

State House Takes Up Fiscal Package Today

BELL RINGERS HONORED — A proclamation honoring the Bell Ringers of Eastern Junior High School is presented to the group's director, William Coffing (right), by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. A resolution passed by the City Commission last night commended the Bell Ringers' musical success and urged citywide support of the group's efforts to raise funds for a trip to the American Festival in Britain this summer.

LANSING (U) — Today it was the House's turn to take up tax reform—the No. 1 issue of the 1967 legislative session.

Near the top of today's calendar was House Bill 2142, which would levy the state's first income tax at a tax rate of 2 1/2 per cent on Michigan residents.

What would happen to it was anybody's guess, but the vote was expected to be close.

Democrats said they planned to offer a series of major amendments to the Republican-drafted House tax package. Republican leaders said most of their members planned to unite to beat the amendments off.

IT TAKES 55 VOTES

It takes 55 votes to pass a bill in the House. Republicans and Democrats have 54 seats each.

Speaker Robert Waldron, leader of the GOP delegation, said last night he wasn't sure whether as many as 50 of the 54 Republicans would vote for the package, even though the House GOP caucuses favors it.

The Senate last March 30 defeated a similar income tax bill 21-16, then reconsidered the vote and sent Gov. Romney's whole fiscal package back to committee for study and negotiations.

House Republicans caucused last night but Waldron said they made no changes in their own tax-change proposals.

That program, designed to yield $314 million in net new revenue in fiscal 1967-68, includes:

- Income taxes of 2 1/2 per cent on individuals, 5 per cent on corporations and 7 per cent on financial institutions.
- An increase in the cigarette tax of three cents a pack.
- Repeal of the business activities tax and an increase in the intangibles tax exemption from $20 to $100 per year.
- Return to local governments of one-fifth of the money from the personal income tax.
- A 14 per cent cut in school and county property taxes.

Plane Crash at Sea; 15 Believed Dead

NANTUCKET, Mass. (U) — A flaming radar picket plane with 16 men aboard plunged into the Atlantic Ocean last night after the pilot apparently tried to avoid hitting homes on Nantucket Island.

"I am convinced that this boy was fighting desperately to get it to the water and avoid this summer colony," said Albert L. Manning, one of three private pilots who agreed that a last-minute miscalculation kept the craft from striking the island.

"It skidded along the water for about 4,000 feet and when it hit there was this huge burst of fire and a big red fireball," said Rene A. Orleans. "I'd never seen anything like it."

At the controls of the four-engine Super Constellation when it went down about a half-mile off shore was Col. James P. Lyle, 47, commander of the 551st Airborne Early Warning and Control Wing at Otis Air Force Base in Falmouth.

The navigator of the craft, Lt. Joseph H. Guenet, 29, was rescued by a search helicopter shortly after the crash.

BODIES RECOVERED

Two bodies were recovered and a night-long search by Air Force and Coast Guard units was intensified at dawn.

Officials at Otis said they had reports before the crash that crewmen were manning individual life rafts for a ditched landing at sea, but there were doubts that many could have survived the explosion.

If the crewmen were able to don their rubber suits and escape in the life rafts, they could survive at sea "for a considerable period of time," Col. John M. Konosky, wing vice commander, told a news conference at Otis.

Waterford Use of Land-Fill Near

A proposal enabling Waterford Township residents to use Pontiac's land-fill site split the City Commission last night, but drew majority support of a resolution to initiate a contract with the township.

Commissioners voted 4-2 in favor of the measure, with Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. voicing objections, but abstaining on the roll call.

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. and District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin opposed the proposal.

contract last week. Commissioners at that time tabled the proposal, however, suggesting further study of the request.

Hints that commissioners were less than happy with previous joint efforts between the city and the township were at least partly confirmed by remarks made by Taylor last night.

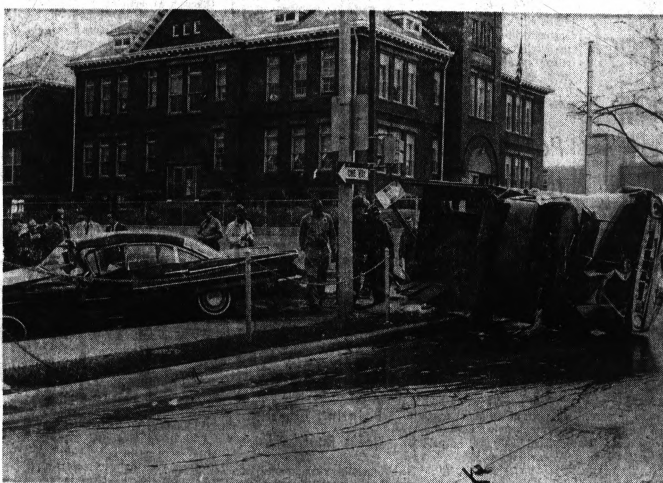

'HARD TO TAKE'

"We were led to believe Waterford would join us in the city sewer project," Taylor said, "then we read in the paper they had gone with the county."

"That was a little bit hard to take—frankly, I won't support this waste disposal contract until we get some co-operation from the township on joint street lighting on Telegraph."

The city has unsuccessfully sought a cooperative lighting project on Telegraph.

Terms of the disposal contract are similar to those of a previous agreement with West Bloomfield Township. Private citizens are granted use of the dump on a fee basis.

CAR-TRUCK CRASH—Police and onlookers survey the damage caused when a pickup truck and car collided at Wide Track and Pike about 8:20 a.m. today. Police used a crowbar to free Mrs. J. F. Martineau, 47, of 95 N. Astor, driver of the car, from the wreckage. She was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where she underwent surgery. She is reported in serious condition. Alvin Birdette, 18, of 75 Willard, driver of the truck, his twin brother, Calvin, and four other youths on their way to classes at Pontiac Central High School were taken for X rays at Pontiac General, police said.

U.S. Presses War, Hits Hanoi-Area Bridge

SAIGON (U) — U. S. Air Force pilots pressed their war against the Hanoi area with unrelenting fury today, bombing a key railway and highway bridge across the Red River four miles from the center of the North Vietnamese capital.

The steel and concrete bridge carries the only rail line between Red China and the North Vietnamese capital, the U.S. Command said.

U. S. spokesmen were unable to give an immediate assessment of damage to the bridge.

They said it was a steel and concrete structure with five spans, 738 feet long and 20 feet wide, and with the center span is movable to allow passage of ships.

Other Air Force raiders from Thailand made the second attack in two days of an electrical transformer site seven miles north of Hanoi.

It was the third consecutive day of American raids on prime targets in North Vietnam's Hanoi-Haiphong heartland.

Pilots returning from the raids reported heavy opposition from anti-aircraft fire, surface-to-air missiles and MIG jets.

The American spokesman made no report of any planes downed, but a dispatch from Hanoi to Tass, the Soviet news agency, said a missile brought down one plane near Hanoi in flames and that radio Haiphong reported four American planes and a helicopter were shot down there.

Romney Trip Plan Is Told—by Zolton!

LANSING (AP) — Advance word on a rumored Latin American trip by Republican Gov. Romney came today from an unexpected source — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency.

Romney sources repeated today that no plans have been firmed up for the trip.

They expressed surprise at Ferency's disclosure made in a release issued by the Democratic State Committee.

Without saying how he came by the information, which Romney has not made public, Ferency said the governor planned to be absent from Michigan from May 26 through June 20.

"His tour includes visits to Bogota, Colombia; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Lima, Peru; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; and Santiago, Chile," Ferency said.

There was no GOP comment on the Ferency disclosure.

Senate Passes Road Fund Bills

LANSING (U) — Bills which could raise approximately $61 million for highway maintenance by boosting the state gasoline tax one penny and raising license plate costs passed the Senate yesterday and now move to the House.

The four-bill package, supported by Gov. George Romney, the Michigan Good Roads Federation, the Highway Department and other groups, would:

- Raise the state gasoline tax from six cents per gallon to seven cents to produce an estimated $32 million more annually.
- Raise the passenger car weight tax from 35 cents per 100 pounds to 55 cents, producing an expected $23.6 million a year.
- Increase by about 10 per cent the commercial vehicle weight taxes to give the state another $4 million a year.
- Shift distribution of motor vehicle highway funds, taking 1 per cent each away from the state and counties and adding 2 per cent to the cities and villages share.

Under the new distribution schedule, the state would receive 46 per cent of the money, the counties 34 per cent and the cities and villages 20 per cent.

The gasoline tax increase was the only bill running into more than token opposition on the Senate floor, passing 24-9 with 20 votes needed for passage. The three companion measures passed easily.

Opponents of the gas tax boost were led by Democratic Sens. John Bowman of Roseville and Garland Lane of Flint. They charged that the Highway Department is overstuffed and many department employees are being paid for doing nothing.

"I'm voting 'No' not because I'm opposed to improved highways, but because of the unwillingness of the department to do something about the employee situation," Bowman said.

New Animal Welfare Chief Is Named

A former Michigan Racing Commission veterinarian was appointed yesterday as director of the Oakland County Animal Welfare Division.

comes effective July 1 on the retirement of Dr. Frank R. Bates.

On the staff of the Oakland County Health Department since 1959, Wilson, 52, of 211 Walnut, Rochester, has occasionally served as acting director.

As director Wilson will receive an annual salary of $11,000.

Wilson received his veterinary degree from Michigan State University in 1936, and a master of science degree in bacteriology three years later.

GENERAL SANITATION

In recent years, he has been assigned to the general sanitation division of the health department.

A native of Rochester (he was born on the Parke, Davis Parkedale Farm where his father Robert was superintendent for 39 years) Wilson was state veterinarian for the racing commission for a year before joining the county.

Wilson also was with Parke, Davis for five years in the 1940s as a clinical investigator in the Veterinary Medical Service of the pharmaceutical company.

He and his wife Della have one daughter, Laura Lou, 19, a student at Michigan State University.

House Passes Nine 'Quiet' Bills

LANSING (AP) — Unlicensed drivers, salesmen who change the mileage readings on autos, and an excused absence by a member were among the subjects which occupied the House Tuesday.

But the chamber, in a full day of efforts to put a dent in its 250-item calendar before taking up tax reform today, passed only nine bills, few of them controversial.

The two most-debated measures passed would increase minimum penalties for driving with a revoked or suspended license and make it a misdemeanor to change an auto's odometer to a lower mileage figure.

Another flurry of debate began when Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, after requesting and getting an excused absence from today's session for his law-maker father, asked to be excused himself.

Normally, granting requests for excused absences is a routine matter—but this was a bit different. With a vote on a controversial state income tax bill possible today, some legislators apparently felt the younger Montgomery should stand up and be counted on that roll call.

Montgomery said he and his father, Democrats from adjoining Detroit districts, were both ill. The elder Montgomery was absent all day Tuesday, and the son was gone in the afternoon.

"If I feel better tomorrow, I'll be here," snipped George F. Montgomery when his request for an excused absence met with objections.

Warned of the not-to-serious possibility that he might be compelled to be in the House, he added: "I doubt if the State Police will be able to find me."

The State Constitution and the House rules provide the House can force a member to attend a session.

The House voted 79-10 to excuse Montgomery.

ODOMETER-SETTING BILL

The odometer-setting bill was sponsored by Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint. Kildee said he sold a car with 44,000 miles on it to a

"reputable, franchised dealer" who changed the mileage indicator figure to 25,000 before reselling it.

The measure would make it a misdemeanor to lower a motor vehicle's odometer reading or cause it to be lowered.

Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, an auto dealer, voted against the measure, claiming: "You just plain couldn't enforce it."

The revoked-license bill made only minor changes in criminal penalties, although its sponsor, Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, originally had other ideas.

ORIGINAL BILL

As introduced, O'Brien's bill would have provided that a judge must sentence anyone convicted of driving while revoked or suspended, or after his license application was denied, to at least 30 days in jail.

O'Brien wanted a mandatory sentence of at least 90 days for a second offense.

Under current law, the minimum sentence for each offense is two days in jail. The House voted to change it to three days for a first offense and five for a subsequent conviction.

An unsuccessful attempt to delete entirely the mandatory sentence for first offenders was made by members of the House Judiciary Committee, who claimed that it is the only place in Michigan's lawbooks where a first conviction of a misdemeanor automatically puts the defendant in jail.

OTHER BILLS

Other bills passed and sent to the Senate would extend to non-partisan elections the practices of distinguishing on the ballot candidates with similar names, require removal of duck blinds from nonpartisan waters within 15 days after the end of the waterfowl season, and permit the revocation of a driver's license if a person loans or borrows a license or alters his own.

3rd Candidate in School Race

A painting contractor has made the Pontiac Board of Education election in June a three-man race for two seats.

Victor L. Smothers, 48, of 203 Wolfe, has filed a nominating petition to run in the June 12 contest.

Smothers, once a painter employed by the board, was a defeated candidate in last summer's school board election.

A disabled veteran, he is now a self-employed contract painter.

The two incumbents, Monroe M. Osmon and Russell L. Brown, have already filed for reelection. Deadline for the filing of candidates is 4 p.m. May 13.

Gets Hero's Funeral Today

MOSCOW (AP) — Engineer-Col. Vladimir M. Komarov, the Soviet cosmonaut killed Monday in the crash landing of the new spaceship he was testing, was given a hero's funeral in Red Square today before more than 5,000 mourners.

Komarov's ashes were to be placed in the red brick Kremlin wall.

As the chimneys of the Kremlin tower struck 3 p.m., Russia's leaders and the Soviet citizens gathered in the huge square to pay their last respects to Komarov.

Leveling of Dip to Close Street

Oakland Avenue between Sanderson and the Cass-Montclair intersection will be closed to through traffic for two weeks starting tomorrow, the Michigan State Highway Department announced today.

The department will level a dip in the road near the Cass-Montclair intersection during the period.

During the construction, northbound Oakland traffic will be rerouted west on Sanderson and then north on Cass.

Robert Coe, project engineer, said Oakland will not be closed until after the morning rush hour tomorrow.

Local traffic will be allowed to use Oakland during construction, he said.

They Sing the Pothole Blues

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — "Spring is breaking up those old roads of ours" is the lament of residents in Kirkwood Subdivision near Quanton and Inkster.

About 75 of them appeared recently before the Township Board asking for some relief.

The board was able to promise that some repair work could be done.

Most of the roads in the subdivision are either not paved or the original blacktopping proved inadequate and fell victim to the bad weather.

A budget for the coming fiscal year of $1,125,332 was approved after a public hearing. The proposed income for the period was set at the same figure.

BIRMINGHAM — A new center for community service has opened in the Birmingham Theater Building, 231 S. Woodward.

It is the Oakland County branch of the Central Volunteer Bureau, part of the United Community Services (UCS) of Birmingham.

Heading the office is Mrs. Geraldine Clemmons of 1423 Rutland.

She will operate a central clearinghouse for health and welfare agencies and for citizens who wish to volunteer service.

Mrs. Clemmons has been active in youth programs in the metropolitan area. The new facility is sponsored by the UCS and the Junior League of Birmingham.

County Group Cites Retiring Area Officials

A gold plaque was given last night to retiring board member J. Clifford Metty of 1947 Lakeland, Sylvan Lake, for 10 years of service to the Catholic Social Services of Oakland County.

The award was presented before some 300 persons at the United Fund agency's annual dinner at Kingsley Inn.

Other area retiring board members receiving awards were Donald J. MacKinnon of 23486 Ridgewood, Farmington Township, for seven years of service; William J. Markley of 5719 Reebury, Bloomfield Township; and John F. Foley of 523 Mohegan, Birmingham. Markley and Foley had served four years.

After the award presentation, Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of Lansing and bishop-elect of Reno, Nev., spoke about the Michigan Catholic Conference. He is assistant treasurer of the 5-year-old organization.

He said the conference is a practical day-to-day effort to meet the problems of the modern world in Michigan.

He explained the conference speaks of the relevance of the church in our time.

ANNUAL REPORT

The agency's annual report indicated services were offered to 2,801 families in 33,082 interviews in 1966. Also that 374 children were given a total of 56,696 days care in placement, and 49 infants were placed in adoption during year.

Officers elected at a recent board meeting are Joseph B. Depman of 10080 Buckingham, Birmingham, president; Charles F. Audette of 25309 Ridgewood, Farmington Township, first vice president; John J. Crimmon of 5860 Havens, Dryden Township, second vice president; Mark A. Benner of 27150 Orchard Lake, Farmington Township, treasurer; and Mrs. Katherine Baker of 5581 Park, West Bloomfield Township, corresponding secretary.

OEO Fund Setback Linked to PR Gap

A public relations gap was cited today by a member of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCEO) as the main reason the commission's plea for county funds was given a "hostile reception" by the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Rabbi Ernst J. Conrad proposed that the OCEO call a special private meeting in an attempt to upgrade public relations and brighten the image of the war on poverty.

He referred to the April 4 meeting of commission officials with the ways and means committee at which a plea was made for a $25,000 emergency county appropriation this year and a budget allocation of $46,350 next year.

The committee rejected the requests due to lack of funding flexibility in the current budget as well as in the tentative 1968 budget. The door was left open, however, for further negotiation for 1968 aid.

Mrs. Horace Sheldon, who was acting chairman at yesterday's OCEO session, said the commission's plea for county funds was given a "hostile reception" by the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

LBj, Bonn Leader Okay Consultations

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Johnson said today he and West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger agreed they would have "constant, complete and full consultations" before either of their governments takes decisions on matters of interest to both countries.

The President spoke to newsmen after his second meeting with the West German chancellor, since his arrival Sunday for the funeral of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Johnson said he and Kiesinger had taken "no hard and fast decisions" but he hoped there would be more to announce after the Chancellor visits the United States "at an early date."

The two men spent more than two hours together at Kiesinger's residence. The President said they discussed:

1. The projected treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons;

2. Trade and monetary problems;

3. Troop deployment;

4. The security of the two nations;

5. The prosperity of their peoples.

Secretaries Merit National Salute

"Behind every successful man sits a woman"—and five will get you ten that the woman is his secretary.

It is she who deftly keeps the office timetable on schedule, insulates her boss against unwelcome visitors, reminds him of his wife's birthday and secretly cleans up the goofs in his dictation.

Since "no man is a hero to his valet," so, we suspect, that no secretary has any illusions about the nobility of her boss.

She sees him as a mere man, pretty dependent upon a good wife and a good secretary to keep his affairs in order and frequently to dig him out of self-made difficulties.

Which doesn't mean that she thinks any the less of him because of his human frailties. The loyalty of a secretary to her boss at times passes all understanding, and if you think a woman can't keep a secret, just try to pry something out of her pretty little head that her much-maligned feminine intuition tells her shouldn't be let out.

Secretaries do their jobs efficiently and unobtrusively — with little expectation of appreciative expressions from their bosses. Which is a good thing, because they rarely get any.

That is why we are currently observing National Secretaries Week — to pay fitting tribute to the gals who run the Nation's private offices. It could also serve to remind the boss that if he has a good secretary he'd better hang on to her. He'll find himself in one heck of a mess if he doesn't.

America Is Moved by Russian Space Tragedy

Tragedy is no respecter of nationality, and America today joins Russia in mourning the loss of her veteran and renowned cosmonaut, VLADIMIR KOMAROV, on an ill-fated space mission. KOMAROV's shocking death followed by three months that of three American astronauts who were testing a spacecraft for the first of a new series of maneuvers preparatory for a moon expedition.

Komarov was the sole occupant of Soyuz I, presumably launched ahead of another craft that would carry several cosmonauts and effect a space rendezvous during which crew members would move from ship to ship.

It is believed that the second spacecraft failed in its mission and KOMAROV, after orbiting for 24 hours, was ordered back to earth. It was in making descent that the craft's giant parachute malfunctioned and the cosmonaut crashed to his death.

KOMAROV's flight marked Russia's first space effort in 25 months and had given rise to speculation that it would reveal spectacular progress in the Soviet Union's moon race with the United States.

Now the failure of Soyuz I has likewise slowed Russia's lunar timetable much as the Apollo I disaster did that of the United States.

Could it be that the twin tragedies will bring the two countries closer in their space designs, and in the future lead to joint exploration of the universe rather than the continuation of the wasteful and pointless rivalry "to get there first?"

Virginia Teachers Go Into Acronymic Action

It used to be the three Rs that teachers were concerned with. Now it's the whole alphabet, in the form of such things as PACE, VISTA, CORE, IDEA, HARYOU, etc.

