Soviet Confirms Date for Parley

OKs Big 3 Acceptance of Jan. 25 for 4-Power Conference

LONDON (INS) — A dispatch from Moscow said today that Russia has sent identical notes to the American, British and French ambassadors confirming Jan. 25 as the date of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference.

The Big Three Western Powers accepted on New Year's Day the proposal of the Soviet Union to defer the projected Berlin meeting until Jan. 25.

The three Western powers originally had proposed Jan. 4 as the opening date, and in their Jan. 1 note expressed regret that Russia had not accepted the proposed earlier date.

The U.S. reply left unsettled the question of the exact place in Berlin where the discussions should occur, and agreed to a previous suggestion by Russia that this detail be worked out by the four high commissioners to Germany.

The American note reiterated American preference that the Big Four meeting on the German problem be held in the building formerly used by the four-power Allied Control Authority.

21 Are Killed in Accidents Over New Year Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan escaped in its New Year weekend the staggering accidental death toll of its Christmas weekend.

However, 21 persons died, leaving a grim mark on the New Year's opening.

Eighteen were killed in automobile traffic. There were two suffocations and a fatal accidental shooting.

Accidental deaths in the nation during the three-day New Year's weekend were just shy of the record set three years ago, but still were far below the total registered a week earlier during the Christmas weekend.

At least 298 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour period from 6 p. m. Thursday to midnight Sunday. Another 39 died in fires and 71 more were killed in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 408.

The last of Michigan's New Year weekend victims included a young expectant mother and a small child, both killed in traffic Sunday.

Mrs. James Ricker, 18, of Owendale, who was expecting a child, lost her life on her way to church when her car skidded on icy pavement in Owendale and hit a utility pole. Owendale is 16 miles southwest of Bad Axe.

Mrs. Ricker's mother-in-law, Mrs. Vern Ricker, suffered back and neck injuries.

Three-year-old Julie Mendenhall of Berrien Center was killed when her parents' car collided with another three miles west of Cassopolis. Her mother, Mrs. Helen Mendenhall, 27, was hurt seriously.

Daniel W. Hansen, 4, of Jenison, died in a Grand Rapids hospital Sunday, 14 hours after he was thrown from his father's car as it was struck broadside by a truck.

James F. Allen, 39, Alpena's top ranking officer in World War II, was fatally injured Sunday while en route to church. His car sideswiped a fish-shanty trailer on US 23 three miles north of Alpena and rolled over.

17,500 Students Back in Classes After Holidays

Some 17,500 Pontiac youngsters went back to school today after almost a dozen days of Christmas-New Year's vacation.

Pontiac Public Schools' 16,285 students had been vacationing since Dec. 23. St. Trinity Lutheran, St. Michael and St. Frederick schools had closed Dec. 22.

The semester's end Jan. 29 will give 5,600 students in Pontiac High School and five junior high schools a "long weekend," although elementary school youngsters will attend classes that Friday.

Final exams in PHS and the junior highs will end Thursday noon, Jan. 28, leaving youngsters free to rest as teachers do semester-end work.

Draft Call Lower; Oakland Quota 48

LANSING (AP)—Michigan was ordered today to send 918 men for induction into the Armed Services in February, the smallest draft call in more than a year.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state Selective Service director, said the call is for 210 men less than the January call.

Wayne County will provide 354 men and Oakland County 48 of the number called.

Find 1 Survivor of Bomber Crash

Rescue Party Hunts for Other in New Mexico Mountains

CARRIZOZO, N. W., (UP)—One of two men who bailed out of a crashing B-26 bomber over the Sacramento Mountains last night was found "in good condition" today and rescue planes reported sighting the parachute of the other.

A rescue party, bucking deep snowdrifts on White Peak 10 miles northeast of here found Sgt. Willie W. Woods of Sunflower, Miss., and another party was making its way toward the parachute of Capt. Frederick M. Werth of Bristol, Va.

Authorities feared the two men would have been badly injured in parchuting over the heavily forested mountain terrain.

The shattered wreckage of the twin-engine attack bomber was found near White Peak some 10 miles northeast of Carrizozo. One party of searchers was crossing the mountains toward a small ground fire about three miles away.

Col. Frank B. Sharp, commander of Holloman Air Development Center where the plane was based, said the fire may have been started by one of the crew.

Sharp said a large-scale air search would start at daylight with planes to be called in from as far away as California.

Cause of the crash was not known. The crew reported no trouble when making their last radio contact over Wink, Tex. The plane was returning from a flight to Brookley Field, Ala.

See Little Change in Weather Here for Tuesday

Partly cloudy with little change in temperature is the forecast for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

A low tonight of from 28 to 32 is expected to rise to a high of 38 to 42 on Tuesday.

Sunday the mercury rose from a low of 22 to a high of 41 degrees in the city. Saturday's high was 48 degrees.

At 8 a.m. today the reading was 25, but by 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac the temperature stood at 27 degrees.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today Secretary Dulles and Russian Foreign Minister Molotov probably will meet and discuss President Eisenhower's proposal for a peace-time pool of atomic energy when they are in Berlin for the four-power conference opening Jan. 25.

Leaders View Plans for Nation as Progressive

President Will Report on His 1953 Achievements Tonight at 9:30

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gave Republican legislative leaders a detailed review today of his program for the new session of Congress, and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) hailed it as "dynamic" and "progressive."

"We all think it is a program that will be well received by all elements of the country," Martin said as spokesman for the leaders.

The White House conference opened a momentous and busy week for the President.

Tonight, he will go on radio and television at 9:30 p.m. EST, to discuss what his administration has done so far.

He also will outline the philosophy of the program he will recommend in the State of the Union message to be delivered in person to a joint Senate-House session on Thursday.

In a series of later messages, Eisenhower will deal with specific subjects.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty announced the President will submit his 1954-1955 budget to Congress Jan. 21 and will follow it with the annual economic message on Jan. 28.

Hagerty said Eisenhower will send Congress special messages recommending farm and labor law changes Jan. 28.

Today's meeting with nine GOP congressional leaders and the cabinet was preliminary to a session tomorrow which will bring Democratic leaders to the White House along with Republican lieutenants.

Congress convenes at noon Wednesday. Today's meeting ran 2½ hours.

Martin declined to give any hint as to what will be in the President's talk tonight on his State of the Union address.

He said the legislators were given a "very interesting resume" of the President's program and discussed some of its aspects with the cabinet members involved.

He said the President took an hour to read from the State of the Union address. Describing it as a "very good message," Martin said "We all think it is a dynamic, progressive program and one that will

Mother Rescues Three in Blaze

Runs From Home With Children as Heater Starts Flash Fire

Carrying two older children, one under each arm, a Waterford Township mother braved flames last night to rescue her 5-months-old baby from the blazing living room of her five-room home.

Mrs. Marcella Burney was in the kitchen at the rear of the log cabin house at 5067 Cass-Elizabeth Rd. with Clifford, 2, and Steven, 16 months, when an oil burner in the front room exploded.

Sleeping in a bassinette near the heater was Philip, 5 months old.

She caught up the older children, dashed into the burning room, picked up the baby and ran out the front door.

By the time she was outside, her husband, Arylon, had returned from a trip to a nearby grocery store for milk, and the Waterford Volunteer Fire Dept. was on the way.

No one was injured.

Damage was estimated at $2,100 by Fire Chief Rudy Boss.

Burney is employed by Pontiac Motors Division.

West Europe's Dikes Hold Through 24-Hour Battering

LONDON (AP)—Western Europe's dikes and sea walls, age-old bastions against the raging oceans, stood strong and firm today after 24 hours of battering by gale-churned seas.

Anxious watchers, remembering when flood waters burst through the dikes and wrecked vast areas of the Low Countries and Eastern England last February, sighed with relief as they watched the seas die down today.

In England, police and Coast Guards kept an all-night vigil in low coastal areas, then left their watch as weathermen reported soon after 10 a. m. that the crisis hour of high tide had passed safely.

In The Netherlands, where overnight water levels were the highest since last winter's floods in which 1,795 persons died, the situation was reported nearly back to normal.

Blizzards and heavy snowfalls were reported continuing in other places from Scandinavia down to Italy.

In Denmark, the little Jutland

4 Drunk Drivers Bring Total to 12

County Jails Holiday Offenders; 80 Others Face Conduct Charges

Four more motorists, arrested on drunk driving charges Saturday and Sunday, brought to 12 the number of persons arrested on that charge since New Year's Eve.

Thirteen other persons were in Oakland County Jail this morning on drunk or disorderly charges, pushing that total to 80 since the start of the long holiday weekend last Thursday.

City judges and township justices were busy Saturday with some 38 complaints of drunk or reckless driving, or drunk and disorderly persons.

Two persons were jailed Saturday on drunk driving charges, and two others were booked Sunday. They face court hearings today.

Of the eight others arrested on earlier charges, three were given jail terms.

Only one person who pleaded guilty to drunk or disorderly charges was given a jail term. However 23 were fined, three pleaded not guilty and one received a suspended sentence.

Of those accused of reckless driving one was sent to jail and four were fined.

U. N. Preparing to Remove Men From Stockades

Anti-Commies Will Be Taken Out of Neutral Zone on Deadline

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The U. N. commander, Gen. John E. Hull, today blamed the Communists for the breakdown of prisoner explanations and said without qualification that all anti-Red prisoners will be freed at midnight Jan. 22.

To drive home the UNC demand that the captives be released "as of 12:01 a. m. Jan. 23," U. S. Marines and engineers began stringing miles of barbed wire fences to channel the prisoners from neutral zone compounds to rail heads.

Hull reiterated the U. N. Command's position in a strongly worded letter to Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

The U. N. commander blasted as one-sided and slanted a report by Indian, Polish and Czech members of the repatriation commission that accused the UNC of maintaining control over the anti-Red prisoners.

"The U. N. Command," Hull declared, "categorically denies any implication that we have attempted, in any way, to exercise control to the slightest degree over" the prisoners.

He said the Communist high command caused the collapse of the explanation program by:

1. Unreasonable and changing demands for explanation facilities.
2. Refusal to accept reasonable numbers of willing prisoners for explanations each day.

3. The Reds' rejection of available explanation time unless the NNRC and Indian custodial troops approved all their demands — including the use of force to make POWs listen to explanations.

Hull told Thimayya the UNC is fully prepared to handle the 20,000 North Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return to their Red-ruled homelands.

U. N. officers said rail car and truck convoys will be waiting south of the demilitarized zone for freed anti-Communist prisoners and that ships at Inchon will be readied to carry any of the 14,000 Chinese who may wish to go to Formosa.

Other officers have said the UNC is prepared to move all 20,000 prisoners—if necessary—out of the Munsan area in two to three days.

Neither the Indian command nor the NNRC apparently has made a firm decision regarding the Jan. 22 release date.

Thimayya, after reading Hull's

Dearborn Mayor's Fitness Debated in Ouster Hearing

DETROIT (UP) — Orville L. Hubbard battled for his political life today at an executive hearing which will determine whether he will be ousted as mayor of suburban Dearborn.

Kent Probate Judge Wallace Waalkes Jr. was named by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to hear evidence pro and con regarding Hubbard's fitness for office. Hubbard failed Saturday in his efforts to have Waalkes dismissed as arbiter.

Williams turned down the mayor's complaint that the case has been prejudiced by a meeting between Waalkes and Wayne Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan, who filed the original petition for Hubbard's removal.

Culehan, who conducted a one-man grand jury investigation of Dearborn municipal affairs, asked Hubbard's ouster on charges of neglect of duty, malfeasance and nonfeasance. No criminal charge was levied.

The charges, all denied by Hubbard, were filed last Nov. 5, shortly after the mayor was re-elected by a sweeping majority.

In denying Hubbard's petition to dismiss Waalkes, Williams acknowledged that Waalkes, Culehan and Assistant Attorney General Irving Beattie conferred in Grand Rapids. However, the governor said he was "satisfied" there was no prejudice on Waalkes' part.

Williams said a meeting between Waalkes and Beattie was "perfectly proper," although it was "unnecessary and improper" for Culehan to attend.

Waalkes' job, Williams pointed out, is not to try Hubbard's case but to "preside at the making of a record which will be turned over to me."

"I have confidence in his impartiality and therefore will not entertain the petition to remove him from the case," the governor said.

Fire Kills Five Children Trapped in Maine Home

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Maine (UP)—Five children—four brothers and a sister—perished today when a flash fire from a defective oil heater demolished their home at this beach resort.

It was the second such fire on the same street. Four children perished in a similar fire 10 years ago.

Victims of today's blaze, children of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitcomb, were: John 9, Howard 5, Allan 4, Irving 3, and their sister Diana 7.

The children's bodies were found in the upper floor of the 1½-story bungalow where their mother, Theresa, herself was trapped by the flames.

Mrs. Whitcomb was spotted by a neighbor, Vincent O'Connor, who persuaded her to leap from a window. She suffered only minor cuts.

Police said the fire started when a space heater exploded. The blast occurred a few minutes after Whitcomb had left for work on a school construction project in Kittery. He was summoned back by telephone.

Both the father and mother became hysterical and were unable to give authorities a coherent story. They were placed under a doctor's care.

O'Connor, who was shaving, looked out a window and saw flames engulfing the Whitcomb home next door. He rushed out and saw Mrs. Whitcomb silhouetted against the flames that roared through the upper floor.

"Jump, jump," he yelled.

Mrs. Whitcomb hesitated momentarily, as if deciding whether to go back after the children, and then leaped out a window.

The bodies of four of the children were found in their beds. The other was on the floor. While ruins still were smoking, the bodies were removed to an undertaking parlor.

Dr. William D. Roussin, York County medical examiner, said the children had suffocated.

Commission Begins Year With Fire Station, Zoning Matters on Its Agenda

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners will start the new year with a lengthy agenda of topics to consider tonight.

Among them are a proposed fire station at Chesterfield and Maple, and the rezoning of six lots on the northeast corner of 14 Mile Rd. and Southfield from single family residence classification to business A classification.

A contract for aeration equipment for the sewage treatment plant and the purchase of two new police cars and a truck will also be discussed.

A six page communication from Fred M. Harley, 480 Pleasant, regarding enforcement of the city's dog ordinance, and a contract for garbage and rubbish disposal are also scheduled to be taken up.

Charles Mortensen, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, reports that Michigan's new blue and yellow license plates are experiencing a heavy sale here, "but—we figure that are still about 16,000 cars without '54 plates. One thing seems sure—there will be a tremendous rush the last part of February."

To avoid that last-minute wait while standing in a long line, he recommends buying plates early. Purchasers must have the titles to their car, and a pre-filled registration, if one was received.

For commercial plates, he said, also bring last year's registration or weight slip.

Dewey Outlines Liberty Threat

Calls for Elimination of Traitors Without Harm to the Innocent

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today elimination of traitors should be carried out without injuring reputations of the innocent and without "untrammeled exploration of intelectual or scientific inquiry and teaching."

"We should have grown up far enough to have learned the difference between liberty and license," the governor said. "The very possession of liberty imposes a necessity for discipline which respects the liberty of others, in their person, in their property and in their intellectual attainment."

Dewey made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of Columbia University's year-long 200th anniversary celebration.

"This 200th anniversary," the governor declared, "finds free men everywhere battling three major threats.

"The first is the Communist totalitarian ideology which would place all men on a Procrustean bed.

"The second threat comes from the impoverished of mind and spirit who distrust all learning and fear to trust the future.

"The third comes from the small but vocal group who would sacrifice liberty in order to defeat its enemies."

He submitted that the punishment of subversives "should be a matter of course" and added:

"It is now being done in the national government as it is being done in the state government. It need never be accompanied by injury to the reputation of good people or to the untrammeled exploration of intellectual or scientific inquiry and teaching."

NEW THIS YEAR — This 1954 Ford Crestline Fordor sedan is new this year. Its smart new grille has a characteristic Ford center spinner, recessed parking lights and jet-type air scoop. Like all 1954 Ford passenger cars, it has new ball-joint front suspension for easier handling and the choice of either Ford's completely new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 engine or the new 115-h.p. I-block Mileage Maker Six. It has power steering, power brakes, power operated windows and front seat, plus Fordomatic or overdrive, available at extra cost.

The 1954 Ford cars will be shown to the public starting Wednesday. In Pontiac they will be on display at Cy Owens' Ford agency at 147 S. Saginaw St.

1954 Ford Cars Unveiled Jan. 6

Higher Power Engines, New Front Suspension Are Featured

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

New engines of higher power, a new ball-joint front suspension, a new hardtop model with tinted, transparent plastic roof over the driving compartment, and a four-way power seat, are among features of th 1954 model Ford passenger cars.

The new models will be introduced in dealer showrooms Wednesday.

Besides the other advances Ford also is offering power brakes, power steering and power-lift windows as optional equipment.

Styling-wise emphasis is being placed on bright exterior and interior body colors. There are 156 exterior and interior combinations and 13 single tone body colors, 10 of which may be ordered in 13 two-tone combinations.

Upholstery materials include broadcloth vinyls, woven plastics and nylons. In some models control panel and front door garnish moldings are in two-tone colors with matching colored steering columns and steering wheels.

The new 1954 line engines are a 130 horsepower Y-block, V-8 with overhead valves and a 115 horsepower six. The V-8 has been stepped up from the 1953 110 horsepower. The six is up from the 1953 model's 101 horsepower. Both are of the short stroke, low friction type and compression ratio is 7.2 to 1, virtually unchanged.

Both engines, under development for six years, are claimed by Ford to provide extraordinary fuel economy.

Ford's new ball-joint suspension is described by Ford Engineers as the greatest advance in front suspension in 20 years. It replaces the older type king-pin suspension. It is designed to permit up and down movement of the front wheels through the ball joints as the wheels travel over rough spots or directional movement as wheels turn right or left in steering.

The 1954 Ford line consists again of three lines—Mainline, Customline and Crestline—with 14 body styles.

Added for 1954 are three new body types, the Crestline Skyliner with front half of the roof of transparent plastic; a Crestline Fordor sedan and a new Customline two-door station wagon, called the Customline ranch wagon.

This year, for the first time the choice of V-8 or 6-cylinder engine is offered in all models.

Exterior changes include a new grille with the Ford center spinner, recessed parking lights and jet-type air scoop. Height of the crown of front fenders has been increased half an inch and headlamps have a new diagonal slant.

A single strip of chrome running the length of the car gives the new models a longer look.

Retained in the new models are the jet-tube tail lights.

Ford's four-way power front seat can be raised or lowered 1¾ inches and moved back and forth 4¼ inches by means of two electric motors.

Straley to Get Traffic Award

Association to Present Safety Commendation to Police Chief

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley will receive a framed commendation certificate for outstanding work in traffic safety for 1952 and 1953 at the annual dinner meeting of the Pontiac Automotive Trade Assn., at 6 p. m. today in the Hotel Waldron.

Ben Jerome Jr., member of the Michigan board of directors and chairman of the Oakland County association, said the award is based on the "excellent work in the realm of highway and traffic safety Straley has promoted in Pontiac."

Jerome said that the association, which works in connection with the National Safety Council, has recognized that safety campaigns and improvements have been substantially increased during Straley's administration.

The certificate will be signed by the 13 member dealerships in the association. In addition to members, about 20 executives of various Pontiac firms will attend tonight's affair, during which time the group also will elect new officers.

town of Randers was flooded. Townsfolk rowed today through water-logged streets to salvage their belongings.

The storm took its toll of shipping and sent tiny coastal vessels scurrying for shelter. The German freighter Traustein and the Greek tanker Leros both ran aground off the north German coast in a heavy snowstorm.

The British collier Foch Rose ran ashore at Shoreham and partly blocked the harbor mouth. Off Sweden several coastal vessels were reported missing in the overnight blizzards.

But while the storm hovered threateningly with sub-zero temperatures over parts of Scandinavia, West Germany and high ground in Italy, France and Austria, other parts of Europe were untouched.

London and Brussels basked peacefully under clear skies and brilliant sunshine. From Paris and Oslo came reports of fair weather and temperatures normal for the time of year.

Injuries May Delay Woman's TV Skit

A Bloomfield Township woman scheduled to make a television short with comedian Red Buttons within two weeks was injured Saturday in an auto accident near Birmingham.

Miss Lee Carroll, 27, of 4120 Orchard Way, self-employed Detroit advertising agent, suffered arm and ankle fractures and cuts in the accident at W. Maple and Clifton Rds. She is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Miss Carroll's mother, Mrs. Clifford Carroll, said her daughter was to be featured soon in the TV show with the well known comedian.

Miss Carroll was in a car driven by A. E. Geigle, 34, of 24563 Rensselaer, Oak Park. Police said Geigle's car hit the rear of one driven by Robert E. Stahl, 16, of 939 Rivenoak, Birmingham, when Stahl applied his brakes. Stahl was treated for face cuts.

Secretary of State Talks to Rotary at Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM — Secretary of State Owen J. (Pat) Cleary addressed Rotary Club members at a luncheon this afternoon. He was introduced by Charles Mortensen, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, which is also the local quarters of the secretary of state's office.

Cleary has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for governor.

Way Now Open for Billy Rose to Get Divorce

NEW YORK (UP) — Billy Rose has agreed to give Eleanor Holm Jarrett $30,000 permanent alimony yearly and a cash-free gift of more than $175,000 in return for a divorce, the New York Post said today in a copyrighted dispatch.

Columnist Earl Wilson and William Greaves said the bantam Barnum and the former Olympic queen had reached a financial settlement in Rose's 30-month battle for marital freedom.

"They both feel they've had it," an intimate of Rose was quoted as saying. "They're tired of all the waiting and court expense."

The settlement, described as a compromise by both sides, would give Miss Holm $600 weekly in alimony and a cash settlement of between $175,000 and $225,000 to be paid over a period of 10 years in annual payments. Thus Miss Holm would receive $500,000 from Rose in the next decade, the dispatch said.

Congress to Get Early Rates Bill

Transportation Group Favors Halting of Long Procedure Delays

A bill to minimize the time lag in decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission in general rates cases will go before Congress this year with full endorsement by the Transportation Association of America.

The association claims that because of long delays in regulatory procedures, the common carriers of the United States have lost more than one billion dollars since 1946 (approximately $125,000,000 a year).

The bill is one one of 20 federal bills to go before Congress in 1954, calling for a complete overhaul of the nation's transportation laws.

In a year-end summary, the association said that the people of the United States spent more than 57 billion dollars in 1953 for all kinds of transportation.

It added that the industry is entering the new year with 28,300 miles of inland waterways; 3,326,510 miles of streets and highways; 72,328 miles of airways; 5,679 civil airports; 173,000 miles of petroleum pipe lines; and 223,427 miles of railroads.

Two Men Are Held in Tavern Robbery

Pontiac Police arrested two men for investigation of unarmed robbery Saturday night about half an hour after a Birmingham man reported that he was strong-armed and robbed of $15 and his wristwatch in a Pontiac tavern.

The victim, Joseph Hoffmeister, 38, of 1392 Bird St., was able to furnish slight information of the pair's description after the robbery. Patrolmen James LaPonsie and Lawrence LaBair said they arrested a man answering the description and his companion in another tavern.

