STIRS STORM — Saleslady Sunny Andry shows topless bathing suit to Miss Kirsten Johansson in a downtown San Francisco store yesterday as a storm of protest was stirred by clergymen and others about "nakedness." Even so, the suits are being sold as fast as they are made available. City officials said the suit may not be worn at public pools.

State Officials Await Word on Apportionment

Court Ruling Expected After Historic U. S. Decision on Districting

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney and other key state officials were keeping their schedules open today for a conference to plan the state's next moves on legislative redistricting and elections scheduling.

Awaited was a ruling from the Michigan Supreme Court, which—armed with "guidelines" on apportionment from the U.S. Supreme Court — was prepared to take up the question for the second time.

Officials were trying privately to outguess each other on what the court will do, in light of the U.S. court's historic decisions calling for legislatures apportioned according to population.

But the main question, where Romney, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, Secretary of State James Hare and others were concerned, was how a new decision would affect the state's 1964 election plans.

They and a score of officials and legislators conferred for more than an hour on the subject of apportionment and elections yesterday.

In the end they agreed only that the alternatives are so many, and so varied, that there was no point in trying to make plans until the court acts.

QUICK CONFERENCE

Romney said he would consider postponing a scheduled trip to Marquette to be available for another quick conference in the event a court ruling should come today.

Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh had said earlier he expected the court, convening at 11 a.m., would have a decision by tomorrow noon at the latest.

Romney and Republican legislators appeared hopeful that the court, in following the U.S. Supreme Court's edict for population-based apportionment, also would see fit to postpone its effectiveness.

★ ★ ★

Kelley agreed that the U.S. Court, in at least two of Monday's six decisions, clearly left it up to lower courts to decide whether immediate implementation of the rulings would create election problems.

But Kelley said he did not consider Michigan's case an unusual one, pointing that this state, unlike some others where delay has been approved, has not yet had its primary elections.

Rain Is Due by Tomorrow

Scattered showers headed this way are expected to arrive in the Pontiac area tomorrow afternoon and continue through Friday morning.

★ ★ ★

The low temperatures in the high 50s tonight will rise to the upper 70s tomorrow.

Friday and Saturday will be a little cooler wtih a warming trend Sunday and Monday.

Five to 10-miles-an-hour winds from the southeast today and tonight will become 10 to 20 m.p.h. southwesterly tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Forty-nine was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the mercury had reached 73.

'BIG D' DEMONSTRATION — Sen. Barry Goldwater (left) watches as Texas Republicans demonstrate with placards during his appearance yesterday at their Dallas convention. Goldwater is the front-running candidate for the GOP presidential nomination and has received a pledge of Texas' 56 votes for the national convention.

56 Texas Votes Hike Delegate Strength to 677

Barry Picks Up Three Votes in Arkansas; Warns of Slippage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate strength has soared to 677, according to an Associated Press survey. If he hangs on to that total, he will win the Republican presidential nomination with 19 votes to spare.

Fifty-six votes pledged yesterday by Texas Republicans pushed the Arizona senator over the top — the 655 mark needed to win the big prize at the Republican National Convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

But after winning in Texas, Goldwater said the job is not done yet.

He said he still needs more delegates because of the danger of slippage from among the delegates now on his list.

Goldwater's Texas sweep had been expected, with none of the Lone Star delegates expressing a previous preference for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's newest challenger.

Goldwater picked up three votes today in a resurvey of the Arkansas delegation, most of which previously had been committed to Rockefeller's brother, Winthrop, as a favorite son.

Scranton has picked up 44 delegates since he started his campaign last Friday with 84 first-ballot votes in his pocket.

But only one, in Pennsylvania, is known to have been a delegate who previously supported Goldwater.

Seventeen of Scranton's new votes have come from state conventions in Maryland and Connecticut, the remainder from delegates who were uncommitted or favored Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who this week threw his support behind Scranton.

With only Montana's 14 votes to be decided before the GOP convention begins, the AP survey of first-ballot votes based on primary election commitments, pledges, instructions or stated preferences showed:

Goldwater, 677
Scranton, 128
Rockefeller, 122
Henry Cabot Lodge 45
Margaret Chase Smith 15
Richard M. Nixon, 8
Favorite sons, 86
Uncommitted, 213

City Fire Chief Asks Shutdown of Station

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White last night recommended closing the city's new northside fire station No. 6 on Walton near Baldwin stating there will be a lack of manpower to efficiently staff six fire companies.

White made the recommendation in a written report to City Manager John F. Reineck. The report went to the city commissioners a few moments before their weekly meeting last night.

The chief based his recommendation on two main factors:

- A present shortage of four men in the fire department, operating six stations on the current 63-hour workweek.
- The fact that "it will take 12 (additional) men to put the 56-hour bill in effect and enjoy the same manpower that we now have."

The 56-hour workweek for firemen was approved by voters on the April 20 general election ballot and goes into effect July 1.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners didn't comment on the report last night, largely because they hadn't had time to study it and form any opinions.

REQUIRES ACTION

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said after the meeting that "this will require administrative action, and at this point I'd say we'll turn it over to the new city manager."

The commission has set

Police Probing Fatal Fight

White Lake Twp. Man Dies After Quarrel

Waterford Township police today are investigating circumstances of a street fight that resulted in the death of a White Lake Township man.

★ ★ ★

Norman Batchelor, 44, of 8931 Tackles, died at 12:30 a.m. today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering injuries in a Monday night fight at Dixie and Andersonville, Waterford Township.

Batchelor stopped his pickup truck at the intersection, got out and attacked the driver of the car behind him with his fists, witnesses told police.

Douglas Edwin Marsh, 33, of 1445 Dewey, Oxford Township, driver of the car, told police that Batchelor struck him several times in the face.

★ ★ ★

Marsh added that he tried to hold Batchelor's hands and this caused Batchelor to lose his balance and fall in the street. An ambulance was called when Batchelor failed to get up.

DRIVING HOME

A maintenance employe of Fleet Carrier in Pontiac, Marsh said that he and his wife and their two children were driving toward home from Pontiac when the incident occurred at 7:30 p.m.

He said he honked at Batchelor's truck which he said was weaving into his lane as both vehicles headed north on Dixie.

Marsh told police that Batchelor "acted crazy" when he got out of his truck at Andersonville where the car and truck stopped for a red light.

★ ★ ★

Marsh said he noticed blood on Batchelor's shirt as he approached Marsh's car.

An autopsy on Batchelor is planned today. Marsh was not held.

★ ★ ★

Batchelor's body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Drive Widened by Scranton

To Seek Delegates in Utah, Kentucky

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) —Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton today broadened his flying quest for Republican convention delegates to include Utah and Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

The 46-year-old candidate put Salt Lake City on his itinerary for tomorrow and Louisville on the Friday schedule.

The new scheduling came as the governor embarked today on another 1,500-mile safari for convention support in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

On the docket today were St. Louis, Mo. and Denver, Colo.

★ ★ ★

Scranton and his weary, but hard-driving staff, showed increased optimism they could overtake Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who leads the Associated Press poll of GOP convention delegates with 674 votes —more than enough to capture the nomination at San Francisco next month if all of the commitments to him hold up on the first ballot.

MORE IMPETUS

"I think the impetus of our campaign is better than we expected at this time," Scranton said last night after a meeting with Minnesota delegates.

Scranton said he expects to see "some shifts next week" in the alignment of national delegate strength.

The governor contacted 14 of Minnesota's 26 delegates yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Five of those who met with him previously indicated they favored Goldwater.

Scranton's office announced today that he would interrupt his campaigning to spend tomorrow in his Harrisburg office.

In Waterford Township

Continue Order Against Sit-In

Oakland County Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero today continued a temporary restraining order issued yesterday, preventing blocking of access to a water tank construction site in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

The injunction was obtained by Robert P. Allen, Oakland County corporation counsel to halt a 5-day sit-in at the site by residents of Lake Oakland Heights.

A hearing on the order had been set for 9 a.m. today.

★ ★ ★

Judge Dondero said that the continuation of the injunction imposes no restrictions on normal use by residents of Main where the sit-in was staged.

MUST REGULATE

Judge Dondero also ruled today that Oakland County, acting as agent for Waterford Township in the tank construction, must regulate the pile-driving machine on the site to curb excessive smoke.

Paul Valentino, attorney for the subdivision group, sought to enjoin any use of the machine. He said it caused a general nuisance situation by vibrating, cracking plaster and discharging excessively sooty smoke.

Judge Dondero repeated today what he told the county and township principals last November — that they continue construction of the tank at the peril of being ordered to tear it down.

★ ★ ★

RECALL SOUGHT

Meanwhile, residents of Lake Oakland Heights are in the process of obtaining recall petitions against Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin, Trustee John Coleman and possibly more board members.

Maynard Peters, spokesman for the group, said today that many persons are dissatisfied not only with the way the board has handled the tower issue, but also about several other matters.

600 Reds Are Beaten Off as Viet War Heats Up

DUC HOA, Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese gunners manning two 105mm Howitzers blasted a Communist Viet Cong battalion from Duc Hoa today after the Red guerrillas had all but captured this government stronghold 10 miles west of Saigon.

The war's tempo was rising after a relative lull for a month. About 600 guerrillas hit Duc Hoa at 3:30 a.m., setting off a three-hour battle whose sights and sounds carried to Saigon like a thunderstorm on the horizon.

The Viet Cong troops were backed by mortars, recoilless rifles and machine guns.

The defenders suffered 51 casualties, including 15 dead.

Nineteen of the guerrillas were known to have been killed, and

Earlier Story, Page B-4

U.S. advisers estimated the toll may have reached 50 or 60. Most of the Viet Cong casualties were carried away in retreat.

The sharp action lent emphasis to developments elsewhere:

GOVERNMENT DECISION

—Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, who will succeed Gen. Paul D. Harkins Aug. 1 as commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, said he would not rule out attacks on Communist North Viet Nam, though that would be a matter for the U.S. government to decide.

—The Independent, English-language Saigon Post predicted that Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the strongman premier, will hand over power by Friday to a civilian cabinet possibly headed by Vu Van Mau, now ambassador to Britain.

A government spokesman denied this report and usually well-informed western sources said no such shakeup appeared imminent.

—A senior U.S. military adviser who declined to be identified by name or rank told newsmen at a Saigon briefing that the Communist threat is more serious than it was when he came to Viet Nam nearly three years ago.

Burglars Get Soldiers' Pay

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — Burglars broke into the National Guard Armory here during the night and stole a National Guard cash payroll estimated at $147,000, an Army spokesman said today.

Lt. Col. Everett Morrison, U. S. property and fiscal officer, said the thieves blew open two safes in his office to get at the cash.

10 Children Came First

Gets His Diploma Late

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Handyman Daniel Elmore, 72, graduates from high school today.

He is a little late getting his diploma because he had to put all 10 of his sons and daughters through college first.

Elmore financed that massive task with a series of odd jobs, over a period of 20 years.

The last one finished college seven years ago. "Then I figured it was my turn," the tall, proud father said yesterday.

Two of his 10 children will be on hand when Elmore steps down the aisle in cap and gown at David Staar Jordan High School in nearby Watts to receive the certificate he earned in four years of night classes.

William Warden, principal of Jordan's adult high school said:

"This is a tremendous man and a wonderful student.

Fire, Flood Menace Japan Quake City

NIIGATA, Japan (AP) — Battered and broken by one of the strongest Japanese earthquakes of modern times, Niigata was menaced today by fire and flood.

★ ★ ★

Police removed 7,350 persons, including 2,000 hospital patients, from the vicinity of petroleum tanks blazing along the waterfront of this big port on the northwest coast, the center of Japan's petroleum industry.

The flames inched toward a hydrogen tank 90 feet away, raising fears of a gigantic explosion.

★ ★ ★

Also threatened was a tank of gasoline additive that would loose poisonous fumes over the crippled city of 340,000 if it went up.

★ ★ ★

Much of Niigata is land reclaimed from the sea, and in the wake of yesterday's quake a large area began to sink.

24 DEAD

Japan's worst earthquake since 1923, left 24 dead, 10 missing and 282 injured, many seriously.

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Johnson called today for the establishment of a national manpower policy through cooperation of labor, management and government.

In an address prepared for the annual convention of the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Johnson cited three on - rushing developments that he said require the establishment of a national manpower policy: the replacement of men by machines, the decline in jobs for the unskilled and the dramatic growth of the labor force.

The President was a bit vague about the precise machinery he would plan to employ in drafting a manpower program.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee sought today to find out why the government permitted marketing of the drug Orabilex, which has been linked to the deaths of at least 26 persons.

Before it was removed from the market, Orabilex had been given to patients to provide a contrast for X-ray studies of the gal bladder.

Orabilex was approved for sale by the FDA in 1958. Subcommittee chairman L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., said his group wanted information on the FDA'S handling of the "new drug" application for Orabilex.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N. J., said today there was evidence that President Francois Duvalier of Haiti might have "hired a gestapo of Americans" who check on activities of Haitians in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Assistant Atty. Gen. J. Walter Yeagley, head of the Justice Department's internal security division, confirmed in a letter to Gallagher that Duvalier's regime had hired several U. S. detective agencies in past years to conduct undercover work.

★ ★ ★

He said they all had registered as foreign agents under federal law.

One of them, he said, was Borger Associates of New York City which was registered in 1958 and 1959.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital was abloom today with rosy reports on the nation's economy.

Jobs, personal income, manufacturing profits and production were up, and labor disputes down.

"Our economic prognosis is one of continued growth," declared President Johnson after a look at some of the figures and no doubt pleased at the prospect of having prosperity in an election year.

ATTENDS DINNER — Mrs. John F. Kennedy leaves St. Regis Hotel in New York last night after attending a dinner in her honor. The affair also paid tribute to New York area trustees of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library to be built near Harvard University.

Congressman Seeks 5th Term

Continues to Run in the 18th District

Congressman William S. Broomfield, Oakland County's representative for the past eight years, today announced he will seek a fifth term.

Broomfield will continue to run in the 18th District, which is less than half its former size due to redistricting but still one of the most populous in the nation.

Proponent of a firmer foreign policy in Southeast Asia and an end to "foreign aid to such pro-Red countries as Indonesia," Broomfield is a ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

He is the ranking minority member of the Far East and National Security subcommittees and a member of the African Affairs Subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

DISTRICT MAKEUP

He is the only announced Republican candidate for the 18th District, which takes in the cities of Berkley, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park and Huntington Woods.

Also included are the cities of Lathrup Village, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak, Southfield and Troy, and townships of Addison, Avon, Bloomfield, Pontiac, Royal Oak and Southfield.

A native of Royal Oak, Broomfield is 42. He served in the Michigan House of Representatives from 1948 to 1954 and was chosen the youngest speaker pro tem in Michigan history. He later served one state senate term.

★ ★ ★

Elected to Congress in 1956, he served four years on the House Public Works Committee. He later was a delegate to NATO and U.S.-Canadian parliamentary conferences.

Reappoint 2 as Trustees

City Returns Pair to Hospital Board

The City Commission last night voted unanimously to reappoint Harold S. Goldberg and Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr. to four-year terms on the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees.

★ ★ ★

Goldberg of 1079 James K has served as board chairman for the past three years and has been a member of the board since its inception 12 years ago.

GOLDBERG

DR. ALLEN

Prior to becoming board chairman in 1961, Goldberg, a Pontiac jeweler, served both as vice chairman and treasurer of the 11-member board.

Dr. Allen of 110 Wenonah has been a trustee since October 1958 when he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the board. He was reappointed in 1960.

Allen, a Pontiac optometrist, is a GOP primary candidate for State Senate from the 20th district (northern Oakland County).

★ ★ ★

Accuse Man in Abortion

FLINT (AP) — A Flint businessman was arrested Tuesday following disclosure of what authorities termed an abortion racket in southern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Genesee County Prosecutor Robert M. Leonard said the area included East Lansing where Michigan State University coeds had submitted to illegal operations.

★ ★ ★

Donald E. Luce, 35, operator of a car collision shop and painting and decorating business, was charged with criminal abortion in an alleged operation on an 18-year-old Birmingham girl.

★ ★ ★

Luce, arraigned in Municipal Court, demanded a hearing and was freed on $1,500 bond. The hearing was set for July 1.

$10,000 BOND

Prosecutor Leonard said Luce is free under $10,000 bond on an Ingham County charge of assault with intent to commit abortion and attempted abortion

★ ★ ★

Leonard said Luce told clients he had performed more than 100 abortions yearly for the last 11 years, including operations on many MSU coeds.

★ ★ ★

Leonard said an investigation was started by Flint police last February when a coed was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital here. Leonard said police of East Lansing and Birmingham as well as the intelligence division of state police took part.

Dogs Roam, Kill, Maul Area Sheep

A pack of dogs was being hunted in Brandon Township today after it attacked or killed more than 20 sheep.

Oakland County Chief Deputy Dog Warden Donald Sheridan said the dogs are believed to be in the east portion of the township where they mauled 21 sheep owned by Dr. W. E. Lee, 4701 Granger.

Lee reported that he saw five dogs in the area yesterday. A woman said that she saw a grown female dog and her litter roaming the area recently.

The killed animals weighed from 60 to 175 pounds, according to Sheridan. In all, more than a ton of sheep was killed. They were valued at a total of $350.

Ten of the sheep were still alive when the sheriff's deputies arrived yesterday afternoon but had to be destroyed because they were too seriously injured.

Sheridan said an attempt will be made to find out if the dogs are owned so the person can be made liable for the cost of the sheep.

Otherwise, the county will pay for the sheep from dog license fees.

There have been instances where more sheep have been killed by dogs but not in recent years, according to Sheridan.

He said two men from the animal shelter would be searching the area until the dogs are found.

School Unit to Discuss Finances

School finances will be discussed tomorrow night when school board members meet with the Pontiac School Study Committee.

The committee, headed by James L. Howlett, local attorney, has reviewed Pontiac school needs and is being consulted prior to an expected millage election this fall.

Howlett, who takes his seat on the school board next month after having been elected last week to the lone board vacancy, headed a select committee of 42 persons.

The committee studied future school needs and drafted a formal report.

The report noted several uncertainties in projecting school needs and finances, but the citizens group did recommend renewal of the extra voted 8.75 mills, which expires this year.

ADDITIONAL MILLAGE

In addition, the laymen committee tentatively recommended an additional millage of 2.91 mills for five years "unless more accurate information as to the state equalized valuation is available . . ."

In reviewing an administrative study of school needs over the next 10 years, committee members sharply disagreed on only one point — the future of property values in Pontiac.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said that the equalized valuations for 1964-65 were not known at the time the committee made its study.

★ ★ ★

He said that new projections of property values would be presented tomorrow at the 7:30 p.m. meeting. Committee members will then be asked if they wish to revise their recommendations.

★ ★ ★

City Fire Chief Says Close Post

June 30 as target date for hiring a full-time manager.

In his report, White pointed out that the fire department has, in the past, maintained some companies with a minimum of manpower as recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters (NBFU).

Adding to the manpower problem, he said that of the 14 new men he requested for the new station (which opened earlier this year), he got 10.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

"It is my honest opinion," White noted, "that we would have a far better and more efficient fire department to operate with five stations that are organized with well-manned fire companies, than a larger number that are improperly manned.

"Therefore, I am recommending closing No. 6 station."

At another point in the seven-page report, White noted, "It is my contention that one well-manned fire company is worth three or four half manned companies.

"If there is anything . . . conspicuous about a fire department, it is to see one or two engines standing in the street at a fire and no one to operate them."

SERIOUS LACK

He said there is already a serious lack of manpower in ladder companies and that it will worsen under a 56-hour week, six station operation.

As a result of the low manpower in ladder companies, White noted that at a recent fire "fighting the actual fire had to be dropped until all people were removed from the building due to the fact that we only carry two or three men on each ladder truck."

He also pointed to Pontiac's current classification of "4" in the fire insurance rating system —which is based largely on the fire protection offered by the city.

The "4" rating determines the amount of insurance premiums paid by all property owners in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

White said that he felt "there no doubt would be a change in the insurance rating" if the city was evaluated by the NBFU today.

He said it might not affect home owners too much "but I do believe it would cause havoc and an exceptionally large expense to commercial places of business such as stores, apartment houses and industries."

City administrators yesterday said they are currently looking for prospective recruits for the department and that all applications will be accepted up to Friday afternoon.

Administrators have complained many times that, in addition to a starting salary which is below that of comparable metropolitan area departments, only a third of the applicants ever make it through the written and physical exams.

Dugan Rapped for Comments

The Pontiac Fire Fighters' Association last night rebuked comments made by Commissioner John A. Dugan last week concerning the 56-hour work week proposal adopted at the April 20 general election.

Jack Douglas, president of the association, denied that the fire department was guilty "of misrepresenting the issue of taxes and our proposal for a shorter workweek."

Douglas said the fire-fighters' statement that the shorter workweek wouldn't require a millage increase was true.

Dugan had remarked that a shorter workweek would cost money, placing a further burden on limited tax revenues.

He claimed firemen should help push measures to provide revenue rather than just back proposals to spend it.

TAX HIKE DEFEATED

A proposed 1-mill tax rate hike was defeated by voters April 20.

"A 1-mill increase would yield $295,000," Douglas noted. "The city has estimated our shorter workweek to cost about $50,000. This fact alone shows the proposed 1-mill increase unnecessary."

Douglas also said the $15-million hike in Pontiac's tax base "would add $185,000 to the city's operating funds.

"It would appear that the city fathers place a greater importance on material and machines than . . . on human beings," he said.

SINCERE EFFORT

"It's time a Pontiac City Commission stopped stalling and made a sincere effort to raise its employes (wages) to an adequate level."

In reply, Dugan said he still felt much good could be derived from some show of support for millage needs from employe groups.

Area Man Injured in Predawn Crash

A West Bloomfield Township man is under intensive care at Pontiac General Hospital after his car went off Green Lake Road near his home and hit a tree early today.

U. S. Planes in Laos Refuel in Viet Nam?

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. jet planes used in flying reconnaissance and raid missions in Laos are believed to have been using South Vietnamese airfields as refuelling points for some time, reliable sources reported today.

Officially American spokesmen in Saigon have no comment on this matter but jets of the type used in Laos have been seen in at least four airfields in Viet Nam — Danang in the north, Nhatrang, Bien Hoa and Saigon.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers and some thundershowers tonight will range through the northern part of the nation from the Pacific coast to the upper Lakes region. Showers are also expected in the southern Plains. It will be cooler in the northern Plains, upper Mississippi Valley and the middle and north Atlantic states. Warmer temperatures are expected elsewhere.

Sale Ups Renewal Receipts

In giving final approval to an agreement to sell some 164,130 square feet of land to Charles L. Langs, the City Commission last night brought total receipts from the sale of urban renewal land to $166,477.67 to date.

Last night's action also upped the value of new construction proposed or already built on urban renewal sites to $1,795,200.

Commissioners authorized the sale of land on East Pike at Douglas and Parkhurst for $49,500 in a two-stage agreement as required under Federal Housing Administration restrictions.

Langs, of Waterford Township, will immediately purchase a 27,208-square-foot parcel on the northeast corner of Douglas and East Pike for $6,250.

★ ★ ★

He proposes to build an estimated $750,000 town-house type cooperative housing development of 65 units on the total 164,000-square-foot plot.

GOVERNMENT FINANCE

The project is being financed under the federal government's 221-D3 program, which provides for selling units on a 40-year mortgage at lower-than-normal interest rates.

Due to FHA restrictions under the 221-D3 program, Langs must build models on the parcel he has purchased outright and then sell 80 per cent of the proposed 65 units before the remainder of the land can be deeded to him.

No further action is required of the city. The second portion of land, consisting of 136,922 square feet, will automatically be sold to Langs for $43,250 when he sells the required percentage of town-house units.

★ ★ ★

This was the sixth sale of land in Pontiac's urban renewal program to get final approval of both the City Commission and federal urban renewal officials, according to James L. Bates, urban renewal director.

PREVIOUS TRANSACTIONS

Previous transactions include the new Pontiac Municipal Employes Credit Union Building on East Pike next to the Public Safety Building and the new Pontiac School District Administration Building, under construction at Auburn and the Perimeter Road.

Langs has indicated he will begin work on the town-house models by the end of the month.

In addition to the transactions already okayed, some $201,500 in land sales, involving proposed construction estimated at $1.1 million, have been tentatively approved and are awaiting the final okay of federal officials at this time, Bates said.

No Matter How It's Added, Year Isn't 52 Weeks Long

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — If you plan to stay in the social swim, now is the time to start planning your activities for the second half of the year.

The schedule is a full one.

Still to be observed this month are Father's Day, National Bow Tie Week, a total eclipse of the moon and Save Your City Week.

BOYLE

July begins, not inappropriately, with a festival for "the most famous citizens" of Bridgeport, Conn., the late Phineas T. Barnum, who once cautiously observed, "There's a sucker born every minute."

★ ★ ★

You may also want to take some part in National Hot Dog and National Odor Control Month, Let's Play Tennis Week and ceremonies honoring D. L. L. Zamenhof, whose claim to fame is that he founded Esperanto, the second international language. The first international language was money.

Coming up in August are National Clown Week, National Sandwich Month, the anniversary of the arrival of Ponce de Leon in Puerto Rico, and the birthdays of Herbert Hoover, Benjamin Harrison and Huey P. Long. Perhaps you'd also better make a memo now to play a tune for National Accordion Week.

JOYOUS REIGN

September promises to be a 30-day reign of joy. It is Youth Month, Home Quiet Month, Home Sweet Home Month, National Better Breakfast Month, National Flapjack Month and—don't overlook this one—Measure Your Mattress Month.

Also noteworthy in September are National Dog Week, National Sweater Week, National Fireplace Week and National Barefoot Freedom Week.

★ ★ ★

We don't know your plans for October, but we're concentrating on Be Kind to Customers Month, National Save the Horse Week, National Honey, Popcorn and Wine weeks, International Whale Watching Week and World Poetry Day. These, we feel, will keep us from going to Huntsville, Ark., for the National Crossbow Tournament.

In November we have National Raisin Bread Month, Warren G. Harding's birthday, National Dish Cloth Month, Asparagus Week, Holidays Are Pickle Days, National Indigestion Week and National Prosperity Week.

YULE SHOPPING

Naturally, Christmas shopping will keep you pretty busy during most of December, but you might put a red pencil mark under Dec. 21. That'll remind you not to forget National Flashlight and Battery Inspection Day.

One last event on the calendar you may want to skip — a peculiar custom traditionally observed on Dec. 31 in Japan. That is the day when Japanese pay up all their bills so they can start the new year free from debt.

2 Seek Court Action on Avondale Votes

The two defeated Avondale School Board incumbents are taking the controversial school election to court.

Ex-board Secretary, Mrs. Genevieve Porter and Trustee Floyd L. Cobb Jr. have retained attorney George E. Bushnell of Detroit to draft a complaint in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Whether or not the Avondale School Board acted properly in deleting the names of these two candidates from the ballot two days before the June 8 election is the issue the court will decide.

If the court rules in favor of the pair the election will be invalidated.

Mrs. Porter and Cobb have expressed the hope that this would pave the way for a new election allowing their names to legally appear on the ballot.

★ ★ ★

The ruling, however, would not affect the portion of the election on the Community College proposal and millage vote.

RESULTS MAY STAND

Should the decision uphold the board's action, the election results would stand. Herbert Miller and Edward Turner are the new board members.

Action on the complaint is expected later this week.

The controversy started when the school board ruled Mrs. Porter's and Cobb's nominating petitions were illegal because they had not been signed by the circulator before they were submitted May 9.

★ ★ ★

The board's decision was not made until two days before the election.

WRITE-IN CANDIDATES

The two incumbents ran as write-in candidates along with James Gee.

The board's vote for the deletion rested on not wishing to take a chance on having the election voided.

Trustee David Hackett was the sole dissenter.

The Lions Club raised the money for the contribution through its annual Halloween flare, Christmas candy cane and white cane sales.

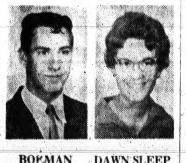
6 Teens to Test Views in West Indies

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP—Six teen-agers contemplating careers as missionaries have been given the chance to test their views — in the jungles of the West Indies.

The chance, an idea, was given them by their pastor at Emmanuel Bible Church. The means to carry out the idea, however, were earned by the youngsters themselves.

The group left Monday for the Lesser Antilles, islands at the southern end of the West Indies chain.

There they will spend a month



BOWMAN DAWN SLEEP

working as missionaries in the isolated tropical villages.

It will not be easy for them. The emphasis will be on work, not on the adventure of living in a foreign land.

The teen-agers were to spend their first week in Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, location of the headquarters for the Christian radio station WIVV.

GET ASSIGNMENT

Following their indoctrination and orientation, each will be assigned to a senior missionary at an outpost station for three weeks.

A portion of their chores will be connected with the radio station. But they also will travel door-to-door introducing the Gospel into the homes of natives.

Open-air evangelistic meetings, village tract distribution and work with children also are in store.

Too often the glamour of work abroad is stressed by missionaries speaking before congregations in this country, Rev. Lackey said.

This summer's "on-the-job training" will give the six teen-agers an opportunity to test their motivations.

Only one of the youths, Roy Sabo, speaks Spanish. Roy, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Sabo, 2780 Engleman, Highland.

