

Red Warships Head for Mediterranean

CAIRO (AP) — Soviet warships began sailing through the Bosphorus today, raising the threat of a naval confrontation with the British and Americans in the Middle East crisis, Turkish reports said.

Naval sources in Istanbul said the advance party consisted of a submarine repair ship and four armed escort vessels bound for the eastern Mediterranean.

The Turkish Navy command said the Soviet government reported it will send 10 warships, in all, through Turkey's strait to the Mediterranean, where the powerful U.S. 6th Fleet and British ships are deployed.

One source said that even if these ships join a Soviet flotilla of about a dozen ships, the naval balance would remain strongly in favor of the United States. The Soviet flotilla, which has been shadowing the 6th Fleet, includes submarines, spy trawlers and destroyers.

In other developments:

• Syria, whose charge that Israel planned an invasion touched off the current crisis, ignored the new Jordanian-Egyptian defense alliance and issued virulent, propaganda attacks against King Hussein of Jordan.

• Iraq announced that troops had left Baghdad, the capital, to join other units en route to Egypt to face an Israeli build-up on the border. Baghdad radio said other troops will leave soon to join other Iraqi soldiers in Syria.

• Israel, already mobilized, announced the extension of the 47-hour workweek to a possible maximum of 71 hours to help make up for a manpower shortage.

• The Jordanian Parliament in Amman, the capital, adopted a resolution hailing the Egyptian-Jordanian defense pact as "the first step toward the liberation of Palestine and the regaining of the usurped land."

The Turkish naval command said the bulk of the Soviet naval force is expected to sail through the strait June 3. They are destroyers No. 626, 383 and 514.

Drug Study Set for Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner established today a high-level task force on prescription drugs and ordered it to recommend in six months whether the medicare program should be broadened to include the cost of prescription drugs.

"For many older Americans the cost of needed drugs prescribed by a physician is a heavy burden, representing 15 to 20 per cent of their medical care costs," Gardner told a news conference.

"Many older Americans," he added, "find themselves with limited financial resources at the very time that age brings an increasing incidence of chronic diseases and greater needs for medical care, including prescription drugs."

Gardner said the task force has no prior commitment to recommend for or against adding prescription drug coverage to the medicare program.

"Its directive is first to investigate and then to make whatever recommendations it considers appropriate," he said.

Major areas will be studied by the task force, including the present patterns of drug use, where patients get the funds to pay for drugs and whether generic equivalents or clinical equivalents of prescription drugs would be more feasible in case the medicare program was broadened.

The generic equivalent of drugs is often many times cheaper than trade-marked items.

PARADERS — Some 40 units of police, veterans and other organizations marched to the City Hall for a wreath presentation ceremony in yesterday's Memorial Day parade. Citizens lined the route to help honor those men who have died fighting for the United States. A wreath-laying ceremony followed the parade at the Veterans' plot in Perry Mount Park Cemetery. (See story, Page A-2).

2 Killed in County; U.S. Traffic Toll Hits Record 601

Memorial Day traffic accidents claimed the lives of two persons in north Oakland County late yesterday, while a Waterford Township youth succumbed to injuries suffered in a mishap Friday.

Dead are Francis R. Scharf, 29, of 1790 Kent, Brandon Township; Gerald L. Albers, 28, of Detroit; and Nicholas M. Stuniak, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stuniak of 2401 Crane.

Scharf died at Pontiac General Hospital, shortly after his car apparently went out of control on Kent Road in Brandon Township and slid into a tree about 11:30 p.m.

Scharf was alone in the car. Albers was killed about 6 p.m. in the collision of his motorcycle with a car driven by Maclyn D. Foster, 39, of Columbusville on Grange Hall near McGinnis in Groveland Township.

Foster told sheriff's deputies Albers lost control of the motorcycle at a curve in the road before slamming into the side of Foster's car.

Foster, his wife and three children in the car escaped serious injury, as did Mary L. Albers, 38, of Detroit, a passenger on the motorcycle.

The Stuniak boy died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday afternoon, four days after being struck by an automobile near his home.

Driver of the car was Joseph O. Smith, 54, of 23500 W. 13 Mile, Birmingham Farms. Pontiac State Police said the accident is still under investigation.

Kent Lake Swim Fatal to Detroit

A Detroit man drowned at Kent Lake in Kensington Park yesterday when he reportedly attempted to swim from a rowboat to the shore of the lake.

The body of Harry Nelson, 21, was recovered shortly before 11 a.m. in eight feet of water by Oakland County sheriff's deputies and park police.

Authorities said Nelson dove from the boat into waters posted as unsafe for swimming because of underwater hazards.

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents across the nation during the Memorial Day holiday weekend took a record toll of 601 lives, compared with 500 in the nonholiday period of similar length two weeks ago.

The count for the four-day holiday that ended at midnight yesterday was the highest ever for a 102-hour Memorial Day period, but was well below pre-holiday estimates.

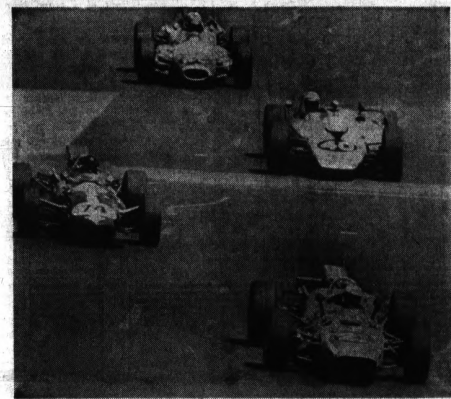

The total compared with the previous high for the holiday — 542 during the three-day weekend in 1966.

In the most recent four-day observance of Memorial Day, in 1963, traffic fatalities totaled 525.

The Associated Press, for comparative purposes, made a survey of highway deaths in the nation during a comparable 102-hour, nonholiday weekend of May 12-14. The toll was 560.

CONSIDERABLY BELOW
The National Safety Council last week had estimated the final toll this year would range from 650 to 750.

Rain and stormy weather in many parts of the nation reduced highway travel and apparently contributed to the lower total.

A. J. Foyt Captures '500' as Jones' Turbine Falts

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A. J. Foyt, running second most of the way captured the 1967 Indianapolis 500 today when car trouble sidelined the front-running Parnelli Jones' only seven and a half miles from the finish.

Three cars were wrecked in the stretch heading for the finish line behind Foyt.

It could not be determined immediately whether there were any injuries.

On the 196th lap, only four from the finish, Jones' car slowed to a crawl coming into the stretch.

The Jones car coasted slowly into the pits as A. J. Foyt sailed past him and took the lead with seven and a half miles to go to the finish.

Jones' car stopped at the pit position for a moment, then the crew shoved it back to the garages—the finish for the first turbine car ever to run in the 500.

Jones, steadily breaking records, whenever the light was green, surrendered the lead briefly to two-time winner Foyt during a pit stop, then regained it when Foyt pitted.

Proving his right to the title of "race drivers' driver," Jones once kept the lead in spite of a spin to miss out-of-control Lee Roy Yarborough in the northwest turn.

Jones got deep into the infield before straightening out and charging on.

A Weinberger Homes Special, a new Ford-powered car owned by Sidney Weinberger of Pontiac and Frank Wilcock of Utica, was eliminated on the 103rd lap when it spun into the wall. Driver Johnny Rutherford was not injured.

Yank Detained in Spy Hunt; Briton, German Arrested

LONDON (AP) — An intensive security investigation focused today on the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Holy Loch following arrest of a British bookie and a German seaman on spy charges and the detention of a U.S. Navy sailor.

A team of detectives from Scotland Yard's special branch flew to the floating American base in western Scotland. Some were disguised as tourists, with fishing rods and waders.

Their presence around the rocky shores of the inlet, 16 miles west of Glasgow, came to light after Capt. George Ellis, commander of the nuclear-armed Polaris squadron, disclosed that a sailor stationed aboard the Polaris depot ship Simon Lake had been confined to the ship and forbidden any outside contact or visitors.

Ellis refused to identify the sailor.

"An intensive investigation is going on," he said. "There is one U.S. Navy man involved. I cannot go into this any further at the moment.

Ellis made his announcement 36 hours after the appearance in court in Dunoon, a town of 9,000 persons three miles away, of William McAffey, 30, a local bookie, who was charged with violation of the Official Secrets Act. He was ordered held without bail for eight days.

The prosecutor said he had tried to get secret information affecting British and American security from a U.S. sailor.

Last night, a German seaman, Peter Dorschel, 26, was charged at Manchester, in the north of England, with inciting McAffey to obtain information contrary to the interests of the state.

Dorschel was arrested last week and will appear in court Friday.

Dorschel came to Britain two years ago to live with the family of Christine Wych, a 22-year-old girl he had met in England when he was a cook on a German cargo ship. They were married Jan. 23 in Lubeck, West Germany.

Mart Summit Seen Boost to Britain

ROME (AP) — Representatives of five of the Common Market Nations think their summit meeting in Rome gave a significant push forward to Britain's application to join the European Economic Community. The French disagree.

The two-day meeting of government chiefs from France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg ended Tuesday night with an agreement for their foreign ministers to discuss applications from Britain, Ireland and Denmark at a meeting in Brussels June 5-6.

Representatives of President Charles de Gaulle's French government—which opposes Britain's admission—look the view that this was little more than a formality.

Officials from the other five governments—all of which want the British in—appeared united in the view that the agreement to put the British question formally on a Common Market agenda was a big move in the right direction.

Other observers felt that with de Gaulle scheduled to meet with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in Paris June 19, foreign ministers could accomplish nothing of substance on the British application before then.

Some observers remained convinced that no matter what legal or formal concessions de Gaulle might make, he would never budge from his basic opposition to letting Britain in.

The other five delegations expressed the opinion that the meeting, held to mark the 10th anniversary of the Treaty of Rome that founded the economic bloc, gave cause for genuine satisfaction.

The Dutch and Germans especially were jubilant. A prominent German official told newsmen: "This has been a successful day for Europe."

FRENCH VIEW

But French sources said little had been accomplished and that de Gaulle had managed to give the impression of conceding a bit while actually yielding nothing of substance.

De Gaulle served notice he felt that the foreign ministers must first discuss what effects British membership would have on the Market and only after agreement on this could the leaders move on to spelling out conditions for negotiations.

While representatives of the other five governments insisted this could be a real opening toward negotiations, French sources said it need have no effect on de Gaulle's delaying policies. They left the impression that everything was still up to him.

However, Italy, West Germany and the Benelux nations appeared actively engaged in a coordinated campaign to force de Gaulle into making enough small concessions to put him into a position where he could no longer resist the pressure for British membership.

2 Slayings Laid to Long Feud

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two men were killed and two others seriously wounded when a gunman burst in on a card game in a suburban Pittsburgh motel room and fired at least six shots from an automatic pistol.

Detectives seized Cecil Jones, 54, of Lambertville, N.J., after a high-speed auto chase Monday after the shooting Tuesday night and said he would be charged with murder and felonious assault.

The four men shot worked for a construction firm which fired Jones after a construction accident in 1954, police said, and the shooting was said to have been the outgrowth of a feud that started then.

Police said a desk clerk had spotted a car speeding from the motel.

Outside the room police found James Oliver, 37, of Fairfield,

Tex., lying dead on the sidewalk.

Inside, Allen Neely, 44, of Jasper, Tex., was dead on a bed. Warren Mulkey, 40, of Laredo, Miss., was unconscious on bed, and Staton, 44, was semi-conscious, propped up on the floor.

Mulkey and Staton were admitted to Allegheny General Hospital, where their condition was reported serious.

Birmingham Masons Conduct A Memorial Day Ceremony At Acacia Park Cemetery

Small-Town Patriotism Rekindled

By JEAN SAILLE

"The muffled drum's sad roll has beat the soldier's last tattoo —"

The unabashed patriotism of small town Memorial Day parades is annually rekindled tradition of the country.

Lasting long past the era of the "glorious 4ths," the yearly parade and ceremony to honor the dead never fails to bring with it a touch of nostalgia and the aura of the early 1900s.

Solemn flag-bearers, stepping proudly, lead the march, and just as proud and close behind come the women — members of the various veterans' auxiliary organizations.

Not all the actual veterans are seen in the parade. Too many old uniforms have apparently shrunk — too many egos shrink from the public recognition — too many ordered marches are too familiar to parade-weary men.

LINE THE ROUTE

Present, but infinitely more comfortable, they line the route with small tots perched high on their shoulders.

Taking their place in the line of march are khakied Scouts, smartly uniformed school bands, local officials riding in top-down convertibles, deck marching units, and the horses.

And behind the horses, there's invariably an undulating stream of kids on bicycles. Infected more by the parade than the solemnity of the day, they follow willy-nilly to stand quietly later at the cemetery as someone — oftentimes a student — recites the Gettysburg Address.

False starts by the nervous young speechmaker are ignored in hushed anticipation.

LOCAL DIGNITARY

A local dignitary speaks. The band plays.

Fire Tax Question Off Shelby Ballot?

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Kirby Holmes has stated he will ask for a withdrawal of the fire department millage question slated for the August ballot.

Another 1.5 mills has been sought by the department in addition to its presently voted 2.5 mills. The request will be on the ballot Aug. 7 in conjunction with a separate bid to win 2.5 mills for the police department. The police department is currently maintained from the general fund.

Said Holmes, "I have discovered that the fire department will have a $60,000 surplus at the end of the year. I know of three other trustees who were also unaware of the surplus."

Holmes has called a special meeting of the township board for 7:30 p.m. Friday at the township hall to consider the change in the ballot.

He said he would also ask why a $60,000 fire department pump, now on order, will be paid for out of the surplus funds.

EARMARKED

The money, he said, is marked for salaries and the maintenance of present equipment only.

KIRBY HOLMES

"You cannot call the purchase of a new pump the maintenance of present equipment," he said.

Such a pump can be paid for from the general fund, he reported. If the police win their own millage in August.

Also due for a hearing is the alleged $30,000 deficit the township will face at the end of the current fiscal year.

"Township revenues were apparently down," Holmes said, "but I certainly had no indication the township was in this kind of fiscal trouble when I ran for office last November."

PETITIONS

Also faced by petitions asking for police-fire retirement benefits, Holmes said such a program could be managed on voted police millage and with the current millage for the fire department.

He said it would require a referendum vote to change the wording to allow the millage to be used for such a purpose.

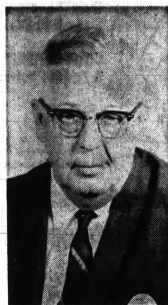

Riflemen discharge their fiery salute and a scramble ensues for the spent shells. Small boys who have stationed themselves with some forethought quickly recover the souvenirs.

An echoing "Taps" drowns out and soothes the infants startled from the rifle reports.

Older couples take the opportunity to visit graves and pay the Memorial Day tribute to the dead.

But for the youngsters, as yet unaffected by wars and death, the ceremony has been a beginning.

It's back home to check on the picnic basket supply and off to an afternoon anticipatory of the long summer days ahead.

E. WAYNE CONVERSE

New Clerk Set to Take Office in Oxford Twp.

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — E. Wayne Converse, 56, of 21 Pontiac, Oxford, will take office tomorrow as the new Oxford Township clerk. He replaces Henry Ladouceur who recently resigned due to "personal reasons."

Converse will complete Ladouceur's unexpired term to April 10, 1969. A realtor, he is a former village councilman and was the first clerk for the village of Richfield.

Avondale PTA Slates Meeting

Avondale PTA Council will host an open meeting to interview candidates and other members of the Board of Education at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Avondale Senior High School.

To Hear Juvenile Affairs Chief Youth Guidance Unit Will Meet

ORION TOWNSHIP — "Love them, limit them and help them achieve" is the title of a dinner talk slated tomorrow for the Orion Youth Guidance Committee.

Abraham Brickner, Oakland County supervisor and chairman of the County Juvenile Affairs Committee, will speak at the Franklin Settlement Camp, 300 Long Lake, Lake Orion.

A social worker, Brickner now is the executive director of the Michigan Heart Association and since 1959 has been a member of the Oak Park Youth Guidance Board. He has also served two terms on the Oak Park Board of Education.

"The overriding factor in any successful program for both normal and for dependent, neglected and delinquent children is the ability to consider the children, to listen to them and understand what they are saying and asking for," Brickner explains.

"After that you've got to get them involved and induce them to participate in your program. This is not an easy thing to do. It takes a great deal of patience and perseverance to understand children, including the 'betwens' those between 12 and 14, and the teens themselves which includes those 15 years old and older. Children under 15 are not teens," he insists.

DIFFERENT WORLD

"We adults who deal with youth need to always remember many things," Brickner adds. "We must remember first of all that this is 1967 and the world today is quite different from the world after World War II and tremendously different from the world before 1939."

"There are pressures on children today. The social, economic and cultural values of today are changing with bewildering speed. Whether they know it or not, those changes affect children. Programs that were effective 20 years ago — and even 10 years ago — are not necessarily effective today," he maintains.

Police Sgt. Leslie Perkins is chairman of the program.

Reports Citizens Committee

'Hospital in Troy Not Needed'

TROY — "Does the city need a hospital?" a four-member citizens committee was asked. The answer was "no, not for many years."

In a detailed report submitted to the City Commission, the hospital study committee explained that in the surrounding area enough facilities were available or under construction to take care of residents' needs.

Use is made of hospital facilities without regard to political boundaries, it was pointed out.

The committee looked into the future and estimated that when the city's population

GROWTH SINCE '60

The city population is about 28,500 at present, growing from 19,000 in 1960.

The committee recommended periodic reconsideration of a community type facility as population grows, but also asked the city to help any private facilities which may wish to locate in the area.

