Come Quickly! Emergency!

New City Emergency Phones Go Into Operation Monday

A new system for reporting fires, accidents, broken power lines and other emergencies in Pontiac will go into operation Monday, Fire Chief James R. White said today.

Installation of the new municipal emergency reporting system is nearing completion by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., according to Raymond H. Storm, the company's district manager.

Storm said the system — which will replace Pontiac's familiar old fire department alarm boxes — will be ready when the City Electrical Department completes the switchover Monday.

Under the new system, emergency calls from 73 outdoor telephones located strategically throughout the city will be handled through a switchboard in the new central fire station at 111 E. Pike St.

Each of the phones, Storm said, will be housed in bright red boxes marked: "TELEPHONE—EMERGENCY—FIRE—POLICE"

Anyone reporting an emergency through the new system, need only open the door on the box housing the phone and lift the telephone handset, Storm explained.

The fire department operator will be alerted by a glowing light and a buzzer which will sound when the phone is lifted. The operator will determine the nature and location of the emergency from the caller and will act accordingly.

If necessary, he will be able to direct calls straight through to the police department operator.

The address of each emergency phone in the city is printed beneath the light connected with it on the fire department switchboard. The voice of persons reporting emergencies will be recorded automatically over the phones.

"One advantage of the new system is that emergencies will be reported by voice, enabling the person making the call to give the exact location of the emergency" Storm pointed out.

The Michigan Bell official said firemen will be able to go directly to the fire instead of to an alarm box.

However, White stressed that calls to police and fire departments from home and business telephones will be handled directly by the two departments as in the past.

Anyone reporting a fire from a home would dial FE 3-7001 as in the past. Those reporting police emergencies by private phone would call FE 2-0171.

Pontiac is the fifth city in southeastern Michigan and the ninth in Michigan Bell Telephone Co. system to install a municipal emergency reporting system.

'Dukie's' Barking Leads to Discovery of Convicts From San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Calif (UPI)—A dog's persistent barking led to the captured today of five convicts who fled over the wall at San Quentin Prison early yesterday.

The men, who had staged the biggest breakout in the prison's history, gave up without a struggle outside a suburban home 10 miles north of the prison

A van returned the escapees to their cells after they had been at large 28 hours.

"Dukie was the hero of all this, believe you me," said Mrs. Dorothy Worley. Dukie is the Worley dog and his barking attracted the housewife's attention to three of the five men in woods behind her house.

Mrs. Worley's husband Maurice, an electrician superintendent, had left for work when Mrs. Worley saw the three fugitives. With her in the house was their daughter Donna, 15.

"Dukie, our mixed shepherd and boxer, had been barking all night," she said, "so I brought him in about 3 o'clock."

"At that time I looked out and

Keyed to Flat Rate Levy

Reveals New State Tax Plan

Would Provide More Revenues for Counties

Tipton Republican's Proposal Also Reduces Burden on Businesses

LANSING (AP)—The legislature's top tax expert today unveiled a sweeping tax reform program keyed to a flat rate levy on personal and corporate income and a bigger share of the sales tax for local governments.

Like Gov. Swainson and others, Rep. Rolo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, also proposed substantial tax relief for business and industry.

Conlin, long an advocate of a state income tax, estimated his blueprint would net the state $100 million a year starting Jan. 1, 1963.

He proposed:

1. A three per cent flat personal income tax, based on the federal system. It would produce $240 million a year.

2. A five per cent flat rate levy on corporation income, with financial institutions taxed at a seven per cent rate. The gain would be $110 million a year.

3. Reduction in the sales and use taxes from four to three per cent effective June 30, 1963. At the same time, counties would be empowered to levy a local sales tax of one per cent, with the state collecting the tax and returning the proceeds to the counties. The revenue loss would be about $108 million.

4. Repeal of the business ac-

U. S. Court Ruling May Hit Michigan

LANSING (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley declared today that a recent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court has materially increased the possibility that Michigan's method of apportioning the state Senate will be declared invalid.

Kelley was referring to a ruling by the high court in connection with the apportionment of the Tennessee legislature. Another case, filed by August Scholle, Michigan AFL-CIO president, is still pending before the court.

The tribunal decided that claim of denial of equal protection in the apportionment of a state legislature is a matter which may be heard by a federal court.

In False Attack Signal

SAC Didn't Warn JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the strategic Air Command did not inform President Kennedy and Pentagon chiefs last fall when a false signal indicated for a few minutes the United States might have been under attack, a Pentagon spokesman said today.

The spokesman said Gen. Thomas S. Power did not notify Kennedy, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, the Joint Chiefs of Staffs, or the Air Force command post in the Pentagon because he was "reacting to a suspected communications difficulty" in missile warning radar.

Power ordered hundreds of nuclear bombers to get set to take off but the spokesman said no countdown was started on 54 Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles arrayed in five bases.

"A countdown would only come on order of the President," he said.

The Pentagon said the incident occurred before dawn last November 24, when the Berlin crisis was at its height.

Other sources had given much the same account earlier.

"It never reached the point where it was necessary to launch the ground alert forces," the sources said.

Had it reached that point, they added, Power would have contacted Kennedy as well as his defense superiors.

One Air Force authority said that "if Power was really scared, he'd have called in higher headquarters.

PEACE OR WAR

In event of an alarm indicating serious trouble, the SAC commander normally would notify the President and the top command promptly. This would permit consultation on steps that could mean a difference between peace and war. If necessary, it would allow the nation's key military and civilian leaders to move swiftly to sheltered command posts.

Since the United States can expect only about 15 minutes warning of a missile assault, time is of the essence in preparing for a counterblow and for making decisions on whether to launch one.

In this case, sources said, Power reacted to a suspected difficulty in the communications system linking SAC headquarters near Omaha, Neb., with the two giant radar stations along the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System — BMEWS — in the far north and with Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Regardless whether Power was "really scared" or not, there were indications some Pentagon officials felt he should have informed Washington.

The incident occurred before dawn one day late last fall.

Officers on duty in SAC's underground command post were startled by signal lights indicating trouble at the BMEWS' station aimed toward the polar cap over which the Soviet Union would be expected to send its missiles in event of a surprise attack.

LINES DEAD

When officers tried to reach the Air Defense Command in Colorado, they found the lines were dead.

Power then ordered bombers at bases around the world to get set to take off with their hydrogen bomb loads.

SAC headquarters said Sunday the doubt lasted only a matter of seconds, but a Pentagon spokesman insisted it was closer to four minutes, as pictured by published reports.

The spokesman said a SAC plane was in the air over Greenland at the time and reported back to headquarters that the BMEW station had not been hit.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR

Report Liz Planning Marriage to Burton

NEW YORK (AP) — Friends of Elizabeth Taylor were quoted today as saying she already is making plans to marry Richard Burton, her costar and film lover of the "Cleopatra" movie now being shot.

The report was published by the New York Post, in a story written by Earl Wilson. "Elizabeth Taylor has told friends in Rome that she is certain Richard Burton will marry her," Wilson said.

"And she's making plans, accordingly, for her fifth wedding, sources told the Post today.

"The glamorous actress' conviction explains her drive and determination to bring her marriage to Eddie Fisher to an abrupt conclusion, as announced yesterday."

The long-rumored breakup of Miss Taylor's three-year marriage to Fisher became a fact Monday night with an official announcement that they'll obtain a divorce.

The world got the news through a crisp, businesslike announcement Monday night by Louis Nizer, an attorney famed for handling major divorces of the past, hours after the beautiful Liz had summoned him to Rome.

'AGREE TO PART'

"Elizabeth and Eddie Fisher announce that they have mutually agreed to part," the announcement said. "Divorce proceedings will be instituted soon."

The announcement brought crashing down a mountain of suspense built up in recent weeks by Miss Taylor's interest in her "Cleopatra" costar Richard Burton, and Fisher's desperation in denying that a break was imminent.

Now there remain other sus-

Leland W. Carr Chief Justice

He Takes State Post After Associates Meet; Succeeds Dethmers

LANSING (AP) — Justice Leland W. Carr, a 16-year veteran on the State Supreme Court, became chief justice of the high court today, succeeding Justice John R. Dethmers.

Carr, 78, who is serving his last term on the bench, took over the post without fanfare after a conference of the eight justices just before they assembled to hear oral arguments.

The shift was made known without formal announcement and became apparent only when Carr seated himself in the center chair reserved for the chief justice and began to call cases for argument.

The selection by his fellow jurists settled, at least temporarily, a simmering feud within the Democratic majority over the selection of a man for the number one spot in the court.

The Democratic contender for the job was Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh, former attorney general, who has been unable to muster the necessary five votes to win the election.

Three other Democrats—Justices Otis M. Smith, Theodore Souris and Paul L. Adams—all are newcomers to the bench and the fifth, Justice Eugene Black, has not made a bid for the post.

Carr, whose age will force him to retire in two years, was seen as a compromise choice. By then, the wrangling among the Democratic majority may have settled down enough for them to choose one of their own number to be elevated to chief justice.

Democrats fought re-election of Dethmers, who has been chief justice since 1956, because of his Republican label.

Carr, whose law career has covered 56 years, first emerged into statewide prominence as a circuit judge in the famed Carr-Sigler Grand Jury investigation of legislative graft in the 1940s.

Michigan Tax Vote Postponed Till Thursday

Nichols of Jackson to Push Package of Old Nuisance Levies

LANSING (AP) — After an hour and a half of oratory thunder and confused maneuverings on the floor and in caucus, the Senate majority decided last night to postpone a possible tax showdown until Thursday

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols, R-Jackson, had served notice he would move to discharge the Senate Taxation Committee from consideration of Gov. Swainson's 11-bill tax package centered around a personal and corporate income tax.

He had said he also would ask for immediate consideration of the package of so-called nuisance taxes.

Nichols announced he had agreed to defer the motion until Thursday after he consulted with Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, leader of the GOP majority.

MADE MOTION

"We should be sure of a concrete program before we act," said Beadle.

Sen. Stanley F. Rozycki, D-Detroit, then made the discharge motion on his own.

"Most of us expected him to go through with it," said Rozycki of the motion promised by Nichols. "If Nichols chooses to make a flip-flop, I'll make the motion."

A hasty caucus of Democrats was called and Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, spokesman for the minority group in the Senate, announced Rozycki would withdraw his motion and Democrats would go along with the delay.

"This is the last time that we will go along with postponing action by the Senate," Dzendzel added.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, a bitter income tax opponent, tried to force a vote on the discharge motion. Morris was confident that it could be beaten.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House made it official today, President Kennedy will throw out the first ball of the 1962 baseball season here next Monday.

Kennedy will perform just before the Washington Senators play the Detroit Tigers. The game not only opens the baseball season but is the first major league game to be played in the big new District of Columbia Stadium.

'Navy Trained to Fight Cold and Hot Wars'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy leaders told investigating senators today that this nation's Blue Jackets and Marines are trained to fight Communist ideology in both cold and hot wars.

Rear Adm. A. S. Heyward Jr., Navy chief of personnel, said an example of this was encountered when U.S. forces were landed in Lebanon in 1958 to help assure independence of that nation.

"As soon as we commenced our landings in Lebanon, the Soviets and the United Arab Republic began an all-out propaganda war naming the United States as aggressor," the admiral said.

"Our counterinformation and the action of our troops—based on prelanding indoctrination — soon convinced the Lebanese people that our military forces came not as aggressors, but to guarantee the freedom and independence of Lebanon in answer to a request from their government."

'Wouldn't Let Paret Rest'

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Leo Johnson is a retired heavyweight who spent some 15 years as a boxer—part of the time as a sparring partner for Benny (Kid) Paret, who died of brain injuries early today at a New York hospital.

"Benny needed a rest," said the husky Negro, who now makes his home here. "Many times he needed a rest, but they wouldn't give it to him. And he never asked for it. He was either too dumb or too proud to ask for it.

"I knew Benny from the time when he first arrived in this country from Cuba," recalled Johnson. "I even tried to teach him English. That was a sidebuster."

Johnson said Paret never learned English well, and that this may be the reason he could not avoid being signed for a series of hard bouts—culminating in the welterweight title bout March 24, in which Emile Griffith beat him fatally.

Griffith, learning of the death, said:

"I'm all cold. I don't know what what I'm going to do now . . . I don't know if I'm going to continue in the ring. I can't tell you . . . this is the worst thing."

Griffith was at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., when he heard the death report on a television newscast.

He said "I'm so sorry about Paret . . . his wife . . . his kid . . . his mother."

"He had two rough bouts with Charley Scott," said Johnson. "I saw them. They were punchfests, crowd-pleasing spectacles. Fights like that take something out of a man. He is entitled to a rest afterwards. Benny didn't get one.

NO LETUP

"After the Scott fights, Benny fought Federico Thompson, who is probably pound-for-pound the hardest puncher in boxing today. Then he met Don Jordan, Sugar Hart, Denny Moyer, Thompson again, Gaspar Orega, Emile Griffith twice, Gene Fullmer and Griffith again.

"No opponent he fought was a touch. The only thing that surprises me is that he lasted as long as he did.

"I know Fullmer," continued Johnson, "and I consider him the roughest fighter in the ring today. After you fight him you need six months to get right again. He knocked Benny out in the tenth round. Three and a half months later, Benny was defending his title against Griffith."

Allepo in Syria Reports Hot Shooting at Airport

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A Syrian high command statement broadcast from Damascus said tonight the Aleppo army rebels who sought a new union with Egypt have returned to their barracks after announcing loyalty to the high command.

By WEBB MCKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A ground-air clash of Syrian armed forces was reported today at rebel-held Aleppo and the Damascus junta resumed radio attacks on the mutineers, indicating a deadlock in negotiations to end the pro-Nasser uprising.

The crew of a passenger plane said on arriving here from Aleppo, in northern Syria, that ground troops there fired from the airport on Russian-built MIGs of the Syrain air force.

The shooting was described as intense. The crewmen said they heard that the fighters were trying to blow up a transmitter of the Aleppo radio, which was calling itself the Voice of the Arab Republic.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and a new commander of the pro-U.A.R. army rebellion appealed for a bloodless solution of the military crisis.

The rebels called for a truce. They said they would do no shooting because of the danger of injuring civilians, but declared they were strong enough to win victory.

The Damascus regime, which took over in a bloodless coup March 28, had broadcast an ultimatum giving the rebels 90 minutes to surrender. This expired without any announced reaction in Aleppo.

A statement issued by Nasser's office in Cairo said the president, who lost the Syrian branch of the U.A.R. in a revolt last Sept. 28, is ready to exert "every effort aimed at preserving Syria" and averting bloodshed.

From the rebel-held Syrian city of Aleppo, 400 miles to the northeast, Col. Luaay Atassi broadcast a call to the military junta running the Damascus government for a truce.

Atassi's truce appeal was broadcast shortly after radio Damascus transmitted a junta ultimatum to the Aleppos garrison to surrender within 90 minutes or be considered in mutiny and punished accordingly.

Implying that the junta already had troops afield, Atassi urged it to halt movements toward Aleppo "to prevent bloodshed and preserve unity to the ranks.

Dr. Molner Quits as Health Chief

Detroit Commissioner Resigns; Blame Illness and Rumors of Firing

DETROIT (UPI) — City-County Health Commissioner Dr. Joseph A. Molner, nationally syndicated columnist, resigned today because of ill health and recurring rumors that he would be fired.

Molner's resignation covered only the Detroit portion of his duties. He will continue as Wayne County and Dearborn health commissioner.

Molner's resignation came as no surprise. There had been rumors in recent weeks that Mayor Jerome Cavanagh would replace him.

Deputy Commissioner Dr. Charles P. Anderson was named to succeed Molner.

Molner receives $6,641 a year to devote part of his time to the job of county health commissioner. He returns half of this amount to the city and it is applied to his city salary of $24,331. His job as Dearborn health chief is nonpaying.

In addition, Molner makes an undetermined amount of money from his syndicated health column which appears in newspapers across the nation.

Molner's ouster was certain last month when Cavanagh dropped Dr. Robert L. Novy and Walter J. Murray from the City Board of Health. At that time, Molner said it "would appear there is no reason for the changes unless the new appointees, when they are named, are to remove me."

The board will meet tomorrow and it was expected there would be a quick acceptance of Molner's resignation.

Molner has been ill with virus pneumonia in recent weeks. Cavanagh was in Washington and unavailable for comment.

Incumbents Go Back In; Charter Change OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — Incumbent city commissioners in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills were returned to office by voters yesterday with little opposition from write-in candidates.

A charter amendment was approved in Birmingham which will al lowthe city to codify its ordinances without publishing them in a newspaper, a move which is expected to save the city several thousand dollars.

Birmingham Commissioners Charles Renfrew and Carl Ingraham polled 1,050 and 923 votes, respectively, against 162 for write-in candidate A. J. Hart.

There was no other opposition for the two commissioners.

Two library board members also were unopposed. They are Daniel Nesbitt, 1,011 votes, and Mrs. Carlyn Vogt, 989 votes.

The charter revision was adopted with a vote of 693 to 184.

Only eight per cent of the city's 14,000 registered voters cast ballots. The total vote was 1,174.

Bloomfield Hills incumbent Commissioners James Beresford and Henry Woolfenden were challenged by a write-in candidate but his attempt fell short of taking one of the two expiring posts.

Beresford received 244 votes; Wolfenden, 200 and write-in candidate Edward A. Schirmer, 76.

Constable Homer J. Murphy, unopposed, received 235 votes.

It was one of the smallest election turnouts for Bloomfield Hills, according to Clerk Robert Stadler. Of the 1,503 registered voters only 293 cast ballots.

The observatory at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, will be open to the public April 11, 13, 17, 18 and May 9 and 18.

Time of viewing for the April dates is 8 p.m.; for May, 8:30 p.m. Bodies expected to be in position for observation include the moon, the planet Venus, along with star clusters and double stars.

There is no admission fee, however the number of persons who will be able to use the six-inch refractor on an evening will be limited.

Oakland County's Young Republican Club will hold training sessions for precinct workers each Wednesday during April.

The sessions, to provide training in canvassing, telephone instructions and other phases of precinct work, will be held at 6 p.m. in Republican Headquarters, 744 S. Adams, Birmingham. The meetings are open to all Oakland County residents.

Test Alertness of Berlin Units

Allied Troops Rush to Combat Positions as MIGs Boom Overhead

BERLIN (AP)—Ten thousand men of West Berlin's Allied garrisons rushed to combat positions early today for a test of alertness.

The exercise roused out most of the American, British and French soldiers in West Berlin. It was the largest operational test undertaken since the building of the Berlin wall last summer.

Three American battle groups, three battalions of British infantry and a French brigade, plus supporting tanks and armored cars rolled through the streets.

The Allies said the test was designed to evaluate the mobility of the units and their ability to react to various situations.

American troops had breakfast in the field and returned to their barracks nearly five hours after being alerted. British and French troops pulled back earlier, after being deployed for three hours.

MIGS FLY OVER

While some of the Western units were still in the field, MIG jet fighters of either the Soviet or East German air forces flew overhead.

Long vapor trails could be seen in the clear blue sky. Sonic booms shook the center of the city as the jets smashed through the sound barrier.

In another military activity, the U.S. Army sent a platoon of infantry rolling along the autobahn lifeline to West Germany. The Army said that the platoon, from Co. A, 3rd Battle Group, 6th Infantry, was going to the West for a brief training period.

Such troop movements are frequently made along the 110 miles of highway across Communist East Germany to demonstrate Western rights to road access to Berlin.

Big maneuvers by the East German army were concluded at the beginning of the week, the East German news agency ADN reported today. The agency said the exercise displayed exemplary combat morale and constant readiness for action.

Neutral Arbitration Asked for Test Ban

GENEVA, (UPI) — Neutrals at the Geneva disarmament conference suggested today that the United States, Britain and Russia let a third party settle their disputes about possible secret testing of atomic weapons.

But British Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Joseph Godber said the neutrals' proposal would work only if the Soviet Union permitted some inspection of its territory by others.

"If the Soviet Union continues to reject international inspection," Godber told the 17-nation disarmament conference, "it is highly improbable that any progress can be made."

The United Arab Republic, Mexico and Brazil joined in the viewpoint of four other neutrals who spoke yesterday.

They argued that although the United States and Britain must accept less international inspection of Soviet territory than they now demand, Russia will have to agree to some form of international inspection or arbitration in order to create international confidence and trust.

The three neutrals who spoke today said they were opposed to nuclear testing anywhere at any time. The Communist bloc promptly picked this up to demand that the United States refrain from testing nuclear weapons as long as test ban talks continue here.

FULL-SCALE DEBATE

The exchanges came on the second day of full-scale conference debate on the stalemate in the Anglo-American-Russian subcommittee on nuclear testing.

The United States and Russia are to wind up the debate tomorrow with closing statements, although they may be subjected to further questioning by the smaller nations.

Mexico's Luis Padilla Nervo said the argument that nuclear testing is necessary to maintain an East-West military balance "is not justifiable because the health of the whole world is affected . . . fallout exceeds national boundaries."

But he said minimum international inspection or control of a nuclear test prohibition is required.

Bit of Rain, Snow Fails to Impress Most of Nation

By The Associated Press

There were a few scattered patches of light rain and snow flurries, but fair weather prevailed in the major part of the nation today.

It was chilly in many sections of the Midwest, in New England, along the Atlantic Coast and across the Florida peninsula.

Temperatures dipped to 8 above in Marquette, Mich. They were in the upper 30s or near 40 in extreme northern Florida and in some eastern areas readings were 10 to 15 degrees lower than Monday morning. They dropped to near freezing in some sections of the Southeast. Snow flurries flecked areas in Kentucky, West Virginia and New York State.

A warming trend was reported in the Plains states with temperatures from 10 to 20 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier. It was 48 in Chadron, Neb., compared to 20 yesterday morning.

Dr. Pollock Says Fall Vote OK for Constitution

LANSING (AP)—Dr. James Pollock, R-Ann Arbor, indicated today that he disagreed with an attorney general's opinion that the constitutional convention must now wait until the spring 1963 election to place its document on the ballot.

In a speech to the convention, Pollock said he approved of a pending proposal calling for submission of the new constitution at the November election.

"But there are those in the state and apparently in the legal profession who, for reasons best known to themselves, believe that we, a sovereign body, do not know best and should be guided by what I think are imagined limitations on our powers," he said.

The attorney general's opinion, based on the wording of the constitutional amendment under which the convention was called, said that if the delegates failed to finish their work by April 1 the document could not be placed on the November ballot.

penseful questions: will Burton, 36, become the 30-year-old actress' fifth husband? What of his wife Sybil and their two children, now sitting in seclusion in London?

Sybil Burton, in an effort to save her marriage, sent an emissary to Rome last weekend to urge her husband not to get entangled in matrimony with Elizabeth Taylor, friends reported today in London.

DENIES INTERCESSION

But the emissary, actor-playwright Emlyn Williams, denied he had actually interceded with Burton.

The actress and Burton went to work as usual today at the film set in Rome where she is playing the role of Cleopatra in a new movie. Burton is playing Antony.

Friends of Mrs. Burton said she asked Williams to intercede with her husband. She believed Burton might take advice from Williams, his long-time mentor.

Williams agreed he had spoken with both Burton and his wife. He said he saw Mrs. Burton before he flew to Rome, and that he talked with her husband for two hours on the set of "Cleopatra" yesterday.

"But I didn't talk with him about this Liz Taylor business," he said in ringing Welsh tones. "I decided it would not be very tactful to mention it."

The S. S. Kresge Co.'s newest variety-department store will open at 9:30 p.m. Thursday in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Manager of the store will be Ray E. Smith Jr., 45, 3563 Shaddick Road, Waterford Township, who formerly was in charge of the Kresge retail outlet in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

Baker's Shoes Will Open First Area Store in Mall

Baker's QualiCraft Shoes, said to be the nation's largest exclusive retailer of women's footwear, will open its first store in this area Thursday.

Baker's, a division of Edison Brothers Shoe Stores, Inc., will open its 21st Michigan branch at 10 a.m. in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads, according to Arthur J. Elias, vice president.

Elias announced the appointment of William Trahan, 28, as manager of the new store. Trahan, former assistant manager in the chain, has been with the company for eight years at stores in Detroit, Northland and Eastland. He and his family plan to move to the Pontiac area from Detroit.

Baker's new store, which has 40 feet of frontage on the main mall near the Montgomery Ward and J. L. Hudson Budget stores, is designed along contemporary lines.

It features of facade of large glass windows recessed in terra cotta tile.

The interior color scheme is antique white with blue-gray carpeting and furnishings upholstered in black, white, turquoise and orange.

The store will offer a complete line of dress and casual women's shoes with fashion-coordinated handbags and hosiery, Elias said.

Baker's currently has 21 stores in Michigan and a total of 311 across the country. The company was founded 39 years ago.

tivities tax for a loss of $72 million annually.

5. Repeal of the tax on stocks, bonds and other intangible property at a cost of $32 million.

6. Reduction of the corporation franchise tax from four to two mills, with the cut spread over a two-year period to reduce the impact of the revenue loss.

