoppert said. "As a matter of fact, they have more speed than we do. We're certain that they're not as bad as their record would indicate," he added.

Pontiac enters the game with a 6-2-1 record. Midland has a 2-2 record, the only setback a 13-7 loss to highly-rated Bay City Handy.

Midland boasts a strong defensive line, spearheaded by tackle Larry Schmitter, end Bob Nowak and center Jim Stoppert, son of the Chemica coach.

The Chemica are convinced that Nowak is one of the state's best ends. Nowak, who stands 6-3 and weighs 218, is a tough two-way performer. Who has caught better than 50 per cent of Midland's aerial completions. He also is the team's fastest runner.

Quarterbacking Midland's T-formatted attack is Larry Jester, a fine passer and ball handler who also pitches for Stoppert's baseball club.

Pontiac again will be missing the services of guard Wayne Lee, who did not play at Saginaw a week ago because of a torn ligament in his left hip. Gene Luppino and Bob Pomeroy will probably alternate at quarterback. Pomeroy still has not fully recovered from an ankle injury.

Tonight's game starts at 8 p.m.

Midget Champs Seek Worthy Grid Foe

The McKeeney (Pa.) Little Tigers, national midget football champions and winner of the annual Milk Bowl in Texas, are seeking a worthy opponent.

National Milk Bowl, Inc., has franchised the team to conduct an Eastern States playoff game for two teams located east of the Mississippi River. The winner could go on to the national title in Texas during the Christmas school vacation.

Midget players may not exceed 117 pounds and may not have advanced their 14th birthday prior to Larry Schmitter, end Bob Nowak and center Jim Stoppert, son of the Chemica coach.

The Royal Oak Kimball-Hazel Park duel may be the big one of the Eastern Michigan season. Both are 3-0. The Parkers have had the edge on offense and defense but they beat Birmingham Seaholm by similar scores. The Parkers will play at Port Huron as Ferndale and Mt. Clemens complete the slate.

Troy will be favored to hand visiting Avondale its first Oakland B setback. Each won its opener. Fitzgerald is favored to stay tied with the victor for the No. 1 position by taking Madison. Oak Park vs Clawson.

The Southern Thumb has a divided schedule this week with Almont at Armada and New Haven at Dryden tonight. Capac vs Brown City and Memphis against Anchor Bay Saturday. Millington is home against North Branch in the lone South Central tilt.

Emmanuel Christian entertains Southgate Saturday at 8 p.m. at Wm. L. Stadium. The Lancers have three losses and Southgate is 1-1.

Sunday, St. Michael will be back at Wm. L. Stadium to play Royal Oak St. Mary. St. Fred goes to St. Rita. Our Lady Lakes is at St. Benedict and Orchard Lake St. Mary hosts St. Clement in Suburban Catholic afternoon play. Farmington Our Lady is at Detroit St. Leo.

Moss Is Favored in U.S. Grand Prix

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y. (AP)—Stirling Moss, a little Englishman rated by many as the world's top racing driver, held the role of favorite today as practice opened for Sunday's 20-mile U.S. Grand Prix here.

Moss and Australia's Jack Brabham, the 1956 world champion driver, head an international field of 19 drivers in British and German grand prix cars. Moss is given a slight edge on the basis of two previous victories here and because he holds the lap and average speed records for this fast 2.3-mile course.

The U. S. Grand Prix, the last of eight races counting for the world driver's championship, isn't expected to produce any major changes in the championship standings. American Phil Hill clinched the 1961 title last month by winning the Italian Grand Prix at Monza, Italy. He will not drive here.

Looming deep in the background of future Oakland County athletics is a high school soccer league. But area soccer fans shouldn't get their hopes too high.

Bloomfield Hills Junior High School has joined Cranbrook in competing on an interscholastic level. Attempts by soccer-minded coaches in two other junior high schools to schedule games apparently have failed to get the needed backing from administrators.

At Birmingham Seaholm, the administration is reported to have vetoed a schedule that would have included games with Bloomfield Hills Junior High and Cranbrook's reserve teams. Madison Junior High in Pontiac may try to schedule contests in the future.

"Several schools have soccer in their grade school and junior high physical education and intramural programs," said Gordon Preston of Birmingham, "but the coaches and players are getting little or no support from the administrators."

Preston, an official of the International Soccer League, is an avid booster of soccer. Many coaches thinking about trying the sport have contacted him for information.

"Soccer has been started in both junior and senior high schools in the area," he pointed out. "The players and coaches show a lot of enthusiasm at the beginning, but when no backing comes from the schools, interest wanes and the sport dies."

Bob McCracken at Madison and Bill Bernotski at Bloomfield Hills are pushing soccer in their junior high athletic programs. Cranbrook is the lone school playing a varsity schedule. The Cranes compete in the Inter-State League with other prep schools and also take on some Canadian teams.

There is little doubt that the sport is popular at Cranbrook. The school has fielded teams for 32 years, and this fall, coach Ben Snyder was greeted by about 100 candidates.

With so many soccer players around, and only a limited number of spots open on the varsity, games must be found for the remaining players. This situation has made it possible for Bloomfield Hills Junior High and Cranbrook to play a varsity schedule.

"Many football coaches oppose soccer," said one area athletic director, "because they are afraid it would take too many players away from the gridiron."

Soccer is the top sport in Europe, South America and some Asian nations. Football rules supreme in this country.

Soccer is played on an inter-collegiate level with Calvin College of Grand Rapids and Michigan State members in the Midwestern League.

Although soccer is taught in gym classes, it is doubtful if the sport will catch on enough for a county league on the high school level for several years.

Wolverines Favored in Game at Ann Arbor

Cadets, 'M' Collide Saturday

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Army and Michigan, a pair of unbeaten but untested gridiron giants, will square off against each other for the eighth time in their proud football histories tomorrow before an expected 67,000 at Michigan Stadium.

The Wolverines, eighth-ranked college eleven, are one-touchdown favorites after opening last week with a 28-0 victory over UCLA. The Cadets were unranked after routing Richmond 24-6, and Boston University 31-7.

Michigan's surprising wait over a UCLA team which had even routed the best on the West Coast posed the immediate question: Were the Wolverines that good or were the Bruins that bad?

The pass-option work of junior quarterback Dick Ebert and the threat of Cadet fullback George Pappas and Al Ruzhatsky offer the good-looking Michigan line an opportunity to further assess its strength.

Conversely, Army's lighter forward wall will have to contend with Michigan's "Mr. Inside"—a fullback, Bill Tunniff, a 230-pounder who came into his own last week—and the outside running of swift Wolverine halfbacks Dave Rainey and Benny McRae.

Coach Bump Elliott said the Wolverines have been working all week on mastering the defense techniques after halting UCLA's single-wing attack.

"Technically, there are several changes to be mastered," Elliott said.

"There is the complication of dealing with the Stumblers' loose end," a maneuver retained by Cadet coach Dale Hall.

This year's lonely flanker is 6-1, 180-pound Paul Zmuda, who has been training for the job for the past two years. Zmuda, who seldom handles and often goes up as much as 15 yards outside the tackle, finished last season with 17 catches good for 234 yards.

