Fluoridation Bill Up to Senate; Past House

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

LANSING — The House passed on to the Senate today a controversial bill that would require fluoridated water issues to be put to a vote of the people.

The House debated for 1½ hours today before passing the measure 62-40.

The bill would not be retroactive. The some 40 Michigan cities which now have fluoridated water systems could retain it unless a referendum was called.

Road Contracts at $6.1 Million

Projects Planned Throughout County

More than $6.1 million in highway construction contracts for Oakland County will be awarded during 1963, the State Highway Department announced today.

A total of more than $75 million will be let in the five-county Detroit area, according to the announcement made at a meeting of the Inter-County Highway Commission in Farmington.

The Oakland County projects include:

1. The major portion of the perimeter road around Pontiac's downtown business section. Contracts estimated at $1.06 million are scheduled to be let April 3.

Completion is planned for the summer of 1964. Total cost of the project, including engineering and right-of-way purchases, is put at $5.5 million.

2. Widening of M58 from Elizabeth Lake Road to Airport Road at a construction cost estimated at $1.3 million. The contract is slated to be let in September.

3. Modernization of M218 (Pontiac Trail) from Commerce Road to the I-96 freeway in Wixom at an estimated construction cost of $1.1 million.

City Pigeons Beware!

The city's going into the pigeon-trapping business.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer told the City Commission last night that his two-man pigeon control committee has recommended a trapping program to help rid downtown Pontiac of pigeons.

Donald Nagel, forestry division supervisor, and Charles S. Cohen, City sanitarian, have been studying the problem of too many pigeons for several weeks.

In a report to Stierer, the committee said that "trapping offers the most practical and acceptable solution" and that communications from Cranbrook Institute of Science and the University of Michigan Museum of Zoology "tend to support this conclusion."

Stierer proclaimed that "we now have a program which is going to move forward."

The first step will be to find rooftops where pigeons congregate.

Traps constructed in the Department of Public Works carpenter shop will be baited and put atop the most likely buildings, with the permission of building owners.

Chamber OKs Moving Offices

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce today announced plans to move from its location of the past 23 years to new offices in the Riker Building.

Max Adams, chamber manager, said the move from present offices in the Waldron Hotel should be complete by April.

"We're shooting at an April 6 target date for the move," Adams said. He explained the decision to move came as the result of a need for more office space.

The chamber has been located on the second floor of the Waldron Hotel building since 1940. The new office at 33 W. Huron St. is on the main floor of the Riker Building.

It was formerly occupied by Stacy Building & Supply Co., Inc., and is being remodeled. The chamber will also make use of office space in the basement for heavy office machines and a board meeting room.

The move has been under study by the board of directors since December. Officials also feel the new office is more centrally located in the downtown business district.

Neighbors Call Teen 'Typical Schoolboy'

"A typical high school boy."

This is how neighbors describe Leonard Reed who was found beaten to death last night on McKeatchie Road in White Lake Township.

Leonard, a 10th grader at Holly Senior High School, had his ups and downs.

Late last fall, he was involved in a similar incident when two or three high school youths forced him off Ormond Road at White Lake Road and gave him a severe beating.

The youths later apologized to the boy's father. They had been drinking, they said, and didn't have anything against Leonard personally.

Mrs. James Howard, a neighbor, at whose house Leonard was visiting just prior to his death, described Leonard's associates as "kids who dropped out of school — kind of a wild bunch."

Mrs. Leonard Brendel of 6835 Brendel Road noted that residents of the area fear for their children's safety when they go out after dark.

"It isn't safe here," she said. She said her son, who also attended Holly Senior High

Sister Savagely Beaten

Police today started a search for 19-year-old Carl Case of the Hartland area, Livingston County, because Case visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, 5420 McKeatchie Rd., just before the fatal bludgeoning of Leonard Reed.

Capt. Leo Hazen of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, said Case was a friend of Leonard's and knew he was visiting the Howards.

By JIM LONG
and DICK HANSON

The savage beatings that brought death to a 16-year-old White Lake Township boy and critically injured his younger sister last night had police searching today for suspects and a motive.

The children, Leonard C. Reed and his sister Naomi, 14, were found beaten outside their car on a rural road, less than a quarter mile from the home at 9:35 p.m.

The youth died in Pontiac General Hospital at 1:12 a.m.

The girl is in critical condition with a fractured skull and smashed facial bones. She may lose the sight of her left eye.

The teen-agers are the children of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Reed, 6290 White Lake Road.

No suspects or any reason for the vicious attack have been turned up yet, according to Capt. Leo Hazen of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The boy was not robbed and the girl was not criminally assaulted.

Detectives from the Pontiac and Redford Township state police posts and White Lake Township police also were working on the case.

The brother and sister were discovered by White Lake Township Police on McKeatchie Road, about 60 feet before it ends at White Lake Road.

Police had received a telephone call from Mrs. Delores Fuddick, 5690 McKeatchie Road, at 9:30 p.m. reporting that she had heard screams and shouts nearby a few moments earlier.

Her home is about 100 yards from where the couple was found.

Only a short time before, Leonard and Naomi had left the home of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, 5420 McKeatchie Road, where they had been visiting for two hours.

The Howard home is a half mile from the Reed's. The beatings took place midway between the two homes.

When police arrived the motor of Reed's 1959 Rambler was still running and the radio was playing.

Reed told police that his children went to the Howard's shortly before 7 p.m.

Reed, 43, a jig and fixture helper at Interlakes Steel Products, said he told them to be home in two hours.

LEFT FOR HOME

A few minutes after nine, according to Howard, Leonard noticed what time it was. He and his sister left.

Leonard had driven his sister to the Howard's so she and the Howard's daughter Carolyn, 12, could work on a sewing project for the White Lake 4-H Club.

While the girls worked, Leonard, the Howards and their son Leroy, 15, played cards.

Reed was at home sleeping when the beatings took place. His wife, Ruth, 38, a machine operator at Dytronics, Inc., Rochester, was at work.

Leonard was a 10th grader at Holly High School. Naomi is in the eighth grade at Holly Junior High School.

The family has lived in White Lake Township for 14 years.

Police theorize that the attack may have been made by someone the youngsters knew.

NAOMI REED

Father Dazed by 2nd Tragedy

One Son Lost After Starting for Home

William Reed sat dully pounding a helpless fist into his left hand in the dimly lit waiting room at Pontiac General Hospital early this morning.

"His hunched form shook with anguish."

Mrs. Reed kept a quiet vigil across the small room. Her tear-rimmed eyes held little hope for the life of their badly beaten 14-year-old daughter in the morgue in the next room.

Their 16-year-old son's body lay in the morgue downstairs.

The grieving couple's children were bludgeoned last night on a lonely wet road in White Lake Township.

It was the second time a major tragedy has befallen the Reed family.

In April 1961 an older son, William Jr., then 19, vanished while en route home from Memphis, Tenn.

He had been discharged from the Navy at San Diego and had visited his grandfather in Memphis. He was last seen getting aboard a bus bound for Michigan.

His disappearance still remains a mystery.

Last night's tragedy now threatens to take the life of their only remaining child.

County Site of 5 Bizarre '63 Slayings

The death of a 16-year-old White Lake Township boy last night was the fifth bizarre slaying in Oakland County this year.

On Jan. 25 Mrs. Mary Godfrey was shot in the head while standing in the kitchen of her Bloomfield Township home, 983 Dursley Road.

Two weeks later, her 15-year-old son Douglas admitted that he shot his mother because she was too strict with him.

A week and a half ago, March 16, Robert A. Greene, 22, was killed during a robbery of the Kroger Supermarket in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

Greene, assistant manager of the store, was stabbed 43 times.

Adolphe White and Charles E. Hodges have been charged with first degree murder for the crime.

Three days earlier Aubrey Posey, 34, 571 Crescent Lake Road, Waterford Township, was knifed to death in his home when he refused to give a ride home to a man he had met in a bar.

Brady Boley, 46, 164 Pike St., was charged with Posey's murder and will be arraigned in Circuit Court April 2.

Saturday, Tommie L. Holston, 32, of 38 Iowa St., was killed by a shotgun blast during a birthday party in Pontiac.

Hardy Justice Jr., 22, is in the Oakland County Jail, awaiting District Court examination on a first-degree murder charge in Holston's death.

Sun's Expected to Heat Up Area Next Few Days

Of Sol will beam his shining rays on Pontiac area residents for the next few days, bringing temperatures 6 to 8 degrees above the normal high of 46 to 51 and normal low of 26 to 32.

The low is expected to be a mild 35 tonight and the high will soar to 62 tomorrow.

The low receding in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33. The mercury had zoomed up to 60 at 2 p.m.

COFFEE CAMPAIGNING — Three Democratic candidates for state office campaigned informally yesterday over coffee at the home of Carlos Richardson, 2336 Carlos Drive, Waterford Township. All three were touring the Pontiac area. From left are Eugene Power, incumbent candidate for University of gle in or around the car," said sheriff's detective Fred Pender. Sheriff's detective Harry Jones said that the remote location of the crime seems an unlikely spot for a stranger to be in waiting.

"It looks like it may have been done by somebody carrying a grudge," said Jones.

GIRL IN ROAD

Leonard was unconscious on the side of the road when police arrived. His sister was sitting in the middle of the road crying.

The weapon used in the attack is believed to be similar to a tire iron, heavy and with a sharp end, according to police.

The youngsters' faces were beaten beyond recognition.

Seven pints of blood were required while Naomi was undergoing surgery.

SET TO OPERATE

Her brother died while doctors were preparing him for an operation.

"It was downright brutal," said Reed. "I don't think it was a kid that did this. I saw them both. It didn't look like the work of a kid."

"Who would kill a boy over nothing?" the father said.

Leonard was killed by a blow at the base of his skull, according to pathologist Dr. Richard Olson.

Doctors at Pontiac General said he was beaten so badly the back of his skull was "shredded."

Bonds Missing, U. S. Confirms

$7.5 Million Worth May Be Destroyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government spokesman said today Treasury securities worth $7.5 million have been missing from the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco since last August. He said the best evidence indicates the securities were destroyed accidentally.

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve system confirmed much of a report carried by the San Francisco Examiner in a copy-right story.

STOLEN OR BURNED

The newspaper had said the 12 negotiable government securities were either stolen or burned by error. The Examiner would be the biggest hit in U.S. history.

The Federal Reserve spokesman described the securities as certificates of indebtedness, a shorter term issue than bonds, and said they were in 12 pieces worth $7.5 million.

The certificates were dated to mature May 15. Since one interest date already has passed and no coupons have been presented for collection, government investigators feel they theory that the documents were destroyed by mistake is strengthened.

STATEMENT DUE

The 12th Federal Reserve District Bank in San Francisco, the spokesman said, plans to make a statement today to explain in detail what occurred.

The examiner reported it had received confirmation of the loss from the U.S. Treasury in Washington, but that the district bank had denied it.

The story went on to say: Since July, three vault custodians, three janitors and a former employee have been questioned at length with no results.

Here's Waterford Ballot

ELMER FANGBONER

ELMER R. JOHNSON

LEO F. KAMPSEN

Democrats

James E. Seeterlin, 36, Waterford Township Clerk for the past six years, is Democratic candidate for township supervisor.

A life-long resident of the township, Seeterlin lives at 637 W. Walton Blvd. with his wife, Evelyn, and their six children.

Seeterlin is a graduate of Pontiac High School and is currently attending Wayne State University at night working toward a bachelor of arts degree.

A World War II veteran, Seeterlin was employed by a trucking firm as dispatcher and owner-driver prior to becoming township clerk.

Elmer Fangboner, 55, of 3327 Meinrad St., is the Democratic candidate for township clerk.

A retired Pontiac fireman, he organized the Waterford Township fire department and now serves as its chief. A township resident for 40 years, he has four children.

Following graduation from Pontiac High School, Fangboner attended Olivet College and Michigan State University. He served the years on the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Democrat Mrs. Dorothy Olson, 51, seeks re-election as township treasurer, a position she has held for six years.

Mrs. Olson, of 3599 Shalis, serves as supervisor of the U.S. Civil Engineers District, disbursing department for seven years prior to becoming township treasurer. She is a graduate of Northwestern High School in Detroit.

A resident of the township for 12 years, Mrs. Olson is president of the Waterford Democratic Women, serves on the township recreation board and is a member of the Michigan Democratic State Central Committee. She has one son.

Republicans

Elmer R. Johnson, 59, will be seeking his fourth two-year term as Waterford Township supervisor in the April 1 election.

Elected three times to the township office as a Democrat, Johnson announced his change of party affiliation in January 1962. He and his wife, Martha, live at 3229 Seebald St. They have two sons.

Johnson was graduated from high school in Minnesota and has taken various courses at night since moving to this area 27 years ago.

A die maker for a tool and die firm before taking office, Johnson is a former member of the Waterford Township Board of Education. He served seven years on this board prior to becoming township supervisor.

Leo F. Kampsen, 40, of 4097 Baybrook Drive, is the Republican candidate for township clerk.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, he has been employed for six years as salesman for Matthews-Hargreaves Chevrolet.

Kampsen has been a township resident for eight years. He is married and has four children.

Kampsen's 778 vote total in the Feb. 18 primary election outdistanced his opponent nearly 2 to 1 to win the nomination.

STRATEGIC ITEMS

3. Originally, large-diameter pipes were on the embargo list of the 15-nation coordinating committee on export controls. The list contains strategic items over which the participating governments exercise control of exports to the Communist bloc.

4. In 1964 the pipes were removed from the embargo list and transferred to the so-called watch list of nonembargoed items.

5. Finally, when various lists were dropped in 1968 and only the embargo list remained, pipes became free of export controls or surveillance.

The Russians began to ship in the West for pipes.

British Aid Russ Pipe Dream

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says today to try to convince the British that large-diameter steel pipes are strategically important commodities which should not be shipped to the Soviet Union. The British presumably will disagree.

This will hardly surprise Ball. He was told the same thing last Monday when he summoned Sir David Ormsby Gore, the British ambassador, to discuss the controversial pipe issue.

Ball's mission likely will arouse the ire of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The Soviet leader already has accused the United States of having "exercised crude pressure" to refuse Soviet pipe orders.

By doing so, Khrushchev said in a Moscow elections speech last month, the United States was interfering in Soviet relations with third countries and this, he said, was "a manifestation of the senseless policy of cold war."

TO SEND OIL

The controversy started when the Russians began dreaming about a gigantic 2,500-mile pipeline to deliver Soviet oil to European satellites and, perhaps, across the Iron Curtain to Western Europe.

To realize this dream the Soviets need 40-inch pipes. These were the factors involved:

1. Only a few industrialized countries—the United States, Britain, West Germany, Italy, Sweden and Japan—produce such large pipes.

2. The Soviets did not manufacture such pipes until now, preferring to order them abroad.

Moscow announced Tuesday that the Chelyabinsk steel plant turned out its first 40-inch pipe.

Beginning this fall, all 6th grade students from a single elementary school will move together to a single junior high school.

Before the final vote was taken last night, board treasurer Bennett W. Root offered an amendment which would have initiated the Harlan move this fall, rather than deferring it a year.

The amendment was defeated.

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will present the "Wonderful World of Music" tomorrow night at Groves High School.

Proceeds from the appearance, sponsored by the Birmingham Lions Club, will provide free eye examinations for Birmingham children.

Portions also will be donated to Leader Dogs for the Blind-Spore of Montclair, N.J.

Married and a township resident for six years, Morningstar lives at 4465 Major St. He operates a private CPA practice and serves as director of higher accounting at the Pontiac Business Institute.

School Board Approves Redistricting Program

BIRMINGHAM—After several protest meetings and extensive study sessions, the board of education last night approved a redistricting plan that met with a round of hearty applause.

Members of the audience, numbering about 100, began clapping as Board President Mrs. Kathryn Loomis noted that the compromise proposal had passed.

Opposition was first voiced when School Supt. Otis M. Dickey proposed the original redistricting plan in January.

The proposal was designed to curb overcrowding of Derby Junior High School and Seaholm High School.

It provided that Harlan Elementary School students attend Berkshire Junior High School and Groves High School instead of Derby and Seaholm.

Parents of Harlan students objected to the plan on the grounds that the children would spend an extra 550 hours on school buses to travel the greater distance.

NEW PLAN

The new plan calls for Harlan area students now attending Derby and Seaholm schools to remain there.

Students from the Westchester, Bloomfield Village and Valley Woods areas attending Derby will be allowed to finish at that school.

The program will be complete by 1968. Then students from Harlan will attend Derby for grades 7-9 and Groves for 10-12.

Students from the other three districts will attend the new Berkshire Junior High School for grades 7 and 8, Groves for 9 and Seaholm for 10-12.

Beginning this fall, all 6th grade students from a single elementary school will move together to a single junior high school.

Before the final vote was taken last night, board treasurer Bennett W. Root offered an amendment which would have initiated the Harlan move this fall, rather than deferring it a year.

British Aid Russ Pipe Dream

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says today to try to convince the British that large-diameter steel pipes are strategically important commodities which should not be shipped to the Soviet Union. The British presumably will disagree.

This will hardly surprise Ball. He was told the same thing last Monday when he summoned Sir David Ormsby Gore, the British ambassador, to discuss the controversial pipe issue.

Ball's mission likely will arouse the ire of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The Soviet leader already has accused the United States of having "exercised crude pressure" to refuse Soviet pipe orders.

By doing so, Khrushchev said in a Moscow elections speech last month, the United States was interfering in Soviet relations with third countries and this, he said, was "a manifestation of the senseless policy of cold war."

TO SEND OIL

The controversy started when the Russians began dreaming about a gigantic 2,500-mile pipeline to deliver Soviet oil to European satellites and, perhaps, across the Iron Curtain to Western Europe.

To realize this dream the Soviets need 40-inch pipes. These were the factors involved:

1. Only a few industrialized countries—the United States, Britain, West Germany, Italy, Sweden and Japan—produce such large pipes.

More Berlin Talks Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin are expected to meet again in about a week to continue their exploratory talks on Berlin, authoritative sources reported today.

Rusk and Dobrynin conferred for an hour Tuesday at the State Department. The session produced nothing new, the two being satisfied to restate their governments' well-known positions on the Communist-encircled city, the sources said.

The State Department, in accordance with long-standing practice, immediately arranged a briefing session for the three allies directly interested in the fate of the city. The British, French, and West German ambassadors are scheduled to meet today with Llewellyn Thompson, Rusk's principal adviser on Soviet affairs.

Officials said they were not surprised the first Rusk-Dobrynin session did not produce much. It is understandable, they said, that the first two men re-establish the groundwork after a gap of five months since talks were last held before probing what can be done to find some basis for formal negotiations.

The meeting was devoted exclusively to Germany in general and to Berlin in particular, officials said. They said that first Dobrynin reiterated the old Moscow position that a peace treaty with West Germany and East Germany be concluded and that West Berlin be transformed into a "free" city. Rusk restated the American view that a peace treaty can be concluded only with a unified Germany and that the West would not abandon the 2 million Germans who live in West Berlin.

The atmosphere, the State Department reported, was friendly and businesslike. "No proposals were exchanged," a spokesman said.

It was more like a capitalistic stockholders' meeting than a revolutionary reunion. There were no Cuban flags or symbols and no Havana-style harangues as the wedding congress opened. The only delegate of national importance present was Francisco Juliao, boss of Brazil's northeast peasant leagues.

Bidault Sees Police to Check His Papers

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Anti-Gaullist leader Georges Bidault appeared voluntarily at police headquarters today to have his papers checked.

The former French premier was accompanied by his secretary, Guy Ribeaud, who arrived here with him yesterday on a flight from West Germany. The pair had traveled under assumed names, and police said earlier they did not know where they were.

Area Student to Be Honored

A state homemakers degree will be conferred on Yvonne Parent, Avondale High School senior, during the closing session of the state Future Homemakers of America (FHA) convention April 5 in Grand Rapids.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Parent Jr., 3689 Adams Road, Yvonne, 17, is state vice president of the National FHA Committee.

Presently vice president of the Avondale chapter, she has held other offices both in her home chapter and in the region.

During the current school year she has been making a survey for the national finance committee on how chapters earn money and what they use it for.

WED 66 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Groves, 3015 Auburn Road, Auburn Heights, will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary at a reception April 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland building, Pontiac. Married April 2, 1903, the couple has two daughters, Mrs. Maynard Colcher and Mrs. Paul Arndt, both of Pontiac, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The family requests gifts be omitted.

Colburn Claims Blue Cross Won't Respond to Discussion

DETROIT (AP)—Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn asserted in a statement last night that Blue Cross officials are delaying a settlement of proposed rate increases for hospital care by what he called their "aloof" attitude to the problems.

Colburn's statement was an apparent reply to growing criticism from hospitals over his delay in approving a rate increase for Blue Cross.

The commissioner said Blue Cross officials have not responded to the type of discussion which has resulted in an apparent agreement with Blue Shield on a surgical rate increase plan.

The main problem separating his office and Blue Cross, Colburn said, is a proposed reduction of rates to low-income and senior citizen subscribers and increased rates to employers with negotiated contracts.

Colburn said a greater share of the proposed increase would be shifted to subscriber groups covered by contracts between unions and employers.

He said the high three auto makers, whose contracts with the United Auto Workers Union require them to pay the entire cost of employees' Blue Cross, would bear much of the proposed increase.

Colburn said "The automakers have told me they are interested in paying their own way."

Colburn said, "It is in heavy industry — and particularly where there are negotiated contracts — that Blue Cross has sustained its heaviest losses, since it is there that they do 30 to 40 per cent of their business."

"However, Blue Cross has vacillated and, frankly, has not been willing to face up to this fact."

"We would allow this disparate program to continue for a while as long as we could get an assurance of a positive Blue Cross program to alleviate this situation in the future. We have not gotten this assurance."

He said the candidates' consent and affidavits of qualification for office.

Councilman William C. Staman, one of the circulators of the petitions, later supplied a qualified letter of consent signed by both candidates. Staman also filed the affidavits of qualification.

The legality of the latter action was questioned because the city charter states that the affidavits must be filed by the candidates. However, City Attorney Howard Bond said Staman's affidavits would be sufficient.

"An attorney general's opinion rendered in 1945 is very clear on this point," Bond said. "The opinion was requested when a similar situation arose in Benton Harbor."

The state constitution does not require the affidavits to be filed by the candidates themselves.

"Charter provisions are construed wherever possible to make them constitutional," Bond said. "There are now 12 candidates for the five council vacancies in next Monday's election."