Hoffmeister later identified both men in a police showup at the Oakland County Jail where they are being held.

Elizabeth, Duke Resting at New Zealand Lodge

ROTORUA, New Zealand (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, rested today at Moose Lodge on Lake Rotoiti.

The Queen cruised on the lake for two hours yesterday in a motor launch. The duke took a sailing dinghy out and later tried his hand at water skiing behind a speedboat.

Ford Warns on Sales Plan

Cautions Against Firm in Chicago Selling Cars at Discount

DETROIT (INS) — Ford Motor Co. today issued a warning against a Chicago mail-order firm which is offering to sell 1954 Ford cars to the nation's 150,000 National Guardsmen at 17 per cent below retail price.

L. W. Smead, general sales manager, stated:

"The Ford Motor Co. is not a participant in any such plan and has no knowledge that any Ford dealers have agreed to provide cars for such a purpose. . . . Individuals entering such arrangements should beware of the risk involved."

Another Ford official said the firm has warned Ford dealers not to sell to the National Procurement and Distributing Corp. of Chicago, but conceded there is no way to prevent them from doing so.

Charles Leggett, president of the 19-million-dollar-a-year mail-order house, said his firm has contracted with Ford dealers for 10,000 new cars. He said National Procurement would allow only $15 profit on each auto. Leggett added:

"What's more, we are going to offer similar discounts on Chevrolets and Mercurys in a few weeks."

Announcement of the sale was made in a mimeographed bulletin, resembling an official military order, sent to all National Guard districts. Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, commanding officer of the National Guard bureau, denied any endorsement of the car-selling offer.

statement, commented to newsmen:

"It has always been the Indian position that the two sides must agree to any detention of prisoners after Jan. 22. If the two sides do not agree, we will, of course, have to devise some means of leleasing them."

* * *

A short time later, however, Thimayya said after an NNRC meeting, "we will have to decide how this problem is to be solved. If there is a wide difference we will have to discuss what to do."

The Communists are bitterly opposed to freeing the prisoners when the Jan. 22 deadline rolls around, demanding that a yet-to-be convened Korean peace conference decide their fate.

Hull told Thimayya the armistice agreement clearly points out that the explanations period ended Dec. 23—and that the prisoners be released 30 days later.

* * *

"We therefore cannot accept any alternate proposal," he said.

The 21 American, 1 British and 327 South Korean prisoners who have embraced communism presumably would also be freed as civilians the same day the anti-Red POWs are released.

Strong Thief Lugs Off 100 Pounds of Pennies

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Mel Jones reported to police that a burglar with a strong back stole $300 from his tavern.

The money, mostly in pennies, was in two big bottles and the total weight was more than 100 pounds, Jones said.

Vienna Short of Water

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Warsaw newspapers reaching Vienna today reported a major water shortage in the Polish capital, caused by the low level of the Vistula River. Soldiers were working "night and day to relieve the situation."

U.S. Marines Deny Asylum to Tired Red Work Horse

FIRST MARINE DIVISION, Korea (AP)—U. S. Marines stationed along Korea's demilitarized zone said today they had denied asylum to a Communist horse.

He was an old, dirty white horse, probably the descendant of a Mongolian pony.

The horse was being worked by six Chinese just north of the crucial center line in the demilitarized zone. The Communists had tied a rope to his tail and the other end of the rope to a heavy metal container of dirt. They were forcing him to pull the container with his tail.

* * *

Two Marine demilitarized zone policmen, Cpl. H. E. Halfhill of Connellsville, Pa., and Pfc. Stanley K. Harned of Trenton, N. J. saw the horse give a sudden lunge and slip the rope off his tail. Then he bolted across the demarcation zone into Allied territory.

"There he was in our territory," Halfhill said. "Harned and I doubted that he had the required credentials."

* * *

The horse was obviously tired, but for 30 minutes the two Marines chased him across the countryside in their jeep.

When they finally caught him and radioed headquarters they were instructed to "give him to the nearest provost marshal."

The nearest provost marshal took one look and told them "I don't want a horse."

* * *

Then headquarters took over.

"Take him back near the line, point him north and boot him in the rear," the Marines were told.

That's what they did. The horse galloped back into Communist territory where two Chinese hopefully awaited him.

Move Petitions to Keep Officers

Hoffa Promises to Get Solid Support to Retain 614 Trusteeship

A counter petition seeking to retain a current trusteeship in Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 (AFL) is being circulated among members, James R. Hoffa, international vice president, said today.

While insurgent members of the local have already forwarded about 1,200 signatures asking Dave Beck, international president, to discontinue the trusteeship, Hoffa said that his present petition will bear 100 per cent of the local's membership by the end of this week.

Hoffa said the petition asks: "President Dave Beck to disregard any prior petition signed and continue the trusteeship now in effect until conditions warrant an election of officers at his discretion."

In refuting the other petition, demanding the ouster of all officers and an election for a new slate, Hoffa said "Members who signed the petition did not know what they were signing. It was too complicated for them to understand."

He added that "the jealous faction is trying to discredit unionism." Hoffa said that popular elections for stewards have been conducted and all grievances settled in Pontiac.

Opponents of the trusteeship began circulating their petitions after two of the local's officers were indicted in a labor rackets inquiry in Detroit recently.

Former President Daniel J. Keating and Secretary-Treasurer Louis C. Linteau, now free on $5,000 bond each, are awaiting trial in Wayne County Circuit Coury after they were bound over recently.

Hoffa later appointed both men as business agents in the local following their automatic suspension. Hoffa also named Leaun Harrelson, Pontiac's state representative, as acting president.

Shelley Winters Spats With Italian Spouse

ROME (AP) — Film Star Shelley Winters has walked out on her matinee-idol husband, Vittorio Gassman, after a quarrel which began when she thought there was too much ham in his Hamlet.

"We had quite an argument," the blonde dramatic actress said in a Rome hotel this morning after confirming that she left Gassman—at the least temporarily—at Genoa night before last. His interpretation of Shakespeare's Dane displeased her and they quarreled, Shelley reported.

She said Gassman talked to her last night by telephone from Genoa "but nothing was really settled."

Group to Probe Cancer Theory

Cigarette Makers to Do Research on Idea That Smoking Hurts Lungs

NEW YORK (AP)—A tobacco industry research committee has been formed by cigarette manufacturers and tobacco groups to conduct research on "the theory that cigarette smoking is in some way linked with lung cancer."

An advertisement appearing today in many major newspapers of the nation says the manufacturers believe "the products we make are not injurious to health."

The display advertisement adds, however, that medical research should not be dismissed lightly "even though its results are inconclusive."

Formation of the committee, which includes all but one major American cigarette manufacturer and several associations of tobacco growers, was announced yesterday. Others may join the committee later, a spokesman said.

The advertisement, headed "A Frank Statement to Cigarette Smokers," was the industry committee's first activity.

* * *

The united industry members, the announcement said, have pledged "aid and assistance to the research effort into all phases of tobacco use and health," including financial aid in addition to funds already being contributed by individual companies for medical research.

The committee's advertisement noted statistics purportedly linking lung cancer to cigarette smoking, and also mentioned that some scientists have questioned the significance of recent experiments on lung cancer.

"For more than 300 years," the advertisement declared, "tobacco has given solace, relaxation and enjoyment to mankind. At one time or another during those years critics have held it responsible for practically every disease of the human body. One by one these charges have been abandoned for lack of evidence.

"Regardless of the record of the past, the fact that cigarette smoking today should even be suspected as a cause of a serious disease is a matter of deep concern to us."

Time Bomb Scare Ends in Big Relief

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A mysterious buzzing parcel which postal authorities feared was a time bomb turned out to be a machine for relief of rheumatism.

A railway postal clerk first noticed the buzzing in the parcel mailed from Ada by Clyde Jackson of Bing to a relative in Kingston.

The package was taken from the train and X-rayed. The results alarmed officers even more. Photographs showed wires and a mechanism which they thought was a bomb.

The men rushed the parcel to an isolated spot on the Arkansas River and immersed it in a bucket of oil overnight.

They finally contacted Jackson and opened the package to confirm his story the mechanism was a harmless device intended to relieve rheumatism by electrical massage.

Writer Says West's Hope for Peace Could Depend on Progress Inside Russia

(Editor's note: In articles printed earlier, William L. Ryan has reported his observations in the Soviet Union. In today's concluding article, a summing up, he relates how the program the Soviet government has charted for itself amid various pressures from its peoples, may hold hope for the West.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet Union needs at least 10 years to get its "two to three years" internal development program on a firm foundation. In this fact lies perhaps the world's greatest hope for peace that will last.

In that 10 years, there is reason to expect, Moscow will avoid any risk of involvement in a major world conflict, even while attempting to hold its gains outside its borders. But with the many dilemmas and contradictions facing the Soviet Union, with its present trend of development, anything can happen.

* * *

Much of the Soviet Union today is like the America of the turn of the century, flexing its muscle. In today's world its development is likely to be swifter. But it faces years of road building, home building, machine production and transport development. The greatest obstacle in its way is the bureaucracy built up by the Communist party under Stalin. In order to approach successes promised, the government of Premier Georgi Malenkov will have to wield a willing knife against the red tape.

At any rate, the turning inward for which many in the West had hoped seems to be taking place. Along with this development comes a series of contradictions and dilemmas. Here are some:

* * *

1. While avoiding major war, the Moscow regime cannot afford peace in the non-Communist sense of the word. It has experimented and found it still needed the ferocious enemy at the door.

2. But, while telling the people on the one hand that they are threatened by an outside enemy armed to the teeth and ready to strike, the regime also tells them to make more refrigerators and vacuum cleaners, household goods and clothing, passenger automobiles and radios. Such propaganda could produce skepticism. People might logically expect to be told they must tighten their belts and make weapons if an enemy is at the gates.

3. Having promised the better life and advertised it so broadly and constantly, the new regime will be obliged to make some semblance of a delivery. It no longer has the absolute central power of the Stalin dictatorship, and its police arm has been weakened by the furious blood purge of Lavrenti, Beria and the MVD. For the program to succeed, something must give way. Does the U.S.S.R. dare decrease its heavy industry production, its munitions production or its armed forces?

4. The Moscow regime seems to have no intention of giving up its hold on that part of the world it now dominates. But this continues to drain manpower and resources needed on the home front. Already there is a severe manpower shortage.

5. The regime seems to have no intention of veering away from its policy of supporting Communist activities abroad, of encouraging chaos and rebellion. Yet, in so doing, it increases the danger of open conflict which it cannot afford.

* * *

The twin calamities of Stalinism and World War II held down the economic growth of the vast, rich and powerful country. The possibilities are all there. Industrialization, electrification, mechanization of agriculture have built a foundation. In the way stands the Soviet Communist bureaucracy, plus the obsession with tremendous military strength.

All these things add up to hope for the world—hope that the present state of war without guns will gradually develop into something resembling peace.

Trusty Flees Jackson

French Toss Quick Attacks on Vietminh

HANOI (INS) — French air and ground forces threw a series of quick tactical punches at Communist-led Vietminh forces today in the Dienbienphu and Red River delta areas.

Agence France Presse said French fighters and attack bombers harassed Vietminh supply lines in the region around the town of Dienbienphu. At the same time, French and Vietnamese ground forces carried out mopping-up operations in the delta country.

The ground attacks were designed to prevent the regrouping of some 70,000 well-trained and equipped Communist-led troops in the Red River delta. The French Command fears that these forces could mount an offensive against the Thai country.

Ex-Prisoner of Reds Catches Up on News

HONG KONG (AP)—An American busiessman just freed after three years in a Chinese Communist jail caught up on U. S. politics today.

French Cabinet Crisis Looms

Laniel to State Foreign Policy, Ask Confidence Vote Wednesday

PARIS (AP)—France woke up today to the prospect of a possible government crisis this week. Premier Joseph Laniel announced he would ask Parliament Wednesday to confirm his government or kick it out—well in advance of the Big Four foreign ministers' Berlin meeting.

Laniel's Cabinet is due to resign Jan. 17 because of the inauguration the day before of President-elect Rene Coty, but the Premier decided to force a showdown at once on how France would be represented when the Big Four meet Jan. 25.

* * *

Over the weekend he offered his resignation to outgoing President Vincent Auriol, saying a Cabinet crisis the week before the Berlin conference might prevent France from being effectively represented. Auriol refused the resignation.

In another letter to Auriol last night, Laniel called a special session of the National Assembly and the Council of the Republic (senate) for Wednesday "to hear a governmental statement."

Laniel said only that the statement would be a broad declaration of his Cabinet's foreign policy, and that he would ask the Assembly for a vote of confidence on it. If defeated, he would have to resign.

Should this happen and no new government be formed before Jan. 25, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault would have to go to Berlin as the representative of a caretaker regime unable to speak effectively for France.

Presumably Laniel figures moderate and leftist assemblymen otherwise hostile to him will want to avoid this.

Lutheran Women to Hear Rev. Hunt

WATERFORD—The Rev. Waldo Hunt, vicar of St. Andrew Episcopal Chapel, Drayton Plains, will speak before the Ladies Guild at Christ Lutheran Church Wednesday.

His topic will be "The Meaning of Epiphany."

The meeting will begin with a potluck luncheon at 12:30 p. m., with Mrs. William Chase and Mrs. Joseph Helman as cohostesses. The affair is open to all women of the church.

Nehru Attacks Pakistan Pact

Sees Proposed Military Agreement With U. S. as Step Toward War

BANGALORE, India (INS)—Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has warned that any military aid pact between the United States and Pakistan would be "a step towards war—even world war—but a step which would bring war right to our doors."

Nehru's statement was made to a public meeting Sunday in Bangalore.

He declared he had no intention of alarming his fellow countrymen, but wanted the people to "realize the real significance" of the reported plans for such a pact.

If the agreement becomes a reality, the prime minister said, it will be "anti-Indian, anti-Asian and anti-peace." He said he was convinced India should pursue a policy of friendship toward Pakistan.

However Nehru added:

"This business of military aid coming to Pakistan would mean a great difference to the policy which India and other Asian nations have been pursuing."

Stocks of Grain Will Be Larger

Carryover for 1953-54 Is Expected to Exceed Last Season's

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department said today that the U. S. will have a larger carryover of feed grains at the close of the 1953-54 season than at the end of the last season.

The department estimates the 1953-54 supply at 170½ million tons, which is greater than last year's and the third largest on record.

The major commodity among the feed concentrates this year is corn. Total supply of corn for 1953-54 is four billion 942 million bushels, which is the second largest on record.

This is 11 per cent above the average for the five-year period 1946-50. Stocks of other feed grains are all below the average. Oats are 5 per cent below; barley 11 per cent, and sorghum grains 25 per cent.

Much of the total feed grain supply—especially corn—is owned by the Commodity Credit Coporation or is under government loans.

The department reported also that while marketings of corn were unusually heavy in October and early November, they have declined sharply since then.

By mid-November, farmers had placed much larger quantities of feed grains under price supports than in corersponding periods of previous years.

Present indications are that a record quantity of oats will be put under price support and that the amount of barley will be second only to the record of 1948-49.

DSR Bus Driver Wins Bout With Armed Robber

DETROIT (AP) — An armed man escaped empty handed yesterday after tangling with a courageous Detroit Street Railways (DSR) bus driver who refused to be held up.

The driver, Albert New, 57, told police a man boarded the empty bus at the end of its west side run.

"He shoved a gun into my stomach and said, 'Give me all you've got,'" New said.

The driver said he struggled with the gunman while the bus ambled along the street in low gear. Finally, New said, the man fell out the open door but scrambled to his feet and fled.

Body, Sick Woman Found in Icy Home

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The frozen body of a man and an aged, bedridden woman suffering from exposure were found in a St. Ignace home last night.

Dead was Paul Hecox, 61, who apparently died of a heart attack while preparing to stoke a furnace three days ago. He had collapsed in the coal bin.

Mrs. Joseph Quinn, believed to be between 90 and 100 years of age, was found in bed in serious condition from exposure and was rushed to War Memorial Hospital at Sault Ste. Marie.

Hecox wss a caretaker for Mrs. Quinn in her large home.

When the tragedy was discovered all pipes in the house had frozen and it was frigid throughout. Hecox's body was frozen in the basement.

Dr. L. C. Shaftoe said Hecox appeared to have suffered a heart attack Friday.

Indian Train Crash Kills 10, Injures 40

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A passenger train jumped the track near Bhatinda, 150 miles northwest of New Delhi today, and railway officials said 10 persons were killed. Forty were reported injured.

First reports said neary 100 lost their lives but a recount showed the much lower toll.

The train left the rails near a canal bridge. Reports from the scene said some of the coaches were telescoped.

Arrive for Talk With Gouzenko

Jenner, McCarran in Montreal for Top-Secret Confab on Atom Spies

MONTREAL (AP) — Strict official secrecy and thick Canadian snow covered the tracks of U. S. Senatore William Jenner (R-Ind) and Pat McCarran (D-Nev) today in their quest for what Igor Gouzenko knows about Soviet spying in the United States.

The two top members of the Senate internal security subcommittee, accompanied by two aides, arrived here yesterday in a blaze of publicity for their secret meeting with the former Soviet code clerk whose 1945 flight from the Russian Embassy in Ottawa revealed a Communist atom spy ring in America and Britain.

After a news conference and a closely guarded, six-hour parley in the Windsor Hotel with Supt. J. R. Lemieux of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the senators and Lemieux slipped into an official car late yesterday afternoon and drove rapidly off into the snowstorm which blanketed Montreal.

* * *

There was some specualtion that Gouzenko had been brought to the hotel for the interview, but the party's later departure seemed to indicate they were headed for a secret rendezvous. U. S. Ambassador Douglas Stuart also attended the hotel conference and left with the group.

* * *

McCarran had told reporters the four-man U. S. team planned to stay in Canada until "the mission is completed." Jenner said they hoped to be back in Washington for the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Jenner, the subcommittee chairman, said he and McCarran "are concerned with the internal security of our country."

"We have information and leads and we hope that Mr. Gouzenko may be able to assist us in our work. We're here to find out all we can."

* * *

Lemieux said no statement would be issued after the interview with Gouzenko. The Americans previously had agreed reluctantly to the Canadian government's demand that it should have control over what is published about the meeting.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

New Year Should Bring More Happiness in Christ

A condensed form of the sermon preached in Trinity Baptist Church, Wessen at Maple St. Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr., is printed here.

Trinity Church was organized 35 years ago and the Rev. Mr. Dixon came there as pastor in February 1952.

* * *

When Thomas Carlyle's first volume of "French Revolution" had been completed, he gave it to the English professor, John Stuart Mills, for critical reading.

When Mills returned the manuscript he told Carlyle that all but a few sheets had been burned and that it made a better fire than it did reading.

The next day Carlyle wrote in his diary: "The return of my manuscript was as if a schoolmaster had torn up my copybook and said 'No, no, boy, thou must do it better'."

REV. RICHARD H. DIXON

Each year these thoughts confront mankind: This year I must do it better, I must get more living than I did in the past, I must drop my old habits that I might enjoy living better.

Yes, many of us are living better but our lives are no better.

With this the beginning of a new year, many of us make New Year's resolutions.

In each the central thought is: What can I do to make my life better? This is a confession to ourselves of the shortcomings in the past and a vow to do better in the future.

Such is the position of the man in the lesson today. The text reads "And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest." Matt. 8:19. This scribe makes a vow, "I will follow Thee." He makes a resolution to do something better, to make his life better, to get more out of living in the future than he has in the past.

Here is a man who had no fear of poverty, no fear of hunger, no fear of nakedness! Yet, he vows to surrender, willingly, to follow a man called Jesus; a man he called Master.

A lawyer who could master law met a carpenter who could master life.

Most of us spend sleepless nights and restless days equipping ourselves with materialisms of our day for better and more comfortable living.

With all this we confess to ourselves that there is something yet needed to make our lives better. There is something within us that longs for power greater than ourselves.

This scribe, as all men can, found in Christ the key that unlocks the door to better living. For in following Jesus we find Him able to meet the need of all classes and master of all conditions. As deep answers unto deep, so does He respond to the soul of man.

Call the roll of the thinkers and workers, ask them, "What think ye of Christ?" That testimony amazes us.

* * *

Ask the artist—"He is the one altogether lovely"; the architect—"He is the chief cornerstone"; the astronomer—"He is the Son of righteousness"; the baker—"He is the living bread"; the biologist—"He is life"; the builder—"He is the sure foundation"; the carpenter—"He is the door"; the doctor—"He is the great physician"; the geologist—"He is the Rock of Ages"; the philanthropist—"He is the unspeakable gift"; and the servant—"He is the good Master."

* * *

To you and to me, if we want to live better, if we would meet the challenge of a testing world, we must resolve with the scribe, "Master, I will follow thee." Through following Him our life will be made better.

Nab GI Who Sought Asylum With Reds

BERLIN (AP)—A U. S. Army private who fled to the Communists to escape a six-month prison term last September has surrendered to U. S. authorities.

The Army announced yesterday that military police picked up the soldier, Pvt. Norman M. Lowell Jr. of Somnerville, Mass., Saturday after a telephone tip that he was in the West Berlin home of a German girl friend.

He escaped through a window on an American military train at a Communist checkpoint in the Soviet zone last Sept. 12. At the time he was on his way to a prison at Augsburg to serve a sentence for disobeying an Army order.

The official East German news agency ADN claimed in October that he had renounced his U. S. citizenship and requested political asylum.

The Army has confined the soldier to a guardhouse and would not let reporters talk with him.

Man Falling Off Camel Enough to Cause Crash

ROCHESTER, Ind. (AP)—Richard O. Wilson of Plymouth was out for a family drive yesterday when one of his children cried out:

"Look, Daddy, that man just fell off that camel."

Sure enough, the wind had toppled a papier mache Wise Man off a camel in a Christmas display on the courthouse lawn.

Before Wilson could turn his attention back to driving, his car had rammed into the back end of another car. Nobody was hurt.

Healing Power of Prayer Told

Pontiac Church Hears Speaker From Detroit on Christian Science

The greatest power in the world is God's love for man, Dr. Archibald Carey of Detroit told an audience here Sunday afternoon.

Through prayer, God's love—spiritually understood and put into practice in daily life—heals not only sin, but disease, lack, and all inharmony, Dr. Carey said.

On nationwide tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Dr. Carey spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pontiac, in the church auditorium.

He spoke on "Christian Science: How Scientific Prayer Can Help You," and he was introduced by Wallace M. Hoskins, first reader.

Prayer that heals is available to all, Dr. Carey said. To the Christian Scientist, prayer must be based squarely on the spiritual facts and laws concerning God and man, rather than on blind faith in the super-natural or miraculous, he added.

Cashier Curbs Robber's Greediness

DALLAS (AP) — "I want all the money and don't make a lot of fuss," the gunman whispered.

"Can I keep part of it?" asked the cashier, Miss Madie Jones, 47. "It belongs to another fellow and I hate to give it all away."

The robber said just hand over the paper money. Miss Jones gave him some $1 bills.

