Gun Registration Loses by Big Margin in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's call for registration of all guns has been turned aside by two House votes that appeared to kill all hope for such legislation this session.

By surprising votes of nearly 2-to-1 the House yesterday defeated registration amendments to a bill that would ban interstate mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition, plus over-the-counter sales to residents of nonadjacent states.

One amendment, offered by Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., would have required registration of all firearms. It lost by a standing vote of 172-68.

The other, sponsored by Rep. Robert

McClory, R-Ill., would have required pistol registration only. It was turned back 168-89.

FINAL VOTE PUT OFF

A final vote on the bill and on numerous pending amendments that could still weaken or strengthen it was put off until Monday.

Although it was possible another attempt would be made then to tack on a registration provision it was unlikely in the face of the overwhelming defeat of the two amendments yesterday.

It also was considered unlikely in view of the size of the votes that such a provision could get through a joint-House Senate conference committee although there is strong backing in the Senate for both registration of firearms and licensing of owners.

Amendments on licensing are expected to be offered Monday.

PRESIDENT'S PROPOSAL

President Johnson first urged the interstate mail order bans on rifles and shotguns in the wake of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Later, he urged registration and licensing legislation.

Backers of stronger gun controls saw hope for passage of some kind of bill in House approval of an amendment requiring mandatory prison sentences for persons who use or carry a firearm while committing a federal felony such as rape, murder or robbery.

This amendment was approved as a substitute for one by Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex., that would have required mandatory sentences for persons using a firearm in the commission of state felonies as well as federal offenses.

The substitute amendment, sponsored by Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., would require mandatory sentences of from one to 10 years for the first offense and from 5 to 25 years for the second and subsequent offenses.

The sentences to run consecutively, not concurrently to any given for the crime itself—could not be suspended nor could the convicted person be released on probation.

Poor Weather,

Push for Safety Slow Air Travel

NEW YORK (AP) — Two airlines suspended shuttle flights from metropolitan New York airports last night as continuing congestion delayed thousands of passengers.

A combination of bad weather and a safety campaign by air traffic controllers stacked planes on runways and overhead, and airlines were reporting routine delays of up to two hours.

Eastern Airlines canceled 24 shuttle flights to Boston and Washington at 7:15 p.m. as more than 40 jets were waiting to take off at Kennedy International Airport.

An Eastern spokesman said the cancellation was "due to weather and other reasons."

About an hour later Northeast Airlines suspended its shuttle flights from La Guardia Airport to Boston. They were later resumed.

Eastern resumed its shuttle flights between La Guardia and Newark airports and Boston and Washington today but decided to continue to fly four flights a day to Miami and Montreal from Newark rather than Kennedy because of the congestion at Kennedy.

The safety campaign is being waged by the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization which says that its members need more help to handle the high volume of air traffic.

The controllers have said they will go "by the book" and strictly maintain the mandatory three-mile separation of planes on their radar screens.

The Federal Aviation Administration which employs the controllers says it ran checks in the control towers this week and found no evidence of any apparent slowdown.

NATIONWIDE PROBLEMS

Conditions in New York caused problems at some other airports around the country. A flight from Hartford, Conn., to Philadelphia was delayed three hours until clearance through New York air space was obtained.

LBJ-Thieu Talks Go Smoothly

HONOLULU (AP) — By all official accounts, President Johnson and South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu have had little difficulty reaching a meeting of minds during their brief Honolulu summit.

Officials from both countries said the two men and their top advisers had done such successful spadework for the conference that there was no need for extended conversations here.

That was one big reason, they said, why today's summit windup could be foreshortened, with cancellation of a scheduled final luncheon meeting and early issuance of a joint communique.

Thieu announced he would carry a bit in Hawaii to meet with newsmen after Johnson returns to the U.S. mainland.

Accord Reached on Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate and House are expected to vote next week on a $5.4-billion housing bill hailed by one sponsor as the greatest advance against slums in 20 years and by another as "breath-taking in its scope."

In what amounted to a victory for President Johnson, House-Senate conferees agreed late yesterday on a compromise version of the measure whose major new feature is government interest subsidies to help low-income families buy homes.

The conferees took just five days to iron out some 150 differences in the versions that passed the separate chambers.

The final bill follows closely legislation as recommended by the administration which will carry out the first three years of a 10-year program the President hopes will wipe out slums.

Agreement by the conferees virtually assures passage by the House and Senate.

The provision to assist home buying is aimed at 500,000 families in the $3,000-$6,000 income bracket.

Thieu, in a formal statement at the opening conference session Friday, said that of course his country hopes for a just and honorable peace at the conference table.

But he gave no indication, at least in that document, that he would favor a complete halt to bombing of North Vietnam. And a member of his party reaffirmed the fixed position of the Saigon government that it would never negotiate with the Vietcong as a group, though it would listen to the views of any individuals from the other side who cared to air them.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, in advance of the Honolulu talks, indicated a possible bombing halt and direct Saigon-Vietcong negotiations would be among the topics to be explored by Thieu and Johnson.

If the subjects came up, newsmen were not told of it by briefing officers.

Johnson and Thieu met privately for about an hour Friday morning at the hilltop command post of U.S. military forces in the Pacific, then went into larger group sessions and a working lunch that, altogether, took up half the day. In the evening they got together again at Johnson's borrowed seaside residence outside Honolulu.

Aides also held a series of small sessions on specific topics: Military, economic, diplomatic and so forth.

In his opening conference statement, Thieu quoted Johnson as saying it would be unacceptable to agree to "a fake solution and call it peace."

S. Korean CIA Jails 27 in Alleged Spy Network

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea's Central Intelligence Agency announced today the arrest of 27 persons accused of operating a spy network that set the groundwork for North Korean guerrilla raids.

The spy ring, reportedly organized by a North Korean Communist party official who slipped into the South seven years ago, also was said to have tried to infiltrate left-wing and intellectual groups.

Some 440 pieces of spy equipment, including six code sets and seven radio transmitters, were confiscated in the roundup, the agency said.

Named as head of the ring was Chung Tai-hong, 45, a business executive alleged to have visited North Korea at least four times for instructions and money.

The Seoul intelligence agency said the underground group had received at least $67,000 from its North Korean superiors.

It used the money to set up a legal "cover" and to publish a monthly magazine aimed at reaching intellectuals, the agency charged. The publications, called "Blue Ridge," went out of business last year after 28 issues.

Spy operations also were suspended last year when South Korean authorities broke up what they claimed was a Communist spy ring among South Korean students in Berlin, the agency said.

Authorities said the spy group resumed operations earlier this year and began preparing for North Korean guerrilla activities in the South.

Sirhan Complains He's Not Sleeping

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan has been complaining of insomnia as he waits in jail for his trial on a charge of assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

And he told Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer yesterday he would agree to a waiver granting psychiatrists access to his jail record on a condition — that he be given sleeping pills.

"I have constantly been asking for sleeping pills—if they give me sleeping pills, I'll waive it."

No more mention of the pills was made but Sirhan's lawyer, Russell E. Parsons, said later: "I assume the doctor will do his duty and give the man sleeping pills if he needs them."

RECEIVES DELAY

The defense lawyer said his 24-year-old client "hasn't been resting too well."

Sirhan was in court to enter a plea to the murder charge against him, but Parsons requested and received a two-week delay.

Parsons asked for the postponement, after a month's delay, so psychiatrists can complete reports on Sirhan. He also requested authorization for X-ray and electric-wave studies of his client's brain.

Parsons said that in another case he handled, such tests led to the defendant's being found insane and that he went to a state mental institution rather than the death house.

BRAIN DAMAGE?

The lawyer previously had indicated he may try to show Sirhan suffered brain damage in falling from a horse in 1966. The young immigrant later demanded and received state disability for the injury.

Sirhan seemed cheerful but nervous during his brief court appearance. Wearing a light blue shirt open at the throat, tight black pants, and black loafers, he strode briskly into the courtroom on the 13th floor of the Hall of Justice.

Security precautions were heavy. Armor plate covered the courtroom windows and the 100 newsmen and other spectators were searched before entering the room. About 12 armed deputies stood guard during the proceedings.

Sitting at the counsel's table, Sirhan tapped his foot constantly and shot tight-lipped smiles to his brother Adel, 29, a spectator.

Despite his complaint about not sleeping, the defendant looked jaunty. Parsons said Sirhan and his mother pray together during her visits to his cell and that the young man has been reading about another assassinated leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Balmy Weather in Store for Area

The heat wave which sizzled the area last week broke just in time for a pleasant weekend for outdoor sports, picnics and barbecues.

High temperatures are expected to be in the mid-80s, with a chance of brief showers tomorrow night.

The official day-by-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast is:

TONIGHT — Fair and warmer. Lows 60 to 65. Winds light and variable.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and warmer. Precipitation probability: 20 per cent.

MONDAY — Partly sunny and turning cooler.

Low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 59. By 2 p.m. the temperature was 83.

Liver Recipient Dies

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Doctors announced today the death of Britain's first liver transplant patient, a woman who survived 11 weeks after the operation.

2 Traffic Fatalities, 1 Drowning in Area

A teen-ager drowned and two persons were killed in separate traffic accidents in Oakland and Macomb counties yesterday and early today.

William A. Wilson Jr., 18, of 2719 Deland, Waterford Township, was killed shortly after midnight today when he reportedly failed to stop his car at a flashing red light in Waterford Township, according to police.

Police said his car was struck broadside by one driven by Lucretia A. Flenner, 90 Clayburn, Waterford Township, at Hatchery and Airport roads. She received neck injuries, police said.

In Macomb County, David D. Franco, 15, of 8255 Marianne, Shelby Township, was killed by a motorcycle while riding his bicycle on a street in Shelby Township.

HIT BY MOTORCYCLE

Police say he was riding west in the eastbound lane of 22 Mile Road near M53 expressway when a motorcycle driven by Conrad R. Johnson, 34, of Mount Clemens, came over a hill in the opposite direction and struck him.

Johnson, who police said was driving on a suspended license, is reported in poor condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Mount Clemens.

Yesterday afternoon, Gary L. Pollet, 19, of Warren, drowned in Arrow Head Lake in Shelby Township.

A friend told police they were swimming when Pollet apparently became fatigued and drowned.

'Dem Discussions May Be Desirable'

McCarthy Unclear on Viet-Veep

By The Associated Press

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, calling Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's Vietnam position unclear, says a public discussion between the two Democratic presidential rivals on the war issue "may be desirable."

McCarthy repeatedly has called for a debate on the issue, most recently on a Southern swing where he said yesterday that Humphrey may be edging away from the Johnson administration's Vietnam stand and toward McCarthy's.

The Washington Post today quoted Humphrey as saying of McCarthy's latest proposal, for a "public discussion": "It may be desirable to have such a discussion before the convention."

"I don't think he (McCarthy) believes in unilateral withdrawal," Humphrey said in the interview. "I don't think that he wants a Communist take-over of Southeast Asia and neither do I. But he hasn't spelled that out."

McCarthy, at a news conference in Louisville, Ky., had said Humphrey's position on the war also needs clarification.

"There have been some signs of some change from the rather pure administration position," the Minnesota senator said, "but he said he wanted to see a firmer declaration of Humphrey's position."

McCarthy said one sign of what he called a change in Humphrey's position was the vice president's indication in a Scripps-Howard interview that he could run on any Democratic war platform.

Woman Killed at Local Home

A Pontiac woman was killed early today during a reported argument at a party in a city home, police were told.

Shot once in the head was Mrs. Willie Smoot, 35, of 228 Victory, according to police. Officers said she was dead when they arrived at the scene — the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Bradley, 467 Moore.

Bradley was taken into custody for investigation of murder shortly after the incident, police said.

Officers said they were called to the scene about 4:30 a.m.

HUSBANDS FIGHT

Witnesses told them that an argument had ensued between the couples and that Smoot and Bradley had been fighting.

Smoot left the house moments before the fatal shot was fired, according to investigators.

Police said a .22-caliber rifle was impounded at the house.

other than unilateral withdrawal from Vietnam.

The senator said a public meeting with Humphrey before the Democratic National Convention starts in Chicago Aug. 26 could "clarify our differences, if there are any differences."

"If we find ourselves in agreement," McCarthy continued, "some conflicts and some confusion within the party can be straightened out as we prepare to go down the line to Chicago and on beyond."

that to the campaign in November against the Republicans."

On the Republican side, California Gov. Ronald Reagan began an effort against votes for independent candidate George C. Wallace. And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he believes the Soviet Union wants an end to hostilities in Vietnam.

Reagan, on a GOP fund-raising swing through the South, said in Amarillo, Tex., that Wallace's third-party presidential bid may work as a "destroyer" that would keep the Democrats in the White House.

"The Wallace campaign," Reagan said, "can hurt the Republicans worse than the Democrats."

Rockefeller said in Far Hills, N.J., he believes China wishes to prolong the Vietnam war but the Soviets don't.

VC Bait Trap With Captives but Are Routed by B52s

SAIGON (AP) — A heavy raid by U.S. B52 bombers scared away Vietcong guerrillas who set 39 manacled captives out as bait and to ambush South Vietnamese troops coming to their rescue, military spokesmen said today.

The government troops freed the emaciated men and women, who had been chained to stakes in the ground, and reported killing six Vietcong soldiers who had stayed behind as guards when most of the other guerrillas fled.

Three South Vietnamese infantrymen were wounded when the government troops freed into an open field yesterday to free the prisoners in the Mekong Delta, 125 miles southwest of Saigon, spokesmen said.

LEARNED OF PLANS

Field reports said the Vietcong learned of government troops' plans to try to free the captives, dragged them into an open rice field and set up ambush positions around them.

But the government soldiers were not scheduled to sweep the area until after the B52 raids.

The captives were quoted as saying that most of the guerrillas fled when thousands of pounds of bombs from the eight-engine bombers fell on the fringes of the ambush site. They told officials they had seen at least seven Vietcong who were wounded by the air attack.

Officials questioned the captives at the provincial capital of Can Tho, where they were taken for medical treatment.

20 UNACCOUNTED

Spokesmen said 20 other prisoners still were unaccounted for and presumably were taken along by the fleeing Vietcong.

The captives brought to Can Tho said they had been seized as hostages in a Vietcong effort to make their relatives defect from the South Vietnamese army. Doctors said the Vietcong had severely mistreated the captives.

Government troops on the sweep operation also reported capturing five guerrillas and four other suspects and seizing more than 250 mortar and anti-tank rocket shells, 10 rifles, 200 sticks of TNT and 42 rounds of recoilless rifles.

Nine miles north of the ambush site, other government troops reported killing 29 guerrillas in two days of skirmishes in an operation that ended yesterday.

A military spokesman said three government infantrymen were killed and 28 wounded in the intermittent fighting. The South Vietnamese troops also reported capturing 20 tear gas grenades.

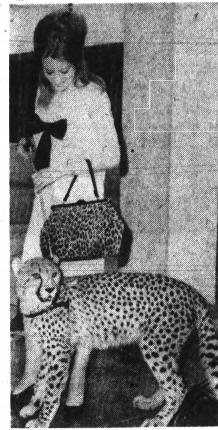

UAW-Teamster Alliance Is Near

DETROIT (UPI) — The nation's two largest unions — the United Auto Workers and the Teamsters — are expected Monday to announce the formation of an alliance designed to jointly push political activity and organizing efforts.

The two unions together have a membership of about 3.4 million, well below the 12-million member AFL-CIO that expelled them.

Teamsters officials attending a general executive board meeting in Carlsbad, Calif., said the announcement of the alliance would come Monday in Chicago.

Frank Fitzsimmons, in charge of the Teamsters while James R. Hoffa serves a federal prison sentence for jury tampering, is expected to meet with UAW President Walter P. Reuther in Chicago Monday, they said.

PART OF THE ACT — A New Orleans judge ruled yesterday that Frenchy Colbert can keep her 7-month-old Cheetah in her dance act at a Bourbon Street nightclub. But he ruled that an armed guard must always be present. A doorman at the club was fined $100 for "keeping a wild and ferocious animal within city limits without an armed guard" during the hearing. "He's very easy to control and he loves to be babied," Miss Colbert said.

Birmingham

Improvements Are Planned for Post Office

BIRMINGHAM — The local branch of the United States Post Office Department is one of 23 Michigan offices slated for improvement, according to Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

The project will provide additional parking and maneuvering areas as well as a new building.

However, because of the paper work and various steps that must be taken, it will be at least a year before any construction can begin, a post office spokesman said.

Two area men were among a number of citizens recently appointed to state boards by Gov. George Romney. Dr. Arthur Riewald, 2850 Aspen, Bloomfield Township was appointed to the State Marriage Counselors Board for a two-year term.

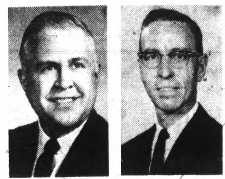

TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY

David F. Breck, of 752 Wilks, Birmingham was named as a member of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority for a three-year term.

Donald E. Wagner, of 915 Lampwick Bloomfield Township, has been appointed corporate product manager, accounting machines and systems for Burroughs Corp.

In his new position he will be responsible for planning and coordinating all phases of the machines and systems program.

According to James A. McCullough, vice president, product management, who made the announcement, Wagner will participate in the execution of broad corporate programs involving product planning, engineering, manufacturing, marketing and finance of products, both in the United States and world markets.

WAGNER BROWN

NAVAL RESERVE

Wagner joined Burroughs in Detroit in 1940. Following service in the United States Naval Reserve in the Pacific, he returned to Burroughs in 1948 as a senior sales representative. He became zone sales manager in the Detroit branch in 1953 and was appointed branch manager at Kalamazoo in 1957.

Born in Detroit, Wagner is a graduate of Michigan State University.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Detroit Edison Company has announced the appointment of Robert R. Brown, Jr. of 2395 Hunt Club Drive as supervisor of the equipment buying division of the company's purchasing department. He had served as senior buyer in the contracting division since 1959, and had been acting supervisor of that division for a period from 1963 to 1965.

A BUYER FOR 22 YEARS

A member of the Construction Specifications Institute, and presently serving his second term as secretary of the Detroit chapter, Brown has 22 years of experience as a buyer in the construction or contracting divisions of the Edison Company.

Brown is a native of Northville, and a graduate of Ann Arbor High School. He earned his BS degree in electrical engineering at the University of Michigan in 1943. A World War II Navy officer from 1943 to 1946, he served aboard the USS Lough in the South Pacific as engineer officer.

Brown began his Edison career in 1946 in the marketing department.

Freed U.S. Fliers

Quoted in Pravda

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today published interviews with three American Air Force officers, held prisoner by North Vietnam, whose release was announced Thursday in Hanoi.

All three were quoted as saying that they had been well treated and the war in Vietnam should be stopped.

The Soviet Communist party paper's report from Hanoi said the men's release was a demonstration of Vietnamese humanity and evidence that the Vietnamese harbor no resentment against the Americans despite years of war and destruction.

