Lake Tahoe Plane Found

168 Dead in Two Air Disasters

No Survivors in Resort Trip

85 Persons Killed on Sierra Mountain

TAHOE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Air searchers found the wreckage today of a four-engine plane where it crashed into a Sierra peak, east of Lake Tahoe, killing all 85 persons aboard.

A doctor, taken by helicopter to the remote scene at the 8,800 foot level of a snowy mountain, confirmed there were no survivors.

The Paradise Airlines Constellation vanished in a snowstorm yesterday while carrying 81 passengers to Nevada's casinos and ski resorts on a flight from San Jose, Calif.

★ ★ ★

An airline official at Tahoe Airport, destination of the flight, said the plane hit the peak with such force that wreckage was scattered over a large area.

WAS HOLDING

The pilot, caught in a snowstorm while nearing the airport, had radioed he was "holding" but the airline spokesman said: "I would say he was on his way to Reno when he hit."

Plans were made to send in helicopters to remove the bodies.

Lt. Col. Alexander S. Sherry, deputy commander of the Western Air Rescue Center, Hamilton Air Force Base, told an airport news conference the wreckage was spotted just west of the hamlet of Genoa, Nev.

★ ★ ★

Just before the conference, a helicopter pilot told the Associated Press the wreckage was found 200 feet below the top of a rugged peak towering among those which rise up to 10,000 feet or more in the ski and gambling playland around Lake Tahoe.

SOUTH OF PEAK

The scene of the crash, first of a commercial airliner in the resort area — was just south of Genoa peak.

The spotting helicopter was one of 17 which flew out today over the rugged wilderness scene near the site of the 1960 Squaw Valley Winter Olympics.

A ground party in snow tractors headed for the wreckage.

It was reported to be midway between Zephyr Cove and Genoa, east of the glittering 23-by-12-mile lake. The tractors left from a sheriff's substation at Zephyr Cove.

Panel Found in Alps Crash

Rescuers Are Probing Why 83 Met Death

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — British and Austrian investigators were reported today to have found part of a battered instrument panel in the wreckage of a British airliner which crashed in the Austrian Alps. Rescue workers began removing the bodies of the 83 persons who were on board.

The investigators worked among the wreckage with the rescue crews in hope of finding some clue to the cause of the crash during a heavy Alpine fog Saturday.

It was not known here whether the instrument panel portion reported found in the mountain gully where the plane came to rest contained the altimeter. Reports reaching here said the panel was badly battered.

The wreckage was spotted yesterday between the peaks of Mt. Gamslahner and Mt. Glungezer by a U.S. search plane. Rescue crews were flown to the site in helicopters.

WAS LANDING

Austrian officials said the four-engine Bristol Britannia of Britain's Eagle Airways hit Mt. Glungezer while maneuvering to land at this winter resort where the 1964 Winter Olympics were held last month.

The big turboprop plane, its fuel tanks still nearly half full, apparently struck the mountain at full speed and exploded. Debris and bodies were strewn over a 2,000-yard area in the gulf between Gamslahner and Glungezer peaks.

The 75 passengers included 73 Britons bound for a skiing holiday and two Australians. The airline, International Eagle, said there were 18 married couples aboard and at least five children. The plane carried a crew of eight.

EARLY VOTERS — Mr. and Mrs. William McLean of 103 Dwight sign their ballot slips just before entering a voting both at Webster School. They were among the first to vote in Precinct 41 today as polls opened at 7 a.m. for the city primary. Their precinct is in District 2, where five city Commission hopefuls are seeking nomination to the April 20 ballot.

Ruby Lawyer Tonahill Held in Contempt After Exchange

DALLAS (AP) — Judge Joe E. Brown held assistant defense attorney Joe Tonahill in contempt of court after an angry exchange between Tonahill and Asst. Dist. Atty. A. D. Jim Bowie. He was fined $25.

Tonahill was on his feet arguing with Bowie over a point of law. Suddenly Tonahill took a pencil, broke it and threw the pieces on the floor. They bounced over toward the judge's bench.

Tonahill quickly apologized. "I am sorry, your honor," Tonahill said. "I got a little provoked." The judge said quietly, "Mr. Tonahill, I cannot tolerate that."

★ ★ ★

Belli rose and asserted that Tonahill "has the greatest respect for this court and all courts." Belli said that the last time he had risen to defend a colleague who had been cited for contempt of court he found himself also cited. "I don't want that to happen again here," he said.

HELD IN CONTEMPT

When he finished speaking, the judge told Tonahill, "I hold you in contempt of court."

The defense used its 18th and last peremptory challenge today. Ruby's attorneys originally had 15 challenges, as did the prosecution, and were granted three additional peremptories by which they can dismiss prospective jurors without giving a reason.

Tonahill then asked for 25 more peremptory challenges. He was smiling broadly when he made the request. Brown declined it and said he would not grant the defense any more challenges.

The state has seven of its 15 challenges left.

During a recess, Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade and Bowie were called to the judge's chambers. They said they did not believe the judge will grant Belli any more peremptory challenges.

The judge ordered Tonahill to pay his $25 fine immediately.

High Court Upholds Hospital Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review a decision that two private hospitals in Greensboro, N.C., that accepted federal funds for construction must desegregate their staffs and facilities.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond, Va., by 3-2 vote upheld contentions by Negro doctors, dentists and patients that policies of the hospitals violated the U.S. Constitution prohibition against racial discrimination.

The Circuit Court also declared unconstitutional a section of the Hill-Burton Act for federal financial aid for hospital construction, which permitted separate but equal facilities for different races.

The Moses H. Cone and Wesley Long hospitals in Greensboro, losers in the Circuit Court, appealed. The appeal said the Hill-Burton Act expressly disclaimed any federal right to exercise any supervision or control over operation of any hospital that received funds under that law.

In other action the Supreme Court affirmed a decision that four Negro voters had not shown there was a violation of their constitutional rights by the redrawing of the 4th Congressional District in Queens, New York City, into a new 6th Congressional District.

SPECIAL COURT

The decision was given by a special three-judge U.S. District Court in New York City.

The special court said: "The absence of any material change in their rights, including the right to vote, negates the inference of racial discrimination that plaintiffs would have us draw."

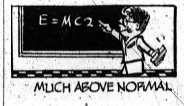

The Supreme Court unanimously affirmed the special court in brief order.

Hot Schedule for Legislature

Action Planned on Controversial Bills

LANSING (AP)—The legislature may come face to face with many of its hottest items this week.

For the first time, the administration's aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U) bill will be on the calendar.

It came out of a House committee Friday after Republican caucus accord.

Tonight, Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, is scheduled to try to rescue his bill to extend Michigan's "Good Samaritan" law to nurses.

VOTED DOWN

The Senate voted it down 17-7 last week when the bill's enemies labeled the 1963 law a "permit for malpractice."

The law absolves doctors from civil liability arising from emergency treatment at the scene of accidents or disasters.

Reconsideration of the Thursday Senate vote is set for tonight.

Tomorrow's schedule calls for a final House vote, as a "special order of business," on whether to abolish Michigan's one-man grand jury system.

Senate debate on mandatory statewide teacher tenure and on a proposed pay raise for county prosecutors also is on tomorrow's schedule.

Republican leaders of both houses have predicted the tenure proposal, which came to the legislature in the form of an initiatory petition, will pass.

Early Voting Is Marked by Confusion

No Balloting Today in District 3 as Only 2 Candidates Filed

Early reports indicated a good voter turnout today in the biggest City Commission primary in Pontiac's history.

Primaries are being held in six of the city's seven districts to determine who will compete for election to the commission on the April 20 general election ballot.

The most noticeable early trend was confusion, according to City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

★ ★ ★

"In spite of all the publicity to the contrary, many voters apparently are showing up with intentions of voting for candidates in all districts," she said.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Mrs. Barkeley's election workers reported several cases in which voters wondered where the other candidates were on their ballots.

Electors will cast only one vote. Ballots only contain the names of candidates in the voter's district.

When the votes are tallied, by district, the two candidates who get the highest number of votes will qualify to run for election on the April ballot.

★ ★ ★

There is no primary today in District 3, where only two candidates filed for the nomination.

OPEN UNTIL 8

Polling places will be open until 8 p.m. but all persons waiting in line to vote at that hour will be allowed to do so.

★ ★ ★

District 1 candidates are the incumbent, Samuel J. Whiters, 50, of 453 Harvey, an electrical contractor; Robert J. Bowens, 41, of 316 Harrison, a Pontiac Motor employe; T. Warren Fowler Sr., 57, of 59 Lake, an electrical and heating and cooling contractor; and Rollie L. Jones, 45, of 212 Bondale, a mathematics and English teacher at Jefferson Junior High School.

DISTRICT TWO

In District 2, the incumbent Commissioner Charles H. Harmon is not running for a second term, but five commission hopefuls are on the ballot there.

They include Allan J. Denham, 49, of 93 Oriole, a process engineer at GMC Truck & Coach Division; Robert C. Irwin, 34, of 435 W. Iroquois, a Pontiac realtor; and Robert W. Jockwig, 70, of 250 Draper, a retired postal employe.

Other District 2 candidates are Philip R. Sauer, 55, of 59 Monroe, a local restaurant owner and former mayor; and Dr. Norman L. Wittkop, 66, of 1025 Argyle, a retired school superintendent.

★ ★ ★

2 Die as Tanker Splits

Crew Rescued at Sea

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Thirty-four survivors of the broken Greek tanker Amphialos arrived in Halifax early today aboard a Canadian warship after a dramatic rescue from the stormy North Atlantic.

Two members of the 36-man Greek crew perished after the 15,800-ton tanker split in two under the battering of gale winds and 20-foot waves off the Nova Scotia coast Saturday. Five of the survivors were taken to a hospital on stretchers.

Capt. Stamantis Polemis, the Amphialos' skipper, said he and his men clung for hours to a rail of the stern section until they were picked up yesterday afternoon by the Canadian destroyer escort Athabaskan. A 300-foot bow section of the 630-foot ship floated away and sank.

The survivors were wrapped in navy blankets as they left the Canadian warship. Most appeared cheerful but tired. They shook hands with the Canadian sailors and in broken English expressed their gratitude.

Asked to confirm the number of men aboard his ship, Polemis said briskly, "We had 36. Now we have 34."

The rescue followed a chance observation by a Canadian air force plane during a training mission. The pilot, Lt. Laurie Friesen, spotted an oil slick about 220 miles southeast of Halifax—presumably from the sunken bow.

"A couple of minutes later we saw two ships," Friesen said. "The nearest was a navy ship—Athabaskan — and about eight miles away was another ship. The second vessel looked different from a normal ship."

As he swooped down, he made out the stern of a ship sticking out of the water.

MEN CLINGING

"There were men clinging to the rails," Friesen said. "They began waving frantically."

Friesen radioed the Athabaskan. The warship's presence in the area was pure chance. The Canadian Navy said no distress signal had been received from the stricken tanker.

The Athabaskan's skipper, Cmdr. Peter R. Hinton of Victoria, said a lookout spotted the floating stern a few minutes after the plane's report. Two lifeboats bobbed in the sea.

Hinton said most of the men in the lifeboats were too weak to climb nets hung over the Athabaskan's side. Canadian sailors scrambled down and aided them aboard.

The rescue of the men on the stern was more difficult.

DISTRICT FIVE

Voters in District 5 have the largest ballot in the city. There are six candidates to choose from.

Including the incumbent Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, 41, of 662 Linda Vista, general manager of McCandless Carpets, there are three candidates who have served on the commission.

John A. Dugan, 55, of 363 Nelson, a Pontiac Motor employe, was commissioner eight years and a mayor pro-tem. John H. Ridgway, 64, 435 Lowell, a semi-retired real estate salesman, is a former mayor and served six years on the commission.

Also vying for the District 5 nomination are Delbert E. Burnett, 33, of 595 Melrose, a wood pattern maker; Robert R. McKeever, 38, of 442 Lowell, and Cecil C. Mullinix, 49, of 571 Lowell both Pontiac Motor employes.

DISTRICT SIX

In District 6 there are five candidates on the primary ballot. Commissioner Dick M. Kirby, 46, of 91 N. Edith, is seeking a second term. He is business agent for the Wayne - Oakland-Macomb Counties Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL-CIO).

Competing with him are Frederick H. Beedle, 40, of 689 E. Pike, a Fisher Body employe and part-time real estate employe; a former commissioner Wesley J. Wood, 57, of 11 N. Sanford, and Christopher C. Hall, 39, of 23 Maynard, both GMC Truck & Coach employes; and Jack F. Prasil, 44, of 29 N. Anderson, a dry cleaning store owner.

Seeking the District 7 nomination are four candidates, including the incumbent, Mayor Robert A. Landry, 50, of 47 Center, a clerk at the Fisher Body Plant in Livonia, who is seeking his fourth term.

Others seeking nomination there are Curtis L. Webb, 30, of 294 Judson, a real estate salesman, licensed cosmetologist and GMC Truck & Coach employe; Emmett S. Wellbaum, 58, of 269 Seward, a Pontiac Motor inspector; and Elmer R. Betts Sr., 69, of 220 Cottage, a painting and decorating contractor.

6 Road Deaths in Weekend

Record County Toll Despite Safety Drive

Six persons were killed in Oakland County traffic accidents over the weekend, bringing the county's 1964 total to nearly double that of a year ago.

Statewide, it was the worst weekend of the year. At least 22 persons died on the highway.

Oakland Highway Toll in '64
Last Year to Date 21

Ironically, the deaths occurred on the weekend that a stepped up traffic safety campaign was put into operation by the Michigan State Police.

The worst accident in the county happened Saturday evening when three men were fatally injured in a two-car crash in Groveland Township.

The victims of the 6:50 p.m. head-on collision on Dixie at Tripp were:

Ronald L. Winter, 24, of 1895 Bird, Groveland Township; James E. Moore Jr., 39, of 5755 Strathdon, Waterford Township; and William Novack, 29, of Flint.

OVER CENTER LINE

Flint State Police said Winter, traveling south, had slowed down to make a left turn when the northbound Novack car crossed over the center line. Moore was a passenger in Novack's car.

Moore and Novack were dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital, Flint. Winter died nine hours after the accident in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Last night William L. Lennon, 68, of 2450 Harmon, Pontiac Township, died of a broken neck after colliding head-on with a car on Lapeer Road near Indian Lake in Orion Township.

The driver of the other car, Larry Purvis, 26, of 1374 Foreland, Oxford Township, and his wife, Linda Sue, 26, were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital. They are in fair condition with facial lacerations. Their 18-month-old baby, Tari, was not seriously injured.

IN WRONG LANE

Sheriff deputies said the 9:37 p.m. accident was caused by Lennon, who was driving south in the northbound lane of the divided highway.

Severe head injuries caused the death of Melvin E. Bornman, 46, of 653 Hurd, Brandon Township, in an early yesterday morning accident.

Bornman, according to Sheriff's deputies, was going north on Lapeer Road in Oxford Township when his car went out of control and overturned numerous times.

Bornman was thrown from the car in the 2:08 a.m. accident near Ray Road. The motor was found 51 feet north of where the car came to rest.

Early Saturday morning, Jerry T. Yeargan, 23, of 2498 Harrison, Rochester, was killed when his car hit a tree after leaving Auburn Road in Avon Township.

Yeargan died of a broken neck in the 1:19 a.m. accident near Eastwood.

Police blamed excessive speed for causing the deaths of Yeargan and Bornman.

ditions and the topography, there was no indication when the trip of more than 10 miles might be completed.

Although casino charter flights are made to the area daily, this was the first air line disaster in the Tahoe Basin.

The Constellation wreckage was first seen by Capt. Leroy W. Mark of Stead Air Force Base, near Reno. He was flying a search helicopter when he came on the grim scene at 7:35 a.m. Pacific Standard Time.

★ ★ ★

Searchers had received 14 reports from persons of hearing an explosion or a plane shortly before noon yesterday when the Constellation was lost.

LITTLE HIGHER

"If he had been 25 to 30 feet higher he would have cleared it," Capt. Marx said.

Marx said the wreckage was scattered over an area 50 feet wide and 100 yards long.

The biggest piece of wreckage was the tail section.

"That's what I saw first," Marx said.

Snow blanketed the area and some snow had blown over the bits of wreckage.

NO ONE ALIVE

"I couldn't see any bodies," Marx said, "but I saw no sign of life."

He had been searching an hour and 15 minutes and just happened to choose the right side of the hill to scan.

The wreckage was in a little bald area with trees on both sides of it. Two of the trees appeared to have been felled by the crashing plane.

Redistricting Before Court

Other Items Set Aside for Debate on 4 Plans

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court, bypassing all its other business, came to grips today with the hot issue of legislative districting.

The high court opened its doors to two days of oral arguments over the best way of dividing up the state for election of Michigan's Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Defining geographical districts for the Senate and House is the court's purpose.

Four plans were docketed for presentation to the court by Republican and Democratic members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission created by the new constitution.

COURT TAKES OVER

The bipartisan eight-man commission failed earlier to agree on a plan of its own, and the court took over the job.

Responsible sources have expressed fears of "legislative chaos" if delay continues.

★ ★ ★

Both the U.S. Constitution and Michigan's Constitution had roles in the case at hand.

The court asked that the oral arguments include discussion of whether the U.S. Constitution's "equal protection" provisions should be brought into its deliberations. It termed the matter "possibly pivotal."

Republicans contended the court's only duty is to decide which of the plans meets the Michigan Constitution's requirement that 38 Senate districts be based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area and that 110 House districts be based on population.

Spies Said in Top U.S. Agencies

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Journal-American reported today that a defector from the Soviet secret police has informed U.S. officials Moscow has placed active "cells" in the Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said the defector is Michal Colenlewski, 41, a Polish-born agent.

It said he was a high-ranking operative in Russia's KGB until his defection in April, 1958, and is sure the "cells" still are operating in the two high government agencies in Washington and overseas.

The Journal - American account, written by Guy Richards, said of the defector:

"He has named names. He has provided Washington with details of what looms as a greater scandal than the famous Alger Hiss case."

DISCLOSURES

The story listed these disclosures said to have been made by Colenlewski:

● "Approximately $1.2 million of CIA funds in Vienna recently was passed secretly along to the Communists — one-third to KGB (the Soyiet secret police), one-third to the Italian Communist party and one-third to the American Communist party.

● "Three American scientists with access to defense secrets are working for the KGB. They have ties to others in the same category whose identities are unknown to him. But he has clues to a number of them.

● "KGB has been able to infiltrate all American embassies in important cities abroad and every U.S. agency except the FBI."

Solution Hope Dim in Malaysian Talks

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Another round of ministerial talks on the Malaysian dispute begins in Bangkok Tuesday with little hope of solution as Indonesia hurled new threats of extermination at Malaysia.

As the foreign ministers of Indonesia, the Philippines and Malasia prepared to meet, the Indonesian Information Ministry said President Sukarno's government is still determined to wreck the young federation of statement added that the dispute should be settled peacefully.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, Indonesia's defense minister, denounced anew Britain's retention of military bases in Malaysia, whose Borneo border with Indonesia is guarded by British as well as Malaysian forces.

Charging that British bases bring "chaos and conflict" throughout Asia and the Middle East, Nasution said Asian bases should be manned by Asians.

He denied that Indonesia wants to seize Malaysian territory, saying: "Indonesia's only aim is to free the people there from imperialism."

Zoning Code Not Seen as Issue in '64 Election

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — This year's city election is expected to be free of the controversy over the zoning code which has dominated politics here for over two years.

The City Commission tentatively has scheduled an 8 p.m. Friday meeting to make a final decision on the proposed ordinance.

For this reason, the slate of four commission candidates for the April 6 election does not include the name of Henry L. Woolfenden.

★ ★ ★

"I believe the new ordinance is going to be adopted and that virtually all issues will be resolved," Woolfenden said today. "It seemed an appropriate time to not run."

LAW PRACTICE

"I figured I had made what contribution I could to the city," he commented. The Detroit attorney who has served as commissioner since 1957 said he planned to devote himself to his law practice.

During recent sessions commissioners have resolved all but one of the zoning issues over which there had been disagreement.

The only decision remaining is on the provision for three-story town houses. Woolfenden and the late Mayor Lyman J. Craig opposed the section which would allow their construction.

The commissioner said today he has not changed his mind.

UNEXPIRED YEAR

John Blanchard, who was appointed Feb. 3 to fill the vacancy caused by Craig's death, will seek election to the commission for the unexpired year left in the term.

Two-year commission terms expiring this year are those of Woolfenden and James A. Beresford.

A nominating petition for the incumbent was filed by the Saturday deadline along with those of Robert A. Fry, 1255 Trowbridge, and Edward A. Schirmer, 456 Lone Pine Court.

Homer J. Murphy will be unopposed in his bid for another one-year term as constable.

Nominating petitions for six City Commission candidates, including the two incumbents, were filed by the Saturday deadline.

Two three-year terms will be filled at the April 6 city election.

Terms due to expire are those of Robert W. Page and Ralph W. Main.

Others whose petitions were filed are Mrs. Patricia Grissom of 1090 Westwood, Stanley Fjol of 662 W. Frank, Charles W. Clippert of 1792 Pine and Mrs. Ruth McNamee of 1271 Lakeside.

City Clerk Irene Hanley noted that they have until next Saturday to accept the nominations.

Seeking reelection for three-year terms on the library board will be Edwin S. Snyder and Arthur J. Underwood Jr. They will be unopposed.

Mrs. Ivar Ivarson

Private service for Mrs. Ivar (Hulda G.) Ivarson, 87, of 18187 Birwood was to be held at 1:30 p.m. today at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial following in Acacia Park Cemetery, Southfield.

Mrs. Ivarson died Friday after a brief illness.

Surviving are three daughters Mrs. George Graves of Vista, Calif., Mrs. Henry Gilmartin of Birmingham and Mrs. Raymond I. Goddard of Detroit; two sons, Einar of New Kensington, Pa., and I. Leonard of Detroit; eight grandchildren; and 15 great-grandchildren.

William S. James

Service for William S. James, retired mechanical engineer, was to be held this afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook with burial following in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Arrangements were by the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

Mr. James, 71, of 4805 N. Adams, Bloomfield Hills, died Saturday.

A former vice president of engineering and research at Fram Corp., Detroit, he had served as director of research for Ford Motor Co., and chief engineer for Studebaker Corp.

A graduate of George Washington University, he was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook and Bloomfield Hills Country Club, and a past president of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Surviving besides his wife, Rose R., are a daughter, Mrs. William Edellein of Rochester, N. Y.; a son, William R. of Bloomfield Hills; nine grandchildren; and a brother.

Mrs. Charles D. Marsh

Memorial service for Mrs. Charles D. (Rita) Marsh, 49, of 381 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, will be 1 p.m. Wednesday at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mrs. Marsh was killed in an airplane crash in Troy Saturday.

She was a member of the Junior League, National Cathedral Association, the Bloomfield Hills Garden Club and the Greenhouse Garden Club.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Patricia, and a son, John C., both at home; her mother, Mrs. Frieda C. Von Wrangell of Buffalo, N.Y., and a brother.

Memorial contributions can be made to the National Cathedral Association, Mt. Saint Alban, Washington, D. C.

Dr. John H. Selman

Service for Dr. John H. Selman, 63, of 2739 Heathfield, Bloomfield Township, was held this morning at the Ira Kaufman Chapel, Southfield, with burial following in Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

Dr. Selman, a general practitioner with offices in Auburn Heights, died yesterday.

He was president of the Auburn Heights Rotary Club, a charter member of the American Academy of General Practice, and a member of the American Medical Association and the Michigan State, Oakland and Wayne County Medical Societies.

Surviving are his wife Ida; a son, Dr. Robert Selman; a daughter, Nancy J. Selman, at home; a brother, Jack Zelmanov of Oak Park; three sisters, Mrs. Julius Sonne of Oak Park, Mrs. Ben Schwartz of California, and Mrs. Anna Steinberg of Chicago, Ill.; and two grandchildren.

Memorial contributions can be made to charity.

Crash Survivor of Plane Wreck Is Still Critical

A Bloomfield Hills stockbroker, pilot of a small plane which crashed in Troy Saturday, killing his wife and injuring her mother, is reported still in critical condition today.

Charles Marsh, 58, of 381 Cranbrook, suffered multiple fractures and lacerations when his four-passenger aircraft lost power on takeoff and crashed off the end of a runway of the Berz Airport.

George Berz, son of the airport owner, said the plane had barely lifted off the ground when it rapidly descended and broke into four pieces.

In the plane with Marsh were his wife Rita, 49, and her mother, Mrs. Freida Von Wrangell, 68. Both Marsh and Mrs. Von Wrangell are in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. Mrs. Von Wrangell is reported in satisfactory condition.

GOING HOME

Police said the Marshes were taking Mrs. Von Wrangell to her home in Buffalo, N.Y.

The pilot, a stockbroker with the Bloomfield branch of Manley, Bennett, McDonald & Co., has been flying for five years.

He is former co-owner of Demery's Inc., and the father of two children, John C., 22, and Patricia, 19.

The mishap occurred shortly after noon Saturday.

MacArthur to Hospital for Abdominal Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur flew here from New York today and was immediately taken to Walter Reed Hospital for "observation and evaluation of abdominal complaints."

The five-star 84-year-old general walked off the military airplane at 12:15 p.m. after a flight of one hour and 25 minutes, and then entered a limousine for the several-mile trip to the hospital.

2 Port Development Bills Near Vote in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Two bills aimed at spurring public port development were moved up to the voting stages in the House Friday, despite an argument over whether one of them is constitutional.

The bills, sponsored by Rep. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, are designed to make it easier for public port authorities to finance expansion of facilities.

★ ★ ★

One of them, authorizing public ports to accept gifts and loans from public and private sources, advanced without debate.

But the second — reducing from 60 to 51 per cent the percentage of voters needed to approve a port bond issue — was challenged on grounds it might be unconstitutional.

CONSTITUTION VAGUE

Lawmakers argued that the new constitution is vague in its provisions for bond issue voting, but "could be interpreted to mean only a majority of the voters is required."

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, said he thought the new constitution made the bill unnecessary.

Bouwsma replied that he wouldn't take issue with that, but felt "we should pass the bill and make sure."

Rep. William Baird, D-Detroit, said he has renewed a request for an opinion from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley whether the bond issue bill would be constitutional if enacted.

★ ★ ★

"There are no grounds for saying 51 per cent is a holy figure," said Baird. "In Michigan law, there are 15 instances in which 60 per cent is required for approval at the polls."

VIRTUALLY IDENTICAL

The proposals are virtually identical to a pair of bills which passed the House in 1963, but died in a Senate committee. They were reintroduced this year with Gov. George W. Romney's support.

The bills are opposed by the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce and other organizations which support private, as opposed to public, port development.

★ ★ ★

The House approved, 79-9, a bill revising debt responsibilities for "disorganized" school districts when they are combined with other districts.

Defeated on a 62-28 vote was a bill which would have given judges the option of permitting motorists to keep their drivers' licenses after the first conviction for drunk driving.

Present law requires a 90-day license suspension, but Rep. Alexander Petri, D-Ecorse, sponsor of the bill, argued that this induces judges to agree to letting drivers plead guilty to lesser charges on the first drunk arrest.

IMPROVED AIRPORT

Also moved up for a vote next week was a bill which would authorize the Mackinac Island State Park Commission to construct an improved airport on the resort island.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled last year that the island's emergency airstrip could not be developed without the state-owned land reverting to federal custody.

★ ★ ★

Plans call for a 3,500-foot paved landing strip to be built, with the state and federal government sharing equally the $100,000 cost.

U. S. Envoy Tours African Hot Spots

LUANDA, Angola (AP)—The U.S. ambassador to Portugal, George Anderson, flew into Luanda Sunday to begin a three-week grass-roots tour of Angola and Mozambique.

★ ★ ★

Relations between Portugal and the United States had become strained because of Portugal's two-year-old war against insurgent guerrillas in northern Angola.

The Lisbon government contends the guerrillas are supported by American organizations with the tacit blessing of the State Department and by the Congo, which they feel is closely influenced by Washington.

Earns Top Honors

Macomb Grower Rhubarb King

By LEE OLSON
Area News Editor

UTICA — A new king was crowned here Saturday.

Sylvester DeCock gained the title—not by right of succession — but by growing the best rhubarb in Macomb County, hothouse rhubarb center of the world.

DeCock, 38, of Macomb Township was crowned at the dance which climaxed the ninth annual Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival.

The rhubarb that earned top honors was judged best in the extra fancy division.

DeCock, who went into the hothouse rhubarb growing business on his own just about a year ago, lives at 20555 23 Mile.

OTHER PRIZES

Member of a rhubarb growing family, he also won a first prize in the choice category, second for the largest single stalk and third in fancy.

