Court Orders Steelworkers Back to Their Jobs

Developers Eye Service Center for City Airport

A $2,500,000 airplane service center, to be developed by private capital in anticipation of a boom at Pontiac Municipal Airport, has been proposed to the City Commission.

The project could get under way immediately if the city allows it to tie in with the airfield proper, said Joseph E. Miller, a partner in the venture.

Foreseeing a big potential demand for more air facilities and services at the airport, Miller and his partner, W. G. Wade, have outlined their plans in detailed letters to the City Commission members.

They have asked for time to present the plan in person at a regular Commission meeting.

Miller is a Birmingham man who helped found Flite Line, Inc., a sales and service company at the airport. A Southfield resident, Wade is owner of Wade Amusement Rides, a carnival outfit, and has guided his various shows about the state by a private airplane for many years.

Forming the Miller-Wade Co., the two businessmen own one 39-acre site and have options to purchase another of 47 acres, both located immediately north of the airfield.

They said that they are prepared to construct a cluster of hangars on eigher site for storage and maintenance of aircraft, as well as overnight facilities for passengers, including motel units.

They also propose to lease some of their land for construction of private hangars by corporations which conduct business by means of private aircraft.

"The airport needs this kind of development in order to handle the increased business that we expect will occur as a result of the new terminal and tower and longer runways," said Miller.

★ ★ ★

The city has neither land nor sufficient money for such a project, he said, "but we do."

"It would be foolish not to have the facilities that would allow the airport maximum use."

DEED ACCESS

To put the facilities to use would require direct access for aircraft from the airfield's taxi strips to the service center.

Such access would be one of the first, if not the first, at any publically owned airport, Miller conceded.

But he predicted such arrangements would become commonplace in the near future when it becomes apparent that public funds are not sufficient to meet the demands of the air age.

Miller said the company was prepared to pay for access rights through fees adjustable to the House Struck by Flying Parts

EXAMINE WRECKAGE — Two men check for smoldering wreckage in the home of Alex Zebelian Jr., 25229 Dayton Rd., Armada Township, showered by debris when a Selfridge Air Force jet trainer crashed nearby six minutes after take-off. No one was injured. The two pilots parachuted to safety.

Five Narrowly Escape Death as Jet Falls in Armada Twp.

An Armada Township farmer's wife, her son and daughter-in-law narrowly escaped death yesterday when an Air Force jet trainer crashed nearby, showering their homes with flaming wreckage.

They were not injured.

The two pilots also escaped serious injury when they bailed out at 8,000 feet six minutes after takeoff from Selfridge AFB.

Mrs. Alex Zebelian Jr., 25229 Dayton Rd., said she was talking on the phone to her mother-in-law, who lives next door, when she heard her scream and drop the receiver.

"I heard the explosion at the same time," said Mrs. Zebelian.

FALLS ACROSS ROAD

"I ran outside and saw the plane crash across the road. Our roof was on fire. I couldn't move and just stood there for a minute thanking God it didn't hit us."

The wheel of the fallen craft struck the home of Mrs. Zebelian Sr., 25571 Dayton Rd., leaving a gaping hole in the roof. Siding from the front of the home was shorn off.

Mrs. Zebelian Sr. had to be put under sedation.

The two airmen, Lt. Col. Robert D. Wallace, 42, of Kennebunk Beach, Md., and 1st Lt. David W. Smith, 26, of Frederick, Md., were picked up a quarter-mile from the crash scene.

They were taken back to Selfridge by helicopter.

The jet chisled a 15-foot hole several feet into the open field. Parts were scattered more than a quarter-mile in every direction.

Wreckage caught in trees and smoldered like macabre ornaments.

Alex Zebelian Jr., who was eating lunch at the time, said the explosion was "like a sonic boom" but not quite as sharp. It was more rumbling," he said.

★ ★ ★

Zebelian was able to extinguish the fire on his home and his mother's with a garden hose.

Col. Wallace said everything was normal at the start of the flight as the plane climed toward the north.

"At about 9,000 feet," he said, "there was a muffled explosion. In a few seconds, our fire warning light flashed on.

"It showed that the fire was in the wing or center section of the plane, near the fuel cells of the forward port engine.

★ ★ ★

"We headed the plane toward Lake Huron and called a Mayday (distress signal) to the field. We cut back on the engine and began our emergency procedures.

"They didn't help. We started to lose power and the chance of an explosion increased. At about 8,000 feet we both ejected at the same time. Neither of us saw the plane in the air again.

"We drifted into the overcast shortly after our chutes opened. I landed in a cornfield about a half-mile from where the plane crashed. I was thankul that no one was hurt. Smith landed in another cornfield not far away."

SPEED 250 M.P.H.

The two-seater TF102 Delta Dagger was on a transitional training flight when it took off at 12:13 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The "emergency" signal was received six minutes later, according to base officials, who said the plane was traveling about 250 m.p.h.

Smith was at the controls. Wallace had never flown the F102 and was taking instruction. Both are assigned to the 71st Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

★ ★ ★

Wallace had replaced Lt. Col. Montie Davis, who accidentally shot down one of his own planes on a training mission earlier this year.

Chiefs Drop Bay City From Grid Pedestal

Friday was a banner night in the fullest sense of the word for Pontiac high school football teams.

Charley Brown, Jerry Rush and Dick McCaffley were just a few of the heroes for Pontiac Central as the Chiefs dumped top-ranked Bay City Central with a 12-7 triumph at Wisner Stadium.

Pontiac Northern's Huskies guaranteed themselves a winning season in their first year of varsity competition by defeating Rochester, 26-20, at Rochester.

Waterford bowed to Dearborn Fordson, 33-18, and Avondale lost the Oakland B League title to Fitzgerald, 31-7, in other local games last night. For details, turn to the sports pages.

Will Swing Spotlight to DJ Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee is ready to sweep its searchlight from the tainted world of TV quiz shows to another phase of show business — disk jockeys and song pluggers.

★ ★ ★

Charges of skulduggery and bribery in promotion of records, particularly on disk jockey shows on TV and radio, have been received by the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee.

"Certain charges have been made to the subcommittee and we shall look into them," chief counsel Robert W. Lishman told a reporter Friday night.

He refused to say whether this is one of the things Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) had in mind when he announced the inquiry will be extended into other television practices.

★ ★ ★

However, one report — so far unconfirmed — had it that disk jockeys and sales promotion of popular music records will be the chief target of the new inquiry.

Lishman confirmed that, among other things, subcommittee investigators plan to look into allegations of bribing of disk jockeys to promote new popular records.

The subcommittee also is expected to take a penetrating look at TV and radio advertising commercials and at the practice of undercover cash payments for plugs of persons or products on TV shows.

WILL MEET DEC. 9

Harris said the subcommittee will meet again Dec. 9 to plot its future activities.

The final witness Friday, CBS President Frank Stanton, said "We believe that legislation is no cure-all for these ills and that the primary responsibility lies with the broadcasting industry itself. CBS is moving forward in that conviction."

Before adjourning the quiz show hearings, Harris inserted in the record a letter and memorandum charging commercial bribery in promotion of music. Both came from Burton Lane, president of the American Guild of Authors and Composers.

★ ★ ★

"There is no doubt," Lane said, "that commercial bribery has become a prime factor in determining what music is played on many broadcast programs and what musical records the public is surreptitiously induced to buy.

★ ★ ★

"From reports in various publications, it is clear that some of the scandalous facts have come to the attention of both the Federal Trade Commission and the Federal Communications Commission. Yet, neither of these bodies has acted to protect the public or the authors and composers of music."

Seize Smuggled Nylons

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Police have seized 57 dozen pairs of nylon stockings smuggled into the south Formosa port of Kaohsiung aboard a south Korean freighter. The stockings had an estimated sale value in Formosa of $5,000.

Taft-Hartley Injunction Upheld 8-1 by Tribunal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld an injunction ordering striking steelworkers back to the mills.

The ruling means the 500,000 striking steelworkers must return to their jobs for an 80-day "cooling off" under emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. The ruling came on the 116th day of the strike.

The court action makes the 80-day cooling off period effective immediately — beginning this morning.

Although the United Steelworkers Union vigorously fought the injunction, Union president David J. McDonald has announced its members will be sent back to their jobs without delay.

★ ★ ★

The 80-day injunction does not of itself solve anything. It merely orders the men back to their jobs for that period, and orders both sides to try to reach an agreement before the time runs out. The strike could resume after the 80 days.

Steel industry sources say that half of the 80-day period of operations prescribed by the injunction will have passed before full production can be reached.

The strike involves a dispute over both wage and fringe benefit demands and working conditions.

UNUSUAL HOUR

The action was announced in a five-page unsigned opinion handed to newsmen in the court's press room shortly after 9 a.m. — a highly unusual hour for announcement of any court action.

Justice William O. Douglas wrote a 14-page dissenting opinion. The court's vote thus was 8-1.

The majority opinion said the cooling-off provision of the Taft-Hartley law "as applied here is not violative of the constitutional limitation prohibiting courts from exercising powers of a legislative or executive nature, powers not capable of being conferred upon a court exercising solely 'the judicial power of the United States."

The opinion noted that the union contended that the Taft-Hartley section involved was constitutionally invalid because it did not set up a standard of lawful or unlawful conduct on the part of labor or management.

★ ★ ★

"But the statute does recognize certain rights in the public to have unimpeded, for a time, production in industries vital to the national health or safety. It makes the United States the guardian of these rights in litigation," the opinion added.

★ ★ ★

The majority opinion said that the court had concluded that Taft-Hartley "entrusts the courts only with the determination of a 'case or controversy,' on which the judicial power can operate, not containing any element capable of only legislative or executive determination."

★ ★ ★

"We do not find that the termination of the injunction after a specified time, or the machinery established in an attempt to obtain a peaceful settlement of the underlying dispute during the injunction's pendency, detracts from this conclusion," it said.

IMPERILS U. S. SAFETY

At another point in the opinion the majority said they thought the judgment of the lower courts in upholding the injunction to stop the strike for 80 days is "amply supported on the grounds that the strike imperils the national safety."

The court said the majority felt they did not need to pass on the government's contention that natural safety in this context should

Von Reis Dunks Title Bout Link

Friendship With Ingo Eyed to Help Set Up Fight in Detroit

Avon Township industrialist Gustav von Reis today threw cold water on any hopes Michigan Boxing Commissioner Floyd Stevens has of involving him in bringing the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship fight to Detroit.

Von Reis, a personal friend of Ingo, said: "I'll tend to my own knitting." He is president of the multimillion-dollar Detroit Broach and Machine Co.

The bout was originally set for New York. But that state was eliminated Friday when the New York Boxing Commission revoked the license of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., which was to have staged the bout.

"I'm looking for 10 substantial businessmen to help me bring the bout to Detroit," Stevens said.

"And I'd prefer to have some of them friends of Gustav von Reis, the businessman who is a close friend of Johansson."

ADVISED ON OTHER THINGS

But von Reis isn't having any.

"I will not back, promote or work on a fight in any way," he said. I have advised Ingemar on other matters such as investments, never on boxing."

As for boxing, von Reis isn't interested. "I've only been to one bout in my life," he said.

He wouldn't even ask his friends to help von Reis said. "There are many wealthy and interested people who would help," he added.

★ ★ ★

Stevens said his plans had not matured sufficiently to pick an arena for the bout.

"Let's get an organization first," he said. "And then we'll start thinking about an arena."

Teamster Local Chief Suffers Fatal Attack

DETROIT (AP)—Orville Matheney of Redford Township, president of Teamsters Local 51, suffered a fatal heart attack early today while conferring with James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president, and other Union officials at the downtown hotel Sheraton-Cadillac. He was 61.

Matheney, who headed the Bakery Drivers Local, was dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital.

VICTOR McLAGLEN

Movie Actor Succumbs at 72

Victor McLaglen Was Famous Tough; Won Oscar in 1935

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Victor McLaglen, one of the movie's all-time rough-tough actors and Academy Award winner, died today. He was 72.

The London-born actor died from heart disease at his home at nearby Newport Beach after an illness of six weeks.

His widow; son, Andy; and daughter, Sheila, were at the bedside when death came.

McLaglen, who won his Oscar in 1935 for one of the screen's classic performances as "The Informer," had been fairly inactive in recent years. His last job was in a "Rawhide" TV show which his son produced.

McLaglen also was nominated for a supporting actor's Academy Award in 1952 for "The Quiet Man," like "The Informer," a story of Ireland.

The son of the Anglican Bishop of Claremont, McLaglen grew up in South Africa where his father was stationed for many years.

After serving in World War I, McLaglen first became a professional boxer, but later went on the stage where he soon developed into one of the top portrayers of rough-talking types.

His stage work brought him into British movies in which he became a star. He came to America during the movies' silent era and made "Beau Geste" and "What Price Glory." Later, he and actor Edmund Lowe teamed up as the raucus, hell-raising soldiers of World War I, Capt. Flagg and Sgt. Quirt, that were box office favorites in the late 20s.

Waterford Firm to Pay for Razing Wrong Home

The owner of a Waterford Township wrecking company has been ordered to pay $7,200 for razing one home too many.

Archie C. Hunt, owner of the Arch Wrecking & Salvaging Co., 5340 Highland Rd., heard an Oakland County Circuit Court jury of 10 women and two men grant the judgment against him yesterday.

One of Hunt's demolition crews last January was clearing 103 homes in Detroit to make way for an 8.7-acre experimental industrial development when somebody got his numbers crossed.

Down went a two-story home belonging to Mrs. Blanche Hill, 54, of 2265 E. Milwaukee Ave. It wasn't supposed to.

That night a tenant in the second floor apartment at 1002 Osborne Place, Richard C. Edmonson, 47, returned home late, climbed the stairs, lit a match, and lo and behold, saw the moon looking down from where the roof should have been.

★ ★ ★

Edmonson, who since died, also filed suit against the company.

He said he lost all his personal belongings. The suit is pending, being carried on by his administrator.

After spending a bewildering night with friends, Edmonson, then a free lance plumber, returned late the next day and found only a hole where the house had stood.

He also found a large chunk of ice entombing his clothes which he had left in the bath tub to soak. The tub, too, was gone.

Mrs. Hill got quite a surprise when she went to the home Jan. 17 to collect her $35-a-month rent from Edmonson. Not only was he not at home, but her home had disentegrated.

★ ★ ★

A Detroit housing official said Hunt's crew went one house too far. Some consolation to Mark Herley, assistant housing director, and perhaps to Hunt was that the frame home was to be torn down in a few months to make way for the Walter P. Chrysler expressway.

Hunt jumped the gun by a few months.

Mountain Expedition of 32 Feared Lost

KATMANDU, Nepal, (AP) — "My husband has climbed mountains for 20 years," said the wife of Hideko Kato. "He would not lose out to a blizzard."

But while Mrs. Kato refused to believe the worst at the couple's home in Japan, Nepal officials held out little hope for the veteran climber and 31 members of his Mt. Gauri Sankar expedition.

★ ★ ★

They vanished more than three weeks ago while trying to scale the forbidding face of the 23,400-foot Himalayan mountain named for the Hindu god of destruction.

Mt. Gauri Sankar, which straddles the Nepal-Tibet border 22 miles northeast of this Sherpa village, never has been conquered.

It was feared that Kato, his two Japanese companions and 29 Nepalese porters perished in blizzards and avalanches that swept the mountain last month.

Kato's party has not been heard from since leaving its base camp 18,000 feet up the mountain. Two porters were left at the camp and one of them brought word here Friday of the disappearance.

A ground search got under way immediately but Nepal government officials said it might take 10 days to reach Gauri Sankar.

An air search also is expected to begin shortly. Indian planes probably will not participate, however, because of current border disputes between India and Communist China.

★ ★ ★

Some in Katmandu suggested that the expedition may have found it impossible to scale the Nepalese side of the mountain—described by experts as unscalable—and tried the Tibetan side. If this happened, the sources said, the party may have been arrested by Red Chinese troops stationed along the Tibetan border.

Mt. Gauri Sankar is about 35 miles west of the world's highest mountain—the 29,002-foot Mt. Everest.

It is part of a semicircle of border mountains that includes Mt. Cho Oyu, which claimed the lives of two European women and two Sherpa guides during an expedition last month.

Moscow Marks Red Revolution

Festive Mood Reigns Amid Military Parade and Peace Talk

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow today celebrated the 42nd anniversary of the Communist revolution in a festive mood with the shortest military parade ever staged for the big holiday.

"The word 'peace' is evident everywhere both in speech and signs throughout the Soviet Union," said Moscow radio as three days of merrymaking got under way.

In the keynote address at a Red Square rally, Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky praised Premier Nikita Khrushchev's world disarmament proposals to the United Nations.

But he also said that the Soviet Union will maintain a state of high military preparedness until the proposals are accepted and all U.S. foreign bases are liquidated.

The 20-minute military parade contained nothing spectacularly new in equipment, according to Western military attaches.

The civilian demonstration that followed included a display of miniature sports cars. This was the first time such cars had ever appeared in a Red Square parade.

Thousands of athletes and other civilian groups participating in the parade cheered Khrushchev and other government and party leaders atop the mammoth mausoleum.

Moscow streets were decked out with red streamers and flags to mark the 1917 revolution.

There was plenty of evidence of recent Soviet scientific advances. A model of Lunik III, which transmitted the first pictures of the hidden side of the moon, hung over Sverdlovsk Square. Huge photographs and models of other Soviet space vehicles were placed in prominent spots in other sections.

Heart Attack at Wheel Fatal

Pontiac Man Dead on Arrival at Hospital After Hitting Two Cars

A 60-year-old Pontiac man, who apparently suffered a fatal heart attack at the wheel of his car, was pronounced dead yesterday afternoon on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

He was Leo F. Buckley of 249 Liberty St. Buckley's car, moving north on Bagley street, went through a red light at the Wesson street intersection, hitting two other cars waiting for the traffic signal.

Harry J. Stephens, 45, of 734 Alpena St., Pontiac Township, told police Buckley's car suddenly swerved out of control and hit his auto head-on, then smashed into the car of Russel J. Murett, 45, of 1862 Bircherest St., Waterford Township.

Stephens and a passenger in his car, Carl Stephens, 38, of 2943 Judah St., Lake Orion, were both treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

★ ★ ★

Florida Search for Cuban Army Chief Under Way

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A search for Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, missing Cuban army commander, was started by U.S. Air Force and civil air patrol planes today over the vast Florida everglades.

Orders to search for the Cessna twin-engine plane in which Cienfuegos disappeared Oct. 28 with a pilot and one soldier came from the 14th Air Force Search and Rescue Division at Macon, Ga.

There was no immediate report on where the request for the hunt originated, but there was speculation that it might have been made by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Grand Rapids Gets Snow

Cold Air Numbing East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Numbing cold air surged over the Atlantic seaboard today in the wake of a deep freeze that stung the mid-continent.

While the mercury plummeted throughout Eastern sectors, some Western points showed an amazing recovery from the season's most intense cold onslaught.

Scattered rain splashed the Atlantic coastline overnight. Richmond, Va., was doused with 2.50 inches during a 6-hour period while Cross City, Fla., caught 1.10 inches.

The advancing cold mass triggered a drop from 10 to 35 degrees from a previous early morning period over a wide area from Alabama and Mississippi northeastward.

The upper Mississippi Valley was the coldest area with readings generally in the teens. The Ohio Valley and Eastern areas showed some improvement.

★ ★ ★

Traces of rain and a small blanket of snow dotted the Great Lakes region. Bemidji, in northwestern Minnesota, had two inches of fresh snow.

★ ★ ★

Grand Rapids, Mich., reported a snow accumulation of one inch while Marquette, in the northern part of the state, had more than 11 inches on the ground.

Moose Lodge Becomes Unique New Post

State Amvets Parley Opens Here

Friday was a big day in two ways for local Amvets.

A new and unique Pontiac post was dedicated last night, and the Fifth Annual Fall Conference of Michigan Amvets began yesterday.

The new unit, Robert William Apple Post No. 182, was installed last night at the Pontiac Moose Lodge, 350 Mt. Clemens St.

It is the only post of its kind in the nation.

Its membership will be made up only of members of the Moose Lodge who are veterans of World War II or the Korean conflict. No other post in America has been organized in conjunction with a fraternal group.

★ ★ ★

In an impressive ceremony, James R. Cavalier, third district commander, presented the gavel to his brother, William, newly elected commander of the post.

James, who lives at 1424 Rosedale St., West Bloomfield Township, was presiding officer for the installation. William, of 309 Seward St., was elected commander last Tuesday night.

Other newly elected officers are Erwin Carver, senior vice commander; Lloyd Marks, junior vice commander; William Vandruska, adjutant; William Haddrill, finance officer; John Kerezsy, judge advocate; Charles Cowger, provost marshal; and Larry Normond, trustee.

The post was installed by State Commander Andrew J. Skender of Mount Clemens. Chet Burton of Milford, state senior vice commander, handled installation of officers.

The present membership of 25 is expected to grow to about 200 by the first of next year.

Skender also officially opened the weekend conference today in a kickoff ceremony at 1 p.m. at the Roosevelt Hotel.

★ ★ ★

It is the first time Pontiac has been the site of the fall conference, which attracted veterans from throughout the state.

Hosting the state Amvets are members of Pontiac's Bemis-Olsen Post 113, Jimmy Dey Post 12 and Wright-Fournier Post 161.

Court Orders Steelworkers Back to Jobs Immediately be given a broader construction or application.

As to the union's suggestion that some mills, but not all, should be reopened because a few could meet specific defense needs, the court said the Taft-Hartley law "was designed to provide a public remedy in times of emergency; we can not construe it to require that the United States either formulate a reorganization of the affected industry to satisfy its defense needs without the complete reopening of closed facilities, or demonstrate in court the unfeasibility of such a reorganization."

"There is no room in the statute for this requirement which the petitioner (United Steelworkers Union) seeks to impose on the government," it said.

The court took note of the union's argument questioning propriety of the District Court's exercising equitable jurisdiction to enjoin the strike once it had made its findings.

The court said the union argument ranged widely into broad issues of national labor policy, the availability of other remedies available to a President, the effect of a labor injunction of the collective bargaining processes, consideration of the conduct of the parties to the labor dispute in their negotiations, and conjecture as to the course of these negotiations in the future.

"We do not believe that Congress in passing this statute intended that the issuance of injunctions should depend upon judicial inquiries of this nature. Congress was not concerned with the merits of the parties' positions or the conduct of the negotiations," it added.

"Its basic purpose seems to have been to see that vital production should be resumed, or continued for a time, while further efforts were made to settle the dispute. To carry out its purposes, Congress carefully surrounded the injunction proceedings with detailed procedural devices and limitations.

amount of business conducted by the center.

With a green light from the City Commission, the company would finance taxiways to the airport's runway system, Miller said, and begin construction of the first, 150 by 200-foot hangar.

He said there is alloted space in the 39-acre site for 10 more hangars, including another one financed by Miller and Wade.

The company plans to build a restaurant and a four-unit motel, capable of expansion to 12 units eventually, he said.

The 39-acre parcel is directly opposite the site of the terminal-tower project.

Miller said that if the city needs the 39-acre site for runway expansion, the company would switch its plans to the 47-acre site, located along Williams Lake and Hatchery roads.

There is no big road leading to the 39-acre site at present. It is south of Hatchery and is bounded on the north by Edgeton road.

In June, the Waterford Township Board rezoned the 39-acre site from Residential to Commercial to make way for the service center and the increased taxes that would result from it.

Discussions about access rights have already been carried on with Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager, according to Miller.

Allegan Jail Unsafe; State Orders It Closed

ALLEGAN (AP) — The Allegan County Jail has been ordered closed by next Feb. 1, County Clerk Ester Hettinger said Friday.

Built in 1903 with a 31-prisoner capacity, the jail has been condemned by the State Department of Corrections as a fire hazard and generally unfit for human occupancy. Closing would mean temporarily housing Allegan County prisoners in other counties until new facilities are built.

Mercury in October Enjoyed Excellent Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co.'s M-E-L Division today said sales of its Mercury Cars in October rose to 16,691, the highest of any month in the last two years.

Mercury sales in October were 46 per cent higher than September when 11,396 cars were sold. Mercury sold 8,399 cars in October 1958.

Officer on City Fire Department Arrested in Orion

A Pontiac Fire Department lieutenant was arrested by Oakland County sheriff's deputies last night for investigation of felonious assault after he appeared armed with a shotgun at the home of an Orion Township man.

Detectives said today that Lt. Raymond Fay would "no doubt be released without charges brought against him."

He went to the home of William H. Whitmire, 19, of 3715 Grafton St., who was exonerated by a coroner's jury Thursday in the fatal knifing of Louis Vanitvelt, 26, of Pontiac Oct. 25, deputies said.

Whitmire's brother opened the door. He told deputies Fay asked him if he had killed Vanitvelt.

He said he hadn't and slammed the door.

Fay left the home and was picked up by deputies nearby when his auto got stuck in a ditch.

Fay was a close friend of the Vanitvelt family, deputies said.

Levy Vote Monday

MANISTEE (AP)— Voters will ballot Monday on a 2.25-mill levy for 17 years to finance a proposed new $800,000 medical care facility to replace the present Manistee County Hospital. The present 80-patient facility has been condemned by the State Fire Marshal's office.

Snow Blanket to Grow in UP

10 Inches on Ground at Marquette; All of State Gripped by Freeze

By The Associated Press

Up to two inches of new snow was forecast today for Michigan's already blanketed Upper Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Weather Bureau said fresh snow was expected to spread eastward across Upper Michigan adding to accumulations of 10 inches at Marquette, 7 at Houghton, 4 at Escanaba and 7 at Kinross.

Subfreezing temperatures and brisk winds ranging to 25 m.p.h. were expected to accompany the snowfall. Near freezing or below freezing temperatures were predicted for all the state tonight and Sunday.

Houghton recorded a low of nine above at 7 a.m. today. It was 10 at Marquette and 13 at Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba.

WINDS SLOW SHIPS

High winds Thursday and Friday slowed Great Lakes shipping in the Canadian Soo area.

Commander E. J. Bodenlos of the U. S. Coast Guard Friday reported downbound shipping through the locks at a standstill. Coast Guard spokesmen said winds up to 50 m.p.h. hit Lake Superior Thursday night and Friday.

Shipping was expected to return to normal today as winds diminished.

Rural roads throughout the Upper Peninsula remained snow covered with drifts up to five feet reported. Icy road conditions prevailed elsewhere.

TV Quiz Winner Denies He Was Hero in Battle

LAWTON, Okla. (UPI) — The former officer who won $106,000 on a quiz show investigated by a House subcommittee said yesterday his resignation from the Army was not pushed on him.

★ ★ ★

And he denied receiving the Distinguished Service Cross or being a war hero.

Michael O'Rourke, formerly a captain at Ft. Sill near Lawton, and onetime ROTC instructor at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, resigned Wednesday after denying he received any help on the television quiz show "Tic-Tac-Dough."

Yesterday, he said all the talk about his being a war hero and having the high battle decoration was not true.

Benzie County's Jail to Be Opened Nov. 14

BEULAH (UPI) — Benzie County's new $85,000 jail will be formally opened Nov. 14, it was announced today.

Dedication for the 12-cell structure will be held by Sheriff Jerry Pelton and the County Board of Supervisors.

Benzie County's old jail was condemned by the State Corrections Commission.

The Day in Birmingham

School Activities to Mark U.S. Education Week

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham school activities will be built around a different theme each day next week in observance of American Education Week, Nov. 8-14.

The national theme is "Praise and Appraise Your Schools."

City's merchants will cooperate by placing educational displays in the windows of their business establishments. The displays will be arranged by the school system's art department headed by philip Savaglio.

The subjects featured each day are: "The Child: What Does Education Mean to Him?"; "The Parents: How Can They Work for Better Schools?"; "What Is a Teacher?"; "The People Next Door: Who Are They?"; "Responsibilities of the School Board Member"; "How Can the Schools Service the Adult Citizen?"; and "How Does the Voter Make His Decisions on Education?"

