Area Men Directing State Fair

HUDDLE WITH NEW CHAIRMAN — With the election yesterday of Eldon C. Rosegart (center), of Drayton Plains, as chairman of the State Fair Commission, the Pontiac area was assured of being better represented than ever in the top management of the Michigan State Fair. Harry Garling (right), of Orion Township, who served as Commission chairman in 1955 and '56 and continues as commissioner, and Southfield Mayor Donald L. Swanson immediately went into huddle with Rosegart following his election. Rosegart is director of the Pontiac Northern High School Band.

$120 Million Income Tax Bill Introduced

Bipartisan Plan Close to Williams' Proposals; Legislature Adjourns

LANSING (AP)—A state income tax bill designed to net 120 million dollars a year came into the Legislature today, the first of the 1959 session.

The legislature adjourned for the weekend at noon today.

The income levy was the main foundation of a 141-million-dollar tax program sponsored jointly by Reps. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) and Walter H. Nill (D-Muskegon).

Breaking the ice on long-awaited income tax measures, the two members of the House Taxation Committee offered the bill as an answer to the state's long-range need for new revenues.

Basically, it follows the lines of Gov. Williams' tax program outlined in January — with some important differences. It may have obviated the necessity for Williams to introduce his bills.

The governor sent word from Washington, D.C., where he had testified before a Congressional Committee, that he would consider it carefully.

GOP LEADERS COOL

House Republican leaders were less receptive, seeing in the handling of the bill and its timing a political coup by the Democratic governor engineered to dilute his responsibility for the program.

Essentially, the bill proposed a graduated income tax, but the first $15,000 income — after standard deductions and exemptions — would be taxed at a flat two per cent.

The next $10,000 would be taxed at three per cent and amounts over $25,000 at four per cent.

Starting point in calculations would be the adjusted gross income computed on federal income tax forms.

The measure would allow an $800 exemption for the taxpayer and each dependent and the option of an itemized or $1,000 deduction, whichever was higher.

Like the governor's plan the Sal-

April Showers Forecast Today and Tomorrow

Scattered showers and thundershowers beginning late this afternoon or evening have been forecast for the Pontiac area. The low tonight will be a mild 52.

Scattered showers are predicted again for Saturday with the temperature cooling off to a high of near 60 degrees. Today's winds southwest to south at 14-22 miles an hour will become northerly tomorrow.

Temperatures will change little through Wednesday. Rain will total near one-half inch Saturday and again about Monday or Tuesday.

The mercury dropped from a high of 74 yesterday afternoon in downtown Pontiac to a low of 54 at 6 this morning. The reading at 2 p.m. was 73.

Nixon to Visit Moscow in July

To Open U.S. Exhibit; Talks May Set Stage for Summit Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon will visit Moscow in late July. His expected talks with high Soviet officials may help to set the stage for a summit conference.

His designation by President Eisenhower to make the trip also could promote Nixon's chances for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

A White House announcement at Augusta, Ga., late yesterday, said Nixon will make the trip to open an American exhibition in Moscow July 25.

No other details were given but diplomatic officials were sure he would meet with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The six-week exhibition is designed to show Soviet citizens how Americans live. The Soviets will stage a similar exhibition in New York City.

If Nixon demonstrates a capacity to deal effectively with Soviet leaders it could give him a boost in his unannounced quest for the presidency in 1960. At a minimum it will focus attention on him in the months leading up to selection of the Republican nominee.

Internationally, the trip means a new round of high-level contacts, following up the January visit here of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Presumably one of Nixon's purposes, will be to demonstrate to the Soviet peoples a friendly American interest in them. He is expected to emphasize a United States desire for better relations.

Nixon will be the first high-ranking U.S. official to visit the Soviet Union in many years.

NO SUCCESS — From the main turret gate, Montana Prison's Warden Floyd E. Powell emerges after an early unsuccessful attempt to negotiate with the rioting prisoners for the release of 18 hostages. The rioters have threatened to burn their captives if authorities storm the prison.

Captive Calls Things 'Touchy' Inside Prison

Deputy Warden Slain and Guard Is Stabbed in Montana Rebellion

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — A hostage freed for eight minutes by rioting convicts at Montana prison said today 17 other hostages are "all set up to be killed."

Walter Jones, a prison psychologist, was released for an eight-minute talk with newsmen.

"It's tighter than H— in there," Jones said. He said the situation "is touchy." He said guards who are among the hostages "are all set up to be killed, some will be hanged.

"I am going back in. I don't know for how long. The inmates are touchy. Any little thing will set it off."

Jones said he and other hostages were sent coffee and sandwiches. He said all are being treated well.

DEPUTY SLAIN

Earlier, the chaplain at the prison said an agreement apparently had been reached to end the 16-hour riot.

Eighteen guard hostages have been held by the rebel convicts who killed a deputy warden and stabbed a guard.

Until the prisoners shouted threats to burn their hostages, authorities had planned to send 150 officers storming the 90-year-old turreted, castle-like prison.

There are 435 prisoners inside. They have access to food and could hold out for many days, officials said.

The riot erupted about 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

Warden Floyd Powell was seized and held at knife point for nearly three hours before a burglar helped him escape.

Deputy Warden Theodore Rothe, 38-year-old former Wisconsin prison officer, was shot through the chest and killed. Guard Bill Cox, 41, was stabbed in the arm. He is in satisfactory condition.

CONVICTS ARMED

Powell, 46, said, "A few of the convicts got out on top of the catwalk and took a few rifles. How they did it I don't know. It is not an organized thing. Most of the convicts want no part of it."

The prisoners demand a conference with Gov. J. Hugo Aronson, but the governor flatly rejected the request and instead called out the state troops.

"Everything is going to be all right," Father Gerald Lyman, Catholic chaplin, told newsmen after he left a conference of prison officials and spokesmen for the rioting prisoners.

The negotiations started after the convicts threatened to burn the 18 hostages with gasoline.

Father Lyman had participated in a 2-hour, 45-minute meeting at a prison gate between convict spokesman, and prison officials.

The priest said a formal announcement of an agreement would be made shortly.

Two red-eyed wives of Montana prison guards walked into the prison office at 4 a.m. today, seeking word of their hostage husbands.

They were Mrs. Robert Wyant, 29, the mother of two children; and Mrs. Vernon Kelpin, 41, the mother of three.

Both women, who obviously had been crying, said their husbands had worked together in the smelter at Anaconda, Mont., until they became guards six weeks ago.

Assessments' Rise May Cut City Tax

Pontiac property assessments were fixed today at more than $1 million over the $5 million increase estimated as necessary to keep the 1959 tax rate down at the low figure established last year.

The total 1959 assessed valuation has been set at $277,213,800, or $6,269,800 more than last year, according to final figures of the Board of (tax) Review.

City Manager Walter K. Will-

man had predicted that if the assessed valuation went up only $5 million this year, the 1959 budget could be financed through the low, 13.27 mill tax rate achieved by the city last year.

That the increase in assessed valuation went over the $5 million mark opens the door to the possibility that the tax rate might even be dropped slightly lower than $13.27 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

This is what happened last year, when the city was hoping to keep the tax rate at the 1957 figure of 13.70 mills. When the assessed valuation went up $16,824,759, the tax rate was cut.

Last year, the city was also predicating its budget on only an nominal $5 million increase in asessed valuations.

The totals on both real and personal property went up significantly, according to figures from the office of City Assessor W. Ray Ransom.

The total assessments on real property were set at $142,707,550, or $3,041,650 more than last year.

Personal property, including the huge inventories in Pontiac industrial plants and businesses, was assessed at $134,505,850, or $3,227,650 more than last year.

The assessor's office had originally placed a $278,235,300 price tag on Pontiac, but the Board of Review trimmed this figure by $1,021,500. In reaching today's final totals, the Board cut $958,950 from the assessor's estimate on real property and $62,550 on personal property.

NEW FORMULA

Last year, Ransom's office adopted a new formula under which personal property was more closely assessed at its true valuation — thus the big increase in the 1958 personal assessments.

The 1959 assessment shows that this formula is still being followed.

Most of the industrial assessments were ironed out in cooperation with the State Tax Commission before they were finally settled.

The totals were sent to the Oakland County Tax equalization Committe for use in arriving at the tax base upon which the county tax will be spread in Pontiac.

They also went to the state for use in arriving at the tax base for Pontiac school taxes.

This year's total Pontiac property tax won't be determined until the City Commission decides the city tax rate and the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board decides the county and school tax rates.

Hospital to Push Welfare Issue

May Take Fight to Hike County Case Payments Direct to Supervisors

Pontiac General Hospital is thinking of taking its fight over welfare patients directly before the entire Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

How and when a plea might be made before the whole 83-member body has not been determined.

Outside requests usually are taken up by the county board's numerous committees, which report back to the board with favorable or unfavorable recommendations.

Only rarely is an outside group of organization able to appear before the board in person.

The next meeting of the board is April 27, but the board's Welfare Committee and administrators of the Social Welfare Department are scheduled to meet on the Pontiac General problem before then.

Fearing that the meeting will produce an unfavorable recommendation, Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, broached the possibility of appearing in person at the April 27 session of the supervisors.

"I believe that St. Joseph Mercy Hospital would like to join us in taking our problem before the entire board in person," he told the hospital's Board of Trustees last night.

The two Pontiac hospitals want the county to pay for treatment of welfare patients on an actual cost basis, not a flat rate, as in the past.

Because the 1958 county rate was less than actual cost, Pontiac General lost $75,078 last year, Euler has said. Sister Mary William, administrator of St. Joseph, put her hospital's loss on county patients at $62,556.

Euler voiced fears that the Welfare Department would ignore pleas for actual cost payments, and recommend to the Welfare

Castro Visits Capitol for Talk With Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro paid an unheralded visit to the Capitol today for an informal huddle with key U. S. Legislators.

The Capitol swarmed with uniformed police and plainclothes security officers as the bearded Cuban Premier arrived at 10:45 a.m.

There were cheers for the Cuban Prime Minister from spectators who managed to crowd into the passageway leading to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee office.

Castro met there with Senators and Representatives invited by Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark).

The cheers came mostly from teenage girls. This is the height of the tourist season in Washington and the city is crowded with school children from all parts of the country.

Fullbright arranged the informal, closed-door meeting to permit members of his committee and other legislators to talk with Castro first hand.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors will hear Castro this afternoon.

The bearded, 32-year old Prime Minister is making his first address in the United States since he gained power in Cuba. A question-and-answer period follows.

Questions were expected on the executions of more than 500 military and police officials of Cuba's ousted Batista government, the suspension of some civil rights and reports that Castro is exposed to Communist influence inside and outside his government.

The society finally settled most of its disputes with radio and television broadcasters who complained ASNE was trying to restrict coverage of the Castro appearance.

Officers of ASNE yielded to protests that the society—long an ardent champion of press freedom —was in this case "denying freedom of access to the news."

MSUO Begins to Hire Staff While Waiting for Funds

With the hiring of a faculty dean and three other faculty members, Michigan State University Oakland has begun to recruit a staff of instructors for its opening in September.

"We've reached the point where we have begun to hire," Durward B. Varner, chancellor of the new university, said today.

Varner said he would have to obtain around 20 faculty members to operate MSUO the first year.

The hirings yesterday were approved by the MSU Board of Trustees.

Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, vice president of the American Council of Learned Societies, New York, was appointed dean of faculty effective July 1.

Also appointed effective Sept. 1 were Dr. James H. McKay, associate professor of mathematics; Dr. Peter H. Amann, assistant professor of history; and Richard J. Burke Jr., philosphy instructor.

FUNDS LACKING

Support money for the fledgling institution has not yet been voted by the State Legislature.

"It's not possible to wait for positive legislative action before starting to hire faculty and accepting students," Varner said.

Michigan State University asked $590,000 for operation of MSUO, its "sister university," during the next fiscal year. Gov. Williams shaved the figure to $550,000. A deficiency appropriation of $84,000 for the current fiscal year also was asked.

MUST GO AHEAD

"We'll just have to go ahead and assume that we'll get the appropriation," said Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president.

Varner said he did not think lawmakers would refuse to appropriate the money. He noted the Legislature allowed $50,000 in planning money and adopted a resolution thanking Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson for the gift of their 1,400 acre Meadow Brook Farms estate and $2,000,000 for the first building.

"I think we'd be acting in good faith if we go ahead with our planning," Varner said.

"The hiring season is nearly over," he said. "Also, a lot of our prospects are being scared away by the talk of Michigan being broke."

"A lot of educators in other states actually think that Michigan colleges aren't meeting their payrolls," Hannah noted.

Varner reported that 432 enrollment applications have been received to date for the first term. 388 have been processed and 314 accepted. He said he anticipated an enrollment of between 400 and 500 the first year.

He said 75 per cent of the applications so far have been from Oakland County and 23 per cent from Macomb County. The remaining two per cent was scattered among other counties in Michigan.

Varner reported 36 per cent planned to major in teacher education, 28 per cent in liberal arts, 22 per cent in engineering and 14 per cent in business administration.

Male students made up 56 per cent of the applicants and female students 44 per cent.

"We seem to be attracting a very high type of student scholastically," he said. "We find 44 per cent rank in the first quarter of their class and 33 per cent in the second quarter."

Varner said he believed that more than 90 per cent of those accepted would show up for the first classes when MSUO is opened this fall.

Predicts 6 Million New Car Sales in '59

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's Automotive Reports predicts the automobile industry will make six million new car sales this year.

The statistical agency said yesterday that new car dealers delivered 162,400 U.S.-built cars in the first 10 days of April to "keep intact the first spring upturn in auto sales since 1955."

It said more than a million deliveries are forecast for March-April combined, adding that the brisk rate of buying "puts the industry in line for six million new car sales in entire 1959, including more than 500,000 imports. Previously the target was approximately 5½ million to 5,700,000."

Red Tape Snarls Kierdorf Appeal

Legal Tangle Has Held Up High Court Hearing for 5 Months

More than five months after he was sentenced to prison for owning a pistol silencer, former Teamsters Union aide Herman Kierdorf was still sitting by while his attorney and Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr. were untangling some legal red tape.

Barry said a hearing has been set for April 27 before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams when Kierdorf's attorney, Eric E. Zisman, and Barry will try to agree on what attorneys call a concise statement of facts of the crime involved to be presented to the State Supreme Court.

Agreement, and Judge Adams' signature on the statement, is needed before Zisman can proceed with Kierdorf's appeal to the high court of his 1-to-15-year sentence.

Kierdorf, of Madison Heights, was convicted last Oct. 22 of possessing the homemade silencer which he had turned over to a neighbor hours after he learned his nephew had been burned in a bungled arson job outside Flint Aug. 3.

Judge Adams sentenced the one-time aide of Teamster President James R. Hoffa, Nov. 10. Although notice of the appeal was made immediately afterwards, steps toward the appeal have been slow in coming.

Income Tax Plan Goes to Legislature

lade-Nill bill proposed a five per cent corporation profits tax, calculated to produce 110 million dollars annually, and a seven per cent tax on profits of banks and other financial institutions. This latter would yield about 11 million dollars, the sponsors said.

As offsetting factors, the corporation franchise and intangibles taxes, together yielding about 60 million dollars, would be repealed, again following the governor's plan.

A personal property tax credit would further reduce current revenues by another 30 million dollars, producing a net revenue gain of 141 millions.

Williams proposed a $1,000 exemption for the taxpayer only coupled with a $35 tax credit each for the taxpayer, his wife and each dependent. The governor also favored a $600-per-person exemption and graduated rates ranging from two to six per cent.

Sallade, frequently at odds with Republican leadership in the House said his program would hit about two-thirds of the 2,750,000 families filing income tax returns in Michigan. The Williams' program would tax only about 35 or 40 per cent, with higher income groups paying a bigger share of the bill.

Area Merchants Warned Against Phony Ad Offers

Pontiac area merchants have been warned not to fall for telephone offers of advertisements in a publication which the caller says is the "official" voice of the Michigan Council of State Employes.

The warning came from the Business Ethics Board of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

"All they're doing is using an official sounding name to sell advertising," said William L. Belaney, spokesman for the board and assistant Chamber manager.

He said some 10 reports have been filed with the Chamber from merchants who said the caller attempts to sell space in publications, often with different names, such as the Michigan State Employe, Michigan State News, or State Capitol News.

"There's no doubt that there is such a publication, whatever they call it, but it in no way represents an official publication for the state of Michigan," Belaney said.

"We'd like to warn our merchants to resist being deceived that they will get preferential treatment by advertising with this so-called official publication," he said.

Newcomers Club Short of Fund Drive Goal

BIRMINGHAM—The Newcomers Club held its April meeting at the Community House yesterday and presented a $200 check to Mrs. Effie Schaffer, house director.

Mrs. Charles Chamberland, Newcomers president, reminded members that the house is still nearly $21,000 short of its $60,000 goal in the annual fund drive.

The club approved a charter amendment raising annual dues to $4.

Guest speaker at the meeting, Elinor K. Rose, Royal Oak writer of light verse, said her short literary works are not dashed off in a moment.

"Titles are the worst," she admitted. "Some finished verses hang around un-named for as long as two months."

With a flare for comedy, Mrs. Rose worked a number of her verses into her talk. She said she had even written a plea to another columnist who "snitched" one of her verses to please not garble the punch line.

Dealing with everyday things, from caring for a baby to patching a roof, Mrs. Rose brought real life incidents to her 200 listeners which they themselves had experienced.

A brief skit by four members in Hawaiian costume and a commentary by Mrs. Jack Carr were part of plans announced for the spring dance. It will be held May 9 at the Hillcrest Country Club with decorations honoring the newest state of the nation.

The City of Birmingham VFW Post 2645 will install officers at their home on Elm street at 8 p.m. Monday.

Roland W. Reese and Thomas T. Monahan, co-chairmen of the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner, are asking members to send the checks for their tickets not later than Monday.

The dinnner will be at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Devon Gables. Bud Guest will be the speaker, and newly-elected officers will be announced.

The Birmingham Rotary Ann chapter will meet for a 1 p.m. luncheon Monday at the home of Mrs. Walter Anderson, 1388 Chesterfield Rd. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. William Averill, Mrs. John Rosso, Mrs. George Steelman and Mrs. Robert Peck.

A book review will be given by Mrs. Eugene Barney.

Mrs. George Mease

Rosary service for Mrs. George (Caroline) Mease, 55, of 1461 Maryland Blvd., will be held at 9 p.m. tonight at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. The body will be taken to the Frank T. Corken Funeral Home, Cincinnati, Ohio, for services Monday.

Mrs. Corken died Wednesday in Harper Hospital, Detroit, after a long illness.

Committee that a new, adjusted flat rate be adopted instead.

Last year the county paid Pontiac General $33 a day for treatment of each welfare patient, although the average daily cost of treating all patients at the hospital was $41.22, according to hospital figures.

Negotiations for a new annual contract covering treatment of welfare patients have been under way for about a month.

Plans to hit at another area in which the Pontiac hospital has been losing money are also under way.

This area is the emergency service the hospital provides for many patients who cannot pay their bills and do not quality for welfare aid.