B. DUNHAM D. DUNHAM

His comrades for the venture include Roger Bowman, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowman, 3526 Fenton, Holly; Dawn Sleep, 16, daughter of Mrs. Lydia Sleep, 3440 Woodlawn, Highland; Bill Dunham, 17, and David Dunham, 16, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunham, 177 Main, Clyde; and Alfred Lackey Jr., 15, son of Rev. and Mrs. Lackey, 868 Panorama, Milford.

The high school students are members of the Ambassadors, the church's youth group. They started developing the idea in September and each has since earned his $240 passage to the Lesser Antilles.

They baby sat, mowed lawns, shoveled snow, picked strawberries, baled hay and saved the profits.

Rev. Lackey will leave Michigan July 3 to join the group for the last portion of its stay on the islands.

There he will be able to preview the results of the month the Ambassadors spent as missionaries.

AREA NEWS

Garden Group Wins Award

Women's Unit Cited in Orion Township

ORION TOWNSHIP — The local branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (WNFGA) has received state recognition for its 1963 program of civic improvement.

The Michigan Division, WNFGA, has awarded the Orion Township group a first - place award of merit for its work in this particular field last year.

Among the projects undertaken by the local organization was a campaign to improve a parcel of land on Bellevue as a playground for children. It is now called Unger Park.

Through efforts of its members, the property was cleared of trash and rubbish and posted as no-parking area. It was also fenced in.

The club also gave an award to First Federal Savings and Loan Association for being the local business place that has done the most to improve its grounds during the past year.

GAVE SCHOLARSHIP

Among its other contributions were a scholarship to the Higgins Lake Conservation School, trees to the library site and park, purchase of one - fourth acre of the Lakeville Swamp Association property for preservation of wildlife and flora and money to the Orion Girl Scouts for their civic improvement project.

Funds also were given to the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Newly installed president of the local organization is Mrs. I. J. Gouin, 488 S. Bellevue.

Serving with her for the coming year are Mrs. Henry Angell Sr., first vice president; Mrs. Wesley Allen, second vice president; Mrs. Clarence Arnold, recording secretary; Mrs. Ludwig Schick, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Norman Fitch, treasurer.

Talk Budget for Schools on July 6th

ROCHESTER—Public hearing on the proposed $2,666,817 Rochester Community Schools budget for 1964-65 will be July 6.

The board of education set the hearing for its next regular meeting.

Up 6.9 per cent over this year's anticipated spending, the budget accounts for an anticipated 5.4 per cent enrollment increase.

The largest portion of the additional $171,278 being sought is $103,729 for increased instructional costs.

Tentative figures included a 2-mill operational levy renewed at the polls May 4.

POOL PROJECT

Board President James Ludwick has appointed three members to discuss the possibility of a community swimming pool with YMCA representatives.

School board members Mrs. Gail Kemler, Mrs. Virginia Allured and Norman E. May will meet with John Burns, Robert Fidler and Mrs. Ben Lindquist of the YMCA board in the near future.

Businesswomen Seat New Officers

MILFORD — Mrs. Charles Buell of 617 Duchess was installed last night as president of the Milford chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Florence Rogers will serve as first vice president and Mrs. Jack Parks as second vice president during the new year.

Others installed in the ceremony at Thompson's Country Inn, Highland Township, are Mrs. Donald Speck, recording secretary; Mrs. Kay Hawkins, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harvey Wells, treasurer.

Miss Romeo Contest Slated for July 2

ROMEO — Who is the girl whose beauty, poise and charm will entitle her to reign as Miss Romeo during the coming year?

★ ★ ★

This question will be answered in a contest for the local crown seeker July 2 at the Romeo Community Center.

To be eligible to compete, candidates must be single, be between 17½ and 21 years of age and reside in the Romeo Community School District.

Entries stating the girl's name, age, address, parents' names, school or job should be mailed to the Community Center. A picture also should be included.

★ ★ ★

The contest format will be the same as last year, said chairman Mrs. Margaret A. Kaiser.

2 APPEARANCES

Candidates for the crown will appear on stage twice, once in street wear and then returning later in formal gowns.

They will be introduced to the audience during their first appearance and answer the same three questions prepared by the judges when they come back a second time.

Each of the girls will be graded on poise, personality, beauty, appearance and public speaking ability.

★ ★ ★

A winner and two maids of honor will be picked.

The trio will make their first public appearance after the contest riding on the Peach Festival publicity float in the Utica Lions Homecoming Parade July 4.

Miss Romeo also will represent the village in the Peach Queen competition early in August. The winner of this contest will reign over the annual Peach Festival Labor Day weekend.

Hollywood School Graduating New Class

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Judy Garland first met Mickey Rooney in the classroom. Betty Grable was a student, and so was Donald O'Connor. And so were Natalie Wood, Anita Louise, Connie Stevens, Jill St. John, Yvette Mimieux, Debra Paget, Tuesday Weld, Sue Lyon, Helen Grayco, Jimmy Boyd, Molly Bee, Annette Funicello and a flock of other Mousketeers.

All of them and hundreds more have called Hollywood Professional School their alma mater during its 40 years at 5400 Hollywood Blvd. A new class of 70 seniors will be graduating tonight, but not all will be able to attend the ceremonies.

The student body president, former Mouseketeer Cubby O'Brian, won't be present to deliver his valedictory. "We run an educational workshop," explains Bertha Mann, executive director. "We have no Mickey Mouse courses. Our students are drilled in fundamentals from 8:45 to 12:45 each morning. Those who have to work at studios in the morning can come for tutoring in the afternoon.

NO ATHLETICS

"We have no athletics, no cafeteria, no hotel or boarding department. We are strictly an academic day school."

Principal Mary Anderssen refuted the notion that child performers are not Phi Beta Kappa types.

★ ★ ★

"The professional child is extremely bright," said she. "Many of them are straight A students. They present no discipline problems. They want to project a good image of themselves."

MANY PROS

Professionals comprise 20 per cent of the 420 students, would-be professionals another 40 per cent.

"We are very strict," declared Mrs. Mann. "The boys can't wear blue jeans or long haircuts and on Fridays they wear coats and ties. The girls aren't allowed excessive make-up or sleeveless dresses, and skirts must cover the knee. Tight sweaters? Absolutely not.

"The students go along with the rules. They're smart enough to know that directors are seeking that well-scrubbed look."

Dem Backstage Power Moves to Front Stage

With sweetness and light their theme, 1,500 delegates convened recently in Lansing to set the stage for the Democratic campaign to take over the State House.

★ ★ ★

NEIL STAEBLER, longtime Ann Arbor businessman and chief architect of the Dems' rise to administrative power in the State, was the man of the hour.

STAEBLER

The only Democratic candidate this year for the governorship, he had long played the role of a blocking halfback, clearing the way for the star ball-carrier's sweep to the Governor's chair and the acclaim that goes with it.

Mainly, the star was G. MENNEN WILLIAMS, who began his precedent-smashing run of six consecutive terms as Michigan's Governor in 1949.

Staebler's outstanding organizational and administrative ability unquestionably had a major part in setting the Democrats on the victory trail.

★ ★ ★

Now the kingmaker is out after the crown for himself — and judging by the enthusiasm of the convention delegates, the head-size fits.

Any party wounds incurred during the split of two years ago seem to have responded to the healing balm of practical politics, and a united party front is indicated as STAEBLER takes on Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY — his likely GOP opponent in November.

WILLIAMS

As expected, the convention strongly endorsed President JOHNSON'S Federal program. It fitted a unequivocal civil rights plank into its platform. Indeed the rights issue provided the only debate on the convention floor when proponents of a stiffening amendment won their point.

Spearheading the Democratic campaign will be the party's strong opposition to the recently-passed Massachusetts Ballot bill, under which voters will vote for each office on the ballot without the option of casting a single one-party vote.

★ ★ ★

The Dems have launched an all-out campaign to negate the law by a voter referendum, and are hot after petitionary signatures to put the issue on the November ballot.

The sense of the Democratic convention was plainly one of victory ahead, with all hands joining in a mighty push to achieve it.

Scientists Tag Man as Hybrid Specimen

It is becoming more obvious every day that people aren't people.

The first hint came when scientists decided that man was descended from the monkey. While this was perhaps not too flattering, it was accepted by man with a lighthearted attempt to laugh it off. The monkeys merely ignored it.

Now, science has gone even further in aligning man with animals. It says rather flatly that human beings share basic hereditary characteristics with all other backboned animals.

From a genetic standpoint, the scientists say, man is still most closely related to the monkeys (85 to 90 per cent). But he also has a kinship to mice, hamsters, guinea pigs, rabbits and cows that comes to about 20 to 25 per cent.

Adding it up, it seems to make man more than 100 per cent animal.

The way some of us humans carry on at times, you could hardly blame the animals if they sued the scientists for slander.

Here's a Briefing on Redistricting

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court has now taken three historic steps in two years in a field it had timidly avoided: voting in the states. The third time was Monday.

MARLOW

This is an ABC on what happened and why.

In Congress each state under the Constitution is entitled to two senators. Its size or population doesn't count. It is different with the House of Representatives. There each state is entitled to at least one representative.

But any more than that must be based on its population.

Every 10 years, after a census, the number of representatives is reapportioned among the states according to their population.

★ ★ ★

The same general idea operated in the states, or was supposed to, in picking members of their legislatures.

40 STATES

Forty state constitutions require rearranging of their legislative districts every 10 years or so.

But for generations some state legislatures ignored their constitutions.

At the beginning of the century rural areas dominated state legislatures. Then population shifted from farms to cities, but there was no redistricting.

★ ★ ★

This meant unequal representation. But the rural-controlled legislatures would not change it. Appeals were made to the Supreme Court. It ducked.

REVERSES ITSELF

In 1962, in a Tennessee case, the court reversed itself and said federal courts would step in if necessary to order redistricting.

It laid down a rule which has guided it since: one voter, one vote. Then on Feb. 17, 1964 the court stepped into state arrangements for election of representatives to Congress.

Monday the court said state senators must also be elected on a population basis.

★ ★ ★

How could the court say state senators must represent, more or less, equal number of a state's population when on the federal level each state is entitled to two U.S. senators, no matter how big or small it is, or its population?

WARREN'S REASONING

Chief Justice Earl Warren reasoned this way:

The federal system — two senators, regardless of population—was never intended to be a model for the states. This arrangement was the result of a compromise between large and small states when the country was created.

The big states, with more representatives, would have a larger voice in the House; but, to balance this off, every state was to have two senators.

★ ★ ★

But Warren said whereas each state is a so-called sovereign entity, the various subdivisions of a state can't be so considered. They are just subordinate instruments created by and within a state to carry out its functions.

LARGELY MEANINGLESS

He said the idea of equal representation in a state legislature for citizens would not mean much if it was equal in the House but unequal in the Senate.

David Lawrence Says:

High Court Oversteps Bounds

WASHINGTON — A majority of the Supreme Court of the United States has again overstepped the bounds of judicial self-restraint.

LAWRENCE

This time the court has chosen to ignore the language of the Constitution itself, which gives to the states the right to fix their own voting districts for the two houses of each legislature.

No such usurpation of power by the judicial branch of the government has been recorded before in the whole history of the republic as is being manifested by the present court.

The Supreme Court by its recent decisions has taken upon itself to tell the board of supervisors in a county how it shall tax and appropriate its money.

It, moreover, has told the American people, in effect, that there must be no prayer in the schools during school hours.

★ ★ ★

And now it has undertaken to say that the 50 states of the union cannot have their legislative houses based upon any form of representation the constitution of the state may proclaim, but must conform to a formula set forth by the Supreme Court of the United States itself.

DISSENTERS IN CASES

If the foregoing observations are considered too critical of the court's decisions, any doubts are dispelled by the actual words of the justices who dissented in the reapportionment cases handed down Monday.

Justice Harlan, for example, declared that the failure of the court to consider the language of the 14th Amendment — on which the court's opinion was based — "cannot be excused or explained by any concept of 'developing' constitutionalism."

He added:

"It is meaningless to speak of constitutional development when both the language and history of the controlling provisions of the Constitution are wholly ignored."

Justice Stewart, in a dissenting opinion in which he was joined by Justice Clark, declared:

"With all respect, I am convinced these decisions mark a long step backward into that unhappy era when a majority of the members of this court were thought by many to have convinced themselves and each other that the demands of the Constitution were to be measured not by what it says, but by their own notions of wise political theory.

AT ODDS

"The rule announced today is at odds with long-established principles of constitutional adjudication under the equal protection clause, and it stifles values of local individuality and initiative vital to the character of the federal union which it was the genius of our Constitution to create.

"What the court has done is to convert a particular political philosophy into a constitutional rule, binding upon each of the 50 states, from Maine to Hawaii, from Alaska to Texas, without regard and without respect for the many individualized and differentiated characteristics of each state, characteristics stemming from each state's distinct history, distinct geography, distinct distribution of population, and distinct political heritage.

"My own understanding of the various theories of representative government is that no one theory has ever commanded unanimous assent among political scientists, historians, or others who have considered the problem."

★ ★ ★

Thus, three justices of the Supreme Court criticized their six colleagues for having overstepped the bounds of the Constitution.

Bob Considine Says:

'Sports Day' Best Time for World's Fair Visit

NEW YORK—If you are wondering about a good day to visit the New York World's Fair, try July 6. There will be a tribute that day to the great athletes of the world.

CONSIDINE

Duke Kahanamoku, who gets to look a little more like King Kamehameha with the passing of the years, was telling us about the big day in Shor's place yesterday.

Toots, as everybody knows, played fullback on the 1932 U.S. Olympics dice team.

All the greats who can walk, toddle or fly to the fair that day will be on hand, truly a meeting of the giants of old.

Call it the relentless approach of senility, or what you will, but they just don't make 'em today like they did in the '20's and the '30s.

"Every swimming record I ever held except one has been broken," Duke told us as he stabbed at a rare old Polynesian dish called roast beef hashish.

"The only one I've still got is at some distance they don't race at any more. Three and a half yards or something like that."

★ ★ ★

We consoled him. We told him that he is one of the timeless gods of sports.

STOPS TRAFFIC

Jack Dempsey, approaching 70, still stops traffic at Times Square or Hollywood and Vine these days, whereas Cassius Clay would be just another face in the crowd.

Man O' War never ran as fast as Northern Dancer, but there's only one Man O' War.

Arnie Palmer, Tony Lema, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player turn in scores that would have dropped Bobby Jones' name out of the list of finishers.

But all of them would rather be Jones.

STILL KING

Babe Ruth is still the home-run king, not Roger Maris.

Paavo Nurmi never came really close to the 4-minute mile, but his name comes to mind much quicker than the many who have broken it since Roger Bannister pushed through.

Some of the kids in ice skating do things today that Sonja Henie might have hesitated to attempt, but nobody knows them and nobody forgets Sonja.

"Lot of the best ones are dead," Duke mused.

"I wish Jim Thorpe could be there at the Fair.

"What a man he was! We were teammates at the Stockholm Olympics . . . 1912.

"I used to help him carry his trophies back to the Finland."

Voice of the People:

'Oldsters Need Medicare, Property Tax Exemption'

I am over 65 and have been a loyal and conscientious voter for many years. I have listened to political lies and campaign promises for our senior citizens and have seen those promises fade away and die after every election—just as soon as the candidate had won and was safely on the gravy train.

★ ★ ★

And now I have quit voting until an adequate medicare program has been added to the Social Security program, and all property owners over 65 are made exempt from property tax, up to a fixed valuation.

★ ★ ★

I feel if the 16 million Social Security recipients would declare themselves in a like manner to the nation, we would have such a program enacted into law before the next national election.

'Need Religion—but in Home, Church'

There is a lot of talk about prayer and religion in public schools. Ever since the birth of this nation we have worked to keep church and state separate.

Education is built on one of two principles: evolution or creation. Evolution leads to nothingness. But a firm belief in the power of creation establishes a basic foundation upon which to build a fundamental education.

★ ★ ★

It will do no boy or girl harm to believe there is a God, but it should be taught in the home and church.

Criminals Protected

The True Magazine

We're getting to be a more gutless society all the time. Bamboozled dogooders crave to deny firearms to lawabiding sportsmen on the fantastic grounds that this would keep guns out of the hands of criminals.

Associate Justice Arthur J. Goldberg of the Supreme Court thinks that victims of assaults and robberies should get financial compensation from the government because they have been denied the protection of the law. At the same time, court decisions, some of them flowing from Mr. Goldberg's marbled workshop, have been about as helpful to law-enforcement officers as handing a squirt gun to a guy fighting off a wolf pack.

Court decisions make it nearly impossible for confessions obtained before trial to be entered as evidence. Jurists lean so far backward to protect the criminal's "rights" instead of the public's rights that they tie one arm of every cop behind his back. Kids yell, "Yah, you can't touch me—I'm a juvenile" at cops and get away with it. No wonder cynical crooks figure that crime does pay.

A law that required every judge to spend at least two years as a law-enforcement officer on the fighting front would do a lot to restore an age-old deterrent to crime: fear of certain punishment.

Opinions Galore

The Changing Times

Maybe it's only imagination, but it does seem that almost everybody these days is getting to have sure, fixed opinions on everything. At any meeting or social gathering anybody happens to attend, through newspapers, magazines, TV and radio, there's a torrent of firm opinions firmly expressed such as: absolute certainty on what to do about Cuba, teen-age morals, civil rights and public prayers. And about city planning, Chinese Reds, the teaching of English and the postal deficit. And Panama, cholesterol, the merchant marine, Zanzibar and organized baseball. Have you noticed that the most vehement opinions often come from persons who might be presumed to know the least about the subject?

Retired accountants assert ultimate truths about the medical implications of fluoridation. Doctors and dentists get even by explaining Supreme Court decisions to lawyers. We editors, of course, pontificate, any time, any place.

Of all opinions expressed, a certain percentage may be defined as being wrong. Wrong opinions may be further defined as those with which you and I don't agree. And if you and I ourselves do not agree, I'm afraid that makes your opinion wrong. Sorry, but that's the way it is.

Being wrong today is easier than it used to be. That's because there are many, many more things to be wrong about. Being wrong today may be more dangerous, too. Even fatal. These are two excellent arguments in favor of less intellectual certainty, less arrogance, a lower decibel level in the expression of opinion. It can't hurt too much for all of us to ponder this every once in a while.

Reception in U.S. Is Definitely Shabby

Whistler's Mother Now Has a Reason to Stare

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I thought they treated Whistler's Mother rather shabbily, considering all that they did for Mona Lisa.

WEST

When Mona's celebrated portrait went on display at the National Art Gallery here last year, it received the full red carpet treatment.

The unveiling took place at a glittering evening reception attended by high government officials, international cultural moguls, a band, a Marine honor guard, assorted orators and all like that.

Mona has since been returned to her permanent home in the Louvre Museum in Paris, which this week loaned the National Gallery its second most famous painting, Whistler's Mother. The contrast was shocking.

They gave Mrs. Whistler a special place in the gallery all right, but nothing like an entire wing to herself, which Mona had.

* * *

Moreover, the unveiling was held in the morning and was attended by only a couple of gallery officials, the French ambassador, a sprinkling of reporters and photographers and a few dozen tourists.

LOTS PRETTIER

Granted that Mona is lots prettier than Mrs. Whistler.

But just because the old bag had lost her looks by the time her son committed her to canvass is no reason to treat her so cavalierly.

I suppose, however, that Mrs. Whistler was accustomed to that sort of thing. Apparently her artist son was a bit of an ingrate himself.

After she went to the trouble of posing for him, thus saving him a model's fee, he had the audacity to title the painting "Arrangement In Gray and Black, No. 1."

* * *

JUSTIFIED ACT

The old lady would have been fully justified if she had belted him one across the chops.

Mona Lisa and Whistler's Mother represent two of the most intriguing enigmas in the world of art.

The questions that occur to everyone who sees the paintings are: What was Mona Lisa smiling at, and what was Whistler's Mother staring at?

Some authorities have deduced from the blank look on Mrs. Whistler's face that she was watching television.

That theory, however, overlooks that fact that television hadn't been invented in 1871 when the picture was painted.

* * *

I personally believe that the key to the mystery lies in Mrs. Whistler's eyes.

To me she appears to have been glassy eyed, which is a telltale symptom.

* * *

I strongly suspect that she had been nipping rather briskly from the cooking sherry.

* * *

Possibly her son found her in the kitchen half stoned, led her into the parlor and propped her up in a chair.

LIKELY BLACKMAIL

Then he quickly caught her image on canvass, intending to use it against her later. Any chap that would call his mother an "arrangement" would not be above a little blackmail.

Elevator Ride a Real Gasser

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — A ride in the courthouse elevator proved a tearful experience for the sheriff and his deputy.

* * *

They entered the elevator on the fourth floor to go to the basement. As the sheriff pushed the button, he accidentally fired his tear gas gun.

* * *

There was no escape until they reached the basement and dashed for the window.

Now, It's Health Insurance for Britons

LONDON (NEA) — Selling health insurance in Britain, the home of socialized medicine, would seem to be as hopeless as peddling central heating in Africa.

Not so, says W. Clement Stone, the millionaire president of a Chicago insurance company, who has just opened a branch in London.

"Britain is potentially the greatest market for accident and health insurance of them all," Stone declares.

"Its people are social security conscious. Besides, no country with a government-administered health plan can hope to offer the individual the income he really needs in time of sickness or disability."

★ ★ ★

Stone, who is the first American to invade the health insurance field here, hopes to build up an annual premium volume of $8 million within the next five years. He looks forward to seeing at least 600,000 policyholders in the British Isles by 1969.

BUILT FORTUNE

Starting life as a Chicago newsboy, Stone built $100 into a fortune, has since told others how to do the same in a book modestly entitled "The Success System That Never Fails."

Now a small, dapper man in his 50s, the Chicagoan sports a bow tie and a hair-thin moustache.

His interests range from mental telepathy to Freudian psychology, and he peppers his speech with such Rotarian aphorisms as "The people who succeed are the ones who dare."

★ ★ ★

Stone will need all the daring he can muster to make a dent in the health insurance market here, but he is not worried.

'WERE SATISFIED'

"At one time Britons were satisfied with free hospitalization and medical attention," Stone says.

"But now, thanks to affluence, they are demanding greater coverage than their government can provide.

"They need additional funds for private hospital care, and also for those little extras, such as a maid to help out after the wife has had her baby. And, what's more, they are willing to pay for it."

★ ★ ★

The insurance man's optimism is shared by his second-in-command, John R. Knapp, who is also a native of Chicago, and who arrived here to take charge of operations in Britain.

GOOD RESPONSE

"The British love us," Knapp declares, "They respond to our sales talk just like Americans, Australians or Canadians.

"One of our salesmen is already writing 160 policies a week and hopes to hit the 200 mark shortly."

Stone's sales force uses what is known as the "cold-canvass" approach, which means that the salesman, with the management's consent, sells insurance coverage directly to employes of a bank, an office or other place of business.

★ ★ ★

The policy is delivered to the individual on the spot.

Stone believes that mental telepathy is part of sales technique. "Brain waves can be measured," Stone asserts.

"The question is whether a brain wave and a thought wave are the same thing.

"A brain wave can have the effect of a machine. You can get it to turn out a light if you concentrate hard enough."

★ ★ ★

Stiff-lipped British salesmen will have to learn all about voice control if they are to succeed on Stone's staff.

TALK TRAINING

"We train our salesmen to talk loud and rapidly, to emphasize important words and, above all, to keep a smile in their voice."

They will also have to learn about PMA (positive mental attitude) and SM (self motivation).

As a reward, salesmen who attend the company sales conferences will be allowed to bring their wives. In fact, they will be expected to bring them.

★ ★ ★

"We like the wives to grow with the organization," explains Stone. "Besides, having the wives along keeps the men out of mischief," he adds, with a smile in his voice.

Compares Racket to Slavery

Priest Endorses 'Black Market Baby' Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Catholic priest said today the United States was showing an inconsistency in its antislavery stand by failing to outlaw the "black market" in babies.

The Rev. Thomas J. Reese of Wilmington, Del., in testimony prepared for the Senate Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee, endorsed a bill to make it a federal offense for unauthorized persons to profit from interstate or foreign placement of a child.

"In the 13th amendment to the Constitution, Congress abolished slavery, which involved the selling of human beings," said the priest.

"It seems inconsistent that our country should continue to permit the selling of babies which essentially is no different from slavery."

He said enactment of the bill would "help eliminate this inconsistency and provide equal protection of our Constitution to all Americans, including defenseless children who have no one to act in their behalf."

LACK STATUTE

Father Reese, who is director of a Catholic adoption agency, said that while many states have strong laws to control adoption practices, their efforts are "thwarted by the lack of a national statute that will control interstate placements of children."

Elizabeth Anglim, supervisor of a licensed adoption service in Buffalo, N.Y., said complications and heartbreak for children and their natural and adoptive parents often result from a lack of investigation and counseling in private adoptions.

But she said that a large private placement market existed in Buffalo because it was accepted by many doctors and lawyers.

* * *

Mrs. Anglim said she once telephoned a Buffalo attorney who was said to be charging large fees for adoption placements.

"He believed me to be a prospective parent and said the cost would be a minimum of $1,000," she said.

Katherine B. Oettinger, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Theresa L. Heath, a New York policewoman, told the committee yesterday of baby sales which brought sadness to some persons and huge profits to others.

Mrs. Heath cited sales in New York at prices ranging up to $5,800 for babies of prostitutes and teen-agers.

She also told of buying a baby for $3,000 in Montreal, Canada while investigating a black market ring there on request of local authorities.

Mrs. Oettinger said a Nevada investigator uncovered a ring of doctors, lawyers and housewives operating in Los Angeles and New York, selling babies born in Las Vegas.

She said one baby went to a man who had been convicted of a sexual offense involving a child.

Chrysler Buys Firm Tools; Reciprocal Deal Denied

DETROIT (UPI)—Chrysler Corp. said today it does not plan to build any engines for Studebaker Corp., even though it is buying that firm's engine-making equipment.

Chrysler will buy 1,600 machine tools from Studebaker, including the complete engine line which has been used at the South Bend, Ind., plant of Studebaker.

Asked if this meant Chrysler might build engines for Studebaker, a spokesman here replied with a flat, "No."

Byers A. Burlingame, president of Studebaker, said the sale involves only machinery and equipment and does not include any Studebaker plants in South Bend.

* * *

It was the second big deal in as many days fo, Studebaker. Burlingame announced Monday Studebaker was selling its main body plant in South Bend to the Essex Wire Corp. of Fort Wayne, Ind., for use as a big warehouse.

SOLD THREE OTHERS

The firm has sold three other properties in South Bend since it announced last December it was moving its carmaking operations to Hamilton, Ont.

Burlingame said Studebaker now has completed arrangements for its 1965 automotive engine program, but the announcement will not be made until September.

He said the firm already has produced enough engines in South Bend to meet current needs in Hamilton.

* * *

The sale price of the Chrysler agreement was not announced. The sale will be completed July 15. Chrysler said all machines are scheduled to be shipped from South Bend to Detroit by the end of the year.

After refurbishing, the equipment will be used by Chrysler in its various domestic and foreign plants, a statement said.

Johnsons at Dinner for Jackie

NEW YORK (AP)—President and Mrs. Johnson, accompanied by several Washington dignitaries, flew here Tuesday night and attended a dinner in honor of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The dinner at the St. Regis Hotel also was a tribute to New York area trustees of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library to be built near Harvard University.

* * *

Mrs. Kennedy sat next to Johnson at the dinner, attended by 200 guests and given by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith of New York City, the late president's brother-in-law and sister. Mrs. Johnson sat at another table.

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late president's mother, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, his brother, attended the dinner. The attorney general and Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, both of whom arrived at the hotel after Johnson; were cheered by the guests.

FAVORITE WORKS

Actor Fredric March and actress Florence Eldridge, his wife, read some of the late president's favorite passages from Shakespeare, Irish poetry and quotations from Kennedy's inaugural address and speeches.

Because of the press of White House business, Johnson was not sure until late Tuesday whether he could make the trip. He and his party left Washington in the presidential jet a minute before 6 p.m. Less than an hour and a half later they entered the hotel dining room. They returned to Washington early today.

Australian Minister to Leave for LBJ Talk

CANBERRA (AP) — Sir Robert Menzies, prime minister of Australia, leaves by plane Friday for Washington and talks with President Johnson.

His departure date was announced today after his doctor gave him permission to travel. Menzies, 74, has been ill with a recurrence of a stomach disorder. He had to cancel a visit to Israel, scheduled for this week.

Southern Senators Fight Near End; Expect Rights Vote Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators resume the marathon civil rights battle today amid indications that the Southern fight on the measure was nearing an end.

In a 13-hour session Tuesday running until midnight, the Senate broke all records in the memory of Capitol Hill veterans by taking 34 roll call votes, 33 of them to knock down amendments to the bill.

★ ★ ★

More of the same was in prospect today but leaders were cautiously confident that the Dixie contingent would offer only about 20 more amendments.

★ ★ ★

If this proves to be correct, they said, the Senate will not run so late tonight, and Thursday will be wholly devoted to a last round of speeches on the measure, mostly from its foes.

VOTE FRIDAY

This would mean the final vote to pass the measure and send it back to the house in revised form would come on Friday, possibly early in the day.

