

Highway Named Unless $30 Million Are Restored as Initial Goal by New Group

Top goal of the new Downtown Pontiac Assn. will be the promotion of a proposed north-south limited access highway to run near the central business district.

This was point one in a six-point program approved yesterday afternoon during the official creation of the association, which will be affiliated with the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Attending the meeting were 148 business and professional men and downtown property owners, all of whom expressed interest in the rejuvenation of downtown Pontiac.

A 21-member board of directors of the association was approved by the men and women at the meeting in the City Hall.

The points listed in the new association's goals included:

1—A vigorous campaign to promote a new arterial limited access highway running through Pontiac near Saginaw street, and the urging that immediate action be taken by authorities to secure the road.

2—The clearing away of sub-standard stores, and the replacement of them with modern ones, with emphasis centered south of Pike street on Saginaw.

3—Improvement of present parking facilities and creating additional spaces.

4—Program of modernization of store fronts.

5—A hard-fisted promotional program for downtown Pontiac.

6—A program of traffic control to reduce congestion.

Monroe M. Osmun, a big spark behind the association's birth, cautioned those in attendance that the downtown area "would lose out to outlying areas" if such a program was not initiated.

SUPPORT ASSURED
The group was assured the support of the chamber by its president, Howard O. Powers.

Directors elected for a three-year term were A. C. Girard, Victor Hoerath, Leonard T. Lewis, Frank S. Lyndall, Harold J. Muldowney, Ronald Tuscany and Howard Van Dusen.

For a two-year term, directors are Milo J. Cross, Harold A. Fitzgerald, Edward L. Karkau, Abe Lapides, Harcourt S. Patterson, Raymond H. Storm and Jack Walinger.

Sidney Barnett, Robert R. Eldred, Joseph Davidson, Michael Guinan, Osmun, John A. Riley and Morris Simon round out the board of directors with one-year terms.

The board will meet for the first time April 10 at the Waldron Hotel to elect officers.

Questioned by Dr. H. A. Miller and Mitchell L. Bacow, a clause in the proposed bylaws, limiting membership to chamber members only was deleted.

Forecast Is Slushy, Too

State Weather Plain Ugly

The weather man threw his hat in first before reporting the weather outlook today.

Squelching hopes for a fair weather trend, he predicted possible snow, sleet and freezing rain for most of today.

Tonight will be cloudy and warmer, low 32 to 33, with rain changing to showers or thundershowers Friday. The high Friday will be 38 to 44.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a. m. was 31. The mercury read 36 at 2 p. m.

Fierce winds blew a driving rain across Southern Michigan today in the wake of a combination of snow, sleet and freezing rain. Nearly an inch and a half of rain may fall altogether.

Winds in gusts up to 39 miles an hour have blasted Detroit, where up to three inches of snow fell last night.

Pilate Awed by Wisdom

(Another in a Lenten Series)

Following closely upon his report to Caesar about Jesus' entry into Jerusalem, Pilate wrote to Livia Drusilla...

I can now add a little more to what Junius wrote you about the Nazarene's beliefs. Claudia and I came by this from one of her servants who witnessed the event.

It seems there is a certain sect among the populace which does not believe in life after death. A group of these people sought out the Nazarene teacher and posed a problem for him.

They put it something like this: If there were seven brothers and the first died childless and his widow married the second brother and the same thing happened again until she had been wed to all of the brothers which of the men would be her husband in the after-life?

Jesus answered that the children of this world marry but that those who are worthy of resurrection after death do not.

I wonder how your Roman sages would have answered the same question. As you can see, it was a tricky one and I feel sure Jesus recognized that his questioners were only trying to embarrass him.

Perhaps it angered him a little. I do not know. But the servants said he went on to declare that the one God whom he worshipped is not a God of the dead, but of the living.

Then he commenced lashing out at the "scribes," a rather highly placed group of people who interpret the local laws and serve occasionally as public clerks and minor judges.

He condemned these people for their love of fine clothes and public attention and for "devouring widows' houses" while they make a show of long prayers.

The man has courage, but I wonder if he is wise to publicly attack such powerful people as he does.

Sometimes I think he lives with a sense of destiny... as though what he says and does had been foretold and he has no choice of doing and saying otherwise.

What do you make of it all?

(Signed) Pilate

Ike to Defend School Project

Talk Tonight on Plan for Federal Building Aid to Be on Air

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower vigorously defends his school construction aid program to night against economy-minded Congressional budget-cutters.

The President addresses the Washington dinner of the National Centennial Birthday Celebration of the National Education Association—one of more than 2,500 parties across the nation.

Eisenhower's address, (8 p.m. EST), will be carried to the nation by radio but will not be televised.

He apparently set the theme of his talk to the educators and school teachers at yesterday's news conference when he declared that he considers the proposed federal program to step up school construction a "necessity."

The chief executive added: "The longer it is neglected, the more we will suffer as a nation in the long run, because I believe with Franklin that freedom and free government depends upon an educated citizenry."

He also emphasized that he has always held that federal government has no "proper role in the operation and in the general maintenance of our public school system." This, he declared, "belongs to the localities and the states."

Three Stores Burn in Downtown Caro

CARO (U)—Three adjoining downtown Caro business firms caught fire today and three hours later still were burning, despite efforts of four fire departments to extinguish them.

A hardware store, dress shop and appliance store were aflame. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately. The flames were discovered at 6:45 a.m.

Enters 'No Contest' Plea in GI Home Loan Deal

The fourth man indicted Tuesday in the alleged government insured GI home loan racket entered a plea of "nolo contendere" when arraigned yesterday afternoon by Federal Judge Theodore Levin in Detroit.

Leroy Stein, 42, of Detroit will await sentence after his "no contest" plea. It indicates he neither denies or admits guilt in the plot.

Three others, including a former secretary-treasurer and business agent of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, yesterday stood mute before Judge Levin, who entered pleas of not guilty for the men.

No trial date has been set for the three who were freed under $1,000 personal bonds.

Indicted along with Stein were Louis C. Lintean, 42, of 615 E. Tennyson Ave., William N. Gilmore, 40, of 32035 Waltham St., Southfield Township, and Joe Pollina, 46, of 3540 Oakshire St., Waterford Township.

Lintean faces charges of making a false statement in 1933 to the Veterans Administration following an attempt to secure rights to a home in the Walton Ranch Homes, Inc. section in Waterford Township.

Gilmore, Pollina, and Stein were indicted for conspiring with veterans to have them file applications with the VA that they intended to occupy homes in the township section.

The indictments charge that the veterans did not own, live in, or make down payments on the homes.

The veterans were listed as co-conspirators in the federal indictments. They included five present members of Teamster Local 614 here and a former member.

Oust Beck Move May Be Forming

Teamsters Will Have Showdown With Boss at Fall Conclave

From Our Wire Services
WASHINGTON—Informed sources said today that a strong movement to replace Dave Beck as president is developing in the Teamsters' Union.

They said a showdown will come at the union's convention next Sept. 30 in Miami, and no action against Beck is expected before then.

At that time, Beck and other officers will be up for reelection. The Teamsters hold conventions and elect officers only once every five years.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee set May 6 as the date

for a hearing of corruption charges against the Teamsters Union if the union wants a hearing.

Al Hayes, committee chairman, served the notice on Dave Beck, Teamsters president, and John English, secretary-treasurer.

The Union's 13-man general executive board, at a special meeting Monday, overwhelmingly rejected Beck's plan for a million dollar public relations campaign to attempt to clear Beck of charges made by the Senate Rackets Committee.

The interpretation placed on the board's action is that Beck has lost his grip on his own union, and that he will be vulnerable to an attempt to replace him.

The undercurrent of opposition to Beck for another term reportedly has gained considerable strength, with the result that his reelection is rated as highly questionable unless he can square himself with the membership between now and September.

East Berliners Refuse to Phone West Sectors

BERLIN (U)—Communist East Germany today rejected Western efforts to restore telephone communications between Allied-occupied West Berlin and Soviet-run East Berlin.

The connections were severed five years ago by the Communists, who claimed Western "spies" were using the telephone network.

West German Postal Minister Ernst Lemmer recently said he was hopeful the East Germans would be willing to negotiate the question of resuming phone service. Berliner Zeitung said telephone connections would not be restored until "the cold war is ended."

City Post Office Hit by Worries

Can't Store Packages if Service Is Reduced, Says Local Official

The Postmaster General's threat to Congress to reduce mail service if supplementary appropriations of $40 million are not forthcoming has placed the Pontiac Post Office in a dilemma.

Acting Postmaster Leslie Dean said this morning he did not see how Saturday and extra weekday deliveries could be stopped here, on parcel post at least, without overtaxing storage facilities.

"We just don't have the space to hold packages over Saturday and Sunday. We have to move them as fast as possible during the week to make room for new shipments," he said.

Dean underlined the budget shortages that Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has laid before Congress.

NO OVERTIME

"Because we are not allowed to pay overtime we hold our regular employees to a 40-hour week," he said, "which means we have to give them days off during the week to make up for their Saturday work. This, in turn, forces us to hire extra 'substitute' help to work on those days off."

"For some time, we have been talking about eliminating the Saturday work, but we just can't do it unless we get more storage space," Dean added.

Drastic Cuts May Be Effected by Summerfield

Blames Lack of Cash on Federal Reduction in Postal Funds

WASHINGTON (INS)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said today he will order drastic cuts in mail service within 48 hours unless he is assured Congress will restore a 30 million dollar cut in post office funds.

Summerfield told a news conference that the House appropriations subcommittee's reduction in the supplemental budget—if sustained—will demand suspension of important services during the coming 90 days.

Describing himself as "heart-sick" in having to consider reduced mail service, Summerfield listed these steps as being under consideration:

1. An embargo on acceptance and delivery of all third class mail, except merchandise, for 90 days—estimated saving 30 million dollars.

2. Discontinuing all city carrier service on Saturdays—estimated saving 10 million dollars.

3. Closing all post offices and suspending rural deliveries on Saturdays—estimated saving four million dollars.

4. Discontinuing sale of all money orders, now processed at the rate of one million a day—estimated saving four million dollars.

5. Reduce city business deliveries to one-a-day—estimated saving two million dollars.

OTHER SAVINGS

Summerfield added that other savings could be effected for the balance of the current fiscal year by suspending purchase of uniforms for three months and suspending the buying of necessary equipment.

But he said these actions, as well as suspending the annual leave of postal employees for 90 days, would save nothing in the long run.

3-Day Weather Rampage Toll: 325 Dead or Injured; $5 Million Loss

Tornadoes Hit Tennessee, Demolish Homes, Hurt 4

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—The Weather Bureau here reported two tornadoes struck near the Jackson, Tenn., area about 2 a.m. today, damaging or destroying several houses.

There were no reports of fatalities or injuries, however.

The Tennessee Highway Patrol confirmed reports of severe damage at Selmer, Tenn., with several houses demolished or badly damaged. At Chesterfield, Tenn., just east of Lexington, at least two houses were badly damaged, the patrol said.

Four persons were injured and two dozen buildings damaged last night when what the Weather Bureau called a "small" tornado swept through Nashville.

The twisters struck at Selmer and Chesterfield during a driving rainstorm which covered highways and left them impassable, police said.

Uprooted trees fell across telephone lines, snapping them and cutting off communications.

3-DAY TOLL MOUNTS

The death toll in the wake of the three-day weather rampage that shows no signs of abating mounted to 25 with the number of injured reaching 300 and the total estimate of damage running past the five million dollar mark.

Snow continued in the hard-hit Northern and Central Plains States where since noon yesterday Philip, S.D., received 14 inches of new snow and North Platte and Valentine, Neb., each reported six inches in the same period.

No relief from a flood is in sight for Harrison, Ark., a town of 5,500 population in the northwestern part of the state. Rain swelled Crooked Creek until the stream spilled over its levy and brought flood waters surging through the business district. Many families were evacuated from homes and severe property damage was reported.

Meanwhile, what the Weather Bureau described as "a miserable, messy mixture" of rain, sleet, and freezing rain or snow spread from Northern Illinois across the Upper Ohio Valley and into Western Pennsylvania, creating hazardous driving conditions.

The clash between the snow-storm and unseasonably mild temperatures in the 60s and 70s in the South touched off the tornadoes. The battle between hot and cold air also set up conditions for heavy snows.

The storm that is now centered in the Middle Mississippi Valley will bring precipitation to the Atlantic seaboard and New England later in the day.

Aurora Settles With Oil Union

One-Year Agreement Marks First Break in Month-Long Strike

The first break in the month-long Detroit gasoline strike came yesterday when the Aurora Gasoline Co. reached agreement on a one-year contract with the Oil Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

There was no immediate indication, however, the settlement would spread to seven other struck companies.

E. E. Henson, international representative of the union, said the settlement provides wage increases amounting to about 15 cents an hour for 350 Aurora refinery workers.

The union has been holding out for a 25-cent boost. Henson said the best offer from any of the seven struck firms was 12 cents.

The wage boost for Aurora, retroactive to Feb. 1, brings the average wage to just under $3 an hour. Fringe benefits gained in the new pact are worth an additional three cents an hour, Henson said.

He indicated the union would be willing to settle on a 15-cent basis with the other firms. Some 700 oil workers are idle at Standard, Shell, Socony Mobil, Pure, Gulf, Texaco and Sinclair in wage disputes in new contracts.

Stations in the Pontiac and Detroit areas have not been seriously affected by the strike. They are securing gasoline from independent suppliers.

House Budget Cuts Subject to 17 Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House faced the wearing prospect today of 17 roll-call votes to determine whether it wants to make official one of its sharpest budget-cutting drives in years.

The votes are scheduled on 17 separate amendments which trimmed $68,647,000 from new appropriations for the Departments of Labor and Welfare and the National Labor Relations Board.

If the House stands fast, it will boost to almost one billion dollars its total cuts on new appropriations for the year starting July 1.

The Senate, which frequently restores many House-voted cuts, has not acted on any appropriation bills.

Behind the House drive to cut the money bills was the hope of many members that the reductions might make possible a cut in taxes next year, a congressional year.

Warren to Oppose Proposed Airport

DETROIT (AP) — Warren City officials say they'll fight Detroit's proposed compromise site for a northeast airport.

Dr. Paul Cousino, superintendent of the suburb's consolidated school district, said the compromise site would be "worse than the original location."

Mayor Arthur Miller said Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit had been "misled by a rabid aviation commission that wants to push the northeast airport regardless of inconvenience, expense or danger."

Warren officials and Col. C. V. Burnett, director of the City Aviation Commission, met Tuesday to discuss the compromise site.

The original site is between Twelve and Fourteen Mile Roads, Ryan and Dequindre.

Tiny Miss Smiles Way to '57 Boy's Club Award

A five-year-old Waterford Township brunette smiled her way into the hearts of her audience and judges last night and began a one-year reign as Miss Pontiac Boy's Club of 1937.

Linda Lee McCrary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie W. McCrary, 6339 Macaday Dr., was selected from 29 other little beauties entered into the contest by older brothers who are members of the Pontiac Boy's club.

Miss McCrary was crowned by the 1936 winner, Donna May Carr, 6, of 44 N. Jessie St., who presented the new queen with a doll.

This was the third year Linda had entered the contest. It was also the last one she could enter since the contestants must be from two to six years old. Linda will be six Monday.

PRINCESSES
The four princesses chosen to reign with Miss McCrary in 1937 were: Patricia Lynn Bailey, 5, of 252 Seward St.; Cynthia Kaye Bunnell, 3, of 604 Oakland Ave.; Lois Marie Goerin, 4, of 253 Seward St.; and Debbie Puertas, of 2339 W. Walton Blvd.

Mystery Man Hunted in Death

Police Seek One Who Had Appointment With Slain Flint Hoodlum

DETROIT (AP) — Police hunted a mystery man today for questioning in the slaying of Flint hoodlum Joseph A. Cicale.

Sought was a man Cicale had an appointment with a week ago Tuesday—the day he disappeared.

The body of the 43-year-old underworld character was found Tuesday night in the trunk of his abandoned car. He had been pistol-whipped and then strangled.

Cicale, a native of Flint, was living in Detroit. He had a police record that included a 10-year federal prison sentence for counterfeiting.

He had appeared recently as a witness before a one-man grand jury investigating allegations of gambling and graft in Flint. Circuit Judge Michael Carland, the grand juror, declined comment on what transpired.

Cicale's wife, Marguerite, 34, who reported her husband missing last Saturday, could offer police little assistance.

Officers are investigating a possible tie-in between Cicale and numbers racketeers operating between Detroit and Flint.

At least four more persons were reported killed and hundreds rounded up in a new outbreak last night in the capital. The violent disorders have swept Santiago for two days.

A large detachment of troops routed about 150 persons atop a small hill in the center of the city. The authorities said this group was a band of looters who had hidden while waiting for nightfall to cover their depredations.

Earlier the troops routed another band of demonstrators from a downtown building.

Daylight yesterday brought a resumption of the demonstrations that have plagued Chile more than a week in protest against skyrocketing living costs. Police and troops clashed repeatedly as mobs surged through the streets.

AT LEAST 44 DEAD
Reports of the number of casualties conflicted. Reliable non-official sources estimated at least 44 persons had been killed and from 165 to 350 injured. Property damage was put at more than two million dollars.

A state of siege was declared over the entire country Tuesday night by President Carlos Ibanez's government, but the rioters defied the emergency military law to continue their protests.

Trucksloads of demonstrators poured in from the outlying poorer sections of Santiago to join in yesterday.

Fake Heiress Gets Jail Term

Woman, 65, Swindled Residents in Northville of Possible $80,000

Mrs. Yvonne Chauvin, who once posed as a Northville heiress, was branded a "career swindler" by Wayne County Circuit Judge Robert M. Thoms and sentenced yesterday to a 5-10 year term in the Detroit House of Correction.

The 65-year-old domestic servant had admitted swindling a Northville drugstore clerk of $2,500. Police said Mrs. Chauvin may have cheated Northville business men of as much as $80,000.

"For 30 years you have made no effort to live within the law," Judge Thoms said. "You have shown no redeeming characteristics, either."

Mrs. Chauvin, arrested last December, admitted setting herself up in Northville as an elderly matron with a chauffeur and housekeeper. Spreading the word that she was heiress to $500,000, she borrowed sums of money on the pretext her inheritance was tied up.

PROMISED OUT
In return for a "loan" to pay attorney's fees, she promised a cut from the non-existent inheritance.

After balking a large number of persons, police said, the woman fled Northville. She was arrested several days later in Cleveland, posing as a housekeeper.

Her employers had become suspicious because of the woman's habit of wiping her fingerprints off of dishes and glassware.

HAS 15 ALIASES
Returned to Detroit, police discovered she had 15 aliases and a police record dating to 1934 for larceny by trick, forgery, parole violation, as a habitual offender and for engaging in a confidence game.

She had apparently started the Northville swindle following her release from the Detroit House of Correction last April, after serving part of a 6-20 year term for writing bad checks.

The Pontiac Urban League will hold its annual meeting tonight at which it will present its award to the individual who has done the most during the past year to improve racial relations in the city.

The dinner meeting will be held, starting at 6:30 p.m., at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Bldg.

Principal speaker will be John G. Field, executive director of the Michigan Fair Employment Practices Commission. He will talk on the first year of operation of the state's FEPC.

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, United States treasurer, collapsed today in her Indianapolis hotel room as she was leaving for an appearance on a television show. The illness was blamed on physical exhaustion.

Mrs. Priest is midway in a strenuous campaign on behalf of funds for care of crippled children.

A spokesman for the Crossroads Rehabilitation Center, sponsor of her Indianapolis appearance, said that Mrs. Priest became ill in her Marrott Hotel room, and was treated by a physician.

She canceled two other talks scheduled for this afternoon and tonight at Louisville, Ky., and Charleston, W. Va., and will fly to her home later today.

The United States imported 10,527 short tons of tung oil during 1935, a drop of 42 per cent from 1934 and the smallest amount since 1946.

The Day in Birmingham Begin Special Campaign for Downtown Shopping

BIRMINGHAM — Local merchants will launch their special campaign to encourage their Friday evening shopping tomorrow. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the program is planned to enable stores here to better meet the strong competition of centralized shopping areas.

Tomorrow night will mark the first in a series of four intensive promotional plans. This particular program will continue for nine weeks.

Tickets will be issued from 6 to 9 p.m. to be signed and deposited in boxes in each participating store. Drawings on Monday will determine winners who will receive gift certificates in the amount of $100.

Merchants are showing a keen interest in the idea and several have said they feel it will serve to stimulate local Friday evening shopping.

It has been pointed out that with the several city operated downtown parking lots no shopper will need to walk an excessive distance from car to store.

Charles Mortensen, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, urges Birmingham residents to take advantage of the special services local stores are offering.

James Kilpatrick, manager of Himelbach's local shop and chairman of the program, said special prices of selected items will be offered by several local merchants.

CO-OPERATIVE PROGRAM
"This is a co-operative program," he said, "to step up local shopping. Merchants, however, are not adopting a set plan of price reduction or stylized promotion. It will be up to the individual. Currently many like our own shop, are planning special showings of spring styles."

Several Birmingham members of Chi Omega will be attending their Eleusinian luncheon Saturday at the Detroit Boat Club on Belle Isle. The reservations may be phoned to Mrs. Albert Crawford Jr. Elgin 6-287 or Mrs. Frederic W. Hartman Jr. Lincoln 6-9221. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Lola Jeffries Hanavan, vice president governing council of Chi Omega.

Thomas L. Thurber Services will be Saturday at 1

Adams Trial in 14th Day, Longest in British History

LONDON (INS) — The marathon murder trial of Dr. John Bodkin Adams entered a record-breaking 14th day today with interest centered on the defense team's supporting cast of witnesses.

Chief defense attorney Geoffrey Lawrence was expected to spring more surprises in the trial that today became the longest in British criminal history.

The polished performance of the first defense witness, Dr. John Harman, was indicative of the painstaking care and attention Lawrence paid to this part of the defense of Dr. Adams.

Some old hands in the legal profession were astounded but nodded appreciatively when Harman revealed that for the testimony he gave he had studied medical literature dating from 1800, including some statistics from the U.S. Health Department.

The prosecution clearly was impressed with the wealth of detail

Dr. Harman gave in his attempt to show that Mrs. Edith Morrell, the wealthy widow Dr. Adams is accused of killing with overdoses of narcotics, died a natural death.

Harman whose testimony contradicted that of two medical experts for the prosecution, startled judge and jury when he proceeded to show how a patient would look in a morphine convulsion.

He contorted his face, his eyes stared, his mouth drooped slackly and he sank backwards in the witness box until he disappeared from view of the spectators out front. Finally, Harman rose slowly into view again, remarking: "Then the person comes back again."

An Apapa, Nigeria, firm is in the market for a hog-killing, pork-meal Powers, NCO in charge of processing plant.

Voting Machines Here to Stay

Voting machines proved themselves in Pontiac Monday.

Polls closed at 8 p.m. Two hours and a half later returns from every one of the city's 44 precincts were in the office of City Clerk ADA EVANS, at City Hall. This included time needed for precinct chairmen to drive from their precincts to the City Hall with the official precinct reports.

This is a far cry from the days of paper ballots when some election boards tolled through the night and into daylight hours of the following day to count and tabulate ballots and make the necessary checks and proofs.

A 12 to 16 hour grind after 12 hours operating the voting machinery is an invitation to error. Now the vote is counted and ready for recording when the last elector opens the voting machine curtain to record his vote.

Monday's election of course, was light, with only about 7,500 voters out of 37,600 registered going to the polls. This however, has little bearing on the speed with which precinct boards can close their day after the polls close.

It takes no longer to transcribe the vote from 1,000 ballots from a machine than is required to record the vote from 100.

Absentee ballots (of which there were few on Monday) and waiting lines when the polls close are chief delaying factors in a heavy election. But the experience of Monday can be expected to be repeated in future elections, both heavy and light.

Precinct workers and voters alike can be happy that the city's current budget provides for purchasing the machines which are presently on a rental basis.

Oakland County areas have added machines at intervals over recent years until Monday found only six precincts out of 257 voting precincts still using paper ballots.

It is hoped that these six precincts (Groveland, Brandon, Lyon Townships, South Lyon City and one Northville precinct in this county) serving about 3,800 registered voters, soon will come into the fold to make Oakland County's election machinery completely mechanized.

Mid-East Oil Interests Plan to Bypass Suez

Alternative routes bypassing both the Suez Canal, now being reopened, and vulnerable pipelines in the Middle East are being discussed by the big oil companies.

This can now be done economically with the use of super-tankers around Africa and construction of new pipelines. Large tankers are being built and several pipelines are being considered.

Already one route surveyed would run from Iraq up through Southern Turkey east of Syria to the Mediterranean. This line could also be extended south through Iran and British controlled Kuwait and thence to the Persian Gulf. Another branch might extend west to the Arabian-American Oil Co. line which runs 1,000 miles from the Gulf through Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Syria to the Mediterranean coast of Lebanon.

The cost is estimated at $500 million and because of Middle East conditions private investors are understandably hesitant. However, Secretary DULLES has intimated that it might be possible to "internationalize" the new pipelines. This would call for treaties with all interested nations as well as those through which the pipelines would pass.

