CHILD TRAPPED — Officers and firemen work to free a child trapped in a bus smashed near San Clemente, Calif., yesterday. Two children on the bus were killed as well as six persons in the station wagon that collided with the bus. Among the children killed was the daughter of Roy Rogers. Forty people were injured.

To Cost About $4.5 Million

Map TV Campaign for Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's advisers are mapping a massive television campaign, and keeping it flexible to counter any major Democratic moves in the race for the White House.

Goldwater aides sketched today the plans being developed for a broadcasting effort they said will cost about $4.5 million. It is expected to begin before the end of September.

★ ★ ★

Republican National Chairman Dean Burch has estimated the Democrats will spend more than $8 million on President Johnson's television campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Goldwater forces are laying out a campaign plan that will include filmed and taped television programs, both regional and national, a handful of major live appearances on nationwide television, and brief spot announcements on both radio and television.

One Goldwater adviser said the television campaign will build in intensity as the election nears. He said the Goldwater forces are seeking to use television as they did in the California primary campaign.

In some cases, a campaign official said, Goldwater may take to television to counter charges made by Johnson or other Democrats, or to speak out on a newly developed campaign issue.

★ ★ ★

"Our basic aim is to present our candidate in a positive, favorable way," the Goldwater aide said.

NOT DEFENSIVE

He said rebutting Johnson will not be a major goal of the Goldwater television effort because "that would put us in a defensive posture."

Goldwater's men do not believe that President Johnson will agree to face-to-face campaign debates.

"You're not going to have instant debate," one said.

At his news conference Saturday the President turned aside a debate question with "we will get into that after our convention when we make a decision in the matter."

★ ★ ★

That afternoon Goldwater told Republican state chairmen at a closed strategy session "we will rely on television more than we ever relied on it before."

LONG CAMPAIGN

Goldwater's traveling campaign, a source at the Republican National Committee said, is expected to cover about 75,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater will travel on a chartered jet plane. The plane, being remodeled for the senator and his staff will have space for 54 reporters.

LONG FIGHT—Tom Joiner Jr., of Cocoa Beach, Fla., hooked onto a big fish last night and was still fighting him today. He was fishing from the pier at Patrick Air Force Base when he hooked a large jewfish and at midday today had been trying to land him for 17 hours.

Sunny and Warm Seen for Tomorrow

A few scattered rainstorms may visit the Pontiac area this evening but skies will be clear during the night with a low of 54 to 60.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman promises tomorrow will be sunny and warm with the mercury skipping up into the 80s. There's a chance of thundershowers returning sometime Thursday.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 55. The 2 p.m. reading was 72.

Boy's Fight With Fish Continuing

★ ★ ★

At 6:45 p.m. yesterday, Tom hooked into something big and began his marathon fight. The catch, which did not break water, was believed to be a jewfish, which grow to gigantic size in the Atlantic Ocean off Florida.

The first run took 300 yards of 98-pound test line screaming off Tom's reel.

All through the night, while his parents, Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas Joiner, fed him coffee, Tom was unable to bring the fish in closer than 200 yards to the pier.

After midnight, the fish lay almost motionless, a dead weight on the line.

CROWD GROWS

A crowd of about 100 came and went during the night. At 8 a.m. when word spread through the community, the crowd began to build up.

In the excitement of the battle, Tom ate only a chocolate bar and a bite from a ham sandwich.

Several times, he almost fell asleep but his friends worked to keep him awake.

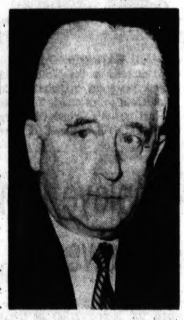
Keating to Run for Reelection to Senate Seat

But Won't Support Barry's Candidacy; May Face R. Kennedy



SEN. KEATING

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Kenneth B. Keating announced for reelection today, still withholding support from Barry Goldwater, the party's presidential nominee.

"The people of New York are aware of the deep difference between Sen. Goldwater's record and my own," Keating told a news conference.

"I seriously doubt that any voter in New York would be impressed by any lip service that I might give Sen. Goldwater, or that he might give me in the name of party unity."

Keating will be up for renomination at a meeting of the Republican State Committee next Monday. U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has strong backing for the Senate nomination at the Democratic State Convention Sept. 1.

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce has said she is considering the possibility of running as the Conservative party nominee for the Senate.

KEATING STATEMENT

Keating, who has been mentioned as a possibility for appointment as commissioner of baseball to succeed retiring Ford Frick, said:

"Let me state unequivocally that I have not had at any time any other position under consideration and cannot think of any position in which I would be more honored to serve than as a senator from the nation's Empire State.

"Nor have I considered in reaching my decision who might be nominated either by the Democratic party or the Conservative party. I would be willing to take my chances with the people of New York even if every pollster and expert predicted my defeat."

Concerning Goldwater's nomination for the presidency, Keating told approximately 100 newsmen:

"I stated right after the Republican National Convention that as far as my own political future is concerned, the maintenance of the principles which have always guided me in public life is more important than election to public office.

"That remains my position and no matter what the consequences are to me personally, I cannot in good conscience conceal my convictions behind a facade of conformity disguised as unity.

"Specifically, I have said before and I repeat that I consider Sen. Goldwater a sincere, patriotic American. But, during our service in the Senate, Sen. Goldwater and I have disagreed on many issues.

Tempest Wins More Acclaim

Named Success Car of the Model Year

The title of "success car of the 1964 model year" was bestowed on the Tempest today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

Supporting Bridge's claim is the Division's announcement that the 1964 Tempest showed a whopping 76.4 per cent sales increase over the 1963 model year.

This, Bridge points out, is the best increase in the industry by "a considerable margin."

Bridge said the outstanding sales performance of the Tempest line has increased its share of the market from 1.9 per cent a year ago to 3.1 per cent currently.

★ ★ ★

Since the introduction of the completely restyled Tempest last fall, more than 210,000 units have been sold.

GREAT DEMAND

Bridge said dealers from coast to coast report that customer demand for the higher-priced GTO and LeMans models also continues to be strong.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Motor entered the small-car field with introduction of the Tempest in 1960. Since that time it has earned numerous industry awards, including the 1961 "Car of the Year" Award from Motor Trend magazine.

The family-size compact was also named 1961 Michigan Week "Product of the Year" for Region 16, which includes Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The Tempest was put through more than 3 million miles of driving and performance tests which proved its reliability in its first year of production. It has undergone numerous improvements since then.

★ ★ ★

It was judged the "best all-round car in its class" in the 1963 Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach International Speedway.

UAW to Pick No. 1 Target on Thursday

Big Three Proposals Called Inadequate by Union Negotiators

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto industry was a step closer to a possible crippling strike today with rejection by the United Auto Workers union of new contract proposals by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Which of the Big Three automakers will be chosen as the No. 1 strike target probably will be decided at a meeting of the UAW international executive board Thursday in Chicago.

GM was named as the primary target in 1961, while Ford was selected in 1955 and 1958.

In almost identical offers yesterday the companies proposed new three-year contracts for more than half-a-million production line workers, calling for higher wages, earlier retirement and larger pensions.

The proposals — to replace agreements expiring at the end of this month—were immediately rejected by UAW bargainers as "terribly disappointing" and "miserably inadequate."

★ ★ ★

In turn, a Ford Motor Company spokesman observed:

"This makes the situation very serious."

STRIKE VOTE

Workers at all three companies already are participating in a strike-authorization vote which is expected to gain overwhelming approval.

Such a move, strengthening the bargaining table position of union negotiators, is customary as contract expiration deadlines approach.

In 1961, both sides agreed to a week's extension of the GM contract, and agreement was reached on a new pact six hours before the strike deadline.

★ ★ ★

Asked whether the union would agree to a similar arrangement this time if progress is being made in negotiations next week, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock told newsmen:

PEOPLE OPPOSED

"Our people in the plants are opposed to it."

Woodcock, chief union negotiator at the GM bargaining table, said the company offer did not begin to close the gap prevailing between the hourly rated workers represented by the UAW and salaried white collar employes.

No mention was made in the industry proposals of one of the union's top demands this year: improved working conditions.

The union has insisted that the national agreement include

SAFETY REINFORCEMENT — The outlook for Bloomfield Township officials brightened somewhat yesterday with the installation of some 87 no-left-turn signs on Telegraph. Here north of Maple, two signs already serving as warnings at unprotected crossovers were reinforced by two more. The safety improvement was one of those being sought by the township from the State Highway Department.

Tax Cut, Feedback Suggested to Dems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon came out today for some excise tax reduction next year.

Almost simultaneously, President Johnson's chief economist suggested that the government subsequently consider feeding back part of its rising tax revenues to the states.

The proposals were delivered to the Democratic Platform Committee, holding open hearings preparatory to next week's national convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

The ideas seemed certain to become planks in the party's 1964 platform.

Dillon, who previously has spoken cautiously of proposals in Congress for repeal or reduction of the Korean War excise taxes, told platform writers: "I think next year is the time."

He promised that the Treasury will be prepared to give Congress specific recommendations next year, but emphasized that he was not talking only about the wartime excises.

The whole structure of excise taxes should be studied, he said, instead of simply repealing the best-known levies such as those on luggage or cosmetics.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Walter W. Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisers offered a suggestion which excited even more interest among the committee members. After presenting a glowing report on the 42-month business expansion — which he said has reversed "the alarming economic trend" which set in during Republican rule — Heller noted that federal revenues will be increasing annually by something like $6 billion if the business upsurge is sustained.

'DECLARE A DIVIDEND'

This growing drain on the economy could eventually retard economic growth, he said, and the nation should consider "declaring a dividend to the American people."

This could be in the form of further general tax reduction, the economist said, or in increased federal investment in growth-stimulating programs.

Or, he went on: "Perhaps some means could be found for declaring a large dividend to our hard-pressed states and local units."

Lawyer Plans Hoffa Appeal

CHICAGO (AP) — The chief counsel of James R. Hoffa says he will appeal the five-year prison term given the Teamsters Union president on a mail fraud and conspiracy conviction.

★ ★ ★

Maurice Walsh, Hoffa's chief attorney, said he would appeal the sentence and ask for a new trial within the 10-day period established yesterday by Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court.

Judge Austin sentenced Hoffa, 51, to four concurrent five-year terms and fined him $10,000.

He said the term would be served after Hoffa finishes an eight-year prison sentence imposed in Chattanooga, Tenn., for jury tampering.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa has appealed the conviction.

Commission Mum on Wage Survey

A long-awaited Michigan Municipal League (MML) survey of wage scales for Pontiac city employes is in the hands of city administrators.

The study generally confirms City Manager Joseph A. Warren's observation of several weeks ago that city employes here are paid below the scale of comparable cities.

Purpose of the survey, however, was to determine how much they're underpaid and that answer is being kept a closely guarded secret by city officials.

The MML survey literally covers the starting and top pay steps for every position on the city payroll and compares each to those of Oakland County employes and wage scales in 10 Detroit Metropolitan Area cities.

★ ★ ★

Based on this comparison, the survey recommends new starting and top salaries for most salaried and hourly paid employes.

INFORMAL MEETING

The survey was delivered to city administrators last Friday afternoon and presented to city commissioners, along with a preliminary analysis of how much it will cost, at an informal meeting at City Hall last night.

Results of the survey itself and the cost analysis will be presented to representatives of various employe groups by Warren within the next few days.

However, at the request of the commission, the public will have to wait a little longer for the survey results.

★ ★ ★

"We want the city manager to tell employes; not The Press" said Mayor William H. Taylor

Urges Makarios Cooperation

U.N. Key to Cyprus Solution---Johnson

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Johnson has told Greek Cypriot President Makarios there is "no acceptable alternative" to solve the Cyprus problem but to cooperate within the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

The Johnson message, released here today, was delivered to Makarios Monday night by U.S. Ambassador Taylor Belcher. The message was in reply to an appeal for aid which Makarios addressed to Johnson, and the world's other top leaders, at the height of the Greek Cypriot-Turkish Cypriot fighting last week.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of the cease-fire agreed to under U.N. auspices, Johnson said, "I believe it to be of the utmost importance that these successful first steps lead now to other aims stated in the resolution — cooperating with the United Nations commander in restoring peace and refraining from any action that might exacerbate the situation. I see no acceptable alternative but that all parties move actively toward these goals. The United States is prepared to do everything within its power to help."

PULL NATO TROOPS

The message reached Makarios as Greece closed ranks with the Greek Cypriots by withdrawing some Greek forces from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to help defend the Makarios government.

Greece's decision Monday helped ease a strain between Athens and Nicosia. It also came as a new blow to the solidarity of the Atlantic alliance's eastern flank at a time when the Soviet Union has become embroiled in the Cyprus crisis.

★ ★ ★

Turkey withdrew some air force planes from NATO control nine days ago after the Greek Cypriots charged that Turkish jet fighters took off from NATO bases to attack Cyprus.

A Greek Foreign Ministry statement in Athens said Greece's protests about the Turkish pullout had gone unheeded.

FULFILL OBLIGATIONS

"Following this," the statement added, "Greece decided to withdraw the necessary army naval and air force units assigned to the alliance."

It said the decision was taken "to fulfill Greek obligations to defend the independence and territorial integrity of Cyprus, and in particular to ward off the constant Turkish threat."

★ ★ ★

Greece also hailed "as an important contribution to peace" Soviet Premier Khrushchev's warning to Turkey against further air attacks on Cyprus.

The Greek stand pleased the Greek Cypriot government, which had been chided by Premier George Papandreou for launching a military drive against a Turkish Cypriot coastal stronghold without consulting Greece. The attack brought four days of Turkish fighter raids on Greek Cypriot towns.

★ ★ ★

Greece's NATO forces total 120,000 men and its entire air force, more than seven fighter-bomber squadrons, is committed to the alliance. Like the Turkish armed forces, most Greek units have U.S. equipment.

Here Are Highlights of Big 3's Proposal

DETROIT (UPI) — Here are the highlights of the auto industry's Big Three contract offer to the United Auto Workers Union.

WAGES

Continuation of the annual improvement factor increase of 2.5 per cent or six cents an hour, whichever is higher. The increase could amount to 39 cents an hour over a three-year period, depending on the individual worker and his company.

COST OF LIVING

Nine of the 14 cents cost of living allowance would be made part of the basic wage rates. The other five cents would remain as a float. The adjustments would be made annually, instead of quarterly as at present.

RETIREMENT

An increase in the basic retirement benefits from $2.80 to $3.25 per month for each year of service. Normal retirement benefits would be available as early as 62, instead of 65. There would be special provisions for retirement at 60 on a volunteer basis, or at 55 if a worker's job is eliminated through automation or plant relocation.

INSURANCE

JOBLESS PAY

Increased supplemental unemployment benefits from $40 to $45 per week for laid-off workers. Benefits can reach $51 a month with allowance for four dependents.

HOLIDAY PAY

Improved vacation pay with up to four weeks after 25 years. An eighth paid holiday — Good Friday.

SEPARATION PAY

Separation pay for workers with one year or more service, with up to a full year's pay for an employe with 30 years service.

JURY PAY

A worker on jury duty would be assured of full pay because the firms would make up the difference between the jury allowance and his regular straight-time hourly wage.

EDUCATION BENEFIT

A plan where the firms would refund tuition to employes who satisfactorily complete courses in colleges, universities, trade schools or vocational schools.

Auto Firms' Offer Rejected by UAW

two 10-minute daily breaks for workers on the assembly lines in addition to the two 12-minute breaks already allowed for personal relief.

PROPOSAL DENOUNCED

One of the UAW's top priority demands was included in the company proposals but was denounced as inadequate. This was a provision covering earlier retirement and increased pension benefits.

Union spokesmen, however, pointed out that the offer failed to meet demands for more money for those workers already retired.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations, described the proposals as "the most generous we have ever made to the UAW."

★ ★ ★

But Gene Prato, chairman of the UAW's national Ford negotiation team, said the company's offer did not come close to meeting union demands.

AID WATERFORD CLUB — Charles Sitton (left), executive director of the Waterford Boys' Club, accepted a $3,500 check yesterday in behalf of the club from William Stokes, Waterford police chief. The check, which represents proceeds of last month's Grand Ole Opry sponsored by the police department, will be used for operating expenses.

Employe Pension Plan Reviewed in Waterford

An employe pension plan proposed for incorporation in the 1965 budget was reviewed last night by the Waterford Township Board and scheduled for consideration at the board's Aug. 31 meeting.

First year cost of the program, which would cover all township employes other than police and fire personnel who already have a pension plan, would be $36,539.

Approximately 70 per cent of this amount would come from the township's general fund and the balance from the water department fund.

The pension proposal from the actuarial firm of Gabriel, Roeder, Smith & Company of Detroit specifies a township contribution of 16.33 per cent for the first $4,800 of employe wages and 18.23 per cent over $4,800.

★ ★ ★

In addition, employes would contribute 3 per cent of up to $4,800 in wages and 5 per cent over this base amount.

40 EMPLOYES

The pension, which would cover 40 employes, was drafted by a committee of township employes, working with the actuarial firm. Attorney Calvin E. Patterson volunteered his services as consultant for the committee.

A similar employe pension plan was proposed a year ago for inclusion in the 1964 budget.

★ ★ ★

It was deleted, however, before the budget was approved because board members later decided to use the funds earmarked for the pension program to hire more police and fire personnel.

REJECT REQUEST

In other business, the board rejected a request from the school system that condemnation action be taken on Private Drive to provide a walking easement for school children.

Township Supervisor James Seeterlin and Trustee Loren Anderson summed up the board's opposition.

Seeterlin said he felt the cost of condemnation proceedings is unjustifiable, and Anderson said he opposed any condemnation action unless absolutely necessary.

★ ★ ★

The road which leads to the new Silver Lake School is located at the north side of Silver Lake Golf Course.

Also last night, the board authorized a contract for blacktopping Hira Street.

City to Get Proposals on Streets

City Commissioners tonight are slated to receive four proposed resolutions for the vacating of streets in the north end of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The street vacating is requested by General Motors Corp., which has purchased the property for plant expansion.

The auto firm seeks to vacate portions of Beverly and Tennyson between Highwood and Laurel, Highwood between Madison and First, and Laurel between Mansfield and First.

In related action, a GM request to rezone from residential to manufacturing property at First and Highwood will also be before the commission.

An industrial haulaway company is slated to occupy the rezoned property.

RENEWAL AREA

In other business tonight, two proposed changes in land use and street pattern in urban renewal areas will be up for approval.

The city seeks to amend its ubran renewal plans, and the proposed changes will be forwarded to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for approval.

Wage Report Given to City

Jr. following last night's meeting.

Taylor said he was afraid figures, especially the estimated annual cost to fully implement the recommended pay hikes, would be "misinterpreted."

City officials refused to release any of several methods discussed for financing the new plan.

★ ★ ★

"This will require much more study before we can reach any reliable conclusions," said Warren.

DEMONSTRATION

Several hundred placard-bearing city employes demonstrated for four hours at City Hall Aug. 4 in opposition to current pay scales. Many wanted to know where the survey was.

Warren then announced it was due for completion Aug. 15. It had previously been slated for completion earlier. The survey was ordered early in April.

While the survey finds wages generally below par, it puts Pontiac in a good position as far as fringe benefits are concerned.

It lists three alternate methods of implementing the recommended pay scales ranging from merely hiking each employe's current pay to the next highest rate in the proposed scale, to full increases to the rate recommended for every employe based on time of service.

LATEST STATISTICS

Shortly after Warren assumed duties here Aug. 3, he pointed to the latest MML annual statistics published last January when asked about employes' wages.

"Based on these statistics," he observed, "local wages are not in line with comparable cities.

"The question is, how much out of line are they."

Beneficiaries of the answer to that question — the city employes — should know by the end of the week.

Begin Syncom 3 Count; Launch Due Tomorrow

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The launch crew today began a long countdown aimed at launching the Syncom 3 communications satellite tomorrow.

The satellite is to be hoisted into a stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the Pacific where it would be in position to televise to the United States the Olympic Games in Japan.

Russia Rocket Lofts Satellites

Believed Prelude to Manned Spaceship

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today hurled three "Cosmos" satellites into orbit with a single rocket in a space project believed to be the prelude to the launching of a manned spaceship.

The launching was the first in which the Soviets have sent three satellites into orbit from a single rocket. The United States has orbited three satellites with one rocket twice—last November and again in July.

On June 15, 1963 a rocket fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., orbited five satellites on one shot, and a later experiment from the same base put up four satellites.

It was recalled that the twin orbital flights of cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova, the first and only spacewoman, and Valery Bykovsky followed a series of "Cosmos" satellite lauchings in June 1963.

In announcing today's triple-header of Sputniks, the Soviet news agency Tass said only instruments were aboard.

Tass said today's feat was accomplished with a single, new-type rocket.

"Scientific instruments have been installed in the Sputniks to continue the exploration of outer space," the Tass report said.

The United States first launched two satellites with one rocket—the Transit 11-A and piggyback satellites of June 22, 1960. Then the Soviets launched the "pairs of electron" satellites with single rockets twice this year—on Jan. 30 and July 11.

The cosmos series satellites are aimed at research for manned flights.

Local Entries Win Semifinals

All three Pontiac entries in the state junior baseball playoffs at Jackson won semifinal round games this morning and will go after state championships in Class D, E, and F this afternoon.

The Class D Auburn Heights Boys' Club edged Livonia, 3-1, behind the four-hit hurling of Roger Hayward and Lynn Thorpe. Carl Stefanski's two-run scratch single was Pontiac's only hit.

The Class E Northside Kiwanis whipped Roseville, 5-1, as Randy Hinds hit a three-run homer in the second inning. Rick Mihalek and Jim Burton shared the hurling.

The Yankees in Class F nipped Livonia, 1-0, as Stan Babiuk pitched a two-hitter, fanned 17 and drove in the only run.

Auburn Heights BC meets Roseville, the Kiwanis play Battle Creek, and the Yankees oppose Wyandotte in the championship games.

Is Reported Improved

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni's doctors reported a slight improvement in his condition today. They said he had come out of his coma occasionally and taken food by mouth.

Segni, 73, suffered a stroke 11 days ago. He went into a coma Saturday.

Birmingham Area News

Traffic Survey Deemed Unnecessary at Present

BIRMINGHAM — No study will be conducted to determine traffic patterns in the Coolidge-Maple roads area, the site of a proposed $50-million development.

The City Commission last night decided that the survey was not necessary prior to a hearing to determine what type of road improvement will be required to handle the large volume of traffic expected in the area.

The commission will receive recommendations from the administration on specific designs of a half-mile stretch, Maple to Derby, at next Monday's meeting.

The multimillion-dollar development, planned to front on Coolidge, has prompted concern from residents of the neighboring Pembroke Manor Subdivision.

The administration originally recommended that the study be taken, but before the meeting changed its position.

COST OF STUDY

The cost of the study had been estimated at $5,000 and probably would have been completed in 30 days.

Nearby residents several weeks ago requested that the city "take its time" before deciding on the design of the improvement because after it was built they would have little recourse.

Members of the subdivision association felt that traffic from the development will use subdivision streets for throughways leading west.

Dr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Young

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Graveside service for Dr. Ronald C. Young, 63, and his wife Josephine, 54, of 136 Bassett will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at Oak Hills Cemetery, Newnan, Ga.

Dr. and Mrs. Young died Sunday in a two-car collision near Corbin, Ky. Their bodies are at J. U. McKoon & Son Funeral Home at Newnan.

Dr. Young, a member of the General Motors Speakers Bureau, earned his bachelors degree and doctorate in philosophy at Mercer University, Macon, Ga.

He was at one time an administrator at the University of Georgia, Atlanta division, and was also a youth counselor, lecturer and writer.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Cobb of Charlotte, N.C., and Mrs. Young's sister and brother.

Frank D. Webb

BIRMINGHAM — Word has been received here of the death Aug. 10 of Frank D. Webb, 67, of 924 Arlington.

A memorial service was held Wednesday in Charlevoix.

Safety Contab Is Postponed

An emergency meeting on the safety situation at Cass Lake has been postponed until Thursday afternoon.

The exploratory session scheduled by the State Boating Control Committee, West Bloomfield Township officials and area law enforcement officers will be held at 2 p.m. in the Township Hall.

The meeting was called following the death of Alan L. Akerley, 20, 2184 Park Circle, Keego Harbor, who was struck down by a motorboat while swimming in the lake Aug. 3. It had originally been slated for tomorrow.

Stiff Test Faces County GOP

Barry Quota Calls for Two-Thirds of Vote

Republican strategists have charted a stiff vote goal in Michigan for Sen. Barry Goldwater and are asking for almost two-thirds of Oakland County's maximum turnout.

The GOP presidential candidate's planners want 191,433 of the county's 300,671 registered voters to pull the Goldwater lever, about 30,000 more than voted for Richard Nixon in 1960.

"No question about it, this is a high quota, yet it doesn't look so unreasonable," commented Dale Feet, county Republican campaign director.

"The county has picked up a lot of residents in the past four years so there's more voters here than Nixon had to draw from."

Feet said the goal would spur county GOP voter identification efforts, "but we have tended to stay away from quotas. We work all-out for the last Republican in every precinct anyway."

The Goldwater victory blueprint seeks 1,914,000 votes throughout Michigan.

This indicates 59.3 per cent of the total based on an analysis of registration and previous elections.

NOT IN WIN COLUMN

Missing from the expected win column are 13 of the state's 83 counties, including Voterich Wayne and Macomb and little Alger and Iron counties.

In 1956 Eisenhower polled 1,713,647, about 55 per cent of all ballots cast, and lost three counties. Nixon in 1960 lost Michigan with 1,620,428 votes, collecting only 48.8 per cent of the turnout.

Goldwater is supposed to get more votes than Nixon in all of the counties—despite the fact a smaller turnout is expected this November than in 1960.

In 1960 the presidential election turnout was about 96 per cent of April voter registration. If that figure is repeated, this year's vote will be about 3,220,000.

Potential votes for President Johnson were not computed, but the GOP plan expects Goldwater to get but 466,084 from populous Wayne County against a maximum turnout of 1,166,116.

County Dems Exceed Quota

Statewide Democratic efforts in the anti-Massachusetts Ballot petition drive are lagging, but Oakland County party workers have shot far above their original goals.

Tally on a last big push Saturday to obtain added petition signatures for a November election referendum today credited county Democrats with approximately 30,000 names.

"This is well above our original goal of 22,500," said County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin, "and more petitions are expected by our final deadline Friday."

Levin said late petitions will be turned over for filing, in Lansing, Aug. 28. He said the local campaign achieved 100 per cent of quota or better results in Pontiac, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Brandon and Highland townships, Madison Heights, Southfield and Oak Park.

According to state drive chairman Sherwood Colburn, Democrats have collected over 200,000 signatures, above the 139,000 required by law but short of a safety goal of 300,000.

Wild 'Nightie' Ride in Alleged Kidnap

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (UPI) — "It is," said policeman J. G. Tate, "a weird tale."

★ ★ ★

And indeed it was, especially for an alleged kidnap case. There was the alleged victim, Grady Lee Steen, 26, driving his car frantically through the streets of Spartanburg.

And there, on the hood of his car, hanging on for dear life and banging on the windshield with a detached side view mirror, was one of the alleged abductors, 21-year-old Joyce Kay Lefevres, dressed only in a nightgown

Things like this are not seen in Spartansburg every day, and policeman Tate and his colleagues felt it would not be improper to stop the car and make certain inquiries.

There then unfolded a story so fantastic that at one point the alleged kidnapers and their alleged victim were all under arrest.

SIDE OF STORY

Steen was released after police got his side of the story which went like this:

Steen and a date, Patsy Queen, were sitting in his car at a drive-in hamburger place in Kannapolis Sunday night when a car occupied by Miss LeFevres and Stacy Lavern Bigham, a 25-year-old textile worker, both of Kannapolis, drove up.

Steen said the woman got out and held a pistol on him and his date, ordering the girl to leave the car.

★ ★ ★

He said the woman made him drive down a street where they switched to a car driven by Bigham.

PREVIOUS DATE

Tate said Steen told him that he had previously dated Miss LeFevres.

They changed to a rented car in Charlotte, Steen said, and drove to Spartanburg where they checked into a motel at 1 a.m. Steen said the pair took turns holding a pistol on him, one sleeping while the other watched.

Steen said they threatened to kill him if he didn't take $5,000 from his checking account and give it to them. He said he gave them all he had — a $130 paycheck.

★ ★ ★

Finally, Steen said, both fell asleep and he sneaked out to the car. He got in and locked the doors as Miss LeFevres bolted out of the room. She banged on the doors, he said, and then hopped on the hood.

DROVE TO TOWN

Steen said he drove into downtown Spartanburg with Miss LeFevres —clad only in her nightie —banging on the windshield with a side view mirror she had ripped away.

Police said Bigham was carrying a 25-caliber automatic when arrested.

★ ★ ★

The couple was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Jesse Ray in Greenville. He set bond at $25,000 for Bigham and $10,000 for the woman. Bigham was jailed at Greenville and Miss LeFevres at Anderson.

News Notes From Washington

LBJ Strongly Backs Private Enterprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson voiced strong support for private enterprise Monday and said he does not believe "the American people are interested in economic radicalism or recklessness."

He rejected what he said was the talk of some for "radical changes in our policies — of greater governmental intervention in the economy or abrupt governmental withdrawal from our commitments to our people."

