

Sad Day for Frenchman

DOG-GONE IRISH! — Sure and this is a sad looking pooch to be wearin' the green today. His owners, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Carter of 86 Omar St., can't understand why their dog-earred pet, "Herkmier," couldn't manage just a bit of a smile today. Besides being St. Patrick's Day, this is also a birthday. But maybe Herk — whose earliest ancestors came from France — is indignant about being made the butt of an Irish joke. "Zat," a Frenchman posing for a St. Patrick's Day picture. Zeets shameful. Why couldn't they get an Irish Setter?"

JFK 'Charms' State Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy, in the words of one of 23 Michigan newspaper executives who had lunch with him at the White House yesterday, "charmed us all."

Martin S. Hayden, editor of the Detroit News, also said that the President "did a very good job of selling some Republicans" among the newspaper executives in their 2½-hour luncheon.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Area Man

Motorist Examined Car and Then Drove Off, Witness Tells Police

State Police today were sifting clues to a hit-and-run driver who stopped to look at his damaged car but then drove off without looking at a Waterford Township man he fatally injured on Dixie Highway near Silver Lake Road.

Dead is Howard Donker, 51, of 4196 Solway Street.

A witness told Pontiac Post troopers Donker was struck at about 7:30 p.m. yesterday by a dark-colored 1959 or 1960 Buick driven by a man, 45 to 50, wearing glasses. The driver stopped his car after hitting Donker, got out to look at his damaged right fender and then, drove off, the witness reported.

Donker was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 8:10 p.m.

Con-Con Compromise Sparks Row

Objects in Sea Driftwood, Not Parts of Airliner

Search Fails to Turn Up Any Trace of Plane With 107 Aboard

From Our News Wires
CLARK AIR FORCE BASE, the Philippines
The U.S. Air Force said today that partially submerged objects sighted in the Pacific near where a Flying Tiger Airline plane carrying 107 persons was thought to have gone down have turned out to be driftwood.

Li. Col. A. S. Sherry, air rescue commander at Clark Air Force Base, said two planes circled the location "about halfway between Guam and the Philippines and reported back the floating objects were a large log and a big piece of driftwood.

Sherry said the driftwood had been spotted by an air pilot on a mission to search for the missing airliner.

He dropped smoke flares to mark the location and then reported the sighting to Guam which in turn notified Clark and Hickham Air Force Bases in the Philippines.

Earlier search planes reported sighting five partially submerged objects in the western Pacific along the airliner's scheduled route. No persons were seen in the immediate vicinity.

The U.S. destroyer Brister was dispatched to determine what the objects are. The Joint Rescue Center at Agaña, Guam, said the Brister is expected to reach the area at dawn Sunday. A KC-97 plane was ordered to search above the objects until the Brister arrived.

Photographic Squadron 4 at Guam sent a Sky Warrior jet to photograph the objects in hopes that the pictures might reveal some identification and possibly furnish a clue to the fate of the Flying Tiger plane.

CHANCEA SILENT
A U.S. Air Force spokesman declined earlier that "chances are getting slimmer every minute" that any aboard the missing plane would be found alive.

The plane was presumed to have crashed or ditched after leaving Guam Thursday night for a 1,600-mile hop to Clark Air Base.

Welcome or Not, Rhee Will Fly Back to Korea

HONOLULU (AP)—Ailing Syngman Rhee, deposed as president of South Korea after bloody uprisings, says he will fly to his homeland today whether he's welcomed or not.

In Seoul, the surprised South Korean government made it plain he is not welcome.

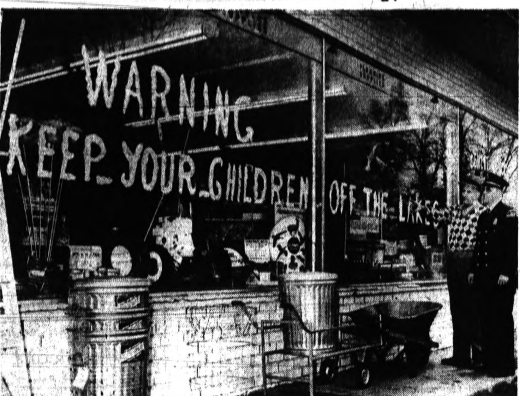

The military government refused him permission to return, even though the elderly Tiger of Korea issued a statement here Friday saying he was sorry "if I have committed errors."

Gen. Chung Hee Park, head of the South Korean military government, and other officials said that Rhee had no advance word that Rhee had decided to return home.

The government has no intention of blocking Rhee's return indefinitely, Park said, but his homecoming now would be improper, "since the tears of bereaved families of students killed in the April 1960 civil riot have not dried."

Rhee assumed the presidency in 1948 and had just been elected to another four-year term when a civilian rebellion toppled his regime, which had shown an increasingly authoritarian character.

Promotes Ice Safety

SOME SOUND ADVICE — Jim Greig, owner of Jim's Hardware, 6033 Williams Lake Road, Waterford Township, heard that an 8-year-old boy had fallen through the ice up to his shoulders in a lagoon near the store. A sign reading "Warning—Keep Your Children Off the Ice" might help, Greig thought, so he painted the message across the store window in bright red.

Don Kraft, Oakland County Sheriff Department safety director, noted the sign while driving by and stopped to offer congratulations to Greig for his part in promoting ice safety.

State GOP Split Looms After Blowup

LANSING (AP) — A blowup on the Senate floor between "moderate" and "regular" Republicans threatens to develop into a complete split in party policy and ideology on the subject of taxes and revenue.

A bill-reading fight between the two groups may erupt as early as next week, moderates said after the session yesterday when Republican Sen. Frank Fitzgerald of Grand Haven and Charles Fennstra of Grand Rapids engaged in a bitter parliamentary dispute.

Fitzgerald, a moderate, argued against several bills by Fennstra, who was asking an extension of their committee's jurisdiction.

The bills called for a 5½ percent increase over the next seven years will be decided at the polls Tuesday by voters in the Waterford Township School District.

Arguments advanced for the millage hike are the need to be competitive in the teacher market, to meet rising costs and to maintain a desirable teacher-pupil ratio.

The school district loses nearly 100 teachers every year, Edmund L. Wholter, member of the school board and chairman of the personnel committee, commented.

"Constant recruiting of new teachers is needed and this is not an easy task when the pay isn't below average," he added.

Waterford Township school board members at a recent Greater Waterford Community Council meeting indicated that a 5½ millage increase for teachers would be the first consideration of the board if the millage proposal passes.

If the full five mills were spread over the next seven years as proposed, approximately $25,000 in additional funds would be available to the school district at the start of the fiscal year, July 1. The district is presently operating under a total budget of $1,711,185.

2 UNKNOWN FACTORS
The proposed 1962-63 school budget will be submitted to the County Allocation Board April 15. Two unknown factors, the amount of state aid forthcoming and the new property valuations, must be estimated in this budget.

To the Waterford Township taxpayer, passage of the millage proposal would mean a tax increase of approximately 55¢ per $100 of assessed valuation as equalized.

In effect, the five-mill increase would allow the school district to increase the tax rate for school operating purposes $5 per $100 of the assessed valuation as equalized.

Because the equalized valuation is slightly more than double the assessed valuation in the district, a rate of $5 per $100 on the equalized valuation is approximately $10 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2).

Swainson, Romney Fire Charges of 'Politics'

LANSING (AP) — A political storm swirled around the constitutional convention yesterday over a compromise package agreement on controversial issues which had the blessing of George Romney, probable Republican candidate for governor.

Democrats fired off a salvo of charges from their biggest guns, including Gov. Swainson and Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Romney returned the barrage with an accusation that the governor had interfered with the convention by telling Democratic delegates how to vote on certain issues.

This is a partisan effort on Swainson's part in that he is trying to destroy the convention by making speeches," Romney told newsmen, adding:

"This convention is not the governor's business. The convention is about the governor of the Supreme Court or the Legislature."

Explaining the compromise package, Romney said that he entered into the agreement with leaders of the conservative bloc of Republicans to head off a possible coalition they had been threatening with the Democratic delegates on at least one issue.

BLASTS COMPROMISE
At a news conference, Swainson blasted the compromise and said that Romney "adds to her perfidy" in his accusation that the governor calls in Democratic delegates to give them instructions.

"He accuses me of what he is guilty of himself," Swainson declared, adding that he has never met with the Democratic delegates, except on two social occasions that he has never given them any orders.

Swainson acknowledged that he meets twice a week for lunch with two of the Democratic leaders in the convention, Tom Donker and Adelaide Hart, both of Detroit.

These meetings, he said, were merely for the purpose of informing each other mutually on the convention and other matters.

Swainson said that if the convention adopts the compromise package the proposed new constitution was dead.

It is difficult to conceive that the people will approve the results of the kind of political chicanery that they sought to prevent through the writing of a new constitution," Swainson declared.

Swainson attacked the Republican agreement — which covered such issues as an appointive vs. elective administrative board, the 5½ mill tax limitation and earmarking of tax revenue — as a compromise of principles for political gain.

Waterford to Decide on Tax Millage Hike

Reds Demand U.S. Leave S. Viet Nam

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry called today for the immediate withdrawal of U.S. military personnel from South Viet Nam. It charged American troops were participating directly in the Vietnamese fighting.

In a statement to the participants of the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina, Russia said it still believes discontinuance of the support by the United States of military and military material to South Viet Nam is urgent. It also called for abolition of the U.S. military command in that country.

Fidel Raps His Leaders for Abuses

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro charged today that Cuba's revolutionary leaders were abusing their authority, mistreating the public and creating general chaos.

Sweeping changes must be made, he said.

"The revolution needs to revise all the revolutionary nuclei and all the political apparatus of the revolution to do away with the errors and abuses and to gain good performance," he declared in a televised address monitored here.

"We have to stop tolerating poor performance and errors," he said. "Those who are useless will not continue in their positions."

NO SINGLING OUT
Castro singled out no individuals but he had particularly biting criticism for the revolutionary defense committees.

These groups — with representatives in every city block, in all factories and on farms — are responsible for watching their neighbors and co-workers for signs of counterrevolutionary attitudes.

His sharp denunciation came during a postmidnight speech, his second attack of the week on his own regime. He ordered rationing of food and clothing, but said that he was not meeting food production goals.

The prime minister said he had talked a few days ago with several women who complained they had been humiliated in public and treated as counterrevolutionaries when they actually supported the regime wholeheartedly.

"We have to increase public vigilance against errors and injustices," he shouted. "No one has the right to commit injustices and who does so is an enemy of the revolution."

Some people, he said, "think they are more revolutionary than anybody and have the right to raise their voice against the regime. There are people who have created chaos in the organizations of the state with their mania for talking and taking the abuse of authority."

Wayne County Road Commission

Unit Hits Bill for Jet Airport

The Wayne County Road Commission has taken issue with plans which would have the Oakland County Department of Public Works building the proposed jet airport here.

The opposition was raised to Oakland County's proposed amendment to the Michigan Department of Public Works Act.

James Davey, airport managing director for the Wayne County Road Commission, operators of Detroit Metropolitan Airport, hit the amendment bill which would enable the Oakland County DPW to develop and operate a second major airport serving the metropolitan area.

Appearing before the Senate Legislative Committee, Davey contended:

1. If the amendment is approved, the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, which has jurisdiction over road commissions on airport matters, would not have the same jurisdiction over public works departments under the act.

2. The bill would permit the DPW to raise special assessments throughout the county to finance airport construction.

Oakland County officials who prepared the bill denied any intention of financing airport construction through special assessments.

That section of the proposed bill dealing with special assessment has nothing to do with the airport, they said.

Supreme Court Reverses Zoning Rule in Southfield

A Southfield property owner, Saba Wenner, now can build medical clinic office buildings on residential zoned land following a ruling yesterday by the State Supreme Court.

Wenner's property faces Ten-Mile Road on which, he argued, there is an annual traffic volume of 2.5 million vehicles a year.

He contended the location was hardly suitable for single-family dwelling which had been specified by a Southfield zoning ordinance.

The state court's decision, written by Justice John C. Dethmers, said:

"Examination of all the testimony persuaded us that the property is decidedly not suited to residential use."

The ruling upheld an earlier decision by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem who had suspended zoning ordinance requirements on the land.

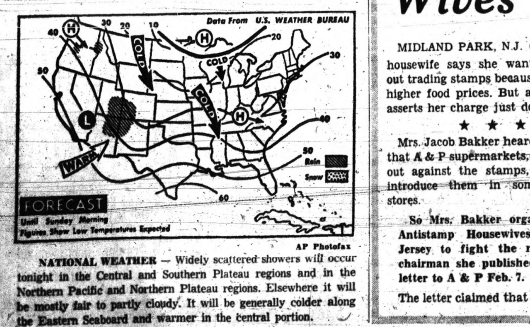

It also upheld the lower court's order that the city be forced to issue Wenner building permits for the office buildings.

Israeli Forces, Syrians Battle

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli and Syrian forces clashed on the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee in a night battle that raged until early today. Both sides claimed victory in the heaviest fighting in two years.

At least two Israeli planes joined the battle and one Syrian plane, reported to be a Soviet-made MIG-17, also swung into action. Syria charged Israeli tanks with tanks and four were knocked out. But an Israeli spokesman said no tanks were in action and the "tanks" actually were trucks disabled by land mines.

An Israeli army spokesman claimed 14 Syrians, including a company commander, were killed as Israeli forces launched a counter-attack of Syria, knocking out gun positions.

He placed Israeli troop losses at five dead and six seriously wounded. The Israeli force also captured a large amount of Syrian arms and ammunition, the spokesman said.

THE OTHER SIDE

A Syrian army spokesman said in Damascus that only one Syrian was killed and five wounded in the battle along the tense frontier. He claimed the Israelis suffered greater losses, adding that they lost four tanks and eight other vehicles.