Schools will hold "open house" throughout the week.

Henry Corbacho, director of the Instructional Materials Center, is making available to all civic organizations films on educational subjects which will be suitable for programs.

★ ★ ★

Projection machines and operators will be provided and can be obtained by contacting the materials center.

The City Commission Monday will consider action to start vacation of portions of Island View drive and Park avenue for construction of the North Woodward parking lot.

★ ★ ★

City Manager L. R. Gare has asked the Commission to prepare descriptions of those portions of the two streets to be vacated or abandoned, the resolution authorizing the city attorney to initiate Circuit Court proceedings.

The Commission will also consider passage of a city ordinance authorizing the erection of signs designating multiple family residential units.

The proposed ordinance would limit such signs to 10 square feet in area and not exceeding an overall height of four feet above the ground level.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance calls for signs to be made of noncombustible material and requires they be lighted in the evening.

As drawn up, the ordinance would also bar any advertising or information other than the name of the residential unit.

The Commission will also consider a recommendation from Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley that two-hour parking from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., except Sundays and holidays be established on West Brown street between Pierce and Chester streets.

★ ★ ★

Other business includes appointments to the Electrical Examining Board, Martha Baldwin Park Board and Board of Zoning Appeals.

Wins $10,666 in Assault on Greyhound Bus

A judgement of $10,666 was awarded an Ortonville mother for being assaulted on a Greyhound bus in 1957 by an ex-driver for the company.

★ ★ ★

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury of eight women and four men returned the judgment yesterday in favor of Marion L. Ish, 20, after deliberating nearly four hours.

The judgment was against the bus company, Gene Roberts, 37, of Bay City, no longer employed by the company, and W. Douglas Cole, 35, of Taylor, Mich.

Miss Ish had asked for a $50,000 judgment against the three defendants claiming she was attacked Oct. 15, 1957 by Roberts in Cole's bus after he pulled it off M15 while on the way to Ortonville from Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Miss Ish sought the money for support of a child born after the assault.

Commercial Vehicle Enforcement to Rise

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Michigan Department of State enforcement officers are in training this weekend as a result of plans to step up commercial vehicle enforcement.

★ ★ ★

The state department said it will have eight men in the commercial vehicle field in outstate Michigan and eight men in the Detroit area on a full-time basis starting this month.

★ ★ ★

Previously, outstate officers had a number of other duties as well as enforcement.

12-Town Drain Plan Clogged in the Courtroom Once Again

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The hard-fought 12-Town storm relief drain case flowed back yesterday to where it has spent most of its life—a courtroom. It will stay there for awhile too.

In an action which promises to further drag out the $47,102,000 issue, Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer refused to throw out a lawsuit started by Madison Heights in which the city contends its new share of the project was arrived at illegally.

★ ★ ★

Judge Beer set Nov. 17 as the trial date.

"We will attempt to prove to the court that the method of apportionment is faulty and should be disallowed," said attorney Harry N. Dell, hired especially by the city to try the case.

The huge drain project, first envisioned in 1952, would supplement drains currently unable to cope with heavy rains in 14 south Oakland communities.

FOLLOWS HIGH COURT OK

The Madison Heights suit follows a Supreme Court affirmation this year of Judge H. Russel Holland's ruling that the formula for apportionment was equitable and legal.

Southfield, Troy and Royal Oak townships in 1956 filed suit charging that apportionments among communities were unfair.

Yesterday's court action was to hear arguments on Oakland County's motion to quash a writ of certiorari granted the city.

This calls for the court to review apportionment proceedings to see if they were arrived at properly.

Arguing for the County Drainage Board, Claude H. Stevens, Detroit attorney, contended the question of apportionment legality had been settled in the previous legal action.

Quoting from a case involving Port Huron versus a dairy, Stevens said, "Our courts cannot permit litigation of the same old cases."

'SAME OLD QUESTIONS'

"The city is raising the same old questions previously settled," he said.

He said further that the city "even got down on its knees to beg the court in 1956 to sustain the action of the drainage board" and build the long-awaited sewer.

Dell countered by saying that although Madison Heights was one of the original petitioners for the drain, it didn't necessarily mean the city agreed to the design and method of apportionment.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Dell said.

The city believes it should receive more than the board's planned $302,429 credit for existing drains, thus lowering its share from $2,848,803.

The drainage board arrived at the new costs after the high court's ruling and confirmed them at a public hearing Sept. 30.

NO OTHER PROTESTS

The city made known its protest then. No other communities lodged protests.

"No one has made any attempt to determine Madison Heights' benefit from the drain or what the city is dumping into the existing drains already," Dell argued.

Had Judge Beer dismissed the writ, the county for the first time might have been freed from its legal entanglements and finally able to proceed with the drain, Robert Allen, assistant corporation counsel on drain matters, stated.

MSU Professor Collects Warts

By BILL SINNOTT

EAST LANSING (UP) — Professor Walter Mack collects warts. If you've got any—particularly fresh ones—he wants them.

There's a serious purpose behind this. Mack, a professor at Michigan State University, specializes in the study of viruses.

Warts, though generally non-malignant, are similar to other tumors. Mack is trying to find out if they are caused by a virus.

This might lead to a major breakthrough in the fight against cancer. For if a virus causes warts, support would be lent to a theory that a virus causes other tumors, including ones that are cancerous.

Two Detroit skin specialists are helping Mack add to his wart collection. They periodically remove them from patients in his MSU laboratory. The procedure takes only a few minutes, and it is relatively painless.

★ ★ ★

However, although countless persons are afflicted with warts, Mack doesn't have enough for his research.

One reason, he says, is that many people think they can treat themselves.

He is looking particularly for new warts on young persons.

"We'd like some real fresh ones which are more likely to have a live virus," he says.

Boston News Strike Continues in 2nd Day

BOSTON (UP) — New England's largest city went without most of its daily newspapers for the second day today. There was no sign of a break in a strike of 1,150 printers for higher wages.

The strike, called Thursday night after Local 13 of the International Typographical Union rejected publishers' proposals for arbitration, was followed by suspension of publication by six dailies. Some 5,500 other newspaper employes were left without work.

Manufacturing Begins

LAKE CITY (UP) — A work staff of four persons this week started production of children's furniture at Van's Manufacturing Co., a newly opened Lake City branch of a building and supply firm which operates in Lake City and Kalkaska. The new plant operates in the former Lake City High School shop building.

The Indians in Wisconsin are divided into eight main tribes and they occupy 604,000 acres of land.

25 County Pairs to Be on National Video Program

Twenty-five couples in the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University will be seen by television viewers coast to coast at 11 a.m. Monday.

★ ★ ★

The group participated in a special "Happier Marriages Conference" which was filmed by CBS-TV as part of its hour-long program, "The Marriage That Failed."

Robert Langer, assistant director of the Pontiac Area United Fund, led a group discussion which was filmed for the show.

The television show follows couples as they contact various family service agencies in an attempt to save their marriages.

★ ★ ★

It is expected that an audience of 18 million will see the program.

Parents to Meet Teachers at Madison School

A parent-teacher conference will be held for the first time Monday at James Madison Junior High School.

The all-day session is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. with intermissions from noon till 1 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Parents can come at any time during the day (excluding intermission hours) for talks with their child's teachers. Students will not attend the conferences between parents and teachers, limited to 15 minutes with each teacher.

"This is an opportunity for parents and teachers to share ideas and discuss the problems of students in junior high school," says George R. Yansen, principal of Madison.

"We feel these conferences will be a start in achieving this goal. They are intended to add to the information supplied the parents by the regular report card," he added.

TV Perjury Action to Be Considered

NEW YORK (UPI)—District Attorney Frank Hogan said Friday that possibly 100 persons lied when questioned by a grand jury investigating fix charges against TV quiz shows. He said perjury action would be considered.

Those who appeared before a New York County Grand Jury includes Charles Van Doren and Hank Bloomgarden, both big money winners on "Twenty-One."

Two 'MD' Boys Get Chance to Earn Own Money

Two area boys, both muscular dystrophy victims, are getting their first chance at a money-making project of their own today, thanks to the West Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

These "MD" children will make and sell potholders today at S. S. Kresge Stores at Tel-Huron and Miracle Mile Shopping Centers.

It is the first time these children have been given a chance to earn something for themselves.

They were placed in the two stores at noon today. The project is being backed financially by the Kiwanians in cooperation with the S. S. Kresge Co. in hope the idea will spread throughout Michigan, said Brooke Bennett, project chairman.

Politics Muddles State Tax Solution

LANSING (UP) — A political stalemate today stymied progress on emergency tax legislation to ease Michigan's cash crisis.

Bipartisan tax talks were broken off, at least temporarily, dimming chances for a settlement in mid-November.

Republicans and Democrats accused each other of shirking "mutual responsibility."

Neither side would move, threatening a repetition of the bitter impasse that tied the Legislature in knots last summer.

Asked if a complete deadlock had developed, Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, Republican majority leader, said yesterday "it could be." Gov. Williams said the next move was up to Republicans.

Meanwhile, the state treasury's cash shortage climbed toward an estimated 93½ million dollars at the month's end with state spending exceeding income by $330,000 daily.

Votes Against Steel Injunction

Justice Douglas Sees Confusion on 'National Health' Interpretation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas, dissenting from the eight other justices of the Supreme Court who upheld the steel injunction favored returning the case to District Court "for particularized findings as to how the steel strike imperils the 'national health' and what plants need to be reopened to produce the small quantity of steel now needed for the national 'safety.'

★ ★ ★

"There would be open for inquiry and findings any questions pertaining to 'national health' in the narrow sense in which the act uses those words," Douglas said.

He said he thought that when Congress used the words "national health" in emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, it was "safeguarding the heating of homes, the delivery of milk, the protection of hospitals and the like."

Douglas said he did not feel the broad injunction could be sustained when it rested solely on "national safety."

"I am unwilling," Douglas said, "to take judicial notice that it requires 100 per cent of the workers to produce the steel needed for national defense when 99 per cent of the output is devoted to purposes entirely unconnected with defense projects."

He said that President Eisenhower, in invoking the Taft-Hartley injunctive procedures, construed the word "health" to include the material well-being or public welfare of the nation.

More than 90 per cent of the milk sold in cities of 100,000 or more population is a pasteurized product.

LOUIS R. ODETTE JR.

Uses Earnings to Help Make His Job Easier

Many Pontiac Press carriers find that their earnings can add to the ease and efficiency of their jobs.

Louis R. Odette Jr. is a good example.

★ ★ ★

This 15-year-old youth recognized early the value of wise investment. With his earnings he bought a new bicycle.

The new bike made his job easier and increased his efficiency so that he is now one of the top newspaper boys in the country.

Louis, who lives at 8500 Cascade St., Commerce Township, has been delivering The Press in the Union Lake area 1½ years.

★ ★ ★

Subscribers along Cooley Drive, in White Lake Township, know him well. Louis also uses his earnings to buy his own clothing.

His hobbies consist of boating and swimming. Louis attends Walled Lake High School and hopes to go to college some day, but isn't certain what he will study.

He was one of 10 Pontiac Press carriers named by the Inland Daily Press Assn. to receive award certificates as outstanding newspaper boys.

South Carolina's irrigated land area has more than tripled within the period of the last 10 years.

Bright 1st Half Forecast in '60

Business Editors Say Pace Will Ease a Bit in 2nd 6 Months

DETROIT (AP) — A panel of editors of Business Week magazine told the Adcraft Club of Detroit yesterday the business outlook for the first half of 1960 is very bright.

The second half of next year will see continued but more modest business improvement, the editors said.

Panel conclusions in a question-and-answer session included: capital and consumer spending will be at a high rate in 1960; tight money practices will continue with interest rates inching even higher; the stock market will lose some of its zest but no real break is foreseen; foreign business competition will increase but should bring no real fears; Richard Nixon will beat Adlai Stevenson for the presidency and Democrats will continue to hold both houses of Congress.

★ ★ ★

In marketing, one panelist suggested foreign car sales in the United States will increase next year despite introduction of the American compact cars. But two sharply disagreed.

★ ★ ★

One panelist predicted overall car sales next year of 6½ million, including imports. Another said he was too conservative.

★ ★ ★

One panelist said his only fear about the business outlook for the first half of 1960 was that it might drop in its wake.

Harvest Festival Queen

GREENVILLE (AP) — Beverly Durst, 18-year-old nurse's aide from Howard City, presided as queen of the 1959 Montcalm-Kent Potato Harvest Festival held Thursday at Greenville. She was selected from a field of nine candidates at the event which drew about 300 area growers.

CAPSULE RECOVERED — Seamen of the Navy salvage ship Preserver haul in a model of the Mercury capsule from the Atlantic that will carry one of the U. S. astronauts into orbit around the earth. It was attached to the nose of a Little Joe rocket, carried to an altitude of 35,000 feet and separated from the rocket in a test of blastoff gear that would throw the capsule free of the missile in case of a malfunction.

Indiana's Rep. Halleck Would Run for VP Post

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rep. Charles Halleck, Republican House leader, declared yesterday he would be available as a candidate for vice president on a ticket with either Vice President Richard Nixon or Gov. Nelson D. Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

The representative from Indiana told a press conference he would run with Nixon "if he asked me" and disclosed no objection to running on the bottom half of a ticket with the New York governor.

★ ★ ★

However, he said, "I don't think it's in the cards." He did not give reasons for his pessimism..

Solon's Effigy Hanged in Class of Dr. Evans

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Rep. Peter Mack (D-Ill) was hanged in effigy Friday in the classroom of a Northwestern University professor he wants fired.

★ ★ ★

Mack is a member of a House subcommittee investigating the rigging of television quiz programs. He said that Northwestern should fire Dr. Bergen Evans who prepared questions about English on two of the programs investigated. Mack contended Evans participated in the deception.

★ ★ ★

Northwestern officials said there is no evidence that Evans was aware of any deception and will not be dismissed.

Michigan Man Testifies in Union Conspiracy Trial

DENVER (AP) — A Michigan man who said he had been a Communist Party member 17 years was the first government witness called yesterday in the trial of 11 men accused of conspiring to defraud the government.

★ ★ ★

The defendants, all present or former officials of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind), are charged with filing false affidavits with the National Labor Relations Board about their Communist activities.

The witness, Kenneth Eckert of Gross Pointe, is an official of the United Auto Workers Union (AFL-CIO).

★ ★ ★

He testified that in 1947, when he was a Mine-Mill Union official, he tried to convince other Union leaders to comply with the Taft-Hartley law.

Arizona's vast domain is divided into only 14 counties.

Cross Talks Delayed, Sides Exchange Blame

DETROIT (AP) — Contract talks aimed at settling the three-month-old Cross Co. strike have been recessed until next Wednesday with no progress reported and both sides blaming the other for the delay.

★ ★ ★

Striking United Auto Workers Local 155, in a statement yesterday after the recess was announced, accused the Fraser Automation machinery firm of "deliberate foot dragging" in asking for the delay.

The company said the delay came at the suggestion of the union.

★ ★ ★

The UAW struck the firm Aug. 4 in an organizational dispute.

Union Appeals Fines Decision

Wisconsin Labor Board Rules Against Penalty for Crossing Pickets

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A union turned to the courts yesterday for the right to fine members who crossed picket lines during a strike.

Local 248 of the United Automobile Workers, representing workers at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., filed a petition in Circuit Court seeking reversal of a decision by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board.

The state labor board ruled 2-1 that the union could not legally collect fines from members who crossed picket lines during a 77-day strike at Allis-Chalmers earlier this year.

The union imposed fines ranging from $10 to $100 on 172 workers who crossed its lines.

In its petition to the court, the union contended that members were subject to UAW rules and that the state labor board exceeded its authority in ruling against the fines.

King Ranch Acreage in Cuba to Be Split

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba is expected to seize 33,400 acres of the King Ranch's 35,000 - acre cattle spread in Camaguey Province today, a spokesman for the American-operated enterprise says.

The spokesman said King representatives have been summoned to appear at the local office of the National Institute for Agrarian Reform to select the 1,600 acres which may be retained.

"Rancho King" is owned jointly by the famed American cattle raisers and the Manati Sugar Co., a Cuban firm. It was established in Cuba in 1952.

The land is valued at $3,500,000. Its 7,000 head of cattle, including the prize Santa Gertrudis breed, are valued at $1,500,000.

Premier Fidel Castro's agrarian reform program is aimed at breaking up the huge estates and distributing small parcels to Cuban farmers and peasants.

The program is directed against Cuban as well as American and other foreign-held properties.

King Ranch will be the third American outfit to be affected by the program this week.

VETERANS' DAY

J. L. VOORHEES

November 11th is one day when all of us will litten up our hearts to God, give Him sincere thanks that we are here, and that we recognize a debt to those men He has taken home.

War is senseless, devastating, has never solved anything and yet when it comes men lay down their tools, face death with equanimity of purpose that their way of life shall not perish. It is to those men we proudly and reverently pay our respects, salute them in memory and in National pride.

M. E. SIPLE

As those men march over the heavenly fields they proudly look down, see their buddies in step with their fellow-Americans, smile as they realize that their sacrifice was not in vain, see them winning a place upon the hearth of free nations over the world.

Veterans, we proudly salute you.

Chamber of Commerce's Police Proposal Applauded by Press

Pontiac's Chamber of Commerce suggests procedures for strengthening our police department. The PRESS is happy to support this constructive movement and I applaud the committee and directors who have studied the setup in detail.

We were in a mess.

There's no question about that.

★ ★ ★

Several years ago, Pontiac voters approved a "new setup" that was supposed to build up our police department, but it did just about everything else. Pontiac's unholy house of horrors became known statewide and we were the object of jibes from far and wide. Our predicament was bruited about in all corners of the Wolverine Commonwealth.

★ ★ ★

The basic cause of all the trouble was eliminated by the voters after they had experienced a long trial run of the new procedures. We reverted to the previous status. It was a tremendous improvement. We cut miles of red tape with which the department and City officials were hamstrung. We were able to hold up our heads again before our fellow communities.

However, things aren't perfect.

Probably they never will be.

★ ★ ★

But the Chamber of Commerce has studied the matter exhaustively. The Chamber has a 15 man committee on governmental affairs under the chairmanship of William F. Kalwitz. He is backed by a long record of superb community service. He ranks as one of Pontiac's top leaders and inspirations in the matter of public achievement. Hard headed, practical and with a world of actual experience — governmental and business wise — we could have no finer student of affairs heading the survey.

★ ★ ★

The Chamber of Commerce committee was interested in just one thing: What best serves the interest of the taxpayers and citizens?

Nothing came ahead of this.

Personalities were ignored.

★ ★ ★

The group strove to find the finest methods of caring for the people — instead of caring for the City Manager, the police officers, the Chief and the Director of Public Safety. The approach was sound and sensible. After months of study and consideration, they made simple but important suggestions:

1. Abolish the office of public safety director, currently held by George D. Eastman.

2. Strip the Trial Board of all administrative functions.

3. Strengthen the post of police chief.

4. And provide a clear-cut chain of command between the Police Chief and the City Manager.

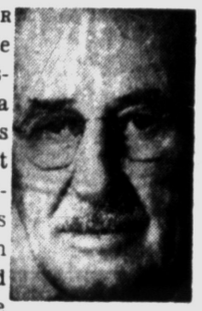
EASTMAN says he endorses the proposal including the one to eliminate his newly created post. I commend him for his frankness in facing the facts. The question of "who works for whom" in the police setup must be clarified. A direct line of succession and authority has to exist. Nothing runs successfully without it and that includes big business, little business, unions, churches, lodges, schools, etc.

No one wants snap judgment on the part of the City Commission, but the Chamber's committee has taken a constructive and helpful step in facing an unsatisfactory situation and one that needs attention and revision.

Hiland M. Thatcher

I'm happy to learn HILAND MORRIS THATCHER is a candidate for the role of Oakland County Road Commissioner.



MR. THATCHER has been on the Board of Supervisors for nearly a dozen years and is a lifelong resident of Oakland County. His associates have made him Vice Chairman and it is quite probable that he would accede to the chairmanship when DELOS HAMLIN steps aside. However, the road post means THATCHER would have to resign as West Bloomfield's Supervisor, where he has served with honor and distinction.

★ ★ ★

H. Morris Thatcher is the son of a truly pioneer family and no one is better acquainted with Oakland County problems. He would make a vigorous and aggressive commissioner and one who will protect the rights of the taxpayers. Oakland County is the second largest unit in the State in physical size and in population. It deserves roads commensurate with these two commanding positions and a group of Oakland County citizens has been selling the facts to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. Thatcher would work closely with the State and I'm sure he would fight to see that Oakland County secures the full outside grants to which it is entitled.

★ ★ ★

Traffic is expanding in an unprecedented fashion, and our population growth is exceeding all past calculations. This means the post of Road Commissioner is doubly important in the years ahead and it must be filled by an individual with vision and foresight. It requires a man who is prepared to meet big problems with big ideas and broad experience in business and public affairs. It wants an experienced leader.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County has fared well in the past but the place becomes more exacting and more demanding with the passage of time.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Once the object of warm applause in news films, CASTRO now draws a round of boos . . . . . Just back from Los Angeles, A. C. GIRARD says the smog is much worse than represented. "It's so bad I don't see why people live there," says he . . . . . A couple football stadiums are toying with the notion of putting in outlets for electric blankets . . . . . FRED ALLEN'S crack of several years ago is revived for another go-around, namely: "JACK BENNY'S the only violin player who makes you feel the strings would sound better back in the cat."

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller's supporters have ordered a gob of campaign badges, buttons etc. And someone recalls that when he took office in Albany, he said: "I have no political aspirations." . . . I understand the greatest collegiate football lineman in America today is an MSU freshman named Jim Bobbitt who stands five feet nine, weighs 235 and can move the stands on either side three feet unaided . . . Alfred Hitchcock wants Polly Bergen for a movie thriller laid in Niagara Falls. This trio couldn't miss . . . The Jewish Digest recently polled 30 distinguished citizens as to whether a Jew could be elected President. Eighteen said: "yes, in the years not too far away."

★ ★ ★

I understand the daytime TV audience is approximately six per cent of the evening viewers . . . . . Overheard in the Riker lobby: "My husband had a new hobby last summer. He stretched out in the hammock and let the birds watch him." . . . . . The highest income taxes in the world are in the U.S. We're the only nation that pays wartime rates . . . . . A Lion forward pass was intercepted. "Look at that bum," growled a fan. "He's the only passer in the league with 16 receivers — five of his own and eleven on the other side." . . . . . "Dolly" Ward has a Persian cat 20 years old. Is this a record? . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — Pontiac Central football team, the J's — that Thursday night Betty Hutton television program that's putting up a tremendous fight to rank at the bottom of the whole TV shebang.

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And now, O Lord, thou art God, and thou hast promised this good thing to thy servant;—I Chron. 17:26.

When once thy foot enters the church, be bare.
God is more there than thou: for thou art there
Only by his permission.
Then beware,
And make thyself all reverence and fear.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The faith of Toyohiko Kagawa brought him from the slums into the presence of the Emperor.

Japan's outstanding exponent of Christianity was converted when he was a teen-ager, and strengthened by spirit, was able to overcome tuberculosis. Convinced that Christianity "is a religion of love," he moved to the slums, where he counseled, aided, and preached.

A pacifist who believed that problems could best be solved by the laborer's "inner awakening" and that production should be "motivated by love," he was several times arrested for his activities. He stopped a strikers' march by standing in their path and praying, and in 1931 flew to Shanghai to ask Chinese forgiveness for his countrymen's aggression. He was jailed upon his return.

Forever zealous in his social crusade, he established schools, nurseries, a widow's home, a home for ex-convicts, orphanages, a leprosarium, medical and Christian centers, and wrote over 100 books.

After the war, the Emperor sought his advice. Carrying a Bible into the Imperial Palace, he said, "Only by service to others can a man, or a nation, be godlike." Since then, he has converted over 200,000 to Christianity.

Although his eyesight is failing from trachoma, Kagawa is still active. "My eyesight," he says, "is inside."

Dr. Brady's Mail Bag:

Oh, Come Now, Rhubarb Is Very Seldom Harmful

Neighbor goes about telling everybody rhubarb is dangerous, contains an acid that may cause . . . I formerly had constipation but since I began eating rhubarb sauce and rhubarb pie have had no such trouble . . . (Mrs. L. O.)

Ans. — Rhubarb (pieplant) is one of numerous foods that contain more or less oxalic acid, others being spinach, sorrel, cabbage, cocoa, black tea, pepper, tomatoes, coffee, plums, beets, potatoes, strawberries, green beans, chocolate, carrots, figs. Oxalic acid "poisoning" from such food is like rabies in man, gout and biliousness — it seems to occur only long ago or far away.

DR. BRADY

When our daughter pulled out her hair and chewed on it constantly we clipped her hair as short as possible. By the time it grew out again she had forgotten about pulling hair and never had any more trouble. Of course a girl looks bad without any hair, but if it breaks the habit it is not too drastic. (Mrs. F.A.W.)

Ans. — Thank you — perhaps it is just the right way to correct the habit. If not corrected, it may bring on intestinal obstruction requiring emergency operation to remove a ball or mass of hair from stomach or intestine.

Please state what you think of a man of 50 who drinks at least six glasses of beer every day and much more over the weekend, when he takes a few drinks of whiskey besides. He claims it can't do him any harm but is really good for him . . . (R. M.)

Ans. — The usual attitude of the alcoholic. Such indulgence in beer, wine or liquor temporarily benumbs consciousness of inferiority, but has less "tonic" effect than an equal quantity of milk would have. It is only the delinquent and the defective (moral or physical defective) who needs the narcotic effect of the alcohol in beer, wine or liquor to make him "feel good" or rather to make him temporarily unaware of his weakness, functional deficiency, social unacceptability, or whatever his inferiority may be.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Boost Nation's Economy by Shortening Work Week'

If the Russians can afford a short work week, thus employing more of their people, why wouldn't it now be advisable for us to raise the economy of our nation with a short work week? Automation is forcing it upon us, as unemployed people don't pay income tax.

If the President at Camp David thought it good for Khrushchev to use an educational program such as this for his people, why should we do the same to abolish unemployment?

'Who's to Blame for This Rise?'

When FDR was inaugurated in 1933, our national debt was $21 billion. In January, 1953, our national debt had jumped to $262.7 billion. That's a jump from $162 to $1697 per capita.

★ ★ ★

Paul S. Williams, president of the Grocers Manufacturers of America, says in 1940 food cost the American people $17 billion and taxes cost them $12.7 billion. In 1950 food cost $52.5 billion and taxes $57 billion.

★ ★ ★

Now just who are you going to blame for this? Our population increased 22 per cent from 1929 to 1940 and our taxes increased 819 per cent.

Veteran Objects to Cashing Fund

We can cash the $50 million Veterans Trust Fund, invested in U.S. Government bonds since 1945, for an estimated $10 million loss on today's market.

★ ★ ★

The $40 million left would be swallowed up by the State deficit in a matter of weeks, and it would cost the State about $1,200,000 a year, the average earnings of the Fund and which is used to administer the Fund and provide aide to veterans. This is an unforgivable waste and too much to ask Mr. Taxpayer to pay for use of the Fund principal.

★ ★ ★

Approximately $97,000 was used in Oakland County in 1958, an overdraw of about $50,000 of our allocation. So far in 1959 the overdraw is about $30,000. All but 1 per cent of this goes directly to veterans. These are facts which the Fund's Board of Trustees and your local Veterans Affairs Office can tell you. With present high layoffs and everything considered, we can't afford to liquidate this self-supporting program.

'Hit-Run Drivers Cause Such Grief'

Our little boy is wondering why his pal, Friskie, doesn't come home. Friskie was killed by a speeding hit and run driver. We as parents can't tell him what's happened to his dog, as he's recovering from shock. He loved his dog very much. If such drivers would stop and think of the grief they cause, they'd be more careful.