A $50 prize went with the crown.

Later the rhubarb was auctioned off with a grower paying the top price for the prize 5-pound box and $5 cases for the first time in the history of the festival.

Jerry Heydens, 11070 18 Mile, Sterling Township paid $425 for the lot.

This year's event, which drew crowds that matched the record set at the first celebration, was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

All day long people streamed into the hall to see the results of the rhubarb cooking and baking competition and to watch as judges rated the choice stalks.

Visitors also partook of rhubarb punch ladled out by Queen Cheryl Cottrell and her two attendants and rhubarb desserts served at the smorgasbord.

Other popular features were a cooking school, magic show and tours of rhubarb hothouses arranged especially for the occasion.

★ ★ ★

A 14-year-old homemaker, Sue Reinhardt was the junior grand champion in the cooking contest.

NINTH GRADER

A ninth grader at Shelby Junior High School, Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Reinhardt, 32755 Schoenherr, Macomb Township.

Saturday's victory for Sue proved again that the "proof of the pudding is in the eating" as the judges sampled all the special dishes and chose her rhubarb coconut pie made with cream pudding as tops in the junior division.

Winner of the senior grand prize was Mrs. Frank Dunn, 21130 22 Mile Road, Macomb Township. Her entry was a rhubarb bread pudding.

★ ★ ★

Sponsors of the all-day event were the Utica Rotary Club, Michigan Hothouse Growers Association and Macomb County Cooperative Extension Service.

GOP Picks Milford as HQ

March Meeting Set for 19th Precinct

Milford has been chosen as the site for 19th Congressional district Republican headquarters, it was announced today by district GOP chairman John Cojeen.

Cojean also said that the four announced candidates for the GOP's 1964 nomination in the new district will be invited to the district organization's March meeting to discuss "areas of mutual interest."

The four are State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, Oakland University official James P. Dickerson, and Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn.

★ ★ ★

The 19th district was created by the state legislature last year in a realignment of the state's congressional districts. The additional district was created after the 1960 census.

MOST OF COUNTY

The new district takes in all of Oakland County except the heavily populated area south of Pontiac and east of Inkster Road which remains in the 18th district.

22 Persons Die on Roads; Grim New Record for State

By The Associated Press

Twenty-two persons — a record for any such period this year — died in Michigan traffic over the weekend, and, ironically, as an emergency safety program was inaugurated.

★ ★ ★

State highways proved most treacherous. Four persons were killed in a single smashup on M-45.

Only one fatal mishap was reported on an expressway. That one resulted in two deaths from a driver's losing control on I-94 and overturning.

DRIVE OPENED

A traffic safety drive opened Sunday under orders issued last week by Gov. George Romney as highway deaths climbed close to 300 for just two months.

★ ★ ★

If the present pattern continues, a State Police expert predicted, 2,625 will have died in traffic by next New Year's Day, compared with a toll of 1,867 for 1963. The projection, based on the fatality ratio for January and February, took into consideration summer's increase travel.

★ ★ ★

Under a mandate to let no offender go unticketed, State Police began a six-day work week in the Lower Peninsula, where Commissioner Joseph Childs said 90 per cent of the traffic fatalities have been occurring.

Three young men and a woman died Sunday in the crash of two cars on M15 two miles north of Otisville. Authorities said a northbound car driven by Kermit Valentine, 28, of Mulington, skidded sideways into a southbound car driven by Bruce Aitken, 20, of Columbiaville. Valentine, his wife, Bonnie, 26, and James L. Hutchinson, 21, of Millington, and Aitken were killed.

PONTIAC MAN

William Lannon, 68, of Pontiac Township, was injured fatally Sunday when his car struck another head-on in the northbound lane of M24 near Lake Orion. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Lannon was in the wrong lane.

Melvin Bornman, 46, of Brandon Township died in an Oxford Township accident.

Edward Curzemski, 36, of Warren, died Sunday when he lost control of his car and hit a utility pole in Warren.

★ ★ ★

James Castell, 46, of Royal Oak, was killed Sunday in a two-car, head-on collision in Livonia.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

James Moore, 40, of Pontiac, William Novak, 30, of Flint, and Ronald Winter, 24, of Ortonville, were crushed to death Saturday in a two-car, head-on collision on M54 in Groveland Township of Oakland County.

John H. Hogrefe, 41, and his son, John E., 13, were killed Saturday when the pickup truck in which they were riding ran off I-94 about nine miles east of Jackson and overturned.

★ ★ ★

Claude Brewer, 51, of rural Homer, was injured fatally Saturday when the pickup truck he was driving collided head-on with an auto on 25½-Mile Road southwest of Albion.

David Kleinfelt, 23, of Olivet, and Ann G. Vanette, 44, of Chicago, were killed Saturday in a head on collision on U.S. 27 near Charlotte.

ROCHESTER MAN

Jerry T. Yeargan, 23, of Rochester, died in the wreckage Saturday after his car ran off M59 and struck a tree in Avon Township of Oakland County.

Franklin Schannault, 21, of Detroit, was killed when his car crashed into a bridge support on Vernor in Detroit Saturday.

Robinson Shepard, 48, of Detroit, died Saturday of injuries received Friday night when he was struck by a car on Grand Blvd. in Detroit.

Noma Yoder, 53, of Howell, was killed Friday night when her car collided with another auto in Brighton Township of Livingston County.

STRUCK TREE

William E. Cole, 38, of Dowagiac, died Friday night when his car went out of control and struck a tree off a rural road about two miles northwest of Dowagiac.

Walter Smollin, 76, of Macomb County, was fatally injured Sunday night when struck by a car in suburban Chesterfield Township.

Trio Is Bound Over in Store Break-In

WALLED LAKE—Three men charged with a Saturday morning grocery store break-in have been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment.

The trio waived examination Saturday before Justice of the Peace Gene Schnelz. Each is being held in the Oakland County jail on $2,500 bond pending Circuit Court appearance March 9.

The three are Rodney Manning, 20, of 5051 Sashabaw, Independence Township; Larry G. Montgomery, 21, of 27 Clark, Pontiac; and David LaPoint, 23, of 67 Tregent, Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

They are charged with breaking into Penny Lake Grocery, 1101 N. Pontiac Trail, early Saturday morning.

NANCY SWEENEY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney, 15 Park, Oxford, announce the engagement of their daughter Nancy to Dieter Kubisch, son of Mrs. Christine Kubisch, 547 Heights, Orion Township. A June 27 wedding is planned.

Contests Set for 3 Keego City Posts

KEEGO HARBOR — There will be contests for three of the four city posts to be filled at the polls April 6.

Justice of the Peace James Southart will be unopposed in his bid for reelection.

Three men have filed their nominating petitions to run for the two vacant seats on the City Council.

★ ★ ★

They are incumbent Vernon B. Edward, mayor; William H. Graves, 3020 Norcott; and George Stocker, 3032 Stapleton.

NOT IN RACE

Councilman Joseph Weichsel is not seeking reelection. Terms on the five-member council are for three years.

Clayton Hess, 2250 Maddy, filed his petition by the Saturday deadline to run against incumbent Stanley Lubow for the two-year constable term.

More than half of the living Nobel Prize winners who went to college in the United States earned degrees from Land-Grant colleges.

Lake Orion Residents Can Meet Hopefuls

LAKE ORION—The old excuse of not voting because "I don't know any of the candidates anyway," won't hold water here after Thursday.

All village residents have been invited to "The Candidates' Forum," a special meet-your-candidate night sponsored by the Lake Orion Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Candidates for the village president's position and the three vacant council seats are expected to attend the 7:30 p.m. session in the Lake Orion Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

Telling why they can best serve the village as president will be Councilman William V. Shoup, on the Village Party ticket, and Citizens Party member James Norton.

THREE SEATS

Three two-year seats on the council also are being sought in the March 9 election.

Running on the Village Party ticket are incumbents Lewie Rossman and Fred C. Cole, and Robert D. Stokes, after the seat being vacated by Shoup.

Opposing the trio are Citizens Party members David A. Donnelly, Edward Bretzlaff and Larry Marlin.

★ ★ ★

Each candidate will be called upon for a statement of his qualifications and goals. A question period will follow.

Music, refreshments and entertainment will be provided at the affair.

PTA Panel to Air School Dropouts

WALLED LAKE — School dropouts will be discussed by a PTA panel at 8 p.m. Thursday at Walled Lake Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

Headed by junior high counselor Dean Smith, the panel will consist of Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, senior high counselor; Rev. Carl Grapentine, representing church and parents; and Paul Holler, Oakland County social worker representing the community.

AREA NEWS

Voter Forum in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The electorate here will have a chance to meet candidates for the four village council vacancies at a Voters Forum, beginning at 8 p.m. tomorrow in McGregor Elementary School.

Each office-seeker will be allowed a five-minute presentation, after which he will be questioned by audience members.

Seven candidates are vying for the positions, including incumbents John O'Donnell, Roy Rewold and John Lowes. Dr. John Terry, whose two-year term also expires, is not seeking reelection.

Competing with the three incumbents for the four seats are Burdette Lewis, Robert G. Cannon, Frank Voll Jr. and David N. Parker.

FOUR VACANCIES

Each year there are four vacancies on the council. The top three vote-getters receive two-year terms while the candidate in fourth place serves for one year.

Tomorrow's forum will be sponsored by the Rochester Branch of the League of Women Voters.

Chairman of the event, being staged one week prior to the nonpartisan election, is Mrs. Walter Zimmerman, 1850 Livernois, Avon Township.

Science Shrinks, Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

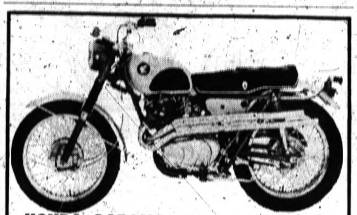

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Fatal Shout Blamed

Parachutist Dies in Fall

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Professional parachutist Richard Welsh shouted his familiar "yeow" an instant after he leaped from a plane at 3,000 feet Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Moments later, he lay dead on the ground. His parachute had failed to open. The shout may have caused his death.

"The ring was supposed to be in a little pocket of his rig," Judge said, "but Welsh had no pocket, so he held the handle in his mouth.

"When he yelled, the D-ring, which is pulled to open the chute, flew out of his mouth and over his shoulder," Frank Judge, a flier said. "He went into a flat spin to his right. I watched him all the way until I saw him bounce."

Welsh made the jump on his 29th birthday. He fell in the back yard of a Delhi Township home.

★ ★ ★

Welsh, father of two boys of preschool age, was a master rigger as a professional parachutist. He taught jumping, as he was doing Sunday. The master rigger rating is issued by the Federal Aviation Agency for assembling of parachuting components. At one time Welsh had earned his living as a "sky-jumper." He was a native of Hartford City, Ind.

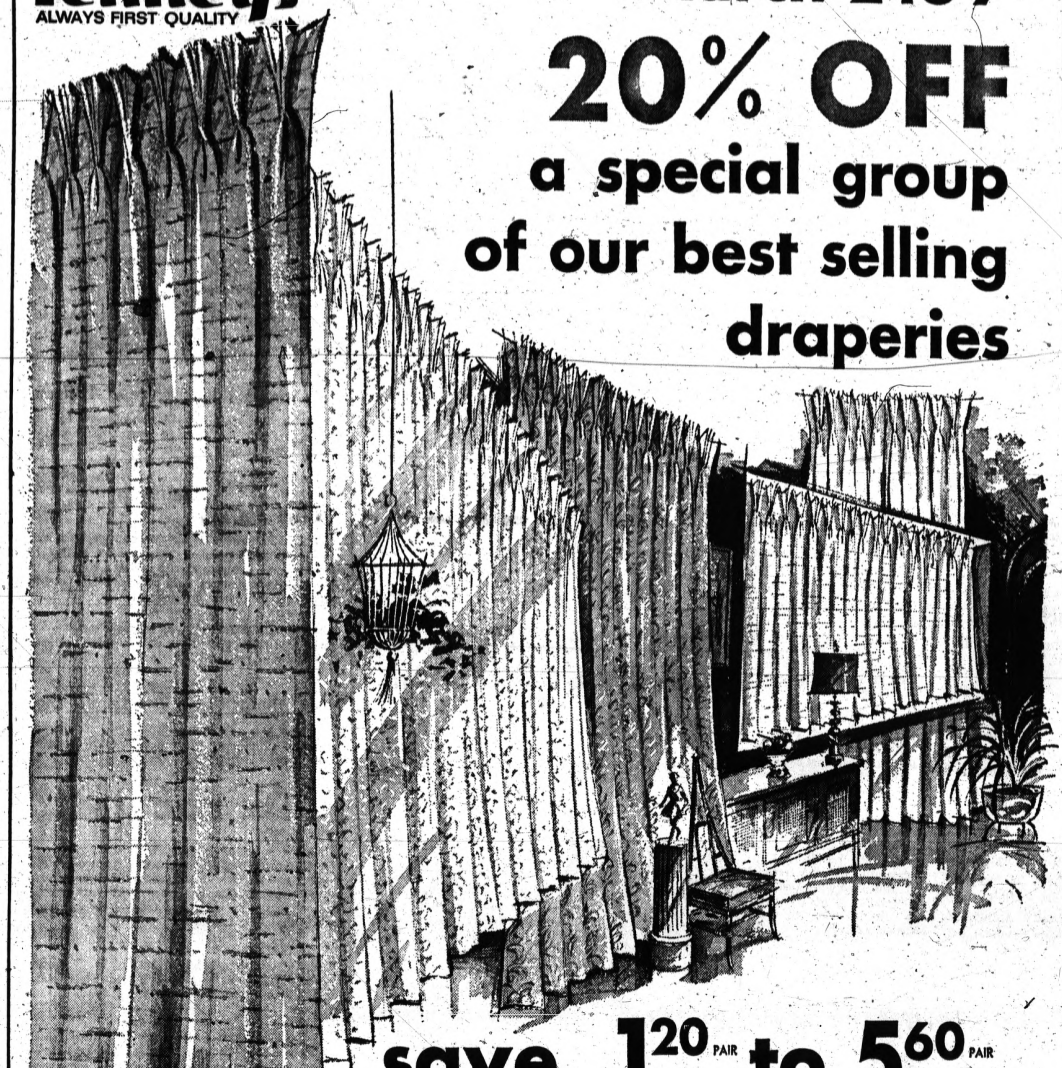

★ ★ ★

"He of all people," said David Monroe, his pilot, referring to Welsh holding the D-ring in his teeth, "should have known that was very, very, very wrong."

It Seems to Me . . . .

Effective Law Enforcement Requires Support of Citizens

New York's Police Commissioner, MICHAEL MURPHY, declares it's time to choose between the rein of the juvenile hoodlums and the zany do-gooders. These last appeasers want the hoods coddled and "forgiven"—whereupon they strike again.

The Commissioner asks bluntly:

★ ★ ★

"Shall a busload of citizens cringe before an unruly mob of exuberant, knife-wielding youngsters? Shall a man be stabbed by a hoodlum while others shrink in fear? Shall the police take action—or call a psychiatrist?"

★ ★ ★

This newspaper stands squarely behind Commissioner MURPHY and his associates in Pontiac, and elsewhere, who struggle to protect the citizens from violence at the hands of degenerates, sexual perverts, and the plain "juvenile criminals" as J. EDGAR HOOVER insists they rightly be labeled. The law needs our combined assistance.

A New York policeman just shot and killed a youth who:

Stabbed another man;

Gashed the patrolman's coat near the heart;

Ignored a warning shot.

★ ★ ★

And yet a wave of sentiment opposing the officer, springs from the brethren with the crocodile tears and the desire to "restore and rehabilitate" these "unhappy and misguided youths." Just what would the Nation's pantywaists want this officer to do?

As MURPHY asks with a challenge:

"Should he go into action or should he seek a psychiatrist?"

★ ★ ★

Must an officer risk his own life and that of other respectable people in the area to placate the small segment in disagreement? As Commissioner MURPHY says: "Take your choice—the goon or the decent people." The whole problem's about that clear-cut. Unless the people at large support and uphold law enforcing agencies, and do so wholeheartedly when they are compelled to shoot offenders in line of duty and self-preservation, there won't be any men in blue left—or a sheriff's force either—or state police.

Who'd take these jobs?

Would YOU?

★ ★ ★

No red-blooded American will forever buck those who throw up their pinkies in horror at the thought of force and death, for the hoods, the goons and the juvenile criminals. In the current New York episode, the juvenile victim had actually been voted the Boy of the Year by the Boys' Club in 1962. But does that give him the privilege of running amuck in 1964 with a license to stab and slash willy nilly?

Does it?

The question must be answered.

We can't temporize forever.

★ ★ ★

Juvenile enforcement has dropped to the lowest level since our venerable forefathers touched Plymouth with respect, love and awe for God in their hearts. But they fashioned stout sticks from shoreline trees for earthly offenders. What do YOU as a taxpayer want:

Swift law enforcement and certain punishment; or,

Forgiveness for all and a blind effort to rehabilitate, restore and forgive and forgive and forget?

★ ★ ★

Muggings, stabbings, murder, robbery, and "this type of violence" in New York in January of 1964 was FORTY THREE PER CENT greater than it was in 1963. We're on the toboggan. Are you in agreement with the New York Police Commissioner? Give law enforcing officers your support and approval. Let's give first consideration to the rights, the dignity and the safety of society and the decent people and the courageous officers who represent us.

★ ★ ★

We're near the crossroads.
A showdown's at hand.
Where do YOU stand?

Public Relations . . . .

Chief Justice EARL WARREN needs a public relations man. Few of similar rank seem to have lost public confidence equally. His faculty of saying the wrong thing and his soft and conciliatory attitude toward Communists puzzles citizens everywhere.

★ ★ ★

Currently he adds to his minus stature by telling newsmen that some of Mrs. OSWALD'S testimony "may not be released in your lifetime." WARREN heads the Presidential Committee investigating the assassination.

★ ★ ★

The late JFK was OUR President and not exclusively Justice Warren's. We outnumber the Justice 185 million to one. Most of us figure we have "the American right to know." That's one of the bedrocks on which this Nation was founded.

It's a shame this Nation hasn't a stronger Chief Justice.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

I just learned how jockeys ride on those wet, ankle-deep tracks and still see when they aren't leading. They have four or five pairs of goggles on top of each other and when the first is covered with mud, they whip it off and a clean pair is available. . . . . The Association of National Advertisers has started a stern battle for 25½ minutes of entertainment in every 30 minutes of TV. Some stations have cut the entertainment to a lowly 22 minutes which means listeners get the full downbeat treatment one-third as long as they get a program. The situation is so bad, there's bound to be an improvement.

★ ★ ★

Sign in drugstore: "Duncan Hines Never Ate Here (We Never Had an Empty Seat for Him.") . . . . . Trusted scouts advise Dolores Schruba deserves mention as an especially attractive young lady in our area. . . . . Sen. Margaret Chase Smith has answered 1,600 consecutive roll calls. Campaigning for the Presidency will break her record. . . . . George Meany, AFL-CIO Prexy, says he wants his union members to get big wage increases without any inflation or advance in prices. George should now perfect an elevator that goes up and down at the same moment.

The Hutsonville (Ill.) Herald

One group of people who seem to have discovered the secret of long life are rich relatives.

The McLeod Report

The Fort Lauderdale News

A shocking answer to the long-standing question of what's been wrong with this country's foreign policy may well have been unveiled with the revelation of a secret document which reportedly has been kept stashed away by the State Department for the past seven and one-half years.

The document was reported to have been compiled by former State Department Security Chief Scott McLeod, who has since died. It presumably contains the names of more than 800 potential security risks who were in the employ of the State Department.

★ ★ ★

Presumably, members of the Senate internal security subcommittee, who have been investigating lax security conditions in the State Department are aware of the existence of the document. To date, however, they have apparently been unable to find out how many of the so-called security risks listed are still on the State Department payroll.

Reportedly, the figure numbers in the hundreds, some of whom are in highly classified and influential posts, but all efforts to determine who these people are and where they are working have been blocked by adamant refusal of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his subordinates to provide the investigating senators with the information.

★ ★ ★

The subcommittee wants to know what happened to this explosive report after it was compiled by McLeod. It was completed 18 months after the Senate had formally condemned the late Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin for the tactics he had used in his rough one - man campaign to expose Communist infiltration into the State Department.

Significantly, within a year after preparing the report, McLeod was relieved of his security post and bounced upstairs by way of an appointment as ambassador to Ireland.

★ ★ ★

With McLeod's departure investigators now believe the incriminating report was locked away in mothballs where it has been kept ever since.

The McLeod report presumably lists over 250 security risks labeled as "serious" because of their Communist connections. Should a high proportion of these 250 persons still be in the State Department and be occupying what are called "critical intelligence slots," whoever is responsible is guilty of nothing less than treason.

★ ★ ★

President Lyndon Johnson has a clear and urgent responsibility to cooperate to the utmost with Congress in seeking a full exposure. This goes beyond any partisan politics as President Johnson can hardly be blamed for a situation inherited from previous administrations on both sides of the political fence.

The only way Mr. Johnson can suffer any ill consequences is for him to ignore his responsibility to the nation and to the people and to join hands with those who are seeking to keep a tight lid of secrecy on this affair.

★ ★ ★

These stalling tactics must be stopped, for if the highest officials of our government are being misled by traitors and security risks deeply ensconced within the State Department, it is no mystery why we are getting the stuffing kicked out of us at every turn by the Communists and their fellow travelers.

Hereditary

The Danville (Va.) Commercial Appeal

After many years of debate, it is now pretty clear that insanity is hereditary. Parents get it from their children.

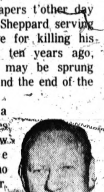

Bob Considine Says:

Sam Sheppard Parole Bid Recalls Cleveland Trial

DALLAS—There was a note in the local papers t'other day that Dr. Sam Sheppard serving a life sentence for killing his wife, Marilyn, ten years ago, come July 4, may be sprung sometime around the end of the year.

It stirred a lot of memories of those now covering the Ruby trial, who covered Dr. Sam's two month trial in Cleveland.

The judge in that case is gone now and so are several top figures of defense and offense.

CONSIDINE

The mortality rate in the family has been heavy, some of it suicidal.

We wondered down here if Sam's family and Marilyn's family ever got together.

★ ★ ★

Judge Blythin's courtroom was small, and usually all of its benches except the rear one were filled by reporters.

FOR FAMILY

The rear one was for the family: Sam's people on one side of the narrow aisle, Marilyn's on the other.

They didn't speak during the whole, tensely intimate eight weeks in court. At least they didn't speak to one another.

They spoke to all of us, though, in whispers and passed notes.

★ ★ ★

"Don't believe a word that liar is saying up there on that stand," was the customary remonstrance as we endeavored to follow the case. "That liar" was anybody either his family or her family did not like.

Got to be a little trying as the winter wore on.

Judge Joe Brown has a disarming habit.

He likes to read what the reporters are writing about the trial.

Over their shoulders.

★ ★ ★

He'll saunter into the press room—which ordinarily served as a lunacy court, by the way—placidly smoking his pipe and chatting about anything that's in the news, except the Ruby case.

CLAY MAN

He was the only man around the courts building to pick Cassius Clay over Sonny Liston.

Based his verdict on, "I like the way the boy talks."

Before he leaves the press room, he'll generally look in on how somebody's getting along with his story.

★ ★ ★

From small sounds just over his shoulder, the reporter can gain some clue as to whether what he's writing suits him or not.

"Saves me a dime if I read it now," the judge will say, and moves along.

Voice of the People:

Mother Tells About Son Being Attacked by Youths

My son and I go to worship Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday. Recently, he left me when services were over to get the car and pulled near the door next to a waiting car. A third car drove up and recognizing the boys my son started walking toward them to talk. One boy jumped out and started slapping him. He was surprised and it took two or three slaps before he realized what was happening. Then all five jumped on him. A boy in another car jumped out to help my boy.

★ ★ ★

Both were taken to the hospital for stitches as the attackers had chains. We called the police and two boys were taken into custody overnight. The prosecuting attorney said I had no case as my witnesses contradict themselves. How can one see everything in a split second and at about 9:30 p.m. in poor light?

★ ★ ★

The boys who attacked said, "Next time we'll get you good." My son has friends and, I wish I could prove this statement, but I can't for the ones that could prove it are afraid as a child can even get killed in the restrooms. I took my boy out of school, but he wants to graduate and become a draftsman. I'd rather have a live drop-out than a hopeful engineer dead.

★ ★ ★

I'm a widow on social security and can't afford to send him anywhere unless he gets a part-time job. Is there a way I could get this hospital bill paid? Whippings in public by parents, guardians or ministers (so they do not whip to kill) will correct and teach what happens to those who break the law.

Has New Thought for City Government

After reading the qualification statements of candidates for city office, it seems to me many lacked needed qualifications to improve our city. In our past we have tried aldermanic and city commission form of government. All had many imperfections and did not suit citizens. I suggest we select only men from our Junior Board of Commerce, with assistance of a few senior board members to advise them.

Our Press which really is our watchdog, could put on a publicity campaign to mold opinion. Squabbling has gone much too far for our city's good. I realize it may be difficult due to so many men of ability and talent living outside our city, to get them to take over, but we can use their advice.

Old-Time Resident

'TV Creates Poor Image of Policemen'

There has been much discussion about police relations with youngsters and with the public in general. There has been an increase in assaults upon police officers by both young and old.

★ ★ ★

The tendency of TV programs to portray the "private eye" as the "real sharp guy" and the police as dunderheads who always get into the act too late creates an image that is both erroneous and damaging to policemen.

In the same medium we have lawmen who drink and who are friendly with women of bad character. In one recent show there was a deputy sheriff swilling whisky and falling asleep in a drunken stupor. Such portrayals do a lot of harm, especially in the minds of young viewers.

★ ★ ★

I have traveled extensively and my experience has been that the majority of police officers are courteous, fair and humane in their treatment of the public.

Observer

Write About 'C' U., Vocational School

Your idea of a "C" University receives my entire support—for the "C" University would help the "late-bloomers" who when they finally mature can offer a lot to society.

★ ★ ★

But with the large number of drop-outs, unemployed youths, and the shortage of unskilled and semi-skilled jobs, the time has come when Oakland County should establish a vocational school.

I mean a school on the order of Chadsey in Detroit—where boys and girls learn such skills as a chef, beauty operators, practical nurses and the like. These children have jobs awaiting them when they finish school and they have a skill with which to earn a living. It puzzles me as to why Oakland County has not done something about this long ago.

Mrs. W. S.

The VOP column is reflecting interest in the promotion of vocational education. As an interested instructor of painting and decorating in a Detroit vocational school, I submit some pertinent facts.

★ ★ ★

1. Vocational schools are terribly expensive. 2. Vocational teachers are scarce. If they are good mechanics they work at their trades for industry. 3. Vocational departments of the schools are dumping grounds of the behavior problems and the slow learner.

★ ★ ★

A vocational program is expensive, drastic and extremely hard to administer. Until these cold statistics are understood by the taxpayer, the labor union, industry and the academic and administrative people of the school system, no vocational program has a chance.

If the local communities ignore this challenge the door will be opened for intervention by the federal government.

Complains of Filth on Pontiac Streets

We are reminded daily of the late President Kennedy's physical fitness program, but how can we avoid disease when we have to play hopscotch on the downstown Pontiac streets to avoid stepping in huge gobs of sputem put there by thoughtless humans? I wonder if they spit on their floors at home. There is no difference because it is carried into our homes on our shoes, spreading germs on our carpets and floors for children and babies to pick up.

This situation used to exist on East Pike and South Saginaw only but I find it so on every street downtown. Maybe an ordinance could be passed to stop it.

French Blamed for Viet Terror

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh said yesterday he believes the terrorist bombing campaign that killed five Americans last month has the backing of French agents in league with the Communists.

Khanh, South Viet Nam's junta chairman and premier, charged that the same French - Communist alliance plotted to kill him last week.

Khanh did not document his charges in any way, and most Western observers seriously doubted they were true.

* * *

He said the agents hope to overthrow his military government, imposed in a coup d'etat in January, and make South Viet Nam a neutral nation.

SECOND TIME

It was the second time in a week that the 36-year-old general had mentioned the assassination plot and the latest of several instances that he has charged that the French seek to neutralize this nation as a means of ending its guerrilla war with the Communists.

Khanh said he had detailed information on the plot: "I have the names but I cannot reveal them."

He made his statements during a trip to Quang Tin Province, 350 miles north of Saigon.

* * *

KNEW OF PLOT

Khanh said Lodge knew about the assassination plot, which he said was planned for his visit to the town of Tay Ninh last week.

He said he went a day earlier than planned and crossed up the plotters. Lodge did not comment.

