Worst in Middle East Crisis Is Over, Ike Says

Pontiac Motors Tops Goal

Urges Stiff Fight to Make UF Goal

UF leaders hailed the announcement today that employes at Pontiac Motor Division have topped their Pontiac Area United Fund quota of $119,830, bringing the drive to 73 per cent of the total $612,202 goal.

But UF general chairman Walter K. Willman warned that Torchlighters face "a hard battle" if the goal is to be reached a week from today.

The General Motors division is the largest single source of contributions in the area, and has maintained its 100 per cent successful record during the eight-year UF history.

The quota reached this year represents the nine per cent increase asked by the UF to support 54 community service agencies next year.

Pledges through last night total $447,211, Willman said, leaving the drive lagging by $165,091.

An emergency meeting of Commercial Division solicitors was held at noon today to speed returns.

According to division chairman James F. Nye, volunteers calling on Pontiac area business firms and their employes are still $53,000 short of their quota.

At a similar meeting of Industrial Division Torchlighters, chairman Earl Maxwell said that Pontiac Motor contributions still leave the division $109,000 short.

Although the picture has brightened, he said, some plant chairmen are having trouble raising quotas.

The overall division quota is $414,000, approximately what manufacturing companies and employes pledged last year.

LABOR FORCE SMALLER

The problem, Maxwell emphasized, is that the total labor force is smaller this fall.

In order to take up the slack, plant workers are asked to pledge $10.40 each.

Willman told division workers this noon they have only seven days to make certain next Friday's UF luncheon will be a victory luncheon.

The UF has conducted seven successful past drives and there is no reason for failure this year, he said.

Nye urged volunteers to turn in reports. He announced these standings within his division:

Automotive, 64, per cent; construction, 61 per cent; finance, 91 per cent; food, 42 per cent; general 48 per cent; government, 35

Rail Yard Site Decision Due

City Will Vote Tuesday on Selling Disputed Plot to Grand Trunk RR

After five months of debating the subject, Pontiac city commissioners apparently have exhausted all counter proposals and will vote next Tuesday on the $700,000 Grand Trunk industrial support yard.

The decision followed the reading of an 11-page letter from Frank A. Gaffney, vice president and general manager of the railroad, at last night's commission meeting.

In the letter, the railroad continued its insistence that the yard would only be acceptable in its suggested north end site.

Seventy members of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club appeared before the commission asking immediate extension of Stanley avenue. This extension would be blocked if the railroad built the yard on the disputed site south of Walton boulevard.

City Manager W. K. Willman said next Tuesday's vote will be on three acres of city-owned land that the railroad needs to construct the yard in the north end.

WHERE PLANE HIT — The gaping hole in the apartment house roof above was made by a light plane which clipped an 810-foot radio tower and crashed into the multiple dwelling yesterday. At least four persons died in the fire which followed the crash.

Plane Kills 4 Hitting Building

Rams Tall Steel Tower in Jersey Fog and Rain, Structure May Topple

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP)—The area around an 810-foot radio tower was cleared of residents today for fear the structure, weakened by a fatal plane crash, might topple to the ground.

A twin-engine Beechcraft en route from Indianapolis was flying through rain and fog yesterday when it clipped off one leg of the latticed steel tower, believed to be the tallest structure in New Jersey.

The private plane then smashed into the top of a crowded apartment house eight blocks away. One engine was hurled into the courtyard of a parochial school. Flaming gasoline sprayed trees along the street.

Police said four persons are known dead—two men who were in the plane and two women from the apartment house. One of the women jumped five stories to the street in panic as the building burst into flames.

Fifteen others were injured, one seriously. They included 12 firemen.

Mayor Angelo Sarubbi ordered some 3,000 persons in the area to evacuate their homes last night. About 500 volunteer workers helped them move in with relatives or into two schools thrown open as emergency centers.

The tower is owned by New York radio station WOR but has not been in use since 1953. Residents have been unsuccessful in court action to get the tower torn down as a hazardous nuisance.

WOR officials announced the top of the tower would be dismantled today. Gordon Gray, executive vice president and general manager of the station, said

War Drums Calmer in Troubled Middle Eastern Countries

But Situation Still 'Serious,' Leaders Learn

U.N. Rushes Policemen to Occupy Canal Zone, Unit Due Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and congressional leaders discussed the tense world situation for 2½ hours today.

The legislators left the White House using such ters as "grave" and "serious" but there were expressions also of optimism.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, told reporters he thought the discussion had been "very fruitful and helpful."

"It's obvious that it is a very serious situation," Johnson said.

* * *

Altogether, 23 Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate and the House met with the President and his advisers to review the situation in Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

Eisenhower was quoted by some of the large group of conferees as saying that no one could forecast what might happen in the troubled Middle East situation but as believing that the peak of the crisis there may have passed.

The President was quoted, too as saying he was constantly alert to do anything he could to maintain peace.

Several conferees said there was extended discussion of the possibility that Soviet Russia might intervene either directly or indirectly to support Egypt against Britain, France and Israel.

DOUBT RED ACTION

The weight of administration opinion was said to be that Russia probably will not intervene.

On this point Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was quoted as telling the conference that Russia would have great difficulty in moving any troops into Egypt.

Defense Department officials have received reports that Russian MIG jet fighters and other equipment have been sent to Syria, an Arab nation adjoining Israel.

Israel's agreement to pull its troops out of Egypt spurred efforts today to rush a U.N. force to the area to police the shaky Middle East cease-fire.

Quiet was reported on the Suez Canal battlefront as U.N. officials worked at top speed to mobilize the international police force.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold hinted the first units of the U. N. force will reach Egypt "very shortly."

Informed sources said plans call for getting two teams of

C. of C., Retailers to Hail City Industry With Parade

The City of Pontiac salutes industry tomorrow with the giant Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Assn. parade featuring 30 new 1957 Pontiac cars and General Motors' trucks.

The kids won't be forgotten as they don colorful Indian costumes competing for cash prizes and theater passes for the best outfitted 'injuns.'

The "Pontiac Salutes Industry" parade will form at Whittemore and Saginaw and step off sharply at 10 a.m. It will march north on Saginaw to Sanderson where it will break up.

Along the route, thousands of balloons with gift certificates from local merchants will be released. Feathers with similar awards will be dropped upon the crowd from planes.

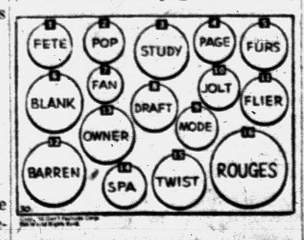

* * *

To promote today's introduction of the new Pontiac and tomorrow's parade, employes of Tel-Huron shops are sporting Pontiac Motor Division shop coats. A new car is on display at the center as well as in front of the courthouse.

Dandy Ante in Pot-O-Gold Totals $500

Once again another $100 is added to old Pot-O-Gold after 6,064 unsuccessful attempts to solve last week's puzzle. This brings the total to $500 for this week's Pot-O-Gold.

Since Puzzle No. 23 doesn't have to be turned in before Tuesday, you still have a chance to win $500. So turn to page 44 and try to come up with the solution. Explanations of last week's answers on page 10 may help you in deciding which clue words are the right ones.

Judges are repeating words of caution about getting the entries in on time and on post cards, because even after weeks of warning, 54 puzzles came in late and 11 were mailed in envelopes. If you want your answer checked, make sure you follow all rules carefully.

Eye Cloudy Skies; Snow Is Predicted

Tonight's weather outlook is for partly cloudy skies with a few snow flurries likely. The low may range from 28 to 32 degrees.

Last night in Pontiac the low was 31. Today at 2 p.m., the thermometer stood at 46 degrees.

Factory Paychecks Reach Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today earnings of actory production workers reached a record level in October as nationwide employment rose and unployment declined.

Weekly factory ernings rose by 61 cents over the September record to a new mark of $82.01. Hourly pay, having averaged $2 in September, forged ahead to $2.02 in October.

* * *

Weekly working hours declined slightly to 40.6 in October after a slight rise in September. The Labor Department said the 1956 October work week was about half an hour shorter than in October last year.

Over-all employment and unemployment figures for October were announced last week.

Expulsion of a 16-year-old junior from Romeo High School by the administration for retaining his outlawed "Elvis Presley haircut" was upheld by the board of education last night.

Mild Winter? Squirrels Say 'Nuts'

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

The mercury hovered just one degree above freezing Thursday morning, and finally hit it at 5 a.m. bringing long-delayed autumn to Oakland County.

Local grassroots prognosticators claim Mother Nature is wrapping herself up for a long, tough winter. Muskrat houses, they say, have reached a rare and astounding thickness.

Small animals sport shaggy coats, and several squirrels are reported near dead of exhaustion in their frenzied search for nuts to bury.

Hornets' nests have been constructed high in the trees this year, to escape the thick drifts the canny insects foresee.

MUSKRAT GAMBLE

A Pontiac Press reporter, trying to verify the reports, suffered a severely bitten thumb when an irate muskrat objected to what he considered an invasion of privacy.

The reporter decided against measuring the height of hornets' nests.

Queried on the reports, Naturalist Walter P. Nickell of Cranbrook Institute of Science, pooh-poohed the predictions.

"Any predictions made by such unscientific methods along that line are necessarily casual, because of conditions generally speaking which tend to throw one's calculations off," Nickell said.

"It's so much baloney," he added.

In his opinion:

"The general signs are that, at least temporarily, the climate seems to be slightly moderating. In general, the Detroit area seems to have a slightly more moderate winter than the rest of Michigan, because all the water here retains summer heat.

"We aren't likely to have a severe winter again this year, although it might be slightly more severe than usual because we've had less sunlight to warm the water this summer.

"However, other general aspects of the weather might overcome this. Something in the far north might overcome the balance—factors over the entire northern hemisphere."

STRAIGHT SCOOP

Confused, the reporter thumbed his 1957 Old Farmer's Almanac for the straight dope on the weather.

The almanac, first printed 165 years ago, describes itself as the "oldest continuously published in the same name and format . . . in America."

Abe Weatherwise, the Almanac's expert, says this winter will average colder than last year's and will have "on the whole more snow."

The cold can be expected to start around Thanksgiving, Abe says, with snow early in December, and a full catalogue of sleet, freezing rain, sub-zero weather and spring blizzards.

But Abe says there won't be any hurricanes north of the Carolinas.

Snows Fall on Alabama

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's coldest weather chilled most of the eastern half of the nation today.

* * *

Snow — only light flurries — fell on Alabama last night as the cold air dipped deep into the Southland. It was freezing weather in northern Texas and at Mobile, Ala., with temperatures around 40 degrees, topcoats were in style.

Cold air embraced the Southern Plains and in most areas east of the Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic Seaboard. Florida, however, hadn't felt the sting of the chilly breezes.

Southern California was having an autumn heat wave. Temperatures were in the 90s again yesterday, the third day of above 90 marks. The 95 at Los Angeles was a record for the date.

West Boulevard to Be Relocated

Service Center Threat If By-Pass Unallowed, Say Commissioners

Pontiac city commissioners have decided to allow the relocation of West Boulevard so that the road will not interfere with construction of the new courthouse in the Oakland County Service Center.

* * *

Commissioners also gave tentati approval of a Board of Supervisors' request that the city and Waterford Township refile annexation proceedings on a 104-acre parcel "so as to eliminate the question that has existed as to the validity of the previous annexation."

Mayor William W. Donaldson said the commission had no objections to either county proposal. He said further action on both was expected next Tuesday.

Since April, the county has asked the city to vacate the street from its southern intersection with Telegraph road to its northern intersection south of the Grand Trunk right of way.

They asked this, since the road would go through the middle of the proposed Service Center.

Commissioners hesitated in approving the request, as several said they felt the courthouse should be retained in downtown Pontiac.

* * *

A public hearing will follow steps to be taken by the city attorney to vacate the street.

The attorney and city engineer were instructed to check descriptions in the annexation request before further action is taken.

GIFT TO CITY — This is the General Motors' $75,000 Parade of Progress bus which will be turned over to Pontiac by the GMC Truck and Coach Division at the conclusion of Saturday's "Pontiac Salutes Industry" parade. The "Futurliner" has been previously accepted by the city and will be used in the Parks and Recreation Dept. A unique feature of the red and white vehicle is a 16-foot side door that swings upward to become a marquee and another one that swings downward to form a stage platform. Highlight of the parade, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Assn., will be a complete line of 1957 Pontiac cars and GMC trucks.

Voting Machines Save $3,000

Pontiac saved close to $3,000 in pay to its election workers by using voting machines in Tuesday's election, as compared to the paper ballots in the 1952 presidential balloting.

Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said that the average time spent by 295 workers Tuesday was 16 hours. In 1952, with 329 workers counting paper ballots, the average time was 24½ hours.

Total 1956 payroll for the workers was $5,201 as compared to $8,110 expended four years ago.

* * *

The first of the city's 44 precincts submitted its returns at 9:19 Tuesday night. The last in, mainly because it recorded the highest voter turnout, was clocked at 12:56 a.m.

RETURNS SPEEDED

In comparison, first returns four years ago came in about midnight while the last precinct didn't report until late the following day with its paper ballots.

* * *

"And we would have been well into Wednesday if we used these ballots this year," Mrs. Evans said.

Election workers received $1 per hour while the precinct chairmen received a bonus of $3. Each worker received an additional $1 for each of the pre-election briefing sessions they attended, the clerk added.

* * *

Precincts with one machine employed five workers; those with two machines, seven workers; and eight were stationed where there were three machines.

RENTED 80 MACHINES

In February, the City Commission voted to rent 80 machines on a one-year trial basis, after which time it would decide whether to purchase them at $1,355 per machine.

The rental price of the machines would be applied to the total of $108,400, Mrs. Evans said.

Mrs. Evans expressed her appreciation of the cooperation of all workers who had a role in producing "one of the smoothest operated elections she has seen."

"Everybody did his part extremely well," she said. "The custodians and the efficient workers and others deserve the credit for this smooth operation."

She added that in addition to the money and time saved with machines, a third advantage is the accuracy.

* * *

No mishaps such as jammed machines were reported, she said. The machines now have been used in the city for two elections.

Jersey Plane Crash Kills at Least Four

about 75 feet would be removed "as a precautionary measure."

Those tentatively identified as dead were:

* * *

Russel S. Williams, 58, Indianapolis, President of the Bonded Gasoline & Oil Co., a subsidiary of Gasteria, Inc. He was on his way to LaGuardia Airport, New York, to meet his son and daughter-in-law returning from Europe. William Cromley, Trafalgar, Ind., the pilot.

Definitely identified as dead were:

* * *

Mrs. Harriet Phelps, 58, wife of S. M. Phelps, assistant chief engineer of the New York Times. He said he tried vainly to stop his wife from leaping from their kitchen window in fright at the explosion and flames.

Mrs. Estelle Pyne, 55, who lived alone on the top floor of the five-story apartment.

Dorothy Mounet said she looked out a window and saw a wing sliding down the side of the building. It struck a fire escape and crashed into the street.

* * *

She said a landing gear wheel dropped and "bounced like a basketball behind a moving car." The woman driver jumped out, too frightened to move.

One engine crashed through the roof of the garage of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Chapel School. The 200 pupils in the school escaped injury, though 25 kindergarten children were lined up outside at the time.

Firemen brought the flames under control in two hours.

Mayor Sarubbi estimated damage at $100,000.

Russia Warns Ike 'Hands Off'

Rebels Resist Red Might, Fight Bitterly in Budapest

VIENNA (AP) — Bitter new street fighting broke out in Budapest today and the Russian-supported Hungarian government ordered new measures to combat the doggedly resisting rebels.

Russia served notice she would brook no interference from the outside world in her fight to crush Hungary's bid for freedom. Premier Bulganin told President Eisenhower in a note that the question of Soviet troop withdrawals from Hungary was "completely and entirely" between the Russian and Hungarian governments.

A broadcast said "armed gangs" were breaking into factories and others were attacking food trains en route to Budapest and carrying off the food in trucks.

Budapest radio sent out urgent appeals for food transport workers to go back on the job as the country verged on starvation.

Reports from refugees crossing the Austrian frontier said a general strike still is in force and the nation's railway system is paralyzed. Lack of coal, shortage of electric power, lack of clothing and a severe food shortage are heading the country toward more chaos.

Neither Soviet troops nor the government they installed seemed able to keep the situation from worsening.

Reports reaching Vienna said freedom fighters appeared to be maintaining a firm position in the ruined old castle at Buda, overlooking the capital, and several other strong points throughout the city.

Two more of the city's best hotels — the Royal and the Continental — went up in flames. Heavy rebel fire prevented fire brigades from getting near the blazing buildings, Budapest radio said.

Ike Opens Door for Hungarians Who Fled Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States joined European nations today in offering haven for Hungarians who fled before the return of Russian-dominated rule in their country.

President Eisenhower directed yesterday that up to 5,000 of the refugees be admitted under the Refugee Relief Act, which sets up special immigration quotas and procedures for victims of Communist aggression.

Pierce J. Gerety, deputy administrator of the act, made it clear that red tape will be cut to the minimum, saying, "We are going to get the people in here."

Through White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower called for American volunteers to assure employment, housing and financial aid for the refugees. Such assurances are needed under the law, which requires also that refugees be screened for security.

A desk telephone and a five gallon gasoline can were stolen Wednesday night from the office of a dirt company at 1020 Collier Rd., Pontiac police said.

Rehash Plans to Incorporate

Waterford Twp. Group Hears About Dangers of Losing Communities

Meeting last night in Waterford High School, the Waterford Township Government Study Committee rehashed pros and cons of incorporating the township as a home rule city.

* * *

Forty members and township residents attended.

Most pressing of the township problems brought out last night was the threat that some township communities may decide to incorporate independently, depriving the whole township of sites for industries to provide an industrial tax base for its residential areas.

Discussing financial practicality of incorporating the whole township under present conditions, a taxation subcommittee of the group presented figures showing benefits of incorporation.

MONEY FROM STATE

About $200,000 in revenue from the State Motor Vehicle Fund could be expected annually for Waterford City, Subcommittee Chairman Garfield Manchester said.

He said this would be $56,330 more than the township now is receiving.

Comparing the Waterford Township budget of $453,513 with the budget of Livonia for the first year after its incorporation, Manchester said Livonia that year spent $1,416,831.

* * *

Members pointed out Livonia's industrial tax base is one of the highest in Michigan but Waterford's would be one of the lowest.

Township Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson said Livonia provides 15 departments and services not maintained by Waterford Township and pointed out Livonia spends more money on services Waterford now offers.

Asked whether incorporation would necessitate such high budgets, Anderson said the city would be forced to pay for whatever improvements and services residents demanded.

Ike and Solons Study Problems

President, Leaders of Congress Meet Today to Review World Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower presents to congressional leaders today a still grim picture of mounting tensions with Russia and a Middle East war threat relieved somewhat by an Israeli policy shift.

* * *

Israeli Prime Minister Ben-Gurion's agreement to pull out of Egypt once "satisfactory arrangements" are made for a United Nations force to patrol the Suez Canal area noticeably brightens prospects for winding up the Egyptian fighting before Soviet "volunteers" can get into it.

There is some encouragement here too at the way in which U.S.-British-French cooperation is being restored in the face of a Russian threat marked, as it has been, by open reference to the possibility of a third world war.

'Hard Battle' Ahead to Score UF Victory

He pointed to the Pontiac Motor campaign by which employes went over the top.

Solicitation at the plant is approached as an obligation, a company spokesman said. Each contributor, he said, is thoroughly aware of his "personal obligation to support this worthy cause."

Although plant superintendents and foremen, who are actually solicitors, must be credited with the campaign's success, he said, the final outcome of the drive is fairly well assured several days before it really gets under way.

* * *

This year, he said, UF plant chairman William Brace scheduled 20 meetings to provide various plants and departments information for soliciting.

EVERY WORKER CONTACTED

With this preparation, division solicitors tackled the job of contacting every man or woman in every department for contributions—cash or pledges.

Pledges made on payroll deduction system played a vital role. The method makes it easier for an individual to give a fair share.

Leaders also encouraged competition among plants and departments. Scoreboards broken down by departments were posted throughout the plants. At each plant entrance, a scoreboard indicated progress of the overall campaign.

The Day in Birmingham

National Bank Developing Maple-Cranbrook Branch

BIRMINGHAM — A new bank came to the Birmingham area yesterday, and officials indicate they expect a permanent site nearby to be chosen for their branch in the near future.

A National Bank of Detroit unit is temporarily located in the Johnstone and Johnstone Realty Co. office in the new building at Maple and Cranbrook, in Bloomfield Village.

Hours will coincide with the Detroit main office — 10 to 3 Monday through Thursday, and 10 to 6 on Friday. No Friday nor Saturday hours are possible, an official says.

Downtown in Birmingham, a survey has indicated that 28 per cent of Saturday business has been eliminated by the dropping of Saturday banking hours, according to the Chamber of Commerce's Charles Mortensen.

The survey is by no means complete, however, he adds, and may be finished by the first of the week. Henry L. Selters, Kresge store manager, is chairman of the special five-man committee taking the survey of merchants.

Families, children included for the first time, have been invited to a Newcomers Reception on Sunday from 3 to 5 p. m. at the Community House.

Another first is being marked by the reception being on Sunday to accommodate commuting fathers. The seven-day week schedule that the board of the House instituted this year makes the Sunday event possible.

About 992 families have been invited, says Norman Weston, Community House president, to greet residents in the community.

"We must absorb these newcomers if we want to keep this a cohesive, friendly kind of town," he adds.

Tea will be served, with cider and doughnuts for the visiting children, under Mrs. Walter Fredericks' direction.

Town leaders such as members of the school board and city commission have been invited to meet the newcomers.

Walker Lee Cisler, president and director of the Detroit Edison Co., will discuss Atomic Energy's use in peaceful ways, at the AAUW meeting next Wednesday at the Community House.

Commissioners have approved an extra fund of $5,487 to cover an expected deficiency in the funds for legal service to the city.

Total estimate for the year is $12,672, according to Finance Director James Purkiss.