"It was felt that the bill could serve to further perfect the act which was originally submitted by Oakland County in 1957 to establish a DPW in various phases, at the same time proposing that the DPW be empowered to develop and operate the jet airport, proposed for construction a mile north of Pontiac," he added.

"The usual way to finance airport construction is either through a general obligation bond, which would have to be voted on by the people, or through revenue bonds backed by long-term contracts with the airlines," Barnard explained.

While admitted to the Senate Floor on general orders yesterday, the proposed bill has not yet come up for consideration by the general body.

King-Anderson Plans Likely to Stir Up a Storm

WASHINGTON (AP)—A storm of controversy is expected over the proposed King-Anderson Bill which would provide health services for the aged through social security.

Proposed legislation for President Kennedy's plan was introduced in 1961, with the principal bills sponsored by Rep. King (D-Calif.) and Sen. Anderson (D-Mexico).

The House bill received first attention, but the proposal is known as the King-Anderson Bill.

Provisions of the King-Anderson Bill include nursing home, home health and hospital care services for all persons aged 65 or over who are receiving social security cash benefits, or are eligible for cash benefits except that they are working and earning self-supporting incomes.

"BENEFIT PERIOD"

A "benefit period" begins when an eligible person is admitted to a hospital as an in-patient, and ends upon completion of any 90-day period during which he was not in either a hospital or a nursing home.

A "unit of service" is equal to a day in a hospital, or two days in a nursing home.

During any benefit period, the federal government would pay for a maximum of 90 days in a hospital, or 180 days in a nursing home.

In addition, there is an overall limitation of 150 units of service during any one benefit period.

Thus, if a patient stayed in a hospital 80 days, he could stay 140 days in a nursing home.

After being discharged for 30 consecutive days, that benefit period would end, and he could go back to the hospital and start again.

Each hospital and nursing home would sign a contract with the federal government, agreeing to certain conditions.

Wives Fight Trading Stamps

MIDLAND PARK, N.J. (AP)—A local housewife says she wants to stamp out trading stamps because they mean higher food prices. But a food chain asserts her charge just doesn't stick.

Mrs. Jacob Bakker heard last month that A & P supermarkets, long a hold-out against the stamps, planned to introduce them in some of their stores.

So Mrs. Bakker organized the Antistamp Housewives of Jersey to fight the stamps. As chairman she published an open letter to A & P Feb. 7.

The letter claimed that stores which gave the trading stamps charged more for food than did A & P.

"We are smart enough to realize that when you give out stamps our food bills will go up," the protest continued. "We don't think this expensive gimmick will help your business and we are sure it won't help our pockets."

A & P was quick to dispute Mrs. Bakker's argument.

F. N. Charlton, an official of the company's eastern division, denied the stamps would force up prices. He said the company had re-

Tidelands Oil Gets Record Bid

Mineral Rights Auction Indicates New Boom in Underseas Drilling

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A record, $48.7-million bid for tidelands gas and oil rights may point to a new, deep-water drilling boom as far as 100 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico.

Industry representatives said if the boom passed out, it should focus new interest in finding untold untold riches to cope with the vast and expensive problems of underseas mining.

BIG AFFAIR

The Interior Department's two-day lease sale, concluded here yesterday, brought 560 representatives of the nation's biggest oil and gas concerns here.

Some firms formed combines to submit a gross bid that far exceeded the previous high of $28 million paid at a one-day, tidelands auction in 1960.

On the block was a huge tract of 3.7-million acres of submerged lands off Louisiana and Texas, some of it nearly 600 feet under water.

$3.61 AN ACRE

Company spokesmen said the heavy offshore investment—only combine paid $3.61 an acre for land about 50 miles off the coast—underscored the industry's confidence that rich pools of minerals lie untapped below the outer continental shelf.

Development thus far has been relatively close to shore, mostly in waters under 100 feet.

The high bid was for $15.4 million by a combine formed by the Ohio Oil Co. and Pure Oil Co. It bid for 100,000 acres in the south Timbalier area off Louisiana's southeast coast.

Rightist Killers Close Pharmacies in Algiers Today

From Our News Wire

ALGERS—European killers struck at pharmacies throughout Algiers today in what appeared to be a systematic campaign to paralyze the economic sinews of the cities one by one.

Agents of the terrorist Secret Army Organization fighting to keep Algeria French, closed 36 pharmacies in a series of lightning raids. By noon all Algiers' pharmacies had shut down and notices were posted asserting that not even emergency service could be assured.

The pharmacy closings spread further chaos throughout Algiers already half-paralyzed by a transport and gasoline dealers strike.

President Charles de Gaulle reportedly already has recorded a cease-fire which will be broadcast to the nation at 8 p.m. (2 p.m. Pontiac time) if agreement is reached by that time.

If negotiations are still in progress at 8 p.m., the speech will be postponed for 24 hours. Official sources felt sure a cease-fire could be agreed on by that time.

James Van Buren, 17, and Michael Wilson, 18, both pleaded guilty to drunk and disorderly charges when brought before Township Justice of the Peace Alice L. Gilbey.

Adams radioed for help, and four other police cars converged on the scene just south of Maple Road. The youths were quickly subdued.

Reported in satisfactory condition at William Beaumont Hospital as a result of the accident was Frederick S. Hildebrand, 20, 239 Brown St., Birmingham.

He suffered a concussion and facial cuts when his car crashed into a tree along Lahser Road just north of 14-Mile Road.

Court Upholds Law on Sale of Jewelry

LANSING (AP)—Baubles, bangles and beads are still taboo in the market place in Detroit on Sundays, the State Supreme Court has ruled.

The high court yesterday upheld a 1927 Detroit ordinance forbidding the sale of jewelry on Sundays.

A majority opinion, written by Justice Leland W. Carr, also upheld a decision by Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan backing the ordinance.

Morris Wainick, Nathan Wigod and Harry Walton, who do business as the La Salle Distributing Co., contested the validity of the ordinance. It was discriminatory, they said, depriving them of equal protection of the law. They also charged it was contrary to the state statute on Sunday closing.

HABITS:

Habits are like rats, the more they're used the deeper they get. Mrs. Alsworth, a National known speaker, said: "A habit that becomes second nature is a master. Break it up. Get up earlier! Change your breakfast menu! Read a book instead of listening to a soap opera! Change your routine! Wear a figured dress—something to break up that pattern and discover a new interest in your life!"

M. E. SIPLE

A friend leaves home at precisely 7:04 a.m., walks to his office on the same route, arrives at 7:30 a.m., calls his wife at 7:31 a.m., lights cigarette, burns his fingers, lights another one. His stenographer comes in; he lights another cigarette—habit is a master of this intelligent man.

There is one habit that should be rediscovered—the HABIT OF WORK.

A mother with a big family is a happy person. A man who plans for the future then works to bring those plans to reality, is a happy man. A man may be a saint but if he doesn't work his life will tarnish. Work is the chair of a happy life.

3 Facing Trial on Dope Charge

Young Men Allegedly
High School

MOUNT CLEMENS (U) — Three young men, accused by the state of being members of a marijuana, peddling ring at L'Anse Creuse High School, were bound over for trial by Justice Francis Castellucci on charges of violating state narcotics laws.

The parents of two of the defendants, arraigned at the same time, were ordered held on charges of violating state gambling laws.

Arrested at their home in East Detroit were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Casals and their sons, Anthony F., 23, and George, 22. Gary Riehl, 21, of Harrison Township, was arrested about the same time late yesterday at a Clinton Township gasoline station.

AWAITS EXAMINATION
— Held under an arrest made on a charge of narcotics law violations on Feb. 12 is 19-year-old Frank W. Sabo of Harrison Township, a former pupil at L'Anse Creuse High. He is awaiting examination under $10,000 bond.

Sheriff's Deputies Alex Taylor and Kenneth Jacobs testified that on Feb. 2 an informant brought narcotics from Sabo and those were traced to the Casals brothers, who worked in their father's party store in nearby Roseville.

Taylor and Jacobs told newsmen the older Casals were not involved in narcotics traffic, but the deputies said the parents did run a $1,500-a-day numbers racket.

Two Injured in Collision on North Perry

Two area residents injured in a two-car collision on North Perry Street at Kenilworth Avenue early today are in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Hospitalized are George Burrows, 23, 688 Cashmere St., Orion Township, and Donald Chase, 19, 606 Fourth St., Rochester.

Chase suffered facial cuts and a broken jaw and Burrows has possible head injuries.

Chase was a passenger in a car driven by his brother Robert, 21, 974 Adams Road, Avon Township, and Burrows was in an auto driven by Amos O'Dell, 34, 1095 Heights Road, Orion Township.

Chase told Pontiac police he was traveling south on Perry at about 50 miles per hour when his car wheels struck the center island.

His car went out of control, veered across the street and collided with O'Dell's northbound auto, Chase said.

Chase and O'Dell both were timed and released at the hospital.

Waterford Unit to Study Report on Sewer Bids

A report from the consulting engineers evaluating recent bids on a proposed Edgeland Street sewer project will be received by the Waterford Township Board Monday night.

It was reported verbally at last week's board meeting that the second low bidder on the 348-foot sanitary sewer project would be recommended as the firm had more extensive background in sewer contracting than the low bidder.

Reamer Brothers of Lapeer submitted a bid of $3,330 for the job compared to the low bid of $2,817 of Stanley Figurski of Pontiac. High bid for the project was $4,900.

Other business slated for the meeting includes a proposed agreement with the city of Pontiac for extension of sewer service to Shoreview and Colrain streets involving 11 residences in the Donelson Park Subdivision.

If the agreement is approved by the board, a special assessment district will be set up.

Shelby Twp. Woman Slugged by Bandits

Two young, armed hoodlums last night entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Julian, 7486 Orme St., Shelby Township, and brutally slugged Mrs. Doris Julian, who said she had not yet cashed her paycheck and had no money.

Mrs. Julian was beaten unconscious and the 18 to 22-year-old hoodlums then ransacked the home. When they were through, one of them kicked Mrs. Julian apparently to see whether she was still unconscious, Shelby Township police said.

When she moved, she was again slugged with a revolver and was found an hour later unconscious by her husband, who was out of the house when the would-be robbers entered. They obtained no money.

A 17-year-old daughter, Gwen, was staying with a friend at the time the hoodlums walked in the unlocked backdoor.

The State Public Service Commission granted the Metropolitan Transit System a permanent operating license enabling the firm to operate in nearly a score of Detroit suburbs.

Pontiac Man Robbed by Armed Bandits

A 63-year-old Pontiac man told police he was robbed at gunpoint by two bandits who were waiting for him in his home at 338 Seward St. last night.

The victim, William A. Bragg, said he was in a neighborhood bar when he received a telephone call shortly before 8 p. m. The caller told Bragg he had an insurance claim to settle and would meet him at his home.

Bragg said a gun was put to his back as he entered his home. The two robbers, who were carrying a rifle, took about $75 from Bragg and then bound him hand and foot.

After the bandits fled, Bragg managed to call a telephone operator who contacted police. Officers freed Bragg when they arrived.

Install Phones for Jacqueline

President's Wife Has Most of Day for Rest on Udaipur Visit

UDAIPUR, India (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy had the chance today to call Washington over an up-to-date telephone system installed especially for her in the 70-year-old palace of the Maharaja of Udaipur.

Whether she did was not known. The American First Lady remained inside her apartment throughout the morning, and sources said she was resting.

BOAT RIDE SET

There was nothing on her schedule before late afternoon when she was to make an hour-long boat ride on Pichola Lake. Her circular bedroom in the white-washed, marble and granite palace overlooks the steel-blue lake.

U.S. government technicians, who came here before Mrs. Kennedy, installed a special switchboard system giving the palace its first internal telephone system and making it easier for her to call Washington.

A busy day of sightseeing at Banaras Friday and her tremendous welcome here gave her much to tell the family back home. The special phone system is being removed from the palace as soon as Mrs. Kennedy leaves Sunday.

More than 2.5 billion pounds of dog food were purchased last year.

NOTHING BOTHERS HIM — Unperturbed by smoke billowing from a fire in a supply store just down the street, window washer Edward Butler continues with his work on a second-story ledge in Buffalo, N.Y. The fire started when spilled rubber thinner was ignited by a flame from an automatic water heater, firemen said. They estimated damage at $37,000. Two firemen suffered minor burns.

But It's Still Bright Holiday

Labor Woes Plague Ireland

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Labor troubles plagued Ireland this St. Patrick's Day, but they didn't stop the Irish from dreaming up the biggest, brightest holiday ever.

Still short of matches as a result of a two-month wage strike by workers at a local match company, Dublin now faces a walkout by employees of the state-run television network unless they get a 20 per cent pay hike.

The walkout at the Friendly Match Co. was settled Thursday, but the new supply is still in the works. If the saint himself came marching down O'Connell Street and wanted a smoke, he'd need a miracle to find a light.

Not that shillings are playing a prominent part in the current Irish scene. With application to join the European Common Market already posted, Ireland is much concerned with its image abroad.

Newspapers are filled with editorials pointing out that the Irish are industrious and sober and not to be compared with the unruly English.

For Ireland, St. Patrick's Day is above all a religious festival. This year it marks the end of the Patriotic Year celebrations — a year of religious dedication marking the 15th century of St. Patrick's death.

Swanson Urges All to Honor the Irish Today

LANSING (AP) — Today is St. Patrick's Day and everyone should honor the Irish, declared Gov. Swanson in an official proclamation.

"In defense of religion and individual freedom, Ireland and her people have earned the respect of the entire world," the governor said. "The Irish in America have lived up to their age-old tradition magnificently."

