Charge 22 With Dope Conspiracy

Brink's Suspect Taken

AP Wirephoto

ARRAIGNED — James I. Faherty, 44, (handcuffed) is accompanied by FBI agents in Boston as they leave Federal Building last night following his arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Francis H. Farrell. Faherty and Thomas Richardson, last of 11 men allegedly involved in $1,218,000 Brink's robbery were captured earlier in a Boston apartment.

FBI Arrests Last Brink's Robbers in Boston Raid

BOSTON (AP) — FBI agents burst into a tenement hideout last night to capture the last two of the 11-man gang charged with the $1,218,211 Brink's robbery.

Thomas F. Richardson, 49, and James I. Faherty, 45, were nabbed by six agents while they were eating a stew supper in a Dorchester district flat.

On a chair near the supper table were three towel-covered pistols which they did not have time to reach.

The agents entered the three-story brick building disguised as workmen and chance travelers. Forty-five seconds later they had handcuffs on the much-sought pair.

Outside the building another score of FBI agents, equipped with short-wave radio, walkie talkies and an arsenal of arms and ammunition, stood ready to shoot it out if necessary.

It wasn't necessary. The two men were taken so quietly from the building that a children's street ball game not far away wasn't even interrupted.

IN BEER CANS

The agents confiscated the meager contents of the bedroom-kitchen-bathroom flat, including $5,009.08 in rolled coins stored in three beer cartons.

Authorities could not say immediately if the money was part of the Brink's loot taken Jan. 17, 1950.

There was indication, police said, that the men had been "holed up" in the flat for about two months while a nationwide search was under way for them.

Early today, district attorney investigators picked up a man they identified as Thomas Ballou, 27, of Quincy, on suspicion that he served as courier bringing Richardson and Faherty food and liquor.

Faherty and Richardson were arraigned on federal fugitive charges. They were immediately released to Suffolk County authorities prosecuting the Brink's case and jailed.

The others in custody on the Brink's robbery charges are:

Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, 48, who admitted the robbery and involved the others; Stanley A. Gusciora, 36; Henry Baker, 49; Adolph (Jazz) Maffie, 44; Joseph F. McGinnis, 52; Vincent Costa, 41; Michael V. Geagan, 47; and Anthony Pino, 48, all of Greater Boston.

The 11th man indicted for the robbery, Joseph S. Banfield, 45, died about a year ago.

Possible Area Frost Predicted for Tonight

Freezing temperatures and possibly frost are predicted for tonight. The low will be between 28 and 36 degrees.

The forecast for the Pontiac area tomorrow is cloudy and cooler with scattered showers. The high will be 53 to 56 degrees.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 41 degrees. The thermometer registered 46 degrees at 2 p.m.

Pick Targonski for Judge Post

State Auditor General Appointed by Williams to Wayne County Seat

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today appointed Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski to the Wayne County Circuit Court succeeding Judge George Edwards, elevated earlier this week to the state Supreme Court.

The announcement said Targonski will resign his elective state position within the next two weeks.

"Vic Targonski is an able lawyer and has shown himself to be an able and devoted public servant," the goernor's announcement said. "I'm sure he will make a fine judge."

Williams was in Detroit when the announcement was made through his office in Lansing.

In the new post, Targonski will receive a salary of $24,500 a year compared with the $12,500 paid the auditor general.

Under the appointment, Targonski will serve until the November general election when voters will chose a successor for the balance of Edwards' term, expiring Dec. 31, 1959.

The governor said he was not prepared yet to name Targonski's replacement as auditor general. The term of the auditor general runs until the end of this year.

Targonski, 42, is a resident of Wyandotte. He is married and has four daughters.

Planes Collide Over Flint Field; Four Are Killed

Tragedy Occurs When Craft Taking Off Rams Other Making Landing

FLINT (INS) — Four persons were killed last night when two light airplanes collided in mid-air just outside Flint.

The victims were Air Force Lt. Victor Fonda, 21, of Kankakee, Ill., who was visiting Flint on his honeymoon; his aunt, Mrs. Dorothy Hoffman, 39; Dale A. Hath, 36 a flying instructor; and George Solomon, 28, a displaced person studying to become a commercial pilot, all of Flint.

Both planes were Cessnas owned by the Flint Aeronautical Corp., which was managed by Hath, and were based at Bishop Airport.

The tragedy occurred when Lt. Fonda's plane, leaving the airport, plowed into Hath's four-passenger plane at 800 feet, shearing a wing off the larger craft. Hath was just approaching the airfield.

A pilot said the two planes apparently were making "parabolic turns" and approached each other in the "blind spot" of the respective pilots.

Lt. Fonda had rented the plane and taken off at 7:15 p.m., to give his aunt a ride. The crash occurred 15 minutes later 2½ miles southwest of Flint, near Linden.

SMASHES INTO FIELD

Eyewitnesses said Fonda's plane plummeted straight down, losing an engine as it fell, and smashed into a wheatfield owned by Gart Thorne, 51.

One of the men in the other plane fell out of the wreckage as it "fluttered" down. The body landed in the front yard of the home of Joseph A. Bush, 65.

The other passenger was hurled from the plane when it crashed into the shoulder of a nearby road. The bodies were so mangled that identification had not been made late last night.

Hath's plane narrowly missed four homes on Linden, including the one owned by Thorne.

Lt. Fonda's wife, Sandra, 21, and his uncle, Norman, an instructor at General Motors Institute, were waiting in the offices of the Aeronautical Corp. They learned of the fatal accident when the airport tower called the office.

Lt. Fonda was on furlough from his air rescue unit in Greenland and had been married May 5 in Miami, Fla. His bride was placed under a doctor's care after the accident. The Hoffmans, whom they were visiting, have two children, Allen, 17, and David, 10.

County Justices Band Together

Name Allen C. Ingle Temporary Chairman of Association

Oakland County Justices of the Peace voted last night to form a County Justices' Association to help counteract what a spokesman called "the lies of public officials hiding behind civil service."

Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle, named temporary chairman of the new group spoke favoring its formation. Ingle said the state-level Justices' Association needed local support in its efforts to obtain power for the State's Justices of the Peace.

Citing recent investigations of Justices' accounts by Auditor General Victor A. Targonski, Ingle said it has been "difficult" for justices to make the facts of their position known to the public.

"Some of the state officials, who are supposedly experts in their fields, apparently don't even know the difference between fees and costs," he said.

Fees are the legal payment to Justices for hearing cases, and are regulated by Michigan statutes. Costs, which are assessed with fines, supposedly represent the total cost of prosecution of a convicted violator, and are turned over by the justice to the County general fund.

Ingle said some "investigating" state officials had given the impression, through statements to the press, that justices keep all the costs they assess.

The justices voted unanimously to form the county organization, Ingle, as temporary chairman, named Waterford Town-

Part of Armed Forces Week

Display to Feature Nike

The deadly "Nike" guided missile will be the feature attraction of a display of military exhibits Saturday as part of "Armed Forces Week" across the nation.

The display will be located on West Huron at Wayne street and may be viewed by the public after the military parade scheduled for the morning.

Mayor William W. Donaldson Tuesday proclaimed Saturday as "Armed Forces Day in Pontiac" and urged all citizens to take an active part in the day-long festivities.

The "Nike" display will afford Pontiac and other area residents a chance to see the antiaircraft weapon which protects the nation from enemy attack.

Oakland County alone has three "Nike" bases. One is situated in the Proud Lake Recreation Area, a second in Farmington Township, and the third in Auburn Heights.

The missile on display will come from the Auburn Heights battery, Battery Delta of the 516th AAA Missile Battalion. The unit is commanded by Capt. Harold E. Strong, of Pontiac.

Other exhibits at the display will include two tanks from the 703rd Tank Battalion, a National Guard ordnance van, and four recruiting service booths.

The "Nike" is a long, sleek device, measuring 20 feet long by one foot wide. It travels 25 miles a minute—1,500 miles an hour—and can bound a plane to death at altitudes up to 10 miles, for distances up to 50 miles.

It can out-maneuver any fighter or bomber now in existence. It doesn't give up until it destroys its target.

The missile on display will be on a launcher unit like the ones they rest on ready to be launched through space in real action.

It is steered by a series of fins along its surface which are controlled automatically by electronic "brains."

When a sky-searching radar unit at the base locates an enemy plane, an invisible beam "locks" on it and the craft's progress is registered by an automatic computer.

Then the missile is fired, based on the recordings of the target radar. A second radar unit tracks the missile as it heads for the target.

The electronic computer takes into account both radar readings and adjusts the missile's flight in air by sending signals to the guiding fins. A meeting of rocket and target is inevitable.

Eastern Michigan Flood Control Bill Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Public Works subcommittee today took under advisement a proposed $20,403,700 flood control plan for Eastern Michigan's Saginaw River and its tributaries.

The project would include dikes and other protection works for the cities of Flint, Frankenmuth, Vassar, Corunna, Owosso and Midland, drainage improvements for Sanilac Flats, and protection works reservoirs and a wildlife refuge at Shiawassee Flats.

The federal government would appropriate $16,084,700 and local interests would put up $4,319,000. The major portion of the costs, some 12 million dollars, would be devoted to work at the Shiawassee Flats.

The subcommittee yesterday heard testimony for and against the project, proposed by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Reps. Bentley (R-Mich) and Hayworth (D-Mich), Phelps Vogelsang of Saginaw, and A. P. Jensen of Jackson, supported the proposal. August J. Neberle, Saginaw, opposed it.

Bentley said that despite controversy over the project and some feeling that it was "unworkable" he felt that because there was no alternative proposal "I must register my support for it."

Hayworth added the project was greatly needed for flood protection in Flint.

Jensen said farmers over a wide area need a flood control system to help them dispose of water. He said farmers are unable to build drainage ditches because of injunctions obtained by residents of the "lower end" of the Saginaw.

Neberle said solution to the flood problem lay in deepening the Saginaw River to about 24 feet for some three or four miles upstream from the Sixth Avenue Bridge in Saginaw. He said this stretch is a "plug" which prevents a faster runoff.

Truman Recalls Old Memories at Parisian Cafe

PARIS (AP) — Former President Truman sat at a Paris sidewalk cafe today and fondly reminisced of days 39 years ago when he frequented the same place with his World War I buddies.

His companions today were a dozen reporters and photographers. Truman bought them drinks to celebrate the occasion and to give the party a few minutes' relaxation during a quick tour of the French capital.

Wearing a pearl gray hat and carrying a cane, Truman sat quietly and happily in the back row of tables at the Cafe de la Paix at one of the city's busiest corners.

"Thirty-nine years ago," he said, "I used to sit in this cafe during my leaves in World War I."

Speaks on Closed TV for Center Dedication

President Lauds General Motors Foresight

"A place for leadership in furthering new attacks on technological frontiers" is how President Eisenhower describes General Motors Corp.'s dazzling new technical center.

The President, speaking from the White House over a closed circuit television network, keynoted the dedication of the giant multi-million-dollar center yesterday.

Some 5,000 scientists, engineers, educators, industrialists and other guests gathered at the center for the ceremonies. The television network took Eisenhower's message as well as talks by General Motors executives to another 15,000 persons in 61 cities in the United States and Canada.

Said the President:

"This particular center is a place for leadership in furthering new attacks on technological frontiers. Beyond that frontier lies better and fuller employment opportunities for people to demonstrate yet again the value of this system based upon the dignity of human beings and on their free opportunities in life.

"Beyond it lie people, better capable of working with others, so that they may share what they learned with our friends in the world."

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, said the technical center, built at a cost of more than $100 million, was important to national prosperity as well as to national strength. The nation's survival, he said, may depend upon "more emphasis on basic research."

CITES GM AWARDS

Curtice said an important step toward meeting the challenge to American technological leadership would be "to see to it that a larger proportion of our young people have the opportunity and the incentive for embarking on a scientific and engineering career."

Curtice noted earlier this week that GM now provides 1,600 scholarships to 350 schools across the country at a cost of more than five million dollars.

Other speakers at the dedication included Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, director of GM research, and Dr. Charles F. Kettering, research consultant.

DR. KETTERING SPEAKS

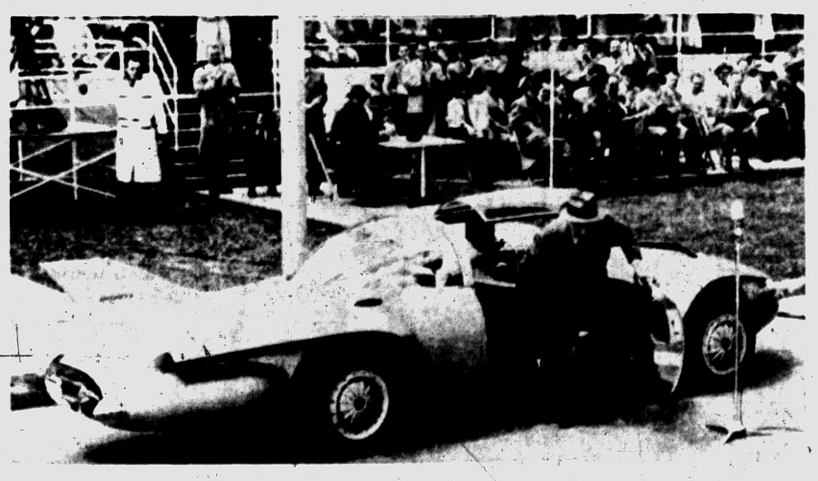

Dr. Kettering described the center as a "great intellectual golf course."

"An inventor may try and fail 999 times, but on the 1,000th try he makes it," he said. "Each failure is just another practice shot. The time we don't want to fail is the last time we try."

Visitors to the center as well as the television audience saw such results of GM research as its new experimental car powered with a "free piston" engine that uses fuels ranging from whale oil to high octane gasoline.

* * *

The technical center is comprised of some 25 buildings fronting a 22-acre artificial lake. About 4,000 technicians are employed there.

Police Jail 11, Seeking More in Alleged Ring

8-Month Investigation by Vice Squad Leads to Roundup

A police dragnet is out to round up remaining members of an alleged narcotics ring in the city's southwest area, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem revealed today.

He said warrants against 22 persons were ordered today, charging conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws.

Eleven of them, including two women, are held in Oakland County Jail, where they have been held for investigation since Monday.

Names of five others still at large are known, Ziem said. Two women and four men are named in John and Mary Doe warrants and their whereabouts is unknown, according to Vice Squad officers.

Ziem said that cracking of the ring, which with one exception consists of unemployed narcotics users, resulted from an eight-months investigation by the Vice Squad, headed by Lt. William F. Nesbitt.

Nesbitt was unsure how many more addicts might be associated with the drug traffic, but said "more narcotics are being 'pushed' in the area than I ever dreamed of."

He said that the amount of money involved might run into hundreds of dollars a month, but explained that no exact figures are available.

If the defendants come to trial, it will be the first drug conspiracy case ever prosecuted in Pontiac, Ziem said, and he believed the first prosecuted in the state.

Conviction can bring up to five years in prison or a $10,000 fine or both. It is a lesser charge than sale or possession of narcotics, Ziem said.

He said that charges of conspiracy were brought because of the nature of the evidence. Ziem and police officers refused to divulge the exact nature of the evidence, but said that a "large amount" of heroin, in capsule and bulk form, had been recovered, as well as hypodermic needles and eyedroppers used in administering the drug.

Some marihuana, both in cigarettes and in bulk form, also were seized by police, Ziem said. He believed the source of both drugs was in Detroit and also possibly in Chicago.

Orator Awarded Prize in Contest

Waterford Senior Wins Second Place in Top U.S. Tournament

Sheldon Smith, Waterford Township High School senior, won second place yesterday in the National Tournament of Orators.

The contest took place in Boston's historical Latin School, founded in 1635.

Four high school students, representing the far-Western, Midwestern, Central and Eastern sections of the country, spoke on a single topic, "John Adams."

Michael Massee, from Seattle, Wash., won first place.

As second place winner, Smith was awarded a $100 defense bond and a bronze medal. He received a total of $325 in defense bonds in the elimination contest.

In conjunction with the Hearst Publications tournament, the 17-year-old and his coach, Patty Looman, have been given all expense-paid trips to Chicago and Boston, plus sight-seeing tours.

Sheldon, president of the Waterford Township High Student Council, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Smith of 6450 Maybee Rd.

City Bus Lines Change Runs

Schedules Are Altered Because of Reduction in Loads; Officials Say

A series of changes in run frequencies, involving Saturday schedules on four city bus routes and weekday schedules on two, will go into effect Saturday, according to officials of the Pontiac City Lines, Inc.

A general reduction in the size of passenger loads was cited by E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent, as the reason for the cutback.

The changes for Saturday runs are as follows:

Huron-Sanford: After 7:15 p.m. buses will run every 60 minutes instead of the present 30.

Joslyn-South Boulevard: The present 20-minute interval in the daytime will be replaced by 30-minute intervals. The current 60-minute schedule will be retained after 7:15 p.m.

Baldwin - Franklin - St. Joseph: Sixty minute intervals will replace the present 30 minutes after 7:15 p.m. The daytime 20-minute schedule will remain unchanged.

Oakland-James K: The present interval of 24 minutes will be changed to 30 minutes. The 60-minute nighttime schedule will remain the same.

New Monday - through - Friday night schedules will go into effect on two runs:

Huron-Sanford: The present 30-minute interval will be replaced by 60 minutes.

Baldwin - Franklin - St. Joseph: Change similar to above.

House Group Favors 2nd Class Mail Hike

WASHINGTON — The House Post Office Committee is reported to have approved tentatively a big hike in second-class postal rates for newspapers and magazines.

The rates for advertising portions of the publications would be upped 120 per cent, and for the reading matter 31 per cent. The increase would go up evenly each year and reach full force in five years.

• • •

Magazines and newspapers now must give the post office a breakdown showing the percentage of advertising in relation to reading matter in each issue sent through the mails.

• • •

The committee also was reported to have approved a 30 per cent increase on the postal rates for third-class mail, which is mainly advertising matter.

Moral: Don't Poke Rattlers

Detective's Pistol Saves Snake-Prodding Bowman

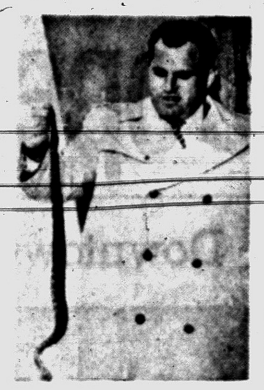

Detective Steve Hawlik was the hero of the hour yesterday—and all because he happened to be in the right place with an average knowledge of snakes.

The carp fisherman he saved from a poisonous bite evidently had less than that because when Hawlik came upon him on the Clinton River, near Cooley Lake Road, he was prodding a spitting serpent with the tip of a bow he was using to shoot fish.

Approaching in curiosity, the sheriff's officer heard the chattering of rattles. One shot from his .38 revolver at eight feet and the 24-inch "garden snake" was dead.

The unidentified fisherman, who Hawlik believes was saved because he was wearing hip boots, told the detective that he heard "all kinds of rattles" when he was fishing.

Deputies issued a warning today that there may be more of the poisonous snakes in the area.

Open House Programs Mark Official Opening of Technical Center

Undaunted by chilly temperatures, more than 40,000 Pontiac area residents gathered at three local General Motors divisions yesterday to tour production facilities as part of a corporation-wide observance of the new GM Technical Center dedication.

Attendance at the Pontiac Motor Division reached to above the 15,000 mark as visitors rode special buses and cars to the local plants to take part in a program which included plant tours, special displays and refreshments.

More than 4,000 students from local high and junior high schools swelled the number of visitors to the GMC Truck and Coach Division to about 20,000. A program similar to the one at Pontiac was conducted by division personnel with a number of new commercial and military vehicles featured as highlights.

Crowds made up of about 5,000 persons toured operations at the Fisher Body Division in one of the few glimpses offered the public by the organization. Fisher, unlike Pontiac and GMC, does not conduct regular tours.

Among the exhibits at the plants was a cutaway view of a new Pontiac Star Chief and a section of the recently-unveiled Aerotrain built by GMC. Each of the divisions also displayed examples of their products illustrated by special displays.

Both Pontiac and Fisher were open to the public from 1 to 9 p.m., while GMC displayed its facilities between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Yvonne Morris and White were arrested in Detroit Tuesday with the help of Detroit Police, Nesbitt said.

The others were arrested in a roundup here Monday afternoon and night.

Two men held since Monday and another picked up yesterday afternoon all were released after questioning, Nesbitt said.

Ziem credited the "diligent work of the Vice Squad, day and night and especially in the past few months" with cracking the ring.

The investigation was conducted by Nesbitt and detectives Herbert Cooley, Eugene Hendren, James Bale and James Laponsie with the help of Raymond Siebert, assigned to the case from the State Police Rackets Squad in Detroit.

Nesbitt credited the cooperation of Sheriff Frank W. Irons in the questioning of the ring members held in jail.

House Group Approves Postal Rate Increases

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House Post Office Committee voted tentatively today to boost first-class mail from three to four cents and the air mail rate from six to seven cents.

Both moves are in line with requests made by the Eisenhower adminsstration earlier this year to put the postal service on a self-paying basis.

ship Justices Willis D. LeFurgy and Donald Adams and West Bloomfield Township Justice Farrell E. Roberts to a committee to draft by-laws and nominate permanent officers for the new group.

Justices also discussed problems raised by a recent Circuit Court decision that justices must assign violators to a probate officer if they want to put the offenders on probation.

Previously, the justices had not assigned probation officers, and none are now available in the county for such assignments.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, addressing the meeting, said he has conferred with a state parole and probation officer about naming a justices' probation officer for the county, and has talked with the county's four circuit judges about recommending the appointment to the state group.

After the Justices indicated they would make use of a probation officer if one were available, Ziem said he will ask the County Board of Auditors if money from county funds can be allocated for the new officer's salary.

In a discussion on how best to use the probation officer's services, County Justice Court Coordinator Gerald A. Terrien said one possibility was formation of a driver education school, which convicted traffic offenders would be required to attend as a condition of Justice Court probations.

W. Cadman Prout, Oakland County Friend of the Court director, told the justices his office now handles about 6,000 cases of divorce involving minor children.

He said justices could help avert divorces in three areas. Nearly 50 per cent of divorces, he said, stem from cases of non-support and drunk and disorderly conduct. Many more involve cases of assault and battery.

Through use of their probationary powers, he said, justices can prevent many incidents which might lead to divorces.

James VanLeuven, assistant director of children's services in Oakland County Juvenile Court, also stressed probationary powers in telling justices they can help cut down cases of child neglect, delinquency and school truancy.

James Rohm, keeper of Justice Court records at Oakland County Jail, also addressed the justices on technical problems of paperwork in his office.

Film Actress Reveals Abuses by Husband in Divorce Proceedings

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Lovely actress Jeanne Crain shocked Hollywood today with charges that her husband beat her into unconsciousness, abused her and had affairs with other women.

The film star filed her startling charges yesterday in an amended divorce complaint in Los Angeles Superior Court. She also charged that on one occasion her husband, handsome Paul Brinkman, broke down her bedroom door, grabbed her by the hair and slammed her head against the bed.

The bitter allegations were contained in an 11-page bill of particulars in reply to Brinkman's claim that her original general charge of mental and physical cruelty was too "indefinite."

Among the charges was one in which she said Brinkman beat her so badly that she was in the hospital for several days. She said that on the same occasion he ripped the clothes from her body and threatened to "disfigure me."

She declared that the 37-year-old former theatrical agent and former radio manufacturer had never supported her from the time they married 10 years ago over her mother's protest.

The star's attorney, Martin Gang, said that the actress previously kept the reasons for her divorce suit even from her closest friends for the sake of the four Brinkman children, but that Brinkman, with his "indefinite" claim, forced her to detail the charges.

Issues Bench Warrant

Chicago Optical Executive Guilty in Bribing Officials

MASON (AP) — Benjamin D. Ritholz, wealthy head of a Chicago optical firm found guilty of bribing three state officials, faced a possible sentence of up to four years in prison today.

Defense attorneys, however, immediately laid the legal ground for an appeal or a motion for a new trial.

Ritholz, head of the King Optical Co., was found guilty on a charge of slipping bribes of $100 bills to three members of the State Board of Optometry at a Lansing hotel room meeting last Aug. 8.

A Circuit Court jury of 10 women and two men, deliberated for only an hour and a half Wednesday afternoon before returning the verdict. The trial took eight days.

The maximum sentence on the charge is four years in prison, $2,000 fine or both.

JUDGE GRANTS STAY

James E. Haggerty of Detroit, attorney for Ritholz, asked for a 20-day stay of sentence. The stay was granted by Circuit Judge Philip A. Hadsell of Niles.

Haggerty indicated he might appeal the verdict.

Ritholz was released on bond of $10,000 pending the next legal move.

The prosecution charged that Ritholz sought to bribe board members to get them to drop charges of unprofessional conduct against Edwin L. Sanchick, a Lansing optometrist.

The complaint against Sanchick was that he illegally "steered" customers to an office of the King firm, located in the same building. Sanchick had his license suspended for a year by the board.

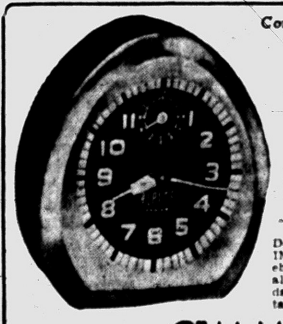

"Ritholz believed that by the use of money he could corrupt the state of Michigan and run our government to suit his own business and dictates," said Assistant Atty. Gen. Irving Beattie, heading the prosecution, in his summing-up statement to the jury.

The Ritholz firm operates in 17 states.

Farmers' Revolt on GOP Fizzles

Political Rebellion of Policies on Agriculture Collapses, Says Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Aiken (R-Vt), Capehart (R-Ind) and Kuchel (R-Calif) contended today that any political revolt against the Eisenhower administration farm policies has collapsed.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said he thinks the farmers may have been "bought off" by administration increases in support prices.

Some concern has been evident among Republicans over the political effect of declining farm income and of President Eisenhower's April 16 veto of a farm bill calling for higher rigid price supports for basic crops.

Since then the House has passed and the Senate opens debate today on a revised measure containing Eisenhower's proposed soil bank program designed to reduce surplus production, but also some features to which the administration has objected.

The Day in Birmingham

Over 650 Women Unite in New Village Club

BIRMINGHAM — A membership of about 650 is foreseen for the newly formed Village Women's Club, and an additional group of non-voting members in an under-32 age group probably will total several hundred.

The club took shape yesterday as about 500 women met at the Cranbrook Gymnasium and heard the interim president, Mrs. James Nance, tell its aims and plans. The junior auxiliary group has not been formed yet.