Others are Kenneth Hazlip of Lake Orion, flutist; Donald Youmans of Linden, bass horn; Dennis Ulrich of Clarkston, clarinet; and George Ballingall, Waterford, trombone.

The nine will play "The National Emblem March" with the service band in the 1 p.m. performance. Leading the one selection will be Wendall Hunsinger, Oxford band director.

The Navy band will be featured in another concert at 8 p.m. Both performances, sponsored by the Oxford Lions Club, will be held in the high school auditorium.

Stands Mute on Attempted Killing Charge

A 45-year-old Holly man Monday stood mute at his arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court on a charge of attempted murder in the Jan. 12 shooting of a mother of two.

Noah Terry, of 306 LeGrande St., appeared before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Terry is accused of critically wounding Mrs. Ethel Truxton, 32, of 304 LeGrande St. Police said Terry shot Mrs. Truxton four times with a 38-caliber revolver.

Mrs. Truxton's husband, Harry, 34, was narrowly missed by a fifth bullet, according to police.

Terry was unable to furnish $5,000 bond and is being held for trial in Oakland County Jail.

House Debates Speed Bill

Police Head in the Middle

Ask Night Limit of 70 on State Freeways

LANSING (AP) — State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs was a man-in-the-middle today as the House prepared to deal with a bill to raise the nighttime speed limit on state freeways from 60 to 70 miles an hour.

Childs got into the act yesterday when the bill, sponsored by Rep. David Upton, R-St. Joseph, came up for preliminary debate in the House, and his name was used as a reference for both sides.

Arguing the merits of the bill, Upton said Childs was among state officials who had expressed support for the change as a more realistic limit.

But Rep. Clark Most, R-Alanson, said there appeared to be a difference of opinion about Childs' views, and read a long list of reasons submitted to him by the state police commissioner for opposing the bill.

Most said Childs told him a higher night speed would increase the speed differential between cars and trucks, provide less time for drivers to react under poor visual conditions and possibly result in more accidents on the freeways.

Upton said he was "surprised" by Most's references, and checked with Childs.

STATED SUPPORT — "He told me he was supporting the bill, not opposing it," said Upton. "Most asked him for a list of reasons why such a speed limit might not be a good idea."

The Alanson lawmaker confirmed this.

"I didn't ask Childs if he favored the bill and he didn't tell me," he said. Upton said he believes the existing 60-mile-an-hour limit is pointless because many drivers exceed it. His proposal to raise the night limit has the support of the Michigan State Highway Department.

Fred Tripp, director of administration for the Highway Department, told Upton in a letter that his bill would establish a more realistic speed limit and would eliminate confusion over changing limits in urban-rural areas.

Traffic surveys show 40 per cent of all drivers exceed the current after-dark limit on the freeways, Tripp said.

The confusion, he added, exists as a result of a provision of the law lowering maximum day-night speed to 65-55 on freeways passing through incorporated areas.

Tripp told Upton the cost of changing some 450 speed signs on state freeways would run about $30,000.

In Lake Orion District

Seek Code for Teens

LAKE ORION—Parents of high school and junior high school students in the Lake Orion School District are getting some tough questions in the mail this week.

There are 59 altogether in a questionnaire sent to some 600 parents in a survey to establish a code for teen-age social behavior and parental responsibilities.

Parents may already have firm ideas on some of the points, but others may not be so easy.

The questionnaire asks the parents to agree or disagree with such things as:

AGREE OR DISAGREE?

"Parents should know whom their children are spending their time while away from home."

"Dating behavior, such as parking, kissing, etc. should be discussed between teen-agers and parents before he or she begins to date."

"It is good practice for teen-agers to offer part of their earnings toward the family finances."

Parents also are asked to indicate at what age they believe their boy or girl should be allowed single dating, and what time they should return home from dates.

TO BE TABULATED

Some 1,400 students already have answered the questionnaire. After parents' replies are received, all the answers will be tabulated by high school students. The tabulation will then be used by a youth code committee, composed mainly of students, to draw up a teen code for the Lake Orion area.

Similar codes already have been established by Troy and Rochester-area teen-agers.

The project is sponsored by the Orion Area Youth Guidance Committee, a group of community leaders volunteering to work with youth in a program encouraged throughout the county by the juvenile division of the county Probate Court.

Art Teachers to Display Work at Exhibit in Area

Prints, pottery, paintings and other forms of two- and three-dimensional art — all work of Oakland County public school art teachers who are members of Park Schools, Elinor Smith, Birmingham City Schools; Jay Zahner, Warren Community Schools; Jerry Schwach, Birmingham City Schools; Harold Jaslowe, Oakland County Schools; Elinor Smith, Birmingham City Schools; and Jay Zahner, Warren Community Schools.

The OAEA group has, for the past four years, cosponsored with the Northland Center Chamber of Commerce, a children's show in the gothic dome. This year's children's exhibit will be May 3-15.

These exhibits are the highlights of the many activities programmed for members throughout the school year. In addition to regular business meetings, the group has in past months visited with artists in their studios and attended area art exhibits, as well as regional and state art conventions.

The present officers of the Oakland Art Education Association, besides Kussey, are Earl Smith, Southfield Public Schools, vice-president; Jaslowe, treasurer; and Mrs. Smith, secretary.

School Budget OK'd in Oxford

$694,241 Amount Sets Fiscal Record

OXFORD — A record budget of $694,241 for the 1963-64 school year was approved by the Oxford Board of Education last night.

This amount is up $31,000 over expected spendings for the current school year.

A major reason for the increase is the salary hike recently granted to district teachers. From this year's budget, $438,701 was allocated for teachers' and principals' pay and supply costs.

This is boosted to $468,213 in next year's budget, which includes cost of an additional instructor at the high school.

One of the items which is down in the new budget is transportation costs, decreased from $73,261 to $67,455. This is possible because a new bus was purchased during this academic year.

Operational costs, which include custodial pay and financing of heat and utility services, is budgeted at $92,750 for the coming year as compared with this year's expected cost of $90,597.

Some of the increase in this category is due to a salary boost for maintenance workers.

PTA Open House Set

Avondale High School PTA will hold open house tomorrow after a short business meeting at 8 p.m.

Select Nine to Join Navy Bandsmen

OXFORD — Nine area high school bandsmen have been selected to play with the U.S. Navy band in an afternoon concert here April 4.

They include Sylvia Janick of Avondale, alto sax; Jan Mayhew of Brandon, flute; Harold Howell of Oxford, percussion; Ray Sortman, of Fenton, cornet; and John Stodola of Madison Heights, alto-tenor sax.

Others are Kenneth Hazlip of Lake Orion, flutist; Donald Youmans of Linden, bass horn; Dennis Ulrich of Clarkston, clarinet; and George Ballingall, Waterford, trombone.

The nine will play "The National Emblem March" with the service band in the 1 p.m. performance. Leading the one selection will be Wendall Hunsinger, Oxford band director.

The Navy band will be featured in another concert at 8 p.m. Both performances, sponsored by the Oxford Lions Club, will be held in the high school auditorium.

Teachers Get Scholarships

Five area secondary school science and mathematics teachers are among 288 recipients of summer fellowships awarded by the National Science Foundation.

The teachers and their schools are: Herbert M. Brod of Clinton Junior High School, Oak Park; George L. Herlein, Romeo High School, Romeo; Edna D. Freeman, Southfield High School, Southfield; Gerald R. Taylor, Farmington High School, and John B. Turlo, Farmington Junior High School, both in Farmington.

The recipients will undertake individually planned programs of graduate study and research lasting 6 to 12 weeks.

Brod, Freeman and Taylor will study at the University of Michigan; Herlein at Western Michigan; and Turlo at the University of Wyoming.

Applicants for fellowships were evaluated by panels of scientists appointed by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Recipients were selected by the foundation on the basis of ability.

President in 5th Term on Council

OXFORD—The Village Council last night re-elected President Alen E. Valentine to his fifth consecutive term in office.

Chosen to fill the position of president pro tem was Councilman Edward Unger. This is also his fifth year in this post.

Manager Michael M. Kilgore, who also serves as village assessor, was chosen to continue in his slot.

Also retained in office were Clerk-Treasurer Mrs. Patricia Tyrrell and Village Attorney Robert Parent.

Council officers and the village administrators are elected annually.

In other business last night, the council received a proposed budget of $140,192 for the next fiscal year.

The trustees agreed to meet in special session April 4 to review the code figures.

After a brief discussion of preliminary sewage plans presently being considered for the village, the council set tentative plans for an April 3 visit to a sewage plant in Lawton.

The treatment facilities of the Welch's Grape Juice Co. there are similar to those proposed for the village.

Holly School Bonds OK'd by Finance Unit

HOLLY — The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved issuance of $500,000 in school bonds in Holly.

The bond issue will finance construction of a 13-room elementary school, a 7-room addition to the high school and remodeling of the junior high school.

Girl, 4, Saved From Drowning

OAK PARK (AP) — An alert neighbor and swimming lessons given a 4-year-old girl last summer were credited yesterday with keeping the child from drowning after she fell through the ice in her back-yard pool.

Lorri Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buck, 24640 Ridgedale St., was pulled from 5 feet of water by Mrs. Jack Goldsberry, who lives next door.

Lorri climbed a 7½-foot-high protective fence around the pool "to pick some leaves from the (pool's) ice and help get things ready for summer."

She toppled through the ice. Then, using what her father had taught her about swimming last summer, paddled to a log placed in the pool to relieve ice pressure in winter.

She called to Mrs. Goldsberry's 3-year-old daughter Susan to get a life jacket from the garage, but Susan was trying to climb the fence to help her playmate when Mrs. Goldsberry heard their cries and dashed outside.

Lorri was taken to a hospital for treatment of shock and exposure, but was released two hours later.

British Laborite to Advise JFK

(EDITOR'S NOTE — If the Labor party wins the next general election in Britain, Harold Wilson will become the first Laborite prime minister since 1951.)

By ARTHUR GAYSHON

LONDON (AP) — Another Wilson's 14 points will be laid before President Kennedy this weekend.

Woodrow Wilson's 14 points helped set the pattern for Europe after World War I. Harold Wilson's 14 points would set the pattern for British policy if his Labor party wins the next general election, as many British political observers expect. The election must be held before October 1964.

Wilson flies to the United States Thursday for his first meeting with Kennedy since Wilson was elected head of the Labor party last month. The program he will outline includes at least three sharp departures from allied policy.

They are: Limited recognition of Communist East Germany and recognition of Poland's title to German territory occupied after World War II;

Soviet and U.S. withdrawal from a neutralized central European zone of controlled armaments made up of West and East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Nuclear weapons would be barred from the area. Communist China's admission to the United Nations in place of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

OFF CENTER

Some of Wilson's 14 points would swing Britain into closer alignment with the Kennedy administration. Others would take Britain toward a middle position in the cold war.

If Wilson's Laborites win and then press their foreign policy loyalties and East-West rivalry program, it could begin a process of radically transforming inter-

The 14 points of policy have emerged from a study of Wilson's private and public statements immediately before and after his election as successor to the late Hugh Gaitskell as Labor's leader.

It takes 60,000 to 70,000 gallons of water to make a ton of steel.

Nisbet, White Qualified for Education Posts

Two candidates who we feel warrant serious consideration in the April 1 election are INK WHITE, running for the Michigan Board of Regents, and STEPHEN S. NISBET, candidate for the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

WHITE

Both men are vitally interested in education and would be an asset to their respective boards. In an era that stresses the importance of education, the past experiences of these two men could benefit our higher schools.

Mr. WHITE is editor and publisher of the Clinton County Republican News of St. Johns and a former con member. His sound, business-like approach would give the U. of M. Board of Regents a fresh and competent opinion. Mr. WHITE was born and raised in Lapeer.

Mr. Nisbet, a retired businessman, is especially well-known for his work as the past president of con con. His 19 years as a member of the State Board of Education, where he was respected for his nonpartisan views, would be a welcome addition to the MSU Board of Trustees.

NISBET

With our continuing high enrollments at both Ann Arbor and Lansing, the voters would make a good choice in electing these two highly qualified men.

McNamara Unyielding on TFX Controversy

On Capitol Hill, Secretary of Defense ROBERT S. McNAMARA is continuing to have his troubles. To date, he seems to be coming out unscathed. The result of the current hearings —basically on McNAMARA's decision to award the contract for the experimental tactical fighter (TFX) to the General Dynamics Corp., rather than the Boeing Co. — could determine the secretary's usefulness to the Administration.

If he should have to backtrack on that contract decision, he will forfeit a great measure of his authority for independent judgment.

The TFX controversy shaped up something like this: At stake is the largest tactical airplane contract since World War II. Production orders eventually would come to at least $6.5 billion.

Military advisers in the Pentagon wanted a plane proposed by the Boeing Co. They were overruled four times between January and November 1962 by McNAMARA, Air Force Secretary EUGENE M. ZUCKERT and Navy Secretary FRED KORTZ.

The civilians instead awarded the contract to General Dynamics, in association with the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. On the surface the Boeing bid would have saved the taxpayers as much as $100 million.

McNamara says the contract was awarded to General Dynamics because their plane could be used by the Army or the Navy with only slight changes in the basic design. He also says that placing the program with General Dynamics will save in the long run as much as $1 billion.

Through all the investigations there has been a welter of political charges and countercharges. We are inclined to side with McNAMARA and feel his judgment is sound.

Essentially, the TFX controversy looks like a pull between the civilian chiefs in the Pentagon and the military. In his final presidential message to the Country, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER said: "We must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist."

Standing beside him was his predecessor, a well-beloved general, who fifteen years before was in command of the armed forces in the war which resulted in the complete defeat of Germany. The man who took the oath had also served in the armed forces of this war and had been brought up in the Catholic faith. Never Had It So Good

David Lawrence Says:

Cut in Work Week Hurts Economy

WASHINGTON—What's a "35-hour week"? Union labor is all for it, and at first glance it seems a wonderful thing not to have to work 40 hours but only 35. But what are the facts?

In the first place, union labor wants the same pay for 35 hours as for 40. In the second place, the practical effect is that almost always the same employees—not the unemployed—get the extra money whenever work is extended beyond 35 hours.

The unions, moreover, insist that double payment be made for each hour above 35, instead of the usual hour-and-a-half pay for one hour of overtime work.

All this would mean an increase of hundreds of millions of dollars in industry's labor costs. The change from 40 to 35 hours with no reduction in weekly pay would increase labor costs 14 per cent.

If overtime also is involved, still further increases would result. These simple statements tell the real story about what's wrong with the trend of the national economy today and why President Kennedy's prediction of a "decade of recession" is likely to come true, even if a tax cut is granted by Congress.

Mr. Kennedy has made occasional references to the 35-hour week and has taken a position opposite to the AFL-CIO, which is demanding it.

The AFL-CIO unions, however, have a powerful weapon available. They can get the 35-hour week—and in some trades now are obtaining it—by the usual process of extortion, through strikes or threats of strikes, euphemistically called "collective bargaining."

The public generally doesn't know what a 35-hour week would mean. Not only would this week schedule fail to absorb the unemployed of today, but it would make new jobs for the millions of young workers coming into the labor market each year.

The overtime problem is the real reason. A company that operates on one shift, for instance, of eight hours a day for five days a week cannot hire new workers to take care of an hour or two of work each day after the regular shift finishes.

It is natural to use the existing personnel and to pay the overtime rate of an hour and a half for every extra hour worked.

As the overtime expense grows, the employer has to figure out whether he can make a profit at the increased cost of the labor involved. In lots of instances, he is stymied and cannot expand or create new jobs.

The 35-hour week has already been obtained in several trades and crafts by the pressure of labor unions. This leads, of course, to desperate efforts by the employer to find new machinery and to cut down other expenses, which again mean more unemployment. It certainly doesn't add to national growth.

Employers in many cases would rather pay higher rates per hour than pay penalties for overtime. It leads to better planning and a better system of weighing costs in expansion programs.

The real stumbling block to growth is the overtime rate and the reduction of the work week.

While the President doesn't favor a federal law which would establish a 35-hour week uniformly in all kinds of work, both in the factory and in white-collar jobs, the union leaders know that, as they compel industry after industry to adopt the 35-hour week, the non-organized workers will eventually protest and ask the government to put them on an equal footing with the organized workers.

From an economic standpoint, therefore, the 35-hour week and the penalties for overtime are barriers to new employment. This means that unemployment will grow throughout the 1960s even as it is growing today.

Bob Considine Told:

Delinquents' Problem Simply a Lack of Love

NEW YORK—Here is Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Patrick Carroll-Abbing, Irish-born founder of the famed Boy's Towns of Italy. Inc. speaking of delinquency, love, and lots of other things.

"The chief difference between the juvenile delinquency situation in your country and in Italy is that you appear to have a greater number of psychopathic cases," the man who speaks Italian with a brogue told over a dish of Polynesian kau-kau at Trader Vic's.

"The chief cause of delinquency in both our countries is identical, basically. There is not enough love. Not enough persons to care, or make the boy or girl feel they're cared for. So they rebel."

"They go out to win attention elsewhere. They are emotionally disturbed because of that lack of being loved—so they go out to win the respect or the fear of others."

"Generally, these 'disturbed' kids are better looking and brighter and have a basic ability to command others."

"They affirm their own beliefs in themselves by dominating others in their set, or, if they are not leaders then they hope to be close to the real leader, and so they biding."

"All of us want to be something, somebody. All of us want recognition. But basically all of us want to be loved."

It all began, for this priest at least, on Christmas Eve, 1944, when, hurrying home through battered Italian streets, he came upon several starving, freezing waifs trying to sleep in a doorway.

With the help of Pius XII and GI's of all denominations, he staked out the first boy's town — now grown to nine other children's institutions, chiefly day schools.

They cost $1 million a year to maintain, and all maintenance money is collected in Italy.

The late Father Flanagan of Boys Town, Neb., used to say, "there's no such thing as a bad boy."

The monsignor says "some of ours are certainly bad when they come to us; bitter, hostile and cruel."

"You can't win them with a big burst of personality. You've got to work slowly, surely, patiently until they discover that someone really does 'wish them well.'"

The evening star is Mars.

'Can't Search Without Warrant'

I can't disagree with "Building Inspector" on bringing to public attention the rough time that building inspectors have, because I am not acquainted with his way of inspecting. If his manner of inspections were carried out in a manner similar to one that I know he is lucky to have held the job for 9 1/2 years.

Many small town inspectors or officials seem to rate themselves as "crime busters." They are not law enforcement officers.

There is a way to deal with another person when you are standing on his own private ground and that does not include infringement of his rights as a property owner. Law enforcement officers do not have the right to search private property without a properly issued warrant nor do building inspectors.

New Constitution a Popular Topic

Michigan's constitution controversy divides voters into two camps: those who speak equality and those who cherish liberty.

Advocates of proportional representation without consideration for property seek to force equality; to halt inequality arising from the unequal ability (or lack of it) to reward complacency and mediocrity; to penalize determination and effort.

They promote equality at the expense of liberty. In Russia, all men are equal.

Has New Frontiersman Right to Review Movies?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Clyde Mack, the cynical flack, dropped by my desk again.

"It's later than you think," said the unemployed press agent.

THOMAS right has a new frontiersman to review movies?" "You don't mean Peter—"

"No, no, no," I replied grudgingly. "Then what?" "You don't mean Peter—"

"No, no, no," I replied grudgingly. "Then what?" "You don't mean Peter—"

"That's what the Indians thought, and look what happened to them. You chaps had better do something about it or you'll find Orville Freeman reviewing movies for Country Life, Robert Kennedy for Parents Magazine, plane at the time.

Teddy for "Teen, Caroline for Jack, wood had better, too."

"That's pretty ridiculous."

Flight Pioneer Is Dead at 70

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ernie Smith, 70, first civilian to set an airplane distance record over the Pacific, died here yesterday.

On July 15, 1927 he flew a single engine monoplane from Oakland, Calif., to Hawaii, crash landing on the top of a kiawe tree when he ran out of gasoline.

The flight, with Navigator Emory B. Bronte, took 25 hours and 36 minutes.

The plane, which bounced down the goiter-hole-pitted Oakland runway with 379 gallons of gas, never was higher than 1,100 feet on its 2,393-mile flight.

It was the longest overwater stretch flown in a single engine plane at the time.

wood had better, too."

"Why is that?"

"Because if Schlesinger is speaking for the administration on movies, Hollywood is in trouble."

According to his reviews, anything made within a 25-mile radius of Hollywood and Vine Street is for the birds. Almost anything made in a foreign land, including the eastern part of the United States, gets a boost.

"The Connection," which introduced a new first to the cinema—four-letter swear words, Schlesinger says despite its "jeune, antiburgeois nihilism," it is a re-graph.

maskable film—"It is also a very American film: drug addiction is apparently a particularly American vice."

"Then there is 'The Given Word' from Brazil—it has 'pictorial and emotional forces which overwhelm its traces of artifice.' 'Dr. No,' from Britain, gets the nod as 'a smart and glossy thriller.' 'But he saves his best adjectives for 'Lolita,' which he calls 'Brilliant,' 'sinister,' 'wildly funny,' 'wildly poignant,' 'willful,' 'cynical,' 'repellent,' 'beautiful' and 'depraved,' all in one paragraph."

"And how does the Hollywood product stack up in his estimation? 'Music Man' is 'too much a filmed play.' As for 'Whatever happened to Baby Jane,' he dismisses it as a 'revolving little item'—'unpleasant on so many levels as to defy inventory.' He even admits to critic's cowardice: 'I was just wondering how a new movie made in large part in nearby Burbank. The one titled 'PT 109.'"

Nonpartisan Group Wins Mayoralty

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The nonpartisan Citizens Association, which wrecked the Tom Pendergast machine in 1940 and ruled the city 19 years, recaptured the municipal government Tuesday after four years in limbo.

Its candidate for mayor, Ius W. Davis, defeated Dutton Brookfield of the new Independent Voters Association.

vidence in your ability to meet life's challenges. A "yes" vote is against the "tyranny of a faction."

A Thinking Democrat

Foes of the new constitution attack the authority granted an interim legislative committee to suspend a rule made by an administrative agency between sessions.

The provision applies only to agencies that get their rule-making power from the legislature; the legislature can always take back the power it delegates to an agency; there long has been a statute under which the legislature may abolish rules of administrative agencies which do not accord with the power the legislature has granted them. The legislature may do this only by enacting another law; there is presently no way the legislature can present a rule made between sessions from going into effect; the provision the opponents object to grants no great new power to the legislature but merely supplements the power it has always had by providing a means of suspending a rule made between sessions until the legislature can act.