Teachers in Kanawha County, W.Va., are fighting back, reports the National Education Association. Their staff newsletter has suggested one more agency to end all agencies: Redirected, Unilateral and Multifaceted Plans to Elevate Lower Strata and Timid Individuals and to Liven and Train Scared Kids in Need. RUMPELSTILTSKIN, anyone?

Presidential Nesting Season Is Here

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This is the presidential nesting season when the possible candidates attract attention by ruffling their vocal cords while trying to avoid laying an egg or saying yes or no positively.

Even Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, didn't say "absolutely not, under any circumstances" when he was questioned Monday at the annual meeting of the Associated Press.

He was asked if it was true he might be coming home one of these days and that he would have political ambitions if he did.

"I am a soldier," Westmoreland said, "and I think I have a fairly important job in South Vietnam today, and as such, I'd have no political intentions, ambitions or aspirations, and I will remain at my post as long as my superior authorities wish me to do so."

But this still wasn't a flat refusal to consider the nomination if it were offered him.

BACK FROM TOUR
Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is back from a world tour — he stopped off in Vietnam for a look-see — with information and opinions which ought to give him a lot of talking points if the Republicans pick him.

He still hasn't said he wants the nomination, or will try for it, but just a few days ago in Taipei he left the doors open by saying something so obvious it meant nothing.

He said no one could predict what the future held for him in terms of an active part in a political campaign. But a group backing him for the Republican nomination has opened a headquarters in New York from the White House.

Nixon is going to have opposition if he does run, right in his own neighborhood.

ROMNEY OFFICE
Backers of Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney opened Romney-for-president headquarters in Washington last month, two blocks from the White House.

He was much less positive when asked if he would seek the presidential nomination. "I don't know," he said.

For a man who says he doesn't know the answer to that question, he is spending an awful lot of time going around making speeches and keeping in the public eye.

If he just wanted to remain a governor, he could save a lot of breath by staying in his office.

LOTS OF ATTENTION
And then there's Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy, already being talked of as maybe the bright hope of the Republican party in the 1968 presidential race.

For a man so new in the Senate — he arrived in January — he has been getting a lot of attention with a lot of speeches, and on big issues, like the war in Vietnam.

On the war he has taken a kind of middle ground, which may have a broad appeal, saying he is neither a hawk nor a dove, nor, for that matter, an owl. For instance, he is not for unilaterally ending the war but is against escalating it; but he is a little hard to follow on bombing.

He is against bombing North Vietnam but only if the North Vietnamese are willing to make a concession in return but at the same time he would like to see the bombing more limited than it is, say to the infiltration routes from the north.

But on the CBS television show "Face the Nation" Sunday he took quite a bit of time saying "I cannot foresee" circumstances that would make him a presidential candidate and saying he was not a candidate. But he didn't say he wouldn't step at the chance of being one.

Not Doing The Job!

David Lawrence Says:

War Critics Must Be Countered

WASHINGTON — President Johnson may have to ask a joint session of the House and Senate to pass a resolution which will tell the world that American policy in Vietnam has the support of the representatives of the American people — namely, LAWRENCE.

This step is being forced upon the administration as a result of the bitter criticism coming from its own leaders in the Senate.

Thus, for example, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has publicly accused Gen. Westmoreland of trying to squelch independent discussion of the Vietnam war because in the military commander's speech in New York he had said antiwar protests are encouraging the enemy and costing the lives of our fighting men.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., has charged the Johnson administration with a "policy of madness" in escalating the Vietnam war. He declared:

"In trying to imply that it is American dissent which is causing the Vietnamese to continue the war, the administration is only confessing the weakness of its own case by trying to silence its critics and confuse the American people."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., expressed his approval of Sen. McGovern's speech, as did Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska.

Sen. Fulbright questioned whether the administration has "any intention" of entering into negotiations of "any sort" with Hanoi, and he added:

"This criticism of dissent will lead to a charge of disloyalty . . . and from that to treason."

The impression created abroad by the debate undoubtedly will be that a sizable segment of the United States Senate disapproves of the Vietnam war and the strategy being followed there by the United States and its allies.

Under such circumstances, how can the world learn the truth about American opinion? The Washington Post editorially suggests what it calls an effective remedy — namely, that the President go to Congress not for a declaration of war but for a resolution of support for the war in Vietnam as it is.

If Mr. Johnson asked for a new resolution and failed to get it, it would be a humiliating spectacle before the world.

On the other hand, the resolution passed overwhelmingly, it would help convince the enemy — especially the Communist regimes in Peking and Moscow — that the United States is not going to withdraw or surrender, but will continue to fight until the North Vietnamese agree to some kind of cease-fire or armistice.

Bob Considine Says:

New Assassination Book Sticks With the Truth

NEW YORK — After you finish reading William Manchester's "The Death of a President," and if you have retained your eyesight, pick up Charles Roberts' "The Truth About the Assassination."

The truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth costs a buck, one-tenth of what Manchester's publishers are charging for something which at times is considerably less than unalloyed truth.

Chuck Roberts is White House correspondent for Newsweek magazine and is one of the most respected newsmen on the Washington beat.

He was in the press box during the fatal procession past the Texas School Book Depository, was one of three newsmen invited to return to Washington in Air Force One with the new president and the body of the old.

Roberts' slender, sparsely told 128-page book, published by Grosset & Dunlap, draws the first clear picture of what took place on the eerie flight.

DEALS WITH SIDE ISSUES
In addition he deals as any honest newsmen would with such bloated and mishapen side issues as the second gunman theory, the single bullet problem, the Oswald-Ruby-Tippit "conspiracy," and the 18 "mysterious" deaths that have come to persons remotely connected with the story.

The book is current and choice enough to take up the investigation by New Orleans DA Jim Garrison — and clober it.

"The truth about the assassination of John F. Kennedy is that the Warren Commission reached the only conclusions that are tenable to reasonable men," Roberts concludes.

"The truth, extracted and distilled from the 10 million words in his hearings, is borne out by the hard, physical evidence as well as the most credible eyewitness testimony. It is the truth, in Earl Warren's phrase, "as far as it can be discovered."

"An additional truth is that the critics of the commission report have neither raised questions nor produced new evidence that could alter the commission's findings if a new inquiry were undertaken.

"Finally, it is true, as Britain's Lord Devlin has observed, that 'the best tribute to the solidity of the report comes from its critics.'"

Voice of the People:

Sees Solution to Crime in Capital Punishment

Many are fed up with the present crime situation, especially when it involves small children. They are a God-given gift and it is our responsibility to see that they have the opportunity to reach adulthood without some maniac or sex deviate cutting their lives short or leaving them permanent emotional invalids.

I have always opposed capital punishment but in the last few weeks I have come to realize that this is our only solution. A lot of these acts of violence would not occur if these "nuts" had any idea that they would pay for their "kicks" with their own life. I have written to Senator Harvey Lodge concerning this and invite anyone who shares my opinion to do the same.

If it weren't for the people of Michigan doing away with capital punishment, a little girl in Grand Ledge might be alive and happy. I think we should have a national law to take care of all rapists and it should read: "If a man cannot control his manhood, it shall be taken from him." It's going to be up to the women of our country to get some laws with teeth in them. So, come on girls, start writing your congressmen.

In view of the recent abuse case in Detroit, this would be an opportune time to appeal to all parents to stop and realize that our children must be raised with love, kindness and care. Good parents deserve a pat on the back.

Feeding pigeons or any birds or animals can certainly be God's desire. But more importantly, He doesn't want the birds and beasts to interfere with the orderly lives of His people here below. formed an interagency anti-bird committee.

This has launched a program including lead "crack-ers" shells fired from guns, the draining of ponds near airports, the cutting of weeds, and even poisoning.

Surely the startling has come a long way since it first emigrated to this country in 1880, brought here by a well-meaning bird lover who wanted to see all the birds mentioned by Shakespeare in Central Park. Now they are costing the air force an estimated 10 million dollars a year in damages.

Even more important, they are proliferating at such a rate as to become a danger to life.

A modern-day type scarecrow is doing the same thing almost with no taxpayers.

Reports say that some $6 millions has been sent into the U.S. Treasury during the past five years by people who have neglected to pay their taxes.

The government scarecrow responsible for all the "conscience" money is the Internal Revenue Service's new automatic processing system. The system is supposed to make sure that all returns that should be filed are filed and that all taxes that should be paid are paid.

It seems to be doing a pretty good job of it. And retroactively.

Present Life Is Difficult

Outlook Brighter for Viet Refugees

By HARRY KRAMER
PHU LOI, Vietnam (AP) — What happens to Vietnamese peasants when military action forces them out of their home areas?

Here at Phu Loi the immediate answer is not encouraging, but the outlook is rosier. A hot, dusty tent city has been home for 3,200 refugees for three months.

For 20 years the Iron Triangle north of Saigon was undisputed Communist territory, providing easy access into Saigon and between War Zone C to the west and D to the northeast.

Last January, during Operation Cedar Falls, 11 hamlets in the triangle were evacuated, the homes were burned and bulldozers moved in to finish the job.

TENT CITY
About 5,900 refugees, with what livestock and household possessions they could salvage, were brought to the tent city to await movement to a permanent government-built settlement.

The tent city is still a dirty, congested place.

Women carrying rusted buckets crowd about concrete water cisterns. Scraggly ducks, chickens, turkeys and pigs wander through the roads between makeshift tents. Mad wallows for the animals are scattered through the area, attracting flies.

The tents are patchwork affairs, made of canvas, cardboard, burlap and corrugated tin.

The new hamlet under construction, named Ap Binh Hoa and filled with bright rows of aluminum-roofed houses, is starting to receive its first families. The rest are to be moved in at the rate of 50 families per week. It is hoped the move will be complete by the end of May when the rainy season sets in.

VIET PROGRAM

The United States is spending several hundred thousand dollars on this single resettlement program but U.S. officials consider it a Vietnamese government program.

One hundred persons identified as Vietcong have been arrested in the camp itself. This month a Vietnamese was caught crawling out of the camp carrying a coded message which was found to say "the organization of my mission has been completed." It is not known what the mission was.

Vietcong propaganda aimed at the tent city residents has been heavy — and there has been much to make propaganda about.

There were times when no water was available for more than a day. Food distribution at times was insufficient. The tents are stifling hot during the day and cold at night.

Of the 5,900 men, women and children moved here, only 3,200 remained as the move to Ap Binh Hoa began.

Some of the original number went back to their farm areas, which now are in an area open to firing at will. During the Vietnamese new year festival the Binh Duong Province chief allowed about 1,800 persons to leave. Several hundred others were relocated.

There were times, U.S. officials admit, when this resettlement program could have turned into a disaster.

Fewer than 500 men were among the original 5,900 Ben Suc refugees. It was estimated more than 800 men from the hamlets stayed behind with the Vietcong in the bush.

SCHOOL

However, a school has been started for 585 children. Most of the teachers are Vietnamese government soldiers who were teachers before they were drafted. Milk and vitamins are distributed to the children.

name, Philippine and Korean medical teams make periodic visits. Most families have had to sell much of their household possessions to buy meat and vegetables to supplement the quart of rice given each person daily.

Stalin's Daughter Eyes Sequel to Her Memoirs

NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Alliluyeva reportedly is considering writing a sequel to her soon-to-be-published memoirs describing her life in the Soviet Union after the death of Stalin, her father.

She has told friends the book might center on the disillusionment she and other Russian liberals experienced when curbs on free expression were not lifted following the dictator's death.

Her first book, to be published by Harper & Row Oct. 16, ends with her father's death and deals with her childhood, family life and gradual estrangement from Stalin.

When she arrived here from Switzerland last Friday, she explained in a statement she had come "to seek the self-expression that has been denied me so long in Russia."

NEWS CONFERENCE
Today Mrs. Alliluyeva will hold a news conference at which she is expected to enlarge on that statement and detail her future plans. It will be televised and broadcast live by all major networks beginning at 2 p.m. EST.

Reporters were asked to submit their questions in writing in advance for the scheduled one-hour session at the Plaza Hotel.

On her arrival, Mrs. Alliluyeva greeted newsmen at Kennedy airport warmly but declined to answer questions. Her written statement said she had grown disillusioned with communism with age and experience.

Moreover, Mrs. Alliluyeva, 42, declared, "I found that it was impossible to exist without God in one's heart."

The tent city is still a dirty, congested place.

'Scheduling Is Car Safety Key'

DETROIT (AP)—Lynn Townsend, board chairman of Chrysler Corp., said Tuesday effective, practical safety standards depend upon a better understanding of the auto industry's requirements for lead time.

He said an understanding of the need for working on new models according to carefully planned schedules also is cause of highway safety.

"In the automobile industry, the design of such critical parts of a new model as sheet metal and the basic configuration of the instrument panel must be completed and turned over to the engineering at least two years ahead of new model introduction," Townsend said.

The scarcity of ivory to make billiard balls led to the offer of a $10,000 prize for artificial ivory, which brought the experimenting and finally the making of different kinds of plastic.

'M' Team Lofts Space Probes

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A University of Michigan research team yesterday launched two space probes at Cape Kennedy, to help in predicting spacecraft lifetimes.

The instrument packages, designed at the university's space physics research laboratory, were sent aloft on Nike Tomahawk rockets. Both ascended 210 miles.

They gathered data on the variability of atmospheric neutral molecular nitrogen and electron density and temperatures. The findings, said a university spokesman, will help scientists estimate the drag on spacecrafts and thus predict their lifetimes more accurately.

'In Cold Blood' Film—3

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
GARDEN CITY, Kan. — Truman Capote dabbed at his nose with a tissue and said in his small-boy's voice: "It's my own fault, I guess, riding all the way from Kansas City with the top down in a convertible."

The author had made the 400-mile trip to witness the filming of his nonfiction novel, "In Cold Blood," and he was suffering the consequences.

Capote was staying at the West Land Motel, where he had lived during his research into the 1959 murders of the Clutter family. His feelings upon returning to Garden City were mixed.

"I spent a great deal of time here—18 months in all," he explained. "During that time I made some very good friends with people who didn't know who on earth I was. I mean they viewed with a kind of fascination this strange little nut who was interested in a rather obscure murder case."

"I like seeing my friends again, but really, what is there to do in Garden City, Kan?"

One thing was to visit the set of "In Cold Blood," and he was pleased with what he saw. "It seemed to me like a very close-knit, smooth-running organization," he remarked. "You can usually tell when something is going to be successful; there is an undercurrent of excitement."

Though indoors, Capote was bundled up in a fleeced-lined jacket with a dark-blue baseball cap atop his thinning hair. He wore dark glasses and his cherubic face was ruddy from the long drive from Kansas City.

He said that the Richard Brooks script was a condensation of his book — "It had to be condensed, or it would be a nine-hour movie."

Producer-director Brooks had carried out his specification, said Capote, that the movie had to be shot in black and white with unknowns.

What about John Forsythe, who plays the killers' nemesis, Alvin Dewey of the Kansas Bureau of Investigation?

"Well, John Forsythe was unknown to me," said the author with a high giggle. "So Brooks still adhered to my specification. Besides, Forsythe has an absolutely uncanny resemblance to Dewey."

IT'S FRIGHTENING'

"And the two killers, too. They are so much like the real figures that it is positively frightening. Especially the dark one. He is the absolute image of Perry Smith. The other fellow doesn't have the same likeness; he is a bit taller. But he has the same feeling. It's eerie, it really is."

Far from despairing of the nonfiction novel, he intends to try another after he finishes his work in progress, a novel. "I have already chosen the subject," he said with a sly smile. "It is a noncriminal story, but of course I'm not going to tell anyone what it's about."

Crime News - Jury Link to Be Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — J. Howard Wood, publisher of the Chicago Tribune and president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, announced today that a grant of $150,000 would be presented soon to the ANPA Foundation to finance a study of the relationship between pretrial crime news and the jury system.

The money will come from the Robert R. McCormick Charitable Trust, created by the late editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Wood said, "My trustees of the Robert R. McCormick Charitable Trust believe there is no better way faithfully to discharge the stewardship placed upon us by the colonel than for his trust to finance a study that will objectively determine whether there is in fact any basis for the claim that crime news reporting prevents a fair trial."

"The terms of the grant," Wood said, "will provide that an outside, independent organization is to be engaged to determine, after appropriate study, investigation and evaluation, whether pretrial news reports preclude obtaining an impartial jury. I am sure that jurists, and lawyers as well, will be interested in the results of the proposed inquiry."

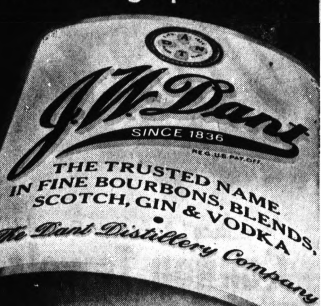

Wood noted that the American Bar Association has recently written that the bar and the press should keep the dialogue between the two bodies concerning the "free press-fair trial" controversy current.

Wood said he thought the bar would welcome an inquiry into the issue "for it certainly would provide a factual basis for continuing our conversation. Indeed, it is difficult to me to see how any further exchange of ideas would be fruitful without such a study."

Meet Lady Bird's Kitchen Cabinet—All Doers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just as President Johnson has a cabinet, so does his first lady.

or given designated functions, Lady Bird Johnson's cabinet is nonetheless effective — in a woman's way — over coffee and cake, planning projects.

Some call it the kitchen cabinet. The cabinet fluctuates, but always it involves personal friends and staff who act as the first lady's spokesmen, aides and ambassadors. They are women who try to personalize the Great Society, who keep the White House in touch with what the public — particularly women — think and need.

Some say Lady Bird's beautification drive, her interest in the Head Start project for preschool children, and many tips ideas have come out of Kitchen Cabinet think sessions.

'DOERS'

Each member, in her own way, reflects the First Lady's ideas. To use a Johnson term, each is a "doer."

The Kitchen Cabinet:

• Mrs. Robert S. McNamara: wife of the secretary of defense, Margy McNamara says "I never live anywhere that I am not involved with the community itself."

She sees the woman's role as "being able to personalize, to bring feminine insights and instincts into a male centered society."

COMMENTED

Receiving an award for Project Head Start, she was commended as "one of those who serve not to get their picture taken, but who come back again and again."

• Mrs. Orville L. Freeman: wife of the secretary of agriculture, and as a former first lady of the state of Minnesota, she is familiar with First Lady duties.

Enthusiastic over Mrs. Johnson's beautification project, she volunteered to give tourists personal tours of the Washington area. She often aids Lady Bird at receptions, and at one, the President slipped up behind her with a kiss.

• Mrs. W. Willard Wirtz: wife of the secretary of labor, Jane Wirtz is an athletically minded outspoken blonde with a zest for outdoor life and children.

She has spent much time in a library aid program and Widen Horizons, a reading tutorial volunteer program.

• Mrs. Dean Rusk: wife of the secretary of state, Virginia Rusk shuns publicity. But perhaps more than any other wife in government, she shares her husband's workload. Nightly, she stands in for him at embassy receptions. Her presence on embassy row is considered "official."

Mrs. Rusk rarely forgets a name. Foreign envoys adore her. She contributes to the American image in diplomatic Washington more than any other woman, outside of the First Lady herself.

• Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey: wife of the vice president. As the second lady of the land, Muriel Humphrey appears with Lady Bird at many official functions and presides at many herself. She is a longtime friend of Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Humphrey heads beautification of the capitol and serves on the President's Committee on Mental Retardation.

DEDICATED

"This is a new kind of administration," Mrs. Humphrey has said. "In other times, wives appeared and just looked pretty. These women (surrounding the First Lady) have offered of their own selves and dedicated themselves as well."

• Elizabeth Carpenter: Lady Bird's press secretary. This is the witty dynamo of the kitchen cabinet and the First Lady's speech writer, mentor, friend and image maker. She's the middle-man with the press and rarely out of contact with her boss.

• Mrs. Hale Boggs: wife of the House majority whip, Lindy Boggs has known Lady Bird since they met as congressional wives in 1941.

When the Boggs' daughter married last summer, the President, Lady Bird and daughter Lynda attended. The first lady said she wouldn't think of missing.

SPEAKER

Mrs. Boggs has made speeches explaining the First Lady's programs and is active in Project Head Start.

• Mrs. Dale Miller: fellow Texan and wife of a lobbyist, "Scooter" Miller is perhaps one of the First Lady's oldest, dearest Texas friends. She helps indirectly in many ways — giving parties, advice, manpower behind the scenes.

Her daughter, Marta, works in Liz Carpenter's office and is a close friend of Luci and Lynda.

• Bess Abell: White House social secretary. This tall blonde handles all the social arrangements for teas, luncheons, state dinners and White House entertaining.