Thanked for their extensive efforts were committee members, James J. Damman, chairman, and Dr. Donald Reid, Dr. Karl Koerner and Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Road Toll Is 35 in State

By the Associated Press

The worst crash claimed the lives of three young Olivet men and injured two persons Tuesday night as traffic mishaps killed 35 over the Memorial Day weekend in Michigan.

The fatalities ranked Michigan third in the nation, topped only by California and New York, in the number of traffic deaths over the four-day holiday period.

However, the toll for the 102-hour weekend was an improvement over last year's 78-hour

Memorial Day holiday when 43 were killed on Michigan highways.

p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Tuesday.

THREE KILLED

Killed in the near head-on crash near Albion Tuesday night were Beecher Lykins, 28; Jerry Watson, 27, and Larry Cole, 23, all of near Olivet.

Watson's brother Gary, 21, was hospitalized at nearby Battle Creek in critical condition.

Harry Bieffuss, 71, of Albion, was reported in good condition at a hospital.

The car driven by Bieffuss attempted to make a left turn and cut into the path of the oncoming auto driven by Lykins on a county road 3 1/2 miles north of Albion, said Calhoun County sheriff's deputies.

OTHER DEAD

Other previously unreported victims:

Gerald Albers, 28, of Detroit, whose motorcycle and an auto collided head-on Tuesday night on a road in Oakland County.

Paul J. Watring, 24, of Temperance, whose car went out of control and overturned Tuesday on US 24 a mile north of the Michigan-Ohio line.

Earl J. Webb, 25, of Detroit, whose auto veered off I-94 and struck a viaduct Tuesday in Dearborn.

Utica Renewal Project Eyed

Residents Organize Improvement Group

UTICA — This city which voted against federal urban renewal earlier this year may be launched on an updating project of its own.

Some 50 merchants and property owners have organized themselves into a Utica Improvement Association — the avowed objectives being the creation of more parking space and a modernization of downtown business facilities.

Marvin Miller, owner of Miller's Toggery, 776 Auburn, has been named temporary chairman of the group.

Called together by Henry Scheper, owner of Scheper's Electric, 4514 Cass, the initial meeting was an attempt to find "a way back" for the town's economy, suffering, according to Scheper, since a pre-World War II businessmen's organization went out of existence.

Architectural plans presented by R. J. Debele and C. A. Ginter attempted to show how an early American theme in modernized storefronts would add to the looks of the town.

Warned that the project would cost them money, the merchants voted to hear representatives from Gaylord explain how they have improved the economy of their town.

Camping Gear Thefts Bear Looking Into

A motorized Yogi Bear? Campers in the Hadley-Metamora State Recreation Area yesterday reported the disappearance of four coolers, two camp chairs and a water tank.

Five of those victimized told Michigan State Police of the Lapeer Post that the thefts were discovered shortly after the passage of a strange car through the camping area.

Since bears have not been reported in the area, police are investigating with the intention of barring the facts.

Troy Home Owners to Air 2 City Issues

TROY — The Northeast Improvement Association home owners group will present discussions on two controversial city issues at a meeting 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Speakers will present both sides of the school millage issue and a discussion on the industrial zoning of Dequindre will be held.

The school district faces a vote June 12 which asks for seven mills, $7 per $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized, from property owners.

Auto Hits Geese, Teens Hospitalized

Two Almont Township youths are hospitalized today after their car yesterday hit a flock of geese, left the road and hit a tree stump, according to Lapeer County Sheriff deputies.

Officers said the youths were halted in Almont by a patrol car about 7 p.m. for investigation of a traffic violation.

But the driver sped away in apparent flight just before the accident at Holland and Hollow Corners, deputies said.

In Almont Hospital for observation is the driver of the car, Danny Corbins, 19, of 204 Currier.

In Pontiac General Hospital with serious injuries is Paul A. Stanlake, 17, of 314 N. Bristol.

Service Stations Stir Controversy in Troy

TROY — The problem of gas stations has ignited a controversy here among city commissioners.

Permission for locating six new service stations was sought from the commission.

On five of the requests & commissioners decided to re-evaluate the issue with the expressed fear that too many stations would be located in the city.

One station was approved — for a site at 14 Mile and Dequindre. No rezoning was needed in that case, however, while the others need new zoning.

The commission decided to delay on the other five and set a public hearing for 8 p.m. June 28. They also asked the planning commission to study the problem and possibly recommend an ordinance change.

OPPOSITE VIEWS

tions with Richard Halsey favoring a "free enterprise" position and John Kokalis preferring "controls."

Halsey said the commission should not "discriminate on the basis of brand names" and that competition would ultimately prove the balancing factor.

Kokalis, backed by Mayor Vincent McAvoy, favored more city control to help the consumer and a further study of the problem.

Marathon Oil Co. is asking for rezoning for four locations: Livernois-Long Lake; Rochester-Wattles; Wattles-John R; and Big Beaver-John R.

Shell Oil Co. seeks a station at Big Beaver and John R.

The commission also set a hearing for June 28, at 8 p.m., for a street asphalt project that was labeled "very expensive" for residents of the street.

The project on Lanerang north of Paddington bears an estimated cost figure of $30,770.

The assessment to residents would be $10.11 per front foot.

Lot sizes vary along the street from 70 to 170 feet, putting the cost to the largest lots at about $1,700.

The petition for paving was presented in 1964 and the building department pointed out much grading and drain work was necessary.

Commissioner Halsey pointed out that serious objections would be lodged by residents of the area if they are assessed so heavily for a "convenience" while necessities such as water and sewers must be paid for.

The Michigan Aeronautics Commission notified the commission a public hearing would be held at 10 a.m. June 12 on an application by the Jim Robbins airfield at 14 Mile and John R. for a commercial license.

Commissioners said they wanted city officials to maintain the city's opposition to the proposal during the hearing.

Dissolution Threatens Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The secession of Nigeria's Eastern region threatens the dissolution of Africa's most populous nation.

A proclamation of secession Tuesday by Lt. Col. C. O. Ojukwu, the Eastern military governor, raised the possibility of a similar action by the Western region of the federation. Its chief, Obafemi Awolowo, said earlier the West would consider itself automatically independent if the East broke away.

Awolowo was silent, however, immediately after Ojukwu's declaration of independence.

The secession decree, setting up a state of 14-million people inside a 30,000-square-mile territory to be known as the independent Republic of Biafra, drew a sharp threat of military intervention by Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, head of Nigeria's central military government in Lagos.

EMBARGO IMPOSED

Calling the secession "an act of rebellion," Gowon mobilized the army and imposed an embargo on the Eastern ports of East.

Harcourt, Calabar, Edemba, and Bonny, which ship a million tons of crude oil a month.

He said shipping companies operating there did so at their own risk.

Implying military reprisals against the East, Gowon said he regrets that "some innocent Nigerians in the Eastern states will suffer considerable hardship and possible loss of life in the hard days ahead."

Both the U. S. Embassy and the British High Commission in Lagos said they were not advising their citizens to leave the barge on the Eastern ports of East.

BENIGNO HERMANDEZ

Envoy Post Is Mystery to Nominee

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Albuquerque lawyer Benigno C. Hernandez, who has no diplomatic experience and never has been to South America, says he doesn't know why President Johnson selected him to be the next U.S. ambassador to Paraguay.

Johnson announced Tuesday he would nominate Hernandez, 49, to succeed William P. Snow, a career diplomat who is returning to Washington. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Hernandez said the first he heard of the nomination was two weeks ago when the State Department advised him he was under consideration. "They didn't say how they got my name," he said.

6th Fleet Is Ready for Mideast Action

ABOARD THE CARRIER Enterprise, Lawrence R. Gels, commander of the fleet's Task Force 60, said, "We will do whatever we are directed to do by the President and that includes a whole range of options." Like Martin, Gels did not elaborate on the options.

Vice Adm. William I. Martin did not amplify on his statement Tuesday.

In an interview, Rear Adm.

of A4 and F4 fighter aircraft capable of reaching the Suez Canal and the northern end of the Gulf of Aqaba, focal point of the dispute between Egypt and Israel. Egypt has proclaimed a blockade of the gulf for Israeli ships and of vessels carrying goods to Israel.

The carrier Intrepid, with 70 attack planes, originally was bound for Vietnam but has been held in the Mediterranean. It is the only carrier of the three small enough to pass through the Suez Canal and could beef up American naval strength in the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba, Martin declined to speculate on the carrier's command, might be ordered to sail through the canal.

There appeared to be no serious concern about two Soviet vessels—a destroyer escort and a spying trawler—which have been cruising near 6th Fleet ships for several days, although they have sometimes come within a few hundred feet. Martin said the Soviet action was similar to "someone coming to a party uninvited, knocking over your china and eavesdropping on your guests." But he would not describe it as harassment. "We're not overly concerned," one officer said. "They're usually friendly."

Pentagon Eying 'BAMBI' Revival

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon is considering reviving its abandoned "Bambi" project, a system of orbiting, non-nuclear interceptors designed to knock incoming ballistic missiles off course.

The name is an acronym for Ballistic Anti-Missile Booster Intercept, and a few years back Defense Department scientists were high on the system's possibilities.

On Nov. 20, 1966, Barbados, a 166-square-mile island, became the smallest independent nation in the Western Hemisphere.

2 Escapees Surrender

MILAN (AP) — Two Ohio men who fled from a work gang at the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan turned themselves over to police near Milan Tuesday.

Two others who walked away from the same work gang were captured Monday.

Robert W. Preston, 20, of Cherry Fork, Ohio, and William M. Sowards, 22, of Portsmouth, Ohio, knocked on the door of a house eight miles south of Milan and asked the sheriff.

There's officials took the men to jail.

The earlier captures came after a wild auto chase and a brief scuffle in which one escapee, Elvin J. Granes, 20, was shot in the left elbow.

State Police trooper B. J. Kelly said his pistol accidentally fired when Granes lunged at him.

Captured with Granes was Wayne H. Mills, 19.

The capture came after a 10-mile chase along back roads near Manistee. The four, all held for Interstate transportation of a stolen car, walked off the work gang Saturday.

'HIPPIE' DEMONSTRATION — Police, one swinging a club, close in on a group of "hippies" while breaking up a bongo-beat demonstration in New York City's Tompkins Square Park in the East Village area yesterday afternoon. Several hundred youths were in the group which refused to disperse. About 35 were arrested.

38 Arrested in NY Park Fracas

Police Rout 'Love People'

NEW YORK (AP) — The flute tooters, the Buddhist love chanters, the bongo whackers, the guitar strummers emerged from the underground onto the scruffy grass and dust of a lower East Side park and grooved their sound at the world.

To workaday police department ears, the incantation for the "Now Generation," just grated: "Please stop," a policeman said.

The reply from amidst the beards, bush jackets, regimental coats, and Mother Hubbard hats, came back as laughter.

Suddenly, the pulse of Hare Krishna, a Buddhist chant turned hippy love ritual was gone, overwhelmed by the grunts of a scuffle, the hollow thud of nightsticks on heads and finally the rising cacophony of a handle the crowds. Some ing fight that matched about 200 hippies and 100 policemen.

Tuesday's encounter, the first pitched battle in the city between law enforcement and the "love people," saw police snap a human chain with a nightstick assault and arrest 38 persons, including 10 women, who refused to leave Tompkins Square Park. At least two hippies and a patrolman were injured.

"We were just sitting in the park grooving on the sunshine and having a good time," when the police came, said Raena Love. She joined other women chanting, "You know we love you" at the officers as they dragged off prisoners to patrol wagons.

About 2,000 spectators watched as authorities twice called for reinforcements to patrol away from the high rents of Greenwich Village.

HILL 174, South Vietnam — It was midmorning when a U.S. Marine crawled close to the enemy bunker and tossed a grenade inside. In a split second, the grenade came bounding back and exploded.

At the same time, a machine gun opened up from a tiny slit in the bunker.

"They're still in there," someone called. Everybody knew it already. The bloody battle for this little hill along the south half of the demilitarized zone was far from over. Marines were on Hill 174, but for three days they tried in vain to declare it taken.

"Get some fire on that bunker," ordered the sergeant.

WOUNDED MAN

"We can't," came back the word. "A man is wounded up there."

The Marine who had tossed the grenade lay just yards below the bunker with a bullet through his shoulder. His position kept the Marines from firing grenade launchers at the bunker.

"I'll go get him," volunteered Hospital Corpsman Walter V. Marvin of El Dorado, Ark. It was Marvin's first day in combat.

"No," he was told. "Stay down. You can't get through that fire."

DID NOT HEAR?

Marvin apparently did not hear because he jumped up and began running — zigzagged, stooped, and forward.

The wounded Leatherneck saw him coming and began rolling side over side down through the tangled jungle brush. The corpsman tried to stop the man's bleeding but the hail of bullets forced them flat to the ground.

Marvin, a stout, blond youth, snatched the wounded man in his arms and bounded down to the comparative cover of a slight depression. He patched the man's shoulder, took a deep breath and rested for a second until the call "Corpsman!" broke through the staccato of the gunfire.

Two companies of the 4th Marine Regiment started up Hill 174 Saturday morning. As they neared the top of an approaching ridge line, they were pinned down by machine gun fire.

PULLED BACK

"They managed to pull back and artillery and aircraft plastered the fortified ridge line."

Monday, the two Leatherneck companies got to within 100 yards of the top before they again encountered heavy fire. One platoon was hit hard in the initial fight and took serious casualties.

Everyone dug deep holes to wait out the night and the mortars that would surely come. But the terrible crash of mortars never came.

Tuesday morning, Marine Phantom and Skyhawk planes blasted the hill while the Leathernecks waited in the thick elephant grass surrounding the jungled fortress.

When the Marines began throwing grenades toward the bunkers and trenches, the enemy threw them back. And they threw some of their own.

"Flamethrowers," someone yelled. "We need flamethrowers."

ers. See if the helicopters can bring us some."

All day the small arms crackled and ricocheted. Marines dropped to the ground, silent in their pain. One man, caught in the sudden spray of an enemy machine gun, was lucky — only minor wounds when bullets tore through both arms but missed his chest.

Chinese Read Mao, Hear Mao, See Mao

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is a report from an observer of a Japanese woman recently on a tour in China — a country few U.S. reporters have been allowed to see in the past 18 years. She is Chie Nishio, 27, a photographer of social documentaries.)

By CHIE NISHIO
PEKING (AP)—Wherever you go, Mao, Mao, Mao.

The Chinese don't seem to get tired of reading about Mao Tse-tung, hearing about him, seeing his face plastered across walls, shops, and buildings all over China.

When we crossed the border from Hong Kong to Shumchun, each member of our party received a copy of Mao's quotations. Then we went to another room of the station to watch a 20-minute song and dance performance by 15 musicians and dancers. The theme: Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

On the 2½-hour train ride to Canton, in the first class, or "soft seat" section we got tea and the conductresses began another performance. But first, an interpreter urged us to read from our little red Mao books. The songs were of Mao's greatness, or taken from the book of quotations. On the

We'd sing songs when the conductresses asked us. We didn't mind because they were fun. As the train rolled through the countryside, with its red soil, its poor—and sometimes prosperous—farms, its sparse trees and broad vistas, I thought how they built the Great Wall. How many people without machines, so many, many years to build, like the pyramids of Egypt; the suffering, the hard life.

MILITARY SHOW
In Canton, another show, this time by the army. They were waiting for us at the station, with a picture of Mao and posters proclaiming: "Down with Liu Shao-chi!" Soldiers gripped Mao's little red book in their hands.

Before eating dinner we read from Mao's thoughts. I asked our interpreter about religion. She told me the Chinese have freedom of religion and freedom of being antireligion. Religion is superstition, she said; we have Chairman Mao, so there is no need to believe in it.

Our guides took us in Canton to see a leadership school about Mao.

It was founded in 1924; it is a mecca for Red Guards.

At a militia training ground, there was live ammunition firing, live mortars exploded. Trainees marched with rapid strides, carrying Mao's quotations. Band music was interspersed with Mao's thoughts.

In Peking, Shanghai, Chungchow, along the Great Wall, in the communes, it was the same: An ever-present Mao watched us.

In a Fa-shan enamelware factory, the 500 workers turn out busts of Mao, read Mao's thoughts in the morning, at lunch and in the afternoon.

Fa-shan itself is plastered with Mao's pictures and quotations, written in white characters on red boards.

Shanghai, the noisiest of Chinese cities, reverberates to the name of Mao. Loudspeakers blare from 6 a.m. until late at night. I couldn't sleep because of the noise. In the parks, more loudspeakers.

At the ballet in Peking and Shanghai the stories were about revolution. The audience booed the villains—landlords—and cheered the heroes—People's Liberation Army men. At the curtain calls the cast and audience joined in singing a song about Mao.

Two Philadelphia girls who slowed away on a Norwegian vessel in New York have been denied permission to leave the ship by French authorities at Le Havre.

The captain of the Para, Gustav Ornaheim, said Pauline Gregory, 21, and Leina Weissler, 19, did not have passports. "We are about to sail for Rouen to unload cargo before making for Antwerp," Ornaheim said yesterday.

"Perhaps port authorities in Antwerp will allow them to transfer to an American ship there bound for New York. Otherwise, I shall have to keep them aboard and take them to our home port in Norway," he said.

"They are being taken well care of and don't seem in the least worried."

Movie Producer in Satisfactory Condition

Movie Producer William Perlberg was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday after falling ill while attending a show in Las Vegas.

A supervisor at Sunrise Hospital blamed exhaustion and the effects of heart surgery six months ago for Perlberg's collapse Monday night.

