Death Toll Mounts From Storms Around World

Pulled From Line of Fire

'Pay-As-You-Go' Highway Program Backed by GOP

DETROIT—Resolutions adopted at the state GOP convention here Saturday included an endorsement of a pay-as-you-go Michigan highway program.

The resolutions committee, headed by former State Auditor General John B. Martin Jr., of Grand Rapids, also recommended a state Fair Employment Practices law.

The highway resolution overlooked Gov. G. Mennen Williams' proposal to submit a $500,000,000 bond issue for an April vote.

The committee, instead, went along with the Republican-controlled Legislature by backing an increase in gas and weight taxes.

"We recommend an expansion of the highway program to be paid for by those who use the roads to enable us to bring our main trunk line systems up to a level comparable with the present and anticipated traffic load and to enable us to continue the orderly development of our county roads and city streets," the resolution said.

"The resolution is in line with a plan suggested by Republican state senators to get more road money right away, but drop the present distribution formula.

The present division gives the State Highway Department 44 per cent, the counties 27 per cent and the cities 19 per cent.

Martin said the money would possibly be divided 75 per cent for trunk lines and 25 per cent to cities and counties.

Another resolution approved by the committee praised the GOP state legislators for setting up "the most liberal workmen's compensation schedule in the country."

The President and Republican Congressman from Michigan were generally commended.

The committee also lauded the Michigan Young Republicans for getting Detroit selected as the site for the national convention this year.

Defiant Gunman Killed by Police

100,000 New Yorkers See 90-Minute Battle With 200 Officers

NEW YORK (AP)—A lone, angry criminal, who flung defiance and bullets at the world until the last, lay dead on a slab at the police morgue today—the only way he said they could get him.

Thousands of people—estimated up to 100,000 at times—jammed streets, rooftops and other vantage points yesterday to watch the blazing, 90-minute battle, that cut down scrubby August Robles.

He made his last stand in an East Harlem tenement house. The massed forces of the law—guns, gas and 200 policemen—closed in on him. They carried his body out of the smoking house in a sack.

Today, with the wild drama over and the thickly populated uptown neighborhood back to workaday routine, this note on a police blotter told the end of the story:

"August Robles, 44 years, male, white, address unknown, dead on arrival at 67 East 112 St., Apt. 14. Subject died of gun shot wounds of chest during a gun battle with Police. No known friends or relatives."

The last hours of squint-eyed, little Robles had the frenzied crowd psychology of a scene in an ancient Roman colosseum. Excited shouts echoed up and down the streets amid the staccato of gunfire, and thump of tear gas bombs.

Not since an army of police drove another law-hating criminal, Francis Crowley, to bay 24 years ago had New York witnessed such a show of violence.

Like Robles, Crowley had sworn never to be taken alive. But unlike Robles, he was brought out of his tenement bastion alive, after his ammunition was exhausted. He was later executed.

Robles lay dead on a bedroom floor when police finally got to him. Smoke poured from the windows, and tear gas fumes hovered over the place. Along the block, the cry went up:

"They got him! He's dead!"

The pint-sized gunman had been the object of an intense, three-day manhunt in the city's Puerto Rican districts.

Found beside Robles' body were four revolvers, three of which he had taken from policemen who first tried to arrest him early Friday. His escape touched off the manhunt.

Later he eluded four detectives in a Harlem housing project.

Rochester's Miss Jones Backed by Acclamation for Board Term

By BURDETT C. STODDARD
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

DETROIT — Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, of Rochester was named to run April 4 for a third term on the State Board of Agriculture, at the Republican state convention.

Selected to run for the other post on the board, which governs Michigan State College, was Dale Stafford, now Greenville publisher and former Oakland County resident.

John Feikens, a 37-year-old Detroit attorney, was re-elected state chairman over Arthur T. Iverson after a lively fight on the floor of the convention in Cass Technical High School.

Miss Jones, nationally-known agricultural expert, was nominated by acclamation. Oakland County delegates earlier had decided to cast their 124 votes, the largest number of any congressional district, in a bloc for Miss Jones.

Stafford, once Pontiac Press sports editor, defeated Frank Merriman, Deckerville farmer, and P. Edward Geldhof, Berrien County industrialist. The vote was Stafford 859, Merriman 552 and Geldhof, 221.

Oakland County's delegation was instrumental in securing for Stafford the necessary plurality of the 1,604 qualified delegates. It gave him 123 votes and Geldhof, one.

For a time it appeared that none of the three would be able to line up a plurality. Geldhof tried to throw in the towel and move his support to Stafford, but the chair ruled each county had to determine where its votes would go.

There were enough switches, however, including Genesee and Saginaw Counties, to give Stafford the nomination.

See Senate OK on $7,500 Raise

Trim House Proposal by $2,500; Leaders Eye Vote by Nightfall

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate was ready to pocket a pay raise along with its fears and vote today to approve a $7,500 a year increase in salaries for members of Congress and federal judges.

Senate leaders hoped to pass their version of the pay legislation by nightfall and send it to conference for adjustment of differences with a house-approved bill which provides for a $10,000-a-year raise.

Action on the salary bill was to mark the Senate's return to work after a 10-day semi-holiday during which Republican legislators observed traditional Lincoln birthday celebrations with speaking engagements around the country.

Later this week the Senate Finance Committee plans to schedule hearings on the House-adopted three-year extension of the reciprocal trade act. It is expected to pass the Senate by a somewhat

State Traffic Toll at 10

Senate Officer Dies; Solon Hurt in Collision on U.S. 127

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An assistant sergeant-at-arms of the Michigan Senate and a young Jackson businessman were killed in a weekend traffic smashup in which a state senator and the daughter of another were injured.

The deaths of the sergeant at arms, Goodson D. Ford, 68, of Dundee, and of William H. Phelps, 26, of Jackson, brought to 10 the weekend toll on state highways and streets.

Mrs. Esther Bowlin, 47, died when she was trapped in a fire Saturday night in her Livonia home, bringing the total dead from weekend accidents of all kinds to 11.

Ford and Phelps were fatally injured in a two-car collision on U.S. 127 near Mason Sunday night. Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and Miss Ann Nichols, daughter of Sen. Haskell Nichols (R-Jackson) were seriously hurt.

Porter suffered a fractured jaw and many cuts and bruises and physicians said he likely would not be able to resume his legislative duties for at least six weeks. Sen. Don Vander Werp (R-Freemont) will head the Appropriations Committee in Porter's absence.

Phelps, a draftsman for Consumer Power Co. and son of a Jackson contractor, Harry W. Phelps, was driving alone. The political figures

Say Nixon Would Junk FOA; Cites Duplication

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon recommends that the Eisenhower administration junk the Foreign Operations Administration, informed sources said today.

The sources said the vice president's tour of Central America has convinced him that Harold E. Stassen's agency and the United States Information Service are duplicating and sometimes competing with the work of American embassy personnel.

Tuesday night's low is expected to hit between 22 and 26 degrees with possible rain or snow Wednesday night.

Saturday in downtown Pontiac the mercury rose from a 24-degree low to 37. This morning, the thermometer registered 30 degrees at 8, dropped to 29 at 9, but climbed to 37 degrees by 2 p.m.

Find 5 Victims of Plane Crash on Mountain

Possibility of Survivors Dims as Rescuers Sift Wreckage in West

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — New Mexico State police reported today five badly burned bodies have been recovered at the wreckage-strewn spot on a mountainside where a Trans World airliner crashed Saturday with 16 aboard.

The search team said there was no sign of life "and no possibility of survivors."

The reports, trickling down by walkie-talkie from the huge rock pinnacle in the Sandia Mountains east of here, said identification was impossible at this time and indicated recovering other bodies would be slow going.

The airliner rammed the pillar in the rugged snow-covered mountains just minutes after it took off. Airline officials have surmised the pilot became lost in clouds which shrouded this area at the time, and saw the mountain too late to avoid it. He was about two miles off the regular course which leads along the east side of the mountain.

Two search teams, weary and stiff after a night in subzero cold on the mountainside, started at dawn probing the crannies around the needle-shaped rock where the plane hit.

Pack animals were started up from the base camp at the foot of the 10,000-foot mountain to bring out the bodies and an air drop was scheduled to deliver equipment for removal of the bodies.

The plane took off from Kirtland Field, Aubuquerque, about 15 miles southeast Saturday morning. Three minutes later veteran pilot I. R. Spong, Prairie Village, Kan., radioed all was well.

That was the last heard from the twin-engine Martin 404, bound for Santa Fe, 70 miles away, on the

Congress Faces Fight on Tax Cut

Administration Opposes Slash in Income Levy Offered by Dems

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee meets today to endorse a Democratic proposal for a $20-a-person income tax cut that probably will set off the first partisan clash over legislation in the new Congress.

Although the committee's Democratic majority reportedly has promised to vote solidly for the plan, the group invited Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey to testify in closed session in advance of the vote. Humphrey was expected to oppose both the timing and the method of the proposed cut.

The plan is to add the income tax cut to an administration bill to continue present corporation and excise tax rates, now due to drop April 1.

Its final passage in that form would give President Eisenhower the choice of approving an estimated loss of $1,400,000,000 in income tax revenues or of losing three billions by vetoing the corporation and excise rate extensions at a time when he has said taxes must be kept at their present levels.

The tax cut plan, sponsored by Rep. Mills (D-Ark), would give

MRS. CHARLES F. RHODES

Accident Fatal to City Woman

Mrs. Charles Rhodes Dies After Automobile Collision Sunday

Ella Rhodes, 62, wife of former Pontiac Police Chief Charles F. Rhodes, was injured fatally in an automobile accident early Sunday morning at Eight Mile and Southfield Rds.

The accident, witnessed by two state troopers, occurred when a car driven by William Cheeks, 20, of Ferndale went through a stop sign and crashed into the Rhodes' car.

Cheeks, who police said had been drinking, is being held in the Oakland County Jail for investigation of manslaughter.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were rushed to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, where Mrs. Rhodes died an hour later. Rhodes was returned to his home at 72 Wenonah Dr. yesterday after receiving treatment for four broken ribs and bruises.

Rhodes was police chief in Pontiac from May 5, 1938, to July 1, 1950, after serving for many years on the Detroit Police Department. He then served as instructor for police students at Michigan State College until March of last year.

Mrs. Rhodes, who was born March 11, 1892, in Manistee County, is survived by four sons, Calvin J., 30, of Pontiac; Ronald J., 40, of Detroit; C. William, 41, of Detroit; and Glen, 38, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Also surviving are a brother, William Roehl, of Dearborn, and sisters, Mrs. Jennie Laughlin Rhodes and Mrs. Dorothy Luscher of Manistee.

She was a member of the Central Methodist Church, Pontiac Garden Club, Tuesday Musicale and the Pontiac White Shrine.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, with burial at Acacia Park Cemetery.

Worst Storm of Season in Plains States Veers North Into Canada

(From Our Wire Services)

Violent storms spread death and suffering in three widely separated parts of the world today.

More than 400 persons are dead or missing on the third day of a blizzard which blasted the western Pacific from Formosa to the Kuriles.

At home, what is described as the worst blizzard of the year roared northward from the Great Plains into Canada, leaving at least 42 dead and others missing; and

New storms battered ships in European waters, and dumped snow on the continent and in England and Scotland.

Death toll from storms in Europe was set at 25 today, with additional persons unaccounted for.

Sudden veering of the blizzard from plains states into the north apparently has spared populous eastern states from the storm.

It left behind snowfalls up to Duluth's 28 inches; snowdrifts as deep as 12 feet in Nebraska; blocked highways in at least four states; at least 17 persons dead and four missing.

The storm had not lost all its punch, however. Strong winds were piling snow in deep drifts in the Manitoba province of Canada, where police reported "hundreds" of persons were stranded on blocked highways. Winnipeg got 7 inches of snow.

Authorities feared for three Nebraska ministers who left Gothenburg Saturday afternoon and a Wessington Springs, S.D., rancher who braved the shrieking blizzard at 2 a.m. yesterday to see if his sheep were all right. None of the men have been seen since.

The eastern Dakotas felt the full fury of the storm yesterday. Pierre, South Dakota's capital, got a 13-inch fall driven by a 52 m.p.h. wind with gusts up to 73. Falls ranging to Huron's 10 inches and Watertown's 7 immobilized all transprtation, with roads drifted shut and visibility zero.

Reds Threaten 2 Chiang Isles

Commies Push Buildup Despite 3-Day Attack by Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— Three straight days of Nationalist air attacks have failed to stop the Red buildup of the Taishan Islands threatening nearby Nanchishan, reliable reports said today.

A second Communist buildup has begun on the Fukien province coast opposite the strategic Matsu Islands 100 miles west of Formosa, the Defense Ministry's information service said.

Nationalist pilots reported sighting a submarine today off Red-held Pingtan Island, 80 miles west of Formosa and southeast of Foochow. However, they said it submerged before they could identify it.

Meanwhile, Nationalist officials set up 26 civil air defense centers here to work out plans to minimize bombing casualties if war comes.

These developments followed three straight days of naval and aerial pounding of the Taishan group and nearby waters in which the Nationalists now claim these totals:

Friday—1 submarine, 21 gunboats, landing craft and armed junks sunk.

Saturday—15 armed junks sunk, 5 damaged.

'Shadow of Draft' Dogs Steps of Physically-Fit American Boys After 18th Birthday

(Editor's Note: Each year approximately 1,200,000 American boys reach the most crucial age of their young lives—the age at which they suddenly assume a share of the responsibility for their country's future safety. This article tells how American youth reacts to entering "the shadow of the draft," what the current draft law means to youth and parents alike and what war or proposed changes in the draft law could mean to them.)

By IRWIN SAFCHIK

WASHINGTON (INS)—"I'm living in the shadow of the draft."

"If it wasn't for the uncertainty, I could plan my life."

"What employer would hire me knowing I'll be drafted?"

In countless American homes, at soda fountains and in schools American youths are caught in a period of baffling uncertainty about the draft and are voicing their frustration.

And their uncertainty was never more vivid than today when many of them feel that the threat of war —local or global—is so real.

Some experts on the subject attribute the current wave of juvenile delinquency at least in part to this feeling of uncertainty. Waiting uneasily for their uncertain future, boys get into trouble.

Approximately 1,200,000 American youths reach draft age each year. Although roughly one-third are found unfit for military service, all must register for the draft within five days after their 18th birthday.

Teachers, parents, Selective Service officials have all heard the gripes with which youth enters "the shadow of the draft."

It isn't that American youth wants to shirk its obligation. According to Selective Service officials, most boys now take it for granted they are going to bear arms for their country sooner or later if physically able to do so.

Unacquainted with Selective Service procedure, however, they believe that, once registered, they can expect their conscription notice any day. They sit around, virtually paralyzed, waiting for that day.

Among the recent crop of draftees are men over 25 — much to their surprise in some cases. They thought they had escaped Selective Service liability on their 26th birthday.

At their first and later calls to military service, they were deferred as physically-unfit 4-Fs, or because they belonged to the National Guard, were attending college, or held down essential jobs in industry or on the farm.

But now they are fit for service —perhaps surgery has corrected a physical defect—or they have quit the Guard, won their college degrees, or their jobs are no longer essential.

Congress will probably lower the cut-off date to 26—which now applies to those who have not been deferred — for those deferred for physical reasons and for those who served in the Guard between the ages of 18½ and 26, but the new rules will not take effect until July 1.

The American teenager certainly is not denied all control over his own fate. Even today, he need not sit around waiting helplessly for the draft to overtake him.

He may not want to enlist for a three, four or six-year hitch, but he can request immediate induction into the Army on registering with Selective Service. More and more boys are doing so, getting their 24 months of

City Hospital Planner Named

Bloomfield Township Man New Architectural Consultant

A 42-year-old Bloomfield Township man with a long background of hospital planning and design has been named architectural consultant for Pontiac General Hospital.

Adolph H. Roessling, 42, of the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Inc., will serve as official representative of the hospital board of trustees in conferences with architect Leo J. Heenan concerning design of a new $3,000,000 hospital wing.

Board Chairman William F. Maybury said Roessling was named at a special meeting Saturday. Maybury said his fee is "within the limits authorized by the City Commission."

In a resolution passed last Tuesday, the Commission authorized hiring of a consultant at a fee of not more than $20,000, a portion of which will be substracted from Heenan's fee.

Roessling, who lives at 6153 Eastmor, Bloomfield Township, served first with New York architects York and Sawyer.

During World War II, he served as chief of engineering with the Army Corps of Engineers, assigned to the surgeon general's office. He had charge of all planning and construction of hospitals and clinics in the Middle East.

Later, he was hospital consultant in Washington for the surgeon general.

Returning to civilian life, he planned the new 17-floor Henry Ford Diagnostic Clinic in Detroit. He also planned hospitals in New England and South America. He is currently working on two hospitals in the west Detroit suburban area.

Nominated to run April 4 for a term on the State Board of Agriculture at the GOP convention in Detroit was Dale Stafford, former Pontiac Press Sports Editor now publisher of the Greenville Daily News.

St. Fred's Coach Gets College Post

Kenneth O. Hulslander, football and basketball coach at St. Frederick's High School in Pontiac, has been named assistant football line coach at Iowa State College, according to an Associated Press report out of Ames, Ia., today.

The 31-year-old Hulslander, a 1951 graduate of Western Illinois State College at Macomb, Ill., replaces Will Heiss, who resigned to take a baseball and football job at Denver University.

Hulslander, who will report to Iowa State March 1, came to St. Fred's last fall from Eastland High School in Roseville. His football team was winless in 9 games, playing one tie, while his basketball team concluded its season last night with its sixth victory in 15 games.

Czech Girl Flees Skating Troupe in British Vienna

VIENNA (INS)—A Czechoslovakian girl skater was believed hiding somewhere in Vienna today after slipping away from her Communist-supervised team in the British sector last Saturday.

Reliable western sources confirmed newspaper reports that 28-year-old Mirlova Nachodska, who took part in last week's world figure skating championships, had disappeared with her baggage from the hotel where the Czech team was quartered.

These sources said she later asked asylum in the West, though it was not known just where she made the request or where she is staying now.

One report said she took a taxi from the hotel to the American sector of Vienna, but U. S. officials refused to either confirm or deny that she was in American hands.

The other members of the Czech team returned to Communist-ruled Prague after a 24-hour search for the escaped girl.

Mirlova placed 18th in a field of 21 women contestants in the figure skating competition.

(Agence France Presse quoted reports that she was planning to go to Canada with Carol Pachl, a Czech-born Canadian skating star).

Last Rites Are Held for Slaying Victim

Kathleen McLaughlin, 9-year-old victim of a brutal killing last week, was laid to rest today in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield Township.

The funeral home was packed with friends and relatives for a brief prayer service prior to the requiem mass at Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, where she attended school.

Some 100 cars were in the silent procession to the church where Kathy's schoolmates, dressed in blue skirts and white blouses waited to pass in mourning before the child's casket.

Meanwhile, young Floyd Diamond, confessed killer of the girl, is in the Oakland County Children's Home, awaiting psychiatric examinations to determine whether he can be tried for the crime as an adult.

Family of Six Injured in Auto Collision Sunday

A family of six persons was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Sunday for injuries suffered in a 2-car collision at Eighteen Mile and Crooks Rds. in Troy Township.

Treated for cuts and bruises were Trinidad J. Martinez, 30, of 4853 Jamm Rd., his wife, Carmen, 25, and children, Teresa, 2, Linda Marie, 4 months, Annette, 4, and Rudolph, 3.

Martinez, who was ticketed for failing to halt at a stop street, according to Troy Police, struck an auto driven by Jerome B. Davis, 29, of Detroit, who was uninjured.

Feikens Is Winner in Republican Fight

November. The Oakland group gave him 100 votes and the remaining 24 to Iverson.

The Feikens-Iverson battle was nearly even until balloting reached the six congressional districts in Wayne County, where both men reside.

Feikens took Wayne 314 to 121 and Iverson quickly conceded. He moved successfully that Feikens' election be made unamimous, then appealed for all state Republicans to get behind the chairman.

Feikens asked for "everyone's support" in gaining ground in the spring election and preparing for the 1956 Presidential campaign.

The convention became the first state-wide Republican group in the nation to endorse President Eisenhower for renomination in 1956.

U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., who was keynote speaker, joined in lauding the President.

Brownell predicted that Republicans, independents and Democrats would join in demanding that Eisenhower run again, "insuring his election and four more years of sound government."

One candidate, given full support by Oakland County, was defeated for nomination.

Jackson County Circuit Judge John Simpson lost to former State Treasurer D. Hale Brake in a floor fight to win a chance to run for State Supreme Court justice.

Oakland gave its 124 votes to Simpson, who conducted a grand jury investigation here in 1952, but he lost 871 to 681. The other high court nomination went to incumbent Justice Leland W. Carr by acclamation.

The rest of the spring ticket selected by the delegates included:

University of Michigan regents —J. Joseph Herbert, Manistique attorney and now chairman of the regents, and William B. Cudlip, Detroit attorney.

Member of the State Board of Education—Stephen S. Nesbet, of Fremont, incumbent.

Mrs. Peter Gibson, of Monroe, was unanimously re-elected as state vice-chairman.