The biggest final hurdle is Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who already has offered 20 amendments unsuccessfully and told a reporter he may bring in 16 more.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who has called up 23 amendments, said he might have a few more.

There were clear signs of a split in Southern ranks on the strategy to be followed.

SEES NO PURPOSE

Several said privately they saw no purpose in offering a wholesale number of amendments, many of them exceedingly minor, only to have them swamped by overwhelming votes. They said they planned to use their remaining time for speeches against the bill in the final passage debate.

All Southerners have retained at least a part of the hour allowed them under the cloture rule invoked a week ago today by the Senate to end the Dixie filibuster.

★ ★ ★

Ervin has used the most time of any senator; he has only 10 minutes left. Thurmond still has 39. Sens. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., still have their full hour.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the Southern leader, has proposed only two amendments to the bill and said he would have no more.

He left the Senate Tuesday night and missed several votes, as did Byrd, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D - Ark., and Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

Some Republicans complained about the late session, declaring that the leaders were turning the fight over the bill into "an endurance contest."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, told newsmen, that efforts to win an informal agreement to shut off the Southern amendments had failed.

"All we can do is sit here and grind through them," he said.

Network Veep Dies; Had Worked in State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gayle Grubb, general manager of radio station KGO and an American Broadcasting Co. vice president, died Tuesday at his home. He was 68.

Grubb was associated with radio and television stations in Oklahoma and Michigan before coming to San Francisco in 1956.

Sault's Port Captain Shifted to California

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— The U. S. Coast Guard Tuesday announced the transfer of Capt. Gene R. Gislasson, captain of the port of Sault Ste. Marie since August, 1961, to San Francisco.

He will take up duties July 31 as San Francisco port captain.

Political Friends Tell Barry 'Yes' Vote Will Aid Cause

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of Sen. Goldwater's best political friends are urging him to vote for Senate passage of the revised civil rights bill.

Because he previously opposed limitation of debate and has voted against provisions to eliminate discrimination in employment and public accommodations, they argue that final support of the measure would not cost him the "substantial support in the South" he said Tuesday the Republican party must have to win in November.

★ ★ ★

Further, they contend that a "yea" vote on passage would take most of the steam out of the drive of party moderates behind Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's effort to keep Goldwater from getting the GOP presidential nomination.

The Arizona senator picked up Texas' 56 convention votes Tuesday and pushed his publicly committed total to 674. That is 19 more than the 655 needed for the nomination.

VANTAGE POINT

From that vantage point he was reported weighing the vote-for-the-bill advice against that of those in his camp who believe he would appear vacillating if he did not line up finally with opponents of the measure.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater has kept his intentions so well guarded that Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told a news conference he "wouldn't dare to make an assumption" on how his colleague would vote.

★ ★ ★

In response to questions, Dirksen declined publicly to speculate on the effect of either an affirmative or negative vote on the chances for the senator's nomination or on the party platform.

Dirksen, a supporter of the civil rights bill, heads an Illinois delegation that Goldwater's campaign managers claim will give 43 of its 58 votes to the Arizonan.

MAKE IT EASIER

The Illinois senator is known to feel that Goldwater could take some of the opposition pressure off himself and make things easier for platform drafters if he would support the measure.

This belief obviously was shared by Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee.

★ ★ ★

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in New York that if Goldwater votes against the measure "it would be difficult for the Republican party to write a civil rights plank for a candidate who has voted against a bill supported by the overwhelming majority of Republican senators and representatives."

Virginia Area Ends School Racial Bias

RICHMOND Va. (AP)—Giles County next fall will become the first Virginia locality to eliminate segregated schools.

The State Pupil Placement Board Tuesday assigned all 131 Negro pupils in the county to two white schools. The county school board had planned to close the two Negro schools. Giles has a total school enrollment of about 4,500.

★ ★ ★

The placement board also assigned about 410 other Negro pupils to all-white or predominantly white schools in Virginia. The assignments will mean the first school desegregation in 11 localities.

4 Women Named to United Fund Campaign Posts

MRS. DAVID SAKS

Four area women have been named to top campaign positions for the 1964 Pontiac Area United Fund.

Mrs. Merrill Petrie, women's campaign chairman, has appointed Mrs. David Saks, Pontiac; Mrs. Adrian Ish, Waterford; Mrs. Floyd Foren, Lake Angelus; and Mrs. James H. Cowen, Independence Township, to head the fund raising drive in their respective areas.

These women will secure area and district chairmen and assist Mrs. Petrie in numerous planning and training meetings during the next few months.

★ ★ ★

Some 1300 housewives are to be recruited to raise funds for the 55 Pontiac Area United Fund community service agencies supported by the drive.

★ ★ ★

Last year the women exceeded their quota, collecting 113 per cent of the expected funds.

All of the area chairmen are experienced volunteer workers.

MRS. SAKS

Mrs. David Saks has been an active volunteer for 22 years.

Before moving to Pontiac, she did volunteer work in Detroit for the American Red Cross, the Detroit Area United Fund and the Detroit Medical Aid Guild.

She was chairman of the Pontiac Centennial international day tea, chairman of the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs international bazaar and is newly elected vice-president of the Federation.

She is also a member of the Institute of Organizational Leadership of Oakland University.

MRS. ISH

A past United Fund worker, Mrs. Adrian Ish is a member and past president of Zonta club of Pontiac, board member of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, treasurer of the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs and past chief of Pythian Sisters.

A former member of the board of directors of the Pontiac YWCA, she is now employed as a Y bookkeeper.

Well acquainted with United Fund work Mrs. Floyd Foren, mother of four, held the same post in 1960 and has been active as a United Fund campaigner.

★ ★ ★

She is a member of the Tuesday Musicale and Lake Angelus Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

MRS. COWEN

Mrs. James Cowen has been both a United Fund solicitor and district chairman before being selected to head the Independence Township women's campaign.

Mother of three, she is a member of the Clarkston Child Study Club, Saturday Night Dance Club and PTA.

MRS. ADRIAN ISH

MRS. FLOYD FOREN

Earlier Graduates Will Gather for Reunion

Cranbrook School's annual alumni cocktail party will be held Saturday from 4 to 7 p.m. at Cranbrook House on Lone Pine Road.

★ ★ ★

Special guests at the festivities will be members of Cranbrook's class of 1939, gathering for their 25th reunion, and the alumnae of Kingswood, Cranbrook's sister school.

Allan Warner, class of 1946, is committee chairman for the party. He is being assisted by Tony Underhill, Bill Howlett, Jerry John and Cynthia Ballantyne.

Arranging the 1939 reunion are Don Harness, assisted by Bob Seiler and Bill Douglas.

Some 20 members of the class are expected to attend the party, have dinner at headmaster Harry D. Hoey's home and complete the evening with an afterglow party at the Harness home in Birmingham.

WCTU Banquet Program Hears State President

Mrs. L. G. Rowley, state Women's Christian Temperance Union president, was keynote speaker at the recent banquet and program for the Frances Willard union in the Church of the Brethren.

Guests were present from the six Pontiac unions and from Drayton Plains and Royal Oak unions.

Mrs. Nellie Monroe, past president of the Pontiac WCTU federation, spoke on the problems now facing students in high school and college.

Also included in the program were Mrs. LeRoy Shaffer, current president; Rev. Shafer Rev. Mrs. Lola P. Marion, Mrs. Sadie Patten, first president of the federation; and Wesley Harris.

Minstrels to Sing

An afternoon concert of folk music will be presented by the Marsh Family Minstrels on Sunday, June 21, at 4 p.m. The concert will be held at the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater on West Long Lake Road.

There is an admission charge. For information call Will-o-Way.

Child Study Club Sees Fare Party

A food demonstration, titled "The Party Scene," in the Consumers Power Company auditorium closed the season Monday for the Waterford Child Study Club.

★ ★ ★

Following the lecture in the Trend Kitchen, Harriet Cannon and Barbara Zimmerman, home service advisers served the party fare to the audience.

Bride's Father Performs Baptist Church Marriage

Wed at a recent ceremony in the Walton Missionary Baptist Church were Shirley Ann Walden and Bill G. Morgan.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Walden of Marston Street are the parents of the bride.

For the afternoon ceremony the bride wore a street length gown with a nylon taffeta skirt and Chantilly lace bodice. Her fingertip veil, fell from a pearl crown.

★ ★ ★

She carried white carnations on a Bible.

Faye Earls of Clarkston was maid of honor.

★ ★ ★

George Morgan performed the duties of best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. John Morgan of Oak Park Road, Independence Township, and the late Mr. Morgan.

★ ★ ★

The couple is honeymooning in the Southern states and will be residing in Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Walden officiated at the marriage of his daughter.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Berghoff, Cincinnati, Ohio, (Juanita Martin Christie) announce the birth of a son, William G. Jr., on June 14. Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Christie of Bloomfield Hills are the maternal grandparents.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Moloney, Colonial Trail, will entertain at an open house Saturday from 3 to 10 p.m. The former Bonnee Ellen Rosser and her husband who were married May 28 have returned from a western honeymoon.

Jump Feet First Into Fashion—Splash!

The biggest fashion splash a lot of women are going to make this summer is going to be accomplished feet first.

★ ★ ★

Patent is having its shining hour and the shine is reflected in a rainbow of colors.

★ ★ ★

In addition to black and white patent leather which have long signaled the advent of spring, there are literally dozens of different shades of patent leather.

There are shockingly vivid colors like kelly green, deep blue and ripe cherry. There are also ladylike pastels that vie with early spring flowers for ground level beauty.

COMBINATIONS

Patent is also making a fashion hit this year teamed with another leather or with checked gingham as shown here.

★ ★ ★

Also high on the list of comfortable fashions for those human propellers — the feet — is a walking shoe of real cobra that rides high at the instep, wide open at the back.

It sits atop an hourglass heel and is available in six shades as well as black.

★ ★ ★

The look that is causing excitement everywhere in the spring and summer collections is the opened up look of lightness.

★ ★ ★

Dipped sides, opened shanks and backs, shelled out shapes, plunging throatlines, have appeared in other seasons, but never with such eye catching variety and never with such an absolute air of rightness.

DELICATE LOOK

Latticework is back. Lacy looking and delicate, the shoe is built for comfort and durability.

★ ★ ★

If there is one rigid requirement for this season it is that all parts of a shoe must contribute to the look of lightness. Within this framework it is recognized that it must be the single segment, that makes fashion run.

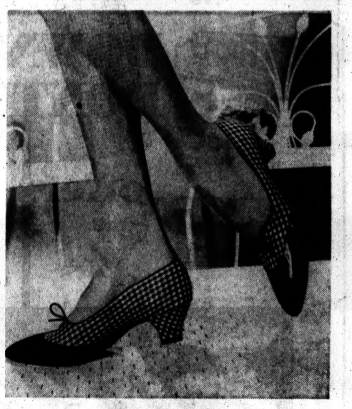
★ ★ ★

And fashion is running to the lowered heel.

No matter how you put your best fashion feet first, they will be in shoes that are light, airy, comfortable and good looking.

★ ★ ★

Foot fashion this year was designed with women in mind.



The exclamation for a simple black summer dress—a tie of black and white gingham and patent leather. By Mademoiselle for $28.

DeLiso debs' "Puppet" is a souffle cut out for the new lacy look. The coolest pump afoot in a rainbow choice of colors, it is now available locally.

Cobra rides high this spring in A.S. Beck's genuine leather model that features new low hourglass heel. Coquette colors blend with or complement every spring hue—platinum, red, pink, pastel blue, poison green, tan and black. About $7.99.

Make Him See the Light

Father's Really in Dark

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please explain this one. My father is 42, a college graduate and has been in business for 27 years.

ABBY

We live in a $55,000 home in the suburbs. Since President Johnson started turning off the lights in the White House, my father has gone on an economy kick with our lights at home.

When we leave the house all the lights are turned out, and when we come back it is so dark we can hardly see our way into the driveway.

If one of us leaves a room for even five mintes, if we do not turn off the light we hear about it.

We are allowed to burn a light only in the room where we are, and we have to go feeling our way around the house.

I believe in being conservative — but this is ridiculous. What to do?

IN DARKNESS

DEAR IN: Your father can't be in the insurance business or he would know that a house in total darkness is a burglar's dream.

And a well-lighted home is good accident insurance.

Better to enlighten ONE father than to curse the darkness.

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of which in the bird kingdom is the more beautiful, the male or the female:

In southwestern Canada you will find the PHALAROPE. The male is dull and rather colorless, but the female has beautiful, brilliant feathers and a white rump.

The female does the courting, lays the eggs and then she departs to find herself another mate while the abandoned male is left sitting on the eggs.

C. R. M.

* * *

DEAR C. R. M.: I am familiar with the bird. We have a lot of them out here in Southern California.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to that question, "Do blondes have more fun?" I happen to know a married man in the neighborhood who has a blonde wife.

He is bald, and I can tell you for certain that HE has more fun than SHE does. Sincerely yours,

TWENTY-TWENTY VISION

'Right Person' Is Key to Sharing Home

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am writing to ask if you would give me some pointers in regards to sharing my home with another lady.

She would have her own room, share the bath and I would like her to feel free to use the other rooms.

MARY FEELEY

I am working, and would prefer someone who worked also.

Since I do not prepare large meals too often during the week, I am wondering whether I should include meals or not.

Perhaps you would tell me what would be a reasonable amount to charge. I am wondering, too, about the housework, laundry, etc. Also, if you do not think this is such a good plan, kindly counsel me.

Miss J., Beloit, Wis.

Dear Miss J.:

I think it could very well be an excellent plan — but only if you find the right person.

Sharing your home is a different proposition from simply renting a room. Unless the two of you are congenial the house will get smaller and smaller!

The amount you charge should be governed by the going rate in your locality — check the rental ads in your newspaper for a general idea — and by your own estimate of how much it will take to cover the cost of having someone in your home and still leave you a profit.

Perhaps you'd find it more practical simply to offer kitchen privileges so that your tenant could fix her own meals.

Then you wouldn't be burdened with food like and dislikes contrary to your own, plus extra food shopping.

EAT TOGETHER

You could still have your meals together and enjoy the companionship.

How about $7 to $12 a week? Of course, you couldn't pay for part-time help with cleaning and laundry at this amount and come out ahead. But leave that for discussion when you've found the right tenant.

Incidentally, it's not a bad idea to keep some angle open for discussion. It makes it much easier to discourage a prospect you don't like! You can always set the final price too high!

Jeromes of West Iroquois Road, she leaves Thursday for a four-week tour of Europe. Eleven countries are on her itinerary. She will teach in California.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have several series "E" bonds which I am keeping in my box for my children, since I do not need them now.

Some are 10 years old or more. Am I wise in just keeping them there?

When are they taxable? When and how does the interest accrue?

I shall appreciate any suggestions you can give me.

Mrs. R.K., Oak Park, Ill.

Dear Mrs. K.:

"E" bonds, unlike some other issues, continue to earn interest at the rate of 3¾ per cent.

Since these bonds are for the benefit of your children, it seems sensible to leave them alone for the present and let them continue to earn interest.

You do not have to declare the interest earned on your income tax report from year to year.

The bonds are taxable only when they are cashed. Since the tax will be only a percentage of the earnings, the children will still be ahead financially.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Reunion Held at Breakfast

The 27th annual reunion breakfast of the Teacher's Exchange club was held recently at Ted's Restaurant.

★ ★ ★

Charter members attending the breakfast were Mrs. James Morse, first president of the organization, Mrs. Louis Flint, Mrs. Oscar Forslund, Mrs. H. Erwin Gottschalk and Mrs. William Scotts.

Coming from out of town were former members, Mrs. Maynard Beattie, Lapeer; Mrs. Leonard Fyfe, Birmingham; Mrs. Archie Leonard, St. Cloud, Fla.; and Mrs. William Shotka, Troy.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mary Wagner accepted the president's gavel from outgoing president Mrs. Norris Smith.

Founded in 1937, the club centers its program each year on some needed philanthropic project related to education.

Summer Suits Suit Summer

There's a plethora of air-cooled cotton suits ready for warm weather wear.

Jackets vary in length from waist level to below the hips, and range in fit from tailor trim to boxy.

Still a front runner: the shaped bosom, eased back jacket with small, notched collar.

New York Is Destination of Newlyweds

After exchanging vows and receiving guests in the First Presbyterian Church, Mr. and Mrs. Clark F. Rehberg II left for a New York City honeymoon.

Parents of the former Barbara Jean Bell are the Earl W. Bells of Sharon Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clark F. Rehberg of Ypsilanti and the late Mr. Rehberg.

A silk illusion veil with jeweled crown complemented the bride's gown of white silk organza and Alencon lace over taffeta. White orchids, Stephanotis and ivy rested on her small white Bible.

Honor attendant at the recent ceremony performed by Rev. Galen E. Hershey, was Suzanne Broders, with bridesmaids Sharon Bell and Ruth Ann Rehberg.

Alfred Kinter, Ypsilanti, was best man, and ushers Gary Bell and Donald Butler of Milan.

The new Mrs. Rehberg was graduated from Cleary College. Her husband attends Eastern Michigan University. They will live in Ann Arbor.

Wash, Wear Shoe Fabric

Women who like the easy upkeep of wash-wear wardrobes now have another treat in store.

It is the man-made material just developed for shoe uppers in a myraid of colors and styles—including velvety naps.

These "Corfam" uppers will dry as soft and pliable as ever, after being doused by rain — and without fading or water-spotting.

Any soil can be sponged off with thick soap or detergent suds followed by rinse-wiping with a clean cloth.

Use a rubber spatula when feeding nuts into a meat grinder and you will protect your hands.

The Charles H. Petersons of North Marshall Street announce the engagement of their daughter Alice Carrie to James Alan Heisler, son of Mrs. Ervin Atwell of Lehigh Street and Harold R. Heisler of Lake Orion. The bride-elect attends Taylor University.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: I just finished making a dress that had a band about 2 inches wide set into the neckline. Try as I could, and ripping many times, I couldn't get this band to look even. In desperation, I finished the dress and wear a scarf at the neck to cover up my botch. What in the world can I do to help get this even the next time if I ever get the courage to try again?

Mrs. J. W.

★ ★ ★

Since you are sewing a circle rather than a straight seam, I'll agree with you, it's a pretty difficult detail to achieve. Since this is a type of detail that can make or break the garment, it must be perfectly even.

I would suggest that after you have joined one part of this detail to your garment, don't automatically take the ⅝ seam allowance on the other side.

Instead, measure and mark your seamline by measuring the width of the detail. In some cases, your seamline might be a little smaller or larger than the ⅝ inch.

However, the important decision to make here is that the trim or detail must be the same exact width all around.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

"Here's a suggestion for sewing mothers with growing girls. Since the A-line or flared skirt has become so popular, even for the young girls, the problem of letting down those hems is a little more complicated.

"The next dress or skirt you make, stitch an extra 4 or 5 inches of seam tape at the hem. When you need to let down that hem, you have plenty of tape to match, all in one piece. Saves time and money!"

Mrs. Bill Beeler, Van Meter, Iowa, is this week's winner for a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this suggestion.

Dear Eunice Farmer: I recently made corduroy drapes for my son's room. I bought the exact amount that was needed according to the sales girl, and yet, when I tore the material for each drape, I came up with the last drape lacking a few inches. I was lucky because I could match the material, but why didn't they tell me to get extra material when I bought it?

Mrs. J. D. W.

I think the salesperson was in error here, when you are making many pairs of drapes, you should allow a couple inches extra for each pair? When you tear the fabric, instead of cutting it with a scissors, you will lose a little each time you tear the fabric.

An extra half yard wouldn't add much extra cost to the overall picture and could easily save a catastrophe!

GAY COVER

Have you ever struggled to keep those glass-top tables clean, especially the ones you will be using this summer on your patios? Here's how to make a gay cover that will brighten up your porch or patio and save you hours of shining. It can be made with or without an opening for the umbrella in the center.

Use any colorful plastic coated fabric. Cut a circle the size of the table, plus ½ inch around the edges for a seam. Cut a straight strip of fabric about 5 inches wide for the apron or drop around the edges.

Pin this extra strip to the outer edges of the circle, leaving open where the ends join if making for an umbrella table. Continue the opening to the center of the table to slip around the umbrella, also cut a small circle at the center.

★ ★ ★

Bind the seams with a contrasting color (you can leave the raw edges of the binding, it won't ravel). Continue the binding up the cut edge. You may bind the lower edge as well, or add ball or brush fringe instead.

Measure the opening and insert a separating type slide fastener. The whole operation only takes a few minutes and makes a perfect "thank-you gift" for your friends as well as something you'll love for yourself.

Mrs. L. S. says: Pressing a pattern lightly with a warm (not hot) iron, will make it cling to the fabric and you can eliminate many pins. This prolongs the life of the pattern and saves lots of time.

Arlene Elizabeth Tribble, daughter of the Harry H. Tribbles of White Lake Township and Louis Lee Smith, son of the Hubert Smiths of Highland, exchanged recent vows in the Commerce Methodist Church.

MRS. LOUIS LEE SMITH

Area Couple Is Wed

United by Candlelight

The Commerce Methodist Church was the setting for the recent candlelight vows of Arleen Elizabeth Tribble to Louis Lee Smith.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are the Harry H. Tribbles of Porter Road, White Lake Township, and the Hubert Smiths of Highland.

★ ★ ★

The bride's gown of white Rochelle lace over taffeta was styled with basque bodice and tiered skirt which swept into a chapel train. A lace cap with organdy bows caught her illusion veil. Her bouquet was red roses.

THREE ATTENDANTS

With honor matron, Mrs. Robert Evans, White Lake Township, were bridesmaids Patricia Tylor of Milford and Sherry Smith of Highland.

★ ★ ★

Best man was Ronald Cohoon of White Lake Township. Guests at the ceremony performed by Rev. G. McDonald Jones were seated by Rodney Wilson and Garry Pollock.

After the church reception the couple left for a honeymoon in Canada. They will be at home on Suffolk Street.

The bride is a graduate of Ferris State College.

Easy Ironing

Remove sheets and pillow cases from your automatic dryer while still damp. Fold smooth and place on top of the dryer. The slight warmth will finish drying them and they will look as though they had been ironed.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Azoian of Dwight Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Sandra Lee to Carl Duane Hutchinson, son of Mrs. Clyde Hensey of M15, and Robert Hutchinson of Corunna Street, both of Independence Township.

Fluorescent Is the Best

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — For women who want to apply makeup and have it look right in daylight, Elizabeth Meehan, residential lighting consultant for Sylvania, has the answer.

She says natural white fluorescent has the closest balance to daylight — better than other types of bulbs or other colors. And for goodness sake, Miss Meehan says, don't use candlelight.

Conditioners Clean Berries

To remove soil, sprays and fertilizers from fresh strawberries, add one tablespoon water conditioner to a gallon of cold water. Soak berries five minutes; follow with a plain water rinse.

Do not remove stems until after washing — the berries will lose less juice. This same soak-cleaning trick will make short work of cleaning salad greens and vegetables too.

Governor's Confab Boosts UP Business Assets

MARQUETTE (AP) — Upper Peninsula boosters and Gov. George W. Romney today loosed the "hard sell" on 300 visiting businessmen at a conference promoting the Northland's business and industrial potential.

* * *

"Nothing exactly like this has ever been attempted here," said Bernard Conboy, head of the State Economic Expansion Department and one of the planners of the two-day governor's conference starting today.

"We've had a wonderful response from throughout the country, especially in America's industrial belt," Conboy said, "and everyone who comes will be met with a specific proposition for doing business in the peninsula."

Romney, who sent out the personal invitations to the businessmen and industrialists throughout the nation, will deliver a keynote address at today's luncheon on the Northern Michigan University campus.

CLOSING ADDRESS

The governor's schedule calls for him to deliver the closing address Thursday, but an aide said it is possible Romney will have to return to Lansing if there is an important development in the legislative apportionment crisis.

The affair here, called "Governor's Conference on Economic Opportunity in Michigan's Upper Peninsula," is the eleventh in a series of meetings which seek greater public participation in solving state problems.

Other conferences have dealt with such problems as juvenile delinquency, water pollution, traffic fatalities and law enforcement.

Today, the visitors will be briefed on opportunities in agriculture, mining, manufacturing, service industries, tourism and lumbering. Smaller panel discussions on the same program are on Thursday's agenda.

LOOSE SCHEDULE

Conboy said the schedule has been kept loose to allow Upper Peninsula people to buttonhole the visitors, much the way lobbyists contact legislators, for private discussions on particular business deals.

* * *

"This is not just talking things over," Conboy said. "We're playing on the law of probability. With so many outside businessmen and so many propositions, we expect something definite and substantial to result."

The visitors will get the general pitch for the area: They'll be reminded that the peninsula lies in the continent's heartland and has developed transportation, limitless water supply, and available manpower, much of it already skilled in several industries.

This has been done before. It is the dollars-and-cents talk, the hundreds of face-to-face fact sessions about specific factories, mines, crops of tourist attractions that make the current session unique.

TODAY'S PRESENTATIONS

Glenn Lake, Detroit, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, is to deliver today's presentation on agriculture.

Robert Losse, vice president of Harnischfeger Corp., Milwaukee, will address the session on manufacturing and construction.

Stanley Sundeen, an executive of Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., will speak on mining and quarrying.

Board chairman J. H. Warden of the Upper Peninsula Power Co., Houghton, will speak on services; Harold Dettman of St. Ignace on tourism, and Lynn Sandberg, forest manager for Celotex Corp., L'Anse, on wood industries.

The specific propositions made to the visitors are expected to stimulate the general discussions, Conboy said, meaning the biproduct of the individual sales pitches will be a useable educational conference for all involved, including the hosts.

Capital expenditures for new highway improvements will exceed $8 billion compared to $7.83 billion last year, Rep. Frank M. Clark of Pennsylvania recently reported in the House.

Red Battalion Hits Outpost

Viet Cong Kill Before Withdrawing

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Communist Viet Cong battalion backed by mortars attacked a big government outpost 15 miles west of Saigon early today but was thrown back, an American military spokesman reported.

Nineteen guerrillas and six government troops were killed during the attack on Duc Hoa, the spokesman said. Thirty-six of the defenders were reported wounded.

* * *

The Viet Cong withdrew from the region at dawn. A government force was sent after them.

AFTER LULL

The Viet Cong attack came after a month of comparative lull in the Vietnamese war. The sounds and flashes of artillery fire could be heard and seen by Saigon residents before dawn.

A Ministry of Defense spokesman said the Communists were repelled after three hours of fierce fighting.

STOPPED BY RANGERS

The Viet Cong overran the district police headquarters on the outskirts of Duc Hoa but were stopped short of the military headquarters by a company of Vietnamese Rangers.

The Viet Cong assault was preceded by heavy shellfire, a Defense Ministry spokesman reported.

TIME FOR A NEW LOOK AT FIRE & CASUALTY INSURERS

Relative to most common stock groups, the fire and casualty insurance stocks generally appear to offer better investment opportunities now than at any time in the past year or more. So states our June Monthly Letter, which closely examines this steadily growing industry. For 1964 and the years ahead we anticipate significantly better underwriting results for fire and casualty insurance companies, further increases in underwriting profit margins, and continued gains in net investment income. Included in the Letter is a comprehensive table presenting market and operating data for 13 fire and casualty insurance companies. We recommend four stocks for purchase now. Yields on these stocks range from 2.2% to 4.5%. Two of these issues are selling substantially below their liquidating value. For your free copy of this Monthly Letter, available to investors, simply fill out and mail this advertisement.

St. Augustine's Racial Strife Is Ruining Tourist Business

(Editor's Note — St. Augustine, Fla., oldest city in America, is caught up in a modern social upheaval, the racial issue. Here is a report on its effects and the prospects for settlement.)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Tourists strolling through the fortress of Castille de San Marco overlooking the Matanzas River might visualize sieges mounted against its sloping gray walls more than three centuries ago.

Today the old fort is only a tourist attraction. The city is under siege by a nonviolent army trying to breach the walls of segregation.

AP Photofax

CARRIAGE CASE — Driver of a surrey with a fringe on top — a vehicle used to carry tourists about St. Augustine, Fla. — was taken into custody yesterday after a group of Negro integrationists rode in the carriage to a restaurant in downtown section.

Racial feelings are running high. Business is running low.

Colorful horse-drawn carriages that carry tourists along the narrow streets stand idle much of the day. A downtown park with its old slave market, and other attractions draw fewer and fewer sightseers.

MUCH VIOLENCE

Since integration demonstrations started nearly a year ago, violence and death have followed. A white man driving through a Negro section with a shotgun between his legs was shot to death last September.

Last week, gangs of white toughs attacked Negro and white integrationists in the streets.

* * *

Prospects of a peaceful settlement are uncertain. A grand jury in special session is hunting the answer.

The drive against segregation begun in July 1963, under direction of the St. Augustine chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

4 BEATEN

In September, four Negro integration leaders ventured near a Ku Klux Klan rally and were beaten.

Things quieted until last March, when a new surge of demonstrations landed Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, mother of Gov. Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts, in jail for taking part in a restaurant sit-in.

* * *

Two weeks ago a massive drive was launched by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and his Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Nearly 200 persons have gone to jail since then for trying to eat at segregated lunch counters and restaurants. There have been almost daily or nightly marches.

WHITES REACT

White segregationists, urged on by Klan attorney J. B. Stoner of Atlanta, began countermarches through a Negro section last Friday night.