Khanh said he has told Western officials the alleged French agents paid gunmen to have him killed. The sum he quoted last week was the equivalent of $1,400 but yesterday he said "The price you had was wrong . . . it's 300 million piasters ($4 million)."

The bearded general referred repeatedly to a plot worked out by the "colonialists and the Communists" to kill him and impose neutralism.

MEANT FRENCH

Asked if he meant French government agents when he used the term colonialists, Khanh said yes. He also said yes when asked if these alleged agents were backing the terror bombings in Saigon.

In two successive Sundays last month, terrorists bombed a softball bleachers and an American movie theater, killing five servicemen and injuring more than 70 other Americans, including dependent women and children.

Khanh said that as a result of this terrorist campaign, "we have taken certain measures in Saigon, and if the French don't understand, then I will take stronger measures."

* * *

SAVING NATION

At the time of his seizure of power, Jan. 30, Khanh said he was acting to save the nation from neutralism. He charged that three of the deposed junta generals had been plotting with the French.

Western observers considered these charges a pretext to justify the coup d'etat.

NY Teen Is Killed Leaping From Roof

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say a Bronx boy apparently tried to leap 15 feet between the roofs of two buildings and plunged five stories to his death.

* * *

An open tube of airplane glue, which has a narcotic effect when sniffed, was found on the roof from which Michael Vance, 15, apparently jumped, police reported. His body was discovered Sunday atop a store between two tenements near his home.

Police said Vance probably had tried to jump from the roof of a six-story tenement. He had performed the feat previously, police said.

Has Optimism for Medicare

DETROIT (AP) — Sen Edward H. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Sunday night he was "very optimistic" about Senate approval of a health care program related to social security for elderly people.

* * *

The 32-year-old senator, brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, also said President Johnson has "indicated a strong commitment to the matter's President Kennedy felt so strongly about.

Kennedy spoke at a news conference also attended by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

LEADS COMMITTEE

Kennedy, as chairman of a subcommittee on federal, state and community services for the elderly, is conducting a hearing in Saginaw today. His subcommittee is a group of the Senate Special Committee on Aging.

Kennedy also said there were sufficient supporting votes in the Senate for passage of the civil rights bill if the measure gets to the floor. The bill has been passed by the House.

NOT A MONSTER — Goro, a five foot robot, has won many friends among Japanese children. He was developed by a toy research firm. Goro walks in all directions, bows, winks and talks via radio control.

Mechanical Robot Delights Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Goro has goggle eyes, drum-like feet, a fixed grin and a square head. He is the idol of the children of Hoyamachi at the western edge of Tokyo.

He's 5 foot 3 and tips the scales at a hefty 270 pounds, but there's something about the way he winks at the boys and girls which enchants them.

Goro, you see, is a robot.

★ ★ ★

Jiro Aizawa, 60-year-old director of a research institute in the Welfare Ministry, created Goro. Goro is the fifth of six put together by Aizawa in 30 years of work on high-performance robots.

DELIGHTFUL TOYS

The institute, operating on subsidies from the government, department stores and other business interests, develops the ingenious mechanical and electronic toys which for years have delighted Japanese tots in Japan and abroad.

Goro, and the other brainchildren designed by the institute, are reduced to drawings and sent out to some 280 toy manufacturers for mass production.

This kind of government-private enterprise teamwork helps explain why Japanese toy-making is big business.

★ ★ ★

Goro does his own shopping. Unfailingly courteous in the Japanese manner, he bows to people he encounters, shakes his head to say no, walks backward or forward and turns in all directions.

He talks, too. Or rather, it may be more accurate to say that his operator, sometimes as much as 110 yards away, talks for him through radio.

Threat to World Peace

Cyprus: Long a Trouble Spot

(EDITOR'S NOTE — In the Eastern Mediterranean, the sun-drenched little island of Cyprus ticks away like a time bomb threatening world peace. How Cyprus got that way is an old and complicated story. Here, based on the best available information, is a question-and-answer rundown on the crisis.)

By The Associated Press

Q. What are the basic facts about Cyprus?

A. It is about half the size of New Hampshire, with a mountainous interior and an irregular coastline offering few good ports. There are roughly 600,000 people.

★ ★ ★

About 120,000 are of Turkish descent and about 480,000 of Greek descent. There is a scattering of Armenians and others. Most Cypriots live by farming and fishing.

Q. Why is there chronic bloody conflict?

A. The answer goes far back into history. Cyprus was the mythical birthplace of the Greek love goddess Aphrodite, but its history is one of hate and conflict.

ROUTE OF CONQUERORS

Athwart the route of conquerors, it was a crossroads for Assyrians, Egyptians, Persians, Greeks, Romans, Arabs, Crusaders, Turks.

Q. How did the present conflict develop?

A. The Turks conquered Cyprus in 1571 and held it until 1878, when Britain took over.

★ ★ ★

Many Greeks emigrated to the island. During World War I, Britain offered Cyprus to Greece but Athens allowed the offer to lapse.

CROWN COLONY

Britain made Cyprus a crown colony, and it became hub of England's Middle East defenses. But the Greek Cypriots were hostile to the British, and there was always tension between Greek and Turk.

Q. What makes this small island important?

A. Primarily location. It is in the Eastern Mediterranean, 40 miles from the Turkish mainland and about 450 miles from the nearest point of mainland Greece.

Q. Cyprus is independent. How did it get that way?

A. Greek Cypriots carried on a long struggle with the British, demanding "enosis," meaning union with Greece. The Turks opposed enosis.

★ ★ ★

A compromise was reached in 1960, and Cyprus became an independent nation, pledged not to unite with any other and not to be partitioned.

VETO POWER

Its president is a Greek Cypriot, Orthodox Archbishop Makarios. Its vice president is a Turkish Cypriot, Fazil Kuchuk. Turkish minority rights were to be protected by veto power over legislation.

Q. Then, did Cypriots really want independence?

A. This is doubtful. Many Greeks wanted and still long for union with Greece. The Turks would have been happier with continued British rule.

Q. Why are they fighting now?

A. Archbishop Makarios, who led the enosis cause, proposed last December to end the Turkish minority's veto rights over legislation. The Turkish element demanded partition. The Greeks said partition would mean war.

★ ★ ★

Fighting broke out in December. Makarios asked Britian to keep order under the terms of the 1960 agreement.

ASKED HELP

The situation worsened. Britain proposed that her North Atlantic Treaty allies should help. Greece and Turkey are both NATO members, Makarios demanded that any international force be under control of the U.N. Security Council.

Q. Why did the conflict become an international crisis?

A. A variety of reasons. It involves Greece and Turkey, both NATO members, and puts a severe strain on NATO's eastern flank.

Also, Cyprus represents an attractive opportunity for the Soviet Union to establish its presence in the Eastern Mediterranean, with the Security Council involved.

Q. What's the Russian attitude to the crisis?

A. Moscow expresses support of Makarios. The Kremlin complains that NATO attempts to resolve the crisis are disguised colonialism. This has tended to raise Russian status in Greek Cypriot eyes.

Q. Is the U.N. making progress?

A. Secretary - General U Thant's private diplomatic efforts were futile. Other mediation attempts have started.

★ ★ ★

Cypriot Greeks said they would reject any solution upholding the 1960 agreement permitting either Turkey or Britain to intervene to preserve Turkish Cypriots' constitutional guarantees.

OPPOSE ACTION

Britain, the United States and other Western members oppose action which might abrogate the 1960 constitution.

Q. What's the status of the fighting?

A. The shooting stopped after Greek and Turkish forces stationed on Cyprus moved out of their camps toward one another.

★ ★ ★

There had been 650-man Turkish and 900-man Greek units on the island. Greek, Turkish and British units were placed under British command, and the Britons enforced a shaky cease-fire.

Q. Is the situation still dangerous?

A. Cyprus is a tense, armed camp still experiencing sporadic violence. Thousands of young men throughout the island carry weapons and are training.

Makarios has appealed for volunteers, and thousands responded, eager to serve in a 5,000-man special police force. There are believed to be about 30,000 Greek Cypriot irregulars on the island, many of them veterans of the old anti-British terrorist days.

TURKS CLAIM

Turkish Cypriots say Makarios is trying to legalize the terrorists and that the police force cannot be established without minority approval. The Turk Cypriots also have irregulars.

Q. Why did Makarios reject NATO intervention to keep the peace?

A. Makarios, avowedly anti-Communist, professes a non-alignment policy.

★ ★ ★

Today, however, anti-West feeling seems growing among the Greek majority who suspect the United States of favoring partition of Cyprus into Greek and Turkish communities.

Q. Could there be an international war over Cyprus.

A. It is possible. Greece and Turkey have been on the alert ever since the fighting broke out last Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Turkey threatened to use its treaty right to intervene with troops to protect the minority. Greece claimed the same right. A Greek - Turkish war could result, and that would endanger world peace.

Sturgis Businessman Dies From Pneumonia

STURGIS (AP) — John N. Kirsch, 60, chairman of the Kirsch Co., one of Sturgis' largest industries, died Sunday at Wickenburg, Ariz., where he had been visiting.

Death was ascribed to complications from pneumonia. Kirsch, a 33rd degree Mason, was a past grand commander of the Michigan Knights Templar.

Theodore Roosevelt was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor of New York City in 186 before he became governor of New York and President.

Jumped Bail Before Trial

Nazi 'Mercy Killing' Suspect Arrested in Argentina

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — An ex-Nazi official who jumped bail to escape the "mercy killing" trial in West Germany has been arrested in Argentina, it was announced today.

Hesse State Prosecutor Fritz Bauer said Gerhard Bohne, who is accused of participating in Adolf Hitler's program to "purify the race," has been arrested in Buenos Aires.

Bauer said West Germany has asked Argentine authorities to extradite Bohne so he can be tried.

* * *

Bohne was one of four original defendants in the current "mercy killing" trial at Limburg. He disappeared from West Germany before the trial began.

Two other defendants died, apparently by suicide, the week before the trial opened. The fourth, Dr. Hans Hefelmann, is being tried in Limburg.

The four men were charged with running the Nazi program of killing the mentally and physically disabled under Hitler's regime.

There were an estimated 73,000 so-called "mercy killings" under the program.

* * *

Bohne was legal adviser in the program. He was released from pretrial custody on grounds of ill health last summer and jumped bail in July.

POLICE ARREST

Bauer said Argentine police arrested Bohne at West Germany's request. The prosecutor had indicated previously that Bohne was believed to have fled to Argentina.

At Limburg today, Hefelmann told of his "difficulties" in setting up a children's ward to do the job of killing handicapped children.

Hefelmann said he had a hard time finding a German doctor to do the job.

* * *

He said a Dr. Reneau eventually was brought from Austria to do the work at the Waldniel children's ward, set up between Duesseldorf and the Dutch border.

HITLER'S PROGRAM

Hefelmann, 58, was an official in the section of Hitler's chancellory that ran the "mercy killings" program. He joined the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals after the war.

British Prosecutor Dies

LONDON (AP)—Sir Theobald Mathew, 65, Britain's director of public prosecutions, died Saturday in a London hospital. Sir Theobald, who had a history of heart trouble, had been responsible for directing prosecution of all major criminal cases since 1944.

Death Camp Witness Says Babies Tossed Into Fire

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — A woman doctor today told the Auschwitz death camp trial she watched Gestapo guards burning babies alive.

Dr. Ella Lingens, a former Auschwitz inmate, said the camp commandant ordered the babies burned because there was no room for them in the jammed gas chambers.

The white-haired witness described what she saw to the court trying 21 ex-Gestapo men and a turncoat inmate charged with helping murder 2.5 to 4 million persons at Auschwitz.

* * *

"One day I saw a giant flame shoot up in front of one of the crematories.

SAW GUARDS

Another woman inmate and I sneaked to the end of the camp where we saw a few Nazi SS men throw something into the flames of a burning open pit," she said.

"As we came closer, we saw it was bundles of something, bodies or old clothing. Suddenly one of the SS men threw something that moved.

"I said, oh, my God, he's throwing a dog in there.

* * *

But I was near-sighted. I wore my eyeglasses but they were not strong enough.

LIVING CHILD

"The other woman said, it's not a dog. It's a child, a living child. Then we had to move back to avoid being spotted.

I said it can't be true. Only after we heard that (camp commandant Rudolf) Hoess had ordered to burn children alive because there was no more room in the gas chambers did I believe it," Dr. Lingens said.

The defendants listened without showing emotion. Chief Judge Hans Hofmeyer looked at them and asked Dr. Lingens, "Do you believe the assistant commandant did not know about such things?"

Among the defendants sat former assistant commandants Robert Mulka, 68, and Karl Hoecker, 52, who have testified they knew nothing of camp killings.

EVERYBODY KNEW

They looked away when the witness replied, "It's impossible. Everybody knew what was going on."

The Vienna woman doctor, thrown into the camp by the Nazis for "political reasons," said she worked in the women's hospital.

There was almost no medicine but about 7,000 starving patients.

She said babies were born in wards filled with women suffering from typhus, cholera and other diseases.

"One of the children even lived for nearly a year," she said.

Driver Safe, but Illegal

FULTON, Ky. (AP) — Every year a civic club presents an award for safe driving to a teenager in both Fulton, Ky., and South Fulton, Tenn.

* * *

The police chief in one of the two communities was slow in sending in his nomination and was asked why.

* * *

"We've got one picked out," he explained, "but we can't give you his name. He ain't got a driver's license."

U.S. Already Flying the New 2,000-m.p.h. 'Manned Missile'

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MANNED MISSILE: The United States is already flying 11 or 12 of the newly unveiled "manned missile" A11 jet fighter planes and they have successfully passed numerous tests, according to Sen. Richard Russell.

The Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation" Sunday that he had known of the 2,000-mile-per-hour plane since work on it started in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Russell said he thought President Johnson was right in announcing its existence Saturday, because the plane is now almost certain to be seen.

In announcing development of the A11, President Johnson said its performance "far exceeds that of any other aircraft in the world today."

VIET NAM: Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says that "no decision has been made or contemplated" to commit U.S. troops to the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

"We are helping the South Vietnamese people fight a very difficult war under very difficult conditions," Ball said Sunday on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press."

"Progress is being made but this is not a matter in which the United States is directly engaged."

Ball said "we're not discouraged" about the progress of the war but said of the situation: "I don't suggest that it has changed in any marked degree in the past two years."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., accused President Johnson of pursuing a policy of "nervous conciliation" in South Viet Nam in a program recorded for radio.

Another GOP senator, Jacob K. Javits of New York, said on a program taped for television Sunday that Johnson should issue a "white paper" documenting the need for the United States to stay in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" radio-television program, "I think we should either pull out and stop losing our men over there or we should go in and clean it up."

★ ★ ★

At his news conference Saturday, President Johnson said "I do not think that the speculation that has been made . . . that we are losing the fight in that area, or that things have gone to pot there are at all justified." He did call the Viet Nam situation "very dangerous."

TAXES: The new tax law shifts some of the income tax burden onto persons with high incomes but leaves the bulk of the load on the middle-income group.

The Treasury estimates that taxpayers with incomes of from $5,000 to $10,000 will pay 38 per cent of taxes under the new law, compared with 38.6 per cent under the old law.

Persons with income of over $50,000 will pay 9.5 per cent compared with 8.8 per cent, those with incomes of over $20,000 will pay 24.4 per cent, compared with the present 23.1 per cent, while those in the $10,000-to-$20,000 class will pay 27.6 per cent, a slight rise from the present 26.8 per cent.

For taxpayers with incomes of under $5,000, the tax load will drop from 11.6 per cent to 10.0 per cent.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES: The number of civilians employed by the federal government dropped 14,322 during January, a congressional committee reported today.

January's total was 2,473,334, compared with December's 2,487,656, the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures said.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

It's Difficult to Get Rid of Athlete's Foot

Q — What does athlete's foot look like? Is there any cure for it?

A — Athlete's foot may appear as small itching blisters that occur singly or in clusters or as areas where the skin is moist, as it often is between the toes, where the outer layers of the skin have rubbed off.

BRANDSTADT

It is caused by a fungus and is hard to get rid of.

It is essential to keep the affected skin clean and dry and to change socks at least once a day.

Chloroxylenol, when used regularly, clears up most cases of this disease and helps prevent recurrence.

STIMULATES GROWTH

It stimulates growth of healthy skin and helps to evaporate perspiration.

It works better on new infections than on those that have been established for months or years.

Other older remedies are still effective.

★ ★ ★

These include undecylenic acid in an aerosol spray and Whitfield's ointment (either full or half strength).

Q — Is itching in the groin and armpits caused by a fungus or a blood disease? How can I get rid of it?

★ ★ ★

A — Itching due to a systemic disease such as diabetes, jaundice or anemia would involve the whole body.

When the itching is confined to areas that tend to be moist, the cause is usually a fungus.

When the diagnosis has been confirmed, any of the fungicides used for athlete's foot may be used to get rid of it.

Q — My doctor says I have a chalazion. What causes it and what could I do to prevent a recurrence?

★ ★ ★

A — A chalazion is a cyst of the eyelid. It usually develops slowly and is caused by obstruction of a gland in the lid. It might be thought of as a wen on the lid.

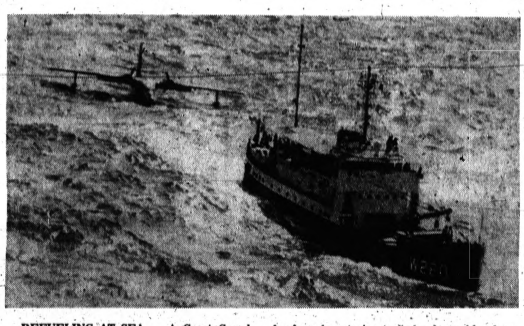

In some persons hot compresses will cause the duct of the gland to open and the cyst can be emptied but under these circumstances the cyst will probably recur. The cyst can be removed surgically and if it is removed completely, it will not return.

Q — My doctor has put me on Dilantin because my electroencephalogram showed a tendency to epilepsy although I have never had a seizure. How long can a person safely take this drug? Is it habit-forming?

A — Persons with epilepsy may take maintenance doses of diphenylhydantoin (Dilantin) all their lives.

This dose is the smallest dose they can take and still prevent occurrence of seizures. You would need a very small dose, if any. The drug is not habit-forming.

REFUELING AT SEA — A Coast Guard cutter refuels an Air Force amphibious plane that landed in the Atlantic five days ago to recover film from a Cape Kennedy missile. Heavy seas caused the plane to taxi around for four days trying to find a favorable place to take-off. This used up most of its fuel. The cutter Hollhock refueled the plane yesterday morning, and it flew to Grand Bahama Island.

Skiers to Try Pole Crossing

OSLO, Norway (UPI) — Twelve Norwegian students set out today on the first — and easiest — leg of their attempt to cross the North Pole on skis.

The first leg is a charter plane flight to the U.S. Air Force base at Thule, Greenland.

From there, the group will push northward to Ellesmere Island to set up a base camp for the ski trek over the polar ice — a trip of 90 to 100 days covering 1,200 to 1,500 miles.

★ ★ ★

Expedition leader Bjoern Staib, 25, believes it is the longest ski trip in history. Only Staib and three of his best skiers will attempt the final part of the trip, from the pole to Europe.

NOT EVEN SURE

And even they are not sure whether their destination will be east or west of the Iron Curtain.

Staib plans to decide at the pole whether to head for the Norwegian island of Spitsbergen or the Soviet island of Severnaya Zemlya.

The expedition has permission from Soviet authorities to use the latter route.

★ ★ ★

Staib, a veteran of cross-country skiing and mountain climbing, has worked out a system of base camps so that the expedition will have supplies along the way.

The expedition is not relying on ski power alone. It is equipped with combination Kayak - sleds, capable of sliding over the ice or floating on the water.

One hundred sled dogs will be used to haul the equipment. They will be left at the supply camps along the route.

The last group of skiers will pull its own sled.

The Norwegians will follow the trail of U.S. Arctic explorer Robert S. Peary on their trip to the pole. Peary set out from Cape Columbia, 1,000 miles from the pole, 55 years ago.

HELPING TO PAY

U.S. and European geographic societies are helping pay for the trip, and the Air Force is cooperating with the students.

Their base camp will be at Alert on the Canadian island of Ellesmere.

U.S. Trip a Dream for Hypnosis Expert

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Mario Bellini is going to the United States Tuesday to explain how he gets students to learn their lessons while they sleep.

The trip is a dream of his own. He said he achieved it, just as he gets his students to learn, by hypnosis.

Bellini attracted international attention last year when he experimented on a class of selected students from the San Vincenzo Institute in Gergamo, 28, miles northeast of Milan. Results were so convincing that school authorities invited him to do it again this year with a class of 30.

The students put on earphones and listen while the hypnotist lulls them to sleep whispering: "One, two, three, sleep, my lads sleep."

REMEMBER LESSONS

Once the class is asleep, the regular teacher picks up the microphone and reads the lesson. School authorities say that when the students are awakened they not only remember the lesson but also understand it.

After the first few times, Bellini doesn't have to be there to chant. The students doze off listening to a recording.

Bellini said that after news of his experiment was published, he received 4,000 letters asking details. Most came from the United States.

Bellini had dreamed for years of visiting America but he lacked the money.

ENTERED CONTEST

He entered a contest on an Italian television program and won enough to finance a 45-day visit to the United States.

"Do not believe it was an easy thing," Bellini said. "I lost more than eight pounds during those three weeks of the contest. But I helped myself through it by relaxing before each performance."

They say "money talks"

What does your money say... about the way you save or spend it?

Some people can't seem to save for things they need or want. Many just can't get ahead of ever-present bills. Some put money aside—in a cookie jar or ordinary savings account—but earn little interest. Others won't borrow for emergencies, though it's often the best thing they can do.

How do you save . . . meet money emergencies . . . get the things your home and family need?

Money talks for over 100,000 of your neighbors who wisely save and borrow at one of 76 Oakland County credit unions. Why? Because credit unions help people build financial security! They are owned and run by the members, solely to serve members' needs . . . not to make a profit on them!

This is why credit unions provide lower loan costs, have more sympathetic understanding of personal credit requirements, are often the only place people can turn for emergency help.

Credit unions also provide sound, impartial financial counseling, develop wise money habits, help build savings that would not otherwise be saved, pay higher dividends on savings. And they match members' savings, protect their loans with life and disability insurance at no extra cost!

Perhaps you too can qualify for credit union membership . . . can begin making money talk for you! Ask about eligibility now. We'll also send you—

FREE, without obligation, a year's subscription to EVERYBODY'S MONEY—authoritative national magazine on personal finance, showing many ways to get the most out of your money. Just write:

Erhard, Brandt to Air Wall Rift

BERLIN (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt will meet this week to try to patch up a dispute over how to deal with the East Germans about crossing the Berlin wall.

The Western allies believe only the Communists can gain from the quarrel which developed after the collapse last week of negotiations for Easter visits by West Berliners to relatives in the Communist sector.

Dismayed by Communist political exploitation of the Christmas visits across the wall, Erhard refused to allow an Easter agreement on the same terms.

★

He said there would be no agreement that could imply recognition of the Communist regime, and the talks were suspended until April.

★ ★ ★

Brandt has demanded a new approach to the problem. Erhard is a Christian Democrat and Brandt a Socialist.

Negro Seeking Congress Seat From Alabama

JASPER, Ala. (AP)—For the first time since Reconstruction days, a Negro is running for Congress from Alabama.

Amelia P. Boynton of Selma qualified Saturday to oppose Rep. Kenneth Roberts of Anniston.

Alabama lost a congressional seat as a result of the last census, and was unable to reach agreement on redistricting. So each of the old nine districts nominates a candidate in the May 5 Democratic primary and the winners enter a runoff June 2 with the eight high candidates getting the nominations.

INSURANCE AGENT

Mrs. Boynton, a native of Savannah, Ga., is an insurance agent in Selma. She has been active in Negro registration drives and civil rights campaigns in Dallas County.

Junior Editors Quiz on BREATHING

QUESTION: Why do we need lungs?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The air around us is full of the gas, called oxygen. This is very fortunate for us, because the living cells in our bodies must have oxygen—without it, they would quickly die.

Oxygen combines with the carbon in our food in a process called oxidation; it is related to the burning of a substance to give out a great deal of heat and energy.

The kind of oxidation going on inside us does not burn us like fire, but it does give off heat and energy, both of which are necessary—one to keep the body warm, and the other to give us the vigor and drive we need in order to lead our lives.

★ ★ ★

After the oxygen and carbon have burned inside us, carbon dioxide is left; but we do not need this, and we breathe it out, as Harry is doing in the drawing.

Our lungs are needed to transfer the oxygen in the air to the minute cells which make up the body. Inside the lungs are millions of tiny air sacs called "alveoli" one of which we show.

A network of tiny blood vessels surround each sac and these pull the oxygen through the thin sac walls and start it on its way through the bloodstream.

Alveoli also collect unneeded carbon dioxide, so we can breathe this out (A).

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Would you say that the carbon dioxide we breathe out is then wasted? If you say yes, you are wrong. Plants take much of the carbon dioxide and use it in photosynthesis, the process by which they manufacture vital foodstuffs, such as starches and fats.

Australia is the continent with the largest sheep population, but Britain is the country with the greatest variety of sheep breeds.

California, the third largest of the states, is 127 times greater in total area than all of Rhode Island.

There are over 47 million families in the United States, the Population Reference Bureau reports.

Second car

A second car that takes you all over town . . . that's one of the many roles the telephone plays in your life.

For the telephone is always at your disposal, ready to take you to the store, the doctor, the cleaner, the plumber, an old friend. Dial the number and you're "there."

You reach people fast by telephone . . . without losing time, and temper fighting traffic and looking for parking spots.

Your telephone actually saves you money while taking you around town from your easy chair. In fact, the more you use this second car the more you're likely to save. You save time, and save expenses that would otherwise mount up if you had to go everywhere in person.

It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone second car to take you places the fast, easy way. And it's still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.

Small Club With Few Funds Has Big Heart, Busy Hands

Women's Section

Pontiac Press Photo

It's "Operation, Layette!" when the Friendship Club of Evelyn Court, organized in 1927, goes into action. Displaying a completed outfit are Mrs. Walter Parker, Liberty Street; Mrs. Edward Hall, Evelyn Court, president, and Mrs. Paul Keith of Ostrum Street, vice president.

By MADELEINE DOEREN

What can a small club accomplish with monthly dues of 15 cents per member?

The Friendship Club of Evelyn Court can do a lot with so little!

★ ★ ★

While the main project is making layettes for needy, deserving families this year, the group delivered over 100 presents to the Oakland County Children's Center at Christmas.

In 1962, they presented gifts to 175 patients at Pontiac State Hospital.

FORMED IN 1927

Speaking of the club formed by her mother, the late Mrs. E. D. Barling in 1927, Mrs. Edward Hall of Evelyn Court, president, says "The club was formed as a neighborly gesture to newcomers on the Court. They met for a social afternoon once a month in members' homes.

★ ★ ★

"They soon decided to do something more constructive. With the dues and occasional donations, they purchased materials for layettes."

★ ★ ★

According to Webster, a layette is "a complete outfit of clothing, blankets, etc. for a newborn infant."

The Friendship Club's layettes are just that! Along with 18 diapers (hand-hemmed) are six nightgowns, two shirts, 2 pair socks, 2 pair rubber pants, satin - bound blanket, towel set, receiving blanket, baby soap, safety pins, powder and baby oil.

There is not stock - pile of layettes as the group can complete an outfit in two afternoon sessions. Two layettes were recently presented to the Oakland County American Red Cross home service department.

HAND FINISHED

The tiny garments are machine - sewed down the sides and hand - finished along the armhole, neckline and hem. Blue and pink feather-stitching trims the neckline. Each layette contains three gowns trimmed in pink and three in blue.

In 1938, a complete layette could be made for $3.60. In 1964, one costs $12.65. The small dues are inadequate for the rising cost of materials, especially the outing flannel which has doubled in price.

The club has thank-you letters for a layette from a prospective father admitted to Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanitorium and an indigent Mexican couple, parents of twins.

Other club officers are: Mrs. Paul Keith, vice president; Mrs. Donald Harrison, secretary and Mrs. Charles Price, treasurer.

Many of the original members have moved from the Court but are still active in the club and feel well rewarded for their part in the charitable work.

Other active members are Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs. Bert Witt, Mrs. Astolf Levin, Mrs. John Zeunen, Mrs. Bert Farrell, Mrs. Doris Hursfal, Hilda Corey, Mrs. Frank Meserva, Lucy Noggle, Mrs. Charles Hudson and Mrs. E. M. Malone.

Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. E. M. Dexter of Watkins Lake, is on the inactive list as are Mrs. Elmer Going, Mrs. E. J. Reed and Mrs. J. L. Mendham who has moved to Ossineke.

