Chessman Executed—Stay Arrives Too Late

Chairman Practices What He Preaches

Pontiac Press Photo

SAFETY CHECK UNDER WAY — The annual motor vehicle safety check in Pontiac got started at 9 this morning. One of the first to go through the checklane on West Huron street at Crofoot School was W. C. Metty, chairman of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, which sponsors the annual project. Metty glances back from his car window as Jack Avery (far left) of 1061 Dorchester St., and Charles Meledosian of 93 S. Anderson St., inspect his car. Both boys are driver training students at PCH.

Escaped Trusty Captured After Shooting Detroiter

A 12-hour manhunt ended Sunday morning with the arrest of an escaped Oakland County Jail trusty sought in the armed robbery and shooting of a Detroit man and an earlier string of cab-driver holdups.

As his victim lay in Pontiac General Hospital with bullet wounds of the chest, heavily armed officers cautiously searched parts of West Bloomfield Township and Farmington Township for Frank W. Strahan, 24, who had vowed to shoot it out with any arresting lawmen.

Strachan was scheduled to appear before Farmington Township Justice James P. Lawson this afternoon on an old armed robbery warrant issued for his arrest April 6.

The warrant charges him with robbing a cabbie of $28 in Southfield April 4.

Strachan was trapped Sunday by his shoes, police said. The unusual hobnail pattern of the rubber soles made tracks that were unmistakable when spotted.

Police followed the tracks 5½ miles to a home under construction in Farmington Township.

Strachan, who had boasted, "I'll kill any cop who finds me," meekly gave himself up when surrounded, saying to troopers, "Don't get nervous now, I give up."

★ ★ ★

The search for Strachan was launched Saturday evening after he was identified as the man who robbed and shot a man in West Bloomfield Township.

Saturday afternoon, James Small, 51, of 2009 LaSalle Gardens, Detroit, picked up Strachan who was hitchhiking out James Couzens Highway at Eight Mile road.

Small said he was going as far as 10-Mile road to pick up a woman to care for his sick wife.

As they neared 10-Mile road, Small said Strachan pulled out a snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver and said, "Keep on driving and you won't get hurt."

★ ★ ★

Small said Strachan also told him, "If you want to get any older, do as I say."

UP DEAD-END STREET

He had Small drive to the Lone Pine-Middle Belt road area. They drove up a dead-end street, Stoddard road, and parked.

"He told me to get out," Small said. "As I did, I shuffled the car keys under my cap and put it on."

Then Strachan walked Small into a field, took his wallet containing $4 and asked for the keys.

★ ★ ★

Small told him he'd put them on the front seat. Strachan told him he was going to kill him, Small told police.

Small said Strachan made him turn around and shot him in the back.

"I started running. It was my only chance," Small said.

EMPTIED GUN

Strachan later admitted he emptied his gun shooting at his victim fleeing across a swampy area.

★ ★ ★

Small ran about a half-mile and collapsed in the backyard of Joseph A. Navarre III, 28, of 3300 Lone Pine Rd.

Navarre, who was eating dinner when he saw Small in his yard, rushed to the wounded man.

Ask Clark to Explain 'Pay' to Ex-Associate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Disc jockey Dick Clark testified today he has known since November of payola received by the former associate producer of his "American Bandstand" television show.

Clark said Anthony Mammarella, who has since resigned from the show, told him at a late-hours meeting the night of Nov. 14-15 that he had accepted money from record-producing companies.

★ ★ ★

Clark, Philadelphia disc jockey with a big teen-age audience, denied any intention of misinforming the committee or its investigators about Mammarella's activities.

Last Friday, testifying about a particular instance of alleged payola received by his former associate, Clark said he had learned of it only the day before.

The House legislative oversight subcommittee called Clark back today because some questioners were not satisfied at a four-hour session Friday.

One of the subcommittee's own investigators, James K. Kelly, started off today's session by testifying that the American Broadcasting Co. relied solely on a sworn statement by Clark in announcing publicly that it had investigated and learned Clark had never taken payola.

Kelly also quoted Clark as having said "I don't want to know about questionable activities of Mammarella.

Clark confirmed that he had made such a statement. But he said Kelly "made an honest error" in evaluating it because of the time element.

Clark said Mammarella told him Nov. 11 he had been involved in some things "that would be difficult to explain." Clark said he told his associate he didn't want to hear any more about it at that point.

But at the meeting a few days later, Clark went on, "he told me and from that point, of course, I knew."

Clark said that later when investigators questioned him about Mammarella, he suggested they go to the man himself for information. "They were very understanding" and did not press him, Clark said.

He also confirmed that he had induced ABC officials to soften the wording of a reference to Mammarella—without naming him—in the affidavit Clark executed for ABC, denying that he himself had received or solicited payola.

★ ★ ★

But he denied that ABC had dictated the whole affidavit.

Kelly said ABC "dictated" the affidavit to Clark, he returned it to them, then they made it the basis of their denial.

Summit Stall by K Hinted

Russian Diplomat Says Nikita Is Awaiting Presidential Election

LONDON (UPI) — A top Communist diplomat hinted strongly today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will mark time on major international issues until the new U. S. President has settled into the White House.

★ ★ ★

The diplomat said Khrushchev will seek agreements at this month's summit meeting only in broad general terms, leaving details to be worked out later.

This version of the Kremlin leader's plans recalled reports from Communist sources in other Western capitals that Khrushchev is playing for time, which he thinks is running in Russia's favor.

Khrushchev has already warned the Russian people and the world not to expect any spectacular results from the summit talks.

★ ★ ★

These facts suggest that he will merely try to "string the West along" at the summit session, banking on the prospect that no further top-level talks would be held until spring 1961, after the new U. S. administration has taken over.

Khrushchev, the source said, will insist on a Berlin settlement and a German peace treaty at the summit, but will leave detailed arrangement to subsequent East-West negotiations.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Premier has put disarmament at the top of his summit agenda, a topic which requires no immediate detailed commitments and will allow continuation of East-West negotiations until he can study the policies of President Eisenhower's successor.

★ ★ ★

The address will be given at a dinner sponsored by the Committee for International Economic Growth and the Committee to Strengthen the Frontiers of Freedom.

Leaders of Congress, government, business, labor and farm organizations are expected to attend, along with ambassadors of the 15 nations that Eisenhower visited on his recent tours of Europe, Asia and Latin America.

The President plans to fly to Ft. Benning, Ga., tomorrow to view infantry training maneuvers for one day.

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — This city's 5,500 telephone subscribers were scheduled to strike today. The weapon — leaving the telephone off the hook.

Representatives of organizations fighting the billing procedures and call limits of the Compania Telefonica Fronteriza called the strike at a meeting Saturday.

Wrong Number Slows Reprieve From Judge

Convict-Author Meets Last Death Date Before 60 Witnesses

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman went to his death in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber today with a smile on his lips.

The condemned sex terrorist who had staved off execution for 12 years died a few moments before a federal judge was preparing to give a 30-minute stay to hear a final appeal from his attorney, and just after the United States and California Supreme Courts had rejected appeals.

Chessman missed another stay by minutes because of a wrong telephone number.

Federal District Judge Louis E. Goodman said he telephoned San Quentin to order a 30-minute stay of execution today to hear arguments on a new petition to delay the convict-author's death.

The judge told his secretary, Celeste Hickey, to get the Warden on the phone.

But the first time she dialed San Quentin Prison, she did not have the first 4 in the telephone number—GL 4-1460. She went back to Deputy Court Clerk Edward C. Evensen to get the number again.

When she had the warden's office on the phone, she turned it over to Judge Goodman. The judge was informed the pellets had already been dropped, and there was no turning back.

The potassium cyanide pellets dropped into the acid in the apple-green death chamber at 12:03:45 a.m. Pontiac time, and Chessman was pronounced dead at 12:12.

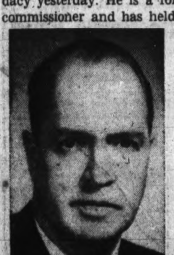

Just as the fatal fumes rose, the 38-year-old Chessman managed a laugh, almost a chuckle.

No one could hear him through the sound-proof walls of the hermetically sealed chamber, but he spent his final moments mouthing words directed toward Mrs. Eleanor Black, Los Angles reporter, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Don Leonard Challenges Bentley in Senate Race

DETROIT (AP)—Donald S. Leonard, prominent Republican, has challenged Rep. Alvin M. Bentley for the nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Leonard, a Detroit attorney, announced his candidacy yesterday. He is a former Michigan State Police commissioner and has held numerous other public offices. In 1954 he was the Republican candidate for governor, but lost to Democrat G. Mennen Williams.

Bentley, of Owosso, had been the only candidate for the nomination in the Aug. 2 primary.

The winner apparently will face Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara. McNamara's first term expires this year and he is seeking re-election. So far no rival has come up against him in Democratic ranks.

Leonard, 56, said he made his decision to run after long consideration.

★ ★ ★

"I wanted to wait to see who else might want to take him (Bentley) on," Leonard said. "It was a tough decision for several reasons—not the least of them money."

Leonard said he believes Bentley is "too conservative" for metropolitan areas of the state, especially Wayne County.

The father of three charged in his announcement statement that those who prepared what he called a "hurry-up" job of legislation on the subject waited for an election year to take advantage of "partisan political value."

Congressman Bentley, a manufacturer, said Leonard's entry would add to what he called a "rising tide of Republican enthusiasm" in Michigan. He said Leonard's decision was a good move for the Republican Party.

Leonard was State Police head from 1947 to 1952. He also has been city police commissioner at Detroit.

Tax Hike a Must, Says City Cleric

The way the Rev. Lenworth R. Miner sees it, children, not the school system, are in jeopardy if voters don't approve the 2.8 mill increase in the voted tax rate.

As minister of the Macedonia Baptist Church, Rev. Miner sees problems in terms of human values, not issues.

"Poor education shows up in young people when they display an inability to take advantage of opportunities," he says. "It follows that we need whatever it takes to carry out the effectiveness of the educational program.

"A school system, after all, should keep pace with all the other segments of the community. The cost of operation has increased with business and industry. So has the cost of living.

Of course, costs have gone up for the school system, too.

"Our population growth in this area is reflected in the student enrollment in our schools.

★ ★ ★

"These increases mean additional needs. We must meet these needs."

Rev. Miner, 420 Bloomfield Ave., is secretary of the Acting Steering Committee of the Clergy Friends of Michigan State University Oakland, a continuing education program.

"This fine university in our community is one of the opportunities that must not slip through the fingers of our youth he says.

"We must finance a school system of quality in order to have young people of quality."

★ ★ ★

The Board of Education's request for a tax increase will be presented on a May 9 ballot. All registered voters in the school district may cast their ballots.

U.S. Poised to Fire Atlas 9,000 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is ready for an attempt to send an Atlas missile on a record-breaking 9,000-mile flight from Florida past the tip of South Africa into the southern reaches of the Indian Ocean.

The shot may be fired this week.

The Defense Department said in response to an inquiry today that it will be made in the near future, will not be announced ahead of time, and will be a test under extreme conditions of the first operational U. S. intercontinental ballistic missile.

Await Tax Word From Lansing

Supervisors OK 1960 County Levy Values Unanimously

County supervisors, after today's routine and unanimous approval of the 1960 tax equalization totals, must await word from Lansing to see what officials there might do.

★ ★ ★

Although they approved the county total of $1,893,302,301, supervisors, at the time, refused to go along with the Hillsdale County Board of Supervisors who asked in a letter that Oakland County go on record opposing a reported 15-percent hike around the state.

Oakland's opposition to the proposal was voiced last week in Lansing by three of the county's top equalization officials.

What developed from a meeting with a representative of the State Tax Commission will be disclosed tomorrow morning at a meeting of the Equalization Committee of the Board.

★ ★ ★

It is expected to be an optimistic report. The Press learned from William B. Grabendike, county equalization director and one of the three men who made the special trip to Lansing.

"I think we are going to have a very fair settlement," Grabendike said today.

He wouldn't elaborate much further, he said, until the committee hears his report. Grabendike did say, however, that he was "of the impression that we should have some consideration" of their protests that their figures not be increased.

★ ★ ★

It's the county's belief that the figure already is in line with a state sought level of 50 per cent of actual cash value under present economic conditions.

★ ★ ★

This has come about, Grabendike explained, by following the state 1955 manual of equalization closely in the sampling of real and personal property.

Oakland's equalization is up $70,386,973 over last year's $1,822,915,328. New construction caused the increase.

★ ★ ★

A tax rate for the county won't be completed until state figures are released next Monday.

Kierdorf Must Wait for Parole

It may take a week or so before Herman Kierdorf leaves Jackson Prison on parole.

★ ★ ★

Bernard Kamerschen, head of the parole office in Pontiac, said parole routine would take that long.

Kamerschen said he first has to receive Kierdorf's criminal file from Jackson, then make a routine check of the place where the prisoner will live, if released.

In Kierdorf's case, this will be his home in Madison Heights.

Kamerschen foresaw no reason for not reporting to the Parole Board in Lansing favorably on the conditions of Kierdorf's parole.

★ ★ ★

The subject of employment won't be involved, he noted, Kierdorf, 69, retired with a pension two years ago, shortly before his nephew, Frank Kierdorf, was fatally burned in the arson of a Flint dry cleaning shop.

★ ★ ★

Herman Kierdorf was a business agent for the Teamster Union council in Detroit and an aide to Teamster President James R. Hoffa. Frank was a Teamster business agent in Flint.

Convicted of possessing a home-made pistol silencer discovered during the arson investigation, Kierdorf was declared eligible for parole late last week after serving nine months of a one- to five-year term.

60 WITNESSES SILENT

Chessman, condemned on two counts of kidnaping with bodily harm in Los Angeles lovers' lanes in 1948, took a deep breath as the fumes rose.

At 10:09 a.m., Pacific Daylight Time, a little over 5 minutes after the pellets had dropped, his shoulders quivered slightly.

He had entered the chamber at 10:03 a.m., preceded by one guard and followed by three others.

The 60 witnesses jammed in front of the thick windows of the death chamber were silent. Hardly a breath stirred.

Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff announced the official time of death.

The venetian blind behind which Warden Fred R. Dickson stands a little distance from the chamber was partly open. Usually it is shut during an execution.

Chessman's 12-year court fight to escape the gas chamber ended with a series of three denials—all within 45 minutes of the execution hour—and an intended 30 minute stay of execution that came too late.

The California State Supreme Court denied a series of petitions filed Saturday and Sunday after unprecedented special session in chambers in San Francisco this morning.

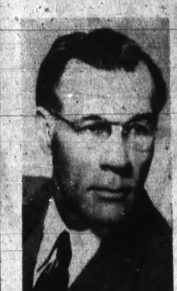

They met again to deny a new petition for a stay filed 45 minutes before the death hour. Denial was at 9:50.

In Washington Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States refused to grant a stay only minutes before the death hour.

An estimated 16 million non-farm families in the United States that own their homes today are compared with only about 3.5 million in 1900.

200 Insurance Men in City for Meetings

Some 200 insurance men from throughout the state began a two-day conference in Pontiac this afternoon.

Today the Michigan Life Insurance Leaders Assn. is holding its annual meeting and tomorrow the 81st annual convention of the Michigan State Assn. of Life Underwriters will take place here.

Headquarters for both will be the Pontiac Elks Temple. Local members of the life leaders association greeted state officials and delegates at a panel of trust experts gathering at 2 p. m. today.

At a 6:30 banquet, the group will hear featured speaker Alden C. Palmer, commissioner of insurance of Indiana.

The MALU convention tomorrow will be the second ever held in Pontiac. The 1945 convention was here.

Host group will be the Pontiac Life Underwriters Assn. Richard Mineweaser, president of the local association, will act as master-of-ceremonies.

Theme for the convention is "The Wide-Track to Financial Independence."

★ ★ ★

Featured speakers will be Dr. Carl S. Winters, staff lecturer of the General Motors Corp., and three prominent insurancemen, Willard Brudi, Owen Stansell and F. G. McNamara.

USE WIDE-TRACK THEME

The "wide-track" in the convention theme is significant of the way in which the program has been designed for the interests of this motor-minded city.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Winters' speech, "Information, Inspiration and Perspiration in Selling," promises to be the day's highlight, emphasizing the relationship between insurance and the auto industry.

He is scheduled to speak at 1:45. Brudi, second vice president, Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., will be the day's first speaker at 10 a. m.

His topic will be "These Precious Days." Stansell, CLU agent, the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, will speak on "Professional Selling on the Debit" at 11:05.

Following a noon luncheon, McNamara, a general agent of the Old Line Life Insurance Co. and a trustee of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters, will speak on "The Maturing of a Life Insurance Man."

Model wide-track 1960 Pontiac convertibles will be given as prizes. Registration and a coffee and doughnuts "breakfast" will start the convention at 9.

Final order of business will be the association's annual meeting at 3 when it will elect officers for the coming year.

During the day's meetings, wives of insurance men will be given a tour of Pontiac Motor Division, and have open bowling at the Elks Temple.

Ike Asserts Peace Rides on Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today that worldwide peace and stability depends on the soundness of the U.S. dollar.

The President told some 5,000 cheering businessmen delegates and guests he will send to Congress this week another message calling for "responsibility in handling the fiscal affairs of this nation."

★ ★ ★

The country, Eisenhower said, must "reject expedients that might be thought profitable in an election year."

Eisenhower did not divulge, in his 10-minute talk to the chamber's 48th annual meeting, the proposed contents of the forthcoming message.