The producer, 67, had been sitting at a ringside table watching Miltz Gaynor perform.

'Sheared' Student Settles Out of Court

Donald Demoulin charged his high school teacher in San Diego, Calif., took a sheep shears to his locks. He took the case to court.

Donald, 16, and his mother sued on the ground that the alleged haircut in January 1966 was an assault and battery. They asked $30,000 damages.

Karl Bakken, the teacher, said the Fallbrook High School administration had given him permission to cut Donald's hair. Monday, while jurors were deliberating the civil suit, an out-of-court settlement was reached. The amount of the settlement was not revealed.

Donald now attends Escondido High.

Writer of Soviet Prison Expose Issues Appeal

Informed sources say Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, author of the first government-authorized expose of Stalin's prison camps, has appealed to other Soviet writers for aide in getting his new works published.

The 49-year-old writer, believed to be the author of at least two unpublished novels since 1962, was reported to have circulated a typewritten appeal among delegates to last week's Congress of Soviet Writers in Moscow.

The author's "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich" was the first novel published here about life in Stalinist concentration camps. Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev personally cleared it for publication.

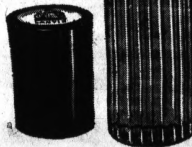

His last known published work was a short story in a Soviet magazine in early 1966.

Blueprints in Readiness

Rationing Seen Unlikely, but U.S. Still Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — If stamps and books could be printed in the Vietnam war on the U.S. economy stress they see no need on the horizon for rationing, a fading memory of World War II.

Federal planners gauging the possibility of the Vietnam war on the U.S. economy stress they see no need on the horizon for rationing, a fading memory of World War II.

"I don't know of any substantial, serious proposal that we have on rationing or wage and price controls," says a top official of the Office of Emergency Planning — OEP.

Any presidential bid for rationing would need congressional approval before the blueprint became effective.

SOME MENTION

However, no one in Congress seems to be worrying about about rationing although there have been some mentions of the possibility of going back to wage-price controls.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., says he sees no likelihood of wage-price action by Congress this session "although pressure for it will be building up." And Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., says any substantial broadening of the war will require more controls because of "soft spots in the economy."

A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers said that organization has given no thought to the return of controls. More emphatic was a spokesman for the President's Council of Economic Advisers who said the need for them is "as close to zero as you can get."

Still, OEP is ready to go if the wind changes.

IN STORAGE

Materials from which ration —More than 2,600 packaged disaster hospitals have been stored throughout the country. When uncrated, each contains everything needed for a 200-bed hospital except the building.

PROTECTION

—Several hundred radio stations are receiving fallout protection for their transmitters so they could remain on the air after an attack. These same stations are receiving emergency power generators — a number of which got a workout in the big 1955 blackout.

—The $6.8-billion stockpile of Service Administration, a unit within the Department of Commerce, has for about two years been managing war production both carry priorities. Because of the procedures in the Vietnam building, it is being called on to intervene in 9,000 expedite one defense order at the expense of another when such priority logjams a year.

It makes the decisions that such priority logjams a year.

While plans in the "national attack" category may never get a tryout, some at the limited war level are in use now.

Maybe Steven Daly is explaining to his wife, Sharon, the meaning of his metal sculpture. Both are this year's graduates of Cranbrook Academy of Art. Steve's sculpture is one of the pieces on display in the student exhibit which runs through mid-September. Gallery hours are 1 to 5 p.m. daily except Monday. There is an admission charge.

Artistic Couple Gets Degrees Together

Husband and wife teams working together are not unusual. Husband and wife graduates are not great news.

But it isn't often that a couple of artists who are Mr. and Mrs. receive their advanced degrees from Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Steven and Sharon Daly had that distinction at the recent commencement. Both have their work on display in the student exhibit now open in the galleries.

Native Californians, the Dalys met in their undergraduate days at San Jose State College. They were married in 1963.

MUSIC FIRST

Steve thought he was going to be a musician. He started playing the flute in third grade. But eventually, his interest in art crowded out the music.

As so many artists do, Steve said, he progressed from painting to the three-dimensional art of sculpture. Cast metal is now his favorite medium.

This September, he will be an instructor in sculpture at the University of Minnesota. He will set up a foundry there similar to the one at Cranbrook.

IN THE FAMILY

Sharon came to art more directly. Her father is an artist. She majored in fabric design and weaving here.

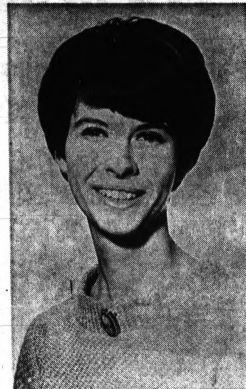

She wants to make one-of-a-kind dresses, likes best to work with silk screening. She has made several tube dresses for herself and others.

There is no competition between the pair as their work is so different.

Once, partly as a joke, Steve had one of Sharon's pieces of weaving cast into metal. Sort of the Midas touch in baser metal? Sharon is the quiet one of the pair: Steve is more gregarious.

Samples of Sharon's work are also on display in the student exhibit.

SUSAN BOBOWSKI

The engagement of University of Michigan graduates, Susan Bobowski and Charles R. Cornell, was announced recently at a dinner party in the home of her parents, the Edward Bobowskis of Detroit. His parents are the MacHenry Cornells of Ortonville.

Book Out

Glen Kaufman and Meda Parker Johnston, both of Cranbrook Academy of Art, are coauthors of a new book, "Design on Fabrics" (Rainhold Publishing Co., New York, $12.50).

Kaufman is head of weaving and fabric design in the Academy. Mrs. Johnston is an instructor in fabric decoration.

A reception honoring the authors was held recently at Cranbrook House.

Set Gathering at Cranbrook

Cranbrook School's annual alumni cocktail party and reunion is planned for Saturday evening from 4 to 7 p.m. at Cranbrook House.

Guests this year will be members of the seven "Mile-stone" reunion classes. They are: 1932-35th reunion, 1937-30th, 1942-25th, and 1962-5th.

Also attending this year will be the Kingswood alumnae group from Cranbrook's sister institution.

A special guest is Marion Goodale, Kingswood headmistress, who is leaving after 17 years of service.

She will receive a memento from Eugene A. Moore, class of 1932 and Oakland County Probate Judge.

Following the party, a dinner in the school's Great Hall will take place for the honored classes.

Reunion chairman is Ned Bearden, class of 1962, Birmingham.

Examine Reasons First

Why Are You Working?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Randy and I both have full time jobs and we are tired when we get home at night. There is dinner to prepare, cleaning up afterwards, and the million and one other things that require time and attention to run a home properly. Abby, I know this is supposed to be a woman's job, but I need help.

My day time job is every bit as demanding of me as Randy's is of him, so why should I have to come back to more work after a hard day's work, while Randy comes home to "relax"? I think since I'm also working, my husband should share in the housework. This leads to arguments. Please answer soon as the kitchen sink is still piled with dishes from two nights ago.

BUSHED

DEAR BUSHED: One question: Why are you working? If you must work to put food on the table, then Randy shouldn't mind helping with the housework. But, if you're working for extra luxuries, you'd be wiser to eat beans and work harder at making your home one which your man will enjoy coming home to.

DEAR ABBY: When I send a gift and it isn't acknowledged within a month, I don't telephone a relative to find out if that person ever received my gift. I simply call that person directly and say, "Last month I sent you a gift and had it charged to my account, which is now due. Before paying my bill I would like to be sure the article was delivered." It never fails. And by the way, I have yet to be told that my gift was not delivered.

Early American Women Could Pick, Choose

ANN ARBOR—Landing a man was easier for girls in early America.

"Men outnumbered women in Colonial days," says Howard H. Peckham, director of The University of Michigan's William L. Clements Library of Americana.

"For this reason many single women migrated to America, some as indentured servants, and found husbands."

"Single persons of both sexes over 20 years were a rarity. George Washington was an exception, for he was 27 years old when he married."

Prof. Peckham points out that women in early America were better off than their sisters in England and Europe.

MORE RIGHTS

"They were treated as persons, not cattle; they had legal rights not enjoyed in Europe. This was true even on the American frontier, where women were partners with the men."

A woman had more freedom in Colonial America. For example, she could go into the shops and handle money, which was not usual in Europe.

She also exerted a powerful influence toward stability in the new land.

She lacked political rights and her property came under her husband's management, but this property could not be disposed of without her approval. Nor could she be cut off in her husband's will.

"Nevertheless, Colonial society was not a good place economically for the single woman who had reached the old maid status of more than 20 years, says Peckham.

"She would have to be dependent on her family financially. It was a man's duty to marry but a woman's reason for existence, according to an old adage. Colonial America had no place for the bachelor career girl."

Engagement announcements were not big social events. Engagements usually lasted less than two or three months. Wedding ceremonies were not the festive occasions of today, and honeymoons were a rarity.

Family life in Colonial history is an obscure chapter, says Peckham, and little is known of close family intimacies and endearments.

FEW RECORDS

One reason is that few people could write, so records are slim. In the 18th century many of these uneducated persons were women.

A second reason, Peckham says, is a "greater sense of privacy." Many destroyed personal letters that otherwise would serve as clues to the life of the times.

And there was a difference in expression between the spoken word and the written word in Colonial days. The letters that are preserved are stiff and formal—even those to a wife, husband, or sweetheart.

The scant knowledge is also attributed to changes of vocabulary in different periods, particularly in words of endearment.

"The 'mushiest' expression in Colonial times would be 'my dearest friend.' This is a most intimate term between a husband and wife in letters.

Los Angeles Municipal Court Judge Noel Cannon (above), 40, is the object of a resolution by other judges seeking censure of her "personal publicity" activities, it was disclosed yesterday. Sources said a news conference by Judge Cannon earlier this month, at which she appeared in miniskirt and white fishnet stockings, probably triggered the action by the male judges.

Trace Hives to Menthol and Mints

NEW YORK (UPI) — The teen-age girl smoked a half-pack of mentholated cigarettes a day. She liked mint candy. Her toothpaste was mint-flavored. And her facial cream contained menthol.

LT. Cmdr. E. M. McGowan, of the U.S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia, reports the girl came down with hives. The dermatologist investigated, then ordered the girl off all sources of mint and menthol. Within 48 hours, he reports in the "Archives of Dermatology," the hives went away. He said it was the second reported case of hives due to menthol.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

May I continue with my little tips that I found helpful in my trip, and I hope you can benefit from my experiences.

If you are staying in one of the older hotels in Europe as I did, you will find yourself needing a robe for that trip up and down the halls to the shower. Since most robes are quite heavy, I took a dark print in a short length, and it doubled beautifully as a beach cover up over my bathing suit. I saved taking one extra item in this way.

I didn't use an iron once on my clothes, even though a friend had kindly given me a travel iron with a plug to fit every possible voltage. I think the big secret was placing every dress in a separate plastic bag (the kind you get from the cleaners). This seemed to work much better than tissue paper or any other method I've tried.

I also used the one large piece of luggage that permits your garments to hang on hangers. It was a cinch to hang up intact in any closet and saved much time packing and unpacking.

Next week we'll discuss the type of fabrics that pack the best and fit in best where there is a temperature range to be considered.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Julie Syms, St. Clair Shores, Mich., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

With all the spring formals and bridesmaids dresses coming up, and the sheer tent style dresses in vogue, I thought this hemming trick I worked out would help others!

Carefully mark your hem even from the floor with a hem-marker. Cut the excess fabric 1/4 inch below your hem and press the 1/4 inch to the wrong side. Turn up slightly more than 1/4 inch from the fold and machine stitch. This fold will now be double. It should cover the cut edge and will make a nice even hem. (If any of you have struggled with turning a rolled hem. (If any of you have struggled method quicker, more accurate, and much more professional looking.)

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I wish to make a wool jersey dress but am confused about linings for this type of fabric. There are several weights available and some are already backed.

Mrs. S. T. H.

Dear Mrs. S. T. H.:

Most knitted fabrics are not lined. This is partly due to the fact that the knit itself has quite a bit of give, and the lining fabric wouldn't. This could easily give a pulled look to your dress. If you wish to add a lining, I would attach it to the neckline and from that point on, just let it be a free-hanging lining.

Women love knits because of their softness and springy nature. It would ruin the effect to underline this fabric. Please don't forget, however, that the quality of the fabric has a lot to do with the satisfactory results.

Please send me all your ideas for fun summer sewing. Send all your questions and sewing suggestions to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Guard Summer Beauty

Has the inclement weather kept you out of your garden? Don't be discouraged. Take up where you left off. Remember the farmer's adage, "Cold May and windy, barn fillet up finely." (Ed. note: from "Five Hundred Points of Good Husbandry" by Thomas Tusser. 1524 (?) — 1580).

But weather or no, the smart gardener, be she in flowers, vegetables or shrubbery, remembers her beauty lessons. She wears a hat or scarf to protect her hair from the drying sun and wind. She wears soft, cotton gloves to protect her hands and nails. Gloves are especially important when using such tools as spade, rake and pruning shears.

Give the hands and arms the added protection of a skin lotion. An excellent lotion that can be made quickly and easily at home consists of two ounces of glycerine, three ounces of good quality witch hazel and two ounces of rosewater. Buy the makings at the corner drug store. It is so inexpensive that it can be slathered over all exposed skin for complete protection.

After the gardening session, refresh with bath or shower. Work out the muscle kinks with a witch hazel massage.

As the weather improves the children are going to be out of doors more, too. Be ready for the inevitable bumps, bruises, scrapes and strains.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Over two months ago I sent a fairly expensive housewarming gift to a dear friend out of town. When I did not receive an acknowledgment after three weeks, I wrote her a letter discussing various matters, and mentioning that I hoped she would get great pleasure from the gift I sent her.

I have paid for this gift, which was insured and sent by a local department store. I feel sure that if she had not received it, she would have written after my letter, but how can I find out without asking her again by mail? — Mrs. D. B.

Dear Mrs. D. B.: The time has come for frankness. Write her and explain that the package you sent her was insured and you would like to collect and replace the gift with another if it never arrived. Since you are warm friends, she surely will not take this as a criticism.

MONOGRAMS

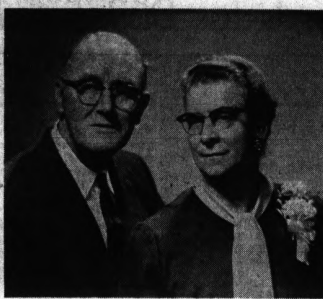

Dear Mrs. Post: In a recent column you said that linen, silver, etc. were monogrammed with a girl's married initials. I was taught otherwise, since much of this is often acquired before one is engaged.

My grandmother's silver has her "maiden" monogram on it. Is my grandmother wrong, or are you? — Barbara

Dear Barbara: Neither of us is wrong. Items acquired before one knows her future husband's name must be marked with maiden initials, unless she prefers to wait and have the marking done later. Otherwise, the old custom has changed and all possessions monogrammed after a girl becomes engaged, are marked with her married initials.

IF YOUR CHILD HAS A SPEECH PROBLEM... LET US HELP

If your child has difficulty in saying certain words or pronouncing various sounds, he may be among the one out of four children that need speech correction during the early school and pre-school years.

A child's reading ability is related directly to his speaking ability. Reading comprehension cannot develop correctly until proper speech characteristics are established. A child's understanding of the written word must agree with spoken usage. Without proper speech patterns, your child usually cannot function up to his normal or real intellectual level, and often is frustrated in his attempts to compete on a learning or social level with other children.

Now, through special course material developed by leading speech therapists and pathologists and the use of electronic language and speech laboratory equipment, your child's speech difficulties can be quickly improved or completely corrected.

At Electronic Educational Systems Language and Speech Laboratory in Lathrup Village, prescribed courses and personalized therapy in speech improvement for children from 4 to 8 years of age are given by appointment. In addition to the central laboratory work, the E.E.S. method includes home use of a patented, fully functioning portable language and speech laboratory that allows your child to practice in privacy, away from other children, at a time that is most convenient.

If you feel your child may have some speech or articulation difficulty that could affect his speaking, reading, or emotional development, call E.E.S. Language and Speech Laboratory for an early appointment. Your child will be thoroughly tested for possible speech disorders and sound discrimination. A report will be given to you regarding the best possible methods for corrective treatment.

All instructors at the E.E.S. Language and Speech Laboratory hold a Doctorate or Master's Degree in speech pathology, and are clinically certified by the leading professional organization in the field.

Choosing just the right dress for the prom is a major decision for Sandra Norton (foreground) of Sylvan Lake who is soon to be graduated from Pontiac Central High School. The situation called for some help from Pat Ferguson, juniors' buyer at Alvin's who keeps a record of gowns sold so that no duplicates will be seen at the same dance.

This 'Dolphin' Is at Home in Prom Fashion Swim

A member of Pontiac Central High School's girls' swim team, "The Dolphins," Sandy Norton is no fish out of water on the high sea of fashion.

Soon to graduate from Central, the young lady possesses a keen eye for style and color.

She credits her early interest in sewing for this. Over the years, the daughter of the Richard S. Nortons of Sylvan Lake, has managed to sew the bulk of her school wardrobe. But for the really big occasion, the prom, Sandy wanted to purchase her dress. "This" she says "is half the excitement of graduation activities."

CHOICE

Naturally it took more than a few excursions to find the perfect dress.

Simple but regal in design, Sandy's lime green peau de soie Alvin gown will just touch the top of her plain white silk pumps.

A deeper green satin ribbon entwines itself around the lifted waist, while a white lace coat repeats the green with a large bow fastener.

She and her date, Tom Pepper of Pontiac Drive, will start off the evening at a "Cocktail" party in the Sylvan Lake home of Marybeth Belanger.