The initial meeting of the new State Central Committee, which was selected at the convention, will be next Saturday at Lansing.

An attempt is expected by the four Oakland members to win election of Chad Ritchie, of Birmingham, as treasurer of the group, according to Clare G. Fuller, committee member of Oxford.

Other planned business significant to this area is the picking of a national committeeman to succeed David W. Kendall, of Jackson, who is retiring to assume duties as general counsel of the U. S. Treasury Department.

The Oakland group Saturday instructed its committee members to introduce the name of former State Senator George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, for the post.

Convention chairman of the county delegation, Pontiac's Robert A. Sutton, said he felt the group conducted itself in a manner which should help considerably toward the nomination of a county man to a major state administrative post in 1956. "We certainly didn't make any enemies," he stated.

Temporary chairman of the convention was Mrs. Helen Dean, of Grosse Pointe, the first woman to serve in the position.

The speech nominating Taylor was given by Oakland County's State Senator William S. Broomfield. County Superintendent of Schools William J. Emerson gave one of the seconding speeches for Judge Simpson.

Draft Awaits Youths After 18th Birthday

military service out of the way as soon as possible.

But what about the draft situation in the months ahead?

The Pentagon says it intends to ask Selective Service to furnish about 14,000 men a month during the next four years. That would indicate a slightly lower average induction age than prevails today, especially if the services fail to meet their voluntary enlistment goal of 2,100,000 men during that period.

But it wasn't only their future that the chief executive had in mind. He also was thinking of the estimated 2,300 able-bodied American boys who reach the age of 18 every day of the year—and of the 160 million Americans whose freedom and safety depends on them.

President Eisenhower said in his message:

"The military security of the United States requires armed forces, disposed and alerted for instant action, quickly reinforceable by units ready for mobilization, assured an adequate pool of trained manpower for necessary expansion."

First, there would be those who enlist in any of the armed forces. Those who serve a three-year hitch would then have to spend four years in the ready reserves, attending weekly drills and undergoing two weeks of training every summer, followed by one year in the standby reserves.

A four-year hitch would entail an additional two years in the ready reserves and two years in the standby reserves. Six years of active duty would mean an additional two years as a standby reservist.

Second, there would be the men who enlist in the Navy or Marine Corps reserves before they are 19. Within two years of their enlistment, they would be subject to a call to 24 months of active duty, after which they would have to remain in the ready reserves until eight years had passed from the date of their enlistment.

The third choice would be to wait for a draft notice, spend two years on active duty and six more in the ready reserves. These men would all serve in the Army, unless the Navy, Air Force or Marines are forced take men through Selective Service.

The most controversial part of the reserve plan would allow a limited number of men—100,000 annually as a start—to enlist in the Army, Marines or Coast Guard between the ages of 17 and 19.

They would undergo only six months of active duty, but they would be paid only $30 a month and then would have to serve in the ready reserves for the next nine and one-half years. Failure to meet the reserve requirements would result in a call to active duty.

Birmingham Man Faces Fraud Count

BIRMINGHAM—Scheduled to be arraigned in federal court today on a mail fraud charge is John W. Gilmore Jr., 24, of 911 Pierce St. He was arrested by the Detroit FBI Saturday.

FBI agent Fred H. McIntyre said Gilmore had built himself up as a 36-year-old graduate of the University of Chicago and Oxford University, in a job application mailed to an Oklahoma oil company. Gilmore has had two semesters of college.

He claimed to have held high government posts and to have been a brigadier general during World War II, McIntyre said Gilmore also forged signatures of university and United Nations officials to letters of recommendation.

In 1949 Gilmore was sent to Southern Michigan Prison for passing worthless checks.

Waterford Man Dies in Detroit

Six-Month Illness Ends in Death for Pontiac Merchant

Louis D. Sadler, 37, 3162 Warringham, Waterford Township, died of cancer Saturday in Ford Hospital after a six-month illness.

Manager of Shinner's Market for several years, he was born in Detroit, the son of Donald and Lillian Tuttle Sadler. He married Muriel Mann in La Grange, Ind., March 25, 1939.

SADLER

He was a member of Jimmy Dey Post Amvets and Retail Merchants Association.

Surviving besides his widow are four children at home, Robert, Ronald, Linda and Sheryl. Also surviving is a brother Silas (Bill) Sadler of Pontiac.

Predict Senate OK on $7,500 Pay Hike

The pay scale of both House and Senate members is now $15,000, of which $12,500 is salary and $2,500 is an expense allowance. Federal district judges now get a straight $15,000.

The House-passed pay bill provides for $22,500 in salary and the $2,500 expense fund for a total of $25,000. The Senate version as reported from committee would give each member $22,500 in pay, plus travel expenses to cover five round-trips a year between his or her home and Washington.

The vice president and speaker would each get a $5,000 pay raise.

Members of Congress have been wary of voting themselves pay boosts, despite increasing complaints that some have gone in the "red" trying to maintain homes and offices in two places and meeting higher living costs.

The House, whose members face re-election every two years, voted nevertheless, 283-118, for the pay hike. Senate sources forecast that two-thirds of that body would support the somewhat lower $7,500 increase.

For a senator living on the West Coast or an equivalent distance from the nation's capital, the Senate gimmick of five round-trips home at government expense would almost match the extra $2,500 expenses in the House bill. Senators living in Maryland, Virginia and other nearby states would get much less in travel allowance and probably make more trips home.

Little difficulty in working out a compromise in conference was expected.

The Senate bil would boost the salary of chief justice by $9,500 to $35,000 a year, associate justices by the same amount of $34,500, and increase pay for other appellate judges from $17,500 to $25,500.

Congress Faces Fight Over Wage Tax Cut

each taxpayer a $20 cut for himself and each of his dependents, including his spouse, on income earned after next Jan. 1.

If finally adopted, the cuts would be reflected first in withholding tax deductions on the individual's first 1956 pay check. Those not subject to withholding taxes could make the deductions when they pay their taxes.

Republicans called the Democratic proposal "a political move" and termed it "absolutely irresponsible."

The bill and the amendment may reach the House floor Thursday. A key Democrat, who declined to be identified, said there is "no question" the tax-cutting amendment will pass the House and perhaps the Senate later.

But Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which would consider it, promptly announced that he opposed this or any other tax reduction until the federal budget is balanced.

All Feared Dead in 2 Crashes Located

The wreckage, on the cliff-rimmed west face of the Sandia Mountains, was spotted by James Bixler, chief pilot for Carco Air Service.

Col. William Gibson of the Air Rescue Service, Denver, hovered in a helicopter within 50 feet of the wreckage hanging atop the 100-foot rock tower. He said it "definitely was the missing aircraft and there was no possibility any survived."

Two big searchlights played on the precipitous pinnacle last night to provide light for eight searchers stranded atop the rock by fading daylight.

Just before dusk, bedrolls, blankets and food were parachuted to searchers.

Meanwhile, in Vigna de Valle, Italy, the wreckage of a Belgian DC6 airliner carrying 29 persons was spotted on a snowy mountain peak today, eight days after it disappeared.

Pilots who flew over said they saw no signs of life. Four of those aboard were Americans.

High wind and rocky terrain made it impossible for helicopters to land and it was a rugged trek for searchers on skis climbing to the scene, 60 miles northeast of Rome.

Fog and bad weather hampered search operations most of last week.

Today visibility finally cleared and the wreckage was sighted high on the Sassetelli crest of Mt. Terminillo in the Umbrian Appennines.

The wreckage was at an altitude of more than 6,600 feet, most of it buried by snow, but enough of its wing and tail were showing to make confirmation definite.

The plane was enroute from Brussels to the Belgian Congo and was only 16 minutes out of Rome Airport when it disappeared Feb. 13.

The four Americans were Paul Leroy, Lake Hiawatha, N. J., a geologist; Robert Singer, Brooklyn N. Y., an engineer for the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co.; E. J. Suter, who lives near Brussels; Mrs. G. Guerrieri, now a resident of Rome, secretary to Marcella Mariani, Miss Italy for 1953, who also was aboard.

BIRMINGHAM — Hearings will highlight much of tonight's City Commission meeting, with one to amend the off-street parking ordinance topping the list.

The amendment would revise parking requirements for small buildings and enlarge powers of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Another hearing on the construction of a T-shaped alley south of Maple, in the west portion of the block bounded by Maple, Henrietta, Martin and Bates, is scheduled. Two letters of objection to the proposed alley already have been filed.

In other action, lawmakers will award bids for construction of the Eton relief sewer and will discuss improvements for Hazel and Bowers streets in the Adams Village subdivision.

Pembroke School PTA members will hear talks on the superior child and on the parents' role in the learning process of all children at tonight's meeting at 8. Speaker will be Dr. Victor Goertzel, Wayne Mental Health Clinic psychologist.

Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs begins its new semester at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Community House. Mrs. Charles Shain will speak on "Middle Europe and the Satellite Countries." Interested persons are welcome.

Fifty hobby exhibits will be displayed when Baldwin School PTA meets at 7:30 tonight—hobbies that are shared by Baldwin children and their parents. In addition, four musical acts will be presented. There will be a nursery for small children.

Red-faced workers at the Automobile Club of Michigan, 275 S. Hunter Blvd., phoned police Saturday afternoon to report that the 198 commercial license plates they believed stolen had been found after all, behind stacks of other plates.

Discovering the glass front door broken Saturday morning, they checked, found the plate numbers were not in sequence, and reported them stolen. Nothing else had been disturbed in the building, police said.

Blizzards Hit Three Areas Around Globe

into northern Texas and thence westward to the Western Plateau.

A violent blizzard which blasted the western Pacific from Formosa to the Kuriles today for the third day left more than 385 persons dead or missing, most of them fishermen.

In Manila, American President Lines reported that the luxury liner President Cleveland went to the aid of the stricken Japanese steamship Midori Maru in the East China Sea.

The liner, which stood by until relieved by the Orion Star, radioed she would be 24 hours late on the trip from Japan to the Philippines. The Midori Maru sent out an SOS yesterday, reporting it had water in the fuel tank and was unable to proceed. Aboard were 141 passengers and 25 crew members.

London reports the worst storms of the winter hammered Europe over the weekend and left at least 25 persons dead.

Ten of the dead were frozen to death in Britain and seven died of cold in Italy. Four ships were listed sunk by the violent storms and at least six others were damaged.

Snow fell on Rome for the second time this year and rare frost cloaked Madrid. The Alps rumbled with avalanches.

A storm-battered freighter sank in Genoa Harbor today and another was grounded several hours off blizzard-swept Dover as new snows raked Scotland and blanketed Europe.

At Genoa, the 4,147-ton Swedish freighter Nordanland sank with a 600-ton cargo of carbide. Two gaping holes had been torn in her hull by one of the most severe storms to strike the area in years. A rescue vessel had spent 36 hours trying to pump water from the Nordanland to keep her afloat. Her 40-man crew had abandoned ship Saturday night.

The 7,173-ton Italian freighter Monviso crashed onto rocks under the South Foreland cliffs at Dover early today, but tugs wrenched her free at midmorning.

Four more inches of snow fell in northern Scotland, already floundering under a thick white blanket from almost continuous storms last week.

Five tons of fodder were dropped in 18 plane flights from Kinloss yesterday in livestock relief missions.

Avalanches took two more lives in north Italy yesterday.

Will Check Repudiation of Testimony Given by Ex-Red in 1952

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harvey Matusow, self-described ex-Communist and liar, was called for questioning today by Senate Red hunters checking into his repudiation of sworn testimony he gave them.

The public hearing by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee was aimed at separating fact from fiction in Matusow's statements.

Matusow, 28, testified as an ex-Communist and former FBI informer in four investigations conducted by the subcommittee in 1952 including a probe in which he now says he gave false testimony against Owen Lattimore.

Lattimore is a Far Eastern affairs specialist who is under indictment on perjury charges growing out of the subcommittee probe but not directly related to Matusow's testimony.

Matusow also gave testimony which he now says was false to the House Un-American Activities Committee and as a paid government witness in the trial of 13 second-string Communist leaders convicted on conspiracy charges in 1953.

Chairman Walter (D-Pa) of the House committee has declared he is convinced that Matusow was a Communist "plant" intended to discredit congressional investigators.

The convicted Communists filed a new trial motion after Matusow said in an affidavit Jan. 31 that he gave faked evidence against them.

Miami Employe Took $46,000, Police Say

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A city of Miami accountant who police said admitted juggling the city's money to cover his shortage of more than $46,000 will be fired today, Asst. City Manager Ray Williams said.

The accountant, George N. Parks, 34, was arrested yesterday and questioned about the shortage. Detective Charles Papy said he admitted he used the money for "high living."

Parks, a Miami employe eight years, handled cash which the city collected from bad checks. City Auditor W. W. Culbertson quoted Parks as saying the most he ever took at one time was $2,000.

It takes 200,00 board feet of lumber for the flight deck of an export-type aircraft carrier, or enough to build 20 houses.

Finds It Doesn't Pay to Speak to Strangers

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — James Jackson, 63, figures it doesn't pay to call out cheerful greetings to strangers.

Jackson told police yesterday he wished a passer-by "good morning" and was promptly answered with a "Good morning, nothing." The stranger held him up and got away with a dollar.

Find Abandoned Car With Note to Owner

SWEETWATER, Tex. (UP) — Constable Neely Reeves, investigating a report of an abandoned automobile yesterday, found a note inside of the car which read:

"This car is th property of the Ango California National Bank, 1731 Chester Avenue, Bakersfield, Calif. Please notify them to come after it. I can't bring it back. Out of money."

Police Seek Youths in Assault on 2 Girls

DETROIT (UP) — Police were searching today for four alleged members of a pachuco gang who kidnaped three teenaged Detroit girls and raped two of them.

The girls, two of them 16 and one 18, told police the youths forced them into their car Saturday and drove to a secluded spot in suburban Detroit.

When the car was parked the girls broke away and ran through a wooded area. They were overtaken, however, and mauled. Two of them were assaulted.

Physicians at Receiving Hospital confirmed that two of them had been assaulted and said they all bore scratches and bruises.

The girls told police the youths had bragged that "we are members of the seven-mile road pachuco gang."

Lansing Native Stricken, Dies in Berlin Hospital

BERLIN (AP)—Cesar J. Scavarda, 56, chief of public safety for the U. S. High Commission in Berlin died in an Army hospital today. He suffered a heart attack a week ago while shoveling snow outside his home.

He came to Berlin four years ago after a long career as a state policeman in Michiga, chief of police and city manager of the city of Flint. He was a native of Lansing.

TRENTON, Italy (AP)—An avalanche killed three skiers in the South Tyrol Mountains yesterday.

Radford Decries 'Preventive War'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of Joint Chiefs of Staff, stoutly denied today that he has ever favored a "preventive war" and declared he was sure the U. S. would do all it can to avoid any armed conflict—"big or little."

Radford, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report, said it would be hard to find "a group of men anywhere who are more dedicated to the cause of peace tha the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Thailand Fears Invasion Force

Prime Minister Says 20,000 Rebels Poised for Attack on Border

BANGKOK (AP) — Prime Minister Pibulsonggram said today 20,000 so-called free Thai troops are assembled in bordering Yunan Province of Red China poised for a jump-off against Thailand.

The Thai field marshal addressed a news conference as heads of three delegations arrived for Wednesday's opening of the three-day conference of the Southeast Asia Defense Treaty Organization.

Pibul told the 220 correspondents the free Thais are headed by former Thai Prime Minister Pridi Phanomyong. He added that Thailand could handle aggressive moves by them unless Red Chinese troops joined in an attack.

The Southeast Asia defense organization was formed in Manila with the aim of halting Communist aggression. Pibul said Thailand favored a strong organization dedicated "to peace in this part of the world."

He said Thailand had been able to handle internal problems resulting from subversion and Communists infiltrating from Red China "but the danger to Thailand is beginning to increase."

"Autonomous Thais in Yunan have set up a military academy at Cheli and will use Yunan to jump off against us," he said. "If we don't do anything about it communism will move across the Mekong River and dominate all of Southeast Asia.

Claims Cobalt Bomb Could Wipe Out Life

WASHINGTON (UP)—A "cobalt bomb" might kill all life on earth, Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson said last night.

Military authorities have said such a bomb would be too deadly for anyone even to consider making.

"I believe it is possible to create a situation where it (presumably radioactivity released by the bomb) would drift around and around the world and kill everybody," no matter who dropped it, Peterson said.

Peterson did not elaborate on the "cobalt bomb," but he said "I rather doubt we are going to have suicide." He was interviewed on a television program.

Revelers Riot in New Orleans

Police Use Gas, Billies to Subdue Violence in Carnival Crowds

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Carnival crowds rioted in the French Quarter early today forcing police to use tear gas and night sticks to subdue the milling throngs.

Veteran officers described the riot as the worst in their memory and before it was quelled seven oficers were injured and a score or more persons arrested.

Thousands of natives and visitors milled and screamed in the narrow 700 block of St. Peter St., near Bourbon in the heart of the night club district.

Patrolman Roger Leoncavello reported the riot started after he attempted to arrest 18-year-old Lawrence Morrison of Arlington, Va. The officer said five New Orleans youths accused Morrison of attempting to force the lock on their car.

Hundreds of excited tourists and bar patrons surrounded Leoncavello and Morrison as the two scuffled, and the officer put in a riot call.

Squad cars and the police crash truck responded and in the ensuing fight officers were bitten, punched and otherwise pushed around before tear gas and night sticks brought the crowd under control.

Patrol wagons were kept busy hauling those arrested to the First District police station where they were booked on various charges.

Morrison was treated at a hospital for lacerations of the head and booked with attempted burglary, simple battery on Leoncavello and criminal damage to an automobile.

Police said 45 minutes after the first outburst was suppressed, they were called again to the same immediate vicinity where crowds hurled missiles at busses and cars.

The weary officers answered three more complaints in the same general area during the night and scores of complaints in other parts of the French Quarter.

GUY CHASSAGNARD

Visits America for French Job

Young Bicyclist Hopes to Impress Publishers in Native Land

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Guy Chassagnard, 19, wants a job in France. So he came to the United States.

He landed in Montreal last July and rode his bicycle down to New York and across to Chicago. Then he turned south to Oklahoma and Texas and is going on across the country.

He explains that he is learning about the United States and writing about it for one Paris newspaper and five magazines.

He wants a French newspaper job, but he had no experience and no influential friends. He's showing French editors what he can do.

French manufacturers equipped him with his bicycle, movie camera, tent, sleeping bag, air mattress, even a cigarette lighter. That bicycle has 150 pounds of equipment draped over it. A shipping firm arranged the Atlantic crossing.

He says he is going slowly, but when he is on the road he averages 80 miles a day. He started out with $70 and has $15 left. Folks take him in along the way.

Chassagnard says, "I have often the impression that Americans are too happy. They have not been destroyed two times in 30 years by the same enemy."

His father is a railroad employe and his parents have been married 27 years. They have no car, no refrigerator, even no vacuum cleaner, he says, and adds: "France needs young people who are not afraid of life and other people."

He is pleased with the help he has received from Americans. Often newspapers which he visits provide food and lodging for him.

And the farther west he goes, the more friendly the people have been, he says.

One thing he finds strange is the "dry country" where alcoholic drinks have been banned.

"In France, beer is a soft drink," he says.

2 Sailors Killed in Blast Aboard Sub at Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Two sailors were killed last night and five men injured in a battery explosion aboard the submarine Pomodon, moored in San Francisco Naval Shipyard.

All names were withheld.

Five after the blast was quickly controlled.

The explosion came in routine battery charging for sea trials scheduled this week.

UM Engineering Costs $8 Million

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The University of Michigan's Engineering Research Institute spent $8,000,000 in the 1953 - 54 fiscal year in studies ranging from explorations of the atom to methods of reducing the Noise on battleships.

The funds went for a total of 334 governmental and industrial research projects. The institute funnels sponsored research work to faculty members and its own staff of technicians.

The amount of research sponsored by industry increased 25 per cent over the previous year, but government-paid work dipped about 6 per cent.

Many of the projects for the government are secret, but at least three of them costing 2 million dollars are for the armed services and concern basic research in "means of handing problems of efficient utilization of forces and supplies."

Five guided missiles projects cost over a million dollars.

Cat Nap in Cab Costs $10

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP) — Two policemen saw cab driver Edward Coleman sleeping in his taxicab and it cost him $10. Seems there's a Birmingham ordinance which prohibits the driver of a public vehicle from using it for snoozing purposes on a public street.

Only Hope for Peace Is in U. N.–Truman

MARYVILLE, Mo. (UP)—Harry S. Truman says the only hope for world peace is in the United Nations.

The former President, evidently referring to this country's refusal to join the old League of Nations, said, "The United States shirked its duty to the world in 1920 and World War II resulted."

He declared the United States must maintain a strong defense "and we must fulfill our obligations to the United Nations for lasting world peace, supported by force if necessary." Truman spoke yesterday at dedication ceremonies for a National Guard armory.

Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C., has the smallest seating capacity of any major league, 27,523.

Hibernia once was the name of Ireland and some scholars believe it to be the name Julius Caesar gave the country.