★ ★ ★

But it was assumed from the context that he would again seek removal of the interest ceiling on government bonds, argue against enactment of a billion-dollar housing bill, and speak out anew against heavy outlays for federal aid to education and assistance to depressed areas.

Fears Red Space Try

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) says he has a "hunch" the Russians will try to put a man in space or shoot a rocket at Mars prior to the Big Four summit conference May 16.

Foreign Ministers OK Summit Plan

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, meeting within the confines of a city under martial law, today endorsed Western proposals on disarmament to be put to the Soviet Union at the summit.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter read to the conference a special message from President Eisenhower warning that the Western Big Three meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, opening in Paris May 16, probably will not produce any quick or spectacular results.

Eisenhower cautioned against hoping for too much. He said the Paris meeting is only one more "in what may prove a long succession of diplomatic exchanges dealing with some of the most difficult problems of our era."

Escaped Trusty Nabbed After Shooting

Small gasped. Navarre called police.

Small was wounded twice. One bullet passed through him puncturing his right lung. Another creased his side just under his right arm, doctors said.

He was taken off the critical list at 10:30 this morning. Small identified his assailant as Strachan when State Police detectives showed him photographs of Strachan at the hospital.

Police throughout the area began their search at about 7:30.

An estimated 80 or more troopers, police from surrounding townships, and sheriff's deputies joined in the manhunt.

State Police came from the Pontiac, Redford, Center Line, Romeo, and Flat Rock Posts.

They picked up Strachan's footprints at the shooting scene but lost them at Lone Pine and Middle Belt.

The big break came at about 3 a.m. when Troopers Charles E. Hendershot and Ronald D. Gowin of the Pontiac Post picked up the tracks crossing Walnut Lake road west of Middle Belt.

★ ★ ★

"We just kept walking every inch of every road covering the shoulders with a fine tooth comb," said Sgt. Lorenz Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac Post.

Strachan's tracks were then discovered at Middle Belt and 14-Mile road, then crossing Northwestern near 12-Mile, and finally crossing 12-Mile near the subdivision at Inkster and 12-Mile road.

BEGIN CHECKING

Troopers began checking houses under construction. The same two men, Hendershot and Gowin, found tracks around a tri-level house under construction.

There were no signs of entry into the house. For an hour about 50 deputies and police searched the area around the house on Herndonwood street.

At about 8 a.m. two carpenters, Joe Lazzari and Martino Guild, arrived at the house to finish some woodworking.

★ ★ ★

They went in. The two troopers and Detective Hubert Hanley, of the Redford Post, followed.

Hanley noticed a small workbench under a scuttle hole leading to the attic. The carpenters said they hadn't left it there Saturday.

Hanley climbed up and looked around. He saw Strachan sleeping on wallboard between the ceiling joints, a gun in his hand.

Hanley got back down. In 15 minutes the house was surrounded with police carrying carbines and sawed-off shotguns.

Hanley shouted to Strachan to "Throw your gun down and come down. You are surrounded."

There was a pause.

"Don't shoot, I'm coming down," Strachan said. He threw his gun through the hole and climbed down.

The search was over.

Strachan is suspected of robbing some 20 cabbies in the Detroit area.

Strachan was booked at the Oakland County Jail Sunday afternoon. He said he "only robbed about 15 cab drivers, not as many as police said."

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he was taking Strachan on an old warrant to avoid legal problems which could arise in the light of a recent State Supreme Court ruling limiting the time a suspect can be held before appearing in court to answer charges.

Taylor said he planned to ask that a bond of $25,000 be set on Strachan.

"Then we can hold him on a high bond and wait to see what happens to Small before deciding whether to ask a higher charge," Taylor explained.

Strike Cuts Off Buses to Detroit

15,000 Commuters and 1,000 School Children From County Lose Rides

Some 15,000 commuters from Oakland County and another 10,000 from downriver, were without bus service to downtown Detroit today as a strike between maintenance workers and the Great Lakes Transit Co. went into its second day.

★ ★ ★

Also affected by the strike were more than 1,000 school children from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area who rely on the buses to transport them to class.

★ ★ ★

The maintenance workers went on strike at midnight Saturday when their contract expired. They are members of United Auto Workers Local 417 in Birmingham and Local 583 in Wyandotte.

Bus drivers, members of the AFL-CIO Local 1308, have refused to cross the mechanics' picket lines.

Harold Marthenke, a federal mediator, said the company and the Union "were so deadlocked" when wage negotiations broke down Saturday that "it will be difficult to say what will develop."

No further negotiations were scheduled but Marthenke said he would attempt to bring the two parties together as soon as possible this week.

★ ★ ★

He said the Union was requesting a three-year contract with a 10-cent-an-hour raise each year.

The company, he said, was offering to restore a 15-cent-an-hour pay cut imposed on the Wyandotte garage workers last October and continue the rest of the contract.

The company, a division of the American Transit Corp., of St. Louis, Mo., said it "couldn't afford a raise," Marthenke said.

Everett Farr, manager of the Birmingham garage, said that 68 buses in the Birmingham garage were halted by the strike, including six school buses.

This morning, only two pickets were at the Birmingham garage, Farr said.

William C. Marshall, president of the Bus Drivers' Local said his drivers would continue to honor the picket line but would return to work only if the picket lines were withdrawn, but then the buses could only operate a few days without mechanics.

Wants City Commission to Review Fringe Zoning

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners will be asked tonight to consider the "urgent need" of reviewing the existing zoning of "fringe" areas within two or three blocks of Woodward avenue and Maple road.

★ ★ ★

The area is now restricted to single residences.

In a letter to the Commission Lewis K. Marshall, of 569 Pierce stated:

"If the city really wants to re-establish and hold the former attractive appearance and atmosphere of 'Downtown Birmingham' these fringe areas must be rezoned to a rating that will enable the owners to afford the maintenance or new construction required to meet this objective."

Marshall said that a nonresidential or professional rezoning would serve this purpose.

"This would permit doctors, dentists, lawyers, architects or engineers to capitalize on the physical advantages of these locations and it should bring in more taxes to the city."

He said the change is "absolutely necessary to maintain the high character" of the community.

"This matter has been discussed with neighboring property owners and we find that generally they concur in the rezoning," he said.

"After all these years of living here, we feel strongly that a 'Professional' of some equivalent classification is the only way to save our property from slipping to an undesirable rooming house in the near future," Marshall said in ending his letter.

★ ★ ★

Long active in the Boy Scout movement, Paul Wilson of 962 Puritan Rd., has been selected by Region Seven of the Boy Scouts of America for the Silver Antelope Award.

The award is the highest citation a region can bestow on adult volunteer scout leaders.

Wilson is vice president of the Detroit Area Council and has been active in scouting since 1940.

★ ★ ★

He also is vice president of the Standard Accident Insurance Co., Detroit.

A display of sculptured, hand-made and imported candles will be shown from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday beginning today at Wax, Inc., 378 E. Maple.

★ ★ ★

Arson a Possibility in Waterford Blaze

Waterford Township firemen were today investigating the possibility of arson in the burning of an unoccupied furnished house owned by David Esahaki at 1470 Beechland St.

★ ★ ★

The fire was discovered at 3 a.m. Sunday by an unidentified person who called the township fire department.

★ ★ ★

The interior of the house was completely gutted and the furnishings destroyed, according to firemen who battled the blaze for four hours.

Nine Are Injured in 3-Car Crash

Nine persons were injured Saturday afternoon in a three-car collision on Baldwin avenue at Hollis street, according to Pontiac Police.

Admitted to Pontiac General Hospital and in satisfactory condition today are Dana Taft, 86, of 23 Florence St., a passenger in his car, Ruth Olsen, 66, of 80 Home St., and Mrs. Vivian Frisch, 32, of 3676 Grafton St., Orion Township.

Also injured were Mrs. Frisch's husband, Douglas, 34, who was driving, and their four children, Deborah, 4, Larry, 11, Terry, 1, and Danny, 7, and the driver of the third car, Donald Davis, 22, of 731 Portland St.

★ ★ ★

All were treated and released. Witnesses told police that Davis struck the Taft car from behind as Taft turned onto Baldwin. Taft then shot across the center line and struck the Frisch car head-on, police said.

GIVES $1¼ MILLION—Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J., has received a gift of $1¼ million from Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McDermott of Dallas, Texas. McDermott, a 1919 Stevens graduate, is chairman of the executive committee of Texas Instruments, a Dallas electronics firm.

Wealthy Retiree Collapses in Cafe on Skid Row

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clinton Fleming, 86, a retired railroader, collapsed Sunday in a cafeteria in a section of town filled with down-and-outers.

In his tattered clothing, hospital attendants found nine $1,000 U.S. savings bonds, 13 $500 bonds, $400 in cash and a bank book revealing his total worth at close to $30,000.

"I worked 28 years for the railroad and I saved what I earned and invested it wisely," Fleming said. "I never married, you see."

TWA Gets Extension of Ocean Service Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has approved a request by Trans World Airlines (TWA) to suspend trans-atlantic service an additional year until May 1, 1961, at Chicago and Detroit.

TWA sought the extension on grounds that there were too few trans-Atlantic passengers to and from Chicago and Detroit for the service to be economical.

The suspension has been in effect since last Oct. 6.

No Mail Subsidy at Present

Capital Airlines Refused

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has denied for a second time a request by Capital Airlines for an immediate mail subsidy totaling almost 13 million dollars.

The board said its policy regarding the award of subsidy on a temporary basis "does not envisage that any or all air carriers in financial straits shall be awarded subsidy simply on the filing of a petition."

The board has ordered a formal proceeding on Capital's request for subsidy. It first denied on April 8 the application for immediate action. Capital thereupon asked for reconsideration.

The airline pointed out it is faced with a critical financial emergency because of steps taken by Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., to foreclose a chattel mortgage on the Capital fleet.

Vickers is suing for back payments of more than half of the 68 million dollars pledged by Capital in payment for 60 Viscount turbo-jet planes purchased from the British firm.

47,000 Reds in Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—There are 47,000 Communist Party members in Japan, according to Justice Minister Hiroyo Ino. He said that more than 10,000 party members were employed by the government or by important industries.

AF Target Hits Home

TOKYO (AP) — An 18-pound target towed by a U.S. Air Force T33 jet plane was accidentally dropped today on a Japanese home. Nobody was reported injured. The Air Force said the target made a small hole in the roof and ceiling and caused minor damage in the home of a railway employe near Hanno City.

State's Personnel Chief Takes Over Post Today

LANSING (UPI)—Franklin K. DeWald takes over today as the state's chief of personnel.

* * *

DeWald, 50, leaves a position as director of civilian personnel for the U.S. Navy to come to Michigan.

* * *

He replaces Arthur G. Rasch, who retired after more than 20 years in state service and will spend his retirement in Grand Rapids.

1,000 Flee for May Day

BERLIN (UPI) — More than 1,000 East Germans fled to West Berlin over the weekend, many of them taking advantage of the Communist May Day celebrations to do so, refugee officials reported today.

The ship canal which connects Houston, Tex., with the Gulf of Mexico is 57 miles long.

The Better Career Opportunities Are in Business

The demand for well-trained men and women in business exceeds the supply. Employers today require a higher degree of training, and promotions go to those prepared to accept greater responsibilities.

High school seniors and college students interested in the most desirable office employment are invited to investigate the thorough and effective Institute training. Historically the success of Pontiac Business Institute can be attributed to the fact that its graduates have been and are successful on the job.

Ford to Expand Plants at Rouge

Will Modernize Engine, Transmission, Foundry Divisions

DETROIT (UPI)— Ford Motor Co. has announced a $7,400,000 expansion and modernization program at its Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn.

A spokesman said it is part of a continuing Rouge modernization program which began after World War II.

The current phase of the program consists of three projects.

One calls for the expansion of the standard transmission-radiator plant, and the third involves expansion and improvements in the iron foundry.

Announcement of the projects bolstered hope of the United Auto Workers Union for a job conference between Henry Ford II and UAW President Walter Reuther.

The Union has been seeking the meeting. A company spokesman said the Union's request "is still under discussion."

Playground Provides a Geography Lesson

SHAKER HEIGHTS, Ohio (UPI) — Youngsters get a geography lesson while playing outside Mercer School, thanks to efforts of the local Parent-Teachers Assn.

PTA members painted a 42-foot map of the United States on playground pavement. The states are painted blue, yellow or pink, and names and outlines are in black.

The youngsters use the map for relay races from state to state and other geography-type games.

Skin Divers Seek Bomber Wreckage

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Skin divers attempt today to find the wreckage of a Royal Canadian Air Force bomber that crashed into Lake Michigan near here Friday night while attempting an emerbency landing.

Efforts to locate the aircraft and the bodies of six RCAF men believed trapped in the B25 momber were unsuccessful yesterday.

Local advertisers invest and estimated $2,400,000,000 a year in daily newspapers—six times more than in radio, nine times more than in TV.

Mouse Roams House to Gander at Video

BALTIMORE (UPI) — C. Heath Johnson says there's a mouse in his house that creeps out on a desk top every evening to watch television, for as long as 30 minutes at a time.

* * *

Johnson doesn't plan to try to trap the mouse. He has nothing against it, he says, except its taste for TV spectaculars.

3 Holes in the Ground Boom School's Campus

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (UPI) — Three holes in the ground have enabled Hopewell School here to expand its campus area from 12 to 52 acres.

The holes are oil wells, drilled when a pool of oil was found. The first ceased production some time ago, the second was dry, and the third has now been capped.

They brought the school district about $3,000, enough to acquire additional land.

Would Accept No. 2 Post

Morse Still Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) says that although he still is a serious candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination he would gladly run as vice president.

* * *

Morse stuck by an earlier prediction that he will go to the Democratic convention with about 100 delegates—far short of the 761 votes he would need to win the presidential nomination.

* * *

He predicted Sunday in a television interview—NBC, Meet the Press—that the convention will cast at least 10 ballots without picking a nominee.

Then, he added, "even Wayne Morse could be nominated for one of the two posts."

Mueller Warns Against Slump

Says 60s May Sputter if Borrowing, Spending by Government Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller cautioned today that the "soaring 60s" could turn into the "slump 60s" if the government pursues a course of borrowing and spending.

In an address prepared for the 48th annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Mueller predicted 1960 would be the most prosperous year, and the 1960s the most prosperous decade, in history.

* * *

But this will depend, he said, on keeping private enterprise free from excessive government-made burdens and from a fatal dose of inflation."

Several thousand businessmen and guests, opening the three-day chamber convention, were to hear also an informal talk by President Eisenhower.

Mueller said he was proud to speak for a Republican administration which strives to "maintain a climate favorable to private initiative."

* * *

"During the last seven years, the American people have had more jobs, more new homes, new schools, new hospitals and higher income than in any previous seven years," Mueller said.

There are now about 300,000 outdoor gas lights in operation in the United States.

U.S. Plans Would End India's Food Shortage

"Among the many urgent problems of the 20th Century, hunger persists as a shadow over the world," declared Henry G. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation in announcing a $10.5 million grant to help increase India's food production.

A survey last year by a team of agricultural specialists sponsored by the Ford Foundation at the request of the Indian government, showed that continent faces a dire threat of a 28 million ton food shortage by 1966. Current production is about 70 million tons annually.

Demonstration projects are to be conducted in seven of India's 14 states with the Indian government establishing similar projects in the other seven. The program involves 5.8 million acres—1.5% of the arable land — populated by five million people, most of them farmers.

Part of the Ford gift will finance Indian and foreign agricultural experts to conduct the program, build centers for training specialists, provide seed treatment and soil testing facilities. Current assistance by the International Co-operative Association may be extended and the Rockefeller Foundation also will support the program.

★ ★ ★

A serious shortage in India is chemical fertilizers although the raw material is available. In this connection Jonathan Garst, brother of the Roswell Garst whose farm Khrushchev visited in Iowa, has an interesting suggestion. Why not, says this agricultural specialist, build fertilizer plants in India on a production line basis and end hunger quickly for that country's 400 million people.

Mr. Garst would build one standardized 100,000 ton nitrogenures factory per month for three years. With heavy fertilization production would be increased enormously. The cost, estimated at $600 million, would be met with loans from international sources with the U.S. putting up one-quarter of the total.

The Garst plan has been received with a great deal of interest by officials in Washington who see the dramatic as well as the humanitarian possibilities in the proposal.

The project would bring modern methods to Asia in a major way. Its propaganda value would be tremendous. India, for the first time in recorded history, would be self sufficient in food.

GM's First Quarter Hits All-Time High

General Motors' record smashing first quarter sales and payrolls report is especially significant because it is not just a high since the auto-age statistical guidepost year 1955.

It beats that — it's the best three months in GM history.

★ ★ ★

Net income of 4,324 million writes a new mark in the record book. Weekly paycheck averages are up, employment is higher, stock share earnings are bigger, production is up.

These figures erase those of 1955 and should eliminate the mental attitude that GM, the auto industry and this community will never hit the highs of that superlative season of five years ago.

★ ★ ★

The industry has undergone significant changes in the past year, as the United States firms moved to cut the rising foreign sales with smaller American cars.

There are more "compact" cars slated for next year, along with even further changes in the automotive industry, a business which has always been more fluid than many others.

The increases in GM's first quarter report and the changes in the business should show clearly that 1955 has been eclipsed as a landmark and should be moved back into the scrapbook.

It's no longer the peak and has been surpassed, and higher goals are ahead.