Mrs. Nance heads a 22-charter-member group which incorporated on May 1.

The club, she explained, will try to promote education through such classes as foreign languages, drama, creative writing, collecting and world affairs.

Cultural and civic interests will be supported in club meetings there, with organization of the present women's activities now underway in the Birmingham and Bloomfield area.

The club will promote philanthropic projects and will act for the good of the community, she predicted. Lectures will be scheduled once or twice a month.

Mrs. Warren Booth distributed a questionaire seeking opinions on what classes would be desired. Mrs. Frederick E. Booth talked on membership, which is by invitation.

Besides those present, about 250 had indicated desire to join. Invitations went to 900.

Mrs. Charles Theron Van Dusen explained that her real estate committee is seeking an old home or an auditorium with favorable zoning. Additions would be planned for the clubhouse she indicated.

A finance drive will be started as soon as possible, the officers explained. The clubhouse would provide tea and luncheon every day and dinner Thursday nights, besides space for the club's own program and other clubs' meetings.

Village club members will meet again next Wednesday, when Mrs. Ferd M. Broock will present the bylaws for members' ballot, and when a nominating committee will be elected.

On June 13, permanent officers will be elected. Now on the interim staff are Mrs. Nance, president; Mrs. W. Sydnor Gilbreath, vice president; Mrs. Alan W. Joslyn, treasurer; and Mrs. Frederick E. Booth, secretary.

Besides those committee heads mentioned, the board includes Mrs. Brooks Marshall, Mrs. Frederick W. Sanders, and Mrs. John W. Shenefield.

Harriman Hits Farm Policies

'The Inactive Candidate' Speaks Six Times in Two Days in Two States

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman said last night the Eisenhower administration is "destroying the family farm."

Addressing the Idaho Falls Jefferson-Jackson dinner, the New York Democrat accused the administration of "callous neglect of agriculture."

* * *

Harriman, who has said repeatedly during his campaign-style swing through the West that he isn't an "active" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, stops over in Salt Lake City today for seven hours. His aides scheduled three speaking appearances there.

'TURNED HIS BACK'

Yesterday his plane hedgehopped from Spokane, Wash., to Pullman, where he addressed Washington State College Young Democrats, thence to Pocatello, in eastern Idaho. He drove to Idaho Falls for last night's speech, then returned to Pocatello.

"In a little over three years," he said in Idaho Falls, "the farmers and ranchers of this country have lost almost one third of their net income. . .

"While this has been happening, President Eisenhower has turned his back. . . He is a typical Republican president. Hoover did the same thing. So did Harding. So did Coolidge."

* * *

Harriman urged "policies and programs aimed not just at a return to parity prices but at parity of income for farm families with the rest of the country — a fair share of the national prosperity."

Reserve Act of 1955 Subject of Session

Major General Gordon A. MacDonald, Commanding General of the 46th Infantry Division, Michigan National Guard, will speak on the Federal Reserve Act of 1955 and how it effects area youths at a program to be held May 24 at 8 p.m. in the Pontiac High School auditorium.

Various members of other Reserve units will attend the meeting and give an explanation of their own function in the National Defense plans.

The new Reserve Act is of vital importance to young men throughout the United States. All interested youths, parents, or friends have been invited to attend.

At a conclusion of the explanations of the act, an informal question and answer period will be conducted. Qualified personnel will be stationed around the auditorium to give specific details.

General MacDonald, a Detroit resident, has headed the 46th Infantry Division since February 1954. The World War I veteran rose from the rank of Private in the Michigan Guard after enlisting in 1921. He has held several high positions in the Division since 1946.

Lansing Child, 5, Killed in Car Crash Near Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A 5-year-old Lansing girl was killed last night when a car in which she was riding swerved off U.S. 2 and overturned in a ditch about three miles south of Rudyard. Rudyard is 22 miles southwest of the Soo.

Killed was Pamela Susan Somes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Somes of Lansing. Three other persons including Pamela's 6-year-old sister, Joanne, were injured.

* * *

The other are Shirley Milliken, 19, of Lansing, the driver; and Jewel Hester, 40, of Charlevoix, another passenger.

Hospital Study Group Seeks $200,000 Goal

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of a commission set up by Gov. Williams to study prepaid hospitalization plans says the group has set $200,000 as the goal for financing its work.

Chairman George E. Bowles, who also heads the State Labor Mediation Board, said the commission hopes to get the money from philanthropic organizations and foundations.

Orrin McQuaid

Oakland County loses an especially valued and honored citizen in the untimely death of Orrin McQuaid. Register of Deeds for 17 years, Mr. McQuaid died suddenly of a heart attack and this ruthless and fearful malady never claimed a more unexpected victim.

Many local citizens today are recounting recent visits and meetings with the genial and popular county official.

Mr. McQuaid was the son of James McQuaid, a colorful and prominent figure of a previous generation and he carried the family name along to a new greater eminence.

Orrin McQuaid probably made the most sweeping changes in the conduct of a public office that have ever been witnessed in Michigan. Essentially practical himself, he was quietly aghast at the unnecessary waste in the dispatch of public affairs and immediately set about instituting modern practices.

As Oakland County grew, obviously the volume of his office increased tremendously, but Orrin McQuaid continued to operate year after year at a constantly decreasing cost per item. His scientific and businesslike methods and procedures became well known and a host of other counties have profited by visiting Oakland and taking all or part of the McQuaid operations home. Mr. McQuaid became well known in county government and his fame spread throughout the area.

★ ★ ★

But great as he was a public official, Orrin was best known and best loved for himself. Always a handsome figure, Mr. McQuaid made friends about as easily and about as steadily as it's possible to do here below. We believe he was unconscious of his winning approach, but no one anywhere made a more rapid impression upon strangers and there was never a subsequent letdown. Orrin was always Orrin to everyone. He knew no other way; and he was one of the most gracious individuals of our entire acquaintance.

★ ★ ★

Many people throughout Oakland County are sobered today by the loss of a great friend and a great man. There won't be many along just like him.

GM Technical Center Is a National Asset

Formal dedication of General Motors' giant new Technical Center at Twelve Mile and Mound Roads was an historic and significant event.

The end product of seven years of scientific planning and construction, its 25 buildings are unique in their varied and harmonizing architecture. Within these structures, artfully located around a 22 acre artificial lake, are all the research and development facilities of 4,000 scientists, engineers, stylists and technicians.

Not only beautiful in appearance, but ultra efficient in design, the Center already is recognized as the largest, most modern and complete research facility ever developed by industry anywhere. The 5,000 guests included leaders in science, education and industry from all parts of the country.

They heard several addresses including that by GM President Curtice, and a closed circuit televised greeting from President Eisenhower. Guests also got glimpses into the future of transportation, medical science, and of appliances and comforts for the American home when they saw latest products of GM research.

Actually, the Center is a 100 million dollar manifestation of General Motor's conviction that only through research can industry realize its maximum potentialities. It also is impressive evidence that the corporation looks to this vital activity for the ability to supply more and better products for more people at lower cost.

To an impressive degree this vast project reflects President Curtice's faith in the future. In the opinion of the man who had so much to do with making the project a reality "there are no 'todays' at the Technical Center. This is our investment in tomorrows."

In his formal address Mr. Curtice warned that the Nation's survival may depend upon more emphasis on basic research. He added that technological progress is essential to continuance not only of our leadership in the free world, but the democratic processes themselves.

If the average person worried about the uncomplimentary things said about him, he'd be the world's greatest worrier.

New Lighthouse Keeper

David Lawrence Says:

Adlai, Harriman, Kefauver or HST to Emerge as '56 Democratic Choice

WASHINGTON — Out of these four names will come the nominee on the Democratic party's ticket this year for the presidency — Messrs. Stevenson, Harriman, Kefauver and Truman.

That's the way the situation looks today — less than three months before the national convention meets at Chicago.

The chances of a "dark horse" are remote. For it is apparent that what is developing in the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination is not a "dark horse" setup. It is out of a deadlock between factions with deep-seated cleavages that a "dark horse" customarily emerges. The friendship, however, between the principal candidates this time and the close association among the leaders is such that any candidate might yield to the other without a trace of bitterness.

The strongest campaigner in the group is Harry Truman. If it is considered by the Democratic leaders generally that President Eisenhower is really invincible this time, there would be much more of an inclination to let the former president make the race. The politicians — with the exception of those in the South — could agree on Truman faster than on anybody else.

ADLAI LEADING PACK

At the moment Stevenson is in the lead. He has more strength within the party organizations than has Harriman or Kefauver. But the Democratic nomination in 1956 is not as valuable as it will be in 1960. Stevenson might consider he would have a better chance four years hence than now. It could influence him at the last moment to let a Harriman-Kefauver ticket go to the country and take its licking.

The main reason why the Democratic nomination seemed worth contending for this time was the prospect a few months ago that Ike wouldn't run on account of his illness. But, as the President now appears to be getting better in health, the Democratic nomination may become more valuable to Harriman than to Stevenson. The New York governor has plenty of his own funds to contribute to the race. Also, he would not go out of office at Albany if defeated for the presidency.

At present writing, the South holds the balance of power. There will, of course, be a fight at the Chicago convention on the civil-rights issue. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas could become the vice-presidential nominee either with Harriman or Stevenson. The Texas senator has behind him the powerful Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House, who, if it were not for his 74 years, would be the logical second man for the ticket this year.

RAYBURN INFLUENTIAL

As it is, Speaker Rayburn can have a good deal to say about the second place on the ticket. If selected for the vice-presidential nomination, Johnson would not have to resign from the Senate or from his position as majority leader during the campaign. He would merely move from the Senate floor to the rostrum in the event the Democratic party were successful at the November election. Certainly his heart ailment would be less of a handicap in the vice president's chair than if he were to remain as party leader in the Senate.

So it may be a Harriman-Johnson ticket or a Stevenson-Johnson ticket if Sen. Kefauver doesn't want second place if his convention forces aren't strong enough to get it for him. Obviously a coalition of Stevenson and Harriman forces could control the majority of the Chicago convention and name the ticket.

So, whichever way the situation is viewed, the names for the top place are Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver, with Truman as a compromise choice of all three, especially if there is a feeling on the part of the organization leaders in the populous states that only the former president can make the kind of campaign needed to win. A Truman-Johnson ticket cannot be crossed off as impossible, for there is an awareness in the Northern cities that something must be done to placate the Southern wing of the party — and Sam Rayburn and Harry Truman are close friends and political allies.

Youngsters, Adults Benefit From Outdoor Exercises

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

When I look around at the make-believe imposed upon childhood today I feel sorry for the youngsters who, when or if they grow up to become parents and grandparents, will have few fond recollections. It won't be much fun telling their children or grandchildren how they used to consume many bottles of pop as they watched the hero blasting the villains after school, Saturdays and holidays.

I recall that from time to time our escapades in the golden days when Canandaigua was a village ideal we kids were corralled and taken down to the police court where the chief or judge admonished us and told us to go home and be good boys—adding a special warning to one of the gang who happened to be his nephew. Today, for a similar infraction of the law, kids would get perhaps a suspended sentence and a "record" which in later years might tell against them when they seek a job or an appointment. It doesn't seem quite fair, but it is one of the inevitable consequences of modernity.

One of my fondest recollections—this is no dream—is of going out barefoot after a rain to splash in the mud and feel it oozing between my toes. In my home town, we never heard of playgrounds. The street, the schoolyard, or any vacant lot or field in the neighborhood was handier than any formal playground a half-mile away.

But today I imagine lots of kids in Canandaigua will never know how it feels to squash either dust or mud between their toes. For that matter, on summer visits I have seen few barefoot kids and no dust or mud at all, not within city limits.

Nevertheless I wish to go on record as a health advisor urging every kid anywhere, and every grownup too, to avail himself or herself of every opportunity to go barefoot, indoors or outdoors, when it feels good.

"Our 5-year-old boy goes barefoot in all kinds of weather," writes a Mississippi reader. "He does not like to wear heavy clothes. Through all the cold and rainy spring weather he has never become sick. When we visited my home town up north he played in the deep snow on the coldest days ..."

Iowa reader says: "We let our kids go barefoot in the house all winter whenever they liked. Visitors exclaim, 'Oh, my, aren't you araid they'll be sick?' Of course we are not. We are grateful for your teachings ..."

"I'm a second-grade teacher at _____ school," writes a Colorado reader. "Our children, age 7, 9, 11, 13, and 15 years, have a wonderful time wearing just what they want, to be comfortable. They are being brought up according to your teachings."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Mary B. Gives Reasons for Relocation of Hospital

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I, too, think it would be a much better idea to have a completely new hospital built outside Pontiac city limits.

The hospital is located in the worst possible place for noise. After all, one goes to a hospital to get well, not to keep his pillow over his head to shut out someone's horn.

If our city should ever be attacked, I don't know what or where people would go for medical help. I did not vote for this addition strictly because of its location.

Is it too late to do something about a few changes? If it is, then I agree . . . "We've been took."

Mary B.

William Peterson Gives His Idea of Psychology

After sitting back and reading some of the letters on psychology vs. religion, I feel I should comment.

Psychology is considered the study of the habits and reaction of man and animal to certain stimuli. In other words, the study of man and animal in accordance with their environment.

Psychology stresses the importance of mind over matter in accordance with the problems of health. Religion stresses the emotions: love, joy, hate, fear, etc., and how to perfect ourselves in accordance with the spiritual qualities each of us possess.

Matt. 5:48, "Be ye perfect as your Father is perfect." Religion tells us how we might have a more perfect life.

As we study the Bible, we learn the spirit is an overcomer of the flesh. In psychology we learn wholesome minds make for more perfect bodies. Therefore, the study of psychology interlocks with the study of religion.

Psychology is only a branch of religion as religion is the study of the whole. As we have many denominations of religion, so will we have many different beliefs and theories concerning psychology until more definite proof and more knowledge is available.

Hal Boyle Says:

Loafer's Glory Prepares to Unseat New York City

LOAFER'S GLORY, N. C. (R)—Watch your step, New York, Chicago, beware. Look out, Los Angeles. America's most beautifully named community — Loafer's Glory, here in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains of western North Carolina—is on the march.

• • •

After 55 sleepy years, it is ready for growth. It invites fresh capital and new tired blood. Anyone who can tell a tall story well, who can yawn restfully in one of the loveliest settings in the western hemisphere, is welcome to become a pioneer in Loafer's Glory's cautiously slow climb to metropolitan stature as the modern Athens of those who put content above worry.

MORE ABOUT TOWN

Before investing in Loafer's Glory's future a stranger might well want to know more about the town.

• • •

Well, it was founded—no one seems sure just when—early in the last century. Today it consists of a bend in the road, 30 acres and five families. If you stand on the outskirts and throw a rock, you are more likely to hit a person if the rock falls in the suburbs than if it lands in the center of town. What other U.S. community 100 years old can make this claim?

How did Loafer's Glory get its name?

• • •

Charles O. Burleson, 62, believes it came from his grandfather, Jonathan.

OLDSTERS GATHERED

"There was a country store sat there by the bridge across Cane Creek," he recalled. "In the evenings the old fellows used to gather there to play checkers, pitch horseshoes, and spin yarns.

• • •

"Granddaddy passed by once and said: 'It's just a Loafer's Glory'. Somehow the name stuck. The old settlers liked the name. Most of them are gone now."

Another story has it that it was an angry housewife who applied the term first. "But I know the name goes back at least 60 years," said Burleson. "Some people tried to change the name to Vivian's Valley, but it never caught on."

• • •

Tourists often zip through this Valhalla of the carefree without even knowing it.

SIGN VANISHES

"Used to be a highway sign here saying 'Loafer's Glory,' explained Burleson. "But it rotted and fell down, and nobody thought to put it back up.

• • •

It may take Loafer's Glory a long time to overtake New York—it doesn't even have a subway yet—but no one is in a real hurry. That's the nice thing about Loafer's Glory. Plus the fact there isn't a town in America with a better sense of humor.

Designing engineers should serve an internship as salesmen in their field before they attempt to make their cock-eyed changes in manufacturing merchandise for the public. There is too much monopoly in manufacturing, which is why the public's wishes are so often disregarded.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-358: Terry L., aged 44, is manager of an automobile agency.

"Dr. Crane, you have certainly stirred up a hornet's nest recently in your criticism of automobile inefficiencies," he said, but grinned meanwhile.

"However, we salesmen are heartily on your side, for if the manufacturers would use more horse sense in adapting cars to the practical needs of buyers, we wouldn't get high blood pressure trying to sell them.

"At present, we must stretch the truth and get red in the face with high pressure selling because our product doesn't fully meet the public's needs.

"For instance, the engineers gloat over trivial, nonsensical gadgets like push - button windows. They seem to think the pushing of a button to open or close a window is a wonderful innovation in motor car design.

• • •

"Yet, as you have often said, they haven't even arranged the brake pedal so a driver has his foot on it when he faces an emergency.

"No car is actually under a driver's control unless his foot is on the brake pedal at all times.

"Besides, those push buttons sometimes get out of order. Then customers rage because the windows are down in freezing weather and they can't raise them.

"I wish the designing engineers had to work as salesmen for my agency for six months. Then they'd get hep to real improvements instead of sissy little innovations that don't mean a darn."

BUSINESS PSYCHOLOGY

We have hundreds of talented business psychologists who can show the inefficiencies in all types of merchandise in short order.

But too many heads of companies have reached their lofty jobs by being promoted from the engineering and production fields, instead of the sales force.

Such engineers and accountants are more likely to be introverts who are enamoured of tensile strength instead of sales oomph, so they ignore our smart business psychologists who urge consumer surveys.

They are like the typical railroad executives, bankers and insurance directors who are so concerned with husbanding resources and counting inanimate things like dies and dollars, that they ignore the human element in business.

America's corporations were originally created by smart men like Henry Ford and the Du Ponts. But now they are run by "boards" who are "conservators" of estates and thus more interested in balance sheets than in people.

"Dr Crane, you're wrong," they may indignantly argue. "If we weren't interested in people, we couldn't stay in business."

POWER OF MONOPOLY

But that isn't quite true. Big business has a virtual monopoly in many fields, so they can coerce the public into buying their wares, even though the latter don't fully meet the public's needs or wishes.

• • •

For example, who can start up an automotive industry from scratch in these modern times? Nobody but Henry Kaiser.

Who can compete with the railroads or telephone companies nowadays?

Even newspapers have had to merge so most cities don't even have competing newspapers to offer divergent views.

Cartels are publicly vetoed in America but many big businesses function on much the same basis.

Engineers may scream in protest and the typical "conservators" who operate American corporations may deny it, but there isn't enough actual competition left in major industries to cause the manufacturers to heed the real demands of buyers.

If there were, we wouldn't have such inefficiences in automobiles. And railroads wouldn't be petitioning to discontinue passenger trains, etc.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

STORIES IN THE STARS—4
THE HEAVENLY TWINS

The constellation called Gemini, the Twins, was named by the Greeks after the legend of Castor and Pollux, sons of Jupiter, and brothers of Helen of Troy, whose beauty caused the Trojan war.

Castor, who you see here holding a bridle and a small whip, was noted for his ability to train horses. Pollux, who has his arms and legs bound for boxing, was a champion boxer.

The Romans often swore solemn oaths "By Gemini," which is why we sometimes say "By Jiminy."

Castor was killed in battle, and Pollux grieved so much for his brother that Jupiter put them both in the sky. They have a number of other constellations near them, and here you see Canis Minor, or the Little Dog, at the left, the paw of Leon the Lion at the right, and the club of Orion the Hunter at the lower right.

Color this picture with crayons and then paste on thin cardboard. With a large pin punch out the stars that are outlined, and prick small holes in the many stars scattered over the background. Then hold the picture up to a strong light, and you will see the constellation made up of the large stars. You can put a string through the circles at the top and hang this up. You can also fold the panels at the lower corners and it will stand up.

(Mrs. John Atkinson, El Cerrito, Calif., first suggested this idea. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors panels. If so send them in care of this newspaper, and it may win you $10).

Tomorrow: Sagittarius the Archer.

3-5 Million Losses in Flint Storm Area

FLINT (AP)—Insurance adjusters estimated today the Flint area had between three and five million dollars in property damage from the tornadoes Saturday.

* * *

They said between 50 and 75 per cent probably will be covered by insurance. Adjusters began processing the first of the 10,000 claims they expect to receive.

* * *

A. E. Burgtorf, director of the U.S. Weather Bureau office at Bishop Airport, said three and possibly four tornadoes struck the Flint area. He said at least two—possibly three—struck the Dort Highway and southeastern suburban district. Another struck south of Davison, 10 miles east of Flint.

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislative leaders will report today on their 1956 session to students and faculty members from seven Michigan colleges at a bipartisan Politics Day at Michigan State University.

Tornado Alarm Device Scheduled for Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau will install a $100,000 electronic tornado spotting device in the Detroit-Flint area in 1958.

W. W. Oak, of the Detroit bureau, said the electronic device will be able to spot twisters 300 miles away. He did not give the exact site where the device would be installed.

A similar device is in operation at Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens.

Tornado Alarm Sought

LANSING (AP)—The Lansing City Council has instructed Mayor Ralph W. Crego to appoint a committee to formulate a uniform and adequate tornado warning system. Council members and citizens complained that radio and television warnings left out those without sets tuned in and a siren system of warning was suggested.

Britain's exports of radio equipment in 1955 were the highest yet.

Avoca Antes-Up Pay; Teachers Back on Job

AVOCA, Pa. (AP)—Public schools in this community of 4,000 reopened today after the borough's 23 teachers agreed to take a part payment on the four months salaries owed them.

• • •

The teachers announced they would end a one-day walkout and return to their classrooms after a conference late yesterday with borough officials.

The First National Bank of Avoca, which earlier had lent the borough $50,000 for teacher's salaries, refused until yesterday to grant another loan. Then it agreed to make an $8,000 loan which, with $3,000 in tax money, was the source for the payment.

• • •

Borough officials said that inadequate local tax collecting machinery, and the lack of state aid, due to a bottleneck in the Pennsylvania legislature, was responsible for the lack of funds to pay the teachers.

Lawyer Settles Check Dispute With His Wife

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert B. Zink, a Philadelphia lawyer, has settled out of court with his estranged wife a dispute over a $75,000 postdated check he made out to her.

• • •

State Supreme Court Justice James B. M. McNally said yesterday the case was settled after a conference among litigants, lawyers and himself. Cross separation suits by Zink and Mrs. Maude Lennox Zink also were settled, the justice said.

Terms of the settlements were not disclosed.

In a spirit of "jest and merriment," Zink has said, he made out the check to his then bride-to-be on Christmas morning, 1945, and dated it Dec. 25, 1955.

• • •

Mrs. Zink contended he wrote the check Dec. 25, 1948, after their marriage. She said Zink gave it to her in consideration of her waiving dower rights to some real estate.

Athletes Are Brainy

EAST LANSING (AP)—The registrar's office at Michigan State University reported that once again this year, as in half a dozen similar recent studies, athletes outperformed the average student body scholastically. A survey showed 379 varsity athletes had a 2.45 scholastic average, above the 2.36 for the all-university male average.

Security for You

Notify Official of Death — It May Prove Profitable

Noah Moore turned a paper towel into writing paper and the government turned it into dollar bills.

• • •

That's the nub of a true story recently told.

It started a few months ago when Moore, a Warwick, Md., factory worker, found his wife's Social Security card among some old papers. She'd put it away some time before her death in 1951.

On the card, Moore found a notation to let the nearest Social Security office know in case of death. Although it would be four years late, he decided to write a letter.

He couldn't find any writing paper in the house, so he ripped off a paper towel in the kitchen and wrote this letter:

"Marian Lent Moore died November 24, 1951. She had a daughter named Patricia Ann Moore. She was born May 22, 1951. The card says to notify you if a person dies or reaches 65. Would you let me know if I did right and what happens to the money she paid into Social Security. I am sending her card.

"Thank You,
"Noah S. Moore
"Her Husband."

The letter started the Social Security's wheels moving. In a few weeks, Moore was told that Patricia Ann will receive nearly $45 a month until she's 18 or marries, which ever comes earlier, due to the Social Security payments her mother made while working.

PROVISION OF LAW

The Social Security people gave her the payments under a provision of the law which says:

A mother who has been working for at least 18 months during the three years before her death and has been paying into Social Security is presumed to be supporting her child or children. Thus, they're her dependents. As dependents, the child or children are eligible for Social Security payments.

Had Moore told his Social Security office about his wife's death immediately Patricia Ann would have been getting the monthly payments from the start. As it is, three years of benefits are lost because the law only permits the payments to go back 12 months from the date of application.

MISSED DEATH BENEFIT

And he missed completely a lump sum payment of about $170 he could have received at the time of his wife's death. To be eligible for this payment, he had to ask for it within two years of her death.

But Moore isn't fretting about his delay in applying. He says he's just thankful he didn't wipe his hands on that paper towel which will mean a total of $7,350 to Patricia Ann.

Moore's case is only one of thousands in which people who've been making Social Security payments have failed to use the rights earned.

• • •

Nine different kinds of benefits are payable under the Social Security's Old Age and Survivors Insurance program, including the lump sum death payment and the monthly payments made to children like Patricia Ann. In future columns, I'll give you a run-down on them all.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of The Pontiac Press about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Bodiless Voice Scares Away Store Intruders

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)— Even in an age of electronics, a bodiless voice has a way with edgy intruders.

• • •

Burglars looting E. F. Cheatham's store at Pine Grove fled when a voice from the dark commented: "Get out of that store!"

• • •

They dropped a bag of intended loot, taking only some cigarettes.

Mrs. Cheatham, awakened by the break-in, used the intercom system from her nearby home to panic the intruders.

A British firm hopes to interest American capital in exploiting the Straimasher, a new machine that can mash 100 pounds of potatoes in four minutes.

Lost 30 Lbs. THE RENNEL WAY

MARQUETTE, MICH. "I have taken Rennel Concentrate for six months and have lost 30 lbs.," writes Mrs. Ward Kirkendall, R. No. 1. "Now I feel wonderful. For me Rennel is a tonic and I am still using it. It prevents gas forming in my stomach and I don't tire so easily. I just feel so much better when I am taking Rennel."

Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RENNEL Concentrate. You'll never know a hungry moment while reducing with RENNEL.

Knowledge of English, Philosophy, Arts Essential to Successful Career in Law

(Many of today's high school seniors will be starting college next fall. To acquaint them and their parents with some things they might expect and to provoke thought on training, this third of five articles has been prepared.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A lawyer uses two prime tools—"words and ideas."