Bess is the daughter of former Kentucky governor Earle Clements and the wife of former assistant postmaster general Tyler Abell. Her young son is named Lyndon.

The kitchen cabinet is a nebulous, rotating world. The list could be endless. Out-of-towners who might sit in while visiting include Mrs. John Connally, wife of the governor of Texas, or Mrs. Arthur J. Goldberg, wife of the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, or Mrs. Mary Lasker, New York philanthropist.

OLD FRIENDS

Mrs. Johnson's 'Kitchen Cabinet' McNamara; Liz Carpenter; Mrs. Dean Rusk and Mrs. Willard Wirtz. Includes (from left) the vice president's wife, Mrs. Hubert Humphrey; Mrs. Robert

Real Tips on Gratuities

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: If you suspect that your friend who also is a waiter might feel "insulted" should you try to tip him, why put a strain on the friendship? Eat somewhere else.

And one should not go to a restaurant where his friend is working expecting to "socialize" with him. Do your socializing when you are both off duty.

ABBY

I was a waiter for many years and some of my best friends still are, so I am not talking through my teeth.

HOLLYWOOD BROWN
DERBY

DEAR ABBY: To tip or not to tip a waiter who is also a good friend:

Since tips are his main source of income, why not? I have no qualms whatsoever accepting payment for the dental work I do for my friends.

NEWCASTLE DENTIST

DEAR ABBY: I am a waiter in one of the most famous resorts in the Catskills, so I can speak with some authority on whether to tip a friend who waits on you. The friend who sits at your table is taking up the same amount of space and time as a stranger would, so I say he should leave a tip.

I might add that I have been a waiter for nearly 20 years and I saw only one waiter who was "insulted" when a friend of his left a tip. (This waiter went to the men's room and cried, so you know what kind of "man" he was.)

SIGN ME AL

DEAR ABBY: Offering a tip to a waiter who also is a personal friend is as justified as paying for groceries even though the grocer is your grandfather.

An exception may be noted: If the waiter invites you to drop by for an evening to enjoy the cuisine and the show, a tip would not be in order since it was his suggestion that you spend an evening at his table.

RUSSELL AT THE FLAME ROOM

DEAR ABBY: Waiters very often belong to a "pool" or "kitty," and must share their tips with other waiters, busboys, and sometimes captains, so they cannot rightfully refuse tips that do not belong to them entirely.

That is why my husband who is a waiter is obliged to accept a tip from his own father!

WATER'S WIFE

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Rose M. Seibert Honored as Secretary of Year

By JUNE ELERT

"Willing, dependable, good-humored," are terms used by Marvin M. Alward, former City of Pontiac director of finance, to describe outstanding attributes of Rose M. Seibert, his secretary for eight-and-a-half years.

She is being honored tonight as Secretary of the Year by the Pontiac chapter, National Secretaries Association (International).

"Determination, drive, and a refusal to rest on her laurels" are characteristics of Miss Seibert which have impressed Edward R. Gallagher, her new boss in the city's finance department.

He says he relies heavily on her general competence and knowledge of the accounting operation to assist him in these early days of familiarizing himself with his new responsibilities as Alward's successor.

Miss Seibert has been employed by the City since 1949 when she was hired as clerk-typist in the personnel department. She stayed in that classification just four days before being promoted to clerk-stenographer.

In 1953 she transferred to the finance department as secretary to the late Oscar Ekman, then director of finance. Upon his retirement, she went on to serve Marvin Alward in the same capacity and is now working for two bosses as Alward continues to serve the City in the role of financial consultant.

Miss Seibert's duties include a good deal of accounting as well as secretarial work and she is presently engaged in a study of accounting at the Pontiac Business Institute.

ACTIVITIES

Miss Seibert has been active in the Pontiac Municipal Employees Association and currently serves as first vice president.

She is an avid rock-hunter, an activity in which her widowed mother joins her, and is a devotee of golf and bowling.

Official presentation of the award will take place this evening at a special dinner in Bedell's.

Also Honored

Mrs. Betty Jane Davis, executive secretary to Mr. A. Alfred Taubman, president, the Taubman Company, Inc., Oak Park, has been honored as Secretary of the Year of the Detroit Chapter, National Secretaries Association.

Nancy Smith Weds

Nancy Carol Smith was escorted by her brother, Lawrence M. Smith, for her marriage to Allen Stanley Geer.
The recent wedding was an evening ceremony in St.
Mark's Lutheran Church.

The bride chose a white crepe floor-length gown with empire waist, accented with lace inserts around neck and sleeves.

Her cathedral train was edged with matching lace.

Her shoulder-length veil flowed from a dainty coronet.

She carried a bouquet of cal-la lilies, Stephanotis and palm leaves.

The bride's sister, Mrs.
Charles Contor, and Jack
Faulkner were honor attendants for the couple.

Kathleen Taffee, Carolyn
Powell, Mrs. Gerry Fifoot and Julie Fifoot were bridesmaids; Cynthia Smith, flower girl; Steven Smith and Greg Geer, ring bearers.

Douglas Blythe, Ed Schine-

Tables to Satisfy Everyone's Taste

Thick plate glass forms the top of this glistening steel table with brass accents at corners and leg tips. Glass is a space-saver visually and gives clear play to the vibrant colors being used today in upholstery and rugs. Available in three different heights, the 32-inch square table is made by Directional Industries.

Choose Durable Press Fabric

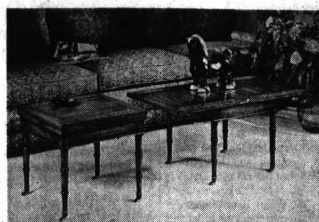

Choose children's underwear with a durable press finish so fewer sets will be needed to keep the child cleanly dressed.

With ironing eliminated, overnight washing will make one or two sets of slips and panties an adequate supply. This is a thrifty consideration when children outgrow rather than outwear their clothing—and there are no "steps" to inherit the hand-me-downs.

Freighter Toiletries

Note to freighter-travel addicts: carry a generous supply of soap, detergent, shampoo, and toothpaste — especially on ships of foreign registry.

This Flip Top Coffee Square, designed in Grand Rapids, is for people who like to entertain and must make the most of their sometimes limited space. With folded top it is only nineteen inches square. But two Flip Tops, opened, form a cocktail table more than six feet long, ideal for entertaining. Of selected mahogany, with beautifully figured top and especially designed hinges for sturdy service, each table has a storage compartment and is fitted with custom casters. By Hekman Furniture Co.

Moose Ladies Will Travel

Pontiac Women of the Moose No. 360 will leave in a chartered bus Sunday at 7:30 a.m. for the Academy of Friendship session at the state convention being held in Jackson.

Those receiving their Friendship degree from Pontiac are Mesdames Morton Brown, Robert Burns, Lloyd Duckworth, Joseph Lorenz, Peter Lorenz, Charles Schmidt and Woodrow Sutton.

Mrs. Charles Carlson will be chairman of the membership chapter night on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Moose Home on Mt. Clemens Street.

On May 15, the regular business meeting at 7 p.m. will be followed by an election of officers.

Set Benefit for Students

Members of the Birmingham chapter, Wayne State University Alumnae are preparing a "Treasure and Trash" benefit sale on May 6 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the loft-garage of the Robert Hagues, Birmingham.

Mrs. Hague, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Cecil Moore, Mrs. Lewis Evans, Mrs. Kenneth Beauchamp, Marian Tate, Mrs. William Hartman, Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. Paul Trefel, Mrs. Thad Brykalski, Mrs. Elmer Plaxton, Mrs. Phillip Tarmora and Mrs. John Villa.

Open to the public, the sale will benefit the group's student scholarship fund.

Britisher Invading Job Training

LONDON (UPI) — Margery Hurst, tycoon of the secretarial world, might appear to have enough on her plate already. But she is busy with a new venture to teach Americans girls to get high priced jobs.

If anyone knows how to get high priced jobs, Mrs. Hurst should. She has made herself into a millionaire by building up the world's largest secretarial employment bureau with more than 60 branches in Britain, Australia and the United States.

HOMEWORK
This is aside from looking after a husband and two teenage daughters, doing a load of welfare work and writing an autobiography which has just been published.

Mrs. Hurst, 52, a tiny woman with a lot of energy, now plans to open her first secretarial school in the United States. She hopes it will be a school with a difference and lead to many more.

"We are starting at White Plains, N.Y., in about a year," she said. "In a six to eight weeks course, we will take girls from college with a B.A. degree, teach them shorthand and typing, and enable them to get jobs for $100 and $200 a week."

"In the eight-month course, we will educate the secretary to become a personal assistant to the president of a company."

The girls on the longer course will study such things as writing reports, arranging conferences, coping with payroll taxes, handling the board of directors and how to be "efficient but not officious."

Mrs. Hurst, said, "as soon as the White Plains school is doing well, we plan to launch colleges all over the United States, in Britain, New Zealand and Australia."

In her autobiography, "No Glass Slipper," Mrs. Hurst tells of the troubles she met in her life and hopes her story will help other women.

ended up as a deserted wife with a three-week-old baby. She suffered two nervous breakdowns. Her first efforts to start a business on 50 pounds ($140) borrowed from her bank were a failure.

SUCCESS
But now she is a successful businesswoman, happily married to her second husband, and full of views on a number of topics. In her book, she has this to say:

—On marriage, "It seems to me there are two ways of getting married. The first is when you are very young, and sufficiently pliable to bend to the ways of the first man you love. And the second is when you are about 25 and sufficiently experienced to choose a partner with your head rather than your heart."

—On millionaires, "You may be a ruthless person, this is true. But you may also be a particularly generous one. You may become a millionaire by sheer weight of original thought, or by possessing a first-class brain. Each millionaire is different because no two people are quite the same."

—On the ideal secretary, she is "one who anticipates a man's moods, not so much his needs. She must be there when he wants her, and able to retire from his mind the rest of the time."

Sneakers Best for Cowgirl From the West

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Maureen Moon wears tennis shoes rather than traditional cowboy boots when doing trick horseback riding, and for good reason.

She says the tennis shoes are less likely to slip. Trick riding footholds are not all done from the stirrup and when Maureen hooks a foot into a leather loop on the side of her saddle and swings down inches from the ground, she doesn't want a slip.

A HOBBY
When not performing at rodeos or stock shows, Maureen and her husband break and train horses for rodeo and pleasure riding on a 100-acre ranch near Denton.

Their small daughter, Mary Ann, already is an experienced performer, having ridden in the grand entry of rodeos sharing Maureen's saddle. That saddle has foot and hand holds built in, and the post or stock is higher and thinner than on a regular saddle to allow stout hand grips.

Wedding vows were exchanged Friday by Donna Jay Westerlund, daughter of John Westerlund of Sylvan Lake and Mahmoud Kamal El-Din of Cairo, Egypt. He is the son of Ahmed Moussa also of Cairo. Mrs. Kenneth Black Jr. and Ahmed Gamal El-Din, the bridegroom's cousin, were attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stead of Rochester announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Lee, to Thomas G. Septer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Septer of Hazel Park. The prospective groom attended DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago. An August wedding is planned.

Solo Engagement Prize for Pianist

A solo engagement with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and a cash award will be the prizes for the winner of the ninth annual Bendetson Netorg Memorial Piano Contest, to be held in Detroit in late May.

The winner will appear with the Symphony, conducted by Valter Poole, on June 23, during the Orchestra's "Symphony Under the Stars" series at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

As in past years, the contest will be sponsored by the Bohemians Musicians Club of Detroit.

CHARTER MEMBER

Bendetson Netorg, a noted Detroit pianist and pedagogue who died in 1953, was a charter member and later a president of the Bohemians Club. The contest was initiated by the Bohemians in 1958 and has been held each year since then except in 1965.

The contest is open to pianists under 25 years of age who are Michigan residents. Previous contest winners are Karen Taylor (1958), Ruth Meckler (1959), Joanne and Joyce Weintraub (1960), William Boot (1961), Rita Sloan (1962), Miriam Gargarian (1963), David Albee (1964), and Sheila Stephenson (1966).

There are seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Marriage Failures Occur Often

One out of every four marriages in the U.S. fails today, says Mary A. Hardy, Extension Home Economist for Macomb, Oakland and Wayne Counties.

Dating customs might put some light on the cause. Dating may help a maturing person become aware of the many facets of his own personality.

It can help him judge the type of person with whom he feels most comfortable. Dating can clarify male and female roles. And it can reflect on what society expects of men and women.

Too many young persons feel they are ready to select a mate with only a few years of casual dating. A mature relationship depends on emotional stability, economic independence and a sense of responsibility.

For couples thinking seriously of marriage, each should find out what the other expects of a wife or husband. The young couple also should think about what is important to them. Each should know how the other feels on basic issues, Mrs. Hardy continues.

Joint goals will be determined by what each partner values most.

Some areas where basic agreement needs to be reached before marriage include:

- Religious belief and practices.
- Use of money and arrangements for handling it.
- Child rearing practices and principles.
- Relative value of material wealth as compared to "service" or living the "good life."
- Importance of social status as determined by the man's chosen occupation.

Kinds and amounts of social life and other leisure time activities.

Any subject on which either partner has strong convictions.

Fewer marriages would fall apart if about-to-be marrieds seriously discussed these points.

Take a good long look at your future husband or wife. Sit down together and discuss the vital issues concerning a marriage relationship. Come to an agreement before saying the "I do's."

Above all, be realistic. If it is impossible to agree on the major points, it might be best to break off the relationship immediately. Working out the small things now will eliminate many big problems later, Mrs. Hardy points out.

Polly's Pointers

Into Piggy Bank

DEAR POLLY — Recently I was helping my 5-year-old bundle up and could not get the zipper on her jacket to stay up. She suggested that I run the string from her hood through the hole in the tab of the zipper before tying the hood.

How simple! And I had never thought of it, so if I get a Polly Dollar it will surely go into my daughter's piggy bank.

MRS. J. M. R.
DEAR POLLY — If your key chain breaks, a wire bag twist makes a good emergency one until you can get a new one. It is certainly better than having those loose keys scattered all through your purse.—MRS. R. U.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—Is there a way to whiten a 100-per cent wool sweater that has yellowed from dry cleaning?—PEGGY.

DEAR POLLY—Place a slice of dry bread on the stove while you are cooking and use it as a spoon rest. The grease and other foods will soak into it, making it much richer for the time when it is fed to the birds. I enjoy the column so very much that I do hope I can add to it.—MRS. R. P.
Indeed you are adding to the column.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell

Carol that my husband mends my rubber gloves with the patch. It works well and the gloves last much longer as I wear them until practically all the fingers have been mended. Such a kit costs very little at a dime or hardware store.—H. F.

DEAR POLLY—A little stunt for mending rubber gloves has worked well for me so I use waterproof bandages. Reverse the glove if the hole is in the finger or hand part. Cut round patches, place and press firmly on the glove so the hole is well-covered beyond its size. Turn to the right side and repeat, but do be sure the bandage is waterproof. I have passed many of the Pointers on to friends as I have traveled through Europe and Hawaii.—LUCILLE.

DEAR POLLY—I have never mended rubber gloves successfully but I have found a way to make them last longer. I simply buy them a size larger than needed (instead of getting small I buy medium). Since I am right-handed, the right glove usually wears out first. I save the left glove and when I have two good left-handed ones I merely turn one wrong side out and have a complete good pair even though they may not be the same color.—VALERIA.

Old Custom Is Nearly Forgotten

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: At a bridal shower, my gift to the bride-to-be was a set of steak knives. A few of the guests quietly suggested that I include a coin as part of the gift.

They said it is customary, when giving an item with a sharp edge, to give a coin along with it. Someone else said it was correct for the recipient to give me the coin. Which is proper, and what hidden meaning does this have? — Mrs. Kaye

Dear Mrs. Kaye: The old idea was that the gift of a knife might "cut" a friendship. If the recipient "paid" for the gift with a token penny, the curse was lifted.

The old superstition has been almost forgotten today, but if anyone offers you a penny when you give her a knife, take it, so she can accept the gift without worry.

BATHTUB

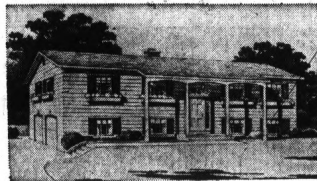

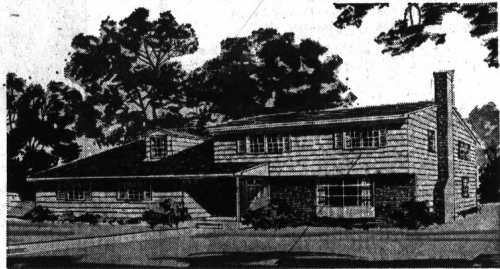

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle a discussion we had at our bridge club? One of the ladies claims that when you use a guest towel, you should put it in the bathtub. She says it is the proper way. I disagree. There are eight of us, and if we all did this, it would look pretty messy as you enter the bathroom. — Grace

Dear Grace: I agree with you. Why don't the other seven ladies in your club get together and buy a small, inexpensive laundry hamper for your friend? The tub may then be kept for its original purpose — taking a bath.

"Etiquette Tips for Teen-agers" by Elizabeth L. Post, is available to readers of this paper. This sixteen page booklet will answer many questions for teen-agers and their parents.

Expo Opening One Day Away

Elevated Railway Is Already Busy at Site

MONTREAL (AP) — With its formal opening only a day away, Expo 67 already is teeming with newsmen and hundreds of others who have managed to get in for an advance look.

The Expo Express, the fair's free elevated railway, is doing a rushing business.

Some restaurants are open. Most of the concessions and La Ronde, the amusement area, will open Thursday. Several of the amusement rides are giving visitors previews.

Although Friday is opening day for the public, some 50,000 are expected to be admitted after the formal ceremonies Thursday afternoon. Concessions have been alerted to be ready for the Thursday crowd.

RED CARPET

The red carpet has been laid on the platform at the Place des Nations where Gov. Cdn. Roland Michener, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and other dignitaries will sit during the ceremonies.

Around the Expo grounds flags and gaily colored banners are flying and fountains are spraying water. Television networks are bringing in their big-name commentators to take part in live telecasts of the ceremony.

Officials are jubilant about the burst of speed that has made it possible for all major pavilions to be ready on time. Extensive cleanup work remains but on the whole the fair looks ready.

The last of the main pavilions completed their press previews Tuesday. Some still had last-minute work to finish, putting up their displays, but newsmen were able to get a clear picture of what visitors will see.

WILL BE IMPRESSED

Some who had seen other fairs, including the New York World's Fair of 1964-65, said Expo was as good as any ever held.

Observers agreed that visitors will be impressed by the spectacular U.S. and Soviet pavilions, but many less publicized exhibits also are impressive.

One thing that struck pre-opening visitors is that admission to all pavilions will be free. In many this will include daily showings of full-length movies. Some of the more elegant restaurants are expensive, but no more so than similar places outside Expo. There also are plenty of low-price eateries.

The amusement area can run into money for those with several children. There is a charge for all rides, and some of them run as high as $1. Admission to the fair itself is $2.50 except for those who bought at discount rates or those buying a seven-day or season pass.

Ohio Girl, 15, Is Charged With Murder

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A juvenile judge looked at Mary Crane, 15, and said: "Mary, it is my sad duty to bind you over to the grand jury. I hope someone will be able to provide the help you need, because it is not available in this court."

The girl is charged with first-degree murder. The slaying involved $2.

Juvenile Court officials said they believe she is the youngest girl ever to be bound over to an Ohio grand jury for murder. The maximum penalty is death in the electric chair.

The teen-ager is charged with the fatal shooting last December of Paul Williams at his East 151st Street home when he refused to give up $2 he allegedly had taken from her girlfriends. Norman S. Mingos, city lawyer, criticized the state for what he termed "its short-sighted stupidity when dealing with children."

"If this child is convicted, society will be condemning her to a life of damnation because she will be sent to ... a penal center created for the hardened adult criminal, not a child," Mingos said.

"Juvenile treatment centers will be closed to her because the law does not allow Common Pleas judges to commit offenders to such places," he added. "The court has no other choice. It (the state) has stripped its laws of all morality."

The last of the main pavilions completed their press previews Tuesday. Some still had last-minute work to finish, putting up their displays, but newsmen were able to get a clear picture of what visitors will see.

WILL BE IMPRESSED

Some who had seen other fairs, including the New York World's Fair of 1964-65, said Expo was as good as any ever held.

Observers agreed that visitors will be impressed by the spectacular U.S. and Soviet pavilions, but many less publicized exhibits also are impressive.