This will keep the legislative power (statutes and rules) accountable to the people through their elected law-making body.

Raymond L. King
Con. Dem Delegate

It's time for new constitution opponents to fish or cut bait. I'm weary of doubletalk. They bemoan a "long ballot" (which they don't prove), but attack every change from elective to appointing officials. They condemn elimination of the governor's power to fill court vacancies—calling election of judges a "lottery"—attacking in the same breath appointment of the superintendent of public instruction as "weakening" education.

They tell Democrats that the new constitution is "Republican." Simultaneously they praise the old constitution—revised in 1907 by a convention of 88 Republicans and 8 Democrats.

Do these fellows know what they want? If they do know, let them tell us straight out.

Dorothy L. Judd

Among many irresponsible charges being made against the new constitution, apparently for selfish purposes, is the claim that the proposed constitution would revise the spoils system in Michigan.

The strength of Michigan's civil service system stems from four factors: the provision is self-executing—no legislative action is required to set it in motion; eight-year terms of the four commissioners to insure that the commission will not be dependent on the executive branch; the commission's power to "make rules and regulations covering all personnel transactions" and to "regulate all conditions of employment in the classified service" comes from the constitution, not from the legislature. Hence the legislature cannot abolish, change or suspend its rules; the constitution assures the commission's financial independence by providing for an automatic appropriation of 1 per cent of the classified payroll. The legislature cannot refuse or reduce it.

The Civil Service System is one reason why people should approve the new constitution.

Clyde W. Durst Jr.
Delegate Lenawee Co.
Representative District

Is the new constitution Republican? Let's set the record straight. First, Democratic leaders use this to solidify Democratic votes against the constitution.

Second, is it a fact? Of 253 sections in the new con, 197 passed unanimously or nearly so. On other issues, the split was often not on party lines; for example, issues involving elective vs. appointive officials—administrative, judicial and county. In general, moderate Republicans and non-labor Democrats voted for appointment while labor Democrats and conservative Republicans preferred election.

Henry L. Wolfenden

Each week new constitution opponents blow up another Mr. Nord's "400" flyspecks into a big dark cloud. Last week it was the sales tax provision. The 4 per cent ceiling on the sales tax, they charge, has been eliminated by language restricting the ceiling to a tax on retail sales.

This "Johnny-come-lately" charge, doesn't ring true. It turns out to be another boogeyman designed to frighten the people about the new constitution. The voter must find his way through this fog of 400 misleading charges and see the new constitution in the strong, clear light of our state at this time.

Frank Staiger
Con. Dem Delegate

The Highway Department long has recommended that we forbid billboards along our freeways—all except billboards that say, "Save Michigan Roads . . . Vote 'no' on con." (paid for, incidentally, by people who do business with the highway department).

The slogan on the billboards is a typical example of Hitlerian frightfulness. The seriousness of it lies in its power to blind the voter to the alternative: Suppose we DID pave Michigan with cement; do you remember the empty roads of the 1930's when the big trucks were laid up for the lack of goods to carry, and lack of buyers for the goods?

The new constitution is designed to help Michigan grow and move forward—to build roads to insure expanding tourism, commerce and industry.

Vote "yes" on con con save Michigan!

Rep. James Farnsworth

Transport in France Closed at Rush Hour

PARIS (UPI)—French railwaymen and bus depot workers walked off their jobs during the rush hour today in another attempt to force the government to grant wage demands of 200,000 striking coal miners.

Coal union leaders urged their men to avoid further violence while President Charles de Gaulle summoned his cabinet for a report on the labor crisis from Michel-Maurice Bokanowski, minister of industries.

But workers walked out at two depots handling suburban commuters and one downtown Paris line.

Swiss Urged to Bring Out Their Sick

ZERMATT, Switzerland (UPI)—The Swiss army today appealed to residents of this mountain ski resort to "bring out their sick" to help check the typhoid fever epidemic which has stricken nearly 300 persons and caused two deaths.

"These are hardy mountain folk up here and they tend to keep their sick at home," Maj. Gustave Raebler, chief of the army task force fighting the epidemic, told United Press International.

"We must convince them that if they have anyone in their homes suspected of being a typhoid fever carrier, they must bring him out at once."

The Swiss cabinet called a special meeting in Berne today to discuss the Zermatt outbreak which had been carried by tourists to five European countries and the United States. The two deaths were Zermatt women.

High Court to Get Issue on Juveniles

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen said today the question of whether the state should have accepted 16 problem boys committed from the Detroit area will be carried to the State Supreme Court.

The dispute was touched off Monday when Wayne County Juvenile Judge James H. Lincoln, a Democrat, shipped a bus load of 29 youths to the State Training School at Whitmore Lake. Lincoln said he wanted to dramatize the plight of the youngsters.

Republican Gov. Romney replied that he was as interested as anyone else in the problem but that "I am not going to let threats and stunts stampede me."

Romney said it was not possible to build overnight enough facilities to house all juvenile delinquents. He added it was a problem he inherited when he took office last Jan. 1.

Prosecutor Olsen said he would file a petition with the Supreme Court at Lansing by the end of the week and that he hoped for a decision within weeks.

Assistant Prosecutor Samuel Torma, who will prepare the petition, said Judge Lincoln's move was no stunt.

"He has the legal responsibility to deliver the boys there," said Torma in discussing the busload of boys shipped Monday to the Whitmore Lake camp.

Because of crowded conditions, four were accepted as the Wayne County quota and the others were returned to Detroit. They are in the county's youth home.

Wayne County Backs Closing

DETROIT (UPI)—The Wayne County Board of Supervisors voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to give the state's controversial closing law a chance in Michigan's most populous county.

In a roll call vote following a long debate on the measure, supervisors voted 6-3-1 to take no action at this time on the measure.

A two-thirds vote is needed for exemption from the law.

With one hurdle past, however, the hotly debated statute still faces another roadblock. It was to have gone into effect tomorrow, but last Friday Wayne Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid issued a temporary restraining order holding up the law. The order is effective until April 5.

A hearing is scheduled for next Tuesday on the measure.

Under the law, retailers are restricted in their selling of certain merchandise to one weekend day. Specified emergency, necessity and recreational items may still be sold all seven days.

The famous trade fairs at Frankfurt in West Germany have been held since about 1240.

At MSU

1,500 Flunked Briefly

EAST LANSING (AP)—About 1,500 Michigan State University students were jolted last weekend and early this week when they discovered failing "F" marks on their report cards for the winter term.

Their surprise turned out to be justified. The MSU registrar's office said a slip-up on a data processing machine sent "F" marks to the students instead of the passing "C" they had earned.

The registrar's office reports that corrected grades have now been mailed to the students homes.

Civil Service OKs Job Cut

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service Commission has agreed to remove the position of director of the State Social Welfare Department from under its classified merit system.

The post formerly was filled by Willard Maxey, who died earlier this month.

The move will permit the Social Welfare Commission to fill the $19,000-a-year job without a Civil Service examination.

It also will mean the appointee will serve at the pleasure of the commission and that the legislature, and not Civil Service, will determine the salary. The move was in line with the approval to unclassify Civil Service jobs at an agency request provided there is no classified incumbent.

Romney's Wife Stumps in UP

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. George Romney, wife of the governor, will plane-hop across the Upper Peninsula Friday, stopping in seven cities to campaign for Republican candidates in the April 1 election and adoption of the proposed new state constitution.

Accompanying Mrs. Romney will be Mrs. W. Merrill Peterson, GOP state vice chairman.

Elderly Australian Throws Gift to Queen

PERTH, Australia (AP) — An elderly man attempted to throw a small parcel into the limousine carrying Queen Elizabeth II through the streets of Perth yesterday.

The man was pounced on by security men as he shouted: "A gift, your majesty."

He was later released. The gift: a handkerchief.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Prompt Recognition Key to Cancer Control

Much confusion exists over the nature of cancer, because it is not one disease, but many.

The feature that appears to be common to all cancers is that a change occurs in normal cells of some part of the body which alters their appearance and causes them to multiply in a disorderly fashion.

BRANDSTADT

Whereas a benign tumor is confined within the expanded but otherwise normal boundary of the affected organ, a malignant tumor pushes through this boundary and invades adjacent tissues and organs without fear or favor. Cells may also break away from a malignant tumor and be carried by the blood or lymph streams to distant parts of the body, where they set up secondary tumors known as "metastases."

One of the mysteries still facing the medical world is the question of how cancer is acquired. At best we have a few clues.

Low-grade chronic irritation appears to be an important factor. The irritation may be thermal.

Cancer of the lips, for example, is more frequent in smokers than in nonsmokers and cancer of the stomach is more frequent in persons who habitually eat very hot foods.

The irritation may be mechanical. Cancer of the tongue often occurs in persons with neglected rough or jagged teeth.

The irritation may be chemical. Cancer exposure to tars, certain dyes, and arsenic has long been recognized as a cause of skin cancer.

More recent studies have implicated the nickel carbonyl present in tobacco smoke and in the atmosphere to which workers in nickel plants are exposed.

The incident of lung cancer is high in persons exposed to this chemical over a long period.

Hormonal imbalance is another form of chemical insult that may play a part in the cause of some cancers.

SUN EXPOSURE

Cancer of the skin is more common in persons who have spent many years exposed to the direct rays of the sun.

Another factor is radiation. Cancer has occurred in many persons who were exposed to X-rays, radioactive paint, radium without proper protection.

Some form of virus is another possible factor, if not in causing cancer, at least in initiating it.

There is no reason to believe that cancer is either contagious or hereditary.

At this point, it is essential to warn my readers against going to extremes in an effort to avoid cancer. Don't reject hot meals—just use moderation.

Don't avoid getting a modest sun tan in nice weather and, above all, don't refuse to let your doctor or dentist get X-rays if he thinks they would help him to understand the nature of your complaints.

It isn't the average patient who runs a great risk from this source, but the doctors and technicians.

Since the causes of cancer (and there are probably several) are still not well understood, your best protection is early recognition and removal.

This can be accomplished by having periodic health examinations and especially by reporting to your doctor any chronic painless skin lesion that refuses to heal, any painless lumps that have been present for more than 10 days, any unusual bleeding from any body orifice, any persistent radical departure from your usual bowel habits and any other bodily changes that you can't account for.

PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Pidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting anal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms—tiny parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To period of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Junior Editors Quiz on VIKINGS QUESTION: Why didn't the Vikings stay in America?

ANSWER: Using their fast, seaworthy ships, the ancient Vikings raided and plundered many sea coasts, sometimes establishing colonies. One such settlement was in Iceland.

Eric the Red, an Icelandic chieftain, had been exiled in Greenland. Eric's son, Leif, sailed to Norway, where the king urged him to introduce Christianity to Greenland.

On the trip home, Leif was driven south by fierce storms (1) and at last came to a strange land where he found wheat and wild grapes. The Vikings called this place Vinland the Good.

Leif took samples of timber and other products back to Greenland.

Later, his brother Thorstein led an expedition to Greenland but was killed by the natives. Then Thorfinn Karlsefni married Thorstein's widow, Gudrid, and with 130 men set out to colonize Vinland.

They sailed down the Labrador coast (2) and spent the winter further south. But after a year of trouble fighting off the savage natives, the colonists finally decided Greenland was a safer place in which to live.

So, in 1006, they returned to Greenland. Finally, Karlsefni settled down in Iceland.

FOR YOU TO DO: This stirring story is told in two Viking "sagas," but the two accounts do not agree. See if you can find a translation of the most reliable one, the saga of Eric the Red.

Check the story with the routes shown on our map. It is not known exactly where "Vinland" was.

Youthful Hoodlum Gangs Shock Europe

STRASSBOURG, France (AP)—"Shall we go to the movies tonight or attack a woman?"

This cruel jest, circulating in a West Berlin high school, reflects an increase of youthful criminality and brutality in Western Europe.

The Council of Europe asked 12 of its member countries about juvenile delinquency. All reported rapes, murders, theft and wanton destruction by minors.

The report said 94 out of every 100 boys and girls never get into any trouble with the law, and held that "on the whole youth does well in these difficult times."

What alarmed the investigators was the recent tendency for large groups of young people suddenly to go wild.

HOOLIGAN BANDS

West Berlin police have investigated over 30 mass rapes by bands of young hooligans in just over a year.

Five years ago such attacks were unknown in Berlin. The new-style prowling gangs seize women or young girls, often minors. A gang of 19 youths misbehaved a 15-year-old girl for two hours before releasing her.

The head of the Berlin vice squad, Horst Schramm, said: "These criminals are not hard up for sex. Without exception they have girl friends who are not in the least prudish. They simply delight in the use of force."

In Munich, thousands of youths battled police in the streets on successive nights.

A hundred young Swedes clad in leather jackets invaded a small town on motorcycles and terrorized the inhabitants for hours.

French police had to send mobile gendarmes to the Riviera because of the depredations of youth gangs.

Such incidents are getting more numerous in most parts of Western Europe. Legislators, teachers and parents are deeply worried.

Delinquency is less prevalent in the underdeveloped areas, such as the south of Italy and rural Spain. Youths get out of line less often where family ties are strongest, in primitive villages where the clan spirit prevails.

INDUSTRIAL AREAS

Delinquency happens most in Europe's highly industrialized areas—the glittering neon world of coffee bars, juke boxes and automobiles. Most of the affected youngsters earn easy money in simple jobs in the busy factories of the industrial regions.

The council's report showed juvenile delinquency has decreased in Belgium, remained stable in Denmark and is soaring again in West Germany after leveling off for a while.

REFUGEE FAMILIES

Homes broken by divorce, the late return of fathers from prison camps, the emancipation of European women and consequent downgrading of father's authority, are some of the factors cited as causing delinquency.

The idea that the youth crime wave reflects World War II is undetermined, however, by the fact that neutral countries such as Sweden have the same youth troubles as Germany and France.

Investigators note less delinquency among German refugee families which had a hard struggle to build a new existence. War orphans also get good behavior marks.

Nor are poor living conditions always to blame. British researchers found that when families moved from slums into bright new housing estates there was often an increase of youth delinquency.

The picture being given by European investigators is of young people who are economically affluent but culturally impoverished.

Unable to bridge the gulf between themselves and their elders, they band together, dress alike, haunt the same places.

The nicknames given these groups refer to their unconventional clothes. In England they are called Teddy Boys, or simply Teds because they affect Edwardian styles. In France they are Boussons Noirs (black jackets) and in Germany Lederjackets (leather jackets) or Halbstärke (half-strong). In England some of them are called "Ton up Kids" because their success symbol is to own a motorcycle that can "do the ton"—reach 100 m.p.h.

Italians were bothered by rowdy groups on motor scooters. The activity faded when the press referred to them as Mascaloni—ridiculing them by calling them no-good loafers.

The failure to earn an heroic title seemingly punctured their cockiness.

City Business Trends Indicate a Top Year

If business trends in the Pontiac area continue the normal annual pattern, 1963 may be a banner year.

The evidence lies in figures indicating business and financial trends in Pontiac last month. February is traditionally the worst month of the year because it's the shortest month and contains no holidays.

If this February is the worst that 1963 has to offer, the rest of the year may be a record breaker.

Last year, for example, Pontiac banks set a record for the amount of business transacted through checking accounts, and over-all business was excellent in 1962.

The banking figures often parallel trends in other key business areas.

This February's banking figures totaled $91.2 million, a sharp increase over February 1962 ($82.7 million) and February 1961 ($78.2 million). In the last two years, February has been the poorest month.

While figures for industrial payrolls are unavailable for February of 1963, payrolls last month were $2 million above the same month two years ago.

OTHER INCREASES

Construction figures, airline patronage, and utilities also showed marked increases over a year ago.

As is normal, most areas showed a decline when compared to January.

Figures indicating business trends for February were reported by Community National Bank, the Pontiac Post Office, Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co.

Also, the city water and inspections departments, Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Mother Sentenced in Poison Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A red-haired mother of five has been sentenced to six months in jail for the poison death of a man she said banded her on a $100 loan. Judge Ben Willard passed sentence Tuesday on Florence May Bosquet, 34, after she pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Francis R. Garofalo, 33.

Testimony showed Garofalo charged Mrs. Bosquet $20 a week interest on the loan.

She said she borrowed the $100 without her husband's knowledge after she wasted her housekeeping money.

Russian Deserter Gives Self Up After 21 Years

MOSCOW (AP) — A Moscow newspaper reported Tuesday a 44-year-old World War II deserter recently gave himself up after 21 years in hiding.

Soyetskaya Rossiya (Soviet Russia) said the man, prematurely aged, had hidden in a shed behind the hut of his two sisters in the village of Klopitsy, near Leningrad.

The statute of limitations on World War II desertions ran out in 1957, so the ex-soldier was given a job on a collective farm, the newspaper said.

Turncoat Diplomat Appeals Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Irvin C. Scarbeck, sentenced to 30 years for giving diplomatic secrets to Polish agents while he was employed in the American Embassy in Warsaw, appealed yesterday to the Supreme Court to overturn his conviction.

Scarbeck was second secretary of the embassy. The government alleged that Communist agents blackmailed him into giving them U.S. secrets by threatening to expose a love affair with a Polish girl. Scarbeck, 42, is married, and has three children.

Ransom Plane to Return With 25 Missionaries

MIAMI (UPI) — A Pan American DC6B was scheduled to carry 15,000 pounds of prisoner ransom supplies to Havana today and bring back nearly 25 American missionaries expelled by the Castro regime.

The Cuban government announced yesterday in Havana that the 20 to 25 Pentecostal Church missionaries — most of them Americans — and their dependents would be deported today.

The Pentecostal church has been active in Cuba in the interior of the island for several decades.

Today's flight was also expected to bring back about 80 Cuban-Americans. They are part of a group of more than 400 Cubans with American citizenships waiting to flee the island.

Rockefeller Discourages Unwanted California Band Wagon

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is having political claim-jumping troubles where he least wants them — in California — in his quest for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

BELL year's California primary.

The governor called Knight's move setting up a Rockefeller-for-President organization in California "an unauthorized action, one that I deplore." Asked at a news conference in Albany if he was repudiating the Knight movement, Rockefeller replied: "I don't know how I can go any further."

In Los Angeles, Knight said he intends to go ahead.

Rockefeller disclosed that he had conferred by telephone with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, former Sen. William Knowland and former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco.

He said all agreed that emphasis now should be put on uniting and strengthening California GOP forces, not on deciding on 1964 candidates.

Left out of this consultation was GOP Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, who lost re-election by a 714,000 vote margin last year when Nixon was defeated in his bid to unseat Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

KEEPS OWN COUNSEL

Kuchel has been keeping his own counsel about whom he favors for the 1964 nomination. But he seems likely to have a place among state delegates who will cast a hefty ballot total at the party's nominating convention.

Kuchel declined comment on the Rockefeller desire to stay clear of the intraparty melee into which California Republicans have plunged since Nixon failed to unseat Brown last November.

Conservatives seeking to take over the party machinery and its appendages mostly are against Rockefeller.

Nixon recently called Rockefeller the front runner among those who may be available for the nomination.

Whether Nixon can successfully reclaim a position of party leadership in the state remains to be demonstrated.

Rockefeller's people would prefer not to have to bet on it at this point. They would like to have the dust settle a bit.

There are similar situations in other states. Plenty of volunteers are available who would like to

might wind up as top man in their state. If his California action offers a pattern, the governor is determined to shoot down such ambitions.

Shots Hit Home of Dixie Negro

Is Father of Youth, 19, Refused by Ole Miss

GREENWOOD, Miss. (UP) — Two shotgun blasts early today ripped into the home of the father of a Negro recently denied admission to the University of Mississippi.

It was the latest of a series of violent incidents in this racially troubled delta town.

No one was injured by the blasts which shattered glass in a front door and window at the home of Dewey Greene Sr., father of Dewey Greene Jr.

Greene claimed he was turned down Jan. 31 because of his race, but university officials said he was denied admission because his academic record was unacceptable. The case is now pending in the courts.

George Greene, 19, a voter registration worker and brother of Dewey Greene Jr., said the shots were fired from a car which followed him home.

"I hadn't been in the house more than a few seconds when the shots were fired," George, a high school senior, said. He had just been driven home by a friend when the shooting occurred. "I didn't get a good look at the car, but there was more than one person in it," he said.

Police investigated but declined immediate comment.

Dewey Greene Jr. now lives in Jackson where he is a reporter for a weekly newspaper.

His father said that since his son had applied to the university, his car has been searched by local police and other members of his family have been followed by officers.

Iran Cabinet Members Must Get Small Cars

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The government yesterday told cabinet ministers they must get rid of their luxury automobiles and buy small cars.

The pronouncement was made by Minister of State Jehangir Tafazzoli in introducing new import restrictions. He said imported luxury cars will be subject to heavy duties. Lesser duties will be imposed on small cars.

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Gov. Harold Hughes expressed regret today to hundreds of former lovers now living in California that he would be unable to attend their annual picnic in Los Angeles.

Bito' Blarney Real Boon to Girls 30-Plus

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — A small but dedicated group of citizens has formed an urgently needed organization in New York called the Society for the Notice of Older Women (SNOW).

I was honored to be among the first to benefit from a SNOW job.

As I walked by the coffee shop next to my office today, one man whistled and two men leered politely.

How sweet it was. I felt like 29 again.

The president and founder of this club, which unfortunately meets only on lunch hours because the members are busy family men, dreamed of forming such a group for years.

A lover of underdogs and the downtrodden of the world, he had observed, sadly, the changes that came over women in the neighborhood as they passed the age of 30 and found themselves gradually fading into street-corner anonymity.

"Where once there were wolf-calls, there were only occasional hi-babes, and then only interested glances and, finally, only disinterested silence," he observed pensively. "And then the little lines would become deeper on the women's faces, and I'd wonder — did nature put them there, or was it the unappreciation of men?"

SNOW's president has a wife. He used her as a guinea pig. He "battered her with blarney" for a period of six months, and noticed how she flourished. "She lost five years off her face, and 10 off her hips."

That convinced him what he must do. He must devote his free time to helping other over-30 women in every way he could, short of risking arrest as a masquerader. He canvassed his office for recruits, found only two sympathizers (They're too shy to whistle, so they just look appreciatively).

The rest of the office, apparently, were dedicated to a counter group called "The Society of Girl-Watchers." Obviously, girl-watchers and SNOW people have nothing in common. The one is all eyes, the other all heart.