★ ★ ★

"Whatever tides run in the world," he said, "there is no tide to nationalization or socialization in the United States. Your government is determined to support our private sector, not subjugate it. We want to stimulate private initiative, not suppress it."

The President's comments came at a White House meeting of the board of directors of the Communications Satellite Corp.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attv. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges are being subpoenaed to appear in pretrial proceedings in a $300,000 damage suit against Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

David Carliner, attorney for Capitol Vending Co. which is pressing the suit, said the subpoenas were issued Monday by U.S. District Court and directed the Cabinet officers to supply any office documents concerning Baker's dealings.

The suit charges that Baker, while working at his $19,600 Senate job, conspired with Serv-U Corp., and others to have Capitol's vending business with a local defense contractor, Melpar Co., terminated.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has proclaimed Oct. 11 as a memorial day to the young Polish patriot Count Casimir Pulaski who gave his life for the American Revolution on that date 185 years ago.

He was felled leading a cavalry charge at Savannah, Ga.

★ ★ ★

It is appropriate, the President said, to take pride in Pulaski's devotion to the cause of freedom and "this occasion reminds us of the great contributions made to the progress and security of this nation by our many citizens of Polish origin."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., is living in his office. It's not just the press of work, however.

★ ★ ★

Proxmire rented out his two-story Washington house about a month ago when his family moved back to their Madison home.

Except for weekends back in Wisconsin where he is campaigning for a second six-year term, he sleeps on a couch in his suite in the new Senate Office Building.

If Proxmire is reelected, an aide said, his family will return to the capital at the end of the year.

Meanwhile, "he gets a lot more done this way," the aide said. And he also saves a buck.

Indonesian Raiders Hunted in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Troops and police today searched Malayan jungles for remnants of a small Indonesian landing force which has caused a new flare-up in the Malaysia crisis.

"Mopping up operations are continuing," said a police spokesman.

★ ★ ★

Emergency measures are clamped on three coastal states after the attack, the first by Indonesia against the heartland of Malaysia.

★ ★ ★

The measures empower authorities to make arrests without warrant and to shoot if necessary. Illegal possesion of weapons was declared a capital crime.

TOOK PART

The Malaysian government said 30 to 40 Indonesians — plus several Malaysian "traitors" — took part in the landings on the west coast of Johore State 35 miles north of Singapore Sunday night.

Sources close to the police said the invaders may have totaled 100 to 150.

★ ★ ★

The Malaysian Defense Ministry reported sporadic fighting until Monday night, including mortar shelling by the Indonesians. At least one Malaysian soldier was reported seriously wounded.

★ ★ ★

The Malaysian government denounced the landings as a "clear act of aggression." It informed the United Nations Security Council but did not request special action.

Deputy Premier Tun Abdul Razak, who also is defense minister, told a news conference a number of the prisoners had been identified as members of the regular Indonesian navy.

★ ★ ★

Two 30-foot boats equipped with outboard motors were seized in the landing area. The nearest Indonesian islands are less than 30 miles away.

The landing coincided with Indonesian national day celebrations, during which Indonesian President Sukarno once again pledged to smash the young, British-backed federation of Malaysia.

★ ★ ★

Observers outside Indonesia regard Sukarno's actions as part of a campaign to divert attention from his sprawling nation's domestic problems.

Last Session for Senior House Member

'Fast' Gavel to Be Silenced by Retirement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capitol Hill's longest run show is about to close. It's called "Whack! Vinson and the gavel."

Banging four and five-star generals and admirals to order, snapping off the sentences of congressional colleagues, mispronouncing the names of his juniors, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., has been a unique strong man of the House Armed Services Committee for 33 years.

★ ★ ★

The show will close at the end of this session of Congress when Vinson, 80, who has served in the House nearly 50 years, retires to his farm near Milledgeville, Ga. No man ever served longer in the House.

Vinson's fast-pounding gavel and his hold on the comittee have provoked some grumbling over the years, but Vinson has a ready retort.

ONLY WAY

"After you're here for 50 years you learn that's the only way to get anything done around here," he said recently.

Vinson, who became chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee in 1931 and of the Armed Services Committee in 1947, has long conducted all committee business, save that of the highest security, in public.

★ ★ ★

One of these sessions always leaves two lasting impressions: The gavel pounding away, and the junior members of the committee sitting on the edge of their seats in the back, waving their hands wildly calling "Mr. Chairman, Mr. Chairman," to get his attention.

Whack! A recent session began. Vinson asked a subcommittee chairman to read a report on a bill. The reading over, Vinson said, "Without objection, the bill will be considered approved by the committee. Whack!" The next subcommittee chairman arose to report on another bill.

YOUNG DISSENTER

Finally the arm of a young Republican shot up. Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., had an amendment. The ranking Republican on the committee, Rep. Leslie Arends, R-Ill., explained why the amendment had no chance of acceptance.

"I don't see why," said Schweiker.

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Schweiker," Vinson interrupted, "when you are here as long as Mr. Arends, you will understand why."

Schweiker persisted.

VOTED DOWN

Whack! "Let us now proceed to vote down Mr. Schweiker's amendment," Vinson said.

During a discussion on another bill, some members complained that they were not sure about the government's policy. "Who is making policy on this?" one asked. "The Defense Department or the State Department?"

★ ★ ★

Whack! "The policy," Vinson said, "is being made here."

On one bill a roll call vote was demanded. Rep. Ed Foreman, R-Tex., attempted to explain his vote.

EXPLAINS VOTE

Whack! "Mr. Foreman," Vinson said, "they may allow you to explain your vote in the Texas Legislature. But under the rules here you say yes or no and that's all."

The whole style of Vinson's leadership comes from a belief in less talk and more action.

★ ★ ★

When a newsman suggested an interview, centering on Vinson's reminiscent look at 50 years in Congress, the old Georgian shook his head.

"Now, you know that I don't like to reminisce," he said.

AP Photofax

WIELDS 'WEAPON'—Rep. Carl Vinson, 20-year-old Democrat from Georgia, poses with the symbol of authority he wielded as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee for 33 years. Vinson, who plans to retire at the end of this session, has served in the House for three months short of 50 years. No man has ever seryed longer.

Soviet Economists Seek to Return Profit Incentive

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today reopened discussion on the role of capitalist-style profit in its government-run economy. Premier Nikita S. Khruschev himself says the idea is worth considering.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda invited views of leading economists, industry managers, and scholars on proposals put forward yesterday by Stalin Prize winner Vadim A. Trapeznikov to abandon "obsolete" planning methods and use flexible prices and profits.

Trapeznikov, a member of the U.S.S.R. Academy, said the change would benefit both the consumer and state by making industry more efficient.

"It is time to abandon obsolete forms of managing the national economy, forms based on decreed norms, and go over to simpler, cheaper, and more effective economic regulation of the work of enterprises," he said.

Profit, he said, is the "index which best characterizes the work of an enterprise, conforms to interests of national economy and interests of the workers."

FREE MANAGERS

Plant managers, he said, should be given "wide financial powers and should be free of petty patronage."

"Their job is to ensure efficiency of factories in their change and a high quality of production," he added, "while the level of profits will make them cut redundancies and find news ways of reducing production costs."

Trapeznikov said under the present system, factories are reluctant to improve the quality of their products because this would cost more money.

★ ★ ★

But the consumer would be willing to pay a little extra for better quality — thus "the economic interests of a producing organization and the consumer are frequently at odds."

He suggested these measures:

- Prices should be raised to stimulate development of new lines of output," then lowered when new products gain acceptance.
- Government enterprises should be charged interest on capital advanced to them by the state.
- Suppliers should be assessed fines for delays in shipping goods to enterprises.
- Enterprises should be granted tax concessions on income used for research and development.

UPI Soviet affairs analyst Donald R. Shanor writes from New York:

In borrowing the western business practice of operating for profit, Trapeznikov was in no sense advocating a return to capitalism.

Under his plan, government control of all branches of the economy would remain and profits would go to the state.

Trapeznikov and other liberal Soviet economists such as Prof. Yevsey Liberman want to use profit - making as an index of efficiency.

Under the present system, certain plants can run at a loss for years without getting into trouble, but their inefficiency hurts the economy as a whole. The profit plan would point them out immediately.

GIVES APPROVAL

When Liberman first brought up the profit system two years ago, Premier Khrushchev gave tentative approval: "Why don't we make use of the rational and economically advantageous things the capitalists have?" he said.

But the more conservative economists opposed giving up some of the functions of centralized planning, which has been a keystone of the economy since the founding of the Soviet state.

Prince Backs Class on Sexual Instruction

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Prince Philip took on a new role today — sponsor of a sex instruction course.

★ ★ ★

The course is intended to give a new look to the prince's award scheme, which exists to encourage initiative and clean living among teen-agers.

★ ★ ★

It has been concerned mainly with sports but Phyllis Gordon-Spencer, the scheme's deputy director, announced that older girls will be encouraged to study the pitfalls of dating and marriage.

Gold, silver or bronze medals will be awarded by the prince to those who turn in the best written reports.

JUST PATRON

The prince will not give any lectures himself. He is patron of the program, known as the Duke of Edinburgh's award scheme.

Mrs. Gordon-Spencer said the new course, which will be called "Boy, Girl and Marriage," is intended to give the award scheme a more adult look.

★ ★ ★

"Girls who are going steady or are engaged can listen to speakers on marital and sexual subjects," she said.

"They will discuss sexual relations, how far a girl should go before marriage, and how to please their husbands."

Other subjects in the course will include makeup, grooming, fashion, and various aspects of married life — from arranging mortgages to family planning.

Leaders of some young people's organizations welcomed the new course.

★ ★ ★

Anstice Gibbs, chief of the Girl Guides said: "It sounds a jolly fine idea. Many girls really need this help."

★ ★ ★

Boys will be given the chance of a parallel premarital course but the main emphasis for them will remain on sports, adventure projects and technical skills.

Returns to Height After Fall

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Arthanasios Gougolis, 30, was taken from the Benjamin Franklin Bridge across the Delaware River three years ago with both legs, an arm and his back broken.

He was painting 45 feet above the roadway when he lost his balance and fell. He was out of work for three years.

He is back slapping paint on the same bridge now, 382 feet above the road.

"My wife, Rebecca, doesn't like the idea too much, but she puts up with it," Gougolis said.

Is he afraid he will fall again?

"No, I never think about it."

Meeting School Needs a Social Obligation

Indicative of paramount concern for the education of American children is the praiseworthy outcome of the 2,000 school bond-issue elections held last year throughout the Country.

The bond issues were approved in 71 per cent of the elections held, and represented $2.6 billion.

★ ★ ★

In contrast, 69.6 per cent of comparable issues were approved in 1963 and 70.1 per cent in the year prior.

Top year of approval of school bond issues was 1959, during which 79.6 per cent were voted in.

Although taxpayers have understandably grown weary of additional taxes incidental to capital outlays for enlarged social facilities necessary to an expanding and flourishing population, education is one area in which there should be no hesitancy to insure proportionate growth.

★ ★ ★

Such growth makes frequent demands on our pocketbooks, but it is one which cannot go unheeded if America is to maintain its international supremacy and fulfill its democratic destiny.

Country's 'Old Folks' Have Limited Future

As if we, er, mature folks already didn't have enough to worry about, we now face the fact that the Country is going to the kids.

The Census Bureau has announced that half of the 192 million people in the United States are under the age of 28.5 years.

★ ★ ★

And that isn't all. By 1985, the bureau says, half of the 266 million Americans will be under the age of 26 years.

What's this going to do to those of us who already aren't younger than 28.5 and will, unless somebody invents something fast, have been getting older all the time the Nation is getting younger?

★ ★ ★

It stands to reason that with more and more customers getting younger, manufacturers and merchants will cater to them. So we older folks (those over 20) may have to wear romper suits, drive kiddy cars, eat nothing but potato chips and hot dogs, and go into shrieking hysterics over the Beatles.

★ ★ ★

But hang in there, old-timers. The Beatles themselves won't be so doggoned young by then.

So heh, heh, heh, to you yeah, yeah, yeah kids.

Celebrity Applauded for Determination

Countering the generally-held image of the Hollywood community as one of profligacy and irresponsibility is a praiseworthy exemplification of honor and determination.

Edie Adams, widowed by the tragic death of Ernie Kovacs a year and a half ago, has worked unremittingly to untangle and liquidate the financial mess in which she found herself.

★ ★ ★

Disdaining the easy way out of disavowing the mountain of debts left by Kovacs and eschewing the help of his many famous and influential friends, the plucky Edie embarked on a killing, nonstop program of movies, TV appearances, night club engagements, summer theatrical tours and record-album production.

Today she is in the black, the Kovacs debts and back taxes paid off, preparing to experience some well-earned happiness by marrying an old family friend.

★ ★ ★

We doff our chapeau in admiration and tribute to a gallant and scrupulous lady—and wish her the best of everything in the years ahead. The Country could use more like her.

Barry Like LBJ: Spurns Guards

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON — it's no secret at the White House that President Johnson dislikes having the Secret Service shepherd him around.

And it's no secret that the Secret Service agents get very unhappy about Johnson's habit of mixing with crowds.

Now it appears that Sen. Barry Goldwater shares Johnson's attitude. At least, as the Republican presidential nominee, he's not asking for a guard.

"I never feel in any danger," Goldwater said last week. I feel that when the Lord wants you, He's going to take you."

Goldwater was replying to questions about a proposal by his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, that Goldwater is given Secret Service protection during the campaign.

POSSIBILITY OF VIOLENCE

Miller made his proposal when asked whether he saw a possibility of racial violence at campaign appearances by Goldwater, Miller said the possibility called for serious consideration.

The question of protection for presidential nominees had come up earlier, a few days after Goldwater's nomination.

He said then: "If a fellow wants to assassinate somebody, he can do it. I get one or two threats a week. I think they're mostly crackpots."

★ ★ ★

The Secret Service now begins protection of the president-elect just as soon as it becomes apparent who he's going to be. Agents wait in the wings of both candidates' headquarters on election night.

TO PROTECT MAJOR NOMINEES

A bill that would authorize the Secret Service to protect major party nominees for both president and vice president was introduced in the House last week by a Republican congressman, Rep. Charles E. Goodell of New York.

The protection would extend from the moment of nomination until the election, with additional protection for the defeated presidential candidate for "a reasonable time," if he requested it.

Only in 1962, did Congress require Secret Service protection for the vice president — and this was over the objection of the vice president at the time — Lyndon B. Johnson. Prior to 1962, vice presidents could request protection.

★ ★ ★

In 1963, Johnson was represented as wanting Congress to repeal the vice presidential protection. "I have that from his own lips," Rep. J. Vaughn Gary, D-Va., said.

AGENT PROTECTED JOHNSON

When President John F. Kennedy was killed by rifle shots last November as he rode through Dallas in a motorcade, Johnson was with him—and a Secret Service agent threw himself on top of Johnson to shield him.

Still, Johnson is restive about always being under guard.

If Allen Dulles has his way, presidents will be more tightly guarded than ever. Dulles' views are given weight because he is a former head of the Central Intelligence Agency and is a member of the Warren Commission investigating the Kennedy assassination.

★ ★ ★

The commission report is expected about mid-September. When Johnson and Goldwater read it, they may be swayed by the expected recommendations for presidential submission to better protection.

"If the people want this," Dulles predicted, "the President is going to do it."

David Lawrence Says:

Officials' Talks Break Precedent

WASHINGTON — President Johnson apparently has given permission to the heads of several governmental agencies dealing with foreign policy to involve themselves in partisan politics.

LAWRENCE

Never before has a president from either party allowed a secretary of state and other high officials — including now the American ambassador to the United Nations — to become partisan exponents of foreign policy during a presidential political campaign.

Thus yesterday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and William C. Foster, director of the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, made political speeches before the Democratic Platform Committee here.

Rusk discussed, for example, the subject of control of nuclear weapons, and spoke of "reckless deeds and words." The news dispatches reported that he was rebutting Sen. Goldwatef's comments.

★ ★ ★

McNamara gave a glowing and lengthy report on "the fulfillment of the pledges made by the Kennedy-Johnson administration in 1960."

CITES DEFICIENCIES

He pointed out the deficiencies in defense found when the Democrats took over in 1961 and enumerated the "vast power" which now has been "placed at the disposal of the President" along with "the means to control it."

He concluded:

"The awesome responsibility to unleash such force, I believe, can rest only on the highest elected official in this country—the President of the United States."

Foster of the Disarmament Agency criticized the Republican platform for its failure to appreciate efforts that have been made to ban nuclear weapons.

★ ★ ★

He said the platform showed "little recognition" of the need to continue disarmament negotiations, and made a sarcastic comment on "defoliation."

CAUSE FOR CONCERN

Ambassador Stevenson said that the "American people have legitimate cause for concern if the bipartisan commitment of the United States to the United Nations Charter should become a matter for partisan debate in this country."

He then openly commented on the Republican convention platform, said it "seemed to deplore that we weren't involved in a colder war," and criticized other parts of the Republican platform.

All this is something brand new in party politics. None of these high officers of the government had offered to testify before the Republican Platform Committee, nor were they requested to do so.

★ ★ ★

Political platforms often discuss foreign policy and criticize the opposite party's viewpoint. This is far different from a direct participation by a secretary of state or secretary of defense in the drafting of a platform or in attempting to influence the writing of its planks.

HISTORIC FORBEARANCE

One reason for this historic forbearance is that foreign policy and national defense have always been held up to be nonpartisan.

The secretary of state isn't supposed to represent just his own political party, but both parties.

Ambassador Stevenson, in addressing the United Nations, for instance, doesn't speak merely on behalf of the Democratic administration or the Democratic party, but presumably for all Americans. Presumably, too, Republicans as well as Democrats have a stake in the nation's defenses.

★ ★ ★

It is most unusual, therefore, to see a secretary of state and a secretary of defense testifying before a convention's platform committee.

Foreign policy and national defense are bound to be discussed in the coming campaign. But there are plenty of Democrats on Capitol Hill who can deliver barbs and innuendoes and outright attacks aimed at the opposition party without involving the State Department or the Defense Department in the partisan political game.

Bob Considine Says:

Real or Imagined Slights Arouse Barry Supporters

NEW YORK — We've learned that the admirers of Sen. Barry Goldwater are quicker to respond to real or imagined slights of their tiger than any champions of a public figure since those of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy.

CONSIDINE

A Washington attorney writes me that two recent pictures he noted in the papers I write for were subtle anti-Goldwater attacks.

Both were excellent shots, one by UPI and the other by AP.

The first was a close-up of him, taken around the horned-rimmed glasses area. The second showed him cogitating, hand to his forehead, as he left a GOP unifying meeting in Washington.

The attorney found both pictures "grotesque," "ghastly," and "frightening."

★ ★ ★

He charged that there was a plot afoot in the American press to make Goldwater, who is the handsomest guy who has run for president in a long time, appear "repelling."

'GODLY' LBJ

At the same time, the man goes on, all efforts are being made in the press and on TV "to give Johnson an all-wise, goodly and godly image."

★ ★ ★

Like pulling beagles' ears?

★ ★ ★

We asked Jim Farley, if he were in favor of seeing Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota Democrat and Roman Catholic, chosen as President Johnson's running mate when the clan gathers at Atlantic City next week.

"Not on the grounds that the ticket needs a Catholic," said Farley. "We have to earn our spurs as individuals.

"If the party picks a Catholic this time, it might set a precedent that delegates will feel forced to follow in the years to come, and I think that would be very wrong."

Voice of the People:

'Can't Relieve Poverty Through Higher Taxes'

The City of New York is already spending $781.2 million a year to help the city's poor. This is about one-quarter of the total expense of the city government.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson is asking $1 billion with which to combat poverty. If more than three-quarters of $1 billion will not make a dent in poverty in New York City, surely $1 billion will have little effect on the nation as a whole.

★ ★ ★

The obvious conclusion is that spending money is not the way to relieve poverty. The high taxes exacted in the attempt to relieve poverty creates more poverty. The workers whose incomes are taxed to supply incomes for nonworkers will more and more be reduced to the poverty line. Something far more fundamental than taking money from some and giving it to others is needed for the cure of poverty. The high taxes resulting from the fact that large numbers of people have found ways of living without work is one of the principal causes of poverty.

Says Boat Marinas Sould Post Rules

As a resident of Cass Lake I am particularly interested in the articles regarding the death of Alan Akerley and as a member of the United States Power Squadrons I am conscious of safe boating. I believe that 90 per cent of the boaters have little or no knowledge of the "rules of the road." May I suggest that these simple rules be posted at all marinas: lights required after sunset; no water skiing after dark; boats from your right (starboard) have the right of way.

★ ★ ★

There isn't much activity after dark but you will see an occasional boat with improper lights or one speeding. I have yet to see a sailboat with any lights. I would suggest a 10 m.p.h. limit after dark, but let's not take all motorboats off the lake. It's always a pleasure to boat on a warm, moonlit night and I would hate to lose this privilege. Perhaps lake residents could be appointed auxiliary deputies and could report any infractions of the law.

★ ★ ★

I've also noticed the new swim area markers at Dodge State Park No. 4 are much harder to see than the old yellow barrels. Whoever thought this up never tried seeing markers after dark.

I own property between Columbia and Clara and I have three fruit trees. Last year and again this year neighborhood children took the peaches. 'Act Now to Ban Dogs From State Parks'

Fellow campers, won't you please join with us in an endeavor to keep dogs out of Michigan state parks? Last year when this subject arose, we did nothing. But after another summer of camping we are ready to take up arms in this battle.

★ ★ ★

At one Michigan park we saw a little girl bitten in the chest by a dog that was on a leash tied to a tree. At another park, the only shade was a small fir tree but we couldn't enjoy the shade because of the offensive odor of dogs. Across from us were two families who each had a large poodle. Another camper moved in with three small poodles and this "trio" barked whenever the family went away. Can't dog owners hear the barking or aren't they concerned about their neighbors?

★ ★ ★

Please write your conservation department and see if something can't be done. Perhaps it would be possible to have campers with dogs all camp together in one area as they do at Pontiac Lake.

Virus to Delay Surgery on Reconnected Arm

BOSTON (AP) — Everett (Red) Knowles, 15, whose severed right arm was rejoined to his body two years ago, has contracted a virus and will not be operated on today.

A spokesman for Massachusetts General Hospital said surgery to restore flexibility to Everett's arm and fingers "must be delayed until he has recovered."

Lady Bird Cites Spirit of West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, home from the West, said today she believes the age of adventure has barely begun and "bold and brave beginnings" are needed in America.

She described her tour as "a journey through American history" in the land of pioneers and said she had "caught a vision of the unfinished America," where much remains to be done to fulfill the country's capabilities.

* * *

After stopping in six states in four, fast-moving days, the First Lady summarized her trip in a statement for reporters with her on the plane returning to Washington Monday night.

She said the western region "is full of people who are eager to join in building the great society," which Johnson has said is the goal of his administration.

BIG TURNOUTS

She traveled 4,200 miles by plane, bus, and boats. Much of the territory is considered Republican. Nevertheless, some 20,000 persons turned out in 12 cities to see the First Lady.

She visited Indian and Mormon areas, and trails the pioneers trod.

"All along the way, we found people of open minds and wide horizons, whose spirits match their mountains," she said.

* * *

Aides and associates of Mrs. Johnson came home early today with a feeling of confidence that the mission — now admittedly political — had been accomplished.

Sources close to the First Lady indicated this trip west in which she boosted Democratic candidates for U.S. Senate and state offices was the beginning of her campaign trail.

BIG RECEPTION

Mrs. Johnson obviously was fatigued from the journey, but she had a big White House reception — a salute to the 88th Congress — scheduled Wednesday night and a long one-day trip Thursday to join Canada's first lady, Mrs. Lester Pearson, in dedicating the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Campobello Island home as an international park.

* * *

When Mrs. Johnson dedicated the spectacular Flaming Gorge Dam near Vernal, Utah, Monday, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, told the audience: "If we have done nothing else, we have helped the people of this country to discover a great asset — the First Lady."

* * *

At some stops, youngsters raised campaign placards for Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate, but Mrs. Johnson shrugged them off.

"It's a normal, healthy expression of a diversity of opinion in the American people," she said.

Mrs. Johnson was made an honorary park ranger and adopted into the Crow Indian tribe. The Indians gave her the name "Pretty Walking Bird."

Junior Editors Quiz on CINNAMON

QUESTION: What kind of plant does the spice cinnamon come from?

ANSWER: Cinnamon, the spice which makes Jill's cinnamon rolls si tasty, is the product of a tree of the laurel family which grows in Ceylon and some other tropical regions.

Spices often come from buds, fruits, roots or seeds of various plants, but cinnamon is different because it comes from the bark of a tree with the scientific name of "Cinnamomum zeylanicum."

These trees are kept small so the bark may be easily peeled off, this being done by trimming the tree down. After the bark of the lower branches is peeled (A), the bark dries and curls into tubelike shapes.

Sometimes the spice is sold that way, but it is often ground into powder and packaged in cans (B).

This spice has a particularly pleasant taste and combines very well with sugar. It is used for making cinnamon toast, cinnamon treats and a number of other tasty items, besides Jill's cinnamon rolls, which many people prefer best of all.

Spices add zest to the taste of foods and were very widely used in the old days, especially because they were easy to preserve in the dry state.

FOR YOU TO DO: Spices have played a conspicuous part in history. See what you can find out about the Spice Islands in Indonesia.

LBJ Puts Top Cabinet Officers on Political Firing Line

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has put his top Cabinet members on the political firing line with every indication he intends to keep them there throughout the presidential campaign.

Although he has excused Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara from making campaign speeches, Johnson is holding them in readiness to fire back any time GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater attacks administration foreign or military policies.

The decision by Johnson is that such attacks will be answered swiftly when the administration believes the GOP presidential nominee doesn't have his facts straight.

McNamara and Rusk are also being used to carry the fight to Goldwater, as they did Monday in appearance before the Democratic Platform Committee.

Neither Cabinet officer mentioned the GOP nominee's name.

Asked about Goldwater's proposal that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander be given more leeway in the use of tactical nuclear weapons, McNamara replied that the average power of such weapons was five times that of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

* * *

He said he would leave it up to the platform writers to answer the question whether the President must retain control over use of such weapons.

Traditionally any president tries to keep his secretaries of state and defense above the battle on international and security matters.

TO BE DIFFICULT

Goldwater has demonstrated that this is going to be difficult to accomplish.

As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and as a reserve major general in the Air Force, he has access to detailed information about military- diplomatic operations in such areas as South Viet Nam.

* * *

He has ignored Johnson's offer of intelligence briefings in the evident belief these might fence him in on some issues.

Johnson took the unusual course Saturday of naming Goldwater in charging his opponent with doing "a disservice to our national security, a disservice to peace and, for that matter, a disservice to the entire free world."

JOINT STATEMENT

This was a topper, obviously designed for world consumption, to a joint statement issued by Rusk and McNamara Wednesday. At Johnson's urging they said the GOP nominee had made an "unjustified and irresponsible interpretation" that the President had authorized "the use of nuclear weapons in the Gulf of Tonkin military action.

It was Johnson's decision at the time, however, that to answer everything Goldwater said would merely publicize the GOP aspirant.

* * *

After Goldwater's nomination at the San Francisco convention, the ground rules were changed.

At a July 31 news conference, Rusk was asked about Goldwater's suggestion that the United States get tougher with the Soviet Union by threatening to break off diplomatic relations.

The secretary replied that he thought it would be unrealistic to assume that the Soviets would "roll over and play dead on the basis of anything we say or do to write off their vital interests."

Killed Under Tractor

CADILLAC (AP) — David Agema, 11, of rural McBain, was fatally injured Monday when he was pinned underneath a tractor that overturned while he was driving it on a country road about six miles southwest of Cadillac.

Electronic Reader for the Blind

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) —A pocket-size electronic reader for blind people was displayed today by a Stanford University engineer whose daughter is sightless.

The device rolls over ordinary print with photoelectric cells scanning the words. The cells activate reeds so they vibrate against fingertips of the blind reader.

Prof. John G. Linvill is developing the device in collaboration with the Stanford Research Institute. Linvill's daughter Candace, 12, is blind.

Linvill showed an experimental version of the device and a film starring Candace during a government-sponsored conference in the Stanford electronics laboratories.

25 PER MINUTE

"Candy already can read about 25 words a minute with just a few weeks of one-hour practice sessions," he said. "Of course she can do much better than that with Braille (165 words per minute) but we think her speed with the reading machine will increase with practice and improvements in the device."

Linvill said eventually the device should be about the size of a blackboard eraser and operated by penlight batteries. It would eliminate the need for reproducing books and papers in Braille, he said.

"If a photo cell sees black, the reed connected to it vibrates. By moving the device over the page, a blind person feels the vibrating outline of each letter as his fingertips touch the reeds. In time he might recognize whole words by touch," said the inventor.

Ex-Kennedy Assistant Has Valuable Stories for JFK Library

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Brig. Gen. Godfrey T. McHugh, who was President John F. Kennedy's Air Force aid, has now recorded his recollections of the slain president for permanent record in the Kennedy Library.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

One of the stories he told concerned a late night flight to Washington aboard JFK's presidential plane. As the plane neared the capital, the restless prexy told his long-time friend, McHugh: "Only 20 minutes more in this, and then 5 minutes to the White House."

"No, Mr. President," Godfrey contradicted, "we can't transport you in a helicopter this time of night. It isn't safe enough. We'll have to take the car, so it'll be another 20 or 30 minutes instead of 5."