Pontiac General has charged that it is getting more than its fair share of such patients. It says communities in South Oakland County are taking advantage of the city hospital's "open door" policy and are "dumping" indigent emergency patients here, instead of taking care of them themselves.

Euler reported that the Association of Oakland County Hospital Directors has agreed to look into the problem with an aim of distributing the indigent emergency load more equitably, if it is out of balance.

Lynn D. Allen Jr., board member in charge of a special committee covering the problem, said the Oakland County Medical Society's attention had been drawn to the situation.

Pontiac General has threatened to turn away emergency patients who are brought to it from outside of what it considers its territory.

Safety Scoreboard Erected in Pontiac

Pontiac has a new traffic safety scoreboard today and its message is one of hope.

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce erected the scoreboard yesterday and it spells out for all to see that Pontiac has out for all to see that Pontiac had gone 108 days without a traffic fatality.

The scoreboard is located on the grounds of the Oakland County Courthouse at Huron and Saginaw streets.

"Just about everybody who drives into Pontiac will be able to see the wonderful record the city has achieved," said Clyde R. Haskill, Jaycee president.

"The scoreboard also will serve as a constant reminder that only alert, cautious and courteous driving can keep our streets free from violent death."

The scoreboard compares this year's traffic accidents with last year's, and that record also is impressive.

So far this year, Pontiac has had 96 personal injury accidents. Although last year's record as of April 16 was only 88 personal injuries, there were eight fatalities.

This year, the number of fatalities is indicated by an impressive zero.

The last fatality in Pontiac was Dec. 29, meaning that Pontiac has surpassed the long deathless record achieved in 1957 when the city went 108 deathless days.

But on the 109th day in 1957, someone was killed.

The scoreboard was prepared by the Jaycee safety committee, headed by Richard Jorgenson. It is considered as one of the most important Jaycee public service projects this year.

Waterford Budget Approved

Pay Hikes Due Teachers

With the approval of a $3,842,320, record-high Waterford Township school budget, all degreed teachers are slated to receive pay raises of from $300 to $400 next year, according to William Shunck, superintendent of schools.

The budget, which shows an increase of $456,985 over last year's, was approved at a meeting of the Board of Education last night.

An additional 5-mill voted tax hike for school operation was approved at a special election March 3, along with a $5,000,000 school bond issue.

This millage will net the school district $375,000. State aid from the anticipated increased enrollment will be approximately $142,000, Shunck said.

The budget increase will provide for 34 additional teachers, 24 of whom will be required to handle an anticipated pupil increase of 760, according to Shunck.

Additional teachers will be needed for two more elementary schools scheduled to open in the fall, and 10 more teachers will be hired to reduce the present pupil-teacher ratio.

There are now 11,336 pupils enrolled in the school system, Shunck said.

BUILD SCHOOL

One of the new elementary schools, the Laura Smith Haviland School, is in the process of construction on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road near Cooley Lake road.

Another new building will be constructed on Walton boulevard in the Jayno Adams area and is scheduled to open in November.

Also approved in the budget was an $133,000 increase in teacher salary schedules.

Minimum starting salary has been raised from $4,200 to $4,300 for a teacher holding a bachelor's degree, and $4,400 to $4,500 for a master's degree.

Minimum salary for teachers with four or five years experience, and a bachelor of arts degree, was increased from $6,150 to $6,500, and the maximum salary for teachers with the same experience with a master's degree will now be $6,700 as compared to last year's $6,350 maximum slaary.

Clerical maximum salary, which was set up on three levels, will now be $25 a month more. "This does not mean that they receive a raise but merely what they could earn," Shunck explained.

Custodial, maintenance, enginer and bus driving personal received increases in salaries totaling $9,500.

The hiring of two additional painters, one carpenter, and one bus mechanic was also approved by the Board.

In other business the Board awarded contracts totaling $23,929 for four new school buses to the low bidder, the General Motors Truck and Coach Retail Store of Pontiac.

There will be three new 60-passenger buses and one 48-passenger school bus added to the transportation program.

Seaway Cities Plan to Hold Gala Celebrations

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway this month won't lack for celebration.

All around the Great Lakes, port cities are planning to whoop it up on and after the event they hope will mark the beginning of an increase in their foreign trade.

Each port will try to point out its own merits to shopping shippers looking for the best deal in dollars and convenience.

But overall, there will be a common cause:

To point out that with the seaway, Great Lakes will be world ports with an all deepwater connection to ports abroad and the potential to bring a new and lasting prosperity to inland America.

Some of the planned festivities follow.

Chicago—An international trade fair July 3-18 with an anticipated attendance of 100,000 business men and 750,000 other visitors. A visit by Queen Elizabeth II aboard the royal yacht Britannia on July 6. In August, the Pan-American games especially sought by the city because this is "seaway year."

Toledo—A "Salute to the Free World" April 27-29 for military representatives of 42 nations, with a program that includes a tour of the port of the "Coast Guard vessel "Tupelo."

Cleveland—A series of 10 week-long programs, each honoring a different nation or group of nations. Foreign trade displays by many Cleveland area companies.

Duluth—Tentative plans to send a large freighter, laden wtih products from the Duluth area, to many foreign lands on a good-will mission. A ceremony in which representatives of lands bordering the seven seas will empty vials of water from those waters into Duluth harbor.

Milwaukee — Ceremonies for a new marine museum and library, "International dinners" featuring world trade programs. At least one university seminar on the seaway.

Buffalo—A special visit in May by the freighter Santa Alicia, to be marked by a downtown parade and a public luncheon.

Muskegon—Civic welcomes for the first ship of the season, the first large ship whose visit is made possible by the seaway depth and touring Naval vessels.

Duncan Case Killer Awaits Sentence

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A jury will decide next week whether Luis Moya gets the gas chamber or life imprisonment for his part in the Nov. 18 slaying of nurse Olga Duncan.

The 24-year-old laborer has pleaded guilty to murder. He tried unsuccessfully Thursday to get a change of venue for his trial.

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, the dead woman's mother-in-law, and Augustine Baldonado are under death sentences. Mrs. Duncan hired the men to kill her pregnant daughter-in-law, the prosecution said, because of an extraordinary attachment for her son Frank—Olga's husband.

Jobless Bill Faces Defeat

GOP-Backed Version With Rider Rejected by State Dems

LANSING (AP) — Another cliff-hanging episode was on tap today for the much disputed jobless pay extension bill following an end to conference committee deadlocks that lasted nine days.

The House was to vote on, and almost certainly to reject, a new Senate-approved version tailored in the main to Republican objectives and denounced by Democrats as an attempted "blackjack" job on the unemployed.

An unfavorable outcome would mean the death of the bill barring unusual and complicated parliamentary tactics. However, these were likely to be invoked to keep it alive, at least over the weekend.

Neither party wanted to shoulder political responsibility for death of the bill, and a turning of the back on 28,000 unemployed persons eligible for continued jobless benefits if the bill were finally rejected.

A second House-Senate conference committee unexpectedly sprung yesterday a report putting the bill in a shape Republicans called a "compromise" but which prompted Democrats to cry "smokescreen," and worse.

With their topheavy majority, Republicans forced 20 to 11 approval on a straight party line vote in the Senate despite knowledge they lacked strength in the House to similarly carry the day there.

At the heart of conflict was a GOP aim to erase future application of doctrine laid down by the Supreme Court in the so-called Ford-Canton case in January, a decision Republicans contend would open the way for subsidizing strikes with unemployment compensation funds.

Overriding Democratic protest, the Republican majority on the conference committee inserted wording in the Supreme Court clause that Sen. Stanley Novak (D-Detroit) said was even stiffer than the original language.

Official to Address Area Social Workers

Paul Averill, vice president of the Family Service Association of America, will be the guest speaker Wednesday at the opening meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers.

Averill will speak on "The Layman's Appraisal of Social Worker's Opportunity in the Community."

All social workers throughout the county have been invited to attend the meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Waldron Hotel. Reservations must be made by Tuesday with Mrs. Reba Netzler at the Pontiac YWCA.

Crash, Bang! Oldster's Car Runs Wild

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Here's what police said happened to Thomas Jacomella when he started to drive his car out the driveway at his home:

He backed the car 29 feet until he saw he was going to hit his house. Then he shifted into forward, hit a tree and clothes pole, started backing again, scraped the side of the house and struck two more trees.

The car continued backing until it ran into a car across the street, then the driver shifted into forward, traveled 54 feet, smashed a small wall, drove into a field, tore down a bush, traveled through a wooden fence, over a pine tree and steel wire fence and then hit a house.

Then Jacomella put the car into reverse, backed across the two fences and a pine tree, hit another house and finally came to a stop against a tree.

Deputy Sheriff Cliff Gunn said Jacomella was 82.

100,000 Suffer Flood Ravages

Three South American Countries Rush Help to Their Destitute

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Flood waters ravaging parts of Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil receded today, and aid was rushed to an estimated 100,000 persons left destitute.

At least 12 persons were believed drowned—7 in Urugay, 3 in Entre Rios province of Argentina and 2 in southern Brazil. There were no official casualty figures, for the hardest hit areas were cut off.

The sun shone ater five days of steady rains. Relief missions headed for the stricken regions by land, water and air.

U.S. Ambassador Willard Beaulac called on President Arturo Frondizi to offer American aid. Frondizi told him that his government had the situation in hand.

However, Argentine radio stations and newspapers broadcast government appeals for blankets, food and medicine.

About 25,000 persons were driven from their homes in Concordia, a city of 80,000 in the east Argentine province of Entre Rios. Food was flown into the isolated city and the navy sent ships to evacuate the entire population if necessary. There was one unconfirmed report that 5,000 persons were stranded on a hill.

The flood waters swept into Buenos Aires when the River Plata overflowed and drove 10,000 persons in the capital from their homes. About 200 homeless children were given refuge in the presidential mansion.

Sect Expects War in Middle East April 22

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Members of the Davidians, a religious sect, gathered in force today with the expectation a major war will flare in the Middle East by April 22.

Mrs. V. T. Houtess, who serves on the order's ruling council, said 400 had registered, representing nearly every state and parts of Canada.

The Davidians are an estranged offshoot of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. Their leaders have advised them to sever earthly ties and sell all property they can't bring to national headquarters here in central Texas.

The Symbolic Code, a publication of the sect, has stated that war in the Middle East "will pit nation against nation and Christian against non-Christian ... after which the way will be open for those Christians who survive to establish the kingdom" of God in Jerusalem.

Say Senators Oppose Labor Bill Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor union sources said today they believe 55 senators will vote to prevent any major floor amendment to the Kennedy labor regulation bill.

These sources, declining to be quoted by name, have been keeping tabs on the Senate situation as the bill nears the showdown stage. The first vote is expected next Tuesday.

If their tally is correct, the bill is certain to be passed in the form it came to the floor. Fifty senators are a majority of the full Senate membership of 98.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) told the Senate Thursday AFL-CIO President George Meany was trying to dictate in "arrogant fashion" what sort of labor bill is passed.

Meany has said his organization will oppose the measure strongly if Congress eliminates a section containing changes in the Taft-Hartley law desired by labor.

Khrushchev 65 Today but There's No Hoopla

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev was 65 today, but there were no signs of any public celebrations.

The 50th, 60th and 70th birthdays of Soviet dignitaries are usually commemorated with newspaper editorials and other honors.

There also was no indication Khrushchev has returned to Moscow from a holiday on the Black Sea.

Hart Says State Ranks but 24th in Its Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) says Michigan is one of the fastest growing states in the nation but ranks 24th in spending.

Hart told the Women's National Democratic Club yesterday that only California and Florida were growing faster than Michigan.

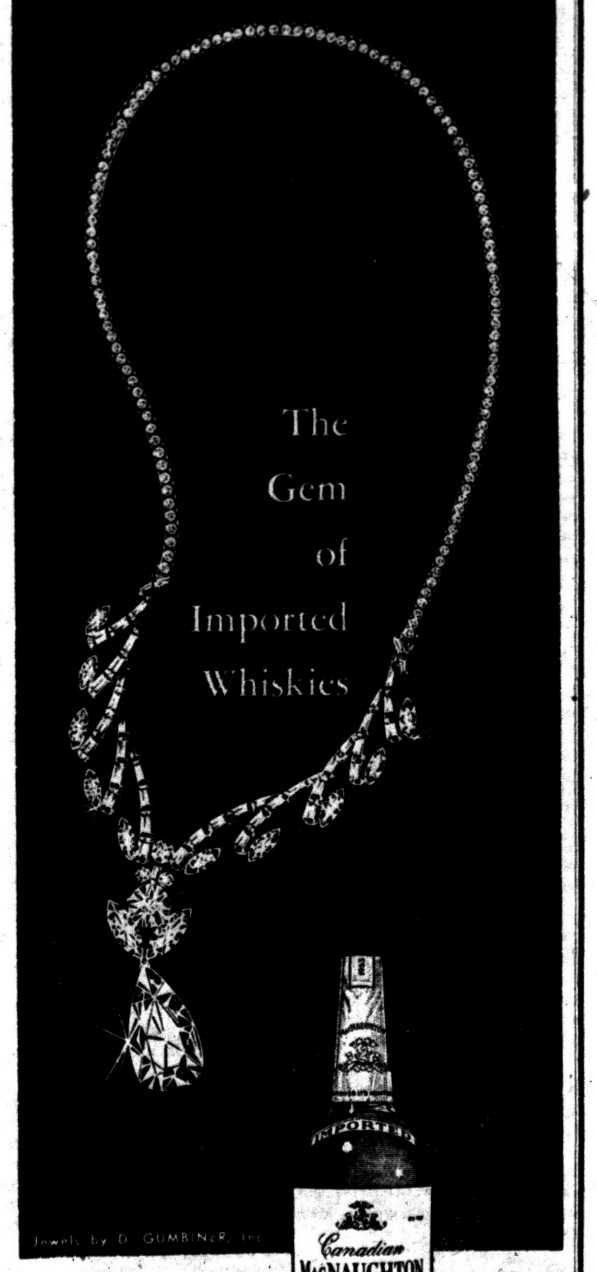

He said many of the reports that Michigan was spending itself into bankruptcy were untrue, adding that the state ranked 24th in spending and had a per capita debt of $220 in comparison to the national state average of $274.

Hart said Michigan spending may have increased from $500 million a year to $1 billion, but added that the spending of all states has increased five times since 1946.

In 57 years 159 million motor vehicles were produced.

Red Regime Betrayed Repatriated Hungarians

Following the 1956 Hungarian Revolution, the Communist Government tried to lure back the thousands who had fled the country. They were promised forgiveness and other inducements to return home.

Believing or wishing to believe, some did go back for various reasons. Among them was the natural desire to return to the homeland, inability to make a living, longing to be with their families or disappointment in their hopes for resettlement in the United States.

In a report to the Secretary General of the United Nations, ROGER BALDWIN, chairman of the League for the Rights of Man, tells what has happened to many of them. Complete with affidavits and other documents Mr. BALDWIN declares that some 6,000 of those who believed the Communist promises and returned to Hungary have been murdered, jailed or exiled to Soviet Siberia.

For a time they were used for propaganda purposes and were induced to tell lies about their treatment in the free world. When their usefulness to the Communist cause ended, they were punished for their escape to freedom. A few were fortunate enough to get out for a second time and from these comes the true picture of Communist betrayal.

Fans Outside Detroit Also Show Their Loyalty

We read a lot about Detroit's loyalty to its baseball team, regardless of its standing in the league.

No matter if the Tigers are proudly leading or reposing in the cellar, the attendance figures show it to be the best baseball town in the nation, assisted by thousands from its environs.

That is true sportsmanship, for which they are to be highly commended.

We're sure the real fans had no part in that opening day disgrace when a few nitwits couldn't resist the temptations of John Barleycorn who seemed to have Jack Frost in his corner.

But a boundless host of other good sports, outside of its limits, are helping Detroit to maintain and augment its reputation for loyalty to its team.

Although our readers had the players from all eight teams to choose from, they gave four of their five top places to Tigers, KUENN, KALINE, BRIDGES and BOLLING, placing MANTLE in third position.

Spring Check-up Will Add Life to Your Car

"Automobiles like people get spring fever," pointed out W. J. BUXTON, Oldsmobile's general service manager. After the long hard winter with more slush and ice to contend with than usual most cars have taken a beating.

Your car should be thoroughly checked and conditioned by experienced technicians. If the outside needs touching up to prevent rust, it should be taken care of.

Today's cars are capable of absorbing a great deal of punishment, but it is necessary for occasional checkups. A few suggestions for automobile maintenance follow:

1. Be sure the inspection includes a complete safety check-up.

2. Have wheel alignment and tires checked.

3. Have the car appearance reconditioned. This should include cleaning and waxing of standard paint finishes; paint re-touch, if necessary; and the restoration of chrome brightness.

Also if you are looking for fuel economy during the summer months, an engine tune-up should head your list. Like spring house cleaning, our cars fall in the same category.

A LOT of people believe the end justifies the means, particularly if the end assists in making ends meet.

Appeasers Rejoice as Dulles Quits

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — No resignation of a secretary of state in the last half-century has created the profound impression that has been made by the relinquishment of this high office by John Foster Dulles.

Not only has a strong man with an iron will departed from active duty—a man who stood stanchly on his convictions irrespective of partisan sniping at home and Communist opposition abroad — but the effect on American foreign policy is now a subject of world wide discussion.

To understand the significance of the change, it is important to report that the campaign to force Mr. Dulles out of office has been going on steadily for several years.

It has had some inspiration abroad, even in allied quarters which found the American secretary of state too "inflexible," and it has had considerable support from partisans in the Congress, particularly in the Senate, who have obtained headlines by their intermittent attacks on the secretary.

Today all is praise. The amenities and courtesies to the sick require it. But nobody should be deceived by the effusive comments from quarters that have tried to undermine Mr. Dulles. Some who are loudest in their laudatory eulogies are secretly rejoicing. They see a chance at last to turn the tide in their own direction—appeasement.

TERM RESENTED

Opponents of Mr. Dulles naturally resent the term "appeasement." They euphemistically describe their position as motivated by a desire to move American policy "off dead center." This is the school of thought which constantly calls for "bold and imaginative ideas" and "negotiations" and "summit conferences."

Even when, again and again, it is demonstrated that the men in the Kremlin are unscrupulous, the answer blandly given is that "at least after a summit conference, we shall know where we stand."

One wonders how many times America must be insulted and how many times her rights in Europe to defend free countries have to be flagrantly challenged — as, for instance, by the ultimatum over Berlin — before the appeasers will learn their lesson.

Today the secret, diabolical diplomacy of the Soviets that has weakened the Allies in the past is causing a strain among Western powers. Strong men like Dulles and Adenauer were too experienced to fall for the Communist tricks. So it is a question now what the newcomers in Washington and Bonn may bring.

President Eisenhower is the sole hope of the world today. He has for years benefited by the advice of John Foster Dulles. The President will not permit a deviation from the main positions hitherto taken, though perhaps he will find it more difficult to maintain allied solidarity than before because of the encouragement which policies of both pacifism and retreat will get in Europe now that Britain is once more yielding to the temptations of the appeasement doctrine.