Now you may think this is a fictitious story.

It is. But I thought it might plant a beneficial idea in the mind of that man who whistled at me. What we "mature" girls need is more whistling in the day instead of whistling in the dark.

It's a harmless form of "blarney." And blarney is wonderful. It was described to me once as a system of romantic semantics whereby a man — using only his vocal cords and natural optimism — can make a woman with buck teeth and pimples feel rather beautiful.

"Blarney," said an Irishman from County Cork named Timothy O'Driscoll, "is the truth — magnificently garnished."

Not everyone can use blarney, of course, any more than just any man can whistle, convincingly, at a middle-aged woman.

"Only when one sees the good can he speak the blarney with grace and delicacy, so that it brightens the heart."

The word "blarney" was invented, or so the story goes, by Good Queen Bess I. She'd been trying to obtain back rent from a chieftain named McCarthy. McCarthy lived in Blarney Castle in County Cork.

He was clever at complimenting, cajoling and wheedling the queen out of her royal due for months — till finally she realized she was being conned.

"I've had enough of this blarney!" she said.

She is the last woman on record to have said such a thing, and sincerely meant it.

Mr. O'Driscoll said it was not as easy for American men to speak blarney because they are more reserved than the Irish.

"Of course you, as a beautiful and brilliant American woman can visualize that . . ."

You see what I mean, gentlemen? But don't worry about the blarney. A whistle will do. A nice unmenacing leer. Anything. Just give us more SNOW jobs.

Women Seek Work

Ready for a Job at 35?

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

If you are a woman over 35, there is almost a 50-50 chance that you are employed in a paying job.

In 1960, 48 per cent of the women in the United States in the 35-44 age bracket were working or seeking work. In the 45-54 age range, 48.2 per cent were in that category.

These percentages are going to rise steadily in the next few years. By 1970, nearly half of all women from 35 to 64 will be in the labor force, and one woman worker out of every three will be over 45 years of age.

Where do you fit into this picture?

In an effort to understand the working woman and her future, we have been talking with some experts.

We want to know what happens to the woman aged 35 to 40 or older who returns to work after years of being "just a housewife."

Where does she start looking for a job? What are her problems of retraining? What sort of resistance does she encounter from employers? What problems does she have in dovetailing her working hours with her home duties?

In the weeks to come, we expect to bring you stories of local women who are encountering or have solved some of these problems.

ANSWER QUERIES

Merrill F. Walls, employment service manager of the Pontiac office, Michigan Employment Security Commission, answered some of our questions with the help of Harold K. Truitt of this office.

If a woman has followed a trade or profession in her earlier years, she can, in some cases, return to it without much difficulty. But teachers re-entering the field often have to take refresher courses. Nurses must be brought up to date on new drugs and medical procedures. Office workers must rebuild their skills.

Byron J. Chapin of the Pontiac Business Institute says 5 to 10 per cent of his students are women over 40. Most of them are brushing up on skills they learned years ago.

The market is good for these women, Chapin says. Employers like them because they are on the job regularly and work efficiently.

Even some women of 55 have gone back to business school, become proficient and held down good jobs for 8 to 10 years. But they are in the minority.

Many school principals prefer older women in their offices. As mothers who have handled children for years, they can cope with school situations.

GREATEST PROBLEM

The woman without any special training, particularly one who did not finish high school, has more trouble finding work. Walls says his greatest problem is the drop-out, whether it be the young one who wants a job instead of going to school, or the middle-aged woman who left school years ago but now seeks work.

"Lack of high school education is still a barrier," Walls said.

He disagreed to some extent with Chapin, saying that many employers want younger workers. Resistance to the over-30 office worker continues.

There are exceptions. A few employers still demand experience and are less fussy about age. Good secretaries—not just routine typists or clerical workers—are always in demand.

In the sales field, experience and personality count more heavily than age. If a woman meets the standards and passes the exams, she can still get jobs in civil service on every level—city, county, state and federal.

One rapidly growing area that promises jobs for many more individuals is the hospital field. The number thus employed in the next decade will be two or three times the number now working.

The most desirable waitress jobs (at surrounding country clubs) are the most difficult to obtain, Walls says. Next in difficulty are similar jobs in first-class restaurants.

HUNDREDS CAME

One large restaurant in the metropolitan area, seeking to hire 30 women as cooks, recently advertised for homemakers with no prior restaurant experience. Hundreds of women showed up for these few jobs.

The older worker without experience or specialized training can have an interview with a counselor at the employment office and take aptitude tests, if desired. These counselors are trained to interpret the tests and to steer job seekers into the right channels.

Women entered the labor market during World War II in great numbers. They didn't go home after V-J Day and they have been emerging in a flood ever since.

If there is any lesson to be learned from the above, it is for the teen-age girl. Chances are that you will spend 25 years of your life in the labor market. You are most certainly apt to work after you are 35.

Finish your high school course and get some practical training in your early life. Then the return 20 years from now will be less difficult.

Hold Friends' Night

Bethel No. 40, International Order of Job's Daughters, held Friends' Night Monday in Roosevelt Temple, with Mrs. Lesley Oles and Kenneth Bain, associate guardian, presiding.

Special guests from Grand Bethel were Sandra Treish, musician, and Helen Boatright, representative to British Columbia.

Representing Grand Council were Mrs. Harry Vernon, Mrs. William Schroeder, Saginaw, Mrs. Lloyd Shipman, Mrs. Clarence Remender, Mrs. Joseph Kluss and Mrs. Charles Peterson.

Members present from Grand Bethel of Michigan included Martha Colby, Midland, Sara Peterson, Milford and Fronda Sheehan, Milan. Honored Queen, Mary Wheeler welcomed Mrs. Harry Eaton, worthy matron of Arene Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and guests from Flint, Pontiac Bethel 5, Detroit, Rochester, Farmington, St. Clair Shores, Walpole Lake and New Lrop.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gail Wheeler, Mrs. Daniel Peterson, Mrs. Vincent Rodgers, Karen Howard and Mickie Rodgers.

County Women to Hear Wife of Senator Hart

Mrs. Philip A. Hart will be guest speaker at a luncheon for Oakland County Women Friday at the Kingsley Inn.

Mrs. Hart, wife of the junior United States senator from Michigan, will speak on the women's role in politics. She is the mother of eight children and well known for her interest in flying in powder puff derbies and promoting women aviators as astronauts.

Active in politics while living in Oakland County, Mrs. Hart held the post vice chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee.

The luncheon for all interested women in Oakland County is being sponsored by the Women's Activities Committee of the Oakland County Democratic Committee.

Tickets and reservations may be made by calling County Democratic headquarters, according to Women's Activities Committee Chairman Mrs. William B. Clark.

Cochairmen of the luncheon are Fae Weiss and Dorothy Olson, Oakland County delegates to the state central committee.

Mrs. Hart will also attend the Waterford Township Democratic Women's Club meeting at 8 p.m. this evening at Airway Lanes.

Discussing plans for Allemanders' Spring Square Dance Festival are (from left) caller Sam Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huber and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert King.

The festival will be Saturday evening at John D. Pierce Junior High School on Hatchery Road.

Should Cut Cost of Gift for Shower

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Don't you think something should be done about limiting the value of shower presents? After all, shower presents are not supposed to be the same as wedding presents and many of the bride's friends are unable to give handsome shower presents and then a nice wedding present besides.

The other afternoon I went to a shower and brought a bride-to-be a nice present, but it was not a very expensive one. All of the other gifts she received were quite valuable and made mine look like nothing at all.

A: I agree with you that shower presents ought to be small inexpensive items and that important presents should be saved for the wedding.

Judging by several letters similar to yours, it would seem that the shower question is becoming a serious one and I do think it is a pity to let the spontaneous lightness of a friendly gesture become a burdensome obligation.

Q: I have quite a lot of informal with my name engraved on them. In the past I have used these cards for invitations to teas, cocktail parties, etc.

I understand that according to the new postal regulations, these cards are no longer acceptable to send through the mail. Will you please tell me how I can use these cards?

A: You can still use these cards for invitations by enclosing them in larger envelopes. If you order envelopes of the same color and texture of the cards, they will not look unmatched.

Q: How should a letter be addressed to a married woman whose husband's first name is not known?

Should it be addressed to Mrs. Mary Jones or plain Mrs. Jones. Would it make a difference if the letter was a business or social one?

A: Mrs. Mary would not be incorrect in business, but socially it is improper and in this last case it would be better to address her as plain Mrs. Jones unless there happens to be two Mrs. Jones living at the same address and in this instance Mrs. Mary would be unavoidable.

Q: I have asked a girl I know to sing at my wedding. She is not a personal friend but someone I know only casually.

I would like to know if it is necessary to send her an invitation to the wedding reception. So, must her husband also be included?

A: I presume she is a professional singer and that you are paying her. If this is the case, it is not at all necessary to invite her, with or without her husband.

Leave Them Out

His Mistake, Not Family's

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 years old and have been married ten years. About a year ago I started seeing a young girl who lives in a small town near here.

She is in trouble now and it's my fault. My wife and I have one eight-year-old son and we were told my wife can't have any more children.

I told her I knew of a girl in trouble who wanted to give her baby up and asked my wife how she would like a newborn baby. She was thrilled.

I called the girl and told her I'd pay all her expenses if she'd let me have the baby. The girl agreed, but said she would have to leave town pretty soon to wait her baby.

I'm afraid if I let the girl come here for her confinement my wife will find out the whole story. But then, if the girl goes somewhere else, she might be talked out of giving us the baby.

Can you advise me in a hurry please?

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: Pay for the baby and help its mother adopt it out, if that is her wish. But leave your wife and family out of it.

One such mistake is enough in one lifetime.

DEAR ABBY: What should a girl do when a boy she dates makes a date to pick her up at 7:30 and he doesn't show up until around 8:30?

My mother says I should keep him waiting for me just as long as I had to wait for him. I don't want to get him mad at me because I really like him.

Do you have a better solution.

KEPT WAITING

DEAR KEPT: Chronic lateness is nothing more than proof in living color (usually bluish pink) that the late one is disorganized.

Don't fight fire with fire unless you want to sacrifice the relationship. Let the boy know you are hurt, and ask him to try to be more prompt.

DEAR ABBY: About the "worried mother" who was concerned because her 16-year-old son kept peeping across into the neighbor's window where two teen-aged girls have their bedroom: I agree with the father.

It's only natural for a normal 16-year-old boy to look

What boy his age wouldn't like the chance?

Instead of the mother peeping on her son, to see if he's still peeping on the girls, she should tell the girls' mother to put a shade up and see to it that the girls pull the shade down.

Then the audience will know the show is over.

UNWORRIED FATHER

DEAR ABBY: What does a diabetic do when she is invited to a luncheon or dinner? This has always puzzled me.

I am a diabetic and wonder if I should accept invitations and take my chances. Most party foods are not on my diet and I dislike putting my hostess to any extra trouble.

Sometimes a hostess who knows I am diabetic will serve foods I dare not eat. Will you print this, together with your reply, as a subtle reminder to thoughtless hostesses? Thank you.

PHILADELPHIAN

DEAR PHILADELPHIAN: It is perfectly proper to tell one's hostess (on accepting the invitation) that certain foods are off limits for you. Offer a few simple suggestions. And don't be embarrassed.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents.

Dance Club to Sponsor Festival

Allemanders Square Dance club will sponsor its second spring square dance festival Saturday evening at the John D. Pierce Junior High School on Hatchery Road.

Featured on the program will be six area callers including Ed Farr, caller for the Style Steppers, Norman Hill, caller for the Westernaires; Sam Joan, caller for the Allemanders; Bob Long, caller for the Longhorn Squares; Douglas Rieck, caller for the Dudes 'N Dolls; and Wayne Wilcox, caller for the Cuckoo Squares.

Dancing will be from 8:30 to midnight.

Women Plan Luncheon at Forest Lake

The Women's Auxiliary of the Oakland County Medical Society will sponsor its annual luncheon and fashion show at the Forest Lake Country Club April 3.

Members of the auxiliary will model fashions by Davidson's of Birmingham. Chairmen for the event is Mrs. Glenn Sanford, Mrs. Kenneth Urwin is cochairman.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Dale Drew and Mrs. Donald Niederhueske.

Proceeds from the affair will go toward the auxiliary's nursing scholarship fund.

Guild Society Sets Meeting

The Women's Society of Christian Service (WSCS) of the Elizabeth Russell Guild of the Four Towns Methodist Church, will hold its meeting March 28 at the church at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Robert Boggs who recently returned from 2 years in Indonesia. Her husband is training officer for the State Department's Agency of International Development.

Unit Initiates New Members

Alpha Lambda chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa initiated five new members at the Tuesday evening meeting in the home of chapter president Mrs. Paul Best of Lake Orion.

Lambda's parent chapter, Mu of Hazel Park, was in charge of the ritual service.

Newly initiated members included Mrs. Arthur B. Swartz of Pontiac and Mrs. Arlene A. Reed, Mrs. A. J. Rhodes, Mrs. Michael LaMagna and Mrs. Byron Chapin, all of Lake Orion.

Next regular chapter meeting will be April 2 in the Lake Orion home of Mrs. A. J. Downey.

Auxiliary of Hospital Holds Fashion Show

A fashion showing of millinery and accessories from Arthur's was presented at the Tuesday meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital. Program chairman was Dr. Mary V. Guthrie.

Modeling were Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Mrs. Alex Capala, Mrs. William Taylor Jr., Mrs. Allan H. Denham and Mrs. W. Fred Fuller. Mrs. Ray Kingsbury was commentator.

The Southeastern District of Hospital Auxiliaries March 19th meeting at Wayne County Medical building was attended by Dr. Guthrie, Mrs. Forest R. Wood, Mrs. Franklin Mills and Mrs. Edward McNamara.

The auxiliary will participate in the International Bazaar of the City Federation of Women's Clubs April 24. Plans were announced for National Hospital Week May 12-18 with Mrs. Fuller as auxiliary chairman.

General secretary chairman Mrs. Charles Barrett was in charge of the coffee hour which preceded the meeting. Assisting her were Vera

Student Wins Fellowship for Year's Graduate Study

Robert E. Richardson, a member of Oakland University's charter graduating class, has won a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for a year's graduate study.

Honor student and major in Russian language and literature, Robert is one of 1,496 college seniors chosen out of 9,767 candidates nominated by faculty members in 1962 colleges in the United States and Canada.

The winners are picked by committees of eminent college professors and deans who choose the candidates they believe to be the best future college teachers.

EYES HARVARD

Robert plans to go to Harvard, earn a doctorate in Russian and then go into college teaching. A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, he had originally planned to be a Spanish teacher.

He has the distinction of being the only '62 student ever to get seven A's in one term.

As a sophomore he took three quarters of Greek in one quarter (recited during the noon hour), and earned A's for all three, as well as in a full load of four regular courses.

The fellowship grant covers Harvard's tuition and fees, plus a stipend to Robert of $1,500.

Robert is the son of the Ray E. Richardson of Poplar Street.

U.S. Air Base in Aden, Turkey Set for Wedding

A June 15 wedding at Inerlik Air Base, Aden, Turkey, is planned by Patricia Jeannine Coles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Coles of Whitfield Court, and S. Sgt. Burness G. Powell Jr., son of the senior Powells of Lake Wales, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Central Michigan University.

Average Weights Misleading

Pounds Creep Up on You

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many overweight women are lulled into thinking they are not overweight, or at any rate, very little so. This happens because they gained weight gradually as they grew older and somehow came to feel that it is normal and expectable to do so. They simply accept the extra pounds as a natural part of aging.

Remember that the average weight and height charts do not show the ideal weights. The average person gains weight as the birthdays whiz by, much more than is good for him or her.

When deciding what you should weigh, use one of the height and weight charts which give you desirable weights, not average weights. Then, too, there is another test you can give yourself. If you can pinch up more than one or two inches of abdominal fat between your thumb and fingers when you pinch deeply, you should lose weight.

EXERCISE NECESSARY

Women also wish to know if exercise is necessary on a reducing routine. It is not necessary but it is desirable. If you are overweight and want to lose, you will need to cut your calorie intake lower than a taller, younger, more active woman.

If you are not old, fairly active and average height, you will lose successfully with an intake of from 1,200 to 1,400 calories a day. Under other conditions you may have to cut to 900 or 1,000.

If you have just a few pounds to lose, a rapid short reduction is satisfactory. However, if you are a lot overweight, a loss of two pounds a week is best. Most women will lose this when on a daily 1,200 calorie intake diet. If you do not lose, then cut to 1,000 calories per day.

If you would like to have my Calorie Chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fashion Look Will Wash

Many fashion accessories are safely washable, even if they look like 24-carat luxuries. For example, current feminine fancies include a stretch gloves and long scarf set made of acetate-and-nylon matte jersey in the popular paisley design.

Both items can be laundered by hand in warm suds — with no ironing needed — so you can keep them clean at practically no expense of either effort or money.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to step out!" The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

• That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 50 naturally balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.

• Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!

• Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

Fear of Mother-in-Law at Root of Crisis

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE She brings candy or a toy to the baby; when he reaches for it, she snatches it away and tells him he has to kiss her first to get it. She also has scared him by grabbing him and not letting him go . . .

ANSWER: You're a little scared of this grabbing lady, to, aren't you?

If you were not, this specific family problem could be dissolved. When your little boy refuses to approach his grandmother, you would approach her in his stead.

You'd say, "All right, if you don't want to kiss Grandma for bringing you these lollipops, I do. I think it was kind of her to bring them."

And by suiting your action to your words, not only protect your child against the obligation to show affection he doesn't feel but relieve your husband and his mother of their hurtful impression that you don't appreciate her.

She is not the self-confident lady she appears to be, you know. Adults who use favors and gifts to buy other people's acceptance have not experienced any genuine affection.

They have been forced to try and content themselves with begrudged gratitude instead. Though they seek to appear self-confident, they are actually deeply frightened people.

It is because they are so suspicious of the real value to us of their "kindness" that they are compelled to try and give it substance by buying us lollipops or silver services.

If we are afraid of them, we

The fact is, many American husbands permit their mothers to control their satisfactions with our behavior because mama is still their childhood's powerful definer of good and bad.

If we want to preserve our marriages to them, we have to learn to live with this. We learn to live with it by refusing to let Mama with their awed eyes.

We have to see her as she is: in your case, a lonely, aging, self-distrustful woman who is compelled to try and obtain her place in her son's family by the same kind of purchase that a lonely little girl makes when she exchanges a cookie with other children for the chance to join in their hopscotch game.

Give Place the Once-Over Clean Before Moving

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bringing order to the busy homemaker's desk is, in the opinion of many, about as likely as getting a leopard to change his spots.

The habit of hanging onto miscellaneous paper can be sharply criticized by the family. I have reason to know I'm not the only homemaker to suffer criticism or to strive sincerely for improvement.

So I sought the advice of a homemaker whose desk is a monument to tidiness. Get a filing cabinet, she advised, and file everything in labeled folders.

The filing cabinet wouldn't fit near the desk and had to be put on an unheated porch. Because of the difficulty of filing with furled gloves on, this system is ineffective from November to April.

Into this sticky dilemma burst a bright ray of hope when a girl who shares this problem sent me a picture and description of a "sdy retreat" area in a model room designed by Elisabeth Draper.

To lift these boxes out of the office category, the backs had been covered or painted to match the wall and the content subject matter smartly penned above the pull tab. The file boxes fit on standard shelves.

The area itself is pretty and restful with a birdseye maple desk and an upholstered tub chair. Desk is placed at right angles to a window shaded by drapes and Venetian blinds laminated with the same fabric used on the chair and a chaise longue.

Bride-Elect Gets Shower Soroptimists Set Plans for Benefit Sale

April's bride-elect Patricia Ann Brown was honored at a shower Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Larson on Park Place. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Russell Dorman, Mrs. Daniel Bohman and Mrs. Albie Frizzell.

Joining some 40 guests were Mrs. Lon Brown of Goring Street, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Barrett of Fort Huron, grandmother of future bridegroom Richard Hovis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hovis of Dwight Avenue.

At a dinner meeting Monday in Waldron Hotel, the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac completed plans for a benefit sale Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Four Towns Church, Cooley Lake Road. Mrs. Kenneth R. Wright is general chairman.

The club will sponsor a booth at the International Bazaar April 24 in Elks Temple.

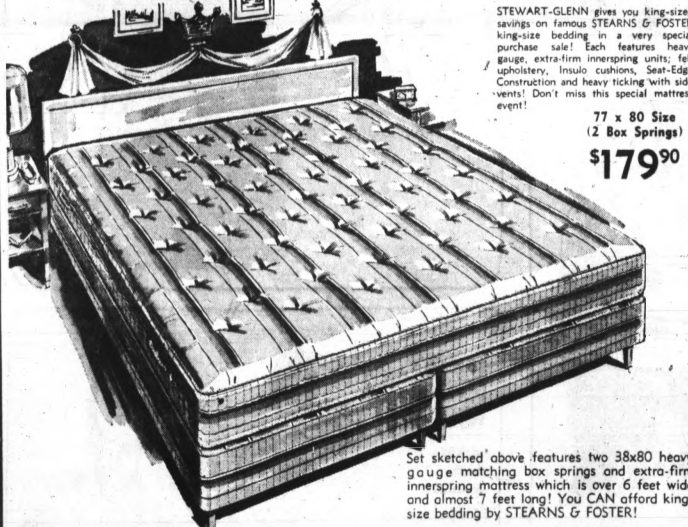

Mrs. Frances Coons, president, will attend the Midwestern region spring conference April 26-28, in Hotel Hilton Plaza, Cincinnati. Talmor Sorola and Mrs. Wright are delegates.

Mrs. Wright and Miss Sorola will visit Pontiac State Hospital patients at the April social evening.

Soroptimist clubs have been chartered in Walkiki and Gold Beach, Ore.

Want a bouquet of colorful flowers to make the house seem more spring-like? Create them from a few house-hold materials and your own skills. Even the children can help.

Make Flowers to Brighten Indoors

Why not bring spring to your family right now with a floral arrangement that's second only to Mother Nature's variety?

You need no green thumb of a gardener, no professional skill of a florist, to make these flowers — just your own natural creative skills plus a few household materials: some freezer paper, a vegetable grater, scissors, pipe cleaners, your iron and the children's crayons.

The children themselves can help with their iron (one that works), a flat wooden stick instead of the grater, and blunt-ended scissors.