"Half of the 600 doctors at a Philadelphia convention admitted they hadn't had physical checkups in the last four years."—Press report. It is wondered if this was due to the press of time or a lack of confidence in doctors.

We Can Dream, Can't We?

David Lawrence Says:

Fulbright Supporting an Aggressor

WASHINGTON — Does Chairman Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee speak for the Democratic Party when he takes the side of Dictator Nasser against the Israeli government? Sens. Kennedy, Humphrey, Symington and Johnson disagree with the Arkansas senator in his latest pronouncement that glosses over Nasser's refusal to open the Suez Canal to all shipping.

LAWRENCE

Sen. Fulbright in his statement castigates his fellow senators—many of them liberal Democrats, like Senator Douglas of Illinois—because they voted last week against the use of American taxpayers' funds to help Nasser carry on his economic boycott against another country in the free world.

★ ★ ★

The House of Representatives has adopted a similar provision advocating the principles of free navigation.

Nasser has ignored the pleas of President Eisenhower to reopen the Suez Canal to the ships of all nations, though diplomatic help toward that end was promised by Eisenhower after Britain and France intervened in 1956 in the Middle East war. At least it was a factor in placating Israel, which early in 1957 withdrew its armed forces from the battle zones with that understanding.

The United Nations has tried repeatedly by its resolutions since 1948 to bring about a reconciliation between Israel and Egypt. But Nasser refuses to negotiate directly or indirectly. He says a state of war exists, and he uses that technical reason in trying to justify closing the Suez Canal to Israel's shipping.

If it be conceded that a "state of war" exists, then why did the World Bank, which is part of the United Nations Organization, decide last December to make a loan of 56 million dollars to Egypt to widen and improve the Suez Canal? Cannot it be argued that the World Bank has thus taken sides in a "war" and has helped one of the so-called belligerents? Plainly Dictator Nasser cannot have it both ways.

SEAMEN REFUSE

Within the last few days another grave development has occurred. A maritime union in New York City decided not to help unload ships coming from Egypt. Immediately the maritime unions in Egypt and other Arab countries retaliated by refusing to unload American ships in their ports.

But the real reason for the boycott imposed in this country is the union's fear of damage to the jobs of American seamen in the future, because the Cairo government persists in refusing to let ships from any country go through the canal if, at any time previously, they have carried any cargoes to Israel.

This means that American companies with products destined for other countries in the world must maintain a fleet of ships solely for the Israeli trade, and cannot even separate the voyages of their own ships. Once a vessel serves Israel, it goes on the blacklist imposed by Nasser not only against Americans but against the ships of all other countries.

Within the last 24 hours, Nasser has issued a bitter attack on President Eisenhower blaming him for the boycott by American seamen in New York City. He holds President Eisenhower responsible for what the unions are doing, though he himself disclaims any responsibility for what the Arab unions are doing.

Should American taxpayers' funds be used to support any regime which discriminates against American seamen in this manner? Although the Senate and House recorded an emphatic "No," Sen. Fulbright now accuses his fellow members of Congress of playing politics and of being influenced by a "pressure" group. The veterans committee of the Jewish War Veterans called this remark "an insult to the loyalty and patriotism of the members of this group who have served this country loyally in war and peace."

Sen. Fulbright contends that the action by the House and Senate has "seriously compromised the conduct of foreign policy by the President.

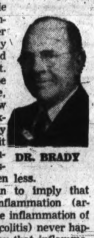

But it is the Nasser government which is trying to sabotage American foreign policy. Within the last few days the vice foreign minister of the United Arab Republic (Egypt), on his visit to Chile, told a news conference there that the Cairo government "will resolutely help Cuba defend herself against aggression if Cuba requests it, and if it is within our possibilities."

Dr. William Brady Says:

When They Don't Know, It's Arthritis or Colitis

Doctors who diagnose or treat your ailment as "arthritis" or "colitis" as though it were a specific disease amenable to the latest wonder drug or other expensive remedy are cryptic and vague about it. They have to be because of course, they don't know what they're talking about. They get away with it because fortunately, their customers know even less.

DR. BRADY

I do not mean to imply that genuine joint inflammation (arthritis) or genuine inflammation of the large bowel (colitis) never happens. I merely say that inflammation is only rarely a feature or factor of chronic joint disability or chronic colon derangement, and therefore labeling the one "arthritis" and the other "colitis" is just a quackish way of exploiting popular ignorance and credulity.

A bulletin of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation said:

"The principal shortcoming of modern drug therapy" (of so-called rheumatoid arthritis) "is that while the results are more dramatic and immediate, they disappear when medication is discontinued. Besides, the various drugs in use today" (drugs introduced in the past six years are not exceptional) "have not shown conclusively that they can alter the natural course of the disease or prevent crippling."

Since more and more people are aware of the meaninglessness of "arthritis" more and more doctors are trying to modernize their nomenclature.

For instance, many well-meaning but still muddled "authorities" are fond of the term "degenerative arthritis" by way of a compromise with everyday chronic joint disability—which is degeneration of joint tissues. Seldom is there any sign of inflammation present, and therefore it is wrong calling degeneration "arthritis."

"The exact cause or causes of degenerative arthritis are still poorly understood,' says a doctor in a newspaper article. This doctor asserts that "degenerative joint disease is not an inflammatory disease of the joints" — and yet the doctor repeatedly calls it arthritis.

A professor of medicine in a medical college said in a newspaper article, "Then there is degenerative joint disease (osteoarthritis), which comes from general wear and tear — if we live long enough." The "wear and tear" idea was probably borrowed from Doctor Osler.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

"Doctors have wiped out the danger of many diseases — we haven't done as well against the spiritual killers."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

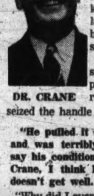

You Can Stop Household Accidents

Timmy is near death in the hospital because of a widespread fault of mothers, so heed this case and immediately train yourselves to avoid such kitchen dangers. Cook books tell you the recipes for tasty foods, but be sure you cooks know how to avoid hazards to life in preparing such menus.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-449: Timmy L., aged 3, is now in a hospital.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," his mother tearfully explained, "I feel so terrible.

DR. CRANE

"I was getting dinner the other night and had a kettle full of goulash on a front burner of the stove.

"When I answered the telephone, Timmy reached up and seized the handle of the pan.

"He pulled it over on himself and was terribly burned. They say his condition is critical. Dr. Crane, I think I will die if he doesn't get well.

"Why did I ever answer that telephone, anyway?"

ADVICE TO COOKS

Timmy's mother is expected to answer the phone and so are most mothers throughout America.

★

But all of you should teach yourself the simple safety habit of using the two back burners on your kitchen stoves before you employ either of the two front burners.

Most of you, even with toddlers in the house, forget this basic rule and thus endanger your children by placing your skillets or stew pans on the front burners.

Sooner or later, you will leave a handle extending outward, so a toddler may thus be tempted to reach up and grasp it.

Then terrible burns may result, some of which can produce the death of your youngster. Indeed, you adults occasionally knock a pan of boiling liquid over on yourselves, too.

★ ★ ★

So make it a standard cooking rule to use the back burners FIRST.

Only if you need three or more burners should you ever employ the front burners!

And even then, please remember to turn the handles away from the front.

You should teach yourself such safety measures long before your first baby arrives so you will automatically do the right thing in a crisis later on.

In medicine, we train interns to follow the correct methods ALWAYS so they will not need to think about such mechanical movements in an emergency.

★ ★ ★

In the Air Corps, too, the same intense drill is routine so an aviator doesn't need to wonder what to do in a crisis.

You mothers should employ similar drill regarding household dangers.

SAFETY PSYCHOLOGY

For example, NEVER story hazardous drugs in the bath room medicine cabinet.

Don't leave cleaning fluids or acids or lye standing anywhere around the house where curious youngsters can drink them. Beware of pointed scissors, for many children puncture an eyeball running with such pointed objects in their hands.

And NEVER leave loaded guns, revolvers, shotguns, etc., anywhere in your house. Moreover, keep all ammunition locked away from kids and don't leave the keys where youngsters can find them.

Beware of BB guns, too, and toy bows and arrows, for they can easily cause blindness.

★ ★ ★

Good parents use "horse sense" and don't give in to children who beg for guns or other dangerous toys. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 6c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

School Issue Continues as Main Topic of Interest

It has been implied the 1.555 mills of tax rate levied for buildings in 1959 is somehow questionable.

★ ★ ★

Income to the school district between 1957 and 1959 from the voted and allocated tax rates was reduced by nearly $750,000. To absorb this loss, the School Board had to discontinue the pay-as-you-go financing of buildings and do long-term financing. Under Michigan laws, the Board is permitted to levy taxes to repay long term borrowing so long as the total debt of the school district is less than two per cent of its total equalized valuation.

In taking this action, the Board was able to have sufficient operating income to continue the good educational program of the schools. If the Board had not, the educational program would have suffered.

★ ★ ★

It's been implied the School Board canceled a discussion before the League of Women Voters.

Board members and administration have presented the school story to more than 100 groups of citizens. Conflicts prevented the Board from being able to send a team to the League meeting April 27. The Board offered to have the team available May 4.

These important facts should be known by every citizen of the school district.

1. The vote will be for 2.8 mills. 2. In Pontiac, this will be a net increase of 1.4 mills, $1.40 per $1,000 of equalized valuation — $8.15 per year on an average home. 3. In townships, this will be a net increase of 2.8 mills, $2.80 per $1,000 of equalized valuation — $16 a year on an average home. 4. School tax rates will be the same in Pontiac and the townships. 5. All registered voters are eligible to vote May 9.

Monroe Ommen, Vice Pres.
Board of Education

Different teachers tell our children what could happen if the school tax increase isn't passed. They may have to buy their own books, pay tuition to junior and senior high schools if they live in the Townships and many other comments.

★ ★ ★

Are teachers thinking more of their increase in pay. Parents may not be against increased taxes if the money is used wisely and not on classy schools for beauty instead of necessary classrooms for more shops and education for our children.

★ ★ ★

This being Presidential year, people are more afraid of what could come next. If the School Board has enough to get by for two years, why not wait until then to enforce another tax and fill our empty rooms in schools we have. There's a public meeting Wednesday at Township Hall on Opdyke Road, so why not voice your opinion and learn more about the facts.

Everyone should vote for children's progress.

Mother of Two

More people are getting concerned about where our tax money goes. As a parent, taxpayer and PTA worker, I'm concerned, too. Our School Board should let us know what they're doing with our money before they do it.

★ ★ ★

We were to have a junior high on Baldwin Road which would take care of Wever, Owen and Hawthorne schools, but they built on Madison, Washington and others, so we have to wait. Worse, children in the Silver Lake area have to be moved again, taking them ten miles from our own area over crowded highways and overcrowded buses.

I've been to many educational classes and they tell us children shouldn't be changed, especially in junior high.

'Has Mentality Outgrown Our Morality?"

My mother used to call the "me" thinking "swollen head." Teens often think of "me." It's good when it helps correct faults, bad when it magnifies faults, importance, defects, etc. A wise parent can usually help prevent this, though.

★ ★ ★

Our moral growth is too far behind our mental growth. The same immorality present today has been with us from the beginning of time. No generation has benefited enough from mistakes of older generations. If our morals don't catch up, our mentality could be our destruction. And ignorance is no excuse today.

★ ★ ★

Some children will not listen to mother's advice without father to back it up. If father will join mother with moral teachings, it will not be easy to forget. Also, all school teachers should be of excellent moral character. People still have the same emotions — love, pride, hate, etc. But with moral improvement, hate and all indecent morals could be replaced with understanding and common sense.

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Drake Hotel in downtown Canton was gutted by fire Sunday night, and unofficial estimates were that the loss would amount to at least half a million dollars.

Tenants were removed safely from the 127-room hotel, which is about 80 years old. The hotel was about half full.

Almost Ignores Humphrey in West Virginia

Kennedy Smelling Sweet Success

By ARTHUR EDSON

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—The sweet smell of success surrounds Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), and he and his followers make sure no one forgets it.

Over and over again West Virginians are told that Kennedy has steadily won in the presidential primaries, and that voters can give his bandwagon just the push it needs to insure his nomination for president.

Kennedy's opponent in the West Virginia primaries May 10, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), is casually dismissed—in public at least—as a man who can't win the nomination, so why bother to vote for him?

★ ★ ★

Matt Reese, executive secretary of the West Virginians for Kennedy organization, put it this way: "Don't waste your vote on a man who cannot be elected."

This reporter has spent a couple of days with Kennedy in this mad scramble to gain West Virginia's favor. It was something like watching a ballet star trying to dance with a broken leg in a plaster cast.

Kennedy had the occupational disease of politicians—he had lost his voice.

★ ★ ★

Skeptics noticed that Kennedy managed a few words everywhere but that his voice seemed to improve miraculously whenever the crowds were large. Here in Parkersburg Sunday, where 4,000 showed up for free sandwiches at an ox roast, he gave a ringing speech in explaining how he couldn't talk.

★ ★ ★

But certainly Kennedy suffers less in such a situation than other politicians. As they say in sports, he has a powerful bench.

While Kennedy toured the towns along Cabin Creek, coal mining country hard hit by shutdowns, Reese stepped in as a pinch-hitter. A huge 340-pounder, Reese likes to stress Kennedy's war record—and point out that he is the only veteran running.

HAS SUBTLE WAY

This is a subtle way of saying that Humphrey, who was deferred because of a hernia, didn't serve in World War II.

"This is a hero," Reese said. "This is a heroic man."

As further evidence of his man's heroism, Reese said Kennedy was showing up despite doctor's orders that he should have stayed in bed.

In the evening, when the show moved to the Charleston area, Theodore S. Sorenson, Kennedy's administrative assistant, took over. At one stop, at a Unitarian church, Sorenson was able to deal with the religious issue, touchy here because Kennedy is a Roman Catholic campaigning in a Protestant state.

★ ★ ★

Sorenson said he's a Unitarian, from a family suspicious of Catholics, who has spent eight happy years in Kennedy's employ.

★ ★ ★

As the campaigners moved from Ravenswood here, through prosperous country along the beautiful Ohio, a new throat was hustled in. This time it was Ted Kennedy, the senator's young brother.

Ted not only dusted off Humphrey quickly—"The opponent of my brother here hasn't the slightest chance of becoming president"—but also hinted that Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo) had flunked their homework.

Having spurned the primaries, Ted said, they don't have firsthand knowledge of West Virginia.

Since other Kennedys, and numerous hired help, are eager to leap into the game, it's no wonder Humphrey has complained that he sometimes feels he's matched against a small army.

Teamsters Back Humphrey; Fine, Says Kennedy

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The state chief of West Virginia's Teamsters Sunday night endorsed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) in next week's presidential primary.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy's forces were jubilant.

"I'm sure the people of West Virginia are not going to let Jimmy Hoffa (Teamsters president) determine who should be the Democratic nominee for president," grinned Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

★ ★ ★

"I am glad to be opposed by Hoffa, because I regard him as wholly unfit to head a powerful organization in the United States," Kennedy added.

What! a Ticket? Thanks for Your Hospitality

IRON RIVER (UPI) — It may seem inhospitable, but the police departments of two Iron County communities plan to ticket all noncounty vehicles one day during Michigan Week, May 13-19.

Drivers passing through Iron River and Crystal Falls will be handed citations looking almost, but not quite, like traffic tickets. They will be handed out on Hospitality Day.

The difference: Occupants of vehicles so ticketed will be entitled to a snack and a free souvenir at the Chamber of Commerce offices in the two communities.

The souvenir will be a small bag of iron ore from the Menominee range.

Nanook Is the Favorite in U. of D. Turtle Race

DETROIT (UPI) — Nanook of the North was the odds-on favorite today to win the International Intercollegiate Turtle Race at noon at the University of Detroit.

However, Aesop out-of Phoebe by Leighton could give Nanook trouble. Aesop, a late entry, was checked out as okay for its maiden appearance in the classic race. Aesop is from Oxford University students in England.

So far, about 80 racing turtles have been entered from Ontario, California and Florida. The California Western University entry arrived by plane last Wednesday and has been in training ever since.

A special automatic Parkistanian turtle race starting gate has been installed at the specially built 20-foot turtle track in front of the student union building.

Janet Keegan, cochairman of the Turtle Racing Commission, the Turtle Racing Comission, said: "We have found that the size of the thoroughbred turtles is not a major factor. It is the spirit and lineage that counts most . . . breed is the important thing."

★ ★ ★

Miss Keegan said Nanook is perhaps the most temperamental of all entries. She called Nanook a high-strung and rather ferocious turtle.

She said the special starting gate was being used because the "booming of starting guns seems to have a bad effect on the nervous systems of turtles . . . also on students."

Hats Off to School Bus Drivers

50,000 Youngsters' Lives Rest in Very Capable Hands

Top Control, Gentle Ways Are Needed for This Job

One of the biggest tasks undertaken by schools in Oakland County every day is the safe delivery of more than 50,000 students who ride buses to and from school.

★ ★ ★

Given the sole responsibility of safeguarding the students, whether they be of kindergarten age or in high school, are nearly 500 school bus drivers from many walks of life.

Story and Photos by Jim Long

Making up the list of hand-picked drivers are factory workers, farmers, businessmen, retirees, clergymen and housewives and mothers.

The responsibilities of a driver to see that each and every pupil is protected from highway dangers increases tremendously when it is realized that they clock more than 4,250,000 miles every school year, or an equivalent of 170 times around the world.