'Let's Not Look Only at Dark Side'

A recent letter bemoaned our sad lot because so many young boys are being rejected from the services.

★ ★ ★

I, too, think it's a shame, but let's take one thing into consideration — the increase in rejections is partly due to the fact that restrictions are more stringent now than during wartime, and a lot of boys that would have made it without question a few years ago are being turned down now that fewer men are needed.

★ ★ ★

I'm as anxious as anyone to turn out top-flight youth in this country, but let's not look only at the dark side of things.

The Country Parson

"A fellow's a bit short on humility if he can't recognize when he's being flattered."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Qualities of Successful Wife

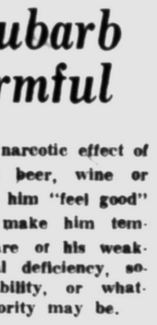
Sally typifies the problem confronted by every girl who plans to marry a professional man. Wives, you are worth 50 per cent toward your husbands' success, and that is doubly true if you marry a minister, doctor, lawyer, engineer, business executive or other professional man. Being a successful wife is the most complicated career.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

Case C - 490: Sally S., aged 20, is a lovely girl with stars in her eyes.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she exulted, "I am so happy for I am engaged to a very wonderful young minister.



DR. CRANE

"He is still attending seminary, but has a little church where he preaches over the week-ends.

"And I have been going out there with him this semester to play the piano and teach a high school girls' class in Sunday School.

★ ★ ★

"But what else can I do to prepare myself so that I will be of the most help to my future husband? He is so wonderful, I don't want to hinder him in the slightest way."

CHEER LEADER WIVES

Wives, all men who "front" before the public, as doctors, salesmen, clergymen, etc., need "cheer leader" wives.

★ ★ ★

For such men exude a lot of vitality during their daily duties. They often must take affronts and turn the other cheek as a matter of professional diplomacy.

Thus, when they reach home, they feel lower in spirit than would a ditch digger or manual laborer.

That's where you "cheer leader" wives are so important. Praise your mate. Boost his morale. Toot his horn. Tell him of some compliment you may have heard about him.

"Wet blanket" wives, on the other hand, further tax his frayed nerves and beat down his deflated ego by nagging or reciting Junior's petty misdeeds, etc.

★ ★ ★

So the FIRST requisite of a successful wife is to be a "cheer leader."

BUSINESS COLLEGE

Even if you girls have had four years at the university, by all means take a year at Business College.

For Business College will help make you a superduper wife. It will teach you shorthand and typewriting, which are a boon to every wife. It will offer you courses in Applied Psychology, Public Speaking, Effective Letter Writing, and Business Law.

And it will teach you to keep books. Your knowledge of simple accounting techniques will then enable you to handle the budgeting and business aspects of your family corporation.

★ ★ ★

You can compute your husband's income tax and thus relieve him of such "headaches" so he can concentrate on creative thinking.

Mrs. Crane took a year in Business College and I have benefited more from her training therein, than from all her university courses.

In fact, I wish every bride could cite a Business College diploma as a requisite for marriage, for then we'd have fewer divorces and less unbalanced budgets.

PROFESSIONAL WIVES

A clergyman's wife should know how to play the piano well enough to handle the hymns for Sunday School.

She should be able to speak fluently and narrate stories for toddlers. She should have the poise to offer a prayer, even if called upon without previous warning.

She should be deft in handling the problems of young folks and have a reservoir of games or entertainment ideas to stimulate them.

If she can cook, that's fine but any intelligent girl can become a good cook in a few weeks just by following the modern foodstuff.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Teen-Agers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents, for she should also be the sex counsellor to youth.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Writer Explains Ike-Golf Phrase

Alanbrooke Insists He Meant Commander Too Detached From Battle

LONDON (AP) — Viscount Alanbrooke said Friday he had no intention of suggesting in his wartime diaries that President Eisenhower played golf at a vital stage of the 1944 invasion of Europe.

The wartime chief of Britain's general staff said in a telephone interview he merely meant Eisenhower was at his headquarters, situated on a golf links, just before the crucial Battle of the Bulge.

Alanbrooke's controversial phrase came in a section of the diaries, published last weekend in a book called "Triumph in the West," criticizing Eisenhower's conduct of the war as Supreme Allied Commander. Dated Nov. 24, 1944, the entry claimed there was a "very unsatisfactory state of affairs in France with no one running the land battle."

★ ★ ★

"Eisenhower, though supposed to be doing so, is on the golf links at Reims — entirely detached and taking practically no part in the war," it said.

This did not mean Eisenhower was on the links for the usual purpose—to play golf, Alanbrooke insisted. He told the Associated Press:

"I had no intention of suggesting that the President actually played golf at that time. If you look in the diaries you'll see there was no accusation that he had any golf clubs and there was no accusation that he was playing golf. You might just as well say that I was accusing Eisenhower of drinking champagne because he was at Reims."

Reims is a center of the French champagne industry.

Alanbrooke declined to discuss the implication of his diary entry and whether it gave a misleading impression. He said he meant only to refer to the fact that Eisenhower's headquarters at the time were in the clubhouse of a disused golf course at Reims.

Welfare League Keeps President Second Year

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Robert Crary Jr., Jackson attorney and past president of Jackson's junior Chamber of Commerce, today was starting his second term as president of the Michigan Welfare League.

He was re-elected yesterday at business sessions of the league which is concluding a three-day session in Grand Rapids.

Others re-elected yesterday were Vice President Stanley W. Puddiford of Detroit and treasurer, Mrs. John N. Seamon of Lansing.

Raymond O. Hatcher of Detroit and F. Granger Weil of Port Huron were newly named to positions as vice presidents.

Mrs. Dulles Finding It Out

No Rank, Capital Lonely

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Power-hungry, VIP-worshipping Washington can be the loneliest town in the world, when your rank is gone.

A few short months ago, Mrs. John Foster Dulles unquestionably maintained the most crowded datebook in Washington. Gallant and adoring, she sought to spare the busy secretary of state for more important chores by filling in for him wherever possible at social events.

Together, when in the city, they dined almost nightly along the glittering party circuit, and their social calendar was filled to overflowing months in advance.

Because the chief advocate of personal diplomacy reported early at his office, and remained long after lesser wheels had departed for the day, Janet Dulles personally made the rounds of embassy cocktain parties to demonstrate the goodwill of the absent, hard-working secretary.

★ ★ ★

After his death, the grief-stricken widow observed a period of mourning. With the wife of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, she also spent a few weeks resting at Elizabeth Arden's Maine Chance.

★ ★ ★

Since her return, she has been very much alone with her memories. While the lights twinkle merrily at twilight in the salons which once eagerly sought her presence, she pores over the personal papers of her late husband, whom President Eisenhower called "our greatest secretary of state."

Fame is fleeting in this fickle capital, and many besides Janet Dulles have had cause to wonder whether public service is worth the thankless ending.

Medical 'Devices' to Return to Firm

DETROIT (AP)—Federal food and drug agents were ordered Friday to return 31 electrical devices allegedly used to treat arthritis, neuritis and other diseases to the manufacturer, Gonsertron Corp., of Essexville.

The devices were seized last Sept. 24 in Bay City, Royal Oak, East Tawas, Monroe and Dearborn. A federal libel was filed against them by Donald F. Welday Jr., assistant U.S. attorney.

Welday charged the devices were misbranded and did not relieve the ailments for which they were used.

U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin ordered the devices returned on the company's argument that they were manufactured in Michigan and not distributed to other states in interstate commerce.

Susan Hamilton to Speak on Home Missions Visit

Susan Hamilton, a member of Bethany Baptist Church and one of 10 young people who visited several home mission stations of the American Baptist Convention last summer, will tell of her experiences at the 5 p.m. vesper hour Sunday.

One of the counselors with the group was Patty Looman, a member of the faculty of Waterford Township High School and also a member of Bethany.

Others participating in the service will be Robert Richert and Judy Hunt.

At the 7 p.m. adult forum, Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor, will discuss the Seventh-Day Adventist Church and the Jewish faith as a part of the program known as "Operation Understanding."

Members and friends will have the opportunity to make their committment of tithes and offerings at the 8:45 and 11 a.m. services Sunday or Dedication Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Chapman will speak at both services on "Money and Your Life."

Members working with Omer Lewis on the every member canvass committee include Paul Snover, Raymond Rooney, Mrs. Earl Eddy, Mrs. Ben Wilton and Floyd Foren.

★ ★ ★

Thurley Allen, Joseph Cox, Mrs. Robert Sickels, Tom Hutchison and Mr. Snover will serve as captains of the calling committee with Mr. Foran, chairman. Fenton Hamilton, Robert Martin, Andrew Pepper, Paul Kankovsky and Mr. Wilton will be co-captains.

★ ★ ★

Mary McLaughlin and David Smith will be youth assistants at the morning worship hours.

Pakistan Red Cross Director Gets Ambulance

The keys to an ambulance contributed by American church people to Pakistan were presented to the Red Cross director Wajid Ali Shah.

In a ceremony in Karachi attended by refugee and relief leaders of both countries, Dr. A. Russell Stevenson presented a Volkswagen microbus, the gift of Church World Service, which, completely outfitted, will become a unit of the mobile dispensary serving the Karachi area.

Director of Overseas Program of CWS, Dr. Stevenson reported plans to increase shipments of food to Pakistan in addition to emergency supplies sent to victims of the recent devastating floods in that country. He also announced that rehabilitation and vocational training projects are being worked out for refugees there and others in need.

Through September this year, Church World Service has shipped 1,544,810 lbs. of U.S. surplus and other foods valued at more than $100,000 to Pakistan. Of this, a substantial part consisted of grains and other produce donated by American farmers to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), a unit of CWS.

In addition, 16,911 lbs. of vitamins, and 17,697 lbs. of clothing have been delivered there to date this year.

Churches Rise in Korea, India

Methodist Sanctuaries Being Built at Seoul and New Delhi

A large new Methodist church has just been completed in the capital city of one Asian country, and by February 1960 another Asian capital is expected to have a major new Methodist church.

★ ★ ★

The J. S. Ryang Memorial Methodist Church, costing $100,000 and seating 2,500 in the sanctuary, was dedicated recently in Seoul, Korea.

In New Delhi, India, the Centenary Methodist Church, to serve 2,000 Hindi-speaking Methodists, is under construction and is expected to be ready for use next February. It is expected to cost about $144,000.

The Ryang Church is the largest Methodist church in Seoul. It is named in honor of Bishop J. S. Ryang of the Korean Methodist Church, who disappeared during the Korean war and of whom no word has been received since.

The new building is located on the site of the former Chong Kyo Methodist Church, which in earlier years was one of the "cathedrals" of Korean Methodism. It has a large social hall and extensive facilities for Christian education.

Construction began in May in New Delhi's new Centenary Methodist Church.

'This Is the Heir' Topic of Sermon

The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton of First Congregational Church will preach on "This Is the Heir" at the morning worship hour Sunday.

The Chancel Choir will present "The Beatitudes" by Glarun and Mrs. Arthur Kendall will sing "Christ Went Up Into the Hills."

Organ numbers by organist Charles R. Wilson will include "Voluntary" by Croft and "Benedictus" by Couperin.

Building Fund Drive Starting

St. Stephen Canvassers Visiting Parishioners in Homes Sunday

The Rev. Robert L. Dewitt of Christ Church Cranbrook and Dr. Burton S. Levering, former rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Detroit, spoke at the dinner at Christ Church Thursday to launch the building fund drive of St. Stephen Church.

Canvassers will visit parishoners Sunday.

★ ★ ★

A mission of Christ Church, the St. Stephen's congregation currently conducts services at Eastover School, Adams and Westover roads. The Rev. Barton M. Lloyd serves as vicar and Luel Simmons as senior warden.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hotton, superintendent, and a staff of 13 teachers are in charge of the church school.

Women of the church meet once a month under the leadership of Mrs. Luel Simmons. Mrs. Sherrill Simpson is director of the choir and Mrs. Bryce Beecher, the organist.

The Young People's Group meets twice a month with leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yoder, Mrs. Carl Zuber, director of the Altar Guild, has recently organized a Junior Altar Guild.

Mrs. Simpson heads the secretarial staff; and Jack Diemer, Jay Harness and Randy Hotton serve as acolytes.

Native of West Indies to Serve Bible Institute

ANDERSON, Ind.—Carlton Cumberbatch has become the first national to serve as president of the West Indies Bible Institute, sponsored from general offices here of the Church of God. He was appointed by the school's newly constituted board of trustees.

Located near Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, Cumberbatch's birthplace, the school serves Church of God youth from throughout the southern Caribbean area, training them for leadership in the church in that part of the world.

Cumberbatch, who studied here at Anderson College four years ago, assumes the presidency of the eight-year old school following a trend of modern missions to transfer administrative responsibilities in church and related institutions to younger churches at the earliest possible time.

The Rev. Don Johnson, formerly of Anderson, has been serving as president of the school, which conducts a unique program of industrial arts to help students support themselves and the institute.

Missions Board Asks Application of Psychiatrist

The Board of Missions of the Methodist Church is seeking a psychiatrist to go as a missionary to serve an important psychiatric institute overseas. Either a man or a woman will be acceptable.

Professional qualifications are a Doctor of Medicine degree, and certification as a psychiatrist by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

In addition, the person selected should have "a deep commitment to the cause of Christian missions, and a warm Christian experience.

For further information, write Harold N. Brewster, M.D., medical secretary, Board of Missions, 150 Fifth Ave., New York 11 N.Y.

Baptists Plan to Extend Library Service in U.S.

SAN MARCOS, Tex (AP) — The Southern Baptist Convention is planning to extend its library service into every "small town, village and open country area in Texas."

The Rev. Prentis Chunn, Texas Baptist library president, estimates that there are about 2,000 Baptist church libraries in the state but most of them are in large metropolitan centers.

Confident Living

King Hussein of Jordan Wise Man for His Years

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I am writing this piece on the wide veranda of the Philadelphia Hotel in Amman, Jordan. Philadelphia is the old Biblical name of this place which was the capital of the ancient Ammonites. Directly across the road are well-preserved ruins of a Roman amphitheatre, seating 4,000 persons, which indicates the town's importance from ancient times.

PEALE

On the heights above the city David placed Uriah, the Hittite, in the forefront of the battle and had him killed, that he might take his wife Bathsheba. Not far away down the road to Jericho are the plains of Jubboch where Jacob wrestled with the angel and where his name was changed from Jacob to Israel. Biblical history encircles you about at Amman. But current history also thrills.

Amman is a rapidly growing city of nearly 300,000 people, swollen in the past ten years by thousands of refugees from Palestine. Built on seven hills, like Rome, the heights are crowned by beautiful homes. The center is an oriental city with all the typical sights and sounds of teeming streets.

Bearded bedouins, black-veiled women, sheiks and thousands of Jordanian soldiers mingle in the throngs. Cars weave in and out through a continuous procession of small, pert donkeys and ponderous camels carrying all sorts of produce. Bright-colored merchandise fills the shops and bazaars.

★ ★ ★

Arabs are lovable people and in the many days I've spent in the Middle East I have a memory of flashing smiles and much kindness. They like Americans, whom they think of as friends, and they are very appreciative of our Point Four assistance in road building, education and industrial guidance.

SAW REFUGEES

UNRWA officials took me to refugee camps, of which there are forty in Jordan, comprising some 600,000 displaced persons. In the whole Middle East the number is approximately one million who lost homes, property, jobs—everything. It is one of the great sociological problems in the world today.

One wonders if there can ever be true peace or prosperity in the world where any injustice remains uncorrected. The world cannot shut its eyes to any human problem and not suffer for it. Certainly we have not grown so callous that we do not care about human agony any more.

One individual I met, a young man twenty-four years of age, happens to be a king; King of the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan. He is a great favorite of his people.

My wife, my three children and I visited him in his palace high above the city. There is little formality and absolutely no stuffed-shirtism about this young king.

He has a delightful sense of humor and we had a lot of fun in our visit.

For a youth of twenty-four, King Hussein is the most mature young man I think I have ever met. Being always interested in what makes people tick, I asked if I might put a personal question to him. "In view of all you have been through how did you preserve such balance of mind and spirit?"

★ ★ ★

His quiet answer was, "I try to do right. I do my best, that is all. Then I leave it to God." And that isn't a bad answer for anyone, king or commoner. King Hussein impresses one as a born leader of men. As one of his prominent subjects said to me, "He is the grandson of a king, son of a king, and himself a king, but if he were a plain man he would still be somebody."

He has great plans for his country, chief of which is to help his people to live lives of freedom and peace. He hopes that American citizens will get acquainted with Jordan and asked me to extend, on his behalf, an invitation to Americans to visit his country.

Bible Words for Today

ROMANS 12:21 — "Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good." (RSV)

★ ★ ★

When a cloud charged with electricity moves over a house it induces an opposite charge in the house. If it comes near enough there will be a destructive flash of lightning unless there is a lightning rod through which a steady stream of the opposite kind of electricity flows out to neutralize the cloud.

When a person filled with hatred or resentment comes in contact with others, the same attitudes may be induced in them and revengeful words and actions may result. But if people have a good connection with the divine source of love which dissipates hate and bitterness, they can prevent much that would destroy character and human relationships.

Hate generates more hate but love inspires more love. Through private and public worship and study of the Bible we maintain our relationship to God, keep our hearts filled with love and learn how to counteract hate with love and overcome evil with good.

Church Has Right to Speak Out

The churches have the right to speak out fearlessly on controversial issues just as Christ did in His time, the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg told 450 church leaders in Hartford, Conn., recently.

In a plea that the American churches and their members debate openly the issues of a world faced by "destruction and despair," the president of the National Council of Churches said, "Jesus never hesitated to meet personal and public issues head on."

Declaring that the vigorous pronouncements of Jesus on the Samaritan segregation issue, the Sabbath laws, payment of the temple tax and tributes to Caesar "sent Him to the cross," Dr. Dahlberg continued: "If he had confined himself to little Mickey Mouse morals He would never have been heard of."

Baptist Missionaries in Africa Are Shifted

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP)—The Baptist Mission of Central Africa has ordered two missionary couples now serving in Southern Rhodesia to come here to prepare for the opening of Baptist work.

They are the Rev. and Mrs. William S. Wester and the Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Albright. This newest mission field brings to 40 the number of countries and territories in which Southern Baptist missionaries serve.

Beware Church Unity at Expense of Doctrine

ATLANTA (AP) — The president of the North American Christian Convention has warned that church unity must not be wrought at the expense of central doctrine.

Olin W. Hay of Louisville, Ky., told delegates to the NACC convention:

"The only kind of unity about which we are concerned is the unity for which Christ prayed. Our plea is for Christian unity in all that the name 'Christian' implies."

Schools for Ministers Get Record Attendance

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Furman University's summer schools for South Carolina ministers attracted a total of 392 clergymen largest number in the program's 11 year history.

The schools, teaching Bible study, practical ministry and contemporary religious thought, were held in Greenville, Orangeburg, Spartanburg, Camden, Cayce, Aiken, Florence, Charleston, Westminster and Anderson.

Views of God Hazy

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A study of Evangelical church boys and girls in Germany indicates that only about one in 10 have a personal conception of God. "The vast majority moves in a haze . . ." said a report of the survey.

Pastor Organizes Class for Adults at U.P. Church

An adult communicant class will be organized and taught by the Rev. F. William Palmer at 10 a.m. in the United Presbyterian Church at Auburn Heights.

A special offering will be received for the Michigan Synod Development Program at the 11:15 morning worship service.

Monies will be used for capital improvements in United Presbyterian work around the state.

Receiving special help will be Alma College, youth work in nine state-supported colleges and universities, ministry to young people in camps and conferences, the erection of new churches, and development of a home for the aged on the western side of the state.

During the service the pastor will speak to the children on "The Second Commandment" and to the congregation on "An Answering Love."

Jerry McCarthy will lead the 6 p.m. youth meeting and Virgil Weston will discuss "Come As You Will Be."

A panel composed of Donald Davis, Orvin Weaver, Leroy Swartz and the pastor will answer questions put to them by youths at the senior high meeting.

The post high group will have a Bible study covering a part of the Sermon on the Mount.

The Rev. J. Rodney Beal of Royal Oak will preach at the 7 p.m. service. His message will concern "Who Rules Your Heart."

Elders and laymen will gather at the church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday for instruction for the Every Member Canvass. The Men's Club will meet for a dinner and program at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Churches to Ask for Funds to Send Food Abroad

NEW YORK — Thousands of Americans will be asked for $865,210 to feed more than twenty million hungry people overseas in a special appeal to be launched during the Thanksgiving Season to finance the 1960 Share Our Surplus program, through which three hundred million pounds of food from United States surplus stocks will be distributed free in some twenty-five distress areas abroad.

Objectives of the appeal were announced today by Dr. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, National Council of Churches, which sponsors the program on behalf of major denominations in America.

Value of U.S. surplus commodities scheduled for distribution in 1960 through the SOS program, Dr. Wilson said, is approximated at slightly over $25 millions.

SOS foods, Dr. Wilson explained, come from the United States store of surplus commodities accumulated by the United States Commodity Credit Corporation under the agricultural price support system. They are made available to the churches without cost only after provision has been made for needy people in the United States.

The SOS foods, he said, are given in emergency relief to disaster victims, in supplemental feeding programs for widows, orphans and school children; in programs aiding hospital patients and aged people, and in assistance to refugees and others in distress.

MELVIN B. WHITE

Detroit Boy Giving Recital at Trinity

The junior and children's choirs of Trinity Baptist Church will present five-year-old Melvin B. White in a vocal recital at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin White of Detroit, he is a member of the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Detroit. His sister, Faye, will also sing several numbers as will the children's choir of the Providence Missionary Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Following the program, refreshments will be served in Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Sarah Gary is director of Trinity Choirs and the Rev. Joseph W. Moors is pastor.

Minister Rebuilding Old Theater Organ

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Rev. William R. Smith, minister of music at Norview Baptist Church says he hates to see a musical instrument or a human being wind up on the junk heap.

That's why he is rebuilding an old theater orgar with parts he says come from the ends of the earth. He admits it will take some rebuilding to suit his purposes. It is equipped with xylophone, base and snare drums, castinets, marimbas, a bird whistle, a klaxon and glockenspiel.

Alaskan Villagers Discover Hospital Not so Terrible

The strange world of the modern hospital is made less frightening to patients from remote Alaska villages by Miss Alice Green. For the past three and a half years she has served them at Government Native Hospital in Anchorage as a special worker for the National Council of Churches' Division of Home Missions.

★ ★ ★

"Strange foods, language barriers and homesickness are sometimes terrifying to these patients," she said, "particularly the children.' On a short furlough stateside, Miss Green reported on her work at a meeting of the Alaska Committee of the Division in New York City.

★ ★ ★

The Sunday School she organized has helped patients of all ages adjust to the new environment and for most it is the bright spot of the week. When she visits the wards, children call out to her, "Is it Sunday yet?"

Using interpreters, she teaches Russian Orthodox and Protestant patients. A member of the Ministerial Association, she recently organized a religious education leadership training school in Anchorage and works closely with it in addition to her hospital work.

★ ★ ★

Officially coordinator of chaplaincy services at the hospital, Miss Green fills spare moments shopping and running errands for patients and helping them with letters home.

To help her in her work, the wives of servicemen at Elmendorf Air Force Base in Anchorage gave her a tape recorder with which she their families in far-off villages.

Public Health nurses take the tapes with them on their visits and return to the hospital with taped messages from home.

"I confess I can't understand them as they're in dialect," Miss Green told the committee, "but they are very fond of singing hymns to each other on the tapes."

SAILING FOR SOUTHERN RHODESIA — In a special service Wednesday evening at First Baptist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Christianson will be commissioned for missionary work in Southern Rhodesia under the Evangelical Alliance Mission. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wayne Stricklin of 102 Stout St., Mrs. Christianson will be the 36th young person to go out to the foreign field from the First Baptist Church during the ministry of Dr. H. H. Savage. With them are (from left) sons, Stephen, Dean and Jonathan.

Dr. H. H. Savage to Commission Missionaries at Special Service

Dr. H. H. Savage will conduct a special commissioning service Wednesday evening at First Baptist Church for Mr. and Mrs. Phil Christianson as they make final preparation for missionary work in Southern Rhodesia, Africa.

The Christiansons with their three small sons, Stephen, Dean and Jonathan, will sail Nov. 20 under the Evangelical Alliance Mission.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wayne Stricklin of 102 Stout St., Mrs. Christianson received nurses' training at West Suburban Hospital School of Nursing at Oak Park, Ill. She is a graduate of Wheaton College.

A medical technologist, Mr. Christianson received his education at Wheaton College and the Pontiac General Hospital School of Medical Technology. His parents are the Frank Christiansons of Racine, Wis.

The missionary couple will work at the new 100-bed Gunderson-Horness Hospital presently under construction.

Temporary buildings can house 30 in-patients. The present staff of one doctor and three nurses treats nearly 4,000 out-patients a month. The hospital is located near several large native reservations in the heart of the bush country.

The Evangelical Alliance Mission, an interdenominational faith mission board, has nearly 800 missionaries in 15 countries.

The mission entered Southern Rhodesia in 1940 when missionaries Orval Dunkeld of Pontiac and Rudy Danielson saw the need of the primitive, uneducated, unevangelized people of the Zambezi River Valley.

The mission now has nine stations in the northern part of the country.

1ST BAPTIST SUPPORTS 35

Currently the First Baptist Church is supporting 35 fulltime missionaries on the foreign field, partial support of 10 others, and full support for 33 missionary children. Church members also support a number of missionary workers in home mission fields.

The missionary giving for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1959 was $122,067.39.

"In most instances, the support of the missionary is underwritten by a group of individuals in the church or by a Sunday School Class," said Dr. Savage.

"The Board of Missions feels the success of the program and continual increase in missionary giving is due to the personal interest in a missionary as an individual.

"The majority of missionaries supported by First Baptist are young people who have grown up in the church."

The daughter and two sons of Dr. and Mrs. Savage are serving the mission field in South America.

The church publishes a little magazine once a month which lists names of missionaries and locations. Excerpts of letters are printed of experiences.

More than 400 families of the congregation have a packet of prayer cards with names of all missionaries. Members are asked to remember missionaries in prayer at each meal.

Famous People Tell Feeling on Religion

"We regularly take Jackie, Jr., to church with us, though he's only five. For my wife and I want him to know, as early as possible, the faith that will guide and help him all his life, as it helps and guides us. To be without the help of the friendly hand of God is one thing we cannot imagine."—Jackie Robinson.

Have you ever stood next to your youngster in church? Then surely you've felt that surge of warm feeling spread over you . . as I have. Perhaps it's the happy feeling I get at just being in Church with my son. Faith has made life so much richer for my husband and me. That's why we want our son to grow up in its wisdom.—Rosalind Russell.

New Church Named to Honor Florida Bishop

A new Methodist church of modernistic architectural design named in honor of the late Bishop John W. Branscomb, of Florida, has recently been completed on Mindanao island in the Philippines.

★ ★ ★

Built on a hill overlooking one of the main roads of Mindanao, the "John W. Branscomb Memorial Chapel" will serve not only as a worship center, but its educational plant will house Sunday school classes, recreational facilities and classes of the Mount Apo Christian Workers School.

★ ★ ★

Built at a cost of $15,000, the new church was given as a memorial to Bishop Branscomb by Christ Methodist Church, St. Petersburg, Fla., and many other Florida churches.

★ ★ ★

The Mount Apo Christian Workers School, which has moved out of less suitable quarters into the new building, is now in its second year of training evangelists, Christian educators, lay witnesses and other Methodists workers on Mindanao.

Youth Officers to Be Installed

Minister to Conduct Worship Hour Sunday at Rescue Mission

Officers of the Builder and Pioneer Youth Groups will be installed at the 7 p.m. service Sunday in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Included will be Kathy O'Brien, Bob Bell, Peggy Wilson, Marilyn Coffing, Cheryl Coffing, Judy Webb, Jim Haun and Larry Hart. Special music will be provided by a ladies' trio composed of Mrs. Thomas Mackie, Mrs. Richard Wilton and Mrs. Earl Niemi.