The Suez Canal then would be just one of several routes for oil shipments to Western Europe which now is largely dependent on that route.

While Premier NASSER seems to hold the upper hand for the time being, building of tankers and new pipelines would loosen his stranglehold on Europe's economy. That, in the long run, would be disastrous to Egypt's economy.

ONE WAY thousands of people secure something of value under "false pretenses" is by pretending to work.

Employees who make suggestions at Pontiac Motor Division continue to draw down good money for their ideas. In recent awards, Melvin A. Kenney of 47 North Sanford St., was top winner, receiving $1,123. Several dozen others drew from $18 to $422 each.

Local draft boards are asked to induct 40 men into the army as their April quota. From Pontiac City,

Chief Clerk Nancy Linden states that 10 will go, and from the out-county board, Chief Clerk Mary Kelly will send 30. The induction date for both boards is April 16.

David Lawrence Says:

Split Vote Enabled Texan to Win

WASHINGTON — The story of the Texas election is the story of what happens when conservatives split—a so-called "liberal" wins out.

It wasn't a clear-cut battle between Republicans and Democrats as such in the election for U.S. senator just held in the Lone Star state. The conservatives gave representative Martin Dies, Democrat, more than 275,000 votes, and they gave Thad Hutchison, Republican, more than 214,000 votes.

This combined total of 489,000 conservatives was far in excess of the 348,000 votes cast for Ralph Yarborough, the winner. Scarey Bracewell, Democrat, who supported Die in the 1954 election, got 31,000 votes that would not have gone to Yarborough.

If it be assumed that some of the Republican votes might have been spread among the other 17 Democratic candidates, it still is true that the bulk of the Republican votes cast were from the ranks of conservatives.

Had there been a "run-off" election permitted so that Martin Dies, on the one hand, and Ralph Yarborough on the other could have fought for the Democratic nomination, it seems likely that Yarborough would have lost out.

There was considerable agitation for a "run-off," in which only the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the first election among several candidates are pitted against one another in the second contest.

Texas voters are accustomed to "run-off" elections to determine the top two who fight it out for the nomination, and it is most unfortunate that the Democratic Party didn't put through the state legislature the bills introduced which sought to bring about that kind of election first, before challenging the Republican Party at the polls in the final contest.

But one reason, of course, was that many of the supporters of Senator-Elect Yarborough thought he had a better chance in an election that split up the Democratic votes, and isolated the Republican conservatives behind their own candidate.

Yarborough has been up for elective office in Texas on a state-wide basis five times and has lost four times. He ran once for attorney general and three times for governor. He is the standard bearer of the so-called "liberal" faction in Texas politics which is made up largely of the Truman-Stevenson wing of the party.

The Democrats in the North are, of course, crowing over "the great victory of the Democrats over the Republicans" in Texas. Also, the Republicans in the North are arguing that this election was an encouraging step toward a two-party line-up in the South.

SAFETY MEASURE

Such operators are constantly within spray range while treating or serving patient or customer. For their own safety as well as the client's safety, they should always wear a suitable mask while at work.

The Silvers mask is transparent, non-inflammable, and may be kept perfectly clean, practically sterile, by washing with soap and water when preparing for the next patient or customer. Send me 35 cents and a stamped, economic welfare of the country for the conservatives to avoid schemes that break down the conservative representation in Congress from the South.

Presidential elections can be fought on a two-party basis in the South, but, until there is a clearer definition between the Republican and Democratic parties on state issues, it is sheer folly for the national Republican organization to stimulate the selection of Republican nominees for the Senate and the House in the deep South.

There are a few districts in the South where the preponderance of conservatives is such that putting up a Republican nominee for the House of Representatives becomes a logical means of defeating a Democrat from the radical side.

Dr. William Brady Says:

What You Can't See (C) Definitely Can Hurt You

Most people at least pretend to cover their coughs and sneezes when in the presence of any one they respect, for they have seen, or felt the droplet spray produced by coughing or sneezing. But they have not seen or felt the droplet spray produced by ordinary conversation, and they think what you can't feel or see won't hurt you.

The respiratory infections are most readily spread to others in the first hours or the first day or two of illness.

So the character with the cri (common respiratory infection) who comes unmasked to work, school, business, to the bridge party, dinner, church or the PTA meeting, assuring everybody within conversation spray range that it is nothing, just a little cold, makes a lot of work for the doctors.

This person ought to wear a suitable mask to prevent germ spray.

A suitable mask need not be hideous or uncomfortable. More comfortable, more efficient and less ugly is the type of mask designed by Dr. Lewis J. Silvers, primarily for his own use and for other nose and throat specialists, physicians, dentists, optometrists, opticians, barbers, hair dressers, cosmeticians while at work.

Such operators are constantly within spray range while treating or serving patient or customer. For their own safety as well as the client's safety, they should always wear a suitable mask while at work.

The Silvers mask is transparent, non-inflammable, and may be kept perfectly clean, practically sterile, by washing with soap and water when preparing for the next patient or customer. Send me 35 cents and a stamped,

"A nickel? I'll give you a dime if you'll drink it!"

This could also happen in some Senate races in the South but, unless there is a "run-off" primary to eliminate the many candidates who usually enter these contests, the risks to the conservatives of such an election as Texas had this week are obvious. It was the conservatives who defeated themselves this time.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Application Can Mean More Money

Frances raised her salary $500 at the very moment she got her new job. Many young folks fail to realize that they can often add an extra $5 or $10 per week to their opening wage just by their letter of application for a job, plus their social poise at the time of the interview. Read how Frances did it.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case U-346: Frances D., aged 26, was one of my former psychology students at Northwestern University.

"Dr. Crane, your course in applied psychology has been worth over $500 to me just this year," she said with a smile.

"Well, I'm glad to hear that," I replied, "but where specifically did it bring you that $500?"

Frances then went on to describe how she had changed jobs.

"And I used your specimen 'letter of application,'" she added. "I typed it very neatly, with wide margins."

"And I followed your suggestions about listing my business experience first, followed by educational background; then personal data."

"And I offered four references with 'handles' on their names."

"Well, 79 girls had applied for this same position. And I was called in for an interview, with three others."

"My prospective employer asked me a few questions. Meanwhile, I noticed a beautiful picture on the wall, so I paid him a compliment concerning it.

"Later, after I had been selected for the job, he told me that my very efficient looking letter had partly predisposed him to choose me."

"And my self-assurance during the interview, as indicated by my volunteering a compliment concerning the picture, had tipped the scales in my favor."

"And I learned a few weeks later that he had a sliding scale for opening salaries ranging from $60 to $70 per week."

"He said my poise and business-like letter of application had caused him to offer me the higher figure."

"So I made $520 my first year as a result of the practical psychology you taught us at Northwestern."

Article on Our Foreign Aid Brings Reader's Reaction

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I just finished an article about our foreign aid program, and what a shameful story it tells. Missionaries went into India and instructed the impoverished, ignorant people in reading, writing, sanitation and health care, showed them how to increase their crops, start industries, teach village leaders and carry on after the missionaries moved.

The foreign aid people did little for these projects. They bought prefabricated steel for $2 easy-to-erect grain silos and warehouses to show what U.S. storage techniques could accomplish. Last fall they admitted the material was still untouched for the most part. Meanwhile, they approved an additional four million dollars for 600 more warehouses.

No one wants to be told what a superior country the U.S. is. No wonder they say, "Americans, go home." Please take a page from our missionaries and help the people to help themselves instead of showing them our ways too soon. A little more of God's love and a lot less unwise money can do wonders.

Editorial Praised by Union Man

In behalf of countless union members I wish to thank The Pontiac Press and its editorial department for the editorial on union leaders March 20. The last paragraph, in which you tell the public that it is not fair to judge unions in general by the action of a few scoundrels, is especially heartening.

We expect to, and will, merit the respect of the public and employers.

I want to express our gratefulness for the news coverage you and your staff have given to the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce Sports and Builders Show. The front page picture and page two story in the March 21 edition was certainly everything we hoped for in publicity, and also the warm example that has been recently expressed by The Press, that Waterford news can have significance with any other news.

ing wage scale for new employees, especially in offices.

If an average girl is selected, they may offer her the lower figure but if they are so well impressed by a talented girl like Frances that they deem her obviously of superior ability, then they may jump her salary $10 per week at the very moment she is hired.

So learn how to write a good letter of application. By all means realize that its primary purpose is to procure an interview; not a job.

And to develop the social poise or assurance which tipped the scales for Frances and thus netted her an additional salary of $520, be sure you join the "Compliment Club."

For it helps change shy introverts into gracious personalities who are far more self-possessed.

It also reduces your fears, for in analyzing your companions for good points on which to phrase your sincere compliments, you meanwhile forget yourself.

And bravely simply means forgetfulness of self. Cowardice, on the contrary, means you are thinking primarily of SELF.

So seek for the "Compliment Club" booklet now, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Enlist your friends, Sunday school class or club members to follow its stimulating 30-day experiment with you. It increases your salary plus your popularity, too.

Dogs Poisoned While Confined

Someone suggested dog owners should keep their penned to prevent their being poisoned and hurt. However, in three years we have had three dogs poisoned, one while in a fenced yard and another while on a 50-foot chain. The other was loose as she was trained to take our boy to the bus. So two of them definitely died of poison, not by getting into the garbage. Keeping them penned doesn't solve the problem.

'Groups Deny Aid to Stranded Cat'

Not too long ago we had a "Be Kind to Animals Week." It seems the organizations meant to help these animals are names only. I asked help from all of them for a half-grown cat atop an electric pole in my back yard. As I write, the cat has been there 22 hours in freezing weather, but no one will come to get him down.

The cat isn't ours, but we have done all we can to help him. I have asked the Humane Society, the dog garden and the animal shelter, and none of them will come. Even the police and firemen won't come.

Why do we bother to pay for the shelter, etc., when they can't help an animal in need?

I, too, am known as J. M. K. and I got five calls within an hour asking if I had written the Voice of the People letter criticizing the Waterford Police Department. If the limit is 35 miles per hour, that means 35 miles per hour, not 45 or 60, the way lots of people drive. All I can say is to live up to the law and no one will bother you. Nuts to the talk about speed traps. The ones who holler the most are the ones who violate the law. Then they cry.

Britain Revises Defense Setup

Lack of Cash Causes Plans for Withdrawal From Korea, Libya

LONDON (AP)—The British government today announced a sharply revised defense program it hopes will save the hard-pressed island nation about 784 million dollars in 1957-58.

Included in the cutbacks was a newly disclosed decision to withdraw Britain's troops from Libya and Korea. Date of the withdrawal was not given, but military sources expect them "fairly soon."

Britain's revised defense bill for 1957-58 was estimated at $3,976,000,000.

As outlined a year ago, the program would have cost about $4,760,000,000.

The revised program is based largely on the supply of guided missiles which Britain will be receiving from the United States.

The program was outlined in an official White Paper which said the government aims to stabilize Britain's armed forces at about 375,000 regulars by the end of 1962.

The Defense Ministry said it was planning on the basis of ending the military draft by the end of 1960, less than a year after Prime Minister Macmillan's government must face a general election if Parliament does not vote it out of office before.

The White Paper said the savings this year are being secured by a substantial reduction in the over-all strength of British forces and by cutting down production orders. In addition to the withdrawal from Libya and Korea, Britain's European allies have agreed to a cut of 13,000 men in the British force in West Germany this year. A further cut of 13,000 men will be reviewed next year by the NATO members.

The cuts have been promised by the Macmillan government ever since it took office last January.

The government has been under pressure to introduce tax concessions to relieve the soaring cost of living.

Tax relief may also restore some of the popularity which the government has lost to the Labor party, as shown in recent special parliamentary elections.

Information Chief Asks Broadcasts to Middle East

NEW YORK (AP)—The new chief of the U.S. Information Agency called today for quick construction of a land-based transmitter to send clear radio broadcasts into the crucial Middle East.

Director Arthur Larson, in a speech prepared for a public affairs luncheon of the Union League Club, also said 20 new USA centers should be established in Africa.

Larson declared that the No. 1 aim of his agency should be:

"To establish throughout the world a high reputation for truth and believability. In my opinion, the age of tricky propaganda is about over."

Larson said he has "fresh news" that many persons inside Russia listen regularly to the Voice of America, the USA radio broadcasting facility.

He reported also that a survey among 1,000 refugees from Hungary showed 7 out of 10 had listened to the Voice of America, and that the broadcasting facility had gotten 326,000 letters from listeners last year.

2 Peat-Brick Plants to Be Built in Ireland

DUBLIN — Plans have been prepared for the erection of two new peat-briquetting plants — one at Boora and the other at Derry.

greenough — to produce 100,000 tons of briquettes each year. This will raise the annual Irish production of this fuel from 50,000 tons to 250,000. The briquette production will save the equivalent of 130,000 tons of imported coal, officials believe.

Landmark to Give Place to Auckland University

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — Government House, situated on 7½ acres, is soon to be demolished as part of a building-extension plan.

approved for nearby Auckland University College.

The building, erected in 1855, is one of the few survivals in New Zealand of the early colonial period of architecture. A police station and apartments and doctors' residences are among the other buildings to be pulled down to make way for the extension.

Members of Britain's National Union of Teachers, determined to "fight for pay," are demanding a minimum scale of from $1,400 to $2,940.

Build Rooftop Terrace in Hilly Terrain

Landscape problems often make an outdoor terrace impractical to install at ground level. Don't give up all hopes, though. Hopes situated on steep hillsides or rocky terrain can still have the many benefits of outdoor terraces or patios by decking a flat rooftop with a quality terrace material such as quarry tile, which is impervious to weathering in all climates. Quarry tile is now available in plant.

How and What to Dust

The government has issued a film strip to educate its janitors and janitresses in the proper method of cleaning a room. It is said that it shows the proper way of dusting and what to dust. The Vacuum Cleaner Manufacturers' Association makes the broad statement that everything in the house should be dusted, not simply certain articles, and that the vacuum cleaner and its handy tools are the proper method to use to ensure a fresh, clean home.

Yarborough Victory Sweeter After Losing 4 Times

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democrats, assured of retaining control of the Senate, are jubilant at the election of Ralph Yarborough as the new U. S. Senator from Texas. Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.), chairman of the party's senatorial campaign committee, said he was "highly gratified" over Yarborough's victory.

Smathers declared: "It demonstrates again that the Democratic party as such is always the party of great strength. As we said in 1954, we were beaten in the presidential election by a man and not a party."

"This victory, of course, is good for the country because it maintains the leadership of Lyndon Johnson in the Senate and keeps the committee chairmanships Democratic, thereby availing us of more experienced members of the Senate in those positions of influence and importance."

Democratic spokesmen noted that both President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon strongly endorsed the Republican candidate, Thad Hutcherson, who trailed Yarborough and Rep. Martin Dies (D) in the Texas race.

They also pointed out that the vote was split by three major Democratic contenders besides Yarborough and Dies.

Smathers commented: "While it looked two weeks ago as though the division among the Democrats might improve the Republicans' chances to win, we were pleased to see that most Democrats in these past two weeks rallied behind Yarborough and Dies."

The Senator said the results of the senatorial election indicate that Texas, which went for Eisenhower and Nixon in 1952 and 1956, "may go back in the Democratic column, where she properly belongs" in the 1960 presidential race.

SENATE ATTEMPT

Ralph Yarborough is a living testimonial to the old maxim that "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

The 52-year-old Democrat has now run for high office in Texas in five elections. On each occasion, he collected more votes than the time before. He finally went over the top—being chosen U. S. Senator.

In doing so, he also cracked a modern-day tradition in Texas politics that a liberal cannot win a major race.

He first ran for office—unsuccessfully—in 1938, when he sought the post of state attorney general.

In 1952, the stocky, smiling lawyer who had once served as a district judge in Austin jumped into the governor's race and was roundly defeated by Allan Shivers in a bitter Liberal-Conservative race.

Undaunted, the champion of the loyal Democrats carried their banner again in 1954 and lost to Shivers and his Conservatives—but by a smaller margin.

Two years later, he ran unsuccessfully for governor against Price Daniel, whose vacated seat in the Senate Yarborough has now taken over.

Yarborough worked his way to Europe on a cattle boat when he was 18 and spent a year roaming the continent. He later taught school in the rural areas of Texas, harvested wheat in Oklahoma, and roughnecked in the oil fields of West Texas.

He worked his way through the University of Texas Law School and was graduated with highest honors in 1927. He practiced law in El Paso for three years and was called to Austin as an assistant attorney general in 1931 by Attorney General James V. Allred.

There he became an expert on land law.

Yarborough served as district judge of the 2nd district prior to World War II. For three years of that time he was presiding judge over a judicial district that included 33 central Texas counties.

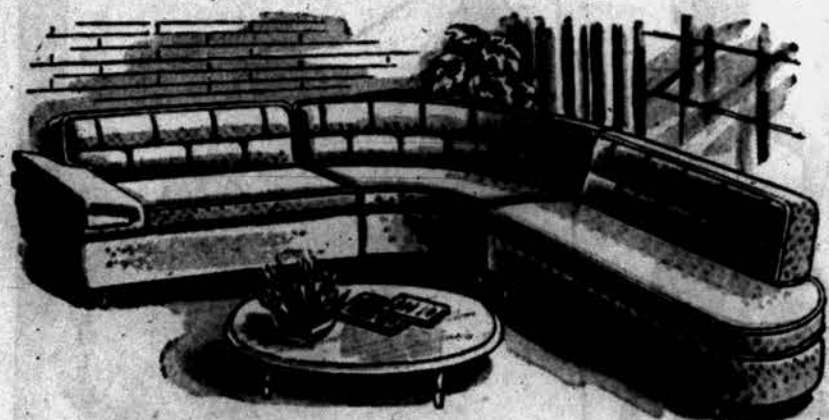

In World War II, he volunteered for the Army and served three and a half years, in both the European and Pacific theaters.

Yarborough and his wife have one grown son, Richard Warren Yarborough—who as yet has shown no personal interest in politics other than helping his father with his campaigns.

A crocodile wrecked the garden of Dudley Sherrard and carried off his dog, near Mitubabuta, South Africa.

Bob Considine Says:

Bootblack to Dine With Executives

NEW YORK (INS) — On April 15, shortly before noon, four presidents of corporations housed in the old Brady Building at the corner of Cedar and West in downtown New York will pick up the building's bootblack, Sam Rubino, and take him to a splendid luncheon at the Lawyers Club.

Sam has been a tenant of the building since it was opened just 30 years ago. The presidents are George Ferris of Raymond Concrete Pile Co., F. H. Lantry of the M. H. Treadwell Industrial Construction Co., Perry Shoemaker, president of the Delaware Lackawanna, and William Collins, president of the Walter Kidde Construction Co.

Those firms located themselves in the building in 1907 and are still there.

The 23-story building is the work of Cass Gilbert. It is said to have been copied by F. W. Woolworth one day as he came up the bay on a return transatlantic liner, whereupon he sought out Gilbert and assigned him to raise the Woolworth tower.

Sam Rubino reached New York in 1902 with a letter to a relative. From his flying brushes and shine cloths he educated three sons, is the proud grandfather of a small army and owns a home in Brooklyn.

If his four presidential friends have any trouble with the check at the club, Sam can take care of it.

DOUBLE FOR PECK

Know any newspaperman who looks like Gregory Peck? You don't, eh.

Well, if you run across one, send his name and picture to Dan Terrell, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, 1540 Broadway, New York City. Pictures of Frank Farrell will be selected in the order of their postal cancellation time.

It's a gag connected with Peck's new picture, in which he plays a sportswriter. The bloke who looks most like him in the estimation of the judges — Inez Robb, Ed Sullivan and myself — gets a weekend in New York on the cuff, with "My Fair Lady" thrown in.

A recent piece here about the woes of hitchhiking brings a terrible account from a reader:

"Once I came down Riverside drive on a bus. In front of Charlie Schwab's old manse lay a woman, prostrate, in the street. Hundreds of cars passing, but no one slowed. "I couldn't take it. I streaked off the bus and found the girl alive, stiff as a corpse, though. My first such encounter."

"Not a car driver would answer my shouts or hand imploring. It was unbelievable. Riverside drive, civilization, golden rule, a woman dying."

CONSTANT PROTESTS

"I jeered a chauffeur into shame. He pulled to the curb and with constant protests of fright that he might become 'involved' he helped me load her into his deluxe town car, and off to Roosevelt Hospital where I talked them into letting him go and took all responsibility."

"I stayed a long time. Finally, they were persuaded she would live. I left."

"Save your thumb the next time you are in serious need of a lift. You cannot overcome the training which the newspapers, auto clubs, etc., have given Joe Doakes through the years."

Cuban politico I know — a very nice man with a wonderful manner and education — was recently feeling sorry for his country and himself over the turbulent political disorders that had just ensued.

"Batista has done some good things for Cuba," he said, "but perhaps it would have been best if he had permitted the elections of four or five years ago to continue as planned."

"Then most certainly, Dr. Carlos Hevia, who graduated from your U.S. Naval Academy, would have become president. He is the most honest man in Cuba."

"If he had been elected I think he would have appointed me in his cabinet and today . . . today," my friend concluded, close to tears, "I would have been a millionaire."

Tribal Taboos Delay War on Disease, Early Death in Hinterlands of Africa

PARIS (INS) — Native taboos and superstitions are delaying man's fight against disease and premature death in Central and South Africa.

Vital health statistics are prerequisite for the World Health Organization's projected campaign in the African hinterlands but age-old customs and tribal taboos are affecting the accuracy of examiners' findings.

An investigator has difficulty gaining the confidence of natives who regard him as only a census taker preparing tax lists and names of men for military service.

A complete census is impossible where most of the population is migratory and WHO officials have adopted the sampling method in an effort to prepare tables on which to base their medical campaign.

FEELS PULSE
Even with the latter method an examiner can do no more than "feel the pulse" of the community. In certain areas he must remember that the death figures given him are affected by the inhabitants' reluctance to report a family death and have their public assistance lowered.

In South Africa the figures are more acceptable because deaths call for ostentatious public display and the family is glad to have the deceased removed from the family's tax roll. In some tribes the dying are removed to prevent their ghost from haunting the family hut and in others it is forbidden to mention the name of the first-born child.

In Moslem areas the questioning of women in "purdah" (walled and isolated) requires utmost tact and the presence of the husband to give them confidence.

Births are more reliably reported because a certificate will be required later to gain admission to free schools, for the issuance of work papers, and family allowances.

Family names are another problem. Children are sometimes given a name to commemorate an event, their birthplace, or even just a simple number. The family itself is liable to change its name several times in its enthusiasm to celebrate a special event.

When trying to ascertain figures on causes of deaths the examiners find reasons such as stomach ache, diarrhea, and just plain cough listed.

Urges Ike Send Jets to Safeguard Korea

NEW YORK (U)—The New York Times said today that Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has recommended to President Eisenhower that United Nations forces in Korea be equipped with jet planes and other new weapons.

A Pentagon spokesman said last night that Radford's office knew nothing about the reported recommendation.

At a news conference yesterday Secretary of State Dulles acknowledged that Communist forces had violated the armistice stipulations against building up military forces in Korea.

Lash Out With Protests, Threats

Frustrated Reds 'Touchy': World Won't Keep in Line

PARIS (INS) — Western diplomatic experts said today the Russians are lashing out in all directions with protests and threats because they are unhappy about the way things are going in the world.

According to the Western reading, the Soviets are concerned because:

1. Their active Middle East policy helped get the British and French out of the area but brought the United States in, which was the last thing Russia wanted.
2. The Hungarian revolt threw the Soviets off balance because it forced them to recognize that they could continue to control satellites only by the use of force. This is expensive and looks so ugly that it threatens to spoil Soviet propaganda approaches elsewhere in the world.
3. Despite years of Soviet effort, and the fortuitous Western crisis over Suez, the free world nations not only have maintained their unity but are in the process of bolstering it with the common market and Euratom.
4. The nations of NATO have not been frightened into neutralism, and right now seem anxious to take advantage of American offers to provide them with the weapons for nuclear defense.

In this situation, according to one high Western diplomat, "The Russians are much touchier now than they were a year ago." He added:

"They no longer are so confident. That is why, basically, they have fallen back into the old bombastic ways of the Stalinist era, protesting and threatening on every hand."

REDUCED TO THREATS

The Soviets have threatened

Truck Restrictions Stay on Most Trunklines

LANSING (U)—The State Highway Department reported that truck weight restrictions will remain in effect on all types of state trunklines with a few exceptions. Normal loadings will be allowed on concrete-based trunklines south of and including a route from Ludington via U.S. 10 to Midland, from M20 to Bay City and all of the Thumb area.

Normal loadings also will be allowed on a route from Bay City to Alpena via U.S. 23 and on all blacktop and gravel highways south of M21.

70 Tons Paint for 1 Ship

The huge hull of the 36,000-ton Nieuw Amsterdam, flagship of the Holland-America Line, has been painted a new color — dove-gray. Ninety tons of the new paint were required, according to a company spokesman, to cover the ship's former coat of black.

Paint Improves Looks and Cash Values

A "safe" farm is one whose buildings are properly constructed. Posts and timbers that come in contact with the ground are treated against rot fungi, while all other exposed surfaces are painted. Paint used to protect buildings saves more than it costs.