Marybeth's date, Greg Erickson, will join them there before the whole crowd leaves for Oakland University where Friday's event takes place.

PARTIES

Several post prom parties are planned and Sandy's group will attend one or two of these.

The following day, most of the kids are planning a picnic affair at Caseville.

Once graduation ceremonies take place, it'll be a summer of work for Sandy as she begins her job as a waterfront assistant instructor for the Girl Scouts.

The money she earns this year, along with what she has already been able to save working in similar jobs will help with college expenses.

Sandy is accepted at Central Michigan University for the September term. She hopes to earn a degree in physical education. Long range plans are to teach in secondary schools.

INTERESTS

Sports and the fellowship that follows this interest have been overwhelmingly evident throughout Sandy's school days.

Long a member of the Girls' Athletic Association, she was chosen this year to hold the post of secretary as well as that of gym assistant.

And Scouting too, is one of her big interests. She is now a senior scout in troop No. 76 and its secretary. Her favorite sports are swimming and skiing.

Kerosene for Grease

Grease spots can be removed from work clothes by soaking the stained area for 30 minutes or more in kerosene. Then wash in hot soap suds in the usual way, and rinse thoroughly.

Keep Records for Doubting Husbands

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

A lot of women build up a guilt complex about how much they spend at the grocery store. They can justify the rent, transportation, utilities and what they spend on clothes.

But when their husbands complain about the household money — or when they hear that some other woman spends $5 a week less to feed the same size family — down goes their self-confidence. And up comes the question: "Am I really spending too much for food?"

Often this guilt complex is just plain nonsense. No husband can be expected to remember that quite a hunk of that so-called food money goes for other things — including his shaving cream, probably, and the family toothpaste.

So, unless a wife plays it smart and saves a supermarket itemized check list to show him occasionally, how can she expect to combat her husband's charge of "too much money goes for food?"

And how can she convince herself that what she's spending on food alone is entirely justified — unless she herself can see it on the record?

I've said this before and it bears repeating: the way to find out what the family food bill really amounts to is to use the two-cart shopping method. Put only foods in one cart.

In the other, put the non-food items. Check them out separately, pay them separately. If you've only been guessing at how much the non-food items cost every week, you may get a jolt.

Now I don't literally mean that you have to go up and down the store aisles pushing a cart in each hand. But at least make two trips through the check-out counter — after doing the food buying, go around again for the non-edibles.

As Mrs. J. N., of Gary, Indiana, writes: "Under the 'food allowance' comes soaps, tissues, cleaning supplies, paper napkins, snacks, mixes for the bar — and the wife's allowance!"

"Nearly every woman I know gets the same deal, silly as it sounds. The only difference is, some have more reasonable husbands than others."

"My husband 'generously' gives me $120 a month," continues Mrs. N. "That includes lunches and coffee, down to having my hair cut and buying him Christmas, birthday, and Father's Day gifts."

"I'm definitely not unreasonable, but simply cannot get by on $27.70 a week for all these things. The price of a haircut today is $2.50 to $3, and I try to make do for 2½ months. The young girls can manage, but my grandmothers look pretty ragged by that time!"

"I have only two answers: Beans — and fight; going back to work — and a fight."

"Miss Feeley, straighten these men out with some simple arithmetic figures."

Well, Mrs. N., you're not doing too badly with the figures yourself. But you just aren't going far enough. If more wives would stop telling each other how much things cost, and produce the sales slips for their husbands' inspection instead, more facts and figures would sink home.

I'm reminded of a friend who said her mother-in-law told her, at the start of her marriage: "Keep records of how you spend your household money. It's the only way to get along with a man. Assume he has a good business head — and let him use it."

In addition to this advice, I'll add: be aware of, and point out to your husband, that national averages spent for food around the country vary with localities. For example, the most recent figures established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture show these variations:

A family of four with school age children, using a moderate cost food plan, average a weekly expenditure of $34 in the North Central section; $30.30 in Southern localities; $34.90 in the West; and $37.10 in the Northeast.

Polly's Pointers

Hold His Nose

DEAR POLLY — I am a registered nurse with a pointer "hers" gift idea box. All year as my husband and I think of gift suggestions they are jotted down on a piece of paper which is dropped into the proper box.

Often ads are cut out of magazines, catalogues and newspapers if they picture anything that one of us may like. It is always wise to leave the price and place of purchase on the clippings to make it easier to shop.

This way we have quite a choice by the holiday season and are sure of giving each other things we really want.—MRS. H. H. B.

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Louise that I removed crayon marks from my carpet with upholstery cleaner. (Polly's note—I was out of upholstery cleaner but found that rug shampoo removed crayon marks from one of my rugs).

My daughter and I both are prone to getting caraches anywhere we are out in the wind. I lined triangular head scarves with millium (bought in the yard-goods section) and they really keep out the wind. I am a saver of old toothbrushes as they are good for so many things. One stays near the vacuum cleaner to be handy for cleaning its brushes. Another, near the automatic washer, is used for cleaning the lint filter and another, by the kitchen sink, is good for cleaning mosaic ash trays.—MRS. R.W.P.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of The Pontiac Press.

A Necessary Spur to Meet Life's Trials

(UPI) — Tension is a useful tool because it helps a person to meet challenges, reports Mrs. Marguerite L. Duvall, a family life specialist at Pennsylvania State University.

However, Mrs. Duvall warns, if life is perpetually difficult and a person is constantly worried and upset, he may break under the strain.

One response to tension may be to ignore the pressures, she points out. Someone under too many tranquilizers doesn't see the problem and may not respond to what are normal demands of the situation.

Mrs. Duvall says the ideal situation is one in which a person becomes tense when he needs extra energy, an extra sharp mind, or to cope with a problem. He relaxes once the challenge is over.

Raid Linen Closets for 'Cover-Ups'

NEW YORK (UPI) — After paper dresses, what? Well, madams, make way for dresses, pant suits and all sorts of cover-ups made from towels, bedspreads, shower curtains, sheets.

It was only reasonable to expect designers to invade the linen closet. For some seasons now, they've been advancing toga made from drapery and upholstery fabric.

Now that towels and such are respectable, you don't have to fret over again about what to wear. So you make a dress of two sheets and it's a windy night. They say you're two sheets to the wind. It's true — but fashionable.

The fashion okay came as part of a top collection by pace-setting designers who worked with nothing but bed and bath fixings.

FASHION 'PUT-ON'

The collection, billed as "Lady, You're Putting Me On," occurred in New York and was sponsored by Fieldcrest.

Sarni, one of the designers, transformed a shower curtain into an elegant evening gown — worn under a coat made of a blanket.

John Moore presented a full-length evening gown and coat ensemble, both in pink and both trimmed with jet bugle beads. The gown was made from a sheet; the coat, from a blanket.

Pauline Trigere made a bedspread gown from a bedspread. She also advanced a backless evening gown with a halter neckline, using a bedspread.

TOWEL TIGHTS

Don Simonelli, of Anne Klein Inc., designed a provocative hostess ensemble, featuring a floor-length coat in red, opening from the waist to reveal a short-skirt with wide belt and buckle. It was made of towels. Ditto for the pink tights included with the outfit.

For the bride who marries on July 4, Jon Haggins transformed a "1776" white bedspread into a distinctive bridal dress and cap.

TRIMMINGS

Highlights of other offerings in the bed-and-bath fashion show:

— Stan Herman of Mr. Mort's took cardinal red towels and created a short lounge robe for midday by adding black faille collar, cuffs and sash.

— Bill Atkinson took a scalloped sheet and a patterned blue bedspread to create a tunic over tapered, button-trimmed pants.

— Eloise Curtis added red-white and blue sequins to towels shaped into the shift silhouette. For formal events, Miss Curtis offered a backless evening gown made of towels trimmed with white lace.

The message from the fashion seers is clear, my dear: Need a new dress? Head for the linen closet.

Teaching Takes Most Graduates

NEW YORK (UPI) — A survey of occupations of 1966 Barnard College graduates shows that teaching remains the most popular choice for both jobs and graduate study. Of the 398 women polled, 40 per cent were enrolled in full-time graduate programs and 46 per cent were employed. Eight per cent were at home, job hunting or traveling. Of the employed, teaching claimed the greatest number of respondents.

A Drip Dryer for Boots

Take that discarded dish-rack and set it in a foil-lined box. It makes an ideal container where the family's wet footwear can drip dry, without making a muss for you to clean up later. Just set it on the porch or in the front hall, and it will accommodate all those wet rubbers and boots.

Slipcover Arms

When making new slipcovers for your furniture, make extra slip-on arms of the same material. Slipcovers will last twice as long and you will not have to launder or dry clean the slips near as often, since the extra arm slip-ons can be done separately.

House Likely to Go Slow on State Tax

LANSING (UPI) — Although the question of adopting the state's first income tax still weighed heavily on legislators returning from a long weekend rest today, little more than lip service is expected to be given the perplexing issue the remainder of this week.

A $239-million tax package that passed the Senate May 18 awaits action in the House.

State Rep. James Folks, R-Horton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, said he doesn't expect his committee to report the Senate measure out of committee just yet.

The committee had two days of lengthy hearings last week at which business and industry complained that the Senate-proposed income tax plan hit them too hard and would lead to industry moving out of Michigan.

House lawmakers are believed trying to rework the Senate package to meet some of the complaints of business.

OBJECTIONS

Major business and industry objections center around a 5% per cent corporate income tax and a maximum $265 business property tax exemption.

It's expected the House will attempt to adjust the property tax on business and industry.

Gov. George Romney, who said he could swallow the Senate-passed plan, had proposed a 5 per cent corporate income tax and a much more liberal property tax exemption for business.

But Romney, anxious to get new money flowing into the state's sagging treasury, has said he'll accept the revised tax program. It also provides some liberal exemptions for residential property owners and low income groups.

CEILING CONSIDERED

Also awaiting action in the Senate is a proposal to place a constitutional limitation of 5 per cent on any personal income tax package in both houses of the Legislature.

Warrant passage of a tax limitation provision could wreck the compromise Senate tax plan, which passed with bipartisan support.

"I think you're going to have to have Democratic votes to pass any package whether it's in the House or the Senate," said Sen. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek.

DeMaso, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, was largely responsible for steering the revised tax package through the Senate.

"It's wishful thinking if we think we're going to get 55 Republicans in the House and 20 Republicans in the Senate to go along with any alternate type of package any plan other than the Senate program," DeMaso said.

State Budget Director Glenn Alden warns that the longer the Legislature delays, the more critical the state's financial picture gets.

He has said the state's expected $30-million surplus at the end of June will be absorbed before any new tax program can become operational.

Romney had hoped the Legislature could pass an income tax by April 1. But that date is long past.

The state's money needs will become more critical the longer the delay on tax reform, Romney says.

The Maharaja of Bharatpur rolls up to the finish line in his 1921 Farman (lower left), and owner Amanjit Singh drives his 1928 Morris Oxford.

From Princely 'Stables'

Maharajas' Autos Roll to Vintage Rally

NEW DELHI (AP) — The era of the free-spirited, easy-living maharajas has left India with what may be the world's greatest collection of priceless vintage automobiles.

In the old days, and even in some cases today, no self-respecting Indian prince would be caught with fewer than four or five Rolls Royces in his "stable," plus a few "sportier" models.

Most of these old horseless carriages have been kept in first-class working order, with shining finishes, sparkling brassware, new upholstery and tires imported at great cost from Great Britain, Europe and the United States.

Forty-four of these beautiful old autos were rolled out recently for competition in an annual vintage car rally sponsored by a New Delhi newspaper (The Statesman).

With uniformed chauffeurs, family coats-of-arms on the doors, rulers' state flags fluttering from fender staffs and picnic lunches in the rumble seat, the cars were put through their paces on an 80-mile triangular course which ended at India Gate in New Delhi.

The oldest of the 38 entries to finish was driven by Maharaja of Nabha, a former princely state in the Punjab of northwestern India. The Maharaja, a regal figure with his distinguished beard, blue turban and more than 6-foot frame, won with his 1912 Rolls Royce, Silver Ghost.

A double victory was earned, however, by a 1914 Model T Ford entered by Moti Lal Advani of Bombay.

Advani and a team of helpers drove the old "T" all the way from Bombay — 879½ miles, as he put it. This feat won him a silver cup for the car driven the longest distance to the rally and finishing it.

He also won a trophy for the best maintained car to finish the course.

1926 AUSTIN

Another double winner was the 1926 Austin entered by Mohinder Kumar of New Delhi. His auto won the hill climb and turned in the best overall performance.

A 1928 Austin 7 driven by Balbir Singh put in one of the best performances for the first half of the race — the 40-mile jaunt to Sonha where all of the drivers and their companions stopped for a picnic lunch while their cars cooled off.

Balbir Singh said he purchased the car four months earlier for Rupees 900 ($106). It was in such good condition it took him only a few days to restore it.

Lt. Gen. Harbaksh Singh, Western Command, drove his 1936 German DKW in the rally, describing it as "tough, very tough, and hard on the old, un-sprung ones."

The general said he bought the DKW in 1936, "I was a lieutenant then; and I have owned it all these years."

Among the other entries were a 1934 Lagonda, a 1939 Bentley, 1923 Morris Oxford, 1934 Mercedes Benz, 1932 Mayback, and a 1931, seven-horsepower Austin which was driven 424 miles to the rally.

The Maharaja of Patiala's 1902 Coterreau, which won last year, was not entered this year.

'Improve Image'

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Charles H. Wesley, director of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, told the 300 graduates at Tuskegee Institute's baccalaureate service that through deeds and contributions they can "build a new image of the Negro American in American life." He said that until that image is improved, frustrations will lead to violence.

Yanks Warned -- Leave Macao

State Dept. Is Fearful After Red Protests

HONG KONG (AP) — The U.S. State Department has warned nearly 100 Americans living in nearby Macao to leave the Portuguese colony following anti-British demonstrations since Communist riots in Hong Kong.

Most of the Americans are retired businessmen of Chinese descent and their families. One of them said quite a few had gone to Hong Kong or were preparing to leave.

The Chinese-American said the U.S. consul general in Hong Kong, Edward E. Rice, had written him May 26 that "Macao is not a safe place of residence for Americans and your continued residency there would be at your own risk. You are, therefore, urged to discontinue your residence in Macao as soon as possible."

Rice's office confirmed that the warning had been sent.

BRITISH FIRM

U.S. officials are known to believe the Portuguese colonial government is either unwilling or unable to control the Communist Chinese in Macao. Early this year the Portuguese agreed to humiliating Chinese Communist demands following Communist riots and threats from Peking.

In Hong Kong, however, the British refused to give way to the Reds, and the rioting subsided.

A non-Communist Hong Kong newspaper reported today that hundreds of anti-British demonstrators have been ordered to Canton for training by Red Guards in how to stage a good riot. The paper, Truth, also said the demonstrators would be reprimanded for their failure to get massive support from the British colony's four million Chinese.

Travelers coming from Canton reported that Red Guard street posters are calling Hong Kong's Communist leaders "pig heads" and "useless dogs."

Usually reliable sources said 4,000 students in Hong Kong Communist schools will go to Canton this summer to attend meetings arranged by Red Guards.

Violin Borrowed

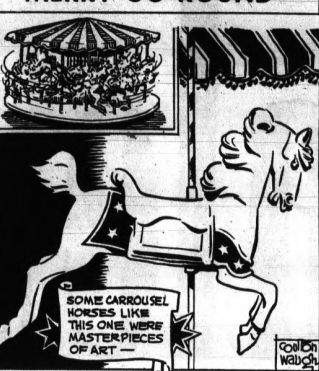

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police think someone was playing around with Sol Babitz' $3,000 violin. Babitz reported to police recently that the instrument, made in Germany in 1858, had been stolen. It turned up in a neighbor's back yard.

Junior Editors Quiz on MERRY-GO-ROUND

QUESTION: When did merry-go-rounds originate?

ANSWER: In the days of the French King Henry IV, entertainment with jousting on horseback was given at the royal court.

Some time in the late 1700s, a kind of imitation of this was made to amuse more common folks. It was called a carousel, after the real tournaments, but wooden horses were used in place of real ones. This was the origin of merry-go-rounds, still seen in carnivals and amusement parks.

You climb onto the back of a gaily painted horse or other animal and hang on to the pole in front as the machine begins to turn through the operation of a piston or electric engine. As the merry-go-round turns, your horse moves up and down, giving an exhilarating feeling of galloping along.

We show a beautiful white horse which once thrilled American children in such a merry-go-round.

Like many of the popular statues of earlier days, such as figureheads and cigar-store Indians, it was carved out of pieces of soft white pine fitted together and then painted with bright colors. Collectors today treasure such pieces as works of folk art.

Anti-Castroites Claim Blast Intent at Expo 67

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A militant anti-Castro group claimed credit for detonation of magnesium capsules near the Cuban pavilion at Expo 67 in Montreal.

Expo security officials called the incident "a prank" and said no harm was done. They said a bag was found beneath the producer (pavilion) Tuesday on Notre Dame Island near the Cuban pavilion.

A security official retrieved the bag but when he opened it and noticed it contained a clock device, he dropped it and withdrew. In seconds, the device detonated with a small bang and a flash.

Dr. Miguel San Pedro, acting head of the Cuban Nationalist Association in Miami, said, "The head of the nationalist cells based in Canadian territory says the operation was carried out despite extensive vigilance of the G2 agents of the Cuban Communist government."

"The nationalist chief in Canada adds that his movement will not stop until complete destruction of the infamous pavilion is achieved," San Pedro said.

San Pedro is temporarily replacing Felipe Rivero as head of the movement while Rivero is in jail.