Attacks by white gangs on integrationist marchers brought tougher police policy. Gov. Farris Bryant assigned state police to enforce the law in this city of 15,000.

* * *

Tourists no longer are flocking to St. Augustine, which relies heavily on tourism. Several sources estimate losses in the millions.

Said Sheriff L. O. Davis: "They (integrationists) are ruining the town. People are writing from all over the country to cancel reservations in hotels."

BIG DROP

One gauge of tourist trade, the old fort, reported a 30 per cent drop in the number of visitors during the first 15 days of June compared to the corresponding period last year.

At the Chamber of Commerce information center, visitors are running 50 per cent below last year. Variety stores and other businesses are suffering. A camera shop reported business off 75 per cent; a bartender said his sales went down $600 last week.

* * *

While the grand jury searches for a way to restore harmony, some businessmen also are trying to effect biracial negotiations.

One businessman said a biracial group probably would be set up and that businesses would be asked to agree to abide by the federal civil rights bill when and if it becomes law.

PROGRESS SEEN

King's special assistant, Harry Boyt of Atlanta, said he believed progress was being made. One drawback has been the violent reaction to desegregation—broken windows and threats.

White segregationist Holsted Manucy, a brickmason, told newsmen any business desegregating would be ostracized.

* * *

A white waitress told of several Negroes eating in a restaurant.

"Later," she said, "the waitress who served them got a telephone threat. When another group of Negroes came in none of the waitresses would serve them. They were afraid."

Greeks Vote Down Probe of Ex-Chief

ATHENS (AP)—A left-wing proposal to investigate the property purchases of former Premier Constantine Caramanlis and his relatives was voted down in a shouting, fist-waving session of the Greek Parliament today.

Deputies almost came to blows before the vote, in which Premier George Papandreou's ruling Center Union party carried the day for Caramanlis.

Multimillion-Dollar Ring

Latin ExAides Convicted in Dope Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Mexican ambassador to Bolivia, an ex-employe of the Uruguayan Foreign Ministry and a Frenchman have been convicted in a multimillion-dollar narcotics case.

A U.S. District Court jury Tuesday night found the three men guilty of possessing narcotics and conspiring to bring them into the United States.

* * *

Those convicted are Salvador Pardo Bolland, 64, the former diplomat; Juan Aritzi, 64, formerly of Uruguay; and Rene Bruchon, 50, of Marseille.

They could get up to 20 years in prison and fines of $20,000.

U.S. authorities accused them of conspiracy to illegally transport and receive narcotics estimated to be worth between $13½ million and $25 million in the illicit market.

COSA NOSTRA

When they were arrested here last Feb. 21, as a result of a trap laid by Canadian police, federal agents said the arrests had broken an international narcotics ring that had a "definite link with the Cosa Nostra," the organized underworld.

Canadian police said they found 134 pounds of heroin in suitcases in railroad station lockers at Montreal. They substituted flour for all but two pounds of the heroin.

* * *

Aritzi allegedly picked up the suitcases in Montreal and carried them by train to New York City. They were found in lockers in Pennsylvania Station.

Pardo Bolland, who had flown here from Paris, and Aritzi were arrested together in a New York City hotel room. Narcotics agents arrested Bruchon on a Manhattan street and said they found checks for the suitcases in his possession.

FIRED AFTERWARDS

The Mexican government termed Pardo Bolland's involvement in the case "a very dishonorable and painful thing" and fired him shortly after his arrest.

* * *

Aritzi, according to the Uruguayan government, had resigned as a Foreign Ministry employe and at the time the narcotics case was broken he had been in Canada as a private citizen. Bruchon had been reported from the United States on a charge of smuggling 24 pounds of heroin into this country.

Spanish War Veterans Elect New Commander

KALAMAZOO (AP) — United Spanish War Veterans of Michigan elected Royal Peters of Detroit as commander in closing their 61st state encampment here Tuesday. He succeeds Guy W. Graham of Kalamazoo.

The 22 veterans who attended the encampment re-elected Andrew J. Bradley of Muskegon adjutant-quartermaster.

Africa Leader Discounts Reds

Zanzibari Reports 'All Work Together'

ZANZIBAR (AP)— President Abeid Karume of Zanzibar today discounted possibility of a Communist takeover on his East African island, saying numerous Russians, Chinese and East Germans are here only to assist his government.

"The people of Zanzibar are not Communists and they do not want communism here," said Karume in an interview.

★ ★ ★

Asked whether some of his ministers were Communists, the president replied: "What are one or two men? I have the power and I have my own eyes and ears.

DON'T BELIEVE

"We do not believe in communism, but after our January revolution the Communist countries sent us aid when the Western countries abandoned us. We do not want them to go away when they are helping us."

★ ★ ★

Karume, 59, seemed immensely pleased by a U.S. offer to build a school in Zanzibar.

"We welcome help from everyone," he said. "British, or American, all are welcome."

TO 'TAKE ACTION'

The president said he planned to "take action to remedy the situation" on Pemba, Zanzibar's satellite island where a Communist area commissioner, Dira Hassan, reportedly rules. Forced labor and mass beatings have been reported.

★ ★ ★

"I am going to send good men to Pemba," said Karume, who has not visited the island 30 miles to the northeast since he became president in January. Pemba's production of cloves, the twin islands' major export, exceeds Zanzibar's. Its population is slightly smaller.

CONFIDENT OF LOYALTY

Karume said he is confident of the loyalty of Zanzibar's Soviet-equipped People's Liberation Army. He discounted suggestions Communist officers had infiltrated it.

★ ★ ★

They are all Zanzibaris, be they Arab, Indian or African, Karume said. "The army is like Zanzibar—everyone must work together."

British Call Home Chief on Cyprus

LONDON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Mike Carver, British deputy commander of the United Nations force in Cyprus, is returning home next month with 300 men of his headquarters staff.

The defense ministry, in making the announcement, indicated it had no plans to replace Carver in his United Nations post.

Brig. C. H. Blacker, commanding British forces in the Radfan area of Southern Arabia, will replace Carver as deputy commander of British troops in Cyprus.

A new sonar system operates 20,000 feet under the sea by bouncing a beam of high-frequency sound waves against the ocean bottom.

In Cass County

Monster Is 'Missing'

SISTER LAKES (UPI) — The "Monster of Sister Lakes" apparently has wandered off to haunt new pastures.

The Cass County sheriff's department has received no new reports of the monster being spotted in the area since last week when three girls saw the hairy creature, nine feet tall and with a black face, staring at them. One of the girls fainted.

"We're hoping whatever it was has left," a deputy said.

The monster, which authorities believe was a black bear attracted to the lush huckleberry country around this Southwestern Michigan resort, had some local residents frightened and attracted curiosity seekers from miles around.

★ ★ ★

Some said it weighed about 500 pounds and had a human-like face, leading to speculation that it was an escaped circus gorilla.

BIG BEAR?

However, there were no reports of escaped gorillas. Others said it resembled a big bear.

Merchants, at first hesitant about the "monster's" value, later began to capitalize on its publicity value.

Several restaurants offered "monsterburgers" and "monster specials," and a theater at nearby Dowagiac staged a horror double feature.

Peaceable Politics the Word in Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Every Kentucky governor, the members of his cabinet, and all state legislators must take the following oath:

Dane Talks With K Called Political, Likely on Trade, Culture

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag motored to a country manor outside Copenhagen today for talks that were billed as political but that probably dealt mostly with trade and cultural relations between their nations.

Khrushchev drove through a gentle rain to the Danish government's Marienbrog estate nine miles north of Copenhagen. The Soviet leader bantered and joked with his hosts.

★ ★ ★

Krag, greeting Khrushchev at the door, noted that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was not present.

GRAND ENTRANCE

"Gromyko will come later," Khrushchev replied. "He wants to make an entrance in grand style."

★ ★ ★

A few moments later when Gromyko, a frequent butt of Khrushchev's humor, still had not appeared, the Soviet premier asked: "Did we really leave without Gromyko? I hope they did not send him on a different route."

DISCUSSES FARMING

Khrushchev indicated to Krag after his arrival Tuesday that he wanted to concentrate on economics and farming. The Danes, members of the North Atlantic alliance, said they could not envisage any political issues on which the two countries could agree.

★ ★ ★

Obviously envious of Denmark's agricultural output, Khrushchev remarked at a government reception Tuesday night: "We know you Danes have a high level of agriculture, and that proves that we are dumb and you are clever.

'GOOD FARMERS'

"We know you are good farmers, but you must know that in different countries, nature matures at different times.

★ ★ ★

Noting that Soviet crops were plagued by bad weather last year, Khrushchev referred to the Russian purchase of wheat from the United States and Canada.

'LOT OF NONSENSE'

"If Stalin had been alive, we could not have bought wheat elsewhere," he said. "But we bought grain, and so lots of people wrote a lot of nonsense about the collapse of our political system."

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev predicted that Soviet agricultural production would soar under his program to increase fertilizer production.

'JUST WAIT'

"Just wait, and we will show you what a hell of a job we can do," he said. "It is not only the system that is better. It is a question of capital investments."

Girls' State Begins

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A lesson in American government is in store for the 462 high school junior girls in Michigan expected to attend the annual Wolverine Girls' State at the University of Michigan June 16-25. The girls will take part in mock city, county and state governments.

Graduation Rites Make History

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Graduation exercises in some Southern high schools this year mark not only the educational pivot point for students but also a historic stage of desegregation.

Three Negroes were graduated from formerly white schools in Birmingham, Ala.—a significant first for what was the nation's big racial battleground only a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Negroes for the first time were among the graduating classes in some Southern high schools. No accurate count can be obtained on over-all Negro and white graduation figures since some school systems keep no racial breakdown.

★ ★ ★

But a survey showed the percentage of Negroes graduating from formerly all-white high schools in the South was very small.

TOP STUDENTS

There have been no unusual problems in the classrooms and the Negro graduates often are among the top students scholastically.

★ ★ ★

In Little Rock, Ark., where seven years ago federal troops enforced the initial desegregation, a Negro girl was graduated with highest honors and was named a presidential scholar.

★ ★ ★

The girl, Jacquelyn Faye Evans, also was named to the National Honor Society.

She had an A-plus average in her final year at Little Rock Hall High, a predominantly white school.

NO TROUBLE

Asked if she had any trouble because of her race, she said: "Not very much trouble; in fact, none to speak of."

★ ★ ★

Did she get a better education at the mostly white school?

"I think so, but there is no way I could prove it," she said.

FIRST NEGRO

In Tampa, Fla., Willie Strawter, 17, was the first Negro to graduate from a desegregated school — Hillsborough County High. He was the school's only Negro, transferring during his junior year.

★ ★ ★

School officials said Strawter was an excellent pupil, with an A average. He has been accepted by Stetson University at De Land, Fla., for the fall term and plans to major in some branch of science.

★ ★ ★

"As far as getting along with the other students, everything was fine," he said of his high school experience.

★ ★ ★

"My only problem was with myself. I had to adjust to the way they did things."

RATIO EXAMPLE

An example of the Negro-white student ratio is provided in Arkansas where 20 Negroes are among 1,516 graduates this year. Central High in Little Rock, where Negroes first attended under federal guard, has eight Negro graduates and 602 white graduates.

In 1963, there were 10 Negro graduates in formerly white Arkansas schools.

★ ★ ★

In Texas, integration has been mostly on a stair-step plan upward from the first grade and Negroes accepted into formerly white schools in many instances have not yet reached the 12th grade.

★ ★ ★

There were 15 Negro graduates in Austin, Tex., schools with enrollment of about 3,500.

28 GRADUATES

Baton Rouge, La., had 28 Negroes graduating from four desegregated schools. It is estimated that less than 100 Negroes graduated from desegregated high schools in Florida and Georgia.

Oak Ridge, Tenn., had seven Negro high school graduates in a class of 487. The school had seven Negro graduates last year.

★ ★ ★

At Danville, Va., the graduating class of George Washington High included the daughter of the Rev. L. W. Chase, a leader in last summer's antisegregation demonstrations. Richmond has one Negro pupil who will graduate from summer school.

★ ★ ★

Mississippi, which has no integrated high or elementary schools, and South Carolina, which began desegregation at below-senior level last year, have no Negro graduates from integrated schools.

Would-Be Suicide Pulled From Ledge

DETROIT (AP)—A policeman pulled Katherine Barney, 18, inside to safety Tuesday after she threatened to jump from a second story ledge outside the Recorder's Court building.

★ ★ ★

A fire department rescue unit was called as Miss Barney ran back and forth on the side ledge.

★ ★ ★

The probation office said Miss Barney, convicted of attempted armed robbery last year, ran out of the office when questioned for alleged probation violation. She was placed in the Receiving Hospital psychiatric ward.

GMC Truck Dealers Set 2-Day Meeting

GMC truck dealers representing the 19 GMC Truck & Coach Division sales zones throughout the United States will meet here next Monday and Tuesday for the 1964 GMC Divisional Dealer Council.

R. C. Woodhouse, GMTC general sales manager who will serve as moderator, said discussion will include field reports on the acceptance of GMTC's new Toro-Flo diesel engine for medium-tonnage trucks.

"The interchange of thoughts and suggestions at these councils," Woodhouse said, "helps strengthen customer relations, improves the efficiency of field operations and, in general, assures better service to the public."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Nervous Breakdown Is Serious Condition

BRANDSTADT

What is a nervous breakdown? Doctors find this term vague. Medical textbooks skirt around it. Yet it describes a condition that is far from being imaginary.

Breakdowns are not caused by simple overwork, as some persons believe, but by the fear that one cannot quite live up to all that is expected of him day after day.

Most persons who are on the verge of a breakdown even though they sense this fear, are unwilling or unable to admit that it is the cause of their trouble. So they seek medical advice for a host of symptoms such as palpitation of the heart, indigestion, generalized body aches and chronic fatigue.

Since a breakdown is not considered a communicable disease, there are no accurate statistics on how many nervous breakdowns occur in this country every year.

But either a nervous breakdown or a threatened breakdown form a large part of the practice of most general practitioners and psychiatrists.

When the external pressures of a persons's work or his home life become so great that they are disabling, help is usually sought.

Unfortunately, the victim rarely has the insight into what is happening to him to be able to give his doctor all the pertinent facts.

As a result, much time and money may be spent putting the victim through a battery of diagnostic tests to rule out organic disease.

Organic disease should, of course, be ruled out. But this can be done more quickly if your doctor knows something about your personal life and especially your worries.

★ ★ ★

These are often the hardest things for a person to bring himself to talk about, even to his doctor.

Because of the complexity of this situation, it is not possible to offer any pat formula for recovery.

Some victims find it necessary to change their line of work. But a life of idleness is never the answer. Some find solace in religion and others are cured by taking up a hobby.

The main thing is to recast one's sense of values and to realize that money isn't everything. Without health, mere status symbols have no meaning. Prestige depends not on the task you are called on to perform but on how well you do it.

★ ★ ★

A long rest or a change of scene will have no lasting effect if you must return to the same frustrations. But a rest or a trip may help you to bring your everyday problems into sharper focus and to work out your own path of recovery.

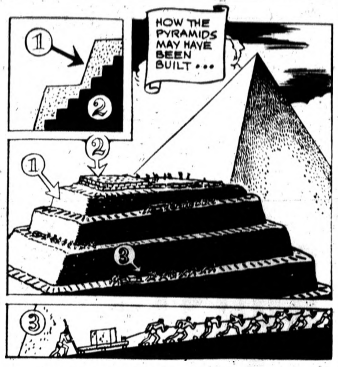
Junior Editors Quiz on PYRAMIDS



QUESTION: How did they build the pyramids?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The ancient Egyptian pyramids served as royal tombs. Rulers built them hoping to preserve their bodies forever—a vain hope, as robbers afterwards broke into them.

In spite of that, however, the pyramids are as impressive and awe inspiring as any structures made by man. The secret of how they were built is not exactly known, but our picture shows a method which many experts think may have been used.

The "Great Pyramid" near Cairo, erected about 2600 B.C., is built of limestone blocks each weighing 2½ tons. It is recorded that 100,000 slaves worked 20 years to build it.

According to the theory shown in the picture, layers of these blocks were laid down, each one slightly smaller than the one below (shown in black in 2).

To carry the blocks up, a ramp was built (1) which spiraled around the structure, both ramp and inner structure being built as the pyramid rose up.

Crews of slaves pulled the blocks up the ramp on sledges. Logs were embedded in the ramp to lessen the friction.

When the top was reached, the ramp was removed as the workers came down and the steps of the layers were filled in at the same time.

FOR YOU TO DO: Test your drawing ability by trying a free hand sketch of a pyramid, making it as accurate as you can. Then take a bit of paper and check the distance across the bottom and see if this is the same as from the outer edge to the top.

Nude Boy, 16, Pins Woman With Car

DETROIT (AP) — A nude youth pinned a housewife to a garage wall with a car Tuesday but was chased off when the woman's screams attracted a passerby.

Police said Mrs. Betty Bazger, 33, suffered minor bruises. She told officers the boy, about 16, forced her to the wall with the car on the city's east side.

★ ★ ★

As the nude youth got out, Thomas Archibald, 55, who lives nearby, heard the woman's screams and ran to the scene. The youth leaped back into the car and fled, police reported.

'Salute to Johnson' Might Attract 2,000

DETROIT (AP) — Advance ticket sales for a $100-a-plate "Salute to President Johnson" dinner indicate a turnout of about 2,000 persons, said Stuart Hertzberg, general chairman for the dinner. The event will be held June 26 in Detroit's Cobo hall.

Detroit to Sell Water to City of Flint, Area

DETROIT (AP) — Sale of Detroit water to the City of Flint and Genesee County was approved by the City Council Tuesday in a 6-2 vote.

Construction of a $38-million pipeline the 57 miles between Detroit and Flint will start within 45 days, officials said, pending Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh's approval of sale terms. Cavanagh has indicated he will approve.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's filtered water is expected to be available to Flint and Genesee County by 1966 under the plans.

The City Council's approval followed upon negotiations between the two cities that started in January, 1963.

LAKE INTAKE

The planning also includes a $60-million Lake Huron intake and treatment plant to be linked to the Detroit-Flint main in 1968.

Damaged Ship to Be Repaired

DETROIT (AP)—The British freighter Phrygia was ordered to Port Weller, Ont., Tuesday for repairs to the hole in her side suffered in a collision on the Detroit River Monday night.

The 348-foot Phrygia, a Cunard vessel carrying package freight, and the Canadian ore carrier Algocen, a 524-footer, collided in a channel off downriver Ecorse in clear, calm weather. None of the two ships' 66 crewmen was injured.

★ ★ ★

The Algocen's bow smashed a 15-foot hole in the starboard side of the Phrygia. The Algocen was little harmed and resumed a trip to Lorain, Ohio, after aiding the Phrygia.

Commander Manson Meekins of the Coast Guard inspection office said the Algocen was making a "U" turn from another channel at the time of the collision after making an ore delivery to McLouth Steel Corp. The Coast Guard called a hearing for today.

Dixie Governor Bids for Texas Electors

Alabama Chief Presses 'High Court Tyranny' Fight

DALLAS (UPI) — Alabama's Gov. George Wallace said last night he will continue to criticize the Supreme Court "joining Thomas Jefferson, James Madison . . . Franklin D. Roosevelt — yes, and Abraham Lincoln."

Wallace spoke before the state convention of the Texas Conservative party, a small, states-rights group, in his campaign to get enough unpledged electors to throw the 1964 election into the House of Representatives.

He flew into Dallas shortly after Sen. Barry Goldwater left with the state's 56 Republican delegate votes in his pocket.

Wallace was scheduled to speak in Louisiana today, where conservative Democrats hope to run him as their presidential candidate next November at the head of a slate of unpledged electors.

* * *

The idea was to split the Democratic vote and give states righters the balance of power in the case of a close election, as in 1960.

Wallace said Jefferson, Madison, Roosevelt and Lincoln all feared the "imposition of theories upon the American people by judicial edict—and said so."

He added, "It is almost impossible to detail the separate acts of tyranny which have been inflicted upon us.

"Twenty-one specific acts of tyranny the colonists accused George III of Great Britain of in the Declaration of Independence are today sanctioned in the federal penal code referred to as the civil rights bill, or else are sanctioned by specific rulings by the United State Supreme Court."

* * *

The spry, bantam-sized Wallace said a political revolution claimed by "left-wing liberals" of both major parties has cost many Americans freedom guaranteed them under the U.S. Constitution.

CONTROL PEOPLE

He said liberals have changed control of the government by the people to control of the people by the government.

* * *

"The people, according to the (Supreme) Court, are no longer sovereign. The people are ruled by a judicial oligarchy, and this constitutes political revolution," he said.

* * *

Wallace repeated his announcement that he was definitely running for president and right now would support "neither (President Lyndon) Johnson nor (Sen. Barry) Goldwater."

Roundup of World News

Pakistan Flood Leaves 250 Dead, Thousands Homeless

HYDERABAD, West Pakistan (AP) — Flood waters from a week of severe wind and rain storms coursed through the Hyderabad region today. More than 250 were known dead, but communications were still out in many areas.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of homes were flattened and more than 60,000 cattle destroyed.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Six South Korean journalists arrested earlier this month during riotous antigovernment demonstrations have been referred to army prosecutors for possible military trial.

★ ★ ★

The martial law command also announced indictment of three student leaders of the demonstrations on insurrection charges. If convicted, they could get the death penalty.

★ ★ ★

The command said the newsmen were being held on suspicion of giving aid to Communists, agitating insurrection, spreading malicious falsehoods about the government and reporting an illegal assembly.

The six face maximum sentences of 15 years.

KIEL, Germany (AP) — Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel says he is convinced West Germany's Army "deserves the trust of the German people and that it will not disappoint them."

★ ★ ★

Von Hassel said in a speech Tuesday his ministry will do all it can to correct the impression given by Inspector General Hellmuth Heye that the Bundeswehr is a reactionary army developing "in a questionable way."

★ ★ ★

Heye claimed in a magazine article that the army was becoming "a state within a state" as in the times of Hitler and the kaiser. Heye was appointed by Parliament to see that the armed forces are a democratic organization responsive to civilian government.

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Glasgow, where drinking long has been recognized as a serious business, is going to allow singing in pubs.

City magistrates Tuesday approved 123 applications for pub music licenses, the first they have issued. Those who prefer their scotch in silence still can seek refuge in more than 1,000 nonmusical pubs.

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Floods continued to sweep through central and eastern Turkey today, and eight more dead were reported. The death toll attributed to the floods and lightning this week stands at 21, according to reports reaching Istanbul.

New York City had 25,000 persons per square mile at the end of the 1960 census. Chicago had 17,000 per square mile and St. Louis and Washington, D. C., 12,000 each.

Cook With Cottage Cheese

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

My father used to eat cottage cheese for breakfast—with corn syrup on it!

That is one of the more unusual ways of serving cottage cheese, but its general popularity is unquestioned.

★ ★ ★

An imaginative cook in this area serves cottage cheese on a relish tray with tiny bits of candied ginger mixed in it. This is a welcome change from adding chives as so many persons do.

For an easy luncheon menu serve cheese blintzes filled with a cottage cheese mixture. These freeze well.

CHEESE BLINTZES

2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup sifted enriched flour
¼ cup instant or regular whole wheat cereal
1 pound dry cottage cheese
1 egg
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon pineapple juice
¼ teaspoon lemon juice

Beat eggs, milk and sugar together. Combine salt, flour and cereal. Add liquid. Beat until smooth. Fry 2 tablespoons batter in lightly oiled 6-inch fry pan until light brown on one side. Cool.

Combine all ingredients until fairly smooth. Spread 1½ tablespoons filling on browned side of blintz. Fold sides over and roll like a jelly roll. Brown both sides in moderately hot butter.

Or, blintzes may be browned in hot oven (400 degrees). Place on buttered baking sheet. Brush well with melted butter before and during baking. Bake 20 minutes or until browned. Turn once.

Serve with cinnamon, sour cream or grated pineapple. Yield: 18 blintzes.

★ ★ ★

If you're fond of cheese cake, you'll like Lemon Cheese Cake Pie. Although this dessert can be served warm or cold, we'd like it well chilled on a hot night. At this seasonof the year a garnish of fresh strawberries would be right.

Lemon Cheese Cake Pie

1 stick pie crust mix
⅓ cup brown sugar (packed)
3 eggs
½ cup granulated sugar
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese
½ cup cottage cheese
1 can (15 oz.) sweetened condensed milk
⅓ cup lemon juice
Grated lemon rind

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Crumble pie crust mix and brown sugar together with fingers or fork. Spread evenly in 13x9½x2" oblong pan. Bake 15 minutes.

Remove from oven; stir with fork to remove lumps. While still warm, press into 8" round layer pan.

Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Beat in sugar gradually. Beat in the cheeses until smooth and thick. Pour into crumble crust. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Cool slightly.

Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice together; spread over top. Garnish with grated lemon rind. Serve warm or cold.

We're all familiar with a molded gelatin salad of cottage cheese and pineapple. Here is a new combination of cheese molded into gelatin and served with fruit.

Spring Citrus Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup (¼ pound) crumbled blue cheese
1 cup plain yogurt
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 cups orange and grapefruit sections
1 cup sliced fresh fruit in season (strawberries, bananas, etc.)
6 lettuce cups

Sprinkle gelatine over water; stir over hot water until gelatine is dissolved; add concentrate and sugar. Combine cheeses; blend in gelatine mixture. Stir yogurt and Tabasco into cheese mixture until all ingredients are thoroughly blended.

Pour into lightly oiled 2-cup mold. Chill until firm, about 4 hours. Carefully unmold cheese salad onto plate. Surround mold with individual fruit salads in lettuce cups. Yield: 6 servings.

Bean Salad Is Aloha Fare

Aloha! The Polynesian islands are not only some of the most enchanting in the world but also have one of the most delightful cuisines. Americans everywhere are donning leis and seeking this delicious food.

★ ★ ★

A dinner of soy and honey glazed spareribs becomes "island fare" when served with a refreshing salad made with spicy canned barbecue beans.

★ ★ ★

Just combine the beans with sliced nectarines and celery, then chill. Right before serving, toss in lemon-tinged banana slices. This salad looks nice in a deep bowl lined with crisp greens. Everyone helps himself to a garnish of sour cream and toasted coconut.

★ ★ ★

Serve with thick bread slices and hot tea . . . ice cream and almond cookies for dessert.

Barbecue Bean Island Salad

1 can (1 pound) barbecue beans
½ cup sliced nectarines
¼ cup thinly sliced celery
½ cup chopped banana
½ teaspoon lemon juice
Sour cream
Toasted coconut

Combine beans, nectarines, and celery; chill. Sprinkle bananas with lemon juice; toss with beans. Serve on crisp salad greens. Garnish with sour cream sprinkled with coconut. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

A Hot Dog Is Just That

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't call it wiener, weenie, frankfurter, frank or frankfurt — when you mean hot dog.

★ ★ ★

A survey made by Union Carbide's Visking Division — producer of food casings — shows that hot dog's the preferred way of describing what often is called by other names. Uncle Sam's nieces and nephews will consume 50 million of the things on July 4 alone!

Soup Starts Sauce

See how easy it is to make this Mock Hollandaise Sauce. Empty a 1½-ounce can mushroom dry soup mix into saucepan; gradually blend in 1½ cups milk. Mix until smooth. Bring to boil, stirring. Remove from heat; gradually stir in 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 egg yolks, and 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Heat, stirring constantly. Luscious served with 2 or 3 cooked artichokes.

Save Bean Liquor

When boiling navy beans for soup or chowder use any left-over vegetable stock you may have on hand after cooking carrots, potatoes, peas, etc., to make up part of the liquid you require for simmering. Besides the extra food value it adds a lot of goodness too.

Ham Casserole

Those last few slivers and slices of ham can be prepared in delicious fashion by placing them in a baking dish and covering with the following spread: 1 cup applesauce, ⅓ cup, each, chopped raisins and brown sugar, ½ teaspoon, each, cinnamon and nutmeg and 2 tablespoons honey. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) for 20 minutes.

Local Bank Wins Bid for City Urban Renewal Loan Notes

The City Commission last night okayed the sale of $3,832,000 in urban renewal preliminary loan notes to Community National Bank of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

It was the seventh sale of loan notes to finance operations in Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project since that project's inception in 1960.

Community National Bank has been low bidder on all seven issues of the preliminary notes.

Commission action came last night after commissioners were given a tabulation of seven bids, from six bidders of which the local bank offered to buy the notes at the lowest interest rate — 1.9 per cent annually.

★ ★ ★

Second lowest bid was 2.01 per cent interest from the Bank of America, San Francisco.

BID CALLED GOOD

Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates called the low bid "very good, in view of the current market."

He said that, as of yesterday when the bids were opened, the "going rate on the market called for a minimum of slightly over 2 per cent interest on such notes."

The bids ranged up to 2.13 per cent interest annually.

★ ★ ★

Urban renewal operations are financed through the periodic sale of loan notes, with proceeds from each successive sale being used to retire the last previous notes sold and provide enough left over to operate until the next loan note sale.

NOTES EXPIRE

These notes will expire in six months.

The $3,832,000 will retire $3,750,000 in notes sold last July.

The current sale is somewhat higher than last summer's due to an increase in the R20 budget and proposed acquisition of additional properties incorporated in a revised R20 plan now awaiting final approval of federal urban renewal officials.