Later, when it comes to the container for the flowers, leave that vase up on the shelf and gather these materials instead: a plastic refrigerator container, transparent tape, crayons again, and either a frog or a piece of clay to hold the flowers in place.

First, put an old towel down on the table for protection. Lay a piece of freezer paper on the towel, waxy side up.

Select crayons the color of flowers. Or you may want to use colors that coordinate with others in the room where you plan to put your spring bouquet.

REMOVE LABELS

Remove the labels from the crayons. With the grater, shave the side of one crayon onto about a 6-inch area of the paper. Sprinkle shavings from another crayon the same way onto another 6-inch area of the paper, leaving a little distance between shavings. Repeat for each crayon.

Now cover the entire piece of freezer paper — shavings and all — with another piece of freezer paper, waxy side down. Press lightly with a warm iron. (A soft cloth dampened with hot water will quickly remove any wax later.)

This melts the crayon and fuses the two pieces of freezer paper together, producing one piece with an exciting blend of color.

Using jar lids as guides, trace circles on the ironed freezer paper. Cut them out.

and cut curved wedges from the outside toward the center of each one, for petals.

Stick a pipe cleaner through all the centers, and a flower with layers of petals is in full bloom!

You can make an endless variety of flowers this way, changing the size of circle, the number of wedges, layers of petals, and, of course, combining different colors.

You can use the scraps from the wedges you cut out, too. And don't forget leaves — in different sizes, shapes, and shades of green.

Decorating the container is easy, too. Just wrap a strip of transparent tape around all four sides. It gives a frosted look and takes crayon beautifully. With the design you crayon on the tape, and the colors you use, you can coordinate the container to your flowers so you have a complete unit.

Put the frog or piece of clay in the container and stick the pipe cleaner stems into it. You'll find these flowers easier to arrange than real ones, because pipe cleaners will bend in any direction.

Associated Interest

Memory Starts Emotion

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 0-493: Howard H., aged 42, is a piano salesman.

DR. CRANE

"And selling pianos is no easy job, for most homes nowadays are so small, they hardly have room for even our compact models."

"But it is usually the mothers who show the most interest, for they feel that their children should learn how to play the piano, as a cultural asset."

"And I really have learned much greater respect for mothers. It isn't just because they are my prospects, either, but I never realized before how widespread is this hunger of mothers to push their children a notch higher in cultural matters."

"Why, mothers who really had to do washings for a living have insisted on buying a piano for their daughter!"

"Several times I have tried to back out of a deal just because I felt that buying a piano was too great a hardship on some of these sacrificing mothers, but they insisted on going through with the deal."

CHANGED OUTLOOK

"So I have changed my outlook, for now I am no longer selling just a beautiful musical instrument to adorn the living room of a home."

"No; I now realize that many mothers save to purchase a piano primarily to make Mary a lady."

"Those mothers feel that skill at the piano is an essential part of a woman's charm. So a piano indirectly boosts their daughter's prospects as 'date bait.'"

"While I'm not much of a pianist, I always demonstrate my pianos by sitting down and playing a few numbers."

"The majority of my prospects are church-goers, too, so I have made it a rule to play church hymns in my demonstration."

For immaculate toilet bowls!

use SNO BOL

The modern liquid bowl cleaner

CLEANS BETTER BECAUSE IT'S LIQUID!

"And ever since I have used church music as my demonstration repertoire, sales have increased remarkably."

"Dr. Crane, how do you explain this effect?"

SALES SECRETS

Our liking for anything is largely a matter of how many pleasant emotional memories are revived.

Thus, the main reason why children prefer hot dogs is simply the fact that hot dogs have been associated, with picnics, romping in the park, freedom from city apartment restrictions, play with daddy, etc.

So when a boy bites into a hot dog, he doesn't realize it but his teeth are setting off a chain of pleasant memories that are suffusing his entire personality.

The boy then thinks the hot dog tastes good. Actually, it tastes the same as the first one he ever sampled, but that first one was probably an indifferent, almost neutral taste quality.

And so it is with music. We find that melodies linked with happy and uplifting moods of the past, now suffuse us with similar feelings.

So we then "project" our delight upon all involved, including the piano as well as the salesman!

DEAR POLLY — I have an Easter idea I would like to pass on. I save all sizes of cans that ham comes in for making egg-shaped cakes, gelatin salads and breads for Easter parties. I open the cans with a mechanical can opener so the edges will be smooth. — MRS. R. L. K.

DEAR POLLY — My "production line" for school lunches save many steps. My husband takes his lunch to work and I have four children who take theirs to school. In my bread box, I keep bread, mustard, cookies and candy, as well as a week's supply of lunch bags and waxed paper sandwich bags. Tax Cut Hair Style

To help swell a grass roots movement for the tax cut, one hair products firm has come out with the "tax cut" coiffure.

The tax cut itself is indicative of the good times to follow. According to the company's research, it means more free money and more free money nurtures more elegant, intricate hair styles.

The new haircut allows women to wear more feminine, highly sculptured coiffures without use of false hair pieces. The cut itself — like the income tax — is based on angles.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice,

"There must be an easy way to get the hem even on a full length skirt, but I haven't thought of it. Please help me if you know the answers."

Dear Mrs. T.M.B.: I can only tell you what I have done in the past with my two daughters. Have them stand at the top of the stairs, place the hem-marker or yard stick one step lower.

You also can sit on the steps while marking the hem and I think you'll agree this is the quickest as well as the easiest way you'll ever find to mark hemlines. Incidentally, this works just as well for short skirts.

"Dear Eunice, "As I look at the new creation I've just completed, I'm almost tempted to ask me, 'Did you really make that?' I can hardly believe it myself. Just an envelope of paper pieces and a few yards of material (and of course, a few anguished moments) and I have an expensive-looking dress.

"I have some beautiful diagonal weave fabric to make a spring suit. Before I cut it out, please settle a difference of opinion with my friends and me. Is it possible to have a chevron, or 'V' effect at the center front and center back?"

Dear Mrs. E. N.: Thanks for your bubbling enthusiasm and every word of it is true. As to fabrics with a diagonal weave, the diagonal lines will run in the same direction. (Usually from the left shoulder to the right hem. Be sure to check your pattern before cutting this type of fabric because they will tell you when it is or is not suitable for that type of pattern.

The only time stripes will form a "V" at the center front and back is when the fabric is striped on the lengthwise grain and the pieces that are to form the "V" are cut on the bias.

"Dear Eunice, "Do all coats and suits require an interfacing, and, if so, what is the best way to cut the interfacing?"

Dear Mrs. R. F.: Unless your entire garment is underlined for extra body, it is important to use interfacing for the collar and the fronts of your garment. Use a woven type interfacing. Choosing the weight that would be suitable for the style of the garment as well as the fabric you are using.

If you are using a loosely woven fabric, you will use a muslin or similar type fabric for underlining part of the back. Check the sketches for exact information.

EASY TO CHANGE
"If you are spoiled by dresses with long back neckline openings here's a great idea for sleeveless dresses. Instead of the usual dress placket, use a long neckline slide fastener and place the open end of the underarm of your dress. The dress will be a joy to take on and off. (Be sure to place a hook and eye at the finished edge of the dress to make the fastener lie smooth at the top.)"

Mrs. N. Ange, Sherrill, N.Y., has been awarded a Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

Sharps and Between — These are the names of two types of needles for hand sewing. Both types have a small eye. However, the "Between" are very short in length and are preferred for tailoring.

"Dear Eunice,

"When I make a dress that has a casing at the waistline with elastic inserted, it always pulls too tight when I stretch my arms. What am I doing wrong?"

Dear Mrs. S. M. M.: The correct way to determine just where the casing should appear on your dress is to tie a string tightly around the waistline of your dress. Now, move your arms up and down several times to see just how much ease you will require for comfort.

Next, mark just slightly below the string and this will be the actual waistline. Your casing would be centered over this mark.

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY:

Emery: A fine powdered substance used in the part of your pin cushion where you keep the needles. It helps keep the needles sharp, however, it will collect moisture and cause the needles to rust if kept in too long.

With the new importance of sleeves in the new spring fashions, perhaps you will need to brush up on instructions for an easy, never-fail method of shaping and setting in sleeves. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents for your copy of "All About Sleeves." Send your request to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Good Spending Best Wedding Present

BY MARY FEELEY

One of the most valuable wedding presents a young couple can give each other is a promise to manage money as well as spend it.

From the bride, it's better than a dowry. From the husband, it's protection and security. And if any of those things have ever blighted romance, I have yet to hear of it!

I welcome letters that come in from young people — some newly married, some still counting the days — asking for advice in setting up a sound spending plan.

A young husband of six months once remarked, "I knew about the big expenses, but I didn't know there were so many little ones!" It's those little ones that rock the boat unless they, too, are planned for.

Often a young couple starting out with two salaries is looking toward the day when they will have to manage on just one. Her income will go by the board when they start a family.

This advance planning makes sense. Here, for example, is a letter from a bride-to-be who wants to go into marriage equipped with spending plans both for their combined incomes and his income alone.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am planning to be married in a few months and we are trying to work out a budget. If I return to work when we get married, our take home pay would be $648 a month, plus some weekly bonuses he receives.

And we figured out how much we thought it would cost us to live each month, at the minimum—$528 a month. Do you think it will work?

Rent, $100; food, $90 (I'm an extravagant cook); clothing, $30; household operating costs, $20; car, $20; insurance, $10 (no life insurance); medical costs, $15; recreation, $25; transportation, $40; savings, $100.

The balance of $70 takes care of personal allowance, books, miscellaneous. But the real problem lies in how we can manage if I'm not going back to work (we want children as soon as possible), and the take-home pay is only $368 plus bonuses? We'd appreciate any help you can give us.

N. S. Dellon, Ill.

Dear N. S.: That budget you've set up on your combined salaries ought to serve as a starter. But you'll find yourselves making changes.

For instance, your husband should certainly carry life insurance. Your car operating allowance seems low—but perhaps the transportation costs you estimate explain that. I hope you can hang onto that $100 savings, as you purchase necessities for your home on the balance of your incomes.

As for budget number two, figuring on a single income, it's bound to be tight squeeze on $368 a month. Your husband's weekly bonuses may well have to be used for necessities, as you make the adjustment from a monthly income of $648 to $368. Here's how it might work:

Rent, $100; food, $82; clothing, $30; household operating costs, $20; savings, including life insurance, $20; personal allowance, including transportation, $40; medical costs, $15; car operation costs, including insurance, $25. The balance of $36 would be allocated to recreation, church, gifts, books and miscellaneous items.

You sound like a smart person who will take full advantage of the income from two salaries, knowing the challenge awaiting you on a single income.

However, by the time you need budget number two, your husband's income may have increased just enough to make the going easier. If not, you may have to decide between lower rent—not so easy to find—or giving up the car.

For a budget suggestion leaflet, write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press, sending stamped, self-addressed long envelope.

Born for the blazer, this white cotton gauntlet has bound edges and fastens with double snaps in the manner of the '30s. By Hansen, it also comes in black or beige.

Claims U.S. Not Far Ahead

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of three dispatches on the Soviet economy.

By JOSEPH D. HUTNYAN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — When Premier Khrushchev talks about the Soviet and U.S. economies, he sounds like he is describing a tight race between two sleek sports cars.

Western experts on the Russian system say this analogy is off base because it gives the Soviets a higher rating than the facts suggest.

This does not mean that the Soviet economy is a tin lizzie alongside our own.

The Russians are making great strides in heavy industrial production, a prime source of economic power. This is a stark bit of cold war reality that the United States must face.

PART OF PICTURE
But it still doesn't cancel out the fact that this is only part of the total picture. It does not, for instance, include agriculture and consumer production where the United States is way ahead.

The feeling among U.S. experts on Russia is that Khrushchev may have had something worth bragging about when he got up in the Kremlin recently to preach about his economic achievements.

But once up, he got carried away. He may have started speaking for the record, but he ended by playing for the grandstand.

It is the way U.S. authorities on the Russian economy in and out of government assessed the Khrushchev boasts.

Claim: the Soviet economy grew at an annual 9.2 per cent rate the past 10 years while U.S. yearly growth was 2.7 per cent.

DIFFERENT YARDSTICKS
Khrushchev was measuring the U.S. and Soviet growth with two different yardsticks. And the difference favors Russia.

For instance, the Soviet concept does not include all services such as health, education and government which are supposed to make up about 20 per cent of Russia's economic activity.

In services, the United States is growing about 10 per cent faster than the U.S.S.R. If this figure had been included, the gap would have been narrowed.

The consensus here among experts on Russia is that the U.S.S.R. grew twice as fast as the United States during this period, but not three times as Khrushchev says.

CLAIM: Soviet industrial production is now 63 per cent of the United States, compared to only 47 per cent five years ago.

TRICKY INDEX
Again, it is a case of comparing apples and peaches. The Soviets compute this figure using what is known as the gross output index. This kind of calculation results in many items of production getting counted more than once.

Consider coal. Under the Russian system, the value is counted at the mine, again when it becomes part of steel, and once more when that steel goes into an automobile.

Wool cloth also is recorded at least twice — first when it is made at the mill, and again as part of the value of a suit.

Under the U.S. system, each industrial ingredient is counted once, and its value is deducted from any product of which it becomes a part as it goes through the industrial process.

Another factor apparently favoring the U.S.S.R. is that the production-reporting system of a planned economy is much more up-to-date than under capitalism.

SPEEDIER REPORTS
Soviet factories get their production reports in speedily. In the case of the United States, many new products do not show up in the statistics for months.

Claim: the U.S.S.R. is "trending on the heels of the U.S." in industrial production.

Khrushchev was saying this strictly for home consumption. The consensus here is that the Soviet claim of equalling 63 per cent of the U.S. industrial production is too high.

The last published official U.S. estimate was made in 1959 by Allen Dulles, then director of the Central Intelligence Agency, who placed Soviet production at 40 per cent of the United States.

Certain Rare Poisoning in Tuna Caused 2 Deaths

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government said yesterday it was convinced that a rare type of food poisoning in a single can of tuna fish killed two Detroit women.

George P. Larrick, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), said "Investigation and laboratory tests justify the conclusion" that the women died from eating tuna fish contaminated with Type E botulinus toxin.

Larrick said housewives should examine any tuna fish purchased from the A & P Co. to determine if it might be of the contaminated type. The can purchased by the Detroit women bore the code number "WY372 118X."

ANOTHER TOXIC CAN
The California health department found that another can of this code was contaminated with the toxin, Larrick said. The can was clearly defective and the contents obviously spoiled, he said.

In New York, A&P announced it planned to resume sales of its own brands of tuna purchased from independent packers other than the West Coast distributor.

Dee and Darin
Are Separated

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Sandra Dee and singer Bobby Darin are separated.

"That's all we know," a spokesman of her studio said Tuesday. "She just called up and said they were separated."

Miss Dee, 20, and Darin, 28, married in December 1960. They have a 15-month-old son, Dodd Mitchell.

8,000 Greek Doctors
End Five-Day Strike

ATHENS (AP) — Eight thousand Greek doctors employed by public agencies ended a five-day nationwide strike Tuesday night without winning any of their demands.

They asked for higher salaries, better insurance benefits and improved working conditions. All are employed by public institutions, insurance funds, civil services and similar organizations.

whose brand is being studied by the FDA.

"The wholesomeness and purity of merchandise furnished by our other tuna suppliers is not now nor has it ever been in question," A&P Executive Vice President Stephen W. Shea said.

Larrick said the FDA has examined 150 additional cans of tuna bearing the same code, but the tuna appeared normal and tests were negative in each case.

However, Larrick said, tuna from any cans bearing this code should not be eaten.

Heavyweight
Still Losing,
but Not Fast

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Mary Ferguson, the heavyweight housewife who wants to lose 50 pounds in two weeks, is getting slimmer, all right. But so are her chances of reaching her original goal.

She said Tuesday night that she had lost 14 pounds and was down to 220 the last time she weighed. Her two-week exile in a hotel room ends Sunday. "I'd like to lose about 28 pounds," she said.

"But weight loss is funny. Sometimes you lose good, but sometimes the body gets a little water in it and you don't lose so well."

Mrs. Ferguson denied earlier reports that she had fainted twice during her fast. "I had some tremendous stomach contractions," she said, "and there were times I was feeling really rotten. But I never fainted."

Store Fresh Meat Properly in Refrigerator or Freezer

CHICAGO — Meat is at its best must be stored in the refrigerator when cooked as soon as possible immediately upon your return after purchase. However, if it is from the store. Store the meat necessary to keep the meat for in the fresh food compartment or several days before cooking, here meat compartment of your refrigerator. Remember from the American Meat Institute. Because meat is perishable, it may be stored in the refrigerator in the original wrapper. Prepackaged fresh meats should have the wrapper loosened before placing in the refrigerator. Fresh meats wrapped in market paper should be unwrapped and covered loosely in the original wrapping, in waxed paper or in aluminum foil to allow circulation of air. Store in the refrigerator. If small cuts must be kept more than two to three days before cooking, it's best to freeze them. Separate chops, steaks and ground meat patties with freezer paper. Wrap meat to be frozen in moisture-vapor-proof paper and store no longer than the periods shown in the following table for best flavor, color, texture and appearance:

Recommended maximum storage time at 0 degrees or lower: Beef 6-8 months; Fresh Pork and Veal 3-4 months; Lamb 6-7 months; Ground Beef 3-4 months; Variety Meats (Liver, Heart, Tongue, etc.) 3-4 months; Cooked Meats not to exceed 60 days; Hams, Picnics and other Cured and Smoked meats not to exceed 60 days; Bacon not recommended for freezing; Bologna, Frankfurters or Wieners not recommended for freezing; Fresh Pork Sausage not recommended for freezing; Canned Hams and Picnic Shoulder not recommended for freezing. Cured and smoked meats and fresh pork sausage deteriorate more rapidly in flavor when frozen.

These tips are taken from the Institute's booklet, "Ideas With Meat," which contains other basic meat information. The 48-page book is available for 15 cents from the American Meat Institute, 50 East Van Buren Street, Chicago.

Meats not to exceed 60 days; Hams, Picnics and other Cured and Smoked meats not to exceed 60 days; Bacon not recommended for freezing; Bologna, Frankfurters or Wieners not recommended for freezing; Fresh Pork Sausage not recommended for freezing; Canned Hams and Picnic Shoulder not recommended for freezing. Door-to-Door Philanthropy

Charity Begins at Home Where Soft Touches Are

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals today is the fact that charity begins at home.

You used to be able to mail your philanthropy. Now it knocks at your front door and invites itself in.

Nobody argues about the duty of being his brother's keeper. The question is how many brothers—admitting we're all brothers—a fellow can figuratively keep while still actually supporting his wife, his children, his mother-in-law, and his favorite and inescapable uncle—good old Sam.

IN OLD DAYS

In the old days when you answered a knock on your front door you knew you were going to meet a friend, a brush salesman, a guy collecting your laundry or delivering groceries, or somebody working his way through college selling magazine subscriptions.

How simple and primitive life was then!

All is changed now.

Whoever knocks at your portal now, he be friend or foe, is a self-designated benefactor of mankind which he is trying to improve at your expense.

Everybody you open a door to has a disease to fight or a cause to collect for.

EVEN TV REPAIRMEN

The man you admit to repair your television set suddenly asks, "You're not in favor of burrisis are you?"

"Of course not," you reply. "Well," he says, whipping out half a pound of pamphlets, "I'm your friendly neighborhood collector for the Amalgamated League against Burrisis. How much will you give to rid the world of this evil?"

"Put me down for a buck," you answer weakly, fishing through your pockets for tomorrow's lunch money.

Life has unwillingly made me a "buck against" man. Whoever crosses my meal with a message that he is against something finds in me a man who will give him a dollar to be against it too.

WHAT AM I FOR?

I have spent so many dollars being against things that I sometimes wonder what I am for.

I found out the other day.

A knock summoned me to the door. Opening it, I automatically reached into my pocket.

There stood a young girl and a young boy.

"What are you against?" I asked suspiciously.

"Nothing, sir," the girl said.

"Are you lost?"

"No sir."

"Well, what can I do for you?"

"What is your favorite flavor?" asked the girl.

"Mint."

"Shall I put you down for a box, sir?"

"A box of what?"

"A box of Girl Scout cookies."

"I suppose they're a dollar."

"No, sir. They are 45 cents."

Well, I put out my buck and

China Hacks at Russ Chains

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—Red China is looking beyond the Red bloc for economic supplies, apparently to free herself from dependence on Soviet Russia.

This intention has been spotlighted by the current visit to Britain of Red China's vice minister of foreign trade, Lu Hsiang-chang, who is touring British industries in search of machinery, chemicals and even planes.

This is a considerable change from the days when Russia sent generous supplies to her Communist ally as well as thousands of experts to build factories and advise Peking on a variety of industrial problems.

Russian supplies have dried up in the wake of the ideological conflict between the two Communist giants and the experts have been withdrawn or have been told to go.

Coupled with bad harvests and ill-fated economic experiments in China, the Russian aid-freeze has virtually paralyzed a sizable number of major industrial development projects, according to reliable information reaching here.

SWALLOWED PRIDE

The reorientation thus enforced on Peking's ambitious leap-forward planners also extends to all appearances to the field of external trade.

Peking swallowed its pride when it had to look to the West—Canada and Australia—for wheat supplies in the past year or two to ease the country's famine conditions.

Now that the harvest has improved Red China's leadership is looking round for industrial supplies, again outside the Red bloc, thus indicating they don't expect much help from Russia for some time to come.

But, their prospects are limited by two major factors: first, they have little to offer in exchange and are ostensibly short of foreign currency to pay for coveted supplies from the West.

Furthermore, the range of goods which they can buy in the West is also limited, by the security embargo which prevents NATO Allies from exporting strategic materials, behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

But within these limits Peking is scanning western markets with an eye to immediate needs and, apparently, also to the more distant future.

Experts in London believe the current Chinese soundings in Britain are in themselves a tell-tale indication that Peking does not expect Sino-Soviet relations to return to what they used to be.

Nor apparently does Peking want to revert to total dependence on Russia and face the risks which such policy involves.

Party Head's Wife Gets to Meeting Hard Way

CHELSEHAM, England (UPI)—Mrs. Jo Grimond, wife of the Liberal party leader, arrived at a women's political meeting yesterday in a 16-ton cement truck.

"I had to thumb four vehicles before anyone would stop," she said in explaining the unorthodox transportation caused by her car's breakdown.