Rivero, a 43-year-old Bay of Pigs invasion veteran, has been behind bars since May 12 when he was arrested on the ground that he belonged to an organization advocating violence. A deportation hearing is pending.

The Glyptodon was a giant armadillo of the Ice Age that lived in both North and South America.

Jordan, Egypt Sign 5-Year Defense Pact

CAIRO (UPI) — The defense pact between traditionally hostile Egypt and Jordan surprised even veteran Middle East observers today.

Jordan's young King Hussein and United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser signed the pact yesterday and sealed it with an embrace.

It was a surprising sight. As recently as three weeks ago, the two men had been hurling insults at each other.

They buried their personal and political differences, however, in the common Arab hatred of Israel. The pact threw the conservative Jordanians and the leftist Egyptians into a five-year defense arrangement under which each will aid the other if Israel attacks.

It is the same kind of pact which Egypt has with Syria. Alleged threats of an Israeli attack on Syria led to the present Egyptian mobilization and the tinderbox Middle East situation.

Three weeks ago, Nasser branded the 32-year-old Hussein as a "tool" of the United States Central Intelligence Agency. He accused him of being in collusion with Israel at the behest of Washington.

In return, Hussein taunted Nasser for failing to defend Syria against an Israeli air attack earlier this year despite the defense pact.

The key section of the new pact stipulates that in the event of war, the tough, 40,000-man Jordanian army will come under Egyptian command.

WAR DEAD HONORED—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, represents President Johnson yesterday in placing the presidential wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

Behind him, saluting, is Army Maj. Gen. Curtis Herrick, commander of the Military District of Washington and two unidentified aides. Assisting Gen. Wheeler is Army Sgt. Major Robert Bayles of Bluemont, Va.

PEEKABOO TIME — Not one to miss a good parade, 5-year-old Lisa Lamb bundled up yesterday in her mother's sweater to ward off a chilly wind at the Memorial Day parade in Fort Wayne, Ind. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lamb.

OUT OF REACH—Teaching the puppy she is holding to retrieve is a difficult task for 15-year-old Ellen Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Moss of S.W. Highland Blomfield Township. Looking on is the Moss' German shepherd, Momy.

DEMONSTRATING—Three-year-old Momy takes over the situation and shows how it's done. "She likes the water and she just loves that ball," Mrs. Moss says. Lacking playmates while Ellen is at school, Momy also romps with the ducks.

News in Pictures

WHAT TO DO? — Daniel William Walsh, 19-year-old high school senior from Holybrook, Mass., ponders a French induction notice at his home. Walsh, son of an American-born man and a French-born woman, is a man with two countries — and they both want to draft him into the armed services. He has registered with his American draft board, but is under orders from France to report to the 17th French Infantry Regiment for duty. The French consulate in Boston says a man may be drafted if he is born in France, born in the United States of French parents, or born in the United States to a French mother and a father of foreign nationality.

SCHEREZEADE'S DEBUT—A very unusual white single-hump dromedary named "Scheherezade," makes her first appearance at the Philadelphia Zoo yesterday with her mother "Jezebel." The tiny camel whose parents are the normal brown color was born Monday.

Bake Juicy Spareribs With Fruit Sauce

Pork ribs roasted juicy-tender, glazed with a sweet-sour fruit sauce and beautifully browned are just about tops on everybody's list of favorite foods. They're a wonderful entree for a buffet party and always welcome for a family dinner.

Cut into 1 or 2 rib portions before glazing for sensational appetizers. Fix plenty for every lip-smacking bite demands any other.

Spareribs require long, slow cooking to make them tender and juicy morsels. If baked, they require just a bit of watching. Cover the rib with foil during the first period of cooking to guarantee juicy, tender pork.

If you're short of minutes at meal time, you can cook the ribs and sauce a day ahead. Bake the ribs the first 1½ hours as the recipe directs, prepare the sauce and then store ribs and sauce separately in the refrigerator until time to prepare dinner the next day.

Walkiti Spareribs
5 pounds pork spareribs
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ cup thick orange marmalade

1 can (8 ounce) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar

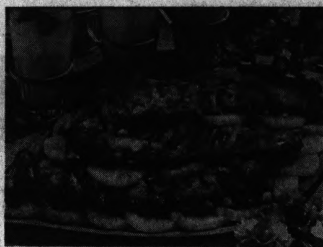

Bake spareribs whole or cut into 4-rib portions, as desired. Arrange ribs, meat side up, on rack in shallow baking pan; sprinkle with salt.

Cover pan with aluminum foil; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour. Remove foil; continuing baking 30 minutes.

While ribs are baking, prepare glazing sauce. Combine marmalade, undrained pineapple, cornstarch, soy sauce, ginger, garlic salt and lemon juice or vinegar in saucepan. Bring to boil over moderate heat and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Remove ribs from oven, drain off drippings and spoon sauce over ribs. Return ribs to (375 degrees) moderate oven to bake until tender and browned, 30 to 45 minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

SWEET SOUR RIBS—Walkiti Spareribs are tempting ribs with a sweet-sour fruit sauce. They're just as good as they look—wonderful food for a buffet or family dinner.

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Few drops hot pepper sauce

¼ pound Blue cheese, crumbled
¼ cup mayonnaise
Salt to taste

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Push cottage cheese through a fine sieve and beat until smooth and creamy. Add Worcestershire sauce, pepper sauce, Blue cheese, mayonnaise and dissolved gelatin; blend thoroughly. Add salt to taste.

Spoon into a 2 cup ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold on tray or serving plate and fill center with radish roses. Arrange cocktail crackers around one side, small celery sticks and olives around the other.

¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 eggs, separated

1 cup milk
1-8-inch baked pastry shell

Cream butter and sugar together. Add salt, flour, lemon juice and rind. Beat egg yolks slightly and blend with milk. Add to sugar mixture and blend thoroughly.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and fold into filling mixture. Pour into pastry shell and bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, 15 minutes.

Reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue to bake until lightly

Asparagus Shortcake with Savory Chipped Beef

1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 jar (5-oz.) sliced dried beef, torn into small pieces
3 cups prepared biscuit mix
2 pkgs. (10-oz. each) frozen asparagus spears, cooked

Melt ¼ cup butter in saucepan; blend in flour. Add 2 cups milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir in mustard and beef.

Blend ¼ cup butter into biscuit mix. Add remaining 1 cup milk and stir to blend. Turn dough out onto lightly floured board and knead gently 8 to 10 times.

Roll dough into a 12-inch square about ¼-inch thick. Cut dough into 3-inch squares, making 16 squares in all. Place eighth squares on baking sheet.

Brush with melted butter and cover each square with a second pastry square. Brush tops with melted butter.

Bake in a 425-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Split biscuits in half. Arrange bottom halves on serving plate, cover with asparagus spears and top with ¼ cup sauce. Add remaining half biscuit and spoon remaining sauce over. Makes eight servings.

Let's Talk About Light Refreshments

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Come to an open house. We're having a reception for the new couple. It's a shower for someone. The out-of-town visitors want to see all their old friends.

Whatever the occasion, you are entertaining at a party where refreshments are light.

The time of day, the age of your guests and your budget all influence what you serve.

You can get by with something as simple as drinks, salted nuts and potato chips. Substitute soft drinks and this will do for a pre-prom party for teens.

If you want to add a dip, here is an interesting one that is different.

WALNUT CLAM DIP

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 2-ounce package dried vegetable soup
1 8-ounce can minced clams, well drained
¼ cup finely chopped, toasted walnuts

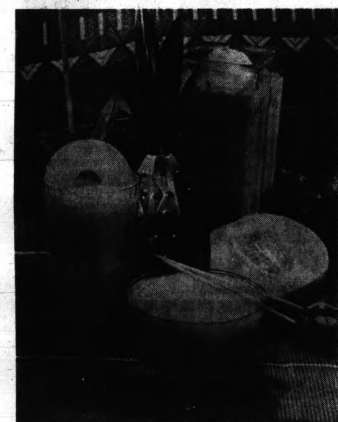

Combine sour cream and dried vegetable soup; let stand until soup mixture has softened, about half an hour. Process in electric blender with clams until mixture is smooth. Stir in walnuts. Chill.

Use as a dip for raw vegetables such as celery, carrots, cauliflower and sliced zucchini. Makes two cups dip.

A punch bowl may suit your purpose better than bottled drinks. Here are two; both are made with ice cream, one with fresh fruit, the other with molasses.

PINEAPPLE FRAPPE

PINEAPPLE BATIDAS

Vegetable Gelatin Mold Holds Chicken Salad

The humble salad, usually thought of as a "go-with" during winter menu planning, really comes into its own now that warm weather's here. What could be more refreshing to drooping appetites than a cool, delicious light cream, one with crisp greens and meat, or an attractive fruit or vegetable mold.

Make them hearty, make them dainty... season mildly or zestily, whatever suits your family's taste. But do let salads solve your menu problems often.

The glamorous Ring-Around Chicken Salad combines two favorite types in one... a molded ring of lime-flavored gelatin, seasoned with dill, and crunchiness with cucumber and radishes... and a center mixture of luscious chicken salad.

A real work-saver, thanks to the convenience and versatility of canned-boned chicken with broth. Tender, tasty pieces of light and dark meat chicken come ready to mix with chopped cucumber and a sour cream dressing.

Heap the chicken in the center of the gelatin ring, and add an extra touch of color with a sunny lemon garnish.

Ring-Around Chicken Salad
1 package (3 ounces) lime-flavored gelatin
1½ cups water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon dried dill leaves, crushed
1 cup chopped cucumber
¼ cup thinly sliced radishes

1 cup canned pineapple juice
16 ice cubes
Whirl all ingredients at high speed in electric blender until smooth. Makes 6 servings.

PINEAPPLE MELON COOLER

1 small cantaloupe
1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can crushed pineapple
12 ice cubes
Sparkling water, chilled
Peel and seed cantaloupe; cut fruit into chunks. Whirl cantaloupe, pineapple and ice cubes at high speed in electric blender until smooth. Four serving glasses ¾ full; add sparkling water and stir. Makes 6 servings.

PINEAPPLE BERRY FROST

1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can crushed pineapple
1 cup sliced strawberries
12 ice cubes
Vanilla ice cream
Whirl pineapple, berries and ice cubes at high speed in electric blender until smooth. Pour into serving glasses; top with scoop of ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

"MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED" PUNCH

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon rum flavoring
2 quarts milk
1 pint softened coffee ice cream

Blend together molasses and rum flavoring in a punch bowl. Gradually stir in milk. Top with spoonfuls of ice cream. If desired, sprinkle with nutmeg. Yield: Approximately 20 half-cup servings.

Ever since the Toll House Cookie was invented some 25 years ago, it has been a favorite with teen-agers.

Do you know that it is the only cookie native to the United States? All our other cookies came to us from foreign countries.

Toll House Marble Squares are a short-cut version of the traditional recipe; the batter is baked in a large pan and cut into squares for serving.

These cookies would be excellent with the above milk punch.

TOLL HOUSE MARBLE SQUARES

1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup soft butter (or shortening)
6 tablespoons granulated sugar
6 tablespoons firmly-packed brown sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon water
1 egg
½ cup coarsely chopped nuts
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; set aside. Blend butter, sugars, vanilla and water. Beat in egg; add flour mixture and mix well.

Stir in nuts; spread in greased 15x22-inch pan. Sprinkle semi-sweet chocolate morsels over top of batter. Bake in 375-degree oven 1 minute.

Remove from oven and run knife through batter to marbleize. Return to oven and continue baking for 12 to 14 minutes. Cool. Cut in 2-inch squares. Yield: 2 dozen.

Toll House Oatmeal Marble Squares: Reduce flour to ¾ cup and add 1 cup rolled oats.

If you don't want anything that's sweet and don't want to make sandwiches, serve hot snacks made with refrigerated dinner rolls.

Get them ready ahead of time and bake as needed. All ages should enjoy them.

SWEET 'N' SPICY HOT SNACKS

8 refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
1 4½-oz. can deviled ham
4 pineapple spears—drained
Unroll each crescent and cut in half lengthwise to make 16 triangles. Spread with deviled ham, not quite to edges. Cut each pineapple spear into quarters, lengthwise and crosswise to make 16 short sticks.

Place a stick along shortest edge of crescent and roll, tucking tip of dough underneath crescent. (Pineapple will project slightly from either end of crescent).

Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet at 375 degrees F. for 15-17 minutes until golden brown. Makes 16 servings.

Spice Bouquet Flavors Stew

The sprigs of parsley, onion and celery together to use as a flavor bouquet for stew, using a string. When dropping the bouquet into the stew, allow the string to hang on outside of the pot. Just before serving, remove the flavor bouquet and discard. It's easily done just by lifting the outside string.

Potpouri on Buns

Add diced leftover ham to canned baked beans with chopped onion, mustard and catchup for seasoning. Spread on buns, top with grated Cheddar cheese and broil until cheese melts.

Garlic Bread Important in New Salad

More often than not, it's the dressing that makes the salad. And it takes a different, out-of-the-ordinary dressing to make a salad special.

Sorrento salad is a special salad because of its deliciously different dressing, a dressing with a wonderful combination of flavors. The salad itself is simple greens. But add the tomato dressing and you have a regal salad for almost any type of meal.

Serve it once and you will probably find yourself serving it every time you want to offer your family and friends a special salad—that is, unless the man of the house decides to take over the preparation of Sorrento salad.

Sorrento Salad
2 slices fresh white bread
2 cloves garlic
1 can (8-ounce) tomato sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
2 quarts crisp mixed salad greens

Remove crust from bread. Cut garlic into thin slices and insert in bread. Let stand one hour; remove garlic.

Crumble bread into small bowl and add tomato sauce, salt, sugar, paprika, and pepper. Beat in salad oil and vinegar. Chill thoroughly. Stir dressing before serving.

Serve on crisp mixed salad greens. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Onions, Cheese, Plus Potatoes Are Crumbed

Though there are many Americans who feel that our cooks are not as frugal as they might be, not as clever in using leftovers as they should be, the interest in how to make the most of leftover mashed potatoes is one indication that we aren't bereft of our economic senses.

Here is an extra-original recipe for creating Cheese Potato Balls from 2 cups of cold stiff mashed potatoes.

Saute 2 tablespoons finely-chopped onion in a tablespoon of melted butter or margarine. Combine with the potatoes. Blend in ½ cup grated American cheese.

Divide the mixture into 8 portions of ¼ cup each; shape into balls and roll them in fine, dry bread crumbs to coat.

Add 2 tablespoons water and ¼ teaspoon salt to 1 beaten egg. Dip the coated balls into the egg mixture and then roll them in the remaining dry bread crumbs. Repeat. ¼ cup of crumbs will do.

Place the coated potato balls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 10 to 15 minutes, or until coating is crisp.

Save on Pork

If you want to save pennies on a pork roast, choose from the economical loin and rib end. These sections are the same rich source of thiamine (vitamin B1) as the center cut portions. Shoulder roast, shoulder steaks, pork hocks, shank half of ham, smoked picnic shoulder and sausage meat are always good pork buys.

Strawberry Cream Fills Coconut Crumb Layer Torte

If you have a hectic household schedule, especially at dinner time, you may want to ask friends over to join you for a mid-evening dessert. Guests who have the same problem to cope with will very much appreciate a leisurely visit after the children have been tucked-in.

This calls for something special—a dessert as sweetly exciting to behold as it is to eat. A Graham Coconut Torte is just such a dish. You'll find it easy to prepare ahead of time.

It is made with layers of packaged graham cracker crumbs combined with flaked coconut, and it is filled with fresh strawberries and whipped cream flavored with lemon rind and bitters.

Graham Coconut Torte
2 cups packaged graham cracker crumbs
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
¼ cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 cup flaked coconut, ¾ ounces
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup milk
2 cups heavy cream
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon aromatic bitters
1 pint fresh strawberries, washed, capped and sliced
Place crumbs in bowl. Sift flour and baking powder together into crumbs. Mix well and set aside.

Cream butter, gradually add sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Stir in coconut. Add almond extract. Fold in crumb mixture until alternately with milk, beginning and ending with the crumbs. Mix just until smooth.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold gently into mixture. Pour into 2 waxed paper-lined, 8-inch layer pans, spreading evenly with back of spoon.

Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for about 30 minutes, or until tops spring back when gently pressed with tips of fingers. Cool in pans on racks.

While layers are cool, remove from pans and peel off paper. Split each layer into two layers. Whip cream until stiff, blend in confectioners' sugar, lemon rind and bitters. Fold in sliced berries.

Divide mixture evenly on tops of four layers. Stack on cake plate and refrigerate for at least an hour.

When ready to serve, garnish with more berries if desired. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

GRAHAM COCONUT TORTE—Split layers of a torte made with graham cracker crumbs and coconut and fill with a whipped cream-strawberry mixture. It's a handsome springtime dessert.

Marmalade Covers Apples

Never mind traveling round the world in search of new flavors, new delights to tempt appetite. If you live right here in America, your local market will supply you with the ingredients for hundreds of unusual and delicious dishes.

A new kind of apple pie, for instance—Hong Kong Apple Pie. Buy your favorite pie apples—there are plenty of juicy, crisp good apples in the market, arriving regularly from the great modern controlled atmosphere storage supply provided for us by America's fruit growers.

Hong Kong Apple Pie
Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups thinly sliced tart apples
¾ cup orange marmalade
2 tablespoons finely chopped

Mix Sardines With Cheese

Another delicious, no fuss appetizer ideal for cocktail time. Drain the olive oil from a can of Norway sardines. Mash the sardines with a fork; add a 3 oz. cake of cream cheese and mix until smooth. Add 1½ teaspoons prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, a little salt and pepper and mix well.