All people, regardless of nationality, the governor said, should honor the patron saint of Ireland today.

The governor's 12-year-old son, Peter, did his bit for the Irish yesterday when he performed on the drums in both the House and Senate chambers at the State Capitol.

Peter expertly accompanied a group of Irish singers imported to serenade the legislators.

Bandits Hold Up Bank, Get Heavy Bag of Loot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two young bandits robbed a branch bank Friday of about $200.

Manager Gilbert Hauck said a quick-thinking teller shoved a bag containing 4,000 nickels—weighing about 45 pounds—at the bandits when they asked for the money. "They must have thought they had a million dollars," Hauck said.

It Seems to Me . . .

Publishers of Michigan Visit President for Informal Chat

Your peripatetic reporter had lunch yesterday with President JOHN F. KENNEDY in the White House, along with two dozen Michigan newspapermen.

The Chief Executive is slowly covering the nation, state by state, and the Wolverine publishers and scribes enjoyed their inning early with an informal, off-the-record talk and luncheon.

The Chief Executive is lean, fit and in splendid physical condition — and in good spirits. He chuckled and joked and gave every evidence that the wear and tear and rigors of more than a year in the biggest job in the world have left no perceptible imprint.

We discussed foreign aid, outer space, Viet Nam, Berlin, Khrushchev, automation, South America, war contracts, Michigan unemployment, 1970s, Eisenhower's putting green, the Sleeping Bear Dunes and kindred world problems. His frank discussion of these burning issues was taboo, but I asked permission to quote him on this:

"What do you think of your Secretary of Defense? We have a stake in him, you know. He's a Michigan man."

"You can quote," said the President quickly. "I think he's wonderful. He's terrific. He's right on top of that big job and he's a capable administrator. That's an enormous department."

I am taking the pardonable liberty of quoting him on another matter without specific permission, but I'm sure he won't object.

"Mr. President," said I, "do you know an Oakland County neighbor—JANEY HART?"

"I certainly do,"

"What do you think of her desire to be the first woman astronaut to travel in outer space?"

The President hesitated. "What do you think yourself?"

"Well, she has eight children and if I had to make the decision I guess I'd keep her home."

The President chuckled. "If I ever face this officially, I'll remember the suggestion."

And I earnestly hope Sen. HART keeps this brief exchange from his good wife.

We gathered first at an informal reception and the President finally walked in and shook hands with each, as the names and cities were established. I said: "Mr. President, I'm from Pontiac and my name should be fairly reminiscent or familiar: It's Harold Fitzgerald."

"That," said J. Fitzgerald Kennedy with a quick smile, "is a great name. Stick with it."

We repaired to the State Room for lunch. The President sat in the middle of a long table on one side with PIERRE SALINGER, Press Secretary, directly opposite. I sat next to SALINGER and within an easy conversational range.

Close up, the President is even more personable than he is in photos, on radio or TV. He has an open, winning frankness that would impress anyone. For the sake of the ladies, I add that the President was splendidly groomed. He was dressed in conservative taste, without ostentation; but I think he could evoke a feminine flutter anywhere, even in dungarees.

Press Secretary SALINGER is an able assistant and handles himself and his groups easily and capably. It isn't an easy assignment.

The Michigan publishers were scattered geographically from throughout the Upper and Lower Peninsulas. Southeastern Michigan was honored with two from Detroit and one each from Royal Oak, Pontiac and Monroe.

It was a memorable occasion. The President talked freely, easily and apparently without reservation. When he finished a detailed discussion of foreign aid, I said: "Mr. President, I wish all 180 million Americans could hear that."

He shook his head regretfully. "There's too much uncovered ground at stake."

We were with him approximately two hours and the time passed as rapidly as space did for astronaut JOHN GLENN when he was winging his way around the world.

Mrs. Harry Whitfield . . .

We learned with great regret and honest sorrow of the death of Mrs. HARRY O. WHITFIELD. She was 88 and had lived a long and exceedingly honorable life. One of this city's pioneers, she watched a tremendous civic development over a span of years that is the privilege of very, very few people. Mrs. WHITFIELD devoted the bulk of her time to her home and her family and was typical of the fine, strong feminine foundations on which our country grows in every conceivable phase.

Surely, she rests in peace.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie all big league managers would pick Willie Mays over Mickey Mantle without a second thought.

Note from Marie Carson says I'd lose most of my s.c. bets, but when I said Leslie Ugras wouldn't rate in the first hundred feminine TV singers, she'll bet a s.c. I can't even name a hundred. She wins by 96 feminine TV singers.

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive pair of sisters: Chris and Patricia Hewlett.

Hey! This week Carol Burnett pulled the lobe of her right ear instead of the left when she signaled her grandma at sign-off time. Something go wrong?

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The faith of an uneducated youth led St. Patrick from slavery to sainthood. Captured in a pirate raid on Britain at the age of 16, he was taken to Ireland. "Every day I had to tend sheep," he wrote, "and many times a day I prayed — the love of God and His fear came to me more and more, and my faith was strengthened."

Escaping to Gaul six years later, he dreamed of bringing the love of Christ to his captors. He studied for the priesthood, was consecrated Bishop, and returned to Ireland. There he converted the country to Christianity, improving the lot of slaves, uniting ethics with law, denouncing hatred and bloodshed, and giving "Him thanks who hath strengthened me in everything."

Days of All Faiths:

Jews Celebrate Indestructibility

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

"Good Purim! Happy day of gladness!" This most convivial of all Jewish festivals begins March 20 at sundown, which is the beginning of the 14th day of the Jewish month of Adar.

It is a day when anything goes, a boisterous, unrestrained day when people can wear masks, laugh at rabbi, drink a little more than they should and even create an uproar in the synagogue. It is in many ways a Jewish equivalent of the noisy, happy carnival with which Christians lead up to Lent.

What is it all about? Well probably it is basically the joyous spring festival that all peoples in all ages have always had. But for many centuries now it has had its special Jewish meaning.

It might be called the Jews' "festival of indestructibility." In particular it celebrates the triumph of the Jews over the evil Prime Minister Haman back in the sixth century B.C., when the whole Jewish nation had been carried into exile in Persia. The story is told in the Old Testament book of Esther, which records Haman's plot to destroy the Jews and the clever strategy by which Esther and her cousin Mordecai outwitted him.

The book of Esther, it is now known, is not historical fact, but rather an historical novel. But it is not fact, it is nevertheless truth. It tells the unending story of the Jew in alien lands. All through history tyrants have threatened him — from Haman to Hitler, and Hitler will not be the last. One after another the tyrants have disappeared, and the Jew still survives. And so he celebrates that survival and draws assurance from it.

NOT RELIGIOUS

Purim is a revelry, not a religious observance. There is no ceremonial prescribed for it — only customs like the masquerading, the exchanging of food delicacies, the reading of Esther and "beating Haman." "Beating Haman" is the name for the clamor of pounding and stomping that occurs whenever the name of Haman appears during the reading of Esther.

The celebration is entirely secular, just as Esther is a completely secular book. God is not once mentioned in the book.

The same story of threat and survival is written in many other Jewish books, but only Esther got into the Old Testament. Scholars are sure that the book was written to explain a festival already long in existence, probably a pagan festival the Jews had taken over and infused with a meaning of their own. The writer of Esther, being a pious Jew, would not feel right about including the name of God in his book.

RECENT REVIVAL

Up until the time of Hitler, Purim had almost fallen into the discard. The position of the Jew had eased considerably in all parts of the world, and a festival celebrating his resistance to antagonistic forces had lost much of its relevance.

But the great surge of anti-Semitism reawakened Jewish leaders to the fact that the story of Purim never ends. And so they kept the keeping of the festival end as long as prejudice and hatred of the Jewish people exist anywhere in the world.

THE FACT OF ESTHER

It is said that Esther fasted on the day before the Purim crisis a victory, and some Jews keep this fast in memory of her great benefits to her people. It is not a requirement, however, and the number who fast is not large.

In Persia it is strictly kept, as strictly as the complete fast that all Jews observe on Yom Kippur.

SHUSHAN PURIM

Shushan was the capital of ancient Persia, the place where the whole Purim event took place. Tradition says that the Jews of Shushan celebrated their victory a day later than their brethren in other parts of the country.

So March 21 is called Shushan Purim.

Polaris Boss Gives Up 'Tiger Girl'

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Vice Adm. William F. "Red" Raborn was presented with a live "tiger girl" at a party given on his retirement as boss of the Polaris missile program.

She was Miss Wanda Kimball, a beautiful secretary in the Navy's Special Projects Office, dressed in a tiger-striped outfit and brought to the table in a huge cage.

The egg was a parody on Adm. Raborn's favorite nickname to his staff, "Get out and twist the tiger's tail," meaning "Get it done."

After the presentation, the admiral was told he could keep "the tiger" — if his wife approved. Mrs. Raborn, a former Wave commander, at first said, "Now I just might let him keep that present."

But later the admiral reported, "Mrs. Raborn changed her mind."

A New York businessman was chagrined when a thief, who made off with all of his identification, credit cards and a number of personal papers, passed several checks using his name. The victim almost went into orbit, however, when his wife received a dozen roses on their wedding anniversary generously forwarded by the thief and purchased with one of the credit cards. The businessman had failed to remember the special occasion.

Basketball Games Still Controversial

There's no doubt 300 Lounge won the game against CIO because of one referee. Recently, 22 of the Texas Southwest Conference referees were given live detector tests because of dishonesty.

Let's keep our sports clean and do away with partial and temperamental referees.

Linda Turner

Waterford

I'm encouraged by the three letters in The Press. A deliberately partial or perhaps just childish referee should not be allowed in any class A, B, C or D league games. I'm glad this did not go unnoticed and hope something will be done to correct this kind of situation.

Louise Hunt

5006 Brunswick

The men officiating Pontiac Parks and Recreation basketball games this season have done a commendable job. The 300 Lounge and CIO championship game was fairly officiated and it would be ridiculous to believe the referees played any part in 300 Lounge's easy victory.

On several occasions the fans displayed very poor sportsmanship and manners. This is not a proper attitude.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation is giving excellent service to the people of Pontiac and should be congratulated.

It seems ironic that some people from other communities criticize a Pontiac department that is open to them, even though they probably do not help finance it.

'It's Most Simple—Air Travel Safest'

"Buck Rogers," attacked The Press in the Voice of the People for the facts on airplane and automobile travel. He should realize that the air is safer per passenger mile and that's all that counts. When both methods have transported 100 people one million miles, the air fatalities are fewer. It's that simple.

Every civilization rests on a set of promises . . . if the promises are broken too often, the civilization collapses, no matter how rich it may be, or how mechanically clever. Hope and faith depend on the promises; if hope and faith go, everything goes. —Herbert Agar

'Being a Christian,' Cross, Chalice, Work of Kirk

Under the supervision of Mr. Charles H. Welch Jr., directress of the Altar Guild at Christ Church Cranbrook, several altar furnishings were photographed this week.

The largest cross shown is the silver processional cross, decorated with blue enamel with the four evangelists at tips. The central figure of Christ is pure gold and enamel. This is carried at all Communion services. The work of the late Arthur Nevill Kirk, former member of Christ Church, was also carried at the missionary mass meeting at the 60th General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church on Sept. 22 in Cob Auditorium.

The smallest cross is the Children's Cross, 13 inches high. A Latin cross of sterling silver, decorated with a continuous row of light blue opaque enamel, a topaz center stone and angel heads.

It is used in children's choir processions and designed by Mr. Kirk.

The third cross is silver, gilt jeweled with enamel at the top of the pedestal base with opal quartz insets. It is further adorned with angel figures carrying the world and "Light of the World."

Latin inscriptions are on the base and cover of the white yellow gold ciborium. The four evangelists are on the enameled panels.

The silver chalice with rock crystal columns and moonstones on the bottom of the cup is the work of Mr. Kirk. The silver paten has fine wire decoration around the edge, also by Mr. Kirk.

"All things come of Thee, O Lord — the breath I draw, the minutes that tick off my life as I live it, ability to think, express myself in words, color or song, my talent for making friends, and every possession I own. How much of Thine own have I given Thee?"

This is the question the Church School classes are pursuing during Lent. Their mile boxes will be the tangible measures of their stewardship over God's gift of money.

Hopefully there will be tangible indications of faithful stewardship over all their other gifts from God, said the rector.

His Visits May Cause Criticism

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My fiancé and I like to be together whenever we can. I see him three or four nights a week. As we are trying to save some money as we possibly can so that we can be married soon, we go out only once a week to a movie or to a dance and the other evenings he spends at my house.

Often my parents are out on the evenings we want to stay home. It is not all right for me to be alone in the house? Since we are engaged, do you think anyone could possibly gossip?

A: If your parents do not object to your spending the evenings when they are out, along with your fiancé, you certainly may do so. You can not, however, be certain that some of your neighbors with nothing better to do, will not gossip about it.

Q: On our way home from school the other day my girl friend stopped off at a store and bought some grapes. She said she was hungry and proceeded to eat them along the way.

However, instead of dropping the seeds into her cupped fist, she spat them out onto the sidewalk. I told her it was very bad manners to do this. She said it was perfectly all right outdoors. I would like your opinion on this.

A: You are right, even though she was outdoors, spitting out the seeds was very bad manners.

Abby Says: Date Others

You Are Very, Very Lucky to Know Before Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and my boy friend is 22. We have gone together two years and had planned our wedding for March 25.

Last Saturday "we" (it was his idea) decided to postpone it indefinitely. He says "we do not have enough money." We both have good jobs and I intend to continue working after our marriage.

He says he still loves me and there is nobody else, but he thinks we should both date others to "be sure." I have "been sure" for over a year. I can't understand the sudden change. All the plans have been made and I am deeply hurt. What do you think?