* * *

The president gave him an argument. McHugh stood his ground, insisting that it could be dangerous to use a helicopter at night.

"Then let's live dangerously," Kennedy grinned, and directed him to order a helicopter for the airport-to-White House leg.

There was nothing McHugh could do but acquiesce. Within a few days, however, he received severe reprimands from FAA administrator Najeeb E. Halaby, the Secret Service chief, and his Pentagon superiors.

OTHER STORIES

The handsome bachelor, who used to squire Jacqueline Bouvier before she married the future president, has many other stories which could provide important footnotes to history.

He was in white tie and tails at a White House dance the night of the Bay of Pigs invasion, when the similarly clad president beckoned him downstairs.

In the presidential office, joined by other military aides, they poured over intelligence reports until 2 a.m. by then they knew that the operation was a disaster.

* * *

McHugh was in Dallas on Black Friday when an assassin's bullet ended JFK's life. It was Godfrey whom Jackie asked to delay the departure of newly sworn President Johnson's plane until her husband's body could be released by Dallas authorities and placed aboard.

MOVES TO EUROPE

Recently retired, McHugh moves within a few days to Paris, where he will handle European defense orders for Magnavox Corp., of which he is now a vice president.

Paris is familiar ground for Godfrey, who served under Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther at NATO headquarters. One of his most impressive recollections of Gen. Eisenhower's wartime chief-of-staff centers on an annual review of NATO troops.

To prepare for the occasion, Gruenther called in an aide from each of the 15 NATO partners, and had him record what the leader of his nation's unit would say as it approached his reviewing stand. Then he had each record what the correct reply should be in that tongue.

* * *

For several weeks before the ceremony, he used his spare moments to memorize the replies in Greek, Turkish, Portugese, Norwegian, French and other languages.

On the appointed day, the "general with the computer brain" stood on the reviewing stand, and without notes delivered his letter-perfect replies in some 10 or 11 different languages.

The mental calisthenics were typical of the man whom Gen. Eisenhower repeatedly recommended to voters as top presidential timber.

Primary Vote in Wyoming

Two Barry Backers Vie for Senate Bid

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming Republicans will be deciding today which of two senatorial aspirants is the stronger supporter of Barry Goldwater when they select a nominee to face Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., in the November election.

Today's primaries end what has been — for the most part — a lusterless campaign. There are few serious fights among any of the nomination seekers.

Most of what interest there is has been generated by former Wyoming Republican Chairman John Wold and Kenny Sailors, onetime Wyoming basketball great, and now a dude rancher.

Both are strong Goldwater supporters — and were backers of the Arizona senator long before he won the presidential nomination at the national convention.

GOLDWATER BACKERS

Wold and Sailors have not campaigned against each other — and each has claimed that he is the stronger Goldwater supporter. Their campaigns have been aimed strictly at McGee and the Johnson administration.

Sailors, 43, served one term in the Wyoming Legislature, in 1952. He was elected from normally Democratic Laramie County by the largest majority the county ever gave in any legislative race.

In 1960, Sailors tried for the GOP congressional nomination, but he lost to Rep. William Henry Harrison. In 1962 he lost a bid for the senatorial nomination to Sen. Milward Simpson.

Wold, 47, a Casper oil geologist, is also a former one-term legislator. He served in 1955.

TOKEN OPPOSITION

On the Democratic side, McGee was expected to coast to renomination with only token opposition from I. W. Kinney, a former government chemist.

Kinney tried to withdraw his name from the ballot, but the state attorney general ruled that the request came too late.

'The Strongman'

By STEVE APRIL

Two men came busting out of the factory side entrance, ran like mad in opposite directions.

The shorter one dashed across the avenue, out of my sight in the twilight. The other staggered—ran down the block toward me, carrying a small canvas sack.

His face was very white and his free hand was pressed to a red spot on the side of his jacket.

My dog was sniffing a lamp post and I ducked behind it as I saw a guard come out of the building, pistol in hand, take off after the shorter guy.

* * *

I knew what I was witnessing. This was Friday night and the factory payroll had been robbed. A factory that large would have a payroll of at least 25 grand.

READY TO FALL

The guy with the bag passed without seeing me. Turning the corner, he seemed ready to keel over as he looked about wildly.

He stopped, felt of his side where he'd been shot, then suddenly heaved the canvas bag behind some trash cans in an alley entrance near a closed hardware store.

He crossed the street and tried to walk, casual-like. Seconds later a radio car came screaming down his side of the street.

* * *

The guy started to run. A cop leaped out and cracked him with a nightstick. He dragged the wounded man into the police car and took off, siren wailing.

DIDN'T MOVE

All this lasted about 60 seconds. Duff, Flo's poor excuse for a dog, wanted to walk but I didn't move from behind the lamp post.

Flo has us living in this neighborhood, a mixture of swank new apartment houses, boarded-up stores and tenements waiting to be demolished.

There wasn't a soul in sight. I could stroll over to the ash cans, pick up the loot and keep going.

* * *

With that kind of quiet money I could buy back Dad's old spread, start farming it right this time. Fix up the old house. Then I'd write Flo either to come live with me on the farm or forget she was my wife. I wasn't made for city life.

WANTED TO WALK

Duff was whining that he wanted to walk. I stood there, knowing I had to act before the police found the smaller punk and realized he wasn't carrying the bag.

So there it was, my big chance and I simply couldn't move!

I don't know why I stood there like a dummy. It would be the easy out, for me. A farm would drive Flo nuts.

* * *

Sure, she nagged me half-crazy, but I suppose she only did it to give me some ambition. Before she married me what had I been? Flo was at the dude ranch and I was starving on land owned by the bank, practically a sharecropper on my own farm.

HATED CITY

True, I hated the city and my job, but if I took the money and ran out, it would kill Flo and I wouldn't be any happier knowing that. To be fair, if Flo had too much push, it was also true I had too little.

I suppose a psychologist would say we were good for each other. I wasn't a psychologist, but I knew that I needed her. And that's why I made the decision that I made.

Several cops fanned out from the factory, searching the streets. Walking Duff toward the nearest cop, I told him, "He dropped a canvas bag back of the hardware trash cans, around the corner."

WITHOUT THANKS

The cop took off without even saying thanks, returned seconds later, running faster, the bag under his arm.

When I came into the apartment I sat on the fancy couch opened my collar and tie, shut my eyes.

Flo said, "My poor tired hubby. I'll run a hot tub for you. If you'd only leave that horrible supermarket, let me find you a desk job in our ad agency . . ."

"Stop it. I know about vegetables—that's all I know."

LIPS ALIVE

Flo kissed me, her lips warm and alive, her perfume exciting. She ran her hand through my wild hair.

"Nonsense, you have as much brains and common sense as any man I know! Darling, even if you are a weakling, ambitionwise, I love you!"

I pulled her down on my lap and hugged her. I almost wanted to tell Flo how wrong she was: if I hadn't been so darn strong-willed about her welfare . . . I could have been long gone from here by now, with that canvas bag.

Start Drilling for Oil at Ford Rouge Plant

DEARBORN (AP) — Drilling for oil has started on Ford Motor Co. property just outside its gigantic Rouge manufacuring complex.

The drilling is a joint venture by Ford and Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co.

* * *

A Panhandle Eastern spokesman estimated Monday drillers were approximately 700 feet down. They plan to go at least 4,000 feet, unless they strike earlier, to test the so-called Trenton formation.

$2-Million Food Plant Is Planned in State

GREENVILLE (AP)—Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., of Ontario, Ore., said today it will build a $2-million food processing plant in nearby Montcalm Township.

The vegetable and fruit processing center will be completed in time for the 1965 crop season, a spokesman said.

Trade Accord Urged by Hart

Fears U. S., Canada to Start Tariff Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., urged the United States and Canada Monday to seek a friendly solution to their current automotive tariff duty row and avoid any damaging trade war.

★ ★ ★

"I hope and expect," Hart told the Senate, "that the United States and Canadian representatives will urgently and promptly seek to reach an agreement on a program which recognizes both the need of the Canadian government to find a solution for its vexing goods and services deficit, and the interests of U.S. workers and U. S. businessmen. . . ."

Hart said he hopes for an agreement "avoiding, insofar as possible, discrimination against U. S. production."

★ ★ ★

He said Canada's "order-in-council" last November offering Canadian automotive manufacturers certain tariff remissions as an incentive to increase their export trade was unilateral and "most unfortunate." Hart said it seemed designed mainly to boost Canadian sales on the U.S. market.

But he warned that U.S. action to impose a retributory tariff against the Canadians could backfire and bring a counteraction "much less palatable than the duty remission program."

★ ★ ★

The Treasury Department has challenged the Canadian order, under a provision of laws which provides for retaliatory tariffs "equal to the net amount of the subsidy" paid by foreign governments on goods exported to the United States.

ATTENTION-GETTER — The Norwegian training ship Christian Radich was towed to a pier in Detroit yesterday after arriving from Port Huron under the power of her diesel engine. The winner of the July transatlantic race with other sailing ships which train European merchant seamen, it will leave Detroit tomorrow for visits to St. Lawrence ports, en route to the Atlantic.

In Walled Lake

Need Sewage Unit

WALLED LAKE — This city with a population now over 3,500 needs a sewage disposal system to grow.

Planning consultants, Vilican-Leman and Associates, Inc., have estimated the community's population potential at 33,444 — more than nine times greater than the present number of residents.

They have cited the proposed sewers as the determining factor in reaching that limit.

As the population increases, planners report, so will the need for facilities.

The maximum population would require five times as much recreational area as is presently in use and a centralized civic center.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

Recommendations of the Southfield firm will be presented to the City Council tonight in a report on the second phase of the city's master plan.

The survey covers residential units and community facilities.

It breaks the area into nine neighborhoods and indicates that nine elementary schools would be needed if the community reached optimum development.

National Recreation Association standards recommend that a community that size have approximately 334.5 acres of recreation space.

AT PRESENT

"At present," planners note, "there are 67.6 acres of recreation space in the planning area, of which 16.1 acres are neighborhood facilities and 51.5 are community facilities. All existing facilities are in conjunction with public school sites."

The planners recommend that the council consider formation of an official recreation commission to act as the controlling agency for these activities.

They also report that civic buildings scattered throughout the city "are becoming more inadequate as development occurs."

Relocation of the fire station out of the commercial area and the addition of one new station also are suggested.

PERMANENT LIBRARY

The city should acquire a permanent library site in the vicinity of the new civic center, according to planners.

★ ★ ★

They now are working on the third segment of the master plan, an analysis of Walled Lake's economic base, to be completed in December.

Other studies will include a thoroughfare plan, future land-use plan and the development and upgrading of the zoning ordinance, subdivision regulations and public improvements.

AREA NEWS

Says Romney Using State Staff in Race

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney's Republican primary election opponent charged today that Romney is using high-salaried state employes to bolster his re-election campaign.

George N. Higgins, Ferndale auto dealer and a former state senator, said Romney meanwhile is "pretending to be very ethical and virtuous in his public conduct."

★ ★ ★

In a speech to a businessmen's luncheon meeting, Higgins said he had a letter "from the Romney - controlled headquarters telling the people around Michigan how they can get in touch with the right people so they can do more to advance the glory of Romney."

"The crowning insult to us—the taxpayers—comes on the second page of this letter," said Higgins. "There is listed the telephone numbers —not the home phone numbers, nor even a private business phone ... but a state telephone number that is part of the cost of state government."

CONTACTS LISTED

The letter was addressed to district chairmen, county chairmen and vice chairmen, Higgins said.

He said it listed as contacts "Bob Danhof, legal adviser to the governor; Jack McIntosh, the go-between from the governor's office to the legislature; Mac Lovell, chairman of the labor mediation board, who by the way is supposed to be devoting most of his working hours to ending the overlong strike of the two main Detroit newspapers, and Lucille Kappling, who uses the same state-supplied telephone that McIntosh has."

★ ★ ★

"These four persons work in the governor's office," Higgins continued. "They should be under civil service but are courteously allowed to serve the governor as his own choice of employes. But, they get more than $50,000 a year in salaries from us, the taxpayers."

Budget Talks for Township

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Public hearing on a $302,000 budget for fiscal 1964-65 will be held tomorrow night before the regular Township Board meeting.

★ ★ ★

The figure is up $2,170 from this year's $389,830, but the levy it will require is down one cent per $1,000 of state equalized assessed valuation.

The proposed budget, if approved at the 8 p.m. hearing, would set the levy at 4.34 mills. Property owners in the township this year were assessed 4.35 mills.

Of the total equalized millage, 2.53 mills was allocated by the county and 1.81 voted extra.

The budget tentatively approved by the township board allots $29,250 to the supervisor's office, $17,450 to the clerk's and $18,500 to the treasurer's.

★ ★ ★

Other departments are public safety, $81,511; fire, $60,860; building and health, $56,600; ge brary, $36,000; capital improvements, $17,760; township hall, $18,550; elections, $9,100; and civil defense, $1,000.

'Peaches' Vie Tomorrow Night for Romeo Title

ROMEO — Girls from a dozen communities will compete here tomorrow for the title of Romeo Peach Queen. The winner will reign over the 32nd annual Peach Festival Labor Day weekend.

The contestants represent Oxford, Rochester, Ortonville, Utica, Armada, Algonac, Flint, Lapeer, Pontiac, Romeo, Waterford Township and Metropolitan Beach.

During the 8 p.m. event at the Romeo Community Center, the girls, to be introduced only as a name of peach, will be faced with questions drafted by judges, interviewed individually and asked to give brief readings.

Clarify Program Time

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The meet-the-candidates program planned by the West Bloomfield Township Women's Republican Club will be held at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the West Bloomfield High School auditorium rather than at the Township Hall as inadvertently misstated in The Pontiac Press yesterday.

Fire Damages Area Drive-In

Estimate $11,000 Loss From Morning Blaze

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—An early morning fire caused an estimated $11,000 worth of damage to Pop's and Mom's Drive-In at 2201 Haggerty today.

Cause of the blaze, which started in the kitchen, has not been determined, according to Commerce Township Fire Chief Clarence Kuttkuhn.

He estimated damage at $4,000 to the building and $7,000 to its contents.

The blaze was confined to the kitchen, but other portions of the building were damaged by smoke, Kuttkuhn said.

★ ★ ★

The establishment is owned by Euclid Couto, 3252 N. Pontiac Trail.

FIREMEN SUMMONED

Township firemen were summoned to the scene at 2:55 a.m., after a passing motorist had reported the fire to the sheriff's department.

★ ★ ★

Using three pieces of equipment, they extinguished the blaze in less than two hours.

Man Is Dead, Girl Critical in Shootings

CADILLAC (AP) — A Flint man is dead and his 16-year-old girlfriend hospitalized with a bullet wound in her head today in the aftermath of what State Police called a "suicide and attempted assault."

James Arnold Hill, 26, died three hours after the shooting at Jennings, a Missaukee County hamlet five miles northeast of Cadillac.

★ ★ ★

Mignon Klaviter, daughter of Henry Klaviter of Flint, is listed in "critical" condition at a Traverse City hospital.

Trooper James Echols of the Cadillac Post said both victims suffered bullet wounds in the head. He said the weapon was a 22-caliber sawed-off rifle.

Echols said Hill shot Miss Klaviter and then himself following an argument at the home of the girl's grandmother, Mrs. Edna Frisk, 78, of Jennings, Monday night.

Freeway Worker Killed in Detroit by 2-Car Crash

DETROIT (AP) — A painter working on West Grand Boulevard bridge of the southbound Lodge Freeway was killed and three motorists injured Monday night in a two-car crash.

Christian Bartel, 59, of Detroit, an employe of a Chicago contracting firm, was struck by a car driven by Jack Larton, 28, of Detroit, police said.

Officers said Larton's car collided with another auto, and veered into an area marked off for the work party. The other car rolled over, police said.

★ ★ ★

Larton and two persons in the other car were injured, but not seriously, police said. He is being held for investigation of manslaughter.

Bonds Sold for Schools in Avondale

AVONDALE—A $440,000 bond issue was sold last night by the Avondale Board of Education at their regular meeting.

★ ★ ★ ★

The bonds were sold to First of Michigan Corp., low bidder of four bids received. The bonds will cover construction of additions to the junior and senior high schools.

The bonds sold last night were the second portion of a $1,290,000 bond issue approved in 1962.

A previous portion in the amount of $850,000 was sold earlier and covers additions to elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the board adopted a general policy as regards the new Michigan law on teacher tenure.

PLANS MEETING

The board plans to meet on Aug. 28 to make recommendations and take action on teacher contracts. Such action cannot be taken until that time.

The board also voted unanimously in favor of including two schools in the assessment area for the Southwest Avon sewage project.

The action was taken on the basis of expected reductions in cost should the schools be included in the project.

Board Okays Addition Plans

ROCHESTER — Architects' plans for additions to the West Junior High School and the Brooklands, Baldwin, McGregor and Woodward elementary schools were approved last night by the Rochester Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

The move opened the way for the letting of bids for construction of the additions. Sealed bids will be due on Sept. 15, and the board hopes that contracts can be awarded at their Sept. 21 meeting.

★ ★ ★

Linn Smith Associates are the architects for the West Junior High School addition, and O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach for the elementary school additions.

The board also received bids for supplies and services during the coming school year.

New MOMS Officers to Be Installed Sept. 3

GINGELLVILLE — New officers of MOMS of America, Unit 33, will be installed Sept. 3 in 7:30 p.m. ceremonies at the Gingellville Community Center.

★ ★ ★

They are Mrs. James Card, president; Mrs. Rita Silvis, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Geeck, secretary; Mrs. Percy Brown, treasurer; and Mrs. Howard Morris, financial secretary.

Pedestrian Is Killed

MADISON HEIGHTS (AP)—Duane Verbraggen, 4, of Madison Heights was killed Monday when he was struck by a car near his home.

13 Jesuits, 3 From County, to Say Colombiere Vows

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Perpetual vows of poverty, chastity and obedience will be pronounced Saturday by 11 Jesuits seminarians, three of them from Oakland County, in ceremonies at Colombiere College.

★ ★ ★

Vows will be taken by two others Sept. 8.

Officiating at the ceremony will be the Rev. Marshall L. Lochbiler, S. J., president of Colombiere, the seminary of the Detroit Province of the Society of Jesus.

Those pronouncing their vows Aug. 22 are Paul L. Bricker, son of Mrs. Leah Bricker of Southfield; Jack Logsdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Logsdon of Southfield; and Richard Rosenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rosenberg of Royal Oak.

Others are George A. Havach and Robert C. Meissner, both of Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Thomas Sheetz of Youngstown, Ohio; Thomas Shannon of Rocky River, Ohio; Larry Stinn of Lakewood, Ohio; Paul D. Turnley of Detroit; Kenneth Styles of Akron, Ohio; and John J. Wenzel of Grosse Pointe.

★ ★ ★

Taking their vows two weeks later will be Joseph M. Janis of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Frederick J. McGinness of Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

MORE SCHOOLING

All will continue college studies at Colombiere for two years. When they finish they will study philosophy for three years, teach in a Jesuit high school for three years, and then study theology for four years. Ordination to the priesthood will follow the third year of theology.

During the 15 years of training, each of these men will pursue a special field. Some will study science, classics, or theology. Others will become missionaries, social workers or administrators.

To Extradite 3 in Fire Death Case

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Three persons waived extradition Monday and were to be returned to Alpena, Mich., to face charges of arson in connection with a house fire in which a man was fatally burned.

Charles L. Ridgely, 22, of Proctor, Minn., died Sunday after being found near a burning house in Alpena. His clothes were on fire from the blaze, which police said was started with a flammable liquid.

★ ★ ★

Waiving extradition in Municipal Court were the victim's brothers, James D. Ridgely, 24, and George R. Ridgely, 25, both of Proctor, and Mrs. George Faye Laupp, 21, Duluth.

John Kowalski, assistant prosecutor, and six police officers from Alpena planned to leave with the trio Monday. Duluth police arrested the three Sunday and held them for Alpena officials.

HOUSE OWNER

The burned house was owned by Norman Lolicoeur of Superior, Wis., an official of the Inland Boatmen's Union. He recently was transferred to Duluth.

★ ★ ★

Police said they were investigating a union jurisdictional fight as a possible motive in the fire. The boatmen's union and an operating engineers' local have been involved in a controversy over which should provide men for some waterfront dredging work in Duluth.

Garden Club Slates Show

OXFORD — The Oxford Garden Club will hold its 30th annual Flower and Vegetable Show on Saturday and Sunday at the Daniel Axford School, Mechanic and Crawford.

★ ★ ★

Visiting hours on opening day will be from 3 to 10 p.m. and on Sunday from noon to 7 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Exhibits will be accepted until 11 p.m. Saturday, according to cochairmen, Mrs. Josephine Skinner and Mrs. Ray Forman.

Troy Break-In Loot Is Valued at $180

TROY — A break-in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen of 201 Kenyon, Troy, last night resulted in the theft of $180 in merchandise and cash.

Taken were a 1964 Zenith clock radio with $60, a diamond-pearl drop necklace worth $60 and $60 in cash.

Supervisor Clarifies White Lake Law

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The junk and dismantled car ordinance recently passed by the Township Board apparently has bred confusion among those not covered by it, according to Supervisor Edward Cheyz.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance carries no prohibition against the owners of antique automobiles, family cars in various stages of repair and vehicles in licensed junk yards, Cheyz said.

★ ★ ★

He noted the purpose of the ordinance is to limit the accumulation of junk and dismantled cars to eliminate health, safety and aesthetic problems created by them.

2 Are Injured in Troy Crash of Two Autos

TROY — A two-car accident here last night injured two drivers. One of them was hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

Albert Roll Jr., 33, of 1903 Rustic Lane, Keego Harbor, was listed in good condition at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, following a collision with an auto driven by Harry S. Prince, 61, of 506 W. Hazelhurst, Ferndale, on Rochester and Long Lake roads.

Troy police said this morning that Roll stated he was going north on Rochester, and Prince that he was southbound on Rochester.

Roll said that he attempted to make a left turn onto Long Lake Road, and was struck nearly head-on by the Prince vehicle.

TICKET ISSUED

Prince said that Roll pulled out in front of him. Troy police ticketed Roll for failure to yield the right of way to oncoming traffic.

Kelley Assistant, State Dept. to Confer on Lakes

LANSING (AP) — Assistant Atty. Gen. Nicholas Olds will confer with the State Department today on Great Lakes water level problems.

Olds will confer as a member of a special committee of the Great Lakes Commission which seeks to refer the water problem to the international joint commission.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said he believes the water level situation "is serious enough to warrant all-out efforts on an international basis to seek some feasible method for alleviating the costly damages we are now suffering as a result of the current unprecedented low levels of Great Lakes."

Olds' mission stemmed from a conference on Great Lakes problems held July 28 at Michigan State University.

New Uses for Ceramics

From one of the lands visited by the midnight sun comes a burst of new designs and uses of Swedish ceramics, pottery and stoneware now being exported to America.

Not only are Swedes producing a variety of table and ovenware but they are also using more and more ceramics in fields of architecture and sculpture.

★ ★ ★

One of the most versatile of the Gustavsberg Studio ceramists, Karin Bjorquist, made news this summer with a New York exhibit at Georg Jensen's.

Her collection includes a large variety of ceramic tiles intended for the construction of wall screens, room dividers, floors and even ceilings.

ROUGH-TEXTURED

Some are as rough-textured as concrete and have open, see-through designs that block off a room or patio without shutting away light and air.

The petite designer not only believes ceramic pieces should be part of the actual architecture of a home, she also likes to use them as architectural accessories.

★ ★ ★

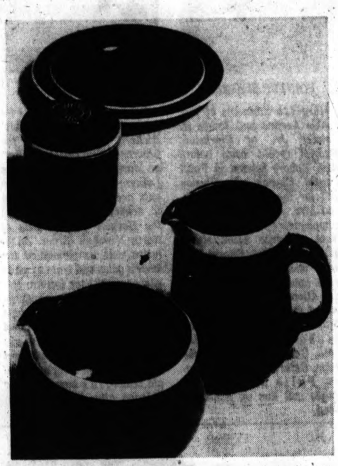
Her massive low-rimmed stoneware platters and jars have a robust sturdiness that makes them seem a part of the building itself.

At the Gustavsberg factory outside of Stockholm, she not only creates her own art pieces and architectural ceramics, but she also designs charming earthenware table services including objects like ovenproof casseroles and bean pots.

Her tea service, called "Kobolt" features horizontal stripes running around the teapot which boasts a handsome bamboo handle. The cups are also striped while the rest of the service has a dark single-toned glaze.

One of Mrs. Bjorquist's most popular designs is her "Vardag" — everyday — set of earthenware with a rich green glaze and white trim. It is embellished with a Swedish seal and resembles the peasant pottery that farmwives used to exhibit fondly on shelves running around the walls of their kitchens.

Right now the 36-year-old Swedish designer is in the United States on a year's Scholarship grant awarded annually to promising Scandinavian artists by the founder of the Danish firm, Georg Jensen.



Beauty and quality are two Swedish "musts" even in the production of earthenware products for everyday use. Karin Bjorquist's "Vardag" pottery is a glowing dark green with white trim.

Stoneware blocks designed by Sweden's Karin Bjorquist make a room divider or wall leading to a garden room or patio. Her ovenware is equally robust and sturdy as shown by this glazed bean pot.

Outstanding Area Teen-Ager

Battles for 'Good' Ones

(This fifth in a number of articles on outstanding area teen-agers concerns Evelyn Daugherty, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Daugherty of Wolf Street.)

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

An interest in promoting the image of the "good teen-ager" in Pontiac occupies some of this summer's spare time for Evelyn Daugherty.

The 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Daugherty is a junior representative for the citizens committee for the "Salute to Youth" program.

FOR GOOD TEENS

The contest, open to all area teen-agers, includes 15 fields of competition and Evelyn says, "is to let the Pontiac area know there are good as well as bad teens."

Evelyn contacts local merchants, encouraging them to display posters and "to get them behind the whole idea."

★ ★ ★

A senior at St. Michael High School, she will be captain of the cheerleading squad for the second year in a row. Evelyn has been a cheerleader since the seventh grade.

During the summer she practiced with the other cheerleaders every two weeks and as the fall semester looms nearer, will practice twice a week and finally daily in preparation for the new year.

ALL 'A'S'

Outside activities haven't interfered with Evelyn's school work however. She is carrying a straight 'A' average.

Other school activities include being a member of the National Honor Society, choral group, Catholic Students Missionary Crusade and the teen club in the parish.

★ ★ ★

Secretary for the future teachers club, she was president of her junior class.

Evelyn has mixed a college preparatory course with a business course.

ENJOYS SKATING

This attractive blue-eyed blonde also enjoys ice skating in her spare time during the winter months. Skating since she was five, Evelyn has been in racing competition at the North Side Community club, where she won a number of second and third places.

Also among her hobbies are collecting dolls made in Japan and reading poetry.

★ ★ ★

Leadership qualities are already evident in Evelyn's life. Her scholastic ability and concern in community affairs will make her one of the better products of her generation.

Pontiac Press Photo

Evelyn Daugherty likes to read poetry. Active in her school and in her community, Evelyn is a junior representative for the citizens committee working on the "Salute to Youth" program being organized in connection with the Youth Assistance Program for the City of Pontiac.

Pocketful of Magic for Sour Tempers

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Mrs. James F. Daw, 74, finds that one way to win friends and influence bus drivers, waitresses and others is by appealing to their sweet tooth.

The retired librarian, a widow, dispenses candy along with general good cheer to those whom she meets daily to "pep up the world a bit."

★ ★ ★

"I've made friends I never would have met otherwise," said Margaret Swenson Daw.

Mrs. Daw, a resident of Long Island City, N. Y., began her candy dispensing several months ago because "I was having a little trouble with a hip and I wanted to get off the front entrance of buses. Those back doors (passenger instead of driver-operated) were too much for me to handle."

She found a couple pieces of candy passed along to bus drivers sweetened their traffic-soured dispositions considerably—they let her use the front exits. Maybe, she decided, the sweet talk would work with others.

Now, from her "pocketful of magic," a plastic bag filled with hard candies, she dispenses to over-rushed waitresses, glum elevator operators, irate salesgirls, restaurant hostesses and cashiers, and bank tellers.

She figures she gives away two to three pounds a week. "It doesn't make me poor and I get such a nice feeling from it," she said.

She remembered, during an interview, that libraries were places where people "came to visit only if they wanted to—except for students doing required reading. The grocer you have to visit and pay, the landlord you have to pay. But the library is there free for those with a desire to learn."

"Not too long ago," she continued, "I was at a community meeting on juvenile delinqency and one young man present said, 'aren't you Miss Swenson who used to be with the library?'

"I told him I was and he remembered, 'You threw me out a couple of times for making too much noise.'"

Said Mrs. Daw, "I told him, 'well, I did make a good boy out of you, didn't I?'" The "boy" is now a Catholic priest.

Mrs. Daw said she used to read every book that went on library shelves, but today does less reading and more watching of television.

While watching the screen she knits afghans for the veterans administration hospitals.

Once a week she is a volunteer at the Elmhurst General Hospital, sitting and singing old songs with terminal disease patients.

Couple on Honeymoon in Michigan

Garden Reception Follows Rites

Judith Marion Herr, daughter of the Clarence Herrs of Almont and Edmund L. Windeler Jr., son of the senior Windelers of Hatchery Road were married recently in Christ Church Cranbrook.