House Chiefs Open War on 2 Tax Eating Evils

Leadership in the House has decided on a long overdue reform.

Goal of this decision, elimination of unnecessary investigations and junkets, is so sound and sensible that one wonders why remedial action has been delayed so long.

Virginia's Representative Smith, chairman of the House Rules Committee, is prominent in the war on investigationitis. In the past, he declared, many investigations have been absolutely unnecessary. Others have failed to produce promised results.

Henceforth, the Rules Committee which has iron control over such matters, is going to be tough on lawmakers anxious to initiate probes. Not only will they have to show the inquiry is needed, but guarantee worthwhile results and prove they can operate on a limited budget.

In an effort to cut down on needless travel at taxpayers' expense, Speaker Rayburn has asked the Rules Committee to get tough with the junketeers. As a guide to the committee the Texan suggested that trips and investigations should be required to pass three tests:

Will they lead to constructive legislation?

Will they pay for themselves in increased savings of public funds?

Will they gather necessary information for the House?

The Rules Committee should have no trouble in ending needless investigations. But junketeering is another thing. Hope of ending it would be brightened if the Executive Branch would co-operate. The State Department, military agencies, etc., help junketeers because they want grateful congressmen around at budget time.

It is important that the usefulness of the Congressional investigative power and necessary junkets be preserved. One of the best ways of doing this, as the House plans, is to end the abuses of both functions.

Squatter Cure Offered

If enacted as written, a bill before the Legislature promises a way out for purchasers of illegally reclaimed Great Lakes frontage.

This problem of so called "squatters" has grown up over the past 30 years. It is the direct result of failure of the State Government to enforce the law prohibiting the reclaiming and sale of such lake front land which is State property. Between 5,000 and 6,000 persons are involved as purchasers.

The bill awaiting Legislative action would give these persons clear title to the reclaimed land for a payment of 15 per cent of its current market value. It also would provide that future applicants for the purchase of reclaimed land would have to pay the full market price.

This seems to be a reasonable and equitable solution. Certainly these purchasers shouldn't be penalized severely for the State's failure to enforce its own law.

Rustlers Again on Range

Though the old Wild West with its cattle rustlers is long gone, cattle stealing today is again big business.

In the new Wild West the rustlers using trucks and modern methods are reputed to make off annually with meat on the hoof worth $50,000,000. As might be expected, these methods are matched by the modern tactics of law enforcement officers.

Douglas Nelson Rhodes, writing in the Kansas City Star, describes rustlers' operations. Well financed and equipped with high speed trucks and short wave radios, today's rustlers can steal a load of cattle and move them 300 miles before an old time sheriff could have organized a possee.

Brand changing has become such a fine art that brands are losing their value as a means of cattle identification. To combat this development law officers found a way to use invisible ink for branding. Such markings can be seen only with "black light" lamps.

Even more modern is the way one ranch applied the lessons of the atomic age to the problem of identification. Cattle are fed hay and grain made radioactive to a harmless degree. When sold they can be identified with a Geiger counter as the property of that ranch.

This system trapped a rustler who had been operating for years without being caught. His downfall came when he tried to market a dozen radioactive steers.

Rhodes points out that rustling today not only is a big and profitable business but that some of the outlaw gangs operate from well equipped offices and even with boards of directors.

While an old geezer in Kansas was shooting the breeze the other morning about how much colder the winters used to be, his whiskers froze stiff.

and divides people into two groups; makers and non-makers. The makers include the leader, the creative man, the producer and others who really make things. The non-maker is the trader, the seller, the arranger, the collector. And then there's the normal type. In personality types comes the bully, the smoothy, the smart alec, the clown, the timid soul, the pouter, the neutral, the tattletale, the sphinx, the chatterbox and the scatterbrain. And of course, there's the salt of the earth. By the way, where do you think you are classified?

David Lawrence Says:

'56 Nominees Challenged to Declare Stand on U. N.

WASHINGTON—For some unexplained reason a rather sensational speech delivered in San Francisco last Friday afternoon by Sen. Knowland was not widely reported in the press.

When the Republican leader of the United States Senate issues to all candidates in the 1956 election—both for the presidency and for Congress—a challenge to make their position clear with respect to any future reliance on the United Nations by the American people, it would seem to be news of major importance.

After reviewing the facts about the Korean War wherein the United States "supplied 90 per cent of the manpower and better than 90 per cent of the resources," Sen. Knowland asks:

"Does this indicate that the United Nations is an effective instrument of collective security? The answer must come back in the negative.

"With that example, are you prepared to risk the future of our nation and the safety of our people upon the collective ability of the United Nations to function in the event of aggression? The answer likewise must be in the negative. Has the time not come for a realistic appraisal of just what part the United Nations is qualified to play, and to stop kidding ourselves into believing it is something it is not, and in my judgment cannot be?"

Knowland asserts that the United Nations "could not be and should not be considered a basis for world government" because its members have no common heritage, and because nations "which have had no experience with representative constitutional government sit on equal terms with those that have had long experience."

He then says that there are those who now urge the "admission of Communist China which was the aggressor in the Korean War," and that "this, together with the other Communist states, would give that system of tyranny 800 million people that they claim to speak for." The California senator thereupon proclaims his challenge as follows:

"As for me, as long as I have a voice in the Senate of the United States, I shall never consent to permitting the guarantees of freedom under our constitution to be diluted or modified directly or indirectly by any organization having nations in powerful policy positions which have no appreciation of or respect for free institutions.

"Lest we be gradually edged into such a world order before we learn too late wherein we have been taken, I believe that every candidate for public office, executive, legislative or judicial, should be asked to give a forthright view upon this great public issue."

Knowland thinks the United Nations could perform useful service as "a forum wherein the views of the free world and the Communist world might be aired to the benefit of the people of the world, provided that there was assurance the debates in the General Assembly or the Security Council were receiving as widespread coverage behind the Iron Curtain as they do in the free nations of the world." The senator adds:

"Otherwise it (the United Nations) becomes a vast propaganda forum for the Communist world wherein the point of view of the West does not have the equal opportunity to get to the people of the Soviet Union and its satellites because of the strict censorship those governments exercise."

Knowland reminded his audience, moreover, that "the evidence was conclusive that the Soviet Union was not only giving moral support to Communist aggression in Korea, but was supplying MIG planes, tanks, artillery, ammunition and other weapons in equal violation of the U.N. resolution and the charter of the organization." Despite this, as he points out, "no steps were taken to expel the Soviet Union from the United Nations."

In the same speech the Republican leader draws attention to the arrogant boast by the Soviet Union that it had helped Red China, and he recalls that the Soviet representative in the U.N. "in effect defied the U.N. to do anything about it—and they did nothing."

The California senator stressed that "every member of the United Nations knows that the terms of the Korean armistice have been violated on numerous occasions," and he cites examples including the imprisonment of 15 members of the American Air Force. Then comes this startling declaration:

"There is strong reason to believe that there are at least several hundred additional U.N. and U.S. prisoners of war being held in violation of the terms of the armistice."

The foregoing would seem to be news of interest to the American people. The newspapers, which must depend daily on the selection of news made by the press associations at the point of origin, may well be curious as to why they didn't get a comprehensive report on it for either Saturday morning or afternoon editions, even though the speech was available in Washington in advance of delivery in San Francisco.

'Suburbanite' Says Companies Should Cut Prices of Goods and Forget 'Junk Mail'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I cannot resist adding to what has been said about "junk mail." On March 31, boxholder circulars are to be discontinued in cities. If circulars in the city are a loss financially, are a post office headache, a backache to city carriers, and a nuisance to city dwellers, why discriminate against suburban dwellers and rural carriers and continue sending us these unwanted circulars?

We, as suburbanites, certainly do not want to be pestered with this trash which is immediately thrown into the fire without being read.

Such advertising should be put in the daily papers where it belongs. These give - away soap coupons are another type of junk mail. If soap companies would forget the coupon run - around and reduce the price of soap and other articles at the store accordingly, they would gain the unending gratitude of the housewife, the grocer, the rural carrier, and they would sell more goods.

The rural carrier really is the "forgotten man" of the postal department. He is required to work 6 days each week while the majority of factory, office and postal employes work 5 days per week.

The postal department should try to adjust the rural carriers working time to 5 days per week within the near future.

Here's hoping that our Congressmen will be happy to vote for at least a 10 percent increase for all postal employes.

Mons. Pineau will take up where Mendes-France left off. The trouble is Mendes-France left off where he took up.

Pierre was trying to save France instead of the franc.

Mons. Pineau may be the twenty-first premier since liberation in 1944. And nobody is running looser than the premiers.

When France goes out on the lib it liberates everything including the opposition.

We informed Mendes-France in January the reason Noah got to Ararat was because he didn't heave-to and ask for a vote of confidence.

But Pierre wasn't satisfied with whipped cream and a meringue glace. He wanted a strawberry on top.

He polled the delegation and found they were using a hornet's nest for a suggestion box.

The result was a debacle built for two. Pierre and his campaign manager.

That's the score in the Chamber of Deputies where no soap goes with the laundry frank. It may mean the end of armament for Western Germany and a bag limit on truffles.

Man Owes Lot to His City, South Dakota Editor Says

(Aberdeen, S.D., American-News)

"My city owes me nothing, if accounts were balanced at this date, I would be the debtor. Haven't I, all these years lived within the limits of the city and shared all its benefits? Haven't I had the benefits of its schools and churches? Haven't I had the use of its library, park and public places? Haven't I had the protection of its fire, police and health departments? Haven't its people, during all this time been gathering for me, from the four corners of the earth, food for my table, clothing for my body, and material for my home?

"Hasn't this city furnished the patronage by which I have succeeded in my business? Hasn't it furnished the best friends of my life, whose ideals have been my inspiration, whose kind words have been my cheer, and whose helpfulness has carried me over the greatest difficulties?

"What will I give in return? Not simply the taxes which cover so small a part of what I have received. I want to give more; I want, of my own free will, to give enough that I can rightfully say, 'This is my City,' so that I can take pride in my city, so that I can take pride in its prosperity and in the honors which come to its citizens. I can do this only by becoming a part of the City—by giving to it generously of myself."

Little Too Far

His hatchet-faced mother-in-law had written to say that she was coming to live with them. As she approached the house she saw a large crowd. Pushing her way to the front, she blinked in consternation at the damage a midnight fire had done—at the ruined walls, the charred furniture.

"Dear me," she gasped, her face livid. "I didn't think he'd go as far as that."

"You look downcast."

"Yes, my wife's been away six months."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Housewife Has Always Wanted Hubby to Give Her a Real Blistering Spanking

Alice had a secret craving that she had never confessed to her husband, lest he think she were abnormal. But psychologists encounter this same peculiarity very often. It does not mean Alice is losing her mind. So use a little psychological detective work on her case today. And paste these case records in your scrapbook.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-355: Alice W., aged 36, has been happily married for 15 years.

"But, Dr. Crane, I sometimes wonder if I am abnormal," she confessed timidly.

"I am madly in love with my husband and he has always been wonderful to me. And I have a strong physical affection for him.

"But ever since I was first married, I have wished he would turn me over his knee quite firmly and give me a real, blistering spanking before he makes love to me.

"I've never told him about this strange craving, for I feared he would think I was losing my mind.

"What is wrong with me, anyway, to cause such an odd desire? Could it be that I crave more complete submission?

"I have playfully teased and tried to get him to give me a spanking at least on my birthday, but it just doesn't work.

"He would never think of hurting me! So how can I get over this strange craving for a spanking?"

Psychology is really a science in which a lot of shrewd detective work is needed, and Alice's problem is a good example.

Marriage counselors often encounter this very same urge of wives to have their husbands paddle them. Some frigid women then become very ardent after such a spanking. Why?

Is it because they crave more masculine dominance? That may be part of the underlying cause, at least in some cases, but that isn't the specific explanation in Alice's case.

For a man might pinch his wife's arm or slap her or do many other kinds of corporal punishment if all his wife craved was to receive punishment and enjoy being a masochist.

Alice craves only a spanking, not a slapping or switching or any other type of mild cruelty. And her craving is a childhood heirloom. It goes back into her girlhood.

Many of you regular readers of this educational column in practical psychology can probably deduce the explanation.

For Alice had been conditioned in childhood so that a spanking was linked in her mind with erotic excitement. Consequently, I questioned her about her early girlhood, and found that she had indulged in auto erotic practices one day. Her father happened to see her.

So her father immediately turned her over his knee and gave her a blistering spanking.

That episode occurred only once. But it made such an indelible impression on her mind that throughout all the ensuing years, Alice has associated erotic excitement with a severe spanking.

Subconsciously, therefore, she now hopes her husband will paddle her, for she realizes this will give her far more erotic excitement, though she hadn't realized just why until our interview.

Most of the queer desires and peculiar quirks in adults have had some very specific cause, maybe far back in childhood. Don't grow unduly alarmed and imagine you are going insane because you are different from your immediate neighbors.

There are thousands, if not millions, of folks with the same problems as yours, but if you haven't realized that fact, then you may think you are very unique and actually abnormal.

So read these true cases every day in this column and you will then gain a wider perspective. That alone will banish much of your tension and fear.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

More and More Hospitals Separate Mother, Baby

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

My doctor believes in natural childbirth and rooming-in (writes an expectant mother who has borne one child) but the hospital refuses to cooperate on rooming-in. The hospital people say they do not have adequate facilities — this after building a new maternity wing only four years ago! So I must go to (a city too far from home) . . .

(Letters like this are coming in steadily increasing volume these days).

I bore my first child when I was 19. I wanted to have my baby naturally, thanks to enlightenment by a very dear mother. Except for the first stage of labor I never knew a thing, as an ether mask was slapped on my face without my consent. I have a vague memory of coming to momentarily to see my hands in the air trying to fight off anesthesia.

"I was then put out again and knew nothing of my child's advent into the world. I was not even allowed to see my baby for 24 hours, a ridiculous practice if ever there was one! This was a deep disappointment and . . . modern hospitals take away any natural instincts a mother may have . . . discourage breast feeding . . . no wonder family life is . . .

(Mrs. ——

The hospital people who "refuse to cooperate" because they do not have adequate facilities are ignorant or dishonest or both. Such 19th century institutions are reluctant to discard (1) the Laura Jean Lib atmosphere they manage to maintain in the obstetrics department—it intimidates the expectant mother, especially if she is as ignorant as a Laura Jean heroine should be, and it makes the expectant father play without protest the boob role in the monkey cage, while whatever goes on is going on behind the white enamel curtain; (2) the plate glass show window in which the unfortunate newborn infants are crowded together for exhibition while near-nurses go through the motions of attending them and conveying infection from one to another—it is in the newborn nursery that fatal epidemics of infantile diarrhea occur; and (3) the arbitrary hospital rules and regulations which so admirably keep customers in line.

This expectant mother says "It is almost uncanny to see in print —Dr. Grantly Dick Reads "Childbirth Without Fear" (Harpers)— thoughts I have had for years . . . how precious are those first days in a baby's life!"

Precious indeed, if the baby has a real mother, but not so precious if the mother doesn't cuddle, love, nurse, care for and watch over her baby whenever she pleases from the very first.

The cold "scientific" 19th century hospital rules and regulations to which customers without character so meekly submit contribute, I believe, to the American tragedy of divorce. I mean to imply that the separation of husband and wife at the supreme moment of their wedded life making the idea of divorce less abhorrent.

From professional observation and personal experience I believe every husband should be at his wife's side when their baby is being born, and if tricky hospital "regulations" do not permit it, then it is much better to have the baby at home.

Send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 4, "Preparing for Maternity." It is a primer for any couple expecting.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Gale Grounds Freighter

DOVER, England (UP) — Gale winds swept the 7,172-ton Italian freighter Monviso aground under the cliffs of Dover early today. But tugs working in a blinding snow fred her on the rising tide. The extent of her damage was not immediately known.

French Quarter Resists Change in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — The streetcar named Desire is now a bus.

And Basin street, where the blues and jazz were born, is rapidly becoming an ultra-modern shopping center.

But the thousands of tourists who will invade New Orleans for the Feb. 22 Mardi Gras will find the same French Quarter that has always been the heart and soul of the city.

Well-heeled tourists still have dinner at Antoine's and the many other fashionable restaurants in the "Vieux Carre," as the quarter is known in New Orleans.

And the blues and jazz are still played, side by side, although the nightspots are now centered on Bourbon street instead of Basin.

One sidewalk sot said Bourbon street was no-named because more bourbon is consumed there per square inch than anywhere else in the world.

Internationally known evangelist Billy Graham recently took a stroll down Bourbon street during a crusade in New Orleans, and later told his audience:

"I thought I was in the middle of Hell." He added, "The street is a stench in the nostrils of God."

Almost anyone will agree that after dark it's one of the noisiest streets in the world. The noises form a strange symphony. Side by side, you can hear uninhibited sounds of Dixieland, the mournful wail of the blues, and a string trio playing an entrancing waltz.

But the city fathers are not too proud of the nightspots on Bourbon street. Some say that it is only a small part of the French Quarter—that, in fact, the French Quarter would still prosper without the existence of Bourbon street.

Frank S. Scott, chairman of the Vieux Carre Commission, whose job is to see that the French Quarter is not destroyed, says that most visitors are more interested in history, architecture and atmosphere than they are in the many "exotic dancers" on Bourbon street.

Preservation of the quarter is no accident. The State of Louisiana, realizing the value of the French Quarter, New Orleans' third largest business, protected it with a unique law passed in 1936.

The law authorized the mayor of New Orleans to appoint the Vieux Carre commission which has power over any changes planned in the quarter.

A property owner must get permission even to paint his building, or to replace a worn-out brick. The commission encourages restoration and preservation, but it moves cautiously when someone wants to build a new structure.

But despite the fascinating architecture, the night club owners themselves say that without Bourbon street, there would be no French Quarter.

For most of next week's visitors, however, the argument will have no meaning. Like the thousands who have poured into the city every year for the Mardi Gras, they probably will spend equal time in the clubs and admiring the old houses.

Actor Breaks Shoulder

Police Sifting Clues in LA Rape-Slaying

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Police today studied a bloody fingerprint and followed up names in a small address book, two leads in the savage slaying of Mrs. Karil Rogers Graham, 39, registrar at an art school.

The body of the attractive brunette divorcee was found Saturday night in her one-room apartment. She had been sadistically raped, police said, and her head had been crushed by at least two blows from a heavy weapon.

Four men acquaintances have been questioned but no charges have been filed. Detective Sergeants Jack McCreadie and Charles Detrich said the questioning was part of a routine check of all former acquaintances.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Black Seeking High Court Post

Judge Wants Dems to Pit Him Against Brake at Convention Saturday

PORT HURON (UP) — Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black, a former Republican, said yesterday he will seek Democratic nomination as a Supreme Court judge in protest to the Republican nomination of former State Treasurer D. Hale Brake for the post.

"Even the thought of a bigtoed Brake on an already wheezing judicial process is enough to call for vigorous counter measures," Black said. "With the events of Saturday (the Republican nomination of Brake), I am quite willing to run on the Democratic ticket."

The St. Clair County Democratic Committee had asked Black for permission to submit his name for the nomination at the Democratic convention in Grand Rapids next Saturday.

Black was elected state attorney general on the Republican ticket in 1947 and served under the late Gov. Kim Sigler. He later broke with Sigler on grounds the governor failed to keep his promises to "clear up the state government."

He helped Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams defeat Sigler at the next election but did not complete his break with the GOP until Williams appointed him to the circuit court last year.

The outspoken judge has tangled with leading state Republican figures on several other occasions. He had a squabble with Brake while serving as attorney general and broke with Sigler largely because the governor backed Brake in the squabble.

Former GOP Gov. Wilber M. Brucker started suit against Black asking $500,000 for slander but later dropped the suit.

Another frequent Black target has been Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a former GOP national committeeman from Michigan.

Nicaragua President Ready to Rip Nixon

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (INS)—Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza indicated today he would speak bluntly to visiting U. S. Vice President Richard Nixon about the U. S. role in the recent dispute between Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

Somoza renewed his claim that the invasion of Costa Rica was purely an internal affair and lashed out at his personal enemy, Costa Rican President Jose Figueres, as "a crazy man."

The Nicaraguan president declared that Nixon could do a great deal to ease tension in the explosive Central American area. His words indicated he would express the view to Nixon that the U. S. let him down in the border dispute.

However, U. S. officials traveling with Nixon are expected to tell Somoza with equal bluntness to keep his hands off any future movement against the Figueres government or face renewed action by the Organization of American States.

American Writer Held in Knifing of Roman Student

ROME (UP) — An American journalist, Donald Allan, 33, of Washington, D. C., was being held today in a Rome jail in connection with the stabbing of an Italian student.

The student, identified by police as Adalberto Spinosa, was stabbed in the neck and chest early yesterday. Hospital attendants said his condition was critical.

Police said the student was knifed in front of Allan's apartment when Spinosa and Allan's wife, Marjorie, 32, returned together in a taxi from a gay foreign press costume party which all three had attended.

The police said they were holding Allan in Rome's Regina Coeli (queen of heaven) jail "as responsible for the knifing." No formal charge was placed against him.