"Over expenditure results from the changes made in city attorneys, purchase of library for attorney, plus two large lawsuits being settled during the first foour months of this year," Purkiss says. "Suits now pending include Gardener and Latham appeal plus possibilities of several other cases."

Mrs. Della A. Shaw

Mrs. Della A. Shaw, 84, 725 Tottenham Rd., died yesterday at home following a short illness. Born in 1872 in Ohio, she has lived in this area 45 years.

An active golfer until she was 75 years old, she belonged to the Pine Lake Country Club, and was a charter member of the Women's City Club, Detroit. Her late husband, Ernest D., was a Burroughs executive.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. W. D. Schneider and a son, Robert F. Shaw, of Birmingham.

Service will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Monday at 11 a.m., with interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Some of the first volunteer Union troops sent to Washington during the Civil War were housed in the Senate and House chambers of the Capitol.

County Hospital Lease Approved

Pontiac General to Use Contagious Unit at Cost of $12,000 Per Year

Terms of a Pontiac General Hospital lease on the Oakland County Contagious Hospital were approved by the Pontiac City Commission last night.

Under the lease, Pontiac General will use the Contagious Hospital for 18 months, or as long as construction work on the Pontiac General addition is proceeding.

Pontiac General will pay the county $12,000 a year, and will pay for interior maintenance and operation of the building, which will be renamed the Pontiac General Hospital Annex.

Any county cases handled in the building will be paid for by the county on a per diem basis.

Pontiac General will take possession of the building Dec. 1, but is authorized to proceed immediately with minor interior alterations.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, said yesterday the Pontiac General Board of Trustees had proposed terms of the lease, which was accepted by a special committee of the board. He said ratification of the terms by the board is expected at its next meeting, which is still unscheduled.

Robert Lilly, secretary of the county board of auditors, said today details of the probable cost to the county of county cases in the hospital are not immediately available.

MSU Commends Pontiac Police and Chief Straley

Pontiac's Police Dept. and Chief Herbert W. Straley have been commended for excellent progress in police personnel management by the Michigan State University School of Police Administration.

In a letter from A. C. Germann, assistant MSU professor, the department was honored for being one of the 6 of 110 agencies examined which can "claim excellent progress in police personnel management."

Trouble Reigns, Rains and Rains in Arkansas

DE WITT, Ark. (AP) — Ira Henderson said he "just sat down and cried" yesterday when the bad news began pouring in all at once.

He was leading in the six-way race for Arkansas county treasurer when the last box reported at 11:30 a.m. That box wiped out his slim lead and gave the job to Mrs. Marion Segraves, 1,411 to 1,290.

* * *

Fifteen minutes later, he received word that a home which he owned—and which had been in his family for 75 years — had burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elder, an elderly couple who occupied the house, were at Henderson's home when they heard news of the fire. Elder suffered a heart attack and was still in serious condition today.

* * *

A short time later, Henderson received a telephone call from his son, Shelby Henderson of Fayetteville, Ark., telling him that his infant grandson had swallowed some artificial fruit and was in critical condition.

Henderson later learned that surgery had kept the baby from strangling and that he would recover.

Cobo's Brother Edward Dies Driving

DETROIT (AP)—Edward A. Cobo, 65-year-old brother of Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, died last night after collapsing at the wheel of his car in Northwest Detroit.

He was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

* * *

Cobo's wife, who was with him, said he complained of a chest pain just before he collapsed. Mrs. Cobo was not injured, but the car went over a curb before stopping.

* * *

Stockholm Skipper's Illness Challenged

NEW YORK (AP)—Two physicians were to be named today to examine Capt. Gunnar Nordenson of the liner Stockholm. He became ill while testifying about the collision of his ship and the Andrea Doria.

In response to a show-cause order obtained by the Italian Line, owner of the Doria, Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh yesterday agreed to appoint two doctors to examine Nordenson.

The Doria and Stockholm collided off Nantucket Island July 25, taking a toll of 50 lives. The Doria sank.

Pre-trial hearings are being held in connection with 40 million dollars in damage suits as a result of the crash.

Nordenson, 63, became ill while testifying Oct. 24. His physician said he suffered from a blood clot in the brain. Although Nordenson is to leave the hospital tomorrow, his doctor says he needs several more weeks of convalescence before resuming testimony. The Italian Line challenges that.

Middle East Conflict

The following editorial is a concise background picture of the current Middle East situation reprinted from the Tampa Times.

"War is an excellent teacher of geography and history.

"Public knowledge of the Middle East is extremely spotty, and problems existing between Israel and the Arab nations are little understood. This controversy has been far from the immediate hearth and fireside considerations of the average American home. But, today, war is threatening in this area and more and more individuals are asking, 'What is it all about?'

★ ★ ★

"The problems involved are not new. They have their roots deeply embedded in the past.

"Israel is a product of the Zionist movement which dates back before World War I and had as its aim the creation of a Jewish homeland. The man who gave this drive its force was Dr. Chaim Weizmann, a native of Motele, Russia. He was to become Israel's first President.

"The Jewish people who constituted the Zionist organization saw as their logical home the tiny nation of Palestine at the eastern tip of the Mediterranean a British protectorate.

"In 1917, Britain issued the Balfour Declaration which recognized the right of Jewish people to a permanent homeland in Palestine. However, because of heavy pressure from surrounding Arab states, the British Government did not follow up this policy, although it did protect immigration of Zionists to the Holy Land.

"The greatest strides toward creation of the Jewish state came as a result of Hitler's vicious persecution of individuals of this faith. Sympathy for the Jewish people of Germany and those in other Nazi-dominated countries caused the United Nations General Assembly to vote in 1947 to partition Palestine, creating two separate states. One of these states was to become Israel and the other, Jordan.

"The Republic of Israel was proclaimed in May of 1948; the following year British troops were withdrawn and Britain surrendered its mandate over this area. Israel took charge of the New City of Jerusalem and Jordan retained control of the Old City.

"From the beginning there were conflicts between Arabs and the Jews. Many Arabs were displaced by incoming immigrants, causing population disturbances which as yet are unsolved.

"The new residents of Israel were industrious people. They moved into barren places and, using modern irrigation methods, literally made the desert bloom. The new Israeli settlements, however, had to be operated as frontier villages. They were always subject to raids by resentful Arabs. In 1948, open warfare broke out between Israel and Syria, Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi-Arabia and Jordan.

★ ★ ★

"Separate armistices were signed with the Arab states in 1949, but there was no real peace. Despite attempts to settle differences through the U.N., border incidents have continued to occur with the Arab-states making no secret of their desire to eliminate the new republic at the first opportunity.

★ ★ ★

"Until recently, there was no real cooperation among the Arab leaders. Their personal quarrels kept them at odds with each other and unable to choose an effective course of action against Israel. The rise of Premier Nasser in Egypt has changed this situation. He is serving as a focal point for Arab unity and represents a symbol of the new spirit of Arab nationalism. His seizure of the Suez Canal and, thus far, success in holding it against Western objections has given the Arab world a new sense of power.

"Egypt, Syria and Jordan, immediately surrounding Israel, have entered into a mutual assistance pact. And since the drive of Israeli forces into the Sinai peninsula, other Arab states have offered assistance to the Egyptian government.

"Fixing responsibility in the present incident will not be easy. Although Israel committed the overt act of driving deeply into Egyptian territory, Arab commando forces have been extremely active in raiding Israeli villages and slaughtering their inhabitants. Conflicts between Egyptian and Israeli forces along the Gaza strip have been numerous with both sides taking the initiative on occasion.

★ ★ ★

"The Western powers, Britain, France and the United States, are bound in an agreement to keep the peace in the Middle East and to take action against an aggressor. Here, again, the situation is complicated. The British and French move now toward the Suez — the area where fighting apparently is taking place—opens them to the charge of taking advantage of present circumstances to regain control of the canal. In fact, the Russians have already suggested that this may be the case. And there is good foundation for this belief. The action of Israel troops driving into the Sinai wasteland and drawing Egyptian troops from canal defense points suggests a pre-arranged plan.

"The end result might be that the Big Three powers will have to set up a buffer zone between the Arab states and Israel and keep the peace with their own troops. This will be a costly operation and difficult to organize.

"The prospects for peace in the Middle East are not good. The Arabs show no desire to compromise and permit the State of Israel to exist, and the Israelis are just as determined to maintain the homeland they have secured after generations of effort. Unfortunately this is not merely a local matter. It could provide the spark to set off World War III."

Post-Election Happenings in Regard to the Contest

Junk: How most of us disposed of the campaign literature.

A phone call Thursday from Harbert Johnstone of Rochester says: "Stevenson ran poorest where he talked most. The only states that he carried were the few on which he had not unduly perpetrated himself."

Written in a feminine hand and signed, Royal Oak Democrat," a letter says: "We're expecting great things in Congress from the youthful aggressiveness of William Broomfield. He has the goods, and I hope he'll get the chance to display them. We're pulling for you, Bill."

All in One Basket, Too

David Lawrence Says:

Voters Content With Conditions

WASHINGTON—The broad thesis that favorable economic factors help the party in power and that emotional issues have to be very strong to overcome unfavorable economic conditions in particular areas was strikingly confirmed in this week's election.

Examination of election returns show sharp declines in the President's vote from 1952 occurred in almost all states west of the Mississippi River. In these same farm states the Democrats in Congress held their gains of 1954, but in the eastern states some seats won by Democrats in the recession of 1954 were recovered by Republicans because of improved economic conditions in certain districts.

This happened, for instance, in Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Democrats in the farm states, however, not only held their congressional seats but won additional seats and in some instances elected new governors and state tickets. Eisenhower himself failed this time to carry some of the congressional districts in the farm states where he and Republican candidates previously had won.

It would have taken a switch of less than 15 seats out of 435 to give Republicans control of the house. Declining farm prices in the West and effects of unemployment in certain small areas in the East really prevented a Republican majority.

VOTE AGAINST CHANGE

Voters as a rule don't think of members of Congress as participating in decisions affecting international peace. They do think nationally about a President, and they decided against change in the White House, just as in 1916, 1940 and 1944—during both World Wars.

As for some senatorial contests, personalities played a big part. Thus in Pennsylvania, Joseph Clark, former Democratic mayor of Philadelphia, was a popular figure and Sen. Duff had borne the brunt of resentments caused by recent unemployment in certain sections of the state.

Turning to Ohio, where Gov. Lausche beat Sen. Bender, it is obvious personal popularity and independence of view brought the victory for this Democrat, who has carried his state so many times by big majorities. Lausche is an avowed supporter of Eisenhower on many issues and undoubtedly owes his election as senator this week to the support of many Taft Republicans in Ohio. Indeed, he confessed in 1950 that he voted for Taft.

Looking across the nation, staunch Republicans from way back like Sens. Carlson of Kansas, Dirksen of Illinois, Butler of Maryland, Kuchel of California, Case of South Dakota, Revercomb of West Virginia, Bush of Connecticut, Wiley of Wisconsin, and Capehart of Indiana, all were elected, while Bender of Ohio and Welker of Idaho were beaten—the latter in a three-cornered contest.

In what is generally known as "new Republicans" of the so-called "liberal" school, Cooper and Morton of Kentucky, and Javits of New York, were the only ones who won, while Duff in Pennsylvania, former Gov. Thornton in Colorado, Gov. Langlie in Washington, and Douglas McKay in Oregon—all close friends of Eisenhower—lost out. But, again, each contest had a special significance locally.

The argument that a President needs a majority of his party in Congress apparently just doesn't apply where resentment or local issues prevail.

So the country faces again in the next two years in Congress deep-seated partisanship. Democrats, looking toward 1958 and 1960, will attempt to attack administration policies in an effort to discredit politically almost everything Eisenhower recommends. The only exceptions may be in the field of foreign affairs or where there are millions to be spent which will benefit Democratic constituencies.

The divided government will not affect international affairs so much, but it wil lretard progress on domestic questions that are very much, but it will retard progress on Congress.

U.S. Lags Behind Europe in Quality of Nutrition

The most essential item of an adequate breakfast, I said here recently, is protein, such as eggs, ham, bacon, fowl or fish.

I said also that the namby-pamby who breakfasts on toast and tea or coffee and a roll or maybe a dish of sugar pap and some sweetened fruit juice fresh from the can gets just enough calories for a brief spurt of work, play, or activity, then tires quickly, loses interest and feels the need of a lift or a "stimulant."

★ ★ ★

I have heard from two dozen namby-pambies who resent the imputation.

Simmer down, folks. It is my duty as a health adviser to teach people how to avoid the national malnutrition.

We Americans have boasted so much about our scale of living being higher than that of Europeans that many of us have lost sight of the fact that the people of Europe are at least as well-nourished and better-nourished, than we are.

BETTER NOURISHED

I mean to say the everyday diet of Europeans more adequately supplies the essentials required for good nutrition than the everyday diet of Americans does. This is especially true of the ordinary diet of growing children and adolescents.

The fundamental fault with the diet of American youngsters is the same as the fault with the diet of grownups, only more so. The diet contains a great excess of carbohydrate—not just natural carbohydrate but refined carbohydrate.

Carbohydrate (sugar, starch) is plentiful, cheap keeps long in storage, easy to ship near or far, easy to eat or drink even though you are not hungry or thirsty.

HIGH ON CALORIES

It yields as many calories per ounce or pound as protein (nitrogenous) food material does, such as egg white, cheese, lean meat.

It is easy to digest and a source of quick energy—this is why mountain climbers refresh themselves with chocolate bar, marathon runners with sweetened tea or coffee, distance swimmers with candy, and everybody with pop, sweetened fruit juice beverage, or ice cream soda.

★ ★ ★

Growing children or adolescents who indulge in refined carbohydrates at any time other than after a square meal—as dessert if the youngster is physically active enough to handle it, is so surfeited, as a rule, that he or she hasn't much appetite for real food—food that supplies not just calories but the protein (nitrogenous material), fat, vitamins, and minerals required for good nutrition.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 400 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Farmington Man Suggests Break With France, Britain

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As Americans we should all now realize that we have only one thing in common with England and France, and that one thing is our money.

We should break off diplomatic relations with Israel, England and France immediately and show the world that our only ally is peace. When three so-called peace loving nations gang up on one country for economic gain, it can only mean that our way of life is in serious threat of ending.

We must act now, fast and sure, or we may never have another chance.

Future of U.S. Railroads Still Hangs in the Balance

BY MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

One matter which the election didn't settle is the future of the U. S. railways.

But there is a solution, and it calls for a new approach by rail management and ownership, on the one hand, and the regulatory authorities, on the other.

I probed these subsurface matters with a keen student of transportation trends — William White, president of the Delaware & Hudson, and former president of the New York Central and before that of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western.

In view of existing realities, with the continuing big overall passenger deficits, White, as head of D & H, primarily a freight carrier, thinks he is in a relatively favorable position.

★ ★ ★

White told me that he did not believe that the railroads could find salvation solely through raising passenger fares and freight rates.

ALTERNATIVE PLAN

On the passenger side, as an alternative to the program for a 45 per cent increase in first-class fares, White believes that if competitive and parallel roads coordinate schedules and perhaps run some pooled passenger trains, for example, between New York and Chicago, the load factor can be enormously improved.

★ ★ ★

White's formula for further reducing the dangerous passenger deficits is to give terminal facilities solely used for railroad services tax-exempt status. He thinks that this approach is more practical than the exploratory suggestion that terminals be removed from urban centers to remote places.

In the longer future, White thinks that the railroads must rely primarily on freight for their earnings.

In order to play an appropriate role in the expanding economy of the United States, White thinks that the railroads must deal with the freight car shortage by adding 200,000 cars at once, and 400,000 more for replacement in the next five years.

Under existing costs and rates, White recognizes that earnings on new freight cars are insufficient to make the deal attractive—with the prospects being to earn only a little more than 3 per cent on the huge investment.

NOT HIGHER RATES

Here again, White does not think that the remedy lies in skyrocketing freight rates.

★ ★ ★

On the contrary, White urges that rail management have greater flexibility in setting attractive volume-building rates. He already sees the beginning of a trend in this direction.

Until recently, the regulatory authorities limited the business freedom of railroad management through a theory of sharing the total traffic with other modes of transportation. Now, there is a new disposition on the part of the regulatory authorities to approve low rail rates if it can be demonstrated that they make some reasonable contribution to overhead.

White thinks that regulation should not prevent competition from letting efficiency prevail. He is confident that rail freight is here to stay and prosper. His argument is that there is no other way that so much can be transported so quickly with so few men involved.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Describes Good Conversation Aid

Jerry's problem afflicts most men, whether old or young. If you ever get tongue-tied while on a date, you can profit from the "H-E-L-P" formula outlined below. It adds to your social assurance and banishes a lot of stage fright, so be sure you memorize it fully, regardless of age.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-317: Jerry B., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know how to carry on an interesting conversation," he began.

★ ★ ★

"When I am on a date, I can't think of anything to discuss. Oh, I mention the weather maybe two or three times.

"Then I clam up. And my girl remains quiet, too. So a long pause develops and it gets so embarrassing that I almost wish I could die.

"I need help badly. How can a fellow keep conversation rolling along smoothly?"

"H-E-L-P" FORMULA

In my college textbook on practical psychology, I included two specific formulas which can get you out of Jerry's difficulty.

The simpler or abbreviated plan consists of the key word "H-E-L-P", each letter of which refers to a different field of conversation.

★ ★ ★

So the next time you are in Jerry's shoes and feel like calling "HELP", just remember the "H-E-L-P" formula and you can then pull yourself out of trouble very gracefully.

That first letter "H" refers to "Hobbies." Casually ask your companion if she (or he) had any special hobbies in childhood? Did she play the piano or collect stamps, butterflies, bottle caps or pads of safety matches?

Did she like to cook or sew, sing or play the piano, etc?

Usually, you can get your companion conversing by a few such queries in this field, but if you find that "H" is a dud, then deftly move along to "E", which stands for "Entertainment."

Ask if she likes a stage play better than a movie version of the same plot. Find out if she prefers dancing to reading. Does she enjoy swimming or skating?

Does she relish attending a circus? Did she ever go horseback riding? How about hiking, canoeing, etc?

It usually provokes a readier response to offer two choices and thus let tyour companion select the one she prefers. For it is much easier to choose than to work up a logical argument in defense of some idea.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, don't offer a general query, such as: "What do you think of women drivers?"

Instead, ask: "Do you think women have as many auto accidents as men?"

COMIC BOOKS

Under the third heading, which is "L", we cover "Literature." But please remember that this includes comic books as well as Shakespeare.

Ask your companion if she ever used some of the better comic books in her English courses at high school. (My sons thus wrote book reviews of some of the great English novels from the comic book versions).

Ask her if she likes Dagwood & Blondie as well as Popeye or Li'l Abner? Let her list her favorite comics in order of preference.

Be casual in this task of uncovering her likes and dislikes and occasionally insert your own choices, too.

Then, as a final conversational "spare tire" you can always fall back upon "P", which covers the subject "Politics."

★ ★ ★

You don't need get involved in an argument, but ask if she thinks U.S. Senators should be limited to only two terms in office or should they be allowed to dominate such jobs for life, as some still do?

Ask if she thinks young people should be able to vote at 18? Does she consider it fair for American boys to be sent to their death on foreign battlefields if they are not old enough to vote for the Congressmen who declare our wars?

By memorizing this simple "H-E-L-P" formula, you can keep conversation flowing easily.

For more advice, send for my booklet "How to Carry on Interesting Conversation," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Atomic World Needs Understanding, Teacher Says

The world of the future whereer and the future it holds, Lindeveryday reliance will be on atomic energy for power, food preservation and the rest, will need understanding and wise use from the people who come in contact with it.

So says Victor Lindquist, Pontiac High School science instructor, who recently participated in a workshop on nuclear science.

Helping to organize methods suitable for teaching the ways and wherefores of this nuclear energy was the gathering purpose of the group of 39 science teachers who make up the workshop.

Lindquist was chosen by the State Department of Public Instruction to attend a week long session in Ann Arbor where visiting scientists famed for work in nuclear studies, passed on their ideas.

* * *

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education and the state education department in cooperation with Civil Defense, this Michigan workshop was one of three in the country devoted to determining and compiling teaching aids for courses in nuclear science. The other states participating in the project are Connecticut and California.

The workshop's direct purpose is to compile curriculum materials for high school study. The workshop group will meet monthly for a year to draw up suggestions and recommendations for teachers.

Eventually instructors will work nuclear material into their classes to acquaint students with this power and the future it holds, Lindquist said. Already science instructors have to work hard to keep up with changing times in the science field.

Possibility of setting up a course next semester for adults in Pontiac has been discussed. The course would be in cooperation with the local Civil Defense program and would teach students to read certain instruments which would indicate the amount of radioactivity in an area, he added.

Should such a course become an actuality, the Federal Government, through Pontiac Civil Defense, would donate some $1,000 worth of equipment to the local schools. The equipment would include a geiger counter, dosimeter, and ion detector.

"A whole new world opens up," Lindquist said, "with the University of Michigan Phoenix project going on now." This project is one which is discovering and developing peacetime uses for atomic energy.

"The experiments that are being conducted are tremendous," Lindquist said. "Medicine, social studies, law, food preservation and preparation will all eventually come to rely on forms of atomic energy. They are all involved with Phoenix study, too.

"The most important thing for us is to see the implications of this new age coming and to help people think in terms of it and to prepare for it," Lindquist added. "That's what our work group is trying to do."

Envoy to New Zealand Resigning for Judgeship?

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Local newspapers reported today that U. S. Ambassador Robert C. Hendrickson has resigned to accept a judgeship in the United States.

The American Embassy had no comment on the reports, which said Hendrickson would return home about the middle of December.

Hendrickson, a Republican, was a U. S. senator from New Jersey from 1948 to 1954.

Run Farm Themselves, Sisters Need No Help

BENSON, N. C. (AP)—Four sisters run a 27-acre farm near here with no need for "a man around."