The church will conduct a service at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Pontiac Rescue Mission on South Saginaw street.

Following the Wednesday evening prayer service, ushers will meet to organize for the coming year.

The Rev. Theodore R. Allenbach, pastor, and choir will conduct a worship service at Pontiac State Hospital at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Youth groups will meet at 5:45 p.m.

"Beware of False Religions" will be the pastor's sermon theme at 10 a.m.

'Teen-Age Rock' to Be Shown

Oakland Youth to Hold Singspiration Sunday at Perry Park Baptist

Oakland Youth Fellowship will sponsor the showing of the film, "Teen-age Rock" at the 7:30 meeting tonight in Christian Temple, 404 Auburn Ave.

The story concerns the problems, decisions and faith of high school-age young people.

The Fellowship Quartet will present several selections and Dave Halter, a student at the Midwestern Seminary, will play the accordion.

Singspiration for November will be held at 9:15 Sunday night at Perry Park Baptist Church, Baltimore at Cameron streets.

Singing trio numbers will be Lynn Waelde, Ann Schubert and Ellen Goode. Leading community singing will be William Meyers with David Brein at the piano.

Lack of Ministers at Institutions Cited

Thirty million people are currently hospitalized or detained in health and correctional institutions in this country. This sobering fact was reported to members of the Department of Pastoral Services of the National Council of Churches at its semi-annual meeting in New York City.

"Another disturbing fact," declared the Rev. Mark Shedron, director of the department, "is that there are only 1,200 trained chaplains to serve these people in our institutions." He estimated that this is a ratio of one chaplain to each of 12,000 people coming under Protestant responsibility.

Mr. Shedron also cited a survey of state institutions conducted by his department, showing that 23 states have no formal standards for religious counseling in their institutions. He proposed an expanded program which would provide a source of information on clinical training standards, salary schedules, job placement and other necessary services. "There are four national chaplaincy organizations," he said, "and we feel a way should be found to relate the churches more closely to them."

"COMMON RELIGIOUS ERRORS NOT ENDORSED BY THE BIBLE"

Many years ago the Christ said, "Beware of False PROPHETS--" and certainly if there ever were a time when individuals who are seeking to know the truth and nothing but the truth need to beware of FALSE TEACHERS that time is now. For every conceivable doctrine is being taught in the name of the religion of Jesus Christ. In view of this truth surely we should heed seriously the admonition of John who said, "Believe not every spirit--"

In these articles we have been examining doctrines which are constantly advocated which directly contradict that which appears in the Bible. In this article we want to discuss a doctrine which is GOD-DISHONORING, CHRIST-REJECTING, and BIBLE-OPPOSING. It is a doctrine which only those who have utter disregard for truth or are ignorant of Biblical facts could advance. I speak with regard to the doctrine of NO ETERNAL PUNISHMENT. How a firm, sincere, honest, Bible reader and believer could reach such an erroneous conclusion is as vague to me as how an intelligent informed, well-read man of the present age could conclude that the earth is flat. For the Bible plainly says, "EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT" Matt. 25:46. "But we are told that God is good and will not eternally punish his people. To this objection I simply reply by asking, HAS GOD GIVEN MAN COMMANDMENTS TO BE DISOBEYED? Of course he has. Then in the words of Franklin, "The idea of law without a penalty is nothing short of the most idle fiction. All law contains penalty. Indeed, the very idea of law implies penalty. The law of God, the highest, the grandest, and most sublime law known to mortal man, has not only a penalty, but the most terrible, fearful, and awful penalty ever described by human tongue as its divine sanction. "Is this why Paul said, "Therefore knowing the TERROR of GOD we persuade men--" II Cor. 5:11. A few questions are in order to those who by failing to teach the truth on this subject ENCOURAGE SIN AND DISOBEDIENCE TO GOD'S COMMANDMENTS.

1. Is ETERNAL PUNISHMENT MENTIONED IN THE BIBLE?
2. Will God punish those who rebel deliberately against his word and refuse to obey his commandments?
3. When will God punish?
4. Will the punishment of God upon those referred to in number two (2) be eternal should they die in such condition?
5. Does God bless disobedience?

Friends, the wicked who die in rebellion to God truth will be punished. it is for this reason that I continually endeavor to lead you into a knowledge of the truth. The Bible teaches that the wicked will be lost, punished eternally. Believeth thou this?

Young People Plan Banquet

Annual Turkey Dinner Set for 6:30 Thursday at Christian Temple

Members of the Christian Endeavor groups at Christian Temple will hold their annual banquet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the church recreation room.

Working with Mrs. Ralph Johnson, senior Christian Endeavor counselor, are Mrs. John McKinney, Mrs. Elmer J. Dunlap, Mrs. James Maddox, Shirley Plake, Lois Hefner and Mrs. Harold Eagle, decoration committee members.

In charge of tickets are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morse and Mary Ellen Sirbaugh.

Planning the menu are Mrs. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur VanZandt and Mrs. Howard Blackburn, intermediate C.E. counselors; Mrs. Purma Rouse, junior C.E. counselor; and Mrs. Earl Day, beginner C.E. counselor. Christian Endeavor officers also are assisting.

Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Howard Bertram are on the purchasing committee.

Kitchen and dining room chairmen are Mrs. James Marshall and Mrs. Irene Godfrey respectively.

Butcher Builds Mangers When Business Slows

CLIFTON, N. J. (AP) — Alexander Biczak, a butcher, has found an unusual use for his old meat cleaver.

When business is slow, Biczak goes to work on an old meat block in a back room at his shop, chipping a manger out of plywood and white birch branches.

The mangers depict the humble environment of Christ's birth, and Biczak, a religious man, says he finds great satisfaction in building them.

He now has some 200, he says, and intends neither to sell them nor give them away indiscriminately. Instead, he plans to lend them at Christmastime to churches, hospitals and other institutions.

Members to Make Pledges at Joslyn

Pledge Sunday will be observed tomorrow at the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Presenting the solo, "In the Secret Garden," will be Fred Bohlman. The five new choir members include Charles E. Hartsell, Lyle Basinger, Bob Leighton, Barbara Hogberg and Joe Tinson.

Services at the Joslyn Church include Sunday School at 9:30 a.m.; worship hour at 10:45 a.m.; young people's class at 6:30 p.m.; evening worship at 7:30 and Bible study at 6:45 p.m. each Thursday.

Yeshiva in New York Plans Huge Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — Yeshiva University will undertake a 10-year, 30-million-dollar expansion program, starting next year.

The university said Thursday night the program will include construction on Manhattan's west side of classroom and dormitory buildings and a gymnasium-recreation center.

Kentucky Becomes Bible Land

Christ's Surroundings Duplicated

By CLAUDE WOLFF

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — High on a hilltop overlooking the Ohio River sits an island of peace and quiet called the Garden of Hope.

It is a place where thousands of persons of all religious faiths can slip away for a while to rest and contemplate in surroundings as close to the Holy Land as man can make them.

The center of it all is a replica of the Garden Tomb in Jerusalem, believed by many to be the tomb given by Joseph of Arimathea for the body of Christ.

★ ★ ★

Through a narrow door cut in stone, one can see places of burial for three persons. On the space like the one where Christ traditionally is believed to have lain is engraved:

"He is not here, for He has risen."

On the wall just above the slab is the quotation from John:

"Joseph of Arimathea . . . took the body of Jesus. Now in the place where He was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid. There they laid Jesus . . ."

DREAM'S REALIZATION

The Garden of Hope is the realization of the dream of a young, personable and tireless minister, the Rev. Morris Coers, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Covington.

The Rev. Mr. Coers first visited the Holy Land 21 years ago. Knowing that such visits were impossible for millions of people, he determined to reproduce part of it in the United States.

CARPENTER'S SHOP

In addition to the tomb, there is a carpenter's shop, constructed as it would have looked if the work were done 2,000 years ago.

Inside are tools from Nazareth, hundreds of years old. A carpenter of Nazareth is portrayed in a mural.

★ ★ ★

The "Glory Trail," strewn with reminders of the Holy Land, runs through the garden.

By the side of the trail lie a huge stone from the wall of Solomon's temple; a stone from the Jordan River; a brick from the walls of Jericho.

The garden, which seeks no profit, is not yet finished but already it is as beautiful and sacred looking spot as can be found anywhere—truly a Garden of Hope.

Mt. Olive Baptist Buys Building

Organize Congregation on Aug. 7, '55 by Home Mission Board

The congregation of Mt. Olive Baptist Church has purchased the building at 1196 Joslyn Ave. in which it has been holding services.

The Home Mission Board of the Michigan Association of General Baptist Churches organized the Mt. Olive General Baptist Church at 98 W. Howard St. on Aug. 7, 1955.

★ ★ ★

Charter members included Cecil G. Keller, Elsie L. Keller, Otis Book, Betty Book, the Rev. Lowell Book, the Rev. Earl Hume, Rita Hume, and the Rev. Lee R. Johnson and Bonnie Johnson.

The Rev. Book served the church as first pastor for two years followed by the Rev. Johnson from 1957 to August 1958.

The present pastor, the Rev. Dolen B. Ray, came to the congregation the same year.

Deacons serving the current membership of 51, are Francis Payne, John Bowles, Mr. Book and Mr. Keller.

★ ★ ★

Sunday services include Sunday School at 10 a. m.; worship hour at 11 a. m. and evening prayer at 7:30.

50 Christ Lutheran Men Visiting Homes Sunday

Every member Visitation Sunday will be observed tomorrow at Christ Lutheran Church, Airport and Williams Lake roads.

★ ★ ★

As a part of the Protestant emphasis on stewardship, 50 men of the congregation will visit homes to inform families about the world-wide and local work of the church for 1960.

Heading the program are Robert Dika, Richard Kroninger, Roy Klingler and Mrs. Earl Weber. John Wiley is in charge of training the visitors.

One of the future projects is the support of five colleges to strengthen the work of Christian Higher Education. Augustana College at Rock Island, Ill. is one of the schools. A loyal full-time worker will be secured to assist the pastor.

At the 11 a.m. service tomorrow, the Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor, will commission the visiting group. Sunday School will be held at 9:30 a.m.

Bishop Tells of Visit to Congo

Says Methodist Work in Belgian Africa Gives Him New Inspiration

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, of the Los Angeles Episcopal area, one of a number of Methodist visitors to the Belgian Congo within recent weeks, has given an evaluation of Methodist work in the Congo. He says of this land "where decisions are being made today that will affect generations of peoples of all races and continents":

"Every now and again there comes to the Christian a new vision and a new inspiration. These experiences came to me as I visited the Methodist Church in the Belgian Congo. It has been my most thrilling missionary tour.

The Methodist Church is established in the life of the people. We are identified with their needs and desires. To an amazing extent, the plain man feels that the Methodist Church is concerned with his problems and his dreams.

"I believe that whatever the future may be, this foundation cannot be destroyed. Who can forget the village churches out in the bush, or the great congregations of the city! I have not found such an example of this planting of the church in any other place."

JWB Lists Paperbacks of Interest to Jews

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Jewish Welfare Board has compiled a bibiography of about 100 paper-bound books of interest to Jews.

The booklet was prepared by Miss Diana Bernstein, director of the JWB's Women's Organizations Division, after a study of catalogues containing 10,000 titles.

Four Hundred Area Residents Attend Seminar

Four hundred Pontiac residents were among the 1,684 who attended the recent semi-annual seminar of Jehovah's Witnesses from Eastern Michigan at Oxford.

★ ★ ★

The theme of the Assembly, "Do the Divine Will," was emphasized by talks and demonstrations in the door to door ministry and in personal conduct.

Edward C. Thornton and Edward Strong of Pontiac appeared on the program in the ministry school.

Local residents serving on committees included Joseph V. LaBarge, baptism; David Beitler, service, and Austin J. Kizer, administrative.

Jehovah's Witnesses meet at Kingdom Hall, 600 E. Pike St., and 4400 W. Walton Blvd., Drayton Plains.

Finds Most Ministers Preach on Vacations

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What do ministers do on their vacations?

They preach. But sometimes they preach a great distance from their own pulpits.

The Norfolk Ledger-Star found that the Rev. Archie E. Acey of Ghent Methodist church here was using his vacation to preach in Malaya and the Philippines.

The Rev. O. E. Luttrell of Larchmont Baptist was preaching in several countries of Europe, and the Rev. Fred A. Rivenbark of Fairmont Park Baptist was preaching in Anchorage, Alaska.

Sermon Topics Named

"Doctrinal Preaching" will be the topic of the Rev. Gerald W. Gibson's sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday in Central Christian Church. His evening theme will be "A Bond Slave."

'Open Houses,' CD Drill Set for Education Week

A round of "open houses," dedication of a new school and a civil defense drill are among highlights scheduled by the Pontiac school system in observance of American Education Week, Nov. 8-14.

★ ★ ★

Kicking off events will be dedication of the Square Lake School, 1830 Square Lake Rd., at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The 152 students of the six-room school which opened in September, their parents and officials will attend.

Max Shane, president of the school's parents group, will deliver the welcoming address. The Rev. Clark McPhail, pastor of the Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church, will give the invocation.

TO ANNOUNCE NAME

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, will dedicate the building and announce the school's new name.

"It has been traditional in the Pontiac school district to name elementary schools after deceased literary or educational figures," says Mrs. Harold Muldowney, administrative intern at Square Lake.

"Parents, students and teachers studied various names and submitted three alternatives to the Board of Education for the final selection."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Muldowney and her staff of eight will host Sunday's program.

Glenn Griffin, president of the Board of Education, will accept presentation of the building in behalf of the community from Whitmer.

Robert C. Rowlson, educational consultant for H. E. Beyster & Associates, builders, will present a flag for the school.

MUSIC, REFRESHMENTS

Roberta Wine, a sixth grader and president of the student council, will accept the gift.

The Washington Junior High School Band will provide music. Refreshments will be served.

The city's junior high schools, senior high schools and elementary schools will hold "open house" 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

Parents are invited to meet their children's teachers and become acquainted with school programs.

The McCarroll School will be evacuated Friday in a Civil Defense test drill. Harrington School will serve as a welfare congregation center to receive the 372 evacuees from buses, identify and feed them.

Garbed in white, high school students trained in the use of geiger counters will provide actual radiological detection teams. They will use the apparatus to check students, clothing and food.

In charge of the operation, from noon until 3 p.m. is Robert Stierer, administrative assistant to the city manager and deputy director of Civil Defense in Pontiac.

Also handling operations will be Mrs. Virginia Warren, coordinator of Civil Defense for Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Principals from other schools in Pontiac will attend the test as observers.

★ ★ ★

Police will be at control points along the one and a half mile route between the two schools to expedite evacuation.

FIRST SUCH TEST

This will be the first test of its kind here, according to Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools.

★ ★ ★

Chairman for the school system program in the national observance is Victor Lindquist, assistant principal at Pontiac Northern High School.

'Not in Battle Alone'

Meany Backs Rail Unions in Featherbedding Debate

CHICAGO (AP) — President George Meany of the AFL-CIO has pledged full and complete support of the nation's railroad unions in their fight with the carriers over featherbedding charges.

"You are not in this battle alone," he told an estimated 3,000 cheering rail union leaders and rank-and-file workers at a rally Thursday night billed as labor's answer to the railroads' charges.

The nation's railroads served notice on their unions last Monday that they want to eliminate certain railroad jobs they consider unnecessary.

FOLLOW ADVERTISEMENTS

The formal proposals, which will be negotiated during pending contract talks, followed a series of railroad newspaper advertisements charging that the work agreements governing railroad work are antiquated and cost the carriers an unnecessary 500 million dollars a year.

The heads or other officers of the 21 rail unions attended the rally. Demonstrators paraded through the auditorium with placards that accused management of a "brainwashing campaign" against their workers.

Meany said he sees a parallel between the railroad dispute and the steel strike, saying, "It was known for a long time in the steel dispute that a strike was coming."

He accused the railroads of using a high-powered publicity campaign to discredit their workers in advance of negotiations "and render impotent the trade union movement."

"This is one battle in the overall war against American labor. There seems to be a determination by big business to break down the trade union movement. The fight against the railroad unions is a fight against all American labor," he said.

Rockefeller Trip to Be Talkathon

Sets 35 Appearances in Four Days at Nixon's West Coast Stand

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will crowd a total of 35 political meetings, news conferences, television interviews, speeches, receptions and other public appearances into a four-day trip to the West Coast next week.

The trip will take Rockefeller, a potential candidate for the Republican nomination for President into California, the home state of Vice President Nixon, now the front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's schedule, announced Friday, lists three major speeches, 11 meetings with Republican leaders and 13 news conferences and television interviews.

Several receptions, a football game and two private meetings with influential Republicans also are planned.

In California, the governor will meet Thursday with the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee, the California State Republican Central Committee, leaders of the Western States Republican Conference, the Western States Women Republican Leaders and the Young Republican unit of the Western States Conference.

★ ★ ★

He will address a meeting of the World Affairs Council.

On Friday, he will attend a reception given for him by Republican county chairmen in the San Francisco Bay area and GOP leaders in the city of San Francisco. He will meet later the same day with Young Republicans from San Francisco. He will speak at a joint meeting of the press, Union League and Commonwealth Clubs.

On the following day, Nov. 14, Rockefeller will meet in Salem, Ore., with Republican Gov. Ernest I. Hatfield and Hatfield's Cabinet. He will speak at Willamette University and attend the Oregon State-Stanford football game in Corvallis.

There has been speculation that Hatfield might be a running mate with the New York governor if Rockefeller ran for President.

Rockefeller will meet on Nov. 15 in Seattle, Wash., with Republican leaders from that state. That evening, he will confer in Boise, Idaho, with Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie and attend a meeting of GOP leaders in that state.

The topics of Rockefeller's speeches were not announced.

Retired Bus Driver Fussy Violin Maker

LONG BRANCH, N. J. (AP) — A retired bus driver ran his fingers over the highly varnished contorus of his 70th violin and commented, "I think at last I'm ready."

For 50 years, George Washington Hall has devoted his spare time to the art of fine violin making. Now, at 68, he feels that his work has finally come up to his own exacting standards.

★ ★ ★

Of the 70 violins he has made, 60 are stashed in dismembered heaps in an old trunk. Of those remaining, Hall considers six "good" and four "my best."

MSU Prof Digs 'Beats'

Like, Man, an Expose?

EAST LANSING (AP)—A "cool beat" sits in a cafe and talks unfriendly. With him is a girl in black who doesn't talk at all.

A "hot beat," on the other hand, runs from cafe to cafe being friendly.

These definitions of the "beat generation" are furnished by Dr. Bernard Duffey of the Michigan State University English Department. Duffy has made a study of novelist Jack Kerouac and others of the "beat" generation.

"They are simply the latest breath of the romantic spirit," he said, "in protest against the hard materialism of American life today."

SAD, BAD, SQUARE

For the "off-beat," Duffey offered some additional observations on the "beat."

They believe the world is the sad, bad, square place it is because children grow up.

A sincere "beat" practices something akin to pure religion. He regards the quest for his own identity as a sacred thing.

★ ★ ★

The "beat" begins by recognizing his own inhibitions and refusing to fight them.

He rejects the pressures of time and tries to achieve absolute spontaniety.

Of society, the "beat" says: "All you can do is move out."

Put Him in Uniform!

HINKLEY, England (UPI) — David Lee, 18, admitted in court yesterday that he made a mistake when he assaulted a man who was "accosting a little girl." Lee found out later the man had been trying to tell his daughter to go home to supper.

Say Dowling Named Envoy to Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter C. Dowling, a diplomat with 29 years of experience, reportedly has been chosen as the new U.S. ambassador to West Germany.

He will succeed David Bruce, informed sources said Friday, adding that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has sent word that he is delighted with the choice.

Dowling, 54, served from 1953 to 1956 as Deputy U.S. high commissioner for Germany and later as minister counselor at the American Embassy in Bonn.

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Glenn Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., was re-elected by a large majority as director-at-large at the annual MMPA meeting in East Lansing.

His Zebra Fish Are Multiplying Like Rabbits

EAST CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — The care and feeding of two small zebra fish is simple. But problems can develope when the number grows to between 500 and 1,000.

Jeffrey McLaughlin, 14, won the two small fish on a bet, and began his hobby as an amateur ichthyologist with an ordinary fish bowl.

Now he has eight aquariums, with five additional tanks in reserve in the basement.

He has added representatives of 20 varieties of fish and so far has run into only one real problem.

He can pick out and identify each breed — but he has trouble spelling the names.

Railroad grade crossings accidents occur most frequently on Sunday.

Show Cast Winding Up Rehearsals

By MARJORIE EICHER

A sellout house is expected for High Fever Follies Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Rehearsals are at that last, hectic stage, and it may never be known who has the most fun — the audience or the cast.

This fall show Pontiac looks forward to each year will be staged at Pontiac Northern High School for the first time.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You recently advised a GI who had fallen in love with a Japanese woman while in Japan that if he wanted an American woman to bathe and dress him he should get himself admitted to an old folks home.

ABBY

Like all American women, Abby, you missed the point. American men do not fall in love with Japanese women because they make such excellent servants. A Japanese waitress in Ginza has more fresh affection in her voice than some American men hear all their lives in the U. S. A.

It is easy to understand why a man would prefer a wife who would rather help her husband wash his back than drive him out to a PTA meeting. How are you going to lick such an offer?

The saddest sight in all Japan is that of an American woman who has caught sight for the first time of her competition.

HAROLD HUGHES
(Portland Oregonian staff writer.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I hear someone sound off about how "devoted, obedient and loyal" Japanese women are, I reply, "Why don't you go to Zanzibar or Saudi Arabia and buy a slave for ten pounds British sterling?" C. E. D.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I resent your attitude toward American men marrying Japanese women. Witness our own James Michener who wrote the beautiful stories "South Pacific" and "Sayonara." Michener recognized the superiority of the Japanese women. Furthermore, he proved his sincerity by marrying and bringing home a beautiful cultured Japanese doll. ROSS

DEAR ROSS: Mr. Michener's Japanese "doll" was not "imported." She was a Japanese-American.

DEAR ABBY: May I respectfully advise you that when it comes to the subject of comparing American women to Japanese women you do not know what you are talking about.

★ ★ ★

As an American man who has spent many years in Japan I can testify that I have never seen a Japanese woman elbow her way into an elevator nor have I ever heard a Japanese woman raise her voice to her husband in public.

They are not all out of the rice paddies, either. Eighty per cent of all high school graduates in Japan go on to college. You American women would do well to pattern your behavior after your Japanese cousins.

ONE WHO KNOWS

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I lived as a bachelor for many years in Tokyo and never found it difficult to resist the "charms" of the Japanese women. To be perfectly frank, their idiotic conversation would drive a normal man to drink.

I observed a handful of GIs marrying Japanese girls, but 99 per cent of these misfits would have had a tough time getting an American girl of any age to marry them.

Sincerely,
COULD WRITE A BOOK

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My brother was in the U. S. Navy and he went nuts over a Japanese doll. He married her and went away on a 6-month cruise. When he came home he found his wonderful Japanese wife washing somebody else's feet.

Can Improve

Slumping Defeats Beauty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You may be an angel, but you do not want wings yet! Round shoulders detract so very much from a woman's appearance. Regardless of how perfect her weight and measurements may be it is impossible for her to give the impression of youthfulness and grace when she has this defect in posture.

★ ★ ★

Neither can the woman who slumps wear her clothes with verve or be chic. I am sure you have noticed, as I have, that the woman with a beautiful carriage gives an "air" to the simplest or least expensive garments.

On top of this the forward slump is damaging to health and energy. It is a tiring position and it crowds the lungs, heart and stomach. The younger one is, the easier it is to correct round shoulders. However, you can improve this condition at any age.

TWO EXERCISES

To do this you must become conscious of your posture and check it many times each day as well as take special exercises regularly. Here are a couple for you to try.

★ ★ ★

1. Sit in a straight backed chair, hips and back touching the back of the chair. Raise your arms sideward, shoulder height, palms forward. Push back with the arms stiff, hold while you count to five. Return to position. Continue, pushing back and returning arms to shoulder height, sideward position.

Now place the hands on the knees. Swing the arms down and back with straight elbows and palms back. Again place hands on knees and continue.

2. Get an elastic band or cord. Make loops in each end. Slip hands through these. Place cord behind your head. Now stretch the arms out to sideward, shoulder height position. Bend elbows and return hands to behind-head position. Stretch arms out again and pull back. Continue. Take time for the stretch backward.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Don't Have Round Shoulders and Flat Bust — Reverse," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

This is a special exercise to help you with your posture. In this position push back with arms stiff. Hold while you count to five. Return to position. Continue, pushing back and returning arms to shoulder height, sideward position.

Boy Never Pays Girl's Hotel Bill

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other day several of the students here at college got into a discussion pertaining to weekend visits. We couldn't come to a definite answer and therefore would like your help.

"The situation is this: A young man invites a girl to be his guest at college for a weekend. The girl is from another city and will need a place to stay. The young man would like to make arrangements for her to stay at the local hotel since there is no available room for her in the girl's dormitory.

"Does he pay the hotel bill? Also, does he pay for her transportation to and from the college?"

Answer: She pays her own traveling expenses to and from the college and also her own hotel bill. If a group of boys together take several rooms at the hotel for their girl friends and the girls share these rooms, the boys may quite properly divide the expense among themselves. But it is not correct for one boy alone to pay one girl's hotel bill.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend invited me to go to a football game with him last Saturday at his college. When the Alma Mater was played my boy friend naturally rose. I remained seated.

★ ★ ★

"I have been wondering ever since whether or not I should have gotten up too in courtesy to him. Will you please advise me as I will soon be going to another game and I want to do the right thing."

Answer: As you are not a student of the college, it was not necessary for you to rise, but it would have been more polite for you to have done so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste for the bridegroom to propose a toast to his bride at the wedding reception? I had in mind saying something like the following — 'To my lovely wife.' "

Answer: After the formal toast to the bride and groom, you can certainly propose the toast you wish to your bride.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am secretary to an executive who sends out holiday greeting cards to many professional women who are married but known as Miss in business. Should I address them as Mrs. or how?"

Answer: If the cards are sent to their offices, address them as "Miss"; if they are sent to their homes, address them "Mr. and Mrs."

'Heart' Wins for PCH

By BILL CORNWELL

All the bitter memories of losing football seasons at Pontiac Central High School were buried in the churned-up turf of Wisner Stadium last night.

In one glorious effort spanning 48 minutes of savage gridiron action, the Chiefs transformed a dismal past into new and shining hopes for a better future.

Numerically short on grid talent but long on sheer guts and desire, the PCH squad reached the heights here yesterday with a thrilling 12-7 upset victory over Bay City Central, Michigan's top-ranked Class A team.

The triumph was hard-earned and well-deserved. Coach Jesse MacLeay's gridders were equal to every challenge and they rose to every clutch situation to deliver a crippling body blow to Bay City's hopes for a 3rd straight Saginaw Valley Conference title.

For the first time this season against a Saginaw Valley opponent, the breaks went in Pontiac's direction and the Chiefs were able to make them count to gain their richest football prize in many a moon.

It was Pontiac's 6th win of the season in eight games and the last time a PCH team won six times in a single season is a lot further back than most local fans care to remember.

★ ★ ★

From the very outset it was apparent that the invading Wolves were headed for trouble. The inspired Chiefs marched to a touchdown from the opening kickoff and struck again in the 2nd quarter to leave the field at halftime with a 12-0 lead.

Even the clock worked in Central's behalf. After finding themselves trailing by 12 points, the startled Wolves rallied their forces and drove to the PCH one yard line where the clock ran out to end the half before they could get another play under way.

