Bloomfield Hills Crash Kills Two MSU Coeds

Fast OK Likely on Reservist Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders predict speedy approval of President Kennedy's request for stand-by power to call 150,000 military reservists to active duty if necessary to deal with a new East-West crisis.

★ ★ ★

Primary concern in high official quarters here centers on the possibility of new Soviet moves in Berlin. But officials recognize that Kennedy's request may also be regarded in Moscow and Havana as a go-slow warning for the military build-up in Cuba.

The President sent his request to Congress Friday without any prior public hints of such action, although the White House said the plan was discussed with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders when they met with the President Tuesday for a fill-in on Cuba.

This tie-in with Cuba quickly created speculation that Kennedy and his top advisers may be more worried than they have appeared to be about the recent substantial deliveries of Soviet arms to the Castro regime.

Well-informed officials said this was not the case, although they said Kennedy would like to have the stand-by power in the event of unexpected developments in the Cuban situation.

The more serious problem and the far greater danger, according to these informants, lies in Berlin, where there has been a steady build-up of East-West tensions.

In recent months Soviet Premier Khrushchev has made repeated threats to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, claiming this would give the East German regime power over Western access to West Berlin.

American officials are by no means certain what Khrushchev will do in the next few months while Congress is out of session. Nor are they clear on what steps the Communists may take with respect to West Berlin if a peace treaty is signed soon.

But Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reportedly agreed that it would be important for the President to have additional resources of military authority.

WOULD RUN TO FEB. 28

The new authority would run from the time Congress adjourns, now expected some time next month, until next Feb. 28, which would be about two months after the next session begins.

A little more than a year ago Kennedy asked Congress for substantial increases in the permanent strength of the Army, Navy and Air Force and requested also power to call reserve and guard units to active service.

Congress approved his request in about five days and congressional leaders said Friday they hope for similar, swift action on his new appeal.

"In my judgment this renewed authorization is necessary to permit prompt and effective responses, as necessary, to challenges which may be presented in any part of the free world," the President told Congress Friday, "and I hope that the Congress will give its prompt support of this authorization, as it did, so effectively, a year ago."

Shortly after he sent his formal request to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as president of the Senate and House Speaker John W. McCormack D-Mass. Kennedy conferred with Rusk. It was understood that they discussed potential future developments in the Berlin situation.

McCormack said he has "every confidence that Congress will enact the reserve legislation."

West Acts to Halt Red Armor Use

BERLIN (UPI) — The Western powers have agreen to stop the Soviets from using armored cars in changing guards at their war memorial in West Berlin, an allied spokesman said today.

An official French spokesman said the matter was in British hands to execute at a time of their choice. The Soviet War Memorial is in the British sector of West Berlin.

The Soviets have been entering West Berlin daily with armored cars to change the guard since West Berliners stoned a bus last month in anger over the fatal shooting of an East Berlin refugee.

The United States recently told the Russians to stop sending their vehicles through Checkpoint Charlie on the East-West Berlin border and use another crossing point in the wall closer to the memorial. The Russians complied.

CITE MISSILE BUILD-UP

The Soviets were reported massing antiaircraft missiles along the vital air corridors between Berlin and the West, posing an additional threat to allied air traffic.

Informed sources said at least six trainloads of missiles designed to be launched from trucks have arrived in Red-held East Germany in the past week or two.

Public attention was focused on the build-up earlier this week, when it was announced that Russian sentries fired on a U.S. Army car Sunday when it passed a missile-loaded, freight train.

In addition to the truck-borne missiles, the Russians are said to have installed a number of fixed missile sites around Berlin and along the air corridors.

Informed sources said dozens of fixed missile sites have been built in little more than a year.

The military preparations were considered disquieting by Western officials here.

NEW TREATY THREATS

They coincided with new Russian threats to sign a German peace treaty which they say would end Western rights in Berlin.

The campaign has been accompanied by German Communist warnings that a peace treaty will end Western allied "misuse" of the Berlin air corridors.

Soviets Blast Call-Up Move

Tass Charges Action Result of Pressure for Attack on Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, today said President Kennedy's request for stand-by authority to call 150,000 Reservists to active duty resulted from Pentagon pressure for action against Cuba.

"Nor is it excluded that certain State Department quarters also eagerly had a finger in this pie," said Tass commentary written by Igor Orlov.

"They probably bear in mind preparations for the foreign ministers conference of the American states, on the convocation of which this month Washington insists so strongly."

(Secretary ot State Dean Rusk met with Latin American diplomats Wednesday in Washington to discuss Soviet bloc shipments of arms and technicians to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

SUGGESTED MEETING

An informed source said Rusk raised the possibility of a mid-September meeting of foreign ministers of the Organization of American States, providing the nations want the meeting.)

Orlov wrote: "The decision on the call-up obviously is a result of the pressure by adventuristically minded Pentagon circles that are rushing Washington in the implementation of aggressive plans spearheaded against Cuba."

"The plans . . . do not testify to the peaceful designs of Washington. They again remind the peoples whence comes the main danger to peace and international security."

The Soviet Union through its official army newspaper Krasnaya Zvesda Red Star declared it would drop bombs up to 100 megatons on bases in England, Germany, Japan or elsewhere in case of a war with the United States.

The story was accompanied by a map of the world showing distribution of U. S. bases, together with their manpower potential.

TWO DIED — Minutes after a crash which killed two Michigan State University coeds, the truck which struck them is being disengaged from their wrecked car. A third MSU coed this morning was still fighting for her life in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The scene here is on southbound Woodward Avenue at Charing Cross Road, Bloomfield Hills.

3rd Girl Hurt as Automobile Hit by Truck

Car Struck Crossing Woodward Ave. After Ignoring Stop Signs

Two college coeds were killed yesterday on Woodward Avenue in Bloomfield Hills when the convertible they were riding in was struck broadside by a truck loaded with concrete pipes.

Another coed, driver of the car, is in critical condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. All three were students at Michigan State University, scheduled to resume classes Sept. 20.

Of the victims, Kathleen Koehler, 20, of 4416 Far Hill Road, Bloomfield Township, was dead on arrival at the hospital and Jeanne Taylor, 20, of Grosse Pointe Park, died of internal injuries 6½ hours after the 3 p.m. accident.

The accident apparently occurred, according to police, when the driver of the car, Katherine Kirby, 20, of Grosse Pointe Farms, failed to heed stop signs as she pulled out from Charing Cross Road across northbound Woodward and through the cutoff onto southbound Woodward.

Paul James, 51, of Davison, a truck driver for the Atlas Concrete Pipe Co., Flint, said "She pulled right across the road without stopping for the signs."

DRIVER RELEASED

James said he was traveling about 40 miles an hour when his truck smashed into the car, wedging it under the cab, and throwing the girls out.

The truck driver was released after making a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

The mother of one of the victims, Mrs. Alton R. Taylor, said that her daughter and the Kirby girl left home earlier in the day "to repay a visit to Kathleen who had been at our house Thursday."

"Jeanne phoned once and said she was having trouble finding the house and when I didn't hear from her again I became worried."

All three girls were to return to classes at MSU Sept. 20.

It is believed that the two girls had just picked up Kathleen from her home a few moments before the accident since it occurred only about a mile from her home.

Traffic was halted for some time on busy Woodward avenue by the accident, resulting in a lengthy traffic jam.

The two deaths brought to four the total number of automobile fatalities in Bloomfield Hills so far this year.

Blue Cross-Shield Want 50 Pct. Rise

Ask Aged Care Fee Hike

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield have asked permission to boost senior citizen health insurance rates by 50 per cent, State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn said today.

★ ★ ★

He said the health insurance organizations also have proposed an expanded senior citizen plan, costing $359.40 a couple, that would add to the present plan 70 days' ward service in hospital or nursing home or $15 a day in a non-participating hospital.

Colburn said he would meet with Blue Cross and Blue Shield officials in Detroit Monday to discuss the proposals.

The proposed rate increase from $203.28 a couple a year to $306 would affect some 20,000 present members, Colburn said. He said there would be minor changes in the present plan.

LIMIT AMENDED

Nonparticipating hospitals would receive $15 a day (an increase of $1) and the present 30-day limit for treatment of mental illness, nervous disorders and tuberculosis would be amended.

The 30-day limitation still would apply, Colburn said, except that, following a 90-day period without hospitalization, the patient would be entitled to a new 30-day hospitalization period.

Colburn said the deductable features of the present policy would not be affected by the proposed rate increase.

★ ★ ★

Senior citizens covered by group policies, he added, would not be affected by the proposed rate increase.

"The extended plan, if approved, is scheduled for introduction Oct. 1. Enrollment period would be limited to 30 days," Colburn said.

Under the plan, a patient admitted to a nursing home after a minimum of 24 hours hospitalization, and within 24 hours after discharge, would be entitled to double the remaining days for nursing home care.

REGULAR RATE

Participating nursing homes would receive the regular daily rate under the plan and nonparticipating nursing homes would receive 60 per cent of the daily rate, not to exceed $8 a day.

Home nursing of up to 70 days would be paid to licensed and contracted nursing agencies.

Soblen Keeps Improving but Stays Unconscious

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Soblen maintained slight improvement throughout today but remained deeply unconscious 55 hours after he took drugs to avoid returning to an American prison.

A team of doctors striving to save the life of the fugitive spy issued the following medical bulletin at 5:15 P.M.:

"The slight improvement noted this morning in Dr. Soblen's condition has been maintained, but he remains unconscious."

The bulletin was signed by Dr. C. G. Barnes, consulting physician at Hillingdon Hospital, who heads Soblen's medical staff.

A medical spokesman said even if the 61-year-old fugitive spy regained consciousness immediately, he could not be moved for at least 48 hours.

Soblen has been unconscious since he knocked himself out two days ago with an overdose of barbiturates as he was being deported to the United States where he is under life sentence as a spy for the Soviet Union.

Dr. Barnes said Soblen's condition still was dangerous, but added Soblen's leukemia had not been aggravated and that there was no sign of lung congestion, which he said was always a risk with elderly patients.

Eye Extension for Petitions

Union Lake Effort on Incorporation Will Go to Supervisors

Recommendation that a citizens group be permitted a 30-day extension to recirculate petitions for the incorporation of Union Lake will be made to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by its boundaries committee Sept. 17.

The boundaries committee sanctioned the action at a meeting yesterday but will have to wait until later this month to learn if the board will confirm it.

The Union Lake Citizens Committee for Progressive Government, proposing city status for a 16-square-mile area around Union Lake, learned last month that its original petitions were not acceptable because of an error in the legal description of a parcel of property.

Approval by the board of supervisors of the extra time to correct the wording error and circulate new petitions would save the supporters of the incorporation $500, the fee required each time petitions of this type are filed with the county.

If the board allows the petitions to be recirculated and amended, the citizens group would have 30 days from the date of the approval to have the petitions returned to the boundaries committee for review.

The boundaries committee, finding the petitions and maps in order, would then recommend to the board a date for a special election on the incorporation proposal.

The election would only be for the purpose of choosing a commission which would draw up a charter. It would not decide city incorporation.

This charter would then have to be approved before the non-unincorporated area became a city.

The area proposed for incorporation takes in near-equal portions of four townships, Commerce, White Lake, Waterford and West Bloomfield.

Army Enters Algiers Without Bloodshed

ALGIERS (AP) — Regular army troops entered the Algerian army area today without firing a shot and with their commander, Col. Houari Boumedienne in the lead. Civilians cheered them.

Arrival of these troops tips the balance against rebel guerrilla officers who had sought to use their control of this capital as a means of imposing their will on all of Algeria.

A new dispute over candidates for Algeria's constituent assembly, meanwhile, threatened to force postponement of national elections for the sixth time since July 3, when French rule ended.

Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau and the leaders of the rebellious guerrilla forces controlling the capital failed to agree on the candidate lists Friday after several hours of discussion.

TALKS RESUME

The backstage talks resumed today at the Political Bureau's headquarters. The state-owned Algiers radio said there was no agreement either on the lists or on the date of elections.

The Political Bureau announced Thursday that the elections would be held Sept. 16.

A list of candidates was drawn up last month after long negotiations between the rival factions, but this was scrapped when rebel Wilaya 4 temporarily overthrew the Political Bureau.

AGREE ON ONE PARTY

The quarreling leaders agree that the election should be held under a single-party system, leaving the voter a choice only of saying yes or no to the official list.

Although guerrilla patrols have disappeared from downtown Algiers, Wilaya 4 remained in control of large areas of central Algeria around the capital.

The Communist-equipped regular army remained poised 70 to 100 miles west and south of Algiers, ready to resume its advance if chief of staff Col. Houari Boumedienne gives the order.

As part of the cease-fire agreement, the two rebel Wilayas, 3 and 4, formally recognized the Political Bureau and agreed to a demilitarization of Algiers.

Their continued claim to a veto over the assembly candidates indicated that the cease-fire did little more than stop the shooting, and that a new flareup in the crisis-torn nation was possible at any moment.

Mother Loses First Round in Custody Fight

A partly blind Detroit mother yesterday lost the first round in her fight to regain custody of her 5-year-old adopted son, who now is living with his aunt in West Bloomfield Township.

Circuit Judge George E. Bowles ruled yesterday in Detroit that Mark Siembieda will continue living with his aunt in West Bloomfield Township.

Circuit Judge George E. Bowles ruled yesterday in Detroit that Mark Siembieda will continue living with his aunt at least temporarily.

The aunt is Mrs. Charlotte Knight, sister of Edward Siembieda who is involved in a divorce suit with Mrs. Norma Siembieda, Mark's foster mother.

Bowles denied a petition of Mrs. Siembieda to have her son returned to her. The boy had been staying with the relative while Mrs. Siembieda was in a hospital. She is now well, she says. And she wants the boy back.

Bowles said permanent custody of the child will be determined when the legal parents' divorce case comes to trial.

Miss America Named Tonight

Judges Face Difficult Task of Narrowing Field Down to One

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A week of frantic activity by 54 talented beauty queens will end tonight, in smiles and tears, when judges select a new Miss America.

The task confronting the judges is this:

Pick 10 semifinalists from the glamorous contestants. From the 10, select five finalists. Then name the girl who will reign as Miss America 1963.

The girl who will succeed Maria Beale Fletcher of Asheville, N.C., as the nation's queen of beauty is expected to be crowned shortly before midnight.

TO CLIMAX WEEK

The ceremony will climax a series of preliminary judging that began Monday in the nation's oldest beauty pageant. Competing are representatives from every state, Canada, the District of Columbia, Chicago and New York City.

Seven girls have won trophies in the three rounds of talent and swim suit preliminaries. Judging also has been completed in the evening gown division, but those winners are never announced.

Winners in the preliminary rounds receive $1,000 scholarships but they do not necessarily advance to the semifinals.

'TOO THIN'

The winner of the swim suit competition Friday was Miss Wisconsin—who thought she was too thin and has been drinking chocolate sodas to round out her 35-22-35 figure. She is Joan Mary Engh, 21, of La Crosse, Wis.

There was a tie in Wednesday's talent contest when the judges were unable to decide between the fiery baton twirling of Miss Nebraska, Mary Lee Jepsen, 18, of Paillion, Neb., and the organ and piano playing of Miss Maryland, Beverly Ann Smith, 18, of Baltimore.

RINGS NO MORE — A victim of progress, the half-ton bell which once bonged the hour from atop the old courthouse in downtown Pontiac has no place in the new courthouse at the County Service Center. Here, James Ball, county maintenance man, attempts to restore some of the original luster to the bell cast in 1913. "It can be cleaned up," he said, though he didn't know for what purpose. The question has county officials stumped also.

Old Courthouse Bell Tolls for No One Now

Oakland County officials are wondering what to do with a half-ton bell which has been dumped in their laps, so to speak.

* * *

The bell was removed from the tower of the former courthouse now being razed.

* * *

As agreed, the bell was turned over to the county by the Wolverine Lumber 9 Wrecking Co. which is performing the demolition in downtown Pontiac.

But the county has no use for the displaced bell now. It squats temporarily on the concrete floor of the county maintenance department.

No allowance for a bell was made when the new courthouse was built at the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

* * *

"I imagine the county would sell the bell if it would bring a thousand dollars," John Austin, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, mused.

DONATED TO COUNTY

He recalled that this was approximately the price offered a couple of years ago by the firm that originally cast the bell in 1913.

The bell was donated to the county the same year by Daniel L. Davis, a prominent attorney of the day and a former county clerk, in memory of his late wife.

Mr. Davis, now deceased also, was one of the principal speakers when the old courthouse cornerstone was laid in 1904.

An official of the bell firm, Century Tower Clocks of Manistee said at the time it made an offer to buy back the bell that it could be melted down and recast into chimes, according to George Atchison, head of county maintenance.

* * *

He recalled the official saying that the particular alloy used produced a highly desirous tone which would be difficult to duplicate otherwise.

Court Hits Ex-County Doctor

Wage Up? Alimony Too

If a divorced man's salary goes up, so does his alimony.

* * *

This is the ruling of the Michigan State Supreme Court in a precedent-setting case involving a former Oakland County physician, whose salary increased from $5,820 a year to $12,500 a year.

The case involved Dr. Allen D. Anneberg, who moved from a position as a $485-a-month resident physician at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac to a clinic in Carroll, Iowa, where he said his salary would be $12,500 a year.

Anneberg's wife sued for an increase in the $193-a-month support payments for two children when she learned of the impending transfer and salary increase. She lives at 3663 MacNichol Trail, West Bloomfield Township.

NEEDS OF CHILDREN

Anneberg argued that in determining the amount of support payments the income of the father is not the sole criterion but that the needs of the children must also be considered.

The high court agreed with an Oakland County court decision that the amount of child support a divorced father must pay should be based on a percentage of his salary and that when the salary is increased, the payments should go up accordingly.

LBJ Optimistic About Future

Johnsons Back Home After Goodwill Tour of Six Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned Friday night from a 17-day goodwill tour of six nations and said he "came away feeling quite optimistic about the future and the job that has been done."

* * *

ONLY ASK FAITH

Johnson, who scheduled a news conference for today, said the people of the countries he visited are dedicated "to our country and the principles upon which it is founded."

* * *

People believe in what the United States stands for and are willing to die for those principles, he said, adding that all they ask is a return of their faith.

* * *

The Vice President flew direct from Rome following his visit Friday with Pope John XXIII. The Johnsons also visited Lebanon, Iran, Turkey, Cyprus, and Greece after leaving the United States Aug. 22.

2 Men Injured Only Slightly in Head-On Crash

The general superintendent of the Oakland County Road Commission and a Detroit man escaped with minor injuries yesterday afternoon in the head-on crash of two cars on Telegraph Road.

The road commission official, Oscar D. Loomis, 58, of 2340 Montroyal Ave., Waterford Township, and Wyley Hendrix, 45, of Detroit, both are reported in satisfactory condtion today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Redford state police said Hendrix' car apparently went out of control when he applied the brakes about 4 p.m. yesterday on Telegraph south of 14-Mile Road.

* * *

Nationalist China Breaks Laos Ties

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Nationalist China broke diplomatic relations yesterday with Laos a few hours after the Laotian government established formal ties with Red China and Communist North Viet Nam.

The nationalist government entered relations with Laos in June during a visit to Taipei by members of the former royal Laotian government headed by ex-premier Boun Oum. The nationalists opened an embassy in Vietiane last month.

But in a communique issued by the foreign ministry last night, the Nationalists said they were breaking off relations immediately because of Vietiane's ties with Red China.

Laos also had diplomatic relations with South Viet Nam, but there was no immediate indication whether the Saigon government would break them.

Pontiac Girl Struck and Injured by Auto

A 7-year-old girl, struck by a car on Melrose Avenue near Madison Avenue about 11 a.m. today, was reported in satisfactory condition this afternoon at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police identified the girl as Ann Moran of 863 Kenilworth Ave.