Bessie Ellen, Lessie Elizabeth, Addie Mae, and Lilly Jane Tart have been operating the farm alone since a younger brother married and moved away 13 years ago. The women use mules and a tractor for planting, plowing and harvesting tobacco, cotton and corn. They built a concrete garage themselves to house their car.

The Tart sisters admit they sometimes call on male help in the summer tobacco harvesting season, but they hasten to explain that's just a temporary thing.

But Grownups Find the Going Rougher

Kids Collect Christmas Money Painlessly

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Kids always have had the best of it when it comes to earning spending money for Christmas presents.

This can be attributed to two primary factors. First, kids have so much imagination that they are endlessly inventing new methods for scrounging money out of chinchucking adults.

And kids are just naturally smart. They know that mama will be just as touched by a five-cent present as a half-dollar job — perhaps even more so. The littler the gift is, the littler the lad will seem to his mother; and no mother wants her child to grow up big at Christmastime.

I'll never forget my brother, pre-Yule season of 1926. He trugged around the neighborhood with a red wagon, empty as a busted piggy-bank, hollering "Iceman, Iceman! Who wantsa buy ice?"

* * *

Every housewife in a four-square-block area paid a penny a ton, just to see this small stinker with the imaginative head lug a load of imaginary ice into her kitchen.

ENOUGH FOR ALL

By the end of the day, weary from the exhausting business of transferring money from his palm to his pocket, Gordon came home and counted up his booty. He had enough for presents for the whole family.

* * *

For me, there was a caramel apple. For Mother and Dad, an oversized chocolate bar with almonds.

Inspired by this undeserved success, and curiously impressed with the ease of earning money, the following Christmas I opened a "beauty shoppe" in the guest room.

There, I mussed up the hairdos of my mother and her friends (imaginary shampoo), and then combed them out again (set), for two cents a head. No sister, especially aged 5, is going to be outmaneuvered monetarily by a brother.

* * *

This so challenged Gordon that he persuaded Mother to make lemonade for him to sell at three cents a glass. Which inspired me to read palms at four cents per encouraging prediction, and on and on . . .

Never need kids run short of money, as long as they remain small of stature and big of idea.

TOUGHER FOR ADULTS

It's tougher, though, as you grow up. Suddenly you have to work for your Christmas loot money.

No longer able to rely on freckles to win you candy bars for the folks, you suddenly must have brains and personality and good grooming in order to buy the costlier type presents which friends and family are accustomed to receiving in this greatly inflated world.

To help all the women who may be applying for the 21 million women's jobs in the U. S. this Christmas (at least 50,000 girls want to earn spare money in temporary positions), Janet Watson, vice prexy of Graham Accounting and Statistical "temporary" office workers, says:

"It's easy to get a job now on a temporary basis, because we're going through a period of such business activity that there are just about equally as many positions available as there are persons who want to earn extra money.

"All a person needs to get a part-time or temporary earning status is a neat, smart appearance, a measure of experience and a good head. Oh yes, and they must be over 18, of course, or they're not eligible to earn money.

* * *

"Ha! Tell that, Miss Watson, to those urchins selling transparent TV sets at 20 cents each. Or 25 cents, if the customer demands color.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A STAMP ZOO — 5
The Chimpanzee

The chimpanzee is a native of French West Africa, where a stamp showing his almost human face was issued in 1955.

A member of the ape family, the chimpanzee lives in the jungle. He has no tail and walks upright, but he usually travels by swinging from tree to tree by his hands. Of all animals he is most like man, and he has a high intelligence and is quick to learn.

Young chimpanzees are easily tamed, and can be trained to eat with knives and forks and to ride bicycles, but they cannot be taught to speak.

Use your crayons to color this picture, and make the border grayish-blue. Cut out the chimpanzee and cut away the open spaces in the background. Cut a little slit in his upraised hand as shown in the small sketch, and then he can swing, by the hand or his two feet, from the openings shown in the tree.

Fold the lower center panel forward and the two end panels under so the frame will stand.

(Junior Editors' $10 award goes to Carl Lozefski, Bristol, Conn., for sending in this suggestion first. If you have an idea send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Has Fiery Ambition

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—James Isbell, was fined $100 for putting out too many fires in his company's beautiful ultra-modern tower.

Isbell told the judge he liked the praise he received from his boss and his fellow employes when he put out a blaze that started accidentally, so he set a few fires of his own and extinguished them in hopes of winning more attention.

Study Seaway, Bankers Urged

Development Chief Says New Riverway Will Spur Shipping

CLEVELAND (AP)—The administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. today urged that "the banking fraternity" take the initiative in making studies of the seaway project which might help business leaders expand markets for their products.

* * *

Lewis G. Castle said in a talk prepared for a meeting of bankers, "since you gentlemen act as counselors and advisers to your many customers, it might be well for some members of your staff to examine the values of the St. Lawrence navigation project in the light of its advantages to industrial enterprise in your area."

He said that in Chicago estimates had been made that use of the St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled to open to navigation in the spring of 1959, could reduce shipping costs on lard to Antwerp by 38 per cent, automobiles to Rotterdam by 17 per cent and construction machinery to England by 20 per cent.

Castle predicted that with increasing traffic on inland waterways "a new form of transportation facility like the St. Lawrence Seaway should do no appreciable damage to the railways, the motor freighters on our highways, or the seaboard ports which have for so long handled large volumes of cargo tonnage."

TOURIST SPOT

Castle commented that among other benefits of the seaway will be the creation at Massena, N. Y., of a tourist spot which "should eventually equal in prominence and popularity the fascinating picture of nature's beauty at Niagara Falls." He said last summer more than 200,000 tourists visited the construction works for power and navigation projects at Massena.

As of today, said Castle, the United States and Canada each has finished about one-fifth of its part of the massive project. Men and machines are "working round the clock six days a week" to meet a target date of July 1958 for inauguration of 14-foot navigation and the generation of hydro-electric power, he added.

Fire Demonstration Was the Real McCoy

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Two firemen underlined the moral of their "you can't be too careful with fire" demonstration.

Gasoline used in the demonstration fired off the cue, raising painful facial blisters on Robert Nelms and Bill Lakey. The burns were not serious.

Fire chief Ruff Coleman, after shipping the men to a hospital for first aid, said he was certain the lesson got through to the audience.

Baltimore streets were lighted by gas as early as 1816.

Europe Limits Use of Fuels

Drivers Told to Reduce Consumption as Stocks Dwindle

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe kept a wary watch on its oil stocks today in preparation for possible sharp cuts in Middle East supplies if the Suez Canal stays blocked to world shipping.

* * *

Britain, France and Denmark announced measures to curtail private motoring and told industry to reduce consumption of diesel and fuel oil.

But other European nations said they had enough oil in store to get by for the next month or two without economy drives.

Some oil experts predicted Europe will have to start leaning heavily on reserves next week while awaiting the reopening of the canal and the arrival of tankers making the long and more costly voyage round the Cape of Good Hope from the Middle East fields.

In governmental actions, British motorists were urged to cut gasoline consumption by 2 gallons in 10. Prime Minister Eden's government told garages they would get 10 per cent less fuel from today. Industry also was told fuel oil supplies would be reduced by 10 per cent.

In France, motorists were told that beginning Saturday midnight all private cars will be restricted to the counties in which they are registered. Fuel oil will be allocated to major users on the basis of 70 to 80 per cent of last year's consumption.

* * *

Denmark took the strongest action. Its government ordered oil companies to reduce deliveries to consumers by 25 per cent. Fuel oil cuts also were ordered.

Suspect Officer Gives Buddies Food for Thought

DETROIT (AP) — Fellow officers saw Policeman Abe Baughman drive away from his Eastern Markep post with his car weighted down with food.

* * *

After a reported "shakedown" at the market, an investigating team followed Baughman, a Jewish Shriner, to a Catholic convent where he unloaded the food.

A quick check showed merchants at the market were giving Baughman food for the nuns. The investigating team helped him lug meat and baskets of produce into the convent.

At last count 30 policemen, armed with painting materials, were aiding Baughman in painting the aging building turquoise, aqua and canary yellow.

"We can only repay with our prayers all those who have helped us," said Mother Superior Mary Anthony.

Correct Puzzle Answers Clarified

The following are the correct answers and explanations for Puzzle No. 22 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. A FETE, or festival, when dancing is involved would certainly be accompanied by music. Whoever heard of planning a dancing party without some arrangement for music, even if canned? But we've all known cases when a couple in high spirits leap to their FEET and keep time to their own humming or singing, which might not be music!

2. POP is a delight for baby to play with: he's not usually around all day and it's a treat to see him. A Pup, being playful, likes to use his teeth and sometimes he's a little rough, which frightens Baby. As for Pap, babies are unlikely to be eating it after the spoon-fed stage. They're too young to be doing much playing and someone else is holding the spoon.

3. Dad's STUDY files must never be disturbed, even to clean them when Dusty. Hands off!

4. A boy who is a PAGE whose duty it is to run errands, etc. is usually young and out on his own at an early age. Often he works in his off hours from school. This kind of drive and ambition is frequently the background for success. A boy who is GAME, or plucky, often is considered so because of the courage he shows under a handicap — illness, or some crippling ailment, which does not permit him to make his own way in the world.

5. FURS are a lovely, soft frame for a pretty girl's face, and masculine eyes would certainly be attracted to such a fetching sight. A girl in the Surf is not visible much of the time; she's likely to be just a head (in a tight and unbecoming swimming cap) bobbing on the surface.

6. A BLANK look is certainly no good for an actor, who needs an expressive face. A Lanky man could well get roles that call for a lanky man.

7. A dictator's high-handed tactics would FAN or inflame the opposition to his regime. It would be the dictator himself, rather than his tactics, that would Ban opposition. Pan, in the sense of criticize is no good for the same reason, Can, in the slang sense of dismiss, is also awkward.

8. The DRAFT was the subject of dispute in the presidential campaign, when the Democratic nominee said it could be abolished in the forseeable future, and the Republican side said, in effect, What! And leave us with our defenses down? Trade is a wide subject and both parties are divided on whether it should be more, or less, restricted.

9. A new MODE is often introduced in glass stemware, so that old glasses with long thin stems, for example, will go out of fashion. A new Mold, in which the glasses are shaped, follows because of a change in style.

10. A JOLT means that the road is rough and our driver has to slow down to avoid bumping along. A Toll is usually on a fine big superhighway and the slowing down is temporary. Then away our speeder goes!

11. A FLIER needs a lot of skill indeed, with hours and hours of practice take-offs and landings, etc. Some people, with an accurate eye, can shoot a Rifle with astonishingly good aim after little practice.

12. BARREN ideas are dull and uninteresting, and who wants to listen to a speech like that? Brazen ideas are impudent, shameless, and often arouse indignation. But they also stir up controversy, and nobody would want to miss a word.

13. The principal OWNER in a small town is often the rich man who lives in the big house and Owns most of the property on Main Street. He may be much too busy to take an active part in politics, or build up any other type of Power.

14. A SPA is a health resort where people find curative qualities in the mineral waters natural to the locality. Patrons of such resorts, especially in the warm south, frequently find that a visit makes them feel much better. A warm Pat often takes you by surprise, or is too hearty, and you're just as likely to be annoyed as pleased.

15. A TWIST would involve the whole body of a trapeze artist and would therefore show off the performer's grace better than a movement of the Wrist, or the Waist.

16. ROUGES, important for make-up effects, would be most appropriate for discussion among theatrical people. No such limitation would apply to Rogues, whose activities could be disscussed in almost any circles.

Dem Control Power Up

Five House Seats Doubtful; Senate Count at 49-47

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats were within one seat today of carrying their present House voting strength into the new Congress, with prospects of adding most of the five races still undecided.

* * *

In the Senate, they enter the 85th Congress with the same 49-47 margin over Republicans they held in the present Congress.

Democrats led in four of the five House contests still hanging from Tuesday's election. Their final margin may have to await official canvasses later this month.

But ven without these, the Democrats were assured of at least 231 seats — 13 more than they need for control. In the expiring Congress they held 232 seats to 203 for the Republicans.

The GOP, with 199 House seats apparently won, awaited a recheck of the vote in New Jersey's 13th Dist., where Republican Norman Roth had an unofficial lead of only two votes over Rep. Alfred D. Sieminski, Democrat. Results may become official Tuesday.

The Democrats came out on top in two close contests decided late yesterday. Rep. W. H. Nacher (D-KY) defeated Republican R. B. Blankenship, and Democrat Charles H. Brown unseated the veteran Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo), senior GOP member of the House Armed Services Committee.

Nebraska 3rd — Rep. Robert D. Harrison (R); Lawrence Brock (D).

Washington 4th — Rep. Hal Holmes (R); Frank Leroux (D).

The Democrats came out on top in two other close contests decided late yesterday. Rep. W. H. Natcher (D-KY) defeated Republican R. B. Blankenship, and Democrat Charles H. Brown unseated the veteran Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo), senior GOP member of the House Armed Services Committee.

Meantime, Democrats continued to challenge the apparent close victory of Rep. Hale (R-Maine) in that state's Sept. 10 election.

The Senate margin was determined when a see-saw Kentucky race ended in victory for Thurston B. Morton, former assistant Earl C. Clements, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate.

New Polish Crisis Looms as Soviets Mass at Border

LONDON (INS) — Soviet troops were reported massing on the borders of Poland yesterday, possibly for an attack on the Titoist government of Premier Vladyslaw Gomulka.

The reports of major Soviet troop movements along the Polish borders came from several Warsaw sources.

The London Daily Express learned that nine divisions, including tank divisions, had concentrated at two crossings over the River Bug which forms the eastern frontier with Russia.

The new forces were believed to have increased the number of Soviet divisions surrounding Poland to 31. An estimated eight Russian divisions are based in Poland.

* * *

The Paris newspaper France Soir, which carried similar reports, said an attack made Monday on Gomulka and the Polish Communist Party by French Red leader Etienne Fajon was believed to have been inspired by Moscow.

SEEN AS SIGNAL

The newspaper said this was a signal that the Kremlin is preparing to oust Gomulka as it did Imre Nagy for seeking too much independence in Poland.

The London Daily Telegraph reported that several, if not all, normal frontier crossing points into Poland have been closed.

The Telegraph said highly reliable Polish sources in Warsaw reported entry points had been closed on the Russian border for the past two or three days.

The reported massing of troops was said to be in addition to heavy traffic of Red Army units across Poland to Eastern Germany during the past five days.

Tells of New Drugs to Fight Diphtheria

DETROIT (INS)—Dr. M. Z. Bierly Jr., told the annual gathering of the Michigan Academy of General Practice in Detroit yesterday that a new type of drug containing two toxoids promises protection from diphtheria outbreaks such as the one now occurring in Detroit.

He said the new shots are not available to the public yet, except in Massachusetts, but they are being used by the armed services.

Dr. Bierly said the new shots presumably will be released for general use "later," but declined to guess how soon. Manufacturers reportedly are "barely able to keep up with the military demand."

Education Week, Magazine Drives Tops at Schools

Magazine drives in the junior high schools throughout Pontiac are getting well under way, as are Education Week plans.

AT MADISON

One homeroom in every grade has gone over the $6 per student quota set as goal in this year's magazine drive. Thomas Shara's homeroom boasts 162 per cent so far and 100 per cent participation. They were feted at lunch yesterday at Devon Gables.

Top homerooms in the sales drive will see Cinerama in Detroit.

In a mock election last week students named Eisenhower president and Williams governor, reflecting the choice of seasoned voters.

There will be an open house Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. to observe National Education Week.

The Future Farmers Club planted tulips in the open court this week.

AT LINCOLN

The annual magazine campaign got off to a fine start on Thursday morning with the first money turn-in of the ten-day drive. Money earned from the subscriptions will be used to buy needed school equipment.

Several parties are adding to the social life of the school as Myrtle Meabon's homeroom entertained guests at a dancing party in the gym; Room 119 had a picnic dinner and social evening at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Mildred Wiersema; Paul Atkins' homeroom had a bowling party; and the Hi-Y sponsored by Bill Sturgeon had a swim at the YMCA after school.

Lincoln is looking forward to Open House on Nov. 19, when parents and friends of the school visit all rooms and all teachers to acquaint themselves with school activities.

AT EASTERN

On Tuesday morning Eastern's annual magazine drive was launched at a double assembly at which Joe Shields of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. was present to explain the plan by which students and their homeroom teachers might win attractive prizes.

While voters filed in to vote at Eastern's back door on Nov. 6, the PTSA took advantage of the occasion and set up shop in a storeroom next to the voting precinct where they displayed cookies, pies, and cakes.

AT JEFFERSON

Jefferson's 9th Grade team wound up its successful football season by defeating Crary Junior High by a score of 12-0 on Wednesday. Dick Craig's Warriors have been undefeated this season and have won the junior high championship as well as their outside games.

Jefferson's first newspaper is being planned with the appointments of the editor and the staff representing all departments and organizations of the school.

The Student Council is sponsoring the project with the assistance of Kay Burton of the English Department, Nella Conroy of the business education classes, and Phyllis Carless, school librarian.

AT ROCHESTER

Junior High School students have started full day classes since the high school students have moved to their new school. A new activity period has been added to use for club meetings or homeroom sessions.

The Latin Club met this week to make plans for plays they hope to sponsor in the school.

AT WASHINGTON

American Education Week will be observed at Washington Junior High School all next week by students, faculty and parents. Parents have been invited to visit school at any time.

A special feature of the week will be Open House on Tuesday evening, at 8 p.m.

* * *

Parents will assemble in the auditorium where a short indoctrination program will better acquaint them with the aims, objectives, and activities of the Junior High School in the total educational program of the children. Following this parents will take their child's place in the classroom going through his daily schedule and thus meeting all his teachers.

AT BLOOMFIELD HILLS

A book fair is on the agenda for Bloomfield Hills High School students during the day Monday.

The school's PTO will display books suitable for gifts and personal use as well as donations to the school library.

An evening session at the book fair will be open for parents. Orders will be taken by the librarian.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale juniors are laying the groundwork for the Sadie Hawkins dance to be held Nov. 30, in the gym. Judy Ward and Glenna Dyer have been appointed co-chairmen of the decorations committee.

The Jacket football team travels to Rochester for the final game of the season tonight.

Joy Owen was chosen president of the Future Nurses Club at its last meeting. Zydell Hysmith was elected vice president with Mary Guinn secretary-treasurer.

Girls basketball tryouts were held this week with nearly 40 girls turning out. Jacquelyn LeBeau, this year's girl's coach, has six girls returning from last year's team.

Boy's basketball practices will start Monday and Coach Dick Bye is expecting a large turnout.

The first issue of the school paper, Yel-O-Jac, came out Wednesday and was well received.

AT WALLED LAKE

Plans are being completed for the celebration of American Education Week, next week in the Walled Lake High School.

Among the high lights for the week are a special assembly scheduled for Wednesday, which will emphasize in music and choral reading the rights, duties and privileges of citizenship.

The public has been invited to the program which will begin at 10 a.m.

Other features which parents are invited to attend are the Inter-Lakes discussion meeting at 3:15 on Monday, when students from Farmington, Southfield, Waterford, Walled Lake, and possibly Oak Park will discuss "What kind of farm program best meets the needs of America?"

AT LAKE ORION

Yesterday ValJoan Urban was chosen by the senior girls as their choice for representative of Lake Orion High at the Wolverine Girl's State.

Open house Tuesday will involve many students. The three bands, two glee clubs are in the program, and the Y Teens, Student Council, and Future Homemakers are combining to make it a special event for parents who are invited to have teacher consultations, examine the school structure and if they haven't done so, become charter members of the PTA.

Cheerleaders Prepare for Game Tomorrow Night

By MARGARET DRAKE

Cheer leaders at St. Frederick have been working extra hard this week for the last football game of the season to be held Saturday night.

Ardith Green, cheerleader club president, states that work is already under way for pre-basketball season practice.

Yearbook meetings are in full swing with a great deal being accomplished at the meeting held on Tuesday evening at the home of Pat Smith.

A mock election was held at St. Fred on Tuesday and it is surprising how it tallied with the national choice.

Parents of the grade school students will meet with the faculty on Sunday afternoon for an informal meeting to review the work and to receive report cards.

Girls basketball practice begins this month and an announcement was made by our athletic director, Father Fabian Weber that Joan Mazza will return as coach.

Fete Families Tonight

The Lake Orion-Holly game tonight will be "Family Night" for the Lake Orion varsity squad. Each boy's family will wear the numbers corresponding to their son's and sit near the playing field.

Evangelist Eyewitness to Hungary Revolt

(The Rev. J. B. Kennedy of Birmingham, Ala. was in Hungary on an evangelical mission when the revolt against the Russians broke out. The 28-year-old Methodist evangelist was also one of the drivers of the American Legation convoy that was stopped by Russian troops for two days in an attempt to leave Hungary. He returned to the U.S. today and the following is his own story of the outbreak of the revolt and the heroism of children who fought against the Russians.)

By REV. J. B. KENNEDY

(Written expressly for INS)

Even the children fought in the Hungarian revolt against the Russians.

I saw them on the streets of Budapest, 12-year-olds boys with machine-guns, 10-year-olds fighting tanks. I saw boys of nine and ten tying land mines to strings and seesawing the strings across the streets until they caught a Russian tank on the mine.

The young people started the revolt; the adults finished it.

It began with a peaceful demonstration of young students and young workers; I don't think they meant to revolt. I saw them marching down the main street and singing in Petoff Square.

It was a demonstration against government policies and they didn't do anything beyond trying to pull down a bronze statue of Stalin.

The Russians moved in tanks. The Red soldiers fired without provocation, and everything went wild.

The Hungarians broke into the arsenal and grabbed weapons. I saw one boy crying because his uncle had snatched his machine-gun to fight. The boy wanted to fight too. All the children did.

GIRL GETS TANK

The first Russian tank is supposed to have been knocked out by a 13-year-old girl. She ran up to the tank with old clothes in one hand and a torch in the other. She stuffed burning rags into the tank opening, but her own clothes caught on fire. She burned to death.