As a solution to immediate revenue problems, Conlin reluctantly proposed temporary revival of part of the $50 million package of so-called nuisance taxes that expired last June.

Said Conlin:

"This program would completely solve the financial problems of the state for the forseeable future and put an end to the annual impasse to which we have been subjected in recent years."

"It also would be a major step toward the solution of the problems of local government."

Conlin said he would submit his proposals to the legislature if he received an indication of "sufficient bipartisan support and reasonable public approval."

The program can be enacted by amending Gov. Swainson's 11-bill tax package already submitted to the House and Senate Taxation Committee, he said.

The key to passage lies in the Senate. Conlin has been consulting on the tax program with Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, GOP majority leader in the senate.

Beadle indicated last night that new tax proposals will be submitted in the upper chamber Thursday.

Waterford Twp. Board Talks Arrest Ordinance

The much discussed proposed disorderly persons ordinance for Waterford Township was formally introduced by action of the township board Monday night. Final action on the measure is slated for next week.

Board trustee John Coleman again voiced objections to the proposal as he had in prior discussions.

Coleman said he was fearful that proper discretion might not always be used by local police personnel in enforcing the ordinance.

As proposed the ordinance would provide that warrants could be secured within the township from either of the two justices of the peace rather than through the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Justices of the Peace Patrick K. Daly and John E. McGrath both reviewed the proposal and neither had any objection to it. Daly voiced his approval at the meeting and McGrath submitted a letter to township supervisor, Elmer Johnson.

TO USE DISCRETION

Police Chief Millard Pender assured Coleman that the utmost discretion would be used in enforcing the proposed ordinance. He added that the ordinance is merely one based on a state statute and that his department is sworn to uphold the state statute.

Coleman voted on the motion to introduce the proposed ordinance but said later that his affirmative vote on the preliminary action did not necessarily mean he would favor the adoption of the measure.

In other action at the meeting the board voted to establish a citizens committee comprised of professional and lay people to work in conjunction with the County Probate Court to help area youngsters who get in trouble.

James Van Leuven, representing the court, explained the "Youth Assistance Program" now in effect in 20 county communities. He reported that the program had been highly successful and had taken some of the burden off the court case workers. The board will name 30 committee members within the next five weeks.

The board also approved a sewer service rate for the Huron Garden sewer system based on 80 per cent of the present water billing with a $4.50 quarterly minimum for sewers connected to the number 1 system.

The same minimum rate will apply on residential units with a private water supply. The board will determine all other rates.

Destroyed in the fires was a vacant house and barn, owned by Mrs. Mildred Newman of Beaverton, at 50205 Schoenherr Road. The house, vacant since condemned almost two years ago for violation of electrical and heating codes, was leveled in a fire at 4:15 a.m. yesterday.

The barn followed in another fire about the same time this morning. Total loss was estimated at about $1,000.

Fire Gihef Clyde Schmidt said there was no possible explanation for the fires except arson.

More than $5,000 is reported by Birmingham police to have been embezzled but the formal charge against Mrs. Danziger is for embezzlement of "an amount over $100."

Mrs. Danziger was a clerk and bookkeeper at the Birmingham YMCA for five years. Police said she embezzled money by cashing dues and rent checks and forwarding only part of the money to the YMCA's Detroit headquarters.

Hoffa Support? 'No Thanks!'

Teamster for Swainson but Governor Declines 'Aid'; Romney Relieved

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's governor and his likely opponent next fall are fighting over the support of Teamster President James R. Hoffa, but with a difference — neither one wants it.

Hoffa said in a speech here two days ago that he feels Gov. John B. Swainson is the right man for the gubernatorial seat "right now," and issued an attack on the leading candidate for the GOP nomination, ex-American Motors Corp. President George Romney.

Romney's reaction was one of relief.

"I would have been very sick if he (Hoffa) had endorsed me," he said, adding that even if Hoffa had endorsed his candidacy he would have repudiated it.

And repudiate is exactly what Swainson did.

The governor, who is on a political tour of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, put in a hasty call to his Lansing office to issue a statement declaring:

"I have not sought, nor do I seek Mr. Hoffa's indorsement. If it is offered I shall reject it."

Hoffa, in his speech, said he was just expressing his own opinion and that the union would make a formal announcement within six weeks as to which candidate it would support.

Swainson was careful to separate Hoffa from his union followers, however.

"My party and I have had the support of members of the Teamsters Union and their families in the past campaigns and would welcome their support in any future campaign," he said.

House Unit Approves Antipoll Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A constitutional amendment outlawing the poll tax as a requisite in federal elections has been approved by a House Judiciary subcommittee and sent to the full Judiciary Committee where it is expected to meet with quick approval.

The measure approved Monday is identical to one passed by the Senate last week. It would amend the Constitution to wipe out the poll tax, which still is a federal voting requirement in five states —Virginia, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas and Mississippi.

If approved by two thirds of the House, the proposal would have to be adopted by legislatures of at least 38 states to become effective.

Radio Executive Raps Jockeys, 'Poor' Operation

CHICAGO (UPI) — A station executive yesterday warned that 'cheap, tawdry" operation is "helping to kill radio.'

Ben Sanders of radio station KICD, Spencer, Iowa, cited "cheap music, deadly ad-libbing of inadequate disk jockeys and continuous bragging under the guise of station promotion' as among the chief shortcomings of radio.

He spoke in behalf of the radio-television code at the 40th annual National Association of Broadcasters convention.

Test of New Rocket Fuel Set Friday After Delays

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —After months of frustrating delays, the initial test flight of the high-energy Centaur space rocket is set for Friday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the two-stage rocket will be launched on an intended ballistic trajectory lasting 15 minutes. The vehicle should reach an altitude of 300 miles before plunging back into the Atlantic Ocean, 1,175 miles from the starting point. No payload will be carried.

The testw ill provide the first flight data on how powerful liquid hydrogen will behave in space. This supercold fuel, which must be kept at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero, provides 40 per cent better performance than chemical fuels employed in present U.S. rocket engines.

MODIFIED ATLAS

Two liquid hydrogen engines with total thrust of 30,000 pounds drive the second stage of the 107-foot Centaur. The first stage is a modified Atlas missile with 367,000 pounds of thrust. This combination is capable of placing 8,500-pound satellites into earth orbit, landing 2,300 pounds on the moon, or hurling 1,300 pounds to Mars or Venus.

These weights are considerably greater than the capability of this nation's biggest present space booster, the Atlas-Agena B. Centaur is expected to fill a gap between Agena B and the more powerful Saturn class of boosters being developed.

Problems encountered in developing liquid hydrogen as a propellant delayed the launching nearly a year. NASA feels the troubles have been licked, but officials do not expect a perfect flight on the first try.

Ignition of the second stage is not a primary objective. Officials are more interested in how liquid hydrogen operates in the weightless enviroment of space.

Cavanagh to Ask 1 Pct. Tax Friday

Report Detroit Mayor to Propose a Levy on Residents, Commuters

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh reportedly will recommend a 1 per cent income tax on all persons employed in Detroit at a city council meeting Friday.

The tax would affect residents and nonresidents alike. A 1 per cent levy also will be recommended on business and corporate profits earned in Detroit.

The proposal will go to the council as a proposed ordinance and part of Cavanagh's recommended 1962-63 budget. The council agreed to recess its regular meeting today until Friday after a letter from Cavanagh indicated the ordinance would be completed by the end of the week.

A bill barring taxation of nonresidents by a municipality is scheduled for debate in the State Senate today. It has already passed the House.

One Detroit official said Cavanagh was proceeding with his ordinance on the premise that the bill would not get past the Senate.

Project Hope Continues Battle Against Communism, Disease

Project Hope is continuing the everlasting battle against communism here in our own hemisphere as an adjunct to the humanitarian fight to stamp out disease.

The 15,000-ton steamship, "Hope I," will head for Peru on the first leg of her all-important mission. Staffed by a crack aggregation of American nurses, doctors, and technicians, she starts triumphantly with these achievements already behind her:

One year's experience
28,000 patients
20,000 miles
The blessings of humanity

Her mission of mercy and salvation is confronted by scores of invitations, including pleas to return to Southeastern Asia where she pioneered.

JONES

The basic idea is medical teaching and training in lands where disease and filth have overwhelmed the populace. Unhappily, this globe knows a sobering and even depressing number of areas where millions and millions lack adequate help.

Hope isn't a giveaway deal.

The sponsors don't shower cash on the suffering and then move on to newer fields. The underlying proposal is to teach and train personnel and the people themselves to combat the insidious diseases that grip them so mercilessly. This knowledge for future application is more important than any amount of cash.

The tremendous movement has been financed by Americans, and currently, ERNEST A. JONES, president of MacManus, John and Adams, is heading the activities in our area.

The first stop is Peru.

The annual income there is less than $200 and the accompanying medical vacuum and void is simple to picture. Peru has a maximum of four physicians for every 10,000 people. The death rate is TEN TIMES as high as the United States. And, oddly, the greatest scourges are flu, pneumonia and whooping cough.

It is difficult for Americans to believe this, as these afflictions are so well controlled here. Hope will teach the methods that we employ in the United States.

Peru's death rate from whooping cough is 300 times that here, and from flu and pneumonia it's 60 times.

Basically, Hope is fighting death and disease among our Southern associates. But as a huge adjunct, it will be a damaging body blow to the constant infiltration of communism.

Really, this is a double-barreled deal. It accomplishes two great objectives at once. Could anyone possibly refuse to give?

Voters Do 'Have Choice' in Russian Election

Those who say that America is run by the minority which bothers to vote might be interested in the other extreme of apathy—the Pavlov-like response of Russian voters when the head Red rattles the ballot box.

Like lemmings to the sea, they march in to cast their ballots and roll up phenomenal voting percentages — 99.95 in the recent election. For the lemmings who don't, there is always the frozen sea — Siberia.

For all the serious problems the world has acquired with the rise of the Communist nation, there are a few bright spots when the Russian efforts become comic opera.

Although they appear unopposed on the ballot, candidates for the Supreme Soviet campaign vigorously.

If it weren't so tragic the biggest laugh of all would be the actual voting. Confronted with a ballot listing one slate of candidates, the voter has a clear choice. The secrecy of his ballot is guaranteed by law. If he doesn't like the list of candidates, he just steps out of the long line of citizens dropping their ballots in the box.

He goes into a little room, and either scratches out some names or adds some.

Of course, no one notices this.

No one even notices when he doesn't show up for work one day, either. Or at home. Or anywhere.

One week from today it will be too late to make your entries in this column's baseball contest. There's no entrance charge, and every member of your family can compete. The closing time is next Monday noon, April 9, by which time all entries must be received in this office. The prize of $250 in U.S. savings bonds goes to the person making the nearest correct answer to the following:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 10, and what will be his batting average?

The almost total passing of the antiquated and asinine April fool joke is a convincing testimonial to Pontiac's good sense. Fifty years ago every body was wary of being fooled on April 1. A letter from

Now, Down to Serious Business

David Lawrence Says:

JFK's Using Economic Blackmail

WASHINGTON — A passion to win the votes of minority groups seems to have taken precedence in the policies of President Kennedy over the plain requirements of the constitution.

LAWRENCE

It also seems to have affected Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, who is about to enter the race for United States senator in Connecticut.

Congress has passed a law giving financial aid to schools in what are known as "federally impacted areas," where children of military and other government personnel are educated.

The statute doesn't say a word about the desegregation question. Yet the President now has ordered the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to withhold federal funds from the schools in those areas unless they are desegregated.

Members of Congress are calling it "blackmail of the highest order." Newspapers in some of the districts affected are calling it a violation of the Constitution.

SEE INCONSISTENCIES

Secretary Ribicoff is reported by the Southern School News — an information service on education—as having said two months ago that funds would not be withheld because Congress had not made desegregation a condition for receipt of the money and that, until Congress did so, he would continue to disburse the funds to "segregated as well as desegregated schools alike."

But last week a ruling was nevertheless issued by Secretary Ribicoff to withhold funds from areas where the schools are not desegregated within the next year.

It is being asserted here that, since legislation on the subject of desegregation can't get through Congress, only the President, acting on his own, can accomplish the change — in other words, that "the end justifies the means."

This is the cry that used to be heard when an impassioned and unreasoning group of citizens lynched an alleged murderer without waiting for a trial. The argument always was: "Why wait for a court order when he's guilty anyhow?"

Scarcely a month goes by that this argument, in one form or another, isn't being used here with respect to circumventing the Constitution.

The school of thought which is gaining headway here these days is the one that believes an executive ruling can get around the Constitution.

FIRMS MUST CONFORM

President Kennedy apparently has become a believer in this philosophy. He recently issued an executive order declaring that anyone who sells goods or services to the government — and more than $50 billion of contracts is involved —must agree in advance to conform, in effect, to the Government's edict concerning the employment of persons of a certain color.

Does the Constitution really give the power to the Chief Executive to tell an employer whom he shall hire just because he sells goods or services to the the Federal Government?

Congress, however, not only can pass a law assuring judicial appeal but also can limit the power of the Chief Executive to use federal funds as a form of economic blackmail.

Congress, moreover, has the right to appropriate funds in the first place. What President Kennedy and Secretary Ribicoff really have done is to sound the death knell of Federal aid to education.

For a large number of Democrats will not vote for financial aid to schools and colleges if this is to be used as a means of forcing desegregation and otherwise controlling education by order from Washington.

Also a large number of members of Congress of both parties who are opposed to the use of Federal funds in schools and colleges where religion is taught now may be confronted by the fact that, by executive order, such funds can be allocated or withheld at the will of a President.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Parents Are Warned Again of Tonsillectomy's Dangers

I am impressed by the number of nurses, some working in hospitals, some employed by physicians or specialists, who write to urge me to continue teaching people the truth about tonsillectomy.

DR. BRADY

Let me say, while I can, that if nurses, physicians and the bereaved parents, relatives and friends of victims of the atrocity would give me a little vocal support when my teachings about this imperil the life of this column, we might bring about general recognition of two facts, namely, that tonsillectomy is a major operation, involving all the hazards and requiring all the safety precautions which attend such surgery.

Secondly, the attempt to "get every bit of tonsil tissue," as the ever-ready, fast-talking operators put it, is only rarely justified. The absurdity of this pretense of "getting every bit of tonsil" is further indicated by the fact that in at least one-third of such operations more or less tonsil remains intact — and seldom is there any particular trouble from the portion of tonsil the "surgeon"' failed to remove.

Then, too, microscopic examination of the material removed in 1,000 operations—actually 500 operations, which purported to remove 1,000 tonsils—revealed that the operators, working in a field more or less obscured by blood, inadvertently removed bits of throat muscle along with whatever portions of tonsil they dredged up.

I wouldn't describe tonsillectomy so truthfully if I didn't consider it crude and unwarrantable.

Here's a nurse employed by Dr. ——, whose four year old son has had two bouts with tonsillitis this winter. On two occasions, his temperature was 105 (that's just a healthy reaction, for a child that age) and his neck glands (lymph nodes down the side of the neck) are now swollen.

A pediatrician, a conservative person, wants to wait to see what happens before he suggests tonsillectomy, but her husband insists that the boy's tonsils should be removed now.

The nurse goes on to say that her town is strictly a specialist town, and only ENT men (specialists in ear, nose and throat) do this sort of thing and they just won't hear of a tonsillotomy.

QUICKLY DONE

For the benefit of uninformed and misinformed readers, let us say here that tonsillotomy means cutting the tonsil, cutting off the portion which obstructs breathing, dulls hearing, thickens the voice or interferes with swallowing. It is instantaneous — as quickly done, with as little anesthesia and as little danger, as extraction of a tooth.

Voice of the People:

'Owners of Lake Property Should Make Skiing Laws'

Lake property owners should decide what laws should be passed to control lake activities. Water skiers don't clutter the lakes. There are boards, nails and trash and rotten fish on our beach every spring from winter fishermen. This is the first year in six that fishing shanties didn't do down when the ice melted.

It's a constant battle in the summer picking up bait cans, fishing lines, beer cans and bottles. I have yet to see a skier throw these in the water. We like to fish and water ski and have always bought fishing licenses.

I would hate to see no skiing after 4 p.m. If such a law is passed I urge skiers not to buy fishing licenses and to ride in their boats at all opportunties and swear out warrants for our fishing friends who throw everything but a hook and line in the water. Our taxes are higher for lake property. Must other people decide how we can use the water in front of our homes?

'Birmingham Street Used for Storage'

On Palmer Street Birmingham. Restrick Lumber Co. took out a permit to enlarge a building. Off street parking was to be provided for 52 cars. Over 7 years later, no off street parking has been provided and many unsightly prefabricated wooden panels are stored in the public street.

Employes of Michigan Panel Components, Inc., are monopolizing parking on Eton and Palmer to the detriment of longer established businesses. The wooden panels are a fire hazard and dangerously block the route to the fire hydrant. Both the city manager and the fire department advise against closing Palmer and also say that the material stored there is dangerous. Does Birmingham have one preferred business?

Commissioners Carl F. Ingraham and Ralph A. Main voted against allowing a private enterprise using a nontraveled public street for storage purpose. Commissioners Robert Page, William E. Roberts and William H. Burgum voted "yes."

Will Report Drivers Who Damage Cars

Lazy, careless drivers scrape a car the full length and actually tear the metal. Why can't offenders admit it when they damage cars? Twice in the past three my car has been badly scratched on the driver's side at just the bumper height. I estimate the damage at $150 to $200.

If I see someone's car get scratched by one of those Parking Lot Pilots who take up two stolls or who clumsily damage someone's car, I will do anything in my power to see that they are charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

I was granted an order of $20 a week to finish raising two children but the court order was all I ever got. I was never paid $200 the past 15 years. My former husband owes between $5,000 and $10,000. The court just never semed to be able to get anything out of him. My present husband was paying through the same court ordered by the same judge. I want to say a word for stepfathers. My children call him "dad." He saw to it that his own had food and a roof over their heads. The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Tuesday, April 3, the 93rd day of the year with 272 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1776, Harvard College conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Gen. George Washington.

In 1860, the Pony Express Postal service was inaugurated as two riders simultaneously left St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento, Calif.

In 1936, Bruno Hauptmann was electrocuted in Trenton, N. J., for the kidnaping and murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

In 1948, the European recovery program was enacted, allocating over five billion dollars for some 16 European countries during the next fiscal year.

A thought for the day: English novelist Samuel Butler said: "The man who lets himself be bored is even more contemptible than the bore."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Try Dehydration Dieting Method

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-474: Jack J., aged 42, is the fat, platonic husband mentioned yesterday.

His doctor urged him to go on a diet, for he has heart trouble, and excess weight puts a strain on every heart.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he moaned, "how can I diet most easily?"

Well, Mrs. Crane and I have dieted frequently during our married life and have tried various methods.

She likes to use drugs to help curb her appetite and give her more nervous energy.

But I don't like the drug-dieting, for drugs usually place an additional load on your heart.

Why penalize your faithful "pump" (heart) when it is your stomach that has caused your rolls of extra blubber?

Drugs speed up your heart. They make it work harder and thus wear out faster.

Instead, I like the dehydration method by which you kill much of your stomach's hunger just by restricting fluids the first 10 days.

If it is cool weather and you are not doing a lot of manual labor, then you can easily lop off 10 pounds in 10 days by the following plan:

(1) Women should restrict their calories to 800 per day and men to 1,200.

Meanwhile, include 400 or more calories worth of proteins, like cottage cheese, meat, etc. For your muscles require fresh protein every day to replace the worn out muscle cells.

The body does not store up a surplus supply of protein, though it has plenty of fat and starch or sugar.

That's why you MUST include protein on every diet or else grow abnormally weak and faint.

Years ago some Hollywood stars went on nothing but an orange or grapefruit diet. Others tried the banana diet. And many grew so weak they fainted, for there is almost no protein in such fruits or juices.

(2) To curb your hunger, limit your first day's total fluid input to 8 oz. (one full glass). And by total fluids, I mean water, soup, beverages, etc.

The 2nd day you can move up to 2 full glasses: Then go to 3 glasses on the 3rd day through the 10th.

This low-fluid plan makes your mouth cottony and by the same token, it seems to reduce your gastric juice, thus killing much of your former ravenous hunger.

In fact, many peptic ulcer patients report they are free from pain after the 3rd day, just due to the lowered gastric juice supply.

Even if you don't need to diet but want to reduce ulcer pain, one the quickest non-drug methods is this dehydration plan.

You will find that your attention shifts from stomach to mouth and you crave ice water instead of food. So fill an ice tray with your one glass of water, leaving the separators therein.

Use the resulting ice wafers, placing one on your tongue when you are very thirsty. The ice is much more satisfying than plain water.

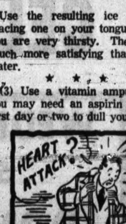
(3) Use a vitamin ampule and you may need an aspirin for the first day or two to dull your headache, especially if you have been a heavy caffeine addict prior to this low-fluid plan.



Send for the booklet "How to lose 10 pounds in 10 days," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It contains a calorie chart, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

U.S. Rushing New Atlantic Coast Charts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The great storm that smashed out of the Atlantic four weeks ago literally wiped the eastern coastline off the map.

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, the nation's coastal and tidal river mapmaker, is trying to put it back on again.

In two days — March 7 to March 9—high winds and enormous tides altered 1,000 miles of Atlantic coastline.

From Cape Cod to Miami, every bay, inlet and harbor has been affected. Shoals have disappeared, islands have shifted, buoys have moved, and inlets filled.

The result has confronted the coast and geodetic survey with its biggest map revision task in 34 years.

CHARTS INACCURATE

The charts put out by the bureau are vitally important for the cod fishermen sailing from Boston, the yachtsman racing on Long Island Sound, or the charter fishing boats leaving Daytona. As a result of the storm, present charts are no longer an accurate guide to the paths of navigation.

Officials at coast and geodetic decline to estimate how many changes will be necessary in the more than 200 charts which define the east coast for the seafarer.

The tedious task of revision was started the day after the storm. The agency expects to have its first corrections published and in the hands of navigators by early April.

No completely new charts will be published immediately. Instead, chartlets — a small square of paper — will be issued in the weekly publication, notices to mariners.

To map the changes caused by the storm, the agency uses every device possible, from a plane equipped with special cameras to a small rowboat powered by an outboard.

Preliminary survey flights over the battered east coast are now being made. The first step is to take black and white photographs from a height of 12,000 feet. Next, color photographs are made from 5,000 feet.

These color pictures are the most important, because they show red markers — called nuns —and black buoys — named cans —which mark a channel.

MARKERS SHIFTED

Many of these markers have been shifted by the great storm. Some are in areas where they often are not only useless but actually might lead boats into dangerous waters.

Once the photographs are processed, they are translated into chartlets. Five crews, working carefully in their Washington offices, painstakingly trace the shifted shoals and new sandbars.

The storm, which caused enormours damage to protective dunes, summer cottages and oceanside highways, also buried, destroyed or swept out to sea many of the basic control points which coast and geodetic uses in charting the depth of water.

These control ponits were determined precisely by survey crews between 1910 and 1946. Without them, the hydrographic survey crews are almost helpless in charting the depth of a new channel.

The coast and geodetic bureau has five crews out trying to discover how many of these control points have disappeared. From Cape Code to Cape Canaveral, these control points must be reset. They are placed at points from two to four miles apart.

When the hydrographic division has completed its surveys, the results will be added to the chartlets already issued. Navigators then will have the geography of the new coastline and the depth of its waters clearly outlined.

From these chartlets, new charts will be compiled and printed. But it may be a year before they are available to the public. Meanwhile, man and nature will have made new changes to the coastline, and the cycle will be repeated.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey is not the only agency faced with the problems of a new coast line. The Army Corps of Engineers and the Coast Guard also are working overtime to plot the aftermath of the storm.

New Jersey, whose shoreline was one of the most battered, has been declared a disaster area and has received $10 million in federal aid to rejuvenate its coast.

Much of this money will be used to repair dunes, a job assigned to the corps of engineers.

A typical job will take place on New York's Fire Island, a 20-mile sandbar protecting the south shore of Long Island from the Atlantic Ocean. Breaks have occurred in the sand bar, and high dunes have been washed away. These must be surveyed, then rebuilt or strengthened.

All of this will be much in evidence this summer for seashore vacationers. Instead of ants or sandflies disturbing their picnics, they have have to cope with a bulldozer — or a surveyor's tape-measure.

Fossils found on Malta show that the islands may once have been part of a land bridge between Europe and Africa.

Do's and don'ts of intelligent investing in stocks and bonds

If you're planning to invest in stocks and bonds, these simple suggestions may help you act wisely and well:

DO decide beforehand how much you can invest, after providing for living costs and a fund for emergencies.

DON'T invest more than you can comfortably afford.

DO define your investment goals. Do you want added income during the year? Or securities that may grow in value through the years? If you're interested in stability of income and safety of capital, bonds may suit your needs best.

DON'T be satisfied with rumors or get-rich-quick schemes from friends or high-pressure telephone salesmen.