As long as John Foster Dulles is not too sick to give advice, his influence will be felt at the White House, no matter who is at the head of the Department of State.

But it is to be noticed that, just as the outgoing secretary made bitter enemies and is loved for the way he fought his opposition, so anyone who succeeds him will find all acts and words minutely scrutinized to determine whether the appeasers in the West who are unwittingly helping the Communist stratagems are going to determine the course of allied policy.

It is a critical time in the history of the world. The danger of an atomic war arises far more from the appeasers than it does from those who courageously stand up to Communist treachery.

Aspirin Remedy Proves Arthritis Isn't Disease

"Quite a few years ago my husband, then in his fifties, started to have pains in his arms and hands which finally got so bad that he could hardly grasp the tools which he had to work with in his job.

DR. BRADY

"Following your advice, he finally got around to drinking not less than 1½ pints of milk a day, along with the other high calcium foods, plus a daily supplement of calcium wafers.

"In a comparatively short time he was freed from pain entirely, and now, in his sixties, he feels and looks ten years younger and works every day at his trade.

This guy sounds like a million others who have the rheumatis and a childish notion that what they need is (1) a change of climate, (2) the right medicine or perhaps some "shots" of the latest miracle medicine.

Of course they haven't rheumatiz. Their trouble is "arthritis"—they know, because the trick specialist told 'em so. And they're gullible enough to believe that "arthritis" is a specific disease which a competent physician can distinguish from ordinary joint disability of insidious development and long standing.

TITLE GIVE-AWAY

That no honest doctor can do so is manifest, I should say, in the official title of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation frankly stated in a bulletin released to the newspapers:

"Of all the diverse treatments prescribed for arthritis, aspirin and other salicylates are still regarded by the majority of arthritis specialists as producing the most relief on any sustained basis."

The trouble with the advice I offer people who have chronic joint disability—physical degeneration of joint tissues, which I call rheumatiz (not "rheumatism")—is that it is so simple. It is as simple as the cause of the disability—nutritional deficiency through the years.

If you believe your joints are not as limber as they should be or were a year or two ago, why not gamble 35 cents and a stamped envelope bearing your address, for my booklet "Chronic Joint Disability?"

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Why can't we taxpayers have our say about the present State situation? Maybe one of those coupons (such as used concerning Sunday work conditions at Christmas) could be used. Case Records of a Psychologist:

Look Ahead for Happy Marriage

Clara's case will make good discussion material for Sunday School classes this week-end. Should her mother take her in and help rear her second set of children? Or should Clara be made to face the music and pay for her own headstrong behavior? A lot of smart aleck young folks want to gamble with marriage and then let their parents pay the price for such mistakes. Is it fair?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-411: Clara C., aged 32, is an only child who has been married and divorced three times.

"Dr. Crane, Clara has always been spoiled and headstrong," her worried mother began.

DR. CRANE

"At the close of World War II, she married a G. I., who was still in service.

"My husband and I tried to reason with her and suggested she wait till he got back home.

"But she refused and went ahead with her wedding. They spent about six weeks together before he went back overseas. Soon she wrote him that she wanted a divorce, but we urged her to give her marriage a chance.

"At our insistence, she waited till he returned. They lived together at the base for a year and had a baby boy.

"But she then decided life was too dull with her husband, so got her first divorce and left the baby boy with us.

"Two years later she married a man in the Navy, but this marriage also ended in divorce.

"Now she is married to a third man who is a chronic drinker. He leaves a trail of beer cans wherever he goes. They have two children. She has brought them back home to us, and says she wants to live here from now onward.

"But we have told her she has made her bed so she can lie on it.

"We have tied ourselves down for a dozen years with her son by the first marriage, and that is enough. So we are sending her back to her drunken husband.

"We told her she refused to follow our advice not just once, but three times.

"She thought we were old fogies and killjoys. She knew it all. But each time she found out we were right and she had been wrong.

"Now, like many modern young people, she thinks she can still come back home and let her long-suffering parents shoulder the hard work and financial obligations for her own folly.

"But I have laid down the law to her and told her to go back home. It is her responsibility, not ours.

"Dr. Crane, do you think I have been too hardboiled with her? We tried to rear her properly, but she always tried to have her own way.

"Her daddy and I are now past 60 years of age and I feel we are not obligated to rear the various children she has by her numerous husbands."

TEENAGERS BEWARE

High school and college young people, note well. Here is a case that is all too typical today.

For happy marriage is a difficult job. And it includes far more than moonlight and dancing skill on the part of a glamorous partner.

It involves cash on the line every payday for rent and grocery bills.

Some of you think that a down payment on a jalopy is all you need to get married.

Millions of young folks are now driving cars which they call their own, yet the finance company owns 75 per cent of those same cars.

And the finance companies will crack down and take back the cars if the youthful egotists at the wheel fail to meet their payments regularly.

Be smart and rate before you date. Look far ahead if you want to avoid the messy life that Clara has caused for herself and her two sets of children. Indeed, she is penalizing those children because of her own stupidity.

So send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Rate before you marry. And let your friends rate your sweetheart thereon, too. Get outside advice.

Douglas Says Nation Is Strong

High Court Justice Believes U.S. Able to Stand Rebels

NEW YORK (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas says the United States "can afford a lot of rebels, radicals and nonconformists" because the nation is strong and fundamentally sound.

Douglas spoke Thursday at a luncheon at which a special George Polk Memorial Award was presented to him by Long Island University for distinguished achievement in the field of journalism in 1958.

The award, a bronze plaque, was given Douglas for his book "The Right of the People," an interpretation of the meaning of the First Amendment. He was cited for dedication to freedom "reminiscent of the spirit that led to the formation and structure of our government."

In his address, Douglas hit at what he termed the witch hunts of the 1940s. He cited Thomas Jefferson as saying men never should be persecuted or prosecuted for ideas, only for actions.

Although the American people sometimes appeared to be hysterical, Douglas said, "conditions which give rise to revolution and communism in other countries do not exist here."

The university's department of journalism established the George Polk Awards in 1948 in memory of the Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent slain in Greece that year. The award to Douglas was one of 11 granted this year.

$1 Billion Yearly Waste Is Claim

Daily Paper Consumption by Business Very Costly

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The paper mountain that business climbs daily may be costing it a billion dollars a year more than it should because much of it is wasteful and unnecessary.

Many give advice on how to cut this loss—what paperwork is necessary and what not, how much to file and for how long, systems that cut work and machines that trim the force of clerical workers, and business forms that save time and effort.

Business is estimated to use about 1½ billion pounds of paper a year in various printed forms, plus billions more in stationery, memoranda, note pads and folders.

One specialist says he often found four or more persons filling out business records which easily could be made by one in a single writing. He is Talbot T. Speer, president and chairman of Baltimore Business Forms Co. He contends that half of every dollar spent by business in paperwork is wasted, for a total of a billion dollars annually.

Others have guessed that 90 million cubic feet of paper records, weighing more than 2¾ billion pounds, and involving 200 billion pieces, are created each year, directly or indirectly, by and for the nation's industrial and government employes. This is divided into one cubic foot of paper work for each industrial workers, and five cubic feet for each government employe.

Right forms for individual firm's needs and right systems for using and filing them, Speer says, could cut waste and loss. He adds: "By saving $100 in operating costs, the average small firm benefits as much as by getting an additional $4,000 in net sales."

A strong trend today is sighted toward simplification of records and toward automation—both mechanical and manual.

Punched card installations in the nation are estimated now at 30,000, nearly double that of five years ago, and digital general purpose computers at more than 2,500.

The Business Forms Institute says producers' sales last year equaled the 1957 record of 350 million dollars and expects them to set a new one this year.

An estimated 75 cents of every dollar a consumer spends for pork goes for cuts that make up somewhat less than one-half the hog's live weight.

Vets Fund Action Dangles

LANSING (AP) — Veterans trust fund legislation for pushing back the state from the brink of general fund insolvency was on ice for the weekend today.

When the decision is taken, only four days will remain until April 24, mentioned in ominous tones by Gov. Williams last Tuesday.

If the bills reach him after then, the governor said, "we have no guarantee as to what will happen" in the state's cash emergency.

The committee did not come to grips yesterday with the problem of whether the bills should be put to the big test in their present form or in the form approved by the House.

The House approved mortgaging the 50 million dollar fund, with transfer of the bulk of securities to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University for use as collateral in negotiating bank borrowings.

Comedian's Daughter Jailed for Dope Use

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — The daughter of the late comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns is in jail for narcotics addiction.

Barbara Burns, 21, surrenered Thursday to serve a 90-day sentence. She had been a fugitive since Dec. 12 when she failed to keep a court date.

Boy Tossed Around on Elephant's Trunk

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Eight-year-old John Foster took a free ride on an elephant Thursday at the Florissant Meadows shopping district. When he got off, the animal grabbed him and bounced him on the pavement several times.

Elephant trainer Willard G. Biting struck the animal with a hook and the elephant promptly released John from his trunk.

"I was plenty scared," commented John, who was unhurt.

In feed value for livestock 100 pounds of potatoes equals 100 pounds of corn silage, 22 pounds of shelled corn or 35 pounds of alfalfa hay.

Exception to Rule

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—Although most taxes go up and stay up, old newspapers here show there are exceptions. The dog tax in 1899 was $1.50 plus 2 cents for the manufacture of a tag. Today it is $1.

What Next? Cucumber Is Not Cool!

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Is a cucumber really cool? Does anyone actually get warm as toast? Are a redhead's lips as hot as song and fable tell us.

To find the answers to such questions a test-engineering team, with a newsman's help, applied scientific know-how to many a familiar saying and analogy.

It was done with devices for taking temperatures in all sorts of places.

Put to serious purposes, the tester is a boon to business and industry. It was developed by Leeds and Northrup Co., makers of electrical goods.

Tests showed a cucumber was anything but cool as the old saw suggests. Inside it tested at 68.9 degrees, its skin 71.6.

Nobody could be as warm as toast is at first — 167 degrees. Within a few minutes, the temperature drops to 78 or 79, but veteran countermen say that isn't what's meant by warm toast.

Ever wonder just how hot that news is rolling fresh and fragrant off the presses? Typical ront page temperature was 82. This was 8 to 10 degrees above room temperature.

As for a redhead's lips, a sampling taken outdoors on a mild day fluttered to only 92 degrees. The cold shoulder that a model gave was 95.7, identical with the collar temperature of a taxi driver before he headed into traffic in a congested area. After about a half hour's driving, the cabbie was only slightly hot under the collar. His steam had gone to 95.9.

The hottest jazz that a radio station could play was somewhat less than a scorching 85. A cold chisel tested in an unheated hardware store was 74.3, a bit less than a degree warmer than straight vodka taken in a bar where the mercury averaged 76.

The hottest mustard going was 68, exactly what it was in a suburban cooler, or jail. A green pepper served as a relish was 67.1; a red one 68.9, evidently proving that red does attract and hold heat more than other colors except black. Both had been in the same place for the same time.

All efforts to test a cool million ailed. The bankers were too conservative.

Hayden Children in Good Shape, Says Doctor

Dr. Garvey appeared in Marin County Superior Court Thursday to answer charges of child-stealing which Hayden's ex-wife Betty De Noon Hayden filed against the entire crew after Hayden sailed the Wanderer to Tahiti in defiance of a court order.

Dr. Garvey told Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich he was no aware of the court order when the Wanderer sailed from nearby Sausalito.

The charges against him were dismissed.

Soviet Ballet Maestro Finds Brother Here

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP).—Two Soviet brothers who have not seen each other in 45 years were reunited by telephone Thursday and may meet in person this weekend.

Myron C. Faier, manager of the Jaymar Hotel here, talked with his brother Yuri Faier, conductor of the famed Bolshoi ballet in New York, by telephone and said he hoped to go to New York Sunday.

Myron, 66, said he had not seen or heard from Yuri since 1914, and added: "He thought I was dead." Yuri is 68.

"I had some more good news," Myron said after the telephone conversation. "My sister Bertha and another brother, Alexander, are still alive and living in Moscow. I had thought I would never hear about any of them again."

Myron, who left the Soviet Union in 1922 and is now an American citizen, said he had to talk to Yuri mostly through an interpreter.

"He doesn't know English," Myron said. "I've been in this country so long he doesn't understand my Russian."

Myron said that during the telephone conversation, Yuri kept telling him in Russian, "I kiss you. I kiss you."

Myron said he had his first inkling that Yuri was alive and famous when he saw his picture in a New York newspaper a year and a half ago.

Ike Plays 36 Holes, Most Since 1955

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower once must have wondered whether he ever would be able to golf again. Now he's up to 36 holes in a single day.

It happened Thursday. As far as newsmen know, it's the most he has played in one day since his heart attack in 1955.

On Sept. 23, 1955, the day before he suffered a heart attack in Denver, Eisenhower played 27 holes of golf. He has played 27 a least a couple of times since then to newsmen's knowledge, but his daily maximum usually is 18 holes.

Pershing's Staff Car Donated to West Point

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP)—The 42-year-old staff car used by Gen. John J. Pershing in France in World War I has been donated to the U.S. Military Academy by Daniel Parker of Janesville.

Parker said he has received a letter of acceptance from West Point authorities and that the car will be on permanent exhibit in the academy's museum.

Will Plow Up 'Virgin Lands'

Soviets to Till Mongolia

By The Associated Press

The Soviet government has extended its program to plow up the vast "virgin lands" of Asia into satellite Outer Mongolia, located between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

A Tass report in Pravda a few days ago announced that the first batch of Soviet farm equipment specialists had arrived in Ulan Bator, the Mongolian capital, to help in putting untilled land under cultivation.

They have a lot of work ahead of them—750,000 acres of grazing country on the Outer Mongolian plains to be put under cultivation by 1961.

It is not clear whether the new program involves the settlement of Russians on the new state farms. The virgin lands drive in the Soviet Union—in operation for five years—has as one of its aims the permanent settlement of European Russians and Ukrainians on Asian lands. One purpose seemed to be to fill up the expanses of Soviet Asia with Russians as a deterrent to the hundreds of millions of Chinese who might be tempted by the empty spaces next door.

This could also be a goal in Outer Mongolia.

'Burgers Sold Better Than Hot Dogs at Fair

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—The bakery that supplied rolls and buns to the U.S. Pavilion restaurant at the Brussels World's Fair found that hamburgers were more popular than hot dogs.

Arnold Bakers reported that almost three-quarters of a million hamburgers were devoured by visitors to the Fair, compared with only a half-million hot dogs.

Civil Defense Test Due Today

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A make-believe nuclear attack today will test civil defense preparedness in the nation.

Here's what is slated for varying periods in soe areas:

New York City — All but emergency traffic stops.

Savannah, Ga. — School youngsters go by leased vehicles to rail loading points.

New Orleans — Squadron of 50 boats takes part in evacuation from waterfront.

The activity will be the first phase of Operation Alert 1959—the sixth annual nationwide civil defense training drill. The alert will last two days.

Federal civil defense officials figured millions of people in more than 500 communities were taking part.

The various programs were to be triggered by alerts sent over the attack warning system manned by the Office of Civil ad Defense Mobilization.

The phase affecting most Americans involves an emergency broadcasting test.

From 11:30 a.m., EST, until noon, all the nation's FM radio and TV stations go off the air as well as more than 2,600 AM radio stations which are not members of the Conelrad system. Conelrad stands for control of electromagnetic radiation to deny navigation guidance to enemy weapons.

Some 1,200 AM stations which are members of the system sign off their regular programs at 11:30 and imediately return to the air on the Conelrad frequencies of 640 and 1240 with special programs.

Oh, I Forgot, He Says

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A clerk at the Civic Center was reported missing by his supervisor after a four-day absence from his job and apartment. It turned out he wasn't missing; he'd just hopped a Naval Reserve flight to Alaska and back and forgot to mention it.

Retired AF General Urges 'First Blow'

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—A retired Air Force general says America can't afford to let the enemy land the first punch in an atomic war.

Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker (ret.) told a United Service Organization awards dinner: "In the days of chivalry, it was all right to allow the adversary to strike his opponent across the face with his glove as a challenge to combat. I suspect, however, that such a custom never would have been popular if the glove knocked the knight's head off."

Eaker said he hopes the nation's retaliation policy includes "launching our Strategic Air Force when Russian intent becomes clearly offensive, but before their nuclear bombs are launched and headed our way . . . The best, the safest place to destroy enemy atomic bomb carriers is on enemy bases before they are launched."

Morse Code Pays Off

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—A 16-year-old youth has found that it pays to know the Morse code.

David Camp was locked inside a building that had no door to the outside or a telephone.

He began blinking the overhead lights in a distress signal.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

Music critics will never run out of material to criticize, since one of the rarest products of our advanced age is an LP album that is perfect.

Perfection in a recorded performance lies in separate factors, in themselves superb, being molded into a "oneness" that emerges as a flawless product, as a superb painting is the product of an artist's many talents.

This has been accomplished in a new World Pacific LP, "Annie Ross Sings a Song With Mulligan" (WP-1253). The greatness of this album lies in how well Miss Ross and Mulligan's quartet (with Chet Baker) complement each other.

I am of the opinion that Miss Ross has really made it with this LP. Her occasional earlier record performances are dwarfed by this. Mulligan and Baker and Ross and World Pacific have given us the most exciting performance to hit record stores in several years.

This does not fall into the pit that so-called "all-star" performances do, offering listeners star performers performing seperately but not playing together.

Second place is held by "Sea Cruise" (Frankie Ford). Third spot goes to "Guitar Boogie Special" (The Virtues). Fourth spot is taken by "Come Softly to Me" (The Fleetwood) and in fifth place is "So Fine" (The Fiestas).

Easy On the LP Ears: For a few Columbia LPs of interest try "Porgy and Bess" (CL-1274) by Miles Davis with Gil Evans' Orch.; "Jazz From Peter Gunn" (CL-1319) by the Joe Wilder Quartet; "What Is There to Say" (CL-1307) by the Gerry Mulligan Quartet; and "Happy Session" (CL-1324) by Benny Goodman's Orchestra with Andre Previn and Russ Freeman.

Winglemire Family Honored

HOLLY — In the first occasion of its kind in local history, the Winglemire family was honored at a banquet Thursday evening in the multipurpose room of the Holly Elementary School.

Sponsored by the Holly Board of Commerce, the dinner celebrated the centennial of the family in business here, and was attended by 184 persons.

Congratulatory messages were received from Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Congressman William S. Broomfield and others.

Joe Brady of Howell was master of ceremonies, and was introduced by Board President E. C. Gudith, who had appointed Paul Dryer, Raymond E. Addis, Aram Krikorian and William G. Wheeler as a committee in charge.

Eulogizer Chairman Addis was assisted by the three other members of the committee, also by Robert B. Wheeler, Robert S. Brummeler, Jacob L. Grim, Louis Fegelman and Joe Haas, the latter having known all five generations of the family.

Music was provided by the Tom Katz Quartette, the invocation by the Rev. William Lankton and benediction by the Rev. Cyril Rancourt.