Thirty-Eight Members Sign Chapter's Charter

Thirty-eight women signed the charter of the newly organized Pontiac chapter, National Federation of Negro Business and Professional Women.

Officers of the Detroit and Flint chapters installed officers Friday evening at the Urban League. A buffet dinner and social hour followed.

LOCAL LEADERS

Local officers include Mrs. Emery Hayes, president; Hortense Riddick, Mrs. Robert Burns and Vera Dobson, vice presidents; Mrs. Harold A. Allen, Mrs. John Turner and Ann Russell, secretaries; and Mrs. Rollie Jones, treasurer. Lynetta Anderson, parliamentarian.

The National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. was founded in 1935. Over 5,000 members belong to some 80 senior and 30 junior clubs.

Among the projects of the club's program are education, international affairs, juvenile delinquency and business workshops.

Each club donates funds to support the Samuel Grimes Maternity Center and Ricks Institute in Monrovia, Liberia.

The Negro BPW awards its Sojourner Truth Award to a woman in the local community each year. The groups also make scholarship awards.

The Pontiac chapter will meet the fourth Friday of each month.

Officers of the newly formed Negro Business and Professional Women's Club in Pontiac were installed Friday evening. From the left are Hortense Riddick, South Boulevard, West; Mrs. Harold A. Allen, Orchard Lake Avenue; Mrs. Emery Hayes, Luther Street; and Mrs. Rollie Jones, Bondale Street.

Their Three Sons

She's Wild About Harry

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son's wife just produced a third son. They named their first after my son, Thomas.

They named their second son after her father, Richard. Naturally, the boys are called "Tom" and "Dick."

ABBY

Now, just because of that silly expression, "Tom, Dick, and Harry," they went ahead and named the third little fellow "Harry."

I thought it was disgraceful and told them so. They think it's cute.

I would like your opinion. This is no gag.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Harry is a good solid name, and I see nothing "disgraceful" about it.

Some years ago, a woman in Trenton, New Jersey gave birth to triplets, which she named "Eenie, Meenie and Mine-ee" because she said there wasn't going to be any "Moe."

(This is no gag, either.)

DEAR ABBY: I found a young girl's picture in my husband's wallet. He said she was a girl he danced with at a bar in town.

To prove himself, he took me there, pointed her out, and then danced with her once, "just to talk to her."

★ ★ ★

Afterwards he brought me home, pledged his love and tore up the picture.

The next night he was out 'til 4 o'clock in the morning. When he was asleep, I checked his wallet and found another picture of the same girl. Also her telephone number.

After he left for work, I called her. He had told her he was single, that I was a neighbor who kept his bachelor apartment clean, and whom he had taken out just to be nice.

★ ★ ★

Abby, I love him. Should I give him a divorce so he can marry her?

Or should I live with him for the sake of our two babies, and sleep apart?

VERY, VERY HURT

DEAR HURT: Don't assume he WANTS a divorce.

★ ★ ★

Tell him what you know, and insist that he accompany you to your clergyman, a marriage counselor, or to the Family Service Association, which has qualified counselors.

Sleeping apart will only provide him with an excuse for sleeping elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: I know that I would make a very good salesman, but I can't get a job.

Everywhere I apply I am told that they are looking for a young man with experience.

★ ★ ★

Abby, how can I get experience if no one will hire me? I can sell anything.

NO EXPERIENCE

DEAR NO: You cannot "sell anything" if you can't sell yourself.

A man is not likely to hire a person to sell for him if that person takes "no" for an answer, without attempting to convince him to say "yes."

DEAR ABBY: How true it is that kissing someone who has no teeth is nothing, I am the one without teeth (occasionally) and my husband tells me that kissing me when I do not have my dentures in is like drinking flat beer.

SOMETIMES TOOTHLESS

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

No Suitors After Folks Are in Bed

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My 18-year-old daughter complains because I object to her bringing a boy home into the house when she returns home from a date and the family has gone to bed.

She says that was probably right in my day but it is terribly outmoded today. She says too that none of her friends' parents object to their bringing their dates into the house and that I am being very narrow-minded.

What is your opinion?

★ ★ ★

A: Because some parents are very lax is no reason why you should be, too, and you are entirely right in objecting to your daughter bringing a boy into the house after the family has gone to bed.

Q: There is a difference of opinion among some of the members of my family as to the correct wording of my wedding invitations.

My brother and I say they should read, "request the honour of your presence" and my sister and mother think they should read, "request the pleasure of your company." Which is the correct form?

★ ★ ★

A: On wedding invitations to the church, "the honour of presence" is correct.

On the invitations to a reception, "request the pleasure of your company" is correct.

Q: My mother recently remarried and I am puzzled as to the correct way to introduce her.

Our names are now different and if I say, as I used to, Mother, this is Jane Doe," then the friend will quite naturally suppose that my mother's name is the same as mine and call her by my name.

Will you please tell me how to make this clear when introducing her?

★ ★ ★

A: Say, "My mother (pause) and then add, whatever her name is.

Celebrities Will Reveal Facets of Many Worlds

Birmingham Town Hall, sponsored by St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, announces its series for the 1964-65 season.

Opening the series on Oct. 8 and 9 will be Kitty Carlisle, Broadway and Hollywood star, songstress and permanent panelist on TV's "To Tell the Truth."

Miss Carlisle will give an account of her unusual experiences in the entertainment world in "First Person Singular."

NEWS COMMENTATOR

Elie Abel, state department commentator for NBC's participant in the Huntley-Brinkley report, will speak to Town Hall audiences Nov. 12 and 13.

His topic will be "Strategy for Peace."

Dec. 3 and 4, Town Hall audiences will welcome Edward Weeks, editor of America's oldest literary magazine, "The Atlantic Monthly" and one of the four writer delegates sent to Russia by U.S. Cultural Exchange.

Weeks, entitles his talk, "In the Editor's Chair."

★ ★ ★

Michael Greer, interior decorator of international reputation will be featured Jan. 7 and 8.

★ ★ ★

Jan 28 and 29 will bring Dr. J. Gaither Pratt, for 25 years chief researcher in the parapsychology laboratory at Duke University, before Town Hall audiences.

MRS. SAARINEN

Aline Saarinen will conclude the series Feb. 18 and 19. Seen regularly on the "Today" show and "Sunday on TV," she is the former associate art editor and critic for the New York Times. She is a winner of the international and American awards for art criticism, and wife of the world - renowned architect, the late Eero Saarinen.

★ ★ ★

As author of the best-selling book, "The Proud Possessors" Mrs. Saarinen was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Cranbrook Features Exhibition

A one man exhibition of paintings and drawings by Dorothy Varian will open March 5 and continue through March 22 in Kingswood School Cranbrook art gallery.

Miss Varian's work has been widely exhibited both here and abroad with her first one man exhibition at the Durand-Ruel Galleries, Paris, in 1922.

ON DISPLAY

Her works are in the Whitney Museum of American Art, Duncan Phillips Memorial Gallery, Washington, D.C., the Newark Museum, Dartmouth College Museum and the Ogunquit Memorial Museum, Maine.

They are also in Abbott Laboratories and the collections of the late Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

Among the pieces in the show is a series of seven paintings entitled "Depth to Space."

The gallery is open from 2 to 5 p.m. every day including Saturdays and Sundays. Kingswood School is located on Cranbrook Road in Bloomfield Hills.

CHARLOTTE BLANCHE OSMUN

A May wedding is planned by Charlotte Blanche Osmun, daughter of the Carroll L. Osmuns of Sylvan Village and John Nelson Howard, son of the John Howards of Troy. Both are seniors at Oakland University.

April Bride Given Gifts

Mrs. H. Vere Hodges and daughter Ann entertained recently in their Ottawa Drive home, honoring April bride-elect Sharon Lee Secord.

Among some 17 guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Alton J. Secord of Seeden Street and Mrs. Allen Hawke of Dixie Highway, mother of prospective bridegroom, Thomas Allen Hawke.

Airman Weds English Girl

Word has been received of the recent marriage of Rita Elizabeth Richards of Northampton, England, to Airman 2.C. Ronald Jeffrey Burtch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O. Burtch of Walnut Road.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Richards, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception in Exeter Hall following the wedding ceremony in Queensgroove Methodist Church Northampton.

The newlyweds are residing in Northampton and will make their home in the Pontiac area after July.

After Local Winter

Warmth Wins Localites

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Coping with unpredictable Michigan weather is a problem many Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills residents have avoided by migrating to the warmer spots of the country.

★ ★ ★

Among those who escaped the below freezing area weather are the Harry J. Nederlanders of Pilgrim Road who have spent some time these past few weeks in Scottsdale, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

Basking in the Florida sun are other area residents including the Frank Egan family of Franklin Park Road. Mr. and Mrs. Egan, with daughter Boo, plan to extend their stay until March.

Others who were in Florida include Mrs. C. H. Purdy of Pontiac who was at Pompano Beach. The David Glefkes of Northover Drive have just returned home following their Florida stay.

SPECIAL TREAT

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Richardson Jr. of North Glengarry Road, vacationing in Florida, attended the 500 mile NASCAR Grand National Race at Daytona Beach. Mr. Richardson was among the celebrities to ride in the pace car which started off the race.

★ ★ ★

Among those who plan to spend Easter vacation time in Florida are the Elton Schenhoffs of Amherst Road whose stay will be in the St. Petersburg area. Daughter Valerie and a classmate will join Valerie's parents during Easter vacation.

★ ★ ★

The Karl Jepsons of Beechwood Road stopped at Nassau before joining friends aboard a chartered boat for a several weeks' cruise of the Caribbean.

GO NORTH

While friends and neighbors were off to the south, others took advantage of weather to go schussing on many of the state's ski slopes.

★ ★ ★

Among these are the Alex Clarks of Apple Lane and the Roy Kidneys of Pierce Street.

At Otsego Ski Club the Clarks greeted old friends at a cocktail party which marked their twenty-first wedding anniversary.

Rub Out Rings

You can remove a ring from around the bathtub by rubbing with a few drops of kerosene oil. Wash off the kerosene with warm, soapy water.

Wild Wardrobe Goes to Dogs

Every dog should have his day — and his turn at the family washing machine.

With all the new doggy fashions popping up, today's pampered pet can account for a full washer load all by himself — blanket, bath towel, bed pad, cushion, raincoat, hair-bows. The very last word in washable dog togs is a quilted nylon ski coat with Orlon fleece lining!

Six-weeks-old Gyla Adams couldn't care less that she's the center of admiration in a five-generation picture. At the left is grandmother, Mrs. Elmo Huntwork of Clarkston. Holding Gyla is great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Walter Daugherty, 86, of Pontiac Lake Road. Great-grandmother, Mrs. Violet Smith, also of Pontiac Lake Road, hovers in the background. Mother is Mrs. Allan Adams, Williams Lake Road.

Nature and Miracles Discussed

Mrs. Norman Cheal was moderator for the second in a series of programs for the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational on Friday. Luncheon was served by the Mary Lyon group.

★ ★ ★

Panelists in the discussion, "Were Miracles an Interruption of Natural Law?", were Mrs. William L. Miller, Mrs. W. L. Ott, Mrs. J. Grady Smith and Mrs. James Cheal.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Whitney Carnahan, stewardship chairman, presided at the annual ingathering of missionary funds from the women's groups.

★ ★ ★

A May Day card party, open to the public, and sponsored by the group, was announced.

Evening Rites Followed by Florida Honeymoon

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Clair Burton Rose (Janice Ann Smith) left for a Florida honeymoon after greeting some 400 guests in the Star Ballroom, Fraser.

Vows were exchanged in an evening ceremony, Saturday, before Rev. Ralph Claus in St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are the Elbert W. Smiths of South Marshall Street and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Rose of Warren.

LACE HEADPIECE

Pearl-frosted Alencon lace formed a headpiece atop the bride's veil of silk illusion and accented her bouffant gown of silk-faced white peau de soie. She carried gardenias and Stephanotis.

Mrs. James Smith of Lake Orion attended her sister-in-law as honor matron, Nancy Findlay of Troy and Ellen Lamson, Royal Oak, were bridesmaids for their cousin, together with Janet Rose.

Bouquets of glamellias accented their floor length gowns of blue and green brocade.

On the esquire side were best man Sidney Poole and ushers Michael Schrock, James and Joel Smith.

Sorority Alums Plan Meetings in Two Groups

The March meetings of Kappa Delta Alumnae Association of South Oakland County will be held March 10. Both the afternoon and evening groups will have business meetings.

★ ★ ★

The afternoon group will meet at the Birmingham home of Mrs. Clarence Blenman at noon. Cohostess will be Mrs. Henry Dawkins.

Mrs. Wesley Smith of Southfield will open her home at 8 p.m. for members of the evening group.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Bielock, Mrs. Richard Meurer and Mrs. Victor Peck will share cohostess honors.

Noble Grands Hold Meeting

The Past Noble Grands Club of Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 will meet with Mrs. Randall Wilson of Inverness Road Teusday evening. Mrs. Richard Rohrer will be cohostess.

A cooperative luncheon for Friendship Circle is scheduled for Thursday noon in the home of Mrs. Paul Wilder on Chalice Street, Orion Townsflip.

A penny supper preceded Thursday's lodge meeting in Pythian Hall on Voorheis Road.

Giants in Tub; Problem Pair

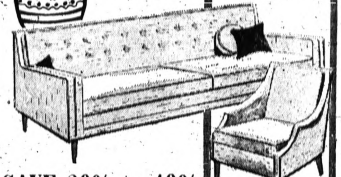

Remember that a pair of king- or queen-size sheets amounts to just about double the yardage and weight you have been accustomed to putting into one washer load!

★ ★ ★

Since sheets should have room to swirl around so the soap or detergent suds can penetrate every inch of fabric, one super-size sheet should be balanced with several smaller items to constitute a load. That is better than crowding in two large sheets.

Comb to Safety

Slide a comb under the button when removing it from a garment. Then cut the thread with a razor blade and there will be no damage to the material.

Short Gown Is Worn by Recent Bride

MRS. R. H. SEXTON

White gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums adorned the altar in Sunnyvale Chapel where Rosemary V. Gardiner and Robert Hurl Sexton were wed on Friday.

For the family ceremony performed by Rev. V. L. Martin, the bride chose a street-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta.

A bouffant veil of silk illusion, capped by a crown of pearls and sequins and a bouquet of white and yellow carnations completed her ensemble.

Attending the bride as matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Carey wore a blue taffeta sheath dress styled with long sleeves and matching overskirt. Her corsage was yellow carnations.

The bridegroom, son of the Elda Sextons of Addie Street, had Gary Peel for his best man.

The couple greeted some 150 guests in the Clarkston Community Center before leaving for a northern honeymoon. They will be at home on Athens Street.

Women's Club Meeting Marks Eleven Years

The eleventh anniversary of The Business Institute (TBI) Women's Club was celebrated at its Saturday afternoon meeting.

The affair was held in the Norton Avenue home of Mrs. S. E. Minard with Betty Whitson, Pat Wagner and Mrs. Donald Beutler as cohostesses.

Officers for the club's twelfth year were elected at the meeting. Mrs. Clayton Woodwards is president; Grace Trapp, vice president; Mrs. Herman Reader, secretary; Mrs. Sol Lomerson, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Coad, historian.

Mrs. Donald Higgins, Margaret Higgins, Lela Shields and Mrs. Mary Todd were guests at the party.

Council Has Talk, Vote Tomorrow

"Citizen Investment in Local Education" will be discussed at Pontiac PTA Council's Tuesday evening meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Webster School.

A member of the Citizens School Study Committee will lead the discussion with Mrs. William Mihalek and Dr. Dana Whitmer also participating.

* * *

Charles Hazel, chairman of the nominating committee, will present the slate of officers for election.

TO SERVE GROUP

The slate includes: Mrs. Robert Trachet, president; Mrs. William White, first vice president; Mrs. Leslie Hotchkiss, second vice president; and Mrs. Fred Goines, recording secretary.

Completing the list are Mrs. Thomas Bartle, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Howard McConnell, treasurer; Mrs. Willis Schnekenburger, historian; and William Condon, auditor.

Out-of-town events will take council members to Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, March 17, for a Problems clinic.

Members will also attend the 47th annual state convention in Lansing on April 20-22.

Hospitality for the Tuesday night meeting will be furnished by the PTA's of Webster, Whittier, Bethune, Washington Junior High, and Pontiac Central High schools.

A June wedding is planned by Gloria Jean Klemm, daughter of the Arthur Klemms of Clarkston and Dr. Robert S. S. Lie of Pontiac General Hospital. She attends Detroit Bible College and the Detroit Conservatory of Music. Her fiance is a graduate of Wayne State University and the Groningen School of Medicine in Holland.

Summer Suits First Imported

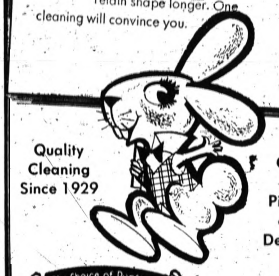

The first summer suiting in this country was Calcutta seersucker. Some years later, Shantung Silk was imported, followed by Tibadabo cloth, later known as Spanish linen, and cotton and linen constructions from Majorca and Ireland. It was many years before any lightweight cloth was made in the United States.

Area Prep Cagers Open Tournament Action Tomorrow

Pontiac Northern-Lake Orion, Northville - Orchard Lake St. Mary, St. Michael-St. Frederick and Dryden - Mount Clemens Holy Cross . . .

That is only a smattering of the local high school Class A, B, C and D basketball teams that will pair off tomorrow night and Wednesday in annual state post-season tournament play.

★ ★ ★

For those fans who can't wait, there is one Class A district clash tonight at Flint Southwestern High, which tangles with Beecher High.

Oakland County will swing into the hectic campaign where it is one mistake and the uniforms are hung up until next season tomorrow night at several sites.

Pontiac Northern will have its Huskies meeting Lake Orion at 8 p.m. in one of the better Class A contests. Probably the night's best game will have Ferndale entertaining well-regarded Hamtramck at 8:30 p.m.

The Ferndale squad is the defending state Class A champ. It also is the Eastern Michigan League co-champion this season.

The other co-champ, Birmingham Seaholm, will start its tournament play against Royal Oak Dondero. Game time will be 8:45 p.m. at Birmingham, following the Groves-Berkley opener.

Hazel Park and Detroit Pershing will open the Ferndale Class A district double-header.

Single Class A clashes are slated for North Farmington and Rochester. Southfield and Walled Lake have an 8 p.m. date at the former site.

Rochester, meanwhile, will have its own Falcons making their start at 8:30 p.m. against Utica's Chieftains.

CLASS B GAMES

There are several Class B district games scheduled Tuesday of interest to local basketball fans. A double-header is set for Pontiac Central's gym.

★ ★ ★

At 7 p.m., Clarenceville and South Lyon will collide, followed by the Orchard Lake St. Mary-Northville, 8:45 p.m. meeting.

The Oxford "B" eliminations will see the host team encounter a talented Imlay City squad at 7:30 p.m. Brighton will travel to Fenton for a 7:30 p.m. meeting with the latter.

"C" DISTRICT

The St. Mike-St. Fred Class C district contest is scheduled for Wednesday at 8:45 p.m. on the PCH floor. Detroit Country Day and Waterford Our Lady of Lakes also will tangle that night.

There are no local Class C teams playing Tuesday.

In Class D action at Rochester, Dryden will meet Mount Clemens Holy Cross tomorrow at 6:45 p.m.

The pairings for the tournaments last week had an effect on the game tactics employed by some coaches. Several teams changed their lineups to keep tournament opponents from scouting their personnel too closely.

Farmington coach Jack Quigley, for example, knowing the Falcons play North Farmington Wednesday in the tourney, didn't use three regulars as the two teams clashed in a regular season contest that meant little.

The single elimination tournament offers teams that haven't done much during the season a chance to pull a startling upset and maybe grab a district title.

For many, it will be the final quick discouragement during a campaign that was full of them.

For others, there will be bitter disappointment after a regular campaign that was a bright success. Such a fate awaits Wayne-Oakland League co-champion Clarkston (14-2) or Tri-County titlist Kettering (15-0), or perhaps both.

★ ★ ★

They are in opposite brackets of the Grand Blanc Class A district, and if not early victims, will collide in the finals there; and one must lose.

For both PCH and Pontiac Northern, and St. Frederick and St. Michael, the district play offers a third shot at arch rivals with a chance for a most important victory.

In PNH's case, however, the Huskies must first get by a good Lake Orion combine before they can play Central.

★ ★ ★

In the end, there will be only four teams standing — a state champion in each class. Before play begins, though, Oakland County has an equal chance for at least one of the four.

DISTRICT TOURNAMENTS
Tuesday Schedule

CLOSE WATCH — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox is keeping close watch on his top pitcher Gary Peters at their Sarasota, Florida training camp which opened today. Peters had a 19-8 record last year.

Tigers Keep Close Watch

4 Bonus Hurlers Tabbed

By DON VOGEL
Pontiac Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. — "The most important thing for a manager to do during a game is to keep an eye on his pitcher," Detroit Tiger manager Charlie Dressen has said more than once.

The 64-year-old manager was keeping a close watch on the pitching mound here yesterday. So was pitching coach Stuby Overmire.

And so was general manager James A. Campbell, who put the stamp of approval on contracts for three of the four bonus babies who pitched in the squad game.

The total cost of the four when signed was about $135,000.

The Striped Sox with Joe Sparma, formerly of Ohio State ex-Illinois hurler ($65,000) on the mound, beat the Black Sox, 7-3.

Fritz Fisher former University of Michigan star ($30,000), and Pete Craig, who toiled last spring for University of Detroit ($20,000), were both tagged for homers for the losers.

The problem confronting Dressen, Overmire and Campbell is what two of the quartet will stay with the Tigers this season.

There is a possibility that all four could make the team, but even Dressen considers this unlikely.

★ ★ ★

Fletcher still is technically on the voluntary retired list he was the player signed before Campbell became GM and sat out 1963 with an arm ailment that doctors said would not allow him to pitch again. The 22-year-old lefthander is trying to prove otherwise.

PHYSICALLY SOUND

The other three bonus hurlers are physically sound. If all three stick, there is no problem. But if one or more fails, he will go on the open market under the major league draft law for bonus players.

Dressen has been leaning toward Fisher as left handed insurance in the bull pen since the rookies arrived here Feb. 15 he likes Fisher's sinker.

A native of Adrain, Fisher wasn't too impressive yesterday. He had control trouble and, not being an overpowering pitcher, this hampered his effectiveness.

The Striped Sox touched him for four runs in the five innings and most damaging blow was a two-run homer by George Thomas over the 360-foot mark in left center field. Thomas also touched Fisher for two singles.

★ ★ ★

Craig, who appears to be on the bottom of the list, didn't help his position after taking over for Fisher.

LONG HOMER

He tried throwing soft curves instead of his usual fast ball and got into trouble with the batters and management. Farmhand Arlo Brunsberg, a big catcher, blasted a Craig pitch high over the 350-foot sign in right field with a mate aboard.

Sparma, noted for a good fastball and control trouble, was the most impressive. Only in the fourth of the five innings he toiled did the wildness show and this wouldn't have happened if two infield errors hadn't loaded the bases with two out.

Sparma, a husky righthander, walked in two runs and before getting out of the jam the Black Sox had three unearned runs.

Fletcher who had a blood vessel collapse in his pitching arm late in the 1962 season after being called up by the Tigers yielded two hits in his two-inning stint.

The infielders and outfielders aren't officially expected to report until Wednesday several are here, however, and Al Kaline and Norm Cash have been running each morning.

TIGER NOTES

This famed Florida sun and warm weather finally made an appearance after more than a month when the Tigers officially opened camp at Henely Field Saturday.

The mercury climbed to 55 Saturday and the players, residents and local chamber of commerce really rejoiced when it hit 72 yesterday.

Terry Fox agreed to terms Sunday to become the last Tiger in the fold.

When asked if Fox got his demanded raise, general manager James A. Campbell answered, "No," he said, "You'll have to ask Fox if he took a cut."

The relief pitcher made about $12,500 last season when he was 8-6 with a 3.60 earned run average. Fox came to terms during a phone talk with Campbell yesterday morning.

He told Campbell he was leaving New Iberia, Ill. Sunday by car with his family and would report Tuesday.

Ramos Batters Title Contender in Mismatch

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese sports dailies opened a campaign today for an end to boxing mismatches because of featherweight champion Sugar Ramoss' brutal technical knockout victory in the sixth round over Mitsunori Seki of Japan here Sunday night.

Seki was battered to the canvas twice in the sixth round of their title fight and then, his handlers — fearing that he might become fatally injured as was a previous Ramos opponent — stopped the bout.

The crowd of 9,000 in Kuramae Sumo Stadium seemed stunned by the explosiveness of Cuban Ramos' blows in the sixth round as he made his second successful defense of the 126-pound championship. He weighed exactly 126; Seki, 125¾.

It was the second time this year that a Japanese challenger for a world title was the victim of a foreign boxer's dynamite punch. Yoshinori Takahashi was knocked out in the same stadium, Jan. 4 in the 13th round by junior welterweight champion Eddie Perkins of Chicago.

★ ★ ★

"Please, no more reckless challenges," implored the Tokyo Chunichi sports daily. "Even the fans are sick of it."

"We do not want to see such a match for the second time," said the Sankei sports daily, "we have had enough of it."

While the Tokyo papers were demanding even matches, Ramos today loudly demanded a shot at the lightweight 135-pound crown worn by Carlos Ortiz of New York.

★ ★ ★

Promoter George Parnassus of Los Angeles, at the ringside during the fight, announced he would guarantee a total purse of at least $300,000 for an Ortiz-Ramos bout if Ortiz keeps the crown in his title defense against Kenny Lane at San Juan P.R. next month.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

TOKYO — World featherweight champion Sugar Ramos, 125, Mexico, stopped Mitsunori Seki, 125¾, Japan, 6. Ramos retained title.
MANILA—Rey Asis, 120½, Philippines, won by disqualification over Katsuo Saito, 118½, Japan, 6.

Red Wings Tie On Late Goal

NEW YORK (AP) — Parker Mac Donald's goal in the last five minutes salvaged a 2-2 tie for the Detroit Red Wings with the New York Rangers Sunday night and virtually assured the Wings a playoff spot.

Mac Donald and Gordie Howe collaborated on the play, Parker firing from 15 feet out after taking Gordie's pass.

★ ★ ★

The tie put the fourth-place Red Wings 10 points up on the Rangers with only nine games to go before the National Hockey League finishes the regular season.

Meanwhile, the Chicago Black Hawks fought back into a first place tie with the Montreal Canadiens by beating the Canadiens at Chicago 4-3 in a bitter battle.

Each team now has 77 points, though the Canadiens have played two games less than the Hawks.

THIRD GOAL

Kenny Wharram's third goal of the game and 36th of the season at 17:42 of the final period brought Chicago the victory. The Canadians twice came from behind for 2-2 and 3-3 ties.

Two goals by Wharram in the first period gave Chicago a 2-0 lead.

★ ★ ★

Stan Mikita of the Hawks collected three assists and a goal to go well out in front of teammate Bobby Hull in the NHL individual scoring race with 80 points. Hull has 74.

Left wing Dean Prentice, after accidentally scoring against his own team, shot the winning goal as the Boston Bruins won from the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3. It was Prentice's 20th goal of the season.

★ ★ ★

The Boston winger gave Toronto a goal in the first period when he deflected the puck into the Boston net while trying to help goalie Ed Johnston.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk contributed to Detroit's tie by holding off the Rangers at the net with 37 saves.

Twins' Hurler Pascual Balks at Pay Offer

MIAMI (AP)—Camilo Pascual, the refugee from Cuba who has made Miami his permanent home, threatened today to stay there all summer unless the Minnesota Twins agree to his demand for a $10,000 increase in salary.

The 30-year-old pitcher, who is generally regarded as the best right-hander in the American League, twice has returned a proferred contract calling for $40,000. This represents a $2,000 increase over his earnings last year when he won 21 of 30 decisions and led all pitchers in his league with 202 strikeouts.

Ford Cobras Set Pace at Georgia Speedway

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The Shelby-American racing team racked up first-place finishes in both 156-mile auto races at Augusta International Speedway.

Team captain Ken Miles of Hollywood, Calif., averaged 87.901 miles per hour over the Speedway's three - mile course Sunday to take fifrst in the manufacturer's race in a Ford Cobra. Top prize money is awarded in the unmodified race, but auto manufacturers get points toward a national championship.

Teammate Dave McDonald of El Monte, Calif., won the driver's race in a Cooper-modified Ford Cobra, averaging 97.653 m.p.h. over the 52 laps and collected $1,500.

★ ★ ★

Hard luck befell Jim Hall of Midland, Tex., who held the pole position for the driver's race in his Chevrolet-powered Chaparral. He got off to a bad start and fell nine cars behind, but still managed to overtake all but McDonald.