Allan has been living here for two years and has worked on occasional assignments for Newsweek magazine. He was formally a correspondent for the United Press in Madrid. Spinoso has worked part time for an Italian movie magazine.

Father Dies Watching Son Win Cage Game

ALPENA (UP)—Gus A. Adams, who had been warned to avoid excitement because of a bad heart, died Saturday, seconds after watching his son score four points to give Alpena Catholic Central a 57-53 basketball victory in overtime.

Adams slumped in his seat just as the overtime period in the game between Alpena and Romeo ended. His son, Jack, rushed to his father's side to find him dead.

Seek Hot Rodder in Detroit Death

Friend of Victim Tells How He Tried to Avoid 'Bumper Tag' Game

DETROIT (UP) — Police today sought a youthful hot rod driver who they said caused the death of one teenager and the injury of another attempting to lure them into a high-speed automobile game of "bumber tag."

Killed was Gerald Back, 17, of Dearborn Township.

He was riding with Lorne C. Johnston, 18, of Detroit, early yesterday, when their car was rammed in the rear by another vehicle carrying five occupants.

The impact powered Johnston's car over a curb and sent it crashing into a tree. Johnston suffered cuts and bruises.

The car that hit the two youths sped from the scene without stopping.

Johnston said he and Back were en route home from a bowling alley when they pulled along side the second vehicle at a stop light.

"This guy at the wheel—I saw later he had real red hair—kept gunning his motor like he wanted to race," Johnston said.

"My motor's pretty new and I think too much of my car to do that," he added. "I ignored him."

"When we stopped for a second light I pulled behind him and he backed up and started pushing me.

"After that, the guy would pass me, then slow down in front. I saw the kids in the car. They all looked excited.

"I ducked into a lot of side streets and tried to duck him. But he kept right after me. He'd get behind me and bump . . . must have done it four or five times.

"I didn't want to go too fast because I had a new motor. But I really wanted to get away.

"Finally, we were back on Warren near Outer Drive and we were going up a little rise. I could see this guy coming through my rear view mirror.

"This car kept gaining on us and then it hit. That's all I remember."

Police said Johnstons' car was going from 40-45 miles an hour. The second car was doing about 15 miles an hour faster, police said.

'Free Kissing' Sets Off Controversy in Berlin

BERLIN (INS)—A bitter controversy is raging in Berlin over the old German clustom of "free kissing" at carnival time.

In letters to Berlin newspapers, a Briedland man advised against "Free kissing" on hygienic grounds. A Potsdam woman, and other readers, called it "immoral." And a Berlin girl said that "I like to take part in the fun, but when my boy friend starts kissing other girls. . . I think it's horrible."

The Port of New York authority estimates that there will be two million helicopter passengers a year in the city area by 1960.

Doctor Facing Trial Ends Life With Shot

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—A 48-year-old pediatrician, the president of the Los Alamos Medical Society, was found shot to death in his apartment yesterday.

Police Chief Ralph Kopansky said Dr. Malcolm M. Cook apparently chose suicide rather than face the morals charges for which he had been indicted.

Dr. Cook, free on $5,000 bond, had been indicted by a federal grand jury in Albuquerque Friday on morals charges involving two girls, one 9 and the other 10. He was charged with transporting them across state lines for immoral purposes.

Students Protest Grades With Barrage of Stones

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City Junior High School teacher, Earl E. Stewart, 45, told police a group of students drove past his home and hurled rocks. "It has happened before," he said. "Every time I give certain students low grades someone throws rocks at my house." He said that if he could identify any of the rock throwers he would take care of the situation.

Jealous Lover Shoots, Kills 3

Slays Woman, 2 Men Before Taking Own Life With Target Pistol

ATLANTA (AP)—A jealous lover shot and killed a former Georgia legislator, a Tennesse shoe salesman and the woman he was dating and then committed suicide last night.

Another woman was injured seriously in the wild burst of gunfire which broke up a gay party in a northeast Atlanta home.

One of the victims was identified as John Verlyn Booth, 49, member of the Georgia House of Representatives from 1934 to 1938 and onetime Fulton County (Atlanta) campaign manager for Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) when Russell ran for governor. Booth was divorced.

They said he smashed his way into the house with a .22-caliber target pistol in hand and fired with deadly accuracy at all four persons.

The other dead were listed as: Mrs. Ella Warren, 39, in whose one-story brick bungalow the shooting occurred, and Ira D. Lane 49, a shoe salesman at Chattanooga, Tenn., who was in Atlanta attending a convention. Lane also was divorced.

The injured woman was Mrs. Anna Padgett Cone, a widow employed at Chattanooga. She suffered bullet wounds in the head and stomach and cuts about the head.

Capt. Mullins said Treadway had been dating Mrs. Warren and just recently purchased an engagement ring for her.

Margaret in Jamaica on Caribbean Tour

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Princess Margaret, wearing a white ermine stole, dined by candlelight with British army officers last night at romantic Blue Mountain Inn on this Caribbean isle.

The princess, dressed in a gold organza evening dress with gold sequins, sipped a cocktail, dined on roast turkey and listened to native Jamaican music on a terrace overlooking a lighted waterfall.

Jamaica is the eighth of the West Indies islands the princess has touched in her tour of the Caribbean over the past three weeks.

Steelworker Kills Wife, Daughter, 2 Men, Self; Police Seek Motive

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—An unemployed steelworker killed his wife, 17-year-old daughter and two men, then shot himself to death. Police were looking today for a motive.

Officers found the bodies yesterday in the home of the steelworker, Robert Miller, 42. Miller was clutching a .25-caliber pistol in one hand and a flashlight, still burning, in the other.

A search of several hours uncovered the bodies of his wife Helen, 47, and his daughter Dolores buried in a pile of coal in the cellar. Mrs. Miller was fully clad. Her daughter was wearing a slip.

Coroner W. Ralston McGee said both women had suffered multiple skull fractures, apparently inflicted with an ax. He said Mrs. Miller probably had been killed early Wednesday and her daughter some 12 hours later.

Police went to the Miller home, in a drab mineside community eight miles from here, after Anthony Rivak, 34, a former coal miner, staggered into a tavern and said he had been shot by Miller.

The bodies of Miller and Steve Demko, 27, an auto mechanic who lived nearby, were found in a bed together in a downstairs room. In an upstairs bedroom was the body of an unidentified man about 25. Then the search for the wife and daughter began.

Police said Demko and the other man had been beaten in the head, apparently with a machinists hammer found nearby. Demko also had been shot with a .25-caliber pistol. Miller was shot in the chest and his wrists had been slashed.

Rivak was reported on the critical list at Uniontown Hospital from a bullet wound in the abdomen.

"We haven't been able to question Rivak too much," State Police Sgt. H. J. Jaymes said. "His story is that Miller met him as he (Rivak) got off a bus last Saturday night and asked him to go to his home. He said he refused and that Miller fired several shots at him, then disappeared into the night."

Maureen O'Sullivan's Son Hit by Auto, Hospitalized

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Michael Farrow, 15, son of film actress Maureen O'Sullivan, is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital today after being hit by a car in front of his house.

Michael, the eldest of the actress' seven children, suffered a broken right leg and minor head injuries. He was returning from a movie early yesterday morning when struck by a car driven by Spencer Wread, 43, Los Angeles, who was not held, police said.

Miss O'Sullivan's husband, director John Farrow, is making a film in India.

Hal Boyle Says:

After 40, You Aren't Dying So Much as Being Born

NEW YORK (AP)—If life begins at 40, I'm four years old today.

I can hardly wait. Science may say man reaches the summit of his powers in his early twenties. But I know better. Looking back at my 44 calendar years I am sure I reached my peak in kindergarten, and have been going gradually downhill ever since.

* * *

It's been the same way with my friends, and it's probably true of you, too. You didn't chase the wrong girls, argue with traffic cops, or go into debt buying things you couldn't afford until you left kindergarten, did you It is only when a man leaves kindergarten and later studies arithmetic and fractions that he begins to add to his sorrows, subtract from his innocence, multiply his troubles—and become a fraction of his real self.

* * *

Birthdays used to be terrible ordeals to me. I hated the idea of becoming older. But I find I don't mind reaching the age of 44 at all, not even when cheerful friends tell me, "Why you don't look a day over 45."

* * *

For at 40 I thought the whole problem of time through and reached the conclusion that the worst age in life is the period between kindergarten and 40. Those in that bracket are more to be pitied than censured, because they are all crazy, mixed-up kids.

* * *

Actually we are born old and wise. Look at almost any baby or child you know. Isn't he really conservative, cautious and full of instinctive common sense

But after kindergarten he loses most of this innate wisdom. For the next 35 years he stumbles along messing up his life, getting more and more confused and ignorant about the really important things that matter in this brief world.

Then, at 40 if he is lucky, the darkness begins to lighten. Slowly he regains the heritage of his birth, the wisdom and common sense he threw away so long ago when he set out to slay dragons or to become rich and famous. The small pleasures that semed so wonderful to him as a child—the sight of a strange bird on a bough, watching snow change the landscape, seing a full moon rise—become wonderful anew. He senses once more the eternal mystery behind every commonplace thing.

After 40 you aren't dying so much as you are slowly being born again. You don't fight the world and time so hard but bend them into better focus. The terrible Mt. Everests that faced you at 20 or 25 are reduced to the molehills they really are.

At 25 you looked at them through binoculars of fear that magnified them. After 40 you simply learn to turn the binoculars around and look through lenses of understanding that put all objects in a less frightening perspective.

Anyway that's the way I intend at 44 to look at the scenes in this ceremonial jungle we move through. Does any other way make sense?

Naturally when you are 44 young people who regard you as a walking antiquity sometimes come to you for counsel. So here is my birthday advice to anybody unfortunate enough to be below the age of 40:

1. Don't argue questions of religion or politics at cocktail parties.

2. Never bet on yourself while playing in a pool game with strangers.

In the museum at Calcutta, India, there are no less than 1,107 different varieties of Indian rice, in addition to 1,300 varieties from other countries.

Give Reds Formosa, Indian Leader Says

NEW DELHI (INS)—The president of India declared today that Chinese Communist claims in the dispute over Formosa are fully justified and added that India recognizes only one Chinese government—the Peiping regime.

Dr. Rajendra Prasad made these statements in an address before a joint session of the two houses of India's parliament.

He spoke of last year's "peaceful co-existence" statement drawn up by India and Red China, and said he hopes the Formosa crisis can be settled by peaceful negotiations.

The Indian president said the Geneva conference, which produced the Indochina armistice, was the most important event in recent times.

He added that he hoped the Geneva meeting had set the pattern for the settlement of other international differences.

Under the terms of the armistice reached at Geneva the Vietminh Communists assumed control of the northern part of the Indochina state of Viet Nam.

Girlfriend's Dad Gives Beau Wrong Impression

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 14-year-old boy phoned his 14-year-old girl friend but was told by the girl's father that "she's slightly indisposed and has already retired."

The lad later told his pals: "I thought she had been bad and had been sent to bed—until I looked it up in the dictionary."

7-Year Wait Rewarded

U.S. Is Land of Bananas, Ice Cream to New Citizen

For seven of her 10 years she has been waiting for a visa to come to the United States from her native Germany and join her mother, Mrs. Hildegard McCue of Muskegon.

Yesterday, with a yellow tag marked "Destination Detroit" around her neck, she arrived by plane at Wayne Major Airport near Detroit to be greeted by her mother and a bevy of relatives.

And with her arrival, she took up her new name—Barbara McCue.

The trip really had its beginning in 1947 when Barbara's mother, a divorcee, married Sgt. Francis McCue, who was stationed with the U.S. Army in Geisenfeld, Germany, near Munich.

Barbara's mother and McCue came to this country and settled in Muskegon, where McCue started work as a truck driver. Barbara was left behind with relatives while her mother and stepfather made arrangements to bring her here.

"It has been such a long time," said Mrs. McCue, as she hugged her little daughter.

Barbara, though she speaks no English, wants to learn and plans to start school in Muskegon next fall.

"She is looking forward to eating some real ice cream," said her mother. "Not sherbert like she had in Germany. She has also heard that bananas are cheap and plentiful here. They are her favorites."

Barbara's only regret in leaving Germany was that she had to leave her bicycle behind. But her mother quickly assured her that that was a minor problem.

"Don't worry," she said. "We will buy you another."

Musicians Fighting U. S. Cabaret Tax

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A campaign against the wartime 20 per cent federal cabaret entertainment tax has been launched by the AFL American Federation of Musicians.

"We are being discriminated against in favor of the juke box," said Herman D. Kenin, a member of the AFM's Executive Board. Kenin, representing Union President James C. Petrillo, addressed 70 delegates yesterday at a conference of Western states musicians.

Kenin, president of AFM Local 99, Portland, Ore., said the union will join with bar and cafe owners and distribute literature to customers urging them to protest to their congressman.

Girlfriend's Dad Gives Beau Wrong Impression

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 14-year-old boy phoned his 14-year-old girl friend but was told by the girl's father that "she's slightly indisposed and has already retired."

The lad later told his pals: "I thought she had been bad and had been sent to bed—until I looked it up in the dictionary."

The dodo has been extinct since 1861.

7-Year Wait Rewarded

For seven of her 10 years she has been waiting for a visa to come to the United States from her native Germany and join her mother, Mrs. Hildegard McCue of Muskegon.

Yesterday, with a yellow tag marked "Destination Detroit" around her neck, she arrived by plane at Wayne Major Airport near Detroit to be greeted by her mother and a bevy of relatives.

And with her arrival, she took up her new name—Barbara McCue.

The trip really had its beginning in 1947 when Barbara's mother, a divorcee, married Sgt. Francis McCue, who was stationed with the U.S. Army in Geisenfeld, Germany, near Munich.

Barbara's mother and McCue came to this country and settled in Muskegon, where McCue started work as a truck driver. Barbara was left behind with relatives while her mother and stepfather made arrangements to bring her here.

"It has been such a long time," said Mrs. McCue, as she hugged her little daughter.

Barbara, though she speaks no English, wants to learn and plans to start school in Muskegon next fall.

"She is looking forward to eating some real ice cream," said her mother. "Not sherbert like she had in Germany. She has also heard that bananas are cheap and plentiful here. They are her favorites."

Barbara's only regret in leaving Germany was that she had to leave her bicycle behind. But her mother quickly assured her that that was a minor problem.

"Don't worry," she said. "We will buy you another."

Musicians Fighting U. S. Cabaret Tax

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A campaign against the wartime 20 per cent federal cabaret entertainment tax has been launched by the AFL American Federation of Musicians.

"We are being discriminated against in favor of the juke box," said Herman D. Kenin, a member of the AFM's Executive Board. Kenin, representing Union President James C. Petrillo, addressed 70 delegates yesterday at a conference of Western states musicians.

Kenin, president of AFM Local 99, Portland, Ore., said the union will join with bar and cafe owners and distribute literature to customers urging them to protest to their congressman.

Writer Believes Children of Rigid Parents Have No Respect for Them

Hint at Host When Dining in the Cold

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "What should one do when dining in a very cold house? I was having dinner with a friend whose circulation is evidently much better than mine and who seemed blissfully unconscious of the fact that I was struggling to keep my teeth from chattering.

"She is an extremely sensitive person and I was afraid of bringing up the subject of her cold house in fear of hurting her feelings. What is the perfect behavior under these conditions?"

If you go to this house often and know that it is always cold, then take something to the table with you—a jacket or a cape or a scarf, to wrap yourself in.

If you've left it in the entrance hall you can say, "I've been feeling shivery all day. I don't think I've got a cold, but I hope you don't mind if I get my wrap."

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband would like to ask a certain couple, who have been very nice to him while I was away, to our house some evening to play bridge. I have never met them but my husband wants me to call and invite them.

I think under the circumstances it would be better for him to call and ask them to come over, but he says it is the hostess' place to do the inviting. What is your opinion?

You should telephone the wife and say, "John has spoken so warmly of you that I want very much to meet you. Will you come to dinner with us next Thursday and play bridge afterwards?"

Dear Mrs. Post: What can a guest do when she finds a hair in the food when dining in someone's house? This happened to me not too long ago and the sight of it completely nauseated me, and, hungry as I was, I pretended not to be hungry as an excuse not to eat the food.

You couldn't possibly say anything to the hostess without causing her great embarrassment. What you did was the only thing possible to do under the circumstances.

Why We Fear to Accept Occasional Disobedience

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Late one afternoon, Stan's mother noted the untidy heap of cap, coat and scarf he'd left on the dining-room table. She walked over to the sunporch where he was working at his new printing press and asked him to hang them up.

Half an hour later, the clothes still lay on the table. His mother called again, "Stan, hang up your things!"

Again, he refused obedience. Ten minutes later, registering this fact, she did not hesitate. She walked over to his clothes and with unruffled serenity, took them to the hall closet herself and hung them up.

Then, joining her son in the sunporch, she said, "I've hung up your things for you. I'm glad to help you because I know you're having a hard time trying to learn how to reset the type on your printing press. But tomorrow, dear, I shall expect you to hang them up yourself."

The next day, Stan hung his things in the hall closet as soon as he removed them.

According to the rule that forbids us to ever accept a child's disobedience, he should have increased his defiance.

It is a very stupid rule, in my opinion. It requires us never to exercise our own judgment of a child's disobedience but to depend on the rule-makers' judgement of it. It would have made it impossible for Stan's mother to give him the ordinary human helpfulness she would give to an adult absorbed in an adult problem.

Because Stan is eight years old instead of 40, the rule says it is dangerous to hang up his clothes for him when he's been asked to hang them up himself.

This stupid rule does not earn us children's respect. All it does is to exploit our self-distrust.

Why is it we fear to accept a child's occasional disobedience? Isn't it because we fear the bad consequences that may result from our indulgence? Of course it is. We mustn't help Stan lest he abuse our kindness. We must force him to do what we say today lest tomorrow he think we don't mean what we say.

Because we've hung up his clothes this afternoon, we see ourselves hanging them up for the rest of our lives. Self-distrust is our problem. We clutch at the rule because it protects us against bad consequences. We have no confidence in our power to deal with them.

That is why children of rigid parents have no respect for them. In these people's inflexibility, they sense terror of any challenging development. They know that they are scared authorities and that their rigidity is weakness, not strength.

Mrs. W. N.—It is not always a question of stature in choosing stripes and plaids. 5 feet 9 doesn't want such shockers. Less than five feet prefers the indistinct kind of prints and stripes. That leaves average height to go wild in sports.

Perplexing French Make Her Think

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

An affectionate and indulgent study of our Gallic cousins by Elliot Paul is called "Understanding the French." That's a hopeful title and most of us, sitting at least 3,000 miles away from the Quai d'Orsay as premiers and cabinets succeed one another and "old" policies that scarcely got a chance to be tried are replaced by new, would certainly like some light on the French.

Undoubtedly peace is in greater jeopardy right now because we don't understand the French, the French don't understand us, and almost nobody in either country understands the British, the Germans, the Russians or any of the rest.

In the past few years I've read a number of books designed to explain Americans but they were written by the native-born or by enthusiastic men and women who had chosen to throw in their lot here. And, I suspect, they were never read anywhere but in the United States.

I'm sure our mutual cause would be better served if the French, the British and all the others tried understanding us and our attitudes. Certainly the people I know in other lands have some strange notions about my country.

Most of them, I should say, have about as much (or as little) knowledge of the United States as the average American can learn about France by skimming through a good guide book, reading a few French novels and spending two days in Paris.

Although I truly think all our actions point to the opposite, there are many indications that the rest of the world still pictures the composite American as materialistic, selfish, plumbing-proud, unappreciative of the finer things of life and with little to redeem these unpleasant tendencies.

A lot of false impressions may be our fault. Sometimes I feel that our public officials have been so afraid of sounding sentimental that they have gone out of their way to explain our relationship with our allies in brisk, business-like, unaltruistic terms.

It may go down better with the American taxpayer to tell him that we're aiding our friends because in the long run it is helping ourselves, but this does not generate love and sympathy among the helped.

I wish some proudly patriotic Frenchman would take a real look at us, probe around under our thin skins, try to plumb our emotions and reactions and, ignoring our own awkward words, explain us, affectionately and indulgently, to his countrymen. A whole series of "Understanding Americans" in many languages would be even better.

Somehow or other, if we're going to live at all, we must learn to adjust to one another. So we can't afford not to understand. To practice what I preach, I'm going to re-read Elliot Paul's book and maybe it will help me to comprehend why those perplexing Frenchmen act the way they do about their government.

Lazy Friend Monopolizes Girl's Home

Parents Must Take Stand on Rights, Teach Sharing

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

'Dear Miss Woodward: We took a baby girl into our home because of illness in her own family, and we have brought her up and loved her as though she were our own.

"She is now seventeen and a good girl. But we have a problem with her. She has fallen in love with a young man and he is here in our home every evening.

"My husband and I no longer go to the theater or to our lodge meetings and our friends no longer come in to spend the evening—because this young man is going to be here.

"He's the type that is silly and affectionate, and we don't believe in leaving the young people here alone. I told her that I didn't like the idea of having her friend here all the time and that I didn't care for his behavior, and all I got for an answer was 'you're too old-fashioned.'

