Too Busy to Retire

FORMER PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER

Works 12 - 14 Hours a Day

'Keep Busy,' Hoover Warns Oldsters as He Turns 82

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Former President Herbert Hoover is 82 years old today but he still works nearly 100 hours a week on a wide variety of projects.

In fact, the elderly statesman says hard work is the secret of staying young.

In line with his belief that work is the best way to achieve happiness, Hoover will take little time out from his busy schedule to celebrate his birthday today.

He said yesterday in San Francisco he will "probably have dinner with some old friends" and added:

"I expect they'll have a cake."

He said he will make his "third farewell address" to a Republican convention "because the President demanded it" and he therefore considers it "his duty."

Besides working on the convention speech, Hoover is 1. engaged in a fund-raising drive for the Stanford Medical School; 2. writing a history of his work as food administrator during and after World War I; 3. promoting recommendations of the Commission on Reorganization of the Federal Government which he headed, and 4. promoting the Boys' Clubs of America.

His secretary, Bernice Miller, says he works "12 to 14 hours every single day including Sunday" on these myriad tasks.

To those "oldsters" who have or are about to retire, Hoover offered this advice:

"There is no joy to be had from retirement except some kind of productive work. Otherwise you will degenerate into talking to everybody about your pains and pills and income tax. The other oldsters will want to talk about their own pains and pills and income tax.

"Any oldster who keeps at even part-time work has something worth talking about. He has a zest for the morning paper and his three meals a day. The point of all this is not to retire from work or you will shrivel up into a nuisance to all mankind."

Eisenhower Calls For Huddle on Suez

'Responsibility' of Canal Crisis Motivates Ike

But Dulles Foresees No Need of Summoning Congress on Matter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today President Eisenhower called a Sunday meeting with congressional leaders on the Suez Canal crisis because the President "feels very strongly about sharing responsibility with Congress, particularly if there should be any risk of hostilities."

Dulles said, however, "I don't see anything in the situation now which would suggest that a special session of Congress would be required."

The secretary talked briefly with reporters at Washington National Airport before taking off for New York to meet with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold of the U.N. and U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

The meeting was arranged for a general discussion of Middle Eastern problems including Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

Eisenhower yesterday called congressional leaders to meet at the White House Sunday for a report on the canal dispute.

This stirred speculation about the possibility of a special session of Congress later on, or at least the serious consideration of that posibility.

The U. S. government, it was learned today, has circulated to the countries which will attend the London conference a proposal for an international authority with complete control over the use of the Suez and its development, fees and finances.

Moscow's acceptance to the conference left only Egypt, Greece and Spain to be heard from of the 24 nations the United States, Britain and France lined up for the parley. All the others have accepted.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser is expected to give his answer Sunday. Most diplomats believe it will be "no."

Was Pontiac Safety Consultant

Noted Auto Racing Driver, Ab Jenkins, Dies Suddenly

MILWAUKEE—Abner (Ab) Jenkins, 73, former mayor of Salt Lake City and a noted racing driver, died of a heart attack last night.

He had attended the twi-night doubleheader between the Milwaukee Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals and was being driven to his hotel from County Stadium when he collapsed. He was pronounced dead on arrival at County Emergency Hospital.

Jenkins was safety consultant to Pontiac Motor Division and was in Milwaukee on Pontiac business. He was scheduled to attend the Elkhart Lake Road race Saturday and Sunday.

JENKINS

Just last June the stocky, white-haired driver with help from his son, Marvin, drove a stock model Pontiac an average of 118.375 miles an hour for a new 24-hour endurance auto speed record, shattering existing American unlimited and class C stock car standards.

He held six speed and endurance marks when he died.

Jenkins was born in Spanish Fork, Utah. In 1926 he became interested in driving and took a car from New York to San Francisco in 86 hours and 20 minutes—faster than any train had made the trip at that time.

He made the Bonneville Salt Flats west of Salt Lake City the nation's most famous racing ground.

His records that still stand are: 200 miles at 196 mph, 1,000 miles at 172 mph; 3,000 miles in excess of 165 mph.

Moore in Hands of Circuit Court

Accused Slayer Listens to Witnesses' Testimony at Examination

Howard W. Moore, 23, was bound over to Circuit Court this morning for arraignment Tuesday following examination of evidence in the sex slaying of his Lake Orion neighbor, three-year-old Martha Little.

The examination, which begun at 10 a.m. in Clarkston, was highlighted by the tesimony of seven witnesses who were questioned by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

The arraignment has been set for 9 a.m. Tuesday before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

The examination began before Justice William H. Stamp of Independence Township, where the child was found dead in a lovers' lane 11½ miles from her home.

Moore is accused of luring the girl into his car after dinner July 27 and driving her to the lane where he allegedly assaulted and beat her to death.

His sister-in-law, Lois Jones, 18, of Lake Orion, testified she saw Moore with blood on his face and shirt at "about 11 p.m." at the Lake Orion drive-in where she is a car hop.

"How could I be there at 11 when I was arrested at 10:20?" Moore asked in his only comment during the proceedings.

Pot-O-Gold Shivers as Entry Pile Rises

It's been a safe and secure two weeks, but the word this morning is that the Pot-O-Gold's burden of 400 crisp dollar bills is existing on borrowed time. Entries for Puzzle No. 10 (held over for a week) are stacked to lamp-top level on our judges' desks with four more days to the deadline.

We're aiming for the ceiling . . . so another list of the words needed to win has been included on Page Two. Look at them, use them and poise your pencil when you've finished because Puzzle No. 11 begins Monday.

Commissioners Discuss Starlings —With 'Music'

A faraway clamor of starlings was heard briefly at last night's meeting of the Pontiac City Commission.

The allegorical "chirping" came when City Commissioner Philip E. Rowston told City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn, acting city manager, that he has received complaints that flocks of starlings have again invaded the city, and asked Wrenn what he intended to do about it.

"I don't know, commissioner," Wrenn sighed. "In the past five or six years, we've tried everything we could think of. Shotguns, owls in the trees, poison spray — nothing seems to help.

"Thinning the trees seems to help a little, but then the birds just move to another tree. We might start arming the police with shotguns, but it seems every time you kill one, two more come along to take its place."

"Well, I just wanted to be sure something is being done about it," Rowston said.

Says He'll Stand on Principles He Believes In

Truman to Name Man He Prefers on Ballot Saturday

CHICAGO (INS) — Averell Harriman arrived in Chicago today confidently predicting he will win the Democratic presidential nomination because he is "standing on principles" he deeply believes in.

He was met at the airport by about 100 cheering supporters and then rode behind a police escort to his Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel suite one floor below that of former President Harry S. Truman.

Harriman would not say whether he expects to be the man Truman picks when the ex-president announces his choice of nominees Safurday.

His only comment about some speculation Truman might name him was: "Any time my name is associated with Harry Truman, I'm mighty proud."

Harriman was expected to see Truman today. Adlai Stevenson, the front-running candidate, had a short "social" visit this morning with the former President in his hotel suite.

It was "Give 'Em Hell" Harry who came to Chicago yesterday for the political wars, and he seemed at home in every role—behind the scenes or in front of them.

A hectic arrival at the train station, a news conference to announce he would make a choice and a fiery fling on the Platform Committee witness stand made up the ex-president's official day.

Then the real politicking began.

SOUTH HAPPY

But the squabble over a civil rights plank in the Democratic platform seemed literally all over but the shouting.

Proponents and opponents of a stronger plank were to go before the Platform committee today to climax a week of hearings on the campaign documents.

Southern Platform Committee members from 10 states caudecide what step they should take next in the "controversy."

Phone Service Cut by Crash

Driver Unhurt as Truck Rams 3 Poles, Burns; Clarkston 'Isolated'

A truck loaded with food knocked down three telephone poles on Dixie Highway north of Waterford Hill early today, snapping three overhead cables and cutting off major telephone and teletype service from Detroit and Pontiac to the Flint-Saginaw-Bay City area.

Service was to be restored to Clarkston by 11 a.m. All incoming and outgoing calls were cut off, leaving the village isolated. Officials hoped full service north would be restored by noon.

Some 30 Bell Telephone workers were at the scene and 20 test-men stationed along the route of the major lines to check effectiveness of the repair work, according to Ray Storm, manager of the Pontiac Bell Office.

A semi-trailer driven by James Gramblin, 23, of Detroit, hit the soft shoulder about 2:30 a.m., bounced off a tree, rammed the poles and then burst into flames from a side gas tank.

Gramblin leaped to safety and was not injured. One pole and the truck, owned by the National Food Stores, burned. The entire cab and part of the trailer were destroyed.

Ask 45 Pct. Fare Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Central, the Pennsylvania and other Eastern railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to increase first class passenger fares 45 per cent.

Ohio Girl Sets New Tam Amateur Record

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman's amateur course record for Tam O'Shanter course, a 68 for the men's amateur division and a couple 68s by two top golfers, marked this morning's play in the "world" championships.

Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio, fired 34-36—70 for a 6-under-par course mark.

Ward Wetlaufer of Buffalo, N.Y., carded the 35-33—68 to lead the men's amateur group, while Johnny Palmer (1949 world winner) and the 1955 National Open champion, Jack Fleck hit the 68 totals to lead the top flight in early rounds today.

Local National Guardsmen Leave Tomorrow for Camp

Over 200 Pontiac National Guardsmen leave Saturday by truck convoy for Camp Grayling to undergo the annual two-week summer training program of the Fifth Army.

The group will include 110 men and five officers of Company M, 125th Infantry and 97 men and five officers of the 107th Ordinance Company.

The local troops will be among some 10,000 Guardsmen from every part of Michigan taking part in the training between Aug. 11 and Aug. 25. The camp grind actually gets under way Monday.

Highlights of the Guard camp will be Governor's Day on Aug. 18. Governor G. Mennen Williams and several other state dignitaries will be on hand to review the troops at a parade scheduled for 2 p.m.

The exodus of Guard units from Detroit will hit Oakland County early tomorrow morning when truck convoys in groups of 15 will pass through Pontiac and head north along US-10 to M-83. The last such convoy will be on the road by 8 a.m., according to Guard officers.

An advance party of three men left by truck Thursday morning for the camp with M. Sgt. Everett Austin in charge. Sgt. Austin will make arrangements for the living quarters for the units, aided by the others who will also attend cooking school prior to the camp opening.

Preparations and instructions to the Water Street armory, with the various platoons conducting inspections of clothing and equipment. All pre-camp paper work will also be completed at this final meeting.

The two units will make the entire trip to Camp Grayling and back by truck convoy.

School Board Gives Approval to Construction

The school administration announced plans at a Board of Education meeting last night to go ahead with construction of a $450,000 elementary school at a site north of Kennett road and east of the present Grand Trunk Western Railroad right-of-way.

Definite plans for construction had been postponed because of proposed new marshalling yards in the area. Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said last night it had been decided that the yards would not bring about a "noisy and dangerous" situation for school children.

The school is part of a $1,800,000 building program to meet 1957 classroom needs and will be located on a site now owned by the board.

The Board approved picking up an option to buy five acres of land adjacent to the Willis School on Opdyke road. The price was $1,000 per acre. The space will be used for a multi-purpose room and for a play area.

Pre-Convention Atmosphere Lacks Winning Tang

Democrats Need Spellbinder to Dispel Gloom Clouds

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO —The Democrats are gathering here for a big job—and they know it is a big job. There's a very evident fear that it may be too big.

* * *

In spite of off the lake breezes, the pre-convention atmosphere is identical with what it was when their national convention assembled in Philadelphia in 1948 and here in Chicago in 1952. It lacks the tang of a winner.

HAAS

A spellbinding orator is needed to kill off the defeatism complex, just as he was needed on both former occasions—and at both times he came forward and did the trick. I was there and saw it done.

At Philadelphia they named a winning ticket, although most of them didn't honestly think it would be. Four years ago they named a loser whom many of them now think has learned that the road to the White House is not paved with wisecracks, and can make the grade on another try.

ONLY THE THREE

In 1948 President Harry S. Truman surely was entitled to the nomination. He had the job through the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt and according to tradition had a clear claim to make the run for a full term on his own.

But the party was divided. The country resounded with the cry of "time for a change." The convention started in the doldrums.

It was rescued only through the great oratory of Alben Barkley. It was dead until he spoke. He favored Truman and Truman won the nomination.

Political experts said that night there were only three people in the nation who felt Truman could win in November — himself, his wife and daughter, Margaret.

But fighting Harry made it a personal affair, put Bess and Margaret into it, toured the nation with them, and with the assistance of the cockiness and failure of Thomas E. Dewey to properly woo the voters, was elected.

STAR IN THE SKY

Four years ago Truman knew he was done. The Republicans riddled his administration with charges of selling the nation down the river. The star of a great military hero was brightening the political sky. His name was Ike.

One week before the Democrats assembled in Chicago for their 1952 convention, That Man Ike had been nominated for president in the same hall. The Democrats again met in a spirit of gloom.

Alben Barkley again put the convention on its feet. His talk did that in the greatest ovation ever paid a speaker. It was another masterpiece in a career brimming over with masterpieces. He could have the nomination by acclamation on the first ballot.

But the Veep didn't want the nomination, and the hand of Truman played the deal, Adlai Stevenson got it, and the ticket lost in November—Ike was too much.

Today Alben Barkley is dead. He is gone when his party needs the shot in the arm which he alone seemed able to administer. The gloom complex again is rampant.

The convention now must nominate a candidate to joust with a man who has become a world symbol. His choice at the Republican national convention in San Francisco a week later is a foregone conclusion.

He is the only man in history

Commissioners Okay Purchase

$10,000 House Slated as Part of Pontiac's Civic Center Program

Pontiac City Commissioners last night authorized the purchase of a house at 48 S. Parke St. for $10,000 as part of the city's civic center program.

City Attorney William A. Ewart told commissioners City Manager Walter K. Willman, now on vacation, had approved the purchase. Ewart said the house is in good condition and may be moved off its present site easily.

In other action, commissioners authorized a land contract for a needed hospital lot expansion, and accepted deeds to four lots to be used for off-street parking in the Lafayette street lot and a lot in Waterford Township expanding Pontiac Municipal Airport.

ROLLS CONFIRMED

Special assessment rolls in three payments were confirmed for curb, gutter, grading and graveling work on four city streets.

The four are Cedardale and Bondale avenues, both from Earlmoore boulevard to Howland avenue, and Hopkins and Yale streets, both from Baldwin avnue to University avenue.

Receiving a petition signed by 61.64 per cent of residents for curb, gutter and two-inch blacktop on West Yale avenue from Carlisle street to Stanley avenue, commissioners authorized City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn to make estimates on the work.

Similar work on E. Chicago avenue, from Baldwin avenue to the Grand Trunk Railroad, was declared a public necessity on receipt of a petition signed by 42 per cent of the residents.

The project will be placed on the 1957 program.

Informed by Commissioner Philip E. Rowston that "drag races" are being held on West Huron late at night, Wrenn said he would instruct the police to watch the area.

Spellbinder Needed at Dem Convention

about whom both Wall Street and Rosy O'Grady shed tears when he has a heart murmur or tummy ache—and the Democrats know it.

BIG SHOES TO FILL

So, both Democrats and Republicans are agreed on one thing—the most difficult job in the world devolves upon the man who tries to don the shades of Alben Barkley and makes the keynote speech here Monday evening.

For that Herculean task has been chosen Governor Frank Clement of Tennessee, 36-year-old golden voiced orator, the same age as was William Jennings Bryan when his "cross and crown" keynote speech paved the way to his nomination by the same party exactly 60 years ago. In historical reflection, perhaps Clement has notions. But Monday night he has big shoes to fill.

Michigan is very much in the spotlight of convention preparations. The explosive state rights question was precipitated in the 1952 convention by our Governor Williams and Senator Moody. It is just as dynamite filled four years later.

* * *

And no county in Michigan will be in a stronger limelight than Oakland when it comes to actually framing the proceedings of the convention. There's some inside dope on that matter, not generally known to the public. I now am checking on it and will give it to you tomorrow.

Says Blue Cross Blocking Probe of Insurance Rates

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Medical Society and Blue Cross today faced charges they are trying to block the work of a governor's commission which is studying hospital and medical care plans in Michigan.

* * *

Leonard Woodcock, United Auto Workers vice president and a member of the commission, made the charge in a letter to Gov. Williams and George E. Bowles, chairman of the study commission.

Woodcock asserted there is evidence William S. McNary, executive director of Blue Cross, and Dr. D. Bruce Wiley, chairman of the council of the State Medical Society, have made "efforts to block a successful study."

Williams appointed the commission to learn reasons for rising costs of hospital and medical care plans.

Woodcock's letter continued.

"The matter cannot be left as it now stands. This is a vital study, necessary for the survival of hospitalization insurance and the people of Michigan cannot afford to have such a study blocked.

* * *

Meanwhile, Dr. Harry F. Becker, a Battle Creek physician, revealed yesterday that he had resigned as medical director of the Blue Cross, effective next week. Dr. Becker, 65, had held the post for four years.

He said ill health prompted the resignation and it had "nothing whatsoever to do with the governor's study commission."

Ballot Report of Amendment Right on the Dot

Pontiac city commissioners, canvassing the city vote Tuesday on a charter amendment merging its employes' pension plan with social security benefits, found the original report of the vote was 100 per cent accurate.

* * *

The official figures are 4,924 favoring the move against 1,088 opposed.

During the canvass, commissioners found only one error in the unofficial returns, which had listed 9,638 ballots cast by Pontiac voters.

City Clerk Ada Evans explained two of the ballots recorded were caused by precinct workers' efforts to "clear" voting machines which had stuck in position.

Officially, 9,636 Pontiac residents went to the polls Tuesday.

Hitchcock to Petition for Recount of Votes

John C. Hitchcock, 52, a Hazel Park realtor who was defeated by 159 votes Tuesday in his bid for the Republican nomination to the Legislature from Oakland County's Sixth District, said today he will petition for a recount of the vote.

Hitchcock's 2,108 votes lost to incumbent Walter T. McMahon, who had 2,267. A third candidate, Billy S. Huffman, received 1,408.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said this morning he has not received notice from Hitchcock. Allen said the candidate would be required to petition the canvassing board for the action, showing in the petition "as specifically as possible" where any fraud or error might have occurred in the count.

'Near Beer' Law Gets 1st Reading

Intended to Regulate Sale of Beverages With Small Alcoholic Content

Pontiac's proposed "near beer" ordinance, intended to regulate the sale of beverages containing less than half of one per cent alcohol in the city, had its first reading at last night's meeting of the city commission.

* * *

Under the proposed ordinance, "near beer" must be sold only by licensed liquor dealers and must not be sold to minors.

Violation will be a misdemeanor, punishable by $100 fine, 90 days in jail or both.

The ordinance will be read for the second time at the Aug. 21 meeting of the commission, and will then come up for a vote.

Commissioners resolved to ask Pontiac's representatives in the Legislature, Leslie H. Hudson, to introduce state legislation regulating the sale of "near beer."

The resolution was introduced by Commissioner John E. Carry, who started action on the city ordinance by telling commissioners at a recent meeting such beverages are on sale in Pontiac and are being sold to minors.

* * *

A letter from the Moms and Dads Club of St. Vincent de Paul parish, condemning sale of "near beer" to minors, was read to commissioners by City Clerk Ada Evans.

Instead, it was the Southerners who rejoiced. Truman said he thought the 1952 and 1948 planks were good enough. So did the Southerners.

The course the Platform Committee and convention take from now on as far as civil rights is concerned will pretty well be up to Harriman and Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Williams also is committed to a strong plank and is represented on the Platform Committe by Rep. Charles Diggs.

Many Michigan representatives to the Democratic National Convention were reported today to be eager to jump on the Stevenson bandwagon on the first ballot.

The 44 Michigan votes are pledged to Gov. Williams on a "favorite son" basis for the first vote. But a majority of the group wants to be released in order not to repeat their 1952 role as latecomers.

For the first time, the Michigan delegation will not operate under the unit rule with the majority carrying all votes.

The Day in Birmingham

Land Condition Raises Costs for Midvale School

BIRMINGHAM—"A serious site condition exists on the high school property" says Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent of schools.

He blames it for the addition of $31,860, for heavier foundations and footings, to the estimated cost of the Midvale Elementary School to be built next to the high school.

Contract for $780,054 was awarded this week to the Freeman-Darling Co. after trimming of structural modifications to reduce the construction cost by $55,000, Dr. Ireland says.

"The final figure will be approximately ten per cent above the estimated cost of the construction," he says.

Acoustical ceilings will be put in Bloomfield Village, Franklin Village and Quarton Schools by the Detroit Fiberglass Insulation Division on a new $8,200 contract, and relighting in those buildings by Jones Electric Shop, for $12,809.

This, expected done by school's opening, is part of a building rehabilitation recommended by the citizen's committee, Dr. Ireland says.

A new public address system utilizing the console found inadequate for the expanded Birmingham High School, will be in Baldwin School by fall. Bid of Industrial Communication Co. of $980 for the work has been accepted. A new console is being installed at the high school.

"Operation Alert 1956" will be televised over Station WJBK (2) tomorrow at 8:15 a.m. Birmingham's Civil Defense director urges residents to see the film being used by many state communities to test CD organizations practice effectiveness.

Mrs. Irving Voorheis

Mrs. Irving (Iva) Voorheis, 6724 Belucher, Van Nuys, Calif., lifelong resident of Birmingham until 1947, died in California and her body will arrive here Sunday.

Born in Southfield Township in 1876, she was a graduate of Southfield schools and Birmingham High School. Her husband died some years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Alice Snyder of Bridgeville, Pa.; two sons, Glenn and Frederick, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald Voorheis, all of Van Nuys; a brother, Dr. Frederick G. Crawford of Birmingham; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Her body will be at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home until 11:30 a.m. Monday. Graveside service will be at White Lake Cemetery at 2 p.m.

Babies Fit to Be Tied

TOKYO (INS)—An international diaper tying derby will be held in Tokyo Thursday. Airline hostesses from Civil Air Transport, Japan Air Lines and Pan American World Airways will compete to prove which is the best way to fix a diaper — Chinese, Japanese or American.

Charge Hospital Let Baby Die

Mother Says Doctors, Nurses Snubbed Pleas to 'Do Something'

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit mother said today her 15-month-old son died in her arms while she waited almost two hours Wednesday for attention in a hospital hallway.

* * *

Mrs. Caroline McAbee, 27, mother of three others, said her son, James, moaned and gasped for breath as she vainly pleaded with nurses to help the child.

Hospital officials started an investigation.

A hospital spokesman said apparently a doctor asked her to take the baby to the emergency room but instead she went to a small dispensary.

WEAK STOMACH

Mrs. McAbee said the infant had been under treatment for weak stomach muscles.

She described her ordeal at the hospital:

"It was 9:20 p.m. when I was told to take him to an examining room and undress him. I did this, and could see the poor little thing was dying. I cried to a nurse going by 'He's going into another convulsion.' She just continued on her way.

"Finally I picked little Jim up and ran across the hall to where Dr. W. Gatfield was examining patients. But I knew before I burst in the door it was too late.

* * *

"The doctor put Jim on a table and tried to revive him. It was no use. I was crying and a nurse told Mrs. Jack (a neighbor) to take me out of there.

"Yesterday, when I finally reached the doctor, he said he could find no cause of death."

Mrs. McAbee said her husband, Clyde, a factory mechanic, deserted her six weeks before Jim was born.

Dem Platform Viewing South

Mississippis' Governor Feels Party Is Being Fair on Civil Rights

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman says the South, for the first time in 12 years, is getting friendly treatment in consideration of the Democratic party platform.

* * *

In a special message to the home folks from Chicago, where he has been at work all week as a member of the Platform Committee, Coleman said through his Jackson office:

"There is no doubt in my mind that the leadership of the party is very anxious to have a civil rights plank the South can live with. They, of course, know we are unalterably opposed to many of the thoughts which have been advanced by liberals and radicals from the North and East.

* * *

"In return for their consideration, we are trying to realize too that they have their problems in their states."

"Of course, I cannot predict the outcome at this juncture . . . The gratifying thing is that our position for the first time in 12 years is certainly receiving friendly, sympathetic consideration . . .

* * *

"This is in great contrast with experience in previous conventions wherein the matter was actually settled before the convention ever met, and Southern delegates received practically no consideration at all."

Premature Birth 7th Leading Killer

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department says premature childbirth is the seventh leading cause of death in Michigan.

Last year, the department said, the state lost 1,272 babies who were born too soon.

Dr. Goldie B. Corneliuson, head of maternal and child health urged expectant mothers to visit physicians eary in pregnancy and continue the visits regularly.

"About one out of 14 babies born in Michigan are classified as premature," Corneliuson said. "Proper care during pregnancy will prevent many premature births and proper care after pregnancy will enable most premature babies to survive."

The department defines a premature infant as one weighing 5½ pounds or less at birth.

Headon Crash Kills 2, Hurts 3 Near Adrian

ADRIAN (AP) — Two elderly women were killed yesterday when two cars collided headon two miles north of Adrian on M52.

Dead are Mrs. Mabelle L. Hinkle, 77, of Detroit, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Laverne Smith, 78, of Lyons, Ga.

Melburn Arnold, 23, of Adrian, was critically injured, and Mrs. Hinkle's husband, James, suffered internal injuries. Ray Nebio, 26, of Adrian, driver of the car in which Arnold was riding, escaped with minor injuries.