Form into small balls and roll in finely chopped salted nuts. Yield: 20 appetizers.

crystallized ginger
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Milk
1 teaspoon sugar
Line 8-inch pie pan with pastry. Combine ½ cup sugar, flour, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt; add to apples; toss until apples are well-coated; pour into pie pan.

Spread marmalade over apples; sprinkle with ginger; dot with butter. Add top crust; flute edges. Brush with milk. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon sugar.

Bake at 400 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender.

A 'Mite' Upset Over Condition

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Telephone operators went on the picket line because they say their switchboards are bugged-literally.

Eight operators marched in front of Southern Bell Telephone Co. offices Tuesday to protest a lack of hot water and an abundance of insects.

They carried signs saying: "Ma Bell can't find plumber under the yellow pages" and "Bug bites are bad at Southern Bell."

Mitchell Roshto Jr., president of Local 3411 of the Communications Workers of America, issued a statement.

"CLOSEST THING"

"For those of you who are unfamiliar with miles, I can only refer you to a chicken house. These miles crawl around in the switchboard and when they get hungry, they look for the closest thing they can get blood from. This happens to be the operators' legs," the statement said.

Sniper Kills Two in Ohio

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A sniper in a third-floor apartment shot and killed two persons in the street below as more than a score of others jumped for shelter behind porches, trash cans and trees.

A few minutes later, detective Wilson Day said he and another policeman arrested Wilmer Chestang, 47.

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Marjorie F. Richards, retired executive secretary of the Detroit Chapter of the League of Catholic Women, died Sunday in William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. She was 65 years old.

Mrs. Richards retired in 1966 after 15 years with the League of Catholic Women and before that had been merchandising manager of Himmelhoch Brothers and Co. clothing store in Detroit.

Michigan Remembers War Dead on Memorial Day

By the Associated Press
Michigan paused Tuesday to honor on Memorial Day those who have fallen in war—those as old as Appomattox, as new as Vietnam.

In a world marked by one war and threatened with another, remembrance was born with such simple gestures as a show of the flag, with such flamboyance as parades.

And, elsewhere, honor was bestowed quietly with floral wreaths in the silent serenity of cemeteries.

At the same time, the nation's toll of war dead rose again in Vietnam and the threat of war in the Mideast crisis remained.

2 KILLED IN VIET
The Defense Department in Washington announced that two more Michigan men, both from Detroit, had been killed in combat in Vietnam.

They were Army Spec. 4 Leonard A. Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. Morgan, and Army Pvt. Gary M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. August M. Smith.

Smith was on his last combat mission before leave when he died in a firefight with the Vietcong, becoming one of the more than 400 Michigan servicemen killed in Vietnam since December 1961.

More than 10,000 American servicemen have been killed in the conflict, making it the fifth costliest war, in terms of deaths, in American history.

DEATH REIGNS
For some in Michigan, Memorial Day was simply a holiday, but death reigned for many of them, too. Traffic accidents claimed more than 30 lives in Michigan, drownings took more than 10.

In Detroit, less than 10,000 people turned out to watch the city's 99th annual Memorial Day parade. Most of the marchers were ROTC cadets in the city's high schools.

But an estimated 125,000 watched a three-hour parade in St. Clair Shores, thousands more watched parades in Dearborn, Farmington, Harper Woods, Clarkston and Livonia.

Another 40,000 were at Tiger Stadium to watch the American League leaders sweep a doubleheader from Chicago, 4-2 and 4-3.

Memorial Day parades date back to 1868, three years after the end of the Civil War.

In the nation's nine wars, more than 612,000 Americans have died in battle.

Morgan and Smith were among the most recent.

"He was our only son," said Morgan's mother. "He last wrote home May 21—the day before he was killed. He said he had been hungry, cold, tired and wet."

DEAD TAKEN FROM WRECKAGE — Policemen lift the bodies of four persons, all from California, from the wreckage of a Cessna 182 which plunged 7,000 feet to the ground after colliding with an Air Force jet over Phoenix Ariz., yesterday. The Cessna crashed in an area where there were no homes. The jet trainer, bound for Luke Air Force Base from Oklahoma, was damaged but landed safely with its two-man crew.

Senators Air LBJ Bid for Election Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal to have the government pay major costs of presidential election campaigns is in the Senate spotlight not long after a related plan tied up the Senate for weeks.

The Senate Finance Committee is considering Johnson's recommendation that direct appropriations be made to finance television and radio broadcasts, newspaper advertising, campaign literature and travel expenses for presidential candidates.

Joseph W. Barr, undersecretary of the Treasury, was to be the opening witness for the administration at today's Finance Committee hearing.

The amount of subsidies, with each major party to receive an equal amount, was not suggested by Johnson. Congress last year passed a measure sponsored by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., under which taxpayers, if they wished, could earmark $1 of their income tax payments to pay for presidential election campaign costs.

4 Californians Are Killed as Plane Collides With Jet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Four Californians were killed yesterday when their Cessna 182 plunged 7,000 feet to the ground after colliding with an USAF T33 jet trainer near Sky Harbor Airport here.

The dead were identified as Margaret Bennage, about 46, of Bakersfield; her sister, Betty Basset, 46, of Manhattan Beach; Andrea Cosiglio, about 25, Los Angeles; and Wayne Crabtree, 43, of Los Angeles.

Crabtree, an employee of the Federal Aviation Agency at Los Angeles International Airport, was the pilot of the craft which had taken off from Globe, Ariz., earlier.

The pilot of the Air Force plane, Maj. Billie Chambers, 38, was uninjured.

Graduates 3,500
BOSTON (AP) — The 3,500 graduates at the 1967 commencement at Boston University made up the school's largest graduating class.

Tulsa, Okla., managed to land his damaged craft at Luke Air Force Base near here.

The T33 trainer was en route from Tinker AFB, Okla., to Luke with Maj. Chambers and his copilot, Maj. Vincent P. Roy, 36, Southport, Conn., when the accident occurred.

JET DAMAGE MINOR
Damage to the Air Force plane was minor. Officials said the main damage was a hole in the fuselage just forward of the cockpit.

Neither of the two Air Force officers, both on active duty, apparently saw the other plane. An investigating team from Tinker was expected to arrive at Luke today.

The Cessna crashed about one-half mile from the airport between the railroad tracks near 42nd Avenue.

There were no homes in the immediate vicinity. The plane, rented Sunday from Gunnell Aviation, Inc., of Santa Monica, was demolished.

SEVEN LAYER SANDWICH CAKE—This luscious loaf is made with fillings of tuna, deviled ham and chicken, all spiced with sweet pickle relish. Serve it as an unusual cake for a birthday or anniversary party.

Ancient Food Still Aids Sandwiches

While it is impossible to discover the exact date on which cucumber was first made into a sandwich, research by the pickle packers has disclosed some facts upon which reasonable calculations can be made.

It seems that cucumbers are native to northern India. And it is known that some years before 2000 B.C. tribes migrated from that part of the world into the eastern Mediterranean area. It is safe to assume that the migrants brought with them the seeds of their cucumber plants.

Now the use of salt for food preservation, including the use of brine, was already known in the eastern Mediterranean basin. It is easy to believe that when the new vegetable, the cucumber, was introduced it would soon be preserved with the existing system of brining.

And so by inference, say the pickle packers, the year 2033 B.C. can be designated as the year of the first pickle.

Greek Style Puts Beans in Nut Sauce

Admittedly, "Green Beans a la Grecque" sound exotic. But don't let their fancy name discourage you — this zesty vegetable variation is easy to prepare and taste as exciting as it sounds.

In this savory dish, inspired by an old Greek recipe, the delicious flavor of tender, meaty-podded Blue Lake green beans is accented by lemon until served. Makes one loaf or juice, onions and pine nuts (if 9-12 servings).

none are available, use filberts) in a delicious sauce. It's sure to draw raves from your family and friends.

They'll especially enjoy these saucy, flavored beans when served with a dry meat such as veal cutlets or pork chops.

Green Beans a la Grecque
1 can (1 lb.) cut Blue Lake green beans
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 chicken bouillon cubes, crumbled
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup pine nuts, toasted (optional)

Drain beans, reserving liquid. Sauté bouillon cubes in butter until limp. Add reserved bean liquid, bouillon cubes and pepper; bring to boil.

Beat egg yolks with lemon juice, stirring in a little of the hot broth; then combine with remaining hot broth in pot. Cook 5 minutes, stirring over low heat.

Stir in beans and pine nuts. Heat through. Makes about 5 servings.

Steam Is Magic

You will have no trouble with newly-baked muffins sticking to the pan, if you have a wet towel ready on the sink, and set the hot pan immediately on the towel. The steam causes the muffins to drop right out.

You'll enjoy this Seven Layer Sandwich Cake. Make it of ordinary white bread with fillings of tuna, deviled ham and chicken; the fillings are all spiced with sweet pickle relish. The cake is frosted with cream cheese, and decorated with you wish with pickles and some bright touch of radish, tomato, carrot or pimiento.

Seven-Layer Sandwich Cake
21 slices (4 x 3½ inches each) white bread, crusts trimmed softened butter
Tuna Filling
Deviled Ham Filling
Chicken Filling

2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
¼ cup dairy sour cream
Sweet gherkins for garnish
Cherry tomatoes, radish roses, carrot or pimiento for garnish

Place 3 slices bread side by side on serving platter; spread with butter. Spread with ½ of Tuna Filling. Spread another 3 slices bread with butter; place butter side down on tuna. Spread tops of bread with butter and then with half of Deviled Ham Filling. Spread 3 more slices bread with butter; place butter side down on ham.

Spread tops of bread with butter and then with half of Chicken Filling. Repeat with three more layers of bread and remaining fillings. Butter the last 3 slices of bread and place butter side down to form top of loaf; do not butter tops of these slices.

Whip cream cheese with sour cream. Frost sides and top of loaf. Using cake decorating tubes pipe on fluting as desired. Garnish as desired with strips of cream, or slices of sweet gherkins, delicious flavor of tender, meaty-podded Blue Lake green beans, carrot or pimiento. Chill beans is accented by lemon until served. Makes one loaf or juice, onions and pine nuts (if 9-12 servings).

To make Tuna Filling: Mix well 1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna, well drained and finely flaked, ¼ cup drained sweet pickle relish, 2 tablespoons finely chopped radish, ¼ teaspoon celery seed and ¼ cup mayonnaise.

To make Deviled Ham Filling: Mix well 1 can (4½ ounces) deviled ham, ½ cup drained sweet pickle relish; ¼ cup finely chopped celery, 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese, 1 tablespoon catsup and 1 tablespoon mayonnaise.

To make Chicken Filling: Mix well 1 cup finely chopped cooked cold chicken, ½ cup drained sweet pickle relish, ¼ cup finely chopped pecans, 1 tablespoon grated onion, ¼ teaspoon curly powder and ¼ cup mayonnaise.

Note: Loaf may be prepared the day before, without frosting, wrapped in transparent plastic wrap and refrigerated. Frost about 1 hour before serving and refrigerate until serving time.

Salami on Rye
You'll be serving lots of sandwiches at picnics and backyard suppers in the days ahead. In addition to serving the familiar ham and Swiss cheese sandwiches, try salami with Swiss cheese on rye bread. Spread mayonnaise or mustard on the bread and place a leaf of lettuce on top of the salami. This is a mighty good combination.

OCC to Teach Gourmet Outdoor Cookery

Outdoor cookery has definitely arrived. Old timers who look back with nostalgia on preparing meals over the campfire will mutter, "What next?"

Oakland Community College is starting a five-week course Thursday entitled "Gourmet Outdoor Cookery." It is designed, says the brochure, "to make outdoor cookery a part of gracious living."

Two sessions will be offered on each of five Thursdays: 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. or 7 to 10 p.m. Both sessions will be held at the Highland Lakes Campus on Cooley Lake Road. The instructor, Arnel Dunbar, is a member of OCC's food service technology department. He has been in the food service business for over 20 years and was for a time the owner of a gourmet restaurant in Sault Ste. Marie. He is now a consultant for industrial catering. The first class session will deal with tools, equipment, fire making and control. Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and beverages will be discussed. Vegetables, salads and desserts is the title for the June 8 lesson.

Proper preparation of poultry and seafoods on the grill is set for the fourth lesson. A complete gourmet barbecue meal will be prepared and served at the final session on June 23. On June 15, the group will learn about meats. Included will be sauces and marinades and broiling and rotisserie methods.

Further information and registration may be made by calling the community services division of the college on Opdyke Road. Ever add grated cheddar cheese to spoonbread? Delicious with ham or pork chops.

Reds Ruin Bid for Perfect Game

Cardinals' Rookie Waits in Vain

By the Associated Press

After waiting eight years for his first big break, Dick Hughes was prepared to wait 55 minutes for the chance of a lifetime. His patience proved to be a virtue — but his fast ball hit him down just a few steps short of the Hall of Fame.

Hughes, a 29-year-old rookie who labored for eight years in the minor leagues before catching on with St. Louis late last season, pitched seven perfect innings against Cincinnati Tuesday night, striking out 12 and weathering a 55-minute delay after the sixth.

But his hitting Tony Perez led off the Reds' eighth with a triple, igniting a two-run rally, and the National League leaders nailed a 2-1 victory over Hughes and the Cardinals by pulling off a triple play in the ninth.

In another cliff-hanger at San Francisco, Jim Bunning ended opposing pitcher Juan Marichal, who had won five hits and the Dodgers' run singles by Len Gabrielson slugged out 10, including two and Willie Davis.

Marichal's eight-game winning streak with a ninth inning homer, hitting the Philadelphia Phillies past the Giants 5-4.

Pittsburgh divided a doubleheader with Houston, winning the nightcap 4-3 after the Astros took the first game 3-2, Atlanta split with the Chicago Cubs, bowing 12-5 in the opener before rebounding for a 4-1 victory.

Rookie Don Wilson checked the Pirates on seven hits in the opener and Ed Matthews hit his 49th career homer for the Astros in the second game.

Mack Jones drove in three runs with a triple and his second homer of the day, powering the Braves past the Cubs in their nightcap. Two-run homers by Billy Williams and Ron Santo, coupled with Ferguson Jenkins' 13-strikeout pitching, helped the Cubs breeze home in the

'Why Retire?'

Sarazen Is Still Shooting Par at Age 65

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. (NEA) — At 65, many men are happy to walk away from work forever and settle into a relaxing limbo while reliving past glories from time to time. Not Gene Sarazen.

Sarazen is one Golden Ager left from the Golden Age of golf who can still show the kids what the game is all about.

"It's not really a fair comparison," concedes Sarazen. "If I had spent the better part of my life working in a factory or an office, I'd probably be delighted to throw off the chains just like a lot of other people. But with me it's always been different.

"Most men can't wait to retire so they'll have time to play a little golf while I've been playing all my life. So why retire?"

Sarazen, who still plays three or four times a week, avoids winter's chill by going to Florida and is very much the coun-

KEEPS BUSY

"The show keeps me busy about three months out of the year," says Sarazen, "and I spend the rest of my time doing whatever I want to do." Which means golfing, writing, offering valuable advice to younger golfers and acting as one of the game's most active elder statesmen.

"It's O.K. to call Gene an elder statesman," says a young pro, "but I wouldn't advise calling him a 'grand old man' or anything like that. Not while he can still break par."

"Sarazen, who still goes to the tee wearing knickers, has had his share of oddball experiences on foreign courses with snakes, elephants and other wild beasts popping up all over the place. He has also had an opportunity to even or, in at least one case, better some old scores.

After ripping off back-to-back PGA championships in 1922 and

1933 to rank with Walter Hagen as the only golfers to have won the PGA more than twice) Sarazen

in the 1924 French Open.

La Boule, Gene's game came apart in the third round and he limped in with a staggering 89.

Last year Sarazen returned to

course in 72 strokes. It took him

42 years to prove his point, but

wants.

Sarazen was the world's No. 1 golfer during the days of the depression, when money was scarce and most Americans were more interested in where their next meal was coming from than who had the best chance to win the Masters. Be-

ified to ponder the problems presented by more than $4.5 mil-

GENE SARAZEN

"Why retire?"

Sarazen wants the PGA to bankroll young players so they can get started without sponsors.

Sarazen feels some of the bankers may be professional gamblers and other "undesirables" interested in the pot of gold at the end of a well-stroked putt. Sarazen himself started as a $15-a-week laborer who practiced golf evenings in a vacant lot.

Those days are gone forever," says Sarazen. "There are just a few relics remaining. Maybe, but nobody's ready to call Sarazen a relic yet.

LONG LINE — A steady stream of cars started flowing through the gate at Dodge 4 State Park early yesterday morning. Capacity at the park, one of the most popular in Michigan, was reached before noon. Other parks in the Oakland County area also received heavy Memorial Day traffic.

ANOTHER JAM — After waiting in line to get in the gate, boating enthusiasts also had to take turns using the launching ramp at Dodge 4 on Cass Lake. Boating pressure was particularly heavy because the cool day kept many people away from the beach.

It Happens Every Spring

It happens every spring and this year is no exception:

Some well-meaning people find young wildlife seemingly deserted by their mothers in the out-of-doors and unwittingly decide that those "poor little" creatures "need their parental care."

U.S. Cup Netters Stop in Oklahoma

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The U.S. Davis Cup team, fresh from winning the North American Zone Davis Cup semifinals from Mexico, flew to Tulsa, Okla., for a weekend of nontitle play.

Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., was the final winner in the Americans' 4-1 victory over Mexico when he defeated Marcelo Lara Tuesday in five sets, in a match which had to be postponed from Monday due to torrential rains.