One thing that struck pre-opening visitors is that admission to all pavilions will be free. In many this will include daily showings of full-length movies. Some of the more elegant restaurants are expensive, but no more so than similar places outside Expo. There also are plenty of low-price eateries.

The amusement area can run into money for those with several children. There is a charge for all rides, and some of them run as high as $1. Admission to the fair itself is $2.50 except for those who bought at discount rates or those buying a seven-day or season pass.

Ohio Girl, 15, Is Charged With Murder

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A juvenile judge looked at Mary Crane, 15, and said: "Mary, it is my sad duty to bind you over to the grand jury. I hope someone will be able to provide the help you need, because it is not available in this court."

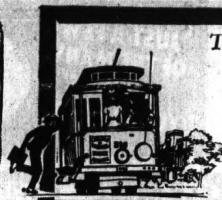

The girl is charged with first-degree murder. The slaying involved $2.

Juvenile Court officials said they believe she is the youngest girl ever to be bound over to an Ohio grand jury for murder. The maximum penalty is death in the electric chair.

The teen-ager is charged with the fatal shooting last December of Paul Williams at his East 151st Street home when he refused to give up $2 he allegedly had taken from her girlfriends. Norman S. Mingos, city lawyer, criticized the state for what he termed "its short-sighted stupidity when dealing with children."

"If this child is convicted, society will be condemning her to a life of damnation because she will be sent to ... a penal center created for the hardened adult criminal, not a child," Mingos said.

"Juvenile treatment centers will be closed to her because the law does not allow Common Pleas judges to commit offenders to such places," he added. "The court has no other choice. It (the state) has stripped its laws of all morality."

Summer 'Jargon' Needs Polish

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Spring is a good time to start brushing up on the double-talk you'll need in the long hot summer ahead.
Double-talk, of course, changes as the seasons do. You would no more use last winter's double-talk in August than you would wear a heavy overcoat to a picnic.
What is double-talk? It is the safety valve of civilized conversation. It is the art of saying something that is socially acceptable while your own mind keeps its inner sanity by thinking what you'd really like to say. It is a form of necessary and enlightened hypocrisy.
Here, for example, are a few typical samples of double-talk you may find useful in the coming months — followed by their literal translations.
LOVES THE HEAT
"I just love hot weather, don't you?" — Our air-conditioner has broken down again.
"It's so balmy out, I really wouldn't mind walking." — But if you don't hail us a cab, Buster, you're the one who's balmy.
"You look so cool in your new short haircut, Myrtle." — It looks like it had been gnawed off by a dog with a broken tooth.
"No, of course, I don't think that new bikini is a bit too daring. After all, dear, with a shape like yours what is there to hide?" — But you'd attract even more attention at the beach if you wore sandwich boards advertising the circus.
VACATION SPOTS
"Darling, have you and your husband really made up your minds to go to the mountains?" — Because, if you have, my husband and I are definitely going to the seashore.
"Mind if I join you fellows to make it a foursome? The ones I usually go around the course with couldn't make it today." — Ever since they caught me lying about my score, I've been playing alone.
"This year we've decided just to stay at home. It is really so much more restful." — All plan to put in an indoor bathing room.
"Our son has been writing us the cleverest letters from camp. I wish I had one with me to show you." — The last one from the ungrateful little rat said, "Get me out of this dump, or the next envelope I send you will be full of poison ivy leaves."
"Oh, I didn't know you had planned to have a back yard cookout. How lovely!" Yes, and also how convenient: If we can't eat the food, we can just take a shovel and have the fun of burying it.
"Just take off your shoes and make yourselves to home. Here in the country, naturally, we like to live as informally as possible." — But next year we do plan to put in an indoor bathing room.

June 6 Vote to Fill Empty House Seat

LANSING (UPI) — A special election to fill the House of Representatives seat left vacant by the death of Rep. James S. Nunnely, R-Mount Clemens, yesterday was set for June 6 by Gov. George Romney.
The district — the 75th — includes the cities of Mount Clemens, Memphis, New Baltimore and Marine City as well as four townships in Western Macomb County and five townships in Southern St. Clair County.
It is considered a swing district that leans Democratic.
Nunnely died of a heart attack last Thursday night at his Capitol desk. Funeral services for the freshman legislator were held Monday.

NEW YORK April 25 (AP) — Paul Miller was reelected president of the Associated Press Tuesday by the board of directors.
All other officers of the AP were reelected. They are Franklin D. Schurz, South Bend (Ind.) Tribune, first vice president; Bernard H. Ridder Jr., St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch & Pioneer Press, second vice president; Harry T. Montgomery, AP deputy general manager, secretary; Fred L. Strozier, AP, assistant secretary; Robert R. Booth, AP treasurer, treasurer; Stanley M. Swinton, AP assistant general manager, assistant treasurer; and Harold Glasser, AP, assistant treasurer.
Members of the Associated Press at their annual meeting Monday reelected three directors and elected three new ones.

Paris Air Show Will Get 'Spirit' Replica

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — A replica of Charles A. Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" will be flown to France to commemorate the 40th anniversary of his historic trans-Atlantic flight.
But with a little help. The plane, bearing parts of five old Curtis-Wright J5B engines, will be loaded aboard a big cargo plane.
Not that it can't fly. Frank Tallman, owner of the plane for a test flight at the Orange County Airport, said it handled perfectly during a 15-minute flight.

HAPPY DAY — Coach Bob Parks (right) is all smiles and there's a good reason. He has just gained the signature of Pontiac Central hurdler Bill Tipton on a letter of intent to enroll at Eastern Michigan University this fall. Parks is assistant track coach at EMU. Tipton is the best schoolboy hurdler in the nation today. Some 66 schools were trying for Tipton's services.

Maple Leafs Outlast Montreal

Pulford's Goal Ends Marathon

Toronto Leads Series After 3-2 Win

TORONTO (AP) — "We old warhorses are better in a longer race," said a happy Marcel Pronovost.

The veteran Toronto defenseman was in the Maple Leafs' dressing room, resting up from his club's bruising 3-2 marathon victory over Montreal Tuesday night in the final Stanley Cup playoff round.

Not until Bob Pulford found an almost open net at 8:26 of the second sudden-death overtime did the Leafs win the game that gave them a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 series for the coveted hockey cup. The fourth game will be played here Thursday.

"I had the whole net to shoot at," said Pulford, noting that Montreal's rookie goalkeeper Rogatien Vachon was on the far side of the goal.

ON STICK — "Pete Stenkowski cleared it out to Jimmy Pappin and I don't know whether he saw me or not, but anyway he knew I should be there and he laid it right on my stick."

"It was the greatest goal of my life."

The clubs ended the regulation three periods tied 2-2. John Ferguson tied it for the Canadiens with 50 seconds left in the second period after Pappin had put the Leafs ahead 2-1 midway through that period.

Jean Beliveau scored in the opening minutes of the game for the Canadiens but Stenkowski tipped in a shot for the Leafs in the same period. After that the long game seemed to affect both clubs.

"We missed a lot of chances," said Ron Ellis of the Leafs. "But you just have to keep shooting and hope they'll go in."

60 SAVES — Both Johnny Bower, Toronto's 42-year-old veteran goaltender, and Vachon turned in sterling performances in the net, with Bower stopping 59 saves and Vachon picking up 61 shots.

"We trained all year for this," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlack, who believes there is no substitute for practice and hard work. "I thought the club was getting stronger as we went along." Frank Mahovlich, Toronto forward, agreed, saying, "We seemed to pick up momentum as the overtime progressed."

Mikita Wins Two Awards in National Hockey League

TORONTO (AP) — Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks was named winner today of the Hart Memorial Trophy as the National Hockey League's most valuable player and the Lady Byng Trophy for sportsmanship and superior performance.

Other post-season honors went to Harry Howell of the New York Rangers, chosen the circuit's outstanding defenseman, and Bobby Orr, 19-year-old Boston defenseman, as the rookie-of-the-year. Howell will receive the Norris Memorial Trophy and Orr the Calder Memorial Trophy.

Quartet of State Golfers Ousted From North-South

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — The last four Michigan golfers were eliminated Tuesday from the North and South Men's Amateur Golf Tournament at Pinehurst.

"Pete Stenkowski cleared it out to Jimmy Pappin and I don't know whether he saw me or not, but anyway he knew I should be there and he laid it right on my stick."

Barons Keep Track Record Unblemished — Bloomfield Hills track team remained among the undefeated yesterday by racing past Northville in a Wayne-Oakland League meet, 80-38.

Bruce Hall led the Hills' team (24-1) dashes with a record leap in the high jump. His six feet, one-half inch leap erased the old mark of 5-10½ set by Bret Griffin last year.

In another meet, Dave Miller won the 100 (10.4) and 220-yard (24.1) dashes in leading Mount Clemens St. Mary to a 63-55 victory over Detroit Country Day.

High Water Dims Outlook on Trout

Many of this season's estimated $15,000 trout fishermen are expected to turn out for Saturday's regular trout opener, but most of them won't find stream conditions to their liking. Generally, streams in the northern part of the state are exceptionally high, cold and roly.

Only the only good news for stream fishermen is that steelhead runs should be continuing in some tributaries of the northern Lower Peninsula and peaking above The Straits.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, the silvery scappers should be running best in the Big Manistee, Little Manistee and Platte rivers. Farther south in that region, steelhead migrations are expected to be pretty well played out by the end of this month.

For Upper Peninsula anglers, the most promising prospect is that steelhead runs should be in full swing by late April or early May in the Baraga and Escanaba districts and northern sectors of the Newberry District.

Just how well fishermen score on these runs is still a big question, of course, because of the uncertain spring weather and the already high and murky streams.

A pair of Pontiac anglers went steelhead fishing above The Straits last weekend.

CATCH COHOS

Warren Welch and Bill Wallace caught everything but lake-run rainbows. Welch creel an eight-pound brown from the Laughing Whitefish River east of Marquette and then they boated eight coho salmon and one lake trout after shifting to Lake Superior off the mouth of the river.

Wallace caught the laker, a three-pounder. The cohos—one to two and a half pounds—became legal in the Great Lakes April 1. The pair used wabbling spoons.

The Conservation Department's best advice to opening day trout fishermen is "bead for trout-planted lakes" which number over 400 throughout the state.

Except on special trout ponds, fishing is not expected to be as good in Oakland County.

The Conservation Department changed its trout planting policy for lakes and streams a year ago and stocked only sub-legal fish. Although these trout will be legal-size this spring, there is some doubt that enough survived to produce top-notch fishing.

The Davidsburg, Fenton and Bald Mountain "lures only" ponds and the Pettibone "flies only" pond were stocked with trout averaging better than 12 inches last fall.

Legal trout were stocked in Foley, Chittenden, Hartwig, Minnie, Teeple and Upper trout last fall after these lakes were treated to eliminate other fish. Portions of four streams were stocked with sub-legals a year ago. These are:

Clinton, between Hatchery Road and Cass Lake; Huron, Moss Lake to Millford; Kearsley, Lake Louise to the county line; and Paint, Lake Orion to Goodison.

Good catches of perch continue on Lower Trout Lake in the Bald Mountain recreation area. Crappies are being taken from the Huron River between the Millford dam and Kent Lake.

Good catches of bass are being made at Kent Lake where they are legal all year. Bluegills are fair at Wildwood and Valley.

LAST LAUGH—This eight-pound brown trout has been slugging at anglers for years from its lair in the Laughing Whitefish River east of Marquette. Warren Welch, 3651 S. Aylesbury, had the last laugh during the weekend when he caught the 22-inch fish. This special season on browns and rainbows opened April 1 on designated streams.

Timberland Opening Set

EMNA Plans Program, Field Trips Sunday

Timberland Swamp Nature Center will be officially opened to the public Sunday with special programs and guided tours.

Eastern Michigan Nature Association officials will greet visitors at Andersonville school starting at 2 p.m. The school is located on Andersonville Road between Davidsburg and White Lake roads.

EMNA purchased over 160 acres of the Andersonville swamp and will preserve it in its "natural state."

There will be a display and slide showing at the school and a mile and a half guided walk along the new nature trail. The last field trip will leave the school at 6 p.m.

Participants are urged to wear rubber boots and, if the weather is warm, insect repellent. It is recommended that those people who plan to explore off the nature trail bring compasses.

Visitors are welcome to tour the nature center at any time, according to EMNA officials. The entrance, by foot, is off the end of Ware Road.

New Hatcheries to Be Built Around State

The Conservation Department plans to boost its annual plantings of trout and salmon in the Great Lakes to 30 million fish by 1975 and upgrade the quality of its inland trout releases.

Focal point of the plan is a two-year, $10-million capital development program to expand and modernize the state's fish hatchery facilities which now are geared to turning out about three million trout and salmon a year for the Great Lakes.

Called for under that program are five new hatcheries for trout and salmon in Northern Michigan and one new muskellunge hatchery in the Southeastern part of the state.

Nesting Census Under Way

Game Men Ask for Assistance

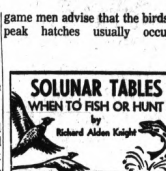

Conservation Department game men are asking Michigan outdoor users to be woodcock and waterfowl watchers this spring.

They want to pinpoint the nests of these migratory birds. This is tied to the annual woodcock banding program and census. Location of active duck or goose nests should be reported to the Conservation Department's Pontiac Lake district office.

"We don't expect people to go looking specifically for nests," said Howard Greene, district game biologist. "But if they should happen to run across one, we would like to know the exact location."

"Under no circumstances should they touch the nest or any eggs in it."

For those willing to furnish leads on woodcock sightings,

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Wednesday	2:15 4:35	1:55 7:25

game men advise that the birds' peak hatches usually occur from late April through early May in the southern Lower Peninsula.

EARLY MAY

Normally, most of the birds' young are hatched during the first half of May in the Northern Lower Peninsula and a week to 10 days later above the Straits.

Mushroom pickers in particular are urged to be on the look out for woodcock because the birds are often found nesting in lowlands where morels grow.

Locations of woodcock nests and broods should be reported to Department game biologists at field offices. Banding of the birds will be carried out by some game men and private cooperators who, with special permits, will use experienced woodcock hunting dogs for this work.

Goose Count Rises at Seney

Resident Canada geese returning to Seney National Wildlife Refuge have increased in numbers to approximately 630 birds according to the weekly waterfowl census conducted by refuge personnel.

This represents an increase to date of 200 geese over the 1966 spring count.

No goose hunting was permitted in the Seney area last fall.

More geese are expected to return. As late stragglers move in, last falls estimate of 700-800 spring returnees may become a reality. Approximately 1,000 geese left the Upper Peninsula refuge during the 1966 fall migration.

A number of geese began to lay eggs during the first week of April. About mid-May the cooperators are expected to start hatching out with hopes that 600-700 goslings will be produced this spring.

Controversy Over Polar Bear

EDITOR'S NOTE: Controversy is swirling over hunting polar bears. Following are the comments of retired Chrysler executive Ed Quinn who lives in Grosse Pointe and has hunted in several countries.)

In the great sport of hunting there always seems to be some controversy cooking on the front burner. One very much in the foreground is whether planes should be outlawed in hunting of polar bears.

It has been my privilege to hear many well meaning sportsmen and conservationists discussions and they will say, "I personally don't know much about the Polar Bear, but..."

Those words are a without a doubt the most factual remarks they, or most of us can make.

The polar bear lives in the Arctic Circle where he has little exposure to humans, so most of the tales told about him are pure speculation. There is no true count as to his numbers, nor even a close estimate, and these are the statements of the men who do know.

A careful study shows that no matter how sincere we are in trying to protect the polar bear we are dealing with an international animal, not ours alone, and proper protection can only be accomplished by international treaty.

Something tells me if we have no more success with a bear treaty than we do with some of our others, the polar bear is in for a long hard winter.

The total number of polar bear killed by sportsmen hunting out of Alaska is but a small portion of the total kill worldwide. The real kill is by those that take him for food, clothing, skins and other marketable by-products.

This kill is very damaging because most of the bear killed are cubs one or two years old and females. This is because they are easier to come by, and the younger animals are better for food.

SEVERAL TOWNS

The bear are hunted out of several towns along the coast of Alaska. The more popular ones are Teller, Kotzebue, Point Hope and Barrow.

With the better trophies being found many miles out from Alaska, many of them within sight of the Siberian coastline, it would seem you are going to hunt by plane or not at all.

If the plane is outlawed, what we actually are saying is that most of us should not be allowed to hunt polar bear. Even if we could hire a dog team, those of us who work would not have enough time for the hunt. The same applies to some degree in hunting by boat out of the Scandinavian countries.

Speaking from experience of having hunted polar bear by plane, I will say without reservation the polar bear hunt was by far the most dangerous and hazardous. This applies to both hunting conditions, and the animals.

A polar bear will take you on any time, any place just for food.

He is always hungry and sometimes starving and having no natural enemies goes for anything that is edible.

Once he is wounded, an immediate showdown is imminent. It is you or him with no holds barred.

The danger and hazards from the elements are inestimable. Rarely is there a season without the less of planes or men. Many times pilots who venture out on the ice and in marginal weather, guess wrong and are forced to step down on the ice and wait out the weather. The Arctic whiteouts are deadly once caught in them.

What may make the difference between a successful hunt and possible disaster is your guide. Not all are high caliber. I found this out while hunting in the United States, Mexico, Canada and Africa. They vary in ability, honesty and integrity. Some hunters, book more hunters than they can handle. When they do, they may take chances in weather and usually the first bear sighted is your bear, whether of trophy size or even legal.

Although Alaska has made some changes in its laws, I question whether new statutes are the answer to conserving polar bear.

We must first decide whether to hunt the great bear at all. If the answer is no, we can devote our energies to other matters.

If it is yes, then let's get some regulations that can be enforced.

NOT EASY

It isn't easy for the vast ice fields roamed by the bear are a violator's playground. The few hard-working wardens are scattered from Nome to Point Barrow and from Alaska to Siberia.

I think a minimum size should be established with only males legal. A competent guide will be able to make this determination.

If the proper qualifications and regulations are established for guiding, many of the other problems will dissipate. There must be better control of the kill by the natives.

As long as polar bear are legally hunted anywhere in the Arctic we should be allowed to hunt them. A hunter buying a license should be allowed to hunt the bear by means available whether it be boat, dog sled or plane.

Speculative Scandal?

Lake Orion Tale Retold

By JEAN SAILE

LAKE ORION—The current series on Oakland County communities now appearing weekly in The Pontiac Press has been the result of much searching through history books as well as a report on current affairs.

Unfortunately, space doesn't always permit full usage of the tales uncovered by the reporters.

Perhaps one of these early reports serves to prove that the ill of man were not all evolved as a result of civilization—that the serpent was in the garden way back when.

Back before Lake Orion had earned even its first name—Canadigua—and its subsequent title of Dogwags, it had already lived down its first recorded scandal.

Old Oakland County records show that James Stillson, a traveling auctioneer, had in 1836 platted 40 acres and had a highly-colored view of it made, representing wharves, with steamers arriving and departing, public parks, graded streets, numerous fine buildings, and all the appliances of a city."

EXORBITANT FIGURES

The history continues, "Taking his plot to the east, he made fabulous representations of the advantages which this coming city of Michigan offered, and succeeded in selling a number of lots at exorbitant figures.

"The remainder of the lots he offered at public sale in Detroit, and received a bid of six cents a lot for them.

"Some of his Eastern purchasers came on to the supposed city, only to find it a bit marshy ground, with not the least sign of habitation."

The history concludes, "Thoroughly disgusted, they left the country, and their city lots to whoever wished to possess them."

All of which might lead speculators to wonder whether this man Stillson was just a bit ahead of his time, or if he really was an out-and-out phony.

At six cents a lot, he certainly wasn't rich.

Holly Plans Services for Annexed Section

HOLLY—The Village Council ordered planning to provide services to the newly annexed land along the north boundary at last night's meeting.

Yesterday the County Board of Supervisors approved the taking of 416 acres into the present village limits, increasing the total area by about 40 per cent. It adds about 350 persons to the population of about 3,500.

The council set up studies to service the area with street

Principal Will Leave Post

FARMINGTON—Harold Humble, principal of North Farmington High School for the past six years, has submitted his resignation, effective July 1.

He has taken an overseas assignment for the next three years, as principal of a school in India.

Prior to his present position, he was assistant principal at Farmington High School. He has been with the district for 16 years.