ABBY

CONFUSED AND HURT
DEAR ABBY: I think you are lucky. Your boy friend obviously is not ready for marriage. What a break to find it out BEFORE the wedding! Date others. You might meet someone who is better suited to you. Or, in the meantime, this one might grow up.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what a guest should do when he is having dinner at the home of a very sweet friend and the fish tastes "funny"? Should he say something to the hostess? Or should he just quietly not eat it?

DEAR ABBY: How can you resent it, tell your husband that a "man-to-man" handshake would be more appreciated by the boy. (Better yet, let THEM handle it.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SAD HEART": He who accuses, accuses himself. Don't carry your marriage license in your purse. If people want to talk, you can't stop them.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Girl Scout Program

Trains Leaders

Recognizing that well-trained Girl Scout leaders are essential to a good program, Girl Scouts offers a variety of adult training on a local, regional and national level.

The first course prospective Girl Scout leaders from Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council take is the basic leadership course. This 26-hour course prepares adults for group leadership and allows them to study girls' needs and behavior. The course explains troop organization, its governing and progression in scouting. It also acquaints new leaders with the 11 fields of Girl Scouting. Leaders are expected to learn basic camp skills and participate in one outdoor day.

ADVANCED TRAINING / Advanced training deals with information about the intermediate program: Second class, first class and proficiency badges.

Senior leader training is given to leaders of senior troops. This explains the special interests of senior scouts and the side programs where senior scouts give specialized services.

Senior scouts, 16 to 17 years of age, who wish to become leaders may take training in leadership techniques in the Leaders-in-Training program. Camp training for leaders starts with the day camp counselors' training which equips them to help in a unit at day camp during the summer. Emphasis here is directed to outdoor skills, setting up units and menu planning.

PREPARES LEADERS

The basic troop camp courses prepare leaders to guide troops camping outdoors on approved sites. It trains leaders to assist the girls to do the planning. This training qualifies leaders to take Brownies on a Brownie holiday.

The advanced troop camp course qualifies leaders to take a troop to a primitive site or trip camping. Leaders learn how to lash work tables, fix outdoor showers, cook beans in a bean hole and bake biscuits on a reflector oven. Leaders then pass these skills on to the girls.

Less formal training is offered usually on a district level through workshops on arts and crafts, songs and dances, games, literature and drama, nature and conservation, cooking and hiking skills. Training is offered too for the use of audio-visual equipment.

UTILIZES RED CROSS

In addition, the council utilizes training offered in the community by other organizations such as Michigan State University Oakland and the Red Cross.

More training is available for scouts at a national level. Edith Macy Training School in New York is run by the Girl Scouts to give camping training in a camp setting.

Another type of training, "roving" national training, brings new information and techniques to local scouts.

"I Didn't Read It"

Judging by the complaints which reach the Business Ethics Board, few people read the documents which they sign. When they find themselves bound by the provisions of an iron-clad contract, they tell us, in bewilderment, that they never signed a contract, that it was only an application or an order, and, anyway, the salesman told me he would tear it up if they changed their mind about it.

Your signature is your promise to abide by certain terms and conditions. Your failure to comply with such terms and conditions is actionable at law. Read EVERY WORD of any paper you sign—read the small print as well as the big print. Learn what it means before you sign it!

Auto Makers Seek New Fall Look

By BEN FIELEGAR
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT — This country's first smaller-than-compact car won't be the only new model on the market this fall. Many changes are in the works for a variety of familiar nameplates.

Most of the conversation so far about 1963 cars has centered on the Ford entry into the small, small field. However, this also is the year for a new body design at General Motors, and since it's already been announced that the change will be noticeable.

Chrysler Corp., too, has been working overtime to make changes in its product line. Currently at least eight cars are in market penetration, Chrysler is attempting to present a new look on short notice, based on work by its new director of styling, Elwood Engel.

Engel didn't move from Ford to Chrysler until November, normally much too late to have his suggestions incorporated in 1963 designs. But Plymouth and Dodge dealers especially have asked urgently for any changes he could make and management apparently is responding.

One of Chrysler's first moves was to introduce the Dodge Custom 800 series this month. Using a 1962 body, however, it's longer than other Dodge models, the Custom 800 abandoned 1962 Dodge styling and became a hybrid. It uses the front end of the 1961 Dodge Plymouth and from the windshield back to a copy of the Chrysler Newport, the corporation's best selling car this year.

Indications are that Dodge will return to larger cars throughout the year. This will involve a larger Lancer, possibly on a 111-inch wheelbase instead of 106.5; a standard Dodge with a 118-inch wheelbase instead of 116, and the Custom 800 series at 112 inches.

INTO PARLANE FIELD
The Lancer thus will move out of the strictly compact field, where for two years it has been an almost identical twin to the Plymouth Valiant, and into the intermediate field of the Ford Fairlane. Dodge will be back at the Ford Galaxie — Chevrolet Impala size and the Custom 800 will give the division an entry in the medium price class.

For 1962 only the most astute observers have been able to differentiate immediately between Plymouth and Dodge. Next year these two will be definitely different.

The original Big Three compact cars — Falcon, Corvair and Valiant — are completing a three-year styling cycle this year. They have remained remarkably unchanged externally through their first three years, just as the manufacturers promised.

Chrysler hopes that it has successfully styled growing, but unfounded, rumors that it planned to abandon the Corvair. Instead, Chrysler is following a carefully calculated plan to convince the public this is a sports car at a popular price.

The Corvair Monza Spyder, which goes into production in April, fits Chrysler thinking. The Spyder has a turbocharged engine of 150 horsepower and all the gadgets, such as tachometer and as sports cars, normally associated with sports cars.

Top-line Monza models already account for almost two-thirds of all Corvair sales. The least expensive 500 series was cut to a single body style for 1962 and probably will disappear.

Your Neighbor's House

Mihalichs Enjoy a Spacious Home

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Wood Lake Hills is a subdivision west of Telegraph Road, south of Lone Pine. The homes are built not too close together which means privacy, yet gives feeling of a neighborhood.

The Stephen Mihalichs live in a pink brick two-story home on Midmoor. The trim and upper part of the house are white. Shutters and the front door are aqua. Fieldstone is used for trim around the front entrance.

This is a nice roomy house with five rooms downstairs and three bedrooms upstairs. There's room for the family of three children and Crystal, the calico cat. Stephen Jr. is 7; his older sister, Carrie, is 9; his younger sister, Amy, is 3. Before moving to the suburbs, the Mihalichs lived in Birmingham. In fact, Mrs. Mihalich grew up there.

J. W. Jenkins and Sons of Birmingham built the Mihalich home which they bought after it was up. Their lot is 150 by 120 feet.

The downstairs hallway leads to all the rooms. It is not necessary to go through one to reach another.

At the right of the front door is a powder room. In here the tile is a bronze tone. Walls are paneled. Fixtures are green. At the left is a roomy coat closet with a window at the front.

The family room beyond the powder room has an oak parquet floor. Over it is an oval brown, gold and green braided rug. Walls are lined oak. The floor length sandalwood draperies have a tweedy texture.

One wall has recently been built in with shelves and cupboards. There are woven inserts in the cupboard doors.

The small leather sofa and club chairs are an off-white shade. Tables are pine. The coffee table in front of the window has drop leaves. Against one wall is a kneecloth desk.

At the other end of the first floor is the large living room. This is more formal with walls the color of maple sugar and a white ceiling. There are several shades of brown in the carpeting. The tailored draperies are white.

Between the two front windows is a long Lawson sofa upholstered in a peach, grey and cream floral pattern. Above it is a large picture in a wide gold frame. This is but one of the antique pieces with which the Mihalichs have decorated their home. Cherry lamp tables with brass lamps flank each end of the sofa.

Near the north window is a pair of tufted back chairs up, holstered in green and white striped material. Between them is a marble top pedestal table.

The conversational grouping around the fireplace includes a brown loveseat, set at right angles to the hearth, and a gold wing chair. The coffee table is round.

The simple white fireplace has an inner frame of black marble. The hearth has jasper tiles like those in the powder room. A lamp table is placed at one side of the hearth; a refined pine chest at the other.

CANDELABRUM

Another interesting antique is the candelabrum on the mantel; it's the only thing there. The base is gold on marble and shows a soldier with a peg leg looking at a little girl. The drops under the candles are crystal. It could be French! From the clothing of the two persons sculptured, it looks like an 18th century piece.

The other piece of furniture in this room is the cherry spinet piano near the door.

The master bedroom and accompanying bath are behind the living room. Carpeting like that in the living room is used throughout the downstairs. The bedroom walls are pale green. Curtains are white with citrus colored flowers.

Furniture is Provincial walnut. The bedspread is off white. Throw pillows on the bed are green, gold and lavender. Near one window is an old, comfortable rocking chair. The bath is yellow.

Walls in the dining room are white. One wall has a white paneled dado beneath a scene of a hilly village. The draperies are seal-sheer white ones.

The drop leaf table is pine. Chairs have rush seats. In the hutch cabinet there is antique glass and china. Over the little chest which serves as a buffet is an antique mirror in a gold frame. The serving cart is a modern brass one.

In the kitchen there are many cupboards, all made of Formica that looks like lined oak. Counters are of two different heights to provide the right working height for Mrs. Mihalich who is rather short. Sink and range counters are aqua, while the work ones are white with gold. Appliances are stainless steel.

The floor has a mottled pattern in grays, blue and pink with silver sprinkles. The soft is coral. Behind the sink and range the walls are aqua Formica.

In the breakfast room there is paper above an oak dado. This shows herbs, fruits and vegetables in aqua, pink and green on white.

The family cuts off an Early American table with benches on either side. Beyond this room is the utility room.

The children have the upstairs to themselves. In Amy's room the white wallpaper is sprinkled with tiny blue flowers. Her curtains are white dotted swiss.

She has a rocker with a flowered cushion, two chests, her bed and an antique chest with a marble top.

CHERRY DESK

Carrie's room is pale beige with light green carpeting. Her furniture is pine, except for a delightfully delicate looking cherry desk. This her father bought and used during his student days in Chicago. It is all hand pegged.

Her bedspread and curtains have an Alice-in-Wonderland

print on them. The spread is banded in pink to match the color of the characters.

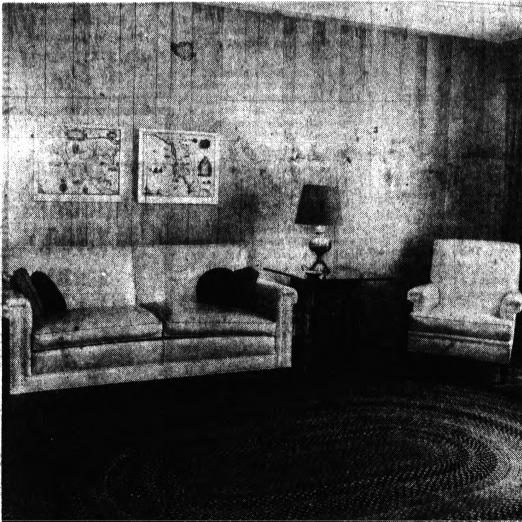

Stephen has a large room with an attached bath. Brown tweed carpeting, yellow walls and maple furniture make it a masculine looking room. Sailboat patterned material is used for his curtains and spreads. The attached bath is yellow and sandalwood.

STEVE'S ROOM — Being the only boy in the family gives Stephen a few privileges. One of them is having the largest bedroom upstairs with an attached bath. Bedspread and curtains have a nautical print in shades of tan. Plain brown material completes the bedspreads. His walls are yellow. A gay Indian headress decorates one wall.

STURDY — Leather furniture in the family room is sturdy enough to take the onslaughts of active children. Walls in here are lined oak.

The floor is oak parquet. The braided rug is brown, gold, and green. Occasional tables are pine.

Cement Repair Jobs Aren't Too Difficult

Many home handymen are planning to do some tuckpointing this spring and summer because the work can be done quickly and economically with the proper tools and supplies.

Other cement repair jobs, such as cracked sidewalks and patios, also can be tackled by the home handyman once he has a little experience.

Cold weather is hard on cement work and all homeowners should make a careful check of their property each spring to determine if any work is needed.

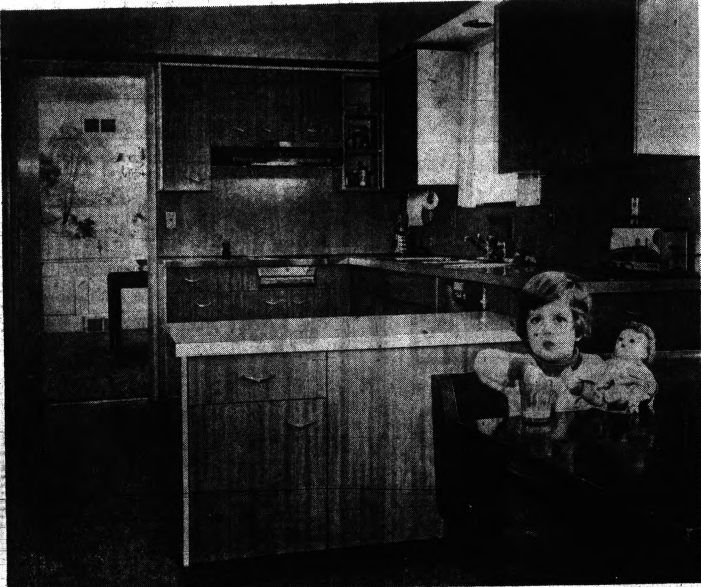

Most hardware stores stock bags of ready-mix cement. This cement is easy to mix with water in a standard galvanized steel pail, and it is applied like regular cement right from the pail.

The only tools needed for most of the cement repair jobs around the house are a trowel, mixing paddle and galvanized steel pail.