Then, when the physically outmanned Chiefs finally did yield a touchdown in the 3rd period, the Wolves were thwarted again in the dying moments of the contest as their last bid to score ended with a pass interception by halfback Dick McCauley.

PCH won this game through spirit, hustle, scrap, heart, raw courage, or any other adjective available. Furthermore, the Chiefs battled Bay City to a standstill in the 2nd half with only limited service from Charley Brown, their great offensive guard-fullback and defensive linebacker.

★ ★ ★

After scoring Pontiac's 1st TD on a two-yard plunge, Brown suffered a painful leg injury late in the 2nd quarter. During the 3rd and 4th periods he saw no offensive duty at all and played only slightly on defense.

This was a 100 per cent team success. If any individual heroes were to be named, the votes would have to go to tackle Jerry Rush, linebacker Anthony Rubio, McCauley, Brown, defensive halfback Roy Couser and end George Fed, who tallied the 2nd TD on a pass reception.

Bay City entered this contest with a 7-0 record and a 19-game unbeaten string dating back to Oct. 25, 1957, when the Wolves lost to Midland, 20-14. All that came to an end Friday evening at the hands of a fighting foe that wouldn't quit trying.

It was the 2nd time in as many weeks that the Chiefs kayoed a rated prep squad and last night's win was the pinnacle of success for MacLeay, now in his 3rd season at the PCH helm. Pontiac's victim a week ago was Ferndale, which also went into the battle undefeated.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs took the opening kickoff and pushed 80 yards in a dozen plays to hit pay dirt. Isaac Jones streaked 47 yards down the sidelines to the Bay City 12 to set up the TD and five plays later Brown bulled across from the two.

A smothered punt attempt gave the Chiefs their 2nd scoring opportunity and they were quick to capitalize. Marv Kusmierz of the Wolves juggled the pass from center and never got the boot away as Rush and Fed swarmed on him at the Bay City 38.

PCH gained possession and drove the remaining 38 yards for six points with the touchdown play completely fooling the Bay City defense. With the Wolves massed in the line for rushes, quarterback Fred Staley lofted a pass to Fed who waited for the ball in the end zone with nobody anywhere near him. The touchdown aerial covered eight yards.

Following Ken Dextrom's punt, the Wolves began their drive that was destined to lose to the clock. They pushed from their own 20 to the PCH one where time called a halt.

★ ★ ★

The Wolfpack finally went all the way in the 3rd period. After another Dextrom punt, the Wolves took the pigskin on their own 36 and marched to their lone tally behind the skillful direction of quarterback J. C. Dunn who mixed his attack well. Dunn climaxed the drive by sneaking home from one yard out and Kusmierz placekicked the 7th point.

★ ★ ★

Bay City made its final desperation bid midway through the 4th quarter. With Dunn completing three passes en route, the Wolves moved from their own 12 to a 1st down on the PCH 32. There were only two minutes remaining when McCauley intercepted Dunn's pass on the 10 and scooted to the 25. Then the Chiefs killed the clock and a magnificent victory was theirs.

Joy Runs Rampant After Exciting Central Triumph

By BILL CORNWELL

Joy — absolute unrestrained joy — reigned supreme at Wisner Stadium last night following Pontiac Central's exciting 12-7 conquest of Bay City Central, the state's No. 1 ranked prep football team.

JESSE MACLEAY

From the moment an unidentified PCH gridder heaved the game ball high into the air as the scoreboard clock reached zero until the Wisner lights were turned out, pandemonium ruled the roost.

Head coach Jesse MacLeay, in his greatest moment of triumph, was hoisted onto the shoulders of his jubilant gridiron warriors and carried unceremoniously around the Wisner Arena.

★ ★ ★

Loyal PCH rooters stormed onto the field and joined the pack of victory-happy football players. It seemed like everyone wanted to be a part of a most memorable event.

Bedlam pursued the players into the stadium lobby and fans milled around outside the PCH dressing room waiting to welcome and congratulate each player as he left the locker room to go home. Every time a player came through the door into the lobby, applause rang out.

There was lots of handshaking all around, plenty of picture-taking and just plain uninhibited enthusiasm.

Bay City coach Elmer Engel, who has seldom tasted defeat in recent years, had nothing but praise for the Chiefs.

★ ★ ★

He extended a congratulatory handshake to MacLeay and said, "Your boys deserved to win this game. You outcharged us, outplayed us and had more desire. You earned this victory all the way."

★ ★ ★

MacLeay was walking on Cloud Nine after the battle. His boys presented him with the game ball and each player is going to autograph the pigskin as a memento of the occasion.

"This has been a wonderful bunch of boys to coach and I'll cherish the ball and its signatures for the rest of my life," MacLeay said.

It was a thrilling contest to watch from start to finish and every play was characterized by vicious blocking, ferocious tackling and good old-fashioned hard-hitting football.

"Now, if we can just hang on to this spirit and go to Flint next week and beat Flint Central," MacLeay concluded in a hopeful tone of voice.

★ ★ ★

Flint football fans won't share his feelings next week, but right now MacLeay probably could be elected the mayor of Flint. The reason? The Chiefs' u s e t win helped Flint Northern gain 1st place in the Saginaw Valley.

Northern Slips Past Falcons, 26-20; Waterford Bows

PNH Gridders in Close Call at Rochester

Falcons Are One Foot Short of Huskie Goal When Game Ends

Pontiac Northern's Huskies, whose succession of close games has made their first year of competition a markedly exciting one, added another thriller last night at Rochester when they pulled out a 26-20 decision in the final two and a half minutes.

Little Bruce Norton slipped one yard through the Falcon line with the winning touchdown to cap the hard - fought, uphill - battle for Northern.

Then, after Bob Hocking passed to Larry Bland for the extra point, the Huskies had reason to believe the fireworks were over.

But Tri-County champion Rochester had other ideas. The Falcons mustered their third rally of the game, and wound up one foot short of a possible victory—or tie—on the game's last play.

Taking the kickoff on their 37, the Falcons moved just under 63 yards in six plays. On the final one, John Cadieux flipped a swing pass to Dan Lickert, who bulled 22 yards to within a foot of the goal line.

Comebacks were the order on the bitter cold night for both teams in an offenseive show that saw Northern's chopping gains offset Rochester's long runs.

The Falcons struck first in the opening quarter, moving 59 yards in three plays with Reggie Dixon carrying 29 for the touchdown. Jim Thompson booted the extra point.

The Huskies, sparked by the hard - running Bob Hocking and Norton, came right back. An eight-play, 64-yard drive ended with Bill Cox dashing 25 yards to score after taking a lateral from Norton. But Rochester held its lead by blocking Jerry Mineweaser's kick.

★ ★ ★

Two fast moves put Northern into a 13-7 lead. Winfred Miracle recovered a Rochester fumble on the Falcon's 30 on the last play of the first period, and on the first call of the second, Norton raced for the touchdown.

This time Norton passed to Hocking for the extra point.

The contest took on the aspects of a rout moments later when Northern marched 83 yards in eight plays to make it 19-7. Fullback Larry Bland, filling in capably for the injured George Graves, scored the TD from four yards out.

The big lead made the Huskies a bit heady late in the period, and a Norton pass backfired. Jim Thompson intercepted on the 32 and rambled 68 yards to score. His placekick left Northern a 19-14 halftime lead.

Rochester stormed ahead on the fourth play of the third period when Bill Deneen went 65 yards after skirting Northern's right end.

But the one-point margin failed to hold up as Northern launched a 71-yard drive that was twice interrupted at Rochester's 30 - yard line in a weird succession of four fumbles.

Two Huskie fumbles were recovered by Rochester, and both times the Falcons fumbled right back with Northern recovering. The fumble losses were fatal to Rochester as Bland and Hocking kept the drive going with hard off-tackle slashes.

★ ★ ★

The same Huskie pair had hammered at the Rochester line all night long. Making his first starting appearance, Bland rushed 106 yards in 18 carries. Hocking cracked out 107 in 16 as Northern made 311 yards on the ground.

Dixon's 67 yards in six carries led Rochester's 176 yard ground attack. The loss dropped the Falcon's season-record to 6-2; Northern now stands at 5-2.

Skippers Tumble Before Fordson Machine, 33-18

Freeze in 2nd Half After Once Leading Tractors, 12-8

By DICK BUCK

Coach Dave Freeman didn't order enough antifreeze.

His Waterford gridders froze up in the second half and bowed to a steamrolling Fordson team, 33-18.

The Skippers had brilliantly surprised their shivering rooters in the first half and trailed at the intermission only by a safety and extra point, 15-12.

But they stiffened like icicles for the remaining 24 minutes while their Dearborn guests romped merrily over the cold-hardened turf.

★ ★ ★

Waterford spotted the Tractors an eight-point lead in the first nine minutes of the game. The local crew scoffed at the reputedly strong guests and stole almost all the rest of the first half.

The Skippers used a weapon they'd kept idle for the most part in their last two games — passing — to put their followers temporarily in the clouds with a 12-8 lead.

Moving from their own 41 to start the second quarter, Waterford soared to paydirt in eight plays. A 14-yard pass from quarterback Bill Bryce to fullback Jim Hoke was the clincher.

Bryce hooked up with halfback Mike Kaines on a 30-yard aerial to boost the drive. Pitches of 12 and 13 yards to Harry Savas and Tom McArther, respectively, also helped.

Four minutes later, Bryce made the Skipper partisans forget the weather as he tossed three yards over the middle to halfback Jack Comas to put the locals ahead 12-8. A pass for the extra point failed.

Duane Moran's recovery of a Fordson fumble on the visitors' 43 had set off this TD drive. A 10-yard Bryce-Savas pass and a 17-yard jaunt on a reverse by Savas were important.

Waterford enjoyed the lead just a bit over three minutes, however, as the Tractors forged in front to stay with 47 seconds left in the half.

Fordson stayed on the ground, rolling over 53 yards in s e v e n plays. Jerry Haverty slammed over from the two. Don Olemik's boot was good.

As the teams took shelter in the warmth of the dressing rooms, Waterford still appeared to be in the game. A three-point deficit didn't seem bad after their first-half rebound.

The Skippers hadn't folded after the Dearbornites zoomed ahead on the fourth play of the ball game. Jerry Chandler caught Ed Condon's pass for the initial tally. The play covered 38 yards.

A blocked punt which gave Fordson two more points when it went out of bounds in the end zone hadn't deflated the Freeman crew either.

★ ★ ★

But nothing worked in the second half. Waterford had to punt on fourth and one after the kickoff. Two plays later they had the ball again as Moran snatched an enemy fumble on his 36.

Three plays later the ball was gone as Savas lost a fumble on his 31 to Tractor end Phil Mazzara.

Fordson had six more points six plays later as Jerry Slavik raced over from the nine with 3:54 remaining in the third quarter.

Bill Tyler made it 27-12 with 4:36 left in the game, rambling in from the 10. Senior Mel Baker, playing his first varsity game, notched the final Fordson tally three minutes later on a dive from the one.

★ ★ ★

The victors, who netted 55 yards rushing in the first half, piled up 214 of same the second time around. In that latter span, Waterford was able to add o n l y 30 yards on the ground and 39 overhead.

Bryce's third touchdown toss, 16 yards to McArther, wrapped up the scoring. There were 46 seconds left in the game.

Waterford, with a three won, five lost record, travels to Wayne next Friday for the season finale. Fordson was playing its last game and finished 5-3.

Ferndale EML Champions

Kimball Bows by 26-13 Count; Maples Losers

Birmingham Trounced 33-6 by RO Dondero for 3rd Setback

Ferndale wrapped up its first Eastern Michigan League championship in 11 years and 4th under coach Ted Meister last night with a convincing 26-13 triumph over Royal Oak Kimball.

It was the veteran Meister's 7th title as a coach during his outstanding career.

Port Huron slammed Hazel Park 25-7 and Mt. Clemens came from behind to down East Detroit 14-7 in other loop games.

Birmingham, which has completed EML play, suffered a 33-6 battering by strong Royal Oak Dondero in what had been billed as a "battle" of old rivals.

★ ★ ★

Kimball led Ferndale 6-0 early when Larry Wasen scored following an interception but the Eagles took command in the 2nd quarter.

Talented quarterback Mike Brown put the winners ahead to stay with TD gallops of 9 and 76. Jim Laster 1st of two tallies clinched the verdict in the 3rd quarter. An 83-yard kickoff return by Craig Kirby accounted for the final ROK points.

Chuck Hartung intercepted a pass and ran 99 yards to paydirt to enable Birmingham to escape a shutout. The Maples fumbled the ball away on the one-foot line as the game ended.

★ ★ ★

Versatile halfback Bob LeZotte chalked up three of the Dondero touchdowns. Gary Sonnenburg and John Meadows added the others.

Bob Fulcher saved Hazel Park from a whitewash taking a nine-yard scoring flip from Dick Gyde. Gary Hoover made the tying touchdown and passed to Mike Childers for the winner for Mt. Clemens. Bill MacGillivray passed to Bob Marasco for East Detroit's TD.

Anchor Bay 20-0 Victor for Title; Dryden Wins

Anchor Bay completed an unbeaten season and clinched the Southern Thumb grid championship by blanking Memphis 20-0 last night.

Dryden handed New Haven a 12-0 beating, Almont rallied to trip Capac 19-12 and Armada upset Brown City 12-6 ending the league schedule.

The three Anchor Bay touchdowns all followed enemy fumbles. The 1st was on the opening kickoff. Dick Burr tallied on a quarterback sneak ending a 38-yard drive.

It was only 7-0 at halftime but the champs really dominated the last half as the defense, featuring the Williamson twins, Tom and Bob, kept Memphis in its own territory. Dick Rivard and Capt. Len Shipley had the other TDs for the victors, Shipley moved from guard to end to catch a pass on the setup play and then ran over from the one as a halfback.

Ron Dittman intercepted a pass and dashed 25 yards to paydirt to start Dryden off in the opening period. His 20-yard scamper set up the other score which Ed Brecht garnered from the one.

Almont coach Dale Otto turned to his 2nd stringers after trailing winless Capac 12-6 at the half. The reserves immediately drove 60 yards to go ahead to stay featuring Jack Corbin, who gained 54 yards for six tries in two quarters. His 36-yard gallop set up the six-pointer made by Chuck Willing from the three.

Dick Howe added one for insurance on an 80-yard return of an interception. Don Eschenburg got the other for Almont. Ken Kobayashi passed to Larry Kalbfliesch and Fran Dobbyn for Capac's points.

A blocked punt paved the way for what proved to be the deciding points for Armada.

Avon Can't Keep Title; Orion, Romeo Surprise Victors

Fitzgerald Is New Oakland B Winner, 31-7

Dragons Edge Lapeer, 7-6; Bulldogs Blank Troy, 18-0

Classy Warren Fitzgerald stripped Avondale of its Oakland B League football championship last night and put the crown on its own head.

A 75-yard punt return for a touchdown by Ken Bills ignited the Spartans and sent them on their way to a 31-7 triumph over Avon in their title showdown on the Fitzgerald gridiron.

In addition to stowing away the Oakland B title for 1959, the Fitzgerald gridders remained undefeated and untied in nine starts this season.

★ ★ ★

A couple of other Oakland B teams were members of a surprise party Friday, one on the long end of the score and the other on the losing side.

Lake Orion was the happy upset victor as the unpredictable Dragons squeaked past Lapeer, 7-6, at Lapeer. The upset victim was Troy, which took an 18-0 thumping from Romeo on the Troy field. . .

In other games yesterday involving Oakland B schools, Clawson handed Detroit Lutheran West a 13-0 defeat at Clawson and Madison dropped a 13-0 decision to visiting Oak Park.

All games except the Avondale-Fitzgerald clash were nonleague contests.

Outstanding play by tackle Walt Cooley and some dazzling running by halfback Sid Blomberg were not enough to keep the Jackets from relinquishing their conference honors.

The Jackets held a 7-6 lead entering the 2nd quarter, but Fitzgerald tallied twice in the 2nd period for a 19-7 halftime edge and hit pay dirt once in each stanza after intermission to win going away.

It was Avon's 1st defeat of the season and gives the Jackets a 6-1-1 record. They close out their schedule next week against Rochester at Avon.

Halfback Gary Wilkie scored twice for Fitzgerald on long sprints of 78 and 73 yards and Bills' flashy punt runback was the major factor in the Spartans' surge to victory.

★ ★ ★

Avon marched 70 yards in the 1st period to score its only TD, featuring great running by Blomberg who finally made the counter from the Spartan two. Herb Harris booted the extra point.

Recovery of an Avon fumble on the Fitzgerald 40 started the Spartans on the way to their 1st touchdown. It was one of two fumbles the Jackets lost.

The Jackets had three scoring threats going in the 2nd half, but each bid fizzled. Dick Smith turned in his usual standout job at quarterback for Avon, but the Jackets missed the services of Bud Peel due to injury.

Orion scored on the 1st play of the 4th quarter to overcome a 6-0 deficit and nip Lapeer. Craig Hawn tallied from the two yard line to culminate a 70-yard march highlighted by a 30-yard pass from Roger Williams to Dave Perry. Williams passed to Dave Thompson for the winning extra point.

★ ★ ★

Lapeer bounced back and drove to the Orion seven with two minutes left, but the Dragon defense stiffened and held. Lapeer's TD came in the 2nd period on a one-yard plunge by Tim Mulholland to end a 60-yard march.

After going through three scoreless quarters, Romeo tallied three times in the 4th stanza to down Troy. Quarter back Ron Schmidt led the assault by passing for one TD, scoring another and setting up the other with a pass interception.

Schmidt tossed to Ted Thiel for Romeo's 1st TD, a nine-yard play. Jim Ritter recovered a Troy fumble on the Troy five and the Bulldogs tallied in three plays with Schmidt sneaking over from the one.

Then Schmidt picked off a Colt aerial and two plays later Bob Galan passed to Mike McKeough for a TD play spanning 41 yards.

Clawson tallied in the 2nd and 3rd quarters to whitewash Lutheran. The passing combination of Jerry Eno to Gary Boss accounted for both Clawson counters, the 1st one going 10 yards and the next one covering 55.

A 10-yard run with a fumble by Bill Anton and Jerry Yashinsky's six-yard scamper netted Oak Park's two touchdowns against punchless Madison. Bill Wichman converted each time via placekick.

NOW WHERE DO I GO? — With the pigskin tucked under his arm, halfback Bob Auman of Bay City Central cuts into the open field and looks for more running room in last night's Valley football clash with Pontiac Central on the Wisner gridiron.

Northville Makes Another W-O Sweep

The Wayne-Oakland League had another true-to-form windup for the top two places Friday night with Northville clinching its 4th straight pennant and West Bloomfield finishing runnerup again.

Each had been assured a tie for those positions a week ago.

Northville made sure of its honors by belting hapless Clarenceville 33-7. West Bloomfield had a great deal more trouble getting by Holly 14-7.

Clarkston would up 3rd in the standings with a 28-12 Dad's Night victory over Bloomfield Hills while much-improved Milford was upsetting Brighton 19-13.

★ ★ ★

Roger Atchinson and Larry Nitzel divided four of the Northville touchdowns. Fred Steeper passed to Jim Petrock for the other on a 59-yard play.

Bruce Freels ran a 3rd quarter kickoff back 90 yards for the lone Clarenceville six-pointer.

West Bloomfield got off to a 14-0 1st half start at Holly as the hard-fighting Broncos twice lost the ball on downs inside the 10-yard stripe. Jack Newton carried 15 and Denis Alix went 50 for the scores.

★ ★ ★

A fumble recovery at the 15 helped Holly get one back in the 3rd period. Jim Howard bulled over from the three and Roger Hall kicked the point after. Holly later reached the four before being stopped.

Veteran lineman Karl Richter was a tower of strength on defense for the losers.

Down 12-6 at the intermission, Clarkston took over complete command of its home final thereafter.

★ ★ ★

Ron Morgan reached paydirt from the four and booted his 2nd of four PATs to put the Wolves ahead in the 3rd quarter. Jim Snover and John Parks added insurance markers in the 4th. Mel Joseph had started the CHS point-getting.

Biff Jones had a hand in both Bloomfield touchdowns. He made the 1st on a short pass from Art Treganza and set up the 2nd by flipping 15 yards to Barry Armstrong. Bill Hays crashed over from the one.

Morgan paced Clarkston with 88 yards and a 4.4 average. Snover had 43 for 4.3.

★ ★ ★

The Milford win climaxed a big finish for rookie coach Jerry Ganzel. His Redskins won the last three after a dismal beginning.

Bob Lawrence's passing featured the attack as Milford twice broke ties to go ahead.

After his 1st aerial to Jerry Reis, good for 61 yards, had provided a lead, Brighton marched to TD-land with Earl Clarke scoring. Another flip to Reis was ruled complete on interference putting the ball at the two from where Larry Chapel went over and Ed Keiser toed the point.

★ ★ ★

Brighton evened the court at 13-13 early in the 4th period on a six-yard jaunt by Ed Weber. Fred Nettles' kick brought the deadlock.

Lawrence went to work again. His 20-yard pass to Reis preceded the deciding six-yard touchdown run by Gene Schuett. Brighton had a final chance at the MHS 20 but fumbled the ball away.

Unbeaten Bens Collide With Rams at Wisner

Highland Park Eleven Needs Win to Clinch Parochial Title

Spurred on by the great upset victory for Pontiac Central over hitherto unbeaten Bay City Central, last light, on Wisner Stadium turf, St. Frederick's gridders today were hoping some of that fire rubs off on them Sunday afternoon.

Rams oppose unbeaten Highland Park St. Benedict, in the final Suburban Catholic League tilt for both, and the Ravens are faced with the necessity of winning to clinch the loop's crown.

An upset victory for the Pontiac club could throw the SCL championship into a two-way deadlock, between Ravens and Ferndale St. James. That is, if the Dales win, and they are as heavily favored over RO St. Mary, as the Ravens are over the Shamrocks. A St. James loss would give Bens the title win or lose against St. Frederick.

Sunday's game time at Wisner is 2:30 p.m.

All SCL clubs conclude their 1959 regular seasons Sunday.

St. Michael is favored to square its season's record at 4-4 against Center Line St. Clement, at Center Line, while Orchard Lake St. Mary invades St. Rita's field in a favorite's role.

Starting lineups for the St. Frederick-St. Benedict battle follow:

ST. FRED	POS	ST. BEN
Rudy Yapo	LE	Tom Longo
Bill Slabinski	LT	Phil Deutsch
Bob Moore	LG	Dave Bordui
Bob Hoehn	C	Buddy Zito

Hunters May Camp on Most State Lands

LANSING (UPI)—Hunters may camp on nearly all state lands during the Michigan big game seasons, the conservation department said today.

No fee is charged but hunters must post camp registration cards, available from conservation regional headquarters and license dealers, at the campsites, the department said.

D'Amato Defends Moves, but REI Loses License

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fight manager Cus D'Amato, having testified impressively in his own behalf, faces the continuation of his hearing before the New York State Athletic Commission next Tuesday with improved chances of keeping his licenses as manager and second.

★ ★ ★

D'Amato, pilot of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, hopes for better luck than that which befell Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., on Friday when the commission revoked its promoter's license for two rule violations in staging the June 26 Patterson-Ingemar Johansson fight.

★ ★ ★

D'Amato and his attorneys scored a temporary triumph, at least, at Friday's session of his hearing when the commission permitted him to testify lengthily that his bitter feud with the International Boxing Club had forced him to make suspicious moves in connection with Patterson fights.

Big Defensive Stand Gains Tie for Utica

Throwing up a great defense in the closing minutes, Utica staved off a strong Lakeview touchdown bid to gain a scoreless tie in a game played during a steady snowfall last night.

Lakeview drove 40 yards to the Utica two with 1:15 left on the clock but was held at the one-foot line after four cracks at the middle.

Utica moved out to the 20 on two pass completions before time ran out.

Most of the contest was played between the 30-yard lines. Utica's deepest penetration was to the 20 in the 1st half. Jim Orlowsky, Ken Osmanski and Jim Bull were standouts on defense for UHS.

No Christian—Vikings Slammed by Plymouth

Walled Lake—minus all around pacesetter Bob Christian—saw its chances for a perfect season go right out the window in the 1st quarter as strong Plymouth started early on the way to a 26-0 rout of the Vikings last night.

Christian had been both the offensive and defensive standout of the team through seven successive victories and had paced Oakland Counting in scoring all season.

But a strep throat kept him out of action and Plymouth was quick to capitalize on the golden opportunity. Christian lost his chance to win the Oakland County scoring championship as Doug Stott moved in front with a 31-point night. "Chris" concluded his career with 90 points.

Farmington and Berkley were winners but Southfield bowed in other games involving Inter-Lakes teams.

★ ★ ★

Fumble recoveries at the Walled Lake 38 and 19 Plymouth rolling towards two opening period tallies. Stellar halfback Wayne Sparkman and quarterback Randy Egloff did the scoring. Sparkman added another in the 2nd quarter after a blocked kick. Egloff got back into the act in the 4th.

Walled Lake showed signs of good play despite the loss of fullback Neil Salo in the opening session. The I-L champs got a good drive going in the 2nd quarter but faltered and fumbled away a chance at the two later.

Farmington finished 6-2 by nipping Belleville, 6-0. John Dempsey ran six yards for the only touchdown climaxing a 53-yard march. The drive followed the 2nd half kickoff. An interception by Harvey Chapman halted one late Belleville threat and time ran out to stop another.

Berkley tripped Roseville 19-7 featuring TD runs of 70 and 27 by Tom Collins—his only points of the season. The Bears had to overcome a 7-6 deficit in the last quarter to wind up with a 2-6 slate. Scoring ace Ron Stritmatter got seven of the big digits in the final 12 minutes.

Southfield, which still has an annual battle with Birmingham left, dropped its seventh game in eight starts to Livonia Bentley, 14-0.

3 Prep Giants 'Bite the Dust'

By The Associated Press

Three of Michigan's top-rated juggernauts—Bay City Central, Dowagiac and Frankenmuth — were toppled from the unbeaten ranks Friday night.

It was the greatest exhibition of mass upsets since the start of the Michigan high school football season.

Bay City (7-1) and Dowagiac (7-1), leaders in Class A and B respectively, fell by a single touchdown. Pontiac Central (6-2), geared by 220-pound tackle Jerry Rush's savage line play, knocked down Bay City, 12-7, for the first time in 20 games. Niles upset Dowagiac's Class B pacesetters, 13-6.

Frankenmuth lost for the first time since adopting football on the four-year varsity level. Cass City ended Frankenmuth's 31-game winning streak, 26-7, with Dick Kloc getting two touchdowns.

While the leaders in Class A and B were losing, the second-ranked teams were winning impressively. Grand Rapids Catholic Central (8-0) trounced Muskegon Heights 38-6 in a Class A battle, with Bob Taylor romping for three touchdowns. Monroe Catholic Central (8-0), No. 2 in Class B, rolled over Bedford 49-7 as Tom LaBeau talied twice.

Lamphere Wins Finale

Six different players broke into the scoring column last night as Lamphere ended its 1959 football season on a happy note with a 31-6 victory over Grosse Pte. University School. Lamphere touchdowns were scored by Roger Craig, Bob DeWitt, Dan Resil, Duard Hardy and Harvey Cavender. Ron Beeman made the lone extra point. A pass from John Adair to Bruce Gilles tallied for the losers.

Stott Scores 31, Imlay Clinches Crown

A 31-point performance by big Doug Stott of Oxford and Imlay City's easy clinching of the championship featured play in the South Central League last night.

Stott piled up 140 yards rushing for an average of seven while pacing Oxford to a 35-13 walloping of North Branch. He also moved into the Oakland County individual scoring lead since Bob Christian of Walled Lake was unable to play in his team's last game.

Oxford raced to a 21-0 1st half advantage and coach Dick Figg emptied the bench the rest of the way. Stott scored on runs of 38, 25, 24 and a short plunge and took a six-point pass from Val Sausser. Jim Casey gained 67 yards and added two extra points. Sausser shined at quarterback and got the other points. Jeff Brady ran well in the 1st half before leaving the game with an injury.