Downtown Oxford Gets Major Boosts

OXFORD—Off-street parking for village shoppers and a future renewal of the downtown shopping area were given major boosts here last night at a Village Council meeting.

The impetus for off-street parking came from Richard Medaugh appearing before the council as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce.

Medaugh informed the council of a plan prepared and backed by downtown merchant members of the Chamber which would provide two such parking lots, paid for on a special assessment basis by merchants.

He proposed the division of the shopping area into a southwest section bounded by Burdick to Mechanic and along Hudson streets and a southeast section encompassing Stanton to Burdick and along Mill streets.

Involved in the proposition is the razing of seven buildings.

ASSESSMENT RATE

A formula proposed for payment involved assessment of the businesses in the areas at the rate of 50 per cent toward total square footage of land and 50 per cent toward total square footage of the building, including a separate ratio for basement and second stories.

Village Manager Robert Smalley was ordered to prepare cost specifications on the project.

The council also approved a workable program for urban renewal of four blocks in the downtown shopping area and instructed that it be submitted to

'Battle of Bands' in Shelby Friday

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—A "Battle of the Bands" dance is scheduled from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday at Shelby Junior High School. Proceeds will help the student body in its project to raise funds for Tanzania schools.

The winning band will be awarded at $75 prize plus the bid to play at the annual graduation dance.

YOUNG COMMUTERS—A group of about 100 kindergartners from Andersonville Elementary, 10350 Andersonville, Springfield Township, climb aboard the Grand Trunk Western commuter train in Pontiac yesterday afternoon for a trip to Holly. The excursion was part of a study on trains for the Clarkston School District youngsters, who were accompanied by parents and teachers.

Huron Junior Highs Go to Split Sessions

MILFORD—Junior high school students in the Huron Valley School District will be going to school on an extended day program next year until a new elementary school is completed.

The plan, adopted by the board of education last night, was considered the best of several plans which had been under consideration to ease an anticipated space problem the first half of the next school year.

Under the emergency plan, pupils from Highland Junior High and Muir Junior High will all attend Muir.

Elementary children scheduled to occupy the new elementary school will be housed at Highland Junior High until their building is completed, scheduled now for the start of the second semester.

Pupils from one junior high will attend school for five hours in the morning and those from the second will attend for five hours in the afternoon. Only the lunch hour and study halls will be eliminated from the normal schedule.

Gerald Kratz, administrative assistant, explained that the plan would enable the staff, administration and pupils to remain intact.

FEW PARENTS

At last night's meeting, attended by only a few parents, the administration explained the disadvantages of several other plans which had been considered.

A suggestion that pupils be housed in some empty Waterford School District buildings was rejected because it would require the purchase of at least three new school buses, and 270 pupils would have to be transported 14 to 18 miles on M-59, considered to be a dangerous road.

Pupils would have to be housed in four different locations 18 miles apart, and the staff and pupils would have to operate under Waterford's administration and school calendar.

Portable classrooms were rejected because of their high

Church Project Said Completed

ROCHESTER—Air-conditioning of St. Philip's Episcopal Church and offices in its educational building were completed recently.

A gift of Mrs. Charles B. Stiffler of Bloomfield Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Langley Smart of Rochester and others, the unit is a memorial to Charles B. Stiffler who died last September.

cost, the fact that there would be no reserve space and that they would require large classes. When it came time to return to a normal schedule, additional staff would have to be hired "at one of the worst times for hiring."

6-DAY PROGRAM

A unique six-day program suggested by a resident last month was also rejected. Administrators explained that there would be extreme difficulty in getting elementary teachers to work on Saturday and that it would also be hard to staff the bus runs.

Pupils from a given family might have different days off and cause parental pressure, and poor attendance on Saturday would be anticipated.

The plan would also cause a 12 per cent increase in transportation costs and a 25 per cent increase in custodial costs, according to officials.

Saturday attendance would conflict with other activities such as scouts, recreation and Saturday religious instruction.

Cheerleaders Win at Regional

WALLED LAKE—Eighth grade cheerleaders from St. William's School recently were chosen as regional winners in preliminary competition in Detroit.

They also paced as second runner-up in citywide finals.

The girls on the team are Debra Hardy, Jean Allard, Kathleen Barbera, Barbara Brennecke, Jennifer Elliot, Denise Hewitt, Sue Karner and Cecilia Welsh.

Advertising for Boiler Bids OK'd

OXFORD—Schools Supt. Roger Oberg has been authorized to advertise for bids to replace boilers at the junior high school. Estimated to run between $16,000 and $20,000, the bids will be opened at a meeting May 9.

The school board voted to purchase two bus chassis from Skelton Ford, Inc., of Lake Orion at a cost of $3,488 per unit, providing the units meet specifications. The purchase will bring the school fleet to a total of 17 buses.

In other business the board reviewed district building needs, and heard a report from graduating seniors regarding their recent class trip to Bermuda.

Accreditation from the North Central Association was renewed for the senior high school.

Son of Rochester Woman Gets Post

ROCHESTER—The appointment of Gerry R. Frink, son of Mrs. Wayne C. Frink, 323 W. Fourth, as staff director and consul of the House Postal Facilities and Modernization subcommittee, was announced yesterday in Washington, D. C.

Frink, a 1963 graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, served as legislative assistant to Rep. Weston Vivian, D-Mich., during the last Congress.

Frink, 34, now lives in Alexandria, Va.

Street Lighting Authorized for Subdivision in Milford

MILFORD—Fairview Hills Subdivision will soon have street lighting but not the kind several residents have requested.

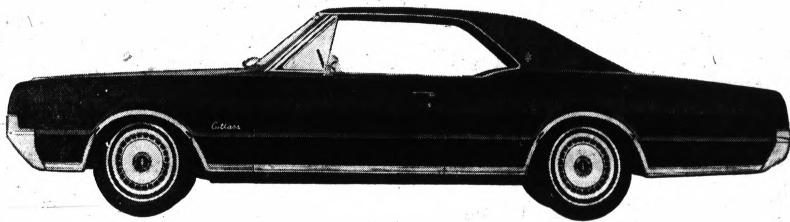

The Village Council has voted to install wooden poles with overhead wiring.

Several residents had requested that ornamental poles be installed with underground wiring be installed.

Village Manager J. S. Brophy said the lights will be installed within a couple of months.

City Is Seeking to Relinquish Health Services

Savings to the City of Pontiac of some $21,000 were envisioned last night as commissioners authorized City Manager Joseph A. Warren to request transfer of certain public health services from City Hall to Oakland County.

Commission recommendation followed a report by Warren in which he spelled out details of a conference with Dr. Bernard Berman, director of the County Health Department.

Warren told commissioners that Berman was agreeable to take-over by the county of both the Alcoholism Information Center and operations of three public nurses assigned to City Hall.

Warren said the proposed change, if accomplished by May 1, could save the city $12,061 in this year's budget.

In addition, he said, transfer of the Alcoholism Information Center would save some $9,400 from the 1968 budget.

SAME SERVICES

Commissioners were told the proposal would not lessen services presently offered in the two areas to Pontiac residents.

Both moves await final action by the County Health Department.

The commission also approved a recommendation by Warren and Fire Chief James R. White to admit Madison Heights to a mutual aid contract presently involving Pontiac and four South Oakland cities.

Also in the pact are Birmingham, Hazel Park, Ferndale and Royal Oak. All with the exception of Hazel Park have endorsed inclusion of Madison Heights, Warren said.

City participation in the pact has consisted almost entirely of mutual fire-fighting efforts with the Birmingham department.

Commissioners accepted with regret the resignation of Rev. Philip W. Somers from the board of trustees of Pontiac General Hospital.

In another hospital matter, further study was recommended on a request from the hospital board that the city purchase six parcels of land for eventual use as construction sites for intern housing.

Paving Plans for Two Streets Are Rejected

Stiff opposition from property owners spurred city commissioners last night to cancel proposed paving projects on two streets in southeast Pontiac.

Proposed for paving were one-block stretches of Adams Street from South Jessie to Allen; and Allen Street from Osmon to Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

Joseph E. Neippling, director of public works and service, estimated cost of the Adams project at $10,110 and of the Allen project at $15,550 with property-owner assessments in each case approximately $5,000.

Spokesmen for opponents of the paving proposals said "a large number" of retired persons living in the area would find assessments a financial burden.

In addition, residents said they were satisfied with the present gravel roads.

LOWER STANDARDS

Neippling had presented the two projects as an effort to bring the streets up to paving standards of other thoroughfares in that area of the city.

The commission also rescinded action it took last week on a paving proposal in Pontiac's north end.

Public hearing had been declared held and assessments were being readied for property owners on Fuller between First and Second following last Tuesday's meeting.

Last night, however, District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan moved to cancel the project, which had been opposed by several residents who feared paving of only a one block stretch of Fuller would not solve a dust problem in the area.

ENDORSEES CANCELLATION

"There are those who feel we should do the entire area," Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. noted, in endorsing cancellation of the proposal.

Commissioners asked Neippling to prepare estimates for curbing, gutter and paving of Fuller from East Madison to East Columbia, as urged by property owners last week.

Special assessment roll for a one-block asphalt paving project on Grayton was unanimously accepted. The affected area is from Crestwood to Asterwood.

In addition, public hearings were scheduled for May 9 on proposals by Neippling to construct two-inch asphaltic concrete on nine city streets which were curbed last year.

SIDEWALK WORK

The nine are Peacock, from Joslyn to Fuller; Bennett Court, from Howard to Baldwin; Fil-dew from Wrenn to Motor; Lookout from East Boulevard to Astor; Gage from Harper to Joslyn; Riker from Rundell to Garner; and three short stretches in the Mount Clemens-Cedar-Broadway area.

Commissioners also accepted bids on proposed sidewalk construction in northeast Pontiac, but referred the estimates to the department of public works and service for further study.

Fund Bills OK'd by Senate

County Board Backs Road Package

A $61-million road fund package was endorsed yesterday by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at about the same time it cleared the State Senate.

Included in the proposed legislation, which now goes to the House, are a one-cent increase to the present six-cent state gasoline tax and an approximate 10 per cent boost in commercial vehicle weight taxes.

Also included are restoration of the former 55-cent weight tax on passenger cars from the present 35-cent level and a change in the distribution formula for highway funds so that cities and villages will receive an additional 2 per cent.

In other action yesterday, the supervisors registered opposition to a pending bill which would enable the state to arbitrarily take $400,000 from the annual earnings of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

The move was recommended by the supervisors' veterans affairs committee.

PRESENTLY INELIGIBLE

Supervisors concurred with another recommendation of this committee calling for support of legislation that would allow veterans of World War I and those who served after Jan. 31, 1955, to apply for benefits of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund. Presently they are ineligible.

In other action, the board presented a plaque of appreciation to Thomas C. Tiley, Commerce Township supervisor, who announced his retirement after 10 years as a board member.

A memorial service for Virgil C. Knowles, who died April 15, was conducted.

Recall Drive Starts Against Mary Beck

DETROIT (AP) — A recall campaign has been mounted against City Councilwoman Mary V. Beck, a sponsor of a movement to recall Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

The Association for the Political Promotion of Voter Education announced Tuesday its recall campaign against Miss Beck, charging that she is trying "to get widespread publicity for herself" by seeking the ouster of Cavanagh.

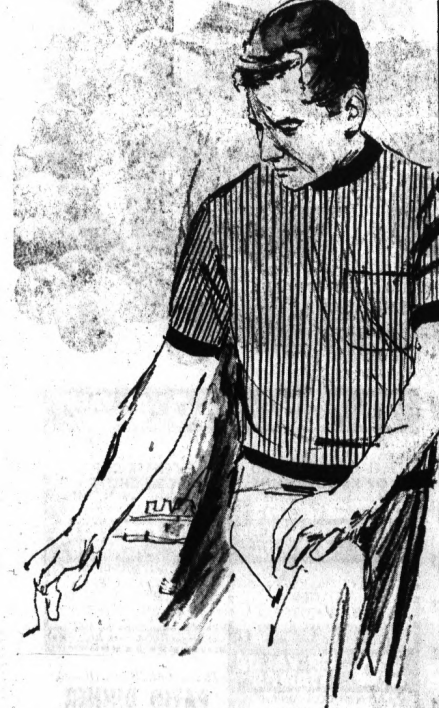

Lawrence E. Schultz, chairman of the anti-Beck association and a teacher in Highland Park public schools, described his group as "a small number of doctors, lawyers, teachers and professional people who act as independents and nonpartisan workers."

Charging that Mayor Cavanagh has failed to deal effectively with crime, Miss Beck has been joined in her recall campaign by salesman Mario A. Seco's Committee for Good Government and the Rev. E. T. Bernthal, pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church.

They agreed Tuesday to consolidate separate campaigns into one to be led by Miss Beck.

Schultz said in a prepared statement announcing the campaign and a teacher in Highland Park public schools, described his group as "a small number of doctors, lawyers, teachers and professional people who act

Enjoy yourself. It's lighter than you think.

If you can't enjoy Four Roses, then you must be allergic to whiskey. That's how light and smooth it is. But, frankly, it doesn't take genius to make a light whiskey. The real challenge is to make a light whiskey that doesn't lose its taste as the ice cubes melt. Four Roses doesn't. Because of our special coaster method of distillation. The result is a lovely liquid that swallows light, yet doesn't get swallowed up.

Make Wise Choice of Freezer Meat

If you own a home freezer, give serious thought to stocking it with meats these days. Meats in general are wearing attractive price tags. And beef — which will provide those popular steaks during the summer — is unusually bountiful.

Whether you are interested only in steaks and a few other cuts, or whether you plan a larger purchase, you naturally want to find the best possible buy.

One way to be sure of this is to let the U.S. Department of Agriculture help.

The shield-shaped grade mark of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service is a mark of quality beef familiar to most consumers.

But, what you may not know is that C&M's also grades for yield — the amount of meat you can expect from an individual carcass.

Ordinarily consumers need not be concerned with yield grades. Their benefit reaches you indirectly. But if you buy a carcass or wholesale beef, yield grades can help you get more beef for your money.

MARKET BASKET

Yield grades — used mainly by packers and suppliers — measure the amount of usable meat in a carcass or wholesale cut. There are five numerical grades, ranging from 1 (highest yield) to 5 (lowest yield).

Higher-yield carcasses may cost a little more, but they will provide meatier cuts. Look for a No. 1 or No. 2 yield grade in the quality grade that you want.

Higher quality grades are important, too. U.S. Choice — the most popular grade of beef — is widely used in home freezing, as it will later provide tender, juicy, flavorful meat.

If you plan to buy a part of a carcass, remember to decide whether you want more steaks and roasts, or more stewing and ground meat.

A hindquarter will provide more steaks and oven roasts.

The forequarters contains more cuts which should be put roasted, stewed or ground.

Because they contain more desirable cuts, hindquarters generally cost more per pound than front quarters.

For those who want particular cuts or can't manage such large portions as a quarter of a beef, supermarket specials offer a good way to stock the freezer.

Supplies are plentiful and prices favorable for just that right now, the Consumer and Marketing Service advises.

Setting a Cheerful Table Encourages A.M. Eaters

Appetite is a fickle thing and attractively presented becomes a feast. Breakfast, the most important meal of the day, is also the most frequently neglected. For a few extra minutes of sleep, breakfast becomes a catch-as-catch-can affair. Yet it takes only a few minutes longer to prepare a balanced breakfast, and no extra time to serve it attractively.

The old phrase "eat with your eyes" still holds true. A meal that is hastily prepared and carelessly served lacks appetite appeal while even a simple menu that is correctly cooked

Junior Food Is Used in Pie Filling

If you're like most hostesses no doubt you try to make your company dinners extra special—more festive and more elaborate than usual. Then when it comes to dessert time, everyone has to loosen their belts a notch to make room for the final treat.

That's why a light dessert like this Peachy Cheese Pie is the perfect finale for your next dinner party.

Made with lemon flavored gelatin and Junior Peach Cobbler, borrowed from baby's supply, this delectable dessert can be enjoyed by every member of the family.

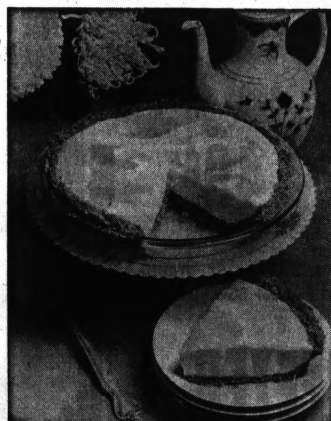

It's quick and easy to prepare. There's no cooking or baking. You can make your cheese pie in the morning or even the night before and just chill in the refrigerator until you're ready to serve it.

Peachy Cheese Pie
1 (3 ounce) package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 pound container cottage cheese
1 jar Junior Peach Cobbler
1 prepared 9" graham cracker pie crust

Place gelatin in mixing bowl. Add boiling water; using hand mixer on low speed mix until gelatin is dissolved. Add the cottage cheese and one-half of the Peach Cobbler to gelatin. Blend until smooth.

Pour into pie crust. Let partially set, then swirl the remaining Peach Cobbler into the top of the filling.

Place in the refrigerator and keep chilled until ready to serve. Yield: One 9-inch pie, 6-8 servings.

PEACHY CHEESE PIE—An ideal dessert for any meal, Peachy Cheese Pie may also be served with coffee, tea or milk as a fine welcome for unexpected guests. Topped with swirls of Junior Peach Cobbler, this taste-tempting treat is sure to add a festive touch to your dining table.

Grapefruit Julep
¾ cup sugar
1½ cups water
1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated grapefruit juice
¾ cup ginger ale
Fresh Mint

Add sugar to water in saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring to dissolve sugar; lower heat and simmer 5 minutes. Add grapefruit juice and ginger ale. Pour into freezer tray and freeze 2 to 3 hours. Do not stir.

To serve, scrape with tip of spoon and put scrapings into a cocktail or juice glass. Garnish each serving with a sprig of fresh mint.

Provide both straws and spoons as Julep will melt as it is eaten. Makes four to five servings.

Maple Sticky Buns
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
¼ cup maple syrup
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1½ cups chopped walnuts
1 package refrigerator biscuits

Combine brown sugar, maple syrup and butter or margarine in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Stir in chopped walnuts.

Spoon into 10 greased muffin cups. Top with refrigerator biscuits. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 8 to 10 minutes.

Invert pan immediately on serving plate. Cool 1 minute before removing. Makes 10 buns.

Tea Party Food Has an Elegance

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

One of the first forms of entertaining the girl child does is to have a doll's tea party. It's as natural as growing.

But little girls become grown-up women and still give tea parties. One of the most popular of tea parties is the bridal shower.

The time of your party has some effect on what you serve. A late afternoon shower might call for tiny tea sandwiches and cookies.

At the close of an evening shower, a salad or a dessert is often the choice.

Set your prettiest table. Present refreshments in an attractive manner. Have the tea and coffee really hot. Then enjoy, enjoy, enjoy.

If cake is what you want to serve, how about one made with tea? Tea in the batter gives a slightly spicy taste.

This recipe comes from "The Tea Cookbook" by William I. Kaufman.

COCONUT TEA CAKE

¼ cup instant tea powder
2 cups sifted self-rising cake flour
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ cup hot water

Frosting

2 egg whites
½ cup sugar
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 can (3½ oz.) flaked coconut
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour two 8-inch layer pans. Into large bowl of electric mixer, sift together tea powder, flour, and sugar; then add shortening and sour cream; beat at medium speed 2 minutes. Add eggs, vanilla, and water; beat 2 minutes longer. Four batter into prepared pans. Bake about 40 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool in pans 5 minutes before turning out onto racks.

Meanwhile, prepare frosting. In top of double boiler, beat together egg whites, sugar, water, and cream of tartar. Place over boiling water; beat constantly with rotary or electric beater until mixture forms stiff peaks (about 7 minutes). Remove from heat. Add vanilla; beat until frosting is of spreading consistency.

Fill and frost the cooled layers, then sprinkle top and sides with coconut. Makes about 8 servings.

Canapes or little open-face sandwiches are always a happy choice. These have an interesting glaze on them.

CANAPES EN GELEE

16 2¼" scalloped white bread rounds
¾ cup pineapple juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1½ teaspoon unflavored gelatin
½ cup whipped cream cheese
1 4-oz. can chicken spread white seedless grapes, halved or small melon balls—halved

Toast bread rounds at 325 degrees about 30 minutes until uniformly golden brown. Cool. Combine juices, stir in gelatin to soften, then dissolve over hot water. Chill until slightly thickened but still spoonable (30-45 minutes).