FOUR CAN EAT THEIR FILL FOR JUST A DOLLAR BILL!

This dollar dinner is a man-size meal for four! It's packed with protein, because it's made with Fairmont Cottage Cheese—the cottage cheese with DELICATE, NATURAL FLAVOR.

NOODLES 'N' CHEESE CONTINENTAL

- 4 oz. egg noodles
- 1 qt. boiling water
- 2 cups Fairmont Cottage Cheese
- 1/2 cup Fairmont Homogenized Milk
- 2 tbsp. onion, finely chopped
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 tsp. garlic salt
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- Dash Tabasco sauce
- 1/2 cup grated American Cheese
- 1/2 cup cracker crumbs
- Paprika

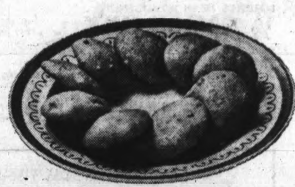

Cook noodles in boiling water until tender (about 7 minutes). Drain and rinse in hot water. Combine Fairmont Cottage Cheese, milk, onion, Worcestershire sauce, garlic salt, salt, pepper, and dash of Tabasco. Mix well and add to noodles. Put into a greased casserole. Top with grated cheese and cracker crumbs. Sprinkle with paprika. Cover casserole and bake in a moderate oven at 350° F. for 30 to 40 minutes. Remove cover for last 10 minutes of baking to brown top. Makes 4 large servings. Ingredients cost approximately 50c.

CREAMY COLESLAW

- 2 1/2 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 1/2 cups Fairmont Cottage Cheese
- 1 tbsp. minced onion
- 1/4 cup salad dressing
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. caraway seed (optional)
- Dash pepper
- Dash Tabasco sauce

Rinse cabbage in cold water. Drain well. Combine Fairmont Cottage Cheese, onion, salad dressing, salt, caraway seed, pepper and Tabasco sauce. Mix well and add to cabbage. Toss until well distributed. Chill. Makes 4 large servings. Ingredients cost approximately 35c.

CHEESE 'N' SPICE COOKIES

- 1/4 cup Fairmont Butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. vanilla flavor
- 1/4 cup Fairmont Cottage Cheese
- 1 1/4 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/2 cup finely chopped light seedless raisins

Cream Fairmont Butter and sugar until smooth. Add egg and vanilla flavoring and beat until light and fluffy. Blend in Fairmont Cottage Cheese thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Add to creamed mixture, stirring only until well-blended. Fold in chopped raisins. Drop by heaping spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350° F. for 12-15 minutes. Makes approximately 2 dozen cookies. If stored for 3-4 days, keep well covered. Ingredients cost approximately 17c per dozen.

Teachers Contribute Recipes

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Two thousand recipes for desserts — that's a lot of sweet talk. It's all wrapped up in a new cookbook called "Favorite Recipes of Home Economics Teachers — Desserts Edition." (Favorite Recipes Press, Inc., Box 2015, Montgomery, Ala. $3.45)

As the title says, all the recipes were contributed by home economics teachers as "favorite recipes."

You will find all your favorite desserts listed with variations on most of them. You'll find desserts you never heard of before.

You'll grow hungry reading the book and fat if you test everything you make from it. But what fun!

We found five area home economics teachers represented by recipes and are giving you a couple of their favorite desserts. Mrs. Mary E. Burt, West Bloomfield High School, has her name under a cookie recipe.

YUM YUMS

1 cup flour
1/2 cup margarine
2 eggs, beaten

1 cup brown sugar
1 package grated coconut
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
dash of salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder grated rind 1 lemon
confectioners sugar to make spreading consistency

Out shortening into flour as for pie crust. Pat into 11 x 7 pan and bake 10 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove from oven and cool slightly.

Combine next 8 ingredients and spread over lightly cooled dough carefully. Bake 20-25 minutes more, or until browned.

Mix together last 2 ingredients and frost cooled cookies. Cut into 24 squares.

Mrs. Ruth Dolben, Wallied Lake St. High School, is represented with a frosting recipe.

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING

1 egg white
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup warm milk
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat egg white until very stiff. Add sugar slowly. Add milk slowly.

ly. Put aside. Beat remaining ingredients well. Add egg mixture slowly, beating after each addition until well mixed. Will resemble whipped cream when done. Makes enough to frost a 2-layer cake.

Mrs. Mary Jane Colbeck, Farmington, uses canned fruit cocktail in a pie.

FRUIT CREAM PIE

Crust:
12 graham crackers (1 1/4 cups)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
Crush graham crackers; add sugar and melted butter. Press firmly into 8-inch pie pan.

Filling:
2 cups dairy sour cream
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cups fruit cocktail, well drained

Combine sour cream, sugar and vanilla. Fold in well drained fruit cocktail. Pour into unbaked crust (some of crust mixture may be used to border top).

Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or until set. Chill thoroughly. Makes 6 servings.

STUFFED FLANK—The meat is beef — a flank steak rolled around a flavorful stuffing made with saltines. Baked until it's work tender, this dish is sure to become a favorite at your house. Canned beef gravy is a quickie.

Date Topping for Biscuits Is Partified

Almost any meal will be enhanced by "Dateade Biscuits" — hot bread topped with a delicious mixture of sliced fresh California dates and orange marmalade. They are ideal with morning coffee or with luncheon party salads.

This time of year when appetites of young and old alike are a bit on the hearty side, it's a good idea to keep a supply of fresh California dates on hand for between-meal nibbling. The fruit is a natural sweet and its natural sugar is rapidly converted into food energy.

Dateade Biscuits

1/2 cup fresh dates
1/2 cup orange marmalade
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Slice dates; combine with marmalade. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until mixture resembles small peas. Stir in milk with fork, adding in 2 portions, until mixture is well moistened. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently 10 or 15 times.

Roll out 1/2 inch thick and cut with 2 1/2-inch biscuit cutter. Make indentation in top of each biscuit with teaspoon. Put in a dab of butter and a spoonful of date mixture. Bake on greased cookie sheet in 425-degree (hot) oven 10 to 12 minutes.

Makes 2 dozen biscuits.

Kidney Recipe

Flavorful, tender beef kidneys are more difficult than steak to prepare, but the eating satisfaction is well worth the effort. For a delectable dish, mix cooked chopped beef kidneys, sour cream and canned mushrooms. Cook slowly until heated through.

Split Flank Steak and Stuff With Tasty Cracker Dressing

Elegantly special, but budget priced, is "Stuffed Flank Steak." You serve 8 to 9 people amply with only 2 pounds of meat! The real budget extender is the stuffing — crisp saltine crackers, crushed and mixed with tasty seasonings. It's deliciously different, easy to prepare, and looks so pretty on the serving platter. Make it in the morning or the day before and refrigerate 'til baking time. Here is the easy recipe:

"Stuffed Flank Steak"

2 cups coarsely crushed saltine crackers (18 doubles)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon catsup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 egg, beaten
1 flank steak, about 2 pounds

Crush crackers into coarse crumbs, between waxed paper, with rolling pin; set aside. Melt butter over moderate heat; add onions and saute until transparent; remove from heat. Blend mustard, catsup, Worcestershire sauce and egg together; mix well with onions and stir into cracker crumbs; set aside.

Place flank steak on cutting board and split lengthwise, with grain, almost in two; open and flatten uncut edge. (Piece is now half as thick and twice as wide.) Spread cracker mixture over meat, leaving about 1 inch on each end and far side uncovered. Roll, from side, as for jelly roll, folding ends to hold filling. Pin with small skewers or tie with string.

Place in shallow-baking pan on rack. Roast in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 1 1/2 hours, or until done. Let stand about 10 to 15 minutes before cutting. Remove skewers or string; cut into 1/4 or 3/4 inch slices across grain. Serve with canned beef and mushroom gravy or tomato sauce, if desired. Yield: 8 to 9 servings.

Easy Pear Dessert Is Full of Flavor

This menu is definitely good enough for company!

Pear Honey

6 canned pear halves
1/2 cup syrup from pears
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons honey
Freshly grated nutmeg

Arrange pear halves, cavity side up, in a pie plate or other shallow dish into which they just fit; add the syrup and lemon rind. Put 1 teaspoon of the honey in each pear cavity.

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Serve hot with vanilla ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

He Angles for Trip to Alaska

LANSING (UPI) — Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, R-Scottville, an accomplished fisherman, is angling for a trip to Alaska for himself and Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City.

Stephens has offered a resolution to the Senate asking that the legislature set up an interim study committee to "explore the trout streams of Alaska."

The senator said in his resolution the purpose of the study was to discover "what each state offers in the way of inducements to lure hunters and fishermen to their states."

The knowledge was vital, Stephens said, because "there is intense competition among the several states of the United States for the hunters and fishermen's business."

To make sure the committee would be made up of the proper people Stephens' resolution "resolved that the committee shall consist of the introducer of this resolution and the chairman of the House ways and means committee," who is Engstrom.

By way of financing Stephens recommended the "committee" be provided with $2,000 from the "appropriation to the House of Representatives (why else the chairman of the ways and means committee of the House as a member of the committee?)"

SMOTC Hopes for 200 Dogs

The Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club has set a goal of 200 dogs for its annual match April 21 at the CAI building in Waterford.

There will be seven classes in the unlicensed obedience match. Last year was the first time SMOTC used the CAI building. A record 127 entries attended the show.

Judging the graduate novice, brace and open B will be Mrs. Karl Greimel. Mrs. Charles Wheaton will select the most obedient in novice A.

Ray Chiasson will judge utility, open A and novice B. The ring steward will be Grace Williams.

Butterfingers Grasp Volleyball Crown

The Butterfingers defeated Lotus Lake Blues 15-2, 15-4 last night to win the Waterford recreation overall volleyball championship.

Lotus Lake had won the second half title after beating Butterfingers in a playoff. The Butterfingers copped the first half crown by dumping Blues in an extra match.

Conservation Department Study Group Named

Romney Lists Five Objectives for Committee

East, Scholle Among 21 Members to Probe Agency's Functions

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney yesterday announced the appointment of a 21-member governor's special conservation committee to conduct a thorough study into the state's conservation and recreation program.

Ben East of Holly, field editor for Outdoor Life magazine, is a member of the committee. So is August Scholle of Royal Oak, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO.

Named to head the committee was Robert McLaughlin, vice-president of McLouth Steel Corp., a former deputy director of the department of conservation.

Romney outlined a five-point study effort to be undertaken by the committee but added that it will have a free hand in selecting other areas for study and review.

He described the committee's assignment as an objective attempt to review and evaluate Michigan's total conservation program.

The committee immediately will be charged with:

—Review and evaluation of the Department of Conservation, its recruitment, training and morale.

—Studying the necessity for existing scientific research projects and methods.

—Examination of the Conservation Department's public relations and information and education division.

—Evaluation of the pace and effectiveness of the parks acquisition and recreation development program.

Study of the possible need for simplifying and codifying conservation laws and regulations.

OTHER MEMBERS

Members of the committee, in addition to McLaughlin, include Carl Saunders, retired editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot; J. Russell Bouws, Holland; Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Dr. Archibald Cowan, Wildlife Management Institute of University of Michigan; James McKenna, Grand Rapids Press outdoor writer; Circuit Judge Louis McGregor, Flint; Dan Reed, Michigan Farm Bureau; Lansing; George Griffiths, former conservation commissioner, Grayling.

George Baker, vice president, Wyandotte Chemical Corporation; Mrs. Katherine Cushman; Dearborn; Abbott Fox, Iron Mountain; Jack Green, Michigan Petroleum Industries, and former Lansing correspondent of the Associated Press; Dr. Paul Herbert, chief of the research department, department of economic development.

Forrest Smith, secretary manager of Michigan Agricultural Conference; Dr. Christopher Sower, professor of sociology and anthropology, Michigan State University; Paul Weber, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Press secretary to former Gov. Mennen Williams;

Paul Wendler Sr., Saginaw Steering Gear division, General Motors, and immediate past president of Michigan United Conservation Clubs; Dr. Casey Westell Jr., Filer City.

SIGN OF SPRING—The smelt will be running again soon and this scene will be repeated on hundreds of streams flowing into the Great Lakes. First runs are expected early in April, depending on water temperatures. Heaviest concentration of dippers annually is from the top of the Thumb to Alpena.

Grass Fires Pose Problem for Firemen

Suburban and rural firefighters, conservation department workers and insurance adjusters are keeping their fingers crossed.

It's the season for grass fires. Firemen and conservation workers are called on to fight the fires. The insurance experts hope that no property damage claims result from the frequent fires.

Most of the fires are started by careless burning of rubbish," said conservation officer Warren Kendall of Rochester.

Conservation department men and equipment are called into action whenever state land is hit by flames.

The diagram is the incinerator recommended for home use by the Conservation Department. It is a 55-gallon drum with holes drilled in the sides and lid six inches apart.

Smelt Dipping Nears

STANDISH (AP) — The smelt-dippers will be heading soon for the Singing bridge, carrying dipnets and small wash tubs. The warm weather over the past weekend was a reminder that the smelt runs should be starting within a week or so—one of the sure signs of spring.

The smelt runs have become semi-carnival events in Michigan in recent years. More orthodox fishermen sometimes look down their noses at the dippers—but the enthusiasts consider it a high point of each spring.

You can't catch the silvery little fish with hook and line and bait during the runs. The fish are so intent on their mad rush upstream to spawn.

The fish push upstream from the Great Lakes only when the water becomes just warm enough for their liking—generally around 45 degrees.

The Singing bridge north of Standish has become one of the most popular and crowded dipping spots in the state. The bridge off Saginaw Bay, over the Whitney Drain, is easily accessible since it is on U.S. 23. The water is shallow and the bottom sandy so it is no trick to wade in after the fish.

The heaviest point of the run generally comes between midnight and 3 a.m. Lights frighten the smelt away. So in the dark hours of the night there is much floundering around in the stream punctuated by an occasional louder than usual splash as someone slips and suffers a soaking.

SECLUDED STREAMS

The more knowledgeable dippers avoid the mobbed locations and seek out their own favorite small streams.

The runs start first in the southern part of the state, sometimes as early as the first week in April. Smelt are taken from streams running into both lakes Michigan and Huron. The fish only limitation is that the dip net can't be more than five feet in circumference.

The peak of the action in the Saginaw Bay area is generally around April 20. The smelt will still be running in northern Lower Peninsula and Upper Peninsula streams as late as May 1.

Anyone with a Michigan fishing license can dip smelt. The tasty little fish average between six and 10 inches long. The sport appeals to those who fish for food since there is no limit as to how many can be taken.

With the thought that they would provide food for landlocked salmon and lake trout.

The smelt spread to the Great Lakes and prospered and multiplied. The first heavy smelt runs came in the early 1930's when the fish were welcomed as an addition to the sparse diet of the depression years.

Johnson Is Confirmed for Commission Post

LANSING (UPI) — The State Senate confirmed 32-4 today Gov. George Romney's nomination of former Cadillac mayor Carl T. Johnson to the State Conservation Commission.

Johnson will fill the seat that has been vacant since last year when the State Senate refused to confirm the appointment of state AFL-CIO president August Scholle, which was made by then Gov. John B. Swainson.

Commission Rejects Selected by Romney

By DON VOGEL
Republican senators in Lansing must be looking a little embarrassed today.

Their Democratic counterpart are probably chuckling among themselves.

Two men from Oakland County Ben East of Holly and Royal Oak's Gus Scholle—are the cause of the frowns and grins. Gov. Romney, a Republican, triggered the reactions.

The governor included East, a noted outdoor writer, and Scholle, president of the state AFL-CIO, on his 21-member special committee to study the Conservation Department.

About the middle of his 12-year tenure in the governor's chair, G. Mennen Williams appointed East to serve on the Conservation Commission. There was much applause from conservation circles around the state.

The cheers changed to howls of anguish after the shock had worn off — when the Republican controlled State Senate refused to approve East's nomination. SLAP AT SOAPY

Regardless of the excuses given at the time, it boiled down to a GOP slap at Democrat Williams. Outdoor Life Magazine, East's employer had some caustic remarks among the Senate's action in its next nationally distributed edition.

Scholle was appointed to the commission by Democratic Gov. Swainson to fill a vacancy. He sat with the commission pending approval of his appointment by the Republican Senate.

Scholle is definitely anti-GOP and makes no bones about it. The union leader knew, and so did those who keep up with politics, that the Senate would never approve his appointment. It didn't and Gus joined East on the conservation sidelines.

However, during his short-lived stay on the commission, Scholle impressed many people—some of them Republicans—with his grasp of Conservation Department problems and policies.

They felt he was doing a good job on the commission when given the axe by his numerous GOP foes in the Senate.

East and Scholle are now going to investigate the department the Senate didn't want them to help run.

Amendment Approved

Senator Moves on College Bill

LANSING — Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, moved swiftly yesterday to overcome Monday's setback in Oakland County's efforts to establish a community college system.

Roberts succeeded in getting Senate approval for an amendment to a community college bill other than the one killed by the Senate Monday night.

The amendment restored the key provision of the rejected bill, a provision enabling the county to hold a countywide election on establishment of a community college district without including Clarencville School District.

The bill killed by the Senate by sending it back to committee was Roberts' own. It received strong opposition because it would have allowed existing county school boards to operate a community college system.

FASTER OPERATION

Roberts said he had included the provision because the Oakland County Board of Education could get junior colleges in operation two years sooner than would be possible if a new board were required.

The opposition came from areas where community colleges now exist under separate boards.

Roberts said today, however, that the new amendment would permit the county to proceed almost as rapidly.

Although a separate board would be required to operate the community colleges, the existing county school board could take the initial steps in the planning and establishment.

Roberts also said his amendment would permit an election before November 1964 which he said would not be possible under existing law.

The provisions included in Roberts' amendment are expected to be passed along with the bill to which they were attached without difficulty, Roberts indicated.

The county's plans were a stylized last year by a state attorney general's opinion based on existing law that Clarencville could neither be included nor excluded.

It could not be left out, according to the opinion, because part of it lies in Oakland County, although most of it is in Wayne County.

But neither could it be included because it already was part of the Northwest Wayne County Community College District.

Retired Men Not Retired From Work

LINDEN, N. J. (AP) — Members of the Retired Men's Club may be retired from their former jobs, but they certainly haven't retired from work.

Refurbishing used toys to give needy children at Christmas is only one of the many volunteer projects of the group. They do the distributing job themselves, attired in Santa Claus costumes.

Members collected two bushel baskets of discarded eyeglasses and jewelry for the New Eyes for the Needy Foundation.

During the summer, they visit playgrounds and entertain children at story-telling sessions.

In addition, the senior citizens participate in parades, serve on community committees and register high school students at teenage dances.

Burglar Draws Prison Term

A 22-year-old Waterford Township man who pleaded guilty to burglary of the Waterford Hotel was sentenced to 2 to 15 years in Jackson prison yesterday.

Michael D. Brown of 6002 Terrell St. was sentenced by Circuit Judge William J. Beer in Oakland County Circuit Court. Brown pleaded guilty March 11 to nighttime burglary.

He was accused of taking liquor, cigarettes, a portable radio and $3.50 in change from the hotel at 3603 Dixie Highway on March 5.

Brown was arrested by Waterford Township police officer Ray Wilhelm after Wilhelm noticed Brown's car moving slowly, without headlights on, near Andersonville and Airport roads shortly after the break-in.

Wilhelm stopped Brown after he saw several empty cigarette cartons tossed out the car window.

JOHN F. REINECK

City Manager Gets Assistant

Retired Army Officer Named to Position

City Manager Robert A. Stierer today announced appointment of John F. Reineck of 10704 Nadine St., Huntington Woods, as administrative assistant.

Reineck, 50, is a retired lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army and formerly was contract manager for Melpar, Inc., a division of Westinghouse Corp., in Falls Church, Va.

His appointment is effective immediately. He will work in the city manager's office.

Reineck was employed by Chrysler Corp. for five years before entering army service in 1938. He served more than 20 years in the army.

He was a combat officer during World War II and was later stationed in Berlin during the airlift, in the Pentagon and in Saigon.

A graduate of the University of Dayton, Reineck was also graduated from several Army and Defense Department schools including the Army Command and Staff College.

"I am sure Mr. Reineck will be very helpful to the city manager's office in handling a number of projects in connection with our capital improvement program and related matters," Stierer said.

Reineck is married and has a son and a daughter. He plans to move to Pontiac in the near future.

City Members Renamed to County Board

Pontiac's four representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors were reappointed to one-year terms by the City Commission last night.

Pontiac supervisors are R. C. Cummings, Robert F. Jackson, Dr. Roy V. Cooley and Michael McAleer.

Cummings is a 25-year veteran on the county board and a member of the county Ways and Means Committee.

Jackson, McAleer and Dr. Cooley will be serving their second term on the board.

3 Reappointed to Plan Group

Kept on Commission by Manager's Action

City Manager Robert A. Stierer has reappointed William J. Winters, Robert C. Irwin and Daniel R. Veazey to three-year terms on the city planning commission.

The City Commission confirmed Stierer's action at last night's meeting. Under the ordinance governing planning commission appointments, the city manager makes the appointments with consent of the City Commission.

Veazey, 18 Illinois St., has been on the planning commission longer than any other present member. He is currently chairman of the planning commission.

Winters, 300 Auburn Ave., was named to the commission last November to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of William W. Fisher.

Winters is district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Credit Co. in Pontiac.

Irwin, 435 W. Iroquois Road, a Pontiac realtor, was named to the commission to fill a vacancy last September.

The terms of all three men were due to expire in May.

Pontiac City Affairs

Out to Put Utilities Underground

An ordinance designed to eventually require that all utilities be placed underground within Pontiac's central business district was introduced at last night's City Commission meeting.

The new ordinance actually amends an existing ordinance which requires underground wires, cables, conduits and water or gas pipes in about two-thirds of the central business district.

If approved, the new ordinance would extend such control of utilities to areas not already covered within the proposed perimeter road.

Most of the area not under such control now lies north of Huron Street and along the west side of the Park Street leg of the perimeter road.

The ordinance specifically orders that "all overhead electrical, telephone and telegraph installations" within the perimeter road right-of-way and on Cass Avenue from the perimeter road to Sanderson Street be removed and placed underground by Jan. 1, 1965.

Inside the perimeter road, all new installations in the future will be placed underground.

Also, the ordinance allows seven years for present above-ground utilities in the central business district to be moved underground.

The proposed ordinance has been drafted with cooperation of local utility companies. It is slated for final adoption at next Tuesday's meeting.