The Furniture Store was established here by Joseph Winglemire in 1858. It passed down to his sons and grandson, Maurice, who died in 1943, leaving it to his widow, who has since conducted it, taking their son, Donald, into partnership on his return from World War II. They now have stores in Holly and Fenton.

Work to Start on New Bridge

Grand River Avenue Merchants Hail Link That'll Reopen Street

It will be like a dream about to come true next Friday when merchants in a three-county area around South Lyon gather for ground breaking ceremonies for a new $180,000 bridge slated to reopen the old Grand River avenue.

Gregory R. Anderson, president of the Greater Grand River Area Business Assn., said his group had fought for a year or so for construction of the new bridge which will replace the old Grand River bridge over the Huron River near Kensington Park.

"Since the expressway was opened our merchants have been handicapped since a one mile stretch of the old Grand River was closed hurting our businesses," Anderson said.

"Now things will open up again with the completion of the new bridge which will re-open this closed section," he added.

The bridge, consisting of two 24-foot lanes, is being constructed by the State Highway Dept. Completion is expected in October.

Members of the association, the Oakland County Road Commission and State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie are expected to take part in the 3 p.m. ceremony April 24 at the new bridge site, Anderson said.

Connie's Bond Set at $10,000

Hopes to Leave Prison as Appeal Procedure Gets Under Way

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Connie Nicholas hoped to leave the Indiana women's prison on appeal bond today for her first freedom since her married sweetheart was shot to death last July 31.

She was whisked to the prison Thursday half an hour after her manslaughter sentence of 2 to 21 years was pronounced.

Since the fatal shooting of Forrest Teel, 54-year-old business executive who was her lover for 15 years until he jilted her for a new girl friend, her time had been spent in a detention room at General Hspital, the Marion County jail, and in court during the monthlong trial.

The 45-year-old twice-divorced secretary showed deep irritation when her lawyers did not apply for appeal bond at her sentencing. Afterward she conferred with them in a closed court office and they applied for bond as she was being taken to the prison.

Judge Thomas J. Faulconer set the appeal bond at $10,000, over defense protests that the usual bond on a manslaughter conviction was half that amount.

In Oakland County

Ex-Marines Form Unit

The newly-formed Marine Corps Detachment of Northeastern Oakland County will hold its monthly meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday in the American Legion Hall in Lake Orion.

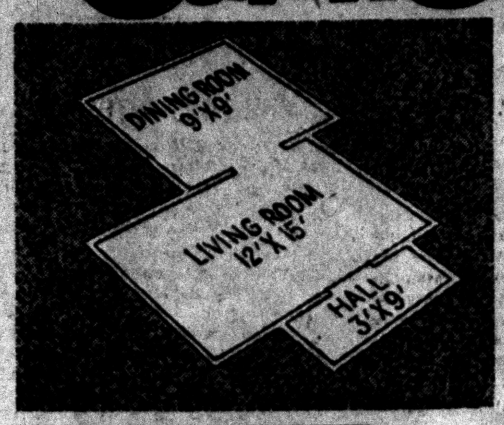

Melvin Curtis of Oxford, commandant, urges all members and all ex-Marines who would like to join the corps to be present at this session.

The charter has been left open for new memberships until after the forthcoming meeting. The corps was formed in January and received its charter the following month.

To become a member an ex-Marine need not be a veteran of any war but should be interested in working with others from the same branch of the service on worthwhile community projects, Curtis said.

He added that an honor guard and firing squad will be formed to take part in funeral or any other military function whenever they are needed.

Others Nabbed in City Await Hearings

4 Sentenced on Dope Count

Three admitted narcotics peddlers in Pontiac were sentenced to prison, another changed his plea to innocent and a fifth was placed on probation for five years in Oakland County Circuit Court this morning.

They were among six nabbed in a Valentine's Day raid by Pontiac Police vice officers after a month-long probe into the illegal sale of dope in the city.

Sentenced to Jackson Prison by Judge H. Russel Holland were William Barksdale Jr., 21, of Royal Oak Township, 5-10 years; Willie Halliburton, 38, of 253 Bondale St., 5-10 years; and James Dooley, 30, of 38 Chapman St., 2-10 years.

Placed on probation and assessed $500 in court costs was Lorenza Farrar, 45, of 196 S. Saginaw St.

Booker Gay, 25, of 325 Branch St., changed his plea from guilty to innocent and was remanded back to Pontiac Municipal Court for examination. His $500 bond was continued by Judge Holland.

The sixth man grabbed in the Feb. 14 raid, Barksdale's father, William, 44, of 10689 Foxton Ct., Royal Oak Township, is awaiting trial on a charge of selling narcotics. He stood mute to the charge March 2. He is free on a $1,000 bond.

The men sentenced this morning also had stood mute to this charge, which carries a minimum 20-year sentence upon conviction, but last month pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of possession of narcotics.

Judge Holland in placing Farrar on probation reprimanded him for allowing his companions to use his place of business for peddling of narcotics.

Child Found Drunk, Father Is Arrested

DETROIT (AP) — An unemployed suburban Wayne man whose young son was found intoxicated in the family car was held today for investigation of cruelty to children.

Alexander, Martin, 33, was taken into custody yesterday when police found his son, Allen, 4, in the car with his brother Paul, 3.

Officers said Allen apparently had drunk from a bottle of whisky in the car. He was taken to a hospital for treatment.

Bandits Hold Up Southfield Store

Take $750 in Cash and Several Weapons in Daring Robbery

Two men browsed at the Epps Sporting Goods Store, 27661 Northwestern Highway, Southfield, Thursday afternoon for 30 minutes before chaining eight employes and customers together and robbing the store of $720 cash plus $563 worth of guns.

The daring daylight robbery took place shortly after 2:30, Redford State Police said. Employes said the two men, who looked enough alike to be twins, browsed around the store for a half hour before asking to look at some guns in a locked gun cabinet.

Everard Taylor, assistant manager, told officers he opened the case. One of the men asked to look at a blue steel detectives pistol and started to load it.

The other pulled out a pistol from under his tan checkered sport coat and said to Taylor: "Now look, I'm not kidding, I'm serious. Don't make a move. I don't want to kill you. Stay calm and do what I say."

Max Shubiner, manager of the store, told troopers the men then rounded up all employes in the store along with several customers, making them stand in a group in the center of the store.

"Then they made me open the safe while covering the others with a shotgun they had ordered Taylor to load at gunpoint," Shubiner said.

The men, described as heavily built with dark complexions and dark curly hair, tried to open a cash register but decided against it, officers said.

Shubiner told police the bandits took four pistols, a shotgun, and a rifle, then wrapped a chain around the eight persons standing in a group.

One went out to warm up the car and the other followed. Police said the men were driving a late model black and red Plymouth or Dodge. Both were described as being from 30 to 38 years old.

MSUO Parley Considers Adult

Specialists to Discuss the 'Alumni University' Concept of Education

A new concept in continuing education — the "Alumni University" — will be introduced and discussed Saturday at a seminar on continuing education at Michigan State University Oakland.

Five of the nation's outstanding specialists in adult education will meet on the MSUO campus to tackle this basic question:

"With your knowledge and experience in the field of adult education, how would you organize a continuing education program at this new institution to meet the needs of our adult community?"

Comprising the panel will be Dr. Paul A. McGhee, dean of the Division of General Education, New York University; Robert Blakely, vice president, Fund for Adult Education; Mrs. Bonaro Overstreet, author and lecturer; Dr. Harry Overstreet, author and lecturer, and Dr. Cyril O. Houle, professor of adult education, University of Chicago.

The "Alumni University," a fresh approach to continuing education, would provide systematic, organized educational experiences throughout life built around the graduates' professional, personal and cultural needs.

"These needs would be decided in conjunction with the graduates' employers, families and social groups," said Dr. Lowell Eklund, MSUO continuing education director.

Other questions to be considered by the panel include:

Is it practical to require an academic department to commit itself to serving the life-long educational need of its graduates?

How can MSUO effectively enlist the support of business, industry and other occupational agencies in the "Alumni University" setup?

How can MSUO effectively marshal all of its appropriate resources of the university in support of this program?

The ideas brought forth at the day-long session may well form the basic philosophy for the continuing education program at the new center of learning, Eklund said.

This will be the fifth seminar devoted to exploring various aspects of university organization and philosophy held at MSUO which will open its doors to a freshman class of 600 in September.

Previous seminars considered new approaches to curricula in the areas of engineering science, teacher education, business administration and liberal arts.

Macmillan Needs Union

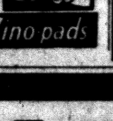

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told a labor union audience last night he didn't understand why labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell is so eager to get his job. "Ten Downing Street is nothing but a sweat shop," Macmillan said with a smile.

A missionary explains what his work is like: "It's like being a mosquito in a nudist colony — there's so much to do you don't know where to start." . . . Avondale Teacher Honored

By LEE WINBORN

AVON TOWNSHIP—No one could have been more surprised at being named the subject of a "This Is Your Life"-type program than Mrs. Eva Yarger was last night.

Mrs. Yarger, veteran administrator in the Avondale School District, was honored at the Stone-Auburn Heights Schools PTA meeting at the Stone School for her many years in the teaching profession locally.

Master of ceremonies was Mrs. Maureen Lewis, fifth grade teacher at Stone School. PTA President Mrs. Marvin L. Norris escorted Mrs. Yarger to the chair of honor in front of the room.

Mrs. Yarger, who is 55, was visibly touched as she heard the memorable events of her life recalled by Mrs. Lewis.

Beginning with the year 1927, the narrator recounted the era during which Mrs. Yarger was the teacher in the "Little Stone School" located on the corner of Adams road and South boulevard.

Then she was "teacher—superintendent—principal—custodian and bell ringer," Mrs. Lewis related. As she did so, she produced the bell Mrs. Yarger had used to call the children in from play and to warn them classes were about to start.

RECEIVED BELL

It was the same bell which was engraved and given to Mrs. Yarger by the Avondale Board of Education about a year ago in recognition of her service to the school district.

From the old Stone School, the honoree became teacher-principal at Stiles School.

Mrs. Yarger gave up her teaching post a short time later to raise a family. She and her husband Ralph have two children—Idamae, a special education teacher in the Pontiac school system, and a son Sam, a college honor student.

Called back to teach in the new Stone School, Mrs. Yarger remembers vividly her first day back on the job. As told by the narrator, she was met by a young boy who informed her that the children had rid themselves of a couple of teachers already and she'd better not unpack her books because she "wouldn't be there long."

The boy, now the father of five children of his own, is Lawrence Clason who was in the audience last night.

As their names were called, past and present PTA presidents gathered around Mrs. Yarger to watch Mrs. William Porter, president of the East Oakland County PTA Council, present a life membership in PTA to the honoree.

In addition, Mrs. Lewis gave Mrs. Yarger a pin and earring set from the Stone-Auburn Heights PTA. As principal of the two schools, Mrs. Yarger works closely with their joint PTA.

In accepting the honors, Mrs. Yarger, almost speechless by the turn of events, said, "I'm not very good at surprises—I had no idea I was the 'special guest' who was supposed to appear tonight."

British Envoy Says Dulles Will Be Missed

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — British diplomat Sir Frank Roberts says the West will miss former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the foreign ministers conference in Geneva May 11.

Expect Arctic Search for Space Capsule

BODOE AIR BASE, Northern Norway (AP)—a small fleet of U.S. Air Force planes was expected to start an arctic search today for the space capsule ejected from the satellite Discoverer II.

Lt. Col. J. C. B. Ebbesen of the Norwegian air force said the hunt would concentrate on the sea and ice around the Spitsbergen Archipelago 400 miles north of Norway.

Military authorities refused to let newsmen talk to the crews of the American planes arriving at this Norwegian base beyond the Arctic Circle. They came from U.S. bases in Germany and Britain.

Informed sources at the World Congress of Flight in Las Vegas, Nev., said the capsule apparently landed off a Norwegian island in the arctic — presumably Spitsbergen. The capsule was supposed to float.

Discoverer II, launched Monday from California, ejected the capsule Tuesday. Original plans to catch the cone in the air over the Hawaiian Islands failed.

College of Surgeons Looking Into Conduct of Dr. Sullenberger

The American College of Surgeons has asked for permission to examine Dr. Sullenberger's medical records on file at the hospital.

The hospital's Board of Trustees reacted favorably to the request last night and is expected to draft a favorable answer Monday.

In a letter to the Board, Dr. George W. Stephenson, assistant director of ACS, said an investigation is being considered that could lead to a possible hearing at which Dr. Sullenberger's fellowship in the ACS would be subject to revocation.

Revocation would probably not interfere with the 43-year-old surgeon's right to practice surgery, but it would be interpreted as a new blow to his professional standing.

William P. Babcock, assistant chairman of the Pontiac General Board, stipulated that the ACS be advised that Pontiac General had never passed judgment on the surgeon's professional qualifications.

Stephenson said that ACS attention had been drawn to the Sullenberger case by the wide publicity it received last year.

Dr. Sullenberger was ousted by the Board of Trustees following a long hearing at which he was charged with personal misconduct "detrimental to the efficient operation of the hospital."

The charges were brought by the hospital's medical staff.

Eighteen months ago, the Board temporarily suspended the surgeon from the hospital staff on recommendation of other staff members and Carl I. Flath, former Pontiac General director.

Dr. Sullenberger promptly brought suit for reinstatement and $250,000 in compensation for damage to his professional reputation.

In answer, Flath charged Dr. Sullenberger with professional misconduct in at least 25 of his cases, in six of which the patients died.

Dr. Sullenberger in turn denied the charges, claiming he was being "railroaded" out of the hospital, and one of Pontiac's most sensational chancery cases was on.

The battle came to an abrupt halt May 11, 1957 when Circuit Judge Timothy Quinn of Caro tossed the suit out of Circuit Court on technical grounds—namely that Dr. Sullenberger had brought his suit prematurely, without first exhausting all grievance procedures set up for him under the hospital's rules and regulations.

Covering 3 Eras in 1 Will Pose Problems

Press Officials See Multi-Age Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merging of the industrial, atomic and space ages in the next 10 years will confront the American press with unprecedented problems, a panel of five newspaper officials agreed today.

The five pictures, for 400 fellow editors at the opening of the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, these trends in their industry:

Grave difficulties in finding reporters with the talent and training to write readably and responsibly of global economic, social and scientific changes.

Increasing competition for the reader's time from other media—television, radio and news magazines.

Rising costs, probably leading to higher prices for newspapers.

A probable increase in the number of small suburban newspapers specializing in news of the communities where big city commuters live.

Editor's Note: Attending the sessions are Pontiac Press Publisher Harold A. Fitzgerald and Editor John W. Fitzgerald.)

Oveta Culp Hobby, president of the Houston Post, said that "to produce a readable newspaper in these years ahead, one that will enlighten and not confuse, will be a difficult task." Mrs. Hobby, former secretary of health, education and welfare, was moderator of the panel.

DEPLORES MERGERS

Alicia Patterson, editor and publisher of Newsday, Garden City, L. I., deplored the trend toward elimination of newspaper competition in major cities.

She voiced hope that new publishing techniques would reverse the cost trend that make more mergers seem inevitable. She also concurred with Roy Roberts, president and editor of the Kansas City Star, that newspapers must attract better educated reporters.

Roberts suggested that journalism schools establish a special six-month course of training "just for the coverage of the 10 years ahead."

Charles E. Scripps, board chairman of Scripps-Howard newspapers, told the editors they must find out more about what their readers want if newspapers are to match the progress of news magazines and the broadcasting media.

"It's not just enough to let the people know," Scripps said. "The people also want to understand."

Panelists offered a variety of suggestions to recruit capable young talent—going after top-ranking college graduates, putting job applicants through examinations, and improving the quality of journalism schools.

But John S. Knight, president of Knight Newspapers, said he had a simpler proposal:

"I suggest that newspapers raise the rate of pay to the men they're trying to induce into the business."

A doubt that newspapers are providing sufficient international news was voiced from the floor by Lester Markel, Sunday editor of the New York Times.

Rome Marks 2 Million

ROME (AP) — A proud father rushed to the city registry office to report the birth of his child Thursday and brought Rome's population to two million. Most historians agree ancient Rome had a population of about two million nearly two thousand years ago.

Grass and brush fires on the open range in U. S. burn more than an average of 250,000 acres annually.

Hospital Eyes Job Completion

Hopes to Know Shortly When Remodeled Area Can Be Put to Use

A new target date in the Pontiac General Hospital expansion program may be in sight next month.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, said that contractors may know by then how soon the hospital's east wing will be remodeled sufficiently to open up about 90 beds on its still-vacant third and fourth floors.

With the revenue producing beds in operation, the hospital's budget should take a healthy swing in the direction of a balanced operation, Euler has predicted.

Remodeling of the east wing into a patient area with a net total of 115 beds was delayed seven months because of unexpected repairs involving the wing's old heating, lighting and plumbing installations.

Repairs finally got under way in March and during the first month, Euler said, the hospital spent only $26,598 since replacements, so far, have been kept down.

It is the cost of replacements that threatens to push the cost of repairs to an estimated $350,000-$400,000.

It has been estimated that the repairs and remodeling will be finished by the end of the year, but the hospital wants to move into the third and fourth floors as soon as possible.

Although the hospital addition completed last year has a net 225 beds, it was not designed to operate profitably by itself.

The east wing remodeling was supposed to be completed last year, but because it wasn't the hospital had serious financial troubles.

One result, according to a Blue Cross survey, is that Pontiac General's per patient day costs last year were the highest of the 17 large hospitals in the southeastern Michigan area.

According to the Blue Cross cost formula, Pontiac General's costs were $40.23, while the average among the 16 other hospitals was $34.67.

Euler said Pontiac General expects to pull its costs down as soon as the expansion program is finished. He said the hospital figures its costs last year were $41.22 a day, even higher than the Blue Cross figure.

This is largely because the hospital takes bad debts into account when figuring its costs while Blue Cross doesn't, Euler said.

McNamara Sights Upturn for State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) sees an encouraging upturn in the economic situation in Michigan.

The Detroit Democrat said yesterday there has been a pick-up there in the last 60 days, and added that "the state had gained 600 million dollars worth of new industry in the first three months of 1959."

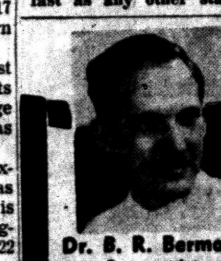

McNamara said Michigan still suffers from tremendous unemployment but said he feels the state will "snap out of it as fast as any other state."

AF Might Get Polaris Missile

Joint Chiefs Consider Merits of Giving SAC Control of Sub Weapon

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ammunition was at hand today for another rousing feud between the Navy and the Air Force.

Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy disclosed that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are thinking about putting the Navy's Polaris submarine-missile weapon system under operational control of the Air Force's Strategic Air Command.

McElroy told a news conference Thursday he had not yet been notified of a decision by the chiefs of the armed services.

Strategic warfare is at the heart of the controversy.

In the past the Navy and Air Force have wrangled over strategic warfare, as distinguished from tactical operations against ships planes or troops of an enemy. A decade ago they argued over big carriers and B36 heavy bombers. That issue was settled by building both.