After that first fighting, the Hungarians really thought they had won. Everybody believed they were free. I had gone back to Vienna after the first fighting and my Hungarian friends asked me to come back; to arrange for more evangelists.

I went back on Nov. 1 and found the people puzzled, angry. They couldn't understand why we weren't helping them. They felt there had been promises that if they started a revolution the U. S. would help them as we helped Tito.

I found the American Legation pulling out of Budapest. There were about five cars, about 15 families in all — women and 12 children. I drove one of the cars.

RUSSIANS SAY NO

We drove to Hegeshalon on the border of Austria and they turned us back with a "nyet." We went back to Budapest in the snow and tried again the next day.

This time they sent us to Magyarovar, a town of 5,000 a few miles from the border on the road to Vienna. The Hungarians put us in a school, gave us their food and their beds.

We watched them negotiate with the Russians. The Russian colonel promised that if the Hungarians didn't shoot, he would take no action.

I watched his promise melt in blood. At 4 a.m. the Russians moved in three tank divisions. They put guards at our doors and interned us for two days.

The Hungarians around us didn't fight. They were afraid to for our sakes because we were their friends. They showed us why—in the hospital. The secret police in Magyarovar had thrown grenades into unarmed crowds. I saw one little eight-year-old girl with her legs blown off. She wasn't crying because she had done something for the revolution.

We were permitted to leave on Nov. 5. Fighting in the town we left started as soon as we were safely out.

Selling Off Bull Calf Not Bully for Farmer

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Stanley Clifford, dairy farm operator, thinks it would have been cheaper if he just hadn't sold that Jersey bull calf.

Clifford sent the calf to a nearby sales barn to be auctioned off and the calf was sold.

However, Clifford got a bill for hauling the calf to the barn and for the sales barn's commission. He wound owing 50 cents.

Bob Considine Says:

Members of This Society Must Be Heroes

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show . . .

There are no honorary memberships in a club which begins a five-day meeting in Lakeland, Fla., today. Membership is achieved the hard way. Many of those who normally would be eligible are dead.

It is the first meeting of the Congressional Medal of Honor Society of the United States, Inc.

Possession of the medal, so carefully and sometimes grudgingly given, is a requirement of membership. Of the 320 known living recipients, 176 are members of the society.

"We have no axes to grind, political, legislative or otherwise," says Richard W. O'Neill, Medal of Honor winner from World War I and the society's executive director.

* * *

"As recipients, we don't consider ourselves entitled to a status any different from that of other soldiers, sailors, Marines or airmen," he continues.

"Rather, our society takes the position that by the fortunes of war on the human side and the sufferance of God on the spiritual side, we were the chosen shield-bearers for the only real heroes of any war—our dead who sleep under the white crosses."

WON BY 3,156

Exactly 3,156 men have won the Medal of Honor since it was established during the Civil War. First listed winner was Col. Bernard J. D. Irwin, U. S. Army, born in Ireland and decorated for bravery in a hand-to-hand conflict with Apaches on Feb. 14, 1861, in a porton of what is now Arizona.

* * *

The only father-son winners were Arthur and Douglas MacArthur, the former at Missionary Ridge, the latter at Bataan and Corregidor.

The only chaplain is Father Joe O'Callaghan of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., who won it in the course of a Kamikaze attack on the carrier Franklin during World War II.

President of the society is one of the great air officers of our time, Lt. Gen. Leon W. Johnson, who led them in low-level bombing formation over Ploesti.

* * *

Members of the board, all medal winners, are Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, Adm. Oscar C. Badger, who served his country steadfastly from Vera Cruz to the trouble with the Red Chinese, and Lt. Gen. George P. Hayes.

First order of business at Lakeland: Establish an education foundation for the benefit of families of medal winners and especially of the families of those legions of winners who did not survive their collossal courage.

REALLY RUSSIAN

In a midnight broadcast the Budapest Radio announced that Dr. Peter Kos was reinstated as Communist Hungary's permanent delegate to the United Nations.

The real name of Dr. Peter Kos is Leo Konductorow. He is a Soviet citizen.

If there is a better show on Broadway than "Auntie Mame," or a more winning actress than Roz Russell, I'll eat one of her daffy hats without salt.

Nice man named Dr. William M. Mann, long-time director of the National Zoological Park in Washington, D. C., has reached the retirement age, but has been named director emeritus, the animals will be happy to learn.

Doc is one of those zoo directors who became as much beloved as the denizens of his pleasant jungle. He was an insect man to start with and when he was appointed some doubt was expressed about how he'd handle the lions, tigers and boas.

* * *

But through the years he bred all sorts of wild beasties, nursed sick chimps and penguins, sat up with restless elephants and caribou.

The author of the delightful "Anthill Odyssey" should write another. If he doesn't, some grateful four-legged ward will write one about him.

Armed Forces: 'Be Alert' U. S. Military Chiefs Tell

WASHINGTON (INS) — U. S. military commands throughout the world, including Naval forces and atomic bombers, are alerted today to meet any threat growing out of the crises in eastern Europe and the Middle East.

* * *

Defense Department officials said the order was issued last week, when the Suez and Hungarian situations grew tense, as a precaution against the possible outbreak of a major war and to prevent any new Pearl Habor.

The swift actions included cancellation of some naval and Strategic Air Command maneuvers, sending a powerful naval task force into the Atlantic, and placing more Air Defense Command fightegs on alert in the United States.

The joint chiefs have been meeting twice a day since the military actions began last week. One member, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, cut short an inspection tour of Europe and the Middle East to return to Washington.

TAYLOR ON WAY

Gen. Taylor, who had reached Turkey, is expected to join the strategy talks at the Pentagon today.

The principal decisions reached by the military chiefs were said to have been these:

1. The U.S. must take no chances of being caught napping as it was at Pearl Harbor.

2. The U.S. must be prepared to counter any Russian military moves outside the Communist orbit. These range from possible Soviet intervention in the Middle East to atomic attacks on the U.S. itself.

3. Major U.S. commands at home and overseas should be advised to keep "maximum forces" available for "possible redevelopment" in the present crisis.

The preparedness moves were taken after Russia threatened to use force to achieve a settlement in the Middle East and President Eisenhower sternly warned the Soviets not to interfere.

The Navy, however, said the ship movements were ordered before Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin sent the Russian note to Britain and France last Monday.

But a spokesman conceded that the action was taken because normal exercises would have "spread our forces more than we like in a time of crisis."

SHIPS DISPATCHED

The Naval forces dispatched "somewhere in the Atlantic" include the 60,000-ton super-carrier Forrestal, which left Mayport, Fla., yesterday to join the 45,000-ton carrier F. D. Roosevelt, the cruiser Des Moines and at least a dozen destroyers.

Thirteen tankers are being removed from "mothballs" within the next 30 to 60 days to meet the "increased need" for oil supply ships.

Air Force headquarters said Gen. Curtis LeMay's Strategic Air Command has halted routine training exercises to keep its big atomic bombers in constant emergency "readiness."

* * *

The post-election military view of the flareups overseas indicated that the situation was taken more seriously by the joint chiefs than they were willing to admit previously.

Both the Air Force and Navy emphasized that neither President Eisenhower nor Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson ordered the "readiness alert." Action was taken, they said, by the joint chiefs.

A WELL-PLANNED SCENE — Months of casework study have gone into this scene. Catholic Family Center Social Worker Kathleen Foy is shown handing an infant over to its adoptive parents. The center has thoroughly studied the resources and fitness of the adoptive parents. Adoption is only one of the many services of the Catholic Family Center. Its community service program is supported by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Your Contribution Helps

Catholic Family Center Aided by UF

Ofttimes troubles seem to melt at the Catholic Family Center, a Pontiac Area United Fund sponsored agency at 53 Franklin Blvd.

Members of the faith find trained social workers there to help solve marital difficulties, family troubles and personal problems.

Fair-share support by the UF means that wise counsel is provided free, if necessary. The center is financed mostly by the Detroit Archdiocesan Development Fund.

With knowledge of human relations and behaviour, the case worker helps the client to understand his situation and to do some thing about it.

* * *

There's an important extra element at the center, also.

That is religious faith. Case workers help clients apply religion to daily problems, help them use spiritual means to make adjustments.

Catholics turn to their family center for help just as members of other faiths turn to Oakland County family service.

The center gave great attention to finding homes for unfortunate children.

Its aid is valuable when one parent has died, or families find it impossible to keep or care for a child. Foster care or adoption often is the solution.

* * *

The center makes arrangements for children of unwed mothers.

It helps send youngsters to summer camp when financial restrictions otherwise would interfere.

Nor are the aged ignored. The center also finds a constructive solution when old folks feel a burden to their children.

A series of interviews tries to deal with alcholism. The family center, like Alcoholics Anonymous, Problem children and problem parents both come under the center's ken. Advice about money matters, housing, employment—the center deals in problems like these: not earth-shaking, but family-shaking.

The Pontiac office serves a wide area. There are other offices in Detroit and in Port Huron.

The center is directed by Leonard Jagels. It is one of 54 community service agencies supported by your United Fund.

Red Air Force Not Poised

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, alert to the recent shifting of Soviet forces behind the Iron Curtain, so far has discovered no sign of any movement of the Reds' long-range air force into position where it could attack North America.

* * *

Such an ominous move would foreshadow general nuclear war.

And in these trigger-tense days, the United States is being ultra-cautious about making any shifts of its own Strategic Air Command units that might be misunderstood by the Kremlin.

In discussing the Russian long-range force, which now consists of medium and heavy bombers by the hundreds, one informed Pentagon officer said today that "so far as we know they are not poised."

He hastened to add that the United States didn't know a Japanese carrier force was en route in 1941 until bombs hit Pearl Harbor. But he made it plain that the devices of intelligence now are somewhat more reliable.

The Russian leaders, of course, might try to invade Western Europe—if they were so inclined—without using atomic weapons, thus inducing the Western powers to abstain also from nuclear explosives.

If American strategy makers could learn the real reason for the Russian troop movements, their own planning would be easier. They are giving full attention to the possibility that Russian concern about new uprisings among the satellites, not any thought of war against the west, is back of the shifting of powerful army forces.

One Pentagon officer, talking about the prospect of outbreaks in Communist-controlled East Germany, Poland or Czechoslovakia, commented that the Russians have reason to know better than anyone else the fighting capabilities of those people.

This, then, could be the chief reason for Soviet deployment of up to 10 divisions in the area of the Polish border and a score or more divisions in East Germany, he reasoned.

A Joint Chiefs of Staff spokesman disclosed on Wednesday that because of uncertainty about the basis for Soviet troop movements, the Russian talk about intervention in the Middle East fighting and other manifestations of tension, U.S. commanders have been instructed to take certain precautionary steps.

One of them was to call off a routine training maneuver by naval forces and instead assemble the big carriers, cruisers, destroyers and other warships at sea off the Virginia coast.

Local Proposals Okayed by Majority

The vote on the two local propositions on Tuesday's ballot was officially canvassed last night by the City Commission.

Final figures shower 11,675 voted to permit Pontiac police and firemen to live outside the city limits as far as 10 miles from the intersection of Saginaw and Huron streets. The "no" vote on this issue was 4,330.

On the proposal to increase the Police Trial Board membership from five to seven members, the "yes" vote was 11,026 as against 3,786 that voted against the amendment to the City Charter.

Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the final count of voters in Tuesday's election was 31,416 instead of the original 31,420 reported by her office.

Other action taken up by commissioners included approval of a State Highway Dept. request that the city agree to prohibit parking on Perry street in order that work may begin on the street's widening.

City Manager Walter K. Wilman explained that it will not become effective until the job is done. He added it was necessary as federal aid was involved in the project.

No action was taken to purchase two lots at Williams and Pike street upon the request of Mayor William W. Donaldson.

The lots are to be the first purchased by the city in the block across from Pontiac High School which is slated to be used for cultural or educational purposes.

Action is expected next Tuesday, Donaldson said.

An agreement for paving in the Chambers-Bowen Subdivision was approved, as well as a deed for 23 lots in the Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision.

A future policy for aiding builders in the city in knowing sidewalk grades prior to construction, was referred to City Attorney William A. Ewart for drafting.

Commissioners concurred with a City Planning Comimssion recommendation to rezone two lots to Commercial 2 usage in the Homestead Park No. 1 Subdivision.

Referred to Willman was a request from the Board of Education that the city extend its water mains to reach two new elementary schools, one on Bay street and the second north of Kennett road.

But How About Snoring?

Animals' Sleeping Habits Take On Varied Patterns

When nature rings the bedtime bell, members of the animal kingdom retire in wonderfully different ways.

Some creatures sleep standing, for they are not built to lie down comfortably. Others, prone from birth to death, cannot close their eyes. Some animals apparently never know the deep slumber enjoyed by mankind. Yet, in its own way, every creature gets the physiological rest necessary to its welfare, the National Geographic Society says.

* * *

South American sloths take rest to an extreme. Hanging upside down in damp tropical forests, these tree dwellers doze 18 hours a day and appear half asleep even when awake. They move so slowly that a mosslike green alga grows in their fur.

On the other hand, ruminants such as cows and sheep sleep very little, if at all. In repose the cud chewers keep the thorax upright, seldom lying down flat. Physiologists believe there may be a connection between the animals' wakefulness and their digestion.

African elephants sleep erect. On reaching cumbersome maturity, adults of this species may remain standing the last 30 or 40 years of their lives. This no doubt accounts for the old belief that elephants had no joints in their legs. Actually, African elephants can kneel and lie down but they prefer to remain aloft on their sturdy limbs.

HORSES PREFER STANDING

In contrast, Asiatic elephants favor recumbent sleep. They normally take their rest in two shifts, say from about 10 a.m. to midafternoon, and from 11 p.m. to 3 a.m.

Horses, like African elephants, rest better afoot. When a horse is lying down, its weight cramps the muscles and restricts the under lung. As a horse dozes off, a muscular reaction locks the leg joints in place.

* * *

A similarly remarkable action clamps a sleeping bird onto a limb. As the weight of the bird's body bends the ankle joints, tendons automatically force the toes into a tight curve. Asleep, the bird keeps its balance—even in a stiff wind.

Snakes, having fixed eyelids, cannot blink or close their eyes. They rest lightly, remaining instantly alert to moving objects.

Fishes' eyes, similarly, are ever open. But at bedtime, fish may settle to the bottom of a stream or aquarium, seemingly wrapping themselves in rest, retreating inwardly from their watery world.

DO WHALES SLEEP?

Sleeping habits of whales remain a mystery. The fact that many have been struck by ships at night, however, suggests that these vigorous, intelligent mammals require deep rest comparable to that of man. Perhaps they, like sea cows, simply turn over and float like logs.

* * *

Members of the monkey family love comfort. Each orangutan builds its own bedlike platform of branches and leaves in a tree. If rain should fall, it covers up with leaves. Orangutans hate to get up.

Young gorillas and some females build tree nests. But adult males, weighing up to 600 pounds, get too heavy to climb. They're apt to gather a crude nest of leaves at the foot of a tree, lean back against the trunk, and call it a day.

The Height of Crime

BURLEY, Idaho (AP)—It shouldn't be hard for Drummond Hoggan to find the thief who stripped a pair of trousers from an advertising dummy outside his clothing store here.

One clue: The pants are seven feet long.

Still Smells Same

Over 1,800 Have Contributed to Project

Needlework Guild Collects Clothing

"The Charity Which Helps Other Charities"

For 44 years the Pontiac Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc., has been helping with charitable projects.

• • •

Yesterday's Ingathering held at First Presbyterian Church proved that this organization may well claim its slogan, "The Charity Which Helps Other Charities."

More than 1,800 members have contributed to this project of collecting clothing for hospitals, welfare agencies, missions and various homes.

When people are approached to give to the worthy project, they are asked to furnish two items of the same size such as mittens, dresses, gloves, etc., for needy and underprivileged people.

• • •

"One to wash and one to wear," the members say as they go about gaining new members. This answers the question of "Why two?"

60TH ANNIVERSARY

The national organization is celebrating its 60th year of collecting for this annual Ingathering. Throughout the country members have watched the eyes of little girls sparkle to new and pretty dresses; they've seen little boys happy with their warm, sturdy jackets.

Men and women in convalescent hospitals have welcomed the knitted bed socks and bed jackets that so many have thought to give.

Only new articles are accepted by Needlework Guild as it attempts to lift the morale of the recipient, to give him a feeling of hope and courage.

• • •

Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, president of the Pontiac Branch, received members at the Ingathering Thursday morning.

Fellow officers are Mrs. Arthur H. Harrington, first vice president; Mrs. Chauncey G. Burke, second vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Furlong, third vice president, and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, fourth vice president.

OTHER LEADERS

Other officers are Mrs. A. J. Michal, secretary; Mrs. Donald A. Nicholie, assistant secretary, and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson, treasurer.

• • •

Among the local agencies assisted by Needlework Guild are Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Oakland County Health Department, Oakland County Family Center, Pontiac General Hospital, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Michigan Children's Aid Society and the Pontiac Visiting Nurses Association.

Others include the Oakland County Children's Home, Oakland County Contagious Hospital, Salvation Army, American Red Cross, Oakland County Juvenile Court and Oakland County Convalescent Hospital.

For the coffee hour held at the Ingathering, members of the Queen Mary Section served British pastries.

• • •

All members of this section are of British, Welsh, Irish and Scottish descent. Mrs. George Bickley was chairman assisted by Mrs. Alex Joss and Mrs. Henry Milligan.

Youngsters Should Ask Permission

It's Bad Manners to Leave the Table Without Excuse

By EMILY POST

We have two young children — a boy and a girl — and we are trying to teach them good manners. I always insist that they ask permission to leave the table after they have finished eating, but my husband thinks I am carrying manners a little too far by demanding this.

"He says it is not at all necessary. Will you please tell me if a well-brought up child is supposed to ask permission before leaving the table?"

Answer: Very definitely it is necessary that the children be taught to say "Please excuse me." To leave the table without saying anything would be really bad manners.

Dear Mrs. Post: A woman I know asks me to lunch with her occasionally in a restaurant. She does not believe in tipping. I can't understand why as she is a very generous person in every other way.

I, on the other hand, am a generous tipper and I am embarrassed to death to leave the table without giving a tip to the waiter. Would it be proper for me to leave the tip, and how can I do this without offending her?"

Answer: No matter how much you would like to, you cannot possibly leave a tip as this would criticize and surely offend your friend.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have no home of my own, so what do you suggest as the nicest way to return dinner invitations and weekend invitations of my friends? The expense of taking these people to good restaurants would be prohibitive."

Answer: It is not ever necessary to return invitations in kind — sometimes not even necessary to return them at all. If you feel really indebted to certain friends, you could on occasion send flowers to the hostess, take candy for the family or give amusing toys to the children.

Honored at Shower

Fourteen guests attended the recent pink and blue shower for Mrs. John Gaves. Hostesses were Mrs. L. N. Hawkins and Mrs. Lee Miller. The affair was held at the Miller home on Sunderland street.

Exercises Will Improve Bustline

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I lost 8 pounds and it seems that a good part of it came off my bustline. Can you give me an exercise which will put 2 inches back on it quickly? I am really in a great hurry."

A. The only two ways to increase the bust measurement are to gain the weight back or to develop the chest muscles. The bust does usually reflect a loss of weight.

If you will do the chest-developing exercises faithfully you probably will see some change in a month's time, but it may take several months to obtain the measurement you want.

I have given bust exercises recently in the column. If you or any of my other readers would like to have my bust-developing exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Q. "I have a problem. I am 16 years old and I have a sister who is 18. I really am not bad looking. I have a nice figure and no awful features. However, it just happens that my sister is really beautiful.

"I find myself lashing out at her and being mean and that is not really the way I am. I have thought it over and I think I am jealous, and I hate being that way. I really do not begrudge her her beauty but it is a lot of competition for me. All she has to do is to look at a man and he falls flat on his face."

A. I think you must be quite a wonderful person and it is especially surprising to find such emotional maturity in one so young. It is perfectly natural for you to feel some envy over your sister's beauty. However, what you have is so much more important than physical perfection. You evidently have emotional perfection.

Remember that many of the most famous and fascinating women of all time have not been beauties. They have had warmth and style and understanding and wit.

The beautiful woman really has a handicap because she is so apt to rely on that alone, to become spoiled or to fail to develop her personality. I think your sister might well envy you. Be yourself and forget about your sister's good looks!

* * *

Q. "My eyebrows are getting very thin. I used to have heavy ones but now in my late 40s they are thinning rapidly. What can I do?"

A. People differ in such matters. The tendency is to gradual thinning of the brows. However, many persons keep a heavy brow until they leave this world. I suggest that you have a physical checkup because there are some systemic conditions which contribute to the thinning brow.

Tomorrow: "Treat Hands With Care — Follow Five Measures."

From this position, make circles with the elbows. This and other chest-developing exercises may be obtained by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope and your request for leaflet No. 7. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mrs. Hamerman's unshakable conviction that Israel's future is intimately related to the larger, worldwide struggle for democracy always gives her presentations a timeliness and urgency which make them colorful and interesting.

Sugar Cooky Is Plain; Will Please

Mrs. Neville Shares Recipe From Camp for Dunkers in Milk

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Clifford Neville sent us her very most favorite cookie recipe. It was given to her, she says, by "an old woman who used to cook for loggers in Northern Michigan." It makes a plain, soft sugar cookie that will delight to both young and old.

* * *

With two of her children grown up and married, Mrs. Neville keeps busy with a Brownie age daughter. She is on the board of the Wisner PTA and works many hours in the Girl Scout organization.

Wise Mom Knows When to Set Her Children Free

BY RUTH MILLETT

It's a smart mother who knows when to let go of a son or daughter and say, "Okay, try it your way. It may be better than mine."

* * *

That thought was brought home by a letter from a widowed, working mother who has put her daughter through two years of college and has seen her begin her first job.

She writes: "Susy, who will soon be 20, is through with her studies and has become a secretary in a local office. Today is payday—her first.

"Eager to see her get off on the right foot, I juggled figures in the evenings, allowing so much for her clothing, insurance, cosmetics, recreation, gifts—just like the experts.