MRS. EDMUND L. WINDELER JR.

Judith Marion Herr of Almont chose a gown of white peau taffeta for her recent marriage to Edmund L. Windeler Jr. in Christ Church Cranbrook.

★ ★ ★

Reembroidered Alencon lace accented the bodice and dome skirt styled with detachable Watteau train. A petal headpiece held her bouffant veil of nylon illusion. White carnations and Stephanotis surrounded miniature pink roses in her bouquet.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Clarence Herrs of Almont and the Edmund L. Windelers of Hatchery Road, who were hosts at a garden reception following the rites performed by Rev. T. H. Michael Nesbitt.

ATTEND BRIDE

Nancy Herr attended her sister as honor maid. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Arnold Ruhlig, Almont; Candace and Susan Windeler, and Barbara Bottlaux of Detroit.

With Donald Windeler, best man, were ushers, Arnold Ruhlig, Ralph Windeler, Hamed Y. Al-Gharabally of Kuwaitt and Ramzi Al-Saigh of Bagdad, Iraq.

The couple will honeymoon in northern Michigan. She is a graduate of Oakland University where her husband is a senior.

Caps and Pins Are Won by Youthful Volunteers

Twenty-five area school youths received caps and pins to wear with their uniforms at a ceremony Sunday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercey Hospital. They are now members of the Youth Service in Hospitals of the American Red Cross.

★ ★ ★

These volunteer workers have completed a supervised training program in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital or Seminole Hills Nursing Home. They will continue to serve there during their junior and senior years of high school.

★ ★ ★

Most of the young people in this group will have some career in the field of medicine and use this service as a stepping stone. It is also a good place to start their training for future community service.

REPRESENTATIVES

Representing Pontiac in the the ceremony were Karen Ardelean, Christina Barkham, Cheryl Hight, Brenda Lanham, Paula Mastick and Marilyn Webber.

From Bloomfield Hills were Roberta Bollinger, Darcey McGraw, Barbara Munley, Deborah Rutzen, Jean Scolaro, Suzanne Scott, Helen Todd, Karen Trimmer and June Vines.

★ ★ ★

Open House Honors Couple

Mr. and Mrs. W. Royden Fraleigh of Wolverine Lake were honored at an open house in their home, Saturday. One hundred fifty guests attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration.

The couple received congratulatory messages from President Lyndon B. Johnson, Gov. George Romney and other notables.

Wedding vows were repeated before the Rev. Samuel Coulter, rector of St. Matthias Episcopal Church of Detroit. The couple has a son, daughter, and one grandchild.

State Chorale Comes Home After Tour

Jack Edwards of Ortonville and Mary Stewart of Oxford were among the members of the Michigan Youth Chorale which toured South America this summer.

Among the stops for the 66 member chorale were Rio de Janeiro, Campinas, Sao Paulo, Montevideo, Buenos Aires and Santiago.

The group and their director left Ann Arbor in June for New York City where they gave two concerts at the World's Fair. They then left for South America and stayed in the homes of families at every stop.

Besides giving concerts every day and being on radio and television twice, the group had a chance to visit points of interest at each stop.

The chorale arrives home today and will present a homecoming concert Aug. 30 at the Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor. There will be no tickets and no admission charge for this program.

Birds and Bees Not Topic for 12-Year-Old to Explain

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A very advanced 12-year-old neighbor girl has been telling my 8-year-old son about the birds and the bees.

ABBY

I don't know quite how to handle this because the girl's mother and I are very good friends.

It has been handy to ask this girl to look after my son for a few hours after school, or on Saturday afternoons, but lately every time she has been with him he seems to have learned something new on the subject.

★ ★ ★

Our boy never had any curiosity at all about things like that until this girl put those ideas in his head.

Is there a tactful way to put a stop to it?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: How, and from whom, a child learns about the birds and bees has a significant bearing on his later sex attitudes, so don't treat this lightly.

Have the girl's mother tell her daughter that the "facts of life" are for "older" children (say about 12) and since younger boys and girls (say around 8) might not understand, their questions should be referred to their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has been on a diet for as long as I have known her. Whenever we are dining out she won't think of ordering anything fattening.

But just let someone else order it and, the moment it comes, she'll plunge her fork into his food, or sink her spoon into his dessert.

★ ★ ★

"Shades of trench mouth," it's getting me down.

I despise this practice and have hinted until I'm blue in the face, but nothing stops her.

VICTIM

★ ★ ★

DEAR VICTIM: Be prepared. When you order, ask for a small service plate and give her a "taste" before she attacks.

DEAR ABBY: I wasn't born yesterday. A woman telephones our home quite often. If I should answer the phone, she hangs up.

If my husband answers it, that is a signal to her that he can get away to see her, which he promptly does. He always finds some kind of excuse to get in the car and go some place.

I wish you would put this in the paper to let the lady know I would like very much to talk to her.

If it's my husband she wants, she can have him.

NOT SO DUMB

DEAR NOT: I doubt if you can unload that double-dealing dandy of yours so easily.

What woman in her right mind would want a man who can't be trusted?

Every time the telephone would ring, she'd go ding bats!

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "ALLERGIC TO ROSES" amused me because we also had neighbors who disturbed us with an extremely loud stereo or hi-fi set.

We just turned our record player on as loud as we could, and played that old song, "YOU, YOU'RE DRIVING ME CRAZY" over and over again.

They got the hint and we've been good friends ever since.

Linda Perry Given Shower

Bride-elect Linda Perry was honored at a miscellaneous shower recently by the women of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. The shower took place in the Pontiac Jr. Academy of the church on Pontiac Lake Road.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Glen Hill, Mrs. John Mason and Mrs. David Peterson.

Miss Perry will wed Pvt. Warren Cordone Aug. 30.

Botsford Inn Setting for Recent Reception

Reception in historic Botsford Inn, Farmington, followed the recent nuptials of Kathryn Anne Kesti and Ronald George Yatich in the Bethesda Lutheran Church, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Leon Appel performed the rite for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Kesti of Motorway Drive and the son of Dr. and Mrs. George Yatich of Troy.

Peau d'ange lace enhanced the bridal gown of white silk organza over taffeta styled with detachable overskirt and chapel train.

VEIL AND FLOWERS

The bride's bouffant veil was silk illusion, she carried white Odontglossom orchids and draceana foliage.

Georgia Chambers of Sandusky, Mich., was honor maid, along with bridesmaids Mrs. Ronald Leonelli of Detroit and Mrs. Edward Fritz of Whitmore Lake.

Best man for the bridegroom, was Eli Stanesca, with Robert French, James Wright and Gerald White seating the guests. All are of Birmingham.

The bride will be a senior at Central Michigan University this fall, where her husband is a graduate student in biology.

Zonta Leaders Entertain at Picnic Supper

Officers and directors of the Zonta Club of Pontiac entertained members and their guests at a recent picnic supper.

★ ★ ★

The event took place in the Orchard Lake home of Mrs. Katherine M. Baker, president.

During the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Baker reported on her recent trip to the Zonta International Convention in San Francisco.

REPRESENTS CLUB

Also representing the Pontiac club at the convention was Mrs. Lloyd B. Smith.

★ ★ ★

The group voted to support the retention of the special millage school tax.

Wed recently in the Bethesda Lutheran Church, Detroit, were Kathryn Anne Kesti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Kesti of Motorway Drive to Ronald George Yatich, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Yatich of Troy.

It Is Best to Say 'Sir' or 'Madam'

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am a hostess in a restaurant and am in charge of the waitresses. A question has arisen as to the correct way they should refer to the patrons when taking an order.

For example, do they say, "What will you have, sir" to a man and to a woman, "What will you have, madam?"

Some of the waitresses use "Miss" when the patron is young and to an older woman they say "Ma'am." Will you please tell me which is correct and in best taste?

★ ★ ★

A: "Sir" and "madam" are correct and in best taste. Miss should be avoided except when speaking to a very young girl.

"Ma'am" is used only by a domestic servant when speaking to the lady of the house and even then, "Mrs. Smith" is more usual and in better taste in the present day.

Q: In a moving picture theater, is it necessary for one to get up from his seat in order to let others pass when entering and leaving a row.

I usually just turn my knees to the side and remain seated.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette.

A: If by turning your knees sideways there is enough room for them to pass, it is not necessary to get up.

But if, as is often the case, there is so little space that they have to squeeze by or step over your knees, you must stand and sit down again quickly so as not to cut off the view of those behind you for any longer than necessary.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest will be answered in this column.

Weekend Vows Spoken by These Couples

HOLSER-REIMER

The Louis John Holsers (Betty Jeanne Reimer) left for New York City after exchanging recent vows in the Methodist Church, Walled Lake. Alencon lace accented a floor-length gown of white sheer over taffeta for the daughter of the Leslie N. Reimers of Walled Lake. Mrs. Bud H. Shearn attended her sister. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Grover Holser of Bridge Lake Road, Springfield Township, and the late Mr. Holser, had Gerald Vess for best man. Russel Hubbard seated the guests. A reception in the CAI Building followed the evening ceremony.

OLSEN-KENT

Off on a Canadian honeymoon are Earl Edger Olsen of West Huron Street and his bride, the former Rita Ann Kent. The couple exchanged vows recently in the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Oxford. The bride chose a gown of white peau de soie and Alencon lace, worn with bouffant illusion veil. Miniature white roses covered her Bible, gift of her parents, the Carl Kents of West End Avenue. Honor matron was Mrs. Michael Kroll whose husband was best man for the bridegroom, son of the Erling Olsens of Alpena. David Guy and Leroy Bobolitz, both of Alpena, ushered. The reception was in the First Federal Savings of Oakland club room.

POINTER-SIMMONS

Mary Lee Simmons of Van Syckle Avenue and James H. Poister Jr. of Clarkston, pledged recent vows before Rev. Robert Kasten in Faith Baptist Church. An illusion veil for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Simmons complemented her gown and train of white satin, styled with lace bodice. Cheryl Hillman and Annette Simmons were honor maid and flower girl. Attending the bridegroom, son of the senior Pointers of Ortonville, were Jerry Pointer, Richard Simmons, Archie Rose, Gary Purdy and Rufus Gage. Returning from a Niagara Falls honeymoon the couple will live on Roselawn Road.

UHRLAND-SCHULZ

Candlelight vows were solemnized recently by Rev. Richard Stuckmeyer for the Lawrence Eric Uhrlands (Keren Marie Schulz) in the Grace Lutheran Church. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Schulz of Dick Avenue and the Herbert W. Uhrlands of North Marshall Street. An illusion veil complemented the bride's gown and train of white silk organza over taffeta. Her bodice was reembroidered lace. Attendants were Jaylene Hartwell, Colleen O'Neil, Carol Remez, Nancy Boomer; Charles Beevers, Richard Bushey, Dwight King and Ronald Miller. The couple left for Chicago after a reception in Maurice's.

HEISLER-PETERSON

Recent vows were solemnized by Rev. Robert Shelton in the First Baptist Church for the James Alan Heislers (Alice Carrie Peterson). Parents of the couple are the Charles H. Petersons of North Marshall Street, Mrs. Ervin Atwell of Lehigh Street, and Harold Heisler of Lake Orion. A chapel train styled the bride's floor-length grown of white silk organza over taffeta. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from an orange blossom crown. Attendants were Sandra Anderson, Dolores Dumity, Linda Seiber, Katherine and Pamela Hogland; David Atwell, Charles R. Peterson, Dennis Avis, Neal Peterson, and Glenn Sherman. A trip to the World's Fair and Washington, D.C. followed the couple's reception in the church parlors.

East Lansing Home for Newlywed Pair

Daughter of the Philip B. Smiths of Bretton Drive, Avon Township, the bride appeared in a sheath gown and chapel train of white peau de soie, touched with pearl and crystal beading.

An open pillbox capped her veil of imported illusion and white roses rested on her small white Bible held during the ceremony performed by Rev. Robert H. Jackson.

Honor matron was Mrs. James Kemler. Sally Catto of Troy and Kathy Good were bridesmaids, with junior attendants Holly Smith and Ruth Kemler.

David Kemler attended his brother as best man. They are the sons of the Donald G. Kemlers of Cobb Creek Court, Oakland Township.

The usher corps included James Kemler, George Catto, Andrew Maturen, Flint and Wallace Parshall, Greenfield, Ohio.

The couple will live at East Lansing for his senior year at Michigan State University.

MRS. C. E. KEMLER

In Episcopal Ceremony

Area Pair Is Married

The Christ Episcopal Church, Dearborn, was the setting for the recent nuptials of Victoria Ann England and Ronald Roy Wilton.

MRS. R. R. WILTON

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vozka of Dearborn and the Roy Wiltons of East Hammond Lake Drive.

Chantilly lace applique highlighted the bride's gown and train of white nylon organza over taffeta and formed a petal crown for her triple-tiered illusion veil.

Pale pink - frosted carnations were combined with ivy and Stephanotis for her cascade bouquet.

Honor attendant was Carol Monroe, Wyandotte, with bridesmaids Judy Westfall, Farmington, and Ann Gregory, Lincoln Park.

★ ★ ★

On the esquire side were Gerald Erickson, best man, with Bruce Wideman of Detroit who seated guests with W. T. England.

MRS. E. R. EATON II

Poolside Reception After Rite

Honeymooning in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Elton R. Eaton II (Nancy Jane Bricker) who were wed recently in the First Methodist Church, Birmingham.

Her parents, the Charles L. Brickers were hosts at a reception and poolside reception at their Bloomfield Village home following the vows repeated to Dr. G. Ernest Thomas.

RENAISSANCE-TYPE

Cameo ivory peau de soie overlaid with French tulle and embroidered Alencon lace fashioned the bride's Renaissance-type gown. Multi-looped pearl tassels accented the bolero bodice and court train.

★ ★ ★

The contoured veil of tulle was gathered to a lace diadem belonging to her paternal grandmother and centered with orange blossoms from her mother's bridal headpiece. She carried Royal Bouquet and dendrobium orchids.

★ ★ ★

With Mary Ann Bricker, her sister's honor maid and Sally Gerhard, junior honor maid were Jo Ann Gerhard and Eleanor Gerhard, Mrs. Kenneth Fraser, Mrs. Robert L. Smith, Mrs. John Watson and Mrs. Thomas Dunigan. Meredith Lindsay was flower girl. Robert L. Smith II carried the rings.

The bridegroom, son of the Sterling P. Eatons of Plymouth, had Robert G. Dajnowicz III for best man. Charles L. Bricker Jr., Howell Davis, Frederick J. Guenther Jr., John Watson, Jonathan Sterritt, Richard V. Bennett Jr., and Martin P. DiLoreto ushered.

SCHOOLS

The new Mrs. Eaton was graduated from Bloomfield Country Day School. Her husband attended Miami University and pledged Sigma Nu fraternity at Olivet College and University of Michigan.

Shrink Tape Before Use

Always shrink narrow cotton seam tape before using it on a garment other than washable cottons.

To shrink the tape, let it stand in warm water for 10 minutes.

Squeeze out, then lay it flat on an ironing board and press with a pressing cloth and a hot iron until it is dry.

Wed by Candlelight

A candlelight ceremony followed by reception marked the nuptials of Ruth Ann Webster and Gary Lee Greene recently in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

Re-embroidered Alencon lace highlighted a gown of white peau de soie for the daughter of the Arthur C. Websters of Argyle Avenue.

The dome skirt featured a Watteau train.

A taffeta pillbox secured her bouffant illusion veil and white orchids and Stephanotis comprised her bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Attending their sister were honor matron, Mrs. Richard Teplick of Wayne, with Lois and Penny Webster who were bridesmaids. Sherrie Spitzer of Fallbrook, Calif. was flower girl.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Lucile Greene of Hudson Avenue and A. B. Greene Jr. of West Beverly Avenue, had William Webster for best man.

Seating guests were Donald Shaw, Dale Harvey, Gordon Messer and Richard Schmiel, Rochester. Robert Greene carried the rings used by Rev. Theodore Allebach in the service.

Too Much Junk Just Bulges Purse

Clean out your make-up kit every once in a while. You'll never have a slim, flat purse if the make-up you carry in it is cluttered with four half-empty lipsticks and six shades of eye shadow.

Take with you only the cosmetics you need each day.

MRS. GARY L. GREENE

Cotton Towels

Dish towels made of cotton crepe are inexpensive, absorbent and need no ironing.

Eastern Honeymoon Follows Rite

A candlelight ceremony and reception in the Dearborn Valley Church of Christ marked the vows of Janet Evelyn Nave to Louis M. Cascaddan of Shimmons Road.

★ ★ ★

The Hubert V. Naves of Dearborn and the Carson Cascaddans of Northfield Road are parents of the couple who left for an eastern honeymoon.

★ ★ ★

Imported Swiss motifs accented the bride's gown of white peau satin over silk taffeta. The sheath skirt was styled with a dual-paneled detachable train.

VEIL, FLOWERS

She wore a double Dior bow with illusion veil and carried pale yellow glamellias and yellow roses.

Nola Lee of Mt. Clemens was honor maid and bridesmaids were Sharyn Or, Carrol Burleson, Janece Mobley, Linda Gould, Janice Pennington and Mrs. John McClelland.

Lisa and Joan Plummer attended their aunt as flower girls at the ceremony performed by John W. Plummer of Park Forest, Ill.

★ ★ ★

With best man, Ronald Cameron of Niagara Falls, N.Y., were the bridegroom's brothers Gene, John and Carl Cascaddan ushering with Robert Cucheran, Al Etheridge and John Rohlfs.

The bride was graduated from Michigan Christian College, Rochester.

ONE COLOR

Leads to Indecisiveness

Unstable Government Said Viet Problem

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of reports on the Viet Nam situation by Newspaper Enterprise Association military analyst Co. Ray Cromley.)

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The major problem I found in South Viet Nam is the instability of the Khanh government.

★ ★ ★

This instability leads to indecisiveness. Orders are given, then changed. Plans are made, then altered and altered again.

Important posts aren't filled because Gen. Nguyen Khanh's government can't agree on the appointees. Men of small ability remain in high office; first-rate generals languish in unimportant posts.

★ ★ ★

As a result, the over-all program for winning the war limps along. In a few spots, the new concepts are being carried out with dispatch. But many bureaucrats, local officials and local army leaders are marking time, waiting to see what is going to happen.

FIGHTING SELVES

Meanwhile, top men in the Khanh government fight among themselves. Some ambitious generals try to expand their spheres of authority. There are frequent reports that a coup is imminent.

U. S. government representatives here have made up their minds that an overthrow of the Khanh government by coup or assassination would be disastrous. They are, therefore, working on steps to prevent either.

U.S. officials are cooperating with Khanh in the development of personal security measures that would make it more difficult for an assassin to reach him. They're helping in the reorganization of his personal intelligence setup.

They have given him advice on the formation of a crack unit of troops to defend Saigon in the event of an attempted coup.

WATCH TROOPS

U.S. military advisers stationed through South Viet Nam now carefully watch the movement of Vietnamese field army troops to make certain that none make a sudden drive for Saigon to help put over a coup. These U.S. Army advisers have been ordered to "discourage" any such troop movements.

In Saigon, high U.S. officials have made it clear to South Viet Nam's top army leaders that the U.S. would consider a coup disastrous in its effort.

At the same time, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor, Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland and the heads of the U.S. Information Agency and of the Agency for International Development in South Viet Nam have started meeting regularly with Khanh and his top military, economic and propaganda aides every Friday morning as a sort of joint war strategy board that will work out the over-all conduct of the war.

★ ★ ★

This will, it is hoped, give the war more firm direction from the top.

COMING STEP-UP

The coming sharp step-up of U.S. advisers in the provinces and with Vietnamese divisions, regiments and battalions will make certain that the new firm top direction will be carried out in the field.

Fire in Pennsylvania Destroys Warehouse

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Fire destroyed the Sears, Roebuck and Co. warehouse and service center in Suburban Swatara Township Monday night, causing damage estimated by a Sears' official of "at least a million dollars."

One fireman suffered minor injuries. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Sees Satellite Use as Full TV Network

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A space communications expert says it is possible by use of a satellite to blanket North America with one television station at a cost of $30 million, compared to the $500 million a full network costs.

George S. Shaw, senior vice president and cofounder of Radiation, Inc., of Melbourne, Fla., said Monday, "A communications satellite in synchronous, or apparently stationary, orbit can beam a television signal which has been relayed to it from a ground source and provide continuous programs."

Peking, Cuba Urge Negroes to Riot in U.S.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

News Analysis

Broadcasts from Communist Cuba and Red China have been pouring out a torrent of advice to American Negroes to take to the streets in armed revolutionary violence and even guerrilla war.

The Chinese claim Negro violence in America must be encouraged in the name of "the national liberation movement."

Cuba uses "Radio Free Dixie" and a renegade American Negro, Robert F. Williams, to call for revolutionary street violence in U.S. cities.

Peking has enlisted a man called Frank Coe. A Frank Coe once was a target of a U.S. Senate investigation for alleged spying on behalf of international communism. He had been a high-paid secretary of the International Monetary Fund in the late 1940s.

MOVE IN

Just a year ago, China's Mao Tze-tung issued a declaration urging "the world's people" — meaning the Communists — to move in on the U.S. situation. Peking now uses its advocacy of violence in America as a club in its ideological war with the Soviet Communists.

The Chinese want nonwhite people in Africa, Asia and Latin America to believe Peking is their only true friend. Red China is trying to shut the Russians out of Asia and take over revolutionary causes—the "National liberation movement"—in all underdeveloped areas.

* * *

Last week, to commemorate the first anniversary of Mao's declaration, a series of rallies was held in China. One speech was delivered by "American comrade Frank Coe," as Peking radio described him.

Coe noted that Mao's declaration was widely distributed among Negroes in the United States. He told the rally American Negroes "are beginning to talk more and more about armed self-defense, about fighting for freedom by any means necessary, about guerrilla warfare and civil war."

ADVOCATE DEFENSE

Coe said true Marxist-Leninists "advocate armed self-defense," and "liken the stand of nonviolence to that of Khrushchev." He accused pro-Khrushchev Communists in America of counseling Negroes to stop their violence.

Coe praised William Epton, the 32-year-old leader of the "Progressive Labor Movement," which he has said is financed by Red Chinese money. Epton has been indicted for criminal anarchy in New York.

Chinese propaganda urges American Negroes to form a united front. This recalls Epton's statement that he would work with any group, including the militant Black Muslims and Black Nationalists.

Ride Is Rusty, but He's Not

SANDWICH, England (AP) — Two members of the Sandwich Town Council exchanged stern words Monday night over their rights to ride a merry-go-round.

When he strolls through the town playground, Sir Stephen Holmes, 68, former British high commissioner in Australia, likes to take a ride on the merry-go-round — the kind you push and then hop on.

* * *

Complaining to the council that the merry-go-round is rusty, Sir Stephen said: "The round about won't go round anymore. It's too stiff."

"You shouldn't be riding on that round-about," said Councilman Ernest Weller. "Nobody over 16 is allowed to use it."

ADMITS USE

"But you ride on it sometimes," retorted Sir Stephen.

"Yes, I admit that I do," said Weller, who is 50, "but I do it because I'm in charge of the place. That round-about cost $224 and we don't want it broken."

* * *

Miffed but not muffled, Sir Stephen countered:

"But I'm a councilman, too, and I have a right to ride on the round-about. I like to see that everything is working properly.

LITTLE RIDE

"When I go into the park I don't see any reason why I shouldn't have a little ride — in order to see that it's quite safe."

"Well, it's not right," said Weller.

* * *

"I shall go on riding," snapped Sir Stephen. "It's my duty as a councilman."

"Besides it's fun."

HIGH-OCTANE FIRE — Firemen in Las Vegas had to cope with a blaze in a 200,000-gallon tank of high-octane gasoline stored in the heart of the city. The flames were kept under control by over 100 firemen. Three of them suffered minor injuries.

Hope for Adjournment Nearly Gone

Mansfield Tries to Skirt Districting Rift

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield tries to steer the Senate around the shoals of legislative reapportionment today, with his hopes for adjournment this week near the vanishing point.

The effort to thwart the federal courts — and a counterfilibuster by a band of liberals — is certain to be at the top of the agenda when Mansfield and other congressional leaders hold their weekly discussion of legislative matters with President Johnson.

* * *

Johnson's $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization, a priority measure, is caught directly in the Senate cross-fire.

To it, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, has attached his proposal to delay court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures on the basis of districts that are substantially equal in population.

PUT ASIDE

What the Democratic leader wants the Senate to do now, he said Monday, is to put legislative apportionment aside long enough to turn to other matters.

Still, he will keep the foreign aid bill and its troublesome rider the pending business the remainder of the week. Unless the rider is accepted, he told Democratic senators in a conference Monday, the Senate will be recalled after next week's Democratic National Convention and will "remain in session until we finish what we have to do."

* * *

The first order of business in Mansfield's revised schedule is the Food for Peace bill to extend for two years the program of sales of surplus farm products for foreign currencies. Like foreign aid, it is on the President's "must list."

If Food for Peace can be passed quickly, Mansfield said, the Senate may take up the appropriations bill for the Labor and Welfare departments.

TROUBLE BREWS

Meanwhile, trouble is brewing for the White House and the Democratic leaders in the House.

There, the powerful forces fighting reapportionment — and the Supreme Court which ordered it — have forced a vote Wednesday on a bill to strip the federal courts of any jurisdiction over state apportionment cases.

The bill, introduced by Rep. William M. Tuck, D-Va., was sent to the floor last week in a power play by the chairman of the Rules Committee, Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va.

Smith's goal reportedly is to win a delay in carrying out reapportionment until the states have a chance to act on a constitutional amendment that would permit them to retain the right to apportion one body of their legislatures on area, rather than population.

SUBSTITUTE BILL

It now appears that something like the Dirksen proposal will be offered as a substitute when the Tuck bill comes up Wednesday. It should pass overwhelmingly.

Born a Slave in 1850

Nearly 114, Wants to Be 120

ATMORE, Ala. (AP) — Will Adams plans to live to be 120 years old.

The spry old ex-slave just might make it — if his kinfolks can keep him from climbing trees. He will be 114 years old Thursday and people that age just aren't supposed to be out on a limb.

* * *

Actually, Adams hasn't been quite that frisky since he fell out of a pecan tree two years ago, according to his daughter, Mattie Thomas.

She said her father has been "acting more his age" since the incident, because it forced him to see a physician for the first time.

HAS VITALITY

Adams still has a great deal of vitality. He points out that he worked at a sawmill until he was 94. Every once in a while he shuffles through a dance routine.

Without doubt one of the country's most senior citizens, Adams likes to think he is still capable of his earlier exploits.

* * *

"I can still beat any man in the state in a river log-rolling contest," he says.

His daughter adds in a whisper that he actually hasn't been swimming since he was 94.

WORK RECORD

At that time he was working for the W. T. Smith Lumber Co. at Chapman, Ala. Previously he worked for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, where he started in 1866 for 25 cents a day. During the Civil War, he drove an ox cart as a slave.

* * *

Adams was born in Virginia Aug. 20, 1850. He was sold to an Alabama plantation owner while a baby.

* * *

His recollections of the Civil War are few. His memory is confined to personal experiences related to places, jobs and his family.

Adams did not marry until he was 50. He has outlived his wife by some 20 years.

CHILDREN LIVING

Three of his six children are still living, in addition to a stepdaughter, 10 grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

"Good clean living" — That's what Adams attributes for his longevity. He is asleep by 8 p.m. and awakes at 5 a.m. for the first of his three daily coffee breaks. A devout Methodist, he has never indulged in alcohol or tobacco.

* * *

Although his eyesight and hearing are failing, he has no doubt but that he will live to 120 years old.

"I want to get old enough to collect an old age pension," he quips.

Man Is Found Dead in Auto at Midland

MIDLAND (AP)—Paul Donald Baldwin, 28, of Mount Clemens was found dead in his automobile Monday at Midland. Baldwin was an employe of Happyland Shows, currently entertaining at the Midland County Fair. The motor of Baldwin's car was running, and police say he may have died of asphyxiation.

FBI Checks Report Reds in Project

NEW YORK (AP) — Washington has taken a hand in the investigation of alleged Communist infiltration of a $12.9-million experimental project against juvenile delinquency on New York's lower East Side.

James E. McCarthy, director of the project, the Mobilization For Youth, conferred Monday with David L. Hackett, special assistant to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Hackett also is executive director of President Johnson's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency.

* * *

Hackett said in Washington that he and McCarthy went through each of the allegations, one by one.

New York City police and FBI agents here have been investigating the allegations, made in an article in the New York Sunday News. Leaders of the project have denied the charges.

PROJECT FUNDS

The project receives about 58 per cent of its funds from federal agencies, 28 per cent from the city and 14 per cent from the Ford Foundation.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner said late Monday he had advised project officials that no final action would be taken on the investigation and an intensive review of the group's activities and budget were completed. The contract between the project and the city expired July 1, but the city has continued its contributions at the same rate on a temporary basis.

U. N. Officials Killed in Congo

Were Probing Reports of Planned Reprisals

GENEVA (AP) — The United Nations announced that two French U.N. officials were killed Monday in a refugee camp in the Congo's Kivu Province.

The two officials were identified as Jean Plicque, 33, of the International Labor Organization; and Francois Preziosi, 43, of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees.

The announcement said they were killed while visiting a refugee camp at Kalonge, but gave no details.