It was Oxford's 5th victory in eight games and the 2nd over North Branch. The Wildcats are 3-1-1 in the league. They gained 348 yards overall.

★ ★ ★

Roger Lomerson accounted for 16 of the Imlay points as the Spartans won their 14th in a row. Bob Maison added 12 and Dick McKee the other six.

The champions piled up 314 yards rushing while posting all their points in three periods.

★ ★ ★

The lone remaining SCC contest will match Oxford and Millington next week in a battle to decide 2nd place. Oxford is sure of a share of the runnerup slot. The teams tied in an earlier meeting.

Scores 13 Points in English Game

Pete Dawkins Starring in Rugby at Oxford

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Rugby may be a new game to ex-Army football All-American Pete Dawkins but English writers are already predicting stardom for the Oxford University team.

The pride of Royal Oak, Mich., scored three times and converted two kicks for 13 points in a recent 47-9 rout of Bristol. He is attending Oxford as a Rhodes scholar.

"I haven't enjoyed myself so much for a long time," said America's outstanding gridder of 1958 after playing only his 4th game of rugby.

"I've still got to master a lot of intricacies but I have some good coaches here, said the left wing who kept eluding Bristol tacklers.

★ ★ ★

He wore calf-length white sox and baggy knee-length shorts — a far cry from his uniform as a halfback at West Point.

★ ★ ★

Dawkins is looking forward to playing against Britain's top teams and especially in the big annual "showpiece" event against Cambridge at Twickenham, the "Home of Rugby."

Wilson, Parker Match Strategy Sunday

Bobby Layne and Rote Set for Air War

Lions Need Victory at Pittsburgh to Climb Out of Cellar

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

PITTSBURGH — Coach George Wilson and quarterback Tobin Rote, who were once understudies to coach Buddy Parker and quarterback Bobby Layne, respectively, face their former allies tomorrow in a game which perhaps has more natural rivalry than any to be played in the NFL this season.

Wilson would like to admit, and he does without being too convincing, that this game is just another Sunday afternoon pro football struggle.

The atmosphere, however, proves that to be false. The Lions, who sit in the Western Division basement in standings and in statistics, are keyed up for the game.

The old pros, especially Joe Schmidt, Jim Martin, Jim Doran, Lou Creekmur, Charley Ane, Harley Sewell, Jim David and Yale Lary, who received all of their pro football tutoring from Parker want more than anything to show how well they have really been taught.

★ ★ ★

Rote and Earl Morrall both have something at stake in the game. Rote and Layne shared the laurels in 1957 when the Lions roared in spectacular fashion to the NFL championship.

But last year, in a surprise move, the Lions elected to string along with Rote by trading Layne to the Steelers. The deal came shortly after Tom "The Bomb" Tracy went to Pittsburgh.

At the time of the trade, coach Wilson said "It's better to have a No. 1 and No. 2 quarterback. Having two quarterbacks as your No. 1 men presents a problem and could cause hard feelings."

So, the Lions had Rote as No. 1 and Morrall as No. 2 for the past two seasons and both campaigns have been disastrous.

Layne carried the Steelers to six wins and a tie in the last seven games of 1958 and this year there was talk of an NFL title for Pittsburgh.

But both teams have had their disappointments thus far this season. The Lions with a 1-5 record and the Steelers with a 2-4 mark, now start the second half of the 12-game schedule.

★ ★ ★

Morrall probably would like to settle a personal score with Parker. When he was traded to the Lions, Parker said, "He's not my style of quarterback, he will never make this league."

The Steelers started the season plagued with injuries with such outstanding players as Jack Butler, Jimmy Orr "Rookie of 1958," Jack McClairen out of action.

Tracy has also been nursing a leg injury, but "The Bomb" from Birmingham is still the team's top running star with 298 yards in 90 attempts.

It is surprising to note that Layne, who very seldom moved across the line of scrimmage with the ball, now carries the ball on called plays several times during each game.

The outspoken Layne used to verbally lambast the Lions' forward wall for letting opposing players swarm all over him when trying to pass. Now he will have the likes of Gil Mains, Darris McCord, Alex Karris, Bob Long, Gene Cronin, and Schmidt with which to contend.

This marks the first time the Lions and the Steelers have met in regular season play with Wilson and Parker opposing each other. The Steelers under Parker beat Detroit in an exhibition game September 7, 1957, just after Parker made his dramatic resignation at the "Meet the Lions" banquet.

Kickoff is 2:00 p.m. and the game will be televised back to Pontiac on channel 2.

Curci Leads Miami Win Over Tar Heels

MIAMI (AP)—Fran Curci, Miami's tough and smart, 152-pound quarterback, scored one touchdown and broke up two North Carolina drives Friday night, sparking the Hurricanes in a 14-7 football victory over the Tar Heels.

The amazing little Curci got the first Miami touchdown on a one-yard sneak in the first period. His passes set up the other in the third period.

In between the scoring forays, Curci stopped one North Carolina threat by knocking down a pass at the goal line, checked another by intercepting a pass and rounded out a brilliant night by putting the Tar Heels in a hole at one stage with a 41-yard punt dead to the 7.

Giants Meet Cards in Sunday's NFL Features

49ers Battle Rams' 'Jinx'

United Press International

The San Francisco Forty-niners and New York Giants, pinning their National Football League title hopes on stout defenses, must shackle razzle-dazzle offenses Sunday to protect their one-game division leads.

San Francisco, leading the Western Division with a team that allowed its first six opponents to average only nine points, tackles the Rams at Los Angeles. The game is rated a tossup although the Forty-Niners (5-1) handed the offense-conscious Rams their first shutout since 1949 last month, 34-0.

The Rams have a poor record but top the league's 12 teams in total offense with 2,159 yards. They are always tough at home and the Forty-niners, nursing a one-game lead over the champion Baltimore Colts, have won only once in 9 previous tries at Los Angeles.

New York, leading the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles (each 4-2) by a game in the East, entertains the Chicago Cardinals and is a seven-point choice. The Cardinals (2-4) cannot match the experience or defensive power of the Giants (5-1) but have just the type of wide-open offense most likely to trouble New York.

★ ★ ★

The Colts (4-2) were beaten last Sunday by Cleveland in one of the best games of the season. They are 10-point choices to bounce back at the expense of the Redskins (2-4) at Washington.

Sunday's other key game pits the Eagles against the Browns at Cleveland. The winner of this clash of second-place teams is assured of remaining a game behind New York and will tie for the lead if the Giants lose. The Browns, who played one of the great games of their history during the 38-31 victory at Baltimore, are favored by 7½ points. The Bears (2-4) are favored over the Green Bay Packers (3-3) by seven points at Chicago.

The favorites have been beaten or failed to win by the point-spread in half of the 36 games played so far during the 72-game campaign.

San Francisco starts a rugged four-game road swing in Los Angeles where it has been humiliated so often by its California rival. The Rams buried the Forty-Niners under a 56-7 landslide last year at Los Angeles. Bill Wade and Del Shofner, two of San Francisco's key targets Sunday, enjoyed spress in that game. Wade threw four touchdown passes and Shofner gained 136 yards on two catches.

New York has been winning with a defensive unit that permitted the cub's first six opponents to average only 2.7 yards per rush, a league low. The Giants may lean heavily on their defense again Sunday. Three of their offensive stars — quarterback Charley Conerly, halfback Frank Gifford and end Bob Schnelker—may not play against the Cardinals because of injuries.

The Cardinals are the only N.F.L. club that attacks mainly from a double-wing. They are young and fast with 20 first or second-year pros and may have the league's best ball-carrying quarterback in King Hill.

John Unitas, who fired four touchdown passes for Baltimore in a losing cause against Cleveland, will provide another big problem for Washington's weak defense. The Redskins have allowed 171 points, the league high.

Cleveland, which halted Unitas four times in the clutch, faces another master passer in Philadelphia's Norm Van Bricklin. Jim Brown, Cleveland's fullback, scored five times against Baltimore but the Eagles also will have to concentrate on Milt Plum.

Plum's performance at Baltimore last Sunday was overshadowed by the Brown-Unitas press notices but Milt had a brilliant day. Eleven of his 14 completions against Baltimore's rugged defense were recorded on crucial third down situations and enabled the Browns to dominate the game with a classic sample of ball-control.

Somebody else besides Dick Warren finally got into the scoring act for Morrice High last night. After opening the game with a TD and extra point, he had all of the team's 93 points. Then Paul Fuller broke the spell. Warren came back with two more in a 25-0 win. He now has 105 of 111.

Flint Northern in Valley Lead

26-6 Win Over Hillites, Pontiac's Assist Lands Vikings on Top

With an assist from underdog Pontiac Central, Flint Northern took undisputed possession of 1st place in the Saginaw Valley Conference football race last night with a 26-6 triumph over Arthur Hill at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Pontiac Central conquered previously unbeaten Bay City Central, 12-7, in a thriller at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium to shove the Wolves into 2nd place with a 3-1 league record. Northern now heads the pack with a 3-0 mark.

In Friday's other Saginaw Valley game, Flint Central defeated Saginaw High, 20-7, at Saginaw's Alumni Field. The start of the game was delayed for 30 minutes when a power transformer failed, plunging the field into semi-darkness.

Flint Central now holds 3rd place with a 2-1 record, followed by PCH at 2-2. Arthur Hill comes next with a 1-3 mark and Saginaw, winless in four loop starts, occupies the cellar.

The Chiefs and Flint Central will battle for 3rd spot and a possible chance at runnerup honors when they collide next Friday evening at Atwood Stadium in the final game of the 1959 season for PCH.

ROSBURG BLASTS — Bob Rosburg of the U. S. team blasts from a trap on the 3rd hole in Ryder Cup play yesterday at Palm Desert, California. The Yanks took a one-point lead into today's wrap-up of play.

U.S. Takes Point Lead Into Ryder Cup Finals

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—It may not be a shot heard 'round the world, but it had international reverberations in golf today.

It was a bad-judgment shot by Great Britain's veteran professional, Harry Weetman, and cost the British half a point in the Ryder Cup golf matches.

That put the U.S. team ahead 2½ to 1½ going into today's decisive, 36-hole singles matches in the wind-up of this famed biennial series.

★ ★ ★

The pairings, with Great Britain listed first:

Norman Drew-Doug Ford, Ken Bousfield-Mike Souchak, Harry Weetman-Bob Rosburg, Dave Thomas-Sam Snead, Dai Rees-Dow Finsterwald, Peter Alliss-Jay Hebert, Christy O'Connor-Art Wall Jr., and Eric Brown-Cary Middlecoff.

The Yanks, intent on regaining the big gold cup which the British won in England in 1957, had quite a scare in yesterday's four Scotch forsomes. In that match play each team of two plays one ball and alternates shots.

★ ★ ★

Souchak and Rosburg spanked Hunt and Brown, 5 and 4, and Boros and Finsterwald edged Bousfield and Rees, 2 up.

But Britain's crack pair of Alliss and O'Connor turned back Wall and Ford, 3 and 2.

And in the most dramatic match of the day, highlighted by Weetman's controversial shot and a clutch 9-foot putt by Capt. Snead, the Snead-Middlecoff and Weetman-Thomas combinations ended all square. Each team scored one-half point.

★ ★ ★

With the British leading 1 up coming to the 36th hole, Snead's second shot landed in water decorating the course to the left.

That seemed about it for the Americans. But then Weetman's shot plunked into a tiny lake to the right of the green.

After both took penalty shots, Middlecoff pitched over the water, eight feet from the cup. Thomas lofted one nine feet from the pin.

Weetman putted, and was short. Snead, notorious for missing putt of that distance, sank his—then happily threw both the U. S. and British balls into the lake.

★ ★ ★

Weetman later said he had hoped his bold 5 iron shot would reach the green for a 2 up, instead of 1 up, victory.

"Okay, I hit it 'thin,'" he said. "If I'd made the green, you'd never have heard a word about it."

Said Capt. Rees: "He should have played it safe and short."

A few minutes before the match ended, Rees was asked about his prospects today.

★ ★ ★

"If we get out of this 2-2 we'll have a go at them tomorrow," he said. "The boys who win today will be full of cockahoop tomorrow."

Cockahoop. Rees spelled it out. It means, he said, his boys would be full of vim and vinegar.

Wings Shooting to Regain 2nd

TORONTO (AP) — A bitter three-way dogfight for second place in the National Hockey League has developed with the Detroit Red Wings losing their once-firm grip on the lofty position.

The Wings are embroiled in a battle with the Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins for the runnerup slot behind the runaway Montreal Canadiens.

Detroit plays the Maple Leafs here tonight with a chance to regain undisputed possession of second place. The Red Wings, completely cooled off after their sensational start, share second with the Boston Bruins, each with 15 points.

Toronto is right behind with 11 and can vault all the way to second by beating Detroit tonight. The Bruins, who climbed into the tie by trouncing Detroit 8-3 Thursday, are idle tonight.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings have won only one and tied two of their last six games after their quickest getaway in years had zoomed them into first place.

Detroit returns home tomorrow and faces the fifth-place New York Rangers, victors in only two of 13 games. Billy McNeill, whose wife Joan died of polio last week, is expected to rejoin The Kid Line over the weekend.

Pistons Down Lakers in 2 Overtimes

Balanced Play Features 118-113 Road Triumph

Shue, Howell Spark Detroit Offsetting 33 by Baylor

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Detroit Pistons handed Minneapolis a fifth straight defeat Friday night, whipping the Lakers 118-113 in a wild, two-overtime National Basketball Assn. game.

Rookie Bailey Howell and veterans Dick McGuire and Earl Lloyd proved too much for the Lakers in the second overtime as the Pistons evened their record at 3-3.

The steadier Pistons, with six men in double figures, were almost out of it in the first overtime, but Shellie McMillon hit a jump shot with five seconds left for a 106-106 deadlock.

Elgin Baylor, who lead the Lakers with 33 points, had sent the game into overtime on a hook shot with five seconds remaining in regular time for a 95-95 knot.

In the second overtime, Howell's free throw and McGuire's field goal shot the Pistons into the lead for keeps, at 109-106.

The Lakers came within two points on rookie Rudy LaRusso's tip-in, but Lloyd's free throw and two by Gene Shue put it away for Detroit. Shue topped the Pistons with 22 points, followed by Howell with 17 and Archie Dees with 13.

LaRusso scored 25 for the Lakers, hitting 11 of 14 shots from the field and three of seven foul shots. He also picked off 18 rebounds.

Veteran center Larry Foust also scored 25 or Minneapolis.

Fan Wins $13,725

CHICAGO (AP)—An unidentified racing fan won $13,725 at Sportsman's Park Friday by selecting all five winners in the daily double quintet.

The lucky better selected the winners from the fourth through the eighth races.

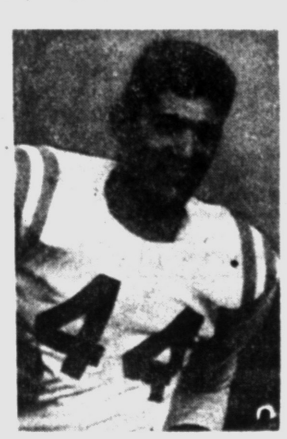
Friday's Prep Stars

BILL COX

Bill Cox, getting his 1st real good chance in the Pontiac Northern backfield because of injuries, scored one of the touchdowns and did some excellent running as the Huskies downed tough Rochester, 26-20. He is a 5-9, 140-pound senior.

WALT COOLEY

Walt Cooley, 5-11, 195 senior, was described as "terrific" all the way in the Avondale line last night but the Jackets didn't have enough like him. They bowed 31-7 to Fitzgerald in the Oakland B title game.



BOB GALAN

Bob Galan scored a touchdown and performed well overall in Romeo's 18-0 upset of Troy. He stands 5-11, weighs 190 and is a senior.

MEL JOSEPH

Mel Joseph, 5-10, 175-pound junior, started the scoring for Clarkston in a 28-12 triumph over Bloomfield Hills and ran well before leaving the game in the 1st half with a knee injury.

Blast Aimed at Faculty Groups

Hoosier's Allen Says 'Encroachment' Limits Athletic Heads Power

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Indiana Athletic Director Frank E. Allen leveled a blast Friday at what he called the "creeping encroachment of faculty groups into the assigned duties" of Western Conference athletic directors.

Allen, a nationally known school administrator before coming to Indiana, addressed a football luncheon here a day before the Indiana-Ohio State football game.

★ ★ ★

Asked about a rumor that Big Ten athletic directors have been secretly seeking ways of securing more power in determining conference policy on such issues as participation in the Rose Bowl game, Allen replied:

"We've had separate and joint meetings, but they haven't been secret. We're merely seeking a more clearcut understanding of what athletic directors can do."

The athletic head said, "There can be no question but that the academic life of athletes should be under faculty supervision, but the fringe things should be under control of the athletic director."

South Lyon Defeats Schafer Eleven, 19-6

South Lyon came up with a big 13-point 3rd period to defeat Wyandotte Shafer 19-6 and finish its grid season with a 4-3-1 record last night.

Dave Wren and Harold Choate tallied the touchdowns which broke a 6-6 halftime tie. Jerry Duncan had scored for the Lions in the opening period.

PTTA Leaders Boost Margins in Week's Play

The four top teams of Pontiac Table Tennis Assn. added to their point totals in this week's action, marked by shutout wins for Newberry Market and Capitol Barbers, sharing top spot.

Newberry dumped Frostop Inn, 6-0. Barbers did the same thing to Seaman's Mfg.

Barbers' Paul Collis defeated Seaman's Vic Corpron in the round's best match, 19-21, 21-18 and 21-19.

Next week's top feature will be the battle for top spot between Barbers and Newberry.

Other results this week:

All aluminum 4, Pontiac Motor 2; Boys' Club 5, A & W Root Beer 1; L. H. Cole 4, Dorris & Son 2; Nutrilite Food 4, Fox Cleaners 2.

DeJohn Blasts Powell, Earns Shot at Machen

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Big Mike DeJohn's smashing 47-second disposal of Charlie Powell has earned him a bout with Eddie Machen and a long-awaited chance to move up in the heavyweight ranks.

★ ★ ★

DeJohn caught the ex-footballer with a right to the heart and a vicious left hook, dropping Powell three times before referee Joe Palmer called a halt to the nationally televised 10-rounder last night.

Will Become USGA Prexy in January

NEW YORK (AP) — John G. Clock of Long Beach, Calif., will succeed John D. Ames of Chicago as president of the U.S. Golf Assn. at the annual meeting in January.

Clock, a former president of the California Golf Assn., heads the slate of officers presented Thursday by the USGA Nominating Committee.

Leads Army to Heptagonal Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Greene's unbeaten record still is intact and Army still is the Heptagonal Cross Country team champion.

The 6-1, 23-year-old Army senior from Sacramento, Calif., easily won the individual title yesterday over Van Cortlandt Park's 5-mile course while leading the Cadets to their second straight championship.

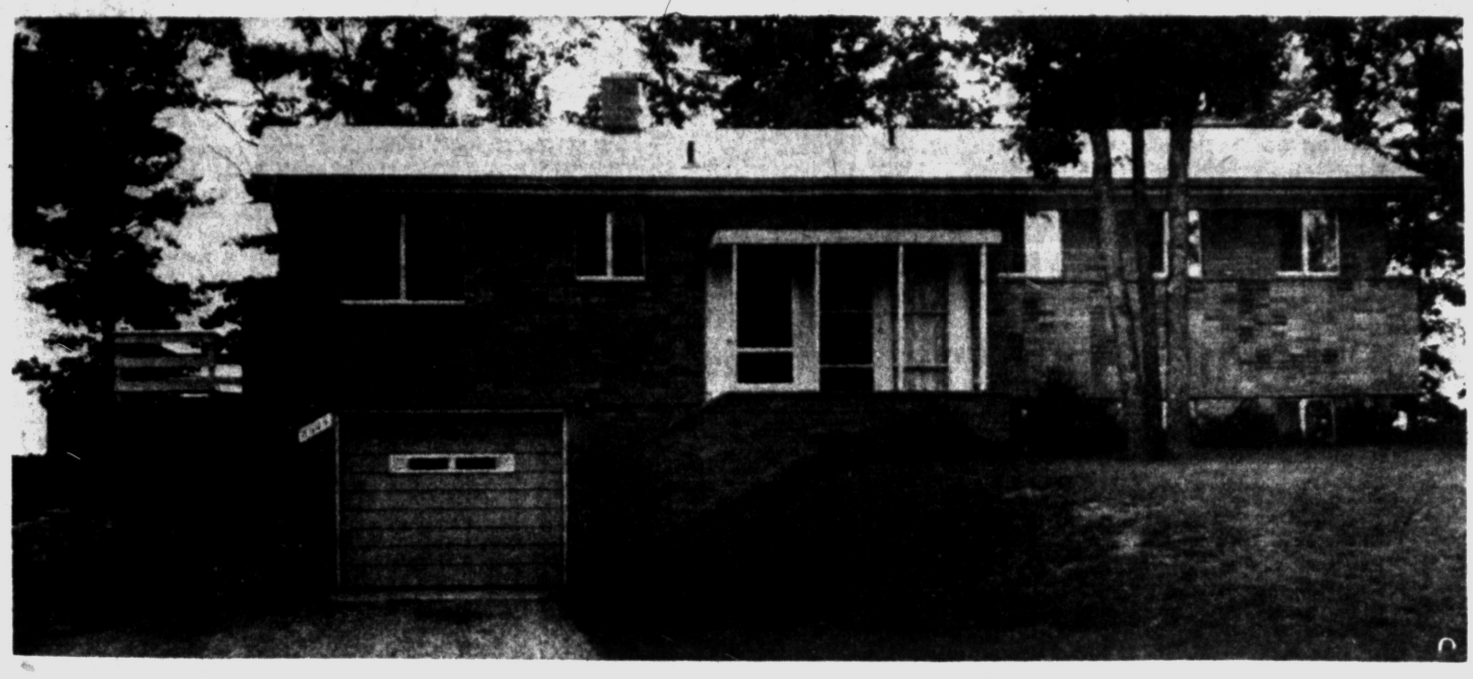
ON THE LOWER LEVEL — This buff brick fireplace in the recreation room has no hearth. The stone is extended around the corner, under the window to end in a planter near the outside door. Outside it becomes a grill. Walls are knotty pine. Furniture is rustic. There is both a small bar and a complete kitchen in connection with this room which the Sayers use for informal entertaining.



INDIANWOODS SUBDIVISION — The James V. Sayers' home is on a 76x138 foot lot on Loon Lake in Indianwoods. Their son, James J. Sayers, built the buff brick home just two years ago. At the left is a deck outside the kitchen. The entrance has a little different look about it with two windows beside the door. The one at the right is in a little powder room. The Sayers' lot has a number of magnificent trees on it.

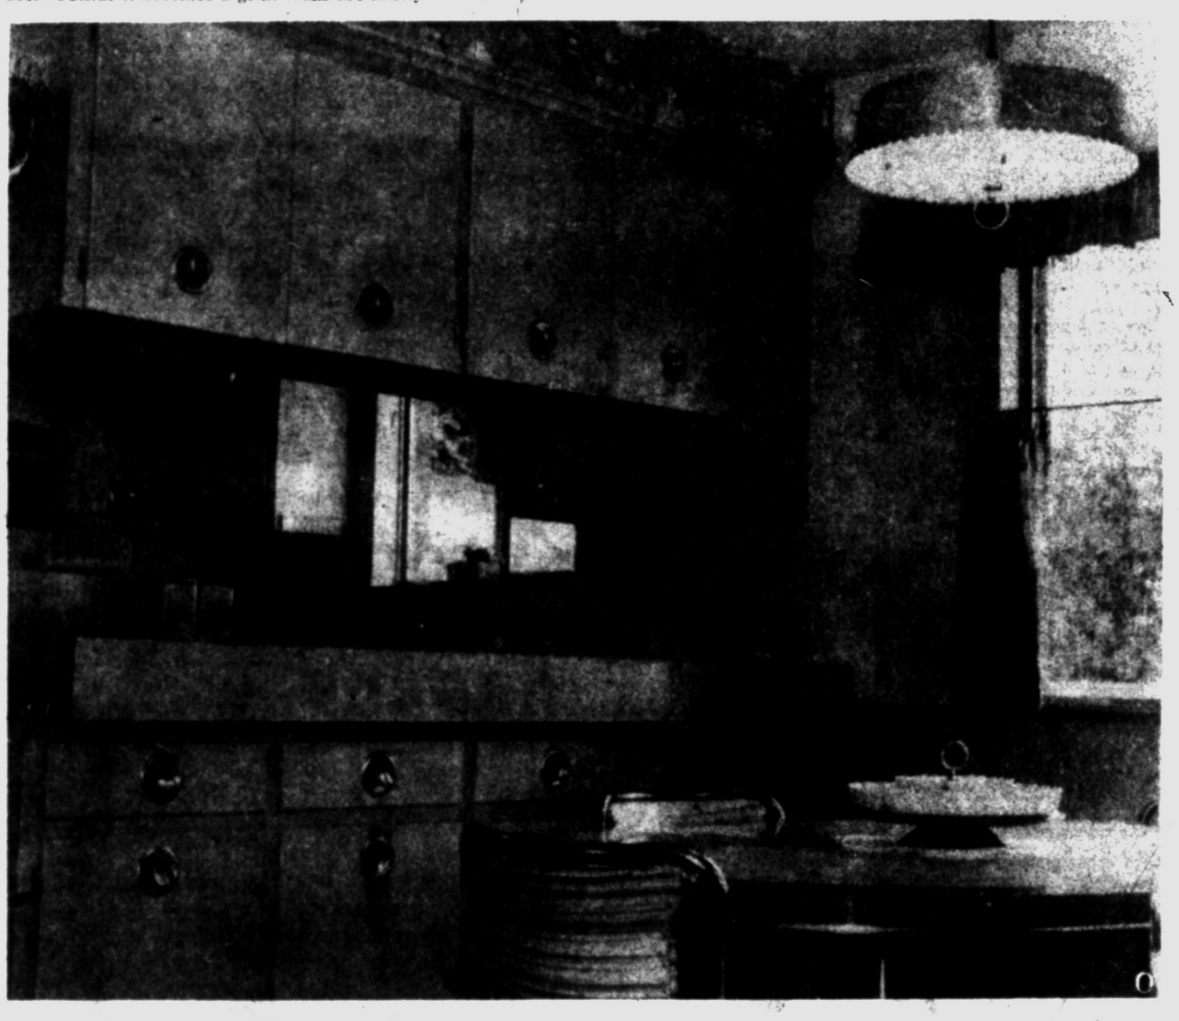
background for LIVING



LOTS OF STORAGE — Mrs. Sayers has plenty of storage space in her kitchen. Cabinets, as well as the dado in this part of the room, are birch with round metal knobs. Formica topped counters are yellow. Both curtains and chair upholstery are striped in gray and brown. The table resembles marble. There is a door opening to a deck outside of this room.

UP IN THE TREES — Because the Sayers' house is built on a hill, the view out the front picture windows gives the impression of living in the trees. Nothing breaks the view of trees, lake and distant highway. Sheer white draperies are pulled back to each side. The carpeting is striped in off-white, black and aqua. The nubby upholstery of the sofa has browns and green in it. Walls are pale green.

Your Neighbor's House

James Sayers Builds Parents' Home

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Some years ago 53 families who wanted lake property got together and bought 56 acres of land with frontage on Loon Lake. They set aside five acres for a park with recreation facilities and a boat dock. Each homeowner has about a third of an acre.

Originally called Seybourn Estates, this subdivision is now known as Indianwoods. Canals connect Loon Lake with Mohawk, Wormer, Silver, Upper Silver and Schoolhouse.

One of the original purchasers and the builder of a number of the homes in Indianwoods is James J. Sayers: His enthusiasm infected his parents, the James V. Sayers.

