Race to Recover Sam, Shot Aloft in U.S. Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today sent a monkey—nicknamed Sam—aloft 55 miles in a space capsule such as will be used for later attempts to put a man in space.

A Navy plane spotted it there and a destroyer was speeding to recover it.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the destroyer Borie probably would attempt the recovery about 1 p.m. (EST), less than two hours after the launching.

The Little Joe rocket carrying the capsule was launched at Wallops Island, Va., at 11:15 a.m.

Reporting here on the experiment, NASA said that it went smoothly.

A main purpose was to test at high altitude an emergency device for separating the capsule from the rocket.

It said the separating device—called an escape rocket—fired when the booster rocket was at an altitude of 150,000 feet.

'CHUTE OPENS

When the capsule had descended to an altitude of 20,000 feet, a small parachute opened to stabilize its descent.

At 10,000 feet, the main parachute opened and lowered the capsule into the water.

The agency said radio telemetry aboard the vehicle also functioned perfectly.

The monkey weighed seven pounds and was 30 months old. It was named Sam for School of Aviation Medicine.

Among the experiments aboard was one to test radiation effects on film plates of barely, designed to measure the impact of fast particles such as protons that shoot in from the sun. This experiment

May Add More to Tax Package

State GOP Men Eying Traffic Violators and Corporations

LANSING (UPI)—Motorists and corporations may join smokers, drinkers and telephone users on the latest proposed list of taxpayers who will bail Michigan out of its fiscal crisis.

A 1-mill hike in the corporation franchise tax and a $5 penalty for moving traffic violations gained favor today as House Republican leaders threw support behind a plan to boost the yield of a Senate-passed package of taxes on consumers.

TO EXPIRE IN 1961

The Senate "nuisance" package, passed as a crash program that would expire June 30, 1361, would produce 34 million dollars.

House GOP floor leader Allison Green (R-Kingston) said he was certain the House "will stand for nothing less" than 53 million dollars. He said the House figure could go as high as 60 million dollars.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams said he wanted nothing less than 100 million dollars. Although he considered the Senate package but a crumb for money-starved Michigan, the governor indicated he would not block any new tax plan able to clear the Legislature.

It was generally expected that it would be mid-December before agreement could be reached. The Legislature has recessed until Monday night, but House action on the Senate package was not expected until at least Tuesday. A public hearing by the House committee may stir up opposition to the package.

Senate Majority Leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) said the Republican caucus expected the House to boost the tax yield. He indicated the Senate would compromise.

A 1-mill increase in the corporation franchise tax would yield about 13 million dollars. Another six million could be raised through the $5 assessment on those convicted of a moving traffic violation.

The Senate package calls for a penny boost in the five-cent cigarette tax, a 3 per cent use (sales) tax on telephone and telegraph usage, a doubling of the $1.25-a-barrel beer tax (the new tax would bring the total to less than two-thirds of a cent a bottle), a 20 per cent tax on noncigarette tobacco, and a 4 per cent boost in liquor taxes.

U.N. Troop Leader in Mideast Resigns

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian commander of the U.N. emergency force in the Middle East, Lt. Gen. Eedson L. M. Burns, has resigned.

He will become an adviser to Canada on disarmament and represent this country in international negotiations on arms cuts.

As his first assignment he will go to a 10-power disarmament conference in Geneva early next year.

The U.N. emergency force was set up to guard the Israel-Egyptian border after the 1956 Mideast crisis.

Seven nations have troops in the force. Before taking its command Burns was chief of staff of the U.N. truce supervision force in Palestine. He is 62.

11 Apprehended in Vice Squad Gambling Raid

Eleven men were arrested for investigation of conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

Lt. William Nesbitt, vice squad commander, said the two rings were doing an estimated $50,000 business yearly.

The two groups, according to Nesbitt, were operating in the sheet metal and truck divisions of the plant located on East South boulevard. Both groups have been under surveillance since Oct. 30.

Described as the ringleader of the sheet metal group was Robert McNeary. Heading the other group, according to police, was Claude Day. No addresses were immediately available.

Police said the alleged gambling groups have been "probably operating for years."

For the past month, a city patrolman assigned to the vice squad, Karl Kilmer, worked as an undercover agent in the plant. He posed as a maintenance operator.

Police said they learned of the rings from Frank Durso, 39, of Pontiac. During the investigation police worked with plant protection officers.

According to Nesbitt, the two undercover men observed McNeary and Day making daily out-

Christmas Tree Lights Go On in Pontiac Tonight

Five thousand multicolored lights will add to the Christmas glow which association members have brought the downtown area this season.

The tree—60 feet tall and 30 feet wide at the base—is the biggest in Pontiac history. It dominates the Saginaw-Oakland intersection.

Showers Expected —Followed by Cold

A few light showers may fall late this afternoon or evening with temperatures in the Pontiac area dropping tonight to a freezing 32 degrees, the weatherman predicts.

Sunday should be a little warmer but Monday and Tuesday cold again. Precipitation is expected to total about a quarter-inch as showers or snow flurries Monday or Tuesday.

For the next five days temperatures are expected to average near the normal high and low of 37 and 26. Saturday will be mostly cloudy with a high of 40.

At 10:15 a.m. winds were southwesterly at 10 miles an hour. The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 31 degrees. The mercury read 40 at 1 p.m.

Rain Delays Jet but Can't Stop Hearty Salute

ROME (AP)—Ancient Rome gave President Eisenhower a rainy but warm welcome today at the start of his 22,000-mile "mission of peace and good will."

A heavy overcast and the rain resulted in a 20-minute delay in landing.

The American President told greeters at Rome's Ciampino Airport that his message for each of the 11 countries he visits is one of friendship and freedom, and he hopes it "will be heard in every country where communications are allowed freely."

Eisenhower expressed pleasure in landing "in this great city which was for so long the very center of all Western civilization."

He said he was glad to come to Italy, too, because of the "ties of blood which unite our two countries." He noted that millions of Americans sprang from Italian origins, "so our friendship is not merely official, but comes from the people, from relatives clasping hands across the sea."

The President said he looked forward with eagerness to his talks here with President Giovanni Gronchi, Premier Antonio Segni and other Italian leaders concerning his search for "peace with justice" in the world.

'PROFOUND SYMPATHY'

And Rome's Mayor Urbano Cioccetti assured Eisenhower that the Italian capital "looks at you with profound sympathy and will follow with very warm hopes the delicate and generous mission that you have undertaken, following the impulse of your spirit."

The big jet airliner that flew the President across the Atlantic overnight from Washington circled the airport for 26 minutes before it came in for a landing.

Airport sources later revealed it made a ground-controlled landing, because of the weather and also because the plane's electronic landing equipment was not functioning properly.

Ike's Urgent Plea Hits Deaf Ears

Steelmen Show No Signs of Budging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Steel management's chief negotiator today rejected President Eisenhower's call for round-the-clock negotiations in an effort to end the marathon steel dispute. R. Conrad Cooper said it is the quality and not the quantity of bargaining that counts.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel labor and management negotiators clung firmly to their entrenched positions today despite President Eisenhower's urgent new plea that the nation's economy requires a prompt settlement.

Neither side showed any sign of budging. The industry said again its proposals are fair and reasonable. And the union, without proffering any new terms, charged the employers were being obstinate.

Eisenhower, as part of his radio-TV address to the nation Thursday night before leaving on his goodwill mission abroad, said the nation's economy and its defense posture before the world are suffering from the threat of a renewed strike.

"Day after day, throughout the economy," the President said, "uncertainty, indecision and hesitation are growing as a result of this continuing controversy."

The dispute has been going on since May. A record 116-day strike ended a month ago under an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction that expires on Jan. 26. The union then will be free to strike again.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union chief, proposed Thursday night that the President's steel inquiry board make settlement recommendations. He said he was sure it would result in a prompt contract agreement.

There were a couple of serious drawbacks to this idea. One is that such Taft-Hartley law inquiry boards are apparently barred from making settlement recommendations. The other is that the industry is unwilling to go along.

McDonald, asked about the legal basis for his suggestion, said he thought it could be done if the industry agreed to the procedure.

R. Conrad Cooper, U. S. Steel Corp. vice president and top industry negotiator, accused the union of dodging its responsibility and trying to have a settlement "decreed by government action."

Eisenhower previously has sided with industry views that government boards should not ordinarily make labor dispute recommendations.

New GMC Head Arrives

Werner at Home in Pontiac

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Publisher, The Pontiac Press

He just came to town.

But he looks at home.

Calvin J. Werner, new General Manager of the Truck and Coach Division, shoved back from his desk in the big South Boulevard institution.

"I'm very happy to come to Pontiac and I certainly regard this new post with General Motors as a real challenge, a tremendous opportunity — and one that I accept eagerly.

"I'll give it all I have."

He smiled. "In a way, I feel at home. You see, I've been with General Motors 36 of my 52 years—all of my business life. I was only 15 years old when I started part time for Delco while I was in high school." He smiled again. "Before that, I was in your business. I started selling papers in Dayton when I was eight."

Calvin J. Werner is a personable, fine looking man whose appearance belies the 52 years his Dayton birth certificate shows. He has a quiet sort of restless energy that bespeaks a good executive.

"I'm certainly well acquainted with the great products this place turns out. We used them in Dayton. In fact, we bought trucks and were suppliers, also. This is a tremendous line of vehicles. They're built to do every kind of job there is and I really glory in their performance. It's an honor to head this big division of General Motors and from all indications, the truck business should have a definite upswing in the years ahead. As new, better and bigger roads are produced, the demand for trucks should keep pace."

Werner is of a distinctly inventive frame of mind, as is proven by the fact there are

Welfare Toll Dips 50 Pct. in County

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL Jr.

County welfare officials are breathing a sigh of relief these days as they examine a caseload which has been cut almost in half since the first of the year.

There's further joy when they consider the recall of auto workers, laid off due to the steel strike.

At the close of business Nov. 30, there were 1,849 welfare cases or some 5,393 persons relying on welfare assistance in Oakland County.

There were 3,080 cases open Jan. 1, according to George H. Burt, director of the social welfare department.

"The trend in cases is going the right way for us, for a change," Burt said. "It should continue this way as local plants are calling men back to work."

Going hand in hand with the decrease in the caseload, Burt said, is a decrease by $520,089 in welfare costs during the first 11 months of this year compared with last.

January through November of this year saw $1,774,152 in net commitments. For the same period in 1958 the total was $2,294,241.

Welfare costs, split between the county and the state on a 70-30 basis, with the county carrying the heavier load, have been a big drain on county funds for about two years.

County officials are hopeful that the gradual decrease experienced this year will continue.

In a monthly accounting of cases opened and closed during each month, employment, increased earnings and other changes in economic picture contributed the most to the decrease, Burt said.

He also gave some credit to an

CFM Meeting Date Is Changed

Session to Be Dec. 14 for Romney Speech; New Location, Too

A general membership meeting of the Oakland County committee of Citizens for Michigan will be held Dec. 14 instead of the originally announced date of Dec. 15.

The place of the meeting, too, has been changed, according to Murray D. Van Wagoner, county CFM chairman. It will be in the auditorium of Pontiac Central High School. It had been set for Pontiac Northern.

The time—8 p.m.—remains the same.

Van Wagoner said the date change was necessary to permit George Romney, state chairman and founder of CFM, to attend as featured speaker. Romney will be in Chicago Dec. 15 he said.

It is not necessary to be an enrolled member of CFM in order to attend or to participate in the discussion Dec. 14, the former Democratic governor of Michigan emphasized.

List Top Brass as Golf Guests

Twining and Douglas Entertained by Martin in The Bahamas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and a score of other officers were named today as guests of a defense contractor for golf jaunts in the Bahamas.

Testimony made public by a House investigating subcommittee also listed Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas as a visitor at the gold resort on Eleuthera Island, the Cotton Bay Club — but said Douglas paid his own expenses.

Listed as a guest of the Martin Co. at the club was retired Air Force Lt. Gen. E. R. Quesada, at the time a special assistant to President Eisenhower and now administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Other Air Force and Navy officers listed as Martin guests included Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., now commander in chief, Pacific Air Forces; Rear Adm. F. M. Hughes, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, Norfolk, Va.; and Gen. S. E. Anderson, now commander of the Air Material Command.

Douglas and Quesada were at

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Well, you may give that man ties, socks or a new shirt if you insist. But keep your mind open until after you have read the following suggestions.

Several stores are carrying little brass banks cleverly decorated and with appropriate titles. The first one we saw had a penny glued on top and was marked "Vacation Bank."

Does he enjoy serving distinctive after-dinner cordials? Then get him some silver cordial cups.

They are miniature mugs, so attractive that the lady of the house will like to keep them on display.

For the smoker there is a set of four walnut match box holders. Each has a different metal decoration and is masculine looking. The set comes from Denmark.

One of the gaudiest night shirts we ever saw has big red circles on a white background. Some of the circles have canopy beds in them; others say "George Washington Slept Here."

How about an official dunker's cup? It is large enough to float a whole doughnut. On it are printed the accepted rules of dunking.

The song is gone, but the melody lingers . . . want that gentleman you love to own a pair of blue suede shoes? We saw some handsome ones.

Speaking of shoes reminds us: One of the most useful gifts to give a man is an electric shoe polisher. It is small enough to fit into one's hand. Some come in a wooden box with a foot rest on top. The best thing about this gift is that it encourages younger males to keep their shoes polished, too.

Plan $8 Million Area Buildings

Schedule Construction of Northland Towers in Southfield

Plans for an eight million dollar office building center in Oakland County were announced today by Detroit and Cleveland businessmen.

Located in the City of Southfield the twin office buildings, each 12 stories high, will be built on an 18-acre tract known as Northland Point.

The center will be bounded by Northland drive, Northwestern highway, Greenfield road, and Eight Mile road.

Northland Center Corp., which owns an adjacent shopping center; J. L. Vokes Co. of Cleveland, the general contractor; and Halley H. Lipp of Cleveland, the developer, will own the building jointly.

The center will be called Northland Towers.

START IN SPRING

Construction of the first building is expected to start next spring, with completion scheduled for mid-1961.

Each building will contain 122,000 square feet of office space and will cost roughly four million dollars each to build.

The buildings, of contemporary design, will be set in a park-like mall.

Glass and exterior walls are planned with lobby walls of black and white Italian marble, the floors will be of Venetian Terrazzo with walls of upper levels surfaced with vinyl fabric.

Bacteria cultures were on the walls and in liquid suspensions in tubes, and were to be studied to determine the lethality and mutation rate.

A separate experiment involving eggs and larvae of the flower beetle were to be studied for changes in appearance and mutation rate.

Secondary missions of the test included measurements of the effects of high acceleration and weightlessness on the monkey.

Attached to the monkey was an ocularmotor, resembling a pair of horn-rimmed eyeglasses. Fitted closely around the eyes, it was designed to pick up electrical impulses from the eye muscles and relay them to a recorder as a measure of the animal's disorientation and dizziness.

Also aboard were miniature devices to measure and record the monkey's heart and respiratory activity.

The animal had been trained to respond to a cue in the form of a small light.

Fair and Warm Will Hang On for Most of Map

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with a continuation of fair weather and temperatures above normal in most areas.

The only wet spots during the morning were in the northwest plains and in sections of the northern Rockies. Both areas reported light snow. However, wet weather was indicated late today in some central parts of the country.

62 patents issued in his name. All are assigned to General Motors and, interestingly enough, one of them has a direct part in the new GMC truck development: namely, the shock absorbers.

"I've inherited a great organization and a great group of men, both in the offices and out in the plant," he declared. "GMC Truck and Coach Division has a fine name in the trade for over-all personnel as well as completed products."

This year marks a big swing in the life of the Werner family. Daughter Nancy is a senior at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, and twin sons Charles and Robert are freshmen at Otterbein. In September of 1959, for the first time, all three left home for college. "And now," he grinned, "we're leaving the old homestead in Dayton. Of course, we plan to live here and Mrs. Werner will come right after the holidays. This will be home."

The GMC plant is nothing new in Werner's life as he has been here many times over the years through business relationships. "I always admired the place," said he, "but I never dreamed that I'd be here in person." Both Mr. and Mrs. Werner were born in Dayton and have lived there steadily. He is a past president of the Engineers' Club of Dayton, Fellow of American Institute of Engineers, life member of American Ordnance Association, member of Society of Automotive Engineers, and active in civic affairs.

On August 16, 1930, he married Margaret Mathews of Dayton. Daughter, Nancy, is 21, and the twin sons, Charles and Robert are 18.

I just met Mr. Werner for the first time, and already I think he's a great guy. He's destined to "win friends and influence people" in Pontiac.

Would Hit Pontiac, 2 Other Cities

Meet to Avert Bus Strikes

Company and union negotiators were reported ready to meet once more in Saginaw today in an attempt to avert bus strikes in three Michigan cities — including Pontiac.

The meeting is between officials of National City Lines, Inc., of Chicago and the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric, Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America, AFL-CIO.

It expired the same day in Kalamazoo and Oct. 31 in Saginaw.

The union has been seeking a 48-cent package increase, while the company has reportedly offered only to continue the expired contract without any new benefits.

Worthless Check Puts Probation Violator Into Jail

For passing a worthless $20 check a month after he was placed on probation for larceny, Willis J. Brock Jr., 26, of 788 Monticello Ave., today was sentenced to the county jail as probation violator.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer also ordered Brock to make restitution for the check. He pleaded guilty today to issuing the check without an account, after having stood mute Monday. Judge Beer suspended sentence on this charge.

Brock will stay in jail until Jan. 15 for violating his two-year probation term handed out by Judge Beer in October. Brock was given probation for his part in the theft of a wheel and tire in September.

He and two other Pontiac men had borrowed a tire jack from a Birmingham patrol car, then set out to find a new tire after their car had a flat.

They took it from the car belonging to the mother-in-law of the Birmingham police chief of detectives.

Nesbitt said, "It is not known whether the calls were to the same place. We believe these are two separate groups, but they may be inter-connected."

All those arrested today are bet slip sellers and "pickup" men, according to Nesbitt. All had bet slip memoranda on them when taken into custody.

They were to make formal statements to the Prosecutor's Office this afternoon.

Other members of McNeary's group were identified as:

Charles Milliman, 55, 736 Riverside St.; George Ford, no age or address so far; Harold Mozingo, 39, of 90 Draper Ave., Claude McMillan, no age or address; John A. Freeman, 49, of 827 Albert St.; and Ernest Jackson Jr., 37, of 515 Montana St.

Other alleged members of Day's group named by police were: Otis J. Harris, 57, of 489 Harvey St.; Cary R. Childs, 37, of 281 Rockwell Ave.; and Booker Spells, no age or address so far.

Nesbitt said it is not known whether the two alleged rings have connections outside Pontiac.

Nesbitt said, "All the men were arrested by a Pontiac police officer accompanied by a plant protection man while the alleged numbers men were at work at the plant.

The raid was pulled and the men placed in custody within 10 minutes.

2 Area Men Report Robbery in Pontiac

Two area men reported to Pontiac police early this morning that they were robbed at the west end of Harris street.

Harle W. Ross, 40, of 5405 Pine Knob Rd., Independence Township, and Leon Compton, 41, of 2961 Chrysler Ave., Waterford Township, said they were jumped on by three bandits.

investigation conducted earlier this year by Pontiac Supervisor Maurice J. Croteau, a member of the welfare committee of the Board of Supervisors.

It was aimed at seeing if there were any persons or families receiving welfare aid who were not eligible for it, and improving the operation of the department.

"The investigation probably discouraged some of those people," Burt said.

Another benefit of the report, released to the Board of Supervisors in September, was the addition of five investigators, allowing a closer scrutiny of applicants and recipients of welfare aid.

In his report, Croteau said "very little" chiseling was found. There were, however, some 30 families found ineligible for aid. They were immediately taken from the rolls.

To show the number of welfare cases which are opened and closed for numerous reasons during this year, Burt pointed out that at one time there were 8,463 cases opened.

Although cheered by the decline, Burt and Macdonald said they would be happy to see it decrease further.

"If we could get it down to 1,200 cases we would be much more pleased," Burt said.

on Italian soil for his fifth visit to Rome at 12:22 p. m.

A band hurriedly played excerpts from the American and Italian national anthems, there was a quick exchange of greetings and then the officials hurried to the airport veranda for the welcoming speeches.

HEARTY APPLAUSE

The spectators applauded heartily as the President arrived and at the conclusion of the translation of his remarks. Outside the airport, another crowd cheered in the rain as the two presidents drove off for the trip into Rome over the 2,000-year-old Appian Way.

Despite the rain, small crowds of Italians under umbrellas lined Rome streets to watch the President go by on his way to the 400-year-old Quirinal Palace, his residence for his two-day stay in Rome. The weather kept the numbers of the crowd down, but those who did turn out cheered lustily.

Some signs bobbed up along the way. Said one: "The people hope for an end to the cold war." Another said "Summit immediately." These had the ring of Communist slogans. But the Communists here profess to be happy about the Eisenhower visit.

The Rev. G. Burton Hodgson, director of Christian education for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, has been named volunteer campaign chairman of the New March of Dimes in Oakland County during January.

The Rev. Hodgson, 2488 Derby Rd., Birmingham, said the Oakland chapter now is providing aid for 250 victims of paralytic polio.

REV. HODGSON

Every cent raised in Oakland County is spent here, according to the chairman.

Prior to his entry into the ministry in 1950, the Rev. Hodgson was a general auditor for Pontiac Motor Division.

He has been active in the Oakland County Chapter of the National Foundation five years and is serving his fourth year as chairman of the chapter's board of directors.

A Long 30 Minutes

LONDON (UPI) — Michael Heath parked his car in a 30-minute zone at London airport last September, boarded a plane for a three-day holiday and was fined $14 for overparking when he went back for the car yesterday.

Top Brass in List of Martin's Guests

the club for a weekend in February 1958 when other visitors included Twining, Mrs. Twining, their son, married daughter and infant grandson, the subcommittee was told.

Twining informed the subcommittee he had made three visits to the resort, one each in the years 1957, 1958 and 1959. He said he spent $40 to $50 for caddy fees, tips and personal necessities.

"The trips were made for recreational purposes, i. e. golfing, swimming and relaxation," he wrote. "During each of my three visits, I received the normal courtesies extended by a host to a guest."

Various of the other officers named said they had considered themselves guests of personal friends who invited them, rather than of the Martin Co. and some said they had tried without success to pay part or all of their expenses.

Most of them said they had no direct contract relationships with the Martin Co. and did not consider the entertainment an effort to gain favors. Company officials had emphasized the same point earlier.

The names of the Air Force and Navy officers were given the House Armed Services investigations subcommittee by George Bunker, board chairman of the Martin Co., at a secret session Aug. 13. The company, manufacturer of missiles and aircraft, does practically all its business with the Armed Forces.

Bunker also listed a number of civilians and retired officers, including Dan Kimball, former secretary of the Navy but at the time an executive of Aerojet General Corp.; Harold Stuart, who had been an assistant secretary of the Air Force, and golf professionals Gene Sarazen and Max Elbin. The subcommittee conducted no followup questioning of these. Kimball and Stuart had held office in the Truman administration.

Barbed Fence Snares Two for Patrolman

Investigating a burglary report at 83 Osmun St., Patrolman Richard Allen heard leaves rustling in the back yard.

There he found two youths entangled in barbed wire. Both were arrested for investigation of breaking and entering.

They were Jacinto J. Cantu, 19, of 270 Franklin Rd., and Benito R. Diaz, 17, of 234 Rockwell St.

Allen checked the home after a neighbor phoned the pooice station to report that someone had broken a window and was breaking into the dwelling.

Southfield Man Dies of Accident Injuries

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Hills Schools War Against Secret Clubs

In a letter to parents, Johnson refers to the existence of secret societies at the school as a situation which seems to "bob up" annually.

"People, though they differ widely in their attitude toward sororities and fraternities, feel strongly about this matter," he said.

"However, regardless of how one might feel about secret societies, such organizations are illegal under Michigan law; in fact, illegal in most states.

"Not only are they illegal, but the law charges the school administration and the board of education with the enforcement of the law."

The act was passed by the State Legislature in 1929, and its constitutionality was upheld by the Michigan Supreme Court in 1931.

Johnson, in his letter, asks that in the best interest of the children, parents help discourage them from joining the illegal organizations.

Failure of the student to obey the law will automatically be noted on the permanent school record, he said.

Should there be a second offense, a refusal to conform as requested would lead to expulsion, he added.

Mrs. Malcolm G. Adams

Service for Mrs. Malcolm G. Adams, 52, of 1225 Villa Rd., Birmingham, will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be at White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Adams died Thursday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

She was a member of St. James Episcopal Church and the church's St. Elizabeth Guild.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Donald G., of Rochester, N.Y., and Richard M., of Birmingham; her mother; a sister; a brother; and two grandchildren.

Harry G. Burk

Service for Harry G. Burk, 73, will be at 1 p.m. Monday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home. Burial will be at Evergreen Cemetery.

Mr. Burk, a retired Fisher Body personnel executive, died Wednesday in Washington, D.C. Since his retirement in 1951, he had lived in Silver Springs, Md.

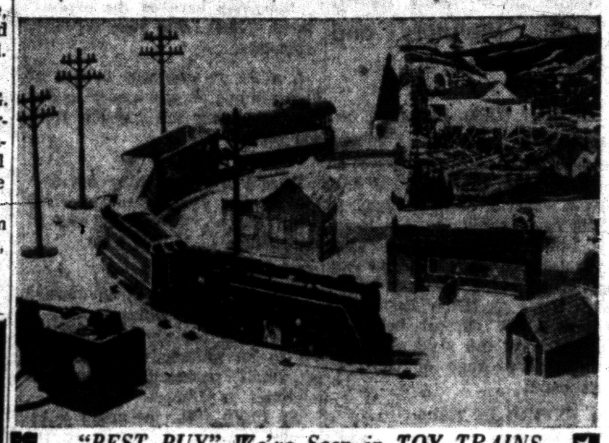

He is survived by his wife, Mildred, a daughter and two grandchildren.

Human Rights Week Proclaimed by Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has proclaimed the week of Dec. 10 as Human Rights Week.

His proclamation pointed out that Dec. 15 would be the 168th anniversary of the adoption of the Bill of Rights amendments to the Constitution and that Dec. 10 would be the 11th anniversary of the Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations General Assembly.

He called on American citizens to observe the anniversaries that "we may grow in our understanding of the inherent dignity and the equal and inalienable rights of each member of the human family."

Christmas Comes Early for Doomed Howell Boy

HOWELL (UP) — Thoughtful state residents are bringing the holiday season early to a four-year-old Howell boy expected to die of stomach cancer before Christmas.

Some 2,500 pieces of mail and about two dozen packages were delivered to David Bailey yesterday, following newspaper stories about the boy's wish for Christmas cards.

By EDWARD T. BUTLER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—President Juscelino Kubitschek Thursday night promised swift action to stamp out a vest pocket revolt by about 25 air force officers who set up revolutionary headquarters deep in the jungles of northwest Brazil.

The rebels charged Kubitschek's regime was riddled with corruption and Communists in a manifesto left behind as they seized five planes and flew into the interior to wage their campaign.

Justice Minister Armando Falcao declared everything calm but army units were placed on the alert throughout the country.

The outpost is relatively safe from ground attack. It would take weeks or months to get through the dense jungles.

The revolt had the earmarks of a propaganda campaign against the presidential aspirations of War Minister Henrique Teixeira Lott, Kubitschek's hand-picked choice to succeed him in next October's election. Elements in the air force long have been feuding with Lott.

Kubitschek, whose administration is plagued by high living costs and food shortages, warned the nation that he will "not tolerate one minute of disorder."

The revolt started just before dawn at the Rio air force base when a band of officers led by Prospero Punaro Barata, 30, chief flying instructor at Brazil's air force school, took off in three C47 mail planes.

Just 210 miles north of the capital two pilots stole a seven-passenger private plane and headed north for the state of Goias in the Brazilian hinterland.

Eight other air force officers seized a four-engine civilian airliner on a flight with 38 passengers and 6 crewmen from Rio to Belem and forced the pilot to fly them to Aragaracas.

Sources close to the president said the rebels had released the plane and all on board unharmed.