Preziosi was the high commission's representative in Bukavu, capital of Kivu Province. Plicque was an ILO expert in rural development. Five days ago the two organizations signed an agreement providing for a million-dollar zonal development plan in Burundi and Kivu.

FUNDS EARMARKED

Under the plan, $634,000 was earmarked for Burundi and $400,000 for the Kivu Province to permit the settlement of 60,000 refugees from Rwanda in the Kivu and 24,000 Rwandese refugees in Burundi.

The U.N. announcement said the two men met their deaths while investigating reports on planned reprisals against certain refugees in the camp. Reports from Bukavu said the two officials planned to advise Watusi refugees from Rwanda to stay away from politics and not to join Congolese rebel forces retreating from the Bukavu area toward the camp.

* * *

The wives of both men are in Bujumbura, capital of Burundi, and have been informed that their husbands are dead, the announcement said.

Officials said a U.N. party under Congolese army and police protection was en route to the camp to try and recover the bodies.

Youth in Spotlight at Dem Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Youth is not only going to have its day at the Democratic National Convention, it will have a whole week.

Starting Sunday night, 1,500 Young Citizens for Johnson will be at Atlantic City, preparing for the big day: Thursday, when 16,000 will take over Convention Hall for a three-hour rally, complete with banners, signs and speakers.

★ ★ ★

"We're going to show young people are really for Johnson," said Birch Bayh, the 36-year-old Indiana senator who has organized the group.

Decked out in an official uniform of red, white and blue beach coats for girls and vests for boys and straw hats for both, the young citizens will get practical lessons in how to politic at home in a series of seminars.

MAKE SELVES USEFUL

They also will make themselves useful to gain the only thing they have been promised: a ticket to at least one of the sessions where the real delegates will run the show.

They will serve as guides and man information centers.

While the 1,500 who have signed up to pay their own way for the convention will be the backbone of the new group, they are getting support for their big day from towns all along the Atlantic seaboard. Special trains and buses are to bring other young people to Atlantic City.

"We're serious about contacting the new voter or the voter who isn't affiliated with any party," says Bayh. "We want to show what the Democrats have done to bring young people into government."

ALONG LINE

Along this line, there will be a number who have participated in the Peace Corps or worked as volunteers on antipoverty projects to talk at the seminars.

At the convention, the group will work in coordination with the state chairmen.

★ ★ ★

"There's a lot young people can do in a campaign," said Bayh. "We aim to show them how to do it."

Rejection of OAS Move Haunts Mexico

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press International

Insiders say Mexico is getting worried about the unexpectedly adverse reaction throughout Latin America to its recent rejection of sanctions voted by the Organization of American States (OAS) against Communist Cuba.

Chile, for example, had been expected in Mexico City to follow the Mexican example of foot-dragging.

Instead, Chile broke relations with Cuba and slapped Mexico on the wrist with the observation that the OAS recommendations were binding on all member states.

Inside information from Bolivia is that it, too, soon will follow the Chilean example. Even Uruguay, last of the holdouts against implementing the OAS-proposed action, is reported giving unusually weighty consideration to its present position.

DE GAULLE TRAINING:

French President Charles de Gaulle is said to be in training to get himself in shape physically for his gruelling month-long grand tour of Latin America in September and October.

He is taking daily hikes through the woods at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, where he is spending his August vacation. He also is brushing up on his Spanish and is said to be taking Portuguese lessons.

Nevertheless, his doctors are reported to be concerned about a man of his age—he is 73—undertaking so rigorous a trip, espically in the wake of his prostate operation earlier this year.

A leading non-Malaysian official says there is enough blame to go around for the race riots in Singapore in July, but much belongs to the state's prime minister.

He says Indonesia fanned the flames, the leading Malaysia-based political party fell into the trap, and Singapore prime minister Lee Kuan fired tempers at the last minute.

Similar riots have occurred in the past in Singapore, where the Chinese make up the majority of the population, and the Malays resent their stranglehold on the economic life of the area.

This time, the official says Lee, a Chinese, must take part of the blame for offhandedly rejecting Malay demands for more jobs. "Lee should know better, the official said, "because he is smarter than the rest."

PHILIPPINE BASES:

A high Philippine official reportedly has suggested that the Manila government consult with the United States about putting military bases in the southern part of the country to bolster its defenses against any Communist thrust from the south.

President Diosdado Macapagal is said to have dismissed the idea quickly. His view was that Indonesia, which lies south of the Philippines, might thing the bases were intended against it.

Louisiana Integration Peaceful

GREENSBURG, La. (AP) — Three Negroes return today for their second day in a formerly all-white high school in rural Louisiana. Thus far, things have gone peacefully.

"I was indeed proud of my faculty and my student body," Reed R. Meadors, principal of Greensburg High School, said. White pupils, he said, "ignored the situation."

★ ★ ★

Two Negro boys and a girl lowered the state's rural segregation barriers Monday when they went to class with 158 white high school pupils.

An FBI team and state police looked on.

ALL FACILITIES

The Negroes had use of all facilities, Meadors said. He said he escorted them to the cafeteria at noon. They went through the line and chose their own tables.

Meadors said the three are in no danger in the school at St. Helena Parish school. Fiery crosses, symbol of the Ku Klux Klan, flamed in the parish and in other sections of the state Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

The three — David Howard, 18, Charles Hall Jr., 17, and Georgia Lea Gordon, 17 — were admitted under a federal court order opening the 11th and 12th grades to all races.

Officials Map New Assault on 5 Nevada Fires

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Fire officials urgently mapped a fresh assault today on five major fires sweeping through sun-cured grassland and sagebrush in northeastern Nevada.

There was no encouragement from the weatherman, who forecast high temperatures, low humidity and possible high winds — an explosive combination.

★ ★ ★

More than a dozen Nevada blazes have blackened an estimated 350 square miles of valuable grazing land, an area about one-third the size of Rhode Island, since most were sparked by lightning Saturday. The burned area within a 50-mile radius of Elko was estimated at a minimum 205,000 acres.

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM), directing the battle, took steps to double its 1,100-man crew and boost the number of converted bombers, used to drop fire-retardant chemicals, from 7 to 40.

AIR FORCE AID

The Air Force and Forest Service were asked to transport reinforcements to Elko and to control the expected heavy air traffic. All private flights in and out of the Elko airport were banned to give the fire airlift unrestricted movement.

★ ★ ★

Clay Farnsworth, a Boise, Idaho, pilot was killed Sunday when his light plane crashed on a return trip to Boise. He had let off fire personnel at Elko.

Two ranchers were seriously burned, an undetermined number of cattle lost and some buildings damaged.

Four major blazes, dating from Saturday, whipped past fire lines Monday afternoon after fire crews thought they were contained. A fifth major blaze broke out about noon near the Nevada Reform School northeast of Elko. In seven hours, it had covered 20,000 acres in the Sherman Creek area. The BLM said it was probably man-caused.

OTHER BLAZES

The other four big blazes ranged from 25 miles southwest of Elko to 50 miles northwest.

Several other new fires broke out Monday, including one in the Grindstone Mountain area which spread over 3,000 acres 12 miles southwest of Elko.

J. R. Penny, state BLM director, went to Elko from Reno Monday to take charge of the operation. Much of the burned area is BLM-controlled and most is prime summer grazing range for huge cattle ranches.

The new fires scorched 50,000 to 60,000 acres on one ranch alone, the T Lazy S. The ranch lost 35,000 acres in a previous fire this summer.

The immediate worry for affected ranchers was finding alternate rangeland for grazing the rest of the summer.

Soviet Rockets Still in Cuba?

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's sister, Juanita, says it is possible Soviet rockets are still hidden in Cuba.

Miss Castro, who defected from her Communist homeland last June, emphasized at a news conference, however, that she has no specific knowledge about the matter.

★ ★ ★

Miss Castro denied published reports that she had worked for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Shortly after her defection, authoritative sources in Washington said she had been supplying the agency with information for four years.

LONDON (AP) — British officials indicate an attempt may have been made to free a second man involved in the great train robbery.

The Home Office said Monday night there have been indications that outsiders tried to help somebody escape from Manchester's Strangeway's jail, where Douglas Gordon Goody is serving a 30-year term for his part in the $7-million robbery a year ago.

Last week, another of the train robbers, Charles Wilson, was aided in an escape from a prison in Birmingham. He is still at large.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says clean books and healthy amusements are needed to counter juvenile "decadence."

Speaking to a group of Italian Boy Scouts at his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, the Pope said much juvenile "decadence" existed because young people "have not had good companions, wise friends, patient and courageous teachers, serene amusements, clean books, a positive experience with life."

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — Premier Cheddi Jagan's top political opponent, Forbes Burnham, and five of his followers have been arrested.

Burnham was charged Monday with illegally possessing 17 rounds of ammunition. He was released on bail.

Burnham heads the People's National Congress, largely supported by Negroes. The detention order for his followers was signed by the governor of this British colony, Sir Richard Luyt, who took over emergency powers June 13.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — More than 300,000 Mexicans turned out Monday to greet Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals, on his arrival from Paris for a 17-day visit.

The cardinal will participate in the consecration of a cathedral in the new diocese of Tlalnepantla, outside Mexico City.

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard goes on the air next month with a radio series seeking the public's help in solving crime.

Beamed from a studio in the world's most celebrated police headquarters, it will ask for aid in tracing stolen property, appeal for witnesses of crimes or accidents, and warn about property thieves may be trying to sell.

Pro Grid Leagues Bolstered at Gate

By The Associated Press

The Washington Redskins, sixth in the Eastern division of the National Football League last year, lost their first exhibition game this season. The next day they sold 1,000 season tickets.

"I guess people suddenly realized the football season is here," a club official said.

Two years ago the New York Jets of the American Football League, then known as the Titans, had to walk home from practice because the fellow who drove the team bus hadn't been paid.

"This year we have sold 15,000 season tickets," a team official said. "We have more money in the bank than we took in all last year."

So goes the pro football boom, and an Associated Press survey shows that this season will be the biggest ever.

The two pro leagues, already bolstered by fabulous television contracts, undoubtedly will set gate records almost everywhere.

★ ★ ★

NFL teams, for example, averaged more than 11,000 at their final practice sessions which were opened to the public.

The Minnesota Vikings drew one of the smallest, 5,500 at Bemidji, Minn., but that was reported to be the largest crowd ever gathered in Bemidji.

In six NFL cities, every game will sell out. Three more will be close to capacity every Sunday.

EAST DIVISION

New York Giants stopped season ticket sales at 57,000, and will have usual seven sellouts of 62,700. Also will show home games in three theaters via closed circuit television. Motels beyond television blackout area thriving.

Philadelphia Eagles expect 43,000 season tickets and seven sellouts of 61,700, as usual. Baltimore has 50,000 seasons tickets sold, and will sellout all games at 60,065-seat Memorial Stadium.

Washington Redskins, up 6,000 season sales to 29,000, expect near capacity of 50,000 at all games. Cleveland Browns expect 30,000 season tickets and will be near to 80,000 capacity for all games. Exhibition doubleheader Sept. 5 is soldout.

Pittsburgh Steelers play all home games in 54,500-seat Pitt Stadium for first time, but hope for only one sellout. Season tickets at 12,800, up 20 per cent. Dallas has 7,000 sale, up 2,000 and hopes to draw 50,000 for Packers.

WESTERN DIVISION

Chicago Bears cut off exhibition sales at 35,000, will sell out 46,000-seat Wrigley Field every week. Also about 10,000 theater seats at $5 each. Fans flock to motels for television.

Green Bay Packers have sold all tickets for all home games, as usual. The Detroit Lions have topped last year's record of 36,409 season tickets and will be sellout or nearly so for all home games at 53,000-seat stadium. The Lions will show their games in three theaters.

★ ★ ★

St. Louis Cardinals expect to sell record 15,000 season tickets, and at least three home sellouts at 32,500-seat Busch Stadium. Minnesota Vikings have over 20,000 season sales, a record, and expect two sell outs of 42,000 during season.

★ ★ ★

San Francisco 49ers, off 1,000 at 20,000 tickets, are hoping for good year on the field and Los Angeles Rams expect 300,000 for seven home games.

AFL TEAMS

Jets hope to average 30,000-35,000 for home games at new Shea Stadium. Boston Patriots have 10,000 season sale and had New England record 20,000 for exhibition game. Buffalo expects to average around 31,000 as usual and has 10,000 season ticket sale. Bills drew 13,000 to club scrimmage.

Yanks' Pick-Off Play Miscues

PAINFUL SWING—Dick Schofield of the Pittsburgh Pirates rolls on the ground in pain after fouling a pitch off his ankle during the fifth inning of yesterday's game with the New York Mets. Schofield got back up and struck out. The Mets won, 5-0.

Error Helps White Sox Triumph, 2-1

Chicago Moves Closer to First Place; Ford Sharp in Relief

By The Associated Press

Whitey Ford's patented move to first base was deadlier than ever — but the Yankees wound up getting picked off and it cost them a length in the American League pennant derby.

★ ★ ★

The defending AL champs dropped a 2-1 cliff-hanger to the Chicago White Sox Monday night in the opener of a vital four-game series and it was a foul-up on Ford's seventh inning pickoff bid that set up the deciding run.

New York's southpaw ace, making his second relief appearance since an ailing hip knocked him out of the starting rotation, had choked off a White Sox rally in the sixth with a pair of strikeouts.

PICKED OFF

He walked Floyd Robinson with one out in the seventh, then caught him leaning with a quick flip to first baseman Joe Pepitone. But Robinson escaped the ensuing rundown and reached second when Bobby Richardson dropped the ball for an error. Pete Ward followed with a run-scoring single that pushed Chicago in front 2-0.

After Richardson's RBI single in the eighth halved the deficit, Hoyt Wilhelm rescued starter Juan Pizarro and hypnotized the Yanks with his knuckleball the rest of the way.

★ ★ ★

The victory, Chicago's third in 15 season meetings with New York edged the Sox to within 1½ games of the front-running Baltimore Orioles, who were idle, and left the third place Yankees three games off the pace.

The White Sox threatened twice in the early innings against New York starter Ralph Terry, loading the bases in the first and fifth, but didn't break through until the sixth.

Gene Stephens singled, raced to third on Ron Hansen's single and scored on a sacrifice fly by J. C. Martin. Ford replaced Terry, who was charged with his 10th defeat, and ended the inning by fanning Pizarro and Jim Landis.

★ ★ ★

Pizarro, the AL's top winner, blanked the Yanks on two hits — a fourth inning single by Roger Maris and Elston Howard's seventh inning double — until singles by Clete Boyer and Richardson around a walk to Phil Linz put them on the scoreboard.

★ ★ ★

Wilhelm came on for the 54th time this season, struck out Maris and got Howard on a tap to third baseman Ward for the last out in the inning. The 41 year-old flutterball artist polished off the Yanks in order in the ninth, preserving Pizarro's 16th victory and recording his 16th save of the year.

Bengals Aided by Promotions

DETROIT (AP)—Special promotions and nights set aside for certain groups have helped the Detroit Tigers move some 65,000 ahead of last year's attendance pace.

Another 35,000 fans are expected to be on hand for the twi-night doubleheader with Los Angeles tonight as the Tigers open a six-day home stand.

Shriners from around the state were expected to attend tonight's game and to present an hour-long show after the first game. This marks the first time the Shriners have held a special night in Tiger Stadium.

CONGRATULATIONS

Earlier this year, the Methodists had a night while the Lutherans bolstered attendance on another date, marking the sixth straight year they have congregated at the park.

All three of the special nights developed through an agreement between the Tigers and the groups, with all getting a share of the proceeds for their favorite charities.

★ ★ ★

This was also the case on June 1 when the St. Louis Cardinals played an exhibition game against the Tigers. Amateur baseball in the state benefited from that one.

The Knights of Columbus also have approached the Tigers about setting aside a special day or night for them. But this is not likely to occur this year.

One promotion put on solely by the Tigers—Free Bat Day—attracted more than 46,000.

Ladies days have become increasingly popular and a special family day will be held this Sunday with about 10,000 seats being set aside for family groups.

But the Tigers will have more at stake than attendance figures when they take to the field in the four-game set with the Angels.

The teams are tied for fourth place and the players know they will wind up with a little more money if they finish in a higher position.

LOLICH STARTS

Mickey Lolich (12-7), a winner his last three games and 2-0 against the Angels this year, and Hank Aquirre (2-6) are the scheduled Tiger starters.

Lolich is serving a two-week hitch with the Air Force in Alpena. But he was told he would be able to pitch. Should he receive other orders, Joe Sparma will get the nod.

Dean Chance (13-5) and Fred Newman (10-5) are slated to go for the Angels. Chance has pitched seven shutouts and teamed with Bob Lee in another. He also blanked the Yankees for 14 innings before giving way to a pinch-hitter.

Big Scores in NFL Play

Lions' Offense Showing Life

QB's Morrall, Plum Hit 60 Per Cent

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Overall defense is something head coach George Wilson isn't too concerned about during the Detroit Lions' exhibition season and this seems to be apparent with most every other team in the NFL after two weeks of pre-season games.

★ ★ ★

"Just look at those scores being piled up in the exhibition games, but this seems to be typical when all the teams throw caution to the wind in using rookies and opening the book on their offenses," said Wilson.

After only two weeks of the exhibition season, the only unbeaten team after two games, without a tie or loss, is Minnesota. The Bears have won the only NFL exhibition they have played due to the fact they faced the All-Stars in their first encounter.

Detroit and Baltimore haven't been beaten but they tied each other and as for the rest of the league, everyone, even the Green Bay Packers have lost.

Wilson wasn't critical of playing exhibitions because he feels actual game conditions are necessary for all players including rookies and veterans, but he takes exhibition game scores lightly.

★ ★ ★

"There's too much experimenting in pre-season games with players and with plays and teams like the Bears, Browns and Giants have been known to have some of the poorest exhibition records, but they settle down and really get tough during the championship season," Wilson said.

Ten of 12 teams who have played two games to date have scored over 40 points. The Bears and Steelers have played only once.

The Lions and their opponents this weekend in Philadelphia, the Eagles, have both played on even terms with the opposition thus far.

Detroit has scored 56 points in two outings and given up 55 points. The Eagles with a 1-1 record have scored 41 points and given up 41.

The Lions can't complain about their passing offense. In two games Earl Morrall and Milt Plum have tried 68 passes and completed 41 for 60 per cent and 475 yards.

Morrall has hit 17 of 27 for 197 yards and one interception and Plum has 24 of 41 for 278 yards and two interceptions.

Coach Wilson has not indicated who will start against the Eagles, however four players, Ernie Clark, Bill Quinlan, Dick Lane and Carl Brettschneider will not play.

Trim Rosters Again at Football Camps

From Our Wire Services

Pro football teams continued trimming their rosters going into the midpoint of the exhibition season.

WESTMINSTER, Md. — The Baltimore Colts asked waivers on two linemen Monday, cutting their pre-season squad to 52.

Released were Jim Mazurek a guard from Syracuse, and Bill Ventura, a defensive tackle from Richmond.

The Colts went through light workouts Monday without pads.

★ ★

FOREST GROVE, Ore. — The Dallas Cowboys cut their National Football League squad to 49 Monday with the release of four players, one of them five-year pro Dale Memmelaar, an offensive guard.

Release notices went also to kicker Lance Polnbeuf, who was on the Cowboy taxi squad last year, and rookies Tony Leiker and Henry Huettner.

Linebacker Chuck Howley was the only man hurt in the Cowboys' victory over the San Francisco 49ers Saturday night. He cracked a couple of ribs, but still may play against the Los Angeles Rams this Saturday.

BEMIDJI, Minn. — Defensive back Russ Vollmer of Memphis State and tackle Joe Henze of U. of Detroit were placed on waivers Monday by the Minnesota Vikings. Vollmer was a 13th round draft choice, Henze a free agent.

KINGSTON, R.I. — The Pittsburgh Steelers released two players from their roster Monday. They are defensive back Dennis Phillips from Notre Dame and center Dennis Shaw from the University of Detroit.

KANSAS CITY — Dan Underwood, 215-pound rookie linebacker from Michigan State, obtained his release from the Kansas City Chiefs Monday, to join the Indianapolis Club of the United Football League.

SPORTS

Orchard, Forest Lake Golf Champs Decided

Club championships were decided over the weekend at Orchard Lake and Forest Lake Country Clubs.

Les Brownlee Jr. of Birmingham wrapped up the men's championship at Orchard Lake Country Club Saturday with all and 10 victory over John Ufner of Birmingham.

Brownlee fired a two-under-par 70 on the first round of the 36-hole match and he was three under par when the match ended on the 26th hole.

Defending champion Steve Stubbs was ousted by Pete Whitlaw in the first match.

Lawrence Hobart defeated Larry Miller 4 and 3 to take the Class A flight; Ernst Richard trimmed John Wert 1 up in 19 holes for the B title; Frank Winchell posted a 7 and 6 decision over Paul Mirabito in the C flight; and Bill Reid won by default over Bill McNary in the D flight.

FOREST LAKE TITLE

Dr. Richard Berge of Pontiac edged Dr. Donald Reid of Big Beaver 1 up in 37 holes for the Forest Lake Country Club championship.

Defending champion Sandy Siegel was a first-round victim of Dr. Reid.

Earl Parcells downed Ed Ratliff 7 and 6, to take the first flight, and Ward Stoddard topped Bill Bond, 3 and 1, for the second flight crown.

Patriots, Jets in Tilt Tonight

By United Press International

A couple of losers will be out to balance the scales tonight at Lowell, Mass., as the Boston Patriots play host to the New York Jets.

It will be the second exhibition tilt of the pre-season for the two teams, each of whom lost its exhibition debut; Boston at the hands of the Houston Oilers, 38-7, and the Jets to the Buffalo Bills, 24-13.

Patriot head Coach Mike Holovak is pegging his hopes of victory on the return of split end Art Graham and the arrival of rookie center Jon Morris.

Graham, who led the league in yardage per pass last year as a rookie, was sidelined with a leg injury when Boston took its whipping from the Oilers 11 days ago.

Morris, a highly touted rookie from Holy Cross, was in Chicago for the College All-Star game at the time.

Robust Bat Averages Lead in City Softball

Catcher Marv Fuller of UAW No. 594 unofficially emerged on top in the American League softball batting race with a mark of .473.

The backstop rapped out 18 hits in 38 trips to the plate for UAW, which finished in a tie with Elks No. 810 for third place in the loop race with 7-8 records.

Taking the runner-up spot was second baseman Jim Long of league champion 390 Bowl. Long picked up 17 hits in 41 appearances for a .414 mark.

In the National League, Jim Wheatley of G & M Construction captured the hitting crown with a robust .558 average, with teammate Herbert Morgan ranking second at .542.

★ ★ ★

Wheatley rapped out 24 safeties in 43 trips and Morgan went 19 for 35.

Wayne Pyke of Motorcar Transport grabbed the International loop title with a .461 mark. Jim Fisk of Pontiac Merchants ran second at .457.

2 State Entries 4 Strokes Back in Women's Golf

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — Four players shared the first-round lead Monday in the National Women's Amateur golf championship.

Gloria Ehret of Danbury, Conn.; Mrs. Donna Gilliam of Whittier, Calif.; Mrs. Robert Ihlanfeldt of Seattle, Wash.; and Susan Gregory of Pine Bluff, Ark.; all carded 3-over-par 76's.

Four strokes back at 80 were Patti Shook of Saginaw and Sharon Miller of Battle Creek. Both carded nine-hole rounds of 40-40.

Phillies' Short Gains Stature on NL Mounds

Chris Short is being hidden by Sandy Koufax's shadow. Still, it's a giant step forward for a guy who last year led the Philadelphia pitching staff in only one department — wild pitches.

Short pitched a five-hitter Monday night, posting his 12th victory and lowering his earned run average to a brilliant 1.91, as the Phillies stretched their National League lead to five games over San Francisco by walloping the Chicago Cubs 8-1.

Short's victory gave the Phillies their biggest bulge of the season over the Giants, who were idle. The Giants get back into action tonight, sending Bob Bolin, 4-4, against Cincinnati and Jim O'Toole, 12-5), while the Phillies start Dennis Bennett, 9-9, against the Cubs' Bob Buhl, 12-9.

OTHER GAMES

Only two other games were scheduled in the NL Monday. Charlie Smith hit two homers and Dennis Ribant pitched a four-hitter as the New York Mets whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 and St. Louis made the most of two errors by Houston, scored three runs in the ninth inning and defeated the Colts 3-1.

Short, who has lost six games, was touched for a run in the second inning on a double by Doug Clemens, a wild pickoff attempt and a passed ball, but bore down in several serious jams to keep the Cubs scoreless the rest of the way.

★ ★ ★

The Phillies put it away in the second inning against Ernie Broglio, sending 10 men to the plate and scoring five runs. The big blow was a two-run triple by Johnny Callison, who later slugged another triple. Tony Taylor collected three hits for the Phillies, including No. 1,000 of his career.

★ ★ ★

Smith, an infielder playing left field for the first time, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning off Bob Veale and added a solo shot in the eighth, taking the Mets' team lead with 15 homers.

Ribant, meanwhile, won his first major league game in his second start, striking out 10 and allowing the Pirates only four singles.

The Cardinals, shut out on six hits by 39-year-old Hal Brown for eight innings, scored all their runs with the aid of ninth inning errors by Eddie Kasko and Al Spangler. Dick Groat and Mike Shannon each singled home a run and Julian Javier's grounder got the other across.

Wing Training Camp to Open Sept. 14th

DETROIT (AP) — About 80 players have been ordered to report for the double session of the Detroit Red Wings training camp at Olympia Stadium.

Coach Sid Abel said regulars, newly - acquired players and those obtained in the draft will report Sept. 8 with the remainder of the rookie prospects reporting Sept. 14.

Belinsky Still on Suspension

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Angels pitcher Bo Belinsky remains on suspension after a meeting Monday between Angel General Manager Fred Haney and Belinsky's attorney, Paul Caruso.

★ ★ ★

Caruso said the discussion was amiable but failed to lift the penalty imposed on the 27-year-old hurler after an altercation with Braven Dyer, 64-year-old Los Angeles Times sportswriter, in a Washington hotel Friday.

Haney could not be reached for comment.

Caruso says the suspension can only be in effect for 10 days under baseball bylaws. The baseball team contends the investigation is indefinite.

Tigers' Owner Still Approves Yankees' Sale

KALAMAZOO (AP) — John Fetzer, owner of the Detroit Tigers who voted in favor of the sale of the New York Yankees to the CBS network, said Monday the critical questions raised were "rather academic."

★ ★ ★

Reached at his office at WKZO, a Kalamazoo radio and television station owned by him, Fetzer said he was sure the purchase of the club by the network was "in the best interests of baseball."

★ ★ ★

"If there were any prospects of violation of anti-trust legislation, the American League's general counsel, Mr. Ben Fiery of Cleveland, would have been the one to raise objections," he said.

★ ★ ★

"To my knowledge he has made no such representations," he added.

"I have known both Mr. Paley and Dr. Stanton for 25 years," Fetzer said. "I know that both are fine and humble men and would be great assets to baseball."

★ ★ ★

William Paley is chairman of the board of CBS, and Dr. Frank Stanton is president.

City Baseball Series Opens

Huron-Airway vs. Cranbrook

Best-of-Five Contests to Decide Champion

The fans will be asked to help when Huron - Airway and Cranbrook square off tonight in the first of the best-of-five city Class A baseball playoff games.

The 8 p.m. contest at Jaycee Park will have the defending city champions, Huron - Airway, meeting a Cranbook nine that waited until the closing weeks of the season to find itself.

★ ★ ★

Huron-Airway boasts the best hitting team in the league along with a solid defense and tough pitching. Cranbrook has the best defense and as good a pitching staff as there is in the league.

★ ★ ★

The fans will be asked to contribute to a collection fund at each of the final playoff games. The fund will be used to defray the expenses of the city league's entry in the state playoffs.

That team will probably be the winner of the city title. It will meet Livonia in its opening contest Friday, Aug. 28 at Jaycee Park in a best-of-three home - and - home series.

An austerity program in city finances cut the recreation department's budget and left no money to support post - season participation in the state tournament.

Front Office Sweep by Baseball Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The front office of the St. Louis Cardinals, reportedly the target of sweeping changes, received a double-barreled jolt Monday.

General Manager Bing Devine confirmed his resignation and Bob Howsam, former general manager of Denver in the American Association, is his apparent replacement.

More important, 82-year-old Branch Rickey, hired as special consultant 18 months ago, appears to be calling the shots.

Shortly after Rickey joined the club, he and Devine had a "misunderstanding" over the division of authority. Rickey reportedly wanted to retire Stan Musial but Cardinal owner August Busch Jr., sided with Devine and rejected such a move.

Rickey and Devine patched up their differences, at least temporarily, and Musial retired the following year.

Stepping out with Devine was business manager Art Routzong, 52. The Cardinals announced late in the day Howsam would replace Routzong immediately.

A newspaper story said Howsam, who had been out of baseball for several years, was given the post temporarily to "learn the ropes" and then would be promoted to general manager.

Howsam would neither confirm nor deny such changes.

"I was hired for the business manager's job," he said. "I don't know what the future will hold."

★ ★ ★

Howsam, 46, associated with Rickey in the ill-fated attempt to organize the Continental League five years ago, resigned as vice president of a Denver securities firm to come to St. Louis. He has been closer to football recently, being one of five men who organized the American Football League and then serving as president of the Denver franchise for a year.