So keep in mind that paint on your property is money in your pocket.

Telephone 'Protected'

Natural moisture on your fingers contain acid which would quickly corrode your telephone were it not for the industrial chemical coating applied to it at the time of manufacture. This is one of thousands of products protected from deteriorating factors by specially formulated industrial coatings.

COVERT FAIR SATURDAY — Featured in the fair will be Diane Moulton, Paula Violette and Fred Olive modeling spring attire. There will be a Swiss steak dinner at 5 p.m. and during the evening Waterford Township residents have been invited to see the old fashioned country store, the mystery house, "Florida Corner," the "Little Girls' Salon" and attend the talent show, which will be followed by an Easter fashion parade.

Drop-Out Students in Need of Counsel

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit school board attendance official Eugene Toomer says the child most apt to drop out of school can be spotted ahead of time.

Toomer says those most likely to quit are "bored, restless, emotionally unstable, poor readers, have family problems and show dislike of certain subjects."

He warns that "a lot of children are forced out of school by unsympathetic teachers and counselors.

"Potential drop-outs need sympathetic counseling and unfortunately it's difficult for a teacher with 40 new pupils every 45 minutes to give them that kind of attention."

Spray-Clean Hands

CHICAGO — An empty window-spray bottle, filled with turpentine, neutral spirits, or kerosene, makes a handy device for cleaning hands soiled with paint or grease.

Mountain Tunnel Links

India, Kashmir Area

SRINAGAR, Kashmir — The first of the two tubes of the new Banihal tunnel, which will provide an all-weather link between Kashmir and the rest of India, has been opened. It is more than 1 1/2 miles long. When completed at a cost of $6,300,000 the new tunnel, 2,000 feet lower than the old tunnel, which is usually snowbound four months a year, will cut 18 miles of difficult mountain driving off the road over the Pir Panjal range on the Jammu-Srinagar route.

Planet Named 'Geographos'

Small Celestial Object to Come Close to Earth
in Year 1969

PASADENA, Calif. — Palomar Observatory astronomers have named a recently discovered small planet "Geographos," the geographer, in honor of the National Geographic Society. Dr. Ira Sprague Bowen, director of the Mount Wilson and Palomar Observatories has announced.

Geographos is of great interest to science because, with the exception of the moon, it comes closer to Earth than any other celestial object having a known orbit, Dr. Bowen said.

Geographos' elliptical orbit around the sun actually cuts across the Earth's orbit, and in 1969 the little planet or asteroid will be less than four million miles away.

"The name is especially appropriate for two reasons," Dr. Bowen explained. "First, Geographos was discovered on photographic plates made through Palomar's Big Schmidt telescope during production of the society's Palomar Observatory sky survey. The survey, now completed after seven years of work, maps the sky visible from Palomar out to approximately one billion light years.

"Secondly, Geographos, coming as close to the Earth as it does, undoubtedly will be an important help to astronomers and map-makers in charting distances in the solar system. It may well be a primary tool in pursuing the cartography of the sky."

Geographos was discovered on the night of Aug. 31, 1951, by Dr. Rudolph Minkowski and Dr. Albert G. Wilson. Dr. Minkowski, then as now, was in over-all charge of the Palomar sky survey.

Dr. Wilson, then chief astronomical observer for the survey, has since become director of the Lowell Observatory in Flagstaff, Ariz.

As discoverers, they were privileged to choose the planet's name and they chose Geographos with, as Dr. Bowen remarked, "the approbation of the Mount Wilson and Palomar Observatories."

The Government debt of Hong Kong, now prosperous, is less than two months' income.

Mrs. Beck Shuns Spotlight

SEATTLE (NEA) — Like the wives of so many prominent people, Dorothy Beck, wife of Teamster Car Dave Beck, has chosen to remain in the background. She is seldom quoted and infrequently pictured in newspapers.

Today, while her husband is under the fierce scrutiny of the U. S. Senate investigating committee, she lies ill at home. So ill, Dave Beck told newsmen in Washington, D. C., that nurses are in attendance 24 hours daily and a move to a hospital might bring a serious relapse, even paralysis. She suffers from high blood pressure and other ills, the union leader said.

In a newspaper interview in Seattle last May, Mrs. Beck put her philosophy of marriage to Beck in simple terms:

"When Mr. Beck and I were first married, he told me, 'If I go into business, I will never bring it home. The home is yours.'"

HEAD IN PAPERS

"Most of what I know about Mr. Beck's business is what I read in the newspapers. Our pattern of home life is quiet and simple. That's the way I like it."

To Seattle newspaper people, she has the relaxed manner of a happy homemaker. She is proud of her gardening, likes to sew, knit and read.

"I'm not what you'd call extremely busy," she told an interviewer last November. "But I have enough to do, although I don't have to worry about a heavy schedule of entertaining."

Mrs. Beck confided that she and husband Dave have friends over nearly every night to watch a movie. They have a private projection room in their $162,000 home and rent films.

The Beck house is open to neighborhood kids most of the time. In the back yard of Beck's palatial home and grounds is a miniature railroad, which will transport to kids at a time. Often Mrs. Beck has to arbitrate whose "turn is next."

As Dorothy Leachander of Seattle, she married Beck in 1918, while he still was in the Navy. When the war was over, they set up housekeeping in a modest five-room house at 5752 27th Street Northeast, which on Oct. 3, 1921, showed a mortgage of $2,000.

Beck then was a 340-a-week laundry route driver. They lived there until 1930 when the present 12-room home was built, and which the Teamsters union later purchased.

In recent years it is evident the Becks were considered quite wealthy. But when it was revealed that Beck was one of the incorporators of the company owning an 18-story swank apartment building here, Beck still vowed poverty. He told an interviewer on Jan. 2, 1954, referring to the building area:

"I bought lots there when I had to sweat to make the payments and Mrs. Beck had to go without a lot of things."

While Mrs. Beck claims little knowledge of her husband's business ventures, she possibly has been his unwitting partner in many.

In their nearly 40 years of married life, her name has appeared on many deeds for property and business ventures. Beck at times had so many he couldn't legally be involved in them all.

At times, for example, he owned brewery stock, was a beer distributor and owned interest in a tavern.

Ben-Gurion Sees No Peace in Mideast if Nasser Rules

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion told Parliament last night there is little chance of a Middle East peace as long as Egypt's President Nasser "and the present generation of Arab rulers are in power."

Ben-Gurion spoke in defense of his foreign policy.

He said Nasser's prestige has been considerably lowered in the past few months — not only in the eyes of his Arab neighbors, but also in the eyes of the Soviets.

But Ben-Gurion cautioned that there was a possibility of "renewed Arab attacks — and also, if Israel is victorious, this might be followed by another round. In that sense there never will be a final victory for Israel in the Middle East of our times."

This continuing Arab threat, the Premier said, forced him to order the withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba demanded by the U. N.

"Under these conditions," he declared, "I could not take the risk to place Israel in a situation that perhaps in two or three years all doors would be closed to us when we would have to acquire more and more superior arms."

Foreign Minister Golda said Israel expects the U. N. and its members to "take appropriate steps against the stubborn insistence of the Egyptian dictator in continuing a state of war against Israel."

She repeated that Israel will insist on its "right of free passage in the Suez Canal" and will not accept what she termed "misguided proposals for the stationing of U. N. forces on our side of the (Gaza-Israeli) demarcation line."

Mrs. Meir claimed the United States, in its negotiations with her and Ambassador Abba Eban prior to the Israeli withdrawal from Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba, had assumed a "moral responsibility for implementation" of Israel's demands that the Gaza Strip remain under U. N. control and the Gulf of Aqaba be open to Israeli shipping.

Referring to the subsequent establishment of an Egyptian civil administration in Gaza, she expressed "deep disappointment with the impression that the United States apparently did not exercise its full influence in order to prevent deterioration of the situation in Gaza."

As Parliament debated, an Israeli army spokesman reported that Jordanians fired on a police car last night and wounded two Israeli policemen near Jirath Yehuda village near the Jordan-Israel armistice line.

At the southern entrance to the Suez Canal the 1,500-ton tramp freighter Maria Vittoria, carrying the flags of four nations, waited for permission to go through the waterway.

The vessel is of Italian origin, owned by a Greek firm with head offices in Britain and chartered by a Panama firm. The skipper did not specify which flag the ship would fly.

The vessel's British flag was hauled down as she approached the canal. A crewman said Suez harbor police advised this, apparently to avoid stirring up the Egyptians.

Both the British and U.S. governments have advised their shipowners to steer clear of the canal at present because they have not agreed with Nasser on plans for the waterway's operation.

PHYSICAL FITNESS — Pontiac High students take regular exercises to build physical fitness as part of the school system's new emphasis on the subject. Spurred by reports on the "softness" of American youth, the school system has intensified its physical education program.

High School Expands Gym Program

American Youths 'Softies'? Pontiac Means to Say NO!

By HAROLD COHEN

Is America a generation of softies — unfit to meet the physical stresses of life and the demands of national security? This question has become a burning issue in many quarters which have concern for our youth. Its emergence as a public issue followed the recent Physical Fitness Conference called by President Eisenhower.

This Washington conference publicized a number of alarming statistics, including the high rate of rejection for physical defects by the Armed Forces and the results of fitness tests given both American and European youngsters. The conference found "disturbing deficiencies in the fitness of American youth."

Here in Pontiac, the school system's physical education department, headed by Thomas W. Dodson, was brought up sharply by the conference report and immediately began to plan for an improved physical education program.

"We are not only concerned by the lack of physical fitness, but we believe lack of sport skills is a cause of juvenile delinquency," Dodson said. "A boy who has no skill or interest in sports, often finds destructive things to do to fill leisure time."

"And too," he continued, "youngsters who avoid physical education classes miss the adult guidance and group experiences which might prevent future trouble."

This school year, Dodson and his staff launched the first shot in their campaign to improve Pontiac's physical education program. They have made gym classes compulsory for all students by requiring two years passing credit in physical education for graduation at Pontiac High School.

NO EXCEPTIONS

No exceptions are now permitted, even marching band and athletic participants are not excused. Those with physical defects are given special class work by the gym instructors.

The mandatory program is given in the sophomore and junior years. Sophomores follow a three day a week program which includes gymnastics, swimming, football, basketball, wrestling, weight lifting, soccer, boxing, volleyball and dancing.

In the junior year, twice a week the boys and girls learn the basic skills needed to continue sports activities into adult life. These include archery, fishing, golf, tennis, badminton, handball, shooting and bowling.

Seniors may elect to continue skill classes if they desire. To make the basic two year program function has required expansion of the program to the limit of the facilities at the high school. And these have proved inadequate to accomplish the job fully.

Dodson estimates he needs as a minimum a new swimming pool, a rifle range, addition of equipment storage area and more personnel if the program is to be fully implemented.

At present, he has added one and a half more instructors for boys and is seeking to recover the wrestling room now used by the vocal music department.

But the program is functioning today. Class loads have been reduced from an average of 45 last year to 35 this year for the boys. But the girls' classes still average 45 to 50 to each teacher.

Swimming is still restricted because the boys and girls must divide the available pool time. The girls' gym is too small to permit more than two classes to use it at one time, keeping the class size high.

This lack of space unless amended, Dodson says, will keep the high school from ever reaching the standards which the new high school will have.

But, he notes, the board of education is determined to equalize the standards as quickly as possible. In this connection, he says, two tennis courts will be added outdoors this year and a new Olympic size swimming pool will be sought.

Another thing that will help raise physical education levels at Pontiac High next year will be the reduced class sizes when the new high school opens.

Depends on Possible Time Extension Years Ago

Tax Calendar May Favor Beck

Can't Prosecute Case Where Record Extends Beyond 6 Years

WASHINGTON (INS) — If, as Teamsters Union boss Dave Beck has predicted, the government tries to take him into court on income tax charges, the government may find the calendar—as reflected in the statute of limitations—on Beck's side.

A look at the law shows that time is running out for federal agents to launch criminal action against Beck, if that is the intent, as a result of the tangled case in which congressional labor racketeers have accused him of taking $322,000 from his union's treasury.

Under the statute of limitations in the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, the government can not have anyone criminally "prosecuted, tried or punished" more than six years after even the most flagrant evasions.

Senate investigators have accused Beck of dipping into the Teamsters treasury from 1949 to 1953. One $36,000 item in 1946 also has been mentioned.

7 YEARS AGO

The March 15, 1950, filing date for Beck's 1949 return was more than seven years ago. The March 15, 1947, filing date for the 1946 return was more than 10 years ago.

There is a chance that Beck got an extension of time to file his 1950 return in 1951. If so, the statute of limitations may not quite have run out for that year.

And, the statute has plenty of time to run for the 1951, 1952 and 1953 returns.

Neither the Justice Department nor Internal Revenue Service would comment on how the statute of limitations applies in Beck's situation, since federal law forbids their discussing individual cases.

Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to say whether he had repaid $270,000 of this amount to the union after he found tax agents on his trail in 1954.

Friend Out of Range

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (U) — Kenneth Camp, 44, was fined $10 for shouting "Fire!" in an apartment house at 3 a.m. in an attempt to rouse a lady friend. He woke everyone in the house, but not the unidentified friend. She was at Hudson Falls, 20 miles away.

SEAFARING CONTRASTS — The occupants of a speedy inboard motorboat, whipping up a white wake in the waters of the Potomac River, wave a greeting to Coast Guardsmen aboard the "Susan Constant" as the ship replica is towed

Proposal Up to Senate

Eye Plan to Merge State Health Units

LANSING (U) — The Senate today took over consideration of a House-approved bill to merge most of the state's health agencies into a single department.

Ending a half hour debate, the bill won an 85-20 okay in the lower chamber yesterday after adoption of an amendment which would retain the Mental Health Dept. as a separate agency. The Crippled Children Commission likewise was left out of the merger plan.

As it now stands, the bill would combine the Dept. of Health, the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium Commission, the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, the State Council of Health and the Michigan Advisory Hospital Council under a Dept. of Health and Hospitals.

Rep. Roy H. Brigham (R-Battle Creek), the sponsor, said the bill was an economy measure as well as a plan to streamline state government in accordance with recommendations of the Little Hoover Commission.

Additionally, he said, it would serve "to bring beds and patients together" by giving authority to a five-man commission in charge of the department to fill empty beds in tuberculosis sanatoriums with patients from other types of hospitals.

Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit).

Killer of Child Insane, to Be Confined in West

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U) — Harrison George Brinan, held for the slaying of 6-week-old Kathleen Thompson, has been ruled insane and will be confined at Atascadero State Hospital. It took less than 10 minutes for a Superior Court jury to return the insanity verdict yesterday. If Brinan is ever found sane he must stand trial for the slaying of the baby March 6 at a church party.

Claims Postal Bills Imperil Free Press

NEW YORK (U) — The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. says freedom of the press is threatened by pending bills that would "classify" newspapers in proposed postal rates.

Bills before Congress would apply a 60 per cent increase in second-class mailing rates only to newspapers having press runs of more than 5,000 copies.

Frank A. Daniels, general manager of the Raleigh, N.C., News & Observer and Times and chairman of the ANPA postal committee, emphasized the ANPA position in a letter Wednesday at Rep. Tom Murray (D-Tenn.), chairman of the House Post Office Committee, made public today.

"Such classification," said Daniels, "plays into the hands of those who want government to classify the press by law for penalties of preferment. It is a threat to our free press."

MUSCLE BUILDER — Jerry Kandt, Pontiac High School student, works out on the parallel bars as part of his training under the school's compulsory physical education program.

Speaker Tells Businessmen

Phony Charity Drives Prey on Five 'Types' of Givers

DETROIT (U) — Four kinds of businessmen get "taken" in charity drives, says Randall M. Ruhlman, secretary of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

They are the "back scratcher," the "headline hunter," the executive who finds it easier to pay than to investigate the cause and the executive who lets his heart rule his head, Ruhlman told the National Conference on Solicitations yesterday.

The "back scratcher" he described as the man who says, "you gave to my cause so I'll give to yours." The "headline hunter," Ruhlman told the group is the executive who heads a project to get his name in the newspapers.

He defined the third type as the man who thinks it's easier to contribute than bother to say "no" and the last type as the man who gives without basing the donation on soundness or need.

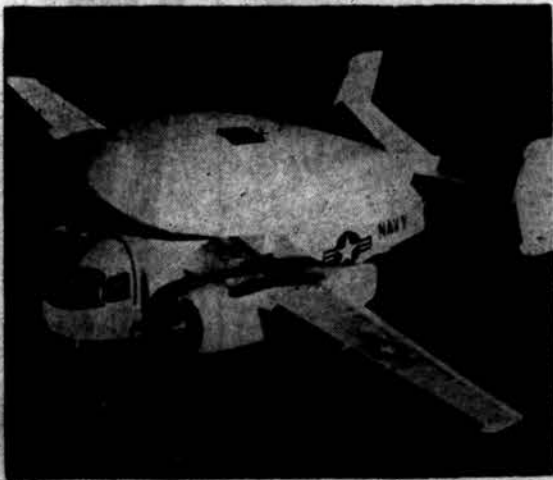

Ruhlman cited six "don'ts" for businessmen in charity drives:

1. Don't lend your name unless you're willing to give the time to a project.
2. Don't give to a telephone appeal.
3. Don't give to an appeal for unordered merchandise (he excluded Easter and Christmas seals).

4. Don't give to "the cause" — give on the basis of the soundness of the organization.
5. Don't give before checking.
6. Don't fail to consult advisory groups such as the Chamber of Commerce or the Better Business Bureau.

STATION ABOUT READY — Pontiac Fire Chief John F. Schroeder said 14 firemen should probably be moving into this, the city's fifth fire hall, by around May 1. He said lack of fire alarm equipment and new personnel prevents the $100,000 building from opening sooner. George Heenan, member of the architectural firm which

UNDER COVER — This Navy airplane carries its own "umbrella," a canopy housing a big radar antenna. The plane, known as the WF2, is designed to operate from carriers in all weather to provide an early warning of impending enemy attacks. Pontiac Press Photo designed the structure at West Huron and Genesee, said the contractors are presently "finishing up loose ends." Hunter Developing Radio to Prevent Loss of Dogs

By HAL BOYLE
MORGANVILLE, N. J. (U) — Science has come up with all sorts of gadgets—including depth finders and radars—to help fishermen locate their finny prey.

But it has kind of neglected the fisherman's fellow hobbyist, the hunter.

SOMETHING NEW
Steve Lavoe, an electronics engineer whose pastime is tracking down big game in odd corners of the world, aims to correct that lack. He's working on something really new for ardent woodsmen—an automatic dog finder.

Steve is head of Lavoe Laboratories here, a firm that has developed a number of electronic instruments for the government's highly secret defense missile program.

His idea for a radio dog locator came to him on a recent hunting trip to Colombia during which two cattle-killing jaguars were bagged.

Specially trained dogs—valued at $500 to $1,000 each—are used to track down the big elusive South American tiger, as the jaguar is often called.

A cornered jaguar, unless the hunters arrive quickly, may ambush and kill or maim a pack of 7 to 10 of these valuable dogs. Sometimes an injured dog will crawl off and become lost in the jungle.

Steve's radio aid to hunting is quite simple. It consists of a three-pound radio sending set attached to the dog's back, and a slightly heavier receiving set carried by the guide.

"A dog can carry such a set all day in the jungle," said Steve. "Our only problem is to put on an antenna that won't get him tangled in the brush. But even if it does we can quickly locate him and set him free."

Lavoe hopes to use the new equipment, still in the designing stage, in a hunt soon for a legendary big cat called the Onza in the mountains of Mexico.

"Many naturalists doubt there even is such an animal," he said. "But it is mentioned in old Spanish chronicles in Mexico City."

"It must be related to the cheetah, because it is reported to have nonretractable claws. Mexican natives swear they have found the tracks of the Onza, and we think a few still survive in the mountains."

Dog Given Award for Burglar Warning

CHICAGO (U)—Rocky, a husky foxhound, got his reward—14 pounds of juicy steak—yesterday as his share in an award given by the Chicago Currency Exchange Assn. for the capture of burglars.

The association's $1,000 prize was divided in $333 shares between Rocky's owner, Julius Harrell, a truck driver and two policemen for their part in capturing robbers of a currency exchange last April 14. Harrell spotted the burglars after Rocky began growling and pulling him toward the exchange door.

The extra dollar of the prize money was given to Rocky, the first dog ever given an award by the association.

Afghanistan Backs Ike on Mideast Doctrine

The Kabul radio said Premier Sardar Mohammad Daud Khan of Afghanistan welcomed the U. S. plan aimed at halting further Communist penetration of the Middle East.

In a statement issued after three days of talks with U. S. special envoy James P. Richards, the Premier said American aid "will help change the situation in the Middle East and ensure peace and security in the region."

Escapes From Hospital, Kills Self With Rifle

NEW YORK (U) — Solomon Weisman, 21, escaped from the Brooklyn State Hospital Tuesday night and returned there yesterday with a rifle he had picked up at home.

Dr. Abraham Glenn, accosted by Weisman with the gun, talked soothingly to the young man until two attendants arrived. Weisman, who had been described as having suicidal tendencies, fired the rifle into his own chest and died.

Airport Building Fund Approved

6.5 Million Bond Issue Will Finance Terminal at Wayne Major

DETROIT (UP)—A $6,500,000 bond issue for building a modern terminal at the Wayne County Airport has been approved by the Airport Committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Start of construction on the glass-walled building, which will include 48 hotel-type rooms, is scheduled for July 1. Completion is set for Oct. 1, 1958.

Total cost of the building is estimated at $8,353,114. It will be three stories high and will have cocktail lounges, a dining room, cafeteria, office and ticket floor space.

Alfred M. Felham, county budget director, said $800,000 of the construction cost will come from a civil aeronautics administration (CAA) allocation of $1,250,000 to the airport. Wayne County already has $1,200,000 on hand for the project, he said.

Most of the CAA money will be used to build new parallel runways, entrance roads, aprons, taxiway lighting and a 4,000-car parking lot.

Poles Go Wild as Band Plays First Live Jazz

WARSAW (UP)—Warsaw heard its first "live" American jazz band since the war last night and Polish audience went wild.

The crowd in the Soviet-built Palace of Culture and Science cheered before, during and after every number played by Ray McKinley and the Glenn Miller orchestra.

Arrival of the band coincided with the first Warsaw showings of prewar films featuring Miller, who was killed in Air Force service during World War II.

The band has been touring U.S. military bases in Britain, Europe and North Africa. It will play 16 engagements in Poland during the next two weeks, then visit Yugoslavia for two weeks.

Claim Foreign Aid to Lift Living Standards

Could Private Industry Do Job?

By HELMAN MOREN

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States government is using about four billion dollars a year of your tax money to help other countries.

Much of this goes for arms to strengthen the non-Communist world. Few congressmen question the value of this.

Other big chunks of money, however, are being spent for "economic assistance" around the world: to create jobs, grow more food, teach new skills, refine old crafts—in short, to lift standards of living.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce, citing government figures, estimates that economic aid to "underdeveloped" countries (thus excluding Western Europe) has run close to 1 1/2 billion dollars since 1948. The allocations, by regions, have been:

Middle East, 635 million; three-fourths to Israel and Iran; Far East and Southeast Asia, 390 million, primarily to India; Latin America, 115 million; Africa, 45 million.

Some people ask: "Couldn't American private industry do much of this?" When an American firm builds a plant and begins operating in another country, they say, the economic effects are precisely what Washington tries to achieve with foreign aid.

That is, to create new jobs and wealth, to train the man at the machine, to provide modern methods and managerial experience, to increase the local government's tax and royalty revenues—all tending to raise the standards of living.

Equally important, in this view, it demonstrates the workings, and the rewards, of the free enterprise system.

By contrast, it is said, the government approach to development suffers from:

1. "The waste of scarce resources . . . inherent in the bureaucratic method."

2. "Anti-enterprise bias . . . discouragement of private initiative and the will to save."

3. "Weakening rather than strengthening the average individual's economic ties with America and its private enterprise system."

What actions would stimulate American investment abroad?

Robert L. Garner, president of the International Finance Corp., has been dealing with the problem for a long time. He was an officer of the World Bank for 11 years. He recommends these steps:

"Foreign service officers should emphasize our belief that private enterprise is identical with our other freedoms.

"We should take a stronger line in protecting our business interests abroad. I'm not talking 'bitch-slap' diplomacy. But the American businessman overseas today does not feel that he has the friendly support of his government."

"Tax incentives should be offered, to compensate a businessman for the risks inherent in foreign investment."

"And we ought to refrain from financing governments in industrial enterprise. Ask, first, if a project can't be handled by private enterprise."

Garner believes the "frustrated intellectual and professional man," not necessarily the underdog, is the most likely target for the Communists. "Private industry, by creating jobs and opportunities for these classes, is a far more effective weapon than government projects."

Mayflower List Raises Eyebrows of Many Britons

LONDON (INS)—A leading topic for British pub lecturers and editorial writers today was the Mayflower list.

No, it's not a new dance. It has to do with the unwelcome behavior exhibited by the Mayflower II at her launching at Brixham, England, Monday evening.