★ ★ ★

In theory, the amount of the periodic loans will eventually decrease as federal capital grants are received and the project derives more income from the sale of land.

NOTES EXPIRED

With the exception of last summer's loan, all previous notes have expired at six-month intervals.

Commissioners also named Clifford Officer, 29, of 48 Lorraine Ct., to the eight-member General City Employes Retirement System Board of Trustees.

Officer, manager of the Pontiac branch of Great Lakes Insurance Co., fills a vacancy left by the resignation of Victor Woods last month.

★ ★ ★

Woods, whose term expires in 1966, resigned to devote more time to his new position as one of Pontiac's representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

A tabulation of bids received Monday for the city's 1964 street paving contract was also presented to commissioners for study, with the contract expected to be formally awarded next week.

★ ★ ★

The apparent low bid was $35,633 submitted by A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham.

The firm's bid was $3,932 under the city's estimated cost for the 1964 street paving program.

Commissioners also adopted an ordinance to govern the construction of driveway cuts, or approaches, in curbs on city streets.

The new ordinance is threefold in nature. It would make it illegal for anyone to "widen, construct, alter or expand" an existing approach without getting a permit to do the proposed work in accordance with city codes.

★ ★ ★

The new law also states that all new curb and gutter constructed by the city will not include cuts for driveway approaches in front of undeveloped lots unless one is specifically requested by the property owner and it conforms with the logical future development of the parcel.

Finally, the ordinance states that all cuts in curbs for new driveways must be done only by the Department of Public Works and the cost billed to the property owner.

The ordinance is designed to assure both the city and private property owners that such construction will conform to various curb and sidewalk grade requirements.

Pharmacist Is Honored for Service

Howard L. Dell, owner of the Baldwin Pharmacy at 219 Baldwin, has been recognized for his service to the community by the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association.

★ ★ ★

An article appearing in the June issue of the "Michigan Pharmacist," the association's official publication, lists the following as some of Dell's accomplishments in the past eight years.

- Organized, sponsored and coached numerous baseball, football and hockey teams for boys of all ages.
- Served as vice president of the board of directors of the Pontiac Boys Club.

★ ★ ★

- Has been active in the Pontiac Area United Fund.
- Served as chairman of a committee which spearheaded the drive to provide lights for Jaycee Park, Pontiac's first lighted baseball field.
- Served on the board of directors of the Optimist Club.

PR CHAIRMAN

Dell, who has operated the Baldwin Pharmacy for 12 years, is also chairman of the public relations committee for the Oakland County Pharmaceutical Association.

Sioux Indian Chief Sitting Bull, famous as a fighter of white men, was credited with his first scalping at the age of 14. He was shot and killed by Indian police Dec. 15, 1890.

'Gringos' Now Welcome, but Violence Scars Remain in Panama

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP)—The "gringos out" sign has disappeared from Boly Khan's cocktail lounge and the welcome mat is out for the Yankee visitor. But business is slack.

"It isn't the same and probably never will be again," says a patron.

★ ★ ★

That about sums up the picture in this deceptively tranquil-looking capital six months after the Canal Zone violence between Panamanians and Americans that claimed more than 20 lives.

★ ★ ★

A subtle but distinct change has muted Panama's once sprightly, colorful moods. There is an undercurrent of tension. Although the wounds seem healed, tender scars remain.

REPAIRS MADE

Most heavy damage to buildings and homes on the American side of the Canal Zone border has been repaired. The upper walls of the 12-story legislative palace on the Panamanian side remain bullet-splattered near windows from which snipers fired at American soldiers. Other buildings on the Panama side have bullet marks carefully circled in red paint to attract attention.

The Pan American World Airways building, set afire by rioters in the mistaken belief it was American-owned, remains a burnt-out shell. It once was one of the most attractive buildings in the city.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

Under an agreement to symbolize Panama's titular sovereignty over the Canal Zone, Panamanian flags now fly alongside the U.S. banner at 29 public sites in the American sector. An attempt by Panamanian students to hoist their flag at Balboa High School in the zone led to the January fighting.

Although American tourists freely roam downtown Panama shops in increasing numbers and U.S. citizens living in the city say they are not molested, many American residents refuse to go into Panama City. Some speciality shops are sending catalogs and salesmen into the zone to pick up orders.

TERROR WAVE

A wave of small-scale terrorism and violence of vague origin is helping prolong the state of anxiety under which Panama has lived since January.

The purely national character of the current turbulence has Panamanians looking inward for the source and scope of their new troubles.

Reminder of the grim episode came last week when the International Jurists' Commission, invited by the Panama Bar Association to look into the disorders, issued a report denying Panama's claims that the United States violated principles of human rights.

Most Panamanians seemed to have only passing interest in the findings. President Roberto Chiari and other political leaders declined to comment. A presidential aide said the issue of human rights had been raised by a private organization, not by the government.

GUILT 'FIXED'

An unavoidable impression is that hardly anything will convince Panamanians the United States was not guilty.

★ ★ ★

A recent wave of bombings started the day President-elect Marco A. Robles received official notice of his victory. Four bombings were aimed at the home of President Chiari's brother Rodolfo, president of the National Economy Council, an advisory body.

★ ★ ★

Extreme left-wing factions among university students and labor have come under suspicion.

There is a minor paint-brush battle between Panamanian students and Canal Zone guards on the broad avenue that skirts the boundary.

Officially called "Fourth of July Avenue," the thoroughfare has been rechristened "Avenue of the Martyrs" by Panamanians in memory of those killed in the disorders. Students painted this name on the walls alongside the avenue but Canal Zone guards came around later and painted it out.

★ ★

Paint bucket-and-brush crews from a nearby school have returned with the same patience and determination as the guards engaged in the erasing job.

U.S. Promoting No 'Specific Solution' in Cyprus Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)— In the news from Washington:

CYPRUS: The State Department says "there is no truth" in published reports the United States favors union of Cyprus with Greece.

A statement Tuesday by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball who has just returned from an urgent peacekeeping mission to Greece and Turkey, said that the U.S. government is not supporting any specific solution for the Cyprus question.

"But the United States does feel and what I did express in both capitals is that the solution is urgent," Ball added. "That solution should be found by agreement of the parties."

JFK STAMP: It took more than two weeks for the Boston post office to complete the more than two million "first day of issue" cancellations for the John F. Kennedy memorial postage stamp.

The Post Office Department said Tuesday that although the stamp went on sale May 29, cancellations were not completed until June 15.

TOPS RECORD

The record of 2,003,096 cancellations surpassed the previous record of 1.6 million first day cancellations of the New York World's Fair stamp issued on April 22.

HOFFA-FEES: Six maverick Teamsters Union members are preparing to step up their efforts to recover union funds used to defend Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and other union officials involved in criminal trials.

★ ★ ★

Their attorney, Seymour Spelman, said he plans to add the names of three bonding companies within a few days to a federal court suit already filed against Hoffa and 18 other officials to recover the legal fees.

The amount involved is reported to be $1 million or more.

UNION MUM

The union has so far resisted efforts by Spelman, the Labor Department and the Justice Department to divulge how much has been spent to defend Hoffa in a long series of federal trials, including his conviction—now being appealed—on a jury tampering charge.

★ ★ ★

The attorney named the companies as the Citizens Casualty Co. of New York, Niagara Fire Insurance Co. of New York and Resolute Insurance Group of Hartford, Conn.

CUBA: The Council of the Organization of American States plans to meet June 24 to vote on a Venezuelan proposal that the hemisphere's foreign ministers meet here July 8 to impose sanctions on Cuba.

★ ★ ★

Venezuela seeks a collective break in diplomatic relations with Cuba by all Latin-American countries, suspension of all commercial ties with Cuba and a halt to air and sea communication with Havana.

★ ★ ★

Mexico, Chile, Uruguay and Bolivia are the only Latin-American countries which still maintain embassies in Havana.

LEGISLATURES: Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has introduced a bill to strip federal courts of jurisdiction in reapportionment cases involving the state legislatures.

★ ★ ★

Thurmond introduced his bill Tuesday, a day after the Supreme Court ruled that both houses of state legislatures must be based on population only.

Horses, cows and dogs are believed to have been once nocturnal in their habits, adjusting to man's normal daylight schedule as they became domesticated.

Fewer Jobs Mark College Student Summer Work Hunt

NEW YORK (AP) — Many college students are finding it harder than usual to get summer jobs.

In most areas there just aren't enough to go around.

★ ★ ★

Upperclassmen taking professional training are having the most success, an Associated Press survey of major colleges indicates. Girls who can do office work also are in demand.

Thousands of jobs at the New York World's Fair are attracting collegians from around the country.

FEWER OPPORTUNITIES

While business conditions are excellent, they haven't provided as many job opportunities as expected.

Automation has eliminated some unskilled jobs but it has created others, such as in computer processing.

★ ★ ★

The Wisconsin Employment Service reported there are 20 per cent fewer job opportunities for students this summer than last year. A new service called Youthpower, staffed by college students, filled 300 jobs but had 3,000 applicants.

Dustin Burke, director of student employment at Harvard University, said automation is having an effect inasmuch as there are fewer unskilled jobs available. Seven hundred Harvard students were encouraged this year to take skill courses such as computer programming.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

"We had enough jobs to satisfy everybody," said Ward D. Peterson, director of the University of Michigan Summer Placement Service. "Good business conditions have helped." About 8,500 of the university's 27,000 students applied for jobs.

Georgia Tech reported seniors and juniors who began looking early found good jobs, while others, mainly sophomores and freshmen, have found it difficult.

University of Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles called the outlook bleak. On the other hand, Los Angeles State College termed this year its best for jobs.

Tourist Units Manned

LANSING (AP) — Twenty three travel counselors will work in the State Highway Department's seven tourist information centers, the department says. The counselors, most of them college students, were appointed Tuesday.

Production to Resume

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Robinson Furniture Co. has announced it will resume production today at plants here and at Big Rapids. The 54-year-old firm is reorganizing under Federal Court bankruptcy procedures.

The market for jobs is the tightest in many years, said George Donaldson, director of placement at Boston College. He attributed the situation to economy-minded corporations and cutbacks on research contracts.

BASIC EXPERIENCE

Improved business conditions, plus an increase in a trend to create summer jobs to give students basic experience with the hope of later recruiting them, have provided many jobs for engineering, science and business students, according to the University of Texas.

"It's real tough," said Lowell Calvin, placement counselor at the University of Chicago. "It's a question of the few jobs that may be open and the many students who want to get them."

Dry Spell Helps Equalize Play

Big Hitters Moan as USGA Open Course Shrinks

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BETHESDA, Md. — The "long" 7,073-yard Congressional Country Club course has "shrunk" and the two big hitters, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, aren't exactly happy.

★ ★ ★

It means they must share the favorites' role in the National Open Golf tournament with a few more players besides names such as Tony Lema, Julius Boros, Billy Casper and amateur Deane Beman, playing his "home" course.

Now everyone is picking every one else. Lema gives the nod to Palmer. Palmer reciprocates by naming Lema as the best choice to make history by winning three straight tournaments in as many weeks.

He won the Thunderbird and the Buick Opens the past two weeks.

Beman says it will be Nicklaus all the way and Nicklaus says Boros will be tough. Boros shrugs and points back to Palmer as the choice.

★ ★ ★

So, it all goes in a circle, but they all admit that the "shorter" course resulting from a 4-week dry spell will cause many players to change their strategy.

FOUR WOOD

Gary Player gave an example of what he meant by a change in strategy, "I used a 4-wood on the first tee when I played here couple weeks ago, now I almost get there with an 8-iron."

A few drops of rain Monday did little to change the play.

The pros agreed the couse could have used a lot more.

"Each hole is playing about 30 yards shorter," said Beman, who currently wears the National Amateur crown, and who wants to become the first amateur to win the Open since Johnny Goodman in 1933.

"This is my home course and I've been playing well," he admits.

No one in Tuesday's practice round or early today was able to break par. Lema, playing his round with abandon, turned in a 78 his first time out.

First player to turn in an even par 70 was Sam Snead, who is trying for the 24th time to win the Open. Nicklaus also had a 70 and Gary Player had a 71.

"It's a tough course, but it's one of the best I've played in my eight National Opens," said Nicklaus.

The wind was blowing very hard today and veteran Doug Ford offered the comment: "This course is tough enough, and with the wind, it becomes treacherous."

Pontiac's Sam Kocsis, playing out of Atlas Valley, Grand Blanc checked in Monday afternoon and immediately played nine holes. He also played 18 yesterday but did not reveal his score.

"We didn't keep a score card because we hit some repeat shots, but the course will be playing tough," said Kocsis.

Hitting Fails; Tigers Lose 2

Regan Whiffs 13 in Defeat

Kaycee Streak at 5 Under New Manager

DETROIT (AP) — The up again, down again Detroit Tigers became the last team in the majors to be shutout Tuesday night and wasted another good performance by one of their own pitchers in the process.

Kansas City not only nipped a modest Tiger winning streak with 7-4 and 6-0 victories in the twi-night doubleheader, but also stretched its own victory splurge to five games.

★ ★ ★

The Athletics now are 5-1 under new manager Mel McGaha.

McGaha reached into his bullpen for a starter in the second contest and got the team's sixth complete game when Ted Bowsfield blanked the Tigers on eight hits.

Bowsfield, 1-1, had started only one game this season and had hurled only 27 innings before Tuesday night's start.

SILENT BATS

Phil Regan was the victim of the silent Detroit bats in the nightcap. He struck out 13 and gave up only five hits while pitching the first eight innings.

It marked the second time in a little more than a month that the Tigers failed to support a hurler who was pitching one of his better games of the season.

★ ★ ★

Dave Wickersham, who is the probable starter in tonight's third game of the four-game set, fanned 11 Baltimore batters on May 13 and lost 2-1.

Wayne Causey's triple and a single by Ed Charles scored Kansas City's first run in the first inning, and catcher Bill Bryan touched Regan for a two-run homer in the fourth.

That was more than enough for Bowsfield who had four double plays behind him. He started an important one himself after the Tigers had loaded the bases in the fifth for their only real threat.

★ ★ ★

Bryan banged a three-run homer off Larry Sherry in the ninth to add to the Athletics' margin.

A bases - loaded double by pitcher Diego Segui sparked a six-run Kansas City rally in the fourth-inning of the opener and sent Hank Aguirre down to his third setback of the season.

All six Athletics' runs came after two men were out and the final totals for the frame saw three walks and four doubles for the A's.

CLOSE DECISION — Is the runner going to be safe or out? Rich Allen of the Phillies slides as catcher Dick Bertell of the Chicago Cubs reaches for the throw. The umpire ruled Allen out.

Huron-Airway Pitcher Keeps Posting Zeros

A pitcher can't always be judged by his first inning on the mound.

Huron-Airway's Don Sackett won his fourth baseball game of the season last night in the city's Class A league with a 10-inning 1-0 triumph over Cranbrook.

The victory was the sixth straight for the unbeaten league leaders and Sackett's third straight shutout.

★ ★ ★

The veteran right-hander began the season with a 6-1 win over the Clippers. He yielded the lone run in the first inning when three of the first four batters reached base.

Since then he has gone 30 consecutive frames without a runner scoring. He had some difficult moments last night, however.

After Ron Murray had walked and stole second leading off the tenth, the pitcher rapped a single off losing hurler Tom Walters to drive in the only run.

Cranbrook then loaded the bases without a hit and with only one man out. But Sackett fanned the last two batters. He escaped from a similar jam in the previous inning.

Cranbrook had runners to third base in the first and sixth innings but couldn't get Walters the lone run he needed.

The defeat was the second tough loss for the young southpaw. He yielded two hits last night and struck out 15, equalling the league's season high.

Tonight Talbott Lumber will meet Pontiac Business Institute under the lights at Jaycee Park.

Shows Age, Again

Is Spahn Slipping?

By The Associated Press

"If some of the young kids come through—like that young Warren Spahn—I feel we will have a good club."

Warren Spahn said it.

★ ★ ★

Warren Spahn isn't doing it.

The ace Milwaukee left-hander, oldest player in the majors at 43, showed his age again Tuesday night, failing for the sixth straight time to finish what he started and dropping a 5-1 decision to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And it just may be that after a major league career spanning 20 seasons, 691 games and 4,974 innings, the left arm that has been working effortlessly for so many years may finally be feeling the strain.

Spahn has brought his career victory total to 355 with five triumphs this season but also has added five losses for 221 lifetime. Along with the mediocre 5-5 record goes an even more unimpressive 4.32 earned run average.

SIX IN ROW

Spahn's latest loss was his first to the Dodgers in more than two years. He had won six in a row dating back to June 13, 1962. He was locked in a duel with Don Drysdale for seven innings. Then Willie Davis smacked a key two-run triple and it was all over.

Meanwhile, the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago Cubs 4-2 and moved one game in front of the San Francisco Giants, who lost to Cincinnati 9-4. Elsewhere, St. Louis snapped a five-game losing streak by walloping Houston 7-1 and Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 2-1.

NCAA Play Continues

Seeded Netters Paired

EAST LANSING (AP) — The NCAA University Division tennis championships moved into showdown matches today with four of the ten top-seeded singles entries facing each other in third-round play.

Sixth-seeded Bill Lenoir of Arizona meets Dave Sanderlin, No. 9, of UCLA, and eighth-rated Clark Graebner of Northwestern tangles with Southern Cal's Jerry Cromwell, No. 10.

Defending champion and top-seeded Dennis Ralston of Southern Cal faces Doug Sykes of California while No. 2 seeded Marty Reissen of Northwestern takes on Gary Johnson of Los Angeles State, new NCAA College Division champion.

None of the top-rated players had trouble in Tuesday's second round. Ralston whipped Dick Barker of Texas A & M 6-3, 6-2 and Reissen ousted Tom Jamieson of Michigan State 6-1, 6-4.

OTHER MATCHES

In other matches Tuesday, Charles Pasarell of UCLA, No. 4, defeated Karl Hedrick of Michigan 6-3, 6-3, and Graebner eliminated Mike Goodrich of Western Michigan 6-4, 6-2.

The defeat of Jamieson, Hedrick and Goodrich left Michigan without a surviving singles entry. But Western's Goodrich and Bob Gill and Michigan's Hedrick and Frank Sauquier were still in the doubles competition.

★ ★ ★

Northwestern's top - seeded doubles combo of Graebner and Reissen advanced into today's third round by defeating Lin Harris and Van Thompson of Wichita 6-4, 6-4 Tuesday.

Press Sportswriter Receives Award

Pontiac Press bowling writer Jere Craig was honored last night with the Detroit Bowling Council's 1964 Press Award at the gala Champions Dinner in the Latin Quarter.

Craig, a member of The Press sports staff since September 1962 received a plaque "in recognition . . . of . . . outstanding contributions to the game of bowling" through his writing.

CRAIG

Also honored at the affair were Pontiac's Monroe Moore, the runner-up in the Greater Detroit Bowling Proprietors' Association Masters Tournament, and 300 Bowl team, regular division champions of the 1964 American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Three Rookies Joining Lions

DETROIT (AP) — Former Michigan State University linebacker Mike Currie and two free agents have signed 1964 Detroit Lions contracts, the club announced today.

Currie, brother of Green Bay Packers' star Dan Currie, reportedly has added 20-25 pounds since his college playing days and is expected to report to the Lions weighing about 220 pounds.

Signed as free agents for a tryout with the Lions were guard Ron Frank from Virginia Polytechnic and Iowa State halfback Dick Limerick.

Juniors Open Diamond Play

After a one-day's delay due to rainy weather, the city's recreation junior baseball program swung into earnest competition yesterday.

The opening games are practice sessions and in most cases it was the hitters who benefitted the most.

One of the few close games saw the Pontiac Boys Club nip the Pontiac Optimist, 3-2, in a Class D tilt. Two runs on three singles and an error in the seventh inning decided the outcome.

The two teams are in a two-game series to determine which one will play in the "D" program's American League.

Lightweight Chi Chi Surpasses Top Pros in Links Chatter

BETHESDA, Md. — There's nothing modest about "Chi Chi" Rodriguez, the skinny 5'-7" and 120-pounder, who actually boasts that he can hit a golf ball as far as Jack Nicklaus, George Bayer, Arnold Palmer and any other golfer who is at Congressional Country Club for the 64th National Open Golf Tournament this week.

Not only does he admit that "Chi Chi is good, no?," but he brags that he will have galleries in the open to match Arnie's Army, Nicklaus' Navy, Boros' Battalions or Gary's Gang.

★ ★ ★

"You will see Chi Chi's Bandidos," says Rodriguez, who adds that he has the secret which "lets me hit the ball as far as anybody."

He freely talks about his long drives and his secret, but he isn't ready to explain that secret.

The reason — money.

His golf secret has been printed in a 36-page booklet and is on the market for $2.

"There is a short cut to long ball hitting by using my secret," he says. "You can write for it."

Chi Chi, whose real name is Juan has never competed in the U.S. Open. As he went through his practice rounds Tuesday and today, his antics on the course already had his "bandidos" outnumbering the galleries of other players.

Some of the touring pros, however, haven't exactly appreciated his deliberate manners to get attention, publicity and the large galleries.

FAIRWAY SINGER

He talks and fraternizes with the spectators, dances on the green and even sings in the fairways.

When he dropped a long putt in the practice round yesterday, he tossed his straw hat over the cup and then lifted it slowly to take a peak at the ball and to see if it still was in the hole.

He then took it out of the cup, smiled to the crowd and drew laughter and applause.

Some of his fellow pros nicknamed him "Hot Dog" to imply his show-off manners. But, Chi Chi accepts the nickname as a compliment.

"You know what it is, a hot dog pro?" he asks in his broken English.

"It is when the gallery says, 'O-o-o-o-h for Palmer and Nicklaus'; 'A-a-a-h for Player and Boros'; and 'Let's go get hot dog and watch Chi Chi.' "

Chi Chi is out to make every

SENIOR DANCE CHAMPIONS — Cecelia Ann Darimont and Gerry McNeive are top-rated in the Michigan State Roller Skating Championships starting tomorrow night at Rolladium. Representing the Rolladium, this pair won the Great Lakes Regional and placed second in the North American and World Invitational in 1963. The state meet will continue through Monday.

Wild Pitch Ends Softball Duel

A wild pitch in the last of the 12th inning sent across the winning run in Arro Realty's 5-4 decision over Sam Reeves in an American League softball game last night.

In a second AL tilt, 300 Bowl routed Bob & Ken's, 11-0. In the National Loop, Berry Door trimmed Pontiac State Hospital, 13-2, and Bud & Lou's edged Orchard Lanes, 5-2.

Arro came from behind twice to tie the score before picking up the winning run in the two hour, 50-minute contest. The win was the sixth against one loss for the league leader.

Reeves grabbed a 4-3 lead in the top of the 12th frame, but Arro tied the score on a triple by center fielder Ed Shipp and a double by Don Paterra. With two out Paterra moved around to score on two wild pitches by Roger Reynolds.

Harry Avesian, who replaced starter Doug Hall struck out nine in relief and picked up the victory. Avesian also went four-for-four at the plate.

SHORT GAME

300 Bowl rapped out 11 hits in the abbreviated game with Bob & Ken's. James Long led the attack with four hits in four trips.

* * *

Berry Door scored six runs in the opening frame in the easy win over PSH. Paul Davis collected a double and two singles to spark the attack.

Bud & Lou scored five runs in the last two frames in recording its third win of the season. Frank August had a pair of hits for the winners and losing pitcher Dick Vivian picked up three for the losers.

In Waterford action, Class C Dixie Bar scored the first inter-league victory of the season with a 5-0 shutout over Howe's Lanes. Taig Tree Service nipped Huron Bowl, 1-0.

Dixie Bar scored all the runs it needed in the third inning on two hits and three errors.

Taig's Jerry Hines led off the game with a triple and scored the only run of the game on an infield out. Jim Cuthrell silenced Huron Bowl bats with a two-hitter.

'Beauty Before Age' in Skate Meet

The old saying, "Age before beauty," won't apply tomorrow night during opening ceremonies of the State Roller Skating Championships at Rolladium.

* * *

Beauty gets first call over the oldsters—if 35-40 can be considered old—in the forms of nine contestants vying for State Roller Skating Queen.

The young ladies will appear before the judges during a dinner at Airway tomorrow. Poise and speaking ability will be judged at this time.

Pulchritude will be judged about 9 p.m. at Rolladium and the final selection made.

Then the esquire group will kickoff competition in the five-day state meet.

SECOND YEAR

This is the second year for the classification which has unusual age standards. All contestants must be at least 35. They will be competing as pairs and the second requirement is that the combined ages reach 75.

Over 400 entries will be in action before Monday night's final session.

The top three finishers in each event will advance to regional competition July 3-7 at Elmhurst, Ill.

In addition to Rolladium, rinks in Lansing, Adrian, Hillsdale, Flint, Warren, Dearborn, Grand Rapids and Detroit will be represented.

Competition will start at 8 a.m. each day and continue until 11 p.m.

The top event is expected to be senior pairs, the finale Monday night. Gerry McNeive and Cecilia Darimont of Rolladium are favored.

* * *

They won the Great Lakes regional last year, placed second in the North American and second in the world invitational while competing in senior dance.

Top challengers are expected to be Rolladium's Gale Ensminger and Paul Mexico and Flint's Sonny Hendrix and Diane Hackett.

The Ensminger-Mexico tandem won the North American intermediate pairs last year and has advanced to the senior division. Dennis Horrall - Diane Grassi and Carol Rye-Dan Reidl teams are other Rolladium senior pairs entries expected to place high.

* * *

Ron and Gail Robovitsky, who won the N.A. junior pairs in 1963, are favored in the state meet's intermediate pairs class.

International Ice Loop

ST. CLAIR (AP)—The International Hockey League withheld action Tuesday on the application of Dayton, Ohio, for membership. A decision was indicated for Wednesday, however.

The IHL, which has lost Chatham and Windsor, its Canadian teams, seeks to organize into a six-team league for next season. Dayton could be the sixth.

Rodriguez' Ham Act Delights Golf Gallery

dollar he can out of golf. After he gives his reasons, one can hardly argue with him.

"You see, Chi Chi, he grew up in San Juan (Puerto Rico) slum, next to mudhole.

"My family was poor, so poor I must leave school before 11th grade.

"When I six years old, I work marsing balls on course for players. When seven, I work in sugar cane for $1 day. When 9, I caddie triples for $1.70 a day."

He tried to make money at 15 out of boxing, but after he was knocked out five times at 109 pounds he decided he wouldn't make the grade. So, he decided to play baseball.

"I am a pitcher two years ago and I tell Mets' scout in San Juan I will play for them for $50,000 bonus," he said frankly.

"I tell him to take my word for it that I can throw ball as hard as anybody, but he no convinced."

"Then I develop calcium in my wrist and I quit baseball so not to hurt myself for golf."

His first golf appearance in the United States was in the Buick Open in 1960 under the sponsorship of Laurence Rockefeller, owner of a plush country club in Florida.

In 1960, he won $2,262 and the following year he bettered this by only $6.00. In 1962, he won $6,000.

In 1963, playing in 16 tournaments, he won money in 15 of them and finished with $17,000.

This year, he won the San Francisco Open, the Denver Open and finished second at New Orleans.

GOLF FILM

Last week during the Buick Open, he was in Hollywood padding his pocket with a golf film.

He admits he hates cold weather and cannot play well in chilly temperatures and would prefer to miss tournaments in sections of the country where this may happen.

The loquacious Latin is figured as a 20-1 choice to win the U.S. Open, but it's a good thing golfers aren't paid a commission based on their galleries.

It is obvious Chi Chi's Bandidos will match in size those of the big names going down the fairways and surrounding the greens.

That's what Chi Chi wants. He figures it's good for the promotion of his book "Chi Chi's Golf Secret."

"I think 20,000 people ask me about my secret and that's 20,000 books sold."

Maine Nine Aided by Rainout, Again

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Joe Ferris, Maine and a day of rain — this has been the winning combination for the upset-minded Yankee Conference champions in the college world series.

A record fifth washout in the 18th NCAA baseball tournament Tuesday night helped Maine if it helped anyone. Senior Dick Dolloff still is the starting choice against Missouri tonight. But the extra day means Ferris might be effective in short relief against the Big Eight champions.

The winner of the Maine-Missouri game will meet Minnesota for the championship Thursday night.

Michigan Prep Golfer Wins Junior Tourney

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Michigan youth shot a one-under-par 70 Tuesday to win the second medalist trophy in the Mid-America Junior Open Golf Tournament.

Jim Baske of Benton Harbor put together identical nine-hole scores of 35 and 35 as the final 70 boys of the original field of 256 completed the qualifying round over the 6,258-yard, par 71 Possum Run Golf Club route.

Policy Matters on MUCC List

State Convention Set Tomorrow in Kazoo

Policy matters and future goals will be the main items on the agenda when the Michigan United Conservation Clubs annual convention gets under way tomorrow in Kalamazoo.

More than 60 resolutions already have been offered for consideration by 500 delegates representing the 350 affiliated clubs. Areas covered include fish, game, water, parks and forests.

A majority of the resolutions deal with MUCC's legislative goals in the field of conservation. The convention will conclude Saturday.

Outlining present and upcoming moves in the state conservation field will be Gov. George W. Romney who recently joined MUCC as a sustaining member.