WRONG COUNT

Then his pit crew signaled the wrong number of laps remaining. Hall spun out but collected $500 for a second-place finish.

Another Shelby team member, Bob Holbert of Warrenton, Pa., finished third in the driver's race and collected $300. Harry Heuer of Powers Lake, Wis. picked up $200 fourth place money in a Chaparral, and George Koehne of San Antonio, Tex. was fifth in a Ford Genie, collecting $150.

★ ★ ★

Miles and McDonald had a real battle in the manufacturer's race with the lead changing hands 18 times. McDonald, driving a Ford Cobra, spun out on the 31st lap, but still managed to finish second.

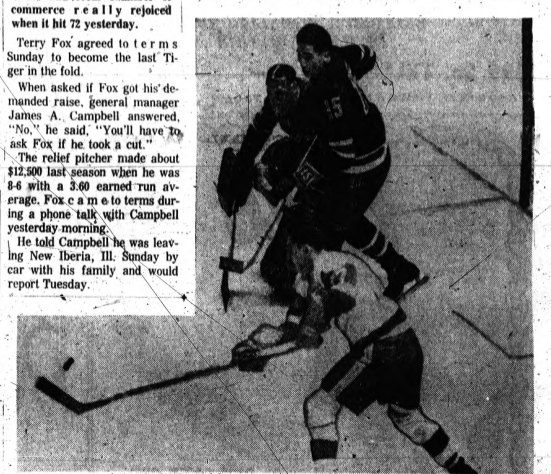

Ralph Noseodo and Jeff Stephens, both of Miami, Fla., teamed to finish third in a Ford Cobra. Bruce Jennings of Towson, Md., was fourth in a Porsche Carrera, and Chuck Cassel of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was fifth in a Porsche Abarth.

Crane Icers Defeated, 4-2

Cranbrook closed its ice hockey season on a losing note Saturday, dropping a 4-2 decision to Nichols School at Buffalo, N.Y.

The Cranes went ahead 1-0 on a first-period goal by Tom Pfaff, but the winners bounced in four goals in the final stanza to take the victory.

Hall Weckler scored the Cranes' second goal late in the third period. The squad closed the campaign with a 7-9-2 record.

DEFENSE IN DEPTH — Detroit Red Wings' Floyd Smith (47) finds the scoring avenue against the New York Rangers well guarded by Jim Neilson (15) and goalie Jacques Plante in action last night at Madison Square Garden. Smith's effort failed but the Wings rallied for a 2-2 tie to keep the Rangers in fifth place in the NHL standings.

Russell Sets 'M' Scoring Mark

Wolverines, OSU Still Tied

By The Associated Press

Michigan doesn't play tonight, but the Wolverines' Big Ten position could improve.

Illinois, which forced Michigan to come up with some fancy maneuvering to beat the Illini 89-83 Saturday, plays Ohio State tonight. And an Illinois victory would leave Michigan all alone in first place.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State went over the 100-point mark for the 10th time this year in beating Northwestern 107-97 Saturday, while Detroit held national scoring ace Howard Komives to one field goal in the first half and went on to trounce Bowling Green of Ohio 104-88.

In other games, Bradley's powerful club bombed Northern Michigan 83-66 at Peoria, Ill.; Calvin won the MIAA title by beating Albion 106-89; Hope blitzed Adrian 90-66; Oliver upset Kalamazoo 93-91 in overtime; and Moorhead State of Minnesota whipped Michigan Tech 77-63.

Bluffton, Ohio, edged Lawrence Tech in double overtime, 97-96; Youngstown, Ohio, defeated Hillsdale 60-53; Central Michigan downed Ohio Northern 89-80; and Bethel, Ind., tipped Spring Arbor 92-83.

NEW MARK

Cazzie Russell set a new Michigan scoring record in leading a second half spurt in the victory over Illinois. Ducking and weaving under the basket to score on layups, jump shots and fire scoring passes to teammates, Russell notched 28 points.

He now has 539 points, a new Michigan all-time one-season scoring mark. The old record of 534 points was set last year by teammate Bill Buntin.

The victory, Michigan's 19th in 22 games, also set a record, surpassing the 18-6 mark established by the 1918-19 Wolverines.

Michigan and Ohio State are tied for the Big Ten lead with identical 10-2 marks with two games left. Illinois is now 9-7.

Michigan State hit 107 points for the third time in a Big Ten game this season in edging Northwestern. Stan Washington led the Spartans with 31 points. State is now 7-6 in league play. The Wildcats are 6-6. The Spartans stand 13-10 overall.

TOP SCORER

Titans John Watson, Bill Sarver and Lou Hyatt took turns shadowing Komives in Detroit's victory over Bowling Green. Komives ended up with 29 points but had only 13 while the game was still a contest. Komives leads the nation with a 36.1 scoring average.

Al Cech, and Dick Dzik and Dorie Murray each scored 19 points for Detroit.

Cech became the highest scoring guard in U-of-D history by boosting his career total to 1,076. The old mark, held by Ray Albee, was 1,063 set in 1955-58. The victory was Detroit's 13th in 24 games.

Bradley easily outdistanced Northern Michigan behind Joe Strawder's 18 points and 22 rebounds. Dave Cade had 26 for Northern. The victory was the Braves' 19th in 25 games. Northern, which meets Ferris State at Houghton tonight to decide on Michigan's NAIA representative, is now 12-10.

COME ON! — Joey Allen of Kettering seems to be urging Gary Ravin of Port Huron to make a move in their semifinal regional match at Pontiac Northern Saturday. Ravin did make his move. He decisioned Allen, 11-5, and captured the 95-pound title later in the day.

No New Mark in Ski Jump

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—A tidy plan to return the U.S. distance ski jumping record to Iron Mountain has failed.

The weather probably was the most important factor. Temperatures reaching 50 degrees Sunday kept tournament officials doctoring the huge Pine Mountain hill with moisture-absorbing chemicals to try to make room for a distance record jump of 322 feet set last year at Steamboat Springs, Colo., by Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn.

While some 20,000 spectators watched, Kotlarek, a 23-year-old accountant and member of the U.S. Olympic team, stole the show with rides of 298 and 294 feet and form points of 230.5 to win the annual Kiwanis championship.

6 New Pace Setters at ABC Tournament

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—New leaders emerged in six divisions as the American Bowling Congress tournament enjoyed a barrage of high scoring Sunday.

The most likely candidates for an ABC championship are Pat and Tony Russo of Paramus, N.J., who took the regular doubles lead with a plump 1,343 series. Their score is six pins higher than the title-winning total rolled last year by Bus Oswald and Gerry Schmidt of Fort Wayne, Ind., and would have been enough to win 33 of the past 60 titles.

★ ★ ★

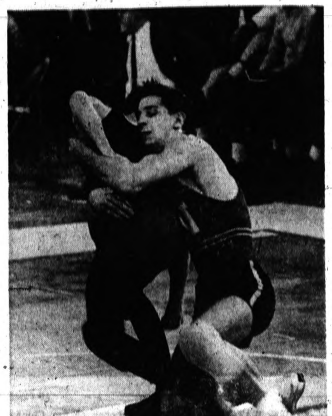

The Russo brothers, who run a 7½-acre flower and vegetable farm, have bowled in nine previous ABC tournaments without distinction. Pat, 36, who stands 5-feet-6 and weighs in at 206, paced the duo Sunday with 691. Both brothers average around 190 and neither has ever won a major tournament title.

Nick Junker of Stillwater, Minn., a last minute substitute in the tournament, took first in the regular singles with a 685 series. The 58-year-old printer caused some confusion because he wore the shirt of the man he replaced, Bob Johnson.

But his identity was ascertained soon after he rolled his pace-setting 243-233-209 series. Loren Teall of Kalamazoo, Mich., who had dominated the division for a week with 670, slipped to second place.

Bob Skinner of San Bernardino, Calif. claimed the regular all events lead with a 1,851. The 39-year-old salesman rolled a modest 566 in the team event Saturday night, but returned Sunday with 655 in doubles and 630 in singles.

CHIEF IN TROUBLE — Dave Beebe (right) of Pontiac Northern gained a 5-0 decision over Bill Roach of Pontiac Central in a semifinal regional match Saturday on the PNH mat. Beebe went on to nail down the 112-pound regional title and will take part in the state meet Friday and Saturday.

PNH Wrestlers Top Regional Tourney

Pontiac Northern picked off four individual titles enroute to a first-place finish in the Class A wrestling tournament on the Huskies' mat Saturday.

The PNH squad piled up 96 points to nose out Saginaw Valley Conference champion Flint Northern which finished with 80 points.

Flint Central placed third and Pontiac Central nailed down the fourth spot.

In other Class A regionals meets, Hazel Park placed first in its own tournmanet, and Ypsilanti took top honors at North Farmington.

Cranbrook placed third in a Class B regional held at Flat Rock, a meet won by River Rouge.

Grabbing individual titles for the Pontiac Northern squad were Dave Beebe (112), Jim Kimmel (133), Don Weyer (145) and Al Rayner (165). Dave Oswalt (103) and Jim Stephens (120 grabbed runnerup spots and Pat McIlroy (127) and and Bruce Tippin (138) finished third.

8 HUSKIES

The eight grapplers will represent PHN at the state Class A tournament Friday and Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Pontiac Central's Harold Whiting waded through the competition in the 138-pound division to take the regional crown. Willie Nelson gave PCH a second-place finish in the 127 - pound class.

Dale Jones of Waterford qualified for the state meet with a victory in the 180-pound division. The Skippers finished sixth in the team competition.

Howard Goldman (133), Carter Hicks (180) and Tom Buford (138) gave Cranbrook second - place points and qualified for the state finals at East Lansing Friday and Saturday.

Detroit Thurston finished second at North Farmington and will send six wrestlers to the state meet

Stan Seocsky of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows won the 145-pound championship at Flat Rock. Secosky recorded four straight pins.

Ex-Collegians Improve Local Basketball Action

It's a big jump from city recreation basketball to semi-professional competition; but the possibility does exist right in Pontiac.

The calibre of play in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's American League this season was prompted primarily by an influx of college experienced performers.

West Bloomfield Heating entered the circuit with several talented, tall ex-collegians. The team ran up a 10-0 regular season mark and is favored to take the Class A playoffs which begin tonight.

White Lake Pharmacy also brought several former college players into the league; and, although not as tall as the Heating team, the pharmacy squad is favored in the Class B competition.

EX-VARSITY PLAYERS

The other teams, comprised mostly of former local high school varsity and junior varsity performers, however, were sound enough that they have improved with the competition.

The West Bloomfield strength lies in such performers as 6-5 Larry Hughes from the University of Detroit, 6-5 Paul Grammus of South Carolina, Albion's 6-0 John Hannett and 6-10 Bob Bolton (Western Michigan).

The latter, also coach of the Walled Lake High School team, has hopes of organizing a semi-pro team from Pontiac to compete in the Midwest Professional League.

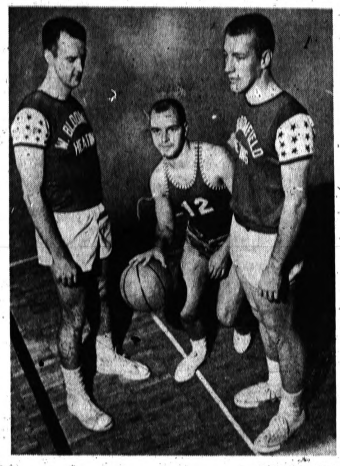

Bolton feels a combination of the West Bloomfield big frontline and the speedy, high-jumping backliners of the other American League squads would hold its own in the fast semi-pro circuit.

The league plays usually twice a week, mostly on weekends. Currently, Grand Rapids, Holland, Battle Creek and Chicago, Ill. have teams entered.

Ex-Aquinas College athletic director Ray Hull is the league supervisor. Presently playing on league teams are M. C. Burton, Charlie North, Johnny Cox and Larry Siegfried.

To start a Pontiac team the squad will need capital. Each entry in the league must put up a $1,000 guarantee. This is forfeited should a team drop out.

The games have been known to attract 2,000 fans. Bolton may be reached at MA 4-4390.

LOOKING AROUND — Former University of Detroit star Larry Hughes (left) and South Carolina Gamecock Paul Grammus (right) are potential 6-5 forwards on a Pontiac semi-pro basketball entry in the Midwest Professional League. Both play in the city recreation league at present and would welcome some of the local quick, sharp-shooting guards (such as Olivet's 5-8 Bob Troesch, 12) on such a team, if local backing can be found.

Hayes Jones Posts Record in 'Finale'

By The Associated Press

So how's this as a way to bow out: 55 consecutive victories and a brand-new indoor record?

"I've done about all an amateur can do," veteran Hayes Jones said after racking up the two wind-up marks in Baltimore's All-Eastern Invitational indoor track and field games Saturday night.

"Now I find I'm just repeating myself."

And that he is. In fact, he's repeated himself 54 times. He's gone through 55 indoor hurdles championships without a loss, a string that stretches back to 1959.

His last, however, was his best. He flashed over the 60-yard high hurdles in 6.8 seconds, lowering his own indoor standard by one-tenth of a second.

LAST MEET

Jones, who had announced earlier that he would retire after the Olympic games in Tokyo this fall, said after the meet it would be his last indoor performance.

★ ★ ★

"I'd rather leave with a good reputation than take the chance of making a poor showing later on," the Detroit hurdler said.

He now plans to lay off track training and devote his entire time to his fulltime job with the State of Michigan, working with school dropouts, until about May 1 when he'll begin Olympic preparations.

Jones' record was one of four indoor marks set in the busy weekend. Tammy Davis of Frederick, Md., set another in Baltimore, the Maryland State mile relay team added another in Louisville and Yale's Wendell Mottley got still another at Ithaca, N.Y.

BEST LEAP

And John Thomas, on the rebound from a couple of mediocre seasons, almost got another. The Boston high jumper won his speciality at Baltimore with a 7-feet-2¾ leap, his best of the winter.

He just missed three times at 7-3¾. "I thought I had the bar cleared twice," the tall, Boston U. grad said. "But my hand hit once and my leg another time."

Miss Davis, a 16-year-old, lowered the women's 50-yard indoor hurdles mark to 6.4.

★ ★ ★

In Ithaca, Mottley raced to a 1:09.2 record in the 600-yard run in the Heptagonal games, trimming one-tenth of a second off the listed mark by George Kerr of the West Indies.

Maryland State's quartet of Robert Brown, Harley Morris, Edwin Skinner and Earl Rogers flashed over the lightning fast eight-lap track in Louisville to a 3:11.7 mile, breaking the 3:12.2 by Texas Southern.

Bad Ice for Skaters

Waterford Township began its boys' recreation ice hockey playoffs Saturday morning but was only able to complete one tilt before bad ice called a halt to play.

Senior division action saw Lakeland Pharmacy trim the North Side Boys Club, 6-3, as Chuck Smith scored three times and Ron Prince twice.

Bow to Warriors

Pistons Assured of Cellar

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons made sure of their first last-place finish in the history of the National Basketball Association Sunday night by bowing to title-hopeful San Francisco 100-86.

The Pistons' defeat was their 52nd against 18 victories, cinching a cellar finish in the NBA's Western Division.

With rookie Reggie Harding taking a back seat—far back—to the veteran Wilt Chamberlain, the Warriors won easily in assuming a three-game lead over the St. Louis Hawks. The Hawks lost at Los Angeles 59-54.

★ ★ ★

Chamberlain dropped in 38 points as the game's high scorer while Harding collected 14. Bailey Howell topped Detroit with 18.

Detroit rallied 86-80 with five minutes to go but San Francisco retaliated to outscore the Pistons 14-6 the rest of the way.

Oscar Robertson scored 35 points as the Cincinnati Royals rallied from a 15-point deficit to defeat the Baltimore Bullets 122-111. The Boston Celtics trimmed Philadelphia 108-93 in preserving their 2½-game lead over Cincinnati in the Eastern Division.

Midwestern Baptist 5 Captures Cage Crown

Pontiac's Midwestern Baptist Seminary won its first Michigan Christian College Athletic Association basketball title Saturday night by whipping Grave Bible, 87-64.

The victory was the 11th straight for the Falcons and left them with one game to go for an unbeaten season. The vanquished Grand Rapids squad stands second with an 8-2 mark.

Midwestern started slowly, falling behind 10-2 in the first five minutes of play, but finally found the range on its home floor.

Led by forward George Minton's sharp shooting, the winners went on a 15-1 binge that put them into a 17-11 lead. The Falcons were never headed thereafter.

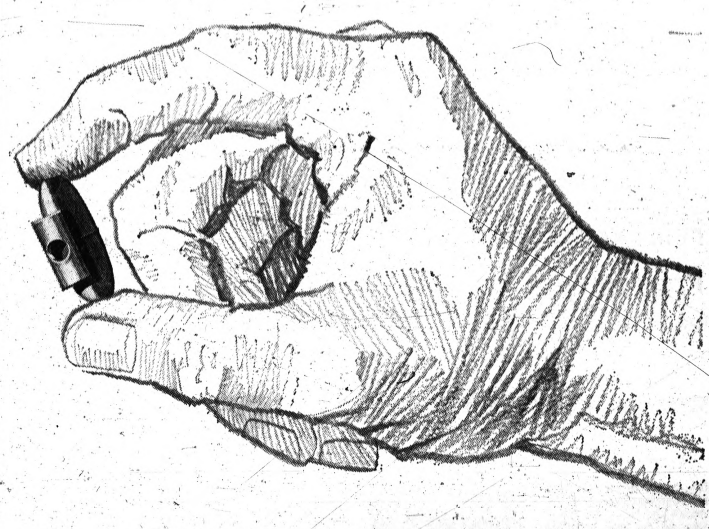

★ ★ ★

Minton, who finished with 24 points (the same as the visitor's hustling backliner Terry Erickson), led an early second half spurt that built the margin to 20 points.

Erickson's driving and shooting carried the losers back within 10 points at 59-49, but Midwestern's overall balance proved too much to overcome.

The winning Falcons had a 36-23 field goal advantage. They were called for 18 personal fouls while Grand Rapids had 24. The taller home team also controlled the backboards.

Golfer Rudolph Four-Up on New Orleans' Field

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mason Rudolph goes into today's final round of the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament with a four-stroke advantage over big Jack Nicklaus.

But Rudolph, at 29 one of the tour's most consistent money winners, has an unhappy memory of a four-stroke lead in the final round of another PGA tournament.

That was the 1963 Portland Open. He faltered in the final round, barely managing to tie Canadian George Knudson at the end of 72 holes and then lost in a sudden death playoff when Knudson holed a 45-foot chip shot for a double eagle on the first extra hole.

NEEDS GLASSES

Rudolph, who is so near sighted he admits he can't see the big E on the eyechart without glasses, got a new pair of specs recently and he's confident he won't see that four-stroke bulge melt away.

Tied for the lead the first day, Rudolph took sole possession of first place the second day and kept it Sunday. His 54-hole score was 68-71-70—208.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus, who rates the Lakewood Country Club course, at 7,020 yards, as one of the six toughest on the PGA tour, carded an erratic 72 Sunday.

Wes Ellis Jr. stood one stroke behind Nicklaus with a 213 after-er shaving five strokes off par Sunday with a 67—best round of the tournament.

Rudolph threatened to run away with the lead until he came to the 18th hole, a long par four. For the first time Sunday, he missed a green.

★ ★ ★

There hasn't been a close finish in the New Orleans Open since 1958 when Billy Casper beat Ken Venturi in a playoff.

BOWLING

A 275 game led to a 681 series for Dave Woodman Wednesday in the 300 Bowl House League. He also had a 214 in his series.

Pontiac Motor's Inter-Office League that same night had a 244 by Joe Gaines and a 230 by Nelson Field. Frank Thomas hit 225 and Art Burling rolled a 220.

★ ★ ★

In the 300 Double Trouble circuit, Lee Farley and Bud Arnold were tops with 208 and 207, respectively. The Wednesday Ladies Classic had a 223—548 by Marie Reddish and 217 for Alice Whitehead. Pat Cline hit 516.

The Plaza Mixed League at Wonderland Lanes posted a 208 for Jim Tinson, a 211 by Andy Pipper and a 204 for Winnie Richmond last week.

In Wednesday action, Maddie Gannon bowled 545 and Ellen LaQue had 202—552. Shirley Niemann had 204—534 and Virginia Harris 536 in the Tuesday Topplers loop.

That same afternoon at Airway Lanes, Joanna Harrison posted a 222 game and Marie Armstead a 212 in the Airway Queens League, led by the Jinx with 58½ points.

The Airway First circuit Wednesday saw Judy Nichols hit 525, Barbara Weedon 212 and June Blum 219.

★ ★ ★

The final results from the 12th annual Huron Valley Tournament at Fairgrounds Bowl found the house's West Side Classic team winning with 3168, only three pins better than the Modern Engineering Service team from Pontiac.

In the Tuesday Nite House League last week Skeep Pennell hit 660.

In the Airway Lanes Monsignor Sharpe No. 600 Knights of Columbus bowlers' league George Atchison took over high season game honors with a 255 Wednesday. P. T. Standard has a one point lead over West Side Lanes' team with Ned's well Drillers another two points back in third place.

Cranbrook 5 Wins Twelfth

Cranbrook ran its season record to 12-3 with an easy 88-56 victory over Nichols (N.Y.) Saturday.

The Cranes jumped off to a 43-14 lead at intermission and the reserves handled most of the chores in the closing half.

Buzz Mieras led a well-balanced Cranbrook attack with 31 points and Jeff Hipps added 17. Ed-Marlette paced the losers with 18 markers.

In another Saturday-night tilt, Birmingham Brother Rice tuned up for tournament action with an 87-78 decision over St. David.

Paul Jagels (22) and Dave Walters (17) led the Brother Rice attack.

Hills Skiers Capture Prep League Honors

If there was any doubt about Bloomfield Hills having the best entries in the Mount Holly High School Ski League, the Barons reaffirmed this fact Saturday morning.

They took both the boys and girls team championships in the annual league meet.

Hills scored clear-cut decisions in both, having the top two individual girl finishers and the top three boys, although the No. 1 and No. 2 boys on the team were not among the leaders.

Team leader Geoff Smith was not eligible for the meet and No. 2 racer Dick Wood slipped and finished eighth in the boys' slalom.

★ ★ ★

The Barons' boys were led by Rustyl Speirn, Craig Lau and Mark Miller, who finished 1-2-3, as the team compiled a low aggregate time of 206.05 on excellent conditions.

Cheryl Smith and Debbie Martin were one-two among the girls, and teamed with Tina Lissey for a total time of 121.6 on a shorter course.

★ ★ ★

The 13-league teams entered 156 total competitors. Team trophies were presented and individual medals were given to the top 10 finishers plus winning team members.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Bud Shelton

Did you know only two men in sports history have played in both a World Series and a Rose Bowl game . . . The two who reached the top game in each sport are Jackie Jensen and Chuck Essegian . . . Jensen played with California in the Rose Bowl and with the Yankees in the World Series . . . Essegian was in the Rose Bowl with Stanford, and made the World Series with the Dodgers.

Basketball players seem to get bigger and bigger every year, but did you ever wonder who was the tallest player in history? . . . The House of David team once had a player who holds the all-time record . . . His name was "Tiny" Reichert . . . He stood 8-1.

What's the farthest any man has ever hit a golf ball? . . . Most golf experts believe the record is held by golf pro George Bayer . . . Bayer is reported to have once driven a ball 500 yards.

I bet you didn't know . . . that Shelton will "Save You More in '64" during their 6th Anniversary Sale that is going on right now! Drop in and see what a real deal is on a new Pontiac or Buick.

Son Makes Progress in Bid to Live

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Helmut and Kathe Allmann watched as their son slowly laced his thin fingers around the water glass.

They held their breath as he inched the container toward his lips.

With great difficulty, his lips found the straw and began to draw fluid into his mouth.

★ ★ ★

"Good, Helmut, good," the father said.

NOT TOO LONG

"Not too long now, not too long," appealed the mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Allman had just witnessed another step "back from the grave" by their 25-year-old son.

Helmut was vacationing at his Long Island home three years ago during a semester break from premedical studies at Colgate University when he was involved in car crash that left him in a coma.

★ ★ ★

"For three months he lay packed from head to foot in ice to keep his temperature down," the father said. "They bored four holes into his head to drain off fluids.

NOTHING MORE

"Then one day they told us they could do nothing more for our boy and that we might as well have him brought home."

That was in July of 1961.

"He had dropped from about 160 to 120 pounds," Allmann said. "His eyes were open but they did not see. He couldn't move even an inch.

★ ★ ★

"Then one day he moved his little finger. It was then I was sure we would bring him back.

WORK ON FINGERS

"We worked first on his fingers. His mother and I rubbed it and rubbed it and rubbed it until soon he could move another finger and then another finger.

"Then one day I bent down and whispered into his ear — 'Kiss me son' and he parted his lips just a little and kissed me."

Meanwhile, doctor bills began to mount. The German immigrant couple sold their house and a piece of property in nearby Oceanside and moved into a home here.

★ ★ ★

"We had about $28,000 then," Allmann said. "Now it's all gone and we have a high mortgage. I only earn about $120 a week as a truck driver."

TO UNDERGO TESTS

Recently, Dr. Howard Rusk, head of the Rusk Institute which specializes in rehabilitation of patients like young Allmann, examined him. Soon Allmann will enter the institute in New York City for tests to determine what hope there might be for greater recovery.

"But the treatments cost $48 a day," Allmann said, "and I have no idea where I'll get the money."

★ ★ ★

"But he's going in, he has to be given this chance.

"Remember, he was just a body packed in ice three years ago and now he can move both legs, both arms, part his lips and close his eyes.

★ ★ ★

"We can't give up now."

GUARANTEED eat IN THE meat MAKES THIS A GREAT STEAK SALE

"SUPER-RIGHT"

VERY WRONG

1. Bone must be round — not misshapen
2. The meat, red and marbled
3. A generous portion of "top" round steak
4. A full eye round section
5. A generous bottom round

WE SAY "GUARANTEED EAT IN THE MEAT" for several reasons. The first deals with quality. Every "Super-Right" steak is cut from selected, grain-fed, fully matured beef — it provides the best eating. Next, the care of the beef. Through every step until the minute you buy — strict quality controls protect the eating goodness. Then there are A&P's cutting methods which insure full value. Let's take Round Steak for example . . . since this is something you can check for yourself. Experts agree, the best is a full cut center Round Steak—the only kind sold as "Super-Right". And you can easily tell one — look for these points (as shown in the two photos):

Actress Returns to Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Anne Baxter's adventurous married life has led her back to the perils of civilization.

THOMAS

Having lived in two wildernesses, the actress now finds herself in deepest Bel-Air. She is surprised to learn that she has adjusted with no problems.

"It all comes back to me," she remarked. "I find I can dial a telephone with no difficulty—and none of this nonsense about digit dialing, I use prefixes. I can use the phone to order all kinds of delicacies from the grocery store. It's amazingly simple."

The return to the Hollywoods is the latest switch in Anne's marriage to rancher Randolph Galt. She indicated it won't be the last.

"We have rented a house here for a year," she said. "We're renting because we don't know how long we will stay. There is no pattern, and that's the way I like it."

★ ★ ★

After her 1960 marriage, the Oscar winner ("The Razor's Edge," 1946) went to live on Galt's 34,000-acre cattle ranch at Giro Station, 180 miles from Sydney, Australia. There she did her own housework and reared her daughter, Katrina, under frontier conditions.

IN AUSTRALIA

Anne spent three years in Australia, returning for occasional acting jobs and to give birth to daughter Melissa.

A year ago she came back here for the arrival of a third daughter, Maginel. This time she didn't return to Australia.

Galt had bought a new ranch near Grants, N. M., a 17,000-acre spread.

★ ★ ★

"It was even more primitive than Giro Station," said Anne. "When Randy bought it, there wasn't even a house. He put up an adobe structure and we all moved in. At first we didn't even have a telephone; at least we had that at Giro."

REMOTE

As in Australia, their nearest neighbors were 10 miles away. Once again, Anne found that her acting experience proved of value.

"The picture business had taught me to be flexible in inflexible circumstances," she said. "It taught me to use my imagination, to improvise and be self-sufficient. And it taught me to remain steady in dangerous situations."

After several months of ranch life in New Mexico, the Galts concluded it was impractical for two small daughters and another of school age. Hence the move back to Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Galt retains the Australian and New Mexico properties. Anne doesn't know where his enterprises will take them next.

ACTIVE CAREER

Meanwhile, she is getting her career active again, her first assignment being a "Dr. Kildare." It provided one of the dangerous situations she mentioned.

A scene required her and child actor Michael Petit to ride the roller coaster at Ocean Park.