"We got hayseed in our hair," the senior Mrs. Sayers says, with amusement.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago son James built a buff brick home for his parents and younger brother, Bob. Beautifully situated on a lakefront lot that has a profusion of trees on the lake shore, the Sayers' house overlooks the subdivision beach. Across Loon Lake the residents can see busy Dixie Highway.

The entrance to the Sayers home is between levels. Beside the door is a ribbed glass window. At the right, as you enter, you can see a little powder room. With tile and fixtures in green, the wall papered in an ivy design is just right.

There is carpeting up the stairs and down the hallway. This is an extension of the living room carpeting. It is off white with stripes fo black and aqua.

Above the stairwell in the hall there is a planter box.

★ ★ ★

When you walk into the living room you feel as if you are up in the trees. As the house is built close to the edge of the hill on the lake shore, the tall oak trees are an integral part of the living room.

Wisely, Mrs. Sayers has put only a low coffee table with a planter in front of the picture window. The draperies are sheer white. There are lights in the cornice above the windows.

Walls are pale green. The sofa is upholstered in a nubby material combining green, tan and beige. There's a red lounge chair and one Colonial chair with brown and green cushions.

FIGURINES

The wall between breakfast room and living room is open at the top. Here pretty figurines are used on the little shelves. At the other side of the door in the kitchen there is a dish cabinet built in. The top part has glass shelves and glass doors. In it Mrs. Sayers keeps her collection of china cups and saucers.

A work counter separates the breakfast room from the working part of the kitchen. There are cupboards overhead and in the counter itself. The latter open in the breakfast room. Around

Latest Colors

According to a noted color stylist, violet and mauve hues are the latest thing in colors for the home. Shades, hues, and tints of violet including pale tints of hyacinth, pink, lilac and mauve are favored for painting room walls. The popular pink and aqua tones are being used wtih bluish shades of violet. These mauve colors are proving to be suitable backgrounds for conservative decorating for home interiors.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: Am setting up a workshop in our basement, which is dry at all times. I plan on putting up a lumber storage rack from some old plumbing pipe which I have on hand. Will this be all right.

ANSWER: Yes, the pipe can be used for this purpose, assuming that it will fit standard elbows and tees. To prevent warpage of the stock, do not place the pipe supports more than three feet apart. Probably the most important thing is not what you use for the storage rack, but how you stack the lumber.

Spacer blocks should be placed over each frame crosspiece and between layers of the wood. This will allow sufficient air to circulate around the wood to keep it from warping.

QUESTION: I expect to make a plywood cabinet under our kitchen sink. Is there any particular kind of plywood I should use?

ANSWER: That's a pretty broad question, so the answer will have to be in the same vein. You should first attempt to get plywood whose top layer (or face) harmonizes with the kind of wood used in other cabinets in the kitchen. Thus, it might be birch plywood or pine or some other type of wood.

If the other cabinets are painted, then you might get by nicely with the most inexpensive plywood, which is fir. In that event, be sure to give the fir plywood a coat of special sealer before putting on the paint. While most plywood cabinets of that type are made of ordinary plywood, it might be wise to use exterior plywood in areas that well be exposed to water or dampness. Be sure to seal all edges and ends of the plywood, whether or not they will be covered with molding.

QUESTION: How can I restore a bright finish to aluminum.

ANSWER: By rubbing it with steel wool. The finer the grade of steel wool, the smoother the finish.

Extra Bathroom Can Go in Basement

If your family's bathroom facilities are overcrowded, and you are seeking a location for an extra room, don't forget to consider the basement, recommends the Better Basement Institute. It points out that bathrooms often can be installed at lower cost than elsewhere in the house, because connections to existing water supply and waste-disposal lines usually can be made most easily.

The basement bathroom will be especially convenient for your children if you have an outside exit from the basement to your yard. Then your youngsters can use the facilities without disturbing the rest of the house.

A bathroom below grade also makes a handy "mud-room" where adults and children can wash up after playing or working outdoors. An easy-to-reach washroom downstairs helps prevent a great deal of tracking of mud, grim and dirt onto your first-floor carpets.

Roof-Ceiling Is Made of 2x4s

The plain, ordinary, unpretty 2x4, long used for the sturdy job of framing millions of American homes, today is becoming a glamour boy in home design.

Solid surfaces of 2x4s are being nailed together to form texture-rich ceilings and, at the same time to supply the structural elements of a roof. In other words, one solid plank of 2x4s, nailed together with the narrow widths exposed, forms both the exposed ceiling of homes and the roof as well. Only shingles or other roofing need to be applied.

The exposed ceiling has lovely texture, and it may be left unstained or unpainted. Most popular 2x4s used for this style of design are either Douglas fir or west coast hemlock. Lower grades of these woods can be used at considerable savings.

The cost of this type of roof system, according to one outstanding architect, Van Evra Bailey of Portland, Oregon, who has designed many homes in this style, is less than the cost of a conventional roof system which has to be framed in with rafters, and covered with sheathing as well as shingles. In construction, Bailey said, this nail-laminated roof of 2x4s lays up very fast.

These roofs are extremely sturdy, Bailey said, and require little, if any, maintenance inside. No purlins, bracing or other beams are needed, he said, although some architects use a heavy timber for decorative effect.

Rock Granules Provide Color, Protection

Tough asphalt shingles get their rugged ability to shrug off the wearing effects of weather from a thick layer of rock granules embedded in the surface of the waterproof asphalt.

The granules provide a rich, textured appearance without harsh, ugly glare. They also carry the pigments that make possible the many colors available in asphalt shingles.

Rumpus Room Floors Need Wax Protection

Bad weather this time of year drives youngsters indoors and that is when the rumpus room takes a beating.

Floors, particularly, get unusual wear and tear from fast-flying feet and heavy shoes that track in soil and grit. Furniture and paneling also suffer.

If the floors are wood, they should be buffed with paste or liquid polishing wax. Each gives lasting protection. If the floors are rubber or asphalt tile, vinyl plastic or other man-made material, use a self-polishing wax.

Furniture, fixtures and game tables also take on a new sparkle with waxing and add a well-kept look to the room.

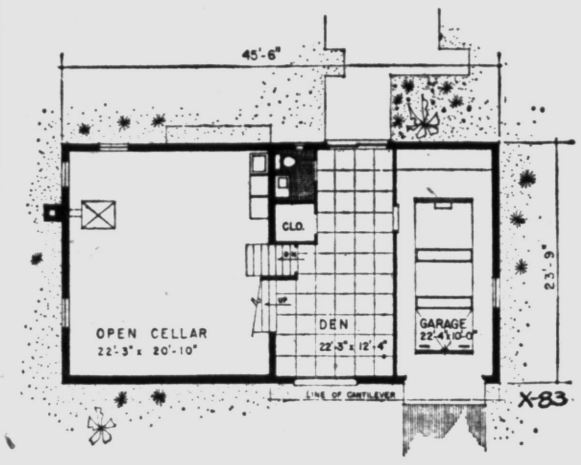
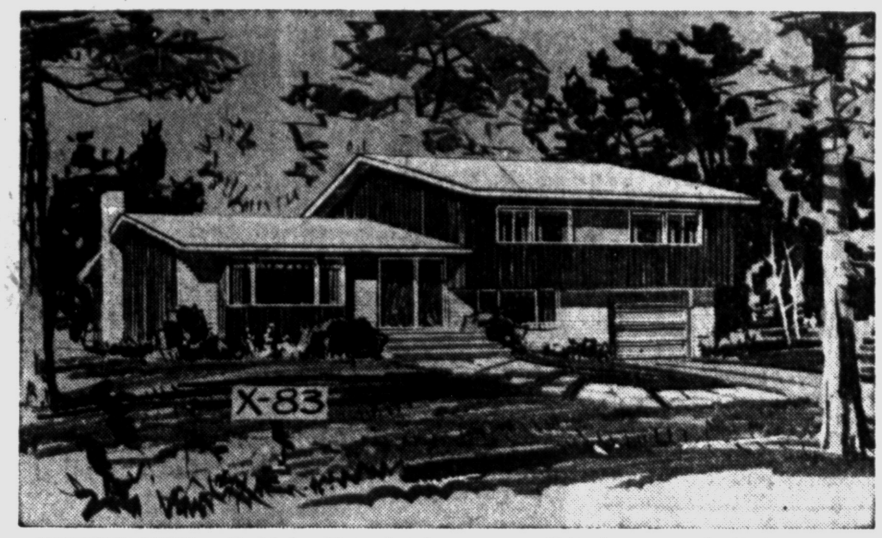
GROUND AND CELLAR LEVELS — Location of garage saves money and adds convenience.



LIVING AND BEDROOM LEVELS — Furniture outlines show comfortable size of all rooms. Note the two entrances to main bath.



SPLENDID SPLIT — Doubled gable roof and satisfying blend of materials give this contemporary split-level a warm, inviting appearance. The home has three bedrooms, 1½ baths.

Cantilevered Design Adds Floor Space to House

The ABC's of this house stand out: it's Attractive, Balanced and Compact.

The artist's rendering testifies to the design's attractiveness. There is a pleasing blend of materials, a gracefulness of line, a satisfying compromise between two storied height and low-slung ranch in the efficient split-level construction.

The balance is apparent in the floor plan. None of the main areas of the home encroaches on the others; each is fully developed and uncramped. The three bedrooms on the sleeping level are all of generous size.

Living and dining rooms are big but not overpowering. The kitchen is just right for efficient work without unnecessary steps. There's a den-family room on the ground level for children's play and relaxation.

And the house is compact. The living and sleeping levels contain 1,153 square feet of habitable area. The den-family room adds 274 square feet for a total of only 1,427.

X-83 in the House of the Week series was designed by Architect Samuel Paul. It has three bedrooms, 1½ baths, "L"-shaped living and dining room with kitchen set inside the two arms of the "L", and den connected to the rear terrace by sliding glass doors. The garage is neatly tucked away on the ground level underneath the bedroom level.

SQUEEZED FOUNDATION

In order to gain extra floor area, Architect Paul extended a series of cantilevers out from the basic foundation wall in the bedroom wing, living room and kitchen. The result is larger floor area on a smaller basic foundation, thus decreasing expensive excavation and concrete foundation work.

The living room is located so that its major section is off the main traffic path. The focal point is the large picture window combined in the cantilevered bay with a built-in storage unit for TV, hi-fi, bar, record, book storage and heater unit. This projecting bay gives interest to both the exterior and interior of the house while at the same time saving valuable floor space for furniture.

The dining room is open to the living room and directly accessible from the kitchen. The "L" arrangement allows dining and living areas to borrow space from each other while retaining their individual identity.

The kitchen is another of X-83's prime assets. It provides space for a wall oven, refrigerator, counter top range and full sink cabinets along with a considerable amount of countertop and cabinet space.

On top of this, it is large enough to comfortably accommodate a table big enough for the entire family. There also is a rear door opening onto the back porch.

★ ★ ★

The kitchen is another of the areas profiting from the cantilever technique, since the area it gains by projecting beyond the rest of the rear wall makes the difference between comfort and congestion.

PRIVATE BATH ENTRANCE

The bedroom wing contains three large and well planned bedrooms, each with an abundance of closet space. The large family bath is accessible from both the hall and master bedroom, giving the master a private entrance to the bath, if not the luxury of a true private bath.

On the ground level below the bedrooms is the den, with big storage closet, a lavatory handy to terrance entrance, and the garage. The cellar, a half-level below the den, provides space for heater and laundry as well as plenty of room for additional storage.

★ ★ ★

The architect suggests an exterior finished in brick veneer and natural vertical wood siding. The double gable roof should be of light blue asphalt shingles, thus creating an interesting color contrast among the three basic materials. Over-all dimensions are 45' 6" width, by 25' 4" depth.

Dangerous Leaves

Those falling leaves that go by your window this autumn are okay, but look out for those that are deposited on your roof in eaves and gutters, warn fire prevention specialists. They suggest that while fire-resistant asphalt shingles provide good fire protection, accumulations of twigs, leaves and debris may be set afire by chimney sparks.

Substitute for Closet or Old Time Hatrack

What to do with extra coats and hats when the entrance closet is filled is a wintertime poser. Inexpensive and goodlooking hat racks made of natural wood (walnut, teak, mahogany), with knobs for hats or coats, can be mounted on a wall.

More decorative, more expensive and equally useful for storage are narrow strips of black and brass. Square brass hooks anchored between two black strips swing out when needed for coat or hat storage, When not in use, the hooks are flat against the wall, forming a decorative pattern.

BEFORE — Workmen are beginning the job of building an addition to the Samuel Ashley home on Inglewood. The family had only two small bedrooms and needed more room. They also wanted a garage that they could use as a recreation room.

Now We'll Pour Concrete Anytime

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—National Gypsum Co. has developed two new products it says "could revolutionize the yearly cycle of heavy construction."

Dean D. Crandell, vice president in charge of research for the firm, noted that in the past when concrete was poured at temperatures below 40 degrees "it usually failed to develop satisfactory setting action or performance."

National Gypsum's new products — Thermaform and Thermaslab — are made of special insulating materials, described as inexpensive and re-usable, and are placed over freshly poured concrete.

They are said to permit the concrete to harden properly by keeping in the heat.

The company said Thermaform is for walls and Thermaslab for concrete floors. Both will be on the market before the end of 1959.

And Shell Heating Oil is your best buy because...

It's safe...
With oil heat, your fuel and air ignite within the combustion chamber. There's no possibility of dangerous unseen leakage—no worry about reduced fuel flow when a cold spell hits.

It's clean...
Shell Heating Oil is refined for clean-burning. And when you heat with oil, exhaust is discharged outside of the home.

It's economical...
It's true that the initial cost of your equipment is slightly greater, because your oil burner is a quality engineered mechanism. But oil gives you more heat per dollar. What's more, there's no costly pilot light to keep burning year-round.

You get these services...
With our Certified Comfort Heating Oil Plan you get automatic refills...free tank protection against rust...metered delivery receipts.

In one corner of the breakfast room an attractive brass basket holds a spider plant. The table has a plastic top resembling marble. Steel framed chairs have striped plastic upholstery in beige, brown and gray.

In the birch paneled den there is aqua sculptured carpeting. Floor length draperies have aqua, gold and black figures on them. In addition to a desk and a bookcase there are red leather chairs.

The bathroom has two shades of pink tile used on the floor. Walls are pale pink, as are fixtures and the ceramic tile vanity top. Rugs are aqua and the pink curtains have an aqua and black design.

Bob's room is pleasantly masculine with bare oak floors and beige walls. The white curtains have cinnamon, yellow and black ovals on them. The spread and beside rug are cinnamon color.

There's a quaint little black antique rocker in Mr. and Mrs. Sayers' bedroom. Otherwise the furniture is pale gray. Walls are pink and the rugs lilac color.

MORE LILAC

Lilac flowers on a white ground carries out the color scheme in both bedspread and curtains. The curtains have some pink in them as well.

Down in the basement there's a compact little kitchen in the laundry room. Theres' a pass-through to the recreation room. Under the stairs there is a large storage area. Near the door opening to the lake side is a dressing room and shower for swimmers. The garage is on this level also.

Brown inserts in the beige tile floor set the color scheme for the recreation room. The buff brick fireplace extends through the exterior wall and makes an outside grill on the cement patio.

Built up bricks, capped with stone make window seats at the picture window overlooking the lake. A brick planter is placed just inside the door. Walls are paneled in knotty pine. Furniture down here is rustic in style and sturdy.

Bar-Lavatory Is Cheap to Build

One of the fastest and most economical ways to build a sink-equipped bar area and a powder room in the basement is to locate the facilities on opposite sides of a two-way plumbing wall to take advantage of common water supply lines.

The wall also will pay off as a space-saver in a small basement. Since it carries no structural load, the wall offers big pockets for oversize medicine and storage cabinets in the powder room.

An attractive bar-lavatory layout with a common plumbing wall was featured in a recent issue of Popular Science magazine. A unique hideaway idea feature in the magazine's design was a hinged bar that swings around to cover the sink when it is not in use.

For a good-looking yet practical decor, the walls, bar, lavatory and sink counters are covered with plastic-surfaced hardboard. A handsome woodgrain gives the bar area an informal appearance, while a distinctive marble pattern on the twin lavatories and side walls accents the colorful wall panels in the powder room.

Highly-resistant to heat and moisture, this hardboard never requires refinishing. Extremely easy to maintain, even hard-to-remove stains can be wiped off plastic-surfaced hardboard with a sudsy cloth.

A free plan showing construction details for a bar-lavatory arrangement built from a common plumbing wall can be obtained by writing a postal to Marsh Wall Products, Inc., Dept. PR-2, Dover, Ohio.

Now's the time to buy, report housing authorities. The home bought in 1959 for $16,000 may be worth $25,000 before the mortgage is paid.

'Store' Kids in Garage While Auto Is Away

A sheltered play area for the youngsters can be a blessing for a homemaker when the days grow shorter, grayer and wetter. The owner of a free and uncluttered basement is likely to find it filled with her own children and their friends engaged in any number of pursuits — all noisy — on a damp autumn day.

If you're not so fortunate or if the noise is too ear-piercing, look for other possibilities.

One of the most accessible areas for fall-winter play is the carport or garage. Fathers may protest that this works a hardship on the car, but the area would be used mostly when the car is parked at commuting station or office anyhow.

With a roof and possibly a sidewall to protect youngsters from sharp wind, rain or mist, a carport can offer good play space for wheel toys, roller skates, hopscotch, jump rope and the like.

★ ★ ★

In northern parts of the country, where dusk comes in mid-afternoon, a sheltered, lighted play space will keep small fry close by and visible.

STORE TOOLS

Probably the most difficult part of winterizing the carport is to get garden tools and similar storage provided for to clear the floor. Sharp tools should be stored either on high shelves or in separate storage cabinets where young children can't reach them.

Insecticides, fertilizers and similar items should be locked up either in a cabinet outdoors or, if they can't stand low temperatures, inside in the basement or utility room.

To make the area attractive to the children, you may want to brighten it up a bit. A dingy, cobwebby, leaf-strewn enclosure doesn' tappeal. A concrete floor, for example, might be quickly painted with the special concrete paints. You'll see them in light or dark shades.

★ ★ ★

The floor should be washed down first with a detergent solution and rinsed and dried. Pick a paint suitable for outdoor use. It can be applied with brush, roller or spray or, fast and easy, with a regular floor sponge mop.

The beveled sponge mop head works the paint into the roughish concrete surface and rinses out after use in soap and water.

On the smooth clean floor you may want to paint a hopscotch court or a tricycle track. It might be a help, too, to outline "stalls" for the parking of trikes, bikes and wagons.

Safe Windows Comply With Council Rules

Careful window planning makes a house safer for its occupants, says the Small Homes Council of the University of Illinois in its copyrighted circular, "Hazard Free Houses for All."

Here are some of the Council's suggestions for windows in any home:

1. To avoid collisions with projecting awning and casement windows, planting beds should be put beneath them, never sidewalks.

2. All windows which cannot be reached from the ground or porch should be of a type that can be washed from inside.

3. All major rooms, including basement playrooms, should have a door leading outside, or at least one window no smaller than 24x30 inches to permit easy escape in case of fire.

4. Floor to ceiling windows should start 6 to 10 inches from the floor to avoid the hazard of mistaking the window for a door.

5. Minimum sill height for stairway or second floor should be 36 inches. These should be screened securely, but with screens readily removable in case of fire.

Building material dealers carry a wide variety of wood windows in stock that are adaptable to all of these safety recommendations.

Automobiles were first sold on the payment plan in 1905.

LAMP TROUBLES — Most lamp troubles are little ones that can be fixed with a minimum of time and effort. Learn what to look for when the light goes out.

Let's Throw Some Light on Lamp Difficulties

There's not much reason for throwing a lamp away unless it's been around so long you can't stand looking at it anymore.

Short of a complete smashing there's little that can go wrong with one that you can't repair easily and cheaply.

Next time a floor or table lamp begins to flicker or won't even light, check it over yourself. It won't take long. And a lamp that's giving trouble should not be kept in service without being repaired. The fire hazard can be great.

First, check the obvious things. Is the bulb screwed in tight? Is it a good one? Try replacing it to find out. Is the lamp cord plugged in? Is the fuse blown?

If it's none of these things, then check the three main parts of the lamp: plug, cord and lamp socket.

PLUG — The prongs lose their springiness after a time. Spread them apart slightly and see if the grip in the outlet is any better. Make certain that the terminal screws are tight and that the wires are securely wrapped around them. If the prongs are loose or the entire plug cracked or broken replace the plug.

Cut the wire just back of the plug. Pull the two wires apart for about two inches. Then scrape about a half-inch of insulation from each one. Run both wires through the new plug, tie a double loop knot (Underwriters' knot) and connect the bare wires to the terminal screws. Wrap the exposed wire in a clockwise direction. Make certain that the bared wires don't touch each other.

There are several new patented plugs available that will save you all that work. Simply insert the lamp cord without spreading the wires or baring them, and snap shut. Metal barbs on the prongs pierce the insulation and make contact. These plugs only will work with flat rubber-coated lamp cord.

SOCKET — Dismantle, but pull pull the plug first. Look for loose or broken connections. If there's no obvious trouble the switch is worn. Get a new socket.

Often just an insert can be bought and used in the old brass shell. A cardboard liner goes between the insert and the shell for insulation. Connect wires the same way you did in the plug, in a clockwise direction.

CORD — If it's frayed or broken, replace it. There also can be hidden breaks in the wire. If the light goes on and off as you move the wire that's your trouble. When you replace the wire, disconnect the old piece at the socket end.

Tie a piece of string to that end and pull the wire through the lamp. When the string comes through, tie it to the new cord and pull it back through.

Remember it's cheaper and safer to replace any of these parts than it is to repair them. And always make certain that the lamp is disconnected before working on it.

Use Color in Workshop as Efficiency Tool

Bold use of colors in your workshop makes it an inviting place to do your handyman tasks. But bright colors can also help you "code" the contents of drawers and cabinets.

Keep pieces of developing projects in cabinets of the same color. And when painting the rafters in your workshop, try making "rulers" of them to help in visualizing larger projects and in estimating the size of boards. Just paint measurements in feet on these rafters and on upright posts.

Bathtubs Come in Three Styles

Planning the bathrooms for a new house or an existing house to be modernized? You may choose three different types of bathtubs.

There is, first of all, the rectangular or conventional type of bathtub. More than 75 per cent of bathtubs of this type are 5 feet long and from 29 to 30 inches wide on the outside. If the fixture has a front rim seat, the outside width is around 33 inches. The inside width of this type of bathtub is from 27 to 28 inches.

This type of bathtub can also be obtained in other sizes such as 4½ feet long and 5½ feet long.

The second style of bathtub is square or nearly square. Some manufacturers make a bathtub of this size that is 48 inches square whereas others make a fixture that measures 48 by 46 or 48 by 44.

This model of bathtub, which comes with a seat and an oval bathing area on the diagonal, is popular because it serves as a bathtub and as a shower receptor.

SHOWER

The third style of bathtub is more of a shower receptor than bathtub. It is about 42 inches by from 29 to 36 inches and from 10 to 14 inches deep. Like the square bath, it too, has a built in seat or a seat on the rim. It is ideally suited as a shower receptor, as a foot bath, and as a child's bath.

They Can Ruin Gas Mileage Records

Watch Those Poor Driving Habits!

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Economy, and particularly gas economy, is a new trend in 1960 automobiles. Are you disillusioned when you fail to match claims of 30 miles to the gallon? Maybe you are more at fault than your car.)

By BEN PHLEGAR
A.P. Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — For years Detroit has sold its cars on power, speed and style. The introduction of the 1960 models brought another word into prominence — economy.

★ ★ ★

"We don't know just what the public means by economy," one auto industry executive admitted, "but if it concerns gas mileage, we've got it."

As far as Detroit is concerned, gas economy is a relatively new kick. Less than three years ago a Standard Oil research executive, writing on horsepower, said: "Actually, the American motorist shows no real concern for fuel economy and, therefore, neither does the car manufacturer."

But now you are bombarded with rival claims of superior gas mileage, both from car makers and gasoline companies.

The new compact cars advertise performances of 30 miles to the gallon or better. The popular price cars all feature not only six cylinder but V-8 engines designed for regular grade gasoline. The medium price lines, too, all came out this year with optional economy engines.

★ ★ ★

The economy engines came as the industry watched sales of six cylinder cars jump spectacularly during the 1959 model year. In 1958 less than 35 per cent of the popular price cars were sold with six cylinder engines. In 1959 the figure rose to over 40 per cent and the actual numerical increase, due to greater producton, amounted to more than half a million units.

★ ★ ★

Gas economy, the experts will tell you, is a mighty tricky thing. Jack Charipar, chief engineer for the Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant division of Chrysler, said recently that of the many variables that affect mileage, one of the most important and least predictable is the driver himself.

"Even though his car is in perfect mechanical condition an average driver can lose as much as 30 per cent of his gasoline through poor personal driving habits," Charipar said.

In fact, many engineers admit they are surprised you get as good mileage as you do. And they have reservations about individual claims that look too good.

Consider, for example, some of these many other factors which influence your mileage figures: There are obvious ones such as frequent starts and stops; hot-rod getaway from traffic lights; high speed; poor engine condition. And some not so obvious such as road conditions (smooth pavement best; air temperatures (not too hot or cold) and the season of the year (late spring, early fall best).

WARM vs. COLD

A Warm engine will get better mileage than a cold engine, one reason why auto commuting during winter months can really drink up gasoline.

A recent test for auto writers under supervised conditions at the Chrysler proving grounds showed a difference of nine miles to the gallon in the same car under identical conditions except that one test was run with the engine cold, the other after it had been operating at normal speeds for a period of time.

Mechanical condition of your engine also plays a vital part. It has been suggested that one bad spark plug in a V-8 engine can cut gas mileage up to 19 per cent. And many car engines have much more serious things wrong with them than one bad plug.

Most car owners understand that automatic transmissions, power accessories and air conditioning all cut down gas mileage, although not as much as they are sometimes blamed for. But even the devotees of straight stick transmissions can waste gas by poor shifting habits or by gunning the car in lower gears.

★ ★ ★

Gas mileage claims advertised by reputable companies are genuine, but mostly they occur under rigidly controlled conditions and in mechanically perfect cars driven by professional drivers. An average amateur who expects to equal or approach most of the 30-plus figures is almost sure to be disillusioned.

★ ★ ★

Because of this, executives within the car companies often debate the wisdom of such advertised mileage claims. And in a recent Louisiana court case a car buyer successfully sued the manufacturer when his auto failed by far to measure up to the advertised mileage claims of the company.

While it is true that the 1960 engines offer better gas mileage than at any time in recent years, you won't collect the benefits automatically. Poor driving habits will more than cancel out any engine advantage.

Land Loss Irks Kin of Castro

Fidel's Brother, Mom Hurt by Redistribution Under Reform Law

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's farmer brother and his mother are unhappy about the expropriation of their land by the institute of agrarian reform, but can do nothing about it "because it's the law," their associates said today.

★ ★ ★

Landholdings of Mrs. Lina Ruz de Castro and Ramon Castro were among those taken over several weeks ago for redistribution to landless peasants.

Ramon's friends in the Sugar Growers Assn. said Fidel's brother is "most indignant and very unhappy" about giving up land "which he has worked and sweated to develop, but he says it's the law and there's nothing he can do about it."

★ ★ ★

Neither Ramon nor his mother would comment publicly on the seizure of their land, nor would institute officials discuss it. Other sugar growers estimated Ramon owned or controlled through leases about 21,000 acres. He owned about 3,100 acres outright, including some land he bought from Fidel in "a quick sale" to prevent it from falling into the hands of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista after the death of their father in 1958, friends said.

Mrs. Castro owned or controlled more than 13,000 acres of sugar and ranch land, associates estimated. They said the institute is permitting Ramon to retain about a thousand acres and his mother about 1,350 acres.