• • •

If, even in high school, you've decided you want to study law, start developing your tools now. This is the advice of Prof. Marcus L. Plant, University of Michigan Law School.

There are some main areas to study, Prof. Plant says. One of the most important is the English language—"especially writing."

A prospective law student should also know his history—"world history, but more important is English and American History because some of this stuff is understandable only in the light of the times in which it grew."

He should also know his government, says Prof. Plant. He should know "not only English and American Government, but government in general."

NEED ACCOUNTING

He should have too an acquaintance in the way business is carried on — Accounting is a necessity. He'll run into accounting problems. He should know Economics too, Prof. Plant adds:

"By and large a good deal of the work a person gets into in the practice of law is counseling business people."

Both in high school and more especially in college, Prof. Plant says, a student should "get into the 'think' courses rather than the memory or rote courses. He should take Philosophy and Mathematics."

Generally speaking lawyers don't make a lot of money, he says, although some make fabulous amounts. There are four general areas in which a lawyer may practice.

DIFFERENT FIELDS

First, there is the field of Patent Law. For this, the professor says, it is wise to have some engineering specialty as a background since most of your work will deal with engineering principles.

• • •

Second, there is the field of government work—either for the state or federal governments, both of which require many competent lawyers in their normal operations.

• • •

Third, there is private practice. Prof. Plant points out that between 88 and 90 per cent of Michigan graduates go into private practice which covers two general fields: opening your own office, or going into an established firm as an associate or clerk.

• • •

The fourth path is the legal departments of large corporations.

• • •

The young man who takes a job as an associate in a law firm starts out at about $4,500 a year. Each year he gets about a $1,000 rais until he reaches about $9,000. By then he knows whether he will stay with the firm or go on into other work.

ROUGH GOING

Many lawyers, Prof. Plant says, don't start out in business, but many of them end up there, putting their legal education into practical work. As legal counsel for a corporation, they can get in on the ground floor for many business ventures.

The young lawyer who starts out on his own has rough going for a while, the professor says.

The top universities, like Michigan, require a college degree for entrance into the law school. There are various ways of speeding things up a little, but at the minimum it still takes about six years of college, usually seven.

• • •

Most schools teach their law by the case method, which means you don't learn the principles out of a textbook and then go on to practice. You learn your law from law cases, and arrive at the principles yourself.

Firm May Get Defense Work

Wilson Promises Study of Studebaker-Packard for U.S. Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson says he is taking a "special look" to see what defense work could be allocated to the loss-ridden Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Some members of Congress have been pressing for defense contracts for the company, which has been hit by declining sales of automobiles. Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) said last week he was told the firm would get a big government truck order.

The United Auto Workers Union called on the government to allot defense orders to Studebaker-Packard "to save the jobs of thousands of our members and keep the company from going out of business."

Wilson declined to say at a news conference yesterday what specific work might be given to Studebaker-Packard. He said, however, there were "certain things" the company had worked on before and might be "handed their way" without upsetting the orderly allocation of military contracts.

In a statement yesterday, Ken Morris, UAW regional co-director, and Arthur Hughes of the union's pledged co-operation with management in efforts to solve the company's problems.

The statement said that more than 2,200 members of the union's Packard local in Detroit authorized the action.

TOWNSHIP OF BLOOMFIELD, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN
Amendment No. 2 to Building Code.
Amendment to Ordinance No. 31, of the Township of Bloomfield, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, adopted at the regular meeting of the Bloomfield Township Board held May 14, 1956.
The Township Board Ordains that Ordinance No. 31, commonly known as the Building Code be amended by adding a new section to be known as Section 2, thereto.
SECTION 2:
1. The Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield is hereby granted full authority to determine, define and delineate the critical areas in the Township of Bloomfield, where eavestroughs, house gutters, down spouts, patio and court-yard drains, and other similar devices for the channeling of rain water from impervious areas, shall not hereafter be connected to any sewer, either directly or indirectly.
2. Whenever an area is determined to be a critical area by the Township Board, as aforesaid, each owner of property within said area shall be notified of such determination by written notice, and notice of the area determined to be a critical area shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the Township of Bloomfield.
3. Hereafter, no plans for the construction, remodeling or erection of any house or building in an area determined to be a critical area by the Township Board as aforesaid, shall be approved by the Department of Building of this Township, if those plans indicate the connection of eavestroughs or other devices named in Section 1 hereof, to any sewer.
4. Within sixty days (60) after determination of a critical area, by the Township Board, as aforesaid, all persons or other owners of property within an area defined to be a critical area and equipped with any such described device for the handling of rain water named in Section 1 hereof, shall cause the same to be disconnected from any sewer to which it is now or may hereafter be connected.
5. The installation of all such devices on presently existing buildings shall be modified, and on new buildings shall be constructed, so as to conduct the water to the grade level of the building and there discharge the accumulated water on a concrete or other suitable splash pan constructed in such manner as to prevent any material damage to the foundation of the building by the discharged water, from which splash pan the water shall be allowed to spread over the surrounding ground surface, thus preventing its passing directly into the sewer system.
This amendment will be in effect thirty days after publication.
Adopted unanimously by the Bloomfield Township Board on May 14, 1956.

PLAN ROCHESTER CHURCH — Above preliminary architect's plans for new church and Sunday School have been approved by members of the First Congregational Church at Rochester. Funds for the $450,000 sanctuary are to be raised through a three-year pledge program.

To Replace Edifice Dedicated in 1854

Rochester Congregation Approves Plan

ROCHESTER — Preliminary architect's plans for a new church and Sunday School building have been approved by the members of the First Congregational Church of Rochester.

The new field stone and face brick facility, which has a church seating capacity of 488 and a Sunday School capacity of between 400 and 500, is planned to be built on a recently acquired six-acre plot between Oak and Pine Streets on the north side of the Rochester village limits.

The new building, which is being designed by Harold Fisher and Associates of Detroit, will provide nearly double the capacity of the present Congregational Church located on the corner of Third and Walnut Streets in Rochester.

The First Congregational Church is the oldest Congregational Church in the State of Michigan, having been established on July 1, 1827. The present church building was dedicated in 1854.

The Rev. E. John Yuells has served as minister to the 600-member congregation since 1950. Mrs. Edwin H. Kinney is Director of Christian Education.

Both Church and Sunday School have seen increases of more than 20 per cent since 1953. And by 1959, church attendance is expected to swell to 330 and Sunday School attendance to about 250.

Construction of a new church is the second step undertaken by the Congregational Church members in a planned program to expand their facilities to meet the Christian needs of the rapidly growing Rochester Community. In 1953 the congregation voted an $80,000 expansion program, all funds for which will have been collected by September 30 of this year.

Under this expansion program, the six-acre Pine Street property was acquired, a new parsonage built on this property, the former parsonage remodeled to provide an expanded Sunday School facility, and the church building remodeled to expand church seating capacity.

During this three-year period, a Building Council, made up of Chairman Lewis Arscott, Robert Cook, Neva Crissman, Ruth Ellis, Edwin Forbush, Richard Huizenga, Gail Kemler, Harry Markle, and Janet Paterson have been working with the Fisher firm developing plans for a building.

The new building project will cost about $450,000.; the church unit furnishings and landscaping coming to $200,000; and the Sunday School unit will be about $190,000.

Plans for financing the new buildings as presently adopted by the church's Board of Trustees call for raising sufficient funds in a three-year pledge program to build the church unit. Construction will start as soon as these funds are collected. The congregation will approve the final architect's plans before construction starts.

He will make "Juvenile Delinquency" the subject for his talk. The Couples Club of the Church is sponsoring the event.

Kindergartners Registration Set

Six Rochester Schools to Enroll 5-Year-Olds May 24 and 25

ROCHESTER — May 24 and 25 are the dates set by Rochester Community Schools for the registration of prospective kindergarten children for September 1956. Registrations will be taken at the various buildings in accordance with the following schedule:

Baldwin School — 3 to 5 p. m.
Brooklands School (Office) 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
Hamlin School — 3:30 to 5 p. m.
Harrison-Central (Office) 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
North Hill School—3:30 to 5 p. m.
Woodward School — 3:30 to 5 p. m.

Parents are urged to register their children during these days so that class schedules may more accurately be arranged during the summer months.

With the considerable amount of home construction taking place in the school district, it is imperative that the school district have as much advance notice of kindergarten enrollment as possible, officials said.

Children must be five years of age on or before Dec. 1, 1956 in order to be eligible for kindergarten. It is also essential that parents bring a birth certificate or hospital record to verify the date of birth.

Red Army Cut to Bolster Economic Aims

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A further shift to economic warfare between the East and the West could follow the Russian plan to take men out of the army and put them in the factories and the fields.

American businessmen operating abroad report a continuing stepup in recent months in the attempt of Russia to win world markets through promises of goods on easy terms.

The big question mark has been: Can Moscow fulfill its promises and deliver the goods?

With more men going into economic production, and with a cut in spending on defense and an increase in spending on industrial expansion, the Soviets may make fulfillment more of a possibility now.

The West has had the best of it so far. Industry capacity is about twice as high as that of Russia and her satellites. But the Russians have set a goal of overtaking American production totals within 10 to 15 years. And their rate of increase since the war has been faster than our own—large as that has been.

One of Russia's handicaps has been a labor shortage. With a huge standing army and a government policy of keeping as many youths as possible in scientific and engineering schools, the industrial labor force has been curtailed. There should be plenty of room in the factories for the 1¼ million men that Russia now says will be demobilized.

In making their bid for world trade the Russians have had some advantages, notably in the underdeveloped areas. The Reds have been able to offer markets for the raw materials and food that these areas produce. Here, the desire to protect American industry and agriculture from such imports has been strong. One example: Cuba has sold to the Reds some of the sugar it couldn't send to the United States.

• • •

The Russians and their satellites have been able to offer the nonindustrialized countries some of the machinery and equipment they crave. They can't produce this in the quantity that Americans can, but increasing amounts of such equipment are coming on the world markets from behind the Iron Curtain. Examples: the Soviets are building a steel mill for India; Czechoslovakia is building a rubber factory in Egypt; Poland is building ships for other countries and peddling railroad cars.

Frugal Farmer Leaves Savings for Church

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A frugal farmer has left all but $7,130 of his $611,595 estate for reconstruction of a war-scarred church he attended as a boy in Germany.

• • •

The bequest was disclosed yesterday in the filing of an inventory on the estate of Charles Schmitt.

Schmitt died at 79 April 7. He lived on a 40-acre farm which had no electricity and was lit by gas lamps, a spokesman for the estate said. His real estate holdings were valued at almost $400,000.

• • •

He left the money to the Roman Catholic Church of St. Martin, Burschal, Germany, and to the bishop the Freiburg (Germany) archdiocese, stipulating it be placed in a "first-class bank in Germany" and drawn by the bishop as needed for reconstruction of the church.

He found the church had been damaged in a recent visit to Germany.

Waterfront Hood Dies in Brooklyn Hospital

NEW YORK (INS) — Joseph Anastasio, 51, one of the four notorious waterfront boss brothers, is dead. It was learned that Anastasio died in bed in a Brooklyn hospital.

He was the least known of the family, which sometimes spells the name Anastasia. Nevertheless, his career was librally studded with charges of murder, theft and illegal entrance into the U. S. by jumping ship.

Student to Visit Soviet

EAST LANSING (AP) — Noble, Bright, Michigan State University sophomore in the field of governmental studies, reported that after three months of trying he has received Soviet visas to travel in Russia this summer. "I'm going purely as a tourist," said Bright, from Cape May, N. J.

UM Planning 'Highway Lab'

Medical School to Start Project Studied Aimed at Cutting Accidents

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan's medical school plans to "bring the highway into the laboratory" in a new research program aimed at reducing automobile accidents and injuries.

• • •

The program will concentrat on three basic areas of accident injuries:

1. Medical problems in accident prevention, particularly among the physically and mentally handicapped.

• • •

2. Injury combinations, including study which parts of the body are most frequently involved in injury accidents.

3. Basic science problems, such as the effect of deceleration on body mechanics, vision and hearing.

• • •

Dr. Wilfrid Dempster, professor of anatomy and a member of the university's Trauma Injury Committee, said researchers "hope to bring the highway into the laboratory" by using three dimensional processes, curved movie screens, models and other devices. These, he said, should help research men to stimulate highway conditions and test individual reaction in the laboratory.

Congress Hears Asian Leader's Address Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Soekarno of Indonesia addresses a joint session of Congress today and visits spots associated with three Americans he says inspired him to fight for independence.

• • •

Vice President Nixon arranged a Capitol luncheon to introduce the neutralist Asian leader, who arrived here yesterday for a state visit, to congressional leaders.

Soekarno and his party planned earlier trips to Mount Vernon, the Washington Monument and the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials.

ORANGE JUICE TOAST

At a state dinner given by Nixon last night, Soekarno said the struggle he had made for his country's independence from Dutch rule was "inspired in me by your great leaders, Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln."

He proposed a toast to President Eisenhower and, being a Moslem, drank it in orange juice.

Appealing for peace among all men and all nations, Soekarno said "I am sure that in the year 2000 peace will reign over all the world."

• • •

Soekarno spoke of the reception he received upon arrival in Washington and said he is sure that in all of America "democracy is a reality."

'Wheel' Beats the Rap, Then Explains to Judge

BALTIMORE (AP)—Judge Joseph L. Carter wanted to know how it happened that James Mason, 25-year-old defendant in a larceny case, was generally known as "Ferris."

Mason, who was acquitted because of insufficient evidence, gave this explanation:

"I used to spend a lot of money on my friends and they started calling me a big wheel. That's how I got the name Ferris."

Now Hear This! Hobo Is Pioneer Not Just a Bum

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—"Hobo Dick" Zimmerman has come out of retirement to hit the wanderer's trail again. He's on foot, as usual, heading for Texas.

• • •

The 74-year-old Zimmerman hopes to collect enough "traveling notes" during the 2,700-mile trip to write a book.

Hobo Dick spent the winter with his sister at her home in Loomis, near Clare, after walking there from San Antonio. He planned to settle down but said he decided to head South again to see his many hobo friends in Texas.

Zimmerman added that most people have the wrong impression of a hobo. "A hobo is not a bum but a sort of pioneer," he said. "He helps develop a part of the country and then moves along."

25 Michigan Persons Given Scholarships

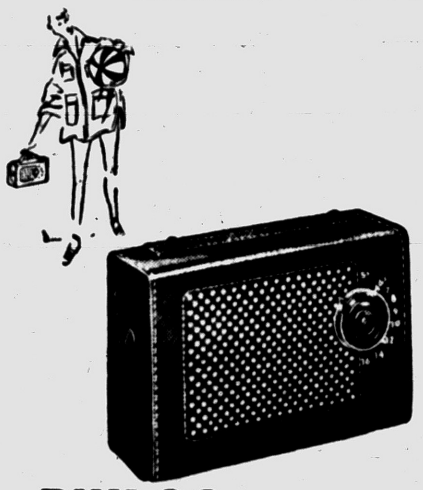

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Alcoholism has announced award of scholarships to 25 Michigan persons for attending sessions of the Midwest Institute on Alcohol studies June 18-22 in Madison, Wis.

The awards go to educators, public health officials, alcoholism rehabilitation workers, social workers, physicians and clergymen.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—An atmosphere of harmony is expected to prevail over today's biennial convention of North Carolina's Democratic party.

The chief business is election of a 36-vote delegation to the national convention in Chicago. delegation is likely, although party leaders predict a resolution will be adopted endorsing Adlai Stevenson as the presidential nominee.

Bill to Abolish Hanging Receives Jolt in Britain

LONDON (AP)—A bill to do away completely with the death penalty in Britain has had its first setback.

The House of Commons, which already has approved in principle the proposal to abolish hanging, voted 198-194 last night to retain it for convicted murderers who kill again while in prison.

* * *

The vote came on an amendment offered by Conservative Sir Hugh Lucas-Tooth. He argued that the death penalty for such repeat slayers is a necessary protection for prison guards and convicts.

The coming of TV to Eire is "inevitable," Erskine Childers declared in a debate in Dublin on television.

Senate Hopeful Snubs Charges

Wisconsin Accusations of Unethical Acts Won't Deter GOP Lawyer

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Mark Catlin Jr. said last night he would not let charges of unethical conduct in parole and pardon cases interfere with his candidacy for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination.

Catlin, 46, an attorney here and speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly, was accused yesterday of accepting money to use his political influence in an attempt to win freedom for state prison inmates.

He declared he acted only as a lawyer, and not as a political figure.

AS A LAWYER

"I have no intention of letting these unfounded charges affect my candidacy," he said. He plans to go before the GOP State Convention in Milwaukee May 25-26 to seek the convention's endorsement, he said.

Catlin seeks Republican nomination for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Alexander Wiley.

FOUR CHARGES

The charges of unethical conduct were made public by the Wisconsin Supreme Court at Madison. In them the Wisconsin State Board of Bar Commissioners named Catlin in four charges, alleging that he accepted $5,725 from four inmates at the state prison and unspecified sums from five other prisoners or their families to use his influence to gain their freedom.

63 Champs Vie for Spelling Bee Honor Crown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tongue-twisting words, including some you may never have heard, were ready for tossing to young spellers today to determine a champion of champions.

* * *

Sixty-three contestants, a record number, were entered in the 29th annual National Spelling Bee. And for the first time the boys outnumbered the girls — 34 to 29.

HOME TOWN ACES

The youngsters, all under 15, are champions of their own home towns. These finalists represented the best among some five million schoolchildren who participated in elimination contests across the country.

The bee, sponsored by Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 18 cities and 43 other daily and Sunday papers, was won last year by Sandra Sloss of Granite City, Ill.

This year's winner will receive $1,000 and an extra $100 for a weekend in New York.

Three 13-year-old contestants of previous national bees are back for another try.

* * *

They are Melody Sachko, Pittsburgh, who finished sixth in 1954; Clyde Dawson, Albuquerque, N.M., 34th the same year; and Clyde Gregory, Albertville, Ala., 16th last year.

In the early 1920's cattle and calves accounted for 10 or 12 per cent of the national farm income, but now they're providing about 17 per cent of it.

Jean Hersholt Is Honor Guest

Filmdom Flocks to Fete Industry Humanitarian at Golden Anniversary

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie industry honored one of its most universally beloved members last night — actor Jean Hersholt.

• • •

Most of the big names in Hollywood turned out to pay tribute to the onetime Danish immigrant regarded by many as the industry's greatest humanitarian.

Hersholt, in ill health, left a sickbed under a doctor's care to attend the civic testimonial honoring his 50th year as an actor. He is 69.

The long dinner and speeches were a weakening ordeal for him. He had to leave before the tributes were finished.

$100 A PLATE

Mary Pickford summed up the evening's accolades in a simple speech.

"Jean," she said, "we respect you, we honor you and we love you. Denmark has lost a great citizen. We've gained one."

Guests paid $100 a plate for dinner—a benefit for Mt. Sinai Hospital.

• • •

Hersholt has been president of the Motion Picture Relief Fund for 19 years and is one of the founders of the Motion Picture Country House and Hospital.

Hersholt, in a quivering voice, told the group:

"This is the most memorable evening of my whole life."

HIS REASON

Then he disclosed the main reason for his many years of show business philanthropy:

"Forty years ago I was a nobody in this town. I was under contract to Triangle Productions, had a wife and a baby, but no money.

• • •

"Then disaster struck—I got a ruptured appendix. I had no money to pay hospital bills but some of the great stars — and the grips, too—all chipped in and paid my hospital bill.

"I've never forgotten that kindness."

Study Requested by Sen. Potter on Lakes Ports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) has called for the Army engineers to make a comprehensive Great Lakes harbor survey.

He asked the Senate Public Works Committee to adopt a resolution authorizing the engineers to make the study.

• • •

Potter said that the survey is necessary because of heavy shipping traffic expected on the Lakes when the St. Lawrence Seaway, now under construction, is completed.

• • •

With the completion of the Seaway and the deepening of connecting channels between the Lakes, Potter said, it also will be necessary to improve Harbor channels and maneuver areas to enable them to handle sea-going traffic.

"When world trade reaches our ports we must be ready for it," he added.

Activities Reported by Phoenix Project

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Atomic scientists at the University of Michigan seek new radioactive medicines in the fight against cancer.

• • •

The search will be one of the 76 research items scientists at the school's memorial Phoenix Project will work on during the coming year. Others include studies on drug addiction, radioactive elements in the earth, and the implication of atomic power in American foreign policy.

The Phoenix Project is dedicated to the peaceful uses of atomicenergy. Some 50 separate research programs, all connected with the development of atomic power, have been completed by the project, the annual report stated yesterday.

• • •

Unwanted Official Pinched Financially

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Cheboygan County officials want to get rid of their drain commissioner and they're pretty sure they knowshow to go about it.

• • •

The County Board of Supervisors has cut his pay 90 per cent, reducing it from $100 to $10 a year. Members said they don't think anyone will want to run for the job in the August primary election.

Drain Commissioner Ben Pitcher came under fire when supervisors agreed his job could be handled by the Road Commission or Soil Conservation Service. Pitcher wouldn't resign so the board cut his pay.

• • •

At the same time the board gave other county officers $400 to $500 salary increases effective Jan. 1.

Warner Jewels Safe —in Coast Hotel

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (INS)—A $100,000 jewel collection reported missing by movie magnate Albert Warner was found today at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Beverly Hills Police Chief Clinton Anderson said the 72-year-old Warner left the gems, packed in a suitcase, in a closet when he and his wife left the hotel to return to New York Sunday.

Anderson said the suitcase was found the same day the Warners left by a maid, who turned it over to the hotel's lost and found department.

When the jewels were reported missing, police checked the hotel on a hunch and found the suitcase, jewelry and all.

Warner told insurance officials he believed the suitcase had been checked with other baggage at an airline counter at Los Angeles International Airport.

Anderson said whoever took the Warners' luggage to the airport apparently overlooked the suitcase.

Warner came here from New York to help his two brothers, Jack and Harry, close a 20 million dollar deal for their controlling interest in Warner Brothers movie studio.

Indian Buddhists Plan Founder Gautama Rites

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India is taking the lead in worldwide celebrations of the 2,500th anniversary of the death of Gautama, the Hindu prince who founded Buddhism.

* * *

Buddhist pilgrims from all over Asia are expected to visit India by the thousands to pray at the historic sites associated with Gautama, who became the Buddha—"The Enlightened one."

Buddhism has relatively few followers in India, where the religion was born. But it remains strong in Japan, Ceylon, Burma, Thailand and Tibet, and many Pilgrims from those countries are expected in India in the coming months.

THE BEST DAY

Prime Minister Nehru will launch the celebrations when he lays the foundation stone of a commemorative monument in New Delhi next Wednesday.

The following day, known as Buddha Purnima, has been picked generally as the best day to begin the actual death anniversary celebrations, which will last throughout the year.

Buddha Purnima marks the day that Prince Gautama, sitting under a pipul tree at Bodh Gaya in Bihar state, attained "enlightenment" by conceiving his "law of life."

THREE MILLION

Most of the pilgrims are expected to head for Bihar state, in northeast India, to visit Bodh Gaya and the area of Benares, where the prince delivered his first sermon as the Buddha.

India is spending more than three million dollars on the celebration. Many ancient Buddhist temples and ruins are being renovated. New roads and rest houses are ready for the pilgrims, who will also visit Lumbini, birthplace of Buddha just across the Indian border inside the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal.

* * *

Buddhist countries outside India are planning their own celebrations. Perhaps the most spectacular will be in Ceylon, at the Temple of the Tooth in Kandy. There a tooth said to be one of Buddha's is kept in shrine.

The green color of plants is due to the presence of chlorophyll.

Missouri Mother Buries 86-Year-Old Daughter

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Eliza Allison made a 17-mile trip to Hannibal Tuesday for the funeral of an 86-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Allison, the daughter of a slave, says she is 104.

She is feeble and she said she wished she could have seen the flowers more clearly.

"But she can remember things and people I have long forgotten," said Mrs. Fannie Miller, a 71-year-old daughter with whom she lives at Frankford, Mo.

Mrs. Allison was born near Frankford and reared by a white family. She and her husband, who died about 30 years ago, had eight other children.

U.S. Will Map Area

REED CITY (AP)—Engineers of the U. S. Geological Survey have established a project headquarters at Reed City and soon will begin topographic mapping of about 5,430 square miles in the area.

Is Racial Desegregation Limited to Public Places?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)— Two years ago today the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation by race. What has happened since then? Much and nothing. There has been compliance and defiance. There has been no crisis yet. One may come.

• • •

The court's ruling affected 17 states and the District of Columbia where white and Negro students were compelled by law to attend separate schools. A number of them have desegrated, more or less.

NO TIME LIMIT

The hard core of resistance is in the Deep South, particularly in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia, whose legislatures have passed resolutions either flatly or obliquely defying the Supreme Court.

The court has not set a time limit on desegregation. It has ordered the lower federal courts to see that the states comply with "deliberate speed."

The crisis, if it comes, may come if the Deep South still refuses to budge when the lower courts say it is time to quit stalling. It is questionable many Southern leaders will wish to put the nation in crisis by persistence in their refusal.

WHAT IS IT?

What will the federal government do to back up the court's ruling if, through unyielding Southern defiance, a crisis does come? No one in high position has produced an answer to that one.

No one can say precisely what "deliberate speed" means. But it's certain the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) will not wait indefinitely for action without going into the lower courts.

Southern defiance has taken various forms: open criticism of the Supreme Court, action by state legislatures, action by private groups, economic pressure on Negroes.

In turn Negroes, feeling for the first time in this century the Supreme Court was behind them, have become active in collective efforts to force an end to segregation, including economic pressure. Since Dec. 5, 1955, Negroes in Montgomery, Ala., have boycotted the city's segregated buses.

DERIDE COURT

Many Southern whites have derided the nine Supreme Court justices, whose antisegregation ruling was unanimous, as politicians who were invading rights and usurping the rights of Congress.

On March 12 over 100 Southern senators and representatives signed a "manifesto" calling the court's ruling illegal and pledging their states would use "every lawful means" of seeking its reversal.

• • •

These Southerners accused the court of trying to legislate. But there would be no civil rights legislation, and no end to school segregation, if it depended on the Southerners.

They have prevented Congress for years from passing civil rights legislation by filibustering or threatening to filibuster. They justify this on the ground that a minority has a right to protect itself again what it considers the injustice of a majority.

Southerners want it both ways, one way in Congress, another back home.

Back home, white legislatures pass segregation laws. They justify this on the ground that it is the will of the majority. Negroes are not in a position to filibuster in Southern legislatures.

NO FINAL RULING

What sometimes gets lost sight of is that the Supreme Court has not yet ruled on whether all forms of segregation are unlawful. It has outlawed segregation in schools and in recreation areas and on interstate buses.