The keynote speaker is Dr. John D. Bulger, National Wildlife Federation field representative, and a sportsman, author and lecturer.

Enlarging on conservation concerns at the national level will be Judge Louis D. McGregor of Flint, a former president of MUCC who was recently elected president of the National Wildlife Federation.

UNVEIL PLANS

Dr. Ralph A. MacMullan, new director of the Conservation Department, will unveil his plans for realignment of the department's goals and programs.

The Saturday evening banquet again will feature the presentation of MUCC service awards to citizens who have done an outstanding job in conservation.

LEADING ENTRY — This 5-pound, 8-ounce largemouth leads the black bass division of The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby. Tom Metzdorf, 676 Ashburnhan, a teacher at Pontiac Central, took the lunker last Thursday at Union Lake on an artifical minnow.

Stubborn Black Bass

Two 14-year-old Pontiac boys combined early yesterday to land a 4-pound, 11-ounce smallmouth black bass at Williams Lake.

Galen Hatcock hooked the fish using a Rapala lure, but couldn't handle bass. His companion in the boat, Doug Denio, a Pontiac Press paper carrier, joined the contest.

After a difficult struggle the bass was finally boated.

Pontiac Motor Employes Form Travel Safari

A group of Pontiac Motor Division employes have formed the Pontiac Travel Trailer Safari, a club devoted to weekend auto trailering.

Made up exclusively of Pontiac employes who drive a Pontiac or Tempest automobile, the club was organized this year and has 16 memberships representing 62 people.

Club members meet one weekend a month at a selected recreation area where planned entertainment is then available.

Alvin J. Collins is safari master.

Legislators Look to Economic Growth for Added Funds

CHICAGO (AP)—State budgets are continuing to grow, but this year, at least, legislators are counting more on an expanding economy for increased revenue than they are on tax boosts.

While governors of many states signed new tax laws this year — 22 legislatures were in session — the hopes were that business activity, fed partly by the federal tax cut, would surge upward for the fourth consecutive year.

★ ★ ★

There is no telling at this time precisely what impact the tax cut will have, but a year ago the Treasury Department estimated that a $10-billion federal reduction would spur investment, consumer spending and employment to a point where state and local governments would reap close to $3 billion extra in taxes.

★ ★ ★

In 20 states, according to a study by Leon Rothenberg, research director for the Federation of Tax Administrators, income tax receipts will rise automatically as a result of the federal tax cut. In these states, individuals and corporations are allowed deductions on their state income taxes based on their amount of federal income taxes. Thus lower federal taxes mean lower deductions and higher payments to the states. An Associated Press survey shows several states raised their income tax withholding rates to bring them in line with this windfall. Included were Massachusetts, Oregon, Alabama and Minnesota, according to information compiled by Commerce Clearing House, Inc., of Chicago, a publisher of topical business law reports.

However the added revenues are obtained, they apparently will be spent for present improvements and administration, not for past mistakes.

"Unlike some years in the past," Rothenberg said in his study, "there were few instances where taxes had to be increased because deficits had developed during the current budget period as a result of an excess of past commitments over available resources."

Education absorbs the largest portion of state budgets and where new taxes were imposed this year they were almost always for this purpose. However, mental health, highways and public assistance also will benefit from the increased revenue.

★ ★ ★

Sources for new taxes vary from personal income to sales of peanuts.

Colorado's new three-cent cigarette tax leaves only North Carolina, Oregon and the District of Columbia without such a levy.

Several other states raised existing cigarette taxes.

Kansas granted the governor's request and boosted the cigarette tax from four cents to six cents. The legislature also increased the liquor levy by 25 per cent.

Jeepers Peepers!

Too Little Is Too Much

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Police here are looking for a modern "Lady Godiva" whose jeep ride through the city early yesterday ended in a three-car crash which sent six persons to the hospital.

Eyewitnesses said the woman, who apparently escaped injury in the wreck, was clad in a brassiere and panties barely covered by a fur coat.

She whirled her jeep station wagon into Cordoba Avenue before dawn, hitting a taxi which caromed into a second jeep. Three persons in the cab and three in the jeep were injured, but the woman slipped away in the confusion.

Nab Suspect in Rape Killing

Dixie Police Holding Work Gang Escapee

SOUTH PITTSBURG, Tenn. (AP) — South Pittsburg officers said today they shot and captured Johnny D. Beecher, 32, convicted rapist sought in the abduction of a pregnant housewife who was found dead.

Chief of Police E. Dick Burrow said Beecher was shot in the leg and is being held under heavy guard in a South Pittsburg hospital.

Burrow said Beecher admitted raping and strangling Mrs. Martha Jane Chisenhall, 21, a bride of seven months who was abducted shortly after Beecher escaped Monday from an Alabama work gang near her home.

Mrs. Chisenhall's body was found yesterday on Sand Mountain in Northeast Alabama.

★ ★ ★

Burrow said Beecher was spotted on a railroad track at the edge of this town just across the line from Alabama. The police chief said Beecher broke and ran and was gunned down by officers.

WENT TO STORE

Burrow said the escapee went into a South Pittsburg grocery last night and bought some weiners and a loaf of bread.

The chief said he and two of his officers trailed Beecher throughout the night and spotted him around dawn this morning.

The chief said Alabama authorities have been informed of the capture.

★ ★ ★

"She was always happy," said her husband, Raymond Chisenhall, 20. "She was really looking forward to that baby." He said she was three months pregnant.

HUSBAND AT WORK

Chisenhall was at work when his wife disappeared from their home about the time that Beecher broke away from a road gang which was working a short distance away.

Police said searchers and area residents told of seeing a man half-dragging a woman in the area during the night.

The search spread to the banks of the Tennessee River after a boat, noted missing on the Sand Mountain side, was spotted floating in the river.

★ ★ ★

The body was found near the back side of a strip coal mining operation near Stevenson.

Her hands and feet were tied and she was gagged and blindfolded.

A leather belt was around her neck and shoulder. She was clothed.

Trucking Company Buys GMC Vehicles

The Preston Trucking Co., which operates a pickup and delivery service between western Maryland and the New York metropolitan area, has modernized its "151 Line" fleet with the addition of 20 new GMC model DFT-7000 diesel trucks.

★ ★ ★

These vehicles, with GM 6-71N engines developing 218 h.p. and 10-speed transmissions, are considered ideally suited to heavy stop-and-go traffic.

★ ★ ★

For distribution of freight to and from its terminals, Preston also has added 25 GMC gasoline highway tractors, 24 straight trucks with V6 gasoline engines and six straight truck chassis powered with GMC's new Toro-Flow diesel engines.

Prejudices Over Civil Rights Issue Critical in 1964 Election

(EDITOR'S NOTE—In some elections there seems to be a pall of the voter's personal feeling overhanging the outcome. Here, from studies of voter actions in past elections, is a yardstick to measure the racial issue in the upcoming election. This is the second of four articles in a series on voting analysis.)

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

ANN ARBOR — Perhaps the darkest part of the shadow cast by the American voter when he steps into the polling booth is his personal prejudice—his dislikes, his hates.

These are the critical ghosts of an election — the voter's strong feelings about a situation or an element of the candidate's personality.

★ ★ ★

In 1960, it was John F. Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion. In other years before that the list had included questions of divorce, religion or personality traits.

In 1964, a critical question underlying the election may be the public attitude on race, integration and civil violence.

HARD TO MEASURE

Such an issue is ghostly only because it is hard to measure. The voter's prejudices are seldom plumbed—they are guessed at.

The Democratic and Republican parties reflect this.

★ ★ ★

Says Prof. Angus Campbell of the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social research—

"The parties won't align on civil rights. It's too dangerous."

"In Europe, each party courts its own people—the farmers, the factory workers — and it cares much less about anyone else," Campbell explained. "But in the United States, both parties are trying to win over everybody—and will do nothing to irritate anyone."

BEST MEASURE

Perhaps the best current measure of the racial attitudes of at least some voters has been the votes for Alabama's segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace — campaigning in Democratic presidential primaries in the North on the issue of state's rights.

Does the American voter really consider state's rights an issue?

★ ★ ★

Not likely, Campbell said. "Federal encroachment — real or imagined—is not a great public issue. Every time you ask the voter if he wants some federal program like Social Security, he invariably says yes."

"My guess is that the larger part of the Wallace vote is a resistance to the changing racial picture."

RACIAL ACTIVITY

Actually most of the racial activity on the public scene has come since 1960.

Perhaps its first major overt mention was in the 1960 campaign—when Republican Henry Cabot Lodge said his party would put a Negro in the Cabinet, and John F. Kennedy made his celebrated telephone call to the wife of a jailed integrationist Negro minister, the Rev. Martin Luther King.

★ ★ ★

But the 1960 national interviews by SRC, the voter was not preoccupied with the race question. When the 250 SRC interviewers asked what voters liked or disliked about individual parties and candidates, they found that for many voters there was one overriding issue — the fact that John F. Kennedy was a Catholic.

It won Kennedy 80 per cent of the Catholic vote — against some 70 per cent a non-Catholic Democrat might expect normally.

NET LOSS

But the SRC analysts say it resulted in a net loss to Kennedy of something over two million votes—as projected by such answers as these to SRC interviewers:

"I'm afraid Kennedy is going to win. It's going to be close. I was raised a Democrat. I have always been a Democrat. Kennedy is smart and as far as I know he'd be all right in a lot of ways, but I hope he don't get in. If we get under the heel of the Pope, I don't know where we could go next time."

Or this comment from a Democrat, a Louisiana woman who admitted knowing little about either candidate: "Well, the only thing I can say is that he's a Catholic and I just don't think I can vote for a Catholic."

Or this white man from Alabama with weak allegiance to the Democratic party: "Two things make me want to vote against Kennedy. His religion and his lack of experience in world affairs."

PAPAL INFLUENCE

Or an Ohio woman, a Democrat throughout her life: "I think our president should take orders from this country. I don't think they should take orders from the Pope. As far as that goes I'm a Protestant and that is why I am upset over the man the Democrats picked out."

★ ★ ★

Many Democrats singled out the question of religion and dismissed it as being silly or not relevant to the election. Some Catholics thought Kennedy should play down his religion as much as possible, and one said he felt it would not only hurt Kennedy's chances, but the attitude toward Catholicism as well.

And, oddly, as if they were some barometer of public sentiment themselves, many voters told SRC interviewers intuitively that it would be a close race.

Nevertheless, one statistic that emerged from the 1960 election was that Kennedy had raised the Democratic share of the presidential vote 8 percentage points —from Adlai E. Stevenson's 42 per cent share in 1956.

PARTY LOYALTY

Campbell concludes that the short-term forces which had been at work in 1956—and given Dwight D. Eisenhower his whopping 18 per cent of the popular vote—had not held. And many persons reverted to their original party loyalty in 1960.

But on closer look, analysts found that the 6 per cent who voted for Richard M. Nixon after voting for Stevenson in 1956 were largely Democrats who obeyed the short-term force of anti-Catholicism to switch parties.

It is another example, the SRC experts said, of short-term forces causing a vote shift in a major election among people with both strong and weak party allegiance.

In other words, a voter's strong dislike can for the space of his one vote switch him to the opposition party, despite his avowed belief in the other party.

There were signs in 1960 that the race situation was affecting some voters, notably in the South.

The interviewers found such responses as these:

★ ★ ★

"I don't think we have many Democrats any more. The old Democratic party was a white party. Now look at what we've got—nothing."

Kennedy "makes too much of the racial issue."

As a prime force — the kind that can decide elections —the racial attitude is one ghost behind the 1964 election.

Schools Can't Do It All

Develop Student's Creativity at Home

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Home and parents are being returned to their rightful place of major importance in the education of children.

NASON

Fostering creativity is a prime example of what parents can do.

So many of the activities in school — uniform assignments, single-answer tests, grades based on uniform behavior — call for conformity. In fact, this type of activity absorbs practically all available school time.

Every child's vacation time should include self-initiated projects, time for thinking and reading. For the child to have a well-balanced life, vacation days should include time for these things, plus tasks in which the child must conform to the living pattern of the family.

Researchers in the field of education are convinced that all persons are born with potential creativity. Some just have more than others.

If each child had the opportunity and encouragement, he could make the most of his own talents. Parents are the key figures in a new emphasis in this field.

★ ★ ★

When creativity is crowded out in the school, it can be fostered at home. It is not a matter of one or the other. There is a place for conformity.

But at the same time parents should arrange situations which encourage creativity.

HOME IS PLACE

Home should be a place where a child can feel free to try his hand at new things. It is understandable that a shy child will avoid possible failure in the midst of 30 or 40 children.

But a child who never wants to try is losing his creativity.

In some part of a child's day during the summer he should not only be left somewhat to his own devices, but also should be encouraged to select his own projects.

Some mothers devote the one or two hours in the heat of a summer day when the child should be indoors to this project. Others select the time just before the evening meal, when they need to know just where the youngster is, but, at the same time, must turn attention to household tasks.

★ ★ ★

Somewhere in the household there should be an area where materials are available for use according to whatever creative urge a child has.

ART MATERIAL

Pencils, paper, crayons, salt and flour mixtures, modeling clay, paste and many other articles are available around the house at no extra cost and can be set aside for use.

A basket of small scraps from a cabinet shop will ha tube of glue can end up as automobiles, ships or castles, for example.

Libraries have books that give mothers many helpful suggestions.

By OSWALD JACOBY

South won the first trick with dummy's ace of spades. After a pause to study the play, South cashed two of dummy's high diamonds in order to discard his second spade.

JACOBY

Then he cashed the ace of hearts and ruffed a second heart with dummy's three of trumps.

This gave him five tricks in and left him with a perfect cross-ruff situation for the last eight because all trumps in each hand were now high. He showed his hand and claimed.

North and South felt that they should have reached seven.

North contended that when he went out of his way to rebid diamonds before showing his strong club support, South could have afforded to bid seven clubs.

South felt that North could have afforded to bid six clubs instead of only five.

I was drawn into the discussion and felt that there were a lot of ways to reach seven, but that neither partner had brought up the one bad bid of the hand.

I am probably getting old-fashioned, but it seems to me that there was no reason for North to rebid one spade on a three card suit when he had a natural two club rebid.

Had North made that logical rebid, South would probably have jumped to four clubs.

North then could have bid four spades. This could be read as a cue bid showing the ace. Then South might well have gone right to the grand slam.

Incidentally, if West had opened a trump, South would still have made seven, even though the play would not have been quite as simple.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

What do you do?

A—Bid three diamonds. You have a maximum two-heart bid and if your partner is interested in a slam you are ready to move with him.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues with a bid of four hearts. What do you do now?

OUT OUR WAY

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Hold off on expansion, money decisions, collecting and asserting. Constructs changing. Go with tide by being PLIABLE. Applies to personal as well as professional activities. Be OBSERVANT.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Be as practical as possible. Promises are easy, but this is day when facts should be laid bare. If you are not . . . be suspicious! Fine for permitting your "stubborn" qualities to come to fore!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Be aware of necessity to "compromise." "Sure things" are not so certain. In plain words, be mature and wise! Applies especially to dealings with members of opposite sex. Key: REFLECTION.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Get facts in order. Be logical. Don't attempt to skip details. One who urges caution speaks sense. Later relax. But don't go overboard! Key for evening is MODERATION.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Suggestions, offers are apt to be superfluous. Maintain courage of personal convictions. Get basic details in order. Be ready to present "format." Trust only your own judgment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Sift through various sources of information and separate fact from fancy. Be ready to make changes. Don't permit pride to stand in way of progress. Applies especially to romantic activity.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You are able to project plans clearly. You need not have outlay of cash to be creative. Move ahead with confidence. Discard notions that sap optimism. Look to future instead of past.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Puzzles due to be solved. But one close to you may sound objections. Where money is involved . . . be very conservative! Your own worth, contributions should not be overlooked.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Friendship, hope — these are qualities which you should now seriously evaluate. Question of "psychic income" is important. If you are unhappy — the price can never be high enough.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Your natural sense of right and wrong serves as wonderful guide. Key is limiting what you do. Living up to obligations may not be easy . . . but feeling of job well done is worth it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Good lunar aspect highlights travel, reading-spreading influence. Utilize IMAGINATION. Be creative. Break from tradition is necessary. Now you can come through crucial change with flying colors.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Be sure ideas are practical. Associates apt to be super-sensitive. You must be careful to explain position clearly. Might be wise to hold off on journeys. Wait for more propitious time.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: You have qualities which attract others to you with their problems, questions. You could excel as lawyer, one who serves public—and you would make wonderful host in night club or restaurant.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Question of spending or saving attracts wide attention with the "spenders" winning out.

Canada Firm's Lock Bid Low

DETROIT (AP)—A Canadian firm apparently outbid five United States companies Tuesday in offering to build the major part of a huge new Poe Lock at Sault Ste. Marie for $21,471,690.

★ ★ ★

The bid of McNamara Construction of Manitoba, Limited, was $2 million less than the lowest figure submitted by any American firm, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers reported.

★ ★ ★

A contract may be awarded as soon as July 1, Engineers Capt. Edgar Newlin said.

★ ★ ★

Excavation, he added, could begin this summer. The new lock, a total $40 million project, will create a fourth pathway through the Great Lakes by connecting Lakes Superior and Huron. Three other locks are in use at the Soo. The old Poe Lock was torn down for the new project.

6 Pigeons Find New Home in Georgia Motel

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An Atlanta motel operator is being overrun with lost homing pigeons.

It wasn't so bad at first with only one on the premises. But now there are six and more coming.

Margareta Gamma knows they're homing pigeons because some of them have tags on their legs.

The pigeons may be lost but they haven't lost their wits. They're roosting on the kitchen.

Actor Fined for Part in Bias Demonstration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Actor Sterling Hayden was fined $220 and placed on probation for a year yesterday for participating in a civil rights demonstration at a San Francisco automobile agency last March.

★ ★ ★

Hayden, who had pleaded "no contest" to a charge of trespassing, was warned by Municipal Court Judge Leo Freidman to avoid taking part in any civil rights demonstration while he is on probation.

Ruby's Lawyers Delay Plea for Sanity Hearing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's lawyers have concentrated their efforts on appealing his conviction and death sentence for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald.

★ ★ ★

Judge Joe B. Brown Tuesday granted a request by Clayton Fowler, head of the Ruby defense team, to postpone indefinitely a motion for a sanity hearing.

★ ★ ★

Ruby's previous counsel had asked for the hearing, contending that Ruby had deteriorated mentally since his March 14 conviction for killing the accused presidential assassin.

Motors Among Leaders

Strong Burst Boosts Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's upward drive continued with increased vigor today despite some profit taking and losses for some of the oral birth-control issues.

Motors, steels, rails, aerospace issues, oils and nonferrous metals were among the gainers.

It was the sixth market advance in seven sessions.

★ ★ ★

The list was higher from the start but scattered selling of recent gainers trimmed the overall rise. As the session wore on, however, the heavy industrial issues remained solidly ahead.

UPSET BY REPORT

G. D. Searle, maker of the birth control pill, Enovid, was upset by a news report that Enovid speeds development of cancers already present in laboratory animals. A spokesman for Searle said the report is at variance with other information. Some other makers of oral birth control drugs took losses, among them Syntex which fell sharply on the American Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 307.7 with industrials up 1.3, rails up .6 and utilities unchanged.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged in light dealings over the counter.

Firm Reports Sales Increase

Net sales of Hughes & Hatcher, Inc., for the first 13 weeks of the year increased 21 per cent compared to the same period last year, according to the interim report to stockholders released yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Net income showed a 49 per cent increase in the first four months, totaling $240,009 after estimated federal taxes, or 46 cents per share. The company paid 31 cents per share in the same period of 1963.

SALES INCREASE

Net sales for the first 13 weeks were $6,140,718, compared to $5,061,732 in the first four months of 1963.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to stockholders, Bernard E. Pincus, president of the firm, announced that Hughes & Hatcher had purchased Oppenheim's, Inc., a clothing store located in Jackson.

NEGOTIATE LEASE

At the same time, a lease was also negotiated for a store in a shopping center near Jackson, according to Pincus.

Commodity Market Adopts Slow Pace

CHICAGO (AP) —Transactions were at an unusually slow pace today in early activity on the Board of Trade and prices of most contracts scarcely budged from previous closes.

Brokers said speculators appeared to be standing aside, awaiting some new market influences as inducement to trade any commodity.

Wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel lower to ½ higher, July new grade $1.45⅝; corn ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, July $1.22½; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, July 60⅞ cents; rye ⅛ to ⅝ lower, July $1.23¾; soybeans ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July $2.74¾.

Car-Rail Crash Injures Man

An Oak Park man suffered pelvis and rib fractures yesterday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with a Grand Trunk freight train on Joslyn in Orion Township.

In fair condition at William Beaumont Hospital following the 3 p.m. accident is Robert S. Landy, 51, of 24751 Radcliff.

Landy told sheriff's deputies that it was not until he had nearly reached the tracks, just north of Judah, that he heard the train whistle.

The signal bells at the crossing were operating, but there is no warning light, according to deputies.

Tax Cut Successes Spur New Revisions

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—First economic fruits of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

DAWSON

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

★ ★ ★

The administration is reported studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

IMMEDIATE TASK

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter — the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These wartime taxes have been on a year to year basis.

★ ★ ★

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

★ ★ ★

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

MINUS COST

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.

★ ★ ★

Next year the corporate income tax rate will drop to 48 per cent. But advocates of the value-added tax say a 2 per cent rate would bring in enough revenue to let the corporate income tax drop to 38 per cent. This, they argue, would make investment for expansion much more attractive and give the economy another boost.

Those who don't like any form of federal excise or sales tax aren't likely to cotton to the value-added version either. But having tasted one tax cut, both the public and Congress are more interested now in any debate over other tax changes that seem to promise economic goodies.

(Q) "My husband and I own 250 shares of E. J. Brach & Sons. We also own 40 Textron. My husband would like to get out of the market altogether, but I feel we should hold Textron and some of the Brach. He expects to retire in a year or so. We have $2,000 in savings and a fully-paid house. What is your opinion?" E. H.

(A) I agree with you.

Brach & Sons is a leading maker of popular priced candies with a good record of growth. Textron operates in many fields and has been building a strong earnings base. Share net has been up in each of the past two years and seems likely to rise again this year.

I would hold 100 Brach and all the Textron, to provide you with a measure of protection against inflation in your retirement years.

(Q) "I am 67, retired on pension, have $1,200 in savings and am paying on my house. My holdings consist of 25 Container Corp., 115 Flying Tiger, 80 Tennessee Gas Transmission, 30 American Motors, 50 Continental Can, 30 General Telephone, 10 Standard Oil of New Jersey, 70 National Distillers. My objective is income. How could I improve my lot?" R. C.

(A) You have a pretty good list and not much in the way of change is indicated.

Your Flying Tiger Line pays no cash dividend, operated at a deficit last year, and seems too speculative for you. I would sell this stock and use the proceeds to build up savings, which seem rather low.

American Motors has been losing its share of the market, and earnings declined in the first quarter of 1964. Although the return here is high, I believe you would be safer with Atchison Railway, yielding 4.6 per cent.

Novi Due Engine Plant

$300,000 Expansion Set

Perkins Engines, Inc., North American affiliate of F. Perkins, Ltd., of England, is relocating its headquarters in Novi in a $300,000 expansion move.

The announcement was made yesterday by M. I. Prichard, managing director of the parent firm.

Major alterations will be made in a 20,000-square-foot plant located on five acres at 27676 Wixom for the consolidation of all important Perkins operations, Prichard said.

The company presently shares quarters with Massey-Ferguson, Inc., at 12345 Kercheval in Detroit.

Prichard said the expansion results from increased interest of American manufacturers in diesel power.

MAJOR SUPPLIER

Perkins supplies engines to Dodge, White Motors, International Havester, Kaiser Jeep, Massey-Ferguson and manufacturers of boats, mobile refrigeration units, fork - lift trucks and other industrial vehicles.

General manager of the Novi Perkins firm will be R. H. Jansa, who will also supervise Canadian operations now being reinstated.

PHILIP CALDWELL

Heads Ford Truck Sales, Engineering

A Ford Motor Co. executive from Bloomfield Township has been named to the newly created post of truck operations manager.

In announcing the appointment, Ford Division general manager Lee A. Iacocca said Philip Caldwell, 3755 Peabody, will be responsible for planning and engineering of all Ford trucks, and for marketing and sale of Ford heavy and extra-heavy duty trucks.

Caldwell was formerly assistant general manager of the company's General Parts Division. He joined Ford in 1953.

Iacocca said the truck operations position was created "in recognition of the growth of the truck market and its changing and specialized nature which require increased management attention."

★ ★ ★

Activities reporting to Caldwell will include truck product planning under J. F. McLean of 516 Waddington, Bloomfield Township; truck engineering under Robert W. Gaines, 2567 Stoodleigh, Avon Township; truck sales and marketing under Rupert F. Lewis, 1685 Wabeek Way, Bloomfield Township; and the heavy truck special order department under Richard A. Huber of Louisville, Ky.

Hits Dog, Then Dies

COMMACK, N. Y. (AP)—Cecilia Lynch, 65, of Stony Brook, N.Y., died at the wheel of her car yesterday, apparently of a heart attack from the shock of having struck a dog.

Witnesses told police she got out, looked at the animal, returned to the car and collapsed.

The dog got up and ran away.

Connally Wins in Texas Rift

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. John Connally, a former aide to President Johnson, was in firm control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention today after a brief but sharp skirmish with admirers of U.S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

Connally's conservatives overwhelmed the liberals, 2,137-664, in the crucial test roll call vote at yesterday's Texas Democratic convention.

The victory also gave Connally, manager of Johnson's unsuccessful 1960 campaign to the party's presidential nomination, a firm grasp on state party machinery the next two years.

The Connally convention not only named the former secretary of Navy as chairman of the state's 120-member national convention delegation but adopted a watered-down "We love Lyndon" resolution the governor's forces had spent hours in drafting.

★ ★ ★

Yarborough, who flew back to Washington after speaking at a pre-convention liberal rally Monday night, earlier had demanded he and Connally serve as cochairmen of the national delegation and the state body pledge unyielding support not only for Johnson but the national convention's platform as well.

NO WRANGLE

Party officials made no effort to hide the fact Johnson had made it clear he did not want his home state convention to get into a wrangle over the national platform.

The Johnson resolution, approved with only mild applause called for enthusiastic support of the President but made no reference to the platform.

Johnson and Yarborough have openly feuded in the past but have sought roles as peacemakers since the death of President John F. Kennedy.

Yarborough twice refused to ride in the same limousine with Johnson last Nov. 21, the day before Kennedy's death.

Panama Terrorists Use 3 More Bombs

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Terrorists set off a bomb here Monday night and tried to blow up an automobile in David, capital of Chiriqui Province, it was reported today.

No one was hurt and damage was minor.

A bomb thrown from a passing car into a residential street here failed to explode.

The bomb in David, found under the carpet in the front seat of a car belonging to a railway superintendent's son, apparently failed to explode because of a damp fuse.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE — Bernard Baruch, City College alumnus of class of 1889, repeats pose of background portrait during yesterday's ceremony in which he was made an honorary member of the class of 1964. The 92-year-old financier and adviser to presidents said it was "very heartening indeed that after 75 years where people could have seen my mistakes they still feel that I deserve" such an honor.

New Death Hits Family; Son Drowns

HARTFORD, Ala. (AP) — The Huey Chandlers faced a new tragedy today—the loss of a fourth child by accident.

Twins Mary and Martha, 3, burned to death in 1955 when the family's parked car caught fire. The next year, the Chandlers were notified their son Billy Gene had been killed in an automobile accident in Texas.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday, David Chandler, 18, and three friends went fishing. The boat capsized and David and Carl Williams, also 18, drowned.

The Chandlers have five surviving children.

The name Sahara comes from the Arabic word "sahra" meaning desert.

Driver Gets 6-Month Term

A Pontiac man found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in a traffic accident that claimed three lives has been sentenced to six months in jail.

Sentence for Samuel E. Funderburk, 32, of 28 Whitfield was given yesterday by Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt.

Judge Pratt ordered the term, to be served in the county jail, as the first part of a five-year probation.

Funderburk was found guilty by a jury May 22. He was charged with the death of Mrs. Arden Bigham, 31, of 490 Emerson.

She was the driver of a station wagon struck by a pickup truck being driven by Funderburk on Walton near Shagbark in Avon Township Feb. 6.

Also killed in the crash was Elaine M. Allen, 25, of 296 First, Mrs. Bigham's passenger. Charles Waltman, 51, of 2215 E. Walton, Pontiac Township, owner of the truck who was riding with Funderburk, died 16 days later from injuries.

Prison Sentence Set for Robber of Pontiac Store

A 2-to-15 year prison term was ordered yesterday for a 20-year-old Pontiac man found guilty of armed robbery.

* * *

Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn ordered the sentence for Arithur Thomas, 67 Florida, for his part in the holdup of a Pontiac store April 2.

Thomas was one of two men who robbed Earl Shivlie, owner of Earl's Market, 101 State, taking $183 in cash and a watch. He was found guilty by a jury on May 28.

Thomas had been sentenced to serve one year in the county jail in March, 1963, for violating terms of his probation dating from a 1961 conviction for unlawfully taking an automobile.