"I feel that my husband and I are entitled to our home to ourselves some of the time, and I take very seriously my responsibility for our girl.

"So do you think it would be proper for me to ask her parents to take her back to their home now? They are able to take good care of her and she will be with her sisters and brothers. What would you suggest?"

As a last resort and if all else fails, it might be wise to break up your family relationship and send your girl back to her own family.

But first she should be taught about consideration and sharing.

At the moment you and your husband are being very high-type baby-sitters. That was a necessary part of the job you took on when you assumed the responsibility for a baby girl. But is shouldn't be necessary for you to deprive yourselves of all social life on her account now that she's grown.

Make her feel that your home is her home and you want her to feel free to entertain her friends in it. But on a turn-about basis with you. Then set about inviting your friends for dinner one night a week. The young man will either fit in with them, or will feel awkward and will soon learn to stay away the nights you are having guests.

Next, announce very firmly that you're going to lodge meeting on a certain night and the young man will not be welcome at the house unless she plans to invite another couple of two to keep them company while you're gone.

Or he could take her out to the movies that night. Incidentally, there's something very old-fashioned (and lazy) about the way this young man does his dating. He never takes his girl anywhere! If you could get her to mingle with other young people you'd have your living room to yourselves more often.

Build Cigar Box Rooms

Her is an idea for you soap carvers, and this is something new. Have you ever seen rooms made with soap furniture?

Not long ago a Brownie Troop was on our television program here in Indianapolis, and they brought cigar box rooms filled with soap furniture. The lids of the boxes were removed and the insides were papered with scrap wallpaper. The outsides were painted with water paints. Living rooms, bedrooms, dining rooms, and bathrooms were shown. The fixtures were all carved from white soap by marking the outline on with a nail file, then the parts not needed were carved away. Add pins, and wire for parts of the furniture. Put up curtains, too, and make cloth rugs. This is good for a school project, too. How about pioneer homes, too?

Your school room might like to make several rooms from the pilgrim-type home up to our present day home.

A pearl gray shirt dress in pima cotton has a loose buttonless coat in gray and white shadow plaid. It's perfect for sport and travel.

An Ingenious Housewife Makes Scarves and Bags

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Melanie L. lives in the suburbs and has a husband, three school-age children, and, as she puts it, "a clothing allowance so small you have to use a magnifying glass to see it." And the trouble is, she loves clothes, likes to look chic, and needs to look expensively dressed for her husband's business success.

It was a terrible problem," she told me, "and, after experimenting, I decided the only answer was a couple of basic dresses and lots of interesting and expensive-looking accessories.

"But these were awfully hard to find. I had the biggest trouble with scarves and bags. Good-looking scarves can do so much for a dress, and yet the decent ones cost a fortune. And bags! By the time I bought one decent one, there was no money left for the dress! Something had to be done."

Melanie did something. She combed the shops in the city, while the children were in school, and finally found a place that carried fine remnants.

"Pure silk," she told me, "with magnificent designs that were just made for scarves. I bought a lot of them, for pennies, really, and took them home.

"Then I experimented with interesting shapes, and cut them carefully. I learned how to hem them well, and the results were terrific. With one good black dress, I had all kinds of changes; really artistic and lovely changes. Everybody began to comment.

"Next I attacked the problem of bags. I couldn't afford leather, so I found many substitutes, good-looking plastics, heavy upholstery fabrics, all kinds of things. Now I have three really good bags, simply made, because I'm not yet really professional, but most attractive.

"So," she concluded, "that's how I solved my problem. My accessories cost about one-hundredth of what they're worth and my husband is delighted. Now my friends are beginning to ask me to do scarves for them, and who knows, I may end up making money, as well as saving it!"

Solons Set to Study Road Proposal

Strong Backing Seen for Plan

Opinions on Financing Differ in President's Expansion Scheme

By Merryle Stanley Rukeyser
INS Economic Commentator

WASHINGTON — Congress will soon turn its searchlight on the blueprint of the Eisenhower Administration, prepared by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, for an improved national system of highways.

While there appears to be virtually unanimous support on the Hill and in the grass roots for the modernization, expansion and improvement of highways, there are significant differences as to modes of financing the program.

At least three major types of financing schemes have been formulated.

The Clay Plan has been characterized by critics as a gimmick for bypassing the Federal maximum debt limit provision. It would be implemented through a public corporation, which would have a call on the Federal Treasury for funds in the event that the flow of revenues from the two per cent gasoline tax proved insufficient.

Incidentally, the earmarking of the tax for this purpose raises basic constitutional questions. The plan also recommends collection of fees from filling stations and motels operating along rights of way.

As alternatives to the Clay Plan, which soon will be audited in testimony before the Senate Public Works Committee, of which sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) is chairman, the committee chairman has a program of his own and Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va), who broke party lines to support Mr. Eisenhower for the presidency in 1952, has a different financial proposal.

In contrast with the Clay Plan, both the Gore and Byrd schemes would impose greater responsibility in the states.

Incidentally, neither the Gore nor the Byrd plan, while differing from each other in numerous particulars, would disturb the existing federal aid program, whereby the states get some $600,000,000 annually in federal aid for highways on a matched basis, with the states putting up 40 per cent and the federal government 60 per cent.

Sen. Gore, opposing the Clay blueprint for a separate corporation, would discount expected future increases in Federal gasoline revenues resulting from population increase, expansion in the number of cars, and expected increase in overall gasoline consumption, and would boost Federal aid by about a billion dollars a year of additional funds.

Sen. Gore would raise the Federal contribution from 60 per cent to 75 per cent of the total.

Sen. Byrd, as chief Senatorial guardian of the financial conscience of the nation and a stalwart defender of the balanced budget concept, would go further in heightening states' rights in this field. With the Federal Government near its own debt limit, Byrd would expose the illusion that the national treasury is a horn of plenty, into which the states and localities can look for assistance. Instead, Byrd proposes repealing the Federal two per cent gasoline tax, and inviting the states to take this revenue directly, and use the proceeds to finance the great highway rehabilitation program.

Byrd is not only batting for states' rights, but also for the pay-as-you-go principle. Byrd has prepared figures to show that, on the alternative Clay bond financing plan, of every $1.55 raised by the gasoline tax, only $1 will go for roads, and 55 cents for interest. (Incidentally, Sen. Byrd would continue the existing limited Federal aid, and would reenact a ½ cent gallon Federal gasoline tax to finance it.)

Sen. Byrd has also attacked the Clay Plan on the ground that it would preempt estimated increases from the gasoline tax for 20 years, from 1966 to 1987, with the exception of about $600 million which is committed to go to the states, as at present, for matching funds for their primary, secondary and urban systems. Sen. Byrd charges that this is unrealistic, and overlooks the need for continuing expansion of highways after the proposed new major road building plan has been executed.

Observers Here Could Give First Warning of Attack

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

The trigger that could start the chain of action which might save an American city from nuclear destruction might be tripped by an alert observer in the Ground Observer Post in downtown Pontiac.

By picking up his phone, the skywatcher atop the Oakland County Office Building within seconds talks to the Air Force Filter Center in Grand Rapids.

If his description of the aircraft sighted warrants, the volunteers at the filter center will pass it on to an Air Defense Direction Center after plotting the plane's course on a huge grid map.

The direction center has authority to order jet interceptions into the air to inspect and positively identify any unknown aircraft.

Guided to the observer-spotted plane by radar operators at the direction center, the rocket-equipped jets are ready to act immediately if the unknown plane proves to be an enemy attacker.

The Pontiac post, supervised by Arthur J. Heaton, is manned on the average of 14 hours a day by approximately 100 volunteers. Heaton says 168 people serving two hours a week would provide the manpower for 24-hour-a-day coverage.

A total of 13,000 volunteers man 700 observation posts in both Michigan peninsulas. Officials say manpower total must be doubled to provide adequate aircraft detection for this area.

The Ground Observer Corps, comprised of more than 375,000 volunteers across the nation, is part of the nation's defense force, named Continental Air Defense Command (CONAD). CONAD is a joint command composed of elements of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force.

CONAD is headed by Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw, who is also commanding general of the Air Force's Air Defense Command (ADC).

The Ground Observer Corps, although it is a cooperative enterprise between the military and civilians, is the military responsibility of the ADC.

Radar and the GOC provide the initial warning which sparks the entire defense system.

The GOC supplements the radar web, which is generally limited to line-of-sight coverage. At long ranges, the radar beams do not scan close to the ground, thus are not effective in detecting low-flying aircraft. Too, they do not penetrate obstacles such as mountains or buildings.

These restrictions leave gaps in the electronic defensive coverage which can be filled only by human eyes in observer posts. The cost of filling the gaps with more radar equipment would be prohibitive, officials say.

The Pontiac post reports an average of 35 planes daily to the filter center, Heaton says. In the aircraft flash message, the spotter reports the number of aircraft, type plane, altitude, direction and any other pertinent information.

Although the post boasts 100 volunteers, Heaton says many of them are teenagers who are not too steady. In order to bolster his staff, he has scheduled talks before local groups and clubs to interest more volunteers.

"We would especially like to get nightshift workers. We need people who could serve from 2 to 4 a.m. after getting off work at 1 a.m.," he said.

Heaton is appealing also for housewives who could spend two hours a week at the post during the 6 a.m.-4 p.m. hours. "I know a lot of women could put in two hours a week. And it isn't cold, either. We've got heat on all the time."

To acquaint the public with the post and how it operates, Heaton and his chief observer, Cliff Koskimen, have scheduled an open house March 15.

The importance the Air Force puts on the GOC program was emphasized recently when it assigned a staff sergeant here to serve as liason man.

As now planned, Pontiac will become GOC headquarters for Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Lapeer, Livingston, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Monroe counties. Some posts in Lenawee, Shiawasse and Genesee counties will also be under the direction of the Pontiac headquarters.

Two other Air Force sergeants will join S.Sgt. Nicholas Chizewsky here in directing the 90 GOC posts in these counties.

ALL ABOARD—Jason Miller, bus driver for Willis School, welcomes 5-year-old Nancy Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Atkins Jr. of 3399 Lapeer Rd., aboard for the trip home from school. Typical of the men who operate Pontiac's second-largest transportation system, Miller has driven school busses 10 years without an accident.

Pontiac School Transportation System 2nd Largest Here; Boasts Safety Mark

If someone were to ask you to name the second-largest transportation system in Pontiac, chances are you'd be stumped, or come up with the wrong answer.

As a matter of fact, even the man who runs the outfit was surprised to find he heads an organization that rolls up nearly two hundred million passenger miles each year.

That organization, the transportation section of Pontiac Public Schools, is bigger than it looks. For an idea just how big, consider that the system:

—Transports 1,500 pupils to and from school each day, moving them all within less than two hours.

—Operates and maintains 14 buses and two automobiles.

—Covers some 3,000 miles of roads and streets in the suburban Pontiac area.

—Costs about $35,000 a year to operate.

—Has a safety record which misses being perfect only because an occasional child stubs his toe climbing aboard.

A. Stanton Levely, superintendent of transportation and purchasing for the Public school system, is in charge of the setup. It's a big job, he reflects, but the organization runs smoothly.

"Our biggest problem," Levely says, "is trying to please everyone." He added, however, that both pupils and parents have been very cooperative, with the result that the growing operation is able to function effectively with a minimum of trouble.

Discipline is not a big problem, either, Levely said. Pupils and drivers have a set of regulations governing conduct on buses, and disturbances are not common.

Safety is the keynote for schoolbus transportation, Levely pointed out, and his drivers attend classes each year at which safe and responsible operation are major topics. This year's course of four weekly sessions starts March 3, with George Hosler of Michigan State College as instructor.

Typical of the men who operate Pontiac schoolbuses is Jason Miller of Drayton Plains, driver for Willis School on Opdyke road. A quiet, unruffled man of 51 who looks at least 20 years younger, he transports 190 pupils to and from school each day, driving about 46 miles.

A Canadian by birth, Miller joined the Pontiac School motor corps in 1945. Most of his older passengers have been riding with him all their school years, and he knows almost all by name.

When asked about his problems, Miller was hard pressed to think of any. About the most serious difficulty he has is when a new pupil misses his stop, and is still on the bus at the end of the run.

Driving does get a bit difficult at times in the spring, he reflects, when mud gets axle-deep on some of the back roads he travels in Pontiac Township. OOften, he remarked, he pulls out bogged-down cars in order to get past with his bus.

Miller, with three little girls of his own, has no discipline problems. "I know the kids, and they know me," he said, "and we get along fine."

One thing does bother him, Miller admitted. "I can't understand how the kids lose so much stuff, and why their parents don't make them look for it."

Removing lost articles from his bus is a daily chore, the driver said, adding that most of the forgotten items were articles of clothing. "They leave boots, caps, umbrellas and scarfs all the time . . . I bet I've found a million gloves."

With that, Miller stood up and reached for his coat, preparing to go out and warm up his bus to haul 190 hungry, glad-to-be-loose youngsters home for supper.

Tale of Red Locomotive No Story of Success

MOSCOW (AP)—There's a children's story in the United States about the little engine that COULD. Here in the Soviet Union there's a story about the locomotive that won't.

Last April the railway workshops in Tallinn took the locomotive of a concrete factory for repairs. Soon the word went out to "come and get it."

"But as soon as the locomotive engineer got into the cab . . . it refused to move forward, and would only move backwards. When they attached a load to the locomotive it stopped moving altogether — either forwards or in reverse. . . .

"'Won't you take it? It's all right, really,' the railway men started to wheedle. 'You know every sick man, after his recovery is still weak and takes his first steps with great difficulty. And this is a big locomotive — naturally it starts slowly. But it will improve.'

"But the concrete factory people refused to take the locomotive and left it for a 'final treatment.' . . .

"Then in October they received a telegram to 'come and take your locomotive. It is in wonderful shape.' . . .

"Again the people from the concrete factory decided to test the locomotive before taking it away. And again they had to buy tickets to return by passenger train. . . .

"The next telegram was received in November.

"At first the locomotive ran very well, but then it again began to demonstrate its old caprices. It preferred its favorite backward movement. But, in addition, it had a new whim. Having acquired full speed, it didn't want to stop. Only with great difficulty could they stop it because the brakes would not take hold. But when it stopped — it decided to stay stopped and not move again. . . .

"And since that time the locomotive remains under repair. . . .

"And soon it's April again and they will celebrate the first anniversary of this operation on the capricious locomotive."

Two Youths Sentenced for Possessing Beer

West Bloomfield Justice Elmer C. Dieterle sentenced two youths, charged with illegal possession of beer, to five weekends in the Oakland County Jail and six months probation.

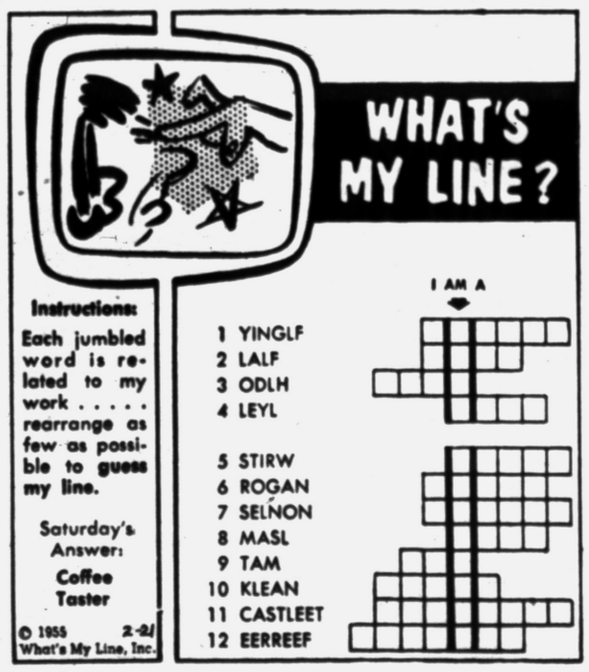
Pleading guilty Saturday were Gerald T. Tremper, 18, of 1126 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, and Donald G. Pongratz, 17, of 919 Mandon Rd., Milford.

Auto Firm Watchman Wounded by Burglar

DETROIT (UP)—A Lincoln Park auto sales agency night watchman lay in critical condition at Wyandotte General Hospital today with a stomach wound he suffered while trying to fight off an armed burglar.

The victim, Allen C. MCormick, 58, also was pistol whipped during the scuffle late Saturday.

Police said the gunman, described as being in his late teens, apparently hid in the agency offices shortly before closing time and was spotted by McCormick.



Voting Light in Detroit; Only 100,000 Expected

DETROIT (INS)—Early voting was reported light today in Detroit's spring election primary with election officials predicting less than 100,000 persons would go to the polls.

Many precincts reported only one or two votes cast after the polls opened at 7 a.m. Last voters in line at 8 p.m. will get ballots.

The biggest battle is expected to take place in the race for Wayne County Circuit Court. Balloting will cut the total down to four men who will bid for the two vacancies in the April runoff election.

UNUSUAL HOUSE GUEST—Dr. Laurel Foxworthy, of Bellevue, Wash., has her pet burro so well trained she's eating right out of her hand. The amiable animal has the run of the house, is quite satisfied with her surroundings and never seem to knock anything down. And she's friendly with Dr. Foxworthy's other pets—four lively dogs.

Subdivision, Streets Named for Residents

Nine persons prominent in Pontiac civic life will be memorialized with streets bearing their names in a new 80-acre east side subdivision, itself named after two longtime Pontiac educators.

The new subdivision, now under initial construction, is located on Featherstone road, between Opyke Rd. and East Blvd.

Named Herrington Hills for Florence and Mary Herrington, who between them taught 75 years in schools here, the subdivision will contain 379 single-family homes.

Here are the namesakes of the streets:

Harry A. Maurer, who served as city clerk from 1921 to 1947. He died in January, 1954.

Dr. Charles N. Neafie, who retired as director of public health in 1952 after 35 years of public service. He is now health department consultant.

Frank W. Kuhn, who retired in 1951 after 24 years as fire chief and 34 years with the fire department.

Frank J. Dufrain, superintendent of schools from 1945 until his retirement last June. He joined the school system in 1921.

Samuel M. Dudley, former principal and long-time teacher at Pontiac High School, who retired in 1941 after 30 years of service.

John H. Thors, Pontiac High principal for the past 25 years and with the system since 1921.

Oscar Eckman, city finance director, a post he has held since 1938. For five years prior to that he was city auditor.

James H. Lynch, probate judge, Oakland County prosecutor, school board member, member of the city charter commission and chairman of the county Democratic committee prior to his death.

Judge Arthur E. Moore, probate judge since 1938 and active in juvenile work.

According to Mayor William W. Donaldson, who worked with the subdivision's developers in compiling the names, Lynch and Moore were not selected for their political endeavors but for their other activities.

Newman Farms of Detroit, headed by Victor C. Adler, is developing the subdivision.

"This is just a start to recognize people who have played an important part in the city's development," Donaldson said. "I would like suggestions regarding other individuals who deserve such recognition."

Suggestions of persons and the reasons for their nominations may be sent to Donaldson at City Hall.

Inquest Set for Today in Livonia Fire Death

DETROIT (UP) — A coroner's inquest was scheduled today in the death of a 47-year-old housewife who was recovering from an operation in her suburban Livonia home when the home caught fire Saturday.

The body of Mrs. Esther J. Bowlin was found in the ruins of her home after firemen and neighbors tried unsuccessfully to fight their way through the flames to her.

A State Police fire inspector said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette Mrs. Bowlin had been smoking in bed.

'War and Peace' Being Filmed by Two Studios

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Just before Stewart Granger took the plane for Pakistan he let drop that he and Jean Simmons will meet in Rome five months hence to co-tsar in De Laurentiis' "War and Peace."

"I'll finish 'Bhowani Junction' first," he said to one of his pals, "and Jean is committed to Samuel Goldwyn for 'Guys and Dolls,' but we agreed to report to King Vidor in August for 'War and Peace.' "

Just about this time came a communique out of the blue saying De Laurentiis cannot use the Yugoslavian Army because it belongs to Mike Todd for his version of "War and Peace." To cap the climax, Russia also plans to film Tolstoy's great work.

When Jeff Chandler was called to see his boss, Ed Buhl, and told that he is to have the starring role in Kenneth Dodson's "Away All Boats," he literally did handsprings. Practically every actor in town was interested in the heroic character in Dodson's story, including Jeff.

It's Commander Dodson's own story of the attack on islands by fighter boats during World War II. It's dramatic, and it's an action adventure tale that even Gable might like to have a chance at playing.

Intelligent Paul Muni outlined for me the idea back of his stage play, "Inherit the Wind," the biography of the famous attorney Clarence Darrow, of my former home town, Chicago.

"It's a great script by two young writers, one named Lawrence — I don't recall his first name, and the other with the historical name of Robert E. Lee," said Paul. "I believe the title is a Biblical quotation."

"Don't you mean, 'Inherit the Earth'?" I asked.

'No, I mean 'Inherit the Wind,' he said.

"How about making a motion picture?" I asked.

"No, no, no," he said. "I report for rehearsal March 7 for the stage and I am not interested in films."