MORE FORMAL — The living room, while more formal than the family room, is hospitable looking. The Mihalichs have used Early American accents and timeless furniture. At the left, you can see one end of the flowered Lawson sofa. The green and white striped tufted back chairs at the window in the background flank a marble top pedestal table. Walls are the color of maple sugar. Draperies and the ceiling are white. The carpeting has several shades of brown in it. The loveseat in front of the fireplace is brown.

SNACK TIME — Pre-schooler Amy has a snack in the kitchen. She's using one of the benches that serve at the pine table. In the background is the work area. Aqua, coral and white are accent colors for the neutral lined oak finish of the

GRACIOUS LIVING — The Stephen Mihalich family has lived in this two-story home in Wood Lake Hills about a year. The exterior combines pink brick, white clapboard and field stone (the last around the aqua front door). Shutters are also aqua. J. W. Jenkins and Sons of Birmingham was the builder. The Mihalichs bought the house after it was built.

Color in Bath Here to Stay

There are many good reasons why colored plumbing fixtures have gained such wide acceptance and desirability the last few years.

The first thing that pops into the homemaker's mind is the new dimension the fixtures bring to bathroom and artistic decorating. Practically endless possibilities of varied color schemes make it a pleasure to plan and use the facilities.

The pleasing pastels featured in most modern enameled and vitreous china fixtures truly open the door to artistic decorating. Walls, floor coverings, towels and curtains can be beautifully and fashionably matched, blended or contrasted to taste.

It's fair to say that colored plumbing fixtures are the greatest innovation in home decorating since hydronic heating (pipes hidden in baseboards, floors, walls or ceilings, through which hot water is circulated).

Color durability is assured, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, and for a good reason. The colors are fused right into the fixtures, and cannot fade. All color models are acid-resistant.

To insure continuous color fidelity, whether the fixture is enameled or solid vitreous china, plumbing manufacturers employ an electronic "eye." The "eye" keeps close check for any color variation as the china glazes and enamels are prepared, a closer check than the human eye could make.

It's small wonder that practically all new houses nowadays have bathrooms, powder rooms and kitchens with fixtures in color.

BUDGET-MINDED LUXURY — Behind this modest 1,765-square-foot ranch and shielded in the privacy of its L-shaped design, is a swimming pool. The three-bedroom home, with three full baths, was designed for the young at heart who like relaxed living.

HEIGHT OF LUXURY — Swimming pool area of this medium-sized ranch has both covered and open spectator areas. Dressing rooms are located at right near the elbow of the L-shaped plan. Pool is visible from living room (through glass wall), dining room and main bedroom.

FLOOR PLAN — Excellent circulation pattern makes it possible to enter all areas, of house from, their own outdoor entrances, as well as from the foyer. There are seven exterior entrances in all. Note also the abundance of closet and storage space.

Heat the Bathtub

To provide the extra heat that so many people require when bathing, a loop of tubing may be installed under the bathtub and connected to the hydronic (hot water) home heating system. Not only will the loop of tubing help to warm the bathroom, but it will also warm the tub and prevent "cold feet" when showering.

Here's House and Pool for 'Ordinary Folks'

By JULES LOM

A private swimming pool long has been considered the very last thing in neighborhood luxury, and rightly so. Not only does it afford recreation but, like a shimmering waterfall on a summer day, a pool is refreshing just to sit and look at.

Trouble is, nearly everyone reserves a pool as something reserved for the privileged few who own mansions; certainly not as an adornment to the modest homes of ordinary folks.

Not so, neighbors. Here's a three-bedroom ranch containing only 1,765 square feet of living area specifically designed around a swimming pool.

The pool could be added later, of course, or not at all. Meanwhile, the semi-enclosed rear lawn is ideal for a garden or for all types of recreation — badminton, croquet or, in keeping with the times, touch football.

The entire house, in fact, was designed inside and out for the young at heart who like to relax.

has two, both large; the main bath has a closet in addition to the oversized linen closet; and there is a closet adjoining the third bedroom.

Note also the excellent storage space in the garage, and the area off the covered porch spacious enough for everything from lawn furniture to inner tubes.

The exterior of the house speaks for itself. The glimmer of its first impression doesn't end outside, however.

From the front entrance, which features double doors and side lights spreading the entry 12-feet wide, the first interior view extends 25 feet through the foyer and living room, with its fireplace. Beyond that, the far wall is entirely of glass, providing a dramatic backdrop of lawn and pool.

About 85 per cent of the 1,375 million new homes expected to be built during 1962 will be of one-family, one-story construction, estimate building specialists.

J-11 STATISTICS

A three-bedroom ranch, L-shaped, with optional swimming pool. Has three full baths, full basement, attached garage, open living room-dining room, combination family room-kitchen. Habitable area contains 1,765 square feet, excluding garage and dressing room wing. Depth of house proper is 31'1". Overall width, including 4'4" extension of garage, is 70'3". Width of house proper is 65'11".

It is design J-11 in the House of the Week series, the work of architect Rudolph A. Matern.

With the budget of middle-income families in mind, Matern economically (and ingeniously) separated the garage from the main house, connected them with a simple and functional dressing room-storage area, and came up with an L-shaped plan ideal for maximum enjoyment of the pool.

The pool area is visible from the dining room, living room and master bedroom in addition to an outside porch and other spectator areas, both covered and uncovered. Inside, the house offers all the accoutrements of comfort and style with every square foot paying its way: three full baths, full basement, family room and commodious closet space.

GOOD TRAFFIC

The ease with which traffic circulates through this house — as it must, with all the activity a pool generates — deserves special notice. The fact that no room need be crossed to get to any other room, usually the most that can be said for a house, is but a small part of this circulation plan. For example:

Not only can each of the three rooms — formal living and dining area, informal kitchen-family room area, and sleeping area — be reached directly from the entrance foyer, but each wing has its own outdoor entrance as well. There are no less than seven exterior doors.

Both the main entrance and the service entrance are covered, and so is the walk from the garage to the house.

THREE BATHS

All three bathrooms, including the one in the master bedroom, are arranged for convenience from both inside and out. That is, all three are accessible to swimmers, especially the one near the dressing rooms. But this one also serves the housekeeping area nicely, and the main bath is equally convenient to the family bedrooms.

The combination kitchen and family room is 20'6" long with 225 square feet of space, plenty large for the congeniality its informality is sure to attract.

An additional word also should be said about the excellent closet space. The front foyer offers two coat closets; the main bedroom

Winter Garden NOTES

When you're shopping for a power lawnmower, it will pay you to investigate the models now available. With cast-iron side frames and cutter bar supports. The thickness and rigidity of gray iron castings in these parts will keep the engine aligned for smoother operation and will keep the mower cutting uniformly. Result will be less adjusting and sharpening.

The do-it-yourselfer with a sweet tooth will be biting off more than he can chew making his own maple syrup or sugar.

Almost any home grounds maple tree can be tapped without harm for its sap, but the effort is not worthwhile. The weekend gardener with a maple or two is faced with some sticky problems, points out M. W. Staples, field supervisor of the Davey Tree Expert Co. For one thing, it takes $1 to $3 gallons of the raw sap to produce one gallon of the confection. For another, there's an art in boiling off the raw sap to come up with a superior syrup. Usually, it takes acres of "sugar bush" — stands of the preferred hard sugar maples (acer saccharum) — plus plenty of know-how and time.

The raw sap is only fairly sweet. The finished product's tastiness comes from caramelizing the natural sugars by long boiling and evaporation. Sap is boiled in open vats over hardwood fires, the smoke of which is believed essential for imparting tang.

A large home grounds maple may provide the necessary quantity of sap required to make one gallon of syrup. However, chances are the homeowner will get only a few gallons at one time since the sap running lasts only a few weeks. Because of limited rewards for patient effort, the confection farmer should think twice before joining the maple syrup hot stove league.

KENT, Ohio — Don't worry about your pet trees that split open under the attack of winter frost.

The cracks usually close up in the spring with no harm done, says tree expert Martin L. Davey Jr.

The cracking is caused by fast-dropping temperatures following a mild spell.

The outer layers of the tree trunk freeze and contract more rapidly than the inner layer.

Result: The tree splits open lengthwise with a report that has been compared with a rifle shot.

Vacant floor areas of dull corners can be brightened by wooden or metal boxes paved with a one-inch layer of pebbles or vermiculite as a base for a varied display of foliage or flowering plants in red clay pots. Overhead artificial lighting can add even more beauty and drama to the scene.

All set to knock out crabgrass this spring?

Are you planning on using one of the new pre-emergent controls? Then make certain you know what you're using and when to use it. Here's what you're up against:

For the past several years there have been a number of pre-emergent crabgrass killers on the market. All of them, to be effective, should be applied before crabgrass starts to germinate. They do not kill young crabgrass seedlings after germination. This type of control should be applied very early in the spring.

A new pre-emergent control will be nationally marketed for the first time this year which does both jobs — kills crabgrass seeds as they sprout and kills young crabgrass plants already growing in your lawn. Best of all, this new pre-emergent control, unlike the others, is harmless to your grass seed and seedlings. You can seed before, at the same time, or right after applying it. Controls containing CPA must not be applied until a few weeks before or during crabgrass germination. If applied too early in the season, CPA will not be effective. Those pre-emergents that do not contain CPA can be applied much earlier, but not during or after crabgrass germination.

Both the soil that nourishes your plants and the containers that house them should be porous. That's why beginning house plant hobbyists are well advised to buy started plants that have had the advantages of being potted in porous clay pots by quality professional growers thoroughly familiar with proper soil mixtures. Southern tropical plants, for example, thrive better in northern climates when climate-conditioned by northern growers.

Then apply the enamel to these bare spots thinned in accordance ROLLING BAR — This is a versatile piece of furniture. The back has lots of shelves and a door which may be locked. It's standard height, has a foot rail and lots of storage space. Mounted on casters, it will glide easily from one room to another or out on the patio. Youngsters can use it as a soft drink and sandwich bar. It's inexpensive at made of plywood. To obtain the full size home-wood pattern No. 107, send $1.00 by currency, check or money order payable to Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif.

Spatter Paint Enamel to Renovate Old Floor

Every housewife dreams of a colorful floor that does not show dirt, scuff marks, spilled foods and beverages, and which requires a minimum of maintenance. Spatter finishes, sometimes called spatterdash, provide an easy way to fulfill this dream.

This finish consists of a coat of tough quality floor enamel in the color of your choice, which is spattered at random with one or more other colors of this durable finish.

If your present painted floor is in good condition, and the colors bright and true, there is no need to repaint. But be sure that it is free of dirt, wax, polish and grease. Mop it clean and let it dry before proceeding. If the floor has not been painted previously or if the old paint is in poor condition, then apply floor enamel in the manner to be described later on.

To get the spatters, here's what you do. Dip a brush in a can of the first color you want for the polka dot effect. Holding the brush in your right hand with the bristles the technical name is ferrule — against a stick held in the other hand.

For small spatters, the brush should not be fully loaded and the stick against which it is struck should be held about a foot from the floor. For larger spatters, fill the brush fully and hold the stick three feet or so above the floor.

PROTECT WALL. Be sure to protect the walls and baseboard with newspaper held in place with masking tape.

If you want the spatters to consist of several colors, wait until each color has dried before going ahead to the next one. You may want the spots of the first color to be larger and those of the second to be smaller, so vary the height accordingly.

If it is necessary to enamel the entire floor because it is unpainted or in poor condition, here's the way to go about it completely. Where paint has worn away, sand the surrounding edges so that the spot priming will not raise the level of the finish.

Then apply the enamel to these bare spots thinned in accordance

Gas Lengthens Cottage Year

Are you one of the many people who reluctantly shut down their summer places every year because they aren't equipped for out-of-season comfort?

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests that, with all the ways now available to make a mountain or shore retreat as cozy in winter as in summer, there's no reason not to get year-round pleasure out of the place.

In many of the more than a million "second homes" in this country, fireplaces are the only heat producers. GAMA, observes. But in most of these, hibernators, and in the 50,000 to 75,000 now being built or bought annually, gas-fired direct heating equipment is doing the heating job, the trade group says.

Even in many of the fireplaces, people are installing simulated gas-log burners because they are more practical and less costly than keeping a wood supply.

Other forms include console or cabinet units that resemble television sets, radiant heaters, wall heaters, dual-wall heaters (with registers that open into two adjoining rooms), chafey reflector heaters, and bathroom comforters.

All says GAMA, are easy to install and ideally suited to areas calling for quick warm-ups and continuing comfort. They are useful in the summer, spring and fall, too, when sudden temperature dips and damp weather bring on discomfort.

Most models of gas direct heaters are equipped with temperature controls that permit maintaining or adjusting interior climate as readily as the thermostat controls central heating.

Floor enamels can be applied with brush or roller. The easiest way is to use a long-handled roller that makes it unnecessary to bend or kneel. Apply the enamel in two foot strokes running the length of the room, overlapping slightly. Be sure that you paint with a door behind you so that you don't paint yourself into a corner.

State Quarter-Finals Next for Central

Bentley's 'Best' Is Not Enough to Stop Chiefs

Ransom Stars as PCH Wins Regional Crown at Livonia, 58-42

By BILL CORNWELL
"We gave our very best, but it wasn't good enough to beat you." So declared Livonia Bentley basketball coach Bob Bentley Friday night as he congratulated Pontiac Central coach Art Van Ryzin after Central's 58-42 triumph in the Class A regional final at Livonia.

Bentley was proud of his kids—and well he should be—for they made an exceptional effort to upset the heavily favored Chiefs in the fourth regional game between the two schools in the last five years.

There was no denying PCH, however. The Chiefs simply had too many guns for Bentley as they led virtually all the way to collect their fourth regional crown in the last seven years.