DO get the facts. What is a company's past record? How well is it doing now? In addition, what are its prospects?

DON'T expect securities to pile up profits just because you own them. Prices go up; but they also go down. And a company may not continue to pay dividends on its stock, or interest on its bonds.

DO choose your broker carefully. A good way is to visit a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Registered Representatives there can't foretell the future; but they have satisfied Exchange requirements for knowledge of the securities business, and they'll be glad to give you their opinions.

DON'T be afraid to tell the broker how much you can invest. Discuss your aims with him. Ask him about some of the famous companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange. He'll be glad to help you.

DO send for our free booklet, "INVESTMENT FACTS." This booklet records more than 400 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every three months for 20 years or longer. It describes the Monthly Investment Plan, by which you may invest with as little as $40 every three months. And it offers much other valuable information about investing. Just mail the coupon; we'll send you a copy free.

Crawls to Son's Aid as Dog Runs Amuck

ENFIELD, England (AP) — A crazed greyhound burst into a cottage here, killed a puppy and menaced a 5-month-old boy.

The baby was rescued by his crippled mother, Joyce Barrett, who crawled from her wheelchair and dragged him into another room.

Mrs. Barrett, 21, had both her legs amputated in childhood after polio.

The greyhound, a stray maddened by hunger, ripped at curtains and chair covers for half an hour and then rushed out. It was found later in a school yard and killed.

Post Offices to Stop Handling Fallout Booklets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government booklet on radioactive fallout and how to survive soon will no longer be available in post offices.

Officials said Monday night surplus copies of the booklet now in various post offices will be sent to a civil defense center at Battle Creek, Mich.

The booklet will still be available through civil defense offices.

A Post Office spokesman said it was arranged when the booklet was first put out in January that it would remain in the post offices for three months.

Some 25 million copies of the 48-page booklet were printed. There was no immediate word on how many had been distributed through the post offices.

They weren't included as part of regular mail deliveries. Interested persons had to pick them up at the post offices.

College Board Plans Meeting at MSUO Campus

The college entrance examination board will hold a conference on its Advanced Placement Program (APP) on Wednesday, at Michigan State University Oakland. This will be the first such meeting in Michigan.

The conference is being held in cooperation with MSUO, the Detroit Public High Schools and the Oakland County Principals Association.

APP provides descriptions of college-level courses to be given in high schools, and examinations based on these courses. Colleges, then, consider for credit and advanced placement those students who complete the courses and make high test scores.

This conference provides an opportunity for those Michigan high schools which are not participating in the program to obtain more information about the educational opportunities the Advanced Placement Program provides," said Herbert N. Stoutenburg, MSUO director of admissions and registrar.

"The program coordiantes high school and college work and thus benefits the students immeasurably," he said.

State Treasury Needs 'Money, Not Studies'

LANSING (AP) — State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown has advised the Senate the Treasury needs more money, not more studies.

Brown sent a letter to this effect to the Senate in commenting on a resolution by Sen. John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, asking for creation of a special Senate committee to study Treasury operations.

"No amount of study will put any additional money in the State Treasury, which we so desperately need as everyone knows," Brown said.

'Kind' Lights Diffuse Lines

(NEA) — To keep from looking overly made-up, the mature woman should choose makeup shades that have a high light-reflective quality.

These will help diffuse any lines or wrinkles, whereas darker colors tend to cause these conditions.

Summer Frocks Sweet and Lovely

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Dream puff for summer mornings is Mr. Mort's new dress idea — a young flaring tent dress extravagantly detailed like an old-fashioned nightshirt. The dress goes well for suburban shopping and is available in white, yellow, blue and pink.

Freshness in feminine apparel for summer living in '62 is achieved by the well-known Mr. Mort, with the confectionary look.

His new, more-accented but ever-traditional "toujour femme" lines will carry milady from sunshiny mornings, through midday's sizzling temperatures, and ready her for the most festive evenings in an assortment of creamy pastels.

Mr. Mort favors "puffs" for morning marketing in his creations featuring a young flare. The slim-belted waistlines up date the frocks detailed like old-fashioned nightshirts.

The knockouts for noon and "apres-midi" appointments is his candy-striped cotton seersuckers fashioned into a town tailleur. The ruffly jabot on the one-piece dresses adding to the "fragile" look, is of Dacron and cotton for easy upkeep — por la femme on the go.

To meet even the most festive of evenings, Mr. Mort offers more ruffles in slender dresses in the airiest of cotton voiles. And to package the confection look he adds candy box grosgrain bows at the waist.

Certain styles of the "around-the-clock" fashions will be available locally in many colors, though the designer stresses a candied pink for the season.

Midst summer's midday sun for visiting — a knockout look for this is the candy-striped prettiness of cotton seersucker which Mr. Mort fashions into a town tailleur. The ruffly jabot on the one-piece dress is of dacron and cotton for easy upkeep.

Most festive look for a summer festival evening is this completely ruffled slender dress in the airiest of cotton voiles. A candy box grosgrain bow at the waist completes the confection look which appears in an assortment of pink, white, beige and black.

Cancer Research Important to U.S. Health, Solon Says

(Editor's Note — Sen. Maurine Neuberger, who succeeded her cancer-stricken husband as senator from Oregon when he died of a cerebral hemorrhage, describes her own experience with cancer research in the following dispatch. This is the second of three articles by Mrs. Neuberger, herself a cancer victim, published in connection with National Cancer Crusade Month.)

BY SEN. MAURINE NEUBERGER
(Written for United Press International)

MRS. MAURINE NEUBERGER

You can't buy cancer research at the corner drug store.

Far from the glass counters and the rows of bottles with their mysterious elixirs, there are men and women working with animals and with human beings, with isotopes and with cobalt beams, so that you and I and our loved ones may be free from the scourge of cancer.

A primary goal of our society is the preservation of our natural resources, human, as well as physical. The single, most important human resource is the health of our population. People are what count. Cancer attacks not only the old, but the very young, and is one of the most insidious enemies of our society.

DEADLY DISEASE

Although the rate of death by disease among children is declining, more children die from cancer than by other cause, except accidents.

The spectre of leukemia, a form of cancer, still haunts every mother as polio once did. She has reason to shudder, because leukemia can be neither prevented nor cured now.

Because it affects the blood-forming tissues, an operation is impossible; however, vast research project is being conducted in the use of chemicals to combat leukemia, and the American Cancer Society is investing $2 million in a broad program of leukemia-related research.

MEMORABLE VISIT

I shall never forget my visit at Children's Hospital in Boston with my husband while he was a member of the United States Senate, working for government aid to research in cancer therapy.

Dr. Sidney Farber, director of the clinic's program, told us about the great advances being made in the use of chemicals, took us to visit the tiny patients in the hospital, and escorted us to the outpatient clinic where parents faithfully and regularly brought their children for treatment in the hopes their lives would be saved.

I was deeply moved by the parents. They were so hopeful, although they knew the cure had not yet been found.

Leukemia causes more deaths of children—4 to 14—than any other disease: it is one of the foremost killers of children between the ages of one and three. Though infant mortality from other diseases has been lowered considerably, much remains to be done to save the lives of countless children from that still mysterious disease, cancer.

No one can know when his own life or that of a loved one may be totally dependent upon medical research. As John Glenn orbited the earth three times, we skeptics could no longer say that it was impossible.

Those who have failed to support either the American Cancer Society, or their own welfare with a checkup, may take heart that there are now more than one million Americans who have been cured of cancer. But, despite the forward strides which we have made in cancer research, the causes and cures of some forms of the disease still elude us.

NO LOCAL PROBLEM

As we have seen, cancer is not solely an individual or local problem. It is a national problem, for the solution of which we must marshal all of the resources at our disposal as a nation. The federal government, together with foundations and private societies, can provide the weapons by which we will ultimately defeat cancer.

But the individual must share the responsibility for making certain that these resources are fully utilized.

The federal government, working through your elected representatives, can achieve little without your active, informed support. Similarly, the work of the foundations and private societies must be encouraged and supported.

As a United States senator who has had cancer, I am the recipient of much mail from people seeking advice and comfort. It is gratifying to be able to tell them of my own experience, and to refer them to a competent agency like the American Cancer Society.

Certainly Soft Drink Toast OK

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: A group of us had dinner in a restaurant last night. We all had a cocktail, except one person who had plain ginger ale. I raised my glass and said "Cheers," and we all sipped our drinks except this one person.

When I commented on this, she turned to me and said the reason she did not respond was because she did not have an alcoholic beverage and that it was incorrect to drink a toast in a nonalcoholic beverage. I think she was very impolite and that she should have raised her glass to her lips even if it only contained ginger ale. Am I right about this? Can you not respond to a toast, even if you only have coffee in your cup?

A: You are right. She should have raised her glass to her lips even though it contained only ginger ale. If, however, she had a cup of coffee before her, she would have been right in not responding to the toast.

Q: I have received an invitation to the wedding and reception of a friend's son. The reception is to be held in a private room of a hotel. The letters r.s.v.p. appear on the invitations but the bride's address is not included anywhere. Since the bride is a stranger and her address not known to me, would it be proper to mail my reply to the bridegroom's family since I know them well?

A: If you cannot find out the address of the bride's parents, then the only alternative would be to address your reply to the bridegroom's parents and send it to their address.

When in Rome . . .

Call Guide-International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Going to Rome? Need an English-speaking dentist or perhaps a villa with seven bedrooms and baths for a month?

A personalized service called Guide-International can provide either.

The service guides tourists to everything from out-of-the-way bargains to ice cream sodas.

Guide-International is the brain child of dark-haired, dark-eyed Mrs. Paola Kenneally. The daughter of a Danish count and an Italian woman, Mrs. Kenneally was raised in Italy. But she lived in America for several years after her marriage to an American newsman, William Kenneally, in 1947. She became an American citizen in 1951.

Although Guide-International's clients come from many countries, from India to South Africa, most of them are Americans.

The most common services the organization provides are English speaking secretaries, drivers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and shopping guides.

Mrs. Kenneally said Rome has many bargains but a tourist must know where to go. Her organization also provides guides for bargain hunting expeditions.

PROBLEM CASES

Although the voluble Mrs. Kenneally can fill most requests readily, a few have proved difficult — such as an American industrialist's request to rent a villa with seven bedrooms and bathrooms for a month. Mrs. Kenneally located the villa but suggested to her client that it would be far cheaper to stay in a hotel. He followed her advice.

Mrs. Kenneally's work has led her into some unusual situations.

Once while guiding an American on one of Rome's busy streets, she found they were being chased by police after a mixup at a gas station over a necessary identification book.

One request Mrs. Kenneally was unable to fill was made by a Hollywood celebrity. He wanted sweetened lime juice. She could find only the unsweetened variety in Rome.

A number of Mrs. Kenneally's clients are Hollywood movie people who are making films in Rome and want the service to find them apartments and villas for their stay.

Mrs. Kenneally can tell an American tourist where to find hot dogs — and spaghetti and meat balls.

'MAMA MIA!'

"I never heard of spaghetti and meat balls until I came here after I was married," she said. "It was the shock of my life."

"The Italians will hate me," she added, "but the best pizza I ever had in my life was in New York."

Mrs. Kenneally came up with the idea for her guide service which is affiliated with the Italian Travel Agency, Pierbusseti — while she was working in Italy as a technical assistant on a movie.

"I realized Americans coming to Italy needed such a service," she said.

She returned to her native land in 1960 to organize it, drawing upon her contacts in Rome and her Italian friends to provide the personalized services.

Mrs. Kenneally believes American tourists have become more sophisticated in the last few years.

"Although some of them still want steak just like at home and ice cream sodas, many of them are more willing to explore," she explained. "They are more open minded and prepared to accept what is different. They want to do exactly as Italians do."

Let Son Cry, Abby Says

All Athletes Want to Win, Some Are Just Good Actors

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son is on the high school basketball team. He's a good student and is well liked. His team hasn't won many games this season. Anyone in sports doesn't expect to win all the time, but our son is such a hard loser it is making me sick. When his team loses, he comes home and cries like a baby. No one can talk to him. His father and I think we should make his quit sports if he can't take a loss any better than that. Would it help if we punished him? He should learn how to be a good loser.

ABBY

ONE BOY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: There are no "good losers" — just good actors. All athletes want to win, and feel badly when they don't. Let him have his cry. It won't hurt him half as much as being punished for expressing an honest emotion.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl and my problem is that I steal. It started recently with small things at the shopping center. Then I started taking things at the grocery store and drug store. Now I am taking things from the big store downtown. I steal things I don't even need, just things I see and want at the moment. I never take more than two things at a time. I need help and there is no one else I can turn to except you. I don't want to grow up to be a common thief. I know it is wrong, but I can't stop. Can you help me?

SO ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Not all people who steal things are "common thieves" — some are kleptomaniacs. Because you take things you don't need, you could have a compulsion to "steal." You can be helped if you really want to be. Tell your mother, Honey. She'll know what to do.

DEAR ABBY: Now I have heard everything! A grandmother actually COMPLAINING because she is permitted to visit her grandson only one day a week. She should thank the good Lord she doesn't have to take care of him all the time.

WORN OUT

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Set Grants in Summer Theater

Fifteen full-tuition scholarships for Cranbrook Summer Theater School in Bloomfield Hills will be offered high school graduates or college students, according to Carl G. Wonnberger, director.

Study grants include instruction in voice, diction, pantomime, stage dancing, makeup, stage production and directing. Participation in weekly short plays and in final full-length productions is guaranteed. Recreation in the afternoons will include swimming in Cranbrook's Jonah pools and tennis.

In session June 18-Aug. 11, the theater school has a staff of 26. Under professional direction a repertoire of plays from all periods and in many different media is provided. Many theater school alumni have become actors, writers and producers, and others are engaged in community, college and high school theater work.

Unusually talented students who will be in high school for one more year will be considered for scholarships if they receive the endorsement of their dramatic counselor, principal or department head. "Interest, reliability and purpose will be considered of more importance than talent alone," said Mr. Wonnberger.

Spiker-Burkhart Nuptials

Wed in Methodist Church

The Lake Orion Methodist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening nuptials of Joanne Burkhart to Dwight L. Spiker, pledged before an altar banked with white gladioli. Rev. Albert B. Johns performed the candlelight ceremony.

Daughter of the Martin Burkharts of Scottwood Avenue, the bride chose white silk organza over satin, styled with fitted bodice and skirt of unpressed pleats. Venice lace accented the scoop neckline and three-quarter length puff sleeves.

She wore a bouffant veil of pure silk illusion, caught by a pearl tiara, and carried white carnations, roses and stephanotis.

MRS. DWIGHT L. SPIKER

Dale Spiker of Oxford stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Dwight E. Spikers of Baldwin Road, Oxford. Robert Rumohr, Rochester, ushered for his brother-in-law with the bride's brother Martin.

After the church reception, the newlyweds left for northern Michigan. They will live in Swiss Village, Lake Orion.

Pink roses and carnations accented Mrs. Burkhart's costume suit of navy blue sheer wool. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in navy silk linen and wore yellow carnations.

Music Unit Hears Talk by Flutist

Schools Instructor Roger Welton Plays for Club

Roger Welton, music instructor in four Pontiac schools and first chair flutist with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, was guest artist for Matinee Musicale Club's April meeting. Amy Skillman of Lake Angelus Shores was hostess.

Mr. Welton discussed basic fundamentals of the flute and piccolo's tone production. He gave a brief history of the flute and demonstrated the instrument's range and the rapid speed at which it can be played.

In keeping with the program's theme "French Music," selections played by Mr. Welton were Bizet's "Minuet De L'Arlesienne," and "Syrinx," flute excerpts from "Soliloquy for Flute and Strings" (written in the French style) by Bernard Rogers and Debussy's "Afternoon of the Fawn."

Following the guest artist's program, auditions were conducted for the group's May concert program. Mrs. Ted Panaretos of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale was judge.

Auditioning were pianists Gwen Murphy, Kristin Lindquist, Julie Bird, Patty Proud, Tom Putnam, Kathy Brown, Bob Ralston, Ann Latoza and Alice Cheal.

Carol Haanes and Tim Hsu are new club members. Guests at the Sunday meeting were Roxanna Lyle, Paulette Godoshian, Jim Panaretos and Robert Cheal.

Playing piano selections for the program were Amy Skillman, Laura Strait, Patty Dell, Ann Marie Fell, ValJean Simson and Kris Thams.

Hostesses were Mrs. Newton Skillman, Mrs. William Cheal and Mrs. Norman Cheal.

Blodgett-Drinkert Vows Told in Evening Rites

Bobbie Lou Drinkert became the bride of Robert C. Blodgett in a ceremony Saturday evening at First Methodist Church, Clarkston, with the Rev. William Richards officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Drinkert, David K. Drive, Waterford Township. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Blodgett of Congress Avenue, Saginaw.

For her wedding the bride chose a white nylon chiffon dress with street length bouffant skirt and white lace bolero jacket. A scalloped shoulder veil fell from a Dior bow headpiece trimmed with pearls and sequins.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and stephanotis and also held a lace handkerchief which had previously been carried by her maternal grandmother, an aunt and the bride's mother at their weddings.

Sally Jean Drinkert, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and Henry Gutman of Saginaw was the best man.

Seating the guests were the groom's uncle, Marshall Brown and Paul LeFevre, both of Saginaw.

Following the reception in the church parlors, the newlyweds flew to Norfolk, Virginia where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Navy. They will make their home in Norfolk.

Access to Full Refrigerator Vital

Most Women Have Time to Write

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The housewife is in the ideal spot to write a novel — near a refrigerator and with all the comforts of home, says novelist Rosser Evans.

"Unlike men who need a source of income while they write, women can do it in spare time at home, and it is surprising more women do not write books," he says. "If the drawback is little children, that can be worked out with baby sitters and by other means. Jean Kerr often found she had to write in the family car."

There is a book within everybody, he says, but nobody will be asked to write a novel. You've got to initiate it yourself, and be willing to make sacrifices.

Anyone in a cozy home with good food available is a couple of belt notches ahead of the average writer, he says. He was on a starvation diet writing his novel, "A Feast of Friends."

"I learned how to eat on a dollar a day, no easy trick in these times."

He lost 35 pounds last year in spite of his food planning. He worked 23 weeks at a bustling New York department store, and 35 hours a week feverishly on his book.

An advantage of the store job was the twice-a-week night work gimmick, the free dinner. It was the last revision of his book but the pace almost killed him, he says.

"You've got to figure the angles, and the thought of getting sick terrorizes you when you are penniless," he says.

His book, the story of a young man and a big wheel pal is laid in the garment center where Evans once worked as an office boy. The book had been rejected 12 times and rewritten 5 times.

"No matter how sick and tired of it you feel, you must go on. Few novels are accepted on the first try. There were more than 20 rejections of Remarque's "All Quiet on the Western Front," and Joyce's "Dubliners." But every rejection can prove a boost. Editors are valuable to first novelists and can be helpful with suggestions and encouragement," he explains.

Evans had written a play, "The Coast of Illyria," collaborating with Dorothy Parker with whom he also co-authored short stories and motion pictures, but turning out a novel was a real challenge.

"After my 11th revision was destroyed accidentally, I got a job as a houseboy in San Francisco. There in exchange for cooking spaghetti, cleaning and mopping, I could use the library where I rewrote the manuscript from scratch in 87 days."

That 12th revision didn't pass the editors even though he had "written on a full stomach," but the manuscript was accepted on the 13th try.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

At about 3 to 4 months a baby "comes of age" as a personality. Now baby recognizes you. Eyes light up at the sight of you; ears rejoice at the sound of your voice. Offer a smile and you'll probably get a smile back. Look and you'll see little fingers dare to play, to touch. Listen and you'll hear new coos in his self-styled vocabulary.

Now's the time to help baby up the ladder of learning by encouraging his efforts, stimulating his imagination. Watch that personality blossom!

The growth picture. Your baby grows faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs plenty of protein . . . the most important "growing tool" in his diet. Gerber Strained Meats, made from selected Armour cuts, are high in protein; good sources of iron and niacin, an important B-vitamin.

• Gerber Strained Meats are easy to digest because most of the fat and fiber is removed.

• All 9 varieties are pure meat with just enough broth for a smooth, moist texture.

Helping hand dept. "Will too much attention spoil a baby?" asks many a mother. Well, experts today say that, in general, babies whose emotional needs are satisfied at an early age make fewer demands later on. After all, when you cuddle your baby for comfort or croon away his loneliness, you're giving him a sense of security and helping him to develop into a happy, well-adjusted personality.

Nutrition notation. Specially prepared baby cereals play an important role in your baby's diet because of the special nutrients they supply. Gerber Cereals are enriched with the iron babies need shortly after birth. (Milk does not supply enough for babies' needs.) In addition, they contain calcium and important B-vitamins. EXECUTIVE SESSION — The three officers of the Thomas Elementary School student council — a unique experiment in democracy for the young — prepare for the council's next regular meeting. Left to right are Stuart W. Feldmann, 8, secretary; Muriel Stephens, 11, president; and Keith Rosebush, 11, vice president.

At Thomas Elementary

Pupils Learn Democracy

OXFORD TOWNSHIP—At what age should democracy begin?

The younger the better is the answer at Thomas Elementary School, the first in the area — perhaps in the state — to try a unique new experiment in youthful democracy, an elementary school student council.

Can such a thing work among children?

Thomas School Principal Gordon C. Schils, whose idea it was, thinks so. "It's been successful enough to be continued," he says, though it's still considered in the experimental stage.

What can so youthful a group do or accomplish?

In its first semester last fall, the nine-member council solved the 90-pupil school's cafeteria problem. To eliminate an abundance of noise and untidy habits from the cafeteria, the council instituted a contest.

100 PCT. BETTER

Children at the quietest and cleanest tables won ribbons, and the best table for the semester won a trophy. The contest ended with the semester, but so did the problem. The cafeteria is 100 per cent better, says Schils.

This semester, a new council is conducting a safety campaign. When a student has an avoidable accident, his class must take down its green safety banner.

Members of a class that keeps its banner flying for four weeks get a ribbon. A trophy will go to the room that keeps its banner up the longest.

"To make our school a better school" is the goal of the council in the words of its vice president, 11-year-old fifth grader Keith Rosebush, one of the Rosebush quads.

CHILDREN CONFIDENT

And the kids are confident they can do just that. "It's a good thing," says council president Muriel Stephens, 11, a fifth grader. "We can do a lot for the school."

Do they have a sufficient sense of responsibility for such a thing?

That, plus experience in meetings, group discussion and election processes, is what they are learning, says Schils, who had heard about elementary school student councils in other states before starting this one.

"They are a little shy at first," he relates, "but they opened up after about a month."

Council members are elected in secret balloting by the second and fifth grades and the special education class (two delegates each) and the combined third and fourth grade room (three delegates).

Using a simplified form of parliamentary procedure, the council meets once every two weeks (sacrificing a recess period) to consider suggestions of its members and from classroom constituents. It elects its own officers.

Mrs. Jane Middleton, special education teacher who acts as adviser to the council, will accept no credit for its success. "All the teachers help," she says.

Other council members this semester are second graders Stuart W. Feldmann, 8, secretary of the council, and Vicki Schils, 7; Jimmy Young, 11, and Faye Burgess, 10, representing the special education class; and delegates from the combined third and fourth grade room, Paula K. Soldan, 8, Ricky J. Howes, 9, and Dane K. Stites, 10.

Another lesson they are learning, perhaps a very important one, is the inevitability of governmental frustration. This semester's council had planned a snow sculpture program, but, as the council secretary laments, "There's no more snow."

Urge Salary Increases for Rochester Teachers

ROCHESTER — The board of education last night heard recommendations for hikes in the base salary schedule for teachers and for percentage increases based on length of service.

Presented by the Rochester Education Association, the proposed revisions would raise the starting salary for teachers with bachelor's degrees from $4,600 to $4,800 and for those with master's from $4,800 to $5,100.

The maximum that could be reached by bachelor-degreed teachers would be $7,872 under the new schedule and $8,464 for those with M.A. degrees.

Present highs are $7,120 for those with bachelor's degrees and $7,370 at the top of the pay scale.

The education association also asked for consideration of a percentage index ranging from 5 to 6 per cent to benefit teachers with long years of service or "career" teachers.

Under the present salary schedule, annual increments of $200 and $220 are paid.

In making their recommendations, members of the association said that the base salary should be increased in order to keep the Rochester schedule in line with others in the area.

They said the recommended base for Oakland County is $5,000 for teachers with bachelor's degrees.

DISCOUNTS MERIT PLAN

Also recommended at the board meeting was that a merit pay plan given a "dry run" during the 1962-63 school year not be put into effect next year.

Schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin said that the plan called for "oversupervision" that is detrimental to an effective job of teaching — that teachers make greater contributions in a "free atmosphere."

He was referring to the requirement under the plan that calls for both the superintendent and assistant superintendent to spend time in each classroom evaluating teachers.

This is in addition to the present system of conferences between the principal and teacher that still seems to be satisfactory, Baldwin said.