"I've got to have at least one big bill," he said. "Don't you have a five in there?"

"No."

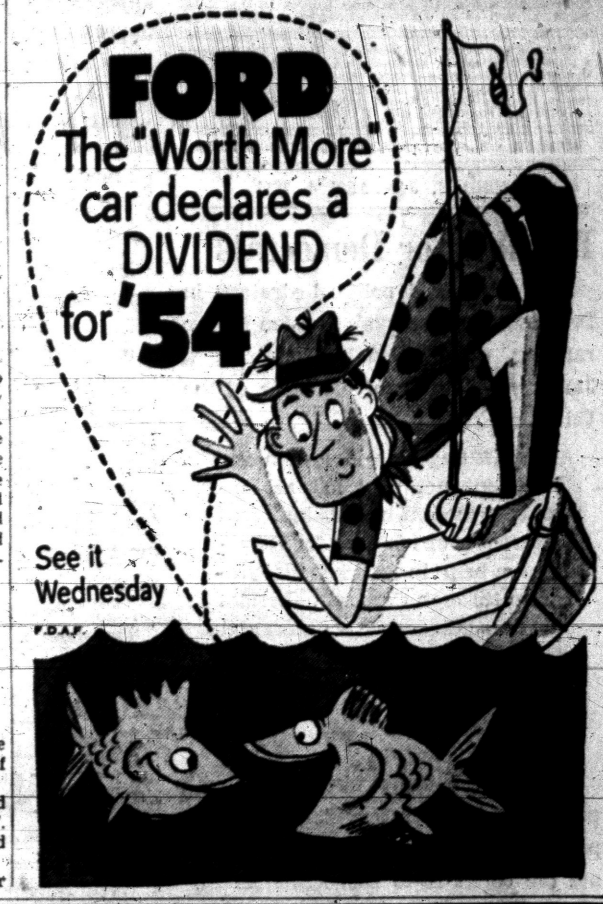

"How about a ten?"

Miss Jones found a $10 bill. The robber said that was fine and walked out.

Preview for Democrats

There is sound political strategy in President Eisenhower's decision to give ranking Congressional Democrats a January 5 preview of his State of the Union message.

In issuing this invitation the President not only has set another precedent but has indicated awareness of his need for Democratic help in getting his program through Congress. Besides the four Democratic Senators and four Representatives, ranking Republicans will attend the preview.

One of the facts which no doubt prompted this strategy is the GOP's precarious hold on control. In the Senate the count is 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one independent, while in the House the GOP has a margin of only three votes.

Another is the record of the first session. This shows that in a total of 83 roll calls, 74 were won by the White House, but in 58 of them only because of Democratic help.

★ ★ ★

It remains to be seen whether these figures will shock the Republicans into a more united front in the next session. If they don't, the fate of the President's program will depend on the Democrats.

Well Done, Spartans

Michigan State's speedy Spartans proved themselves worthy representatives of the Big Ten in their Rose Bowl conquest of UCLA.

There was a time in that gloomy first half with the Bruins leading 14 to 0 when we thought the experts were crazy for picking Biggie's boys to win by six points. In fact, the Bruins generally and Paul Cameron in particular, were making the Spartans look as though they were in the wrong league.

★ ★ ★

But things began to change after Duckett blocked that punt for State's first score. Soon after the start of the third period the situation brightened rapidly. With the pony backfield going full speed, Biggie's boys soon were in complete control and the game ended with State on the long end of the 28 to 20 score.

★ ★ ★

This made the experts look good. It even should convince Pacific Coast Conference partisans that our Big Ten is the toughest of all collegiate football leagues. In eight Rose Bowl contests only Southern California has been able to defeat a Big Ten team.

We don't know whether this was, as rumor has it, Biggie's last game as football coach. But we salute all the squad for a thrilling New Year's Day performance.

Women in Government

In a country long accustomed to women in industry as well as in business and education, it isn't surprising to learn they also are playing an increasingly important part in Government.

As far as the Federal establishment is concerned, the Eisenhower Administration can claim credit for maintaining this upward trend.

Since the Republicans took over nearly a year ago, a total of 40 women have been appointed to top Federal jobs, says the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee.

In addition the division points out that 12 women are members of Congress and that nearly a half million, or 22 per cent of all Federal employes are from the distaff side.

Other figures show that the number of women holding seats in state legislatures has reached an all time high of 289 and that more than 500 hold top appointive positions. Thirty-one occupy important state elective posts.

Even in the country's judiciary the fair sex is gaining greater representation, with 125 women now serving as judges while 12,000 hold jobs in county governments.

Besides this influence from the inside, women are able to exert great political influence in two other ways. One, of course, is at the polls and the other is through their organizations. Few, we imagine, would deny that the country is the better for it.

Giant Thule Air Base May Develop New City as Air Lines Adopt Polar Routes

Editor's Note: The author of this article returned recently from an inspection of the Thule base in Greenland.

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (INS)—The giant Thule air base in Greenland, standing guard over the north, represents a partial realization of a dream of a great city almost at the North Pole.

If the base with its 7,000 cold-hardened men and rows of box-car-shaped barracks still has some of the aspects of a construction camp, it is because building has been held to strict military necessity and the site's commercial possibilities have not been realized.

Scandinavian Air Lines is negotiating with Washington for permission to refuel at Thule on flights that will save 1,500 to 2,000 miles between Stockholm and the U. S. west coast, and on flights to Tokyo that will save even more.

Col. Bernt Balchen and other prophets of the north, pointing out that the shortest lines between most of the world capitals converge on the pole, believe that eventually air traffic routes will radiate from Thule like the spokes of a wheel.

A glance at the polar map shows both the commercial possibilities and the military reasons for Thule. The distances between Thule and New York City, Thule and Chicago, Thule and Seattle and Thule and Moscow are almost the same — betwen 2,500 and 3,000 miles.

The dream of a "city of the north" at Thule was first discussed by Balchen and the Danish explorer Knud Rasmussen in Oslo in 1927 — before Balchen, a Norwegian by birth, became a U. S. citizen.

Thule is unusual for northern Greenland in that the Greenland icecap does not crowd the coast, but leaves a good harbor and a large area of flat land.

When international tension mounted on the eve of the Korean War, Balchen, now in the U. S. Air Force, remembered his talk with Rasmussen and had no difficulty convincing then Air Secretary Thomas K. Finletter that a major base should be built at Thule.

The use of Thule, for training and for war operations, are considered obvious. America's air defense frontier has been moved 3,000 miles north of population centers, and a major base for attack has been located 3,000 miles nearer Russia's industrial heartland.

Thule is performing a pioneering service in tracking and charting the north and in making it safe and habitable.

How safe it already has become can be judged from the fact that the Military Air Transport Service has made more than 3,000 four-engined flights to Thule without a fatal or serious accident. And the situation is steadily improving — a 55,000 watt radio station is just coming into full operation.

Only a year ago when newsmen were flown across the North Pole, the navigator was using an "astro-compass." He could not use a magnetic compass because the magnetic north pole is 900 miles south of the true North Pole and the ordinary compass in these regions is wildly in error.

He could not use the astro-compass in an ordinary way, either, because it was the season of 24-hour daylight and no stars could be seen.

He was able to get a "fix" on the sun, to determine when he reached the pole, but he was lucky, as "refraction" on the horizon usually prevents this.

Today, planes flying the Arctic carry a radio compass which can pick up the guiding impulse from the Thule station at distances as great as 1,300 miles. A pilot hitting within that radius, which stretches out 400 miles beyond the pole, can determine exactly where he is.

Landing facilities at Thule are good.

One problem that has not been licked is the winds, which at times have gotten up to 150 miles an hour and which are gusty and can prevent landings at less than half that speed.

Probably no greater contrast was ever created, incidentally, than the one between Thule Air Base with its ultra-modern facilities and Thule Eskimo village two miles across the bay.

Some of the 100 Eskimos, including Odaq or "Ootah" who accompanied Admiral Robert E. Peary to the pole in 1909, were born in a far northern stone age, before Peary first visited the place in 1889, and when the Eskimos hunted polar bear with spears.

The roar of jet motors apparently drove seal and walrus from this vicinity, and the Eskimos were forced this summer to move to Danish-built houses at Kanak, 80 miles up the coast. The U. S. and Denmark, of which Greenland is a part, will probably share the $100,000 cost.

The Eskimos meanwhile are still considered more or less attached to the base, and will be flown to hospitals or will get U. S. supplies or medical aid by helicopter whenever these are needed in the new village.

Odaq, now 72, was the first to leave Thule. He and a son set out with a 12-animal dog sledge and made the 80-mile trip over a coastal section of the Greenland icecap in two and a half days.

Visiting newsmen are kept busy attending briefings and going on tours at bases such as Thule.

Despite the heavy schedule of events, however, reporters brought to Thule both this year and last have been collared repeatedly by men having special gripes which they felt should be aired in public back in the states.

When they learned where the newsmen were being bunked this year, one group of airmen — evidently having a good time at it, since their remarks were punctuated by laughter — gathered outside the windows to chant: "I hate this blankety-blank place."

Despite the scorn of the men for any description of Thule as a "paradise of the north," it is difficult to place a finger on anything concerning physical comfort that is lacking.

The food is from a ration and a quarter to a ration and a half, depending on the weather, and appears to be the equal of military food elsewhere.

The buildings are steam-heated and extremely well insulated.

Reader Says Merchants Should Clean Walks, Too

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

After living in and around Pontiac for 12 years, I see that now Police Chief H. W. Straley is going to crack down on the citizens of this city who do not clean their sidewalks of snow, mud, etc.

I believe if the citizens should clean their walks, so should the merchants.

The merchants spend quite a sum of money to clean their windows, why not the sidewalks?

The slogan "Clean Up, Paint Up Pontiac" should apply, not only in the spring, but in the winter as well.

The Critics

On the way home from church father criticized the sermon, mother didn't like the organist, and their daughter thought the choir was terrible. With schoolboy instinct for fair play, the son said: "Well, I think it was a good show for ten cents."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Some Adults Consent to Wild Teen-age Parties

Read Daniel's frank comments on present day high school students, and then see if you can answer his indictment of parents, as well as clergymen. Save this Case Record to go along with Judy's report, which will appear tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-385: Daniel, aged 17½, graduated from high school last June.

He and Judy were sitting at the table in the kitchen drinking milk about midnight when I was heading for bed, so I stopped to join them.

"Where've you been?" I inquired of Daniel.

"Oh, we have had a lot of graduation parties," he replied, "and I just got home.

"A lot of the kids have been having 'open house' for their classmates. But I came home early for the last place was just a drunken brawl."

"Yes," Judy added. "I don't think you and Mama really know what goes on nowadays. Most of the kids drink, even at high school parties and their parents either don't know about it, or don't care."

"Yeah," Danny took up the conversation. "I was riding with one of my classmates this afternoon. He stopped and went into a tavern. Then he came out with a case of beer.

"I asked him how he got the bartender to sell him the beer since he is not only under age but he looks even younger than he really is.

"He said the taverns don't care around here. They'll sell to anybody who lays the money on the counter.

"And if anybody objects, the kids carry forged credentials. A lot of them use phoney army draft registration cards, too, which they show when they want to buy liquor.

"Dad, were they as bad in your day as they are now?" Daniel added. "Why, at this last house where I stopped with my girl, they were half drunk and breaking up furniture.

"The parents weren't even home though they knew their house was being used for a high school graduation party. When I saw what was going on I took my girl and left.

"But I know that some of the parents actually furnish the beer for the kids. Then they leave the house and let them have a wild party.

"So it isn't all the fault of the high school kids. They seem to think it is smart to serve liquor.

"But their parents are just as bad, for some of them think it is 'cute' for their kids to serve liquor at their school parties.

"So why blame the teen-agers when it is their parents' fault more than their own?"

"How do they react to you when you don't accept liquor?" I asked.

"Oh, they say: 'Crane doesn't drink or smoke, either. He doesn't do anything.' And then they laugh and kid me about not being a man," Danny replied.

"That doesn't bother me, though, for there are enough of us kids here in our own family to back me up.

"But, Dad, the kids who have no brothers and sisters and who are 'only' children, have a tough time.

"When they get out in a crowd, even though they don't want to drink or smoke, they can't stand the kidding and ridicule. So they usually go along with the crowd, just like sheep.

"The teachers tell us that liquor causes a lot of the auto accidents and immorality. Yet the parents often serve liquor or let their kids have it at parties.

"And I've even seen two or three clergymen drinking. So how can kids be expected to leave liquor alone, when church people and even the priests and ministers also use it?

"It doesn't make sense to me for churches to talk about the evils of alcohol when leaders in the church then drink. Isn't this what you call hypocrisy?"

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Most startling event of 1953 occurred when envoy Dean pulled the hat trick on the Russians. He grabbed it and scrammed.

Up until that historic stroll in Panmunjom the promenading had been exclusively Russian. It was always Molotov who had to see a man about a bear.

No envoy Dean scrammed from the Panjamming in spite of the cordial Commie invitation to hang around and disagree some more.

We heard Dean on the air during Christmas week. He seemed to harbor some pre-dated optimism.

He says neither the North nor South Koreans will jump the gun on the last day of the screwy armistice. Our air force flattened out North Korea like a wet leaf on a cement sidewalk.

There is a flaw in Dean's perfect prospectus. How do we know that somebody didn't give Syngman Rhee a bow-and-arrow set for Christmas?

The first instalment of good intentions is due on Jan. 22. Which will go overboard like frightened frogs if Syngman Rhee springs the lock on the monkey house door. On that day 22,000 prisoners are supposed to get their diplomas.

Dropping a wrench in the machinery is mood music for the Russian delegates. They are playing an international tick-tack-toe game in which they get the triple X's and we get the ciphers.

The Indian troops want to go back to Pakistan-on-the-canal where they understand the arguments. What can their stuffy old Taj Mahal in the moonlight do against our color television?

The scene of Dean's intrepid exodus will be made an international park.

That will be the tops for 1953's stockpile of scrapped conferences. The 22,000 Commie prisoners are singing, "In two more weeks and five more days we'll be out of the calaboose." Just 19 days for the double-dating of the lady or the tiger.

Brady Believes With Prof. Sherman That Calcium Is Stolen From Bones

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

One of my crazy ideas is that calcium is a tranquilizer if not an analgesic.

* * *

In other words one of the physiological functions of the calcium (lime) every child and adult gets in food every day is to regulate excitability of nerve fibers and nerve centers.

I say a good deal about it in The Calcium Shortage booklet (25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope).

But others warn you that if you boop your calcium intake as Dr. Brady advises, you'll get "deposits" of calcium in your arteries, joints or innards.

For my arteries, I prefer the dictum of Sherman to half-baked theories.

Not Gen. Wm. T. Sherman but Henry C. Sherman, Ph. D., Sc. D., whose dictum I quote from Chemistry of Food and Nutrition:

"A food supply may appear liberal and varied, and yet unless milk and green leaf vegetables are well represented it may be calcium-poor. Hence the ordinary mixed diet of Americans and Europeans, at least among dwellers in cities and towns, is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element."

* * *

Then without getting clinical about it Prof. Sherman hammered a bit:

"In adults there may be a long-continued loss of calcium without the appearance of symptoms because losses from the blood and soft tissues may be replaced by calcium withdrawn from the bones."

Although a thousand and one so-called medical, dental and nutrition authorities may be shrewdly noncommittal or some of them dogmatic about it, I am convinced that under such circumstances losses fro mthe soft tissues are replaced by calcium withdrawn from the bones and the teeth.

But I can't prove this. I merely give my conviction.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Plan 12 Nike Bases by Midsummer, 1954

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army reportedly hopes to overcome a half-year lag in its schedule for setting up Nike guided missile launching bases and have about 12 ready by midsummer.

Signs are that priority is being given obvious industrial targets such as the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area, Northern aircraft manufacturing centers like Buffalo and Seattle and the Chicago and nearby Indiana industrial complex.

Only one installation has been completed for the big missiles intended to seek out and destroy enemy aircraft. It is at Ft. Meade, Md., emplaced to defend Washington and Baltimore. The goal is understood to be about 35 battery sites guarding the northern border of the United States.

Shortages of both equipment and trained manpower are understood to have hampered the program.

POW No Hero in Army's Eyes

Authorities Would Like to Softpedal Publicity About Batchelor

TOKYO (INS) — Cpl. Claude Batchelor appeared today to be enjoying the limelight but Army authorities stated frankly they hope no one will try to make a hero of the soldier who once chose communism and then renounced it.

The 22-year-old Kermit, Tex., soldier asked for repatriation from the Indian-guarded prisoner-of-war camp in Korea early New Year's Day and was flown to Tokyo Sunday for a tear-filled reunion with his Japanese wife.

Batchelor was taken to Tokyo Army Hospital for a physical checkup.

Despite expressed concern over what was called "unfortunate" publicity, the Army announced that Batchelor will meet with newsmen at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow (11:30 p.m. Monday EST).

One highly placed officer said he did not think a soldier who admitted he was a leader of the so-called "progressives" or pro-Communist elements in prison camp in North Korea could be considered any sort of hero.

The officer pointed out that Batchelor could have asked for repatriation during the regular exchange of prisoners last summer and at any subsequent time before New Year's Day when he finally decided to forsake the Reds.

Rings Reported Stolen; One Detail Overlooked

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Deriedean Howard reported yesterday three rings she'd pinned to her nightgown were missing when she awoke.

Mrs. Howard explained she had pinned them to her nightgown, all right, but had put the nightgown on backwards.

Police Guarding 265-Pound Thief

Powerful Lawbreaker Faces Federal Charge in Florida

MARIANNA, Fla. (AP) — Officers mounted a heavy guard over 33-year-old Jesse James Roberts, notorious South Georgia automobile thief and jail breaker, pending his federal arraignment today on a variety of charges.

He was scheduled to face U. S. Commissioner John H. Carter this morning.

The 6-foot-4, 265-pound criminal was captured without resistance at a Wewahitchka tourist court yesterday, but pulled a gun from between his legs and began firing wildly when an FBI agent and jailer began searching him at the Golf County Jail a short while later.

* * *

The agent said Roberts was being stripped and it was "more or less a desperation move—we were down to his pants and taking them off." Two shots were fired, no one was hit and Roberts was immediately overpowered, the agent said.

One pistol had been taken from him at the tourist court.

The FBI—and officers throughout the South—had been hunting Roberts since Dec. 20 when he overpowered a jailer half his size and broke out of the Greene County Jail at Eutaw, Ala., where he was being held on charges of forgery.

The FBI arrested Roberts yesterday on charges of interstate transportation of an automobile stolen at Eutaw when he escaped the jail there.

Astrologer Says Stock Market Predictions Tough

PARIS, (INS) — Belgian astrologer Gustave Brahy, who predicts stock market fluctuations from the stars, complained today that his task is much more difficult than that of an astrologer who makes up personal horoscopes.

The personal astrologer, he said, could tell a man he was jealous and it was difficult to prove otherwise. But the predictions of a stock market forecaster are easy to check.

Nevertheless, Agence France presse reported, Brahy offered a prediction for the future. He said the present world crisis will continue for some time—as long as the earth remains within the influence of "the Uranus Pluto parallel."

PERPIGNAN, France (AP) — A ground rescue team made its way today toward the wreckage of a French military transport on a snow-covered peak in the Pyrenees. There was little hope that any of the 11 French military men aboard the plane had survived.

The plane disappeared Tuesday on a test flight from Algiers to France and wreckage was later sighted.

East German Labor Still Troubles Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department publication says the Soviet-backed rulers of East Germany are practicing terrorism but reportedly are still encountering sitdown strikes and work stoppages.

Geoffrey W. Lewis wrote in the State Department Bulletin published yesterday that several thousand participants in the June revolt of Germans, including women and children, are reported to "have been seen loaded aboard trains headed for the Soviet Union."

Lewis, head of the Office of German Affairs, said some Communist leaders' "heads have rolled" and that there are indications of a purge of those who favored leniency toward the rebels and major changes in the party program.

Fire Damages House at MSC

EAST LANSING (UP) — Herrick House, a three-story Michigan State college student cooperative rooming house, was badly damaged by fire and one student was injured early Sunday.

Three residents of the house, who discovered the fire, escaped but Herbert Odom, 20, of Flint, was treated for lacerations suffered when he smashed his way to safety through a glass door.

The house normally is occupied by 26 men, but most of them were home for the holidays. Reportedly most of their belongings were lost. The fire was believed to have started in the furnace room.

Defense Opens Case in Conspiracy Trial

DETROIT (UP) — Defense attorney Ernest Goodman was scheduled to open his case today in the conspiracy trial of six Michigan Communists.

Proceedings resume in the court of federal Judge Frank A. Picard after a holiday recess. Goodman was expected to deliver arguments on his motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Cross-examination by Goodman before the recess turned up evidence of perjury on the part of two government witnesses. Picard said he was contemplating contempt action.

The six defendants, five men and one woman, are charged with violating the Smith Act which makes it unlawful to teach or advocate violent overthrow of the United States government.

Both duck and goose, as well as the common barnyard hen, were man's domestic companions long before the dawn of written history.

Schools Failing, Says Educator; Cites 5 Reasons

CHICAGO (UP)—American education is deteriorating rapidly, according to Lyle M. Spencer, president of Science Research Associates, Inc.

"If public schools were a business, we would say we have a giant blue chip concern, in which millions of investors have sunk their money, that has lost its skill in capturing the imagination of the American consumer and is gradually losing big chunks of its market to younger and more vigorous competitors," Spencer said.

In a recent talk to Midwest educators, he cited five black marks against the public school system.

1. Teachers' pay has risen only about 60 per cent as fast as other wages in the past 10 years.

2. Teachers are quitting their profession at an "unprecedented rate."

Sixty thousand left in the past year to go into other fields where they had no specialized training. "This has never happened in any other profession."

3. Teaching trainees are "at the very bottom of the intellectual ladder" of persons training for professional careers.

4. Teachers have low morale. "If private business showed such low morale, we as consultants would say they had a desperate personnel situation requiring a total overhaul."

5. The percentage of the national income spent for public education has dropped 45 per cent in the past 25 years and is still declining "at an accelerating rate."

Ford Trucks Go on Exhibit

Five New Engines, First Tandem Axle Unit Part of '54 Line

Five new engines and the company's first tandem axle unit feature the Ford Motor Co.'s 1954 truck line.

The new vehicles go on dealer display on Wednesday.

The new trucks include more than 220 models. They range from 4,000 pounds to 40,000 pounds in rated gross vehicle weight.

Engines for the new trucks develop from 115 to 170 horsepower. All are of the short stroke, low friction design.

Ford engineers say the shorter stroke design provides greater economy, smoother performance and longer engine life.

Ford is making power steering available on the so-called "big jobs," and fully automatic transmissions on all light duty models. Another feature on the bigger models is a de-popper valve. This uses engine vacuum to stop downhill backfiring at its source.

Ford engineers say the device is especially important, because many cities now have laws requiring elimination of such backfiring noise.

Dear Friends:

Spread out before us are the 365 days of 1954 — that many new opportunities to build a fuller and richer life.