The little wooden sailing vessel, a copy of the ship which carried the Pilgrim Fathers to America in 1620, bobbed like a cork when she slid into water from drydock. The Mayflower's builders, who will sail her to Plymouth, Mass., in about two weeks, say the 180-ton vessel will be in perfect shape for her voyage with the addition of 40 tons of ballast.

But a lot of Englishmen, including Admiral of the Fleet Lord Fraser of North Cape, were of the opinion that Mayflower II is too frail a ship to weather a North Atlantic crossing.

Asked if he would like to sail the Atlantic in the Mayflower, Lord Fraser answered:

"Not a bit of it!"

Wood for matches is sawed into planks two inches thick, then seasoned for two years or more, and after that is sawed again into match blocks.

Retirement Needn't Cut Off Active Life

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

The despair of the letter that follows vividly dramatizes an experience that more and more older people are having these days.

"Dear Mr. Henry, I have just been notified that I must retire. To say that it was a shock is quite an understatement. It's one of those things that one expects to happen. But, when it does, it's hard to take."

"It's hard to realize that I'm 71. I suppose I ought to be thankful that I'm so healthy and have worked so long. But, to find myself depending on Social Security is a blow to my pride. To receive as much per month as I made per week is hard to adjust to."

"We have to live in a world of rising food prices, etc. Doctor's bills are out of the question. I don't intend to waste my money and the doctor's time trying to preserve my painful existence to many more years of useless strife."

"I hope and pray earnestly that the good Lord will take me to be with Him soon. I do not want to be just tolerated, pampered or cast aside. I want no part of old people's homes where the smell of death is so prevalent. I want no pretensions of love or consideration. I want just to make my own way."

— A New Jersey reader.

The letter—and the despair—is a sign of the times, times in which few people are really prepared for retirement and in which millions more are reaching retirement age than ever before.

And, perhaps, more than anything else, it's a sign of the tough job older people have in trying to adjust from a busy business world to the slower pace of retirement. More and more people are anticipating the changes which come with retirement and planning to meet them.

NOT CONSISTENT Obviously, the man who wrote the letter didn't do so and hasn't yet adjusted to retirement. It shows up in his inconsistency. On the one hand, he says he's healthy and wants to make his own way, but on the other he says he wants to die.

Perhaps, for many older people, despair and self-pity can't be helped. But, it doesn't make retirement any easier. In fact, it makes the struggle even tougher.

From the letter writer's view, his outlook is dismal. But is it? Does it have to be?

Not if a proper adjustment is made from the activity of a job to an active retirement.

Not if he can take his eyes off himself and slough off the preoccupation with his own problems.

LEARN NEW SKILLS He can learn new skills and take up hobbies to keep active. He can make new friends, join clubs and senior citizens' organizations, take adult education courses. The secret is staying busy.

And, he should understand that taking Social Security shouldn't be a blow to his pride. It's not charity. There's no pity connected with it. It's money he's earned by paying a tax on his wages while he worked. One purpose of Social Security was to take the charity and pity out of old age.

True, Social Security payments don't stretch very far. But perhaps, he could find a part-time job. Millions of healthy older people do. Or, maybe now that his children are grown, he can find a smaller, less costly—but equally adequate—place to live and make other cuts in his living costs.

FEAR EXPENSE

There's no doubt that medical expenses are a constant fear of many retired people. But many cities and towns have clinics and hospitals where older people can get low cost or free medical care.

In any case, fearing the cost of medical care isn't going to solve the problem of meeting it. And, after all, if you're healthy you don't need the care. The best way to stay healthy is by not worrying, by a good diet and by proper exercise and activity.

Navy Revives Sea Chanteys

Singing Sailors Salvage Robust Tunes, Preserve Ancient Heritage

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (INS) — When iron men sailed wooden ships they sang chanteys to help them work. Today's young sailors have salvaged the sunken ditties, but just for fun.

Great Lakes Naval Training station has spawned a group of singing sailors specializing in the old work songs of the sea. The group is called "The Chanteymen."

Chanteymen were indispensable members of a sailing vessel's crew in the old days.

The songs are strong and rhythmic. When a heavy sail or an anchor was to be hoisted, the crew lined up and the chanteyman took over. He would sing a phrase and the crew bawled a lusty answer. On the accepted beats, muscled backs strained in unison and hauled away.

But sea chanteys were to be found only in barnacle-crusted old volumes and among the repertoires of a few obscure folk singers in recent times.

The 25-man Great Lakes chantey group sings these robust tunes to entertain Navy personnel and civilians in the area, for pleasure and, in the words of Captain A. C. Burrows, commander at Great Lakes: "To preserve the heritage of the sea."

U. of M. Survey Eyes Insurance

115 Million Americans
Hold Policies; 6 Out of 7
Families Have Coverage

ANN ARBOR (U)—Americans find life insurance their most popular form of thrift, the University of Michigan Survey Research Center reports.

Of an estimated 160 to 170 million Americans, 115 million own life insurance, the Michigan researches found out.

They have just completed a report for the Institute of Life Insurance that was released today in New York. Data was collected from 4,000 representative families across the nation.

The surveyors learned that 86 per cent of American families have some sort of life insurance coverage. In addition, 57 per cent had each member insured.

Most of those questioned said they bought life insurance to support their dependents. This answer was given by 85 per cent of those interviewed.

Breaking down families by income, the researchers discovered that lower income families regard insurance as a method of meeting final expenses and have all members of the family covered.

Among higher income groups, life insurance is purchased as a way to support dependents and coverage is concentrated on the family breadwinner.

Roamin' Roman Dogs Won't Get Death Penalty

ROME (INS) — Rome's Municipal Council has abolished the gas chamber death penalty — for dogs.

The death penalty for humans was abolished throughout Italy by the new constitution of 1947.

Now Rome's stray dogs will be taken into municipal kennels and cared for until homes can be found for them.

Brooklyn Plant Marks 10th Safety Record Year

DEARBORN (INS) — Ford said its Brooklyn, Mich. parts manufacturing plant yesterday marked its 10th anniversary of operating without a lost-time accident.

The company said the Brooklyn facility has a record of 3,800,000 injury free man-hours worked since April, 1947. The plant, according to Ford, has had only two lost-time injuries since it was opened 18 years ago.

Plastic automotive trim parts are made at the plant, which employs 200 workers.

Jet Crash Victim Is Menominee Man

RAMSTEIN, Germany (U.S.) — 12th Air Force authorities have identified a Michigan man among two officers killed when their B-57 Canberra light bomber crashed near Laon, France Tuesday.

They were the pilot, 1st Lt. Warren R. Anderson, 26, of Menominee, Mich., who is survived by his wife, Eleanor, and three children; and his navigator, 1st Lt. Richard H. Fogarty, 24, of Westmont, N. J., who is survived by his bride of one month, Anne. Immediate families of both live in Laon in Northern France.

The accident occurred shortly after takeoff when the jet bomber caught fire and tried to return to Laon for a landing. It crashed and exploded in a field outside of the town.

Canadian Diplomat Kills Self in Cairo

CAIRO (U.S.) — Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt, committed suicide today.

The Canadian Embassy said he had been in a depressed condition due to "recent unpleasant publicity and accusations"—an obvious reference to a U. S. Senate subcommittee's report that it had evidence he had been a Communist.

The 48-year-old ambassador plunged to his death from a high building near his home.

Canada had protested the report against Norman made public last month by the U. S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee. In the report, a transcript of a closed committee earlier in March, committee counsel Robert Morris said there was evidence Norman had been a Communist.

After the Canadian protest, Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson told Parliament a 1951 government security check gave Norman a clean bill of health on the Red charges.

Willman to Tell About Detroit Water Plan

Commission to Hear Sanitation Report

Pontiac city commissioners will be briefed tonight by City Manager Walter K. Willman on a recent National Sanitation Foundation water study for six counties in southeastern Michigan.

They will hear the recommendation of three top consultants that a joint metropolitan service area be established to provide water from Detroit to Pontiac, Oakland County and the five other counties.

Willman will also report on a suggested appointment to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees, the city's municipal parking lot situation, two sidewalk construction contracts postponed because of alleged non-union affiliations, and a recent Civil Defense conference he attended.

Tonight's meeting of the commission replaces the usual Tuesday session so that the commission may canvass Monday's vote on the civil service proposal for policemen.

MORE DATA

More information is expected to be handed down tonight from the city's bond attorney concerning the scheduled city hospital and sewage treatment plant vote.

Commissioners will hear a request from officials of Baldwin Rubber Local 125 asking a hearing on the city's intention to con-dem the union's property at 128 W. Pike St.

Failing to arrive at an agreement price for the property, commissioners instructed condemnation proceedings to begin. The property is sought to complete the 148-stall municipal parking lot on West Lawrence street.

STUDY ORDINANCE

City Attorney William A. Ewart will recommend that a proposed ordinance establishing zoning districts for trailer parks be referred to the City Planning Commission for study.

Up for possible adoption this evening is a proposed fire prevention ordinance for Pontiac. Ewart will ask that a section requiring water sprinkling systems for all buildings be deleted from the ordinance.

Commissioners will receive a bundle of special assessment rolls for sidewalk and water main projects in the city.

Waterford OKs Record Budget

School Board Seeking No Tax Hike to Finance $3,067,640 Costs

Without calling for increased taxation, the Waterford Township Board of Education last night passed a record $3,067,640 budget, with provisions for $47,240 in across-the-board raises.

However, details of increased salary schedules have not yet been approved, said William Shunk, school superintendent.

The increase of $167,640 more in expenditures than last year is mainly to accommodate a conservatively estimated boost in attendance of 500 pupils plus additional costs of operating two new elementary schools now under construction, Shunk said.

The budget also includes purchase of seven new buses, five replacements and two for additional service.

"These additional funds will in no way mean an increase in taxes, however," said Shunk.

Provided, but not yet specified, Shunk said, are $34,000 in raises for teachers and administrative personnel; $9,000 for custodians and maintenance employees and $3,240 for clerical help.

REGULAR RAISES

This is in addition to regular raises under the present wage schedule, Shunk said.

The board also accepted the resignation of Elmer Johnson, newly elected township supervisor.

It appointed Marshall E. Smith to fill Johnson's term as board secretary and Mrs. Donald E. Adams to fill Johnson's position on the personnel committee.

Edmund Windeler was chosen to replace Johnson as representative on the Township Recreation Board.

'56 Budget Cut Said Ineffective

Senator Contends Cash From Carryover Funds Defeated Aim

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today Congress' 1956 billion-dollar cut in foreign aid reduced spending for that purpose only about 200 millions.

Much of the money spent had been carried over from previous years — a procedure Byrd says robs Congress of its power over the purse strings.

Byrd is leading a fight to chop two billions off President Eisenhower's request for $4,400,000,000 to continue the foreign assistance program. He said that unless Congress cuts new money requests drastically there will be no substantial reduction in actual spending in this field.

"We cut a billion dollars off of the President's money requests last year but the administration drew on carryover funds and the only actual saving in spending was 200 million dollars," Byrd said in an interview.

Byrd said he thinks the major portion of economies he expects Congress to make in the foreign aid field will come in the economic fund requests, which total $1,950,000,000 for the year beginning July 1.

"I think we can cut that amount by 1 1/2 billions," he said. "We should reduce military assistance by at least a half billion for a total reduction of two billion dollars."

Byrd said that if Eisenhower gets all of the new money he is asking, there will be $4,686,000,000 available for spending on economic projects abroad.

In the military field, Byrd said that if Eisenhower's request for $2,450,000,000 in new funds is granted by Congress, there would be a total of $6,537,000,000 available for expenditure, including carryover funds.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said that if the cuts advocated by Byrd are made they are likely to be reflected in a "sharp drop in our own gross production and income."

"The money spent in foreign aid nearly all comes back into our own economy and is multiplied," Aiken said.

Horseless Carriage Gasless

Even Oldest Gray Mare Sees Service in England

LONDON (INS) — The old gray mare is coming back into her own in Britain today.

With gasoline rationed to restrict motorists to 200 miles of traveling a month and selling at upwards of 64 cents a gallon the horse is outstripping the dog from its traditional role as "man's best friend" in this tight little isle.

Now that the horseless carriage is panting with thirst the clatter of horsehoes is returning to the highways and byways of Britain.

Business men as far apart as London, Birmingham and Edinburgh are riding to work on their favorite grey mares and chestnut geldings.

BRITONS MOUNT UP

Take Lt. Col. Eric Trevor, 52-year-old estate agent, who lives in the London suburbs of Richmond. Nowadays, dressed in bowler hat and jodhpurs and with stirrups equipped with red warning lights, the colonel clip-clops to his Mayfair office on his six-year-old mare, "Dawn."

The journey takes an hour and a quarter but Dawn, according to the colonel, "is a much better proposition than my 25-horse-power car."

"A horse is cheaper to run than a car," he added.

The big breweries of Britain, which wisely cling to horse-drawn drays for advertising or prestige purposes, are thanking their lucky stars.

DELIVER FREIGHT

There are no prouder men in the nation today than the British Railways carters who deliver freight from station to door in horse-drawn carts with an "I told you so" expression.

Farmers who only yesterday were boasting of their mammoth new tractors are glumly silent today and envying their short-sighted neighbors who failed to succumb to mechanization. The horse consumes no gasoline and what's more is free from the heavy sales tax. But there are horse power problems.

The number of horses bred in Britain has declined steadily since the introduction of the motor car. During and after the last war the meat market cut heavily into their numbers.

QUADRUPEDS OUST

Naturally, a sudden demand for horses inflates prices. Modern automobile factories can through automation boost output the fantastic heights but this philosophy or technique is alien to a stable.

Today in Britain a good hunter costs as much as $300 and a farm horse about $200, although ponies can be picked up for a little as $70 and donkeys for even less.

Then there's the question of food which, is both expensive and scarce, although not quite as dear and rare as gasoline. The poor harvest this year put up the price of hay to $36 a ton and the price of oats to $38 a ton.

Carters estimate that it costs at least $3-$4 a week to feed a healthy horse that pulls a load, and that this horse cannot be expected to cover more than 100-125 miles a week.

MEET 'JOHN' — It's a heavy armload for two-year-old Duane Meier as he introduces his pet, a month-old St. Bernard pup named John. Duane, who lives in Monroe, Wis., wears a 1920-vintage hat that looks like some of 1957's Easter bonnets.

Park Looks Like Rainbow

Sulphur Dell baseball park, in Nashville, Tennessee has lived up its grandstand and superstructure. Painting the seating sections in orange, red, grey, green, yellow and blue gives an atmosphere of happy festivity to the park and, incidentally, makes the seating of fans an easy proposition. Section red straight ahead, sir.

State Newspapers to Back Drive for Traffic Safety

LANSING (P) — Michigan newspapers will throw their weight behind a drive to cut down the 1937 traffic death toll through safety education.

Representatives of the Traffic Safety Committee of the Michigan Press Association met Tuesday with the Michigan State Safety Commission to outline the MPA plans for safety promotion.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs told the group that Michigan is running 183 traffic deaths behind the number killed during the first three months of last year.

"We're off to a pretty good start," Childs said, "but the heavy traffic months are just ahead."

ROUGH PROSPECTS

"Things are going to be rough from now on in as far as holding down the traffic deaths are concerned," agreed Secretary of State James M. Hare. "Now is when we need to win the cooperation of the general citizenry through the newspapers."

F. Granger Well, executive vice president of the Port Huron Times Herald, chairman of the MPA Traffic Safety Committee, outlined a proposed safety promotion program for the immediate future.

He said the state's daily and weekly newspapers would be asked to:

BACK TESTS

1. Back legalization of chemical tests for drunk driving, now proposed in the Legislature.

2. Support a drive to help establish local safety councils.

3. Join in carrying a series of articles explaining the statewide safety program, including the driver training program and tightened licensing procedures.

4. Support present stricter policies on revoking and suspending the licenses of unfit drivers.

Well said the committee also suggested that statistics be gathered to find out more about the background of unfit drivers whose licenses were suspended or revoked.

'I Must ... in Case of Blunder,' Secretary Explains

Newsmen Unsure of What Dulles Says Until He Edits Transcript of Remarks

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (U) — The best way for a newsmen to be sure he knows what Secretary of State Dulles means to say is to get it in writing.

Dulles' stenographers take down every word he says at a news conference, type it, and give him a copy. He then edits and changes his words to suit himself.

Thus newsmen who heard him say one thing sometimes read, in the transcript of his remarks, that he said something else. This happened again at yesterday's conference.

He told newsmen Dag Hammarskjöld, United Nations secretary general, had made substantial progress in his talks with Egyptian President Nasser.

For some reason Dulles had second thoughts and decided to soften the progress angle. In the transcript he changed substantial progress to "some progress."

This practice brought him into stiff argument with newsmen last fall when, at his Oct. 2, 1956, news conference, he was asked about a reported split between the United States and its British and French allies.

He said "there is some difference." This language put the difference in the present tense, giving it the appearance of something still going on.

But he edited to put the difference in the past tense by knocking out the verb "is" and saying "there has been some difference."

He also spoke of some differences on "fundamental things" but in the transcript changed this to have him saying "our approach is not always identical."

At his next conference, Oct. 16, newsmen objected to this editing job, asked him to let the transcript quote him on the language he had actually used.

He said: "No ... I must reserve the right in case I make a blunder inadvertently which does damage to international relations to correct those blunders."

Reporters who get exclusive interviews with Dulles — such as two reporters from Time and Life magazines have had in the past 16 months — might have less worry about corrections later if they had Dulles read and correct their copy before they publish it.

Broomfield Reports OK by Brucker on Survey of 3 Counties

Favorable action by the Secretary of the Army is expected to speed a flood survey for Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties, Congressman William S. Bloomfield, of Royal Oak, said in Washington, D.C. today.

Bloomfield's report came after his introduction of a bill calling for a survey of streams and rivers flowing into Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River.

The Army estimates it would cost about $30,000 to determine if rivers and streams are adequate to handle storm water once proposed drainage networks are built," Bloomfield said.

In a preliminary report, Broomfield said, Army secretary Wilber M. Brucker stated local drainage problems and some "serious damage" have been created in many urban areas "because of a marked increase in land development."

Broomfield believed that survey results could profitably be incorporated in future planning of the Detroit Metropolitan Area.

Ike Names Woman as Press Assistant

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower today appointed a woman—Mrs. Anne Wheaton—to replace Murray Snyder as an assistant press secretary in the White House.

The surprise move was announced by the President in a speech before some 1,500 applauding women at the 5th annual Republican Women's Conference.

Mrs. Wheaton, director of women's publicity for the Republican National Committee, said the appointment came as "a complete surprise" and she got the word just an hour and a half earlier from her new boss, James Hagerty, White House press secretary.

The appointment is unusual because for the first time it brings a woman official to a top White House press post.

Mrs. Wheaton, who says she is over 60 years old, is a native of Utica, N. Y., and onetime newspaper woman. She has served with the GOP National Committee since 1939.

Scowl Was His Trademark

Veteran Comic Sparks Dies at 73 in California

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Ned Sparks, whose movie trademark was a frozen scowl and half-chewed cigar, died last night of an intestinal block. He was 73.

The Canadian-born comedian was admitted Tuesday night to St. Mary's Hospital of the Desert. He had been in ill health for several months and bedridden about a week.

Since 1948 he had lived with his only daughter, Laura Sparks, in a rented adobe apartment at the guest ranch of Mrs. Kemper Campbell in nearby Apple Valley.

There he busied himself inspecting the myriad desert flowers, taking walks and writing an autobiography of his career which began in the gold rush days of the Yukon.

"He was grouchy only on the outside," said Mrs. Campbell, a long-time friend. "Inside he was warm and a favorite of the children here on the ranch."

One of his last requests was to be buried in the small Victor Valley Memorial Park, in the rugged and desolate Mojave Desert.

The four-faced comedian was born Edward A. Sparkman in Guelph, Ont. At 17 he went prospecting for gold in Alaska, but failed to strike it rich.

His first taste of show business came as a singer in the rough and tumble saloons of Dawson City in the Yukon. He later traveled throughout America, hitting the big time in 1913 on Broadway in the play "Little Miss Brown."

A leader in the strike in 1918 which resulted in the formation of Actor's Equity, Sparks was blackballed on Broadway. He turned to Hollywood, where he became typed as a monotone-voiced sourpuss in films such as "The Big Noise," "Nothing but the Truth," "Imitation of Life" and "Gold Diggers of 1933." He retired in 1948.

Jack Asks Own Decree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Webb, whose wife Dorothy Towne has filed suit for divorce in Mexico, wants a decree of his own. He filed a complaint in Superior Court yesterday charging mental cruelty. Webb, 36, and Miss Towne, 27, were married in Chicago in 1955.

Honor Horse Trainer

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Joe Cooper, the nation's oldest race horse trainer, today will be honored at Bay Meadows. Cooper, 96, and his wife are celebrating their 63rd wedding anniversary. He retired in 1950 after a 70-year career.

Soo Locks' Opening Expected This Week

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The opening of the Great Lakes navigation season has been delayed until at least late tomorrow or Saturday.

Cmdr. E. J. Bodenloss of the Coast Guard station here said today the ice breaker Mackinaw will be tied up at least until tomorrow breaking windrowed ice in the Straits of Mackinac.

The first Great Lakes vessel originally was expected to pass through the Soo Locks yesterday. The opening of the locks to shipping traffic generally is taken as marking the opening of the navigation season on the Great Lakes.

The lead ship in the convoy which was scheduled to lock through the Soo yesterday, the Pittsburgh Steamship Line ore carrier Anderson, scraped an object just below the soos and was forced to dock in the St. Mary's River here for an examination. A check showed she was not damaged. The Mackinaw is expected to return to the locks tomorrow or Saturday to escort the first convoy through and to break a lane through the ice bottlenecking Whitefish Bay.

Two commercial building permits were issued for a concrete plant on M59 an da barber shop totaling $15,000. Altogether, there were 86 building permits issued, totaling $1,647,071 for the month, according to the report.

Chicago to Lead Grain Exports?

Study Shows Seaway Will Boost Volume of Windy City Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway should make Chicago the nation's leading grain export center by the mid 1960s, a university research study states.

The study analyzing probable effects of the new waterway on U.S. grain markets was sponsored cooperatively by the Indiana University school of business and the Chicago Board of Trade.

The study said Chicago grain exports may range from 80 to 110 million bushels annually if full potential of the seaway is realized and grain shipments abroad maintain their present volume. According to the study, large amounts of export grain now being shipped out of Atlantic and Gulf ports will go through Chicago and other Great Lakes ports instead. Only small amounts of export grains are shipped from Chicago now.

Based on present shipping rates, the seaway will enable Chicago to draw grain competitively from as far as Enid, Okla., and the Rocky Mountains, the study shows. This would include a major portion of the winter wheat belt and practically all of the main growing areas for corn and soybeans.

The seaway will provide savings of from 15 to 20 cents a bushel on grains going into export over existing eastern routes although it is anticipated that future competitive rate cutting could reduce savings to 70 cents a bushel, the study discloses.

Robert C. Liebenow, board of trade president, said the survey confirmed a belief held by most Chicago grain men that the city's prospects for becoming the leading grain export center are "unusually good."

Robber Beats Victim, Stays There for Arrest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A robber beat James R. Murphy, 44, into insensibility last night, but instead of fleeing stayed around until police arrived to arrest him.

"It got so bloody I couldn't stand it," police quoted Earl

Floyd Miller, 33, a transient, who was hooked on suspicion of robbery. "I was robbing him, that's all. Here's his watch and the $1.38 I took from him."

Murphy still was unconscious when officers arrived. He was taken to General Hospital, suffering from numerous cuts and bruises.

Stains Protect, Beautify

In the industrial finishing of furniture, stains are used for three distinct purposes. First, to bring out the natural figure and enhance the distinctive wood grain pattern. Second, to produce a uniform over-all tone. Third, to produce imitations of more costly cabinet wood colors on woods that have no desirable color or figure of their own.

Nepal's Government is considering lifting a four-year ban on the Communist Party and legalizing the Communist, Katmandu reports.

U. S. Exports, Imports Set Record in 1956

What Should Mirror Do?

An important point to remember in selecting a mirror is that an unframed one mainly performs the function of bringing light into a room. A framed mirror can be a conversation piece just as any other decorative object in the room.

Bulk coal is often treated as fragile cargo because customers demand it be delivered in certain sizes and rough handling tends to break up the size of the original lumps.

SPRING IS HERE
4. Three Little Kittens

Sometimes piles of snow linger in shady corners in the northern states and spring seems very slow in coming.

But long before all the snow has melted, a sure sign of spring appears along the banks of streams and rivers. The buds we call "pussy willows" burst out of their brown winter coats and are ranged along the leafless twigs of pussy willow bushes like rows of soft little gray kittens. Under that soft gray fur are the pussy willow seeds.

Here are three "pussy willow kittens" for you. Color the picture and paste it on cardboard. Cut around the dotted edges of the three bud caps. Punch holes at the top of the panel and hang it up by putting a string through the holes. Cut out the kittens at the right and slip them into the cut out bud caps.

Then you'll have three little kittens growing on the branch. (Laurie Ziminski of Duluth, Minn., won $10 for this idea. Send your ideas in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Chicago Firm Brings Religion at Coffee Breaks

CHICAGO (INS) — A "brotherhood in business" program is getting a tryout during "coffee breaks" at a Chicago manufacturing plant.