His accomplice in the store robbery is still sought by police.

Avon Man Free on Bond in Shooting

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A 33-year-old Avon Township man was released on $5,000 bond Monday after being charged with assault with intent to commit murder in the shooting of Eddie R. Houck, 21, of 2836 Gravel Ridge.

Kenneth D. Tubbs of 2638 Emmons was arraigned in Macomb County Justice Court before Justice Francis A. Castellucci.

Examination is set for June 23.

The accused was charged with shooting Houck below the heart in an argument in front of Tony's Drive-In, 2790 Auburn, early Saturday morning.

1- to 50-Year Term Set for Area Man

Convicted of the statutory rape of a 6-year-old girl, a Commerce Township man was given a 1-to-50 year prison term Monday by Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Remanded to Southern Michigan prison at Jackson was Wayne Parsons, 25, of 371 W. Beechdale.

He was found guilty by a jury on May 28. Police said the assault took place Feb. 29 in Commerce Township.

In Fair Condition With Broken Leg

A Pontiac man is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a fractured leg after a wood wall he was helping erect in Independence Township fell on him.

Boyd Tucker, 137½ Oakland, was admitted to the hospital shortly after the 12 noon accident on Kingfisher near Maybee.

Another worker, William Overfield, 3546 David K., Waterford Township, was treated and released.

Sheriff's deputies said the men were hoisting a 36-foot wall in place when it slipped off the foundation.

Restaurant and Drive-In
Here is a real "Money Maker!" Its location and attractive buildings give it that eye-appeal that attracts trade. The excellent equipment and step-saving layout gives you low operating costs and assures you way above average profits for this type operation. If you're experienced in this business, then one look and you know you can net every year the $25,000 down that makes it years.

EAT IN OR CARRY OUT
You can specialize on both trades here and that keeps the cash register full. Equipped to "seat and eat" 40 patrons, but its modern fast-cook equipment lets you service the take-out, which is so popular today. Your investment is $10,000 and your return on your investment can be fantastic.

GROCERY and SDM
An ideal business for a married couple. This small busy store has modern fixtures and nets you a profit for modern living. Present owners are retiring and have made the down payment small so that another deserving couple can continue this fine business. A real opportunity knocks here for some lucky pair with the $6,000 down payment on a secure future.

HARDWARE and SUPPLIES
This busy, busy store has been in same location for 30 years. Customers come here because they know they can get service. Now having the largest monthly sales in the store's history. Owner must sell, yes, must sell within the next 30 days and has priced to move accordingly. For someone who knows the hardware business this is truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. Let's talk terms.

Fun Club Rolls Remain Open

Pontiac 'Y' Program Commences June 29

Applications from boys and girls 8-13 years of age still are being accepted for the six-week Summer Fun Club program sponsored by the Pontiac YMCA.

The program begins June 29 and ends Aug. 7.

John Miller, Fun Club director, said that the program is not limited to "Y" members or to children living in the city of Pontiac.

Boys meet at the "Y" building, 131 Mount Clemens, Monday and Friday, and girls, Tuesday and Thursday, from 8:45 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.

On Wednesday, both boys and girls meet at 8:30 a. m. to take charter bus trips to points of interest.

The Fun Club, however, is primarily a building center program with swimming instructions, outdoor games and creative crafts.

The registration is $10 for "Y" members and $12 for non-members. The fee includes their craft materials and all instruction but not the cost of the trips.

State Holiday Driving: 636 Million Miles!

LANSING (AP) — Some 1.53 million cars drove an estimated 636 million miles on Michigan Highways during the five days surrounding Memorial Day, the State Highway Department reports. This was a 5.4 per cent increase over the same period last year, the department said.

AP Photofax

HISTORIC LICENSE — Sec. of State James Hare (kneeling) helps attach the first set of historical license plates ever awarded by Michigan to a 1936 Reo touring car, the first auto ever owned by the Michigan Historical Commission. With Hare are Mrs. Betty Adams, Drayton Plains, chairman of the commission, and Solon Weeks, director of the state historical museum.

Priest's Rights Stand Seen as Unchanged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A face-to-face confrontation with the Catholic archdiocese apparently has not altered Rev. William H. DuBay's criticism of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre's civil rights policy.

The priest, who put his criticism in writing to Pope Paul VI last Thursday, conferred yesterday at archdiocese headquarters with the chancellor or chief administrative officer, Msgr. Benjamin E. Hawks.

He emerged from the 35-minute conference smiling, but relatively silent. "No comment," was his answer to most questions.

When asked if still a priest, DuBay, assistant pastor of St. Albert the Great Church in nearby Compton, replied: "My collar's still on."

★ ★ ★

DuBay, 29, did not confront the cardinal, who is in retreat until Friday night at St. John's Seminary.

RELIEVED OF DUTIES

DuBoy was relieved of administrative duties in his predominately Negro parish last week after he asked that the cardinal be removed from the office of archbishop of Los Angeles.

After the conference, one of DuBay's friends said the slight bespectacled priest had not changed his stand on the cardinal's removal.

"I think I, as a friend, can state that he reaffirms his petition to have the cardinal removed," said Roger Kuhn, a schoolteacher.

★ ★ ★

Before entering the conference, DuBay said he bore a letter in which he reaffirmed his loyalty to the church.

CHANCERY SUMMONS

He said the chancery, rather than the cardinal, had summoned him.

★ ★ ★

The chancery declined to comment on the meeting, however.

★ ★ ★

Following DuBay's conference yesterday, a Catholic lay group — the Catholic Human Relations Council of Los Angeles — dispatched a telegram urging an investigation by Archbishop Ezidio Vagnozzi, the Vatican's official representative in Washington, D.C.

State to Create 'Disaster Plan'

LANSING (AP) — Michigan today has a contract with the federal government to develop a state plan for speedy recovery from nuclear attack or natural disaster.

Gov. George W. Romney signed the contract Tuesday. The contract, authorized by the the legislature this year, permits the State Department of Administration to use up to $63,200 in federal funds in the next 20 months to develop the plan.

The National Governor's Conference has asked all states to undertake seriously the development of such emergency plans.

Romney last year named State Controller Glenn Allen Jr. emergency planning director and established an emergency planning board, made up of the heads of major departments and representatives from industry.

Teen Assaulter Given Sentence

A 17-year-old youth who assaulted a Waterford Township housewife was placed on five years probation yesterday, the first six months to be served in the county jail.

Sentencing of Elwin Earl Peel, 2302 N. Shaker, Waterford Township, was before Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt.

Peel pleaded guilty to felonious assault May 20 when an earlier charge of assault with intent to rape was dismissed.

Police said the incident took place April 8 when Peel gained admission to the woman's home on pretext of making a phone call.

Young NY Press Agent Presses for Dad's Award

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — New York's getting a lot of undeserved raps about the handling of the crowds panting in here to see the World's Fair.

WILSON

We DO have a hospitable city (I keep saying). Naturally, Kirk Douglas, Robert Horton, Milton Berle or Carroll Baker in the transparent "Carpetbaggers" gown will get hospitality . . . but . . .

Little people get hospitality, too. I decided to help American Express and the Be My Guest service give Guestmanship awards.

My awardees include El Morocco. Has it upped its prices for its unique sidedish, baked potato with caviar? It has NOT!

"The price is still only $12.50," said Angelo and Joe the other morning with great firmness. With another scoop of caviar, it would only be about $20, and what more can anybody ask?

★ ★ ★

Seriously, though . . . the phone operators in the hotels, the subway token-sellers, the cops, are trying.

A little girl, Audrey Robin Mazur, 2748 E. 63d St. Brooklyn, suggested I give her dad, Bernard Mazur, a cab driver, an award. He'd recently given a blind man a long taxi ride free.

"Would you give me more details?" I asked her.

She thought I wanted more reasons.

"My daddy," she said, "picked up a woman passenger last winter during a terrible snowstorm . . . was blocked by snowdrifts everywhere . . . the woman had no place to go as she was trying to visit her son . . . my daddy brought her home to stay the night with us . . the next day my Daddy took her to her son."

★ ★ ★

Bernard Mazur gets one of my awards. Quite a city, New York, where a taxi driver has a press agent—his daughter.

Burton to Finance Hemophilia Study

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Richard Burton, who says "I've been a bleeder all my life," has announced that he's setting up a fund to finance research on hemophilia.

There is no known way to cure or control the blood disorder.

Burton told a news conference yesterday his case was relatively mild, but that two of his brothers nearly died from excessive bleeding after tonsillectomies.

Ontario Teens Killed by Train

WINDSON, Ont. (UPI) — Two Essex, Ont., youths were killed last night when a Canadian Pacific Day Liner passenger train slammed into the side of their car at a crossing.

Windsor Provincial Police said the train was traveling about 85 miles an hour at the time of the collision. The first unit of the three-unit train was derailed and tore up tracks for nearly one mile.

However, police said there were no serious injuries among the 45 passengers and five crewmen. The train was en route from Windsor to Toronto.

The youths were Donald L. Byrne, 18, and Edward C. Laframboise, 15.

Police said the accident happened before the horrified eyes of Francis E. Laframboise, 45, father of the younger victim.

St. Augustine, Fla., founded in 1565, is the oldest permanent settlement on the United States mainland.

Detroiters Invent Futuristic 'Tube Trolley' Transit System

DETROIT (AP) — A completely automated rapid transit system which would provide each passenger with his own vehicle has been revealed to city officials by a group of Detroit inventors.

The revolutionary system operated entirely by computers, would involve individual cars moving on tracks enclosed in elevated metal tubes, seven feet in diameter. Each car has room for two passengers.

★ ★ ★

"It left me amazed," said Leonard J. Harding, vice chairman of the Detroit Rapid Transit Commission. "The idea of shooting people through tubes is fantastic—a storybook idea."

The system, named "Teletrans," was conceived by Kenneth Crowder, a Detroit engineer. He heads a four-man combine which hopes to market the plan under the name of Tradel Associates Inc.

NO MODEL

Crowder said his group has built a prototype of the car and 30 feet of track, but added it would cost too much to build a model. He said a nationally known firm has offered to underwrite costs up to $25 million for any city that wants to build a system.

The Tradel group claims the system is fast, efficient and safe because it reduces human error to a minimum by computer operation.

★ ★ ★

Compared to other mass transportation systems, Teletrans is inexpensive, Crowder said. He cited cost of subways of up to $20 million a mile, and six lane freeways $10 million a mile compared to $2.1 million for Teletrans. This, he said, includes computers, cars and stations for the tube system.

EXPLAINS SYSTEM

Stevens explained the system to newsmen this way:

Each station would be equipped with maps, outlining the entire system. The passenger puts his fare in a slot, and selects his destination on a push-button board. A ticket pops out. The passenger drops the ticket in a slot in an empty car, pushes an activating lever, and would be on his way. If two persons are going to the same destination, they can ride for the price of one.

★ ★ ★

The car moves out of the loading station and into the main tube. Maxmum speed would be governed at 45 miles an hour. When the car reaches the preselected destination, it would be automatically switched to the loading station and slowed to a stop.

★ ★ ★

The speed and tube windows could be coordinated so that passengers get a constant view of the passing city. This is likened to individual frames going through a movie projector and producing a continuous picture.

The cars can be heated or air-conditioned.

MAYOR ENCOURAGING

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said he had "encouraged these people in their thinking."

Harding added that the Rapid Transit Commission is interested. But he added that it would require study.

★ ★ ★

"The low cost is interesting to us," he said, "and I think the design of the tube over the roadway would be acceptable to most people."

Harding said a rapid transit bill now pending in Washington might provide funds for a study and for construction of an experimental line.

An enthusiastic supporter of the plan is Charles A. Delbridge, executive director of the Central Business District Association.

"I think it's the breakthrough that will save downtowns all over the country," he said. "It will lick the problems of privacy and speed that will make mass transportation attractive to everyone."

★ ★ ★

A 45 mile-an-hour system, with 266 cars per mile, would move 9,000 cars an hour operating at 75 per cent capacity, Crowder estimates. He added that a modern freeway will move 5,000 cars an hour. The advantage over the subway or monorail, he said, is that no one would have to wait for other passengers, or make unwanted stops.

Americans Feel Guilty, Still Drink

CHICAGO (UPI)—Americans have deep guilt feelings about their excessive drinking habits but not enough to make them quit, a Duke University sociologist says.

Dr. George L. Maddox Jr., Durham, N. C., told the Institute on Alcohol Studies at Loyola University yesterday that Americans are faced with a contradictory attitude rooted in their Puritan heritage.

"The Protestant ethic made suspect things that were not utilitarian and drinking certainly didn't look like work," Maddox said.

"The heritage was coupled with a strong emphasis on individual control and personal responsibility."

American's "deep suspicion" of anything related to play, Maddox said, has led to drinking problems peculiar to this nation which often result in the disruption of family life.

WHAT, WHERE, WHOM

"When an adult has deep misgivings about his own indulgence in alcohol and feels what he is doing is not quite right, he has a hard time telling his children as to who drinks what, where and with whom," he said.

★ ★ ★

Maddox, a consultant on alcohol studies for the National Institute of Mental Health, said lack of family understanding on drinking accounts for at least 6 per cent of young adults not being able to handle their alcohol.

In five wills Cecil Rhodes who built an empire in South Africa, strove to extend that empire throughout the world. However, in his sixth, he laid aside his grandiose schemes and created the financial foundation for education.

Barry Past Magic Number

Michigan Officials Await Court Word on Apportionment

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney and other key state officials were keeping their schedules open today for a conference to plan the state's next moves on legislative redistricting and elections scheduling.

Awaited was a ruling from the Michigan Supreme Court, which—armed with "guidelines" on apportionment from the U.S. Supreme Court — was prepared to take up the question for the second time.

Officials were trying privately to outguess each other on what the court will do, in light of the U.S. court's historic decisions calling for legislatures apportioned according to population.

But the main question, where Romney, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, Secretary of State James Hare and others were concerned, was how a new decision would affect the state's 1964 election plans.

They and a score of officials and legislators conferred for more than an hour on the subject of apportionment and elections yesterday.

★ ★ ★

In the end they agreed only that the alternatives are so many, and so varied, that there was no point in trying to make plans until the court acts.

QUICK CONFERENCE

Romney said he would consider postponing a scheduled trip to Marquette to be available for another quick conference in the event a court ruling should come today.

Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh had said earlier he expected the court, convening at 11 a.m., would have a decision by tomorrow noon at the latest.

Romney and Republican legislators appeared hopeful that the court, in following the U.S. Supreme Court's edict for population-based apportionment, also would see fit to postpone its effectiveness.

Drive Widened by Scranton

To Seek Delegates in Utah, Kentucky

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton today broadened his flying quest for Republican convention delegates to include Utah and Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

The 46-year-old candidate put Salt Lake City on his itinerary for tomorrow and Louisville on the Friday schedule.

The new scheduling came as the governor embarked today on another 1,500-mile safari for convention support in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

On the docket today were St. Louis, Mo. and Denver, Colo.

★ ★ ★

Scranton and his weary, but hard-driving staff, showed increased optimism they could overtake Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who leads the Associated Press poll of GOP convention delegates with 674 votes —more than enough to capture the nomination at San Francisco next month if all of the commitments to him hold up on the first ballot.

MORE IMPETUS

"I think the impetus of our campaign is better than we expected at this time," Scranton said last night after a meeting with Minnesota delegates.

Scranton said he expects to see "some shifts next week" in the alignment of national delegate strength.

The governor contacted 14 of Minnesota's 26 delegates yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Five of those who met with him previously indicated they favored Goldwater.

WORTHWHILE RESULTS

Scranton said the session "will lead to worthwhile results."

However, he declined to specify any numbers.

The current Associated Press poll showed that Minnesota's 26-vote delegation broke down this way: eight votes for favorite son Walter Judd, a former congressman; eight votes for Goldwater and 10 uncommitted.

★ ★ ★

Scranton's overnight visit to Minneapolis capped a day of long flying trips from Des Moines, Iowa, to Topeka, Kan., to Minneapolis.

'BIG D' DEMONSTRATION — Sen. Barry Goldwater (left) watches as Texas Republicans demonstrate with placards during his appearance yesterday at their Dallas convention. Goldwater is the front-running candidate for the GOP presidential nomination and has received a pledge of Texas' 56 votes for the national convention.

56 Texas Votes Hike Delegate Total to 674

Arizonan Is Fearful of Slippage Among Backers on His List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate strength has soared to 674, according to an Associated Press survey. If he hangs on to that total, he will win the Republican presidential nomination with 19 votes to spare.

Fifty-six votes pledged yesterday by Texas Republicans pushed the Arizona senator over the top — the 655 mark needed to win the big prize at the Republican National Convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

But after winning in Texas, Goldwater said the job is not done yet.

He said he still needs more delegates because of the danger of slippage from among the delegates now on his list.

PICKED UP 44

Scranton has picked up 44 delegates since he started his campaign last Friday with 84 first-ballot votes in his pocket.

But only one, in Pennsylvania, is known to have been a delegate who previously supported Goldwater.

Seventeen of Scranton's new votes have come from state conventions in Maryland and Connecticut, the remainder from delegates who were uncommitted or favored Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who this week threw his support behind Scranton.

Since Scranton's entry into the race, five delegates said they no longer favor Goldwater, including the one in Pennsylvania. But his losses have been more than offset by gains among other delegates who previously listed themselves as uncommitted.

In addition, the Arizona senator has won fresh support at state conventions since Scranton's announcement.

Economy Booming Is Capital Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The capital was abloom today with rosy reports on the nation's economy.

Jobs, personal income, manufacturing profits and production were up, and labor disputes down.

"Our economic prognosis is one of continued growth," declared President Johnson after a look at some of the figures and no doubt pleased at the prospect of having prosperity in an election year.

These were the findings by the various agencies yesterday after adding up and comparing percentages:

★ ★ ★

—The Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission reported the profits of manufacturing corporations were 27 per cent higher in the first three months of this year than last.

PROFITS RISE

Profits after taxes, the report added, were $5.12 billion, compared to $4.2 billion in the first quarter of 1963.

— Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said personal income rose to a seasonally adjusted rate of almost $485 billion in May, $25 billion above May 1963.

All was not cheers here, however, for the $1.25-billion gain was only slightly more than half of the April advance.

—The Federal Reserve Board reported that industrial production increased in May for the ninth consecutive month.

INCHES UP

Its index inched up from 129.6 in April to 130.3 — meaning the output of factories, mines and utilities is 30.3 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average, used as a base figure of 100.

The climb was about average for the past several months but, again, about half as much as April's.

The board said the May rise charted a further increase in the output of industrial equipment, a record flow of new automobiles and another jump in the production of furniture and other household goods.

The output of iron and steel was near last year's peak.

— The Federal Mediation Service reports the nation is enjoying one of its most peaceful periods of labor relations since World War II, with less working time lost to strikes than to coffee breaks.

Police Probing Fatal Fight

White Lake Twp. Man Dies After Quarrel

Waterford Township police today are investigating circumstances of a street fight that resulted in the death of a White Lake Township man.

★ ★ ★

Norman Batchelor, 44, of 8931 Tackles, died at 12:30 a.m. today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering injuries in a Monday night fight at Dixie and Andersonville, Waterford Township.

Batchelor stopped his pickup truck at the intersection, got out and attacked the driver of the car behind him with his fists, witnesses told police.

Douglas Edwin Marsh, 33, of 1445 Dewey, Oxford Township, driver of the car, told police that Batchelor struck him several times in the face.

★ ★ ★

Marsh added that he tried to hold Batchelor's hands and this caused Batchelor to lose his balance and fall in the street. An ambulance was called when Batchelor failed to get up.

DRIVING HOME

A maintenance employe of Fleet Carrier in Pontiac, Marsh said that he and his wife and their two children were driving toward home from Pontiac when the incident occurred at 7:30 p.m.

He said he honked at Batchelor's truck which he said was weaving into his lane as both

Continue Order Against Sit-In

Oakland County Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero today continued a temporary restraining order issued yesterday, preventing blocking of access to a water tank construction site in Waterford Township.

The injunction was obtained by Robert P. Allen, Oakland County corporation counsel to halt a 5-day sit-in at the site by residents of Lake Oakland Heights.

A hearing on the order had been set for 9 a.m. today.

Residents left the water tower site yesterday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Judge Dondero said that the continuation of the injunction imposes no restrictions on normal use by residents of Main where the sit-in was staged.

MUST REGULATE

Judge Dondero also ruled today that Oakland County, acting as agent for Waterford Township in the tank construction, must regulate the pile-driving machine on the site to curb excessive smoke.

Paul Valentino, attorney for the subdivision group, sought to enjoin any use of the machine. He said it caused a general nuisance situation by vibrating, cracking plaster and discharging excessively sooty smoke.

Judge Dondero repeated today what he told the county and township principals last November — that they continue construction of the tank at the peril of being ordered to tear it down.

★ ★ ★

RECALL SOUGHT

Meanwhile, residents of Lake Oakland Heights are in the process of obtaining recall petitions against Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin, Trustee John Coleman and possibly more board members.

Maynard Peters, spokesman for the group, said today that many persons are dissatisfied not only with the way the board has handled the tower issue, but also about several other matters.

Pontiac Chief Urges Closing City Fire Post

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White last night recommended closing the city's new northside fire station No. 6 on Walton near Baldwin stating there will be a lack of manpower to efficiently staff six fire companies.

White made the recommendation in a written report to City Manager John F. Reineck. The report went to city commissioners a few moments before their weekly meeting last night.

The chief based his recommendation on two main factors:

- A present shortage of four men in the fire department, operating six stations on the current 63-hour workweek.
- The fact that "it will take 12 (additional) men to put the 56-hour bill in effect and enjoy the same manpower that we now have."

The 56-hour work week for firemen was approved by voters on the April 20 general election ballot and goes into effect July 1.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners didn't comment on the report last night, largely because they hadn't had time to study it and form any opinions.

REQUIRES ACTION

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said after the meeting that "this will require administrative action, and at this point I'd say we'll turn it over to the new city manager."

The commission has set June 30 as target date for hiring a full-time manager.

In his report, White pointed out that the fire department has, in the past, maintained some companies with a minimum of manpower as recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters (NBFU).

Dog Pack Kills Sheep on Farm

21 Reported Mauled in Brandon Township

A pack of dogs was being hunted in Brandon Township today after it attacked or killed more than 20 sheep.

Oakland County Chief Deputy Dog Warden Donald Sheridan said the dogs are believed to be in the east portion of the township where they mauled 21 sheep owned by Dr. W. E. Lee, 4701 Granger.

Lee reported that he saw five dogs in the area yesterday. A woman said that she saw a grown female dog and her litter roaming the area recently.

The killed animals weighed from 60 to 175 pounds, according to Sheridan. In all, more than a ton of sheep was killed. They were valued at a total of $350.

Ten of the sheep were still alive when the sheriff's deputies arrived yesterday afternoon but had to be destroyed because they were too seriously injured.

COST OF SHEEP

Sheridan said an attempt will be made to find out if the dogs are owned so the person can be made liable for the cost of the sheep.

Otherwise, the county will pay for the sheep from dog license fees.

There have been instances where more sheep have been killed by dogs but not in recent years, according to Sheridan.

He said two men from the animal shelter would be searching the area until the dogs are found.

65 Drown in Michigan

LANSING (AP) — State police reported Monday that 65 persons have drowned and 17 others have been injured in water mishaps as of June 14. The death toll is up by 12 from a year ago.

Flash Floods Hit Omaha; Fear 5 Dead

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Flash floods swept through suburban Omaha last night, swallowing cars and trailer homes. At least five persons were feared dead.

Savage rainstorms dumped more than six inches of rain in the western portion of the city, hammered baseball-sized hail into drifts and sent streams roaring from their banks.

One-month-old twin girls who had only recently been brought from the hospital were feared to have perished when their mobile home was washed away from a trailer court and jammed under a bridge.

Their mother clung to a tree for three hours before being rescued. She was hospitalized while nearly 100 searchers looked for the infants. Their crib and some toys were all that had been found before dawn.

A minister's wife and her five-month-old child were seen being swept away by a wave of water in a residential area as they tried to escape from their home. Their bodies were also being sought.

FEARED TRAPPED

A man was feared trapped in his basement when the walls crashed down and the basement filled with water. The basement was being pumped out and the debris searched for his body.

Reports of dramatic escapes were legion, including one of a 17-year-old girl who battled the floodwaters until her strength gave out. When she let go of a tree, her feet miraculously touched ground and she scrambled to safety.

10 Children Came First

Gets His Diploma Late

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Handyman Daniel Elmore, 72, graduates from high school today.

He is a little late getting his diploma because he had to put all 10 of his sons and daughters through college first.

Elmore financed that massive task with a series of odd jobs, over a period of 20 years.

The last one finished college seven years ago. "Then I figured it was my turn," the tall, proud father said yesterday.

Two of his 10 children will be on hand when Elmore steps down the aisle in cap and gown at David Staar Jordan High School in nearby Watts to receive the certificate he earned in four years of night classes.

Fire, Flood Menace Japan Quake City

NIIGATA, Japan (AP) — Battered and broken by one of the strongest Japanese earthquakes of modern times, Niigata was menaced today by fire and flood.

Police removed 7,350 persons, including 2,000 hospital patients, from the vicinity of petroleum tanks blazing along the waterfront of this big port on the northwest coast, the center of Japan's petroleum industry.

The flames inched toward a hydrogen tank 90 feet away, raisng fears of a gigantic explosion.

★ ★ ★

Also threatened was a tank of gasoline additive that would loose poisonous fumes over the crippled city of 340,000 if it went up.

★ ★ ★

Much of Niigata is land reclaimed from the sea, and in the wake of yesterday's quake a large area began to sink.

24 DEAD

Japan's worst earthquake since 1923, left 24 dead, 10 missing and 282 injured, many seriously.

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Johnson called today for the establishment of a national manpower policy through cooperation of labor, management and government.

In an address prepared for the annual convention of the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Johnson cited three on-rushing developments that he said require the establishment of a national manpower policy: the replacement of men by machines, the decline in jobs for the unskilled and the dramatic growth of the labor force.

The President was a bit vague about the precise machinery he would plan to employ in drafting a manpower program.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee sought today to find out why the government permitted marketing of the drug Orabilex, which has been linked to the deaths of at least 26 persons.

Before it was removed from the market, Orabilex had been given to patients to provide a contrast for X-ray studies of the gall bladder.

Orabilex was approved for sale by the FDA in 1958. Subcommittee chairman L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., said his group wanted information on the FDA'S handling of the "new drug" application for Orabilex.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Ismet Inonu's trip to Washington for talks with President Johnson is threatened by opposition to the premier's handling of the Cyprus risis.

A request by Inonu for a vote of confidence from the national assembly was met wih mounting disfavor by his combined political opposition. The vote takes place Friday.

The assembly recently gave Inonu full authority to handle the Cyprus crisis. But since then, opposition members have demanded more energetic action by the government.

Charge Yanks Spy for Haitian Dictator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N. J., said today there was evidence that President Francois Duvalier of Haiti might have "hired a gestapo of Americans" who check on activities of Haitians in the United States.

He said the Justice Department was conducting an inquiry into charges that U. S. private detective agencies were employed for this purpose and that their reports had been the basis of political persecution.

Gallagher, a member of the House Foreign Affairs' Committee, said it was "an appalling thought that some U. S. detective agencies hold in their hands life or death or possible torture for these nationals when they return to their own country."

Assistant Atty. Gen. J. Walter Yeagley, head of the Justice Department's internal security division, confirmed in a letter to Gallagher that Duvalier's regime had hired several U. S. detective agencies in past years to conduct undercover work.

★ ★ ★

He said they all had registered as foreign agents under federal law.

NEW YORK FIRM

One of them, he said, was Borger Associates of New York City which was registered in 1958 and 1959.

"Included in the Borger Associates' expenditures during this period were substantial payments to informants for information," Yeagley reported.

According to Yeagley, other detective agencies and the years in which they registered were: Chauncey Thomas James of Washington, D. C., 1959; Associated Detectives, Inc., of Miami, Fla., 1958; and Richard Chambers Rutherford of New York, 1959.

★ ★ ★

Yeagley said the Justice Department would try to determine whether any agencies had failed to register for the current year.

Accuse Man in Abortion

FLINT (AP) — A Flint businessman was arrested Tuesday following disclosure of what authorities termed an abortion racket in southern Michigan.

Genesee County Prosecutor Robert M. Leonard said the area included East Lansing where Michigan State University coeds had submitted to illegal operations.

★ ★ ★

Donald E. Luce, 35, operator of a car collision shop and painting and decorating business, was charged with criminal abortion in an alleged operation on an 18-year-old Birmingham girl.

Luce, arraigned in Municipal Court, demanded a hearing and was freed on $1,500 bond. The hearing was set for July 1.

$10,000 BOND

Prosecutor Leonard said Luce is free under $10,000 bond on an Ingham County charge of assault with intent to commit abortion and attempted abortion.

★ ★ ★

Leonard said Luce told clients he had performed more than 100 abortions yearly for the last 11 years, including operations on many MSU coeds.

★ ★ ★

Leonard said an investigation was started by Flint police last February when a coed was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital here. Leonard said police of East Lansing and Birmingham as well as the intelligence division of state police took part.