"Good moral character, personality and appearance are all taken into consideration before hiring a driver," according to Clark Race, supervisor of transportation for the Huron Valley School District.

★ ★ ★

"When an applicant files for a job he is first taken on as a substitute driver for a short time in order to test his abilities first hand and to see how he gets along with children," Race explained.

Race, 60, who has headed the transportation division for the school for six years, drove school buses himself in the system from 1943 through 1956 and still substitutes when there is a need.

"Keeping discipline on a bus is the most important task for a driver," Race said. "And that can be a big job when there are anywhere from 25 to 75 passengers on each run."

Of the 23 drivers in Huron Valley School system, 17 of them are women, Race said.

'THEY'RE NATURALS'

"Mothers driving school buses are naturals since they encounter many of the same problems as at home."

Safety in getting on and off the buses is of the utmost importance and is stressed not only among pupils, but to drivers and parents alike.

"We have never had a serious accident, and if drivers would take that little extra bit of caution when they see a school bus, we never will," Race said.

In fact, all the school bus systems have safety records to be proud of.

According to Dr. William J. Emerson, Superintendent of the Oakland County School District, there hasn't been a serious school bus accident "in years."

GIVEN RULES

All children riding school buses are given rules and regulations to follow. Safety patrol boys and girls help keep order on each bus.

"However, should a pupil act up, his parents get two warnings to straighten him out; if there is a third time they must provide transportation themselves," Race said.

"We have very little fooling around on the buses," Race said.

Expressing the views of many bus drivers, Race said he didn't feel that the state laws regarding school buses were adequate "particularly when there are so many lives at stake."

Most of the driver's complaints stem from the most recent school bus law that requires cars to stop in both front and back of a school bus when it is discharging and picking up passengers.

"It seems to be a matter of educating the public to the law," Race said.

'MANY VIOLATIONS'

"Seldom a school day goes by that the law isn't violated many times over, but there is very little a driver can do about it."

"We can go to court with the license number of the car that has broken the law, but we are told that unless we can identify the driver there isn't much of a case.

REAL PROBLEM

"It is practically impossible to identify a driver in a speeding car and at the same time watch out for the children.

"The only sure way of catching someone on the offense is to have police spot them and arrest them at the scene. And you can't have police cars observing buses all the time."

"But until something better comes along in the way of protecting students, we can only hope that drivers take that little extra caution. It can mean so much."

SCHOOL DAY BEGINS — Given extra special attention are hundreds of kindergarten children transported to Oakland County schools by bus. They are among the more than 50,000 pupils delivered safely every day by nearly 500 school bus drivers throughout the county. Shown here are a few of the tots being helped aboard a Huron Valley School bus by the driver, Ellworth Huff, and a safety patrol boy.

DRIVER'S REAR VIEW — Discipline on school buses is of the utmost importance, according to drivers. All children and their parents receive copies of rules that must be followed to insure protection of each student. To keep noise and commotion at a minimum, each bus has one or two members of the safety patrol aboard to keep order.

STOP — As soon as the large red flasher lights on a school bus are turned on, cars in both directions must come to a complete stop at a safe distance to insure the protection of students being picked up and discharged. Bus drivers claim the recently enacted law is violated many times every day and will be until drivers learn that the lives of many children are involved. Cars may proceed past the bus only after the red flashers are turned off.

STEP LIGHTLY — "Watch your step" is an echo heard every day by students getting on and off buses. It is said repeatedly by safety-conscious bus drivers. Each is solely responsible for every child who enters. Of the 31 school systems in the county, 23 provide bus service to students. Every school year, drivers in the county clock 4,250,000 miles picking up and delivering school children. The mileage equals 170 times around the world.

EXPERIENCE — Having driven a school bus for 24 years in the Huron Valley School System, Glenn Hutchings is one of the oldest drivers in the county. Each is hired after careful consideration of character and not before. Even then drivers are taken only as substitutes for a short time in order to test their abilities and see whether they get along with children, a prerequisite for the job.

Explosion Injures 6 in Detroit Plant

DETROIT (UPI) — An explosion rocked the Tri-Part Manufacturing Co. Plant today, injuring the owner and five employes.

★ ★ ★

The blast occurred only 10 minutes after owner Benjamin Resnick and eight workers showed up to start their day's work.

One section of the two-story factory at 934 Plum, near downtown Detroit was demolished.

★ ★ ★

Every window in the building was shattered and dozens of windows were broken on nearby dwellings and autos parked on the street.

To Discuss Radio Purchase

Waterford Would Hand Old Police Equipment to Water Department

The Waterford Township Board will discuss the possibility of purchasing police radio equipment to establish an intercity frequency system in the police department at tonight's meeting.

★ ★ ★

If the new system is approved, the old frequency radio system will be installed for water department use, according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

There also will be a street light hearing from 7 to 9 p.m. for the Vansickle Subdivision near Andersonville road.

★ ★ ★

Bids for a three-quarter ton truck for the Parks and Cemetery department, and another one-half ton truck for the newly established animal pickup department will be opened.

Seeterlin will request $1,367 for equipment to improve and replace part of the Lake Oakland Heights subdivision water system.

The funds would come out of the subdivision's water system funds.

★ ★ ★

A request will be considered for the purchase of a new mimeograph duplicating machine costing $325.

To Strengthen North, South Tie

New Rules Approved for Methodist Bishops

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religious Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Reforms aimed at bringing the far-flung parts of the Methodist Church closer together today had approval of its law-making general conference.

The changes provide:

★ ★ ★

That new bishops will be consecrated by the National conclave of the Church—instead of by the regional jurisdictions that elect them at present.

★ ★ ★

That bishops may be transferred from one jurisdiction to another, if both agree and the bishop consents, rather than being limited to service only in a geographic section naming them.

That delegations to both regional and national gatherings be the same.

★ ★ ★

That jurisdictional conferences be held at the same time and place as the general conference, or not more than 60 days prior to it if they specifically choose to meet elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

Some Southerners protested this feature, when it was debated Saturday, as an infringement on regional autonomy even though the regional jurisdictions were given an alternative as to a meeting place.

The revision was among those recommended by a 70-member study commission, headed by Charles C. Parlin of New York.

Recalling that Northern and Western delegates had conceded to Southern demands that jurisdictional integration be left on a voluntary basis, Parlin said the provision for concurrent regional-national meetings was "the concession to be made by the South."

Kennedy Is Picked in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Democrats claimed and Republicans agreed today that Sen. John F. Kennedy would outpoll Vice President Richard M. Nixon tomorrow in the Indiana presidential preference primaries.

State Chairmen Edwin Beaman of the Republican Party and Charles E. Skillen of the Democratic Party both said the results of the primaries should not be interpreted as a "popularity contest."

Kennedy was expected to get more votes largely on the strength of the greater interest among Democrats on the precinct and county level in local races.

Many of the races have a bearing on a four-way battle for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Indiana does not have gubernatorial primaries.

But party organization leaders and state nominating convention delegates are elected in the primaries, and the results may weaken or strengthen the position of office-seekers.

President Thinks Blaze May Be Linked With Negro Expulsions

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Fire early today destroyed the gymnasium of Kentucky State College, where student demonstrations had harrassed the faculty the past four days.

The school had dismissed two teachers and expelled 12 students, all Negroes, for fomenting student opposition to school regulations.

The fire raged through the 25-year-old gymnasium at 1:20 a.m. today.

The school president, R. B. Atwood, was asked if he thought there was any connection between the dismissals and the fire.

"I don't know. It looks probably like there is," he replied. He declined to elaborate, but said the state fire marshal's arson team was called in to investigate.

A member of the state police arson squad said an unusual charred pattern indicates something flammable might have been used to start the blaze.

Burglars Hold Workshop in Safe Firm

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)— A weekend workshop in cracking safes was held by burglars who broke into the Italian Safe Co.

Besides burning and peeling off safe doors, apparently for practice, the thieves tinkered with safe mechanisms and lugged off every item of safe-cutting equipment they could find—plus two safes.

Loss and damage was estimated at $7,000.

Pointe Ruckus Tagged Political

Lawyer Levels Charge of Publicity-Seeking in Screening Hearing

DETROIT (UPI) — Hearings into an alleged discriminatory screening system for checking prospective home buyers in Grosse Pointe opened today with a charge that the inquiry was "politically inspired."

The charge was made by Gordon Wood, an attorney, on behalf of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Assn., Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc., and the Grosse Pointe Brokers Assn.

Wood noted that subpoenas were issued for more than 30 persons to appear at the hearings, most of them at the same time, and were served by state policeman on a Friday night.

He asked Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams "who instigated and who is behind this investigation?" He suggested that it might be "the paid executive director of a special interest group." This was an apparent reference to the anti-defamation League of B'nai B'rith which has interested itself in the case.

Wood suggested further that the "shotgun" issuance of subpoenas indicated "an emphasis on publicity rather than on the rights of the persons involved" in the hearings.

Paul Butler 'Favors' Stevenson

NEWTON, Mass. (UPI)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said last night he was neutral on the party's choice of a presidential candidate, but he declared Adlai E. Stevenson "the one man in this country best qualified to be President."

Butler added, however, "I am not sure that he is the man best able to project those qualities to the people in this electronic age."

Butler's statement came during a debate with Republican Sen. Hugh D. Scott (Pa).

Scott and the Democratic national chairman have been waging a cross-country discussion on the candidates and issues during the past few months.

Suggests Fines for Not Voting in Primaries

IONIA (AP)—A Republican candidate for public office today suggested fines for eligible voters who fail to exercise their franchise.

In an address before the Ionia Lions Club, Warren van Bowne said: "Just look at the small percentage of eligible voters who turn out for primaries. After all, this is just as important as a general election and a fine, levied by the townships, would certainly go a long way in restoring local interest in government."

Bowne seeks nomination as eighth congressional district representative.

Urges 16-Year-Old Drivers Not Be Tried as Juveniles

While youths of 16 are old enough to obtain driver's licenses in Michigan, they are governed by a different procedure than older drivers if accused of traffic offenses.

★ ★ ★

The group most critical of this difference, according to County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, is the 16-year-olds. "It contradicts their basic and inherent concept of justice," the judge states.

Having jurisdiction over all juvenile matters in Oakland County, he has had plenty of experience with cases where the 16-year-old driver brushes with the law.

This has prompted Judge Moore to propose a change in the law, resulting in a bill now pending in the State Legislature. It would place 16-year-old alleged traffic law violators under the jurisdiction of municipal and justice of the peace courts.

Their cases then would follow the legal pattern of those against older violators.

As a forerunner to this legislation, the judge has requested that certain municipal and JP courts in the county handle traffic cases where 16-year-olds stand accused in a manner as close to that which applies to older alleged violators as the present law allows.

To do so properly, Judge Moore has asked judges to volunteer to become juvenile traffic referees.

"Thus the judge can sit as a referee for the 16-year-old and as a judge for all other accused of a traffic violation," he said.

"This will insure a more uniform treatment of violators in spite of the fact that a referee's power is more curtailed than that of a judge."

★ ★ ★

Berkley Justice of the Peace Ralph Finley is pioneering the judge's program, and Royal Oak Municipal Judge Keith J. Leehouts is now volunteering to join him.

Ex-Batista Men to Testify in U.S.

Internal Security Group of Senate Probing Red Threat in Caribbean

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two officials of the former Batista government in Cuba were listed by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee today as leadoff witnesses for three days of hearings starting today.

The subcommittee described the hearings as a continuation of its inquiry into "the Communist threat to the United States through the Caribbean."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn), who will conduct the hearings, said in a statement that the first witnesses will be Col. Manuel Antonio Ugalde Carillo and Rafael Lincoln Diaz-Balart.

Col. Carillo was identified as chief of military intelligence in Cuba from 1952 through 1954, and head of BRAC, the Bureau for Repression of anti-Democratic Activities.

Diaz-Balart was listed as a lawyer, former member of the Cuban Congress, deputy minister of transportation under Batista, and leader of the White Rose movement which opposed Fidel Castro, the present Cuban ruler.

Benjamin Franklin became a vegetarian to save money. He found that vegetarian broth served the same purpose and cost less than a diet of beef and cider.

Marrying's Expensive in America, Too

Meg's Marriage to Cost Britain Plenty

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans may be agog today over how much Princess Margaret's marriage this week will cost the British and how much more her honeymoon will dig into the royal purse.

But Americans who got married some time back may be just as surprised at how much it takes today to set the average young American couple up in housekeeping. The cost has been growing steadily—even if an increasing part of it is going on the cuff.

★ ★ ★

Princess Margaret's wedding bill is expected to run to about $60,000—with $14,000 of that set aside for music along the route and $9,000 for a million red roses to decorate the streets. Estimates of her honeymoon in the Caribbean come to $112,000.

SISTER WED FOR $15,000

An inflation note: When her sister, now Queen Elizabeth II, was married in 1947, the wedding cost $15,000.

★ ★ ★

Few, if any, American weddings this year will approach the sum being spent at Westminster Abbey. But the average cost is being set forth by a Madison Ave. advertising agency eager to let businessmen know what they may look forward to in sales opportunities.

★ ★ ★

It may be unchivalrous to publicize this figure during Leap Year and perhaps dirty pool to frighten already lined-up bridegrooms, but here are the figures, for whatever the estimate is worth—always remembering that an average figure never seems to fit any one person individually.

$15,000 IN U.S.

The average cost is put at $15,000 for the weddings and the real expense that follows—setting up the households. A week's honeymoon sets the majority of grooms back $237. The average bride can expect to receive $1,003 worth of wedding gifts — usually things she's managed one way or another to let people know she wants.

★ ★ ★

Based on the expected rise in the number of weddings in five years to 2¼ million annually, wedding bells soon will be ringing in a sizable proportion of the national spending.

★ ★ ★

This, according to the firm of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborne, will mean "a surging demand for apartments, houses, furniture, appliances, clothing, jewelry, automobiles and myriad of other items."

MANY SOURCES

It bases its estimates on such sources as the U.S. Department of Commerce's Census Bureau, the U.S. Department of Health, Education & Welfare, economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, Bride's magazine, McCall's, U.S. News & World Report, and the World Almanac.

Progressions into the future suppose that the trend of the 1940s and 1950s toward earlier marriages and larger families will continue.

★ ★ ★

The study says that most girls now start filling a hope chest in the mid-teens, and that 32 per cent of women marrying for the first time are teen-agers—with 18 the most favored age.

Beverly Aadland's Future in Balance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beverly Aadland faces a custody hearing today that could place her in a juvenile home.

★ ★ ★

The 17-year-old actress, last love of the late Errol Flynn, has been detained by juvenile authorities since the fatal shooting of Billy Stancid, 21, in Beverly's apartment. She claims he was shot accidentally.

★ ★ ★

Her mother, Florence Aadland, 53, has been charged with five counts of contributing to the girl's delinquency.

No Place Like Home

LONDON (UPI)—The Royal family is arranging to build a trout stream near the back door of Windsor Castle for a frustrated angler — Prince Charles — a British newspaper said today.

Aeschylus (525-456 B.C.), the Greek dramatist who wrote "Agamemnon," was also a soldier in the Persian Wars at the Battles of Marathon and Salamis.

FIXER? — George E. Allen, companion of presidents, was called a "fixer" in Washington Friday by former President Harry S. Truman.

Florida citrus delivered to canners and packing houses in the 1958-59 season was valued at more than $350 million by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Townsend Just Wasn't Acceptable as a Mate

It'll Be a Happier Meeting for Meg, Archbishop

Editor's Note: On Friday, Princess Margaret and the Archbishop of Canterbury will be central figures in the romantic event of the year, her marriage to Antony Armstrong-Jones. But five years ago Margaret and the archbishop were central figures in a romantic drama with a less happy ending. Here is the story, first of a series of four articles on the royal wedding.

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—Two principals in one of the strangest dramas of British royalty — a beautiful, gay princess and a plainspoken, richly robed archbishop — will meet again Friday at the altar of Westminster Abbey.

★ ★ ★

"Margaret Rose," the archbishop will say, "wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony?"

"I will," the princess will reply.

And the archbishop may then be permitted a moment of self-congratulation.

★ ★ ★

Five years ago 73-year-old Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury and Anglican primate of all England, was instrumental in breaking up Princess Margaret's romance with Peter Townsend, the divorced air hero she wanted to marry.

★ ★ ★

On Friday the archbishop will be officiating at her marriage to Antony Armstrong-Jones. Margaret's sorrow will have come to a happy ending, and the church's teaching of the sanctity of marriage will have been upheld.

EX-SCHOOLMASTER

The archbishop is an ex-schoolmaster. Beneath the wispy gray hair reposes one of the great brains of Britain. He lives simply, smokes a pipe, has a genial good humor. He likes a game of cricket and a glass of wine.

In short, he is exactly the sort of man the British normally approve of. Yet no one would call him popular.

★ ★ ★

After the Townsend affair, he was booed in public. Newspapers said he was out of touch with the 20th century and called for him to resign. All this made no difference in his belief in the life-long duration of Christian marriage, in the sanctity of the words "those whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder."

★ ★ ★

This was the view he pressed on Margaret in 1955 and the view she accepted — that she must not marry the divorced man Townsend.

★ ★ ★

As she marched into his study at the height of the crisis she announced: "archbishop, you may put away your books: my mind is made up."

Then followed her historic renunciation of her love for Townsend.

"Mindful of the church's teaching that Christian marriage is indissoluble, and conscious of my duty to the Commonwealth, I have decided to put these considerations before all others."