"I always had to operate on a pretty strict budget and I thought it would help if I could work out a budget for inexperienced Susy.

SHOCKET AND HURT

"But do you know what? Susy will have know part of my budget today. I think I was shocked at first and a little hurt.

* * *

"She said simply and sweetly, 'Mother, I know you want to help me and I know you mean well. But you sent me to college for two years because you said you wanted me to be independent. I think I can handle my own money. If I'm broke on Monday morning that's my fault, but I don't think I will be.

'Anyhow, let me try managing my own paycheck and, if in a few weeks, I see that I'm on the wrong track, I'll be the first to admit it and then you and I will talk budget.'

* * *

"Susy's grown up. I'm just a little slow to accept it, I can see. The listings for her budget today—clothing, cosmetics, gifts—will change to utilities, food and taxes in another few years. But I have an idea she'll be able to have cash on hand when she needs it, for she'll learn not from accepting my method but from working out her own."

* * *

That is a real excellent example of a mother's knowing when to let go. She sees clearly that having children grow into complete independence is a triumph for the parent, not a tragedy.

FDR's Sons Compare Ike to Father; Give Reasons for Landslide Victories

By International News Service

"They both had the confidence of the American people."

That's the way two sons of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt explained in interviews with International News Service the tremendous election victories of both their father and President Eisenhower.

* * *

Rep. James Roosevelt, who bucked the GOP landslide, and was re-elected in California's 26th district, added however, that there was "one interesting difference."

"My father," he said, "was able to carry a Democratic congress with him so that his basic political philosophy could be carried out."

Elliot Roosevelt, at his winter home in Phoenix, Ariz., denied there was anything "magical in the vote-getting potential" of the two men who have scored the greatest personal victories in American political history.

He said his four-times-elected father and Mr. Eisenhower "had a tremendous ability to reach out to the people and receive their unbounding confidence."

He added that both men apparently had this ability in "far greater measure than any of their opponents," and that Adlai E. Stevenson "very definitely lacks this ability."

TALKED SIMPLY

Elliot also said the two presidents "had the ability to express the facts the people wanted to know in terms all of us could understand."

As for the campaign techniques of the champion Democratic and Republican vote-getters, James said:

"My father would generally wait until the last three or four weeks of the campaign and put most of the emphasis in that period. Mr. Eisenhower seems to have done the same thing"

* * *

He also compared the two men's use of television and radio, saying:

"We didn't have television in those days, but Mr. Eisenhower made great and very effective use of the TV medium.

"In a similar way, my father made use of the radio and perhaps the two men were alike in that they both gave to the people the feeling of close intimacy with the individual concerned."

James maintained, however, that while Americans voted for "both the principles of the Democratic party and for my father, I think it is obvious that this time they were voting for Ike personally.

They were not voting for the principles of the Republican party—otherwise they would not have elected a Democratic congress."

He compared this year's election with the 1940 victory of his father over Wendell Willkie, saying:

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

"The American public felt my father had more experience in handling a difficult world situation and perhaps that is the same reasoning which was behind the fact that many voters decided to cast their ballots for Mr. Eisenhower this time."

* * *

John A. Roosevelt, who campaigned for Mr. Eisenhower in 1952 and again this year and is the only Republican among the late president's offspring, refused to make any statement.

"I've done all my crowing on this election," he said.

Foreign Policy Won't Change

U.S. Aims Stay Same During Next 4 Years, Free World Told

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Eisenhower administration has already started assuring free world governments that American foreign policy will remain basically the same during the next four years.

The United States government official radio, the Voice of America, started early Wednesday morning broadcasting this news.

The U. S. told ally and neutral nations that there will be changes depending upon circumstances in the carrying out of American foreign affairs.

But basic factors in American foreign policy will not change "because they are the outgrowth of certain fundamental principles now generally accepted by the American people."

Among the specific points listed as basic factors were:

1. American support for mutual security.
2. Continuing aid to underdeveloped nations.
3. Opposition to coloniaism.
4. Full support for the United Nations.
5. Furtherance of the "Atoms for Peace" program.
6. Steps to achieve controlled disarmament including President Eisenhower's "open skies" aerial inspection plan.

The administration reiterated its support of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, the Organization of American States as well as other regional groupings.

Nations which are still in the earlier stages of industrial development can continue to expect American economic and technical assistance, irrespective of their membership in any defense pact.

The U. S. official radio broadcast: "There is little doubt that the United States will continue in its traditional opposition to colonialism, and will continue to urge independence for all peoples who are ready for it."

U. S. policy will be to continue calling for "the fulfillment of human rights wherever they are denied," the free world was assured.

Aussies to Cut Imports

CANBERRA — The Australian Government has ordered a reduction in imports amounting to 40,000,000 pounds ($90,000,000) a year, with a 50 per cent reduction in imports of fully assembled automobiles and a 25 per cent slash in purchases of Scotch whisky.

The presidential campaign song in 1900 was "Prosperity, Protection and McKinley."

Hal Boyle Says:

Catty World Evicts Rover From Doghouse

NEW YORK (AP)—Is man's best friend, the dog, losing out to the cat in America?

* * *

Since this is National Cat Week, it is as good a time as any to explore the question of whether Tabby is taking over from Rover in the American home.

Although a pet census would probably show the United States still has millions more dogs than cats, there are other signs tending to show that the long heyday of the dog is headed for twilight.

* * *

He may still have the farm vote, but he is losing out in the cities, where he has become a casualty of a civilization which fits the cat very well but in which he is as out of place as a frog in a boudoir.

Landlords, wives, and television are three factors that combine to throw a deepening shadow over the future of the dog.

* * *

Many landlords in Manhattan will allow their tenants to have children, cats, parakeets—or even a boa constrictor if you smuggle it in after dark—but they draw the line at dogs.

* * *

This is the rule where I live, a vast apartment project housing more than 2,000 families. When I asked why cats were permitted but dogs were verboten, I was told:

"Look, if 1,000 families here had children and 500 had cats, you wouldn't hardly notice the cats, because they stay in the house. But if the other 500 families had dogs, you know what we'd have? Lawsuits!

"You couldn't mix cats, dogs and kids in a place like this without getting chaos."

* * *

The growth of the equal rights movement has been even harder on dogs than it has been on husbands. As wives have assumed a greater authority in the home, they have tended to give Rover the heave-ho and replace him with a kitty.

They argue that Rover is too noisy and boisterous, that he may be a good watchdog but a good electric burglar alarm can be fed more cheaply, and that a cat makes a nicer house pet because she is gentle and soft-footed.

* * *

As one lady cat lover explained it:

"A dog is a born peasant. A cat is a born aristocrat. The peasant has many fine outdoor virtues, but indoors one prefers the company of the aristocrat."

* * *

At first glance it might be thought television was a benefactor of the dog since it has made millionairs of Lassie and Rin-Tin-Tin, whereas no cat has been hep enough to earn any real scratch from video.

The real effect of video, however, has been to rob Rover of one of his last roles in home life.

Many city husbands, burdened with talkative wives, used to like to have a dog because the fact it needed an evening walk gave them the chance to get out of the house and clear their ears.

Today a husband can drown out his hausfrau's oratory by merely dialing his TV louder. He no longer has to go for a walk, so the dog is no longer an absolute necessity. If his wife says she prefers a cat, it's okay with him. Anything to keep peace in the home. She can have a pet porpoise, if she'll just keep it out of the bathroom while he's shaving.

* * *

Yep, the cat, that fur-bearing golddigger, that stalking sneer, that strolling insolence on plush, is crowding out old honest, loyal, loving Rover, who has walked side by side down the ages with man, serving him often better than man has served himself.

I'm no cat hater, and there may be cats that would leap into a raging river and help pull me out. There also may be cats that would dash into a burning building to help guide me down the stairs.

* * *

All I say is that so far I've never met a cat I'd trust with a match—or turn my back on in a canoe.

A MEASURE OF HAIR—Despite the contrast in age, Hermann Martens, 76, matches his extended sideburns with the 36-inch-long pigtails sported by Heidi Merkle in New York City.

B-52 Seen in 'Vision'

NEW YORK (AP)—The B-52, the Air Force's inter continental jet bomber, was on the brink of cancellation many times during the eight years it took to design and perfect it.

The story of the B-52 is told in "Vision," a new book on aviation by Harold Mansfield. He claims it was only after the Korean War pointed up the need for a long range bomber with speed that the Air Force approved quantity production of the plane.

Pilot Stunned Momentarily

Ducks Fill Illinois Sky, Collide With Two Planes

CHICAGO (AP)—Wild ducks, flying into Illinois by the hundreds of thousands, tangled with two scheduled airlines planes yesterday.

One duck crashed through the windshield of a North Central Airlines DC3 carrying 26 passengers. The pilot was stunned momentarily and the copilot was showered with glass. None of the passengers was injured. The plane landed safely.

The plane overtook a flock of about 200 ducks over Fox Lake, Ill. Six other ducks were killed when they collided with the plane.

Another duck rammed into the wing of an American Airlines plane over Springfield, Ill. The crew of the Chicago - to - Dallas airliner feared the bird may have gotten into the air conditioning equipment, and landed at St. Louis to make an inspection. Maintenance men reported after an inspection: no duck but some feathers.

Frank Bellrose, Illinois natural history survey game biologist, who was up in a plane to make a duck census, reported yesterday that he personally witnessed an influx of at least a half million mallards into Illinois.

Describing it as one of the "greatest flights I have ever seen while I was flying," Bellrose said the ducks were following the courses of the Des Moines, Cedar Rapids and Iowa rivers out of Iowa and into Illinois.

Business Pulls Pair Off of Ike's Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lure of private employment is taking from the Eisenhower administration the heads of two government agencies.

President Eisenhower announced yesterday his acceptance of the resignations of Theodore C. Streibert as director of the U. S. Information Agency, ffeective Nov. 15, and of Dr. Martha M. Eliot as chief of the Children's Bureau in the Welfare Department, effective Jan. 1.

U.S. Ship Held in Suez Canal

Thirteen Other Vessels Caught in Waterway Blockaded at Both Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one large American-owned tanker has been trapped in the Suez Canal by the sinking of blockade vessels at both ends of the waterway, it was reported today.

It is the Cities Service Oil Co's. 38,000-ton Statue of Liberty. Its crew of about 50, however, is all Dutch.

* * *

The tanker has been tied up near Ismailia since Oct. 31.

A company spokesman here said neither the crew nor the vessel was in any danger or difficulty beyond the boredom of having to sit and look at the desert terrain bordering the canal.

Food and water supplies are adequate enough to last a long time, since such ships carry large stocks.

Meanwhile, reports reached here that 13 other vessels, mostly tankers, also have been tied up in the canal.

* * *

The New York Times said they included one Soviet-flag craft of unknown type, Swedish and Dutch freighters, three Italian tankers, two Norwegian and two Panamanian ships, a Liberian-flag vessel and two unidentified ships.

The Gulf Oil Co., which operates a large fleet of tankers through the canal in normal times, said its last vessel got through just before the trouble began and others were ordered to stay away.

"We were lucky," said a spokesman.

However, it has meant a long and expensive rerouting plan with the canal closed, both for Gulf and other concerns.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Chapter 13

I didn't improve my seven o'clock pupil's dancing much, but I got through the hour without his asking for a refund. The moment he walked out the door the phone in my studio rang.

"Hello," I said.

"Hester? Leone here." It was the receptionist.

"Oh, yes, Leone."

"Your boy friend phoned."

"Oh." That would be Steve. I kind of liked him being my boy friend again. "Am I to call him?"

"He left a message. Hester, you understand that we can't interrupt lessons for phone calls."

"No, of course not. Am I to call him?"

"No, he said he couldn't get those tickets for the hockey game. He'll meet you at your place instead of the Garden."

"Oh. Thanks so much, Leone." We hung up.

* * *

I felt better. Steve was safe; he was sound. I felt very much better . . . then, looking at my studio with its glass walls broken only by a single door that nobody but Steve had used at the time of Anita Farrell's murder, the relief was blasted from my mind.

It was still necessary to prove that someone else, not Steve, had murdered his dancing teacher.

There was some work I could do along that line. I could see the teacher in Studio J and find out which pupil of hers had mode a trip to Rhinebeck Place.

I had five minutes before my next lesson. I opened the door and stepped out into the corridor.

The most vacant-looking but absolutely the prettiest girl in the world was staring at me from the doorway opposite mine. Perhaps I was being unfair. If a girl had an angel face like that, she would be silly to soil it with anything resembling a living, human expression.

This girl was wearing a low-cut evening gown, so low-cut that I was sure it not only broke the rules of Mr. Oliver Bell's establishment, but was illegal in most states of our union.

Her voice surprised me. I had expected it to tinkle like little bells on a Christmas tree caught in a draft. It was alto, a rather nasal alto.

"Hello," she said. "You're Hester Frost."

"That's right."

"I'm a teacher, too. My name is Hooray Rose."

I repeated her first name questioningly.

"Yes," she said. "Like in hip-hip-hooray."

"Oh," I said. "Of course."

She giggled. "That isn't my real name. Some press agent gave it to me. When I was a show girl . . . my first night club job. He wanted to call me Hooray F. Rose. You know, 'F' for 'For.' But I thought that sounded conceited." Without shifting gears, Hooray said, "I admire you very much, Hester. What guts!"

"I beg your pardon?"

"Taking Anita's place. Just think . . . maybe you danced with the Waltzer today. God! He had you in his arms. You might've been killed, too. You might be dead now. Frankly, I'm scared. Petrified, if you ask me!"

* * *

She looked about as frightened as a lollypop, but when I indicated that I was concerned about her, she was delighted.

"Oh, yes!" she said. "Me having the studio across from Anita's. The Waltzer might decide he has to kill me."

"No, I think the Waltzer would let you live."

"But maybe I saw him!"

"Did you?"

"No, but the police thought maybe I did. Honestly, don't they ask a lot of questions! But I don't remember who Anita's seven o'clock pupil was. I don't remember ever seeing him. But maybe he's afraid I did. It wouldn't surprise me if he did kill me. But I guess it would be best to cross that bridge when I come to it."

"That's sensible," I said. "Hooray, how well did you know Anita?"

"Oh . . . not so well, I guess. We used to talk like this between classes once in a while."

"Did you like her?"

"Not so much, but don't mind me. It was jealousy, pure and simple. Jealousy, it's a problem with me. I'm the jealous type. Frankly, I find that I don't enjoy the company of girls as gorgeous as Anita. Who does your hair?"

"Paul, on East Fifty-eighth. Would you like me to get you an appointment?"

"No," Hooray said. Then she added quickly, "Oh, I didn't mean to be rude. I want to be friends. I'm going to like you, Hester."

* * *

"Thanks, Hooray. Speaking of friends, did Anita have any special friends here at the school?"

"Not as far as I know. She gave everybody the big hello. I've got to admit she sure had the personality."

"Did she have any special enemies?"

"Frankly, I don't know anything about anybody's enemies."

"What about Bob Spencer?"

"Him! What about him?"

"Well, Hooray, when I met him I got such a strange feeling from him. He's so indifferent about what happened to Anita that it bothered me."

"That's just him being himself. He doesn't believe in crying over spilt milk. He says it's inefficient. He's scientific about his life. It's gruesome."

"You seem to know Bob pretty well, Hooray."

She nodded. "He got me my job here. He was a pal of an artist I used to pose for a lot when I was modeling. You know what? That crumb! He wanted a commission from my salary the first six months I worked here!"

"You didn't pay him, did you?"

"No, but he kept arguing and arguing. It wasn't the money, he said, it was the principle of the thing."

"Are you sure he was serious?"

"Listen, that guy is only serious. He can't be any other way. He seems kind of nice . . . but he's even serious about that. Being nice is his policy."

"Hester, how old are you? Frankly?"

"Oh, twenty-eight or nine, around in there someplace."

"Don't be discouraged. You'll last for years yet."

"I hope to live to be ninety, at least."

"I didn't say live," Hooray said. "I said last."

"Hooray, who has that studio there . . . Studio J?"

"Dottie Harris. She's adorable."

"Is she working tonight?"

"Of course!" Hooray considered me ignorant. "She has the same schedule I do."

"Has Dottie worked here long?"

But I wasn't permitted to do any research on a second member of Mr. Bell's faculty. My eight o'clock student was saying hello and asking if I was his new teacher, Hester Frost.

I admitted that I was and took him in tow. I rather liked the young man. He didn't seem disappointed that I, not Hooray, was his instructor. That somewhat compensated for the fact that Hooray could instantly tell by looking at me that she was going to like me.

At the nine o'clock intermission my departing and arriving pupils didn't give me time to visit Dottie Harris. But at ten I forced the issue. The day's work was done and I had to get to Studio J before Dottie went home. I just made it.

Is Dottie lying? Her veracity is put to the test by Connie tomorrow as Chapter 14 of "The Blonde Died Dancing" continues.

In Michigan

Indian Relics Uncovered

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Tumbling from the fingers of two teenage Saginaw boys were American Indian bones and relics dating back almost 2,000 years before Christ.

* * *

Dr. E. F. Greenman, curator of the University of Michigan's Museum of Anthropology, examined the relics this week. They had been dug from a sandy area west of Saginaw by Roger Pfeuffer and Douglas Peacock, both 14, who made the discovery while hunting for arrowheads.

* * *

Dr. Greenman, called the findings "a very important part of Michigan history," and told the boys they had found "the first old copper site in lower Michigan which has been carefully excavated."

He said he intends to conduct an archeological field study of the area when he obtains permission of the property owner.

* * *

"This represents almost unquestionably the first use of metals in the world," Dr. Greenman said. "The 'old copper' period is when men first used copper for tools and weapons."

* * *

The discovery included a skull, miscellaneous bones, two copper spears, a small hatchet and a string of 29 copper beads. The booty was buried three feet underground.

Woman Plans Program on Volunteers

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

A woman with a way about getting volunteer workers to push toward a common goal, Mrs. Frank Chapman of Rochester is planning a special program for 200 Beaumont Hospital Volunteers gathering next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the hospital in Berkley.

And she's asked another busy volunteer leader, Mrs. Edwin S. Wellock of Bloomfield Township, to explain how non-paid workers can help in the health field.

Beaumont has had Mrs. Chapman's leadership since it opened two years ago, when her committees kept pace when the expected attendance of 5,000 turned into an actual 15,000 at open house.

She recently won an International Work award for her guidance in the Michigan Division of Farm and Garden Assn. of the International Farm Youth Exchange.

Over a seven-year period, she has worked with the Farm Youth exchange, which allots $5,000 annually to Michigan State University for use in the National 4-H Foundation. The fund goes to enabling students from the U. S. to change places with foreign farm students.

People Flock to Lakeland

Fast Growing Commerce Meeting Challenge Well

Commerce Township is one of Oakland County's swiftly growing areas. Blessed with many lakes, people are flocking out from Detroit to build homes on their shores.

James L. Gardner, township supervisor for many years, produced some interesting population figures when approached by a representative of The Pontiac Press.

"Our township had a population of 2,957 in 1940," he said. "Between 1940 and 1950 we grew from 2,957 to 7,421. Then Walled Lake became a city and the township lost its 1,600 residents.

"However, in the past six years we have regained that number and our total has increased to approximately 10,000 today.

Gardner's figures are borne out by the record of building permits and registered voters. The township now has 5,098 registered voters.

Building permits for the 10 months of 1955 through October, totaled $2,540,172. This grand total included 194 homes, very conservatively valued at $2,023,400, and other permits valued at $516,772. The other permits include additions and alterations, garages and commercial and industrial buildings.

As he looks ahead at the inevitable increase in population, Supervisor Gardner sees only one real solution to the problems that will follow in providing the services that will be demanded by the residents as the township becomes thickly settled.

"I believe incorporation of the remainder of the township into a city is the only sensible solution," he said. "Otherwise, each small community will incorporate as a village or city, and we will have a hodgepodge of tiny communities. None of these will have a big enough tax base to provide the unds needed to give adequate services to its residents. One city could do so.

"To form a city with enough tax income to give real city services, an average population of 500 persons to the square mile is required. For Commerce Township that means a total population of from sixteen to eighteen thousand. It is a question which our residents should be thinking about today. We will have sufficient population within a very few years."

Gardner's thoughts on incorporation have been the result of his own experience. Already two incorporations of comparatively small areas have taken place in Commerce Township. In addition Walled Lake's incorporation as a city, the Village of Wolverine Lake was incorporated two years ago. This small community, approximately a mile and a half square, lies north of Walled Lake.

Today there is talk of incorporating Wixom, including some two square miles in Commerce Township and the same amount in Novi Township. This would include the big new Lincoln plant of the Ford Motor Co. which alone would provide a substantial village tax base.

Both the townships affected have opposed this incorporation and action has been held up at least until the spring election.

"I think some change should be made in the state law," said Gardner, "but the legislature thus far has refused to make any change. If an area, by incorporating, receives a major portion of the income, then it should accept a major portion of the responsibilities of local government. However, the villages do not do this.

"Under Michigan laws, the township is still stuck with most of the services provided to village residents, such as assessing, tax collection, etc. Yet the villages get their share of the state sales tax and much of the intangible tax money that otherwise would go to the township."

Another problem that has arisen as a result of the population growth is that of roads. Increased traffic wears out highways rapidly. Gravel roads will not stand up. Paving is needed and it is expensive.

"It costs about $30,000 a mile to pave a highway," said Gardner. "The county now gets between $100 and $300 a mile for maintenance only. It isn't half enough, yet the county cannot spend any more. So our township has been spending between $10,000 and $20,000 annually for several years in an effort to keep our roads in shape. It isn't enough to do the job.

We appointed a a township board a year and a half ago to study the road problem and to come up with recommendations for a solution. Five men were named and they are now holding meetings to inform the public of their findings.

* * *

"They have clarified the need for a township road levy, and I feel sure such a proposal will be placed on the spring ballot. No decision has been reached as to just what millage will be asked, but I would expect it to be somewhere between two and four mills.