We might well take our motto for the year from Thomas Carlyle's poem "Today," which opens with these words:

So here hath been dawning
Another blue day:
Think, wilt thou let it
Slip useless away?

Hal Boyle Says:

Side Effect of Prosperity May Be Crop of Fatheads

NEW YORK (AP)—Time has lifted the lid on another Pandora's box—the year 1954.

Peek as hard as you will, you still can't tell for sure all that lies waiting for you in the darkness inside. One thing is sure. Hope is there—a great hope, the luminous possibility of more peaceful times.

A forecast of lower income taxes is somewhat offset by another forecast that many people won't make much money either. The effect of this on the ulcer population is still unclear.

* * *

In some fields, of course, a man today is known by the ulcers he keeps. They are a form of income. The big problem for these men is whether it is better to take their worry pay in the form of one big ulcer or two small but active ones.

If the slight economic downturn now predicted does take place in 1954, it could have a number of side effects good for us as a people.

Prosperity that comes to a man too easily often makes him into a stuffed shirt, pompous, fat-headed and unappreciative.

Poverty creates its fair share of snobs, too, but never in such numbers as prosperity that comes swiftly and with little real sweat. Sweat rarely makes a snob.

* * *

The American people are medically estimated to be carrying around now more than half a billion pounds of excess weight harmful to their health. A doctor might say that most of this fat is concentrated around the waist. A philosopher would say there is even more unnecessary fat between the ears, and it is this fat that should be burned up first. A fathead is always more dangerous to an individual and to a society than a plump midriff.

* * *

There is some truth to the criticism of many foreigners that prosperity has gone to our head and we have too little sympathy for the hardships of less wealthy lands. It is true despite the fact we have freely given away more billions to other countries than any nation in history.

A forced tightening of our belt one notch in 1954 could do us some good as a people, spiritually as well as physically. No one who lived through the last depression could look forward with equanimity to a return of such hard times, but no such prospect appears in the picture for this year. We will go on buying our apples in the stores, and not from street corner peddlers.

* * *

But even a small increase in the unemployment rolls should remind us that the job we hold, though naturally far below our sterling merits, is after all a job—and a paying job.

The working man feels about his job during a recession like a combat soldier does about his life in wartime—it never seems so important until it looks like he might lose it.

* * *

If the average man finds he has a few less dollars to toss around in 1954, he is likely to use them more wisely—and be more grateful for what he has.

That is the odd thing about gratitude. A thing taken for granted adds nothing to your happiness. But when you appreciate something at its true worth it gives a deeper meaning to your own existence.

George B. Judson Claims His Bride in Detroit

Announcing the marriage of her daughter, Ella Lucille, to George B. Judson of Detroit is Mrs. Emma J. Long of Mount Clemens street.

Mr. Judson is president and chairman of the board of the Wabeek State Bank of Detroit.

The Rev. Philip Sarles, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational Church, performed the ceremony Dec. 28 at the Judson residence in Detroit.

The bride, wearing a navy blue suit with an orchid corsage, was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Earl G. Long, in a teal blue suit with a gardenia corsage. Mr. Long attended the bridegroom.

The bridal luncheon was held at the bridegroom's home.

After a wedding trip to New York, the couple will reside in Palmer Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collins of Silverhill road were hosts at a holiday party for a number of friends Sunday afternoon. Also joining in the conversation were Mr. and Mrs. C. Patrick Monaghan of Birmingham (right).

Mend Broken Nail; Restore Whole Look

Just when you want so badly to be perfectly groomed, it will happen: A run will pop, a pimple will blossom or a nail will break. One would think these little disasters could sense a party coming.

Should a broken nail threaten your party poise, teenagers, you can make it appear as good as whole. You can find kits for this purpose at drug stores and cosmetic counters.

All you need do is saturate a piece of the tissue that is provided with the solution and tuck it under the break with an orangewood stick. Tear the tissue from the booklet since a ragged torn edge is less apparent than a cleanly cut one.

A second patch will reinforce a particularly bad break.

After the patch has dried thoroughly, apply a base coat and then your polish. By applying your base coat freely, you help to make the patch waterproof.

The tissue and solution can also be used to reinforce a fragile nail that threatens to break. For this condition, tear off a wedgeshaped piece of tissue, and trim the wide end to correspond with the tip of the nail. Saturate with solution and lay it flat on the nail. Have round end extend about an eighth of an inch beyond nail edge. Smooth with moistened finger tip.

Now turn your finger over and apply solution to espose edges of tissue. Turn tissue inward over nail edge with orangewood stick that has been dipped in remover. Press firmly to inner surface of nail.

Black, White Again Prevail for 1954

By OLGA CURTIS

CHICAGO (INS) — The 1954 "Good Design" story will be written mostly in black and white, plus vivid colors and modern shapes.

That's the forecast from the ninth semi-annual "Good Design" exhibit which today opened the January furniture market in Chicago. More than 350 items, chosen from 2,500 entries, were put on display at the Merchandise Mart as the best home furnishings designs of the new year.

As in 1953, black-and-white was the dominant color trend. But this year, black-and-white was counterbalanced by sharp, vivid tints like persimmon and burnt orange, brilliant yellow, electric blue, blue-green and teal blue.

A new set of plastic dishes picked by the "Good Design" selection committee comes in black, yellow and orange. A severe modern chair of black wrought iron wore a taut shell of white plastic cord while another black chair of tubular steel was covered in woven spun nylon in white, black, orange and yellow. The nylon fit the chair like nylon hose fit the leg.

The committee named by the Museum of Modern Art in New York selected items in every category from furniture to kitchen pots and pans.

In furniture, the "Good Design" items showed two definite trends for modern shape. One, a "formal" modern, stressed clear-cut line, smooth surfaces and emphasized the black-and-white motif. The second, more "informal" modern featured natural tones, particularly in woods, softer lines and the use of texture.

Case goods with stark black or white steel frames and a choice of colored drawers marked the "formal" modern design idea. A curved arm-chair in wood, and a simple wooden serving cart with a glass undershelf typified the "informal" items.

In the wood pieces, finishes were mostly clear, permitting the natural color and grain of the wood to show. The woods, chosen for natural markings were mostly light patterned like birch, beech, teak and walnut.

Almost without exception, all the 1954 "Good Design" items were 100 per cent for the modern idea in decoration. The selected fabrics, for instance, were mostly geometric prints in vivid off-shades that could fit only into contemporary decor.

Perennial Style-Setter Falls to 10th

'53 List Dominated by Social Leaders Here, Abroad

(From UP & INS Dispatches)

NEW YORK—A New York society matron with four children, Mrs. William (Barbara Cushing) Paley, today was named the best-dressed woman of 1953.

The Duchess of Windsor, after being a world fashion queen for 15 years, barely managed to stay on the 1953 list of the world's 10 best-dressed women by tying for 10th place with singer Mary Martin.

The duchess was beaten in the annual poll even by her own niece-by-marriage, Princess Margaret Rose.

The Duchess doesn't mind being dropped from first to 10th place, her secretary said in Paris today.

"But she wonders why she dropped so badly when she has changed nothing in her manner of dressing."

The Duchess is on her way to the United States with the Duke of Windsor on the liner Queen Mary, due to dock in New York Tuesday. She had been advised of this year's best-dressed listings before she sailed on New Year's Eve.

The new fashion leader is well-known in social circles. Mrs. Paley was one of the three famed Cushing sisters of Boston, and is now the wife of a broadcasting official and the mother of four children.

The tall and willowy beauty spends most of her time in her Long Island home, and is better known for exquisite taste rather than an extensive wardrobe.

Mrs. Paley's choice in clothes, the same that made her second on the best-dressed list last year, is for youthful tailored dresses in daytime and dramatic, richly colored gowns for evening. Her favorite colors are vivid pink and dark gray.

The complete 1953 list of the world's best-dressed women, announced today by the New York Dress Institute, includes 12 names instead of the usual 10, because of two ties.

Socialites from both sides of the Atlantic walked away with most of the honors. New York social leaders placed 1-2-3 on the list, with Mrs. Winston Guest second and Mrs. Byron Foy third. Both were on the list last year, too.

Mrs. Guest, blonde and elegant, likes to wear short-jacketed suits with round collars. Mrs. Foy, black-haired and white-skinned, builds her entire wardrobe on four colors only—black, white, sapphire blue and navy.

After Mrs. Paley, Mrs. Guest and Mrs. Foy, the 1953 best-dressed women, according to the dress institute, were:

Mme. Henri Bonnet of Paris and Washington, wife of the French ambassador to the U. S.; Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr. of New York; Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare in President Eisenhower's Cabinet; Mme. Louis Arpels of Paris and New York; Princess Margaret Rose; Mrs. Henry Ford II of Detroit; Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt of New York; the Dutchess of Windsor, and stage and screen star Mary Martin.

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Vanderbilt tied for ninth place, while the Duchess shared 10th position with Miss Martin.

The New York Dress Institute, which has conducted the international poll to choose the best-dressed women since 1940, said it was the first time in 15 years that the Duchess of Windsor has failed to finish among the top three in the best-dressed poll. She was first picked as the world's fashion queen in 1937 by Paris designers.

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, who made the list last year, didn't poll enough votes for the top 10 listing in 1953.

Queen Fredericka of Greece, Queen Elizabeth of England and the U. S. ambassador to Italy, Clare Boothe Luce, got some votes, but not enough for the best-dressed listing.

More than 1,000 ballots from fashion editors and experts were used to compile the listing. One editor, the dress institute reported, refused to name best-dressed celebrity and gave all her votes to "the average American woman."

MRS. GORDON LEE BOOKER

Honeymooning in Florida are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lee Booker who were married Saturday evening in First Congregational Church. She is the former Thelma Katharine Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lewis of North Avery road. Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald of St. Petersburg, Fla., and the late Harry Booker are his parents.

Thelma K. Lewis Gowned in Ivory Organza for Rite

Wearing a gown of ivory silk organza with long pointed sleeves and a net illusion neckline, Thelma Katharine Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Windom H. Lewis of North Avery road, became the bride of Gordon Lee Booker of Lansdowne street Saturday evening in First Congregational Church.

Gordon is the son of Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald of St. Petersburg, Fla., and the late Harry Booker.

The bodice of the bridal gown was appliqued with satin and the skirt ended in a cathedral-length train. Her satin Juliet cap was trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and roses.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton before 200 guests.

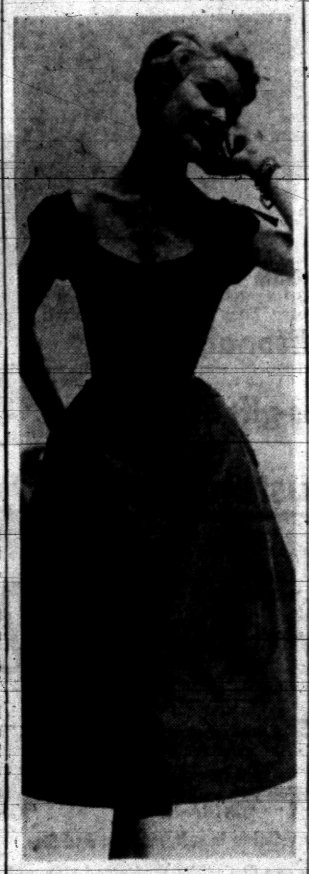

Mrs. Scott Kemper of Sacramento, Calif., sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her gown was fashioned with a bodice of orchid velveteen and a nylon net skirt. She carried a bouquet of orchid carnations with a purple net background.

The other attendants were Beverly Bugg, Mrs. Ben Bundo of Walled Lake, Francine Brown and Nancy Upham. They all wore gowns of royal purple velveteen with nylon net skirts and matching net stoles. Their bouquets were composed of purple carnations with backgrounds of orchid net. Krist Kemper, the bride's niece, was the flower girl.

Harry Booker of Royal Oak, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Seating the guests were Norman Hill, Wilford Payne of Birmingham, Roy C. Lewis and Mr. Bundo. The ringbearer was Christopher Lewis, the bride's cousin.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lewis wore a teal blue lace dress with pink and gray accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

After a reception held in the church parlors, the bride changed to a turquoise knit dress, a beige cashmere coat with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet for a two month honeymoon trip through Florida.

The beltless empire waist—a feature of many new styles . . . takes a youthful turn in a dress of paper-crisp taffeta. The skirt is gored and snugly fitted to a high line under the bust where it is marked with a tailored bow.

Bermuda Sea Scene

CHICAGO, Ill. — A beautiful seascape of the south shore of Bermuda is now available for American homes on handprinted wallpaper, to meet the demand for this type of decoration. The scenic reproduces the work of Adolph Treidler, noted water-colorist, and comes in four panels, each 28-inches wide, to cover nine feet four inches of wall space.

Clean Outside Porch

If you have an outside porch off the kitchen where various things are stowed away, give it a good going over now and then with a vacuum cleaner and its attachments. Even if the porch is not used regularly, keeping it clean helps keep dust and dirt out of the rest of the house.

Paris Shows Stress Gold in Jewelry

Paris jewelers, who exhibited next year's fashion in precious jewelry at "Noel showings" in December, are all feeling the "Midas touch." Everything that glitters is gold combined with diamonds.

Now the fashion is reaching America in 22-karat gold mountings sent by plane to branches of Paris houses here, where the pieces are set with American-cut diamonds.

By designer-tradition, fine quality large gems have been mounted most often in white metals since the development of Russian platina fifty years ago. Some fashionable jewelers are busy with sketches for remaking in yellow gold the twenty-five-year-old platinum jewelry of their best customers.

Sophie Tucker, the entertainer, who bought diamond earrings with some of her first earnings forty years ago and now owns a large collection of stones, is having them remounted in rich yellow gold for deluxe night-club engagements during the Florida season.

Unlike novelty jewelry, the metal used for precious jewelry is sometimes as "rich" as 22-karat. This gives it incomparable color and brightness. Paris jewelers have long used 18-karat gold in fine order work. "Pure gold" is rated 24-karat but is too soft for any practical use. When blended with certain alloys, it is hardened sufficiently for jewelers' use. A blend of 18 parts of gold and six parts of alloy (total — 24 parts) is described as 18-karat gold. This has much richer color than the more familiar 14-karat gold used in most precious jewelry.

Married Saturday evening in Oakland Park Methodist Church were Barbara C. Burt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buhl Burt of Baldwin avenue, and Maynard C. Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes of Lowell street.

MRS. MAYNARD C. HOLMES

Barbara Burt Becomes Bride Before 300 Guests

Saturday evening in Oakland Park Methodist Church, Barbara Claire Burt became the bride of Maynard Charles Holmes, son of the Charles Holmes' of Lowell street.

The Rev. James Deeg performed the 7:30 o'clock service before 300 guests.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buhl Burt of Baldwin avenue, wore a gown of white lace and net fashioned with a lace bodice and lace ballerina-length skirt. An illusion neckline and long sleeves coming to points over the wrists were other highlights of the gown.

A tiny crown of seed pearls and sequins held her illusion veil, and she also carried a bouquet of white flowers. Her pearls were a gift of the bridegroom.

Beverly Slayton was maid of honor in a gown of gold net over taffeta fashioned with a halter neckline and matching jacket. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a Shalimar bouquet of pink carnations with matching streamers.

In similar gowns of aqua were bridesmaids Janet Burt, the bride's sister; Maxine Sage, the bride's cousin, and Lynne Giddings. Their bouquets were of yellow carnations.

Walter DeNio was best man, and seating the guests were Richard Ensworth, Ronald Leighton and Paul Moros.

George Pudduck sang the vocal recital, and playing the organ was the bride's cousin, Ponnie Sue Davis.

Receiving guests in the church parlors, the bride's mother wore a dress of blue-gray lace over pink taffeta with a matching jacket and a corsage of Pinocchio rosebuds.

Brown lace with aqua accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses was worn by Mrs. Holmes.

For the wedding trip Barbara wore a black velvet suit with winter white and black accessories and a corsage of white roses. They will reside on Lowell street.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State College where he was affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Scent Rules Aid Choice of Perfume

Test-Smell Aromas Before Picking One as Your Favorite

Are you in the mood for a different and delicious aroma? Then let a few rules help you pick out the right scent for you.

When you're shopping for a new perfume, don't attempt to try more than three scents at a time.

And don't smoke or eat strongly flavored foods just before the try-out or you'll confuse the issue. Never sniff the test drop on your wrist until it dries. Then wait a minute or two and breathe it again.

There's a good reason for this: The first flagrant whiff is the topnote—nice but not lasting. Later you discover the heart of the perfume — what those near you will smell when you wear it.

When you're attracted by a fragrance, buy a small bottle of it. Before investing a fat sum in a large size, make sure this new acquaintance will become a trusted friend.

Every day for awhile, wear it inside your elbows, handy to sniff now and then, until you know how long the scent lasts and whether the scent stays true right up to the last whiff.

If you like it more and more, you'll probably want to buy the lighter toilet water or cologne to spray over your body after a bath and for countless uses. Toilet water is usually the stronger version but if a perfumer offers cologne only, this may be the equivalent of toilet water in other scents.

Should you stick to one perfume and make it your seal and signature? That depends. It may be that only one speaks for you truly, and nothing else will do. Then you are a one-perfume woman.

But most of us are restless and we get more pleasure from fragrance if we have two or three or a flock—of bottles to choose from. Then we fit a scent to certain clothes, occasions, weather, or just a passing whim.

BISHOP-BRACKEN

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Actress Buys Potted Fir, Later Plants It in Grove

A sad sight to me at this season is the discarded Christmas tree, still forlornly tiseled, rudely stuck in a refuse can on its way to the dump heap.

Mary Martin, the actress, was telling me the other day that she feels so strongly about deserted Christmas trees that she and her husband, Richard Halliday, have discovered a way to keep them. Each year they buy a young Douglas fir growing in a pot, decorate it and care for it as if it were a giant house plant.

MISS McBRIDE

Then, Telfth Night past, they plant the little tree in a grove close by their house outside Norwalk, Conn., and now there is a living record of 15 merry family festivals.

Their daughter, Heller, 12, has a Christmas tree, growing there for every year of her life and one or two extras for dolls she particularly loved.

When I was 12, I had never had a Christmas tree, though there were plenty growing wild on our farm. The problem was my father. He thought, like most hard-working, just-ahead-of-the-mortgage farmers in our part of the country, that such institutions as Christmas trees were foolishness.

All the churches in our town had trees every year and children who went to Sunday School got presents off them, but the only home in which I ever saw one was the mayor's. When I went to deliver a pound of butter and a dozen eggs to the mayor's wife, there the tree was standing in the front room with a little smiling angel at the very top.

I decided then and there that if the Goetzes could have a Christmas tree, so could the McBrides. I planned for a whole year. As the next Christmas neared, I asked my mother if we could have a tree. She shook her head and said Papa would think it foolish.

Just then I heard Papa out at the woodpile, whamming away with his ax. That gave me an idea: I would make my brother Tommy take Papa's ax and cut us a tree, and once Papa saw it with popcorn and cranberry strings I knew he would like it.

Tommy wasn't enthusiastic. He reminded me that we were forbidden to touch Papa's ax and said if we hit a rock or nail with it the steel might chip and the ax would be ruined. But he finally gave in, as I knew he would.

So while Papa was milking next morning, we slipped into the woodshed, got the ax and trudged through the snow to a little rise where I'd seen some small cedars.

The tree I chose was harder to chop down than I expected and once Tommy let the ax slip and it hit a rock. But at last we dragged the prize home and hid it behind the woodpile.

Papa had to chop some wood that evening and knew the minute he touched his precious ax that someone else had been using it. Tommy was the first suspect and, quaking, I came forward to shoulder my own guilt.

So we got what we deserved for taking Papa's ax—and we did not have a Christmas tree that year nor ever.

I can't even remember what happened to that little tree, though I'm so sentimental now. Probably we burned it in the kitchen stove.

Bride's Aunt Not Wanted at Shower

Hostess Objects to Including Enemy in Guest List

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "I am going to give a shower for the daughter of a friend. Not knowing the bride's friends, I asked her mother for a list of the names of those who would like to come to a shower for Mary.

"Included in this list was the name of one of the bride's aunts. I have not spoken to this person for some time, and the bride's mother knows this.

"Wasn't it cheeky of her to expect me to invite this aunt to my house, knowing the circumstances, and can I take it upon myself to cross her name from the list?"

Answer: I think the bride's mother was trying to be a peacemaker, and put her name on the list in the hope that a truce might occur. At any rate, if you are serious about not inviting her to your house, you certainly can cross her name from the list.

Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much like to have your opinion of young girls, aged 13 and 14, wearing earrings to school. My daughter is 13 and is very much put out with me because I refuse to let her wear them.

She says that the other girls in her class wear them and she can't see why I won't let her do the same. I told her that I would agree to this if you said it was proper.

Answer: Long dangling earrings, or overlarge jeweled ones, would be very bad, but small button ones would be unobjectionable.

Sandbox Indoors

If you have a warm basement, why not place a sandbox there so the kids can enjoy a touch of summer fun even in the winter. Clean sand can be obtained from a tree or plant nursery.

Guest Wonders About Taking Present to Her Friend's Engagement Party

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been invited to the engagement party of a friend of mine and I planned to give her a gift. But I've since been told that gift-giving is not customary at this type of party. Is this true?

"If it's not true, what type of gift is usually given? Something personal, or something for the home? Would it be improper to make my friend a gift of money?

"Incidentally, the party is to be a buffet supper in a hired hall. Thank you for any assistance you can give me."

This party, from your brief description of it, is apparently to announce your friend's engagement. Maybe everyone is already aware of her "secret," just as you are. It's not going to be a surprise to anybody — it's just the occasion for celebrating the big news. In which case your friend and her family are having a big do to announce the news officially and generally — and gifts are not expected or indicated.

Showers may be planned for your friend — parties to which you also will be invited. You'll be expected to crash through with a gift for each such shower invitation.

But if it's not likely that you will be included in such parties before the wedding takes place, and you're very fond of your friend and want to give her an engagement present, make it something personal, and give it to her at any time that's convenient after the announcement party.

Money (except in large quantities) isn't as attractive as some luscious luxury daintily wrapped. At least I'd rather receive a lacy slip than some utilitarian old five dollar bill!

"Dear Miss Woodward: We went to a wedding some time ago, and the procedure at the reception had me completely puzzled.

"Some of the guests would shake hands with the bride's parents, some with the bridegroom's — then every body would shake hands with the bride and only a few with the bridegroom. I'm wondering who was right and who was wrong?"

At the usual wedding reception you're likely to find the parents of both bride and bridegroom standing in a receiving line with them and all the bridesmaids to greet the guests and receive everybody's congratulations.

(I've been to weddings where the papa of the bride left the receiving job to his wife, and he floated around seeing to the serving of their guests).

When there is such a line, guests are supposed to start at the beginning and shake hands with everyone in it, muttering enthusiastic and glowing little speeches of compliment to each one. You're introduced by name as you're passed down the line — and when you're introduced you shake hands.

Picking and choosing among the principals at a wedding is rather arbitrary, don't you think?