THE AMERICAN HERITAGE BOOK OF THE PIONEER SPIRIT: Allan Nevins, A. M. Josephy Jr., Peter Lyon, and Francis Russell. A magnificent book telling the story of America's pioneering men and women, from the early settlers and Indian fighters to today's heroes in science and medicine. Everyone will be glad to get this fascinating, colorful, and authoritative book, and it's an especially good gift for young people, to whom it will give an understanding of their heritage and the essential spirit of America. $12.95

FOR 2c PLAIN: Harry Golden. Mr. Golden's first book "Only in America" was a sensational best-seller; brought from hundreds of thousands of readers an emphatic cry for more. Here is more! "For 2c Plain" contains dozens of short pieces, each one a gem of wisdom with humor. This is a book for all grown-ups, whether or not they have been within a thousand miles of New York's lower east side. As a gift, it will be savored and re-enjoyed for months after Christmas is over. $4.00

HAWAII: James A. Michener. Thousands upon thousands of Michener admirers will acclaim the fact that here, at last, is a big Michener book—in size, subject matter, and scope. It is fiction at its best, yet so true to the history of Hawaii as to make it the first major chronicle of that land. It is the story of a people, told in terms of unforgettable characters. This book will bring hours of entertainment to the reader, plus a rich store of information about our 50th state. $6.95

THE HOLY BIBLE—REVISED STANDARD VERSION. The Holy Bible is always an appreciated gift, and surely there is no better way of bearing Christmas greetings to your loved ones! This popular edition is printed on fine Bible paper, handsomely bound in maroon buckram and stamped in genuine gold. Easy-to-read text with complete footnotes. $8.50

The Reference Edition is similar to the above, but has center column references and a 192-page Concordance and listing of proper names at the back of the book. $9.00

STATION WAGON IN SPAIN: Francis Parkinson Keyes. Here's fine entertainment: an underpaid Spanish instructor inherits a fortune just as he receives a mysterious letter from a "Spanish Prisoner." He buys a red station wagon and off to Spain, where high adventure, excitement, many sinister and unscrupulous characters, final triumph and a beauteous wife await. This book is not concerned with contemporary problems in economic and social fields—so give it to someone who will appreciate several hours of light-hearted, adventurous romance. $3.95

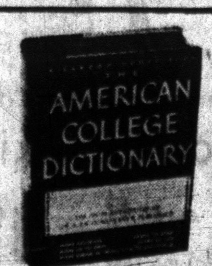

THE NEW JOY OF COOKING: Rombauer & Becker. An up-to-the-minute new edition of the book that over a million housewives considered the world's best cookbook—making this edition the finest cookbook indeed! Incorporates a great many new recipes and techniques made possible by modern appliances and frozen foods, much more of everything. Beautifully indexed, beautifully clear as to methods and measures. Wonderful gift for prospective or recent brides; actually all housewives will cherish it. $4.95

ADVISE AND CONSENT: Allen Drury. Deservedly a best-seller, this is one of the rare books that has everything—sound, suspenseful plot, wonderful characters, literary quality. The big extra value stems from the author's long experience as a Washington correspondent, which has enabled him to draw an unforgettable, authentic portrait of the political and official social life in the national Capital. A book that's well worth owning and giving. $6.75

THE SECRET WORLD OF KIDS: Art Linkletter. Brimful of the warm humor and good sense that have made its author a weekly radio/TV favorite of millions, Linkletter believes that parents have lost the ability to enjoy their children, and here sets about showing why this is so and how it can be remedied. This book is a lot of fun and contains many rewards for parents and for all grown-ups who like kids. As a gift, it can't miss. $3.50

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE DICTIONARY. Desk dictionaries are not all alike—this is a favorite of writers, scholars, and others who need a good one. It's up to date, well organized, easy to use. Ideal for home, school, or office. The handsome, sturdy binding is designed for years of use. Thumb indexed. $6.00

ONE HOUR: Lillian Smith. The author of the brilliant bestseller "Strange Fruit" now has another powerful and significant novel to her credit. What happens when a research scientist in a Southern city is accused of an attack on a child forms the basis of this timely book. Stimulating reading for intelligent readers concerned over today's social problems; hence a fine gift choice for such persons. $3.95

CHRISTMAS WITH ED SULLIVAN: The fact and fancy, the faith and folklore of Christmas—a most welcome gift! The famous TV personality tells about his own memorable Christmases, introduces the Christmas anecdotes of many of his celebrated friends, and selects his favorite Yule-tide stories, old and new. Illustrated $4.95

Adams' Daughter Routs Dorm Intruder

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Screams by the daughter of Michigan's attorney general routed a man who invaded a girls' dormitory at Radcliffe College yesterday.

Mary Adams, 22, daughter of Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, frightened the intruder away with her screams as he entered her second floor room.

The man fled down a fire escape and Miss Adams, a graduate student, telephoned police. The prowler was cornered in an alley and surrendered after police fired two shots.

Douglas V. Madore, 28, was held by Cambridge police for investigation of breaking and entering and attempting to commit larceny.

Pledges to Seek Better U.S.-Bulgarian Relations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bulgaria's new minister to the United States, Dr. Peter G. Voutov, Wednesday pledged to help develop closer relations between his Iron Curtain country and the United States.

Voutov called on Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in preparation for presenting his credentials to President Eisenhower as Bulgaria's first diplomatic envoy to the United States since relations were broken off between the two nations in 1950.

Segni Breaks Tradition — This Italian Chief Lasts

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP)—White-haired Antonio Segni is proving to be a tough politician — a good bet to be around as premier of Italy for a long time.

SEEMS TO BE EXCEPTION

With another Italian premier, in another day, Eisenhower might have felt a bit futile. Turbulent politics and frequently changing premiers were part of the Italian scene after Alcide de Gasperi retired.

But Segni, a country gentleman and professor, seems to be an exception. Once before he was premier. His government, in power for 20 months in 1955-57, lasted longer than any other post-De Gasperi cabinet.

How does Segni do it?

"Taking to his bed is his secret weapon," his friends say.

That seemed to be true during the first Segni government. The gaunt premier often went to bed complaining of stomach aches or chills.

Things have been different since he became premier a second time last February. He has fooled his friends and his opponents with his apparent good health.

Segni served in every one of De Gasperi's eight governments and six others afterward.

He was born Feb. 2, 1891, on that Mediterranean island.

In his youth he was active in Catholic Action groups. During the Mussolini period he retired from politics.

While retired from politics, Segni taught law at Rome University. He has continued to teach there.

President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER'S plans for his trip are more ambitious and extensive than ever before attempted by a President of the United States.

The free world will devoutly pray for the fulfillment both as to substance and purpose to sustain the President in this arduous undertaking.

In all, President Eisenhower intends to visit eleven national capitals on three continents, sandwiching among them a three or four day Western summit conference in Paris.

He will go to countries where no American President has ever preceded him. He will crowd into a split second schedule conferences with more heads of state than anyone has ever attempted in like time.

The trip sounds like a back breaker for any average tourist. IKE is not average, and he is not going like any other tourist. All possible precautions will be taken and he will travel ultra first class the entire distance.

First there will be Rome and then Ankara, Turkey. From there, the President will go to Karachi, Pakistan, and on to Kabus in Afghanistan and New Delhi, India. Teheran, Iran, is next, then Athens, Greece, and Paris. After the summit meeting he will stop over in Rabat, Morocco.

All this he plans to do in 19 days. We wish him Godspeed.

Hatcher Would Clean Up TV, Magazines, Music

TV dramas featuring violent aggression and anti-social behavior, where disputes are volcanic and settled by fist, gun or knife, are one of the evils we must attack to halt juvenile delinquency, according to HARLAN HATCHER, President of the University of Michigan.

In a recent speech before the Congress of American Industry Hatcher pointed out that defective industrial products would be investigated. He said that industry would go to the root of evil to overcome waste and loss.

Mr. HATCHER emphasized that to curb juvenile delinquency we must start at the bottom and clean out cheap magazines, dramatic violence on TV and rock-and-roll juke boxes.

We are inclined to agree with Mr. HATCHER and feel that some mass cleanup is in order. Many of today's crimes are perpetrated by something the young hoods have been exposed to.

Perhaps the President of our great State University would go a step further and outline some plan to accomplish his suggestions.

Overseas Forces Work Toward Understanding

Although the United States has nearly 300,000 servicemen overseas, the surprising thing is that so few of them get into trouble in foreign lands. If they do, that fact is given wide publicity sometimes out of all proportion to the incident.

When it became apparent that American servicemen would be stationed on foreign soil for a long time, our Defense Department took measures to insure as little friction as possible. Traditionally the serviceman abroad is in a difficult position. He usually is the object of local misunderstanding and suspicion.

U.S. military leaders set up a detailed program directed first at the individual. When he arrives overseas he gets a thorough briefing on the country, people, laws and customs. He is encouraged to learn the language and to mingle with the people. Public relations are carefully considered and understanding and co-operation sought.

In Germany, for example, where the U. S. has over 200,000 men, community councils including military officials and officials from neighboring areas, are formed. They confer on mutual problems concerning health, safety, traffic and law enforcement and sponsor joint celebrations on holidays. Once a year every army and air force base holds open house for its German neighbors.

As a result there are very few serious incidents in Germany involving our armed forces. The same can be said of other nations where American troops are based and where similar programs are in operation.

Suburban City Is Taking on Definite Metropolitan Airs

Christmas: What merits more sober thought than any other holiday.

A letter from that irrepressible

Dr. Rudolph L. Jamnik,

John Hirlinger,

Managing Director of the Pontiac Area C. of C. as master of ceremonies.

Jack also says that will soon have a whole clinic of doctors, techincians, etc., in his new building, which reminds me that the Keego happy funeral director, has expanded into a new chapel, and

Bud Godhardt,

Dieterle and Roberts

now represents three new municipalities, with headquarters, of course, in Keego, which is busting at the seams, and when sewers are installed next year you'll hear some more worthy bragging.

There's a Pontiac area touch in the recent organization of Swartz Creek in neighboring Genesee County as a city. The stream for which it was named has its source in a little lake in Oakland County, in Groveland Township.

The most unselfish Santa Claus letter that has been brought to my attention comes from

with a Pontiac postmark. She asks for nothing for herself, as I have most everything, but wants a fur coat for mother and new watch for dad, a catnip ball for the cat and a rubber bone for the dog, "flavored with meat."

Gone Stork Mad

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Asks Reds for Mutual Trust

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's speech to the nation, delivered over television and radio just before his departure on a 22,000-mile journey in the Eastern Hemisphere, was a unique example of what might be called implicit rather than explicit expression.

LAWRENCE

It was purposely couched in general phrases. It was pacific in tone but it nevertheless carried words of warning to the Soviet Union.

The man to whom the words were directed will not fail to know what is meant.

Thus, for example, the President called for good faith on the part of Nikita Khrushchev, but didn't define it in specific terms. Here is how Mr. Eisenhower put it:

"I shall try to convey to everyone our earnestness in striving to reduce the tensions dividing mankind — an effort first requiring, as indeed Mr. Khrushchev agrees, the beginning of mutual disarmament. Of course, I will stress that the first requirement for mutual disarmament is mutual verification."

The phrase "mutual verification" could mean a mutual obligation to tell the truth. It could mean that truth must be clearly established on controversial subjects before there can be mutual agreement.

But whatever specific meaning the President had in mind, it will be interpreted widely as a declaration that there can be no progress toward mutual disarmament without mutual trust.

Mr. Eisenhower devoted some of his speech to the task of countering the Soviet propaganda in Asia and Europe which constantly tells the peoples of the world that the United States pursues only "materialistic goals" and puts "war above peace."

The mere fact that the President referred to such unjust descriptions of American purposes reveals that he is fully conscious of the very misrepresentations carried on by the Soviets which make mutual trust difficult to attain.

'BELIEF IN CREATOR'

The President pointedly emphasized America's fundamental "belief in a creator who has endowed all men with inalienable rights, including life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

He did so by way of contrast with a system that teaches a disbelief in God. Incidentally, Mr. Eisenhower referred for the first time to "atheistic imperialism."

Speaking of the ideals behind America's "mutual security program," the President declared:

"In a world sorely troubled by an atheistic imperialism, it (the mutual security program) is a strong instrument of hope and of encouragement to others who are eager, with us, to do their parts in sustaining the human spirit and human progress."

Mr. Eisenhower did not make any direct reference to the Soviet government by name, but everyone who heard him knew what he had in mind.

Another implicit comment was contained in the following paragraph later on in the President's address:

"We have heard much of the phrase, 'peace and friendship.' This phrase, in expressing the aspiration of America, is not complete. We should say instead, 'peace and friendship, in freedom.' This I think, is America's real message to the world."

The point the President was trying to convey is that the Communists prate about peace and friendship and they want Americans to accept "peaceful coexistence" as a sort of validation of the injustices committed behind the Iron Curtain.

Nikita Khrushchev, in a speech in the last few days, insisted that it was necessary in 1956 to murder hundreds of Hungarian patriots and that today it is necessary for Soviet troops to remain in Hungary to squelch the aspirations of the Hungarian people for independence.

(Copyright, 1959)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Here Is How to Make a Superior Humidifier

"Some time ago," writes an Ontario reader, "you told about the wicking or Turkish towelling contraptions you built and used to humidify your home during the winters you lived in Buffalo.

"Now, perhaps, you have forgotten how hard the Sahara dryness of the indoor atmosphere is on our skin, mucous membrane, furniture, book bindings, musical instruments, growing plants and dispositions.

"We do not begrudge your enjoyment of natural air conditioning — we consider it your just reward — but still you can do much to alleviate our discomfort by telling us how to build our own humidifiers. (O. H. W.)"

The ones we used in Buffalo were built and marketed by a man or firm in Minnesota that later went out of business, but a handyman can make them.

These humidifiers are five to six inches deep galvanized metal tanks the length and width of the radiators on which they are to stand.

A helical or spiral wire frame is soldered to each end of the tank, to support long strips of wicking or toweling so that the folds or loops of the material shall dip into the water in the tank.

All around the tank, above water level, are louvres or holes to permit free circulation of warmed air through the folds or loops of wicking or toweling and evaporation of water into the air of the room.

The tank is covered with a lid of galvanized metal, all painted to match the radiator so that it is not at all unsightly. The tank holds a gallon, on the smallest radiator, to four or five gallons on larger radiators.

Just one such humidifier, on radiator, register or stove, makes a material difference in the condition of the atmosphere. Eight or 10 of them on all or most of the radiators will convert the indoor Sahara into a balmy atmosphere which is kind to skin, mucous membranes, furniture, instruments, bindings, and growing plants, not to mention the saving in fuel.

If you equip your home, office, shop or store with efficient humidifiers, everybody is more comfortable in an atmosphere with a temperature of 68 or 69 degrees F, and a fair relative humidity (50 per cent or so) than in an atmosphere heated up to 73 or higher and having a relative humidity of only 30 per cent or less.

The latter atmosphere causes excessive evaporation of moisture from the body and this gives a feeling of chilliness, which makes the poor souls back there in purgatory demand still more heat, which makes them sweat still more and so on, in a vicious cirle.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Downtown Music Saves Day, but Keep It Cheery'

If I've got to shop, I like it with music. While I'm spending the family income and mumbling into my carcoat that I wish we could go to Europe or send the youngsters to college with this money, I buy more gladly with less worry if there's music in the streets. If I have to buy this stuff, I like to be lured.

Furthermore I enjoy the good manners and pleasant ways of Pontiac store clerks. The fact prices and selections are good in Pontiac compared to Detroit helps, too. These things and the music make it bearable.

But as a Christian I resent actual hymns of my faith used for shoppers' mood music. And if hymns must be played for shoppers, why play the sad-sounding ones?

Why not gay, Broadway-style tunes that make a shopper feel like shopping? When my insteps are folding like tents in a typhoon, do I have to hear a dying organ mewing away with "Away in a Manger?" Why not play "Deck the Halls With Boughs of Holly" or "Winter Wonderland" to pump those insteps back up for the next lap in the shoppers handicap?

'Let's Close Stores on December 26'

We have "Sweetest Day," "Be Kind to Animals," "Clean Up and Paint Week," and many others. Why can't we have a "Kind Heart Day," on Dec. 26 and keep stores closed to give clerks, stockroom and office help a day off after serving us night and day weeks before Christmas. I'm sure you'd be rewarded for this by the happy faces and willing workers returning to work Monday morning.

Count now the blessings of the year . . . And as they came your way . . . Thank God, and in your charity . . . Buy Christmas Seals today . . . Remember those less fortunate . . . Let not their hearts despair . . . Who have tuberculosis now . . . And need the best of care . . . Each little seal you buy will help . . . The study and prevention . . . Of this disease that always needs . . . Immediate attention . . . Quite suddenly (may God forbid) . . . You may contract it too . . . With life depending on the good . . . This charity can do . . . God will reward you greatly as . . . You strive to do your share . . . Buy all the Christmas Seals you can . . . Give all that you can spare.

Outlines Main Causes of Divorce

When I was in Pittsburgh recently, I compared the Marriages with the Divorces that were published that day in the Post-Gazette. Notice the tragic contrast. Yet most of those 34 divorces could have been prevented by the sound marital advice below. Send for the sex booklet that prevents jealousy.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-417: When I was in Pittsburgh on my last speaking trip, I noticed the "Applications for Marriage Licenses", as shown in the Post-Gazette.

CRANE

There were 26 on that typical day.

But in the adjacent column, headed "Divorce Proceedings", how many divorces do you guess were granted that same day?

Alas, the number was 34. No mention was made of the innocent children thus rendered insecure by this break-up of their parents.

And why do you suppose those 34 couples got divorces? Well, the standard reasons that apply everywhere in the U.S.A. are as follows:

(1) They didn't pick compatible mates in the first place. They went across entrenched racial or religious lines to marry people of very different backgrounds.

The "opposites" indicated in that adage refers to sexual opposites, not radical differences in religion, race, habits, hobbies and ideals.

For example, a normal woman is not attracted to a sissy, effeminate male, who uses rouge and lipstick and otherwise affects the habits of a female.

Likewise, the normal male does not want a half-masculine woman as a mate, despite the fact millions of girls foolishly debase their femininity by tobacco, liquor, rough speech, masculine clothing, etc.

Those same girls grow panicky if they have even a few masculinizing hairs on their legs or some fuzz on their upper lip.

And they will endure all sorts of pain to get rid of that hair, yet glibly adopt other masculinizing traits that are far worse than fuzz on a girl's upper lip.

(2) They don't start playing the game of marriage according to Hoyle after the wedding.

Marital "Hoyle" prescribes that you join a church and become active together therein, beginning with your first Sunday of the honeymoon.

It means you pay each other a compliment per day.

It means, though you may quarrel, that you never permit the quarrel to continue past bedtime. Instead, apologize and make-up, grit your teeth and say you are sorry.

Marital Hoyle also demands that you tie-in to the religious and social life of your own community, instead of running home each week-end to the in-laws.

It means, too, that you learn the critical and most overlooked part of marital problems, namely, the erotic adjustments.

"Mental Cruelty" and "Incompatibility" are glib courtroom terms to indicate maladjustment in the sexual realm.

A sexually adjusted couple may quarrel and indulge occasionally in even worse cruelty than a divorced couple, yet never think of a divorce.

(3) They don't operate their home on a budget, with the usual smart wife acting as treasurer of the family corporation.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems on Marriage" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Boy Begs Forgiveness for Trying to Kill Mom

NEW YORK (AP) — Teen-ager Robert Murphy has ended two days of hiding in subways and begged forgiveness of the foster mother he tried to kill with a rifle.

At the sight of her as she lay in critical condition in a hospital ward, Robert burst into tears and sobbed, "Mother, forgive me for what I've done."

"I forgive you, Bobby," answered Marie Murphy.

The 39-year-old woman was shot when she entered her darkened Brooklyn home last Tuesday night. Wounded in the chest and shoulder with .22-caliber slugs, she moaned for two days for her son between lapses of consciousness.

The tired, disheveled 16-year-old said: "I don't know what got into me."

"I was thinking about killing mom for the last two months. We never saw eye to eye on anything."

What made him decide to do it when he did?

"The thing that finally made me decide to do it was the supper dishes she made me do the night before the shooting.

Skunk Bounty Brings Out Smelly Problem

BOERNE, Tex. (AP) — Kendall County commissioners are considering a bounty on skunks but are running into some limitations, forcefully stated by County Judge M. A. Shumard Jr.

The commissioners debated the issue of a bounty and decided it might be a good thing.

Then a commissioner brought up the question of what part of the carcass should be delivered for collection of a bounty.

Judge Shumard suggested skunk tails, but with one provision.

"Of course these would be received on the front steps of the courthouse instead of in my office," he said.

The commissioners will decide the bounty issue in January.

Nixon to Take On President's Job

While Ike's Away, VP Will Busy Himself With Running Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will assume the role of a busy, stay-at-home administrator — an important political image for 1960 —while President Eisenhower is away on his overseas good will tour.

Nixon has scheduled only one working engagement outside of Washington during the President's 20-day absence from the country. It is the annual New York Athletic Club dinner where he will award the Heisman football trophy to Billy Cannon of Louisiana State University.

This will be Nixon's first visit to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's home ground since a group of Nixon-for-president backers— well-seeded with big names in the financial world — opened a Nixon campaign headquarters in Manhattan.

Except for a possible social weekend away from the capital, Nixon will be conducting official business in Washington from now until Eisenhower returns Dec. 22.

An aide said he will be "seeing cabinet members," as he has been doing in recent weeks, working on the administration's legislative program for 1960 and Presiding over Cabinet and National Security Council meetings in the President's absence.

Five Teamsters File Suit to Block Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—A suit to block a lawsuit by a Teamsters Union faction seeking the ouster of Union President James R. Hoffa has been filed. It was entered by five rank and file members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

An attorney for the five, Jacques M. Schiffer, said Wednesday that the action is aimed at "preserving the union and its treasury" for its members.

Original reports, when the counteraction was filed last Friday, erroneously listed the union itself as the plaintiff.

Schiffer said that the five are acting on behalf of the 1,600,000 Teamster members.

Chandeliers Raise Ruckus

Sale of Senate Fixtures to Lawmaker Stirs Up Teapot Tempest

LANSING (AP) — A set of Senate chandeliers that often swayed to blasts of oratory stirred up a small storm in the capitol.

But the teapot tempest was dying today as senators agreed not to call for an inventory of chandeliers, windows and other movable Senate property.

Sen. Charles R. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids) said he bought two chandeliers and some glass panels removed from the Senate ceiling.

Feenstra said there was nothing improper about the transaction and that he presumed the money went into the general fund. He recalled paying $10 each for the chandeliers but couldn't remember the price of the glass panels.

He said they were placed in his summer cabin on the Muskegon River near Newaygo.

Joseph B. Bilitzke, deputy attorney general, said the attorney general's office was looking into the matter "to find out what it's all about."

"It's not an investigation," Bilitzke added.

Sens. Basil W. Brown and Stanley Novak, Detroit Democrats had prepared a resolution asking for an immediate inventory of all Senate property but dropped it after the matter was "pooh-poohed" by fellow-members.

The resolution referred to "recent charges that certain Senate properties have been disposed of in an improper manner."

"Somebody is trying to take a jab at me," said Feenstra. "I don't know what the ruckus is all about."

We're Ahead of Russians in One Field—Feet

OSLO (UPI) — Russians have small feet; according to a Norwegian shoe exporter.

Industrialist G. Haraldsen said in an interview last night that the shoes his firm exports to the Soviet Union were mostly of smaller sizes than the shoes manufactured for westerners' feet. He said his firm has shipped 30,000 pairs of shoes to Russia thus far.

State Adds 55 Miles of Xway Monday

One section stretches 45 miles from east of Battle Creek to Paw Paw. The other runs 10 miles from Hartford to Coloma.

The State Highway Department said the two sections represent the largest amount of mileage ever added to Michigan's expressway system.

The Battle Creek-Paw Paw strip, it said, is the longest continuous stretch of expressway to be opened to traffic in Michigan.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the opening means motorists driving from Detroit to Indiana will bypass four of the five major cities on the route—Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

Cost of the project was 31½ million dollars. Nearly one million barrels of cement was used—more than the 912,218 barrels used in the state's entire road program in 1923.

The first Baptist church in the United States was organized in Providence, R. I., in 1638.

First Sales Tax Refunds Coming

Expected to Be Mailed by Next Week, 3,706 Checks Total $101,276

LANSING (AP) — First refunds on the short-lived one cent use tax increase are expected to be mailed out next week.

The State Revenue Department reported it has approved 3,706 refund claims totaling $101,276. More than 12,000 claims remain to be processed by the refund section.

Most are for automobile purchases and the average refund check amount to $28.90.

The refund section said it was first processing the cases that could be easily proven. Borderline claims — like one for 11 cents on a grocery bill submitted by a thrifty housewife — will be set aside for study later.

James W. Miller, state controller, said the refund orders would go through the auditor general's office for recording before being relayed to the state treasurer for payment.

Red China Pardons Wartime 'Emperor'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today it has pardoned Henry Pu Yi, Japan's former puppet emperor of Manchuria.

Since the war he has been imprisoned in Red China on war crimes charges.

The decision was reported by Peiping Radio which said Pu Yi was one of 33 "war criminals" pardoned by the Supreme People's Court "in accordance with the order of the Chairman of the People's Republic of China on granting pardons." This order was issued last Sept. 17.

Of the 33 released, 30 were identified as former members of the "Chiang Kai-shek clique." No Americans were listed.

See Work Increase if Steel Holds Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department predicts a year-end increase in jobs and a possible January jump in factory hiring if steel supplies are adequate.

The forecast came yesterday as another department report showed there were more man-days lost because of strikes in 1959 than in any year since 1946. Chief blame was pinned on the steel strike.

In 1793, a yellow fever epidemic took the lives of one out of every six persons living in Philadelphia.

Hart Would Use Force if Reds Eye Caribbean

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) says if there were danger the Communists might take over in Cuba or Panama "I'd be willing to go to the ultimate to stop it."

However, he said in a radio interview that he did not think such action would be necessary.

Hart said he had "very grave doubt" that Fidel Castro's Cuban government is Communist.

But if a Communist government threatened to take over Cuba, Hart said, he would favor using U.S. force to stop it.

Segregation on Cats, Dogs?

Conservation Unit Has Eye on Park Ban and Fishing License Hike

LANSING (AP)—Proposals to increase fishing license fees and ban dogs and cats from state parks were up for consideration today by the State Conservation Commission.

The commission was told at an informal meeting yesterday that a deficit in the game and fish protection fund, supported by license fees and federal appropriations, might reach one million dollars by June 30.

An increase in fishing license fees has been proposed to bring in an estimated $741,000 a year.

The present $2 resident fishing license would be hiked to $3. Wives who now fish free on their husband's license, would be charged $1.50 for a separate license.

NON-RESIDENT WIVES TOO

Nonresident license fees of $5 a year and $4 for a 15-day period would be unchanged.

It was proposed to charge nonresident wives $2.50 for the season and to add a $2, three-day, nonresident license.

A proposal to ban dogs and cats from state parks and recreation areas from May 1 through Sept. 30 drew some protests.

Pets now are prohibited in beach areas. The all-out ban was advocated because 139 dog bite cases have been recorded in state parks the past two years.

Detroit Neurosurgeon Dr. Schreiber, Dies at 62

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Frederick W. Schreiber, noted physician and head of the department of neurosurgery at Detroit's Harper Hospital, died yesterday at 62.

He was born in Grand Rapids and was past president of the Harvey Cushing Society. Dr. Cushing, who trained Schreiber, was known as the father of neurosurgery.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

GUSTAV BECK

Word has been received of the death of Gustav Beck of Glendora, Calif. He is a former Pontiac resident.

Mr. Beck's body is being brought to the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

ANTHONY MIROVSKY

Anthony Mirovsky, 75, of 548 Blaine St., died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital after a brief illness.

He was a retired employe of Wilson Foundry & Machine Co.

Mr. Mirovsky leaves two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Sly of Yacolt, Wash. and Mrs. Roy Hendrickson of Long View, Wash.; four sons, Albert of Utica, James, Jack and Robert, all of Pontiac; 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Service will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at the Voorhees-Siple Chapel with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

ALBERT L. PARRISH

Service for Albert L. Parrish, 83, of Bradenton, Fla., a former Pontiac resident, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Voorhees-Siple Chapel with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

A retired barber, Mr. Parrish had lived in Pontiac 60 years before moving to Florida five years ago.