MEG'S VERY RELIGIOUS

As this public renunciation and the months that followed showed, Margaret is a deeply religious woman. Suggestions that she enter a religious order were not entirely idle gossip.

★ ★ ★

And so her marriage, enriched by the incomparable abbey setting of pomp and pageantry for the royal bride will be deeply religious experience.

★ ★ ★

The ceremonial of the Church of England has a double function. It makes the exchange of vows between bride and bridegroom a legal and binding contract, just as would a civil ceremony, and it invokes God's blessing on them.

Strike Hits 100 Retail Stores in 3 Counties

A half-dozen floor covering stores in the Pontiac area today were affected by a tricounty strike of carpet, linoleum and tile installers.

Approximately 100 retail firms in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties were hit at midnight Saturday as contracts expired covering 700 members of Local 2265 of the Resilient Floor Decorators Union (AFL-CIO).

About 30 union members employed in Pontiac are affected, said Edward J. Powers, business manager of the local.

Local President James M. Pollo said the union wants a 10-cent-an-hour pay raise plus increased pension and vacation benefits.

The union is negotiating with the Resilient Floor Decorators Employers' Assn., a retail group.

Confessed Killer Fights for Life

Cross-Country Slayer of 7 Begins Battle Against Death Edict

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Dennis Whitney, 17-year-old Californian whose frontier pistol snuffed out seven lives in a casual coast-to-coast robbery spree, began a court battle today to save himself from death in Florida's electric chair.

The red-haired youth went on trial on a first-degree murder charge in the killing of Virginia Selby, 62, a Hialeah, Fla., grandmother whose body was found March 4 in bushes near Jupiter, 80 miles north of Miami.

Whitney confessed he shot Mrs. Selby with a long-barreled .22 caliber pistol when she hit him in the face with a hammer after he had commandeered her car in Miami. He admitted he also killed three men in Arizona, two in Florida and one in California.

The hope of an insanity plea for Whitney was squashed Sunday night by a psychiatrist's report that the sullen teen-ager was sane when he killed Mrs. Selby, and is sane now.

State atty. Phil O'Connell will demand the death penalty. Charles A. Nugent, court-appointed defender of Whitney, said he hoped to prove that the slaying of Mrs. Selby was a case of second or third-degree murder.

If Whitney gets any sentence but death, Dade County (Miami) authorities want to try him for the killing of two service station attendants.

Tax Protester Will Lose Farm

Hillsdale Man's Acres to Be Sold Tuesday; He Defied U.S. on Crops

HILLSDALE (UPI) — Peppery, 68-year-old Ralph Shinaberry will lose his farm at a tax sale tomorrow because he refuses to pay taxes on the farm because the government fined him for growing too much wheat.

Shinaberry's 120-acre farm was ordered on the auction block by Circuit Judge Charles O. Arch after the irate farmer refused to pay taxes "on a farm that I don't own."

The government claims Shinaberry owes $902.97 in taxes and penalties he has refused to pay in a three-year battle which started when he was fined $916.92 for overplanting his wheat allotment under the federal crop price support program. He still has not paid the fine.

The farm Shinaberry has been operating since 1927 will be offered for sale at 10 a.m. tomorrow by County Treasurer Wilfred L. Rock. Shinaberry actually owns 150 acres, which he operates with his son Max, 21, who lives nearby. But 30 acres of the land is tax exempt under the state homestead law applying to military veterans.

"I don't object to paying taxes on property I own," said Shinaberry. "The reason I refuse to pay is that I don't believe the government can tell me how much I can grow. If it can, then I don't own the property and the government can pay the taxes, too."

Although he owes three years of taxes, the successful bidder will have to put up only $310.00, the amount of the tax and the penalty for 1957.

In exchange, the successful bidder will get a tax certificate which Shinaberry can redeem by paying the amount of the bid and, one per cent interest per month anytime up to one year.

At the end of the year, if the property is not redeemed, the bidder will be given a tax deed, which he will hold for another six months, giving Shinaberry another chance to redeem the property.

At the end of the six months, the state will issue the successful bidder a quit claim which gives him full title.

How to plan ahead with much more confidence

With adequate life insurance, you and your family are fully protected...now...during an emergency... at big expense time like college...and when you're set to take it easy. These are all advantages unique to life insurance.

1 Peace of mind at the stroke of a pen. You guarantee your family an amount of money far greater than you could possibly save in many years.

2 Guaranteed protection at any given time. You and your family know, in advance, exactly how much money will be available in an emergency.

3 Guaranteed benefits at big-expense time. You can make certain that specific expenses such as your children's education and your mortgage will be met.

4 Experienced money management. Your insurance can be so arranged that you and your wife are relieved of the burden and risk of money management.

5 Guaranteed income when you're set to take it easy. Your life insurance can build an income which neither you nor your wife can outlive.

Life Insurance Is America's Most Widely Used Form Of Thrift

Life insurance, in addition to providing for family security, plays an important role in our national growth. Savings, through life insurance, help provide the funds for new schools, new factories and the new jobs a growing America needs. The money saved and used in this way also helps in the continuing fight against inflation.

If Rats Possess Natural Detector Against X-Rays, Maybe Man Does

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — Three scientists have reasons to believe there is a built-in radiation detector in a rat which causes it to move out of the way when it encounters radiation.

If the rat has one, it is probable man has one, since both are mammals with similar physiologies. If such a thing exists, it would be helpful in a world in which radiation hazards are likely to increase.

* * *

First it will have to be understood and made usable, of course. That is what Drs. John E. Overall, W. Lynn Brown, and Loren C. Logan are trying to do with the built-in detectors they think may exist in laboratory rats.

* * *

They've shown experimentally that these rats will avoid a box field in a "field" of x-rays.

Why the rats do baffles them still. Do the rats perceive something is wrong? Or does the radiation give them an over-all uncomfortable feeling which impels them to move?

Or maybe the rats move for unknown reasons having nothing to do with radiation and which are meaningful only to rats. This scientific quest has a long way to go to reach a conclusion, but the results so far are highly suggestive that something potentially helpful to man is involved.

The scientists are working in the radiobiological laboratory of the University of Texas and the Air Force at Austin. They use the common piece of apparatus, the shuttle-box which has two compartments connected by an exposed runway.

Rats don't like to be exposed. If left alone in a shuttle-box they'll spend their time in the compartments. The basic experiment was to keep one box in a radiation "field" of low-power x-rays while keeping the other free of x-rays, and see which one the rats preferred.

This basic experiment was varied in a number of ways. One way was to illuminate the free compartment and keep the one in the "field" dark. Rats naturally like the dark. But when the dark compartment was irradiated, they preferred the lighted one.

This seemed to mean radiation was overcoming a natural preference. The scientists were impressed. Their Technical methods of judging permitted them to believe the rats were not aware of the radiation effect, but that the radiation was doing things to their body chemistry which made them uncomfortable enough to move.

Oddly enough this "nonperceptual" response to low-level radiation (which at present is considered to be completely undetectable by anyone receiving it) was more pronounced in female rats than in male, and technical judging showed that this sex difference was real.

But other variations of the basic experiment showed that some sort of "perceptual mechanism" (that is, an actual sense of something being wrong) could be involved. If so, it was stronger in the male than the female.

That was the most hopeful suggestion of the experiments. Anything you can perceive, you can learn to avoid or at least to endure.

By feeding or caring for a monk, many Buddhists believe they accumulate merit for life after death.

General Soon to Tap Public Till to Get Military Aid for Korea

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Purse-holding legislators might as well prepare to relax-and-enjoy-it, when Gen. Williston B. Palmer invades the appropriations hearings later this month to tap the public till for military aid to South Korea and our other Allies.

The doughty war hero is a blunt-spoken but humorous bachelor who — without a wife to sass him — is accustomed to having his own way.

BROTHERS UNIQUE

Palmer is the senior half of a brother-team that is unique in American history. Both are four-star generals, and when Palmer retired last December as deputy U.S. commander-in-chief of all U.S. troops in Europe, brother-General Charles D. Palmer stepped smartly into his shoes.

"I simply turned over my Paris house, my car, aides and servants to Charlie, and headed back for the States," Palmer grins.

Six weeks later, President Eisenhower recalled him to active duty to head the military assistance program, and a London correspondent warned that he is "stubborn, contrary and easily angered."

The writer also reported that when Palmer's younger brother, at the age of 52, announced that he planned to wed, Williston snorted: "Young man, if the Army had intended you to marry it could have issued you a wife."

Palmer enjoys the story, but insists that it didn't happen. "As one old bachelor to another," he grins, "I had been urging Charlie to get married and provide me with an heir."

Charles Palmer dutifully did just that, and now has a five-year-old son who is slated to inherit the worldly goods of both Palmers.

When I asked the handsome, 60-year-old general how he himself had managed to escape the perils of matrimony, he twinkled: "Guess I was just never issued a wife — and I've been chasing around the world a lot."

MANY METALS

He modestly refrained from adding that he has an impressive number of medals to mark his distinguished services in the Normandy invasion, the capture of Cherbourg, the St. Lo break-through, the battles of Mortain, Mons, Liege, Aachen and Cologne, the Battle of the Bulge, the encirclement of the Ruhr and the drive across Germany to the Elbe.

The general is preparing to tell Congress that although the military assistance program is requesting $800 million more appropriations now than last year; this actually represents a sizable cut.

The Korean War built up a huge backlog of unexpended funds, and in recent years this money has been added to the additional $1.4 billion annually appropriated.

★ ★ ★

"There were no tricks about it," Palmer explains, "and Congress knew all about it. The point is that now the barrel of old appropriations has just about gone dry."

As a consequence, the two billion that Ike is permitting Palmer to request this year is $300 million less than the program has been spending. Does that make it clear-as-mud?

Palmer expects to spend three-quarters of the money on Korea, Nationalist China and NATO. The old soldier waxes enthusiastic when he talks about the way the American-trained Korean Army has kept its nose out of the political upheavals in that strife-torn peninsula.

During the political upheavals eight years ago, President Rhee called on the Army, but the Korean chief of staff refused to honor the order," Palmer reminds. "Rhee then declared martial law to close the assembly, and had to use the police to do it."

He pointed out that the Army also "stayed clear of the more recent turmoil that deposed Rhee, and kept its eye firmly on the Communist danger across the Northern border."

Defending the military assistance program as "vital," the bachelor general declares: "Even the Joint Chiefs of Staff say they would not take away one dollar from our program to augment their own appropriations for defense."

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — Walter Petelka will be discharged from Collins Bay penitentiary Tuesday after completing a voluntary four-week extension of his time. The 26-year-old Toronto salesman had asked to be allowed to stay because he wanted to finish a course in human relations conducted for the prisoners. Petelka was sentenced to 15 months for illegal possession of a weapon.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Mass Protest in South Korea

30,000 Students Defy Demonstration Ban to Demand New Election

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Nearly 30,000 South Korean college and high school students today defied the martial law ban on demonstrations to demand election of a new National Assembly.

There were 15,000 demonstrators in Taegu and 12,000 in the southern port of Pusan. The demonstrations were orderly.

High schools opened today for the first time since the nationwide uprising which overthrew President Syngman Rhee last week.

Many students in Seoul, who led the bloodsoaked demonstrations that brought down Rhee's graft-ridden, dictatorial regime, boycotted classes and met in assemblies which demanded their school heads resign because of close association with the Rhee regime.

* * *

Acting President Huh Chung announced completion of his caretaker government with the appointment of new ministers of defense, agriculture and communications.

* * *

The National Assembly, still dominated by Rhee's discredited Liberal party, bickered in Seoul over what to do in the continuing crisis.

Four Troopers Leaving Pontiac

Dreger, Larsen, Tervo and Gordenier Being Transferred June 15

One of the biggest personnel changes in the history of the Pontiac State Police Post will take place next month.

Four troopers are scheduled for transfers June 15, it was announced by State Police Headquarters in East Lansing.

Leaving will be troopers William R. Dreger, Richard F. Gordenier, Maurice L. Larsen and Delmar R. Tervo.

They will be replaced by troopers Lawrence E. Miller, from the Bad Axe Post, George A. Plummer, from White Pigeon Post, Wilbur L. Shelly, from the Traverse City Post, and a new recruit, Raymond R. Beamish who joined the post last week.

Two of the troopers have been here for 10 years, and for three of the four the Pontiac Post is the only one at which they have served.

★ ★ ★

Dreger and Gordenier both joined the post in 1950 when it was located in Keego Harbor. Dreger, 40, who is single, came here from the Niles Post and has been a trooper since 1947.

★ ★ ★

Gordenier, 32, of 2178 Kohler St., Drayton Plains, is married and the father of four children. Like the others, he came here out of state police recruit school.

Larsen, 28, is single and lives at the post. He came here in 1956.

Tervo, 24, came to Pontiac in June 1957. He lives with his wife and son at 4915 Walnut Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township.

Larsen will go to the Iron Mountain Post, Tervo to the Marquette Post, Gordenier to Newberry, and Dreger to Battle Creek.

Sailor Catches Altaritis Day Before Wedding

OXFORD, Mass. (AP) — It wasn't an accident or foul play that kept Navy man Raymond Lindberg away from his wedding Saturday. He simply changed his mind about getting married.

Pretty Luana Langway, the jilted bride, got the news Sunday from Police Chief Joseph R. Herbst, who had found the sailor at the home of a friend.

"He never called," 19-year-old Luana said. "I didn't sleep a wink Saturday night and all morning I waited for him to call. Every time the phone rang I said to myself 'Let it be him.' He never called."

To Demand Candidates Favor Rights Action

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — More than 250 student leaders from 30 colleges and universities in the eastern half of the country today were pledged to demand that election candidates at all levels declare themselves in favor of strong civil rights legislation.

The pledge was made yesterday at the end of a four-day conference on human rights at the University of Michigan. At the final session, delegates voted to work for a national conference on civil rights to be held in the fall.

Millions on May Day Blast Away at U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States was blasted in both hemispheres as millions of workers celebrated and Communists paraded their armed might on May Day.

Tokyo demonstrators hanged President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi in effigy and blanketed the capital with placards denouncing ratification of the new U.S.-Japan security treaty.

★ ★ ★

On both sides of the Iron Curtain, parades, rallies and speeches marked the workers' holiday established 61 years ago by the international Socialist Congress. The United States celebrates on the first Monday in September.

★ ★ ★

Marching troops, guns and rockets were the center attraction in Moscow, where Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders reviewed the mammoth parade. Thousands of Muscovites applauded the display, but it contained none of the terrifying new weapons Khrushchev talked about in a speech to the Supreme Soviet last January.

Communist East Germany's 110,000-man army marched through East Berlin in a parade branded by the Western Big three as "a threat to public order." Communist chief Walter Ulbricht and other East German leaders looked on in front of a huge sign proclaiming "West Berlin will be a free demilitarized city."

★ ★ ★

Across the city line, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin defied the Soviet threat to the city in a speech before 700,000 cheering followers and called on the Western Allies to remain until Germany is reunited.

★ ★ ★

About three million Chinese jammed Peiping for a giant May Day carnival that Radio Peiping hailed as the liveliest in the city's history.

More than 400,000 Hungarians marched through Budapest in a parade featuring red flags, white doves and enormous balloons.

Some 100,000 Polish workers in Warsaw heard Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka promise that living standards would be raised.

Czechs staged a five-hour parade in Prague. President Antonin Novotny broadcast a pledge that Czechoslovakia would continue to fight alongside the Soviet Union against West German "militarism and policy of revenge."

Maryland farmers often turn their turkeys loose in their tobacco fields to eat the worms and other insects which might damage the plants.

Thought That Counts, Says Abby

Don't Forget Mother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am tired of hearing mothers complain about how "commercialized" Mother's Day has become. Some mothers are so ungracious as to tell their children, "Don't give me any presents — I don't need anything!"

ABBY

If mothers used their heads, they would realize that their children want to honor them with a special gift on this day. Please say something to those thoughtless mothers who discourage their children from buying them a gift on Mother's Day.

LIKES PRESENTS

DEAR LIKES: When a mother says she doesn't "need" any presents, she does not mean to be "ungracious." She doesn't want her child to deprive himself of anything to buy her a gift.

An original poem or letter costs nothing and is cherished most. When I was a child, I heard those words from my own dear mother. I wrote her little poems and "essays" on Mother's Day telling her how much I appreciated her. Only after she passed away did I realize how much they had meant to her. She had kept them all.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am ten and I can't figure this out. How come there is a Mother's Day and everybody buys gifts and makes a big fuss over mothers and the same thing happens to fathers on Father's Day, but there isn't any Children's Day? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Children's Day is the longest celebration of the year. It begins Jan. 1 and ends Dec. 31.

This was written on Mother's Day, in tribute to his Mother, by a young prisoner who was awaiting execution in San Quentin Prison:

"A crime was committed and there was an arrest, and a boy was thrown into a cell. The crime was great, the boy was young and the cell was dark. Life seemed at an end and hell became a living thing.

"Then one day as the boy sat weeping in his cell, he looked up to see his mother. She was smiling. She opened her arms and said, 'My boy, did you think I would not come to you?' And suddenly the boy forgot his terror and found comfort in the magic circle of his mother's arms.

"Through the dark that shrouded the hill of Calvary, a voice cried, 'Son, behold thy mother'. And Mary kneeled at the foot of the cross. That was a cross of glory, but had it been one of shame, Mary would have been there.