The driver of the car, David I. Johnson, 19, of 964 Cameron St., told police the girl darted in front of his auto from between two parked trucks while he was travelling about 25 miles per hour.

Segregationists Call Big Rally

Church Stand Firm Despite Shooting and Boycott at Schools

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Segregationists led by two excommunicated Catholics today called a giant rally against parochial school integration.

The church stood firm.

Archbishop John P. Cody served notice the New Orleans archdiocese would continue to open schools "to all races" despite a shooting incident at one elementary school, closing of another, demonstrations at a third and a white boycott.

Plaquemines Parish (county) political leader Leander H. Perez Sr., and Mrs. B. J. Gaillot, a New Orleans housewife who holds that the Bible teaches segregation, announced a mass segregation rally in Westwego, La., where segregationists have demonstrated outside a parochial elementary school for three days.

LOSE SACRAMENTS

Perez and Mrs. Gaillot were cut off from the sacraments of the church last spring for opposing the decision to integrate the parochial schools.

Their chief weapon against integration is a white boycott and it cut deeply into attendance at at least two schools in New Orleans and three outside the city.

The schools in Westwego and Harvey in Jefferson Parish and Buras in Plaquemines, 60 miles south of New Orleans, were the key segregationist targets.

Six pistol shots were fired into the front doors of St. Rosalie School in Harvey, just outside New Orleans, early yesterday before classes began.

The school, which has one Negro pupil, was heavily boycotted by whites. A Negro was hanged in effigy outside the school.

A crowd of 75 whites jeered and spat at a Negro mother and white parents bringing children to Our Lady of Prompt Succor School at nearby Westwego.

The school enrollment was one seventh of normal. One man was arrested for spitting at a white parent's car.

Quick OK Likely on Reservist Call

sachusetts, the senior Republican member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he would join with chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., in sponsoring the President's request in the Senate.

"Certainly we should give the President this authority, if he feels it will be helpful to maintain the security of our country," Saltonstall said.

Russell told newsmen the committee will take up the legislation next week and that "In my opinion, there is no question Congress will grant the President this authority."

Aides of Russell said McNamara and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, probably will be the only witnesses at the committee hearing.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Congress cannot quarrel with the President when, as commander-in-chief, he asks for stand-by authority to call up reservists. But Dirksen said, "There will be questions."

"You have a natural curiosity as to what is behind such a sudden call for authority when you have 2.8 million men in uniform," Dirksen said.

State, Area Candidates Invited to Sept. 22 Tea

BIRMINGHAM—Michigan's two leading gubernatorial candidates, along with those for county public offices, have been invited to the Oakland Citizens League Silver Anniversary Membership Tea Sept. 22.

* * *

The event at Cranbrook House, 380 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, is expected to provide the first and only meeting in Oakland County between Gov. John B. Swainson and his GOP rival George W. Romney during the current campaign.

In addition to candidates for public office and Oakland County elected officials, invitations have been mailed to nearly 1,000 county residents who have demonstrated their concern for good government.

Admission to the tea will be by invitation only.

Mrs. Robert VanderKloot of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. G. Howard Willett, Birmingham mayor, are heading the membership tea committee.

RECEPTION LINE

Henry S. Booth, who instigated the founding of the league 25 years ago this month, and W. Laurence Shaffner, current president, will head the reception line at Cranbrook House, the ancestral home of the Booth family.

The league is attempting to double its membership during a drive which ends Nov. 6.

The campaign is being conducted by a 34-member committee headed by F. Ward Ouradnik, director of Community House.

When Country Day School opens its doors for the new term Wednesday it will be the first time in the history of the 49-year-old school that more than 300 students have been enrolled, according to headmaster Rodman Snelling.

The Baldwin Public Library will take registrations Monday for enrollment of children in the fall school story hour program.

Application must be made in person. No registrations by phone will be accepted.

The six-week program begins Sept. 18 and each class will be limited to 25 children — 3 to 5 years old.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Burch, head of the boys and girls department at the library, and members of her staff will conduct the story hours.

Edward Cogger, 18, of 54358 11-Mile Road, South Lyon, last night was awarded a $200 freshman scholarship at Michigan State University, donated by the Optimist Club of Birmingham.

The selection was made by the awards committee of 4-H leaders on the basis of Edward's 4-H Club record.

He expects to study poultry science. He was selected from among five 4-H Club members, all from Oakland County.

Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cogger.

Wild Weather Whips West Half of Nation

By The Associated Press

Pounding rains, high winds, snow and cold hit broad areas in the western half of the nation today.

* * *

Cloudbursts swamped sections of Texas. Flash floods drove scores of families from their homes in the Fort Worth area during the night. One man was missing and may have drowned.

Tornadic winds ripped through Cleburne, 28 miles south of Fort Worth. The winds unroofed a church and destroyed the city garage and several other buildings.

* * *

Water invaded about 130 homes near Bog Fossil Creek in Richland Hills, a suburb of Fort Worth. Trucks manned by men from the Carswell Air Force Base and others took 140 families from the Sunset Acres and Sundown additions on the west fork of the Trinity River.

Hart Asks Provision to Curb Aid Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has proposed an amendment that would keep Michigan from suffering an immediate $1-million cut in federal aid when the aid formula for the school lunch program is changed.

* * *

The change, under a House-passed bill, would be from basing aid on the number of children attending schools to basing it on the number participating in the program.

It would become effective one year after the bill is passed.

K's a Ruffian, Frost Reports

Poet Uses Term as One of Admiration and Not Disrespect

MOSCOW (AP)—Poet Robert Frost declared today that Premier Khrushchev believes in magnanimity, and is a ruffian.

* * *

He did not hide his admiration for the Soviet leader, with whom he spent an hour or more talking Friday.

But it turned out it was Khrushchev who came to see Frost.

The poet flew down to Gagra, on the Black Sea, from Moscow but when it came time Friday for the conference, Frost didn't feel too well, so Khrushchev came over to the government house where the poet was staying.

WENT TO IT

There, Frost, 88, sat on the edge of the bed: "And we went to it."

His description of Khrushchev as a ruffian was strictly to express his admiration. It came after he was asked whether Khrushchev had given him any message to carry to President Kennedy.

SHOCKED SOVIETS

"Yes, in a way," he said, but immediately some of his careful associates stopped him and told him he should tell that to Kennedy.

Frost expressed his views to Soviet and foreign correspondents crowded into his apartment in Moscow's best hotel, the Sovetskaya.

The first talk was of politics, but the comment which shook the Russians came in reply to a question as to whether Russian poets were well known in the United States.

"The chief one seems to be Pasternak."

* * *

Instantly there was a hush, the foreigners waiting for the Russians to react. The Russians were shocked and embarrassed. The late Boris Pasternak, much respected in artistic circles, is still a name which frightens many Russians, for he was virtually read out of Soviet citizenship for his novel "Dr. Zhivago" which won the Nobel Prize in literature in 1958.

School Row Lines Clearly Drawn

No One on Fence in Avondale

By JIM LONG

Fence-straddlers in the Avondale School District?

Not any, if a public meeting last night to discuss the recall of four school board members was an indication.

* * *

The 90 persons at the meeting were either in favor of the ouster maneuver or dead set against it. There were no in-betweens.

With feelings on the subject sharply divided, there was little chance of anything being accomplished except to learn the others' views.

The meeting in the Auburn Heights Fire Hall was called by the Avondale School District Improvement Association to let residents express their opinions.

WANTS RECALL

The ASDIA wants to recall the officers of the school board, Floyd Cobb, president; David W. Hackett, vice president; Raymond N. Baker, secretary, and Mrs. Genevieve Porter, treasurer, claiming that the four "have not acted in the best interest of the people in the school district."

Cobb, Hackett and Mrs. Porter attended the meeting but made no comment.

The recently organized citizens group contends the four forced LeRoy R. Watt to resign as superintendent because they would not renew his contract.

OWN CHOICE

Watt has stated that he resigned of his own volition to become superintendent of schools in Wooster, Ohio.

* * *

Since then the chief concern of the ASDIA has become "the speed in which the board took action in naming Watt's successor (George E. Shackelford), three days after his resignation," said Thomas B. Rocker, ASDIA president.

"We believe he could have been named acting superintendent rather than immediately given a full contract," said Rocker.

* * *

"We have no criticism of Mr. Schackelford — we wish him luck —nor the board in its choice; only in the way in which it was handled."

He said the board allowed no time for the interviewing of other possible candidates. Shackelford was principal of Elmwood Elementary School before being named superintendent.

Recall petitions are being circulated said Rocker, with a target date to obtain 1,500 signatures by Oct. 1. The total is more than required under law.

LISTED SEPARATELY

The petitions list each board member individually, allowing residents to consider the recall of each separately.

A special election would be held within 35 days after verification of the signatures unless a regular election is scheduled within 90 days.

Historic Church in Frisco Burns to the Ground

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — St. Mary's Cathedral, the seat of the Catholic archdiocese of San Francisco and a landmark in the city for 75 years, was in ruins today.

★ ★ ★

The big brick-walled church, which survived the earthquake and fire of 1906, collapsed in flames last night with the loss estimated by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken at $2.5 million.

Every available piece of fire equipment in the city was sent to the scene of the general-alarm blaze at Van Ness Avenue and O'Farrell Street in the heart of the civic and cultural center of the city.

Three hundred firemen battled the blaze as five thousand spectators gathered.

★ ★ ★

Police said one man was taken to headquarters for questioning on the possibility of arson. They said arson was a "definite possibility."

One priest, Father John Heaney, was trapped by the flames when he re-entered the church to rescue some holy sacraments.

He escaped by breaking a window and climbing out, and was treated at the scene for gashes in his hand and arm.

Book Tells the Story of Mission Society

NEW YORK (AP) — Documentary and historical sources by which the activities of Jesus can be traced and authenticated are described in a new book, "The Sources of the Life of Christ," compiled by four Catholic scholars and published by Hawthorn.

It is the 67th volume in the 150-volume series, the 20th Century Encyclopedia of Catholicism.

Reflections

THREE BRIDGES

J. L. VOORHEES

Rewarding life is over the bridges of Fear, Vanity and Hypocrisy.

The Canyon of Fear is awesome; road of raging water, that isn't there, reverberate on the sheer rock walls like the howl of an angry Ogre while shadows cruel and black, grotesque and forbidding are monsters of imagination. Beyond them is the yawning mouth of Hades where Defeat beckons; above are the heaven of orderliness, and all that is clean and beautiful.

M. E. SIPLE

Fantasy supports the Bridge of Vanity. Vanity rides in a bottomless boat over crystal clear water, that vanishes at the touch of reality, to a chimerical castle to string bubbles on a gossamer filament. Vanity exists in a world without substance; flattery is its sun, moon and stars. The Bridge over Vanity is Integrity and Truth.

The Bridge over the Sea of Deception is called Hypocrisy. This body of rolling muck is the scene of a whirling vortex that sucks its victims down down into the belly of superstitious Hate. Self-delusion is a hoax, a cruel deception that cripples and destroys. The terminals of this Bridge are anchored in the solid rock of honor, veracity, courage and strength of character; they lead to basic qualities of a rewarding life.

Helps to Better Life in India

Methodist School Is Turning Out Skilled Specialists for Nation

To break the bonds of India's primitive agricultural economy and provide the jobs and consumer goods needed to raise the standard of living of its nearly 440 million people, far-reaching plans are in motion which involve Lodhipur Institute, Methodism's 104-year old mission school at Shahjahanpu, near India's northern border.

Since establishment as Methodism's first educational institution in India, Lodhipur had concentrated on arts and crafts while teaching improved farming methods as a means of improving the Indian way of life.

But the school found itself challenged by India's need for men who could teach and work in such fields as television, radio, refrigeration, printing, the metal trades, and automotive mechanics.

MADE APPEAL

At that time, the Rev. Julian W. Nave, manager of the school, and for 40 years a missionary in India, appealed to friends in America. Funds arrived, but not enough to transform Lodhipur into a much-needed technical school.

Help came in January 1958, when the Ford Foundation set aside a grant of $66,000 to send young Indians to America for intensive study at famed Dunwoody Industrial Institute in Minneapolis, Minn. A month after the grant was made seven men were on their way to the United States.

Two years later the students, now specialists in as many fields, came back to Shahjahanpur, ready to staff Methodism's first-class technical training school.

Today skilled hands by the hundreds are being turned out at Lodhipur.

The Nave's son, Robert, a layman, who is now director of the Christ-centered program, says, "Industry in India needs Christ and Christians to help bring stability to the new, fast-growing communities, to give uprooted people faith, hope and love, and to help fill the newly created vacuum brought in 20th century India by the breakdown of older social forms."

MSU Professors Attack Automobile Companies

Professor "WALTER G. ADAMS" of Michigan State University appeared before the Senate-House Economic Committee and belabored the automobile companies for not adopting a policy which he in his wisdom was willing to outline.

Robert F. Lansillotti, a brother faculty man at MSU, chimed in with the charge that "big companies are geared to profit making without use of full plant capacity or labor supply." Would the learned savant have them employ full capacity and produce another million cars that stood in the street unsold? This could bankrupt any business.

Between them they really whaled automotive activities.

The big automobile companies have been very, very generous and liberal in assigning funds to Michigan State in the past. Several bigwigs are now wondering out loud whether this is a rather thankless source for financial aid.

Colleges and Universities universally get plastered with the unfortunate statements of their faculty members many of which they may actually wish to disavow. These glib talkers should realize they are accepted under the banner and aegis of great institutions, even though they speak their own minds in contradiction to university policies.

Registration Still Key to Balloting on Nov. 6

No matter how vigorous a campaign is waged this fall between Gov. SWAINSON and challenger GEORGE ROMNEY, when the time comes to vote, residents still must be registered.

★ ★ ★

Without this formality, the chance to pull the voter booth curtain closed and pick candidates is denied.

Yet at each election, many persons are turned away at the precinct polling stations because they haven't bothered to get their names on the rolls.

★ ★ ★

This year, Pontiac is making it easier than ever to become eligible to cast a ballot. Registration units are going from school to school, beginning Monday.

Hours will be from 1 to 8 p.m.

Persons who have moved to the city or have not voted in the past four years must register if they wish to vote at the Nov. 6 general election.

Deadline for registration is Oct. 8.

In addition to the traveling voter registration units, the clerk's office at city hall also will be signing up those who are unregistered.

Outside the city, township clerks also stand ready to enter the names of residents who do not wish to be turned away at this all important election.

Peace Corps Members to Teach in Ethiopia

Anyone interested in watching a Federal Bureau expand, just keep your eye on the Peace Corps.

Remote Ethiopia, once a walking mat for Italian troops, is about to be set upon by a small army of Americans. The difference this time is that all are friendly members of the U.S. Peace Corps.

Nearly 300 of them, the largest single Peace Corps contingent yet sent overseas, have departed for Ethiopia aboard several chartered planes. They have been training since July 7 at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Pontiac has a special interest in the above group since MARY L. WOOD, a Pontiac Central High graduate and a home town gal, is with them.

All are secondary school teachers whose work in the villages and the countryside will enable the secondary school enrollment of Ethiopia to be doubled. About 90 per cent of Ethiopia's population of 16 million is illiterate.

Classes will be in English, which is the foreign language taught in Ethiopian secondary schools, but all American volunteers will have at least a rudimentary knowledge of Amharic, the national language.

September will be the Peace Corps' biggest month since its inception. Some 2,500 members are to be shipped to various underdeveloped nations during the month, bringing the number of volunteers overseas to about 3,700, stationed in 30 lands.

With scarcely a squawk, Congress this year voted the Corps $63.7 million for the current fiscal year, enough to enable it to expand to just under the 10,000 volunteers by September 1963.

Due to illness the Man About Town column will be discontinued for several days. It will be resumed when Mr. Howard V. Heldenbrand returns to work.

Gaint Painting Brings Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — A wedding party picture — a big one — is up for sale in Greenwich Village because the owner is suffering from a kind of artistic hangover.

The work, called "The Punjab Wedding," is 45 feet long and 8 feet high.

Owner Peter Mengrone, who is auctioning it by sealed bids as part of the Greenwich Village art show, reports the painting has brought nothing but misfortune.

Mengrone, a village restaurateur, paid Penrod Scofield $1,100 for the painting on the outside wall of Mengrone's cafe, the Punjab Restaurant. The restaurant is named after a province in India.

Scofield painted from July through November before finishing. He used a tough acrylic base paint on plaster board and then nailed the whole painting on beams along the wall.

HOLD CELEBRATION

When it was completed, there was a small celebration and Mengrone installed a spotlight.

But then, Mengrone, explains:

"First there were the kids. They throw eggs at it. Other times, they chalk my painting up with cupids, hearts and sayings like 'John Loves Mary.'

"Next there were the photographers. They take pictures using the painting as a backdrop but they won't even give Penrod credit . . . they say it's in the public domain.

"One day a fashion model was posing for some cameramen when she tripped and bumped her head against it. She wanted to sue me.

"A city inspector came in here and said the painting was a billboard and had to be taxed. Another inspector came along and claimed it protruded past the building line and would have to be pulled down or destroyed.

"Then there was the night that two Indian students started a real scene and almost had a fist fight over whether the bride or the groom should be wearing the veil. We had looked it up in the New York City Public Library before we did it. It's based on a genuine Indian legend and the man wears the veil.

HIRES GUARD

"And, of course, we're pretty near the Bowery down here and one night a bum just sat down in front of the painting and tourists started throwing coins. So now, every morning we find empty wine bottles all over the place.

"I even had to hire a guard on weekends to protect it and keep the sidewalk clear.

"And, oh yes, there's this woman dressed in a sari who comes down here from time to time and kneels and prays in front of it, I mean right on the sidewalk.

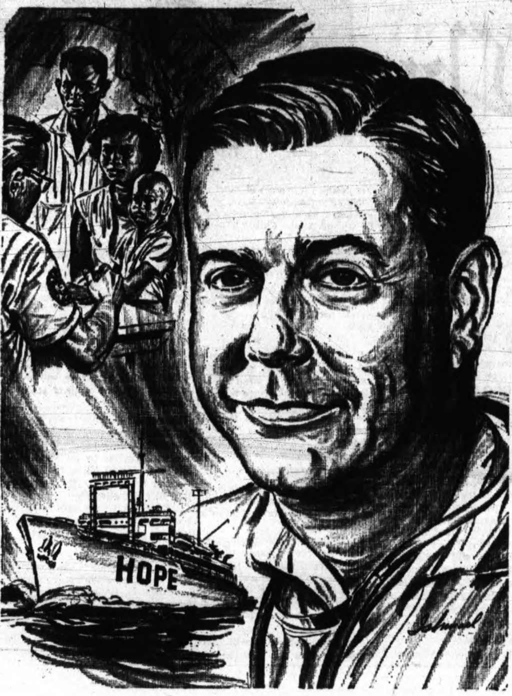
"So you see, this thing's getting to be a real commotion and it's got to go."

The painting has three scenes: the groom traveling to the wedding in a sedan chair; the bride preparing for the ceremony; and the marriage ceremony.

Mengrone said he will open the bids when the art show closes on Sept. 29.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL



Dr. William B. Walsh, founder and president of Project Hope, knows the Power of Faith. In his words, "80 per cent of the world lives on hope—hope that tomorrow will be better. To sustain that hope, they have to have faith."

Dr. Walsh's project is a non-profit operation financed entirely by voluntary contributions. Hundreds of other physicians, dentists, pharmacists, nurses and technicians staff its hospital ship, named Hope, which so far has been to Indonesia, South Vietnam and Peru.

It will set sail for any country to which it is invited, dispensing health—and hope—in the struggle for world peace.

Days of All Faiths:

People Observe Mary's Sorrows

BY DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

It is said that the Blessed Virgin Mary in her lifetime experienced seven great joys but also seven great sorrows.