Devine, 47, who said he would remain with the Redbirds "until at least near the end of the season," confirmed his decision with "emotion and regret."

He said he was stepping down after 25 years with the Cardinals because Busch was "disappointed and frustrated" with the team's inability to win a pennant. The last Redbird flag came in 1946. Devine became general manager in 1957.

Top Yank in Canada

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP) — George Henry of Valdosta, Ga., shot a 71 Monday to be the top American in the first qualifying round of the Canadian amateur golf championship. Wally Goodwin of Sheridan, Wyo., had a 73.

Keith Rever of Regina led the field with a two-under-par 68 over the Saskatoon Riverside Course. Nick Weslock, the defending champion from Toronto, had a 69 and Bob Wylie of Calgary 70. Then came Henry in a fifth-way tie for fourth.

OK Indoor Tract Meet in Detroit Next March

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association will stage its first indoor track and field championships next March at Detroit.

The meet, to be staged at Detroit's Cobo Hall, March 12-13, was approved at the annual summer meeting of the NCAA's 10 - man executive committee Monday.

The addition of the indoor track meet brought to 21 the number of national championship events in 13 different sports which the NCAA will stage during 1964-65.

State Netter Wins

OTTAWA, Pa. (AP) — Chuck Brainard of Hamtramck, Mich., Turner Howard of Knoxville and Tom Karp of Los Angeles each won two matches Monday in advancing to the third round of the boys' 18 group in the Canadian Open junior tennis championships.

Report Sharp Quakes Off Coast of Chile

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fordham University seismograph recorded a fairly sharp earthquake early today off the coast of northern Chile.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Joseph Lynch, director of the University's seismic observatory, said there were two shocks—one at 1:55:52 a. m. (EST) and the other at 2:04:43. The distance was 4,500 miles southwest of New York.

White Mercenaries Have New Role in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — White mercenary airmen, including several who fought for secessionist Katanga Province against the United Nations, are back in the Congo.

This time they are serving the Congolese central government against a Communist-backed rebellion in the eastern Congo.

★ ★ ★

A small group of mercenaries who came here from Johannesburg, South Africa, waited for three weeks in a Leopoldville hotel for a call from their old chief, Moise Tshombe, Congolese premier and the ex-president of Katanga.

All but two had disappeared from their hotel rooms Monday.

CRYPTIC STATEMENT

U.S. government officials released a cryptic statement saying "contract pilots" would fly World War II B26 light bombers on long-range spotter missions "to help assure Congolese internal security."

Earlier, U.S. Embassy officials had made no secret of their reluctance to have mercenaries from South Africa flying planes given to the Congo by the United States.

★ ★ ★

The officials were aware of the antagonism aroused in black Africa by South Africa's race policies. They also remembered the outcry when Tshombe hired white fighters to maintain his secessionist state.

American sources said it was believed several of the mercenaries did not have the training to handle the B26. Military sources said one mercenary was recently involved in the crash of a T6 trainer.

MIXED UNIFORM

One of the pilots appeared in public today wearing British Air Force trousers, a South African Air Force shirt and Belgian insignia.

★ ★ ★

Although the group came from South Africa, most claim to have British Commonwealth passports. One pilot, J. C. Puren, is listed as a South African in U.N. Security Council documents describing his activities as one of Tshombe's former airmen.

★ ★ ★

Puren, who was accompanied by his Belgian-born wife, escaped from the United Nations force after being captured during the secession.

Another pilot, named McIntosh, carries a letter accrediting him as correspondent of Die Vaderland, the South African nationalist newspaper headed by Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd.

ARMY SPECIALISTS

Two members of the party said they were army specialists. They indicated they were ready to bring nearly 200 men here from several countries. Some of them would be trained paratroopers.

Diplomatic sources said there was no confirmation of reports that two or three Soviet-built Ilyushin aircraft had landed at rebel-held Stanleyville during the past few days.

★ ★ ★

The diplomats said checks were being carried out all over Africa in an attempt to trace the planes.

The rebels have been receiving aid and advice from Communist China and several African states, captured documents show.

★ ★ ★

Ghana's ambassador to the Congo, John K. A. Quashie, denied broadcast rumors that the Ilyushins came from his country. Other African countries with Ilyushin 18 aircraft are Guinea, Mali and the United Arab Republics.

ADN, official news agency of Communist East Germany, said in a dispatch from Brazzaville that Congolese rebels have warned they will call for volunteers if mercenaries continue to move into the Congo.

Three Years After Accident

John Payne Gets Sighs Again

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — When John Payne took his curtain call at the opening of "Here's Love" in Los Angeles, a shrill, unmistakable ecstatic cry arose from various girls in the audience.

THOMAS

The reaction was satisfying to Payne for at least three reasons. The obvious one was that any actor with 30-odd years in the business would be pleased to evoke a Beatle-like response.

★ ★ ★

There was also the satisfaction of returning to the musical theater from which he sprang and of succeeding in a role for which he "wasn't the type" — even though he originated it!

But most of all, he could savor the joy of scoring another success in a career that should have ended in a New York street three years ago.

HIT BY CAR

The Virginia-born actor was crossing Madison Avenue in a twilight rain when a car struck him. He landed face down on the windshield, then was battered for 80 feet.

He lost three-fifths of his blood, his face was slashed, his eyes filled with glass, his skull dented, and his left leg was broken in five places. By all logic, his life—or at least his acting career—should have been over.

★ ★ ★

Surgical skill put him back together, and he endured a long period of recuperation. Today the scars show faintly, giving his handsome face a rugged look.

"I feel great," he said in his Philharmonic Auditorium dressing room before a performance

WEATHER TROUBLES

"Oh, I may get a twinge in my bones in rainy weather. But otherwise I seem to be in as good shape as before."

Always an independent man, Payne took his time about resuming his career. His independence was bolstered by two seasons in "Restless Gun," a television series of which he owns 50 per cent.

★ ★ ★

He reported that it has been playing on a Los Angeles station every day for four years, and the returns are similarly gratifying from other cities and 16 foreign countries.

One job he wanted. He heard that Meredith Willson was writing a musical based on "34th Street" and asked his agent to look into it. Payne had starred in the movie with Maureen O'Hara and the late Edmund Gwenn, who won an Oscar for his Santa Claus.

LOSES PART

"I auditioned for the part several times," Payne said, "but they cast Craig Stevens for the New York company. They said I wasn't the type. Yes, I played the original role, but I guess they thought I had changed in the 17 years since the movie was made."

★ ★ ★

Payne doesn't give up easily, and he continued taking singing lessons, as he has done off and on over the years. His more recent fame in Westerns and action films has obscured the fact that he first made his success as a singer.

★ ★ ★

When "Here's Love" was scheduled for a road tour, the producers thought of Payne. He broke in with three weeks in New York before the tour began.

"I felt uneasy at first because everybody in the show but me knew what they were doing," he said. "But I caught up with them, and now it feels good." He plans to stay with the tour until San Francisco in December, then consider other show offers that have resulted from his "Here's Love" success.

Journalist Elected Lebanon President

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Charles Helou, 51-year-old journalist, lawyer and diplomat was elected president of Lebanon today.

Helou will succeed Gen. Fuad Chehab, who took office in 1958 after U.S. Marines were called in to help quell civil war in Lebanon.

★ ★ ★

The new election was called after Chehab refused to accept a second six year term.

Helou, Lebanon's fourth president since it won independence from France in 1943, was elected by a 99-5 vote in Parliament.

House Passes Bill for Judicial Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Monday a bill to transfer Genesee and Shiawassee counties from the northern to the southern division of the Eastern Judicial District of Michigan.

The bill, which also would authorize a term of court at Ann Arbor, will be sent to the Senate.

Lawyer's Son Jailed for Illegal Gun Display

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — The son of the late attorney Jerry Geisler was sentenced to seven days in city jail Monday for illegally displaying a gun.

Michael James Giesler, 27, had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Blue Pleads Innocent to Tax Evasion Counts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Ben Blue has pleaded innocent to six counts of income tax evasion.

The government claimed Monday he owes $39,000 additional taxes for 1958, 1959 and 1960. Trial will begin Sept. 15.

'Wonderful Opportunity'

Work on Cancer in Gorilla

BALTIMORE (AP)—As a team of doctors from Johns Hopkins University worked over Robert the gorilla, Arthur Watson paced.

"He is my first gorilla," Watson said sadly. "I raised that boy."

Watson is director of the Baltimore Zoo. Robert, 14, is dying of cancer.

For three hours yesterday doctors worked over Robert.

★ ★ ★

Robert was under anesthesia. He also was bound hand and foot, and attendants with rifles stood by—"just to play it safe," Watson said.

GOOD OPPORTUNITY

"This is a wonderful opportunity for us," said Dr. Robert Squire, one of the Hopkins men. "Cancer is almost unheard of in primates."

If Robert appears to be suffering greatly, said zoo officials, he will be put to death.

After Judge Issues Injunction

Chrysler Drops Plans to Buy Truck Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — Chrysler Corp. dropped its multimillion-dollar plans to acquire Mack Trucks, Inc., Monday after a Federal District Court judge in Newark, N.J., issued a preliminary injunction delaying the merger.

★ ★ ★

Federal Judge Reynier J. Wortendyke Jr. issued the injunction Monday pending a trial for a permanent injunction sought by the federal government, which alleges the merger violates the Clayton Antitrust Act.

Judge Wortendyke read his opinion in chambers to attorneys for the Justice Department and the two corporations. He said:

"The evidence before me clearly discloses the probability that the government will be able to prove its charged violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act."

JOINT STATEMENT

A joint Chrysler-Mack statement was issued here shortly after the court decision, by Lynn Townsend, president of Chrysler, and C. Rhoades MacBride, president of Mack.

"It is impractical," the statement said, "for both busines and financial reasons, to keep a transaction of this nature in suspense for the extended period of time which would necessarily be consumed before the case could be decided.

★ ★ ★

"Accordingly, although we adhere to our belief that the transaction would not lessen competition but on the contrary would promote competition and is entirely lawful, we have no alternative but to terminate this transaction."

Shortly after the news broke, Mack stock was off $6 at $41.25 and Chrysler stock was off 25 cents at $53.63.

UP 13 CENTS

At the close, Chrysler was up 13 cents at $54 while Mack had dropped $5.87 at $41.37.

Chrysler, headquartered in Detroit, announced plans to acquire Mack Trucks of Montvale, N.J., last May 12. The transaction would have involved between $138.5 million and $164.3 million, according to a Chrysler spokesman.

★ ★ ★

The Justice Department asked for a temporary injunction when it filed its civil antitrust action in Newark July 30.

On Aug. 11, Mack shareholders overwhelmingly voted to approve the proposed acquisition. Under the proposed terms of acquisition, Chrysler was to buy and operate Mack as an independent division under the Mack name.

Grant for Hamtramck

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration announced approval Monday of a $607,141 grant and $726,836 loan for the 31-acre Wyandotte renewal project in Hamtramck, Mich.

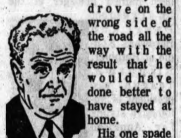
By OSWALD JACOBY

South drove to six diamonds after his partner opened with one heart. Unfortunately he drove on the wrong side of the road all the way with the result that he would have done better to have stayed at home.



JACOBY

His one spade response was his first error. When you hold a good hand you should bid as naturally as possible and it is natural to bid a six-card suit before you bid a five-carder.

The wrong start didn't hurt much but when he used Blackwood at his fourth turn to bid he was way out of line. He wasn't really interested in finding out the number of aces held by his partner. He wasn't going to bid seven in any event and one ace might well be plenty for a small slam.

You just never should use Blackwood when you are void of a suit.

This type error will frequently go unpunished, but this time South really paid for his mistake.

North responded five hearts to show his two aces and East was given the opportunity to double to call for a heart lead.

West received the message loud and clear and opened the king of hearts.

East went into a long huddle and finally overtook with the ace on the theory that if West had started with two hearts there would be no way to beat the slam. Then East led a second heart and West ruffed.

♥♠ CARD Sense ♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 N.T.	Pass	3 ♠	Pass

You, South, hold: ♠ K 4 ♥ K 4 ♦ A 10 8 7 6 ♣ K 7 5 4

What do you do?

A—Bid four clubs. You don't like to go past three no-trump, but you have excellent club support.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner goes to four diamonds. What do you do now?

OUT OUR WAY

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Wednesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Concern indicated with your work, efforts, chances for advancement. Best course is one which utilizes sense of VERSATILITY. Reach out — EXPERIMENT.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Key is UTTER FRANKNESS. You can gain strength by revealing your weakness. Win friends by stating your needs. Day of "opposites." Maintain sense of humor. And let chips fall where they may!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Protect economic interests best by making CONSTRUCTIVE CHANGES. Suggestions by member of opposite sex should be heeded. Keep mind and heart open. Be mature — and daring!

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): There is restlessness in you may battle "enemy-tons." BE REALISTIC. All is now in your favor, but you must exercise PATIENCE. Otherwise, time and energy can go down the proverbial drain.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Take time to be alone with thoughts. You are in enviable position. But you must stop wasting time. Act now to carry out decisions. Message crystal clear by tonight!

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): No day to pull your punches. Be FORCEFUL. State your case. Display strength. Applies to both professional and personal activities. Arrive at definite conclusions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Finish what you start. Don't carry burdens which should have dropped long ago. Be sympathetic to needs of associates. But don't permit others to take advantage of you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Don't reach out where it is not necessary. In plain words, let others come to you. Be a host rather than a guest. Avoid unnecessary travel. You'll be happier as result.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Stress is on what you can GAIN and you gain the most by being NEUTRAL. Not a good time take sides. Best to do more listening than talking. OBSERVE TO LEARN.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22, to Jan. 19): Your cycle continues high . . . but there will be opposition. You may have to seek aid, advice from star. And you must remain ALERT. Welcome challenge. Be stimulated by debate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): You are now close to your objective. Important to be aware of this. But you need to attend to details. Many may not be "inspiring." But attention to them is a necessity!

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Don't permit false pride to stand in way of progress. Means accept advice, help from friends. Let others point out possible errors. Make changes in PROCEDURE.

★ ★

IF WEDNESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you have qualities which attract trust, faith. You could succeed in politics. You could help many persons to help themselves.

★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle continues high for CAPRICORN. Special word for LIBRA: You many feel "locked in." But if you are determined and sincere . . . "break" appears.

Industrials in Mild Rally

Mart Stays Near Dead Center

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors paced a mild rally by industrials but the stock market as a whole remained close to dead center early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Rails were off a little and utilities were mixed.

★ ★ ★

The feeling in Wall Street was fairly optimistic on chances of averting a strike in the auto industry, despite the union rejection — as expected — of management's counter-offer to union demands.

Motors put on a brief show of strength and steels tagged along, but the momentum eased off.

Leaders in the group, however, remained slightly higher.

The cigarette stocks continued to rise moderately in response to the soothing report of the tobacco industry's research findings on smoking and health.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 316.6 with industrials up .7, rails off .8 and utilities up .1.

Chrysler was up nearly a point along with Jones & Laughlin. Fractional gainers included Ford, General Motors, U.S. Steel and Republic Steel.

★ ★ ★

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Mack Trucks warrants recouped a fraction. Empire District Electric preferred gained more than 2.

★ ★ ★

Corporate and Government bonds were mostly unchanged to a little higher.

Police Quell Race Violence

Arrest 40 in Flare-Up Outside of Chicago

DIXMOOR, Ill. (AP) — Racial violence flared for a second time in this Chicago suburb Monday night, but heavily armed police put down the disturbance with only minor damage and injuries.

★ ★ ★

Forty persons, 27 of them white, were arrested. Most were charged with disorderly conduct or inciting a riot. Two persons were injured as rock-throwing Negroes made a target of passing vehicles.

★ ★ ★

The police department in neighboring Harvey said the arrests were made at various places in the area as officers picked up potential agitators and persons carrying arms or disturbing the peace. A spokesman said those arrested were generally in groups of three or four. The whites and Negroes arrested did not clash.

★ ★ ★

More than 50 persons were cut and bruised by rocks during a five-hour disturbance Sunday night and early Monday. Two persons suffered minor gunshot wounds.

The predominantly Negro suburb of 5,000 population is two miles south of Chicago.

Civil rights leaders and 40 clergymen who attempted to avert the second outbreak of voilence were critical of police work, particularly the use of canine patrols to disperse the mob.

★ ★ ★

Cook County sheriff's police and Illinois state patrolmen were joined by at least six suburban police departments to battle the violence.

Cook County officials later said that the dog patrols were not instructed to enter the area "There was a general mix-up," said Matt Romer, chief of police at nearby Harvey.

BEFORE DUSK

The crowd of some 100 Negroes began gathering shortly before dusk near a liquor store which has been the focal point of the rioting.

Negroes claim the owner of the store, who is white, assaulted a Negro woman after accusing her of stealing a bottle of gin Saturday.

Shortly after three gasoline bombs touched off a blaze in the rear of the liquor store. As the phalanx of police moved into the area, small arms gunfire rang out. Dirt was kicked up a few feet from the policemen, but no one was reported injured.

Labor Takes Stage in Business Week

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Labor—whether wages or jobs—is moving into the business forefront this week.

DAWSON

In the auto industry the time of decision is nearing in contract negotiations. How much of a wage increase and other benefits — or a strike? And will the outcome be felt in other industries?

Jobs have been increasing And so has industrial output. The question is whether this is a start of another upward push for the economy or just a short-term phenomenon in an unusual summer.

★ ★ ★

The administration in Washington says the improvement in unemployment in July could well mean that at last that stubborn problem may be taking a lasting turn for the better. Many corporation economists might wish to wait awhile to make sure.

JOB FIGURES

The job figures were helped markedly this summer by the record in industrial production set in July, usually a slack period. The Federal Reserve Board's index jumped a full point. Except for the 1.5 point rise in April, this was the biggest increase in 12 months.

Other factory figures show that new hiring has been increasing at a faster than seasonal rate, while the layoff rate has dropped to the lowest level for any month since February 1955.

★ ★ ★

This, and the steadily increasing number of jobs in the service industries, apparently was enough in July to more than offset a growing labor force and send the unemployment rate below the 5 per cent mark, to the joy of government economists.

Labor can count other good signs for the future.

★ ★ ★

Corporate profits as a whole have risen to a record. Business expansion plans are themselves expanded almost every month. And productivity — that measure of unit output per hour of man labor — continues to rise at a fairly steady rate.

★ ★ ★

These three things add up to this: Business is in a better position to offer more jobs or to pay a bit more to those already employed.

Union leaders are well aware of this and have been tailoring their demands to this improvement in the corporate picture.

MORE JOBS

More jobs, now or in prospect, have taken a little of the pressure from the fear of job insecurity due to mechanization. They also give the labor negotiators more leeway in bargaining for wage increases.

In Detroit the auto company managements doubtless took all this into consideration in forming the offers they have just presented to the auto workers.

And the union leaders doubtless will take all of this into consideration in their reaction to these offers.

★ ★ ★

How the bargaining goes this week and next will be of prime interest, not only to auto workers, management and customers, but also to these same three segments of the public involved in job and wage prospects and decisions in many other industries.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I own several good stocks: General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Singer, and J. C. Penney. I also have a few shares of Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone and C. Brewer & Company. The latter cost me 37 and is now down to 21. Your advice will be greatly appreciated."

A) I would continue to hold the four "good" issues you list first.

Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone appears likely to break out of the earnings stagnation pattern that has existed since formation a few years back. In view of this likelihood, I would hold the stock.

C. Brewer is engaged in many lines of business, although it is basically a sugar company. Operations resulted in peak profits last year but weakening sugar prices undoubtedly are hurting earnings this year. Stock action has been poor. I suggest a switch to Bristol-Myers.

Q) "I am 79 years of age with no dependents. My income, which is $300 a month, is partly from mutual funds and Social Security as well as from dividends paid by U. S. Steel, Reynolds Tobacco, General Tel. & Electronics, and Kennecott Copper, the latter having been bought at 80½. Please comment. What do you think of Aerojet General?" M.O.

A) I would classify most, if not all, of your stocks in the businessman's risk group rather than the investment category. At your age perhaps you should begin to give more thought to better quality. So far at least, you have done very well.

Kennecott has just reported excellent first-half earnings at $3.54 vs. $2.71 a share. Although strikes may hurt second-half net, continued high demand for copper should assure the company of another long period of above-average earnings.

As far as Aerojet goes, earnings record has been reasonably good, but this year's profits will likely fall behind those reported for 1963. I like the stock, but it appears rather speculative considering your circumstances.

3-Day Pitched Battle

280 Viet Cong Are Killed

HOA MY, South Viet Nam (UPI) — American military advisers reported today that government troops killed 280 Communist guerrillas in a three-day battle which raged around this outpost in the Mekong River Delta.

It was the biggest reported Viet Cong casualty toll for any battle of the anti-Communist war.

The bodies of 10 guerrillas were found on the battlefield, but American military advisers said the Communists carried off an "estimated 270 killed."

Vietnamese losses were reported as 36 killed, 76 wounded and 10 missing and possibly captured.

An American pilot who flew over the battle area said it looked like a Fourth of July fireworks display.

STARTED SATURDAY

The operation began at 3 a.m. Saturday when guerrilla forces launched simultaneous attacks against Hoa My and the nearby outpost of Hiep Hung. Both are located in Phong Dinh Province, about 93 miles southwest of Saigon.

The Viet Cong apparently hoped to lure government relief forces into a mile-long ambush they prepared at a point midway between the outposts.

The trap was anticipated and the government ordered repeated bombing attacks against the suspected ambush site all day Saturday.

Government forces were reported to have suffered their heaviest casualties of the engagement when a relief column was ambushed Sunday night.

HUMAN WAVES

The Viet Cong attacked the column in human waves as it worked its way toward the beleaguered outpost along both sides of a canal.

The guerrillas poured mortar and recoilless cannon fire in the advancing government troops, then broke off the ambush under a murderous barrage of artillery from government howitzers at Phung Hiep.

Business Notes

James W. Alexander of 1498 Edgewood, Birmingham, has been named manager of the Instrument Panel and Hardware Studio of Rambler, Richard A. Teague, vice president of automotive styling for American Motors Corp. has announced.

ALEXANDER

Alexander, who has been with American Motors for six years, is an alumnus of Art Center School in Los Angeles and also attended the University of Omaha and the University of Nebraska. He is married and has two children.

The Board of Directors of Bank of the Commonwealth has elected F. Charles Duryea Jr. of Birmingham as vice president for market development.

DURYEA

For the past three years, Duryea has been a director and executive vice president of the Automotive Conversion Corp. in Birmingham. He lives with his wife and family at 939 Yarmouth.

Richard Wray Long, of 2235 Hempstead, Pontiac Township has been elected a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Long is on the staff of Ross Operating Valve Co. in Detroit.

Expansion Is Set by Troy Company

Expansion of the J. & I. Pattern Co., 1790 Livernois, Troy, was announced today by Ivan Norgrove, president of the firm.

★ ★ ★

A 4,000-foot addition is being constructed, and plans are to increase the work force about 30 per cent to a total of 30, Norgrove said.

The firm, which was founded in the Pontiac area in 1949, makes wood patterns for automotive castings. Its chief clients are General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Romney Asks Poverty Report

Seeks Plan to Effect Federal Bill in State

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney announced today he has asked state agencies to report within a week on plans for putting the federal "war on poverty" act into effect in Michigan.

Romney said the request is the first in a series of steps toward implementation of the new law, passed by Congress as the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, at the state level.

Included will be reports by state agencies on how the program will affect their programs and policies, what preparations they already have made to take advantage of it, and what proposals they may have for over all state planning to implement it.

"Michigan has the opportunity to lead, and Michigan intends to lead," said Romney's announcement. "We are determined our own anti-poverty activities, and projects under the new federal legislation, shall be meaningful and productive."

OTHER STEPS

Subseqtent steps in implementing the new law will be announced in a few days. They will deal with "elimination of poverty, efficient use of public funds, and responsible cooperation among all governmental levels and between public and private sectors," Romney said.

The governor recalled that in his inaugural address Jan. 1, 1963, he had called for Michigan to conduct its own "war on poverty."

* * *

He said the state has made "unprecedented strides in the exercise of state responsibility to develop Michigan solutions for Michigan problems."

He noted also he had been sharply critical of President Johnson's original anti-poverty bill because it "completely disregarded the vital role which state governments must play in any meaningful, coodinated attack upon the causes, as well as the symptoms, of poverty."

PASSED FORM

In the form which passed Congress, Romney said, the bill was modified to recognize "the importance of involving responsible state officials" in its programs.

LBJ Signs $1.4-Billion Hospital Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a $1.4-billion hospital construction and modernization bill, and hailed the present Congress as a "better - health Congress."

Johnson signed the five-year extension of the Hill - Burton Act in the presence of a large delegation from Congress and of government officials working in the field of health.

The President said the people of this country always have been great hospital builders, but that many of the hospitals, particularly in the larger cities, are obsolete and out of date.

He said the bill will "help us get started on that long overdue job" of modernizing existing hospitals.

* * *

The bill extends the longtime program of federal aid for hospital construction, known as the Hill - Burton Act, with the addition of aid for modernization of older hospitals.

6,810 FACILITIES

During the last 17 years, Hill-Burton funds have helped build 6,810 hospitals and other medical facilites in the United States.

Johnson had asked Congress to allot $340 milllion of the new bill's funds for modernization of big city hospitals.

Instead, Congress set aside $160 million for modernization and added a provision that $70 million of this may be diverted to new hospital construction if states prefer.

* * *

In signing the bill, Johnson commented that the record of hospital building since World War II has been much better than that of building nursing homes for the aged.

1,000 TURN 65

Every 24 hours, he said, more than 1,000 people turn 65 and they deserve the most modern facilities for their care.

Johnson had general praise for all members of Congress who supported the bill and particular praise for Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and Rep. Orel Harris, D-Ark., chairmen of the committees which handled the legislation.

Johnson expressed regret that Hill was unable to be on hand for the ceremony. He said Hill is in the hospital and that all hoped for him a speedy recovery.

* * *

Johnson remarked that "Americans have no patience with mixing politics with medical care, and there is going to be none of that."

BILL PROVISIONS

Besides the $160 million modernization program, the bill provides:

- $680 million to the states for new hospital contruction.
- $22.5 million for five years of grants to communities for planning of helth facilities.
- $70 million a year for construction of long - term care facilities such as chronic - disease hospitals and nursing homes.
- $30 million a year for construction of diagnostic and rehabilitation facilities.

Two in Cabinet Accused of Defaming Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top cabinet officials were accused by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., today of attempting to "blacken the character" of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater in statements to the Democratic platform committee.

Curtis, in a Senate speech turned his fire on U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson as well as Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

* * *

"To hear them talk," Curtis said, "one might be led to believe" that it has been the Republican party that has "kept the country at war so much of the time in the 20th Century."

Curtis said the three missed an excellent chance to "report to the country what has been going on" when they made their statements Monday.

'COULD HAVE EXPLAINED'

Rusk, he declared, could have explained that prior to the advent of the New Frontier "there was no Berlin Wall."

McNamara, Curtis said, "should have elaborated on his reported statement that we will be at war in Viet Nam for five years."

* * *

Turning to Stevenson, Curtis said the U.N. ambassador should have explained that prior to the New Frontier "Cuba was not an acknowledged satellite in the Western Hemisphere 90 miles from our shore."

* * *

"He (Stevenson) also could have informed the people the Communists are using Cuba as a base to send arms, saboteurs, propagandists and troublemakers throughout the Western Hemisphere," Curtis continued

BAY OF PIGS

"Mr. Stevenson might have given the people information as to what part, if any, he had in the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion."

* * *

Curtis was Goldwater's floor manager at the Republican National Convention. He can be expected to keep firing back at any administration criticism of the GOP presidential nominee.

Waterford Board Fills Planning Unit Vacancy

Waterford Township Board members last night appointed Joseph Filka to the township planning commission, filling a vacancy created by the recent resignation of Fred V. Haggard.

Filka, who will be the representative from labor on the commission, is a member of the Building Trades Council.

Haggard, who resigned for health reasons, is president of the Oakland County Council of the AFL-CIO.

In other business last night, a first notice of rezoning a 3.5-acre parcel of land on Cass Lake for a marina was read and scheduled for board consideration next Monday.

* * *

Several residents of the Cass Elizabeth-Parkway area where the marina is proposed appeared to object to the rezoning from single family and recreational to commercial and recreational.

OBJECTIONS

They contended that a new marina would downgrade property values and add more boats to a lake with too many already.

Proponents of the marina have long-range plans for development of acreage adjacent to it with multiple dwelling units and a shopping center.

Also last night, the board opened bids for library equipment and turned them over to the librarian and library advisory committee for study.

Total of low bids was $15,258, nearly $9,000 under the estimated $24,000 cost for shelving, furniture and carpeting.

TO SELL LAND

The board also approved a recommendation by the planning commission that six parcels of land owned by the township and not earmarked for any specific use be sold on a bid basis.

A first notice was read of the proposed rezoning of a two-lot parcel on Huron between Tilden and Josephine from office to commercial.

A restaurant is planned for the site.

Third Attempt to Get Groom Into Harness

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Jilted twice by the same fiance, Greta White, 24, is going to try to get him to take the nuptial vows on Saturday.

Wedding No. 1 should have been last August. All preparations had been made when Robert Smith, 24, called it off.

* * *

Wedding No. 2 should have been last February. Again Robert got cold feet.