The fliers were identified as Capt. Joe Victor Carpenter, 37, of Victorville, Calif.; Maj. Fred Neal Thompson, 32, of Taylors, S.C.; and Maj. James Frederick Low, 43, a Korean war ace from Sausalito, Calif.

News Briefs From the Wire

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A big local union has voted overwhelmingly in favor of a steel strike and — with only 11 days left before the nation's 450,000 basic steelworkers are free to walk out — bargain-holders are holding week-end meetings and planning strategy. Local 1164 at U.S. Steel Corp.'s Lorain, Ohio, works, one of the largest in the union, voted 85 per cent yesterday in favor of a strike. It was the first test of sentiment after top union negotiators called for a strike vote.

Ray Waits for Lawyer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, tucked safely behind the most elaborate security screen ever seen here, awaits the first meeting with his lawyer since being removed from a London jail. The lawyer, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., arrived by plane from New York shortly before midnight last night, quickly got into a car and drove to a downtown hotel — escorted by six policemen.

Akron Strife Continues

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Unrest in Negro neighborhoods of Akron's South Side flared into minor disturbances for the third straight day yesterday. No major outbreaks were reported but two youths were wounded slightly by a shotgun blast and a man was seriously injured when hit by a rock. A 9 p.m. curfew was in effect for the second straight night. There were scattered fires before the curfew went into effect with heavy damage reported.

774-Acre Farm to Be Developed into Home Sites

Chrysler Realty Corp. of Center Line yesterday agreed to buy a 774-acre farm in Bloomfield and West Bloomfield townships to build luxury homes.

The Wabek farm, south of Upper Long Lake, is owned by the family of the late Sen. James Couzens. Purchased by the late senator in 1908, it has been operated as a diversified farm.

The property's east boundary runs about a mile along Wabek Road and its west boundary runs along Middlebelt Road about a quarter mile. It borders Upper Long Lake on the north and Mud Lake on the south.

Bisected by West Long Lake Road, the land contains several natural lakes — Wabek, Haines and Ball.

'KEEPING TRADITION'

"We intend within the next year or two to begin development of this property with homes that are in the keeping with the Bloomfield Hills tradition," a spokesman for the new realty firm, part of Chrysler Corp., said.

"The high rolling hills which comprise about 600 acres of the Wabek farm are readily adaptable to residential and related recreational development."

"In addition, we envision a number of spacious lake front homes on the 53 acres of natural lakes included in the property."

He said schools would have to be provided within the development. The area is in the Bloomfield Hills School District. Closing date of the sale is Oct. 1.

Czech Party Chiefs Back Liberal Line

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The Czechoslovak Communist party's central committee yesterday endorsed a call for "courage and determination" to overcome all efforts to reverse the nation's liberal course.

The committee met as the Soviet Union invited Czechoslovakia leaders to come to Moscow Monday or Tuesday for a showdown meeting on the liberalization drive begun in January by new Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek.

The Prague leaders also were to meet today with foreign Communist party officials, apparently in separate sessions, but the Czechoslovak news agency CTK did not identify the leaders nor say whether the meetings would be in Prague or elsewhere.

One foreign Communist leader known to be in Prague is Waldeck Rochet of France. His party, along with the Communist parties of Romania, Yugoslavia, Italy, Belgium, Britain and Austria, have declared support for Dubcek's regime.

HARD-LINERS

On the other side are hard-liners who fear the liberalization in Czechoslovakia might intensify liberal ferment in their nations. The Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria met at Warsaw last weekend and sent the Czechoslovak leaders a letter demanding reversal of the liberal course. The letter expressed backing for Stalinist hard-liners remaining in high party positions in Czechoslovakia.

The Soviet Union also has sent messages of encouragement to the 35,000-man Czechoslovak Peoples Militia, a paramilitary force that backs the Kremlin line.

The Soviet invitation to meet asked Dubcek to bring the whole 11-member presidium, the main ruling body of Czechoslovakia, or a larger delegation if he wished.

POSSIBLE DIFFERENCES

The call for a large Czechoslovak delegation could be aimed at giving the Kremlin a chance to exploit possible differences in the Czechoslovak ranks.

While Cernik called for calm, Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko cut short a visit to Algeria and returned to Moscow, a move apparently aimed at exerting psychological pressure on the Prague reformers.

Soviet Marshal Ivan I. Yakubovsky, commander of Warsaw Pact forces, flew back to Moscow from Czechoslovakia. About 16,000 Soviet troops still are in the process of leaving Czechoslovakia after maneuvers that ended June 30. Czechoslovak officials said earlier that the Soviets had promised the withdrawal would be completed by tomorrow.

Germans Pay Tribute to Nazi Resistance

BERLIN (AP) — Germans From the war ministry, Stauffenberg's cohorts sent out fufilled orders deactivating the Nazi 24th anniversary of the unsuccessful attempt to assassinate the German dictator and overthrow his Nazi regime.

And sharp criticism was leveled at elements who still try to revive the spirit of Nazism in this country.

The anniversary observance began Friday night at Berlin's Plötzensee Prison where scores of participants in the July 20, 1944, plot against Hitler were tried by a "Peoples Court" and hanged.

It continued today at the site of the former Reich war ministry on a Berlin street now called Stauffenberg Strasse, in honor of the late Col. Klaus Graf Von Stauffenberg.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT Von Stauffenberg, then 37, set off a time bomb at Hitler's command post in East Prussia and rushed back to Berlin thinking the "fuhrer" was dead. The explosion killed three officers and severely injured four others but Hitler and many others were only slightly hurt.

Friday's News at State Capital

AIR-CONDITIONED COMFORT

from CONSUMERS POWER CO. 28 West Lawrence 333-7812

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Friday signed into law the so-called "sweat equity bill" allowing people to contribute their own labor in building or rehabilitating low cost housing.

It was one of a number of measures signed into law by the governor.

Such self-help will be used to reduce costs and the purchase price of such housing.

"Institution of the sweat equity program is a momentous step toward solving the growing problem of low cost housing," Romney said.

The measure will have immediate effect.

It is part of a bill revamping the State Housing Development Authority Act of 1966.

Changes in the Housing Authority Act are intended to eliminate various technical problems resulting from the language of the original act.

They also add two new chapters providing for the organization and incorporation of qualified non-profit housing corporations and consumer housing cooperatives.

TENANTS' AFFAIRS UNIT Another housing measure signed by Romney creates a board of tenants'affairs for Purpose of the board is to provide a safeguard against arbitrary action affecting tenants in public housing projects by giving tenants a voice in decision-making.

The board will be composed of tenants and municipal appointees, on a 50-50 basis. It is specified that half of the appointees be from the immediate neighborhood of the public housing.

The bill takes effect Oct. 1. Another measure signed and given immediate effect requires fluoridation of water in communities throughout Michigan within the next five years unless degree of their disability under

CARRIES PROVISION

The act carries a provision forbidding any state department or agency from ordering fluoridation of water of any local area.

The process is required unless such addition of fluoride shall have been rejected by an ordinance of the local governing body or of a majority of the electors.

Disabled veterans or their widows would be granted property tax relief based in the degree of their disability under another measure signed by Romney.

When the bill becomes effective on Dec. 31, 1968, exemptions will be based on a graduated scale of percentage of disability. The scale will range from a minimum of $2,500 to a maximum of $4,500.

Previously, the maximum was $2,000 regardless of the degree of disability.

Coverage under the bill has been broadened to include veterans of all wars, including those conflicts by presidential proclamation or executive order.

Additional exemptions under the general property tax for various agriculture-related products are allowed under another measure signed.

Farm implements, sugar from sugar beets, dried beet pulp and beet molasses are among the items exempted.

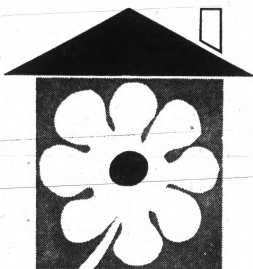

Another bill signed is aimed at regulating business promotional games and lotteries.

Major purpose of the bill is to insure that such games conducted by gasoline stations, supermarkets and other retail outlets are fairly operated and that all the facts are available to customers playing them.

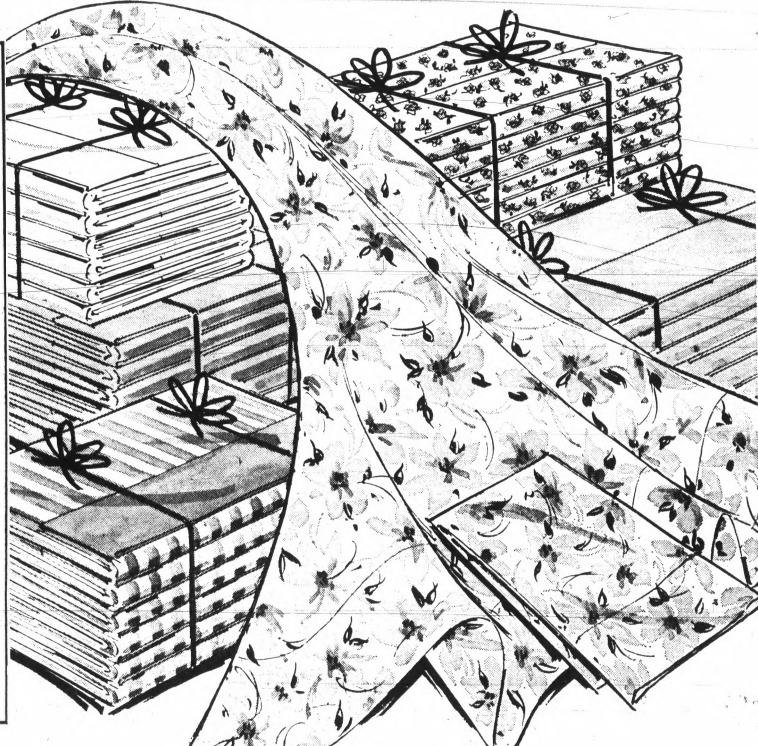

The last two bills do not have immediate effect.

National Governors' Conference Opens

The National Governors' Conference opens tomorrow in Cincinnati. As this is written, all governors are expected to attend.

With the two most obvious exceptions, many of the candidates for president and vice president in 1968 will be at the conference. The exceptions of course are former Vice President RICHARD M. NIXON and Vice President HUBERT H. HUMPHREY.

Both have excellent credentials among the governors of their parties but a nongovernor-candidate who even would visit Cincinnati during the convention would have to use the utmost discretion.

Nixon in 1964 visited Cleveland during the conference, but operated from his hotel room. He was available for visitors, but did not interfere with the conference.

The national governors conferences are supplemented by regional and party conferences. The party gatherings are the ones at which politics is serious and high-rolling.

But getting the backing of this conference would be a strong point for any one of the candidates.

The 1952 Republican Governors Conference marked a major accomplishment for the backers of Gen. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER for the President of the United States.

The 1964 conference saw a kind of political roundelay, with moderate Republican governors refusing to endorse one of their kind, WILLIAM W. SCRANTON of Pennsylvania, without a blessing by former President EISENHOWER.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is expected to be putting on both hard and soft sell at Cincinnati. A majority of Republican governors — there are 26 to 24 for the Democrats — are said to prefer, privately, Rockefeller to Nixon. But governors are pragmatic people.

This should be the chance for Rocky to gain strength. Who knows, maybe they will mount the Nixon steamroller.

White Man's Eating Habits Disagree With Pimas

A steady diet may not be such a good thing after all. At least this is the conjecture some scientists have come up with in studies of American Indians reported to the Pan American Health Organization.

The deadly effect of the white man's germs on the Western Hemisphere's native population is an old and tragic story. Not so well known is the impact of the white man's way, such as a settled existence and the practice of eating regularly, on constitutions unaccustomed to them.

This, it is suggested, could be the problem of the Pima Indians of Arizona's Gila River Reservation. Historically, life for the Pimas and most other tribes was a feast or famine situation dictated by the seasons and the fortunes of the hunt.

Today, the Pimas are eating regularly — and apparently paying for it with an extremely high incidence of such civilized ailments as gallstones, diabetes and obesity.

Government Spending Major Cause of Inflation

One good result of massive federal deficits has been that high public officials, apparently unable to sweep all the facts under the rug, have of late been acknowledging that government has been the major cause of inflation, because it has spent so much more money than it has collected in taxes.

Even with a tax boost and a $6 billion spending cut, this isn't likely to change too much in the near future.

This is good basic economics to remember when office seekers promise something for nothing at taxpayer expense at election time.

Higher wages and higher prices won't help the working man or business keep up with inflationary dollars whose value is slipping away like a snowball in the summer sun.

Prospects for Republican 'Veep'

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

Americans are more interested than ever in who is going to be vice president, and well they may be. Past events have shown us how important the vice presidency is. I'm going to give you my own list of prospective choices for the Republican candidacy for vice president.

DIRKSEN

The vice presidency has become very important to the welfare and well-being of our Country. No longer are good men wasted in that office.

It was after the adoption of the 12th amendment to the Constitution, that provided the electors make the choice for each of the offices of president and vice president, that the present system of choosing the vice presidential candidate began.

Before that time, the original provision in the Constitution called for the selection of two persons by the presidential electors. Whoever received the highest vote became president. The second-highest became vice president.

When everyone has been heard, the final decision lies with the nominee for president. Every possible factor is considered. Who does the nominee for president want as his vice president? Who would wear the hat? Who would be the best vote-getter? Who would have the greatest appeal to the large voter blocs? Who is best situated geographically?

Nothing is overlooked. And when the nominee makes his choice, that's IT. Invariably the national convention ratifies the choice made at that secluded room.

In 1968, there are many prospective choices for the vice presidency on the Republican ticket. Listing them alphabetically, these are some of the men who come to mind:

Among senators — Howard Baker of Tennessee, age 43, and the first Republican to be elected from that state since its admission to the Union; Mark Hatfield of Oregon, age 46, served as governor of his state eight years; Charles Percy of Illinois, age 49, a successful businessman at the age of 30; John Tower of Texas, age 43, professor of political science, the youngest senator in the 87th Congress and the first Republican to be elected senator in Texas since 1870.

In the House of Representatives — Gerald Ford of Michigan, age 55, recipient of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award for 1949, finishing his 18th year in Congress, elected House Minority Leader in 1965; Melvin Laird of Wisconsin, age 46, finishing his 16th year in Congress, chairman of the Republican Conference at the House.

Among the various governors there is an impressive list of prospects. I list alphabetically only those who have been rather prominently mentioned — Spiro Agnew of Maryland, Daniel Evans of Washington, Claude Kirk of Florida, John Love of Colorado, Louie Nunn of Kentucky, Ronald Reagan of California, James Rhodes of Ohio, Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania and John Volpe of Massachusetts.

Among all of the prospects, one should include on the list Mayor John Lindsay of New York City.

Hence, there are 16 possibilities for the vice presidency that should delight the heart of any presidential nominee. No American names.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

Mary Moore, director of social services for the Hospital of the Holy Family, which is a division of the Catholic Medical Center in Brooklyn, has a courageous faith which she shares with others. Mary Moore has been blind since childhood despite eight operations. She made up her mind, nevertheless, to live a normal life and to find a career in service to others.

Her first schooling was at the New York City Institute for the Education of the Blind. She received her bachelor degree in social service at Mount St. Vincent College and her master's degree from the Columbia School of Social Work.

Perhaps because of her own handicap, which she chooses to ignore, Mary Moore can listen with sympathy to those who need understanding and counsel and give them courage to face their own difficulties. Not only does she work in the hospital with the doctors and nurses but she goes into the homes to dispense her own brand of sympathetic assistance.

Of her blindness she says, "It is a source of assurance to the patients. It is God's way of getting me in contact with people and through people I know Him."

Confident Living:

Two Words Can Alter Your Life

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Certain combinations of words pack tremendous power. For example, two little everyday words — "Put them together and you have a vital thought that can change your life. And these two dynamic words? DO IT!"

A man said, "I'm not getting any." DR. PEALE where? "He was 45 years old. Several times his employers had shifted him from one job to another with no increases in responsibility or pay. Evidently they considered him capable enough to keep on but not good enough to merit promotion."

"What kind of work would you really like to do?" I asked.

"I don't exactly know," he replied uncertainly.

"You mean to tell me you have lived 45 years and don't know what you like to do?"

"It seems funny, doesn't it?" he admitted, "but I really don't. I just want to be getting somewhere."

"Where? Spell it out. Where do you want to get?"

"Come to think of it, I don't really know just where."

I figured here was a typical case of ambitions blurred — desires increasingly confused — by years of aimless

Verbal Orchids

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore of 188 Russell, 58th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schwartz Sr. of 26 Edna; 51st wedding anniversary.

Albert A. Smith of Ortonville; 81st birthday.

Mrs. Anna Wisniewski of 50 Waldo; 83rd birthday.

Freel Prentice of Birmingham; 82nd birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Drader of Troy; formerly of Birmingham; 53rd wedding anniversary.

wondering and vacillating and too little DOING.

"Look," I said, "I can tell you this. First thing you've got to do is get a clear picture in your mind of what you would like to do, exactly what you want to achieve. That is the first step. Then once you have a clear-cut, specific goal, apply the great dynamic principle that you can get what you want. And that, simply stated, is: GET GOING — DO IT!"

Every man being has vital ambitions and aspirations. When you have got out of touch with your creative abilities, the way to draw them back to consciousness is to make contact with the vitality and creativity within you. I persuaded this man to devote half an hour twice a day to deep, searching self-knowledge.

As we talked further it came out that he was from an uneducated family background. "Nobody in our family ever amounted to anything," he said. "I was the first one to go to college. And I only just squeaked through and haven't amounted to much since." His lack of confidence was overwhelming.

That he has always had a low opinion of himself, a self-minimizing attitude, was obvious. Instinctively he had avoided pursuing any definite aim for fear of failure and disappointment, and possibly ridicule it would bring.

From time to time he had had some good ideas for improving his job performance, but instead of acting, he had hesitated and ended up deciding he probably would not carry it off successfully so better skip it.

I quoted the theme song from "Man of La Mancha," the hit musical, about dreaming the impossible dream. And suggested that he practice deliberately impressing the seemingly impossible with the firm idea that it would prove to be possible after all.

"Try that as a way to reverse your old defeat psychology," I advised him. He took the advice and by dreaming "impossibles" the man actually developed new hope and new vision. He got clear on what he wanted. His goals fused.

I then started hammering at the theme of DO IT! "Now that you know your objectives," I said, "the big thing is to get going. See what you need to do next and then don't fool around — DO IT! If you feel hesitant, DO IT! And go into action. Whatever you know you ought to do, get it at — DO IT!"

By following that simple technique he is already beginning to get the satisfactions and rewards of creative accomplishment.

Is there something you wanted to accomplish but never had the guts to try, really try?