Sheriff's deputies said the collision apparently occurred when the Hinkle car swerved to avoid a construction barricade on one lane of the highway.

Plays With Blasting Cap, Boy, 12, Blinded, Injured

ANN ARBOR (INS)—A 12-year-old Sumpter Township boy was blinded in his right eye yesterday despite emergency surgery after he exploded a dynamite cap that also caused fragment wounds in both legs.

Michael Sebecki held the dynamite cap in his lap and exploded it by attaching two wires from a flashlight battery to it. He was rushed to University Hospital in Ann Arbor, where his condition was called serious.

Polio in Chicago Near Epidemic

Health Chiefs Step Up Tempo of Drive to Get Everybody Inoculated

CHICAGO (AP) — Spurred by a medical expert's prediction that Chicago's polio outbreak will reach the epidemic stage, city health officials are bearing down on efforts to combat the spread of the disease.

* * *

Board of Health President Herman N. Bundesen, at an emergency meeting, yesterday directed speedy action in a drive for more nurses, physio-therapists and medical equipment to fight the upsurge.

He also planned a more widespread educational program aimed at urging all Chicagoans to take Salk vaccine shots.

As part of this phase, a ventriloquist, Paul Stadelman, 56, will accompany a mobile vaccination unit starting today at a housing project in the West Side area which has the city's highest incidence of infection. He'll attempt to persuade children not to be afraid of the shots.

* * *

The West Side area has 322 or 49 per cent of Chicago's 653 cases —highest in the nation.

Dr. John Brady of New York predicted that the number of cases in Chicago may rise to between 1,500 and 1,800 cases.

Epidemic stage for a city of Chicago's population—nearly four million—would be 1,330 cases, according to U.S. Public Health Service authorities.

* * *

The previous record year was 1952. As of this date four years ago there were 211 cases and 11 deaths. There have been 18 fatal cases so far in 1956.

Meantime, in the first precautionary move taken in connection with the forthcoming Democratic National Convention, New York Gov. Averell Harriman ordered Salk shots for the Chicago staff working for his nomination.

However, Dr. Karl Meyer, medical officer for the convention, said this situation is "not serious" and did not advise mass inoculation of delegates.

Rhee Faction Wins Elections in Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Early results of yesterday local elections in South Korea showed an overwhelming victory for the members of the ruling Liberal party led by President Syngman Rhee.

* * *

About one third of the returns available here showed 6,486 Liberals elected mayors of cities and towns and members of local councils while 1,755 Independents and 154 members of the opposition Democratic party were returned.

Final returns will be in by Friday or Saturday, officials said.

* * *

Voting for councilors of the capital city and nine provinces will be held Monday.

Rioters Just Won't Quit; 12 Dead, 200 Injured

BOMBAY India (AP) — Violence continued in riot-torn Ahmedabad today. Police fired on a mob which defied the round-the-clock curfew. Casualties were not immediately known.

In another section of the city police used tear gas to disperse gangs which set fire to muncipal buildings.

At least 12 people have been killed and 200 injured in the riots touched off by government plans to merge Gujerati and Marathi speaking areas into an enlarged Bombay state. Each group wants its own state.

Hal Boyle Says:

Jaye P. Morgan Dreams in Technicolor

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Jaye P. Morgan, who looks like a vanilla ice cream cone with green eyes, has an odd habit. She often dreams in Technicolor.

"I dream all night long," said Miss Morgan, who in little more than a year has bounced to a top spot among the nation's lady song belters.

"About 20 per cent of my dreams—I call them my $5 specials—are in Technicolor. Those in black and white are just marked down 98-cent dreams."

Jaye, one of seven children of a vaudeville performer, was born in a log cabin in Colorado to which her parents had been temporarily forced to retire during the last depression.

* * *

She was named Mary, picked up the nickname—"Jaye P."—after she was elected class treasurer in high school.

Jaye started her stage career at 3, singing, "When They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree," and left its echoes in practically every small vaudeville theater west of Chicago.

Last year she sold two million records, earned some $250,000. This summer she filled in Eddie Fisher's NBC network spot in an act with four of her brothers — Charles, Bob, Duke and Dick.

* * *

Jaye has done so well that the network is reported trying to find a permanent spot for her this fall. She hopes so. After two decades of itinerant show world life, she'd like a permanent place to hang her nylons.

"My husband and I just finished decorating an apartment," she said. "It's the first real home we've had, one with our own furniture. It's a wonderful feeling to look around an apartment and know everything in it is something you picked out yourself and belongs to you."

* * *

But about those dreams.

"I don't like to be alone at night," said Jaye. "When I'm alone I sleep with a light on. I'm terrified of the dark, when I'm by myself.

"I sleep nine hours or more at a time, and I dream all the time. I don't know why I sometimes dream in Technicolor. The only other person I know of who does is Lena Horne.

* * *

"When my dreams are in color, they are usually vivid reds, blues and purples.

"It's a funny thing about my dreams. I usually can control them. If I wake up from a bad dream, I can go back to sleep and change the dream to a happy ending.

"My dreams are pretty active. Sometimes I wake up worn out from them."

You'd think a girl in her income bracket would dream mostly of the tax collector, but he only haunts Jaye when she's awake.

"I often dream of speeding downhill in a car with no brakes," she said. "I can even feel the wind whistling past.

* * *

"Often I also dream of jumping into soapy water. The water is always soapy. Don't ask me why.

"I can only play chords on the piano, but sometimes I dream I am playing the piano beautifully.

"Sometimes I have science fiction dreams of the Martians invading the earth, and in one of my favorite Technicolor dreams I walk up a long marble staircase into a lovely bedroom with ceilings a mile high. Maybe that's because I've had to sleep in so many small hotel rooms on tour."

* * *

In another of her recurrent dreams — this one is more of a nightmare—Jaye is singing in an old-fashioned costume. Then suddenly the fastener in her lacy frilled bloomers breaks and — Jaye wakes up suddenly.

* * *

"I've always wanted to know what my dreams meant, but I'm afraid to go to a psychiatrist for fear I'd find out too much about myself," said Jaye, smiling.

"I feel normal, and I want to stay that way."

Brink's Trial Unable to Pick Even 1 Juror

BOSTON (AP) — The Brink's trial goes into its fifth day today—with the first juror still to be selected.

Three hundred men and women have been called for possible jury duty in the Superior Court trial of eight Greater Boston men charged with the record $1,218,211 Brink's robbery of more than six years ago.

All have been eliminated, 66 by the defense, 18 by the prosecution and the remainder by the court.

The challenges by the prosecution and defense have been without cause. Each side has the privilege of turning down 262 prospective jurors without giving a reason.

The court has dismissed more than 200 of the 300 called so far because they have unshakable opinions about the case, because of ill health and for other reasons, such as criminal records, absence from the country and for being acquainted with the defendants or their families.

Colombia Probes Ruins of Blast, Finds 368

CALI, Colombia (AP)—Colombian authorities said today an incomplete check of casualties from the dynamite blast that ripped the city of Cali showed 368 known dead. It said the figures were far from complete.

A total of 554 injured persons still were in hospitals.

Newspaper reports have estimated the dead as high as 1,200.

Ted Williams Drops Down One More Notch

One of the most controversial figures in baseball history is in the dog house again. At least he's more deeply and permanently seated than usual.

WILLIAMS

We refer to Ted Williams.

Theodore has always been a contentious and controversial figure. He started a running and rousing feud with the home town newspapers early in his career and shortly thereafter he took on the Boston fans in toto.

★ ★ ★

The home town has booed him unmercifully, but he asked for it. In fact, he is one of the few that actually insisted. Even after some of his longest or most strategic homers, he often responded to Boston applause by thumbing his nose at the fans as he jogged from the plate to the bench. The traditional tipping of the baseball hat was a lost art on Mr. Williams.

The little niceties and pleasantries of baseball have left him limp and cold.

His most recent manifestations of dreadful manners consisted of spitting contemptuously at the fans. This wasn't done in a timid or secretive manner. It was as flagrant and offensive as he could make it, and when Williams wants to be dirty, remember he's a self-taught and accomplished master at establishing one's self as an absolute goof.

The Boston management has tolerated his churlishness too long and the current fine of $5,000 is none too severe.

Boston's bad boy begged for it.

He had it coming.

★ ★ ★

It's dubious whether confirmed skid row manners can ever be permanently corrected. But dollars and cents may be the one language he can comprehend. Perhaps the current discipline will help a little. If it doesn't and if manifestations of the gutter continue, baseball will be better off with Williams in permanent exile.

No star is bigger than the game. Williams is nothing but a tiny part of a half century history of hundreds of colorful and picturesque athletes who have comported themselves like gentlemen — and behaved.

If he persists in being the bottom man of the whole heap, the Nation will be better off with him in absentia — forever.

The great national pastime has no place for the boor's boor . . . and especially . . . my word . . . in Boston.

Kindly Neighbors Aid Grieving Orion Family

From time to time some tragic event serves as a reminder that the people of Oakland County are quick to go to the aid of neighbors in distress.

The latest occurrence of this kind was the savage murder of three-year-old Martha Little of Lake Orion. Within a few hours after her body was found, Lake Orion Lions Club announced that it would pay the funeral expenses and launched a memorial campaign.

★ ★ ★

Lions Clubs at Rochester and Rose City joined in and contributions came from States as distant as Alabama, Colorado, Georgia and Pennsylvania. At the same time sympathetic neighbors outdid themselves in taking gifts of food and money to the Little home and comforting the grief stricken family.

★ ★ ★

The results of all this kindly generosity indeed have been heartwarming. The memorial to little Martha is assured. Her family has been able to solve its financial problems and Mr. Little, previously limited by diabetes to part time work, now has suitable full time employment.

Who could ask for more wonderful neighbors?

Mr. Hoover's Birthday

Although it is nearly 24 years since he occupied the White House, most Americans will join today in wishing our oldest ex-President, Herbert Hoover, a happy 82nd birthday.

No doubt expressions of these good wishes will be accompanied by hopes that the Nation's elder statesman will live to attend many more Republican National Conventions.

It was at the 1952 convention that Mr. Hoover, when being presented to the delegates, was given a 20 minute ovation. A second ovation followed his address at which time the then national chairman, Guy C. Gabrielson, pinned on him the gold badge of the convention.

Mr. Hoover long has been famed as a one time farm boy who became President. He now has the additional distinction of being our oldest former President in 119 years. Our Fourth President, James Madison, died on June 28, 1836, at 85.

Happy Birthday, Mr. Hoover!

Many Happy Returns of the Day!

The Man About Town

Town Meeting

Plays Prominent Part in History Down Thru Years

Convention: What, when it is political, often is not conventional.

Our suburban Bloomfield Township by an overwhelming vote has decided to continue the annual town meeting. Thus is preserved the oldest of all community get togethers, although so neglected in recent years that a move for its discontinuance awoke people to its traditions.

Oakland County's history teems with the doings of the annual town meetings in each of our 25 townships. There the momentous local questions of the time were settled, usually in an oral manner, and often in favor of a minority who could yell louder than their more numerous opponents.

Path masters were appointed, fence viewers named, neighborhood grievances aired, and often fistic encounters experienced. Gun toting was common in the early days, brass knuckles flourished and feuds festered. Our courts sometimes gave the final verdict, both in a civil and criminal way.

Town meetings still continue in many townships in connection with the annual township election, but with less spectacular gusto and vehemence.

"Above All — We Must Present a United Front"

David Lawrence Says:

Double-Talk Season Has Arrived

WASHINGTON—The season of double-talk is on. It's a time when politicians say what they don't mean and never say what they do mean.

If anybody had predicted a few months ago that the great Democratic Party at its National Convention would be hesitating to endorse in specific terms in its platform the Supreme Court's decision on segregation, he would certainly have been regarded as a poor prophet.

Yet this very week the weasel words are being beamed from Chicago to the Southland and back. The professional politicians among the Democrats from the South were amazed to read that Adlai Stevenson, in an impromptu interview, said the Supreme Court's decision should be endorsed.

Immediately his managers disavowed any attempt to "dictate" to the platform committee and said that any "compromise" plank adopted would meet with his approval.

A subcommittee of compromise-writers from among Democratic senators and representatives, especially equipped with the best synonyms and euphemisms in the dictionaries of modern politics, will try to draft phrases which will keep the Negro vote in the Democratic column in Northern cities and at the same time avoid estranging the whites who normally vote Democratic in the South.

REHASH CIVIL RIGHTS

This is quite an assignment. But it will be accomplished. There will be oratorial outbursts from both sides at the convention and the whole "civil rights" controversy will be rehashed.

Governor Harriman will be paraded as the staunch supporter of "civil rights," while Adlai Stevenson will be portrayed as a wobbling "moderationist."

Yet this is about the only issue that separates the two leading contenders. The public has not been given any clear difference between their points of view on other issues, if indeed there are any other differences.

It looks now as if Harry Truman will cast his influence toward the candidate he finds out ahead of time is sure to get the nomination.

That's normal behavior for a professional. It's no secret that Truman doesn't want Stevenson renominated but will nevertheless campaign vigorously for him if he is chosen. The former President likes Governor Harriman and is beholden to him for extensive campaign contributions, especially in 1948 when he needed them badly.

But there are stories that Truman hasn't dismissed the possibility of a deadlock out of which might emerge his friend, Senator Symington, as a compromise.

The political facts today show that Stevenson has the edge and isn't going to be sidetracked. The Harriman vote will go to Stevenson instead of Symington if it is apparent that the New York governor can't win.

FOOL THE PUBLIC

The public thinks, of course, that the nomination is really going to be contested for by rival delegations. Actually "rival bosses" would be a more accurate description of the true contestants.

About a dozen men control the votes of enough states to win a Presidential nomination for their favorite candidate. It has been that way in most national conventions of both political parties for a long while.

The only time the rank and file of voters come into the picture is after the conventions have been held. If the Chicago meeting results in a platform plank which offends the South, it can be taken for granted that there will be a split in the November voting.

A "walkout" of Southern delegations is not likely to occur at the convention unless some flagrant offense to the Southern Democrats is committed.

With the experience of the revolt in the 1948 Democratic National Convention still vividly in mind, the professionals feel they can avoid a recurrence.

They now have as allies some Southern politicians who are themselves candidates for re-election to Congress and naturally do not want to see the voting procedures in November messed up.

"WRITE-IN" VOTE DRIVE

There will be a drive, however, to get "write-in" votes on election day, and it will be stimulated by the failure of the national platform to denounce the Supreme Court's decision on segregation, which the South feels is an unconstitutional usurpation of power by the high court.

For the Democratic National Convention, even by inference, to applaud what the Court has done is to fan the flames of fury in the South.

So ambiguity of phrasing could keep the professionals in the Democratic Party harmonious next week, but it could also be the forerunner of a split ticket in many states, causing electoral votes for the Democratic nominee to be placed in jeopardy.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Gray Sickness Indicated by Lowering of Hemoglobin

"I'm almost certain I saw in your column reference to 'the gray sickness'. If this is correct, won't you please tell us some more about it. We asked a doctor who lectures . . . he said he had never heard of it." (K.R.)

The doctor has probably heard of "the green sickness"—which was a common name for a type of primary anemia physicians called chlorosis (green sickness) in horse 'n' buggy days. This anemia occurred usually in adolescent girls. The girl who had it didn't look just pale or muddy white. She had a yellowish-green tinge not at all like the lemon yellow complexion of a person with pernicious anemia.

Chlorosis seldom if ever occurs today. Instead a new type of anemia is prevalent and seems to be increasing in frequency, among women in the 30s and 40s. This modern anemia, like chlorosis, is characterized by lowering of the hemoglobin (iron coloring matter) without proportionate diminution in the number of red corpuscles, and so it is called hypochromemia, nutritional deficiency anemia, iron deficiency anemia or by ol' Doc Brady and some of his followers, the gray sickness.

Gray because the girls who have it appear not pallid, nor ashen, nor green, but sallow and gray. Gray and gaunt or haggard to boot.

One striking difference between chlorosis and the gray is that the girls with chlorosis (green sickness) retained a good panniculus or blanket of fat under the skin, while girls with hypochromic anemia (gray sickness) lose theirs and hence the gray, gaunt look.

The familiar complaints of women with the gray sickness are brittle, cracked, ridged, pitted, spooned or flattened nails; sore tongue, difficulty in swallowing solid foods, cracks in corners of mouth, and hair turning gray and lacking luster.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Walter D. Appel Questions League's Voters' Guide

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

While the League of Women Voters of Oakland County claims to be a non-partisan organization, it was noted that in their Voters' Guide for the Primary Election, which they distributed, the names of all candidates belonging to one political party were in all instances given ahead of all the candidates of other political party for all the offices sought.

Such a procedure is not permitted in the printing of the official ballots because it is considered too prejudicial.

It is hoped that this is the result of pure carelessness and does not reflect prejudice on the part of the organization.

Walter D. Appel

Orchard Lake

The survey which has been made contained among many recommendations the following:

"Add assistant hospital director, personnel and public relations officer, purchasing agent and controller; delete some positions and reshuffle others and SAVE $71,760 a year."

This means in the past four years alone, we, the taxpayers, have helped to pay over a quarter of a million dollars that was unnecessary. Where have the director and the Board of Trustees been that they have attempted to run such a large and responsible organization without the above named important positions? No wonder our hospital seems to be in constant turmoil.

The taxpayers are entitled to know just what the director and board of trustees are going to do about the recommendations made, when they are going to do them and, if they are not going to follow the recommendations, why not.

Let's have some immediate action and have Pontiac General Hospital run as a hospital should be run.

Will Egyptians Honor Suez International Unit?

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Britain and France face a dilemma in their struggle with Egypt over the Suez Canal nationalization issue.

* * *

If they use force they risk condemnation in the United Nations. If they postpone any effective action they risk further diplomatic and economic reverses and the rise of a bitterly hostile power straddling the vital communication link to the Middle East oil riches.

A third course has been mentioned as a possible compromise. This would be a refusal to recognize the Egyptian nationalized canal authority pending creation of an international control authority and payment of compensation to the company Egypt seized.

Under that procedure the ships of all nations using the canal would pay their dues exclusively to the old company that has been operating the canal.

BIG PRESUMPTION

Egypt would be assured that it would benefit financially from the canal in the long run.

But this suggested course takes the premise that Egypt would accept an international authority. Cairo has not given any indication that it will do so, but it has pledged transit to ships of all nations that will pay the canal fees.

Even though the canal fees mostly are being paid into blocked accounts that Egypt cannot touch the Egyptians have not yet banned any ship from using the canal.

Such a ban would be a test case of a military showdown. It would goad the angered British and French who have been taking "military precautions" even before any such test case.

U. S. NOT COMMITTED

Those precautions include the shipment of more men, ships and planes to the eastern Mediterranean base of Cyprus, which is less than 250 miles from Suez.

The United States has gone along with the British - French wish for a conference to create an international authority for the canal. But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles carefully said Washington had made no commitments about what the United States would do in the "unhappy contingency" that will come if the proposed London Conference should fail.

The crisis in the opinion of diplomatic officials alread has done heavy damage.

For one thing the American policy of trying to create stability in the Middle East has failed. It was the United States that urged the British to withdraw their troops from the canal zone after Egypt abrogated its treaty with Britain.

Some London conservatives today criticized what they call the "ham-handedness" of the Americans who are blamed for the current "Suez Mess."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths.—Prov. 3:6.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Discusses 'Fantasy of Unreality'

Gloria began to paint her surroundings with strange hues and soon developed the "phantasy of unreality." Her adviser was worried lest it continue until she became a sanitarium case, as well it might. Scrapbook this case and discuss it with your children to see if it brings out feelings you parents may not have recognized in your timid youngsters.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-335: Gloria B., aged 17, is a college freshman.

"Dr. Crane, my adviser asked me to see you," she explained at the outset of our conference.

"For something unusual seems to be happening to me. Sometimes I look around me at the houses and I feel that I am in a strange city.

"Familiar thinks look so different. It is almost as if I am enchanted and living in fairyland.

"I know this may sound odd to you, but it is really true. I often get lost when I start to walk downtown. The houses no longer look familiar to me.

* * *

"Could this possibly mean that I am losing my mind?" and she toyed with her handkerchief nervously.

ESCAPE MECHANISMS

Yesterday I mentioned the escape mechanisms by which unhappy people try to flee from a cruel, cold or forbidding world around them.

Alcholism is one such flight mechanism, as is insanity. But there are lesser stages, as evidenced in the "foster child phantasy" which I outlined yesterday.

Gloria is a shy girl who left devoted parents and a pleasant home town social life to venture into the hustle and bustle of a big city university.

She soon became homesick and unhappy. She was daily affronted by the aloofness of city people and their preoccupation with their own hectic problems.

* * *

So Gloria subconsciously decided to disguise this cold, cruel city so it would not appear so unpleasant to her.

She is thus an excellent example of a person who develops the phantasy of unreality.

DR. FREUD'S VIEW

Dr. Sigmund Freud explained a similar type of 'painting" when he said that during sleep we often dream of basic unsatisfied hungers.

But when the satisfaction of such a primitive desire violates our ethical training, we disguise the ideas and thus "paint" sexual matters in symbols (dagger for male; shoe for female, etc.)

Dreams that seem entirely freakish and illogical, then can be analyzed in simple fashion when the analyst understands the sexual nature of these various symbols.

Well, Gloria is applying that same "dress-up" for the cruel city which has robbed her of her home town friends and social acclaim.

* * *

So she mentally "paints" a more glamorous but strange aspect to the housetops and steeples and vaguely daydreams her way to happiness.

She thus indulges in a fairyland experience and can even imagine herself a princess to be rescued by a fairy prince.

FACE YOUR PROBLEM

In such cases we psychologists tactfully help the patient face the problem and then show her how to rebuild a more adequate type of adjustment to her dilemma.

Gloria was thus encouraged to join my "Compliment Club" so she'd forget her homesickness by diligently analyzing her companions for virtues. Then she'd pay them a sincere compliment, and note the results.

Meanwhile, I helped get her actively linked up with a young people's society of a local church, and even arranged a date for her.

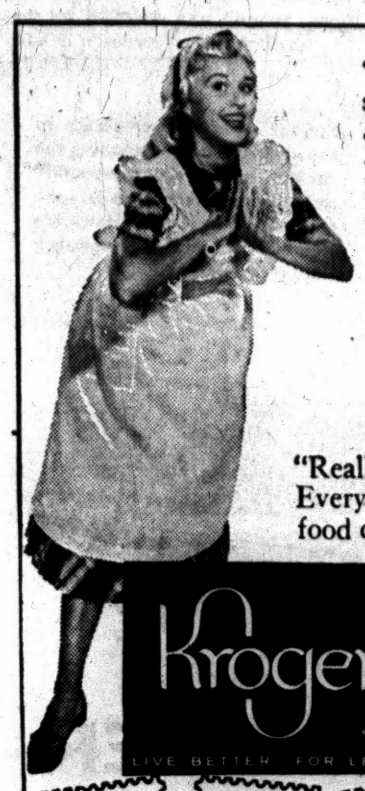

Within six weeks, her surroundings had become so jolly and happy that she no longer needed to disguise them with her phantasy of unreality.

But if such early symptoms are not nipped in the bud, you can see how she might have become an eccentric personality to the point where she was adjudged in need of sanitarium treatment.

Send for my booklet "How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It includes such wholesome therapy as this outlined for Gloria.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Artificial Moon All Ready to Go

Shell to Follow After 'Basketball' in Space, Scientists Reveal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "baby moon" artificial satellite may have another object speeding around with it — and passing it —and passing it repeatedly—as it whizzes about the earth.

* * *

Scientists of the Naval Research Laboratory said today the second object would be the final section of the three-stage, rocket-like launching vehicle which will be designed to carry the satellite aloft and establish it in an orbit varying from 200 to possibly 1,500 miles from the earth.

The United States has announced it would try to launch one or more of the satellites during the International Geophysical Year which begins next July.

* * *

The scientists of "Project Vanguard" have stated previously in scientific papers that the final section of the rocket would itself become a satellite if it were separated from its payload after shoving the "baby moon" into its orbit. They left unclear whether that was in their plans.

But they disclosed in an interview that present plans call for automatic separation of the satellite from the nose of this rocket section after the necessary "orbital velocity" has been obtained.

In this event, they said, the rocket section not only would become a satellite but, because of differences in weight and size, it "would pass the satellite and is expected to spin around the world ahead of it."

* * *

They explained further the satellite would slow down faster than the rocket section because it would be lighter and so would be subject to more drag from the air—even the rarefied air at such high altitudes.

Once ahead of the satellite, the rocket section would be expected gradually to draw away from it. Ultimately, it would be expected to pass the satellite repeatedly as each speeds around in its own orbit.

* * *

The satellite itself is expected to circumnavigate the planet once every 90 minutes at a speed of about 19,000 miles an hour. How frequently its twin satellite might pass it is something that has not been estimated.

Savings: College Aids

Many a student has gotten well into college on the fruits of a savings account. One pair of parents deposited all the money they saved on having the lawn mowed. Another couple put in a certain percentage of their income. At any rate, it's a sound way to provide for higher education.

Want Bigger Books

In a nationwide poll recently high school students showed a preference for books that run between 250 and 300 pages. Rising production costs, however, have cut the average book's length to about 200 pages.