He added that additional supervisors in order to provide balance to the evaluations would require the expenditure of an estimated $20,000. This amounts to $100 per teacher on the total scale.

The superintendent further emphasized that addition of several supervisors would not necessarily guarantee a successful merit pay program.

He was instructed by the board to continue his study in the area of rewarding outstanding teachers in the hope that a satisfactory plan can be developed.

Final action on the school budget and salary schedule is expected at the April 16 meeting of the board.

Recount in Milford Reveals No Errors

MILFORD—A recount last night on a liquor by the glass proposal that was defeated by two votes March 12 revealed that no errors had been made in the original tabulation.

The vote remained the same, 506 to 504 against the proposal.

Conrad Lewk, owner of the Milford Tavern, had petitioned for the recount after the proposal had lost by the narrow margin.

The three bars in the village are only allowed to serve beer and wine.

Fire Permits Doused in Area

Orion Twp. Officials Suspend Issuance in Wake of Grass Blazes

ORION TOWNSHIP — In the wake of a rash of annoying and potentially dangerous grass fires, township officials here yesterday suspended issuance of fire permits.

No burning permits of any kind will be issued until there's rain in Orion Township, officials said.

Fire departments throughout the area have been reporting an unusually large number of grass fires.

Not only do grass fires take equipment away from possible emergency needs, say firemen, but such blazes are potentially dangerous themselves.

Flames in a trash burner set off a grass fire that spread to a barn in Orion Township Thursday. The barn was totally destroyed.

Wrap-Up of Area Elections

Voters in five area cities and one village went to the polls yesterday, electing two mayors, deciding five council contests while leaving another in a tie, and defeating three of four proposals.

Following is a roundup of election results:

TROY

Mayor Robert Huber and two two incumbent city commissioners were returned to office while a three-mill school tax proposal went down to defeat as 3,188 voters went to the polls in Troy yesterday.

The mayor polled 1,967 votes to 1,122 for his opponent, Clarence F. Long, whom Huber also defeated three years ago.

Wallace B. Hudson and Vincent J. McAvoy won re-election to their three-year city commission posts. Defeated were challengers James E. Blair and Carlis R. Hanifan, both backed by Long.

McAvoy led voting for the commission seats with 1,862. Hudson received 1,777, while Blair had 1,229 and Hanifan 1,040.

The school tax proposal for three mills over a four-year period for operating funds was defeated soundly, 1,415 to 887. It was the same proposal that was defeated in November.

It failed despite active campaigning on its behalf by a citizen's committee of Parent-Teacher associations and a school board promise that a decrease of one mill in the debt retirement levy would keep the actual tax increase at only two mills.

School Supt. Rex B. Smith said today that failure of the school tax proposal and loss of its $114,000 annual revenue increase means cutbacks in the school program.

Among the changes under consideration are increasing class sizes in the elementary schools from 28 to 33, dropping 16 teachers and closing the Colerain School. Other cuts would also affect the high school, Smith said.

LAPEER

Some 1,100 voters went to the polls in the largest spring election turnout in more than 40 years in Lapeer and elected two new city commissioners.

John Hanner, making his first bid for public office, and Art Lynch, once an unsuccessful candidate for mayor, won commission seats by comfortable margins over two incumbents.

A proposal to permit dancing in taverns was turned down by voters for the third time, 663 to 416.

Hanner polled 639 votes and Lynch 583 to the 322 and 258 tallied by incumbents Bernice Dickerson and James Hurley, respectively. A fifth candidate, former city commissioner John Roberts, trailed with 210 votes.

Tavern dancing was first banned in 1938 and the ban was continued two years ago.

Deputy city clerk Harold Rose said today the 1,100 turnout of 2,609 registered voters was the largest spring election turnout in about 44 years.

WALLED LAKE

A Walled Lake druggist polled the highest number of voter here yesterday to win one of four expering council posts.

William C. Staman of 634 S. Pontiac Trail, owner of Staman Drugs, lead the field of six candidates with 349 votes.

The other three winners and their votes were incumbent Mayor Marshall E. Taylor, 312, Wendell Kellogg of 1620 Beverly Blvd, 276; and Louis James of 1765 Ashtan St., 218.

The two losing candidates and their votes were Bennie Jo Meridith, 190; and Lonnie Coburn, 167.

WOLVERINE LAKE

A charter amendment that will allow the village to hold annual elections was accepted by voters here yesterday.

Four council posts were filled but one of the incumbents was defeated.

The council winners and their votes were Norman C. Shimman, incumbent village president 232; David R. Kay of 2570 Roselawn St., 213; William A. Hornett of 2359 Ethel Drive, 190; and incumbent Gertrude Hess, 145.

The unsuccessful candidates were Merlyn E. Grims, 140; incumbent Roy D. Winkler who had served one four-year term, 116; Mahlon D. Green, 113; and John Granklin, 71.

The charter revision also provides that the top three vote getters will serve two-year terms and the fourth, for one year. This would go into effect at the next election.

WIXOM

A 37-year-old Plymouth businessman was elected mayor here yesterday, defeating the incumbent by nearly 70 votes.

At the same time the city was given a vote of confidence by voters who rejected a proposed charter revision that would have reduced the city's taxing power.

Wesley McAtee, 3023 W. Maple Road, upset Mayor Donald E. Brooks who had served one 2-year term. The vote was 274 to 206.

The city charter proposal which had been requested by the Wixom Civic Association was turned down with a vote of 296 to 141. The amendment would have dropped the city current tax limit of eight mills to four mills.

The association sought the change on the claim that the city exceeds its tax limit by using a state equalization factor.

Three incumbent councilmen also were returned to office to serve four-year terms. They are Howard Coe, 390 votes; R. W. Lahti, 356; and Mrs. Lottie Chambers, 266.

The lone defeated council candidate was O.F. Scheffler with 211 votes.

The total vote in the city was 482. There are 718 registered voters.

In the last city election, however, the turnout of registered voters was better than 90 per cent.

KEEGO HARBOR

A tie vote for one city council post in yesterday's election will make it necessary for the two candidates, one an incumbent, to draw lots.

Both Russell Greig, the incumbent and appointed mayor, and Michael M. Victor, 210 Maddy Lane, polled 164 votes. It was the first time the city has had a tie vote.

No date for the drawing to select the winner has been set, but it is expected to be scheduled tomorrow or Thursday, according to City Clerk Eileen VanHorn.

She said she didn't expect there would be a recount because there were only six absentee ballots.

Unopposed incumbent Constable Stanley Lubow was re-elected with 280 votes.

About one-third of the city's 1,250 registered voters went to the polls.

Earl R. Howie Heart Victim

Walled Lake Fire Chief Dies After Fighting Blaze for Hours

WALLED LAKE — Fire Chief Earl R. Howie died of a heart attack early today after fighting a house fire last night and this morning for nearly five hours.

Howie, 53, of 932 Ladd Road, suffered the attack at home less than 15 minutes after he had been relieved of duty by another fireman, Joseph Nephew.

"He said he was tired when he left here at 7 a.m.," said Nephew, "but other than that he seemed all right."

Howie, fire chief since October 1960, and members of his 20-man volunteer department, were called twice to a fire at a home at 209 Osprey St., owned by Peter H. Bahl.

GET CALL TWICE

The department was called first at 9:30 p.m. and again at 3 a.m. when sparks rekindled the blaze. Both times it took firemen nearly 2½ hours to control the fire.

Damage to the house, which was gutted, was estimated at $10,000, and $5,000 for the contents, which included many antiques, according to firemen.

Bahl told firemen the property was insured.

It is believed that the fire started in the basement by spontaneous combustion.

A city employe nearly seven years and a policeman before being named fire chief, Howie had gone home to clean up before leaving to drive a school bus for the Walled Lake system.

His body will be at the Rirdard-Bird Funeral Home.

Write-In Nominee Overcomes 'a Lot' to Win Mayoralty

BROWN CITY (UPI) — A write-in candidate, Norman Morrison, who lost a lot after the primary, was elected mayor of Brown City yesterday.

Morrison defeated incumbent Mayor Roy C. Willing and Dr. Harry Craft, who were on the printed ballots.

In the primary, Craft led with 116 votes and Willing and Morrison tied with 99 each.

The city charter provides that the two candidates receiving the most votes in the primary qualify for the general election. Since Willing and Morrison tied, they drew lots and Morrison lost.

But in yesterday's election, Morrison polled 112 votes to 100 each for Willing and Craft to win the Mayor's chair.

2 Rochester Schools to Display Art Work

ROCHESTER — Two local elementary schools will display the artistic accomplishments of their students this week.

The spring art show at the Woodward School was to be today, according to Donald Weston, school principal.

Mrs. Minnie Thorpe, principal at Hamlin School, announces the Hamlin exhibit will be Thursday.

The schools will be open for inspection by parents from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

In Rochester, the elementary art program is the responsibility of each classroom teacher working in cooperation with a three-member elementary art staff.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Clarenceville School Unit Plans to Reduce Services

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Clarenceville Board of Education today announced plans for curtailing and revising school programs and services due to the loss of operating millage last week.

Rejected in a special election March 27 was a request for a five mill operational tax. The proposal lost by 13 votes. Also defeated was a $1.25 milion bonding program for new construction. It lost by 11 votes.

Four of the five mills were to have been a continuation of taxes that expire with the school year in June. Failure to renew the levy meant an annual tax loss of $120,000.

Neither the millage nor the bond issue would have meant a tax increase.

CUTS PLANNED

Because of the millage defeat the school board decided to cut costs by:

1. Providing transportation to only those pupils where there would be reimbursement from the state.

2. Reducing the library and physical education staffs in the elementary grades, homemaking and industrial arts in the junior high school, art at a junior and senior high school level and music at all grade levels.

3. Reducing the funds allocated for instructional supplies and increasing the charges for certain workbooks, supplies and other materials.

4. Increasing class sizes at all grade levels.

5. Delaying the starting of the proposed revised high school curriculum program should any revisions involve the need for additional staff members.

6. Closing all buildings for general use at 5 p.m. in order to reduce the custodial maintenance staff from four to three.

7. Reducing services now provided by clerical personnel in order to reduce the staff two to four members.

If Sewage Line Built

Problem May Benefit Park and Rochester

ROCHESTER—Both Stony Creek Metropolitan Park and the Village of Rochester may benefit from the solution to the park's sewage problem, Village Manager Paul York said today.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority may build a pipeline from the park northeast of the village on the Macomb-Oakland County Line to Rochester's new sewage treatment plant.

York has been authorized by the village council to negotiate with the authority on the plan.

One of the possibilities so far discussed, according to authority director Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, is construction of a pipeline large enough to serve residents along its path as well as the park.

3 POSSIBLE PLANS

Hallenbeck said today plans are only in the discussion stage. A pipeline to Rochester is one of three possible solutions to the sewage problem created by building the new recreational site of more than 3,000 acres, Hallenbeck said.

Other possibilities are a ponding (or lagoon) type of treatment at the park before dumping into Stony Creek, and construction of the park's own sewage treatment plant.

Using the Rochester treatment plant seems more desirable, Hallenbeck said, but the final decision will depend largely on cost factors. A decision is expected within 60 days.

York said he had a preliminary meeting with representatives of the Authority before the council gave its approval to negotiations. He has not met with them since the council action.

He said opinion in Rochester is generally favorable to such a plan if the details can be worked out. There's a "good possibility" something will be worked out and both the village and the park will benefit, he added.

MSU Dean Addresses Rotarians at Rochester

Hunt 2 Bandits in Bank Holdup

Ford Hospital Branch in Detroit Robbed of $30,000; 30 Witnesses

DETROIT (AP) — A police dragnet was out today for two daring bandits who robbed a Manufacturers National Bank branch of some $30,000 in full view of more than 30 persons yesterday.

The branch bank is located in the lobby of Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital, where most of the 27 loungers and three bank customers witnessing the holdup said they thought it was "a joke."

The getaway car, which was parked in a no-parking zone in front of the hospital's main entrance during the holdup, was found four blocks away. It had been stolen earlier from a downtown Detroit parking lot, police said.

Officers said the pair entered the office of Branch Manager Ralph C. Tucker, 64, of 1211 Marywood St., Royal Oak, and one drew a 38-caliber revolver. Tucker said the man with the pistol told him to "get up and take us to the money."

Tucker said he said, "You're kidding."

"No, sir. We're robbing your bank," the bank manager said the gunman answered.

The man forced Tucker to the first of three cashier's cages in the branch, where the second man stuffed $15,000 in a blue shopping bag. The same system was used on a second cage, where another $15,000 was taken, Tucker said.

He said the men then walked back through the office and out of the hospital lobby and drove away. A hospital guard copied the car's license number on the palm of his hand with a ball pen as the car sped away.

The dual-sport or all-sport star of the college campus has had pretty good success in professional baseball. Most recent collegians who starred in either basketball or football along with baseball include such names as Bill Skowron, Dick Groat, Jackie Jensen and Gene Conley among others.

Only one, however, to compete successfully in two professional sports, including baseball and basketball, is Conley, formerly with the Boston Celtics of the NBA and the Milwaukee Braves of the NL. He is now with the Red Sox and the New York team of the ABL.

The Tigers apparently weren't willing to gamble on Dave DeBusschere to have the success of Conley. The White Sox wanted the big U. of D. star bad enough and proved their interest by sharing him with the Detroit Pistons and giving him a $70,000 bonus.

The Tigers may be sorry because Big Dave is little more than the average two-sport star. No one doubts that he will make it with the Pistons even though his true baseball abilities need to be tested.

BIG ATTRACTION

Where the Tigers miss the boat is in the public relation aspect. DeBusschere has been called the finest cager to come out of Detroit and in the state's basketball history. His value at the gate would have brought greater returns at Tiger Stadium than they will as Comiskey Park. The Pistons can surely realize this for the Convention Arena box office and also in the game box scores next season.

The argument presented by the Tigers that he would be late in reporting to spring camp because of pro basketball and it would have an effect on the other players is pure hogwash.

A professional athlete gets paid by the statistics he produces during the actual season. Norm Cash isn't getting paid for the homers he hits at Lakeland. He's getting paid for the average he carried during the season last year.

When DeBusschere reports to spring baseball camp, after 5 months of basketball, his legs and overall physical condition will be as good, if not better than any other player in camp, and it will be the won-lost, strikeout, walks, etc., that will be the first importance.

The fact remains baseball players aren't the best conditioned among pro athletes and the majority of them need the spring camp right up to the start of the regular season to get the gasps out of their breathing rhythm.

As for DeBusschere's pitching abilities, a scout for another American League team commented last season, "He's got every pitch in the books. His big problem will be getting to know when to use each pitch, and this will have to come from a good manager."

As a former Major League catcher, Chisox manager Al Lopez should be able to help DeBusschere with this problem. Of course Bob Scheffing was also a pretty good catcher and the Tiger manager could have done as well, but the problem isn't his now, although Big Dave himself might be come day to the Tigers.

What would be nicer than to see DeBusschere get his first major league victory at Tiger Stadium.

Has Announcement to Make

Will Arcaro Quit Racing?

NEW YORK (AP) — Jockey Eddie Arcaro has an announcement to make today — and it might be that he's ready to call it quits after 30 years that have brought him fame and fortune on the nation's race tracks.

Call him Banana Nose, the Maestro, or his real name, George Edward Arcaro. Some $2 bettors have called him plenty when he didn't bring home the horse they bet on. But most horsemen will agree on one thing.

Arcaro is the greatest money rider the sport has ever seen.

Eddie rode his last race in the United States last Nov. 13 at Aqueduct. Then he and his wife, Ruth, left on the longest voluntary vacation he has had since he won his first race at Agua Caliente, Mexico, Jan. 14, 1932. It took him to Hong Kong, Tokyo, Singapore, Austrailia, Tahiti, Honolulu and then California — three months.

In recent years since the influx of $100,000 races, Arcaro has been taking his share of the big ones. His income is upwards of $150,000 annually.

Benny Paret Loses Battle for Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny (Kid) Paret died today — 10 days after his head was bashed 20 times or more as he hung helpless in the ropes in losing his world welterweight boxing title.

He never came out of a coma after bing pounded senseless by Emile Griffith in the 12th round of their title fight at Madison Square Garden March 24.

Doctors had held little hope from the start that he ever would recover from the brain damage he suffered in the battering that led to numerous criticisms of the fight and of professional boxing in general.

WIFE CALLED

Paret's wife, Lucy, 23, who is expecting a second child, was called to Roosevelt Hospital when the Cuban-born fighter died at 1:55 a.m.

"I've lost my man," she cried. "I want to go with him. Take me along."

Clutching a gold cross hung on a chain around her neck, she wept hysterically. Then she fainted.

Paret's mother, Mrs. Maximo Crespo, fingering a crucific, said through her tears that she wanted to take her son's body back to his native Cuba for burial in the family plot.

Paret, 25, had developed pneumonia Monday.

His wife brought their son, Benny Jr., 2, here with her from their home in Miami, Fla., the day after the fight. Paret's mother and his brother, Antonio, 26, came from Cuba later.

SUDDEN TURN

Antonio and Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, were with Paret when he died. Alfaro said Paret's condition took a sudden turn for the worse an hour before he died.

In attendance were a physician, three nurses and three nurses' aides.

An autopsy at Bellevue Hospital was ordered.

Brother Antonio, weeping, said to newsmen several times, "I can't understand why he was so mauled."

Alfaro — asked where he placed the blame — said, "Circumstances.'

Previously, Alfaro had criticized referee Ruby Goldstein for not stopping the fight sooner than he did — in two minutes and nine seconds of the 12th round, after Paret had taken a pounding on the head without retaliating.

The severe injuries suffered by Paret led the New York Legislature to name a special committee to determine whether the state needs new laws to regulate boxing, or whether the sport should be outlawed.

INVESTIGATION ON

As soon as Paret's death was announced, New York City police began a formal investigation, which is routine in all such cases. An informal police investigation had been going on since the fight.

Alfaro, talking with newsmen, said, "Paret was like a baby to me. He was like my own son. I brought him here from Cuba four years ago and kept him and looked after him like a baby.

"Paret was still a champ when he died. He didn't lose the championship in a fair fight. The pictures, movies and stills, will show that he had fallen out of the ring, that his head was out of the ring while he Griffith continued to punch away. This is against the rules."

Indians Trade for 2nd Hurler

Power, Stigman Sent to Twins for Pedro Ramos

Cleveland's 1st Swap Since Piersall Deal Last October

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, who had been inactive in the trading market since Frank Lane left the wigwam, now have made two big deals since the end of the 1961 baseball season—both for veteran pitchers.

The latest deal, announced Monday, sent first baseman Vic Power and southpaw pitcher Dick Stigman to the Minnesota Twins in exchange for Pedro Ramos.

Last October, Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul dealt outfielder Jimmy Piersall to the Washington Senators for pitcher Dick Donovan and infielders Gene Green and Jim Mahoney.

Both Power and Piersall had been accused by former Tribe manager Jimmie Dykes of being disturbing influences on the Cleveland club.

"We're not finished looking for pitchers and we're going to do everything possible to get another good one," Paul said.

To get Ramos, a sorely needed starting pitcher, who will be 27 this month, Cleveland gave up one of the game's greatest fielding first baseman—the 30-year-old Power. Stigman, 26, was selected for the American League's all-star team in 1960, but has compiled only a 7-16 record in two seasons. He has had arm troubles.

Power took the news of the trade with good humor. "I'm a professional," he said. "They send me to Africa. I play there. I knew they'd trade me. I'm too good a player to stay on bench."

GLAD TO GO

Ramos was glad to go to the Indians and said he would fly from Orlando, Fla., at noon today. "I ask Calvin Griffith many times to trade me," said the handsome right-hander. "He finally do it. I glad he trade me to Cleveland. I like the weather in Cleveland and I always have hard time beating that club."

Ramos is correct on that score. He has beaten the Indians only nine times in 28 decision, his worst lifetime record against any team.

The Cuban hurler, who has been in the majors for seven years and owns a 78-112 lifetime record, has led the leauge in losses four times. But the Indians think he can do the job for them.

Load Getting Heavier for Tigers' Scheffing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The managerial load must seem even heavier today to Detroit Tiger boss Bob Scheffing today as he savored the knowledge that his No. 1 pitcher has a sore shoulder; his No. 1 bonus prospect signed with another club, and his No. 1 trade choice was dealt out of reach.

In order of appearance, Scheffing said yesterday that he doesn't know if Frank Lary will be ready for action in time for the opening game next Monday against the Washington Senators. Lary has been pagued with shoulder trouble during early training and it was so bad that Scheffing canceled his starting assignment against the St. Louis Cardinals here today.

The loss of collegiate star Dave DeBuscchere to the Chicago White Sox turned many a Tiger hope to ashes and that could only make the manager sadder.

But to compound his problem, Pedro Ramos was traded yesterday by the Minnesota Twins to the Cleveland Indians. The Tigers had been dickering for the services of Ramos and offered four players for him.

PITCHING SPOTTY

Pitching in the Tiger camp this spring has been spotty. The mound crew has allowed 115 runs in 21 games for an earned run average of 4.31.

Scheffing — in an effort to find the combination to make his big three, Lary, Jim Bunning and Don Mossi, a big four — has scheduled the prime candidates for the other starting post to pitch with the Denver Bears for two days.

So, Sam Jones, Paul Foytack and Hank Aguirre will be getting their work with the Bears. The Tigers have only five games on the Grapefruit League schedule and Scheffing hopes the extra work will help.

They were idle yesterday.

Pistons Play 'Must' Game

Lakers Need One Win to Enter Final Round of NBA Playoffs

By United Press International

It's tonight or wait until next year for the Philadelphia Warriors and Detroit Pistons.

The Warriors, down three games to two, take on the defending champion Boston Celtics at Philadelphia tonight, needing a victory to stay alive in their best-of-seven series to determine the Eastern Division champion in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Pistons are in the same boat in their series with the Lakers to determine the Western Division champion. Their game will be played at Detroit Convention Arena. Victories for the Celtics and Lakers would set up the final series to determine the NBA champion.

The Warriors, with Tom Gola on the injured list, plan to play their starting five, including big Wilt Chamberlain, as much as possible, but the superior Boston bench is expected to be the deciding factor. The Celts are riddled with cripples.

The Pistons, meanwhile are battling to accomplish what no other NBA team has done — win the Western title after being down, 3-0.

Willie Jones and rookie Johnny Egan were the key players in Detroit's two victories and coach Dick McGuire hopes they can keep it up.

"There's no doubt that Willie has been the key man for us in the last two games," he said. "His scoring and playmaking have been nothing short of brilliant, but the biggest asset so far has been his defense."

Gain Revenge, Crown

Captain Lynn Mitchell's Ivy Leaguers gained revenge for their only defeat of the season—and at the same time captured the championship by edging the Slobs, 40-38, last weekend in the finals of the Waterford Township Recreation Department's boys' 9th-10th grades basketball league. Andy Straka scored 17 points for the champions.

Rangers, Black Hawks Try to Even Playoffs

By United Press International

The National Hockey Leagues Stanley Cup playoffs resume in New York and Chicago today with the Rangers hosting the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Black Hawks entertaining the Montreal Canadiens.

Both host teams need a victory to stay in the running, since both trail the Canadian teams, 2-1, in their best-of-seven semi-final series. The Hawks, defending Stanley Cup champions, defeated Montreal on Sunday for their first win of the series while the Rangers were gaining their first victory over the Maple Leafs after losing two straight in Toronto.

TURNING POINT

"This is the turning point game," said Chicago coach Rudy Pilous, "its their clincher and our savior."

New York coach Doug Harvey said almost the same thing.

"We've got to win the fourth game. If we can tie the series, the goalies will be the difference and our man (Lorne Worsley) is good enough to carry us through."

The Hawks are at peak strength for their important game, while the Canadiens definitely will play without Ralph Backstrom, out with a bad shoulder, and may have to do without Bernie Geoffrion, who has a questionable knee. Keith McCreary has been called up from Hull-Ottawa to replace Backstrom.

The fifth game between the Hawks and Canadiens is scheduled for Montreal on Thursday, and if the Hawks win one of the next two games, the sixth game will be played in Chicago on Sunday. A seventh game, if necessary, would be played at Montreal April 10.

PRENTICE HURT

The Rangers, unlike the Hawks, may have to play without star Wing Dean Prentice, who wrenched some ligaments in his left knee Sunday night. Rookie Vic Hadfield more than likely will take Prentices place on the No. 1 line alongside Andy Bathgate and Earl Ingarfield.

Wings Camille Henry and Ken Schinkel also are among the walking wounded for the Rangers while the Leafs are missing defenseman Carl Brewer and Wing Bert Olmstead.

The Ranger-Leafs series shifts to Toronto for the fifth game Thursday, and if the Rangers win one of the next two, the sixth game also will be played in Toronto on Saturday.

Philly Keglers Get Top Billing in ABC Tourney

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — McKean Chevrolet of Philadelphia the first Classic Division team to appear since last Thursday, gets top billing at the American Bowling Congress Tournament tonight.