Follow your great impulse. Start trying. DO IT!

Washington Notebook:

Sport Coat Worn for Good Luck

By NOEL GROVE

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., hasn't figured out yet whether it elicited two sympathy votes or cost him a couple in the last election. But despite the comment he overheard in November, 1964, it's unlikely he'll change his clothes habits come election day again. He'll still be wearing his winning — but somewhat shaggy — good luck sport coat.

"I've followed the same election day ritual ever since I was elected to Congress 14 years ago," he said. "It's become sort of a good luck charm to wear the same clothes and visit the same places."

The sports jacket I wear every election day is worn out on one elbow, but I wear it anyway because of the good luck it always brings."

Voice of the People:

'Check Your Candidates in Upcoming Elections'

In this election year it is important that we seek out the congressional voting record of our incumbents and consider carefully the platform, the party and the candidates for high public office.

I am one taxpayer who is fed up with officials, in and out of public office, making irresponsible statements and unrealistic promises to woo the unsuspecting electorate. I am skeptical and refuse to buy this political promise of peace, prosperity and dignity accorded to all.

I am unimpressed and unmoved with this sudden unexplored, unheard of, surefire road to everlasting peace and national and international understanding. To these "pie-in-the-sky" liberals and the "hide behind the cloud" moderates, what else is new?

'UN Must Force Cease Fire in Vietnam'

The cries of America are for a cease-fire in Vietnam once and for all. The United Nations was designed to enforce peace, not just a welfare act. There are enough problems in the U.S. to be resolved if that distribution is to be continued. I would agree to the rise of all nations but not at the fall of America. The United Nations must send enough forces to Vietnam to force a cease-fire. Then every American can return home and loved ones can rest their minds.

'Horse Owners Object to Decision by State'

Brandon and Groveland Townships are among the fastest-growing areas for horse owners in the County. Horses promote pride of ownership, responsibility, leadership and fellowship among children and adults. The numerous local 4-H horse clubs exemplify this.

The State Conservation Department issued a directive prohibiting horses in the Holy Recreation Area — your public land paid for by tax dollars and license fees. Mr. Dodge of the State Conservation Department and his planning commission will be at the Groveland Township Hall on July 23 at 1 p.m. to explain their position. We horse owners will voice strong objections to this move and insist on answers to questions.

Reader Comments on Delay in Peace Talks

It is time people stop criticizing the United States' part in the delay in the progress of the Paris peace talks and realize that North Vietnam doesn't want peace except with complete victory. They have taken advantage of the partial cessation of bombing by moving more men and supplies into the south. Some of the largest death tolls of the war have been rung up during this period.

If peace talks ever come to a satisfactory end and if afterward it doesn't work out, North Vietnam will blame America for not giving in enough to its demands, just as it now blames us for the delays in peace talks.

People criticize the President for not stopping the war while it is apparent that he is doing all he can to stop it, short of total surrender. Americans have never been defeated and I hope they won't be now just because of the citizens' reluctance to realize these facts.

Question and Answer

I sent in my income tax in April and was supposed to get a refund. Instead I received a letter asking me to send my name and Social Security number to a branch in Kentucky. I did this about two months ago and still no word. Could this have been lost?

AL

REPLY

Probably not. The Internal Revenue office said you had the wrong Social Security number on your return, so when you sent in the correct one, it had to be checked through the Social Security office and then processed all over again. That is what's causing the delay.

But the all-time record seems secure at this point. On day marking Hawaii's admission to the union, some 5,000 flags were raised and lowered over the Hill.

The alarm, the concern for the safety of presidential candidates that followed the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy may have lost its sense of urgency in the public eye but not in the campaigns themselves.

Besides the secret service men now assigned to each candidate, other precautions are now being taken. News-men planning a recent flight with Vice President Hubert Humphrey were surprised to receive a new memorandum well before flight time.

"All baggage traveling on Executive II will be X-rayed on each departure. This is a reminder that X rays will destroy any film or radio tapes which you may have inside your luggage."

House flags now sell for $2.65 and the Senate price is $3.35, the extra 70 cents on the latter going for more elaborate stitching.

Customers are schools, institutions and organizations back home that want a flag that has flown over the Capitol. Upon request made through the offices of lawmakers, the flag will be raised over the building before being shipped off to a home district customer.

So popular has the trend become in recent years, however, that sometimes a Capitol policeman or two are kept

Negotiations to Resume in Biafra War

NIAMEY Niger (AP) — Sen. But he reiterated his preference for a massive airlift of food into the secessionist Biafran territory, calling it the "quickest and most realistic" means of relief.

Missionary agencies report that as many as 1,200 persons a day, including many children, are dying of starvation in Biafra, which is surrounded by federal government forces.

Though no date for the start of the talks was announced, preliminary arrangements were to begin immediately, the OAU said.

The announcement followed a brief consultation with Biafra's chief of state, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, who flew home earlier in the day.

TRANSPORT FOOD AND MEDICARE

In Aba, Biafra, Ojukwu told foreign newsmen his government held out the possibility of several corridors for transporting food and medicine to starving Biafrans.

Secret night-time airlifts now are the only means of getting relief supplies into Biafra and the Lagos government has threatened to shoot down any unauthorized planes flying into the territory. The federal government claims the airplanes are hauling in arms, along with food.

Ojukwu said a road corridor proposed by Lagos for transporting relief supplies to Biafra's population would give the federal government a clear path to what remains of the breakaway state. He also claimed the food might be poisoned if it passed through federal hands.

NIGER RIVER ROUTE

As an alternative, Ojukwu proposed that supplies be sent up the Niger River to Ougala, where they could be discharged directly into Biafran hands, or that the federal-held Port Harcourt and water channels stretching north into Biafra be

The OAU committee meeting here adopted a resolution calling on Biafra to accept the federal government's land corridor offer.

The committee is made up of representatives of Ethiopia, Ghana, Liberia, Cameroon, and the Congo.

Last November the OAU tried court and water channels unsuccessfully to mediate the Nigerian-Biafran civil war.

Police Arrest 12 to End Wallace Speech Protest

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Protesters singing, chanting and yelling repeatedly disrupted a speech by third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace Friday night and 12 of them were placed under arrest.

Police and security officers held antagonists apart several times during the rally before a crowd of an estimated 4,500 to 5,000 persons.

Wallace, who heads for Ohio farm country today, pleaded for the crowd to "let the police handle it." He walked away from the microphone and off the Kiel Auditorium stage several times before he was allowed to finish his speech.

"I usually speak about anarchy but I don't have to speak about it tonight," he said. A chorus of boos was the answer and then demonstrators began singing, "We Shall Overcome," the civil rights movement's theme song.

HAD TO STOP

Wallace had to stop again when protesters stomped the floor and chanted.

About 50 protesters, both white and Negro kept standing and raising their clenched fists with yells of "Seig Heil!"

After numerous interruptions and an exchange of wild shouting and booing, police arrested the 12 men and charged them with disturbing the peace. They included Solomon Rooks and Precious Barnes, two Negro militants.

Wallace said the disruptions were indicative of a breakdown of law and order in the United States. He pledged that if he became president law and order would be restored and such an incident would be handled by jailing the offenders.

'HANDS TIED'

He said the city administration had tied the hands of the police or the uproar would have been quieted sooner. But Police Captain Bernard Mundt said he was under orders only to exercise his judgment and he ordered arrests whenever he thought the situation was getting out of hand.

Wallace got a screaming ovation when he finished speaking. Earlier he spoke at a $25-a-plate dinner in suburban Clayton attended by about 350 persons.

A group of pickets from a peace organization demonstrated during the dinner. Outside the city auditorium later, pickets carried signs denouncing Wallace and supporting Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Faculty Concert at Interlochen Leads Agenda

INTERLOCHEN, MICH. — The bouncy patter songs and satirical wit of Gilbert and Sullivan will be heard loud and clear at Interlochen the week of July 21.

Leading up to the weekend musical frolic will be a faculty concert Tuesday evening, July 23, with flutist Max Schoenfeld and ensemble in Mozart's Quartet in D Major, K.285 and Serenade in D Major, Op. 25 by Beethoven.

Arthur Tabachnick, violinist, will be accompanied by a faculty ensemble for a performance of the Concerto in A Minor by J. S. Bach and Violin's "Giaccona" by String bassist Oscar Zimmerman will also be featured on the program.

WEDNESDAY

Wednesday evening, July 24, the Intermediate (Junior high) Symphony Orchestra will perform under the direction of Wayne Muller. Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5 — the "Reformation" — will highlight the concert by the Interlochen "red socks."

Another faculty concert July 25 will include Schubert's "Introduction and Variations, Op. 160" performed by pianist Gizi Szanto and Harriet LeBeune, flute. The Schumann Piano Quintet in E Flat Major, Op. 44 will be played by David Appleby, piano; Arthur Tabachnick, violin; Peruz Kafavian, violin; Ara Zerounian, viola; and Cassell Grubb, cello. Oliver Edel, cellist, is also to appear on the evening recital.

Gilbert and Sullivan bills will have their chance to see "Princess Ida" July 26 and 27 at 8 p.m. Carolyn Weber (Topeka, Kan.), soprano, and Jerry Baker (Dallas, Tex.), tenor, will play the lead roles.

The fifth week at Interlochen will conclude with a Sunday night concert by the University Orchestra which will include Beethoven's Symphony No. 1. The orchestra will be conducted by Nicholas Harsanyi. The University Ensemble will make this rare Sunday evening appearance as the World Youth Symphony, which regularly performs at this time, will be in concert at the Ravinia Festival near Chicago.

Presents, Chow and Rockin' Band Fun Medication for Young Patients

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

This past week, at Maybury Sanatorium, there was the annual birthday party for the children. The party was sponsored by the Women's Committee TB and Health Society with Mrs. Herman B. Reichart of West Long Lake road as chairman, assisted by Mrs. N. B. Carroll.

Together they had planned a perfect party which began at 10 a.m. outside the administration building with the children seated on the lawn. Stuffed animal gifts were distributed to each child, a magician began performing and there was laughter. But the most fun began when the Conformist Disaster Band began its rock 'n' roll music and some of the children participated in dancing. There was a huge birthday cake that Mrs. Carroll brought.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Reichart entertained committee members and Dr. W. L. Howard who is retiring after 21 years as head man at the sanatorium. Other guests were Dr. John Romanic who is taking over Dr. Howard's position, and Charles R. Kiesewetter and Jim Hart. They gathered for a champagne luncheon at Topinka's Country House.

try House. The members were praised for the tremendous service they perform for the sanatorium, not only with the birthday party, but also through the Cinderella Ball.

The first child received treatment at the sanatorium in 1922. Since then, 8000 children have been there — some for shorter and longer periods. Members also learned of the great progress in treatment that has taken place during these years.

Among those present were Mrs. Joseph Risdon, president; Mrs. John D. Richardson Jr., former president; and Mrs. William Shaw, Cinderella Ball chairman.

Others were Mesdames J. P. Judd, Charles L. Bricker, David Demarest, Julian C. McIntosh, Louis C. Blumberg, Chester Cahn, Carl Snyder, Robert Winter, Joseph Paulus and N. J. Rakas.

Bring a Plant to Express Your Gratitude

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will be retiring the end of July and his supervisor is planning a party for him at his home, inviting the fellow salesmen and their wives. I believe he is doing this entirely on his own, at his own expense.

I would like to know if it is proper etiquette for us to take along a gift for the supervisor and his wife? If so, have you any suggestions? We cannot afford anything too expensive, say about a $10 limit. — Mrs. L. J.

Dear Mrs. J.: It is always proper for guests of honor to express his thanks to his host by sending, or taking, a gift to him. Fortunately the most appropriate gift of all is well within your price range. Nothing could be nicer than a potted plant — preferably one which can be planted outside if your supervisor has a yard or garden.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I must have started a dozen letters to you and tore them all up, hoping each time things would work themselves out. Well, they haven't so this time I am writing to you for advice.

I'm not quite 18 and have been married for 10 months to a man who is 26. When I told my mother I wanted to marry Phil, she begged me not to, saying I was "too young," and would I regret it. I wouldn't listen to her, said I was "in love" and I talked her into signing for me.

Now I realize my mother was right. I can't begin to tell you how unhappy I am. Phil is jealous, suspicious, treats me like a child, and he even "spanks" me on my bare bottom if I don't obey him. All the love I had for him is dead and I can hardly stand for him to touch me. Abby, this is just not working out. I talked to my pastor and he says, "Give your marriage a chance."

All day long thoughts keep running through my mind. Should I just leave and go home? Should I tell Phil I want a divorce? Could I get an annulment? Or, now that I've made my bed must I lie in it! Please, help me.

DEAR SICK: Tell Phil what is in your heart and go home to your mother. A lawyer can tell you if you're eligible for an annulment. Fortunately you are childless. Better to leave the bed "you made" than to lie in it and conceive children there you don't want, in a marriage you feel is a mistake. Confide in your mother. She will understand.

DEAR ABBY: I have asked many people this question, and they have all come up with different answers, and I would love to know yours.

I am a 16-year-old girl. Just for fun, an 18-year-old boy challenged me to a race. I won.

Should I have let him win for the sake of his masculine pride? Or should I have beat him as I did, fair and square!

DEAR FAST: Since HE challenged you, you should not have "let him" win. Naturally, it was a blow to his masculine pride, so let this be a lesson to you. Never accept such a challenge with a boy again, because if you win, you lose.

DEAR ABBY: Saturday I attended the wedding of a relative. I wore a very nice black cocktail dress with long sleeves, and as I didn't want to spoil my hair-do I wore a black lace mantilla on my head.

Now I know they say that black is out for weddings, but I have seen plenty of black dresses at weddings so there is nothing so unusual about that.

Well, outside the church, a friend of my mother-in-law's asked me "WHOM I HAD LOST?" It took a minute for me to realize what she meant. At the reception my husband's uncle asked me the same thing. I am furious. What should I have said to these rude people? Do you share my opinion that these remarks were ignorant and uncalled for?

DEAR HURT: If the remarks were intended to ridicule, I would agree with you. But perhaps they were not. It was probably not so much the black dress that gave the impression of mourning as the black lace mantilla.

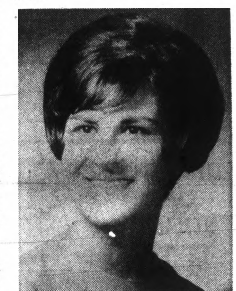

CONFIDENTIAL TO RICK: You probably talk too much. Nobody ever listened himself out of a job.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Eli Voydanoffs of Oakshire Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Karen, to Kenneth L. Yeasting, son of the G. Emerson Yeastings of Club Drive. The bride elect is a senior at Eastern Michigan University and her fiance holds degrees from the University of Michigan.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

December vows are slated by Mary Catherine Loncharche and Jack W. Teuber, whose parents are Mrs. Peter Loncharche of Preston Street, the late Mr. Loncharche and the Fred Teubers of Flint. The bride elect, a graduate of Marygrove College, is presently working on a master's degree at Michigan State University. The prospective bridegroom holds a BA and MA from Eastern Michigan University.

Seminar to Give Tips on Budgeting

An open seminar on "Planning a Family Budget" will be held at Jefferson Junior High School cafeteria Tuesday evening from 7:30 until 9:30.

The two-hour session, which is sponsored by the Community "Scope" program under the direction of Albert C. Shaw, is intended to acquaint the audience with useful hints applicable to family budgeting.

A representative from the local OEO and area residents, Mrs. Eugene Chatman and Carlton Quince, will lead the evening's discussion. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Veelands Announce Daughter's Betrothal

The engagement of their daughter, Carol Sue, to Harold Seils is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Clark G. Veeland of Little Trail Road, Commerce Township. Vows are slated Aug. 23.

Miss Veeland is a sophomore at the University of Michigan. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Seils of Hardisty Street, West Bloomfield Township, is a student at Washtenaw Community College.

Mary Jane Heider Exchanges Vows

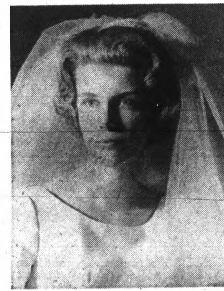

Carrying a bouquet of yellow roses with white Stephanotis, Mary Jane Heider was escorted to the altar of St. Benedict's Catholic Church Friday where she became the bride of Anthony Terrance Eby of Langlois Street, West Bloomfield Township.

For the evening exchange of vows, Miss Heider wore an organza gown fashioned along traditional lines. Jeweled Alencon lace encircled the waist, formed side panels along the dome skirt and accented the chapel length train.

To complete her look, the bride chose a Flemish bonnet of matching lace.

A day-long outing to Bob-Lo Island headed the agenda Thursday for members of the Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac and their husbands. On Aug. 6 the club will visit the Antique Village in Lake Orion. The picnic lunch is slated at Stoney Creek Recreation Center of Pontiac and their husbands. Aug. 15.

Husband's Day, which featured a box lunch, was chaired by Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler and Mrs. Louis Livingston. Guests at the annual affair were Mrs. Harold Washburn and the Burnett Stewarts.

The group has made a donation of $100 to start the landscaping at the Pontiac Creative Arts Center, Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will do the planting.

Money for further plantings, and you will find you have no will be forthcoming in future more trouble in keeping the pad in place.

Muslin Strips End Pad Problem

If you have trouble keeping the mattress pad in place on your bed, just sew four wide strips of muslin to it, placing one on each side, and one on each end of the pad. Tuck these strips under the sides of the mattress, and at the head and foot of the bed. Money for further plantings, and you will find you have no will be forthcoming in future more trouble in keeping the pad in place.

'Inquiring Mind' Speaker's Topic

Orchard Lake Country Club will be the setting for Wednesday's quarterly luncheon meeting of the St. Hugo of the Hills' Altar Guild.

Mrs. O. Eugene Wolford Jr., this year's recipient of the Award for Creativity in Adult Education-Adult Education Association of Michigan, will speak. "The Inquiring Mind" will be the subject of her talk at the 11:30 a.m. event.

A graduate of Marygrove College, mother of seven, Mrs. Wolford is the first woman to head a department of the Archdiocese. She is currently director for the Institute for Continuing Education of the Detroit Archdiocese.

Gas-Packing Keeps Tea Fresh

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japanese have discovered a new method of packing green tea which keeps its flavor fresh for years. The tea is gas-packed.

The new method, developed by the Japanese Agriculture and Forestry Ministry, packs tea in a vacuum and seals it with nitrogen. The ministry said the tea is becoming increasingly popular at home and is catching on abroad, particularly in Hawaii with residents of Japanese descent.

Dad Sets Own Fashion -- A Noose

By BETTY CANARY

I hope you haven't been doing what I have. I have been so involved with unimportant things—like reading the directions on the sides of food boxes where it says, "Serves four," and wondering "four WHAT?" because it could not possibly mean four PEOPLE—that I hadn't realized I had let my husband's wardrobe get completely out of style.