★ ★ ★

Her joys were these: the news that she was to be the mother of the Lord; her visit with her kinswoman Elizabeth, whose unborn son John the Baptist, on Mary's arrival, gave physical evidence of recognizing the unborn Baby Lord; the birth of Jesus; the Bethlehem visit of the Three Wise Men; the discovery of the boy Jesus in the Temple after the anxiety of having lost Him for three days; the Resurrection of Jesus; and her own Assumption in Heaven. No Biblical reference can be given for the Assumption, but it has been accepted by many Christians since early times and since 1950 has been a required belief for Roman Catholics.

★ ★ ★

Balanced against these happy events is a list of Mary's sorrows, which were as follows: the prophecy of the aged Simeon, who met the Holy Family in the Temple, took the little Lord in his arms and blessed Him, and then made the melancholy prediction to Mary that "a sword shall pierce through thy own heart also"; the flight with Joseph and Jesus into Egypt to excape Herod's massacre of the babies of Bethlehem; the three-day disappearance of Jesus, during which, as she herself said, "thy father and I sought thee sorrowing"; the heartbreaking journey from Pilate's court to Calvary, when Jesus struggled over the long distance with His cross and "there followed a great multitude of women," with Mary, of course, among them; the Crucifixion; the sad duty of receiving the broken body into her arms after the Crucifixion; and the burial of her beloved Son.

★ ★ ★

This enumeration of joys and sorrows first began in the Middle Ages, with a popular devotion to five joys, which was soon complemented by one in honor of five sorrows. The idea caught hold and was taken up with such enthusiasm — indeed, with such a rush of imagination — that in some places people ran a little wild with the number of joys and sorrows they could enumerate. At one point the list included 27 sorrows. Both joys and sorrows were finally fixed at seven.

The Seven Sorrows of Mary were honored regularly by the Servite Order (official name: Order of the Servants of Mary) by the year 1668, but the observance was not extended to the whole church until 1814.

Now, twice during the year, this devotion is in the calendar. The first time is the Friday of Passion Week, that is, the week before Holy Week. The other time is Sept. 15.

Devotion to Mary's joys seems to have died out, at least as a formal and universal observance, and one cannot help feeling that this must have to do with something rather deep in human nature. Why are we all drawn more to the consideration of sorrows than of joys? What is there in our nature, or perhaps our life experience, that makes it easier for us to grieve with another person than to rejoice with him?

In Mary's life at least some of her sorrows had a happy ending, an ending, one would think, happy enough to offset the sorrow. She returned from Egypt and settled into 25 years of peaceful domesticity. She found her Son, after the tense three-day search, in a situation that could only make a mother proud. The end of the Crucifixion and burial was the boundlessly joyful fact of the Resurrection. Why do we just instinctively concentrate on the sorrows rather than the joys?

Whatever the answer to that may be, the fact remains that there is no festival of the Joys of Mary.

'Line Is Hardship for Many Men'

Auto changeover comes once a year. There has been praise about the production and sales of the 1962 Pontiac and it takes an enormous amount of co-operation on both the mental and physical side to accomplish it. The majority are unemployed for a few weeks and are told when to report back. This is the only time off they can afford. In 1958 the auto industry proved to be the backbone of the nation and the production workers were the buying power of the state. Taking these men into consideration, who have put in a day's work, live up to 50 miles away, may be close to retirement or may be physically handicapped, instead of compelling them to stand in a line in any weather for a period of three hours or more, why couldn't the state and General Motors come up with a more efficient solution?

'Newspaper's Duty to Print Events'

One of your Voice of the People letters suggested a man shouldn't be associated with a crime until proven guilty. That's one of the silliest ideas of a silly summer. That means you couldn't print a line about a murder, a thief, or anyone until the jury had found the prisoner guilty six months later.

Pontiac would need 5,000 police within a month and all other cities in proportion. Some of our dogooders live on Cloud Nine and they're barely hanging by their toes.

'Scripture Misuse Is Dangerous Act'

There are folks who use a wrench to hit an unwary victim to rob, injure or kill him. Others use the precious word of God to strike out. This misuse of the scriptures may be unintentional or due to ignorance.

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

To use scripture to denounce the practice of honoring God in prayer, at any time is dangerous.

In a couple of weeks summer TV will end. I've been shut in, so I couldn't skip it like everyone else. I am very thankful that The Pontiac Press did not send me last February's papers in August and mark them "reprint."

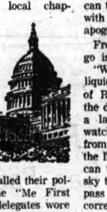
Executives' Satire Is Lead Balloon

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The American Society of Association Executives, representing 4,000 national organizations with a claimed 400,000 state and local chapters, put on a mock political convention at their annual meeting in Washington.



Since all these associations are active pressure groups, lobbying heavily in Washington and the state capitals, they appropriately called their political convention the "Me First Party" and all the delegates wore badges of a pig. Since two chickens in every pot and two cars in every garage was not considered enough, the party adopted a slogan of "Four feet in the trough."

A character introduced as Billy Sol Restless was finally nominated for the presidency. Another character, Adam Sherman Doe was chairman of the convention. A third character identified as Sen. Larry Coldwater, said to represent the John Burp Society, made a speech calling for more swill in the trough and the elimination of discrimination in the pork barrel.

Guests at the affair characterized the performance as one of the unfunniest satires, in the worst taste, ever put on in Washington.

Bruce Chapman, whose Harvard University amateur political magazine "Advance" has been moved to Washington following the editor's graduation, has been told by GOP leaders to watch what he's doing. After ex-President Eisenhower had praised "Advance" for advocating progressive Republican ideas, it was quickly revealed that an earlier issue had castigated GOP congressional leaders Everett M. Dirksen and Charles A. Halleck.

After Ike was told about that, he sent an emissary to Chapman to tell him that the general didn't go for that kind of criticism, which creates disunity. The young editor was also warned to be careful or he would do the party real harm by printing material that could be used against Republican candidates.

New Trial in Railroad Suit

Lapeer Decision Nixed

LANSING (AP) — A Grand Trunk Railroad attorney's hint that passenger service might be discontinued to a small county seat town if the railway lost a damage suit has won a new trial for a woman who was attacked in a depot.

Michigan's Supreme Court ruled unanimously yesterday that the woman, Marilyn Ann Clark of Lapeer, should get another chance to prove that she is entitled to $90,000 damages for her ordeal.

Miss Clark, a nurse, was assaulted, stabbed and robbed by two assailants while she sat alone in the Grand Trunk depot in Flint after alighting from a train.

She was returning from a wedding in Imlay City.

On the day the trial began in Lapeer Circuit Court, an article in a local newspaper quoted a railroad attorney as having said:

"It is the first case of its kind, and when a $1.20 ticket costs us a $90,000 lawsuit it's another good reason why the railroads want to get out of the passenger business."

When the article came to the attention of Judge Timothy C. Quinn, he cautioned the jury not to read the story until after the case had been decided.

* * *

At the trial, the railroad attorney asked the jury — over the objections of the woman's lawyer:

"What effect would a decision for the plaintiff in this case have upon business and upon you as individuals, as owners of businesses, as farmers, as owners of property?"

The jury ruled for the railroad, saying it found no cause for action.

'MADE WITH DESIGN'

In one of two opinions reversing the lower court decision, Justice John R. Dethmers declared that the effect of the news story and the attorney's courtroom remarks on the minds and emotions of the jurors "and the possible appeal thereof to prejudice and self-interest on the part of any or them, can well be imagined."

"It is obvious from counsel's conduct, Dethmers added, "that such an appeal is exactly what was intended and that it was made with design."

Dethmers said the attorney appealed to the jurors' self-interest as to what would be the consequences to them if, as implied, a verdict for plaintiff should result in discontinuance of railroad passenger service in their area.

Dethmers' opinion was signed by four other justices.

Another opinion, written by Justice Eugene Black, was signed by three other justices.

It agreed with Dethmers' conclusions but added that it disagreed with his dismissal of other claims of error in the judge's instructions to the jury.

CHICAGO (UPI) — There were 39 killings in Chicago during August, bringing the total for the year to 254, police reported yesterday.

Digging Finds May Go Back 3,500 Years

ALAMO, Calif. (AP) — Archeologists digging near here for more than a month say they have uncovered remains of men who may have lived 3,500 years ago.

David Fredrickson has sent some bones to the University of California at Los Angeles for tests. The Berkeley archeologist says the tests would determine the age.

Fredrickson led a 10-man crew through three levels on the site, 10 miles east of San Francisco Bay.

The archeological team found remains of 51 individuals. Beads, ornaments and weapons were also found.

Some arrow points were discovered in the first level, but only spear or dart heads were discovered on the lower two levels. Fredrickson says arrows were just becoming popular during the first-level era.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Bell Aerosystems Co. said a compact, vertical take-off (VTOL) transport plane it is building for armed forces researchers is expected to carry six passengers or a 1,200-pound payload of cargo or instruments.

Bell, a Textron company which received a Department of Defense contract last month to build the plane, said the craft will be a dual-tandem, ducted-propeller structure. It is expected to be flown at speeds up to 350 miles an hour by a two-man crew.

ABBY

Whenever there is an office party where I work she wants me to take her. There are some cute girls working here and I would rather not bring a "date" as it cramps my style. I'm sure I don't have to draw you any pictures, Abby.

How can I get out of taking my girl? She always knows about the office parties because she's friendly with a girl who works here.

STYLE CRAMPED

DEAR STYLE: Taking your "girl" to a party when you'd prefer to be unencumbered is like going hunting with the game warden.

Extricate yourself from your "girl" by becoming less "obligated" (and YOU know what I mean) and enjoy your freedom.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of people who have the nerve to ask a woman what her plans are even before her husband is put away?

My husband passed away suddenly and several people called on me. One asked, "What are your plans for the future? Do you expect to move away or will you stay here with all these memories?"

Someone else asked me if I planned to sell my house. And if I did, how much would I ask for it. Someone else asked me how much insurance I was left. How do you answer people like them?

SICK WITH GRIEF

DEAR SICK: They don't deserve answers. Just tell them you have no plans and walk away to let their cruel questions echo in their ears.

DEAR ABBY: Our father died 15 months ago. All of us children are married and have homes and families of our own.

Mamma took it very hard although Dad was sick for a year and his death was a blessing. Every night we go through the same thing: "Who's going to stay with Mamma tonight?" She refuses to make her home with any of us and says she doesn't sleep a wink if someone isn't in the house with her.

The first few months we could understand it, but it's been over a year now and we can't take turns staying overnight with her forever. Any suggestions will be welcomed.

ONE OF HER CHILDREN

DEAR ONE: Find Mamma a live-in companion. Surely there is a compatible widow or single woman with whom your mother could share her home. If your mother vetoes that suggestion, make up your mind that she refuses to be pleased and just wants to be catered to.

For Pontiac Women's Chorus

Practice Sessions Start Tuesday

Auditions and regular practice sessions for the Pontiac Women's Chorus begin Tuesday evening at Mark Twain School at 8 o'clock.

Membership chairman Mrs. Arlene Ihrke is handling the details for those interested in joining this 30-year-old choral group.

Sponsored by the department of parks and recreation, the chorus urges all women in the community who enjoy singing to join the group. Formal vocal training is not a requirement.

The basic factors necessary are an acceptable tone quality, note-reading ability and a desire to devote time and effort to learning material for programs presented throughout the year.

DIRECTOR, OFFICERS

Director of the chorus is George Scott of Walled Lake.

This year's officers are: president, Mrs. Olive Absher; vice president, Mrs. Jeanette Morris; secretary, Mary Leonard; treasurer, Margaret Dunning; librarian, Irene Howey; and historian, Winnie Chessus.

Cab Fare Poses a Problem

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: How can a young woman meet a young man who is arriving at the airport, and pay the expenses of taxiing back to town without embarrassing him?

This young man has very little time and is flying from camp so he can spend most of his leave with me and my family. I know he hasn't much money.

* * *

A: Perhaps you can arrange with the taxi driver to give you a flat rate which you can pay in advance and then explain to your friend that the fare has been taken care of.

If this is not possible, you can wait until just before you arrive at the house and then quickly handing him a bill explain that your father told you to pay the taxi fare out of it.

The idea is to catch him off guard so that he does what you say before he has time to think about it.

* * *

Q: Following our daughter's wedding ceremony there will be a reception in the church parlors at which only ice cream, wedding cake and punch will be served.

* * *

The bride and groom would like to cut the first slice of cake as is customary, but if they receive their guests first, how can they do this? The guests would have to stand around and wait to be served as the cake is to be put on the plate with the ice cream.

A: The bride and groom simply leave the receiving line at the first lull, cut the traditional first slice and then continue receiving. Somebody else then, as always, cuts the rest of the cake and serves it.

* * *

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have the booklet entitled "The Bride's Trousseau," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Starches Clog

If the face powder you use contains vegetable starches, be sure to wash your face with lots of soap and water often during the day. The reason: when the starch granules absorb moisture from the air and from your skin, they swell and clog the pores and duct openings of your complexion — unless thoroughly washed away.

Make-Up Must Be Right

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here are a few "Dos" and "Don'ts" I have learned from interviewing many experts in the field of make-up, which is truly a magic land that can make you look more beautiful than you naturally are, or less lovely than you naturally are.

Any woman can be made more attractive with make-up, even if it is just a bit of powder on her nose or light mascara on the lashes, or a touch of lipstick and rouge.

Do make down instead of up. When make-up is too heavy, it obscures natural beauty and creates a harsh, hard appearance. It should be applied with a subtle touch and should look as natural as possible.

* * *

Do use a brown eyebrow pencil instead of a black one, even if you are a brunette. If you are a true brunette, use a combination of brown and black pencils.

Don't place rouge low on the face. This is aging. Do blend it outward so that there is not a defined line.

Don't put on two or more coats of foundation or make-up base. Make the first one heavier, rather than to put on coat after coat.

Don't powder heavily over lines. The powder settles in the creases and makes them more noticeable.

Do use mascara, but be sure that the brush is not too wet. If it is, the lashes will stick together. Black mascara is flattering to everyone but the very blonde woman. She should use brown mascara.

Do use the same powder base and powder on your neck that you use on your face. Be sure that these are well blended on the jawline also.

Don't put on two coats of make-up base, says Josephine Lowman, who gives you make-up pointers today.

* * *

Swainson, Romney, Staebler

Candidates Canvass Factories

By The Associated Press

One unionist told him "Democrats are for labor and that's all there is to it," but Republican George Romney pressed in with a vigorous campaign through Lenawee County factories yesterday.

* * *

Gov. Swainson, his Democratic rival in the gubernatorial race, also was touring factories in the Upper Peninsula swing.

And factories were a major campaign area for Democrat Neil Staebler, a candidate for Michigan congressman-at-large, who was in Saginaw.

Wrapping up a four-day Upper Michigan tour, Swainson visited the H. W. Gossard Co. plant, a corset factory, and the Robbins Co. hardwood flooring mill in Ishpeming; the Kimberly-Clark paper mill in Munising; and the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co.

CLAIMS LEADERSHIP

The governor said that Michigan was the first state to take advantage of the federal program for retraining unemployed workers.

He said the state leads all states in the processing of applications for loans from the Area Redevelopment Administration to finance industry and business.

Romney called on the unionists "to put Michigan back on the right track."

* * *

The Republican candidate visited Stubnitz-Green Spring Co. and Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corp. in Adrian, Addison Products Co. at Addison and Tecumseh Products Co. at Tecumseh.

At Stubnitz-Greene, he ran into dozens of workers wearing "Swainson for Governor" hats and plenty of posters advertising the current first-term governor.

He continued through the plant, shaking hands and debating with workers at their machines.

REFUSES HANDSHAKE

Gordon Bauschka, United Auto Workers Local 767 financial secretary and the "Democrats Are for Labor" man, refused to shake Romney's hand.

The statement that Romney was with the wrong team was echoed along Swainson's campaign route by John V. Voelker, former Michigan Supreme Court justice and head of the Citizens for Swainson Committee.

"There is no difficulty" in the campaign to re-elect Swainson, Voelker said. "Everyone up here (in the Upper Peninsula) says, 'Romney's a nice fellow, too bad he's a Republican.' "

Back to the Stubnitz-Greene plant, though, assembly worker Adolph Winkelman wore a Romney hat and Velma Harris, a fellow worker, said, "I've never voted Republican before, but I'm going to vote for Romney this fall. It's time for a change."

Disease Cases Hit 1962 Low

Chickenpox, Measles, Mumps Show Biggest Drop in County

New case reports of communicable diseases in Oakland County hit a record low for the year during August.

Chickenpox reached a low of 12 reported cases in August; down from the year's record of 500 cases recorded in February.

* * *

Also in August, measles reports stood at 22 and mumps reports at two as contrasted with the year's highs of 837 for measles in February and 273 new mumps cases in March.

Intervention in Suit Slated by State Unit

LANSING (UPI)—The State Conservation Department plans to intervene, through the attorney general's office, in a suit by Grosse Isle Township and shoreline owners seeking to halt a land fill south of Stony Island in the Detroit River.

A hearing is scheduled Sept. 14 before Wayne County Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn to determine if a temporary injunction should be issued to halt work by the Dunbar and Sullivan Dredging Co. of New York.

The shoreline owners claim the dredging company is violating a local zoning ordinance and creating a nuisance.

Construction of a dike and disposal area by the company will interfere with the public right to hunt, fish and boat in this section of the river, they charge.

Secret Report Being Revised

Celebrezze Announces Birth Control Paper Will Be Published

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze informed Congress yesterday that a secret report on human reproduction and birth control would be made public after it was revised.

* * *

Celebrezze said that Surg. Gen. Luther L. Terry had assured him that the revisions would be completed no later than Jan. 1.

Celebrezze announced the change of position after the House Information subcommittee said it was opening an investigation to determine why the report was being suppressed.

The study was prepared by Dr. Errett C. Albritton of the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

It was undertaken after a State Department advisory group reported American foreign policy goals would be damaged unless some way could be found to curb the world's population growth.

In explaining the reason for revising the report, Celebrezze informed the House subcommittee that Dr. Terry had "pointed out that the report contains a great deal of highly technical information that might be subject to misunderstanding unless it is adequately explained."

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The spacecraft Mariner 2 is more than two million miles out on its four-month, 180-million mile trip to the vicinity of Venus.

Auto's Jaunt Down the Track Pretty Costly

An experiment to see if a car could be driven on railroad tracks proved expensive to a Lake Orion driver yesterday.

Derek C. Downs, 190 W. Flint St., was fined $100 and sentenced to five days in jail for trespassing on railroad property by Rochester Justice of the Peace Luther C. Green.

The incident occurred shortly after midnight Aug. 27 when Downs and two passengers in his car decided to test car-on-track theory at the Diversion Street crossing of Grand Trunk Western Railroad in Rochester.

The trio struck a snag, however, when after traveling a few hundred feet, the car got hung up on an axle and wouldn't turn.

It took a wrecker to remove the vehicle from the tracks. Police were notified.

In the car with Downs were Edward Edwards, 19, of 73 Barrow St., Metamora, and John M. Thurston, 22, of 2090 Windy Hill Lane in the Auburn Heights Trailer Park on Opdyke Road.

Expert Says Earth Is Always Quaking

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — In Iran, in Japan, in Utah, in California, the earth has been quaking. For a week the headlines have been full of earthquake stories. Why?

Is it earthquake weather?

★ ★ ★

Ask a seismologist that one and you're apt to get a reaction good for magniture, on the Richter scale. When the tremblor ceases, you'll get this explanation.

Neither the weather, nuclear testing nor the signs of the zodiac have any influence on earthquakes, which are due to shift in the earth's crust. They occur continually.

Then why have there been so many lately?