"For every son who crucifies himself on pillars of hate, weakness and greed, there at the foot of the cross you will find his mother. Your mother and mine. God bless them, here and beyond. They have known so much pain."

★ ★ ★

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Colorful as a tropical coral reef were Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Worster of Wenonah drive at left. Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Fraser of Niagara avenue dance a little closer to admire the smart print of Dr. Worster's dinner jacket.

Paper's Style Display Shocks Soviet Gals

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet newspaper astounded readers by printing a full page of spring fashion pictures, including one of a shapely model in a bathing suit.

But it warned that women would be wasting their time if they tried to find the fashions in Moscow stores.

★ ★ ★

The display of fashions by Moscow designers took up one-fourth of the newspaper Soviet Culture, publication of the Ministry of Culture. It was believed to be the first time any Soviet newspaper had printed such a big fashion display.

★ ★ ★

There were 13 photographs in the layout, showing cotton dresses and suits as well as the snug swimsuit.

But the newspaper added a somewhat testy note of caution to its feminine readers.

"Do you want to wear these?" it asked. "Then make them yourself or order them from the dressmaker because the time you will spend on a search in the shops will be wasted."

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said its own search had uncovered only one shop stocking cheap summer cottons. But it added that the counter was impossible to approach because it was so jammed with shoppers.

On sale, the paper commented wryly, were dresses made in Hungary.

Soviet Culture said its survey of the Moscow women's shops showed that "the fashions were obsolete and the dresses costly."

Practice a little safety while you're doing your spring house cleaning.

We store many products in both kitchen and bathroom that are poisonous if taken internally. Pre-school youngsters can't read and the younger ones will taste almost anything.

Buy some bright red plastic tape and use it to put a large 'X' on all containers of poisonous substances. If possible, store these out of reach of youngsters. At any rate, teach them that the marked bottles mean danger.

Does the detergent you're using leave your clothes not quite white? Perhaps you're using the wrong kind. The right one does the job without loading the washer with detergent powder that won't rinse out.

Normal wash loads in tumbler-type machines require a low-sudsing detergent for best performance. Medium sudsing detergents are more satisfactory in agitator-type machines. In any washer a heavy-duty detergent is needed for greasy work clothes.

Read the labels!

★ ★ ★

Encourage your children to make simple gifts. Invite some of the neighborhood youngsters in and help them make Mother's Day presents. (You can close your eyes to what your own child is making, can't you?)

Paper mosaics are made with colored gummed paper and blotters or cardboard mats. The first makes a desk set, the latter coasters.

Have the children decide upon a design and lightly mark the paper. Leave a little space between the paper "tiles" for the mosaic effect. Clear lacquer will protect the cardboard coasters after they are completed.

The front cover of the royal wedding invitation features Princess Margaret's coat of arms. Designed by Ernest Wallcousins for Friday's long-awaited event, it will be a collector's item in years to come.

Queen's Gown Elaborate

Meg's Dress Simple With Modest V Neck

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Margaret's dress for her wedding Friday will be "Monastical" in its simplicity, with no embroidery and no decoration, said Women's Wear Daily in a London dispatch.

The trade newspaper said it had learned from a source close to Buckingham Palace that the future Mrs. Antony Armstrong-Jones wants a fitted waist.

She reportedly ordered a white silk organdie dress with very modest V neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The skirt is slightly full, forming a short train.

* * *

Princess Margaret has selected from the royal family jewels a hinged diamond diadem to wear with a classical tulle veil, the newspaper said, adding:

"The royal dressmaker, Norman Hartnell . . . has made for Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mother more elaborate clothes which are traditional with the British royal family.

"The Queen will enter Westminster Abbey in a dress of bright turquoise lace over faille. The lace stops midlength and the faille skirt forms a full train; a simple small hat to match will be worn.

"The Queen Mother will wear a long straight dress in gold and white lame with flat surface; she also favors a train, falling from the waistline."

Princess Margaret was said to have asked her little bridesmaids, whose ages range from 12 to 6, to have dresses similar to those she and the Queen wore as little girls.

The bridesmaids' dresses of white tulle will have full skirts with puffed sleeves.

White House Gay Tonight

Major and Barbara to Entertain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's son and daughter-in-law are taking over the White House tonight for a dinner and dance for their friends.

Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower will entertain with dinner at 8 p.m. in the state dining room.

Afterwards, for the first time in several years, there will be gala dancing in the huge East ballroom under glittering chandeliers.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower are expected to stop in to say hello to the merrymakers. They have turned over the formal state rooms of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue to the younger Eisenhowers for the first time in their seven years of White House residence.

* * *

Invitations to the affair, which went out weeks ago, call for black tie.

The White House said about 50 guests are expected, but withheld any further information, explaining that it is a private, personal party and that's the way Maj. Eisenhower wants it.

* * *

Maj. Eisenhower, 37, and his wife, Barbara, 33, now live with their four children at Gettysburg, Pa., in a converted schoolhouse on the edge of the Eisenhower farm.

Like many American young married couples, they have preferred small, informal parties in the past with Army friends and neighbors. This will be their first grand scale entertainment.

* * *

In past years, White House receptions have included dancing almost until midnight in the gold and white ballroom. But that stopped with the 1957 social season. After that President and Mrs. Eisenhower cut out formal receptions and limited their official entertaining to formal state dinners, followed by musicales—without dancing.

Club Sets Tuesday Benefit

A benefit luncheon and card party is slated Tuesday at the League of Catholic Women building by the Round Table Club. Proceeds will go to Camp Oakland, a club project.

General chairman is Mrs. James McGuire.

Mrs. H. E. McCulloch is luncheon chairman, assisted by Mrs. Hazel Anderson, Mrs. Smith Falconer, Mrs. D. R. Lazelle, Mrs. E. Gilmour Winn, Mrs. Elmer Reynolds and Mrs. Russell Austin.

Mrs. William Ford is in charge of prizes.

Keep On Saying 'Diet'

Don't Get Careless Now

(Editor's Note: We have given priority this past week to local news. Look for the five preceding Lowman diets in the current series in tomorrow's Pontiac Press.)

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

During the past week I have been publishing my 9-Day Reducing Diet. As happens each year, thousands of you have been following these slimming menus for a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days. Well, I know that those of you who started the diet last week are now beginning to reap the benefits of your self-control. Your belts are easy and the fatty deposits have decreased.

However, don't make the mistake of becoming careless. There are only two more days left and two or three more pounds may surprise you by suddenly dropping off on the very last day.

You are wise to go after the "first" five excess pounds. Many women continually hover around five- to 10-pounds-too-heavy mark.

While even five pounds can make a big difference in the way your clothes fit, yet it is not enough overweight to cause many women to count calories. This is a great mistake because five pounds can turn into 10 and 10 into 20 before you can say "Diet."

Overweight is a real threat to prolonged youthfulness, and to health as well as to beauty.

The medical profession is becoming increasingly emphatic in their warnings concerning the dangers of obesity. The mortality rate is frighteningly higher in overweights than in those of normal weight. Here are the menus for tomorrow.

BREAKFAST
One egg, poached or boiled
One thin dry slice of whole wheat toast
Black coffee
One glass skimmed milk

LUNCHEON
1 portion salmon
Celery sticks
One-half cup steamed carrots
One-half grapefruit

DINNER
Minute or club steak (small)
One-half cup string beans
One-half cup squash
One glass skimmed milk
Orange slices

If you missed some of the menus for my 9-Day Diet, and would like to have the complete diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the 9-Day Diet booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

One egg, poached or boiled, and toast are the basic ingredients of tomorrow's 9-Day Diet breakfast.

Here's How to Make Wife Feel Younger

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to men:

If you want to pay your wife a compliment that will make her feel like a girl again:

Don't tell her that she "looks nice" when she is all dressed up for a party. Tell her that she looks beautiful.

* * *

Don't tell her that you're glad to be home after a hard day. Tell her that you're glad to be home with HER.

Don't tell her you're getting along fine when she is away from home. Tell her how much you miss her.

Don't tell her that it is all too complicated to try to explain when she asks you about a business matter. Take time to explain, paying her the compliment of assuming that she is capable of understanding.

* * *

Don't tell her you think everything went off all right when she has knocked herself out to entertain your friends. Be as enthusiastic about the party as you are when you are a guest.

When not use the superlatives you use when thanking a hostess for a wonderful evening when your own wife is the hostess?

Don't tell her you like the room better the way it was when she has spent the day moving furniture around and rehanging pictures and is obviously pleased with the results. Tell her it looks wonderful.

* * *

Don't be abrupt when you call her from the office on a business matter. Chat a minute or two. Then bring up the business matter as a casual "by the way . . ." afterthought, so that she will feel that you called because you were thinking of her, not because you wanted to make sure she paid the gas bill.

* * *

Don't tell her to "stop worrying" when she obviously can't.

Sit down and listen to her problem and try to help her solve it—which pays her the subtle compliment of making her feel that her problems are yours.

Plan Post for Air Alert Duty

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — The Strategic Air Command (SAC) plans an airborne command post to direct retaliatory bomber raids if a nuclear attack destroys its underground headquarters here.

★ ★ ★

SAC Chief Gen. Thomas S. Powers announced yesterday that three KC135 jet tanker planes — fitted out as miniatures of the vital SAC nerve center — will be ready July 1 to fly on continuous airborne alert in case of emergency.

The skyhigh command post will insure SAC's ability to withstand a direct hit on its underground HQ and control a counter attack, Powers told newsmen.

Powers said at least one of the jets will be kept on ground alert at all times — ready for takeoff in 15 minutes or less — until there is a need for a continuous air alert.

★ ★ ★

The general said the air alert should begin when Russia has enough missiles to knock out American bomber bases and will continue until the United States has enough radar and satellite warners to spot an attack in time to get SAC bombers off the ground.

Prohibitionist Looks Ahead

Party Candidate for President Doesn't Hope for Victory This Year

LANSING (UPI)—"We'd win easily if we could get all those people who are opposed to the sale of liquor," the Prohibition Party candidate for president said Saturday.

★ ★ ★

But Dr. R. L. Decker, minister of the Temple Baptist Church of Kansas City, said he had no illusions about winning the nations top post this year.

"However," he added, "in 1968 I am convinced we will be in a position to seriously challenge the two major parties."

Decker spoke to 170 delegates to the party's state convention. His running mate is Prof. E. H. Munn of Hillsdale College.

In a switch from the usual political rally, the affair got under way with hymn singing in the Central Methodist Fellowship House.

Decker said his faith in the Prohibition Party's future stemmed from the large number of young people it is attracting.

He reported all but one state chairman are under 35 and the national chairman is 27.

Besides the liquor question, Decker stressed that the party also is opposed to federal aid to education and in favor of so-called right-to-work laws while backing collective bargaining.

Dr. D. D. Dodge, a Kalamazoo chiropractor and chairman of the state party, reported 16 local party committees have been formed in Michigan and that 50 should be in operation by election time.

Dooley Off for Check

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Dr. Thomas Dooley, the cancer-stricken American physician who organizes hospitals in underdeveloped nations, left today for the United States for another medical checkup.

But Says He Won't Stand Pat

Nixon Defends Eisenhower Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Retorting to Democratic challenges, Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he has no intention of divorcing himself from the record of the Eisenhower administration. Nor, he adds, will he just stand pat on it.

★ ★ ★

Nixon, considered a shoo-in for the Republican presidential nomination, talking to newsmen and over television, declared Sunday:

"I intend, in the field of farm problems, in problems dealing with our cities, in various other areas, to build on from here and to present to the American people my own program for the future at the same time I defend the policies of the past."

Nixon emphasized the farm problem, saying there must be a new one to replace one "everybody agrees is wrong. We need a new approach agreeable to the farmer and to the nation as a whole."

Referring to medical aid for the aged, the vice president said he favored a limited noncompulsory federal program. He conceded this stand was a departure from the views of some members of his party.

Nixon hurled a challenge at Democrats who had criticized him Saturday night by saying he would never be able to divorce himself from the Eisenhower record.

★ ★ ★

"The eight years of the Eisenhower administration have been the finest record of any administration in history," he said.

"I happen to be very proud of this record," he said again later. "I helped make it."

Nixon asserted that Democratic policy was unchanged since the administration of Harry S. Truman.

"The Truman record is one with which any Democratic candidate will be saddled. And I'd be happy to run on an Eisenhower versus Truman record," Nixon said.

In a contest between the Eisenhower and Truman records, he went on, "I have no doubt of the outcome."

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — A. Dudley Johnson was listed as a member of an organizing committee to back Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for president. Mrs. Johnson's name also was listed.

She promptly spoke out, saying the committee had made a mistake in assuming she shared her husband's views. "I intend," she said, "to work for the nomination of Vice President Nixon."

This Is Tiger Anniversary—Norman Went, Dykes Came

Bengals Return to Form of '59 by Losing Pair

Tailspin Puts Detroit in 5th Place as Sox Take Over Lead

DETROIT (AP)—This is the anniversary of a day never-to-be forgotten by the Detroit Tigers, a day when this confusing team was even worse off than it is today.

The Tigers stood in a tie for fifth in the American League today after dropping a doubleheader — losses five and six in a row — to Chicago. A week ago Detroit led the loop with five straight victories after sweeping a series with the White Sox.

The Sox won the first game 6-3 yesterday and the second 5-2 to jump into first place. Detroit, which started the season with five straight victories, is tied with three teams for fifth, a game out of last place.

Just a year ago, the Tigers fell ingloriously before a home run bombardment by the Washington Senators. It was their 15th defeat in 17 games, the last game under Bill Norman.

★ ★ ★

While the barrage was going on, the Tiger owners were firing their manager. Norman was told he was finished moments after the final 15-3 score was posted. Jimmie Dykes, then a Pittsburgh coach, was the new manager.

Dykes took over May 3 in a Sunday doubleheader against the New York Yankees. Frank Lary and Don Mossi pitched the Tigers to twin triumphs and Charlie Maxwell belted his memorable four homers — each farther out than its predecessor.

The Tigers were on their way up from last place. They actually climbed within a half game of first place before they settled off and struggled in fourth.

Now Dykes is having just as much trouble as Norman did pulling the Tigers from a tailspin.

Detroit mustered seven hits in the first game, including Al Kaline's second homer of the season. But Chicago got brilliant relief pitching by Gerry Staley and collected 10 hits for the victory.

★ ★ ★

The second game saw the Tigers get five hits, but Chicago got seven. Not a Tiger managed an extra-base hit in the second game.

Jim Bunning lasted into the sixth inning for Detroit in the first game, giving up 10 hits and six runs for the loss.

In the second, Paul Foytack lasted six innings, giving up five hits and four runs and absorbed the loss.

Al Smith put the White Sox ahead 2-0 with a two-run homer in the third inning of the first game. Kaline's solo homer came in the fourth.

Chicago scored again in the fifth when Smith singled and Nellie Fox drove him home.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers tied it up promptly when Frank Bolling tripled and Neil Chrisley singled him home. Kaline then singled and Staley relieved starter Bob Shaw for Chicago. Lou Berberet grounded out, but Chrisley scored.

★ ★ ★

Chicago wrapped it up in the sixth. Roy Sievers led off with a single and scored on Sherm Lollar's double. Bill Goodman then doubled Lollar home. Sam Esposito ran for Goodman and scred on Luis Aparicio's single.

Manager Jimmie Dykes then started juggling things, but to no avail. Em Lindbeck batted for Ray Semproch in the seventh inning, but grounded out. Charlie Maxwell batted for Steve Bilko in the ninth and grounded out.

Bilko was zero for three in the game and Rocky Colavito zero for four. Colavito flied out in the sixth inning with two men on and Bilko grounded out with one on in the same inning.

★ ★ ★

Skippers Tie for 5th in CMU Relays

'A' Title to Maples

Birmingham Seaholm rolled to a convincing 67½ point total Saturday at Mt. Pleasant to win it's first Central Michigan University relay Class A track title. Maples finished 2nd last spring, but got some fine team balance this time to achieve the championship. Lansing Sexton was the runnerup with 58 points.

Several other Oakland County schools figured in the "A" scoring, including Waterford, with a surprising 23 points, for a 6th place tie with Lansing Eastern. Walled Lake, Pontiac Northern and Lapeer were among the point-collectors. Huskies placed 4th in the mile relay, back of Birmingham, with Farmington 5th.

★ ★ ★

Kermit Ambrose's squad of 19 boys collected points in 22 instances, including two firsts, five seconds, a third and two fourths. Maples won the 440-relay, with Chuck Kulow, Dick Zaino, Scotty Purvis and Steve Jacobson, and the middle-distance relay, with Jack McPhee, Ken Mitchell, Herb Kettler and Mike Geer.

Mosby Harvey placed in the high jump; Jacobson was 2nd in the broad jump; with Northern's Bob Hocking 5th; Dick Zaino

Good Try but Green Fails in North-South

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Charles Smith of Gastonia, N. C., for many years known principally as the younger brother of Dave Smith, the self-styled "big 'un," has come into his own as a top-notch amateur golfer.

When Charles beat college sophomore Peter Green 5 and 3 Saturday in the finals of the North and South tournament, he established himself as a player in his own right.

No longer need he be identified primarily as the brother of 240-pound, 6-5 Dave who is one of the longest hitters in amateur golf. Charles, who is 29, is a strong 6-1, 210-pounder and a graduate of The Citadel, South Carolina's military college at Charleston.

The victory over Green, 19- year-old from Birmingham, Mich., and the University of North Carolina, gave Charles his first major championship.