Jules Roder has captained the McKeans, one of the best teams in the East, for 18 years. The top shooter on the club is Joe Ostroski, who once averaged over 201 for five consecutive ABC tournaments.

Leo Hart of Reading, Pa., was the only bowler to crack the top ten standings Monday. The 44-year-old welder shot 254-239-210—703 to take ninth place in the regular singles. Andy Renaldy of Youngstown, Ohio, leads that category with 720.

Ken Emmerich and Leroy Carlson of Waukegan, Ill., rolled the best regular doubles score of the day, 1273.

Pete Nadian, Reseda, Calif., compiled the best regular all-events total of the day, 1894. Nadian, a former star in the Chicago Classic League, rolled 653 in the team event Sunday night and came back Monday with 627 in the doubles and 614 in the singles.

Gifford Plans Grid Comeback

But Giants Are Worried Over Silence by Rote; Veterans Traded

B JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants, buoyed by the return of former all-pro halfback Frank Gifford to active competition after a year's retirement, still were uncertain today whether Kyle Rote, their pass catching wizard, would return for the 1962 season.

The Giants who already have lost veteran quarterback Charley Conerly through retirement and have traded veterans Dick Nolan, a defensive back, and linebacker Cliff Livingston, may lose Rote to television as a sportscaster.

"We've heard nothing officially from Kyle on whether or not he'll be back next season," a Giants official said today, "but if he doesn't return it's going to affect a lot of what we plan to do next year.

"Kyle still doesn't like the idea of a 37-0 beating in the title game by Green Bay as his last football competition," the official added, "and until I hear officially that he's going to do something else, then I'm counting on him returning."

Masters Tourney Opens Thursday at Augusta, Ga.

Ex-Amateur Champion Rated Right Behind Palmer, Player

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—"I think I've got a good chance of winning it."

With these words, bristling with confidence, young Jack Nicklaus threw down the gauntlet to a collection of the world's finest golfers who moved into their final tuneups today for the 26th Masters Tournament, beginning Thursday.

"I love this course—it is my kind of course," Nicklaus added, waving a husky arm in the direction of Augusta National's pine-framed fairway. "I feel wonderful. I don't know when I have been more ready for a tournament.

"Yes, I like my chances. Breaks mean a lot. If I get my share, I could win."

BRASH WORDS

These may sound like brash words from a young man of 21, a collegian a year ago and a pro of less than six months, but they are sentiments shared by many—observers and golfers alike — gathered here for the big spring golf show.

Arnold Palmer, winner in 1958 and 1960, and defending champion Gary Player of South Africa are the top favorites but no one is discounting the chances of the 205-pound, tow-headed Tarzan from Columbus, Ohio, who gave up his throne as a king of the amateurs to go after the rich purses.

"In the first five tournaments after I turned pro, I really stunk," Nicklaus said. "I couldn't find a driver I liked. I had trouble with my putter. My wedge went sour.

"Finally, everything started fitting back into place. I ironed out the mechanical kinks. I became more relaxed and more confident. I finished second in one tournament and then less tha two weeks ago I played well in the Doral Country Club tournament at Miami. I got third even though I putted badly on the last nine holes.

"I've never come into the Masters with as much solid preparedness as I've had this time. I feel that I am playing every bit as well as I was in the Eisenhower Trophy matches in 1960."

HOT ROUNDS

In those matches, at the Merion Golf Club in Philadelphia, he had successive rounds of 66-67-68-68 in what was hailed as one of the outstanding individual performances of all time.

In four tuneup rounds so far over the par-72 Augusta National course, a layout whose broad fairways give the slugger plenty of hitting room, Nicklaus has had rounds of 67-71-69-73, without pressing. Only four times has a champion won here with a score better than 280. Ben Hogan's 274 in 1953 is the record.

"I think 281 or 282 will be good enough," Nicklaus said. "Nobody gives this course much of a licking."

Brooks Named MVP In City Cage League

Felix Brooks, whose consistently outstanding work spearheaded 300 Lounge to the Class A City League basketball championship, is the winner of loop's Most Valuable Player award for the 1961-62 season, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has announced.

Brooks, a Pontiac Central graduate who never played high school basketball, paced the Lounge quintet to both the regular season and playoff crowds this season.

As recipient of the MVP honor, Brooks will receive a trophy which is presented annually by The Pontiac Press.

BROOKS

It was Brooks' scoring and rebounding that helped the 300 Lounge quintet to dominate this year's recreation basketball program.

Although less than six feet in height, Brooks was the team's No. 1 backboard man and he also led the club in scoring.

Despite his prolific scoring, Brooks was considered an outstanding team player who was always willing to pass up a shooting opportunity of his own in order to let a teammate score who might be in better position.

Also noted was the fact that Brooks worked just as hard on defense as he did when his club was on offense.

City League officials added to his MVP status by calling him a standout sportsman on the court at all times.

Brooks' agility comes natually. He won varsity track letters at PCH where he competed in the high jump and hurdles.

Lounge compiled a 17-1 City League mark and last weekend went to the semifinals of the state's annual Michigan Recreation Assocation tournament. The locals ended their season with an over-all 18-2 record.

Brooks is married and lives at 210 Prospect Street in Pontiac. He is employed at the Pontiac Post Office on West Huron Street.

Hats are off to Felix Brooks, this year's rightful claimant to the MVP title. The Press trophy surely belongs to him.

They Are 'Go--Go' White Sox Again

By The Associated Press

They've put the Go-Go back in Chicago's White Sox.

And the patented peck-away-at-'em attack is lifting eyebrows along baseball's exhibition trail. The White Sox have reeled off six consecutive victories—the latest a 5-1 triumph over Kansas City at Sarasota Monday.

Outside contenders for the American League throne room, the White Sox could lock the door with a successful combination of their pesky hitting and tight pitching. That's exactly what they've been getting.

Rookie Joel Horlen, promoted from San Diego after posting a 12-9 record with a sparkling 2.51 earned run average, took care of the pitching end against the A's. The 24-year-old right-hander went six hitless innings before being touched for a lone run.

The hitters, meanwhile, continued their exploits without the aid of the home run weapon, stroking nine hits to win it. The White Sox now have scored 44 runs on 64 hits in their last six games — with only two bases-empty homers in the output.

The Sox pushed across three runs in the second on four hits, including doubles by Mike Hershberger and Jim Landis, then added two more in the fifth on a double by Gerry McNertney and singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox.

The victory gave the White Sox a 14-8 record, right behind the New York Yankees in the American League standings. The world champion boosted their mark to 15-7 by defeating Minnesota 9-6 at Orlando.

Houston, meanwhile, clinched the Cactus League championship among teams training in Arizona and California and also moved into the top spot in the NL standings with a 14-7 record by downing Milwaukee 8-3 at Apache Junction.

In other games, Cincinnati beat the New York Mets 5-2 at St. Petersburg, the Angels edged the Dodgers 6-5 at Palm Springs in the first meeting between the Los Angeles Clubs, Boston bopped Cleveland 5-3 at Scottsdale, St. at Clearwater and Baltimore took care of Pittsburgh 7-1 in a night game at Miami.

The A's got to Horlen in the seventh for two hits, triples by Bobby Del Greco and Norm Sieburn, for their only run. Truk Lown completed a three-hitter. The Yankees used a two-run double by Hector Lopez and an RBI single by Joe Pepitone in the ninth to beat the Twins after Roger Maris' homer built an early lead.

SCATTER HITS

Dick Farrell and Bob Tiefenauer spaced nine Braves' hits while the Colts went ahead to stay with a four-run outburst in the third on four hits, including Bob Aspromonte's double. Bob Purkey became the first Reds' pitcher to go nine, checking the Mets on four hits. Batterymate Johnny Edwards provided the power with two homers and a single for three RBI.

The Angels tied the Dodgers in the eighth on Albie Pearson's three-run homer and won it in the ninth when Joe Koppe drove in Leon Wagner with a single. Lu Clinton stroked a pinch-hit RBI single in the seventh as the Red Sox went in front, then reliever Bill Monbuquette protected the edge against the Indians.

A four-run spurt in the first inning gave the Cards enough to whip the Phils behind the six-hit pitching of Ray Sadecki and Curt Simmons. The Orioles' Billy Hoeft gave up six hits and the Pirates' Bob Friend eight as both went nine innings. Shortstop Ron Hansen, on leave from the Army, stroked a two-run single in the second for the runs Baltimore needed.

City Leagues to Organize

Softball Meeting Thursday

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has set Thursday for its first organizational meeting of the 1962 men's City League softball program.

Interested entries in classes A, B, C and D are urged to attend the meeting, which will be held at 7 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Health Department on the ground floor of City Hall.

Because of the increasing interest in Pontiac's summer softball program, the following priority system will be followed for accepting entries:

1—Teams that participated last year whose sponsors are in the city of Pontiac.

2—Teams that did not play in 1961 whose sponsors are in Pontiac.

3—Teams that participated last year whose sponsors are outside Pontiac.

4—Teams that did not play in 1961 whose sponsors are outside the city.

Current funds and facilities indicate that eight teams will be the maximum number accepted in each class. Entry fees, which are payable through 5 p.m. on Monday, April 30, are $60 for Pontiac-sponsored clubs and $85 for out-of-the-city sponsors.

Team entries, player eligibility, contract cards, practice facilities, rules and regulations, and other organizational matters will be discussed at Thursday's session.

Managers or representatives of men's softball teams should attend. To prevent crowding, the Park and Recreation Department requests that players not accompany managers to this gathering.

Probers to Hear Other Side

Huge Nike Profits Hinted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate investigator said today that three contractors for the Army's Nike antiaircraft missile presented the Pentagon with a $1.5-billion bill which included pyramided profits.

Another Senate source said earlier that the practice of charging profits on profits by these and other contractors added $75 million to $100 million to the cost of the Nike program.

Robert E. Dunn, investigator for Sen. John L. McClellan's permanent investigations subcommittee, named Western Electric Co., Douglas Aircraft Co., and Consolidated Western Steel Co. as three of the contractors who pyramided profits.

The other source said the subcommittee hoped to show that "profiteering," as one senator called it, resulted from a form of bookkeeping razzle-dazzle.

THE OTHER SIDE?

But senators who heard Dunn testify at the first day of hearings into Pentagon procurement practices cautioned against drawing conclusions before the contractors could state their case.

Dunn said Western Electric, prime contractor and systems manager for the Nike figured its profits on the total costs of various subcontractors, including the profits of the subcontractors.

Western Electric, a telephone equipment and electronics firm, produced only the radar, computers and other controlling devices for the Nike.

It farmed out the rest to the Douglas Aricraft Co. Douglas in turn subcontracted the mechanical and automotive parts of the Nike system to the Fruehauf Trailer Co. and Consolidated Western, a division of United States Steel Corp., Dunn said.

Public School Prayer Before U.S. Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court was asked today to declare the recitation of prayer in public schools a violation of the Constitution.

Counsel for five parents of nine children in schools in New Hyde Park, N. Y., argued that the offering of prayer in classrooms there breached the principles of separation of church and State.

The parents objected to the speaking of a prayer recommended by New York state's board of regents for use in all public schools of the state.

The 22-word prayer:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers, and our country."

The objecting parents included two members of the Jewish faith, one member of the Unitarian Church, one member of the Society for Ethical Culture, and one professed nonbeliever.

William J. Butler, New York City attorney for the parents, complained that the prayer involved "is part of a recognized drive in this country to introduce religious education and observances in public schools."

He said the New York state action rejected the belief on which the founding fathers built this government, a belief in the necessity for absolute separation of church and state.

Blaze Leaves 200 Homeless

Fire Wipes Out Center of Small Community in Northern New Jersey

WASHINGTON, N.J. (UPI) — Two hundred persons were homeless today because of a multimillion dollar general alarm fire which wiped out the center of this Warren County community's business district.

A block-long, black crater smoldered along Washington Avenue — the scar left by a blaze which burned out of control for three and a half hours last night, destroying eight stores and the apartments above them and causing severe smoke and water damage to up to a dozen other buildings.

Fire Chief Melvin Burd unofficially estimated damage at more than $3 million, but said he felt the estimate was conservative.

Mayor Russell Beam surveyed the damage today and said he would ask the federal government for urban renewal aid to rehabilitate this northern New Jersey town of 6,000 residents.

Officials described the fire at the most disastrous in this area in 25 years. One witness said, "the sky was full of smoke and sparks and flames. It almost looked like the whole town was going up."

OK Bill Limiting Court Officials

House Passes Motion Which Would Prevent Commission Expansion

Representatives of the State House of Representatives agreed yesterday that Oakland County needs only two Circuit Court commissioners.

They passed a Senate-approved bill which, if okayed by Gov. Swainson, will prevent an increase to four commissioners because of the County's booming population.

Under existing law, any county with a population over 500,000 is entitled to four commissioners. Oakland County passed that mark in the 1960 census but, according to Sen. Farrell Roberts (R-Pontiac) it doesn't need more than two commissioners.

RAISED REQUIREMENT

Roberts introduced the bill to raise the four-commissioner population requirement to 1,000,000. Wayne is the only Michigan county in that class.

Roberts said he has no doubts the governor will sign his bill.

Oakland County's present commissioners are attorneys Verne C. Hampton, of Bloomfield Hills and Maurice F. Cole, of Ferndale.

They hear matters involving eviction of tenants and foreclosure of land contracts and act on cases where the sale of real estate ends in Circuit Court.

Hampton handles matters in the northern portion of Oakland County and Cole handles south end business.

Lamotte Seascape Mural to Line Presidential Pool

WASHINGTON (AP) — Artist Bernard Lamotte is painting seascape murals on the walls of the White House swimming pool, used almost daily by President Kennedy.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Monday Lamotte is painting marine scenes with hills in the background. The murals reportedly are a gift to the President from his father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

The pool was installed in 1933 for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Kennedy Welcomes Joao Goulart to U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Joao Goulart of Brazil arrived in Washington today for a six-day U.S. visit and received a warm greeting from President Kennedy.

Kennedy told his guest this country looks to the future of the hemisphere with great hope and much of that hope comes from Goulart's leadership of Brazil.

Goulart arrived on a special jet flight and stepped out into a sunny but crisp Washington morning at Andrews Air Force Base. As he left the plane he was greeted by a coatless and hatless President Kennedy.

The two chatted together for a few moments before going through a reception line that included Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high U.S. and Brazilian officials.

Byron White's Nomination Goes to Senate Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of Byron R. White to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court went to the Senate today.

President Kennedy announced last Friday that White, deputy attorney general, would be named to the court to succeed Justice Charles E. Whittaker, who retired April 1 because of ill health.

Senators from both parties have indicated there will be little or no opposition to White's nomination.

White will be the first Coloradan to serve on the high court.

Melvin Nord in 3-Hour Barrage

Dem Lets Loose 1st Talk on Apportionment

LANSING (AP) — A three-hour marathon speech opened the Democratic attack on the Republican plan for legislative apportionment plan for legislative apportionment vention — with more speeches yet to come.

The opening verbal barrage was fired by Melvin Nord, a Detroit law professor and patent attorney, flanked by a pitcher of ice water and a stack of law books.

Nords text ran to 50 pages of single-spaced copy on legal size paper. It was supplemented by another 20 pages of charts, graphs and tables.

Nord told newsmen he didn't expect to sway any votes by his presentation.

"You never swing any votes the first time around," he said, "but I hope to plant a seed in the minds of some of the Republicans, so they may start picking up my ideas themselves."

Meanwhile, a threatened split among conservative-rural GOP delegates and the liberal wing over the creation of a civil rights commission appeared to have been averted with a rewording of an amendment approved tentatively in committee-of-the whole debate last week.

The rewording was worked out between closed doors yesterday in two special caucuses called to consider the civil rights proposal. About a dozen Republican leaders met at Michigan State University in the morning, and then took the proposed new language to a full GOP caucus later.

George Romney, R-Bloomfield Hills, probable Republican candidate for governor, emphasized to newsmen that the amendment was not a compromise.

"It's an improvement and clarification," he said.

The conservatives had objected to some of the strong wording of the proposal adopted last week, preferring to leave it up to the legislature to prescribe the commission's duties and powers.

"We are not against civil rights," said Lee Boothby, R-Niles, a spokesman for the conservatives. "But we are opposed to setting up a free-wheeling commission with unnecessary and uncalled-for power."

One of the main objections was the possibility that the language would be interpreted to grant the commission subpena powers. Under the proposed new wording, the commission would clearly be forced to go to the courts for such power.

It also would be governed by the provisions of the general laws covering all administrative agencies.

Other changes included expansion of the bipartisan commission from four members to eight, and a limiting of its duties to investigating alleged discrimination because of race, religion, color or national origin.

In the reapportionment debate, Nord attacked the Republican plan for apportionment of the Senate on the grounds that it was "too little and too late."

Under he GOP proposal, four seats would be added immediately to the present 34-man body — one each for Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Macomb counties.

EVERY TEN YEARS

In addition, it would establish a bipartisan apportionment commission which would allocate the Senate seats in 1970 and every 10 years thereafter on a formula described as being based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on geographic area.

Branding the proposal as being based on a "monstrous formula," Nord said it equated people with square miles.

"What better form would be found for the expression of contempt for people than to equate one person with a specific amount of dirt?" he said, adding:

"It is not even people which are represented in the legislature, but 80 per cent people plus 20 per cent area. These 'pseudo-people' are what are henceforth to be represented in the legislature on an 'equal' basis.

"We submit that this fails to meet the test of Democratic or even Republican form of government, since it is not people which are to be represented, but pseudo-people."

Boston's Garage Cost Too Much

$1 Million Out of $9.6 Disappears and Police Check Firms

BOSTON (AP)—Beneath ancient Boston Common is a new $9.6-million garage three stories deep. Above the Common, in Massachusetts' gold-domed State House, there is an investigation—to find out where all that money went.

Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr. is checking reports that hundreds of thousands of dollars —perhaps a million—were siphoned from the $9.6 million. The reports say large sums went for work never done. Builder and operator of the garage is the state-sponsored Metropolitan Parking Authority.

Atty. Gen. McCormack, nephew of U. S. House Speaker John W. McCormack (D-Mass.), using state police detectives as investigators, has worked quietly for weeks with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. He has authorized the making of taped interviews with MPA directors.

IRS Director Frank J. Cavanaugh says, "We don't care who might be involved or were we have to go."

Much information has come from resigned MPA Chairman George L. Brady, former Boston newspaper editorial writer.

Investigators expressed great interest in the statement of Sylvan Tizian, Stamford, Conn., engineering consultat, who said he ever received $346,000 consultant fees reportedly paid his firm.

Investigators plan to talk with former Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, due back from a Puerto Rican vacation. He appointed Brady and other top MPA personnel, Furcolo has indicated willingness to answer questions but has pleaded ignorance of the affairs of the garage.

200 Police Tighten Search for Five Escaped Convicts

SAN QUENTIN (UPI) — About 200 police intensified a search today for five convicts who escaped from San Quentin prison in the biggest breakout in the history of the troubled California state institution.

Twenty-three prison guards, aided by units of the California Highway Patrol and Marin County Sheriff's office, centered the search in the suburban residential area of Terra Linda five miles north of the prison.

Authorities said a housewife reported yesterday afternoon that she saw five men walking over a hill near her home.

The convicts scaled the prison wall with a ladder early yesterday while working the overnight shift in the textile mill. The five minimum security prisoners were believed to be carrying screw drivers or self made knives.

Out of Jail 2 Hours, Robs Store, In Again

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Alfonso Ryan, 21, walked out of the Allegheny County workhouse at 9:30 a.m. Monday after serving a 23-month term.

Shortly afterward, police said, he robbed a small store, taking $5 and two candy bars. Detectives arrested him at 11:30 a.m.

Key Stock Losses Fractional

Stock Mart Gives Some Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market gave ground grudgingly in moderate trading late this afternoon.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional. A few went to a point or so.

The market was lower from the start but seemed to be running into increasing resistance on the downside and some market analysts noted that a number of blue chips were "fighting declines."

This was apparent among the mixed steels, motors, oils and mail order-retails. Several moved narrowly to the upside after early losses.

The general atmosphere in Wall Street was still hesitant. Although steel production was up in the latest week, comment was that the steel agreement would mean a slackening of output in the weeks to come, since the fear of a strike had been removed.

UP A FRACTION

Ford was up a fraction and American Motors was firm while Chrysler and General Motors fractionally. Jones B. Laughlin eased.

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel were steady. Republic Steel was off eased.

While Du Pont sank more than a point and Air Reduction continued soft with a 1-point loss, Union Carbide and Eastman Kodak gained nearly a point each.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate. Simca continued to spurt on merger rumors, rising more than 4. Up more than a point were Gorham, Insurance Co. of North America and Permian. Losses of a point or more were shown by Canaveral International, R. C. Williams and Valve Corp. Active fractional gainers included Wentworth Manufacturing and Ambassador Oil. Paddington "A," Technicolor and Cheseborogh-Pond's were losers.

Bond Prices Push Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices pushed upward at the opening today.

Over-the-counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted intermediate and long bonds up 2/32 to 4/32. Many issues were trading at their 1962 highs. Activity was moderate.

Rails and utilities led corporates higher in New York Stock Exchange dealings. Industrials dipped slightly.

Among the few price moves amounting to a full point or more were Consolidated Edison 5s of 1987, up 1¼ at 197¼ and Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad 5s of 1975, up 1⅜ at 91 at one time.

'Airport Noise Tough Problem'

FAA Chief Says Must Be Solved Scientifically and Not Emotionally

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby warned today that the airport noise problem must be solved scientifically, not emotionally.

But the FAA chief, addressing the spring meeting of the Airport Operators' Council, said that pending a breakthrough in engine noise suppression, "reasonable, effective zoning regulations" appear to be the best antinoise weapon.

Halaby criticized communities which complain about airport noise and, he said, then deliberately create situations which may make the problem worse. He specifically cited New York's Borough of Queens as an example.

"The borough has authorized real estate developers to erect a residential housing project practically contiguous with the end of the clear zone off runway 4-22 at LaGuardia," Halaby said.

SEEKING ACTION

"We are trying to get the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration to deny loans. The Port Authority (which operates New York's airports) was helpless to do anything.

"This raises the question of what form of authority may be needed to prevent a community from doing that to itself—and the public at large."

Halaby said the Borough of Queens' action "was enough to confound the most conscientious planners." He said that to purchase the land in question might run as high as $60 million.

The FAA chief said the recent Supreme Court decision in favor of a Pittsburgh home owner whose house was damaged by aircraft noise increased the need for proper zoning restrictions.

But he said the federal government itself cannot impose zoning regulations on individual communities.

He also reiterated that the FAA will never approve additional noise abatement maneuvers which would "place excessive demands upon the pilot."

Grain Futures Prices Turn Slightly Easier

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices turned generally slightly easier today in slack early dealings on the board of trade.

Brokers said most speculators appeared to be in doubt about whether there were sufficient influences at work to move the market more than small fractions either way and that they were reluctant to extend commitments under the circumstances.

Domestic commercial demand was virtually absent and there were no indications that any of the expected export business had been done overnight. Further hedge selling was noted in the corn pit.

Assistant Juvenile Aide Appointed for Oakland

Mrs. Doris Ann McCabe, Detroit, was appointed by Gov. Swainson yesterday as an assistant juvenile officer for Oakland County.

Mrs. McCabe, former counselor for Catholic Social Services of Wayne County, replaces Mrs. Neucy VanDyke, who resigned to become a counselor at the Oakland County Children's Center.

IDEA MEN — These two GMC Truck and Coach Division employes were among the first to hand in suggestions today as the observance of the 20th anniversary of the GM Suggestion Plan got under way in General Motors plants here. Narrowly beaten to the suggestion box by William E. Webber of 3856 Beechgrove, Pontiac, Clyde Duffie of 283 Seward, Pontiac, waits his turn. Webber works in the quality control engine lab at GMC Truck and Coach while Duffie is a group leader in motor assembly.

Suggestions Pour In at GMC Truck Plant

The local observance of the 20th anniversary of the GM Suggestion Plan got off to a big start here today with some 600 suggestions being handed in at GMC Truck & Coach Division in the first few hours of the special program.

Among the first to put their suggestions into "blaze orange" boxes were Clyde Duffie, 283 Seward, a motor assembly group leader, and William E. Webber, 3856 Beechgrove, an employe in the quality control engine lab.

The program will continue through April and thousands of suggestions to make their jobs safer and GM products better are expected to pour in from GM employes here.

GMC Truck officials said they expect to get nearly 100 per cent participation from eligible employes during the month-long observance.

AHEAD OF 1961

They said suggestions are running well ahead of last year and the special April program should swell the total to a new high. Since Jan. 1, some 2,250 suggestions have been received at GMC Truck & Coach, about 500 ahead of the same period last year.

Suggestions submitted last year reached a record high. Some 6,880 were handed in, with 2,220 meriting awards.