In June this year, Robert suggested they try again. But friends say he couldn't face a large church wedding.

* * *

"This time it's going to be definite," said Robert. "We're going to marry in a registry office."

"I've still got the wedding cake from wedding No. 2 that wasn't. I plan to use it again," said Greta.

Area Youth in Plane Crash

A young Bloomfield Hills youth walked away from a private-plane crash late this morning with only a cut lip, after his engine quit in the middle of a practice turn.

Mark H. Bourdon, 18, of 443 Henley glided into a field near 5630 Coolidge, Troy, after smashing through two fences, tearing the left side of the plane's landing gear off.

Bourdon, holder of a student pilot's certificate that permits him to fly solo, said that he was making practice turns when the engine of his Aeronica 70C quit.

Bourdon managed to hold the plane in a level glide, striking the ground and bouncing through two fences before coming to a halt.

* * *

Besides the damage to the landing gear, the impact of the landing dented the left side of the aircraft.

95 Elections Schools

LANSING (AP) — Ninety-five schools for elections inspectors are under way in Michigan, says Secretary of State James Hare. The last will conclude Aug. 28, four days before the primary election.

Three Teens Face Exam in Armed Theft

Three Pontiac teen - agers, charged with the Friday night armed robbery of the J-J Food Store, 564 S. Telegraph face an August 26 preliminary examination before Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

The three demanded examination at their arraignment yesterday before Judge Finnegan. Bond of $20,000 was set for each.

Held in the Oakland County Jail are Oscar Rowls Jr., 18, of 197 Crystal Lake; Hugh Lance, 17, of 69 Clovese; and Henit Hughley, 18, of 265 Geing.

Patrolman Keith Kissinger stopped the trio and another man in their car moments after receiving a report of the robbery on his car radio.

The fourth man, Johnnie L. Stanley, 22, of 44 Harris, was released after questioning.

Police found a 38-caliber automatic pistol and $52 in cash under the front seat of the car.

Store employes told police that three men fled with $256.

Named to Jobs Group

LANSING (AP) — Keith Roelofs of Detroit was added to the Governor's Commission on Employment of the Handicapped Monday by Gov. George W. Romney. No Senate confirmation is required.

Hundreds Bid Beatles Bon Voyage

LONDON (AP) — Several hundred screaming, rain-soaked Beatle fans gathered today to cheer their idols on their way to the United States.

The idolators huddled on the spacious roof of a building at London Airport. Fans began arriving at 5 a.m. — seven hours before the scheduled departure.

The Beatles — John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr — begin their American tour in San Francisco Wednesday.

An estimated 50,000 to 100,000 fans are prepared to welcome them to the city that survived the 1906 earthquake and fire.

Police departments of two counties have conducted strategy sessions for most of the month to devise ways to keep the quartet's fans from tearing the Beatles apart.

The four shaggy-maned Britons start a 23-city North American tour Wednesday at the Cow Palace, whose last major event was the Republican National Convention.

The new Hilton grabbed the group when the Fairmont Hotel atop Nob Hill canceled the Beatles' reservations last week "without regret."

Human Skeleton Said Prehistoric Specimen

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A human skeleton dug up by suburban Windsor boys along the banks of the Canard River was identified by a museum curator as a female specimen belonging to a prehistoric period.

Alan Douglas of the Hiram Walker Museum said the skeleton was found lying on its left side with knees tucked under the chin, an early burial method.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE LAND USE PROVISIONS AND STREET PATTERNS OF URBAN RENEWAL PLANS-PROJECTS MICHIGAN R-20 AND MICHIGAN R-44.

To: All persons living in or owning property in or otherwise interested in the above designated Urban Renewal Projects, as more particularly described hereinafter.

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held before the City Commission of the City of Pontiac on Tuesday, September 1, 1964, at 8:00 p.m. or shortly thereafter, at the City Commission Chambers, City Hall, 35 S. Parke Street, Pontiac, Michigan.

The City Commission of the City of Pontiac is the Local Public Agency authorized to conduct the Michigan R-20 and Michigan R-44 Urban Renewal Projects which are identified by the following general boundary descriptions:

Michigan R-20: On the west, by an irregular line along S. Saginaw Street, on the north by East Pike Street, on the east by Parkhurst and Paddock Streets, and on the south by Osmun Street.

Michigan R-44: On the west, by the right-of-way of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, on the north by West Lawrence Street and West Pike Street, on the east by an irregular line along South Saginaw Street, and on the south by the line of Cottage Street, extended.

The purpose of this hearing is to consider proposed amendments in the land use requirements and street patterns of the presently approved Urban Renewal Plans for said projects. The amendments as proposed are as follows:

In Project R-20 the deletion of the proposed vacating for that part of Perkins Street between Judson Street and Whittemore Street, more particularly described as that portion of Perkins Street lying north of a line drawn between the SE corner of Lot 90 Assessor's Plat No. 133 and the SW corner of Lot 37 Assessor's Plat No. 136 and south of a line drawn between the NW corner of Lot 37 Assessor's Plat No. 136 and the NE corner of Lot 90 Assessor's Plat No. 133.

In Project R-20 and Project R-44, Amendment of the land use requirements applying to the parcel of land lying between West Pike Street, South Saginaw Street, Orchard Lake Avenue, and Cass Avenue, more particularly described as Lots 31 through 36 inclusive and Lots 66, 67, and 68 Assessor's Plat No. 113, and Lots 96 through 101 inclusive in Original Plat, and Lots 1 through 21 inclusive in Assessor's Plat No. 114; from commercial and parking to commercial, including parking.

In Project R-44, amendment of the land use requirements applying to the parcel of land lying between Cass Avenue, West Lawrence Street, the Clinton River, and West Pike Street, more particularly described as Lots 16, 17, and 23 of Assessor's Plat No. 113; from parking to commercial including parking.

In Project R-20, amendment of the land use requirements applying to the land lying between Whittemore Street and Cottage Street along the west side of East Wide Track Drive, more particularly described as Lots 34, 35, 36, and 37 of Assessor's Plat No. 130, except for that portion of Lots 34, 35, and 36 that is designated for "limited access right-of-way," and part of Lots 1, 4, 8, all of Lots 5 and 9 Tuthills Plat, and Lot 1 of Assessor's Plat No. 63 except for that portion of these lots that is designated for "limited access right-of-way," from parking to multiple family residential.

At the time of said hearing, the City Commission will provide an opportunity for all interested persons to be heard and will receive and consider communications in writing in reference to the proposed amendments. Further details are available at the Office of Planning and Urban Renewal, 2nd Floor, City Hall, 35 S. Parke Street, Pontiac, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Dated: July 30, 1964.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR darling Mary Kathryn McClure, who passed away Aug. 18, 1959.
She was a flower too sweet for earth
Sent here for a while;
God marked her when he gave her birth
And took her with a smile.
Sadly missed by Mommy, Daddy, sisters and brother.

Liz, Burton Heading for Villa in Mexico

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor and her husband leave Hollywood today aboard a chartered airliner for Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, where they own a home.

★ ★ ★

Friends said the couple paid $2,600 for the five-hour flight aboard the Mexican airline's plush executive craft to the seacoast resort. They arrived in Los Angeles Friday from New York by train.

Buddhists Warn Viet Nam Another Uprising Possible

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Buddhist leaders warned today that they will rise up again if President Nguyen Khanh's government follows the path of the deposed Diem regime.

"Right now, it is a question of wait and see," a leading monk said. "We are concerned with certain events in central Viet Nam, and we feel there are dangers in the election of Gen. Khanh as chief of state."

★ ★ ★

Buddhist leaders are disturbed about an incident three weeks ago in Binh Dinh Province, 350 miles north of Saigon. They charge that officials burned 200 peasant huts as a punitive measure. Most of the families were Buddhists.

Khanh, a Buddhist himself, dismissed and punished the officials and paid reparations, but there are still hard feelings.

STUDENTS PROTEST

About 500 students showed antigovernment sentiment in a demonstration Monday night at Hue, 400 miles north of here. Last summer's Buddhist insurrection began in Hue, and some people in the area would like to make central Viet Nam an independent republic.

Buddhist leaders fear repercussions from the ouster of Maj. Gen. Doung Van Minh as chief of state. Minh led the rebel troops that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Roman Catholic, last November. Minh's popularity is still high, especially in Buddhist circles.

★ ★ ★

South Viet Nam's military junta adopted a provisional constitution Sunday and elevated Khanh from premier to president, with sweeping executive powers. Minh was stripped of his titular office and removed from the center of power.

Asked if Buddhists fear repression by the Khanh government as under Diem, the leader said: "No, we are not worried. We are powerful."

PLAN MEETING

Buddhists plan a large commemorative meeting Thursday in Saigon on the first anniversary of the bloody raids on Buddhist pagodas by Diem's police and troops last year.

Protest demonstrations are illegal under the state of emergency decree, but police are alert for trouble.

The first crude attempts at bookmaking were made by writing on long sheets of papyrus which were rolled up from each end into sticks to aid the reader.

Star's Divorce-Bent Wife Has Parting Shots on Men

By EARL WILSON

I was interviewing pepperpot Pamela Mason, the separated, divorce-bound wife of James Mason, who was here from Hollywood.

WILSON

"I was brought up to believe that one couldn't live without a man but I find now that going without a man is a great advantage," Pamela said, gaily.

"I've had a much better time since James and I broke up. He wanted to go to bed at 10 o'clock. If we had guests they would feel they weren't wanted—and they were right.

"Another thing," Pamela said, "a wife shouldn't do much for her husband. At first I would do the financial things, even though I add on my fingers, and sign his name and handle the contracts. And so eventually I bored him to death!

"They say the way to keep a woman from stealing a man is to put her in charge of the money.

"I don't know. Maybe she shouldn't accept the custody of the money. Maybe she should steal from him. I never did, of course."

2 Operators Listen as Man Shot to Death

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) — Two horrified telephone operators heard a man being shot to death Monday night.

The dead man was identified by police as Carol Spencer, 57, a caretaker at a suburban animal hospital.

★ ★ ★

Police said a telephone operator received a call at 7:48 p.m. from a man who said he wanted the police. The call was traced to the animal hospital.

The operator, who was not identified, transferred the call to Mary Peterson, Arlington County police switchboard operator. As the two operators listened, the man shouted: "I'm being threatened." Then, police said, the women heard two sharp reports.

FACE DOWN

Spencer's body was found face down about 20 feet from the telephone. There was no sign of a struggle, nor was there any evidence of robbery, police said.

About 150 different kinds of swifts, small birds with strong wings, which fly tirelessly all day, are found in various parts of the world.

In addition to the linotype and intertype, several other line casting machines have been developed for use in the composing room.

CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/ The Democrats

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty

"Democrats" they call themselves, those eager delegates from the 50 United States and its territories, now foregathering for the 34th time to choose their party's standard bearers for the next four years.

Yet oddly enough, the Democrats were once all good Republicans, followers of the party founded by Thomas Jefferson.

Their opponents, the Federalists, slurringly referred to them as "Democratic Republicans," for democracy then was equated with mobocracy.

The Jefferson men accepted the name and kept it until 1828.

* * *

The Federalist party, long dead, experienced a form of revival that year when President John Quincy Adams split off from the Democratic Republicans to form the National Republicans (later called Whigs) and to contest the presidential election with Andrew Jackson.

NAME SHORTENED

After Jackson won, his party's name was shortened to "Democratic."

It was Mr. Jackson's party, indeed. His eight years at its head left it strong, disciplined and well-organized.

It was Jackson who called the first Democratic convention in 1832 and there laid down the rule that a candidate must receive the votes of two-thirds of the delegates to be nominated — a rule that was to paralyze more than one convention during the next 100 years.

* * *

It was at their fourth convention, in 1844, that the Democrats produced the first dark horse in American politics James K. Polk, who was chosen instead of one of the deadlocked leading contenders, former President Martin Van Buren and Gen. Lewis Cass.

Four years later Van Buren and Cass were at it again when the Democrats witnessed the first walkout of a fraction from a national convention — that of the anti-slavery "Barnburners."

The "Barnburners" held their own convention in Utica, N.Y. and nominated Van Buren. However, the Whig candidate, Mexican War hero Gen. Zachary Taylor, defeated both him and the Democrats' Cass.

The issue of slavery had temporarily split the Democrats.

DESTROYED PARTY

By the 1850s, this unsolvable but unavoidable problem had virtually destroyed the Whig party and resulted in the birth of a dedicated and fast-growing anti-slavery party called the Republicans.

As convention time neared in 1860, the Democratic Party faced the greatest crisis in its history.

It was entirely possible that neither it nor the nation itself would long endure.

Jackie to Come Home, Ending Italian Vacation

PORTO ERCOLE, Italy (AP) — Police sources said today that Mrs. John F. Kennedy plans to fly back to the United States Thursday.

Mrs. Kennedy and her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, have been staying at Princess Radziwill's rented villa on the Argentario Peninsula since Aug. 11. They drove here from Rome after a five-day cruise along Yugoslavia's Adriatic Coast.

Keating to Run for Reelection to Senate Seat

But Won't Support Barry's Candidacy; May Face R. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, the New York Republican who disagrees with Sen. Barry Goldwater, announced today he would seek reelection.

He may run against Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who appears to have a good chance of gaining the Democratic nomination.

Indicating he would run independently of the national ticket, Keating declared:

"I will not be a party to any deals and do not intend to trim my sails to win the backing of any individual or organization that does not support me on my record."

★ ★ ★

The announcement ended weeks of speculation about what road the 64-year-old, silver-haired lawyer from Rochester would choose.

PEOPLE AWARE

"The people of New York are aware of the deep difference between Sen. (Barry) Goldwater's record and my own," Keating said. Goldwater of Arizona is the Republican presidential candidate.

"I seriously doubt that any voter in New York would be impressed by any lip service I might give Sen. Goldwater or he might give me in the name of party unity."

Even before the nomination of Goldwater, Keating expressed doubt that he would be able to run on the same ticket — because of divergent political philosophies.

★ ★ ★

But Keating's announcement today said he believed in the two-party system and had "never had any thought of bolting the Republican party."

CONSIDERS DUTY

He continued:

"But as a senator from New York, I have considered it my duty to represent all the people of New York — Republicans, Democrats and Independents — those who may have voted for me and those who may have voted against me."

He said he reached his decision to try to return to the Senate for a second term without regard to whatever opponents he might face.

Clare Booth Luce is considering candidacy on the Conservative ticket and the Democratic nomination may be Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's for the asking.

★ ★ ★

Keating said, "I would be willing to take my chances with the people of New York even if every pollster and expert predicted my defeat. I have never run away from a fight because the odds were against me."

Tempest Wins More Acclaim

Named Success Car of the Model Year

The title of "success car of the 1964 model year" was bestowed on the Tempest today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Supporting Bridge's claim is the Division's announcement that the 1964 Tempest showed a whopping 76.4 per cent sales increase over the 1963 model year.

This, Bridge points out, is the best increase in the industry by "a considerable margin."

Bridge said the outstanding sales performance of the Tempest line has increased its share of the market from 1.9 per cent a year ago to 3.1 per cent currently.

★ ★ ★

Since the introduction of the completely - restyled Tempest last fall, more than 210,000 units have been sold.

GREAT DEMAND

Bridge said dealers from coast to coast report that customer demand for the higher-priced GTO and LeMans models also continues to be strong.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Motor entered the small-car field with introduction of the Tempest in 1960. Since that time it has earned numerous industry awards, including the 1961 "Car of the Year" Award from Motor Trend magazine.

The family-size compact was also named 1961 Michigan Week "Product of the Year" for Region 16, which includes Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The Tempest was put through more than 3 million miles of driving and performance tests which proved its reliability in its first year of production. It has undergone numerous improvements since then.

★ ★ ★

It was judged the "best all-round car in its class" in the 1963 Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach International Speedway.

SAFETY REINFORCEMENT — The outlook for Bloomfield Township officials brightened somewhat yesterday with the installation of some 87-no-left-turn signs on Telegraph. Here, north of Maple, two signs already serving at warnings at unprotected crossovers were reinforced by two more. The safety improvement was one of those being sought by the township from the State Highway Department.

Single Soviet Rocket Lofts Three Satellites

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today hurled three "Cosmos" satellites into orbit with a single rocket in a space project believed to be the prelude to the launching of a manned spaceship.

The launching was the first in which the Soviets have sent three satellites into orbit from a single rocket. The United States has orbited three satellites with one rocket twice — last November and again in July.

On June 15, 1963 a rocket fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., orbited five satellites one shot, and a later experiment from the same base put up four satellites.

It was recalled that the twin orbital flights of cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova, the first and only spacewoman, and Valery Bykovsky followed a series of "Cosmos" satellite lauchings in June 1963.

In announcing today's triple-header of Sputniks, the Soviet news agency Tass said only instruments were aboard.

Tass said today's feat was accomplished with a single, new-type rocket.

"Scientific instruments have been installed in the Sputniks to continue the exploration of outer space," the Tass report said.

The United States first launched two satellites with one rocket—the Transit 11-A and piggyback satellites of June 22, 1960. Then the Soviets launched the "pairs of electron" satellites with single rockets twice this year—on Jan. 30 and July 11.

Lawyer Plans Hoffa Appeal

CHICAGO (AP) — The chief counsel of James R. Hoffa says he will appeal the five-year prison term given the Teamsters Union president on a mail fraud and conspiracy conviction.

★ ★ ★

Maurice Walsh, Hoffa's chief attorney, said he would appeal the sentence and ask for a new trial within the 10-day period established yesterday by Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court.

Judge Austin sentenced Hoffa, 51, to four concurrent five-year terms and fined him $10,000.

He said the term would be served after Hoffa finishes an eight-year prison sentence imposed in Chattanooga, Tenn., for jury tampering.

UAW to Pick No. 1 Target on Thursday

Big Three Proposals Called Inadequate by Union Negotiators

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto industry was a step closer to a possible crippling strike today with rejection by the United Auto Workers union of new contract proposals by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Which of the Big Three automakers will be chosen as the No. 1 strike target probably will be decided at a meeting of the UAW international executive board Thursday in Chicago.

GM was named as the primary target in 1961, while Ford was selected in 1955 and 1958.

In almost identical offers yesterday the companies proposed new three-year contracts for more than half-a-million production line workers, calling for higher wages, earlier retirement and larger pensions.

The proposals — to replace agreements expiring at the end of this month—were immediately rejected by UAW bargainers as "terribly disappointing" and "miserably inadequate."

★ ★ ★

In turn, a Ford Motor Company spokesman observed:

"This makes the situation very serious."

STRIKE VOTE

Workers at all three companies already are participating in a strike-authorization vote which is expected to gain overwhelming approval.

Such a move, strengthening the bargaining table position of union negotiators, is customary as contract expiration deadlines approach.

In 1961, both sides agreed to a week's extension of the GM contract, and agreement was reached on a new pact six hours before the strike deadline.

★ ★ ★

Asked whether the union would agree to a similar arrangement this time if progress is being made in negotiations next week, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock told newsmen:

PEOPLE OPPOSED

"Our people in the plants are opposed to it."

Woodcock, chief union negotiator at the GM bargaining table, said the company offer did not begin to close the gap prevailing between the hourly rated workers represented by the UAW and salaried white collar employes.

No mention was made in the industry proposals of one of the union's top demands this year: improved working conditions.

The union has insisted that the national agreement include

Stresses Gains Under Dems

'Output Rise Greater Than Eight Ike Years'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A production rise of nearly $150 billion in the four Kennedy-Johnson years will exceed the gains of the entire eight-year Eisenhower administration, White House economist Walter W. Heller predicted today.

★ ★ ★

Heller presented to the Democratic party's platform writers the "prosperity" ammunition for the peace-preparedness-prosperity campaign which President Johnson has indicated he will wage in November.

"This will be the first administration in over a century unmarred by recession or depression," said Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

His report was prepared for the platform hearings here preceding the opening of the Democratic National Convention Monday in Atlantic City, N.J.

★ ★ ★

The platform writers also got a rosy report on the economy from Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, who held out the prospect of a "thorough overhaul" of World War II excise taxes and a further reduction in income taxes in the years ahead.

ECONOMIC RECORD

While the administration spokesmen were pointing with pride to the economic record, a behind-the-scenes effort was under way aimed at avoiding a convention battle over a civil rights plank in the party platform.

Sponsored by Southerners, the civil rights move was disclosed by Robert R. Richardson, an Atlanta lawyer serving on the platform committee.

He told a reporter that a proposed civil rights plank has been submitted to some members of his committee.

Barry's Aides Map Huge TV Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's advisers are mapping a massive television campaign, and keeping it flexible to counter any major Democratic moves in the race for the White House.

Goldwater aides sketched today the plans being developed for a broadcasting effort they said will cost about $4.5 million. It is expected to begin before the end of September.

Republican National Chairman Dean Burch has estimated the Democrats will spend more than $8 million on President Johnson's television campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Goldwater forces are laying out a campaign plan that will include filmed and taped television programs, both regional and national, a handful of major live appearances on nationwide television, and brief spot announcements on both radio and television.

One Goldwater adviser said the television campaign will build in intensity as the election nears. He said the Goldwater forces are seeking to use television as they did in the California primary campaign.

In some cases, a campaign official said, Goldwater may take to television to counter charges made by Johnson or other Democrats, or to speak out on a newly developed campaign issue.

★ ★ ★

"Our basic aim is to present our candidate in a positive, favorable way," the Goldwater aide said.

NOT DEFENSIVE

He said rebutting Johnson will not be a major goal of the Goldwater television effort because "that would put us in a defensive posture."

Goldwater's men do not believe that President Johnson will agree to face-to-face campaign debates.

"You're not going to have instant debate," one said.

At his news conference Saturday the President turned aside a debate question with "we will get into that after our convention when we make a decision in the matter."

★ ★ ★

That afternoon Goldwater told Republican state chairmen at a closed strategy session "we will rely on television more than we ever relied on it before."

LONG CAMPAIGN

Goldwater's traveling campaign, a source at the Republican National Committee said, is expected to cover about 75,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater will travel on a chartered jet plane. The plane, being remodeled for the senator and his staff will have space for 54 reporters.

Stiff Test Faces County GOP

Barry Quota Calls for Two-Thirds of Vote

Republican strategists have charted a stiff vote goal in Michigan for Sen. Barry Goldwater and are asking for almost two-thirds of Oakland County's maximum turnout.

The GOP presidential candidate's planners want 191,433 of the county's 300,671 registered voters to pull the Goldwater lever, about 30,000 more than voted for Richard Nixon in 1960.

"No question about it, this is a high quota, yet it doesn't look so unreasonably," commented Dale Feet, county Republican campaign director.

"The county has picked up a lot of residents in the past four years so there's more voters here than Nixon had to draw from."

★ ★ ★

Feet said the goal would spur county GOP voter identification efforts, "but we have tended to stay away from quotas. We work all-out for the last Republican in every precinct anyway.

VICTORY BLUEPRINT

The Goldwater victory blueprint seeks 1,914,000 votes throughout Michigan.

This indicates 59.3 per cent of the total based on an analysis of registration and previous elections.

NOT IN WIN COLUMN

Missing from the expected win column are 13 of the state's 83 counties, including voterich Wayne and Macomb and little Alger and Iron counties.

In 1956 Eisenhower polled 1,713,647, about 55 per cent of all ballots cast, and lost three counties. Nixon in 1960 lost Michigan with 1,620,428 votes, collecting only 48.8 per cent of the turnout.

Goldwater is supposed to get more votes than Nixon in all of the counties—despite the fact a smaller turnout is expected this November than in 1960.

In 1956 the presidential election turnout was about 56 per cent of April voter registration. If that figure is repeated, this year's vote will be about 3,200,000.

Potential votes for President Johnson were not computed, but the GOP plan expects Goldwater to get but 466,084 from populous Wayne County against a maximum turnout of 1,166,116.

Commission Mum on Wage Survey

A long-awaited Michigan Municipal League (MML) survey of wage scales for Pontiac city employes is in the hands of city administrators.

The study generally confirms City Manager Joseph A. Warren's observation of several weeks ago that city employes here are paid below scale of comparable cities.

Purpose of the survey, however, was to determine how much they're underpaid and that answer is being kept a closely guarded secret by city officials.

The MML survey literally covers the starting and top pay steps for every position on the city payroll and compares each to those of Oakland County employes and wage scales in 10 Detroit Metropolitan Area cities.

★ ★ ★

Based on this comparison, the survey recommends new starting and top salaries for most salaried and hourly paid employes.

INFORMAL MEETING

The survey was delivered to city administrators last Friday afternoon and presented to city commissioners, along with a preliminary analysis of how much it will cost, at an informal meeting at City Hall last night.

Results of the survey itself and the cost analysis will be presented to representatives of various employe groups by Warren within the next few days.

However, at the request of the commission, the public will have to wait a little longer for the survey results.

U.N. Key to Cyprus Solution---Johnson

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Johnson has told Greek Cypriot President Makarios there is "no acceptable alternative" to solve the Cyprus problem but to cooperate within the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

The Johnson message, released here today, was delivered to Makarios Monday night by U.S. Ambassador Taylor Belcher. The message was in reply to an appeal for aid which Makarios addressed to Johnson, and the world's other top leaders, at the height of the Greek Cypriot-Turkish Cypriot fighting last week.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of the cease-fire agreed to under U.N. auspices, Johnson said, "I believe it to be of the utmost importance that these successful first steps lead now to other aims stated in the resolution — cooperating with the United Nations commander in restoring peace and refraining from any action that might exacerbate the situation. I see no acceptable alternative but that all parties move actively toward these goals. The United States is prepared to do everything within its power to help."

PULL NATO TROOPS

The message reached Makarios as Greece closed ranks with the Greek Cypriots by withdrawing some Greek forces from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to help defend the Makarios government.

Greece's decision Monday helped ease a strain between Athens and Nicosia. It also came as a new blow to the solidarity of the Atlantic alliance's eastern flank at a time when the Soviet Union has become embroiled in the Cyprus crisis.

★ ★ ★

Turkey withdrew some air force planes from NATO control nine days ago after the Greek Cypriots charged that Turkish jet fighters took off from NATO bases to attack Cyprus.

A Greek Foreign Ministry statement in Athens said Greece's protests about the Turkish pullout had gone unheeded.

FULFILL OBLIGATIONS

"Following this," the statement added, "Greece decided to withdraw the necessary army, naval and air force units assigned to the alliance."

It said the decision was taken "to fulfill Greek obligations to defend the independence and territorial integrity of Cyprus, and in particular to ward off the constant Turkish threat."

★ ★ ★

Greece also hailed "as an important contribution to peace" Soviet Premier Khrushchev's warning to Turkey against further air attacks on Cyprus.

The Greek stand pleased the Greek Cypriot government, which had been chided by Premier George Papandreou for launching a military drive against a Turkish Cypriot coastal stronghold without consulting Greece. The attack brought four days of Turkish fighter raids on Greek Cypriot towns.

★ ★ ★

Greece's NATO forces total 120,000 men and its entire air force, more than seven fighter-bomber squadrons, is committed to the alliance. Like the Turkish armed forces, most Greek units have U.S. equipment.

Here Are Highlights of Big 3's Proposal

DETROIT (UPI) — Here are the highlights of the auto industry's Big Three contract offer to the United Auto Workers Union.

WAGES

Continuation of the annual improvement factor increase of 2.5 per cent or six cents an hour, whichever is higher. The increase could amount to 39 cents an hour over a three-year period, depending on the individual worker and his company.

COST OF LIVING

Nine of the 14 cents cost of living allowance would be made part of the basic wage rates. The other five cents would remain as a float. The adjustments would be made annually, instead of quarterly as at present.

RETIREMENT

An increase in the basic retirement benefits from $2.80 to $3.25 per month for each year of service. Normal retirement benefits would be available as early as 62, instead of 65. There would be special provisions for retirement at 60 on a volunteer basis, or at 55 if a worker's job is eliminated through automation or plant relocation.

INSURANCE

JOBLESS PAY

Increased supplemental unemployment benefits from $40 to $45 per week for laid-off workers. Benefits can reach $51 a month with allowance for four dependents.

HOLIDAY PAY

Improved vacation pay with up to four weeks after 25 years. An eighth paid holiday — Good Friday.

SEPARATION PAY

Separation pay for workers with one year or more service, with up to a full year's pay for an employe with 30 years service.

JURY PAY

A worker on jury duty would be assured of full pay because the firms would make up the difference between the jury allowance and his regular straight-time hourly wage.

EDUCATION BENEFIT

A plan where the firms would refund tuition to employes who satisfactorily complete courses in colleges, universities, trade schools or vocational schools.

Auto Firms' Offer Rejected by UAW

two 10-minute daily breaks for workers on the assembly lines in addition to the two 12-minute breaks already allowed for personal relief.

PROPOSAL DENOUNCED

One of the UAW's top priority demands was included in the company proposals but was denounced as inadequate. This was a provision covering earlier retirement and increased pension benefits.

Union spokesmen, however, pointed out that the offer failed to meet demands for more money for those workers already retired.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations, described the proposals as "the most generous we have ever made to the UAW."

★ ★ ★

But Gene Prato, chairman of the UAW's national Ford negotiation team, said the company's offer did not come close to meeting union demands.

AID WATERFORD CLUB — Charles Sitton (left), executive director of the Waterford Boys' Club, accepted a $3,500 check yesterday in behalf of the club from William Stokes, Waterford police chief. The check, which represents proceeds of last month's Grand Ole Opry sponsored by the police department, will be used for operating expenses.