But what of segregation in other areas of Southern life, like theaters or restaurants?

• • •

In the two years since the school decision the court hasn't said clearly whether segregation is wrong in any place or activity where public funds are not used.

Spinster Admits Defrauding Firm

Pleads Innocent to Lie Count as Embezzlement Hearing Begins

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Minnie Mangum, charged with stealing nearly three million dollars, admitted she began taking money from her employers 20 years ago, the prosecution said yesterday as the gray-haired spinster went on trial.

• • •

The 52-year-old Miss Mangum is accused of taking the money by slick bookkeeping methods from the Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn., which she served as assistant secretary treasurer.

She pleaded innocent to the first charge leveled against her — that she lied in 1946 when she provided the Virginia Corporation Commission information about the assets of Commonwealth.

ENTER STATEMENT

The prosecution laid before the Corporation Court jury a statement attributed to Miss Mangum in which she admitted stealing from Commonwealth, which went into receivership a few months ago when the theft scandal came to light.

Bank examiner William A. Patton, who read the statement, said Miss Mangum had given it six days after auditors found evidence of the huge embezzlement last December.

Patton said she related how the first thefts occurred 20 years ago and told of giving the money freely to friends and relatives, who since have been sued by a government agency in an effort to recover more than a million dollars.

Pair Honeymoons in Separate Cells

LAMESA, Tex. (AP)—Roland and Donna Davis, arrested while driving 90 miles an hour on the wrong side of the road, are having to spend their honeymoon in Lamesa.

• • •

Judge Aubrey Boswell determined that when he sentenced the 23-year-old Sterling, Colo., bridegroom to three days in jail. He also fined the husband $75 and costs for drunk driving.

• • •

The judge fined 22-year-old Donna $29.70 for being drunk. She didn't have the money so the judge sent her to jail also.

They are in the same jail—but different cells.

Determined Guy

PASO ROBLES, Calif. (AP)—Donald W. Smith, 32, trying to kill a rattlesnake, shot himself in the left arm. He was taken 20 miles to Paso Robles for treatment in a doctor's office. Then he went back and shot and killed the snake.

From Andrew Jackson to Ike

Resort Specializes in Soothing Presidents

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA. (INS)—So this is President Eisenhower's little White-House-away-from-home . . . 16 rooms, six baths and a golf course just off the back stoop.

* * *

It's nice, indeed dazzling, to see how the executive half lives.

For 178 years, this resort spa now called the Greenbrier Hotel and Cottages has been saturating our U. S. presidents with mineral waters and smoothing their crinkled brows with mountain balm and sunbeams.

George Washington never slept here, alas. But since the 1830s, when Andrew Jackson first sniffed the stale-eggy-smell of the reviving sulphur water, 14 presidents have made this a retreat.

Ike is perhaps fondest of all of the "Little White House," which stands like a miniature mansion, proud and pillared, at the end of one wing of the plush, fancy Greenbrier Hotel.

NEAR CADDIE SHOP

It must be comforting and inspiring to him to realize that his conference room is a mere 1,000 years frm the caddie shop.

So, whereas the other 13 chief executives have come to West Virginny for serenity (and one, John Tyler, for a honeymoon)—Ike even holds government conferences here.

Getting into the Little White House, when it isn't being occupied by a president, is like getting a ticket to "My Fair Lady," Broadway's hit musical. You must either have money (it rents for $250 a day, European plan) or know the right people.

I know from nothing about money but I know Pat Ventura, the doll-like press attache for the Greenbrier. "Come on, I think it's safe," she whispered in reverent tones, and opened the spotless white door with all the zeal of Bluebeard's luckiest wife.

* * *

Confronting us were the 16 high-ceilinged, elegantly furnished, cool and soundless rooms. Each with a private telephone, and most with crystal chandeliers and wood-burning fireplaces.

It is a two-story hideaway, with the sumptuous layers connected by a great circular staircase. Giant bowls of flowers were everywhere, even on the stainless steel dishwashers in the kitchen.

The settees and chairs would be the lush delight of naughty dogs, and the beds, a pair in each bedroom—were dramatically four posted.

There were powder rooms in pale pink, parlors that bounced with splashy flowered wallpaper, splendid antique desks, and large realistic portrait of Eisenhower in the book-lined study.

Miss Ventura would not (she said she could not) reveal in which of the couple dozen "Little White House" beds Ike recently slept.

But whichever one it was, I can assure from personal bouncing experience—that it was soothing to the backaches, headaches and heartaches that are the special possessions of a U. S. president.

Plan Diocesan Center

DETROIT (AP) — Parishioners of St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral have approved plans for a $500,000 building to serve as an enlarged parish house and as the diocesan office for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. The group also has voted to change the status of the church from a parish to a diocesan cathedral. Plans previously had been announced for a tower to top the 45-year-old stone structure.

Next Largest Diamond Would Be Skating Rink

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The reason the Jack Bennys, Claudette Colbert, Giselle MacKenzie, Forrest Tucker and Horace Sutton were half-blinded at Luchow's was Mrs. Ernie Byfield Jr.'s 60-carat diamond. Seeing her talking to Mrs. Al Streisin, I butted in and asked, "May I meet your diamond, please?" I was permitted to do so . . . and Mrs. Ellen Lehmann McCloskey, her friend, said to me, "The next size above this is a skating rink."

Ohio Refuses to Pay Extra Layoff Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compension says jobless Ohio residents cannot collect both state benefits and private supplemental benefits at the same time.

* * *

If unemployed Ohioans receive private layoff pay, the bureau said in a ruling issued yesterday, their State Unemployment Compensation will be reduced by the amount of the private benefits.

A number of plans, notably those in the auto industry, contain agreements between private firms and the United Auto Workers that provide the company pay unemployment benefits over and above State Unemployment Compensation. The first of the plans go into effect June 1.

Rural patrons, he said, are requested to use regular rural mailboxes, which should be painted white or silver with the name, box number and address in black letters.

Kefauver Hits Arms to Arabia

Says Munition Delivery Shows Poor Judgment by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said today a new shipment of military goods to Saudi Arabia shows that the Eisenhower administration "clings to a bankrupt foreign policy."

* * *

Kefauver, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, asserted this is true despite "a crying need for the United States to demonstrate imaginative leadership in lending its prestige to a peaceful solution of Middle East tensions."

He referred to a shipment which left Sunny Point, N.C., aboard the freighter Monterey late yesterday, carrying what the State Department said was less than a million dollars worth of goods for Saudi Arabia.

AMMUNITION CARGO

The Defense Department said the shipment comprised mainly ammunition and spare parts, and that the sale was approved last Aug. 25 along with an order for 18 M41 light tanks whose shipment in February stirred a furore.

The new shipment was confirmed by officials after the New York Post reported yesterday that a new cargo of military goods was being loaded at the North Carolina port. A Wilmington (N.C.) Shipping Co. official said Sunny Point is primarily an ammunition loading terminal.

"Once again," Kefauver said in a statement, "the Eisenhower administration has attempted to operate under a veil of secrecy in sending a shipment of munitions to Saudi Arabia which can only serve to further upset the precarious balance of arms in the Middle East."

Laughing Clerk Shot by Aggravated Robber

NEW YORK (AP)—A salesman happened to be in a heating and supply firm when a gunman entered and said:

"This is a stickup. Give me the money."

The salesman, Marion J. Rinaldi, laughed.

Infuriated, the bandit shot Rinaldi in the side, whacked a clerk over the head with his gun and escaped with a $5,000 payroll.

Only Moderate Vote Seen

Oregon's Write-in Winner Will Gain 16 Delegates

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Election officials today predicted only a moderate vote in Oregon's primary tomorrow despite extra lively contests in the Democratic presidential and Republican senatorial races.

* * *

It was strictly a guess, however, as to the number of Democrats who will take the trouble to pencil in their choice for president. Both Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee entered the state as write-in candidates.

16 DELEGATES

The winner will walk off with 16 delegates to the Democratic National Convention. More than that he is expected to gain a psychological lift for more important preferential primaries in Florida and California.

President Eisenhower is unchallenged for Oregon's 16 Republican delegates. A Portland attorney, John C. Veatch II, sent out letters yesterday urging Republicans to write in the name of former Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton for vice president. His last-minute move caused little stir.

Stevenson finished up his Oregon barnstorming yesterday. Kefauver, who interrupted his campaigning to fly to Washington on Senate business, was due back today for his last stand.

Republicans will be attracted to the polls mainly by an unusually active fight for the party nomination to oppose Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse's re-election in the fall.

* * *

It's between former Secretary of the Interior Douglas C. McKay, who resigned his Cabinet job with Eisenhower's blessing to run in the primary, and Phil Hitchcock, Portland church leader and former state senator.

Solution to Crime Lies With School, Home—Judge

Noting the high incidence of criminal cases involving persons in the 17-22 age bracket, Judge Clark J. Adams of the Oakland County Circuit Court told a Pontiac Lions Club audience yesterday that the solution lies with parents and schools.

Broken homes, one cause cited by the judge, could be prevented by counseling parents, he said. Schools have a challenge in preventing "drop-outs" by making courses more interesting, he added, pointing out that leaving school at an early age often inclines the teenager to criminal activities.

Another major factor, he said, is providing more recreational facilities. Finally, the judge observed, mature people are needed to counsel youngsters during the growing-up process.

Admas pointed out that 75 per cent of the offenders brought before the court are in the 17-22 age group and almost all come from broken homes. Ninety per cent of first offenders placed on probation do not return, he concluded.

State Iron Workers Accept Strike Terms

DETROIT (AP) — Some 2,000 iron workers have ended an eight day strike which slowed structural steel work on dozens of major construction projects in the eastern half of the Lower Peninsula.

* * *

The dispute ended yesterday with agreement on a two-year contract between Iron Workers Local 25 and the Steel and Metal Erectors Assn. of Michigan.

Terms of the new pact, which runs to April 30, 1958, were not disclosed. A union spokesman said the strikers would not go back to work until they vote on ratifying the contract Monday.

The management association represents about 37 companies which do structural steel work.

Meeting of Earth, Mars Foreseen

WASHINGTON—Earth and Mars are swinging through space toward their nearest meeting of mid-century, as astronomers adapt new instruments to answer old and perplexing puzzles.

* * *

Do "canals" actually crisscross the red and green planet? If so, what are they? Does life of any sort exist there? Why has Martian geography been changing?

The National Geographic Society and the Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Arizona, have announced that the veteran astronomer, Dr. E. C. Slipher, will return this spring to Bloemefontein, South Africa, for the second six-month exploration of the face of Mars in three years.

Dr. Slipher's Mars Expedition again will use the University of Michigan's 27-inch refracting telescope, largest in the Southern Hemisphere, at Lamont-Hussey Observatory near Bloemfontein, capital of the Orange Free State. There Mars will appear almost overhead each night during its close approach. The "seeing" through clear skies of Africa's winter will be as good as anywhere on earth.

The neighboring planet will reach its closest point September 7—about 35,300,000 miles away. On September 10, Earth, Mars and the sun will be in opposition, or exactly in line.

Adding to 20,000 photographs of Mars taken in 1954 from the same location, the Martian study will be the most extensive ever attempted.

FOLLOWS LOPSIDED PATH

As Earth's neighbor next farthest away in distance from the sun, Mars follows a lopsided orbit that takes 687 days for each circuit. It thus reaches opposition once every two earth years. Because its orbit is eccentric, it passes at varying distances, from a maximum of 62,900,000 miles to a minimum of 34,600,000 miles.

Mars is the only member of the solar system whose entire surface astronomers can see. Unlike the moon, the red planet rotates so that all of it is visible. It turns on its axis once every 24 hours and 37 minutes.

Half the diameter of Earth, Mars has a correspondingly weaker gravity—a 200-pound human would weigh only 74 pounds there. Its atmosphere is thinner; pressure at the surface is less than at the top of Mt. Everest.

LIFE ON MARS

Man has long been fascinated by the possibility of life on Mars. Only the lowest forms of plant life, however, are now thought probable.

From photographs made in 1954, an entirely new blue-green region was discovered by Dr. Slipher, covering approximately 200,000 square miles or a little less than the size of Texas. It represented the greatest change in Martian geography in 125 years, since the planet first was mapped.

"Such green areas testify that Mars is not a dead world," Dr. Slipher believes. "Life of some sort exists there. If this were not so, the winds of Mars would long ago have scattered the dust and sands everywhere, rendering the whole surface the same uniform tint."

CALLED THEM 'CANALI'

In 1877 an Italian astronomer, G. Schiaparelli, discovered faint lines on Mars. He named them canali, or "channels".

Many people, however, assumed that he meant canals, giant ditches dug by intelligent beings to irrigate their bone-dry world. Other astronomers saw Schiaparelli's lines, and Professor Percival Lowell founded Lowell Observatory in Flagstaff and spent his lifetime studying the thin long, gridlike markings.

Most scientists now agree on the existence of this strange network interlacing green areas and desert regions as well. Many theories have been advanced to explain the canals. To Dr. Slipher and his colleagues, they strongly suggest strips of vegetation, 50-mile-wide bands of plant life.

Big Export Potential

NEW YORK — In an emergency the United States could supply the owrld market with almost all the commodities usually exported by the United Kingdom, Germany, France, and half a dozen other industrially developed countries, according to a new study by the Twentieth Century Fund.

Blaming "mischievous speculation" in foodstuffs, the East Bengal government, in Pakistan, has ordered full-scale food rationing.

Cypriots Farm in Ancient Ways

Country Folks Employ Old Methods of Greek in Simple Way of Life

WASHINGTON — Outside the troubled cities of Cyprus, off the main roads, dwell people who still cling to ways of life many thousands of years old.

Beside gnarled olive groves, oxen drag wooden sleds around threshing floors of hand-hewn stone. Men in homespun winnow grain by tossing it against the wind with wooden forks. In quiet fields, farmers and their womenfolk harvest wheat with hand-swung sickles.

A Greek of the Golden Age of Pericles would feel at home amid the mountain villages and small farms of Cyprus in 1956, the National Geographic Society says — if he overlooked the ripping-cloth sound of jet planes patrolling the island's sun-filled skies.

Of the half-million people of Britain's Mediterranean hotspot, four of every five are Greek in heritage, language, and religion. Their traditions survive from ancient times. So, too, do the customs of 80,000-odd islanders of Turkish descent.

CITY GONE MODERN

About 13 per cent of all Cypriots earn their bread directly from the land, most of them as independent farmers. Vineyards, growing the sweet, heavy wines that have been famous for centuries, support many more. In farm houses and cottages, home industries survive in time-honored simplicity: weaving, pottery, the raising of silkworms fed with leaves of the island's mulberry trees.

Nicosia, capital of Cyprus since A.D. 1200, stands in a circle of Crusader-Age walls. Nearby on the island's broad central plain are far older ruins of civilizations that flourished 5,000 years ago in the early Bronze Age. Yet in Nicosia can also be found European-style night clubs, glass-fronted shops, and late-model automobiles from American factories.

Rocked by earthquakes, battered by invading armies, sacked by conquerors again and again, Cyprus was first overwhelmed by Egyptian warriors about 1500 B.C. Nearly a dozen empires ruled it before the outpost island became a British dependency in 1878.

* * *

Byzantine church belfries and Moslem minarets stand side by side on the island today, linking East and West. Whirling dervishes and black-robed priests stride the streets. On this crossroads may turn the future peace of the eastern Mediterranean.

Solons Ponder Adoptions Bill

Find Criminal Elements Seeking Profits From Providing Babies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The counsel for a Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency says "criminal elements" seeking a profit are providing babies for adoption.

• • •

Ernest A. Mitler made the statement yesterday during a hearing which including testimony that fees ranging from $1,700 to $3,200 were asked from couples wanting to adopt children.

CONSIDERING BILL

Mitler said the Judiciary subcommittee has evidence that "a small group of lawyers in Chicago" has been operating on almost a nationwide basis. The group is considering a bill aimed at federal regulation of interstate adoptions.

• • •

Two young women whose identity was shielded by a wooden screen testified that Chicago attorney Gale L. Marcus had a hand in placing their babies. One, an unmarried mother, said she understood Marcus received $3,200 from the foster parents in New York. She said the attorney gave her $50.

DIDN'T GET MONEY

The other, who said her two children were not by her husband, said the children's father told her Marcus would arrange for the adoption and give her $600. She said she did not receive the money.

• • •

Marcus himself declined to discuss these or any other cases, saying to do so would violate the lawyer-client privilege. He also declined to say where he was last July when Mitler said the subcommittee tried unsuccessfully to summon him to a Chicago hearing.

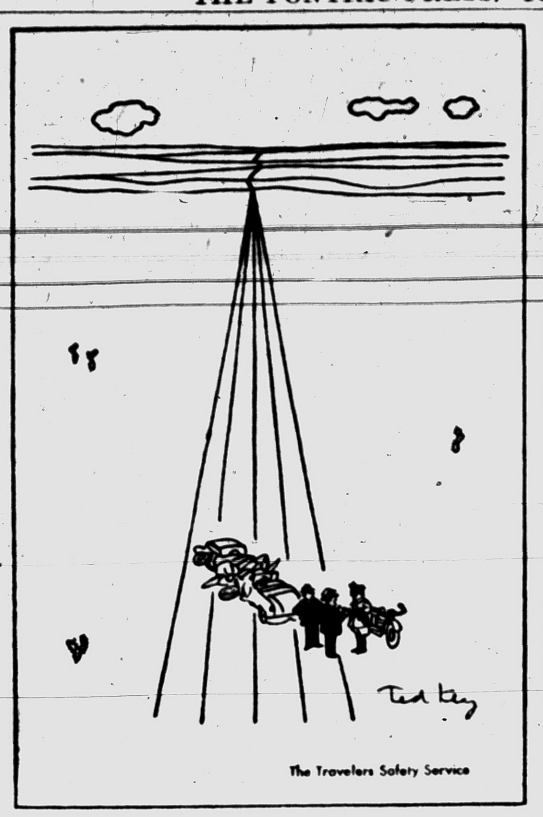

Bandit Right on Time; Repeats Performance

NEW YORK (AP)—Two months ago a red-haired gunman forced Kenneth Fagan, manager of a Woolworth store, back into his store after closing time and made him fork over $1,400 from a safe.

Last night Fagan was standing at the locked door of the store after closing. The red-haired gunman appeared again, produced a gun and said, "Let's do the same thing."

They did. This time the bandit got $900.

A new government stationery depot is being set up in New Delhi so there will be no shortage of red tape — files, memo pads and "Immediate" slips — in India's second five year plan, just starting.

"I was driving along minding my own business."

FTC Clears Fraud Counts of Battery Powder Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jess M. Ritchie was free today to sell his battery powder, AD-X2, without government interference.

The Federal Trade Commission yesterday dismissed charges that Ritchie used false and misleading advertisements in claiming that his additive could put new life into jaded and listless storage batteries.

• • •

The FTC, which brought the original charges, agreed with its examiner, William L. Pack, that his additive could put new life into jaded and listless storage batteries.

The FTC, which brought the original charges, agreed with its examiner, William L. Pack, that lengthy cross-country hearings had failed to prove the charges.

8-YEAR FIGHT ENDS

That decision apparently was the final gun in an eight-year battle the Oakland, Calif. manufacturer and his firm, Pioneers, Inc., have waged with the government. Ritchie once claimed he had spent more than half a million dollars in the fight.

In Oakland, Ritchie said the decision now "is binding on all people. There is no place the government can take me to pettyfog me any more."

Ritchie's troubles began in 1948, and eventually involved three government agencies. Along the line Congress members and Secretary of Commerce Weeks took a hand in his behalf.

The Bureau of Standards tested AD-X2 and said it wouldn't benefit batteries. After that decision the post office prepared—then dropped—a fraud order which would have denied use of the mails to Pioneers, Inc., for advertising the powder.

• • •

The final round was with the FTC, which took over in 1954 to resolve the dispute. It accused Ritchie and Pioneers, Inc., of "false and misleading advertising," but ruled 4-0 yesterday, more than two years later, that the government had failed to prove its charges.

Park Name Changed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The City Commission has passed a resolution changing the name of Grand Rapids' Fulton Park to Veterans Memorial Park. Mayor Paul G. Goebel comments that the current drive to raise $55,000 for a World War I and II memorial in the park is about 30 per cent subscribed.

Seeks Repair of Fort

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — The Mackinaw City Chamber of Commerce has asked Gov. Williams and the Mackinac Island Commission for support in restoration of historic Ft. Michilimackinac. The structure was rebuilt in 1934 on the site of the original fort, the chamber noted, but now needs repair.

Jiffy-Made Meals Can Be Helpful

SOUP SHAKES — Soup Shakes are the cool and inviting beverage featured in this ready-in-a-hurry meal. Take your choice of four delicious flavors when you serve them with Onion Burgers and relish tray for good family eating.

Shed Some Weight by Giving Up Desserts

Are you one of the overweights who's resolved to "do something about it" but just can't face the thought of giving up desserts? Then there is comforting news for you—rennet-custard—the light, light dessert made with rennet powder and milk (medically recommended for even the strictest of low calorie diets) is your dish!

• • •

Each ½ cup portion of this delectable dessert contains only 130 calories when made with whole milk (90 calories when made with skim milk). One serving furnishes all the nutrients of milk and fewer calories than any other milk pudding on the market. That's because rennet-custards contain no starch. The rennet enzyme thickens the milk to its delicate custard-like consistency.

• • •

But, you say, "It's so bland, it's a child's dessert." Not at all! Just try vanilla flavored rennet-custard sparked with almond or peppermint extract—or add a dash of rum, brandy, or sherry—"not bland" but "grand" you'll say enthusiastically!

• • •

Rennet powder comes in seven natural flavors—4 fruit flavors—lemon, orange, strawberry and raspberry, as well as vanilla, chocolate and maple. Any or all of these will delight your palate, fortify you in your diet resolution and leave you with that righteous feeling that comes from knowing what's good is also good for you.

Spring Asparagus Teams With Biscuit

Tender spring asparagus makes a tempting luncheon dish when you serve it with Biscuits a la Goldenrod.

To the dry ingredients of your favorite biscuit recipe using 2 cups of enriched flour, add 1 teaspoon crumbled thyme. Roll out the biscuit dough three-fourths inch thick into a rectangular sheet, 4x10 inches. With a sharp knife or pastry cutter, cut into four rectangles, 2x5 inches.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450) 12 to 15 minutes. Split lengthwise.

Cook 1 pound of asparagus. Lay stalks of cooked asparagus lengthwise on one-half of split biscuit and slices of hard-cooked egg on other half.

• • •

Pour a tangy mustard sauce over biscuits. Sprinkle grated hard-cooked egg yolks over sauce.

Try Relish on Beef Roast

If there are a few slices of beef roast remaining after dinner, plan to serve them with a savory sauce. Here is a tangy relish sauce for roast beef. The piquant flavor of the relish-mustard combination is tasty accent for the beef. The base of this recipe is a white sauce.

Relish Sauce for Beef Slices
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups bouillon
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat and blend in flour. Pour in bouillon and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Stir in relish and mustard; add meat slices. Continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Season with salt and pepper, if necessary. 4 to 6 servings.

A light brown onion gravy is another sauce to serve with the slices of beef. This recipe calls for either some of the leftover beef gravy or some bouillon or meat stock. It is quickly prepared.

Onion Gravy For Beef Slices
4 medium onions, coarsely chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups bouillon or leftover gravy
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Over low heat, saute onions in a saucepan in butter until soft and transparent. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Pour in liquid and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Add meat and continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. 4 to 6 servings.

Make Exotic Sauce

For an exotic sauce thats just right with rice and other cereal dishes, mix together 1 can tomato soup and 1 family-size can deviled ham. For an exotic touch add one-quarter cup minced black olives. The sauce has a dress-up effect that conceals its economy.

Wonderful Boon to Homemakers

Soup Shakes and Nogs; Nutmeg, Cloves Handy as Last Minute Snacks

Mix-in-a-minute meals are a boon to busy homemakers. Whether you're caught wondering at eleven o'clock what to serve for lunch, or unexpected guests drop in at the last minute, it's wonderful to be able to count on something extra-good and extra-easy.

On the beverage side of the menu, there are two new drinks making a good showing these days—Soup Shakes and Soup Nogs! If you've ever tasted smooth, creamy vichyssoise, you know how good cold soup tastes on a warm day. Then why not whip up a frosty-cool, drinkable soup in any of four other wonderful flavors? Simply open a can of chilled tomato, cream of chicken, cream of celery or cream of mushroom soup and add a can of milk or water. (To make Soup Nogs, include two unbeaten eggs.) Mix to a froth in a shaker, electric mixer or blender, or beat together in a bowl. Serve and sip in tall glasses!

If you have a particular yen for the flavor of cinnamon, nutmeg or cloves, a dash of any one of these makes "souper" drinks even better. Or try the tangy sharpness of grated lemon, orange or lime, or the subtlety of a tiny sprinkling of herbs. Drinks will look extra-pretty, too, garnished with a spray of mint or watercress, or a dusting of paprika.

Try combining two different kinds of soup for a shake or nog. Tomato and green pea are good soup mates, and so are cream of chicken with cream of mushroom. There are lots of combinations that are fun to try and that have unusual—and unusually good—flavor.

Here's a recipe you can transform into a delicious main dish on short notice. Serve these Onion Burgers with crisp relishes.

Onion Burgers
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons flour
1 can onion soup

Brown beef in a heavy skillet, stirring to separate meat particles. Sprinkle flour over meat, stir until well mixed. Add onion soup. Cook until thoroughly heated and slightly thickened. Makes enough filling for eight buns.

Use Creative Instinct in Making Appetizers

Do-it-yourself is here to stay, and if you're not handy with hammer and paint, the kitchen is your best bet! You don't even have to be a culinary whiz to let your creative instinct go in the appetizer department.

For instance, you might start out with a family-size can of deviled ham blended with a package of cream cheese. A small jar of smoky cheese spread could be added, along with pepper, perhaps a bit of horseradish and minced parsley. Fine with crackers!

Or thin the mixture with cream, sour cream or milk to dunking consistency. With a base of zesty deviled ham and cream cheese, plus various seasonings, it's easy to create your very own dips or spreads.

Four-Slice Toaster Ideal for Growing U. S. Family

The growing American family has added another problem to the perennial early-morning jam outside the bathroom.

Newest bottleneck is the early-morning toast and jelly jam — and a survey by the Toastmaster Toast Institute indicates that homemakers might think as highly of a four-slice toaster as they do of having two bathrooms.