"This would not produce sufficient funds to do a thorough job of improving our roads, but it would be a start. At present two mills would produce about $18,000 a year. This would increase each year of course as new homes and commercial buildings are built.

"Naturally we would pave the heaviest traveled roads first. The Oakland County Road Commission would set up the specifications and ask for bids. The township would have the right to reject any bids. The county commission could put counters on the roads to find which are the heaviest traveled."

SOLVE PROTECTION

Commerce Township thus far has solved its police protection by paying $8,000 a year to the county. For this sum the sheriff's department makes available one patrol car each night which patrols the township roads.

"This gives us good protection at night," said the supervisor," and it is less expensive than putting in our own police department."

The township maintains two fire stations. The one in the northern area, at Commerce, is manned by a paid force day and night. All alarm calls go there. The building adjoining the township offices on Fisher Road was recently taken over. It is manned by volunteers, but will be manned by a full time staff soon. The township owns two pumpers, both purchased during the past five years. Both are equipped with two way radio.

Township officials have not found zoning too serious a problem as yet.

"Our zoning ordinance is only two years old," Gardner explained. "When you realize that we have some prpperty that has been platted for 35 years without any controls, you can understand that we are moving slowly in this regard.

"We want to be reasonable. We have quite a few trailers and outside facilities. However, nearly 300 of the latter have been eliminated voluntarily during the last two years. This indicates to us that this problem will take care of itself with a minimum of action on our part.

* * *

"Our biggest subdivision is northwest of Commerce on the road to Milford. This area includes 140 acres which ultimately will contain 450 homes. About 70 building permits have been taken out thus far. The owner is putting in water, paving and storm sewers, and Consumers Power is providing gas service. These facilities later will be turned over to the township under contracts we now are drawing up."

Center May Get Sewage Plant

Waterford Seeks Way to Keep Telegraph Site Within Township

Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson last night disclosed plans for constructing an independent sewage treatment plant to serve the shopping center at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. now under construction.

The proposal would give the township a way out of the dilemma it faces stemming from a Pontiac ultimatum to disconnect the center's sewers from the city system or detach its 80 acres for annexation to Pontiac by June 11, 1957.

Unable to serve the shopping center with existing township sewer facilities, township officials were faced with loss of an estimated $67,000 a year in taxes from the project if Pontiac annexed it.

Speaking last night at a meeting of township residents discussing incorporation of the township as a home rule city, Justice Willis D. Lefurgy asked Anderson if an independent treatment plant for the shopping center is possible.

"Well, we're working on something along that line now," Anderson replied. "We're still trying.

"Our engineers are working on that, and they should have something later this week."

* * *

Questioned after the meeting, Anderson declined to amplify his statement.

'Daddy' Pleased With Prophet's Palatial Church

DETROIT (AP) — Sweet Daddy Grace looked over the former church of Prophet Jones and allowed that he was well pleased.

Admiring the white enameled organ yesterday, the Negro religious leader commented: "I'd ripple off a tune for you but I've had to give up such things because of my fingernails."

Sweet Daddy's fingernails are over an inch long. They are painted with red, white and blue nail polish.

Sweet Daddy had just closed a deal with Prophet Jones to buy the church where the prophet once officiated in vestments of white mink. The building originally housed the Oriole theater.

The Prophet's throne, alleged to be a replica of Solomon's, has been taken away by his creditors. But Sweet Daddy said he would replace it with "something nice."

Meanwhile, Daddy Grace also has plans for the Prophet's spacious mansion which he acquired a few months ago. He's having it painted red, white and blue.

"It's my tribute to the American flag," explained Sweet Daddy.

Boy Scouts will sell comic books and toys and cotton candy will be sold.

Four Persons Injured in Blowout Accident

A tire blowout was blamed for an accident in which four members of a Pontiac family were injured at the intersection of Pontiac road and Mt. Clemens street, Pontiac Township, Thuursday afternoon.

Hospitalized with possible head and internal injuries are Mrs. Susan Breeze, 21, driver of the car, her son, Randy, 3, and daughter, Joyce, 2. The woman's husband, Carlyle, 23, was shaken up but had no apparent injuries. All were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

The Brezees, who live at 690 Cameron St., were traveling on Pontiac road when the accident occurred. Mrs. Brezee told Oakland County deputies she was making a turn to Mt. Clemens street when the right rear tire blew out causing her to lose control and go off the road.

Cub Scout Saves Child but Gets Hurt Himself

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Roger Erickson, a Cub Scout den mother, asked cub Bob Jenkins, 9, to help her find her son after a meeting.

Bob spotted Roger Jr., 5, in the middle of the street. He ran out, snatched the boy and pushed him to safety, then was struck by an auto.

* * *

Bob, youngest of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Jenkins, was in good condition with a fractured arm.

Record-Setting Balloonists Come Down in a Hurry

RAPID CITY, S. D. (AP) — With a record ascension of more than 14 miles to their credit, two Navy balloonists rested here today after a descent to earth a lot faster than they had anticipated.

* * *

Commanders Malcolm D. Ross, 37, and Morton L. Lewis, 43, both of Washington, D. C., riding a gondola attached to a 128-foot helium balloon, reached 76,000 feet yesterday over the broken land of South Dakota and Nebraska.

They reached that height 2 hours and 50 minutes after they started upward from a natural bowl in the Black Hills near Rapid City. From that same natural bowl another balloon had soared 72,395 feet in 1935 to set the previous record.

Up at 76,000 feet, the two men later said, "it was dark as night." They sipped some coffee and radioed their height back to earth. Then they started down.

* * *

The first 20,000 feet found things going as scheduled at 1,000 feet a minute drop.

But then something happened—Ross and Lewis said they didn't know what — and their fall rate shot up.

"We are calm, cool, collected. We think we will stay with the balloon as long as we can," they radioed.

* * *

Out went oxygen and radio gear to lighten the gondola. Still the balloon went down fast.

They were drifting southeast over Nebraska's northwest cattle range country. That is an area of sandhills, soft pasture land and what range people call natural blowouts.

It was into one of these natural blowouts — a sort of bowl with soft bottom and rough hill edges — that the gondola settled and Ross and Lewis, hardly shaken, stepped out.

* * *

They were near Brownlee, Neb., about 140 miles from their take-off point and had been in the air a little over four hours.

Shortly after Ross and Lewis landed, range pilot Don Higgins, operator of a flying service at Ainsworth, Neb., set his light plane down alongside the gondola and hopped out.

"Hi, did you bring some coffee?" Ross and Lewis cried out.

"They were cheerful but serious and a little chilly before rancher Loren Boyer's wife rushed over some coffee from her house about two miles away," Higgins related.

A Navy plane came in for a landing and Ross and Lewis were flown to Ainsworth, Neb., for a brief stop, then on to Ellsworth Air Force Base here for an extensive checkup.

* * *

Whie Ros and Lewis reached a record height a record wasn't the primary aim of the ascent. What they were primarily after was data to improve high-altitude flying safety and to learn more about how pilots perform at the higher altitude.

Costs Up $6 Million on New Detroit Hall

DETROIT (AP) — An architect's error has added more than six million dollars to the cost of Detroit's new convention hall-exhibits building, Mayor Albert Cobo said.

He said an estimate by an architectural firm last April put the cost at $42,548,000. But a recent estimate hiked the figure to $49,441,000.

Cobo said a $2,245,000 blunder resulted from underestimating the amount of steel needed by at least 2,000 tons. A re-evaluation of labor costs added another $3,775,000. A rise in steel prices due to the steel strike sent the cost still higher.

Construction is already under way on the mammoth building. It is to be part of the ambitious civic center development on the Detroit river front.

Honor Medal GIs Meet for 1st Time

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The cool-headed corporal pulled safety pins from mortar shells and used them for hand grenades. He also used a lot of other ammo in killing 40 Germans while protecting his comrades.

That chap, who then was 23, was Charles E. (Commando) Kelly. His bravery in covering his unit's withdrawal near Altavilla, Italy, in World War II won him the medal of honor. It was the highest award his nation could give him.

Kelly today joins scores of other holders of this coveted award at the first meeting of the Medal of Honor Society. The society meets here for five days.

Improving Redskins Next for Lions

WASHINGTON, D. C. — After completing a two-game sweep on the West Coast against the Los Angeles Rams and the San Francisco 49ers, the first time a Detroit team has accomplished the trick, Coach Buddy Parker will take his club to the Eastern shore for a meeting with the Washington Redskins, Sunday afternoon, in Griffith Stadium.

It will mark the Lion's first appearance in Washington since 1948 when the 'Skins scored a 46-21 victory. Parker faced the same club in the season's opener in Detroit in 1951, his first head coaching assignment with the Lions, and managed a 35-17 decision.

While the Lions were fighting to retain their lead in the Western Division last Sunday against the 49ers, 17-13, the Redskins enjoyed an off-day in the schedule so have the advantage of an extra week's work in preparation for the game.

Coach Joe Kuharich's club, still a contender in the Eastern race after a second place finish in '55, probably will be in the best physical condition of the season in their bid to dump the Lions from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Quarterback Eddie LaBaron is expected to be back in top shape, after recuperating from injuries to a knee in early contests.

After dropping their first three games of the season, the Redskins have won their last two and have shown signs of returning to the pennant contending form that was predicted for them.

Washington stopped Cleveland, 20-9, and the pace-setting Chicago Cardinals, 17-14, in its most recent starts.

The two teams met during the 1956 pre-season campaign and the 'Skins came away with a 19-17 decision.

Detroit scored a 17-14 pre-season victory over Washington in their only meeting in 1955.

The game stacks up as a real battle between a pair of real potent defensive clubs. The Lions have permitted six opponents a total of 88 points while the Redskins have allowed 97 to five opponents.

* * *

However, the Redskins have allowed their opponents fewer yards via passing than any team in the NFL, giving up but 503 yards in five games.

* * *

In the overall series dating back to 1938, Washington maintains a definite edge with seven victories to only two for Detroit.

DEFENSIVE STALWARTS — A pair of defensive backs who have sparkled for the Lions goal-stopping team this year have been Jimmy David and Yale Lary. Lary is a returnee from the service and his booming punts have helped the Lions tremendously. Another great defensive job has been turned in by veteran Jack Christensen.

Drake Bulldogs Next for Titans

Final Home Encounter for Detroit; Next Three on the Road

DETROIT — Drake University's oft scored upon football team will face the University of Detroit here Saturday for the first time since 1952 and for the Motor City eleven it will be the final home appearance of the season.

Drake has yielded an average of slightly more than 30 points a game in losing six of its first eight starts this season and will be playing its final game of the season Saturday.

However, Detroit will have three to play after this week—meeting Oklahoma A&M, Dayton and Houston on the road in that order.

Titans currently stand 2-4 for their year's work.

* * *

Kickoff time Saturday will be at 1:30 p.m., EST.

MSU Ready for Aerial Attack by Len Dawson

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football coaches are preparing for Purdue just as if they hadn't heard Lenny Dawson has an aching shoulder. That seems like a smart idea.

* * *

Up until now, nobody knows for certain whether the ace Purdue quarterback will be able to pass or not.

Purdue coaches — who should know best—claim they don't know.

They say Dawson probably will get into the game but throw up their hands when you ask about his probable effectiveness as a passer.

Dawson is a key figure because he is the Purdue attack.

He's the leading passer in the Big Ten. His 47 completions for 576 yards in conference play is more than double the record of the next best Big Ten passer.

Number two in the Big Ten, by the way, is a fellow named Pat Wilson. Remember those stories early in the season? Everyone was wondering if Wilson could pass.

In Big Ten play, Wilson has completed only seven throws. But these were good for 212 yards to put him right behind Dawson in the conference passing statistics.

Going into this one, Michigan State has the best offensive and defensive record in the Big ten in yards gained and yards opponents were contained.

Purdue is the only team besides Michigan to beat MSU two out of three games in modern day Spartan football times—dating back to when Biggie Munn started building in 1947.

The Boilermarkers pulled a major upset in 1952 by stopping State 6-0 to end a 28-game win streak. Then, with Dawson throwing for three touchdowns, they did it again, 27-13, in 1954.

Last year, Michigan State won 27-0 although Purdue had the edge in the statistics.

LA Lays Plans for Major Club

Mayor, Supervisor to Cooperate in Reaching Objective

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Norris Poulson and Chairman Burton Chace of the board of supervisors have laid plans for city-county cooperation in bringing a major league baseball club to Los Angeles.

They issued a joint statement yesterday, saying they had discussed at length the problems of cooperation in the enterprise. They said they have asked the legal and administrative offices of the city and county to work together in exploring ways and means of accomplishing the objective.

Mayor Poulson said Chavez Ravine, where the city already owns several hundred acres of undeveloped land less than a mile from the civic center, offers the best prospect as a site for the ball park.

He expressed the belief that private financing would be forthcoming for construction of the park if public funds are made available to level the site and provide access to the freeways.

No mention was made of any specific major league club that might be tendered an invitation to move to Los Angeles.

From the Press Box

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When the big football weekends roll around, no one ever sees the name of Lawrence Tech included in the long list of grid scores.

It's because football fell by the wayside at the institution in 1946.

★ ★ ★

That doesn't mean however that no one has ever heard or read about Lawrence Tech on sports pages.

For many years the giants of the basketball world such as Bowling Green, Dayton, DePaul and others have learned to respect the little power from Detroit.

Some of the biggest basketball crowds in Detroit used to cram the State Fair Coliseum to watch the Blue Devils, and actually see Tech whip "major" listed schools.

★ ★ ★

No other Michigan college has been a participant in post-season backetball tournaments as much as Tech's six-time entry in the past seven years.

In basketball this is quite an achievement considering that Tech has never had a court of its own.

"We never knew from year to year where we were going to practice or play," said present athletic director Don Ridler, long-time coach of the team.

This year Lawrence Tech celebrates its silver anniversary, with plans for a bright future at its new location in Oakland County on Northwestern Highway.

GYM NEXT FOR TECH

There are 70 acres in Southfield Township which comprise the Tech campus and its first new building.

"Our goal next year is to break ground for an activities building and gymnasium," said Ridler, and right now we have started to build the best basketball team in the state."

The lack of a court has been a great handicap. Tech now plays its home game at Detroit's Hacket fieldhouse, definitely not a lure for getting major basketball schools on the schedule.

"We will stay as a small college team for now, but next season we will dress our first freshman team in history, and many of the big teams will be be back on our list when we initiate our new gym," said Ridler.

★ ★ ★

The enrolment at Tech today is 2,800 but only 700 students are full time from which players are eligible.

Ridler coached Tech for 12 years and nationally his all-time record is the 4th best behind such great coaches as Adolph Rupp, Clair Bee and Phog Allen.

Two of the greatest teams at Tech were the 1946-47 and 1950-51 outfits.

NIT TEAM IN 1951

The final mark in 1947 showed 26 wins in 30 games with such players as Norm Hankins, Walt Maconochie, Chuck Cacideo, Alex Taub, and Carl Campbell.

In 1951 Tech powered its way to the NIT with a 20-2 record, losing only to national champion CCNY. It took powerful Dayton right up to the final minute to eliminate the Engineers 75-71 that year in the NIT.

Today one of its alums, George Verdonckt, has taken the reins to start Tech back up into the cage limelight, maybe not immediately but in the near future.

Illini Always Are Jinx

'M' Bowl Hopes Still Alive

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A band of Michigan Wolverines, still hopeful of a Rose Bowl trip despite a pair of Big Ten setbacks, tangle with upset-conscious Illinois here tomorrow in a grudge match.

Ray Eliot's fighting Illini have turned back the Wolverines five times in the last six years, and Michigan teams coached by Bennie Oosterbaan have won only three out of eight from Illinois.

About 80,000 fans are expected to witness the battle. Last season, little-known Bob Mitchell came out of nowhere to lead Illinois to a 25-6 upset victory over Michigan. That loss coupled with a final-game defeat by Ohio State kept the Wolverines out of the Rose Bowl.

"We always have a rough time against Illinois," said Oosterbaan. "I don't know whether they point for our game more than any other, but it seems like they always play their finest against us."

The Michigan team has been hard hit by injuries in the late going of the Western Conference campaign. Sparkplug halfback Terry Barr may see action but a slow-healing ankle injury will keep him from playing at top speed.

A couple of second-string linemen, Gerry Marciniak and Willie Smith have been sidelined with injuries and Marciniak will set this one out. Smith may see limited action.

Defeats by Michigan State and Minnesota leave Michigan with but a slim chance of getting into the Pasadena Classic. But the Wolverines showed they could come back under pressure in last Saturday's drama-packed 17-14 victory over Iowa, scoring 14 points in the final two periods while holding the Hawks without a score.

Illinois goes into the contest with a 2-3-1 record, and one of the Triumphs was a 20-13 decision over then top-ranked Michigan State. The Illini will be at near full strength folowing their 7-7 deadlock with Purdue a week ago.

The long series between Michigan and Illinois began in 1898. Since then Michigan has won 25 and Illinois 15, and there has never been a tie between the two schools.

Stars Stud Wildcat Frosh

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ordinarily, it isn't safe to peruse the future of a college freshman football team, but Northwestern University's new head coach, Ara Parseghian, has no choice.

This was a "go-get-'em" year in a rebuilding program designed to puff the Wildcats into something more than a Big Ten doormat. So new Athletic Director Stu Holcomb, former Purdue head coach, and Parseghian have done their best to stock Northwestern's depleted football larder.

* * *

This year's Wildcat frosh group has 11 all-staters and includes 15 players from the highly competitive Chicago area and 13 from Ohio, not to mention Chip Holcomb, Stu's son, who was a star prep quarterback at West LaFayette, Ind.

Parseghian knows as well as any coach that a freshman team is the most perishable item on the college football market. Touted prep stars sometimes last only a matter of a few months as the boys are separated from the men on the field and in the classroom. But he's hopeful and cheerful.

Tiger Harrison Back With St. Louis Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bob (Tiger) Harrison, captain of the St. Louis Hawks last season, has come out of retirement and rejoined the National Basketball Assn. club.

* * *

Ben Kerner, owner of the Hawks, said yesterday Harrison would give needed insurance on the back line.

Three Rookies Sign Contracts for '57 Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced the signing to 1957 contracts of three rookies.

Signed were righthanded-hitting infielder Reno Bertoia of Windsor, Charlie Lau of Romulus, Mich., and big southpaw pitcher Hal Woodeshick. The trio finished the 1956 season with the Tigers after playing with the Charleston, W. Va., club of the American Association.

Backyard Scrap Becomes Finish Fight for Roses

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—An annual backyard argument becomes a finish fight for one of football's most cherished prizes tomorrow when unbeaten Minnesota tangles with limping Iowa before a nationwide television audience.

* * *

For years the two cornbelt rivals have staked out a little corner and gone about the cheerful business of whaling the stuffing out of each other. Tomorrow they swing from the heels for the Rose Bowl invitation, an honor that has been denied both of them in the 10 years the Big Ten has been playing in Pasadena on New Year's Day.

* * *

Neither can clinch a bowl bid, but the winner will be tough to dislodge, especially if it is Minnesota. The Gophers carry a 3-0-1 conference record into the game while Iowa is 3-1.

* * *

If it settles into a battle of attrition, as it appears likely to do, Iowa will be gravely pressed. The Hawkeyes are ailing in line and backfield, and even healthy would probably have to yield an edge in manpower to the platooning Gophers.

* * *

The Iowa casualty list includes backs Kevin Furlong, out with a broken jaw, Don Dobrino, Del Kloewer and Bill Happel, all bothered by various hurts. Among the bandaged linemen are center Don Suchy and guards Hugh Drake Theer. It's still uncertain how much service Coach Forest Evashevski can get out of the lot.

* * *

Aside from losing reserve halfback Bob Soltis and possibly speedster Norm Anderson, another reserve back, Minnesota is strong physically. Fullback Dick Borstad is in top shape once more and joins fullbacks Bob Blakley and Rhody Tuszka, and halfback Bob Schultz in Minnesota's line-smashing rotation.

* * *

Iowa is worried about its injuries cutting down a defensive efficiency which has confined opponents to 700 yards in six games, against about 1,200 yielded by Minnesota's line.

Berrios Meets Elorde on TV

Featherweights Tangle in Rematch Tonight in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico and Gabriel (Flash) Elordè of the Philippines, a pair of busy little featherweights, provide an international touch to tonight's fight card at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

Berrios, a split decision winner over Elorde, Aug. 22 at San Francisco is an 8 to 5 favorite in the rematch, scheduled for 10 p.m. EST with network (NBC) radio and TV coverage.

The customers appear to like Berrios' work both in person and on the TV screen. He is a 5-2 workman, deadly serious in his work, who wades in, taking punches to land one.

Elrode also won the sympathy of the fans in his losing title scrap with Sandy Saddler, the featherweight king, Jan. 18 at San Francisco. You may remember that was the night Saddler was criticized so much for his rough tactics, finally winning on a cut eye for a 13th round technical knockout.

Turkey Shoot Sunday

Lake Orion Gun Club announced today that a turkey shoot will take place Sunday at the outdoor range on Newman and Stanton roads. Shooting starts at 10:30, continues until dusk. Both rifles and shotguns will be used. Many prizes are set up for winners.

Prep 11's Bring Down '56 Curtain

With the exception of the traditional Thanksgiving Day struggle between Birmingham and Royal Oak, it's "curtains" this weekend for all high school football teams in the Oakland County area.

Championships have been decided in every league but two. Otherwise, nothing is at stake except prestige as the 1956 season comes to an end.

Twenty games are scheduled, 18 of them tonight. Clarkston meets St. Frederick Saturday night at Wisner Stadium and Royal Oak St. Mary invades Center Line St. Clement Sunday afternoon for a meaningless Suburban Catholic League tilt.

There are nine top attractions on tonight's schedule. The "elite nine" include Walled Lake at Milford, Avondale at Rochester, Holly at Lake Orion, Oxford at Imlay City, Wayne at Waterford, Utica at Romeo, Northville at West Bloomfield, Mt. Clemens St. Mary at St. Michael and Pontiac at Flint Northern.