★ ★ ★

Expropriated land is to be paid for by long-term government bonds.

Sell Grand Rapids Furniture Plant

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The sale of Bergsma Bros. furniture manufacturing plant to AMI Division of Automatic Canteen Co. of America was announced Friday by Julius and Kenneth Bergsma.

★ ★ ★

Financial details were not disclosed, but the cost of the plant was estimated at $500,000 when built in 1952. The sale will be made through a transfer of automatic canteen stock to the Bergsma pair, they said.

But British Just as Bad

Americans Murder Words!

BY ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP) — Several readers of the London Times are alarmed over recent liberties with the English language. And as you might guess, Americans are to blame.

"Lubritorium—" snorted one correspondent who aired his disgust in Times columns. The word refers, he believes, to the smelly place in a garage where automobiles get their joints greased.

But there is worse, another correspondent reported. He saw a sign in an American garage pointing to the "Lubridome."

The discussion, dragging on for days, started with the frequent British presumption that anything and everything vulgar comes out of America.

It is pictured as a land fascinated by washeterias in which chemically bleached blondes refresh their scanties.

It was noted that in Boston there is a "pantorium," at which trousers are pressed.

★ ★ ★

In one benighted American city, it was reported, there is a "Lumberteria." A fellow down the street is a "fruitologist," and across the tracks a purchaser of old automobiles is a "wreckologist."

But one fair-minded correspondent pointed out the British are committing a few atrocities themselves. At an ironmongery (hardware store) it is now possible to buy a "tenderometer." It's a device which sounds an alarm when vegetables are cooked to the right degree of softness.

An agricultural publication advertises a clever British invention — the "Calfeteria," an automatic calf feeder which takes a burden off absent - minded farmers.

Then there is the "thicknesser," a British machine which regulates the thickness of boards being planed.

There is even official British abuse of the language. A writer called attention to the government milk marketing board, which exhorts Britons to "drinka pinta milka day."

Largest Lakes Vessel Set to Hit Water Today

DETROIT (AP) — The largest ship ever built for Great Lakes service —the 730-foot Arthur B. Homer— was to be launched today at the Great Lakes engineering works on the Rouge River.

The ore-carrying Homer, with a hull 39 feet deep, will have a capacity of 25,000 tons of iron ore and a speed of 16½ miles an hour.

The seven million dollar giant was built for the Bethlehem Steel Corp. and bears the name of Bethlehem's president.

Candidates for public office in Montana are not permitted to spend more than 15 per cent of one year's salary to promote their election campaigns.

Nixon to Enter March Primary

New Hampshire Ballot May Be Head-On Clash With Rockefeller

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Backers of Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday announced organization of a "plans board' which will enter his name in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary next march.

★ ★ ★

The announcement — which has been expected for weeks—set the stage for a possible Nixon-Rockefeller clash in the March 8 primary.

★ ★ ★

Neither Nixon nor New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination. But many of their supporters are convinced the two will meet head-on in New Hampshire's early-bird primary.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller's Granite State supporters organized a month ago and have already scheduled the nation's first "Rally for Rocky," which will be held in Hanover Nov. 17.

Stewart Lamprey of Moultonboro, speaker of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, will be Nixon's campaign director in New Hampshire.

★ ★ ★

Members of the plans board include New Hampshire Sens. Styles Bridges and Norris Cotton, former Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks of Lancaster, and former Republican National Committeeman Frank J. Sulloway of Concord.

Hollywood Headlines:

Bowman's Living Over His Earlier Sleuth Days

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There was Lee Bowman on the floor, conked by a gangster's sap and with a switchblade aimed at his gullet. A shot was fired by an obliging blonde and Lee lived on to solve another case.

This bit of drama took place at Desilu Studios, where Lee is filming "Miami Undercover," a new TV series for United Artists. It came easily to him, and with good reason.

★ ★ ★

During his film career, Bowman played a columnist-sleuth in "The Walls Came Tumbling Down." He starred on radio in an Erle Stanley Gardner series, Jonathan Kegg. And for 90 weeks he played Ellery Queen on live TV.

★ ★ ★

So his new guise as a Florida crime hunter (with sidekick Rocky Graziano) is a natural result of his long battle against the underworld. The series brings Lee back to California after a six-year exile to the greener pastures of New York and Connecticut.

'AND I STAYED'

"I left somewhat as an accident," he explained. "The picture business had been slowing down and I was doing some hour dramatic shows on TV. I went back to New York to do an Ellery Queen. The star, Richard Hart, died on a Tuesday and I did the show on Thursday. I had no idea of getting into a live series, but they offered it to me, and I stayed."

Lee moved his family to New Canaan, Conn., and he admits that his departure was considered rather treasonous in some local circles.

After his seasons as Ellery, Lee stayed on to do Broadway shows, front TV spectaculars for a auto concern, conduct a real estate-insurance firm with his brother, act as director of a commercial film concern, perform on a weekly drama over NBC radio and appear on the panel show, "Masquerade Party."

"No, it isn't fixed," he hastened to add. "In fact, we thought the show was canceled after the summer, but we were put back on the air to replace one of the big-money shows, 'Name That Tune.'

"No money changes hands on our show. We don't even get any hints."

Taylor Criticizes Ike for Military Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Army chief of staff Maxwell D. Taylor says the Eisenhower administration's policies have too often involved military men in its political wrangles.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Taylor, who retired last July and is now chairman of the Mexican Light and Power Co., Ltd., Mexico City, gave his views in an article in Look magazine which will appear next Tuesday.

The article is taken from Taylor's book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," to be published by Harper & Brothers in January.

★ ★ ★

The book's central theme is an argument that the country and its military forces in particular have lacked "command leadership.

★ ★ ★

"We have exposed ourselves to the hazard of backing into a general war we are all trying to avoid, or permitting the nibbling erosion of our world position to continue," Taylor wrote.

He said the Eisenhower administration's "new look" policy of spending more on atomic weapons and less on conventional military forces has cost "our ability to react swiftly and effectively to the most likely form of military challenge—limited war."

★ ★ ★

The Joint Chiefs of Staff "were to be regarded as members of the administration 'team,' instead of professional military advisers detached from the political scene," Taylor wrote.

'Tenth Man' Is Good but Dull in Spots

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK — As he has demonstrated before, Paddy Chayefsky is a playwright wh ooperates on alternating current — he alternates the fascinating with the tedious in the same script.

★ ★ ★

There are scenes in "The Tenth Man," Thursday night's entry at the Booth Theater, that achieve theatrical excitement and beauty, and there are other passages that are just plain dull and inept.

The latter are especially to be regretted in this case because they are largely to blame for the unavoidable impression that the drama takes much too long to reach its climax.

Of course, as in all of Chayefsky's works, this "padding" is of an atmospheric nature that the playwright seems to feel he cannot do without. Admittedly, some of it is interesting, in this and his other plays. But he could achieve the same results and be better off without so much of it.

★ ★ ★

The play does have warmth and humor, both in the writing and presentation, that is a cut well above the routine. When it is good, it is quite good. Chayefsky has not lost the knack of giving actors people to play instead of mere roles.

★ ★ ★

Briefly, the play is a statement that a man is nothing if he is not capable of love, and that this is practically the equivalent of a state of religious grace.

Skeptical at 1st, Soviets Buy 2 U. S. Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP) — At first, the Soviets were mighty skeptical about that geodesic dome at the U.S. exhibition in Moscow.

But once they studied it, and got assurances, they liked it so much they bought it and another U.S. building, the Glass Pavilion, for $375,000.

Besides that, Commerce Department officials said today, they sent along their payment so fast it surprised everybody. The money is now in the U.S. Treasury.

Savings Bonds Sales Soar After Interest Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government savings bonds sales picked up sharply in October thanks to the new 3¼ per cent interest rate.

Sales of E and H savings bonds totaled 358 million dollars compared with 300 million dollars in September.

President Eisenhower on Sept. 22 signed legislation authorizing a half-point increase in the interest rate, retroactive to June 1.

Plastic Sheet Suffocates Baby Girl in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Kin Butler, 9-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butler of Detroit, suffocated today when she became entangled in a plastic sheet in her crib.

Police said Mrs. Butler told them she had made the sheet from a large plastic cleaner's bag.

Free Carpet? Beware!

An organization selling carpets is operating in the Pontiac Area. They lead home owners to believe that through a word of mouth advertising program, they will install wall to wall carpeting at NO COST to the home owner — if they can "qualify."

Anyone who signs their contract "qualifies" to pay an extra high price to a LOAN COMPANY for the carpeting they thought they would get free. Beware of statements of this type:

"... I'm not a salesman, but a public relations man"—

"... We don't advertise in the newspaper or on radio and that is the reason we can give you this carpet at no cost to you"—

"... If you have 12 friends who you think would like this same deal — you can qualify"—

"... Don't tell your friends what the deal is—get me an appointment and I will explain it to them. Let's keep it a secret"—

Almost without exception the home owner ends up paying an extra high price for carpeting they were going to get at NO COST.

If you need a carpet, deal with local ESTABLISHED firms!

Be sure ALL the details are clearly written and understood before you sign a contract.

Like a Glass Elephant?

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you donate $1,000 to the Republican party you can become a charter member of a new club called National Republican Associates. You'll get a glass elephant desk ornament too.

★ ★ ★

The Republican national committee said Friday letters have been sent to 1,000 persons asking for $1,000 contributions. The aim is to raise a million dollars by Jan. 1. Half of it already has been subscribed.

The Republican club outdoes a Democratic $750-club, started about nine months ago to pay off a $750,000 deficit left over from previous campaigns. So far about 37½ per cent of the deficit has been paid off.

The Republicans will accept donations of less than $1,000, of course. But that's the amount needed to join the club.

Members of the Democratic club don't get glass donkeys, but they do get two tickets each to the Democratic national convention and admission to a special convention club room.

Andy's Quite Flattered at Having Clothes Torn

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I had some of my clothes ripped off recently—and I was quite flattered."

★ ★ ★

Andy Williams was smoking a thin cigar and guzzling lemonade at a back table when he confessed the other day he had finally reached the clothes-tearing-off milestone in his singing career.

WILSON

He'd panted in from across the street, in tan sweater and slacks, from rehearsing a TV spec resoundingly titled, "Andy Williams in Music from Shubert Alley."

"You see, I'd never been a teenage idol," he said. "I never had the Ricky Nelson bit or any of that screaming adulation. I got started too late for one thing . . ."

Staring into his glass, he figured out it must have been five years since "I'd split with my brothers and Kay Thompson. Not really split," he explained quickly. "We could have gone on and on. Kay had done all the night clubs she wanted to do. We had a little talk and asked what each one would really like to do.

WILLIAMS

"My brother Dick said 'I'd like to sing solo.' Bob wanted to get a job where he could stay in California. Don wanted to try acting. I was the youngest and I was in no hurry to do anything."

But Andy, the baby, who currently had one of the hottest records, "Lonely Street," as well as all that TV fame due to having done two shows of his own, was to wind up the best known of the brothers.

"I played tennis and golf for six months after we decided to go our own ways. I was a bum," Andy told me. "Then I made a record and came to New York to find out how to promote it. I met Bill Harbach on the street.

"He said 'Do you want to audition for Steve Allen?' I said 'Who?' He said 'Steve Allen; he's going to have a network show.' I said, 'When are the auditions?' He said, 'I'm going there now. Walk over with me.' "

An hour later Andy had sung for Steve and been hired.

★ ★ ★

Andy, who will be back with his own TV show soon—"CBS offered me a half-hour show, but I'm more comfortable doing an hour"—will be 30 on Dec. 3.

"I hate to think of leaving my twenties," he said.

"Me, too," I said.

MSU Economist Sees $2 Drop in Cattle Prices

EAST LANSING (AP)—Fat-cattle prices may drop as much as $2 in the next few months, reports an agricultural economist at Michigan State University.

John Ferris said the anticipated drop was based on a survey showing that up to 16 per cent more grain-fed cattle than last year will soon be ready for market.

Will Dag Make Trip to Laos?

Some Diplomats Feel He Plans to Unless Reds Object Strongly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Speculation mounted today whether Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold will make a mission to the troubled kingdom of Laos, if the Soviets remain opposed to it.

Some diplomats are convinced Hammarskjold will make the trip in an attempt to ease the unsettled situation, unless the Soviets try to make a major issue out of it.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Hammarskjold stressed that if he goes it will not be in any connection with the fact-finding report just received by the Security Council.

This was seen as an effort to divorce Hammarskjold from the fact-finding subcommittee in hopes it would persuade the Soviets to change their mind about his trip. The four-Nation subcommittee was set up by the council last September, over bitter Soviet opposition, to investigate the Laotian charges of Communist aggression.

★ ★ ★

The fact-finding group told the 11-nation council Friday it had found no proof that North Viet Nam Communists had invaded Laos, but it reported evidence that rebels in Laos were receiving arms and supplies from the Red neighbor to the north.

★ ★ ★

Soviet Deputy Minister Vasily Kuznetsov declared the report caused the collapse of the "entire heap of absurd charges advanced by the Laotian government."

The subcommittee's report was praised by a U.S. delegation spokesman who said it would "enable the Security Council to better understand the danger that confronts Laos."

Nixon Returns From Vacation in California

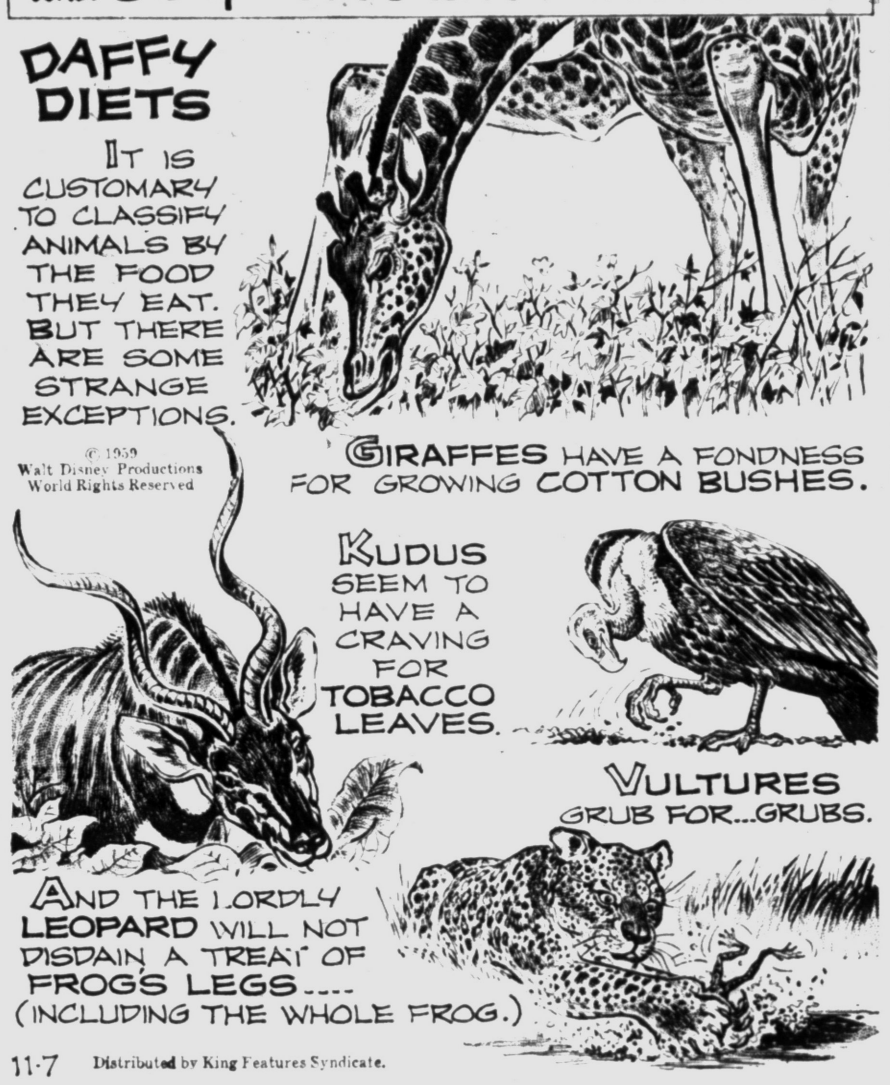
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon winds up a weeklong vacation and flies back to Washington tonight.

He and Mrs. Nixon will board an American Airlines plane at 11:55 p.m.

The vice president had a busy day Friday, addressing students at the dedication of two buildings at Los Angeles City College, attending a dinner, talking with GOP leaders and playing golf.

After his speech at the college, a crush of autograph-seekers forced him to take shelter in a ladies' rest room.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures



Urges Lake Central Get Detroit-Cincinnati Route

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner has recommended that Lake Central Airlines be permitted to operate over the Detroit - Cincinnati route in place of Trans World Airlines.

★ ★ ★

Examiner Paul N. Pfeiffer urged yesterday that the board suspend Trans World's authority to operate a Detroit - Columbus - Dayton-Cincinnati route.

If the board gets the route, there is a possibility government subsidy payments to that airline could be reduced by about $250,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

He said this reduction would not be possible if one of the major trunk line carriers were given the route.

Hess Paid Thousands to Get Plugs for Store

WASHINGTON (AP) — A publicity man for the Hess Brothers department store in Allentown, Pa., says the firm spent thousands of dollars to get "plugs" for the store in television, radio and newspaper columns.

The assertion came from Max Levine, who said that public relations firms were paid to make such arrangements.

Levine testified Thursday before the House subcommittee investigating quiz show fixing.

★ ★ ★

Without giving details, Levine singled out NBC's television programs "Today" featuring Dave Garroway and the "Tonight" show; and the CBS Garry Moore and "Person to Person" programs.

Levine said columnists who mentioned the store included Bob Considine of the Hearst Syndicate, Stanton Delaplane of the McNaught Syndicate, Earl Wilson of the Hall Syndicate and Hal Boyle of the Associated Press.

NBC said it would investigate Levine's assertions. CBS made no immediate comment.

In New York, Considine said that "several years ago I made a personal appearnace at the Max Hess store. It was an appearance such as I have made in many other cities. It had nothing to do with plugs."

HE VISITS STORE

Considine said he once wrote of the store in his column "in what I considered a newsworthy way" and added that "I'm happy to mention any item of interest that is newsworthy.

★ ★ ★

Hess, the store owner, had testified earlier he gave Considine $1,000 to visit the store.

In San Francisco, Delaplane said:

"Mr. Hess is an amusing storekeeper and I interviewed him once sitting on a gasoline powered grass cutter. My boss thought it was a funny column and I am inclined to agree with him. My column is not for sale and Mr. Hess did not pay for the interview. His office did pay my expenses of $1,000 to travel to Allentown for the story."

"I never visited the Hess store nor did I ever receive any money from him or anyone representing him. I have had invitations to visit Mr. Hess and his store, and I never accepted."

Boyle, also in New York, said:

"To the best of my recollection I have mentioned Max Hess four times on subjects of feature news interest in the last 15 years or since I began writing a feature column.

"These mentions were made both before and after I visited Allentown in July 1955, at which I was paid $1,000 by Hess for making a personal appearance at a business dinner."

Chesty Waddlers Taking Over

Russian Cities Encourage Increasing Pigeon Broods

By ALINE MOSBY

MOSCOW (UPI) — Most cities of the world, from Paris to Pittsburgh, brood about how to discipline their pigeons. But the Russians actually encourage them!

Soviet cities in the last few years have built sidewalk cafes for pigeons. Now the pigeon passion has grown so great that the state is building apartment houses for its feathered comrades, and probably no other country can make that statement.

Before the war there were few city pigeons fluttering around Moscow. Russians, as part of their Oriental tradition, did not go in for much doting on animals and birds.

Pigeons were ushered in during the relaxed post-Stalin era, possibly as part of the "doves for peace" campaign, or perhaps, because all respectable Western cities had pigeons, so why not Russia's?

Whatever the reason, Moscow is dotted with pigeon restaurants. These are areas on public squares, or corners of wide sidewalks, marked off with neat pigeon-high blue picket fences (blue and green are the Russians' favorite colors). Signs read, "Watch Out for Pigeons" or "Pigeon Feeding Place."

★ ★ ★

Some governments hatch dark plots about controlling pigeons that nest on civic buildings. Last year Paris authorities had the bright idea of slipping sleeping pills to the critters and then transporting them to country homes (some citizens got up in arms when many of the birds unfortunately never woke up again).

But Moscow's government has a department for the care and feeding of pigeons. Women in white uniforms take seed and water around to the pigeon cafes for the non-working birds every day.

Some pigeon feeding places are right in the streets. Moscow traffic rules include one that decrees motorists must drive carefully around such spots so as not to assassinate the customers.

Many apartment houses also have areas marked off where you can toss food for the feathered neighbors. The pigeon place for my apartment house is underneath my kitchen window, and I don't dare lean out for fear of being pelted by a shower of bread crumbs from above. Some people even leave out twigs for the birds' nests.

The Soviet Union's seven-year plan calls for 15 million apartments for people. Pigeons also are benefitting from the apartment construction boom. Communal bird houses, offering accommodations to 20 bird families, are decorating Moscow.

As conformity is the rule in this country, identical pigeon apartments and cafes can be seen in other big cities of the USSR.

The pigeons, of course, have a seven-year plan of their own. The chesty waddlers are multiplying faster and faster in this pigeon welfare state. If they overfulfill their production quota, Moscow may rue the day it extended so much hospitality to the "dove of peace."

Italy's Gronchi to Visit Moscow Next January

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MY LOVING brother Roscoe H. Quinton who passed away five years ago November 6, 1954.
The face I loved is now laid low
His loving voice is still;
The hand so often clasped in mine
Lies now in deaths cold chill.
I often sit and think of him,
When I am all alone;
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by sister, brothers and friends.

Will TV Scandal Influence Pupils' Exam Cheating

WASHINGTON (UPI)—District of Columbia School Supt. Carl F. Hansen says the TV quiz show scandal will make it harder to control pupils' cheating on examinations.

He said the congressional quiz investigation had shown "massive cheating organized and supported to defraud the American people."

Yet, he said, "Our young people are expected to observe the highest moral standards."

California Group Starts Push for Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Californians for Rockefeller, a group aiming to boost New York Gov. Nelson D. Rockefeller to the Republican presidential nomination, was in business today.

★ ★ ★

The organization yesterday opened an information center to distribute literature on the governor, make campaign data available and pass out Who Else But Nelse buttons.

Charles Lewsadder, county director of the group, said plans were underway to greet Rockfeller on his arrival here Thursday for speaking appearances before the World Affairs Council and Western Republican Conference.

New Labor Law Blocks Union Vote

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A Teamsters Union local in Hoboken, N. J., has been restrained temporarily from electing officers or changing bylaws in a test of the union democracy provisions of the Landrum-Griffin labor law.

★ ★ ★

A U. S. District Court order was obtained by Godfrey P. Schmidt, once a court-appointed Teamsters Union monitor and now counsel to Teamsters reform elements.

Judge Thomas F. Meaney issued the order Thursday night against Local 560 at the request of Robert Connors and Nicholas Ferra, two rank-and-file members.

★ ★ ★

The two told the judge that Anthony (Tony Prov) Provenzano, local president, intended to "railroad amendments through a packed meeting" two nights ago in order to perpetuate his control of the local.

150 Skin Divers Probe Lake Michigan for Judge

CHICAGO (UPI)—An underwater search team of 150 skin divers was to probe the bottom of Lake Michigan today for the body of missing Judge W. Lynn Parkinson.

★ ★ ★

The search was to be concentrated off the Oak street beach, where police have tracked him since he disappeared Oct. 26.

★ ★ ★

Police know the U.S. Appeals Court judge left his courtroom 12 days ago, had several drinks in two taverns and was last seen lurching violently through the Drake Hotel near the lakeshore.

State Highways Forging Ahead

But Only Because of Bonding Power; U. S. Funds Being Lost

LANSING (UPI)—New cutbacks will cost Michigan more than 60 million dollars in federal aid during the next two years, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said Friday.

★ ★ ★

By using its bonding powers, however, the state will keep its building program "substantially" on schedule next year, Mackie said.

"There will be a slight delay in a few projects but in the main we will stick to our announced schedule," Mackie told newspaper editors gathered for the annual editorial conference of the Michigan Press Assn.

But he warned that sale of additional highway bonds pledging future revenues will sharply reduce money available for roadbuilding after 1962.

Construction starts on two interstate expressway projects will be pushed back from three to six months because of reduced federal appropriations, he said.

Prices Ready to Hop Up if Steel Strike Continues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government economists predicted today that prices may jump on a variety of consumer items unless the idle steel mills get back into production in a few days.

They said the 115-day-old strike is reaching the point where it will create shortages that will force prices up—or at least cause them to remain firm—instead of declining seasonally.

★ ★ ★

These experts said they have not been able to pinpoint any inflationary movements as yet in prices of steel or steel products. They also have found no evidence of a steel "gray market."

However, they said the time is ripe for such movements to start showing up in the economy if the law of supply and demand works as it has during past shortages of basic commodities.

Officials emphasized they see no danger of run-away inflation. One said there has been no panic buying, indicating most consumers believe the strikers soon will be ordered back to work for 80 days under the Taft-Hartley law.

MAY BE TEMPORARY

Some of the expected price rises also may be only temporary until steel output hits predicted levels.

One economist cited new automobile prices. He said they may not rise because of the marathon steel walkout. But dealers can be expected to reduce their discounts on cash sales or give smaller trade-ins if they have no trouble selling cars.

The strike also puts pressure on the buyer. He may not shop as carefully or bargain as hard when he realizes that auto output has been cut back because of shortages of steel.

★ ★ ★

Economists said the same psychology applies to other consumer goods such as stoves, refrigerators and home appliances.

They also said there may be hidden price increases. For example, a bobby pin manufacturer could put 25 pins in a package instead of 30 without reducing the price.

Who's Left for Hoffa to Vote For?

LANSING (UPI) — Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa may have to flip a coin a year from now—or not vote.

There's increasing talk among Republicans of running Rep. Robert P. Griffin, Traverse City lawyer and co-author of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill, against Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, a Democrat and Michigan's senior senator in Washington.

Both are on Hoffa's blacklist for their role in the passage of what Hoffa considers a union-busting bill.

Both were on the Senate-House conference committee that put the Landrum-Griffin Bill in final form.

An interested bystander, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, had comforting words for McNamara and Griffin, should the latter run.

The governor said he considered Hoffa's opposition "the best kind of support a guy can have."

The controversial bill has given McNamara and Griffin plenty of material for the banquet circuit.

Bruce Mair to Be Editor of Perth Amboy News

PERTH AMBOY, N. J. (UPI) — James M. Fox, president and general manager of the Perth Amboy Evening News, has announced appointment of Bruce Mair as executive editor of the daily newspaper.

Mair came to the Evening News from Chester, Pa., where he was executive editor of the Delaware County Daily Times. Before that he was managing editor of the Grand Rapids (Mich) Herald and publisher of the Edmore (Mich) Times.

Mair attended Michigan State University and the University of Colorado.

Records and correspondence dating back to the year 1800 reveal that the French referred to all Americans at that time as "Bostonians."

New Reed City Factory to Build Pontoon Boats

REED CITY (UPI)—The city's newest industry, H & T Plastics, Inc., expects to start production of fiber glass pontoon boats soon in a new building now being completed in nearby Lincoln Township.

John Clark, president of the firm which has been manufacturing the craft at North Webster, Ind. since last January, said the plant will employ about 10 men this winter and about 50 workers next summer.

Prayer Dialing Starts

ALLEGAN (UPI)— "Dial-a-Prayer," a Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored project to promote religious welfare, went into effect Thursday at Allegan. The service offers prayers recorded prayers by telephone.

Gets Residential Spot

FREMONT (UPI) — The City Commission has voted to locate a proposed $700,000 Newaygo County convalescent hospital in a city residential section instead of adjacent to the present general hospital. The Commission acted after a public hearing on site plans.