He was a member of First Methodist Church and Modern Woodmen of America.

Surviving are his wife, Cora; two sons, Leslie J. of Commerce and Donald R. of Pontiac; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Argo of Baldwin Park, Calif.; nine grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

E. JOHN GASS

E. John Gass, formerly of Pontiac, died of a heart ailment yesterday at his home, 15381 Plainview, Detroit. He was 76.

Mr. Gass had been an officer at the former Oakland County Savings Bank here.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie.

Service will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Schmalcreidt Funeral Home, Grand River at Asbury Park, Detroit.

His body will be taken to Port Sanilac for burial at 2 p.m.

Former Rep. Engel Succumbs to Injuries

LAKE CITY (UPI) — Funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon here for former Rep. Albert J. Engel Sr., who was known as the "watchdog of the treasury" during his eight terms in Congress.

Engel, who would have been 74 New Year's Day, died yesterday at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids of complications of injuries suffered in a traffic accident Sept. 30.

Engel served in the House of Representatives from 1934 to 1950. During World War II he made a one-man investigation of Army waste, traveling about 4,400 miles about the country.

He was a state senator for eight years and one-time Missaukee County prosecutor. In recent years Engel operated a Christmas tree plantation east of here.

Funeral service will be at Lake City Presbyterian Church with burial in Lake City Cemetery.

DETROIT (UPI)—Some days it doesn't pay to get out of berth.

The ship, impounded for unpaid bills on its trip from Duluth to Venezuela with grain, was to make a short run from its berth to a grain elevator nearby where it could unload.

She ran aground twice during the trip.

Nebraska's Ex-Governor Dies in North Platte

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Keith Neville, 75, former governor of Nebraska, died in a hospital here today. Neville was governor in 1917-1919. He was a Democrat.

He underwent surgery Saturday.

Study Water Quality

LANSING (AP)—Local water departments have begun sampling public water supplies at Sault Ste. Marie and Port Huron. The State Health Department said the project is part of a long-range study of water quality in the Great Lakes area. The samples will be tested for radio activity, plankton, chemicals and other possible contaminants.

Protestants Oppose Right-to-Work Laws

DETROIT (UPI) — The general board of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. adopted a resolution Wednesday in opposition to so-called right-to-work laws.

The resolution, adopted by a vote of 73-16 with 12 abstaining, did not specifically mention such laws but said:

"Union membership as a basis of continuing employment should be neither required nor forbidden by law; the decision should be left to agreement by management and labor through the processes of collective bargaining."

Claims Recreation Area Must Increase

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UPI) — Winthrop Rockefeller, board chairman of colonial Williamsburg, predicted Thursday that before the end of the century, the United States will need 40 times the land now set aside for national parks and scenc areas.

Rockefeller told the National Park Service's biennial conference here that the nation must make a concerted effort to provide space for its citizens to enjoy their increasing leisure time.

About 400 park service officials, including superintendents, regional directors and rangers, are attending the meetings here. Williamsburg is an historic colonial center restored by a group established by Rockefeller's father, John D. Jr.

PLANNING THE PROM — Senior prom-planning committees have been organized at Pontiac Northern High School and already are busily making arrangements for the big event. Each of the committees will function with like committees set up at Pontiac Central High School. The dance this year will be a joint-prom for both graduating classes. Northern's committee chairmen are (from left) Sharon Nelson, refreshments; Sharron Monroe, tickets and programs; Ed Santala, senior class president; Ronald Martin, music; and Jerry Bunch, prom co-chairman.

PCHS Players Present 'Diary of Anne Frank'

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

The Pontiac Central Playcrafters will present "The Diary of Anne Frank" at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Pontiac Central Auditorium. A matinee performance will be given 5 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are 75 cents and all seats are reserved.

Directed by Garth Errington, dramatics instructor, and James Bank, student director, the cast includes Judi Johnson as Anne Frank; Jim Baker, Peter; Marilyn Vernon, Mrs. Frank; Xavier Garza, Mr. Frank; Peggy Warren, Meip; Gary Relyea, Mr. Kraler; Evelyn Kerr, Mrs. Van Daan; Bruce Bishop, Mr. Van Daan; Kay Slater, Margot; and George Sarros, Mr. Drussel.

Committee heads include Judy Whitmer and Sue Costantino, props; Judy Kenney and Sue Smith, publicity; Barbara Alton and Karen Kessler, tickets; Phyliss Burt, costumes; Kathy Beebe, makeup; Douglas Spurlock, stage crew, and Leroy Cheyne, lights.

The posters and program cover were designed by Donna Douglass. They feature a swastika, symbol of the Nazi Germans, and the Jewish star.

PEP ASSEMBLY

Ken, dressed in a white Indian costume with orange and black trim, wore a huge headdress of orange and black feathers and carried an Indian spear. He will perform his dance at all basketball games and pep assemblies.

Ken was selected for this honor because of his superior scholastic ability, participation in extracurricular activities and for all-around good sportsmanship.

Chosen to be princess this year was Barbara Strang, also a senior. While she doesn't actually do the war dance, she assists the chief and makes an entrance with him prior to his dance, also dressed in Indian costume. Barbara has excellent scholastic ability and is president of the Pep Club, in the Dolphin swim club and works on the Quiver, the school yearbook.

Clarkston High Forms 2 Clubs

By PAULETTE KIMBALL

Two new girls' clubs, the Stenographer's Club and the Future Homemakers Club, have been established at Clarkston High School.

The Stenographer's Club, organized in the second-year shorthand classes, is planning a trip to Chicago by plane next spring.

To accomplish their goal, members are engaging in such money-making projects as typing term papers and book reports, and conducting a candy sale once a month. During their monthly meetings, Jeanne Underwood presides, assisted by secretary, Mary Brewer; treasurers, Mary Beaumont and Nancy Peters, and Mrs. Patricia Schebor, sponsor.

The FHA meets twice a month.

Once a month the club also has a workshop. Later in the spring, the girl judged most deserving will be sent to the state convention.

Avondale Is Host to Clubs

By IRVIN GINGRICH

Avondale also was host for November's Oakland "B" League Student Council meeting. The five other schools in the league represented were Lake Orion, Troy, Clawson, Fitzgerald and Oak Park.

Avondale's Future Nurses Club attended an open house at Grace Hospital in Detroit. The purpose of visiting the different hospitals is to help the members decide at which school of nursing they would like to train after graduation from high school.

The club also had a film at its bi-monthly meeting titled, "Nursing as a Career."

Judy Oles of Avondale has been selected to receive the good citizens award sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Future Nurses of Avondale are preparing Christmas baskets for four rest homes in the surrounding community.

Each girl in the Library Science Club had taken a library knowledge test to see what her working knowledge of the library is. These tests were discussed at the meeting. It was discovered that each girl usually did the best in the section in which she had been accustomed.

The Yellow Jacket staff has been busy with a subscription drive for the 1960 yearbook and is obtaining advertisements. Layout work has been started with the undergraduate pictures to meet the first deadline set for Dec. 15.

Brandon Jrs. Pick '60 Yearbook Staff

By NORMA SCOTT

The Brandon High School junior class picked its staff for the 1960 yearbook. This year the Hawk changes color, from blue and white to black and white.

The price asked is $3.50.

The art work for the book is being done by Judy Whyte, Norma Wolfe, Carol Uloth and Norma Scott.

Under the direction of Henry Wood, the Brandon Band and Chorus will present a concert 8 p.m. Dec. 5.

No admission will be charged, but a donation will be taken for uniforms and material needed by the band and chorus.

Northern - Central in Joint Effort

Committees Start Work on Prom

By ED SANTALA

Five committees will be working on the prom. Plans for tickets and programs are being made by Sharron Monroe, Jerry Curlee, Dorothy Townes, Geraldine Frady and Jerry Bunch.

Patrons will be invited by Sandra Tinson and Sharon Keller. Sharon Nelson and Norma Soditch will plan for refreshments.

JOINT EFFORT

Nov. 19 and 20 the general aptitude test battery was taken by approximately 80 seniors.

Betty Murphy, counselor, administered the tests supplied by the Michigan Employment Security Commission. The purpose was to help the seniors who were undecided about vocations. This helped them find out what their strong points might be in seeking a career.

The newly formed college club has elected its officers. They are Dick McLaughlin, president; Barbara Stechow, vice president; Nancy Robinson, secretary; and Judy Kern, treasurer. Meetings are held the first and third Monday of each month.

A committee for determining the type of meeting and rules is composed of Nancy Adams, Sherry Gremore, Sandra Hilderly, Carol Campbell, Karen McKinney, Sharon Nelson and Sharon Nichols.

Winter Activities Getting Under Way at Waterford

By JOHN TEEUWISSEN

As Waterford students returned from the Thanksgiving holidays many of the winter sports and activities were starting to get under way.

The Waterford Township High School debate team traveled to Flint Mandeville High School for its first varsity competition of the year.

This was the first of four debates with schools outside the Inter-Lakes League. Varsity debaters are Robert Cooper and Steve Nevela, affirmative; and A. J. Lowe and John Teeuwissen, negative.

Several Jayvee debaters accompanied the team. The debate question this year is: "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase Its Regulation of Labor Unions."

POST GAME DANCE

There will be an after-game dance following the contest on the Skipper court.

Student directories were on sale this week to the student body. Compiled and produced by the Student Council, the directories contain the names, addresses and phone numbers of all Waterford High students along with their grade and homeroom numbers.

Another winter sport is starting as the Ski Club begins activity for the winter. The next meeting will mark the first real skiing of the season.

With the second marking period ending today, report cards will again make their appearance. The happy day will be next Wednesday as Waterford students reap the rewards of their work of the last six weeks.

Oxford Seniors Do 'Snowflake'

By BEATRICE KRUG

The Senior Class at Oxford High School is sponsoring "Snowflake Serenade," a semi-formal dance which will be held in the student center Dec. 5.

The student body will be dancing under snowflakes and blue clouds from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Students making plans for the dance are Jeff Brady, Kim Nixon, Val Sausser, Genine Collier and Norman Williams. They have been working on refreshments, decorations, tickets and advertising.

This will be the first dance presented by the senior class this semester. The Student Council rules allow them three dances for this school term.

Disc jockey for the evening will be Jerry Brown, a senior.

All faculty members, alumni and senior class sponsors, J. B. McQueen and Ted Gawry, have been invited, also.

March, April, May and June all showed gains in motion picture attendance over the corresponding month of last year. This is longest sustained gain in attendance in more than eight years. To find out what's playing, and where, most people consult their daily newspapers.

St. Michael

Students Construct Wreaths

By BARBARA ARDELAN

The wreaths are made from evergreens, wire and candles and are being placed in various homerooms.

A ritual of prayer and lighting the candles is said daily until Christmas. Each week a new candle is lit and allowed to burn during the prayer ritual.

The president of the Future Nurses' Club, Kathy Henretty, reports that the members are taking a first aid course which will aid them in their work at the Infirmary.

Many of the girls, including vice president Loretta Heitjan, secretary - treasurer Sharon Saxton and corresponding secretary Pamela Arcello, will start work at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital after the first of the year.

GMI SCHOLARSHIPS

For the seniors planning to enter college after graduation many scholarships were made available for four years of undergraduate study at the university of his or her choice. Those scholarships will be provided by the General Motors Institute.

The senior girls racked their brains for answers to the questions on the Betty Crocker homemaking test. This test, sponsored by General Mills, will determine the "Homemaker of Tomorrow" from each school participating.

The St. Michael basketball teams are eagerly awaiting the season openers tomorrow night when the Shamrocks play against St. Clements at Center Line. The junior varsity game is at 7 p.m. and the Varsity game at 8 p.m.

A Pep Rally was held in the parish hall this afternoon.

Walled Lake Faculty Overwhelms Pupils

By PAULA PROULX

Others were John Laffrey, Dick Look, Mike Miller, Dennis Mitchell, John Paget, Pete Pipia, Marty Richardson, Don Shiker, Jim Teddy and Gary Wilcoff.

Rochester High Skiers Name Hank Way Prexy

By MARCIA SEED

With the coming of winter and snow, the Ski Club of Rochester Senior High has been organized.

First on the agenda was the election of officers. Elected were Hank Way, president; Jim Arscott, vice president, Penny Gray, secretary; and Allison Weeber, treasurer.

Holiday Spirit Sweeps School

St. Frederick's Full of Hustle

By PAT VILLELLA

With the holiday season upon us we see much hustle and bustle throughout St. Frederick High. The school's clubs and organizations all are busy with their individual activities.

Early in the morning or at the end of the day one can hear the Chorale rehearsing songs for its performance at the Christmas play and its recital at the Pontiac State Bank.

The Chorale under the direction of Edward Higbee, has been practicing for the past few weeks the traditional holiday songs, but has added its own special treatment of these songs.

Among the strains of "Silent Night" one might catch a hearty yell! No, the Indians aren't back, it's the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders practicing for the basketball season.

The girls have been working hard under their new captain, Judy Morris. They are looking forward to an exciting and rewarding season cheering for the team.

To raise the already soaring spirit is the sale of high school pennants by the Student Council. This hasn't been done in a number of years and was suggested to be revived by Student Council President Jack O'Rielly.

The pennants will be available in two sizes, small for 35 cents, and large for 50 cents. They will be sold in the halls and during lunch time in the cafeteria.

The Sacristians instituted a new constitution which was written by Sacristan President Mary Kay Jenkinson. The constitution is patterned after the Constitution of the United States.

The Sacristans will be quite busy this month with all the preparations for the coming season. They will have many extra duties which we will see carried through with hearty smiles and beaming faces.

The Press Club will sponsor a "Candy Cane" sale of the Ramrod during the weeks of Dec. 14 and 21 for anyone wishing to satisfy his sweet tooth and to fill the pocketbook of the Press Club.

Editor of the Ramrod, Kirby Meagher, and his staff are making plans for a View Book to come out at the end of the year to substitute for the lack of a Yearbook.

A fund-raising campaign is in the making. It is the hope of the editor and staff that the "Candy Cane" sale will give the campaign a good start.

SURPRISE PACKAGE

Last of all is a surprise package being made and wrapped by the members of the Dramatics Club. This surprise package will be given after the holidays, but all the preparation is evidence of something special in view. This evidence is shown by a certain bleam in the eyes of all the Dramatics Club members.

Crosby Act Breaks Up — New Feud

MONTREAL (UPI) — The Crosby brothers, who vowed less than a year ago to stay eternally together in show business, split up early today and walked out on a $12,000 nightclub engagement.

The breakup was preceded by a heated argument in their dressing room shortly before their scheduled midnight appearance at the El Morocco, it was reported.

He said the group still had seven more performances to go before fulfilling its contract.

The boys, Gary, 26, twins Dennis and Philip, 24, and Lindsay, 22, have had disagreements in the past. Gary, usually the spokesman, is said to have a quick temper and the others are reported to resent his bossiness.

Willie Mays Will Move to New York for Good

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays and his wife have decided to make their permanent home in New York after encountering housing troubles in the San Francisco area.

The San Francisco Giants center fielder sold his house on fashionable Miraloma Drive to a corporation executive, a real estate dealer announced. The price was not disclosed.

The Negro baseball star bought the house in the all-white neighborhood for $37,500 in 1957 over the protest of some neighbors. The only incident ever reported was when someone tossed a bottle though a window of the house after the Giants lost a baseball game. Mays said a note in the bottle made reference to his race.

After the 1959 season Mays and his wife looked for a home on the peninsula south of San Francisco but without success.

Herb Caen, San Francisco Chronicle columnist, said today "Marghuerite and Willie Mays, who just sold their house on Miraloma, will live in a rented apt. here during baseball season—because Hillsborough, where they wanted to live, gave them The Burhs."

"Sighs Marghuerite: 'we probably could have found a place around there somewhere, but I can't face another "breaking-in" period to convince our neighbors that Willie and I are almost human'."

Parley of States Hits Federal Road Aid

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—Officials from 39 states today ended a three-day conference which reflected a strong current of dissatisfaction with the federal government's handling of the interstate highway aid program.

The meetings were sponsored by the National Governors' Conference and the Council on State Governments. Sixteen governors were on hand for the various sessions.

The council's board of managers heard a charges yesterday that "restrictive federal policies governing the distribution" of matching funds for highways was driving the nation toward a transit crisis.

Black Will Stay —Withers Array Seeking His Post

LANSING (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Eugene Black said today he would not resign his position "come partisan heat or political high water."

Black, whose visit with Justice John D. Voelker in the Upper Peninsula last weekend touched off speculation that he, like Voelker, might be leaving the high court, said he was told there was a "long line of Supreme Court aspirants . . . assembled outside the governor's office, and that the line extends —patiently and impatiently—far into the snowy cold outside the capitol."

"Not wanting to be the cause of any strokes or seizures, caused either by exposure or over-festive celebration (at his leaving), I have decided that this soothing if disappointing message should be delivered, via the press, to all such professionals, aspirants and frolicsome merrymakers," Black said.

Deeds Office Receives $18,208 for Paper Work

Last month 12,146 papers, which brought in $18,208 in receipts, were transacted in the Oakland County Register of Deeds Office, according to the monthly statement released today by Daniel T. Murphy Jr., clerk-register.

For the comparable period last year, there were 11,507 papers worth $17,837 handled, Murphy said.

November of this year also saw four new land plats recorded.

A breakdown of the 12,146 papers shows: 2,614 deeds ($4,352), 1,166 real estate mortgages ($3,978), 5,607 chattel (personal property) mortgages ($5,607), 2,224 miscellaneous papers, mostly liens ($3,682); 524 photostats ($576), 6 miscellaneous items, mostly abstracts of chattel mortgages ($6); and 5 bills of sale ($5).

INKSTER (UPI)—A city by any other name is still the same city, but don't repeat this before the Chamber of Commerce in this suburban Detroit community.

Residents are being polled for their reaction on changing the name of the place from hard-sounding Inkster to musical Cherry Hill Heights or Dearborn Hills—or anything but Inkster.

A spokesman for the chamber said a long time ago Inkster was pegged as a "poor community." But it's not that way anymore, he claimed, and they want to change the name.

Rep. Meader Mulls U.S. Senate Race

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Republican Congressman Geoege Meader of Michigan said today he still hasn't counted himself out of next year's race for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"The question needs to be studied. I haven't yet made up my mind," the state's 2nd district representative told the Associated Press. "Of course, before I do seek the nomination, I'll have to have the party's support — without any strings attached."

The five-term GOP congressman said Republican chances of defeating Democratic Sen. Pat McNamara in next year's race appears very bright.

Major scheduled airlines in the United States had 54 accidents in 1958 that involved serious or fatal injuries or substantial damage to planes.

AMA Sees Definite Link of Smoking and Cancer

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — A scientist today offered figures which the American Medical Assn. said show lung cancer and conditions which lead to it "depend almost completely on the number of cigarettes smoked."

"These anatomical observations seem to us to indicate that cigarette smoking is today a major factor in the causation of lung cancer in man."

DEATH CAUSE CONCEALED

Cause of death was concealed from the cancer researchers to prevent slanted conclusions.

Dr. Auerbach and his associates said smoking habits determined not only whether each individual had lung disease, but also the amount of cancerous, non-cancerous and pre-cancerous damage to lung tissue.

Of the 402 deaths, lung cancer caused 63. All the cancer cases were smokers and 60 smoked cigarettes.

The 55 non-smokers or light smokers showed almost no indication of pre-cancer cell changes.

But among the smokers, as many as 75 per cent showed malignant cancerous change in the lining of the lungs which had not yet spread into the lung proper. The greatest percentage was in the group which smoked the most cigarettes.

All those who smoked possessed lung cells which an American Medical spokesman said "probably represent a change toward cancer."

Dr. John Cashman, a United States Public Health Service physician, told an interviewer that doctors cannot in conscience await "proof positive" that smoking causes lung cancer.

Ezra Taft Benson Undergoes Surgery

Rome's Rain Can't Ruffle Ike's Barbara

President Eisenhower's daughter-in-law, his official hostess of his 11-nation good will tour, was smiling and cheerful as she stepped from the presidential plane onto Italian soil.

The hat matched her outfit—a blue tweed suit with a three-quarter length coat-jacket. She wore no other coat although the President and his Italian greeters sported heavy overcoats.

Barbara didn't seem to mind. She talked amiably with an Italian official. Someone handed her two dozen yellow roses. She smiled.

This afternoon Barbara was free. She had no official engagement until tonight, a banquet given by Italian President Giovanni Gronchi.

What did she plan to do in her free time?

"I want very much to see everything in Rome — if the weather permits."

Delay Military Pay Deduction

State Employes Who Are on Service Leave Get Year's Grace

LANSING (UPI)—The State Civil Service Commission has postponed for a year adoption of a system to deduct military pay from regular state pay while employes are on military leave.

The deduction was to go into effect Jan. 1 but appearance Wednesday before the commission of Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, Michigan adjutant general, and other military officials, caused the commission to delay action at least one year.

Deputy Civil Service Director C. J. Hess said the military people said such a state policy would hurt recruitment programs.

Hess said more than 300 state employes would be affected by the change. Employes on military leave now receive full state pay but the new policy would have deducted military pay from state wages.

The commission also tentatively approved a rule setting up seven paid holidays for state workers. Excluded in the new proposal were election days and either Lincoln's or Washington's birthday.

John N. Seaman, 45, Lansing attorney, was named chairman of the commission for 1960, succeeding Marshall publisher James M. Moses.

Moses was chairman of the commission for two terms. Moses is a Democrat and Seaman a Republican. The chairmanship rotates among the Republican and Democratic members of the commission.

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Former President Harry Truman has singled out Michigan's Gov. Williams as one of at least seven "able and distinguished men" in the Democratic Party who can beat the Republican candidate in a presidential election.

Truman asked reporters at a news conference here yesterday to name the most likely candidates for his party. One newsman listed five, Sens. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and two-time losing presidential hopeful, Adlai Stevenson.

"You can add the governors of Michigan and California," Truman responded.

Retail sales of room air conditioners are expected to total between 1,600,000 and 1,750,000 units this year—an 18 to 30 per cent increase over 1958. Air conditioner manufacturers invested 7 per cent more advertising in daily newspapers in the first six months of this year than in 1958.

Heaped With Protests

Agriculture Secretary Stops Lamb Grading

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Note to housewives:

Next month, when shopping for lamb at the supermarket, don't bother to look for that little purple stamp on the meat showing whether it's of "prime," "choice" or "good" quality.

It won't be there.

Agriculture Sec. Ezra Taft Benson has issued an order which will end federal lamb grading on Jan. 4.

The action brought immediate sharp protests from one of the nation's major farm groups — the American Farm Bureau Federation — and is expected to draw heavy fire from Congress as well as consumer groups.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the farm bureau, called Benson's action "hasty" and "against the best interests of farmers." The National Grange already is on record against the move.

Under Benson's order, there will be no uniform national grades for lamb after Jan. 4. There will be only private grades and brands to guide the housewife.

Many small meat packers claim this means they will be "squeezed out" by the big packers who can afford to promote their own products in national advertising.

Benson said he took the action because the Agriculture Department has been unable to come up with a set of new grading standards acceptable to the entire industry.

He said he was hopeful industry groups could settle their differences during the year's suspension and propose a plan which would meet approval to resume the grading service.

Sheep producer groups had asked for the end of grading because they said it forced them to produce animals which were too fat despite consumer preference for lean meat.

Grading is a voluntary service offered by the Agriculture Department to meat packers who may use it at their own expense if they wish.

Benson's action does not affect the department's mandatory meat inspection program under which it checks lamb and other meat shipped in interstate commerce for wholesomeness.

The United States has enough proven reserves of bituminous coal to last about 1,000 years and enough anthracite for 250 years or more, reports the National Fueloil Council.

Area Kiwanis to Install Officers at Dinner-Dance

A dinner-dance with installation of new officers of the Waterford-Drayton Kiwanis Club will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

Wives of club members will be guests, and state Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Lauren White will be the featured speaker. He will also have charge of the installation ceremony.

Officers to be installed are Elmer O. Johnson, president; Cecil Schemel, vice president; Gerald DeWees, treasurer, and David Reid, secretary.

European Alps Claim Almost 350 Victims

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —Almost 350 persons died in accidents in the European Alps this year, according to statistics released here.

The highest toll was in Austria where 130 mountain climbers died. Italy was second with 67 deaths.

JACKIE FOSTER COMES HOME — Little Jackie Foster of Philadelphia, whose right eye was removed because of cancer last week, strums a mandolin Thursday after returning home from the hospital. He previously had lost the left eye because of the same affliction. A premature Christmas party was staged before the operation so he could see a lighted tree for the last time. With him are his sister and brother.

Picasso Never Saw 'Picasso' Painting

Arrest Two Art Gallery Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Picasso paintings for $175,000 each.

Sounds like a lot, doesn't it? Especially since Pablo Picasso himself says he has never seen them before in his life.

Until recently you could have purchased the phony Picassos along with many another fake masterpiece at an art gallery on Madison Ave.

You can't now because the two brothers who ran the gallery are charged with attempted grand larceny, false labeling and misleading advertising.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said detectives seized 42 paintings in the gallery and another 212 in the brothers' apartment that were falsely tagged or signed as originals of famous painters.

Among the names used were Van Gogh, Gauguin, Rembrandt, Dufy, Soutine, Manet, Roualt, Cezanne and Renoir.

Hogan said the brothers had insisted the works were genuine and worth 25 million dollars. They told of fleeing Russia in 1921 with the works which they said were collected by their wealthy mother in tours of Europe.

Hogan said the paintings were pronounced false by art experts from the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Modern Art.

Hogan said he didn't know if the brothers had actually sold any of the paintings.

He said that photographs of two of the so-called Picasso paintings were shown to Picasso, the only living artist involved, in France last month.

Picasso called them false and said he had never seen them.

Famous Astronomer Dies in California

From 1928 to 1948, Dr. Anderwas was executive officer of the observatory council at the California Institute of Technology. He and some colleagues developed a basis for detecting enemy submarines in World War I, bouncing ultrasonic waves off the hulls.

Regains Full Hearing Because He Was Shot

MARSHFIELD, Wis. (UPI) — Robert Maurer, 38, of Monroe, Wis., who lost part of his hearing because of a World War II concussion, has regained full use of his ear as a result of being shot in the head.

Maurer was shot in a hunting accident last week. He had two operations to remove bone splinters and the bullet, and suddenly found he was able to hear again in his right ear.

Sportsmen Are Easy to Please

Select Some Item Less Personal Such as Jug for Beverages

Can a gift buyer ever be sure that his choice will please the ardent sports enthusiast?

Selection of a gift that is almost sure to please really is quite simple, according to experienced sales people specializing in outdoor equipment.

When in doubt, they advise gift buyers, select from a long list of items which are less personal yet have an almost universal appeal to active outdoorsmen.

High on the list are such items as portable stoves, lanterns, food and beverage coolers and insulated beverage jugs.

Christmas gift buyers have a choice of stoves that burn charcoal, gasoline or LP-gas in throw-away cans.

The liquid fuel models are preferred by active outdoorsmen because they are easy to carry, light instantly and operate much the same as a modern kitchen range.

A folding stand that brings the stove up to waist level and a collapsible oven are available for the two-and-three-burner models.

Another long-time favorite of sportsmen is the Coleman gas lantern. This widely-used camp and fishing light can be used indoors and is good standby lighting equipment when storms knock out the electric power lines.

New plastic-lined coolers are lighter than all-metal boxes, won't rust or retain food odors.

Improvements also have been made in insulated jugs to make them more appealing to sportsmen, easier to handle and impervious to rust and corrosion.