Elliott was also faced with another problem, one which has plagued him all year—the loss of line depth. Starting guards Joe

Lotus Lake Boosts Lead

Lotus Lake boosted the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's volleyball league by a two-game margin this week after scoring its second straight sweep, 15-11, 15-12, 15-1 triumph over Wilton Street.

Other second week results: Pontiac Lake won the Stumblers 15-11, 15-14, 15-5; Williams Lake defeated the Bouncers 15-1, 15-3, 15-2; and Lake Oakland slipped past the Comets 15-7, 11-15, 15-4.

Now come in the Indians from Palo Alto, Calif., a team that had lost 11 straight games in a row, including all 10 last season.

They come in to Spartan Stadium whooping because they beat Tulane 9-7 in an opener and then scalped favored Oregon State 34-14 last Saturday.

Daugherty, his assistants and players realize this is a dangerous team. But they take them on with a cocky confidence.

Team captain Rocky Ryan lost six fillings and two teeth last week hitting the Badgers. His crew held Wisconsin at the six-inch line in one great defensive stand.

Ryan said before the season started: "All the way."

He meant Big Ten title and Rose Bowl.

But Michigan State has to show some passing against Stanford, otherwise the Spartans will be as O'Donnell and Lou Pavloff remain the number of yards added after suffering injuries against UCLA.

O'Donnell is wearing a cast on his arm and Pavloff is hobbled by a knee injury.

They bring to four two decisions in their Cadet series after dropping the first five. In their last meeting in 1956, Michigan won 48-14 to hand the now-retired Earl Black his worse defeat in 17 years as Army coach.

The Wolverines have won the last in 17 years as Army coach.

O'Donnell and Lou Pavloff remain the number of yards added after suffering injuries against UCLA.

O'Donnell is wearing a cast on his arm and Pavloff is hobbled by a knee injury.

They bring to four two decisions in their Cadet series after dropping the first five. In their last meeting in 1956, Michigan won 48-14 to hand the now-retired Earl Black his worse defeat in 17 years as Army coach.

The Wolverines have won the last in 17 years as Army coach.

Michigan's surprising wait over a UCLA team which had even routed the best on the West Coast posed the immediate question: Were the Wolverines that good or were the Bruins that bad?

The pass-option work of junior quarterback Dick Ebert and the threat of Cadet fullback George Pappas and Al Ruzhatsky offer the good-looking Michigan line an opportunity to further assess its strength.

Conversely, Army's lighter forward wall will have to contend with Michigan's "Mr. Inside"—a fullback, Bill Tunniff, a 230-pounder who came into his own last week—and the outside running of swift Wolverine halfbacks Dave Rainey and Benny McRae.

Coach Bump Elliott said the Wolverines have been working all week on mastering the defense techniques after halting UCLA's single-wing attack.

"Technically, there are several changes to be mastered," Elliott said.

"There is the complication of dealing with the Stumblers' loose end," a maneuver retained by Cadet coach Dale Hall.

This year's lonely flanker is 6-1, 180-pound Paul Zmuda, who has been training for the job for the past two years. Zmuda, who seldom handles and often goes up as much as 15 yards outside the tackle, finished last season with 17 catches good for 234 yards.

Elliott was also faced with another problem, one which has plagued him all year—the loss of line depth. Starting guards Joe

Lotus Lake Boosts Lead

Lotus Lake boosted the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's volleyball league by a two-game margin this week after scoring its second straight sweep, 15-11, 15-12, 15-1 triumph over Wilton Street.

Other second week results: Pontiac Lake won the Stumblers 15-11, 15-14, 15-5; Williams Lake defeated the Bouncers 15-1, 15-3, 15-2; and Lake Oakland slipped past the Comets 15-7, 11-15, 15-4.

Now come in the Indians from Palo Alto, Calif., a team that had lost 11 straight games in a row, including all 10 last season.

They come in to Spartan Stadium whooping because they beat Tulane 9-7 in an opener and then scalped favored Oregon State 34-14 last Saturday.

Daugherty, his assistants and players realize this is a dangerous team. But they take them on with a cocky confidence.

Stock Market Takes Breather

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took a breather today following a hedge of small gains and losses. Prices were mixed in dull trading early this afternoon. The Associated Press average of 30 stocks at noon was up 30 cents, topping Thursday's historic closing high. Industrials rose 30, rails fell 30 and utilities rose 30.

Prices Mixed in Dull Trading.

Some of the stocks showed a follow-through in early trading to their advance of yesterday but faltered and sold unchanged to lower. The Ford stock remained unsettled but auto shares held their ground fairly well, showing some minor fluctuations. Airlines and drugs were slightly ahead on balance. Oil, chemicals, aircrafts and electronics were irregular.

Helping support the averages.

DuPont and Consolidated Natural Gas advanced more than a point while Johns-Manville and Good year added fractions.

Consolidated Foods provided the biggest early boost.

26,000 shares sold at a fractional loss. In later dealings the stock moved a bit to the upside.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in moderate trading.

Gains of more than a point were made by Microwave Associates and Aerojet-General. Universal American and Wichita River Oil rose about a point. Other gainers included Elder Mills, Silver Creek Freeway, Flying Tiger and Technicolor.

Loers included Royalite, Steel and Synthetics. The latter off more than a point.

What little reaction there was Thursday to the 1/2 point cut in the Bank of England rate seemed to have tapered off, one dealer said.

In trading on the New York Stock Exchange, several bonds in the rail section of the corporate market were off from 3/4 to 3/8 of a point.

There was little change in industrials, utilities and investment grade bonds after Thursday's solid advance.

Cool on Railroad Bonds

NEW YORK (AP)—Investor enthusiasm for railroad bonds cooled at the opening today, dragging corporate bond prices generally into the minus column. U.S. Treasury bonds were steady and firm.

Over-the-counter dealers in government bonds sold long term and unchanged. Short term notes posted gains of 1/32 and 3/64.

and demand for Treasury bills was described as good.

'Auto Makers Face Dilemma'

NEW YORK (AP)—The cut in British interest rates, which coincides with renewed worries about the flow of short-term investments—and some gold—from U.S. shores. The cut in London should help discourage any new rush such as the outflow of dollars and gold.

NEW YORK (AP)—The automobile industry in the United States is faced with the dilemma of how to vary the strong demand for variety and still preserve the benefits of mass production and distribution. Chrysler Corp. President Lynn A. Townsend said Thursday night.

Townsend in Paris Tells of Mass Production, Variety Demand in U.S.

PARIS (UPI)—The automobile industry in the United States is faced with the dilemma of how to vary the strong demand for variety and still preserve the benefits of mass production and distribution. Chrysler Corp. President Lynn A. Townsend said Thursday night.

Townsend, in Paris for the premiere today at the Paris motor show of Chrysler's experimental "Turbofire" gas turbine engine car, said the drive for diversity in the United States often runs into the drive for economy.

He said the Chrysler compact cars—the Valiant and the Lancer—retain their distinctive styling, and the Plymouth and Dodge provide improved performance and economy. He said this is topped by the Chrysler and Imperial which still give luxury.

"We think that each line will meet a particular demand that has not been artificially created but which never before has been so comprehensively met," Townsend told automobile writers.