The Institute, seeking information on toasters, turned to newspaper, magazine, radio, and television editors for answers. Nearly 200 from across the nation gave their opinions in the survey.

A surprising 41 per cent answered they would be interested in buying a toaster that can accommodate more than three slices of bread at a time.

The Institute also reported:

—The chrome toaster retains its popularity, but there is a substantial feeling for color. Twenty-seven per sent of those who answered the question said they were interested in colored toasters that could be integrated with kitchen decor. (Answers to another question showed that yellow is the dominant kitchen color in 22 per cent of kitchens; white and green tie for second, with 16 per cent each; and pink is next, with 10 per cent.

—The vast majority of toaster owners is well satisfied with performance. Some respondents were displeased because their toasters wouldn't do things they are not designed to do (such as toasting French bread, English muffins, rolls).

—The average toaster has been in use 6.28 years, although many editors have owned their toasters 20 or more years, and one editor has owned hers 27 years.

• • •

—As for ease of cleaning, 97 per cent agreed that their toaster exteriors are easy to clean.

Apple Ring Recipe

Cook bacon until crisp, then cook apple rings in the bacon fat. Sprinkle the apple rings with confectioners' sugar and serve, along with the crisp bacon, with pancakes.

Here's a New Treat

Cut out tiny rounds from scraps of pie dough. Put a dollop (small) of anchovy paste, Roquefort cheese or grated cheddar cheese near the center of each; fold over, seal and bake. Serve with tomato juice.

Bumper Crop of Cabbage Highlights May Bargains

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You'll find lots of cabbage in your food store right now and all during the month of May. Down south where cabbage is grown for this season of the year they have had ideal weather conditions (imagine!). This means there is a bumper crop of cabbage.

Now if this big crop had occurred in Wisconsin or Michigan, says the U. S. Agricultural Marketing Service, it could be held in storage or made into kraut.

Southern cabbage is too tender to keep in storage. That means you and I benefit by low prices.

Cabbage should be solid and hard and heavy for its size. However, new cabbage is not so solid as the winter variety. One pound of cabbage will make about 3½ cups of shredded raw cabbage or 2½ cups of cooked cabbage.

Here's a different way of cooking cabbage. This comes from the above quoted Agricultural Marketing Service.

Hungarian Cabbage

Shred the cabbage and boil it in salted water just long enough to make cabbage tender. (Probably less time than you think.) Drain off the liquid and add a half cup of sour cream and a teaspoon of caraway seeds to each 3 cups of cabbage. Reheat before serving.

* * *

An easy supper casserole is found in the following recipe for a sausage-cabbage casserole.

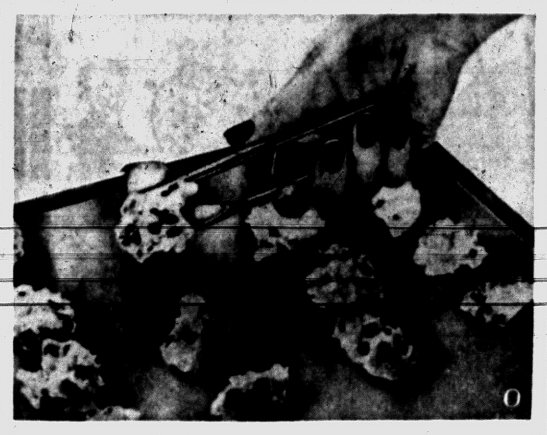

Line a casserole with slices of bacon. Place washed cabbage quarters on the bacon strips, add 1 small onion, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon black pepper and ½ cup bouillon. Top with pork sausages or several slices of bacon and place, covered in a 350-degree oven. Bake until cabbage is tender — about 1 hour.

Hot slaw is a nice old-fashioned salad and is always welcomed. Treat your family to some soon.

Hot Slaw

½ head cabbage
2 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup liquid in which cabbage is cooked
1 strip bacon
1 teaspoon flour
1 egg
1 teaspoon chopped pimento

Parboil cabbage in boiling salted water for 2 minutes. Drain and reserve the liquid. Mix sugar, salt, mustard and vinegar with ¼ cup of the liquid. Fry bacon until crisp and crumble into small bits. Blend the flour into bacon drippings and add vinegar mixture. Heat to boiling and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Beat egg in a cup and carefully add several spoonfuls of the hot sauce. Then stir the egg mixture into the balance of the sauce and cook until it just thickens. Pour the sauce over the cabbage which has been arranged in a serving dish. Sprinkle with the bacon and pimento and toss lightly. Serves 4.

COOKIE DROPPER—Quick and easy to use is the new cookie dropper, designed in stainless steel with no seams where dough can gather. Just a dip in the dough, a press on the dropper and cookies are on the baking sheet ready for the oven. It's inexpensive, easy to store and most useful.

Thicken a can of stewed tomatoes with a little cornstarch and serve as a sauce for fish fillets.

Pontiac Folks to Try New Type Detergent

Pontiac has been chosen by a well-known manufacturer for the introduction of a new type detergent. It comes in handy pint and quart cans.

This heavy-duty, blue liquid detergent for laundry is designed to act on every type of washable fabric. One-half cup of this concentrated liquid does the work of three times as much powder.

Even stubborn stains disappear when this liquid penetrates deep into fibers. It is safe for the most delicate fabrics. This new detergent has many other household uses in addition to washaday chores. It is called "the world's first all-purpose detergent."

Sauce for Ice Cream

Like a not-too-sweet chocolate sauce for ice cream? Melt a 6 ounce package of semi - sweet chocolate bits over hot water, then stir in a half cup of undiluted evaporated milk and serve warm.

Spaghetti Sauces

Spaghetti takes to other sauces besides tomato. It may be dressed, for instance, with olive oil, minced parsley, crushed garlic and grated Romano or Parmesan cheese.

QUICK BRAN BREADS — Quick breads are nice to have on hand for dainty tea sandwiches at any time. They are especially nice at this season when graduation and wedding activities include lots of afternoon affairs. Use one recipe and vary it several ways for an unusual quick bread.

the SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

"The lowly Hamburger takes on a different taste appeal, and is delicious when cooked this way," writes Mrs. W. A. Parsons, Wichita Eagle Chapter. For four DINNER SIZE HAMBURGERS:

1 pound ground beef
1 egg
¼ cup sweet milk
1¾ cups soft bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped onion
1¼ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon bacon fat

Mix all ingredients well, and form into four large patties. Lightly grease a skillet and brown patties on each side. Then reduce heat, cover tightly and cook ten minutes longer. Serve with mustard, barbecue sauce, or whatever. It is interesting to sprinkle a little blue cheese on top just before covering for the final cooking, too.

Crab Louis as done by Charlie, Captain in the Men's Bar at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York is a wonderfully popular dish. Charlie is really a wizard at this one, and he'll mix it right before your eyes. The ingredients are simple, and you may vary the proportions to suit yourself. The following, however, suits us right down to the ground. For three man-sized portions:

3 cups lump crabmeat
2 cups fine shredded lettuce
½ cup French dressing
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons tomato catsup
1½ teaspoons prepared horse-radish
1 teaspoon mayonnaise

The French dressing should be a simple one of oil, vinegar, salt and pepper, with a whiff of garlic or so. Vary proportions to suit the condition of catsup and horse-radish. The sauce should have something of a bite. Toss all gently but thoroughly—and there you are. A bit of salt and pepper may be added to your own taste, but Charlie doesn't.

Quick Dip. Almost everyone has encountered the dip made by mixing a package of dried onion soup with 2 cups of soured cream. We find it very good, but there are those who don't go for it too strongly. That includes some of our own family.

So we developed this change, which we like even better. Just mix one cup soured cream with two teaspoons of dried shredded white onion flakes and one teaspoon of a seasoned salt such as "Pate Beau Monde." Mix well and let refrigerate several hours to wed the flavors.

If a stiffer mixture is desired, add a softened three-ounce package of cream cheese, stir well, and increase the quantity of the seasonings to taste. This is fine with potato chips, or anywhere you would use a cheese cocktail dip.

Liver Into Rave Dish

Here is a magic potion to transform liver into a rave dish. Dust 1 pound of thinly sliced liver in one-quarter cup flour seasoned with one-half teaspoon salt and a dash of black pepper. Brown the liver in 2 tablespoons butter. Pour over top 1 can (1¼ cups) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms. Simmer about 15 minutes or until tender. Stir now and then.

Team this with baked potatoes and a green vegetable. For dessert, stewed spring rhubarb with a few gratings of orange rind and "boughten" cookies.

A cream soup and a jelly omelet, plus bread and butter of course, make a fine lunch for small fry.

Simmer beef knuckle in cold water with onion and seasonings. Add canned tomatoes, diced celery and carrots for a good soup.

June Means Party Time; Try These Bread Recipes

June is the traditional party month. Graduation parties, bridal showers, or receptions call for festive refreshments. Bran Flake Quick Bread sandwiches are easy to make yet have an elegant appearance. Use all three of the bran flake quick bread variations — orange nut, apricot nut, or banana — or select your favorite. Bran flakes, in addition to adding texture and flavor to quick breads, make important nutritional contributions of protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals, and food energy.

Bake the quick breads in the cool of the day on the previous day. These quick breads are "good keepers" if securely wrapped in saran. For the easy-to-make tea sandwiches, slice your favorite bran flake bread very thin. Make fancy shaped sandwiches using cream cheese, plain or with marmalade, as the filling. Decorate the top of the sandwich with a cream cheese rose.

Bran Flake Quick Breads are convenient and nutritious for other meals too. Bake an extra loaf of one or more of the variations and store in your freezer.

Research has demonstrated that breakfast is important. You will feel better, you will work better, you will be quicker in the late morning hours if you eat a basic breakfast. Who could resist this

BRAN FLAKE QUICK BREADS

Bran Flake Orange Nut Bread

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
⅓ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons grated orange rind
½ cup chopped nuts
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons melted fat
1 cup bran flakes

Turn into greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about 1 hour. Cool on rack 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Yield: 1 loaf.

Bran Flake Apricot Nut Bread

Follow recipe for Bran Flake Orange Nut Bread and change as follows: Soak 1 cup dried apricots 2 hours in cold water to cover; drain and cut into quarters. Omit orange rind; decrease salt to 1 teaspoon; substitute milk for orange juice; use Brazil nuts; increase fat to ¼ cup. Add apricots to mix with bran flakes. Prepare and bake as directed for Bran Flake Orange Nut Bread.

Banana Bran Flake Bread

Follow recipe for Bran Flake Orange Nut Bread and change as follows: Omit grated orange rind. Substitute 1-3 cup milk and 1½ cups mashed bananas for orange juice. Increase fat to ¼ cup. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Prepare and bake as directed for Bran Flake Orange Nut Bread.

Have Ground Beef Ready for All Dishes

Set your mind on ground beef, plentiful nowadays, and then plan your meal accordingly.

Old Fashioned Meat Ring complemented by buttered onions, green beans and whole kernel corn makes an excellent entree.

Chicken a la Ham

Moisten finely chopped chicken or ham with a little mayonnaise and season with finely-grated onion. Spread on rounds of cucumber, sprinkle with paprika and center with tiny sprigs of parsley. Nice with tomato juice when company's coming.

Fill canned peach halves with mincemeat and heat in the oven. Serve with roast loin of pork when you're having company.

Individual Coffee Cakes

Simple, Fun to Prepare Varieties of Chicken Salad

Top vote-getter among main dish salads is probably the chicken salad. Simplest version, of course, is cubed chicken, chopped celery, chopped hard-cooked egg, mayonnaise or salad dressing and necessary seasonings.

We vote for pickles in our chicken salad, however. And we think you will, too, once you've tried these tempting recipes.

The first is called Piquant Chicken Salad, for the chopped sweet pickles add just such a perky flavor note. For pickles to chop, you can use the whole sweets, gherkins, cross-cuts, sweet pickle sticks or sweet pickle tidbits. Or, if you like, you can use the economical and convenient sweet pickle relish. It's a fine chop, of course.

Piquant Chicken Salad

2 hardcooked eggs
3 cups cubed cooked chicken
2-3 cup chopped sweet pickles
1 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

From center of eggs, cut 3 or 4 slices and keep for garnish; chop remaining eggs. Mix chopped eggs lightly with next 6 ingredients. Mound on bed of lettuce. Garnish with egg slices and sprinkle with paprika. Makes 6 servings.

Waldorf chicken is a delightful variation of this salad. For the hard-cooked eggs, substitute ½ cup diced, unpeeled red apples. If the apples are sweet, add a bit more lemon juice.

Here's another chicken salad that will come out a winner on a warm summer day. It's called Almond Chicken Salad, and it combines tiny seedless grapes, candied dill strips and toasted almonds with the chicken. The candied dill strips, comparatively new on the market, are as crisp a pickle as you'll find. They follow the public's preference for a sweeter, less heavily spiced pickle. "Refreshing" is the word for candied dills. They are our choice of pickle for Almond Chicken Salad, although if you like a more pronounced flavor, you can substitute any of the sweet pickle varieties.

Almond Chicken Salad

3 cups cubed cooked chicken
½ cup chopped candied dill strips
½ cup blanched, quartered, toasted almonds
1-3 cup seedless white grapes
½ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons cider vinegar

Combine first 4 ingredients. Blend mayonnaise, salt and vinegar. Mix lightly with chicken mixture. Chill. Spoon into lettuce cups, garnish with watercress. Makes 4-6 servings.

Add small cinnamon candies to the syrup in which you are poaching apples.

Quick Hot Sandwiches Ease Pangs of Hunger

Does your family get hunger pangs at odd hours? These hot sandwiches are guaranteed to bring speedy relief. They're also quick to make when you're caught short for time and your family is pacing about like hungry tigers. Lightly toast 4 slices of bread (or 2 buns, split).

• • •

Blend the contents of 1 can (5-ounce size) boned chicken or turkey and one-quarter cup processed plain cheese spread; spoon on toast. Broil slowly until hot and bubbling. Served with your favorite beverage, these will probably result in your being sent back to make another four!

Pancake Treat

Thin tender pancakes may be filled with thick sweetened applesauce and rolled. Arrange the filled pancakes in a baking pan and heat in a moderate oven; serve at once with a topping of freshly-grated nutmeg wafted over a dollop of sour cream or whipped sweet cream.

Press Cookbook of 1936 Still Has Tasty Recipes

A few days ago Mrs. Gunery Hammitt brought us a copy of the Pontiac Press Cookbook, published in 1936. We had often heard of this book but never before had we seen a copy. We're grateful to Mrs. Hammitt.

It's been fun leafing through the recipes. Really, food doesn't change a great deal through the years. Probably the greatest difference would be in today's use of ready mixes and frozen foods.

Many of the contributors have since died. We do, however, recognize lots of the names. We wonder if they still use some of their favorite recipes.

Mrs. Andrew King had an interesting fish recipe for a luncheon main dish. Doesn't it sound good?

Fish Dish

1 can tuna fish
1 can shrimp
1 can lobster

Flake all fish and mix. Combine with a medium white sauce and heat. On top of each serving place a tablespoon of buttered chopped almonds.

* * *

When Mrs. Charles J. Barrett has company for dinner, does she still serve pork chops baked in the following manner?

Baked Chops

Use any number pork chops of medium thickness. Trim excessive fat from edges and dip in beaten egg until thoroughly covered. Roll in slightly crushed corn flakes.

Place in bottom of roaster and add about half a cup of hot water. Cover tightly and cook three quarters of an hour. Remove cover and brown on both sides. Season to taste.

If you have a shower coming up in your future entertainment plans —wedding, not rain!—try Mrs. Donald G. Strauss' recipe for Bride Salad.

Bride Salad

1 quart cabbage, shredded fine
1 small can pineapple, cut into tiny pieces
1 cup finely cut blanched almonds
3 cups marshmallows, quartered
1 apple, cut small
1 large cup white cherries

Soak cabbage in cold water for one hour. Drain perfectly dry and mix with other ingredients. Mix with the following dressing.

4 egg whites, beaten
¾ cup sugar
1 scant tablespoon flour
Juice of 3 lemons
4 tablespoons white vinegar

Cook until thick. When cool mix with one pint of whipped cream.

* * *

Young homemakers will vaguely remember depression days. They might be interested in a cookie recipe submitted in that time by Mrs. Viola C. Chapel.

Depression Cookies

2 cups bread crumbs
2 cups flour
1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg
2 eggs
1 teaspoon soda dissolved in 2 tablespoons boiling water
1 cup raisins
1 cup nutmeats

Salvé all crusts of bread and put in a pan in the oven until very dry. Leftover cake may also be used in the same way. Roll very fine with a rolling pin or run through a food grinder.

Mix in order given and drop on a well greased cookie sheet and bake in a 350-degree oven 15 minutes. This makes about 5 dozen cookies.

* * *

Miss Georgia Hoyt had a dessert recipe published in this book. Is it still on her list of favorites?

Vanilla Souffle

4 tablespoons butter
4 rounded tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
4 eggs
1 teaspoon vanille

Melt butter and stir in flour. Add sugar, milk and egg yolks, well beaten. Put on stove and let come to boiling point gently. Cool and add whites of eggs, beaten stiff.

Place in a buttered mold and bake 30 minutes at 400 degrees. Serve at once with a hard sauce.

Add Pineapple to Rice

Pineapple Rice to serve with Lamb Curry: Add a flavor condiment right to the curry platter by lightly tossing three-fourths cup of pineapple tidbits into 3 cups of fluffy steamed rice. One cup uncooked rice yields 3 cups of cooked rice.

Leftover Roast Beef Makes Tasty Hash

When roast beef is on the menu for Sunday dinner, use some of the leftover meat this way.

Baked Roast Beef Hash

1 package (12 ounces) frozen mashed potatoes
2 cups finely chopped roast beef (use knife for chopping)
¼ cup finely diced onion
Salt
Pepper
Butter or margarine
Paprika

Heat potatoes in double boiler according to package directions; mix with chopped beef, onion, salt and pepper to taste. Turn into 8½-inch glass pie plate; dot with butter; sprinkle with paprika. Heat in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until bubbling hot and top is browned—20 to 30 minutes. Serve at once with chili sauce. Makes 4 servings.

New Delicacies Added to Snack Time Menu

CHICAGO (INS) — Snack time — which can be anytime for the nation's TV viewers — will find you in the future reaching for the carrot chips, beet chips, lima bean and pea nuggets.

Word of the new delicacies came from Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson during a Chicago speech.

* * *

Benson said research is developing the new TV-time snacks as part of the government's program to find markets for farm surpluses.

Bacon Combines Well With Main Dish Foods

When it comes to main dishes, there is almost no limit to the kinds of foods that combine well with bacon. Add some raw chopped bacon to a meat loaf mixture. If you're making a casserole of rice, macaroni, noodles or spaghetti, put in a few pieces of raw bacon. Use bacon as a topping for spaghetti and meat sauce.

Even in bread: Add some bits of cooked bacon to your muffin batter or biscuit dough. It's wonderful added to cornbread. And if you like bacon alongside pancakes and waffles, next time put it right in the batter to cook at the same time as the waffles or cakes.

Meat of All Kinds on Reasonable List Says Marketing Information Agent

This is a time of meat plenty! Although pork, lamb, and some beef cuts advanced in price this week there are many good values to satisfy the family's appetite. Forequarter cuts of veal and beef, bacon, and fryers will provide variety for main dishes says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

MEATS—The quality of veal in today's market is good with shoulder roasts or shoulder chops among the thrifty cuts. Braising, panfrying, and stewing are excellent ways to cook veal, since it contains little fat. Sour cream, herbs, and wine sauces add much to the delicate natural flavor of veal.

Short ribs, chuck roasts, and ground meat are not as much in demand as steaks and roasts and are priced accordingly. There is a lot of good eating from thrifty short ribs. Cut from the ends of rib roasts and from the plate, they contain layers of lean and fat with the flat rib bone. Braising with a little water, bouillon, or a sauce is the best way of cooking them.

Versatility plus tantalizing aroma-flavor, and just about the lowest price in several years makes bacon a favorite. Mrs. Homemaker will find special values in thick sliced bacon at many pork counters.

Supplies of broiler-fryers are priced attractively for the food shopper, since production is about a third larger than last year. There is about a 20 cent per pound difference in fryers depending upon size, quality, and whether they are cut up or whole.

In some cases, chicken pieces may be a better value than the whole birds. Prices are comparable, and the customer can choose the exact kind and number of pieces he desires.

VEGETABLES—Cabbage is king among the vegtetables as large supplies are shipped from South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama. Prices are right for every purse. There is a foretaste of summer in the corn-on-the-cob now selling at about 5 to 10 cents an ear.

Shoppers may find head lettuce slightly higher, but good quality is still easily found by choosing heavy heads that are crisp and cold. Potatoes in the market basket means economical eating. Count on three average servings from one pound. Although some potatoes are about a cent more per pound than last week, they remain one of the best vegetable buys.

Rains have had an effect on quality and price of green beans, peas, dry onions, cucumbers, and vine-ripened tomatoes. To off-set this, there is an improvement in the quality of many of the green peppers, green onions, and greenhouse tomatoes.

FRUITS—It's strawberry time in Tennessee and Arkansas, so Michigan shoppers have them too, at about 39 to 49 cents a quart. When buying fresh strawberries, beware of stained boxes. Stains may indicate that berries were overripe when picked, or have been crushed in handling. Bruised berries will spoil more quickly and easily.

Good quality bananas at less than 20 cents a pound, and the larger 8 or 9 size pineapple at about 33 to 49 cents each make fruit dessert or salad a family favorite. Canned red tart cherries, at little cost, add eye and flavor appeal to any meal.

EGGS—Cool weather has helped keep high egg quality on the farms, and refrigerated cases maintain quality in the store. Follow through by getting them into the home refrigerator as quickly as possible after leaving the grocer's. Shoppers will find the large size the best value, and in some stores eggs will be a few pennies more per dozen this week.

Deviled Ham Spices Foods

Even if you're an expert on herbs and how to use them, you'll welcome the ease with which you can spice simply everyday foods by adding a fillip of deviled ham. No opening of many little containers, no hit-or-miss measuring, because the imported spices are meticulously balanced not only to enhance the flavor of the deviled ham but to blend subtly and graciously with other foods.

• • •

Everyone has her own basic recipe for family favorites, but the day arrives when "familiarity breeds contempt" and the old standby needs a new personality. For instance, your usual cheese rabbit can suddenly seem too bland. Try this new recipe adding a family size can of deviled ham . . . the familiar dish will receive a gourmet ovation:

Deviled Cheese Rabbit

1 1-pound jar process cheese spread
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Pinch cayenne
1 family size (4½ ounce can) deviled ham

Combine all ingredients in saucepan and heat. When hot and blended serve in individual casseroles set on warmers. Have plenty of crusty french bread or cut-up hard rolls for dipping. Extra spoonfuls deviled ham may be added to each serving if desired. Makes 3-4 meal-size servings.

Wine may be used in place of milk if real fondue flavor is desired.

Frozen Green Beans Take to Fancy Trims

Frozen green beans take to fancy trimmings. Cook them according to package directions and top them with slivered almonds browned in butter. Or mix the cooked beans with sliced mushrooms and thin slivers of onion lightly fried in butter.

Or add strips of canned pimiento, and thin crescents of raw celery to the cooked beans for both flavor and texture contrast. Or chill them, after they are cooked, and marinate in a tangy French dressing; serve on salad greens.

RINONES CRIOLLOS — Honest, that's the name of this recipe. It means "mushroom and kidney stew" in Argentina. Serve it in a rice ring, and it will spell eating pleasure in any language. Incidentally, rice rings are a good way to dress up many meat dishes.

Latin Version of Kidney Stew

Mushroom and kidney stew is called "Rinones Criollos" down south in Argentina. It sounds like good eating in any language.

Kidneys are not used so much as their goodness warrants. They are usually an inexpensive meat and are especially nutritious, as all organ meats are. Try this recipe on your family.

Rinones Criollos

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ green pepper, chopped
1 minced onion (medium)
1 beef kidney deveined and sliced
1 tablespoon flour
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 8½-ounce can peas and carrots with liquid
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
1 14-ounce can sliced mushrooms with liquid

In butter or margarine in skillet saute green pepper and onion until tender. Add kidney (soak kidney in cold salt water for one-half hour before using).

When kidney slices are nicely browned sprinkle on flour. Stir in tomatoes and peas and carrots with liquid. Add salt and pepper and bay leaf.

Cover and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Add sliced mushrooms and liquid; cook two minutes longer. Serve in steamed rice ring. Four to six servings.

Dessert Muffins Flavored With Lemon, Mace

These sweet muffins serve as a hearty dessert.

Lemon Mace Muffins

2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon mace
1 egg
¼ cup milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine melted
Lemon topping

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and mace onto a piece of paper.

Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; add milk and beat again to combine; stir in melted butter. Add sifted dry ingredients; beat just until smooth.

Fill buttered muffin pans two-thirds full. Sprinkle with Lemon Topping. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in the center of a few muffins comes out clean. Makes 12 medium-sized muffins.

Note: To make Lemon Topping, mix together 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind, one-fourth cup sugar and 2 tablespoons finely chopped

Cheese Souffle Hat

Want your cheese souffle to have a top hat? Before putting it in the oven, mark a circle over the surface about one inch from the rim of the baking dish with the tip of a spoon. Don't worry if the circle doesn't seem to stay put before baking.

Pastry Squares Hold Flavorful Blue Cheese

Make up a batch of your absolutely flaky rich pastry. Cut small squares out of it with a pastry wheel. Put a dab of blue cheese on each square and fold over.

Seal edges together with the tines of a fork. Bake in a hot oven. Wonderful with a tomato juice cocktail.

Try 'Pork Lift' to Tempt Family

Ever hear of a "pork lift?" The Department of Agriculture suggests you can have one at home. The name comes from some community-side sales promotion efforts in a good many cities and towns of the Midwest during the past winter and early spring, when pork was was so plentiful and so cheap.

* * *

Your private "pork lift" will be a little different, putting the emphasis on a "lift" in taste, aroma, and your family's interest in good things to eat.

The Department of Agriculture says that, although the peak of pork supplies has come and gone, we still have 10 to 15 million pounds more pork each week than we had at this time last year, and the abundant supply promises to continue for some time.

So there's plenty of pork to provide a foundation for this pork lift in your own kitchen.

The other items you'll need are spices, herbs, onions, tomatoes and sauces, plus your own imagination.

Here are a few hints to start: Suppose you're going to serve your family with roast pork. Rub the roast with ground sage before you put it in the oven. Another time, use cloves, rubbed over the roast or perhaps a few stuck into the meat.