The Polaris missile, to be launched from nuclear-powered submarines, is a strategic weapon. Its warhead will be hydrogen explosive designed to destroy enemy industrial regions and other targets far inland.

Destruction of strategic targets is primarily the function of SAC, the Air Force contends, but the Navy already has made inroads into the strategic field. Its big carriers built since World War II, launch heavy planes which can carry nuclear weapons to strategic targets.

Nine Polaris-launching submarines are being built or are authorized for building with the first ones expected to be ready next year. The Navy has definite plans for another half dozen and hopes for still more.

Machine Steps High

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP)—The marching feet spectators hear when the Cheboygan High School band goes by aren't feet at all. Lee J. Uldrych, band director, has devised a machine which adds the sound of marching feet in the percussion section. It has 80 graduated pegs mounted on a sounding board and topped by a strip of leather.

TO HOLD SPACE FAIR — "Journey Into Space" is the theme of the Waterford Center School fair set for 4:30 to 9 p. m. Saturday. Dale Matteson, Sharon Sands, Mrs. William Krause and general chairman Mrs. Russell Graham check one of the signs that will direct fair-goers to such activities as silhouettes, game rooms, movies, a country store, toy shop, snackbar and pony rides. Proceeds will be used to purchase library books and Civil Defense blackout curtains for the school.

Doctors to Talk With Flint Slayer

FLINT (AP)—Two psychiatrists will examine a 14-year-old boy who has admitted beating and knifing a neighbor woman to death.

Genesee County Probate Judge William E. Doran yesterday named Drs. A. T. Rehn, superintendent of the Lapeer State Home and Training School, and R. A. Jaarsma, of Flint, to examine Gerald Carlson of nearby Mount Morris Township.

They were instructed to report their findings at a hearing April 27.

Carlson appeared before Doran yesterday and admitted he stabbed and beat Mrs. Patricia Dixon, 24, a mother of three children, Tuesday night.

Doran ordered Carlson returned to Hurley Hospital here until the hearing.

Authorities said the youth could give no reason for the slaying.

Firm Does Business on an Informal Basis

LOWELL, Mass. (UPI)—Sullivan Bros., a local printing firm, has operated 40 years without a contract with any client — and rarely even a written order.

Explains Joseph E. Sullivan: "I tell them I'll do the work, and send a bill. That if they think it's too high, to tear it up. It's happened in only two instances."

Steel Output Upturn, Arms Bosses, Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says steel industry productivity has been declining but now is on an upturn. The announcement armed both steel management and steel labor today with bargaining ammunition for contract talks next month.

The Labor Department reported the industry's output per man-hour declined nearly 6 per cent in the three-year 1955-58 period. That time closely parallels duration of expiring three-year labor contracts.

On the other hand, Ewan Clague, the department's statistics commissioner, said steel productivity started climbing steeply late last year and is still rising. This hasn't been officially measured yet.

The figures announced Thursday gain importance from the stress given productivity by President Eisenhower. He has repeatedly recommended that any wage increases be held to productivity gains to avoid inflation.

On that basis the steel industry could argue that a three-year decline in productivity warrants a wage cut rather than a pay raise the United Steelworkers union has said it will demand.

The union already has indicated that currently rising output per man and rising steel profits should be the basis on which labor contracts are negotiated.

Present contracts run out June 30 with a strike possible July 1.

The aircraft and missile industry uses X-ray machines to insure the quality of its product. A 250,000-volt machine inspects welds on aircraft and missile parts to check for flaws.

Farmer Sours on Canada

NEW LONDON, Ohio (UPI) — Wheat rebel John Donaldson said that he was cooling off toward the idea of moving to Canada because he "didn't want to jump from the frying pan into the fire."

Donaldson, 49, went to Ontario last week to look over the situation with a view to exiling himself to Canada rather than surrendering to federal crop controls in this country.

"I changed my mind after receiving a couple of letters from Ontario farmers which indicated that controls there are almost as bad as those here," said Donaldson.

He said he would consider moving to Australia or New Zealand rather than stay on at his 389-acre farm near here.

"I'll talk to Stanley Yankus when he returns from Australia," Donaldson said. "I was in New Zealand during World War II and the country and people were wonderful. Sheep have been a major project with me and I'd consider going into the same thing there."

Yankus, of Dowagiac, Mich., carried on a six-year feud with the government over wheat controls before he paid up $5068.92 in fines and penalties, auctioned off his chicken farm and announced he would settle in Australia. He is on a tour of Australia now.

Donaldson announced his exile plans after a federal court turned down his appeal from a $322 penalty for exceeding his 1957 wheat quota. He had insisted that his field measured 14 acres rather than 23 acres as charged. Under the wheat marketing act, penalties can be levied for exceeding quotas in more than 15 acres are harvested.

"My neighbors have urged me to stay on and fight the controls," said Donaldson. "But there is no way to fight. There is no recourse in law."

Donaldson's farm has been in his family since shortly after the Revolutionary War. It was granted to his great-great-grandfather on an original firelands deed for Revolutionary War service.

"Only one thing is certain today," said Donaldson. "I'm not going to stay on this farm."

Austria Still Mozart by Night

Americanized Daytime Hustle Forgotten When Relaxing in Evening

WASHINGTON — Eastern Austria bears scars of the war and postwar occupation, but it remains the lighthearted land of Mozart and Strauss while swinging toward recovery.

Almost four years have passed since Burgenland and Lower Austria, in the former Russian zone of occupation, regained their freedom. In an article entitled "Building a New Austria" in the February National Geographic Magazine, the late Assistant Editor Beverley M. Bowie reported that the Austrians are reassuringly Austrian.

"Today we work more and faster than before," he was told by Federal Chancellor Julius Raab, "and enthusiasm for things technical has certainly captured our youth. But we still have the same love for music, for a good book, for leisurely get-togethers. All in all, I'd say we have become a little Americanized by day. But in the evening we are Austrians still!"

Austria's lovely old capital, Vienna, is rapidly re-creating itself. The city has not merely plugged the toothless gaps in her profile left by war; it has built more than 50,000 apartments since 1949. One fifth of the municipal budget goes into housing. In addition to skyscraper apartments, the city has new schools and kindergartens, express highways, underground street crossings, a large airport, hospitals, and railroad stations.

Historic Vienna is a city of grandeur, of vast palaces, of magnificent churches, of princely residents.

"But is also," Mr. Bowie wrote, "the home of old shops in the Schonlaterngasse (Street of the Beautiful Lantern), of madly crowded antique galleries run by noblewomen, of little upstairs chapels like that of St. Stanislaus Kostka—brilliant and prismatic as a Slovakian Easter egg."

As a great showcase of Baroque, a cradle of musical and medical genius, Vienna provides an embarassment of riches for resident and visitors alike. For example, Mozart houses are many—perhaps, as someone suggested, because he couldn't pay the rent and had to keep moving.

Woodwind Quintet to Be at John Pierce School

A woodwind quintet composed of Michigan State University music instructors will be featured in a concert at the John Pierce Junior High School in Waterford Township tonight.

Photomap of Sky Tennis-Court Size

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—A photomap of the sky which took the Palomar Observatory in California seven years to make has been purchased as an aid to University of Iowa astronomers.

The map is in atlas form, but if all the separate pieces were put together they would be big enough to cover a tennis court.

Only Arcturus Cuts Rotterdam's Spell

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—"What was your port of sail?"

"Rotterdam."

"The port of registry of your ship?"

"Rotterdam."

"Your captain's name?"

"Rotterdam."

Just about the time a customs official reached the "Oh yeah?" point, Capt. K. van Rotterdam, 27-year-old Dutch skipper did some explaining. But his ship is named Arcturus, not Rotterdam.

Film Role at Marquette Is Boost to Lee Remick

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Lee Remick is blonde and can fill a sweater as well as Lana Turner, but there the comparison ends.

Last month, Lana had a tiff with director-producer Otto Preminger over costumes for "Anatomy of a Murder," and she walked out of the movie. A lot of folks said of her replacement, "Who's Lee Remick?" They'll be finding out.

The role is even more provocative than the one that introduced Lana 20 years ago in "They Won't Forget." As Lana did in that film, Lee plays a girl whose flaunting of sex fosters violence. What's more, she'll wear a sweater too.

But in other respects, the two actresses offer a striking contrast of the traditional and the new in film stars. Lana is the classic case of the girl who was discovered on a malt-shop stool and fashioned by a studio into a living legend.

On location here, Lee commented: "I just couldn't be that way. I'm simply not the glamor-girl type. I would be uncomfortable trying to fit into a studio's conception of what a movie star is supposed to be.

"I suppose it was different years ago when the studios took people with no experience and made them into screen personalities. The actors didn't know what they wanted. But when you've had training in TV and stage work as most of us have nowadays, you know what you want, and it isn't glamor."

She's getting to the top on her own considerable talent, not via the studio buildup. It's no rags-to-riches saga either; her father owned a department store in Quincy, Mass. She got started in summer stock at an early age, moved into road companies and top TV dramas.

Her first movie was "A Face in the Crowd," which she admits was "a dismal failure." But she made a firm impression as the hip-swinging baton twirler who charmed Andy Griffith. Twentieth Century-Fox got her for another sexy role in "The Long, Hot Summer," and she agreed to sign for one film a year.

She first tried out for "Anatomy of a Murder" last December, when she was expecting her first child. She lost out to Lana, was offered a smaller role, refused. Later came the Turner-Preminger tiff and Lee was handed the starring part. "I couldn't believe it," she says. "I still can't."

3 Days of Hammering on Wall Is for Naught

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Park Supt. Jim Clary proudly told the park board how he wielded a heavy sledge hammer three days knocking a hole in a wall to make a gate.

Then he was informed that the proposed gateway would have to be moved because children using it would be endangered by nearby traffic.

Finds It Doesn't Pay to Beat Slot Machine

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Harriet Hewitt was a winner and a loser simultaneously.

As she bent over to scoop up some nickels she had just won from a slot machine, someone stole her purse from atop the machine.

All This and a Salary, Too!

Are you a working girl? If so, do your feet hurt? How would you like to have a job where you worked with your brain one to four hours a day, three days a week, with a two-month vacation?

A current magazine has cast a well researched eye into the future and painted a picture of a good secretarial job in the year 2000 A.D., just 41 years hence. If you can stand the thought of such an easy life, take off your shoes and relax while we tell you about it.

After giving your streamlined little two-passenger scooter car to the automatic parking elevator, you walk to your private office (all secretaries have private offices to shut out machine noise and vibration) and you take for granted the deep carpeting, the gay colors, the purified, humidified air. On your table desks went out years ago) you find computer reports from their night's work.

Maybe it's 9 o'clock, maybe 10, 11 or noon. Who cares? Your time of arrival is determined by what's to be done, not by the number of hours you put in. You stay for an hour. Perhaps two, three or four. Seldom more. In a real emergency you might put in six hours, but this would be rare.

When you finish, you simply take off. And since all office hours are staggered, you will not run into any traffic rush.

As a secretary in the office of 2000 A.D., your duties are largely administrative. When the boss calls you he does so by signal lights which also tell what he wants, and it's seldom you take along a notebook. He does most of his dictating to a machine. In fact he can dictate from any telephone, just by dialing a special number.

When you telephone, you dial by voice, and if you want to you can flip a switch so the person called can see you, and vice versa. The old filing cabinets are gone. In one small compartment you store thousands of microfilmed copies and when you want to look at one you dial a number and the document is projected onto a hideaway screen.

You have a typewriter of course, but it's far different from those ancient 1959 models. Quiet as a whisper, its electronic keyboard is connected with similar machines in branch offices—sending memos this way is so much faster than by mail.

"You are a very important person because of your many skills," says the article. "You are, of course, an expert in the field of human and public relations. In a sense, you help counteract a machine-like atmosphere in the office. You are trained in technology.

You know what makes a computer compute and what can be expected or not expected from electronic equipment of all kinds. Not that you have a screwdriver and hammer handy for repair work. But you do know the basic principles of programming, of electronic memory storage.

You know when a job needs a human hand and when it needs a machine's speed and accuracy.

When you scribble a note with a pencil on a special pad it will be for a mammoth computer in the basement that has been trained to accept human writing, code it and follow instructions.

Most important, you are relaxed and so is the boss. Vacations provide a change of scene, but they are no longer a lifesaver thrown to a girl drowning in work.

And there is one boss who never — but never — makes a mistake . . . is always prompt . . . means what he says . . . would never think of suggesting an after-hours cocktail . . . can be trusted implicitly and never loses his temper. Who is he? An electronic computer, of course.

Library Progress Outlined

Phyllis Pope Is Speaker at Zonta Luncheon

Phyllis Pope, head librarian of Pontiac City Library, outlined progress on plans for the new library building at a luncheon meeting of the Pontiac Zonta Club Thursday at the Hotel Waldron.

She also traced the progress of work on the North Oakland library project begun in this area one year ago. Eight townships are cooperating with Pontiac city librarians, holding area meetings each month.

A newsletter is issued periodically, informing the public of various phases of the project. It is hoped the state library will continue its backing by entering into a contract with the main library and financing the undertaking for another year she said.

Oakland County was found to be the poorest served in the state outside of Pontiac city in library service, Miss Pope stated. Since this is National Library Week, attention is focused on the needs for the development of libraries.

Plans have been completed for the annual breakfast on April 26 to welcome new members and install officers of Pontiac Zonta Club. Helen Travis, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

200 County Women to Attend Democratic Event in Lansing

Some 200 women from the Oakland County area are expected to participate in the Democratic Women's Day program in Lansing on Saturday, April 25. Mrs. Robert P. Scott of Drayton Plains is local co-chairman for the event.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. with registration in the Lansing Civic Center where all activities will be conducted.

"Because of the great interest in Michigan's financial problems, our morning discussion program will concentrate on this subject," reports Mrs. Scott. Several state officials, including James Miller, state controller, will be present to explain the Michigan financial and tax status.

Featured luncheon speaker will be Mrs. Edith Green, Democratic congresswoman of Portland, Ore. Gov. G. Mennen Williams also will speak on the topic, "Michigan: The State With a Future."

County Democratic women interested in the event may contact Mrs. Bernard Gottfried of West Sunnybrook street, Royal Oak, who is in charge of registration and transportation for this area.

Reservations must be made by April 22.

Gambling Gal Pays Own Losses

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man takes his 'date' to a friend's house for the evening and they play cards, is it up to him to reimburse her for any losses she may sustain? A friend of mine insists that he should do this since if he had taken her anywhere else, the expense of the evening would have been his and therfore he should assume this expense. Your opinion on this matter would be appreciated."

Answer: If a girl gambles she keeps her winnings and must pay her losses herself. If she is not willing to do so she must say before the game starts that she does not play for money.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me whether or not it is proper to slice a banana on cereal with a spoon? My husband always does this and our two sons are beginning to follow his example. I do not think it is proper but would like your opinion before putting my foot down on this practice."

Answer: It is perfectly all right to use a spoon.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is in good taste to carry a handbag to a wedding. I have been told that this just isn't done."

Answer: Certainly it is proper for a woman guest to carry a handbag to a wedding. It should not, however, be a large utility bag but rather a small evening-type purse.

May Mix Shades

Match Powder to Skin Tone

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Should a person with a medium complexion wear light or darker powder?"

A. Neither. The powder should match your skin tone. There is such great variety in colors that one can be found for every complexion. However, sometimes the best results come from mixing two shades.

Q. "Is lanolin plus liquid good for a dry skin?"

A. Cosmetic lanolin, plus olive oil, is effective for many women. Add oil until the mixture is the right texture.

Q. "I have a very unpleasant body odor and a bad breath. I have no friends. People try to tell me about it or make fun of me. Most of the time I walk away hurt. Should I tell them that I can't help it, or pretend that I do not know it? I am very careful about baths and deodorants."

A. This is a very difficult situation. If this is as bad as you say, you really can't blame people, except that it is very cruel of them to make fun of you.

I suggest that you talk frankly to your close friends about this, but most important, that you take definite steps to try to overcome this condition. Go to your physician and explain your problem. He will give you a thorough check-up. He may also ask you to see a dentist or sinus expert or a dermatologist. A disease of the sweat glands is sometimes to blame. Keep after this until you overcome it.

Q. "I am 16 years old, five feet one inch tall, and weigh 140 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 27 and hips 39. Please tell me how much I am overweight and what my measurements should be."

A. It depends a lot on your build, but even allowing for a large frame you should weigh less. I suggest that you shoot for a loss of 15 pounds anyway. Eat a well-balanced diet and lose the weight gradually by eating smaller portions and leaving off in between meal snacks, except for fresh fruit. Take hip-slimming exercises.

Q. "My hair has been falling out for several years now and is getting worse. Please tell me what to do."

A. First, see your physician for a physical check-up. If he finds no systemic or organic reason for this, a skin specialist may be able to help you.

Better Than a Cannon, Later—Abby

Use Fly Swatter on This Pest!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: An old school chum moved very close to me and we decided to have our hubbies meet. The second time we got together she decided that she liked my husband better than she liked her own. My husband is flattered by the way she plays up to him and her husband is so dumb he doesn't know what's going on (or doesn't care).

ABBY

"I don't mean to imply that there is anything serious between them, but I am afraid there could be. My husband says I am being foolish. She keeps calling me to get together. Should I discourage seeing them or do you think I am unnecessarily jealous. P. S. She sent him a very suggestive valentine."

BEING CAREFUL

DEAR BEING: If there is the slightest doubt in your mind about your school chum's intentions, avoid her. Better to use a fly swatter now than a cannon later.

"DEAR ABBY: I'm burned up about a mother who signed herself WORRIED because her daughter was marrying a farm boy and she was afraid the farmers would ruin her wedding by showing up in overalls. I was raised on a farm and I wish I were back on one now. Those shallow city folks with their cocktail parties don't know what living is until they've wrapped a newborn calf in a blanket in the wee small hours of the morning or looked out at daybreak to see a flock of baby chicks picking up feed. That woman ought to follow those overall-clad fellows around and learn to appreciate what they represent. Thanks, Abby, I feel better now."

GRACE

"DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh at WORRIED'S letter. She was afraid because they were farmers that the groom's mother would come to the wedding in her calico dress and sunbonnet and the father would march in with his boots caked with manure.

"Then this stupid woman, pretending to be so sophisticated and fashionable, referred to a lady's evening gown as a "formal" and a man's dinner jacket as a "tux." I am surprised that the daughter of such ignorant and narrow-minded people had sense enough to pick a college-bred farm boy. Best wishes."

LAURA

"DEAR ABBY: I want to entertain for a friend of mine who is getting married. There have been a lot of showers for her and some of the girls can't afford to go any more. Can you think of something that won't cost the guests very much, but will be a nice way to honor a bride?" THINKING

DEAR THINKING: How about a RECIPE shower? It won't cost the guests anything and all brides welcome good recipes.

Hal Boyle Says:

Goodbye Kindergarten, Hello First Grade!

NEW YORK (AP)—The hour of tragedy has come.

It is the last day of kindergarten. We are at a final tumultuous meeting. Some of our parents are there and they nervously show each other some of the prize drawings we have made.