The Richey-Lara match was broken Tuesday when the score was virtually tied at one-set each.

Not so, says the Conservation Department whose Rose Lake Wildlife Research Center near East Lansing is beginning to look like a wildlife orphanage because good deer have brought so many young animals and birds to its doors.

Now, department game men are equally concerned about the welfare of these wildlife babies and that is exactly why they are again urging residents to "leave 'em to the wild."

In making this spring-time appeal, game men point out these three good reasons for not picking up young wildlife:

- 1) Young animals need their real mothers to stand the best chance of surviving (don't mistake them for being "orphans" if you find them alone in the wild);
- 2) It's against the law to possess game animals out of season;
- 3) It could be a threat to your family's health. Some wildlife can pass diseases on to people.

Special Opening Day Reward for Top Bass

Black bass have been slowly moving onto the spawning beds and this could mean a possible record catch for Oakland County early in the season.

The official opening in all parts of Michigan except Lake St. Clair is 12:01 a.m. Thursday. St. Clair will open with the Canadian season June 17.

The Pontiac Press is offering a special opening day prize for the heaviest bass taken on the inaugural by an Oakland County angler. A $50 bond will be awarded.

Largemouths and smallmouths are classed together. The entries must be caught in Oakland County waters.

Entries will be accepted Thursday from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Friday from 6 to 8 a.m. The fish must be brought to The Press sports department for weighing.

The opening day winner also will be eligible for the overall

Big Fish Derby's $50 savings bond award for the bass division. This class and the one for pike will be open for entry until Sept. 5.

There have been no entries in the pike division although this class was opened May 15. A $50 bond will be awarded for the heaviest northern pike, walleye or muskie entered.

Entries during the derby can be made from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

MORE WEIGHT

The cold spring has delayed spawning for both bluegills and black bass. The female bass are loaded with eggs and this will add to the weight.

The male fish form the nests and guard them after the female spawns. Mrs. bass returns to her normal routine after being driven to a nest by the hard-working male and depositing her eggs.

The winning fish for the overall Derby have been averaging between six-and-a-half and seven pounds. Opening day winners run from four to five pounds.

Opening day bass fishing pressure is expected to be light with the big rush starting Saturday and Sunday.

Bluegills have been hitting late in the afternoon on poppers at several area lakes. These include Union, Stringer, Orchard, Holly mill pond, Lower Trout, Hart, Crystal, Upper Straits and Kent.

Action on trout has slowed with Foley pond and Maceyda being fair. Stream action has come to a standstill.

Saint Bernards to Learn Lessons in Class at CAI

The Waterford CAI Building will be the site of a two-hour obedience training class every Sunday for 10 weeks for Saint Bernards.

The principle instructor for the sessions which start this Sunday at 3:30 p.m. will be Roy McDermitt of Flushing. The class is open any age Saint Bernard providing it has an up-to-date health certificate from a veterinarian.

The cost is $15. McDermitt, in addition, will have a Saint Bernard Fun Match at his home, 61000 Coldwater Rd. just west of Flushing, June 11.

Sponsored by the St. Bernard Club of Michigan, the competition will begin at 1:30 p.m. and is open to any pedigreed Saint Bernard. The cost is $1.25 per entry.

Canine Obedience Class Set by 4-H

A 4-H dog obedience training class is being formed and will get under way Tuesday, June 6.

The weekly classes will run from 7 to 8 p.m. at the 4-H fairgrounds. Boys and girls from 10 to 17 years old are eligible to enroll their dogs. They must join 4-H if not already a member.

A health certificate from a veterinarian showing that the dog has been vaccinated must be presented at the opening night registration.

Additional information is available from the Co-operative Extension Service office (listed under Oakland County).

There will be trophies, ribbons and prizes in all classes, plus trophies for the best man, woman, girl and boy handlers. Judging will be done for both conformation and obedience. Dogs need not have shown previously in either category.

The judges will be Herman A. Peabody of Sheffield Lake, Ohio, and Harold Lavene of Flint.

Issues Warning to Boat Owners

LANSING (UPI) — There are some motorboat owners in Michigan—about 150,000 of them—who might soon find themselves in trouble with the law.

Secretary of State James M. Hare warned today.

He said records indicated many motorboat owners have neglected to register their craft and pay the required $3 registration fee. The current three-year registration period began last year.

"Our records show that about 325,000 motorboats have been registered thus far, the best showing we've made this early in any registration period but still far short of my estimate of a half-million motorboats in the state," Hare said.

He said some persons may have confused the registration with the annual boat licensing, a procedure which covers only boats of 16 feet or more which operate in the Great Lakes or connecting waterways.

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Aussies Use Tear Gas 'as Alternative to Bombs'

SAIGON (AP) — A spokesman for Australian forces in Vietnam said today an Australian Caribou plane has dropped drums of tear gas on Vietcong positions "as an alternative to high explosive."

A Royal Australian Air Force spokesman in Canberra characterized the action as part of the Viet Nam "mese" government's "Open Arms" program.

But the spokesman in Saigon would not describe it that way. The "Open Arms" program is aimed at inducing Vietcong to defect to the South Vietnamese government for a better way of life.

"It was carried out as a mission," the Saigon spokesman said, meaning the tear gas drop was preplanned. "It was a form of an experiment. This gas is an antiriot agent form, nontoxic. We dropped it in an effort to induce Vietcong suspected to be in the area to surrender. On that occasion it was used as an alternative to high explosives to see if any Vietcong would surrender."

RESULTS UNKNOWN The spokesman here said results would not be known for some time.

"We don't expect to get immediate results," he said.

He added that he was not aware that any Vietcong had surrendered right after the drop.

Normally, leaflet drops and pleas over loudspeakers are used in the "Open Arms" program.

The spokesman in Canberra said the drop was in Phouc Tuy Province, southeast of Saigon, from about 2,000 feet altitude.

"As they hit at about 500-yard intervals they burst open," he said. "Some of the target area was covered with a hazy grey blanket of gas vapor."

The Soviet news agency Tass, in a dispatch from Moscow, called the attack new proof of "lawless actions done by the interventionists." It said the action showed "how far the American authorities have gone in their desire not to fall behind their American troops in robbery in Vietnam."

He's a Hero Just the Same

Soldier Acts in Desperation

By TOM TIEDE

BONG SON, Vietnam—(NEA)—It has been said that soldiers commit very little bravery in war, only desperate acts of self-preservation.

Phil Wescott will agree.

He saved a friend's life here, but he insists he's no hero.

It happened a few nights ago. An outfit out of the First Air Cavalry Division was camped for the evening atop a nearby mountain.

ALL STARTED

Without warning an enemy artillery shell crashed into the U.S. position and filled the area with sharp flashes of exploding fire.

Dozens of the fragments tore into Wescott's tent and as the soldier snapped awake he heard his companion moan softly in pain.

"Let's get out of here,"

"Wait."

"What's that?"

"Voices."

"Shhhh! They're right outside."

HUGGED EAR

The two men hugged the earth in silence. The clamor of rifle shots and screaming was on all sides. It was easy to guess what had happened. Enemy troops were overrunning the American camp.

Finally, the voices were blotted out by the dribbling blast of a machine gun—and Wescott's tent was sprayed with bullets.

Then silence.

Wescott's eyes bounced around the blackness of the tent. Rain fell through the fresh rips. The soldier reached for his friend.

"You hit bad?" he whispered.

"I think so."

"Where is it?"

"I don't know."

"I don't know."

"I don't know."

"I don't know."

"I don't know."

"Will they come back?"

"I don't know."

SICK WITH FEAR

Wescott lied. He could still sense the enemy moving about outside. He was sick with fear.

And he knew damn well they'd be back.

The men stopped talking.

From time to time the wounded man made a muffled sound. Wescott tried to listen for the enemy.

Wescott's rifle was not in the tent. He had left it in a bunker outside. He had only a .45 caliber pistol. He grimaced as he felt its plastic grip. He knew nothing about the weapon. He had, in fact, never fired one before in his life.

Nevertheless, he thrust the gun out to his front, arm just resting on the dirt floor, his head tucked up against his protruding shoulder.

He waited thus. His head spun with bewilderment. His body ached with the strain.

Finally, there was a rustle and some frantic foreign chatter. Wescott watched in horror as the flaps of his tent flew open and an enemy rifle poked its way inside.

Wescott raised his pistol, closed his eyes and squeezed the trigger.

The shot caught the intruder squarely. It socked him backwards and to his knees. Wescott swore angrily. He aimed again. And he shot and he shot and he shot.

Later, when it was all over, Pfc. Phil Wescott was rightly credited with saving the life of his wounded companion. But he objected to this.

"I'm not a hero," he said. "I just didn't want either of us resting on the dirt floor, his head tucked up against his protruding shoulder."

He waited thus. His head spun with bewilderment. His body ached with the strain.

PARADES — Some 40 units of police, veterans and other organizations marched to the City Hall for a wreath presentation ceremony in yesterday's Memorial Day parade. Citizens lined the route to help honor those men who have died fighting for the United States. A wreath-laying ceremony followed the parade at the Veterans' plot in Perry Mount Park Cemetery. (See story, Page A-2).

U.S. Traffic Toll Hits Record 601

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents across the nation during the Memorial Day holiday weekend took a record toll of 601 lives, compared with 560 in the nonholiday period of similar length two weeks ago.

The count for the four-day holiday that ended at midnight yesterday was the highest ever for a 102-hour Memorial Day period, but was well below pre-holiday estimates.

The total compared with the previous high for the holiday — 542 during a three-day weekend in 1966.

In the most recent four-day observance of Memorial Day, in 1963, traffic fatalities totaled 525.

The Associated Press, for comparative purposes, made a survey of highway deaths in the nation during a comparable 102-hour, nonholiday weekend of May 12-16. The toll was 560.

Rain and stormy weather in many parts of the nation reduced highway travel and apparently contributed to the lower total.

CONSIDERABLY BELOW
The National Safety Council last week had estimated the final toll this year would range from 650 to 750.

2 Killed in County; Injuries Claim Boy

Memorial Day traffic accidents claimed the lives of two persons in north Oakland County late yesterday, while a Waterford Township youth succumbed to injuries suffered in a mishap Friday.

Dead are Francis R. Scharf, 29, of 1790 Kent, Brandon Township; Gerald L. Albers, 28, of Detroit; and Nicholas M. Siuniak, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Siuniak of 240L Crane.

Scharf died at Pontiac General Hospital, shortly after his car apparently went out of control on Kent Road in Brandon Township and slid into a tree about 11:50 p.m.

Scharf was alone in the car.

Albers was killed about 6 p.m. in the collision of his motorcycle with a car driven by Maelyn D. Foster, 39, of Columbusville on Grange Hall near McGinnis in Groveland Township.

Foster told sheriff's deputies Albers lost control of the motorcycle at a curve in the road before slamming into the side of Foster's car.

STRUCK BY AUTO

The Siuniak boy died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday afternoon, four days after being struck by an automobile near his home.

Driver of the car was Joseph O. Smith, 54, of 23650 W. 13 Mile, Bingham Farms. Pontiac State Police said the accident is still under investigation.

Kent Lake Swim Fatal to Detroiter

A Detroit man drowned at Kent Lake in Kensington Park yesterday when he reportedly attempted to swim from a rowboat to the shore of the lake.

The body of Harry Nelson, 21, was recovered shortly before 11 a.m. in eight feet of water by Oakland County sheriff's deputies and park police.

Red Warships Head for Mediterranean

CAIRO (AP) — Soviet warships began sailing through the Bosphorus today, raising the threat of a naval confrontation with the British and Americans in the Middle East crisis, Turkish reports said.

Naval sources in Istanbul said the advance party consisted of a submarine repair ship and four armed escort vessels bound for the eastern Mediterranean.

The Turkish Navy command said the Soviet government reported it will send 10 warships, in all, through Turkey's strait to the Mediterranean, where the powerful U.S. 6th Fleet and British ships are deployed.

One source said that even if these ships join a Soviet flotilla of about a dozen ships, the naval balance would remain strongly in favor of the United States. The Soviet flotilla, which has been shadowing the 6th Fleet, includes submarines, spy trawlers and destroyers.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-8, B-10

In other developments:

● Syria, whose charge that Israel planned an invasion touched off the current crisis, ignored the new Jordanian-Egyptian defense alliance and issued virulent propaganda attacks against King Hussein of Jordan.

● Iraq announced that troops had left Baghdad, the capital, to join other units en route to Egypt to face an Israeli build-up on the border. Baghdad radio said other troops will leave soon to join other Iraqi soldiers in Syria.

● Israel, already mobilized, announced the extension of the 47-hour workweek to a possible maximum of 71 hours to help make up for a manpower shortage.

● The Jordanian Parliament in Amman, the capital, adopted a resolution hailing the Egyptian-Jordanian defense pact as "the first step toward the liberation of Palestine and the regaining of the usurped land."

The Turkish naval command said the bulk of the Soviet naval force is expected to sail through the strait June 3. They are destroyers No. 626, 383 and 514.

Yank Detained in Spy Hunt; Briton, German Arrested

LONDON (AP) — An intensive security investigation focused today on the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Holy Loch following arrest of a British bookie and a German seaman on spy charges and the detention of a U.S. Navy sailor.

A team of detectives from Scotland Yard's special branch flew to the floating American base in western Scotland. Some were disguised as tourists, with fishing rods and waders.

Their presence around the rocky shores of the inlet, 76 miles west of Glasgow, came to light after Capt. George Ellis, commander of the nuclear-armed Polaris squadron, disclosed that a sailor stationed aboard the Polaris depot ship Simon Lake had been confined to the ship and forbidden any outside contact or visitors.

Ellis refused to identify the sailor.

"An intensive investigation is going on," he said. "There is one U.S. Navy man involved. I cannot go into this any further at the moment.

Ellis made his announcement 36 hours after the appearance in court in Dumfries, a town of 9,000 persons three miles away, of William McAffer, 30, a local bookie, who was charged with violation of the Official Secrets Act. He was ordered held without bail for eight days. The prosecutor said he had tried to get secret information affecting British and American security from a U.S. sailor.

Last night, a German seaman, Peter Dorschel, 26, was charged at Manchester, in the north of England, with inciting McAffer to obtain information contrary to the interests of the state. Dorschel was arrested last week and will appear in court Friday.

Dorschel came to Britain two years ago to live with the family of Christine Wych, a 22-year-old girl he had met in England when he was a cook on a German cargo ship. They were married Jan. 23 in Luebeck, West Germany.

Snarls Wounded GIs' Calls

Radio Ham Real 'Mr. Mean'

ABOARD U.S.S. SANCTUARY, Off Vietnam (A—"mean ham from Watts," in Los Angeles, is jamming calls from wounded servicemen aboard the Sanctuary to their families in the United States.

The Sanctuary, a hospital ship just off the Vietnamese coast, is filled with wounded American Marines and soldiers from the battlefields.

Every night, about 20 radio calls from patients on the ship are picked up by ham operators on the U.S. West Coast. The hams place long distance calls to the families of the wounded men and connect the radio signals into the telephone line.

"All the hams are great except for that mean guy from Watts," said Navy Lt. Val Galasyn of Canterbury, Conn., a doctor who is largely responsible for the service.

When the Sanctuary arrived in mid-April, the operator from Watts was helpful.

"But once he got our confidence, he started jamming our calls," Galasyn said. "He would take our call, patch in the telephone line to a guy's family and, just as the conversation began, there would be this terrible racket so nobody could hear. It sounded as if he was playing an oscillator into the transmitter."

"You can imagine what that meant to a wounded guy out here thousands of miles from home trying to talk to his mom or wife. We don't know why he does it, he just does it."

The Watts operator sometimes does not show up for days. Then he comes on and follows the Sanctuary station as it tries to escape him by changing frequency.

"All the other guys are fantastic," said Galasyn. His team of operators are Radiomen George Beaver of Palatka, Fla., Frank "Smoke" Stover of Rome, Ga., and Electrician Jim Lencioni of San Leandro, Calif.

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser appears to be gambling on American reluctance to become involved in another Vietnam in the Middle East.

Nasser has said he chose the time for his challenge to Israel. It has become evident that this timing depended not only on Egypt's state of military readiness but also on the situation of the United States.

Nasser's excuse for moving 80,000 troops into the Sinai Peninsula and Gaza was an alleged Israeli plan to invade Syria. But he could have found some such excuse any time.

The belief in Cairo is that Nasser gave the order to advance when U.S. commitments in Vietnam had swollen and the Johnson administration's political posture at home and abroad the world was weakened by criticism of its Southeast Asian policy.

Though not expressed publicly, Arab reasoning appears to be that Johnson cannot afford the political burden of another military intervention.

'INVITED' U.S.

Nasser has made plain he is well aware of the risk he is taking. He expresses respect for U.S. military power, as represented in this part of the world by the nuclear-armed 6th Fleet carrying Marine landing units. So he has "invited" the United States to keep out — to stay neutral.

In effect, he has said that if the United States keeps its hands off, he will confine any war to a straight fight between the Arabs and the Israelis. On the other hand, he has made much of Soviet professions of friendship for the Arabs.

If any other country intervenes, says Nasser, the conflict will become wider, meaning an American Soviet confrontation.

LBJ, Cabinet Meeting Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Middle East and Vietnam are expected to get priority attention at top-level White House meetings today with President Johnson back from a Memorial Day weekend in Texas.

He had joined the nation on Memorial Day in prayers for its war dead and expressed hopes for "a brighter day of peace" as tensions mounted in the Middle East and fighting continued in Vietnam.