Employe Pension Plan Reviewed in Waterford

An employe pension plan proposed for incorporation in the 1965 budget was reviewed last night by the Waterford Township Board and scheduled for consideration at the board's Aug. 31 meeting.

First year cost of the program, which would cover all township employes other than police and fire personnel who already have a pension plan, would be $36,539.

Approximately 70 per cent of this amount would come from the township's general fund and the balance from the water department fund.

The pension proposal from the actuarial firm of Gabriel, Roeder, Smith & Company of Detroit specifies a township contribution of 16.33 per cent for the first $4,800 of employe wages and 18.25 per cent over $4,800.

★ ★ ★

In addition, employes would contribute 3 per cent of up to $4,800 in wages and 5 per cent over this base amount.

40 EMPLOYES

The pension, which would cover 40 employes, was drafted by a committee of township employes, working with the actuarial firm. Attorney Calvin E. Patterson volunteered his services as consultant for the committee.

A similar employe pension plan was proposed a year ago for inclusion in the 1964 budget.

★ ★ ★

It was deleted, however, before the budget was approved because board members later decided to use the funds earmarked for the pension program to hire more police and fire personnel.

REJECT REQUEST

In other business, the board rejected a request from the school system that condemnation action be taken on Private Drive to provide a walking easement for school children.

Township Supervisor James Seeterlin and Trustee Loren Anderson summed up the board's opposition.

Seeterlin said he felt the cost of condemnation proceedings is unjustifiable, and Anderson said he opposed any condemnation action unless absolutely necessary.

★ ★ ★

The road which leads to the new Silver Lake School is located at the north side of Silver Lake Golf Course.

Also last night, the board authorized a contract for blacktopping Hira Street.

City to Get GM Appeal on Streets

City Commissioners tonight are slated to receive four proposed resolutions for the vacating of streets in the north end of Pontiac.

The street vacating is requested by General Motors Corp., which has purchased the property for plant expansion.

The auto firm seeks to vacate portions of Beverly and Tennyson between Highwood and Laurel, Highwood between Madison and First, and Laurel between Mansfield and First.

In related action, a GM request to rezone from residential to manufacturing property at First and Highwood will also be before the commission.

The city seeks to amend its urban renewal plans, and the proposed changes will be forwarded to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for approval.

Jr. following last night's meeting.

Taylor said he was afraid figures, especially the estimated annual cost to fully implement the recommended pay hikes, would be "misinterpreted."

City officials refused to release any of several means needed to put the new plan into effect.

★ ★ ★

"This will require much more study before we can reach any reliable conclusions," said Warren.

DEMONSTRATION

Several hundred placard-bearing city employes demonstrated for four hours at City Hall Aug. 4 in opposition to current pay scales. Many wanted to know where the survey was.

Warren then announced it was due for completion Aug. 15. It had previously been slated for completion earlier. The survey was ordered early in April.

While the survey finds wages generally below par, it puts Pontiac in a good position as far as fringe benefits are concerned.

It lists three alternate methods of implementing the recommended pay scales ranging from merely hiking each employe's current pay to the next highest rate in the proposed scale, to full increases to the rate recommended for every employe based on time of service.

LATEST STATISTICS

Shortly after Warren assumed duties here Aug. 3, he pointed to the latest MML annual statistics published last January when asked about employes' wages.

"Based on these statistics," he observed, "local wages are not in line with comparable cities.

"The question is, how much out of line are they."

Beneficiaries of the answer to that question — the city employes — should know by the end of the week.

Italian President Segni Is Reported Improved

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni's doctors reported a slight improvement in his condition today. They said he had come out of his coma occasionally and taken food by mouth.

Segni, 73, suffered a stroke 11 days ago. He went into a coma Saturday.

Crash Kills 8 as Tire Blows

Roy Rogers' Daughter a Mishap Victim

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Eight persons, including the adopted daughter of actors Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, were killed and about 40 others were injured when a bus carrying 65 church members crashed head-on into seven other vehicles.

Highway patrol officers said a front tire on the church bus blew out, causing the vehicle to careen across the center line on busy U.S. Highway 101 into oncoming traffic.

★ ★ ★

Four of the dead were children. Ten of the injured were reported in serious condition.

Officers said the bus was 21 years old and had no emergency exit. It was carrying 65 members of the Disciples of Christ chapel of the Canyon Church of Canoga Park, Calif., and was six miles south of San Clemente, near San Onofre Bridge, when a front tire blew.

HURTLES DIVIDER

The bus hurtled across the highway divider, striking seven other vehicles and finally coming to rest against a palm tree at the edge of a 40-foot bluff over San Onofre Creek.

Two children on the church bus died. One was Deborah Lee Rogers, 12, a Korean, adopted daughter of Rogers and Miss Evans, his wife. The other was Deborah's friend, Joan Russell, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of Granada Hills, Calif.

The other six dead were all in one station wagon. They were Margaret Huss Armijo, 20, of Albuquerque, N.M.; her children, Jo Ellen, 16 months, and Joseph, 6 months; her mother, Marie Huss, 50, of Fallbrook, Calif.; and her sisters, Susan, 22, and Catherine, 15.

Miss Evans, distraught and under sedation at her Chatsworth, Calif., home, said only, "I've heard it, but I can't accept it. I just can't."

TOTAL OUTPUT

Heller's report to the committee was built on a new official estimate that total output—the gross national product—will climb to a record annual rate of $640 billion in the January-April quarter of next year. It was last reported at $618.5 billion, in the April-June quarter.

With all the price increases of the past dozen years screened out, Heller said, the 5 per cent average annual increase in real output in the Kennedy-Johnson term—"has nearly doubled the average annual gains of 2 to 3 per cent recorded during the Republican years."

Heller called the record of economic progress one "unmatched in America's peacetime annals."

The economy now is in the 42nd month of unbroken advance and is "still moving upward," his statement said.

Birmingham Area News

Traffic Survey Deemed Unnecessary at Present

BIRMINGHAM — No study will be conducted to determine traffic patterns in the Coolidge-Maple roads area, the site of a proposed $50-million development.

The City Commission last night decided that the survey was not necessary prior to a hearing to determine what type of road improvement will be required to handle the large volume of traffic expected in the area.

The commission will receive recommendations from the administration on specific designs of a half-mile stretch, Maple to Derby, at next Monday's meeting.

The multimillion-dollar development, planned to front on Coolidge, has prompted concern from residents of the neighboring Pembroke Manor Subdivision.

The administration originally recommended that the study be taken, but before the meeting changed its position.

COST OF STUDY

The cost of the study had been estimated at $5,000 and probably would have been completed in 30 days.

Nearby residents several weeks ago requested that the city "take its time" before deciding on the design of the improvement because after it was built they would have little recourse.

Members of the subdivision association felt that traffic from the development will use subdivision streets for throughways leading west.

Dr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Young

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Graveside service for Dr. Ronald C. Young, 63, and his wife Josephine, 54, of 136 Bassett will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at Oak Hills Cemetery, Newnan, Ga.

Dr. and Mrs. Young died Sunday in a two-car collision near Corbin, Ky. Their bodies are at J. U. McKoon & Son Funeral Home at Newnan.

Dr. Young, a member of the General Motors Speakers Bureau, earned his bachelors degree and doctorate in philosophy at Mercer University, Macon, Ga.

He was at one time an administrator at the University of Georgia, Atlanta division, and was also a youth counselor, lecturer and writer.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Cobb of Charlotte, N.C., and Mrs. Young's sister and brother.

Frank D. Webb

BIRMINGHAM — Word has been received here of the death Aug. 10 of Frank D. Webb, 67, of 924 Arlington.

A memorial service was held Wednesday in Charlevoix.

A former newspaper man and publicist, Mr. Webb won Pulitzer Prizes in 1931 and 1932.

Police Quell Race Violence

Arrest 40 in Flare-Up Outside of Chicago

DIXMOOR, Ill. (AP) — Racial violence flared for a second time in this Chicago suburb Monday night, but heavily armed police put down the disturbance with only minor damage and injuries.

Forty persons, 27 of them white, were arrested. Most were charged with disorderly conduct or inciting a riot. Two persons were injured as rock-throwing Negroes made a target of passing vehicles.

Related Story, Page 17

The police department in neighboring Harvey said the arrests were made at various places in the area as officers picked up potential agitators and persons carrying arms or disturbing the peace. A spokesman said those arrested were generally in groups of three or four. The whites and Negroes arrested did not clash.

More than 50 persons were cut and bruised by rocks during a five-hour disturbance Sunday night and early Monday. Two persons suffered minor gunshot wounds.

The predominantly Negro suburb of 5,000 population is two miles south of Chicago.

Civil rights leaders and 40 clergymen who attempted to avert the second outbreak of violence were critical of police work, particularly the use of canine patrols to disperse the mob.

Cook County sheriff's police and Illinois state patrolmen were joined by at least six suburban police departments to battle the violence.

Cook County officials later said that the dog patrols were not instructed to enter the area "There was a general mix-up," said Matt Romer, chief of police at nearby Harvey.

BEFORE DUSK

The crowd of some 100 Negroes began gathering shortly before dusk near a liquor store which has been the focal point of the rioting.

Negroes claim the owner of the store, who is white, assaulted a Negro woman after accusing her of stealing a bottle of gin Saturday.

Shortly after three gasoline bombs touched off a blaze in the rear of the liquor store. As the phalanx of police moved into the area, small arms gunfire rang out. Dirt was kicked up a few feet from the policemen, but no one was reported injured.

Cass Lake Parley Postponed 1 Day

An emergency meeting on the safety situation at Cass Lake has been postponed until Thursday afternoon.

The exploratory session scheduled by the State Boating Control Committee, West Bloomfield Township officials and area law enforcement officers will be held at 2 p.m. in the Township Hall.

The meeting was called following the death of Alan L. Akerley, 20, 2184 Park Circle, Keego Harbor, who was struck down by a motor boat while swimming in the lake Aug. 3. It had originally been slated for tomorrow.

County Dems Over Quota on Petitions

Statewide Democratic efforts in the anti-Massachusetts Ballot petition drive are lagging, but Oakland County party workers have shot far above their original goals.

Tally on a last big push Saturday to obtain added petition signatures for a November election referendum today credited county Democrats with approximately 30,000 names.

"This is well above our original goal of 22,500," said County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin, "and more petitions are expected by our final deadline Friday."

Levin said late petitions will be turned over for filing, in Lansing, Aug. 28. He said the local campaign achieved 100 per cent of quota or better results in Pontiac, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Brandon and Highland townships, Madison Heights, Southfield and Oak Park.

According to state drive chairman Sherwood Colburn, Democrats have collected over 200,000 signatures, above the 139,000 required by law but short of a safety goal of 300,000.

Wild 'Nightie' Ride in Alleged Kidnap

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (UPI) — "It is," said policeman J. G. Tate, "a weird tale."

★ ★ ★

And indeed it was, especially for an alleged kidnap case. There was the alleged victim, Grady Lee Steen, 26, driving his car frantically through the streets of Spartanburg.

And there, on the hood of his car, hanging on for dear life and banging on the windshield with a detached side view mirror, was one of the alleged abductors, 21-year-old Joyce Kay Lefevres, dressed only in a nightgown

Things like this are not seen in Spartansburg every day, and policeman Tate and his colleagues felt it would be improper to stop the car and make certain inquiries.

There then unfolded a story so fantastic that at one point the alleged kidnapers and their alleged victim were all under arrest.

SIDE OF STORY

Steen was released after police got his side of the story which went like this:

Steen and a date, Patsy Queen, were sitting in his car at a drive-in hamburger place in Kannapolis Sunday night when a car occupied by Miss Lefevres and Stacy Lavern Bigham, a 25-year-old textile worker, both of Kannapolis, drove up.

Steen said the woman got out and held a pistol on him and his date, ordering the girl to leave the car.

★ ★ ★

He said the woman made him drive down a street where they switched to a car driven by Bigham.

PREVIOUS DATE

Tate said Steen told him that he had previously dated Miss LeFevres.

They changed to a rented car in Charlotte, Steen said, and drove to Spartanburg where they checked into a motel at 1 a.m. Steen said the pair took turns holding a pistol on him, one sleeping while the other watched.

Steen said they threatened to kill him if he didn't take $5,000 from his checking account and give it to them. He said he gave them all he had — a $130 paycheck.

★ ★ ★

Finally, Steen said, both fell asleep and he sneaked out to the car. He got in and locked the doors as Miss LeFevres bolted out of the room. She banged on the doors, he said, and then hopped on the hood.

DROVE TO TOWN

Steen said he drove into downtown Spartanburg with Miss LeFevres —clad only in her nightie —banging on the windshield with a side view mirror she had ripped away.

Police said Bigham was carrying a 25-caliber automatic when arrested.

★ ★ ★

The couple was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Jesse Ray in Greenville. He set bond at $25,000 for Bigham and $10,000 for the woman. Bigham was jailed at Greenville and Miss LeFevres at Anderson.

Count Begins for Syncom 3

Satellite Launching Is Due Tomorrow

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The launch crew today began a long countdown aimed at launching the Syncom 3 communications satellite Wednesday.

The satellite is to be hoisted into a stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the Pacific where it would be in position to televise to the United States the Olympic Games in Japan.

★ ★ ★

The first half of the split countdown started at 4:25 a.m. today. It included validation of the autopilot and guidance system on the TAD — Thrust Augmented Dela — rocket and pumping fuel into the second stage.

The second part of the lengthy countdown was to start late today. It involves fueling the first stage, electrically hooking up three solid-propellant rockets to the first stage for extra thrust; radio and range safety checks.

MORNING FIRING

The firing is scheduled in a period between 6:45 and 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Launch director Robert Gray reported weather conditions appeared favorable for the launching, which earlier had been delayed one day because of electrical problems.

Solons Told Viet Policy Still Same

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyprus H. Vance told Congress today that the dispatch of more U.S. troops to Viet Nam does not change the American policy of relying on the South Vietnamese to win the war.

Vance also hailed the designation of Gen. Nguyen Khanh as president of South Viet Nam as an important step toward helping the South Vietnamese government beat down the Communist Viet Cong Guerrillas.

Vance's restatement of American policy came as he testified at a closed session of the House Armed Services Committee. A censored copy of his opening statement was released by the committee.

★ ★ ★

Vance said the Pentagon's recent decision to add 5,000 men to American forces involved in the southeast Asian war did not signify a decision for the United States to carry the war itself.

NO BASIC CHANGE

"The increased U.S. effort Vance testified, "does not represent any basic change in our policy in South Viet Nam or in the concept which has governed our advisory and assistance actions there. . ."

"The challenge," he continued, "is one which the South Vietnamese must and, with our assistance, can meet with their own military and political and economic capabilities.

Friends 'Reunited' by Mysterious Call

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — There was silence when J. V. Hartlage answered his telephone.

"Who do you want?" asked Hartlage.

"I don't want anyone. My phone rang and I just picked it up," said the voice at the other end.

"That's what happened here. Who are you?" asked Hartlage.

"I'm Silas Hart in Fort Lauderdale, Fla."

"What! I used to know you when you lived in Elizabethtown," said the astonished Hartlage as the old friends renewed a conversation that stemmed from a mysterious call.

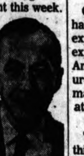
Labor Takes Stage in Business Week

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Labor—whether wages or jobs—is moving into the business forefront this week.



DAWSON

In the auto industry the time of decision is nearing in contract negotiations. How much of a wage increase and other benefits — or a strike? And will the outcome be felt in other industries?

Jobs have been increasing And so has industrial output. The question is whether this is a start of another upward push for the economy or just a short-term phenomenon in an unusual summer.

★ ★ ★

The administration in Washington says the improvement in unemployment in July could well mean that at last that stubborn problem may be taking a lasting turn for the better. Many corporation economists might wish to wait awhile to make sure.

JOB FIGURES

The job figures were helped markedly this summer by the record in industrial production set in July, usually a slack period. The Federal Reserve Board's index jumped a full point. Except for the 1.5 point rise in April, this was the biggest increase in 12 months.

Other factory figures show that new hiring has been increasing at a faster than seasonal rate, while the layoff rate has dropped to the lowest level for any month since February 1955.

★ ★ ★

This, and the steadily increasing number of jobs in the service industries, apparently was enough in July to more than offset a growing labor force and send the unemployment rate below the 5 per cent mark, to the joy of government economists.

Labor can count other good signs for the future.

★ ★ ★

Corporate profits as a whole have risen to a record. Business expansion plans are themselves expanded almost every month. And productivity — that measure of unit output per hour of man labor — continues to rise at a fairly steady rate.

★ ★ ★

These three things add up to this: Business is in a better position to offer more jobs or to pay a bit more to those already employed.

Union leaders are well aware of this and have been tailoring their demands to this improvement in the corporate picture.

MORE JOBS

More jobs, now or in prospect, have taken a little of the pressure from the fear of job insecurity due to mechanization. They also give the labor negotiators more leeway in bargaining for wage increases.

In Detroit the auto company managements doubtless took all this into consideration in forming the offers they have just presented to the auto workers.

And the union leaders doubtless will take all of this into consideration in their reaction to these offers.

★ ★ ★

How the bargaining goes this week and next will be of prime interest, not only to auto workers, management and customers, but also to these same three segments of the public involved in job and wage prospects and decisions in many other industries.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I own several good stocks: General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Singer, and J. C. Penney. I also have a few shares of Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone and C. Brewer & Company. The latter cost me 37 and is now down to 21. Your advice will be greatly appreciated."

A) I would continue to hold the four "good" issues you list first.

Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone appears likely to break out of the earnings stagnation pattern that has existed since formation a few years back. In view of this likelihood, I would hold the stock.

C. Brewer is engaged in many lines of business, although it is basically a sugar company. Operations resulted in peak profits last year but weakening sugar prices undoubtedly are hurting earnings this year. Stock action has been poor. I suggest a switch to Bristol-Myers.

Q) "I am 79 years of age with no dependents. My income, which is $300 a month, is partly from mutual funds and Social Security as well as from dividends paid by U. S. Steel, Reynolds Tobacco, General Tel. & Electronics, and Kennecott Copper, the latter having been bought at 80½. Please comment. What do you think of Aerojet General?" M.O.

A) I would classify most, if not all, of your stocks in the businessman's risk group rather than the investment category. At your age perhaps you should begin to give more thought to better quality. So far at least, you have done very well.

Kennecott has just reported excellent first-half earnings at $3.54 vs. $2.71 a share. Although strikes may hurt second-half net, continued high demand for copper should assure the company of another long period of above-average earnings.

As far as Aerojet goes, earnings record has been reasonably good, but this year's profits will likely fall behind those reported for 1963. I like the stock, but it appears rather speculative considering your circumstances.

3-Day Pitched Battle

280 Viet Cong Are Killed

HOA MY, South Viet Nam (UPI) — American military advisers reported today that government troops killed 280 Communist guerrillas in a three-day battle which raged around this outpost in the Mekong River Delta.

★ ★ ★

It was the biggest reported Viet Cong casualty toll for any battle of the anti-Communist war.

The bodies of 10 guerrillas were found on the battlefield, but American military advisers said the Communists carried off an "estimated 270 killed."

Vietnamese losses were reported as 36 killed, 76 wounded and 10 missing and possibly captured.

★ ★ ★

An American pilot who flew over the battle area said it looked like a Fourth of July fireworks display.

STARTED SATURDAY

The operation began at 3 a.m. Saturday when guerrilla forces launched simultaneous attacks against Hoa My and the nearby outpost of Hiep Hung. Both are located in Phong Dinh Province, about 93 miles southwest of Saigon.

The Viet Cong apparently hoped to lure government relief forces into a mile-long ambush they prepared at a point midway between the outposts.

The trap was anticipated and the government ordered repeated bombing attacks against the suspected ambush site all day Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Government forces were reported to have suffered their heaviest casualties of the engagement when a relief column was ambushed Sunday night.

HUMAN WAVES

The Viet Cong attacked the column in human waves as it worked its way toward the beleaguered outpost along both sides of a canal.

The guerrillas poured mortar and recoilless cannon fire in the advancing government troops, them broke off the ambush under a murderous barrage of artillery from government howitzers at Phung Hiep.

Two Vietnamese Air Force "skyraider" fighter - bombers launched bombing and strafing attacks against the Communists, driving them into the jungle.

★ ★ ★

The Viet Cong then resumed a full - scale assault on the two outposts which by that time had been under siege for almost 48 hours.

Airborne government troops were rushed into the area yesterday and the Viet Cong finally broke off contact.

★ ★ ★

Military sources estimated the strength of the Viet Cong force at two battalions of Communist regulars — about 500 men.

Expansion Is Set by Troy Company

Expansion of the J. & I. Pattern Co., 1790 Livernois, Troy, was announced today by Ivan Norgrove, president of the firm.

★ ★ ★

A 4,000-foot addition is being constructed, and plans are to increase the work force about 30 per cent to a total of 30, Norgrove said.

★ ★ ★

The firm, which was founded in the Pontiac area in 1949, makes wood patterns for automotive castings. Its chief clients are General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Romney Asks Poverty Report

Seeks Plan to Effect Federal Bill in State

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney announced today he has asked state agencies to report within a week on plans for putting the federal "war on poverty" act into effect in Michigan.

Romney said the request is the first in a series of steps toward implementation of the new law, passed by Congress as the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, at the state level.

Included will be reports by state agencies on how the program will affect their programs and policies, what preparations they already have made to take advantage of it, and what proposals they may have for over all state planning to implement it.

"Michigan has the opportunity to lead, and Michigan intends to lead," said Romney's announcement. "We are determined our own anti-poverty activities, and projects under the new federal legislation, shall be meaningful and productive."

OTHER STEPS

Subsequent steps in implementing the new law will be announced in a few days. They will deal with "elimination of poverty, efficient use of public funds, and responsible cooperation among all governmental levels and between public and private sectors," Romney said.

The governor recalled that in his inaugural address Jan. 1, 1963, he had called for Michigan to conduct its own "war on poverty."

* * *

He said the state has made "unprecedented strides in the exercise of state responsibility to develop Michigan solutions for Michigan problems."

He noted also he had been sharply critical of President Johnson's original anti-poverty bill because it "completely disregarded the vital role which state governments must play in any meaningful, coodinated attack upon the causes, as well as the symptoms, of poverty."

PASSED FORM

In the form which passed Congress, Romney said, the bill was modified to recognize "the importance of involving responsible state officials" in its programs.

LBJ Signs $1.4-Billion Hospital Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a $1.4-billion hospital construction and modernization bill, and hailed the present Congress as a "better - health Congress."

Johnson signed the five-year extension of the Hill - Burton Act in the presence of a large delegation from Congress and of government officials working in the field of health.

The President said the people of this country always have been great hospital builders, but that many of the hospitals, particularly in the larger cities, are obsolete and out of date.

He said the bill will "help us get started on that long overdue job" of modernizing existing hospitals.

* * *

The bill extends the longtime program of federal aid for hospital construction, known as the Hill - Burton Act, with the addition of aid for modernization of older hospitals.

6,810 FACILITIES

During the last 17 years, Hill-Burton funds have helped build 6,810 hospitals and other medical facilities in the United States.

Johnson had asked Congress to allot $340 million of the new bill's funds for modernization of big city hospitals.

Instead, Congress set aside $160 million for modernization and added a provision that $70 million of this may be diverted to new hospital construction if states prefer.

* * *

In signing the bill, Johnson commented that the record of hospital building since World War II has been much better than that of building nursing homes for the aged.

1,000 TURN 65

Every 24 hours, he said, more than 1,000 people turn 65 and they deserve the most modern facilities for their care.

Johnson had general praise for all members of Congress who supported the bill and particular praise for Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and Rep. Orel Harris, D-Ark., chairmen of the committees which handled the legislation.

Johnson expressed regret that Hill was unable to be on hand for the ceremony. He said Hill is in the hospital and that all hoped for him a speedy recovery.

* * *

Johnson remarked that "Americans have no patience with mixing politics with medical care, and there is going to be none of that."

BILL PROVISIONS

Besides the $160 million modernization program, the bill provides:

- $680 million to the states for new hospital contruction.
- $22.5 million for five years of grants to communities for planning of helth facilities.
- $70 million a year for construction of long - term care facilities such as chronic - disease hospitals and nursing homes.
- $30 million a year for construction of diagnostic and rehabilitation facilities.

Two in Cabinet Accused of Defaming Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top cabinet officials were accused by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., today of attempting to "blacken the character" of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater in statements to the Democratic platform committee.

Curtis, in a Senate speech, turned his fire on U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson as well as Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

* * *

"To hear them talk," Curtis said, "one might be led to believe" that it has been the Republican party that has "kept the country at war so much of the time in the 20th Century."

Curtis said the three missed an excellent chance to "report to the country what has been going on" when they made their statements Monday.

'COULD HAVE EXPLAINED'

Rusk, he declared, could have explained that prior to the advent of the New Frontier, "there was no Berlin Wall."

McNamara, Curtis said, "should have elaborated on his reported statement that we will be at war in Viet Nam for five years."

* * *

Turning to Stevenson, Curtis said the U.N. ambassador should have explained that prior to the New Frontier "Cuba was not an acknowledged satellite in the Western Hemisphere 90 miles from our shore."

* * *

"He (Stevenson) also could have informed the people the Communists are using Cube as a base to send arms, saboteurs, propagandists and troublemakers throughout the Western Hemisphere," Curtis continued.

BAY OF PIGS

"Mr. Stevenson might have given the people information as to what part, if any, he had in the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion."

* * *

Curtis was Goldwater's floor manager at the Republican National Convention. He can be expected to keep firing back at any administration criticism of the GOP presidential nominee.

Waterford Board Fills Planning Unit Vacancy

Waterford Township Board members last night appointed Joseph Filka to the township planning commission, filling a vacancy created by the recent resignation of Fred V. Haggard.

Filka, who will be the representative from labor on the commission, is a member of the Building Trades Council.

Haggard, who resigned for health reasons, is president of the Oakland County Council of the AFL-CIO.

In other business last night, a first notice of rezoning a 3.5-acre parcel of land on Cass Lake for a marina was read and scheduled for board consideration next Monday.

* * *

Several residents of the Cass Elizabeth-Parkway area where the marina is proposed appeared to object to the rezoning from single family and recreational to commercial and recreational.

OBJECTIONS

They contended that a new marina would downgrade property values and add more boats to a lake with too many already.

Proponents of the marina have long-range plans for development of acreage adjacent to it with multiple dwelling units and a shopping center.

Also last night, the board opened bids for library equipment and turned them over to the librarian and library advisory committee for study.

Total of low bids was $15,258, nearly $9,000 under the estimated $24,000 cost for shelving, furniture and carpeting.

TO SELL LAND

The board also approved a recommendation by the planning commission that six parcels of land owned by the township and not earmarked for any specific use be sold on a bid basis.

A first notice was read of the proposed rezoning of a two-lot parcel on Huron between Tilden and Josephine from office to commercial.

A restaurant is planned for the site.

Third Attempt to Get Groom Into Harness

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Jilted twice by the same fiance, Greta White, 24, is going to try to get him to take the nuptial vows on Saturday.

Wedding No. 1 should have been last August. All preparations had been made when Robert Smith, 24, called it off.

* * *

Wedding No. 2 should have been last February. Again Robert got cold feet.

In June this year, Robert suggested they try again. But friends say he couldn't face a large church wedding.

"This time it's going to be definite," said Robert. "We're going to marry in a registry office."

"I've still got the wedding cake from wedding No. 2 that wasn't. I plan to use it again," said Greta.

Accuse China of Brainwash

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Communist party organ, accused the Red Chinese today of using brainwash tactics to turn African and Asian nations away from the Soviet Union.

The paper was denouncing the recent Chinese-sponsored Asian economic seminar in Pyongyang, North Korea, to which the Russians were not invited.

* * *

"The real aim the seminar sponsors set before themselves," Pravda said, "was to brainwash the participants, to muster an obedient bloc on which they expect to impose their will at the forthcoming Afro-Asian seminar, to split the Afro-Asian movement.

"Stopping at nothing, they tried to involve in their divisive activity even those who looked forward to a businesslike discussion of burning issues. The participants in the seminar were insistently exhorted to join in attacks on the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries."

95 Elections Schools

LANSING (AP) — Ninety-five schools for elections inspectors are under way in Michigan, says Secretary of State James Hare. The last will conclude Aug. 28, four days before the primary election.

Three Teens Face Exam in Armed Theft

Three Pontiac teen - agers, charged with the Friday night armed robbery of the J-J Food Store, 564 S. Telegraph face an August 26 preliminary examination before Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

The three demanded examination at their arraignment yesterday before Judge Finnegan. Bond of $20,000 was set for each.

Held in the Oakland County Jail are Oscar Rowls Jr., 18, of 197 Crystal Lake; Hugh Lance, 17, of 69 Clovese; and Henit Hughley, 18, of 285 Going.

Patrolman Keith Kissinger stopped the trio and another man in their car moments after receiving a report of the robbery on his car radio.

The fourth man, Johnnie L. Stanley, 22, of 44 Harris, was released after questioning.

Police found a 38-caliber automatic pistol and $52 in cash under the front seat of the car.

Store employes told police that three men fled with $256.

Named to Jobs Group

LANSING (AP) — Keith Roelofs of Detroit was added to the Governor's Commission on Employment of the Handicapped Monday by Gov. George W. Romney. No Senate confirmation is required.