He does not have a pocketbook—one of the new shoulder strap ones made of elephant hide or canvas and leather.

"Children," I announced, "You don't have to worry about thinking of something for Dad's present! What your father does not have is a pocketbook."

My suggestion went over like an empty candy box. Oh, I did get one nibble. Babs asked if I ever happen to get mixed up when the pocketbook got old, with all of you anyway?

Also, Stu wanted to know if I father needs a pocketbook for thought he should write to our sunglasses and other things that congressman or to the State he carries around with him. I Department to complain about said in answer, to nobody.

"Why doesn't he just use his briefcase?" Dad asked.

If he has his way, the fashionably dressed, whether they are men or women, aren't going to do to elephants what was vicious these children care done to alligators, seals and nothing about their father's status in the world of fashion.

My 10-year-old daughter, an avid reader of American Girl, I asked him, "Or, are you going observed that if father were go to act the way you did when I ing to carry a purse then he told you about necklaces the would have to get rid of his designers say you should wear crew cut. She may be right with that turtle-neck shirt?"

Skills Invent Replacement for Arteries

NEW YORK (WMNS) — What happens when two surgeons and a knitting machine manufacturer put their heads and skills together? They devise a new knitting machine which, using 50 tiny needles per inch, fashions the smallest man-made arteries yet devised — only six millimeters, or a quarter of an inch, in diameter.

Reporting on their collaboration at a recent medical meeting here, Dr. Sigmund A. Weslowski of the State University of New York Downstate Medical Center, and Mercy Hospital in Long Island, noted that he and a colleague from Seattle, as well as the manufacturer, had tested some 130 different kinds of fiber before hitting on the extremely fine Dacron that proved to have the necessary flexibility, elasticity, and durability.

LIFESAVING ADVANCE

Dr. Weslowski noted that arteries made by the new machine have already replaced natural arteries in the lower limbs of 42 patients whose blood vessels had been blocked by severe hardening of the arteries.

It is hoped, the researcher said, that heart attacks brought on by faulty circulation within the heart itself may someday be reduced through arterial replacement.

Pressure to Override Powers Veto Mounts

LANSING (UPI) — Pressure Eaton County, committee is mounting on the Michigan chairman, Legislature which returns for "If we are able to move in deliberations Tuesday to over-rapidly with sufficient legal ride Gov. George Romney's authority, local units can head veto of the bill giving local off- the spread of the officials emergency powers.

The powerful Michigan local elected executives the Sheriff's Association Friday power to impose 48-hour states given the campaign to bypass of emergency, which could in Romney's unilateral rejection clout curfew, bans on the sale of the bill that would have of liquor, gasoline, guns and allowed local elected officers to ammunition and other police declare states of emergency in powers.

The bill Romney killed gave Present law gives such power. Meanwhile, Sen. George only to the governor or acting Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield governor. But several com- Township, said he hoped to call munies, including Detroit, for a showdown vote in the have enacted ordinances, under Senate Tuesday when the questionable constitutional Legislature reconvenes. A two-thirds majority is needed in each house to override a gubernatorial veto. All previous attempts to override Romney's vetoes have failed.

The legislative committee of the Sheriff's Association urged each of the state's 83 sheriffs to contact their state senators and representatives to urge them to support Kuhn.

'FIGHTING A FIRE' "Our experience with riot control leads us to believe that it is not unlike fighting a fire," said Sheriff Elwin Smith of

"I believe that one of the most desirable features of this bill has been overlooked in the discussion relative to the veto."

Smith said. "That feature is that local units, reacting to a problem in the immediate area, can quell a disturbance with a minimum of inconvenience to the general public."

Goldberg Will Defend Foe of Viet Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg, who defended this country's Vietnam war policy in the United Nations, will soon defend in court an outspoken opponent of that policy, the Rev. William Sloan Coffin Jr. Coffin, chaplain of Yale University, announced Friday that Goldberg would handle the appeal of his draft conspiracy conviction.

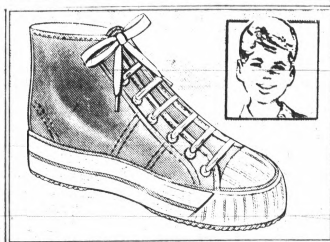

The defendant said at a news conference that he had asked Goldberg to defend him shortly after the former Supreme Court justice had left his post as U.S. representative to the United Nations.

Coffin was found guilty with Dr. Benjamin Spock and two other defendants July 10 in Boston on the draft conspiracy charge. They were sentenced to two years each in federal prison. Coffin and Spock were also fined $5,000 each.

Family Antiques Worked Into Mediterranean Decorating Theme Of Formal Living Room

Rosewood Desk And French Chair Both Heirlooms

Antiques Accent Home Decor

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"Family pieces add to a home's warmth," said Mrs. Henry Stanton of Commerce Township, so it was natural when she settled on a decorating theme that she insist on incorporating favorite heirlooms into the decor.

Completely at home in the Mediterranean-appointed living room is the drop-leaf, drawered desk before the picture window. Of rosewood, it is a Stanton heirloom.

"The chair in front of the desk," said Mrs. Stanton, "is over 150 years old."

My family brought it over from France when they came to the United States. It is covered in a persimmon-and-white striped fabric.

The glass-faced curio cabinet near the desk holds many more family pieces including Mr. Stanton's mother's first communion Bible covered in mother-of-pearl. The junior Mrs. Stanton carried the Bible with a single orchid as her bridal bouquet.

INTRICATE INLAY

The walnut chair near the organ is another Stanton heirloom. It features intricate inlay of sandalwood and mother-of-pearl.

Off-white walls, antique-gold carpeting and Czechoslovakian natural linen draperies trimmed in persimmon set the background for the Castilian-influenced room.

Persimmon velvet throw pillows repeat the same shade as that in the sofa's floral print.

A crystal wine urn and glasses dramatize the sofa's round cocktail table inset with an octagonal slate slab. The table's S-curved oak legs are mounted on a cane-detailed octagonal base.

PERSIMMON UPHOLSTERY

Persimmon upholstery finishes the tall cane-backed chair near the original engraving, "Lady Wallgrave and Child" by Elizabeth Gulland.

Further stressing the regal Mediterranean trend is the formal dining room carpeted in antique gold. Hand-screened wallpaper of antique-ivory-on-ivory dresses the wall above the dado.

Handblown amber glass cylinders add color to the Mexican wrought iron hanging fixture above the oak table.

"We bought the fixture first, then designed the rest of the room around it," said Mrs. Stanton. White candles are used in the silver candlesticks flanking the table's floral centerpiece.

Water in Basement?

By ANDY LANG
AP Newfeatures

QUESTION: About two weeks after we moved into our house, we found water on the floor of our basement two sides during a very heavy rain. It seemed to be coming in at the point where the floor and walls meet.

On those two sides of the house, water collects in large quantities alongside the foundation.

Most of it seems to come down from the roof overhangs, as there are no gutters and leaders.

The house is about 10 years old. Don't building regulations specify that gutters and leaders are necessary? Can we hold the previous owners responsible for the several hundred dollars we now will be forced to spend for these attachments?

ANSWER: Answering your last question first, you have no case, as you knew the house lacked gutters and leaders when you bought it and since you would find it impossible to prove fraud or deliberate intent to deceive.

The fact that the water collects only on two sides of the house seems to indicate that the soil on those two sides needs regrading; that is, reshaping the soil there so that it is higher next to the house. Sometimes this alone will correct the condition.

If it doesn't then the installation of gutters and leaders will prove a good investment, although the regrading, at periodic intervals if necessary, should not be neglected.

Be sure the installers place the leaders or downspouts in the proper position so that the water coming out of them flows away from the house and not towards it.

As for the necessity of gutters and leaders, the codes in different areas vary. In some places, they are not required at all.

In most places, the regulations specify that the gutters and leaders can be omitted if certain other rules are followed, as for example, that the overhangs must be a specific number of inches over the side walls.

When these drainage items are not used, it is important that the water flowing off the overhangs is quickly carried away by the slope of the soil. If it isn't, the problem you have can occur.

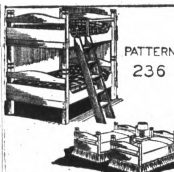

Total Picture of Comfort

Just plain "comfort" is becoming passe, reports the National Better Heating-Cooling Council — the education-information center for the hydronic (hot water) heating industry. Today's "in" homeowners are seeking "year 'round comfort," "total comfort" and "true total comfort." And they have good reason.

Comfort — or the absence of discomfort — is now technically feasible 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. With greater prosperity and recent technological advances, such a desire is within the grasp of most homeowners.

Central air conditioning, for instance, goes into one of every four houses being built today. "Year 'round comfort," has also become a reality for millions of other families who settle on individual room units for summer cooling.

Other homeowners desire humidity control and air filtration for their homes, and still others want more. They want the optimum in both year 'round comfort as well as humidity control and air filtration — and they are turning to "true total comfort." This is humidity control, air filtration, separate overhead air conditioning and hydronic baseboard heating.

PATTERN 236

Box 50, New Windsor, N.Y. 12550.

Design Patio to Fit Needs

That outdoor patio you're planning to build should be designed to meet your family's needs.

Obviously the patio should be "house-related" and enhance the total design interest of home and property, but the most architecturally sound patio won't be of much value to your family if unused.

Do you plan to use the patio for sunning? Then it should be located to get the maximum amount of sun, and no roofing of any sort is desirable. If you expect to use it for quiet relaxation, studying or sewing there should be an isolation from busy areas of the house.

Furniture, accessories and materials should be carefully chosen with regard for function as well as design. Ceramic tile, for example, used on a kitchen floor or countertop can be extended outside to a patio to help create design continuity and yet is a hardy, low maintenance material that can support any patio activity.

If there are young children in the family and you plan to make the patio a play area, there should be room for swings, a slide and sandbox, with easy sight lines for supervision from your work areas in the house.

If you will be using the patio for extensive entertaining, there should probably be a barbecue, some simple means of setting up a bar, and easy access to the kitchen. Proper lighting and insect control will be needed for use at night and infrared or radiant heaters for use in chilly weather.

Oak Floors Economical

Many prospective home buyers mistakenly think of oak floors as expensive. This is probably due to the reputation such floors enjoy as a mark of quality construction in a house. Actually, they are among the most economical of residential flooring materials.

A room can be floored with a top grade of the popular strip style of oak flooring, for example, at less cost than for some substitute materials, including those which seek to imitate oak's appearance.

Salads Are a Delight Screens Help Bug Battle

Growing your own salads is fingertip fun . . . the exciting way to brighten summertime meals. Many homes have limited garden space, but even the smallest yard contains dozens of beauty spots ideally suited for growing fresh, crisp salad greens and vegetables.

Salad vegetables are the easiest to grow at home, says Bruce Johnstone, Northrup King horticulturist. Health benefits will be your reward. Salads are rich in minerals and vitamins, but vegetables lose these precious nutrients — as well as freshness and flavor — when shipped or stored. Your own fresh-picked garden salads will beat the peak of goodness.

Here are a few unusual ways to grow salads — you'll think of many more.

Tomatoes love a garage . . . or an alley . . . or driveway. A small space, a trellis or stakes and tomato seeds are all you need. Stake or trellis plants for easy picking, cleaner fruit. Just a few plants will supply an average family.

Radishes outside your kitchen door. They'll thrive in almost any soil; for best results plant in a sunny spot. Mild or snappy, radishes mature in three weeks and most crops can be planted — and enjoyed — all summer.

LITTLE SPACE

Beds and borders of peppers. Decorative, delicious peppers require little space. Six plants will supply the pepper-eatingest family. Early, long bearing sweet peppers are perfect for slicing, salads, stuffing.

Why stoop for cukes? Grow them on a fence or trellis, pick them off the vine. Vigorous hybrid varieties are early yielders, with dark green skin and firm, white flesh.

Lettuce borders for flower beds. Stunning to look at, tender and sweet to eat. Lettuce are popular salad greens; red leaf lettuce gives an exciting look.

Other decorative and glamorous salad makers flourish along walks, hedges, edgings . . . among flowers too. Chard adds deep color, intriguing flavor, cut plants bear continuously. Mild chives, a hardy perennial with onion-like flavor, can be brought indoors to perk up winter meals.

Fringed and frilly endive is an excellent garnish. Cut plants will bear continuously all summer. Green onions . . . perfect for flavoring salads, vegetables, soups, sauces and stews.

Vitamin rich spinach, a popular salad green adds a delicious sparkling touch. Its glossy leaves add contrast to your flower plantings.

But whether you plant flowers, salads or both, plan before you plant. Then shop one of the many local Northrup King seed racks — the racks that contain only varieties that grow well in your area.

Tile Is Top Cover for Vanity Island

Create more storage and countertop space in a bathroom by moving the vanity away from the wall and turning it into an island.

For adornment, protection and ease of maintenance, face the "vanity island" with ceramic tile in a color or color combination that complements or contrasts with the tile on the walls and floor of the bath.

With the arrival of warm weather, many homeowners are finding out that flying insects are ignoring their screens and staging squadron maneuvers in their living rooms.

If you're one of these homeowners, you might want to consider replacing your screens with aluminum screening. It's an easier job than you might think.

An inspection will usually reveal the easiest and best method. Aluminum screening is available at most hardware stores and the building materials dealers. If you have a problem with screening, your dealer will be glad to assist you.

Aluminum wire screening comes in several widths. Once the screening is trimmed to the proper size, place it in the opening and secure it with nails, tacks or staples.

ACCENT AIRINESS

Why choose aluminum wire screening? One of its advantages is that the metal does not build up static charges and attract airborne dust. This means that more light and air enter the home.

Another significant advantage is that aluminum is easy to care for. An occasional washing with a garden hose is all that's needed. Aluminum will not bow but remains taut in its frame. Painting is not required. Remember — one damaged screen is all that it takes to let annoying insects in your home. Be sure that all windows that open are screened, basement windows included.

Moisture Woes

A bathroom ceiling can be permanently protected from peeling, blistering or the other effects of moisture if it is surfaced with ceramic tile.

WHAT IS KLINGELHUT FACE BRICK SIDING?

It is the Multi-Purpose Brick Siding that does so many jobs — BETTER

Klingelhut brick is genuine, individually made, kiln-fired brick of standard dimension except that it is 1 1/2 inch thick. It is produced to its inch insulating property by an exclusive process developed by Klingelhut. This produces an insulating combination equal to 4 inches of blown-in insulation — or 4 feet of solid brick.

• Gives year-round insulation
• Reduces fuel costs • Beautifies your home, increases its value • Resists fire • Ends repair and maintenance bills — no painting • Economical to install

SWITCH—Rosewood, once associated with somber offices, has gone modern! Marlite has introduced rosewood in easy-to-handle planks that can be put up over old walls or framing. In this recreation room the distinctive planks provide a handsome background for modern, informal furnishings. Practical as well as decorative, these plastic-finished hardwood planks can be cleaned with a damp cloth. Smudges, crayon marks, fruit juices and other causes of deterioration will not harm the permanent finish. Simple metal clips and wallboard adhesive are used to secure the planks. Tongue-and-groove edges simplify fitting.

Housing Dilemma Solution Is Sought

Government and civic leaders in Indianapolis, Ind., reacted positively toward mobile homes as a solution to its housing dilemma, reports James Redman (Redman Industries), president of the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association.

The Indiana Mobile Homes Association, the Mobile Housing Association of America, Inc., and MHMA recently jointly sponsored a luncheon and demonstration to present the mobile home industry's case for low-income housing.

Indianapolis currently needs 25,000 housing units and local builders are unable to build under $15,000.

"Reaction to our product by Indianapolis' leaders was very positive," said Redman, "and the local building inspectors were quite impressed with our construction."

OTHER GROUPS

Other groups such as the Urban League, Chamber of Commerce, etc. were amazed at the economy, size and furnishings in our homes. Our industry must continue to educate our leaders and provide other demonstration projects in other locales.

Indianapolis mayor Richard G. Lugar said, "We welcome this demonstration by the nation's mobile home producers to show how they can solve our city's housing problem. Indianapolis is interested in exploring all low-income housing concepts."

Approximately 100 local government and civic leaders attended the luncheon and toured three double-wide mobile homes (priced at $10,500, $11,500 and $13,500) located two blocks from the restaurant.

Questions were handled at the demonstration project by manufacturers, dealers, IMHA, WHAA and MHMA.

Tool Place 'Outer Space'

Crowded for inside storage space? Maybe you should launch an "outer space" program. One way to do it is by constructing a simple backyard shed for tools, paints, house repair and lawn equipment.

Two-by-fours make a solid shed frame that can be easily closed over with unfinished mineral fiber sheets.

Board Wall Adds to Resale Value

A paneled wall or two in the living room adds far more to the resale value of a home than the cost, really salesmen point out.

Solid wood paneling, finished to show natural grain and color, catches the eye instantly, and is sure to draw comments about its warmth and beauty.

Champagne-hued western hemlock or ponderosa pine, available in widths from four to 12 inches, are handsome choices.

Care-Free Bath

Free-hanging vanity counter and lavatory affixed to the wall of a bathroom make it easier to clean the floor. The extensive use of such surfacings as ceramic tile will make the bath completely care-free.

PLEASANT EXTERIOR: There isn't much doubt that this two-story-Colonial gives the appearance of being a comfortable place in which to live. Note how garage seems to be part of the basic house, with its materials and design features identical to the rest of the structure.

Elegance in 2-Story Colonial

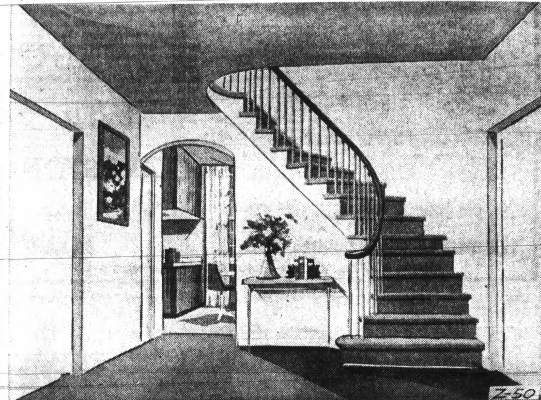

"What a charming house" is rear yard, a brick fireplace enlarged by the provision of a likely to be the first-impression with raised hearth in the bay window and can accommodate the family com-gracious, four-bedroom, two-story colonial. The dining room is accessible formally from both the kitchen and the FAMILY ROOM. The rugged family room has sliding doors to the patio and barbecue, a large fireplace and log storage area, a convenient lavatory a step away, a durable stone floor and wood paneled walls, giving an appealing indoor-outdoor character to the whole setup.

A two-step change in floor level, making the family room sunken, in effect, sets this heavily-laden room apart from the rest of the home. At the head of the oval staircase, the upstairs hall is the nucleus of the bedroom complex.