Employees in the plant, instead of "chewing the fat" during relief periods, this year will have the chance to talk religion with clergymen of their own and other religions one day a week.

Peter Vold, president of the firm which employs some 50 persons said the plan aims at "putting religious principles to work" in the business world.

He said the company will contribute half the time for the 30-minute, employee-clergyman "coffee conferences" with present 15-minute employee reliefs making up the rest.

Ministers of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths will rotate their visits to the plant. Topics for the conferences will be developed according to interest, the clergymen have decided.

Vold said the sessions "may serve as a pattern for other businesses to follow so that the principles of the various religions can be made to work throughout the year."

Too Late to Collect
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A. E. Brunson was 49 years late getting to the courthouse with a witness affidavit for $5.

He said he had just found the affidavit issued to his wife, who died 15 years ago, in 1908 for serving as a civil suit witness.

Reds Claim 23 Records

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet air pilots, parachute jumpers and model builders have just claimed 23 new world records in a wide category of events. These include altitude records for both parachute jumps and small planes. One record was for a flight to an altitude of 6,018 meters carrying a two-ton load by a Soviet MI-4 type helicopter flown by Rafael Kapelyan.

Higher freight rates on salt are threatening East Pakistan with a salt famine, Dacca reports.

Lakes Bars—Both Kinds

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A Lima man was unsuccessful again recently in an attempt to make the city jail his permanent winter home. Arraigned in municipal court on a drunk charge, he scolded Judge

Carl M. Blank because "... you only gave me seven days last time when I asked for 30."

"Ten days," ordered the judge. A general wage boost, ranging from 45 per cent to 89.4 per cent, has been ordered in Bolivia.

Modern Tempo May Cause Bouts With Insomnia

Life's Too Exciting to Sleep It Away

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK (INS) — Being unable to sleep at night used to be something of a distinction. Being unable to keep off in the still night implied that you were a poet of charming intellect and artistic temperament, unconquerable by Morpheus or any of his little barbiturate helpers.

Today being unable to sleep is disgustingly common, and the bulled eye is looked upon with disinterest. No longer are the words, "I haven't slept a wink for days," regarded with fascination by the kiddies and sympathetic respect by the adults.

16 hours sleep per night-throughout the day.

However, Miss del Rio is currently snoozing away in Mexico, so the next best bet is a girl named Phyllis I. Rosentour, who doesn't sleep very well herself, but knows a lot about people who do.

Miss Rosentour, author of a book called "Morpheus and Me," says there are prescriptions these days for every type of insomnia, from bedboards and beer for every weary gent to heart-break pillows — crumpled, of course — for ladies who may want to weep themselves to unconsciousness without ruining a night's sleep or the bedclothes.

She doesn't claim to know all the reason why people are not sleeping these days ("certainly it is not all cheese and bedbugs"), but it must be presumed that life has become simply too exciting to miss.

In the war effort, people got accustomed to working nights as well as days, and the advent of television has certainly not contributed to the flagging down of sensitivities during the dark hours.

ROUTINE OUTMODER

It is decidedly true, too, that the system of leading a life of routine has become outmoded.

It has been so highly touted, in this modern day of psychiatry, that "routine" is the death of imaginative living — also of marital happiness — that everybody's leery now of drinking a glass of hot milk and easing into bed eight hours before the alarm clock setting.

If you ask me what's wrong with the no-sleep picture, I'd say it can be blamed on the fact that science and medicine, in sincerely trying to make everything better, have just made life more exciting.

Figures Show Slight Increase in Registration

In March, there were 12,153 papers totalling $17,188 handled in the office of Oakland County Register of Deeds.

This compares with 12,483 papers totalling $19,967 handled in March, 1936, said Daniel T. Murphy Jr., register.

A breakdown of last month's figures included: 2,503 deeds, $4,041; 1,106 mortgages, $3,874; 2,047 miscellaneous transactions, $3,264 and 5,000 chattel mortgages, $5,000.

There were 15 new plats recorded last month.

Seek to Control Beetle in Pacific Islands

MANILA — In the central and southern Pacific islands, the rhinoceros beetle is an economically serious pest that spoils coconut and other palms, sugar cane and pineapple. Its threat to the coconut palm is especially serious because coconuts are the major subsistence crop and also the source of copra, the area's most important export product.

The South Pacific Commission is conducting a survey of the beetle's parasites and diseases in the hope of finding an effective biological control program.

One-half of the U.S. population now has trouble sleeping. That's 90,000,000 persons, according to a survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion. And this, despite the fact there are more yellow pills, allergy pillows, oscillating beds, self-hypnosis records, decaffeinated drinks and dull books than ever before in history.

Even universities are offering seminars in "How to Sleep," and any day now Sperry Rand should come out with an electronic sheep computer.

Why is the world suddenly so comatose — outside of the obvious fact that there's too much thinking going on? I, who am accustomed to being rather revered for insomnia ("Phyllis must be a most complex person"), would like to get to the bottom of the whole thing.

BEAUTY SLUMBER

The person to go to, obviously, is Delores del Rio, the one-time movie stee who is more beautiful in her late mid-age than she was in the arms of Ramon Navarro, and all because she claims to get

Parting Brings Tears — Also Police to Girl

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP)—Police responded to a telephone report that a young woman was weeping on the roof of a seven-story hotel and might be planning to jump.

They found Mrs. James Childress, 20, who explained she was on the roof to watch a navy ship sail away. Her tears? She was weeping because her husband was on the ship, bound for six months of service in the far Pacific.

Security Guards at Our SAC Bases Playing Rough and Dangerous Game

AP Newsfeature
Memo to a foreign spy:
Are you planning to break into one of the U.S. Air Force Strategic Air Command bases?
Don't try it.
Don't try it.
Any attempt to sabotage a SAC base, home of the atom and hydrogen bombs, faces million to one odds of failure. At the very least, you will wind up stark naked with a rifle butt in your teeth five minutes after you try to slip in. If the guards don't get you, vicious sentry dogs will.

They're ready for you. Really ready. For SAC is at war already and they trust no man—not even their own.

Security is more than a word with the Strategic Air Command—it's a way of life. It's a daily program.

Practice alerts at all hours of the day and night are commonplace—and the men alerted by pyramid phone calls never know if it is a practice affair or the real thing.

FREQUENT ALERTS
Phones ring at 4 a.m. Doors slam. Tires squeal as colonels, majors, sergeants and airmen race to wake others in a pyramiding alert, then dash for the base to stand by on duty for five, ten or more hours, as planes take off on mysterious mission.

But that isn't the whole story—it's only part of it. Gen Curtis E. LeMay's Strategic Air Command goes to fantastic lengths to be sure their bases are safe from infiltration and sabotage.

The stories of their daily exercises in security read like a cloak and dagger thriller—yet they are true.

SAC bases this very minute live under the security restrictions of wartime. Officers and men wear I.D. cards on their shirts and blouses. Areas to which a man may be admitted are defined. If someone thoughtlessly crosses a line to a zone where he doesn't belong he is arrested instantly—and not always pleasantly.

QUICK WORK
"I stepped over a line once," a sergeant said. "I didn't belong there—I just wasn't thinking. Before I knew what had happened two air policemen grabbed me by each arm and hustled me off to an interrogation room."

"They stripped me naked; broke my pencil and pen in two (searching for tiny but patent thermite bombs), and stood me against a wall—those guys don't care who you are if they catch you in an area where you don't belong."

An Air Force man in charge of a security patrol in a very hush-hush zone said he had specific orders to do that.

"One of my men caught an officer in the area. The man wasn't cleared for the zone and had no business being there. The officer started to pull rank—give my airman a bad time. He got a rifle butt slammed into him and we hauled him away. Orders are orders and we're playing for keeps."

The officer tried to prefer charges against the guard for assaulting a superior. The charges were dropped and the airman got a commendation.

Intelligence agents from Washington keep base security forces on their toes by sending teams around the country to try to sneak into SAC bases. They go to fantastic lengths in their spy-prestige.

At one base they bought an old laundry truck from a firm that had been using it for pickup and delivery on the base. They got in to the base and planted rolled-up sheets of paper on a half-dozen B47 jet atom bombers.

EMBARRASSING TOUR
Next day the team returned—officially—and took the base commander and the base provost marshal on a tour and showed them the "bombs" they'd planted.

The provost marshal, so the story goes, was transferred in 24 hours.

Infiltration exercises by intelligence agents have gotten SAC base security men to a high peak of efficiency. They no longer even trust their own mothers.

And it has now become a game—a deadly game—between intelligence men and SAC guards.

"We don't take any chances," a security man said. "If there is anything phony about a guy, he's in for trouble."

He grinned. "And if we think he's an American intelligence agent trying to sneak in, he's in even worse trouble."

Red Officers Invite U.S. Vets to Russia

MOSCOW 48—A group of Soviet officers today invited U.S. veterans to Moscow to celebrate the 12th anniversary of the Soviet-American link at the Elbe in 1945.

The invitation was published in Pravda in the form of an open letter signed by a reserve major general, G. V. Ivanov, and seven officers of lesser rank. The anniversary is on April 25.

The invitation was addressed to the same nine Americans who finally got to Moscow in 1955. Named in the invitation were:

Joseph Polowsky of Chicago; Claude W. Moore, Newbern, S.C.; Robert Haag, Indianapolis; Charles C. Forrester, Greer, Tenn.; Fred W. Johnston, Bradford, Pa.; Murry Schulman, Queens Village, N.Y.; B. L. Shiver, Lakeland, Fla.; William Weise, Cincinnati; and Elijah R. Sams Jr., Pinnacle, N.C.

Extra Loop of Pipe Keeps Bathtub Warm

CHICAGO — It's easy to have a warm bathtub if you plan for it when building your house or modernizing your bathroom, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Just ask the heating contractor to run a length of pipe or tubing around the bathtub and connect the loop with the hot-water heating system. Thus whenever hot water circulates through the heating system it also circulates around the bathtub and keeps it warm.

German Leads Allied Forces

Speidel Takes Charge of NATO Land Units in Central Europe

PARIS (AP) — Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel, German deputy commander in France during World War II, has taken command of Allied land forces in Central Europe. His French superior declined to shake his hand for a picture.

The first top member of the old Nazi Wehrmacht to take a top NATO command, Speidel was installed in a brief ceremony in a courtyard of Fontainebleau Palace, headquarters of the West European command.

Speidel and French Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, commander in chief of Allied forces in Central Europe, reviewed an honor guard after a French army band played the West German national anthem and then the French anthem.

When photographers asked the two commanders to pose shaking hands, Valluy declined, saying, "Oh, you've had enough pictures," Speidel said nothing.

Speidel's appointment caused a minor flurry of protest in France. The French government was said to have approved the action chiefly because of its own diminished forces in Central Europe and because Speidel's record in Hitler's army was mainly that of a military thinker and planner.

Speidel, 59, made no statement during the ceremony.

His command is made up of forces from West Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, Canada, France, Holland, Britain and the United States. He succeeds French Gen. Marcel Carpentier, who resigned last year.

The quiet, bespectacled German general served as chief of staff to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the World War II days of the Normandy invasion. Although linked with the bomb plot against Hitler in July 1944, he denied any participation. He was arrested by the Gestapo in September 1944 and spent the last months of the war in a Nazi jail. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer named him the senior German military representative at Supreme Allied Headquarters when West Germany was admitted to NATO.

ELEGANCE WITH EASE — Pimiento-lined avocados are stuffed with seafood, then baked. The result is a delicate blending of flavors to make a pretty dish and a versatile one. Changes in the stuffing are only as limited as your imagination.

Teach the Kids — Eat Like Rabbits for Good Health

No wonder rabbits have all that hop and skip considering that their favorite food provides almost astronomical amounts of vitamin A. Definitely, bunnies have the right idea when it comes to nutritive value of carrots.

Those crunchy, golden yellow roots have around 48,000 international units of vitamin A per pound, kitchen weight. The recommended daily allowance of this essential vitamin as set by the National Research Council is 5000 units a day for an adult.

One medium size raw carrot (5 1/2 inches long, 1 inch thick) provides 6000 units. A half cup of sliced cooked carrots provides 6000 units.

Don't write off vitamin A as just another scientific word. If you don't get enough of this substance you will be weak and ill. Better get plenty.

"There is evidence," says the National Research Council, "that divides in health and more effective physiologic function may accrue when quantities of vitamin A are allowed which are in excess of those required to prevent signs and symptoms of deficiency."

Nothing Is Bland About This Filling

A delicious filling for sandwich rounds is made with creamed cottage cheese—a dairy food you'll find in plentiful supply now. Green pepper, onion, carrot and French dressing are seasonings which enhance the bland cheese flavor.

Cottage Cheese Sandwiches 12 slices white bread

1 1/2 cups creamed cottage cheese, stirred
1 cup minced green pepper
1 cup grated raw carrot
2 tablespoons French dressing
Salt, pepper to taste

With a two-inch cookie cutter, cut rounds from bread slices. Blend remaining ingredients for filling. Spread generously on eight bread rounds and cover with rest of rounds.

Pimientos Line Avocados for Baked Seafood Dish

Simply elegant — and simple. Gay red pimientos line pale green avocados, which are then stuffed with seasoned seafood and baked so that all the delicate flavors are gently blended. And how easy it all is. With the possible exception of the avocados, the fixings are already on your pantry shelf (or in the refrigerator so about all you need do is assemble it and run it in the oven.

This dish is perfect for the Lenten season, but should not be limited to that. Put it in your recipe file and use it often. The red piquant pimientos make it appealing to the eye as well as to the appetite, and with a little changing around — the use of chicken or turkey, crabmeat or lobster — can become one of your specialties and favorites.

Pimiento-Lined Baked Avocado
2 or 3 medium size, firm-ripe avocados
1 1/2-cup. can of 1/2" pimientos
4 tablespoons chopped celery
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 egg milk
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2-cup. can white tuna packed in water

Cut avocados in half lengthwise. Remove seed and peel. Sprinkle with lemon juice or other preparation for retaining color. Heat butter or margarine and cook celery until tender. Add flour and stir to smooth paste. Gradually add milk to make sauce.

Add the mustard, pickle, salt and pepper (if necessary) and the flaked tuna. Mix without breaking tuna too small.

Line avocado cups with pimiento. Add any pimiento bits left over to tuna mixture. Fill avocado cups, piling high. Place in baking dish, add half inch of water, and bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot.

Beef Snacks Smart Cue at Evening Party

Beef provides satisfying as well as wholesome meat snacks. These everyday beef meats can provide an absolutely elegant tray or table and there's nothing tricky or hard about these snack recipes.

As an after-school nibble or before-dinner appetizer, these beef snacks are party-perfect and family-perfect fun foods.

1. Cook smoked beef sausage links by broiling, pan-broiling or simmering in water. Cut links in 1-inch pieces. Place piece of sausage link and stuffed olive on canape pick.

2. Cut frankfurters lengthwise, but not completely through. Insert strips of cheddar cheese in slit frankfurters. Cut into 1-inch pieces. Broil until cheese browns slightly.

3. Cut slices of cooked corned beef to fit buttered small rye bread. Top with a bit of horseradish mustard.

4. Spread layer of chipped beef with softened cream cheese. Roll as jelly roll. Cut into bite-size pieces.

5. Season ground beef with salt, pepper, finely chopped onion and any desired herbs or spices. Shape into bite-size balls. Broil 3 to 4 minutes or until nicely browned on all sides. Insert canape picks. Serve with a bowl of barbecue or chili sauce.

Gay Toppings Add Spice to Breakfast Foods

"Well-dressed foods, like well-dressed women, always attract attention." Possibly comparing a well-dressed woman to a tomato sauce topping for scrambled eggs is stretching a point just a little bit, but the idea is sound...as sound as a delicious breakfast. After all, it is the toppings that really show off your foods and make them interesting and gay.

So here are some ideas from a current magazine for different breakfast food toppings. Try them and see if they don't make that meal more enjoyable for all concerned.

...If you want to serve a tangy bit to awaken that early morning appetite, try a waffle sauce made of orange-cranberry relish thinned with maple syrup. With frozen cranberries now on the market, it's a dish you can have any season of the year.

...For a spicy heart-warming breakfast, try serving a topping of molasses, ginger, nutmeg, and cinnamon on french toast.

...You can add a gourmet touch of the morning slice of ham simply by spreading it with tart jelly or jam before broiling. Apricot, peach, or apple are all good with ham.

...Morning fruits can be different, too. It doesn't always have to be orange juice. How about a new grapefruit-pineapple combination, or a baked apple topped with dates and raisins and served warm?

Company fare: Hearts of celery poached in consommé, then drained and marinated in a mixture of olive oil, white wine vinegar and mustard plus salt and pepper.

Puree drained canned or stewed apricots and use them as a filling between layers of sponge cake. Cover the cake with chocolate frosting for a delightful combination of flavors.

If Diet Must Be Fat Free, Use New Cookbook

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press House Editor

Since a member of our family has been put on a low-fat diet we have changed our method of meal preparation rather drastically. Now, when we serve vegetables, we put them on the table seasoned only with salt. Those members of the family who eat butter put it on for themselves. We broil most of the meat we eat.

Furthermore, we have to consult a food chart almost daily to check how much fat (visible or invisible) is in the prepared foods we use. It's that invisible fat that has to be watched.

We may as well admit that this diet is ruining some of our carefully learned lessons about nutrition. We've been rather insistent about eggs several times a week for breakfast. Unless the fat content of the foods eaten during the rest of the day is cut down, the 45 fat calories in an egg are too much for breakfast. We have to settle for the fruit-cereal-toast routine.

Help in the form of a cookbook entitled "Low-Fat Cookery" by Evelyn S. Stead and Gloria K. Warren (McGraw-Hill, New York, $3.95) came to our desk just this week. We had heard about this book and had requested a review copy from the publishers.

All you readers who are faced with the same menu-planning problem as we are will appreciate this special cookbook. Not only does it give menus and recipes, but it lists many prepared foods by brand name, giving the fat content of each.

This fat content is given in the form of grams. If your doctor has said to eat so many calories of fat per day, just remember that there are nine fat calories in each gram. It's a simple multiplication.

When you pan brown meat, you must not add any fat. Sprinkle salt lightly on the hot pan or rub with a salt bag. You'll be surprised how well the meat browns. Try this beef and vegetable recipe.

BEEF CHUNKS WITH VEGETABLES
1½ pounds top round steak cut in cubes

(No. 2) can tomatoes, drained
(No. 1) can whole kernel corn
1½ teaspoon basil
1½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon pepper

Pan brown meat. Place in casserole with tomatoes, corn and seasonings. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 minutes. Serves four. Fat content per serving 16 grams, or 145 calories.

Salad dressings have to be made differently, of course. This book suggests half a dozen of them. Here's the recipe for a French dressing.

FRENCH DRESSING (WITH PECTIN)

3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons powdered pectin
½ cup water
1½ teaspoon salt
Pepper

Put your strawberries on one biscuit, and you'll have your cake and eat it too.

DROP BISCUITS
2 egg yolks
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup flour
1½ teaspoon baking powder
1½ teaspoon salt
Beat together egg yolks and salt. Stir in ½ cup milk. Sift together flour and baking powder. Stir dry ingredients into milk and egg mixture. Add remaining milk and stir until batter is well blended.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake 10-12 minutes in 375-degree oven. Makes 20 biscuits. Fat content per biscuit 0.6 fat grams or 5.4 fat calories.

This is a cookbook you will use over and over again. It is a welcome addition to the shelf of special cookbooks.

Try Chopped Apple Passover Dessert

By International News Service
Passover, the Jewish Festival of Redemption, is a time for unusual recipes since it requires cooking without leaven.

The holiday, which falls this year from April 15-23, commemorates the Exodus of the Children of Israel from Egyptian bondage, led by Moses.

Here's an example of a typical Passover dish, called Charoses:

1 apple, chopped
1 cup ground nuts
1½ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ teaspoon sugar or honey
2 tablespoons red wine
Pure and core apple, then chop or grate coarsely. Mix thoroughly with the remainder of the ingredients and serve.

Tempt Family With Apple Rings

Breakfast is never the "forgot-the early morning meal" favorite to family needs. Remember that ten meal" when you feature slices of crisp, smoky flavored bacon. You can buy bacon, sliced as refrigerator and used within one week. The wonderful aroma and flavor you like, in either the 1/4 or 1/2 pound packages, so buy according to your needs. The prized flavor and aroma of top quality bacon will make your breakfast a favorite to family needs.

APPLE RINGS AND BACON — The whole family will come in double quick time if they smell bacon cooking. Then when they see fried apple slices, they'll "fall to" with gusto. Breakfast is such an important meal that anything you can do to tempt your family is worthwhile.

Bacon is at its delightful best when fried "just before crisp." To pan fry bacon, place the desired number of slices in a heavy skillet, and don't overcrowd the bacon. Heat slowly and separate the slices as they heat so they will be flat in the pan. Cook slowly, turning the slices with tongs.

Don't pour the hot fat from the skillet while the bacon is cooking, because the slices brown more evenly when floating in fat. Remove each slice when it is well browned, and drain on absorbent paper. Plan on 5 to 8 minutes cooking time for bacon when pan frying.

You may wish to keep bacon drippings for future use. Store the drippings in a covered jar or can in a cool place, and use within 2 weeks. Bacon drippings are fine for pan frying, seasoning vegetables, and making griddle cakes.

For a happy breakfast, serve bacon and eggs with apple sauce, apple butter, fried apple slices, or slices poached in syrup. Other fresh, canned or frozen fruits or berries are also good choices. And, of course, hot toast or biscuits are a "must."

Apple Rings and Bacon
1 pound sliced bacon
2 red apples
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 tsp. salt (optional)

Cook bacon according to directions on package. Core, but do not pare apples and cut into 1/4-inch slices. Brown lightly on both sides in 1/4 cup bacon fat in a heavy skillet. Sprinkle sugar over the apples and spoon fat-sugar mixture over slices until they are glazed. Add water. Cover and cook until apples are just tender. If desired, sprinkle with red sugar. Arrange with the bacon on a hot platter.

Meatless Dish Baked One Hour

Crisp garden flavors of frozen green beans, fresh carrots, celery and onions blended with slightly browned, white uncooked rice are combined in a covered casserole to bake moderately about an hour. We like to serve Rice-Vegetable Casserole with pineapple cottage cheese salad, poppyseed rolls and Dutch apple pie.

Rice-Vegetable Casserole
1/2 cup uncooked rice
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup diced carrots
1/2 cup coarsely cut celery
1 12-ounce package French style green beans, thawed
1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups water

bottom of 2-quart casserole. Cover with rice, then beans, and finally onions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour water over rice and vegetables. Cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour, or until rice and vegetables are tender. Yields six servings.

Preserve Vitamin C by Proper Cooking

Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) essential to your good health, is elusive. It may be present in considerable quantity in foods when you buy them but to a large extent may vanish before the food is eaten. However, it's easy to conserve vitamin C. If you know a few facts about it, according to Dr. John Yudkin, Professor of Nutrition, University of London, England.

Green vegetables, which are rich in vitamin C, contain an enzyme which reaches and oxidizes the vitamin if the greens wilt or are crushed. Some of the vitamin is oxidized even in the absence of this enzyme, if the vegetables are cooked in an alkaline solution (as when soda is used) or when traces of copper are present. This vitamin dissolves in water.

These rules should be followed, he says, to save the vitamin C: (1) Cook the vegetables while fresh and crisp; (2) Cut them sufficiently for quick cooking, but avoid chopping them extremely fine or crushing them; (3) Cook in a minimum of water in a covered vessel for as short a time as possible; (4) Avoid use of soda and of copper utensils; (5) Serve as soon as possible after cooking; (6) If possible, use the cooking water for soups, sauces and gravies.

"Properly cooked green vegetables," says Dr. Yudkin, "retain about three quarters or more of their vitamin C; badly cooked vegetables may retain as little as one quarter."

Glazed Biscuits Baked in Ring

Easter Sunday brunch deserves a sunny and colorful menu. When you and your family come home from church, give them something altogether delicious. Start off with a lovely fresh fruitcup, followed by broiled sausage patties and your best scrambled eggs.

And then, surprise! — a glazed Coffee Ring! You can make it in less than half an hour and it's truly mouthwatering. Naturally, plenty of fragrant coffee will complete this perfect spring-time bill of fare.

Glazed Coffee Ring
2 packages ready-to-bake buttermilk biscuits (16 biscuits)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Whole pecan meats
1/2 cup light corn syrup (about)

Remove biscuits from packages. Melt butter or margarine and blend in brown sugar and cinnamon. Spread one side of each biscuit with this mixture.

Scatter whole pecan meats in bottom of 8-inch ring mold. Add corn syrup to a depth of a quarter-of-an-inch. Stand biscuits on end in ring mold, with spread surface of one biscuit next to plain side of the following biscuit.

Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 15 to 18 minutes. Turn out upside down on serving plate. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Dried Figs Blend Into 'Dreamy' Sauce

Have you ever considered using dried figs in an ice cream sundae topping? Dried figs are available at any season of the year. Keep them around for the children to use as "nibble food," just like any other fruit.