"We can dispose of that one quickly," said Dr. Charles Richter of the seismological laboratory of the California Institute of Technology.

"There has been no unusual activity at all. It's just that a few occurred where they drew a great deal of attention."

★ ★ ★

The Cal Tech lab at Pasadena has equipment to measure the major quakes of the world—and the minor ones close at hand. Such was the tremor which rocked neargl Inglewood last Saturday.

"The Inglewood shock was a pipsqueak," Dr. Richter said. "We get one or two a day like that. But this one happened in a heavily populated area."

What about the quake in Iran, which killed 10,000 or more?

"Major shocks of this nature occur about 20 times a year," Dr. Richter said.

★ ★ ★

"This one took such a heavy toll because it occurred in an area with a large population, living in structures of the weakest type of construction."

Few Meteors Reach Earth

Streak Through Sky in Most Spectacular Display of Lights

WASHINGTON—Eight billion meteors strike the atmosphere each day, but only five or six reach the ground.

★ ★ ★

Most meteors are too tiny to be seen, but in midsummer the Perseids streak through the sky in a spectacular display.

Intense heat from air friction vaporizes all but the largest meteors. A pebble or grain of sand, traveling up to 70 miles a second, will compress molecules of air before it, raising their temperatures thousands of degrees.

Rock and metal melt away in blazing trails of sparks that mark the destruction of these visitors from space.

★ ★ ★

Shower meteors, like the Perseids, are roughly uniform in size. None has been known to reach the ground, yet almost all are large enough to leave trails.

FROM COMETS

Astronomers believe that meteor showers are spawned from the debris of comets. The Perseids wheel around the sun in the orbit of a comet, scheduled to return in the prophetic year of 1984.

Collisions and the force of gravity send these baby planets in all directions; some run into the earth.

Special Tuition in MSUO's Math for Gifted 25

Twenty-five gifted high school students will have a chance to take a college math course for credit at Michigan State University Oakland this fall. Those selected will receive scholarships paying half of their tuition.

This is the second MSUO course being made available to outstanding high school students who are recommended by their principals.

These courses not only will give unusually able high school seniors a foretaste of college, but also a full, official first step toward the B. A. degree. Each of the courses will carry four hours' credit which will be good at MSUO, or transferable to any other institution.

An anonymous donor has agreed to pay one-half of the $72 tuition fee of every student chosen to take the mathematics course.

One or two outstanding mathematics students will be selected by each of the sixteen high schools in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lake Orion, Pontiac, Rochester, Romeo, Royal Oak, Troy, Utica and Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

The course will be given in the evening, from 6:30 to 8:20 Tuesdays and Thursdays, starting September 11.

Because of the importance attached to this special class it will be taught by the head of the Mathematics Department, Dr. James H. McKay, who is also associate dean for science and mathematics.

Consider Herb Drug as Deforming Agent

LONDON (AP)—An herbal drug used in slimming pills was described yesterday as a possible crippler of unborn children.

The medical magazine Lancet said one woman who took the pill in pregnancy gave birth to a deformed child.

★ ★ ★

The drug is podophyllum, used in some types of slimming and laxative tablets. The tablets can be bought freely without prescription.

★ ★ ★

The article said podophyllum can affect the nerves as the sedative drug thalidomide does and can prevent division of body cells.

The pill is made from the root of the podophyllum plant, which grows in the eastern United States and Canada, where it is known as American mandrake or mayapple.

It also grows in the Himalayas and is called Indian podophyllum, the article in Lancet said.

The Army tested 1,961 missiles at its White Sands proving ground in 1961.

Temporarily Eliminate Bleachers in Waterford

In an economy move the Waterford Township Board of Education Thursday night decided to eliminate at least temporarily permanent bleachers, an approximately $12,000 expenditure, from the Waterford Kettering High School proposed athletic development.

Bids on all phases of the program except the wood bleachers and lawn development were accepted two weeks ago at a total cost of $57,665.

★ ★ ★

New bids were sought on the two unaccepted phases of the program when these submitted Aug. 23 were termed too high.

But the low bid on the bleachers of $11,900, compared to a low of $15,000 two weeks ago, still seemed high to board members who had anticipated spending about $6,000 for permanent seating.

Board member Duane Lemeaux said he felt the permanent bleachers were not necessary, pointing out that the board had already contracted for a 1,000-seat capacity temporary set of bleachers. "Since there won't be any night football games, the 1,000 seats should be adequate," he added.

★ ★ ★

As proposed the Kettering grid teams will use the lighted Waterford Township High School field and WTHS will share the better track planned at Kettering.

★ ★ ★

Acting superintendent of schools James DenHerder favored accepting the bleacher bid, stating that the expenditure can be made within the budget now. "If we decide five years from now to install bleachers the money may not be there," he commented.

TO DO LAWN

The board voted to table action on the bleachers but authorized acceptance of the low bid of $3,798 for lawn development on the site. Grading work is expected to begin today.

★ ★ ★

In other business the board accepted the resignation of Bernard J. Heaney, principal of Isaac E. Crary Junior High School.

A veteran of 10 years in the school system, Heaney resigned effective Oct. 10 to accept a principalship in the Plainview-Old Bethpage School system in Long Island, N.Y.

The board also authorized that two teachers in the process of obtaining special education certification be assigned to special education classes at Douglass Houghton Elementary School.

Certified teachers are not available, DenHerder explained, and the alternatives were to hire the noncertified people or put youngsters in need of special education into regular classes.

★ ★ ★

The board also renewed its policy of last year that United Fund payroll deductions be available to personnel who desire to participate.

Mac Morrow Family Enjoys Suburban Living in Clarkston Gardens

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Young couples all over the country are buying and moving into new houses in suburban subdivisions. Sometimes the move is made right after the wedding; often the coming of a baby makes apartment living untenable. Still others move out to get more space for the children to play.

* * *

The Mac T. Morrows of Clarkston Gardens are typical of the second example. Shortly after their first daughter, Therese, was born, they bought the little brick house on Transparent Drive.

* * *

Now there are two more youngsters. Victor is a bouncy two years old and Rosann is eight months old.

A wide front lawn and a good-sized back yard with a playhouse (it needs a little fixing, says Therese) are possible on the 100 by 170 foot lot. Levant of Detroit did the building.

Mrs. Morrow is fortunate in having a mother who is a talented seamstress. Grandma made all the draperies in the house. We know she makes beautiful dresses for her granddaughters too. Grandma is Mrs. V. J. Stachler.

There's a minute vestibule with a small coat closet inside the front door. The living room-dining room runs the length of the house.

On the floor there is beige textured carpeting. Three walls are light sandalwood. The end wall in the dining area is papered in a scenic beige and blue design.

On the lower half of the front window there are cafe curtains. Regular short draw draperies cover the upper portion of the glass. The material is a metal threaded beige.

The seating arrangement includes a leaf green sofa with a gold and an orange throw pillow. The platform rocker has a tapestry design in beige and gold. A barrel back chair is a soft tangerine.

Dining room furniture is Provincial in style. There are gold colored seats on the fruitwood chairs. Near the kitchen door is a little black rocker, just the size for children.

The kitchen is small but efficient. A Dutch door puts the basement stairs off limits to the children.

Linoleum has a shaded striped design. The background is light beige with greens, browns and reds.

Around the breakfast table the wall is papered. The rest of the walls and the stairway are yellow. Cabinets are birch.

Counter tops have a gray-tweed-like plastic top. The curtains are white with red braid. On top of the refrigerator a red cake cover glows like a jewel.

Rosann sleeps in the first bedroom, the one that was the guest room until she put in her appearance last January. Her room has aqua walls and maple furniture. Curtains are white.

The two older children share a room with twin beds set trundle fashion. In here the walls are gold and the cotton carpeting green. Furniture is maple. Bedspreads are white candlewick. The curtains have a charming design of pussy cats in pink, blue and yellow on white.

The Morrows' bedroom has green walls and a polished oak floor. Furniture is maple in the Early American style. The short draperies are flowered. Next to the chest is an antique walnut chair, upholstered in gold.

The bath has a beige tile floor, lighter beige tile walls and green fixtures. The vanity top is covered in tan linen-like plastic.

In the basement Morrow is finishing part of the area as a recreation room. This is the place the children keep most of their toys and play on stormy days.

The exterior of the house is pink brick with a blue roof. On panels underneath the front windows there are pots of geraniums mounted.

There is little of the spectacular about the Morrow home. But it is a rather typical small subdivision home. This particular one is filled with comfort, love and the laughter of little children.

Repainting Teen's Room Beneficial

Investing some fresh paint in your teen-ager's bedroom can bring welcome dividends during the school term.

Educators have proven that attractive, cheerful surroundings are important for proper studying.

Also, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association points out that a bright, new decor is an incentive for neatness, and by encouraging the youngster to participate in the selection of colors and layout, you establish the foundation for good taste and judgment in the future.

The modern studio-bedroom is ideal for boys and the preference of many girls who desire the tailored effect.

* * *

This style decor requires a minimum of furnishings and an absence of clutter, making it a particularly good choice for the small size room.

You can easily modernize scarred maple or mahogany furniture with a couple of coats of flat black enamel. When dry, protect it with flat varnish or wax. Enhance the new look with inexpensive brass drawer pulls.

Walls painted off-white or pale yellow will best accentuate the deep satinlike finish of the furniture.

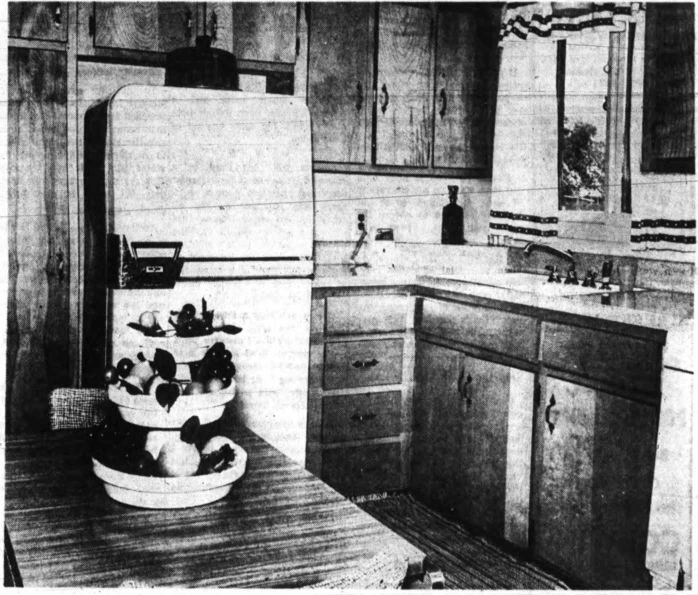
* * *

For the ceiling, a deeper yellow or a soft, contrasting color such as light coral or teal blue would be very handsome.

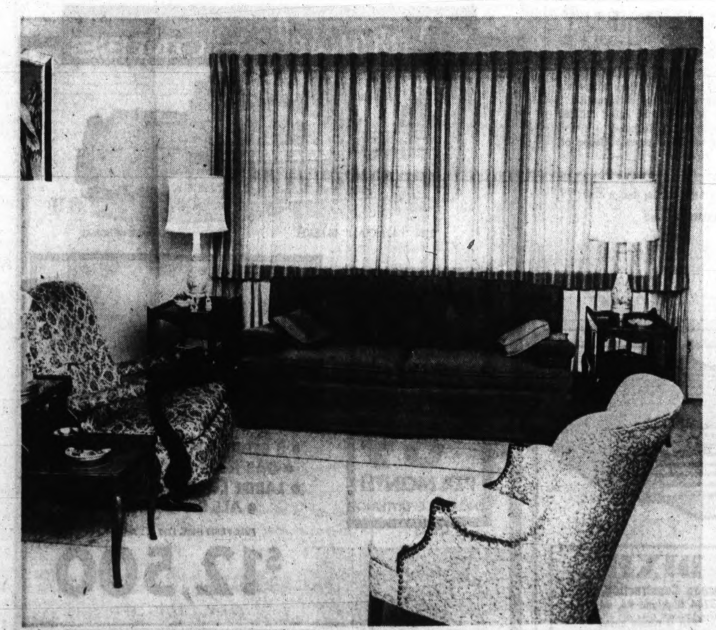
* * *

Whichever style your youngster prefers, be sure to keep this in mind. Proper lighting is absolutely necessary. Be sure the desk lamp provides sufficient light for studying.

HEALTHY PAIR — Victor clutches Raggedy Andy while Therese holds Raggedy Ann in a more conventional pose. The children are perched on their twin beds, set trundle style. Their room has soft green cotton carpeting on the floor. Curtains have an animal print. Walls are gold.

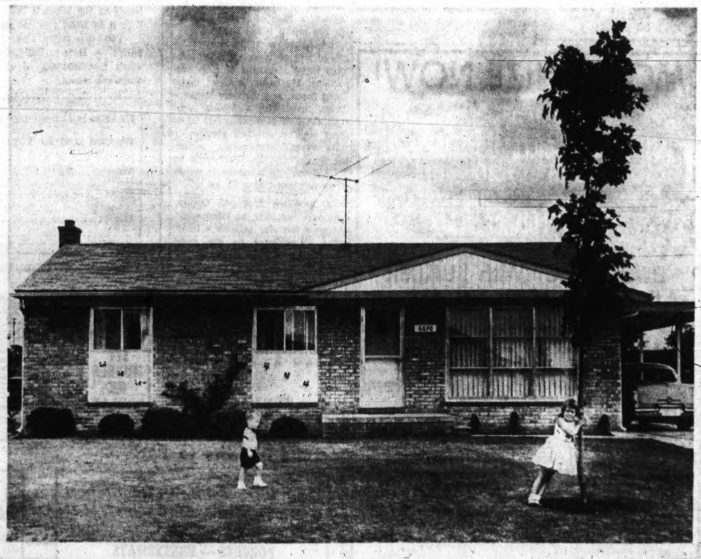


CUPBOARDS ENOUGH — Mrs. Morrow has lots of shelf and drawer space in her compact kitchen. The plastic topped breakfast table has leaves that come up for more space. Chairs have a striped plastic upholstery. Take a good look at that fruit "compote" on the table. It was made with common red clay flower pots and their bases. Mrs. Morrow can watch her children in the back yard as she goes about her duties at the sink.



Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Noble

COMFORT — This comfortable seating arrangement in the living room includes a leaf green sofa, tapestry platform rocker and gold barrel back chair. Walls are sandalwood. Carpeting and curtains are beige. The picture was taken from the dining room end.



PINK BRICK — The Mac T. Morrows live in this pink brick home in Clarkston Gardens. The roof and house trim are blue. A gay decorative note is given the house by the pots of geraniums staggered on the white panels beneath two of the windows. Like most children, the two older Morrow youngsters have a bit of "ham" in their make-up and followed The Press photographer all around as he took pictures.

Use of Curbs Benefits House, Garden, Yard

A curb is not something useful only at the edge of a street. Most of the time that's about the only place you can find one.

Ever find tire marks along the edge of the lawn, right alongside the driveway? With a curb on each side of the drive, it isn't likely that automobile wheels would slip over.

A curb is useful along the edge of flower beds to keep dirt from washing loose, or along the edge of any area where there is a sharp change in the grade. Around walks near doors and basement windows it can divert water, thus avoiding flooding.

A curb can be added even though the concrete work is in. If a walk, drive or patio slab is being freshly poured, the curb can be formed at the same time. The form around the outside should be high enough to allow for the extra height.

The board used in leveling off the concrete can be cut out at the end to allow for the extra height.

DIG DEEP

Curbs built later should have forms and separate excavation. If you live in a changing climate, dig down below the frost line—which may mean digging 18 to 24 inches—for best results. Make the bottom wider than the top.

A heavy curb, one for the edge of a drive, should be 6 or 8-inches wide at the top, 9 to 12-inches wide below ground.

A curb for a walk or flower bed can be three inches wide at the top, five inches below ground. Since frost damage isn't likely with such a narrow curb, going down 10 or 12 inches may be enough.

Where the earth along the sides of the ditch is firm, forms will be needed only above ground. But if the sides crumble, build forms the full depth of the excavation.

Use two-inch lumber, brace with stakes and build the curb in five or six-foot lengths, separating them with tar paper.

If the thought of handling concrete keeps you from building a curb, consider other materials.

You can set flagstones, concrete blocks and similar material on end in a narrow excavation. Thick blocks of concrete or even marble can be made sturdier by filling the joints with mortar.

Heavy stones laid evenly along the edge of a path or drive will protect planted areas. Railroad ties or logs make a picturesque edging and if set in a slight excavation and staked, aren't likely to be shifted easily.

Tiled Walls Are Indestructible

Thinking of remodeling your youngster's bedroom? If so, consider using materials that will withstand the rough wear they will be subjected to by your "citizen of tomorrow."

Boys are especially adept at scuffing and finger-marking walls, doorways, light switches and even ceilings. While girls are less prone to this, they can become a problem when they begin using fingernail polish, lipstick, mascara and other cosmetics which, when spilled or dropped, leave permanent marks.

If you are tired of repainting an entire bedroom every third year or so, why not surface the walls—or at least the bottom portion of each wall—with a durable material such as ceramic tile? Real tile can be cleaned with a quick rub of a damp cloth.

Tile now comes in more than 250 shades and in a wide variety of sizes and shapes so it will be easy for you to choose the type you want. There are rugged, masculine colors for a boy's room and soft, gentle shades for a girl's room.

In addition to its lasting beauty, surfacing a bedroom with ceramic tile will result in long-range economy. That's because tile never needs to be painted or waxed. Its first cost is its final cost.

Shades Pull Up

Cool idea for summer heat: Use new "bottom-up" window shades—with roller installed at the window sill, and the shade pulling up, toward the ceiling. They shut off the hot rays of the sun at the "living level" of your room, but invite fresh air to circulate from the top. Available in high-style cloth fabrics, they are both effective and uniquely attractive.

Deflect Sun's Rays

If you have a garage, shed or fence on which the hot noon or afternoon sun shines so that the rays are reflected in your home, it's a good idea not to paint them white. White paint will reflect most of the heat right into the house. Instead, paint these structures a dark color which will absorb most of the sun's heat and cut down reflection.

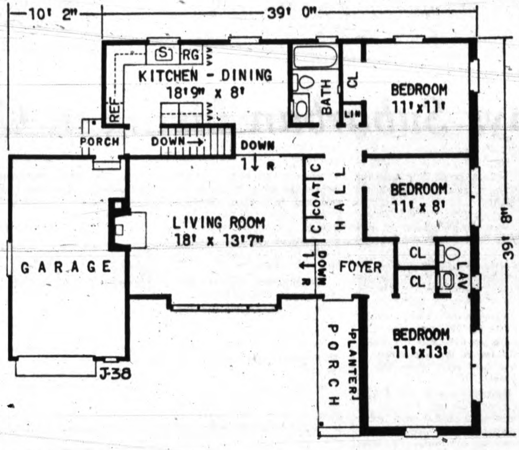
MODEL OF EFFICIENCY — Skillful architecture enables this handsome ranch to contain three bedrooms, 1-½ baths, living room, foyer, kitchen-dining area in a modest 1,263 square feet of living area without any of it cramped. Modified U-shape is secret of efficient floor plan as well as interesting exterior.



FLOOR PLAN — Deviation from customary rectangle enables every square inch of this plan to be put to use. Note how main hall, with slight modification, does double duty as foyer. Living room is one step below rest of house. Total living area is 1,263 square feet.

Small House Can Have a Lot of Living Space

By JULES LOH

There's a big difference — in fact, many big differences — between a small house and a cramped house, even though both may contain the same amount of floor space.

★ ★ ★

Anyone who has lived in a cramped house knows the irritants: doors that open into living or work areas and encroach on the already limited space, rooms that you can't get to without crossing through another room, children having to run to the bathroom at night in full view of a house full of guests, lack of adequate closet and storage space.