Makes Good Weapon

A big sheet of oilcloth is a good weapon during the finger and tempera paint stage. Newspaper may be ineffective n protecting the rug or floor and is tedious to lay down. Oilcloth can be unrolled in a trice and mops off with ease.

Toothpaste—a Marital State Controversy

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — It has been said, by some rather obnoxious but conscientious folk, that a wife or husband who consistently leaves the cap off the toothpaste is not fit to be a citizen of the marital state.

Entire essays have been written on the subject, partly in jest but with overtones of honest derision.

"There are three types of women to avoid," wrote one disillusioned philosopher. "Those who nag, those who brag, and those who leave uncapped the toothpaste tube. The first two quickly will drive you insane. The third will accomplish it by slow, sloppy degrees."

Personally, I have always stood up for the absent-minded toothbrusher on the grounds that, with so many procedures to go through between the uncapping and the capping, one figures to turn forgetful. By the time one has brushed, massaged, swigged, swished, rinsed, swallowed, dried and gazed at one's gritted pearlies in the mirror — it's time to get on with the coffee.

"You are perfectly right, too," said Victor Muscat, sometimes called the "toothpaste king" because he's a leading manufacturer of tubes. "And yet, it's true that such nonsense as this has actually led to divorce. It is one of those 'last straws' in incompatible relationships — like the crackers-in-bed bit."

Muscat has found that 45 per cent of all toothpaste caps are lost before the paste is gone. In American homes, that is; Muscat cannot speak for the foreign countries where perhaps the spirit is more frugal and the teeth less polished.

After many years in this business, the young industrialist figures that the main reason people are remiss in the matter is that it concerns an early-morning action — "when any and all activity is enacted in a subconscious, sometimes even an unconscious, state."

He believes that, because of this very factor, a man or woman's true personality is revealed in the way he behaves toward his toothpaste-tube-squeezing. His psychic guard is down and his basic personality comes out.

"For instance, there's the person who starts at the bottom and folds up the empty part of the tube — he is neat, ethical and has common sense. Even in an unconscious state, he does the 'right' thing.

"The center-squeezer is impetuous, the kind who jumps into any situation without first analyzing it.

"The 'hard squeezer' who assaults the tube with such strength that the paste comes out the wrong end is a determined person. The person who keeps compressing the tube to the bitter end is either stingy or forgetful.

"Nervous people are those who will try to roll up the end of the tube, even when there's still paste on it. And calm people start pressing from the bottom and don't bother ever rolling at all."

And those whose lose their tube-tops? Muscat finds them delightfully careless, marvelously forgetful, and an enormous boon to his business.

'The Man's in Jail; Your Job: Find Him!'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke has challenged the sheriff's office to find a law violator who is known to be in jail here.

The judge said he is irked by the frequent failure of jail deputies to locate prisoners in their custody and to have them in court when due.

Deputies couldn't find Albert Lewis yesterday, Lewis, a probation violator, was due in Judge Fricke's court. Lewis' lawyer informed the court he had just talked to the prisoner in jail.

The court thereupon issued a warrant specifically directing Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz to have his fugitive detail find Lewis within one week. To make sure they know where to look, Clerk Nathan Hollister was ordered to note in the warrant that Lewis is in jail.

Hope Is Waning for Mine Victims

Rescue Work Continues for 260 Men Trapped in Burning Passages

MARCINELLE, Belgium (AP) — Weary rescue teams continued their struggle today to reach 260 men trapped more than 40 hours deep in the burning Bios du Casier Coal Mine. There was little hope any would be found alive.

* * *

Rescue work centered on reaching a passage at the 3,300 foot level where 130 men had been working when the fire broke out. Apparently the other 130 miners at other levels already were given up for lost.

Hope surged through the crowds of waiting relatives today when a rescue worker came up from the 2,100-foot level and said "we have seen small animals alive there. They were either rats or moles."

So far the mercy teams have been unable to probe deeper into the workings because of intense heat from the underground blaze.

* * *

Rescue efforts were balked at almost every turn by continuing fires, heat, blinding smoke and carbon dioxide gas. Six-man crews went into the mine in relays of two-hour periods. They reported the heat was intense and fires were raging as strong as ever despite hundreds of tons of water being poured into the workings.

Hundreds of relatives and friends maintained their vigil at the mine for the second night. King Baudouin paid his second visit to the disaster scene early today.

Puerto Rico Plans No GOP Fireworks

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Marcelino Romany, the Puerto Rican delegate who starred on the telecast of the 1952 Republican convention, will be back for this year's gathering in San Francisco.

* * *

But Ronmany doesn't anticipate a repeat of his performance four years ago, when his demand for an individual poll of Puerto Rico's 3-man delegation held up the convention and amused watchers all over the United States.

Romany made his demand so he could vote for Gen. Eisenhower's nomination. The other two Puerto Rican votes went to Sen. Robert A. Taft. And this time the island politico anticipates a "quiet convention without the excitement of the last one because there's no question about Eisenhower's getting the nomination."

Romany adds he still doesn't understand why so much fuss was made" over him in 1952.

"I did nothing out of the ordinary," he declared.

Man, It Costs Money

CHICAGO (INS) — Sen. Estes Kefauver's former campaign manager, Joseph F. Donohue, said the Tennessean was $47,000 in the hole after the California primary. Donohue said the deficit has been whittled to $28,000 and friends have pledged enough to liquidate it "30 days after the convention."

Muskegon GI Dies After Drilling in Sun

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP) —An Army board today investigated the death of Pvt. James L. Krauss, 22, of Muskegon, who was taking basic training here.

Krauss collapsed and died yesterday shortly after his company took calisthenics in near 100-degree weather.

The Army said the cause of death was a heat stroke. The post public information office said a board of officers is investigating the incident and will reveal its findings in a "few days."

Krauss, in his first week of basic training, died in the post hospital.

Votes 84 Cents Each

DETROIT (AP) — Election officials report Wayne County's primary Tuesday cost 84 cents for each of the 446,986 persons who voted. The total cost was $378,000, of which $203,000 was charged to Detroit. County government was charged $120,000 and 16 townships and 18 incorporated cities made up the remaining $55,000.

Unions Warn Fleets They Want to Bargain

CLEVELAND (AP) Two unions, already on strike against one big Great Lakes shipping firm, served notice on 20 other fleets today they want recognition as bargaining agents for their licensed engineers and deck officers.

With today's notices, the unions now are seeking recognition on 245 Great Lakes ships.

The unions are the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn., seeking to represent licensed engineers; and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Assn., which wants to represent deck officers.

Union spokesmen said they are willing to discuss their stands with the companies at any time. No immediate plans to strike were announced.

New Hope for Victims of Burns

Bare Treatment for Shock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Public Health Service said today tests have shown that a salt and soda solution given by mouth in large amounts is an effective treatment for shock due to burns.

* * *

The treatment would be an emergency substitute for the traditional treatment for burn shock — injection into the veins of whole blood, plasma or certain plasma substitutes.

The service said shock is responsible for a high proportion of early deaths among victims of burns covering 10 per cent or more of the body.

It noted that the new treatment, because of its simplicity in comparison with giving injections, "is regarded as being of particular importance in event of a major disaster," and it added:

* * *

"The ease with which the saline solution is prepared of materials available in almost every home—table salt, baking soda and tap water — also indicates that the new method may be of great aid in saving lives in those areas where skilled medical care is not promptly available, or where supplies of blood plasma, or other colloids cannot be obtained."

* * *

The health service said the solution used during tests might be approximated by dissolving a teaspoonful of table salt and half a teaspoonful of baking soda in a quart of drinking water.

"A burned person might require as much as six or seven quarts or more during the first 12 hours following injury," the service said, but cautioned:

"It is important however, to remember that liquids should not be given to persons who are unconscious or who cannot swallow."

37 Slightly Injured in Train Smashup

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Thirty-seven persons were injured, none seriously, when a Chicago, North Shore — Milwaukee Railway commuter train rammed the rear of a North Shore freight train last night.

Seventeen of the 37 were hospitalized. Others were treated and released at Waukegan hospitals. More than 100 passengers were aboard the three-car electric train bound from Chicago to Milwaukee.

Daniel Crabb, 50, motorman aboard the train and one of the injured, told police he did not see a light on the rear of the freight train.

M. P. Wintz, the freight conductor, told investigating officers an unlighted coal gondola had been temporarily hooked to the rear of the freight.

Bald Mount to Become 'Shrine' for Baldpates

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — Mt. Baldy, a 10,000-foot peak that gets its name from its barren crown, is to become a shrine for the barren-crowned members of the Society of Bald Eagles.

The society, composed of bald-headed brothers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, has announced a pilgrimage to be made to the mountain Sunday to place a plaque in one of the lodges.

Art Ehremann of Milwaukee, Wis., in his official capacity as Supreme Exalted Skinhead, says he will represent the national organization.

Michigan to Send 1,000 to VFW Convention

LANSING (AP)—About 1,000 Michigan delegates plan to attend the Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention this weekend in Dallas, Tex., state VFW headquarters said here today.

Heading Michigan's delegation will be Michigan Commander Max C. McMarn of Mason, and Auxiliary President Clarissa Loeding of Marysville.

Dimes Replacing Obsolete Pennies in Rhode Island

WATCH HILL, R.I. (AP)—Police said today they are convinced some motorists of Watch Hill don't care how they spend their money.

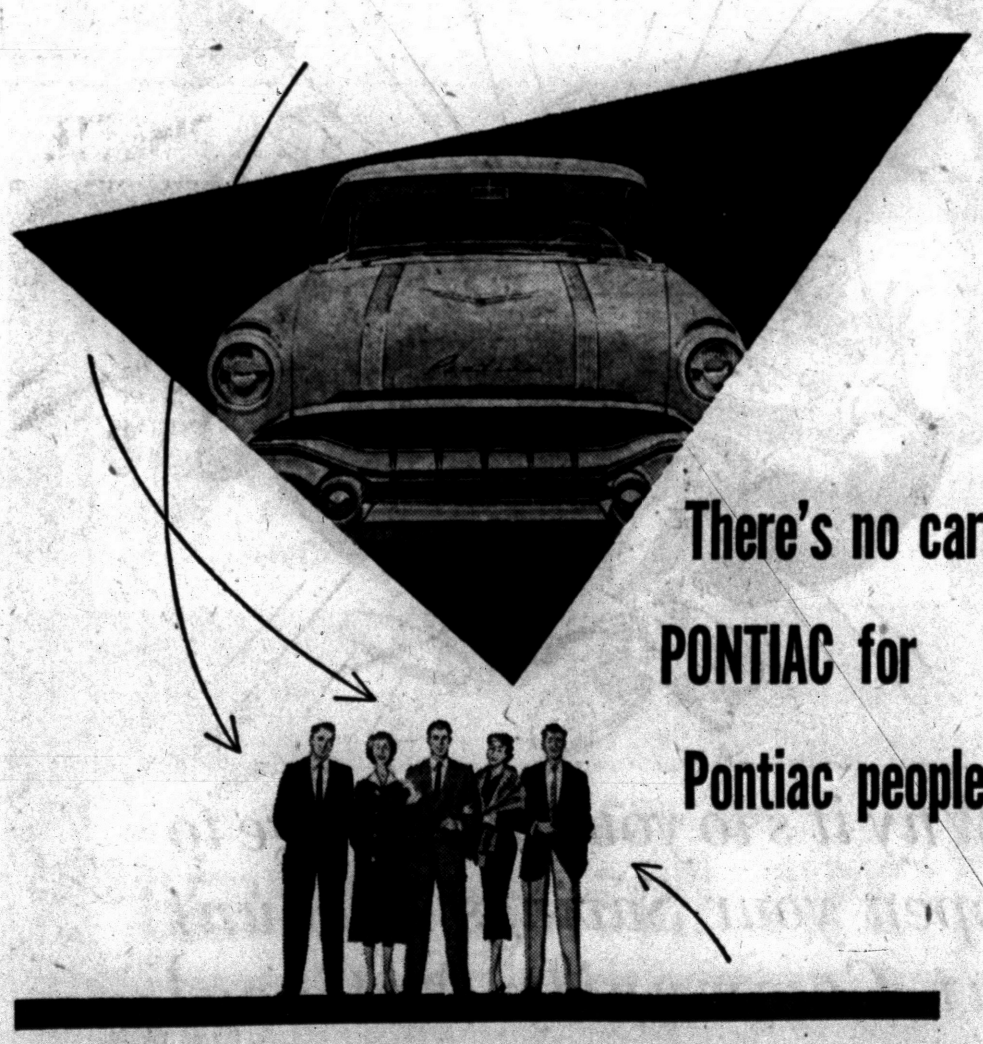

They said the first collection of receipts from 59 new parking meters included 16 dimes.

The meters are equipped to take pennies and nickels. Thus a dime pays for no more than a penny — 12 minutes of parking time. On the other hand, a nickel is good for 60 minutes.

18 Arrested for Plot to Kill Venezuelan Chief

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)— The Venezuelan government says it has arrested 18 persons in connection with a plot to kill President Marcos Perez Jimenez here last July 3 while he reviewed a parade.

The announcement accused former President Romulo Betancourt of masterminding the plot from exile in Puerto Rico. It charged the Costa Rican government aided the platters and planned to funnel arms into Venezuela by way of Colombia.

Werve's Nerve Gets Him What He Deserves

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"That's the man," said gas station attendant Donald Edwin Werve as he unhesitatingly pointed at a robbery suspect blinking under the lights of a police lineup.

Werve identified Leroy Anthony Moore as the man who robbed him of $160 in cash and $370 in gas coupon books last July 29 and then left him bound with adhesive tape.

Police said Moore then admitted Werve was right, with one slight additional detail. Werve, he said, was his partner in a faked holdup.

Police said Moore told them he was to split the loot with Werve but didn't. Officers say Werve admitted his part in the robbery.

Werve and Moore, each 19, were booked on suspicion of robbery.

Suit to Challenge U.S. Foreign Aid

Utah Governor Claims Congress Lacks Power to Execute Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah, saying he is acting for his state, is seeking Supreme Court permission to file suit challenging the constitutionality of the foreign aid program.

Lee, long a critic of the federal income tax and the aid program, also asked the high court to bar the secretary of the Treasury from allowing federal money to be spent on the government's program for bolstering free world nations against communism.

The Republican governor, who has been at odds with the Eisenhower administration on a number of counts, filed a brief contending that "Congress under the Constitution has no power to collect and expend taxes for such purposes" as foreign aid.

Earlier this year, Lee paid taxes on the $10,000 he earned as governor in 1955. But he withheld tax payments on his other earnings. He said at the time he did so to test the constitutionality of using tax funds for foreign aid. Last May, the Internal Revenue Service collected from one of Lee's bank accounts in Salt Lake City $1,023.10 in unpaid income taxes.

Indonesia's Refusal to Pay Irks Holland

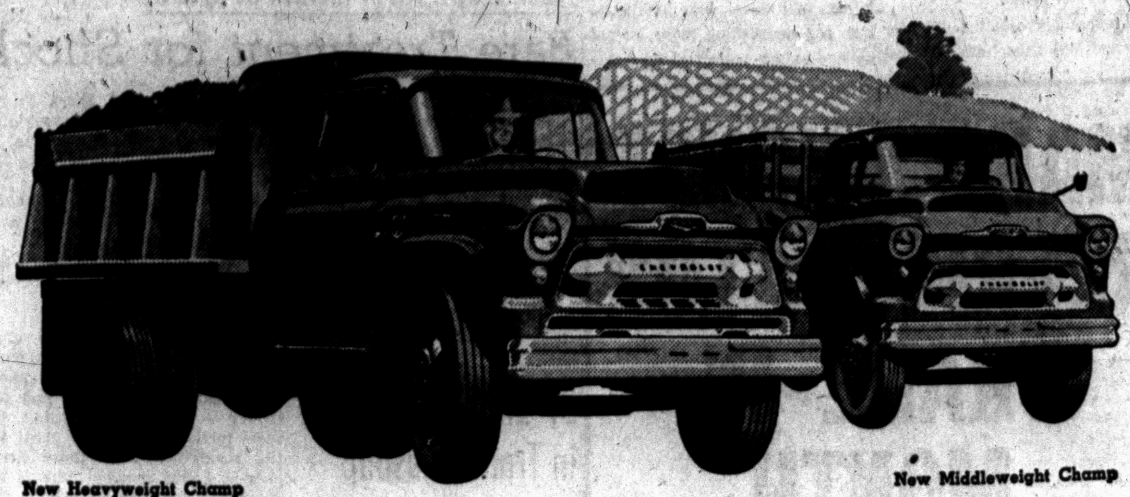

THE HAGUE (AP) — Indonesia's repudiation of debts to The Netherlands was protested by the Dutch Government today as a "flagrant violation" of an agreement. A foreign ministry communique called on Indonesia to reconsider the decision.

The Indonesian Government announced Saturday it was writing off millions of dollars in debts to The Netherlands, acknowledged in 1949 when the Dutch relinquished their southeast Asian colony. The Jakarta regime claimed that the Dutch Government in fact owes money to Indonesia.

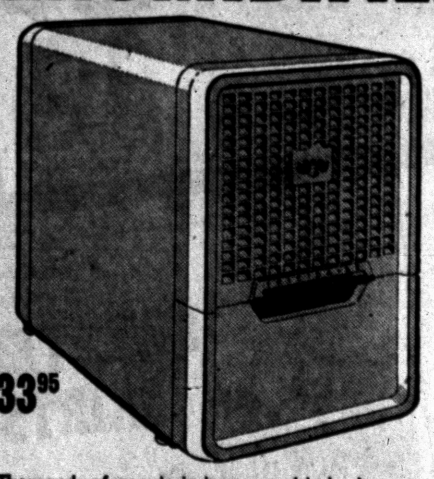

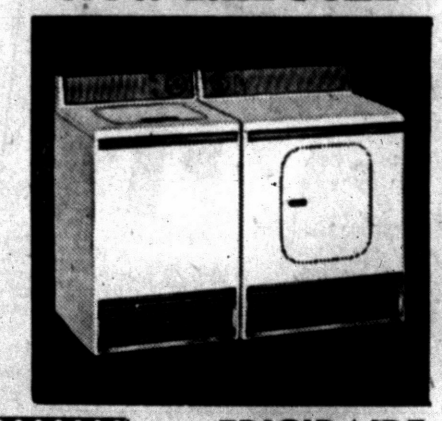

The foreign ministry said it had instructed its charge d'affaires in Jakarta to make a strong protest against the "flagrant violation of the agreement concerning taking over part of the debts of the former Netherlands East Indies Government made voluntarily by Indonesia."

Civil Rights Plank in Platform Only Means Supporting the Constitution

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson's call for a Democratic platform giving "unequivocal approval" to the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation is about the least he could say as a presidential candidate.

* * *

While this reportedly angered some Southern Democrats — thus highlighting their dilemma once more—it also took some ammunition from Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's main and probably only real opponent.

It was also a reminder of how close Stevenson, Harriman and President Eisenhower are in their thinking about solutions for the South's resistance to the court's order to integrate their schools.

Harriman has complained loudly and long that Stevenson and Eisenhower are too "moderate." Yet an examination of what he's said since becoming an announced candidate June 9 shows, with one exception, he says just what they say. He just makes more noise.

* * *

This was the exception: He said he would withhold federal aid to education money from schools which didn't integrate. Both Stevenson and Eisenhower opposed doing this. Anyway, Congress didn't approve the aid to schools program.

What all three have said on the subject of segregation follows this pattern: move cautiously, try persuasion, get men of good will together or try a commission to examine the problem. All three have said it is up to the lower federal courts to carry out the Supreme Court's ruling. With that one exception by Harriman, all three have been careful not to stir up the South.

If Stevenson didn't suggest a party plank backing the court Harriman could well have suggested it, since it is only what any candidate would have to say anyway if he became president.

* * *

Stevenson or Harriman as president would have to take an oath to uphold the Constitution. The Supreme Court has ruled segregation unconstitutional and laid down the ruling that schools must integrate.

If Southern Democrats want to turn away from Stevenson — because he took this minimum step —where do they turn? To Harriman? To Eisenhower? All three have backed the court's ruling as one that must be upheld.

Southern Democrats have shown almost no inclination toward Harriman, perhaps because his blasts at "moderation" sounded extreme.

In a year when the Democratic party needs every vote it can get, the Southern Democrats hold a stick over the party to this extent: a possible bolt to Eisenhower unless they get a civil rights plank in the party platform to their liking. That would require a practically meaningless statement on segregation.

Perhaps this fear of losing the Southern Democrats will frighten the Democratic convention next week into producing what the Southerners want. But it will be at a price anyway.

If the Democratic party shows it is so afraid of the Southern Democrats that it won't go on record as simply saying it backs the Supreme Court—a position its two leading candidates have taken—it may look like a party too weak to attract independent or Negro voters.

Police Inching Upward

DETROIT (AP) — An inch has been added to the height required of Detroit policemen. Police Commissioner Edward Piggins ordered new patrolmen must be at least 5 feet 9½ inches tall. The old height rule was 5 feet 8½. The department is just about up to strength, Piggins said, and can afford to be choosier about new applicants.

Girl, 3, Snags Foot in Rail, Train Can't Stop

SIMCOE, Ont. (AP) Three-year-old Elizabeth Stefan was killed by the New York Central's New York Express yesterday. Her foot became caught between the rail and a crossing plank.

With the train bearing down on her, farmer Andy Szaboda worked desperately to free the child's foot. He managed to jump to safety as the train thundered past.

2 Homestead Families to Mark Centennial

Descendants of two Oakland County homesteaders will be honored by the Michigan Historical Commission and Detroit Edison at Centennial Farm ceremonies at the county fair grounds on Friday, 8:30 p.m.

Centennial Farm plaques—designating farms which have remained in the same family for 100 years or longer—will be presented by B. Franklin Leonard of 1655 Milford Road, Highland Township; and Mrs. Elizabeth Butts Case and Mrs. Laura Butts Cross—co-owners of a farm at 685 South Rochester Road, Avon Township.

Howard L. Canfield, manager of Edison's Oakland district, will make the presentations.

Preceding the ceremonies, the farm owners and their families will be honored at a Centennial Farm dinner at Pine Lake.

The Leonard farm was received directly from the United States Government by Harvey Leonard—great-grandfather of the present owner—in 1835.

However, Harvey Leonard, a native of Parma, New York, settled in Saugatuck, Michigan, and the Highland Township property was not cleared for cultivation until 1860, when his son, Jonathon, started farming.

Elias Butts purchased the farm now owned by Mrs. Case and Mrs. Cross from Dr. David Cooper in 1854.

The present owners were born on the farm as was their father, David W. Butts. Mrs. Case lives on the farm and Mrs. Cross makes her home at 3420 Cambridge in Detroit.

The Michigan Centennial Farm program was inaugurated in 1948 by the Michigan Historical Commission and is co-sponsored by The Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Company.

Under the program, each owner is presented with a Centennial Farm certificate and a plaque. To date 776 awards have been made throughout the state. Thirty-seven are in Oakland County.

Accept Check for Beach Use

WALLED LAKE — At the meeting of the City Council this week the city was presented with a check from the Civic Welfare club, to be used to purchase sand for the public beach and to restore the float used by the children.

A group of homeowners appeared to protest the cost of water meters. After discussion the council suggested that the homeowners form a committee to meet with the builder and the council to work out an agreement on this matter.

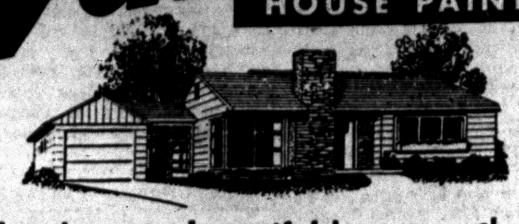

Acting Mayor Charles Riffenburg also suggested that a committee from Wolverine village, the township board, and the council meet to work out fire protection for Wolverine village.

A resolution was adopted certifying the results of the election held on Aug. 1 at which time residents approved by a vote of 43 to 5 the extending of a gas franchise to the city by the Consumers Power Co.

After discussion, the council decided to proceed with their plans to blacktop Decker, Wellsboro, and Ladd roads although no date could be set when this work can be done as much preliminary work must first be completed.

A special meting was called for Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at which time the council will review all applications for city manager. A. J. Koenig resigned this position Aug. 1.

Lack of Support Kills Political Posters Ban

A resolution condemning posting of political signs on city property was offered at last night's meeting of the Pontiac City Commission, but died for lack of support.

Offered by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, who commented, "We should see that this unsightly practice is discontinued," the resolution would have expressed the commission's disapproval of political advertising on municipally owned trees and lots.

A city ordinance already prohibits posting of signs on utility poles in the city. During the current campaign, one person was arrested for violation of the ordinance.

Acting Mayor John A. Dugan said he opposed "getting all excited" over the signs, which he said have appeared regularly "ever since I was old enough to take any interest in political campaigns."

Waugh has picketed a church in Drayton Plains and one in Bay City while trying to gain an open hearing on his disfellowshipment. Last night, 10 church members "escorted" him to the door, he said.

One of the men reportedly was kicked in the chin and Waugh suffered a skinned elbow.