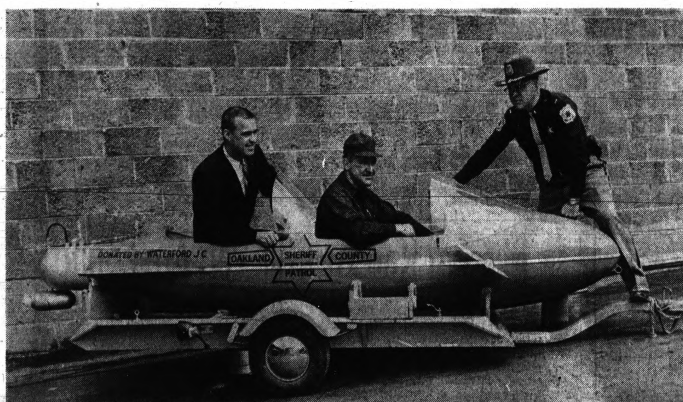

The President and his Cabinet were to gather at noon. Johnson plans a luncheon meeting an hour later with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Walt W. Rostow, Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs.

The President spent almost four days at his LBJ Ranch in the Texas hill country near Johnson City. He flew back with Mrs. Johnson aboard his big Air Force jet plane, landing early today.

The First Lady had gone to Texas Thursday to spend time with her younger daughter, Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent, who is expecting her first baby in the next few weeks.

PRAYER SERVICE

The President and his wife joined members of their staff and neighbors in a special private memorial prayer service on the ranch house lawn, with Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Christian Church preachers from nearby churches participating.

U.N. Can for Crisis Restraint Seen

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Some diplomats predicted today that the U.N. Security Council will adopt a resolution before the weekend calling on all sides for restraint in the Middle East crisis.

They said the resolution might be handed in after the council's fifth meeting on the crisis this afternoon and might be adopted Thursday.

The council meeting was scheduled to start at 3 p.m.

The informants said ideas for the resolution were put on paper at a conference Tuesday among Bulgaria, Ethiopia, India, Japan, Mali and Nigeria, who originally drafted a working paper on the crisis.

The Danish paper, using language from Secretary General U. Thant's report of last Saturday, appealed to all parties concerned "to exercise special restraint, to forego belligerence and to avoid all other actions which could increase tension," while the council worked on basic problems.

The new paper, inside sources said, dropped the phrase "forego belligerence" because Egypt disliking it and the Soviet Union, probably would veto any resolution that included it. Egypt bases its blockade of Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran on a claim of belligerent rights.

The informants said the expected resolution would propose that the council do substantially what Nigerian Ambassador J. T. F. Iyalla suggested it do.

At an extraordinary Memorial Day council meeting Tuesday, Iyalla stressed that "the council should issue an appeal for restraint." "The council should endorse the recommendations of the secretary general, particularly for the reactivation of the Egyptian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission," Iyalla added.

Danish Ambassador Hans Tabor, a later speaker, said that to get the "breathing spell" Thant had demanded, the council ought to launch an appeal to the parties for restraint which would be impartial, objective and urgent.

Commission Will Air Changes in Budget

City commissioners will be asked to approve changes in the city's 1967 general fund budget to reflect unexpected revenue and costs at the commission meeting tonight.

Appropriations for the $7.5-million general fund were approved by the commission earlier this year.

Hundreds See Parade in City

40 Units, Four Local School Bands March

Hundreds of citizens watched yesterday's Memorial Day parade in Pontiac. Some 40 units and four local school bands marched in the parade honoring the fighting men who have died in battle.

Honorary parade marshal Guy Poppy of 1321 Vinewood, Pontiac Township, a veteran of World War I, headed the parade, with Duane Shaw, president of the Pontiac Memorial Day Association, in the lead car.

City and county police departments and the police auxiliary marched in the parade which moved from Saginaw and Oakland to City Hall.

Dr. Milton Bank, pastor of Central Methodist Church, spoke at the City Hall ceremony. Poppy and Shaw presented the wreath.

FIRING SQUAD

The invocation and benediction were given by Irvin Taylor, the Memorial Day Association's chaplain.

A firing squad from the Chief Pontiac Post 377 fired a salute.

Man Quizzed After Knifing

A 29-year-old man arrested at the scene of a brawl yesterday was questioned by Pontiac police today in an attempt to learn the identity of a youth alleged to have stabbed another participant in the fight.

Arnold Ochoa of 730 Vaughn was held on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct following a reported fight involving Ochoa and three companions with four other men.

Victim of the stabbing Gilbert Klein, 25, of 505 Hillster is reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital, where he is being treated for a severe laceration of the chest and stomach.

Death Claims Veteran Actor Claude Rains

LACONIA, N.H. (AP) — Watching the replay of his first Hollywood screen test, Claude Rains cringed.

"I was horrified," the actor said. "I stank. I knew immediately that I hadn't the slightest chance for a film career."

A director at another studio, casting "The Invisible Man," saw the test and said: "I don't care what he looks like. That's the voice I want."

So the mellow-voiced Rains, a suave sophisticate who was already a star of the London and Broadway stage, got the role. It launched a motion picture career that spanned a quarter of a century.

DEAD AT 77

Rains died Tuesday at Lakes Region Hospital after a long illness. He was 77.

In an acting career that began with an appearance at age 11 in a London stage production of "Sweet Nell of Old Drury," Rains played charming lovers, ruthless villains, sympathetic soundrels and doting fathers.

His Hollywood success came in 1938, when Rains starred— but seldom appeared—in "The Invisible Man." He died at the end, when he died and materialized.

Rains went on to star in over 30 films. His Oscar nominations were for "Mr. Skeffington," in which he played Bette Davis' lover, "Notorious Deception," "Mr. Smith goes to Washington," and "Casablanca."

2 Fuel Dumps Hit Near Hub of Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy jets from the carrier Hancock flew through a hail of missiles and antiaircraft fire today to bomb two fuel dumps less than four miles from the center of Haiphong.

The daylight raid on the dumps just across the Kua Kam River was the closest attack to either Hanoi or Haiphong in more than a week. There had been reports from Washington that U.S. raids on the immediate areas of North Vietnam's two major cities were being suspended temporarily while U.S. planes concentrated on less-well-defended targets.

Heavy ground fighting was reported in South Vietnam Tuesday and today. U.S. Marines were fighting near the demilitarized zone, troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division had a rough fight south of Da Nang, and South Vietnamese forces reported they killed 100 Communists, also south of Da Nang, and 41 Vietcong in a battle 85 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. headquarters reported three U.S. aircraft lost in the past 24 hours, two over North Vietnam, and a helicopter shot down and destroyed in South Vietnam. This raised the total losses to 564 combat planes in the war against North Vietnam and 181 in South Vietnam. One Navy pilot was missing and one Marine pilot was killed.

The Navy said the Haiphong raid hit the Loi Dong and Cong My petroleum dumps. Loi Dong, a major facility, had been bombed three times previously, but the raid on Cong My was the first.

Army Doctor's Trial Now Turns to Prosecution

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Army prosecutors set out today to refute the defense for Capt. Howard B. Levy, the Army doctor whose court-martial for refusing to train combat medics was turned into a landmark test of medical privilege in the military.

The defense rested Tuesday, nearly three weeks after the trial started—with testimony by physicians in support of the theory that medical ethics override Army orders. There is believed to be no military precedent for this defense.

Levy was not called to testify. Dr. Benjamin Spock, national-known children's doctor and author, who strongly opposes overseas Army orders, testified, told the 10-man court-martial panel that he believed medical aid men would be consistent with medical ethics.

Ford Explains Opposition to Dixie Dem Coalition

WASHINGTON (AP) — House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford says most House Republicans support his declaration that he wants no formal coalition with Southern Democratic congressmen.

"I never contemplated that I did not want Democratic votes," Ford said in an interview. "But we ourselves must determine Republican policy."

Some Southern Democrats have been critical of his position, Ford said, and have complained he is more interested in politics than in principle.

"But if we believe in a two-party system, it is good strategy," said the Michigan congressman.

"MUST BE CONSIDERED"

There is an active Republican organization in almost every Southern state, he said, and Republican congressional leaders must keep this in mind in considering any liaisons with Southern Democrats who are the election foes of Southern Republicans.

The Republicans' 47-seat gain in House strength has enabled them to cut administration domestic spending this year, both in committee and on the floor, he said. Republicans gained up to six seats on some committees, he observed.

Ford also said: — He still opposes the administration's request for a 6 percent surtax on incomes.

— Republicans shouldn't attempt to make a political issue of the Vietnam war.

"INACCURATE, CONFUSED"

"The administration has been so inaccurate and confused in its own figures for the budget, it is difficult to be precise," he said. "But if we use the budget that President Johnson submitted in January, there is no justification for a tax increase."

"We must continue our efforts to reduce nonessential expenditures. Even with intimations that the budget will be $20 billion out of balance, I am not sold on the need for a tax increase."

3 Missing Kansas Children Are Found

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Three children missing from their rural Johnson County, Kan., home were found shortly after 6 a.m. today walking along railroad tracks in Belton, Mo., about 15 miles northeast of their home. Officers said they were sleepy but unharmed.

The children, Robert Underwood, 12; his brother, Kenneth, 9, and a sister, Tressa, 7, had been the object of an overnight search by Johnson County sheriff's officers and volunteers. The children of John and Darlene Underwood of Stilwell, Kan., they were last seen Tuesday afternoon near railroad tracks about two miles from their home.

Officer Terry Price said he was patrolling in his car when he found the children walking along the tracks, about one block off the main street in Belton.

The youngsters—told Price they had walked the tracks all night.

They were found just as Johnson County officers were prepared to renew their search in a heavily wooded area using helicopters and men on horseback.

Pratt Appeal Decision Soon

State Supreme Court May Rule in 10 Days

The Michigan State Supreme Court is expected to rule within 10 days on the legality of Oakland County's One-man grand jury investigation.

An appeal was filed with the high court Monday by the state attorney general's office in an effort to override a decision handed down last week by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The Appellate Court stated that the grand juror, Circuit Judge Philip Pratt, had gone beyond the one-year constitutional limit of a grand jury function.

Pratt ended a year-long grand jury probe last June, and began another two months later.

Jerome K. Barry, chief prosecutor for the present investigation, said today that the Supreme Court probably will rule on the appeal by June 9, the last day of the current session.

HALTED PENDING DECISION

If the Supreme Court overrules the Appeals Court, Pratt's investigation could continue until mid-August.

The investigation has been halted pending the Supreme Court decision.

The appeals court ruling came in an order killing a subpoena issued by Pratt against Madison Heights druggist Emil Pavlovich, who charged that the proceedings were illegal.

To date Pratt has issued indictments against three persons. The cases are still pending in lower courts.

The grand jury has been in existence for more than 100 years, sometimes reaching 150 years old.

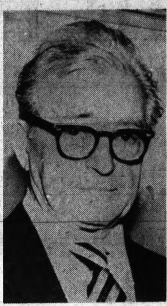

3 Groups Shun Parade That Has John Birch Float

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — Three organizations, protesting participation of a John Birch Society float, boycotted Norwalk's Memorial Day parade.

Missing from the line of march were the Jewish War Veterans, the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Disabled War Veterans. The Birch Society float was very much in evidence. It depicted a grave scene, with four crosses and a Star of David.

Behind the float moved three open convertible cars bearing John Birch Society labels.

The boycott followed a vote last Friday by the Norwalk Memorial Day committee which reaffirmed a previous decision that no organization be excluded from the parade.

From Princely 'Stables'

Maharajas' Autos Roll to Vintage Rally

NEW DELHI (AP) — The era of the free-spending, easy-living maharajas has left India with what may be the world's greatest collection of priceless vintage automobiles.

In the old days, and even in some cases today, no self-respecting Indian prince would be caught with fewer than four or five Rolls Royces in his "stable," plus a few "sportier" models.

Most of these old horseless carriages have been kept in first-class working order, with shining finishes, sparkling brassware, new upholstery and tires imported at great cost from Great Britain, Europe and the United States.

Forty-four of these beautiful old autos were rolled out recently for competition in an annual vintage car rally sponsored by a New Delhi newspaper (The Statesman).

With uniformed chauffeurs, family coats-of-arms on the doors, rulers' state flags fluttering from fender staffs and picnic lunches in the rumble seat, the cars were put through their paces on an 80-mile triangular course which ended at India Gate in New Delhi.

The oldest of the 38 entries to finish was driven by the Maharaja of Nabha, a former princely state in the Punjab of northwestern India. The Maharaja, a regal figure with his distinguished beard, blue turban and more than 6-foot frame, won with his 1912 Rolls Royce, Silver Ghost.

A double victory was earned, however, by a 1914 Model T Ford entered by Moti Lal Advani of Bombay.

Advani and a team of helpers drove the old "T" all the way from Bombay — 679½ miles, as he put it. This feat won him a silver cup for the car driven the longest distance to the rally and finishing it.

He also won a trophy for the best maintained car to finish the course.

1926 AUSTIN

Another double winner was the 1926 Austin entered by Mohinder Kumar of New Delhi. His auto won the hill climb and turned in the best overall performance.

A 1928 Austin 7 driven by Balbir Singh put in one of the best performances for the first half of the race — the 40-mile jaunt to Sohna where all of the drivers and their companions stopped for a picnic lunch while their cars cooled off.

Balbir Singh said he purchased the car four months earlier for Rupees 800 ($106). It was in such good condition it took him only a few days to restore it.

Lt. Gen. Harbakh Singh Western Command, drove his 1936 German DKW in the rally, describing it as "tough, very tough, and hard on the old, un-sprung ones."

The general said he bought the DKW in 1936, "I was a lieutenant then; and I have owned it all these years."

Among the other entries were a 1934 Lagonda, a 1939 Bentley, 1928 Morris Oxford, 1934 Mercedes Benz, 1932 Maybach, and a 1931, seven-horsepower Austin which was driven 424 miles to the rally.

The Maharaja of Patiala's 1902 Cotterau, which won last year, was not entered this year.

House Likely to Go Slow on State Tax

LANSING (UPI) — Although liberal exemptions for residential property owners and low income groups.

CEILING CONSIDERED Also awaiting action in the Senate is a proposal to place a constitutional limitation of 5 per cent on any personal income tax package in both houses of the Legislature, warn passage of a tax limitation provision could wreck the compromise Senate tax plan, which passed with bipartisan support.

A $239-million tax package that passed the Senate May 19 awaits action in the House.

State Rep. James Folks, R-Horton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, said he doesn't expect his committee to report the Senate measure out of committee just yet.

The committee had two days of lengthy hearings last week at which business and industry complained that the Senate-proposed income tax plan hit them too hard and would lead to industry moving out of Michigan.

House lawmakers are believed trying to fework the Senate package to meet some of the complaints of business.

OBJECTIONS Major business and industry objections center around a 5½ per cent corporate income tax and a maximum $265 business property tax exemption.

It's expected the House will attempt to adjust the property tax on business and industry.

Gov. George Romney, who said he could swallow the Senate-passed plan, had proposed a 5 per cent corporate income tax and a much more liberal property tax exemption for business.

But Romney, anxious to get new money flowing into the state's sagging treasury, has said he'll accept the revised tax program. It also provides some to pass any package whether it's in the House or the Senate," said Sen. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek.

DeMaso, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, was largely responsible for steering the revised tax package through the Senate.

"It's wishful thinking if we think we're going to get 55 Republicans in the House and 20 Republicans in the Senate to go along with any alternate type of package any plan other than the Senate program," DeMaso said.

State Budget Director Glenn Allen warns that the longer the Legislature delays, the more critical the state's financial picture gets.

He has said the state's expected $38-million surplus at the end of June will be absorbed before any new tax program can become operational.

Romney had hoped the Legislature could pass an income tax by April 1. But that date is long past.

Fish May Not Be Record, but Fisherman's Story Is

ATLANTA (UPI) — This one is a fish story. It's a good one. And it's true.

Call it the tale of the red grouper who was the world's biggest bass for a day or two to succeed without really lying — at first.

It begins with an unidentified fisherman catching a 22-pound, 9-ounce red grouper somewhere in the Carolinas. He saved his catch, but by the time he reached North Georgia, it was an affront to the north.

He gave the grouper to A.J. (Junior) Samples of Cumming, who cut off the head and began showing it around as a large-mouth bass. Samples took the grouper to the stock car races where one of his sons proudly displayed it as his father's prize catch.

The public address announcer heard the bag and told the crowd that Junior Samples had landed a huge bass.

LARGEST EVER CAUGHT

The next day, the announcer went searching through the record books and discovered that Samples' "bass" was the largest Atlantic croaker ever caught, 22 pounds, 9 ounces.

Later that day, the Cumming radio station boasted that a native son owned a world fishing record. The news reached Jim Morrison, publisher for the Georgia Game and Fish Commission, in Atlanta.

"We had a 17-pound bass caught in Lake Lanier a couple of years ago," Morrison explained. "So we weren't too surprised. We have been expecting a world record."

No publicity man worth his salt would pass up such a chance. Morrison grabbed a tape recorder and rushed to Cumming to interview Samples.

GIVES HIM A STORY

Aussies Use Tear Gas 'as Alternative to Bombs'

SAIGON (AP) — A spokesman for Australian forces in Vietnam said today an Australian Caribou plane has dropped drums of tear gas on Vietcong positions, "as an alternative to high explosive."

A Royal Australian Air Force spokesman in Canberra characterized the action as part of the Vietnamese government's "Open Arms" program.

But the spokesman in Saigon would not describe it that way. The "Open Arms" program is aimed at inducing Vietcong to defect to the South Vietnamese government for a better way of life.