Over the past 20 years, more than 62,800 suggestions were submitted at GMC Truck & Coach Division, with $641,930 being paid out in awards.

Under the suggestion plan, employes may supplement their income by putting in suggestions for saving time and material, improving working conditions and safety, and improving quality of the product. Awards go up to $5,000 for a single idea that is adopted.

GMC Truck Gets Order From Turkey

General Motors Truck and Coach Division has been awarded a $24,854 government contract to fill an order for spare parts for trucks as a result of the U.S. foreign aid program to Turkey, announced Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, today.

The purchase of 143 parts items from GM is being made under U.S. economic assistance to Turkey, administered by the Agency for International Development (AID).

The parts will be shipped to a private firm in Ankara.

Terms of the economic AID assistance program provide that American suppliers such as GM have the opportunity to bid on contracts from foreign countries.

All items shipped will bear a distinctive color emblem to inform the people of the assisted nation that the goods result from the AID program, said Broomfield.

Reach Agreement in Grocery-Union Labor Bargaining

DETROIT (AP) — Agreement on a new contract covering union employes in grocery stores in Detroit and eight surrounding counties was announced today following a marathon bargaining session.

The settlement averted a possible strike by 4,300 members of the Retail Clerks Union is nearly 300 stores represented by the United Supermarket Association.

Leaders of Local 876 originally had scheduled a walkout for last Thursday, but postponed the action in favor of a last-ditch attempt at settlement.

Agreement was announced following a bargaining session that started at 9 a.m. yesterday and ended shortly after midnight.

U. N. Bonds Bill Protests Mount

GOP Giving Bipartisan Proposal Rough Going in Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan compromise proposal for financial aid to the United Nations encountered unexpectedly heavy Republican opposition at a conference of GOP senators today.

The proposal, pending before the Senate, would give President Kennedy discretionary authority to lend the United Nations up to $100 million or buy its bonds in that amount.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said another party conference might be necessary because of demands from some of the group for additional limitations on Kennedy's authorty.

He said there is "grave doubt" differences can be ironed out in time to permit the quick and overwhelming Senate passage indicated at the time the compromise was reached among the leaders.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., one of the architects of the compromise, told newsmen "the administration is not out of the woods yet insofar as the United Nations is concerned."

Try Again Thursday to End Pacific Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Government efforts to settle the West Coast maritime strike resume in San Francisco Thursday. A day-long session in Washington yesterday produced no outward sign of progress.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg appealed personally to both sides in Washington yesterday for a quick end to the wage and fringe benefits dispute now in its third week.

The strike of three unions has idled 56 ships in mainland and Hawaii ports, has hit the West Coast economy and has posed a good shortage threat for Hawaii.

Common Mart Asks U. S. Review Tariffs

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The European Economic Community—Common Market—today formally called on the United States to reconsider its decision to impose higher tariffs on carpets and glass.

In a stiff note delivered to the U.S. Embassy here, it also warned that bilateral trade concessions might be jeopardized unless the U.S. decision is rescinded.

The note expressed deep surprise at the U.S. action and hinted it might force the EEC to withdraw American privileges granted at Geneva by the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT).

Novo Industrial Tells Reasons for 1961 Loss

Novo Industrial Corp., parent firm of Fleet Carrier Corp. of Pontiac, had a net loss of $42,877 last year, but corporation officials in New York say general business improvement indicates a profitable operation in 1962.

A 15.8 per cent decline in domestic automobile and truck production and a predicted upturn "which did not materialize" in 1961 were listed as reasons for the loss in a letter to shareholders by Walter E. Bronston, chairman, and William A. Romain, president.

GM Builds Millionth Car of Calendar Year Today

BY BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — General Motors built its one-millionth car of the calendar year today as the auto industry moved into the second quarter in high gear.

At this stage a year ago the huge GM combine was still under 700,000. Several other significant production marks will be reached during this week.

Chevrolet Division, most prolific of the auto builders, will pass the 600,000 mark, a full 100,000 ahead of the total output of any other separate company. The Chevrolet total includes 400,000 of its standard size cars.

Ford Motor Co. passed 500,000 today with Ford Division accounting for slightly more than 410,000 of the total. The corporation was below 350,000 at this time last year.

Chrysler will boost its years production over the 150,000 figure this week, with Plymouth, Dodge and the Chrysler car running neck and neck for top output in the company. Chrysler has been the leader since the start of the year but was nudged out of first last week by Plymouth.

American Motors continues to record the biggest percentage gain. Its total of more than 120,000 is almost 64 per cent ahead of its 1961 performance.

Present production forecasts call for the auto makers to assemble some 1,775,000 cars in the April-June quarter which would give them a first half total of more than 3.5 million, third best in history. The record of 4,257,100 was set in 1955 and the runner-up year was 1960 when 3,809,00 cars were built in the January-June period.

The industry wound up the first quarter last week with 138,742 assemblies, down slightly from the previous week but well ahead of the year-previous total of 101,698.

In Memoriam 2

LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear husband and father, Ernest Cosma, who passed away two years ago today, April 3, 1960.

Time speeds on,
two years have passed
Since death, it's gloom and shadows cast.

Gone is the father
we loved so dear,
Gone is the cheery voice
we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight
or speech,
But, not too far for
Our thoughts to reach.

We'll always remember him, who once was here
And, who, though gone
is just as dear.

You're greatly missed by your grieving wife Helen, ever sad; and all your loving children who truly loved their dad.

Your Income Tax—No. Two

Forms Change but Figuring Tough

By FRANK CORMIER

Many Americans pay a higher federal income tax than necessary because they do not understand the four separate classes of tax returns. Three of them offer special benefits.

Just about everyone knows about two of the classes—the separate and the joint return.

Less familiar are the joint return for those recently widowed and the special return for those who can qualify as the head of a household.

Separate or joint returns may be filed on either of the basic tax forms, 1040 or 1040A. The other two classes may only be filed on form 1040.

ON JOINT RETURN

The joint return is the biggest money saver and may be filed by any couple married as of last Dec. 31. If you were married at the end of 1961, you are considered married for the entire year.

If you were divorced or legally separated on or before the end of the year, you are considered single for the entire year and cannot file a joint return.

If, however, your husband or wife died during 1961, you still may file a joint return and claim a $600 exemption for your deceased spouse.

A joint return results in a lower tax in virtually every case. If you have any doubts about it, figure your tax on both a joint and separate basis and choose the method that produces the best result.

ONE MUST PAY

When a joint return is filed, both husband and wife take full legal responsibility for the entire tax and if one fails to pay, the other must do so.

In a few cases, married couples are prohibited from claiming the advantages of a joint return.

For example, a couple must file separate returns if husband and wife use different tax years, as when a husband pays taxes on a fiscal year basis while his wife uses the calendar year.

Separate returns also must be filed if either husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during 1961. In such cases, however, either husband or wife may be eligible to file a head of household return.

Whenever a husband and wife file separately, they must agree to itemize deductions or claim the standard deduction. Each must follow the same practice.

In states hatving community property laws, couples filing separately must each report one-half their combined community income.

They also must divide any deduction paid from community funds. Otherwise, each lists his own exemptions and reports any income not classed as community income.

The surviving spouse class of tax return may be used if your husband or wife died during 1959 or 1960 and you meet these requirements:

REQUIREMENTS

1. You were entitled to file jointly with your deceased spouse at the time of death and have not remarried.

2. Since then, you have furnished more than half the maintenance of your home which is the principal living place of your child or stepchild for whom you can claim a dependency exemption.

To calculate your tax, use the same schedule as for a joint return. However, you cannot claim an exemption for your late husband or wife.

The head of household return is for single, widowed, divorced or legally separated individuals who maintain a household. Here are the specific requirements you must meet:

1. You must furnish more than half the cost of maintaining a home which is the principal residence of both you and your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or any other relative whom you can claim as a dependent.

2. Or you must pay more than half the cost of maintaining a household for your father or mother, if either qualifies as your dependent.

Special tax rates for heads of households are given in the IRS instruction booklets distributed with tax returns.

Tomorrow: Your exemptions.

City Will Hear Renewal Motion

Commission Expected to Ask Bids to Wreck Commercial Structures

Priority items on tonight's City Commission meeting agenda will include a resolution authorizing City Clerk Olga Barkeley to advertise for bids for demolition of commercial structures in the R20 urban renewal project.

Also slated for tonight's meeting is the second reading of a proposed $3.77-million bond ordinance to finance Pontiac water system improvements needed to handle a Detroit water supply by July, 1963.

The demolition contract will call for the wrecking of 101 structures, mostly commercial in character, on 86 parcels of land.

Most of the structures lie on S. Saginaw Street over an area from Pike to Osmun Streets.

AT HALF WAY MARK

The contract for R20 demolition of residential structures, awarded last September, is currently more than 50 per cent finished.

The city would like to begin wrecking commercial structures this summer or earlier.

Bond attorneys for the city will explain the water bond ordinance to commissioners. Approval will depend on whether any revisions are necessary in the ordinance as it was introduced last week.

Family Plan Revealed---Star's 'Not Quitting Yet'

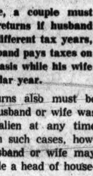
BEVERLY HILLS — Flash! Debbie Reynolds, who is going to have another baby, is also going to have another one after that (and that's exclusive!).

Debbie told me so herself and I'm just assuming she knows what she's talking about.



WILSON

We were sitting in her dressing room at Paramount and she was nibbling at what she admitted was a pretty horrible-looking pear.

"May I ask you a question I shouldn't ask you?" I asked her.

"Why not? You always do!" she shot back with a nice smile.

I asked her if she'd heard from Eddie Fisher. (This was during all the excitement about Eddie's hospitalization.)

"No, but he talked to Harry" — her husband, Harry Karl—when he phoned to say hello to their children, Carey, 5, and Todd, 4. Debbie said the children occasionally get drawings and gifts from Eddie and Liz Taylor.

She and Harry Karl expect their baby in mid-September (a month or so after she finishes "My Six Loves") and, said she:

"I want to have one more after that. I've always thought four children is a nice-sized family. You can announce that I'm not quitting yet."

Debbie finished the pear, which she'd brought as a snack, and said "Now I'm ready for lunch. 'Old cruch,' that's me, is already at the stage of raiding the icebox at 3 a.m."

UP Republican Elected Senator

Lundgren's Opponent Prentiss Brown Jr. May Ask Recount

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Republican Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee succeeded by a slim 151 votes in his fourth bid for a State Senate seat, unofficial returns from yesterday's election showed today.

It appeared likely that his Democratic opponent, Prentiss M. Brown Jr. of St. Ignace, would seek a recount, expecially in view of an election machine failure here.

Lundgren's apparent victory was a reversal of the two previous Senate elections in this Upper Peninsula district. He lost both by less than 105 votes to the late Sen. William E. Miron, D-Escanaba.

At present Republicans outnumber Democrats in the Senate 22 to 10.

Returns from the seven counties making up the district gave Lundgren 13,061 votes to Brown's 12,910. Counties included in the 30th District are Alger, Chippewa, Delta, Luce, Mackinac, Menominee and Schoolcraft.

A check of voting machines in Chippewa County, however, disclosed a 65-vote shortage caused by a Soo precinct machine failure. It was not known immediately how this would affect the election.

The election was held to fill a vacancy in the State Senate due to Miron's death last January.

DECIDED BY RECOUNTS

The 1956 and 1960 elections were both decided by recounts. Miron defeated Lundgren by 103 votes in the 1956 race and only by 69 votes in the 1960 election, in which some 50,000 ballots were cast.

Indict Father, Son on Charges of Stock Frauds

NEW YORK (AP) — A father-son team of brokers, expelled a year ago from the American Stock Exchange, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on new charges of conspiring to manipulate and sell unregistered stock.

The pair, Jerry Re, 65, and his son, Gerard, 39, were accused of a $5-million swindle of Swan-Finch Oil Corp. stockholders.

Indicted with them Monday was Lowell W. Birrell, former president of Swan-Finch, who fled to Brazil in 1958 in advance of federal charges involving more than $13 million in stock frauds, and four others.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said the Res used their position as specialists in the common stock of Swan-Finch to control the price of that stock for Birrell on the American Exchange and to distribute Birrell's stock to the public.

OAS Band Raids Clinic and Murders 9 Moslems

ALGIERS (AP)—A band of Secret Army Organization gunmen stormed into a Moslem clinic today and shot nine of the patients to death on their beds, police reported.

Eight other patients of the clinic were gravely wounded. The 15 terrorists also exploded a charge in the European director's office, heavily damaging much of the building.

A police spokesman said it was the most brutal outrage committed by the Secret Army Organization since it began its terrorist campaign to sabotage the peace agreement between the French government and the nationalist rebels.

The Secret Army Organization is known as the OAS.

A source close to the secret army said the victims probably were members of the Moslem National Liberation Front. Police said the patients in the clinic nearly all were under treatment for ailments not connected with the Algerian war.

3 OTHERS KILLED

Elsewhere in Algiers, European gunmen killed three Moslem pedestrians and wounded several others.

Three secret army agents raided the head office of the government-owned Algerian railroad and got away with $320,000 in Algerian currency.

Two French soldiers were killed and several wounded yesterday in a clash with a band of Moslem deserters from the French army 50 miles east of Oran, the French army command announced. It said seven of the deserters were killed.

Terrorists killed 10 persons and wounded 26 in Algiers and Oran yesterday, authorities reported. Of the dead, five were European and five Moslem. All but one of the wounded were Moslems.

Livonia Mayor Loses in Race for 4th Term

DETROIT (UPI) — Livonia Mayor William W. Brashear went down to defeat last night in his bid for a fourth term to highlight a number of suburban Detroit elections.

Brashear, former city attorney and member of the Livonia Charter Commission, was defeated by real estate agent Harvey W. Moelke. The vote was 8,637-8,543.

Little Monaco Shivering Over Possible Income Taxes

PARIS (AP) — Monaco's status as a never-never land is in danger. The famed casino is still solid on its foundations and the roulette wheels run true.

Grace are cozily settled in the 120-room palace. The 65-man royal guard in chocolate soldier uniforms is ever loyal.

But the gloom among the palm trees can never be washed away by the blue Mediterranean or burned away by Monaco's brilliant sunshine.

The problem is simple: Income taxes.

France has suggested that perhaps Monacans should pay income taxes.

Prince Rainier says that would be the end of the principality.

But President Charles de Gaulle has never flinched at turning French wrath on Russia, the United States or England. He apparently has no qualms about stinging France's littlest neighbor either.

* * *

Solemn negotiations on the subject are in progress between France and Monaco. When the talks are over, Monacans are likely to learn more about taxes.

STORYBOOK LAND

Monaco lives in a state of fictitious independence through French tolerance. Its 300 acres are surrounded by France and the sea. Its 21,000 residents — only about 2,500 of them Monacan citizens — could not live or die without France.

Visitors arrive on French trains, by French highways, or land by plane at a French airport. Electricity and practically everything consumed in the principality come from or through France. Except for souvenir coins, all the money is French.

The treaty covering French-Monacan relations goes back to 1918. At that time, Monaco was a quiet, unambitious little playhouse where wealthy Englishmen and the aristocracy of Europe liked to go for a look at the winter sun and a fling at the casino. Monaco didn't really bother anyone, and France didn't bother it.

Income taxes began in France in 1917. Monaco kept its government going through revenue from the casino, sale of its brightly-colored postage stamps and a wide variety of indirect taxes.

With no army to support, no veterans' pensions to pay, no farm subsidies and no foreign aid contributions, Monaco can still get along the same way.

Profits from the casino tumbled when France allowed French cities to set up their own gambling facilities, but this loss in revenue was made up from other sources.

At couple of years ago, Prince Rainier suggested that Monaco set up a flag of convenience — just like Panama or Liberia — for merchant ships. France said no.

Monaco proposed raising its legation in Paris to the rank of embassy. France politely declined.

Some residents of Monacp whispered that they should be as much entitled to representation in the United Nations as some of the new nations. France didn't hear.

INDUSTRY MOVES IN

All this didn't really matter so much. Then Prince Rainier hired a young American diplomat, Martin Dale, to set up the Monaco Economic Development Corp. Dale, 29, a Princeton graduate who had served as vice consul in Marseille and Nice, encouraged American companies to set up headquarters in Monaco. No corporation taxes, no personal income taxes, a pleasant climate.

More and more plants — electronic, medical supplies, perfumes, plastics — moved into Monaco. French eyebrows started arching stiffly. The list of corporations based in Monaco climbed to 542, the number of businesses registered there totaled some 2,500.

The business volume doubled from 1959 to 1961, and hit about $200 million last year, France claims.

French competitors shrieked as products made in Monaco entered France without duty.

THEY QUARRELED

Then Prince Rainier fell out with Emile Pelletier, the French-man who was acting as minister of state — or premier — of Monaco. Rainier fired Pelletier after a heated exchange. Pelletier was incensed, and so was De Gaulle.

The Monocan minister of state is named by the prince from a list of three candidates nominated by France. De Gaulle held off submitting a new list of names and called for a review of the French-Monacan treaty.

After some preliminary talk on minor points, France came out flatly and said it thought Monacans should be subjected to the same tax structure as Frenchmen.

"We are extremely anxious to come to an agreement with France on many problems but direct taxation would be an attack on the very roots of our sovereignty," said Prince Rainier.

The issue is not resolved. But a mortal blow has been struck at the complacency of Monacans, who thought they could live in a tax-free world as long as each ruler supplied an heir to rule the principality.

FIRE, FLOODS, AND YOU!

Did you know that careless campers and smokers start dozens of floods every year?

It's true! Forest fires are a major cause of soil erosion and floods. When fire burns off the ground cover that holds the rain and protects the soil, the first heavy rain will loosen the soil and carry it down, unchecked, to silt our reservoirs, flood our towns, and pollute our streams.

Clean water and fertile soil are the lifeblood of the land. Be careful. Don't let your fire start a flood!

Remember—Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Senate May Act Thursday

Tax Vote Is Delayed

LANSING (AP) — After an hour and a half of oratory thunder and confused maneuverings on the floor and in caucus, the Senate majority decided last night to postpone a possible tax showdown until Thursday.

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols, R-Jackson, had served notice he would move to discharge the Senate Taxation Committee from consideration of Gov. Swainson's 11-bill tax package centered around a personal and corporate income tax.

He had said he also would ask for immediate consideration of the package of so-called nuisance taxes.

Nichols announced he had agreed to defer the motion until Thursday after he consulted with Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, leader of the GOP majority.

MADE MOTION

"We should be sure of a concrete program before we act," said Beadle.

Sen. Stanley F. Rozycki, D-Detroit, then made the discharge motion on his own.

"Most of us expected him to go through with it," said Rozycki of the motion promised by Nichols. "If Nichols chooses to make a flip-flop, I'll make the motion."

A hasty caucus of Democrats was called and Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, spokesman for the minority group in the Senate, announced Rozycki would withdraw his motion and Democrats would go along with the delay.

"This is the last time that we will go along with postponing action by the Senate," Dzendzel added.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, a bitter income tax opponent, tried to force a vote on the discharge motion. Morris was confident that it could be beaten.

"When you vote for discharge, make it clear you are voting for an income tax," Morris challenged. "You know full well you only have 16 votes for an income tax now—the same as you had in January."

The bid by Morris for a nose count last night was blocked by an adjournment motion passed 19-10. Nine Democrats voted with 10 Republicans for adjournment.

"That will be about the Senate vote for an income tax," predicted one Republican moderate, Sen. John F. Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge.

Representative Reveals His Own State Tax Plan

Tipton Republican's Program Also Based on Flat Rate Levy

LANSING (AP)—The legislature's top tax expert today unveiled a sweeping tax reform program keyed to a flat rate levy on personal and corporate income and a bigger share of the sales tax for local governments.

Like Gov. Swainson and others, Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, also proposed substantial tax relief for business and industry.

Conlin, long an advocate of a state income tax, estimated his blueprint would net the state $100 million a year starting Jan. 1, 1963.

He proposed:

1. A three per cent flat personal income tax, based on the federal system. It would produce $240 million a year.

2. A five per cent flat rate levy on corporation income, with financial institutions taxed at a seven per cent rate. The gain would be $110 million a year.

CUT SALES TAX

3. Reduction in the sales and use taxes from four to three per cent effective June 30, 1963. At the same time, counties would be empowered to levy a local sales tax of one per cent, with the state collecting the tax and returning the proceeds to the counties. The revenue loss would be about $108 million.

4. Repeal of the business ac-

In False Attack Signal

SAC Didn't Warn JFK

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The alert touched off last fall by a false signal indicating a possible attack against the United States at the height of the Berlin crisis never reached the point that a danger signal was flashed to President Kennedy, informed sources said today.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, ordered hundreds of nuclear bombers to be prepared to take off.

But it was understood that at the time he did not inform Kennedy, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara or the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Nor, said the sources, did he give an alert orders to crews of 54 Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles arrayed in five bases.

"It never reached the point where it was necessary to launch the ground alert forces," the sources said.

Had it reached that point, they added, Power would have contacted Kennedy as well as his defense superiors.

One Air Force authority said that "if Power was really scared, he'd have called in higher headquarters."

PEACE OR WAR

In event of an alarm indicating serious trouble, the SAC commander normally would notify the President and the top command promptly. This would permit consultation on steps that could mean a difference between peace and war. If necessary, it would allow the nation's key military and civilian leaders to move swiftly to sheltered command posts.

Since the United States can expect only about 15 minutes warning of a missile assault, time is of the essence in preparing for a counterblow and for making decisions on whether to launch one.

In this case, sources said, Power reacted to a suspected difficulty in the communications system linking SAC headquarters near Omaha, Neb., with the two giant radar stations along the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System — BMEWS — in the far north and with Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Regardless whether Power was "really scared" or not, there were indications some Pentagon officials felt he should have informed Washington.

The incident occurred before dawn one day late last fall.

Officers on duty in SAC's underground command post were startled by signal lights indicating trouble at the BMEWS' station aimed toward the polar cap over which the Soviet Union would be expected to send its missiles in event of a surprise attack.

LINES DEAD

When officers tried to reach the Air Defense Command in Colorado, they found the lines were dead.

Power then ordered bombers at bases around the world to get set to take off with their hydrogen bomb loads.

SAC headquarters said Sunday the doubt lasted only a matter of seconds, but a Pentagon spokesman insisted it was closer to four minutes, as pictured by published reports.

The spokesman said a SAC plane was in the air over Greenland at the time and reported back to headquarters that the BMEW station had not been hit.

Lundgren Wins Senate Seat by 151-Vote Margin

4th Bid for State Post From Upper Peninsula Victory for Republican

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Republican Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee succeeded by a slim 151 votes in his fourth bid for a State Senate seat, unofficial returns from yesterday's 30th Senate District special election showed today.

It appeared likely that his Democratic opponent, Prentiss M. Brown Jr. of St. Ignace, would seek a recount, especially in view of an election machine failure here.

Lundgren's apparent victory was a reversal of the two previous Senate elections in this Upper Peninsula district. He lost both by less than 105 votes to the late Sen. William E. Miron, D-Escanaba.

At present Republicans outnumber Democrats in the Senate 22 to 10.

Returns from the seven counties making up the district gave Lundgren 13,061 votes to Brown's 12,910. Counties included in the 30th District are Alger, Chippewa, Delta, Luce, Mackinac, Menominee and Schoolcraft.

A check of voting machines in Chippewa County, however, disclosed a 65-vote shortage caused by a Soo precinct machine failure. It was not known immediately how this would affect the election.

The election was held to fill a vacancy in the State Senate due to Miron's death last January.

DECIDED BY RECOUNTS

The 1956 and 1960 elections were both decided by recounts. Miron defeated Lundgren by 103 votes in the 1956 race and only by 69 votes in the 1960 election, in which some 50,000 ballots were cast.

A constitutional convention delegate who resigned that post to run again for the Senate seat, Lundgren has held no other public office.

"The people who voted for me before wanted me to run again," he said on resigning the con-con seat March 13. "I had expected the convention to wind up its work by now. But it hasn't and I have no choice now."

Lundgren, a major in the Army Reserve and holder of the silver and bronze stars from duty in World War II, is a past Michigan commander of the American Legion.

He is a pharmacist and owns his own business in Menominee. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and a past president of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association.

EDDIE FISHER

Marriage Is Over for Liz and Eddie

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NEW YORK—The marriage of Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher has ended, involving six—and possibly eight—children in another broken Hollywood union.

What started amid declarations of love, fealty, tenderness and obliviousness to a love-triangle scandal ended with the actress and her singer-husband 5,000 miles apart and a cool, 18-word announcement from Liz' lawyers here last night.

"Elizabeth and Eddie Fisher announce that they have mutually agreed to part," read a representative of attorney Louis Nizer. "Divorce proceedings will be instituted soon."

The spokesman for the famed trial lawyer — who has piloted other headline-making divorces —would not elaborate, nor say when or who would file the action writing finish to the marriage that began May 12, 1959.