DEFER ACTION

Action on a proposed plat of the Saltsburg-Gear subdivision slated for approval at last night's meeting was deferred one week at the request of Commissioners Winford E. Bottom and Charles H. Harmon.

Harmon suggested that the city should have some guarantee that developers would build sanitary sewers in the subdivision before the plat is approved.

The plat consists of eight lots on the south side of Hollister Street and west side of Emory Street.

The vacant area formerly consisted of several larger lots which were split up in the new plat.

The Commission also deferred approval of an agreement whereby the owners and developers will build sidewalks in the subdivision.

An ordinance to rezone from Residential-1 to R-3 three lots on Glendale Avenue was introduced and slated for a public hearing at the April 15 commission meeting.

The property involved is located from NW to SE Glendale. A developer has proposed building a 50-unit, two-story apartment structure on the site, which is now limited to one-family dwellings under the R-1 zoning.

Also approved last night was a resolution whereby the lease of a commercial hangar lot at Pontiac Municipal Airport was reassigned to new owners.

Leroy C. Robison, owner of the hangar, is selling it to Harry A. Nobel and John M. Podpelsky. Reassignment of the land lease to the new owners requires official action of the City Commission.

WATER MAIN PLANS

In other business, a public hearing was held on plans to build a water main on Clara Avenue. Commissioners ordered the special assessment roll for the project be prepared for approval at a future meeting.

A request from Pontiac attorney William R. Doherty to rezone to commercial part of Lot 168 and Lot 62, Assessor's Plat No. 122, was referred to the city planning commission for study at its April 15 meeting.

Kennedy's Office Smoky

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Newsmen, smelling smoke in the White House yesterday, asked where the fire was. They were told nonchalantly that it was in the President's office.

"It's just a little fire in the fireplace," acting press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said. "Somebody forgot to open a flue," he explained.

Bids Opened on R20 Project

Area Firm Appears Low on Work in City

The apparent low bidder for the fourth demolition contract in Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project is Elkins Excavating Co. of Waterford Township.

The Waterford firm submitted a bid of $15,153.25 to wreck some 53 structures contained in the contract, according to a bid tabulation presented to city commissioners last night.

The Elkins bid was about $1,617.75 under the second lowest bid, $15,770.75 submitted by Arch Wrecking & Salvage Co. of Waterford Township.

Five bids were submitted and opened at City Hall Monday afternoon.

Awarding of the contract is tentatively set for next week's meeting.

The other bidders and bids were: Wolverine Lumber & Wrecking Co. of Pontiac, $24,880.15; Louis D'Hondt Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens, $21,600; and Sam Allen & Son Wrecking Co. of Pontiac, $29,925.

Most of the 53 structures to be wrecked are residential.

They were formerly included in the first R20 demolition contract to Dore Wrecking Co. of Kawkawlin, which was canceled last fall when that firm was unable to fulfill terms of the contract.

Roberts' Bill Halfway in Legislature

LANSING — Sen. Farrell Roberts' bill to revolutionize Michigan's approach to mental health is halfway through the State Legislature today.

The measure, which would permit local mental health programs, passed the Senate yesterday on a 24-3 vote. It goes now to the House.

Roberts, Oakland County's Republican senator, said the bill "will permit the state to move the front-line of mental health services from the state hospital to the community."

Under the new program the bill would make possible, the state would provide matching funds to county governments for community-based mental health care.

"This could be the most important piece of legislation to come out of this session," Roberts said.

The bill has the backing of Gov. George Romney.

It would enable Oakland County to establish its own mental health board, hire a mental health director and provide for care of mental health patients through contracts with hospitals, counties, groups of counties and cities with a population over one million would have authority to set up such a program.

Success for the bill has been one of the major legislative goals of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors this year.

Travel on Freeway Safer Than Streets

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Better drivers, safer automobiles, fear of citations and highway engineering have been combined to make California freeway driving three times as safe as driving on a city street.

This figure is based on files kept by the Los Angeles Police Department and substantiated by the California Highway Patrol.

The records list some of the reasons why freeway driving is safer than nonfreeway driving.

The majority of freeway drivers have become "defensive drivers," they not only watch their own operations but they watch others near them.

Most freeway drivers keep within their lanes and only change when it is safe to do so.

They carefully watch their way to the right before leaving a freeway.

Because freeway driving is normally high-speed driving, most drivers won't go on a freeway if their cars are not reasonably well maintained.

EXPENSIVE TICKETS

Most drivers realize that Los Angeles freeways are well policed and that citations for moving violations in California are expensive.

Also, highway engineers are waging a never-ending battle to make freeways safer. They are concentrating on the ever-dangerous head-on collision.

When the first freeways were built the engineers recommended that roses be planted in the dividing strip to keep headlights glare out of the eyes of approaching drivers.

Now a new approach to this problem has been taken.

The Santa Monica Freeway—linking downtown Los Angeles with Santa Monica—will have translucent plastic paneling on top of a concrete divider.

This plastic paneling, long associated with the building industry, has been improved for highway use.

Plastic for highway use must be sufficiently opaque to completely dim oncoming high-beam headlights, must be able to withstand the weather and high winds and must have a low gloss to prevent sun-glare.

SMALL SUB — Two-place, 12-foot submarine, which will be used by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to study fish in San Francisco Bay, is tested at Chicago. Coming togers provide 360-degree vision. It weighs 2,000 pounds, cruises at two knots and can dive to a maximum depth of 300 feet.

Congress - Smitten by Spring - Awakes From Christmas

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The spring equinox has come and gone, but unlike other hibernating animals, the U. S. Congress has not yet begun to stir.

In almost three months of session, the 353 elected officials who compose our legislative body have passed exactly two bills: a purely routine extension-MONTGOMERY of the draft, and a Commodities Credit Corp. funding bill of noncontroversial proportions.

House members may possibly reach a vote this week on a measure to increase their own travel and office allowances at the expense of the taxpayers, but about the only other crucial matter on the immediate agenda is a 10-day Easter vacation beginning April 11.

Having already taken somnolent recesses for Lincoln Day, Jefferson-Jackson Day and St. Patrick's Day, our legislators are now beginning to catch spring fever before they have quite recovered from Christmas.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen, master of grandiloquent prose, gazed wistfully at the summer-like weather that has suddenly enveloped the capital and intoned wistfully: "I am prayerfully waiting to get the country moving again."

Perhaps fearful that this sounded a too-active note, he sonorously added: "But I want to make sure that if it ever gets moving, it moves in the right direction. I keep remembering that young flyer called 'Wrong Way Corrigan,' you know, who started out from Brooklyn to California and ended up in Dublin."

This 88th Congress has unquestionably set a modern record of inactivity. For more than two months, the Senate engaged in a dull filibuster on rules changes, which ended exactly where everyone knew at the beginning that it would—with no changes.

MORE WRANGLING
After that, it moved into a protracted wrangle over committee ratios of Democrats to Republicans, which delayed committee assignments until mid-March.

Not a single one of the major appropriation bills has yet cleared the House Appropriations Committee, which originates all money bills. This is in marked contrast to 1962, when eight of the twelve had by this time not only emerged from committee, but passed the House and gone to the Senate.

Ironically, this was the year in which Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield had hoped to put into effect a revolutionary two-months summer vacation plan, for which congressional wives have long lobbied.

Inasmuch as the House anticipates no action on President Kennedy's "must" tax reduction legislation before June, and Senate Finance Chairman Harry Byrd predicts no Senate debate on it until September, the prospects are bright for yet another lonely summer, with lawmakers batching it in Washington while their wives take the kiddies to seashore or mountains.

Capital observers are hard-pressed to find an adequate explanation for the desultory pace. There is little question but that the late Speaker Sam Rayburn and former Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson are sorely missed at the legislative helm.

The two Texans were not only close cronies who worked well together in harness, but they were both activists who had little patience with glibby talk-fests.

RELUCTANT LEADERS

The present team — Speaker John W. McCormack and Senator Mansfield—operated for so long in the shadow of those prime-movers that they seem reluctant to employ the strong-arm methods which their predecessors frequently used to hew the political-prima donnas to the line.

President Kennedy, who served his House and Senate stints under the strong-man rule of Rayburn and Johnson, is reportedly baffled by the lethargic reaction to his own legislative program.

Also somewhat baffled, we took the problem directly to Mansfield, the soft-spoken Senate leader, who frankly confessed: "We are paying now for the two months or so that we wasted talking about rules changes and committee ratios."

"As a consequence, we'll probably have to stay in session until October or November. We don't look good, and we know it. But we might as well admit it—it's our own fault." When faced with imminent threat to our national survival, Congress has no time for such procrastination and self-indulgence, but as Father Divine used to say: "Peace, it's wonderful!"

Tax Land Sale for Oakland Set April 10

LANSING — Over 300 parcels of tax-reverted land in Oakland and four other counties will be offered at public auction in Port Huron on April 10, the Conservation Department advises.

The spring sale, starting at 10 a.m. in the city-county building, includes land in St. Clair, Sanilac, Lapeer and Macomb Counties. About 170 tax parcels are in Oakland County.

Involved is some acreage but primarily platted lots in townships, cities and villages. A few lots have houses or other buildings in poor to fair condition.

The department says that interested bidders can examine the individual county listings at the county building in Pontiac.

True Blue Party Man - No Child About Politics

MEMPHIS — The second grade rooms at Avon School were about to hold an election.

"Now, children," their teacher beamed, "we're going to do this in a democratic way."

Down fell the face and up shot the hand of Beasley Wellford.

"Then I can't vote," he announced unhappily. "I'm a Republican."

DREAMING? — Paul A. (Spec) Hoskins, Pontiac Water Collection Superintendent, strikes a pose (minus fishing pole) like the one in the cartoon next to him. Hoskins is retiring after 44 years with the city.

Wry City Hall Cartoonist Ends 44 Years of Service

By DICK SAUNDERS
Paul A. (Spec) Hoskins has drawn his last cartoon at City Hall.

Hoskins, superintendent of the water collection department, is retiring after 44 years' service.

His memories of Pontiac span a half-century, and he depicted many of them in cartoons. Spec's artistic ability and wry humor have won him many friends at City Hall.

But Spec's last City Hall characterization wasn't drawn by him — it was of him.

Created by Pauline Taylor of the planning department staff,

the retirement cartoon depicts Hoskins sitting at a long bar, dangling a fishing line in a glass of beer on the floor.

It was presented to him at a recent retirement party in his honor at City Hall.

"His retirement will leave quite a gap at City Hall," said City Manager Robert A. Stier.

ANECDOTES READY
With a twinkle of his bespectacled eyes and a twitch of his mustache, the peppery little man was always ready with a humorous anecdote.

But it was with his cartoons that Hoskins, of 30 Lincoln St., made his most indelible impression on City Hall employees.

Endowed with a natural ability, he has for many years chronicled life and times at City Hall in a multitude of clever cartoons.

No one would venture a guess at how many he's drawn. Most were given to people portrayed in the drawings.

No one remembers a retirement party for a city employee which wasn't graced by a masterpiece of wit from Spec's drawing board.

Hoskins has been at City Hall longer than any other present city employee.

His official retirement date is April 12, Good Friday, which is also his 65th birthday. It was on Good Friday in 1919, when he "decided to take a temporary job in the collection department," he recalled.

"Not very temporary, was it?"

EARLY DAYS
When Hoskins came to Pontiac as a boy in 1907, water cost more than it does now.

Now, water rates will more than double when the city starts getting Detroit water in July.

"We sure had to see you go," Stier commented to Hoskins at the open house. "Wish you could be here to answer the phone when the new rates go into effect."

Hoskins has been around to answer many calls during his 44 years, especially since becoming superintendent in 1953.

"Most calls are about mysterious increases in water bills. The mystery is usually a running toilet or leaky pipe."

"It's funny, but most people still refuse to accept the fact that a running toilet uses a lot of water. Left running free, it can set up a minimum monthly bill in 24 hours."

He's also received calls from people moving into a house in the middle of the night who want the water turned on.

"Even had a case once where the people moved into a vacant house without notifying the owner. You should've seen him when he went to do some repair work at the place and found the water on and someone living there," Hoskins chuckled.

REMEMBERS GAZETTE
His memory reaches back to selling the Pontiac Press Gazette and "watching the beautiful horses with borbolans prance up in front of Hodges House."

He also recalls the "rough days of the early 1930's, when we never knew if we still had a job when we came to work each day."

He would also like to forget dogs.

"Those dogs really gave me a bad time," he said, referring to a Pontiac Press article last year on the city's dog census being taken by meter readers.

"I got so I couldn't get a good night's sleep with the phone ringing all the time."

Regardless of his "dog days," Hoskins is an avid outdoorsman and plans to spend much of his free time now hunting and fishing at his cabin near Lewiston.

On behalf of city employees, Finance Director Marvin M. Alward presented him with an AM-FM portable transistor radio.

"That's not bad," cracked Spec. "Now I'll have something to listen to when the fish aren't biting."

Unusual Comic Praises Other Funny Fellows

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Today I salute Milt Kamen, a most uncommon comedian.

Milt, who's going onward and upward with Merv Griffin wherever Merv's going, cruises around Broadway claiming that other comedians are funnier than he is.

"To me, Jack E. Leonard's a star like Jackie Gleason's a star," Milt will say (and mean it). "One night when I was on stage he shot me full of bullets from the audience. Finally I surrendered. I only have one mouth. He's got mouths all over his body."

Milt does something else rare for comedians. He gives credit to other comics when he uses their lines.

"I was born in Hurleyville, N.Y., and we moved to Brownsville, Brooklyn," he says. "We were poor. Like Fred Allen said once, 'In my family we thought knives and forks were jewelry.'"

Milt's so-called movie reviews have been big hits on Merv Griffin's TV show. One started out, "This is not a review — it's a warning."

When he faced Gov. Rockefeller, at a dinner recently, Milt said to him:

"Governor don't go around the country telling people 'I don't want to be President. You see what happened. The people said O.K.'"

Milt Kamen's humble and he should become a big star because everybody likes him. As, Milt points out, paraphrasing the Scriptures, "Be a little suspicious of the man everybody likes."

Penguins Play in Frozen Land

South Polar Clowns
Don't Fear Man

WASHINGTON — Whenever winter closes in on the north, summer is opening a new cycle in the life of Antarctica's engaging little clowns, the Adels.

The breeding season for these penguins is well under way on the rocky headlands of the south polar continent. Soon chicks will be leaving their sheltered nests to learn the skills and hazards of survival.

More than 17 species of penguins live in the Southern Hemisphere, says the National Geographic Society. But only two—the prolific Adels and its big, regal cousin, the Emperor—inhabit the vast, frozen continent.

The lively Adels are the comedians of the family. With Chaplinesque gravity, they toboggan down snowy slopes and joyride on cakes of ice. Sometimes they waddle, on short awkward legs, in processions that suggest columns of tipsy top soldiers.

They have no fear of man. Rather, they seem fascinated by the strange giants who have invaded their domain. Insatiably curious, Adels are forever undisturbed, even construction or other activities are going on.

In about mid-October, Antarctic planes see dark lines of penguins moving across coastal ice toward mainland nest sites. By mid-November, the nests have been built of pebbles uncovered by spring thaws, and eggs are being laid, two to a couple.

The father starts the incubation, while mother goes off on a sea vacation to feed in preparation for her turn on the nest. After the young have hatched, both parents share in covering and feeding them.

In late January and early February, the fledglings are on their own. They learn to hop, swim, and skim for the trip to northern ice floes, where they winter.

Prison officials said he had "a record as long as your arm" of burglary and larceny sentences and charges in various states. In 1930, he was sentenced to a life term from Kalamazoo County as a habitual offender after being found guilty of a breaking and entering charge.

Prison officials said Bulford had no known close relatives although at one time he spoke of two sisters, one living in Chicago and the other in England.

Fountain Gushes Again; Brings Back Old Days

SAN FRANCISCO — Lotta's Fountain is again spouting cool drinking water for passers-by.

The fountain — on a pedestrian island at Geary, Kearny and Market streets — was presented to the city in 1875 by Lotta Crabbe.

A loan association paid for refurbishing the historic fountain, which has a 36-foot Victorian tower.

State Seeks Release of Prisoner, 93

Release of Prisoner, 93

LANSING — State Corrections Department officials are working against time to obtain the release of Michigan's oldest prisoner—93-year-old John Bulford.

"He is ailing and has expressed the wish to die outside the walls," said Gordon Fuller, state parole board members.

Bulford will be among those considered for commutation of a life sentence under the so-called life law by the board tomorrow.

If he is released, plans are to place Bulford in a hospital or home for the aged. Parole board and prison officials are sympathetic toward the proposed release.

"He was pretty spry until recently," said Fuller of the prison system's oldest inmate. "Up until a few years ago, he ran the elevator at the State Prison of Southern Michigan."

Eight other prisoners sentenced to life terms for first-degree murder will be considered for commutation at the same hearing.

Bulford was born in England in 1870 and came to this country as a youth. The first record of the Michigan prison system has of him is a conviction for burglary from Hillsdale County in 1890. In 1904 he was captured from prison but was soon captured.

Prison officials said he had "a record as long as your arm" of burglary and larceny sentences and charges in various states. In 1930, he was sentenced to a life term from Kalamazoo County as a habitual offender after being found guilty of a breaking and entering charge.

Strong Yet Safe — Gives Hours of Continuous Relief from Minor ARTHRITIS PAINS

Reduces swelling and inflammation so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again

No cure as yet has been found for arthritis. But medical research has established that the strong yet safe medication in Anacin® gives hours of relief from arthritis' minor pains — even such chronic pain arising from deep in joints. It has also been found an ingredient in Anacin has a special anti-inflammatory action that helps reduce swelling and inflammation — a basic cause of arthritis suffering. In minutes — pain is relieved so it's easier to move around and this helps keep joints from "locking" or "stiffening."

Anacin Tablets are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. Take as directed.

Oil Firm to Release Land to Saudi Arabs

BEIRUT, Lebanon (U-P) — The Arabian-American Oil Co. (ARAMCO) announced yesterday it will relinquish more than a quarter-million square miles of its concession in the Saudi Arabian desert to the Saudi government.

The release was part of an agreement signed Sunday in the Saudi capital of Riyadh after months of negotiations between the government and the company.

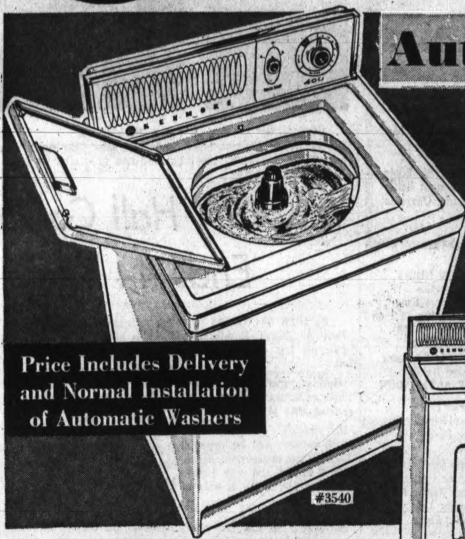

ARAMCO agreed to hand back 227,000 square miles of exclusive concession area plus 41,000 square miles over which it had preferred rights. It left ARAMCO an exclusive concession of 125,000 square miles, the company said.

The Saint Gotthard railway tunnel in the Alps required eight years to build. It is 9.5 miles in length, 28 feet wide, and 21.3 feet in height.

White Lake Youth Beaten to Death

GOP May Seek Extension of Deadline on Legislation

LANSING (AP)—The legislature today tried to chop down a mountain of bills as it raced a midnight deadline for passage of measures in their house of origin.

At least one chamber, the House, looked as if it would seek an extension of the deadline.

Republican leaders were considering a resolution to extend action through Friday and possibly Saturday.

"I don't see how we can get all of these things cleared out by tonight," said House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston. He said he would discuss extension of the deadline in a GOP caucus today.

BILLS READY FOR VOTE

A construction safety bill and a bitterly contested "omnibus" bill dealing with unemployment compensation were ready for a vote.

A resolution to extend the bill passage deadline would require agreement of the Senate. That body was having troubles of its own in dealing with a heavy load of legislation.

Wary senators saw their crowded calendar studded with some of the most controversial measures of the session.

They bypassed most of the major legislation still awaiting action yesterday as they dealt with 68 bills on the floor.

Left untouched were proposals dealing with the Ford-Canton dispute, minimum wages, private school buses for parochial pupils, and construction safety.

5 MEASURES KILLED

When they finally adjourned shortly before midnight, the senators had killed six measures by returning them to committee, passed 32 bills on to the House and moved 30 up to the final voting stage.

Under a self-imposed rule, today was set as the deadline for passage of bills in the house of origin—with the exception of appropriation proposals, which may be considered until Friday.

Some of the major legislation left for the final day embraced legislative goals outlined by Gov. George Romney in his State-of-the-State message shortly after he took office.

Chances for adoption of parts of the governor's program appeared to be slim.

One of those on shaky ground was the so-called Ford-Canton measure aimed at settling a long-standing dispute between the two cities.

Sun's Expected to Heat Up Area Next Few Days

Of Sol will beam his shining rays on Pontiac area residents for the next few days, bringing temperatures 5 to 10 degrees above the normal high of 46 to 51 and normal low of 26 to 32.

The low is expected to be a mild 35 tonight and the high will soar to 62 tomorrow.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33. The mercury had zoomed up to 56 at 1 p.m.

Road Contracts in the County at $6.1 Million

Projects Planned in 1963 Include Four Throughout the Area

More than $6.1 million in highway construction contracts for Oakland County will be awarded during 1963, the State Highway Department announced today.

A total of more than $75 million will be let in the five-county Detroit area, according to the announcement made at a meeting of the Inter-County Highway Commission in Farmington.

The Oakland County projects include:

1. The major portion of the perimeter road around Pontiac's downtown business section. Contracts estimated at $1.06 million are scheduled to be let April 3.

Completion is planned for the summer of 1964. Total cost of the project, including engineering and right-of-way purchases, is put at $3.5 million.

2. Widening of M59 from Elizabeth Lake Road to Airport Road at a construction cost estimated at $1.3 million. The contract is slated to be let in September.

3. Modernization of M218 (Pontiac Trail) from Commerce Road to the 146 freeway in Wixom at an estimated construction cost of $1.1 million.

The road will be taken out of the state's trunkline system and returned to the county after improvements are completed.

4. Signs costing some $95,000 on a section of the I-75 freeway now under construction from 11-Mile Road to Walton Boulevard at Pontiac's north-east corner.