Fraternity Cuts Ties to Protest Racial Ban

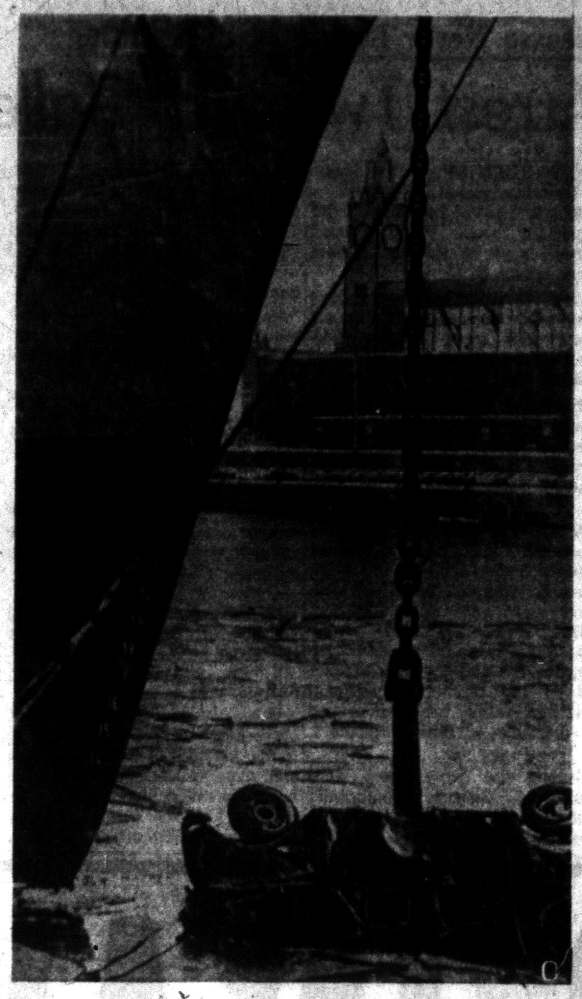

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—Wesleyan University's chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity Thursday withdrew from its national organization. The action, a local chapter official said, was in protest of the national's "white only" membership requirements.

The decision was applauded by University President Victor L. Butterfield, who said:

"I am glad that all Wesleyan fraternities are now free of clauses discriminating against students for reasons of race or color."

Employment Rises in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Employment in the Detroit area increased moderately between mid-September and Oct. 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said Thursday, despite the fact that layoffs from steel shortages were beginning to appear.

The commission said non-farm employment went up a net 7,700 hitting 1,289,700 on Oct. 15. All the gain was in manufacturing, particularly motor vehicles and equipment, where employment was up 13,500.

Unemployment declined to 110,000, or 7.7 per cent of the total labor force.

In 1958, there were 240,000 unemployed in the Detroit area in the same period.

Seek to Charge Off Advertising Expense

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A spokesman for the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. has urged Congress to allow business firms to charge off all advertising costs as tax-deductible business expenses.

The House Ways & Means Committee gave the proposal a mixed reaction.

Elisha Hanson, the association's general counsel, told the committee that Congress should strip the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) of its power to disallow tax deductions on advertising it does not consider an "ordinary and necessary" business expense.

Emmanuel Gets Grant

BERRIEN SPRINGS (AP)—A National Science Foundation grant of $41,400 has been approved for a summer institute in mathematics at Emmanuel Missionary College, according to College President F. O. Rittenhouse. Some 35 secondary school teachers are expected to take part in the project.

Ike Picks Chairman of U.N. Arms Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday named Frederick M. Eaton, New York lawyer, as chairman of the U.S. delegation to the 10-nation disarmament committee scheduled to meet early next year in Geneva.

Eaton will hold the personal rank of ambassador.

The appointment was announced shortly after Eaton had conferred with the President and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Eisenhower Retains Tariff on Bicycles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has ruled that tariff duties on imported bicycles should be maintained at present levels.

He agreed with a finding of the Tariff Commission that no investigation should be started now to determine whether the tariff should be reduced.

The White House said the President and the commission found there was no sufficient reason to reopen the escape clause action which resulted in increased import duties on bicycles four years ago.

Most Against It, but Heed Tradition

Time for Firms' Painful Gift Binge

NEW YORK (UPI) — Call it what you will — Christmas cheer, Yuletide munificence or tinseled "payola," companies big and small are off on another gift-giving binge that apparently is causing more headaches than the after-effects of some of the gifts.

A spokesman for Brown & Bigelow, a leading specialty gift advertising firm, told United Press International that this year's volume of corporate giving is likely to reach a record 300 million dollars compared with about 250 million last season.

But it is estimated that the average price of gifts this year will be $6.50 as against $8 last year, a trend which several company officials indicated reflects not penny-pinching but a desire to rid gifts of any taint of a payoff.

Some companies are dead set against the practice which they say started out as a small gesture of goodwill but has now broken all bounds. But many companies contend that their competition gives gifts, so they can't afford not to follow the crowd.

SOME FROWN

Some big name firms frown sternly on the Christmas presents custom. International Business Machines Corp., for instance, said it is continuing a long standing policy by mailing a written reminder to its suppliers that the company does not accept gifts "of any kind."

Some firms are urging that money earmarked for such gifts be donated instead to charity.

IBM managerial personnel are obligated to give any perishable gifts to hospitals and other similar institutions and to return any non-perishable presents.

Gifts range from a tie clip embossed with the corporate symbol to a live black angus steer plus a roast beef serving cart.

But heading the corporate gift list as in past years is the beribboned liquor bottle. There is no detailed information on liquor sales in this category, but the industry estimates that December sales will climb about 5 per cent over last season to a record of more than 500 million dollars.

A spokesman for one large corporation said his company sees nothing wrong in the practice of giving business gifts as long as it is kept on a modest scale.

"We are a little bit vulnerable to anything extravagant," he said.

Several executives conceded that the practice has become a tradition that would place good suppliers at a disadvantage if not followed. One disenchanted executive said he would be happy to receive gifts he could use.

'75 PER CENT AGAINST'

A recent survey by the advertising trade magazine Printers' Ink revealed that 75 per cent of business executives canvassed "thoroughly disapprove of the custom of corporate gift-giving as it now exists."

"The major complaint is that it smacks of bribery," the magazine article said.

Other comments quoted by the study were: "It shouldn't be necessary . . . overdone . . . kind of payoff . . . strings attached . . . too great an obligation . . . adds to the rat race . . . if not a bribe, its junk . . ."

Here Are Notes From Santa's Repair Shop

Toys can often be given a new lease on life with new paint. Repair them first, sand off rough spots, then apply lead-free interior enamel.

Be sure paint contains no harmful ingredients. Read label for this and other information.

In painting a small table or chair turn it upside down and paint the legs first. For toys artists' brushes frequently are the best.

Students Seek Probe of Compulsory ROTC

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan State University student government body will ask Congress to look into compulsory ROTC on campuses.

The government last night approved a resolution asking Congress to make the investigation and then report results to colleges and universities having the military training.

The issue has been debated on the MSU campus for some time. Under present rules, all American males, physically qualified and who have not had military service, are required to take ROTC their first two years on campus.

The National Fueloil Council says that most oil heated homes are in the Northeastern quadrant of the U. S. and in the Pacific Northwest.

One for the Road —but Wait'll We Check the Card

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey bartenders will start issuing cards with drinks next month. The cards are designed to give drinkers an indication of when they've had enough—if they can't tell themselves.

About a million of the cards are being sent by the state to 12,500 tavern owners for distribution to customers.

Under New Jersey law, you are guilty of drunken driving if there is .15 of alcohol in your blood, as measured by a drunkometer.

The State Bureau of Traffic is sending out the cards. The bureau expects them to have added impact with tavern owners in view of a recent court decision that they can be held liable for suit if they serve "one for the road" to an obviously drunk person.

They Get Half-Day Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower issued an order Thursday excusing most government employes from duty for half a day on Christmas Eve. The order does not apply to workers required to remain on duty for national security reasons.

Bond Vote for Newago

FREEMONT (AP)—Newaygo County supervisors have scheduled a special election Feb. 1 on a proposed $700,000 bond issue to construct a county convalescent medical facility. Preliminary building plans call for a 104-bed unit and six security rooms.

J. Edgar Hoover was appointed director of the FBI in 1924.

Christmas is no time for selfishness. Why hoard your Yuletide decorations and lights?

Festive outdoor decorations require a small amount of cash and effort and a bushel of imagination. Richard Kerwin, says the secret of successful outdoor Yule displays is in dramatic lighting that focueses full attention on one or two features without "whitewashing" an entire home or yard.

Extend a mammoth MERRY CHRISTMAS to the neighborhood by spelling out the words in letters made of reflector tape, available at any hardware store

After applying the tape to the front wall surface of the home, place three sealed-beam 150-watt spotlights on the lawn approximately six feet from the wall. Four are necessary if letters extend more than 20 feet.

To highlight a large "Santa" and "reindeer team" for roof placement select a double lampholder with mounting flange which can be bolted temporarily to shingle or gutter at roof edge. Place this about eight feet from the display.

To focus attention on a Nativity scene placed on front lawn, try two 150-watt spotlights attached to swivel bracket atop extension poles. Place on each side of display at 45 degree angle about six feet from subject.

To feature a doorway bedecked with holly border and central wreath, place a triple-spotlight fixture approximately 10 feet from the subject with the three-light cluster spread to cast a 60 degree beam. For the average doorway, the cluster should be adjusted to about eight feet in height.

Ready-Mix Concrete Unit Raps Cement Price Hike

"We request the cement industry to seriously consider the effect of increased cement prices upon the continuing upward spiral of costs in the construction industry," the association said in telegrams to presidents of all cement companies doing business in Michigan.

Royal Oak's Fredericks Has Work in Auditorium

PORT HURON (AP) — Michigan's most unusual and largest clock has been set into a wall of the new $1,300,000 Henry McMorran Memorial Auditorium here.

It is a sunburst clock, sculptured by Marshall Fredericks of Royal Oak, and its over-all diameter is 22 feet.

The new building itself was designed by another Michigan man famed in the arts world who has teamed with Fredericks to create some of the state's outstanding landmarks. He is Alden Dow, Midland architect.

The "sun," which is the clock's center, and its 60 "rays" of varying length, are in golden anodized aluminum. Electric power will drive the works and hands.

It is the centerpiece of the outside memorial wall's theme depicting the unalterable progress of time and the hope and growth that accompanies it.

IN LIMESTONE

The wall, facing Huron avenue, is 61 feet high and 55 feet wide. The clock was fitted into it Monday and Tuesday.

The setting for the big bowl-shaped clock face was cut in the white limestone blocks making up the wall. The face and the rays are recessed in the limestone and will be illuminated at night.

In contrast to the sun, a number of stars, 13 and 17 inches in diameter, will grace the memorial wall. They will be raised from the limestone to stand out in bas relief. These stars will be made from a clear plastic that can be illuminated at night.

The grounds in front of the memorial wall will be landscaped and have a scenic pool and fountains.

Fredericks has designed two human figures to represent day and night for this area. Spray from the fountains will play around the figures which appear to be floating on their bases. The bases on which the figures rest will represent the flora and fauna of Michigan.

The auditorium is a gift to Port Huron from Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Murphy and the late Mrs. Clara E. MacKenzie.

It will seat 1,160 and is a memorial to the late Henry McMorran, Port Huron titan of business, industry and politics and the father of the women donors.

Estimate 54,150 Cars This Week's Output

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News Thursday estimated auto production for this week will reach 54,150 units — a rise of more than 7,000 cars from last week.

The trade paper said the industry hopes this will be the last week of sharply curtailed production brought on by steel shortages. A year ago this week the industry built 147,361 cars.

Cadillac, four Chevrolet plants, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Valiant and Imperial all will resume production next week.

Truck production also increased this week with 12,178 vehicles against 9,309 last week and 22,572 in the comparable week of 1958.

General Motors and Chrysler have suspended production in Canada, too, because of steel shortages, cutting total Canadian production for the week to 2,560 cars and 565 trucks compared with 3,201 cars and 775 trucks last week. A year ago Canadian plants turned out 8,915 cars and trucks in the comparable week.

Ike Will Host Italians at Historic Villa Taverna

ROME (AP)—President Eisenhower will be host at a dinner for Italian leaders tomorrow night at the Villa Taverna, the storied residence of the U. S. ambassador to Italy.

This is the 17th Century villa where Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, then the ambassador, fell ill in 1956. She blamed arsenic poisoning from flakes of crumbling paint that fell from her bedroom ceiling.

Two years ago this month somebody made off with $30,000 worth of jewelry which the wife of the new American ambassador, James D. Zellerbach, had in her bedroom. Police later made several arrests and recovered part of the jewels.

To reach the Villa Taverna, Eisenhower will go down a garden driveway bordered by 12 giant umbrella pines named for the 12 apostles. The Judas tree was planted out of line with the others.

With that money, the United States bought Villa Taverna and also the embassy itself, the Villa Margherita, on fashionable Via Veneto. This was the palace of Margherita, United Italy's first queen.

The four-story brown brick and white stone palace, built in 1890, contains paneling and frescos so valuable they are protected by special regulations of Italy's Department of Fine Arts.

The United States bought the palace in 1948 for 1¼ million dollars. The adjoining villas of considerable less consequence had been purchased in 1931 for 1¾ millions. They now are used as the consulate.

Eisenhower will visit them to meet the staff before going to the Villa Taverna for dinner.

Eisenhower's residence in Rome will be the Quirinal Palace, the official home of President Giovanni Gronchi, Eisenhower's official host. The President will be repaying Gronchi's hospitality when he entertains him at the Villa Taverna tomorrow night.

Ann Arbor Principal Heads State Association

DETROIT (AP) — Gene D. Maybee, principal of Ann Arbor's Tappan Junior High School, was named president Wednesday of the Michigan Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

Maybee, 49, succeeds W. Earl Holman, principal of Jackson High School. Harold W. Jones, principal of Mount Clemens High School, was named to fill Maybee's vacated first vice president position.

Expects U.S. to OK Flag at Canal Zone

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's ambassador to the United States, Ricardo Arias Espinosa, Wednesday night said he expected the U.S. government to approve the flying of the Panamanian flag in the Canal Zone in about 30 days.

Returning to start his active campaign for the presidency in 1960, Arias said he expected Washington to reply in that time to Panama's note asking to fly the flag in the zone as a symbol of Panamanian sovereignty over the areas. He said he expected an affirmative reply because he sees no reason to justify a rejection.

Know What You're Paying For

Read Advance Fee Contract

By BERNARD GAVZER

NEW YORK (UP) — Like millions of other Americans, you may have a small business or other property that you'd just as soon sell.

If the wrong guy gets to you, it can be quite costly — to you. This man may be one of the sharpies in the "advance fee" scheme — a racket which has taken victims for millions of dollars each year.

In the past, the advance fee racket concentrated on alleged sale of property, but since some operators were sent to jail, there has been a switch to loan schemes. Both operate the same way.

A fast-talking salesman, armed with impressive-looking brochures and similar props, assures you that his firm has a buyer for your property or can get you one. He represents himself as an expert on property values.

If you place a fair value of $6,000 on your property, he'll invariably tell you that in today's market it can bring $10,000 or $12,000.

This is natural since the fee and his commission are based on a percentage of the claimed value rather than what it might bring if it were actually sold. Fees may run anywhere from $100 to $10,000.

The salesman also says that if no sale is made in 90 days, you can get your money back. The operators then list the property in glossy, imposing catalogs which are sent to some legitimate real estate brokers.

THE TRUTH HURTS

"When you complain finally that no sale has been made and a refund has been refused," says Burke, "you learn the awful truth: the contract you signed says nothing about guaranteed sale or any refund.

Behind the clever contract terminology, no matter what the salesman says, there is just one promise—to act as an advertising service."

Because of successful prosecution of some operators, there has been a switch to allegedly obtaining loans for people who want to improve property or bolster ailing businesses.

Burke says this still is worked as an advance fee scheme by some operators.

"It should be pointed out that accepting a fee in connection with sale of business or securing loans has been a legitimate operation of some reputable firms for many years," says Burke.

"The main difference between the legitimate firms and the sharp operators is that in the case of honest firms the fee usually covers reasonable expenses.

"The fee essentially is just peanuts and the only way the broker makes money is to make a sale.

"The advance fee sharpies, on the other hand, make handsome incomes solely on the basis of fees."

APPLY TO RELIABLE AGENCIES

Burke's recommendations:

"If you need a loan for your business, apply to reputable sources such as a bank or similar agency. If you are turned down, find out why.

"If an advance fee operator offers to get you the loan, find out if the company he represents actually gives the loan or if the firm simply provides a 'service' to get a loan.

"Before signing any contract, demand evidence that there are sources who will make the loan under circumstances that the bank or other agency refused to."

The NBBB and interested government agencies report that victims in the advance fee schemes have been operators of small lunch rooms, delicatessens, shoe repair shops, barber shops and the like.

"We always say that the best way to protect yourself," says Burke, "is to investigate before investing. The Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce in your town is ready to help if you are approached by any of these advance fee operators."

(Editor's note: This is the last in a series of articles on different gyps and dodges that hoodwink Americans for millions of dollars each year.)

Dr. Tom Dooley Gets Hospital Check

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, St. Louis missionary who opened a hospital in war-stricken Laos, was presented a check for $14,131 Wednesday night for an airplane that will help him start two more hospitals.

The check was presented at a farewell banquet for the young missionary who has been on a fund-raising tour since a cancer operation. The operation was termed a success after recent tests in New York. He plans to leave for Laos today.

Other checks totaling $3,073 were given to his Medical International Cooperation Organization (MEDICO) which was developed after his hospital was started in 1954 in the jungles and amid the chaos of the war with the Communists in Viet Nam.

Car Crash Kills Duncan Sister

CHICAGO (UP) — Rosetta Duncan, 58, one of the famed Duncan Sisters, veteran vaudeville comedy team, died today of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Tuesday.

Miss Duncan, who suffered fractures of both legs, at least 10 ribs and internal injuries, died in MacNeal Memorial Hospital in suburban Berwyn. She had not regained consciousness since the accident about 3 a.m. Tuesday, hospital officials said.

Miss Duncan was injured when the car she was driving struck a bridge post in suburban Cicero. She was alone in the car, driving to the home of friends after appearing with her sister, Vivian, 60, at a night club in suburban Lyons. Vivian was at her sister's bedside when she died.

The Duncan Sisters had been a show business team for 41 years. They hit the top in 1923 with a blackface act, "Topsy and Eva," adapted from "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

They retired in 1942 but came back 10 years later with a new act build around the nostalgia for vaudeville. They opened at a night club in Lyons last summer for a short run. But their show drew big crowds and their engagement was extended.

Nonstop Jets to Coast Years Away for Detroit

WASHINGTON (UPI—Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) said Wednesday it may be years before the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) makes a final decision on its preliminary refusal to authorize immediate nonstop jet airline service between Detroit and the West Coast by three airlines.

McNamara said he was "extremely disappointed" at the CAB refusal to grant immediate exemption from restrictions on nonstop service which now affect American, Trans World and United Airlines in their operations between Detroit and Los Angeles and San Francisco.

He pointed out that American and TWA must make at least one stop en route, while United is permitted nonstop service on condition that flights originate and terminate in New York.

AF Test Center Dislikes TV Missile Films

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Missiles launched from the Air Force Missile Test Center are still flying — on television. The Air Force says it doesn't like it but what can it do?

"We don't favor the utilization of stock films in advertising which has nothing to do with the Air Force or national defense," an Air Force spokesman said today.

"However," he said, "it would be difficult and costly for us to monitor all network and local programs in an effort to stop this practice."

To Display Equipment Downtown

Monday Civil Defense Day

National Civil Defense Day in Pontiac will be preceeded by the monthly testing of civil defense sirens tomorrow.

Local civil defense officials are planning a downtown Pontiac demonstration Monday, Dec. 7 — a date set aside nationally in recent years because it is the anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack that plunged the United States into World War II.

From 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday at the southeast corner of Saginaw and Huron streets there'll be civil defense equipment on display. At 11 a.m., there'll be a demonstration of radiological equipment — weapons against radioactive fallout.

Mobile civil defense equipment will be displayed at Tel-Huron Shopping Center 2 to 4 p.m.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and the city's civil defense coordinator, called attention to the city's three civil defense sirens.

"It is important that everyone know how to interpret the two different types of blasts which the sirens produce," he said.

Pontiac residents hear the two blasts briefly in tests at 1 p.m. on the first Saturday of every month.

The first blast is a steady one that neither rises nor falls in tone. This blast indicates that there is a civil defense alert — the probability of danger.

"Upon hearing this siren at any time other than the Saturday test period, householders should turn on their radios to the special, civil defense airwaves — Conelrad — 640 or 1240 on the dial. Information about the danger and instructions about how to meet it will be broadcast by Conelrad."

The second blast in the test is a wailing one — rising and falling. This blast means "take cover," Stierer said, because the danger is imminent.

In an actual civil defense emergency, it is assumed that the first, steady blast will precede the second, wailing blast by as much time as possible, Stierer said.

The amount of time depends upon the speed with which the nation's civil defense system is able to detect and respond to a potential danger.

In tornado weather — generally the spring and summer — the wailing blast would be sounded as a warning if a tornado were headed toward Pontiac, Stierer said.

In this event, the siren should be interpreted — as always — as meaning "take cover," he emphasized.

Simple tornado alerts, generally called by the Weather Bureau whenever there is only a better than usual chance of a tornado, are not marked by the sounding of a siren, Stierer said. The wailing siren is only sounded when an actual tornado is in the immediate area, he explained.

Pontiac's sirens are located on top of the Pontiac State Bank Building downtown. Owen School on the west side and Madison Junior High School on the east side.

Stierer said they are intended primarily to give warning to people who are outdoors. He said that the city expects soon to urge householders to install the so-called NEAR warning system within their homes for indoor warning.

These are buzzers, operating on a normal electric outlet, which can be set off throughout the city by civil defense authorities.

The NEAR system — the letters stand for National Emergency Automatic Repeater — has been tested by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization and should be on the public market soon, said Stierer.

At Least 100 Still Missing

Planning Mass Funeral for 110 in Dam Disaster

FREJUS, France (AP)—Rescue teams slogged through muck and debris today, searching for more victims of the Malpasset Dam disaster. Grieving relatives prepared for a mass funeral of 110 dead.

Hospital authorities reported 200 counted dead.

100 STILL MISSING

Officials believed about 100 persons were missing, some buried under silt which lay nine feet deep in places. But they said this estimate was based on requests from relatives of those not yet found, and there might be more.

Only one foreigner, a Belgian, was reported dead.

About 65 were injured. Some 30 were still hospitalized.

The mass funeral was asked by officials in an effort to clear crowded hospitals — where shrouded bodies lined the corridors—and make room for the living.

Helicopters, ambulances and some 5,000 troops fanned out over the four-mile-long Reyran River valley, where the Malpasset Dam crumbled Wednesday night, sending a raging wall of water through the low country to the Mediterranean.

Work teams carrying food and fresh water moved into isolated areas to aid survivors.

Expressions of sympathy poured in from around the world.

ROWS OF BODIES

The U.S. 6th Fleet flew in penicillin and water purification chemicals. Capt. R. B. Kelly of Norfolk, Va., went ashore at Frejus to offer the valley "anything that we can possibly do."

Officials decided on a hastily arranged mass funeral this afternoon for as many as possible of the identified victims. The burial site is Frejus Cemetery, in a high part of the town that escaped the flood.

Scores of other bodies draped in sheets were placed in rows along corridors of the Frejus Hospital and in makeshift morgues at St. Raphael and Puget-Sur-Argens. Hosts of stricken relatives of the missing paced slowly back and forth, scanning the uncovered faces.

The difficulty of estimating the toll was underscored by Georges Galichon, chief aide to French Interior Minister Pierre Chatenet. After touring the disaster area, which stretches more than four miles back from the Mediterranean to the dam site, Galichon reported that more than 100 homes were ripped from their foundations by the water.

There were .39 passenger fatalities per 100 million passenger miles traveled on U.S. scheduled airlines in 1958, compared with .22 in 1957.

Red China Slaps President's Trip

But Moscow Reacting Kindly Toward Tour Promoting Peace

TOKYO (AP)—Red China today denounced President Eisenhower's goodwill tour in a note out of tune with the Soviet Union and other Communists.

In sharp contrast, Moscow radio gave Soviet listeners favorable reports on the start of the President's trip and Italian Communists saluted Eisenhower with welcoming posters on his first stop, in Rome.

Peiping's hostile line tended to strengthen the feeling of Western observers here that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Red China's Mao Tze-tung do not see eye-to-eye on the need for ending the cold war.

The official Peiping People's Daily headlined its story of the presidential trip: "Eisenhower acknowledges decline of U.S. influence; aim of his overseas visits is to sell sham 'peace' goods."

Paar's Show Goes On Without Mickey Rooney

The two performers had planned a peace meeting before a nationwide audience on Paar's show to let everybody know there were no hurt feelings from their encounter Tuesday night.

"I am convinced nothing further could be gained by anyone were I to appear with Jack Paar. I told him personally that I was sorry for what had occurred Tuesday night. As far as I'm concerned the whole matter is forgotten."

The Tuesday night incident came when Paar accused Rooney of being "loaded" while on the show and invited him to leave.

Michigan Bell Told Rates Should Drop, Not Rise

LANSING (AP) — A $3,985,000 reduction in the annual rates of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has been recommended in a brief filed by the attorney general's office for the staff of the Public Service Commission.

The utility had submitted a brief to the PSC Tuesday maintaining that an annual rate hike of at least 25 million dollars would be "just and reasonable."

However, the brief filed by the attorney general's office Wednesday said the request was "not only not warranted, but a reduction in the company's annual rate for telephone service is in order."

The recommendation for a rate cut was based on testimony of a PSC staff economist who calculated the utility netted an excess of revenues of about four million dollars in a one-year test period.

Nine months of testimony on the case is under review by the PSC.

The outcome will determine the future size of monthly bills of some two million Michigan Bell subscribers.

Bufalino-Kennedy Suit Transfer Eyed by Court

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, has taken under submission a petition to have a libel case against Robert Kennedy, former counsel for the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, transferred from Detroit to Washington for trial.

William Bufalino, head of the Detroit Teamsters Union jukebox local, filed the suit against Kennedy. His petition for transfer of the trial was refused in Detroit.

More on Mortgage Question

Should You Rent or Buy?

By FAYE HENLE
NEA Columnist

You need shelter, and the question arises: should you rent or buy? If you buy, assuming you have the cash, would an outright purchase be better than a mortgage at today's interest rates?

Let's do a bit of oversimplified figuring assuming you are in the $20,000-house class.

The cost of rentals is largely determined by area, but I've been advised that the average monthly rental today for a $20,000 house might run around $200, or $2,400 a year, or $48,000 for 20 years if the rent were not increased.

Now pretend you had the $20,000 cash and purchased outright. Had you invested the $20,000 at 5 per cent—not compounding or realizing any growth in capital—over a 20-year period, you'd receive $20,000 of income.

Say that at the end of that period you wish to sell. You've a house that is 20 years older than the day you moved in. There is little doubt that despite the fact that homes have appreciated, that unless your neighborhood has upgraded, you'll suffer some depreciation. Again, an "expert" talks:

Say you get $15,000 for the house when you sell, what would the original cost be? Add the $20,000 cash price, the $20,000 lost income, deduct the $15,000 sale price. You get $25,000.

Be realistic. As an owner you've got to pay taxes and maintenance. These might average 3 per cent yearly of the cost of your property of $12,000 over a 20-year period. Add this to the $25,000 figure and you wind up spending $37,000 to live for 20 years in a $20,000 house bought for cash.

What happens if you put $10,000 cash into this $20,000 house and get a $10,000 mortgage at 6 per cent, granted you can find a 6 per cent mortgage today?

The cost of financing this $10,000 mortgage over the 20-year period would be $16,800—this includes repayment of the principal. If you invested the $10,000 used as your down payment, again a 5 per cent note compounded and with no thought of capital appreciation, you'd be $10,000 richer.

Adding the down payment, the cost of financing, plus the $12,000 estimated cost of taxes and maintenance over the 20-year period, you get $48,800 as the cost of your house. However, you realize $15,000 on the sale and you've saved perhaps $3,400 by being able to deduct the interest on your mortgage—this figure depends upon your income and possible deductions—so that this $20,000 house financed over a 20-year period costs you $30,400.

There are loopholes aplenty in this argument. Few of us remain in the same house for 20 years. Interest rates on investments cannot be predicted with certainty over a two-decade period. Rental costs seldom remain fixed. Local taxes look as though they are on an upward trek and so are all maintenance costs.

Finally, fine, old, homes in some areas appreciate over the years while others depreciate rapidly.

The above is not intended for you to swallow whole. Instead, it is a teaser of sorts, a feminine-type argument to get you started thinking if you and your spouse are debating: "Shall we buy or rent?"

College Enrollment Climbs to New Peak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Enrollment in the nation's colleges and universities reached an all-time high of 3,402,297 this fall.