Hedge Selling Drops Prices on Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—Liquidation and hedge selling continued today to depress grain futures on the board of trade.

Soybeans and all of the grains resumed the downturn of the past few days at the start of trading.

In wheat, selling that was attributed to a large speculative long interest had limited support on resting orders.

Further hedge selling depressed soybean futures. Ease on soybean oil and meal was a factor.

All corn and most oats contracts again made new lows for the season. Five futures slipped as much as one cent a bushel shortly after the opening.

West Protests 'Dangerous' Acts of Berlin Reds

BERLIN (UPI) — Western military leaders protested to the Russians today about "dangerous and irresponsible" shooting by the Communist police who fired into West Berlin Wednesday night.

Maj. Gen. Sir Rohan Delacombe, British commandant in Berlin and October chairman of the West Berlin Military Council, delivered the protest on behalf of his U.S. and French colleagues as well as himself.

A three-power announcement said Delacombe presented the protest to Col. A. V. Solovyer, the Soviet commandant.

The Western leaders were protesting the action of Communist police who fired into West Berlin while blocking the escape of two young East Germans to West Berlin. One refugee fell to his death and the other was captured by the Reds.

Claim East, West Lean to U Thant

Burma's Head Delegate Favored as Temporary Secretary General

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union were reported agreed today on U Thant of Burma as temporary U.N. secretary general but many problems remain.

Informed diplomats said the chief of Burma's U.N. delegation is acceptable to the Soviet Union and the United States. There was no confirmation from either the U.S. or Soviet delegation.

A U.S. spokesman said, however, that Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred on Thursday with U Thant.

If the agreement is affirmed, said to be worked out, the two basic questions of how the interim official is to be elected and what his powers will be.

The late Dag Hammarskjöld ran the executive branch of the United Nations. But the Swedes who fought to unseat the Swedish diplomat up to the very hour of his death in an African plane crash, want to surround the temporary official with advisers.

Before leaving for Washington and talks with President Kennedy, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko threw cold water on a small nations' plan to name an interim secretary general with five assistants in place of the Soviet's controversial troika plan.

"THREE IS BEST"

"We think three is best," Gromyko reiterated to reporters.

Presumably this would call for naming undersecretaries from the United States, Soviet Union and a neutral nation to work in close contact with the acting secretary general. The advisers would have no veto.

If Ambassador U Thant gets the top post, this probably would result in an executive composed of a Communist and two neutrals with only one representative from the West.

Both the U.S. and Soviet delegations denied earlier diplomatic reports that they had agreed in the main on a method of selecting the temporary secretary general.

Laos Rivals Meet, but Fail to Agree

BAN HIN HEUP, Laos (UPI) — The rival princes of Laos met for 4 1/2 hours today but failed to reach any agreement on how to pick a premier for a proposed coalition government, reviving dangers of a resumption of the civil war.

Prince Boun Oum, present Pro-Western premier of the royal government, "neutralist" Prince Souvanna Phouma and "Red" Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Communist-backed Pathet Lao, agreed to try again Saturday to resolve their differences.

The three princes met under a candy-striped circus tent, set up on a damaged bridge 220 feet from the river bank, on the government-controlled side of the Nam Lik River today. Saturday's meeting will be held on the rebel-held side of the river, dividing this tiny jungle village 30 miles north of Vientiane.

Pacifist Sails to Russia Despite Entry Ban

TOKYO (AP) — American pacifist Earl L. Reynolds and his family sailed today aboard the yacht Phoenix from the Japanese island of Tsushima for the Siberian port of Nakhodka to protest resumption of Soviet nuclear tests.

The Soviets in Nakhodka have denied Reynolds permission to enter the Siberian port.

National Talks Resumed by Ford and UAW

Noneconomic Issues, Local Disputes Thwart Contract Agreement

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union and Ford Motor Co., resumed national negotiations today in hopes of wrapping up a master contract for 120,000 striking workers by Sunday.

Still to be resolved are five major noneconomic issues on the national level, plus local disputes at 47 Ford plants. Money matters were settled Tuesday just before a nationwide strike started.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford Vice President Malcolm L. Denise meet this afternoon for the first time since Wednesday. Both spent the last two days working by telephone trying to iron out local issues before returning to national bargaining.

They will tackle problems of production standards, outside contracting, jurisdictional rights and representation. The men are hoped by settling these national issues the local contracts—based on the same problems—would fall into line quickly.

Ford and UAW negotiators met Thursday with James MacPherson, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to check on progress of efforts to end the strike.

Mike Cummins, Ford labor relations director, said three plants had reached agreement earlier but had not yet signed, one or two items were separating bargaining at several more plants, and "at 10 or 12 other locations just a little movement will resolve things."

Over-all, Cummins said, "I'm very happy I have a feeling we're making progress and I expect to see some of them resolve their problems rather quickly."

Ken Bannan, director of the UAW's Ford department, said "We're moving in the right direction. We're making a little progress."

Asked about weekend settlement, Bannan said, "I don't know. I'm hopeful and I would like to see it, but I have a feeling we're making progress."

Flashes

ALLEGAN (UPI) — James Scott Stephens, 16, was sentenced to 20-40 days in prison today by Judge Raymond L. Smith for the fatal shooting of 11-year-old Carl G. West April 29.

VIENNA (UPI) — Russia's chief delegate V. S. Enyayev walked out of the final session of the fifth general assembly of the International Atomic Energy Agency today in protest against the election of Swedish scientist Sigvard Eklund as the agency's new director general.

Man Behind the U.S. Presidents

THROUGH THE YEARS — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, critically ill with cancer in a Texas hospital, was a familiar figure on the congressional podium at all house and joint sessions. He heard President Franklin D. Roosevelt address a joint session in 1943 and was still in the seat, alongside Vice President Lyndon Johnson, when President Kennedy appeared at the joint session last May.

Time Appears Short in Life of Ageless Dem 'Mr. Sam'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Time appears to be running out for Sam Rayburn.

A nonmedical aide to Rayburn said following Thursday's exploratory surgery, the end could come in several days.

An official hospital spokesman told newsmen "it is too early" to say that Rayburn's cancer is inoperable.

"Is he going to die?" a reporter asked.

"TOO EARLY"

"It is too early to say that he is going to die," the spokesman said. He added that it also is too primary to say that Rayburn would recover.

Asked if it was possible for Rayburn to recover, the spokesman replied in the affirmative.

He said Rayburn would be allowed to return to his home in Bonham if he wished to do so "and if we feel he is well enough to go," but "his condition would have to change before he could go back to Washington."

A hospital bulletin said "the biopsy revealed a metastatic malignancy" and "the most likely primary site of the malignancy is the pancreas."

This means, a doctor explained, that the malignancy has spread from its original site to other points in Rayburn's body.

Rayburn had not been told late Thursday how serious his condition is. He was under heavy sedation to relieve extreme pain but talked briefly with members of his family who remained nearby during the night.

Rayburn's sisters Mrs. W. A. Thomas and Mrs. Robert Bartley were in his room when he was returned from the examination. There were tears in their eyes after they learned of his ailment. Rayburn is a bachelor.