En route to the finals match he knocked off Roger McManus, national amateur semifinalist, two years ago; Dick Chapman, winner of many national and international titles and his brother Dave, the latter by the widest margin, 8 and 7.

In the semifinals, Dave's best advance in this tournament five years ago, Charles proved his ability to come from behind under pressure. He birdied four of the last five holes to beat Glen Johnson in a 20-hole struggle.

Against Green he went ahead for the first time at the 10th hole of the morning round of the 36-hole match and never lost the advantage.

Smith was seven over par and Green 13 over for their 33 holes around the No. 2 course of The Country Club. It was a long, playing 7,007-yarder and the devlishly tricky pin placements on many holes were enough to make the weekend golfer shudder.

Green had sand trap troubles through most of the match and he was 6-down, at one point. Ironically, the hot putter he had to get him into the finals failed him on several occasions against Smith.

50-FOOTER — Lapeer High's Barry Wiekstrom provided his school's only points, but they produced a shotput title for Barry in Central Michigan's spring relays, Saturday. Barry shoved the shot out for better than 50 feet to win his event. Barry is a former Bloomfield Hills athlete. He transferred to Lapeer last fall. Birmingham Seaholm emerged as champion in Class A, Haslett in Class C. Cranbrook won Class B honors on Friday.

Thomas Happy, He Beat Russian Mark

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Thomas, a solemn-faced youngster of 19, can relax now and watch the others try to catch up to him because he's finally become the world high jump champion.

Even though there's no one who comes even remotely close — that includes the Russians — Thomas was strictly second best according to the books until he soared 7 feet, 1½ inches at the Penn relays Saturday.

He's a quiet one, this 6-5, 194-pound Boston University sophomore, but it had been a source of annoyance to him that Yuri (elevator shoe) Stepanov of Russia was down as the recognized world champion with a 7-1 mark.

That Stepanov was on his mind there could be no doubt. Hardly had he picked himself up after his record leap than he murmured:

"It's nice to have the record back in the United States."

There won't be any argument about Thomas' standard, which, incidentally, was set under miserable weather conditions. A strong breeze was blowing, clouds hung low over Franklin Field and a heavy drizzle was falling — hardly conditions for record-breaking.

But on his very first try, Thomas went over with plenty to spare and the record throng of 42,138 let out a mighty roar. Thomas took three tries at 7-2½, but missed each time.

Ray Norton, ex-San Jose State sprinter, equalled the world record of 20.6 for the 200 meters around a turn. He, Andy Stanfield, Than Baker and Bobby Morrow all held a piece of it.

The eight major relays went off with no startling surprises. Michigan, Yale and San Jose State each finished with two victories and Villanova and Winston-Salem (N.C.) Teachers with one each.

Michigan, which had hoped to become the third school in history to win four major titles, had to settle for the distance medley on Friday and the four-mile Saturday in 17:27.3.

Eastern Michigan's Hayes Jones won the Olympic 110-meter high hurdles feature in :13.6.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Central Michigan University racked up a record at the 51st Drake relays Saturday when it won the college mile relay in 3:12.2.

The Western Michigan team won the college distance medley relay in 10:12.

Western Michigan was second in the college two-mile relay with 7:49.3. Howard Payne took the event in 7:42.0.

The long-awaited shotput showdown was won by Bill Nieder with a toss of 63 feet 11½ inches. World record holder Parry O'Brien was second with 63-1¼. Third was Davie Davis with a heave of 61-9¼.

Cleveland Wins Twice With Rookies Hurling

By The Associated Press

When Frank Lane traded away Cal McLish, his 19-game winner, the Cleveland Indians announced to the world that they were going to gamble with young pitchers.

Wynn Hawkins and Dick Stigman, two 24-year-old members of the 1960 rookie crop, made General Manager Lane and Manager Joe Gordon look good Sunday when they managed complete games in a doubleheader sweep over Kansas City.

Hawkins, a right-hander from the Mobile farm, allowed 10 hits but lasted nine innings to win his second game 6-4 with the help of five runs batted in on two homers by Bobba Phillips.

Stigman, a southpaw out of San Diego, turned in a steady six-hit effort in the 3-1 second game, won by Vic Power's two-run single with the bases loaded.

Despite the success of these precocious Indians, the defending champion Chicago White Sox took league lead for the first time this season. The White Sox whipped Detroit 6-3 and 5-2 on the relief pitching of Gerry Staley and Frank Baumann.

Baltimore's young Chuck Estrada survived a three-run first inning and went all the way to a 9-5 decision over the New York Yankees. A Washington-Boston doubleheader was rained out.

In the National League, Pittsburgh won its ninth straight, humbling Cincinnati again 13-2. It was the longest Pirate winning streak since 1944. Milwaukee edged Philadelphia 5-4 and Chicago shaded St. Louis 5-4. Los Angeles and San Frisco had an open date.

Hawkins might have needed relief if it hadn't been for Phillips' slugging. He was nicked for two homers by Norm Siebern and one by Whitey Herzog among the 10 Kansas City hits. The Indians piled up an early lead off loser Ned Garver.

Stigman helped himself in the second game. He started a rally with a single to open the fifth. After a sacrifice and a single by Johnny Temple, the pitcher bumped into catcher Harry Chiti at the plate and the catcher dropped the ball. The only run off the lefty was unearned.

The Yankees who had humbled Baltimore 16-0 Saturday afternoon started out as though they planned to do the same thing Sunday. They scored three in the first on Estrada but faded when the Orioles attacked three New York pitchers for six runs in the fourth inning.

Palmer Close Behind

Collins Leads at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Big, blond Bill Collins, who claims he doesn't even think of the pressure, led the Houston Classic golf tournament into its final round today but the story still was: Will Arnold Palmer make it six?

Collins, the man from Baltimore who plays his golf out of Crystal River, Fla., shot a 4-under-par 68 Sunday to snare the lead by two strokes over Palmer, the Masters champion from Ligonier, Pa., who has won five tournaments this year. He had banked $44,257.57.

★

Collins had 205 for 54 holes. Palmer, who shot a 70 in the third round, had 207.

This is not a very long lead for a fellow having to fight off the hottest man in golf today.

But Collins professed not to be thinking of the pressure. He hoped his putter and driver continue to stand by him in the stretch drive as they have for three rounds.

Collins attributed his showing here largely to a driver he borrowed from his golfing friend, Fred Gronauer of Briarcliff, N. Y. "I was driving so badly with my N iwood that I often used a No. 1 iron until I got this driver," Collins declared.

Palmer was looking at the scoreboard when he came to the eighteenth green. He was finishing just ahead of Collins and at that time was three strokes behind. He ran down an 18-foot putt for a birdie and looked confident as he strode off the green.

Collins wound up 11 under par for 54 holes. Palmer was nine under.

Jack Fleck of Los Angeles, former National Open champion, held the pace for nine holes and was tied with Collins for the lead, both a stroke ahead of Palmer. But Fleck bogeyed the last hole by 3-putting and had a par 72. He fell to third place at 209.

THOMAS SETS RECORD — John Thomas, Boston University sophomore, fails in high jump attempt with bar set at seven feet, two and a half inches at Penn Relays in Philadelphia Saturday shortly after he set a new world mark of seven feet, one and one half inches. The new mark bettered by a half an inch the world mark previously held by Russia's Yuri Stepanov. Thomas had jumped seven feet, two and a half inches indoors but indoors jumps are not recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

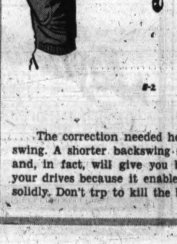

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "My drives drive my score up."

DIAGNOSIS: Overswinging.

TREATMENT: Your drives must be at least fairly accurate if you logically expect to score well. Distance off the tee helps a lot, too, but not if you're off in the deep rough half the time.

In today's illustration you see a man trying so hard to get extra distance that he has little chance of hitting the ball straight. He is overswinging.

Note that the club-head has dipped well below the horizontal, and that turning left shoulder is tending to push the head around and take the player's eyes off the ball. Both are symptoms of overswinging.

B-2

The correction needed here is to shorten the backswing. A shorter backswing makes for better control—and, in fact, will give you better average distance on your drives because it enables you to hit the ball more solidly. Don't try to kill the ball, just hit it well.

From The PRESS BOX

In miserable weather conditions Saturday, MSU golfers defeated Hillsdale, 15-3 with Tim Baldwin getting 79, Jack Reynolds 79 and Bud Badger 83. U. of M. defeated U. of D., 18-6 with Mike Conroy of Birmingham getting 83 for the losing Titans.

Pitcher John Anderson was optioned by Baltimore Sunday to Miami. He gave up seven runs in 4 2/3 innings.

Defensive lineman Alex Karras signed an unusual two-year contract with the Lions over the weekend. Traded Piston Ed Conlin agreed to terms with the St. Louis Hawks.

★ ★ ★

Wayne State hurdler Paul Jones skipped over the high hurdles in 14.7 for the only new record in the annual Michigan Open track meet held Saturday.

★ ★ ★

LeRoy and Al Wilding, two brothers from Holly, won the 4th annual Devil River canoe race in the Upper Peninsula Sunday. They paddled through the 10-mile course in 1 hour, 13 minutes, 9 seconds to set a new record for the race.

Muskegon Gets Puck Franchise at IHL Meeting

CHICAGO (AP) — Muskegon, Mich., has been granted a franchise in the International Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

In a league meeting Sunday, applications were considered from St. Louis, Denver, Washington, D. C., Green Bay, Wis. and Winnipeg, Man., and Windsor, Ont.

Muskegon, with a population of 149,000, was represented by two bidders. The successful one was Pat Thurkettle, former operator of a team in Toledo, Jerry Delise, who lives in New Haven, Conn., also made a bid.

Who Said Pirates Had No Hitting Power?

By the Associated Press

The pre-season line on Pittsburgh read: "Sound defense, good speed, thin pitching, lacks power." This is the same club that scored 12 runs Saturday and 13 runs Sunday while stretching its winning streak to nine games, the club's longest since 1944.

What happened?

★ ★ ★

The batting averages tell part of the story: Smoky Burgess, .438. Roberto Clemente, .377. Dick Groat, .349. Bob Skinner, .327. The pitching records tell the rest: Vern Law 4-0, Bob Friend 3-0.

★ ★ ★

Law has come into his own to gain belated recognition as one of the very best pitchers in the National League. Overshadowed by Bob Friend in previous years, Law compiled a brilliant 18-9 season last year only to play second fiddle to Elroy Face's sensational relief pitching (18-1).

★ ★ ★

There has been no stopping Law this season. His fourth straight Sunday was a sound nine-hitter over Cincinnati 13-2. He grew steadily better as the game went on, allowing only three harmless singles after the third inning.

Clemente got the Pirates off winging with a bases loaded home run off Don Newcombe in the first inning. Bill Mazeroski followed with a three-run homer in the eighth after Newk had long departed for the showers.

★ ★ ★

As a result of the weekend cannonading, the Pirate trio of Clemente, Mazeroski and Skinner are running 3-4-5 in the runs batted in race behind Willie McCovey and Ernie Banks.

★ ★ ★

Pittsburgh's Sunday victory opened up a two-game lead on idle San Francisco which, like Los Angeles, had an unusual Sunday open date.

★ ★ ★

Billy Bruton collected five hits, including his first homer of the year, in Milwaukee's 5-4 victory over Philadelphia. Don McMahon rescued Lew Burdette in the ninth after a three-run rally had left the Phils only one short of a tie.

★ ★ ★

Tony Taylor was the big man for the Chicago Cubs, driving in three runs with his four hits in a 5-4 decision over St. Louis. Don Elston's fine relief work as the third Cub pitcher saved the victory for starter Glen Hobbie.

★ ★ ★

The Pirates' rout of the Reds was Cincinnati's 11th defeat in 15 games. It shoved them into the cellar, eight games off the pace.

Don Hoak and Groat led off with singles and Stuart walked before Clemente banged his grand slammer in the first inning. It was his fifth home run.

Burdette took a 3-1 lead into the ninth at Milwaukee only to run into trouble. After three runs scored, McMahon came in and ended the game with one pitch by making Al Dark ground to Eddie Mathews. Bruton's third hit, a lead-off single, opened a three-run spurt in the seventh off loser Don Cardwell and Curt Simmons.

★ ★ ★

Elston took over for the Cubs with the bases full, Chicago leading St. Louis 5-3 and a 2-0 count on Leon Wagner. He got Wagner on a pop up, yielded a run on a sacrifice fly by George Crowe and struck out Bob Nieman. Daryl Spencer hit his fifth homer for the Cards in the fourth.

Laverne Carter WIBC Leader

Top Start Gains 1st in All Events and 3rd in Singles

DENVER (AP)—Laverne Carter of St. Louis took command of the all events in the Women's International Bowling Congress Sunday by rolling 1726.

Miss Carter displaced Arville Noltensmeier, Rapid City, S. D., the leader the past 10 days, who rolled 1687.

Miss Carter's 622 in singles was good enough only to move her into third place in that competition behind Miss Noltensmeier at 635 and Evie Krause, Mound, Minn., at 633.

In doubles Miss Carter rolled 568, and in the team event 556. Her doubles partner, Marion Ladewig, was bothered by a sore finger and rolled 478. Their 1034 left them far out of the first 10 in the doubles.

The doubles lead is held by Englin-Katie Stadt, St. Paul, Minn. with 1146. They are followed by Arta Weitz-Mary Morse, Cheyenne Wyo. with 1127 and Fran McMurray-Jean Batterson, Oklahoma City, 1099.

The St. Louis team including Miss Carter and Miss Ladewig tied with Denver for the Dvision 1 leadership at 2574. Billings, Mont. is third at 2534.

MORE VALUE. Just look at these Mercury advantages over other low-price cars:
You ride smoother because Mercury has up to 8 inches more wheelbase . . . and is up to 494 pounds heavier. You're more comfortable because of Mercury's extra shoulder room, leg room, and foot room. You feel safer because Mercury's brakes are bigger (up to 26%), and visibility is better (up to 21% more).
Mercury has at least two dozen extra values. Why not enjoy them all, and save a little money, too?
PRICES START $63 TO $66* BELOW EVEN THE LOWEST-PRICED V-8 POWERED PLYMOUTH FURY OR CHEVROLET IMPALA.
And we're not talking about a 'stripped' Mercury. This price comparison is based on a de luxe-appointed Monterey with luxurious nylon interior and deep, soft wall-to-wall carpeting.
This amazing price story is the result of Mercury's dramatic 1960 price reductions (as much as $174 lower than last year, including extras that are now standard equipment).
Every Mercury is lower priced than last year. All Montereys are now low-price cars. They are priced below, or within a few dollars of, the other de luxe V-8 series in the low-price field. Come in. See for yourself.
*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested 1960 retail base prices for lowest-priced V-8 models.

First Prize has been awarded to The Pontiac Press by Editor and Publisher magazine for the most outstanding market research during 1959 for a daily newspaper in America under 100,000 circulation. This is the 25th annual award given by Editor and Publisher in conjunction with the National Newspaper Promotion Association.

This award was given for a special market study made in 1959 under the supervision of Benson and Benson, Inc. and the Advertising Research Foundation. The purpose of this study was to gather facts about the characteristics of the households in our area and about their newspaper reading habits. In today's fast moving world, progress in any industry depends upon good research. We believe that research is essential in maintaining the high standards of newspaper publishing our readers demand. We are happy to accept this award on behalf of our readers and staff.

New Compact 'Lancer' to Help It Along

Dodge Likely to Beat Out Plymouth in '61

By BEN PHLEGAR
A.P. Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Current indications are that Dodge, rather than Plymouth, will be the big volume division of Chrysler Corp. with the start of the 1961 model year.

Yet only four months ago, M.C. Patterson, general manager of Dodge Division, felt it necessary to assure dealers in his year-end letter that rumors the Dodge name was being abandoned were unfounded.

Such reports circulated freely last year even as Patterson was maintaining stoutly that his new popular-price Dart would breath new life into the division.

Claims that the Dart would turn the traditional low price three of Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth into the low price four were largely ignored. But Patterson was dead right.

According to unofficial figures here is what happened in the first three months of 1960:

Combined Chevrolet-Ford-Plymouth-Dart sales of 772,000 cars were a shade under last years three-month total of 795,875 for Chevrolet-Ford-Plymouth.

Chevrolet took 49.6 per cent of the total; Ford took 31.8 per cent; Plymouth took 9.6 per cent and Dart took 9 per cent.

Last year Chevrolet took 45.6 per cent; Ford 44.1 per cent and Plymouth 10.3 per cent.

Thus, while Plymouth sales were off a fraction of a per cent, Chrysler Corp.'s share rose 8.5 per cent because of the Dart.

★ ★ ★

In the overall sales picture Plymouth dropped from fifth (behind Chevrolet, Ford, Pontiac and Oldsmobile) in last year's first quarter to eighth this year. Moving ahead of Plymouth have been the new Ford Falcon, Rambler and Dodge.

★ ★ ★

Another indication the Dodge star is in the ascendency came two weeks ago when Chrysler president L. L. Colbert confirmed Dodge will enter the compact market this fall.

This will give Dodge dealers a compact car, probably to be known as the Dodge Lancer; a popular price car, the Dart; and a luxury, larger Dodge on a 122-inch wheelbase.

So far this year Dart has accounted for about 82 per cent of all Dodge sales. In three months this meant, according to unofficial figures, 69,207 Darts and 15,630 big Dodges.