The sewing alcove is a control point—The master bedroom suite features almost 20 lined feet of closet space, a dressing area with a vanity table, good natural light and ventilation and a separate bathroom.

While the frontage of the basic house is only 45'2", it has been made longer by the two-car garage, which gives the appearance of being part of the living area by the continuation of its roof across the portico. Placement of the garage in this fashion also has provided space for a patio in the rear.

OVAL STAIRCASE: This type of staircase lends an interesting touch-to-foyer-and leads used so often in the higher-quality Colonials, to the second floor and its four bedrooms.

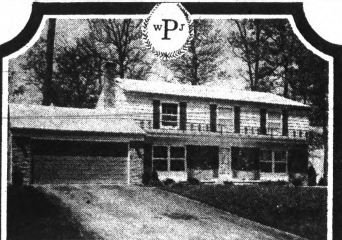

FLOOR PLANS: Informal living gets a big play in this floor arrangement, with a spacious family room, two steps down from the foyer and featuring a fireplace and stone floor and with sliding doors leading to a rear patio, tucked in behind the garage.

Spindles Serve to Cover Glass

If your front door is flanked by full-height glass panels that allow too much view into the house, cover the glass with a grille made of stock spindles or balusters. The spindles are available at any retail lumber yard. Mount the spindles vertically in a frame of 1x4-inch pine boards using as many tiers as needed to cover the height of the glass.

The grilles are effective used either indoors or outside. If used outside, paint them to match the house siding or trim. Indoors, coordinate them with the entrance hall decor.

Americans' Biggest Buy--- Their Homes

It's often said that the biggest investment the average American ever makes is the purchase of a home. When should you make it?

Most advisers would probably give a quick and simple answer: When you want to buy a house and can afford it. Careful thought, though, should go into determining what it is that you "want" in a home, and how much you can afford to pay, either buying or building.

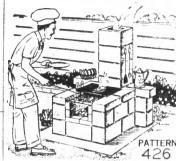

Getting what you want in a home is as important as being able to afford it. Many houses that you can afford would be a poor investment in living, or financial, terms. While resale potential should not be an overriding factor in buying or building a house, it is what makes the purchase an investment.

Interior materials and shoddy workmanship will not only be a blight on your life in the house but will undermine your investment. Good design, fine plumbing and heating equipment—broad use of quality materials—ceramic tile bathrooms, for example—will insure it, and add to your enjoyment of the home.

A family can afford to pay two and a half times its annual income for a house. This guideline, however, does not take into consideration your particular circumstances. They can only be determined by a detailed examination of your family's assets, living expenses, present and likely future income.

How much of a down payment can you make? What kind of financing is available to you? A conventional loan made by a lending institution at its own risk? An FHA or GI loan insured by the Government? Rates and other provisions of each vary your costs. Before signing a mortgage, make sure you thoroughly understand, and will be able to meet, the obligations you're assuming.

While these preliminaries to buying a home may sometimes seem onerous, isn't the biggest investment of a lifetime worth any time and effort required to make it the best?

CONCRETE BLOCKS of standard sizes are used for this easy-to-build barbecue which is lined with fire brick. The whole family will want to join the fun of building it. Pattern 426, which shows every construction step and lists materials required, is 35 cents. This pattern also is one of four full-size patterns in the Homestead Improvement Packet No. 30 — all for $1.

The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 59, New Windsor, N.Y. 12550.

Won't Burn

Try to burn or melt aluminum screening with a match or cigarette. You can't. It's not flammable.

Low-Care Homes Stress Easy Living

Low-maintenance building materials are making it possible for homeowners to live on Easy Street.

Surveys show a growing demand among prospective homebuyers — and present homeowners who are remodeling — for low-keep products and labor-saving appliances.

Builders and manufacturers are meeting these requirements with materials that minimize or eliminate time-consuming upkeep and costly repairs while adding to the comfort and convenience of daily living.

Here are some of the areas in which low-maintenance features are popular:

• Heating — The convenience of electric heat is making it a preferential system for new homes and conversions.

It's cleaner than other fuels because of the absence of fumes and soot; eliminates furnaces, ducts and storage tanks which have to periodically be cleaned and maintained; permits individual heat control with thermostats in every room; and makes furniture arrangement easier because heat is supplied through baseboard units or ceiling cables rather than bulky radiators.

• Windows — The combination of beauty and easy care in modern wood windows makes them attractive to homeowners. For example, ponderosa pine units — available in stock sizes at local lumber dealers — are factory-weatherstripped, chemically-treated for protection against weather abuse, and obtainable with insulating glass in all styles (which eliminates the need for hanging and maintaining storm sash).

Window washing chores have also been eased with pivot and lift-out sash, allowing the windows to be washed inside the house.

Removable grilles snap out to eliminate the washing of many small panes. Combination Storm Doors — Screens and storm panels are easily inserted or changed. Stock wood doors are preservative treated for complete weather protection. Prepriming reduces painting and maintenance. Tight

Pick Accents With Care

The dictionary defines a "bi-blot" as a trinket. Actually, it is more than that it is an accessory for the home. Any item — an ashtray, pillow, painting — used to enhance, dramatize or dress up a room is such an accessory. And it requires as much care and taste in its selection and placement as any accessory chosen for your wardrobe.

Accessorizing is a major passion with some women. But even if this is of peripheral interest, you should know the rules:

Remember that one good item is worth half a dozen doodads. Be careful about mixing periods — a rococo piece of porcelain will probably be ridiculous in a room with modern furniture.

Keep your overall color scheme in mind when introducing accessories to a room. Accessories after all are "accents." They should not stand out like a sore thumb.

Take care the way you arrange accessories. Try every conceivable placement before making a final decision. The right place will be obvious. If you have a collection you wish to display, use a series of shelves or an illuminated cabinet rather than sprinkling the items about the room.

Such a display will probably be the major pattern in the room, and this means that other large items should be solid colors, especially the floor. Neutral colors are especially popular, but brighter colors also make fine backgrounds for accessory-filled rooms.

Ceramic Tile
Easy to Clean

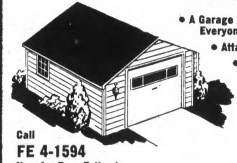

Greasy cooking fumes stick to walls and ceiling and settle on the floor, making kitchen clean-up that much more of a chore. However, grease won't stick to ceramic tile-covered kitchen walls and ceilings, and when it settles on a tile floor it can be wiped off easily and effortlessly.

America Favors Eclectic Roofs

Roofs have always held a unique place in architecture. Originally, the shape of the roof was dictated by the climate and the materials used.

Steep-pitched roofs were common in countries with heavy snowfalls, like Norway, so excess water could run off easily from their thatch or their wood shingles. Builders in Mediterranean climates adopted low-pitched roofs because they used heavy tile which would slide off steeply-inclined planes.

Later, however, as architecture advanced, roofs served other than practical purposes. During the Gothic period in England and France, high spires were constructed atop the roofs of churches to lead men's eyes upward in spiritual aspiration.

The Bauhaus School, in our own century, whose motto might well have been "simplify, simplify" — influenced architects all over the world to choose starkly simple flat roofs. Many of our modern skyscrapers still carry out this flat roof theme.

WIDE CHOICE

Essentially, though, America is the home of eclectic roofing — from the gambrel roofs of the Pennsylvania Dutch to the low-tiled tops of California-fire safety, long life, low maintenance homes. Today's homeowner has his choice of mansard, hip, peak, butterfly, mission, flat pitch and many other styles. However, the most popular is still the simple pitched or gable roof.

If you're choosing a roof style, remember that it will play a dominant role in the design and shape of the house. It determines the architectural style of your home and gives it a look that makes it truly acceptable and salable.

Before you make any choice in regard to roofing material, be sure that the product meets the four requirements of quality: long life, low maintenance and style.

The roofing should be manufactured by a reputable firm and meet such standards as having an Underwriters' Laboratories label. This "UL" label means that the product has been tested and rated for fire resistance.

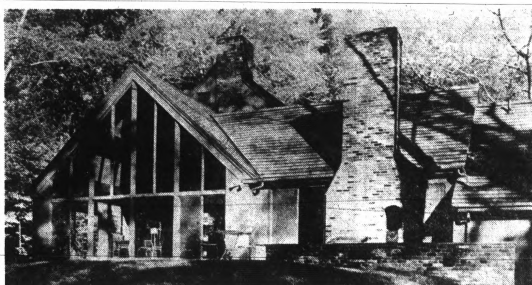

PROPER MATERIAL

Choose a material that suits the style of your roof. Mansard, gambrel, peak or hip roofs lend themselves beautifully to some of the handsome new mineral base shingles such as Colorbestos Slates and Bel-Air.

The former has the cut and surface texture of natural slate and comes in a variety of pleasing colors, which may be mixed or not as the homeowner sees fit.

Bel-Air, which also has a mineral base, features a handsome wood grain and looks like weathered cedar. Made by Johns-Manville, both shingles have a Class "A" fire rating from Underwriters' Laboratories, the highest rating granted.

Where visual effect is less important, a lighter shingle may be satisfactory.

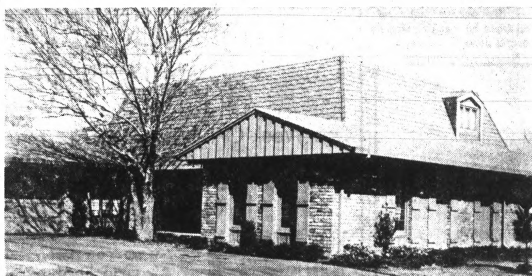

CONTEMPORARY VEIN—This contemporary house, with its peaked roofs, wears fire-resistant shingles which look like weathered cedar but actually are manufactured of a combination of minerals. They are designed to give long years of service with virtually no maintenance.

GRACIOUS LIVING—Much of this home's great charm can be attributed to the lines of its gambrel roof. This roof style has always been popular, but it is finding particular favor today. Here it has been translated with asbestos-cement shingles that look like natural slate.

COMPLEMENTARY BLEND—This home features two well-known roof styles. The central portion has a mansard roof and the wings of the house are peaked. The modern touch is the shingles. They are man-made but look like slate, a material hard to find in most parts of the country.

Dedication Is Near for Church of Christ

The new Franklin Road Thompson home on Crawford Street in 1957, the congregation received its first full-time minister — the Rev. Roosevelt Wells. During the 7½ years he was with the church, membership grew to 200.

Speaking at the dedicatory service will be Alex Davenport, minister of the Franklin Road congregation, and Earl J. Crocker, a former associate minister now working with the mission in Monroe.

The new air-conditioned building at Franklin Road and Miracle Mile is of masonry construction and seats 500. It has 12 classrooms, an office, mother's room, lounge and Fellowship Hall.

Construction began in the fall of 1966 and was completed in December 1967. The congregation has been meeting in the new facility since that time.

FIRST SERVICES

The Franklin Road Church of Christ (formerly the Hughes Street Church) had its beginning in 1943. The first services were held in the John

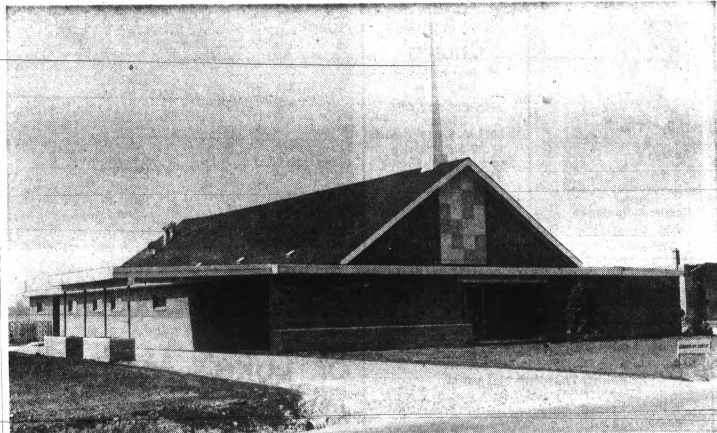

As the congregation grew, larger facilities were needed, and the church purchased a five-room house on Ester Street in 1945. Further growth led to the purchase of the Hughes Street property and construction of a building there.

Area Lutherans Attend Confab

Missionary League Meets in Ann Arbor

Three area women were delegates to the Michigan District Convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League this week in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Raymond Neff of 701 Third and Mrs. Ardell Schmidgell of 4781 Riverview, Waterford Township, represented St. Paul Lutheran Church.

The Women's Missionary League at the Cross of Christ Lutheran Church of Bloomfield Township was represented by Mrs. Karl Walter of 990 Argyle, Birmingham.

Approximately 600 women from the state attended the convention. The league is an international auxiliary of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

Delegates to the convention elected Mrs. Albert Ruhlig of Ann Arbor as president.

Projects totaling $37,000 were adopted as the goal for Mite Box offerings for the next two years.

SPECIAL PROJECTS

Members have provided $30,000 in the past two years for mission churches in Michigan, inner city mission work, a chapel for the deaf in Flint, financial aid for girls studying for church work, and funds for overseas libraries.

Other area women attending the convention were Mrs. Earl Steinhart of 993 Kettering, St. Paul Lutheran Church; Mrs. J. Wesley Smith of 1999 Alpha, West Bloomfield Township; and Mrs. William Grate of 7979 Commerce, Commerce Township, second vice president of the Michigan District.

Mission Work Attracts 2 This Summer

Two Pontiac area youths will be performing foreign missionary service this summer through a program sponsored by the Highland Park Baptist Church of Southfield.

They are Tim Root, 20, of 2630 Birch Harbor Lane, West Bloomfield Township, and Brian Brooks, 17, of 6100 Westmoor, Bloomfield Township.

Tim left late last month for a two-month tour with the "Send the Light" Mission in France. Two years ago he served in Jamaica under the Highland Park program.

While attending the University of Michigan, Tim has been active with the Campus Crusade. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Root and a graduate of Bloomfield Hills High School.

Brian will spend the latter part of August with the Foreign Culture Orientation Center in the mountains near Monterey, Mexico. This will be his first opportunity for foreign service.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Brian is a junior at Groves High School.

School Honors 2 City Clerics

Rev. M. M. Scott, pastor of the East Side Church of God, and Rev. Luther Lewis, pastor of St. James Missionary Church, recently received honorary degrees from the Baltimore College of Bible.

Rev. Scott is president of the Oakland County Ministerial Association and Fellowship and a vice president of the Oakland County Chapter of the NAACP.

Both ministers recently led area efforts to participate in the Poor People's March in Washington, D. C.

Providence Missionary Baptist

A week of revival services gets under way tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Providence Missionary Baptist Church, 311 Bagley.

Rev. J. E. Moss, pastor of the Springhill Baptist Church of Detroit, will speak each evening through Friday. All meetings start at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Moss also will be the Walton Boulevard July 28 from 5:30 to 6 p.m. The picnic is being sponsored by the Mom and Dad's Club, with Frank Olesky and George Walther as cochairmen.

St. Michael's Rectory

St. Michael's Rectory is holding its parish picnic at the broadcast over WPON radio by Catholic Ukrainian Camp on tomorrow at 8 p.m.

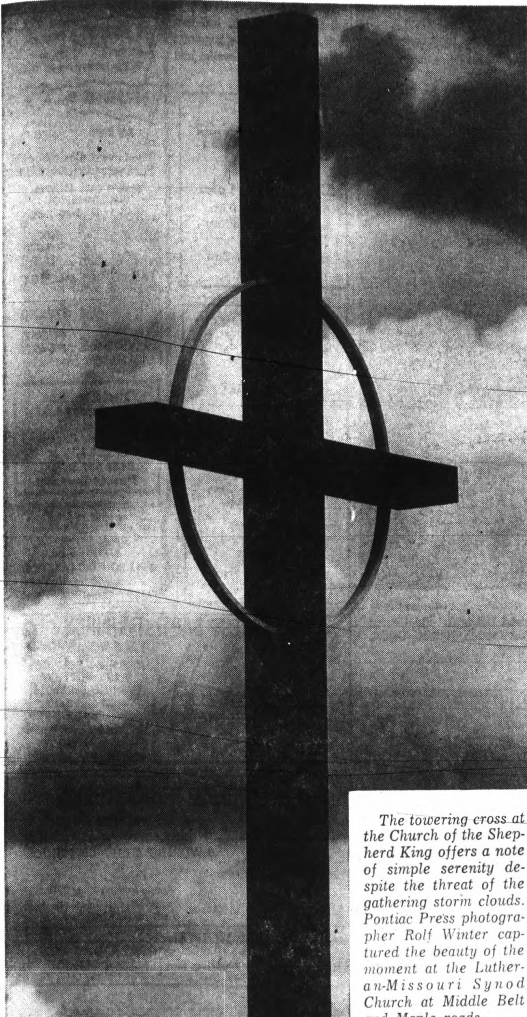

St. James Missionary Baptist

The noon worship service at Union No. 6 will present a pro-gram at the church at 7:30 p.m. Special guests will be the Pilgrim Wonders of Toledo.

All singing groups of the church will be participating. Their final rehearsal is tonight from 5:30 to 8:30.

The Rev. Dr. V. Luther Lewis asks all members to be present for the morning service as congregation pictures will be taken immediately after.

The Pontiac Local Quartet will present a pro-gram at the church at 7:30 p.m. Special guests will be the Pilgrim Wonders of Toledo.

The towering cross at the Church of the Shepherd King offers a note of simple serenity despite the threat of the gathering storm clouds. Pontiac Press photographer Rolf Winter captured the beauty of the moment at the Lutheran-Missouri Synod Church at Middle Belt and Maple roads.

Congregation Notes 94th Anniversary

The Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian will celebrate its 94th anniversary tomorrow with the pastor, Rev. Edward D. Auchard, at the pulpit.

The Orchard Lake Chapel, now a part of the sanctuary of the church, was dedicated July 18, 1874. It continued as a place of summer worship until 1939.

A union Sunday School organized in Westacres began to meet in the chapel in 1939 and took the name of Orchard Lake Community Church.

In 1943, the community church became a Presbyterian congregation. The Rev. Henry D. Jones, now missionary associate on the church staff, was instrumental in the reorganization.

Warren Pastor to Speak at Area Church

The Rev. J. Kenneth Brand, pastor of St. Luke United Presbyterian Church in Warren, will be the guest speaker at Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

The Rev. Mr. Brand is a graduate of Cooley High School in Detroit, Wheaton College and Western Seminary of Pittsburgh.

He served pastorates in Canal Fulton, Ohio, and Flint before coming to Warren to organize the St. Luke congregation.

More than a dozen families are expected to participate in the congregation's first Mariners Weekend Family Campout next weekend at McFeeleys Resort in Ortonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conway are organizing the outing. Elder Reid Graham will lead the worship service Sunday, and Elder Ronald Salow is in charge of recreation.