Officials Told Drain Cost Up

South Oakland County Sewer Plan 25 Pct. Over Original Cost

A drastic rise in proposed costs of the Twelve-Town Drain, amounting to more than 25 per cent of the estimated $30 million dollar figure, was disclosed to South Oakland County officials yesterday.

The drain is intended to relieve communities in the thickly-settled southern portion of the county of their perennial flooding problem.

Anton J. Berst, expediter of the project, said the $8.5 million jump in estimated cost was due to three factors.

First, he said, costs of materials and labor have risen sharply since the first estimate was made nearly 18 months ago.

Second, obstacles to construction of the drain have been discovered which were not taken into account in the preliminary estimates.

Third, about $1.75 million must be added to the bonding cost to cover interest payments during the period when construction is proceeding and no revenue from the drain is being received.

The Twelve-Town Drain Board will meet again Monday to tell South Oakland officials how their preliminary allocations will be affected by the price hike.

THE ORGAN GRINDER

Years ago the organ grinder and his monkey were a familiar sight to American children. The pair traveled the roads, the organ grinder on foot and the monkey on his shoulder.

Now they are rare, but occasionally in summer they may be seen. Many a youngster wishes he could turn the crank and make the music.

Once, when the organ grinder took time out to eat his lunch, he let Peter take his place at the brightly-painted organ. Deppo the monkey is gaily dressed, and is perched on the wall with his tin cup ready to collect pennies.

Color the picture with your crayons, and then paste down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully.

Fold the larger portion forward on the dotted line, so the figures will stand up.

Attach the monkey's right arm behind his collar through the indicated holes. Then Deppo can swing his cap up to his head and take it off politely each time a penny drops in his tin cup.

Harriman Sees Nomination Win

New York Governor Hits Moderation Policies of Stevenson

By JAMES DEVLIN

EN ROUTE WITH HARRIMAN (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman headed "on to Chicago" today with a prediction he would win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I think I am going to win for the cause I represent," he told newsmen during an overnight stop in Buffalo.

* * *

The Harriman forces have argued that Adlai Stevenson, front runner for the nomination, is a moderate. Stevenson has retorted that Harriman has no "exclusive rights" on the New Deal-Fair Deal philosophy.

The New York governor, in a speech before a Negro audience last night, hit out again at moderation as the way to defeat. He also accused President Eisenhower of failing to exercise leadership in desegregation problems.

"Eisenhower is blocking progress in the middle of the road," said Harriman. "We must push him out of it."

* * *

Harriman addressed about 1,000 persons attending the 50th annual convention of Alpha Phi Alpha, a national collegiate fraternity, whose membership of 25,000 consists mostly of Negroes.

Rocket Gadget Pares Expenses in Target Practice

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—A rocket target device developed by New Mexico A&M College has saved many thousands of dollars in rocket operations here.

The target device is itself a rocket, called "Pogo," which vaults very quickly to extremely high altitudes and presents a parachute-suspended radar target appearing much like an airplane on radar scopes.

Capt. J. C. Parham, Jr., of the Navy range here said that in two years' use the rocket has saved probably enough money to pay for several days' operation of the entire range.

In many shoots, it was explained, it is necessary to use a speeding target. The expenditure of such an expensive "drone" as a B17 bomber, an F80 jet or similar conversion is no longer an obstacle.

Special Blind Schools

Most blind students in the United States attend private schools. Almost 6,000 pupils are registered in residential institutions while approximately 1,000 go to public school classes for the blind.

Prep Schools Thrived

Under the American colonial governments, the principal institution of secondary education was the private academy. For more than 200 years it remained the dominant institution.

Admiring a stole brought from Caracas, Venezuela, are Joyce Johnson (left) of West Huron street and her cousin, Janet Gaskell of New Jersey, who is visiting here for the month. The stole is one of many souvenirs purchased by Joyce on her recent trip to Venezuela.

Joyce Johnson Back From Venezuela Trip

Hit-or-Miss Caracas Traffic Amazing to City Girl

By JOAN RITTER

Hand made slippers worn by the poor of Venezuela were among the many souvenirs bought by Joyce Johnson on her recent trip to Caracas, Venezuela.

While in Caracas, Joyce, the daughter of the W. L. Johnsons of West Huron street, was the houseguest of Tonia Gutierrez Moro, her roommate at St. Mary Academy, Monroe. The trip was an advance graduation gift for Joyce who will be a senior at St. Mary's this September.

Before flying to Caracas, Joyce visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gaskell of New Jersey, and her cousin, Janet.

She flew to Venezuela June 22. On her arrival the city was in mourning for those killed in the plane crash, June 20.

Several of Tonia's friends lost their lives in the crash and in respect for them many social activities were suspended for two weeks. Joyce, incidentally, was originally booked for that flight.

TRAFFIC 'AMAZING'

She was amazed at the modern highways in Caracas and tells of the seemingly maddening absence of stop signs and street lights.

* * *

She tells of traffic coming to a standstill while drivers made left turns from right lanes. Since horn blowing is against the law and signaling for turns practically nonexistent, it was a constant source of amazement to Joyce to see the comparatively steady flow of traffic.

But she laughs when she tells of the shouting and hollering and waving of hands by drivers in their process of getting somewhere on the city streets. Mere shouting and gesticulating isn't enough. For a bit more emphasis, they even pound on their car doors with the flat of their hands, Joyce says.

The absence of street house numbers was also a surprise to Joyce. The houses are named after the family or a member of the family.

But what happens if the street is long and there's a new mailman? Picture the absolute pandemonium here in the United States if we followed that system.

ARMY PRIVILEGES

Since Dr. Gutierrez Moro, Tonia's father, is in the Venezuelan army, Joyce had the opportunity of daily swims in the military club pool. She also attended several dances there and a cocktail party in Dr. Moro's honor on his promotion from Lt. Colonel to Colonel.

* * *

According to Joyce, a highpoint of her trip was attending a Fourth of July charity dance given by the American Embassy and the following day, July fifth, the Venezuelan Independence day, she attended a review of 2,000 military students.

She also was a guest of the Moro family at a folk festival held at the University of Caracas theater. Featured on the program were South American dances by people of the different South American countries, with the singing of their regional songs accompanied by the special instruments peculiar to their areas.

The modern architecture of the surrounding area was exemplified for Joyce in the university buildings. She feels an excellent example is the pie-shaped University Theater, with its vari-colored mobiles in geometric designs suspended from the ceiling.

Joyce's eyes sparkled when she told of her trip by cable car, 'the teleferico,' to the area's highest mountain, "The Chair of Caracas."

WONDERFUL VIEW

She said, "On a clear day you can see the entire city of Caracas from one side and the coast of the Caribbean on the other."

* * *

Members of their party dined at the top of the mountain where they also have dancing facilities. A hotel is now in construction on the mountain top.

Something a bit different to Joyce too, was the chaperone system. She and Tonia were accompanied by Tonia's parents, her aunts or grandmother when they went on tours of the city or to parties.

Noticeable to Joyce was the importance of studies to Caracas students. "They take it as a matter of course to forsake a dance or party if they have studying to do," she said.

Joyce also tells of the cosmopolitan air of the city, the Spanish and Mexican stores she shopped at and dinner at Toni's, a "typical French restaurant."

Before leaving Caracas, Joyce spent a weekend at the ocean with another schoolmate, Marina Garcia, who lives in Mucto, Venezuela.

En route home, Joyce stopped in New Jersey and returned home with her cousin, Janet Gaskell, who is her houseguest for the month.

Should Husbands, Wives Go on Separate Vacations?

Strictly Matter for Individual to Decide, but May Be Better Than Compromise

By RUTH MILLETT

"What about separate vacations for husbands and wives? Are they, or aren't they, a good idea?" a husband wants to know.

That depends entirely on the husband and wife. If a man and woman have the same ideas about what makes a real vacation they'll probably both be happy taking their vacation together. And when it is over they'll have a shared experience to remember.

But some husbands and wives, even though they get along fine 50 weeks out of the year, don't even speak the same language when it comes to planning a vacation.

In some situations of this kind the couple always does what the wife wants to do. In others, the husband makes the vacation plans. Neither is a happy solution.

* *

A compromise, going where the wife wants to go one year and where the husband wants to go the next, is fair. But this isn't much fun for the partner whose turn it is to just go along for the ride.

BOTH NEED REST

Often a better solution in such cases is for husband and wife to plan separate vacations. That is, if rate ways and if both are happy they can afford to go their sepaabout the arrangement.

The whole point is that a vacation is meant to rest and refresh the person taking it.

So any way a husband and wife can work things out so that both feel they are getting a real vacation is a happy solution.

* * *

This is no problem for any outsider to try to solve. It depends entirely on the individuals involved.

Certainly most couples, if they put their minds to it, can find a happy answer to the question of "how can we both have a real vacation?"

Kinch Residence Scene of Shower

Mrs. Richard Fitzpatrick was the honoree at a pink and blue shower given Thursday evening by Mrs. William Kinch of Fernbarry drive.

Enthusiasm Can Cut Age Handicap

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Old people don't need counseling or inspirational advice," a so-called hard-headed business woman told me recently. "What they need is a job, right away, that'll pay their rent."

I used to feel that way, too, until I learned better.

I used to send older people to immediate job openings, where the employer did not have a block about age. But they wouldn't get the job.

They wouldn't get it because their approach was too negative or too aggressive or they had a chip on their shoulders.

NEEDED ADVICE

I learned that it wasn't just a case of having an employer who would hire people over 60. You also had to orient the person over sixty. In other words, you had to counsel him and give inspirational advice!

There are plenty of good reasons why a person over 60 should be negative and aggressive and have a chip on his shoulder.

Our society is needlessly cruel to these people. They get plenty of rebuffs and humiliations. It is natural that they should carry the memory of these humiliations into the job interview.

But if we want them employed—as I earnestly do—we have to help them change their thinking, to get over their sense of hopelessness and bitterness.

EVALUATE

The first thing, I think, which the older person has to do is to evaluate his capacities and interests.

If he really knows what kind of work interests him, he will have an enthusiasm about it which will melt the memory of previous rebuffs and which will make him seem peppy, and therefore younger.

If we go after a job that seems interesting, we have a sparkle in the eye and a sense of anticipation which will work wonders on the employer.

If, on the other hand, we go after any old thing that might pay a salary, but which interests us not one whit, we will have a lacklustre look

FASCINATING FIELD

One 63-year-old I know got a good job in an advertising agency. It was a field that fascinated him so that even the clerical duties involved seemed interesting to him.

The employer made a special dispensation on its pension plan—and is glad he did.

In fact, many times when the employer says you're too old or the pension plan won't allow it, or whatever, it's really because he doesn't sense that real enthusiasm on your part.

As a first step for finding something that sparks you, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll send you my "Pointers Toward Finding Your Basic Interest."

Girl Hurt When Date Is Canceled

Was Friend Wrong to Call Off Movies for Boy's Invitation?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I had a date with a girl friend of mine to go to the movies Saturday night. Late Saturday afternoon she called and told me that a boy she knows called and asked her for a date which she accepted saying that she didn't think I would mind if she didn't go to the movies with me.

"I said 'of course not' but I was really very much put out about it. Wasn't she rude to cancel her date with me to go out with this boy?"

Answer: No, so long as she told you the truth. If you are intimate friends, you should be understanding. Suppose you had been asked by a boy?

"Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to be married shortly and am faced with the problem of how to word my wedding invitations correctly. My mother passed away six years ago and my father recently remarried. I do not live with my father and stepmother although I am still very close to my father and would like him to send the wedding invitations.

"Is it necessary that my stepmother's name be included on the invitations too? I feel that no one could ever take the place of my mother. Please advise me."

Answer: They would have to be sent out in Mr. and Mrs. Father's Name otherwise this would put your father in the very embarrassing situation of repudiating his wife. After all, the invitation does not say "their" daughter but "his" daughter which does not mean she is taking the place of your mother.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper when taking a long train trip for a woman to wear slacks while traveling, instead of a dress. I think they are much more comfortable and certainly do not muss as easily as a dress, but are they in good taste?"

Answer: I am sorry but even in these modern times I cannot approve of slacks on the train.

Jump—Feet First Into Beauty Ritual

A scientist has figured out that the average person walks 70,000 miles in his lifetime—about three times around the world. A good reason for jumping into your beauty ritual—feet first!

Especially in the summertime, when your walking average is apt to be high, rest and relax the feet as often as possible. After removing the shoes, hold cotton compresses, soaked in chilled good quality witch hazel, under the arches and between the toes.

Coming Events

Pine Lake Cemetery Association will meet with the Harold Haskins, 2970 Walnut Lake Rd., Thursday for a 6 p.m. dinner.

Gamut of Colors in Fall Hosiery

There will be almost 300 different color variations in hosiery, this fall—from dozens of taupes with pastel overcasts — crystal clear jewel tones, such as sapphire, emerald ruby, garnet, amethyst, topaz—many grays, browns, off-blacks — slate blues, crimson, cranberry (pink-red), moss green, rose—as well as a full range of iridescent stockings in changeable two-color combinations.

Added to this, are all-lace nylons—tulle-stitch nylons— hand-painted jet or gold, silver or jewel decorated evening sheers to make the hosiery picture the most exciting in many a day.

Gone are the days when any old stocking shade and style would do. Well-dressed women will now have to pay as much attention to choosing the right stocking colors and styles to match their costume, as they give to the selection of their hats, gloves, handbags or shoes.

MRS. ERIC W. HEIZER

The recipient of a B.S. degree in Nursing is Mrs. Eric W. Heizer who will be graduated from Wayne University School of Nursing Monday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Levely of Alice avenue.

Variety Keynotes Florence Designs

FLORENCE (AP)—Italian fall and winter fashion openings at Florence were highlighted by the splendid resort collection of Emilio Pucci. Borrowing brilliant colors and lively designs from medieval banners of Siena, Emilio put on the most eye-catching show of the current season.

* * *

Schuberth, too, was applauded for his best presentation in two years. He was a subdued Schuberth whose style was quiet, dignified and happily lacking in the flamboyance that once made his clothes most suitable only for film stars.

Noteworthy were the conservative offerings of two mature dressmakers, Antonelli and Carosa. Both showed graceful, ladylike creations that looked fresh and chic without strained-for effects.

Roberto Capucci, boy wonder of the Italian fashion world, showed spiral-draped spherical skirts which resulted in an overturned-brandy-glass silhouette. His floor-length sheaths, narrower than anybody else's, barely permitted their wearers to mince and inch along.

* * *

Guidi and Veneziani differed drastically from their colleagues on what new lines should be.

HEM INTEREST

Guidi cut his hems up into revealing V's at the back of the knees, dropped them to floor-length points at the sides. He used unexpected vents, panels floating from everywhere, asymmetrical boleros and hobble-harem skirts.

Jole Veneziani went in for a modified sari effect that she called the "Wrapped Line."

Dress fronts were close draped and bound to the figures. The rear view was unimportant. Her wrapping line was accomplished in suits by curved diagonal buttoning on jackets. Coats had unbuttoned diagonal closings outlined with deep blue dyed Persian lamb, chinchilla or mink.

'COCOON' DRAPING

Marucelli, the other major designer showing at Florence, offered a line called "Cocoon." Dresses were securely wrapped and wound around their wearers.

For evening, she liked confining sheaths under free-flowing draperies and bouffant overskirts.

* * *

Despite their individualistic notions, all the designers showed a great many classic snug-skirted suits for daytime wear and full-skirted dresses for cocktails and evening.

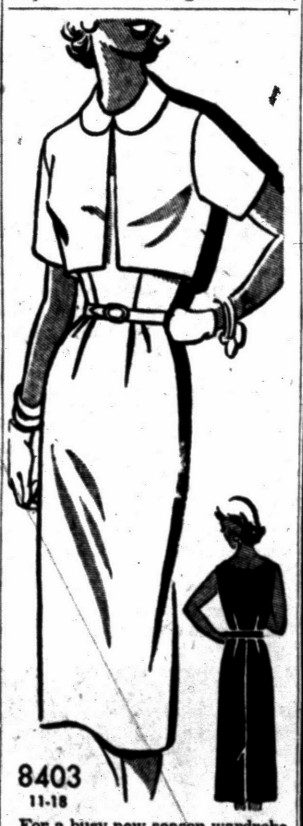

They outdid themselves on ball gowns of rich satins, diaphanous chiffons, rustling failles and taffetas.

Exquisite Italian hand embroidery of silver and gold threads, beads, brilliants and crystals make these dresses unique.

* * *

Thirteen boutiques showed at Florence before the haute couturiers. They produced the amusing casual clothes that make Italians and foreigners alike nostalgic for the carefree life of Capri and Cortina.

The small houses offered culottes, back after many years, patchwork skirts and pants, tooled Florentine leather collars, printed plush dresses and jersey knit after-ski pants among dozens of delicious little items.

Rolling Pin No Aid in Reducing Hips

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Do you think a rolling pin will reduce my hips if I roll them regularly?"

A. No. Take exercises.

* * *

Q. "My scalp itches and my hair is falling out. I have a few sore spots on the back of my head. Could you tell me what to do for this?"

A. This sounds like a condition serious enough to need medical attention. Talk with your family physician and if he feels that you need to do so, see a skin specialist.

Q. "What shape of eye glasses is best for a round face?"

A. Not round ones! Buy one of the odd shapes which emphasizes the up and down line. Those which sweep up would be good. Try your frames on just as you would try on a hat for becomingness.

Q. "Do you have a diet list for someone who has an oily skin?"

A. Sorry, I do not have such a diet. Be sure that your vitamin intake is sufficient and cut fats low in the diet. Wash your face several times a day and use an astringent after rinsing.

Here is Carol Morris, Miss Universe of 1956, demonstrating a Josephine Lowman waist reducing exercise. Exercise is a must for reducing, it cannot be accomplished with a rolling pin.

* * *

Q. "I have a lot of little moles on my arm. How can I get rid of them? Should I puncture them with a needle?"

A. By all means, NO! See your physician or a skin specialist. Do not touch them yourself. They can be removed very easily, but have an expert do it.

Q. "I am sending you my measurements. Will you tell me what is wrong with them? I am 15 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall and weigh 130 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 27 and hips 37 inches."

OUT OF PROPORTION

A. You should either reduce your hips and waist a bit or build up your bust. You are underweight. Therefore you should gain a few pounds (that will increase the bust) and take bust developing exercises. Also take hip and waist slimming exercises.

Q. "Should a fat girl wear a two piece bathing suit or a one piece?"

A. A one piece. The midriff is not attractive unless it is slim, and anyway the break in color (between you and your suit) makes you look broader.

If you would like to have my leaflet for developing the bust, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Rich Muffin Can Double as Cake

Dr. Kulsavage Sifts Cinnamon Over Top for Spicy Goodness

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Dr. Caryl Kulsavage is a delightful companion for luncheon on a summer afternoon. In addition to being a professional woman, she is a homemaker, a mother and a grandmother.

She is a member of the Soroptimist Club and the Countryside Improvement Association. She likes gardening, grows herbs for making flavored vinegar.

Her recipe is for a rich muffin that is almost a little cake. She likes it for luncheons.

POLISH MUFFINS
By Dr. Caryl Kulsavage

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup sifted flour
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt

Cream butter or margarine and sugar well. Add egg, then sifted dry ingredients, alternately with milk. Beat entire mixture well.

Divide in greased muffin tins. Mix 1 teaspoon cinnamon and ½ tablespoon sugar and sprinkle on top. Bake 25 minutes in a 400-degree oven.

First Philathea Class Has Home Meeting

Mrs. Gertrude Williams of Brookdale Lane entertained members of the First Philathea Class of First Baptist Church at her home Tuesday evening. The message was given by Mrs. Harry Newhouse using "Our Faith" as her topic.

Mrs. Ida Bryan presided and group singing was led by Mrs. Irl Williams accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Putnam. Mary Frances Hodges played several piano selections for the group.

Mrs. Russell Wilsey and Mrs. Ethel Kennedy assisted the hostess.

Divide and Conquer Laundering Project

One of the small, nagging tasks every woman has to handle each week is the lingerie laundering.

Best way to do it is to divide it into groups: Dark things one evening, stockings another evening, white things and pastels a third evening.

And white cotton gloves take a lot of scrubbing so reserve half an hour on a fourth evening for them. It's either splitting it this way or facing a mountain of lingerie on Saturday morning.

Shower Honors Maxine Miller

Maxine Miller was entertained at a bridal shower Wednesday evening at the Prospect street home of Mrs. Louis Romeos. Maxine, the daughter of Mrs. Tonie Miller of South East boulevard, is the bride-elect of Bruce E. Smiley.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Smiley of Birmingham.

The couple will be married Sept. 8 at First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

Invited guests included Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Smiley, Mrs. William B. Smith, Mrs. James Reid, Mrs. Bill Morris, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. Charles Mason, Mrs. Alex Morris and Sharon Meadows.

Completing the guest list were Mrs. Carl Rose, Mrs. Marshall Rose, Mrs. Edgar Plympton, Mrs. Rudy Mazza, Mrs. Vernell Duffy and Mrs. Donald Moore.

Now's the time to buy that shovel or snow scoop you needed all last winter.

SUZANNE MIREILLE LEVY

The engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Mireille, to Lawrence E. Benson, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Levy of Barranquilla, Colombia, South America. Lawrence's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Benson of Osceola drive.

Meetings Held at Lakes

Outdoor meetings were held this week by the women's groups of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Eleanor Van Lierop Group

The Eleanor Van Lierop group met at the cottage of Mrs. Omar McNutt for a picnic luncheon. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Howard Hall and devotions were given by Mrs. McNutt. The work project for the day was the sewing of cancer pads.

Eleanor Creswell and Ann McGeough Groups

The Eleanor Creswell and Ann McGeogh groups held a joint social get-together and cooperative dinner at the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

Lucille McBane Group

Mrs. Eldon Powley entertained the Lucille McBane group at a picnic supper at her Cole road home in Lake Orion. The devotional topic, "The Challenge Accepted by Lydia" was presented by Mrs. Floyd Levely. Mrs. Leon Verwey gave a report on the recent WGMS convention.

The group prepared flannelgraphs to be sent Lucille McBane in Pakistan. Mrs. Ervin Atwell assisted Mrs. Powley as cohostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. James Talmadge of Maybee road.

Margery Peters Group

A cooperative picnic and social get-together was held by the Margery Peters group at the Rattalee Lake road home of Mrs. E. J. Schultz. Devotions were led by Mrs. Keefer.

Low Beam Ahead Warning Device

If you have low pipes or beams in the basement, take a leaf from the railroads' safety book.

Hang strands of rope or tack a folded newspaper a foot or so ahead of each obstruction after the fashion of "ticklers" which hang before entrances to low tunnels. An advance brush with the warning devices saves wear and tear on the scalp.

Truth Will Stop Child's Demands

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Seldom when Mrs. Taylor and her daughter go shopping is Joyce satisfied with the purchase they set out to make.

If it's a new crinoline petticoat, she insists she must also have the pair of sale pajamas on the underwear counter. Wearing home the ruffled skirt she's just selected, she lingers stubbornly at the blouse counter teasing for a new one of these.

On shopping trips with Joyce, it seems that satisfying one want of the child ends only in whetting the appetite of another one.

Mrs. Taylor has developed a formula for denying these whims. She says to Joyce, "No, I can't afford the new blouse as well as the skirt."

* * *

This is a falsehood. If Mrs. Taylor wished to buy the blouse, her husband's bank balance could survive the strain.

Why doesn't she tell the truth? Why doesn't she say, "No, I can't buy you a new blouse because you don't need one"?

* * *

She's afraid to say it. Mrs. Taylor's lie is told to evade conflict with Joyce.

By blaming financial limitation for denial of the blouse, she shifts any anger Joyce feels to her budget—and avoids the risk of expressing honest judgment to her. To Mrs. Taylor, the lie not only saves $5.95 — but makes "peace" with her daughter.

She is mistaken. As in most lies, the benefits of this one are illusory. All it does is encourage Joyce's demandingness.

For the girl never knows when her mother will decide to change, "No, I can't afford it" to "all right, I can afford it"—and has to tease, tease, tease for things until the decision is made.

Almost every figure, short of the really overweight, can wear knitted suit and dress. They are indispensable traveling companions.

The smooth Continental look in knit dresses and the bulky cable-stitch look in sweaters and suits is the news in fall knitwear and a wide range of colors, coral red, sandy beige, blues and tweeds made from a blend of silk and wool.

Thus, Joyce's undisciplined whims are the direct result of her mother's unpredictable treatment of her.

To stabilize that treatment, we begin by judging her demands according to her needs instead of our budget. We have to learn to say honestly, firmly and cheerfully, "No, you can't have that because I don't think you need it."

Gradually, as Joyce gets used to the way we discriminate between her whims and needs, she'll begin to think in terms of their difference, too. She'll stop trying to force us to gratify every impluse; and give to her needs the same consideration we have.

* * *

We do children great kindness when we make a difference between their whims and their needs. It's the example they must have to learn to assert their needs, not from irresponsibility but from self-respecting, confident knowledge of them.

Bob Considine Says:

GOP Persuading Dewey to Run for Senator

CHICAGO (INS) — Politics as usual — Great pressure was brought to bear on Tom Dewey this past week to run for the Senate against Democrat Herbert Lehman.

* * *

"I think he will, and win," former Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton, said last night.