Baylor Hospital, which Rayburn entered last Monday for a series of tests, set up an emergency around-the-clock press room and planned to issue up to four medical bulletins daily.

McCormack Seen Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sam Rayburn's long, unchallenged reign as speaker of the House of Representatives apparently has cleared the way for an orderly succession by Majority Leader John W. McCormack to Rayburn's seat of power—at least temporarily.

The grip of the strong-willed, but kindly Texan on the speaker's chair has been so strong no rival faction ever developed. And his tenure has been so long the ambitions of any potential rivals have cooled with age.

Seek to End Strike

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamsters Union and Michigan Road Builders Association negotiators were to meet today in an effort to end the nine-day strike that has disrupted highway construction throughout the state, an association spokesman said.

"Then my wife got cancer. I was pretty low, but the operation was successful," he recalled.

After World War I he went back to work at Consumers Power Co. A stroke of luck saved his life and convinced him that his future was with Pontiac water.

"I was assisting an experimental engineer and operator until 1927, with time off for military leave. He was plant supervisor from 1927-33 and has been superintendent since then."

"Things got tough sometimes, but we made it. I remember the day in 1932 I bought my wife a grand piano. Then, boom, the depression and my paycheck was cut in half."

Hesse crown jewels following World War II.

Back before World War I, Gable worked a year with Consumers Power Co. and then went with Pontiac's National Guard, E. 32nd Infantry Division, to the Mexican border to fight Pancho Villa in 1916.

"We were then transferred back north and I remember we were on a boat crossing the Straits of Mackinac when word came that we'd declared war against Germany."

This was the start of a distinguished career of Gable and also the start of something else.

On Dec. 28, 1917, he was married to the training in Waco, Tex. His wife Gertrude and he have one son and two grandchildren and are looking forward to wedding anniversary No. 44.

PRIVATE TO COLONEL

Gable started as a buck private and was discharged from the army in 1936 at full colonel.

Major Changes in Red Berlin Stand Unlikely

Kennedy to Reaffirm Western Determination Not to Yield Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy meets Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko late today, seeking to learn if there has been any significant change in the Soviet position on Berlin.

But U.S. officials did not expect the session, set for late afternoon at the White House, to provide a dramatic opening for peaceful settlement of the long-festering German dispute.

Kennedy is prepared to listen to any fresh instructions Gromyko may have received from Moscow and to prod the Soviet minister for further explanation of the Soviet position on Berlin.

Kennedy also was ready to re-emphasize to Gromyko Western determination not to yield on Berlin rights—a message Gromyko will likely relay to Soviet Premier Khrushchev when Gromyko returns to Moscow Sunday.

Another matter that may come up in their conversation is the United Nations. The Soviet Union and the United States were reported Thursday night to be in agreement by about two hours before U.N. secretary-general, a successor for the late Dag Hammarskjöld.

Man Lands Plane Safely After Hitting Runway to Make Wheel Lock

A small plane carrying four people circled for an hour high above Pontiac airport last night with a landing gear that wouldn't lock into position.

Thanks to Pontiac's modern ground control tower and the experience of a young Jackson pilot, Robert Jordan, the landing was made with no injury to the plane or its passengers.

Along the landing strip, ready for anything, were Pontiac State Police, sheriff's deputies, Waterford Township Police and nearby every place of township fire equipment.

The plane, a single-engine Piper "Comanche," was owned by Aerodynamics Inc., at Pontiac airport. Working with Jordan from the ground were Fayette Harder and Henry Capron, control tower traffic operators.

Jordan told them the wheel in the nose of the craft wouldn't come straight down and lock. He brought the plane in slowly, carefully dropping closer and closer to the strip, and hit hard on the rear wheels.

The jolt snapped the front gear forward in a locked position as planned.

After another test run, he landed without a flaw. "Jordan deserves a pat on the back," said Harder. "It was a beautiful landing."

Summer Scores Weather Touchdown

A warm, busy summery day with an 80 degree temperature will find football fans shedding coats and sweaters tomorrow. Tonight's low will be a balmy 60.

For the next five days temperatures will average about 4 degrees above the normal high of 65 and normal low of 48. Sunday and Monday will be a little cooler but temperatures will rise again Wednesday.

Precipitation will total less than two tenths of an inch as showers about Sunday. Morning variable southerly winds will become westerly at 15 to 25 miles tonight. Fifty-nine was the lowest thermometer reading before 5 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 74 at 1 p.m.

Vietnamese Kill 46 Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U) — Provincial guardsmen, in a bayonet and pistol assault, have killed 46 members of a Communist battalion southwest of Saigon in the swampy Mekong Delta, the government announced today.

Syria Again Charges Oppression by Nasser

From U.S. News Wire
DAMASCUS, Syria — Syrian Premier Mamoun Hukbat today repeated charges that President Gamel Abdel Nasser had suppressed freedom and drained the economy during the 3½ year union with Egypt.

Kuzbari said Nasser had abandoned his diplomatic blockade of Syria because of "adverse consequences" to the United Arab Republic.

The U.A.R. "could not keep breaking off relations with every country that recognized the Syrian Republic," he said.

CONCEDES U.A.R.'S DEATH
Meanwhile in Cairo, Nasser, virtually conceding the death of this U.A.R., said he will not oppose efforts of the revolutionary Syrian regime to join the United Nations and the Arab League.

In a dramatic address whose conciliatory tone astounded observers in Cairo, Nasser declared "there is no need for a political or diplomatic blockade of Syria because the Syrian people would suffer." Only a short time before, the Cairo press had been denouncing the rebels as imperialists.

The address at first delighted the Syrian revolutionaries, and Kuzbari offered Egypt the hand of friendship. But he took a new, skeptical attitude this morning.

The Damascus broadcast quoted Kuzbari as saying Nasser agreed not to oppose Syrian membership in the United Nations only because he realized it was inevitable. Kuzbari said Syria had been promised free elections and "our only wish is that the Egyptian people would have the same opportunity."

Nasser, speaking slowly and with deep emotion, said that Cairo will not recognize any Damascus government.

Most of Nation Having Pleasant Weather Today

By The Associated Press
There were a couple of cool and wet spots, but generally pleasant autumn weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Temperatures dipped into the 30s in the interior sections of the New England States, and a little cool and showery in sections of Washington, Oregon and northern Idaho. Showers also hit areas in northeastern Florida.

But skies were clear in most other sections. The 62 degree mark in Watertown, N.Y., was 32 degrees higher than the Great Lakes, central Nebraska and Kansas ahead of the cooler air in western Montana and Idaho.

Temperatures leveled off in the 70s and 80s across most of the country Thursday, except in New England and along the northern Pacific Coast. One of the hottest spots was Yuma, Ariz., with a mark of 102 degrees.

Death Toll Climbs to 33 in Hamburg Train Crash

By United Press International
HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—The death toll rose to 33 today in the wake of Hamburg's worst train wreck since World War II.

The wreck occurred Thursday night when an electric train derailed with head-on bound theaters rumbled full-speed into a work train that crossed on a curved section of the elevated track over the city's main canal. The first car of the six-car passenger train was crushed and a 20-ton steel girder on the parked work train speared through the passengers like a rapier.