NEW MEETING PLACE—The Rev. Eugene L. Roberts, pastor of the First United Pentecostal Church, stands proudly in front of the building purchased recently by his congregation. The church at 67 N. Lynn was formerly the home of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. First United Pentecostal's old building at 178 Green was sold to the Triumph Church. Rev. Roberts and his congregation are planning to rededicate and possibly build an addition to the new church.

BOUND FOR EUROPE — Leslie Allison (left) helps Rebecca Troy (center) and Janice Konklin put their luggage in the car for the first leg of their trip to Europe. The trio is participating in a Methodist Youth Travel Seminar and will tour eight countries.

5 Area Youths to Tour Europe

Five area young people leave this evening for a four-week tour of Europe sponsored by the Detroit Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship.

They will be accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Robert Scerist of St. James United Methodist Church who will serve as tour leaders, and Mrs. Virgil Allison of 149 Oliver.

The travel seminar will take 36 participants from the Detroit metropolitan area to the Netherlands, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany and England.

Those from the Pontiac area taking the tour are Leslie Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Allison; Janice Konklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Konklin of 723 E. Beverly; Rebecca Troy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Troy of 728 E. Mansfield; Sandra Lovell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Lovell of 56 Williams; and Gwen ApMadoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. ApMadoe of 6511 Cranberry Lake Road, Independence Township.

HEY, I'M ON YOUR SIDE — The "Four-F's," front four defensive unit of the Pontiac Firebirds give quarterback Bob Pomeroy the big rush in what was supposed to be some dummy drills at practice yesterday. The Four-F's meaning—Firebirds' Fearless Front Four—is made up of 6-9 Jerry Thick (71), at 301 pounds; Ed Gillespie, a 275-pound defensive end; Ronnie

Clark (75), 300-pound tackle, and 260-pound Dan LaRose (70). Gillespie was at the position in place of regular defensive end Willie Washington 6-8 and 270 pounds. The swing defensive tackle is diminutive Bob Minton at 5-7 and 235. The Firebirds meet the Flint Wildcats tonight at 7:30 in an exhibition game at Wisner Stadium.

Palmer Also Charges in PGA

Sanders Out of Golf Limbo

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Remember Doug Sanders, that gallant golfer with the flashy clothes and the short swing? The colorful Georgian spent the past year in golf's land of limbo, but he's back now, as brash and brightly clad as ever.

"I've been saving up for the big ones, and maybe this is it," Sanders said before he started after the lead in the third round of the PGA championship today, only a stroke back of the leaders, Frank Beard and Marty Fleckman.

However, Sanders' old nemesis in the major titles — famed Arnold Palmer — was also in contention.

Charges by Palmer and Sanders sent a surge of excitement across the Pecan Valley course Friday and took the edge off the departure of the game's longest hitters, Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf.

Shook up by Salado Creek which snakes through the course and forces the bellers to shorten their shots, Nicklaus soared to a 79 for 150 and Weiskopf slipped to an 82 for 159.

They missed the cut at 149 that trimmed the field to 74 today when Fleckman and Beard tried to keep their edge.

Beard shot a 70 and Fleckman a 72 in the second round for 136 totals. Sanders surged up with a 67, best round of the day, to claim third at 139. Palmer, uncorking a 69, was tied for fourth at 140 along with sentimental favorite Lee Trevino, tall George Archer, Miller Barber and veteran Johnny Pott.

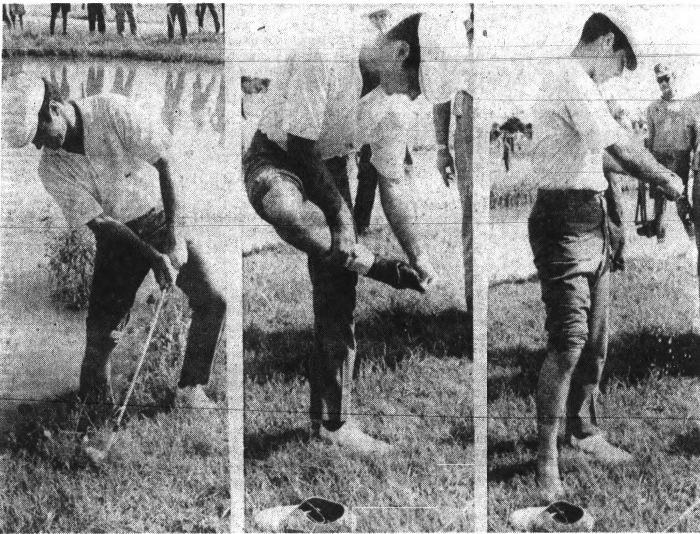

Sanders, clad in baby blue from his club covers to his toes, was elated about his game, which has been spasmodic during a 16-month victory drought.

"Man, I needed a good round," said Sanders, who has won a half-million dollars on the tour, but is still looking for his first triumph in a major tournament.

"I want to win a big one — that's my goal," Sanders said. "If I can keep it going, this could be it."

Sanders, no match off the tees for his hard-hitting rivals, didn't mind the creek which cuts across seven fairways. He played short, hit dead iron shots and sank birdie putts of 12, 14, two, eight and six feet.

Firebirds Face Flint Tonight

When the 1967 season ended, the Pontiac Firebirds in the last nine games which they won, were the best defensive team in the Midwest Football League.

The 1968 edition of the Firebirds is bigger on the defensive line and has more experience from line to safety, but just how good they are will be tested tonight by the Flint Wildcats, always a team loaded with speed.

The game tonight will start at 7:30 and part of the proceeds will go to the city class A recreation league to help send the city champion to the state championship in Battle Creek in August.

Flint, which has all of its owners Paul Krause, NFL defensive back who was recently traded from Washington to Minnesota, is now coached by former all-MFL defensive end Len Christian.

At quarterback, the Wildcats have

Tiny Lassiter, former all-stater from Flint Central, along with Ira Edward and Mark Segal, all three-year veterans.

Flint has been one of the most troublesome teams for Pontiac since the two cities entered the MFL three years ago.

The Firebirds will have bulldozing Bill Apisa at fullback, Marty Malatin a rugged runner from Kent State at halfback and either Bill Harrington or Bob Pomeroy at quarterback.

Newcomer to the Firebird backfield is Tom Elfert, a 175 pounder from Ferris State who was the running star of the team's full dress scrimmage last Sunday.

The "Four-F's" plus Two, comprising the front four defensive unit include 6-9 Jerry Thick at 301 pounds, 6-5 Ronnie Clark at 300 pounds at the tackles, 6-8 Willie Washington at 270 pounds and 6-5

Dan LaRose at 260 pounds at the defensive ends.

The "plus two" swing men are Ed Gillespie, a 6-4 and 275 pounder at end and the "midget" of groups 5-7 and 235 pound Bob Minton at tackle.

Two of the starting defensive backfield Chuck Stein and Chris Payne are out of action with injuries, but the Firebirds still have a veteran battery of secondary men in Mike Pryor, John Lane, Del Chambers, Bob Lulek and Jesse Parrish from the Mt. Clemens team which has disbanded in favor of Fort Wayne, Ind. franchise.

Next Saturday night, the Firebirds play the annual Crichton Hospital benefit game at Rochester High School, the game being sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club.

Bengals Feeling Little Pain

Matchick's HR in 9th Inning Clips Orioles

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton's injury wasn't as bad as it looked, and Tom Matchick's second home run of the season didn't cause much pain either.

"I didn't even know where it went," said the jubilant Detroit shortstop after smashing a two-run shot that capped a three-run Tigers' ninth inning and gave Detroit a comeback 5-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

The victory left Detroit with a 7½ game margin over the rest of the American League. Denny McLain was seeking his 19th victory in the second game of the four-game series today.

LARGEST SINCE '61

The crowd of 53,208 — largest since 57,271 showed up at Tiger Stadium June 27, 1961, for a Chicago game — turned purple with glee.

"Matchick played for me in Elmira, N.Y.," said Earl Weaver, the new Baltimore manager. "This is the second time he's beaten us this year."

Matchick beat Baltimore 2-1 earlier this year with a two-run double in the ninth inning.

"I just wanted to hit the ball," said Matchick, whose batting average was .225 going into the game. "It was the biggest hit of my career."

The comeback victory was marred somewhat by an injury to slugger outfielder Willie Horton, who strained some abdominal muscles on his left side trying to make a shoestring catch on Brooks Robinson's double in the sixth inning. Manager Mayo Smith said the injury did not appear serious. He said Horton may be back in action before the series ends Sunday.

Dave Johnson followed with a single. Paul Blair drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and Don Dufour's single brought home another tally to give Baltimore a 4-0 lead.

Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer off starter Wally Bunker made it 4-2 in the last of the sixth. It was the only hit off Bunker who left the game after the pitch.

Baltimore had scored two runs in the third off starter Mickey Lolich on Frank Robinson's two-run homer.

Lee Fast With Quip

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Peppy Lee Trevino, the bubbly U.S. Open golf champion, is fast becoming the quickest quip on the PGA tour.

Trevino told a marshal in Friday's second round, "If I can only get one more birdie, there will be 9,000 Mexicans out here tomorrow."

Annual Baseball Amateur Day at Jaycee Sunday

The emphasis is on youth and raising funds for the city junior baseball program in the annual Amateur Day program at Jaycee Park tomorrow.

A heavy schedule of 14 exhibition contests plus the final of the Perosona Grand Slam contest comprise the busy card starting at 1:00 p.m.

The 8 p.m. clash between the city men's league pacesetter and the 28-man All-Star squad concludes the popular doings.

LAST NIGHT

Last night's Class A result saw Talbott Lumber rolling past Uncle Charlie's Pet Shop, 7-2.

Fraser Vipond led Talbott with a double in a two-run first and another two-bagger in the seventh when the winner came up with four runs. He also added a single. Lincho Chavez stroked a double and single in the Talbott attack.

3 Red Run Teams Advance to FLCC

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The odds are three to one that a Red Run duo will emerge as the 1968 champion of the Forest Lake Invitational.

After yesterday's second round, three Red Run teams and one "home" team moved into this morning's semi-finals.

There were a couple of surprises in yesterday's championship flight as Tony Skover and George Lakatos, who defeated qualifying medalists Chuck Byrne and Knobby Walsh Thursday, were ousted by Bill Adams and Don Dawson yesterday 1-up.

EX-CHAMPS NOW

Defending champions Bob Gullett and Mike Jackson appeared to have the match all sewed up but they three putted from 15 feet on the 18th green to even the match and then lost it 1-up on the 20th hole.

Bud Badger and Chuck Nolton, the third Red Run pair going into today's double round, took the measure of Jim Smith and Mike Armstrong of Burning Tree, 3-2.

Upholding the honor of the home course as Chuck Handren and Bob Lovell who took a 2-1 match from Ken Skover and Jim St. Germaine of Meadowbrook.

The Gullett-Jackson match had a wild finish. After 12 holes, the match was 2-up for the defending champions.

Hamilton and Anderson birdied No. 13 and it stayed 1-up until No. 17. Both teams were on the green in regulation and both teams three putted to half the hole.

THREE PUTT

On the 18th, Hamilton and Anderson were given the three foot putt, and

Gullett and Jackson needed only to two putt from 15 feet to win the match. But they three putted, took a bogey and then Howard and Hamilton birdied the 20th hole to win the match.

Lovell and Handren never were behind in their match although they lost their 1-up advantage several times. They had four birdies, the final one on the 18th when Lovell drove. Handren put his 3-iron 40 feet from the pin and then two putted for the win.

Badger and Nolton were one down after five holes but then scored four birdies on the next six holes, the final one being a 10 footer by Nolton on No. 12.

In the past five years of the Forest Lake Invitational no defending team has ever repeated as champion and it is certain that a new champ will be crowned after today's 36 hole finale.

AUTO AUCTION!

at FLANNERY FORD

Flannery Ford has purchased the entire inventory of new and used cars and trucks belonging to BEATTIE MOTOR SALES 5860 Dixie Highway, Waterford. This inventory must be reduced immediately! Starting Monday at 10 a.m., we will put up for auction:

90 New Fords 60 Used Cars and Trucks 14 New Trucks

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS—

Our inventory of new and used cars and trucks is tagged with two special labels: (1) the car's current retail price, and (2) Flannery Ford's special Auto Auction price. You select the car you want, and give any one of our salesmen your bonafide bid — somewhere between the "Auction Price" and the "Retail Price." The highest bidder gets the car. If we do not accept your bid — and it is the highest — You win a FREE PHILCO PORTABLE TV.

Channel 7 Revives 'Wackiest Ship'

"Wackiest Ship in the Army," successful comedy series set in the South Pacific, will take over the 10 p.m. time period Thursday nights on WXYZ-TV, Channel 7, beginning Thursday.

Jack Warden and Gary Collin costar as Army Maj. Butcher and Navy Lt. J. G. Riddle, given joint command of the "Kiwi," a two-masted schooner pressed into service in World War II because it is felt that a ship flying a neutral flag can sail where ships of war could not.

Their natural inter-service rivalry surfaces at every port where there's a pretty skirt.

Mike Kellin as the chief, Rudy Solari as Nagurski, Don Penny as Tyler, Mark Slade as Hollis and Fred Smoot as Trivers became TV trademarks for their comic antics involving bad coffee, coughing engine and erratic radio during the network run of the series.

REQUEST TRANSFER

In Thursday's episode, "And Tyler, Too," Tyler requests a transfer when the Kiwi crew refuses to eat a cake he baked for Miller's birthday.

His replacement is such a good cook that the men grow fat on their next voyage, and ask for Tyler to return. But he refuses, thinking they feel sorry for him, and attempts a heroic act in the research lab where he has been assigned, hoping to prove his true worth.

The tongue-in-check series was produced by Screen Gems, Inc. and is distributed by Screen Gems.

To anyone who bought a second car in the last month:

Pity.

If only you had waited a little longer! Because now there's America—the first car designed to be a second car.

With a price that makes it the lowest-priced car with an automatic transmission. When it comes to buying an old-style second car, there's a new adage: he who hesitates is saved.

America
by Austin,
The first car built to be a

They Wait on Street Corners Hoping for Jobs

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Most cities have their corners. Across the South thousands of poor men heave themselves out of beds six days a week at day-break and pull on dusty boots and old clothes for another siege under the sun, waiting to "catch the breaks"—a job for a day and some cash to take home.

Some of the men who gather on the corners are dirt shovels. Others know a little about plastering or painting or carpentry. But knowledge of a trade means little when the first car pulls up. The driver, the husky foreman of a construction company, holds up three fingers.

NO QUESTIONS

The first three workmen to his car pile inside without questions. They know this man pays

$1.65 hourly and takes a few men each morning from the corner beside a railroad track in Hollywood's industrial section.

Each time a car or truck slows, the men crowd to the curb. They elbow each other and shout, "I'm your man, boss!" and "Over here, boss!"

Roosevelt Burdine Jr., 26, a big man wearing a blue uniform marked with the name of a trucking company, is near the front.

"You want to work?" a driver asks Burdine.

"Doing what?"

"Spreading sand, $1.25 an hour."

NOT ENOUGH

"I can't go for that," Burdine replies, turning away.

Another man steps forward and dickers for $1.40 an hour. He slips into the car, carrying his lunch in a brown sack.

As the car pulls away, a truck takes its spot and the crowd swarms around again. This time four men are hired at $1.75 an hour to haul cement blocks for mansions.

This is corner breaking, an informal outdoor hiring hall where laborers—without exception, Negro laborers—hustle and apply for work through a government office.

The men on the corners com-

PARTICIPATING EDISON APPROVED ELECTRIC HEAT CONTRACTOR

This certificate entitles you to a one hundred dollar trade-in allowance on your old heating unit when converting to electric heat. Clip and save it.

How does it work? Simply phone or stop in at your nearest Edison office and we'll give you the names of several Edison approved and trained electric heating contractors in your area who'll honor the certificate. (We'll also supply informative literature if you like.)

The contractor you call will make a no-obligation survey of your heating needs. He'll answer your questions about electric heating and explain the unique operating cost guarantee that applies. Then he'll quote you a firm estimate on the cost of converting. You deduct $100—the value of the certificate.

Now for some additional reasons why you should call about the offer. No other type of home heating is as (1) comfortable, (2) clean, (3) quiet, (4) modern as electric heat. It pays to convert:

'Common Apparel' Must for Beaches

GRASS VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — "Commonly recognized apparel" of pools and beaches must be worn by Nevada County swimmers say supervisors alarmed by an increase in nude swimming.

Supervisor Lou Hartman, before the vote, asked whether "bikinis are commonly recognized apparel."

"I think most of us recognize one when we see it," replied Dist. Atty. Harold Berliner.

The new twist is supplied by British writer Victor Mollo. Mollo's man was built of stern stuff. He wouldn't lose a trick until he had to and he ran out all his trumps.

East threw one spade early but West did not discard a spade. Eventually, declarer played his ace of hearts and play was about to concede down several when he discovered that all his small hearts were good and he made his grand slam!

At this point, there was no way to get to dummy for the three top spades. An ordinary poor player would realize this and get out for down one but

Microscope, Computer Team Up

Photograph of Atom Foreseen

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Man's age-old desire to see an atom may be fulfilled in a year or so.

Two of the sharpest tools of modern science—the electron microscope and the computer—have been teamed up in a project to make this incredibly tiny building block of all matter visible for the first time.

First goal of the project is to unlock the secret of genes, the living blueprints of heredity which may enable biologists someday to control evolution.

If successful, the same technique would tell physicists more about nuclear energy, the key to a long-promised golden age of almost limitless power.

DEEP PROBES

Electron microscopes, capable of magnifying 500,000 times compared with the 1,000-magnification of microscopes using light, have already probed deep into complex molecules, showing how each is made up of thousands of atoms.

But the sharpest electron microscope image yet photographed does not quite get down to the ultimate: the atom. Structures less than five atoms in diameter simply do not show up.

A technique for seeing better in the microcosmos of the very small is under study at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Dr. Robert Nathan, the scientist who worked out a way to use computers to improve spacecraft pictures of the moon and Mars, plans to link computers with electron microscopes and thus photograph a single atom.

STUDYING FEASIBILITY

"What we are doing now is studying the feasibility of such a technique," Nathan said in an interview, "building the hook-ups between the computer, the electron microscope and the camera."

"We expect to have much of this done in six months or so, and then we can get on with the proving of methods and actual research. It's always hard to say just how fast research will go but with luck we could be enough to show each single must lie in the individual cell taking pictures of atoms in a atom."

The reason optical microscopists trying to string atoms controls the cell will help "scopes can't see an atom is that light waves are too blunt. The distance from trough to crest, Nathan says, is about half a micron. A micron is a microscopic unit of measure in the metric system and there are one million of them in a meter, which is about 40 inches of measure, known as the angstrom. An angstrom is one ten-thousandth of a micron. Nathan figures the size of an atom as about one angstrom, so a light wave is thousands of times thicker than an atom. An atom couldn't begin to reflect anything as big as a light wave.