Aside from Romeo, Oxford and Imlay City, Walled Lake has more at stake than anyone else. The Vikings, boasting a perfect 7-0 record, will be trying for a convincing win over underdog Milford.

An impressive triumph tonight could vault Walled Lake into 1st place in the final Associated Press Class B poll, indicative of the mythical state title. The Vikings are presently ranked 3rd.

Romeo shoots for a flawless 9-0 slate against invading Utica, an ancient and bitter rival. Oxford and Imlay City battle for the South Central Conference crown with the Wildcats in the role of underdog.

Waterford, on the verge of completing its finest season in history, could find rugged Wayne a stumbling block. The Skippers have a 7-1 record.

Rochester will aim its high-geared attack at visiting Avondale while another offensive-minded club, Lake Orion, will train its guns on the up-and-down Holly 11.

The West Bloomfield Lakers will attempt to nail down 2nd place in the Wayne-Oakland Conference by upsetting league champion Northville.

East Detroit's Shamrocks will be heavily favored to dispose of Ferndale and win the Eastern Michigan League title in addition to preserving its unbeaten-untied record. Birmingham, rested after a week's layoff, tangles with Berkley.

Other games of area interest tonight are Southfield at Livonia Bentley, Bloomfield Hills at Lakeview, Royal Oak at Highland Park and Hazel Park at Port Huron.

Vols and Wreck Meet in South's Big Grid Test

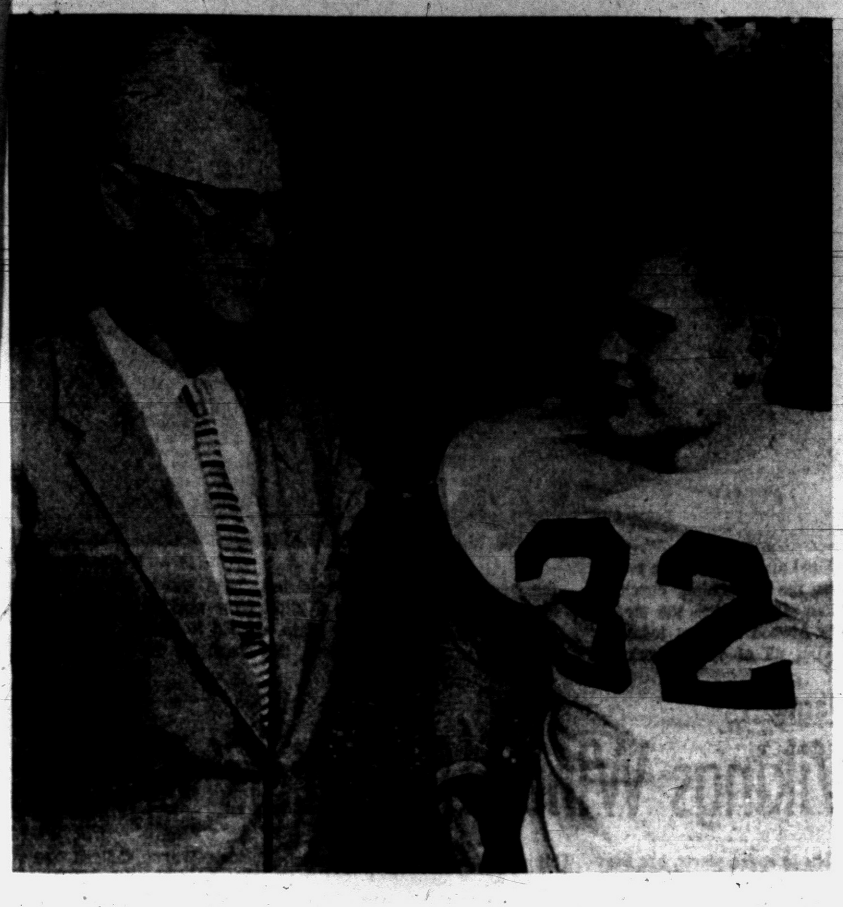

ATLANTA (AP)—Dixie's glamour game of the year—Tennessee vs. Georgia Tech — headlines Southeastern Conference football action this weekend. All other grid battles, and there are some important ones, are forced to take a back seat to "the big one."

The Tennessee Vols and the Yellow Jackets, both unbeaten, untied and high on the national roost, will clash in Atlanta before a crowd limited to 40,000 only because Tech's Grant Field can't seat more than that.

LOOK FOR UPSET — Three regulars on Milford's football team which will be looking for an upset against powerful Walled Lake tonight, include (left to right) tackle Jerry Burklund, halfback Bob Kauppi and center Henry Combs. Walled Lake is the state's 3rd ranked "B" team while Milford is 3-3-2 for the season.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON — A father-son combination in area grid ranks is at Rochester. Jay Eldred (left), former head coach at Big Rapids for seven years previously, is now on the faculty and also freshman coach at Rochester. Son, Dave, is a regular halfback on the Falcon squad which meets Avondale in the season's finale tonight.

Red Wings Lose NHL Lead, 3-1

Mantle Thinks Babe's Record Will Stand Up

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' slugging centerfielder who came within eight of Babe Ruth's record 60 home runs in a season, says "I doubt if it's ever broken."

* * *

Reviewing his great 1956 season, Mantle said in an interview that "I guess winning the triple batting crown was the biggest thrill I have ever had in baseball." The 25-year-old Commerce, Okla. comet hit .350, drove in 130 runs and slammed 52 homers after leading Ruth's record pace of 1927 most of the season.

Mantle confided all the talk about his chances of breaking the Babe's legendary mark never bothered him "because I never thought I would break the record."

Mackin KO's Barbero

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Lyle Mackim, unbeaten welterweight from Oakland, Calif., knocked out Al Barbero of San Francisco last night in 2:30 of the third round of the scheduled feature eight at Richmond Auditorium. Mackin weighed 148½, Barbero 152½.

Detroit Sextet Falls to Third in Bruin Loss

Vic Stasiuk Fires Two Goals to Pace Boston to Victory

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Redwings dropped a 3-1 decision and the National Hockey League lead to the Boston Bruins last night.

Two 40-foot goals in the second period by Vic Stasiuk and Ernie Flaman broke open a 1-1 tie and gave the Redwings their second setback of the season.

Boston now has 15 NHL points and Detroit has 14.

Stasiuk broke the tie at 8:41 of the middle period with his second goal of the night.

His unassisted second tally came after he grabbed a loose puck behind the Detroit net, retreated toward the blue line and spun suddenly to backhand a low shot between the legs of teammate Cal Gardner and Detroit Red Wing goalie Glenn Hall.

* * *

Flaman's goal, also unassisted, came less than a minute later after he had intercepted Metro Prystal's pass and fired home a 40-footer from the right side.

Stasiuk had tied the game in the first period with a 30-foot screen shot that skimmed past Hall.

The Wings got their goal 16 seconds after the opening faceoff. Boston goalie Terry Sawchuck lost his stick after batting away one shot by Ted Lindsay and was helpless when Lindsay fired another shot past him.

* * *

Sawchuck and Hall each had 30 saves.

Short on Votes

But Kansan Is Long on Football Prowess

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Larry Houdek, who got 15 write-in votes for sheriff in the election Tuesday, is leading Kansas Wesleyan University toward its first perfect football season.

* * *

The mild-mannered 175-pound senior from Agenda, Kan., has accumulated an amazing 1,174 yards rushing in Kansas Wesleyan's first seven victories this season. He has averaged 8.69 yards on 135 carries.

* * *

Counting 59 yards he's picked up catching passes, Houdek has a grand total of 1,233 yards. His 167.7-yard rushing and 176.1 total offense per game average is tops nationally for small colleges according to the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics.

* * *

Houdek has scored 16 touchdowns for 96 points. In several of Wesleyan's victories he's played little more than half the game. A good defender, he's intercepted five passes and ran back three of them for touchdowns.

Clemson holds a 26-10 football edge over Furman. Four games ended in ties.

Arrival of Athletes Continues

Melbourne Is Bustling City

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—In this bustling, gayly festooned South Australian Metropolis and the swelling Olympic village, it is difficult to feel the full impact of the withdrawals of several nations.

Melbourne officials are resolutely going ahead with preparations for the games opening on Nov. 22.

* * *

Tree lined spacious Melbourne is loaded with visitors from all parts of the world and in Heidelberg Village, some eight miles from the heart of the city, athletes of all nations including American, Russian and Japanese are fraternizing freely and exchanging pleasantries as well as technique tips.

Reception of the Japanese is one of the most heartening for games organizers, since they had figured that some World War Two bitterness would remain. Many Australians were ill treated as prisoners of the Japanese.

Sixty-five countries are still listed to compete. Olympic headquarters announced that 1,052 athletes are now in camp from 31 countries.

* * *

The arrival pace is accelerating and hundreds of colorfully uniformed teams are pouring in at the airports. Two American planeloads were due in tonight with the cream of Uncle Sam's all powerful track and fielders as well as competitors in other sports.

Athletes already here are eagerly awaiting the landing of such American greats as Parry O'Brien, Olympic and world record shot putter; Charley Dumas, the world's only seven foot high jumper; Glenn Davis, the fastest 400 meter hurdler, and Lou Jones, world record 400 meter runner.

Athletes and officials from France, Italy, Britain, Nationalist China, Trinidad, Ceylon and Russia as well as the United States either arrived or were due in tonight. Sixty Hungarians, who were due this evening were not now expected until early tomorrow.

Walk Order Ignored; So Bums Beat Nips

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese pitcher refused to obey an order and opened the way for an 11th inning outburst that pushed across a run and gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the Yomiuri Giants today.

* * *

The Giants' manager ordered pitcher Takehiko Bessho to walk Jackie Robinson, Dodger third baseman, in the top of the 11th.

The pitcher refused and Robinson smashed a double that drove in Junior Gilliam from second with the winning run.

"He shouldn't do such a thing," Manager Nobuyasu Mizuhara said bitterly of his pitcher after the game.

Groups interested in application for membership should contact league officials at the YMCA, or by calling FE 5-6116.

Season Windup Saturday

St. Fred Faces Clarkston

Clarkston will be the favorite, but St. Frederick is expected to be a fired-up football team when the two schools collide Saturday night at Wisner Stadium.

Neither team has an enviable record, but Clarkston holds what little glory can be found. The Wolves have an overall mark of 2-5-1 while St. Fred has lost seven and tied one.

Both squads will be shooting the works in the season windup. St. Fred, winless in its last 33 starts, must win this game to avoid a 3rd successive season of victory starvation.

Injuries will hamper each team. St. Fred guard Jerry Dirker is a doubtful starter and teammate Joe Sharpe, who holds down the other guard post, has a bone chip in his elbow and will definitely be out of action.

Frank Palopoli, on the disabled list since the St. Mike game, will return to handle one guard spot for the Rams. Sophomore Jack Lyon, defensive standout, has a bruised muscle, but is expected to play.

Guard Dennis Alexander, a 200-pound tower of strength for Clarkston, has a badly injured hip and may not be ready Saturday. Tackle Jim Carmean has been absent from school this week with a strep infection and halfback George Lang suffered an ankle injury during practice.

Eight seniors will be playing their last game for St. Fred. Included are co-captains Wally Quarles and John Bradley, Dick Thompson, Andy Landry, Bill Mountain, Mike Malloy, Bill Price and Bernard Slabinski.

The Wolves defeated the Rams last year at Clarkston, 12-7. Game time is 8 p.m.

UP AGAINST STATE'S BEST — Final and probably the toughest football game of the year has given the PHS Chiefs' coaching staff a big job this week. The Pontiac eleven faces the state's No. 1 club, Flint Northern, at Flint's Atwood Stadium today at 8 p. m. PHS's 1956 coaching staff, not all of whom work on the varsity setup, are: From left, head coach Ed Graybiel; assistant, Dean Wilson; Fred Zittel (now working with Art Van Ryzin on basketball); Tony Pizza and Ed Heikkinen, junior varsity coaches, and Arnie Wilson, line coach for the varsity.

18 Chiefs Play Final Game

Battle With Vikings Winds Up Seniors' Careers

For 18 members of the Pontiac High School football team that tonight tackles its final, and toughest, foe of the season, in Flint's Atwood stadium, it's the end of the line for prep gridiron action.

The 18, all seniors, will see action against the top high school club of the state. Flint Northern's rampant Vikings are unbeaten in seven starts, are heavily favored to add the Chiefs to their string.

Actually, only 17 are expected to get in. Marvin Cagle, regular right end suffered a twisted knee a week ago and probably will sit the finale out on the bench.

All but three of tonight's starters (offense) are seniors. Dick Whitmer, quarterback, center Joe Hill and Larry Beamer are juniors. Senior starters are Bob Baxter (end) Dick Kors (guard) who may be one of the ends, John Massengale and Bob Holloway (tackles), Bob Kelly (guard), Emil Frisch (guard, if Kors goes at end), and backs, Lonnie Humphrey, Charley Spann, and Charley Robinson.

Other seniors include Chiefs defensive star, halfback Art Poe, who also does a lot of running with the ball, some of the passing and is one of the Valley's outstanding punters. Flashy Jimmy Shorter, quarter and halfback, hard running halfback Bob McDonald, fullback Mike Pantelides, center Gary Van Ryzin, guards Andy Ramsey, Larry Lamphere and Jim McKay complete the senior list.

Northern's coach, Andy MacDonald, this morning expressed considerable worriment over the possibility of an upset. He said he would take no chances and planned to start his first stringers.

"I don't take anything for granted in this game" said Andy. "With all that Pontiac speed something could happen very easily. I'm honestly worried about the possibilities."

Vikings will go (offensively) with the following roster. MacDonald said:

Ends—Al Miller and Ron Warren

Tackles—Wayne Collard and A. J. Williams

Guards—Gene McFadden and Ken Paul

Center—Wilbur Aaron (Vikings top defensive linebacker)

Backs—(qb) Ken Waters, (lh) John Sharpe, (fb) Phil Gaines and (rh) Arden Relaford.

Canucks Share Lead

Richard Big Help in Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard is back in business and so are the Montreal Canadiens — holding a piece of the National Hockey League lead for the first time his season.

* * *

Richard punched in a pair of goals as the defending champions finally broke on top with their fifth victory in a row, a 4-2 decision over New York's Rangers.

* * *

That gave Montreal a share of first place with Boston after the Bruins had knocked Detroit out of the lead 3-1 on two goals by Vic Stasiuk. Montreal and Boston each have 15 points, while the Red Wings have 14.

* * *

The last-place Chicago Black Hawks tripped Toronto, handing the Maple Leafs their first road defeat in six games, 5-2.

Richard, the old man of the NHL at 35, opened the scored at Monreal at 7:32 of the second period in an attack that padded the Rangers' jinx on Canadien ice to 18 losses in a row. New York had brought up goalie John Bower from Providence for this one, but he'll be back with the Reds Sunday.

Gerry McNeil, subbing for Montreal goalie Jacques Plante, who is ill, for the second consecutive night, turned back 33 shots.

Ranger defenseman Bill Gadsby drew a game misconduct penalty and an automatic $50 fine for his bitter protest when Referee Lou Maschio disallowed a third period New York goal because a Ranger was in the crease.

Adios Harry Ready to Quit for Season

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Adios Harry may race a time or two again this year, his Delaware owner said today, but the world champion will be sent to the farm shortly and retire for the season as the greatest one year money-winning pacer.

* * *

J. Howard Lyons, Greenwood, Del. farmer, announced plans for the 5-year-old son of Adios-Helen Win after Adios Harry whipped seven of the world's fastest pacers last night in the $75,000 Eastern Championship at Yonkers Raceway.

* * *

Luther Lyons, son of the owner, drove Harry to a hard earned, ¾-length victory over the West Coast threat, Diamond Hal, owned by Sol Camp of Shafner, Calif. Third, another ¾ of a length away, was Bachelor Hanover, a top 3-year-old sidewheeler owned by Hazel Rubin, Balston Spa, N.Y.

Junior Vikings Trip Little Chiefs 13-12

Failure to convert two extra-point tries yesterday afternoon cost Pontiac High School's Little Chiefs a victory in the season's Junior Varsity windup at Wisner Field. Flint Northern's Jayvees made good their 1st extra-point following a 3rd period TD, that eventually produced the win 13-12.

Loss left PHS Jayvees with a 52 mark for the season and a 3–2 in the Valley. They tied with Flint Central for 2nd place, while the Junior Vikings were unbeaten to top the loop.

Rose Bowl Spot in the Balance

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Lessons learned is past weeks go to the examinaion stage tomorrow when the Indians of Stanford battle Oregon State's Beavers in a football game that probably means the Rose Bowl.

The latest lesson was conducted by Prof. Red Sanders and his UCLA Bruins, who rushed the Indians into a 14-13 defeat last week. The powerful surge of Bruin linemen stopped the effectiveness of Stanford quarterback John Brodie and set up the upset.

With UCLA and Southern California ineligible for the PCC title because of the subsidization penalties, the candidates for the championship and the Rose Bowl bid are Stanford and Oregon State.

Tommy Prothro, coach of the OSC Beavers, was an assistant to Sanders before moving north for last season and uses many of his defensive secrets.

Mountaineers Here Tonight

Injuries Plague St. Mike

A rash of injuries will hamper St. Michael tonight when the Shamrocks face a strong Mt. Clemens St. Mary team at Wisner Stadium.

Quarterback Bob Mineweaser suffered a deep cut on his leg in practice and will be out of action, yielding the signal-calling post to Mike Flynn.

End Ken Rogers, guard Ed Lauinger and center Mike Lyons are nursing assorted injuries, making them doubtful starters for the 1956 season finale.

* * *

The Mikes will be confronted with a Mountaineer squad which chalked up a 6-1 record against larger schools. Halfbacks Jack and Bill Nebel, twin brothers, and quarterback Leo Nickels are St. Mary's top offensive threats.

St. Mike has an overall record of 4-4. An upset win over the Mountaineers would give the Shamrocks a winning edge for the year.

A combination of Homecoming and Dad's Day will be observed tonight by St. Mike.

Bids for Various Bowls Enter Stretch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Rose, Orange, Cotton and Sugar bowls stage their semifinals tomorrow as college football enters the stretch run for postseason bids, conference titles and All America recognition.

* * *

Virtually every section has a game which could be ranked the day's No. 1. But the choicest, perhaps, will be at Atlanta, Ga., where Georgia Tech, ranked second in this week's Associated Press poll, meets Tennessee, rated No. 3. It's a battle of unbeatens and the Southeastern Conference crown rides on this one — with both winner and loser likely to wind up in a New Year's Day bowl game (Sugar and Cotton), however.

* * *

That's no taffy pull sixth-ranked Minnesota and Iowa have in Minneapolis either. This one's for the Big Ten's berth in the Rose Bowl. It will be the national TV game of the day.

At Palo Alto, Calif., Stanford and Oregon State meet in a game that could decide the other Rose Bowl entry as the Pacific Coast Conference host.

The Orange Bowl tickets probably can be printed tomorrow night, Colorado plays Missouri at Columbia, Mo., to name the Big Seven's representative to the Miami classic, while Clemson can pad its already fat bid as the Atlantic Coast Conference entry by beating Maryland.

* * *

And at Dallas, fifth-ranked Texas A&M and Southern Methodist play for what could be a giant step toward the Southwest Conference title and the league's host entry to the Cotton Bowl. The Aggies, however, have to shake NCAA probationary action to make it should they take the crown.

All of which pushes most members of the top 10 into unaccustomed roles as lesser lights. Oklahoma, No. 1, casts the shadow of a 36-game winning streak over inept Iowa State. Michigan State, No. 5, plays Purdue; Ohio State, No. 7, meets Indiana; Syracuse, No. 9, tries Holy Cross; and Michigan, No. 10 plays Illinois. Miami (Fla), No. 8, is idle.

In games tonight, it's Richmond at George Washington in a Southern Conference scrap; and South Oregon at Hawaii.

* * *

Georgia Tech, with a 12-game unbeaten streak that includes last year's 7-7 tie by Tennessee, definitely will have George Volkert running at right half against the Vols. After missing last week's 7-0 chiller against Duke because of a leg injury, Volkert impressed Coach Bobby Dodd so much in yesterday's drill he "may even start."

* * *

Tailback Johnny Majors is Tennessee's big man, a 5-10 ball of fire who plays as though he invented the pass-run option.

With Ohio State and Michigan State ineligible for the Rose Bowl, Minnesota could virtually nail its first trip to the Pasadena classic by defeating Iowa. The Gophers are unbeaten but once-tied (0-0 by Northwestern), while Iowa, still in on the bowl battle, has lost only to Michigan. It's Minnesota's Bobby Cox against Hawkeye Kenny Ploen, a pair of quarterbacks.

Oregon State got its foot in the door when UCLA upset Stanford last week, but the Beavers will have to dam up passer John Brodie to make it pay off.

AP Wirephoto

RAMBLING WRECK — The nation's number two team, Georgia Tech will have its hands full tomorrow against the number three team Tennessee, but this pair of wreckers will be the pillars of strength for Tech. Quarterback Toppy Vann (left) and 224-pound tackle lead the Ramblin' Wreck.

Detroit Confab to Hear A. & M. Probation Matter

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. F. D. Mouzon, president of the Southwest Conference, said today the question of lifting a probation hanging over Texas A&M will be taken up at the NCAA council meeting in Detroit Tuesday. But he would not hazard a guess as to the result.

* * *

Neither would Dr. Mouzon say if the case of Jack Moreland, the basketball player who signed a letter of intent at Texas A&M and then went to North Carolina State, would be considered in the council's decision.

* * *

Texas newspapers say a Texas A&M alumnus reportedly made an offer to Moreland, the Minden, La., schoolboy star, thus bringing this matter into the picture and causing predictions that A&M would not be taken off probation by the NCAA. Unless it is A&M can not play in a bowl game Jan. 1.

* * *

The Southwest Conference removed A&M from probation for violating the recruiting rules and Dr. Mouzon recommended to the NCAA that it do likewise. But, the conference president said, the council, in its meeting last summer at Denver, declined on grounds that the infractions committee would have to investigate and report back.