Boy Wants Same Love as Brother

Reveals Terror by Demanding Same Belongings

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On Christmas the Browns gave their two boys chemical sets. Because Harry's contained two more vials than Marvin's, Marvin's resentment spoiled the day.

If Mrs. Brown buys a maroon sweater for Marvin that doesn't duplicate the one she gets Harry, he won't wear it. Explanations that the store doesn't stock the blue, turtleneck type in his smaller size only irritate him. To get Marvin into a sweater, his mother has to ask the store to send to the factory for one just like his brother's.

I hope Mrs. Brown will soon be able to stop indulging Marvin's demands for duplicates of Harry's things. Because Marvin is not really interested in identical chemical sets and sweaters. What he is fighting for is a duplicate of the respect and interest his mother gives his older brother.

Unless she perceives this, she'll continue wasting time in explanations, in reproaches of Marvin's "selfishness." He is not selfish. He is afraid.

Instead of explanations and reproaches, he wants his mother to say, "Because your sweater is different from Harry's does not mean that I love you differently. You are quite as precious to me as he is."

Oh, he doesn't know he wants her to say it. Because he doesn't know he's afraid. To know that he's afraid he's loved less than Harry would force him to wonder if he is loved less.

That possibility would mean such hate of Mother that he would be overwhelmed with horror of himself.

I hope we begin to see why it's most cruel to call him "selfish."

So, instead of giving cruelty to Marvin's fear, let's give it light. Let's lift it gently up out of the dark for him.

We do this when we say quietly, "A different sweater is never different love, darling." For we are, of course, denying what the terror is telling him. We are letting Marvin know that it cannot make us feel guilty and apologetic or alarmed.

And if our gentleness is sincere, our son will himself gradually accept his fear as unalarming, too.

As he loses his terror of it, we can begin to speak of it openly to him until with us he learns to see how he has confused his need for identical things with his need for reassurance of identical love.

We mustn't let this competition for duplicate things go on. There are too many grownup brothers and sisters racing each other for bigger incomes, and identical cars. They never even suspect that they're still fighting for the biggest candy and identical chemical sets they fought for 25 years ago.

City Visitor Has Recipe for Pudding

E. Lansing Woman Offers New Gelatine Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Mrs. D. M. Slack of East Lansing spent the holidays in Pontiac. She brought with her a new recipe for a winter pudding which we are happy to publish.

Mrs. Slack works with food daily as her job. She enjoys the many musical events that a college town offers its residents.

WINTER PUDDING
By Mrs. D. M. Slack

1 package lemon gelatine
2 cups boiling water
Dash of salt
¾ cup raisins, finely chopped
⅝ cup cooked prunes, seeded and chopped
4 tablespoons citron, finely chopped
¾ cup walnut meats, finely chopped
¾ cup grapenuts
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves

Add salt to gelatine dissolved in boiling water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in fruits, nuts, grapenuts and spices. Turn into mold and chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream or pudding sauce. Makes 6-8 servings.

Sauce

Beat 1 egg until foamy. Add 5 tablespoons melted butter slowly, then 1½ cups powdered sugar. Mix well. Blend in 1 cup whipping cream beaten stiff. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Makes about 6 servings.

Rug for a Sailor

Hand-knotted rugs, designed by Count Sigvard Berndadotte for the Swedish American flagship Kungsholm, are now available for U. S. homes through interior decorators. All designs bring to home the flavor of the sea, and come in any color combinations and sizes.

Try It

Make Newspaper Apron

Newspapers can be used after the family has finished reading them. In fact, they can save you many hours during this new year, by "cleaning up" for you.

It seems that everyone always enjoys making things, but dislikes that after-work cleanup job. Today's Try It has a useful suggestion for newspapers after they have been ready by all of the family.

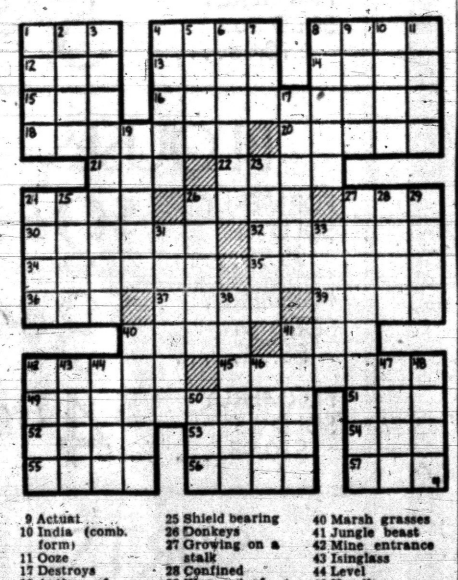

Here is the first person to receive one of the new original Try It drawings which are all ready to hang in your rooms. This is A. B. Christianson of Staten Island, N. Y. Congratulations.

What about you? Have you sent in an idea for Try It yet? I am waiting for your letter or card.

Look at the drawing. Here is a handy work apron made from two double sheets of newspaper. When they are folded, they make four thicknesses of paper.

You will also need two snap clothespins. These should have an old shoelace, a piece of cord or some tape tied to them. The length of the cord will vary with the size of the person wearing the apron.

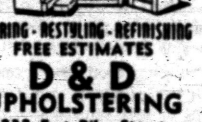

Tie another cord around your waist, tear the corners to fit under your arms, and you are ready for work. Mother and Dad will find this handy, too.

If you want a hair-do that's superfine,
Betty LeCornu studies your features and line.
Betty is French, has an artistic knack,
She takes one look and cuts a bustle back,
Or perhaps a halo or starlit bang.
Crazy and cool, (described in modern slang).
There's Italian Boy for the natural curls
And the trim Cap style for younger girls.
There's the Umbrella, Shell, Vagabond, too,
No matter what, it's just right for you!
Get a REGAL POMP, newest hair-do of all.
Especially nice for a party or ball.
She sprinkles stardust sparkles, if you wish,
Or sprays silver streaks to give you swish!
She has gift certificates for a permanent wave,
Give some of these and your friends will rave.
Gift certificates are good any time at all,
In the winter, spring, summer or fall.
Her types of curls will make you grin,
There's TV, Pyramid, Sculpture, Button or Spin.

T. W. Jacksons Entertain at Annual Family Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jackson entertained at the annual Jackson family dinner New Year's Day in their home on Mount Clemens street.

Guests were the K. R. Jacksons of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. H. Warn Jackson and children, Carolyn, Terry and Nancy, of Lansing and the Robert F. Jacksons and son, Bradford, of Flint.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jackson Jr. and sons, Richard and Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jackson Jr. and daughters, Bobbie and Robin, and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Fitch.

* * *

Barbara Wiersema was hostess New Year's Day at an open house and buffet supper for 60 friends in her home on West Iroquois road. Barbara has returned to her studies at the University of Michigan after spending the winter vacation with her parents, the Theodore Wiersemas.

* * *

Sunday dinner guests of the V. T. Wagners of Cameron avenue were the Earl Hulls of Lapeer.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vantine of Chicago left for home Saturday after a two-week visit with Mrs. Astolf Levine of Evelyn court.

* * *

Saturday evening dinner guests of Mrs. F. N. Hilton of Cherokee road were the J. Earl Crawfords and family of Oak Knoll road.

Friday evening Mrs. Hilton was hostess to Mrs. Lillian Hilton of Seminole avenue with her daughters, Joan and Jean, and the Paul Osbornes of Monroe street.

* * *

Pfc. and Mrs. William A. Shelton with their son, David, have returned to their home in Fayetteville, N. C., after spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Robertson of South Paddock street and the T. W. Sheltons of Irwin avenue.

Pfc. and Mrs. Shelton, former Pontiac residents, plan to return in May.

* * *

Former Pontiac residents, the Sidney Teagues of Rochester were hosts Friday evening at a hayride party for their twins, Barbara and Tom. The Frank Yates assisted them.

Included in the guest list were Bonnie Brookbank, Sharon Crissman, Dora Peltier, Paul Easterly, Roger Knapp, Bob Yates, John Applegate and Debbie Teague.

Carpet Bad Floors

In buying a house with a thought of remodeling, if the floors are in bad shape generally, see if you cannot have the entire house carpeted at not too much more than the cost of replacing the floors. The new carpet will be easy to keep clean with a good vacuum cleaner and will be a nice start toward a well-furnished and comfortable home.

Do 1 Room at a Time

Never go into an orgy of housecleaning, tearing up everything so that the entire household is unhappy as well as uncomfortable. Take one room at a time, use your vacuum cleaner and its attachments on everthing in the room and you'll be surprised how clean the house will be in just a few days with no confusion, in fact, with no awareness of housecleaning whatsoever.

Stainless Steel Has Elegance

Stainless steel is a "natural" for brides because it is inexpensive and easy to care for — although these are no longer its only virtues.

There is a new look and luster to stainless for it's designed to fit today's living — the kind of living that is casual but never careless — often elegant, but not formal — the kind of living newlyweds are planning.

If you've thought of stainless steel in terms of the flat, tinny service GI's used on their mess trays, you have a surprise in store. For today's stainless flatware is as solid and beautifully shaped as a piece of sculpture.

And in place of the metallic look you once found, there is a soft, satiny finish that looks nothing at all like steel.

Stainless goes for parties as well as picnics. You can use it anytime, anywhere. Spotlight steel on a table as elegant as imaginable with your finest china, crystal and linen. Or line up your stainless on a buffet for a casserole supper. And you can use it every day without hurting it.

Soap and water care is all stainless needs. Many manufacturers are now supplying cabinets or trays for storing stainless. You can also get almost any kind of pattern in stainless steel flatware, but is usually most attractive in simple designs with its beauty dependent on soft, flowing lines.

When you buy stainless steel flatware, choose it for the way it feels in your hand and how it works, as well as its appearance.

Clean Washables

Don't ever let anything in the home become really dirty. If badly soiled they will "come clean" in a short trip through the household washer. There is no excuse for anyone who owns a good, up-to-date household washer to let anything washable go until it is just plain dirty.

Iron Lengthwise

By ironing your bedspreads the long way, you can keep them to full length.

GRETA HEDLUND

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Greta, to Jerry Swanson are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hedlund of Clive street. Greta attends the University of Michigan, and Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Swanson of Birchcrest road. No date has been set for the wedding.

Garden Club Will Gather January 11

Plans were completed for the annual meeting of Bloomfield Hills Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association when Mrs. Edward Turner was hostess at a luncheon in her Weston drive home this afternoon.

The annual meeting will be Jan. 11 at 1:30 o'clock with Mrs. Clarence Otter on North Woodward avenue.

Mrs. J. Hawley Otis, program chairman, announced that Gilbert Bentley will be the guest speaker for the occasion. Mr. Bentley is one of the outstanding specialists in the nation in flower and vegetable seed breeding, and he is an accredited judge for the All-American Selections Committee.

After the program and election of officers, tea will be served by Mrs. W. G. Ferguson and her hospitality committee.

Assisting her will be Mrs. John Tebbin, Mrs. G. J. Huebner, Mrs. Felix Burner, Mrs. William Kahn, Mrs. James Longwell and Mrs. Lester L. Colbert. Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Ralph Polk and Mrs. Robert L. Graham.

Prolong Curtain Life

When making plain window curtains, make the top and bottom hems the same width. Then you can prolong their life by reversing them after each washing.

Gold Wire on Bracelets

Paris is using yards and yards of 18-karat gold wire to make wrapped-looking rope bracelets and big knobby rings. In some places the wire appears to be "hand-crocheted" around clusters of diamond brilliants.

Golden rope as thick as clothesline is studded with round diamonds and gold tassels. A new necklace is nothing more than a ribbon of diamonds and a cord of gold, twisted together as casually as Christmas wrappings.

For another necklace, a dozen gold disks, each engraved and set with small diamonds, are pierced and "threaded" helter-skelter on gold wire; looks as simple as something your child brings home from kindergarten but is worth hundreds of thousands of francs!

Anne Fogarty's exciting new bodice treatment in an exclusive silk taffeta print of stylized gold and gray stripes is as studied and perfect as an Oriental flower arrangement. Controlled tucks radiate upward and out from the center waist above a full skirt to form a deep V-neckline and an illusion of width through the shoulders.

Zola Mae Bridges Is Wed in Bethel Tabernacle Rite

In an evening ceremony Saturday in Bethel Tabernacle, Zola Mae Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bridges of Brooks, avenue, became the bride of Kenneth M. Malone.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Malone of Paron, Ark.

The bride wore a gown of white satin. Her white tiara, decorated with seed pearls, held her fingertip veil of lace.

Mrs. Dale H. Hines was matron of honor. She wore a gown of blue net over satin. The gown had a matching net stole and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

Janette Ferdon was the bridesmaid wearing a gown of pink net over satin with a pink net stole. Her bouquet was composed of blue carnations.

Diane Hines and Jo Louise Wright were flower girls. They wore gowns of orchid and nile green satin, respectively, with matching net headbands. They carried baskets of petals for bouquets.

Mr. Hines was best man and Tom Meyers seated the guests.

After a reception in the Auburn Heights Community Club the bride changed to a powder blue dress with navy blue accessories and a white carnation corsage for traveling.

Tips in Pot Cleaning

Cooking pots and mixing bowls will be easier to clean if you remember these little soaking tips. Utensils used for egg, milk, dough or cheese mixtures should be soaked in cold water. Those used for frostings, syrups or candy should be soaked in hot water. Don't soak them overlong.

Dems Question Division Recall

Call Troop Withdrawal in Korea Poor Policy Before Big 4 Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats will ask President Eisenhower at a White House briefing tomorrow to tell them why he thinks they should support his decision to withdraw two American divisions from Korea.

Sen. Russell of Georgia, top Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is anxious to learn the background for this military shift. Earlier, Russell said that the move seemed at first glance to "smack of appeasement."

"I am sure the President has some very good reasons for making this decision," Russell said in an interview. "I feel that we in Congress hould be apprised of the reasons."

* * *

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, was understood to be backing Russell in this search for information.

Several of Johnson's colleagues have condemned the move as likely to weaken American military strength in Asia at a critical period in international affairs.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) has suggested an investigation of the matter by the Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), in an interview in advance of the briefing, criticized the Korean troop reduction along with other recent foreign policy moves, saying he thought they represented "extremely poor policy" as preparation for the Big Four meeting with Russia Jan. 25.

"We might have to make some concessions to get an agreement. But we should be in a position to lead from strength," Humphrey said.

* * *

The Minnesotan said he referred to recent announcements of reductions of United States military personnel in the Far East, and to plans to cut back American military and economic aid abroad.

However, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said in a separate interview he regards the prospective transfer of two divisions from Korea as a move to strengthen the American mobile reserve in line with the "new look" realignment Eisenhower is expected to propose for the armed forces.

"We can't have such a mobile reserve if our forces are tied down in Korea," Knowland said.

"This doesn't mean, however, that there is any lessening of American interest in Korea. Any Communist move there would be of immediate concern to us."

Says Reds Couldn't Get to Channel in West Push

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins says it is now doubtful the Russians could reach the English Channel if they unleased an assault on Western Europe.

Collins, U. S. reprsentative on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council, said yesterday on an NBC television show NATO forces now have twice the air strength available three years ago. In addition to 2,000 combat planes, he said, the Allies have 16 to 18 divisions immediately ready to fight.

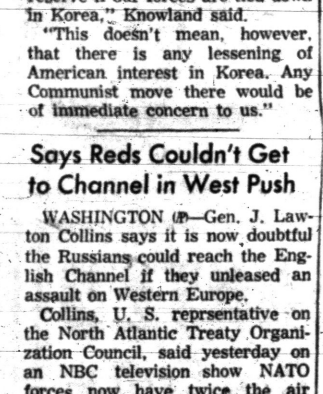

The Great Smoky Mountains take their name from the blue haze resembling smoke that hovers over the peaks.

A Frank Statement to Cigarette Smokers

RECENT REPORTS on experiments with mice have given wide publicity to a theory that cigarette smoking is in some way linked with lung cancer in human beings.

Although conducted by doctors of professional standing, these experiments are not regarded as conclusive in the field of cancer research. However, we do not believe that any serious medical research, even though its results are inconclusive should be disregarded or lightly dismissed.

At the same time, we feel it is in the public interest to call attention to the fact that eminent doctors and research scientists have publicly questioned the claimed significance of these experiments.

Distinguished authorities point out:

1. That medical research of recent years indicates many possible causes of lung cancer.

2. That there is no agreement among the authorities regarding what the cause is.

3. That there is no proof that cigarette smoking is one of the causes.

4. That statistics purporting to link cigarette smoking with the disease could apply with equal force to any one of many other aspects of modern life. Indeed the validity of the statistics themselves is questioned by numerous scientists.

We accept an interest in people's health as a basic responsibility, paramount to every other consideration in our business.

We believe the products we make are not injurious to health.

We always have and always will cooperate closely with those whose task it is to safeguard the public health.

For more than 300 years tobacco has given solace, relaxation, and enjoyment to mankind. At one time or another during those years critics have held it responsible for practically every disease of the human body. One by one these charges have been abandoned for lack of evidence.

Regardless of the record of the past, the fact that cigarette smoking today should even be suspected as a cause of a serious disease is a matter of deep concern to us.

Many people have asked us what we are doing to meet the public's concern aroused by the recent reports. Here is the answer:

1. We are pledging aid and assistance to the research effort into all phases of tobacco use and health. This joint financial aid will of course be in addition to what is already being contributed by individual companies.
2. For this purpose we are establishing a joint industry group consisting initially of the undersigned. This group will be known as TOBACCO INDUSTRY RESEARCH COMMITTEE.
3. In charge of the research activities of the Committee will be a scientist of unimpeachable integrity and national repute. In addition there will be an Advisory Board of scientists disinterested in the cigarette industry. A group of distinguished men from medicine, science, and education will be invited to serve on this Board. These scientists will advise the Committee on its research activities.

This statement is being issued because we believe the people are entitled to know where we stand on this matter and what we intend to do about it.

Want Own Day Added to List

Pick TV Comedy Hour for Friends to Celebrate With Them

By DEAN MARTIN AND JERRY LEWIS

HOLLYWOOD — Every year we receive a booklet published by the United States Chamber of Commerce with a complete list of national holidays which they hope we will celebrate.

For example, on Feb. 18 it is National Chicken Flicker's Day and a man would have to be very cynical if he wouldn't face East for at least one minute in honor of these unsung heroes on their national day.

Then we have National Smoke Abatement Week and for the whole period we inhaled our cigarettes extra deep so we wouldn't pollute the air with stray wisps of smoke, but the other day . . . it happened!

The straw that broke the camel's back: We were trying to cooperate with the sponsors of National Fire Week by asking everyone to rush home and burn down their houses when of all the ridiculous things, we were rushed away and put under lock and key.

That did it! Right then and there we decided, why not a National Martin & Lewis Day? If we have to suffer through all the other national days and weeks, why not make the rest of the country suffer through an M&L Day?

So we have picked Jan. 10 as the big day. It just so happens we do our Comedy Hour over TV on that day. Isn't that a coincidence?

Not to be outdone we have enlisted the aid of many well known personalities to lend us moral support. Would you like to hear what they think of the idea? Listen!

Premier Malenkov of Russia . . . Everyone knows I'm rough and tough but even I wouldn't do anything to mar National Martin & Lewis Day. No atom bombs will fall on Jan. 10.

Florence Chadwick. . . . Me swim a channel on M&L Day? Not on your life. I won't even get my feet wet until after Jan. 10. Couldn't enjoy the show with the sniffles.

Jeff Davis, King of the Hoboes. . . . I've passed the word to my boys on the road. On Jan. 10 they move indoors and act like gentlemen for M&L Day.

Chief War Cloud of the Chippawas . . . I have advised the director of Indian Affairs in Washington that if the TV sets on the reservation are not in good working order on Jan. 10, my braves will go on the warpath.

Ben Hogan. . . . I'd rather break my favorite putter than play golf on M&L Day, and anyhow, who would I play with? Everyone will be celebrating the great occasion.

Marilyn Monroe. . . . I won't wiggle a hip on Jan. 10. I wouldn't do a thing to distract the minds of men on this great day.

The quotes from the above people will give you some idea as to the tremendous scope of Martin & Lewis Day.

We sure hope you will join us in the celebration. Don't forget, that's Jan. 10 on television.

New Michigan Channel Signed On Last Night

CADILLAC (AP) — Television set owners in northern lower Michigan now have their own area television station programs.

WWTV, Cadillac, operated by the Sparton Broadcasting Co. on channel 13 began operation last night. The station, Michigan's newest, signed on at 6:20 p. m. EST, and signed off at 10:30 p. m. EST.

Martin Predicts New Tax Cuts

Committee Working on Major Overhaul of U.S. Revenue System

WASHINGTON (UP) — House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. predicted today the Republicans will slash government spending enough to permit "some" new tax cuts this year.

He said these will be over and above the cuts that went into effect Jan. 1 when personal income taxes were reduced about 10 per cent and the excess profits tax was wiped out altogether.

The Massachusetts Republican told a reporter he couldn't predict "how much more" taxes might be cut. Nor did he say just where reductions would come.

But experts of the Treasury Department and the House Ways and Means Committe are putting the finishing touches on a proposed major overhaul of the tax system that would provide more than $1,000,000,000 in tax cuts.

This is still a long way from final congressional, or even administration approval. But as the plan now stands, there would be substantial tax benefits for corporations, mothers who work, people with heavy medical expenses.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the ways and means committee, is expected to urge Congress to vote a sharp new slash on personal income taxes but this would almost certainly meet administration opposition.

Rodney Brodie Back in Hospital After Home Yule

CHICAGO (AP) — Rodney Brodie, 27-month-old survivor of head-joined Siamese twins, returned to the hospital yesterday after his first Christmas with his parents and four brothers and sisters.

The little boy, whom surgeons are still planning to furnish a hard protecting covering for the top of his skull, brought a 30-inch panda doll and pedaled a toy automobile into the University of Illinois Research Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie took Rodney to their farm home near Ferris, Ill., for the holidays.

Boy Gets Birthday Wish, Police Escort and All

FORT WORTH (AP)—Barry Todd's 11th birthday wish was to spend the weekend at Ft Worth's swank Western Hills Hotel—and ride out with a police escort.

Barry, a victim of muscular dystrophy, got his request.

His parents provided a suite, police the escort, complete with sirens.

Barry held open house in his suite and returned home yesterday wearing a police cap given by the department.

6 Firemen Overcome in Warren Plant Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Six firemen were overcome in a stubborn blaze in the Riverside Tool and Die Co., in Warren Township Saturday night.

A defective oil burner was blamed for the fire. It caused $15,000 damage.

Warren Township, East Detroit and Roseville fire departments combined to put out the fire in the cement block building covering almost a city block. Other Macomb County fire departments were alerted and stood by for action.

Thousands of curious motorists were attracted to the scene by the reddened sky.

Continental TV Network Seen

Italy Has 1st Program; Hope for Eight Nation System by June

ROME (AP)—West Europe's television screens may unite long before the continent's governments get together politically.