But electrons are different. They are parts of atoms—they are the energetic particles which whirl around the nucleus of an atom. An atom can reflect a beam of electrons and so, theoretically, should be photographable by cameras sensitive to electrons instead of light.

CAUSE DISTORTION

Electron microscopes haven't yet been able to photograph an atom. Nathan says, because stains used to provide contrast between various structures in a molecule also cause distortion. The stain spreading too many of the electrons and making the image fuzzy. If no stain were used, the true structure—or at least the shape of the atom should become apparent.

Some of the best electron images made so far are of genes, long strings of deoxyribonucleic acid, DNA, in the nucleus of cells and viruses. These strings are believed to be entwined in double-spiral form in living tissue, but in laboratory tests they flatten out like chains of beads tossed on a dresser top.

The beads in the chain are believed to be atoms strung together in a coded sequence, or biological blueprint, which determines what functions each cell performs. The exact pattern of atoms along the chain has never been determined, but Nathan hopes he can find a way to do just that with images sharp

DOWNSTREAM

"That's quite a way down—Nathan saw that unwanted stream, however," Nathan says. "noise"—the scientists' word "Much sooner than that, I think, for static—was mingling with will come an ability to control the signals from the spacecraft disease and aging. That's how I and distorting their pictures. He got into this research, through developed an intricate process an interest in aging. Certainly using a computer to filter out the secret of disease and aging the static."

Candidate's Baby Staff Sits Well With Writer

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I recently discovered a marvelous free baby-sitting service here in the capital.

It is called McCarthy National Campaign Headquarters.

That is sort of an odd name for a baby-sitting service, but it really does the job.

You can take your kid by there in the morning and they will keep him or her occupied all day.

At no cost to yourself, give or take a pimiento cheese sandwich for lunch.

MAY BE AGE LIMIT

There may be an age minimum I doubt they would accept infants or preadolescents. But if your kid is old enough to run errands, stuff envelopes and maybe nail down an uncommitted delegate or two, you're in luck.

I came across the service quite by accident. I was lamenting to a friend of mine that my 13-year-old daughter apparently was going to be underfoot all summer.

When you've got a 13-year-old daughter underfoot all summer, you've got a wife who is climbing the walls at the end of the day.

My friend said he faced the same problem with his son. In desperation, he called up a fellow he knew at Humphrey headquarters and had the lad committed as a volunteer worker.

WONDERFUL SOLUTION

"It's wonderful," my friend said. "I couldn't get him to mow the lawn except at gunpoint. And he expected to be paid the federal hourly minimum wage with an employer-financed pension plan."

"Now he's working all day for nothing and seems to be having the time of his life."

In less than a trice, I had Humphrey headquarters on the phone seeking an unpaid position for my daughter.

"Sorry," a lady told me. "We're pretty crowded already. Why don't you try McCarthy?"

This time I took no chances on being rejected. I drove my daughter to McCarthy headquarters, deposited her on the doorstep and ran.

Wallace the Candidate... 'He's Running to Win'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — George Wallace has been something unique in American politics ever since he leaped into national prominence as the segregationist governor of Alabama. Still tinging at the political establishment, Wallace is making his second try at the White House. Following is an account of Wallace on the campaign trail.)

By DON MCKEE
EN ROUTE WITH WALLACE (AP) — George Wallace runs for president like it was the next best thing to being president. He can't stop.

"You think I'll have much of a crowd tonight?" He asks for the third time as the four-engine DC-8, looking rather battered and in need of paint, drones over the hills of north Georgia heading for Atlanta.

"What about that crowd last night?" he asks, and answers himself. "That was a good crowd."

It was his crowd in his territory, the one at Chattanooga, Tenn.

'ONLY SALVATION'

The Baptist preacher, his hair slicked down, had stood behind Wallace's bullet proof, portable lectern with its red and white hunting and in his invocation advised God. "Outside of the return of Jesus Christ Himself, the only salvation for this country is George Wallace."

Suddenly the country musicians struck up "Dixie."

Wallace, a slight smile on his lips, walked onstage. The crowd went wild, screaming, waving Wallace hats and placards. It was like a political convention. Wallace waved, held up two fingers in a V sign. He wore a black suit, back tie.

Wallace, 48, thrives on campaigning and politics. He says he's running to win, not to throw the election into the House of Representatives. His candidacy is being taken seriously by a growing number of politicians who oppose him.

'RUN SCARED'

Gov. John Connally of Texas told reporters during the recent Southern Governors Conference at Charleston, S.C. that both major party candidates should "run scared of George Wallace — and each other."

A former Georgia governor, Carl E. Sanders, said Wallace was gaining momentum, and unless Democratic organizations nationally and in the South got to work, "Wallace will sweep the South."

Several other governors at the conference said privately Wallace might carry five to 10 states, but not even his strongest supporters among state chiefs—Gov. Albert P. Brewer of Alabama and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia—would predict a victory. Yet many of the governors, and other observers, consider Wallace an increasingly significant factor.

Wallace has gotten on the ballots of more than one half of the states.

'BREAKDOWN IN LAW'

In his campaign forays he talks about a breakdown of law and order, the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, he says, calls for "paying a ransom to those that would burn the country down to keep them from burning it down." Then he talks about open housing.

"People resent this destruction of the property ownership rights," Wallace says.

"You know the only argument they can use against us is: 'Well, he's a racist; he's a hater.'"

"It's a sad commentary when you can't talk about law and order without some liberal left winger saying you're racist — and I resent it."

LOCAL CONTROL

"When I get to be president, the first thing I'm going to do is turn back every school to local control." His words were drowned out by a roar of applause from the Chattanooga crowd. "We're going to repeal open housing," he says.

George Wallace says he is what he says. He knows what many people want to hear. "There's not much basic difference in people," he says. "Basically, if we can carry Georgia, we can carry Pennsylvania."

On some other issues, here is Wallace:

Communist — "You can only deal with Communists from a position of strength."

Vietnam — "It's a frustrating experience. We should never have become involved by ourselves... if we cannot win militarily, then we ought not to have been there in the first place."

MAN ON THE STREET

Wallace seeks to speak for the man on the street. And he feels the average person is most of Descent — "You have the right to think we shouldn't be in Vietnam concerned about things he, physical contacts, more limited now by the tighter protection by lace says people are sick and tired of guidelines, of big government, bureaucrats and the "breakdown of law and order."

The Wallace answer to racial issues is: It's a local matter. Despite his handshaking and physical contacts, more limited now by the tighter protection by

What about his chances? Well, he essential appeal is in what he favors of Republican Barry Goldwater "because I didn't want or style. He fires his audiences to split the vote up, and they ran a poor campaign."

If anyone withdraws, he said, it should be the Republicans. And even if his candidacy throws the election into the House of Representatives, Wallace said: "We have nothing to lose and everything to gain."

As his plane neared Atlanta, George Wallace replaced the cigar in the ash tray, looked out the window, then back and asked again, "Do you think we'll have much of a crowd tonight?"

SUSPECT, ATTORNEY CONFER — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan exchanges a few words with his attorney, Russell E. Parsons, just after leaving a Los Angeles courtroom yesterday where he was granted an additional two weeks to plead to a charge of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. They paused in a hallway as Sirhan made the short trip to his special cell in Los Angeles' Hall of Justice.

Sirhan Complains He's Not Sleeping

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan has been complaining of insomnia as he waits in jail for his trial on a charge of assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

And he told Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer Friday he would agree to a waiver granting psychiatrists access to his jail record on a condition — that he be given sleeping pills.

"I have constantly been asking for sleeping pills—if they give me sleeping pills, I'll waive it."

No more mention of the pills was made but Sirhan's lawyer, Russell E. Parsons, said later: "I assume the doctor will do his duty and give the man sleeping pills if he needs them."

RECEIVES DELAY

The defense lawyer said his 24-year-old client "hasn't been resting too well."

Sirhan was in court to enter a plea to the murder charge against him, but Parsons requested and received a two-week delay.

Parsons asked for the postponement after a month's delay, so psychiatrists can complete reports on Sirhan. He also requested authorization for X-ray and electro-wave studies of his client's brain.

Parsons said that in another case he handled, such tests led to the defendant's being found insane and that he went to a state mental institution rather than the death house.

BRAIN DAMAGE?

The lawyer previously had indicated he may try to show Sirhan suffered brain damage in falling from a horse in 1966. The young immigrant later demanded and received state disability for the injury.

Sirhan seemed cheerful but nervous during his brief court appearance. Wearing a light blue shirt open at the throat, tight black pants and black loafers, he strode briskly into the courtroom on the 13th floor of the Hall of Justice.

Security precautions were heavy. Armor plate covered the courtroom windows and the 100 newsmen and other spectators were searched before entering the room. About 12 armed deputies stood guard during the proceedings.

Sitting at the counsel's table, Sirhan tapped his foot constantly and shot lighted smiles to his brother Adel, 29, a spectator.

Despite his complaint about not sleeping, the defendant looked jaunty. Parsons said Sirhan and his mother pray together during her visits to his cell and that the young man has been reading about another assassinated leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Balmy Weather in Store for Area

The heat wave which sizzled the area last week broke just in time for a pleasant weekend for outdoor sports, picnics and barbecues.

High temperatures are expected to be in the mid-80s, with a chance of brief showers tomorrow night.

The official day-by-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast is:

TONIGHT — Fair and warmer. Lows 60 to 65. Winds light and variable.

CHANCE OF RAIN

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and warmer. Precipitation probability: 20 per cent.

MONDAY — Partly sunny and turning cooler.

Low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 59. By 12:30 p.m. the temperature was 78.

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Doctors announced today the death of Britain's first liver transplant patient, a woman who survived 11 weeks after the operation.

Gun Registration Loses by Big Margin in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's call for registration of all guns has been turned aside by two House votes that appeared to kill all hope for such legislation this session.

By surprising votes of nearly 2-to-1 the House yesterday defeated registration amendments to a bill that would ban interstate mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition, plus over-the-counter sales to residents of nonadjacent states.

One amendment, offered by Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., would have required registration of all firearms. It lost by a standing vote of 172-68.

The other, sponsored by Rep. Robert

McClary, R-Ill., would have required pistol registration only. It was turned back 168-89.

FINAL VOTE PUT OFF

A final vote on the bill and on numerous pending amendments that could still weaken or strengthen it was put off until Monday.

Although it was possible another attempt would be made then to tack on a registration provision it was unlikely in the face of the overwhelming defeat of the two amendments yesterday.

It also was considered unlikely in view of the size of the votes that such a provision could get through a joint-House Senate conference Committee although there is strong backing in the Senate for both registration of firearms and licensing of owners.

Amendments on licensing are expected to be offered Monday.

PRESIDENT'S PROPOSAL

President Johnson first urged the interstate mail order bans on rifles and shotguns in the wake of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Later, he urged registration and licensing legislation.

Backers of stronger gun controls saw hope for passage of some kind of bill in House approval of an amendment requiring mandatory prison sentences for persons who use or carry a firearm while committing a federal felony such as rape, murder or robbery.

This amendment was approved as a substitute for one by Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex., that would have required mandatory sentences for persons using a firearm in the commission of state felonies as well as federal offenses.

The substitute amendment, sponsored by Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., would require mandatory sentences of from one to 10 years for the first offense and from 5 to 25 years for the second and subsequent offenses.

The sentences to run consecutively, not concurrently to any given for the crime itself—could not be suspended nor could the convicted person be released on probation.

Poor Weather, Push for Safety Slow Air Travel

NEW YORK (AP) — Two airlines suspended shuttle flights from metropolitan New York airports Friday night as continuing congestion delayed thousands of passengers.

A combination of bad weather and a safety campaign by air traffic controllers stacked planes on runways and overhead, and airlines were reporting routine delays of up to two hours.

Eastern Airlines canceled 24 shuttle flights to Boston and Washington at 7:15 p.m. as more than 40 jets were waiting to take off at Kennedy International Airport.

An Eastern spokesman said the cancellation was "due to weather and other reasons." About an hour later Northeast Airlines suspended its shuttle flights from La Guardia Airport to Boston.

SOME FLIGHTS RESUME

Eastern resumed its shuttle flights between La Guardia and Newark airports and Boston and Washington today but decided to continue to fly four flights a day to Miami and Montreal from Newark rather than Kennedy because of the congestion at Kennedy.

Northeast also resumed its La Guardia-Boston shuttle today.

The safety campaign is being waged by the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization which says that its members need more help to handle the high volume of air traffic.

The controllers have said they will go "by the book" and strictly maintain the mandatory three-mile separation of planes on their radar screens.

The Federal Aviation Administration which employs the controllers says it rag checks in the control towers this week and found no evidence of any apparent slowdown.

NATIONWIDE PROBLEMS

Conditions in New York caused problems at some other airports around the country. A flight from Hartford, Conn., to Philadelphia was delayed three hours until clearance through New York air space was obtained.

LBJ-Thieu Talks Go Smoothly

HONOLULU (AP) — By all official accounts, President Johnson and South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu have had little difficulty reaching a meeting of minds during their brief Honolulu summit.

Officials from both countries said the two men and their top advisers had done such successful spawork for the conference that there was no need for extended conversations here.

That was one big reason, they said, why today's summit windup could be foreshortened, with cancellation of a scheduled final luncheon meeting and early issuance of a joint communique.

Thieu announced he would carry a bit in Hawaii to meet with newsmen after Johnson returns to the U.S. mainland.

Thieu, in a formal statement at the opening conference session Friday, said that of course his country hopes for a just and honorable peace at the conference table.

But he gave no indication, at least in that document, that he would favor a complete halt to bombing of North Vietnam. And a member of his party reaffirmed the fixed position of the Saigon government that it would never negotiate with the Vietcong as a group, though it would listen to the views of any individuals from the other side who cared to air them.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, in advance of the Honolulu talks, indicated a possible bombing halt and direct Saigon-Vietcong negotiations would be among the topics to be explored by Thieu and Johnson.

If the subjects came up, newsmen were not told of it by briefing officers.

Johnson and Thieu met privately for about an hour Friday morning at the hilltop command post of U.S. military forces in the Pacific, then went into larger group sessions and a working lunch that, altogether, took up half the day. In the evening they got together again at Johnson's borrowed seaside residence outside Honolulu.

Aides also held a series of small sessions on specific topics: Military, economic, diplomatic and so forth.

In his opening conference statement, Thieu quoted Johnson as saying it would be unacceptable to agree to "a fake solution and call it peace."

Accord Reached on Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate and House are expected to vote next week on a $5.4-billion housing bill hailed by one sponsor as the greatest advance against slums in 20 years and by another as "breath-taking in its scope."

In what amounted to a victory for President Johnson, House-Senate conferees agreed late yesterday on a compromise version of the measure whose major new feature is government interest subsidies to help low-income families buy homes.

The conferees took just five days to iron out some 150 differences in the versions that passed the separate chambers.

The final bill follows closely legislation as recommended by the administration which will carry out the first three years of a 10-year program the President hopes will wipe out slums.

Agreement by the conferees virtually assures passage by the House and Senate.

The provision to assist home buying is aimed at 500,000 families in the $3,000-$6,000 income bracket.

S. Korean CIA Jails 27 in Alleged Spy Network

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea's Central Intelligence Agency announced today the arrest of 27 persons accused of operating a spy network that set the groundwork for North Korean guerrilla raids.

The spy ring, reportedly organized by a North Korean Communist party official who slipped into the South seven years ago, also was said to have tried to infiltrate left-wing and intellectual groups.

Some 440 pieces of spy equipment, including six code sets and seven radio transmitters, were confiscated in the roundup, the agency said.

Named as head of the ring was Chung Tai-Hong, 45, a business executive alleged to have visited North Korea at least four times for instructions and money.

The Seoul intelligence agency said the underground group had received at least $67,000 from its North Korean superiors.

It used the money to set up a legal "cover" and to publish a monthly magazine aimed at reaching intellectuals, the agency charged. The publications, called "Blue Ridge," went out of business last year after 28 issues.

Spies, operations also were suspended last year when South Korean authorities broke up what they claimed was a Communist spy ring among South Korean students in Berlin; the agency said.

Authorities said the spy group resumed operations earlier this year and began preparing for North Korean guerrilla activities in the South.

2 Traffic Fatalities, 1 Drowning in Area

Two persons were killed in separate traffic accidents and a teen-ager drowned in Oakland and Macomb counties yesterday and early today.

William A. Wilson Jr., 18, of 2719 Deland, Waterford Township, was killed shortly after midnight today when he reportedly failed to stop his car at a flashing red light in Waterford Township, according to police.

Police said his car was struck broadside by one driven by Lucretia A. Flener, 90 Clayburn, Waterford Township, at Hatcher and Airport roads. She received minor injuries, police said.

In Macomb County, David D. Franco, 15, of 8255 Marianne, Shelby Township, was killed by a motorcycle while riding his bicycle on a street in Shelby Township.

HIT BY MOTORCYCLE

Police say he was riding west in the eastbound lane of 22 Mile Road near M53 expressway when a motorcycle driven by Conrad R. Johnson, 34, of Mount Clemens, came over a hill in the opposite direction and struck him.

Johnson, who police said was driving on a suspended license, is reported in poor condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Mount Clemens.

Yesterday afternoon, Gary L. Pollet, 19, of Warren, drowned in Arrow Head Lake in Shelby Township.

A friend told police they were swimming when Pollet apparently became fatigued and drowned.

McCarthy Unclear on Viet-Weep

By The Associated Press
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, calling Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's Vietnam position unclear, says a public discussion between the two Democratic presidential rivals on the war issue "may be desirable."

McCarthy repeatedly has called for a debate on the issue, most recently on a Southern swing where he said yesterday that Humphrey may be edging away from the Johnson administration's Vietnam stand and toward McCarthy's.

The Washington Post today quoted Humphrey as saying of McCarthy's latest proposal, for a "public discussion": "It may be desirable to have such a discussion before the convention."

"I don't think he (McCarthy) believes in unilateral withdrawal," Humphrey said in the interview. "I don't think that he wants a Communist take-over of Southeast Asia and neither do I. But he hasn't spelled that out."

McCarthy, at a news conference in Louisville, Ky., had said Humphrey's position on the war also needs clarification.

"There have been some signs of some change from the rather pure administration position," the Minnesota senator said, but he said he wanted to see a firmer declaration of Humphrey's position.

McCarthy said one sign of what he called a change in Humphrey's position was the vice president's indication in a Scripps-Howard interview that he could run on any Democratic war platform other than unilateral withdrawal from Vietnam.

The senator said a public meeting with Humphrey before the Democratic National Convention starts in Chicago Aug. 26 could "clarify our differences, if there are any differences."

"If we find ourselves in agreement," McCarthy continued, "... some conflicts and some confusion within the party can be straightened out as we prepare to go down the line to Chicago and on beyond that to the campaign in November against the Republicans."