Spread bread rounds with whipped cream cheese, then with chicken spread. Top with grape or melon ball.

Place canapes on a rack over a cookie sheet, then spoon slightly thickened gelatin over each to form a glaze. Chill about ¼ hour, just until firm. Makes 16 canapes. For smaller canapes use 24 1½" bread rounds.

A more substantial type of refreshment is ice cream in cookie baskets. These desserts can be made early and frozen. Serve on a 6-tray garlanded with flowers.

ICE CREAM IN BASKETS

½ cup maple syrup
½ cup butter
½ cup sifted flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 quart ice cream

Heat maple syrup to boiling point. Add butter and vanilla. Drop by tablespoons on a well-greased baking sheet about 4-inches apart.

Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven.

Allow to cool only 1 minute. Carefully remove each cookie with wide spatula. Place on inverted custard cup; pinch 4 corners to shape into basket. Cool.

Remove from custard cup. (If cookies become too hard to shape, return to oven for a few seconds.) Fill each basket with spoonfuls of your favorite flavor ice cream.

Makes about 6 baskets.

Rice, Corn and Cheese Blend in Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
Many a cook tires of serving the usual casserole of baked beans or macaroni and cheese with baked ham.

To make a switch in this good but time-tired combination, we've been collecting ham go-alongs.

Here, then, is Southern Pudding — the latest item on the list. It calls for cooked rice, canned cream-style corn, grated cheddar cheese, eggs and seasonings, and our tasters fully approved the combination.

A special point in its favor: after it goes into the oven a hostess can forget about it.

You can, of course, serve Southern Pudding with baked ham the first time the meat goes around. But it's also splendid to offer with a platter of the sliced leftover ham.

By the way, here are a few other good rice-and-corn combinations that may interest you.
• Quick soup — canned cream-style corn, milk, cooked rice, salt and lots of freshly ground pepper.

• Different salad — canned wholekernel corn teamed with cooked rice, finely diced celery, minced parsley, chopped pimiento and French dressing.

• Muffin mixup — canned wholekernel corn and cooked rice added to standard muffin batter.

Southern Pudding
2 large eggs
2 cups cooked rice (see Note)
1 cup (¾ pint) grated cheddar cheese
1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) cream-style golden corn
¼ cup minced onion

½ cup finely chopped green pepper
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon white pepper

In a large mixing bowl, beat the eggs until yolks and whites are combined. With a fork, stir in the rice, cheese, corn, onion, green pepper, salt and white pepper; mix lightly but thoroughly.

Turn into a buttered oblong ovenproof 1½-quart baking dish (10 by 6 by 1½ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Note: To prepare the rice for this recipe, we used converted-type rice and cooked it according to the basic directions on the package for "dry" rice, omitting salt.

Young Cooks Can Bake Date-Nut Cookies

Youngsters usually enjoy measuring ingredients with fractional measuring cups — and every well-equipped kitchen should boast a set of these.

A small spatula (available at dime store and of endless use to any cook) will allow boys and girls to do a good job of leveling the sugar, salt and flour called for in this recipe.

Almonds and coconut also go into the cookies. But the almonds come already sliced, the coconut flaked — so neither more measuring is needed here.

The dates, however, will need to be cut up; for this task, a kitchen scissors is a good tool. If it's medium size, a youngster can manage it.

East-New Almond Cookies
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon almond extract
1½ cups sliced natural almonds
1½ cups flaked coconut

½ cup unsifted regular flour
Fresh dates, pitted and cut up
In medium or large mixer bowl using high speed of electric mixer, beat together the eggs, sugar, salt and almond extract until thoroughly blended.

Fold in the almonds, coconut and flour.

Onto well greased cookie sheets, drop the mixture by heaping teaspoons, a few inches apart. Top each mound with a few pieces of date, then with another teaspoonful of the mixture.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. If necessary, allow to cool 1 minute to firm before removing with a wide spatula to wire racks to cool. Makes about 3 dozen.

Note: The almonds called for in this recipe are commercially cut to make very thin, flat lengthwise slices. They may be obtained in see-through plastic bags at food markets.

WAFFLES MELBA — Waffles with slices of vanilla ice cream, a peach half and raspberry sauce are a no-effort dessert. The waffles come out of the frozen foods counter; toast them before assembling the dessert. Offer your guest a variety of toppings for waffle sundae — fruits, jams or sauces.

Assemble Main Dish in Just Half an Hour

On one of those days when time seems to vanish, a quick, hearty skillet meal can save you. When brown 'n' serve sausage links are combined with a festive variety of canned corn and tomatoes and seasoned with chopped onion, only a success results.

Since the sausage links only need to be heated, they can be browned at the same time the onions are sauteing. The hearty, meaty flavor of the links will spark the vegetables and provide essential nutrients for good healthy living.

Pre-cooked rice, a real time-saver binds, the dish together and adds satisfying bulk. A colorful and flavorful topping comes from a sprinkling of shredded Cheddar cheese.

During the 20 minutes the skillet dish is cooking a tossed salad and dessert can be prepared. A crisp green salad will provide a texture contrast to the main dish.

With convenience foods to aid you, a pudding, cheesecake, or ice cream sundae topping can easily be prepared in this time.

Sausage Skillet Meal
8 ounce package brown 'n' serve sausage links

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
2 cups pre-cooked rice
12 ounce can whole kernel corn
1 pound can tomatoes
1½ cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Saute onion in melted butter. Add sausage links and brown. Add rice, corn, and tomatoes. Cover and cook about 20 minutes. Add cheese and heat until melted. Serve hot.

Chuck Steak Can Be Tender

Here's a steak that will delight a meal! Marinate a chuck steak in this marinade and you will find it tender as well as flavorful.

Combine 1 can tomato sauce with mushrooms, 1-3 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon basil and a dash of Tabasco. Simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes.

Let cool and pour over chuck steak and marinate overnight. Broil and serve with French rolls and tossed green salad.

SAUSAGE SKILLET MEAL — Convenience foods make this skillet dish a really fast operation. Brown 'n' serve sausage links top a tasty mixture of rice, whole kernel corn and tomatoes. There's a bit of cheese in it too.

Crab Mixes With Spaghetti

Net yourself some family praise with this crab and spaghetti dish combined with flavor extras as varied and gay as Mardi Gras.

Crab Louisiana features canned spaghetti in mildly seasoned tomato sauce with cheese and flaked crab. Add the magical seasoning powers of sliced mushrooms, chopped onion, pungent garlic, and colorful green pepper strips to create a glamorous main course.

Complete your festive menu with buttered broccoli and a dessert of peach melba. P.S. Keep your pantry well stocked with canned spaghetti and canned seafood for perfect put-together meatless meals.

Crab Louisiana
1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
¼ cup green pepper strips
¼ cup chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, minced
Generous dash crushed thyme
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (15½ ounces) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese
1 can (7 ounces) crab, drained and flaked
Dash pepper

In saucepan, cook mushrooms, green pepper, onion, garlic, and thyme in butter until vegetables are tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Variation: Substitute 1 can (7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked or 1 can (5 ounces) boned chicken with broth, cut up for crab.

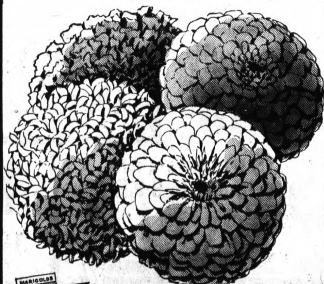

Cereal Snack

It's so easy to make your own tasty, crisp snack for TV viewing. Heat puffed rice in a shallow baking pan in preheated moderate oven for 10 minutes. Melt a little butter; add garlic salt or crushed garlic to taste. Pour over puffed rice, tossing gently to coat kernels evenly.

Whole Pears Bake Nicely

There's no need to peel pears before baking. Their tender skins are flavorful and help hold their shapes. Simply core the pears, fill the centers with sugar and butter.

Place a small amount of water in the bottom of the baking dish and bake at 350 degrees about 45 minutes or until tender.

For variety, use brown sugar or maple syrup for the sweetening in the centers of the pears or stuff them with chopped raisins or dates or nuts.

Vegetable Medley Layers With Strips of Cheese

It's uncanny how run-of-the-meat vegetables become exciting in this calico-colored casserole. Canned carrots, tomatoes sprinkled with onion soup mix, mushrooms and green beans peek invitingly through a lattice-top of American cheese strips.

This rewarding recipe will spark a family luncheon or supper. On a buffet table, it's bound to get the conversation going.

Vegetable-Cheese Medley

Put Lamb Cubes in Salad

When there's a little lamb left from a roast, what do you do with it? This is bound to happen, you know, because legs of lamb are heavier than they used to be... from six pounds to nine pounds in some areas... and it's not always possible to consume and enjoy every bit right down to the bone.

Ideally, this cooked lamb should make another meal. To serve it hot, make it into a curried dish, or a casserole with vegetables. To serve it cold, consider a salad.

A salad which has grown in popularity in recent years is that made with rice and cooked meat or fish. Toss cubes of cooked lamb with cooked rice... your favorite kind... add some chopped red onion and chopped parsley, and pour over it one of the good bottled dressings found on the market.

A little lemon juice and salt and pepper will then bring out the best in all.

Lamb and Rice Salad
3 cups cold cooked rice
2 cups cubed cooked lamb
½ cup chopped red onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 medium tomato, diced
½ cup bottled Italian salad dressing
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Salt and pepper
Combine all ingredients in

LAMB AND RICE SALAD — American lamb is the best you can buy, and now when Milk-fed Spring lamb is at the meat counters you should enjoy it both roasted and cold in a salad. Serve it with spring greens for a real treat.

Needs Sugar

Add a touch more sugar to muffin or hot bread batters if your last batch turned out coarse and full of tunnels. As the amount of sugar is increased, the danger of these defects is decreased. Sugar makes you a cool hand at hot breads!

Combine Danish Cheeses in Three Dips

These cheese dips have character — hearty, emphatic, lusty character you can enjoy in a dunk when you soften and blend not one but two Danish cheeses, add sour cream or mayonnaise for creaminess and crunchiness for bite.

You'll find five fine cheeses imported from Denmark at your market, each of them different in flavor and texture, each the best that Denmark, proud of its dairy products, has to offer.

- Tybo is coated with red wax to protect its delicate texture and mildness.
- Samsoe conceals its nut-sweet, buttery flesh under a golden coat of wax.
- Erom, a favorite for dessert, too, comes in a flat loaf, swelling slightly as it ripens and softens, growing more fragrant with age. Don't discard the crust — gourmets consider it the best bit of all.
- Havarti, cut from a squared-off loaf, is a man's cheese, perfect with beer. It begins life as a mild and gentle cheese, but if it lasts long enough Havarti develops a robust and hearty flavor.
- Last (and first with many) is Danish Blue, chalky white and creamy of texture, streaked with the characteristic blue-green mold that accounts for the unique "blue" flavor.

Danish Cheese Dip with Vegetables
4 ounces Danish Blue Cheese (1 cup crumbled)
4 ounces Danish Erom or Samsoe (1 cup shredded)
1 cup sour cream

4 radishes, chopped
1 small green pepper, seeded and chopped

Let cheese stand at room temperature for 30 minutes to soften. Mash Danish Blue. Combine both with sour cream, beat well. Fold in chopped vegetables.

Serve with cracker or fresh vegetable dippers, celery, endive, cucumbers.

Danish Cheese Dip
2 ounces Danish Blue Cheese (½ cup crumbled)
4 ounces Danish Havarti (1 cup shredded)
1 cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
12 small pimiento-stuffed olives
Let cheese stand at room temperature for 30 minutes to soften. Mash Danish Blue, combine with Havarti. Add mayonnaise and Worcestershire, blend well.

Chop olives, reserving a few to use as garnish, fold into dip.

Danish Cheese Dip With Olives
4 ounces Danish Blue Cheese (1 cup crumbled)
4 ounces Danish Tybo (1 cup shredded)
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon paprika

Let cheese stand at room temperature 30 minutes to soften. Mash Danish Tybo, add Tybo. Add cream and blend well. Season with mustard and paprika. Serve as a dip with potato chips, snack crackers, or hot cocktail frankfurters. Makes 1 ½ cups.

Black Sugar Turns Into Licorice Candy

"Black sugar" is a juice extracted from the root of the European licorice plant. Like brown and white sugar, it is sweet.

But unlike pure sugar, which is refined from both cane and beet plants, black sugar has a slightly astringent flavor. Because of this, licorice is either loved or loathed — no half way about it. Black sugar, sometimes called Spanish juice, is evaporated, mixed with starch to prevent melting, and dried for months before it becomes licorice candy.

Sold in sticks, chips, rounds and other shapes, sometimes individually wrapped, licorice is a demanding popular confection.

Refuses to Commit Himself on '68

LBJ Doing a Good Job, Says Reuther

By A.F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther believes President Johnson "in general is doing a good job under extremely difficult circumstances," but the United Auto Workers' leader refuses to commit himself on who he'll support for the presidency in 1968.

AFL-CIO President George Meany several weeks ago committed himself to support the President's reelection.

"I'm not prepared to speculate about the political situation in 1968," Reuther says, adding: "One of the things that bothers me is one day some people in the labor movement condemn the Democratic party and the next day go on a love spree (with it) that's rather reckless."

He views commitment this far in advance as "not good labor policy."

PHILOSOPHY STRESSED
Reuther underlined this philosophy several times at the UAW's Detroit convention last week.

The UAW chief anticipates the Vietnam War will have "nothing to do with our endeavor to get economic equity" from the automotive Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—in new contract bargaining opening in early July.

"No corporation is going to hide behind Vietnam," he says. "If they try they'll be hiding behind an illusion."

Reuther's views were expressed when a reporter pointed out Meany's commitment of support for Johnson and jokingly asked Reuther if he were prepared to commit himself to Re-same thing when someone quickly interjected: "What about (Sen. Robert F.) Bobby Kennedy (D-N.Y.)?"

"You're not serious, so I won't give you a serious answer," replied the leader of a union with 1.4 million potential votes.

"It so happens I have a very friendly and cooperative relationship with the President of the United States," he said, then added he thought President Johnson is "generally doing a good job under extremely difficult circumstances."

'I Had Rhythm'

Supertransport Blues

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — People whose job it is to worry about such things have begun to worry about what effect the forthcoming super-sonic transports may have on circadian rhythm.

Don't try to pretend you don't have a circadian rhythm. Of course you do. All creatures have it. Some more than others.

Many insects have mysterious internal mechanisms, known as biological clocks, which regulate their lives as punctually as those tiny little time pills on television.

We human beings don't get quite that far, but our daily lives are to some extent governed by natural cycles.

When super-sonic transports come into being, we will start crossing time zones at unnatural speeds, racing forward into tomorrow or backwards toward yesterday.

RHYTHMS DISTURBED

The concern is that this may disturb our circadian rhythms, causing us to become confused and disoriented. Even more than we already are.

To illustrate the problem, if it actually is a problem, I have invented a situation, which probably has no scientific foundation but which may indicate the sort of thing we will be getting into.

Gladstone Chumbley, the new U.S. ambassador to Japan, created an international incident in Tokyo tonight shortly after his arrival from Washington.

Chumbley was welcomed at the airport by Japanese Foreign Minister Hiroshi Kato and invited to dine at the celebrated Kamikaze Hilton. He was the first Western diplomat ever to be so honored.

SOMEONE BLUNDERED

In the ancient dining room, where sacred Japanese dishes have been served since the time of the Kamakura Shogunate, Chumbley made an unforgivable blunder. He ordered ham and eggs.

The foreign minister, seeking to atone for his guest's faux pas, immediately seized a cheese knife and committed hara-kiri, as did three geishas and a troop of kabuki dancers.

The incident is expected to bring a protest note from the Japanese government, kabuki dancers being hard to replace.

"It was circadian rhythm acting up again," Chumbley said later when asked to explain his conduct.

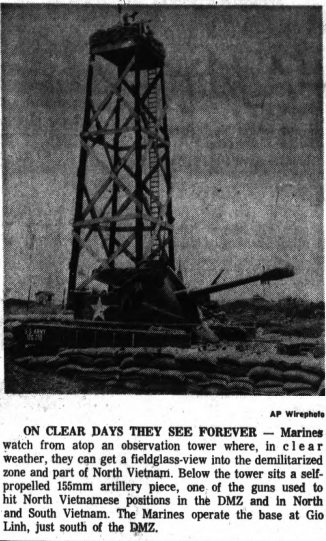

DISORIENTED

He said the long flight from Washington, during which numerous time zones were crossed at super-sonic speeds, caused him to become disoriented in the Orient.

"I thought it was breakfast time," Chumbley said, "and I always order ham and eggs for breakfast."

$1 Million Saved

LANING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports new methods and procedures resulted in a saving of $1.02 million during the last fiscal year. Largest saving was $540,000 through a change in the construction division resident engineer program. The number of engineers required under the new program was cut by 30 to account for most of the saving.

AP Wirephoto

ON CLEAR DAYS THEY SEE FOREVER — Marines watch from atop an observation tower where, in clear weather, they can get a fieldglass-view into the demilitarized zone and part of North Vietnam. Below the tower sits a self-propelled 155mm artillery piece, one of the guns used to hit North Vietnamese positions in the DMZ and in North and South Vietnam. The Marines operate the base at Gio Linh, just south of the DMZ.

Greece Calm Under Tight Rein

ATHENS (AP) — Troops were withdrawn from most parts of Athens today as calm prevailed throughout Greece, but the new military government kept the country under tight rein.

The new rulers are acting under a 55-year-old siege law that strips the people of most of the guarantees normal to a democracy.

The law provides for:

- Arrest of anyone without a warrant and indefinite detention awaiting trial;
- No bail for political prisoners;
- Bans on gatherings of more than five persons, labor unions and all strikes;
- Censorship of press, radio, letters and all other communications.

ARMY ORDER

The law was bolstered by an army order giving military authorities the right to search private homes; requiring all hunting rifles, shotguns and ammunition to be turned into the nearest police station; canceling all hunting licenses and forbidding all hunting; and requiring heads of households to report all persons living with them and any visitors or foreigners.

The government announced, however, that it has set up a special office to receive complaints against the new regime.

The announcement said that if a grievance is not satisfied within 48 hours, the complainant can take his case to the Interior Ministry.

There still was no word when King Constantine would make his promised speech supporting the new government installed after the army coup last Friday.

The government insists that the 26-year-old monarch supports the coup and would prove it by addressing the nation and presiding over a Cabinet meeting this week.

Constantine has kept silent and out of sight. Informants said he is spending most of his time at the "Tsai" summer palace outside Athens with his wife, Queen Anne-Marie, and their infant daughter, Alexia.

In an obvious move to win support of the rural population, Premier Constantine Kollas announced that farmers' pensions would be increased by 70 percent by the end of the year.

In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. Meade told a news conference the U.S. government is reviewing its military and economic aid for Greece.

Plane Hits Texas Home; 2 Die, Family Uninjured

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An Air Force reconnaissance plane crashed in flames and the two men aboard perished as the plane skidded into a modest home Tuesday night.

Lorenzo Caldwell, his wife and six children escaped through the back door of the house as the twin jet RF4C struck and exploded. The dwelling burned.

The craft struck in an open field 200 yards short of a runway after severing power lines as it returned from a training mission to Bergstrom Air Force Base on the southeast side of Austin. Power was knocked out for a time at the base and elsewhere in the vicinity.

Authorities at Bergstrom identified the dead as Lt. Col. Lewis J. Cowart, 42, the pilot, Austin, and Capt. Charles J. Ramone, 34, the navigator, Houston.

Ex-Area Man Killed in Viet

1st. Lt. William E. Lawson Jr., formerly of Birmingham, was killed April 20 in Vietnam. He was 27.

Service will be 2 p.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church of Birmingham. Burial will be in Franklin Cemetery by Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth; a daughter, Denise and a son, Calvin, both at home; his mother, Mrs. Alex Lawson of Royal Oak; his father, William E. of Royal Oak; and three sisters, including Mrs. Jack Kallfheich of Birmingham and Mrs. Stewart Kent of Wall Lake.

Lt. Lawson was killed near Pleiku while acting as a forward observer for a company that was ambushed by the Vietcong. He was struck by enemy rifle fire as he sought to take cover.

A graduate of Birmingham Seaholm High School, he arrived in Vietnam last August as part of the 2nd Brigade, Fourth Infantry Division. He was due to come home June 22.

Inducted into the army in 1960, he reenlisted in 1964 planning to make the army his career.