A large movie camera was planted in the seat in front of them with an operator strapped to the car.

★ ★ ★

As the coaster started into the first steep dive, the camera jarred loose.

WHITE WITH TERROR

"I thought the camera was going to crush us and the operator would fall off," she said.

"Michael was screaming that he wanted to jump, but I told him to close his eyes and hold on.

"The camera operator was white with terror, but somehow he managed to hold onto the camera and we got back safely."

★ ★ ★

A few more jobs like this one and she might welcome the frontier life.

Yuri Predicts Space Launch

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Russia will launch another manned space ship sometime this year, according to Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin.

The spaceman, who arrived here for an eight-day visit yesterday, also denied reports of a recent Communist space disaster.

"No Soviet cosmonauts have ever been killed," he claimed.

Craters on the moon exist in various sizes, from the tremendous Bailly Crater, some 170 miles in diameter, to innumerable pits less than 100 feet across.

How strange flavors pass from the food of dairy cattle into their milk is being investigated by Finnish scientists in a United States Government project. Their work is paid for with Finnish money earned through the sale of U.S. surplus commodities.

Staebler Vows Big Campaign

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., promised his campaign for governor will be "larger and broader than any campaign the Democrats have ever had."

★ ★ ★

He told an impromptu press conference after the Democratic State Central Committee meeting that he is "counting on Gov. George W. Romney to be my opponent."

Staebler is the only announced aspirant for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Romney has yet to announce for re-election.

WOULDN'T SPECULATE

Staebler would not speculate on whether he will be unopposed in the party primary. Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski has indicated he is considering running. Lesinski did not attend Sunday's meeting.

"We will have the largest number of petition signatures of any candidate in Michigan's history," Staebler said. He said there was an "eagerness" to sign his nominating petitions, "like nothing I've ever seen."

★ ★ ★

He said a network of support groups and "task forces" is being assembled for the campaign, and said he will return to Michigan "every weekend from here on."

"I'll probably be in Michigan more weekends than Gov. Romney between now and election."

ATTACKS SPEECH

Staebler lit into Romney's Hawaiian vacation in a speech before the committee, saying now is the worst time for a vacation, with the state in a "constitutional muddle," the legislature in session and state apportionment being thrashed out in courts.

★ ★ ★

"How is it possible to leave for three weeks?" Staebler asked. "This governor is showing us not leadership, but only salesmanship. In these claims of accomplishment of his — I don't see any results of his accomplishments."

"Swainson was not absent when he was needed," said Staebler, referring to Romney's predecessor, John Swainson.

5-County Area Hit by Series of Brush Fires

SAGINAW (AP) — Flames raced across more than 1,000 acres of dry grass, brush and timber in a series of fires in five counties Saturday. Strong winds and frozen ground hampered fire fighting efforts.

Conservation officers said fire fighters had to beat out the flames because frozen ground prevented use of plows or sandcasters.

NO INJURIES

No injuries were reported in the fires in Bay, Gladwin, Isabella and Midland counties. Officials said more than 40 small fires broke out in Saginaw County, too.

Most of the fires were believed to have been started by rubbish burners.

State Utility Workers Will Vote on New Pact

JACKSON (AP) — Utility Workers of America members across the state will vote March 19 on whether to accept a new two-year contract providing pay raises for some 4,800 Consumers Power Co. maintenance and construction workers.

The pact would raise wages by 3¼ per cent effective March 1 and another 3 per cent March 1, 1965. It was signed Saturday by labor and management negotiators.

Highway crews in Manitoba recently uncovered a skull and fragments of an animal skeleton tentatively identified as that of a prehistoric ancestor of the Manitoba buffalo, believed to have lived 10,000 years ago.

Many Systems Tried

An Old Problem: How to Group Students

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

The solution to the problem of grouping pupils properly must be a complex approach, based upon a combination of things, even if it means reorganizing the school system.

DR. NASON

Past solutions have used single criteria, only one aspect of a child's educational ability, in grouping students, and almost all have failed. Whether we are for or against this grouping does not matter — mass education demands it.

The practice for the past 30 years has been to group primarily by age. A more or less automatic promotion system has been in vogue. It is easy to administer.

This system, however, has serious drawbacks. Teachers in the intermediate grades face a room full of pupils of widely varying backgrounds and learning rates.

* * *

The apt pupils are bored — the slow pupils are frustrated. Even the average student fails to get enough attention in such a situation.

Grouping on the basis of I.Q. alone, interest alone, reading comprehension alone, have all proved unsatisfactory.

Other simple grouping methods have met a similar fate. For example, grouping of fast third-graders with slow fourth-graders is like the teaming up of a draft horse and a race horse.

* * *

The way a pupil learns and the manner in which he should be taught are dependent upon his innate learning capacity, speed of learning, his background in fundamentals, his skill in reading, listening and handwriting, and his motivation or drive to learn — as well as how fast he catches on to new ideas. Successful grouping should be based on these points.

SHOW THE WAY

The following example of successful grouping shows the way. In a Los Angeles high school, four criteria are used in the selection of students for a special class in chemistry.

- Fairly equal capacities for learning, speed of comprehension and working speed are assured by selecting students from the top 10 per cent. An index somewhat comparable to I.Q. is used.
- Learning habits successful in the field of science are assured by selecting students with high grades in a life science course. In addition, the previous science teacher's recommendation for the fast section is required.
- Motivated students are selected by requiring formal written applications for the course. Students must ask for the faster section with its added work.
- Written parental approval is required. Parents, teachers and students are in accord, at least at the start of the course.

* * *

This grouping has proved highly successful year after year. This situation is, of course, a very special one and could be used only in a large high school in an area where students are predominantly college-bound.

SINGLE YEAR

This type of grouping is especially advantageous for a single year course such as high school chemistry. In such a course students can proceed as far as they wish.

By OSWALD JACOBY

Perhaps the first play learned by a student of bridge is the finesse. It is an easy play to learn, but it takes years of study to discover that there are occasions when it pays to refuse to finesse.

JACOBY

South's holding of the ace-queen of clubs opposite dummy's two small clubs is a classic finessing situation and most players would draw trumps and then try the club finesse. It would lose.

Assuming that West was not nice enough to lead a heart, South would have to attack that suit himself and would wind up losing three heart tricks.

South would complain that finesses never worked for him and go on to the next hand. But, someone might point out to him that he would have made his contract if he had not bothered about taking that club finesse.

All he need do would be to draw trumps with three leads and run off the diamonds. Then he could play ace and queen of clubs and it would not matter which opponent held the king.

He would be in the lead with no place to go. Another club lead would give South a ruff and discard. A heart lead would insure a trick for South in that suit.

What do you do?

A—Double. While it is normally most dangerous to risk doubling your opponents into game this is one time that they may be in real trouble.

Aerospace Issues Strong

Stock Mart Hits Another High

NEW YORK (AP) — Aerospace issues were strong as the stock market moved further into new high ground early this afternoon, Trading was heavy.

Gains of fractions to a point or more among key stocks outnumbered losers.

Favorable news developments brought the aerospace issues back into the spotlight.

★ ★ ★

Lockheed spurted about 2 points as a result of President Johnson's mention of its 2,000-miles-per-hour military jet. United Aircraft, which makes the engine for the plane, was up a point, having backed away from an early gain of around 2.

Steels were higher on further news of rising demand for steel. Building materials, electrical equipments, electronics and nonferrous metals also were higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 298.5 with industrials up 1.2, rails unchanged and utilities up .1.

SHOWS ADVANCE

McDonnell Aircraft, recipient of a $623 million jet plane order, advanced more than a point. Boeing made a similar gain. Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics added fractions.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. Syntex ran up 5 points and Pittsburgh Railways sank more than 2. Gains exceeding a point were made by Kaweckl Chemical and A. C. Gilbert.

★ ★ ★

Corporate bonds were irregularly higher. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Aides to Estes Begin Terms

Arrested in 1962 on Mail Fraud Charges

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Two former associates of promoter Billie Sol Estes, himself bankrupt and under prison sentences, started serving their time behind bars Sunday night.

It was the end of a fight to stay free which began nearly two years ago for Coleman McSpadden, 47, of Lubbock, Tex., and Ruel W. Alexander, 38, of Amarillo.

★ ★ ★

Along with Estes, they were arrested March 29, 1962, on charges of mail fraud, based on dealings in mortgages secured by non-existant farm fertilizer tanks.

Estes, 39, under $140,000 in bonds, remains out of jail pending the outcome of appeals against state and federal prison terms totaling 23 years.

GUILTY PLEAS

McSpadden drew 10 years in the penitentiary and Alexander six years on guilty pleas. Along with Harold E. Orr, 33, of Amarillo, also sentenced to 10 years, they were allowed to delay going to prison as long as they remained available to testify against Estes.

Orr was found dead Friday with the engine of a car running in a closed garage at his home. A doctor said carbon monoxide poisoning caused death.

It appeared likely that McSpadden and Alexander will remain here until the March 16 trial of Robert E. Clements, 69, at Wichita Falls.

Clements, one of the founders of the Townsend old age pension plan, sold Superior Manufacturing Co. in Amarillo, to Orr, McSpadden and Alexander. He was convicted of stealing a $37,690 check from the firm but recently won a new trial.

★ ★ ★

It was through Superior Manufacturing Co., a tank building firm, that Estes and his associates sold mortgages involving millions to some of the nation's largest finance companies.

Wheat Price Down on Soviet Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Old crop wheat futures prices broke sharply today under heavy selling pressure on the Board of Trade. Setbacks ran to more than four cents a bushel during the first several minutes.

Other grains ranged from firm to easier in rather slow and mixed transactions. Brokers said there appeared to have been no new influences in most commodities. Wheat pressure, however, was ascribed in part to a report that Russia has said it will make no more purchases in the United States.

WHEAT DOWN

Wheat was ⅝ to 4¾ cents a bushel lower near the end of the first hour; March $2.07¼; soybeans ⅝ to 1¼ lower, March $2.65¼; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.18¼; oats unchanged to ⅝ higher, March 64 cents; rye unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $1.33⅛.

Waterford Boy Hangs Himself

Coroner's Aide Rules Death an Accident

A 14-year-old Waterford Township boy who became bored with television accidentally hanged himself Saturday night in the basement of his home.

David R. Case of 5811 Jerose had been fidgeting with a piece of rope earlier while he and his brother, Howard, 13, were watching television in the living room.

They were baby-sitting for their three younger sisters in bed while their parents were away for the evening.

LEFT ROOM

At 10 p. m., Howard said, he went to look for his brother to adjust the TV set. He found him hanging by the rope from an overhead pipe in the basement.

Howard was cutting his brother down with a razor when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Case, returned home.

They phoned the township fire department and an inhalator was applied to no avail.

Deputy Coroner Dr. Edward E. Elder Jr. pronounced the boy dead of strangulation at the scene.

RULED ACCIDENTAL

He said the boy was playing with the rope and had slipped off a chair in his stocking feet. David's death was ruled accidental by Dr. Elder.

Besides his brother and parents, David is survived by four sisters, Lucinda, Peggy, Marlene and Mrs. Dennis Pillsbury of Waterford Township, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. Case of Cadillac and Mr. and Mrs. George Morin of Pontiac.

Funeral service will be at 1 p. m. Wednesday at Coats Funeral Home with burial in Drayton Plains Cemetery.

David was a member of Bethany Church of God in Waterford Township and an explorer scout.

2nd Lie Test Given Man in Hit-Run Death

A second lie detector test was to be given to a 23 - year - old man today in connection with the hit and run death of a small boy last weekend.

The suspect was given a test after he was taken into custody yesterday but the results were inconclusive, according to Pontiac police.

The man was held overnight in the county jail for investigation of manslaughter.

Kenneth H. Duncan, 4, son of Mrs. Hattie Duncan, 330 Franklin Road, was killed Feb. 22 as he crossed Bagley at Wessen shortly before 8 p.m.

After being dragged 168 feet by one car, he was run over by a second automobile. Police are seeking both drivers.

Districting Is Illegal in Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision that Texas statutes establishing the state's 23 congressional districts are unconstitutional.

The high court said that its decision was without prejudice to the right of state officials to apply, by April 1, to the U.S. District Court in Houston for "further equitable relief in light of present circumstances."

The circumstances, the Supreme Court said, include "the imminence of the forthcoming election and the operation of the election machinery of Texas noted previously by the federal district court in Houston in an opinion."

This stay, the court ordered, will continue "pending timely application" for the relief mentioned previously today's order and the final disposition of the case by the Federal District Court in Houston.

★ ★ ★

The Houston court, in a 2-1 decision, found the Texas districts invalid, over objections by Gov. John Connally and other Texas state officals.

These officials appealed to the Supreme Court asking reversal of the district court decision.

The high tribunal acted, by coincidence, on Texas' independence day. On March 2, 1836, Texas proclaimed freedom from Mexico.

The Supreme Court's unsigned order in the Texas case was followed by a notation that Justice Tom C. Clark, a Texan, joined in today's action, "but upon the grounds stated in his separate opinion" in the Supreme Court's decision two weeks ago in a congressional districting case in Georgia.

The court said in that case that congressional districts must represent the same number of voters, so far as is practicable.

Another notation on today's supreme court order said that justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart favored reversing the decision of the Houston district court.

This notation said Harlan and Stewart would reverse the judgment for the reasons stated in their separate opinions in the Georgia case.

Dream Comes True for Boy Shopper, 9

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — It was a child's dream come true for Mike Scalisce, 9, who won a "shopping spree" drawing. The prize was as many toys as he could carry off in his arms within five minutes, and Mike managed to take home about $110 worth.

Hopes to Leave Hospital

Sgt. York Is Improving

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (UPI) — World War I hero Sgt. Alvin York, reported "somewhat improved" in his latest battle with illness, hoped to return to his Pall Mall, Tenn., home this according to relatives.

York was admitted to Fentress County Hospital here Feb. 23 for treatment of dehydration.

The 76-year-old Congressional Medal of Honor winner was treated for a similar condition earlier this year and released after a week.

★ ★ ★

York, who is paralyzed and partially blind, has fought a steady battle with illness since suffering a stroke in 1942.

MOUTHFUL OF ARM — An unidentified demonstrator is about to bite into a policeman's arm during an antidiscrimination demonstration in front of San Francisco's Sheraton-Palace hotel last night. About 70 pickets, most of whom said they were members of the Ad Hoc Committee to End Discrimination, were arrested by police and charged with criminal contempt. The committee wanted to get more Negroes hired by the hotel.

City Unit to Start Hearings on Assessment Appeals

Pontiac's Tax Board of Review will organize in its opening session tomorrow at 9 a.m. at City Hall and start hearing assessment appeals right off the bat.

On trial is Pontiac's tax base.

Last year City Assessor Edward C. Bloe recommended a tax base of $310 million for the city. The tax board cut about $2 million off Bloe's recommendation and the State Tax Commission reduced it $28 million.

The final tax base for 1963 was $280 million.

"I don't have all the figures tabulated yet," Bloe said today, "but it looks like my recommended tax base this year will be between $280 and $285 million."

★ ★ ★

The five-man board of review consists of three citizen members appointed by the City Commission, the city attorney and the city finance director.

HEAR APPEALS

It's purpose is to hear appeals from taxpayers who feel the assessed value of their property is too high. The board then can grant a reduction if it feels an appeal is substantiated.

Eventually, the board sets the total assessed valuation for the city, pending any further appeals to the state tax commission.

Indigent and hardship cases, mostly of a residential nature, will be heard this week. The board will hear real estate appeals next week and personal property appeals the week of March 16-20.

★ ★ ★

Most appeals will be heard Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday each week, with Thursday and Friday devoted to field work and on-site checks by board members, Bloe said.

Injured Glenn Still a Marine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's voters must wait until April 1 to learn the political views of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., still hospitalized with a head injury — and still a Marine.

There have been indications, from Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, meanwhile, that the incumbent Senator will pretty much lay off campaigning until the man who seeks to beat him for the Democratic nomination can launch his own campaign.

Glenn had planned to start his Senate drive today, but the mild concussion he suffered in a bathroom fall last week scrambled his plans.

U.S. Marine Corps officials advised Glenn that if he were still in the hospital on his scheduled retirement date — Feb. 29 — he would risk loss of disability pay should he not put off the retirement.

Doctors told the former astronaut, America's pioneer orbital space hero, he was not ready to leave the hospital. Glenn still complains of dizziness when he moves around in his room at Grant hospital, although he is reported in good condition and progressing well.

State Roll Toll at 297, 91 Above Last Year

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 297 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 206.

ORDINANCE NO. 97

An Ordinance to Amend Ordinance No. 87 Entitled "An Ordinance Establishing Rates and Charges for Water Service Provided by the Bloomfield Township Water System."

The Township of Bloomfield Ordains:

Section 1.01. That Ordinance No. 87 be amended by the addition of a new section to be known as Section 9.02, reading as follows:

Section 9.02. As an alternative, the connection charge required by Section 9.01 may be paid over a period of 5 years. In the event that the owner of such premises elects to make payments over a period of 5 years, he shall give the Township a lien on such premises for the amount of such charge and pay 1/5th of said charge plus the required fee for recording the lien to the Treasurer of the Township. On the next successive December 1st, and annually thereafter, the Treasurer shall bill the owner 1/5th of the said charge plus interest at 6% per annum on the unpaid balance. If such annual billings are unpaid by the following January 30th of any year, the yearly charge shall be subject to the penalty as provided by law for unpaid taxes, and if said charges remain unpaid as of the following February 28th, they shall be returned delinquent. Any owner may elect to pre-pay said amount with interest at 6% per annum on the unpaid balance at any time so long as he is not delinquent hereunder.

Section 2.01. The provisions of, this Ordinance shall take effect 30 days following its publication as required by law.

Made and passed by the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield, this 24th day of February, A.D. 1964.

Troy Man Hurt in Car Crash

TROY — A 48-year-old man is in satisfactory condition in William Beaumont hospital today, with injuries suffered when he lost control of his car and crashed into a ditch Saturday.

Police say Francis J. Houle of 71 Cloverdige was driving about 50 miles an hour, southbound on Livernois near Algansee, when the accident happened.

Witnesses told police Houle passed a car and a truck, forced a northbound truck off the road and then lost control of his vehicle.

★ ★ ★

The car hit a sign on the west side of the road, slid across to the east side, knocked over a guard rail and rolled three times, coming to a stop in a ditch.

NOT TICKETED

The driver suffered a fractured wrist and bruises. He was not ticketed by police.

Review Board Upholds UAW Local Election

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers public review board has upheld the reelection of Carl Stellato as Local 600 president, dismissing charges that 1,062 absentee ballots were submitted improperly.

The charges were filed by Harry Becker, who lost to Stellato, 42,860 to 12,225, in an election last June among members of Local 600, the UAW's largest local.

The U.S. Senate has sat as a court of impeachment only 12 times since the nation was established.

Parliament in Congo Adjourned

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The Congo's tumultuous parliament was due to meet in Leopoldville today for its spring session, but Joseph Kasavubu adjourned it indefinitely.

In a brief broadcast last night, the Congolese president announced he was keeping parliament closed to permit a constitutional commission, meeting in Luluabourg, to continue drafting a constitution without hindrance from parliament.

The commission is to finish its work in mid-April. The constitution will be submitted to a national referendum.

★ ★ ★

In the past, parliament has spent much of its time harassing the government and trying to increase privileges of the legislature.

TOP PRIORITY

Most observers believed parliament, had it met today, would have given top priority to attempts to bring down Premier Cyrille Adoula's cabinet.

Observers believed, however, that the legislators would have found it virtually impossible to rally a quorum of members to conduct any business.

About 40 opposition senators and assemblymen have moved across the Congo River to exile in neighboring Brazzaville.

2-Car Crash Kills Five in New Jersey

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP) — A lone driver skidded across a wide grass highway divider and slammed head-on into another car carrying four members of a family last night. All five persons died.

The victims in the second car were Maurice M. Daniels of West Millington and his wife Nancy, both 46, and their daughters, Peggy, 16, and Sally, 14.

The other driver was Dennis Dickerson, 33, of Morristown, who was headed north on Route 287 four miles north of here when his car went into a skid and crossed a 62-foot wide grass mall.

★ ★ ★

The cars were so mangled on collision that rescue workers did not know the two Daniels girls were in the back seat until they pried the wreckage open.

★ ★ ★

Peggy Daniels was the only one still alive when brought out, but she died an hour later in a hospital. Also found dead on the rear floor was a small black and white dog.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

ONE OF YOU WILL BETRAY ME

Thirteen guests gathered at the table for that portentous Last Supper. Midway through the meal, Jesus said to the Twelve:

"Amen I say unto you, one of you will betray me."

"And being very much saddened they began each to say, 'Is it I, Lord?' But He answered and said, 'He who dips his hand with me in the dish, he will betray Me. The Son of Man indeed goes His way, as it is written of Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It were better for that man if he had not been born.'

"And Judas who betrayed Him answered and said, 'Is it I, Rabbi?' He said to him, 'Thou hast said it.'" (Matthew XXVI:21-25)

Maryland Protests Postponed

Governor to Meet With Negro Leaders

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—Negro student leaders had no guarantee today that Princess Anne restaurants would be integrated, but they did have the promise of lunch with the governor.

The students emerged Sunday after a four-hour meeting with Somerset County legislators and a governor's aide to announce they had postponed for one day the resumption of street demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

Students at Maryland State College said Friday they would give two restaurants until Tuesday to drop the color bar.

Either that, they said, or county lawmakers would have to commit themselves to including Somerset within the state's public accommodations law.

ONE OR THE OTHER

Lacking one or the other, they said, demonstrations would resume.

Edmund G. Mester, the governor's civil rights trouble shooter, said the students had agreed to continue negotiations and to have a luncheon meeting with Gov. J. Millard Tawes Wednesday. Until then, he said, there would be no demonstrations.

Mester wouldn't say whether the county legislative delegation wants an equal accommodation law for Somerset.

State Senator Harry T. Phoebus said he would support extension of the law. None of the three delegates would commit himself.

Legislative courtesy, a tradition in the Maryland General Assembly, permitted Somerset and 11 other counties to exempt themselves from the state public accommodations law when it was passed last year.

Student demonstrations here began 10 days ago after several Maryland state Negroes were refused service at two local restaurants.

★ ★ ★

Last Wednesday 27 students were arrested and 60 were injured. State police used dogs and fire hoses to put down the protest.

Best Produced

'Tom Jones' Wins Film Award

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — The Screen Producers Guild last night selected the British picture "Tom Jones," produced by Tony Richardson, as the best produced motion picture of 1963.

The same film was named by the Director Guild of America a week earlier as the best directed picture of the year and is a nominee for this year's Academy Awards "Oscar" presentations.

The producers guild picked television's "The Defenders" produced by Robert Markel, for honors as the best produced television series of the year.

The Jesse L. Lasky intercollegiate competition award went to "Circus Memories," created by George W. Scott of the University of Wisconsin.

Arthur W. Freed, who has been identified with more than 40 pictures since 1938, was presented with the guild's 12th milestone award.

Earl Sees Likeness to LBJ; Both Wear Similar Glasses

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — For a long time I've been wearing horn-rimmed glasses and the nicest thing anybody said about me was that I looked like Steve Allen.

WILSON

Suddenly now they're "Johnson glasses"—thanks to LBJ.

Not that anybody said I looked like the President. It's just that my glasses seem to look like President Johnson's glasses. If I can't look like the President, I guess the next best thing is for my glasses to look like the President's glasses. It isn't much of a resemblance. I admit, but when you're from Ohio and the President is from Texas, I guess it's fairly close at that. Put a Texas sombrero on me and those Johnson glasses on me, and you may never know the difference. I hope!

When somebody else makes the mistake and not you, you enjoy seeing them squirm. The comedians are still trying to get out of their sure-fire conviction that Cassius Clay was a bum and that he didn't have a chance with Sonny Liston. Their acts have certainly changed in some of the clubs due to their miscalculation of Cassius' ability. They were caught with their gags down. They had been saying things like: "Aw, come on and watch the fight. You can spare a couple of minutes."

It all changed between the dinner and supper shows . . . Jack Carter claimed that while he was doing his midnight show at the Waldorf, a customer was laughing uncontrollably. "Are you laughing at me, sir?" Jack asked hopefully . . . "No," said the customer, "I was just reading yesterday's sports pages."

Sinatra Trial in 4th Week

Defense Hopes to Rest Case Thursday

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The defense resumes its presentation today in the federal trial of three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr.

Lawyers for defendants Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23; Barry W. Keenan, 23; and John W. Irwin, 42, have indicated they expect to conclude their case by this Thursday. The prosecution wound up its presentation last Friday as the trial's third week ended.

Although Frank Sinatra Sr. is in Tokyo and says he intends to remain in Japan until he and his associates have concluded arrangements for a film, defense attorneys were quoted as saying they would attempt to call him as a witness today.

If they were unsuccessful in their attempt to call the elder Sinatra, the defense was expected to call on defendant Amsler to describe his alleged attempts to block the kidnaping.

Amsler's attorneys have sought to establish that he was under the impression he was going on a combination vacation and job-hunting trip when he accompanied Keenan to Lake Tahoe shortly before young Sinatra was abducted from a motel room there last December for $240,000 ransom.

War on Poverty Last Appalachia Hope

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The "War on Poverty" will be launched in a 10-state area known as Appalachia. A United Press International reporter has just finished a swing through the depressed area. Here is his first dispatch in a three-part series.)

By NICHOLAS C. CHRISS

APPALACHIA, Va. (UPI) — If they were anywhere in the free world other than these United States, millions of people living in the depressed Appalachian states would be eligible for foreign aid.

Aid they have received, in the form of welfare checks and charity, and for 20 years the region has been slipping downhill.

It has largely swept away this dike of dollars in a plunge to widespread hunger, inadequate housing and deep despair.

★ ★ ★

Within 10 years, three out of four of the highlanders in the Cumberland Plateau, most of them ex-coal miners, will be on relief.

GENERATION OF POVERTY

In some areas, families have been on welfare for three generations.

Such a family is that of Joseph Riley Muncy at Stone Coal Hollow in West Virginia. Riley has been on the dole for much of his life, and now his son, William Riley Muncy, and his grandson, Joseph Riley Jr., are on charity, too.

"I hain't never had no work worth to speak of," drawls the elder Muncy. "Right now I'm a drawing $58 a month. Buddy, you can't hardly live on that little bit of money.

★ ★ ★

"I cain't do nothing for my boys. And my boys cain't do nothing for me," he said.

DEPRESSED INDUSTRY

The trouble is coal, a depressed industry in a depressed region.

Once a boom area, ever turbulent, the mountaineers of the Appalachian region once mined millions of tons of coals from the hills and mountains. But over the years a hard-pressed coal industry has switched to automation in its fight to meet the competition from natural gas and oil.

Hundreds of thousands of coal miners, who know no other occupation, have become jobless because automation makes it possible for mines to employ only a fraction of their work force of a decade or two ago.

★ ★ ★

Many miners have tried to earn a living by working in the "dog hole" mines, small, independent nonunion operations which use trucks instead of railroads to haul out the coal.

BLACKLISTED

A miner who works in a "dog hole" is immediately blacklisted by the union.

He goes to the mine only as a last resort and receives less pay and no fringe benefits. The mines are often unsafe.

Hardest hit are the coal-mining regions of West Virginia, Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee.

Appalachia also includes parts of Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland.

★ ★ ★

Proud, hardheaded and often reluctant to leave the mountains he loves, the brooding coal miner, his patient wife and their flock of children have been shunted from the mainstream of the nation's economy and onto the treadmill of subsidized poverty.

SOMBER STATISTICS

The statistics are somber.

In 1947 there were 450,000 mining jobs in the region. By 1962 that figure had dropped to 162,000 and it is still dropping.

Two million persons have left the region since 1940. Of those that remain, 1½ million over age 25 are illiterate.

★ ★ ★

Welfare checks and food handouts have become a way of life for more than five million people in Appalachia's hills and hollows.

FINEST PEOPLE

"These people are among the finest in the world, but relief handouts are destroying them," says Harlan, Ky., hotel owner Jack Anderson. "They need a cure, not a treatment and time is running out."

Unlike the "new South," the Appalachia region is still tied to a kind of one-crop economy: coal.

The old South tried and finally overcame its subservience to King Cotton.

★ ★ ★

But the South was wide open to new industry and new people and new ideas.

COVES AND HOLLOWS

Appalachians are bottled up in coves and hollows, encircled and intertwined in a fortress of mountains and hills that defy access to new industry or new people.

Inertia has replaced incentive. Apathy is widespread. Children stay home from school because they have no shoes. A region that once was among the most abundant in the nation is prostrate.

The brightest hope for many —and there are many others who shrug and look with skepticism — is President Johnson's $1.1-billion war on national poverty. The region will be the first battleground.