The U. S. Office of Education said the figure, for the beginning of the current 1959-60 academic year, represented an increase of 143,741, or 4.4 per cent, over the fall of 1958.

It was the eighth consecutive year in which college enrollment has climbed to a new record.

This year's fall enrollment included 2,173,797 men and 1,228,500 women. Male enrollment was up 3 per cent from last year, while female enrollment was up 7 per cent.

ELECTRIC HEAT

Sometimes home improvements change the heating requirements within a home. When they do, baseboard electric heating units—or one of the other types of electric heating units—can solve the problem simply. They can give you supplemental heat to ease the load on your present heating system, make cold areas warm, eliminate the drafts often found near large window areas.

Electric heating units can be built into any part of a house—or room—without taking away valuable living space. They're safe, simple and compact. Best of all, they put real comfort at your family's fingertips. Simply dial the thermostat and heating begins at once, right there where it's wanted. It's so comfortable you'll hardly know it's winter.

These are benefits that mean something. Made possible only by electric heat, they more than make up for the increase in operating costs. Phone or visit your Detroit Edison office for more facts or mail the coupon.

Get all these benefits—whether you're buying, building or modernizing

EFFICIENCY . . . Electric heat lets you raise the temperature in one room without firing up the entire heating plant. And with electric heat, all of the heat created is usable heat—none is wasted up a flue.

CARES FOR ITSELF . . . Set a thermostat, then forget it. Electric heating systems are long-lived because there is little to wear out, need adjustment or replacement.

REDUCED RATE . . . Residential customers can now take advantage of a new, lower rate—2c per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical use is over 750 kilowatt-hours. Electricity remains one of your biggest bargains.

CUSTOM-COMFORT . . . Keep one room at 72, another at 65. The temperature can be up in one room, down or completely off in another.

FLEXIBILITY . . . Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—or it can be built into the walls, floors or ceilings.

CLEANLINESS . . . Walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay cleaner longer—for air is free from combustion products.

ELECTRIC HEATING — LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY — CONTRACTOR

This sign assures you of dependable installation. It is displayed by electrical contractors who have pledged themselves to meet voluntary industry standards.

You can choose from several types of units

Your choice will be influenced by whether you are building, completely remodeling or simply adding on or finishing off an extra room. Electric heating units can be installed almost anywhere: They can be embedded in plaster ceilings, set into the floors, built into the walls or used to replace the baseboards.

The electric heat pump works on an entirely different principle from the units described above. It is a year-round climate control system which heats in winter and cools in summer—automatically.

Whatever type you choose, be sure your home has good insulation, properly installed. Regardless of the heating system used, good insulation is needed for maximum comfort and economy.

Narcotics Anoymous Aids Victims

Drug Addicts Help Each Other

NEW YORK (UPI) — In a gaily-decorated room in an old loft building of Manhattan's lower west side, a large group of friends recently threw a party — complete with anniversary cake — for a former professional woman dancer.

The party itself was hardly unique. But the occasion, its location and the makeup of the guest list were indeed unusual.

The occasion marked the completion by the onetime dancer of nine years without heroin. The place was the headquarters of Narcotics Anonymous (NA). The guests were mostly former narcotics addicts, including former world's welterweight champion Barney Ross.

To most of the guests, such "anniversary" parties have become commonplace. But, while joyous occasions, they are mildly diverting interludes in the deadly serious program of one of the most unusual organizations in the nation — a society of former drug addicts dedicated to their own rehabilitation and that of fellow sufferers and based on the premise that only an ex-addict can really help a drug addict.

Founded by a longtime addict named Daniel Carlsen, Narcotics Anonymous is a loosely-knit, autonomous organization patterned after Alcoholics Anonymous. It has no affiliates outside of New York City.

However, growing interest being manifested by present and former addicts and correctional and hospital officials throughout the nation indicates that it may eventually spread to other cities.

In the belief that the problems of alcoholism and narcotics addiction are basically the same, NA utilizes the AA program of group therapy, with modifications to meet its own needs.

REPLACE RELIANCE

Essentially, NA's theory is that once an addict with a sincere desire to reform concedes himself to be powerless to control drugs, he will replace his reliance on narcotics with faith in a Higher Power. Any concept of this power is acceptable — God or the addict's own mind.

The sole requirement for membership is a sincere desire by an addict or former addict to abstain from narcotics. Fledgling members are asked to concede that, as addicts, they are caught in the grip of a progressive illness which they alone cannot control.

Then they are guided through NA's "thirteen steps to freedom," which, essentially, is a Salvation Army type treatment, calling for repentance, public confession and, finally, a vow to utilize all available spiritual and physical power in order to fulfill a useful purpose in life.

Members are repeatedly warned that their transformation must be complete or it is worthless. For while an addict can be converted into a total abstainer, he cannot be cured. Thus, a return to narcotics will be followed, as surely as night follows day, by a return to full-time addiction. Veteran NA members are proud to note, however, that the organization has had few backsliders.

NO ORGANIZATION

Inasmuch as addicts or ex-addicts attending meetings are not obliged to register, there is no formal membership list. Nor does NA have any officers, dues, constitution, or bylaws. It does have a chairman, however, and an advisory group, the Committee for Medical Control of Narcotics Addiction, Inc., a civic group consisting of representatives from a variety of fields, including the clergy and medicine.

In addition, it has three chaplains, one of each major faith, who attend meetings and, if asked, offer outside assistance to members.

NA meetings are held three times a week. Members range in age from 20 to 65, with the majority in their 30's and 40's.

Teen-age addicts attend occasionally, but they rarely return a second time, apparently because of a lack of patience.

Several NA members, asked to comment on the actors' portrayals of drug addicts, expressed the opinion that, as addicts, the actors were strictly beatniks.

Later, the cast's "addicts" accepted an invitation to an NA meeting, where they got some firsthand tips on how to portray drug addicts.

Their subsequent portrayals, it has been reported, showed a marked improvement.

Winnie's Stepdad (Mere Youngster) Speaks Up at Last

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill's stepfather made a rare but typical public statement Wednesday night.

Montague Porch, who at 82 is three years younger than Sir Winston, was asked by the Daily Mail if he sent greetings to Churchill on the former Prime Minister's 85th birthday Monday.

"Family affairs are secret. I refuse to comment on them," said Porch at his Glastonbury home.

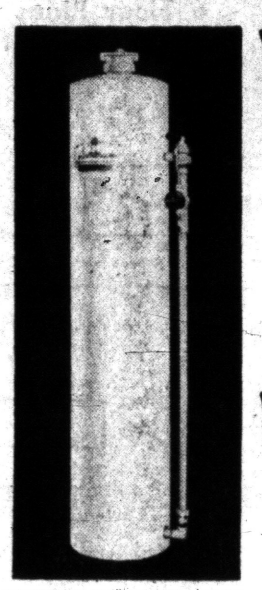

Porch has shunned public attention for years. Even few of his neighbors realize the tall, gray-haired man is Churchill's stepfather.

Porch married Churchill's mother, Lady Randolph Churchill, in 1918. She died three years later.

Although a familiar figure at Glastonbury, Porch rarely travels to London. He lives well hidden in the shadow of the most famous Englishman alive.

Porch has been quoted as saying he had rather again face the bullets of the Boer War than submit to the "stings of the snobs of London society."

Presents Good Citizen Pins

DAR Welcomes Eight

Mrs. L. G. Rowley opened her home on Williams Lake road to 60 members and guests of the Gen. Richardson Chapter of DAR Thursday afternoon.

Eight new Pontiac members were welcomed: Mrs. Mallory S. Coleman, Mrs. Glenn J. Dolan, Mary A. Kelly, Mrs. C. Frederick Gorden, Mrs. M. B. Hungerford, Mrs. John McIlroy, Mrs. Paul E. Osborne and Mrs. James Youngblood.

Eight area girls who have been named DAR Good Citizens for 1959 and their mothers were special guests.

Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin presented the Good Citizen pins to the mothers who in turn pinned their daughters. Featuring 13 stars, the pin has four books in the center to represent qualifications for citizenship, dependability, leadership, service and patriotism. Beneath is the torch of understanding, encircled by a wreath of honor.

On March 16 the chapter Good Citizens will join girls from throughout Michigan as guests of the Michigan DAR for a luncheon and meeting at Flint where the state conference is held. At that time one girl will be chosen Michigan's Good Citizen. The choice is based upon a questionnaire submitted by each girl. The winner will be given a U.S. Savings Bond by the National DAR.

Alice Serrell presented the results of a four-year project on which she worked with Dr. Sarah VanHoosen Jones. The two cooperated in compiling an abstract of Oakland County Probate Court records from 1822 to 1868 before the state began keeping such vital statistics. The two bound volumes of over 500 pages contain 26,000 items requiring 116 pages of index. One copy will be sent to Washington, D.C., another to the DAR national library, one to the Michigan State Library at Lansing, a copy to the Detroit City Library and the other to Pontiac City Library.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Elbert Wilmot, Mrs. Harry Yoh, Mrs. I. A. Woodard, Mrs. William Kalwitz and Mrs. Frank Vaclavik.

Others were Mrs. Orrin Huntoon, Mrs. I. B. Royal, Mrs. Veymor Lewis, Mrs. B. L. Scott and Mrs. Bradley Scott.

Friendship Club Assembles for Christmas Party

Mrs. Sirpoohi Melkonian who is leaving for Rolling Hills, Calif., Sunday to visit her granddaughter, Mrs. Harry Apoian, was honored.

Mrs. Apoian is a former Pontiac resident.

Interlakes Club Plans Turkey Dinner

The Interlakes Extension Club held an all-day meeting and luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Russell Anderson, West Iroquois road.

Mrs. Frank Hickson announced plans for the Christmas party at her home on Dec. 13. Members' husbands will be guests at a turkey dinner. A child's gift brought by each member will be given to the Waterford firemen for distribution.

Mrs. John McConnell gave a lesson on "Good Design in Holiday Decorations" and instructed the club in the making of Christmas bells.

Mrs. Jack Andress will hostess the Jan. 27 meeting at her home on Ormsby street.

Cochairmen are Mrs. Elsa Leece and Mrs. Donald Lunsford, banquet; Arlene Newcombe and Mrs. Rose Franklin, membership; and Kathryn Sumpter and Joyce Hohm, ways and means. Mrs. D. Richard Veazey will be bulletin editor with Mrs. Elva Templeton, assistant editor.

Colored slides of the chapter's activities for the past year were shown and Christmas carols were sung.

Mrs. Veazey was presented with a past president's pin and current officers were given pins symbolic of their offices.

Make Gift for Driver Impersonal

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: For the past year I have been driving to and from work with a man who lives a few blocks away from me. He is a very nice person and often puts himself out to wait for me when I am a little late leaving the office. I would like very much to show my appreciation for his kindness.

"With Christmas not too far off I was wondering if it would be proper to buy him a small, impersonal gift. I would like to very much but do not want to do anything that might embarrass him. I might add that this man is married and his wife is a stranger to me."

Answer: Anything you can think of that he would like for his office desk, or possibly his car, or a carton of cigarettes if he smokes, would be a suitable gift.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a boy asks a girl to go out with him, is he supposed to have definite plans for the evening's entertainment, or must he ask the girl where she would like to go?"

Answer: When asking a girl to go out with him for the first time a boy usually has some definite place in mind, such as the movies, a dance, a hockey match, etc. When they go out often together he would ask her where she would like to go.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have just moved to another part of the city. We have quite a lot of note paper marked with our old address. It is rather expensive paper and I hate to discard it. Would it be in good taste to draw a line through the old address and write our new address underneath it, and use it up, or will this seem shoddy?"

Answer: You can use up the paper when writing to your old and intimate friends, but it will not do for formal correspondence.

Mokanna in Party

Iraq Caldron 70, Daughters of Mokanna, was greeted by Mrs. Wayne Scott and Mrs. Edward Pritchard, hostesses for the Christmas party Wednesday evening in the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Roger Smiley, Mighty Chosen One, announced plans for the money-making project on Dec. 12.

The next meeting will be on Jan. 6.

Tuesday Musicale Guest

Harpsichord Virtuoso to Perform

Christine Harnsberger, harpsichordist, will present a recital Tuesday to members of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale in the Grace Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Harnsberger, a resident of Birmingham, is a harpsichord virtuoso.

After receiving her degree in piano at Colorado College under Johanna Harris and Max Lanner, she earned recognition as a recitalist in Colorado and the Midwest.

LOVE FOR BACH

An early love for Bach led her to an extensive study of the Baroque period and subsequently to the purchase of a harpsichord. She studied this instrument under Samuel Morris in Boston and Dorothy Lane in Chicago.

She has become well known in the Detroit area as an oratorio performer and has recently completed a concert tour of Michigan and Ohio.

Miss Harnsberger will present Mozart's "Rondo Alla Turca," a 16th century number by Spanish lutist Luys de Narvaez, William Byrd's "Pavana," "Bagatelle" by Alexei Haieff, and two sonatas — Scarlatti's B Minor and Friexanet's A Major.

CHORUS TO PERFORM

In addition, Tuesday's program will include Christmas selections by the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus under the direction of Mrs. George Putnam.

Mrs. Putnam is alto soloist at Central Methodist Church and director of its junior choir. Wife of the director of secondary music education in the Pontiac schools and mother of four children, Mrs. Putnam has directed the Tuesday Musicale Chorus in many concerts during the past three years.

Mrs. Putnam received her master's degree in music education from Teacher's College, Columbia University, majoring in voice.

Accompanied by Mrs. Walter Schmitz, the chorus will present "Happy Sounds Everywhere" and "Shepherds Awake" by Hallstrom, "See Jesus the Saviour" by Niles Praetorius' "Lo How a Rose E're Blooming," and the Alfred Burt Carols — "Caroling, Caroling," "All On a Christmas Morning," "We'll Dress the House" and "Ah, Bleak and Chill the Wintry Wind."

Concluding the program will be "I Wonder as I Wander" by Niles, "Dona Nobis Pacem" by Wilson, "As Joseph Was "A-Walking" by Hallstrom, "Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" and Handel's "Joy to the World."

Soloists for this portion of the program will be Mrs. Jack Helvey, Mrs. Victor Lindquist, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks, Mrs. Joseph Maxwell, Mrs. Philip Proud, Mrs. Aubrey Roberts, Mrs. Lynn Smith and Mrs. Fred Stimpert.

The traditional group singing of carols will follow.

Anything is possible in the world of fashion, as designers and textile manufacturers throughout the world agree.

For that reason, the world's manufacturers of cotton textiles, recently meeting in Vienna, studied and analyzed a panorama of 5,000 years of cotton fashions, in a serious attempt to find clues to future fashion trends. Included in the historic style show were 50 originals and authentic reproductions of costumes through the ages, modeled at the Museum fur Volkerkunde.

Working on the theory that the future borrows from the past, delegates examined the ancient fashions with sharp attention to line and detail, found many original sources of current fashion details.

Only 43 days after President William McKinley died of a bullet wound, his assassin, Leon F. Czolgosz, was executed in Auburn, N.Y., State Priston on Oct. 29, 1901.

Princess Anne—She's a Knotty Little Pixie

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Stately old Buckingham Palace takes on an air of childish gaiety each Tuesday at 5 p.m. That's the day Princess Anne and her Brownie pack meet to learn to tie knots and set the tea table.)

Knotting and knitting are accomplishments the lively princess owes to the enthusiasm she throws into her tasks as a member of the Brownies.

Brownies are girls serving a sort of apprenticeship to qualify as Girl Guides, British counterpart of the American Girl Scouts.

Princess Anne became a Brownie last May. Now Tuesdays are special days at the palace. If anything threatens to conflict with the Brownie sessions the marshal of the court just has to change his program. The princess is engaged after 5 p.m.

SPECIAL PACK

A special pack of Brownies was organized at Buckingham Palace, at the direction of Queen Elizabeth, so the princess could get going in the Girl Guide program.

There were 23 under-teen girls in the pack at last count, not all of them bluebloods. One of the ideas of the Brownies is that girls should make friends in all stations of life.

If the princess were just any girl she would belong to the pack of the Holy Trinity Church, near the palace. But a princess making regular appearances in public attracts too much attention. So the Holy Trinity group became the Buckingham Palace pack.

The gatherings take place in the palace if it's cold and in the roomy summer house on the palace grounds if the weather is fine. There the princess meets such friends as 8-year-old Susan Lewis, daughter of a taxicab driver and Carol and Sally Lewis, 9 and 11, whose father is a hotel maintenance man.

Summer house days are special fun because there are rather unusual facilities for play. There is a sand pit, a tiny tennis court and a miniature golfing green.

PLAY RESTRICTED

But play is not permitted to take too much time from the Brownie program of constructive activities. Miss Mary Millican, 33, a teacher who is the pack's "Brown Owl," and Miss Mercy Edgedale, 30, who as "Tawney Owl" is second in command, stick pretty close to the Brownie agenda of knot-tying, flower recognition, setting up a tea and washing the dishes.

Sometimes there are little talks on public affairs, as the one in which Brown Owl spoke on world refugee year and suggested knitting garments would be one way to help. The princess said she couldn't knit, so that project was started a little early. Later comes darning, cycling, swimming, cooking, sewing on buttons and setting table for dinner, not just simple tea.

As individuals Brownies develop slightly differing characteristics and interests. So, to fit herself into the most comfortable groove, a Brownie may choose to be classified an elf, an imp, a pixie or a fairy. Princess Anne has chosen to be a pixie.

The princess is chic in the Brownie uniform. It consists of a brown dress, hat, belt and shoes, white ankle socks and a triangular necktie which is tricky to get straight.

There will be more difficult assignments soon — how to bandage a skinned knee, what to do when someone's clothes catch fire, and how to set a compass.

Even a princess needs to know which way is north.

Elect Officers at Sorority Dinner Meeting

President will be Clarabelle Amidon; vice president, Mrs. J. K. Helvey; secretary, Mrs. William G. Looney; treasurer, Mrs. Guy Donnell; and historian, Mrs. Danial Hackett.

Mrs. Harold W. Diekman, hostess, introduced Dr. Nan K. Koh of the Oakland County Health Department, who spoke about Korea and her experiences in America.

Guests were Mrs. Lee L. Kennedy of La Jolla, Calif., Mrs. Maynard Peters, Harold W. Diekman, Russell Evans, Andrew Mitchell, Leonard McKinley and the Frank Allens.

Mrs. Parks Smith, Mrs. Floyd A. Compton and Mrs. Fred Ellicott served on the hospitality committee.

Color on Campus

Coats go to the campus straight from the horse's back. The coats are bright plaids inspired by horse blankets. They come in ponchos, short jackets, and full, belted and straight styles.

Guaranteed to keep toes snug on Christmas morn and sugar plums dancing in dreams on Christmas eve are these machine washable cotton knit sleeper sets. Ideal gifts for the small fry, they come in red and white diamond print with non-skid plastic soles and are gift-wrapped with a carol book.

Says Use of Herbs Is Needed

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — People don't know much about herb doctoring anymore and it's a shame, Mrs. Melvin Kincaid—Aunt Cinda—says.

"If women raising babies these days would dose the precious little things with warm catnip tea," she says, "they wouldn't have to be running to a doctor every other night."

Aunt Cinda has been using herbs most of her 75 years. She dosed all her own children with catnip tea. It's good for croup and colds, she says. "And it makes a baby sleep so good."

Skullcap and boneset yield a bitter tea which will "settle the nerves" and break up colds and fevers, Aunt Cinda says.

A salve made from Balm of Gilead buds, elder and buttersweet bark, mixed with tallow, reputedly heals sores, cuts and bruises. And prickly ash tea is recommended for asthma sufferers.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture seems to agree. It lists over 250 different species of roots, herbs and bark which are of great value in the manufacture of drugs.

Critical Child Is Sure of Adult's Response

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Recently at the home of friends we watched a TV show that dramatized a great historical crisis of the 20th century. It was sensitively written and well played. But its commercials were borring and sadistic.

They came at just the moment when the costly production had created a climax of responsive interest. They broke in on our mood with a jazzy jingle and the slick sales pitch of their revoltingly cheerful, ingratiating announcer.

At the second interruption, our host, a writer, began to sputter. At the third, he exploded, roaring.

"And some ad agency pays some guy for writing this junk. Listen to him. He salms the same point again and again. I can't sell the same story twice. Paula can't cook us the same meal every day. Muriel can't write the same column week after week. But the guy who writes this gets paid for repeating himself. Why can't he make his point once — and let it go? Why . . . ?"

"Stop it, Daddy!" yelled his 11-year-old son. "I'm sick of your going on and on about commercials just like the commercials. You repeat yourself, too. If you don't like commercials, why don't you turn them off?"

There was a suspenseful silence. Then our host grinned at his child.

"I guess I do, I guess I do," he said. "That's a swell idea, Bud. Turn them off is what we'll do after this. I'm such a lazy hound I didn't think of it."

Bud beamed at his father. His father beamed at him. Their mutual appreciation was so contagious that we all felt fonder of one another.

Yet many parents would have been outraged by Bud's critical outburst as disrespectful and impudent.

Would you have been?

I wouldn't. But then, children, including my own, have blown up at me so often that I've developed a conviction about their critical outbursts. I think that they express respect for us instead of disrespect.

I think they're a precious compliment. And that the very fact that a youngster can explode his protesting feelings to me involves his expectation that I can reduce them.

It's the youngster who sulks in silence about what he doesn't like who makes me sad. I know he's given up hope of my responding to him.

An imaginative Christmas gift would be this smart rainwear ensemble. Flared ever so slightly to fit over suits as well as dresses; its miniature button-up cowl collar is as practical as the umbrella which matches its handsome striped lining. In natural poplin and willow green with matching hat, it is available locally.

Fluff Out Pillows

Feather pillows come out light and airy after a quick trip through an automatic washer and dryer. You can keep them that way by fluffing in your dryer from time to time, provided it has a "no heat" setting.

Djebel Toubkal, highest peak in the High Atlas mountains of North Africa, rises to 13,665 feet.

Pins Are Popular

Pins gain new importance on suits. They are shown worn way out on the shoulder seams of widened sleeves or at the edge of longer suit jackets. Team them in small, classic pairs on lapels or as large pins peeking out from under the lapel.

Do Plastic Surgery, When?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "I am going to be 16 years old very soon. I once read that when you are 16 you are eligible for nose surgery by a plastic surgeon. Is this true? I would appreciate it very much if you would also tell me what the average cost of such an operation is."

A. Surgeons used to prefer waiting until the age of 18 before changing the nose and some of them might still feel this way. However, I believe most of them will operate when a person is 17. Discuss the details of this operation with a well-qualified plastic surgeon.

Q. "Is there any way to add an inch or so to the hips without gaining any other place?"

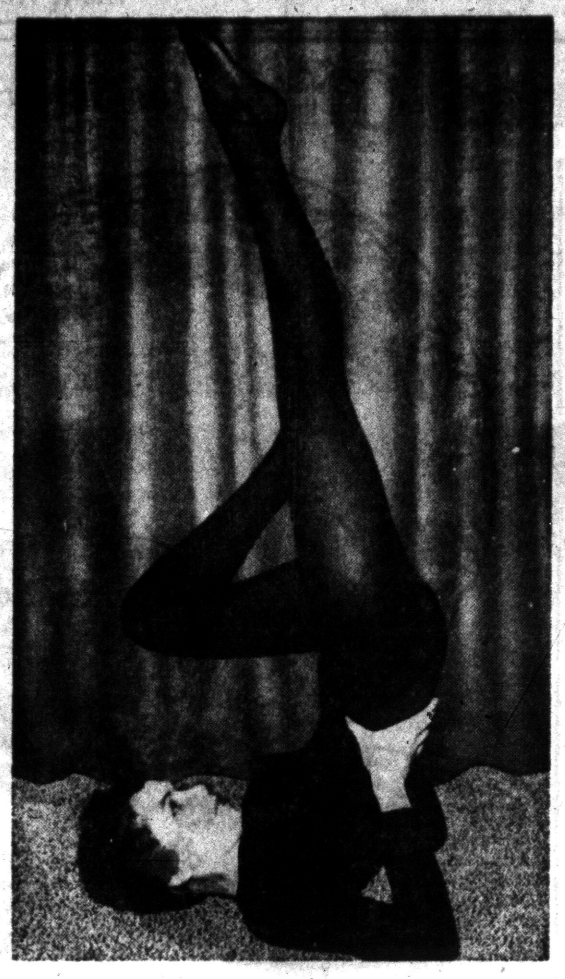

A. The only way to increase this measurement without gaining weight is to develop the hip muscles with exercise.

Q. "I am middle-aged and considered attractive, but I have protruding ears. I have worn my hair short because of this. Now I would like to wear it back in a bun. My husband admires people with long hair but I look horrible with it pulled back because of my ears. Can I have plastic surgery done?"

A. Yes this operation is done successfully. Also you could have long hair but cut it short at the sides and curl it. You still could wear the back hair in a bun. You would not look your best with the ears exposed.

Q. "In what stage of development does a girl begin to wear a bra? Mom comes from a different country and when I went with her to visit the girls they were well developed but did not wear a bra. In school here a lot of the girls who are smaller than I wear a bra. Please answer soon. This has caused me many a tear."

A. A brassiere should be worn whenever a bust has become large enough to require support or to make the girl self-conscious. Talk this over with your mother and explain to her that in this country it makes you feel conspicuous to be different from your friends.

The only way to increase your hip measurement without gaining weight is to develop the hip muscles with exercise. The exercises in Josephine Lowman's Leaflet No. 3, including the "bicycle ride" above, are equally successful in developing or reducing hips.

Q. "Last summer you wrote of your wonderful travels in Austria and the joyous people. My people came from there. It is the land of the waltz. The children learn to dance on the grass with the music coming out through the windows. It is so lovely and heartlifting.

"Also here in America I miss hearing men and boys whistle. I used to hear them whistle going down the street or just for sheer joy while working. Why don't we hear so much of it any more?"

A. I think we hear less of this because life has become so hurried and complex. It seems too bad because it does sound gay and heartwarming and makes the one who whistles feel that way, too.

Plum Pudding Recipe Favored in New Zealand

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last spring and summer Mrs. Ethel Berry of Auckland, New Zealand was a house guest of her daughter, Mrs. Stephen Oliseck, of Drayton Plains. She gave us this recipe then, but we wanted to wait until the holiday season to use it. We're sure her daughter will send her a copy of the paper.

Mrs. Berry, a spry 76-year-old, is an expert knitter. She says her family of 11 children is her hobby.

PLUM PUDDING
By Mrs. Ethel Berry

1 cup finely cut dried beef suet
2 cups sifted flour
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup raisins
2 teaspoons mixed ground spices
Dash of salt
6 eggs
¾ cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup cold tea

Beat the eggs and sugar thoroughly. Add baking powder to cold tea and pour into egg mixture. Stir until well mixed. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into mold and steam 4 hours (the longer the better, says Mrs. Berry.)

Isn't Mom Pushing Early Marriages?

By RUTH MILLETT

Mom, who claims she can't understand why so many of today's teen-agers are marrying before they finish high school, is the very gal who is promoting these pitifully young marriages.

All the while mom is clucking against the stupidity of kids who don't even have the braces off their teeth thinking they are grownup enough to get married, she is pushing her own kids into the accelerated dating pace that so often results in teen-age marriage.

It's mom who gives sis an evening dancing party on her 10th birthday, and who later tells her friends how "adorable" the little girls looked in their party dresses, and how "cute" the little boys were who escorted the girls to the dance (one of the boys' parents, of course, being foolish enough to play chaffeur for the evening).

It's mom who gives her five-year-old a permanent wave and begins by the time she enters the first grade to set in motion the social mechanism for making little Betty or little Sue "popular."

It's mom who can't say "no" when 14-year-old Betty or Sue decides to go steady — because, though mom claims she doesn't approve, she would rather have Sue going steady than have any other mama think her little girl isn't popular.

It's mom who lets a 16-year-old girl cut herself off from friends by spending every possible minute with one boy. In fact, there's more than a little pride in mama's voice when she says, "I get so tired of having Sue's boy friend under foot all the time, but I suppose I should be thankful they spend so much of their time at our house."

It's mom who makes junior high and high school such a gay social whirl that by 16 her daughter is sick of flouncy formals, takes corsages as a matter of course, and is blase about almost everything.