These are only a few, but all are of the type many young homemakers don't discover until after they've lived in their new house awhile; the sweet dream of acquiring "our home at last" frequently blurs its less obvious architectural flaws.

Usually one glance from the curb is all it takes to tell a good small house from a bad small house. If the house has a lackluster, boxlike exterior, it's a safe bet the interior design is equally unimaginative.

CAN BE NICE

In the hands of a skillful architect, however, 1,200 to 1,300 square feet of living area can be molded into a home which is a delight to live in as well as to look at, a comfortable dwelling both for the well established family and the unseasoned newlyweds.

This is the type chosen for today's House of the Week, design J-38 in the series. It is the product of architect Alfred H. Ryder, a man of proven ability in the small home field.

The house ocntains only 1,263 square feet of living area, yet contains three bedrooms of nice proportions, 1½ baths, a foyer, large living room, and a roomy kitchen-dining area with a folding wall separation. It also has a full basement and an attached garage.

Its overall dimensions, including the garage, are 49'2" wide by 39'8" deep, which means it would fit comfortably on a 75' lot.

A modified U-shaped design provides not only an interesting exterior but also permits a floor plan unrestricted by the confines of a simple rectangle. It also makes the house look considerably larger.

To illustrate architect Ryder's unusual talent, look how he has provided for a foyer — an uncommon luxury in most homes of this size. He placed the main hallway to one side of the living room, converted part of it into the foyer. This the same space does double duty—but not at the same time.

GOOD EXAMPLE

Another example is the location of the service entry. You have in effect a garage entry to the kitchen as well as a service door, but in a place where the door doesn't swing into the kitchen work area or interrupt the valuable counter space.

★ ★ ★

The basement door likewise is well out of the way of kitchen traffic, and easy to reach from outside.

Note also the location of the main bath. It serves not only the two rear bedrooms, but also is convenient to both the living room and kitchen. The main bedroom has its own lavatory.

For a family which doesn't yet require three bedrooms, the middle room could serve nicely as a den or study.

★ ★ ★

The living room, which is smartly smartly built one step down from the rest of the house, has a large bay window and handsome fireplace, and is connected to the dining area by an arch and wrought iron rail.

Another exquisite feature is the long covered porch at the main entry enhanced by a brick planter. Brick veneer is used on this protruding wing, blending nicely with the wood siding, and a wood fence provides a homey touch.

The real genius of this house, though, is its economical use of every square inch of floor space.

★ ★ ★

The kitchen-dining area demonstrates this as well as any other part of the house. There is plenty built one step down from the rest of the house, has a large of counter and cupboard space (an more shelf space in the nearby garage between chimney and door.

An Army surplus parachute can make a colorful sunshade for picnic lunches and quiet sit-down games. Supports are set in concrete and shroud lines, looped through pulleys, permit raising and lowering.

Veneer Pattern Is Grown

Irritation Inside Tree Makes Burl Form Like Oyster Pearl

Furniture embellishment, this year, depends upon many rare growths of hardwood trees for inlaid borders, panels and accents. These veneers are as rare as real pearls.

They are created in the same way. Something irritates the oysters. Something irritates the tree, causing a burl or other "sport" growth, changing the normal grain pattern.

Walnut, myrtle, redwood, birch, cherry and maple are among the American trees occasionally producing these fascinating wood patterns and colors. They are so rare and highly prized by furniture designers, only small areas are veneered with them.

A dining table, for example may have a figured walnut top, with a border a few inches wide of walnut burl. It will be a shade or two darker. Its convoluted figure will contrast with the sweeping, graceful lines of the larger area.

Myrtle, sometimes called acacia or laurel grows mainly in Oregon. The burl veneer is patterned with a mixture of wavy light wood and darker clusters seeming to float on it. The color varies from golden brown to yellow-green with a scattering of purple blotches.

Experts Will Answer Septic Tank Questions

It's a surprise to many people to find that living beyond the service of a municipal sewerage system can be just as convenient as living in the middle of a large city.

With a properly designed septic tank system there is never a need to skimp on using water or worry about efficient disposal of waste matter, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. Any suburban or rural family can thus enjoy the many benefits of all the plumbing fixtures and water using appliances you would like to have.

To answer many of the questions you may have about the operation of a septic tank system, the Bureau is offering free, specially compiled information on the subject. Included are detailed tables showing minimum required capacities and suggested dimensions for septic tanks, locations of tank and absorption field in relation to wells, water and property lines, etc., how to determine the necessary size for the absorption field, and size requirements for absorption trenches. All of these figures are in accordance with Federal Housing Administration's standards for septic tank installations.

To obtain this free information packet, send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dept. ST, Plumbing-Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois.

Also included in the material are layout drawings of average systems, information on determining the absorption rate of soil, and realistic answers to the questions most often asked about septic tank systems.

Chemical Bath Treats Walnut

A revolutionary chemical treatment to stabilize wood has proved highly effective on walnut. The discovery benefits hobbyists, sportsmen and others. Involving immersion of green wood in a polyethylene glycol solution, the process is also being used on some home accessories.

The treated walnut resists shrinkage, warping, cracking and other defects during workmanship. The chemical solution is a white, waxlike liquid that dissolves in warm water, is nontoxic and noncorrosive. It has no effect on the color or appearance of wood.

Wood that is immersed and then dried becomes unusually stable. Stabilized walnut clocks, for example, with numerals marked on the wood, have passed all tests for accuracy.

The process has important military applications. Treated walnut gunstocks resist temperature change, and can be moved from arctic to tropical climes without adjustment or tuning. Walnut, because of its strength, has traditionally been a gunstock wood. The new treatment aids it in excelling all other materials.

The chemical is sold through a variety of outlets. Reports on it have been published by the Forest Products Research Society of Madison, Wis.

Painting Vinyl Is Easy

Painting vinyl wall coverings when you become tired of the old color is easy if proper methods are used. Smooth vinyl without a design should get a first coat of alkyd flat wall paint, followed by a latex or an alkyd. A printed vinyl must be given a first coat of latex primer sealer. The second coat: latex, or an alkyd.

Water Heaters Last if Proper Size

Today's quality water heaters are built to last for many years, and, properly sized according to a family's needs, will do so with little care required.

Eventually, though, comes the time for a plumbing contractor to replace the heater, and you should know the danger signs of a burning-out heater in order to avoid an inconvenient emergency.

First of all, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, a good water heater usually does not wear out—the heating surfaces slowly burn out from abuse by the unknowing homeowner. If a water heater is overworked because it is not large enough, or because of built-up sediment in the tank, it clearly will not last as long as one of the right size that receives proper maintenance. (You can get rid of most sediment by draining out all muddy-looking water every month.)

Danger sign number one is the awareness that there never seems to be enough hot water. An undersized or sediment-encrusted heater cannot be expected to perform efficiently, and can rapidly burn out from the extra work load.

Another danger sign is a thumping or cracking sound from the heater when a hot water faucet is turned on. This happens when layers of sediment (caused primarily by hard water) built up on the floor of the tank and on the heating elements, producing a heat-retarding scale. The thumping is actually a series of small explosions of steam between the layers of scale.

Let your plumbing contractor be the guide in selection of a new water heater. His sizing charts will tell you what size your family needs, and he can advise you about water softening equipment if this is needed.

A final point to remember — if you buy a water heater with only a one-year manufacturer's guarantee, you're just playing a betting game with the manufacturer. A quality water heater is always the best buy.

Closet Idea Adds to Storage Space

Among the novel new products available to Mrs. Homeowner in 1962 will be a remarkable closet rod, which can be adapted to meet exactly the clothes storage needs you require, when you require them!

The gold anodized closet rod has "snap-in" black nylon carriers which glide your clothes to your fingertips and which help make and "livable" home for your your entire closet a more compact clothes.

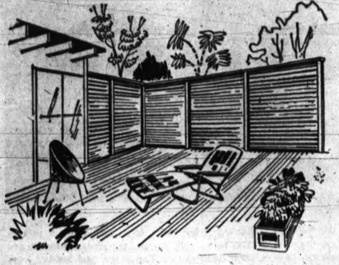
These "snap-in" carriers can be added as necessary to keep pace with your changing clothes storage needs!

* * *

An interesting brochure describing the rod and its adaptability to all types of closets is available at no charge from the Space Saving Institute, 18 East 60th Street, New York 22, N. Y.

Maple Kitchen Floor

Northern hard maple is recommended for kitchen floors in the modern home. The floor, properly sealed, is resistant to grease. It is sanitary and easy to keep clean. Another feature is the slow absorption of water and other liquids which are sometimes spilled.



GIVE PRIVACY — To gain privacy or control weather for your wood lounge deck, handsome screens around the perimeter might be the answer. These were built of Douglas fir. Posts are 4x4s, top and bottom rails are 2x4s, and fence panels have horizontal 1x2s spaced a half inch apart. Screen, like fir deck, is weathering to silver.

It's Time to Consider Indoor Comfort

During recent months, most of us have enjoyed some form of outdoor living. But let's concede that summer's days are numbered. Sooner than we may think, fall will be on hand with the chill of winter close behind.

* * *

So it's high time to shift gears in home planning to consider the problems and necessities of "indoor" living.

Starting now, we should survey our homes to determine what, if anything, should be done to assure fall and winter comfort. In some cases, certain factors may need correction.

In other instances, additions or minor alterations may be in order. Here are some pertinent questions, from the Southern Pine Association, which apply equally in the case of our present homes or to those we may be planning to buy:

CHECK HOT WATER

Taking an outside look first, is there flashing at the eaves and chimney to protect the roof in the event of freezing weather.

Winter, of course, is a time when we don't mind "staying in hot water." So check into the hot water supply. Is its capacity adequate to take care of all requirements? If in doubt, check with a plumbing contractor.

Naturally, we won't want to shiver while taking a bath or shower. Is auxiliary heat provided in the bathroom for quick warmth when needed?

Trouble-free plumbing is part and parcel of a wholesome winter package. Are pipes protected against freezing? Are hot water lines insulated to minimize heat loss? Are plumbing connections easily accessible in case they need repair?

How warm we want our homes in fall and winter is largely a matter of personal preference. How well we are able to keep them the way be like it depends, in part, on the heating system.

It also depends on other factors, notably the tightness of the dwelling and quality of insulation.

The importance of snugness cannot be overemphasized. A tight house provides the ideal climate for efficient, low cost heat conditioning. For this quality to exist, the structural framework should be formed with strong, "pre-shrunk" lumber.

WOOD GOOD INSULATOR

Close attention to this and other details of structural soundness are in order if we're planning to buy or build a home. And speaking of wood, it's a great natural insulator.

If walls or roof are lined with solid wood sheathing, as good construction requires, other insulation may be unnecessary in some climates. If in doubt, check with a heating engineer.

Are all doors and windows properly weather stripped? If in a severe cold climate, are storm windows provided?

As for the heating system, is it located where it can be conveniently serviced? Is it adequate for the size of the house?

Is it thermostatically controlled? Are thermostats located to give the right amount of heat where we want it? Are heating ducts insulated to prevent heat loss?

Variety of Rust Curbs Helps Protect Tools

Nothing ages a new tool as quickly as rust.

Rust cuts down on the efficiency of the best tool. It also offers evidence that your basement isn't as dry as you thought.

There are a variety of rust preventatives. Pick one or more to protect your investment in tools.

Obviously, before measures can be taken to prevent rust, you must remove all existing rust.

BRIGHTEN METAL

Steel wool or emery cloth will brighten metal surfaces in a hurry. Emery cloth works best over a large working area, the blade of a handsaw for example.

Steel wool works well on small objects and irregular shapes.

* * *

You can hurry the action of steel wool by applying a few drops of cutting oil to it or to the surface on which you are working.

LIGHT FORMATIONS

There are commercial rust removers that are fine for light formations of dust. Follow the manufacturer's instructions in each case. Some people use ammonium citrate, available in most drug stores, to soak off rust. Apply and let stand for about 30 minutes before rubbing off.

In cleaning up saw blades—hand or power—be sure to remove all pitch that the blade picks up when cutting lumber.

Tools that are not used often, or are not handled extensively, can be protected with a light coat of oil. Drill bits can be wrapped in oily rags. Petroleum jelly or light grease can be applied with a cloth to the blade of your power saw or to wood bits.

* * *

A few drops of oil in small jars of screws will keep them free from rust now, and later when they are in use as well.

Some of the best protection possible is offered by a product you probably already have on hand—ordinary paste wax.

It offers several advantages over oil and grease. It can be handled afterwards, dust and dirt will not stick to it. Spread it over power saw tables, the base of any wood plane and on hammer heads. Paraffin can also be used in much the same way. Apply and wipe off excess.

GREASE HEAVY

Heavy grease can be used on the metal ends of garden tools before putting them in storage. It can be applied easily and it will remove itself once you start using the tool again.

* * *

In addition to these rust preventive measures, take steps to cut down the amount of moisture where you keep your tools. Use moisture absorbing chemicals, ventilate the area thoroughly in dry weather by opening windows. Check tools during long periods when they are not in use.

Hardboard Rates Name

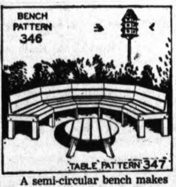
Hardboard is hard board.

This widely adaptable building material, according to a U.S. Department of Commerce report, is made from wood which has been reduced to its individual basic wood fibers and then reformed under heat and pressure by a predominatly natural bond in the wood, lignin.

It is used for hundreds of different purposes, the report continues, "where a combination of strength, hardness, density and uniform surface is required."

Hardboard was developed in 1942 and first produced commercially in 1926. Today's modern hardboard plant is a multimillion-dollar investment requiring highly skilled engineers and technicians for successful operation.

Each year the domestic industry spends millions of dollars in research and development directed toward the creation of new markets, the department reports.



A semi-circular bench makes a focus point that lends distinction to any yard or garden. Pattern 346 shows details and gives actual-size guides for the angles of sectional parts of this bench. Pattern 347 also gives full-size cutting guides. These patterns are 35 cents each. They are also in the Garden Furniture Packet No. 60 with two other patterns — all for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept. Bedford Hills, New York.

Finish Is Hardy

A new aluminum combination storm window and door features a lustrous white finish. The manufacturer reports the finish resists blistering, cracking, peeling, and corroding, even when frames are pierced, bent or struck. The design blends with any type of architectural design, but particularly with traditional styles. (Air Master Corp., Philadelphia, Pa.).

Easy to Use

Rigid vinyl building panels — which make ideal roofs for carports and patios — require no special cutting or fastening tools, report remodeling specialists for Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. They say the panels can be trimmed with a fine tooth saw; nailed or bolted in place.

Woodgrained Panels Put End to Scrubbing Job

Add wall-scrubbing to the list of home "arts" that are fast waning, along with doing the family washing by hand, cleaning house with a broom, beating a cake or feeding a coal-fired furnace.

Modern wall paneling has ended the once or twice-a-year drudgery of scrubbing a dirty wall and the every-year-or-so repainting. These chores are both time and money-consuming nuisances, many home owners will agree.

Hardboard woodgrained panels have come to the homemaker's rescue in several ways. Some are factory-finished so they don't require on-the-job decorating. Also, they have a plastic surface which wipes clean with a damp cloth.

Easy maintenance is an added advantage of woodgrained hardboard walls. Others are dent-resistance, outstanding appearance and low cost.

For ordinary maintenance, an occasional once-over with a damp cloth is all that is required. If there are scuff marks or other unusual soil such as lipstick or crayon, add a mild detergent to the clean-up formula.

* * *

Homemakers are especially appreciative of the excellent appearance of these woodgrained panels, which are available at lumber yards in various shades of walnut and cherry. They are equally happy to have walls that are so easily maintained.

Masonite woodgrained panels may be installed readily by either amateur or professional craftsmen. They are widely used in living rooms, recreation areas, bedrooms, dens and hallways of homes.

The walnut-grained hardboards come in the familiar 4'x7' or 8' panels, one-quarter inch thick, for application directly to existing walls, studs or furring strips. Cherry planks, 16"x7' or 8', are tongue-and-grooved for easy application with concealed metal clips in both remodeling projects and new construction.

Can Use Patio in the Autumn

Expert Sees Plenty of Outdoor Living Ahead in Fall Months

Labor Day may be the official end of summer, but there's plenty of enjoyable outdoor living ahead.

There will be many days and nights in September, October and November, when your patio can be used for entertaining or just plain relaxing, says Dana Richardson, outdoor living specialist for the Flexalum division of Bridgeport Brass Co.

Richardson points out that fall can be a delightful time in the back yard with late blooming flowers and shrubs at their prettiest.

* * *

The protective shade of your aluminum patio cover, the Flexalum specialist adds, is also a good place to relax after fall planting or fix-up chores.

Actually, Richardson says, many families use their enclosed patio all year round. By replacing screen panels with window panels and adding a portable heater, the outdoor living room can add plenty of usable space for the busy fall and winter entertaining season.

It's ideal for teen-age as well as adult gatherings and saves wear and tear on the living room.

In buying patio furniture, Richardson advises selecting sturdy pieces that can take frequent use. Custom aluminum patio covers, he adds, are designed to withstand snow loads and high winds and need not be removed for winter storage.

Plastic Blocks on Ceiling Are Easy to Clean

If you're tired of scrubbing ceilings and painting them periodically, consider the idea of installing a permanent decor that can be damp-wiped clean.

An easy-to-maintain ceiling is of special importance in the kitchen, where stains and moisture will discolor most surfaces. A plastic-surfaced ceiling block, which is highly-resistant to heat and humidity, has been recommended for ceiling installations.

Marlite blocks, which are 16 inches square, can be put up right over old ceilings. They have tongue-and-groove edges to simplify installation. The blocks are secured with simple metal clips and wallboard adhesive.

The ceiling blocks come in several attractive colors and patterns so that they can be used to accent or harmonize with the overall decorative theme in the room.

Local lumber dealers carry the plastic-surfaced hardboard blocks, which can be installed by one person. Complete installation instructions are included in each package of the blocks.

THE PINEWOOD — Located in the fully established community of Golf Manor on the west side of Union Lake Road, is the Pinewood, newest of seven models open for public inspection. Priced in the $15,000 bracket, it has 1,437 square feet of living area, three bedrooms, a recreation room and kitchen appliances. Models are open daily except Wednesday, and Sunday from noon until 8 p. m., and Saturday from noon to 6 p. m.

Extra Actions Hasten Sales

A home owner anxious to sell his home usually turns it over to a broker, a real estate board or both. He may even run a small ad in the classified section of his local newspaper.

* * *

Is there more he can do to quickly dispose of his home? The answer is yes, provided the house is marketable.

As proof, consider the experience of one owner whose recent job change necessitated a coast-to-coast move. Eager to move his family with him, he did all of the above and more.

First he prepared some descriptive literature on a standard 8½- by 11-inch sheet folded in half so that it became a four-page folder. The front cover had a simple sketch of the home and presented the asking price.

TELLS FEATURES

The second page described the features of the house — ceramic tiled bathrooms, finished recreation room, built-in bookcases and cabinets, patio and fireplace. The third page described the plot and the community, and the fourth page gave mortgage information.

It cost the owner $20 to print 500 copies of the folder, which he circulated among friends, neighbors, business acquaintances and, of course, real estate brokers.

Result: 13 days after placing the house on the market, he disposed of it on a direct sale after considering nine different offers.

More and more homeowners are finding a simple descriptive information sheet to be an effective sales stimulant.

Prospective buyers like it too, for it enables them to find the answers to questions they forgot to ask when visiting the house. It also helps to establish the seller as a reliable individual who is willing to describe his home, yard and community in writing.

1,000 Visit Model Home

More than 1,000 visitors have turned out to inspect an all-new model home opened only recently in the Union Lake community of Golf Manor, located in the heart of the lake and recreation country only twenty minutes from downtown Pontiac.