* * *

The Moreland case arose after this. The Louisiana schoolboy signed letters of intent at Kentucky and A&M, committed himself verbally to Centenary, then went to North Carolina State.

Cranes Finish Slate Tonight

Cranbrook 11 Invades Fitzgerald for Scrap of 'Have Not' Teams

It will be a battle of the "have nots" tonight at Van Dyke when Cranbrook's football team squares off with Fitzgerald in the final game of the 1956 season for both schools.

The two teams have similar records. Cranbrook has the edge with one victory, five defeats and a tie. Fitzgerald, with seven losses and one tie, is still looking for its 1st win of the year.

Each squad finished last in its respective league. The Cranes, defending Inter-State League champions, could only tie Shady Side in their plunge to the cellar. Fitzgerald had a basement finish in the Oakland B League.

Cranbrook's lone triumph was a 34-13 decision over Lake Forest Academy in a nonleague game early in the year. Ironically, Fitzgerald's best effort was a 13-13 deadlock with Oakland B champion Clawson, also early in the season.

Both schools have been unable to combine adequate offense and defense in any game. The Cranes are slim favorites for the game, which starts at 8 p.m.

Nancy Is 'Incognito' Wearing Nun's Habit

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Nancy Kelly sneaked her husband into our little lunch date.

★ ★ ★

Still, it was fascinating—Nancy babbling the problems of playing Sister Mary Aquinas, the flying nun, on Studio One Monday.

"It's amazing what happens when you get into a nun's habit," she called across the menu. "You're absolutely incognito.

NANCY

"People are schooled not to look at you. Walking into my own building, forgetting I was in my habit, I said to the doorman, 'Good evening, Andy.' He said, 'Good evening, Sister.'

"Later he exclaimed, 'Was that you, Mrs. Caro?' You see nobody ever looks."

Nancy portrays the nun from Manitowoc, Wis., who became the first nun to get a pilot's license. Now, at 62, Sister Mary Aquinas wants to fly a jet. They met at a rehearsal after Nancy took over the part vacated by Margaret Sullavan—and afterward Nancy, in the back seat of a car, was perishing for a smoke.

★ ★ ★

"I thought it would look pretty incongruous; so I forced myself to wait till I got home."

She was still in the habit when her husband came home. Nancy's expecting a baby in March, and the expectant father gave her a kiss. Flustered a little, Nancy stammered, "Oh, no, you'd better not!"

It perhaps shows how actresses convince themselves they're somebody else. Nancy's had the experience. As a little girl starting out in Lowell, Mass., she was in 50 movies before she was eight, and many think "The Bad Seed," which she did on B'way and in Hollywood, was the high point of a great career.

Sister Mary Aquinas'll appear with her briefly on the show.

"We've both been talking about whether the white part of the habit shouldn't be blue—so it'll look better on television," Nancy said.

"Anyway you have to get in the habit of wearing your habit."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Yvonne De Carlo was nice to a man on a plane—told him she didn't mind his cigar. He got her tickets to "My Fair Lady," so now she has two pairs . . . Peggy King's admirer, Andre Previn, may have trouble in his contemplated divorce. Mrs. Previn wires that she is expecting in February . . . Broadway's new eating champ, Angelo, a CBS elevator operator, ate $14.95 worth of delicatessen at the Stage Delicatessen, all paid for by Joe Glaser, the rich agent who books Louis Armstrong and Noel Coward.

BEVERLY

Faye Emerson and Skitch Henderson, reported busting up, were a duo . . . "Li'l Abner," opening soon—without star names—has a $718,000 advance sale . . . Marilyn Monroe may return for the "Baby Doll" premiere Dec. 18; it's an Actors' Studio benefit . . . Beverly Anderson, who was an "exotic dancer" at Minsky's, played the same role on the "Sgt. Bilko" TV'er.

William Powell's son, Bill Jr., weds TV actress Patty Parsons next month . . . Rudy Vallee's rewriting his own bio; couldn't come to terms with writer Frank Scully . . . Fran Warren will leave "Pajama Game" to work the Statler hotel chain . . . Ann Sheridan'll have her name on a line of dresses.

Earl's Pearls . . .

It isn't the used cars that are a menace on the highways; it's the mis-used ones.—S. S. Biddle.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A boy's best friend is his father, and if he gets up early or stays up late he may get to see him."—Quote.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Whether or not you like Lawrence Welk's music, notes Walter Slezak, you must admire him for one thing—he made a lot of people forget Liberace.

It's a grim thought, sighs Rob't Q. Lewis, but "Blue Suede Shoes" and "Nothin' But a Hound Dog" are what today's youngsters will someday nostalgically call "our song." . . . That's earl, brother.

Mighty Rescue for Tiny Crew

Navy Sub, Destroyer, Plane, Boat Team Up, Save 5 on Blazing Craft

SHINNECOCK, N. Y. (AP) — A Navy submarine and a destroyer teamed up yesterday with other vessels and a Coast Guard plane in the rescue of five men from a burning fishing trawler.

The Agda, 56-foot commercial fishing craft, caught fire in rough sea near here on the eastern end of Long Island.

In the area were the destroyer Willis A. Lee; the submarine Garfish, out of New London, Conn.; and another fishing vessel, the Seahawk.

* * *

The Lee, sighting smoke rising from the Agda, radioed the submarine, which was submerged. The sub then surfaced and both naval craft sped to the scene.

Meanwhile, a Coast Guard boat was racing from Montauk and Cost Guard amphibious plane hovered over the area.

* * *

The five men left their burning ship in a dory, were picked up by the Seahawk and later transferred to the Coast Guard cutter.

The Navy vessels put out the fire on the Agda and the Coast Guard boat attached a hawser, intending to tow her to New London.

But the Agda started sinking and the lines were cut loose.

The Agda was out of New Bedford, Mass.

McGuire Sisters' Apartment Loot Valued at $40,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the singing McGuire sisters have reported their Manhattan apartment was looted of $40,000 in valuables —including furs, jewelry, clothing, a TV set and refrigerator.

The thieves even took rugs and drapes worth $1,250 and $1,000 worth of silverware, police were told by Dorothy and Phyllis McGuire. The third sister, Chris, is married and lives elsewhere.

The burglary took place Wednesday night while the sisters were warbling on the Arthur Godfrey TV show.

Hollywood Headlines

Ethel Barrymore Signed for John Carroll's Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Perseverance on John Carroll's part is responsible for his getting Ethel Barrymore in his first independent picture, "Rebel on the Fourth Floor," based on a story by Ben Ames Williams.

John said today that he has five million dollars in Texas money back of his Clarion Enterprises and he is going to try to bring showmanship back to the movie business. Well, he's going about it in the right way in getting Ethel.

He asked me how I liked the title "Johnny Trouble," and I told him I liked it better than "Rebel on the Fourth Floor" because we've had so many "Rebel" pictures.

Everybody is glad that Ethel's career is reactivated. This is the second picture she's signed for in 10 days.

When good looking British actor William Travers arrives in Hollywood (and he's on his way), he'll be married here!

The bride-to-be, Virginia McKenna, also English and an actress, follows him to this country within 10 days. The lovebirds recently completed "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" with Jennifer Jones in London, Bill playing the Robert Browning role and Virginia playing Jennifer's sister.

Travers' trip to MGM is to co-star with Eleanor Parker in "The Seventh Vow," the brand new title for "The Painted Veil." Wonder why MGM changed the name of the Somerset Maugham classic?

CHEER FOR KIRK

All you teenagers who have been protesting so loudly about being portrayed in movies as delinquent or as "all mixed up" can give a cheer for Kirk Douglas.

For his Bryna Company, Kirk has bought "Young Lovers" by Edward Lewis — a tender youthful love story which presents teenagers as neither hot rod idiots nor as little monsters.

Kirk tells me that the juvenile leads in his picture, a boy and a girl, will be recruited from Broadway plays.

One of my spies reports that Cary Grant and Betsy Drake had been lunching with D. A. Doran, head of Paramount production, so, of course, I tracked down D. A. He said that Paramount was going to release the Alfred Hitchcock picture starring Cary which will be made in May.

Paramount has such confidence in the ability of Hitchcock to make a great picture, and in Cary's box office appeal that the name of the film is not even known yet.

But you can bet Hitchy will turn up with a fine thriller-diller, and one that will bring money into the box office.

LOOK FOR WEDDING

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: You needn't be surprised if Jimmy Durante marries Marjorie Little in a matter of months.

Nancy Berg left Hollywood in a huff, heatedly saying she wants no part of motion pictures. Could her reason be because she didn't get the Helen Morgan role?

Friends of Janice Rule are delighted to hear of her marriage to playwright Robert Thom. Janice had a rough time suffering with a severe kidney ailment, but she's well again.

Cathy Crosby, Bob's pretty daughter, was having the time of her life at the Plymouth House, again with good-looking Deno Castelli.

Field Parishioners

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP)—Grace Methodist Church had $53 and its congregation had sore muscles, back kinks and sunburned faces and hands to prove the members would work for their church.

The congregation picked 1,700 pounds of cotton on a nearby farm and donated the proceeds to the church building fund.

Snagged, Boy Drowns

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — Keith Dunn, 12, drowned in the YMCA swimming pool when his foot caught between a filter pipe and a wall of the pool. He was swimming with 17 other members of his Boy Scout troop. Several of the boys tried frantically to free him. They finally managed to get his head above water, but too late.

Guard Unit Gets New Equipment

By CHUCK ABAIR

The weekly indoor training sessions of Pontiac's Company M of the 125th Infantry have been stepped up considerably by the addition of two new weapon attachments, it was announced today by a spokesman for the local National Guard unit.

A sniperscope for rifles and a mortar device designed especially for armory practice are the valuable new equipment pieces put into use recently.

All members of the company are being instructed in the use of the sniperscope which is the first to be issued a unit in this area.

The sniperscope, which was used by American troops in Korean action, is a scope mounted on a rifle and is operated by one man. It is said to be exceptionally effective at night through the use of infrared rays.

* * *

The opportunity to train regularly in the operation of mortars is expected to be an important step in the progress of the company. Previous firing practice had been limited to summer camp.

Use of special dummy projectiles much smaller and lighter than regular shells make this indoor practice possible.

* * *

When fired, the projectiles just pop out of the weapon a short distance and drop to the floor, the Guard spokesman said. Company M has acquired about 40 of these special projectiles which can be used repeatedly.

Training with the new additions got under way at last week's meeting following an explanation of their operation. The unit is commanded by Capt. A. J. Largent.

MORTARS IN ACTION — The mortar unit of the Company M National Guard infantry unit of Pontiac has begun indoor training sessions with the weapon for the first time, due to the acquisition of small projectiles specially made for inside practice. Operation of the mortar had been previously limited to summer camp. This photo shows M.Sgt. Maurice Vennard, 640 Balboa Pl., standing, demonstrating the use of the small projectiles. Operating the weapon are Sgt. Robert Fuller, left, of Wayne, and Lake Orion resident, Pfc. James Middleton.

GUARD'S NEW WEAPON — A sniperscope which fires .30 caliber shells automatically like a machine gun is the newest weapon of Pontiac's Company M of the 125th Infantry Battalion. Sgt. Bill Flippo, of 103 Hamilton St., at left, is conducting instructions in the firing of rifle-type gun. Shown testing the sights is Pfc. Dean Millen, of Clarkston.

Dems Hold Majority of All Governorships

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democrats successfully bucked the Eisenhower landslide in the state capitals of the nation and today held better than a majority of the 48 governorships.

* * *

With a few contests still in doubt, the Democrats held or were leading in 28 states, the Republicans in 20. Included in these totals were 13 holdover Democrats and five Republicans in states without gubernatorial contests.

Thus, barring possible changes as the result of later tabulations, the Democrats found themselves in the enviable situation of having strengthened their positions in the important state houses. The lineup before Tuesday's balloting was 27 Democratic governors and 21 Republican.

When the Democrats had recovered sufficiently from the impact of the Eisenhower landslide to check the results elsewhere, they found themselves holding the whip-hand in 28 state capitals.

Bands Raid Israel From Jordan, Syria

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab commando bands from Jordan and Syria staged hit-and-run raids on Israel for the second successive night, Israeli army headquarters said today.

* * *

Military headquarters said six Israelis were wounded in as many attacks by commandos last night and early today.

The night before, Israel charged, bands from Jordan staged six raids at scattered places along a 30-mile stretch.

* * *

The increased fedayeen activity came after two weeks of comparative quiet on the Jordan and the Syrian borders. The fedayeen are Egyptian-trained commandos who stage sabotage and terror raids, usually in bands of three to eight men.

Fine Lot of Pennies for Speeder to Count

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Benny Bowen walked into municipal court carrying a 40-pound sack of pennies to pay a $58 traffic fine.

At the payment window was Judge Donald R. Wright, who had found Bowen, 21, guilty of speeding and drag racing.

"We're not going to count those pennies — you are," Judge Wright told Bowen.

Several hours later, Bowen paid up with the pennies neatly counted in envelopes.

Margin Surprises Democratic Governor

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The first Democrat to be elected governor of Kansas in 20 years says his winning margin of 114,000 votes Tuesday was "a little more than I expected."

* * *

George Docking, a banker at Lawrence, Kan., made the comment yesterday when he visited Gov. Fred Hall at the Capital.

* * *

Docking upset the strong Republican tradition in Kansas by beating Warren W. Shaw, lawyer and veteran legislator. Observers agreed the Democratic victory represented a voter protest against bitter factional fighting among Kansas Republican leaders. The feuding reached it's height in the August primary when Hall sought the usually automatic nomination for a second term but lost to Shaw.

Loss for Boyne City

BOYNE CITY (AP)—The city loses one of its two dentists Nov. 26 with the recall of Dr. J. M. Snider, 35, to active duty with the Air Force. He was a fighter pilot in World War II, but has been assigned to Gunter Field in Montgomery, Ala., as a dentist with the rank of captain. His departure leaves only one dentist for the city's 3,000 residents.

Export Hopes Prop Up Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains firmed after an irregular start on the board of trade today. Volume picked up when the market advanced.

* * *

Israel's announcement it was willing to withdraw its forces from Egypt served to ease the international tension somewhat, but there still was very little inclination to sell grains.

A major prop under the market, particularly in wheat and soybeans, was expectation of a very big export business.

* * *

Traders, expecting a very big export business in wheat over the next several weeks, helped give the bread grain a firm tone. West Germany is reported to have taken out import licenses on 13 million bushels of hard wheat.

5 Schools to Get Improvements

Board Picks Architects; Boilers, Fire Alarms, Pool Due for Repairs

The Pontiac Board of Education last night selected architects to prepare preliminary plans for rehabilitation work at five schools.

Cost estimates will be made from these plans.

H. E. Beyster and Associates, Detroit, was selected to plan boiler replacements at Wisner and McConnell Elementary Schools.

William C. Zimmerman and Associates, Pontiac, was chosen to plan work at Pontiac High School, Eastern Junior High School and Crofoot Elementary School.

At the high school, work includes improvements in the fire alarm system, the swimming pool and girls' locker room, and the home-making room.

Ventilation and incinerator repairs are scheduled at Crofoot.

The rehabilitation work is part of a program to maintain and improve facilities at existing schools.

Field for Competition: Medium Priced Cars

NEW YORK (INS)—A Ford Co. vice president said today that the auto industry's major competitive efforts in the next decade may be switched to the medium-priced field. Richard E. Krafve, general manager of the new Ford Special Products Division, also said an annual new car volume of 8,500,000 may be normal by 1965 with peaks exceeding totEhshrdluetaoinshrdl extending to more than 9,500,000 units.

Market Gains Then Mixes

NEW YORK (AP) — After a brief advance the stock market became mixed in early trading today.

Pivotal stocks fluctuated from fractions to around a point in quiet trading.

The initial gains were made after two days of generally declining prices.

Aircrafts were favored, advancing a point or more then backed away but still kept much of their rises.

MIDEAST NEWS HELPS

The early action was a continuation of the firming trend late yesterday when there was more reassuring news from the Middle East. Brokers said they were encouraged by the response of individual stocks to good corporate news.

Study Parking for High School

Board May Construct Lot on Grounds Facing State Street

Construction of a parking lot on Pontiac High School grounds is being considered by the Board of Education as solution to the crowded parking situation there.

The lot would be along State street in front of the building.

City Traffic Engineer, Theodore Vanderstemple, has been asked to study the possibility, Dr. Otto C. Hufziger said at the board's meeting last night.

He said a recent survey shows the problem is created by about 200 youngsters who drive to school. Another 75 pupils have indicated they would drive if parking were available, he added.

However, 94 parking spaces are needed by faculty and staff members alone, he pointed out.

The circle drive on the Huron street side of the school accommodates only 38 cars.

The parking situation will become critical when a recent state law becomes effective Jan. 1. This law would prohibit parking on Huron since it is a state road.

Most of the students have been parking on Huron this year.

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent, said there are no plans to turn playground area into parking facilities.

"The playgrounds serve 3,000 students," he said, "Parking is needed only by about 200 students."

One Dead, One Hurt in Auto Accident

Arthur H. Todd, 34, of 4619 Olivia St., Royal Oak, was dead on admittance to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit early this morning, and Maud Newton, 38, 606 Lawson St., is in critical condition at that hospital.

Their car hit an abutment at the Eight Mile road and Woodward Overpass.

Patrolman Gerald Barnett of the Detroit Accident Prevention Bureau, said Todd was driving north on Woodward and apparently fell asleep. Todd and Newton, a passenger, were thrown out of the car by the impact.

Motor Scooter Driver Rams Auto, Breaks Leg

A motor scooter driver suffered a broken right leg when he rammed the rear of an auto on State street yesterday, Pontiac Police said.

Gerald L. Hagemeister, 16, of 726 Crescent Lake Rd. was listed in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

The motorist, Sharon R. Huffman, 21, of 85 Judson, said she stopped suddenly south of Prall street for a car ahead, police added.

3 Motor Firms Get Army Car Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—Three motor car companies have received Army ordnance contracts for production of sedans and station wagons. The contracts are worth nearly three million dollars.

They went to Ford Motor Co., Chevrolet Division of General Motors, and American Motors. More than $1,500,000 went to Ford, nearly $1,400,000 to Chevrolet and $20,000 to American Motors.

Thieves Enter Station, Get Thirty Pennies

Thirty pennies were gained from the till of a gas station at 824 N. Perry St. by thieves who broke in last night, Pontiac police said.

Efforts to pry open vending machines failed, they said. Entry was gained by breaking a restroom window, they added.

Legislators Wind Up Marathon Session After Hunting Ways to Boost Their Pay

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's legislators called it quits for 1956 today after seriously considering voting themselves a $1,500-a-year pay raise.

The salary question, raised two days after most of them were re-elected for another two years, was the last to come up in a stop-and-go special session devoted chiefly to political shadowboxing over unemployment benefits.

It never was formally presented in bill form because of balkiness on the part of a bloc of influential Republican senators.

The special meeting of the Legislature opened five months ago June 12—one month after the end of the regular 1956 session.

After a Republican Senate caucus, Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), GOP caucus chairman, said the pay raise idea was turned down mainly because some strings were attached.

Brenda Signs for Como Stints

Erin O'Brien Works for Godfrey, but Never Meets Him

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Gisele MacKenzie told us this will be her last "Hit Parade" season. She'll get her own show next year, some network will learn luckily and expensively . . .

Gisele was ready two years ago for her own show but in a truer reflection of humility than Godfrey's version, the amazingly talented lass didn't know it . . .

Lilting little Brenda Lee (she's 9) was signed for half a dozen Perry Como Shows. A great little talent . . .

Beautiful Erin O'Brien, who won "Talent Scouts" and appeared on Godfrey shows thereafter, never actually met the great man even once . . . Erin has movie and TV offers but can't get her manager to make up his mind about her career . . .

Jan Murray, having spent a fortune on his ulcers, should have waited: His son Warren has just decided to be a doctor . . .

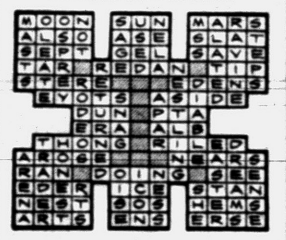

NAMES CHOSEN

The Steve Allens (Jayne Meadows) already have picked out the name of their impending offspring, though it won't arrive until May: Barbara if a girl, William, if a boy . . .

Linda Woods, 19-year-old heiress to ABC-TV Film Festival host Donald Woods, weds non-pro Robert Drew Nov. 17 . . .

Barbara Nichols, the apprentice Marilyn Monroe, was "Agathon," successor to Dagmar on Jerry Lester's TV shows . . .

Right Answers for Pot-O-Gold Can Bring $500

Now that several weeks have passed without a winner for Pot-O-Gold, the prize money is again climbing into the upper brackets. This week's Puzzle No. 23 is worth $500 if the entries fail to bring a correct solution for last week's puzzle. How about taking a few minutes away from your busy day and enjoying the contest? It's a lot of fun and it may bring in considerable extra cash for that Thanksgiving turkey and trimmings, with money left over for some early Christmas shopping. Care to give it a try?

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 23 must bear a Tuesday, Nov. 13, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Navy to Name Carrier 'USS Constellation'

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy has chosen the name "USS Constellation" for the sixth of its 60,000 ton aircraft carriers.

The keel of the super flattop is to be laid in September, 1957, in the New York naval shipyard and will be completed in about three years.

The earlier supercarriers, which have been authorized at a rate of one a year since the start of the Korean War, were named the Forrestal, the Saratoga, the Independence, the Ranger and the Kitty Hawk.

Frozen strawberry pack in the U. S. in 1955 amounted to about 260 million pounds.

Sticker Candidate 3rd

BALDWIN (AP) — Rep. Kenneth Trucks (R-Baldwin), who ran as a sticker candidate after his defeat in the primary in August, ran third in final returns from Tuesday's election. Votes in the district which includes Mason, Lake and Osceola counties showed Hans C. Rasmussen (R) 9,827; Arthur C. Hansen (D) 5,707, and Trucks 1,828.