All the grownups are hysterically confident nobody else in history ever drew a lamb so well before.

It is a nervous moment of class acclaim. Then Mrs. Steele, the teacher, sits down at the piano and begins to play.

The notes she strikes induce a welcome and familiar group hypnosis. Each child becomes a rampant example of true culture afoot.

Like slow, methodical horses each child begins to prance around the room in time with the tune.

You are going around in a circle at full gallop. No child in kindergarten history has galloped quite so well.

You are swept by a sense of power. Mrs. Steele has never yet had a horse in kindergarten who can gallop quite like you.

You feel your feet flinging clear in a freedom you never have enjoyed before.

Then suddenly Mrs. Steele begins to slow down the pace of her music, and the dancing kindergarten children slow down too.

But you know in your heart you galloped in a classic way, and Mrs. Steele will never again have a student who danced it so boldly and well.

Goodby kindergarten. Hello first grade!

Fifteen Soviet students now are studying in five American universities. There is one girl student at the University of California and her name is Aleksandra Vasilyevna Zhuravchenkova.

Just Khrushchev Press Agents

Pilgrimages to Kremlin by Top Americans Scored

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Author-industrialist Eugene W. Castle charged today that prominent Americans have done the United States great harm by "leapfroging" to the Kremlin on well publicized "pilgrimages" to see Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Castle, founder and former president of Castle Films and a vigorous campaigner against government waste, told the World Affairs Council of Northern California that the rest of the world regards "our chief government spokesmen as the Kremlin's best press agents."

"Khrushchev had a field day for himself and got full mileage for the Soviets from the Moscow pilgrimages of Adlai Stevenson, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Eleanor Roosevelt, Eric Johnston, Cyrus Eaton, Paul Robeson and Harry Bridges," Castle said.

"Politicians both in and out of office, together with widely known Americans, do our country great harm by leapfroging to Khrushchev's office in the Kremlin to obtain global headlines for themselves.

"When the American people vigorously condemn this, maybe both the malpractice and the pilgrimages will end."

Castle, criticizing what he called the U.S. propaganda "fiasco," said that President Eisenhower has had four different directors of the U.S. Information Agency since he entered the White House.

"Again and again they have been out-maneuvered, outclassed and out-smarted by the spokesmen for the Soviet Union," he said.

"Cultural exchange with the Kremlin was originally sold to President Eisenhower just before the ill-fated summit meeting at Geneva in 1955. The President was told that he needed a new and exciting 'gimmick' to capture world headlines. So 'cultural exchange' was conceived by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, Harold Stassen and Nelson Rockefeller. Khrushchev embraced the scheme with great enthusiasm."

Castle said that instead of a shifting policy toward Russia, the nation needs to take a firm stand that is all times cool, courageous and correct.

"This might prove to be a hardship for some of our headline hunters in Washington," he said, "but it could be a 10-strike for the welfare of our ship of state. It might even prove to be the first step toward winning the cold war."

Record Baltic Blasts Off Russian Coast

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Swedish seismographs have recorded large undersea explosions in the Baltic Sea off the coast of the Soviet Union, a Swedish scientist said today.

Dr. Markus Bath of the seismographic station in Uppsala said explosions were recorded between March 10-28. Apparently they originated off Estonia and Lithuania.

Scientists said apparently conventional explosives were used clear explosion would have given a much larger registration on the seismograph.

Observers said the Soviets might have been constructing lighthouses or radar stations, testing submarine equipment or exploring for oil below the Baltic's floor.

Bath ruled out the possibility of earthquakes.

Sermons Humiliating, Wife Given Divorce

Builds a Pipe Organ: Can Play Chopsticks

By DAN VALENTINE

SALT LAKE CITY (NEA)—Take a pile of battered pipes, add an assortment of wires, wheels, valves and pedals, wrap them together with hard work and patience in an old chicken coop—and what have you got?

Well, if you were Lawrence Bray of Salt Lake City, you'd have the sweetest sounding pile of junk in town—a giant, hand-assembled pipe organ.

Bray confesses that he's been crazy about organs for as long as he can remember, and started dreaming about owning one of his own when he was a teenager.

Now a big pipe organ—which is what Lawrence wanted—can cost thousands of dollars. But if buying one was out of the question, building one was not.

Lawrence began collecting stray organ parts in the late 1930s, but didn't really get going on the project until he returned to Salt Lake from four years of Navy service in 1946. A music salesman by day, he took up his organ hunt at night.

He tracked down a mammoth theater organ that had seen its best days, bought it for $750, and took it apart.

LAWRENCE BRAY: He's mastered "Chopsticks."

It was a mess of wood, leather, wire and tin. Many of the pipes were bent and broken, wires, wheels and valves had been ripped out.

It took Lawrence two years but the instrument finally gave forth its first tune.

"It sounded all right," Lawrence admits, "but I wanted more volume, more intensity."

So he started organ-hunting again. Luck was with him. He came across a battered organ in an abandoned theater. It, too, went to the chicken coop. Later, he added another old organ and an assortment of parts.

Lawrence started to fit all the new parts into the giant musical jig-saw puzzle. Some didn't match. They had to be hand-shaped, practically made over again.

And he discovered he didn't have a place for the new enlarged instrument. He bought the chicken coop and built a second story on it.

Finally, the organ, was completed, without a doubt the largest home-made organ in the world. Experts claim it is one of the most complete musical instruments ever built.

The Bray organ has an audio range span from 30 cycles to 16,000 cycles. The press of a single key can unleash 60 tones, and with both hands, an organist can strike a chord combining 500 notes at one time.

To date, the organ has cost Lawrence $1,200. It is valued at $10,000.

He holds occasional recitals, featuring leading organists in the Salt Lake area, but Lawrence never plays at them.

You see, his repertoire is somewhat limited.

He can build an organ, but the only tune he can play is "Chopsticks"—and that with one finger.

Malaya to Charge Duty on Monkeys Exported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Malayan government has imposed an export tax of 65 cents on monkeys, according to the Malayan Embassy here.

Malaya exports about 100,000 live monkeys each year to Britain, the U. S., Japan, Australia and other countries for medical research. The anthropoids bring about $5 to $6.50 each.

Ancient Crete Ahead of Times

Kept Written Records, Paid in Coin, Bathtubs Had Running Water

WASHINGTON — Crete's prehistoric inhabitants were Minoans. Advanced beyond their time, 4,500 years ago, they kept written records, paid in coin, had running water for plumbing, and built multistoried structures. Mammoth pillars supported overhead beams designed to sway with earthquakes. Their ships ruled the seas.

The Minoan Empire was a legend in Homer's time. It was on Crete, the Greeks said, that the sea king Minos sacrificed Athenian youths and maidens to a man-eating bull in a maze. Then the hostage Theseus killed the bull and escaped by following a thread given to him by Ariadne.

Minoans were wiped out by an earthquake, but their place at Knossos has been partly reconstructed so the present-day layman can understand their way of life. The palace shows a vast network of state apartments, bedrooms and courtyards. Storerooms, lit by oil torches, were well stocked with six-foot jars of Crete's best olive oil.

First Three Ships Pass Through Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Three ships, the first to make their way through the Lake Superior icefields, arrived yesterday at the Soo Locks.

The ships, all of the Pittsburgh Steamship Division, were the Phillip R. Clarke, Cason Callaway and Arthur Anderson.

The first of the vessels to enter the locks was the Clarke. Its captain, E. C. Bagane, said ice extends some 60 miles into the lake and is between two and three feet thick.

The ships were escorted by the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw.

Gardeners Enjoy Variety

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

There was an elderly gentleman in these parts some years ago whose favorite game was golf, and his equipment consisted of one club, a No.. 2 iron. He drove, approached, chipped and—to the discomfort of various greens committees—putted with it.

Similarly, there are gardeners who can get along with an absolute minimum of tools: wheelbarrow, a spade, an iron rake, a hoe, a hand cultivator, a sprayer, a hose, a watering can and some sort of string-and-sticks device to make straight rows.

But most of us who garden for fun take pleasure in accumulating and using a wide variety of special tools and devices.

In fact, just as it is possible to tell the age of a tree by counting its rings, it is possible to estimate the number of years a home owner has been a hobby gardener just by the equipment he has accumulated in his garage.

My basic tools, of course, are most frequently in use. But I have found that big bamboo grass rake is a great aid in sweeping up light debris and heavy grass clippings on the lawn and that a child's bamboo rake is great for the delicate job of cleaning up the perennial garden.

MANY CULTIVATORS

I have an assortment of hand cultivators with which to eliminate weeds close to desirable plants, as well as several types of hoes — scuffle and diamond point — for heavier anti-weed work. I find I use my canvas soaker to water the garden and lawn more often than the plastic soaker or sprinkler because the water dribbles out rather than squirts, but I have them all.

And although I have both a garden cart and a wheel barrow, I use half-bushel baskets more often for gathering debris and weeds.

GARDEN INDOORS FIRST — This spring enjoy something new — the fun of growing your own flower and vegetable transplants by using one of these kits which can be purchased locally. The seeded planter kits fit on a window sill. The special fertilized soil is used to insure rapid germination and good root development.

ROLL ON THE SEED—Here's something new for grass seed in the shape of a roll. Just unroll it onto a properly prepared seed bed and water it down. Uniform seed distribution and holding the seeds firmly against wind and erosion are features of the roll. It is dark green to give the appearance of growing grass.

Once-a-Year Violets Avoided With Lighting

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Are you one of those people who have once-a-year violets? This makes them look great in March and April, but how about blossoms all year? Light intensity seems to regulate whether they bloom, just produce leaves, or both.

When they bloom in the summer but not in the winter, it means the winter spot is too dark. Therefore, during the winter, experiment with brighter spots in the home.

If they bloom well in winter, but only occasionally in the summer, it is too bright. If one can hit the right intensity, they will grow and bloom at the same time.

If it is too dark, there are long stems, but no flowers. If it is too light, they get practically no new leaves. Do your own experimenting, and see if you don't get better results.

It took Prof. George Wallace of Michigan State University to drive home the point that elm tree sprays are having an effect on summer birds. He felt certain the summer elm tree sprays were reducing the population of robins and wrens.

PROTECT BIRDS

These birds weren't being poisoned by the insecticide on the foliage. But soil insects, such as worms and grubs, were feeding on the leaves during the fall and spring.

Instead of the insects passing off the poison, the poison stayed until remarkable quantities of the insecticide were present. Little do the birds know the next juicy worm may be a big package of insecticide that could be fatal.

What can we do? Many scientists are certain that summer sprays for Dutch elm are not too effective. They are also pretty certain this is how worms and soil insects get this high charge of poison. Because the winter sprays gets on the back where it stays, it looks as if winter sprays (dormant pray) is very effective for Dutch Elm control. Yet, it doesn't cause the high bird loss. If you are thinking of having your elm trees sprayed, use only the dormant spray.

Uprooted Weeds Make Perfect Compost Pile

When you've finished the job of pulling or hoeing weeds it's a temptation to make for a shady spot to rest and contemplate your virtue.

But you can double your satisfaction if you'll hold out just a little longer on the job. Rake off the weeds (then you know they won't take root again) and dump them on the compost pile.

In this way you not only put the finishing touch of neatness to the garden but you also get some valuable humus for next year.

Invite Spring Into Homes by Forcing Branch Buds

Invite spring into your home this month with an arrangement of branches in full bloom. Fred Widmoyer, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University, reports some tree and shrub branches can be forced into bloom during these late months of winter.

Select branches that usually flower in the early spring. Or, choose branches from trees and shrubs that usually flower in the summer, but which can be forced into leaf. Identify the flower buds since they are generally larger and of a different shape than the leaf buds.

For best results choose branches that have numerous flower or leaf buds, and use branches that would normally flower or leaf about a month from the time they are cut.

To work with something easy, Widmoyer suggests the pussy willow or the forsythia. Other branches considered easy to force are from the flowering quince, red bud, cornelian cherry, fragrant honeysuckle and shad-blow.

Cut branches on a mild day, using a knife or pruning shears. Place the cut ends in large vases or containers of water and set in a cool room or cellar. As soon as the buds are plump and begin to swell, move them into a warmer room with plenty of light. Frequent doses of warm water help the buds to swell and the tiny leaves to open.

SOME DIFFICULT

Some branches are more difficult to force. These come from cherry, apple and peach trees and lilac, magnolia, flowering dogwood, spice bush and deutzia shrubs.

Branches that are difficult to force should be submerged flat in a tub of warm water after they are cut. Leave them about 15 minutes, then place the cut ends in large containers of cool water.

With some of the harder woods, such as crab apple and lilac, it helps to actually crush the stem ends by pounding them with a mallet before placing them in water.

Branches may be sprayed with water or moistened by holding under a faucet several times a day. This softens and soaks the buds, much as spring rains, and hurries buds into growth.

After the buds are quite plump, branches may be brought into a warm room and arranged in vases or bowls.

Forced flowers and leaves are tender and should not be given full sunlight. They'll keep fresh longer in a cool, humid room rather than in a hot dry one.

Contracts Given for Pair of Junior High Additions

Construction contracts for additions to two junior high schools have been awarded by the Pontiac Board of Education.

The $508,207 addition to Madison Junior High and an addition to Washington Junior High costing $379,038 are expected to be completed and ready for occupancy in September 1960.

Last night the board awarded the $340,457 general trades contract for the Washington addition to the J. A. Ferguson Construction Co. of Detroit; the $109,250 mechanical trades contract to Sylvan Plumbing & Heating, Inc. of Pontiac; and the $58,500 electrical trades contract to Seaway Electric Co., Inc. of Pontiac.

The two-story addition to Washington, designed by Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc. of Detroit, includes a band room, two art rooms, a craft room, homemaking room, science laboratory, five new classrooms, a typing room and two vocal music rooms.

Plans also call for converting two large classrooms in the present building into four rooms.

All three firms receiving the contracts were low bidders.

In earlier action, the board awarded the Madison general trades contract of $270,763 to the Schurrer Construction Co. of Pontiac; the mechanical trades contract of $71,575 to Eames and Brown, Inc. of Pontiac; and the electrical trades contract of $36,700 to the Reed Electrical Co. of Drayton Plains.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business, told the board the cost of the Madison project would be $70,000 less than the original estimate of the architects, H. E. Beyster & Associates, Inc. of Detroit.

The general trades contract was awarded to the second lowest bidder after the low bidder, the Richmond Construction Co. of Richmond, asked that its bid be withdrawn because of an error in its estimate.

Struggle With Boy Fatal to Detroit Principal

DETROIT (AP)—A 12-year-old boy struck a girl schoolmate yesterday and the principal of the school suffered a fatal heart attack when he struggled with the boy in an effort to discipline him.

Sherman T. Cross, principal of the Wayne Elementary School in northeast Detroit, suffered the attack in a school office. Cross, who was 66, was dead on arrival at a nearby hospital.

Police took the boy into custody today for investigation of manslaughter minutes after Cross died. He was to appear at a juvenile court hearing today.

Officers said the boy stopped for a drink of water while walking to a class. A 13-year-old girl monitor in the hall told him it was against the rules to stop at the drinking fountain. When she asked for his name he struck her on the shoulder.

Another monitor arrived on the scene and the two girls managed to get the boy to the office of the assistant principal, Wanda Lee, 47.

Miss Lee said the boy told her "shut up, you old bag" when she asked him why he had struck the girl.

Cross then entered the office and ordered the boy to sit down. The youth refused and the struggle began when Cross tried to force him to sit in a chair.

Cross suffered the attack minutes later, and the boy fled the school. He was picked up by police shortly afterward.

Police said the boy told them he fought with the girls and Cross because "I just don't like to be touched."

Officers said he had no juvenile record and school authorities said he had not been a disciplinary problem.

Cross was a graduate of the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. He served as superintendent of schools in Shelby, and as head of the Spring Arbor, seminary before entering the Detroit Public School System in 1936. He had been principal at Wayne for three years.

Little Girl Has Rough Month Along the Curb

It's been a rough month so far for little Mary Loretta Williams, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of 5249 Marconi St., Independence Township.

On April 12, while playing in front of her home, Mary caught her hand between the curb and a toy wagon. She was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for Xrays and was released after no fracture was discovered.

Pontiac State Police said Fred Luth, 37, of 5440 Pine Knob Rd., Clarkston, had delivered mail to the Williams' home and was pulling away from the curb when he heard a thump.

The girl had been standing alongside his car and he was unable to see her there. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital again treated her, this time for forehead and hip bruises, and sent the adventuresome tot home.

Rash of Scarlet Fever

DETROIT (AP)—City-County Health Commissioner Joseph G. Molner has warned of a growing increase of scarlet fever and strep throat in the Metropolitan Detroit area. Dr. Molner said Thursday 51 new cases were reported last week. Thus far 678 cases of scarlet fever and strep throat have been reported in the Detroit area this year, compared to 320 cases in the same period last year.

Gets 10-35 Years in Flint Robbery

A Flint robber who kidnaped four persons and forced them to drive him to Holly was sentenced to 10-35 years in prison today.

State to Sell Land

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department will hold a public auction of 144 units of tax reverted lands in 15 northern lower peninsula counties April 28 at Clare.

Today there are 10,300,000 people employed in highway transport industries.

Slow Starts Old Stuff for Tiger Teams

Bengals Play Chicago in Start of 3-Game Weekend Series

The Tigers of 1920 lost their first 13 games, a Major League record they share with the 1904 Washington club.

But Bill Norman's current Tigers, who try again today for their first victory against the Chicago White Sox, are off to Detroit's worst beginning since 1952. The Tigers are the only winless team in the American League.

Rolfe failed to survive the season after his 1952 team floundered at the start. Freddie Hutchinson replaced him in July. The Tigers wound up last, the only time in their history.

Norman maintains the 1959 Tigers are a first division club.

"That's all I ever said," Norman recalled. "And I still think we'll make it to the first division. My guys are pros. I'm sticking with them and they'll get rolling.

"We've played pretty good ball in every game. But we couldn't get the key hit. We couldn't even get a fly ball when we needed one."

In three of their defeats, a well-timed sacrifice fly could have produced a victory for the Tigers. None was forthcoming and the Tigers have left baserunners stranded in droves.

Right hander Jim Bunning didn't accompany the Tigers here. He was left at Detroit's Harper Hospital with a virus infection in his throat. Bunning will miss at least one turn in the Tigers' pitching rotation.

Frank Lary, loser to the White Sox last Sunday, will pitch today's first game of the three-game series here. Dick Donovan, who beat Lary, was to face him again.

The Sox haven't been faring too well since leaving Detroit with three straight victories. They lost two games of three with Kansas City.

Norman will give Billy Hoeft his first start tomorrow. The left-hander, off to a good start at spring training, had to begin all over when a sore arm and knee injury shelved him. Manager Al Lopez has named Billy Pierce to pitch for the Sox tomorrow.

Orioles Whip Yanks, Bertoia Paces Washington

Garver Blanks White Sox

By The Associated Press

At 33, Kansas City's Ned Garver is perhaps the American league's No. 1 dealer in soft curve and brass. He makes the most of his nothing ball against the Chicago White Sox.