Then, when daughter runs off at 16 or 17 with her steady and comes home married, mama cries, "How could this have happened to my little girl?"

Stole jewelry, borrowed from the fur stole, is cleverly designed in pseudo-diamonds for luxurious appearance. Graceful earrings, pin and matching bracelet may be used individually or as an ensemble.

2 Tunic Types

The tunic silhouette, back in force, has two main shapes — the slim tunic for daytime costumes and the bell shape for evening.

Don't Mask It

'Interpret' Your Face

Syd Simon, who teaches the gentle sex how to apply cosmetics for the best results, said make up should "bring the features of the face into balance."

His pupils are taught to highlight and shadow the face, to make the most of good points and minimize the un-attractive ones.

Simon offers two courses in make up. One instructs the woman in how to pretty-up for daytime or informal occasions. The second includes coaching on how to achieve a more exotic appearance for evenings.

REQUIREMENTS

The beauty needs which Simon said should be found in every woman's dresser are:

—Cleansing tissue and cotton-tipped sticks.

—Cleansing cream or lotion, moisture cream, lubricating cream for very dry skin and freshner for oily skin only.

—Foundation cream or lotion, powder, cream rouge, "two or three eyeshadows because this should match the lady's dress," three lipsticks in blue, clear and yellow reds, blue and black mascara, and a soft lead pencil in lieu of an eyebrow pencil.

CAN CAMOUFLAGE

Simon can work almost any magic with make up. He has camouflaged black eyes and birthmarks, and during World War II he made up white FBI agents as Negroes.

He turned down one prospective customer, however, a young man who asked to be made up to look like someone else, "just anyone else." Suspicious, Simon pressed the caller on why he wanted to shed his identity, and finally drew the confession that he planned to stage a hold-up.

Cassius Capers

The lean and hungry look in men's wear rates A on the campus, reports a manufacturer who keeps tabs on the market and sales. Slacks are tight fitting, with tapered legs and pleatless styling. They ride low on the hips to emphasize leanness.

According to a 1959 American Bankers Assn. survey, more banks will use newspapers for their advertising than any other medium — in fact, more than will use TV, radio and magazines combined.

Growing Older? Dress Your Age

Button caps, frivolous flats, layers of petticoats, giddy handbags with poodle trim all belong to the youngsters. You'll find many attractive fashions designed just for you.

Christmas Sweaters

Abby Judges Guilt

This Office Manager Managed Too Well

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Here are the facts: A young (and very good-looking) girl in our office was fixed up with a very attractive man. The office manager arranged the date and TOLD the girl that this man was married but not working at it. The girl is 3 times 7 and knows the score.

ABBY

A great big romance developed. And I mean BIG! Now the girl's family is on the office manager's back. Would you say the office manager deserves the blame for all this? Or isn't a girl over 21 responsible for her own conduct? The office manager intended to arrange only a "date"—not an "affair."

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: The "office manager" is Enemy Number One for leading these two weaklings into temptation. The rest of the blame should be shared equally by the two who couldn't resist it.

DEAR ABBY: I'd ask you to send me a personal reply, but I'm afraid my mother might see it and punish me for taking my problem to somebody else. You see, I'm almost 13 and, Abby, my skin is so bad at times I'm ashamed to go to school.

Some of my friends have skin trouble, too. But their mothers take them to doctors and they get creams and special soaps to use. My mother says "beauty is only skin deep." But that's no help. What can I do?

PIMPLES

DEAR PIMPLES: Beauty IS only skin deep, but at 13 that is deep enough. Do stay away from sweets, chocolates and fried foods. If, after a few months, there is no improvement, try again to convince your mother to take you to a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I found out that my fair lady was not all I wanted her to be. So I wrote her a registered letter explaining that I felt our engagement was a mistake. (We are 1,000 miles apart). She wrote back, ignoring my letter, and carried on as though she had not received it at all.

I sent her another registered letter repeating my sentiments and I told her she could keep the diamond engagement ring. Then I returned all of her letters.

She wrote again, making no mention of my letter. Where do I stand? Can I consider our engagement officially terminated? Or can she possibly sue me for breach of promise?

ANOTHER JOHN DOE

DEAR JOHN: Your "fair lady" sounds anything but fair. Consult a lawyer. With a gal who so obviously refuses to take "no" for an answer you will need all the help the law allows.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEBBIE: You were not "picked" . . . you were "picked up." Checking up on a man should be the first thing you do—not the last.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FEELING FOOLISH": The only "stupid" questions are those that aren't asked. Send me your name and address.

Stars Name Committees

President Mrs. Olive Burgess appointed the chairmen who are Mrs. Cecil Briggs, ways and means; Mrs. Elna Riddle and Mrs. Clarence Sutton, membership; Mrs. Edward McDonald, social; Mrs. Leone Hagberg, publicity; Mrs. Irma Rutherford, telephone; and Mrs. Luisa Mayotte, hostess.

Mrs. Eva Welch, hospital chairman, gave a report which was followed by arrangements for remembering at Christmas the veterans at Battle Creek Hospital, the Facility Home in Grand Rapids, Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, and Pontiac State Hospital.

Seventy-five favors will be readied for the veterans' New Year's party in Ann Arbor. Members also will remember Mrs. Welch's son, a serviceman stationed in Italy.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas dinner and party when secret pals will be disclosed. Mrs. Edward McDonald and Mrs. Sutton are in charge of the program.

Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Burgess served refreshments.

Reds to Stress Racial Issue in Play

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Russians plan to present their own version of "West Side Story" next year, leaving out most of the music and dancing so as to emphasize the theme of racial conflict in the United States.

"We are making our own new presentation (of the recent Broadway hit)," Deputy Culture Minister Alexander Kuznetsov told newsmen yesterday. "The music will be used only as an incorporated element.

"The play will be preserved, but will be presented as the director sees it."

The 1960 season also will see a revival of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman," playing up the seamy side of American life. The play already has run through several Soviet productions.

Kuznetsov said plans to show the Hollywood film, "Diary of Anne Frank," has been abandoned because the play's wartime theme and unhappy ending do not square with Russia's current "peace offensive."

"It's high time we left aside the rigorous war years and looked into the bright future relaxation of international tension and disarmament," he said.

"I don't see any point in sitting quietly waiting for an unhappy ending in a movie."

The Soviet official said Russian producers have been reminded that their plays and films should be keyed to the "burning issues of the day" — like "The Irkutsk Story," concerning construction in Siberia, which Kuznetsov considers the most exciting play scheduled for the coming season.

"Love must be connected with social topics of the day . . ." he said. "The theater must create characters who fulfill the seven-year plan and are building Communism with their own hands."

Mamie Will Travel While Ike's Away

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As President Eisenhower carries out his busy 11-nation travel plans over the next three weeks, Mrs. Eisenhower is expected to do a bit of traveling herself.

The first lady's travels, however, are expected to be confined to a one-stop direct route trip to Denver, Colo., to visit her 81-year-old mother.

Mrs. John S. Doud, dubbed "Min" by her presidential son-in-law, has been in ailing health for some time. The President's absence provides an opportunity for the first lady and possibly her sister, Mrs. George Gordon Moore to get in a long pre-Christmas visit at home.

A stone from Bethlehem, Jordan, has been shipped to Christmas, Fla., to be used in the construction of an inter-denominational church.

Man Badly Burned in Blast

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The lone occupant of a trailer here suffered first, second and third degree burns last night when a bottled gas stove he was lighting exploded.

Police said Barnes, who lived in a 35-foot trailer at the Flamingo Trailer Court, 22600 Middle Belt, was hurled more than 20 feet when the propane gas stove exploded.

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes said the blast blew the walls and roof off the trailer leaving only the floor and some appliances.

He said Barnes' wife, Marion, was at work when the explosion occurred.

The explosion, which shook the 160-trailer court, damaged trailers on both sides, knocking a sunporch down on one and breaking windows in the other.

Manager of the trailer court, Marlin Rice, told police that a small fire resulted from the explosion but he extinguished it before the township fire department arrived.

Mrs. Rice said she first thought the explosion was a "sonic boom."

She said jets had been in the area all day and prior to the explosion, the planes had made "quite a bit of noise." Only the pilot light in her stove was put out by the explosion, she said.

Lyon Will Vote on New School

Approval of $615,000 Bond Issue Sought in Dec. 15 Election

SOUTH LYON — Approval of a $615,000 bond issue for a new school will be asked voters in the Lyon School District Dec. 15.

While designed as an elementary school, it would be used during the next three years to house junior high students and some elementary pupils.

Long range plans call for the construction of a new high school, and the shifting of the junior high classes to the present building.

The proposed 20-room elementary school would be built on property already owned by the school board, just south of the city limits and east of Pontiac Trail.

ROOMS CALLED UNSUITABLE

According to School Superintendent Frank Bartlett, elementary and junior high school students are using rooms unsuitable for classroom use.

He said class enrollments are in excess of what the board of education feels is advisable for the best interest of the children. The proposed school would be designed to house 600 pupils.

Construction can be financed without increasing the 8 mill levy for debt retirement which has prevailed in the Lyon Township district during the past several years, Bartlett added.

Public meetings for all interested have been scheduled prior to the election.

On Tuesday, at the South Lyon Elementary gymnasium, school board members will answer any questions pertaining to the bond issue. They will do so again Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Salem Township Hall.

Only property owners will be eligible to vote.

Polls will be open election day at the South Lyon Elementary School from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

CAP Installs Cadet Leader

At the installation ceremony, 1st Lt. Karl A. Walter, squadron commander, described how the CAP aviation program is aimed at providing stimulating challenges for teen-agers.

"Primed for further accomplishment, CAP cadets are trained to become valuable members of their communities and of the military service they later may enter," he said.

Lt. Walter pointed out that 28 former CAP cadets were members of the first graduating class at the U.S. Air Force Academy this year.

Under the guidance of CAP senior members, he stated, potential leadership capabilities are nurtured with the care due future generals, nuclear scientists, space engineers and astronauts.

Air Cadet David Darlen was installed as flight leader, and Master Sgt. John Gilliam received his three Air University U.S. Air Force Extension Course Institute diplomas.

The local CAP unit is joining others throughout the country in the month-long observance of the founding of the national organization 18 years ago.

American women buy 4.47 pairs of shoes a year, according to an industry source, and men 1.74 pairs.

County 4-H Fair Queen to Visit Eisenhower

Janet Long, 1959's Oakland County 4-H Club Fair Queen, will visit with President Eisenhower in March.

Janet, 18, of 3988 Sleeth Rd., Commerce Township, has been chosen along with two other girls and three boys, to represent the national organization as a delegation to the nation's capital March 5-12.

They will visit the White House and present a gift to the President on behalf of their fellow members.

Selection of the six teenagers was announced yesterday in Chicago during the National 4-H Club Congress.

The delegates also will meet with Agriculture Department officials and take part in other ceremonies.

Janet, a Michigan State University Oakland scholarship student, has been outstanding in club and community leadership during her years of membership in 4-H.

Community Chorus to Sing in Romeo

ROMEO — The Community Chorus of 50 voices will present its annual Christmas concert at 8 p.m. Sunday at the First Congregational Church here.

The vocalists will sing a number of choruses from Handel's "Messiah".

Four soloists also will be featured. They are Mrs. Fred Scheunemna of Romeo, soprano; Mrs. Roy A. Borland of Romeo, alto; Wanzie Davis of Detroit, tenor; and C. Lynn Brown of Romeo, baritone.

Under the direction of Dr. G. Clare Bishop of Almont, the chorus started rehearsing in October for the concert. Members are from Romeo, Almont, Washington, Leonard, Armanda and Rochester.

Organist will be Mrs. Floyd Wilson of Hartland. Serving as organ accompanist during rehearsals was Miss Joanne West of Romeo.

Adviser Says People Want It That Way

Fair Strip Shows Fading Out

CHICAGO (UPI) — State and county fairs, that bit of Americana with roots back before recorded time aim to stand on their own legs without leg shows.

The fair-going public — and it numbered 85 million persons last year—wants it that way, according to veteran fair management adviser Frank Kingman.

Kingman of Winston-Salem, N.C., is secretary-treasurer of the International Assn. of Fairs and Expositions, a nonprofit U.S.-Canadian trade association representing more than 90 per cent of state and county fairs.

In a three-day convention which closed today, exposition management officials exchanged ideas on the future of the local fair and competition it faces from armchair entertainment.

Though once the biggest draw financially, the earthy and usually shady strip show no longer pulls them in as it used to—and so much the better, Kingman said.

"A fair is basically an educational institution," he said. "To be sure, there must be razzle-dazzle and spectacle. Everybody likes excitement.

"But the good fair holds up a mirror to the area it serves, reflecting the best of that area."

Toward this end, most of the 2,158 U.S. fairs last year "followed the same general format. But there is variety in the exhibits. And a basic part of most fairs is competition among local people."

He said people are fairs' answer to movies, television and bridge parties. "They're what none of the others can provide. They're why stars like Ernie Ford, Roy Rogers and Bob Hope like to appear at a fair. It's a live, geared-up audience in a happy mood."

The same thing, Kingman added, has a powerful attraction for politicians.

People themselves furnish "one of our best attractions, by what they do and the way they act. Everything about a fair is fascinating. Put a man behind a counter sharpening pencils, and a crowd'll gather to see what he's doing."

College Aid Unit Elects Officers

Other officers named from the Oakland County area include Mrs. Laurence Welch of Utica, treasurer; Mrs. Marvin Hastings of West Bloomfield Township, historian; and Mrs. Argyll Allen Auburn Heights reporter.

It was also announced at the organization meeting that Mrs. Thomas Jones of Pontiac has been awarded a lifetime membership in the group.

Among the projects undertaken to date are the furnishing of drapes for the boys' and girls' dormitories, the purchase of additional cases for the offices and classrooms.

Maurice Hall, head of the Mission Department at the college, told the women of the "Lay-away" education plan which has been instituted. He said that parents now may pre-enroll their grammar and high school children in college on the expected date.

In the meantime, by making weekly or monthly payments they may have the tuition partially or completely paid for by the date of admission.

The next meeting of the organization is Jan. 8. Membership is open to any person interested in the welfare and growth of the college.

FDA to Study Meat, Poultry Residues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration disclosed today it plans to study possibilities that human health may be affected by residues in meat and poultry of a female hormone used to fatten cattle and poultry.

The hormone is diethylstilbestrol, commonly known as stilbestrol, and widely used in medicine about 15 years.

FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick said the hormone is known to cause cancer of the breast in men if taken in large doses. He said such cases "are extremely rare," and added:

"I am informed that the world literature contains reports of about 15 cases of cancer of the breast among 30,000 to 50,000 men that have been treated with the material, and some of these cases are challenged as having been caused by a spread of cancer from the prostate."

He said scientific tests have shown minute quantities of stilbestrol residue in the skin and liver of chicken prepared for the market.

NONE FROM MEAT

No residues have been found in meat from cattle, he said.

Larrick said he still is eating meat and chicken and emphasized that the fact the study will be made is no cause for alarm.

The food and drug commissioner said the scope of the study has not been determined but it likely will involve analysis of many case histories developed in the 15 years the product has been used in medicine, for among other things, treatment of cancer of the prostate and the breasts.

Larrick said he doubted that animal feeding tests would be involved, saying he did not believe such tests would provide helpful information.

Use of stilbestrol to fatten and tenderize poultry, Larrick said, was authorized 12 years ago after a two-year study.

The manufacturer was required under a 1938 law to submit proof the material was not hazardous to humans who ate the meat. The authorization was extended later to cover beef cattle.

BANS RESIDUES

The clearance stipulated that no residues were to be permitted in products placed on the market.

FDA regulations prohibit giving stilbestrol to cattle within 48 hours of marketing or to poultry within seven to 10 days before marketing.

FDA stopped issuing any new permits for use of the hormone after passage by Congress in 1958 of an amendment to food and drug laws banning use of any new food additives found to induce cancer in men or animals.

The amendment, however, contains no provision for revocation of outstanding permits and the FDA must prove that previously cleared materials are unsafe before it can ban them.

Troopers Probe Big Barn Fire

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — State Police today were investigating the cause of a $10,000 fire that destroyed a large barn on Moore road yesterday

The fire was first reported by Mrs. Durham when she saw smoke pouring from the windows and doors.

She told Milford Township Fire Chief Vern Baur that shortly after she saw a neighbor boy running from the barn.

Also destroyed in the fire was a winter supply of baled hay, three and a half tons of oats and $3,000 of heavy farm equipment.

Fire departments from Milford and Lyon townships fought the fire around the clock, from 3 p.m. to 3 a.m.

Lack of water and high shifting winds were blamed by Bauer as having hampered firemen.

He said their pump trucks had to travel more than two miles to a gravel pit to obtain more water.

Service Tomorrow for Berkley Officer

Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Lt. Guilloz died at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Wednesday, a few hours after suffering a heart attack at his home, 3036 Buckingham Dr.

Ready Garden Yule Mart

ORION TOWNSHIP — Newly elected officers and members of the Orion Township Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn. are spending hours each day preparing for their Christmas Mart Dec. 11 and 12.

They are fashioning small and giant size poinsettias in decorator colors out of such everyday materials as paper, wire and a touch of gilt.

The garden clubbers have taken over an empty store on Park Island road and have transformed it into a workshop.

The results of their labors will be sold at Gaylord's real estate office on the corner of Flint and South Broadway streets next weekend.

The Mart will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. next Friday and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. the following day. Mrs. Clarence Arnold is chairman of the project.

The new officers are Mrs. William J. Andrews, president; Mrs. Alfred J. Dacy, first vice president; Mrs. I. J. Gouin, second vice president; and Mrs. James Isles, recording secretary.

It is estimated that steadily higher marriage and birth rates will create 30 million new consumers by 1970. And daily newspaper circulation has been keeping pace—it has nearly quadrupled in the past 60 years.

Pine Knob School Sets Yule Program Monday

CLARKSTON — An elaborate Christmas program has been scheduled for 8 p.m., Monday at Pine Knob Elementary School on Sashabaw road.

Music instructor Miss Carolyn Scott will direct children of various grades of the school in choral numbers and musical dramatizations.

Morse School PTA to Hear State Trooper

TROY — Trooper James Neidermeier of the Center Line State Police post will speak at Wednesday night's PTA meeting at Morse School here. His topic will be "The Safe Use of Firearms."

The session will start at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Mark Kaliszewski's fourth grade room mothers.

Clarkston Rotary Undertakes New Yule Project

CLARKSTON — A completely different project is in operation by Clarkston Rotary club members this year in an effort to help needy families, according to Herbert Beach, club president.

A campaign to raise $600 to buy shoes and boots for children of unfortunate families is under way.

Club members are selling Christmas fruit cake to raise the funds, and they are "going like hotcakes," according to chairman Robert Jones.

In former years the group distributed baskets loaded with food, but found that other organizations had also supplied the same families.

Michigan Farmers Get Slightly Higher Prices

LANSING (UPI) — The index of prices received by Michigan farmers in mid-November rose one-half of a one per cent from October but was down five per cent from a year ago, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

The slight increase from October was due mainly to higher prices for wheat, potatoes, beans, apples, onions, chickens and turkeys. These were partially offset by declines for meat animals, especially beef.

Swamp Fever on Rise

LANSING (UPI) — Swamp fever is increasing among the 33,000 horses on Michigan farms, the State Agriculture Department reported. However, the department said a further spread of the disease in the winter months is unlikely since it is transmitted by mosquitoes and flies.

There is a definite interest on the part of newspaper readers in advertising placed by local merchants. The Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading shows that throughout the year, the median readership of one or more local ads by women is 94 per cent; by men, 74 per cent.

State Fire Control Year Second Best

LANSING (AP) — Michigan will chalk up its second best year in forest fire control in 1959, the State Conservation Department reported.

Since early spring, 716 fires have damaged 3,662 acres of public and private land. This approaches the record set in 1956 when 706 fires burned 3,420 acres.

The department said public observance of fire-safety practices greatly lightened the burden on fire-fighting forces this year.

State Paves Way to Fort Restoration

LANSING (AP)—Historic Fort Michilimackinac will be restored to its original state under $500,000 in bond issues planned by the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

The commission yesterday approved a $150,000 issue to start the project about March 1. The restored fort, situated near Mackinaw City, will be opened to the public July 1.

"With luck, we'll have the whole project completed in two or three years," said Dr. Eugene T. Petersen, the commission's director of historical projects. "We are hopeful that it will rival the Mackinac Bridge as a tourist attraction."

The bond issue, still to be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission, will be retired by admission charges to the fort — 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The fort, built by the French in 1715, was one of the most important fur trading outposts on the Great Lakes. Taken over by the British in 1761, it was a starting point in the search for the Northwest Passage to the Pacific.

The structure was abandoned in 1780 and came into American hands when the United States took over the northwest territories in 1796.

Logs from the western Upper Peninsula will be used this spring to rebuild the stockade, Petersen said. A barracks will be built on the site of the actual barracks which quartered soldiers stationed at the fort.

Inside will be a display of hundreds of artifacts — broken swords, buttons, religious medals and other items — uncovered by an archaeological team headed by Dr. Moreau S. Maxwell of Michigan State University.

The second phase of the project, to begin after archaeologists have completed their work, will restore nearly 30 other buildings in the stockade.

A similar project, began two years ago and using the same bonding plan, financed restoration of Fort Mackinac on nearby Mackinac Island.

From admission fee profits, the commission yesterday agreed to retire $45,000 of $125,000 in bonds issued the past two years.

Nearly 165,000 visitors this year paid more than $74,000 in admissions, a 50 per cent increase over 1958. More improvements are planned next year, Petersen said.

Legion Post to Hear Membership Report

A report on the membership drive of Chief Pontiac American Legion Post 377 in Waterford Township will be given at a meeting 8 p.m. Thursday.

All post officers and committee chairmen have been asked to attend and present reports.

If the post reaches its goal of 270 members by Dec. 31, District Commander William Plummer has promised the organization a celebration party.

Recall Virginia Bruce? She's Back — and Beautiful

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She has the same peaches-and-cream skin, the lovely blonde hair. A pound or two has been added, but at 49 Virginia Bruce is still strikingly beautiful.

She's back in movies after a 10-year absence, playing Kim Novak's mother in "Strangers When We Meet."

THOMAS

When you point out that this is hardly credible, she readily admits her age and remarks that she has a daughter by John Gilbert the same age as Kim, 26.

Miss Bruce has had a life with many triumphs and a sizable share of tragedies. She talked candidly about them as she prepared for her film return.

Her marriage to Gilbert ended in divorce. She remembers him fondly.

"Everyone says that his voice killed his career when sound came in," she remarked. "That wasn't true. He had a wonderful, romantic voice. But the love scenes he did in silents weren't the same in sound. He said to Catherine Dale Owen 'I love you, I love you, I love you,' and they threw tomatoes at the screen."

STORMY MARRIAGE

Her second marriage, to MGM bigwig J. Walter Rubin, ended with his death in 1942. In 1946, she married a wealthy Turk, Ali Ipar. Their union has prevailed, but under the most difficult of circumstances.

The marriage started stormily when an over-cooperative U.S. Army Sergeant gave Ali an illegal pass. The pair was wed before the posse arrived to haul him back to camp.

"Then Ali had to put in service in the Turkish army," she recalled. "The law said no Turk married to a foreigner could be an officer. Enlisted personnel live in unbelievable squalor, so we decided to get divorced. You can do that by just signing a paper in Turkey.

"We went on living together for the year he was in the Army. Everything was the same, except that Ali had to hide on the balcony whenever the doorbell rang. When he got out of the army, we were married again.

"My son, Chris Rubin, hated living in Turkey. He had been back here with relatives, but I decided to return and give him some kind of home."

Miss Bruce lives here with Chris, 18, and sees her husband seldom. "It's pure hell," she admitted. "I haven't seen him since July, because he is so involved in his shipping business in Turkey. But he is trying to arrange things so he can gradually retire and settle down here."

Admission rates to general hospitals in the U.S. for the treatment of ulcers have quadrupled since the 1930's, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

Fire Damage Up in Waterford

Doubles in November Over October; Same Number of Calls

Waterford Township firemen answered 41 calls, the same number in November as they did in October.

However, direct fire loss was doubled.

In October, fire damages were $3,240 and in November $6,950 according to estimates by the firefighters. The fire loss total for this year is $14,767.

The township Building Department reported 50 new houses constructed with permits issued for building valued at $247,000.

Commercial permits included $5,400 for an addition to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children on Telegraph road, another $4,700 addition to the Richardson Dairy on Highland road, and installation of gasoline storage tanks at 221 Creston St., valued at $3,125.

Ike to Attend 'Zipped Up' Church Service

ROME (UPI) — President Eisenhower will attend communion at St. Paul's American Church Sunday and hear a "zipped up" music service, the Rev. Gerardus Beekman said today.

The rector, 44, said "Eisenhower himself asked for music and since he asked for it, we'll give him a communion service zipped up by a little music."

She Reigns as Governor for 4 Hours in Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The reign of Thelma Stovall as governor Thursday was brief but happy for at least five persons.

Two men received pardons and the prison sentences of the three others were commuted.

Mrs. Stovall is secretary of state. When Gov. A. B. Chandler and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield took a trip to Cincinnati she was next in line as acting governor. Her reign lasted four hours.

Payola Language in Dictionary Form

Go, Man, Go, for Bread, Not Splash

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Payola is a headline and household word now. But how about the rest of the language of the payola world? Man, you gotta have help. Here's a handy, like hip, glossary:

Go, Man, Go—Kids still scream it to exhort a performer to go right out of his mind and to "wig" (formerly "flip his wig.")

Wig—When a cat wigs, you know he's where he can't come back anymore; he's so far out, he's back.

Crumbs—Small bread.

Payola—A guy might say, "Lay some splash on me, dad." Splash? That's change, man. Variety, the show biz paper, in a learned disquisition in 1952 traced the payola back to the Victorian era in England—but said it probably originated centuries before that.

In a payola pitch for ballad plugging, Victorian publishers splashed singers from half a guinea to three guineas for each performance of a given song.

Loot—Gifts such as vacations, freezers, TV sets and all that jazz.

Hype—A record that companies and distributors are pushing, although quality-wise it may not warrant such treatment.

Wise—A suffix that everybody tacks onto words; like, I mean, "He's all right talent-wise, but how is he wisdom-wise?" (Borrowed from Mad. Ave.)

To lay-on (a record)—Same as hype.

Bombsville—That's what the bombs are in.

Went nowhere—Means the record was a bomb.

The flip (formerly flip side)—Means the other side of a record, sometimes the secondary side.

Like—Like, splash me; like, you splash me good, I'll lay-on the record. A word that you stick onto the front of your speech—like a bumper fronts a car—where it sounds like good, like a good like should. The classic illustration is about the hipster standing in front of birdland and sees a hurtling fire engine bearing down on him, and he shouts: "Like help!"

Religioso (a Variety coinage)—A record this is pseudo-religious, or, maybe better, quasi-religious. What they say of a disc jockey who takes: "He's got his hand out."

Freebies—Records that go to disc jockeys that are not paid for. The report is that thousands are given out. The deejay gives them to the kids at record hops. Also, records sent free by companies to distributors in hope of hype. "Freebie" is also an old Broadway term meaning a free ticket to a show—a walk-in.

Record hop—A jock takes a load of records to a gym or theater and the kids dance.

Deejay—D.J., man. The jock himself. Spelled disc or disk, depending on which deejay society you consult.

Give it a ride—Play it. "I gave it a ride at 8:03 a.m."

Plugger—A person hired by a song publisher or record company to get the record played. If the desire is strong enough, the plugger may be told to lay-on the record by payola—spread the bread—or just by ordinary hype (take the man out to dinner and tell what a great record it is).

LP—A record album.

Single—A 45-rpm record.

Risk jockey—Jockeys who're doing a lot of talking about money paid them (this is a very new expression).

Teamsters Will Ignore Pickets

Hoffa Says His Union Mustn't Court Danger of Lawsuits

CHICAGO (AP)—Members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will be told to ignore most picket lines of other unions, says President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa told a news conference here Wednesday.

"All Teamster locals will have orders to drive through recognitional, organizational and primary picket lines. The Teamsters will make an exception on primary picket lines if the striking union will guarantee the Teamsters against any possible loss through lawsuits, government action or any other expense incurred by the Teamsters."

Hoffa said:

"It's too bad if we no longer can help other unions win strikes, but why should we pay and jeopardize ourselves when we were the only union to fight the (Landrum-Griffin) Law?"