With the exception of Julie Harris, herself not too familiar to movie fans, there isn't a star name in "East of Eden." But before John Steinbeck's best seller has run its movie course, a great new star will have been born in James Dean; Jo Van Fleet will score as a character woman, and Raymond Massey's long list of fine portrayals will be increased.

If you read the book, you may be surprised to discover that screen writer Paul Osborn and producer-director Elia Kazan have used just the last third of the novel.

The result is that Warners has a motion picture superbly directed and acted, although it's a somber, downbeat drama as was the book.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The one man who has heard from Anna Magnani since she left her native Rome is actor Mickey Knox, whom she saw when she was making "Rose Tattoo."

The red carpet was down for Bing Crosby when he made his first appearance on the Paramount lot since his illness. It marked the first time he met Jeanmaire, his leading lady in "Anything Goes."

Tyrone Power is out of the LeRoy Sanatorium and will open Wednesday in "The Dark Is Light Enough" with Katharine Cornell in New York.

Now in Spain, Kay Nelson, 20th Century-Fox dress designer, writes "The Castellana Hilton Hotel looks like a suburb of Hollywood. Saw Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fonda, the Frederic Marches and Richard Burton all the same evening."

Alex D'Arcy, whose father died in Nice, has flown to France to be with his mother.

Countess Gaetano, Mrs. Mervyn Le Roy's youngest daughter, is in Europe with her baby. Kitty has rented "Mousie's" house fgor her.

The young lobster molts, or sheds, its bony shell as often as a grade school boy outgrows shoes.

GETTING A BIG KICK — Francis, movieland's famous talking mule, isn't doing much talking, and it's quite apparent why he's not kicking about this crowd. Ordered to lose 200 pounds for a forthcoming movie, Francis is joined by Leigh Snowden, Myrna Hansen, Betty Jane Howarth and Lili Kardell as he goes through some road work in Hollywood, Calif.

Well, calendars always have been nice to Marilyn.

She merely delivered her usual kind and sincere words about her boss. Miss Marlowe, by the way, burped during an obligato—but her accompanist stated, "She's very accomplished—she burped on key."

Find Cabby Stabbed to Death in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit taxi driver was found stabbed to death beside his cab early this morning, the victim, police believe, of a robber who has held up a score of cabbies in the neighborhood recently.

Found lying beside the open door of his cab, left standing in the center of the street with its motor idling, was 46-year-old Harry H. Code, a driver for the Detroit Cab Co. He had been stabbed six times. He was found by another taxi driver, Sam S. Sirhan, 34.

From the 70 cents registered on the meter, homicide detectives said this would indicate Code picked up his passenger approximately one mile from the scene. They said the 12-inch stiletto type hunting knife fits the description of the weapon used by the man who has committed a rash of similar robberies.

Night Classes Bringing Parents, Kids Together

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Parents have been going to school with their children Thursday nights at the junior high school, and both kids and grownups think it's great.

The youngsters like it because no mathematics or English is taught, only things like copper tooling and ceramics. The parents like it because they're finding a renewed interest in junior's school.

The idea originated with a Parent-Teacher Assn. experimenting to bring community and schools in closer touch. Instructors volunteered to teach without pay.

Polar bears are found only in the north polar region.

The penknife got its name from the fact that originally the purpose of this knife was to make and sharpen quill pens to suit the writer.

Pastor Wants to Help Police Solve Murder of Houston Widow

HOUSTON (UP)—A handsome evangelist held for questioning in the fatal pistol-butt beating of a Baptist minister's widow was freed yesterday.

Right after his release, the Rev. Jesse Bolin vowed to stay here until the case is solved, threw himself into the probe and cleared up one point himself.

Police, meanwhile, said they had no new leads.

Bolin, 39, walked out of jail at 9:50 a.m. after taking his third lie detector test earlier in the morning. Detective B. M. Squyres, the polygraph operator, said the last test convinced him the evangelist withheld no information that might help solve the murder of Mrs. Lucille Quarles.

Bolin had been held since Thursday.

Mrs. Quarles, 50, was slain Tuesday night in her home here. She suffered four skull fractures.

Bolin, also a Dallas used car dealer, told officers the families were old friends and that Mrs. Quarles had loaned him money for various business enterprises.

2nd Near Disaster Survived by Cutter

BOSTON (UP)—The Coast Guard cutter Eastwind has survived another near disaster.

A below-decks fire yesterday destroyed the cutter's engine room and threatened an ammunition magazine before it was extinguished by sea and land fire fighters.

Five years ago, the Eastwind collided with the oil Tanker Gulfstream off Cape May, N.J., with the loss of 11 members of its crew.

No one was injured in yesterday's blaze aboard the 289-foot, 3,000-ton craft, which returned only two weeks ago from Greenland and was tied to a Castle Island pier for repairs.

Shock Jolts LA

Just Took a Bus

CHICAGO (UP) — James E. Burns, 19, got tired of waiting for a bus yesterday. He boarded a bus standing vacant and drove off. He was stopped five blocks later when police fired a warning shot into the air.

OLD TIME FURNITURE—1

A Little "Dutch" Rocker

Some of the first settlers to reach Pennsylvania about 275 years ago were German farmers and craftsmen. Called "Pennsylvania Dutch," they were good workers and they carved wooden furniture with gay colors and designs. You can make a "Dutch" rocker as part of a week-long series of cut-outs of colonial furniture.

Color the rocking chair in bright red or blue. Make the tulips any color you wish, perhaps pink, yellow or orange with green leaves.

Paste this picture on stiff red or blue paper, whatever color you choose for the rocker. Cut it out carefully along the dark lines including those along the bottom tabs on which you see an X. Fold the sides and the front part of the seat down, and the back part up along the dotted lines. Fold the tabs under and paste them to the sides.

Now your little chair will look like the small drawing and will rock when you push it. Save it for a room full of "Pennsylvania Dutch" furniture that you can make.

Ike Asks U. S. to Join 'Back to God' Move

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said last night a belief in God is "the first — the most basic — expression of Americanism" and he urged all Americans to join in a "Back to God" campaign.

In a talk transcribed for a New York City radio and television broadcast launching the American Legion's "Back to God" program, Eisenhower said:

"Without God, there could be no American form of government, nor an American way of life . . . Thus the Founding Fathers saw it, and thus, with God's help, it will continue to be."

Police Order Inquest on Detroiter Found Dead

DETROIT (UP)—Police today ordered an inquest to establish the cause of death of suburban Detroiter whose frozen body wss found by his father yesterday in a garage behind the elder man'h home.

Dead was James W. May, 38, of East Detroit. His father, Henry R. May, 67, of Detroit said he found the body in his garage when he went there to get kindling wood. The younger May had ben missing since Dec. 31.

Deputy Coroner Benjamin Schutzman estimated May had been dead several weeks. The father said he had not been to his garage in some time.

Hormone Offers Leukemia Hope

Toronto Cancer Team Believes It Has Found Way to Fight Disease

TORONTO, ONT. (UP)—A cancer research team at St. Michael's Hospital believes it has developed a successful method of attacking leukemia, a fatal blood cancer.

Treatment of leukemia victims in the hospital's wards has proved the treatments to be "very satisfactory," Dr. Charles Bardawill, director of the project, told reporters.

The method of treatment cannot be completely tested, authorities say, because of the rarity of a growth hormone used in the treatment. The hormone is extracted from the pituitary glands of hogs, sheep and horses.

During a 10-day course of treatment, however, usual tests for leukemia are reported to have shown a trend toward recovery of the patients.

Bardawill's method of treatment includes injection of the growth-hormone into a patient's veins to correct the normal body supply of alkaline phosphate, thrown out of balance by leukemia.

In this way the treatment differs from standard methods which attempt to destroy by radium or X-ray white blood cells produced uncontrollably by leukemia victims. Bardawill's method destroys no cells but tries to restore body processes to their normal functions.

Spared Tough Choice

HUDSON, N. H. (UP)—Roland R. E. Latour, a member of the New Hampshire Legislature, was spared the choice of being an elected representative of the people for $200 a year, or being the local high school janitor at $3,220 a year.

Town voters decided he could keep both jobs.

Souchak Rewrites Golf Marks in Texas Victory

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mike Souchak virtually rewrote golf's record book in winning the $12,500 Texas Open with a fabulous 257 for 72 holes — two strokes under anything ever shot before — and moved on to Houston Monday to throw his power off the tee and finesse on the greens at one of the toughest courses along the tour.

The giant from Durham, N. C. completed a fantastic sweep of the records as he romped in with a 6-under-par 65 Sunday to win the storied Texas Open by a smashing seven-stroke margin.

Dressed in blue windbreakers and wearing deerskin gloves, the 27-year-old, 210-pound former Duke University football star, laughed at the elements — it was near freezing and Brackenridge Park's soggy 6,400 yards were swept by a raw, bone-chilling wind—in shattering the tournament record.

During his four days of shooting, Souchak cracked the 9-hole record of 28, set by Ben Hogan and tied by Toby Lyons and Tommy Bolt, with a 27; shot a 60 to tie the all-time 18 hole record held by Al Brosch, Bill Nary, Ted Kroll and Bolt, and then wound up with that 257 that bettered the 259 set by Byron Nelson at Seattle in 1945, tied by Ben Hogan at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., five years later, and tied again by Chandler Harper in the 1954 Texas Open.

Souchak pulled his moey winnings for the year to $3,353.33 and today ranks seventh. His first in the Texas Open was worth $2,200.

The golf tour rolled on to Houston where the $30,000 Houston Open starts Thursday over the 7,200-yard Memorial Park course. Souchak said he faced the tougher course with relish.

Freddie Haas, the New Orleans star who plays out of Claremont, Calif., wound up second here with a 264 and $1,500 while Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass., Gene Littler of Palm Sprigs, Calif., and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco tied for third with 269s.

Haas started the final round Sunday just two strokes behind but he took a one-under-par 70. Mayfield had a 69. Littler a 71 and Rosburg a 73. Littler still is the leading money winner of the year by a wide margin as he ticked up $996.66 in the Texas Open. He has earned $9,405.66.

The victory here was Souchak's first in two years on the tour. He tied for first in the Thunderbird Tournament at Palm Springs, Calif., this year but lost in a playoff to Mayfield.

South American Defeats Miss Berg in Links Test

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "The pressure was fierce. If there had been two more holes to play, they'd have taken me home in a wheelbarrow."

This was the reactio of Fay Crocker, the South American dark horse as she rested after winning the $5,000 Invitational Golf Tournament Sunday in a tough stretch duel with Chicago's Patty Berg.

Scoring her first major victory in the United States, Miss Crocker broke 300 for 72 holes for the first time in her life. Her 296, even par for the Bayshore Golf Club course, beat Miss Berg by one stroke.

The dead-panned gal from Montevideo, Uruguay, had led the tournament for two days and she declared "it was like being out on the prow of a ship, with nothing but water under me. The strain was terrible, but now I know I can take it."

She started the last 18-hole round two strokes ahead of Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and three up on Miss Berg. Facing a down-to-the-wire fight with two of the toughest competitors in the business, Miss Crocker was nervous as she walked to the first tee.

But her jitters quickly disappeared. Three holes from home, she still had a two-stroke margin over the persistent Miss Berg, who was playing with her in the same threesome, Miss Suggs, playing in another group, had faded out of the picture.

"Somebody came up at the 16th green and lifted a hundred pounds off my shoulders by telling me that Louise Suggs was out of it," Miss Crocker said. "But I still had Patty Berg on my neck and she was making it too close for comfort."

At the 17th, Miss Crocker overshot the green and her lead faded to one stroke as she took a bogey 4. Miss Berg was down in three. But it was all over when they halved the 18th.

Trample New Baltimore Five in Sunday's Tilt by 66-42 Count

Regular season came to a close Sunday night for St. Frederick's basketball team as the Rams took an easy 66-42 victory over St. Mary of New Baltimore at St. Fred's.

Lionel Bradley and Dick Doyon paced the Freds with 22 and 21 points, respectively, as they marked up their 6th win against 9 defeats.

The Pontiac team had a 14-9 first quarter lead, which was lengthened to 36-19 at the half.

Sparrow Hangs Up New Record for UD Scoring

Pontiac's Guy Sparrow added the career scoring record to his University of Detroit basketball feats Saturday night at St. Louis despite the Titans' 84-79 loss to the Billikens.

The big ex-PHS star tossed in 20 points to raise his career total to 1,513, erasing the mark of 1,494 set by Norm Swanson.

The UD five, which now has lost seven straight games since winning 13 of its first 15 starts, plays tonight at Toledo.

Shrine 5 Annexes Title

High school basketball teams conclude the regular season this week and most of the area championships have not been decided for sure as yet. Friday is the big day in most conferences.

One title was taken Sunday, however, as Shrine of Royal Oak won the Catholic League First Division crown in the playoffs at University of Detroit fieldhouse. Shrine defeated DeLaSalle, 50-48.

The Royal Oak team thus qualified to represent the Catholic League in the Detroit city championship game next Friday. The Knights will meet either Cass Tech or Northwestern.

Hugh Kirtek led Shrine to its 13th win in 14 games for the campaign. His shooting and rebound work stood out as he notched 20 points. John Burkhart added 14 and Ron Troy had 12.

A total of 15 games are listed Tuesday night with the only league activity in the Bi-County. Utica, which was undefeated and on the verge of wrapping up the title a week ago, now faces a battle right to the wire.

The Chieftains play at Eastland, a team which forced them into overtime to win in the first meeting.

Top non-league game Tuesday sends Rochester to Oxford in a Pontiac Class B tournament preview. The Oxford club will be taking aim on Rochester's 7-game winning streak.

Oxford also plays Thursday, coming to Pontiac to meet Suburban Catholic League champion St. Michael.

Waterford goes to Milford in another feature non-leaguer Tuesday. Walled Lake will be at Cranbrook, West Bloomfield at Ortonville and Lake Orion at Troy.

The schedule:

Saddler, Davis 'Go' Friday; Costa, Bell on TV Tonight

When Saddler first won the crown by knocking out Willie Pep in 1948, Marcel Cerdan was middleweight king and Joe Louis had just knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in their famous rematch. Sandy lost the title back to Pep, won it again and defended it once before he went into the Army in 1952. He hasn't made the 126-pound weight limit since '51.

Getting ready for a championship bout, Saddler has engaged in 10 over-the-weight matches, winning all but one. In his most recent start, he stopped Lulu Perez in Boston Jan. 17.

A Carmelo Costa-Bobby Bell rematch is tonight's offering from Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. Bell, unbeaten since 1951, won a close fight from Costa at the Parkway Dec. 6, six weeks after Costa suffered his first defeat at the hands of Rudy Garcia.

Bell impressed fight fans by upsetting Garcia Jan. 10 to keep his string going. Bell's over-all record for 60 fights is an ordinary 36-20-4 bue he has been hot since he came back from the Army.

ABC will telecast.

A new Argentine middlweight, Rafael Merentino, bows in tonight at St. Nicholas Arena against Rinzi Nocero, of Brooklyn. Although Merentino was stopped by Kid Gavilan in 1952, he is supposed to be on a par with Eduardo Lausse, another promising Argentine 160-pounder.

Du Mont will telecast.

Bird Dog Trial Opens

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn. (AP)—The long, rugged trial to pick the nation's champion birddog opened Monday with 32 pointers and two setters in the running.

Only champions of lesser field trials are eligible for the National Bird Dog Championship Stake. Each dog will make a 3-hour quail hunt for the judges, with four dogs—two braces—showing daily.

Jaguar Sets Record

Gophers' Bill Simonovich Too Much for Kramer, UM

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ron Kramer, Michigan's ace basketball player, couldn't storm the fortress. Even 6-foot 9-inch Harvey Williams had no luck. It was bigger than the both of them.

The fortress was 6-foot 10, 280-pound Bill Simonovich, a center for Minnesota, who parked under the basket and would not be moved.

He left the floor Saturday afternoon just a minute before Minnesota finished off Michigan, 75-64, making its Big Ten record 9-2, and leaving it still on the road toward its 1st conference title in 18 years.

Kramer, playing well before the national television audience, faced Simonovich most of the game, with Williams replacing him for only a minute or so. Kramer, with 25 points, was Michigan's finest player.

Simonovich and his 28 points was the big Minnesota gun, more potent even than teammate Dick Garmaker, leading Big Ten scorer, who fouled out with 20 points with eight minutes to go.

Kramer was forced to the outside to score most of his points, although—for the 1st half at least—he was beating Simonovich on the rebounds.

National Test Begins for Shooting Dogs

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. (AP) — Pairings for the sixth annual running of the National Shooting Dog Championship will be drawn here Monday night with indications that about 50 keen-scented pups will compete in the field trial classic.

6 Changes Recorded in State Bowling Test

BAY CITY (AP)—A determined weekend assault by 72 teams produced only six changes in the standings of the state bowling championships, all in handicap events.

The Ann Arbor Cleaning Supply team and American Auto Accessories of Ann Arbor rolled into a tie for the lead in the handicap team event with totals of 3128.

Ed Mitchell and Pete Zenti of Ann Arbor took over the top spot in handicap doubles with 1348.

The first five places in actual and handicap singles, actual and handicap all events, actual doubles and actual teams remained unchanged.

Swede Upsets Russians in Speed Skating Test

MOSCOW (AP)—A gangling Swede headed home Monday with the world speed skating title while the favored Russians wondered what happened to them.

Lanky Sigge Ericsson, the European champion, scored 194.996 points in the 2-day competition which ended in Moscow's huge dynamo Stadium Sunday before a crowd of 60,000. In the process, he whipped Russia's two top skaters, Oleg Goncharenko and defending champion Boris Shilkov.

The three Americans in the competition—Ken Henry of Chicago, John Werket of Minneapolis and Don McDermott of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., finished far down the list.

In fact, they were not permitted to race in Sunday's 10,000-meter event because they failed to place in the earlier 1,500 meters.

Ericsson captured the 10,000-meters in 17:09.8 after finishing second to Goncharenko in the 1,500 meters.

"This is the greatest day of my life," exclaimed the happy Ericsson as he accepted congratulations. "The Russian public was very good to me, especially after I defeated their star."

Commented a spokesman for the American team:

"Ericsson's a fine boy and deserved to win. The Russians complained about the bad conditions when he beat them in the European championships but this time he beat them on their own ice. What can they say now?"

After the meet, the athletes were given a banquet at the swank Hotel Metropole. Konstantin Andreyanov, deputy chairman of the Committee of Physical Culture and Sport, awarded silver cups to the top finishers. All skaters and coaches received presents.

American Coach Dick Shearman said that after the competition ended, a group of Soviet youth grabbed him and tossed him repeatedly in the air according to an old Russian custom of friendship, shouting:

"We want to be friends with America."

Adrian, Calvin Tied for Lead in MIAA Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Detroit has hopes of snapping a seven-game losing streak in a basketball meeting tonight with Toledo.

The Titans dropped another notch on the long decline Saturday night, bowing 84-79 to St. Louis University.

Detroit plays one more conference game with Wichita next Saturday and winds up its season against Wayne and Western Ontario.

Meanwhile, Adrian moved into a tie with Calvin for first place in the MIAA race, defeating Albion 72-70 while Calvin was upset by Hope, 91-89.

Adrian and Calvin now have 10-2 marks in league play.

In IIAC contests, Michigan Normal won and Central Michigan lost against Illinois opponents. Normal downed Eastern Illinois 83-75 while Central absorbed a 91-86 licking by Southern Illinois in a triple over-time game.

Lawrence Tech suffered its 17th loss in 25 games, bowing 72-57 before Wabash in the Blue Devils' next-to-last game of the season. Tech closes its poorest season in years Tuesday night against Tri-State College.

In other games Saturday:

Loyola of Chicago defeated Western Michigan, 99-75; Detroit Tech swamped Ontario Agricultural College, 73-40 and Flint returned to its winning way, 108-79 over Bay City in a Michigan Junior College Conference meeting.

Detroit Quintet Bows, 59-47; St. Connies Is Consolation Victor

Flint Assumption grabbed a 30-22 halftime lead and continued on to a 59-47 victory to win the Greek Orthodox Youth Assn. basketball tournament at the Pontiac Boys Club Sunday.

D. Preketes of Flint tossed in 22 points to spark the Flint team to its triumph. Yeotes added 18 points.

In the consolation game, J. Anagon of Saginaw whipped in 34 points, but his St. Demetrios team was beaten by Detroit St. Constantine and Helene, 60-50.

Terry collected 25 points and J. P. Pyrros, 21, for St. Connies.

Bruce Drake, basketball coach at Oklahoma U., not only was a court star in his undergraduate days but also was quarterback on the football team and pole vaulter on the track squad.

Shutout Victory Over NY Sextet Closes NHL Gap

Red Wings Blast the Rangers to Remain 1 Point Off Pace

DETROIT (AP) — Fortune once again has brought the National Hockey League lead within the grasp of the Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings shut out the New York Rangers, 5-0, last night to climb to within one point of the league-leading Montreal Canadiens, who were idle. Tonight Detroit meets the Boston Bruins on Olympia ice. And again, Montreal is idle.

Last night's shutout was goalie Terry Sawchuk's 11th of the season and his 4th against the Rangers.