The stubby right-hander has made a career of taking from them what has for them what ain't, rolling up a 116-133 record in 11 seasons of pitching for second division clubs. The White Sox have been tagged for 24 of those victories, the most Garver has taken from any single club.

He got the latest in his 24-15 life-time record against Chicago shutout that included but one walk, as the Kansas City Athletics handed the White Sox a second straight defeat 6-0.

It was Garver's 15th shutout in the Majors, seventh best among still active pitchers in the AL, and his third consecutive success against the White Sox. It also squared his season record at 1-1, after a one-run defeat by the Cleveland Indians, the league's lone unbeaten club.

The New York Yankees finally fell yesterday, losing their first in a 7-4 decision at Baltimore that gave the Orioles their first victory. Washington whipped Boston 7-5.

Garver gave up nothing but singles and breezed home for the first complete game by the A's staff this season. He got help on two-run homers from Frank House and Bob Cerv off Early Wynn (1-1), who gained his 250th victory last week.

The Orioles broke through against the Yankees with a four-run eighth inning capped by Billy Gardner's first hit of the season — a bases-loaded triple. Starter Art Ditmar was the loser, but it was Ryne Duren, the champ's fire-balling relief ace, who gave up a tying single by Gene Woodling ahead of Gardner's clincher.

Billy O'Dell won it in relief of George Bamberger, a rookie who blanked the Yanks on three hits for five innings in his first start after 13 years in the minors.

Willie Tasby homered and opened the big eighth with a single for the Orioles, who also got a home run from Bob Nieman. Elston Howard homered for the Yankees, while Norm Siebern drove in three runs with a bloop double and a single.

Right-hander Pete Ramos, the only winner (2-0) and complete-game pitcher Washington has had so far, resumed his old habit of beating the Red Sox. He did it although giving up 10 hits, weathering a three-run ninth for a 14-9 life-time record against the Red Sox, who had beaten him four times in a row. Rookie Bob Allison's first Major League homer, a three-run swat, and Norm Zauchin's second of the year gave the Nats a four-run fourth inning against loser Herb Moford. It was Reno Bertoia's two-run single in the eighth that put it away, however.

CHALLENGER ARRIVES — Brian London, British heavyweight boxing champion who will meet world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in a title fight in Indianapolis May 1st, gets a ride in an Indiana State Police car upon his arrival in the city. He was accompanied by his father and brother.

Challenger in Camp for Heavyweight Bout

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Floyd Patterson-Brian London heavyweight championship bout, scheduled for the Fairgrounds Coliseum here May 1, began jelling today after weeks of mystery.

The challenger is here and working out in Municipal Gardens a city recreation site on the west side of town, and Patterson is scheduled to arrive tomorrow. The champion will train in the coliseum.

Officials said final contracts, including a return bout clause if London wins, will be signed shortly after Patterson arrives.

The bout originally was scheduled for Las Vegas, Nev., then switched to Indianapolis. In the interim the date was changed from April 21 to May 1.

Then came the announcement that Cecil Rhodes of Cranford, N. J., had been replaced as promoter, with Al Farb of Indianapolis and the Hoosier Boxing Club taking over. Assisting will be Bill Rosensohn, who is promoting the Patterson-Ingemar Johannson fight in Yankee Stadium at New York, June 25.

The promotion evidently was the angle that kept a cloud of secrecy surrounding the fight. After the switch, Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager said the "fight in Indianapolis definitely will take place May 1."

D'Amato's positive statement that the fight will be in Indianapolis was backed up by an announcement from NBC television and the sponsor that the fight will be shown on home television.

"I was registered at the Hotel New Yorker under my own name" he said.

The 6-foot, 210 pound London warned Americans to be cautious about thinking of the bout as only a warmup for Patterson.

"He (Patterson) might be a little over-cautious. He's taking this as a tuneup, but he might get surprised," London said.

When asked how he expected to fight Patterson, London said, "I go forward. I fight the American style, and I punch with either hand."

3-Stroke Edge Held by Suggs

DALLAS (AP) — Louise Suggs in a head-to-head battle with Betsy Rawls for top money winner in women's golf, entered the second round of the $10,000 Dallas Civitan Open today leading her rival by three strokes.

Miss Suggs, the 35-year-old veteran from Sea Island, Ga., conquered high winds with a 1-under-par 70 yesterday to take the first round lead. Miss Rawls, the 30-year-old star from Spartanburg S.C., who says she is playing her best golf yet, had a 73.

In fact, Miss Rawls wasn't even in second place. That spot went to Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., who had a sharp 72.

In money winnings, Miss Rawls has raked in $5,692.52 and Miss Suggs, in second place, has won $371.30 less.

NCAA Reaches Top Membership

NEW YORK (AP) — Membership in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has reached 541, an all-time high, the organization announced today.

Walter Byers, executive director, said 25 members have been added since last September. He said the rolls now include 498 colleges and universities, 30 allied conferences and 13 affiliated associations.

The association began in 1905 with 13 members.

Doctoring Your Golf

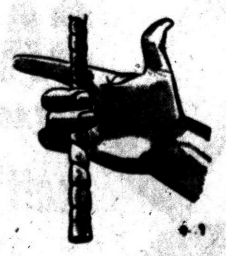

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

DIAGNOSIS: Wobbly grip.

A major point to remember here is that the grip with the right hand is essentially a finger grip. The grip with the left hand is a combination palm and finger grip — that is to say that the shaft should lie diagonally across the palm and fingers of the left hand. But, to repeat, the right hand grip is mainly a finger grip.

As shown in the illustration, the shaft should lie along the top joint of the fingers of the right hand. As a practice exercise — and a valuable one — fix the club in your right hand as shown, and then fold the hand around the shaft.

The main pressure points, as the drawing indicates, will be in the middle and ring fingers of the right hand.

Once you've got the grip down pat, be sure you know the other fundamentals.

Montreal Wins 3-2 Decision From Toronto

Defending Champions Hope to End Series at Home Saturday

TORONTO (AP)—Coach Toe Blake of the Montreal Canadiens, needing only one more victory for an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup, isn't taking anything for granted.

"I must say we're in a good position," he said last night after the Canadiens edged Toronto 3-2 to take a 3-1 lead in the National Hockey League's best-of-seven final series. "But then the New York Rangers thought the same thing about three weeks ago."

Blake was referring to Toronto's come-from-behind ability that sent them into the playoffs on the final night of the regular season while the Rangers were losing six of their last seven games.

Big Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion led the way as the Canadiens exploded for three third-period goals to take a commanding lead over the Leafs. Toronto had broken a scoreless tie on a goal by Bill Harris at 3:45 of the final period before the Canadiens put on their winning spurt.

Although coach Punch Imlach pulled goalie Bower off the ice and used a sixth forward after his Leafs had pulled within one goal of the Canadiens on a score by Frank Mahovlich, they couldn't break through the Montreal defense.

Montreal is heavily favored as the series shifts to Canadiens home ice for the next game Saturday night.

Imlach was not happy about the Leafs' shooting that drew the vocal wrath of the 13,329 fans in the early periods. However, he refused to give up.

"This is the first time we've been really close to elimination since we made the playoffs. This club won't quit. We've had shooting troubles before and it's still haunting us."

Blake had high praise for everybody, especially McDonald who had not scored since mid-February.

"It was McDonald's goal that gave our bench a terrific lift," he said, "the whole gang came right up as one man."

Jones Favored at OSU Relays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Michigan's powerful Big Ten indoor track champions and Eastern Michigan star Hayes Jones are favored to grab many of the laurels in the 17th annual Ohio State relays tomorrow at Ohio Stadium.

Wolverine coach Don Canham selected a 34-man squad for the Buckeye event.

Tom Robinson, Michigan sprint star from the Bahamas, and Jones are the top choices in the 110-yard dash. Robinson tied the Big Ten indoor record of 6.1 seconds in the 60-yard dash three times during the conference meet.

The spring classic, which has attracted more than 600 athletes from 27 schools, features a 27-event program.

The top attraction appears to be the 400-meter race which pits Glenn Davis, the ex-Buckeye star, against such stalwarts as Mel Barnwell of Pittsburgh, Purdue's sensational freshman, Dave Mills, and Wayne Etherton, also of Purdue.

Davis, who holds world records in the 400 meter hurdles and the 440-yard dash, does his running now for the Ohio Track Club.

The meet is conducted on an individual basis with no team championship. But potent Michigan is expected to take most of the honors.

Bob Gutowski, formerly of Occidental College and now in the Marines, is the man to beat in the pole vault. Gutowski has vaulted 15 feet, 9 inches, an NCAA and American record. The mark was ruled out as a world record because Gutowski's pole passed under the cross bar as he cleared the record height.

In a dual meet at Ohio University last week, Robinson ran the 100 in 9.2 or better, which is under the listed world mark. Robinson equalled the Big Ten indoor record of 6.1 in the 60-yard dash on three occasions during the recent Western Conference meet.

Jones is the choice to take the 120-yard high hurdles but might get stiff competition from Willie May, Indiana's Big Ten champ.

Revision Sought for Track Code

Claim Floridans Get Preference for Jobs at Racing Plants

LANSING (UPI)— A proposed revision of the state's racing code was before the Senate today after gaing aproval of the State Affairs Committee yesterday.

The House approved bill would take away some of the powers of the State Racing Commissioner.

In the House a lawmaker called for an investigation of complaints that Florida residents were getting race track job preference over jobless Michigan workers.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit) said "Michigan residents are discriminated against in employment opportunities" at some Michigan tracks.

O'rien said some Florida people, coming to Michigan to work at tracks a few months, drew Michigan unemployment compensation after the track season ended.

Solly Hemus Fined $50

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — St. Louis manager Solly Hemus was fined $50 Thursday for his dispute Wednesday night with umpire Dusty Boggess.

Tiger Woes Follow Lund

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Michigan baseball coach Don Lund is far from the Detroit Tigers now but he's having the same troubles as his former boss, Tiger manager Bill Norman

But Lund's Wolverines hope they've found the right combination in Eastern Michigan. Lund, in his rookie year as Michigan coach, won his initial game against Duke several weeks ago but then went into a tailspin with seven straight defeats.

The streak was broken by a 4-1 victory over Eastern Michigan Tuesday and the Wolverines were set to meet the Hurons again today.

Michigan opens its Big Ten season next weekend with a three-game series against Michigan State opening with a single game on Friday in Ann Arbor and a doubleheader Saturday at East Lansing.

Area Thinclads Head for Ohio

Interest High in Army-AF Tilt
4 Cities Seek Big Game

The game originally was scheduled for the Michie Stadium at West Point, which has a seating capacity of 27,500. But interest became so great after both teams went through the 1958 season unbeaten that the two Academy superintendents decided to seek a site with a larger stadium.

Col. Francis J. Roberts, Army's director of athletics, was assigned to check with officials in Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York's Yankee Stadium.

"I already have talked with the mayors of Cleveland and Chicago," said Col. Roberts. "I plan to see Dan Topping and George Weiss today regarding the Yankee Stadium and will go on to Philadelphia Saturday."

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago offered yesterday to match the offer of any other city.

Both Cleveland and Chicago have offered to forego the city tax and pay the travelling expenses of each school's band and a class of cadets, Roberts said. He estimated the traveling expenses at $40,000 with a jump of $75,000 if a regiment is transported to the game.

Col. Roberts said changes in Chicago's Soldier Field would cut the seating capacity to 55,000 or 70,000. Cleveland's Municipal Stadium can handle around 77,700 and Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium about 100,000.

Palmer Leads at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who developed the necessary muscles for a power game while growing up on a Pennsylvania golf course, led Cary Middlecoff and six others by one stroke as the $30,000 Houston Classic golf tournament began its second round today.

Palmer, son of a Latrobe, Pa., pro and the owner of a set of golf clubs at the age o' 3, fired a sizzling 6-under-par 66 yesterday.

Middlecoff and five others had posted 67s earlier. They were joined by J. C. Goosie, who shot a hole-in-one on the 185-yard 15th and took five strokes off par his last six holes.

Junior Mat Event Saturday at PCH

Placing contestants in the 12 weight classes is the main aim of tourney officials as final arrangements are being completed for the annual Pontiac Junior High wrestling meet to be held Saturday at Pontiac Central.

City prep coaches Steve Szabo of PCH and Bill Wilson of Northern will direct and handle the officiating for the event.

All five junior high schools will have teams entered with Madison defending champion and current possessor of the coveted traveling trophy.

The weight classes run from 85 through heavyweight. Medals will be awarded the 1st three individual finishers in each weight division.

The tournament will begin at 1 p. m. and continue through 6 p. m. when the champions will be crowned.

PCH Defending Champion for Mansfield Test

Chiefs, Birmingham and Farmington Head Area Delegations

Pontiac Central High's hopeful thinclads today headed for Mansfield, Ohio, and the 28th annual Mansfield Relays, one of the country's top-rated track events. Chiefs are defending champions. They won their 2nd title last spring, and are the only team from outside the Buckeye state to hold that honor. Field includes 133 schools.

Coach Dean Wilson named a squad of 13 for the trip. Only a handful of last year's point-makers return, the biggest losses being ace sprinter Bob Manning, miler Larry Beamer, half-miler Rog Coats and high-jumper Charley Barge.

Birmingham probably will have a 9-man team, led by ace vaulter Bill Alcorn, 1958 runnerup and current Michigan champion. Maples also have entered a 4-mile relay team, that runs this afternoon. Fraser Cocks, Dan Reid, Dave Pew and Jim Reilly comprise the quartet.

Other top area athletes expected to go include Farmington's brilliant hurdler, Warren Cawley, who has been wiping out some of Hayes Jones' records this spring. Walled Lake's Frank Fink, vaulter and sprinter; Flint Central's dash star Ron Watkins; milers Jerry Bashaw of Lincoln Park and Grosse Pte. Rem Purdy; high jumper Jerry Gerich of the Pointe and others.

Williams May Go to Florida for Conditioning

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams may go to Florida to get into shape. The Boston Red Sox slugger has ben given doctors' permission to begin light exercises in his recovery from a pinched neck nerve. However, he must continue to wear a cervical collar for another 10 days or two weeks, pending another examination.

Owner Says Phillies Will Not Be Moved

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Owner Bob Carpenter says he has no plans for moving his Philadelphia Phillies baseball team to New York.

Carpenter insisted yesterday he wants to keep the National League team in Philadelphia. And he added he has made no agreement with authorities in nearby Camden, N.J., for a new stadium. He said, however, he would be glad to have his Phils play there.

Tourney Field Dwindles
Jam for AAU Mat Titles

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — A traffic jam will be cleared somewhat today in several talent-laden weight divisions of the AAU wrestling tournament.

There were 187 wrestlers in the first rounds yesterday and three especially large weight groups went through a second round. robin tomorrow night.

Afterward 27 of the 78 men entered at 136.5, 147.5, and 160.5 were on the outside looking in.

But there's still a lot of clearing to do in those and other weights before the tourney gets down to its championship round

Heaviest jam prior to this afternoon's session was at 136.5. Leading the way here were Fred Capolongo of Cooper Athletic Club, New York; Jim Sinadinos, Lansing, Mich.; Lee Allen of 7th Army; Linn Long, Tulsa YMCA; and Yoshitaka Nishiwaki, of Japan, all of whom scored two pins apiece yesterday.

Things were only a little less crowded at 147.5. Defending champion Newt Copple of Lincoln, Neb., had two pins to his credit and was joined by Bud Bell of the Camp Pendleton Marines and James Burke, unattached from Boulder, Colo. Several others were close behind.

The 160.5 pound division boasted such men as Phil Kinyon, a sailor wrestling for the Cowboy AC; and double pinners Fritz Fivian of Oregon State, Fred Boger, of Chicago's Irving Park YMCA, and David Nelson of the 7th Army.

Defending champions beside Copple who showed up well yesterday included Terry McCann, Tulsa YMCA, at 125.5 with a pin; Wenzel Hubel of Los Angeles YMCA, who won by decision at 174; Frank Rosenmayr of San Francisco Olympic Club, who registered a pin at 191, and heavyweight Bill Kerslake of Cleveland. Kerslake started his quest for a seventh straight title with a pin.

Lakewood Rolloff, 3 Tourneys
Big Bowling Weekend

Lakewood Lanes and Cooley Lanes join two other area alleys in combining for one of the biggest bowling weekends in this sector this season starting tomorrow.

A rolloff for the final of a series of "Beat the Pro" programs is certain to draw a large crowd at Lakewood Saturday as the women get their first and only chance to take part this year.

Marion Ladewig has signed to appear here April 28 to bowl against four women. Her opponents will be determined in the rolloffs which will start at noon Saturday for open contestants and 1 p.m. for league entries.

The participants in the qualifying have earned the right to face the nation's top woman kegler through strong showings bowling at Lakewood. All prizes, donated by area merchants for the entire program, will be presented following the April 28 event.

Cooley Lanes will hold the 1st of its two-weekend Oakland County Mixed Singles Individual Tournament with women battling men for a $100 guaranteed 1st prize and many others.

The deadline for entries in the tourney is tonight. Bowling starts Saturday at 2 p. m.

The other two busy alleys will be at the Elks and Howe's Lanes. Each will be staging the next to last weekend of its respective meet.

Ray Ball of Ortonville has rolled the best score with 952 at Howe's. His 826 actual also is tops for the singles tourney. Emery Tee of Waterford has the best actual single of 247. Over 350 bowlers have yet to compete.

Howard Fields and Lee Ann Jones of Pontiac are the team to beat in the Elks Doubles event. They combined for an even 1300 last weekend of its meet.

Arlette and Earl Hagan dropped to 2nd after leading from opening day with 1282. Eight of top ten teams are from Pontiac.

Tom Henson, sprinter on Michigan State's 1959 track squad, comes from a family that has contributed two Spartan track captains. Brother Dick was captain in 1952 and father Lyle led the squad in 1927.

PCH, St. Fred Post Golf Wins

A trio of 1-over-par 38s sparked Pontiac Central's golf team to 260 to 336 trouncing of Waterford in a dual match at Pontiac Country Club yesterday afternoon.

St. Frederick won a double dual golf event but took a battering in baseball while Orchard Lake St. Mary was winning in both track and baseball. St. Michael also bowed on the diamond.

Mike Samardzija, Tom Deaton and John Taylor were the Chiefs who deadlocked for medal honors besting Waterford star Chuck Canterbury, who had 41.

St. Fred tripped Royal Oak St. Mary 170-175 in four-man play and took Clarkston 278-296 using six players at Pontiac Municipal. Chuck Deschaine led the Rams with 40 followed by Pat Secoy's 42. Charley Brzezenski had 43 for ROSM and Jim Gunter 44 for Clarkston.

St. Benedict blasted the Ram baseballers 18-1 behind Ed Everhart's 3-hit pitching. A late St. Michael rally fell short as the Shamrocks bowed to St. Rita 6-5. RO St. Mary downed St. James 6-3 and Farmington dropped Clarenceville 8-5 in other action.

Stan Krogulecki allowed just two hits and struck out 11 in a 4-1 Eaglet triumph over St. Clement. The St. Mary thinclads romped over Oak Park 82-27 featured by four slams. Larry Sissen's 14 points helped make it easy.