Ex-Educator Dies; Served City Schools

Harriet Ratliff, former supervisor of elementary education in the Pontiac School System, died Monday. She was 80.

Service will be 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Sparks-Griffin Chapel with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

A sister survives.

Miss Ratliff of 6 Green came to the Pontiac schools in 1923. She was formerly a teacher at Fremont and Muskegon and elementary supervisor at Muskegon Heights.

She served many years in Pontiac schools as teacher, principal of McConnell School and, later, supervisor of elementary education.

Miss Ratliff was a past president of Zonta Club, Pontiac Education Association and a member of the National and Michigan Education associations.

CLUB PRESIDENT
A former president of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, she was a member of Pontiac Day Nursery Board and at one time headed the former Oakland County Normal School.

Miss Ratliff attended the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

A graduate of Michigan Normal College, Mt. Pleasant, she took advanced training at the University of Chicago and Columbia University.

Italy Launches Study Satellite

ROME — (UPI) — Italy today launched a scientific research satellite into orbit above the equator, the Italian Space Agency said.

The 265-pound San Marco-B instrument package was lofted into permanent orbit from a platform in the sea off Kenya by an American-built four-stage scout rocket.

Broomfield: Cut the Cost of Overseas Mail to GIs

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-14th District, appeared before the House Subcommittee on Postal Rates today in attempt to have rates reduced on packages mailed to servicemen overseas.

He is seeking legislation that would allow packages weighing up to 30 pounds to be airfreighted overseas at less than half the cost.

Broomfield was invited to testify after turning over 200 letters bringing lower package rates to Vietnam to Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski, committee chairman, and Glenn Cunningham, the ranking Republican on the Committee.

After Suit Dismissed

Sewer Planning Proceeds

With the dismissal of a lawsuit, plans for the construction of $53-million Clinton-Oakland day.

The next step will be filing Interceptor Sewer are proceeding, R. J. Alexander, director of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission for approval to sell bonds to finance the project.

While waiting for an answer, said Alexander, his department will begin the process of acquiring easements for the sewer which will serve the six townships of Avon, Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, West Bloomfield and Orion. Contracts with DPW have been approved by all the townships.

The application to the Finance Commission had been held up pending the outcome of a suit filed last November by six Avon Township and Rochester residents.

They questioned a proposal that would have any tax money returned to Rochester that was collected from Avon Township from Rochester property owners to pay for the system.

Circuit Judge Robert L. Templin dismissed the case Monday, saying that the suit was premature and should be determined if and when a tax is levied.

Alexander estimated that the construction of the interceptor could get underway within a year, with completion a year later.

The interceptor will connect with a main line from Detroit at Dequindre and 23 Mile Road in Macomb County.

Original plans had called for the sewer to be linked with the Dequindre Interceptor, but the proposal was rejected by communities it serves on the basis that it would overload the system.

SALES PITCH—Sylvan Lake Mayor John M. Hanson (right) says a miniature white cane to Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. for donations to aid the blind during White Cane Week. Money will be used to buy glasses for area children for the Blind in Avon Township, according to Hanson who is chairman of the Pontiac Lions Club project. Club members will be selling canes in city streets and shopping centers tomorrow through Saturday.

180 Future Teachers Tour Area Elementary Schools

Pontiac and Waterford Township elementary school principals had a chance yesterday to recruit future teachers without even taking a step outside their own schools.

Some 180 Michigan State University elementary education majors came to 60 Pontiac and Waterford schools to observe for the day.

For many of these future teachers it was the first time they returned to an elementary classroom since they left one. And they were glad they did.

"It's an experience visiting a predominately Negro school, although the children aren't any different," Susan Kucharek, a junior from 180 Boyken, Rochester, remarked after visiting Pontiac's Wilson School.

The day was both a busy and interesting one for the visitors who came to "one of the finest MSU student teaching centers in the state," according to Robert Trautman, director of MSU Teacher Education Center for the Oakland County area.

WILSON SCHOOL
Take Wilson School for example:

Principal David Crawford met a group of four female visitors at the Pontiac Schools Administration Building and drove them to his school, as did other principals.

For the most part, the morning was devoted to a tour of the school plant — everything from classrooms to teachers' lounges — and introduction to teachers and administrators.

A student composition which the visitors spotted on the Wilson bulletin board probably made them wish their teacher would grow up faster. It read:

STUDENT'S AMBITION
"I want to be a policeman because I would like to look like a policeman and put crooks in jail."

Some of the MSU students had a chance to chat with fellow students who are now student teaching in nine schools in Pontiac and Waterford.

Later in the day the students had a chance to observe another student teaching in a grade level if they wished and many of them were permitted to work with the children.

Cheryl Austin of Kent City helped a group of second graders at Wilson with their arithmetic.

MORE BENEFICIAL
"I have observed an elementary class in my hometown and I knew the teacher," she said, "but it's much more beneficial to visit a school you're not familiar with."

"I think this observation program is one of the best instructional devices and should be done more."

When four buses pulled away from the Pontiac Board of Education office and Waterford Materials Center for East Lansing at 3 p.m., another day of learning was over.

Many of the students found they liked classroom teaching and perhaps a few found they didn't. And possibly even some thought they would like to teach in this area when their college days are over.

State Senate OKs Extra Fund

$29.7 Million Added for General Spending

LANSING (AP) — A supplemental appropriations bill to provide an extra $29.7 million for state spending in fiscal 1966-67 passed the Senate Tuesday and was sent to the House.

The bill, approved 31-3, would boost total general fund spending for the fiscal year to approximately $1.01 billion.

The measure would provide an extra $18.3 million for medical, the state's health service program; and another $3.6 million to repay local governments for property tax exemptions for elderly citizens.

About $3.4 million would go for mental health purposes, mainly salaries, wages and supplies, and $1.5 million would be used for junior and community college construction projects.

SUPPLEMENT NECESSARY
State officials say the extra medical money is needed because estimates of costs and numbers of eligible recipients indicate the program will be short about $18 million.

The Medicaid program was approved by the 1966 Legislature, which appropriated $21 million to phase in the program during fiscal 1966-67.

Gov. George Romney ordered a cutback in services provided by the program last December, saying expenses would run far over the original $21 million appropriation.

A bill was introduced to implement the cutbacks after Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that Romney had no authority to take such action.

BILL DISCUSSED
The bill, which has passed both the House and Senate, now is in conference committee for ironing out of a House amendment, which would restore a portion of the services originally ordered deleted.

The supplemental spending bill also provides an extra $963,000 for the legislative branch, $145,000 for the judicial branch, and $28,250 for the Department of Public Health.

The measure also makes restricted fund appropriations totaling $2.7 million.

These include $2 million from the state trunkline fund to provide for highway maintenance necessary by the long, severe winter.

The Urban Land Institute predicts that, by the year 2000, 77 per cent of the nation's population will live in mainland areas that take up only 11 per cent of the land of coterminous United States: the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

He will conduct business from his office at 3260 Grand River, Farmington, on Saturday afternoon.

Crash Kills 2; Driver Is Held

OAK PARK (AP) — A 36-year-old woman and her 3-month-old granddaughter were killed last night in a flaming crash.

Police said a car driven by a woman crashed into a house on Oak Park intersection.

Mrs. Mertle Belle Mandfield of Detroit and Tammy Sue Leep, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leep of Berkeley, were dead on arrival at Southfield's Providence Hospital.

Oak Park Safety Officer Patrick Brown said a car driven by Fred Atkins, 30, of 8789 W. Bonnet went through a red light and hit Mrs. Mandfield's car broadside.

Brown said the impact threw both victims from their car, which burst into flames and skidded into a nearby gasoline tank.

Brown said Atkins was held as a police prisoner in Providence Hospital.

Former Envoy to Egypt Dies

PARIS (AP) — Services will be held Thursday in Paris for S. Pinkney (Kippy) Tuck of Grossette Pointe Farms, Mich., a veteran U.S. diplomat and former ambassador to Egypt.

Tuck, who died Saturday in the American Hospital in Paris after a year of poor health, will be buried in Upper Marlboro, Md.

His diplomatic career began and ended in Egypt. He was appointed deputy consul at Alexandria in 1915 and resigned as ambassador in 1948.

Tuck spent most of his retirement years in Paris and near Geneva, Switzerland, where he maintained a home. After retiring, he became the first American to sit on the board of the Suez Canal Co., a post he held until 10 years ago.

WASHINGTON BOUND — About 230 ninth graders of Washington Junior High School left this morning for a three-day visit to Washington, D.C. Checking travel plans with Traver Miller, assistant principal and tour director, are (from left) Connie Cutrell, 539 Avon; Art Kilgore, 45 Lo raine; and Chris Shore, 94 Wenonah. On this 20th annual trip, the group is scheduled to meet Michigan Sen. Robert P. Griffin and Philip A. Hart and to place a wreath at George Washington's grave.

Two of the passengers were gone when State Police stopped the vehicle on Waterford Road a few minutes later.

Consequently, other police departments were notified of the possibility of a break-in in the immediate area.

Observing the rear door ajar at Al's Hardware, Waterford Township Patrolman James Goble called for assistance before entering the establishment.

He said the two juveniles were crouched behind a row of shelves.

PREVIOUS BREAK-IN
Police believe the same subjects broke into the store earlier as $40, sunglasses, knives and wrenches were reported missing by the owner, Allen Hinz, of 4764 Hillcrest, Independence Township.

Other policemen instrumental in the captures were State Police Troopers Richard Cooper and Leonard Giff, Waterford Township Patrolman Glenn Luehmman and Sheriff's deputies Jack Kraff and Carl Matheny.

Police Foil Break-In at Area Store

State: Waterford Township and county police joined forces early today to capture four burglars suspects and thwart an Independence Township break-in.

Taken into custody following a break-in at Al's Hardware, 5880 Dixie, were Robert E. VanKleeck, 21, of 77 Clark, Pontiac; Leonard A. Irwin, 28, of 3325 Genoa, Independence Township; and two juveniles.

State Police were seeking breaking and entering warrants for VanKleeck and Irwin this morning.

The juveniles — a 16-year-old and a 14-year-old from Waterford Township — were turned over to county juvenile authorities.

State Police and sheriff's deputies had observed four persons riding in a car with a noisy muffler at Dixie Highway and Waterford Road shortly before 2.

Two of the passengers were gone when State Police stopped the vehicle on Waterford Road a few minutes later.

Samuel Pepps, dead for 265 years, has received a letter from the tax-man.

The famous diarist who wrote of the 1666 fire of London and the 1665 plague was also known as "father of the Civil Service."

Tuesday a letter for Pepps was received by his publisher, G. Bell and Sons in London.

It was an inquiry from the Civil Service's tax department asking for Pepps' tax district, whether he got a state pension and if he had declared his current income.

Said a spokesman for the publishers: "We have been publishers of Pepps' Diary for 70 or 80 years, and there is a certain amount of work going on on a new edition.

"This may have brought the name Pepps to the tax sleuths. We shall return the form saying that Mr. Pepps is no longer employed by ourselves."

Michigan Grandmother Rides a Tricycle

When Maurine Morden wheels onto the open road, The 67-year-old grandmother from Eaton, Rapids, cars stop and people stare.

Mich. rides a tricycle.

"It's the only adult tricycle in Eaton Rapids," Mrs. Morden said proudly, adding, "It's a good way to get acquainted.

"Riding a bike like this is like walking an unusual breed of dog," she explained. "People stop and stare, then ask me where I got it."

Mrs. Morden drives a car too—but said she prefers the three-wheeler for short jaunts around town.

"It's a good exercise," she said. "I'm a little lame and can't walk too far, but this is just perfect."

Burtons Sweep British Film Honors

The Richard Burtons have made a clean sweep of top honors in the 20th Annual British Film Academy awards.

Burton's wife, Elizabeth Taylor, 35, won the best British actress award for her performance in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

He took honors as the best British actor for his performance in the same film and also in "The Spy Who Came In From the Cold."

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" was voted best film from any source and "The Spy Who Came In From the Cold" was voted the Best British film.

Both the Burtons attended the award ceremonies at London's Grosvenor House hotel last night.

Walter Voelker says he is going to hitch a ride to Vietnam to visit his serviceman son.

A retired Army captain, lying in Columbus, Ohio, Voelker, 42, plans to catch rides aboard military planes.

"Because of my 21 years in the service," the former bomb disposal expert explained yesterday, "I am entitled to fly on military planes. But I'm the last one to get on."

His son, Walter Jr., is a gunner on a helicopter stationed at Han Son Nhut near Saigon. If he can get as far as Saigon, Voelker said, "I'll walk the last 12 miles if I have to."

Voelker, now an appliance salesman, said he first mentioned the idea to his wife as a joke and she approved it. "If it hadn't been for her attitude I would not have pursued it."

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The cost of living climbed slightly during March, reflecting an increase in the cost of medical care that outweighed a small drop in food prices.

The Labor Department reported yesterday the consumer price index rose to 115.0, compared to 114.8 in February. In money terms it meant the same sample selection of goods and services that cost $100 during the 1957-58 base period now cost $115.00.

The wholesale price index fell from 106.0 to 105.7.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, said the cost of medical care increased nine-tenths of 1 percent during the month, contributing to an overall three-tenths of 1 percent increase in the cost of consumer services generally.

Over the last 12 months, the cost of consumer services has increased 5.2 percent, he said.

Forced to Quit by Robinson, Meredith Says

NEW YORK (AP) — James H. Meredith, who backed out as a Republican candidate against Adam Clayton Powell in Harlem's special congressional election, said today an accusation by former baseball star Jackie Robinson forced him to quit the race.

Meredith said he withdrew six days after his nomination March 7 because he "was in effect accused of the grossest form of malfeasance by the highest ranking Negro member of the New York State Republican party — Jackie Robinson."

"In effect, the very party that gave me the nomination turned around with equal force and declared me an unworthy candidate, an untenable political position, to say the least," he said.

Meredith dropped out of the race amid speculation that he had been under pressure by civil rights groups not to back Powell. His only immediate explanation was that the GOP had been unwilling to keep certain commitments and that "political expediency was the order of the day."

BACKED POWELL

Robinson, a Republican and an aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, had urged Powell's reelection and asserted Meredith "sold himself for whatever he can get."

Reached at his home in Stamford, Conn., yesterday, Robinson commented, "I'm not really sure what he's talking about, but I'm sorry he feels this way. Of course, no one person could force him out of the race."

Powell, ousted from his congressional seat for his free-wheeling behavior, easily won reelection April 11th against Republican and Conservative party candidates.

"The very heart of the issue in the special election involved the question of public trust and malfeasance in office," Meredith said in a statement.

"By being publicly accused of malfeasance, my own integrity has been brought into public question. My integrity is second to nothing in importance to me. I have never allowed myself to bring my integrity into public question, without justification. I shall make Mr. Robinson no exception."

Selassie to End California Visit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, a visitor in southern California since Sunday, leaves today for Vancouver, B.C.

The 75-year-old monarch cruised on a yacht in Los Angeles harbor Tuesday, then made a quick trip to the desert to talk with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A spokesman said the emperor was particularly interested in off-shore oil drilling operations because Ethiopia may have similar petroleum deposits in the Red Sea.

A short while later, the monarch flew to Palm Springs airport aboard the presidential jet he is using. Gen. Eisenhower boarded the plane, and he and the ruler talked privately for about 20 minutes.

Insurer Aids in Emergency

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mutual of New York (Mony) yesterday granted emergency privileges to policyholders in Illinois and Michigan who were afflicted by the tornadoes that ravaged the area last week.

Executive Vice President J. McCall Huges directed the Mony agencies in Chicago, Hinsdale, Des Plaines and Evanston, Ill., and Grand Rapids, Mich., to permit policyholders an extra 30 days beyond the usual grace period in which to pay premiums and interest on loans.

The Mony offices have also been authorized to make policy loans of up to $500 over-the-counter at the agencies, instead of waiting for formal approval from the home office.

Residents of the two states own $661 million of life insurance with Mony.

Plane Crash at Sea; 15 Believed Dead

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP) — A flaming radar picket plane with 16 men aboard plunged into the Atlantic Ocean yesterday night after the pilot apparently tried to avoid hitting homes on Nantucket Island.

"I am convinced that this boy was fighting desperately to get it to the water and avoid this summer colony," said Albert L. Manning, one of three private pilots who agreed that a last-minute maneuver kept the craft from striking the island.

"It skidded along the water for about 4,000 feet and when it hit there was this huge burst of fire and a big red fireball," said Rene A. Orleans. "I'd never seen anything like it."

At the controls of the four-engine Super Constellation when it went down about a half-mile off shore was Col. James P. Lyle, 47, commander of the 551st Airborne Early Warning and Control Wing at Otis Air Force Base in Falmouth.

The navigator of the craft, Lt. Joseph H. Guenet, 29, was rescued by a search helicopter shortly after the crash.

BODIES RECOVERED

Two bodies were recovered and a night-long search by Air Force and Coast Guard units was intensified at dawn.

Officials at Otis said they had reports before the crash that crewmen were manning individual life rafts for a ditched landing at sea, but there were doubts that any could have survived the explosion.

If the crewmen were able to don their rubber suits and escape in the life rafts, they could survive at sea "for a considerable period of time," Col. John M. Konosky, wing vice commander, told a news conference at Otis.

Waterford Use of Land-Fill Near

A proposal enabling Waterford Township residents to use Pontiac's land-fill site split the City Commission last night, but drew majority support of a resolution to initiate a contract with the township.

Commissioners voted 4-2 in favor of the measure, with Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. voicing objections, but abstaining on the roll call.

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. and District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin opposed the proposal.

contract last week. Commissioners at that time tabled the proposal, however, and suggested further study of the request.

Hints that commissioners were less than happy with previous joint efforts between the city and the township were at least partly confirmed by remarks made by Taylor last night.

'HARD TO TAKE'

"We were led to believe Waterford would join us in the city sewer project," Taylor said, "then we read in the paper they had gone with the county."

"That was a little bit hard to take—frankly, I won't support this waste disposal contract until we get some co-operation from the township on joint street lighting on Telegraph."

The city has unsuccessfully sought a cooperative lighting project on Telegraph.

Terms of the disposal contract are similar to those of a previous agreement with West Bloomfield Township. Private citizens are granted use of the dump on a fee basis.

ONE COLOR MAKE OVER PAGES State House Takes Up Fiscal Package Today

LANSING (AP) — Today it was the House's turn to take up tax reform—the No. 1 issue of the 1967 legislative session.

Near the top of today's calendar was House Bill 2142 which would levy the state's first income tax at a rate of 2½ per cent on Michigan residents.

What would happen to it was anybody's guess, but the vote was expected to be close.

Democrats said they planned to offer a series of major amendments to the Republican-drafted House tax package. Republican leaders said most of their members planned to unite to beat the amendments off.

IT TAKES 55 VOTES

It takes 55 votes to pass a bill in the House. Republicans and Democrats have 54 seats each.

Speaker Robert Waldron, leader of the GOP delegation, said last night he wasn't sure whether as many as 50 of the 54 Republicans would vote for the package, even though the House GOP caucus favors it.

The Senate last March 30 defeated a similar income tax bill 21-16, then reconsidered the vote and sent Gov. Romney's whole fiscal package back to committee for study and negotiations.

House Republicans caucused last night but Waldron said they made no changes in their own tax-change proposals.

That program, designed to yield $314 million in net new revenue in fiscal 1967-68, includes:

- Income taxes of 2½ per cent on individuals, 5 per cent on corporations and 7 per cent on financial institutions.
- An increase in the cigarette tax of three cents a pack.
- Repeal of the business activities tax and an increase in the intangible tax exemption from $20 to $100 per year.
- Return to local governments of one-fifth of the money from the personal income tax.
- A 14 per cent cut in school and county property taxes.

ESCAPE DEATH — Police and onlookers survey the damage caused when a pickup truck and car collided at Wide Track and Pike about 8:20 a.m. today. Police used a crowbar to free Mrs. J. F. Martineau, 47, of 95 N. Astor, driver of the car, from the wreckage. She was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where she underwent surgery.

Alvin Birdiette, 18, of 75 Willard, driver of the truck, his twin brother, Calvin, and four other youths on their way to classes at Pontiac Central High School were taken for X rays at Pontiac General, police said.

AF Hits Rail Bridge Near Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force pilots pressed their war against the Hanoi area with unrelenting fury today, bombing a key railway and highway bridge across the Red River four miles from the center of the North Vietnamese capital.

The steel and concrete bridge carries the only rail line between Red China and the North Vietnamese capital, the U.S. Command said.