If you're have pork spareribs, barbecue them with a sauce made from catsup, onions, Worcestershire sauce. Almost any cookbook will give you a good recipe for barbecue sauce, and you may follow it to the letter or improvise around it.

Some people like celery seed or caraway seed instead of a barbecue sauce on sparribs.

With those suggestions to get started, you take it from there.

Different Models Means Different Roast Control

The foolproof automatic roast control, which takes the guesswork out of roasting, differs says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Assn. in appearance in the different makes, but the principle is the same. It does away with the necessity of mental arithmetic, as you no longer need figure out how long to cook the meat or poultry according to its weight and the degree of "doneness" desired.

All you do now is stick a probe into the meat, set the dial mounted on the back of the instrument to "rare," "well-done" or somewhere in between, according to your personal taste — and that's it.

ROLLED RUMP ROAST — Select top quality beef rump roast for oven cooking. Accompany this easily carved, boned and rolled rump roast with potatoes and carrots. Cook the vegetables with the meat during the last 30 minutes of roasting time. Serve with brown gravy made from the drippings, and crusty slices of French bread.

Tired of Same Old Dinner? Try Rump Roast Beef Dish

Towering high on the list of food favorites of many people is beef. Last year we ate more beef than any other meat and we'll probably do the same this year.

It's not surprising that one of the popular beef cuts is the roast; it has luscious meat flavor, it can be cooked to the doneness preferred, and it carves well. In this time of plentiful beef, select a high quality beef rump roast for dinner. Ordinarily rump roast is cooked in moist heat, braised, to assure tenderness, but with the heavy beef available now, high quality rump can be roasted in the oven.

To determine if the meat you buy is of high quality, don't hesitate to confer with your meat man. He will tell you that this meat can be identified by its even streaks of fat throughout the lean or its "marbling," the nice protective layer of fat on the outside of the lean, and the white to creamy color of the fat. If bones are showing, their cut ends should be red.

For a rolled rump roast, the meat man has removed the bone and tied the meat in one compact piece; it is easy to carve when cooked.

How To Roast

Place the roast on a rack in a shallow pan. There is no need to add water, to cover, or to baste the meat during cooking. The fat covering bastes the meat as it cooks, and since this is a tender, natural juicy meat, it needs no water or lid. If you have a meat thermometer, insert it in the center of the meat.

Cook a beef rump roast in a 325 degree oven 30 minutes per pound for medium done. If the meat is boned and rolled, roast 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

The temperatures on the meat thermometer would read 140 degrees, rare; 160 degrees, medium; 170 degrees, well done. Let the roast stand out of the oven 15 or 20 minutes before starting to carve it.

Make Cheese Puff for Hearty Lunch

A friend served us this dish at lunch many years ago—it's been a favorite in our family ever since.

Martha's Cheese Puff

6 slices (¼ inch thick) day old bread
½ pound cheddar cheese (grated medium fine)
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups milk

Remove crust from bread; cut each slice into quarters. Arrange half the pieces of bread in a heat-resistant, glass, deep pie plate (about 8½ inches).

Sprinkle with half the cheese. Cover with remaining bread and remaining cheese.

Beat eggs with salt, paprika, mustard and milk until combined. Pour over bread and cheese.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven about 45 minutes or until firm. Makes four to six servings.

Weight watching? You can have your cake and eat it, too, if you'll counterbalance that piece of dessert with an hour's brisk walk.

Garden Clubs Slate Tours Saturday and Sunday

Among the gardens open for tours Saturday and Sunday will be those at Turtle Lake Farms belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Green. Mrs. Green is pictured in the spacious garden overlooking Turtle Lake. The rock garden has a variety of plants including many kinds of primrose. Other features to be seen include the swimming pool which has New Orleans ironwork on the outside and is surrounded by Virginia flagstone.

Mrs. Louis C. Goad is pictured on the stone steps leading to one of the levels of the terrace at the Goad home on Lone Pine road. A point of interest for the tour is the lovely circular rose garden. Mrs. Goad showed members of the press the little creek winding through the beautifully landscaped lawns, and we anticipate that visitors touring will be as thrilled with the wild ducks which come there as we were.

The formal gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shugg on West Surrey road, Foxcroft, will be viewed Saturday and Sunday during the garden tour sponsored by the Bloomfield and Birmingham Branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association. The Shugg garden is a well-established one with many beautiful evergreens, flowering trees and shrubs. Those interested in landscaping will find much of interest there.

Several Homes Opened for Event

The Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association are sponsoring a joint garden tour Saturday and Sunday, from noon until 6 p.m.

• • •

This year, the groups are showing gardens as usual, but are adding other features as well. Because of the added interest in area people in building swimming pools, the Association has located several adjacent to the gardens. The public has been invited to inspect the different installations.

• • •

Another feature of the tour will be pieces of sculpture placed in gardens as well as in homes. An attraction new this year is the garden equipment display to be shown for the public at the J. C. Roberts home on Yarmouth road. Included in the display will be new tools, seeds, sprays and other equipment.

Birmingham committee women are Mrs. C. B. Harman, chairman; Mrs. Fred M. Harley, cochairman; and Mrs. Ralph Manuel and Mrs. Carman Adams. Hostesses are Mrs. Henry Beam, Mrs. John H. Lowry, Mrs. J. Reed Alexander, Mrs. Richard W. Burgis, Mrs. Hugh D. Backus and Mrs. W. C. Patterson.

• • •

Mrs. James I. Ford is chairman of the Bloomfield Hills tour assisted by hostesses Mrs. Lester Colman, Mrs. James R. Longwell, Mrs. John Cowen, Mrs. E. Goven Hill and Mrs. Albert Clark.

Other Bloomfield hostesses will be Mrs. E. S. Wellock, Mrs. Herman Searney, Mrs. Norman Frederick, Mrs. Louis Colombo Jr., Mrs. Russell Strickland, Mrs. George Goodwin, Mrs. L. R. Twyman, Mrs. Raymond Perring and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

On the Birmingham tour will be the home of the J. C. Roberts of Yarmouth road. Their garden, of informal design, will be featured. An art display and display of garden equipment will also be shown at their home. Two pools are next to the Roberts home, one at the home of the A. C. Buterbaughs of Tibury road and the A. V. Witbacks of North Cranbrook road.

• • •

Included also will be the garden of the A. G. Helgesons of Bradway boulevard. Their garden features an extensive tulip bed with a naturalized pool leading to back beds. The R. L. Shugg home on West Surrey road in Foxcroft is one with evergreens, flowering trees and shrubs, scaled for their ranch type home. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thom's garden also features evergreens and shrubs.

The Richard English home on Church street will be shown. Others will be the S. V. Norton home on West Lone Pine road, and the L. C. Goad home also on Lone Pine road and the Leslie H. Green home of Turtle Lake Farms.

Coat Color Makes the Difference

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS)—Satisfactory coat or suit shopping begins before you reach the store because a knowledge of fabrics, construction and other "marks of quality" will make the job easier.

• •

Helen Rocke, of the University, points out that suits and coats of good quality have many hidden values in materials, cuts and workmanship which justify a reasonable price.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

"If a garment seems higher priced than you think reasonable, ask why," Miss Rocke suggests. "It may be that the cloth is made of a scarce fiber or that the design is that of some famous designer. These are luxury items, and if you are looking for service in proportion to money spent you will not find it in these garments."

The home economist says coats and suits with best wearing values are in simply-designed classic styles. In the so-called dressmaker coats and suits, much of the coat goes into styling and less wear may be obtained for money spent.

The color of a coat or suit often makes the difference between a satisfactory or unsatisfactory purchase. You will want a color becoming to you and one that will match or harmonize with other garments in your wardrobe.

Miss Rocke also suggests that you read all tags and labels attached to the garment for facts about material and workmanship you cannot see or feel. And examine the firmness of buttonholes, pocket corners and other places that are subject to wear and strain.

Jewel Flowers Emulate Buds Seen in Nature

Taking a cue from a summer garden are jewel flowers, tinted in all the pale and vibrant hues of the blossoms they emulate. Tiny as new buds or full-blown in their beauty, they set an enchanting floral air at the neck, twined about the wrist or worn high to accent summer coiffures.

Doing double glamour duty are outsize spray earrings agleam with rhinestones to quiver in the hair and again on the ear.

Good Salesmen Believe in Product

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Too often, it seems to me, we think in stereotypes — the typical Harvard man, the typical Democrat, the typical grandmother.

• • •

But there are all kinds of Harvard men, and all kinds of Democrats, and all kinds of grandmothers.

Most of all, I think, we do this vocationally.

We decide against being a librarian, for example, because we picture a mousey, bookish type. But most librarians aren't like that at all.

Or we decide against the sales field, because we picture the salesman as an aggressive, wildly extroverted "operator" who would sell his mother down the river if there were enough money in it. But most salesmen aren't like that.

JIM'S PROBLEM

That was Jim B.'s problem.

Jim was a senior at college, and all his vocational advisers had suggested the sales field to him.

• • •

He couldn't quite see it, because, much though he liked people, he was not aggressive and didn't think he was the "sales type."

"I couldn't be ruthless," he told me, "and I couldn't sell a product I didn't believe in."

I pointed out to Jim that the best salesman in the world couldn't sell a product he doesn't believe in.

The thing to do is to make a list of products you do believe in, products you think are wonderful. The best salesman doesn't feel that he's unloading undesirable merchandise on a series of hapless victims.

The good salesman honestly believes that his product solves a real need and solves it better than any other product. And if you search your soul, you can find products about which you feel that way.

YOU'LL SUCCEED

Then, if you have the temperamental qualities needed for sales work, you'll be an enormous success and you'll love it.

• • •

With Jim, it turned out to be a certain food product. He really believed in it, and his enthusiasm was so great that, in the job interview, it transcended his lack of experience and got him the job. He's doing fine already, and the ceiling is unlimited.

If you're thinking of a job in the sales field, begin by making a list of the products or services that you really believe in.

You'll be able to sell them like mad and as one of my top salesmen friends says: "You honestly don't feel like you're selling!"

• • •

Also, I'll be glad to send you a list of good books in the sales field if you'll send me a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Michigan Conference of Congregationalists Held Here

Dr. Harold N. Skidmore Speaks at Church Parley

Dr. Harold N. Skidmore, president of the Michigan Conference of Congregational Christian churches reported Wednesday afternoon on the year's progress when he spoke before the group at the host church.

• • •

Churches of the denomination have increased their membership to show a net gain of 3,089 members in the state, the largest net gain made in Conference history. Three new churches were organized bringing total Congregational Christian membership to 75,282 in Michigan. Dr. Skidmore's report showed also a substantial increase in missionary and building fund giving.

He showed an enlarged program in both financial and sociological aid to college students, and a revised program of help to the youth and children to meet changing needs of the times.

Rev. Lillian S. Gregory speaking to the status of "Our Christian World Mission" at the morning session, emphasized the potential influence of missions around the world. "The sun never sets on Congregational Christian missions," she said. "They are far flung in location, widespread in the good they do.

"If we concern ourselves only with the needs of local churches we shall soon die," she declared. "The need for the public schools in our own country is said to be for a one-story building stretching from the Statue of Liberty to the Golden Gate. The need for churches and churches schools parallels that need," she concluded.

The Central M.E. church served the general luncheon at noon, with the Divinity Dames meeting in the Congregational Church.

Three hundred and fifty attended the dinner in the host church Wednesday evening. Dr. Harold Loesch, "chaplain to chaplains," as speaker emphasized the new challenge to the church through its youth who are serving in the military branches. He called the organized services the fourth most important educational force in the country, stating that the vocational, moral, spiritual and social training they offer our youth is unsurpassed.

"The 3,000,000 young men and women in the services have 2,500,000 dependents. All need the interest and help of the church. Only five out of every hundred young people in the armed forces ever hear from their local church," Dr. Loesch declared.

Wednesday's evening session was concerned with the memorial service, the serving of communion and the Conference sermon. Dr. Harold Towne of Traverse City speaking on "Anchors For An Age of Storm," said: "We live in a hurricane age. Our times are regarded as one of four greatest eras of crisis in world history.

"Four anchors can help us to keep to our course. These are, (1) a strong sense of mission, (2) a basic strong Christian belief, (3) a super abundant use of the force of prayer, (4) a sense of the indwelling presence of Christ."

A full schedule of events will occupy Conference members throughout Thursday.

• • •

Teachers participating in the program were Marguerite Ballard, Mrs. Carl Clifford, Mrs. Paul Colton, Mrs. Hazel Gessinger, Amy Hogle, Mrs. Walter Schmitz, Mrs. Oscar Schmidt, Mrs. Lester Snell, Elda Sutter and Charles Wilson.

Clothing Marks Character

Many of the items of clothing recommended for a teenager going for a job or school interview are not important for themselves.

They are important because they show the person doing the interviewing that the teener knows what's appropriate for an occasion.

Stockings are such an item. Certainly a school girl isn't expected to wear stockings all the time.

But a prospective employer or school likes to know that a young lady knows an important event when she sees it and can dress for it. Ankle socks are out on this occasion.

High-heeled pumps are not important. In fact, certain party shoes might be a very poor idea.

Neat, well-polished shoes that are appropriate with stockings are called for.

Gloves are important. You'll take them off right away, but they give a mature touch to any outfit, however simple.

The matter of a hat receives frequent consideration. A hat is important.

But one young lady who was told she must always wear a hat on such an occasion borrowed one that was so unbecoming that she would have been better off bareheaded.

A slick, clean head of hair will do if a hat seems impossible. It is certainly better than wearing your mother's hat. But a suitable, neat hat is an excellent idea.

Heed Cancer's Warning Signals

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some people feel that there has been so much publicity about cancer that a damaging mass hysteria has arisen. It is true that fear, and chronic concentration on any small physical disability, real or imagined, is detrimental to health.

• • •

Nevertheless thousands of lives are lost each year because men and women did not heed warning signals or were uninformed about them. This is especially true of women— cancers of the breast and uterus are their greatest hazards. These account for the largest majority of feminine cancer fatalities.

Women are fortunate in that the breasts and the uterus are easily examined. If a woman has regular semi-yearly medical examinations, is aware and observant about any unusual symptoms and reports them to her doctor immediately if they do occur, she cuts her likelihood of having fatal cancer tremendously.

Even in cancers of the breast and uterus the outlook is most hopeful if they are discovered soon enough.

• • •

A woman should have a thorough breast and uterus examination twice each year by her physician. She also should examine her own breasts after each menstrual period. It is difficult for a woman to tell whether or not her bust is normal at first, but after a few months' experience she will be better able to discover any changes.

The semi-yearly checkup by her doctor should be a matter of routine but she should immediately report any unusual symptoms to him. Just a few months can make a big difference.

You should report to your doctor immediately:

1. Any hard lump.
2. A change in breast contour.
3. Any puckering or dimpling of the skin.
4. Retraction of either or both nipples. (The nipple goes in rather than out).
5. Any discharge or bleeding from the nipple.
6. An "orange peel" appearance of the skin of the bust.
7. Elevation of the breast.

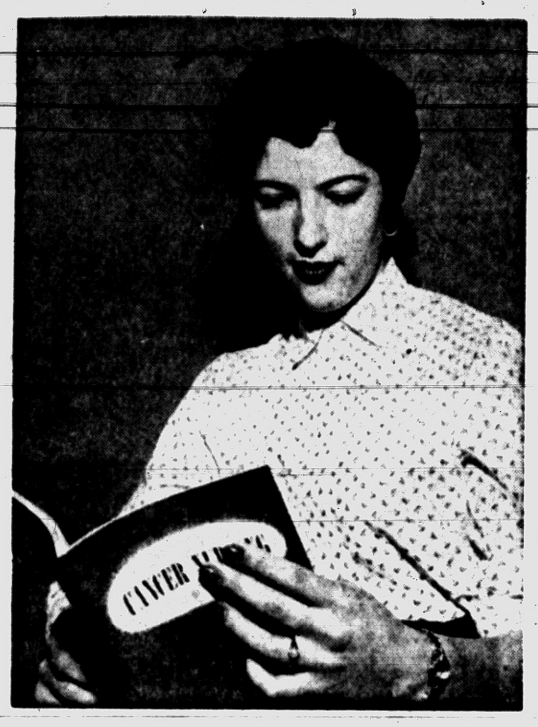

• • •

Most of these symptoms can come from harmless conditions but you owe it to yourself to check on any one of them immediately.

The American Cancer Society has volunteered to send a copy of its free pamphlet on breast examination to readers of this column. If you wish a copy of it send your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Light tones of green or peach go well with cherry woodwork. Yellows, tans and greens go well with oak or pine.

Wool Socks Used All Year Round

For sports and casual wear, a man will find slip-on moccasins, or shoes laced with one, two or three eyelets. In any case, the possibilities in colors and combinations of colors from the pale colors such as bamboo, pale smoke or maple to the richer tones of rocky tan, desert copper and butternut, will tempt him to team them with some of the more adventurous styles in shirts, slacks, ties and socks.

Speaking of socks, the modern male is becoming more and more aware of the many advantages in wearing all wool socks in the summertime. He knows that, contrary to the unfounded old wives' tale, wool socks are actually cooler — that they're porous and absorbent and, most important, that because of these qualities, they're essential to proper foot health.

Rough or broken wire on a bedspring should be repaired promptly to prevent damage to sheets and the tick on the mattress.

• • •

• • •

Bride Fears 'Crashers' at Reception

She May Provide Admission Cards With Invitations

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be writes me: "My wedding reception will be held in a hall. From the past experiences of some of my friends, there have been several so-called 'crashers' at these gatherings. In order to avoid this, would it be permissible to write 'No one will be admitted without this card' at the bottom of the reception invitations?"

Answer: As such cards seem necessary in your case, although not usual, it would not be improper. I would suggest engraving at the bottom of the reception card, "This card necessary for admission"—then you will have someone stationed at the door to the reception to admit only those with cards.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several months ago a young man came to work for the company that I work for. He is a very nice person and I have become quite fond of him and I believe he is fond of me too—at least his actions in the office seem to indicate this.

"However, he is a very reserved person and although I believe he would like to ask me to go out with him, he has never done so. May I take the initiative and invite him to a large dance that is being given by a club to which I belong?"

Answer: If it is a dance to which the girls are inviting the men, you may certainly invite him. But otherwise, no!

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to a wedding which will take place in two weeks. I have a very pretty white dress (ballerina length) which I had planned on wearing, but a friend tells me that it would be in very bad taste to wear white to a wedding. I have never heard of this and would like your opinion before buying another dress."

Answer: If the dress is all white with a full skirt, adding a colored sash or other colored accessory would make it all right. But if the entire costume is white, its effect would be questionable.

One spot of red in a costume is enough. If you've a red handbag, stay far away from red shoes.

'Anniversary Waltz' Is Theater's First Play

"Anniversary Waltz," a sparkling three-act comedy will be the opening presentation of the '56 season at Will-O-Way Playhouse beginning June 5 for a two week run.

It is the story of one man's rebellion against the encroachment of television on the routine of family life.

Anyone who has had trouble tearing junior away from any of the popular programs in time for dinner should appreciate this one man battle against the cyclopic monster.

Bill Merrill, director of the theater, announces that the Muses, Melpomene and Thalia, traditional masks of the theater that depict comedy and tragedy, will be separated for the coming season at Will-O-Way Playhouse.

The director feels that the fun-loving informal audiences that are attracted to the friendly atmosphere of the converted cider mill much prefer a chuckle to a tear, so the Muse depicting tragedy has been banished for the season.

Sorority Chapter Observes Founding

Luncheon Planned

Mrs. N. E. Baldwin is chairman of the Monday luncheon planned by the Pontiac Woman's Club. The 12:30 p.m. affair will be held at Rotunda Inn. Selections of poetry will be read by Mrs. Carmi Odell, home editor of The Pontiac Press.

Event Held for Mothers and Sons

One-hundred and sixty mothers and sons of Bethany Baptist Church attended their annual mother and son banquet Wednesday evening at the church.

Corsages were presented to Mrs. Glenford Haviland, the oldest mother present; Mrs. Jerry Starkweather, youngest mother attending, and Mrs. Clarence Smith, mother with the largest number of sons present. Mrs. Edward Lewis presented the corsages.

Robert Joyner served as master of ceremonies and led group singing accompanied by Ruth Ann Bandy. Phillip Worden entertained the group with several piano solos.

Dr. Maurice Thome conducted a "rumor clinic," with James Zuehlk, Robert Clapp, Michael Sickles, Craig Allen, Hugh Smith and Mrs. Thurley Allen acting as reporters. Dr. Thome stated that many persons and communities are injured by the circulation of false rumors.

Special recognition was given Reita Smith, Mrs. Howard Hess, Fred Gibson and James Webb.

Mrs. Earl Eddy and members of the Women's Society of the church prepared the dinner. Girls from the Junior and Senior Baptist Youth Fellowships served.

Spring garden flowers centered the tables. The invocation was given by the Rev. Fred R. Tiffany.

'Pale' Cotton Prints Favorites in Evening

Printed cottons, many in "pale" colors, are favorites for evening. In sheer voiles, they are featured for date frocks as well as for day dresses with Empire-inspired lines.

This important new high waistline treatment is usually accented with contrasting color to give it greater emphasis.

Beverly Wynne Honored

Politicians Ask Convention With Minimum of Horseplay, Hokum

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of both major political parties said today they hope to run off this year's national conventions with a minimum of horseplay and hokum.

• • •

They want to cut down on the incredible number of speeches and their interminable length. They want to put some limits on the manufactured mass frenzy that seizes a convention after every nominating speech. They want to abolish the public polling of individuals in state delegations.

All these, you understand, are hopes.

Four years ago, in similar attacks of hopefulness, both parties announced that because television time was precious every meeting would start on the dot.

• • •

The Result: Some meetings got airborne more than an hour late, and not one got away on time. All in all, plumb distressing.

But the Democratic national committeewoman from California, Mrs. Clara Shirpser, has told Rep. Jimmy Roosevelt (D-Calif) that she will try to get the Democratic convention to:

1. Limit demonstrations to 15 minutes, and bar parading in the aisles.

2. Invite each candidate who gets 15 per cent of the vote on the first ballot to appear in person and address the convention.

• • •

"It seems to me," Roosevelt told the House, "that this suggestion has a great many advantages, and few, if any, disadvantages."

SO, WHAT'S NEW?

Well, a check at both headquarters shows that nobody thinks the parties will go as far as Mrs. Shirpser, especially in inviting in the candidates.

As things now line up, the Republicans don't look as if they will be oversupplied with candidates, and everyone knows what Dwight D. Eisenhower looks like.

Quantitatively at least, the Democrats should be better off, but the thought of having a batch of leaders in for a speech didn't have much appeal to some. "Might be considered too theatrical," one Democrat said.

MONOTONOUS SPEIL

One plan that should meet with everyone's approval: Leaders in both parties are considering a scheme to send a clerk down to count a state delegation whenever an individual poll is demanded. While the clerk is counting, the rollcall of states would continue.

Here's a random bit of dialogue from the 1952 Democratic convention, just to refresh your memory.

Reading Clerk: "Rea Cress" (a delegate from Junction City, Kansas).

Cress: "Rea Cress, fourth district, casts one vote for Alben Barkley."

Clerk: "Rea Cress, one vote for Barkley."

• • •

A few hours of this, and even a sophisticated television viewer would begin to yearn for Howdy Doody, or possibly the midnight class B movie.

Although both parties hope to keep demonstrations in bounds, neither is expected to ban parading and hollering in the aisles. Nearly everyone agrees, though, that it's a strange way to say that your man is fit for the world's greatest political office.

• • •

"Look at it this way," one Democrat said. "Here's this little guy who has come all the way to Chicago to cast his little half vote. If he wants to put on a silly hat and prance up and down the aisles, why begrudge him this pleasure?"

Woman's Life in College Was Rough in the 1870s

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Today's women know men can be handled delicately — by continual attrition — until their resistance is gone.

• • •

But for the first coeds in the 1870s at the University of Michigan, it was almost as wearing on them as it was on the men who had to share college life for the first time.

In "The Inlander" of April 1896, Mrs. Marie Louise Walker Hall wrote of the trials and tribulations of the first women students. Her article from the carefully preserved copy of the women student's magazine is kept by the Michigan Historical Collections.

It was indeed a rough life—said Mrs. Hall, and the young ladies were sorely in need of encouragement.

"Not only did they all contend with prejudices but many of them with poverty also. One did her own cooking, washing and ironing, and even sawed the wood she burned."

And alas, there was no refuge—not even the chapel. Mrs. Hall told of an early Michigan graduate who recounted her first morning in chapel. She said:

"The young women were seated between two rival classes of men who employed the sacred hour in hurling hymn books and apple cores at each other over the girls heads."

Then there was the direct antagonism of the males. One young lady, the daughter of a judge, wrote to a prominent professor begging him to open the university to women. His reply was firm:

"My dear, be content to help your mother in the kitchen. That is the place for girls."

Mrs. Hall further relates the young lady then went to Philadelphia where she got the "best education then possible for women."

Having thus equipped herself, "She subsequently became the wife of a college president, a position she would never have obtained had she been content to stay in her mother's kitchen."

• • •

One instructor, Mrs. Hall wrote in exasperation, deliberately ignored the six young women in his class, addressing them as "gentlemen" and individually as "Mr. so-and-so."

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

Robinson-Olson Friday, Patterson-Jackson June 8, and Archie Moore moving in as a semi-finalist in September means an unusually active, if not devastatingly exciting, fistic season ahead.

★ ★ ★ ★

Taking first bouts first—no one, not even a battery of physical education majors equipped with strength tables and the latest patterns, can tell you exactly just what condition Bobo or Sugar is in.

You can measure a man through push-ups and time him with stop watches, but you cannot test his ability to absorb a punch. The brain ages and so do the reflexes. The will to keep on pitching leather while absorbing a terrific pounding sometimes evaporates.

I always thought Willie Pep could have continued the time he resigned in his corner and said his shoulder was out of whack. I had seen Pep carry on under greater handicaps. But that was when Willie was young.

An old pro—and Bobo and Ray are definitely in this category—will go just as far as he can and then if he sees nothing but defeat ahead and a possible damaging of his profile he will be inclined to chuck it.

The fight Friday could end in a dramatic knockout, as it did in Chicago with Bobo flopping on the canvas like a boated fish. Or it could end in a "sprain," a "dislocation" or some other type of TKO mish-mash.

★ ★ ★ ★

I'd be very surprised to see the two old pugs bashing each other, stepping around, jabbing, leading and countering right down to the wire. Fifteen rounds is a long, long route for two men who are not exactly Spartans in their approach to training grinds.