"I feel he's more popular through the country now than when he was running for the presidency," Thornton said. "People think more about an administrator today than they did a few years ago. There's nobody can touch Tom as an administrator."

Thornton thinks "party loyalty" will persuade Dewey—twice beaten as GOP presidential nominee—to come back to the wars, this time draped in a senatorial toga. Thornton had talked to Eisenhower only three hours before he made his Dewey remarks.

"He had a gleam in his eye," Thornton said when asked for Eisenhower's reaction when invited to vacation in Colorado after the San Francisco convention. Thornton issued the invitation. He scoffed at reports that Colorado, high parts or low parts, is bad for heart cases.

Speaking of Dewey, the persistent talk at Chicago is that he triggered Harold Stassen into the dump-Nixon campaign with the tacit understanding Stassen would be "taken care of" no matter how the experiment turned out.

We'll probably never know.

We asked Thornton, "how come a smart cookie like Harold Stassen makes a boo-boo like endorsing Gov. Herter?"

Thornton, very close to Ike, replied, "Harold's timing was bad."

Harriman's man, Carmine De Sapio, claims 75 per cent of the shepherdless delegates of Sen. Estes Kefauver will troop into the Harriman camp.

Stevenson's man, Jim Finnegan, estimates 80 per cent of these lost souls will come over to Stevenson.

That's 155 per cent. One timidly suggests somebody must be lying or bragging. Not even Max Baer sold that much of himself.

The fascinating thing about attending a Perle Mesta press conference is to listen to the startling variety of questions flung at the Hostess with the Mostest. Perle's life as an intrepid traveler, patron of scholarships for foreign students who want to study in the United States, lecture tours, diplomacy and political savvy always gets involved with such items as the shade of nail paint she'll use at her next party.

Good-naturedly, she answered the range of questions the other day, pausing only now and then to let the room of reporters know she knew she was being needled.

Perle likes Gov. Frank Clement for vice president. She has given up on Harry Truman's ever running again. She would serve in any capacity assigned to her if the Democrats get back the White House and want her, but would prefer to have a U.S. post.

Her "first cause" in life is her self-financed plan of bringing scholars from all over the world to this country for "typical Midwest training." She pays for the expensive program of making speeches around the country.

Some of the heat was taken off her in this respect last week when TV "bought my life" to produce as a 90-minute tribute to her in October. At a five-digit figure.

* * *

"I never sold my life before," Perle said.

She added sweetly she will have especially strong guards on the door to keep out gate crashers who are eyeing her Tuesday night convention ball at the Blackstone. She will insist they not use their firearms. Being extremely good marksmen, they might wing Frank Sinatra, one of Perle's many guests.

Peron Visiting Estate of 'North American'

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Juan D. Peron, Argentina's traveling ex-dictator, is spending his first weekend in Venezuela at an estate near Barquisimeto, some 225 miles southwest of Caracas.

Rodolfo Martinez, a friend of Peron, said the estate was owned by a North American—which in Latin America usually means a U.S. citizen—but he declined to identify the host.

Martinez said Peron had an appointment here Monday with a representative of a North American company which had made Peron a business proposition. He also refused to name the firm.

Peron came here Wednesday from Panama, where he has been living in exile since November.

A Vote for Cool Water

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — On the day Bay County citizens were to vote on bonds for a countywide water system, Panama City radio station WDLP kept the issue in everyone's mind by playing no music all day except the song "Cool Water." The voters approved the water system by a huge majority.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1956 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN TWENTY-ONE

Newsmen Will Outnumber Delegates at Conventions

Matched man for man, American newsmen and their technicians assigned to cover the national political conventions will far outnumber the delegates who will select the presidential nominees.

* * *

The nation's news media will have 3,245 accredited representatives at the Democratic convention opening Monday in Chicago. The Republican conclave in San Francisco the following week will draw 3,171 news representatives.

The 3,000 plus figure for each convention includes reporters and writers for news services, daily newspapers, radio-TV reporters, still and newsreel photographers and correspondents from magazines, weekly newspapers and specialized publications, plus all the technicians needed to operate the teletypes, darkrooms and complex electronic gear for radio and television.

* * *

Intense international interest in selection of the two men who will run for America's top elective office will draw 93 foreign newsmen, representing wire services, newspapers and radio-TV, to the Democratic convention and 91 to the Republican conclave.

Preparations indicate that the 1956 conventions will be the most thoroughly covered in history. Jack Bell, representing the standing committee of correspondents in Washington estimates that some 15 million words will be filed for daily newspapers alone.

Among the biggest complications facing all media in their convention coverage are the opening dates—Aug. 13 in Chicago and Aug. 20 in San Francisco—and the some 2,000 miles separating the sites.

Another is space and just where to put everyone who wants to sit in on the sessions which will determine the presidential and vice presidential candidates and party platforms and campaign tactics.

The Democratic national committee based its figure of 3,245 accredited newsmen and technicians who will be involved in Chicago convention coverage on the fact that there won't be room for any more in the international amphitheatre.

The amphitheatre has a seating capacity of 12,000, but the 2,744 delegates will be joined by 1,896 alternates and thousands of party officials, speakers, entertainers, very important persons, wives and the party faithful.

The Republicans set the number of newsmen who will cover their convention at 3,171 on the basis of space available in San Francisco's Cow Palace. Even though the Cow Palace seats 17,000 when set up for a convention, the GOP also is plagued with more requests to get in than places to put the people.

Wire service news and photo rooms will function around the clock, staffed in by newsmen brought into Chicago and San Francisco from all parts of the country.

Some hotel reservations were made late in 1955, and physical preparations have been going on in the two convention halls for weeks to facilitate news coverage.

The moving job facing the newsmen between conventions, especially moving vital equipment, will be gigantic in sheer weight and mass.

The airlines, with both regular and charter flights, will tackle the biggest part of the moving job so key personnel can clip away the 2,000 miles from Midwest to Far West in the matter of hours separating the close-out of one convention and the opening of the other.

* * *

But in all the push and crowd, the harried newsmen have two consolations as they work to beat deadlines. The Chicago Amphitheatre is air conditioned and the Cow Palace is air cooled!

100 AP Staffers to Bring Convention to Your Home

More than 100 expert reporters, photographers and technicians who comprise the Associated Press convention staff will be working around the clock to bring news of the two big conventions to AP newspapers of the nation, including The Pontiac Press.

★ ★ ★

Like the campaigns themselves, the telling of this story began months ago.

AP political writers like Marvin Arrowsmith, Jack Bell, Doug Cornell, Ed Creagh, Jim Devlin, Morris Landsberg, Relman (Pat) Morin and Tony Vaccaro have been busy reporting presidential primaries, sizing up voters' reactions, presenting profiles of each man who could wind up with the biggest job in the world.

A convention often has been compared with a three-ring circus, which is apt enough if you remember that the performances may be going on simultaneously in widely scattered tents.

A credentials committee may be meeting in a downtown hotel.

On another floor the platform committee will be struggling to fit in planks that will be vigorous, forceful—and offend nobody.

Meanwhile the convention itself may be under way, with speaker after speaker warning the populus, that if their man, still unnamed, isn't supported, confusion, laced generously with chaos, will result.

* * *

Directing the coverage of this gigantic show will be William L. Beale Jr., chief of the Washington bureau, a native of the nation's capital who has spent his whole life in the place where politics is the leading industry.

The main stories will be turned out by Bell, who heads the Senate staff; Cornell, who covered the White House during much of the time Roosevelt was there, and William T. Peacock, a specialist in pulling complicated stories together.

Reporting on the party platforms will be Ed Haakinson, who first started covering the Senate in 1936; Norman Walker, the AP's labor expert, and Ovid A. Martin, the AP's farm specialist.

The impression of how a convention looks and acts will be presented by two of the nation's best known feature writers, Pat Morin and Saul Pett. James Marlow, who writes the column, "The World Today," will analyze the torrents of words and then supply you with the words that the politicians failed to mention.

Martha Cole will watch the ladies, extremely important at any convention.

Riding herd on all of this will be the unsung heroes of every press association and newspaper: The desk men who sort, discard, mend and rewrite in an effort to make everything complete and easy to understand.

Heading this around-the-clock opration will b Raymond J. Crowly, J. W. Davis and Don Sanders.

A half-dozen reporters and editors will be on the convention platform itself, where teletypes will carry their stories to all parts of the world. Others will be in the AP's press headquarters a hundred yards away.

It is obvious, though, that even the hardest working reporter or convention visitor will see but a slice of what is going on.

That's why, with your daily newspaper, you're in a preferred position. If you read conscientiously and thoroughly, you'll have the best seat in the house.

Official Glad-Handers

CHICAGO (INS) — James S. Day, president of the Midwest Stock Exchange, and Trucker Howard L. Willett Sr., were appointed co-chairmen to head a reception line to welcome political VIPs in Chicago.

JOE HAAS

ROBERT B. TARR

Pontiac Press Staff Men to Attend 2 Conventions

Two veteran members of The Pontiac Press editorial staff will occupy seats in the working press sections at the national political conventions, to bring Pontiac readers first-hand accounts of the big political shows.

Joe Haas, columnist and special staff writer of The Press, left last night for Chicago to cover the Democratic convention. His first story appears on page 1 of today's paper.

Robert B. Tarr, Press managing editor, will leave early next week for San Francisco, to be there ahead of the influx of delegates and visitors to the Republican convention, which opens a week from Monday.

Direct Wires to Press

Pictures Will Get Rapid Processing

While the nation's political leaders are making history on the floors of both conventions, a hard-working Associated Press photographic staff of some 60 men will be recording their expressions for posterity and sending them on to a waiting world.

This concentrated effort by men and cameras is a story of electronic miracles in transmission of pictures over AP's vast Wirephoto network. It is also a story in which The Pontiac Press will have an important part as an outlet for the fruits of their teamwork.

From a specially constructed workroom alongside each convention arena, AP's pictures will be processed and transmitted simultaneously with the news in word form over thousands of miles of wire.

And the job of recording the conventions on film will not be confined to the main sessions. Cameramen, operating from every vantage point, will also portray the delegates at work and play.

Examples of their thoroughness will be covered in the Press which will be on the end of two special lines over which veteran news photographers will send shots of local personalities and other interesting sidelights from both conventions.

Directors of the gigantic operation this week prepared men and machines to process, edit and print thousands of sheets of film. Top man in the operation is F. A. Resch, general AP newsphoto editor, who has been covering national political conventions for the past 20 years.

First step in covering the rallies by picture will be the developing and printing of negatives in AP's convention hall darkrooms by a crew of technicians. This darkroom will be only a matter of seconds away, by messenger, from any photographer in the hall.

Then, each negative will in turn be given a rapid but careful scrutiny for its distribution value.

If the editor labels it for coast-to-coast distribution it is immediately flashed to the AP's 500 member newspapers.

It is common for a picture of some climactic convention episode to be transmitted five minutes after event took place.

In addition to distribution throughout North America, top pictures are sent by radio from New York City and San Francisco to key cities around the world for use in the pages of foreign newspapers.

Behind the battery of staffmen will be moving a team of photographers whose jobs it will be to take pictures for representatives of AP newspapers of scenes having special interest to readers of their papers. These pictures will be transmitted on sepcial long distance wires to the papers ordering them.

Jessel to Cover Politicians for Press

CHICAGO (INS)—George Jessel has been called "the toastmaster general of the United States"—and with reason.

* * *

And now he's going to "toast" the national conventions for International News Service and The Pontiac Press.

This famed master of ceremonies, man with the ready wit and (occasionally) barbed but always funny tongue, now for the first time turns his talents to the national scene as a newspaper writer.

* * *

Ah Chicago, during the Democratic Convention, and again from San Francisco, when the Republicans meet, George Jessel will be there ready with his comments and cracks on what he sees.

Considine Tops Special Staff

INS Assigns Reporters, Political Experts to Big Conventions

NEW YORK (INS)—One of the largest staffs of famous reporters, feature writers and political analysts ever assembled will cover the national political conventions this month for readers of The Pontiac Press, through the International News Service.

Top reporters at the two conventions for INS include:

Bob Considine, one of America's best known reporters.

Ruth Montgomery, feature writer, columnist and outstanding Washington newspaperwoman.

William K. Hutchinson, dean of wire service reporters in Washington and chief of the INS bureau in the Capital city.

James Leee, ace Washington reporter, writer and veteran political observer.

James L. Kilgallen, owner of one of the most famous "bylines" in America.

Prize-winning reporter Jack Lotto.

William Theis and Rose McKee, two of the most respected political writers in the national capital.

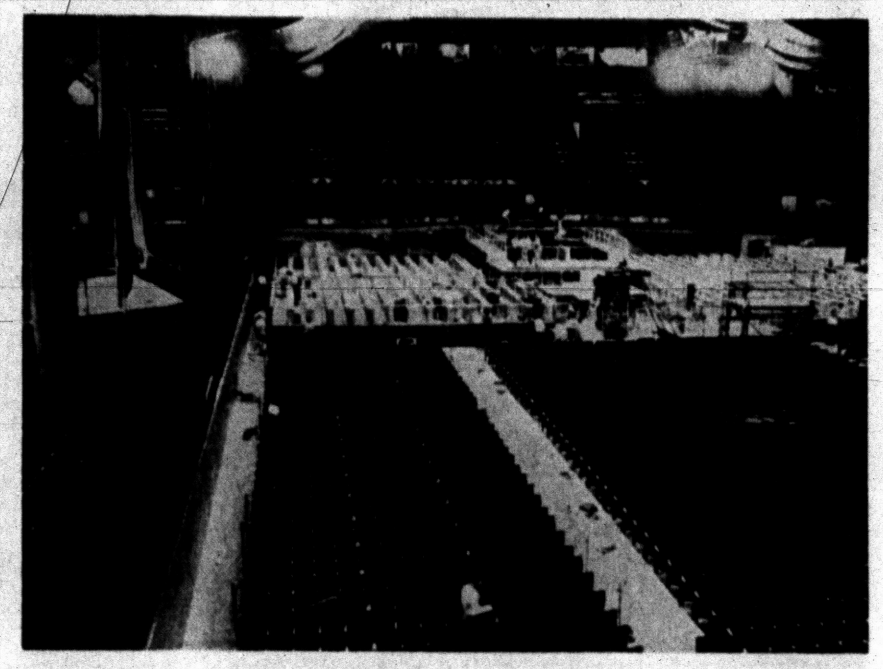

In Chicago INS will have on the scene its midwest regional director, Gene Roguski, plus such other midwest news aces as Gene Schroeder and Virginia Kachan.

In San Francisco, the INS contingent will be bolstered by west coast director John D. Hanley, and members of his staff, including Leo Rapidan, Harry Johaneson, Harry Bergman and Jane Cochran.

Starting Monday Hutchinson will write a daily article reporting and analyzing the behind-the-scenes convention activities that don't make the headlines—but DO make the news.

For more than 30 years, William K. Hutchinson has made Washington—and national politics—his "beat." He has covered and directed coverage at 16 national conventions.

No reporter on the national scene today has a better grasp of just what happens when the two major parties get together at their conventions to pick their presidential candidates.

State AP Papers to Have Own Political Coverage

Michigan Associated Press members will have their own special reporter covering the state's delegation to the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

Roger Lane, correspondent at the Lansing AP Bureau, will keep close tab on Michigan delegates and officials for a comprehensive picture of the state's role in convention developments.

He will file his stories direct on the national news wires or by telephone to Detroit for fast relay on the state circuits. He will also send special features and additional news material by direct wire to Michigan AP papers.

In addition, Preston Stroup, of the Detroit Bureau, one of the AP's top photographers, has been assigned to picture coverage of the two conventions.

Thus readers of the 38 Michigan newspapers who are members of the Associated Press will get an up-to-the-minute view of behind the scenes and floor activity of the state's convention delegations.

TV-Networks Go All Out

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK—Television is leaving no stone unturned to make the 1956 political conventions the most widely covered and most generally watched events in history.

The three major networks will send 1075 men and 60 cameras to cover the two conventions. Network by network, here are some of their plans:

ABC: Under the guidance of vice president John Daly, ABC will send 350 newsmen and technicians and 30 cameras to Chicago and San Francisco.

Besides Daly, ABC will use the services of Quincy Howe, Don Goddard, Leo Cherne, Arthur Van Horn, Martin Agronsky, Bryson Rash, Erwin D. Canham, Ernest K. Lindley and dozens of others.

CBS: In terms of equipment, CBS says it is sending 22 tons of material in three trailer trucks two mobile units, a two-ton van and a station wagon. Walter Cronkite will ride herd over this mass of electronics, plus 325 men and 30 cameras.

CBS plans to unveil a "new" television camera—so far being kept secret — at the conventions.

* * *

CBS team will occupy 150-to-200 hotel rooms in both Chicago and San Francisco. Besides Cronkite, the network will send its varsity—Edward R. Murrow, Eric Sevareid, Bob Trout, Charles Collingwood, Douglas Edwards, Larry LeSueur, George Herman, Richard C. Hottelet and others.

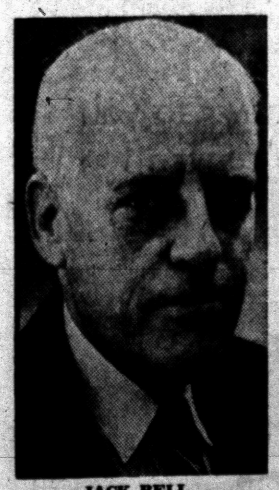

NBC: This network is emphasizing what it calls a "man-in-the aisle" approach to the convention, "gavel-to-gavel" coverage and a "new look" in communications centers.

With portable one-man cameras, they hope to get more pictures and interviews from the floor than ever before.

* * *

Convention Stories by These Top Writers Will Appear in The Pontiac Press

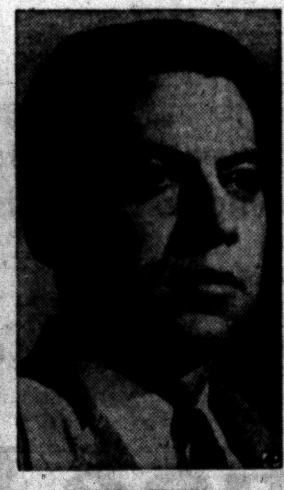

JACK BELL

Both the face and byline of Jack Bell are justly famous; the former for his appearances on TV news panels, the latter for his penetrating coverage of political affairs for the Associated Press in Washington since 1937. Bell has been chief of the AP's Senate staff since 1942.

MARTHA COLE

What women do at the political conventions will be the especial sphere of Martha Cole, whose day by day job is covering women in government in Washington for the Associated Press. One of the AP's ablest and prettiest reporters, she learned her politics in Texas, covered both national conventions in 1952.

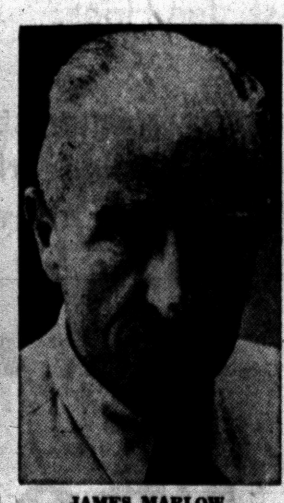

SAUL PETT

Saul Pett's deft touch for the unusual has made him one of the most widely read reporters in the country. Accompanying the Navy's expedition to the Antarctic last winter, he became the first newsman to fly over the South Pole.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Another widely known commentator on political and governmental affairs, David Lawrence, will attend both the Chicago and San Francisco conventions and file daily dispatches to The Pontiac Press. He is no stranger to Press readers, as his dispatches appear regularly on our editorial page.

JAMES MARLOW

The man whose explanation and interpretation makes complex subjects understandable, Jim Marlow, will be doing just that at the political conventions. Marlow's column, "The World Today," has been clarifying the obscure in Washington since 1944.

RELMAN MORIN

Relman (Pat) Morin has had the world for his beat. Since joining the Associated Press more than 20 years ago, he has covered the news in England, France, Germany, Egypt, Africa, Japan, India, China, Korea, to name a few stops, won a Pulitzer prize for his war reporting.