★ ★ ★

A long-range development plan has been proposed by the President's Appalachia Regional Commission (PARC). The estimated expenditure is $5 billion to be spent over 5 to 7 years.

LONG-RANGE PROGRAM

Only a long-range program can save the area, say the people of Appalachia. The PARC program cites these problems in the Appalachia:

- Lack of access to and within the region.
- A technological inability to utilize the area's natural resources of coal, timber and arable land.
- Lack of control and exploitation of Appalachia's torrential rainfall.
- Inadequate sources to train and retrain the youth.

To pump new economic blood into the region, PARC has proposed a network of roads, reforestration, exploiting the rainfall, new uses of coal within the region (possibly in steam-generating plants), development of a recreational area and training for the jobless.

While most of the unemployed coal miners live in rural areas, it is a nonrural population. The terrain is unsuited to farming. The unemployed highlander is a destitute coal miner, not a poverty-stricken farmer.

★ ★ ★

He has been surveyed, reported, itemized and tabulated in teams of statistics by government and private agencies. He now looks to Washington for an answer, partial though it may be, to the problems that have made him a forgotten man in a land of plenty.

To Distribute Banned Book at NY Church

NEW YORK (UPI)—A clergyman opposing the court ban of the novel, "Fanny Hill," plans to distribute copies of the book at services in his church next Sunday.

The appellate division of the State Supreme Court last Thursday judged as obscene the book which describes the life of a young country girl who goes to London and turns to prostitution.

The Rev. William Glenesk of Spencer Memorial Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn said he planned to compare episodes in the book to "certain sections of the Bible."

★ ★ ★

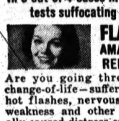

He said he planned to give copies of the erotic novel to his congregation as a protest against the book ban.

★ ★ ★

He said the books were donated by G. P. Putnam's Sons, publishers. A panel discussion will follow the church services, he said.

168 Are Lost in Two Air Crashes

2 Missing From Tanker

Greek Crew Rescued at Sea

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Thirty-four survivors of the broken Greek tanker Amphialos arrived in Halifax early today aboard a Canadian warship after a dramatic rescue from the stormy North Atlantic.

Two members of the 36-man Greek crew perished after the 15,800-ton tanker split in two under the battering of gale winds and 20-foot waves off the Nova Scotia coast Saturday. Five of the survivors were taken to a hospital on stretchers.

Capt. Stamantis Polemis, the Amphialos' skipper, said he and his men clung for hours to a rail of the stern section until they were picked up yesterday afternoon by the Canadian destroyer escort Athabaskan. A 300-foot bow section of the 630-foot ship floated away and sank.

The survivors were wrapped in navy blankets as they left the Canadian warship. Most appeared cheerful but tired. They shook hands with the Canadian sailors and in broken English expressed their gratitude.

Asked to confirm the number of men aboard his ship, Polemis said briskly, "We had 36. Now we have 34."

The rescue followed a chance observatoin by a Canadian air force plane during a training mission. The pilot, Lt. Laurie Friesen, spotted an oil slick about 220 miles southeast of Halifax—presumably from the sunken bow.

"A couple of minutes later we saw two ships," Friesen said. "The nearest was a navy ship—Athabaskan — and about eight miles away was another ship. The second vessel looked different from a normal ship."

As he swooped down, he made out the stern of a ship sticking out of the water.

MEN CLINGING

"There were men clinging to the rails," Friesen said. "They began waving frantically."

Friesen radioed the Athabaskan. The warship's presence in the area was pure chance. The Canadian Navy said no distress signal had been received from the stricken tanker.

The Athabaskan's skipper, Cmdr. Peter R. Hinton of Victoria, said a lookout spotted the floating stern a few minutes after the plane's report. Two lifeboats bobbed in the sea.

Hinton said most of the men in the lifeboats were too weak to climb nets hung over the Athabaskan's side. Canadian sailors scrambled down and aided them aboard.

The rescue of the men on the stern was more difficult.

RIVER WORK PROGRESSING — Work on tunneling the Clinton River under S. Saginaw at the Orchard Lake-Auburn intersection is progressing. The detour around the intersection, designed not to hinder access to downtown Pontiac, is also working smoothly. Barring any major construction problems, the intersection should be re-opened by mid-April.

Psychiatrist Visits Ruby; 3rd Week of Trial Starts

DALLAS (AP)—Judge Joe E. Brown held assistant defense attorney Joe Tonahill in contempt of court after an angry exchange between Tonahill and Asst. Dist. Atty. A. D. Jim Bowie. He was fined $25.

DALLAS (AP) — A defense psychiatrist talked with Jack Ruby for more than an hour before court resumed today as the moment neared when the prosecution calls its first witness in Ruby's trial on a charge of murder with malice.

The third week of the trial began today with attorneys still trying to complete the jury.

Dr. Manfred Guttmacher, chief medical officer for the supreme bench of Baltimore, flew to Dallas last night. He told newsmen that in addition to examining Ruby again, he wants to study the electroencephalograms (brain wave tracings) taken on Ruby.

Guttmacher came to the courtroom with Melvin Belli, Ruby's chief defense counsel. He said he was with Ruby in a soundproof room from 7:30 till 8:50 a.m.

★ ★ ★

"I think he's deteriorated some," Guttmacher told newsmen. "He doesn't look as well as the last time I saw him." Guttmacher examined Ruby last Dec. 21 and 22.

"He seems more anxious and more tense," the doctor said.

Eight men and two women have been sworn in as jurors. A special session last Saturday failed to produce two more for the required panel of 12. In Texas, a 13th juror is not chosen as an alternate.

Mild Weather Will Continue

March will continue to play the lamb for the next five days.

Temperatures will average about 10 degrees above the normal high of 38 and low of 24.

Precipitation will total about 3/10 of an inch in rain.

There was 1/10 of an inch of rain early Sunday morning. The low before 8 a.m. was 32. By 1 p.m. the temperature was 48.

News Flash

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Melvin Swerdlen, who owns gasoline stations in Detroit and Dearborn, reported to Southfield police today that three armed bandits robbed him of $4,000. He said they forced their way into his home after one posed as a Western Union messenger delivering a telegram.

Panel Found From Airplane Down in Alps

Rescuers Find Bodies of 83 Who Died in Disaster in Mountains

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—British and Austrian investigators were reported today to have found part of a battered instrument panel in the wreckage of a British airliner which crashed in the Austrian Alps. Rescue workers began removing the bodies of the 83 persons who were on board.

The investigators worked among the wreckage with the rescue crews in hope of finding some clue to the cause of the crash during a heavy Alpine fog Saturday.

Austrian officials have expressed belief the plane's altimeter was defective.

It was not known here whether the instrument panel portion reported found in the mountain gully where the plane came to rest contained the altimeter. Reports reaching here said the panel was badly battered.

The wreckage was spotted yesterday between the peaks of Mt. Gamslahner and Mt. Glungezer by a U.S. search plane. Rescue crews were flown to the site in helicopters.

WAS LANDING

Austarn officials said the four-engine Bristol Britannia of Britain's Eagle Airways hit Mt. Glungezer while maneuvering to land at this winter resort where the 1964 Winter Olympics were held last month.

The big turboprop plane, its fuel tanks still nearly half full, apparently struck the mountain at full speed and exploded. Debris and bodies were strewn over a 2,000-yard area in the gulf between Gamslahner and Glungezer peaks.

The 75 passengers included 73 Britons bound for a skiing holiday and two Australians. The airline, International Eagle, said there were 18 married couples aboard and at least five children. The plane carried a crew of eight.

Hot Topics Face State Legislature

LANSING (AP)—The legislature may come face to face with many of its hottest items this week.

For the first time, the administration's aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U) bill will be on the calendar.

It came out of a House committee Friday after Republican caucus accord.

Tonight, Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, is scheduled to try to rescue his bill to extend Michigan's "Good Samaritan" law to nurses.

VOTED DOWN

The Senate voted it down 17-7 last week when the bill's enemies labeled the 1963 law a "permit for malpractice."

The law absolves doctors from civil liability arising from emergency treatment at

EARLY VOTERS — Mr. and Mrs. William McLean of 103 Dwight sign their ballot slips just before entering a voting both at Webster School. They were among about the first to vote in Precinct 41 today as polls opened at 7 a.m. for the city primary. Their precinct is in District 2, where five city Commission hopefuls are seeking nomination to the April 20 ballot.

Voters Go to Polls Today in Commission Primaries

Early reports indicated a good voter turnout today in the biggest City Commission primary in Pontiac's history.

Primaries are being held in six of the city's seven districts to determine who will compete for election to the commission on the April 20 general election ballot.

The most noticeable early trend was confusion, according to City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

★ ★ ★

"In spite of all the publicity to the contrary, many voters apparently are showing up with intentions of voting for candidates in all districts," she said.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Mrs. Barkeley's election workers reported several cases in which voters wondered where the other candidates were on their ballots.

Electors will cast only one vote. Ballots only contain the names of candidates in the voter's district.

When the votes are tallied, by district, the two candidates who get the highest number of votes will qualify to run for election on the April ballot.

★ ★ ★

There is no primary today in District 3, where only two candidates filed for the District 3 nomination.

OPEN UNTIL 8

Polling places will be open until 8 p.m. but all persons waiting in line to vote at that hour will be allowed to do so.

★ ★ ★

District 1 candidates are the incumbent, Samuel J. Whiters, 50, of 453 Harvey, an electrical contractor; Robert J. Bowens, 41, of 316 Harrison, a Pontiac Motor employe; T. Warren Fowler Sr., 57, of 59 Lake, an electrical and heating and cooling contractor; and Rollie L. Jones, 45, of 212 Bondale, a mathematics and English teacher at Jefferson Junior High School.

DISTRICT TWO

In District 2, the incumbent, Commissioner Charles H. Harmon is not running for a second term, but five commission hopefuls are on the ballot there.

They include Allan J. Denham, 49, of 93 Oriole, a process engineer at GMC Truck & Coach Division; Robert C. Irwin, 34, of 435 W. Iroquois, a Pontiac realtor; and Robert W. Jockwig, 70, of 250 Draper, a retired postal employe.

Other District 2 candidates are Philip R. Sauer, 55, of 59 Monroe, a local restaurant owner and former mayor; and Dr. Norman L. Wittkop, 66, of 1025 Argyle, a retired school superintendent.

In District 4 there are four candidates: Incumbent Commissioner Winford E. Bottom, 38, of 174 Euclid, secretary - treasurer of Thomas Die & Stamping Co.; George Grba, 33, of 28 Kimball, chief maintenance inspector for the Oakland County DPW; Leslie H. Hudson, 41, of 361 Gallogly, a store owner and former state legislator; and Floyd P. Miles, 55, of 160 W. Columbia, part owner of a religious book store and a former commissioner.

DISTRICT FIVE

Voters in District 5 have the largest ballot in the city. There are six candidates to choose from.

Including the incumbent Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, 41, of 662 Linda Vista, general manager of McCandless Carpets, there are three candidates who have served on the commission.

John A. Dugan, 55, of 363 Nelson, a Pontiac Motor employe,

85 Persons Missing as Flight to Resort in California Vanishes

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force said today wreckage of a plane with 85 persons aboard had been found on a mountainside near Lake Tahoe.

TAHOE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—An unusual collection of airplanes, helicopters, seaplanes, boats, tracked vehicles and men on skis or snowshoes poised today for a massive search of the rugged Sierra around Lake Tahoe for a transport plane that disappeared in a blinding snowstorm with 81 passengers and a crew of four.

The plane—loaded to capacity—vanished suddenly yesterday at noon. The veteran pilot, Henry Norris, 43, had just radioed that he was starting his 27-mile approach down Lake Tahoe to the airport here.

It was the first mishap in the two-year-old Paradise Airlines operation.

The four-engine, propeller-driven Constellation may have plunged into the huge lake, which is 6,200 feet up in the 10,000-plus altitude granite Sierra.

Norris may have turned and crashed into the mountains. The scene is only a few miles from Squaw Valley, scene of the 1960 Winter Olympics.

In Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Board said it was sending three investigators, headed by George R. Baber, to the scene.

U.S., Turkey Maneuver

By GERALD I. MILLER

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet and the Turkish Navy began joint NATO maneuvers in the Aegean Sea today as a Greek naval strike force operated in the Aegean just 12 hours sailing time from troubled Cyprus.

The Greek units sailed from Piraeus, Crete and other Greek ports Saturday night. The force included destroyers, troop carriers and landing craft.

Defense Minister Peter Garoufalias said the Greek exercise was planned a year ago and had no connection with the Cyprus crisis. However, it underscored the Greek government's warning last week — after Turkish naval units maneuvered off the Cypriot coast—that it would oppose any Turkish intervention on Cyprus.

The American ships arrived off Crete four days ago in preparation for the three-day maneuvers with the units from Turkey, easternmost member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Three Turkish submarines are taking part in the maneuvers.

Greek officials said last week that Greece, also a NATO member, would not participate because of the presence of Turkish vessels.

Informed American officials in Athens said that Greece had not been scheduled to take part in the maneuvers which had been planned months ago as an American-Turkish exercise. The officials said that the 6th Fleet also holds bilateral exercises with Greece.

★ ★ ★

Premier George Papandreou protested on Saturday against the American stand in the Cyprus dispute. The Greek press generally accuses the United States of favoring Turkey in the dispute.

Some of the 6th Fleet ships are scheduled to call at Athens after the NATO maneuver ends March 4. Some American officials consider this unwise in view of the current atmosphere, and it was believed the visit may be canceled.

ANTI-WEST PROTEST

More than 15,000 persons gathered Sunday at Iraklion, Crete's largest city, for an anti-American and anti-British demonstration.

Athens newspapers speculated the American ships were under orders to prevent any Turkish invasion of Cyprus. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the fleet was on a routine courtesy visit.

In New York, the U.N. Security Council was scheduled to continue its debate on the Cyprus question this afternoon, amid reports that the chief obstacles blocking creation of an international peace force and appointment of a mediator had been cleared away.

The council's five nonpermanent members—Brazil, Bolivia, the Ivory Coast, Morocco and Norway—were expected to introduce a resolution empowering U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to send a force to Cyprus for three months while a mediator seeks a solution to strife between the island's Greek majority and Turkish minority.

Solution Hope Dim in Malaysian Talks

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Another round of ministerial talks on the Malaysian dispute begins in Bangkok Tuesday with little hope of solution as Indonesia hurled new threats of extermination at Malaysia.

As the foreign ministers of Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaysia prepared to meet, the Indonesian Information Ministry said President Sukarno's government is still determined to wreck the young federation of statement added that the dispute should be settled peacefully.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, Indonesia's defense minister, denounced anew Britain's retention of military bases in Malaysia, whose Borneo border with Indonesia is guarded by British as well as Malaysian forces.

CHAOS AND CONFLICT

Charging that British bases bring "chaos and conflict" throughout Asia and the Middle East, Nasution said Asian bases should be manned by Asians.

He denied that Indonesia wants to seize Malaysian territory, saying: "Indonesia's only aim is to free the people there from imperialism."

Malaysia ordered more troops to its Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah because of reported new clashes along the frontier.

Malaysian officials said the situation along the 800-mile border with Indonesian Borneo was "rapidly deteriorating." They reported Indonesian-backed terrorists killed six persons over the weekend.

CEASE-FIRE

At the foreign ministers' meeting Malaysia will demand that an esimated 200 anti-Malaysian guerrillas in Sarawak and Sabah be withdrawn or disarmed and that the cease-fire negotiated by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in January be made effective.

Indonesia, with Philippine support, wants an immediate summit conference of Sukarno, Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal and Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman to discuss political issues. Rahman says he will not meet with Sukarno and Macapagal until the cease-fire is effective.

Diplomatic circles believe that failure of the foreign ministers to reach some agreement will doom any hope of settlement in the near future.

Some fear that such a situation could lead to a war which would spread throughout southeast Asia.

the scene of accidents or disasters.

Reconsideration of the Thursday Senate vote is set for tonight.

Tomorrow's schedule calls for a final House vote, as a "special order of business," on whether to abolish Michigan's one-man grand jury system.

TEACHER TENURE

Senate debate on mandatory statewide teacher tenure and on a proposed pay raise for county prosecutors also is on tomorrow's schedule.

Republican leaders of both houses have predicted the tenurea proposal, which came to the legislature in the form of an initiatory petition, will pass.

Opposition is expected from lawmakers who believe the tenure system smacks of unionism.

★ ★ ★

The prosecutors' pay scale, another Nichols proposal that ran into stiff opposition last week, would establish minimums based on county population.

COUNTY RIGHTS

Opponents say this would invade county government prerogatives and would force poorer counties to pay higher salaries than they can afford.

Senate debate is set for Wednesday on a resolution to lower the legal voting age to 18 and a bill to permit auto-haulaways as long as 60 feet—The so-called "long truck bill."

Also expected this week are a favorable report by the House Labor Committee on the administration's minimum wage bill and a decision by the Senate on whether the House-approved Peche Island development bill will reach the Senate floor.

6 Road Deaths in Weekend

Record County Toll Despite Safety Drive

Six persons were killed in Oakland County traffic accidents over the weekend, bringing the county's 1964 total to nearly double that of a year ago.

Statewide, it was the worst weekend of the year. At least 22 persons died on the highway.

Oakland Highway Toll in '64

Last Year to Date 21

Ironically, the deaths occurred on the weekend that a stepped up traffic safety campaign was put into operation by the Michigan State Police.

The worst accident in the county happened Saturday evening when three men were fatally injured in a two-car crash in Groveland Township.

The victims of the 6:50 p. m. head-on collision on Dixie at Tripp were:

Ronald L. Winter, 24, of 1895 Bird, Groveland Township; James E. Moore Jr., 39, of 5755 Strathdon, Waterford Township; and William Novack, 29, of Flint.

OVER CENTER LINE

Flint State Police said Winter, traveling south, had slowed down to make a left turn when the northbound Novack car crossed over the center line. Moore was a passenger in Novack's car.

Moore and Novack were dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital, Flint. Winter died nine hours after the accident in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Last night William L. Lennon, 68, of 2450 Harmon, Pontiac Township, died of a broken neck after colliding head-on with a car on Lapeer Road near Indian Lake in Orion Township.

The driver of the other car, Larry Purvis, 26, of 1374 Foreland, Oxford Township, and his wife, Linda Sue, 26, were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital. They are in fair condition with facial lacerations. Their 18-month-old baby, Tari, was not seriously injured.

IN WRONG LANE

Sheriff deputies said the 9:37 p.m. accident was caused by Lennon, who was driving south in the northbound lane of the divided highway.

Severe head injuries caused the death of Melvin E. Bornman, 46, of 653 Hurd, Brandon Township, in an early yesterday morning accident.

Bornman, according to Sheriff's deputies, was going north on Lapeer Road in Oxford Township when his car went out of control and overturned numerous times.

Barnman was thrown from the car in the 2:08 a.m. accident near Ray Road. The motor was found 51 feet north of where the car came to rest.

Early Saturday morning, Jerry T. Yeargan, 23, of 2498 Harrison, Rochester, was killed when his car hit a tree after leaving Auburn Road in Avon Township.

Yeargan died of a broken neck in the 1:19 a.m. accident near Eastwood.

Police blamed excessive speed for causing the deaths of Yeargan and Bornman.

ing toward a gay Sunday at Nevada's gambling casino's theaters, bars and restaurants — only two miles from the airport at the South end of Lake Tahoe.

Fifteen other pleasure seekers —who had purchased $15.75 tickets for the 150-mile flight from San Jose—were unable to get seats. They were taken 50 miles to Oakland to board another plane—but mere turned back there with a report the weather was bad.

★ ★ ★

Eighteen of the 81 passengers were employes of two discount houses, the Monte Mart in Salinas and the Monte Mar in nearby Monterey. They were on an informally organized one-day pleasure trip. Manager Lit Ng of the Salinas Mart said the flight was not sponsored by the store.

FATHER ABOARD

His father, Poy Ng, was aboard.

Alice Thomas, wife of tavern owner Cornelius Bud Thomas of Sn Jose, who sold 35 tickets for the flight, was another aboard. Thomas and his son, Bill, 20, were among those unable to board and drove instead to Tahoe.

Expressing how completely the plane vanished with no clues Herman Jones, 32, said: "There have been no reports, no sighting, no nothing."

★ ★ ★

"We don't know what happened. As far as we can trace, the flight was all routine. There was nothing alarming about the weather at the time. However, the weather at Lake Tahoe was dropping. Snow showers. Pilot Norris never said anything adverse to the flight."

SNOWING HARD

Residents of the area said it was snowing hard and winds were high and gusty — not unusual at this season in the high Sierra.

★ ★ ★

Investigator Ivan Stracener of the Civil Aeronautics Board said "the pilot reportedly had seen a hole in the overcast and was beginning his approach. The weather was so stinking you couldn't search yesterday."

Redistricting Before Court

Other Items Set Aside for Debate on 4 Plans

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court, bypassing all its other business, came to grips today with the hot issue of legislative districting.

The high court opened its doors to two days of oral arguments over the best way of dividing up the state for election of Michigan's Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Defining geographical districts for the Senate and House is the court's purpose.

Four plans were docketed for presentation to the court by Republican and Democratic members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission created by the new constitution.

COURT TAKES OVER

The bipartisan eight-man commission failed earlier to agree on a plan of its own, and the court took over the job.

Responsible sources have expressed fears of "legislative chaos" if delay continues.

Both the U.S. Constitution and Michigan's Constitution had roles in the case at hand.

The court asked that the oral arguments include discussion of whether the U.S. Constitution's "equal protection" provisions should be brought into its deliberations. It termed the matter "possibly pivotal."

Republicans contended the court's only duty is to decide which of the plans meets the Michigan Constitution's requirement that 38 Senate districts be based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area and that 110 House districts be based on population.

VIOLATES SECTION

In one of the plans before the court, however, Democrats Richard Austin of Detroit and A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids contend that the 80-20 formula for Senate districts violates another section of the Michigan Constitution setting forth the principle of "equal protection under the laws" for all persons.

★ ★ ★

Their plan is on the so-called "one man, one vote" basis.

Indications are that the court will rule about mid-March, perhaps earlier.

was commissioner eight years and a mayor pro-tem. John H. Ridgway, 64, 435 Lowell, a semi-retired real estate salesman, is a former mayor and served six years on the commission.

Also vying for the District 5 nomination are Delbert E. Burnett, 33, of 595 Melrose, a wood pattern maker; Robert R. McKeever, 38, of 442 Lowell, and Cecil C. Mullinix, 49, of 571 Lowell both Pontiac Motor employes.

DISTRICT SIX

In District 6 there are five candidates on the primary ballot. Commissioner Dick M. Kirby, 46, of 91 N. Edith, is seeking a second term. He is business agent for the Wayne - Oakland-Macomb Counties Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL-CIO).

Competing with him are Frederick H. Beedle, 40, of 689 E. Pike, a Fisher Body employe and part-time real estate employe; a former commissioner Wesley J. Wood, 57, of 11 N. Sanford, and Christopher C. Hall, 39, of 23 Maynard, both GMC Truck & Coach employes; and Jack F. Prasil, 44, of 29 N. Anderson, a dry cleaning store owner.

Seeking the District 7 nomination are four candidates, including the incumbent, Mayor Robert A. Landry, 50, of 47 Center, a clerk at the Fisher Body Plant in Livonia, who is seeking his fourth term.

Others seeking nomination there are Curtis L. Webb, 30, of 294 Judson, a real estate salesman, licensed cosmetologist and GMC Truck & Coach employe; Emmett S. Wellbaum, 58, of 269 Seward, a Pontiac Motor inspector; and Elmer R. Betts Sr., 69, of 220 Cottage, a painting and decorating contractor.

Zoning Code Not Seen as Issue in '64 Election

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — This year's city election is expected to be free of the controversy over the zoning code which has dominated politics here for over two years.

The City Commission tentatively has scheduled an 8 p.m. Friday meeting to make a final decision on the proposed ordinance.

For this reason, the slate of four commission candidates for the April 6 election does not include the name of Henry L. Woolfenden.

★ ★ ★

"I believe the new ordinance is going to be adopted and that virtually all issues will be resolved," Woolfenden said today. "It seemed an appropriate time to not run."

LAW PRACTICE

"I figured I had made what contribution I could to the city," he commented. The Detroit attorney who has served as commissioner since 1957 said he planned to devote himself to his law practice.

During recent sessions commissioners have resolved all but one of the zoning issues over which there had been disagreement.

The only decision remaining is on the provision for three-story town houses. Woolfenden and the late Mayor Lyman J. Craig opposed the section which would allow their construction.

★ ★ ★

The commissioner said today he has not changed his mind.

UNEXPIRED YEAR

John Blanchard, who was appointed Feb. 3 to fill the vacancy caused by Craig's death, will seek election to the commission for the unexpired year left in the term.

Two-year commission terms expiring this year are those of Woolfenden and James A. Beresford.

A nominating petition for the incumbent was filed by the Saturday deadline along with those of Robert A. Fry, 1255 Trowbridge, and Edward A. Schirmer, 456 Lone Pine Court.

★ ★ ★

Homer J. Murphy will be unopposed in his bid for another one-year term as constable.

Nominating petitions for six City Commission candidates, including the two incumbents, were filed by the Saturday deadline.

Two three-year terms will be filled at the April 6 city election.

Terms due to expire are those of Robert W. Page and Ralph W. Main.

★ ★ ★

Others whose petitions were filed are Mrs. Patricia Grissom of 1090 Westwood, Stanley Fiol of 632 W. Frank, Charles W. Clippert of 1792 Pine and Mrs. Ruth McNamee of 1271 Lakeside.

City Clerk Irene Hanley noted that they have until next Saturday to accept the nominations.

Seeking reelection for three-year terms on the library board will be Edwin S. Snyder and Arthur J. Underwood Jr. They will be unopposed.

Mrs. Ivar Ivarson

Private service for Mrs. Ivar (Hulda G.) Ivarson, 87, of 18187 Birwood was to be held at 1:30 p. m. today at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial following in Acacia Park Cemetery, Southfield.

Mrs. Ivarson died Friday after a brief illness.

Surviving are three daughters. Mrs. George Graves of Vista, Calif., Mrs. Henry Gilmartin of Birmingham and Mrs. Raymond I. Goddard of Detroit; two sons, Einar of New Kensington, Pa., and I. Leonard of Detroit; eight grandchildren; and 15 great-grandchildren.

William S. James

Service for William S. James, retired mechanical engineer, was to be held this afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook with burial following in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Arrangements were by the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

Mr. James, 71, of 4805 N. Adams, Bloomfield Hills, died Saturday.

A former vice president of engineering and research at Fran Corp., Detroit, he had served as director of research for Ford Motor Corp. and chief engineer for Studebaker Corp.

A graduate of George Washington University, he was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook and Bloomfield Hills Country Club, and a past president of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Surviving besides his wife, Rose R., are a daughter, Mrs. William Edellein of Rochester, N. Y.; a son, William R. of Bloomfield Hills; nine grandchildren; and a brother.

Mrs. Charles D. Marsh

Memorial service for Mrs. Charles D. (Rita) Marsh, 49, of 381 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, will be 1 p.m. Wednesday at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mrs. Marsh was killed in an airplane crash in Troy Saturday.

She was a member of the Junior League National Cathedral Association, the Bloomfield Hills Garden Club, and the Greenhouse Garden Club.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Patricia, and a son, John C., both at home; her mother, Mrs. Frieda C. Von Wrangell of Buffalo, N. Y., and a brother.

Memorial contributions can be made to the National Cathedral Association, Mt. Saint Alban, Washington, D. C.

Dr. John H. Selman

Service for Dr. John H. Selman, 63, of 2739 Heathfield, Bloomfield Township, was held this morning at the Ira Kaufman Chapel, Southfield, with burial following in Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

Dr. Selman, a general practitioner with offices in Auburn Heights, died yesterday.

He was president of the Auburn Heights Rotary Club, a charter member of the American Academy of General Practice, and a member of the American Medical Association and the Michigan State, Oakland and Wayne County Medical Societies.

Surviving are his wife Ida; a son, Dr. Robert Selman; a daughter, Nancy J. Selman, at home; a brother, Jack Zelmanov of Oak Park; three sisters, Mrs. Julius Sonne of Oak Park, Mrs. Ben Schwartz of California, and Mrs. Anna Steinberg of Chicago, Ill.; and two grandchildren.

Memorial contributions can be made to charity.

Crash Survivor of Plane Wreck Is Still Critical

A Bloomfield Hills stockbroker, pilot of a small plane which crashed in Troy Saturday, killing his wife and injuring her mother, is reported still in critical condition today.