The prospects of a European television network were unfolded today in the wake of Italy's first regular TV programs.

Aldo Passante, director of the Italian government-operated television organization, said eight non-Communist nations which already have TV are working towards a possible exchange of programs.

They hope to have the system working in five months.

* * *

As presently planned, England could contribute a comedy by Bernard Shaw or drama by William Shakespeare, Italy could telecast the opera from La Scala or a Papal speech and other nations circulate their national specialties to foreign viewers.

* * *

Passante said the idea is being explored by Belgium, Denmark, France, West Germany, Britain, Holland, Switzerland and Italy. Sweden is expected to join the group soon.

The network would be welded by a series of relays. Despite obstacles, the nations hope to get a "European program" going by June 1, in time to televise the world soccer championship game in Switzerland.

A comparative handful of the 47 million Italians got to see the nation's inaugural programs yesterday and today. TV sets are owned by only about 15,000 persons. The big reason—even a moderately priced set costs an average industrial worker half a year's pay.

To help finance its programs, the government charges an annual tax equivalent to $24.

Over one-third of passenger cars in the U. S. are more than 10 years old. Amost 2 per cent are 19 or more years old.

Bandit Rejects Churchgoer's Offering Money

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Helen Teller was on her way to church yesterday morning when a young holdup man accosted her and announced: "This is a stickup."

Told she was carrying no money except church envelopes, the bandit decided to check for himself. He reached in Mrs. Teller's pocketbook and found no loose money.

Rejecting the church envelopes, he said as he fled:

"All right, you're a good kid. Keep going and don't turn around."

Riotous Welcome Greets Spartans' Return Home

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—After a rough ride back, Michigan State's victorious Rose Bowl football team received a riotous welcome home here last night.

Today, most of the players were on the way to spend some time with their families before starting the winter college term on Jan. 8.

Nearly 5,000 Lansing area rooters jammed the Lansing airport to scream a welcome as the big four-engine DC-7 sat down at 8:10 last night.

As the plane came in for a landing, players peering out could see the lights of hundreds of cars jamming the highways and still heading for the airport.

The crisp weather change took most by surprise although it was just below freezing in California when the plane left and smudge pots were protecting fruit groves.

California warms up to sport coat weather during the day, however, and Lansing was a chilly and windy 26. The squad plane stopped briefly at Denver for a rest stop. Dinner was served aloft with special Rose Bowl menus, lobster cocktail and squab with rice.

Then the plane hit rough weather and team physician Dr. James Feurig was busy handing out pills to combat air sickness.

Quarterback Tommy Yewcic, most serious game casualty with a sprained ankle and his jaw still badly swollen, was the sickest.

The band was playing "The Spartan Fight Song" as the beaming players left the plane. Governor Williams and the Lansing and East Lansing mayors headed the official greeting delegation.

Tired and eager-to-get-home players and coaches were herded to a public address system.

Said Flint end Ellis Duckett of his punt block: "We always try to block punts. I was just lucky, but I felt my best of all season."

Team captain Don Dohoney of Ann Arbor: "The last time I arrived we had a wonderful reception. That was after we lost the Purdue game this is even more wonderful—because we won."

Flint guard Ferris Hallmark: "It wasn't a tough grind out there—it was something worth working for, and that Big Ten dinner with Bob Hope was really wonderful."

* * *

Halfback Leroy Bolden of Flint—the silent one—even said a few words: "My biggest thrill," he said, "was just playing in that game."

Coach Biggie Munn was due in later today after watching the East-West Shrine game. Game star Billy Wells flew direct to New York to appear on the Ed Sullivan TV show.

Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, Munn's long-time line coach who is expected to move up to head coach when Munn replaces Ralph Young as MSC athletic director was spokesman for the team.

"This reception is even greater than the one we had in Southern California," Daugherty said. "It's really wonderful. We never thought we would lose. We knew we would win. We just blasted our way through."

After the airport reception, a shrieking car caravan escorted the team to downtown Lansing and around the state capitol and back to the college campus. After another reception by the few students on the campus the weary players finally went to bed.

FANS GREET SPARTANS—Hugh Daugherty (holding football), Michigan State line coach and quarterback Tommy Yewcic are surrounded by smiling faces as the team arrived by plane from California at the Lansing airport last night. AP Wirephoto

Bucceroni Faces Ten Hoff in 10-Rounder on Tuesday

By JERRY LISKA

* * *

The International Boxing Club is said to be contemplating a Marciano-Charles title bout in early April, but the former heavyweight champion from Cincinnati first must dispose of kayo-minded Bob Satterfield in Chicago Jan. 13.

* * *

Bucceroni figures he can put the pressure on the Marciano camp by trimming, more or less artistically, the 6-foot-3½, 215-pound Ten Hoff in their nontelevised 10-rounder in the Milwaukee Auditorium. Bucceroni, Danny Nardico and Nino Valdes have been mentioned as Marciano's next foe at Miami in February.

Bucceroni, 26, has a six-year age advantage on Ten Hoff, but at 190 will be spotting the rugged German some 25 pounds. Bucceroni, with 45 victories against only three defeats, won his last outing by stopping shop-worn Freddie Beshore.

But he looked far less impressive in that November bout than did Charles in his last fight in which he blasted young Coley Wallace.

Zatopek Posts Amazing Times in Distance Run

Czech Probably Beat Haegg's World Marks in Brazil Race

LONDON (AP) — Emil Zatopek's New Year's Eve feat in Brazil of running 7,300 meters (about 5 miles) in 20 minutes and 30.4 seconds had track and field statisticians re-checking their slide rules today.

They looked up from their tabulations and proclaimed that Zatopek's clocking indicates the incredible Czech probably passed the 5,000 meters and the three miles in faster time than the world records of 13:58.2 and 13:32.4 set in 1942 by Gunder (The Wonder) Haegg of Sweden.

No official intermediate clockings were announced for the Brazil race.

But Zatopek in Brazil ran another 2,300 meters, or almost a mile and a half further, after sweeping by the standard metric and linear distances.

If the man who did it was anyone but Zatopek - triple Olympic winner in 1952 — there might have been some doubts as to the length of the course.

Yet, as Norris McWhirter, official collector of figures of publication of the documents of the International Association of Track and Field Statisticians, said: "Zatopek's time is electric but understandable."

First, track experts have long ago decided Zatopek can do almost anything.

Second, there's something which drives a runner on in a road race wherein spectacular times have been recorded. Roadways seem to give the runner more bounce.

Nevertheless, one thing stands out. Zatopek ran against some of the world's best distance men and the SAO Silvestre race had been run 28 times before — yet no one had run within a minute and eight seconds of Zatopek's time.

Further, Zatopek had a milling crowd of 2,140 other runners in the race.

Just one more note: The best recorded time for 7,000 meters is Gordon Pirie's 20.21 on Sept. 3, 1953, in Stockholm, Zatopek apparently passed the 7,000 meters some 40 seconds faster.

Tigers Have 25 New Faces

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' youth movement is in full swing.

Encouraged by the jump from last place to 6th in 1953, made possible by the high turnover in the vigorous rebuilding operation, the Tigers will bring 25 newcomers to their Lakeland, Fla., camp next month. Nineteen of these are freshmen.

On the 44-player roster will be 19 pitchers including seven rookies. Heading the list of hopefuls is Frank Lary, one-time University of Alabama righthander.

Lary won 17 and lost 11 for third place Buffalo of the International League after finishing his Army service. He is 22. Another 22-year-old with a college background is Jim Bunning, 6-4 righthander from Xavier University, Cincinnati.

Tiger officials, disregarding his 5-12 record at Little Rock, are sold on his potential.

Another Little Rock graduate is Milo Johnson, slender right-hander who won 16 and lost 11. Johnson, 33, is the sole exception to the accent on youth. Paul Foytack, 23, and Milt Jordan, 26, prepped in Buffalo last year. Jack Tighe, Bison manager, says Foytack can't miss now that he has acquired control.

Jordan, who started last season with Detroit, finished up with Buffalo and was the International League's most effective pitcher with a 12-1 record before his arm went lame.

Tigers have brought up seven new infielders in the hope of strengthening the weak right side. Manager Freddie Hutchinson, satisfied with Ray Boone at third and Harvey Kuenn, rookie of the year, at shortstop, presumably will start with holdovers Walter Dropo at first and Fred Hatfield at second.

Aspiring to replace Hatfield at second will be rookies Frank Bolling from Buffalo and Harry Bright from Memphis. Veteran Johnny Pesky, valuable performer, also must be reckoned with.

Bolling, a 22-year-old brother of Boston's young shortstop, batted .321 in 57 games at Buffalo. Bright batted .295.

First baseman Charlie Kress, another draftee, may give Dropo a run for his money. The 32-year-old former Cincinnati infielder hit a rousing .317 at Rochester.

Clarence (Buddy) Hicks, 26-year-old .295 hitting shortstop from Buffalo, may prove to be an adequate utility man.

Other infield hopefuls include Reno Bertoia, who was given a $25,000 bonus to sign; Johnny Baumgartner, the golden boy of the 1953 spring training camp who comes up again with a .305 mark at Little Rock, and Keith Little, a free swinging first baseman who divided his time between Buffalo and Montgomery, Ala., last year.

Not much help is expected in the outfield. None of the four newcomers — Rufus Crawford, Fred Flemming, Carl Linhart and Bill Tuttle — distinguished himself in the minors last year.

Frank House will be back from the service to help the catching staff. Also on hand will be 18-year-old Walter Streuli, who batted .250 at Montgomery last year.

Kramer Isn't Interested in Hoad, Trabert

Pro Net Promoter Is Satisfied With His Current Players

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Kramer, ex-tennis star, current promoter and future tycoon of the professional game, is interested in no amateur at the moment and that goes for Lewis Hoad and Tony Trabert.

"This whole thing is silly," the former American Davis Cup ace said today before sending his troupe to Madison Square Garden for the second session of their opening 1954 "tournament."

* * *

"Neither Hoad nor Trabert could hold a racquet to my players," Kramer said. "Right now I don't want them and have not sent out any feelers. Naturally, I'm on the lookout for new and good players for the circuit, but right now I'm satisfied with Pancho Gonzales, Pancho Segura, Don Budge and Frank Sedgman.

"Frankly, to my mind, youngsters like Hoad and Trabert have not proved themselves yet. Sure, if one of them makes shambles out of the major tournaments this summer, I'll be interested. What promoter wouldn't? But I made absolutely no contact with them to date."

* * *

Kramer, who thinks about as he used to serve when he was the world's leading amateur, is varying the script on his tour this year. Tonight, for instance, Gonzales will play Segura for the $4,000 jackpot of the two-night stand. Budge and Sedgman will play for the consolation prize.

In yesterday's opening round Gonzales, making a comeback at the tender age of 25, upset Sedgman 3-6, 11-9, 13-11, and Segura chopped down Budge, the undisputed ruler of the game in the middle '30s 6-4,6-2.

Garrett Paces West to 31-7 Win Over East

Ineffective Running of Injured Lattner Hurts Losing Team

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Brilliant passing by Stanford's Bobby Garrett, equally clever running by Veryl Switzer of Kansas State and the brick wall staunchness of a line that was supposed to be cut to pieces gave the Western college all-stars a 31-7 victory in the annual Shrine charity football game Saturday.

It was a stunning defeat for the East headed by All-America Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame before a sellout crowd of 62,000.

West scored on a 78-yard drive early in the 1st quarter, with Switzer snaking over from 20 yards out.

Early in the 3rd period Baylor's Cotton Davidson, alternating at quarter with Garrett, kicked a 27-yard-field goal. Then he engineered a pitchout that broke Switzer loose for another touchdown to make it 17-0.

West made it 24-0 in the final period when Al Talley of California went off tackle three yards to climax a 48-yard drive.

East, without a passing attack, was handicapped by the ineffective running of the normally spectacular Lattner. Johnny severely wrenched a shoulder in practice, played only a 3rd of the game and never was up to par.

East's only sustained drive developed midway of the 4th period, when they were behind 24-0. Notre Dame's Neil Worden went over on a 13-yard pass from John Gramling of South Carolina at the end of a 63-yard drive.

Indicative of the West's superiority was the selection of Garrett as the outstanding player and of Texas' Carleton Massey, a West end, as the outstanding lineman. Garrett scored the final TD on a beautiful 1-yard bootleg that caught the East napping.

Kentucky, Dukes Expected to Keep Top Poll Ratings

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Basketball rankings are due for a shake-up when the ballots are counted in this week's poll but nothing in the past or on the immediate horizon figures to jar Kentucky and Duquesne off their lofty one-two perches.

* * *

The towering Dukes beat well-regarded Niagara in the Garden tournament and then last Saturday smothered the University of Mexico 99-35. That was No. 11 in the Dukes' perfect string.

Kentucky has what shapes as two easy assignments this week. The Wildcats face Xavier of Cincinnati tonight and open their Southeastern Conference schedule against Georgia Tech. Both are home games for Kentucky.

Duquesne could well have a tough job against Dayton tonight but should have a romp Saturday at Johnstown, Pa., against St. Francis (Pa.).

Third-ranked Indiana (7-1), which opened the Big Ten campaign last Saturday with a 62-60 victory over keyed-up Michigan, faces two more conference opponents this week—Wisconsin tonight and Minnesota Saturday.

Since being ranked fourth a week ago, largely on the basis of a defeat of Indiana, Oregon State has dropped two games—to Navy and Duke in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh. The Beavers can look for a decline in national ranking. They now have a 7-3 record.

* * *

The 5th-rated Oklahoma Aggies, who strengthened their rating by winning the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City to run their record to 12-1, opens its Missouri Valley season at Wichita (11-1) Thursday and plays host to Houston Saturday.

Sun Gives Trouble to Brandeis Cagers

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—"That lucky old sun" wasn't very lucky for the touring basketballers from Brandeis University.

Brandeis squad was doing fine and trailed only 42-37 at halftime yesterday against Belmont Abbey. Then, in the 2nd half, the late afternoon sun's rays shone right through the glass backboard basket for which Brandeis was shooting. The dazzling gleam made the basket nearly invisible to Brandeis shooters and they lost the game, 90-68.

Qualifying Under Way for Los Angeles Test

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Qualifying play takes place today in the $20,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament. With 267 slated to compete for the 78 places still open.

The remaining 72 spots in a starting field of 150 have been assigned to exempt players.

Winners Named in 'Y' Holiday Olympic Test

Champions in the Pontiac YMCA'S Christmas Olympic Games were announced at a party Saturday afternoon.

Games, for boys and girls 9-12 years, were held Monday through Thursday last week. Winners in each of eight classes were awarded YMCA memberships and gold ribbons.

Winners in girls' events included Karen Bronoel, class A: Janet Livingston, Class B: Janet Mullen, Class C; and Janis Martell, Class D. Lewis Sidwell was the boys' Class A winner, while Bill Webster took Class B, Van LaCore won in "C", and John McClure was 1st in "D."

Events included contests in both the gymnasium and swimming pool. Ribons went to the 1st three finishers in each event.

Ted Anderson, Oregon backfield ace, is a 49-second quarter miler in track.

Los Angeles memorial coliseum can seat 101,528.

City Leaguers Resume Cage Action Tonight

City Basketball League competition resumes tonight, after a 10-day holiday respite.

No Class A league game is scheduled tonight, but Chuck's Shack will appear in an exhibition game at Pontiac High at 8:30 p. m. A Class B preliminary game will match Stadium Inn and Walled Lake Merchants at 7 o'clock.

Three "D" contests are listed in Lincoln Junior High's gymnasium. Junior Elks meet Senior Hi-Y at 6:30, Bogie Lake takes on Hi-Knights at 7:30, and Phalanx and Police Department put unbeaten records on the line at 8:30 p. m.

Junior girls will play three games in the PHS gym. Skid Kids face Missle Dribbles at 6:30, Racketeers meet Dick & Wes at 7:15, and the Unknowns tangle with the Baskettes at 8 o'clock.

Eye on Title, Price Faces Bronko Jan. 7

DETROIT (UP) — Chuck Price, eyeing a shot at Al Gronik's state welterweight title, takes on Henry Bronko Thursday night in one of the six-round feature bouts at Motor City Arena.

Bronko decisioned Price three weeks ago in a battle that was so close that both fighters were signed almost immediately for a rematch.

Heavyweights Al Hunter and Oscar Pharo meet in the other Thursday night six-rounder.

Aussies Retained Cup Despite Loss of Stars to Show Tennis Domination

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—To completely appreciate the extent to which Australia has come to dominate world tennis, it is necessary to realize that this is the first time in the half-century history of the Davis Cup that a nation has successfully defended the trophy after losing its top stars.

* * *

In fact, only once before has a defending country been able to survive the loss of one of its singles aces to the professionals and still hang onto the big trophy the next time around. That was in 1948-49 when, after Jack Kramer had gone for the money, we managed to defeat weak Aussie teams by pairing Frankie Parker and then Pancho Gonzales with Ted Schroeder in the singles.

But that was the only time. Britain's four-year domination ended abruptly when its great Fred Perry turned pro in 1936. Our two-year tenure which followed collapsed with a thud when Don Budge joined Perry after the '38 Challenge Round.

When Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor listened to the jingle of Kramer's money just a year ago, it marked the first time that an entire cup-winning team had been lost to a country. It should have been a major disaster for the Aussies. And yet, only 12 months later, we find this thinly populated nation coming up with a pair of 19-year-olds good enough to hang a 3-2 defeat on the best we can produce.

* * *

Further, it is better than probable that Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall would have made it 4-1 if the Aussie selectors hadn't suffered a last-minute brainstorm and broken up a doubles combination which happens to hold all except one of the world's major titles.

There appears no hope at all of ever getting the cup back now until Hoad turns pro.

Driver Still Unconscious One Year After Mishap

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — Bobby Ball, youthful Phoenix auto race driver critically hurt in a midget auto race last Jan. 4, was still unconscious today, one full year after the tragic mishap.

Ball, who finished among the leaders in the 1951 Indianapolis 500-mile race, suffered a severe head injury when his car was involved in a multi-car collision at Carrell Speedway near Los Angeles.

Pro Bowl Game Jan. 17 to Be Televised Nationally

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The annual Pro Bowl All-Star football game to be held Jan. 17 in Memorial Coliseum will be televised from coast to coast, excluding Los Angeles, Paul J. Schissler, game director announced today.

The game which will bring together 62 top-rated National Football League players divided into East and West squads, is sponsored by the Los Angeles Newspaper Publishers Association.

Paul Brown, of the Cleveland Browns, NFL runner-ups this year, will be coaching the East team. Buddy Parker, of the Detroit Lions, NFL titlists by their 17-16 win over the Browns two weeks ago, will coach the West.

Players and coaches of both squads were scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles Friday for training.

Quiet Return for Terps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maryland's vanquished football team returned to a quiet welcome at National Airport yesterday.

About 50 friends and relatives met the chartered plane which returned the Terrapins from their 7-0 loss to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. It was a marked contrast from the 3,000 on hand for their arrival from a Sugar Bowl victory two years before.

Rules Committee Probably Will Do Away With Controversial 'Swoon Act' Used by Notre Dame

By GRANTLAND RICE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—The NCAA is meeting shortly in Cincinnati to settle a number of controversial problems. Either the NCAA or the Rules Committee has one serious problem to face.

* * *

That is what to do with rules that can't be enforced or haven't been. They have been enforced in pro games, but not in college games. Do the colleges lack courage? Maybe.

* * *

Last winter we came to the problem of the so-called sucker shift. Notre Dame won two games by this play. Later it was ruled illegal. It was banned. But the scores of those two games still stand in the record book.

* * *

This season the matter of the deep swoon or the fainting epidemic has come up. This is just as unethical as the sucker shift. It is only to be hoped that Fritz Crisler and his aides will find some way to handle this strictly unethical, unfair play.

I wish you could recall two lines. Here they are—"People of the square set are not paid off with technicalities." "The rules of sport are founded upon fair play."

A great many football coaches have forgotten these lines. A great many have not. Who is the Football Rules Committee going to stick with, ethics-breakers or ethics-makers?

I understand that Fritz Crisler and his committee are going to outlaw the swooning and fainting act in time of trouble. I think they will. The final score of the Iowa-Notre Dame game should have been Iowa 14, Notre Dame 0.

* * *

Notre Dame has been my favorite football college since the reign of Jess Harper, who beat the Army in that famous Dorais to Rockne game of 1913.

* * *

After that we had Knute Rockne, one of my closest friends, and the Four Horsemen who were just as close. There was Hunk Anderson, another close companion. And there was Father Cavanaugh. Things were different then.

Notre Dame teams have always had a heritage of courage and spirit beyond most teams. The will to win should be terrific. But it shouldn't cover everything in sport—including the complete disregard of rules, especially by a team of Notre Dame's caliber. There must be a few ethical standards left.

* * *

Last winter the NCAA or the Rules Committee threw out the completely unethical sucker shift. This year I hope the Football Rules Committee throws out the Swooner's Paradise.

State Is Too Civilized to Support Wild Turkey

LANSING (AP)—Conservation department game men reported today they do not think wild turkey can be reestablished in Michigan.

The big game birds, once native to the southern Lower Peninsula, need too much wild land, the experts say.

They add that the winters are believed too severe north of the Muskegon-Bay City line for the birds. Even so, they said, they would be very hard put to find enough land in the north.

Gophers May Have Winning Combination

Garmaker Leads Way in Victory Over Illinois

Newcomer Scores 37 Points; Hoosiers Are Extended by UM

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Newcomeer Dick Garmaker may have given Minnesota what it needs for the chase after Indiana and the Big Ten basketball title.

The 6 foot 3 junior forward scored 37 points Saturday night as Gophers opened the championship campaign with an 84-72 victory over highly-rated Illinois. It was the best Big Ten scoring performance of the season.

Garmaker, a transfer student from Hibbing, Minn., Junior College, thus upped his average for nine games—eight against non-conference teams—to 18.6 points. That's tops for te Gopher squad.

He ranks 6th in Big Ten point-making circles headed at the moment by Paul Ebert of Ohio State, who has averaged 19.9 points for seven games.

Garmaker and senior guard Chuck Bennett, who is averaging slightly more than 14 points a game, have taken up the slack in a Gopher attack weakened by the slowness of last year's stars, Chuck Menecel and Ed Kalafat, to return to form.

Mencel, 3rd in Big Ten scoring last year, has been erratic this season—hitting as high as 21 points on one occasion but then dropping down to 4 and 6 on others.

Kalafat has been over the 10-point production mark only four times, was blanked completely once, and, in the only game the Gophers lost—to Kentucky—scored only six.

Indiana's defending Big Ten and NCAA champs had their hands full with Michigan, winning 62-60 on Bob Leonard's last-second set shot. Hoosiers' Don Schlundt scored 30 points, making his average for eight games 20.8.

Only other clash Saturday as the Big Ten championship race began was between Wisconsin and Purdue. Badgers scored a convincing 66-57 victory as Ron Weisner bagged 18 points.

Further evidence, pro or con, on whether Indiana has it again this season should develop tonight when Wisconsin meets the Hoosiers at Bloomington, Ind.