PATTERSON HAS BEEN DEVELOPED SLOWLY

Patterson-Jackson is another mystery bout with very little past performance chart to work on. Patterson has been brought along carefully, so cautiously it must bewilder the conscientious Cus D'Amato, the manager.

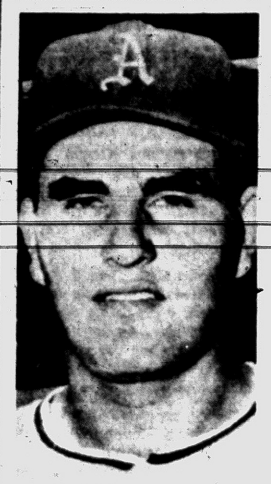

Cus finds himself criticized for maneuvering his man into a big money match with a minimum of wear and tear on the chassis.

Too many managers of late have been played alive for "rushing" their gladiators, "overmatching" them or being "greedy" and concerned with "makin' a buck" via a fat TV fee. Either way you take a typographical beating.

★ ★ ★ ★

You can't please all the critics all the time Gus has discovered as he finds his second guessers blithely sprinkling their little doses of cyanide over his masterpiece.

The only recommendation here is a more philosophical approach. Look upon brickbats as an occupational hazard, and continue to make money.

Cardinals Trade Virdon to Pittsburgh for Two Players

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today traded outfielder Bobby DelGreco and southpaw Dick Littlefield to the St. Louis Cardinals for outfielder Bill Virdon, 1955 rookie-of-the year in the National League. No cash was involved in the player swap.

It was the second major trade between the Pirates and the Cardinals within a week and the third for the Cardinals in six days, with Frank Lake juggling 11 players in the transactions.

The acquisition of Virdon gives the Pirates the sorely needed left-handed batting power. Virdon has been used only in relief this season, hitting only .206 in 68 times at bat. Last year he hit .281 and belted 18 homers.

The trade by the Pirates was the second in two days.

Bengals Still Stumbling, Lose 4-2

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are stumbling along in one of their worst starts in years, and manager Bucky Harris blames injuries and the weather for much of the difficulty.

"In all the years I've been managing," said Harris, "I've never seen a club so fouled up by injuries and bad weather."

Harris has been a manager since 1924, so a lot of experience goes into his thinking. Yesterday's 4-2 loss to the Boston Red Sox was the club's 16th in 25 starts. Frank Lary took the defeat, his 5th in six decisions.

"We've had some injuries that really hurt," said the Detroit pilot. "On the whole, they haven't been what you would call serious injuries — but they have kept players out for a few games here and a few games there. And some of the injuries have kept players from getting — or staying — in condition."

• • •

Yesterday's weather was more suitable for football than baseball. And that's the way it has been through most of the season. At game time yesterday the temperature was 40 degrees and a cold wind whipped in from the outfield at a 20-mile-an-hour clip.

"Normally the weather wouldn't have hurt us any more than any other club," said Harris. "But we have had some pitchers out with arm trouble, and some other players hurt from time to time. And the weather certainly doesn't help any toward healing."

The Tigers had the lead yesterday, but just for a couple of innings. Jack Phillips, playing at first base, slammed a home run against the wind in the first inning. Lary held the 1-0 lead until Boston came back with two runs in the 3rd on Frank Malzone's double that scored both runs.

• • • •

Boston and Detroit each scored once in the 5th the Sox on Mickey Vernon's double that scored Billy Goodman, and the Tigers on a single by Kuenn, a walk to Phillips and a single by Kaline.

• • •

Three singles by Dick Gernert, Jack Jensen and Jim Piersall wrapped up the scoring in the Boston 7th. Reliefers Frank Baumann and Tommy Hurd held the Tigers in check after Mel Parnell, the starter, was forced to leave after two innings. Parnell suffered a severe sprain in his left ankle when he slid into second base in the third.

Boo Consistently

Jersey Fans Prove to Be Anti-Dodgers

JERSEY CITY (AP)—Jersey City's baseball fans made it official today—they don't like the Brooklyn Dodgers any more than the Dodger players like to play here.

For some strange reason, the Jerseyits have not accepted the Dodgers as their "home" team despite Brooklyn's adoption of Roosevelt Stadium as its auxiliary home for seven games in each of the next three seasons.

• • •

The Dodgers have played two league games here so far, including last night's game against the St. Louis Cardinals. They've won both but both times they've heard more boos than cheers.

• • •

Why? No one seems to know for sure. Some say the Jersey City fans are natural Giant rooters. New York used to have an International League farm club here. Others say the people here are still smarting over the uncomplimentary remarks made by the Dodger players after Brooklyn's first game here against the Phillies back in April.

• • •

Whatever the reason, the plain truth is the Jersey City fans don't love the Dodgers. If it were not for their white uniforms and the fact that they had last turns at bat, a visitor would have trouble identifying them as the home team.

The crowd — 22,071 — saw Brooklyn beat St. Louis 5-3 last night—was definitely anti-Dodgers.

• • •

It booed the Brooklyn players and sent up a lusty cheer every time a Cardinal player hit safely or made a fine play in the field.

The biggest cheer went up when Wally Moon cracked a home run for St. Louis with two mates aboard in the third inning to give the Cards a 3-0 lead. The loudest boos were reserved for Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider.

ERASED AT THIRD — Third baseman Ray Boone of the Tigers puts the tag on Frank Malzone with the ball in his right hand. The Boston infielder was out when he tried to stretch a double into a triple while knocking in two runs in the 3rd inning of yesterday's game at Briggs Stadium. Umpire is Frank Umont. Boston won, 4-2.

Lions Sign Three Linemen to Pacts

DETROIT (AP) — Three more rookie linemen have signed 1956 contracts with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

They are John Burgamy, a guard from Georgia; Bob Chuoke, a guard from Houston and Bob Nunnery, a tackle from Louisiana State.

Burgamy was drafted in 1952 and Chuoke in 1953. Both have been in service. Nunnery was the Lion's 12th draft choice this year.

Bertoia Option Puts Brideweiser in Post

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Brideweaser, a 29-year-old infielder who couldn't make the grade with three other American League clubs, will get "every opportunity" to win the second base job with the Detroit Tigers.

• • •

The job became wide open again yesterday when the Tigers optioned out former bonus player Reno Bertoia to Charleston of the American Association on 24-hour recall.

Brideweser was obtained Tuesday along with Bob Kennedy from the Chicago White Sox in a straight player deal for Jim Delsing and Fred Hatfield.

"He'll have every opportunity to win the job," said manager Bucky Harris. "He'll start against Baltimore Thursday night and he'll have a chance to show us what he can do."

The spray-hitting Brideweser appeared in only 51 games over parts of three seasons with the New York Yankees. He couldn't break into the lineup as a regular, although his batting average was .327 over that period with 16 hits in 41 times at the plate.

With the Baltimore Orioles in 1954, Brideweser hit .265 in 73 games. With Chicago in 1955, his average was .207 in 34 games. In 11 at-bats this season, the Ohio-born infielder had two hits.

The Tigers cut their roster to the 25-man limit after yesterday's loss by sending catcher Walt Streuli and pitcher Bud Black along with Bertoia to the Charleston Senators of the American Association. Bertoia was sent down on 24-hour recall, the others were released outright.

In the meantime Harris didn't waste any time getting the newly acquired Kennedy into service. The 35-year-old veteran was installed in left field, and all in all, got off to a good start.

He singled in his first appearance as a Detroit player in the second inning, walked in the 4th and flied to center in the 6th before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the 8th. Kennedy had three putouts, but made a wild throw on Mickey Vernon's double to left in the 5th. It did not result in a score.

Eaglets Shut Out St. Mikes

St. Marys Nine Scores 4th Straight Victory in SCL Race

Behind the five-hit pitching of Tony Chojnowski, Orchard Lake St. Mary shut out St. Michael, 4-0, in a Suburban Catholic League baseball game Wednesday at Columbia-Joslyn.

• • •

It was the 4th consecutive victory for the Eaglets after three early-season losses. The setback ended St. Mike's season on a sour note as the Shamrocks posted a 2-6 record for 6th place in the league.

St. Mike outhit the Eaglets, 5 to 3, but couldn't push the runners home. Singles by Dan Dropps and Chuck Brown in the 7th stanza were wasted as Chojnowski slammed the door. The Eaglet hurler struck out four and walked one.

Joe Schultz was the victim of his own wildness. A single by Pete Madelans, two bases on balls, a hit batsman, and a passed ball handed the Eaglets three runs in the 3rd inning. A two-base error, a stolen base and Paul Franckowiak's single tallied the final run in the 5th frame.

Saxton TKO's Gil Turner

CHICAGO (AP)—A couple of new twists were added to boxing in Chicago last night.

George Katz, manager of Gil Turner, blew a fuse over Dr. Irving Slott of the Illinois Athletic Commission.

Welterweight champion Johnny Saxton declared that fans who boo him unwittingly give him new incentive.

"They make me work just that much harder to beat the guy I am fighting," he said.

The nationally televised Chicago Stadium non-title bout between Turner and Saxton ended abruptly at the start of the 10th and last round.

Slott, after the ninth, jumped into the ring to examine Turner, who was bleeding from a gashed eyebrow, cut nose and from inside the mouth. Turner was not allowed to continue on Slott's orders and Saxton gained a 10th-round TKO.

"Turner was bleeding excessively from the throat," said Slott afterwards. "The cut at the edge of his right eye and nose lacerations also were taken into account in my decision."

Saxton, who was greeted by boos from a small turnout of 2,408 customers who made a net gate of $4,298, back-pedalled and picked his shots with clever and smooth effectiveness.

• • •

Turner continuously hammered him against the ropes, but Johnny blocked many of the punches that may have looked as if they were on target to the TV audience. Saxon countered sharply and didn't have a scratch when it was all over while Turner looked as if he had been caught in a spray of red paint.

Saxton weighed 151½ and Turner 151 for the bout which Johnny used as a warmup for a proposed return title match against Carmen Basilio in July.

Traverse City Collie Picked as 'Hero' Dog

By H. GUY MOATS

Oakland County Kennel Club's annual "hero" dog award this spring goes to a courageous, and smart, white Collie, owned by two little Cedar Run (near Traverse City) youngsters.

The award was based on the dog's actions in rescuing its two mistresses, 5-year-old Carol Ann, and her sister, 4-year-old Mary Jo Courtad, after the youngsters were buried beneath the ruins of their home following a tornado April 3.

"Collie" a 9-year-old mixed breed pet, dug into the debris and dragged the children out. Mrs. Richard Courtad, their mother, lifted some of the wreckage so the dog could get to the children who were unconscious, and badly bruised, according to reports given OCKC's panelists. Collie's act is credited with saving the girls' lives.

The dog and children will be at the club's annual spring show, Sunday, May 20, at the Detroit Artillery Armory, 15000 West Eight Mile road.

Majors Square Rosters to Limits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Red Sox, their plans stymied by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick shortly before the deadline, were the last club to conform to the player-limit rule which went into effect at midnight last night after a day of hurried trades and reassignments in the major leagues.

The Red Sox were expected to announce officially today that they have placed Mel (Hard Luck) Parnell on the disabled list to get their roster in order. Parnell twisted an ankle severely in yesterday's game at Detroit.

Each club is allowed 25 players, plus service returnees, a month to the day after the season opens.

Boston originally had placed sore-arm Willard Nixon on the disabled list, but Frick voided the move saying he wasn't going to make the disabled list a "catch-all" by putting "a guy on the list just because he has a sore arm."

The Cincinnati Redlegs just got under the wire, optioning pitcher Pat Scantlebury to Havana of the International League. The move went one up when the Redlegs made a 1 for 2 deal with the St. Louis Cardinals — receiving shortstop Alex Grammas and outfielder Joe Frazier for utility man Chuck Harmon.

St. Louis, which earlier optioned pitcher Gordon Jones to Omaha of the American Assn., is a man under its limit following the trade.

The Kansas City Athletics met the limit by releasing veteran Elmer Valo, who broke in with the A's in 1940. Last night the Philadelphia Phillies invited Valo for a workout.

Here's how the other clubs got squared away on the final day:

Chicago White Sox — Optioned outfielder Ron Northey to Indianapolis of the American Assn. and catcher Earl Battey and pitcher Bill Fischer to Toronto of the International League.

Cleveland Indians—Sold pitcher Jose Santiago to Kansas City; traded catcher Hank Foiles to Pittsburgh for 1st baseman Preston Ward; optioned catcher Earl Averill and sold infielder Bobby Young, both to Indianapolis.

Kansas City Athletics—In addition to the Santiago and Valo moves, optioned pitchers Arnie Portocarrero to Birmingham of the Southern Assn., Art Ceccarelli to Columbus of the American Assn. and Bill Harrington to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League and sold catcher Joe Astroth to San Diego.

Milwaukee Braves — Optioned Bob Trowbridge and Humberto Robinson to Wichita of the American Assn.

Philadelphia Phillies — Optioned pitchers Duane Pillette and Angelo LiPetri to Miami of the International League.

Brooklyn—Optioned pitcher Karl Spooner to St. Paul of the American Assn.

Pittsburgh Pirates — In addition to the Cleveland trade, optioned pitchers Joe Trimble, Bob Purkey and Bob Garber to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

NL Race Gets Tighter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That's some pennant race in the National League. Nobody can win on the road and the latest sustained drive by a contender has been kept alive by nine unearned runs in two games against another flag hopeful.

Brooklyn, hinting it finally may have started a move for a repeat pennant, now has a six-game winning streak on the fire. No club in the NL has won more in a row—and by rights, the Dodgers shouldn't have won that many.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who see themselves as a flag threat, too, got the job done for the Brooks in a pair of frantic fourth innings. Tuesday night they donated four unearned runs in the fourth and Brooklyn won 7-5. Last night, the Cards upped the ante and the Brooks scored five unearned markers in the fourth to win 5-3.

* * *

That snarled the flag chase. Milwaukee, beaten 2-1 at Philadelphia, is only 22 percentage points ahead of second-place St. Louis, And the Cards are just 16 points north of the Dodgers.

The defeats left Milwaukee with a 5-5 road record and St. Louis with a 4-4 mark on tour. Brooklyn, 6-6, is the only other club as good as .500 away from home.

Pittsburgh, belting Cincinnati 9-2 to replace the Redlegs in fourth place, is 7-9 away from home while Cincy is 0-5. The New York Giants, who whacked Chicago 9-3, are 5-9 away from the Polo Grounds. The Cubs are 0-9 on the road.

* * *

In the American League, New York's Yankees reclaimed first place from Cleveland by beating the Tribe 4-1 behind Tom Morgan's 5 2-3 innings of no-hit relief pitching. The Chicago White Sox made it six in a row by beating Washington 3-1. New York opened a three-game set at Chicago today.

Boston defeated Detroit 4-2. Baltimore outlasted Kansas City 8-6.

The Pirates rocked Joe Nuxhall to his third defeat without victory in seven starts with a five - run spree in the fourth. Bob Friend was the winner for a 5-2 record.

Home runs by Al Dark, Ray Katt and Whitey Lockman paced a 13-hit New York attack against loser Bob Rush and three Cub relievers while Don Liddle went the distance for the first time this season.

* * *

Morgan, who was 0-3, relieved Yankee starter Maury McDermott in the fourth with one out, a run home and the bases loaded. From that point, he set down 17 in a row—every man he faced. Mike Garcia was the loser. Billy Martin smacked a leadoff homer in the first. Mickey Mantle hit his No. 13.

Dick Donovan gave the White Sox pitching staff three straight complete games and knocked home the first two runs with a bases-loaded single in the fourth off Hal Griggs, who was making his first major league start.

Cranbrook Baseball, Track Teams Win; Netters Lose

Baseball and track teams at Cranbrook succeeded in hurdling Wednesday's opposition, but the tennis squad found the going too rough at Hamtramck.

* * *

Cranbrook's baseball forces edged visiting Dearborn, 2-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Dave Campbell. Crag Vansciever hurled for Dearborn and permitted only four safeties.

The Cranes won the game in the 6th inning. Bob Pearson walked, stole 2nd, moved to 3rd on an infield out and scored on Chuck Grube's bunt single. Grube swiped 2nd, advanced to 3rd on Pete Bedford's infield hit and came home on an infield out.

Dearborn tallied its lone run in the 2nd stanza on a single by Nick Spewock and Don Kratt's double.

Cranbrook's track squad won nine events and tied for 1st place in two others to easily defeat Assumption of Windsor, 82-36, on the Crane track.

Cranbrook had two double winners. Dave Martin won the mile and half-mile runs and Owen Fett took the shot put and discus.

Bob O'Connor was a one-man team for Assumption as he won both hurdles and the broad jump and tied for 1st in the pole vault and high jump.

Ho-Hum, Just Another Catch

LANSING (AP)—Veteran anglers get envious when state conservation officials relate the experience of Joe Gorwolinski, 6, of Detroit.

Fishing recently on Thunder Bay main river near Hillman, young Joe hooked an 8½ inch brook trout. Before he could land it, an 18-inch great Northern Pike clamped onto the trout.

With the help of his grandfather, the lad landed the double catch.

Windy Course Poses Problem for KC Open

May Boost Scores to Over 275; Middlecoff, Souchak Withdraw

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The nation's leading professionals tackled Milburn Golf Club's wind blown course this morning in the first round of the eighth annual Kansas City Open convinced that a 276 will earn first money.

• • •

For days a stiff wind has swept the 6,500-layout. Veteran Kansas City pro Dutch Stamburger, who is directing the tourney, said yesterday "The wind will add a stroke a round."

"Porky Oliver shot this course in 269 and Lloyd Mangrum did it in 271, but they didn't have to fight this kind of wind," Stamburger said. "The odds are that nobody can get as low as 272."

The field of 127 includes most of the regular members of the golf tour. Two exceptions are Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Mike Souchak. Both withdrew from the tournment yesterday. Jack Fleck, the U. S. Open champion, also failed to put in an appearence.

Sure to be among the gallery favorites are Jackie Burke, winner of this year's Masier Tournament; Dow Finsterwald, winner of the recent St. Louis Open; Billy Maxwell, Gene Littler, Doug Ford, Ted Kroll and defending champion Dick Mayer.

Big Schedule Ahead for Chief Netters

With the MHSAA regional tennis tourney set for today, Friday and Saturday at Cranbrook, Pontiac High School's netters are facing a stiff schedule for the next week.

Seven teams have entered the event, including Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak, East Detroit, Port Huron, Berkley and Mt. Clemens.

Coach Vic Lindquist's team has three matches next week. Monday it goes to Bay City, Tuesday visits Flint Northern and on Wednesday plays off a postponed match against Cranbrook, on the Cranes' court.

SPEARMAN'S PRIZE — They're running big, are these carp, in Pine Lake. Shown by the spearman, who took it as the 20-pound, 37-inch long specimen (above), Royal Ottmar, 17 years old of 2105 Beechmont, Keego Harbor, took the fish first of the week.

Benson, Stadium City League Winners

Richard Cork pitched a neat four-hitter to lead Sam Benson to a 3-2 victory over Royal Bar in an American loop game at North Side Park-to highlight Wednesday night's action in the City Softball League.

Cork struck out three batters and exercised flawless control by not walking a man. He spaced the 1st, 2nd, 5th and 6th stanzas. Hank Overcashier sparked the Benson club at the plate with three hits in four trips.

Stadium Inn made the most of six hits to defeat Bicmar Inn, 7-3, in an American League tilt at North Side. Verle Sheldon and Bob Orr divided mound chores for the winners with Orr hurling hitless ball in relief. Stadium sewed up the decision with four runs in the 2nd inning.

Pontiac Select a Drink bounced back from its opening loss to Louie's with an 11-4 triumph over Richard's Tavern in a National loop contest at Beaudette. The winners collected 10 hits and Rondo twirled a six hit effort.

Lunsford Market pounded out an easy 10-1 verdict over Ox bow Pavilion in a National division game at Beaudette. Conley tossed a five-hitter at the opposition and the Lunsford batters lashed out with a 13-hit attack.

Sam Benson faces GMC at 7 o'clock and Shaw's Jewelers play Elks No. 810 at 8:30 tonight at Beaudette. Royal Bar meets Bicmar Inn at 7 and Louie's Tavern tackles Franklin Products at 8:30 at North Side.

Beats World Hammer Mark

BOSTON (AP)—Cliff Blair, Boston University senior, has become a man of Olympic proportions following his 211-foot, 3-inch hammer throw which bettered the accepted world record.

In the short space of a week this 225-pound, 6-3, Hingham, Mass., youth has pushed his best effort from a workman-like 196 feet to the 211-3 mark.

The recognized world mark is 231 feet, ½ inch set by Russia's Mikhail Krivonosov Aug. 4, 1955 in Warsaw. However, Krivonosov has a heave of 216 feet, ½ inch pending.

Blair, a pupil of American record holder Harold Connelly, turned in his performance in a special hammer event at Boston University yesterday sanctioned by the AAU.

Connelly, the former Boston College weightman now doing graduate work at BU, holds the accepted American standard of 209-7. But now his pupil has jumped ahead of him.

Needles Heads Preakness List

BALTIMORE (AP) — They're searching as usual today, mostly to have something to talk about at Pimlico, for reasons why Needles might not be able to follow up his Kentucky Derby victory in the Preakness Saturday.

But it's pretty hard since the character from Florida has collared more money than all of his eight likely challengers put together.

Jack Dudley and Bonnie Heath have collected $462,055 from the racing of Needles. Owners of the eight other 3-year-olds could show only $343,860 if they pooled their earnings.

The eight and their individual earnings are Count Chic, $84,925; Eiffel Blue, $48,675; Fabius, $78,515; Golf Ace, $41,850; No Regrets, $30,900; Come On Red, $26,660; Fleet Feet, $9,225; and Ratheram, $10,150.

Quite a bit, but he still has a long road to travel.

The 41-year-old former Notre Dame end coach, who replaced F. L. "Frosty" Ferzacca as field boss on Feb. 4, has completed a 20-day spring practice period in which he took a close look at what he will have to work come fall.

We made definite and good progress toward installing the split-T system and in giving our players the pattern of work which we expect them to perform," he said yesterday before leaving for South Bend and Chicago.

Maple Thinclads Chalk Up 19th Straight Dual Victory

Birmingham High School's thinclads yesterday afternoon on Pierce Field, hung up their 19th consecutive dual victory with a 75-34 win over East Detroit. East Detroit had not lost a dual meet this spring until Wednesday.

Maples haven't been beaten (varsity, freshmen or reserve) in dual tests since 1953, Coach Kermit Ambrose said this morning.

Birmingham took 10 first in 13 events.

Hottest battle was in the shot, where Chuck Gibson set a new field mark of 51 feet. The 216 pounder erased Dave Bowen's 49 plus record set in '53. Mickey Walker (Ed) tossed the 12 pound ball 49 feet 10¼ inches, and Maples' Doug O'Camb had 48 feet 9½ inches. Two others were close.

Pat Berry won both dashes 1.3 (10.3, 23.4) and Joe Kidwell took the hurdles. Other Maple winners were: Bill McFarlen in the vault (11-6), Dug Wuggazer in the mile (4.42.2), Howard Didier in the 880 (2.06.2), both relays (880 (Tony Evangelista, Jim Macdonald, Evan Mabley, Pat Berry); mediey (Don Tata, Frank Michelson, Mabley, Steve Pow).

East Detroit swept the high jump with a 3-way tie, took the broad jump on Allen Silk's 18-2½ leap.

Evvie Suggests New Title Plan

Would Have Big 10 Grid Play on Round-Robin Basis

DES MOINES (AP) — Coach Forest Evashevski of Iowa wants the Big Ten to play a round-robin football schedule.

* * *

"It would be a much fairer way to pick a champion," Evashevski told a sports club meeting last night. "I think with a round-robin schedule Iowa would have won at least one title in the last few years."

Playing on your home field must mean something because we haven't lost to a Big Ten team at home in three years since the Michigan State opener in 1953.

"But you can't possibly win it playing at Michigan and Ohio State all the time. I think two years from now Michigan plays eight of nine games at Ann Arbor.

* * *

Evashevski said he hopes the conference votes for the round-robin schedule at the spring meeting next week at Grand Rapids, Minn.

Await Friday's Bout

Olson-Robinson Geared

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a highly irritated Sugar Ray Robinson who settled down here today to await the gong for the 15-round defense of his world middleweight championship against the man he dethroned, Carl Bobo Olson.

Robinson was provoked because he was unable to buy additional choice seats at ringside for the nationally televised battle tomorrow night at Wrigley Field, set to go at 7 p.m., PDT. NBC will do the television and radio.

"The next time we fight for the International Boxing Club," exclaimed Robinson's co-manager, Ernie Braca, "we will have written into the contract how many tickets we will get. We certainly don't like this treatment. Robinson is the champion."

Otherwise, all was fairly calm on the eve of this fourth fight between the now 35-year-old Sugar Ray from New York and the soon-to-be 28 Olson of San Francisco.

Officials of the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, which is promoting the show in conjunction with the IBC, said the match will go on rain or shine. While no rain is forecast, a canvas canopy will be stretched over the ring—just in case.

There was some concern over a current heat wave in this area. It got so hot that Robinson broke up his training camp at San Jacinto, Calif., 90 miles from here, 24 hours ahead of time and drove into Los Angeles.

Olson is in suburban Santa Monica, where he has been working diligently for five weeks.

There was heat in the Olson camp too. This revolved around the insistence of the Robinson contingent on a 12 noon weigh-in tomorrow at the Legion Stadium.

Olson preferred a 10 a.m. weigh-in, since the TV battle goes on at the sundown hour. But the California boxing rules sided with the Robinson people.

Gillis, Waterford Blank Berkley, 3-0

Waterford continued its drive toward the Inter-Lakes Conference baseball championship with a 3-0 extra-inning victory over Berkley Wednesday at Berkley. It was the Skippers' 6th league win in seven games.

* * *

Chuck Gillis and Berkley's Herb Duncan waged a scoreless mound duel for seven innings before Waterford exploded with three runs in the top of the 8th. A fielder's choice, a walk and singles by John Woodman and Jerry Perna, along with a wild throw, accounted for the damage.

Each pitcher allowed only four hits and fanned a dozen batters.

Check on Muskies at Lake St. Clair

LANSING (AP) — Fish workers are back at it, trying to get the statistical lowdown on muskellunge in Lake St. Clair and to determine if eggs of the big game fish can be obtained for hatchery propagation.

Last year and the year before preliminary musky investigation were made by the state conservation men at Lake St. Clair, but fish examined were not suitable for egg collection.

Anglers in the vicinity were urged by department officials to cooperate in the project. Checking stations will be maintained on the Clinton River Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays until mid-June in hopes of examining 200 St. Clair muskies.