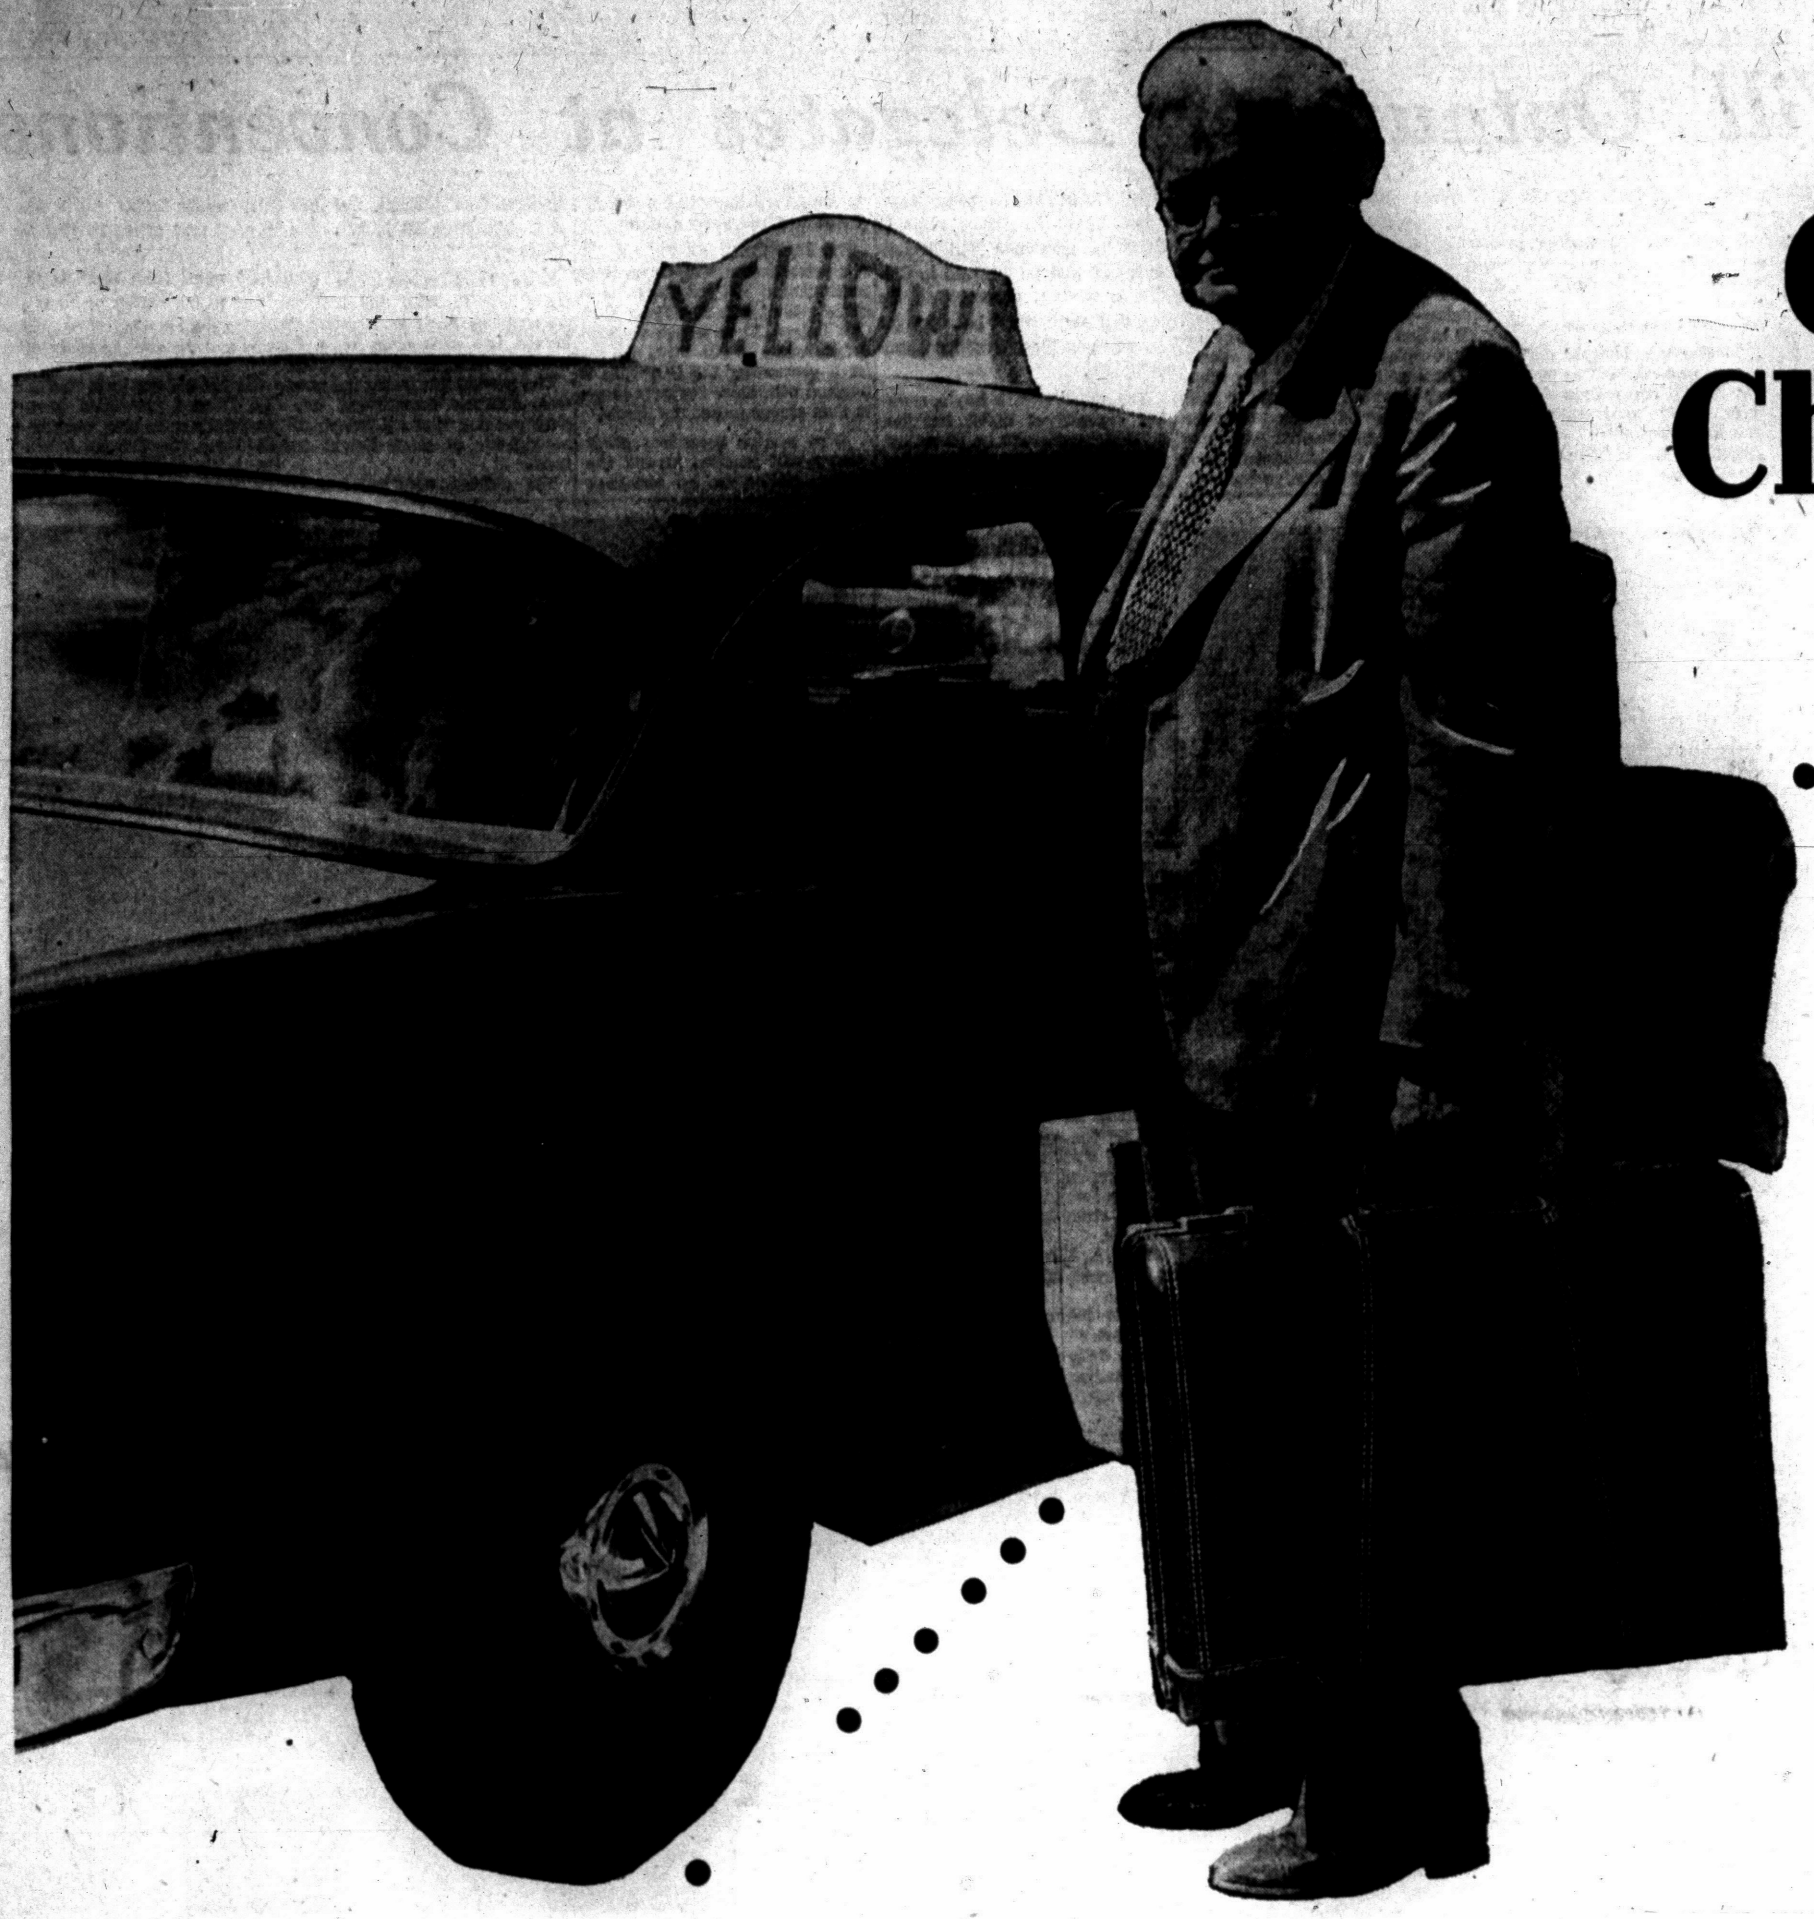

MARVIN ARROWSMITH

A 6-footer from Detroit, the writer Marvin Arrowsmith is a veteran of 13 years on the Washington political beat. He covered the Republican convention in 1948, traveled with Dewey until the election. In 1952, he rode both the Eisenhower and Stevenson campaign trains.

BOB CONSIDINE

Another top writer whose columns appear regularly in The Pontiac Press is Bob Considine, who joined the INS in 1936. With practically the entire world as his beat he has turned out some of the outstanding news and feature beats of our time. His convention stories will be a daily feature.

Challenge No. 10! Lucky 16 Words Can Snare $125

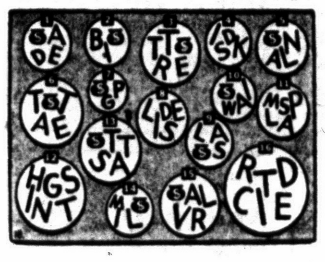

Another week — another $100: that's the least the Press will pay to the reader who comes up with the correct solution to Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 10, the newest challenge in our fascinating summer word game. Oother than the clues below, the best advice we can give is to read the rules carefully before sending in your entry. Have fun, and good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Speaker of the House in Australia Dies

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Archie Galbraith Cameron, speaker of the Australian House of Representatives since 1950, died yesterday in Royal Prince Alfred Hospital after a long illness from a lung complaint.

Cameron, 61, was one of the British Commonwealth's most colorful political figures.

As a Cabinet minister in the 1930s, he clashed with the then speaker and became the only minister in commonwealth parliamentary history to be suspended from membership by the House while in office.

Federal Prison Census Down Slightly From '55

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Prisons said today the number of persons it held in custody at midyear was down slightly from a year earlier, but not enough to eliminate overcrowding.

There were 20,374 persons in federal penal and correctional institutions last June 30, a decrease of 336 from the number of a year earlier, Director James V. Bennett said in a report to Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Wilson's Vacation Poll Is Won by Lillian Roth

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO, August 10—Everybody's talking polls now. So, not to be outpoliticked by Harold Stassen's poll on Vice Presidents, or Ed Sullivan's poll on Ingrid Bergman, I took the Wilson Poll on Vacations.

★ ★ ★

Lillian Roth won.

She nosed out Jim Thurber on the 87½th ballot.

I'm giving her a free trip to Chicago as a prize. Furthermore, she has to go while the Democrats are having their convention here. Only a darn fool would go if he or she didn't have to, and Lillian's no darn fool. So the prize won't cost me anything, because there won't be any.

I asked several particularly colorful celebrities to describe their best vacation . . . and their worst.

Jim Thurber from West Cornwall, Conn., informed me:

"I feel now as if I would like to spend an eternal vacation where there are no men writers or women writers, or editors, or publishers, or producers, or agents, or lawyers, or consultants, or senators, or congressmen, just a half dozen quiet ladies between the ages of 35 and 55. This is the age of my wife, and she is all six of them."

Lillian Roth was in Boston when she wrote to me:

"In the last five years I have not had an opportunity to take a long vacation . . . perhaps a day or two a year.

"But I look forward to the occasional day when I can hibernate.

★ ★ ★

"My husband, Burt, takes off for his mother's home in Southampton, L. I., and I close all the doors, pull down the shades, turn off the phone, put on the air-conditioner, get into a real comfortable cotton robe, smuggle in a quart of coffee ice cream, several chocolate bars, and all the gooey pies I don't dare eat all year.

"To take care of my guilt, I wash it all down with low-calorie gingerale.

"All this time I am seated comfortably watching TV from eight in the morning until sign-off.

"The older the picture and more western it is, the more fun for me.

"Of course I am not completely alone, I have three barking dogs that like to get into Gene Autry's act. To me that is a complete vacation.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

A famous crooner puts beer on his toupee—claims it keeps it neat . . . Biggest of the TV give-aways, "Break the $250,000 Bank," starts Oct. 9 . . . Steve Allen's sons are visiting N.Y. in relays; Steve Jr. flew back to L.A., Brian arrived.

A batch of Elvis Presley record labels had to be junked; the name was spelled "Evils" . . . Phil Silvers' writer, Leonard Stern, weds Gloria Stroock Sunday . . . One of the James Dean fan clubs still wears black mourning bands . . . Martine Carol, the French actress, is resting in a Paris hospital after her round-the-world publicity tour . . . Some of the East Side cafes are trying to perk up business by absorbing the 20 per cent amusement tax.

Earl's Pearls . .

"Vacations can be dangerous—that's when the boss finds out he can get along without you."—H. C. Diefenbach.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "An ulcer often shows that a man is in the big money—either he's making it or owing it."—Noro Morales.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Hal Jackson tells of the absent-minded lighthouse attendant who lost his job. Kept putting out the light before going to bed.

Bob Feller was asked if he had any problems pitching to Ted Williams. "I just throw the ball," Bob said, "—after that it becomes the outfielders' problem." That's earl, brother.

Food Cache in Garden Traps Teenage Thieves

LUDINGTON (AP) — Andrew Fonnesbeck went into the garden to work his raspberry patch and came up with seven 5-pound cans of honey and 12 cans of pork and gravy.

Police said the find led them to a pair of 13-year-old youths who have been turned over to Mason County juvenile authorities.

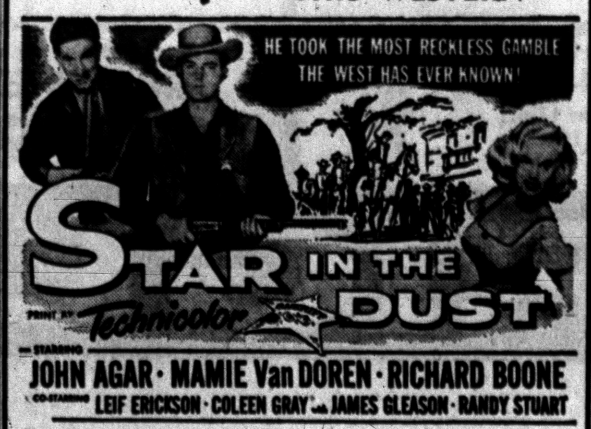

The food was government surplus, designated for school hot lunch programs and stolen recently from Pere Marquette School at Ludington, police reported.

A.P. to Open Juneau Bureau

Wire Service Is First to Provide Full-Time Coverage in Alaska

NEW YORK (AP)—The first permanent news service bureau devoted to coverage of the Alaska capital and to the affairs of Associated Press newspaper and radio members in the territory will be opened in Juneau in September, Frank J. Starzel, general manager, announced today.

* * *

Starzel appointed William J. Tobin, veteran newsman now stationed at Louisville, Ky., to head the new office.

"This forward step reflects The A.P.'s recognition of the increased importance and growth of the territory," Starzel said. "It follows as a natural step the start two years ago of the only 24-hour leased circuit serving the Alaska newspapers and radio stations."

The A.P. has had temporary offices in Juneau during past legislative sessions, but this is the first time any service has set up a permanent bureau.

* * *

Tobin, 28, was regional membership executive stationed in Louisville before accepting his present assignment. He has had wide experience in writing and handling news for both newspapers and radio stations. A native of Missouri, he worked for the Indianapolis Star and for the A.P. in Indianapolis, New York and Louisville.

Convertiplane Zips to Record for Helicopters

ST. LOUIS (AP)—McDonnell Aircraft Corp. reports its XV1 convertiplane hit 200 miles an hour, unofficially exceeding the speed record for helicopters.

McDonnell said the revolutionary craft, a combination of helicopter and airplane, reached the speed during a flight evaluation program conducted by the Air Force's Research and Development Command.

Capt. Wayne W. Eggert, test pilot, made 39 flights in which five conversions were accomplished from helicopter rotor takeoff to airplane forward flight and back to rotor for landing.

Top Talent Lined Up for Republicans in S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A number of star performers will entertain at the Republican National Convention starting Aug. 20 at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Actor George Murphy, who heads the committee, said he had lined up Ethel Merman, Rosalind Russell, Irene Dunne, Jane Powell, John Charles Thomas, Howard Keel, Gene Archer and several Metropolitan Opera stars.

Crime Is Expensive

WASHINGTON — It is estimated that during 1955 crime cost every person in the United States $122—a total of 20 billion dollars. For every $1 spent on education, crime cost $1.46, and for every $1 that went to the nation's churches, $13 went to crime.

Neighbors Help Out

NILES (AP) — Friends and neighbors teamed up to put a new roof on the home of Ira Treash, who is convalescing from surgery for a heart ailment that struck him two years ago. In that time neighbors have planted crops on the family's 20-acre farm and helped Mrs. Treash with heavy chores. The couple has three sons.

Lawmakers Play In-Out Game

Meet, Try to Adjourn in Same Day; Refuse to Act on Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP)—Michigan legislators were ready to go home today for another six weeks, leaving the question of doing anything on unemployment compensation just where it was when they came.

* * *

The lawmakers would have scattered Thursday within three hours of getting together again but for the balkiness of House Democrats who frustrated a Republican adjournment move.

The resolution to quit until Sept. 19, already approved by the Senate, is up for House action today. If it fails, some kind of makeshift recessing arrangement seems destined to succeed.

In the Senate, badly outnumbered Democratic followers of Gov. Williams failed Thursday to pry his basic unemployment proposal loose from the Labor Committee.

PARTY LINE VOTE

The move lost 9 to 22 on a party-line vote.

* * *

The bill involved would sharply increase jobless pay benefits and extend the period during which they may be drawn. It has been in committee since the special session started June 13.

Just before all the talk began, the State Employment Security Commission reported the number of unemployed reached 232,000 July 15, an increase of 8,000. It said nearly eight per cent of the state's labor force is out of work.

* * *

The Senate confirmed Williams' reappointment of former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner and former Sen. Prentiss Brown as members of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Lacey Explains Plan to Guarantee Adlai

DETROIT (INS) — Michigan's 44 votes to the Democratic convention could go to Adlai Stevenson on the first ballot if the delegation follows a suggestion from the state's Democratic National Committeeman.

* * *

Ernest J. Lacey said today that Gov. G. Mennen Williams should abandon his plans for a "favorite son" vote on the first ballot and permit Michigan's votes to go to Stevenson.

Lacey, who has fallen in Williams' favor of late, said:

"There is not much purpose in joining the parade after the victory is won. I wouldn't be surprised if the nomination went to Stevenson on the first ballot. Michigan should be riding with the winner."

Williams and other state Democratic leaders are presently looking for a new national committeeman to replace Lacey.

* * *

At the state party convention in June, the Michigan delegation pledged its support to Williams until he is ready to release them.

Madison Heights Man Wins Trip to Convention

LANSING (AP) — Ten persons have won all-expense trips to the Democratic National Convention for their work in a pre-primary registration drive, Democratic State Central Committee said today.

The winners:

Mrs. Catherine Noonan, Delton; Viola Borkowski, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Idilia Henderson, Flint; Mrs. Nancy Cheney, Lansing; Mrs. Berteine Fenner, St. Ignace; John Archanbault, Madison Heights; Walter Kolza, Mrs. Jacqueline Simmons, Mrs. Louis Lowery, and J. J. Considine Jr., all of Detroit.

To Talk '42 Convention

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1942 Democratic National Convention, longest in the nation's history, will be discussed on the CBS-TV "Eye on New York" program Sunday at 11 a.m. EDT, by two newsmen who attended the three-week-long meting. They are publicist and former newspaperman Peter A. Donlan and veteran announcer Tommy Cowan.

Hollywood Headlines

Dolores Gray May Accept Lead in Broadway Show

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—You can understand Dolores Gray's excitement over George Abbott offering her the lead in "Pay the Piper" on Broadway when she explains that this is the musical version of Eugene O'Neill's "Anna Christie."

"I would play the role Garbo created on the screen," Dolores enthuses, "a wonderful dramatic opportunity along with all the songs which I hear are really wonderful."

"I'm so happy with the way my movie career is going I hadn't planned to return to the stage this year—but how can I turn this down?" Dolores said. Even though MGM's "Opposite Sex" is packed with femme stars, Dolores walks off with most of the raves on the preview cards.

Ken Murray will spend $300,000 on a fish story—and that's no fish story. The cigar-smoking comedian will produce and narrate "Fin and Haddie," a feature short about a trained trout and a baby octopus. He hopes it will create as much attention as his short about birds, "Bill and Coo" which won him an Oscar in 1947.

* * *

"This trained trout does a spectacular stunt," says Ken. "He jumps from one pool into another through a burning hoop. The octopus is also trained and he'll play the heavy." Republic, which released "Bill and Coo" will release the tall fish story, the tallest I've ever heard.

The rains falling in Japan (and every other locale where films are being made) isn't stopping Bill Dozier from routing RKO's "Escapade in Japan" to Tokyo. Teresa Wright was signed today for the femme lead playing the American mother of an eight-year-old boy who is feared kidnaped.

* * *

Arthur Lubin, the producer-director, tells me the picture will be in technicolor and has an October 1 starting date. By that time there shouldn't be any rain left.

Walt Disney, who shops for his TV material as carefully as he does for his movies, has bought Stewart Edward White's "The Saga of Andy Burnett" for a Disneyland presentation over ABC.

The script-writing job has been turned over to Tom Blackburn who did the highly successful Davy Crockett shows.

Set in the early 1800s, "The Saga of Andy Burnett" follows the adventures of a young Kentucky mountain man who begins as a fur trapper and becomes a rancher in Spanish California.

Life Is a Crock in Iraq, Wife Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—A young mother who escaped from an unhappy married life with an Arab in Baghdad arrived by plane yesterday from Rome, en route to her parents' home in Palo Alto, Calif.

In Iraq "men get married for one reason — just to have a slave," said Mrs. Helen Johnstone Subbagh 27.

"It was just a difference in our cultures," she added.

Mrs. Subbagh carried her 22-month-old son, Leith Paul, in one arm and her handbag in the other. She said she got out of Iraq with the aid of a U.S. Vice consul after a Moslum court decreed she could not take the baby out of the country. She said they escaped with only the clothes they wore.

Mrs. Subbagh was married to Abdul Hebbar Subbagh in 1953 in the Palo Alto Methodist Church when he was a student here. She said Subbagh told her he was a Christian, but turned out to be a Moslem. She now questions whether the marriage was legal.

"He was a gentleman, very kind and very sweet, before we were married," she said, "but after we were married he certainly changed."

Eleven months ago they went to Baghdad because, she said, she thought he would "change for the better at home."

"I didn't get along too well with him here," she said, but when we got over there it was worse. Women receive no respect in Iraq, and men get married for one reason—just to have a slave."

She said her husband "slapped me around whenever he felt like it—he was small but husky, and when he hit it hurt."

She said she lost 25 pounds in less than a year, and now weighs about 100.

7 Held in Theft of Guns

FLINT (AP)—State Police said four juveniles and three teenagers were arrested Wednesday in the theft of almost $1,600 worth of guns and ammunition from a Clio gun shop. Officers said they recovered 16 guns and $75 worth of ammunition. The youngsters ranged in age from 15 to 18. Police said the teenagers will be prosecuted and the juveniles turned over to Probate Court.

Suez's 'Grand Old Lady' Won't Give Up Her Ship

PORT SAID (INS)—New York-born Hilda Slavick, at 84 the oldest resident of Port Said's foreign colony, yesterday turned down a cabled plea from relatives in the United tSates to "come home immediately."

The white-haired, slender Mrs. Slavick said with a twinkle in her eye:

"I don't propose to leave until I have traveled as far as the cemetery.

Known as the "grand old lady" of Port Said, Hilda said she is determined to stick it out no matter what.

THERE SINCE 1909

She has lived at Port Said, northern terminus of the crisis-ridden Suez Canal, since 1909 but is proud that she retained her American citizenship.

Still quite active, Hilda has lived alone in an apartment since the death four years ago of her husband, S. J. Slavick, a merchant of Greek nationality.

Her closest relative is a brother, William Barnes, 96, who lives near Buffalo, N.Y.

CONTINUES ROUTINE

While awaiting developments in the international dispute over the Suez, Hilda has been calmly gardening, playing bridge, cooking, "even making my own jam."

Another American, Al Beale, 42, of St. Petersburg, Fla., is one of two U.S. pilots now employed by the nationalized Suez Canal authority.

He said he is carrying on with his work of taking ships through the vital waterway and expressed the hope the situation will remain calm so he could leave for a U.S. vacation as scheduled Aug. 20.

His wife and two children departed as planend seven weeks ago and are now staying with H. H. Dreany at College Park, Md.

Beale has been a Suez pilot for three and one-half years. He formerly was a ship captain employed by Superior Oil Co. of Calif.

Beale said he has no plans for leaving the canal zone permanently.

HST Welcomed by Stevenson

Aides See Ex-President Not Throwing Support to Harriman

CHICAGO (AP)—The door of Adlai E. Stevenson's convention headquarters was open today for Stevenson—and, if he cares to come in, for Harry S. Truman.

* * *

Stevenson was on the way.

But his aides said they didn't know whether the former President would pay a call.

And, more important politically, they professed not to know where Truman is going in the competition for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Stevenson strategists were reported to be theorizing—or hoping—along this line:

* * *

The timing of Truman's forthcoming announcement indicates he won't support Gov. Averell Harriman of New York because an endorsement of Harriman on the eve of the convention would churn up turmoil and dim hopes for preserving party peace.

Stevenson was the leading contender with 462½ delegates votes in the latest Associated Press poll. His strategists claim he has 630 of the required 686½ lined up for the first ballot.

* * *

Stevenson's headquarters were opened Wednesday. But Stevenson except for his call on Truman yesterday and a private dinner Monday, has spent the week at his Loop office and his home in suburban Libertyville.

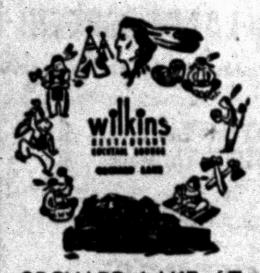

Rain Causes Fire Loss

PLAINVILLE, Conn. (AP)—Rain was blamed for a $10,000 fire loss at the poultry farm of Edward T. Stagis. A fire engine, responding to an alarm, became mired in heavy mud caused by the rain and arrived too late to prevent destruction of a three-story frame chicken house.

Coming Flower Show Will Proclaim 'Summer's Bounty'

To Be Held Aug. 25, 26

Inter - Garden Clubs Exhibiting Total of 30 Classes

Twenty-three classifications for flowers and seven for vegetables will proclaim "Summer's Bounty," the theme of the Inter - Garden Clubs Flower Show to be held Aug. 25-26 at the CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd.

According to the schedule, from one stalk to five blooms may be exhibited in each flower class. The containers will be furnished. All specimens must have been grown by the exhibitor and should be in prime condition.

The vegetables, too, must have been grown by the exhibitor. They must be displayed in threes —that is, three beets, three carrots, etc.

Now is the time for gardeners to do some priming on possible entries. A dose of liquid fertilizer and a shot or so from the dust gun or sprayer may be just what those plants need to put them in first class shape.

* * *

Sponsored by the Dirt Gardeners and Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac and the Sylvan and Waterford Branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, the show is open to the public.

Anyone can enter in all sections except the table settings which are assigned to the clubs' members. All entries must be in place by 12 noon on the opening day of the show.

A special section will be set aside for punior gardeners. They may enter specimens they have grown—one large flower or three small flowers or one large vegetable or three small vegetables.

They may also enter in the most unusual vegetable growth and the best animal or person made of vegetables.

The junior division also includes an arrangement in a favorite container, miniature arrangements, and those using the color of a bird or a butterfly with the picture to accompany it.

Lilies, Shrubs Most Noteworthy

Prize Plants Bloom in Waltz Garden

By MARTHA LEWIS
Ortonville Correspondent

Prize-winning blooms and "heirloom" plants bedeck the garden of Mr. and Mrs. John Waltz, 184 West Mill St., Ortonville.