U.S. spokesmen were unable to give an immediate assessment of damage to the bridge.

They said it was a steel and concrete structure with five spans, 738 feet long and 20 feet wide, and with the center span is movable to allow passage of ships.

Other Air Force raiders from Thailand made the second attack in two days of an electrical transformer site seven miles north of Hanoi.

ported heavy opposition from anti-aircraft fire, surface-to-air missiles and MIG jets.

The American spokesman made no report of any planes downed, but a dispatch from Hanoi to Tass, the Soviet news agency, said a missile brought down one plane near Hanoi in flames and that radio Haiphong reported four American planes and a helicopter were shot down there.

There was no immediate American announcement of any raids today in the Haiphong area, however.

The U.S. Command did announce the loss of two more American planes over North Vietnam yesterday, raising the number admitted lost Monday and yesterday to six during the strikes on MIG airfields and key targets around Hanoi and Haiphong. U.S. spokesmen said 516 American planes now have been lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

In the ground war, U.S. Marines battled strong enemy forces in the rugged mountains below the demilitarized zone Tuesday and reported 14 Marines killed and 38 wounded in three engagements.

The ground action in northernmost Quang Tri Province began yesterday morning when a small convoy of U.S. Marine engineers was ambushed in a mountain pass.

The enemy force, of unknown size, opened up with small arms, automatic weapons and mortars, killing five Marines and wounding 22.

A relief company and armed helicopters were rushed to the aid of the convoy, and later in the day a command group and another company of Leathernecks were lifted into sweep the area. They made no contact, however, and enemy casualties were unknown.

Senate Passes Road Fund Bills

LANSING (AP) — Bills which could raise approximately $61 million for highway maintenance by boosting the state gasoline tax one penny and raising license plate costs passed the Senate yesterday.

The four-bill package, supported by Gov. George Romney, the Michigan Good Roads Federation, the Highway Department and other groups, would:

- Raise the state gasoline tax from six cents per gallon to seven cents to produce an estimated $32 million more annually.
- Raise the passenger car weight tax from 35 cents per 100 pounds to 55 cents, producing an expected $23.6 million a year.
- Increase by about 10 per cent the commercial vehicle weight taxes to give the state another $4 million a year.
- Shift distribution of motor vehicle highway funds, taking 1 per cent each away from the state and counties and adding 2 per cent to the cities and villages share.

Under the new distribution schedule, the state would receive 46 per cent of the money, the counties 34 per cent and the cities and villages 20 per cent.

The gasoline tax increase was the only bill running into more than token opposition on the Senate floor, passing 24-9 with 20 votes needed for passage. The three companion measures easily.

Opponents of the gas tax boost were led by Democratic Sen. John Bowman of Roseville and Garland Lane of Flint. They charged that the Highway Department is overstuffed and many department employees are being paid for doing nothing.

"I'm voting 'No' not because I'm opposed to improved highways, but because of the unwillingness of the department to do something about the employee situation," Bowman said.

comes effective July 1 on the retirement of Dr. Frank R. Bates.

On the staff of the Oakland County Health Department since 1950, Wilson, 52, of 211 Walnut, Rochester, has occasionally served as acting director.

As director Wilson will receive an annual salary of $11,000.

Wilson received his veterinary degree

from Michigan State University in 1936, and a master of science degree in bacteriology three years later.

GENERAL SANITATION

In recent years, he has been assigned to the general sanitation division of the health department.

A native of Rochester (he was born on the Parke, Davis Parkside Farm where his father Robert was superintendent for 39 years) Wilson was state veterinarian for the racing commission for a year before joining the county.

Wilson also was with Parke, Davis for five years in the 1940s as a clinical investigator in the Veterinary Medical Service of the pharmaceutical company.

He and his wife Della have one daughter, Laura Lou, 19, a student at Michigan State University.

House Passes Nine 'Quiet' Bills

LANSING (AP) — Unlicensed drivers, salesmen who change the mileage readings on autos, and an accused absence for a misdemeanor among the subjects which occupied the House Tuesday.

But the chamber, in a full day of efforts to put a dent in its 259-item calendar before taking up tax reform today, passed only nine bills, few of them controversial.

The two most-debated measures passed would increase minimum penalties for driving with a suspended license and make it a misdemeanor to change an auto's odometer to a lower mileage figure.

Another flurry of debate began when Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, after requesting the mileage readings on autos, and an accused absence for a misdemeanor among the subjects which occupied the House Tuesday.

Normally, granting requests for excused absences is a routine matter—but this was a bit different. With a vote on a controversial state income tax bill possible today, some legislators apparently felt the younger Montgomery should stand up and be counted on that roll call.

Montgomery said he and his father, Democrats from adjoining Detroit districts, were both ill. The elder Montgomery was absent all day Tuesday, and the son was gone in the afternoon.

"If I feel better tomorrow, I'll be here," snapped George F., when his request for an excused absence met with objections.

Warned of the not-to-serious possibility that he might be compelled to be in the House, he added: "I doubt if the State Police will be able to find me."

The House voted 79-10 to excuse Montgomery.

ODOMETER-SETTING BILL

The odometer-setting bill was sponsored by Rep. Dale Klidde, D-Flint. Klidde said he sold a car with 44,000 miles on it to a

"reputable, franchised dealer" who changed the mileage indicator figure to 28,000 before reselling it.

The measure would make it a misdemeanor to lower a motor vehicle's odometer reading or cause it to be lowered.

Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainville, an auto dealer, voted against the measure, claiming: "You just plain couldn't enforce it."

ORIGINAL BILL

As introduced, O'Brien's bill would have provided that a judge must sentence anyone convicted of driving while revoked or suspended, or after his license application was denied, to at least 30 days in jail.

O'Brien wanted a mandatory sentence of at least 90 days for a second offense.

Under current law, the minimum sentence for each offense is two days in jail. The House voted to change it to three days for a first offense and five for a subsequent conviction.

An unsuccessful attempt to delete entirely the mandatory jail sentence for first offenders was made by members of the House Judiciary Committee, who claimed that is the only place in Michigan's lawbooks where a first conviction of a misdemeanor automatically puts the defendant in jail.

OTHER BILLS

Other bills passed and sent to the House to extend to non-partisan elections the practices of distinguishing on the ballot candidates with similar names, require removal of duck blinds from nonprimate waters within 15 days after the end of the waterfowl season, and permit the revocation of a driver's license if a person loses or borrows a license or alters his own.

He said the conference is a practical day-to-day effort to meet the problems of the modern world in Michigan.

ANNUAL REPORT

The agency's annual report indicated services were offered to 2,801 families in 33,682 interventions in 1966. Also that 374 children were given a total of $6,696 days care in placement, and 97 infants were placed in adoption during the year.

Officers elected at a recent board meeting are Joseph B. Depman of 10680 Buckingham, Birmingham, president; Charles P. Audette of 25309 Ridgewood, Farmington Township, first vice president; John J. Crinson of 5889 Havens, Dryden Township, second vice president; Mark A. Benner of 27150 Orchard Lake, Farmington Township, treasurer; and Mrs. Katherine Baker of 5581 Park, West Bloomfield Township, corresponding secretary.

County Group Cites Retiring Area Officials

A gold plaque was given last night to retiring board member J. Clifford Metty of 1947 Lakeland, Sylvan Lake, for 10 years of service to the Catholic Social Services of Oakland County.

The award was presented before some 300 persons at the United Fund agency's annual dinner at Kingsley Inn.

Other area retiring board members receiving awards were Donald J. MacKinnon of 23888 Ridgewood, Farmington Township, for seven years of service; William J. Markley of 2715 Peabody, Bloomfield Township; and John F. Foley of 523 Mohegan, Farmington Township. Markley and Foley had served four years.

After the award presentation, most Rev. Joseph R. Gens, auxiliary bishop of Lansing and bishop-elect of Reno, Nev., spoke about the Michigan Catholic Conference. He is assistant treasurer of the 5-year-old organization.

They Sing the Pothole Blues

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP— "Spring is breaking up those old roads of ours" is the lament of residents in Kirkwood Subdivision near Quanton and Iakaber.

About 75 of them appeared recently before the Township Board asking for some relief.

The board was able to promise that some repair work could be done.

Most of the roads in the subdivision are either not paved or the original blacktopping proved inadequate and fell victim to the bad weather.

DOG CONTROL

Another large group of unhappy citizens presented petitions with 365 signatures asking the township to pass a strict dog ordinance.

Several persons have been bitten recently, including some children.

The board is to study dog ordinances in similar communities and have a proposal ready for the next scheduled meeting, May 8 at 8 p.m.

Quarterly charge for sewer service was raised from $6 to $8, but minimum charges for houses not in use were removed.

Sewer tap-in charges were raised from $300 to $400. The changes are effective July 1.

A budget for the coming fiscal year of $1,125,382 was approved after a public hearing. The proposed income for the period was set at the same figure.

BIRMINGHAM — A new center for community service has opened in the Birmingham Theater Building, 531 S. Woodward.

It is the Oakland County branch of the Central Volunteer Bureau, part of the United Community Services (UCS) of Metropolitan Detroit.

Heading the office is Mrs. Geraldine Clemmons of 1423 Ruffner.

She will operate a central clearinghouse for health and welfare agencies and for citizens who wish to volunteer services.

Mrs. Clemmons has been active in youth programs in the metropolitan area. The new facility is cosponsored by the UCS and the Junior League of Birmingham.

Alleged Cruelty Victim, 2, Second to Die in 3 Days

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A 2½-year-old girl, the second victim in three days in alleged child cruelty cases in the Detroit area, died today in Mount Clemens.

The mother, Mrs. Patricia Ziernert, 22, of Sterling Township, was arrested Tuesday after the girl, Deborah, was hospitalized with a skull fracture and multiple bruises around her face and body. Deborah died today in St. Joseph Hospital.

Mrs. Ziernert, wife of Duncan Ziernert, 22, Pontiac factory worker, stood mute at her arraignment and was jailed in lieu of $3,000 bond. Mount Clemens Justice of the Peace Edmund Schmidt set examination for May 5.

An 18-year-old northwest Detroit mother was arrested and charged with manslaughter Tuesday in the death of her four-month-old son.

Mrs. Donna Beck was released under $1,000 bond after she stood mute before Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Donald S. Leonard. Examination was set for May 10.

An autopsy disclosed that the death of Mrs. Beck's son, Allan, Mrs. Beck's factory in Wayne County General Hospital Monday was caused by a blow to the head resulting in a blood clot under the skull.

Reineck Granted 73 Days Sick Leave

A leave of absence through Aug. 3 was granted last night by the City Commission to Asst. City Manager John F. Reineck.

Reineck, who was absent from the commission meeting, cited ill health in requesting use of his full accumulation of 73 leave days.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren presented Reineck's letter to commissioners informally following the regular commission meeting.

Warren said Reineck's duties would be "redistributed among other city officials pending the assistant manager's return."

The question of replacing Warren in the event of the illness or absence of the city manager from the city was termed "a good one" by City Attorney Sherwin M. Birnkant.

The city charter provides for appointment of the manager as the city's "chief administrative officer" and the assistant manager as his stand-in, but makes no provision for line of succession if both are disabled.

Police Grant to Aid Teens

The Police Department will receive a $14,911 federal grant to establish a special program designed to better relations between police and young boys, Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., announced yesterday.

The funds will come from the Justice Department under the Law Enforcement Assistance Act, Hart said.

Thirty boys, aged 14 and 15, will work in a summer program enabling them to see police work firsthand. They will be paid $1 per hour, Hart said.

LBJ, Bonn Leader Okay Consultations

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Johnson said today he and West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger agreed they would have "constant, complete and full consultations" before either of their governments takes decisions on matters of interest to both countries.

The president spoke to newsmen after his second meeting with the West German chancellor since his arrival Sunday for the funeral of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Johnson said he and Kiesinger had taken "no hard and fast decisions" but he hoped there would be more to announce after the Chancellor visits the United States "at an early date."

2-HOUR DISCUSSION

The two men spent more than two hours together at Kiesinger's residence. The president said they discussed:

1. The projected treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons;
2. Trade and monetary problems;
3. Troop deployment;
4. The security of the two nations;
5. The prosperity of their peoples.

Airport Aid Okayed for Landing System

Federal authorization for installation of a partial instrument landing system at Oakland-Pontiac Airport has been approved, Wallace B. Hudson, chairman of the aviation committee of the County Board of Supervisors, announced yesterday.

The installation on Runway 9

(East-West) of the airport will cost $96,000, according to Hudson, and full expense will be borne by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Installation of the partial system is expected within 18 months and it will serve to make the airport operation safer.

It will consist of ground instruments that will enable pilots to know if they are properly lined up with the runway.

The other part of the instrument landing system which the airport hopes to have authorized soon would be instruments indicating proper descent angles to pilots.

TRAFFIC STIPULATION

J. David VanderVeen, airport manager, said that the basis for federal approval of the complete instrument landing system is instrument approach traffic exceeding 700 per year.

He added that Oakland-Pontiac Airport's instrument approach traffic increased from 703 in 1965 to 1,377 last year.

Victor L. Smothers, 48, of 203 Wolfe, has filed a nominating petition to run in the June 12 contest.

Smothers, once a painter employed by the board, was a defeated candidate in last summer's school board election.

A disabled veteran, he is now a self-employed contract painter.

The two incumbents, Monroe M. Osmon and Russell L. Brown, have already filed for reelection. Deadline for the filing of candidates is 4 p.m. May 13.

A resident of Pontiac since 1929, Smothers has been a member of the Pontiac Police Trial Board, Pontiac Police Reserve and Pontiac Civic Improvement Commission.

He was a school painter for 10 years and served as president of Pontiac Operational Maintenance Employees Local 719 for three years.

An Army Air Corps gunner in the Pacific, Smothers attended Pontiac schools and a business college for two years in Louisiana. He and his wife have six children.

1967 County Valuation Is Approved by Board

A recommendation that $3,004,705,025 be established as the 1967 equalized value of Oakland County was accepted yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The new valuation, determined by the supervisors' equalization committee, is a $45 million increase over the county's 1966 equalized valuation of $2,959 billion.

County tax revenue should be about $2 million higher than last year as a result of the 12.5 per cent increase in equalized value. The exact increase depends on the millage rate given the county by the County Tax Allocation Board May 24.

The equalized valuation is subject to approval of the State Tax Commission which is slated to make a final ruling May 22 on equalized values of all counties.

Herman W. Stephens, director of the county equalization department, attributed the valuation increase to county growth and a property market upsurge particularly on acreage in the outlying townships.

Pontiac's $413,216,748 valuation was the highest of any county community. Bloomfield, with a valuation of $397,795,029, led all townships.

Was U.S. About to End Pledge?

Gold Drama Touchy

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — It was a mad and boisterous scene in the old, old drama of gold and what the United States should do about it since international trade was a comedy.

The United States pegs the price of gold at $35 an ounce and there by gives a stable base from which the relative value of currencies can be judged.

Because the United States is running low on gold these days, it was suggested this month that it might consider withdrawing this pledge. Eyebrows rose, and world bankers froze. The central banks of trading the dollars for gold.

Two days later Rudolph Peterson, of the Bank of America expressed similar thoughts in a speech here. His bank, based in San Francisco, is the largest.

Now, when the two largest commercial banks in the nation touch on the same subject two days apart, anyone is entitled to believe in a plot. Much of Europe did so believe. This, they thought, was a trial balloon.

On April 4 the Chase Manhattan, second largest, suggested that the United States would, in a crisis, consider terminating the privilege foreign central banks of trading their dollars for gold.

Now, when the two largest commercial banks in the nation touch on the same subject two days apart, anyone is entitled to believe in a plot. Much of Europe did so believe. This, they thought, was a trial balloon.

Now, when the two largest commercial banks in the nation touch on the same subject two days apart, anyone is entitled to believe in a plot. Much of Europe did so believe. This, they thought, was a trial balloon.

After all, hadn't Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler mentioned something similar in conversations at Pebble Beach, Calif., only a few weeks earlier? And weren't representatives of both banks there?

Chase felt compelled to issue a clarifying statement, ordinarily a welcome move. In the context, however, it probably provoked further speculation. Was American policy changing? Interest and confusion were being compounded daily.

The American Bankers Association also was distressed. It said it was disturbed by press reports indicating U.S. gold policy might change.

"We strongly hope these interpretations are incorrect," it said.

It was now April 12, Robert Roosa, an investment banker but once a high Federal Reserve and Treasury official, told a French audience in New York that the $35-an-ounce price of gold should be maintained.

To his chagrin his words were interpreted as being, as he put it, "consciously critical of Secretary Fowler."

Roosa obviously wished he had kept his mouth shut and stayed out of this crazy business. A printed report of his "fair, he said, "indicates the high price that one must sometimes pay for speaking extemporaneously without a text."

"To minimize misunderstanding" and "to correct the unfortunate impression that I was a critical of Secretary Fowler," Roosa mailed a letter to news media, signed it "Bob" and enclosed two "correct" stories.

HOW STARTED? Meanwhile, it appears, Washington officials themselves were trying to find out how it all started. Judging from comments, some bureaucrats weren't quite sure it wasn't a balloon and so felt they had better know.

The Daughters of the American Revolution also were revolted by the very idea of not maintaining the price of gold, and so they passed a resolution, unanimously, expressing alarm.

By this time less and less was being heard from the horrified early participants. But now Washington seemed to be recovering. It said Chase and Bank of America had been speaking for their own; their statements weren't trial balloons; they didn't originate in Washington.

And so, it seems, it wasn't a balloon at all but just hot air rising from the 12,000-square-foot, to float a balloon almost anytime at all.

Coppolino Defense Opens, Enters Letter as Evidence

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) —

Twelve days after the death of his wife, Dr. Carl Coppolino, now accused of her murder, wrote a friend in New Jersey: "I'm bitter, confused and frankly frightened. I've been trying to forget."

The letter became a defense exhibit Tuesday in the doctor's trial on a charge of killing his wife, Carmela, with an injection of the paralyzing drug-succinylcholine, on Aug. 28, 1965.

"The children ask when will I get a new mommie," it went on. "The only solution is to marry again and as soon as possible. They need love, affection and home life."

The state has accused Coppolino, 34, an anesthesiologist, of murdering his wife to collect $65,000 worth of insurance on her life and to wed the current Mrs. Coppolino, the former Mary Gibson, a wealthy divorcee.

The battleground for the campaign financing fight has been a constitutional bill that would restore tax incentives for business interests. The bill already has cleared the House.

In the meantime, Long encouraged adding a number of other amendments to the tax bill dealing with subjects ranging from most important to income tax credits for parents of college students.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield stepped into the fray with a motion to eliminate nearly all the extraneous provisions from the bill, many of them strongly opposed by the Johnson administration. But it would have left on one rider — a repealer of the Long plan.

Long and other Democratic senators have been trying to get Mansfield to alter his motion. In an emotion-packed speech Tuesday, Mansfield told the Senate he had decided to do so, but only with the consent of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and John J. Williams, R-Dele., coauthors of the repealer amendment.

Gore and Williams refused such consent and Mansfield abruptly called for a vote on the repeal of the Long plan, which was adopted 63 to 22.

Long Wins Test to Save Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.

Russell B. Long has won a key test in the fight to save his presidential election campaign financing law, subject of a monumental debate that has marred the Senate for four weeks.

Long, D-La., emerged the victor Tuesday in a 43-41 vote against a bid by opponents of the finance plan to, in effect, uphold an earlier Senate vote to repeal the plan.

That set the possibility of a showdown vote later today on a Long move to overturn the repealer.

Earlier, the Senate voted 89-0 for an outer space treaty described by President Johnson as a key plank in his East-West "bridge-building" program.

NO SOVEREIGNTY The so-called prohibition of peaceful uses of outer space and provide for on-site inspection. It states "no nation can claim sovereignty to outer space," the moon and other celestial bodies.

The campaign financing plan, signed into law last year, could make available up to $30 million to the Democratic and Republican parties in the 1968 presidential race. It allows taxpayers to allow $1 of their federal income taxes to the campaign, with the money to be split between the two major parties.

The battleground for the campaign financing fight has been a constitutional bill that would restore tax incentives for business interests. The bill already has cleared the House.

In the meantime, Long encouraged adding a number of other amendments to the tax bill dealing with subjects ranging from most important to income tax credits for parents of college students.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield stepped into the fray with a motion to eliminate nearly all the extraneous provisions from the bill, many of them strongly opposed by the Johnson administration. But it would have left on one rider — a repealer of the Long plan.