City Fire Chief Says Close Post

lem, he said that of the 14 new men he requested for the new station (which opened earlier this year), he got 10.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

"It is my honest opinion," White noted, "that we would have a far better and more efficient fire department to operate with five stations that are organized with well-manned fire companies, than a larger number that are improperly manned.

"Therefore, I am recommending closing No. 6 station."

At another point in the seven-page report, White noted, "It is my contention that one well-manned fire company is worth three or four half manned companies.

★ ★ ★

"If there is anything . . . conspicuous about a fire department, it is to see one or two engines standing in the street at a fire and no one to operate them."

SERIOUS LACK

He said there is already a serious lack of manpower in ladder companies and that it will worsen under a 56-hour week, six station operation.

As a result of the low manpower in ladder companies, White noted that at a recent fire "fighting the actual fire had to be dropped until all people were removed from the building due to the fact that we only carry two or three men on each ladder truck."

He also pointed to Pontiac's current classification of "4" in the fire insurance rating system —which is based largely on the fire protection offered by the city.

★ ★ ★

The "4" rating determines the amount of insurance premiums paid by all property owners in Pontiac.

RATING CHANGE

White said that he felt "there no doubt would be a change in the insurance rating" if the city was evaluated by the NBFU today.

He said it might not affect home owners too much "but I do believe it would cause havoc and an exceptionally large expense to commercial places of business such as stores, apartment houses and industries."

City administrators yesterday said they are currently looking for prospective recruits for the department and that all applications will be accepted up to Friday afternoon.

Administrators have complained many times that, in addition to a starting salary which is below that of comparable metropolitan area departments, only a third of the applicants ever make it through the written and physical exams.

According to Reineck, one reason the city asked voters for a one-mill hike April 20 was "to free some operating funds to raise the pay of city employes and attempt to meet manpower demands such as this."

School Unit to Discuss Finances

School finances will be discussed tomorrow night when school board members meet with the Pontiac School Study Committee.

The committee, headed by James L. Howlett, local attorney has reviewed Pontiac school needs and is being consulted prior to an expected millage election this fall.

Howlett, who takes his seat on the school board next month after having been elected last week to the lone board vacancy, headed a select committee of 42 persons.

The committee studied future school needs and drafted a formal report.

★ ★ ★

The report noted several uncertainties in projecting school needs and finances, but the citizens group did recommend renewal of the extra voted 8.75 mills, which expires this year.

ADDITIONAL MILLAGE

In addition, the laymen committee tentatively recommended an additional millage of 2.91 mills for five years "unless more accurate information as to the state equalized valuation is available . . ."

In reviewing an administrative study of school needs over the next 10 years, committee members sharply disagreed on only one point — the future of property values in Pontiac.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said that the equalized valuations for 1964-65 were not known at the time the committee made its study.

★ ★ ★

He said that new projections of property values would be presented tomorrow at the 7:30 p.m. meeting. Committee members will then be asked if they wish to revise their recommendations.

★ ★ ★

A millage proposal is expected at a special October election.

Dugan Rapped for Comments

The Pontiac Fire Fighters' Association last night rebuked comments made by Commissioner John A. Dugan last week concerning the 56-hour work week proposal adopted at the April 20 general election.

Jack Douglas, president of the association, denied that the fire department was guilty "of misrepresenting the issue of taxes and our proposal for a shorter workweek."

Douglas said the fire-fighters' statement that the shorter workweek would'nt require a milalge increase was true. proposals to spend it.

Dugan had remarked that a shorter workweek would cost money, placing a further burden on limited tax revenues.

He claimed firemen should help push measures to provide revenue rather than just back

TAX HIKE DEFEATED

A proposed 1-mill tax rate hike was defeated by voters April 20.

"A 1-mill increase would yield $295,000," Douglas noted. "The city has estimated our shorter workweek to cost about $50,000. This fact alone shows the proposed 1-mill increase unnecessary."

Douglas also said the $15-million hike in Pontiac's tax base "would add $185,000 to the city's operating funds.

"It would appear that the city fathers place a greater importance on material and machines than . . . on human beings," he said.

SINCERE EFFORT

"It's time a Pontiac City Commission stopped stalling and made a sincere effort to raise its employes (wages) to an adequate level."

In reply, Dugan said he still felt much good could be derived from some show of support for millage needs from employe groups.

Congressman Seeks 5th Term

Continues to Run in the 18th District

Congressman William S. Broomfield, Oakland County's representative for the past eight years, today announced he will seek a fifth term.

Broomfield will continue to run in the 18th District, which is less than half its former size due to redistricting but still one of the most populous in the nation.

Proponent of a firmer foreign policy in Southeast Asia and an end to "foreign aid to such pro-Red countries as Indonesia," Broomfield is a ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

He is the ranking minority member of the Far East and National Security subcommitees and a member of the African Affairs Subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

DISTRICT MAKEUP

He is the only announced Republican candidate for the 18th District, which takes in the cities of Berkley, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park and Huntington Woods.

Also included are the cities of Lathrup Village, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak, Southfield and Troy, and townships of Addison, Avon, Bloomfield, Pontiac, Royal Oak and Southfield.

A native of Royal Oak, Broomfield is 42. He served in the Michigan House of Representatives from 1948 to 1954 and was chosen the youngest speaker pro tem in Michigan history. He later served one state senate term.

Elected to Congress in 1956, he served four years on the House Public Works Committee. He later was a delegate to NATO and U.S.-Canadian parliamentary conferences.

Reappoint 2 as Trustees

City Returns Pair to Hospital Board

The City Commission last night voted unanimously to reappoint Harold S. Goldberg and Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr. to four-year terms on the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees.

Goldberg of 1079 James K has served as board chairman for the past three years and has been a member of the board since its inception 12 years ago.

GOLDBERG

DR. ALLEN

Prior to becoming board chairman in 1961, Goldberg, a Pontiac jeweler, served both as vice chairman and treasurer of the 11-member board.

Dr. Allen of 110 Wenonah has been a trustee since October 1958 when he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the board. He was reappointed in 1960.

Allen, a Pontiac optometrist, is a GOP primary candidate for State Senate from the 20th district (northern Oakland County).

Sale Ups Renewal Receipts

In giving final approval to an agreement to sell some 164,130 square feet of land to Charles L. Langs, the City Commission last night brought total receipts from the sale of urban renewal land to $166,477.67 to date.

Last night's action also upped the value of new construction proposed or already built on urban renewal sites to $1,795,200.

Commissioners authorized the sale of land on East Pike at Douglas and Parkhurst for $49,500 in a two-stage agreement as required under Federal Housing Administration restrictions.

Langs, of Waterford Township, will immediately purchase a 27,208-square-foot parcel on the northeast corner of Douglas and East Pike for $6,250.

★ ★ ★

He proposes to build an estimated $750,000 town-house type cooperative housing development of 65 units on the total 164,000-square-foot plot.

GOVERNMENT FINANCE

The project is being financed under the federal government's 221-D3 program, which provides for selling units on a 40-year mortgage at lower-than-normal interest rates.

Due to FHA restrictions under the 221-D3 program, Langs must build models on the parcel he has purchased outright and then sell 80 per cent of the proposed 65 units before the remainder of the land can be deeded to him.

No further action is required of the city. The second portion of land, consisting of 136,922 square feet, will automatically be sold to Langs for $43,250 when he sells the required percentage of town-house units.

★ ★ ★

This was the sixth sale of land in Pontiac's urban renewal program to get final approval of both the City Commission and federal urban renewal officials, according to James L. Bates, urban renewal director.

PREVIOUS TRANSACTIONS

Previous transactions include the new Pontiac Municipal Employes Credit Union Building on East Pike next to the Public Safety Building and the new Pontiac School District Administration Building, under construction at Auburn and the Perimeter Road.

Langs has indicated he will begin work on the town-house models by the end of the month.

In addition to the transactions already okayed, some $201,500 in land sales, involving proposed construction estimated at $1.1 million, have been tentatively and are awaiting the final okay of federal officials at this time, Bates said.

Make Him See the Light

Father's Really in Dark

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please explain this one. My father is 42, a college graduate and has been in business for 27 years.

We live in a $55,000 home in the suburbs. Since President Johnson started turning off the lights in the White House, my father has gone on an ecconomy kick with our lights at home.

ABBY

When we leave the house all the lights are turned out, and when we come back it is so dark we can hardly see our way into the driveway.

If one of us leaves a room for even five minutes, if we do not turn off the light we hear about it.

We are allowed to burn a light only in the room where we are, and we have to go feeling our way around the house.

I believe in being conservative — but this is ridiculous. What to do?

IN DARKNESS

DEAR IN: Your father can't be in the insurance business or he would know that a house in total darkness is a burglar's dream.

And a well-lighted home is good accident insurance.

Better to enlighten ONE father than to curse the darkness.

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of which in the bird kingdom is the more beautiful, the male or the female?

In southwestern Canada you will find the PHALAROPE. The male is dull and rather colorless, but the female has beautiful, brilliant feathers and a white rump.

The female does the courting, lays the eggs and then she departs to find herself another mate while the abandoned male is left sitting on the eggs.

C. R. M.

* * *

DEAR C. R. M.: I am familiar with the bird. We have a lot of them out here in Southern California.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to that question, "Do blondes have more fun?" I happen to know a married man in the neighborhood who has a blonde wife.

He is bald, and I can tell you for certain that HE has more fun than SHE does. Sincerely yours,

TWENTY-TWENTY VISION

'Right Person' Is Key to Sharing Home

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am writing to ask if you would give me some pointers in regards to sharing my home with another lady.

She would have her own room, share the bath and I would like her to feel free to use the other rooms.

MARY FEELEY

I am working, and would prefer someone who worked also.

Since I do not prepare large meals too often during the week, I am wondering whether I should include meals or not.

Perhaps you would tell me what would be a reasonable amount to charge. I am wondering, too, about the housework, laundry, etc. Also, if you do not think this is such a good plan, kindly counsel me.

Miss J., Beloit, Wis.

Dear Miss J.:

I think it could very well be an excellent plan — but only if you find the right person.

Sharing your home is a different proposition from simply renting a room. Unless the two of you are congenial the house will get smaller and smaller!

The amount you charge should be governed by the going rate in your locality — check the rental ads in your newspaper for a general idea — and by your own estimate of how much it will take to cover the cost of having someone in your home and still leave you a profit.

Perhaps you'd find it more practical simply to offer kitchen privileges so that your tenant could fix her own meals.

Then you wouldn't be burdened with food like and dislikes contrary to your own, plus extra food shopping.

EAT TOGETHER

You could still have your meals together and enjoy the companionship.

How about $7 to $12 a week? Of course, you couldn't pay for part-time help with cleaning and laundry at this amount and come out ahead. But leave that for discussion when you've found the right tenant.

Incidentally, it's not a bad idea to keep some angle open for discussion. It makes it much easier to discourage a prospect you don't like! You can always set the final price too high!

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have several series "E" bonds which I am keeping in my box for my children, since I do not need them now.

Some are 10 years old or more. Am I wise in just keeping them there?

When are they taxable? When and how does the interest accrue?

I shall appreciate any suggestions you can give me.

Mrs. R.K., Oak Park, Ill.

Dear Mrs. K.:

"E" bonds, unlike some other issues, continue to earn interest at the rate of 3¾ per cent.

Since these bonds are for the benefit of your children, it seems sensible to leave them alone for the present and let them continue to earn interest.

You do not have to declare the interest earned on your income tax report from year to year.

The bonds are taxable only when they are cashed. Since the tax will be only a percentage of the earnings, the children will still be ahead financially.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Use a rubber plate rack, the kind you use for holding dishes, to keep children's books.

MRS. C. F. REHBERG II

New York Is Destination of Newlyweds

After exchanging vows and receiving guests in the First Presbyterian Church, Mr. and Mrs. Clark F. Rehberg II left for a New York City honeymoon.

Parents of the former Barbara Jean Bell are the Earl W. Bells of Sharon Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clark F. Rehberg of Ypsilanti and the late Mr. Rehberg.

A silk illusion veil with jeweled crown complemented the bride's gown of white silk organza and Alencon lace over taffeta. White orchids, Stephanotis and ivy rested on her small white Bible.

Honor attendant at the recent ceremony performed by Rev. Galen E. Hershey, was Suzanne Broders, with bridesmaids Sharon Bell and Ruth Ann Rehberg.

Alfred Kinter, Ypsilanti, was best man, and ushers Gary Bell and Donald Butler of Milan.

The new Mrs. Rehberg was graduated from Cleary College. Her husband attends Eastern Michigan University. They will live in Ann Arbor.

Reunion Held at Breakfast

The 27th annual reunion breakfast of the Teacher's Exchange club was held recently at Ted's Restaurant.

★ ★ ★

Charter members attending the breakfast were Mrs. James Morse, first president of the organization, Mrs. Louis Flint, Mrs. Oscar Forshlund, Mrs. H. Erwin Gottschalk and Mrs. William Scotts.

Coming from out of town were former members, Mrs. Maynard Beattie, Lapeer; Mrs. Leonard Fyfe, Birmingham; Mrs. Archie Leonard, St. Cloud, Fla.; and Mrs. William Shotka, Troy.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mary Wagner accepted the president's gavel from outgoing president Mrs. Norris Smith.

Founded in 1937, the club centers its program each year on some needed philanthropic project related to education.

Summer Suits Suit Summer

There's a plethora of air-cooled cotton suits ready for warm weather wear.

Jackets vary in length from waist level to below the hips, and range in fit from tailor trim to boxy.

Still a front runner: the shaped bosom, eased back jacket with small, notched collar.

But the real suit revolution is taking place in skirts, with pleats and panels appearing all over the place, reports the National Cotton Council.

Fire Prevention

Tack a piece of asbestos to the end of your ironing board on which to rest a hot iron. It will lengthen the life of your ironing board cover.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: I just finished making a dress that had a band about 2 inches wide set into the neckline. Try as I could, and ripping many times, I couldn't get this band to look even. In desperation, I finished the dress and wear a scarf at the neck to cover up my botch. What in the world can I do to help get this even the next time if I ever get the courage to try again?

Mrs. J. W.

★ ★ ★

Since you are sewing a circle rather than a straight seam, I'll agree with you, it's a pretty difficult detail to achieve. Since this is a type of detail that can make or break the garment, it must be perfectly even.

I would suggest that after you have joined one part of this detail to your garment, don't automatically take the ⅝ seam allowance on the other side.

Instead, measure and mark your seamline by measuring the width of the detail. In some cases, your seamline might be a little smaller or larger than the ⅝ inch.

However, the important decision to make here is that the trim or detail must be the same exact width all around.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

"Here's a suggestion for sewing mothers with growing girls. Since the A-line or flared skirt has become so popular, even for the young girls, the problem of letting down those hems is a little more complicated.

"The next dress or skirt you make, stitch an extra 4 or 5 inches of seam tape at the hem. When you need to let down that hem, you have plenty of tape to match, all in one piece. Saves time and money!"

Mrs. Bill Beeler, Van Meter, Iowa, is this week's winner for a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this suggestion.

Wash, Wear Shoe Fabric

Women who like the easy upkeep of wash-wear wardrobes now have another treat in store.

It is the man-made material just developed for shoe uppers in a myraid of colors and styles—including velvety naps.

These "Corfam" uppers will dry as soft and pliable as ever, after being doused by rain — and without fading or water-spotting.

Any soil can be sponged off with thick soap or detergent suds followed by rinse-wiping with a clean cloth.

Use a rubber spatula when feeding nuts into a meat grinder and you will protect your hands.

Dear Eunice Farmer: I recently made corduroy drapes for my son's room. I bought the exact amount that was needed according to the sales girl, and yet, when I tore the material for each drape, I came up with the last drape lacking a few inches. I was lucky because I could match the material, but why didn't they tell me to get extra material when I bought it?

Mrs. J. D. W.

I think the salesperson was in error here, when you are making many pairs of drapes, you should allow a couple inches extra for each pair? When you tear the fabric, instead of cutting it with a scissors, you will lose a little each time you tear the fabric.

An extra half yard wouldn't add much extra cost to the overall picture and could easily save a catastrophe!

GAY COVER

Have you ever struggled to keep those glass-top tables clean, especially the ones you will be using this summer on your patios? Here's how to make a gay cover that will brighten up your porch or patio and save you hours of shining. It can be made with or without an opening for the umbrella in the center.

Use any colorful plastic coated fabric. Cut a circle the size of the table, plus ½ inch around the edges for a seam. Cut a straight strip of fabric about 5 inches wide for the apron or drop around the edges.

Pin this extra strip to the outer edges of the circle, leaving open where the ends join if making for an umbrella table. Continue the opening to the center of the table to slip around the umbrella, also cut a small circle at the center.

★ ★ ★

Bind the seams with a contrasting color (you can leave the raw edges of the binding, it won't ravel). Continue the binding up the cut edge. You may bind the lower edge as well, or add ball or brush fringe instead.

Measure the opening and insert a separating type slide fastener. The whole operation only takes a few minutes and makes a perfect "thank-you gift" for your friends as well as something you'll love for yourself.

Mrs. L. S. says: Pressing a pattern lightly with a warm (not hot) iron, will make it cling to the fabric and you can eliminate many pins. This prolongs the life of the pattern and saves lots of time.

SEWING GLOSSARY

Piping—A narrow corded type edging that is inserted between two layers of fabric to form an interesting detail. Piping is also used on the edges of slip covers and pillows.

United by Candlelight

The Commerce Methodist Church was the setting for the recent candlelight vows of Arleen Elizabeth Tribble to Louis Lee Smith.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are the Harry H. Tribbles of Porter Road, White Lake Township, and the Hubert Smiths of Highland.

★ ★ ★

The bride's gown of white Rochelle lace over taffeta was styled with basque bodice and tiefed skirt which swept into a chapel train. A lace cap with organdy bows caught her illusion veil. Her bouquet was red roses.

THREE ATTENDANTS

With honor matron, Mrs. Robert Evans, White Lake Township, were bridesmaids Patricia Tylor of Milford and Sherry Smith of Highland.

★ ★ ★

Best man was Ronald Cohoon of White Lake Township. Guests at the ceremony performed by Rev. G. McDonald Jones were seated by Rodney Wilson and Garry Pollock.

After the church reception the couple left for a honeymoon in Canada. They will be at home on Suffolk Street.

The bride is a graduate of Ferris State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Azoian of Dwight Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Sandra Lee to Carl Duane Hutchinson, son of Mrs. Clyde Hensey of M15, and Robert Hutchinson of Corunna Street, both of Independence Township.

Easy Ironing

Remove sheets and pillow cases from your automatic dryer while still damp. Fold smooth and place on top of the dryer. The slight warmth will finish drying them and they will look as though they had been ironed.

Fluorescent Is the Best

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — For women who want to apply makeup and have it look right in daylight, Elizabeth Meehan, residential lighting consultant for Sylvania, has the answer.

She says natural white fluorescent has the closest balance to daylight — better than other types of bulbs or other colors. And for goodness sake, Miss Meehan says, don't use candlelight.

Conditioners Clean Berries

To remove soil, sprays and fertilizers from fresh strawberries, add one tablespoon of conditioner to a gallon of cold water. Soak berries five minutes; follow with a plain water rinse.

Do not remove stems until after washing — the berries will lose less juice. This same soaking trick will make short work of cleaning salad greens and vegetables too.

Nude Boy, 16, Pins Woman With Car

DETROIT (AP) — A nude youth pinned a housewife to a garage wall with a car Tuesday but was chased off when the woman's screams attracted a passerby.

Police said Mrs. Betty Bazgen, 33, suffered minor bruises. She told officers the boy, about 16, forced her to the wall with the car on the city's east side.

★ ★ ★

As the nude youth got out, Thomas Archibald, 55, who lives nearby, heard the woman's screams and ran to the scene. The youth leaped back into the car and fled, police reported.

'Salute to Johnson' Might Attract 2,000

DETROIT (AP) — Advance ticket sales for a $100-a-plate "Salute to President Johnson" dinner indicate a turnout of about 2,000 persons, said Stuart Hertzberg, general chairman for the dinner. The event will be held June 26 in Detroit's Cobo hall.

Detroit to Sell Water to City of Flint, Area

DETROIT (AP) — Sale of Detroit water to the City of Flint and Genesee County was approved by the City Council Tuesday in a 6-2 vote.

Construction of a $38-million pipeline the 57 miles between Detroit and Flint will start within 45 days, officials said, pending Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh's approval of sale terms. Cavanagh has indicated he will approve.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's filtered water is expected to be available to Flint and Genesee County by 1966 under the plans.

The City Council's approval followed upon negotiations between the two cities that started in January, 1963.

LAKE INTAKE

The planning also includes a $60-million Lake Huron intake and treatment plant to be linked to the Detroit-Flint main in 1968.

Damaged Ship to Be Repaired

DETROIT (AP)—The British freighter Phrygia was ordered to Port Weller, Ont., Tuesday for repairs to the hole in her side suffered in a collision on the Detroit River Monday night.

The 348-foot Phrygia, a Cunard vessel carrying package freight, and the Canadian ore carrier Algocen, a 524-footer, collided in a channel off downriver Ecorse in clear, calm weather. None of the two ships' 66 crewmen was injured.

★ ★ ★

The Algocen's bow smashed a 15-foot hole in the starboard side of the Phrygia. The Algocen was little harmed and resumed a trip to Lorain, Ohio, after aiding the Phrygia.

Commander Manson Meekins of the Coast Guard inspection office said the Algocen was making a "U" turn from another channel at the time of the collision after making an ore delivery to McLouth Steel Corp. The Coast Guard called a hearing for today.

- Practically maintenance-free! Fiberglas screening, rustproof aluminum framing never need painting.
- Plenty of head-room! 8-sided design gives ample space for everyone. Doors are 6-ft. high. Interiors soar to 7'11" height at peak.
- Weather-worthy! Attractive Nylonite top, deep valance are both treated to shrug off rain.

Car-Rail Crash Injures Man

An Oak Park man suffered pelvis and rib fractures yesterday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with a Grand Trunk freight train on Joslyn in Orion Township.

In fair condition at William Beaumont Hospital following the 3 p.m. accident is Robert S. Landy, 51, of 24751 Radcliff.

★ ★ ★

Landy told sheriff's deputies that it was not until he had nearly reached the tracks, just north of Judah, that he heard the train whistle.

The signal bells at the crossing were operating, but there is no warning light, according to deputies.

Trading Active in Sizable Blocks

Mart Moves Ahead Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved ahead irregularly today as it ran into scattered profit-taking on the barely interrupted advance of the past six sessions.

★ ★ ★

Trading was more active than on recent days and a liberal assortment of sizable blocks was traded.

Motors were unchanged to mixed following their sustained strength this week. Chrysler gained a fraction and Ford dipped slightly while the other leaders showed little movement.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Steel was up about a point and Bethlehem eased in an unevenly higher steel section.

Today the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.6 to 309.6.

★ ★ ★

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional gains were made by Pyle National and Kaiser Industries.

Firm Reports Sales Increase

Net sales of Hughes & Hatcher, Inc., for the first 13 weeks of the year increased 21 per cent compared to the same period last year, according to the interim report to stockholders released yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Net income showed a 49 per cent increase in the first four months, totaling $240,009 after estimated federal taxes, or 46 cents per share. The company paid 31 cents per share in the same period of 1963.

SALES INCREASE

Net sales for the first 13 weeks were $6,140,718, compared to $5,061,732 in the first four months of 1963.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to stockholders, Bernard E. Pincus, president of the firm, announced that Hughes & Hatcher had purchased Oppenheim's, Inc., a clothing store located in Jackson.

NEGOTIATE LEASE

At the same time, a lease was also negotiated for a store in a shopping center near Jackson, according to Pincus.

Employment at Big Three Up 31,000

DETROIT (AP) — A trade publication says record production and sales have boosted employment by 31,000 over year-ago payrolls at the Big Three auto companies.

★ ★ ★

Ward's Automotive Reports said Tuesday that total employment at General Motors Corp., Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. plants in Michigan was 388,300 in the April-May period. This was 8.6 per cent above the total of 357,300 in the same period last year.

Ward's attributed the rise in employment to record car production in the April-May period and record sales for the first ten days of June.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler, which builds most of its cars here, showed the biggest employment gain — 12.5 per cent. The firm added some 7,500 employes in April and May, Ward's said, for a total of 67,100.

GM WORKERS

GM employment rose by 16,000 for a 7.5 gain and Ford added some 7,500 workers for an increase of slightly more than 9 per cent, Ward's said.

Business Notes

William M. Dull, of 4399 Chisholm, Bloomfield Township, and Robert D. Sallen, of 6936 Candlewood, West Bloomfield Township, were installed last night as members of the board of directors of Detroit Professional Engineers for three-year terms.

Dull, an incumbent member of the board, is with Detroit Edison Co. Sallen is with Acorn Iron Works of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The installation ceremony was held at Detroit Edison Boat Club. Kent P. Stiner, product planning manager of the I-T-E Circuit Breaker Co., Bulldog Division, took office as president.

Tax Cut Successes Spur New Revisions

By SAM DAWSON

DAWSON

NEW YORK—First economic fruits of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

★ ★ ★

The administration is reported studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

IMMEDIATE TASK

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter — the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These wartime taxes have been on a year to year basis.

★ ★ ★

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

★ ★ ★

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

MINUS COST

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.

★ ★ ★

Next year the corporate income tax rate will drop to 48 per cent. But advocates of the value-added tax say a 2 per cent rate would bring in enough revenue to let the corporate income tax drop to 38 per cent. This, they argue, would make investment for expansion much more attractive and give the economy another boost.

Those who don't like any form of federal excise or sales tax aren't likely to cotton to the value-added version either. But having tasted one tax cut, both the public and Congress are more interested now in any debate over other tax changes that seem to promise economic goodies.

(Q) "My husband and I own 250 shares of E. J. Brach & Sons. We also own 40 Textron. My husband would like to get out of the market altogether, but I feel we should hold Textron and some of the Brach. He expects to retire in a year or so. We have $2,000 in savings and a fully-paid house. What is your opinion?" E. H.

(A) I agree with you.

Brach & Sons is a leading maker of popular priced candies with a good record of growth. Textron operates in many fields and has been building a strong earnings base. Share net has been up in each of the past two years and seems likely to rise again this year.

I would hold 100 Brach and all the Textron, to provide you with a measure of protection against inflation in your retirement years.

(Q) "I am 67, retired on pension, have $1,200 in savings and am paying on my house. My holdings consist of 25 Container Corp., 115 Flying Tiger, 80 Tennessee Gas Transmission, 30 American Motors, 50 Continental Can, 30 General Telephone, 10 Standard Oil of New Jersey, 70 National Distillers. My objective is income. How could I improve my lot?" R. C.

(A) You have a pretty good list and not much in the way of change is indicated.

Your Flying Tiger Line pays no cash dividend, operated at a deficit last year, and seems too speculative for you. I would sell this stock and use the proceeds to build up savings, which seem rather low.

American Motors has been losing its share of the market, and earnings declined in the first quarter of 1964. Although the return here is high, I believe you would be safer with Atchison Railway, yielding 4.6 per cent.

Novi Due Engine Plant

$300,000 Expansion Set

Perkins Engines, Inc., North American affiliate of F. Perkins, Ltd., of England, is relocating its headquarters in Novi in a $300,000 expansion move.

The announcement was made yesterday by M. I. Prichard, managing director of the parent firm.

Major alterations will be made in a 20,000-square-foot plant located on five acres at 27676 Wixom for the consolidation of all important Perkins operations, Prichard said.

The company presently shares quarters with Massey-Ferguson, Inc., at 12345 Kercheval in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Prichard said the expansion results from increased interest of American manufacturers in diesel power.

MAJOR SUPPLIER

Perkins supplies engines to Dodge, White Motors, International Havester, Kaiser Jeep, Massey-Ferguson and manufacturers of boats, mobile refrigeration units, fork - lift trucks and other industrial vehicles.

General manager of the Novi Perkins firm will be R. H. Jansa, who will also supervise Canadian operations now being reinstated.

News in Brief

Joseph McGilligan, 35, owner of McGilligan Transmission Strvice, 990 Mount Clemens, reported to Pontiac police yesterday that $30 was stolen from a vending machine coin box after the building was burglarized.

Edwin J. Backes, 59, of 79 Oliver last night told Pontiac police that a television set valued at $100 was stolen from an enclosed porch at his home.

PHILIP CALDWELL

Heads Ford Truck Sales, Engineering

A Ford Motor Co. executive from Bloomfield Township has been named to the newly created post of truck operations manager.

In announcing the appointment, Ford Division general manager Lee A. Iacocca said Philip Caldwell, 3755 Peabody, will be responsible for planning and engineering of all Ford trucks, and for marketing and sale of Ford heavy and extra-heavy duty trucks.

Caldwell was formerly assistant general manager of the company's General Parts Division. He joined Ford in 1953.

Iacocca said the truck operations position was created "in recognition of the growth of the truck market and its changing and specialized nature which require increased management attention."

★ ★ ★

Activities reporting to Caldwell will include truck product planning under J. F. McLean of 516 Waddington, Bloomfield Township; truck engineering under Robert W. Gaines, 2567 Stoodleigh, Avon Township; truck sales and marketing under Rupert F. Lewis, 1685 Wabeek Way, Bloomfield Township; and the heavy truck special order department under Richard A. Huber of Louisville, Ky.