Day lilies in seven shades ranging from light lemon to mahogany are most striking in the Waltz garden. Besides the day lilies, several other varieties of lily are grown — the madonna, tiger, turk-cap, and plantain lilies.

One lily Mrs. Waltz calls her surprise lily, for it may be without a bloom one day and the next, have up to 20 blooms.

Prize-winning roses of eight different varieties are also grown. Their colors range from the palest white to deep scarlet.

Providing a setting for the lilies and roses as well as many other flowers which bloom throughout the spring and summer, are shrubs and non-flowering plants.

Two of these plants have a special distinction — they were planted by Mrs. Waltz's late father, Fred Wilders, the last Civil War veteran in Brandon Township who died in 1936 at the age of 95.

One of the plants, a Persian lilac bush, Mr. Wilders obtained from a bush his father had. The other plant is a grapevine, planted in 1896 which still bears fruit.

Outstanding house plant of the Waltzes is a three feet wide Christmas cactus which has bloomed annually for the past 30 years.

In the summer Mrs. Waltz sets the plant out under the shrubs where it "rests."

Waltz has been president of Ortonville for four years and was in the grocery business for 21 years before his retirement in 1946.

Mrs. Waltz is an active citizen in the community and devotes much of her time teaching Sunday school at the Baptist Church in Ortonville.

Pontiac Press Photos

QUEEN OF THE NIGHT—This appropriately enough is a common name given to the above flower, the night-blooming cereus or cactus. Monday the Press photographer was fortunate to record the once-a-year opening of the plant belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Romer of 2896 Crooks Rd. Shown in the first picture is the plant at 6 p.m. in the first stages of opening. At about 8 p.m. the flower is half open, and 12 p.m. the flower is fully opened. Mrs. in diameter. The Romers, who own their own greenhouse, keep in diameter. The Romers, who own their own green-house, keeps the plant as a "pet." The plant was given extra care and produced its waxy flower twice this year.

From the Garden Editor

Our picture - story of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Romer's night blooming cereus which appears on the garden page today should have included a note about another plant owned by Mrs. Dolly Frick of 201 Ball St., Ortonville.

* * *

Not many people attempt to grow the flower because it is a discouraging job. First blossom does not appear for from five to seven years. In the meantime, the plant may develop shoots which give it a straggly awkward appearance.

* * *

For the benefit of Mrs. J. M. Swank of Rochester who inquired about freezing garden roses, we contacted Wayne L. Seifert, assistant county agent, who came up with some tips which should prove helpful.

A constant temperature of 31 degrees must be kept. Falling below that temperature will mean killing the roses. The roses should be stored dry, wrapped in wax paper and put in a metal can.

* * *

Seifert adds that the roses he has seen stored were commercially cut roses, and were kept for six months. He believes garden roses, with the proper temperature, can be kept for two or three months.

* * *

Mrs. Melvin Brim, 403 Lakeside Dr., Elizabeth Lake Estates, tells us she has petunias in pink and white to rival those of Mrs. Ernest Campanaro of Walled Lake. Mrs. Brim says her petunias cover approximately half a block, surrounding a circle driveway.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Why is it that double peonies sometimes turn back to the single peony? My neighbor had a double red peony which got a yellow center and looked like a single peony.

A—I suspect that this is due to some mixup or erroneous observation. Possibly a young plant of similar color rooted close to the double and this single plant choked out the original double peony.

There is, of course, the possibility that the plant has "sported," but such mutations are uncommon in peonies.

* * *

Q—Do raspberries prefer a soil that is sweet or sour?

A—Recent investigation seems to indicate that they like a soil which is a little on the acid side.

Q—I have always had trouble growing carrots. Mine are seldom straight, smooth and plump. What makes them misshapen?

A—Carrots are bound to be misshapen if grown close together. Thin out the young plants when they are three inches tall. There should be three inches or more between them. When thinning, try to select strong seedlings to remain.

Q—What is peat moss?

A—It is organic matter distinctly above the class of humus. Sphagnum peat moss is a soil medium free from fungi and weed seeds, highly absorbent and retentive of moisture, rich in carbon, free from harmful mineral content.

While possessing no fertilizer value, no other soil medium may boast of so many combined good qualities.

Q—A reputable local arborist planted two large maples in our yard last winter and wrapped the trunks and lower branches with strips of burlap.

Disliking the looks of the burlap, I want to remove it now but the arborist says it should remain for another winter. What is your opinion?

A—This old gardener agrees with the arborist. It is advisable to leave the burlap in place for about two years.

The burlap protects the bark from drying, cracking and from many insects. Spraying the burlap now and again in midsummer with DDT or malathion provides additional insurance against bugs.

First successful beet sugar factory in the United States was built at Alvarado, California, in 1879.

Set Up Simple System for Proper Rose Care

Even during the dry summer months, roses will retain that crisp fresh look if gardeners set up a simple system of regular care.

* * *

Top quality plants will offer ample dividends with a reasonable amount of watering and care.

While roses do not like "soaked feet," they require plenty of water at regular intervals. If the beds are properly drained, a generous supply of water will improve the growth and help to produce more and lovelier flowers.

The ability of a rose to manufacture food and to deliver it throughout the plant depends to a great extent on the water supply.

For this reason watering must be thorough and well placed and not merely a wetting of the surface soil. Rose beds should actually be soaked so that the water penetrates to a depth of at least 12 inches.

A porous canvas or plastic hose laid close to the base of a row of plants will distribute water evenly without washing away soil. If a regular garden hose is used, remove the nozzle and place the mouth of the hose on a flat board to spread the flow.

Another way is to let the hose run gently into a trench dug alongside the rose bed.

While hardy quality roses such as the 1957 All American Rose Selections award winners, White Bouquet and Golden Showers and the 1956 winner Circus, will withstand relatively long dry spells, they will give far better results if watered properly.

A final precaution about watering—avoid wetting the foliage because it increases the chances of blackspot and other diseases. In arid areas where humidity is low, sprinkling the foliage does little harm.

However in any area use precaution to keep water off the foliage as good insurance against the spread of the disease.

Plenty of water together with good mulching is the key to hot weather care. It is not particularly hard nor does it require a great deal of time. For the little effort involved, the rewards are magnificent.

Hot Weather Dries Up Trees

When the "dog days" of summer arrive, trees, as well as people, appreciate a long, cool drink.

* * *

During summer trees, shrubs and evergreens often suffer severely from thirst. With hot and possibly dry weather ahead, now is the time to plan a watering program.

A regular weekly one will do for rule-of-thumb. But unusually hot, dry weather demands a five-day schedule, especially for the newly transplanted specimen.

For large trees and shrubs, water should be applied slowly to seep through to the deepest roots. With evergreens, spray the foliage with water, too, any time other than during the heat of the day.

* * *

Most people water tree transplants regularly during the first year or two. The third and fourth years also require watering care. In some cases, the root system is still under-balanced in relation to the top growth. The tree them must supply from too limited a soil mass

Trees in drought areas usually can be helped by feeding, too. This applies to most woody plants regardless of variety or size.

Extra watering during hot, dry weather helps all kinds of plants. With established large trees, let the lawn sprinkler run for several hours in one place to reach the deep roots.

Pruning Helps Train Your Trees in Summertime

Summer pruning and training of young trees will enable you to produce stronger, larger, and better-shaped trees than you can with dormant pruning alone.

This advice comes from Agriculture Department research scientists who point out that where summer pruning and training is practiced they found that one to two years can be saved in the development of a strong, well-spaced framework of scaffold and secondary branches.

To train peach and plum trees to the desired shape, leave the center leader with three to five branches spaced six to 10 inches apart on the trunk to form the framework of the tree.

Select the bottom branch about 18 to 24 inches from the ground. When possible, the lower branches should be selected on the side in the direction of the prevailing wind. All unwanted branches should be removed or cut back so they will not compete with the branches selected for the framework of the tree.

The experts suggest that you follow a similar method for apples or pears except that five to eight branches should be selected with the lower branch about 24 to 30 inches above the ground.

Give Tea Roses Rest

Hybrid teas produce better fall bloom if given a mid-summer rest period. Withhold fertilizer and give them a little less water than usual.

Heaven Help the Stars!

Browns Ready to 'Pour It On' Tonight

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO—Heaven help the College All-Stars if Cleveland coach Paul Brown has his way.

Brown has made it publicly clear that he does not plan to spare the rod in tonight's 23rd game of the annual grid classic at Soldier Field.

Modest oddsmakers have listed the pro champions as 13 point favorites.

Those who see vengeance strongly evident in the eyes of the big bad Browns will venture as high as 26 points.

Brown isn't surprised at the odds favoring his team. In fact he has caused the margin to widen by announcing he would start a complete veteran lineup, whether on offense or defense, in an attempt to avenge the 30-27 defeat at the hands of the Collegians last year.

"We won't be as complacent as we were a year ago," Brown told members of the press.

* * *

One person who hasn't been shaken by the raves of strength about the Browns is coach Curly Lambeau who is guiding the All-Stars for the 2nd year.

"We did it before," said Lambeau, "and Brown may have his players all keyed for the game, but we can do it again."

Lambeau named ex-Michigan State All-America Earl Morrall to call the signals for the All-Stars, while the Browns hand the same duties to George Ratterman.

The Detroit Lions have taken some encouragement from Brown's choices at the starting halfback posts. Howard (Hopalong) Cassady and Don McIlhenny, two Lion draft choices, are listed for opening assignments, with Don Schaefer of Notre Dame set at fullback.

* * *

The "service" ends of Ron Beagle from Navy and Don Holleder of Army have been given the call to start.

Other prominent names from the 1955 college scrapbook include George Welsh of Navy and Jim Holuska of Wisconsin at quarterback; Bob Pellegrini, center from Maryland; Bob Burriss, Oklahoma and Gary Glick of Colorado at halfbacks.

A crowd of more than 75,000 is expected for the game which will have national radio and TV coverage. Kickoff time is 8:30 p.m.

Strong Field Opposes Wasik for City Title

Some of the most illustrious names in Pontiac area golfing circles are entered in the annual City Medal Play Championship, which is scheduled Saturday and Sunday over a 36-hole route at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

Headed by defending champion Eddie Wasik, an all-star lineup of amateur shotmakers will parade to the 1st tee in quest of the 1956 city title. The 28-man field is slated for 18 holes each day, starting at 12 noon.

Four past champions, including a pair of 3-time winners, will be on hand to challenge Wasik's attempt for a repeat.

Mike Andonian, who fired a four-under-par 65 at Municipal last Saturday for the exercise, won the crown three straight years (1951-53). Glenn Harding annexed the trophy twice in succession (1947-48) and again in 1950.

* * *

Paul Bada, 1954 winner, and Stan Savage round out the list of ex-titleholders testing Wasik this weekend, but the 1955 champion's opposition does not stop there.

* * *

Leading the pack of "outsiders" is Jim Pettiford, last Saturday's qualifying medalist with a 68. Other dangerous threats include Lloyd Syron, Bob Gaines, Charles Barker, Bill Pembroke, Bill Stolloff and perennial contender Butler Cooper, to name a few.

Wasik, Bada and Andonian are scheduled to tee off at 12:48 p.m. and this pairing looms as the top gallery attraction. Harding is paired with Joe Burgdorf and Jerry Lampson at 12:40 while Savage, Pettiford and Barker get under way at 12:56.

Trophies will be awarded to the champion and runner-up while golf balls go to 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th places. The city tournament completes the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's summer golf program at the Municipal links.

* * *

12:00—Bob Martin, Lloyd Syron, C. Burton.
12:08—Ery Richards, Harley Hyatt, Buell Smith.
12:16—Glenn Vallance, Walt Latozas, R. Murphy.
12:24—Butler Cooper, Harold Daniels, Ron Rothbarth.
12:32—Bob Gaines, Joe Adamcyzk, Bill Pembroke.
12:40—Glenn Harding, Joe Burgdorf, Jerry Lampson.
12:48—Ed Wasik, Paul Bada, Mike Andonian.
12:56—Stan Savage, Jim Pettiford, Charles Barker.
1:04—Bill Stolloff, John Wettlaufer, Andy Lindsay, Al Papasian.

Coach Offers Grid Cure: Uniform Recruiting Code

CHICAGO (AP)—President of the American Football Coaches' Assn. wants uniform recruiting and subsidizing rules for college athletes, unlike the "unworkable and unrealistic" code of the harassed Pacific Coast Conference.

Jess Neely of Rice Institute told the American Assn. of Sports Publicity Directors yesterday that "coaches and athletic directors are the only ones who can directly solve the ills of college football."

Neely criticized the "Dartmouth amendment" accepted by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. several years ago which he said "had driven us outside for funds."

Neely said the Southwest Conference, of which Rice is a member, felt all athletic funds should be administered by the schools.

* * *

"Until the Dartmouth amendment was passed that was our practice," said the veteran coach. "Now, we are forced to solicit funds from our alumni and friends for the purpose of financing visits of prospective students to our campus."

Neely said if other conferences adopted a similar, "not necessarily identical" code, "it would mean the end of much subterfuge and deceit, but best of all, the responsibility of adhering to them would rest directly on coaches and athletic directors, where it belongs."

Mantle to Face Baltimore Jinx

Yank Slugger 11 Games Ahead of Ruth's Pace After Hitting No. 39

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle runs into the Baltimore "jinx" again tonight in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's elusive 60 home run record.

* * *

The 24-year-old New York Yankee center fielder has 39 homers in the bag thus far, putting him 11 games ahead of Ruth's tremendous 1927 pace—but the Mick hasn't been able to tag one off Baltimore pitching yet this season.

* * *

In fact, Mantle hasn't walloped one against the Orioles—who open a four-game series at Yankee Stadium tonight—since Aug. 21 of last year.

It will be game No. 108 for Mantle, who has socked homers against every other American League club. Ruth, the old Bronx Bomber, had only 35 homers at this stage in 1927. He didn't get his 39th until the 118th game, adding his 40th two games later.

* * *

Mantle got No. 39 yesterday in New York's 15-7 victory at Washington. It was his eighth against the Senators and his fifth for the month of August.

* * *

Ruth hit only nine in August—but then went on a 17-homer tear in September, hitting No. 60 on the final day of the season.

THURSDAY'S STARS

PITCHING — Taylor Phillips, Braves, the young southpaw who gave just three hits, walked only two and struck out six while beating Cardinals 4-1 in first major league start in important opener of twi-night doubleheader; Cards took nightcap 5-1.

HITTING — Gus Bell, Redlegs, smacked his 22nd home run, with man on base, to beat Cubs 5-3 in 10 innings and hoist Redlegs to within two games of first place.

Big Booster in Tighe

Foytack to Repay Coach

DETROIT (AP)—The fellow whose encouragement and patience kept a pitcher from calling it quits at the age of 24 says the kid can pay him back tonight.

"If he can win tonight," said coach Jack Tighe, "he will have shown everyone that he has become just half as good as he could be."

Tighe, of course, was talking about righthander Paul Foytack who will face the Chicago White Sox tonight. Foytack is the guy who couldn't win for the Detroit Tigers last season and who almost gave up the game because of it.

Now he has won 9 games and lost 8. Tighe says he's capable of becoming a 20-game winner, "maybe, even by next year."

It was all a matter of gaining confidence and developing a rhythm to his pitching delivery, says the Detroit coach. Now Foytack is the club's strikeout leader with 118 whiffs in 162 innings.

Records Fall in Swim Trials

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — The United States Olympic swimming and diving tryouts at Rouge Park enter the concluding phase today and by this time no one watching the final trials in Brennan Pools doubts the tremendous abilities of the contestants involved.

Four more aquatic stars were named to the 1956 squad and five more records tumbled here Thursday as America's young Olympic hopefuls continued to give convincing proof that Uncle Sam will be well represented in the November games at Melbourne.

The eventual 46-member team mounted in strength yesterday when Yoshi Oyakawa, Frank McKinney, Al Wiggins and Bob Hughes were added to the growing roster, bringing to 25 the number of members chosen. The remaining 21 will be selected from today's 7-event windup.

* * *

A rain-soaked, gloomy 3rd day failed to dampen Oyakawa, Ohio State's ex-Big 10 champion and now a lieutenant in the Air Force. Oyakawa splashed to victory in the 100-meter backstroke final to earn his trip to Australia. His time of 1:05.2 bettered by two-tenths of a second the Olympic record he set himself in 1952.

Oyakawa joined fellow Hawaiian Bill Woolsey and diver Bob Clotworthy as the only men's survivors of the 1952 team. McKinney of Indianapolis and Higgins of Pittsburgh, who finished 2nd and 3rd in the backstroke, joined Oyakawa on the squad. John Smith, former Detroit MacKenzie star, just missed an Olympic backstroke berth by coming in 4th.

Hughes, of Santa Monica, Calif., landed a spot on the team by providing the day's major upset. Hughes beat out Dick Fadgen, North Carolina State sensation, in the finals of the 200-meter breaststroke to win the lone Olympic position awarded for the event. His time was 2:44.4 and his last-instant push tripped Fadgen.

Fadgen had broken the American 200-meter mark in the afternoon preliminaries with an effort of 2:44 flat, which chipped 1.7 seconds off the record.

Sylvia Ruuska, a 14-year-old from Berkeley, Calif., stroked to a new American record in the 400-meter freestyle preliminaries. Her clocking of 5:10.7 bettered Nancy Simons' time of 5:13 and also easily topped the Olympic mark of 5:21.1.

Carin Cone smashed her own record in the 100-meter backstroke. Her reading of 1:14.4 broke by a tenth of a second her previous American mark. The 16-year-old swimmer hails from Ridgewood, N. J.

America's phenomenal distance swimmer, George Breen of Buffalo, and Hawaii's George Onekea both broke 19 minutes in the qualifying heats of the men's gruelling 1,500-meter freestyle.

Shelley Mann of the Walter Reed Swim Club, Washington, D. C., gave a dazzling performance in the women's 100-meter butterfly. Miss Mann streaked through the preliminary trial in the time of 1:12.4.

Seven finals will climax today's last round. Final events include men's 1,500-meter freestyle, 200-meter freestyle and platform diving and women's 100-meter backstroke, 100-meter butterfly, 400-meter freestyle and platform diving. Two preliminaries are also part of the program.

London Oldtimers' 9 Appears Here Sunday

Followers of the Pontiac International Oldtimers Baseball loop nine will get their first glimpse of the London, Ont., Oldtimers this weekend. The Canadians, who beat Toledo last weekend will play Pontiac at Wisner Stadium, Sunday, starting at 3 p.m.

"Don't know who the Londons will pitch here, but they are said to have a strong mound staff and a good club," says Manager Bud Leslie of the Pontiac nine. Leslie hadn't made up his mind about his own starter. He requested that Pontiac team members report at the field not later than 2 p.m.

Racing Chief Blasted

Hambletonian Transferred

NEW YORK (AP) — A showdown between the U.S. Trotting Assn. and Commissioner George Monahan of the New York State Harness Racing Commission over the control of the sport in New York was seen today in the transfer of the Hambletonian Stakes from Goshen, N.Y. to DuQuoin, Ill.

* * *

The rich stake for 3-year-old trotters, raced for the 31st time last Wednesday with The Intruder winning, was awarded to DuQuoin yesterday by the director of the Hambletonian Society after they had criticized the administration of the sport in New York State.

* * *

E. Roland Harriman, president of the society, said in a statement the directors agreed the proper place for the Hambletonian is Goshen, where it has been raced since 1930.

But they turned down the proposal of the seven New York trotting tracks to continue the race at Goshen because of "the unsatisfactory conditions under which harness racing is being administered in New York state at the present time."

Fishing Without a License Is Top Outdoor Violation

LANSING (AP) — Fishing without a license is more than holding its own as the favorite sport of Michigan's outdoor lawbreakers.

* * *

The state conservation department says prosperity hasn't made the tiniest dent in the number of persons who refuse to buy a dollar and a half ticket for a ride on the right side of the law.

In fact, says the department, the number of convictions for unlicensed fishing is increasing—mainly because of the rise in population.

In a typical month—May of this year — 147 fishermen were convicted of fishing without a license, nearly half of the convictions for all types of violations.

* * *

"The puzzling thing is that these people don't seem to realize their fines would buy them a fishing license for eight years," says Everett Tucker, assistant chief of the state's 158 conservation officers.

RPI Has Co-Captains

Johnny Fisher of Glenshaw, Pa., and Dave Brunell of Floral Park, N.Y., have been elected co-captains of the 1957 Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute lacrosse team. Fisher scored 24 goals for the Engineers this year. Brunell is the team's goal tender.

THE POWERHOUSE By Jimmy Powers

Robert Woolworth, 24, is the proprietor of Egyptian Princess, who was the favorite at Goshen in Wednesday's Hambletonian until Intruder won the annual classic. Woolworth is also part owner of the Detroit Tigers. In fact he was listed as a mystery man in the syndicate headed by Fred Knorr, a one-time $27.50 a week disc jockey.

★ ★ ★

Woolworth, of course, is no mystery man but he does represent a certain trend in modern sports operations. Today we function in a world of capital gains in which a flourishing ball club like the Yankees, for example, finds it necessary to sell its own stadium right out from under the spikes of its own ball club and pay the new landlord deductible rental.

Woolworth has dime-story family interests and funds available for investment. Like Jim Norris, Tom Yawkey and P. K. Wrigley he has a vast enthusiasm for more than one sport or hobby. Woolworth has just been cleared by the Frick screening process. This in itself represents a new policy. In the days of the rather pompous and overly theatrical Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis it was understood that a man with heavy horse racing investments would get into baseball only over the judge's moribund body.

Today we have Woolworth, sitting in a box in Briggs Stadium of which he is part owner, watching his Tigers take a soggy Sunday contest from the Yankees. Then we see him appear in his box at Goshen waiting for the Hambletonian favorite to pull her sulky out onto the track. It is quite possible that on some lucky distant year Woolworth could win the World Series of baseball and the "World Series" of the harness circuit. And who is to say it is an evil situation for either sport?

★ ★ ★

Those tremendous crowds at Jersey City didn't happen through accident. Behind it all is the hard selling of Irv Rudd, a steady plugger who knows the value of getting out and contacting the public. Attendance at Jersey City is well over 100,000 for five games. This is far above the average at Ebbets Field in a heavily congested boro. The day of opening the door, and enjoying a ticket rush, is a thing of the past. The product must be merchandised, packaged attractively and sold in heavy competition for the entertainment dollar.

★ ★ ★

In all the clowning at Casey Stengel's birthday parties which stretched over the better part of a week, there were many snide references to his "genius badge." What was overlooked was the heartwarming fact that when Charles Dillon Stengel married Edna Lawson on Aug. 16, 1924, he displayed the most excellent judgement. If there is a better or happier marriage anywhere in our sports world, I have yet to see it.

Allen Well Received

Tells Solons of Nephrosis

Stanley (Stag) Allen, former boxer, currently heading the Nephrosis Foundation campaign, appeared before the Michigan Legislature yesterday, to tell about his fight against the insidious disease that has taken one of his sons, and is what he declares a menace to many other youngsters.

Allen was delighted and thrilled at his fine, warm reception at the state capitol. He said he believed he had made a good impression, and had accomplished something good towards the campaign.

Pontiac's representative Leslie Hudson presented Stag to the House members. He spoke there for 10 minutes, then moved over to the Senate when he was introduced by Frank Andrews of Hillman, an old-time friend of Allen's father.

* * *

Highlight of the capitol visit, Allen said this morning, was a 15-minute chat with Governor Mennen Williams. The executive, Stag reported, congratulated him on his campaign, and expressed interest in it.

Tennessean Triumphs With 3-Under to Take U.S. Southpaw Title

HICKORY, N.C. (AP)—The pressure of holding the lead from the start didn't bother Harry Shoemaker, the nation's new champion left-handed golfer.

* * *

Shoemaker, 6-3 Florida State University senior from Signal Mountain, Tenn., closed out the 72-hole grind yesterday with a two under par 70 for a four-day total of 285, three under par, and a seven-stroke margin over runner-up Jack Walters of Tacoma, Wash.

Walters won the tournament three years ago and came up with four successive 73s for a 292. The event is run by the National Assn. of Left-handed Golfers.

Miami to Drop $12,500 Open

MIAMI (INS)—The city of Miami has dropped its sponsorship of the $12,500 Miami Open Golf tournament.

The city's six-man publicity advisory committee explained yesterday it was taking the action because it could not get the dates it wanted without increasing the purse.

The committee recommended that the money appropriated for the tourney be used to promote an Olympic-type sports program with an international appeal each spring.

Ready for 2-Day Ski Trials

With more than a half dozen former national and Midwest champions among the leading entries, some spectacular water-skiing was in prospect at Walled Lake this weekend.

For two days, Saturday and Sunday, the Midwestern tourney of the National Water Ski association will be under way at the popular Oakland County watering spot, on the north shore of Walled Lake. Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce and the Walled Lake Ski Club are co-sponsors.

Chamber of Commerce official Clare Riley said today that entries included Dick Sligh of Grand Rapids, national champion in all-events for 1952; Dave Thompson of Kalamazoo, all-events Midwest champion for 1954, in the veterans division; Tom Dowrin of Chicago, Midwest jumping champion in 1955 and Bud (Alfred) Fuller, Midwestern slalom champion for 1954.