The average family earned $3,320 in 1948—and $6,220 in 1958. In 1948, national advertisers invested $389,261,000 in daily newspapers—and $719,049,000 in 1958—to reach these families and convert them from shoppers to purchasers.

Michigan Has Christmas Gift for 250 Prisoners

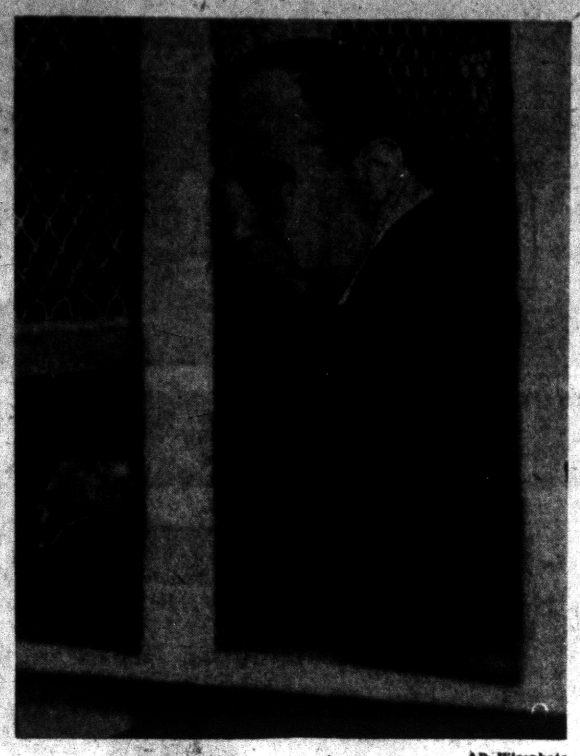

LANSING (AP)—It should be a Merry Christmas for some 250 state prisoners now spending their last weeks behind bars.

All prisoners eligible for release between Dec. 14 and Jan. 2 will be given their discharge papers the week of Dec. 14 — in time to spend Christmas with their families.

William F. Eardley, director of paroles for the State Corrections Department, said 239 prisoners were released under the Christmas policy last year. Eardley said the total is expected to be slightly higher this season.

Those who have completed their sentences receive the traditional $10 bill and a suit of clothes.

Those without funds are eligible for no-interest loans of up to $40, to be repaid within 90 days.

Police admit they lacked evidence on which to issue a murder complaint but said they were holding him 72 hours for questioning.

Lady Bug Takes Nap; Is Awakened for TV

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Lady bug, lady bug, fly away home—or you'll wind up in cold storage on a television sound stage.

That's what happened to some 3,000 luckless lady bugs this week, 2,999 of whom were stand-ins for the star insect.

The man in all these lady bugs' lives is Bernie Levine, property man for Columbia Studios whose job it is to buy, borrow or steal the necessary props or "things" called for in movie and TV scripts.

His latest script, "Lady Bug," for the Goodyear TV program required a single such bug for an important story point, and therein lies a tale of frustration, exhaustion and final triumph.

"After I read the script I began asking around about lady bugs," Levine explained. "But it turns out they were out of season. I called old contacts who handle insects, snakes, lizards and other reptiles, and they told me lady bugs hibernate this time of year—just like bears, which I never knew before. "Bugs are hard enough to find. Hibernating bugs are impossible."

HAD SORE KNEES

Undaunted, Levine crept around on all fours for 2½ days in private gardens, public parks and abandoned lots. No lady bugs.

"All I got was sore knees, numb elbows and scratches from thorns," he complained. "I did turn up a lotta worms, slugs, ants, grasshoppers and one praying mantis. Then I heard about this guy in Yuba City, Calif., who breeds lady bugs. Can you beat that?

"Well, I call and tell him I want one lady bug to crawl through the works of a big clock for a TV show. He thinks I'm nuts and says he can't sell 'em to me in less than 3,000-bug lots. Big economy size is a gallon can of bugs for $7. He breeds 'em because they eat destructive insects.

"Anyway, a few days later this sack of lady bugs arrives, and I have to keep them in the refrigerator so they can keep sleeping it off.

"Every 24 hours I had to sprinkle them with water. Then when I needed one bug for the show I held him—or her, as the case may be—in front of a heater. The bug performed great, so we didn't need any of the stand-ins."

What happened to the 2,999 who didn't make the grade?

"Somebody forgot to water them," he said without remorse, "and we had to throw them out. Maybe they warmed up and flew away to find some other place to hibernate—all except the one we used in the show. It died of exhaustion."

"The Revolution," a suffragette newspaper founded in 1868 by Susan B. Anthony, had the motto: "The true Republic — men, their rights and nothing more; women, their rights and nothing less."

Syracuse Places 2 on AP All-America

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's explosive halfback, is a repeater and unbeaten Syracuse is the only team with two representatives on the Associated Press 1959 All America football team.

The team, representing every section of the country, is announced today after thorough sifting of the recommendations of 12 regional boards of newsmen.

Cannon, 23 and father of three, has been the chief offensive weapon of an L.S.U. team which has lost only one game in two years. Shotputter, weightlifter, and a 9.5 second sprinter, he was the team's "climax" man — always coming through in the big moments.

A highlight was his 89-yard punt return in the final minutes for the touchdown which pulled out a 7-3 victory over Mississippi. He gained 598 yards rushing and returned punts, kickoffs and intercepted passes for an additional 527 yards. He averaged 40.3 yards on his punts.

Schloredt, who lost sight of his left eye in a childhood accident, is another all-around performer, equally effective on offense and defense. Acclaimed the best pass defender in the far west, he also passed for 733 yards and five touchdowns, ran for 225 yards and scored 54 points.

Speed and deception are the trademarks of Flowers, a pre-law student whose shifty, stutter style of running enabled him to rack 773 yards on the ground. He also distinguished himself as pass catcher, blocker, line backer and quick-kick specialist.

Motty, who once thought he might have to forego football because of recurring dizzy spells, instead left the dizziness to his opponents. He carried the ball 93 times for 519 yards, returned kicks for 171, scored five times and also starred as passer and receiver.

Biggest man in the huge, mobile forward wall is Davis, whose 228 pounds were stretched over a 6-3 frame. He entered Syracuse as an end and later shifted to guard to become bulwark of the Orangemen's so-called "sizeable seven."

Stilt's 41 Big Help in Warriors' Win

Celtics Squeeze by Cincy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach John Castellani's Minneapolis Lakers may not be going anywhere in the National Basketball Assn. right now, but the youthful mentor isn't discouraged.

"We'll get going," he asserted last night after the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the Lakers 123-109 in the second game of a double-header.

In the opener Boston maintained its two game lead over Philadelphia in the Eastern division by defeating Cincinnati 114-111 behind Bill Sharman's 27 points and Bob Cousy's 25. Jack Twyman, who leads the NBA in scoring, racked up 32 for points for Cincinnati.

There was no other action in the NBA.

Castellani, 33, who is in his first year with Minneapolis after two seasons at Seattle University, said he felt his Lakers played a good game against the Warriors.

"But man that Chamberlain is devastating, fantastic," Castellani declared. "We couldn't contain him. He gets the ball and goes right over you."

Castellani referred to Warriors' star Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-1 Kansas All-America, who dumped in 41 points.

Castellani said the Lakers sorely miss 6-9 Vern Mikklesen, who retired last year. He also pointed out the club has been hit hard by injuries and is not in top physical condition.

"But we'll be coming along in about two weeks," he said confidently. "We'll be able to start running at full speed again and fast-breaking."

Agase Is Candidate for Argonauts' Job

EAST LANSING (AP)—Lou Agase heads for Toronto today amid a flurry of reports that the Michigan State assistant coach is slated to become the next head mentor of the Toronto Argonauts.

Agase said last night he planned to fly to the Canadian city to discuss contract terms with owners of the Canadian Big Four club.

Lew Hayman, director of the Argonauts, confirmed yesterday that Agase, MSU's offensive line coach under Duffy Daugherty, is a top contender for Toronto's empty top coaching berth.

Agase was in Toronto last weekend as a guest of the Argos.

"I don't want to mislead anyone," Hayman said. "I'm not saying that Agase will or won't be the coach. But at the moment no one has been signed to a contract."

Deal Is Still Aim of Tigers

Detroit Wants McMillan but Redlegs Insist on Getting Bunning

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Baseball's minor league meetings ended with lots of trade talk by the Detroit Tigers but nothing concrete in the way of a deal.

President Bill DeWitt, general manager Rick Ferrell and manager Jimmy Dykes said they were stymied every time they discussed trade at the meetings which concluded yesterday.

The Tigers have high hopes of finally swinging a deal next week when the Major League confabs convene at Miami Beach, Fla.

Elliott Brief on Illini

"The only contact I've had with Illinois was unofficial and very brief," Elliott said on return from a short vacation.

He did not deny that he might be interested in succeeding Ray Eliot as head football coach at the University of Illinois, but said:

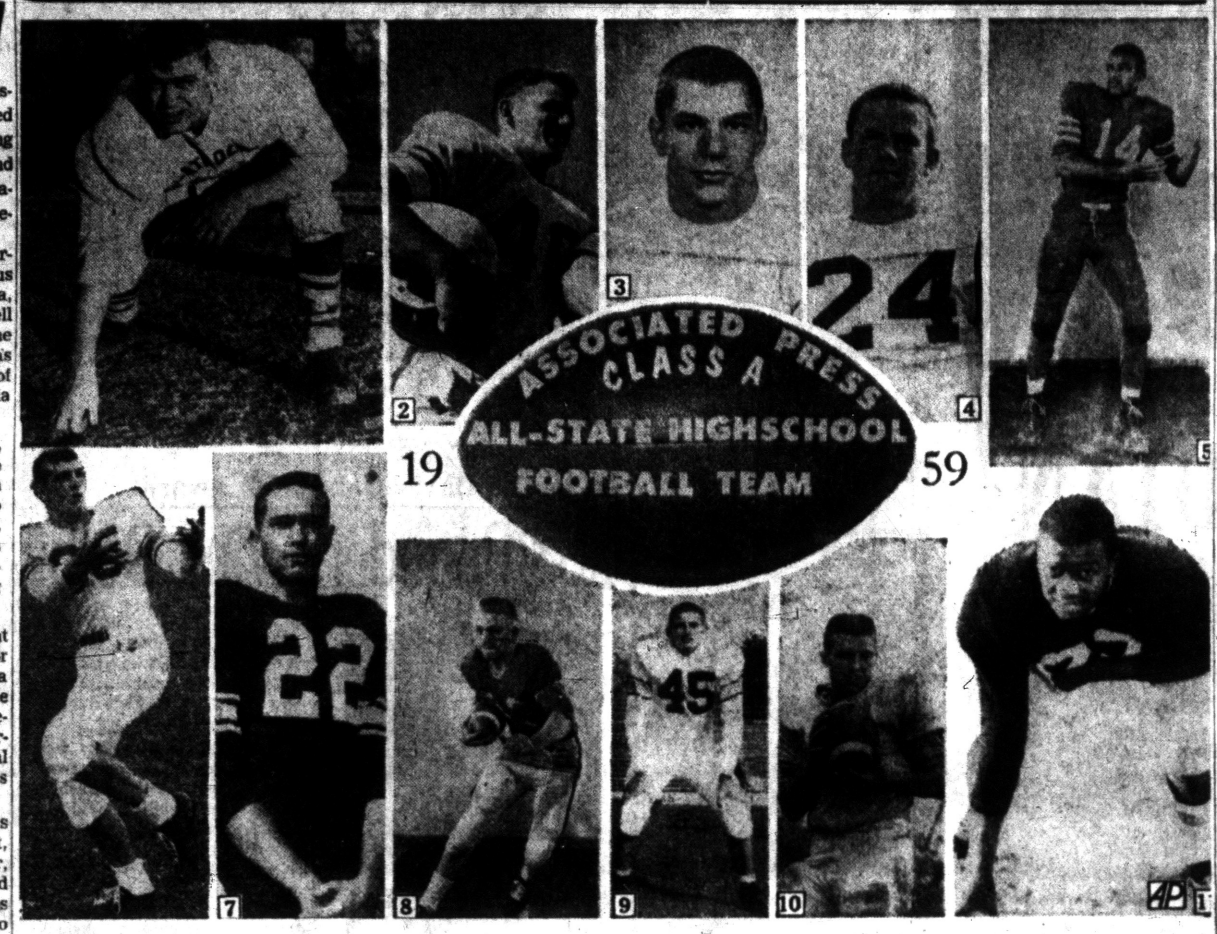

"I don't know anything about Illinois and I'm very happy at California," he said.

NORTHERN GIANTS — It doesn't cost anything to pretend, and the Pontiac Northern basketball team is pretending to be a gang of giants as they dunk the ball down into the hoop. This bit of trickery however will not scare Pontiac Central tonight as the two teams meet in the PCH gym. Left to right are Dennis Vincent, Dennis Harbert, Steve Thompson, Mike Fedynik and Bruce Norton. Actually, the only six-footer is Vincent.

All-State Honors for Brown

DETROIT (AP)—Eleven young athletes, outstanding both on the football field and in the classroom, ascended to the pinnacle of high school athletic greatness today when they were named to The Asociated Press 1959 All-State Class A football team.

The most researched, authoritative and respected team, drawing from the knowledge and experience of Michigan's 600 coaches and 100 sports writers and broadcasters, is the 19th annual edition named by The Associated Press. It is the only All-State team that gives every coach in Michigan an opportunity to vote.

BACKS—Swingle, Grand Haven; Sparkman, Plymouth; Troxel, Portage; Harper, Grosse Pointe; Prais, Dearborn Lowrey; Sluka, Grand Haven; Stokes, Trenton; Steckley, Detroit MacKenzie; Wilkie, Warren Fitzgerald; Auman, Bay City Central; Adkins, Detroit Chadsey; Baughman, Bay City Handy; Brown, Ferndale; Boles, Lansing Sexton; Chounaird, Lansing Sexton; Christian, Walled Lake; Egloff, Plymouth; Hodo, Flint Northern; MacGillivray, East Detroit; Graves, Pontiac Northern; Taylor, Ann Arbor; Ewing, University of Detroit High; Flynn, Mt. Pleasant; Harper, Detroit Eastern; Jones, Muskegon Catholic; Kelley, Detroit Cooley; LeZotte, Royal Oak Dondero; Longcore, Traverse City; Locke, Muskegon; Neely, Flint Southwestern; Hocking, Pontiac Northern; Bryce, Waterford; Chapman, Farmington; Dixon, Rochester.

A great backfield that boasts a pro-type passer, two breakaway runners capable of doing some fine passing on their own, and straight-ahead power runner is bolstered by an all-senior line that averages 200 pounds a man.

Seldom has the competition for positions been so keen. The state produced at least four top candidates at each position in the Class A ranks, and voters often decided first and second team berths by the margin of a single vote.

Competition was strongest at the ends, where Doug McDonald of Flint Southwestern and Matt Snorton of Detroit Northwestern beat out Jon Runquist of East Lansing and Doug Bickle of Traverse City.

The tackles are Larry Piotrowski, a combination end-tackle who spearheaded Bay City Central's powerful team, and Glenn Fletcher, ace lineman of Lansing Sexton's first title-winning team in a dozen years. He's Sexton's first All-Stater since 1947.

These two had a rugged time beating back the challenges of Tom Kresnak of Muskegon Catholic's strong club, and Aksi Kikut of Ann Arbor High.

Dick Ebel of Bay City Handy and Charles Brown of Pontiac Central made it decisively at the guards. Zurek, the first string center, had a big struggle on his hands against Gus Kasapis of Detroit Cooley, but Zurek's superior work on offense made the difference.

The quarterback is a refugee from the Class B ranks. An All-State second teamer last year when his school was still in Class B, rangy Doug Miller made the top grade in Class A this time.

Miller fired 42 completions in 68 tries for 15 touchdowns—punted for a 38.4 average and did such outstanding work that coach Vince Carillot called him "a team within a team."

The first team halfbacks are Richie Waite of Midland and Dave Vollmer of Detroit Redford. Vollmer scored 12 touchdowns and passed for four scores.

Waite is Midland's Mr. Everything. He rushed for 582 yards and a 4.8 average, completed 11 of 30 passes for 195 yards and 3 touchdowns, punted 28 times for a 36.8 average and played both halfback and quarterback. Waite, fast, elusive and still powerful despite his 165 pounds, played all the way on defense, too.

Pivot Works Single Cut

RETURN PASS TO POST

By JOE LAPCHICK

St. John's U. Basketball Coach Written for AP Newsfeatures

The single cut play with a return pass to the post or pivot man is a play in which we hope to break one of two players loose for a shot at the basket.

The pattern may look complicated but it is a play which often upsets the opposition.

As B reaches post D he takes D's pass. If D's defense switches when B dribbles, D pivots opposite the feed and receives return pass from B, dribbles and shoots. In fact, D pivots as he passes. If his defense stays with him so much the better for B. He is then in a position to dribble all the way in.

TOMORROW: Double Screen.

Two Share 1st Place in Senior Tourney

Goggin, of San Jose, Calif., is in the second half of the 551-man field and carded a 6-under-par 66 in the first round Wednesday.

Yesterday Labron Harris, of Stillwater, Okla., and Ernie Catropa of Bridgeport, Conn., snared the first-half lead. Harris fired a 74 and Catropa, a 73, both winding up with 145 for 36 holes.

The field will be cut to 100 for the final 36 holes tomorrow and Sunday.

Kelly to Get Coach Award

Beach Honored Monday

MARSHALL (AP)—Walter Beach, Central Michigan's star halfback, and Bill Kelly, the Chippewas' veteran coach, will be among those honored here Monday at the Associated Press' fourth annual state college luncheon.

Beach, a senior from Pontiac, recently was named to the first team of the Little All-America football squad. He and 21 other players will be awarded certificates here Monday, as members of AP's All-State small college team.

Kelly, who just completed 30 years of coaching with another sparkling season, was named Michigan's coach-of-the-year and will be given an appropriate award.

Big Names Take Court

Tonight at the Olympia, the NBA doubleheader will feature three of the finest players in the sport.

Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and his Philadelphia Warriors go against Bob Pettit and the St. Louis Hawks in the opener, while the Pistons meet Elgin Baylor and the Minneapolis Lakers in the nightcap.

Chiefs Favored Over Huskies on PCH Court

Crosstown Rivals Take First Step in Battle for Press Trophy

By BILL CORNWELL

It will be the opening game of the 1959-60 season for Northern, now ready to start its 2nd year of varsity competition under coach Dick Hall.

The Huskies, who are seeing their 1st year of combat in the Inter-Lakes Conference, played an independent schedule during the 1958-59 campaign and posted a 5-10 record.

One of their defeats was a 78-40 drubbing at the hands of Central in February at PNH in the 1st meeting on the hardwoods between the two crosstown foes.

It was most unfortunate for the Huskies that their intra-city basketball feud with the Chiefs began at a time when coach Art Van Ryzin had the greatest team he has known in his long and distinguished career on Huron street.

The Chiefs rolled to their 2nd Saginaw Valley title in three years, finished the regular schedule with an over-all 14-1 record, received recognition as Michigan's No. 1 Class A squad and went to the semifinals of the state tournament before losing to Hamtramck.

Much to Van Ryzin's discomfort, his eagers again are favored to win the Valley crown, despite the fact that all of last season's heavy scoring artillery — John Bandy, Harrison Munson, Charlie Barge and Amos Bailey — departed via graduation.

The Chiefs should be strong again this season with talented manpower available, although they face the loss of Bill Hayward through mid-year graduation and currently are hampered by the absence of Henry Robertson due to a fractured wrist.

Aside from a strong 4th-quarter rush when they rallied for victory, the Chiefs were unimpressive Tuesday evening while conquering Dearborn Edsel Ford, 52-44, in their season opener at the PCH gym.

Northern, which starts its Inter-Lakes campaign a week from tonight at Southfield, will be a decisive underdog against the Chiefs.

The Huskies will have only one six-footer in their starting lineup, 6-1 Dennis Vincent, and on paper they simply do not have the manpower to compete with such agile rebounders as 6-2 George Fed and 6-4 Bradell Pritchett. Nor do they appear to own Central's over-all scoring strength.

Northern is a young club and Hall has high hopes for better things next season since there are 11 juniors on the 12-man varsity roster. Vincent is the lone senior.

This evening's contest marks the 1st step in the battle for possession of The Pontiac Press all-sports trophy, a perpetual award which will be held annually by the school compiling the most points in athletic competition between the two.

Lane Fights Jan. 13

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., and Ralph Dupas of New Orleans will meet in a 10-round fight Jan. 13 in Mobile's first nationally televised boxing bout, it was announced Thursday night.

Fullmer Confident of Win Tonight

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Rugged Gene Fullmer, the Mormon Sunday school teacher who holds the NBA world middle-weight title, doesn't predict he'll knock out challenger Spider Webb tonight, but he says he'll beat him.

Webb, the Chicagoan who attended Idaho State College 90 miles north of here, replied, "The better man will win. I think I'm the better man."

They battle over 15 rounds or less at the 7,000-capacity Utah State University fieldhouse, in the nationally televised NBC scrap starting at 10 p.m., EST.

It's the first defense for the West Jordan, Utah, fighter since he stopped Carmen Basilio in the 14th round last Aug. 28 at San Francisco, to win the National Boxing Assn. title. Fullmer is favored, 7-5, or 8-5, to win this one.

Webb may try the same strategy used by Robinson, who was taking a body pounding while Fullmer did the attacking. Suddenly, when Gene dropped his right hand in putting on pressure, Sugar Ray slammed home a left hook to score the only knockout register over the Utah boxer.

Webb says he isn't going out with the idea of knocking out the champion, but added, "If there is an opening, naturally I'll try to take him out."

Fullmer says, "If he keeps going away I'll have to go after him. But I've got the championship and he's got to take it away."

Neither will have any worries about making the 160 pound limit.

Ned Winder, chairman of the new Utah Boxing Commission, outlined some of the rules to be in effect tonight. Scoring will be under the 10-point must system, with the winner of each round receiving 10 points and the loser 9 or less depending on his showing.

If the referee stops the fight for any reason except a count of 10, it goes as a technical knockout. The rule requiring a count of 8 on any knockdown is waived as is the one ending a bout if a fighter is knocked down three times in a round.

The commission will appoint a referee and two judges at fight time. Webb's manager, Hec Knowles, would prefer a referee from outside Utah, since this is Fullmer's home state.

Winder said he was "not prepared to say" what the commission would decide.

Knowles said he felt his Spider "must win big" to take the championship. Trainer Carl Nelson added, "It would be much easier all around if Webb scored a knockout."

Webb has won 33 and lost four, the last time to Fullmer in a close 10-rounder at Salt Lake City, Sept. 11, 1958. Spider has stopped 19.

Olson Top Man in MSU Debut

Hits for 33 in 96-67 Win; Spartans Loom as Big 10 'Mosquitoes'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Defending champion Michigan State should be the buzzing mosquito in the Big Ten basketball race this year. The Spartans are going to cause a lot of trouble and irritation.

In its debut last night, Michigan State bowled over Bowling Green 96-67. The Falcons were a team that was a co-champion of the Mid-American Conference last season and whipped Hillsdale 99-31 two nights ago.

Even MSU coach Forddy Anderson has said that Michigan State has no chance of repeating as conference titlist this year.

Top man for MSU was 6-4 forward Lance Olson who put in 33 points. He collected a dozen in the first half and then broke the game apart with three consecutive baskets after the intermission.

James F. Davis Gets $150 Award

263-Pounder Wins Derby

BIG WINNER — Here's the 1959 Pontiac Press "big buck derby" champion, and his prize entry. James F. Davies, Pontiac hunter, drowned the big, 10-pointer in the Upper Peninsula. He will receive $150 in U.S. Savings Bonds.

James F. Davis, 2369 Walnut Rd. Pontiac, yesterday afternoon emerged as the 1959 Pontiac Press "big buck derby" champion — and richer by $150 in United States Savings Bonds.

Davis' 263-pound, 10-point deer was entered in the last week of the contest, during a rush of big bucks, that shifted the derby lead many times. At least a dozen changes were made in the top buck before Davis returned from Fibre, in the Upper Peninsula. After that the closest any other entry came was 232 pounds.

Contest deadline was at noon Thursday. No other entry appeared at that time to challenge Davis' big deer.

The 1959 "champion" was downed on Nov. 20, when Davis spotted the buck standing in a swamp, with only its big rack and head showing. One shot from a .250 Savage dropped the prize, Davis' first buck in several years. This one was only his fourth, the lucky hunter said.

Muddy Waters Would Like— Mud—Water

Three Leagues Get Started on Biggest Schedule of New Year

By CHUCK ABAIR

The biggest schedule of the brand new basketball season is on tap tonight with local interest centered on the gyms at Waterford, Avondale, West Bloomfield, Orchard Lake St. Mary and Birmingham Groves.

Waterford will be taking on a bigger, more experienced Wayne quintet hoping to get off rolling towards improving last year's 5-10 record.

The game at Avon could be a 1st night showdown as strong Fitzgerald comes to town to help team the lid off the Oakland B race. Troy entertains Madison and Oak Park makes its loop debut at Clawson rounding out that slate.

Small West Bloomfield, which has Denis Alix as the "big" guy at 5-11, has its work cut out as host to an angry Clarkston five as the Wayne-Oakland gets started. The Wolves are fresh from a surprise licking by Ortonville, after being rated a power.

Orchard Lake is the only local Suburban Catholic team at home as that league gets under way this weekend. The Eaglets, 1958-59 winners, entertain St. Rita while St. Frederick goes to St. James. St. Michael waits until tomorrow night to ring up the curtain at St. Clement.

Joe Horein, new head man at Walled Lake, will get first look at the Vikings Saturday at Milford as the Redskins play two straight nights. Horein has been building around Bill Allen and Gary Wilkoff.

Several games of the non-league variety are on the slate for tonight.

Cranbrook will be out to even its record at Hazel Park, Ferndale visits Southfield, Farmington is at home to play Bentley and Royal Oak Dondero locks horns with Kimball in some of the top attractions.

Romeo is host to Roseville, Millington goes to Maple Grove, Mt. Clemens battles Warren Lincoln, Royal Oak Shrine, which has lost four players through transfers and injuries, is at home to meet Lourdes and Port Huron vs Flint Northern.

The Southern Thumb gets off the mark with a full schedule. Anchor Bay is guest of New Haven, Armada travels to Almont, Brown City vs Capac, and Dryden entertains Memphis.

Albion Whips Kazoo

ALBION (AP)—Albion stepped out ahead at the opening whistle and rolled over Kalamazoo 79-42 in the opening game of the MIAA basketball season last night.

Adolph Grundman with 18 points and Bill Losey with 17 led the Britons to their first victory after a non-conference defeat. Gordin Rotwin topped Kalamazoo with 20 points.

OW! OW! OW! — That's what Waterford 145-pounder Mike Johnson seems to be saying as Pontiac Central's Bob Smaglinski gives him the works in the opening prep match of the season at PCH last night. Smaglinski helped spark the Chiefs to a 41-11 romp by scoring a pin.

Central Matmen Whip Skippers

Pins by Bobby Kaiser, Henry Smith, Bob Smaglinski and Ermino Trevino sparked Pontiac Central to an impressive 41-11 romp over Waterford in the opening wrestling match of the season at PCH last night.

O'Connell Eyes Possible Return to Pro Football

DES MOINES (AP) — Tommy O'Connell, football coach at Drake University, confirmed Thursday that he has been approached about returning to professional ranks as a quarterback.

"But it would have to be the really right opportunity," said the 28-year-old O'Connell. He left the Cleveland Browns in 1957.

Dallas of the new American Football League is said to be seriously interested in the one-time Illinois passing star. O'Connell's only comment was:

"I've been approached. I'm interested but not shopping."

Top Draft Picks Agree to Lions' Terms

Denver to Minneapolis

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Denver's entry in the International Hockey League became the Minneapolis Millers Thursday.

Bob May, Denver coach, will be coach and general manager of the Minneapolis entry, which is owned by Ben Berger, formerly associated with the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Assn.

All-Star Pin Points

HANK LAUMAN

SHOULDER LEVEL IS LIMIT
By HANK LAUMAN

Wtih the completion of the third step, the ball should be at the top of the backswing, arriving there by its own momentum.