In other Big Ten games, Illinois is at Northwestern, Michigan State at Iowa and Ohio State at Michigan.

Wilkinson, Gopher Head Have Talked

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma University's football coach, who has been mentioned as a likely candidate for the vacant coaching post at the University of Minnesota, admitted today "I have talked with Minnesota Athletic Director Ike Armstrong, and since we both plan to attend the NCAA convention at Cincinnati I guess we'll see each other again." Wilkinson, whose team defeated Maryland 7-0 in the Orange Bowl, just finished the 2nd year of a 10-year contract at Oklahoma.

Former Officer Exceeds Limit With 2 Shots

A former conservation officer is telling a story on himself that shows that even the best-intentioned outdoorsman can sometimes be in technical violation of the law.

Rex Joslin, former officer in Benzie County, was hunting ducks alone this fall. A flight of lesser scaups came into his decoys. He fired two shots and was horrified to find seven ducks—three over the daily limit—down.

"Don't know if it was the right thing to do," he said, "but the only thing I could think of was go home and buy my wife a hunting license and a duck stamp and bring her back to get those extra ducks."

No Grid Game Changes Seen

Restricted Television, 1-Platoon Rule Will Be Kept by NCAA

CINCINNATI (AP) — No major changes for 1954 football, in either the television setup or the substitution rules, were in prospect today as the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. launched its six-day 48th annual convention.

The parent body takes no definite action on anything until Friday, but early indications were that, in the absence of any heated objections, the group would cling to the restricted television setup and the one-platoon style of play.

Some 1,300 of the nation's outstanding athletic administrators and coaches were slated to attend the sessions of the NCAA and five affiliated groups. Not too many were on hand today for Executive Committee meetings.

The heavy action starts tomorrow when the American Football Coaches Assn.'s Rules Committee begins shaping up recommendations to be submitted to the NCAA Rules Committee at Sarasota, Fla., Jan. 11.

Shanties Must Bear Owner's Name, Address

LANSING—Ice fishermen: Take note of the rules and regulations.

On the outside of each fish shanty placed on public ice in Michigan, the owner must attach his name and address in legible letters, at least two inch high.

Name and address must not be written on paper or any other water soluble material; it must be of a permanent quality, such as paint on wood or metal.

Shanty owners also are responsible for removing their pint-sized mansions from lakes before the ice melts, lest shorelines be clotted with debris.

North Branch 5 Wins Otisville Cage Tourney

North Branch High School, which hadn't previously won a basketball game this season, walked off with the championship of Otisville's holiday tournament by beating the host school in New Year's night's finale.

Jack Vincent's Broncos whipped Otisville, 57-44, after disposing of New Lothrop St. Michael's and Imlay City in the first two rounds. Otisville advanced to the finals by beating Peck and upsetting Fowler.

In last night's consolation games, Fowler tripped Imlay City, 58-39, and St. Mike's routed Peck, 64-42.

Before the tourney started, North Branch had lost four straight.

The University of Texas has won five Southwest Conference football championships and one championship during the past 13 years.

Announcing for '54 NEW FORD TRUCKS with TRIPLE ECONOMY!

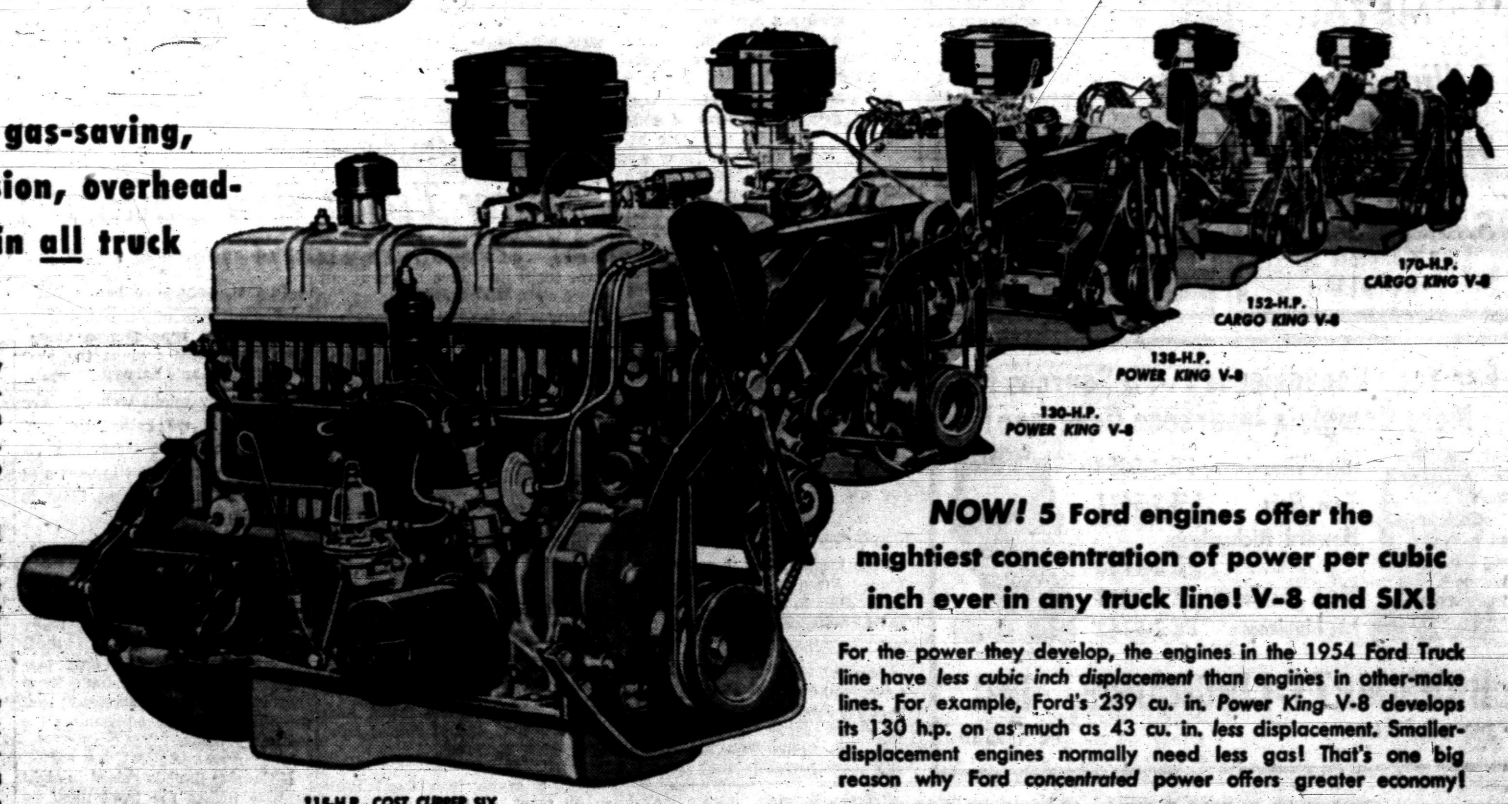

Ford takes the lead in ALL 3 vital factors that make for lower-cost trucking!

1. Now, only in Ford Trucks—gas-saving, LOW-FRICTION, high-compression, overhead-valve, deep-block engines in all truck models! 115- to 170-h.p.!

It's another great Ford FIRST! Ford now offers the only full line of ultra-modern Low-Friction truck engines! Short-stroke design cuts power-wasting friction up to 33%. More of the developed power is delivered to move your load—gas goes farther!

All Ford engines have deep-skirt, more rigid engine blocks—for better main bearing support and smoother performance. All five engines have Ford-designed overhead rotating valves for longer valve life. Ford gives you new higher compression with regular gas!

Over a billion miles of actual service have proved what these ultra-modern Ford Truck engines can deliver in performance and economy. Now, they're standard in all of Ford's more than 220 truck models. Yours, in the one right truck for your job!

170-H.P. CARGO KING V-8

138-H.P. POWER KING V-8

130-H.P. POWER KING V-8

115-H.P. COST CLIPPER SIX

NOW! 5 Ford engines offer the mightiest concentration of power per cubic inch ever in any truck line! V-8 and SIX!

For the power they develop, the engines in the 1954 Ford Truck line have less cubic inch displacement than engines in other-make lines. For example, Ford's 239 cu. in. Power King V-8 develops its 130 h.p. on as much as 43 cu. in. less displacement. Smaller-displacement engines normally need less gas! That's one big reason why Ford concentrated power offers greater economy!

2. New Driverized Cabs, Master-Guide Power Steering, Power Brakes, Fordomatic Drive for faster control!

New Ford Truck Driverized Cabs cut driving fatigue! Better working facilities include new woven plastic seat upholstery—lasts longer, "breathes" like cloth for year-around comfort. New Master-Guide Power Steering standard on T-800, optional on most other BIG JOBS cuts steering effort as much as 75%! And every driver's a better driver with these Ford options (extra cost): New Power Brakes for Pickups and other ½-tonners! Fordomatic Drive for all light-duty Series!

New Ford Driverized Deluxe Cab. 16 custom extras, at small added cost.

3. New greater capacity! New Factory-Built "6-wheelers," gross up to 48% more!

Ford's expanded line now includes brand-new Ford Tandem-Axle BIG JOBS, up to 40,000 lbs. G.V.W., to haul big loads up to the legal limit in all 48 States! Priced with the lowest, they have a completely Ford-designed chassis with Ford-installed tandem axles, mass-production built, especially for 6-wheeler service. Two new Ford Cab Forward BIG JOBS rated up to 55,000 lbs. G.C.W. haul 35-ft. legal-limit trailers in every State!

New Ford Factory-Built "6-wheelers" handle up to 95% more body and payload than companion 4-wheel F-Series trucks.

New Ford F-900 BIG JOB, G.V.W. 27,000 lbs., G.C.W. 55,000 lbs.

Wings 'Back' Into 1st Place

Detroit, Toronto Play Scoreless Tie, but NY Beats Canucks

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit Red Wings backed into the National Hockey League lead Sunday night by gaining a scoreless tie with Toronto while runner-up Montreal bowed to New York 4-3.

Detroit entered the game tied with the Canadiens for 1st-place honors. The deadlock put the Wings one point ahead of Montreal and four points in front of Toronto in the close NHL race.

Tie also enabled Toronto goalie Harry Lumley to maintain his 14-goal edge over Terry Sawchuk in the Vezina Trophy race. It was the 7th shutout of the season for Lumley and the 6th for Sawchuk, who won the trophy the past two seasons.

Lumley had a comparatively easy time of it until the Red Wings started pressing him in the 3rd period. Toughest of his 16 3rd period saves was a shot off the stick of Glen Skov, who came in on a solo dash.

The game marked the 4th straight in which the Maple Leafs failed to score against Detroit.

Former ND Star, Coach Made Gridiron History

Teamed With Immortal Rockne to Introduce Spectacular Air Game

By The Associated Press

Death has come to Gus Dorais, through whose imagination the forward pass probably will live forever in American football.

The 62-year-old famed former coach died at his home in Southfield Township yesterday. He was the little man who revolutionized football as a Notre Dame player in 1913 with his overhand forward passes.

* * *

Dorais, former University of Detroit and Detroit Lions coach, had been ill the last six months.

It was Dorais and the immortal Knute Rockne who introduced the forward pass—as it is known today—to football before World War I. They were the ones who also laid the solid foundation on which Notre Dame built its fabulous grid dynasty.

Dorais was the quarterback, the heady signal-caller, and Rockne the end on the Notre Dame team which went East in November 1913 to meet an Army team which was expected to name its own score.

But Dorais stunned the Cadets—and the football world as well—by throwing overhanded passes which led to a 35-13 upset. Throwing in his then unorthodox manner, Dorais completed 12 straight passes to Rockne and other Notre Dame players.

* * *

The forward pass had been used prior to this game but only sparingly and the ball was thrown underhanded, not at all like Dorais' long, arching passes.

Upon graduating from Notre Dame, Dorais, a slight 145-pounder, played professional ball for a brief period then embarked on a coaching career. He was head coach at University of Detroit from 1925 to 1942. He moved back into the pro ranks in 1943 as coach of the Detroit Lions. In 1947 he retired from football but never lost interest in the game.

Funeral will be held Wednesday in Gesu Church, 17204 Oak street with burial in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Body is now at the Ted C. Sullivan Funeral Home, 1230 West McNichols. Time for the service is 10 a. m.

Dorais had been ill for six months with a circulatory disorder. He suffered a slight heart attack Saturday night, passed an apparently quiet night and expired in his bed.

Dorais and his family resided at 19050 Middlesex, Southfield Township.

Surviving are his widow, the former Viola Fettgather and four children; Thomas, 32, Mrs. Robert (Dorothy) Mulcrone, 28, and Mrs. Thomas (Joan) Robinson, 25, all of Detroit area, and William, 30, of Wabash Ind. Another son, David drowned in 1947 at the age of 13

HISTORY MAKER—Gus Dorais, veteran football coach and Detroit city councilman, is dead. During Gus' college days at Notre Dame he teamed with fabled Knute Rockne to make football history. The pair made earliest spectacular use of the forward pass to start the Irish on their long and brilliant gridiron trek.

Dave Hoskins, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, is a native of Greenwood, Miss., but first learned baseball in Flint, Mich., high school.

Detroit Sports, Civic Leaders Eulogize Gus

Dorais Called Great Coach, Motor City's 1st 'Mr. Football'

DETROIT, Jan. 4 (INS)—Detroit sports and civic leaders today gave tribute to Charles E. (Gus) Dorais, 62, one of intercollegiate football's greatest figures, who died yesterday after a long illness.

Edwin J. Anderson, president of the world champion Detroit Lions professional grid team that was once coached for a five-year span by Dorais, said:

"Dorais' death is a tremendous loss to football, both from a local and national standpoint. He was an exceptional coach, a great leader and moulder of men, and one of the truly great coaches the game has ever known."

Former All-America Vince Banonis and now a center on the Detroit Lions, said:

"Gus Dorais was Detroit's first Mr. Football. He was respected by every man who ever came under his influence for his great knowledge of the game, his fairness and sportsmanship."

One of the men who knew Dorais best, Detroit recorder's judge John P. Scallen, described Dorais as an "All-America football player, coach, husband, father and friend."

Detroit mayor Albert Cobo said: "Dorais was a fine citizen everyone knows of his outstanding leadership. We shall miss him very much."

'Boom Boom' Missed by Canadiens in 4-3 Setback

Effects of the Boom Boom Geoffrion-Ron Murphy high striking brawl at Madison Square Garden two weeks ago still were being felt by the Montreal Canadiens and the New York Rangers today.

Geoffrion, who usually is a tower of strength against New York, was not in the Canuck lineup last night as the Rangers came off with a 4-3 victory.

Boom Boom will not play against the Rangers any more this season, the punishment for his part in the Dec. 20 fracas. And the Canadiens could have used his bullet-like drives as they dropped into 2nd place behind Detroit.

For the Rangers, the notoriety given the big fight swelled the crowd to 15,183—largest of the NHL season at the Garden. The New Yorkers by winning, moved within six points of the fourth-place Boston Bruins.

It was the Rangers' three goal surge in the 2nd period which told the story. Wally Hergesheimer, Paul Ronty and Jack Evans scored successively within 11 minutes in that session.

Montreal rallied for two 3rd period scores but the Rangers' effective checking held them off the rest of the way.

Serious Post-Game Beefs Are Absent in Review of Spartans' Bowl Triumph

By BOB MYERS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Rose Bowl scene is deserted, winning Michigan State is back home in East Lansing and UCLA is still trying to figure out what happened.

* * *

But in contrast to some years, there have been no serious post-game beefs or valid arguments to offset the Spartan 28-20 triumph last Friday.

* * *

Here are some comments by leading writers who covered the game:

Rube Samuelsen, Pasadena Star-News, president, Football Writers Association of America: "It will go down as one of the best games in all Rose Bowl history. It was distinguished by hard competition but the finest type of sportsmanship before, during, and after the game on the part of the rival universities, coaches and teams."

Marshall Dann, Detroit Free Press: "Michigan State lost three hours to the clock flying home. That's all they lost in the entire trip."

* * *

L. H. Gregory, Portland Oregonian: "It was a terrific game and no apologies are necessary. Michigan State was just too darned and gee-whiz fast. There was no collapse by UCLA, but you just can't chase gnats all afternoon and keep looking good, let alone staying happy."

* * *

Prescott Sullivan, San Francisco Examiner: "The Big Ten fitted Pacific Coast Conference football to a new set of leg irons. . ."

* * *

Sam Green, Detroit News: "It was UCLA all the 1st half. But Michigan State came back as they have time and time again."

Leo Fischer, Chicago American: "When the 1st half ended 14-7 (for UCLA) I wasn't too concerned. . . when we started that 2nd half drive I knew we were in."

* * *

George Alderton, Lansing State Journal: "It was Michigan State's and Biggie Munn's finest game. You can't underrate the part coaching played. . ."

Paul Zimmerman, Los Angeles Times: "One of the greatest 2nd half rallies in Rose Bowl history gave Michigan State a 28-20 triumph over UCLA. . . not since 1926 when Alabama defeated Washington 20-19 has a team staged a rally comparable. . ."

Vincent X. Flaherty, Los Angeles Examiner: "The sun was bright and the atmosphere was salubrious for the Bruins of UCLA until the final 4 minutes and 50 seconds of the Rose Bowl game. . ."

Sid Ziff, Los Angeles Mirror: "Michigan State etched its name high among the most glorious Rose Bowl winners. . ."

Thurman Hull, basketball coach at the University of Texas, gained his first coaching experience as pilot of the 1942-43 Fort Monmouth team. His squad won the Army-Navy championship that season.

Many Trout Are Caught at Pre-Spawning Age

By MORT NEFF

Changes in trout regulations recently proposed by our Conservation Commission included a recommendation that the size limit be raised to 8 or 9 inches, depending upon certain findings of research biologists. There is good reason in back of this suggestion — more reason than there may be behind many of the other proposals for change. Hatchery raised trout numbering more than one million are planted each year as seven inch fish or better, and of course none have ever spawned.

NEFF

* * *

With a seven inch legal limit on all trout, wild and planted, it is very likely that we are taking a very large number of fish before they have reached spawning age.

We spend around a half-million dollars or more in raising and planting trout on a pretty lavish "put and take" system, and opponents of this plan say that natural reproduction alone can more than replace the annual fisherman's harvest of trout.

This theory might well be more believable if we raised the size limit to the point where we allowed our native trout to spawn at least once before putting them in the creel!

* * *

Some anglers will say that the biggest percentage of their catch is the smaller fish—and that often they hook themselves so badly that it's wasteful to turn them back to die. In such a case perhaps the tackle is at fault more than the trout, and changes in that direction might be advisable on a voluntary basis.

* * *

If the size limit is raised to eight or nine inches the trout must be raised to this size in the hatcheries before release, which means "board and room" for another year, and a much higher cost per fish. Such an increase could spell the doom of planting any adult trout in the near future.

STEADY TEDDY—Duane Compton, of Wichita, Kan., has a dog named Teddy that has a keen sense of balance, and if there's a ride he hasn't been on, it's because he hasn't heard of it. At present Teddy is riding around on a motor scooter which has a "doggy" rumble seat. Teddy is also a veteran of motorcycle driving at speeds of 70 to 85 miles per hour.

Maples Favorites for Tilt Tuesday Against Revamped Skippers

By JACK SAYLOR

It was back to school today for Oakland County preps and back to basketball Tuesday night with 11 games breaking the holiday inactivity.

Pontiac's two parochial fives are meeting Suburban Catholic League foes at home. These games, plus two non-conference tilts hold top billing as the prep cagers greet 1954.

St. Frederick, winless in three games, hosts St. James and St. Michael, loser of its only start, entertains St. Rita. Waterford bumps into undefeated Birmingham in the Skippers' gymnasium, while another feature game sends Troy (3-1) against Southfield (2-2).

Walt Ashley's Skippers have lost four straight, while Birmingham has won the same number. John Petrakis' Maples present a rangy forward line headed by 6-3 center Dick Muller, but get their scoring punch from Don Dorough, 5-7 guard.

Meanwhile, Walt Ashley has been juggling his lineup in an effort to find the right combination.

Currently he is employing a platoon system, alternating an all-junior quintet—Dick Gilchrist, Bob Jacober, Steve Kebler, Dave Larkin and Myles Watkins — with a senior five, Dick Tims, Rex Egres, Lou Fitzgerald, Bob Beedle and Bill Gard.

The Southfield-Troy game matches teams with similar backgrounds. Both played last season with junior and sophomore-studded teams which were expected to reach their peak this year.

Troy's record with underclassmen was 8-10, while Southfield posted 7-10.

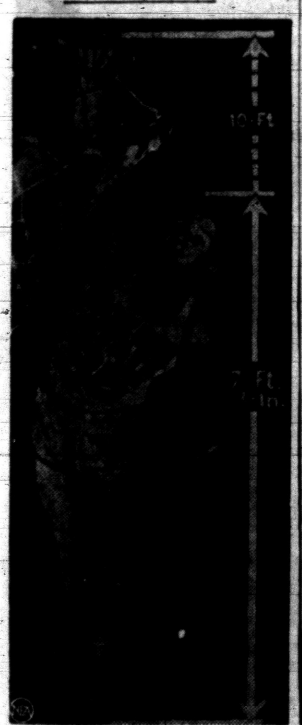

Bob Watts' Bluejays opened at home by beating Romeo, but ventured on the road to lose two of their next three. They return to the friendly atmosphere of their brand new 2,200-seat gym Tuesday.

Troy has displayed good scoring punch, averaging 57 points while winning three of its 1st four games. Loss was a 7-point decision to Birmingham. Mike DeKane has sparked the Colts by hitting better than 20 points per game.

Other games involving county teams have Holly (1-2) hosting Grand Blanc and Clawson (2-1) at Center Line.

The schedule:

Birmingham at Waterford; Troy at Southfield; St. James at St. Frederick; St. Rita at St. Michael; RO St. Mary at St. Benedict; Davison at Lapeer; Grand Blanc at Holly; Clawson at Center Line; Imlay City at Capac; Country Day at Lake Shore; Harper-Woods at South Lake.

DUCK SOUP — Oregon State's Swede Halbrook scored 23 and 21 points against national champion Indiana on successive nights.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports that 6,225 federal game law violators were fined a total of $188,385 and sentenced to an aggregate of 268 days in jail during the 1953 fiscal year.

Brook, Lake Species Crossed

Ontario to Keep Michigan Posted on Progress of Experiments With Trout

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

LANSING (AP) — Last summer, Gov. Williams encountered western experiments with hybrid trout on his trip to the governors' conference.

When he got back, he asked the Michigan conservation department to look into the experiments and to see if maybe Michigan could use a new trout species.

This week, conservation director G. E. Eddy sent the governor a detailed report on experiments with a cross between brook trout and lake trout being done in Ontario.

Eddy added that Michigan is being kept fully informed on the progress of the Ontario and other experiments along this line.

If the day comes that it is proved Michigan trout fishing can be improved by the introduction of hybrids, the conservation department fix experts will know it and do something about it, Eddy said.