Beautiful, four-times-married Liz has three young children by previous marriages, and only a few months ago she and Fisher adopted a year-old Italian girl. Fisher has two children by his "girl next

City Will Hear Renewal Motion

Commission Expected to Ask Bids to Wreck Commercial Structures

Priority items on tonight's City Commission meeting agenda will include a resolution authorizing City Clerk Olga Barkeley to advertise for bids for demolition of commercial structures in the R20 urban renewal project.

Also slated for tonight's meeting is the second reading of a proposed $3.77-million bond ordinance to finance Pontiac water system improvements needed to handle a Detroit water supply by July, 1963.

The demolition contract will call for the wrecking of 101 structures, mostly commercial in character, on 86 parcels of land.

Most of the structures lie on S. Saginaw Street over an area from Pike to Osmun Streets.

AT HALF WAY MARK

The contract for R20 demolition of residential structures, awarded last September, is currently more than 50 per cent finished.

The city would like to begin wrecking commercial structures this summer or earlier.

Bond attorneys for the city will explain the water bond ordinance to commissioners. Approval will depend on whether any revisions are necessary in the ordinance as it was introduced last week.

'Wouldn't Let Paret Rest'

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Leo Johnson is a retired heavyweight who spent some 15 years as a boxer—part of the time as a sparring partner for Benny (Kid) Paret, who died of brain injuries early today at a New York hospital.

"Benny needed a rest," said the husky Negro, who now makes his home here. "Many times he needed a rest, but they wouldn't give it to him. And he never asked for it. He was either too dumb or too proud to ask for it.

"I knew Benny from the time when he first arrived in this country from Cuba," recalled Johnson. "I even tried to teach him English. That was a sidebuster."

Johnson said Paret never learned English well, and that this may be the reason he could not avoid being signed for a series of hard bouts—culminating in the welterweight title bout March 24, in which Emile Griffith beat him fatally.

"He had two rough bouts with Charley Scott," said Johnson. "I saw them. They were punchfests, crowd-pleasing spectacles. Fights like that take something out of a man. He is entitled to a rest afterwards." Benny didn't get one.

NO LETUP

"After the Scott fights, Benny fought Federico Thompson, who is probably pound-for-pound the hardest puncher in boxing today. Then he met Don Jordan, Sugar Hart, Denny Moyer, Thompson again, Gaspar Orega, Emile Griffith twice, Gene Fullmer and Griffith again.

"No opponent he fought was a touch. The only thing that surprises me is that he lasted as long as he did.

"I know Fullmer," continued Johnson, "and I consider him the roughest fighter in the ring today. After you fight him you need six months to get right again. He knocked Benny out in the tenth round. Three and a half months later, Benny was defending his title against Griffith."

Johnson defended the Paret-Griffith bout referee, Rudy Goldstein, as "the most competent official in the business. He stopped the bout soon enough. The tragedy is that somebody didn't stop Benny before he ever got to the ring."

Come Quickly! Emergency!

New City Emergency Phones Go Into Operation Monday

A new system for reporting fires, accidents, broken power lines and other emergencies in Pontiac will go into operation Monday, Fire Chief James R. White said today.

Installation of the new municipal emergency reporting system is nearing completion by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., according to Raymond H. Storm, the company's district manager.

Storm said the system — which will replace Pontiac's familiar old fire department alarm boxes — will be ready when the City Electrical Department completes the switchover Monday.

Under the new system, emergency calls from 73 outdoor telephones located strategically throughout the city will be handled through a switchboard in the new central fire station at 111 E. Pike St.

"Each of the phones, Storm said will be housed in bright red boxes marked: "TELEPHONE—EMERGENCY—FIRE—POLICE"

Anyone reporting an emergency through the new system, need only open the door on the box housing the phone and lift the telephone handset, Storm explained.

The fire department operator will be alerted by a glowing light and a buzzer which will sound when the phone is lifted. The operator will determine the nature and location of the emergency from the caller and will act accordingly.

If necessary, he will be able to direct calls straight through to the police department operator.

The address of each emergency phone in the city is printed beneath the light connected with it on the fire department switchboard. The voice of persons reporting emergencies will be recorded automatically over the phones.

"One advantage of the new system is that emergencies will be reported by voice, enabling the person making the call to give the exact location of the emergency" Storm pointed out.

OAS Band Raids Clinic and Murders 9 Moslems

ALGIERS (AP)—A band of Secret Army Organization gunmen stormed into a Moslem clinic today and shot nine of the patients to death on their beds, police reported.

Eight other patients of the clinic were gravely wounded. The 15 terrorists also exploded a charge in the European director's office, heavily damaging much of the building.

A police spokesman said it was the most brutal outrage committed by the Secret Army Organization since it began its terrorist campaign to sabotage the peace agreement between the French government and the nationalist rebels.

The Secret Army Organization is known as the OAS.

A source close to the secret army said the victims probably were members of the Moslem National Liberation Front. Police said the patients in the clinic nearly all were under treatment for ailments not connected with the Algerian war.

3 OTHERS KILLED

Elsewhere in Algiers, European gunmen killed three Moslem pedestrians and wounded several others.

Three secret army agents raided the head office of the government-owned Algerian railroad and got away with $320,000 in Algerian currency.

Two French soldiers were killed and several wounded yesterday in a clash with a band of Moslem deserters from the French army 50 miles east of Oran, the French army command announced. It said seven of the deserters were killed.

Terrorists killed 10 persons and wounded 26 in Algiers and Oran yesterday, authorities reported. Of the dead, five were European and five Moslem. All but one of the wounded were Moslems.

Nasser, Syrian Leader, Both Appeal for Truce

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A ground-air clash of Syrian armed forces was reported today at rebel-held Aleppo and the Damascus junta resumed radio attacks on the mutineers, indicating a deadlock in negotiations to end the pro-Nasser uprising.

BIERUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and a new commander of the pro-U.A.R. army rebellion in northern Syria appealed today for a bloodless solution of Syria's military crisis.

But the rebels declared they were strong enough to win victory.

A statement issued by Nasser's office in Cairo said the president, who lost the Syrian branch of the U.A.R. in a revolt last Sept. 28, is ready to exert "every effort aimed at preserving Syria" and averting bloodshed.

From the rebel-held Syrian city of Aleppo, 400 miles to the northeast, Col. Luaay Atassi broadcast a call to the military junta running the Damascus government for a truce.

Atassi's truce appeal was broadcast shortly after radio Damascus transmitted a junta ultimatum to the Aleppos garrison to surrender within 90 minutes or be considered in mutiny and punished accordingly.

Implying that the junta already had troops afield, Atassi urged it to halt movements toward Aleppo "to prevent bloodshed and preserve unity to the ranks.

The rebel radio, which described itself as "the voice of the U.A.R.," said the colonel had imposed a curfew on Aleppo "to pave the way for the northern command to settle the national problem quietly and wisely."

To protect civilians, it said, the rebel garrison will not fire a shot "and we shall not raise our arms against our beloved army."

This followed an air raid scare. An hour before the announcement of Atassi's assumption of command an excited voice on the rebel radio said "planes of secessionists" — meaning the air force of the high command in Damascus —were trying to bomb the Aleppo transmitter, 40 miles south of that city. The speaker appealed to the troops to help the rebels.

Atassi canceled this appeal.

Dr. Molner Quits as Health Chief

Detroit Commissioner Resigns; Blame Illness and Rumors of Firing

DETROIT (UPI) — City-County Health Commissioner Dr. Joseph A. Molner, nationally syndicated columnist, resigned today because of ill health and recurring rumors that he would be fired.

Molner's resignation covered only the Detroit portion of his duties. He will continue as Wayne County and Dearborn health commissioner.

Molner's resgination came as no surprise. There had been rumors in recent weeks that Mayor Jerome Cavanagh would replace him.

Deputy Commissioner Dr. Charles P. Anderson was named to succeed Molner.

Molner receives $6,641 a year to devote part of his time to the job of county health commissioner. He returns half of this amount to the city and it is applied to his city salary of $24,331. His job as Dearborn health chief is nonpaying.

In addition, Molner makes an undetermined amount of money from his syndicated health column which appears in newspapers across the nation.

Molner's ouster was certain last month when Cavanagh dropped Dr. Robert L. Novy and Walter J. Murray from the City Board of Health. At that time, Molner said it "would appear there is no reason for the changes unless the new appointees, when they are named, are to remove me."

The board will meet tomorrow and it was expected there would be a quick acceptance of Molner's resignation.

Molner has been ill with virus pneumonia in recent weeks. Cavanagh was in Washington and unavailable for comment.

Molner became Detroit health commissioner in 1949.

The Day in Birmingham

Incumbents Go Back In; Charter Change OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — Incumbent city commissioners in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills were returned to office by voters yesterday with little oppositicn from write-in candidates.

A charter amendment was approved in Birmingham which will al lowthe city to codify its ordinances without publishing them in a newspaper, a move which is expected to save the city several thousand dollars.

Birmingham Commissioners Charles Renfrew and Carl Ingraham polled 1,050 and 923 votes, respectively, against 162 for write-in candidate A. J. Hart.

There was no other opposition for the two commissioners.

Two library board members also were unopposed. They are Daniel Nesbitt, 1,011 votes, and Mrs. Carlyn Vogt, 989 votes.

The charter revision was adopted with a vote of 693 to 184.

Only eight per cent of the city's 14,000 registered voters cast ballots. The total vote was 1,174.

Bloomfield Hills incumbent Commissioners James Beresford and Henry Woolfenden were challenged by a write-in candidate but his attempt fell short of taking one of the two expiring posts.

Beresford received 244 votes; Wolfenden, 200 and write-in candidate Edward A. Schirmer, 76.

Constable Homer J. Murphy, unopposed, received 235 votes.

It was one of the smallest election turnouts for Bloomfield Hills, according to Clerk Robert Stadler. Of the 1,503 registered voters only 293 cast ballots.

The observatory at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, will be open to the public April 11, 13, 17, 18 and May 9 and 18.

Time of viewing for the April dates is 8 p.m.; for May, 8:30 p.m. Bodies expected to be in position for observation include the moon, the planet Venus, along with star clusters and double stars.

There is no admission fee, however the number of persons who will be able to use the six-inch refractor on an evening will be limited.

Oakland County's Young Republican Club will hold training sessions for precinct workers each Wednesday during April.

The sessions, to provide training in canvassing, telephone instructions and other phases of precinct work, will be held at 6 p.m. in Republican Headquarters, 744 S. Adams, Birmingham. The meetings are open to all Oakland County residents.

Test Alertness of Berlin Units

Allied Troops Rush to Combat Positions as MIGs Boom Overhead

BERLIN (AP)—Ten thousand men of West Berlin's Allied garrisons rushed to combat positions early today for a test of alertness.

The exercise roused out most of the American, British and French soldiers in West Berlin. It was the largest operational test undertaken since the building of the Berlin wall last summer.

Three American battle groups, three battalions of British infantry and a French brigade, plus supporting tanks and armored cars rolled through the streets.

The Allies said the test was designed to evaluate the mobility of the units and their ability to react to various situations.

American troops had breakfast in the field and returned to their barracks nearly five hours after being alerted. British and French troops pulled back earlier, after being deployed for three hours.

MIGS FLY OVER

While some of the Western units were still in the field, MIG jet fighters of either the Soviet or East German air forces flew overhead.

Long vapor trails could be seen in the clear blue sky. Sonic booms shook the center of the city as the jets smashed through the sound barrier.

In another military activity, the U.S. Army sent a platoon of infantry rolling along the autobahn lifeline to West Germany. The Army said that the platoon, from Co. A, 3rd Battle Group, 6th Infantry, was going to the West for a brief training period.

Such troop movements are frequently made along the 110 miles of highway across Communist East Germany to demonstrate Western rights to road access to Berlin.

Big maneuvers by the East German army were concluded at the beginning of the week, the East German news agency ADN reported today. The agency said the exercise displayed exemplary combat morale and constant readiness for action.

Neutral Arbitration Asked for Test Ban

GENEVA, (UPI) — Neutrals at the Geneva disarmament conference suggested today that the United States, Britain and Russia let a third party settle their disputes about possible secret testing of atomic weapons.

But British Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Joseph Godber said the neutrals' proposal would work only if the Soviet Union permitted some inspection of its territory by others.

"If the Soviet Union continues to reject international inspection," Godber told the 17-nation disarmament conference, "it is highly improbable that any progress can be made."

The United Arab Republic, Mexico and Brazil joined in the viewpoint of four other neutrals who spoke yesterday.

They argued that although the United States and Britain must accept less international inspection of Soviet territory than they now demand, Russia will have to agree to some form of international inspection or arbitration in order to create international confidence and trust.

The three neutrals who spoke today said they were opposed to nuclear testing anywhere at any time. The Communist bloc promptly picked this up to demand that the United States refrain from testing nuclear weapons as long as test ban talks continue here.

FULL-SCALE DEBATE

The exchanges came on the second day of full-scale conference debate on the stalemate in the Anglo-American-Russian subcommittee on nuclear testing.

The United States and Russia are to wind up the debate tomorrow with closing statements, although they may be subjected to further questioning by the smaller nations.

Mexico's Luis Padilla Nervo said the argument that nuclear testing is necessary to maintain an East-West military balance "is not justifiable because the health of the whole world is affected . . . fallout exceeds national boundaries."

But he said minimum international inspection or control of a nuclear test prohibition is required.

16-Year Vet Succeeds Dethmers

Carr State Chief Justice

LANSING (AP) — Justice Leland W. Carr, a 16-year veteran on the State Supreme Court, became chief justice of the high court today, succeeding Justice John R. Dethmers.

Carr, 79, who is serving his last term on the bench, took over the post without fanfare after a conference of the eight justices just before they assembled to hear oral arguments.

The shift was made known without formal announcement and became apparent only when Carr seated himself in the center chair reserved for the chief justice and began to call cases for agrument.

The selection by his fellow jurists settled, at least temporarily, a simmering feud within the Democratic majority over the selection of a man for the number one spot in the court.

Those six certainly will be touched by the divorce.

Liz, who is in Rome filming the oft-delayed and costly remake of "Cleopatra," has been playing tender scenes off-camera as well as on with costar Richard Burton, the rumored new romantic interest in her life.

Burton is married and has two children, who are in England with his wife, Sybil. Early denials by Burton of a romance with Liz have been replaced by increasing away-from-work appearances with the 30-year old actress on his arm.

Sybil Burton, in an effort to save her marriage, sent an emissary to Rome last weekend to urge her husband not to get entangled in matrimony with Elizabeth Taylor, friends reported today in London.

DENIES INTERCESSION

But the emissary, actor-playwright Emlyn Williams, denied he had actually interceded with Burton.

The actress and Burton went to work as usual today at the film set in Rome where she is playing the role of Cleopatra in a new movie. Burton is playing Antony.

Friends of Mrs. Burton said she asked Williams to intercede with her husband. She believed Burton might take advice from Williams, his long-time mentor.

Williams agreed he had spoken with both Burton and his wife. He said he saw Mrs. Burton before he flew to Rome, and that he talked with her husband for two hours on the set of "Cleopatra" yesterday.

"But I didn't talk with him about this Liz Taylor business," he said in ringing Welsh tones. "I decided it would not be very tactful to mention it."

There were a few scattered patches of light rain and snow flurries, but fair weather prevailed in the major part of the nation today.

tivities tax for a loss of $72 million annually.

5. Repeal of the tax on stocks, bonds and other intangible property at a cost of $32 million.

6. Reduction of the corporation franchise tax from four to two mills, with the cut spread over a two-year period to reduce the impact of the revenue loss.

As a solution to immediate revenue problems, Conlin reluctantly proposed temporary revival of part of the $50 million package of so-called nuisance taxes that expired last June.

Said Conlin:

"This program would completely solve the financial problems of the state for the forseeable future and put an end to the annual impasse to which we have been subjected in recent years."

"It also would be a major step toward the solution of the problems of local government."

Conlin said he would submit his proposals to the legislature if he received an indication of "sufficient bipartisan support and reasonable public approval."

The program can be enacted by amending Gov. Swainson's 11-bill tax package already submitted to the House and Senate Taxation Committee, he said.

The key to passage lies in the Senate. Conlin has been consulting on the tax program with Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, GOP majority leader in the senate.

Beadle indicated last night that new tax proposals will be submitted in the upper chamber Thursday.

Waterford Twp. Board Talks Arrest Ordinance

The much discussed proposed disorderly persons ordinance for Waterford Township was formally introduced by action of the township board Monday night. Final action on the measure is slated for next week.

Board trustee John Coleman again voiced objections to the proposal as he had in prior discussions.

Coleman said he was fearful that proper discretion might not always be used by local police personnel in enforcing the ordinance.

As proposed the ordinance would provide that warrants could be secured within the township from either of the two justices of the peace rather than through the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Justices of the Peace Patrick K. Daly and John E. McGrath both reviewed the proposal and neither had any objection to it. Daly voiced his approval at the meeting and McGrath submitted a letter to township supervisor, Elmer Johnson.

TO USE DISCRETION

Police Chief Millard Pender assured Coleman that the utmost discretion would be used in enforcing the proposed ordinance. He added that the ordinance is merely one based on a state statute and that his department is sworn to uphold the state statute.

Coleman voted on the motion to introduce the proposed ordinance but said later that his affirmative vote on the preliminary action did not necessarily mean he would favor the adoption of the measure.

In other action at the meeting the board voted to establish a citizens committee comprised of professional and lay people to work in conjunction with the County Probate Court to help area youngsters who get in trouble.

James Van Leuven, representing the court, explained the "Youth Assistance Program" now in effect in 20 county communities. He reported that the program had been highly successful and had taken some of the burden off the court case workers. The board will name 30 committee members within the next five weeks.

The board also approved a sewer service rate for the Huron Garden sewer system based on 80 per cent of the present water billing with a $4.50 quarterly minimum for sewers connected to the number 1 system.

The same minimum rate will apply on residential units with a private water supply. The board will determine all other rates.

The barn followed in another fire about the same time this morning. Total loss was estimated at about $1,000.

Fire Cihef Clyde Schmidt said there was no possible explanation for the fires except arson.

When in Rome . . .

Call Guide-International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Going to Rome? Need an English-speaking dentist or perhaps a villa with seven bedrooms and baths for a month?

A personalized service called Guide-International can provide either.

The service guides tourists to everything from out-of-the-way bargains to ice cream sodas.

Guide-International is the brain child of dark-haired, dark-eyed Mrs. Paola Kenneally. The daughter of a Danish count and an Italian woman, Mrs. Kenneally was raised in Italy. But she lived in America for several years after her marriage to an American newsman, William Kenneally, in 1947. She became an American citizen in 1951.

Although Guide-International's clients come from many countries, from India to South Africa, most of them are Americans.

The most common services the organization provides are English speaking secretaries, drivers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and shopping guides.

Mrs. Kenneally said Rome has many bargains but a tourist must know where to go. Her organization also provides guides for bargain hunting expeditions.

PROBLEM CASES

Although the voluble Mrs. Kenneally can fill most requests readily, a few have proved difficult — such as an American industrialist's request to rent a villa with seven bedrooms and bathrooms for a month. Mrs. Kenneally located the villa but suggested to her client that it would be far cheaper to stay in a hotel. He followed her advice.

Mrs. Kenneally's work has led her into some unusual situations.

Once while guiding an American on one of Rome's busy streets, she found they were being chased by police after a mixup at a gas station over a necessary identification book.

One request Mrs. Kenneally was unable to fill was made by a Hollywood celebrity. He wanted sweetened lime juice. She could find only the unsweetened variety in Rome.

A number of Mrs. Kenneally's clients are Hollywood movie people who are making films in Rome and want the service to find them apartments and villas for their stay.

Mrs. Kenneally can tell an American tourist where to find hot dogs — and spaghetti and meat balls.

'MAMA MIA!'

"I never heard of spaghetti and meat balls until I came here after I was married," she said. "It was the shock of my life."

"The Italians will hate me," she added, "but the best pizza I ever had in my life was in New York."

Mrs. Kenneally came up with the idea for her guide service which is affiliated with the Italian Travel Agency, Pierbusseti — while she was working in Italy as a technical assistant on a movie.

"I realized Americans coming to Italy needed such a service," she said.

She returned to her native land in 1960 to organize it, drawing upon her contacts in Rome and her Italian friends to provide the personalized services.

Mrs. Kenneally believes American tourists have become more sophisticated in the last few years.

"Although some of them still want steak just like at home and ice cream sodas, many of them are more willing to explore," she explained. "They are more open minded and prepared to accept what is different. They want to do exactly as Italians do."

Chapters Plan Talks

A comparison of Austrian and United States education will be heard by Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority members today during their April meeting.

The Zeta Chapter will be guests of the Alpha Lambda Chapter in the Oakland County Board of Education rooms where guest speaker, Mrs. Elsriede Werzer, will discuss the two systems of education.

Mrs. Werzer, formerly of Austria, originally came to the United States as an exchange teacher. She returned to live here and is now a teacher in Rochester schools.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. following the Alpha Lambda election of officers.

Spiker-Burkhart Nuptials

Wed in Methodist Church

The Lake Orion Methodist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening nuptials of Joanne Burkart to Dwight L. Spiker, pledged before an altar banked with white gladioli. Rev. Albert B. Johns performed the candlelight ceremony.

Daughter of the Martin Burkharts of Scottwood Avenue, the bride chose white silk organza over satin, styled with fitted bodice and skirt of unpressed pleats. Venice lace accented the scoop neckline and three-quarter length puff sleeves.

She wore a bouffant veil of pure silk illusion, caught by a pearl tiara, and carried white carnations, roses and stephanotis.

MRS. DWIGHT L. SPIKER

Dale Spiker of Oxford stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Dwight E. Spikers of Baldwin Road, Oxford. Robert Rumohr, Rochester, ushered for his brother-in-law with the bride's brother Martin.

After the church reception, the newlyweds left for northern Michigan. They will live in Swiss Village, Lake Orion.

Pink roses and carnations accented Mrs. Burkhart's costume suit of navy blue sheer wool. The moth of the bridegroom appeared in navy silk linen and wore yellow carnations.

Let Son Cry, Abby Says

All Athletes Want to Win, Some Are Just Good Actors

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son is on the high school basketball team. He's a good student and is well liked. His team hasn't won many games this season. Anyone in sports doesn't expect to win all the time, but our son is such a hard loser it is making me sick. When his team loses, he comes home and cries like a baby. No one can talk to him. His father and I think we should make his quit sports if he can't take a loss any better than that. Would it help if we punished him? He should learn how to be a good loser.

ABBY

ONE BOY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: There are no "good losers" — just good actors. All athletes want to win, and feel badly when they don't. Let him have his cry. It won't hurt him half as much as being punished for expressing an honest emotion.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl and my problem is that I steal. It started recently with small things at the shopping center. Then I started taking things at the grocery store and drug store. Now I am taking things from the big store downtown. I steal things I don't even need, just things I see and want at the moment. I never take more than two things at a time. I need help and there is no one else I can turn to except you. I don't want to grow up to be a common thief. I know it is wrong, but I can't stop. Can you help me?

SO ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Not all people who steal things are "common thieves" — some are kleptomaniacs. Because you take things you don't need, you could have a compulsion to "steal." You can be helped if you really want to be. Tell your mother, Honey. She'll know what to do.

DEAR ABBY: Now I have heard everything! A grandmother actually COMPLAINING because she is permitted to visit her grandson only one day a week. She should thank the good Lord she doesn't have to take care of him all the time.

WORN OUT

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Set Grants in Summer Theater

Fifteen full-tuition scholarships for Cranbrook Summer Theater School in Bloomfield Hills will be offered high school graduates of college students, according to Carl G. Wonnberger, director.

Study grants include instruction in voice, diction, pantomime, stage dancing, makeup, stage production and directing. Participation in weekly short plays and in final full-length productions is guaranteed. Recreation in the afternoons will include swimming in Cranbrook's Jonah pools and tennis.

In session June 18-Aug. 11, the theater school has a staff of 26. Under professional direction a repertoire of plays from all periods and in many different media is provided. Many theater school alumni have become actors, writers and producers, and others are engaged in community, college and high school theater work.

Unusually talented students who will be in high school for one more year will be considered for scholarships if they receive the endorsement of their dramatic counselor, principal or department head. "Interest, reliability and purpose will be considered of more importance than talent alone," said Mr. Wonnberger.

Music Unit Hears Talk by Flutist

Schools Instructor Roger Welton Plays for Club

Roger Welton, music instructor in four Pontiac schools and first chair flutist with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, was guest artisit for Matinee Musicale Club's April meeting. Amy Skillman of Lake Angelus Shores was hostess.

Mr. Welton discussed basic fundamentals of the flute and piccolo's tone production. He gave a brief history of the flute and demonstrated the instrument's range and the rapid speed at which it can be played.

In keeping with the program's theme "French Music," selections played by Mr. Welton were Bizet's "Minuet De L'Arlesienne," and "Syrinx," flute excerpts from "Soliloquy for Flute and Strings" (written in the French style) by Bernard Rogers and Debussy's "Afternoon of the Fawn."