Marcel Bonin converted a pass from Marcel Pronovost at 10:45 of the 2nd period for Detroit's 1st goal. Less than two minutes later Marty Pavelich tallied during a pile up in front of the Ranger net.

Gordie Howe, pulled out of the starting lineup in another attempt to shake his scoring slump, kept the Red Wing drive going by whipping home a 25-footer at 2:27 of the 3rd.

Delvecchio's 15-footer midway in the stanza capped the scoring and the game.

'Cuppers' Win Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — American Davis Cuppers, Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, who traveled to the otherside of the world to bring back the mug, today were awarded special citations for their "outstanding contribution to travel" by the Travel and Auto Sports Show in Madison Square Garden. The pair journeyed 22,000 miles round-trip to regain the cup.

Boudreau Aims for Improved Athletics' Nine

By LOU BOUDREAU
KANSAS CITY ATHLETICS

HARVEY, Ill. (AP)—I have no illusions about my job as manager of the Kansas City Athletics. Even a confirmed optimist couldn't say that we have anything approaching a strong club. We're hurt in several departments, especially down the middle.

But there are some bright spots here and there, and it's possible that before next spring we can make a few improvements. It's going to take time, some money and some wisdom to transfer the Athletics into a winner.

But I'm happy I was given the chance to accept this challenge. Arnold Johnson, who worked so hard to purchase the Athletics, refused to quit when things looked darkest and I'm convinced he won't rest until he has a winner.

In a way we're starting from scratch. We have several pretty good veterans on the roster. I have been in the same league with them and I know that several of them have better than average ability.

In fact, it looked as if the Athletics might make some trouble for the other clubs at the start of this past season. But then Bobby Shantz hurt his arm again, a number of other things combined to kill interest, and I suppose that for the last part of the season the players were just going through the motions.

Of course it takes more than just a change of scenery to produce a winner but I'm banking on Shantz and Alex Kellner to overcome their arm injuries. Let these two recover, and at least half of our pitching problems will be solved.

We have some pretty good pitchers in Arnie Portocarrero, Marion Fricano, Bob Trice, Charlie Bishop, Johnny Gray, Ed Burtschy and Sonny Dixon.

Don Bollweg was hitting the ball real well toward the end of the season. Jim Finigan was great all year. Spook Jacobs figures on definite improvement, and Gus Zernial should be his old self.

All in all, the squad is not as bad as some have made it out to be. It's not a potential pennant winner by any means, but it could give the other teams a lot of trouble.

European Star Ulf Schmidt Meets Richardson in Semi-Finals of National Indoor Net Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—The brightest tennis prospect Europe has sent to these shores in years is a 20-year-old Swede, Ulf Schmidt, who can break anybody's arm with his service.

Already winner over this nation's seventh-ranked player, young Ulf—which means "wolf"—starts wading deeped into America's best Monday night whe nhe plays Hamilton Richardson in the semifinals of the National Indoor Championships.

Not many of the 1200 who saw the tall Scandinavian polish off Eddie Moylan Sunday at the Seventh Regiment Armory were willing to bet he wouldn't do the same to the Davis Cup ace from Baton Rouge, La.

In the quarter-finals, Schmidt showed a blockbuster service and a veteran's poise in whipping Moylan, Trenton, N.J., winner of seven straight winter tournaments, 17-15, 6-4. Richardson breezed past Ricardo Balbiers, a Chilean now living in New York, 6-1, 6-2.

Although three of the U.S.'s top four players, Trabert, Richardson and Larsen, Nos. 2, 3, and 4, are still around, it's young Schmidt who has captured the imagination of the fans.

Schmidt, who must return to Stockholm for a year's military service in early June, said he would play the Florida circuit this spring, starting with the Jacksonville tournament next week.

After military service, he hopes to enroll at the University of Miami (Fla.).

"A lot of class," said U.S. Davis Cup Captain Bill Talbert. "More fluid and better style than the other Swedes." Commented U. S. champion Vic Seixas, who didn't play singles. "What a service," said Trabert. "You can't see the thing."

Schmidt, who lost a three-set match to Trabert in Baastad, Sweden, last summer, hopes to get Tony on boards. "This is my game," he said. "I'd have a better chance."

Waterford Cage Loop Playoffs Start Tonight

Ann Arbor Bowlers Take First in Elks' Doubles

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Bowlers from Ann Arbor took over first place in both the actual doubles and the handicap doubles events in competition in the Michigan Elks bowling tournaments during the weekend.

They are Louis Howe and Oscar Chapman, who put together a 1267 series in the actual doubles to give them the leadership over Don Cross and Bob Leiter of Battle Creek. Cross and Leiter moved into second place with a 1232 series.

In handicap doubles, Howe and Sorenson tallied 1348 points on the basis of their handicap of 81 pins. Cross and Leiter climbed into third place with 1232-48—1280.

Bowling during the weekend brought the tourney past the halfway mark. It will continue for five more weekends.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Index Action.

Former world match champion Charlie Daw had a simple method of delivering his short, power hook. It could be the solution to your problem. Daw used the index pointing system, which means merely that when he released the ball his index finger was pointed smack at the object or target pin.

What he stressed was placement of the index finger on the ball, because the slightest variation, left or right, produced a variation in action as well.

As sketch shows, he spread his fingers comfortably, avoiding stretching the index finger; (2) the index finger never turned beyond a direct line for the target. In this way he had to reach to point the finger. His hook was always short, regulated, and spinning from the finger-lift action that results naturally when the thumb is released first.

Important: With the Daw method the entire procedure must be leisurely. It calls for rhythm—and a medium speed ball, the kind that, as Daw used to say, "stays in the pins long enough to mix them up."

33-Man Pan-Am Track and Field Squad Selected

NEW YORK (AP)—Four world record holders, miler Wes Sante and a solid core of tested Olympians will lead the U.S.'s powerful, 33-man track and field team in the second Pan-American Games in Mexico City next month.

"It's an outstanding squad," said Jim Kelly, chairman of the committee of 18 which selected the touring athletes Sunday. "It could have won any Olympic games ever held and will do great in Mexico City."

Coach of the 1951 team in the first games in Buenos Aires in 1951 Kelly, of the U. of Minnesota, said this is a far better s quad than the one that captured 12 additional competition and two relays of the 22 events four years ago.

"We had three or four fellows who weren't in the best shape the last time," said Kelly. "This time we picked them on the basis of performance and the best information we could gather.

Exactly one-third of the team is made up of servicemen and that doesn't include Santee who goes back into the Marines in June. The Kansas cowboy, America's fastest miler, returned to the winning column Saturday in the National Indoor Championships when he put aside his record ambitions and concentrated on beating Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen and Fred Dwyer of the Armed Forces.

The lean, short-striding collegian trailed Dwyer until the last lap when he collared the little ex-Villanova flyer to win in 4:07.9 by four yards over Nielsen who also passed Dwyer. The time wasn't much considering the way this trio has been operating this year but it was enough to break Gil Dodds' meet record of 4:08.3 set in 1944.

Servicemen on the squad include Parry O'Brien, the Olympic and world record shotputter, Dwyer, 6-10 high jumper Herm Wyatt, sprinter Rod Richards, and Jack Davis, who was second to Harrison Dillard in the '52 Olympics and Saturday night's 60-yard high hurdles.

Dillard, clocked in 7.3, said he wouldn't be able to make the trip to Mexico.

Other world record men on the team are Mal Whitfield, the half-mile king, Fortune Gordien, the discus thrower and Bud Held, the javelin flinger.

O'Brien smashed his indoor shot record of 59-4 with a heave of 59-5½; Rod Richards was nosed out in the 60-yard dash by Penn's John Haines who eqaulled the world record of 6.1, and Pitt's Arnold Sowell tied Don Gehrmann's world indoor standard of 2:08.2 for the 1,000 in trouncing Norway's Audun Boysen.

Mixed-Up Cage Teams to Try Another Date

FROSTBURG, Md. (AP) — Frostburg State Teachers College and St.Vincent's College of Latrobe, Pa., will try again.

They tried — to play a basketball game — Saturday night. But the St.Vincent's team showed up in Frostburg about the same time the Frostburg five appeared in Latrobe.

Apparently St.Vincent's got a little mixed up about the schedule. The teams will try again Wednesday — in Latrobe.

Ellsworth Points Swaps Toward Kentucky Derby

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Anita's rich derby is past history today, with Rex C. Ellsworth's California colt Swaps the decisive winner, and comes now another big week at the Arcadia race track.

Leading off Tuesday will be the $25,000 added Washington's Birthday Handicap at a mile and one-half over the El Camino Real turf course. Then comes the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap Saturday.

Twenty-thre candidates, most of them looking ahead to the $100,000 added San Juan Capistrano Handicap over the grass March 5, were nominated for the holiday feature.

There was no doubt about the reaction of owner Ellsworth and his trainer and boyhood companion when both were cowpokes in Arizona, Meshach (Mesh) Tenney.

Said the owner-trainer team, in effect:

Their Swaps will take a shot at the Kentucky Derby in May. The son of Khaled-Iron Reward is not eligible for the other gems in the Triple Crown, the Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

They whipped the pre-derby hotshot, Blue Ruler, at Hollywood Park last May and knew they could do it again.

They did. Only it was Jean's Joe, Blue Ruler's stablemate from the Texas-owned Murcain connection, who furnished the derby fight. Jean's Joe ran second, beaten half a length. Blue Ruler finished third, four lengths behind Swaps.

Gophers Near End of Title-Drought

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Exactly 44 years ago, Minnesota won the Western Conference basketball championship. The Gophers haven't finished in undisputed possession of first place since.

This year, unless the roof suddenly falls in on Ossie Cowles' lads, they are going to win the Big Ten chase and go on to the NCAA Tournament.

They have a 9-2 record in league competition compared to 8-2 for second-place Iowa. Tonight they weakling Wisconsin in their final road game of the season. This is important because Minnesota hasn't been beaten at home in Minneapolis this year.

While the Gophers are expected to fatten up at the expense of Wisconsin, Iowa and third-place Illinois will go at it and the result probably will kill off any changes of the loser.

With only a couple of weeks to go, the sole conference representative in the NCAA tourney is Idaho State, which won its third straight Rocky Mountain title Saturday by beating Montana State 57-46.

That leaves 14 other league champions still to be decided. Nine "at-large" outfits fill out the tournament. Five—Marquette, Penn State, Canisius, Villanova and San Francisco, the No. 1 team in this week's Associated Press poll—already have been tapped.

One Eastern spot remains to be filled and that could go to Fordham or Memphis State. Three at-large teams still are to be selected from the Western area. In the running are such teams as Oklahoma City, Seattle, Santa Clara, Creighton and Drake.

The National Invitation Tournament, which has been battling the NCAA for the top independents, has 8 of its 12 teams in the fold—defending champion Holy Cross, Manhattan, Niagara, Dayton, Cincinnati, Louisville, Duquesne and St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. There aren't many more possibilities, but Lafayette and Connecticut might make it, along with the runners-up in a couple of the conferences.

Missouri Valley—First-place St. Louis (6-1) can clinch a tie for the championship Saturday by defeating Tulsa (5-2).

Southern—West Virginia won the regular-season title Saturday with an 83-74 victory over favored George Washington.

Big Seven—Colorado, in first place with 7-1, figures to fatten its advantage against Kansas tomorrow and Kansas State Saturday.

Atlantic Coast—North Carolina State has the championship just about wrapped up. Tournaments March 3 will decide the NCAA representatives in the Atlantic Coast and Southern conferences.

Southeastern — Kentucky (8-2) can move into undisputed possession of first place tonight by disposing of troublesome Vanderbilt (7-4). Alabama is tied with the Wildcats for the lead.

Southwest—Texas Christian (8-2) needs only an even break in its last two games to insure itself a tie for the title.

Skyline—Utah could win its first crown since 1944 by getting past Wyoming and Colorado A&M Friday and Saturday.

Border—Texas Tech (7-2) holds a narrow margin over West Texas State (8-3).

Pacific Coast Conference—Oregon State has won the Northern Division and UCLA the southern section. Now they meet to decide who gets the NCAA berth.

Ivy League—Penn (10-2) can nail down at least a tie by beating Columbia (7-3) Saturday.

United Press Photo

Spartans Face 'Cats After Losing to Iowa

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State plays Northwestern tonight in another round of their battle for 4th place in the Big Ten Basketball League.

The Wildcats carved out a 56-54 victory over MSC at Evanston, Ill., in their last meeting but will find the Spartans tougher to beat on their home court.

Until Saturday, when Iowa took a 78-69 victory, MSC hadn't been beaten at home by a Big Ten team.

Reserve strength paid off for the Hawkeyes in that game. MSC took an early lead, was tied at the half and after dropping behind 11 points in the 2nd half came within two points of tying the game in the last minutes of play.

Only Goals Counted

PEWAMO, Mich. (AP)—Although it helps, you don't need free throws to win a basketball game. Ashley High School made all its points on field goals in one game, missing on six tries from the free throw line, yet defeated Pewamo 66-40. Pewamo made more than half its points total on free throws, hitting on 21 of 27 attempts.

Belair Stud Farm's Nashua Will Run in Special Race Today at Miami Track

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Belair Stud Farm's Nashua will be on exhibition Monday in a special, no-betting race to point him up for Saturday's Flamingo, unless the "track is real bad."

He is entered in a mile and a sixteenth, $7,500 allowance race which is to be run betwen the second and third events at Hialeah Park.

His trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said, "We'll go unless the track is real bad. I'd like him to run before the Flamingo and I wouldn't like to bust up (today's) race by withdrawing him."

The juvenile champion, who won $192,865 last year, was to make his first start as a 3-year-old under jockey Eddie Arcaro, who flew here from California to ride him. Arcaro will also ride him in the Feb. 26 Flamingo.

Nashua meets C. F. Morris Munchausen, J. M. Seider's Uncle Gus and Mrs. J. C. Farrell's Happy Memories in the special race. If betting were allowed he would undoubtedly be a heavy favorite.

He was already pegged as a 4-5 favorite in the $137,800 Flamingo Stakes. Paul Andolino's unbeaten Boston Doge was second at 3-1 and Hasty House Farm's Prince Noor was third at 4-1.

Fourten horses are considered possibilities for the Flamingo right now. If as many as 10 sophomores go, the event will pay the winner $100,600.

Childbirth Is Worthwhile, No Matter What Method

By MARGARET LATROBE

Talking about unzipping a nestful of controversy! Gee, just typing along, minding an obstetrician's business, I stumbled up with a column about "natural" childbirth. And with the thought of having a bit of fun at the expense of gentlemen authorities on painless childbearing, delivered an opinion on my feelings.

Well, it may take a week or two from this typewriter to print, but the round trip is faster. By mule train, by special delivery, by double airmail came indignant rebuttals, denials and accusations that I didn't know from nothing about the advantages of increasing the population via the "natural" method.

This column is fairly spoken—or else. And to bend over backward I won't print the favorable comments, not a few of which were from men in white.

From Connecticut: "I can say from personal experience that natural childbirth is not for everyone and not easy, but it is worth it for the experience and for the good health it assures both mother and child."

From Michigan: "Natural childbirth gives complete relaxation, freedom from tension which alone causes pain. The rooming-in arrangement (newborn infant sharing mother's hospital room) is delightful. My baby never cried . . . but I was kept awake by those left in the nursery down the hall."

From Iowa: "I disagree with you completely except to say that the baby should be kept out of mother's room. We need our rest to cope with the little rascals once we leave for home."

From San Francisco: "How many children have you?" (Two) "I am all for the natural method, except I heartily agree the fathers should not be asked to attend the delivery."

From Oakland: "You apparently don't understand what is meant by "natural." This means uncomplicated, normal birth. Why don't you investigate the facts before writing about somethng you know nothing about?"

From Boston: "To those of us who want to see our babies begin their lives it seems incongruous to spend nine months preparing physically and emotionally for one of the rarest events in our lives and then be oblivious of its occurrence."

These good people are entitled to their opinions, and I respect them for speaking up about a subject of keenest interest to them. However, it is my firm belief that any fine obstetric practice provides the identical instruction, counsel and consideration necessary to "natural" and safe delivery, without making a Federal case of it.

My only point was this: Why pretend that there is anything "unnatural" about getting a whiff or two of anaesthetic? Why the assumption that only a dedicated few know the greatest joy that can come to a woman? Why all this talk of fear? In hundreds of conversations with mothers I have yet to hear the word "fear" used except by the "natural childbirth" group.

But power to them. I respect convictions, whether they agree with mine or not. There is one thing we all agree on—children are wonderful and we wouldn't take a million dollars for the love and fun and joy and happiness they bring along. A house full of kids is sure a lot of work too, eh?

CHICAGO (UP)—Joseph Ostransky did not figure on the strange weapons three cab drivers would use when he attempted to rob a drugstore yesterday. Ostransky was captured after he was struck with several sugar bowls and a catsup bottle.

Grains Continue Slight Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—The slow but persistent downward trend in grains renewed itself on the board of trade today. Losses were not large but the market failed to show any ability to put on a sustained rally. Moisture in the southwest winter wheat belt, an expansion in recepts of cash grain, knowledge that some soybean processors had curtailed operations and a general lack of commercial demand combined to point the market lower.

Dealings were fairly active despite the fact the market will be closed tomorrow, Washington's birthday.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1½ lower, March $2.22⅞; corn ⅜ to ¾ lower, March $1.49½; oats ⅝ to 1 cent lower, March 76¼; rye ⅝ to 1¾ lower, March $1.12¼; soybeans ¼ to 2 cents lower, March $2.76; and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.65.

Rails Leading Market Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was led higher in early trading today by the railroads.

Aircrafts, coppers, chemicals and motion picture issues also tended to gain ground. Oil and rubber producers were mostly lower. Steels and motors were irregular.

Trading began at a fast clip and the high-speed ticker tape soon began to run behind the flood of transactions. The market was mixed while the tape ran late for a brief period. Then the pace slackened and prices began to move upward.

Among the large opening blocks were New York Central Railroad 35⅛ up ⅝ on 10,000 shares; Pennsylvania Railroad 25½ up ¼ on 10,000 shares. Southern Pacific 59 up ⅜ on 3,500 shares and U.S. Steel 78¾ off ⅛ on 3,000 shares.

Climbing higher were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, DuPont and General Electric. Lower were Goodyear, General Motors, Con Edison, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), Sinclair Oil and U.S. Rubber.

Policemen Charge Men Attacked Them

An assault warrant was ordered today by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue against a pair accused of attacking two Pontiac policemen Saturday night.

Expected to be arraigned later today in Pontiac Municipal Court were Cecil V. Dye, 25, of 26 Mechanic St., and Ansell R. Dawson, 28, of 141 Chandler Ave.

The two attempted to stop Detectives Raymond E. Meggit and Herbert C. Cooley from breaking up a fight in the Central Bar at 12 S. Saginaw St., the policemen told Gerue.

Dye is accused of swinging Meggit around, hitting him in the face and then scratching his face, Gerue explained. Dawson is charged with jumping Cooley as the latter came to Meggit's aid.

The Oakland County Road Commission placed weight restrictions on gravel roads south of M-59 at noon today and on all county blacktop roads.

Load limits are 11,700 on a single axle and 16,900 on a tandem axle.

Warmer weather causing shoulders to soften has made the restrictions necessary. They will be removed as soon as possible.

Packard Gets 2 Awards for 1955 Developments

NEW YORK (UP) — Packard won two awards at the Universal Travel and Auto Sports Show yesterday for its 1955 models.

It was presented the "outstanding automotive advancement of the year" award for development of the Torsion suspension system in production cars and the 1955 gold cup for "individuality of styling in the luxury car field."

Arrest Sheds Light on Series of Crimes

DETROIT (AP)— Police in suburban Livonia say they uncovered a whole series of crimes yesterday when they seized Billy L. Richmond, 34, for passing more than $600 in worthless checks last December.

Richmond was driving a car stolen last November in Denver, Colo., they said. The license plates were stolen from a Walled Lake resident.

After admitting the thefts and the bad check charges, police said, Richmond casually mentioned that he married a Ruth Anderson of Walled Lake Christmas Eve without divorcing his first wife, the mother of his two children. The second wife is now in West Veirginia he said.

Held on a charge of uttering and publishing (cashing bad checks), Richmond also faces prosecution for driving a stolen car across state lines. And if his two wives decide to press charges, he may also go on trial for bigamy.

Five men were arraigned in Municipal Court this afternoon on charges of statutory rape of a 14-year-old runaway girl and two others, a man and a woman, appeared on warrants charging contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Demanding examinations before Judge Cecil McCallum were:

Charles A. Phillips, 28, of 194 Norton St., Lane Cunningham, 55, James B. Clark, 33, Luther M. Williams, 36, all of 90 Oakland Ave., and Humphrey Welch Jr. 22, of 7 Hartung Ct. Welch and Williams furnished bonds of $2,500 each while the others posted $1,000 each, pending hearings March 2.

Accused of contributing were James R. Woods, 29, of 90 Oakland Ave., and Mrs. Pearl Roberts, 38, caretaker of the apartment building at the Oakland avenue address. Pleading innocent, Woods furnished a $500 bond and Mrs. Robert was released on personal bond, pending trial March 3.