As for Michigan's joining in the experimental work, it is unlikely for the present anyway, department sources say.

Rising costs have made the department hard up for money to start new game and fish protection projects. Hunting and fishing license revenue is now just about enough to keep current projects going.

And if any new fishing projects are to be started, the long promised experiment station for bass, bluegills, pike and other warm water fish has priority over hybrid trout.

According to the Ontario report forwarded to the governor, however, Michigan can safely let our nearest Canadian neighbor do the spade work for us.

Ontario department of lands and forests reported that it has carried the experiment as far as actual planting of 24,500 fingerling hybrids in seven small northern lakes this fall.

By crossing the two species, the Ontario biologists are trying to develop a fish that has the fighting qualities and shallow water habits of the brook trout and the bigger size of the lake trout.

TIP-UP-TIME—Such scenes as this will soon be commonplace in Michigan as the ice fishing season closes in on waters of the state. Each year, thousands of enthusiasts, an army that the conservation department reports has been growing with each season, take part in the finger-numbing sport.

Winter Sports Conditions Fine

Ice Ready for Fishing on Most Lakes; Snow Good for Skiing

LANSING (AP)—Conditions for winter sports were generally good throughout the northern Lower Peninsula, the State Conservation Department reported today.

Ice conditions were good on most lakes, although a few of the larger lakes were still open. A few of the smaller lakes were still unsafe for ice fishing.

On popular Houghton Lake, however, the ice was four to six inches thick, and fishing was rated fair to good with perch and bluegills providing considerable activity. Perch were biting well on Lake Cadillac and on Little Glenn Lake, Leelanau County: Clam Lake, Antrim County, and on Tawas and Saginaw Bays.

Shore ice on the bays was three to four inches thick.

Bluegills, perch and calico bass were biting well on Geroge, Peach, and Rifle Lakes in Ogemaw County and in most Emmet and Montorency County lakes. Pike were being taken at Fletcher floodwaters near Alpena.

COP AIMS AT MAJOR LEAGUES—Harry "Duke" Markell, a New York City policeman who will be seeking a regular pitching berth with the Philadelphia Phillies in the spring, holds a bat following a tour of duty. A rookie cop since October, Markell has pitched in the minor leagues since the end of World War II and says "if I don't make it with the Phillies I'm going to hang up my glove and call it quits."

Gonzales Hits Comeback Trail

Faces Segura Tonight After Upsetting Frank Sedgman Sunday

NEW YORK (INS) — Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, bulwarking his booming service with a "changed attitude" was off to a successful start today on a pro tennis comeback at the age of 25.

Gonzales and Pancho Seguara, bandy-legged little retriever from Ecuador, meet at Madison Square Garden tonight in the finals of a two-day tournament that officially launches an 80-city tour for Jack Kramer's play-for-pay tourists.

It's an unexpected wind-up to the Garden competition, for Gonzales had to qualify with a magnificent 3-6, 11-9, 13-11 come-from-behind upset of Australian master Frank Sedgman in yesterday afternoon's opening round.

In the other bracket, Segura won about as expected from 38-year-old Don Budge, 6-4, 6-2. Budge and Sedgman will compete for 3rd place as a prelude to the Gonzales-Seguara scramble for the $4,000 top prize in Kramer's $10,000 kick-off tourney.

Penn's win in football the past season over Penn State was the first in the series since the 1936 schedule.

Ontario May Call Halt to 'Bush Fishing'

Quick Trips By Plane to Inaccessible Lakes May Be Stopped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Days of hopping in a plane and dropping into one of Ontario's otherwise inaccessible lakes and hauling out staggering catches of fish may be numbered.

Ontario's one-chamber legislature has been asked to clamp control on the practice.

Many Michigan people with lots of money have taken to visiting the friendly neighbor to the north to sample "bush plane fishing." There is no question that there is a great thrill in getting to a lake in 20 minutes that would take two days by canoe and portage. And the thrill of hauling out lunker brook trout, pike, lake trout and walleyes is even greater.

All true conservationists, even those who can afford to charter a bush plane, should back controls so the last of the primitive fishing conditions can be conserved as long as possible.

WIHL Kings, Dakota in Feature Contests

DENVER (AP)—Defending champion Minnesota plays at North Dakota Friday and Saturday in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League's feature attraction this week.

North Dakota has won four without a defeat and Minnesota turned back Colorado College twice last week in its only two league appearances this season. Minnesota won 7-2 and 7-1.

Michigan Tech bows into league play with four games in Colorado. Tech plays Denver Tuesday and Wednesday and Colorado College Friday and Saturday.

Cartier Given Nod for TV Ring Battle

BROOKLYN (UP) — Middleweight Walter Cartier was a slight favorite at 6-5 today to beat young Randy Sandy tonight in their TV 10-rounder at the Eastern Parkway arena. Both are New Yorkers.

Cartier, 29, was favored over Sandy, 22, because of his harder punch, greater experience and weight advantage of about eight pounds.

CASE—Arm Swings To Right To Hold Pocket Line — Two things stand out fundamentally in the action sketch of Junie McMahon, twice holder of the world match title. His superb control is built on those two fundamentals and what he does should be copied by all hook bowlers.

First, he finishes his stride with a straight-on slide; second, his arm swings to the right, toward the gutter, as he applies his terrific spin with an arm lift. His eyes are on a target board far beyond the foul line over which he aims to roll the ball.

Note that the arm does not pass the line of the right shoulder; that it isn't pulled to the left. His thumb is up. No over-turning. That's how he holds the line — keeps the ball on the right (strike) side of the head pin.

'Yankees' President Told of Big Bonehead Decision

By BILLY ROSE

Mr. Dan Topping
President, the New York Yankees
745 Fifth Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Dear Dan:

BILLY ROSE

If I were awarding the scrap-iron loving cup for the Biggest Bonehead Decision of the Year, I'd have to give the prize to the whopping blunder you made a couple of weeks ago when you and your New York Yankees traded away a Negro outfielder named Victor Pellot Power.

Strictly from the standpoint of showmanship—the only point from which I consider myself qualified to speak—I'd like to give you my reaction to l'affaire Power.

* * *

In August 1950, you paid $7,000 to the ball club in Drummondville, Quebec, for Power, and this purchase got you a lot of good press.

It seemed to answer the scuttlebut that you were running a Jim Crow ball club, and that no colored man, no matter how capable, would ever be permitted to play on your lily-white Yankee team.

Shortly after you signed Power, Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers stated that your gesture was so much arkus-malarkus, and predicted that the colored lad would never get into the Yankee Stadium unless he bought a ticket.

At the time, I and many others quarreled with Jackie's statement and accused him of being a sorehead and a pop-off.

Now let's lok at the record . . .

During the past three years, as you know, Power has given a plenty good account of himself in the minors, and last season, playing for your farm club, the Kansas City Blues, he won the batting crown in the American Association with an average of .349.

In spite of his record, however, late last season, when you and your associates decided the Yanks could use some reserve strength you passed Power up for a couple of fair-to-muddlin' white men who didn't do themselves or your team any particular good.

Two weeks ago, in the middle of the off-season, you suddenly traded Power off to Philadelphia, along with several other players. And, as might be expected, the sports writers in New York and elsewhere, remembering Jackie Robinson's prediction, promptly broke their typewriters over your head.

Now, Dan, without knowing all the facts, I'm not going to accuse you of deliberately dumping Vic Power because of his color. I would like to say, however, as one showman to another, that you pulled what Leo Durocher would call a "rock."

1.—A lot of potential customers, both white and black, are plenty mad at you, and their good will needless to say, is darned important to a team whose attendance at the Stadium, according to the World Almanac, has been dropping at the rate of almost 140,000 admissions a season for the past six years.

2.—When you sluffed off Power, you ignored the entertainment blueprint laid down by every good showman from P. T. Barnum to Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Here was your chance to inject into your pennant-winning team the very thing it lacked—the zest, flair and excitement that's part of the make-up of every colored athlete.

3. In addition, you may have cheated yourself and your team out of the services of a man who has demonstrated he is a first-rate player. Too bad somebody didn't tell you the old George M. Cohan story.

"I don't like that actor," the Yankee Doodler Kid once said to his partner. "Remind me never to hire him again—unless we need him."

4.—Worst of all, you violated the first rule of entertainment: NEVER DO THE PREDICTABLE.

Jackie Robinson and a lot of other people have been saying all along that you'd never give a colored boy a square shake. Had you crossed them up, THAT would have been showmanship.

Well, you didn't.

Regretfully yours,
Billy Rose

Spillane's Tie Disappointing to Interviewer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mickey Spillane, the rugged writer of blood-and-sex novels, was a disappointment when he showed up for lunch. He was wearing a tie.

I wondered if the more formal attire was because he has turned actor. He is playing himself in a circus picture, "Ring of Fear."

The author scoffed at the idea.

"If I think maybe a restaurant will make a big issue about my wearing a coat and tie, I wear one," he explained. "I'm a conformist in certain respects.

* * *

"But I still hate having anything tight around my neck. They have me wearing a suit throughout this picture. It's stupid. My friends will laugh at me when they see me all dressed up. I do a fight scene tomorrow and I'm going to tell them I skip the suit or I'll walk out."

Spillane refuses to conform in other respects. He cast aside his napkin with the explanation: "Never use 'em. They're always in the wrong place to catch food anyway."

We talked about his acting career, and he said he had done the job as a lark. He doesn't intend to continue as an actor. For one thing, he hates Hollywood.

* * *

"It's too hot here," he said. "I don't mind it in the summer, but I can't stand being so warm in the winter. The day this picture is over, I'll be putting my family in my hot rod and heading back to my home in Newburgh, N. Y. It'll be great to get back into the cold weather. You feel alive back there."

Spillane had few kind words for Hollywood movies.

"Most of them are terrible," he remarked. "I went to that one called 'Come Back, Little Sheba' expecting to see a picture about the Queen of Sheba. It was nothing like that. I tried to walk out of it, but my wife wouldn't go. So I joined the rest of the husbands in the lobby until the picture was over.

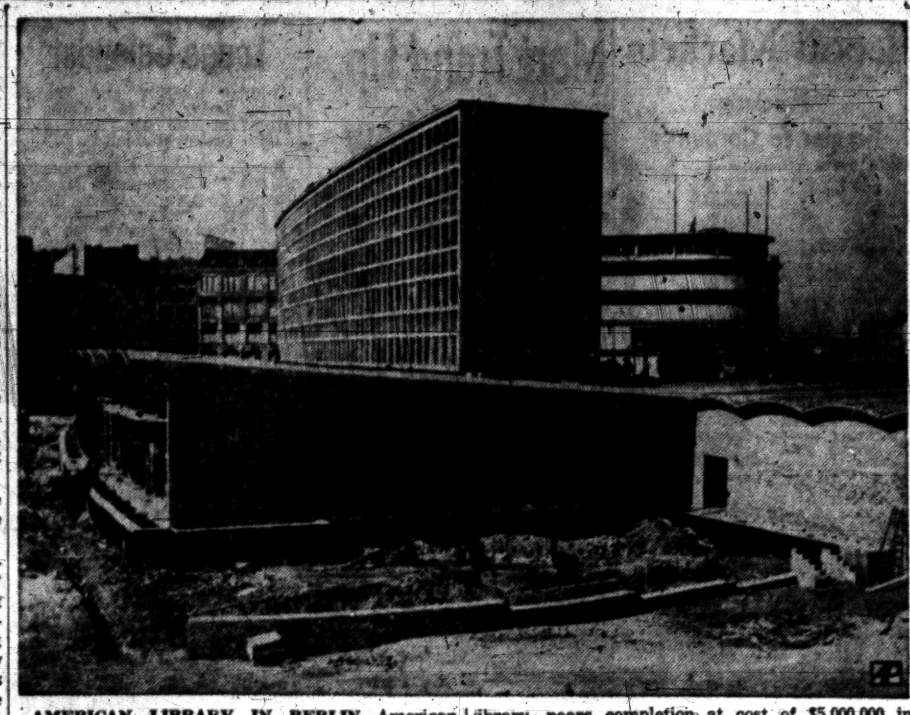

* * *

"Most of the film writers here are hacks, pure hacks. The plotting of the pictures is ridiculous. I could write better stories without half trying."

Spillane was bitterest about the filming of his own story, "I, The Jury."

"I went to the picture and walked out after the first 15 minutes," he said. "It was putrid. I went back to see the picture five different times, trying to figure out the plot. I never was able to. They loused up my story but good." His personal comments about the makers of the film could never be printed, even in his own books.

14,138 Receiving Checks

Social Security Payments in County Total More Than $683,000 Each Month

At the end of 1953—the 17th year of Federal social security—old-age and survivors insurance payments of about $683,041 in monthly benefits were going to 14,138 persons in Oakland County, according to Rex A. C. Atwood, Manager of the Pontiac Social Security Office.

For the entire nation, including Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, estimates show an increase of approximately one million beneficiaries with the year ending Dec. 31. The 5-millionth person was awarded payments just over a year ago, early in December 1952.

In September of 1950 the Congress enacted an amendment to the law which greatly expanded the scope of the program. At that time only three million people were getting benefits.

The number has just about doubled in the last 3-year period, he pointed out, having reached 5,970,000 by year's end, according to preliminary estimates made in December.

Since the program was originally designed to give a measure of protection to the nation's aged people, Atwood says it is significant to note that about 40 per cent of all aged persons who are without income from employment or self-employment are now getting old-age and survivors payments. The number of such beneficiaries nationwide shows an increase of almost 600,000 since the close of 1952.

Self-employed people and regularly employed farm and household workers 65 or over are among those who started getting payments in 1953. The kind of work in which they were engaged did not count toward old-age and survivors insurance before 1951.

Other advance estimates released to Atwood by social security headquarters: Nearly three and one-quarter million retired men an women workers, aged 65 and over, are now receiving old-age benefit payments. In addition, monthly payments based on the accounts of retired insured workers are now going to 885,000 wives and dependent husbands 65 or over, or wives, regardless of age, with retired workers' minor children in their care. The number of such beneficiaries throughout the nation increased 146,000 during the year just ended.

During the same 12-month period, the number of children under 18 getting payments because an insured parent over 65 had retired, increased by 16,000 in 1953.

A far greater number of child beneficiaries are getting payments as survivors of a deceased insured parent, Atwood declared. The number of children who were getting survivors insurance payments because they had lost a working parent was 100,000 greater at the close of 1953. The total of children now receiving payments is now 1,055,000 throughout the nation About 45 per cent of all children under 18 whose father has died are now getting monthly survivors benefits.

Still quoting national figures, Atwood said that the number of aged widows, widowers, and aged dependant parents getting monthly payments increased by 87,000 in 1953. The number of such beneficiaries was 563,000 at the end of the year.

Widowed mothers now getting payments because they have the deceased insured father's minor children in their care now number 252,000. Monthly benefits are payable to such widowed mothers regardless of their age.

The old-age and survivors insurance program is financed from social security taxes paid by employees and their employers, and self-employed persons whose trade or business is covered by the law. Tax contributions amounted to 4 billion dollars in 1953. All social security taxes go into a trust fund which is kept separate from all other tax collections of the Treasury. The only expeditures which can be made from this fund are for paying social security benefits and the cost of administration under the program. Benefit payments for the 12 month period ending Dec. 31, 1953, totaled 3 billion dollars, administrative expenses for the same period were $90 million.

The assets of the fund which are not needed for current disbursement are invested in interest-bearing U. S. Government bonds. Interest on these investments amounted to $400 million in 1953. The total assets of the fund, as of December 31, 1953, were $18.8 billion.

At the end of December, the average monthly payment to all retired workers without dependents was $49.00; to a retired worker and aged wife, $84.75; and to widowed mothers with two minor children, $111.00.

For persons whose benefits were computed under the more liberal provisions of the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Law, based on earnings after 1950, the averages were considerably higher. Retired workers average $62.75 monthly; retired workers and aged wives average $103.60; widowed mothers with two children average $152.50 monthly.

Release Held Up on 2 Divisions

Withdrawal From Korea to Be Delayed Pending PW Move on Jan. 23

TOKYO (INS) — A top military source in Tokyo said today that two U. S. divisions slated for withdrawal from Korea will be held there at least until the question of releasing balky war prisoners is settled.

The source which declined to be named said the divisions will remain in Korea until after the "critical date" of January 23 which the United Nations Command claims is the deadline for release of balky prisoners under armistice terms.

President Eisenhower announced on December 27 that two divisions totaling about 35,000, will be pulled out of Korea "soon" but did not set a date and did not name the divisions.

It was learned that top military men in the Far East including UN commander Gen. John E. Hull and Eighth Army chief Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor cautioned Washington to go slow on the withdrawal and wait for a "possible final showdown" on the prisoner problem.

The time-table for the withdrawal of the two divisions is set now for early February provided the release of the balky prisoners in Indian custody goes off smoothly.

General Hull informed Indian custodial authorities last week that Allied soldiers will be deployed just south of Korea's demilitarized zone to handle the released prisoners.

Combat-armed troops will be held in reserve in case of "trouble of any kind" involving the prisoners.

Leonard Promises Action Over Raids

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Police Commissioner Donald Leonard today promised that "justice will be done" in the case of four Detroit policemen who smashed their way into three private homes early New Year's Day without warrants.

Leonard called the action of the Bethune Station's clean-up squad, "Most disgraceful and reprehensible." The four patrolmen found no evidence and made no arrests on their raids which they later failed to report.

Leonard pointed out that although police have no right to enter without a warrant, they are considered legally on the premises if allowed to enter.

He added, however, that the squad in question was not admitted but simply battered down doors with axes and was completely in error. The officers were suspended Saturday.

A study by a major steel company has revealed that its employes are nearly three times as safe on the job as they are at home. Statistics for 1952 showed that off-the-job accidents serious enough to cause layoffs amounted to 45 per thousand, while on-the-job accidents of that type totaled only 17 per thousand.

Shot Smashes Glass in Farmington Home

A shotgun pellet smashed a front window in the home of Hiram Patrykus of 28160 Rollcrest, Farmington Township Saturday, and narrowly missed his wife who was washing dishes.

Patrykus told Oakland County sheriff's deputies the pellet hit a wall near his wife and dropped to the floor.

Deputies questioned Norman Steniz of 28054 Alic Kay St., who had been skeet shooting nearby, and Steniz said it was possible that he might have fired the pellet found in the Patrykus home. Steniz was not held.

Grains Show Worried Tone

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains set off on the new year with a worried undertone on the board of trade today. Small losses were run up in all pits in quite active dealings.

Behind the selling was some apprehension over the possibility of an increase in offerings of cash grain now that 1954, with its reduction in income taxes, has arrived. In addition much uncertainty existed over the farm program Congress will soon start working on.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¾ to 1¼ cent lower, March $2.05¾, corn ⅞ to 1⅛ lower, March $1.57⅞, oats ⅝ to ¾ lower, March 78⅜, rye ½ to 1 cent lower, March $1.19½, soybeans 1¼ to 4 cents lower, January $3.07 and lard 15 to 32 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $16.35.

Mart Trend Up, Chemicals Low

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks were mostly higher today in a moderately active market.

Gains extended to around a point and losses at the most were of equal size, but the plus signs predominated.

There was a rush of trading at the opening with many large blocks on the tape, but that state of affairs didn't last very long. Trading thereafter proceeded in a moderate manner.

Coppers were higher on the heels of the report that Chile intends to permit sale of its copper on a competitive price basis with American copper.

Most major divisions were higher despite a few minus signs or stocks trading unchanged.

Chemicals stood virtually alone among major groups with a net loss.

Higher stocks included Southern Pacific, Pan American World Airways, Loew's, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda Copper, Dome Mines, American Tobacco, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, United Aircraft, and Radio Corp.

Lower were General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, Santa Fe, and Paramount Pictures.

Industry Plans Big Car Month

Hopes to Build 528,000 for Best January on Record to Date

The nation's auto makers, beginning work on a new year today, plan to build 528,000 cars this month, Automotive News said in its current issue.

If the scheduled volume is achieved, the best January output in industry history will be recorded.

The trade paper noted that Oldsmobile, Cadillac and Nash got back into production today after being down since mid-December.

Kaiser and Willys, it added, remain out of production but are slated to return some time this month.

Automotive News listed 1953 as the auto industry's second best year with the production of 6,140,123 cars and 1,209,568 trucks. Top year was 1950, with 6,658,510 cars and 1,343,923 trucks.

M. A. Dondero Dies in Harper Hospital

ROYAL OAK — M. A. Dondero, 70, of 323 W. 10th St., died this morning at Harper Hospital, Detroit.

He had been in the real estate business here since 1911 and was a partner in the Walcott-Dondero Insurance Agency here. He was a cousin of Congressman George A. Dondero.

Mr. Dondero had served as executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards from 1916-17. He was a member of F&AM 464, the Michigan Sovereign Consistery of Detroit, Moslem Temple Shrine and the Shrine Band. He was also a member of St. Paul Episcopal Church.

Surviving besides his widow, Jean, is a sister, Mrs. William Spangler of California.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at Sullivan and Son Funeral Home, with burial at Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit. Time for service was not announced.

Boy Hurt as Dad's Car Collides With Another

An 8-year-old West Bloomfield boy suffered back injuries Sunday on M 59 when his father's car and another collided about one-half mile west of Cass Lake road.

Harry E. Wood, 35, of 1590 Fullerton, West Bloomfield Township, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he had slowed down and was starting to make a turn when an oncoming car collided with his vehicle.

Wood's son, Michael E., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

LeRoy H. C. Coon, 58, of 207 Crestwood St., driver of the other car, said Wood started to turn suddenly in front of him.

Church Draws Many

BOSTON (UP) — More than 100,000 tourists each year visit Old North church, from whose steeple came the lantern signal that sent Paul Revere on his midnight ride April 18, 1775.

The prevailing work day in Japan is nine hours.

Sinatra Leaves Wife, Returns to California

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Sinatra went on to California and work on a new motion picture today after returning from a visit in Rome with his wife Ava Gardner.

The singer left here early today, less than 19 hours after he arrived by air from Rome. He refused to discuss his domestic problems, but on leaving Rome Saturday he said he and his actress wife "are trying to work out our problems."

GOP Tax Talks Get Under Way

Humphrey, Reed Meet to Draft New Program to Unite Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) scheduled the first of a series of conferences today to try to fashion a tax program on which Republicans can unite for 1954.

Reed, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, already has called for more and bigger tax cuts than the Eisenhower administration has been willing to accept so far.

Just how far the two men get in trying to reconcile their positions will largely determine whether tax issues will become a major battleground within the GOP in this congressional campaign year.

* * *

The 78-year-old Reed waged a spectacular but unsuccessful fight last year against an administration request to extend the excess profits tax to last Friday, six months beyond its original expiration date. Both Reed and Humphrey, and their associates, say they are anxious to avoid another such head-on clash this year.

The administration has postponed final decisions on many tax questions pending the all-important conferences with Reed and others this week. This is one reason why President Eisenhower will discuss taxes only generally in his State of the Union message Thursday, submitting a more specific program later.