Despite moments of carelessness and shoddy play, the Chiefs had enough talented manpower to wear down the stubborn Bulldogs.

U-D. LUCKY SET
The scheduled victory qualified PCH to enter next Wednesday's state quarterfinals at a site yet to be named. It's a good bet that the University of Detroit Mercy will be the site.

Central will clash with the winner of tonight's Class A regional showdown at Trenton between Detroit Northwestern and Cass Tech.

The Chiefs were being closely watched yesterday. Northwesterners, apparently confident of eliminating Tech, had the entire squad and coaching staff seated among the overflow crowd to see PCH in action.

As a unit, the Chiefs have played many better games. But the Detroiters did get an impressive eye full of forward Rudy Ransom, the Chiefs' versatile All-Saginaw Valley performer.

Hitting from outside, executing numerous fades and driving down the middle for easy layups, Ransom rifled 23 points on 10 field goals and three 3-pointers, and the foul train to spark Central's third win over Bentley in four meetings.

TOUGH ON DEFENSE
Ransom had some outstanding support, too. Ed Williams did a Herculean job on the PCH defense, guarding Bentley's Lennie Carrier and limiting him to 11 points, three in the second half.

It was Carrier, Livonia's leading scorer throughout the regular season schedule, who swished 28 in the Bulldogs' 62-30 conquest of Pontiac Northern in Tuesday's regional opener.

Williams also added 10 points to the PCH offense, and teammate Paul Brown contributed the same number. Guard Ray Cusser also sparkled defensively and 6-foot-4 center Oik Kennedy had 14 rebounds.

Bentley was shot only twice, 20 and 8-1, and the score was tied on three occasions, 22, 64 and 88—all in the first quarter.

PCH held quarterfinal leads of 12-9, 24-18 and 38-27, but it was not until early in the fourth period that the Chiefs really could shake off the tenacious Bulldogs.

SHIFT INTO HIGH
Van Ryzin's tongue-lashing at halftime helped shift the Chiefs into higher gear following intermission. Quick baskets by Kennedy, Williams and Brown early in the third stanza hiked their margin to 10 points and Bentley never came closer than seven thereafter.

They pulled steadily away in the fourth session and substitutes played the final two minutes when their lead reached 51-33.

The Chiefs worked harder than necessary to win this one, due in many instances to poor positioning on rebounds for follow-up shots, customarily a PCH strong point.

Husky Greg Mapes was Bentley's top player. The scrappy Mapes was tough on the backboards and took scoring honors for Bentley with 17 points. Sophomore Bill Bolin tallied 11 to equal Carrier. The Chiefs had a shooting superiority, sinking 24 of 50 shots for 48 per cent compared to Livonia's 45 per cent on 35 of 78.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants upset the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 in the 12th inning Friday night by the Steve's Bill Bridges.

Wolves Play Northville; St. Paul Defeats Capac

Northville and Clarkston hope to be among the 32 schools competing in state basketball tournament quarter-final action next week.

Only one of the two Wayne-Oakland League schools will make it.

Northville, the No. 2 rated Class B team in the state going into the tournament, takes on Clarkston tonight at 8 for the regional championship at Pontiac Northern.

Two schools advanced to the quarter-finals by winning at area sites Friday.

Defending state champion Grosse Pointe St. Paul dumped pre-tourney Class C favorite Capac by the wayide 48-32 at Ferndale, Detroit Eastern ran away from East Detroit in the second half to win the Class A regional on the losers' floor, 92-71.

PLAYS PERSHING
Royal Oak Kimball, one of the surprise teams in Class A, will be seeking the right to meet Peshing in the quarter-finals when the Knights tangle with Detroit Ferndale tonight at Ferndale.

Northville is a solid favorite in its game with Clarkston. The Mustangs, who have an 18-0 mark, topped Clarkston twice during the regular season.

The Wolves have three causes pushing them:

1. A berth in the quarter-finals;
2. the first regional championship in the school's history;
3. revenge for a close loss to Northville at Clarkston.

"We would have taken Northville that time," said Clarkston coach Dom Mauti, "if we had hit like we did against Clawson."

The Wolves upset Clawson in their regional debut Thursday 70-61 by hitting 47 per cent of their field goals and 16 of 39 free throws. Mike Applegate and Chuck Funk scored 28 points each.

The winner will go against the Class B regional winner in the quarter-finals.

For the second straight year, Capac lost a heart-breaker to St. Paul in the regionals. Last year it was 43-38 in overtime and the Green Pointers went on to the state "C" championship.

WILLIAMS ADDS 10
Williams added 10 points to the PCH offense, and teammate Paul Brown contributed the same number. Guard Ray Cusser also sparkled defensively and 6-foot-4 center Oik Kennedy had 14 rebounds.

Bentley was shot only twice, 20 and 8-1, and the score was tied on three occasions, 22, 64 and 88—all in the first quarter.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants upset the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 in the 12th inning Friday night by the Steve's Bill Bridges.

Friday's contest was another close affair. The score was 11-11 at the quarter and 20-20 early in the third period. Then St. Paul pulled in front and led by two to three points until the last minute when the final bulge was achieved.

Jack Wachter topped the winners with 10 points. Ken Kobayashi was high for the Chieftains with 14.

East Detroit trailed Eastern 38-37 at the half. But a 54-point outburst by the Detroit school in the last half, 32 in the fourth quarter, eliminated the Shamrocks.

Bill Yerbe was high for Eastern with 24 points. Teammates Charles Davis and John Rowser scored 17 each. Lou Perry pumped in 21 and Gerry Brzezinski 18 for East Detroit.

Coach Jim Niebauer's Shamrocks play Detroit All Saints tonight at 7 in Eastern Michigan's Bowen Field House.

All Saints edged Addison 58-56 in the first game Friday.

St. Michael almost threw the game away in the final 15 seconds. And there was some confusion over the clock before the Mikemen could claim the victory.

The Shamrocks were using stalling tactics in the last minute, attempting to protect a 48-44 lead. With 15 seconds to play Madison's Ken Hooker stole the ball at mid-court and dribbled in for an easy layup.

The clock showed seven seconds to play when the Shamrocks attempted to pass from out of bounds. The ball never reached the playing area. It hit the rear of the backboard.

CONFUSION TIME
Madison was awarded control, but the clock had run. The officials said the "Jungs" had called time out before the buzzer and the clock was set back two seconds.

Madison set up a field goal try on the out-of-bounds play, but an open jump shot from 18-feet failed to connect and St. Michael had survived.

Charlie Dault topped the Mikemen with 14 points. Sonnenberg contributed 12 and Hurren 10. Erwin Ray was high for Madison with 13. Hooker scored 12.

Play was raged in many places during the game. Neither team was very sharp in the shooting department. The Mikemen hit 18 of 60 field goal tries for 30 per cent while Madison turned in a 17-49 for 35 per cent.

The Shamrocks had a 27-23 edge in the rebound department, but 25 were grabbed by the Mikemen in the first half.

Even while controlling the backboards in the first half, St. Michael was forced to leave the court on the short end of a 22-19 count.

The Shamrocks came to life in the third quarter to overtake Madison and carry a four-point advantage into the final minutes. With 5:20 left in the game, the Shamrocks held a 45-37 lead.

But Jim Hurren and Mike Pope fouled out and the Mikemen had trouble staying in front. Three straight free throws by Larry Sonnenberg in the closing minute gave the Mikemen a four-point bulge going into the hectic final seconds.

CHIEF BLOCKADE—Pontiac Central's Paul Brown (40) and teammate Ed Williams put the pressure on Bentley's Lennie Carrier as he eyes a layup shot in yesterday's Class A regional basketball game at Livonia. The Chiefs won, 58-42, to advance to the state quarter-final round.

Michigan Tech Hockey Finalist

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Michigan Tech overcame an early 1-0 deficit, blasted St. Lawrence 6-1 Friday night and moved into the semifinals of the NCAA national hockey tournament.

Tech, the Western Division collegiate champion, will play Clarkson, upset winner over Michigan Thursday night, in the championship game Saturday night.

St. Lawrence opened the scoring midway through the first period when Jim McInnes converted for the Canton, N.Y. school while Michigan Tech had two men in the penalty box.

But it was all Tech the rest of the way. Senior Don Hermanson then struck for two Husky goals, tying it late in the first period and putting Tech ahead to stay in the middle frame.

The loss was the ninth against two losses and assured Midwest of second place in the Michigan Intercollegiate Christian League. Grand Rapids Bible won the championship.

George Milton paced Midwest over Great Lakes with 22 points. Tom Sutton tallied 15 and Roger Sykes and Cliff French 10 each. Midwest led at the half, 32-20.

Tigers Rained Out; Musial Wins Battle of Vets With Spahn

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Rain gave the Detroit Tigers a welcome day off Friday following a blast by Manager Bob Schefeling for ineffective play.

The Tigers' exhibition game with the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater was called off.

Schefeling's criticism came after the Tigers lost 4-3 Thursday to the Chicago White Sox. He said Detroit played poorly and made it clear he was concerned about it. The Tigers batted nine batters, struck out 11, and had one potential winning run doubled off second base, and helped the White Sox score the winning run with a steady defensive play.

MUSIAL LEADS CARDS
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Stan Musial who is 41, won another round here Friday in his 16-year battle with Warren Spahn, who will be 41 next month.

Musial drove in two runs with two hits off Spahn as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 8-6.

Neither the 3,000-hit St. Louis star nor the 3,000-game Milwaukee winner was the outstanding performer, however, as Curt Flood of the Cardinals knocked in four runs with a single, double and homer and Larry Jackson pitched six strong innings for the Redbirds.

For Milwaukee, Mack Jones, rookie outfielder, continued his heavy hitting with two singles and his fifth spring homer that boosted his Grapefruit League batting average to .458. Hank Aaron also homered for the Braves.

Alex Grammas, veteran utility infielder, who will be the St. Louis shortstop if rookie Julio Goyea and Jerry Buckner fall, made his first appearance at short and delivered three consecutive hits.

Bob Farley and Floyd Robinson drove in four runs apiece. Farley hit a three-run homer in the first inning and accounted for another on a sacrifice fly. Robinson drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double and also singled in a run.

Herb Score started for the White Sox and yielded two runs in the first inning. He retired the A's in the second and third. Ray Herbert pitched three scoreless innings and Cal McLish finished for Chicago, yielding five runs on six hits.

NATS BEAT TWINS
POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Washington scored five runs in a wild eighth inning Friday to beat Minnesota, 5-2, and extend the Twins' losing streak to seven games.

The Twins scored one in the fourth and added another in the eighth on Harmon Killebrew's third home run of the exhibition season.

Willie Tasby opened the Senators' eighth with a double and Washington galloped on to beat the Twins to score five times on three hits, three walks, an error, a passed ball and a wild pitch. Bruce Swango, who was in for most of the trouble, was relieved by Al Schroll, who retired the side.

Killebrew had two singles in addition to his home run. Chuck Houston had three hits for the Senators. Washington's record now is 5-2.

IRISH O'TOOLE
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds parlayed slick pitching and timely hitting into a 5-3 victory over the New York Mets Friday.

Jim O'Toole and fireman Bill Henry gave the Mets only nine hits, the only damaging one being a two-run single by Don Zimmer in the third. Winner O'Toole, who won 19 for the National League champions last year, reeled off the first six innings against the newcomers Mets in mid-season form.

Red batters got 10 hits off rookie Al Jackson and former teammate Sherman Jones, who was charged with the loss. Frank Robinson and Gordon Coleman homered for Cincinnati.

The victory was only the second for the Reds in seven games. The Mets are now 3-3.

ANGELS CLIPPED
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians pounded out 14 hits against three Los Angeles pitchers Friday and beat the Angels 10-2.

Second baseman Ken Aspromonte rapped three singles and Al

Luplow and Bubba Phillips got two hits each. Phillips drove in three runs with a triple and single, while rookie outfielder Luplow reached base five times on two singles, two walks and getting hit by a pitch.

Luplow also made a shooting grab of a line drive to get starter Gary Bell out of a hole in the fifth inning and gave up two hits. Bob Allen finished up, allowing one run and three hits.

CUBS WIN AGAIN
MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Billy Williams poked a two-run homer and George Altman a three-run homer in the Chicago Cubs scored five times in the first inning Friday, then hung on for an 8-7 exhibition victory over the San Francisco Giants.

It was the Cubs' fourth straight victory, longest winning streak of the young Cactus League season. Billy Pierce, former Chicago White Sox southpaw, was the victim of the Cubs' early assault. Rookie Lou Brock's infield scratch preceded Williams' second spring homer, and Ernie Banks and Ron Santo hit safely before Altman stroked his fourth exhibition homer.

It was a $25 swat for Altman, since that is the cash prize paid by the Ho-Ho-Kams, Mesa civic organization, for any homer hit over the high right field scoreboard, 375 feet from the plate.

After catcher Tom Haller's two-run homer gave the Giants their third and fourth runs in the seventh, San Francisco scored one more in the eighth and two in the ninth.

BRUCE HELPS COLTS
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Bobby Shantz and Bo Bruce, two American League castoffs, limited the Boston Red Sox to six singles as Houston's new National League Colts breezed to a 9-1 victory Friday.

The Colts hammered three young Boston pitchers for 11 hits, which included home runs by Bob Aspromonte and Jim Pendleton, while registering their third Cactus League victory against four losses.

The Sox's spring record is now 4-3.

Aspromonte unloaded against Ted Willis at the start of the game. Pendleton's homer in the fifth was a three-run shot, coming after young Dave Morehead had walked two men.

Jack Waters drove across four runs for the Colts with two doubles and a single.

Shantz, the 36-year-old veteran, merely toyed with the Sox bats. He permitted just three scratch hits in six innings, walked none.