The new home, called the Pinewood makes a total of seven different models now available in this fully established community.

Built and developed by the Detroit-based Smoker Co., Golf Manor already boasts over 150 families living in newly built homes.

THREE BEDROOMS

The trilevel model called the Pinewood is priced from $14,990.

In its 1,437 square feet of living area, the Pinewood provides three spacious bedrooms, all with birch folding closet doors; 1½ baths; a separate panelled dining area with parquet floor and a large bay window; a U-shaped kitchen equipped with a Hotpoint combination range and oven, Nutone hood fan, colored sink, coppertone backsplash and built-in pegboarded broom closet; a large panelled recreation room on the lower level with a sliding glass door leading onto a 10- by 10-foot rear patio.

All seven models are open daily and Sunday from 12 noon to 8 p.m., on Saturday from noon to 6 p.m., and closed Wednesdays. Additional information may be obtained by calling the model phone EM 3-2123.

Porch Stages Comeback in New Homes

Just a decade ago, with the joint advance of air conditioning and the contemporary style, the porch was the "vanishing American."

But today it's coming back strong. The Southern Pine Association cites four primary reasons:

1. Wide popularity of wood plank-and-beam ceiling systems which can be economically extended to provide porch covering. 2. Protection porch gives paint on home exterior.

3. Shading effect of porch makes air conditioning work more efficiently. 4. Population trends to suburbs where attractive landscaping is conducive to outdoor relaxation.

To this, a fifth and final reason might be added — the fact that even the most ardent advocates of air conditioning occasionally like a taste of unfiltered air.

New Carpet Squares Put Down Easily

A new floor covering combines the plush of carpeting with the convenient installation of tile. The nine-inch squares of deep pile Acrilan fiber are attached to a plastic tile base. Each unit has saw-tooth edges that interlock tile-to-tile, so they stay on the floor without moving or slipping.

The carpet-tiles can be vacuumed, shampooed with dense soap or detergent suds, or removed for individual laundering. (Jaystron, Inc., Akron, Ohio).

Tray Is Plastic

A paint roller set includes a plastic tray which the manufacturer calls practically indestructible and unaffected by paint and paint products. It will not rust, corrode, chip or crack and dried paint will not cling to it. (Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., 632 Fort Duquesne Blvd., Pittsburgh, Pa.).

Use a masonry paint when you paint brick and stone walls because the mortar in this type construction is liable to affect oil-based paints.

Extra Faucets Serve as Fire Protection

How prepared would you be if a fire should start in your home? A quick telephone call would bring efficient firefighters to the scene, but what could you do until they arrived?

Most people run to the kitchen and fill pitchers and buckets with water, but these meager efforts are often in vain.

Two suggestions are offered by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau: 1—Always keep garden hoses attached to outside faucets so they can be used quickly; 2—have your plumbing contractor extend the water piping in your home to strategic points all around the outside of the house.

With as many as three hoses attached to three different faucets, the odds are good that you will be able to control or extinguish a spreading fire in your home no matter where it tsarts.

The extra faucets will also provide the family with many other conveniences throughout the year.

Faucets in the patio area (providing both hot and cold water) make summertime meals and refreshments outdoors a real luxury.

Water outlets near the driveway or in the garage (hot and cold here, too) make a simple job of washing the car and the family dog.

And, of course, several faucets are indispensable for thoroughly watering lawns and flower gardens around the home, plus occasionally 'washing down' the dirtied exterior of the house.

Design on Floor, Walls Made With New Stencils

A kit of eight laminated oil-board stencils is used to create colorful designs to cover any floor or wall surface. The method for producing designs on flagstones or walls involves painting the area to be decorated a neutral color first.

When this coat is dry, the stencils are placed in position and various colors of paint are applied to the exposed area. (Stencilon, Inc., 60 E. 42nd St., New York N. Y.).

Choose Your Pattern

There are five popular flooring patterns available for laying Northern hard maple directly over the concrete subfloor in mastic. These include the square, rectangle, herringbone, end-to-end and the edge-grain patterns.

Built-in Lighting Gives Charm on Dark Days

Built-in lighting can be both functional and decorative in the home. It can be applied to any room or area, and to any type of architecture to give your home distinctive charm and atmosphere.

* * *

For instance, a lighted valance over your picture window will do away with a drab and uninviting area during the evening or on dark days. Colorful drapes brightly illuminated by fluorescent fixtures will make your living room spring to life — and charmingly so — under such conditions.

Bigger Louvers

Is your attic or under the roof crawl area warm and humid? This may be caused by too-small roof ventilating louvers. An attic exhaust fan will do wonders in removing this blanket of heat and in keeping air circulating. A window exhaust fan can also cool down the house after the sun goes down.

City Folk Buy Used Ones

Used homes account for more than three-quarters of homes purchased by a large urban segment of our population, according to a recent nationwide survey. This fact probably explains much of the $13 billion reported by the Census Bureau spent on home fix-up in 1960. More than a third of single home remodeling, it is estimated, was for kitchen and bath improvements.

Strainer screens on the faucet aerators of your home's plumbing system should be cleaned from time to time.

By OSWALD JACOBY

Italy started the third session of the championship match trailing by 32 International Match points. It did not take the team long to start coming back.

JACOBY

The bidding in the box took place when Belladonna sat West and Averelli East.

Belladonna's one diamond opening was in accordance with the Roman system as was Averelli's response of two diamonds.

Belladonna's jump to three spades showed at least five cards in that suit and a very big hand, with at least three diamonds. I don't think that Avarelli would have leaped to six diamonds had Italy been in front, but his team was trailing and he decided to try for a swing.

He got the swing all right. North knew that Avarelli was shooting right at him. He had to lead something and he put the ace of hearts on the table. He shifted to the queen of clubs, but the damage had been done. West took dummy's ace and ran off the rest of the tricks with diamonds, spades and the king of hearts. Of course, he had to drop the spade jack, but it was there unguarded and ready for him.

At the other table America bid and made a prosaic game to hold their loss on the hand to 13 IMPs.

For Sunday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Self-assertion of primary importance. Activity in church affairs promises satisfaction, could lead to personal, professional advancement. Key is confidence. Believe what you say.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Excellent for picnics, walks, talks with spiritual mentors. Avoid brooding. Instead, sum up personal situation. Decide what must be done for greater spiritual happiness. Give serious thought to moral obligations.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Take care not to be too critical. Instead, stress leniency, understanding. Younger person may irritate you with his ideas. But constructive course would be to listen and possibly to learn.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Give thought to social activity. But do not attempts to mix business and pleasure One who "gets you off in corner" should be given polite but firm no. Put across point with humor.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Avoid going to extremes in handling details. Pay heed to one close to you who advises relaxation. Conserve energy. Utilize mental energies in striving for better times ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You may find yourself center of attention. Be prepared to give good account of yourself. Means you must be aware, sensitive to reactions of others. Stay close to home if possible.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct. 22): Tendency is to project, to "see" into future. This is fine if what you perceive is based on past performance. Otherwise, you could attribute qualities to individuals which they do not possess. Be practical.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Pinpoint your message. Don't beat around the bush. Say what must be said. Others will respect you for being truthful. And you will have satisfaction of knowing you did what was right.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Day for absorbing inspiration. Message of wise person should be perceived. Fine for reading, resting, making long-range decisions. Could mark beginning of major cycle if you can detect subtle meanings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Moderation should be key. Better to feel "drab" than to be overly stimulated. Like Taurus, take time to see picture as a whole. Be patient. Plan course that features step-by-step advance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Pleasure through friends indicated. You can share hopes, wishes, and perhaps come up with valuable ideas. One close to you could remind you of details which cannot be ignored. Pay heed!

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle up for Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius. Special word to Cancer: Be considerate of feelings of others. But refuse to be persuaded against your will.

For Monday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You may find yourself being held back because friends lack either the desire or the finances to "keep up." So be prepared to follow through on plans alone.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): You make mistake if you underestimate person or project. Deception could be involved in report which states "road is easy." Better be sure you really know the rules of the "game."

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Favorable lunar aspect today indicates you should look beyond immediate benefits. Be willing to make some sacrifices in order to achieve greater future gain. Moon position "on your side" today.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Good Venus aspect to your sign means today is excellent for expanding contacts. And for romance. Remember, however, that financial extravagance could lead to sorrow tomorrow.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You may be impatient with family members, business associates and most certainly with yourself. Take time to "cool off." Cycle will soon rise and you will gain by waiting.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Very good for training pets, showing fellow workers that you are aware of their problems. Important to avoid worrying. Stress should be on self-reliance. Otherwise, you waste time and energy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Key is achievement. You can make this a banner day if you push ahead until objective is accomplished. This happens if you concentrate on originality, and are not afraid of being "different."

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Feeling of restriction should not be permitted to dominate. Instead, handle details; day to make sure you have facts at hand. Tonight very promising for impressing person who "counts."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Take a chance on yourself. Trust hunch. You are able to see behind scenes. If you do, you could hit "jackpot." Key is versatility. Not time to stick in rut.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Answer to question concerning additional financial responsibility is yes. But not quite the way you presently picture situation. There are going to be some changes made. Be ready!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Good day for adding to income, for meeting new, vital persons through hobbies, mutual interests. Avoid scattering forces, running yourself down physically. Important to get your rest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Pleasing personality could accomplish more than forcing methods. Be diplomatic, take time to care about problems facing those close to you. Stay out of dispute involving close friends.

★ ★ ★

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . this is month to make new start and gain added independence.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Look for publicity concerning discovery enabling man to utilize forces of nature.

Note 11.4 Pct. Hike in 'Big Mac' Traffic

ST. IGNACE (AP) — An 11.4 per cent increase in August traffic over the Mackinac Bridge was reported yesterday by the bridge authority.

Chairman Prentiss M. Brown said the increase over the last year represented a "large financial gain" since August is the biggest month of the year for bridge traffic.

The authority also reported an increase of 6 per cent in crossings for the first eight months of 1962 as compared to last year.

August crossings totaled 273,138 this year against 245,148 last year. Revenues were $1,141,916 as compared to $1,028,801.

For the eight-month period this year traffic totaled 814,447 as compared to 768,299 last year. Revenue increased to $3,572,964 from the $3,365,483 of last year.

Ninowski Stars Again in Cleveland Victory

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Lions may have landed a Plum in their multi-player deal with Cleveland but it still looks as if the prize apple belongs to the Browns.

* * *

The Browns, in trading quarterback Milt Plum and two other top players to Detroit, got quarterback Jim Ninowski and a pair of regulars in return during the off-season, and both have proven great bargains.

But Ninowski has drawn the first edge, leading the Browns to a 5-0 exhibition mark after he helped move them to a 28-24 victory last night over the winless (0-5) Chicago Bears.

Plum steered the Lions (4-1) to a 14-0 victory over St. Louis in the night's other National Football League exhibition. But the loss was at the hands of Cleveland and Ninowski in the first pre-season game for both teams. They do not meet again during the regular season.

* * *

More exhibition activity is on tap today, with the Browns' two arch rivals for Eastern Conference supremacy, New York and Philadelphia, meeting at Princeton's Palmer Stadium this afternoon. This weekend marks the last preseason tuneup for all clubs, with the season opening Sept. 16.

PLAY IN DIXIE

Tonight, a pair of exhibitions are scheduled in Georgia, with Dallas facing the Minnesota Vikings in Atlanta and the Green Bay Packers meeting Washington in Columbus. The Los Angeles Rams play host to San Francisco in another night game. Baltimore visits Pittsburgh tomorrow afternoon.

Ninowski tossed a 13-yard pass to rookie end Gary Collins midway in the final period last night to get the Browns' victory. He also had a 5-yard TD toss to Rich Kreitling for a 21-10 halftime lead that was almost forgotten when the Bears' Willie Gallimore and Charlie Bivins scored second half touchdowns for a 24-21 lead.

Ninowski had a strong supporting cast, as rookie halfback Ernie Green tossed a 29-yard TD pass to Ray Renfro and fullback Jimmy Brown scored on a 5-yard burst. Green, obtained only a month ago from Green Bay, outrushed Brown 38-34 in the first half.

* * *

A Denver Bronco 30-21 victory over the favored San Diego Chargers Friday night got the American Football League off to a lively start in advance of three more games this weekend.

* * *

The Boston Patriots will play at the Dallas Texans' ballyard tonight with the rest of the teams competing Sunday. The defending champion Houston Oilers will play the Buffalo Bills in Buffalo and the New York Giants will meet the Oakland Raiders on the West Coast.

LARGE CROWD

Denver's biggest crowd — estimated at 28,000 — since the AFL was launched in 1960 thoroughly enjoyed watching the alert Broncos outplay the Chargers with real authority.

Frank Tripucka's passing and wide-awake defense work by the Broncos spelled the difference. The 34-year-old Notre Dame and pro veteran, getting protection such as he never knew in two previous seasons here, placed the football in his receivers' arms with consistent accuracy.

One of his scoring throws covered 49 yards with Bob Scarpitto running the last 32 yards to the goal line. Tripucka's passing figured in four scoring drives as Denver piled up 384 yards through the air to only 112 for the Chargers.

* * *

Along with Trip's seasoned right arm, Gene Mingo's right foot was a big help. Gene kicked three field goals, two of which in the third period were terrific boots of 41 and 53 yards.

K. of C. Holds Golf, Bowling

Local Council Is Host to State Links Meet; Mrs. Ladewig Here

Knights of Columbus golfers and bowlers from Councils in Michigan are competing in respective tournaments in Pontiac this weekend.

* * *

More than 250 golfers will compete in the Michigan state K of C tournament being held today and Sunday at Highland Hills Golf Club.

Pontiac K. of C., five time winners, will try to regain the trophy from defending champion Kalamazoo.

On the local team are Glen Harding, Ed Wasik, Joe Petroff, Jim Anderson, Diamond Wright, Chuck Riharb and Ed Leonard.

* * *

In the annual mixed doubles bowling tournament being held at North Hill Lanes in Rochester, the Pontiac K. of C. is also host.

A dinner and dance will be held at the Pontiac K. of C. hall tonight.

Elsewhere in bowling, the famed Marion Ladewig will make appearances here and good scores are in from two classic leagues.

* * *

Mrs. Ladewig will be at 300 Bowl tomorrow afternoon and night. She is at Birmingham Recreation today at 2:30 p.m.

The Pontiac All Star Classic opened with a composite 190 average at 300. Monroe Moore's 634 paced his team to the only sweep although Earl Castle's group got one by forfeit. Best total was 1,802 by Paul George's 259-626 and Ken Wilhite 604. Ron Rothbarth hit 625, Castle 614, Bill Sweeney 608, Arley Sheffer 607,, Bill Eggleston 601 and Paul Karas 251.

In the North Hills Classic, Ken VanDeMoortell fired 226-652, Elmer Sturdevant 223-642, Bill Johns 237-644, John Sable 239-639, Jay Koprince 236-600, Curt Ferris 236, Ralph Kruetziger, 233-214, Charles Palaian and Joe Myers 212 and Chuck James 203-200.

Appaloosa Horses Go Through Paces

Appaloosa horses will be put through their paces tomorrow in West Bloomfield Township when second annual Festival and Stallion Awards are held at the Golden H Corral.

* * *

Again as last year Cherokee Indian Chief Shatka Bear-Step of Scottsdale, Ariz., will be the guest of honor and will present a silver and turquoise crest of his own design to the grand champion of show.

The 100-acre Golden H Corral 1800 Hillary Road is owned by Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Head, host of the one-day show that is attracting entries from neighboring states.

The program will get under way at noon and will continue until 4 p.m. There is no admission charge to the show and parking will be available.

To Beat Nicklaus, Player

Palmer Is Favored in 'World Series'

AKRON (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, who needs money like a duffer needs another divot, was favored to beat Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player today in a "Worl dSeries" staged in this new golfing capital of the world.

* * *

At stake, in this television spectacular, was $50,000 first place money, and Palmer, the Masters and British Open champion, was the 9 to 5 choice over Player, the P.G.A. champion, and 11 to 5 over Jack Nicklaus, the U.S. Open champion.

Those betting on Palmer remembered that just a month ago he won $20,000 first place money in the American Golf Classic going away by six strokes over the same long Firestone Country Club course. Nicklaus was seven strokes off over the 7,165 yard course with its par of 35-35—70 while Player was way back, 14 strokes off the winning pace.

Palmer was four under par for that 72 hole tournament. If he can shoot that way today and tomorrow, it probably will mean that he will pick up the first prize money — at the rate of approximately $385 a stroke.

"But I was putting real well then," he recalled. "And now I'm not driving so good."

PUTTING SHARP

In winning the classic he had 27 putts on his first round, 29 on his second and 30 on each the third and fourth.

"If he plays like that on the greens tomorrow, it's goodnight," said Nicklaus, who beat Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. Open championship last June.

"You can say that again," echoed Player, who lost to Palmer in a playoff for the Masters.

That would leave Nichlaus and Player playing for second place money of $15,000, and with $10,000 going to the last man. Should there be a tie for second and third place, they will split the $25,000.

Baxter Still Up by 3 Strokes at Denver Open

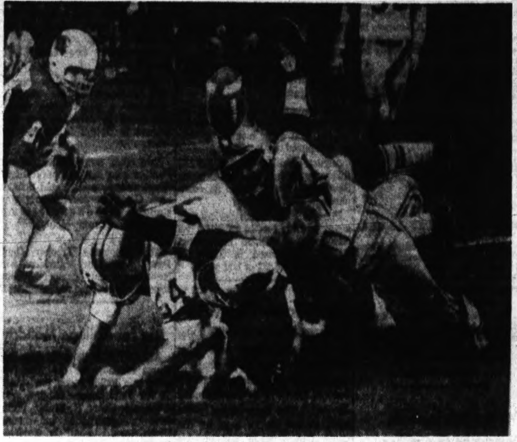
DENVER (UPI) — Two more rounds of par golf could be sufficient for young Rex Baxter Jr. to win the Denver Open and break his jinx of never finishing first in a professional tournament.

* * *

Baxter held a three-stroke lead going into today's third round of the $30,000 tournament, and par golf over the tricky Denver Country Club course was looking better each day. He banked himself to a six under par 64 in the opening round, which was three strokes ahead of the field, then maintained the margin with a par 70 yesterday for a halfway total of 134.

Only 13 pros were under par going into the third round, and Baxter's 64 was the only 18-hole round below 67.

Going into the third round, five veteran pros were only three strokes back at 137—Jack Fleck, Los Angeles; Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.; Dave Marr, Sun City, Ariz.; Marty Furgol, Coghill, Ill., and Bayer. And another stroke back were Don January, Dallas; Bill Johnston, Phoenix, Ariz., and Ken Still, Tacoma, Wash.



START OF TD — Cardinal halfback Prentice Gautt makes a last grab for a fumble as he is brought down by Alex Karras (71) and Max Messner (54) of Lions while trying to pass. Dick (Night Train) Lane picked off the loose ball and rambled 72-yards for the Lions' second touchdown in the 14-0 victory.

Tigers Play Giveaway, Spoiling Homers

State Boy Kaat Whips Detroit, 6-4

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Kaat, a towering, rawboned left hander, is another homegrown pitcher the Tigers let get away — only to regret it later.

* * *

The Detroit organization was tipped years ago about the kid with the whiplash fastball on the Hope College campus. But the Tigers chose to ignore Kaat.

So the Holland youth signed with the old Washington Senators and today is a strongboy in the Minnesota Twins' pennant bid.

Kaat's pitching — plus plenty of giveaway by the Tigers — enabled the second-place Twins to keep pace last night with the Yankees in the tight pennant race. The 6-4 victory kept the Twins three games behind New York, which beat Boston 5-4. Three Tiger errors and a passed ball let the Twins score four unearned runs. The loss was the Tigers 11th in 13 games with Minnesota.