Charles Marsh, 58, of 381 Cranbrook, suffered multiple fractures and lacerations when his four-passenger aircraft lost power on takeoff and crashed off the end of a runway of the Berz Airport.

George Berz, son of the airport owner, said the plane had barely lifted off the ground when it rapidly descended and broke into four pieces.

In the plane with Marsh were his wife Rita, 49, and her mother, Mrs. Freida Von Wrangell, 68. Both Marsh and Mrs. Von Wrangell are in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. Mrs. Von Wrangell is reported in satisfactory condition.

GOING HOME

Police said the Marshes were taking Mrs. Von Wrangell to her home in Buffalo, N.Y.

The pilot, a stockbroker with the Bloomfield branch of Manley, Bennett, McDonald & Co., has been flying for five years.

He is former co-owner of Demery's Inc., and the father of two children, John C., 22, and Patricia, 19.

The mishap occurred shortly after noon Saturday.

Earns Top Honors

Macomb Grower Rhubarb King

By LEE OLSON
Area News Editor

UTICA — A new king was crowned here Saturday.

Sylvester DeCock gained the title—not by right of succession — but by growing the best rhubarb in Macomb County, hothouse rhubarb center of the world.

DeCock, 38, of Macomb Township was crowned at the dance which climaxed the ninth annual Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival.

The rhubarb that earned top honors was judged best in the extra fancy division.

DeCock, who went into the hothouse rhubarb growing business on his own just about a year ago, lives at 20555 23 Mile.

OTHER PRIZES

Member of a rhubarb growing family, he also won a first prize in the choice category, second for the largest single stalk and third in fancy.

A $50 prize went with the crown.

Later the rhubarb was auctioned off with a grower paying the top price for the prize 5-pound box and 55 cases for the first time in the history of the festival.

Jerry Heydens, 11070 18 Mile, Sterling Township paid $435 for the lot.

This year's event, which drew crowds that matched the record set at the first celebration, was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

All day long people streamed into the hall to see the results of the rhubarb cooking and baking competition and to watch as judges rated the choice stalks.

Visitors also partook of rhubarb punch ladled out by Queen Cheryl Cottrell and her two attendants and rhubarb desserts served at the smorgasbord.

Other popular features were a cooking school, magic show and tours of rhubarb hothouses arranged especially for the occasion.

* * *

A 14-year-old homemaker, Sue Reinhardt was the junior grand champion in the cooking contest.

NINTH GRADER

A ninth grader at Shelby Junior High School, Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Reinhardt, 52755 Schoenherr, Macomb Township.

Saturday's victory for Sue proved again that the "proof of the pudding is in the eating" as the judges sampled all the special dishes and chose her rhubarb coconut pie made with cream pudding as tops in the junior division.

Winner of the senior grand prize was Mrs. Frank Dunn, 21130 22 Mile Road, Macomb Township. Her entry was a rhubarb bread pudding.

Lake Orion Residents Can Meet Hopefuls

LAKE ORION—The old excuse of not voting because "I don't know any of the candidates anyway," won't hold water here after Thursday.

All village residents have been invited to "The Candidates' Forum," a special meet-your-candidate night sponsored by the Lake Orion Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Candidates for the village president's position and the three vacant council seats are expected to attend the 7:30 p.m. session in the Lake Orion Junior High School.

* * *

Telling why they can best serve the village as president will be Councilman William V. Shoup, on the Village Party ticket, and Citizens Party member James Norton.

THREE SEATS

Three two-year seats on the council also are being sought in the March 9 election.

Running on the Village Party ticket are incumbents Lewie Rossman and Fred C. Cole, and Robert D. Stokes, after the seat being vacated by Shoup.

Opposing the trio are Citizens Party members David A. Donnelly, Edward Bretzlaff and Larry Marlin.

Each candidate will be called upon for a statement of his qualifications and goals. A question period will follow.

Music, refreshments and entertainment will be provided at the affair.

AREA NEWS

Voter Forum in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The electorate here will have a chance to meet candidates for the four village council vacancies at a Voters Forum, beginning at 8 p.m. tomorrow in McGregor Elementary School.

Each office-seeker will be allowed a five-minute presentation, after which he will be questioned by audience members.

Seven candidates are vying for the positions, including incumbents John O'Donnell, Roy Rewold and John Lowes. Dr. John Terry, whose two-year term also expires, is not seeking reelection.

Competing with the three incumbents for the four seats are Burdette Lewis, Robert G. Cannon, Frank Voll Jr. and David N. Parker.

FOUR VACANCIES

Each year there are four vacancies on the council. The top three vote-getters receive two-year terms while the candidate in fourth place serves for one year.

Tomorrow's forum will be sponsored by the Rochester Branch of the League of Women Voters.

Chairman of the event, being staged one week prior to the nonpartisan election, is Mrs. Walter Zimmerman, 1850 Livernois, Avon Township.

Trio Is Bound Over in Store Break-In

WALLED LAKE—Three men charged with a Saturday morning grocery store break-in have been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment.

The trio waived examination Saturday before Justice of the Peace Gene Schnelz. Each is being held in the Oakland County jail on $2,500 bond pending Circuit Court appearance March 9.

The three are Rodney Manning, 20, of 5051 Sashabaw, Independence Township; Larry G. Montgomery, 21, of 27 Clark, Pontiac; and David LaPoint, 23, of 67 Tregent, Pontiac.

State highways proved most treacherous. Four persons were killed in a single smashup on M-15.

Only one fatal mishap was reported on an expressway. That one resulted in two deaths from a driver's losing control on I-94 and overturning.

DRIVE OPENED

A traffic safety drive opened Sunday under orders issued last week by Gov. George Romney as highway deaths climbed close to 300 for just two months.

* * *

If the present pattern continues, a State Police expert predicted, 2,625 will have died in traffic by next New Year's Day, compared with a toll of 1,867 for 1963. The projection, based on the fatality ratio for January and February, took into consideration summer's increase travel.

* * *

Under a mandate to let no offender go unticketed, State Police began a six - day work week in the Lower Peninsula, where Commissioner Joseph Childs said 90 per cent of the traffic -fatalities have been occurring.

Three young men and a woman died Sunday in the crash of two cars on M15 two miles north of Otisville. Authorities said a northbound car driven by Kermit Valentine, 28, of Millington, skidded sideways into a southbound car driven by Bruce Aitken, 20, of Columbiaville. Valentine, his wife, Bonnie, 26, and James L. Hutchinson, 21, of Millington, and Aitken were killed.

PONTIAC MAN

William Lannon, 68, of Pontiac, was injured fatally Sunday when his car struck another head-on in the northbound lane of M24 near Lake Orion. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Lannon was in the wrong lane.

Melvin Bornman, 46, of Brandon Township died in an Oxford Township accident.

Edward Curzemski, 36, of Warren, died Sunday when he lost control of his car and hit a utility pole in Warren.

* * *

James Castell, 46, of Royal Oak, was killed Sunday in a two - car, head - on collision in Livonia.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

James Moore, 40, of Pontiac, William Novak, 30, of Flint, and Ronald Winter, 24, of Ortonville, were crushed to death Saturday in a two - car, head-on collision on M54 in Groveland Township of Oakland County.

John H. Hogrefe, 41, and his son, John E., 13, were killed Saturday when the pickup truck in which they were riding ran off I-94 about nine miles east of Jackson and overturned.

* * *

Claude Brewer, 51, of rural Homer, was injured fatally Saturday when the pickup truck he was driving collided head-on with an auto on 25½-Mile Road southwest of Albion.

David Kleinfelt, 23, of Olivet, and Ann G. Vanette, 44, of Chicago, were killed Saturday in a head on collision on U.S. 27 near Charlotte.

ROCHESTER MAN

Jerry T. Yeargan, 23, of Rochester, died in the wreckage Saturday after his car ran off M59 and struck a tree in Avon Township of Oakland County.

Franklin Schannault, 21, of Detroit, was killed when his car crashed into a bridge support on Vernor in Detroit Saturday.

Robinson Shepard, 48, of Detroit, died Saturday of injuries received Friday night when he was struck by a car on Grand Blvd. in Detroit.

Noma Yoder, 53, of Howell, was killed Friday night when her car collided with another auto in Brighton Township of Livingston County.

STRUCK TREE

William E. Cole, 38, of Dowagiac, died Friday night when his car went out of control and struck a tree off a rural road about two miles northwest of Dowagiac.

Walter Smollin, 76, of Macomb County, was fatally injured Sunday night when struck by a car in suburban Chesterfield Township.

Pontiac Press Photo

It's "Operation, Layette!" when the Friendship Club of Evelyn Court, organized in 1927, goes into action. Displaying a completed outfit are Mrs. Walter Parker, Liberty Street; Mrs. Edward Hall, Evelyn Court, president, and Mrs. Paul Keith of Ostrum Street, vice president.

By MADELEINE DOEREN

What can a small club accomplish with monthly dues of 15 cents per member?

The Friendship Club of Evelyn Court can do a lot with so little!

★ ★ ★

While the main project is making layettes for needy, deserving families this year, the group delivered over 100 presents to the Oakland County Children's Center at Christmas.

In 1962, they presented gifts to 175 patients at Pontiac State Hospital.

FORMED IN 1927

Speaking of the club formed by her mother, the late Mrs. E. D. Barling in 1927, Mrs. Edward Hall of Evelyn Court, president, says "The club was formed as a neighborly gesture to newcomers on the Court. They met for a social afternoon once a month in members' homes.

★ ★ ★

"They soon decided to do something more constructive. With the dues and occasional donations, they purchased materials for layettes."

★ ★ ★

According to Webster, a layette is "a complete outfit of clothing, blankets, etc. for a newborn infant."

The Friendship Club's layettes are just that! Along with 18 diapers (hand-hemmed) are six nightgowns, two shirts, 2 pair socks, 2 pair rubber pants, satin - bound blanket, towel set, receiving blanket, baby soap, safety pins, powder and baby oil.

There is not stock - pile of layettes as the group can complete an outfit in two afternoon sessions. Two layettes were recently presented to the Oakland County American Red Cross home service department.

HAND FINISHED

The tiny garments are machine - sewed down the sides and hand - finished along the armhole, neckline and hem. Blue and pink feather-stitching trims the neckline. Each layette contains three gowns trimmed in pink and three in blue.

In 1938, a complete layette could be made for $3.60. In 1964, one costs $12.65. The small dues are inadequate for the rising cost of materials, especially the outing flannel which has doubled in price.

The club has thank-you letters for a layette from a prospective father admitted to Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium and an indigent Mexican couple, parts of twins.

Other club officers are: Mrs. Paul Keith, vice president; Mrs. Donald Harrison, secretary and Mrs. Charles Price, treasurer.

Many of the original members have moved from the Court but are still active in the club and feel well rewarded for their part in the charitable work.

Other active members are Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs. Bert Witt, Mrs. Astolf Levin, Mrs. John Zeunen, Mrs. Bert Farrell, Mrs. Doris Hursfal, Hilda Corey, Mrs. Frank Meserva, Lucy Noggle, Mrs. Charles Hudson and Mrs. E. M. Malone.

Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. E. M. Dexter of Watkins Lake, is on the inactive list as are Mrs. Elmer Going, Mrs. E. J. Reed and Mrs. J. L. Mendham who has moved to Ossineke.

Thirty-eight women signed the charter of the newly organized Pontiac chapter, National Federation of Negro Business and Professional Women.

LOCAL LEADERS

Local officers include Mrs. Emery Hayes, president; Hortense Riddick, Mrs. Robert Burns and Vera Dobson, vice presidents; Mrs. Harold A. Allen, Mrs. John Turner and Ann Russell, secretaries; and Mrs. Rollie Jones, treasurer; Lynetta Anderson, parliamentarian.

The National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. was founded in 1935. Over 5,000 members belong to some 80 senior and 30 junior clubs.

Among the projects of the club's program are education, international affairs, juvenile delinquency and business workshops.

Each club donates funds to support the Samuel Grimes Maternity Center and Ricks Institute in Monrovia, Liberia.

The Negro BPW awards its Sojourner Truth Award to a woman in the local community each year. The groups also make scholarship awards.

The Pontiac chapter will meet the fourth Friday of each month.

Their Three Sons

She's Wild About Harry

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son's wife just produced a third son. They named their first after my son, Thomas.

They named their second son after her father, Richard. Naturally, the boys are called "Tom" and "Dick."

ABBY

Now, just because of that silly expression, "Tom, Dick, and Harry," they went ahead and named the third little fellow "Harry."

I thought it was disgraceful' and told them so. They think it's cute.

I would like your opinion. This is no gag.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Harry is a good solid name, and I see nothing "disgraceful" about it.

Some years ago, a woman in Trenton, New Jersey gave birth to triplets, which she named "Eenie, Meenie and Mine-ee" because she said there wasn't going to be any "Moe."

(This is no gag, either.)

DEAR ABBY: I found a young girl's picture in my husband's wallet. He said she was a girl he danced with at a bar in town.

To prove himself, he took me there, pointed her out, and then danced with her once, "just to talk to her."

★ ★ ★

Afterwards he brought me home, pledged his love and tore up the picture.

The next night he was out 'til 4 o'clock in the morning. When he was asleep, I checked his wallet and found another picture of the same girl. Also her telephone number.

After he left for work, I called her. He had told her he was single, that I was a neighbor who kept his bachelor apartment clean, and whom he had taken out just to be nice.

★ ★ ★

Abby, I love him. Should I give him a divorce so he can marry her?

Or should I live with him for the sake of our two babies, and sleep apart?

VERY VERY HURT

DEAR HURT: Don't assume he WANTS a divorce.

★ ★ ★

Tell him what you know, and insist that he accompany you to your clergyman, a marriage counselor, or to the Family Service Association, which has qualified counselors.

Sleeping apart will only provide him with an excuse for sleeping elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: I know that I would make a very good salesman, but I can't get a job.

Everywhere I apply I am told that they are looking for a young man with experience.

★ ★ ★

Abby, how can I get experience if no one will hire me? I can sell anything.

NO EXPERIENCE

DEAR NO: You cannot "sell anything" if you can't sell yourself.

A man is not likely to hire a person to sell for him if that person takes "no" for an answer, without attempting to convince him to say "yes."

DEAR ABBY: How true it is that kissing someone who has no teeth is nothing. I am the one without teeth (occasionally) and my husband tells me that kissing me when I do not have my dentures in is like drinking flat beer.

SOMETIMES TOOTHLESS

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

No Suitors After Folks Are in Bed

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My 18-year-old daughter complains because I object to her bringing a boy home into the house when she returns home from a date and the family has gone to bed.

She says that was probably right in my day but it is terribly outmoded today. She says too that none of her friends' parents object to their bringing their dates into the house and that I am being very narrow-minded.

What is your opinion ?

★ ★ ★

A: Because some parents are very lax is no reason why you should be, too, and you are entirely right in objecting to your daughter bringing a boy into the house after the family has gone to bed.

Q: There is a difference of opinion among some of the members of my family as to the correct wording of my wedding invitations.

My brother and I say they should read, "request the honour of your presence" and my sister and mother think they should read, "request the pleasure of your company." Which is the correct form?

★ ★ ★

A: On wedding invitations to the church, "the honour of presence" is correct.

On the invitations to a reception, "request the pleasure of your company" is correct.

Q: My mother recently remarried and I am puzzled as to the correct way to introduce her.

Our names are now different and if I say, as I used to, Mother, this is Jane Doe," then the friend will quite naturally suppose that my mother's name is the same as mine and call her by my name.

Will you please tell me how to make this clear when introducing her?

★ ★ ★

A: Say, "My mother (pause) and then add, whatever her name is.

Celebrities Will Reveal Facets of Many Worlds

Birmingham Town Hall, sponsored by St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, announces its series for the 1964-65 season.

Opening the series on Oct. 8 and 9 will be Kitty Carlisle, Broadway and Hollywood star, songstress and permanent panelist on TV's "To Tell the Truth."

Miss Carlisle will give an account of her unusual experiences in the entertainment world in "First Person Singular."

NEWS COMMENTATOR

Elie Abel, state department commentator for NBC's participant in the Huntley-Brinkley report, will speak to Town Hall audiences Nov. 12 and 13.

His topic will be "Strategy for Peace."

Dec. 3 and 4, Town Hall audiences will welcome Edward Weeks, editor of America's oldest literary magazine, "The Atlantic Monthly" and one of the four writer delegates sent to Russia by U.S. Cultural Exchange.

Weeks, entitles his talk, "In the Editor's Chair."

★ ★ ★

Michael Greer, interior decorator of international reputation will be featured Jan. 7 and 8.

★ ★ ★

Jan 28 and 29 will bring Dr. J. Gaither Pratt, for 25 years chief researcher in the parapsychology laboratory at Duke University, before Town Hall audiences.

MRS. SAARINEN

Aline Saarinen will conclude the series Feb. 18 and 19. Seen regularly on the "Today" show and "Sunday on TV," she is the former associate art editor and critic for the New York Times. She is a winner of the international and American awards for art criticism, and wife of the world - renowned architect, the late Eero Saarinen.

★ ★ ★

As author of the best-selling book, "The Proud Possessors" Mrs. Saarinen was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Cranbrook Features Exhibition

A one man exhibition of paintings and drawings by Dorothy Varian will open March 5 and continue through March 22 in Kingswood School Cranbrook art gallery.

Miss Varian's work has been widely exhibited both here and abroad with her first one man exhibition at the Durand-Ruel Galleries, Paris, in 1922.

ON DISPLAY

Her works are in the Whitney Museum of American Art, Duncan Phillips Memorial Gallery, Washington, D.C., the Newark Museum, Dartmouth College Museum and the Ogunquit Memorial Museum, Maine.

They are also in Abbott Laboratories and the collections of the late Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

Among the pieces in the show is a series of seven paintings entitled "Depth to Space."

The gallery is open from 2 to 5 p.m. every day including Saturdays and Sundays. Kingswood School is located on Cranbrook Road in Bloomfield Hills.

CHARLOTTE BLANCHE OSMUN

A May wedding is planned by Charlotte Blanche Osmun, daughter of the Carroll L. Osmuns of Sylvan Village and John Nelson Howard, son of the John Howards of Troy. Both are seniors at Oakland University.

April Bride Given Gifts

Mrs. H. Vere Hodges and daughter Ann entertained recently in their Ottawa Drive home, honoring April bride-elect Sharon Lee Secord.

Among some 17 guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Alton J. Secord of Seeden Street and Mrs. Allen Hawke of Dixie Highway, mother of prospective bridegroom, Thomas Allen Hawke.

Airman Weds English Girl

Word has been received of the recent marriage of Rita Elizabeth Richards of Northampton, England, to Airman 2.C. Ronald Jeffrey Burtch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O. Burtch of Walnut Road.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Richards, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception in Exeter Hall following the wedding ceremony in Queensgroove Methodist Church Northampton.

The newlyweds are residing in Northampton and will make their home in the Pontiac area after July.

After Local Winter

Warmth Wins Localites

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Coping with unpredictable Michigan weather is a problem many Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills residents have avoided by migrating to the warmer spots of the country.

★ ★ ★

Among those who escaped the below freezing area weather are the Harry J. Nederlanders of Pilgrim Road who have spent some time these past few weeks in Scottsdale, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

Basking in the Florida sun are other area residents including the Frank Egan family of Franklin Park Road. Mr. and Mrs. Egan, with daughter Boo, plan to extend their stay until March.

Others who were in Florida include Mrs. C. H. Purdy of Pontiac who was at Pompano Beach. The David Glefkes of Northover Drive have just returned home following their Florida stay.

SPECIAL TREAT

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Richardson Jr. of North Glengarry Road, vacationing in Florida, attended the 500 mile NASCAR Grand National Race at Daytona Beach. Mr. Richardson was among the celebrities to ride in the pace car which started off the race.

★ ★ ★

Among those who plan to spend Easter vacation time in Florida are the Elton Schenhoffs of Amherst Road whose stay will be in the St. Petersburg area. Daughter Valerie and a classmate will join Valerie's parents during Easter vacation.

★ ★ ★

The Karl Jepsons of Beechwood Road stopped at Nassau before joining friends aboard a chartered boat for a several weeks' cruise of the Caribbean.

GO NORTH

While friends and neighbors were off to the south, others took advantage of weather to go schussing on many of the state's ski slopes.

★ ★ ★

Among these are the Alex Clarks of Apple Lane and the Roy Kidneys of Pierce Street.

At Otsego Ski Club the Clarks greeted old friends at a cocktail party which marked their twenty-first wedding anniversary.

Russell Sets 'M' Scoring Mark

Wolverines, OSU Still Tied

By The Associated Press

Michigan doesn't play tonight, but the Wolverines' Big Ten position could improve.

Illinois, which forced Michigan to come up with some fancy maneuvering to beat the Illini 89-83 Saturday, plays Ohio State tonight. And an Illinois victory would leave Michigan all alone in first place.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State went over the 100-point mark for the 10th time this year in beating Northwestern 107-97 Saturday, while Detroit held national scoring ace Howard Komives to one field goal in the first half and went on to trounce Bowling Green of Ohio 104-86.

In other games, Bradley's powerful club bombed Northern Michigan 83-66 at Peoria, Ill.; Calvin won the MIAA title by beating Albion 106-89; Hope blitzed Adrian 90-66; Oliver upset Kalamazoo 93-91 in overtime; and Moorhead State of Minnesota whipped Michigan Tech 77-63.

Bluffton, Ohio, edged Lawrence Tech in double overtime, 97-96; Youngstown, Ohio, defeated Hillsdale 60-53; Central Michigan downed Ohio Northern 89-80; and Bethel, Ind., tipped Spring Arbor 92-83.

NEW MARK

Cazzie Russell set a new Michigan scoring record in leading a second half spurt in the victory over Illinois. Ducking and weaving under the basket to score on layups, jump shots and fire scoring passes to teammates, Russell notched 28 points.

He now has 539 points, a new Michigan all-time one-season scoring mark. The old record of 534 points was set last year by teammate Bill Buntin.

The victory, Michigan's 19th in 22 games, also set a record, surpassing the 18-6 mark established by the 1918-19 Wolverines.

Michigan and Ohio State are tied for the Big Ten lead with identical 10-2 marks with two games left. Illinois is now 4-7.

Michigan State hit 107 points for the third time in a Big Ten game this season in edging Northwestern. Stan Washington led the Spartans with 31 points. State is now 7-6 in league play. The Wildcats are 6-6. The Spartans stand 13-10 overall.

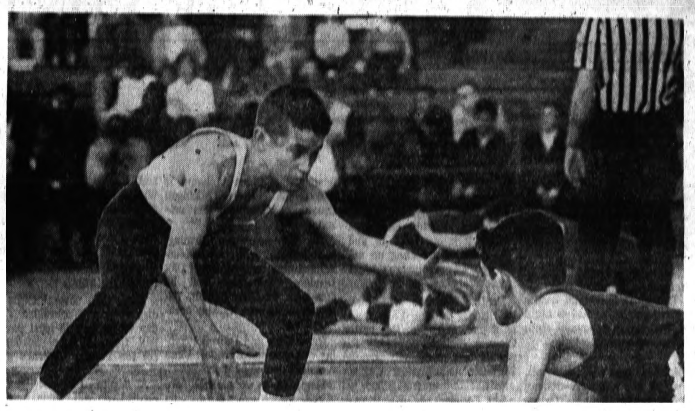

TOP SCORER

Titans John Watson, Bill Sarver and Lou Hyatt took turns shadowing Komives in Detroit's victory over Bowling Green. Komives ended up with 29 points but had only 13 while the game was still a contest. Komives leads the nation with a 36.1 scoring average.

Al Cech, and Dick Dzik and Dorie Murray each scored 19 points for Detroit.

Cech became the highest scoring guard in U-of-D history by boosting his career total to 1,076. The old mark, held by Ray Albee, was 1,063 set in 1955-58. The victory was Detroit's 13th in 24 games.

Bradley easily outdistanced Northern Michigan behind Joe Strawder's 18 points and 22 rebounds. Dave Cade had 26 for Northern. The victory was the Braves' 19th in 25 games. Northern, which meets Ferris State at Houghton tonight to decide on Michigan's NAIA representative, is now 12-10.

COME ON! — Joey Allen of Kettering seems to be urging Gary Ravin of Port Huron to make a move in their semifinal regional match at Pontiac Northern Saturday. Ravin did make his move. He decisioned Allen, 11-5, and captured the 95-pound title later in the day.

No New Mark in Ski Jump

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—A tidy plan to return the U.S. distance ski jumping record to Iron Mountain has failed.

The weather probably was the most important factor. Temperatures reaching 50 degrees Sunday kept tournament officials doctoring the huge Pine Mountain hill with moisture-absorbing chemicals to try to make room for a distance record jump of 322 feet set last year at Steamboat Springs, Colo., by Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn.

While some 20,000 spectators watched, Kotlarek, a 23-year-old accountant and member of the U.S. Olympic team, stole the show with rides of 298 and 294 feet and form points of 230.5 to win the annual Kiwanis championship.

6 New Pace Setters at ABC Tournament

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—New leaders emerged in six divisions as the American Bowling Congress tournament enjoyed a barrage of high scoring Sunday.

The most likely candidates for an ABC championship are Pat and Tony Russo of Paramus, N.J., who took the regular doubles lead with a plump 1,343 series. Their score is six pins higher than the title-winning total rolled last year by Bus Oswald and Gerry Schmidt of Fort Wayne, Ind., and would have been enough to win 33 of the past 60 titles.

★ ★ ★

The Russo brothers, who run a 7½-acre flower and vegetable farm, have bowled in nine previous ABC tournaments without distinction. Pat, 36, who stands 5-feet-6 and weighs in at 206, paced the duo Sunday with 691. Both brothers average around 190 and neither has ever won a major tournament title.

Nick Junker of Stillwater, Minn., a last minute substitute in the tournament, took first in the regular singles with a 685 series. The 58-year-old printer caused some confusion because he wore the shirt of the man he replaced, Bob Johnson.

But his identity was ascertained soon after he rolled his pace-setting 243-233-209 series. Loren Teall of Kalamazoo, Mich., who had dominated the division for a week with 670, slipped to second place.

Bob Skinner of San Bernardino, Calif. claimed the regular all events lead with a 1,851. The 39-year-old salesman rolled a modest 566 in the team event Saturday night, but returned Sunday with 655 in doubles and 630 in singles.

CHIEF IN TROUBLE — Dave Beebe (right) of Pontiac Northern gained a 5-0 decision over Bill Roach of Pontiac Central in a semifinal regional match Saturday on the PNH mat. Beebe went on to nail down the 112-pound regional title and will take part in the state meet Friday and Saturday.

PNH Wrestlers Top Regional Tourney

Pontiac Northern picked off four individual titles enroute to a first-place finish in the Class A wrestling tournament at the Huskies' mat Saturday.

The PNH squad piled up 96 points to nose out Saginaw Valley Conference champion Flint Northern which finished with 80 points.

Flint Central placed third and Pontiac Central nailed down the fourth spot.

In other Class A regional meets, Hazel Park placed first in its own tournmanet, and Ypsilanti took top honors at North Farmington.

Cranbrook placed third in a Class B regional held at Flat Rock, a meet won by River Rouge.

Grabbing individual titles for the Pontiac Northern squad were Dave Beebe (112), Jim Kimmel (133), Don Weyer (145) and Al Rayner (165). Dave Oswalt (103) and Jim Stephens (120 grabbed runnerup spots and Pat McIlroy (127) and and Bruce Tippin (138) finished third.

8 HUSKIES

The eight grapplers will represent PHN at the state Class A tournament Friday and Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Pontiac Central's Harold Whiting waded through the competition in the 138-pound division to take the regional crown. Willie Nelson gave PCH a second-place finish in the 127 - pound class.

Dale Jones of Waterford qualified for the state meet with a victory in the 180-pound division. The Skippers finished sixth in the team competition.

Howard Goldman (133), Carter Hicks (180) and Tom Buford (138) gave Cranbrook second - place points and qualified for the state finals at East Lansing Friday and Saturday.

Detroit Thurston finished second at North Farmington and will send six wrestlers to the state meet.

Stan Seocsky of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows won the 145-pound championship at Flat Rock. Secosky recorded four straight pins.

Steels, Chemicals Show Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, chemicals and aerospace issues were among the gainers as the stock market advanced in heavy trading early today.

Having cracked the "magic" 800 line in the Dow Jones Industrial Average on Friday, the market apparently had attracted some new buyers. It was not a unanimous advance, however.

Motors and oils showed barely any change. Airlines were mostly easy. Cigarette stocks were narrowly mixed.

Building materials, rails, electronics and utilities were firm to higher.

★ ★ ★

Continued reports of rising demand for steel accompanied gains of nearly a point by U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem and Republic Steel added fractions.

On Friday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.2 to 298.0, a new high.

★ ★ ★

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.