Following the guest artist's program, auditions were conducted for the group's May concert program. Mrs. Ted Panaretos of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale was judge.

Auditioning were pianists Gwen Murphy, Kristin Lindquist, Julie Bird, Patty Proud, Tom Putnam, Kathy Brown, Bob Ralston, Ann Latoza and Alice Cheal.

'Teens' Toes Taper Down

(UPI) — The basic silhouette of the teen flat and moccasin is slightly foreshortened this season — in contrast to the elongated look of the past seasons.

While moccasins are chiefly rounded or squared toed, most other teen shoes are seen in tapered crescent and squared toes. In a few fad shoes, the toe is in an oblique line.

New Beret Line

(UPI) — Berets for spring include a version blown up to picture-hat proportions. Some of the smallest, pint-size and sleek as caps, have visors.

CORE Chief's Wife Held in His Shooting

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The wife of a 26-year-old Negro integration leader was arrested today in the shooting of her husband.

The husband, Blyden Jackson, president of the New Haven chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, was charged with giving false information to police.

Jackson was wounded in the chest last night, and was reported in no danger by doctors at Grace-New Haven hospital. Police said he told of three shabbily dressed Negro men attacking him when he refused them a handout.

His wife, Carmel Jackson, 24, was booked on a charge of assault with intent to kill. She was arrested after questioning during the night.

Children may now have a tricycle that steers on all three wheels.

Michigan Invites John Glenn to Three Festivals

LANSING (AP). — Gov. Swainson has written Lt. Col. John Glenn urging the astronaut to accept three invitations to visit Michigan.

Detroit and Wyandotte invited Glenn to their Fourth of July celebrations and Traverse City asked him to the July 12-15 National Cherry Festival.

"I urge you to give serious consideration to a visit to Michigan whenever your schedule will permit,' the governor wrote. "I hopefully add my voice to the personal invitations you have received from our fine Michigan communities.'

Detroit invited Glenn to its annual Freedom Festival — a week long event celebrated jointly by Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

Stevens Goes Right Ahead With Another Christ Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—A less resolute man than George Stevens might have left it the greatest story ever untold.

Hollywood had just about written off Stevens' version of the Christ story after:

1. MGM financed and released "King of Kings"; 2. 20th Century-Fox withdrew its sponsorship of "The Greatest Story Ever Told," the studio being unable to afford that and "Cleopatra," too.

But Stevens is not only one of Hollywood's great film creators ("A Place in the Sun," "Shane," "Giant"). He is also determined. He had a vision of the Christ story which he felt deserved telling, no matter what the competition.

United Artists saw it his way and agreed to back him. So Stevens and company moved out of Fox's Westwood lot and set up shop five miles distant at Desilu Pathe in Culver City.

That's where I found him when I dropped in for a progress report.

SEA OF GALILEE

"We'll start shooting in July," Stevens said. "I've already got a location scouting crew looking around the country for places to shoot. They're in Utah now at a place called Bear Lake, which could double for the Sea of Galilee.

"They'll also look at places in Arizona. I want three big locations where we will build sets and everything. We're also building a big set on the back lot there.

"We'll shoot the whole picture in the United States."

Some missionary work had to be done to convince local people of the value of stay-at-home production. He had to get city officials to permit night shooting; local law makes it stop at 11 p.m.

JOHN GUILD

"We also are talking to the extras' guild about changing rules," he added. "The guild allows outsiders in mob scenes only if they wear modern dress. The minute they put on costumes, they must belong to the guild."

Stevens expects to shoot 26 weeks for an undetermined cost. "It won't be as high as a 'Mutiny on the Bounty' or a 'Cleopatra,'" he said. "It will cost whatever is needed to tell the story."

Only one casting is set so far: Max Von Sydow, the lean-faced Swede who will play Christ.

No Pressures Noticed

Stock Mart Slumps Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market edged downward in moderately active trading early today.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional.

There was no particualr selling pressure in any group and, at the same time, no signs of aggressive buying. A scattering of fractional gains bucked the downtrend.

Steels were very narrowly mixed. Although steel production rose in the latest week, expectations were that it would slacken off as the result of the labor settlement.

Motors also were uneven. Chrysler and General Motors lost fractions. Ford was up slightly.

Most rails were unchanged. A few showed minor plus signs, Southern Pacific among them.

Walter E. Heller continued to give ground in a further reaction to the alleged fraud against 12 finance companies but it lost only a fraction.

Korvette picked up close to a point. Du Pont was around a point lower.

Despite its receipt of some $38 million in Air Force contracts, Boeing dipped fractionally. General Dynamics eased.

Oils were unchanged to a bit lower. Drugs and tobaccos were slightly lower on balance.

Among small gainers were American Ailines, U.S. Gypsum, Schering and Goodyear.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Insurance Co. of North America was up about a point. Aeronca, Syntex and Molybdenum gained fractions. Mead Johnson lost a point. Down fractionally were Brazilian Traction, Louisiana Land and Tampa Electric.

Industrial Supply Firm on Cass Has New Name

The firm at 88 S. Cass Ave. formerly known as Cutting Tools and Supplies Inc. has changed its name to National Industrial Supply Co., it was annouced today by L. Clare Utley, president and treasurer.

* * *

The new name better identifies the company's operations in the field of industrial sales, said Utley. No changes in ownership, are planned, he said.

Try Again Thursday to End Pacific Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Government efforts to settle the West Coast maritime strike resume in San Francisco Thursday. A day-long session in Washington yesterday produced no outward sign of progress.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg appealed personally to both sides in Washington yesterday for a quick end to the wage and fringe benefits dispute now in its third week.

The strike of three unions has idled 56 ships in mainland and Hawaii ports, has hit the West Coast economy and has posed a good shortage threat for Hawaii.

'Airport Noise Tough Problem'

FAA Chief Says Must Be Solved Scientifically and Not Emotionally

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby warned today that the airport noise problem must be solved scientifically, not emotionally.

But the FAA chief, addressing the spring meeting of the Airport Operators' Council, said that pending a breakthrough in engine noise suppression, "reasonable, effective zoning regulations" appear to be the best antinoise weapon.

Halaby criticized communities which complain about airport noise and, he said, then deliberately create situations which may make the problem worse. He specifically cited New York's Borough of Queens as an example.

"The borough has authorized real estate developers to erect a residential housing project practically contiguous with the end of the clear zone off runway 4-22 at LaGuardia," Halaby said.

SEEKING ACTION

"We are trying to get the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration to deny loans. The Port Authority (which operates New York's airports) was helpless to do anything.

"This raises the question of what form of authority may be needed to prevent a community from doing that to itself—and the public at large."

Halaby said the Borough of Queens' action "was enough to confound the most conscientious planners." He said that to purchase the land in question might run as high as $60 million.

The FAA chief said the recent Supreme Court decision in favor of a Pittsburgh home owner whose house was damaged by aircraft noise increased the need for proper zoning restrictions.

But he said the federal government itself cannot impose zoning regulations on individual communities.

He also reiterated that the FAA will never approve additional noise abatement maneuvers which would "place excessive demands upon the pilot."

GMC Truck Gets Order for Turkey

General Motors Truck and Coach Division has been awarded a $24,854 government contract to fill an order for spare parts for trucks as a result of the U.S. foreign aid program to Turkey, announced Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, today.

* * *

The purchase of 143 parts items from GM is being made under U.S. economic assistance to Turkey, administered by the Agency for International Development (AID).

The parts will be shipped to a private firm in Ankara.

Terms of the economic AID assistance program provide that American suppliers such as GM have the opportunity to bid on contracts from foreign countries.

All items shipped will bear a distinctive color emblem to inform the people of the assisted nation that the goods result from the AID program, said Broomfield.

Labor, Industry Differ

Debate Steel-Pact Costs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The real cost of the steel labor peace as measured in squeeze on profits and pressure on prices is up today for sharp debate.

The Kennedy administration hails the pact—rated as a 10-cent hourly boost in fringe benefits with no immediate wage hike—as noninflationary. The administration holds that the steel companies can absorb that increase in labor costs, smallest in eight years, without raising prices. Gains in productivity and tax savings on depreciation of recently installed equipment are expected to provide the wherewithal.

LABOR'S CONTENTION

Labor also holds that the fringe benefit payments are well covered by past price hikes and by increased productivity — that is, the ability each year to turn out the same steel tonnage with fewer man hours of labor.

* * *

Steel management contends this isn't so. It holds that prices should have gone up last fall, and it says the new costs will exceed any expectable gain in productivity. The companies contend that profits already are squeezed and will be lowered further unless prices rise.

FACE OBSTACLES

But most steel company officials know they face three obstacles to raising prices now — domestic competition is keen and excess production capacity means that some other company could produce more and undersell them, should they hike their price lists; foreign steel at lower prices would be available to resentful consumers, and steel's growing list of competitors among other metals, plastics and other materials promises still more new products or increasing price attractiveness.

* * *

Just how much of an increase in costs is involved in the new pact being hammered out for July 1 depends on who is doing the figuring.

MARGIN DISPUTED

Steel executives say that labor costs will go up 2.5 per cent under the new pact. This is close to the percentage figure that the administration and the labor unions use in figuring the annual rise in output per man hour.

But steel management contests this. It holds that the average annual increase in productivity is closer to 1.7 per cent.

The gap between this output gain and the increase in labor costs, in the argument of the steel companies, will have to be filled either by raising steel prices again or by taking a further drop in profit margins.

FIGURE DIFFERENTLY

The dispute illustrates the larger one over just how productivity gains are to be measured. Labor stresses that fewer men are needed now to put out as much goods as in the past because of great strides in mechanization and in production methods. It measures productivity in jobs and hours worked.

* * *

Management adds other factors to this. It stresses the cost of the new plants and new machines and the great cost of the automatic devices. It holds that part of the productivity gains should go toward paying such costs and also toward increasing profits out of which still newer devices can be bought, and which must be bought if individual companies are to stay competitive.

And company officials also say the productivity gains aren't the sole result of mechanization or increased output per man hour of labor. Also contributing are efficient management and better distributing and selling methods.

IDEA MEN — These two GMC Truck and Coach Division employes were among the first to hand in suggestions today as the observance of the 20th anniversary of the GM Suggestion Plan got under way in General Motors plants here. Narrowly beaten to the suggestion box by William E. Webber of 3856 Beechgrove, Pontiac, Clyde Duffie of 283 Seward, Pontiac, waits his turn. Webber works in the quality control engine lab at GMC Truck and Coach while Duffie is a group leader in motor assembly.

Suggestions Pour in at GMC Truck Plant

The local observance of the 20th anniversary of the GM Suggestion Plan got off to a big start here today with some 600 suggestions being handed in at GMC Truck & Coach Division in the first few hours of the special program.

Among the first to put their suggestions into "blaze orange" boxes were Clyde Duffie, 283 Seward, a motor assembly group leader, and William E. Webber, 3856 Beechgrove, an employe in the quality control engine lab.

The program will continue through April and thousands of suggestions to make their jobs safer and GM products better are expected to pour in from GM employes here.

GMC Truck officials said they expect to get nearly 100 per cent participation from eligible employes during the month-long observance.

AHEAD OF 1961

They said suggestions are running well ahead of last year and the special April program should swell the total to a new high. Since Jan. 1, some 2,250 suggestions have been received at GMC Truck & Coach, about 500 ahead of the same period last year.

Suggestions submitted last year reached a record high. Some 6,880 were handed in, with 2,220 meriting awards.

Over the past 20 years, more than 62,800 suggestions were submitted at GMC Truck & Coach Division, with $641,930 being paid out in awards.

Under the suggestion plan, employes may supplement their income by putting in suggestions for saving time and material, improving working conditions and safety, and improving quality of the product. Awards go up to $5,000 for a single idea that is adopted.

A 15.8 per cent decline in domestic automobile and truck production and a predicted upturn "which did not materialize" in 1961 were listed as reasons for the loss in a letter to shareholders by Walter E. Bronston, chairman, and William A. Romain, president.

GM Builds Millionth Car of Calendar Year Today

BY BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — General Motors built its one-millionth car of the calendar year today as the auto industry moved into the second quarter in high gear.

At this stage a year ago the huge GM combine was still under 700,000. Several other significant production marks will be reached during this week.

Chevrolet Division, most prolific of the auto builders, will pass the 600,000 mark, a full 100,000 ahead of the total output of any other separate company. The Chevrolet total includes 400,000 of its standard size cars.

Ford Motor Co. passed 500,000 today with Ford Division accounting for slightly more than 410,000 of the total. The corporation was below 350,000 at this time last year.

Chrysler will boost its years production over the 150,000 figure this week, with Plymouth, Dodge and the Chrysler car running neck and neck for top output in the company. Chrysler has been the leader since the start of the year but was nudged out of first last week by Plymouth.

American Motors continues to record the biggest percentage gain. Its total of more than 120,000 is almost 64 per cent ahead of its 1961 performance.

Present production forecasts call for the auto makers to assemble some 1,775,000 cars in the April-June quarter which would give them a first half total of more than 3.5 million, third best in history. The record of 4,257,100 was set in 1955 and the runner-up year was 1960 when 3,809,00 cars were built in the January-June period.

The industry wound up the first quarter last week with 138,742 assemblies, down slightly from the previous week but well ahead of the year-previous total of 101,698

Your Income Tax—No. 1

Forms Change but Figuring Tough

By FRANK CORMIER

Many Americans pay a higher federal income tax than necessary because they do not understand the four separate classes of tax returns. Three of them offer special benefits.

Just about everyone knows about two of the classes—the separate and the joint return.

Less familiar are the joint return for those recently widowed and the special return for those who can qualify as the head of a household.

Separate or joint returns may be filed on either of the basic tax forms, 1040 or 1040A. The other two classes may only be filed on form 1040.

ON JOINT RETURN

The joint return is the biggest money saver and may be filed by any couple married as of last Dec. 31. If you were married at the end of 1961, you are considered married for the entire year.

If you were divorced or legally separated on or before the end of the year, you are considered single for the entire year and cannot file a joint return.

If, however, your husband or wife died during 1961, you still may file a joint return and claim a $600 exemption for your deceased spouse.

A joint return results in a lower tax in virtually every case. If you have any doubts about it, figure your tax on both a joint and separate basis and choose the method that produces the best result.

ONE MUST PAY

When a joint return is filed, both husband and wife take full legal responsibility for the entire tax and if one fails to pay, the other must do so.

In a few cases, married couples are prohibited from claiming the advantages of a joint return.

For example, a couple must file separate returns if husband and wife use different tax years, as when a husband pays taxes on a fiscal year basis while his wife uses the calendar year.

Separate returns also must be filed if either husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during 1961. In such cases, however, either husband or wife may be eligible to file a head of household return.

Whenever a husband and wife file separately, they must agree to itemize deductions or claim the standard deduction. Each must follow the same practice.

In states hatving community property laws, couples filing separately must each report one-half their combined community income.

They also must divide any deduction paid from community funds. Otherwise, each lists his own exemptions and reports any income not classed as community income.

The surviving spouse class of tax return may be used if your husband or wife died during 1959 or 1960 and you meet these requirements:

REQUIREMENTS

1. You were entitled to file jointly with your deceased spouse at the time of death and have not remarried.

2. Since then, you have furnished more than half the maintenance of your home which is the principal living place of your child or stepchild for whom you can claim a dependency exemption.

To calculate your tax, use the same schedule as for a joint return. However, you cannot claim an exemption for your late husband or wife.

The head of household return is for single, widowed, divorced or legally separated individuals who maintain a household. Here are the specific requirements you must meet:

1. You must furnish more than half the cost of maintaining a home which is the principal residence of both you and your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or any other relative whom you can claim as a dependent.

2. Or you must pay more than half the cost of maintaining a household for your father or mother, if either qualifies as your dependent.

Special tax rates for heads of households are given in the IRS instruction booklets distributed with tax returns.

Tomorrow: Your exemptions.

CONGRATULATES SUCCESSOR — Byron R. White (left), named an associate justice of the Supreme Court, congratulates his successor as deputy attorney general, Nicholas Katzenbach, after President Kennedy named him to the Justice Department post. The appointment of 40-year-old Katzenbach, a native of Philadelphia, is subject to Senate confirmation.

White's Successor Ex-Law Professor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stepping into Byron R. White's shoes as No. 2 man in the Justice Department is Nicholas de Borde Katzenbach, an ex-law professor who boned up on his studies while a prisoner of war.

Katzenbach, assistant attorney general and chief of the department's office of legal counsel, was appointed Monday by President Kennedy to succeed White. White has been named to the Supreme Court. Both nominations must be confirmed by the Senate.

PRAISES APPOINTEE

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Katzenbach's "initiative, judgment and ability have been invaluable in the last 12 months."

Like White, Katzenbach, 40, was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford and studied law at Yale.

He got his undergraduate degree at Princeton and later taught law at Yale and the University of Chicago. His Justice Department biography laconically breezes over one chapter in his life with the notation: "Also was in th U.S. Air Force from 1942 to 1945."

WAS GERMAN PRISONER

He left Princeton as a junior to enter the Army Air Corps in World War II, became a bomber-navigator and was shot down over the Mediterranean. The Germans clapped him into a prisoner of war camp for two years.

"It was terribly boring," complained Katzenbach.

To make it less so, he turned to his books, and did so well that he completed his final two years at Princeton within a few weeks of his return and was graduated cum laude.

It was White, a school mate at Yale, who talked Katzenbach into joining the Justice Department. Katzenbach, who was not active in politics, had been studying international law on a fellowship at Geneva.

Family Plan Revealed---Star's 'Not Quitting Yet'

BEVERLY HILLS — Flash! Debbie Reynolds, who is going to have another baby, is also going to have another one after that (and that's exclusive!).

Debbie told me so herself and I'm just assuming she knows what she's talking about.

We were sitting in her dressing room at Paramount and she was nibbling at what she admitted was a pretty horrible-looking pear.

"May I ask you a question I shouldn't ask you?" I asked her.

"Why not? You always do!" she shot back with a nice smile.

I asked her if she'd heard from Eddie Fisher. (This was during all the excitement about Eddie's hospitalization.)

"No, but he talked to Harry" — her husband, Harry Karl—when he phoned to say hello to their children, Carey, 5, and Todd, 4. Debbie said the children occasionally get drawings and gifts from Eddie and Liz Taylor.

She and Harry Karl expect their baby in mid-September (a month or so after she finishes "My Six Loves") and, said she:

"I want to have one more after that. I've always thought four children is a nice-sized family. You can announce that I'm not quitting yet."

Debbie finished the pear, which she'd brought as a snack, and said "Now I'm ready for lunch. 'Old cruch,' that's me, is already at the stage of raiding the icebox at 3 a.m."

State Dept. Denies Thompson Resigning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union is not resigning and will return to Moscow soon.

State Department press officer Lincoln White was queried yesterday about a report that Thompson is resigning and that another veteran diplomat, Jacob Beam, would succeed him.

"He (Thompson) is definitely returning to Moscow, he is definitely not resigning, therefore the speculation as to who will replace him is, shall we say, academic at this point," White said.

MSU Scientist Has Section on Religion in Text

EAST LANSING (AP) — A new basic college text book on zoology by a Michigan State University scientist includes a brief section on religion, a topic the author says ordinarily is avoided in scientific texts.

Dr. Lincoln C. Pettit says in his preface to the book, "Introductory Zoology," that he included the section as one of several ways of "relating religion to life."

"Students," he said, "are much more interested in the relationship between science and religion than is generally recognized."

The assistant professor of natural science emphasizes common interests of science and religion in such areas as orderliness in nature, ethics, social consciousness and value judgments.

Lamotte Seascape Mural to Line Presidential Pool

WASHINGTON (AP) — Artist Bernard Lamotte is painting seascape murals on the walls of the White House swimming pool, used almost daily by President Kennedy.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Monday Lamotte is painting marine scenes with hills in the background. The murals reportedly are a gift to the President from his father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

The pool was installed in 1933 for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Souvanna of Laos Visiting in France

TOKYO (AP) — Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos left for Paris today, Communist China's new China news agency reported.

Souvanna, the neutralist leader who is the choice of the major powers to head a coalition government, is not expected to return to Laos before June. He is to undergo medical treatment, attend the marriage of a daughter and visit with his family.

Efforts to form a coalition government for Laos have snagged on the refusal of the right-wing, pro-Western government in Vietiane to give up the key defense and interior ministries to Souvanna's neutralists.

Souvanna left Khang Khay, the rebel capital in the Plaine Des Jarres, in a Russian plane.

No News Conference for JFK This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary Pierre Salinger says President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week for the first time in five weeks. He said there was no particular reason for the decision.

Salinger also annouced yesterday that Kennedy will send Congress a special message Thursday outlining administration policies on transportation.

An award "to that military member or civil service employe of the United States Air Force who has made the most outstanding contribution to the nation's progress in aerospace" has been created in honor of Gen. Thomas D. White, retiring chief of staff of the Air Force.

Little Monaco Shivering Over Possible Income Taxes

PARIS (AP) — Monaco's status as a never-never land is in danger. The famed casino is still solid on its foundations and the roulette wheels run true.

Prince Rainier and Princess Grace are cozily settled in the 120-room palace. The 65-man royal guard in chocolate soldier uniforms is ever loyal.

But the gloom among the palm trees can never be washed away by the blue Mediterranean or burned away by Monaco's brilliant sunshine.

The problem is simple: Income taxes.

France has suggested that perhaps Monacans should pay income taxes.

Prince Rainier says that would be the end of the principality.

But President Charles de Gaulle has never flinched at turning French wrath on Russia, the United States or England. He apparently has no qualms about stinging France's littlest neighbor either.

Solemn negotiations on the subject are in progress between France and Monaco. When the talks are over, Monacans are likely to learn more about taxes.

STORYBOOK LAND

Monaco lives in a state of fictitious independence through French tolerance. Its 300 acres are surrounded by France and the sea. Its 21,000 residents — only about 2,500 of them Monacan citizens — could not live or die without France.

Visitors arrive on French trains, by French highways, or land by plane at a French airport. Electricity and practically everything consumed in the principality come from or through France. Except for souvenir coins, all the money is French.

The treaty covering French-Monacan relations goes back to 1918. At that time, Monaco was a quiet, unambitious little playhouse where wealthy Englishmen and the aristocracy of Europe liked to go for a look at the winter sun and a fling at the casino. Monaco didn't really bother anyone, and France didn't bother it.

Income taxes began in France in 1917. Monaco kept its government going though revenue from the casino, sale of its brightly-colored postage stamps and a wide variety of indirect taxes.

With no army to support, no veterans' pensions to pay, no farm subsidies and no foreign aid contributions, Monaco can still get along the same way.

Profits from the casino tumbled when France allowed French cities to set up their own gambling facilities, but this loss in revenue was made up from other sources.

A couple of years ago, Prince Rainer suggested that Monaco set up a flag of convenience — just like Panama or Liberia — for merchant ships. France said no.

Monaco proposed raising its legation in Paris to the rank of embassy. France politely declined.

Some residents of Monaco whispered that they should be as much entitled to representation in the United Nations as some of the new nations. France didn't hear.

INDUSTRY MOVES IN

All this didn't really matter so much. Then Prince Rainier hired a young American diplomat, Martin Dale, to set up the Monaco Economic Development Corp. Dale, 29, a Princeton graduate who had served as vice consul in Marseille and Nice, encouraged American companies to set up headquarters in Monaco. No corporation taxes, no personal income taxes, a pleasant climate.

More and more plants — electronic, medical supplies, perfumes, plastics — moved into Monaco. French eyebrows started arching stiffly. The list of corporations based in Monaco climbed to 545, the number of businesses registered there totaled some 2,500.

The business volume doubled from 1959 to 1961, and hit about $200 million last year, France claims.

French competitors shrieked as products made in Monaco entered France without duty.

THEY QUARRELED

Then Prince Rainier fell out with Emile Pelletier, the Frenchman who was acting as minister of state — or premier — of Monaco. Rainier fired Pelletier after a heated exchange. Pelletier was incensed, and so was De Gaulle.

The Monocan minister of state is named by the prince from a list of three candidates nominated by France. De Gaulle held off submitting a new list of names and called for a review of the French-Monacan treaty.

After some preliminary talk on minor points, France came out flatly and said it thought Monacans should be subjected to the same tax structure as Frenchmen.

"We are extremely anxious to come to an agreement with France on many problems but direct taxation would be an attack on the very roots of our sovereignty," said Prince Rainier.

The issue is not resolved. But a mortal blow has been struck at the complacency of Monacans, who thought they could live in a tax-free world as long as each ruler supplied an heir to rule the principality.

FIRE, FLOODS, AND YOU!

Did you know that careless campers and smokers start dozens of floods every year?

It's true! Forest fires are a major cause of soil erosion and floods. When fire burns off the ground cover that holds the rain and protects the soil, the first heavy rain will loosen the soil and carry it down, unchecked, to silt our reservoirs, flood our towns, and pollute our streams.

Clean water and fertile soil are the lifeblood of the land. Be careful. Don't let your fire start a flood!

Remember—Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!