Police said that 40 others were injured, four critically. All are in Hamburg hospitals.

The fire department said some of the passengers were so seriously injured that doctors performed emergency amputations right at the scene.

The bodies were so badly mangled that the dead were counted only by heads. The 45-foot girder, projecting from the work train, sliced through the middle of the passenger train like a kitchen knife cutting ripe fruit.

Rescue workers labored through the night cutting bodies and survivors out of the twisted wreckage. "MAY NEVER KNOW"

Gerald Heitzl, a senior fire department official, said the bodies were so mangled "we may never know how many persons were killed."

The passenger train was jammed with movie theater fans.

There was no immediate explanation why the work train was parked on the track which is heavily traveled by suburban trains.

Officials said the passenger train rammed into the work train at full speed.

The front cabin, passengers and seats of the front coach were rammed 30 feet to the rear.

The accident happened at 10:40 p.m., 200 yards from the Zelinzer Elevated station as the train was heading for the suburbs with homebound movie and theater fans.

DRAG CANAL
The collision took place on a 30-foot bridge spanning a canal leading to Hamburg's overseas port.

A police launch began dragging the canal for passengers who may have jumped or been thrown overboard by the impact.

Police said switchman Alfred Messer, 56, was being held for questioning about the accident.

They said Messer was in charge of the track when the trains rammed.

Heitzl said, "I have never seen a more horrible sight."

3 Hurt in Collision in Rose Township

Three persons were injured in a head-on collision 5:39 p.m. Thursday on Eagle Road, Rose Township, according to sheriff's deputies.

Both drivers, David R. Slinkard, 38, of 217 S. Edith St., and Dennis Szymanski, 47, of 1380 N. 1st St., were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

A passenger in the Szymanski car Michael A. Magrotte, 16, of 771 Eagle Road, is in fair condition with head injuries and a broken jaw.

Deputies said the accident happened on a hillcrest where the road narrows. The cars were on a collision course for some time, and there were no skid marks on either side.

Air Force Flies Off Beam With Chaplain's Tags

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—James F. Patten, a Presbyterian chaplain and Air Force reserve captain, was recently called to active duty.

Thursday he got his identification "dog tags." On the portion of the tag showing religion of the owner was the notation: "No preference."

Captain Patten said he'll seek corrective action.

British Doctor Tells of Misuse of Socialized Health Care

A British doctor told of his ordeal with socialized medicine last night before a gathering of the Oakland County Medical Society and expressed his hope that a similar system would not be instituted in the United States.

Roger V. Pierson, now a psychiatrist on the staff of Pontiac State Hospital, addressed an estimated 50 doctors at the society's October meeting at Kingsley Inn.

He said of Britain under socialized health care:

"This is a country of people, independent for hundreds of years, who suddenly produced a medical set-up which I can only describe as totally inadequate."

"I understand a proposal for national health care will come up before Congress next year, and I hope we won't get into some of the same mistakes as did England."

"Disastification with the British system is already resulting in a slow return to a more responsible position of paying for one's own health care by those who are able, he said. The plan started in 1948.

Pierson, who started general practice in the slums of London and worked up to famous Harley Street, cited case after case of misuse of the British National Health Service.

The patient who must pay a compulsory deduction from his wages for the service, no longer has any financial worries when he becomes ill, Pierson pointed out. Service by doctors and hospitals is free; fees for prescriptions are nominal.

The socialized doctors are paid $2.50 a year for each patient, no matter whether they see him once or a hundred times. The maximum limit of patients per doctor is 5,000.

He said doctors were swamped by patients wanting the free treatment even for minor or imaginary illnesses, while the British people were being "sapped" of their responsibility for even first aid.

The consequence of this something-for-free concept, Pierson said, is that doctors often treat as many as 50 patients in the morning, go out 20 to 30 house calls, and treat 50 patients in the evening.

"It is impossible for any doctor to do a good job for so many people," he said.

He said the original intention of the National Health Service was helping those who couldn't afford to pay but specifically provided that socialized medical service should not undermine or supersede the personal responsibility of the people.

"Yet this is exactly what it does do," Pierson said.

Second Crash Victim Is Dead of Injuries

A head-on crash of two cars on Dixie Highway claimed a second victim last night at Pontiac General Hospital.

Russell K. Ely, 46, of 6091 Walden Road, Independence Township, died of internal injuries received in the accident Saturday night.

His brother, 49-year-old James A. Ely of 90 Cadillac Ave., Pontiac, was dead on arrival at the hospital following the collision in Waterford Township.

Today's victim was driving when his car collided into an oncoming car driven by Joe M. Vincent, 28, of Detroit. The crash occurred near the Scott Lake Road intersection.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A Cherokee princess whose Indian name is "Walking Stick" was a divorcee yesterday by testifying she had to get Joe James to protect her against her pale-face husband.

Barbara Morris said in court that her estranged husband, Milton, had threatened her with a gun and kidnaped their daughter during a visit to Mount Holly, N.C.

And Superior Judge Roger Pfaff also heard Mrs. Morris, 27, testify that she sought help from Charles E. M. Police James to protect her against her pale-face husband.

Burns has been gaining support to take over as temporary United Nations secretary general.

McCormack's Election as Speaker is Certain for the second half of its current session.

McCormack, 69, is already speaker pro tem by formal vote of the House. He was elected last month when Rayburn was forced by illness to return to his home at Bonham, Tex. Rayburn is gravely ill with cancer and aides say his days may be sharply limited.

LACKS SOLID SUPPORT
No predictions of harmony and order would be valid beyond the next session, however, McCormack, despite 21 years as Rayburn's lieutenant in the House Democratic leadership, has nothing like the solid support that made Rayburn speaker more than twice as long as any other man.

The dreams of power so long suppressed by strong and capable members of the House while Rayburn ruled the roost seemed bound to burst into reality. And a many-sided struggle for the job whose holder is third in line for the presidency should soon develop.

A possible obstacle to McCormack may be supplied by the White House. But the possibility of President Kennedy's intervention is considered a long-shot possibility at this point.

Kennedy and McCormack have been at political odds in the past. In Boston, their home city. And, in the last session, McCormack antagonized the administration by insisting that parochial schools have some share in proposed federal aid to schools.

Says Scarbeck Admitted Crime

Security Office Claims Ex-Diplomat Confessed He Agreed to Aid Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department security officer says former U. S. diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck admitted getting his Polish paramour out of Poland into West Germany with the help of Polish intelligence agencies.

Scarbeck, 41, former second secretary of the American Embassy in Warsaw, is accused of slipping secrets to Polish agents while trying to protect himself and his girl friend, Ursula Diachner, from blackmail and threats. The security officer, Kenneth W. Knauf, testified Thursday that when he talked with Scarbeck June 5 in Frankfurt, Germany, Scarbeck at first denied he had ever been blackmailed by Polish Communist agents to turn over secret documents from the U. S. Embassy in Warsaw.

AGREES TO SCHEME

But he said Scarbeck soon admitted "he agreed to furnish them provided they would not affect the security of the United States. In answer to their demands for ciphers and codes he assured them he would not cooperate to this extent."

Scarbeck, who is married, is charged with turning over to the Polish Reds four secret embassy papers.