The Sox escaped a shutout after two were out in the ninth. Then Malone singled to score Ed Bresnahan, who had opened the inning with a scratch infield hit.

Buckeyes, Kentucky Clash in NCAA Tonight

Reach Finals of Regional on Trouncings

Cinci Blasts Creighton, Will Battle Colorado; NIT Resumes

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer. They're all big boys, but none may be bigger than Ohio State's match with careful Kentucky tonight in the finals of the NCAA regional tournament at Iowa City, Iowa.

The mighty Buckeyes, driving toward the NCAA title denied them in overtime by Cincinnati last season, handled Western Kentucky with ease, 92-72, in their first tournament test Friday night.

Kentucky, however, may be a different matter. The Wildcats, whose disciplined attention to coach Adolph Rupp's deliberately designed patterns brought them to the No. 3 spot in the nation, romped past Butler, 81-60, in the other semifinal Friday night.

Their match tonight may be the glamer game of the four regional tournaments, which also sees defending champion Cincinnati going against Colorado. Also on the NCAA small college tourney, finals in the NAIA, and two first round and two quarter-final matches in the National Invitation Tournament.

Here's the NCAA lineup:

Wake Forest (28) at Villanova (21-6) at College Park, Md.
Kentucky (25-2) vs. Ohio State (24-1) at Iowa City, Iowa.
Colorado (19-6) vs. Cincinnati (25-2) at Manhattan, Kan.
Oregon State (23-4) vs. UCLA (17-10) at Provo, Utah.

The winners advance to the semifinals at Louisville, Ky., March 22.

Sacramento State and Mount St. Mary's of Maryland tangle for the NCAA small college championship at Evansville, Ind., while Prairie View A&M and Westminster, Pa., are matched for the NAIA title at Kansas City.

The NIT, in New York's Madison Square Garden, has Duquesne paired with Navy and Colorado State against Holy Cross in afternoon first round games and Loyola of Chicago playing Temple and Houston vs. Dayton in quarterfinals tonight.

The victory by Ohio State, top-ranked team in the nation for the second year in a row, and Kentucky set up a replay of last year's midweek showdown, won by Ohio State 87-74. Neither had much trouble in advancing Friday night.

Ohio State used its usual fast break to turn a 27-36 deficit late in the first half to a 43-30 lead at intermission, even though Al America Jerry Lucas was on the bench with foul trouble at the time.

Cotton Nash scored 23 points and Larry Pursifill had 26 in Kentucky's easy conquest.

Cincinnati, No. 1 in the nation, got a 24 point performance from hulking Paul Hogue in a 66-46 blasting of Creighton. Colorado swept into an 11 point halftime advantage then held off the frantic Texas Tech rallies for a 67-60 victory.

In the east, Wake Forest took a 36-55 overtime trouncing over St. Joseph's of Philadelphia while Villanova overcame a 12-point deficit and went on to defeat New York University 79-76 in Hubie White's 31 point showing.

Oregon State overcame small, determined Pepperdine 69-67 and UCLA took Utah State 73-62.

Tech Swimmers 2nd
DETROIT (AP) — North Central of Illinois swept to four victories in the NAIA swimming championships and jumped to a big lead last night in the second round of the three-day competition.

North Central ran off 68 points Detroit Tech 98, West Chester, Pa. 37, Western State, Minn., 17, Adelphi, N.Y., 16, and Macalester, Minn., 16.

Pistons, Warriors Victors in Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
History won't repeat in the National Basketball Association playoffs this year.

Just a year ago, the Philadelphia Warriors met the Syracuse Nationals in the semifinal round. The Warriors were heavily favored. Instead, the amazing Nats won the series in three straight.

The same two teams clashed again Friday night in Philadelphia in the first game of the semifinals. This time, the Warriors whipped to a 110-103 victory to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five series.

In the other semifinal Friday night, also the first of a best-of-five series, the Detroit Pistons fought off the Cincinnati Royals, 123-122, in Detroit.

For a change, it wasn't Wilt Chamberlain who did most of the Philadelphia scoring. Paul Arizin, a 10-year veteran of the club, dropped in 43 points in 41 minutes to ace the Warriors.

Chamberlain, who has broken about every regular-season scoring record in the NBA book, chipped in with 32 points including 10 of 14 foul shots.

Arizin took 28 shots and found the range in 16, better than a .500 average. He also popped in 11 of 15 free throws and grabbed 10 rebounds.

The Warriors also held three of the Nats' usual dependable scorers — Dave Gambee, John Kerr, and Delph Schayes — to a total of 24 points.

The Pistons fought off a desperate Cincinnati rally in the last two minutes and barely managed to hold on.

With two minutes to go, the Pistons were leading 121-111. Then 29 seconds later the Royals' ace, Oscar Robertson, fouled out to make things even sorer for the Pistons.

But in a closing surge, Wayne Embury picked up seven points and Chuck Taylor four more for the Royals. They took three consecutive times outs with a second to go in hopes of setting up the winning basket. Just as the buzzer sounded, Robertson shot, but it was far off.

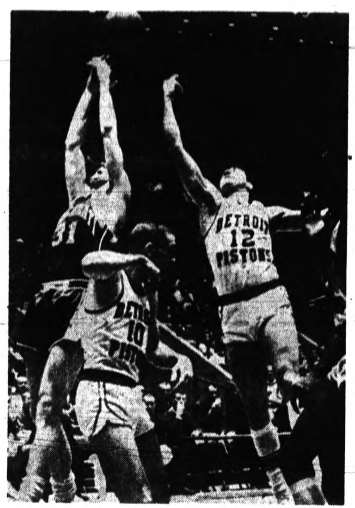

Rookie Ray Scott was high man for the Pistons with 34 points. The crowd changed hands 21 times until Scott broke an 80-81 tie at the 8-minute mark of the third period to send the Pistons ahead 90-87.

Re-run of First Round

Boynton Leads St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Frank Boynton, a young Texas golfer who has had nothing but ill luck on the tournament trail this year, changed his iron play and grabbed the first round lead Friday in the $20,000 St. Petersburg Open.

Boynton shot 65 in the rerun of Thursday's washed-out first round to lead the field of 160. A total of 73 broke or matched par on the 6,215-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

The field will be narrowed to the low 60 and ties after Saturday's second round in the 72-hole medal play event.

Boynton, one of the early finishers, laid siege to par on the first nine by shooting a 5-under-par 31. A pair of birdies on the back nine gave him a 34 and his 7-under-par total.

His round was a stroke better than the sizzling 66 he shot Thursday.

Samardzija 79th in PBA Meet,

Moore Ice Cold

Miko Samardzija of Pontiac ranked 79th in a field of 140 bowling stars going into today's final round of the Memphis, Tenn., Open.

He was 171 pins under a 200 average for four five-game blocks with 3,819. Moore Moore of Pontiac was 400 pins under 200.

Samardzija had a successful block of 1,027, 87, 948 and 989.

After ranging from 195 to 232 in the opener, he later settled on the same, in the other half of a closed-circuit TV doubleheader. He weighed 221½ in knocking out Albert Westphal of Germany.

Asked about reports he had said he might weight as little as 200, he said, "I feel better at that weight."

Liston, an Arkansas-born Philadelphia, has not lost since 1955. He has sought the fight for a long time. Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, balked at Liston's police record and his management.

D'Amato made it clear he did not approve of the fight.

"But the fight was made, because Floyd Patterson wants to fight Sonny Liston," he said.

Cocky Liston Signs to Meet Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't think there's nobody in the world as good as myself."

Charles (Sonny) Liston, dripping confidence and contempt, had that comment on the fight he will have next summer with champion Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight title.

BAD DEAL
Liston made it clear at the signing ceremonies that he thinks he is getting a bad deal. He signed for 25 per cent of the gross. Patterson gets 45 per cent of the live gate, and 55 per cent of the other rights, plus the right to do late time, place and promoter for a return match if Liston wins.

Liston gets 30 per cent in the return, if any, with Patterson's cut-to-be negotiated later.

Bolan said six cities, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Washington and Seattle are under consideration as the site, which will be picked by Patterson.

The champion will also pick the date, and announce it within a month. It will be no earlier than June 18, nor later than Sept. 30.

"Seattle has offered us a $1 million guarantee to hold the fight in connection with the world's fair," Bolan said. "We will explore all possibilities and take the one giving us the best deal."

BATTLE IN GUATEMALA—A terrified student (left) flees as police and Guatemalan student demonstrators brawl in a Guatemala City street over possession of a Guatemalan flag the youths had. Students are protesting the conservative government of President Manuel Ydigoras. The army held the riot-prone capital under virtual martial law today as opposition mounted. Troops chased two guerrilla bands in the hills.

Wayne County Road Commission

Unit Hits Bill for Jet Airport

The Wayne County Road Commission has taken issue with plans the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, which has jurisdiction over road commissions on airport matters, would not have the same jurisdiction over public works departments under the act.

The opposition was raised to Oakland County's proposed amendment to the Michigan Department of Public Works Act.

James Davy, airport managing director for the Wayne County Road Commission, operators of Detroit Metropolitan Airport, hit the amendment bill which would enable the Oakland County DPW to develop and operate a second major airport serving the metropolitan area.

Appearing before the Senate Legislative Committee, Davy contended:

1. If the amendment is approved, the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, which has jurisdiction over road commissions on airport matters, would not have the same jurisdiction over public works departments under the act.
2. The bill would permit the DPW to raise special assessments throughout the county to finance airport construction.
3. Oakland County officials who prepared the bill denied any intention of financing airport construction through special assessments.
4. That section of the proposed bill dealing with special assessment has nothing to do with the airport, they said.

Supreme Court Reverses Zoning Rule in Southfield

A Southfield property owner, Sam Wenner, now can build medical clinic office buildings on residential zoned land following a ruling yesterday by the State Supreme Court.

Wenner's property faces Ten Mile Road on which, he argued, there is an annual traffic volume of 2.8 million vehicles a year.

He contended the location was highly suitable for single-family dwelling which had been specified by a Southfield zoning ordinance.

The state court's decision, written by Chief Justice John C. Dethmer, said:

"Examination of all the testimony persuaded us that the property is decidedly not suited to residential use."

The ruling upheld an earlier decision by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem who had suspended zoning ordinance requirements on the land.

It also upheld the lower court's order that the city be forced to finance Wenner building permits for the office buildings.

Israeli Forces, Syrians Battle

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli and Syrian forces clashed on the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee in a night battle that raged until early today. Both sides claimed victory in the gravest frontier fighting in two years.

At least two Israeli planes joined the battle and one Syrian plane, reported to be a Soviet-made MIG-17, also swung into action. Syria charged Israeli attacked without tanks and four were knocked out. But an Israeli spokesman said no tanks were in action and the "tanks" actually were trucks disabled by land mines.

An Israeli army spokesman claimed it was Syria, including a company commander, were killed as Israeli forces launched a hit-run invasion of Syria, knocking out gun positions.

He placed Israeli troop losses at five dead and six seriously wounded. The Israeli force also captured a large amount of Syrian arms and ammunition, the spokesman said.

THE OTHER SIDE

A Syrian army spokesman said in Damascus that Syrian troops had battled two Israeli gunboats on the Sea of Galilee for two straight days. He claimed that the Israeli boats had violated the demilitarized water zone on Galilee.

Wilson's Estate in Louisiana Sold to Gynecologist

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Dr. Jack R. Jones of Baton Rouge says he has purchased Richard P. Wilson's estate, former Louisiana home of the late Charles E. Wilson, one-time defense secretary and General Motors president.

The amount involved in the purchase of the 4,000-acre plantation was not disclosed by Dr. Jones.

Dr. Jones, a gynecologist, said he plans to convert the plantation into a cattle ranch.

Waterford to Decide on Tax Millage Hike

per $1,000 on the assessed valuation.

If the proposal passes, the school board, at its discretion, could authorize the spread of the full five mills or a lesser amount.

At the present time the average number of pupils per classroom in the district is 27.4, just about average for the county.

"If we are to improve or maintain this ratio, the increased millage is needed," Mrs. Dorothy Barnard, secretary of the board, commented.

In talks before various PTA groups board trustee Frederick J. Poole cited a need for the additional millage to meet rising costs. Continually higher operating costs of the school district, coupled with the relative steady level of state aid funds, gives rise to a need for help on the local level.

If the millage issue is supported by the voters, the present total of 25.5 would be increased to 30.5 with 23.9 mills for operation and 6.6 for debt service the first year.

Rightist Killers Close Pharmacies in Algiers Today

ALGERS — European killers struck at pharmacies throughout Algiers today in what appeared to be a systematic campaign to paralyze the economic sinews of the cities one by one.

Agents of the terrorist Secret Army Organization fighting to bring Algeria French gunned down 30 Moslem pharmacy employees in a series of lightning raids. By noon all Algiers' pharmacies had shut down and notices were posted asserting that not even emergency service could be assured.

The pharmacy closings struck further chaos throughout Algiers already half-paralyzed by a transport and gasoline dealers strike.

President Charles De Gaulle reportedly already has recorded a radio-television address announcing a cease-fire which will be broadcast to the nation at 8 p.m. (2 p.m. Pontiac time) if agreement is reached by that time.

Car Takes Cool Dip After Being Parked

Paul Celeni, 71, of 60500 Mifflin road, Washington Township, stepped outside his car in Rochester this morning and into a building.

When he came out he was missing. He found it a little later in Paint Creek where it had rolled 1,200 feet down the incline of East University Drive. The water filled the car up to the door handles. It was retrieved by a wrecker.

2 Convicts Arraigned in Chicago Death Case

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Michigan convicts charged with murdering a Chicago labor leader were arraigned in Criminal Court yesterday.