Currently under construction or contract in Oakland County are: Construction of the I-75 freeway from 11-Mile Road to Walton Boulevard at a cost of some $10.5 million; construction of the John C. Lodge Freeway extension in Southfield, for some $8.3 million; and modernization of M218 from Commerce Road to Pontiac for $515,000.

News Flashes

LANSING—The Senate today approved unanimously a community college bill that would enable Oakland County to hold an election on establishment of a community college system. Earlier story on page D-4.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs returned in February to the record level set last September, mainly because of higher prices for food and clothing.

LEONARD REED

NAOMI REED

Victim Described as Typical Student

"A typical high school boy" was the way friends and neighbors described Leonard Reed.

Reed, a 10th grader at the Holly Area Senior High School, was found beaten to death early this morning on McKeatchie Road at White Lake Road, White Lake Township.

"He was just another boy," Mrs. James Howard said, Leonard and his sister Jean, 14, were visiting at the Howard home, 5420 McKeatchie Road, last night.

"Leonard and my son were playing cards and Jean was working on a 4-H project sewing dresses," Mrs. Howard said. She recalled hearing Leonard mention that he planned to go into service.

NY Presses All Set to Roll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Publishers and striking photoengravers came to terms early today, all but ending a newspaper shutdown of almost three-and-one-half months in the nation's largest city.

The presses were ready to roll, and it was virtually certain that they would be turning out papers tonight.

The papers had their staffs on telephone alert, and 57 million readers looked forward to regaining their prime source of information.

Jubilant prevailed at city hall early today as a weary but happy Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the peace pact.

One detail remained: ratification of the agreement by the 320 members of the photoengravers union.

But Frank McGowan, president of Photoengravers Local 1, scheduled a ratification meeting for 4 p.m.—(Pontiac time)—today, and predicted that his men would vote yes within an hour.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the Herald Tribune, said that if this were done his publication would be on the streets tonight with the Thursday morning edition.

The other idled morning papers—the Times, Mirror and News—have indicated they could publish within a few hours after pickets were withdrawn.

Fifth to Meet Bizarre Death

The death of a 16-year-old White Lake Township boy last night was the fifth bizarre slaying in Oakland County this year.

On Jan. 25 Mrs. Mary Godfrey was shot in the head while standing in the kitchen of her Bloomfield Township home, 953 Dursley Road.

Two weeks later, her 15-year-old son Douglas admitted that he shot his mother because she was too strict with him.

A week and a half ago, March 16, Robert A. Greene, 22, was killed during a robbery of the Kroger Supermarket in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

Greene, assistant manager of the store, was stabbed 42 times. Adolphe White and Charles E. Hodges have been charged with first degree murder for the crime.

Three days earlier Aubrey Posey, 34, 571 Crescent Lake Road, Waterford Township, was knifed to death in his home when he refused to give a ride home to a man he had met in a bar.

CHARGED IN DEATH

Brady Boley, 46, 104 Pike St., was charged with Posey's murder and will be arraigned in Circuit Court April 2.

Saturday, Tommie L. Holston, 32, of 30 Iowa St., was charged with the death of Boley. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Mystery Attack Injures Sister

By JIM LONG and DICK HANSON

The savage beatings that brought death to a 16-year-old White Lake Township boy and critically injured his younger sister last night had police searching today for suspects and a motive.

The children, Leonard C. Reed and his sister Naomi, 14, were found beaten outside their car on a rural road, less than a quarter mile from their home at 9:30 p.m.

The youth died in Pontiac General Hospital at 1:12 a.m.

The girl is in critical condition with a fractured skull and smashed facial bones. She may lose the sight of her left eye.

The teen-agers are the children of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Reed, 6220 White Lake Road.

No suspects or any reason for the vicious attack have been turned up yet, according to Capt. Leo Hazen of Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The boy was not robbed and the girl was not criminally assaulted.

Detectives from the Pontiac and Detroit State police posts and White Lake Township police also are working on the case.

POLICE CALLED

Her home is about 100 yards from where the couple was found.

Only a short time before, Leonard and Naomi had left the home of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, 5420 McKeatchie Road, where they had been visiting for two hours.

The Howard home is a half mile from the Reed's. The beatings took place midway between the two homes.

When police arrived the motor of Reed's 1959 Nash was still running and the radio was playing.

Reed told police that his children went to the Howard's shortly before 7 p.m.

Reed, 43, a jig and fixture helper at Interlake Steel Products, said he told them to be home in two hours.

A few minutes after nine, according to Howard, Leonard noticed what time it was. He and his sister left.

Leonard had driven his sister to the Howard's so she and the Howard's daughter Carolyn, 12, could work on a sewing project.

A Feathery Plot City Pigeons Beware!

The city's going into the pigeon-trapping business.

City Manager Robert A. Stierler told the City Commission last night that his two-man pigeon control committee has recommended a trapping program to help rid downtown Pontiac of pigeons.

Donald Nagel, forestry division supervisor, and Charles S. Cohen, City sanitarian, have been studying the problem of too many pigeons for several weeks.

In a report to Stierler, the committee said that "trapping offers the most practical and acceptable

'$8 Million Missing From Frisco Bank'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twelve negotiable U.S. Treasury bonds worth more than $8 million have been missing from the vaults of the 12th Federal Reserve District Bank here since last July, the San Francisco Examiner said in a copyrighted story.

The article said the bonds were either stolen or burned by mistake. If stolen, it would be the largest single theft in United States history.

The examiner reported it had received confirmation of the loss ers and unions over unemployment compensation for workers killed by strikes.

WIELDS GAVEL

With Rep. Andrew Bolt, R. Grand Rapids, the GOP's efficiency expert, wielding the gavel yesterday, House members hacked their way through a 12-hour session in which 104 bills were moved up to voting stages and seven others were killed by being shipped back to committee.

Bolt received a round of bipartisan applause when he finally stepped from the rostrum at 10:30 p.m.

It wasn't all smooth going, however, as lawmakers clashed in brief and extended debate over a number of issues before putting them over for a vote today.

Fatigue, however, helped cut short arguments over the unemployment compensation bill, a wide-ranging proposal calling for increases in taxes paid by employers, higher benefits for jobless workers, and House Republicans' version of a solution to the so-called Ford-Canton problem.

Democrats condemned the bill as "a dangerous hedge-podge" and made a fruitless effort to kill it by sending it back to committee.

JAMES E. SEETERLIN

ELMER R. JOHNSON

Democrats

James E. Seeterlin, 36, Waterford Township Clerk for the past six years, is Democratic candidate for township supervisor.

A life-long resident of the township, Seeterlin lives at 4597 W. Walton Blvd. with his wife, Evelyn, and their six children.

Seeterlin is a graduate of Pontiac High School and is currently attending Wayne State University at night working toward a bachelor of arts degree.

A World War II veteran, Seeterlin was employed by a trucking firm as dispatcher and owner-driver prior to becoming township clerk.

Elmer Fangboner, 55, of 3327 Meirand St., is the Democratic candidate for township clerk.

A retired Pontiac fireman, he organized the Waterford Township fire department and now serves as its chief. A township resident for 40 years, he has four children.

Following graduation from Pontiac High School, Fangboner attended Olivet College and Michigan State University. He served six years on the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Democrat Mrs. Dorothy Olson, 51, seeks re-election as township treasurer, a position she has held for six years.

Mrs. Olson, of 3599 Shoals, served as supervisor of the Army Corps of Engineers disbursing department for seven years prior to becoming township treasurer. She is a graduate of Northwestern High School in Detroit.

A resident of the township for 12 years, Mrs. Olson is president of the Waterford Democratic Women, serves on the township recreation board and is a member of the Michigan Democratic State Central Committee. She has one son.

Russ Hits U.S. on Ship Attack

MOSCOW (U)—In a strong protest, the Soviet Union today held the United States responsible for the attack on the Russian freighter Lgov by Cuban missiles March 17 off the north coast of Cuba.

The note asserted that "without material support from the U.S. government and without the supply of American arms and vessels the group of traitors to the Cuban people now hiding on U.S. territory could not engage in this kind of provocation."

The U.S. government, the note continued, "is virtually leading up to a dangerous aggravation of the situation in the Caribbean and throughout the world."

"The Soviet government," the note said, "holds the U.S. government fully responsible for the actions of the Cuban counterrevolutionaries, including their attack on the Soviet merchant vessel Lgov."

"For the U.S.A. to encourage such actions is contrary to the agreement reached between the governments of the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. on the settlement of the crisis in the Caribbean."

TOKYO (U)—A sharp earthquake centered on the Japan sea coast west of Tokyo hit wide areas of western Japan early today.

Republicans

Elmer R. Johnson, 59, will be seeking his fourth two-year term as Waterford Township supervisor in the April 1 election.

Elected three times to the top township office as a Democrat, Johnson announced his change of party affiliation in January 1962. He and his wife, Martha, live at 3228 Seabald St. They have two sons.

Johnson was graduated from high school in Minnesota and has taken various courses at night since moving to this area 27 years ago.

A die maker for a tool and die firm before taking office, Johnson is a former member of the Waterford Township Board of Education. He served seven years on this board prior to becoming township supervisor.

Leo F. Kampsen, 40, of 4097 Brook Drive, is the Republican candidate for township clerk.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, he has been employed for six years as salesman for Mathis - Hargreaves Chevrolet.

Kampsen has been a township resident for eight years. He is married and has four children.

Kampsen's 778 vote total in Feb. 18 primary election outdistanced his opponent nearly 2 to 1 in the nomination.

Fred L. Morningstar, a certified public accountant, is the Republican candidate for township treasurer.

Married and a township resident for six years, Morningstar lives at 4465 Major St. He operates a private CPA practice and serves as director of higher education at the Pontiac Business Institute.

Morningstar attended Alma College and Walsh Institute of Accounting.

He is a member of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and the Michigan Business Education Association.

British Aid Russ Pipe Dream

By ENDRE MARTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball goes to London today to try to convince the British that large-diameter steel pipes are strategically important commodities, which should not be shipped to the Soviet Union. The British presumably will disagree.

This will hardly surprise Ball. He was told the same thing last Monday when he summoned Sir David Ramsay Gore, the British ambassador, to discuss the controversial pipe issue.

Ball's mission likely will arouse the ire of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The Soviet leader already has accused the United States of having "exercised undue pressure" upon its allies persuading them to refuse Soviet pipe orders.

By doing so, Khrushchev said in Moscow elections speech last month, the United States was interfering in Soviet relations with third countries and this, he said, was "a manifestation of the senseless policy of cold war."

TO SEND IL
The controversy started when the Russians began dreaming about a gigantic 2,500-mile pipeline to deliver Soviet oil to European satellites and, perhaps, across the Iron Curtain to Western Europe.

To realize this dream the Soviets needed 40-inch pipes. These were the factors involved:

1. Only a few industrialized countries—the United States, Great Britain, Italy, Sweden and Japan — produce such large pipes.

2. The Soviets did not manufacture such pipes.

School Board Approves Redistricting Program

BIRMINGHAM — After several protest meetings and extensive study sessions, the board of education last night approved a redistricting plan that met with a round of hearty applause.

Members of the audience, numbering about 100, began clapping as Board President Mrs. Kathryn Loomis noted that the compromise proposal had passed.

Opposition was first voiced when School Supt. Otis M. Dickey proposed the original redistricting plan in January.

The proposal was designed to curb overcrowding of Derby Junior High School and Seaboard High School.

It provided that Harlan Elementary School students attend Berkshire Junior High School and Groves High School instead of Derby and Seaboard.

Parents of Harlan students objected to the plan on the grounds that their children would spend an extra 550 hours on school buses to travel the greater distance.

NEW PLAN
The new plan calls for Harlan area students now attending Derby and Seaboard schools to remain there.

Students from the Westchester, Bloomfield Village and Valley Woods areas attending Derby will be allowed to finish at that school.

The program will be complete by 1968. Then students from Harlan will attend Derby for grades 7-9 and Groves for 10-12.

Students from the other three districts will attend the new Berkshire Junior High School for grades 7 and 8, Groves for 9 and Seaboard for 10-12.

Beginning this fall, all 6th grade students from an elementary school will move together to a single junior high school.

Before the final vote was taken last night, board treasurer Bennett W. Root offered an amendment which would have initiated the Harlan move this fall, rather than deferring it a year.

The amendment was defeated. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvania wife will present the "Wonderful World of Music" tomorrow night at Groves High School.

Proceeds from the appearance, sponsored by the Birmingham Lions Club, will provide free eye examinations for Birmingham children.

Portions also will be donated to Leader Dogs for the Blind School near Rochester and Pen-Spoor of Montclair, N.J.

Fear of MAKE OVER Law at Root of Crisis

By MRS. MUIEL LAWRENCE

She brings candy to the baby. When he reaches for it she snatches it away and tells him he has to kiss her first to get it. She also has scared him by not letting him.

Answer: You're a little scared. You're grabbing lady, so, aren't you?

If you were not, this specific family problem could be dissolved. When your little boy refuses to approach his grandmother, you would approach her in his stead.

You'd say, "All right, if you don't want to kiss Grandma for bringing you these lollipops, I do. I think it was kind of her to bring them."

And by sulking your action to your words, not only protect your child against the obligation to show affection he doesn't feel but relieve your husband and his mother of their hurtful impression that you don't appreciate her.

She is not the self-confident lady she appears to be, you know. Adults who use favors and gifts to buy other people's acceptance have not experienced any genuine affection.

They have been forced to try and content themselves with begrudged gratitude instead. Though they seek to appear self-confident, they are actually deeply frightened people.

It is because they are so suspicious of the real value to us of their "kindness" that they are compelled to try and give it substance by buying us lollipops or silver services.

If we are afraid of them, we cannot see this pitiful truth. We can only see a mother-in-law who is trying to make trouble in our family by demanding affection from our baby that she hasn't earned. We can only see the woman who controls our husband's satisfaction with our behavior.

The fact is, many American husbands permit their mothers to control their satisfactions with our behavior because mama is still their childhood's powerful definer of good and bad.

If we want to preserve our marriages to them, we have to learn to live with this fact. We learn to live with it by refusing to see Mama with their awed eyes.

We have to see her as she is: in your case, a lonely, aging, self-distrustful woman who is compelled to try and obtain her place in her son's family by the same kind of purchase that a lonely little girl makes when she exchanges a cookie with other children for the chance to join in their hopscotch game.

The wedding will be so much nicer, so much more remembered, if the flowers are just perfect. Let us help you with your wedding flower planning.

Electric Slicing Knife Will Make Host Happy

An electric slicing knife made by General Electric will be appreciated by men who hate to carve.

Featuring twin stainless steel blades with tungsten carbide cutting edges, the knife is operated simply by applying finger pressure on the switch.

The blades snap out of the grease- and heat-resistant plastic handle for easy cleaning.

Clean Before Moving

By KAY SHERWOOD

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bringing order to the busy homemaker's desk is, in the opinion of many, about as likely as getting a leopard to change his spots.

The habit of hanging onto miscellaneous paper can be sharply criticized by the family. I have reason to know I'm not the only homemaker to suffer criticism or to strive sincerely for improvement.

So I sought the advice of a homemaker whose desk is a monument to tidiness. Get a filing cabinet, she advised, and file everything in labeled folders.

The filing cabinet wouldn't fit near the desk and had to be put on an unheated porch. Because of the difficulty of filing with furled gloves, this system is ineffective from November to April.

Into this sticky dilemma burst a bright ray of hope when a girl who shares this problem sent me a picture and description of a "lady retreat" area in a model room designed by Elisabeth Draper.

In this gracefully decorated area, what catches my eye at once is the use of individual file boxes to store a range of miscellany. The imaginary lady in this household has really far-flung interests because the numerous boxes range from one for "Quotations" to several for pet charities.

To lift these boxes out of the office category, the backs had been covered or painted to match the wall and the content subject matter smartly penned above the pull tab. The file boxes fit on standard shelves.

The area itself is pretty and restful with a birdseye maple desk and an upholstered tub chair. Desk is placed at right angles to a window shaded by drapes and Venetian blinds laminated with the same fabric used on the chair and a chaise longue.

Bride-Elect Gets Shower

April bride-elect Patricia Ann Brown was honored at a shower Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Larson on Park Place. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Russell Dorman, Mrs. Daniel Bohman and Mrs. Albie Frizzell.

Joining some 40 guests were Mrs. Lon Brown of Goring Street, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Barrett of Port Huron, grandmother of future bridegroom Richard Hovis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hovis of Dwight Avenue.

Soroptimists Set Plans for Benefit Sale

At a dinner meeting Monday in Waldron Hotel, the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac completed plans for a benefit sale Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Four Towns Church, Cooley Lake Road. Mrs. Kenneth R. Wright is general chairman.

The club will sponsor a booth at the International Bazaar April 24 in Elks Temple.

Mrs. Frances Coons, president, will attend the Midwest regional spring conference April 26-28 in Hotel Hilton Plaza, Cincinnati. Talmee Surolo and Mrs. Wright are delegates.

Mrs. Wright and Miss Surolo will visit Pontiac State Hospital patients at the April social evening.

Study ADC-U Memo

LANSING (U) — The next health, education and welfare, was delivered to the capital yesterday.

Romney said the analysis by his legal aide, Richard Van Dusen, might take one or two days, but he added that the memo "does not appear to contain anything new in the way of legal citations . . ."

Written by Alanson Wilcox, general counsel for HEW, the five-page letter defended the rejection of the ADC-U bill passed by the Michigan Legislature on grounds that it sets up eligibility standards which are "not rational."

"It is clear that the secretary has the authority to disapprove the proposed Michigan plan on grounds that it is discriminatory unless congress has specifically denied him this power," wrote Wilcox.

HITS EXCLUSIONS

"In my judgement, the exclusions which would be affected by the bill . . . bear no rational relation to the purposes of a public assistance program . . ."

Without said he felt persons denied eligibility by the Michigan ADC-U bill "could make a forceful challenge" under the 14th amendment to the constitution.

The bill approved by Michigan lawmakers would grant ADC-U to persons who had been eligible for state unemployment compensation since January, 1958, excluding those who had not been eligible for jobs pay.

Workers in a firm employing four or more persons are automatically eligible for unemployment compensation, but those in smaller firms are eligible only if the employers participate in support of the state fund.

Romney contends the federal law specifically gives states power to define unemployment for purposes of administering the act.

HIS REFUSAL

He has charged Celibreeux with exceeding the limits of his authority in refusing the standards proposed by Michigan for the federal ADC-U program.

Romney told newsmen yesterday it might take two days for his staff to analyze the Wilcox memo, and added that he wanted to "check with people who have background in this particular type of legislation."

"One of the key questions is whether the will of congress is being flouted by the department," said the governor.

Romney said estimates made by Lynn Kogut, managing director of Social Welfare, showed inclusion of the unemployed demanded by federal officials would broaden the cost of the program by about $1 million for administration.

"It would mean setting up a whole new administrative structure and would require adjustments in the budget," he said. "As it stands, the cost is taken care of by federal reimbursement."

Broadening of the program would bring in more federal money — but it would not be sufficient to cover the increased administrative costs to the state, Romney said.

Military Backs Boeing for TFX

Testimony Made to Senate Investigators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara conferred privately today with Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., before resumption of Senate hearings into the disputed TFX war plane contract.

WASHINGTON (U) — Senate investigators hear today from high-ranking military officers who recommended that the new TFX warplane contract go to the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash., on grounds that its design was superior and that it promised lower cost.

The Senate investigators subcommittee already has heard from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that he overruled the officers' recommendation.

He said the contract was awarded General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., because its design promises to be better and cheaper.

The officers on the "source evaluation board" were to have been questioned yesterday, but Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., subcommittee chairman, postponed the session until today.

The subcommittee seeks to learn whether favoritism or poor judgment affected the decision in favor of General Dynamics.

McNamara, testifying last Thursday, said no political influence was involved in the award. He said he is more than ever convinced he made the right choice.

The contract eventually will involve expenditures estimated at $4.5 billion for some 1,700 of the fighter-bombers, which will be used by both the Air Force and the Navy.

The TFX, (tactical fighter, experimental) still is in the design stage.

Group to Talk With Firm Eying Move

GREENVILLE (U) — A five-member civic committee was formed here yesterday to confer with Gibson Division of Hupp Corp. on problems of operating costs raised by an industrial consultants' firm.

The firm has recommended that the Gibson move its facilities to the southern United States unless it can cut operating costs by a substantial margin.

The 77-year-old Gibson employee firm is the major employer in Greenville and Belding with some 1,800 workers.

Elected Manager of Lapeer Company

Dale Freeman of 528 Main St. Lapeer, has been elected vice president and general manager of the Vesely Manufacturing Co. Lapeer, it was announced today.

Also elected were William J. Pifer of Attica, vice president in charge of sales; John E. McDonald, 3178 Nottingham St., Farmington, treasurer; and Andrew M. Vesely, 1279 Barry Drive, Lapeer, secretary.

The company manufactures Apache camping trailers.

Grain Prices

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP) — Grain prices were steady today.

NEW YORK (U) — The average of calls was nearly 15,000,000 more than 700,000 more calls per day than in the previous year, the company said.

Savings-Loans Strong

Stock Market Continues Rise

NEW YORK (U) — The stock market continued to rise in fairly active trading early today with savings-and-loans strong.

Several key stocks went from fractions to about a point, although most advances were small.

The stocks of the savings-and-loan companies were in their third straight day of rallying. A published report that they are expected to propose a series of mergers in the next several weeks focused further attention on these issues.

The volume leader in this group, San Diego Imperial Inc., is at 12 1/2% on a big order of 14,000 shares and improved its price slightly. Fractional gains were also posted for United Financial of California, Great Western Financial and California Financial.

Boeing jumped 1 1/2 to 36 1/2 on the news that it has been awarded a $38-million Air Force contract for the Dyna-Son manned space glider. Other aerospace issues were fractionally higher.

Motors continued to rise with General Motors unchanged.

A report that Douglas Aircraft has sidetracked a proposal to merge with McDonnell Aircraft was accompanied by moderate gains by both stocks.

Sunray DX Oil, most active stock for the past eight sessions, continued fractionally higher.

IBM rose more than 2 U.S. Smelting fraction. Superior Oil dropped about 4.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gains included Arkansas-Louisiana Gas, Hill-Coll and Brown Co. Among losers were Aerojet-Gen-

American Stock Exch.

NEW YORK (AP) — American stocks were mixed today.