DREAMY FIG SUNDAE
Heavenly Ice Cream Topping

About 15 dried figs
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup hot water
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Remove the stems from the dried figs. Cut the figs into tiny bits or puree them or place in a blender with the peanut butter, corn syrup and sugar. Combine the sugar, hot water and lemon juice and bring to a boil for two minutes. Cool and add to other ingredients. Blend together thor-

Onion Family, Herbs, Spices Suit Potatoes

Mild in flavor, the potato welcomes combinations with other vegetables, as well as a delicate lift from spices and some of the common herbs.

Peppers are well suited to potato dishes, white or black, and paprika, or even cayenne. A few cooks even beat a blend of heated milk and a liquid red pepper seasoning into mashed potatoes.

There is a definite flavor affinity between the potato and the onion-family—garlic, chives, leek and Spanish.

It's a common practice in some sections to toss a few mint leaves into the water in which new potatoes are cooked, and to boil mature ones in water containing a touch of basil, thyme, marjoram, bay leaf or summer savory.

Parsley, rich in vitamins, is superb chopped into potato, instead of used as a mere decorative garnish which is often wasted.

Dry-Cleaning Tip

If you must use carbon tetrachloride for cleaning be sure there is adequate ventilation, warns the Institute for Safer Living. Choose a day that isn't excessively humid and open the windows wide while you are using this solvent.

Want to glaze those sweet rolls or coffee cake? Add enough water or milk to a cup of sifted confectioners' sugar and a half teaspoon of vanilla to make a thin frosting.

Rosemary and garlic are "musts" for lamb.

Several Mich. Apples Are in Good Supply

Which apple goes on this week's market list? A Jonathan, a Spy or a Mac Intosh? These three are the Michigan apples in best supply, says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. The price won't strain even the strictest budget.

The versatile apple is a pie, a baked apple, or even a sandwich. Fresh apple bits added to orange marmalade and used as a sandwich spread with peanut butter is a child's favorite.

For an easy cake frosting, mix 1/2 cup apple sauce with 1 1/2 cups of powdered sugar and enough nut-meats to taste. Spread it on warm spice cake or gingerbread.

Apples are appealing in as many ways as the cook can use the imagination.

Sudsy Cloth for Boots

Rubber boots should be washed off with a sudsy cloth and wiped dry after each wearing. Then prop the insides open with cardboard to keep the boots in shape and prevent cracking.

Buy Work Clothes

This is a good time to buy men's work clothes. Stocks moved slowly in recent months, resulting in big inventories in many stores. Price cuts are, therefore, common. This is your chance to stock up.

Steps Are Taken to Guarantee Lots of Cherries

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—The city commission is taking steps to guarantee a sufficiency of cherries in cherry pies served commercially in Traverse City.

An ordinance stipulating the minimum quantity of cherries in restaurant and hotel pies passed its first reading Monday night before the commission.

A 7-inch pie must contain at least 16 ounces of drained cherries; an 8-inch pie, 20 ounces; a 9-inch pie, 25 ounces, and a 10-inch pie, 30 ounces. Bakers violating the ordinance could be found guilty of a misdemeanor and fined $100 or sentenced to 90 days in jail, or both.

The commission insists the ordinance is not a publicity stunt.

"Traverse City, the cherry capital of the world, has a reputation to maintain," said commissioner Loren Bensley. "I know of nothing more detrimental to tourist relations than to serve a piece of cherry pie containing sometimes as few as a half-dozen cherries."

Bake Garlic Cheese Loaf

Build a reputation for a "specialty-of-the-house" with a Clam Chowder supper! Make sharp diagonal cuts in a long French bread but do not cut all the way through. Dribble lots of melted butter or margarine over the bread. Sprinkle with salt, garlic salt and pepper. Place a thin slice American cheese in each diagonal slit. Wrap bread in foil and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 30 minutes.

Take-It-Easy Casserole Has Three Layers

There's nothing like an ample serving from a piping hot casserole to help ward off these brisk winds! The kite-flying gentry will appreciate a hamburger - potato combination equally.

Inexpensive hamburger steak and the versatile potato are not strangers to the same plate, but bring in the magic alchemy of the "love apple," as the tomato used to be called, and you have a good-eating trio that will stay with you.

Simply season a pound of hamburger with two tablespoons of minced onion, adequate salt and pepper, and pack it firmly in the bottom of a quart casserole, well-greased.

Cover with layers of four medium potatoes sliced thinly; don't forget any favorite seasonings. Next pour on three cups of tomatoes, or a can of condensed tomato soup plus half a can of whole tomatoes.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for an hour, or until you are sure that potatoes are tender. Cover for the first 20 minutes or so.

Prune Prices Down

Housewives will be happy to learn that medium sized dried prunes are considerably lower in price than last year. Dried prunes have many uses—in sauces, confections, or cereals, in salads, puddings, breads, cakes and cookies.

GREEK STYLE EASTER BREAD—This pretty petal-shaped sweet bread takes its inspiration from the Greek Easter bread. This recipe is adapted from the more complicated original one and calls for nonfat dry milk. You will want to serve it often during the year.

Traditional Easter Bread Made in Modern Fashion

The traditional and the modern are blended in our recipe for a Greek Style Easter Bread made in a pretty petal shape. Handy modern foods such as instant nonfat dry milk and packaged active dry yeast help streamline the traditional recipe.

Last Easter we had the pleasure of having this sweet bread in the home of friends of Greek origin. We adapted this recipe with instant nonfat dry milk, and then we passed our recipe along to them. Now, they plan to make this year's Easter Bread according to this simplified procedure. There is no need to scald the milk; simply add the instant nonfat dry milk powder to the flour.

Greek Easter Bread is usually ready by Saturday night before Easter Sunday. Often there is a hard-boiled egg dyed red which is placed in the center of the bread. The Greek Easter Bread can be almost any shape—long, round or braided, as well as in the petal shape which we chose.

Greek Style Easter Bread

2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiling water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1/2 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
2 eggs, beaten
2 1/2 cups sifted flour (about)
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder

Combine sugar, butter and salt in large mixing bowl; add boiling water; stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle or crumble yeast over water (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast or lukewarm for compressed yeast). Stir until dissolved. Add to sugar mixture; stir well. Stir in beaten eggs.

Add about one-half of the flour and the instant nonfat dry milk powder; beat until smooth. Add remaining flour; beat until well blended. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl. Brush top with melted butter. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down. Divide dough into thirds. Shape into 3 round loaves.

Arrange on greased baking sheet in the shape of a 3-petaled flower. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Cool. Frost with confectioners' sugar frosting; garnish with almonds and candied fruit.

Lemon Adds Tang to Tuna Casserole

Match your mood on a sparkling sunny day in spring with LEMON TUNA BAKE. In a (1 1/2 quart) baking dish, place 1 quart of toasted bread cubes and pour over them tuna-celery sauce.

To make sauce: Sauté 1/4 cup chopped onion in 1/4 cup butter or margarine. Blend in 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1/4 teaspoon sage. Add 1 1/2 cups milk and cook until thick. Stir. Add 1 cup chopped celery, 2 cups drained, flaked tuna and gradually stir in 1/4 cup lemon juice.

Combine 1 pint soft bread crumbs, 1/4 cup chopped pimiento and 1/4 cup melted butter. Sprinkle crumb mixture over casserole and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees; for 20 minutes.

Fruit Dessert Heralds Spring

Spring is the time for change. A change to a pretty new dessert is always a welcome one. For instance try this soufflé flavored with buttered enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs and a touch of lemon.

Like all soufflés it must be set in a pan of hot water before baking so that it cooks slowly and evenly and, of course, it should be served immediately. Golden-colored, jewel-like fruits are an attractive accompaniment for good looks and flavor.

Golden Soufflé

1/2 cup dry enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs
3 tablespoons margarine or butter, melted
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg, separated
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
1 pound 4 ounce can of fruits for salad, heated

Brown bread crumbs in margarine or butter. Add milk and salt and heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Beat in sugar. Gradually stir in the hot milk mixture. Cool. Add lemon extract.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into milk and egg mixture. Pour into a greased ring mold. Set in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) until firm, about 30 minutes. Serve at once with the heated fruits and syrup.

Try Toasted Frosting

Toast that frosting! Your cake is baked, the white fluffy frosting is spread — five minutes before serving you slip the cake into a hot oven. When the frosting turns golden brown you bring to the table a beautiful dessert.

Not only do toasted frostings have a pretty meringue appearance but a luscious marshmallowy flavor. Those who like their frosting not-so-sweet will prefer the slight change in flavor caused by the toasting.

If you wish, frost the cake in the pan... or frost a double layered cake on a baking sheet. After toasting, the cake may be transferred to your favorite cake plate.

The combinations of cake flavors and toasted frosting variations are endless. Try these combinations that were tested in a famous test kitchen.

Toasted Frosting
Bake cake in oblong pan 13x9x2" or in layers. Cool. Make frosting from one package fluffy white frosting mix. Frost cake in pan or transfer cake to baking sheet and frost. Just before serving, place frosted cake in hot oven (500 degrees) for 3 to 5 min. or until lightly brown. Serve immediately.

Variations
Toasted Coconut Fluff:
Sprinkle finely chopped coconut over frosted cake before baking. Good on any flavor cake.

Toasted Cinnamon Nut Fluff:
Add 1 tsp. cinnamon to contents of frosting mix package before mixing. Sprinkle nuts over top before baking.

fore baking. Try this on an Apple sauce / Spice Cake.

Toasted Nut Fluff:
Sprinkle 1/2 cup chopped nuts over frosted cake before baking. Serve on Chocolate Malt Cake.

Toasted Nutmeg Fluff:
Add 1/2 tsp. nutmeg to contents of frosting mix package. Serve on white cake.

Liver a Gourmet Dish With Flaming Sauce

Flaming dishes are spectacular, but the process also adds a remarkable and delicious taste to certain foods, particularly when you use a good, dry Spanish sherry of the fino or amontillado type. Sautéed chicken livers are easy to do, and wonderful with omelets and other egg dishes, or with rice.

Two or three tablespoons of Spanish sherry are paced in a small saucepan over a low flame, so that the wine will warm. In another pan, melt a tablespoon of butter over a medium flame, then drop in half a dozen fresh chicken livers, stirring them for a few seconds until they lose their color. The livers should not overcook, and should not be browned.

Tip the saucepan containing the sherry over the flame, so that the flames ignite the wine, then pour the wine over the livers, stirring until the blazing flame subsides, then turn the livers onto a warm serving plate.

BISCUIT BUNNIES — Children will adore these bunny biscuits topped creamed eggs. It's a perfect idea for Easter Supper. You could let the children help make the bunnies. They are made from a simple baking powder biscuit dough.

Make Easter Supper Dish a Hare Raising One

On Easter morning—from Maine to California—America is literally rolling in eggs. Some are painted red and some are painted blue and many are painted with patterns which are marvelous to behold. The wise and practical homemaker, however, knows that beneath those lovely shells are delicately hard-cooked whites and yolks which can be added to a glorious cream sauce for a perfect Easter supper.

Here's a thought. Wind up Easter festivities with a Funny Bunny supper which will appeal to children and grown-ups alike. If you can persuade the kiddies to relinquish a few eggs, peel and slice the eggs, combine them with chicken and a cream sauce and top with golden biscuits, arranged to look like bunnies.

Biscuit-topped Casserole

2 cups cooked chicken meat
2 eggs, hard-cooked, sliced
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup (new) golden yellow shortening
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup milk

Arrange chicken and egg slices in alternate layers in a 2-quart casserole or in 6 individual casseroles. In a saucepan melt shortening, add flour, salt and onion and mix well. Gradually stir in stock and stir over low heat until

Rich Golden Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup (new) golden yellow shortening
1/2 cup milk

Combine flour, baking powder and salt in mixing bowl. With a pastry blender or two knives cut in shortening until it is broken into fine particles. Add milk and stir gently with a fork until dough holds together. Gather dough into a ball, turn it onto a lightly floured board and knead gently with floured fingers, about 12 kneading strokes. On a lightly floured board roll dough 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Cut into rounds, place rounds on baking sheet and bake at 425 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes.

Keep Hairline Clean

To remove makeup that has smeared into the hair at the temples or forehead, apply cotton balls saturated with witch hazel. Work from the face into the hair.

so the makeup blends into the scalp without a telltale outline or without staining the hair itself. A pinch of basil does things for the hair.

Housekeeping has its occupational hazards. A good and safe home remedy, ideal for most minor bumps and bruises is a rubbing with a good quality witch hazel.

Try Sour Cream on Salmon Steak

The sour cream sauce adds an unusual flavor to this stimulating dish. It also adds important vitamins. The lightly browned steaks make a colorful contrast to the tender green lima beans and onion rings. Another interesting combination of vegetables you may prefer is asparagus and onion rings or green peas and small boiled onions topped with the sauce.

Broiled Salmon Steaks

1½ pounds salmon steak cut into 4 serving pieces
¼ cup butter
2 medium sized sliced, cooked potatoes medium sized sliced, cooked onion package frozen lima beans, cooked cup sour cream cup salad dressing teaspoon lemon juice cup cream
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Saute salmon in 3 tablespoons melted butter until lightly browned. Season with salt and pepper. Brown potatoes in remaining butter. Season potatoes and other cooked vegetables. Blend together sour cream, salad dressing, lemon juice and cream. Heat thoroughly and pour over salmon and vegetables on large serving tray or platter. Makes 4 servings.

SALMON WITH SOUR CREAM — Salmon steaks served with a sour cream sauce makes this a tasty combination for Lenten menus when interesting main dishes are especially welcome. Serve with a variety of vegetables to add to the completeness of the meal.

MRS. LAWYER — Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent of Oakland County, will conduct a six-weeks' course on food buying at the YWCA, 22 Franklin boulevard. The course which begins April 10 at 10:00 a.m. is entitled, "Marketing With Dollars and Sense." It is part of the education program offered by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University. Among the questions to be discussed are: How much should the family spend for food? What are the seasonal trends in meat and how do these affect the pocketbook? What should one look for when buying meat? For information about registration, contact the YWCA.

It's Up to You to Plan Retirement

By ANNE HEYWOOD
 "Why don't companies do more to help their workers prepare for retirement?" asks an irate reader.
 "My husband worked for his company over 30 years. When he retired, at 65, he was given a big party and a gold watch—period. That was two years ago. Since then he's just been withering on the vine.

"We have enough to live on, if we're careful, but not much to live for. The children are grown and living across the country from us. And after years of working hard, Joe is just beside himself for want of something to do."

"Don't you think it is the responsibility of management to prevent this from happening?"
 Well, it isn't as easy as all that.

There's an old saying that applies to this situation—"You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

GOOD PROGRAMS

Some companies have set up good programs for retirement planning, only to find that nobody is interested. Most people won't do a thing about this problem until it's too late.

When they are in their 50s, they tend to regard their eventual retirement with as much enthusiasm as they would in selecting their own tombstones!

Second, this is really a personal matter, one for which we must do the bulk of the work ourselves.

Different people want different things from life and while counseling can suggest ideas, it cannot solve the whole problem.

Many firms have set up an elaborate and costly system, only to find that people won't take advantage of it.

Furthermore, those who need help the most are apt to be the ones who refuse it—here, as elsewhere in life.

I have helped some companies deal with this problem, and have found that the best solution is to build a huge library on hobbies, money-making ventures and part-time jobs and let people read and browse and get their own ideas.

BLAME SELVES

So, to this woman and others like her, I say this: Don't blame your husband's company for negligence, but blame your husband and yourself. And start right now to do something about it!

Go out and get some vocational tests if you can, because you'll find there's talent in the old boy yet! And the old girl, too.

Then begin reading about projects you could handle, for fun, money and contact with life.

If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, I'll send you my list of recommended books in this field.

Tweed Topcoats for Casual Dress

Men in the suburbs and in outlying districts very often find themselves called upon to "dress up" casually—so much so, that a wool tweed topcoat has become an integral part of their wardrobe. For them, spring topcoats in houndstooth patterns, with overchecks, muted glen plaids in large and miniature sizes, and oversquare patterns should meet their needs. Soft nubby tweeds in subtle tones, Donegal tweeds in salt-and-pepper effects, Harris type tweeds, are other all-wool tweed fabrics that should make the wearing of lightweight topcoats a pleasurable experience.

Cool Iron for Silks

Most white silk accessories are safely sudsable. But remember that white silk is easily yellowed by ironing. A good preventive is to press on the wrong side, using a cool iron over a clean press cloth.

MR. and MRS. PATRICK DUGGAN.

Marsha Orvis Becomes Bride in Baptist Service

The Rev. Hilding Bihl of Perry Park Baptist Church officiated at the Saturday wedding of Marsha Lorene Orvis and Patrick Francis Duggan. The ceremony was held at First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Budd Orvis of Emerson avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duggan of Boyd street.

The bridal gown was fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace with a mandarin collar and long sleeves. Lace bordered the skirt of tulle which featured a front panel of lace embroidered with sequins and a chapel train.

A headpiece of pearls and sequins secured the bride's veil of French silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations. She wore a pair of pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Francis Koop served as maid of honor. Other attendants were Carol Hassenzahl of Lake Orion and Mrs. William Richardson. They wore dresses of light blue crystalet and carried arrangements of carnations.

GOWNED IN PINK

Veonne Ostrander wore pink nylon brocade for her duties as flower girl and carried a basket of pink roses. Bruce Hassenzahl of Adrian was ringbearer.

Paul Duggan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Kenneth Chaffin and Jack Hassenzahl.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the service. Mrs. Orvis wore pink lace with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her flowers were white carnations.

Mrs. Duggan chose a blue lace with pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

For traveling to northern Michigan, the bride changed to a green tweed suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The newlyweds will reside on Orchard street on their return.

Paris Styles Drop Hems for Juniors

Teenagers to Wear Skirts at Mid-Calf, Longer for Parties

PARIS (INS) — Schoolgirls in Paris will drop their hemlines for spring.

The new skirt-length for girls under 10 is just sufficient to cover the kneecaps. Teenagers and juniors will wear their skirt hems down to mid-calf length. Some evening date dresses for the young set are of ankle-length.

LADYLIKE LOOK

It is "Virginie," fashion specialist for teenagers, who has established these new hemline rules for all girls who want to look Parisian. It is a pretty fashion that will give to the little women a more ladylike look.

For girls under 10, Virginie shows straight shirt-dresses in wool, cotton or synthetic fabrics, worn with a wide leather belt as a new casual school style. Stiff petticoats under knee covering full skirts are considered stylish for afternoon wear only.

For teenagers, navy blue dresses with white or polka-dotted neckline trimmings are the favorite school style. Junior suits look most youthful with pleated skirts and Spencer-styled jackets.

COLORS TO FIT

For Sunday wear and parties Virginie proposes strawberry red and dark turquoise for brunettes girls, jade green and sky blue for blondes as Parisian dress-up colors. Coin-dots and checks are winners in prints.

Besides dropping their skirt hems, young girls in Paris are also letting their hair grow. The latest hairdo for mademoiselle is a tressed horse-tail dangling from the top of the head almost down to the waist.

Souffle Is 'Top Hat'

"Souffle" is the word for a wonderful new, translucent ribbony straw material that all the milliners are using. Infinite are the ways in which they puff, twist, tuck, braid and weave this weightless synthetic braid.

This is one spring in which last year's hat probably won't do. The pot hat is out. But the new hats are so pretty that shopping for them will be fun.

Marsha Lorene Orvis and Patrick Francis Duggan were married Saturday at First Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Budd Orvis of Emerson avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duggan of Boyd street are parents of the couple.

Every shoe you buy this year will be softer than you're accustomed to—but leather casuals will be soft as milkweed. Flats range in styling from leather-soled mocasins with beading and bright, contrasting stitching to long, pointed toes and elegant sheathed insteps. Or they may be whimsical—as a red-and-white polka-dotted flat with a drawstring around the top. The wedgies, too, have become fanciful. Many of them come in gold kid—usually teamed with white—or printed in Far East designs and colors. Some are piled with seashells on toe and heel; others are trimmed with chalky elegant and sophisticated. The new sheath shoe with its closed, high-riding front will be one of the surest ways to achieve this look. Leather spectators may have the long toe or a shorter, "duck-billed" one. They may also have ties, T-straps, and instep straps. You can find it in shoes with a sheathed instep and a peaked tongue, or a closed toe and a rib-like cage over the instep. It also ap-

Fashion Hint

Most women can't resist a fashion bargain. But a bargain really is one only if it fits into your wardrobe and is useful. The evening dress you get at half price and never wear is no bargain.

Hutch Frames Fireplace

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — If your maiden aunt has willed you a hutch—the Welsh cupboard variety not a house for rabbits—don't despair.

Use it for a mantel and fireplace frame and have a fine conversation piece in your Early American home.

A fireplace opening replaces the drawers in the hutch when used in this fashion and the shelves and small drawers above eliminate the need for a mantel and provide wall decoration as well.

The typical hutch has small drawers that pull out above bigger ones. The big drawers should be removed to make an opening for the fireplace.

Above the little drawers, which can be pulled out and filled with plants, is a spoon rack and two or more shelves, extending high on the wall.

The top is generally scalloped. The front panels of the hutch create a shadowbox effect around the fireplace.

It's not necessary to have a maiden aunt will you one — any good craftsman or cabinet maker can follow the idea with no difficulty.

Cork workers are pressing for higher wages in Portugal, Lisbon plants, is a spoon rack and two or learns.

Be Vigilant in Caring for Health and Beauty

Magic Formula Keeps You Young

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Old wives' tales and ideas concerning aging have been overwhelmed by a mass of scientific data. They also have been proven untrue by the many startling examples we see of women who look years younger than they are, or shall we say, younger than their birthdays.

It is entirely possible for a woman who has taken advantage of all that is known about nutrition and exercise actually to be years younger physically than the average woman her age. The knockout punch has been taken out of birthdays. Today you are as young as you feel and as young as you look.

We pay for everything we get in this world. Health and good looks are no exceptions. We must pay with daily routines and constant vigilance if we are to remain youthful far past the usual age for deterioration.

Take care, first, of the three big factors, fine nutrition, good muscle tone and circulation, through exercise and correct posture. These, not diamonds, are a girl's best friend when it comes to health and beauty.

Add to these regular skin cleansing and lubrication, happy emotions and thoughts and you have a magic formula.

POSTURE FAULT

One of the most usual faults in posture is the habit of allowing the head to settle down in the neck or to protrude forward. This will lead to a stringy neck, a double chin or a dowager's hump.

If you have been allowing your chin to lazily settle in your neck, remember to push toward the ceiling with the top of your head. Do not stick the chin out but keep parallel to the floor.

A double chin is sometimes due to overweight alone but usually it is a combination of fatty deposits and poor posture. If you have this defect in good looks, improve your posture, lose any overweight you may have, and do the following exercises:

1. Lie on a bed on your back with your head and shoulders hanging off the edge of the bed. Lift your head and touch your chin to your chest. Lower head. Continue.

The following exercise is one of the most effective ones. Many pupils in my classes have reduced a double chin with it. Lower your head backward as far as comfortable. While in this position chew in an exaggerated manner, opening and closing the mouth widely.

If you would like to have my exercises for the chin and neck send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the leaflet No. 10. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Fuzz on 3 - Year - Old's Face Not Inherited."

EMBROIDERY

You'll want to use this simple-to-sew pattern when making blouses and skirts so that you'll have enough separates to "live in" this summer! Trim at least one with the dainty daisy designs in embroidery. Please state size.

Pattern No. 5563 contains tissue-size 12, 14, or 16; hot-iron transfer for motifs; sewing and embroidery directions; color chart.

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, The Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill. It's ready! The 1957 Needlework Album—56 colorful pages showing many pretty designs; plus directions for making three crochet items and a quilt. Only 25c a copy!

Habitually Tardy Persons Are Nuisance to Others

Their Apologies Do Not Make Up for Loss of Time and Inconvenience

By RUTH MILLETT

"I just don't have any sense of time," Margie explains prettily when she has kept a group waiting, upset a friend's schedule or thrown a beauty operator behind in her appointments.

If Margie were a hermit, she could ignore time without inconveniencing others.

But in this busy world where everyone seems to have each hour of the day accounted for, being vague about time can make a person a nuisance to others.

the expense of others.

If a hostess' dinner is ruined, his apology doesn't help matters.

If a friend wastes half an hour waiting on him when the half hour was needed for something important, an apology doesn't pay back the time.

If a business person's schedule of appointments is upset, a number of people are inconvenienced and no apology, however graceful, alters the fact.

The habit of punctuality is one courtesy that anyone can cultivate. And it goes a long way in this hectic, busy world toward making life easier for others.

Instead of explaining that she doesn't have any sense of time, Margie and all the people like her ought to get busy cultivating

"Dear Mrs. Post: My employer's wife has invited me to dinner at their house. Please tell me how to suggest leaving after dinner and how long do I stay? Also, what should I say to my hostess when I leave?"

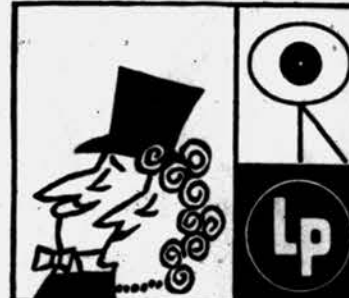

Answer: You stay an hour or an hour and a half after dinner is over. But it all depends upon whether conversation is very interesting or whether it drags. If it drags, leave sooner.