Today's prep schedule had Pontiac Northern hoping to get in both baseball and track activity at home before predicted rains came.

The Huskies were to meet Flint Mandeville and Lake Orion in track and Waterford in baseball. Howell at Milford, Walled Lake at Cranbrook and a triangular sending West Bloomfield and Brighton to Bloomfield Hills were other track meets slated.

Elsewhere in baseball, Avondale traveled to Fraser, Romeo was host to Marysville, Southfield was at Royal Oak Kimball, Berkley at Ferndale and Lamphere at Grosse Pointe University School.

Pontiac Central went to Saginaw and Cranbrook to Grosse Pointe for tennis matches. Cranbrook takes on Flint Northern at home in baseball Saturday.

Chief Baseballers Win 3rd Straight

It took extra innings to do it but Pontiac Central continued its unbeaten ways in baseball by nipping Saginaw Arthur Hill 7-6 at Wisner Field yesterday.

A walk and wild throw on a sacrifice bunt decided the game in the 9th as the Chiefs made it three straight, two of them in Saginaw Valley play.

Dave Jones went all the way for the home team in a game marred by 11 errors. Pontiac was outhit 7-6 but put together four of its bingles for four runs in the 7th to come from behind and force the contest into overtime.

ABC Masters Meet to Start

Action Will Begin Saturday; Tulsa Team Rolls 3,143

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 9th annual American Bowling Congress Masters tournament begins tomorrow with 380 entrants aiming at dethroning champion Tom Hennessey of St. Louis.

Most of the nation's stars will take part in the 5-day match play singles event. The Masters will be held in the 138th Infantry Armory, where the 56th ABC championships have been in progress for 62 days.

Hennessey, who won the National Match Game Doubles Championship with teammate Don Carter in Peoria, Ill., early this week, was exempt from qualifying. So were 1956-57 champion Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, 1955 champion Buzz Fazio of Detroit, Don Carter, 1958 bowler of the year, and Al Faragalli, Wayne, N.J., 1958 ABC all-events champion. George Young of Detroit was also exempt, but withdrew from the tourney because of illness.

The double elimination finals start Sunday.

The only major change in the ABC standings in yesterday's action came as Pacific Pumps of Tulsa, Okla., rolled a 3,143 series to take fifth place in the open team division. The Detroit Pfeiffers lead the division with 3,243.

Demeter Keeping Dodgers Going

By The Associated Press

Don Demeter, a scrawny kid signed to a baseball contract although he wasn't really wanted, is starting to pay off for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Still a rather frail looking guy, although the Dodgers have fattened him up with liver oil and vitamins, Demeter has figured in all three for the ailing Duke Snider in center field. With Duke nursing a knee, Demeter has figured in all t hree Los Angeles victories.

He did it again last night, socking a two-run homer, a single and a fifth-inning double that brought home the winning run in a 7-6 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals at Los Angeles.

After batting a timid .189 in 106 trips through 43 games last season, Demeter now is 7-for-13 (.538) in four games, ripping three homers and driving in six runs. Now 23, he stands 6-4 and weighs about 180, a 2-inch, 10-pound gain since the liver oil treatment began two years ago.

"We signed him," Dodger veep Fresco Thompson admits, "only because we wanted two other kids. They were all buddies at an Oklahoma City (Okla.) high school back in 1952 and when we signed the two we wanted (I don't know exactly where they are now), they said couldn't we sign their buddy, too?

"So the scout gave him $600 or something like that and that's how we got Demeter."

The Dodgers also have a share of fourth place at the moment in the National League, 1½ games behind Milwaukee's still undefeated first place Braves, who beat Philadelphia 7-3. The Chicago Cubs, who share fourth, whipped San Francisco 11-3. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were idle.

Rookie Ron Fairley sliced a lead-off shot over the left-field "barrier" off loser Ernie Broglio (0-2), who also gave up Demeter's homer for a three-run first inning. Rookie Jim Baxes hit a three-run homer off Howie Nunn, second of six Card pitchers. St. Louis used 25 players, a NL record and matching the Major League mark for a nine-inning game. The Cards also used eight pinch-hitters, with George Crowe the only one to get a hit, and that tied a NL record.

Johnny Klippstein, third Dodger pitcher, was the winner with Clem Labine's help in a two-run ninth. Ken Boyer homered for the Cards, while Chuck Essegian batted in three runs.

Lew Burdette gained his second victory and complete game with a six hitter for the Braves, who won with four runs in the eighth off losing reliever Jack Meyer (0-1). A bases-loaded walk, a passed ball, Johnny Logan's squeeze bunt and Felix Mantilla's second RBI single got the rally runs home after Dave Philley's ninth consecutive pinch hit, an RBI double, junked Burdette's 3-2 lead in the seventh.

Ed Bouchee homered for the Phils, while Ed Mathews' third home run of the season chased Phils' starter Robin Roberts in the sixth.

Five Giant errors, for a total of 17 in six games, gave the Cubs six unearned runs, five coming as they scored seven in the ninth. Dale Long's two-run homer was the clincher in the fifth off loser Sam Jones (1-1). Glen Hobbie (1-0) won it with relief help. Jackie Brandt and Orlando Cepeda, hitting his third in two games, homered

Lane 10-7 Choice Tonight on TV

The Michigan fighter was quoted at 10-7 in the betting to win in the nationally televised scrap. It is scheduled to go on at 10 o'clock, EST, via NBC.

The winner may go on to get another match for the title with champion Joe Brown.

Lane lost a disputed decision to Brown in a title go in Houston, Tex., last July. He is rated the No. 1 contender.

Henning at Xavier

DETROIT (UPI) — Vic Henning, University of Detroit fullback last fall, will coach football, basketball and baseball at St. Francis Xavier High School of Ecorse starting this fall.

Henning, 22, succeeds Nick Galante who went to St. Mary's of Redford replacing Danny Boisture. Boisture now is an assistant at Michigan State University.

Thief Sorry Now He Voted for Fleet Mayor

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Mayor Joseph N. Langan spotted a man pilfering a newspaper stand coin box. He looked around for a policeman and, seeing none, ran after the thief, collared him and held him until an officer arrived minutes later.

Woman Teaches Men Trick of Driving

Police flagged down two trains, put flares around the stranded truck and called a tow truck. Then Mrs. Anthony Moyer, the truck's owner arrived, got into the vehicle and calmly backed it off the tracks.

Japanese Not Impressed by Tourists' Money

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

The reason is that the American tourist, generally, behaves himself here. He learns, shortly after arrival, there is little point in being a loudmouth, because who's to understand?

He cannot patronize the natives by lavish tipping because they will either turn away, bewildered, or bow so low that even the most insensitive big spender cannot help but notice he has broken tradition to the point of offensiveness.

There is little, if any, tipping in Japan. Oh, if a bellboy virtually breaks his back with 66 pounds of luggage, you amy give him 100 yen (about 22 cents) without offense. Or if a cab driver spends an hour trying to find your destination, you may add a few yen to your 30-cent fare, and find him grinning appreciation.

But as a usual thing in Japan, gratuities are discouraged and prices are low. A fine sirloin steak, from hand-massaged cows, runs about $1.25. Good sukiyaki dinners are one-fifth the price of New York Japanese restaaurants. Hotels are reasonable, flowers are cheap, wishes at the Shinto temples are free.

Only Geisha girls and pearls are costly. And even they are way below the price of comparable treasures in the states.

TOURISTS SUBDUED

Since the chief reason for the American tourists' odiousness in other lands is based on his attitude that his U. S. dollars will buy anything, he is obviously subdued in Japan.

And, because so few of the Japanese understand English, he cannot event impress them with what they're missing.

The land of Japan is smaller than the state of California, with vast areas of unlivable mountains, and an ever-bulging population of 92 million. Less than a century ago it was barbaric. Lives of girl babies often were extinguished after the first gasps of recognition.

But now, with civilization and progress, life is not so cheap. Just crowded. Of the city of Tokyo, largest in the world, it might safely be said that at no time of day or night, on no street or twisted lane, would no man or woman or child be found.

This squirming city is circled around what is called a "vacuum zone" — the Emperor's palace grounds. And lately, men of political importance in the city have been making public suggestions which, two decades ago, might have brought them prompt, enforced hara-kiri.

WANT PALACE LANDS

They are suggesting that the 500 celestial, serene acres behind the walls and moat of the palace are the most valuable real estate in Japan—and should be turned over to the people.

He and followers suggest the Emperor would be just as well located in a palace at quaint old Kyoto, or at the foothills of Mt. Fujiyama which—like the Emperor—is a symbol of the country.

Dissenters to this "plot against the palace" point to the fact that Kkano is a Christian. As such, he could not realize that the palace is a shrine and must not be moved for mere "convenience."

No one seems to have asked the Emperor how he feels about this very serious matter which, if the move came through, would be one further humiliation to the once all-powerful throne of Japan. But actually Hirohito would have little to say. Since the war, he has been stripped of real ownership of the palace land, and now lives on an appropriation from the national exchequer provided by the taxpayers.

The taxpayers are torn apart emotionally by this problem. They realize it is they who are supporting the magnificent pastoral palace —which they are permitted to visit only twice a year, on New Year's Day and Hirohito's birthday—while they themselves live in tight, squalid quarters.

But this is their Emperor, for 2,000 years their lord and master —and still inviolable, though no longer a deity.

Newspaper polls reveal that more than 50 iper cent of the taxpayers want him to live on, in luxury and peace, in the heart of the city.

Lack of Teeth Causes Overweight Among Aged

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Dr. Gilbert Mellion of the Connecticut State Dental Association said "one of the causes of obesity" among older persons "is the lack of sufficient natural teeth or replacements to chew properly."

He pointed out that this encourages the eating of softer — and more fattening — foods.

Thousands Have Perished

Seek Way to Lift 'Killer Fogs'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Must man stand by helplessly when a "killer fog" rolls in over a city?

This question is getting increasing attention from weather-control scientists. They have found several ways of dispelling fog on a temporary, local basis.

So far, no feasible method has been discovered to deliver a whole city from the damp gray blanket that blots out the sun—and sometimes lives as well.

The worst "killer fogs" in history were those that caused thousands of deaths in London in 1952 and 1956. It looked for a while as though London was going to have a repeat last December, but a change in natural weather conditions lifted the blanket just in time.

Controlling man made air pollution seems at the moment to be the most promising way to prevent such catastrophies. Strenuous efforts are being made in this direction—as witness the national conference on air pollution held here last November.

But even a "clean" fog can be dangerous, because it destroys visibility at airports, and on streets and highways. So the search goes on for a way to get rid of the wispy stuff.

The earliest modern experiments were made in Britain during World War II at the instigation of Prime Minister Winston Churchill. Fog over RAF landing fields was severely handicapping fighter operations during the Battle of Britain. So Churchill gave top priority to a project dubbed "FIDO"—Fog Dispersal Operation.

It yielded one practical solution: when vast quantities of petrol were burned near the runways of air fields, the heat thrown off created a sort of "tunnel" in the fog through which returning fighters were able to land.

The same principle "theoretically" could be invoked to dissipate a potential killer fog over a big city like London, according to Norman P. Hagen, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist.

FUEL IS PROBLEM

"But it would require prodigious quantities of fuel," Hagen said. "The amount of heat required to dispel a heavy fog over a large area staggers the imagination. No economically feasible way of producing so much heat is now known."

How about exploding bombs in the air to break up the fog?

"Not practical," said Hagen. In the first place, it wouldn't work, and in the second place the waste products from the explosion (even assuming it was non-nuclear) would contaminate the fog and make matters worse.

Many successful experiments have been conducted both here and abroad in the use of dry ice pellets or silver iodide particles to condense some of the moisture in a fog.

The technique is the same as used in rain-making. The dry ice pellets are dropped into the fog from a plane or the silver iodide particles are sent up from a ground smoke generator.

If the fog conditions are just right, these techniques will produce temporary, local dissipation. But the cost, difficulty and unreliability of both processes have limited their use to small areas, such as airports.

Another method which sometimes works well in a limited area is to blow the fog away with giant fans. It was done at some fighter strips during wartime — by using the propellors of many parked planes as fans.

It is being used currently at certain danger spots on the New Jersey Turnpike, where great fans have been isstalled to blow away local accumulations of fog which otherwise would present severe hazards to safe driving.

There may be another, simpler and better way that no one has thought of yet. That's why the research is continuing.

Big Silencer Muffles Roar of Jet Engines

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP)—The 20,000-pound thrust jet engines of the F-105 jet fighter-bomber have been muffed at Republic aviation's airfield here by a huge silencer.

Snubbed around the tail of the big plane, the two-story high $250,000 silencer soaks up the roar when the J-75 engines are being tested.

It's so effective, company engineers claim, that you can stand in the shadow of the muffler and carry on a normal conversation while the jet engine is running full blast.

By 1950 the average hen on American farms produced 167 eggs compared with the previous 10-year average of only 147 eggs per layer.

Cost of Philandering More Noticeable Now

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Anthony Pizza, assistant county prosecutor, believes the swindling value of the dollar is responsible for a rise in complaints about husbands running around with other women.

With purchasing power curtailed, he theorized, money spent in philandering is reflected quickly in the family budget and the wives become suspicious.

Maybe, he ventured, "the amount of chasing is about the same as always."

With the two new states in the union, the next presidential candidates'll not only have to kiss babies, but also rub noses and do the hula . . . One difference between a bachelor and a married man is that the bachelor's busy painting the town while the husband's out painting the back porch. —Earl Wilson.

Stocks Continue Record Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved further into record high ground in heavy early trading today.

Leading issues rose from fractions to about a point generally. A few made wider gains.

Among them, American Telephone spurted to a new record high since 1930, opening at 261¾ on a block of 8,000 shares, then bettering its net gain to about 4 points.

The AT&T "when-issued" stock based on the 3-for-1 stock split rose 1 to 87⅛ on an opener of 25,000 shares and improved its rise fractionally. The "when-issued" stock was still selling at a premium over present stock.

Chemicals were fairly strong as gains ran to more than a point for American Cyanamid and Du Pont and more than 2 for Allied Chemical. Thiokol leaped around 9 points.

Zenith added 2 and high-priced International Business Machines rose 3.

Gulf Oil rose about 2.

Nothing Is Unnoticed When Ingrid Shops

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We had an exciting phone call from a party who said, "Ingrid Bergman was just now looking around in a maternity department wearing flat heels and no makeup!"

Breathless, we phoned the store; asked for Maternity.

WILSON

Head of Maternity Kitty Wing said: "We'd like to confirm that our department had such an illustrious customer. But Miss Bergman was looking for the ladies' room and got off on our floor by mistake."

Our party, when phoned back, snarled: "Don't let 'em kid you! I followed her. She went straight to maternity and left when all the crowd recognized her."

We phoned Miss Bergman who laughed uproariously.

"I was in the children's department buying some suits for my boys," she said. "Do they have a maternity department there?"

We're afraid we didn't settle the great question which Ingrid doesn't want to discuss.

Jackie Gleason's suffering from "Diverticulosis" which he explains is "little pockets on the colon" but which the dictionary says is "a pouch-like offshoot of the lower part of the ileum due to the non-obliteration of the omphalo-mesenteric duct." When this latter definition was read to him, Gleason exclaimed, "I better lay down, I don't feel good."

Nuremberg Trial Drama a Courageous 'Clutcher'

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 bit off quite a chunk last night, perhaps too big a chunk for a 90-minute drama. But I must say despite its dramatic flaws, "Judgment at Nuremberg" succeeded in clutching me hard for its full span.

It's strange that a play about the German war trials should strike me as courageous only 14 years after World War II, but this is a pretty topsy turvey world and the ball has taken some peculiar bounces. As "Judgment at Nuremberg" pointed out, I. G. Farben is now on our side and history, indeed, does run a curious course.

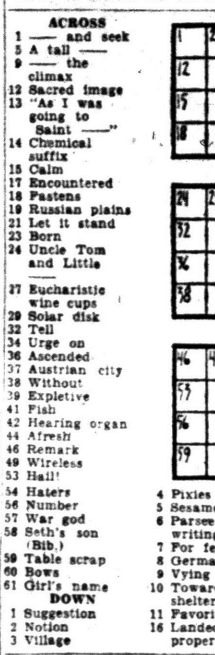

Abby Mann's script dealt with the trial of four German jurists and within its frame, it touched upon a question that must continue to haunt all contemporary men; the responsibility the individual must bear for the crimes of his community.

The stuff of the play was pretty uncompromising. Most of us would prefer to forget Buchenwald and Dachau, but last night their horrors were retched out on some Army Signal Corps film of haunting power. There was also much talk, tough and unsettling, badly needed on that faucet of pap, television.

In its earnestness, "Judgment at Nuremberg" tried to touch upon too much territory — the problem of German rearmament, the problem of the unpopularity of the trials, the guilt the world must bear for Hitler, the tricky issue of unwitting guilt. As a result, it eseemed patchy and not quite congealed.

The performances were four square with Claude Rains, Paul Lukas and Max Schell carrying the main burden. In a minor part, I liked Marketa Kimbrell.

Now That Dulles Is Gone

Ike to Do More in Foreign Field

By MERRIMAN SMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga.—President Eisenhower will move increasingly into the field of personal diplomacy because of the resignation of ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

This was the forecast today from persons closely conversant with Eisenhower's mood and work patterns since Dulles suffered his second major flareup of cancer early last February.

Persons who knew first hand how the President took over many of Dulles' foreign policy chores in February expected Eisenhower to shoulder an even more active role in this field now that Dulles is sidelined.

Dulles, from his hospital bed, his home or an office in the White House, will function as an elder statesman and close foreign policy adviser to the President.

There were varied reasons Eisenhower could be expected to inject himself increasingly into the formation and conduct of foreign policy. One was that regardless of Dulles' successor, the new secretary cannot expect to have the same degree of close friendship and understanding that existed between Eisenhower and Dulles.

Traditionally and historically, a President determines foreign policy and his state secretary executes it. It would be more accurate to say that Eisenhower and Dulles made foreign policy together. With a new secretary, Eisenhower was expected to be calling the shots to an increased degree.

And there was fairly educated speculation that Eisenhower may undertake a greater personal role as a worldwide salesman for the West and the free world as opposed to the Soviet bloc.

He would like to travel more in areas rarely or never visited by an American President, but whether he will be able to do so depends largely on the domestic demands of the Presidency during his remaining 20 months in office.

The biggest customers for U.S. farm exports last year were, in order, the United Kingdom, Japan, Canada, West Germany, the Netherlands, India, Italy, Cuba, Mexico, Belgium, Spain and the Republic of Korea.

ELECTRIC HEAT

Buying, building or remodeling, you'll want to learn more about built-in electric heat. It's so comfortable, so fast and so clean it makes other heating methods downright old fashioned. Electric heat makes it practical—for the first time—to control the temperature in each room separately. Comfort? Here's such comfort it's a brand-new experience.

Electric heat completely eliminates the need for a furnace; for boiler or radiators; for chimney or fuel facilities. It gives you this space as a bonus!