According to statements to police and Oakland County Prosecutor's office, the juvenile said she obtained a ride with Phillips, a truck driver for a transport company, two weeks ago from Salem, Utah.

Test Applications Deadline Is Sunday

Sunday, Feb. 27, has been set as the deadline for applications from young men and women of Michigan to take advertising aptitude tests being sponsored by the American Association of Advertising Agencies for the ninth year.

College seniors, graduate students, or people working in advertising or allied fields, between the ages of 19 and 25, are eligible to take the work aptitude tests.

Those interested should contact Richard J. Farricker, chairman of the Michigan AAAA Examinations Committee. His office is located at 710 New Center Bldg., Detroit.

No special or previous preparation is necessary to take the aptitude examinations being held March 5 at Wayne University, Michigan Statae College and the University of Michigan.

Rise Expected in Auto Stocks During Month

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's new car dealers now hold stocks totaling well above 500,000 units, Automotive News reported today.

The trade paper said today its customary monthly survey showed a stockpile of 464,020 new cars on Feb. 1, but that a further check indicated a further rise later in the month.

The Feb. 1 figure of 464,020 compared with a revised Jan. 1 count of 362,381 cars. The paper said: "New car stocks have moved upward continuously since a postwar low of 157,607 units was noted in November.

"At this moment, they exceed what under normal conditions might be regarded as a 30-day supply, but part of the surplus must be written off to a buildup in preparation for the spring market.

"So far few dealers have been heard to complain of overheavy inventories. On the contrary, there are many who still say they do not have enough cars, although some feel they are handicapped by an unwieldy selection of models."

Automen Ask Repeal of Car Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Automobile Manufacturers Assn. today asked the House Ways and Means Committee to vote for repeal of "inequitable automotive excise taxes."

The AMA recommended, as "a minimum step," that the present excise tax law should be allowed to expire on schedule, April 1. This would automatically lower the tax rate.

Present rates are 10 per cent of wholesale value on passenger cars and 8 per cent on trucks and parts. The reduction would cut this to 7 and 5 per cent respectively.

William J. Crowin, AMA's managing director, issued a statement describing existing auto excise taxes as "an impediment to the national economy, invoked during the depression as temporary, emergency levies."

Chrysler Moves Keller to West Coast Office

Keller, 42, is the son of K. T. Keller, Chrysler chairman. He has been a vice president of the firm since 1953 and has held a number of manufacturing posts since he joined the corporation in 1934.

Colbert said a resident corporation officer was assigned to the west coast because of great economic growth of that region in recent years.

Chevrolet Again Edges Ford in Sales Battle

DETROIT (UP)—Chevrolet, the traditional No. 1 seller among American automobiles since 1935, has edged back ahead of Ford in their close battle for 1954 sales with only a few figures still to be counted, Automotive News reported today.

The trade newspaper said with registrations of new cars for only 15 states for December still to be reported Chevrolet has edged 1,116 ahead of Ford, which has been leading for the past three or four months. The count showed Chevrolet ahead 1,318,107 to 1,316,991.

Cross-Examine Phenix Cabbie

State Attorneys Hint at 'Sensational Testimony' in Trial Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—State attorneys hinted at more sensational testimony to come today in Albert Fuller's trial for the murder of racket buster A. L. Patterson.

Defense attorneys sought to show that Taylor had made contradictory statements that would discredit his identification of the defendant.

Fuller was chief deputy sheriff at Phenix City in the days when commercialized crime flourished there. He is one of three defendants charged with the June 18 killing of the crusader who had sworn to end the rule of vice.

Special prosecutor Cecil Deason said yesterday the state would present witnesses to prove vice was wide open when Patterson was slain, and Fuller had much to lose if the town was cleaned up.

Indicted with Fuller were Arch Ferrell, former prosecuting attorney at Phenix City, and former Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, the man Patterson would have succeeded in office. Ferrell is awaiting trial. Garrett is being treated for a mental disorder at Galveston, Tex.

Youths and Woman Jailed for Break-In Three 18-year-old youths and a mother of the same age were bound over Saturday by Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib for arraignment in Circuit Court Feb. 28 on a breaking and entering charge.

Accused are Mrs. Rosemary Anderson, Robert Isaacs and David J. LeMaster, all of Royal Oak, and Clifford L. Morlan, of Detroit.

The Royal Oak trio were arrested Feb. 1. Morlan was apprehended in Tucumcari, N. M. Feb. 8.

The quartet is accused of breaking into the Deer Lake Lumber Co., in Independence Township; the Waterford Hardware Store and a Berkley grocery store.

They are held in Oakland County Jail under $5,000 bond.

REGISTRATION NOTICE
for
BIENNIAL SPRING AND SPECIAL CITY ELECTION
MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1955
To Qualified Electors of
CITY OF PONTIAC,

County of Oakland, State of Michigan

Notice is hergby given that, in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City, not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is Hereby Given That I Will Be at My Office

MONDAY, MARCH 7, 1955—LAST DAY

The Thirtieth Day Preceding Said election as provided by Section 10, Chapter 1, Part 2 (a), Act No 306, Public Acts of 1929, as amended by Act No. 291, Public Acts of 1945 and Act No. 108, Public Acts of 1951.

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said City as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Sec. 16. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

UNREGISTERED PERSON NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE

Sec. 1. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 108, P.A. 1951.)

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION; APPLICATION, TIME

Sec. 19. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village, cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending the Clerk a signed request stating his present address, the date he moved thereto and the address from which he was last registered or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election (unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day), provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he has not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION ON ELECTION DAY

Sec. 20. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village shall have the right to make application to have his registration transferred on any election or primary election day by executing a request over his or her signature for such transfer and presenting the same to the election board in the precinct in which he is registered. Upon receiving such request, the inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and if the signatures correspond then the inspector shall certify such fact upon said request and the applicant for transfer shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote. When the resident house numbers of any section of a Township, City or Village have been changed such a change shall not affect the right of such voter to cast his vote. Corresponding change in the registration records may be made by the Clerk or upon election day upon proper showing.

Bus Stop at Her Door Made Too Much Traffic

LONDON (INS) — Mrs. Ada Camm of Awsworth, Nottinghamshire, received the full support of police and the municipal council when she asked to have a bus stop moved away from her front door.

She complained that young couples waiting for the bus used her garden "as a petting parlor," strange men took shelter on the front porch and women used her window ledge as a cosmetic table and the window as a mirror.

No Longevity Theories

CHICAGO (INS) — Mrs. Marie Lindstrom of Chicago, who will be 102-years-old March 8, is a centenarian who has no theories—bizarre or old-fashioned—on how to live long.

Her explanation: "I don't know. I just lived long."

Believe Two Deaths Murder and Suicide

KALAMAZOO (UP) — The shotgun deaths of Harold Conrad Vanderberg, 55, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Susan Boehm, 50, in Vandenberg's home Saturday were an apparent murder-suicide, sheriff's officers said today.

Officers found a note in Vanderberg's handwriting which indicated he shot Mrs. Boehm with a 16-gauge shotgun and later turned the gun on himself. The note said:

"It's five o'clock in the morning. It's raining. Everything looks hopeless. Something seemed to have snapped in my mind. Then my brain and heart started pounding. I took all the sleeping tablets I had in the house and seven tablets of digitalis (a heart stimulant which counteracts the affect of sleeping tablets.) I'm all mixed up. Have to say goodbye now to Sue (Mrs. Boehm), the cause of it all."

Fabric Designer Began at Bottom

She Says Americans Gave Her Hard Time in Producing Thriller

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—A gay Parisienne, pretty and platinum blonde, is the producer of the very British Adventures of Sherlock Holmes on American television.

She's dynamic Nicole Milinaire, who gave up a profitable fabric designing business four years ago to become an assistant to youthful Sheldon Reynolds in the production of Foreign Intrigue.

Learning the TV film business from scratch, she was assigned by Reynolds to produce the Sherlock Holmes series last year.

Nicole admits that in supervising an all-male production crew she encountered a few difficulties in the beginning.

"Ze French work very well because zey know me," she explains, "but I had a lettle trouble at first wiz ze Amerycans—zey say, 'Who is zat blonde?' Now zey are my best fans."

Interiors for sherlock Holmes, she says, are filmed in Reynolds' Studio Eclair north of Paris where a replica of famed Baker Street was constructed under her direction. Exteriors away from Baker Street are filmed mostly in London.

"Our exterior shots in London are ery deeficult," she says, "because our show is a period piece. We can shoot only on Sunday or maybe 4 a.m. to keep from having automobiles on ze street. And then we have to shoot between buses. Zey let us stop cars, but nothing stops ze buses."

Ronald Howard, son of the late Leslie Howard, plays the role of Sherlock Holmes and H. Marion Crawford portrays Dr. Watson in the series based on the works of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Nicole thinks both are ideal for the roles.

Bob Considine Says:

Fontainebleau Has a Bar With Underwater Window

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS)—So many people have written so many things about the Fontainebleau, "America's largest resort hotel," that there would appear to be nothing left to say. This must be true. I have been here for two days and nary a soul from the publicity department has approached me with the scoop that the Fontainebleau is America's largest resort hotel. The boys sure are content.

The owners should be so confident.

The Fontainebleau cost 14 million dollars. It is shaped concave or convex, depending on the price of your room—oceanside or the side that commands a splendid view of the taxi ramp. One of its bars affords a drinker a view through plate glass of submerged swimmers in the pool.

In recent days the only swimmers we noticed were two polar bears accompanying a king penguin.

Have seldom heard a polar bear speak plainly, but one of the two mentioned just above said an interesting thing as he dived into the pool. "Kee-ripes!", he screamed as he hit the water.

The old kings of France would have loved this Fontainebleau. Did they ever have a coffee shop as big as Madison Square Garden—operated 24 hours a day? Did they ever have a salon named the "Boom-boom Room"? Did they ever have ball-point quills at their desk? Well, we have.

I'm not kidding about the ball point quills. Long, frilly, beautiful ostrich plumes such as great men once signed declarations of independence with, or earth-shaking treaties. Such plumes sent aristocrats and scoundrels—or both — to the guillotine in the Place de la Concorde.

But at the Fontainebleau hotel the tip of the quill, have been found inefficient, is imbedded into the neck of the gold-plated ball point. Works a lot better than the quills used by Jefferson on the draft of a rather important declaration or by Shakespeare on a few compositions he wrote. And after you draw an "X" on the picture postcard of the hotel, as close to your room as possible, you don't even have to sprinkle salt on it to make it dry.

As Sam Goldwyn once said upon viewing a sundial and being told its purpose, "What'll they think of next?"

Fontainebleau is so well booked that a friend of mine named Al Steele is having difficulty getting a cabana for March of '56. In addition to swarms of inmates—one of whom threw herself to her death off her wedgies today—it has become a tourist attraction comparable to the United Nations, Music Hall and Chock Full-o'-Nuts in New York.

You get an odd feeling after bucking the crowded elevator a bit that instead of calling out the number of your floor, you should say, "Stop at men's furnishings, please."

But the service at the Fontainebleau is splendid, the architecture is something to behold, and the swank is such that the hotel does not deface itself with a neon roof sign announcing its name.

My favorite shop, a Bronx hat store named "De Classe," has been topped by a Miami laundry named "Helpy-Selfy."

Sounds like the first Chinese laundromat.

Jack Low, manager of the Royal York hotel, Miami Beach, gave an interesting statement to the Miami Herald the other day when Lena Horne announced in New York that she had cancelled her contract to sing here because the hotel had refused her accommodations.

Mr. Low denied heatedly that such reservations had ever been requested, then said, "Miss Horne makes the point that she is a Negro. Well, Don Newcombe and Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers are Negroes and they were here for a press luncheon Tuesday."

How about a bully sportsmanship award for Mr. Low?

Fact remains that if Miss Horne, who is married to a white man, appeared here she could not ride in any but the last three rows of seats in a bus nor take a "white" taxicab. At the swanky new Orlando, Fla., airport, a modern marvel, she'd have to freshen up in the room marked "Negro Women."

Senators Extremely Rude; Most Citizens Shocked

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

WASHINGTON (INS)—It strikes me—admittedly on surface observation—that senators are a rude and unsympathetic bunch.

They may be splendid fellows, individually and off-duty, and it is said they are as kind as the next man to their mothers. But in the Senate chambers, as I have just observed and thousands of visitors have observed before me, their lack of manners is appalling.

They talk when their fellow-senators are talking. They walk out in the middle of intense speeches. They do not bother to cover their yawns when bored or their coughs when coughing, and generally act in a manner unbecoming the corteous congressman.

I visited the Senate wing of the capitol the other afternoon on what promised to be an especially active day. The Senate was deciding whether to approve or amend the Formosan Defense Treaty.

Not wishing to disturb what I naturally contemplated would be a heated controversy or a thoughtful discussion of the matter, I moused into the spectators' balcony which overhangs the chamber. Immediately, my ears were attacked by a voice (it later turned out to be that of Sen. Wayne Morse) which was obviously mad about something. So's to get the full impact of what was nettling him, I closed my eyes and concentrated.

They may love Senator Morse in Oregon, but let a New Yorker tell you his five-syllable oratory takes some getting used to, and it was minutes before he let go the simple phrase—"some reservations must be attached"—and I got what he was driving at. He didn't go for the treaty.

All very well, I thought, but he needn't be so belligerent about it. Then I opened my eyes and leaned over the balcony balustrade to see how the rest of the boys in the Senate were taking it.

Well, friends, they weren't. Only two senators besides Morse were in the place, and they were Russell Long, Louisiana Democrat, who appeared to be writing letters, and William F. Kowland, California Republican, who was either listening or day - dreaming through half-closed eyes.

The other shiny desks, arranged in neat semi - circular rows, were mute mahogany testimony to my theory that senators are rude. What they don't want to hear, they don't have to, and if old buddy Wayne Morse is making a speech, it's a good time to get some work done outside.

We've all heard a lot about "senatorial courtesy," but it turns out to be different from what mother had in mind. It means, they tell me, that one senator will carefully avoid stepping on another's toes, but only in the official sense—such as if one senator objects to a federal appointee in his own state, the other senators will go along, to be agreeable. But being agreeable in the Emily Post tradition—nix.

In the British House of Commons, the mother of parliaments, they switch the procedure. They can jeer and boo and call each other names, but they are prohibited from writing letters or reading newspapers in the House. This sort of tempestuous technique if far superior, seems to me. If you throw an uppercut at an associate, it at least shows you're interested in what he has to say. But you simply walk out on him—well, that's rude!

Sen. Morse kept haranguing; Sen. Long kept writing letters, and Sen. Knowland kept listening or day-dreaming. Now and then a straying senator would pop in one of the many rear doors and with a look that clearly bespoke the sentiment "Oops—too soon," backed out again.

I guess it's constitutional, but it certainly is not courteous and all I have to say to my grade school civics teacher is: "Miss McVinty, you're looking at parliamentary procedure through rose - colored glasses."

Seek Victims of Snowstorm

Nebraska Road Crews Hunt 3 Pastors Missing Since Saturday

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — Snow plow crews, weary from long, cold hours on the highway with no sleep, struggled through man-sized drifts today in search of possible victims of Saturday's blinding Nebraska blizzard.

Of 36 persons reported missing, only three remained to be accounted for today and it was thought they may have found refuge in a farm house without a telephone.

The 33 rescued yesterday included five small children, who with five adults, munched on birthday cake, milk and crackers while imprisoned for 19 hours in a car nine miles northwest of here on Highway 26.

Still unaccounted for were three ministers who left Gothenburg in central Nebraska Saturday afternoon, apparently headed for Pine River, Wyo. Only two were identified by name. They were the Revs. Ray McCollend and Jim Mason, believed to be from Pine River.

A garage employe, who thought out "a long time ago" what he'd do if snowbound in a car, made things easier for the five children of Mrs. L. F. Tatro, 36, of North Platte.

Marion Peterson, about 35, Ogallala, decided "I'd keep the people in the car, keep the tension down as much as possible, and keep them from going to sleep. And that's what I did do."

Peterson called roll "every five minutes" to keep everyone awake, helped to tell jokes to kep them smiling and joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to Mary Ellen Tatro, 8, whose birthday was yesterday and to Ladd Cochrane, 21, Hastings (Neb.) College athlete, whose birthday was Saturday.

Peterson and Paul Shay had set out Saturday afternoon from Ogallala after receiving a call that Cochrane's car had stalled. En rpute back, they found Mrs. Tatro, her five small children, and niece, Mrs. Evelyn Stout, 20, stranded. Six miles further west they encountered an enormous snow drift and decided to wait out the storm in the Tatro car.

Sock Lands Wife

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—A sock at first sight has led to love for Hollywood film players Julie Adams and Ray Danton. Danton, 24, was required to slug Miss Adams, 26, in their first movie scene together. Yesterday they were married by the Rev. Paul M. Gammons at the El Montecito Presbyterian Church.

NEW STAMP — This is the proposed 15-cent stamp being planned for the "certified mail" service. It would be used in first-class mail where no specific value is claimed, but where proof of mailing and delivery is desired. The stamp would be available at less cost than registered mail, according to postal authorities in Washington, D. C.

Boardwalk Yields $300

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Since eight blocks of the boardwalk were torn up to make way for a concrete walk, people working with shovels and sieves have turned up about $300 dropped by vacationers during the last 65 years. Some have mined as much as $12 a day.

Agricultural fairs attract six times more people than major league baseball.

Tanker Still Afloat as Freighter Sinks

GENOA, Italy (AP)—The 4,147-ton Swedish freighter Nordanland sank today in Genoa harbor with a 600-ton cargo of carbide, as a result of Saturday's port-wrecking storm.

The vessel — two gaping holes in her hull — went down in about 100 feet of water after 36 hours of frantic efforts had failed to keep her afloat. Her crew had abandoned ship Saturday.

The damaged 11,322-ton Liberian tanker Atlantic Lord with 4,000 tons of crude oil aboard was still above water. The tanker was also damaged in Saturday's storm and her 25 crewmen removed by breeches buoy.

Both vessels had been torn from their moorings and slammed against the docks by huge waves.

Gen. Grant Returns

TAIPEI (AP)—Brig. Gen. Harold W. Grant, commander of the U.S. air task force in Formosa, returned yesterday after a week's visit to Japan, where he conferred with Gen. Earle E. Patridge, commander of the Far East Air Forces.

Soviets Getting Hungry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Information Service says Russia's big drive to increase farm output has failed so badly that there's less grain per person than in 1926 and three million fewer cows than in 1917.

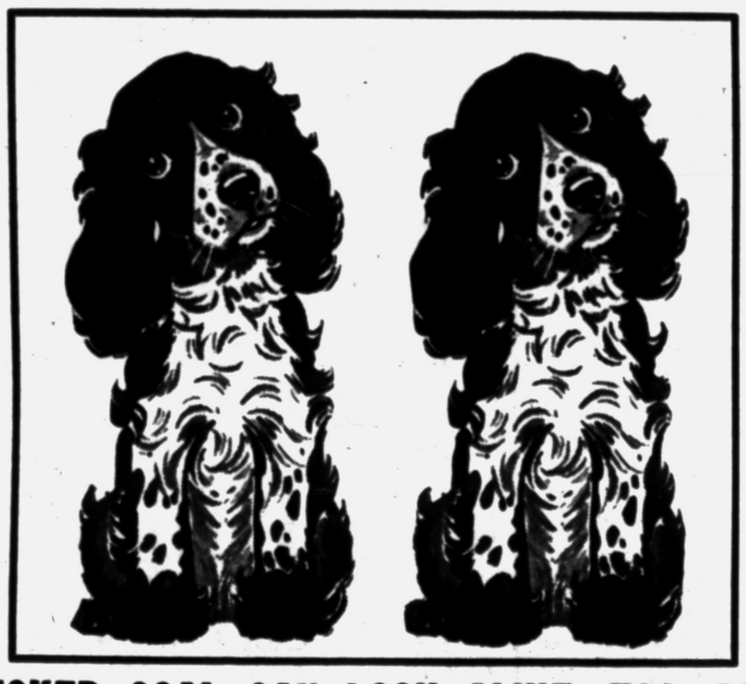
THEY LOOK ALIKE --- BUT ONE'S A CHAMP!



STOKER COAL CAN LOOK ALIKE, TOO, BUT "LITTLE JOE" OUT-PERFORMS OTHERS!

"LITTLE JOE" STOKER COAL is deep-mined in Kentucky's richest coal veins . . . always uniform, always better! It's oil-treated and correctly sized, too, so that it responds better to automatic furnace controls . . . holding long, low fire on warmer days, yet giving an abundance of heat when needed. We think it is the most TROUBLE-FREE STOKER COAL IN AMERICA TODAY!

"LITTLE JOE" is truly an Aristocrat among stoker coal . . . yet IT COSTS NO MORE to use.

"LITTLE JOE" IS BEST BECAUSE:

- It's Dust Treated
- It's Properly Sized
- It's Cleaner to Handle
- It's Cleaner to Burn
- It's Low in Ash
- It's High in Heat

. . . AND EVERY TON IS JUST AS GOOD AS THE LAST!