When you are ready to leave, you stand up and say, "I've had much a pleasant evening; thank you so much for asking me."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I recently have been helping to set tables in our church dining room for suppers and banquets. I always put the napkin under the salad fork on the left side of the plate.

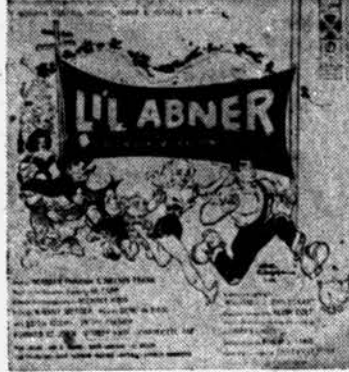

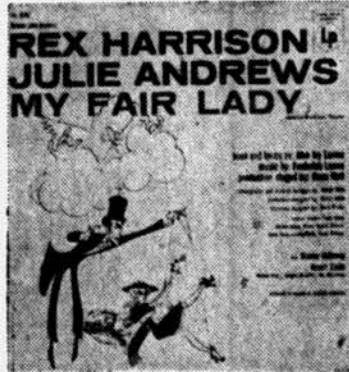

Answer: Correctly, the napkin is put on the plate, unless there is food on it when the guests are seated. In this case, the napkins should be placed to the left of the forks—not under them.

Men Will Like Intriguing New Feminine Hats

PARIS (NEA) — For an interesting change, designers are actually producing hats that men should like this spring.

That is, the new hats are romantic, feminine and pretty. The "pudding bowl" has vanished. In its place is the small flowered cap, the tiny toque and the 1957 version of the cloche. There are even some charming little bonnets.

Flowers are important to these delightful little hats: daisies, cowslips, narcissi, violets, camellias, roses and forget-me-nots. There is an all-flower hat in every collection. It may be a cloche covered with blue hyacinths or a toque enchanting with apple blossoms. But it's there.

Many of the new Parisian hats play up the profile prettily. And there are turbans, this season fashioned from fragile mousseline or veiling. These sheer little hats, sculptured into shape, appear in nearly every collection.

The Armenian Relief Federation, Rosdom Chapter of Pontiac, will sponsor its second annual spring dance Saturday at K. of C. Hall. Dancing will be to an out-of-town Armenian band from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., with proceeds going to the building fund of the local chapter. Pictured (left to right) are Oscar Topalian of Argyle avenue, chairman; Barkave Torosian of North Johnson avenue, Mrs. Topalian, Mrs. Torosian and V. Bob Harutunian of Ogema road.

Salad to Admire, Anyway

Bag for Calorie Counters!

NEW YORK (INS)—Some of the latest handbags, carefully calculated to draw gasps and gab, are decorated with such items as a vegetable salad or a bejeweled needlepoint poodle.

The handbags are the work of Stella Jolles, who decided to combine Viennese needlepoint with a canny concept of what women like and are interested in.

Since the U. S. is a nation of women half-starved and calorie obsessed, Miss Jolles decided that diet-type foods were a decoration of interest. A cabbage, made of needlepoint and green beads, is surrounded by various vegetables for a salad bowl bag. Another bag features a bright orange, beaded carrot, plumped out to form a "three dimension" effect. Leaves are made of soft green velvet.

comes to animals, and they show a particular weakness for poodles. The result, in the Jolles handbag collection, is a series of poodles, either in black and white beads or in pink gauze petals for fluffy legs, combined with grey needlepoint or pink beaded body.

My Folks Are Lucky if They Ever Get a Chance to Make a Call

Teenagers Admit They Suffer From Phone-Mania

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Nobody, it seems, is altogether happy in that perennial telephone tug of war between teenagers and adults.

One reason: Many teenage girls, we've found, think the ideal phone conversation should last around 45 minutes, and they're heroically trying to live up to this standard.

A second factor: Virtually all youngsters we queried in our survey on their telephone habits (84 per cent) reported they keep getting parental complaints.

The survey also disclosed that older girls, 16 and above, spend an average of 1 hour and 22 minutes glued to the receiver each day.

Girls 13 to 15 years old keep in trim with one hour and five minutes, while boys 16 and over make do with about one hour.

The boys, incidentally, figure that 18 minutes is about the right length per call.

PROBLEM FOR ADULTS

Trying to squeeze a word in edgewise under such circumstances is often a problem for the adults, and 78 per cent of our youthful phone addicts consider the grownups' grumbles justified.

"My folks are lucky if they ever get a chance to make a call, what with two sisters and me in the house," a 15-year-old boy conceded.

A Chicago girl, 17, declared: "I lost my telephone privileges for a month because my father got mad. Whenever he wanted to call someone, there I was on the phone, talking. I deserved it."

But through all vicissitudes and conflicts of interest, Alexander Graham Bell remains something of a patron saint for the teeners.

"It's the most important thing in the teenager's life," one youngster explained solemnly. "It keeps him in contact with his friends and gives him a social life. What could be more valuable than that?"

EDUCATORS AGREE

Persons inclined to dismiss that statement as special pleading might consider a recent study by Ohio State University sociologists who come up with a fairly similar conclusion.

Young phone addicts, the OSU researchers said, are "communicating and developing their personality."

And if a teenager has not awakened to the full potentialities of the instrument, the sociologists suggest, it could mean that he's anti-social and lacks confidence.

"A child who doesn't talk to his friends on the telephone," the OSU people said, "can't have many friends in school."

Be that as it may, the question of reasonable limitation remains. Our survey indicates that the youngsters themselves think they're overdoing it.

Ninety-four per cent of the girls and 84 per cent of the boys admit teenagers are on the telephone too often or too long.

MOST IRRITATING

"Take two teeners and you have an unbreakable combination," an 18-year-old Omaha girl quipped.

And a 16-year-old girl: "Nothing is more irritating than trying to get hold of a friend on the phone and hearing that busy signal for hours. It's bad manners, if you ask me."

A Cleveland high school junior grumbled: "My sister spends all day talking to her friends at school, then she spends all night talking about the same stuff on the phone. Don't they ever stop gabbing?"

Not all the kids are including themselves in general complaints. When asked if they personally spent too much time on the phone, the percentages dropped to 80 for the girls and 77 for the boys.

Still, there was considerable self-incrimination.

"I spend too much time chatting with my steady," a girl volunteered. "Sometimes we call each other six times in one evening."

"I admit I talk too long," a high school freshman said. "But I have so much to say. How could I crowd it into a five-minute call?"

SAME PRIVILEGES

Only a small minority feel that parents should not be entitled to a higher telephone priority than their children (16 per cent of the boys and 17 per cent of the girls.)

"All members of the household deserve the same privileges," one girl argued.

"Dating can only be arranged on the telephone," a 16-year-old lad chimed in. "Surely that's one very good reason why teenagers should have full use of the phone."

Just what do they talk about so interminably?

Listed as the No. 1 topic by 89 per cent of the girls and 66 per cent of the boys was chit-chat about friends and friends' friends.

Then, for the girls, came: Dates and parties (85 per cent); schoolwork, 67; clothes, 62; family and home, 56.

For the boys, schoolwork was the second most popular phone subject, with 64 per cent; dates and parties, 39; sports, 35, and home and family matters, 23.

One way out of parent-offspring collisions over telephones could be a private outlet for the teeners. Forty-one per cent of the girls proposed that solution, and 34 per cent of the boys seconded it.

"It would be only fair," bubbled a 16-year-old girl. "This way I could talk without bothering the rest of the family."

Said another talkative miss: "My parents are going out of their minds with my phoning. My own phone would solve everything."

Brushing Makes Lashes Thicker

By brushing and using a rich cream regularly, it is possible to make your eyelashes both thicker and longer.

But you must be patient. Don't expect to see long silky lashes replace short and scanty ones within a week. And don't expect any change at all if you're not regular and persistent in your care.

Best time for this, of course, is before you go to bed. But you can carry a small brush in your handbag and use it on your lashes whenever you freshen your make-up away from home.

Buy Fish and Picnics for Fast and Feast Days

The food market's news this week is one of good eating. Supplies are generally good, quality of most products is high, and there are many reasonable prices, reports the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Fish is plentiful. Other meat supplies have been affected by the recent spring blizzard in the west. Fresh vegetable marketings are increasing in most local stores as new varieties and supplies arrive from early growing areas.

FISH—While supplies are plentiful, this should be a clue for shoppers to include fish in the weekly menu plans. For a fresh fish treat one can find good supplies of yellow pike, perch, white bass, halibut and whitefish. Frozen ocean perch, cod and haddock are still plentiful and thrifty choices. Tuna tops the list on canned food shelves. Labels will tell whether the tuna is solid, chunk, flaked or grated.

OTHER MEATS—In the red meat department one of the thriftest selections this week is the picnic, which comes from the front leg of the hog. Picnics have a higher proportion of bone than hams, but there is quite a difference in cost per serving. A picnic will yield two servings per pound while a whole ham will give three. The lean meat of the picnic is coarser than ham, but for family eating a picnic will stretch meat dollars. Roast beef is another cut with a thrifty label. It is one of the leanest pork roasts, or it can be cut into lean steaks.

Other pork items to be featured in many stores include spareribs, steaks, chops and canned hams. Canned hams will yield four servings from each pound. Since canned hams must be refrigerated to maintain their quality, remember to buy from refrigerated cases and keep them in the refrigerator at home.

The severe western storms have affected beef supplies. Generally, beef is higher, but some stores are offering round steak for moist heat cooking, and broiling steaks at very reasonable prices for this time of year. Ground beef continues about the same—around 40 cents a pound.

In some stores, stewers are wearing slightly lower price tags than fryers, turkeys, and ducks.

A meaty stewer may make several meals for the small family. A 4 to 5 pound stewer usually makes from 3 to 4 cups of meat. Stewer until the thickest parts are fork tender, 2½ to 4 hours. A small carrot, a celery stick, and a small onion may be cooked with the chicken for added flavor.

EGGS—Notice the difference in egg prices for different sizes. Jumbo size eggs weigh at least 30 ounces, extra large 27 ounces, and large 24 ounces. When prices are about the same, why not choose the size that gives the most weight for the money?

FRUITS & VEGETABLES—An increasing supply of California asparagus is the reason for decreasing prices. Before choosing a bunch, calculate what per cent of the stalk will snap off as waste. While a pound of asparagus that is tender and green gives 3 or 4 servings, a bunch with a large proportion of whitish green stalk will give only 2 or 3.

There is nothing like rhubarb for perking spring appetites. Why not give the family a double treat of Michigan rhubarb in sauce or pie with fresh frozen strawberries? Both are reasonably priced.

Potatoes from Michigan, Maine, Idaho, and Florida are featured in most grocery stores. Food experts suggest serving potatoes every day. Besides energy value, potatoes are a good source of Vitamin C and minerals. For extra flavor and food value leave the peeling on well scrubbed potatoes. Try them this way for French fries and scalloping.

Canned and frozen juices will be kind to the budget this week. Bananas, apples, and oranges are the current choices for fresh fruit eating. Bananas are very economical because supplies are heavy. All apples are coming from temperature controlled storage, so naturally they will keep longer if kept in the refrigerator at home.

New A-Test Series Slated for Nevada

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will start a new series of atomic tests in Nevada next month. They are intended to help in development of advanced nuclear weapons for use on the battlefield or in aerial defense.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced yesterday the tests will begin about May 15 and continue off and on throughout the summer.

They will be conducted at the Nevada Proving Grounds, where the AEC has run off four previous test series, the most recent of them in 1955.

Kennedy Starts Personal Probe

To Investigate Alleged Union Corruption in New York, Chicago

WASHINGTON (EWS)—Robert F. Kennedy, whose persistent probing already has exposed racketeering in the massive Teamsters Union, has launched a personal investigative look into alleged union corruption in New York City, Chicago and possibly Seattle.

The young counsel for the head-line-making Senate rackets committee told newsmen as he left Washington he also expects to burrow more deeply into the activities of embattled Teamsters boss Dave Beck and Beck's Chicago pal, Nathan Shefferman.

Kennedy, confined in Washington during five hectic and spectacular weeks of open hearings into the financial dealings of Teamsters boss and little shots, said in explaining his trip:

"It is my practice to go out when I can and talk to witnesses." The individuals he plans to interview, Kennedy said, will testify in public session within three weeks to one month from now.

Kennedy, who conferred with Teamsters leaders at the union's lavish Washington headquarters Tuesday, said he will continue the investigation of Beck, who has been suspended as an AFL-CIO vice president for refusing to tell the committee last week whether he took $322,000 from the Teamsters' coffers.

In addition, he said, the Chicago journey will lead him into a further study of Shefferman, who admitted buying $25,000 worth of merchandise for Beck, but vowed he "did not know it was union money."

Shefferman also told the committee he gave money to Beck because they were good friends and the union boss had done favors for him in the past.

Kennedy declined to specify what was discussed at Teamsters headquarters other than to state that the session spotlighted "matters dealing with the investigation."

Texas House Votes to Legalize 'Bragging' Fund

AUSTIN, Tex. (EWS)—They're not so worried about carpetbaggers down here now and the Texas House has passed a bill to make legal use of state funds for bragging.

The proposed constitutional amendment, passed 117-21 by the lower house yesterday, would allow Texas to use state funds to advertise its educational, recreational, industrial and natural advantages to people in other states.

This has been going on for quite some time, however, on a sort of private enterprise basis. Why, hardly anyone doesn't know Texas is the greatest of all states.

But after the Civil War for the Southern Confederacy, the state's constitutional writers were concerned over the invasion by Yankee carpetbaggers. So they included a section to ban spending of public funds "for the purpose of bringing immigrants into Texas."

The Texas Senate has passed a similar bill and if the two houses can get together on some minor points, the measure will go to the people for a vote in November 1958.

Donale Dwire has been elected new president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in Pontiac.

Other officers are William Holbeck, vice president; Rosaire

Terroux, chaplain; Henry McLeet, secretary; James Cloutier, treasurer; Ted Monroe and Harold Miller, guards, and Graham Luttrell and Roy Ottmar, trustees.

A large new concert hall has been opened in Dublin, Elre.

4 Children Perish in Blazing House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (EWS)—Investigators today tried to find the cause of a fire that killed four children at a nearby Jackson Township home last night.

They said Mr. and Mrs. Denver Triplett, the parents, were apparently in Columbus when fire destroyed their partly completed home and killed Sandra, J. Mike, 5; Mark, 19 months; and Sue, 2 months.

Authorities said Triplett, 32, told them he left the house about 9:45 p.m. to pick up his wife Virginia, 30, at a drugstore where she works. His wife then drove him to his factory job at the western edge of Columbus, he said.

A neighbor, Mrs. Albert Shoaf, said she saw flames about a quarter-mile from the Triplett house. Her husband and Lawrence Hofius, another neighbor, investigated. They told police the heat was too intense for them to enter the burning house.

Firemen found the four bodies lying side by side in one bedroom.

The coroner and sheriff's deputies questioned both parents.

Musician to Get Retrial in Drunk Driver Charge

LOS ANGELES (EWS)—A municipal judge has ordered a retrial of bandleader Freddy Slack on misdemeanor drunk driving charges.

Slack's two-day trial ended yesterday in a mistrial when the jury deadlocked 11-1 for conviction.

Police said Slack, 46, was drunk when they stopped his car in Hollywood last February. Slack testified, however, that he couldn't pick up pennies from the sidewalk in a sobriety test because "I had to keep my fingernails real short for my piano playing."

It Happens in England: Buck Teeth Insured

BIRMINGHAM, England (EWS)—Insurance broker Arthur Harrison said today he has agreed to insure a TV comedian's buck teeth for 10,000 pounds — $28,000.

The teeth belong to Ken Dodd, who credits their unusual appearance for many of his laughs. He will pay a premium of 25 pounds ($70) a year.

The policy requires Dodd to clean his buck teeth three times a day with a standard brand of toothpaste.

Refuses Parole to Help Inmates

Convict Prefers to Aid Prisoners in Learning to Make Living

SANTA FE, N. M. (EWS)—A young convict has refused parole from the state prison because he says he feels it is his mission to help 34 other convicts to a fair chance at a decent life.

John Corrier, sentenced for forgery, could have returned to a good job in his home town of Las Cruces two months ago. But he turned down freedom to remain behind bars and continue teaching radio and television electronics to a group of inmates.

"These men wouldn't be here if they had ever had a chance to get an education and make a decent living," Corrier said, waving a hand at his class. "If they can learn this electronics trade and get a class-B license from the Federal Communications Commission it means they will have their chance for the first time."

And they won't be back here again."

"I'm one of the lucky ones," the convict-teacher added. "I've got a job waiting for me in Las Cruces. But there are more than 50 men in here right now with paroles waiting for them who can't get out because they can't find a job."

"It's pretty hopeless for them if no one is willing to help. How can a man go straight if he can't find work?"

He said he doesn't want to leave the prison until his electronics course is organized.

THIS "GRADE A" BLENDED WHISKEY HAS NOT GONE UP IN PRICE...STILL $3⁶⁵ A FIFTH!

Do you know the A-B-C's of judging blended whiskey?

A means a "Grade A" blend...whiskies with the highest proportion of aged whiskies and less neutral grain spirits. Three Feathers is a "Grade A" blend, skillfully made with older and finer whiskies to give you a smoother, mellower drink.

B means a "Grade B" whiskey which contains a smaller amount of aged whiskies and more neutral spirits. Three Feathers is not a "B" blend.

C means cost. Practically all "Grade A" blends have recently gone up in price. Three Feathers has not. It still costs the same as most "Grade B" whiskies.

This is the evidence...you can check it yourself any time at your liquor store. Your verdict has to be: Three Feathers is America's Greatest Blended Whiskey Value! Try a drink at your friendly tavern or buy a bottle today!

264 to Start Qualifying This Weekend

2 Days Remain for Entries in 1st Bowlerama

Qualifying to Continue for Women, Elks, New Contestants April 13

By CHUCK ABRAHAM

Bowlers from every part of Oakland County are busy sharpening up their game these nights in preparation for the 1st big Pontiac Press Bowlerama singles handicap tournament which begins this weekend at three local alleys.

A total of 264 men will start the qualifying Saturday and Sunday, with all other entries competing on April 13 for the chance to move on to the finals on the 20th.

The final day qualifiers will include all women participants, members of the Elks who are bowling in their national meet at Columbus, Ohio this weekend, and any other bowlers who enter the event this week.

Only two days remain to get into the fold. All those interested in taking a shot at the over $2,500 in prize money can be eligible by mailing or leaving their entry blank and fee for manager Les Rothbarth in care of the Pontiac Press Sports Dept. Applications may also be left at any local keg establishment.

Over 300 bowlers competing in the Elks National will have an excellent opportunity to get ready for the local meet.

The conflict of the Columbus meet and the Women's State Tourney at Flint was the major reason for the extension of dates by Bowlerama officials. Previous qualifying dates had been limited to this weekend.

Saturday's qualifiers will swing into action at 12 noon at Auburn Lanes and Land-O-Lakes and 1:30 p.m. at Dixie Recreation. All were listed in yesterday's Press. Tourney resumes Sunday at the same locations at 11:30 a.m. The Sunday qualifiers are listed below. All will be repeated in the Friday edition.

Challenger Chamaco Drops Two to Champ

CHICAGO (AP) — Harold Worst of Grand Rapids, Mich., world three cushion billiard champion, defeated challenger Joe Chamaco of Mexico City last night to sweep two blocks in their title match.

Worst won the afternoon match 60-53 in 38 innings and took the nightcap 60-43 in 50 innings. He now has won 7 of the 8 blocks played in their 1,200 point series and has a 480 to 341 lead in a total of 411 innings.

2 Days to Enter

$$$ for Women Bowlers

There's a big opportunity for women bowlers to grab a portion of the $405 guaranteed prize list for the first six places in the Press Bowlerama.

Present entries among the women show that averages go down as low as 166, but on the handicap basis even these low-average bowlers can grab one of the top prizes.

The guaranteed prize list for the women starts with $200 for the top spot, $100 for runnerup, $50 for 3rd, $30 for 4th, $15 for 5th and $10 for 6th.

Along with this every woman who qualifies will get at least $5.00, and the prize list could be even greater depending on the number of entries.

In order to accommodate many women who are entered in the State tournament in Flint this weekend, all ladies will qualify on Saturday, April 13th.

This enables any woman who still desires to enter the Bowlerama to do so, but there are only two days remaining.

All entries must be in to the bowling establishment by midnight tomorrow. Those mailed to the Press sports department must be postmarked before Friday midnight, or dropped in the drop box at the Press before 8:00 a.m. this Saturday.

Three qualifying trophies will go to the ladies, plus a beautiful pen-calendar desk set to the champion.

Qualifying times and alleys for the women will be printed in the Press Thursday, April 11th.

Plans Set for International Match

Watrous Makes Trophy Haul

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Al Watrous, the dean of active golf pros in Michigan, made a clean sweep of three silver cups as America's Senior Golf Champion, and now needs only the International Senior's Championship to make it complete.

The bid for the International cup takes place June 28th at the Pollok Golf Club in Glasgow, Scotland, against the British Senior's Champion.

Winner of three of the four Michigan Senior's tournaments played since 1933, the Oakland Hills Country Club pro made his haul in the national championships at Dunedin, Florida.

He walked off with the Alfred Bora perpetual trophy for Seniors over 45 with rounds of 71-68. This huge 4-foot trophy is awarded after 36 holes. In the same journey for a total of 54 holes, Watrous added a 71 for a 210 total to capture the National PGA Seniors Championship and the right to meet the British champ.

On the following day at Dunedin, Watrous made it a triple killing by winning the Quarter Century Championship for golfers who have been pros for 25 or more years. He did it with a 67-69.

Right now Watrous will be watching the British PGA Senior's championship which gets under way next week April 10-12 with a field of 74 players, including a few of his former opponents of the British Open and Ryder Cups.

He was a member of three Ryder Cup teams and runner-up in the 1936 British Open and would like nothing more than to meet one of his old foes in the International Match.

One player Watrous would like to meet is Henry Cotton, three-time British Open champ who gave him a 4 and 3 beating in the 1929 Ryder Cup.

"I don't know if Cotton is in the tourney over there next week, but I'd like to meet him again, for old times' sake," said Watrous. Another British Open champion who is certain to play in the British Seniors is Art Havers.

Watrous and Gene Sarazen took the measure of Havers and Herb Jolly 3 and 2 in the 1927 Ryder Cup doubles matches.

As for his future golf dates, Watrous doesn't plan any long touring circuits, but is aiming at his 4th Michigan Senior's Championship which will be played at Lansing, September 9th.

"I'll play in Senior tournaments as long as these legs of mine hold up," said Watrous, and "I'll be on that plane June 23rd to bring that Teachers International trophy back with me."

DELUXE SHOWCASE—Al Watrous, Michigan and National Senior's Professional Golf champion, displays the glittering array of trophies which he has added to his proud collection. The huge trophy he holds is the PGA Seniors for golfers past 55 which he won in rounds of 71-68 at Dunedin, Florida. The Teachers Senior Championship trophy (left) for 54 holes was won in the same tourney with rounds of 71-68-71. The Quarter Century Championship trophy (foreground), for golfers in the pro ranks for 25 years or better, was won also at Dunedin in another tourney with rounds of 67-69. The plaques are awards as Michigan's Senior Champion for three of the last four years. Watrous will meet the British Senior's Champion in the International Seniors Championship at Glasgow, Scotland, June 28th.

Frisco Amateur Figured as Threat

Ward in Masters Spotlight

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The world's greatest golfers hit off today in the 21st Masters tournament and poised Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco is an extra-strong threat to become the first amateur to win the championship.

A vote for Ward, national amateur champion the past two years, was registered by Byron Nelson, a two-time victor playing in the event for the 20th time.

"Harvie is hitting the ball marvelously, the best ever for him. I think," said Nelson, who could be excused for a slight prejudice in the case of the young man he helped develop. "I don't say I'll take Ward against the field but I'd be inclined to match him with any other player in the tournament."

Nelson indicated that this included such favorites as Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, with whom he's had practice rounds this week.

"Middlecoff isn't striking the ball as well as he usually does, the graying cattleman from Rockton, Tex., said.

"Hogan? Well, Ben is playing well. But he isn't playing well for Hogan."

Ward teamed with Nelson in a practice four yesterday and shot his second straight 69, three under par, over the 6,980-yard Augusta National course.

Harvie himself, relaxed and confident, acknowledged that his game had hit a pleasing plane of par-and-birdie consistency.

"I have changed my approach to this tournament," he said. "I'm driving for the middle of the fairways and shooting for the fat part of the greens. I'm playing it safe and not gambling."

The first twosome was scheduled to tee off at 9:30 a.m., EST.

One hundred golfers, a record field holding most of the major prizes in the world, are on hand for the 72-hole, four-day grind. Play will be nationally televised the last three days, starting at 5 p.m., EST.

The general Masters situation is this: Most people are picking Middlecoff but saying, "watch out for Hogan."