"Kaat has come a good long way," said manager Sam Mele, whose Twins are contending despite a shortage of top-flight pitchers. "His fast ball isn't the only thing he beats them with. He's got a good sinker and two kinds of curves."

The 24-year-old Kaat now has 16 victories, most of any American League southpaw.

TOUGH IN CLUTCH

He allowed the Tigers nine hits—two of them homers by Al Kaline and Chico Fernandez. But he was tough in the clutch in the last four innings as he went the distance for the 15th time. In comparison, the only Tiger pitcher with as many as 10 complete games is Jim Bunning.

A controversial obstruction call by plate umpire Ed Runge let the Twins score their winning run in the sixth when they overcame a 4-3 Tiger advantage. And Kaat started the two-run rally with a single and scored the tying run on Rich Rollins' single.

Vic Power scored from first on the same play. As Kaline's throw from right skipped past third, Power headed from second. Rounding third, Power slowed up to get around Steve Boros and was beaten to the plate by the retrieved ball.

"Boros obstructed him in the basepath and I had to allow Power to score the run," Runge explained.

* * *

Manager Bob Scheffing put up a strenuous argument with the usual result.

Power and Boros both said they didn't collide.

"There was no contact except I think I felt his sleeve brush me," said Boros. "Runge must have seen me jump away and maybe that made him think we touched."

Kaline's 25th homer put the Tigers ahead 3-2 in the third. The Twins had taken a 2-0 lead in the top of the inning on two unearned runs after Boros' error.

They tied it in the fourth, but Fernandez' 18th homer put the Tigers in front again in the fifth. Power's tie-breaking run in the sixth was unearned because Boros was charged with another error on the obstruction call.

Minnesota added a run, also unearned, in the seventh when Earl Battey was moved into scoring position on Dick Brown's passed ball.

Phil Regan, like Kaat a West Michigan product, pitched the first six innings for Detroit and was the loser.

Don Mossi was to pitch for the Tigers today in the second contest of the three-game Minnesota series. Camilo Pascual was Mele's choice.

Detroit Ends With 4-1 Mark in Exhibitions

Regular Season Ready to Start Next Week Against Steelers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Dress rehearsals and experimenting are over for the Detroit Lions. Next week the 14-week season begins for big stakes and top box office crowds.

The five-game exhibition season ended last night with the Lions using a surprisingly strong makeshift defense and the first offensive unit all the way to defeat the Cardinals, 14-0, in St. Louis.

* * *

It was the 4th victory in five pre-season games and the second straight win over the Cards. The game was played before 32,439 fans, the largest crowd to see a pro football contest in St. Louis.

With defensive stalwarts Darris McCord and Roger Brown on the sidelines with minor injuries, coach George Wilson started John Gonzaga and Sam Williams at defensive end posts, rookie Mike Bundra and veteran Alex Karras at defensive tackles. Dave Lloyd spelled Gonzaga who suffered bruised ribs to keep him out of the second half.

Ironically, the Cardinals were able to penetrate this quickly assembled defensive line with less success than they did a week ago in Omaha when the Lions won, 19-14.

They gained only 47 yards rushing, 14 in the second half. This was less yardage allowed than the Cards' first defensive unit which held the Lions to only 56 yards on the ground.

Bundra, who filled in for Brown, was especially impressive in his first full assignment. The 260 pounder from Southern Cal, broke through on numerous occasions to trip Sam Etcheverry trying to pass.

Etcheverry had his fill of leather. He was hit 11 times, losing a total of 66 yards. He did complete 17 of 31 passes for 120 yards but all for short yardage. When he tried the long aerials his accuracy was off and the Lions' defensive backs played havoc with the receivers.

PLUM'S HAND SORE

Milt Plum, playing with a taped right hand and wrist because of slight bruise, hit on only 13 of 26, had three intercepted for 131 yards and one touchdown. The touchdown was a beautifully executed 12 yarder in the first series of plays in the third quarter to Jim Gibbons.

After a scoreless first half during which neither team could penetrate within the other's 40-yard stripe, the Lions took the second half kickoff and Plum hit on four straight passes, three to Gail Cogdill and another to Terry Barr.

A couple running plays by Nick Pietrosante and Tom Watkins brought the ball to the 12 from where Plum tossed down the middle to Gibbons all alone for the score.

* * *

The Cards intercepted a moment later with Bill Stacey racing to the Lions' 27. On the first play, Prentice Gaunt fumbled in his own backfield, Dick "Night Train" Lane picked it up and went down the sidelines 72 yards to make it 14-0 with Wayne Walker's conversion.

It was in the 4th period that the defensive line stood out as the Cards got to the six yard line, the two and 12 and lost the ball and yardage on the 4th down play each time.

The Lions open against the Pittsburgh Steelers, Sunday September 16th, in the first of a 14-act NFL production.

78 in Red Wings Training Camp

Abel Expects Keen Battles for Positions

Squad Camp 12 Days Before Exhibitions to Start in Canada

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings opened their pre-season training camp here today with 78 hopefuls bidding for berths on the National Hockey League team.

★ ★ ★

Joining the squad will be farm system players from Edmonton, Pittsburgh, Hamilton and other affiliated teams. Sid Abel, manager-coach, said the squad would include 58 professionals and 20 amateurs.

Abel will have to sift through 24 defensemen, 9 goalies, 15 centers, 13 right wings and 17 left wings to come up with a team to improve on last season's fifth place finish.

Abel said he expected keen competition for berths on the club.

Plager and Locas were the property of the Montreal Canadiens. Plager set a western league record for defensemen last season by scoring 25 goals for Calgary. He was obtained from the Chicago Black Hawks.

Smith, obtained from the New York Rangers, and Faulkner, both were high scorers in the American Hockey League. Faulkner had 19 goals and 54 assists with Rochester and Smith had 41 goals for Springfield.

Also attracting some attention will be "bad boy" Howie Young, the hard-hitting defenseman who was a favorite of the fans. He was banished by former manager Jack Adams for his off-the-ice antics.

The Wings will practice here for 12 days, then break camp for an exhibition tour of Western Canada.

Waterford Softball Play Climaxed Tonight

The Waterford softball season will come to a climax tonight at 8:30 when the Shaw's Jewelers of 1958 meet the current All-Stars at the Drayton Park. Strong Widget baseball teams Steve's Market and the Falcons will open the program at 6:30.

Manager Tom Pearsall of Shaw's will use Perc McConner, Doug Hall and Jake Mazur on the mound John Herrington and Floyd Hicks Sharrad will direct the stars.

Pirates Bomb Dodgers; Giants, Yanks Win

Wills Steals Record in Loss

United Press International

Los Angeles' Maury Wills owns a new National League stolen base record today but it's the San Francisco Giants who may yet steal the big prize.

Wills stole four bases Friday night but they weren't nearly enough to prevent the Pittsburgh Pirates from beating the Dodgers, 10-1, and enabling the Giants to cut the Los Angeles lead to a mere half game when they shaded the Chicago Cubs, 6-5.

While Wills was displaying his remarkable skill in the almost-forgotten art of base-stealing, the Giants were showing their raw power with a very modern weapon known as the home run.

Wills' four steals raised his season total to 82 and surpassed the N.L. mark of 80 held by Cincinnati's Bob Bescher since 1911. Yet the only Dodger run was produced by Frank Howard's homer and the Pirates got their big lift when Bill Mazeroski snapped a 1-1 tie with a grand slam homer in the eighth inning.

Mazeroski also knocked in two runs in the ninth inning when a five-run Pittsburgh outburst clinched Earl Francis' seventh win. Stan Williams suffered his 11th defeat for the Dodgers.

Jose Pagan, Tom Haller and Felipe Alou homered and Willie Mays hit two doubles for the Giants to pave the way for Jack Sanford's 15th straight victory and his 21st of the season. Sanford went 7⅓ innings with Stu Miller shutting out the Cubs for the last 1⅔ frames. Sanford is now four wins short of the major league mark of 19 consecutive victories held by Rube Marquard.

The Cincinnati Reds moved to within 3½ games of first place with a 6-5 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3, and the Houston Colts beat the New York Mets, 4-2, in other N.L. games.

The New York Yankees retained their three-game lead in the American League when they beat the Boston Red Sox, 5-4. The second-place Minnesota Twins defeated the Detroit Tigers, 6-4, the third-place Los Angeles Angels scored a 10-inning 5-4 win over the Baltimore Orioles, the Washington Senators defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7-2, and the Cleveland Indians topped the Kansas City Athletics, 2-1.

★ ★ ★

Rookies John Kennedy and Don Lock had three hits each and Benny Daniels pitched six shutout innings of relief for the Senators while Pedro Ramos' two-hit pitching gave the Indians their triumph over Kansas City.

Bloomfield Hills Crash Kills Two MSU Coeds

Fast OK Likely on Reservist Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders predict speedy approval of President Kennedy's request for stand-by power to call 150,000 military reservists to active duty if necessary to deal with a new East-West crisis.

★ ★ ★

Primary concern in high official quarters here centers on the possibility of new Soviet moves in Berlin. But officials recognize that Kennedy's request may also be regarded in Moscow and Havana as a go-slow warning for the military build-up in Cuba.

The President sent his request to Congress Friday without any prior public hints of such action, although the White House said the plan was discussed with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders when they met with the President Tuesday for a fill-in on Cuba.

This tie-in with Cuba quickly created speculation that Kennedy and his top advisers may be more worried than they have appeared to be about the recent substantial deliveries of Soviet arms to the Castro regime.

Well-informed officials said this was not the case, although they said Kennedy would like to have the stand-by power in the event of unexpected developments in the Cuban situation.

The more serious problem and the far greater danger, according to these informants, lies in Berlin, where there has been a steady build-up of East-West tensions.

In recent months Soviet Premier Khrushchev has made repeated threats to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, claiming this would give the East German regime power over Western access to West Berlin.

American officials are by no means certain what Khrushchev will do in the next few months while Congress is out of session. Nor are they clear on what steps the Communists may take with respect to West Berlin if a peace treaty is signed soon.

But Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reportedly agreed that it would be important for the President to have additional resources of military authority.

WOULD RUN TO FEB. 28

The new authority would run from the time Congress adjourns, now expected some time next month, until next Feb. 28, which would be about two months after the next session begins.

A little more than a year ago Kennedy asked Congress for substantial increases in the permanent strength of the Army Navy and Air Force and requested also power to call reserve and guard units to active service.

Congress approved his request in about five days and congressional leaders said Friday they hope for similar, swift action on his new appeal.

"In my judgment this renewed authorization is necessary to permit prompt and effective responses, as necessary, to challenges which may be presented in any part of the free world," the President told Congress Friday, "and I hope that the Congress will give its prompt support of this authorization, as it did, so effectively, a year ago."

Shortly after he sent his formal request to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as president of the Senate and House Speaker John W. McCormack D-Mass. Kennedy conferred with Rusk. It was understood that they discussed potential future developments in the Berlin situation.

McCormack said he has "every confidence that Congress will enact the reserve legislation."

Farmer Ban Cuts Supply of Livestock

CORNING, Iowa (AP)—Supplies of slaughter livestock in the Midwest were running low today and retail meat prices already were on the increase during a buildup of the National Farmers Organization's withholding action.

★ ★ ★

After a full week of NFO action to keep beef, hogs and sheep off the market until processors agree to price contracts, packinghouse plants in Iowa and some neighboring states were laying off workers because of the lack of supplies.

There were no reports of retail counters running out of fresh meat, but some stores in Des Moines, Kansas City, Chicago and Louisville boosted prices from 5 to 10 cents a pound. Increases of 10 to 15 cents a pound for some cuts appeared possible next week.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture in Chicago also said that the lag in livestock receipts this week may cause prices to go up next week.

'NOT NECESSARY'

NFO national headquarters here said that price adjustments since labor day were an indication of the effectiveness of its holding action but that retail boosts were not necessarily caused by it.

Sensitive to possible consumer reaction, NFO officials said they were checking to see if price rises were justified.

National president Oren Lee Staley was in Minnesota Friday night for farmer meetings and was expected back today. Headquarters said a statement would be forthcoming after his return.

Military Men Fear 'Yo-Yo'

Recurring Calls May Make It Hard to Get Recruit Volunteers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some top officers voiced concern today that the "yo-yo" effect of recurring moves to call up military reservists would make it difficult to recruit volunteers for the National Guard and Reserve.

★ ★ ★

By yo-yo effect they meant the call-up of Reservists to meet a crisis such as in Berlin, the release of these Reservists when the crisis abates and then moves to muster more Reservists when new crises loom.

These officers stressed they were not suggesting that military Reservists are inclined to shrink duty.

But they indicated they thought periodic moves signaling possible calls to active service keep Reservists on tenderhooks and create a morale problem.

ATTRACTION HARDER

If this sort of pattern continues, these officers said, the Reserve and National Guard may find themselves hard put to attract volunteer recruits and may have to rely on men with Reserve obligations to fill their ranks.

This would make it all the harder for the Army to maintain its Reserve forces at 700,000 men as Congress has ordered it should try to do this year.

Pentagon officials told Congress some months ago that they would have to undertake a heavy recruiting drive to come close to the 700,000 figure. They claimed that 642,000 was about the best they could hope to do.

★ ★ ★

Military officers foresaw another possible complication if recurring Reserve alerts and call-ups become a general practice. They said employers might avoid hiring young men who were Reservists subject to active duty and thus to prolonged absence from their jobs.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy's request Friday for stand-by authority to mobilize up to 150,000 Reservists, if necessary in the months ahead, came only a few weeks after about 147,000 Army, Navy and Air Force Reservists and National Geardsmen, called up after last summer's Berlin crisis, had returned to civilian life following about 10 months of duty.

News Flash

BERLIN (UPI)—The Western powers have agreed to stop the Soviets from using armored cars in changing guards at their war memorial in West Berlin, an Allied spokesman said today. The move followed an earlier report that Russia is massing antiaircraft missiles along the vital air corridors between Berlin and the West, posing an additional threat to Allied air traffic.

TWO DIED — Minutes after a crash which killed two Michigan State University coeds, the truck which struck them is being disengaged from their wrecked car. A third MSU coed this morning was still fighting for her life in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The scene here is on southbound Woodward Avenue at Charing Cross Road, Bloomfield Hills.

3rd Girl Hurt as Automobile Hit by Truck

Car Struck Crossing Woodward Ave. After Ignoring Stop Signs

A Bloomfield Township Michigan State University coed and a classmate were killed yesterday when the convertible they were riding in was struck broadside by a loaded truck on Woodward Avenue in Bloomfield Hills.

The driver of the car, another MSU coed, is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries.

Of the victims, Kathleen Koehler, 20, of 4416 Far Hill Road, was dead on arrival at the hospital and Jeanne Taylor, 20, of Grosse Pointe Park, died of internal injuries 6½ hours after the 3 p.m. accident.

The accident apparently occurred, according to police, when the driver of the car, Katherine Kirby, 20, of Grosse Pointe Farms, failed to heed stop signs as she pulled out from Charing Cross Road across northbound Woodward and through the cutoff onto southbound Woodward.

Paul James, 51, of Davison, a truck driver for the Atlas Concrete Pipe Co., Flint, said "She pulled right across the road without stopping for the signs."

DRIVER RELEASED

James said he was traveling about 40 miles an hour when his truck smashed into the car, wedging it under the cab, and throwing the girls out.

The truck driver was released after making a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

The mother of one of the victims, Mrs. Alton R. Taylor, said that her daughter and the Kirby girl left home earlier in the day "to repay a visit to Kathleen who had been at our house Thursday."

"Jeanne phoned once and said she was having trouble finding the house and when I didn't hear from her again I became worried."

All three girls were to return to classes at MSU Sept. 20.

It is believed that the two girls had just picked up Kathleen from her home a few moments before the accident since it occurred only about a mile from her home.

Traffic was halted for some time on busy Woodward avenue by the accident, resulting in a lengthy traffic jam.

The two deaths brought to four the total number of automobile fatalities in Bloomfield Hills so far this year.

Blue Cross-Shield Want 50 Pct. Fee Hike

Ask Age Insurance Hike

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield have asked permission to boost senior citizen health insurance rates by 50 per cent, State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn said today.

★ ★ ★

He said the health insurance organizations also have proposed an expanded senior citizen plan, costing $359.40 a couple, that would add to the present plan 70 days ward service in hospital or nursing home or $15 a day in a nonparticipating hospital.

Colburn said he would meet with Blue Cross and Blue Shield officials in Detroit Monday to discuss the proposals.

The proposed rate increase from $203.28 a couple a year to $306 would affect some 20,000 present members, Colburn said. He said there would be minor changes in the present plan.

LIMIT AMENDED

Nonparticipating hospitals would receive $15 a day (an increase of $1) and the present 30-day limit for treatment of mental illness, nervous disorders and tuberculosis would be amended.

The 30-day limitation still would apply, Colburn said, except that, following a 90-day period without hospitalization, the patient would be entitled to a new 30-day hospitalization period.

Colburn said the deductable features of the present policy would not be affected by the proposed rate increase.

★ ★ ★

Senior citizens covered by group policies, he added, would not be affected by the proposed rate increase.

"The extended plan, if approved, is scheduled for introduction Oct. 1. Enrollment period would be limited to 30 days," Colburn said.

Under the plan, a patient admitted to a nursing home after a minimum of 24 hours hospitalization, and within 24 hours after discharge, woud be entitled to double the remaining days for nursing home care.

REGULAR RATE

Participating nursing homes would receive the regular daily rate under the plan and nonparticipating nursing homes would receive 60 per cent of the daily rate, not to exceed $8 a day.

Home nursing of up to 70 days would be paid to licensed and contracted nursing agencies.

Soblen Remains Grave but Improves Somewhat

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Soblen remained dangerously ill in a drug-induced coma today, but doctors reported some signs of improvement.

A medical spokesman said even if the 61-year-old fugitive spy regained consciousness immediately, he could not be moved for at least 48 hours.

Soblen has been unconscious since he knocked himself out two days ago with an overdose of barbiturates as he was being deported to the United States where he is under life sentence as a spy for the Soviet Union.

Dr. C. G. Barnes, head of the medical team attending Soblen, said the coma had lessened, but that its duration raised the possibility of brain damage. He said it was too early to determine whether such damage had occurred.

Dr. Barnes said Soblen's condition still was dangerous, but added Soblen's leukemia had not been aggravated and that there was no sign of lung congestion, which he said was always a risk with elderly patients.

He said an indication that the coma had lifted somewhat came when Soblen's breathing tube was removed and he made reflex movements.

"As for his heart, we have used cardiac stimulants to fortify it," the doctor said. Doctors had reported Friday that Soblem's heart showed signs of exhaustion.

Eye Extension for Petitions

Union Lake Effort on Incorporation Will Go to Supervisors

Recommendation that a citizens group be permitted a 30-day extension to recirculate petitions for the incorporation of Union Lake will be made to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by its boundaries committee Sept. 17.

The boundaries committee sanctioned the action at a meeting yesterday but will have to wait until later this month to learn if the board will confirm it.

The Union Lake Citizens Committee for Progressive Government, proposing city status for a 16-square-mile area around Union Lake, learned last month that its original petitions were not acceptable because of an error in the legal description of a parcel of property.

Approval by the board of supervisors of the extra time to correct the wording error and circulate new petitions would save the supporters of the incorporation $500, the fee required each time petitions of this type are filed with the county.

If the board allows the petitions to be recirculated and amended, the citizens group would have 30 days from the date of the approval to have the petitions returned to the boundaries committee for review.

The boundaries committee, finding the petitions and maps in order, would then recommend to the board a date for a special election on the incorporation proposal.

The election would only be for the purpose of choosing a commission which would draw up a charter. It would not decide city incorporation.