On the Republican side, California Gov. Ronald Reagan began an effort against votes for independent candidate George C. Wallace, And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he believes the Soviet Union wants an end to hostilities in Vietnam.

Reagan, on a GOP fund-raising swing

through the South, said in Amarillo, Tex., that Wallace's third-party presidential bid may work as a "destroyer" that would keep the Democrats in the White House.

"The Wallace campaign," Reagan said, "can hurt the Republicans worse than the Democrats."

Rockefeller said in Far Hills, N. J., he believes China wishes to prolong the Vietnam war but the Soviets don't.

VC Bait Trap With Captives but Are Routed by B52s

SAIGON (AP) — A heavy raid by U.S. B52 bombers scoured away Vietcong guerrillas who set 39 manacled captives out as bait and planned to ambush South Vietnamese troops coming to their rescue, military spokesmen said today.

The government troops freed the emaciated men and women, who had been chained to stakes in the ground, and reported killing six Vietcong soldiers who had stayed behind as guards when most of the other guerrillas fled.

Three South Vietnamese infantrymen were wounded when the government troops charged into an open field yesterday to free the prisoners in the Mekong Delta, 125 miles southwest of Saigon, spokesmen said.

The captives, held by the Vietcong for periods ranging from two months to two years, included 13 women, 21 male civilians, three militiamen, a hamlet chief and an assistant hamlet chief.

LEARNED OF PLANS

Field reports said the Vietcong learned of government troops' plans to try to free the captives, dragged them into an open rice field and set up ambush positions around them.

But the government soldiers were not scheduled to sweep the area until after the B52 raids.

The captives were quoted as saying that most of the guerrillas fled when thousands of pounds of bombs from the eight-engine bombers fell on the fringes of the ambush site. They told officials they had seen at least seven Vietcong who were wounded by the air attack.

Officials questioned the captives at the provincial capital of Can Tho, where they were taken for medical treatment.

20 UNACCOUNTED

Spokesmen said 20 other prisoners still were unaccounted for and presumably were taken along by the fleeing Vietcong.

The captives brought to Can Tho said they had been seized as hostages in a Vietcong effort to make their relatives defect from the South Vietnamese army. Doctors said the Vietcong had severely mistreated the captives.

Government troops on the sweep operation also reported capturing five guerrillas and four other suspects and seizing more than 250 mortar and anti-tank rocket shells, 10 rifles, 200 sticks of TNT and 42 rounds for recoilless rifles.

Nine miles north of the ambush site, other government troops reported killing 29 guerrillas in two days of skirmishes in an operation that ended yesterday.

A military spokesman said three government infantrymen were killed and 28 wounded in the intermittent fighting. The South Vietnamese troops also reported capturing 20 tear gas grenades.

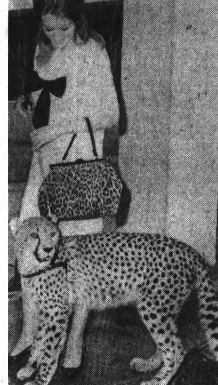

UAW-Teamster Alliance Is Near

DETROIT (UPI) — The nation's two largest unions — the United Auto Workers and the Teamsters — are expected Monday to announce the formation of an alliance designed to jointly push political activity and organizing efforts.

The two unions together have a membership of about 3.4 million, well below the 12-million member AFL-CIO that expelled them.

Teamsters officials attending a general executive board meeting in Carlsbad, Calif., said the announcement of the alliance would come Monday in Chicago.

Frank Fitzsimmons, in charge of the Teamsters while James R. Hoffa serves a federal prison sentence for jury tampering, is expected to meet with UAW President Walter P. Reuther in Chicago Monday, they said.

Birmingham

Improvements Are Planned for Post Office

BIRMINGHAM — The local branch of the United States Post Office Department is planning improvements, according to Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

The project will provide additional parking and maneuvering areas as well as a new building.

However, because of the paper work and various steps that must be taken, it will be at least a year before any construction can begin, a post office spokesman said.

Two area men were among a number of citizens recently appointed to state boards by Gov. George Romney. Dr. Arthur Riewald, 2850 Aspen, Bloomfield Township was appointed to the State Marriage Counselors Board for a two-year term.

TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY

David F. Breck, of 752 Willits, Birmingham was named as a member of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority for a three-year term.

Donald E. Wagner, of 915 Lampwick, Bloomfield Township, has been appointed corporate product manager, accounting machines and systems for Burroughs Corp.

In his new position he will be responsible for planning and coordinating all phases of the machines and systems program.

According to James A. McCullough, vice president, product management, who made the announcement, Wagner will participate in the execution of broad corporate programs involving product planning, engineering, manufacturing, marketing and finance of products, both in the United States and world markets.

WAGNER

NAVAL RESERVE

Wagner joined Burroughs in Detroit in 1940. Following service in the United States Naval Reserve in the Pacific, he returned to Burroughs in 1948 as a senior sales representative. He became zone sales manager in the Detroit branch in 1953 and was appointed branch manager at Kalamazoo in 1957.

Born in Detroit, Wagner is a graduate of Michigan State University.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Detroit Edison Company has announced the appointment of Robert R. Brown, Jr., of 2385 Hunt Club Drive, as supervisor of the equipment buying division of the company's purchasing department. He had served as senior buyer in the contracting division since 1959, and had been acting supervisor of that division for a period from 1963 to 1965.

A BUYER FOR 22 YEARS

A member of the Construction Specifications Institute, and presently serving his second term as secretary of the Detroit chapter, Brown has 22 years of experience as a buyer in the construction or contracting divisions of the Edison Company.

Brown is a native of Northville, and a graduate of Ann Arbor High School. He earned his BS degree in electrical engineering at the University of Michigan in 1943. During World War II Navy officers from 1943 to 1946, he served aboard the USS Lough in the South Pacific as engineer officer.

Brown began his Edison career in 1946 in the marketing department.

Freed U.S. Fliers Quoted in Pravda

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today published interviews with three American Air Force officers, held prisoner by North Vietnam, whose release was announced Thursday in Hanoi.

All three were quoted as saying that they had been well treated and the war in Vietnam should be stopped.

The Soviet Communist party paper's report from Hanoi said the men's release was a demonstration of Vietnamese humanity and evidence that the Vietnamese harbor no resentment against the Americans despite years of war and destruction.

The fliers were identified as Capt. Joe Victor Carpenter, 37, of Victorville, Calif.; Maj. Fred Neal Thompson, 32, of Taylors, S.C.; and Maj. James Frederick Low, 43, of a Korean war ace from Sausalito, Calif.

Woman Killed at Local Home

A Pontiac woman was killed early today during a reported argument at a party in a city home, police were told.

Shot once in the head was Mrs. Willie Smoot, 25, of 228 Victory, according to police. Officers said she was dead when they arrived at the scene — the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Bradley, 467 Moore.

Bradley was taken into custody for investigation of murder shortly after the incident, police said.

Officers said they were called to the scene about 4:30 a.m.

HUSBANDS FIGHT

Witnesses told them that an argument had erupted between the couples and that Smoot and Bradley had been fighting. Smoot left the house moments before the fatal shot was fired, according to investigators.

Police said a 22-caliber rifle was impounded at the house.

Czech Party Chiefs Back Liberal Line

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The Czechoslovak Communist party's central committee yesterday endorsed a call for "courage and determination" to overcome all efforts to reverse the nation's liberal course.

The committee met as the Soviet Union invited Czechoslovakia leaders to come to Moscow Monday or Tuesday for a showdown meeting on the liberalization drive begun in January by new Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek.

The Prague leaders also were to meet today with foreign Communist party officials, apparently in separate sessions, but the Czechoslovak news agency CTK did not identify the leaders nor say whether the meetings would be in Prague or elsewhere.

One foreign Communist leader known to be in Prague is Waldeck Rochet of France. His party, along with the Communist parties of Romania, Yugoslavia, Italy, Belgium, Britain and Austria, have declared support for Dubcek's regime.

HARD-LINERS

On the other side are hard-liners who fear the liberalization in Czechoslovakia might intensify liberal ferment in their nations. The Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria met at Warsaw last weekend and sent the Czechoslovak leaders a letter demanding reversal of the liberal course. The letter expressed backing for Stalinist hard-liners remaining in high party positions in Czechoslovakia.

The Soviet Union also has sent messages of encouragement to the 35,000-man Czechoslovak Peoples Militia, a paramilitary force that backs the Kremlin line.

The Soviet invitation to meet asked Dubcek to bring the whole 11-member presidium, the main ruling body of Czechoslovakia, or a larger delegation if he wished.

POSSIBLE DIFFERENCES

The call for a large Czechoslovak delegation could be aimed at giving the Kremlin a chance to exploit possible differences in the Czechoslovak ranks.

While Cernik called for calm, Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko cut short a visit to Algeria and returned to Moscow, a move apparently aimed at exerting psychological pressure on the Prague reformers.

Soviet Marshal Ivan I. Yakubovsky, commander of Warsaw Pact forces, flew back to Moscow from Czechoslovakia. About 16,000 Soviet troops still are in the process of leaving Czechoslovakia after maneuvers that ended June 30. Czechoslovak officials said earlier that the Soviets had promised the withdrawal would be completed by tomorrow.

774-Acre Farm to Be Developed into Home Sites

Chrysler Realty Corp. of Center Line yesterday agreed to buy a 774-acre farm in Bloomfield and West Bloomfield townships to build luxury homes.

The Wabek farm, south of Upper Long Lake, is owned by the family of the late Sen. James Couzens. Purchased by the late senator in 1908, it has been operated as a diversified farm.

The property's east boundary runs about a mile along Wabek Road and its west boundary runs along Middlebelt Road about a quarter mile. It borders Upper Long Lake on the north.

Bisected by West Long Lake Road, the land contains three natural lakes — Wabek, Haines and Ball.

'KEEPING TRADITION'

"We intend within the next year or two to begin development of this property with homes that are in the keeping of the Bloomfield Hills tradition," a spokesman for the new realty firm, part of Chrysler Corp., said.

"The high rolling hills which comprise about 600 acres of the Wabek farm are readily adaptable to residential and related recreational development."

"In addition, we envision a number of spacious lake front homes on the 53 acres of natural lakes included in the property."

He said schools would have to be provided within the development. The area is in the Bloomfield Hills School District. Closing date of the sale is Oct. 1.

HEY, I'M ON YOUR SIDE — The "Four-F's" front four defensive unit of the Pontiac Firebirds give quarterback Bob Pomeroy the big rush in what was supposed to be some dummy drills at practice yesterday. The Four-F's meaning—Firebirds' Fearless Front Four—is made up of 6-9 Jerry Thick (71), at 301 pounds; Ed Gillespie, a 275-pound defensive end; Ronnie

Clark (75), 300-pound tackle, and 260-pound Dan LaFosse (70). Gillespie was at the position in place of regular defensive end Willie Washington 6-8 and 270 pounds. The swing defensive tackle is diminutive Bob Minton at 5-7 and 235. The Firebirds meet the Flint Wildcats tonight at 7:30 in an exhibition game at Wisner Stadium.

Palmer Also Charges in PGA

Sanders Out of Golf Limbo

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Remember Doug Sanders, that gallant golfer with the flashy clothes and the short swing?

The colorful Georgian spent the past year in golf's land of limbo, but he's back now, as brash and brightly clad as ever.

"I've been saving up for the big ones, and maybe this is it," Sanders said before he started after the lead in the third round of the PGA championship today, only a stroke back of the leaders, Frank Beard and Marty Fleckman.

However, Sanders' old nemesis in the major titles — famed Arnold Palmer — was also in contention.

Charges by Palmer and Sanders sent a surge of excitement across the Pecan Valley course Friday and took the edge off the departure of the game's longest hitters, Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf.

Shook up by Salado Creek which snakes through the course and forces the batters to shorten their shots, Nicklaus soared to a 79 for 150 and Weiskopf slipped to an 82 for 159.

They missed the cut at 149 that trimmed the field to 74 today when Fleckman and Beard tried to keep their edge.

Beard shot a 70 and Fleckman a 72 in the second round for 138 totals. Sanders surged up with a 67, best round of the day, to claim third at 139. Palmer, unhooking a 69, was tied for fourth at 140 along with sentimental favorite Lee Trevino, tall George Archer, Miller Barber and veteran Johnny Folt.

Sanders, clad in baby blue from his club covers to his toes, was elated about his game, which has been spasmodic during a 16-month victory drought.

"Man, I needed a good round," said Sanders, who has won a half-million dollars on the tour, but is still looking for his first triumph in a major tournament.

"I want to win a big one — that's my goal," Sanders said. "If I can keep it going, this could be it."

Sanders, no match off the tees for his hard-hitting rivals, didn't mind the creek which cuts across seven fairways. He played short, hit deadly iron shots and sank birdie putts of 12, 14, two, eight and six feet.

First Exhibition at Wisner

Firebirds Face Flint Tonight

When the 1967 season ended, the Pontiac Firebirds in the last nine games which they won, were the best defensive team in the Midwest Football League.

The 1968 edition of the Firebirds is bigger on the defensive line and has more experience from line to safety, but just how good they will be tested tonight by the Flint Wildcats, always a team loaded with speed.

The game tonight will start at 7:30 and part of the proceeds will go to the city class A recreation league to help send the city champion to the state championship in Battle Creek in August.

Flint, which has as one of its owners Paul Krause, NFL defensive back who was recently traded from Washington to Minnesota, is now coached by former all-MFL defensive end Len Christman.

At quarterback, the Wildcats have

Tiny Lassiter, former all-stater from Flint Central, along with Ira Edward and Mark Segal, all three-year veterans.

Flint has been one of the most trouble-some teams for Pontiac since the two cities entered the MFL three years ago.

The Firebirds will have ballhounding fullback, Marty Malatin a rugged runner from Kent State at half-back and either Bill Harrington or Bob Pomeroy at quarterback.

Newcomer to the Firebird backfield is Tom Eiert, a 175 pounder from Ferris State who was the running star of the team's full dress scrimmage last Sunday.

The "Four-F's" plus Two, comprising the front four defensive unit include 6-9 Jerry Thick at 301 pounds; 6-5 Ronnie Clark at 300 pounds at the tackles; 6-8 Willie Washington at 270 pounds and 6-5

Dan LaFosse at 260 pounds at the defensive ends.

The "plus two" swing men are Ed Gillespie, a 6-4 and 275 pounder at end and the "midjet" of groups 5-7 and 235 pound Bob Minton at tackle.

Two of the starting defensive backfield Chuck Stein and Chris Payne are out of action with injuries, but the Firebirds still have a veteran battery of secondary men in Mike Pryor, John Lane, Del Chambers, Bob Lulek and Jesse Parrish from the Mt. Clemens team which has disbanded in favor of Fort Wayne, Ind. franchise.

Next Saturday night, the Firebirds play the annual Crittendon Hospital benefit game at Rochester High School, the game being sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club.

Bengals Feeling Little Pain

Matchick's HR in 9th Inning Clips Orioles

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton's injury wasn't as bad as it looked, and Tom Matchick's second home run of the season didn't cause much pain either.

"I didn't even know where it went," said the jubilant Detroit shortstop after smashing a two-run shot that capped a three-run Tigers' ninth inning and gave Detroit a comeback 5-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

The victory left Detroit with a 7½ game margin over the rest of the American League. Denny McLain was seeking his 19th victory in the second game of the four-game series today.

LARGEST SINCE '61

The crowd of 53,208 — largest since 57,271 showed up at Tiger Stadium June 27, 1961, for a Chicago game — turned purple with glee.

"Matchick played for me in Elmira, N.Y.," said Earl Weaver, the new Baltimore manager. "This is the second time he's beaten us this year."

Matchick beat Baltimore 2-1 earlier this year with a two-run double in the ninth inning.

"I just wanted to hit the ball," said Matchick, whose batting average was .225 going into the game. "It was the biggest hit of my career."

The comeback victory was marred somewhat by an injury to slugger outfielder Willie Horton, who strained some abdominal muscles on his left side trying to make a shoestring catch on Brooks Robinson's double in the sixth inning. Manager Mayo Smith said the injury did not appear serious. He said Horton may be back in action before the series ends Sunday.

Dave Johnson followed with a single. Paul Blair drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and Don Buford's single brought home another tally to give Baltimore a 4-0 lead.

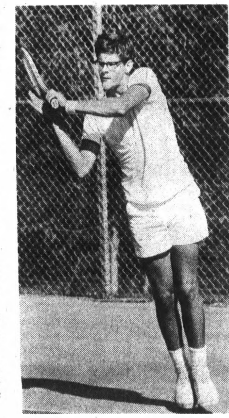

Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer off starter Wally Bunker made it 4-2 in the last of the sixth. It was the only hit off Bunker who left the game after the pitch.

Baltimore had scored two runs in the third off starter Mickey Lolich on Frank Robinson's two-run homer.

3 Red Run Teams Advance at FLCC

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The odds are three to one that a Red Run duo will emerge as the 1968 champion of the Forest Lake Invitational.

After yesterday's second round, three Red Run teams and one "home" team moved into this morning's semi-finals.

There were a couple of surprises in yesterday's championship flight as Tony Skover and George Lakatos, who defeated qualifying medalists Chuck Byrne and Knobby Walsh Thursday, were ousted by Bill Adams and Don Dawson yesterday 1-up.

EX-CHAMPS NOW

Defending champions Bob Gullett and Mike Jackson appeared to have their match all sewed up but they three putted from 15 feet on the 18th green to even the match and then lost it 1-up on the 20th hole.

Bud Badger and Chuck Nolton, the third Red Run pair going into today's double round, took the measure of Jim Smith and Mike Armstrong of Burning Tree, 3-2.

Upholding the honor of the home course are Chuck Handren and Bob Lovell who took a 2-1 match from Ken Skover and Jim St. Germaine of Meadowbrook.

The Gullett-Jackson match had a wild finish. After 12 holes, the match was 2-up for the defending champions.

Hamilton and Anderson birdied No. 13 and it stayed 1-up until No. 17. Both teams were on the green in regulation and both teams three putted to half the hole.

THREE PUTT

On the 18th, Hamilton and Anderson were given the three foot putt, and

Gullett and Jackson needed only to two putt from 15 feet to win the match. But they three putted, took a bogey and then Howard and Hamilton birdied the 20th hole to win the match.

Lovell and Handren never behind in their match although they lost their 1-up advantage several times. They had four birdies, the final one on the 18th when Lovell drove. Handren put his 3-iron 40 feet from the pin and then two putted for the win.

Badger and Nolton were one down after five holes but then scored four birdies on the next six holes, the final one being a 10 footer by Nolton on No. 12.

In the past five years of the Forest Lake Invitational no defending team has ever repeated as champion and it is certain that a new champ will be crowned after today's 36 hole finale.