Maxwell's Bat Booms as Tigers Beat Cards

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Charles R. Maxwell who celebrates his 30th birthday Monday, made himself a present yesterday of a 479 spring batting average with the Detroit Tigers.

The stocky Michigan-born outfielder rapped out four singles in five times at bat and drove in three runs, including the winning tally, as the Tigers whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-5, in a 10-inning exhibition contest.

Three of Maxwell's hits were off southpaw pitchers—a reversal of form over last year's regular season. Last year in setting the Detroit record for home runs for left handed batters at 28, Maxwell averaged .399 against southpaws and .337 against right handers.

Maxwell, who comes from Paw Paw, Mich., had a .326 batting average with the Tigers last season.

His fourth single of his biggest day this spring scored Earl Torge.

Singles by Jim Finigan and Frank House and a passed ball gave the Tigers the insurance counters.

Detroit gave starter Frank Lary, who led the American League with 21 victories last season, a 4-0 lead in the opening inning. Maxwell drove in two tallies and Al Kaline and Frank House pushed across one apiece.

Lary gave up nine of the Cardinals' 11 hits before he was relieved by Steve Gromek in the seventh. Gromek was pulled in favor of Pete Wojcik in the 9th inning. Wojcik was credited with the victory.

The Tigers play St. Louis again today at Lakeland.

Acorn Stars Swim in National Meet

Rated high in state prep swimming for the last two years, in their specialties, two Royal Oak High School boys will compete this weekend in the National AAU meet now under way at Daytona Beach, Fla.

They are Dave Gillanders, "butler" breaststroke star, and Ralph Nutter, backstroke. Gillanders bettered the national prep record for his event during the latter part of the 1956-57 season.

Big strides are being made by the "little colleges" of Michigan through the organization known as the NAIA. Many sports fans have often seen the letters—NAIA—connected with many tournaments and athletic events without knowing their origin.

The letters stand for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. In this state, 11 schools form the Michigan sector of the NAIA with Sam Ketchman of Ferris as chairman, and an executive committee comprised of Muddy Waters of Hillsdale, Art Smith of Alma and Rolla Anderson of Kalamazoo.

Other member schools are Adrian, Central Michigan, Calvin, Hope, Lawrence Tech, Detroit Tech and Northern Michigan.

With all of the larger Universities in the country actually dominating the scene with the bowl bids, basketball tournaments, and "major" college events, it left many of the smaller schools on the outside looking in with every passing season.

Today the NAIA, founded in 1940, has 450 colleges representing all 48 states in its organization.

The purpose of the NAIA has not been for competition against other national collegiate organizations such as the NCAA, but for the purpose of giving smaller colleges a place in intercollegiate varsity competition.

In fact many of the NAIA members often participate in NCAA activities with the major schools.

Here in Michigan the NAIA is giving the small-school athlete opportunity to engage in a well rounded athletic program with the possibility that he will get national recognition like any major college athlete.

The Michigan NAIA sends, by virtue of a championship playoff in the state, a representative to the National basketball tournament.

It will hold its 1st annual track and field meet June 1st at Central Michigan and current plans are underway for NAIA baseball and swimming competition to go along with the golf and tennis meets already being sponsored.

The NAIA has become the life-saver of athletics for the little school and member schools in Michigan want everyone to know about their organization.

Scores 38 Points in Losing Cause

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — Tom Cathamar of Florence High School competed in nine of the 13 events in a dual track meet against Coolidge, Ariz., last night.

He won the shot put, broad jump, pole vault, high jump, discus throw and both hurdles events plus a 2nd for 38 points. His team lost 57-56.

Pistons Swing 3-for-2 Trade

Nat Clifton, Gallatin, Atha Obtained in Deal With Knicks

The Detroit Pistons obtained Nat (Sweetwater) Clifton, veteran Harry Gallatin and Dick Atha yesterday in a three-for-two trade that sent Mel Hutchins to the New York Knickerbockers.

In addition, the Knicks get the Pistons' first draft choice at the forthcoming selection meeting at St. Louis.

The deal is the first for the Detroit club which just moved from Ft. Wayne after finishing third in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division. They will have second draft choice when the NBA holds its annual meeting April 17.

Clifton was one of the circuit's top rebounders this season. He scored 762 points in 71 games. Gallatin led the Knicks' scoring with a 15-point average.

Atha, a former Indiana State star, played one season with the Knicks and then was farmed out to a minor league.

Lions Given New Lease

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions professional football team has signed a contract giving it exclusive professional football rights to Briggs Stadium through 1961, it was reported yesterday.

It was known that Millard T. Lang of Baltimore, is organizing a new professional organization known as the United States Football League and has called a secret meeting this month for the award of a franchise to possibly 16 cities. One on the list is Detroit.

The Lions, who have occupied Briggs Stadium since 1941 under a verbal agreement, signed the stadium lease to pay the Detroit Baseball Co. 15 per cent rental on receipts, or about $150,000 a year.

The report said Fred Knorr, Detroit Tiger president, offered the pact giving the Lions exclusive rights to the stadium if they played no home games elsewhere.

The Lions earlier were investigating the possibility of playing in the 100,000 seat Michigan stadium.

BURBON WHISKEY, 86 PROOF.

NEW YORK STAR — Tony Kubek, 21-year-old Yankee rookie who has been the sensation of the Yanks' spring training camp, continued his hitting spree with three hits as New York beat the Red Sox, 1-0. Kubek has been used in the outfield although he was a shortstop at Denver.

Chiefs Face Tough Job

PHS Defends CMC Title on Friday

By H. GUY MOATS

Without the spectacular Hayes Jones and nine other very important lettermen, Pontiac High School thinclads invade Central Michigan's fieldhouse Friday in defense of their 1956 invitational indoor track title. The state (MHSAA), Saginaw Valley and Mansfield (Ohio) nationally-rated championship team will have a predominantly junior-sophomore squad in Friday's 7th meet, for which Saginaw High and Arthur Hill are co-sponsors.

Chiefs won the 1956 event at Mt. Pleasant by a 61-point total. Flint Northern was 2nd with 54. Jones set two records, shared in another, is now one of the country's rising young college stars at Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti.

Along with Jones, by graduation PHS lost Rod Treas and Bill Douglas, half-milers, Perry Williams and Gene Cretal, millers, Charley Robinson and Jim Shorter in the 440. Charley Spahn and Freeman Watkins in dashes and Sonny Taylor in the hurdles.

But the current Chiefs, new coach, Dean Wilson (was aide in '56 to Wally Schlorke), believes have plenty of possibilities, despite having only six lettermen back. Hudson Ray, Alex Barge, superlative high jumpers: Archie Brooks 440 and relay; Miller Rogers Coates, half-miler Larry Beane.

er, shot-putter Mike Hardiman are the 1957 nucleus. Pontiac was hit harder by graduation than any other SVC school, Wilson says. Flint Northern will be the chief obstacle to PHS in its title defense, Wilson believes.

Chiefs' squad will include:

60-yard dash — Joe Hill, Dave Payne, Marcus Turner.

Broad jump — Watkins, Arch Brooks, Hudson Ray (all doing better than 25 feet).

Shot — Hardiman, James McKay, John Heron.

Pole vault — Mike McCluskey, Bob Finley, Heron.

440 — Arch Brooks.

880 — Beane.

1 mile — Coates, Tom Samped, Harvey Hessel.

Medley relay — (880-440-880-880) — Hastings Martin, John Phelan, or Tom Conley, Ray Alexander, Charley Barge.

Four-lap relay — Alex Barge, Hill, Payne, Arch Brooks.

Bucco Rookie Talks His Way to Minors

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Dick Stuart, who hit 66 home runs for Lincoln last year but failed to make the grade at the Pittsburgh Pirates' Florida camp because of his fielding, or rather, the lack of it, has checked into the Hollywood Stars' camp.

Far from discouraged, Stuart sounded off in this fashion to sports writers: He will lead the Pacific Coast League in homers and Hollywood will win the pennant because of his bat. He will continue to strike out, but not so often. His fielding will improve. He will go back up to the Pirates and lead the National League in homers.

Fullmer, Sugar Ray Ink Pacts

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, aiming for his biggest payday, and Sugar Ray Robinson, aiming to regain his crown, today sign for their title rematch at Chicago Stadium May 1.

The formality will be in the plush setting of Tam O'Shanter Country Club, where Fullmer will set up his training camp.

Fullmer received only 12½ per cent of the gate and no television money when he dethroned the 36-year-old Robinson in New York Jan. 2. His take was $20,915 while Robinson pocketed $138,000.

Each will receive 30 per cent of the net gate and $100,000 TV fee for the rematch.

After the signing, Robinson will return to his training quarters at Greenwood Lake, N.Y. He will return to Chicago April 17 and train at the Joe Louis' Southside Gym.

6 Tries, 6 Losses for Roving Cranes

Raleigh High School handed Cranbrook's roving baseball team its 6th straight loss Wednesday at Raleigh, N. C. The score was 15-3.

Freshman Andy Billesdon pitched seven innings for the Cranes and was charged with the defeat. The Cranes made only five hits off two Raleigh hurlers and committed seven errors afield.

Still searching for their 1st win, the Cranes move into Danville, Va., today. The Dixie trip ends this weekend.

Commercial Rage On

NEW YORK (AP) — Sports commercials seem to be the rage these days. During the world series, comedian Joe E. Brown filmed a short in which he played a number of positions on the baseball field. He even umpired and was shown selling peanuts in the stands. Then Maxie Rosenbloom, ex-light heavyweight champion, put on a boxing act and Mickey Rooney turned up on New Year's Day as a quarterback, coach, referee, announcer and spectator.

Rochester Team in Final Round of Cup Playoffs

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The surprising Rochester Americans held a berth in the championship round of the American Hockey League playoffs for the Calder Cup today after sweeping past the powerful Providence Reds.

The Americans became the first club in AHL history to gain the title round in their first year in the league by defeating the Reds, 4-2, last night to win their best-of-7 series, 4-1.

Rochester will meet the winner of the Hershey-Cleveland series, which resumes tonight in Hershey with matters deadlocked 2-2. The sixth game will be in Cleveland Saturday.

Urge Rough-Fishers Check With Officers

Because of a widespread misunderstanding as to the time for taking rough fish in area waters, conservation men today suggested that anyone planning spear or bow-fishing in the area, first contact them.

"While the spearing and bow-fishing is legal in non-trout waters now, anglers should contact either myself or Howard Johnson as to the available waters," officer Warren Kendall pointed out. "General spearing and bow-fishing is set for May 1-Aug. 15," he said. "These include some 22 county lakes."

Star-Studded Field Entered in Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A dazzling array of track and field stars from across the nation pose a major threat to the record books of the Texas Relays when they unlimber tomorrow.

The list of high jumpers and pole vaulters assembled is particularly impressive.

Some 1,258 athletes have thus far indicated that they will enter the meet set for Memorial Stadium here on the University of Texas campus. This number is only six less than last year's record-smashing total and officials say the lists are still open.

CAT AND DOGS — Contentedly closing its eyes in pleasure, "Negus," a one-year-old lion of the Willy Hagenbeck circus in Augsburg, Germany, gets a friendly caress from one of the five boxer pups that live with their mother "Daisy"

Audrey Reveals Formula for Successful Marriage

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "In a marriage, there must be more giving than taking."

Audrey Hepburn cited that advice as the formula for making her marriage to Mel Ferrer a success. One of the most sought-after of stars, she is turning down all offers just to remain with her husband.

"I don't plan to go to work until next November, when I'll do 'The Nun's Story,'" she remarked. "These six months I'll be able to spend with Mel, and I feel that's very important."

"Acting is important to me, and probably always will be. But marriage means more. And to make a marriage work, you have to make certain concessions. You can't be working all the time."

"People don't realize there must be more giving than taking in a marriage. You can never take more than you give if both people are to be happy."

The Dutch-born actress made these remarks in her Bel-Air Hotel suite. The Ferrers were here briefly before taking off for Mexico, where he will make "The Sun Also Rises."

"Packing, packing, packing," Audrey exclaimed. "That seems to be all I do."

I asked her just where is home. "Unfortunately, we don't know," she replied. "Mel's children are here, so there are certain ties. I was brought up in Europe. We love our place in Burgentock, which is where we were married. In Europe, Switzerland is like — well, like Palm Springs is in California. It is the place everyone goes for a rest."

Suit Would Revise Land Responsibility

A law suit now being heard in Wayne County Circuit Court may establish a precedent that would revise the seller's responsibility in land purchases.

The suit, being heard by Judge Horace Gilmore, was filed by the A and M Land Development Co. against Samuel and Bernice Miller, of Detroit.

The property involved is a number of lots in the Bloomfield Knolls Subdivision, Greer and Lochhaven roads, West Bloomfield Township.

These lots were sold by the Millers to A and M for residential construction. The builders charge that they are not suitable for septic tanks, thus making building impossible. They allege Miller knew this when he made the sale but failed to inform them.

If A and M wins the suit, the precedent could be established that a seller has the obligation of informing the buyer of the suitability of the land sold for the purposes intended by the buyer.

This would offer protection against individuals winding up with lots on which they cannot build a home because the soil is not suited for septic tank installation, a condition which has occurred many times in Oakland County.

Trixie and Mistress Back Behind Bars

DETROIT (AP) — Trixie was back in the dog pound today and her mistress was back in jail.

Twice in the last four days the little spitz had attacked policemen who had taken Mrs. Ellavren Kiernan to jail on charges of drunk driving.

Last Saturday, dog and mistress spent a short time in the dog pound and jail respectively. Mrs. Kiernan was released on bond pending trial and bailed Trixie out.

Then yesterday they were taken into custody again on the same charge. Bail was upped to $500. Mrs. Kiernan remained in jail, Trixie remained in the pound.

Wixom Commission to Discuss Village Charter

WIXOM — The Wixom Charter Commission will appear at the regular monthly meeting of the Civic Assn. at 8 p.m. tonight to discuss the proposed village charter. The meeting will be held in the Wixom Elementary School.

The public is invited to attend and take advantage of the last chance to voice opinions before the charter is printed and sent to state officials for approval.

Members of the commission will also answer any question regarding the Novi Township suit to halt incorporation of Wixom. The suit was dismissed by Circuit Judge Clark Adams yesterday and the elected commission was upheld.

The commission is comprised of Kenneth Rocker, chairman; Herbert Abrams, secretary; Ray W. Lahti, Everett Pearsall and William Richards.

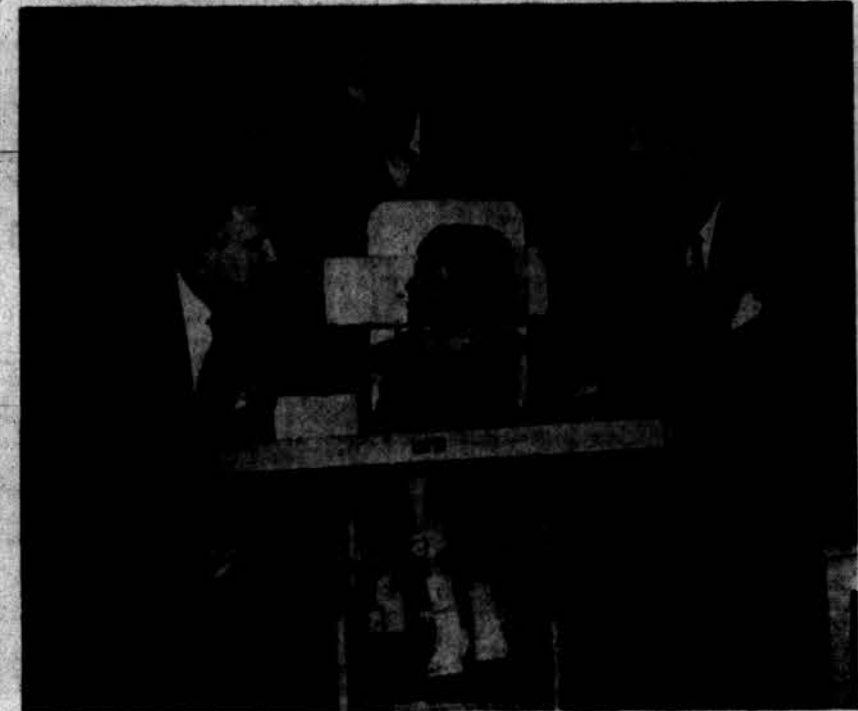

All were defendants in the Novi suit which claimed that the boundaries of the incorporated area unreasonably took in rural property, including the new Lincoln (Ford Motor Company) plant which is a mile south of the village business area. Novi contended that the incorporation move was made to gain taxes from the big plant.

Novi also contended that the tie vote in that township at the Feb. 5 special election for incorporation in effect defeated incorporation. The majority of Commerce Township votes favored incorporation. Wixom is in both townships.

The commission is now adding final touches to the charter and expects to complete it before the 60-day deadline with a few days to spare. Secretary Abrams predicted that the commission will likely approve a resolution for adoption of the charter by no later than April 15.

A special election to seek voters' approval of the proposed charter will be held in June, Abrams said. Tonight's program will include entertainment.

A FRIENDLY CHAT — Superintendents of schools throughout southern Oakland County met this week with committee members of the Health Fair to discuss plans for the student participation in the fair's slogan-poster contest now under way in this area. To Raze Church at Brooklands

Make Room for Larger Edifice With Social Hall; Farewell Rite Sunday

AVON TOWNSHIP — Gethsemane Lutheran Church at Brooklands, standing for more than 15 years on Auburn road near Dequindre, will be razed next week to make room for immediate construction on the same site of a new and larger combination church and social hall.

Sunday, in addition to the regular schedule of services in the morning, a special farewell service will be held in the church at 3 p.m. in which the Rev. Louis Heinecke of Utica will speak.

The Rev. Edward Knorr of Trenton will speak at the groundbreaking following when the pastor of Gethsemane Church, the Rev. Norman Kerk, will turn the first shovel of earth. Both pastors Heinecke and Knorr were identified with the early history and organization of the congregation during the war years.

Designed by Victor Basso, Detroit architect, the contemporary structure will feature a buff-colored Roman brick exterior with complex of cinder block, brick and wood paneling in the interior.

Seating capacity in the nave will be over 200 with additional seating available in the narthex. It is estimated that completion will take seven months from groundbreaking. Building committee members are Vincent Braun, Alvin Brower and John Leenhuis.

Starting April 14, all services and activities will be held at the parish school. Early services will be conducted there at 8 o'clock and the late service at 11 to facilitate Sunday School activities from 9:30 to 10:30. Gethsemane congregation has invited community and township officials to the groundbreaking Sunday.

500 Persons See Boychoir in Rochester

ROCHESTER — More than 500 persons heard the Columbus Boychoir of Princeton, N. J., in the Junior High School Gymnasium Tuesday night. The concert was the last of the season's Civic Music Assn. presentations. Twenty-eight selected singers gave the four-part program under the direction of Donald Bryant, an accomplished pianist as well as director.

The treble voices were ideal for Handel's compositions in Part One and Bryant's Selections from the Mass for treble voices.

In Part Four, The Apothecary, an opera in one act, part of the boys took girls' parts with the voices perfectly adapted to the parts. Costuming and the folk dancing added much to the play. The musical score was played by the director.

The Lord's Prayer, closing the program was very effective finale. Bryant announced that the Boychoir will leave in August for a two months tour of South America.

Swiss Village Situation of Roads Looks Hopeful

ORION TOWNSHIP — The spring and approaching summer will bring with them fulfillment of a long awaited of the people of "Swiss Village." The only road to this section of the Village of Lake Orion will soon get action on its long-overdue road re-construction.

The hazardous, antiquated stretch in the same road as was laid before World War I, states

Village Councilman Hugh Galloway Sr., who has been agitating for a better road for several years.

A group from Swiss Village has been working on a petition for four years and is finally getting results. Orion Township Superintendent Ferris Clark has received the survey from the road commission along with the decision of the township recently.

At a special meeting held in March, it was agreed to ask for bids for this reconstruction to start at the village limits and work toward Indianwood road as far as the money allotted will permit.

It is probable, Galloway says, that improvement for the remaining part of the controversial Fairview Avenue will be asked for by Swiss Village residents within the next few years.

Council members are considering the question of tearing down a hillside about 75 feet long on Central Avenue and to straighten it as a dangerous curve. Galloway says that the village, township and state will share in the expense.

Science Fair Set by Almont Group

Unveil Royal Oak Plan

ROYAL OAK — A plan to redevelop Royal Oak's business section was unveiled last night at a special meeting of the Royal Oak City Commission.

The plan proposed by the Chamber of Commerce here is aimed to draw trade from a wider area and to include parking facilities for 5,000 cars.

Among other things the plan calls for a shopping mall on Washington avenue with shop entrances facing a park in the center.

At an estimated cost of $2 million the chamber believes the fine redevelopment plan could be completed without tax money from Royal Oak residents.

The chamber proposed the city borrow money through revenue bonds to pay for the parking area. Money from parking meters on the new lots could be used to repay the borrowed cash.

Businessmen themselves would be expected to pay the rest of the bill for the revamping of their individual store fronts and buildings.

Not So Mad, Old Lad of Hyderabad

Legendary, Aging Nizam Retires

WASHINGTON — Retirement of India's principal ruling prince, the Nizam of Hyderabad, wipes out a lingering trace of the Mogul Empire in the heartland of the sub-continent.

India in 1948 acquired Hyderabad, the most populous and second largest of the princely states. But it permitted the aging Nizam, long reputed to be one of the richest men on earth, to retain his throne.

Now, with the prince's decision to step down, the state as such ceases to exist. The multi-tongued, history-steeped region extending over the Deccan plateau of south central India has been subdivided on a language basis among adjacent states of the Indian Union.

During most of his 45-year reign, the Nizam was absolute ruler of a sovereign state comparable in area and population—now 18,655,000—to Pennsylvania and Ohio combined, the National Geographic Society says. His personal land holdings exceeded the size of Massachusetts. Hyderabad city, India. From the ruins emerged the capital, has far more residents.

than the District of Columbia. Although the shy monarch seldom ventured outside his domain, fantastic legends about him circulated around the world.

The Nizam was depicted as a frugal billionaire who mended his own clothes, drove an old car, ate only one meal a day, left gold bricks lying around palace gardens, kept fabulous jewels in dusty trunks and shoe boxes, and used a fist-size emerald as a paperweight.

He ruled in an aura of rich history. Within the state, at Ajanta and Ellora, are 2,000-year-old temple caves so beautifully hewn from rock that they are ranked among India's most priceless art treasures. Close to Hyderabad city stand the ruins of Golconda, once a city of a million people and the fortress capital of the old kingdom of Deccan.

NEW STATES CREATED

The kingdom was absorbed into the Mogul Empire in 1687. Col-lapses of the empire shattered India. From the ruins emerged hundreds of princely states, made secure through treaties with the British.

A Mogul viceroy of the Deccan set up Hyderabad as an autonomous state in 1724 and founded the dynasty of ruling Nizams. His successors, of which the present Nizam is seventh in line, lived in the grand style of the Moguls. Among its ancestors, the illustrious family counts Abu Bakr, successor to the prophet Mohammed as Caliph of Islam.

Under the Moslem Nizams, Hyderabad developed as a center of Islamic culture in India although the state's growing population was chiefly Hindu. The official state language was Urdu, an old Mogul dialect.

Prior to 1948, the Nizam and his nobles owned nearly half of Hyderabad's 82,513 square miles. Yet a chapter of medieval history began to close under the feudal tenancy system. Irrigation dams improved farming, the major industry. Adult training programs helped workers engaged in cottage industries such as textiles and handicrafts.

Today the Indian Government is giving top priority to agriculture, education, and the development of Hyderabad's rich mineral deposits. One irrigation-hydroelectric project will be the largest in India. In two years, 4,200 primary schools and 500 adult training centers were opened.

Let Vacation Serve as Spur to Study

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (INS) — A vacation trip can be an education in itself for your child, but books on history or geography will help, and serve as an invitation to broader reading.

That's the opinion of Dr. William M. Smith Jr., a professor of family relationships at Penn State University. He explains:

"There are many well-written and attractive books for children telling of the history or the geography of all parts of our country or the world."

"Read some of them to your child, or have him read them before taking a trip; take some book along with you."

Say Wood Superior for Window Insulation

Home builders have long insisted on wood windows for their own homes because the wood frames provide a tighter fit and do a better job of insulating than metal frames, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn.

Even glass, noted as a poor insulator against heat and cold, is superior in this respect to aluminum and steel, the lumbermen point out. Heat or cold will pass through steel about 57 times faster than through glass of the same thickness. Through aluminum, about 260 times faster, according to data published by the American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers.

Adjust Bracket at Leak

When rain water is overflowing from a roof gutter at a point where there is no debris, the chances are that a readjustment of one of the gutter brackets will correct the condition.

Enough to Make Man Head for Jungles!

CHICAGO (INS) — When Papa goes a-hunting, so does Mama. The latest gun introduced at a sports show in Chicago comes in pastels—including blue—and is designed to go with women's hunting clothes. The .410 gauge shotgun has a colored lacquered stock and fore-end and a chrome-plated frame. In addition to blue, the available colors are yellow, green and also black.

The manufacturer explained that more women are going out to hunt during the season. According to government estimates, women hunters now number over half a million.