This charter would then have to be approved before the non-unincorporated area became a city.

The area proposed for incorporation takes in near-equal portions of four townships, Commerce, White Lake, Waterford and West Bloomfield.

So King Gustaf Adolf VI plays the king of Sweden in "The Wonderful Adventures of Nils," movie version of the famed fairy tale by Selma Lagerloef, Nobel Prize winner.

Algerian Elections Face Further Delay

ALGIERS (AP)—A new dispute over candidates for Algeria's constituent assembly threatened today to force postponement of national elections for the sixth time since French rule ended July 3.

* * *

Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau and the leaders of the rebellious guerrilla forces controlling the capital failed to agree on the candidate lists Friday after several hours of discussion.

TALKS RESUME

The backstage talks resumed today at the Political Bureau's headquarters. The state-owned Algiers radio said there was no agreement either on the lists or on the date of elections.

* * *

The Political Bureau announced Thursday that the elections would be held Sept. 16.

* * *

A list of candidates was drawn up last month after long negotiations between the rival factions, but this was scrapped when rebel Wilaya 4 temporarily overthrew the Political Bureau.

AGREE ON ONE PARTY

The quarreling leaders agree that the election should be held under a single-party system, leaving the voter a choice only of saying yes or no to the official list.

Although guerrilla patrols have disappeared from downtown Algiers, Wilaya 4 remained in control of large areas of central Algeria around the capital.

* * *

The Communist-equipped regular army remained poised 70 to 100 miles west and south of Algiers, ready to resume its advance if chief of staff Col. Houari Boumedienne gives the order.

SET NEW DATE

The Political Bureau set the Sept. 16 election date immediately after a cease-fire in the week-long civil war between the guerrillas and invading regular army forces seeking to establish the Political Bureau's authority in the capital.

As part of the cease-fire agreement, the two rebel Wilayas, 3 and 4, formally recognized the Political Bureau and agreed to a demilitarization of Algiers.

* * *

Their continued claim to a veto over the assembly candidates indicated that the cease-fire did little more tran stop the shooting, and that a new flareup in the crisis-torn nation was possible at any moment.

Miss America Named Tonight

Judges Face Difficult Task of Narrowing Field Down to One

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A week of frantic activity by 54 talented beauty queens will end tonight, in smiles and tears, when judges select a new Miss America.

* * *

The task confronting the judges is this:

Pick 10 semifinalists from the glamorous contestants. From the 10, select five finalists. Then name the girl who will reign as Miss America 1963.

The girl who will succeed Maria Beale Fletcher of Asheville, N.C., as the nation's queen of beauty is expected to be crowned shortly before midnight.

TO CLIMAX WEEK

The ceremony will climax a series of preliminary judging that began Monday in the nation's oldest beauty pageant. Competing are representatives from every state, Canada, the District of Columbia, Chicago and New York City.

Seven girls have won trophies in the three rounds of talent and swim suit preliminaries. Judging also has been completed in the evening gown division, but those winners are never announced.

Winners in the preliminary rounds receive $1,000 scholarships but they do not necessarily advance to the semifinals.

'TOO THIN'

The winner of the swim suit competition Friday was Miss Wisconsin—who thought she was too thin and has been drinking chocolate sodas to round out her 35-22-35 figure. She is Joan Mary Engh, 21, of La Crosse, Wis.

* * *

There was a tie in Wednesday's talent contest when the judges were unable to decide between the fiery baton twirling of Miss Nebraska, Mary Lee Jepsen, 18, of Paillion, Neb., and the organ and piano playing of Miss Maryland, Beverly Ann Smith, 18, of Baltimore.

They join the four girls who won the talent and swim suit competition in earlier rounds.

Suspect in Holdup to Get a Lie Test

LANSING (UPI) A lie detector test has been ordered for Nick Guido, 41, Chicago, who is fighting extradition from Michigan to Illinois on robbery charges.

* * *

Guido asked to take the test yesterday during a hearing before Robert Derengoski, legal advisor to Gov. John B. Swainson.

Derengoski adjourned the hearing until Sept. 17 pending the results of the test.

* * *

Guido was sought by Illinois authorities in connection with the June 4 robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Delott, Chicago.

* * *

Guido contended that he left Chicago June 3 and was in Milwaukee, Wis., at the time the robbery took place.

RINGS NO MORE — A victim of progress, the half-ton bell which once bonged the hour from atop the old courthouse in downtown Pontiac has no place in the new courthouse at the County Service Center. Here, James Ball, county maintenance man, attempts to restore some of the original luster to the bell cast in 1913. "It can be cleaned up," he said, though he didn't know for what purpose. The question has county officials stumped also.

Old Courthouse Bell Tolls for No One Now

Oakland County officials are wondering what to do with a half-ton bell which has been dumped in their laps, so to speak.

* * *

The bell was removed from the tower of the former courthouse now being razed.

* * *

As agreed, the bell was turned over to the county by the Wolverine Lumber 9 Wrecking Co. which is performing the demolition in downtown Pontiac.

But the county has no use for the displaced bell now. It squats temporarily on the concrete floor of the county maintenance department.

No allowance for a bell was made when the new courthouse was buit at the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

* * *

"I imagine the county would sell the bell if it would bring a thousand dollars," John Austin, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, mused.

DONATED TO COUNTY

He recalled that this was approximately the price offered a couple of years ago by the firm that originally cast the bell in 1913.

The bell was donated to the county the same year by Daniel L. Davis, a prominent attorney of the day and a former county clerk, in memory of his late wife.

Mr. Davis, now deceased also, was one of the principal speakers when the old courthouse cornerstone was laid in 1904.

An official of the bell firm, Century Tower Clocks of Manistee said at the time it made an offer to buy back the bell that it could be melted down and recast into chimes, according to George Atchison, head of county maintenance.

* * *

He recalled the official saying that the particular alloy used produced a highly desirous tone which would be difficult to duplicate otherwise.

Court Hits Ex-County Doctor

Wage Up? Alimony Too!

"If a divorced man's salary goes up, so does his alimony.

* * *

This is the ruling of the Michigan State Supreme Court in a precedent-setting case involving a former Oakland County physician, whose salary increased from $5,820 a year to $12,500 a year.

The case involved Dr. Allen D. Anneberg, who moved from a position as a $485-a-month resident physician at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac to a clinic in Carroll, Iowa, where he said his salary would be $12,500 a year.

Anneberg's wife sued for an increase in the $193-a-month support payments for two children when she learned of the impending transfer and salary increase. She lives at 3663 MacNichol Trail, West Bloomfield Township.

NEEDS OF CHILDREN

Anneberg argued that in determining the amount of support payments the income of the father is not the sole criterion but that the needs of the children must also be considered.

The high court agreed with an Oakland County court decision that the amount of child support a divorced father must pay should be based on a percentage of his salary and that when the salary is increased, the payments should go up accordingly.

LBJ Optimistic About Future

Johnsons Back Home After Goodwill Tour of Six Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned Friday night from a 17-day goodwill tour of six nations and said he "came away feeling quite optimistic about the future and the job that has been done."

* * *

ONLY ASK FAITH

Johnson, who scheduled a news conference for today, said the people of the countries he visited are dedicated "to our country and the principles upon which it is founded."

* * *

People believe in what the United States stands for and are willing to die for those principles, he said, adding that all they ask is a return of their faith.

* * *

The Vice President flew direct from Rome following his visit Friday with Pope John XXIII. The Johnsons also visited Lebanon, Iran, Turkey, Cyprus, and Greece after leaving the United States Aug. 22.

2 Men Injured Only Slightly in Head-On Crash

The general superintendent of the Oakland County Road Commission and a Detroit man escaped with minor injuries yesterday afternoon in the head-on crash of two cars on Telegraph Road.

* * *

The road commission official, Oscar D. Loomis, 58, of 2340 Montroyal Ave., Waterford Township, and Wyley Hendrix, 45, of Detroit, both are reported in satisfactory condtion today at Pontiac General Hospital.

* * *

Redford state police said Hendrix' car apparently went out of control when he applied the brakes about 4 p.m. yesterday on Telegraph south of 14-Mile Road.

* * *

Nationalist China Breaks Laos Ties

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Nationalist China broke diplomatic relations yesterday with Laos a few hours after the Laotian government established formal ties with Red China and Communist North Viet Nam.

The nationalist government entered relations with Laos in June during a visit to Taipei by members of the former royal Laotian government headed by ex-premier Boun Oum. The nationalists opened an embassy in Vietiane last month.

But in a communique issued by the foreign ministry last night, the Nationalists said they were breaking off relations immediately because of Vietiane's ties with Red China.

Laos also had diplomatic relations with South Viet Nam, but there was no immediate indication whether the Saigon government would break them.

Explosions Reported in Red China Province

MACAO (AP) — Newly arrived refugees from Red China report explosions ripped a radio station and a railway station in China's Kwangtung Proivnce recently, killing two persons.

There have been reports of seven other blasts this month in the south China province. The explosions are generally believed here to have been set off by Nationalist Chinese agents.

Segregationists Call Big Rally

Church Stand Firm Despite Shooting and Boycott at Schools

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Segregationists led by two excommunicated Catholics today called a giant rally against parochial school integration.

The church stood firm.

Archbishop John P. Cody served notice the New Orleans archdiocese would continue to open schools "to all races" despite a shooting incident at one elementary school, closing of another, demonstrations at a third and a white boycott.

Plaquemines Parish (county) political leader Leander H. Perez Sr., and Mrs. B. J. Gaillot, a New Orleans housewife who holds that the Bible teaches segregation, announced a mass segregation rally in Westwego, La., where segregationists have demonstrated outside a parochial elementary school for three days.

LOSE SACRAMENTS

Perez and Mrs. Gaillot were cut off from the sacraments of the church last spring for opposing the decision to integrate the parochial schools.

Their chief weapon against integration is a white boycott and it cut deeply into attendance at at least two schools in New Orleans and three outside the city.

The schools in Westwego and Harvey in Jefferson Parish and Buras in Plaquemines, 60 miles south of New Orleans, were the key segregationist targets.

Six pistol shots were fired into the front doors of St. Rosalie School in Harvey, just outside New Orleans, early yesterday before classes began.

The school, which has one Negro pupil, was heavily boycotted by whites. A Negro was hanged in effigy outside the school.

A crowd of 75 whites jeered and spat at a Negro mother and white parents bringing children to Our Lady of Prompt Succor School at nearby Westwego.

The school enrollment was one seventh of normal. One man was arrested for spitting at a white parent's car.

sachusetts, the senior Republican member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he would join with chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., in sponsoring the President's request in the Senate.

"Certainly we should give the President this authority, if he feels it will be helpful to maintain the security of our country," Saltonstall said.

Russell told newsmen the committee will take up the legislation next week and that "In my opinion, there is no question Congress will grant the President this authority."

Aides of Russell said McNamara and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, probably will be the only witnesses at the committee hearing.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Congress cannot quarrel with the President when, as commander-in-chief, he asks for stand-by authority to call up reservists. But Dirksen said, "There will be questions."

"You have a natural curiosity as to what is behind such a sudden call for authority when you have 2.8 million men in uniform," Dirksen said.

The Day in Birmingham

State, Area Candidates Invited to Sept. 22 Tea

BIRMINGHAM—Michigan's two leading gubernatorial candidates, along with those for county public offices, have been invited to the Oakland Citizens League Silver Anniversary Membership Tea Sept. 22.

* * *

The event at Cranbrook House, 380 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, is expected to provide the first and only meeting in Oakland County between Gov. John B. Swainson and his GOP rival George W. Romney during the current campaign.

In addition to candidates for public office and Oakland County elected officials, invitations have been mailed to nearly 1,000 county residents who have demonstrated their concern for good government.

Admission to the tea will be by invitation only.

Mrs. Robert VanderKloot of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. G. Howard Willett, Birmingham mayor, are heading the membership tea committee.

RECEPTION LINE

Henry S. Booth, who instigated the founding of the league 25 years ago this month, and W. Laurence Shaffner, current president, will head the reception line at Cranbrook House, the ancestral home of the Booth family.

The league is attempting to double its membership during a drive which ends Nov. 6.

The campaign is being conducted by a 34-member committee headed by F. Ward Ouradnik, director of Community House.

When Country Day School opens its doors for the new term Wednesday it will be the first time in the history of the 49-year-old school that more than 300 students have been enrolled, according to headmaster Rodman Snelling.

The Baldwin Public Library will take registrations Monday for enrollment of children in the fall school story hour program.

Application must be made in person. No registrations by phone will be accepted.

The six-week program begins Sept. 18 and each class will be limited to 25 children — 3 to 5 years old.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Burch, head of the boys and girls department at the library, and members of her staff will conduct the story hours.

Edward Cogger, 18, of 54358 11-Mile Road, South Lyon, last night was awarded a $200 freshman scholarship at Michigan State University, donated by the Optimist Club of Birmingham.

The selection was made by the awards committee of 4-H leaders on the basis of Edward's 4-H Club record.

He expects to study poultry science. He was selected from among five 4-H Club members, all from Oakland County.

Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cogger.

Wild Weather Whips West Half of Nation

By The Associated Press

Pounding rains, high winds, snow and cold hit broad areas in the western half of the nation today.

* * *

Cloudbursts swamped sections of Texas. Flash floods drove scores of families from their homes in the Fort Worth area during the night. One man was missing and may have drowned.

Tornadic winds ripped through Cleburne, 28 miles south of Fort Worth. The winds unroofed a church and destroyed the city garage and several other buildings.

* * *

Water invaded about 130 homes near Bog Fossil Creek in Richland Hills, a suburb of Fort Worth. Trucks manned by men from the Carswell Air Force Base and others took 140 families from the Sunset Acres and Sundown additions on the west fork of the Trinity River.

Hart Asks Provision to Curb Aid Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has proposed an amendment that would keep Michigan from suffering an immediate $1-million cut in federal aid when the aid formula for the school lunch program is changed.

* * *

The change, under a House-passed bill, would be from basing aid on the number of children attending schools to basing it on the number participating in the program.

It would become effective one year after the bill is passed.

K's a Ruffian, Frost Reports

Poet Uses Term as One of Admiration and Not Disrespect

MOSCOW (AP)—Poet Robert Frost declared today that Premier Khrushchev believes in magnanimity, and is a ruffian.

* * *

He did not hide his admiration for the Soviet leader, with whom he spent an hour or more talking Friday.

But it turned out it was Khrushchev who came to see Frost.

The poet flew down to Gagra, on the Black Sea, from Moscow but when it came time Friday for the conference, Frost didn't feel too well, so Khrushchev came over to the government house where the poet was staying.

WENT TO IT

There, Frost, 88, sat on the edge of the bed: "And we went to it."

His description of Khrushchev as a ruffian was strictly to express his admiration. It came after he was asked whether Khrushchev had given him any message to carry to President Kennedy.

SHOCKED SOVIETS

"Yes, in a way," he said, but immediately some of his careful associates stopped him and told him he should tell that to Kennedy.

Frost expressed his views to Soviet and foreign correspondents crowded into his apartment in Moscow's best hotel, the Sovetskaya.

The first talk was of politics, but the comment which shook the Russians came in reply to a question as to whether Russian poets were well known in the United States.

"The chief one seems to be Pasternak."

* * *

Instantly there was a hush, the foreigners waiting for the Russians to react. The Russians were shocked and embarrassed. The late Boris Pasternak, much respected in artistic circles, is still a name which frightens many Russians, for he was virtually read out of Soviet citizenship for his novel "Dr. Zhivago" which won the Nobel Prize in literature in 1958.

School Row Lines Clearly Drawn

By JIM LONG

Fence-straddlers in the Avondale School District?

Not any, if a public meeting last night to discuss the recall of four school board members was an indication.

* * *

The 90 persons at the meeting were either in favor of the ouster maneuver or dead set against it. There were no in-betweens.

With feelings on the subject sharply divided, there was little chance of anything being accomplished except to learn the others' views.

The meeting in the Auburn Heights Fire Hall was called by the Avondale School District Improvement Association to let residents express their opinions.

WANTS RECALL

The ASDIA wants to recall the officers of the school board, Floyd Cobb, president; David W. Hackett, vice president; Raymond N. Baker, secretary, and Mrs. Genevieve Porter, treasurer, claiming that the four "have not acted in the best interest of the people in the school district."

Cobb, Hackett and Mrs. Porter attended the meeting but made no comment.

The recently organized citizens group contends the four forced LeRoy R. Watt to resign as superintendent because they would not renew his contract.

OWN CHOICE

Watt has stated that he resigned of his own volition to become superintendent of schools in Wooster, Ohio.

* * *

Since then the chief concern of the ASDIA has become "the speed in which the board took action in naming Watt's successor (George E. Shackelford), three days after his resignation," said Thomas B. Rocker, ASDIA president.

"We believe he could have been named acting superintendent rather than immediately given a full contract," said Rocker.

* * *

"We have no criticism of Mr. Schackelford — we wish him luck —nor the board in its choice; only in the way in which it was handled."

He said the board allowed no time for the interviewing of other possible candidates. Shackelford was principal of Elmwood Elementary School before being named superintendent.

Recall petitions are being circulated said Rocker, with a target date to obtain 1,500 signatures by Oct. 1. The total is more than required under law.

LISTED SEPARATELY

The petitions list each board member individually, allowing residents to consider the recall of each separately.

A special election would be held within 35 days after verification of the signatures unless a regular election is scheduled within 90 days.

Make-Up Must Be Right

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here are a few "Dos" and "Don'ts" I have learned from interviewing many experts in the field of make-up, which is truly a magic land that can make you look more beautiful than you naturally are, or less lovely than you naturally are.

Any woman can be made more attractive with make-up, even if it is just a bit of powder on her nose or light mascara on the lashes, or a touch of lipstick and rouge.

Do make down instead of up. When make-up is too heavy, it obscures natural beauty and creates a harsh, hard appearance. It should be applied with a subtle touch and should look as natural as possible.

* * *

Do use a brown eyebrow pencil instead of a black one, even if you are a brunette. If you are a true brunette, use a combination of brown and black pencils.

Don't place rouge low on the face. This is aging. Do blend it outward so that there is not a defined line.

Don't put on two or more coats of foundation or make-up base. Make the first one heavier, rather than to put on coat after coat.

Don't powder heavily over lines. The powder settles in the creases and makes them more noticeable.

Do use mascara, but be sure that the brush is not too wet. If it is, the lashes will stick together. Black mascara is flattering to everyone but the very blonde woman. She should use brown mascara.

Do use the same powder base and powder on your neck that you use on your face. Be sure that these are well blended on the jawline also.

Don't put on two coats of make-up base, says Josephine Lowman, who gives you make-up pointers today.

Susan Ann Swan wed Willard L. VandeWater Jr. of Birmingham in Christ Church Cranbrook Friday afternoon in a double ring ceremony. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Swan of Bloomfield Township.

* * *

A flowered Chantilly lace bodice with lace panel front and long lace sleeves crowned the taffeta bridal gown. The dress featured a square scalloped illusion neckline and bustled chapel train of sheath taffeta.

* * *

SISTER'S ATTENDANT

Cindy Swan was her sister's honor attendant, wearing turquoise silk faille as did bridesmaids Barbara Orr of Birmingham, Nancy Willets of Essex, Conn., and Susan Stanton of Boston.

The maid of honor carried white majestic daisies with ivy and the bridesmaids carried similar bouquets, but of yellow majestics.

Geoffrey MacGlashan of Birmingham served as best man. Ushers were Stephen VandeWater and Glenn Orr, both of Birmingham; Glenn Morse of St. Louis, Mo., Richard Lawless of Philadelphia and Norman Stanton of Boston.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WILLIAM E. Humphrey, who passed away September 8, 1957.

To see his smile and hear his voice
That meant so much to us.
Sadly missed by mother, Mabel and brother, Thomas.