* * *

Leading the women competitors are Sandy Swaney, national women's jumping champion in 1953; Marian Ensminger, Midwest jumping queen for 1954 and Janey Dowrin, sister of Tom, Midwest all-events champion in 1955. Janey is a member of the Cypress Gardens (Florida) troupe of waterskiers, but is coming here tomorrow for the Walled Lake tourney, Riley reports.

Fifty trophies will be awarded winners in the five-division, many-event tournament. Jumping, trick riding, slalom events will be run off in each division, involving men, women, junior boys and girls and veterans. Program begins at 9 a.m. each day, concludes around 6 p.m Bleachers provide seats for spectators.

Lowry Winner Over Bahama

SAGINAW (AP)—Yama Bahama's manager was looking for a rematch of his fighter and young Pat Lowry of Toledo today, "but not in Saginaw."

"Not after what happened last night," said a disgruntled Bobby Melnick, plainly displeased with a switch in the original decision which took the victory away from the favored Bahama.

The fight ended with Bahama the announced winner by a split decision in the 10-round bout at Veterans Memorial Park. The decision brought a roar of disapproval from many of the 1,646 fans, who showed their displeasure with a barrage of chairs, cans and bottles hurled into the ring.

In a welterweight bout, Pontiac's Don O'Berry dropped a four-round decision to Dick Custer of Bay City.

Favor Lightburn Over Zulueta in Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—A sub bout that turned out good enough to be a rematch is tonight's boxing show at Madison Square Garden where Orlando Zulueta meets Ludwig Lightburn.

When Joey Giambra turned up with a sore hand a month back, Matchmaker Billy Brown quickly closed a Zulueta-Lightburn bout to take the place of Giambra-Rocky Castellani. Zuelueta, a 3-1 underdog, won a unanimous decision.

Actually the decision hinged upon a ruling by Referee Pete Scalzo who penalized Lightburn the seventh round for a low blow.

Despite that unanimous verdict, 22-year-old Lightburn from British Honduras is a 13-5 favorite in the rematch on the strength of his superior punching ability.

The 9 p.m. (est) 10-round match gets the usual Friday network (NBC) radio and television coverage. Two judges and a referee will score by rounds with a supplementary point system.

One-Two for Pontiac

Pontiac's Rusty Kelly captured the 30-lap hardtop feature race last night at the Motor City Speedway. Joy Fair, also of Pontiac, finished in the second spot.

47 Shatter Par

Wininger Leads 'World' Field by 1

CHICAGO (AP)—Bo Wininger tries to protect his one-stroke lead in today's second round of Tam O'Shanter's golf madness after one of the greatest par-shattering displays in major tournament competition.

So eager were the 93 men pros in the "World" championship field to get a hunk of a $101,200 purse that 47 bettered par 72 in yesterday's opening round.

* * *

Wininger, prematurely gray 33-year-old pro from Odessa, Tex., took aim on the $50,000 first prize with a 7-under-par 65. Only four strokes separated him from 18 others.

With 66s were National Open champion Cary Middlecoff and 45-year-old Errie Ball, an Oak Park, Ill., club pro.

* * *

Grouped at 67 were Bill Nary, Ted Kroll, Pete Cooper and George Bayer. The 68 shooters included Billy Maxwell, also of Odessa, Jimmy Demaret, Peter Thomson, Jay Hebert, Herman Scharlau and Jerry Barber.

* * *

Clustered at 69 were longshots Babe Lichardus, Walker Inman Jr. and Mike Fetchick and veterans Johnny Palmer, Ed Oliver and Bob Toski, the 1954 "World" winner.

Among 11 in the 70 bracket were Sam Snead, Arnold Palmer and Earl Stewart Jr.

Gene Littler, Doug Ford, Mike Souchak, Jack Burke, Dow Finsterwald and Tommy Bolt were among 17 with 71.

Defending champion Julius Boros and last week's All-American titlist Dutch Harrison were off the pace with 72 and 74, respectively.

* * *

Front-runner spots in the $15,000 women's pro section also were jammed in the race for a $6,000 first prize. Mickey Wright, a pro only two years, entered the second round on top with a 5-under-par 71. Betty Jameson, Alice Bauer and Louise Suggs were next with 73.

* * *

Here are the 1st round Michigan leaders:

Bill Nary, Wayne, 34-33—67.

Chick Harbert, Northville, 34-36—70.

Walter Burkemo, Franklin, 36-34—70.

Pete Cooper, Birmingham, 34-33—67.

Mike Dietz, Lake Orion, 39-38—77.

In the 1st round for women pros Marilyn Smith, Bloomfield Township, scored 37-41—78.

Pee Wee Reese Sets Dodger Run Record

BROOKLYN (AP)—Pee Wee Reese today holds the Brooklyn record for lifetime runs scored with the Dodgers and he gives all the credit to "those good hitters who follow me in the batting order."

The shortstop - captain returned to the lineup after nursing a stiff neck for six days and scored three times in yesterday's 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh. That gave him a total of 1,257 runs scored, bettering the 1,255 record set by Zach Wheat.

Wheat set his mark in 18 seasons, ending in 1926. Reese, 37, is in his 14th season with the Dodgers. Mel Ott set the National League record of 1,859 in 22 seasons with the New York Giants.

A's Dump Bengals on 5 Hits

The 8th-place A's got only five hits—none in the last six innings—but their home run power accounted for more damage than did 11 Tiger base hits.

DETROIT (AP)—A weekend series that could go a long way in determining whether the Detroit Tigers will reach the American League's 1st division opens tonight in Briggs Stadium.

Going into the three-game set against the Chicago White Sox, the Tigers are seven full games behind the Windy City crew that now controls 4th place.

The Sox picked up a game yesterday, defeating Cleveland while the Tigers were bowing to the lowly Kansas City Athletics, 5-3.

A veteran nearing the end of the major league trail and a 19-year-old infielder in his 2nd major league season blasted home runs off 37-year-old Virgil Trucks to provide enough runs for the A's to bust a six-game losing streak.

* * *

Gus Zernial, the A's 33-year-old leftfielder whose puny batting average has been one of his club's biggest disappointments this season, smashed a three-run homer in the 1st inning.

* * *

Zernial spoiled the Tigers' opening day game this season with a pinch double off Frank Lary. His clout yesterday was the 195th of his major league career that started in 1948.

The other Kansas City home run was a bases-empty blast by sophomore Clete Boyer. It came off Trucks in the 2nd inning and was the kid's 1st major league home run.

The A's worked into a 5-run lead, scoring once in the 3rd and disposing of Trucks on a walk to Zernial and Charlie Thompson's two base hit.

Steve Gromek took over and turned in one of his finest performances of the season. The sidearming righthander allowed only one runner to base in the five innings he worked and gave up no hits.

* * *

And even though Walt Masterson pitched the 9th with no trouble the Tigers could not catch up. They did all their scoring in the 4rd inning off starter Jack McMahan.

Pinch hitter Bob Kennedy singled to lead off and one-out singles by Jack Philips and Charlie Maxwell loaded the bases. Al Kaline's single scored two runs but the Tiger rightfielder was out trying to stretch his hit into a double.

* * *

Kaline's safety derricked McMahan and brought on Art Ditmar. Ray Boone lined a single to left to score the 3rd run but Ditmar shut out the Tigers rest of the way.

Rain Halts Playoffs Again

Thursday may have been a wonderful day for ducks, but it was a horrible nightmare for city softball teams feverishly engaged in the process of completing their post-season tournaments.

For the 2nd time this week rain and wet grounds forced postponement of all softball and baseball action in both Pontiac and Waterford leagues. Yesterday's tilts will be played tonight with two exceptions.

The GMC-Gingellville girls' softball contest will be postponed because of other complications and the Class A City Baseball League game between Griff's Grill and Elks No. 723 will be cancelled.

The Class A baseball playoffs, operating under a new system this year, begin Sunday afternoon with a doubleheader at Wisner Field. Griff's meets the CIO Local 594 at 1:30 and Oliver Buick faces the Elks at 3:30.

The winner of the double-elimination tourney will tangle with league champion General Motors in a 2-out-of-3 series for the championship. Fowler's Fine Foods and the Anderson Jets, the two bottom clubs in the circuit, will not be in the playoffs.

Pontiac Boys Club champs in the Junior League's Class F and Midget divisions open their regional tournament warfare today against two Center Line squads. Class F teams square off at Columbia-Joslyn south while the Midgets battle at Jaycee Park.

Today's softball and baseball schedule:

Club Tourneys Nearing Final Round Action

Championship rounds are under way this week and next over most area golf club layouts. Several clubs have already determined their male champions, including Orchard Lake where Burt Shurly this week won his 2nd title.

Bloomfield's defending titlist Dick Wibel disposed of his 1st round opponent, Si Edwards Jr., 5 and 4 and this weekend meets R.C. VanderKloot in 2nd round action. Most Bloomfield women started their tourney match play today. A few matches have been played but the bulk of the field will go into action tomorrow.

Russ Downey is Forest Lake's defending champion and is expected to get strong opposition from Blaine Eynon and newcomer to the club, Lou Smead and Sandy Siegal. Qualifying is now under way.

* * *

Pine Lake's champion is settled but the distaff title will be up on Aug. 22-24. This week's feature is the annual husband-wife best ball tourney. In the recent father-son event Wally and Vern Wheeler were winners.

Orchard Lake CC has its women's title rounds set for Aug. 24, day before qualifying begins for the club junior championships. Junior-senior team match takes place Aug. 26.

Nashua Heads Field in $100,000 'Cap

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Nashua, the Rockefeller of the race track, heads a field of nine horses who compete tomorrow in the inaugural running of the $100,000 Atlantic City Invitational Handicap.

* * *

Nashua will be shooting for $65,000 first money in an effort to boost his earnings of $1,236,965 to $1,301,965.

* * *

With exercise boy Bill McCleary in the saddle, Nashua did a mile in 1.41 flat on the track in the only extended test by an entrant so far.

* * *

The handicap is at a mile and a furlong.

* * *

Other entrants in the race include Jet Action, Mister Gus and Wise Margin.

Senators Club Tries Gimmicks to Lure Fans

WASHINGTON (AP)— Hungry for customers, the front office bosses of the seventh-place Washington Senators have turned away from a sedate past and launched a campaign of gimmicks.

* * *

A variety of stunts are planned for the remainer of the season to try to lure capital citizens through the turnstiles at the ball park.

* * *

The reason for all this is simple—last year the Senators finished in the cellar in attendance as well as in the American League standings. They lured only 425,238 to Griffith Stadium. Through the comparable period this year, the figure is 10,676 less.

Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates wears the number two on his uniform.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Shoulder too high.

DIAGNOSIS: Quick club pickup

TREATMENT: The difference between powerful and accurate wooden club and long iron shots, and just average distance, is measured by pivot. That's why I emphasize the importance of initiating the backswing in "one-piece" motion—taking the club straight back, low along the turf, with no immediate break in the wrists. Maintain a straight line from the clubhead up through the left shoulder, allow the left side (shoulder, hip, and knee) to follow around easily, and you'll get into the power position pictured in the sketch.

Notice these things, which come in simple sequence: The head hasn't moved. The left shoulder is under the chin, not high up, to afford a clear view of the ball. The left hip and knee are turned fully so that the weight has been transferred entirely to the right leg. The left heel is off the ground.

This is the important thing to develop in practice: When the arms have been fully extended in the backswing, completing the sweep straight back from the ball, they pronate (roll) naturally as the body pivots or winds up.

* * *

Be relaxed when you address the ball. The grip must be firm, not tight. Get a feeling of looseness in the body, from head to toe, and let the body turn without restraint. Don't worry about cocking the wrists, going up or coming down. That'll come of its own accord.

* * *

A bull moose was seen in 16 Mile Lake, Alger County, the department reported.

Conservation department game workers estimate there are not more than a dozen moose in the Upper Peninsula, where they were once numerous.

Davis Cup Trip Looms for 'Ham'

Win Over Ken Rosewall Would Clinch Place for Richardson

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Ham Richardson, the prime candidate to join Vic Seixas on the U.S. Davis Cup team, can virtually clinch a trip to Australia with a win over the Aussies' Ken Rosewall today in the Eastern Grass Court Tourney.

* * *

Richardson and Seixas were the only top-rated Americans in the quarter-finals as three Aussies, headed by Rosewall, and Paul Remy of France, wiped out four American Davis Cup candidates in yesterday's third round at the Orange Lawn Tennis Club.

Rosewall crushed Herb Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif., the eighth-ranking U.S. player, 6-1, 6-2. Neale Fraser of Australia whipped defending champion, Sam Giammalva, Houston, 6-2, 6-4, and Ashley Cooper, another Aussie, bounced out Grant Golden, Chicago, 6-2, 6-2.

* * *

In the women's section, top-seeded Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., meets Janet Hopps, Seattle, and second-seeded Althea Gibson, New York, opposes Mrs. Betty Pratt, Madison, N.J., in today's quarter-finals.

Shirley Bloomer, of England, the second-seeded foreign woman, triumphed over Lois Felix, Meriden, Conn., and will face Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif.

Rodeo Funds Provide Camping Trip for 200

As a result of the 1956 rodeo at Hazel Park race track on July 29, the Sports Guild will spend nearly $6,000 to send underprivileged children to the Recreation Camp at Brighton for two weeks. More than 200 boys and girls will leave Olympia Stadium at noon next Monday (Aug. 13) for camp.

City Promises Union Contracts

Agrees to Award Jobs to Organized Firms in Future

Answering protests from union delegates who attended last night's meeting, Pontiac city commissioners promised to investigate construction bids submitted to the commission to make sure companies awarded contracts have union affiliations.

The protests followed picketing of City Hall Monday by the AFL Sheet Metalworkers local, which claimed a local company hired to install air conditioning in the building was not unionized.

Commissioners said it has been their practice to award contracts to union shops.

Acting Mayor John A. Dugan said he personally had investigated all companies submitting bids in construction of the new Public Safety Building, to make sure they had union affiliations.

PROMISES MADE

Commissioner John E. Cary told delegates he will investigate all companies submitting bids for city work in the future.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn said the air conditioner bid accepted was the low bd for the type of work the commission wanted.

The union delegates said they plan to attend future commission meetings at which contracts are awarded.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS)—J. C. Penney Co., nationwide department store chain, today announced record sales for the first half of $541,716,000, almost 10 per cent ahead of the same period of 1955. Net earnings amounted to $17,189,376, or $2.08 per common share, a slight drop from net of $17,980,771, or $2.18 a share. The company said the lower earnings resulted from increased advertising and promotion expenses, higher salary costs and accelerated depreciation charges.

CLEVELAND (INS)—Consolidated net income of Standard Oil of Ohio for the first six months of 1956 was $13,450,544, equal to $2.71 a common share, and 32 per cent ahead of earnings for the same period a year ago. Sales and operating revenue in the first half reached a record $180,768,000, 11 per cent above the 1955 level.

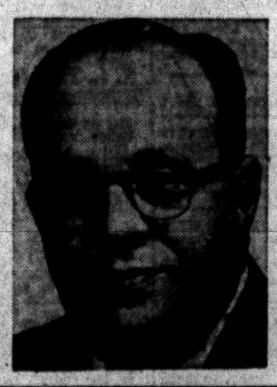

NEW YORK (INS)—Net income of Paramount Pictures and subsidiaries for the first six months totaled $5,001,000, equal to $2.40 a common share, including non-recurring profit of $1.28 a share on sale of film shorts and cartoons. A year ago the net totaled $5,188,916, or $2.36 a share.

Willing to Pay More

TOKYO (INS)—A Japanese shipping line official said today "if the worst comes to the worst" his company is prepared to pay double tolls on the Suez Canal to keep ships sailing on present commercial routes.

Prices Lower on Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Generally lower prices prevailed in the stock market early today.

Cautiousness over what the weekend might bring in news about the Suez Canal crisis brought selling to international oils which were the biggest losers.

* * *

Gulf Oil was down 2¼ at 136 on an opening bolck of 3,000 shares 101½ on 3,000 shares. Later Gulf trimmed its loss to under two points and Royal Dutch to a fraction over two points.

* * *

Other opening blocks included Texas Co. off ¼ at 63¼ on 1,500 shares, U.S. Steel off ¼ at 64¾ on 2,000, International Nickel off 1¼ at 108¾ on 1,200 and New York Central off ⅛ at 39 on 2,400.

Most leading rails showed slight fractional losses on profit-taking after their robust advance of yesterday. Aluminums posted small gains following Alcoa's price boost at the conclusion of its labor agreement.

Steels declined with one point losses taken by Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube. Motors were mixed. Aircrafts lost ground with Douglas a one-point loser.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son, Jerry Ebey, who passed away 8 years ago today, August 10, 1948.
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
Sadly missed by Mommy and Daddy.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HENRY Gallardo who passed away Aug. 9, 1955.
Not dead, but passed beyond
The mist that binds us here
Into the newer, larger life
Of that unclouded sphere.
Dearly missed by his mother, brothers and sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HENRY Gallardo, who passed away one year ago today.
A wonderful husband, man and aide;
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million, that husband was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal ever upright.
Loved by your friends, and all who you knew,
A wonderful husband, that husband was you.
Loved and sadly missed by Mrs. Henry Gallardo.

National Bonded ONE FULL YEAR GUARANTEE

Consider these advantages of the NATIONAL BONDED guarantee. A dealer can garantee his cars only in his dealership. NATIONAL BONDED GUARANTEES THE CAR ANYWHERE IN THE U.S. AT THE REPAIR SHOP OF THE OWNER'S CHOOSING . . . The dealer's guarantee is actually a personal guarantee. If bad health or business failure should visit the dealer, the guarantee is void. NATIONAL BONDED is backed by $120,000,000 in assets. Regardless what happens to the individual, the owner's protection continues for the full year . . . The dealer's guarantee is on a percentage basis. The dealer pays a share of the repair costs and the owner pays a share. NATIONAL BONDED pays the repair bill in full; the owner pays nothing.

Lew Gomavitz to Direct Setup

Pioneer Director Picked to Settle Operational Questions at Melee

By JANET KERN

In all the excitement, publicity, televising, etc., of the Democratic convention opening Monday in Chicago, it's hardly likely any spotlight will fall on the one man who's really the key figure in everything you see on your TV screens.

Lew Gomavitz is, in a sense, a ghost—the spirit of a dead TV era of hot lights, small screens and no experience; the pioneering era of the 1940s, when he was one of the few men in the world to hear the title, "TV director," and, without a doubt, was the most famous publicly beloved TV director of all time.

In those days, Gomavitz was director of "Junior Jamboree," as he is now director of "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," which is the same show with a later title.

In those easy-going TV days, everyone who owned a TV set watched "Junior Jamboree" every evening and everyone who watched "Junior Jamboree" knew "Uncle Gommie."

It must have been quite a shock and change to suddenly find himself "Uncle Gommie" in a city full of adoring children, for the then 31-year-old Gomavitz had been accustomed to earning his living as a stage manager for New York theaters and night clubs.

For the 10 years which marked the climax of depression and the recovery period which followed it, Lew Gomavitz had struggled to make a name for himself in New York theatrical circles and, just as he was getting to the point where theater notables knew him, along came World War II, and into the Navy, as an enlisted man, Gommie went.

By some fortunate twist of fate, the Navy assigned him to—of all things—radar and sent him to Chicago to study under Bill Eddy, later to become the guiding spirit behind Chicago's first TV station—W9XBK (now WBKB).

So well did Gommie learn his radar that he was commissioned, and became head of classification for the Navy's radar division, ending up in Washington, D. C.

Gomavitz will be on the speakers' platform of the 1956 Democratic convention with convention manager J. Leonard Reinsch and assistant Betty Forsling, settling all TV questions which may arise; conducting VIPs around the TV installation, explaining the whats and nots. He'll be the man to whom all questions regarding convention television will be referred.

4,327 Dems to Attend Political Hoop-La

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee said today the party's national convention will be made up of 2,477 delegates and 1,850 alternates for a total of 4,327, largest by far in party history.

The 2,477 delegates will cast a total of 1,372 votes. Some delegates will have full votes and some half votes.

The total delegates authorized was 2,744, or twice the number of votes. But many states, including New York, gave only half votes to their delegates at large and full votes to district delegates, thus cutting down their permitted allotment.

At least two states, Nebraska and West Virginia, named only as many delegates as their vote allotment.

A total of 1,652 delegates cast 1,230 votes in the 1952 convention.

Prohibition in '64 Seen if Trends Still Continue

WASHINGTON—A famous physiologist predicts the Democratic and Republican Parties may be debating prohibition at their 1964 conventions if present alcoholism trends continued.

Dr. Andre C. Ivy, head of the Department of Clinical Sciences at the University of Illinois, declined to predict prohibition laws would be enacted in the near future but declared:

"If the problem of alcoholism continues to grow at its present rate it could cause a wave of prohibition sentiment in the United States by 1965."

Ivy called alcoholism the nation's No. 4 health problem.

State Entitled to Make Railroad Build Fence

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held yesterday the State Public Service Commission has authority to order a railroad to put up a fence along its right-of-way.

John H. McCarthy, commission chairman, said the village of Milan asked the commission to force the Wabash Railroad to fence parts of its right-of-way in Milan.

* * *

He said village officials complained that the unguarded right-of-way created a hazard and endangered children.

Kavanagh said also that the commission can determine the type of fence.

In another opinion, Kavanagh said a person who buys land on a land contract qualifies as a taxpaying elector and can vote on questions involving spending of public money.

And, What Next?

Goldfish swallowing contests have been replaced by pipe-smoking contests on the nation's campuses. Last spring, for example, 43 young men at Columbia University were given 3.3 grams of tobacco each. Test was to see how long they could keep the pipes smouldering. Winning time: 9½ minutes.

So, Don't Ask, Huh!

CHICAGO (INS) — Democratic national convention managers report they have a total of 108 choice seats left to meet thousands of requests from interested persons other than the delegates, officials and the press. One official declared, not too convincingly: "We can't even take care of the people who contributed $5,000."

Democrats Plan Mass Assault on Litterbugs

CHICAGO (INS) — Democrats will take a non-partisan swing at the American litterbug next week at their national convention.

Efforts will be made to dramatize effective litter prevention techniques during the Chicago gathering as the result of a near panic touched off by litter at the 1952 convention, according to John C. Rose, executive director of Keep America Beautiful, Inc.

The near panic was caused when a pile of liter in the hall caught fire. The incident prompted suggestions from newsmen that adequate trash baskets be installed at future conventions — a suggestion quickly picked up.

Keep America Beautiful, a nonprofit, non-political organization, will join convention planners to halt littering in the international amphitheatre through education.

Rochester Foresees 69 Homes, 2 Stations

ROCHESTER — July and early August building permits have shown an increase in building in Avon Township according to Township Clerk Frances Covert.

Cost estimates for 69 new house permits totaled $846,550. Two gas stations, at $26,000 each were approved in July, and 19 homes to be built by North Hill Center Development Co. and the Wrigley Land Co., Inc., are to cost $218,000.

The plate umpire used to receive two new baseballs before each World Series game. Now umpires get 60 before each game.

Truman Stand on Civil Rights Issue Is Outlined in Report by Commission

CHICAGO (INS) — "To Secure These Rights," the book former President Harry S. Truman said is the basis for his beliefs on protection of civil liberties, has been a controversial item for nine years.

* * *

The book is a report by the president's commission on civil rights, made in 1947. Many of Truman's recommendations to Congress for strengthening civil rights were taken from the book.

After many a Southern filibuster they were turned down.

The book strikes at the heart of the argument before the Democratic platform committee over the question of whether to include a specific endorsement of the Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling.

In a section outlining the role of the Supreme Court as a guardian of civil rights, the committee noted that this protection has increased through the years.

The report said new developments have greatly increased the opportunity of the individual "whose rights are encroached upon by a state or local government."

* * *

It is just this federal-state relationship that has been the basis for Southern arguments that states are gradually losing their rights to the federal government.

KEY STATEMENTS

Here are some key statements in the report:

"Most prejudice cannot survive real understanding of the great variations among people in any one group; or if the scientific ity of groups, and disprove racist nonsense; or of the fact that in a democratic commonwealth, prejudice is an immoral outlaw attitude."

"The adoption of specific legislation, the implementation of laws or the development or new administrative policies and procedures cannot alone bring us all the way to full civil rights.

"The actual infringements of civil rights by public or private persons are only symptoms. They reflect the imperfections of our social order, and the ignorance and moral weakness of some of our people."

THE REPORT RECOMMENDED

1. Elimination of segregation from American life.
2. Refuse all federal aid to public or private groups if segregation is practiced.
3. Enact a Federal Fair Employment Practice Act.

* * *

4. Federal anti-poll tax legislation.
5. Federal anti-lynching legislation.
6. Establishment of a permanent commission on civil rights in the executive office—preferably by act of Congress.

* * *

7. Elevation of civil rights section of Justice Department to full division.

Veteran Bagpipe Band Lacks Scot Ingredients

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP) — When Murray Noble, fresh from Edinburgh, Scotland, founded a bagpipe-and-drum corps here back in 1891, he didn't dream it would have so curious a result.

* * *

The band now is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. But it has long since lost much of its Scot predominance. Four of the 11 members are named Scarletti, Weiss, Menghini and Facinelli.