He managed to get Miss Diachner out of Poland and into West Germany in April. Knauf said Scarbeck admitted he obtained a passport for Miss Diachner "by intercession with Polish intelligence agencies."

Soviets Drop Income Tax on 60-Ruble Monthly Pay
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has announced the second stage of its five-year plan to abolish income taxes.

The news agency Tass said Thursday that starting Oct. 1 the ministry of finance abolished taxes on workers earning up to 60 rubles a month. Taxes on incomes of 61 to 70 rubles were cut 40 per cent. (The official rate pegs the ruble at $1 to $1.11, the free money market at $1 to 40 cents.)

The government said at the start of the plan last year all taxes on workers would be abolished by October 1965.

Radiation Dose to Be Used at Demonstration

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Unless you read this story or others like it, you'll be in for a surprise if you attend a civil defense demonstration here Saturday.

City officials are planning to bombard all those present with a tiny—and they say, harmless—dose of radiation without telling them beforehand.

Then, speakers will explain that the dose—not felt, seen, smelled or otherwise sensed—could have been a killer if increased many, many times. A laboratory licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission will furnish the radiation, described as just sufficient to activate a geiger counter.

The idea is to dramatize the power of radiation.

Draws an Analogy

League Sets Program for Year

The year's program was organized by the executive board of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac at Tuesday's meeting in the Camley Street home of Lillian Davidson.

The Oct. 25 membership meeting will be 7:45 p.m. in the Community Services Building. Metropolitan problems relating to what the league feels should or should not appear in the new constitution will be covered. Any Krueger will present the program.

Reports were read by Mrs. Frances Coons, calendar sales; Elizabeth Halsey, publication sales; Laura Bels, publicity; and Mrs. Roy B. MacKee, finance drive. The fund drive from both members and non-members now stands at 25 per cent of the goal.

Julia Dalzell, Amy Krueger and Mrs. Robert Matheson were chosen to attend a statewide workshop at the Young Women's Christian Association in Lansing Oct. 16. Laura Bels, treasurer of the LWV of Michigan, will assist in the workshop which is a training session for co-con chairmen, budget and finance chairmen and treasurers of local leagues.

Mrs. Coons was appointed by the board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Charles Neldrett who resigned to run as delegate to the constitutional convention. The league's non-partisan status policy allows no person to serve on the board if she or a close relative runs for or is serving in an elective office. Members were urged to attend sessions of the constitutional convention now in session in the Lansing Civic Center.

Some 2,000 copies of "They Represent You," a publication listing national, state and local officials, as well as board of education members in the area, are being distributed by Aldine French and her volunteer committee. The booklets will go primarily to area schools for use in civics classes and to libraries.

The next board meeting will be Nov. 7 at the Gensie Drive home of Mrs. William J. Hanley.

This summer was a busy one for the cheerleaders as they planned and prepared for the 1961 season. Gretchen Gansbauer, president; Sue Johnson, and Sue Rogers went to the Wisconsin Dells accompanied by their sponsor Jean Smith and her husband.

Besides attending weekly practices all the cheerleaders took a trip to cheerleading camp. This trip was made to gain more knowledge so new cheers could be made up.

The pep assembly held today recalled in cheerleaders leading the student body in a host of new cheers.

Walled Lake Awaits Game

Homecoming Tonight With Northern Clash Culminates Plans

By JEANIE SPENGEMAN

Preparations for tonight's 1961 Homecoming game have been continuing for the past two weeks at Walled Lake Senior High School. A large crowd is expected to gather to see the Walled Lake Vikings clash with the Pontiac Northern Huskies on the Walled Lake field at 8 p.m.

Accompanying the excitement of the game, there will be a gala half-time celebration in which, among other things, the new stadium will be dedicated.

During the half-time festivities, the band and majorettes will be out on the field to add a colorful performance.

Fifteen floats have been made by high school clubs and organizations for the annual parade of floats.

Marilyn Gerds was selected by the student body from a group of seven nominees to be this year's queen.

Lee Thompson was elected senior attendant. Cheerleader Peggy Sofka was chosen to represent her class as junior attendant, and Carol Manney was selected from a levy of five to be sophomore attendant.

Coronados' Popularity Soars

By SHERYL LEHIGH

"As a challenge," the Coronados, an instrumental group from Waterford Kettering High School, appeared on the television program "Starlight Stairway" Saturday walking away with the grand prize in the senior division.

The group, consisting of Gene Gustafson, piano; Bill Goddard, drums; Jerry Schenkel, saxophone; Bob Staylor, lead guitar; and Ricky Stockwell, bass guitar, received an RCA Victor stereo phone hi-fi record player as their prize.

The Coronados, after auditioning appeared on the program Sept. 23. During that performance the boys played "Hard Times," and five other acts presented their talents.

Viewers were asked to mail their votes for the best acts to the studio. Saturday they appeared again, playing "Stop and Go" for the final judging.

Presently, the group is getting estimates on the stereo they won. They would like to sell the set and add the money to their bank account, which is being saved to purchase taxicabs.

On certain Saturday nights the Coronados play at the Music Box, a local dancing pavilion for teenagers.

Also, they often entertain for charitable organizations, such as this Sunday when they will play at the USO center.

Al Remington, manager of the Music Box, is considering sponsoring the boys, who have only been working together three months, on a tour of New York next summer.

With instruments amounting to $3,750 in value, the Coronados try to practice at least two times each week for two or two and a half hours. They have also written three songs — entitled "Going Home," "No Parking," and "Rest Period."

Gene, the piano player, is taking saxophone lessons from a faculty member, in preparation for a number in which all the boys plan to switch from one instrument to another.

YEARBOOKS TO SELL

Journalism students of Kettering are preparing for the sale of yearbooks next week!

Barb Sican, editor of the 1962 yearbook, has been busy working with the journalism I and II students. Her staff, although not complete, is JoAnna Lovett, business manager; Mary Ann Blazinski, special events editor; and Sheryl Lehigh, academic editor.

Monday morning, sales of the yearbook will begin during homecoming and continue for the following eight days.

As yet the yearbook is nameless! When the students place their orders each will be given the opportunity to enter a name for the yearbook. The person who suggests the winning name will receive a free yearbook for as many years as he continues to attend Waterford Kettering.

Homecoming End of Frantic Week for Oxford Fans

By ANN PICKFORD

Last Friday, marked the end of a frantic week for students of Oxford High School — it was our homecoming game against Romeo, and all the activities of building floats, electing a queen, and preparing the extras for the concession stand were culminated.

This Homecoming was, no doubt, very similar to that of other schools, but to OHS it was a little different than most.

First of all, it didn't rain. Secondly, our queen, Edie Skinner, a sophomore, reigned with her court of Ronnie Kintz, Sharon Mann, and Rhonda Barger.

The Junior Class and the Latin Club, for the second time in three years, captured the trophies for the most humorous and most original floats, respectively. The Youth for Christ Club was awarded the trophy for the most beautiful float.

Concession stand provided such specialties as buttered popcorn, cotton candy, and homemade caramel apples.