William G. Triplett, 27, who has been charged in the slaying, pleaded innocent at a hearing before Chief Justice Joseph J. Drucker. His uncle, Dana Shuler, 41, named by Triplett as the actual slayer, did not enter a plea.

Wives Fight Trading Stamps

MIDLAND PARK, N.J. (AP)—A local housewife says she wants to stop trading stamps because they mean higher food prices. But a food chain asserts her charge just doesn't stick.

Mrs. Jacob Bakker heard last month that A & P supermarkets, long a hold-out against the stamps, planned to introduce them in some of their stores.

So Mrs. Bakker organized the Antistamp Housewives of New Jersey to fight the move. As chairman she published an open letter to A & P Feb. 7.

The letter claimed that stores which gave the trading stamps charged more for food than did A & P.

"We are smart enough to realize that when you give out stamps our food bills will go up," the protest concluded. "We don't think this expensive gimmick will help your business and we are sure it won't help our pocketbooks."

A & P was quick to dispute Mrs. Bakker's argument.

F. N. Charlton, an official of the company's eastern division, denied the stamps would force up prices. He said the company had refrained from introducing them until it had a system compatible with cash savings for the customer.

So far A & P has offered trading stamps in some of its New York, New England and New Jersey stores, but not in Mrs. Bakker's home county of Bergen.

The antistamp movement claims 150 adherents. It has altered that prices have been rising steadily in local A & P outlets during the past month and cites as a possible cause anticipation of future issuance of stamps here.

Tidelands Oil Gets Record Bid

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A record $48 million bid for tidelands gas and oil rights may point to a new, deep-water drilling boom as far as 100 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico.

Industry representatives said the boom opened interest in finding revolutionary ways to cope with the world's oil and gas problems of undersea mining.

BIG AFFAIR

The Interior Department's two-day lease sale, concluded here yesterday, brought 500 representatives of the nation's biggest oil and gas concerns here.

Some firms formed combines to submit a gross bid that far exceeded the previous high of $282 million paid at a one-day, tidelands auction in 1960.

On the block was a huge tract of 37-million acres of submerged lands off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana, some of it nearly 600 feet under water.

$3.01 AN ACRE

Company spokesmen said the heavy offshore investment—one combine paid $3.01 an acre for land about 50 miles off the coast—underscored the industry's confidence that rich pools of minerals lie untapped below the outer continental shelf.

Development thus far has been relatively close to shore, mostly in waters under 100 feet.

The high bid was for $15.4 million by a combine formed by the Ohio Oil Co. and Pure Oil Co. It bid for a 5,000-acre tract in the south Timbalier area off Louisiana's southeast coast.

King-Anderson Plans Likely to Stir Up a Storm

WASHINGTON (AP)—A storm of controversy is expected over the proposed King-Anderson Bill which would provide health services for the aged through social security.

Proposed legislation for President Kennedy's plan was introduced in 1961 with the principal bills sponsored by Rep. King (D) of California and Sen. Anderson (D) of New Mexico.

The House bill received first attention, but the proposal is known as the King-Anderson Bill.

Provisions of the King-Anderson Bill include nursing home, health and hospital care services for all persons aged 65 or over who are receiving social security cash benefits, or are eligible for cash benefits except that they are working and earning self-supporting incomes.

'BENEFIT PERIOD'

A "benefit period" begins when an eligible person is admitted to a hospital as an in-patient, and ends upon completion of any 90-day period during which he was not in either a hospital or a nursing home.

A "unit of service" is equal to one day in a hospital, or one day in a nursing home.

During any benefit period, the federal government would pay for a maximum of 90 days in a hospital, or 180 days in a nursing home.

In addition, there is an overall limitation of 150 units of service during any one benefit period.

If a patient stayed in a hospital 80 days; he could stay 140 days in a nursing home.

After being discharged for 30 consecutive days, that benefit period would end, and he could start again.

Each hospital and nursing home would sign a contract with the federal government, agreeing to certain conditions.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Dr. Jack R. Jones of Baton Rouge says he has purchased Richard P. Wilson's estate, former Louisiana home of the late Charles E. Wilson, one-time defense secretary and General Motors president.

The amount involved in the purchase of the 4,000-acre plantation was not disclosed by Dr. Jones.

Dr. Jones, a gynecologist, said he plans to convert the plantation into a cattle ranch.

Renda Action Return to Lower Court

Damage Suit Reversed

LANSING — A damage suit by a Detroit scrap dealer against the United Auto Workers Union was on its way back to Wayne County Circuit Court today where it started out as a $4.5-million suit eight years ago.

The State Supreme Court yesterday reversed a lower court decision in which Carl Renda was awarded $400,000 in damages in 1958. The high court ordered a trial of the case in which Renda accused the UAW and others of malicious prosecution.

Renda had been named by the union in a warrant charging him and three others with the 1958 assassination attempt against union President Walter Reuther.

The high court handed down a unanimous decision, written by Justice Harry F. Kelley (with Justices Thomas M. Kavanagh, Otis

M. Smith and Paul L. Adams not participating) in which it sustained union complaints that the circuit court had made errors in its instructions to the jury.

CASH NOT QUESTIONED

The case was heard by St. Clair County Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane, called in as a visiting judge.

It was not questioning the cash award made to Renda, the decision said.

The labor union had offered a reward of $200,000 for information leading to the solution of the

3 Plead Guilty to Breaking and Entering Charge

Three Mt. Clemens youths yesterday pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a barbershop at 4526 Van Dyke, Utica, before Macomb County Circuit Judge James Spier.

Andre Deligny, 18, of 20 Yeomans St., Charles Verbeeren, 17, of 37722 Radde Drive, and Allan Rauch, 18, of 39276 Long St., were sent back to the county jail to await sentencing Wednesday. They were unable to make the $1,000 bond each.

The trio was apprehended March 2 by two Utica patrolmen while attempting to break into a jewelry store next to the barber-shop. The boys also admitted breaking into an attorney's office, a shoe repair shop and a Secretary of State branch office, police said.

Bus Line Given Year's License

PSC Okays Permanent
Operating Certificate to Metropolitan

LANSING — Downriver Detroit suburban communities were assured yesterday that they will have bus service for at least a year.

The State Public Service Commission granted the Metropolitan Transit System a permanent operating license enabling the firm to operate in nearly a score of Detroit suburbs.

The operating license expires at the end of the year but is renewable, said the commission.

Metropolitan Transit began operations after Interurban Suburban Bus Lines discontinued service at the end of last year.

Interurban went out of business Dec. 31 leaving thousands of suburban Detroiters without bus service.

Representative of 13 communities yesterday at the Public Service Commission meeting that they were satisfied with the Metropolitan service and asked for its continuance.

Lapeer Program for Park Area Gets First Okay

LANSING — A preliminary economic development program for Lapeer County has been approved by the State Economic Development Department and has been sent to the area Redevelopment Administration for review.

One of the major goals of the program is to develop the recreational potential of the county so it could serve as a recreation center for the Thumb area.

The Lapeer County program is the 27th to be submitted from Michigan. Approval has been given to 25 of these programs.

Your Neighbor's House

Mihalichs Enjoy a Spacious Home

BY JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Wood Lake Hills is a subdivision west of Telegraph Road, south of Lone Pine. The homes are built not too close together which means privacy, yet gives feeling of a neighborhood.

The Stephen Mihalichs live in a pink brick two-story home on Midmoor. The trim and upper part of the house are white. Shutters and the front door are aqua. Fieldstone is used for trim around the front entrance.

This is a nice roomy house with five rooms downstairs and three bedrooms upstairs. There's room for the family of three children and Crystal, the calico cat. Stephen Jr. is 7; his older sister, Carrie, is 9; his younger sister, Amy, is 3. Before moving to the suburbs, the Mihalichs lived in Birmingham. In fact, Mrs. Mihalich grew up there.

J. W. Jaikens and Sons of Birmingham built the Mihalich home which they bought after it was up. Their lot is 150 by 150 feet.

The downstairs hallway leads to all the rooms. It is not necessary to go through one to reach another.

At the right of the front door is a powder room. In here the tile is a bronze tone. Walls are paneled. Fixtures are green. At the left is a roomy coat closet with a window at the front.

The family room beyond the powder room has an oak parquet floor. Over it is an oval brown, gold and green braided rug. Walls are lined oak. The floor length sandalwood draperies have a tweedy texture.

One wall has recently been built in, with shelves and cupboards. There are woven inserts in the cupboard doors.

The small leather sofa and club chairs are an off-white shade. Tables are pine. The coffee table is in front of the window has drop leaves. Against one wall is a kneehole desk.

At the other end of the first floor is the large living room. This is more formal with walls the color of maple sugar and a white ceiling. There are several shades of brown in the carpeting. The tailored draperies are white.

Between the two front windows is a long Lawson sofa up-

holstered in a peach, grey and cream floral pattern. Above it is a large picture in a wide gold frame. This is but one of the antique pieces with which the Mihalichs have decorated their home. Cherry lamp tables with brass lamps flank each end of the sofa.

Near the north window is a pair of tufted back chairs upholstered in green and white striped material. Between them is a marble top pedestal table.

The conversational grouping around the fireplace includes a brown loveseat, set at right angles to the hearth, and a gold wing chair. The coffee table is round.

The simple white fireplace has an inner frame of black marble. The hearth has bronze tiles like those in the powder room. A lamp table is placed at one side of the hearth; a refinished pine chest at the other.

CANDELABRUM

Another interesting antique is the candelabrum on the mantel; it's the only thing there. The base is gold on marble and shows a soldier with a peg leg looking at a little girl. The drops under the candles are crystal. It could be French! From the clothing of the two persons sculptured, it looks like an 18th century piece.

The other piece of furniture in this room is the cherry spinet piano near the door.

The master bedroom and accompanying bath are behind the living room. Carpeting like that in the living room is used throughout the downstairs. The bedroom walls are pale green. Curtains are white with citrus colored flowers.

Furniture is Provincial walnut. The bedspread is off white. Throw pillows on the bed are green, gold and tangerine. Near one window is an old, comfortable rocking chair. The bath is yellow.

Walls in the dining room are white. One wall has a white paneled dado beneath a scene of a hilly village. The draperies are semi-sheer white ones.

The drop leaf table is pine. Chairs have rush seats. In the hutch cabinet there is antique glass and china. Over the little chest which serves as a buffet is an antique mirror in a gold frame. The serving cart is a modern brass one.

In the kitchen there are many cupboards, all made of Formica that looks like lined oak. Counters are of two different heights to provide the right working height for Mrs. Mihalich who is rather short. Sink and range counters are aqua, while the work ones are white with gold. Appliances are stainless steel.

The floor has a modified pattern in grays, blue and pink with silver sprinkles. The soft fit is coral. Behind the sink and range the walls are aqua Formica.

In the breakfast room there is paper above an oak dado. This shows herbs, fruits and vegetables in aqua, pink and green on white.

The family eats off an Early American table with benches on either side. Beyond this room is the utility room.

The children have the upstairs to themselves. In Amy's room the white wallpaper is sprinkled with tiny blue flowers. Her curtains are white dotted swiss.

She has a rocker with a flowered cushion, two chests, her bed and an antique chest with a marble top.

CHERRY DESK

Curry's room is pale beige with light green carpeting. Her furniture is pine, except for a delightfully delicate looking cherry desk. This her father bought and used during his student days in Chicago. It is all hand pegged.

Her bedspread and curtains have an Alice-in-Wonderland

print on them. The spread is banded in pink to match the color of the characters.

Stephen has a large room with an attached bath. Brown tweed carpeting, yellow walls and maple furniture make it a masculine looking room. Sailboat patterned material is used for his curtains and spreads. The attached bath is yellow and sandalwood.

STEVE'S ROOM — Being the only boy in the family gives Stephen a few privileges. One of them is having the largest bedroom upstairs with an attached bath. Bedspread and curtains have a nautical print in shades of tan. Plain brown material completes the bedspreads. His walls are yellow. A gay Indian headdress decorates one wall.

STURDY — Leather furniture in the family room is sturdy enough to take the onslaughts of active children. Walls in here are lined oak. The floor is oak parquet. The braided rug is brown, gold, and green. Occasional tables are pine.

Cement Repair Jobs Aren't Too Difficult

Many home handyman are planning to do some tuckpointing this spring and summer because the work can be done quickly and economically with the proper tools and supplies.

Other cement repair jobs, such as cracked sidewalks and patios, also can be tackled by the home handyman once he has a little experience.

Cold weather is hard on cement work and all homeowners should make a careful check of their property each spring to determine if any work is needed.

Most hardware stores stock bags of ready-mix cement. This cement is easy to mix with water in a standard galvanized steel pail, and it is applied like regular cement right from the pail.

The only tools needed for most of the cement repair jobs around the house are a trowel, mixing paddle and galvanized steel pail.

MORE FORMAL — The living room, white more formal than the family room, is hospitable looking. The Mihalichs have used Early American accents and timeless furniture. At the left, you can see one end of the flowered Lawson sofa. The green and white striped tufted back chairs at the window in the background flank a marble top pedestal table. Walls are the color of maple sugar. Draperies and the ceiling are white. The carpeting has several shades of brown in it. The loveseat in front of the fireplace is brown.

SNACK TIME — Pre-schooler Amy has a snack in the kitchen. She's using one of the benches that serve at the pine table. In the background is the work area. Aqua, coral and white are accent colors for the neutral lined oak finish of the

GRACIOUS LIVING — The Stephen Mihalich family has lived in this two-story home in Wood Lake Hills about a year. The exterior combines pink brick, white clapboard and fieldstone (the last around the aqua front door). Shutters are also aqua. J. W. Jaikens and Sons of Birmingham was the builder. The Mihalichs bought the house after it was built.