Aiming at 20 Wins

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Righthander Bob Friend, who beat Cincinnati 9-2 yesterday for his 5th victory, is going at a pace that will make him the 4th Pittsburgh pitcher in the last 25 years to win 20 games.

The last Pirate to win 20 was Murry Dickson in 1951. Rip Sewell had 21 in 1943 and 1944.

Crary Nips Waterford JV's in Track Meet

Winning five out of nine events, Isaac Crary Junior High nosed out the Waterford High Junior Varsity, $38\frac{1}{3}$ - $37\frac{2}{3}$ in a dual track meet Wednesday on the Waterford High cinders.

4 Games—10 Homers

Detroiter on Spree

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., May 17 (AP)—When the New York Yankees put a $100 price tag on Al Weygandt and offered him to the Topeka club of the Western League on a 30-day free trial basis, it was pretty clear they were eager to get rid of him.

Now Mr. Weygandt is proving that the Yankees' reputation as shrewd bargain makers takes a beating now and then.

In four games during a 3-day span the 25-year-old Detroit native has blasted out 10 home runs to account for 21 runs batted in.

Weygandt, a University of Michigan psychology graduate, never had given opposing pitchers much trouble during a 3-year stint of bouncing around the Yankee chain, so his sudden surge of batting power came as a surprise. He thinks the hitting streak resulted from a change in his batting stance ordered by Buddy Bates, Topeka manager.

* * *

Weygandt, who started his baseball career with American Legion teams in Detroit, started off the season at a healthy .400 clip, then fell into a dismal slump. In five games last week he managed to connect for only one hit in 19 times at bat.

Then in Sunday's doubleheader at Amarillo, Tex., Al slammed out five home runs in the two games, driving in 11 runs.

Monday night against the same club he collected three more homers in a single game and drove in six runs. Tuesday night against Albuquerque he hit two more round trippers to account for four more runs.

A graduate of Detroit's Redford High School, Weygandt lettered at Michigan in baseball, football and swimming. He launched his professional career in 1951 with Joplin in the old Western Assn., the same club that produced the Yankees' Mickey Mantle. That year he hit .350 in 42 games.

Egypt, Chiang to Break Off Ties

Diplomatic Relations Cut in Wake of New Cairo, Peiping Trade Pact

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt, first Arab state to give diplomatic recognition to Red China, was expected to hand the Nationalists' ambassador his walking papers today.

In Taipei, Generalissmo Chiang Kai-shek's government announced it had broken diplomatic relations with Egypt and was taking steps to call its ambassador and diplomatic mission home from Cairo.

• • •

Egyptian recognition of the Peiping regime had been expected for some time. The Chinese Communists already are the third largest purchaser of Egyptian cotton, source of 80 per cent of the nation's foreign exchange.

The decision to open formal diplomatic relations was announced yesterday after a meeting of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's Cabinet. It came in the wake of several trade and cultural pacts between the two countries.

• • •

Israel is the only other Middle East nation that recognizes the Peiping regime instead of Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa.

• • •

The Middle East news agency said Egypt's Foreign Ministry would call in Nationalist Ambassador Ho Feng today and bid him farewell.

• • •

An Egyptian military mission is expected to visit Peiping within a few days. A Chinese trade official said Cairo and Peiping probably will exchange ambassadors.

Photographer Locks Himself in Fiery Trap

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gordon Wallace, a photographer for the Los Angeles Times, was driving by when two condemned houses and a row of empty garages suddenly burst into flames.

• • •

He stopped, grabbed his equipment and raced to a nearby vacant house from which to take pictures.

He got in the house all right, and ran upstairs. But he found all the windows boarded over.

When he ran downstairs, he found himself locked in by the old and faulty latch. He finally managed to kick off a board and yell for help.

• • •

By the time bystanders released him, the fire had been put out.

2 Killed, 7 Injured in Rest Home Fire

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A fire burned out three rooms of a private home for the aged last night, killing two men and injuring seven others.

• • •

The dead were Henry Alfred Ward, 84, and L. Bernard Bood, 64.

• • •

One of the injured was C. E. Burt, hwo lists his age as 108.

The fire broke out in a room Wardshared with another patient and spread to the two adjoining rooms, where the other victims were sleeping.

Miniature cars with motor-cycle-type engines seating from one to four persons are getting much of the car market in West Germany.

Astaire Fights His Grief by Working Extra Hard

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fred Astaire, still grieving over the loss of his beloved wife, is finding that it helps to stay busy.

• • •

Now making "Funny Face" with Audrey Hepburn, he explained: "I already had two pictures lined up to do here at Paramount, but I decided to make this one too. Audrey wanted me to do it, and I figured I'd better take the opportunity. Who knows when you'd get a chance to do another picture with her?

GOING TO PARIS

"We're going to Paris to do some dance scenes and other things and we'll be busy every minute of the time. There'll be no time for sightseeing, which is all right because I've spent half my life in Paris.

• • •

"As soon as I'm through there I'll hurry right back and do the other two pictures without a day in between. My personal life has been so messed up in the past two years (his wife died in 1954) that I think maybe the best thing for me is to keep working."

• • •

As anybody in Hollywood knows, when Astaire works, he works. A perfectionist who claims never to have repeated a dance routine in films, he spends long hours in rehearsals before filming a dance.

OTHER CHORES

Not content with his movie chores, he finds other things to keep him busy. He has a chain of dance studios. He has a successful racing stable and is glowing about a filly named Rainbow Tie that is showing winning ways in England.

• • •

"I've been writing songs again," he said. "I've got one out now which is doing pretty well. I made a record of it that's getting a good play." He proudly displayed a clipping in which a disc jockey picked the tune, "Hello, Baby," among the top five records.

• • •

On top of all this, he is writing his autobiography.

'Cinerama Holiday' Now

A phenomenal amount of labor and materials were required in the filming of Louis de Rochemont's "Cinerama Holiday" now in its 66th week at the Music Hall. Statistics reveal that 201 days of shooting by two complete camera crews who traveled 30,000 miles visiting two continents.

Some 675,000 feet of Technicolor film was exposed, five languages were employed and more than 5,000 people lent assistance in the making of the second Cinerama film.

Married in Jail

MERCED, Calif. (AP)—Terry L. Miller, 19, charged in a 10-cent robbery slaying, was let out of his cell briefly yesterday to be married to Leona Faye Jurgens, 17, of Freedom. That was as near Freedom as he got; he was hustled right back to jail.

Favor Revealed at Caudle Trial

Testimony Reveals How Evader's Attorney Tried to Show 'Admiration'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Testimony that a tax evader's lawyer said he "wanted to do something" for T. Lamar Caudle, then head of the Justice Department's Tax Division, has been given at Caudle's trial on tax fixing charges.

• • •

David L. Sheffrey, Kansas City attorney, testified yesterday that Harry I. Schwimmer late in 1950 told him he "had great respect and admiration for Mr. Caudle."

"He (Schwimmer mentioned oil shares, I think," Sheffrey testified. "I told Schwimmer he was crazy. I said if Mr. Caudle accepted them from him, he would accept it from anybody. And if he accepted it, it would be disclosed."

• • •

Caudle, Schwimmer and Matthew J. Connelly, White House appointments secretary to President Truman, are on trial in federal court on charges of conspiring to defraud the government by stalling prosecution of the Irving Sachs tax evasion case.

• • •

Schwimmer and Sheffrey were attorneys for Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer, who later was fined $40,000.

Sheffrey said in their 1950 talk Schwimmer told him "attorneys in the department of justice did not get top salaries and he wanted to do something for Caudle."

Armed Bandit Returns, This Time to Pay for It

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—An armed robber apparently came back for a chaser after holding up a Topeka liquor store last night.

• • •

A clerk reported to police a tall, slender man held up the store about 9 p.m. and escaped with about $50.

• • •

A few minutes before 11 p.m. closing time, the clerk again called police to report the robber had returned after changing clothes. This time he ordered a pint of vodka and paid for it, the clerk said.

Army, AF Plan Missile Contest

Senator Chavez Says Competition Will Show Which Is Superior

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said today the Army and Air Force will stage a dramatic contest against planes designed to show which has the superior guided missiles.

• • •

But he said the showdown test between the Army's Nike and the Air Force's Talos probably won't be possible before Congress votes on a huge defense money bill. That measure contemplates that the Nike will remain the mainstay antiaircraft missile guarding strategic U.S. target areas against possible enemy air raid.

DEMANDS TEST

Chavez had demanded such a test after Air Force and Army witnesses made conflicting claims before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee which Chavez heads.

Details of what either the Nike or Talos can achieve are defense secrets, but there have been reports that the Navy—which originally developed Talos for its own use — considers it faster, more accurate and of longer range than Nike.

• • •

Chavez told a reporter top Air Force officials have told him the Talos is in an advanced stage of development but not yet ready for a competitive test. He said they assured him the test will be held, but that there is little prospect it can be staged before Congress completes action, probably next month, on the big defense appropriations bill on which his subcommittee is holding hearings.

Study Building Codes

CADILLAC (AP)—Region 8 representatives of the Michigan Municipal League met Wednesday to discuss formulation of standard building codes. Delegates represented Wexford, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie, Missaukee, Kalkaska, Grand Traverse, Manistee, Lake, Osceola, Emmet and Charlevoix Counties.

To Pick Forest Queen

MANISTEE (AP)—For the first time in its 20-year history, a queen will be selected to preside July 3-4 at the annual Manistee National Forest Festival. The queen, to be named June 20 from among Manistee County girls between 18 and 22, also will compete in the national cherry queen contest at Traverse City.

Rabbits are strictly vegetarian, but do not dig in the ground for bulbs or roots.

Red Army Cut Unimpressive to Sec. Quarles

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald Quarles, secretary of the Air Force, says Russia's Red army cut will not affect Soviet weapons for waging air and atomic battle.

Speaking last night before the Board, Quarles said:

"It is no mere coincidence that the things they are cutting are not the jet planes and atomic weapons. . . .

"The grave danger in the present situation is that the talk of peace and the smiles from behind the Iron Curtain may delude us into a sense of security and cause us to relax our guard to the point where terms can be forced upon us."

Union Secretary Dies

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Richard Lee Rohr, 50, for nearly 20 years secretary of the Kalamazoo Typographical Union, died of a heart attack at his home in Kalamazoo Tuesday night. He also served as vice president of the Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions.

Ancient Mt. Etna Gives Warning

Sicily's Famed Volcano Reported Active for Countless Centuries

WASHINGTON — Sicily's celebrated Mount Etna again has served explosive notice that it shuns inactive status.

Experts balk at the flat statement that Etna has been active longer than any other volcano. They concede, however, that the only possible rivals are a few restless peaks in Central America, and these cannot make a good case because records of their early eruptions are meager or non-existent.

Thucydides, the Greek historian, tells of Etna eruptions as far back as the 8th and 5th centuries B.C., says the National Geographic Society. Present-day volcanologists believe the ancient mountain was busy spewing out molten rock, ash and cinders at intervals for centuries, perhaps, before its activity was first chronicled.

The 10,741-foot peak, ranking as Europe's highest and largest volcano, has erupted violently some 80 times within the limits of written history. Its latest major eruption through the central vent was in 1949. Many of Etna's earlier convulsions spread appalling destruction, taking thousands of lives and wiping out towns and villages.

A MIRACLE?

One of the most storied eruptions occurred in 1886. Then it poured lava toward the village of Nicolosi. Villagers flocked to a near-by chapel, where they besought Saint Agatha, the region's patron saint, to save their town. After days of anxious prayer, the advancing lava abruptly halted just 360 yards from Nicolosi's first houses.

Etna's current performance is reported to involve the main crater. Volcanologists say the mountain is so high that explosions seldom gather sufficient energy to shower lava.

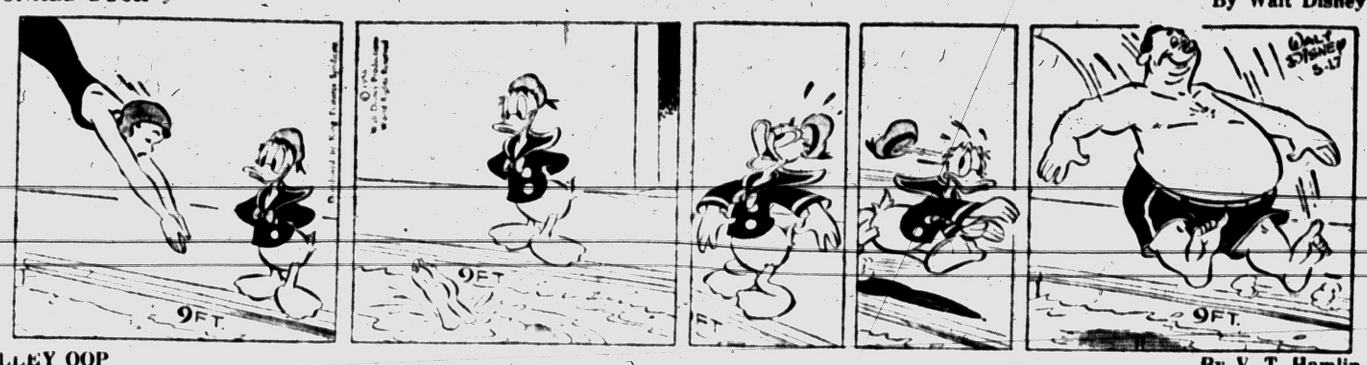

Instead, the molten rivers of rock usually issue from the subsidiary craters and cones which have formed on the mountain's flanks. These are now so numerous—about 200—that Etna is actually a cluster of volcanoes rather than a single volcanic cone.

Most Grains Head Lower

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains headed a little lower after a generally steady opening on the Board of Trade today.

Dealings were not particularly active in any pit. Soybeans were off a few cents, recording the widest losses. Corn was inclined to ease in sympathy with soybeans.

Wheat advanced slightly in early dealings but then reversed itself and crept under the previous close. Rye followed wheat but oats maintained a firm undertone.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to 1 cent lower. May $2.29⅞; corn unchanged to ½ lower. May $1.49; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, May 67; rye ¼ to 1 cent lower, May $1.23½; soybeans 1 to 2¾ lower, May $3.19½; lard 12 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $13.30.

House Rejects Ike's Arms Aid Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee today voted to deny President Eisenhower's request for long-term foreign aid authority. It agreed instead on a statement of intent to continue foreign aid as long as necessary to fight communism.

The committee also voted to cut in half the 200 million dollars Eisenhower sought for special economic aid funds for Asia and the Middle East.

It said these funds should be distributed in loans or surplus farm goods, not given away as money grants.

Clare Luce Ill; Doctor Advises 2-Month Rest

NEW YORK (AP) — The physician of Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce said today he had advised her "not to return to her post for about two months."

Dr. Milton Rosenbluth said "Mrs. Luce is suffering from a chronic enteritis which appears to be related to an infection of the liver which she had while abroad. She has as well a moderately severe iron deficiency anemia probably due to the same cause. She received one transfusion yesterday and will require others."

Mrs. Luce flew home from Rome suddenly May 11 saying she felt "much below par." Last Sunday she entered Doctors Hospital for a diagnostic study.

She left the hospital last night and further treatment is to continue at her town house here.

Detroiter Gets 30 Days in Oakland County Jail

Harry L. Carothers, 21, of the Park Avenue Hotel, Detroit was sentenced to serve 30 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday for obtaining money under false pretenses.

The sentence was handed down by Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle after Carothers pleaded guilty to the charge. Failure to pay fine and costs of $25 resulted in the increased committal period from the original 10 days.

Girl, 16, Suffers Injuries in Collision With Auto

A Pontiac girl received minor head injuries when the car in which she was riding was involved in a collision with a parked car at Sanderson and Augusta Streets last night.

Ruth Wedrick, 16, of 55 Court Dr., was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital. Mrs. Emily M. Thompson, 26, of 76 Court Dr., was the driver of the car which hit the rear of a parked vehicle operated by William F. Bullis, of Sneyer.

Tricycle Rider Injured by Backing Automobile

A three-year-old Rochester boy escaped with only minor contusions and abrasions when he was struck by a car backing out of a neighbor's driveway on Woodward street yesterday.

James Parcells was treated and released by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following the incident. He was reported to have been riding his tricycle along the street when hit by the slowly-moving car. The car was driven by Teresa Bebout, 44, who lives next door.

Suffers Cut on Nose as Car Rams Another

A Pontiac man suffered a cut on the nose but did not require hospitalization when the car which he was driving struck a parked vehicle early this morning.

Gerald G. Lamgson, 40, of 850 Robinwood Ave., was slightly hurt in the crash at South Saginaw Street, Pontiac Township. The operator of the parked car was Burl U. Maples, 46, of 32 W. Brooklyn St. Both told city police the Maples car was parked at the curb when struck in the rear.

Receives Jail Sentence on Stolen Goods Count

William M. Boughner, 20, of 173 Norton Ave., began a 45-day sentence in Oakland County Jail Wednesday for receiving stolen property.

He pleaded guilty when arraigned by Justice Elmer C. Dieterle of West Bloomfield Township after the charge was reduced from transporting stolen property.

There are now only 1,200 telephones in all of Cambodia, Phnom Penh reports.

Stock Market Rises Quietly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today, but it was a quiet affair throughout.

* * *

Prices in the early afternoon were up fractions for the most part with only a few issues getting up to between 1 and 2 points. Losses were small.

Trading was around the slowest pace of the past three months at about 2,000,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,080,000 shares yesterday when the market was mixed.

* * *

Motors and steels were among the most active of the major divisions, but they weren't particularly husky pricewise. Also up were the aircrafts, oils, coppers and railroads.

Nothing was particularly depressed, although the motion pictures were somewhat lower. Twentieth Century-Fox, off 2⅜ yesterday, lost around a point today on a few sales.

* * *

General Motors, which has been backing down consistently, found a resting place today. It opened on 4,500 shares up ⅛ at 41⅝ and held around that level. It was active.

Underwood directors declared a dividend of 25 cents as compared with 50 cents paid in the three previous quarters. The stock immediately dropped between 3 and 4 points.

* * *

Pacific Gas & Electric fell away around a point after directors proposed issuing rights to stockholders to purchase additional stock.

Gulf Oil had a block of 2,800 shares up 1 at 119. Flintkote had a block of 11,000 shares at 39½ up ⅛.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .40 cents at $184.80. Yesterday the average lost .40 cents on the day, but there were more gainers than losers in the thoroughly mixed market.

Lake Orion Resident Injured in Crash

Ralph P. Glass, 29, of Lake Orion, suffered injuries to his chest and both legs when the car he was driving skidded into a private vehicle operated by Pontiac State trooper Lyle R. Tucker, 41, of Ortonville, last night.

ROAD-E-O WINNERS — Sue Tobin, Walled Lake senior, having taken top honors in the teenage Road-E-O at Walled Lake, will attend the state tournament June 2 at Michigan State University. She scored 92 on her written exam and picked up 213½ out of a possible 300 points in the actual driving skill test. Juniors Bob Schieb (left) and Ed Brouillette (right) captured the second and third place posts respectively. Walled Lake teachers were judges and the Board of Education donated the winner's cup and two plaques. Co-sponsor was the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Your Home Is Radioactive --- as Always

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Your home is radioactive. So is everybody else's. The radioactivity has nothing to do with atomic bombs; it's been going on for centuries.

* * *

The Royal Swedish Academy of Science has come up with the broadest study of home radioactivity yet made. It includes data on the natural radioactivity measured in about 1,000 homes in 13 Swedish cities.

A report by Dr. Begt Hultqvist says radiation levels differ considerably from house to house, depending on the building material.

WOOD HAS LESS

Wooden houses had far less radioactivity, as a rule, than houses made of brick. Buildings of light concrete, containing alum slate, came out on top for radioactivity among all buildings checked.

Some dwelling houses were a hundred times more radioactive than others.

* * *

Ventilation made an enormous difference. He often found the radiation level 10 times higher in the morning after inhabitants had spent the night with doors and windows shut. Dr. Hultqvist says radioactivity may rise above the internationally adopted maximum safety level in brick houses without ventilation.

NO HEALTH CHANGE

The Hultqvist report is the first published result of a pioneer research project launched here three years ago by the Swedish Institute of Radiophysics. The principal aim is to record the natural radioactivity is bad or natural radiation environment of good for people average people in the dawn of the atomic age.

Prof. Rolf Sievert, head of the Institute of Radiophysics, says researchers "did not find any differences in the state of health of those thousands examined that could be traced back to different radiation levels in their homes. Scientists do not know as yet if

* * *

Minute amounts of radium and thorium in the building materials were the main source of the radioactivity measured by Dr. Hultqvist. Ventilation sharply reduced the amounts of radioactivity in a simple way. A gush of fresh air blew out most of the radioactive gases radon and thoron.

Greeted by His 5th Grade Teacher

State-Hopping Adlai Rips GOP on Domestic Issues

REDDING, Calif. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson was greeted by his fifth-grade schoolteacher here last night and a master of ceremonies introduced him as "president" to a Humboldt County audience.

Stevenson, doggedly working California and Oregon campaign trails with a rosy sunburn, welcomed the change of pace from his steady attack on Republican school, water and natural resources policies.

Mrs. Bessie Moore of Redding reminded Stevenson she was his fifth grade teacher in Bloomington, Ill., years ago, and presented him with a cake and sugar pie she had baked.

Briefed in advance and provided with a bouquet of roses, Stevenson handed Mrs. Moore the flowers and wished her a "happy 75th birthday."

MOVES ON THE TRAIL

Stevenson corrected himself and said, "I hope I haven't lost the best friend I had in Redding."

Moving south from Oregon, where he and Sen. Estes Kefauver contend for 16 Democratic convention votes in Friday's presidential write-in primary, Stevenson visited a Humboldt State College picnic.

Jerry Partain, master of ceremonies, introduced Cornelius Siemens, head of the college, as "governor" and presented Stevenson as "president."

"The introduction promoted me more rapidly than I expected," acknowledged Stevenson. "I have been trying for some time to earn the right to be addressed as president."

Stevenson today will catch a plane at Los Angeles for Florida, where he and Kefauver are contending in the May 29 primary.

City Fireman Injured While Fighting Blaze

City fireman Richard Gustafson, 25, of 57 Lehigh St., was treated for bruises of the abdomen at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after he was hurt while helping fight a minor fire at 540 Nevada Avenue.

Gustafson was helping lay out hose at the scene when he lost his footing in the mud and was injured. He was able to return to duty following treatment.

No damage was reported in the blaze at a vacant garage house. It was believed to have been started by children playing with matches.

Seek Parents' Help in School Census

Enumerators taking school census in Pontiac have completed one week's work and will continue their job through the last of this month, said Paul Allison, in charge of child accounting and attendance for the Board of Education.

"Matters would be simplified," Allison said, "if parents would write down information required for state records. Should they go away, the information would be available for baby sitters or other members of the family to give to census takers. This would eliminate time-wasting call-backs." Allison continued.

"The information required includes the names of the children, dates of birth and schools attended," he added.

Wayne Disaster Officials Move to Allay Confusion

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne County officials say the Detroit area needs a central disaster authority to prevent recurrence of confusion which followed tornadoes in Lincoln Park and Allen Park Saturday.

* * *

Lack of coordination and central direction was the chief cause for the confusion which delayed efforts to restore order in the two suburbs, county auditors and civil defense and police officials were told at special meeting yesterday.

Representatives of agencies responsible for relief efforts told the group that vital equipment was held up at emergency road blocks as various agencies sought to take over command of the relief work. They said numerous agencies were uncoordinated during the emergency.

It also was reported that the Wayne County Road Commission had developed a mass disaster plan but that neither State Police nor the National Guard was told about it.

William E. Evans, deputy director of the county's Civil Defense system, said Maj. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty would take over as titular head of Detroit's relief efforts if the city be hit by a tornado or other disaster.

Outside Detroit, he said, there are 42 separate Civil Defense departments, but no overall authority has been established to direct them and coordinate their activities.

Evans recommended the county sheriff's department be designated as the central coordinating agency.

Senior Police Inspector Arthur Hedt said that virtually every community in the county has a different pass for representatives of relief agencies. He urged the county adopt a single county-wide pass to permit relief and law enforcement "personnel to go into devastated areas."

Comic's Collection of Characters to Return to Video Screens

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The Jackie Gleason mob shouldn't be hungry for a year, everyone eating all those official statements that the show would "positively" remain on film.

• • •

The shift-back of the Gleason psychology to "live" shows is the first smart thing he's done in a year.

Some readers thought we didn't like anything Gleason did; they had short memories, for we were his first and virtually only encouragement back when he started in TV. From the start we thought Gleason had one of the most creative comic talents around.

We still say he has a powerful if erratic talent, though not genius; and talent is more than virtually all of the successful TV stars can boast.

• • •

Lots of them get by one pure personality or extend one joke into a career. If the single joke turn into an affectionate amusement, as in the case of Gracie Allen, it suffices for a splendid lifetime of service to herself and fans

ERA OF VARIETY

Furthermore, this is an era of diversification, in business as well as pleasure. Hence, the success of big variety shows such as Ed Sullivan's and Perry Como's.

• • •

The rest of Gleason's lineup of "characters" will be a welcome returning herd of lost lambs for Nielsen and Trendex to shepherd.

"The Loudmouth" resembles the hollering "Honeymooners," but it is a sketch with a hero who has a compensating hold on the audience's sympathies—Art Carney.

"The Bartender" never was quite our cup of beer, but it served an ingenious purpose—to give an extra dimension and a character to what essentially is the oldest form of American nightclub nonsense—the opening monologue.

• • •

"Reginald Van Gleason," though, was the nearest Gleason came to purely creative lunacy. It was a character he created in part from himself, and he understood the role thoroughly and added to its delightfully demented detail from richly researched memory.

HURT BY REPETITION

Because it was such an innovation, it also was difficult to write for. Faced with weekly deadlines, the Gleason imagination simply gave up and many of the character's TV antics were simply repeats of past sketches.

• • •

Each repetition of an old Reginald escapade extracted the fun of surprise a little. And because some were repeated a lot, the fun narrowed a lot.

"The Poor Soul" was a familiar comic character done for generations, but Gleason remembered it imaginatively and it served as a fond member of the clan of clowns.

But all the roles had their adherents; lots of folks loved "The Honeymooners" at first, for the sheer outsize violence of the arguments, and its adherents might return if it is plowed back among a diversified crop of comic characterization.

Hiroshima Mayor Here

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hiroo Chara, governor of atom-blasted Hiroshima, is visiting here en route to Brazil, where he will inquire into the welfare of transplanted Hiroshima residents.

Kansas was the first state to give women a vote, in 1861, but that was only in school elections.