Will Gather in Detroit

Press Meet Attracts St. Mike Girls

By SHARON RODDEN

Representing St. Michael's High School at the Detroit Student Press Association Saturday are Pat Donley, Susan Hunt, and Diane Hope.

The principal convention speaker will be Martin Hayden, editor of the Detroit News.

Another guest will be Allen Hurthart, art director of Look Magazine, who will show slides on how to apply his principles of picture page design to yearbooks.

Included on the agenda for the DSPA meeting are a series of talks on various journalism careers.

TO CONVEY IDEAS

General purpose of this meeting is to convey new and better ways of forming opinions and ideas so that the high school year paper and yearbook will adapt itself to the various tastes of those who read it.

Tuesday, group of students welcomed Jack Kinsella, a representative of Junior Achievement of South Eastern Michigan, Incorporated, to speak to us on the Junior Achievement program.

Mr. Kinsella explained that the underlying purpose of JA is to present to youth the opportunity to understand and appreciate the American Free Enterprise System.

Junior Achievement, in the last few years, has grown into a nationwide organization, sponsored by large business companies and men and women who are chief executives and executives in the different companies to which they belong.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENTS

The idea of JA is for a group of junior and senior high school students to meet one night a week for two hours in order to operate a business of their own. They will produce, on a small scale, a product of their choice and they will sell it for profit.

In the process they will learn to manage financial matters pertaining to rent of building and machinery, cost of materials, wages, and taxes. They will also sell both common and preferred stock just as the big business does.

Mr. Kinsella pointed out three benefits of the JA program. They are: (1) an opportunity to see how a business functions and what it is like; (2) to develop talents of leadership and imagination; and (3) possible job contacts through the advisors, men who are specially trained for the purpose of helping out in the program.

Congratulations are in order for Carolyn Brown, Evelyn Daugherty, and Theresa Orrick. The three were announced at last week's Bon-Fire, to be the new junior varsity cheerleaders. Shirley West, sophomore, was chosen their captain.

Among the ceremonies which took place at the Bon-Fire was the burning of a dummy in effigy. The cheerleaders were on hand to lead the crowd in their favorite cheer and songs.

The annual Blue and Grey Boy will be held tonight from 8:30 to 11:30 in the parish hall. Admission will be fifty cents per person for the casual affair.

Brandon Students Ready for Homecoming Tonight

By BETTY ASHBY

Homecoming at Orvilleville to night will be sponsored by the student council. All students are urged to wear their school colors, blue and white.

School songs and cheers were held between class periods. The afternoon pep assembly, led by the cheerleaders, included cheers, skits, and introduction of the king and queen candidates.

Representing the seniors are Carol Kelley and Richard Bawol. From the junior class are Glenda Robinson and Charles Cornell, sophomores are Connie Kasuba and Paul Pangus, and freshmen are Linda Whipple and Leslie Saunders.

Festivities begin with a parade that starts at 6:30 p. m. at the junior high school, proceeding through town and ending at the football field. There will be floats entered by each class, bicycles decorated by elementary students, and the Brandon High School band directed by Daniel Ritsma.

Eight o'clock is kick-off time for the battle between the Brandon Blackbaws and the Gene-se Wolves.

During halftime there will be a display of the band, floats will be displayed and king and queen candidates introduced, the winning float will be announced and the prizes awarded.

Coronation of the queen will take place at the Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the senior class in the gym immediately after the game.

Coffee and rolls will be served to the alumni in the cafeteria following the game.

MAKE OVER PAGES What Can the U.N. Do on Disarmament Problem?

By DONALD JOHNSTON.

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — An underlying fear of a nuclear holocaust is haunting delegates to the 16th United Nations General Assembly.

Virtually every speaker in the general policy debate so far has emphasized the urgent need to halt the arms race before East-West tensions trigger a devastating global war.

Whether the delegates can transform this fear into concrete and effective action remains to be seen. There is considerable skepticism in view of the basic differences between Russia and the Western powers.

The initiative now is up to the 10-nation assembly where the countries of Africa, Asia, and Latin America control two-thirds of the votes. Russia and the United States have failed in bilateral talks to agree on a forum for renewed disarmament negotiations.

Howard C. Green, Canada's external affairs secretary, put the question bluntly to delegates this week in a policy speech:

"The crisis over Berlin and the great anxiety created by the resumption of nuclear weapons tests have brought to every mind the death and destruction which would follow the outbreak of nuclear war. We must check the spiraling competition for supremacy in armaments."

Pakistani Ambassador Muhammad Zafrulla Khan urged the assembly to give top priority to a proposed ban on tests. He said the resumption of nuclear explosions and the resultant radioactivity threatens "the very continuation of human life on earth."

The United States submitted a comprehensive disarmament plan as outlined by President Kennedy in his speech to the assembly. In addition, the U.S. and British delegations — after consultations with their NATO partner, France — offered a draft resolution asking the assembly to demand prohibition of all nuclear tests under effective controls.

Russia, echoed by its Communist allies, has reiterated its demands for general and complete disarmament. It has refused to end nuclear tests except within the context of its disarmament proposal.

plan as a trick to spy on Communist military strength. They refuse to allow inspection until all details of an overall "general and complete" disarmament program are agreed upon.

But negotiations for such an agreement are sure to be complicated and long, and many delegates are gravely concerned about testing in the meantime.

Western feelings on the Russian viewpoint were expressed by the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary:

"It would be easy for each side to produce 500 airplanes and burn them in a public bonfire. That, as I understand the Russian attitude, could be inspected."

***

"But how is one to know that 500 replacements are not coming off the supply lines the next day?"

That is the question the 100 delegations here must seek to answer.

The disarmament and nuclear test items are scheduled for debate in the assembly's main political committee, due to begin work today.

Both Washington and Moscow have laid their cards on the table early so that delegates can are forced by France's explosions and the West's "militant" reaction to their determination to sign a German peace treaty.

The three-stage U.S. proposal would outlaw nuclear weapons gradually. It calls for arms to be reduced under inspection as each stage of the program is agreed upon.

President Kennedy called for a prompt renewal of negotiations to continue without interruptions until general and complete disarmament is achieved. The Soviets walked out of 10-nation talks at Geneva in June, 1960.

LITTLE REACTION

There has been little overt reaction here to Kennedy's program, but U.S. sources expected substantial favorable response when the debate opens.

MAKE OVER PAGES Bob Kennedy Invited to Look

McCOMB, Miss. (UPI)—Authorities were ready today to let U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy see for himself whether a "reign of terror" exists in South Mississippi as a result of a Negro voter registration drive.

"Our conduct is an open book," said Mayor C. H. Douglas of this town of 12,000 located 90 miles south of Jackson.

Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta wired Robert Kennedy Thursday that "police brutality and beatings" have created "an approval edge of terror" against Negroes in this area.

Douglas said King's charges were "absolutely groundless" and he is "perfectly willing for Kennedy to come down here himself to investigate them."

The mayor said racial troubles have been touched off by "agitators from elsewhere and not from within."

There have been several incidents since the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, a nationwide protest group, began a campaign late this summer to register Negroes to vote in this area.