The backswing should be no higher, preferably lower, than shoulder level.

An exaggerated backswing, usually caused by pushing the ball away from the body too violently in the first step, results in a ball that is very difficult to control.

The bowler usually reaches the foul line on his fourth step with the ball well back of his left knee so that the ball must be forced through to the release point by sheer muscle power, and it cannot be directed properly. Either hold the ball in a lower starting position or employ a shorter push-away to correct this fault.

Although it is a less common error, too short a backswing also can prevent a good delivery. This makes it impossible to swing the ball forward with any speed and in most cases the ball will be "dumped" short of the foul line.

Hold the ball higher in the stance or use a longer push-away to carry the ball higher in the backswing.

Expect LSU Backs to Sign Pro Pacts Soon

Robinson and Rabb Assure Anderson They Want to Play

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions, who have had difficulty in recent seasons getting their top draft choices into the National Football League firing line, say they have their top selections for 1960 all lined up.

Halfback Johnny Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb, the No. 1 and 2 draft choices, have agreed to terms for 1960 and given every indication they will play for the Lions.

President - General Manager Edwin J. Anderson left the NFL draft meetings and went to Baton Rouge to discuss terms with the two Louisiana State players. They could not sign pro contracts now, Anderson pointed out, because they must retain college eligibility to play in the New Year's Day Sugar Bowl game against Mississippi.

"But the boys entered into a gentleman's agreement with the Lions and assured me they will be playing for the Lions next season," Anderson said. "I assume they'll sign their contracts sometime in January."

Both players actually lose their amateur standing in January, when Rabb quarterbacks the South team in the Senior Bowl and Robinson plays in the Hula Bowl against a collection of professional stars.

Detroit's coaches are certain both players will become frontliners in the pro ranks. Rabb is a fine passer although LSU has primarily a running offense, they said. And Robinson is a great defensive back in addition to his offensive ability — and would have received wider acclaim had it not been for his playing on the same team with Heisman Trophy winner Billy Cannon.

The news that both have agreed to Detroit terms is welcome, indeed, among Lions' fans.

Last year's No. 2 choice, guard Charlie Horton of Baylor, elected to play in Canada. A third round choice, Ron Koes, and a fourth round selection, Art Brandriff, failed to make the cut. Three of the top five choices were traded away in 1957.

North Squad Lists 25 for Annual Senior Bowl

Nineteen of the 25 have been drafted by National Football League teams and a majority also has been picked by clubs in the newly organized American Football League.

The roster includes four players from Syracuse, No. 1 in the Associated Press poll; one from Penn State; 10 from the Big Ten, two each from the Pacific and Atlantic Coast Conferences, three from the Missouri Valley; and two from the Big Eight.

The North quarterbacks are two fine passers, Jack Lee of Cincinnati and Olen Treadway of Iowa. Among the halfbacks are the fourth and fifth-ranking scorers in the nation, Ed Kovac of Cincinnati and Ger Schwedes of Syracuse.

The North squad will be coached by Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants. His rival as South coach is Weeb Ewbank, of the Baltimore Colts.

The game will be played in 40,500 capacity Ladd Stadium. It will be televised nationally by the National Broadcasting System.

Montreal Loses 2nd Straight, 7-4

Rangers End Winless Streak for New Coach Pike

By The Associated Press

Thing are looking up for Coach Alf Pike and his New York Rangers after the Broadway Blues presented him with his first victory since he took over the club in mid-November.

The Rangers whipped the National Hockey League leading Montreal Canadiens 7-4 on Montreal ice last night to snap a seven-game winless streak. It was the only game played.

The Canadiens went down to their second straight defeat, having had their 18-game unbeaten skein come to an end Wednesday night at the hands of the Toronto Maple Leafs 1-0.

Montreal now has lost four games this season with the Rangers administering two of the setbacks. The other was 4-2 on Oct. 17 and it also came at the Forum.

The Rangers broke the game open with a three-goal outburst in the second period after the teams had been tied 2-2 at the end of the opening stanza. Dean Prentice and Eddie Shack triggered the powerful New York attack with two goals each.

Lopsided Victories in City Basketball

T & C had excellent scoring balance in a 63-40 rout of Smith's Fuel Oil, led by Earl Mudge and Nordman with 12 points apiece. John Lovelace made 14 in a losing cause.

Jim Dempsey collected 20 points to pace Eastside's easy 56-36 win over the Pontiac Police. City League competition resumes on Monday night.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Rec. Basketball Starts Monday at Waterford

Thirteen teams are registered in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's men's basketball program and the 1959-60 season will begin next Monday evening.

Eight teams will compete in the top division. They include defending champion Drayton Drug, managed by Bob Pickett; runnerup White Swan, Harry Dearborn; Johnson & Anderson, Wallace Coombe; Speedway 79, Dale Jacobs; Rocco's, Bud Thomason; Lakeland Pharmacy, Gene Nickman; Northern Faculty, Jack Fear; unsponsored club, Al Serra.

There are five clubs in the lower division. Included are Home Equipment, managed by Henry Wolfe; Falcons, Phil Felice; Golden Greeks, Steve Gabriel; Kuhn's Auto Wash, Dick Kuhn; Dickie's Marathon, Erv Thompson.

Only two players on any team can live outside of Waterford Township or the school district, the recreation department reports.

Games will be played Monday through Thursday each week, starting next Monday night, at Crary and Pierce junior high schools. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Grand Rapids C.C. Celebrates State Honor

About 2,000 teen-agers responded lustily when Dan Hanley Jr., United Press International Bureau Manager at Grand Rapids, told how the Cougars were picked as the state's No. 1 class A prep grid team and voted fullback Bob Quist the outstanding football player of the year.

Fazio Leader in Tournament

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dark horse Buz Fazio of Detroit rolled to a slim nine-pin lead last night at the end of the first day of preliminaries in the 3rd annual World Invitational Bowling Tournament.

Fazio bowled a 1,322-pin total, followed by Dick Weber of St. Louis, with 1,313 and Martin Piraino of Syracuse, N.Y., with 3,111. Early leader Bob Kwolek of Detroit ranked fourth with 1,302.

Grain Futures Move in Narrow Range

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures worked in a narrow range both ways from previous closes today in early dealings on the Board of Trade but soybeans were firm and fairly active.

Commercial influences again were rather meager. India bought 350,000 bushels more of hard wheat and small amounts of corn were sold to Europe overnight. The market, however, showed little reaction to those sales.

The Department of Agriculture also accepted subsidy bids of 2 to 6 cents a bushel on 2,134,680 bushels of corn for export, the largest single clearance in several weeks. More than half the grain will be shipped by the end of February.

After an hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel lower, December $1.97¼; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, December $1.09¾; Oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, December 78; rye ¼ to ⅞ lower, December $1.32⅞; soybeans unchanged to ⅜ higher, January $2.19¼.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Zoning Board of Independence Township, Oakland County, Michigan, will hold a public Hearing on December 8, 1959, 7:30 P.M., at the Township Hall, Clarkston, Michigan, to consider the following changes in Township Zoning Districts:

Part of the SW¼ of Section 29, T 4 N, R 9 E, Independence Township, Oakland County, Michigan, described as beginning at a point located on the south line of Sylvan Drive in vacated Clarkston Estates No. 1, S 89° 36' 15" W 75.00 feet and S 0° 06' 00" W 240.00 feet and N 84° 10' 40" W 359.79 feet and N 85° 37' W 25 feet more or less from the center of said Section 29; Thence from said point of beginning S 0° 06' 00" W 692 feet more or less; Thence N 60° 05' 50" W 320 feet more or less to Sylvan Drive; Thence on a curve to the left along the east line of Sylvan Drive (R=280') an arc distance of 115.5 feet more or less; Thence on a curve to the right (R=1590 feet) an arc distance of 169.65 feet; Thence on a curve to the right (R=248 feet) an arc distance of 410.9 feet more or less to the point of beginning. Containing 3.2 Acres more or less. Said parcel being that part of vacated Clarkston Estates No. 1 as recorded in Liber 48, Page 24 of Oakland County Plats, lying south and east of Sylvan Drive (now known as Hidden Lane) and 420 feet west of the west R. O. W. line of Highway M-15 and 300 feet north of the north R. O. W. line of Highway US-10. Said description is intended to cover all that area of vacated Clarkston Estates No. 1 lying south and east of Sylvan Drive, so called, which is not presently zoned for commercial use with the intent that all property bounded by M-15, Sylvan Drive and US-10 will be under commercial zoning upon completion of this zoning request.

Escapes Bad Injury as Car Overturns

Joseph Kemezis, 51, of 1550 Burrus St., Ortonville, escaped serious injury yesterday when the car in which he was riding overturned on M24 in Oxford Township.

Kemezis was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released. His wife Hazel, 48, who was driving, was uninjured, sheriff's deputies said.

She told deputies the car flipped over when she tried to avoid hitting an auto which pulled onto the highway ahead of her.

Auditor for UAW, 50, Dies in Muskegon Motel

MUSKEGON (AP) — Elmer L. Wilson, 50, an auditor for the United Auto Workers Union and a pioneer UAW organizer in Saginaw, died at a Muskegon motel yesterday of a heart attack.

Wilson was for 17 years financial secretary of Chevrolet Foundry Local 668 of the UAW in Saginaw. He joined UAW International headquarters as an auditor in 1956.

Market Clings to Upside Edge

Narrow changes were the order of the day as the market seemed to be having trouble in shaking off an irregular pattern.

Steels and motors swung over to the plus side with mostly fractional gains, but observers noted many small losses on the list as a whole. Aircrafts were weak.

The uncertain labor picture in steel added to the market's hesitant approach, providing a marked contrast to hopes late yesterday that some sort of agreement might be worked out.

Far-sighted traders also looked ahead with apprehension to labor difficulties on the railroads.

Rails mostly were lower, erasing some of their recent gains, while the oil group also turned mixed. Electronics had a brief spurt of popularity early in the session, then settled back.

A few specialties managed gains of a point and more, notably Hertz, Revlon and Fruehauf Trailer. Hertz was off yesterday while brokers thought Revlon's rise could be traced to a normal technical recovery after the beating the issue took during the TV quiz hearings.

American Motors put on a fresh drive, rising more than a point, but other motors were ahead only slightly.

Similarly, losses among aircrafts were restricted to fractions of a point. Drugs were strong with Merck, Pfizer and Schering all around a point ahead. The industry faces congressional scrutiny next week.

Oxford's Ray Industries Buys Major Portion of Detroit Concern

OXFORD — A local business firm has purchased major assets of a Detroit boat-building concern and expects to employ 35 to 40 people when operations begin after the first of the year.

C. N. Ray, president of Ray Industries, Inc., said his company has bought out Carr-Craft, Inc., of Detroit, a concern which manufactures fiber glass boats of the type used by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department water patrol.

Ray has announced he will retain the Detroit company's founder, Ronald R. Carr, as director of manufacturing.

He also will keep the present company personnel of eight, adding others when the move is completed.

The new shop will be in the former Nutt Mfg. building at 2900 Indianwood Rd., Orion Township.

Because of the need for additional room to house the new operation, some space at the Ray warehouse in Rochester will be utilized.

Falls Into Car Changing Tire in Area Township

He was not held. Deputies have been unable to take a statement from the injured man.

News in Brief

John A. Regner, 46, of 2436 Pauline Dr., Waterford Township, was found guilty of drunk driving yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. He was fined $100 or 15 days in the Oakland County Jail. Regner appealed the case to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Marion Craig; 22 Barbour Lane, Bloomfield Hills, reported to Pontiac police last night that someone stole her purse containing $36.

GOP Rally Tonight May Be Test

Will Rep. Ford Get VP Nod?

Oakland County Congressman William S. Broomfield will be among seven Michigan Republican congressmen who will be honored at a rally at Detroit's Latin Quarter tonight.

The affair is expected to be a test of U.S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. (R-Grand Rapids) and his favorite son chances for the vice presidential nomination.

On the surface, 800 Michigan Republicans were meeting only to honor seven of the state's 11 GOP congressmen.

But special recognition was expected to be given to Ford, a six-term congressman who is a close associate of Vice President Richard Nixon and has campaigned for him in the past.

Many state Republican leaders have made no secret of the fact that they hope to make Ford Michigan's favorite-son candidate for the vice presidency at the GOP national convention in Chicago next July 23.

The move was also seen as a desire to gain support for vice president Nixon as the party's presidential candidate.

Other GOP congressmen to be honored will be Reps. George Meader of Ann Arbor, Charles E. Chamberlain of East Lansing, Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, Robert P. Griffin of Traverse City, and Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie.

Ford is in his sixth term in the U.S. House of Representatives where he is a member of the influential appropriations committee. The former University of Michigan football player is a close friend of Nixon's.

Paul D. Bagwell, the GOP's unsuccessful candidate for governor in the last election and titular head of the state party, will introduce the congressmen.

Other party leaders at the dinner will be Martin, State GOP Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer, National Committeewoman Rae C. Hooker of Mount Pleasant, and Wayne County Republican Chairman Norman O. Stockmeyer.

Waterford Board OKs Plans for 2 Schools

Architectural plans and specifications for two new Waterford Township elementary schools were given final approval last night at a special meeting of the Board of Education.

Bruce Smith of the architectural firm of Smith and Smith of Royal Oak presented the plans for a 12-room school on Pontiac Lake road and a 14-room unit on Merrie road north of Pontiac Lake road.

Construction bids will be opened at a special meeting Dec. 23. Work will begin immediately after contracts have been awarded.

AUTHORIZED BORROWING

The loan was approved on the strength of anticipated 1959-60 state aid.

Superintendent of Schools William Shunck said the loan was necessary because the state owes the Waterford Township school district $207,365 in 1959-60 state aid funds.

A hearing on setting up a special assessment district for street lights in the Stringham school area will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Township Hall.

Residents in the Elizabeth Lake road area had petitioned the Township Board for the street lights and the Board of Education has been informed it will be responsible for payment of nine assessments on school property at a cost of $19.62 annually.

One of the street lights would be installed approximately 150 feet west of the eastern boundary of the school property facing Elizabeth Lake road.

WEST OF BOUNDARY

The Board of Education approved spending $2,168 as its share of relocating electric telegraph poles and lines to the new Pontiac Lake School.

The Detroit Edison Co. will assume the remaining 50 per cent of the cost.

Labor Reform Chief Says He's No Czar

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Holcombe, lawyer and career government administrator, today was picked to head the bureau that will police the anticorruption provisions of the new labor law.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Holcombe will be responsible for running down all complaints and violations involving unions and employers under the law's provisions.

"No, indeed; I consider myself a career civil servant charged with administering a law adopted by Congress. I intend to make sure it is administered right down the middle of the road with no undue restraints on anyone."

Holcombe said he has always wanted to get into the labor-management field and trained for it before he entered the Army in World War II. He wound up the war as a 33-year-old colonel. He now is 48.

He comes to the key Labor Department post from the job of director of the Defense Department's office of programming and control.

Sentence Suspended in Death of 73 Babies

BORDEAUX, France (AP) — A French court today gave pharmacist Jacques Cazenave an 18 months suspended sentence for negligence in selling an arsenic-tainted baby powder responsible for the death of at least 73 infants.

The trial aroused intense emotions in France.

The prosecution charged Cazenave with extreme negligence in compounding the powder in his small laboratory and failing to make normal tests of the ingredients.

Cazenave said he purchased the usual chemical products and had no idea they would be unsafe.

Breaking Out or In?

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Leonard W. Baker, 18, began a 50-day prison sentence today for damaging a shower room wall in an attempt to break out of the city stockade. What Baker, convicted of petty larceny, learned later was that he could have walked out unmolested. The stockade is operated on the honor system for prisoners convicted of minor crimes.

Furnishings Shop to Open Saturday on Telegraph

Country Galleries, a new home furnishings and interior decorating shop, opens Saturday at 1941 South Telegraph Rd. The shop is in the building formerly occupied by Ward Ross, Inc.

Four women own and work in the new business. Jan DiMarco is president; Lillian Hagerman and Naomi Hobrock are vice presidents; and Kay Shannon is secretary-treasurer. On the staff is Herb Winges of Rochester, an artisan in fine woods.

One-of-a-kind art objects and antique furniture, lamps, rugs, fabrics, paintings and dried floral arrangements are some of the items offered for sale.

In addition, the shop will accept orders for custom made rugs and furniture and advise on home decorating problems.

Store hours are 9:30 to 5:30 six days a week.

GM Tells Strike Damage

The corporation's various divisions produced only 22,140 cars and trucks last month, compared with 313,950 during the same period a year ago, when there was no strike.

One exception was GMC Truck & Coach Division, which has maintained same production right along.

Despite the strike, corporation figures show that the first 11 months of this year still saw a higher output than 1958.

Pontiac Motor Division's output last month was a mere 120 units, compared with 29,851 a year ago. GMC Truck & Coach Division was down to 1,187 units last month, compared to 7,418 a year ago.

Chevrolet, 8,923 and 136,138; Oldsmobile, 72 and 37,183; Buick, 2,876 and 38,007; Cadillac, none and 14, 368; Chevrolet trucks, 7,333 and 33,472.

Pontiac Motor Division's output for the first 11 months of this year was 360,273 units, compared with 180,967 during the same period a year ago. GMC Truck & Coach Division's 1959 figures through Nov. 30 were 73,110 units, compared with 56,896 units during the same period a year ago.

Chevrolet, 1,309,060 and 1,067,537; Oldsmobile, 337,192 and 265,178; Buick 209,201 and 213,337; Cadillac, 126,651 and 108,234; Chevrolet trucks, 305,244 and 240,313.

Two Promoted in Public Works

Ringler and Castle Are Elevated in County's Department

Two promotions in the Oakland County Department of Public Works were announced today by R. J. Alexander, new director.

Both have been approved by the Board of Public Works.

Elevated to the post of acting deputy under Alexander was Donald W. Ringler, 33, of 3020 Francesca Dr., Drayton Plains, chief engineer since the department's inception in 1957.

Replacing Ringler, a 1949 engineering graduate of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, will be Richard L. Castle, 33, of 22030 Jerome St. Oak Park.

STARTED IN AUGUST

Castle started with the DPW in August as Ringler's assistant. He was city engineer and director of public works in Oak Park.

Alexander said the Board of Public Works decided to make both Ringler's and Castle's new positions acting as part of a "common practice" in the county.

Schone retained his acting status throughout his two years with the department. Alexander said they'll retain the temporary titles for six months.

Ringler will receive $12,500 and Castle $10,000.

Teamster Monitors Concentrate on Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)— Court-appointed monitors, charged with the task of cleaning up the Teamsters Union, now are giving their major attention to the handling of funds of James R. Hoffa's Detroit local.

Hoffa, president of the international Union, also heads Detroit Local 299.

A spokesman for the monitors said today considerable spadework already has been done in their investigation into how $500,000 of Local 299 funds happened to be deposited interest free in the Florida National Bank of Orlando.

Boy Steals 2 Pool Balls — 30 Days

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A 17-year-old youth was sentenced to 30 days of solitary confinement in Berrien County Jail yesterday on a charge of petty larceny in the theft of two pool balls.

Municipal Judge Harry Laity said Bobby Foster of Benton Harbor could see no one but a doctor and minister and read nothing but religious matter during his 30 days in jail.

The judge specified that Foster especially would not be permitted to read comic books.

Police officials and veteran law authorities could not recall another instance of a young offender being sentenced to solitary confinement in the county.

Judge Laity said he was sentencing Foster to solitary confinement "to give him the chance to find himself" and "to learn to pull his own weight."

Police said Foster had a record of five arrests as a juvenile and three since becoming 17 last January.

Pakistan's 1958-59 tobacco crop increased by 16 million pounds or 7.9 per cent over '57-'58.

Traffic Death Toll Is Halted

October Figure 5 Pct. Under 1958 but Count for Year Higher

CHICAGO (AP) — The steep, steady climb of the nation's traffic death toll has been halted.

The October total was five per cent below the tally for October, 1958. It was the first month of this year to show a decline. And the number of fatalities, 3,420, was the lowest for any October in 10 years.

The National Safety Council, in reporting the figures today, said the toll for the first 10 months of this year was 30,560—two per cent above the total for the corresponding period of 1958.

The decrease was recorded in October after monthly increases that ranged as high as eight per cent early in the year.

Disabling injuries in traffic accidents through the first 10 months of this year were estimated at 1,100,000.

The Council also estimated that travel in the first 10 months of this year was up four per cent compared with the corresponding period of last year.

The January - through - October mileage death rate — number of fatalities per 100 million miles of travel—was 5.3, the lowest on record for the period covered.

The council, urging caution, stated: "Just ahead of us is the Christmas holiday season, the most dangerous period of the year."

Religious Film Firm Seeks Muskegon Site

MUSKEGON (AP) — Gospel Films, Inc., of Muskegon seeks four acres of county-owned land as the site of new studios it plans to build for its production of religious movie films.

County Clerk Eugene R. Bergerson yesterday said the firm's $5,000 bid will go before the Board of Supervisors Dec. 10.

'Big Party' Still Entertains but Forgets Original Idea

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The Big Party," or big potpourri, achieves the impossible. It manages to be entertaining and exasperating at the same time.

The 90-minute special started its run on CBS-TV this season as an exciting reproduction of an extra special party. The guests used to engage in shop talk and tell jokes.

The cameras kept moving among them to heighten the spontaneous mood. The guests smoked and sipped drinks. They moved.

Since that auspicious start, the big party has slipped. Last night, for example, each act came on, did a bit, made room for a commercial — and this procedure was repeated for the full 90 minutes.

Some "party"! More like the Ed Sullivan Show. The camera work was static, except when Harry Belafonte was introduced and when Jose Greco and company performed.

All fine stuff.

Bobby Darin also appeared. I think now that he has been on every TV show he can take a long vacation.

Those Jack Paar-Mickey Rooney exchanges have raised a few questions: — Paar said he thought Rooney was "putting him on" and then said it was the first time he ever got a hangover just by listening. Which is it? The two don't add up.

— Paar said the newspapers created the fuss because it is "their job" to blow things out of proportion. How would Paar have felt if the papers completely ignored the Rooney episode?

— Assuming Paar didn't know before the show, where were Paar's production aides and network officials? Who decided the show — and Rooney — had to go on as scheduled?

Paar has done a lot of kidding about the episode but he still hasn't explained it.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: James Stewart, his wife and children will appear on "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood," the NBC-TV Rexall special for Sunday, Jan. 10 . . John Frankenheimer has agreed to direct Hemingway's "The Fifth Column," which is being adapted for CBS-TV's Electra Playhouse special of Friday, Jan. 29. Frankenheimer directed the Hemingway two-parter, "For Whom the Bell Tolls," on Playhouse 90 last season.

Takes Sentence Lightly; Strolls Out of Court

Eugene Thompson, 24, was believed to have hidden in a corner of the Recorders Court bullpen yesterday until other prisoners were taken back to their jail cells. He then walked out when the corridor was cleared, police said.

Thompson had just been sentenced to from three to five years in Southern Michigan Prison for attempted purse snatching.

WON'T TALK — Willard Uphaus, 68, of New Haven, Conn., says he is ready to go to jail rather than disclose names in a subversive activities inquiry. He was ordered to appear in Concord, N.H., and name guest speakers at his World Fellowship Center during 1954-1955.

Mental Patients Going to Prison—Hospital Full

LANSING (AP) — The high number of mentally ill prisoners at the State Prison of Southern Michigan has disturbed the State Corrections Commission.

The commission was told yesterday between 700 and 800 psychotic prisoners were being held because of crowded conditions at Ionia State Hospital.

Holiday Specials, Ike's Trip

TV Pulse Quickens

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — With the onset of the busy holiday season, the pulse of television is quickening, too. During the next seven days there is something unusual or special cooking daily. In addition, on Monday the networks start intensive and extensive coverage of President Eisenhower's trip.

Somebody, however, goofed in scheduling tonight's special attractions. CBS' "Oliver Twist," starring Robert Morley and Eric Portman, runs from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time while NBC's "Very Important People," a music and comedy revue starring Art Carney, is on between 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. That means a half-hour overlap during which you must decide whether to see the end of "Oliver" or the beginning of Art.

On Saturday (3:45 p.m.) NBC will broadcast the UCLA-Syracuse football game from the Los Angeles Coliseum.

On Sunday, things start early: A "Salute to the American Theater" on CBS at 11:30 a.m. which will include a lot of stars and excerpts from a dozen plays. That night NBC will have "Give My Regards to Broadway" starring Jimmy Durante and Ray Bolger in its Sunday Showcase musical, while Ed Sullivan's guests on CBS will be Teresa Brewer, Jack Carter, Yehudi and Hephzibah Menuhin (both 8-9 p.m.).

"The Philadelphia Story," Philip Barry's play with Mary Astor, Diana Lynn and Christopher Plummer, will be on NBC Monday night, 9:30-11 p.m., and the following night (Tuesday) the network will present "My Three Angels," a comedy starring Walter Slezak and Barry Sullivan, (9 to 10:30 p.m.).

Paul Gallico's "Once Upon a Christmas Time," a fantasy starring Claude Rains and Charles Ruggles will be NBC's special Wednesday night, 7:30-8:30 p.m. And on Thursday CBS comes up with two specials — "Christmas at the Circus," (7:30-8:30) with James Arness and a lot of big top acts, followed immediately by "Tonight with Belafonte," (8:30-9:30 p.m.).

There's Nothing Like an 'American' Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — How melting pot can New York get? When Rodgers & Hammerstein celebrated the first anniversary of "Flower Drum Song" with Pat Suzuki the party show-stoppers were those Orental dancers, Linda and Yvonne Ribuca, twins — who confessed they're half Polish, and from Stockton, Cal.

The party was held at an Italian restaurant; the drinks were mostly French champagne and scotch whisky; the most foreign-sounding and least comprehensible speech was by Larry Blyden, from Liberty, Texas. The great international wit, playwright Howard Teichmann, of Madison, Milwaukee and Chicago, upon looking over the Chinese and Japanese beauties wiggling about, said: "Aren't there a lot of pretty Cantonese (Ohio) girls here tonight?"

Pretty, perky Peggy King is marrying publisist Bill Kilpatrick (of the Bill Doll public relations empire) after she finishes her present hotel engagement. Peggy's settling down in N.Y. — although she just moved her parents from Ravenna, O., to Hollywood "But then along came Bill" . . . Cary Grant sneaked out on a date to the Opera at Fort Lee, N.J. He wanted to be alone—with Betsy Drake.

A Broadwayite and a visiting midwest farmer met, and the New Yorker exclaimed, "I'm so excited—my son won a college scholarship."

"Know just how you feel," said the farmer. "Felt the same way when my pig won a blue ribbon at the State Fair."

Won't Make Deal in Texas Trial

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Uranium spellbinder John Milton Addison's trial moved to testimony stage today while enthusiastic followers planned a $100-a-plate dinner to pay for his legal fees.

Addison, 31, Thursday accused Asst. Dist. Atty. James Barlo of offering a two-year probated sentence and a $1,000 fine if Addison pleaded guilty to violation of the state securities law. Barlow denied it.

"I absolutely would not agree to have the charge dismissed," Addison said angrily. "I have insisted on this trial and it has cost me $100,000. I wouldn't take one day in jail on a plea of guilty. It is the principle involved."

Besides violation of the state securities law, Addison also is accused of stealing $1,250 from an Austin dentist and of conspiring to sell unregistered securities.

Addison, whose public appearances have been marked by long spellbinding speeches and cheering followers who gave him money, contends he received the money merely as loans. The state contends that his promises of 10 per cent bonuses with repayment of the money constituted unregistered security sales after public offerings.

Addison and some of his followers have uranium holdings in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, and Arizona. Most of the claims and leases are said to contain low-grade, unprofitable ore. But Addison says his "Benson Upgrader" produces high grade ore from the low-grade mine productions.

Mackie Protests Land-Buyer Quiz

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie says Senate investigators are browbeating highway department employes testifying on the department's land-buying practices.

"I object to the method and form this investigation is taking — it is more of a persecution," said the Democratic commissioner after watching the Republican-dominated Senate committee question his top right-of-way buyers yesterday.

The committee, headed by Sen. John H. Stahlin (R-Belding) spent five hours grilling state and private appraisers on the department's methods of buying right-of-way for its 1¼-billion, five-year roadbuilding program.