MARCH ON CITY HALL
The latest was a march on city hall Wednesday afternoon by 116 high school students in an anti-segregation demonstration. All the students and their adult leaders were arrested for disturbing the peace. King claimed the adults, workers for the Nonviolent group, have been "victims of police brutality and beatings." Authorities here deny that any blows have been struck by policemen.

In his telegram to Kennedy, King also referred to the fatal shooting of Negro farmer Herbert Lee near here Sept. 25. Lee, who had been active in the voter drive, was killed by State Rep. Eugene Hurt at liberty. A coroner's jury ruled the shooting was in self defense after witnesses said Lee advanced on Hurt with a tin tool.

King said it appeared that Lee's "association and work" with the voter drive "contributed to his death."

Hurt said King's charge was "one of the biggest untruths I've ever heard of. It's a lie without foundation. There's not a word of truth in it."

In Jackson, Gov. Ross Barnett said he would make no comment on the situation here because it "is a matter for local authorities." But he pointed out the corner's jury ruling in Lee's death.

McComb Police Chief George Gray said his 30-man force could handle "any situation that might develop and we don't need any federal help."

Gray said, "There was a time not too long ago when this racial stuff was unheard of here. It's all brought about by outsiders. The local Negroes are dead set against it."

The Justice Department has charged earlier that the arrest of a Negro Nonviolent worker, John Hardy of Nashville, Tenn., at Tyngton, near here, was part of a plan to intimidate Negroes. Hardy was charged with breaching the peace following an incident in a voting registrar's office.

Nations Cheer JFK Peace Idea

Want World to Know
CHICAGO (U)—Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago announced Thursday a plan by the Mayors of America Unity Program to circulate favorable international comment on President Kennedy's peace proposals throughout the world.

Daley said the comments, taken from newspapers around the world, will be turned over to all delegates to the United Nations.

'100 Facilities Desegregated'

Martin Luther King, Negro Leader, Cites Progress in Dixie

NEW YORK (U)—Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King said Thursday restaurants and lunchrooms had been desegregated in more than 100 cities in the South.

He attributed this to the movement that began with the lunch-room sit-ins and bus boycotts he originated in Montgomery, Ala.

"Negroes are now beginning their march from the midnight of discrimination into the daylight glare of equality," the Southern Baptist minister told a conference of the Transport Workers Union.

But he said segregation was still the Negro's burden and the nation's shame.

"We will not rest until every segment of discrimination and segregation is totally effluanted," he said. "We will continue to work in a nonviolent manner in the South until segregation and discrimination are eliminated."

He said there was need for liberal legislation for Negroes to enjoy equality and that "We will work with your union and any other labor organization who will endorse liberal candidates for Congress."

OK $324,000 Issue for Sewage Project

The State Municipal Finance Commission has authorized the Oakland County Department of Public Works to issue $324,000 in special assessment bonds to pay for additions to the Farmington and Michigan State University Oakland sewage disposal systems.

Bonds in the amount of $238,000 were approved to build the Morris Lake lateral arm along Orchard Lake Avenue in West Bloomfield Township. Residents petitioned for the project.

Homeowners in the 103-lot Belarmine Hills Subdivision north of Walton Boulevard in Avon Township will soon have sanitary sewers leading into their homes due to the $34,000 in bonds allowed for the system.

It is an extension of the system now serving MSUO.

Rail Stocks Are Mostly Lower

Mart Mixed in Moderate Trade

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The stock market was mixed in moderate early trading today after two sessions of sharp advance.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most key stocks.

Some steels did well, Jones & Laughlin adding a fraction and U.S. Steel close to a point.

Avco traded unchanged at 24 1/2 on 12,000 shares. The stock was very strong Thursday on news of a big defense contract.

Spiegel continued in demand, too that a large overhanging supply has been disposed of. It pushed ahead another fraction.

International Business Machines added a couple of points in a routine move.

With the Ford strike lingering, Mead Johnson rose more than a point. Up moderately were Lousiana Land, Draper, Hartford Stores and General Development.

Unusual declines, Creole Petroleum and Hel-Coil were lower.

Utilities also seemed to be resting from their recent demand for strength. Commonwealth Edison and Public Service Electric & Gas dropped fractions while American Telephone was unchanged.

Consolidated Foods was off 1/4 at 36 1/2 on a big order of 28,000 shares.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher. Mead Johnson rose more than a point. Up moderately were Lousiana Land, Draper, Hartford Stores and General Development.

'Auto Makers Face Dilemma'

Townsend in Paris Tells of Mass Production, Variety Demand in U.S.

PARIS (UPI)—The automobile industry in the United States is faced with the dilemma of how to fill the strong demand for variety and still preserve the benefits of mass production and distribution, Chrysler Corp. President Lynn A. Townsend said Thursday night.

Townsend, in Paris for the premiere today at the Paris motor show of Chrysler's experimental "Furbielle" gas turbine engine car, said the drive for diversity in the United States often runs into the drive for economy.

He said the Chrysler compact cars—the Valiant and Dodge Dart—retain their distinctive styling, and the Plymouth and Dodge provide improved performance and economy. He said this is topped by the big Chrysler and Imperial which still give luxury.

"We think that each line will meet a particular demand that has not been artificially forced but which never before has been so comprehensively met," Townsend told automobile writers.

Further selling depressed soybean futures. Easiness on soybean oil and meal was a factor. Support in that commodity also came largely from resting orders.

Wash. Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shearson Hamill & Co. says a weighty factor in the stock market for the next month or two will be the usual tendency to take losses for tax purposes in groups which have been acting badly.

However, the brokerage house thinks that in view of the new investment outlook and the prospect of an accelerating rate of inflation, proceeds from tax sales seem likely to be invested in stocks rather than withheld from investment.

Thus, Shearson Hamill concludes, groups currently in disfavor will be helped.

Thomson & McKinnon says that until the rails definitely reverse their current optimistic constructive attitude toward near-term markets is logical.

Bache & Co. says the big rise in rails on Wednesday can be considered another plus factor for the market over the near term. It still thinks the current gain for the D-J industrial average is in the 7-10 1/2 area.

A report on the billion dollar Wellington Fund for the 3 months ended Aug. 31 shows it took on absolutely no new holdings during the period while completely eliminating its interests in AMF, Deere, Eastman Kodak, McKesson & Robbins, National Fuel Gas, Public Service of Ind., Sinclair, Trans Union and Union Carbide.

Another drop in gold has been reported in the last week from $17.65 billion Sept. 29 to $17.53 billion Oct. 3, the last day reported by Washington.

The $70-million drop isn't any sign of a renewed serious outflow. However, the U.S. is still sending more dollars abroad than it is getting back, although this deficit has been pared sharply after three years of big ones. Until a firm balance is struck some financial observers will still worry about the future stability of the nation's reserves.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Lear, Inc. of Grand Rapids, Mich., has awarded a Navy contract for development of an anti-submarine warfare data processing system. Amount of the contract was not disclosed.

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Liquidity and hedge selling continued today to depress grain futures on the board.

Soybeans and all of the grains resumed the downturn of the past few days at the start of trading in wheat, selling that was attributed to a large speculative long interest had limited support on resting orders.

Further selling depressed soybean futures. Easiness on soybean oil and meal was a factor. Support in that commodity also came largely from resting orders.