★ ★ ★

By comparison, Plymouth sales during the same period totaled 74,050. Aligned in the same division are the compact Valiant, with 38,650 sales in the first quarter, and DeSoto with 8,150.

In recent weeks Dodge regularly has been building more cars than Plymouth and on several occasions has come close to the Plymouth-Valiant combined total.

The Dart came into being when Chrysler decided Plymouth never was going to be a serious sales rival of Ford and Chevrolet. It also provided a chance to realign dealers.

★ ★ ★

Almost every Chrysler Corp. dealer used to handle Plymouth. They might find themselves on opposite corners of an intersection competing for sales. And the corporation felt the dealers divided their energies so that other lines suffered.

So Dodge was nominated to go it alone. Dodge dealers were told they must give up Plymouth. A lot of them screamed long and loud. Then they were shown the loud. Then they were shown the Dart, which as far as cars go is a blood brother to the Plymouth with a different exterior. About the only screams heard since have been for more Darts.

Nobody is more pleased than Patterson who says with a broad smile, "We will have the best compact, a brand new Dart and a brand new 122 inch wheelbase car this fall. I am very happy."

Warns Capital on State Flights

CAB Says: 'Improve Service' but Grants Extra Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital Airlines must improve its service to the Flint-Grand Rapids, Mich., area, but the Civil Aeronautics Board puts off saying when.

The board said service was inadequate in a number of ways.

But, because of Capital's current financial troubles, the board stayed its ruling that the service must be improved. The CAB added, however, that this action "does not relieve Capital of its obligation to provide adequate service."

The CAB ordered the airlines to provide at least three round trips a day between Grand Rapids and New York with at least one departure from each point in the morning and at least one during the late afternoon or early evening.

Capital also must provide not less than one round trip a day between Grand Rapids and Washington, with a plane leaving Grand Rapids during the morning and from Washington late in the day.

The airline also must provide pressurized aircraft on all first class flights between Flint and New York, Washington and Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh or Philadelphia and between Grand Rapids and New York, Washington, Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or Chicago.

The CAB also said the airline must schedule single plane service between the cities named, during specified periods of the day, with no more than two intermediate stops.

To Open Up Striking Gardens

STERLING FOREST, N. Y. (UPI) — One of the finest privately-owned gardens in the world will be officially opened to the public here this week with a panoply of color never seen outside Holland—1,500,000 spring bulbs in bloom at one time.

The Sterling Forest Gardens, created at a cost of millions just 40 miles from the heart of New York City, is the realization of a dream of Robert W. Dowling, an artistically inclined Manhattan realty tycoon.

A work force of 350 men is rushing the garden to completion for dedication ceremonies Thursday. One of the final plantings is 3,500 roses.

Dowling's City Investing Company bought this 30 square mile tract of woodland in the beautiful Ramapo Hills from the Harriman family several years ago for development as a site for research laboratories and homes for their personnel.

Eventually it will be a model American city of 10,000 or 15,000 families.

Approximately 125 acres were set aside for the Sterling Forest Gardens as a means of preserving the natural beauty of the area.

The setting is so romantic that few visitors would guess that the Union Carbide Corporation's laboratory is constructing an atomic reactor just over the nearest hill.

Business and Finance

Mart Teeters Over Low Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—A cautious stock market remained poised slightly above its 1960 low early this afternoon in moderate trading.

Most key stocks showed minor changes. A few specially situated issues showed gains or losses running to about 2 points.

Market analysts saw the list as undergoing a "test" to see whether it would break through the previous support level or mount another recovery drive.

Steels were unchanged to a bit higher despite prospects of another sizable drop in production. Big Three motor shares were mixed. Rails edged ahead on balance. Utilities were off slightly.

Aircrafts showed a slightly lower trend. Oils, airlines, electronics and drugs were irregular.

U.S. Steel held unchanged above 75 as the company's big annual meeting got under way. Republic Steel rose about a point and Bethlehem gained a fraction.

General Motors eased. Ford and American Motors rose a fraction. Chrysler, which fell 4¾ last week, was down about a point.

American Telephone lost a fraction. Standard Oil (New Jersey) rose slightly. Du Pont picked up more than a point.

Grain Futures Start Ahead on All Fronts

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market started off in a strong range generally today with rye and soybeans up more than a cent in spots.

* * *

Wheat and oats were ahead by small fractions all along the line during the first several minutes of transactions and corn was narrowly mixed.

* * *

Brokers said support could have been linked with small cash grain receipts over the weekend. However, corn arrivals were more than 350 cars and some dealers expressed belief they may be the forerunners of more liberal movement of the grain to market.

Raps Income Tax Again

JACKSON (AP)—Michigan voters "know a state income tax is coming at them through the front door if they support the candidates of the Democratic Party," says Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo).

Michigan Wants Nixon, Not Rocky, Reports Poll

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today that a poll conducted for it showed that Vice President Richard M. Nixon would swamp New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in a primary election test of Republican presidential preference in Michigan.

In a poll conducted by Market Opinion Research Co. of Detroit, the News reported that 83.8 per cent favored Nixon and only 16.4 per cent preferred Rockefeller.

Michigan does not have a presidential preference primary. Both parties name national convention delegates at state conventions.

The News said those polled were given a ballot on which they could vote either their Republican or Democratic choices, but not both. It reported Sunday that Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) was a hands-down '62.6 winner among hopefuls of his party.

A house that cost $7,500 to build in 1941 would cost approximately $18,500 to duplicate this year, according to building specialists of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. That represents an increase of about 155 per cent in 19 years.

Port Huron Dock Facility Opens With Bean Cargo

PORT HURON (UPI) — The first ship to use Port Huron's new, $400,000 port facility was expected to take on a cargo of beans today for shipment to England.

* * *

Mayor Robert Patterson hailed a new era in shipping for this city on the St. Clair River yesterday when he dedicated the new port development.

He told about 200 persons at the ceremony that the facility was a "port of community faith" because voters had approved a tax increase to finance the project.

Facilities include about 500 feet of concrete dock space, 10,000 square feet of warehouse space and two huge cargo cranes on rails.

Istanbul Attorneys Supporting Students

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkish students, who have been carrying on virtually alone a campaign against Premier Adnan Menderes' government, won the support of prominent Istanbul lawyers in new demonstrations today.

Soldiers broke up a series of antigovernment gatherings in this city, where foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty organization are studying the West's strategy for the Paris summit meeting.

* * * *

About 3,000 shouting youths clashed with soldiers guarding the broad plaza in sight of the NATO meeting place.

About 100 attorneys—dressed in long, black judicial robes—assembled in the Istanbul Palace of Justice singing patriotic songs and shouting. They had planned to march on the new City Hall where NATO ministers are meeting.

Turkish soldiers moved into the Palace of Justice and arrested at least 30 lawyers, six of them women, at bayonet point. The rest were forced to leave the building.

* * *

The incident in the court took place as 500 students marched silently down both sides of the city's main business street.

The students intended to demonstrate in a square, site of a monument to Turkey's war dead. But soldiers threw a ring around the square and pushed the students back into winding side streets.

The demonstration by the 3,000 youths, mostly students, was the day's first incident in this martial law-ruled city.

* * *

The soldiers pushed the demonstrators back with the butts of their rifles. Suddenly the crowd broke and scattered into several small side streets.

2 Area Women Win High Posts in GOP, Dems

Two Pontiac area women were elected to high offices at weekend conventions of the Michigan Young Democrats and Michigan Federation of Young Republicans.

Becoming the first Oakland representative in the Democratic organization was Norma Jean Walling, 23, of 2445 Hester Ct., Keego Harbor. She was elected Saturday by delegates as first vice chairman for the coming year.

Elected secretary of the statewide YRs was Barbara Borgen of 94 Dwight Ave. She is a kindergarten teacher at LeBaron School and a member of the Oakland County Young Republicans.

Miss Walling, a free lance writer, led her party ticket in the election of state officers at the Detroit convention. She is vice chairman of the Oakland County Young Democrats.

Miss Borgen, 27, is secretary and membership chairman of the Oakland YRs.

* * *

Local Republicans sent 36 delegates to the state convention in Jackson, while the area young Democrats sent four to their Detroit convention.

Supervisors OK 2nd Judge Vote

Ballot Was Unanimous to Place Issue Before People in November

Past political bartering was all forgotten this morning when the Oakland County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to call for the election of a second probate judge this November.

The vote was 74-0. It instructed the county clerk to take "all necessary steps" to set up the machinery for the long-awaited long-debated election.

Gov. Williams signed a bill last month permitting the Board of Supervisors, if favored by a majority, to place the election on the ballot. There will be a primary in August.

In the past two years, political divisions on the 83-member Board were split over whether to call for the election, allowing Williams to name an interim appointee, or, as settled on finally before the bill was signed, having county voters this November decide on whether a second judge is needed.

* * *

This morning's vote followed no discussion on the question—at least from supervisors.

But former supervisor, state representative and announced candidate for the new judgeship, Theodore F. Hughes of Berkley, signaled from the rear of the room that a roll call vote was necessary after Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller moved for a unanimous roll call vote being cast.

Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham supervisor, ducked outside the Supervisors Room to escape voting on the question.

He explained later: "I haven't decided whether I'll run or not and I knew they 'didn't need my vote to pass it."

* * *

After even refusing to vote when the clerk saw him re-enter the room, Ingraham elaborated on his refusal saying he had been criticized last year for bringing up the addition of a new judge for his own personal benefit. This he denied.

* * *

Even before today's vote, candidates for the $22,500 job were tossing in their hats. Several are still pondering the move. Nominating petitions must be in by June 14.

Supervisors earlier rescinded a vote of last December merely placing the question of the need on the ballot. This step supposedly was more to the governor's liking as it would have given him the right to name his appointee until an election in 1961 could be called.

But behind the bills of Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, West Bloomfield Township Republican, and Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, himself an announced candidate, the question was deemed unnecessary.

Actually, today's vote took its place.

The new judge, for a two-year instead of a regular four-year term, will take office Jan. 1, 1961. The race is non-partisan.

Kentucky Police Arrest Waterford Motel Thug

An ex-convict who twice robbed and kidnaped a Waterford Township motel manager and his wife was arrested Saturday by Kentucky State Police as he and his wife were driving in a stolen car near Owensboro, Ky.

* * *

Sought by county, state and federal police on various charges, Donald M. Hibbs, 26, surrendered quietly when he was stopped driving a car stolen from Savoy Motel manager Henry Lawrence, 44, of 26 S. Telegraph Rd.

* * *

On April 2, Hibbs took $135 from the motel manager after threatening him with what he said was a "gun in his pocket."

* * *

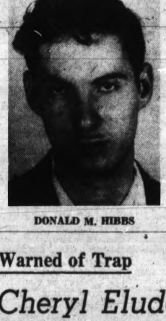

Two weeks later Hibbs returned, taking $234 from the cash register and forcing Lawrence and his pregnant wife into the couple's car.

* * *

After driving for more than two hours, Hibbs finally released the Lawrences at Outer Drive and Greenfield roads and sped away in the car.

* * *

Hibbs was arraigned in Kentucky today. Waterford Township officers Lt. William E. Stokes and Detective Ernest Mann are enroute to Kentucky to return Hibbs to Michigan.

Warned of Trap Cheryl Eludes Police

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Sixteen-year-old Cheryl Crane, the wayward daughter of actress Lana Turner, continued to elude police today—three days after her escape with two other teen-age girls from a home for wayward girls.

Cheryl narrowly missed capture last night when she and her companions were warned of a police trap staked out at a planned rendezvous with another girl who was formerly in the juvenile home.

The friend, Regina Farr, 15, of Long Beach, tipped the girls the police were waiting for them when they called early in the evening to receive instuctions on how to find Miss Farr's home. Police then arrested her for parole violation.

A car, with at least two of the missing girls and three boys, was spotted later at 11 p.m. in the Long Beach area and pickup broadcast was put out by Long Beach police but the group eluded capture.

Cheryl's distraught father, restaurateur Steve Crane, today appealed to her through a Los Angles newspaper to contact him and let him help her.

Grant Hoffa Hearing to Block Fund Trial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals gave Teamsters President James R. Hoffa another chance today to try and block his trial on charges he misused union funds.

* * *

It granted Hoffa's request for an emergency hearing on his motion to prevent Federal Judge Joseph R. Jackson from starting the trial tomorrow morning.

The appeals court scheduled arguments for this afternoon on twin motions by Hoffa and the Teamsters Union.

A Bird in the Hand Is Worth Ride to Station

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Three university students were charged with birdnaping. They were caught after having taken a mynah bird from a pet shop.

Officers said it was easy to find the trio since not many people walk the streets at 3 a.m. with a bird.

Johnson Expects Slip by Kennedy

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) —Supporters of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) have mapped July convention strategy by which they hope to hoist him to the 600-vote mark on the second Democratic presidential ballot.

Their possibly overoptimistic forecasts of rising strength for the Senate Democratic leader are based on a quick collapse of the bid of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for the nomination.

Although results of the May 10 West Virginia primary may upset current calculations, knowledgeable Democrats now believe Johnson and Kennedy will go into the first balloting with about 450 each of the 761 votes needed to win the nomination.

Unless he has nearly sewed up the prize before the convention opens, Kennedy seems more vulnerable to second-ballot losses than Johnson. The Massachusetts senator has some more or less reluctant first ballot support in states like Ohio and Maryland which could break away fast.

★

Johnson's strength in the South appears more likely to hold firm. His backers think that if he could benefit by a Kennedy slide on the second ballot, he might be able to go all the way in the end. But they obviously don't yet have in sight the necessary 761 votes.

The Johnson camp is inclined to downgrade the chance that Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) might be the beneficiary of an early Kennedy slump. In the Johnson view, Symington can win only if the convention turns into a donnybrook and fails to name a nominee in eight or 10 ballots.

Father Bleeds for Son

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—In a manner of speaking, it hurt father more than son when 3-year-old Donnie Stadler fell on porch steps at his home and cut his chin. His dad, Robert, became faint after watching a doctor treat the boy, fell against a water fountain, broke off two teeth and suffered face cuts which required eight stitches.

Vet's Mother Does Honors

Gives Flag to Eagles

Some 2,000 veterans and members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles gathered in Pontiac yesterday to see the mother of the first Korean prisoner of war donate a new flag at Pontiac Eagles Aerie 1230.

Mrs. Esther Larson of 70 S. Paddock St., donated the first 48-star flag to the aerie following the death of her son, M. Sgt. Martin A. Strahan, in 1953.

That flag was the one which had covered her son's casket. He was a war hero and had spent 3½ years in a PW camp after becoming the first American soldier to be captured by North Koreans after only 10 hours of fighting.

He had also been in active combat in World War II. Strahan died in December 1953 at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital. He was 37.

"The old flag had to be replaced with a new 50-star flag and Mrs. Larson was the only person for the job," said Jack A. Hobby, drill team captain.

★ ★ ★

A parade moved up Oakland avenue from Sanderson to Montcalm and then on to the aerie at 289 W. Montcalm.

It was a colorful and impressive sight with all of the 20 drill teams in the Eagles Southeastern Michigan Zone Conference present.

★ ★ ★

The National Champion "Vanguards" Drum and Bugle Corps, from St. Clair Shores VFW Post 1146, raised the new colors.

Hobby, who is president-elect of the Pontiac aerie, lives at 3749 Percy King Dr., Waterford Township. He was in charge of the flag dedication.

Protests Airlift at Regular Mail Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Glenn Cunningham (R-Neb) says the experiment of airlifting regular letter mail is cheating the Post Office, hurting railroads and jeopardizing future mail deliveries.

Cunningham said in an interview yesterday that Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield "has been going hog wild" on the experiment.

He said railroads would be forced to discontinue passenger trains on a wholesale basis unless the practice is halted.

Cunningham is sponsor of a bill specifying that only mail bearing air mail postage be carried by plane.

Powell Says Meany Allows Union Bias

NEW YORK (UPI)—Negro Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) has charged AFL-CIO President George Meany with permitting anti-Negro prejudice in the nation's largest labor organization.

Powell, under questioning by New York Bar Assn. members in a taped telecast shown here said that Meany "has done nothing to stop the anti-Negroism in the AFL-CIO."

Specifically, Powell said "the headquarters of the AFL-CIO in Washington, D.C., was built with white-only labor because Mr. Meany practiced racialism and wouldn't let Negroes work on the building."

Powell also said, "The nation's capital is being rebuilt now without a single nonwhite working on it."

Gunsmoke Cameras Still Blazing Away

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They're off and shooting in the sixth season of the apparently unbeatable "Gunsmoke" series.

Dodge City has moved from California Studios to the Paramount television lot, but otherwise there seems to be no change in the setup for the Saturday night show. Dodge is still as dusty, Matt Dillon as trusty, Chester as gimpy and Doc as grumpy. Not to mention Kitty, who is still Amanda Blake.

★ ★ ★

"No, we're not planning any changes this season," said big Jim Arness as he rested between gunplay. "We've gone along pretty well the way we are, so why tamper with it?"

Jim seemed unruffled about facing another eight months of intensive film making to complete another season.

JAMES ARNESS

"Sure, it's hard work sometimes," he said, "but the rewards are pretty great, too. There's a lot of independence involved. I like that; it's one of the reasons the acting life appealed to me.

"How long can 'Gunsmoke' last? I wish it could go on indefinitely. Realistically, I would imagine it could last another two or three years; that's what people connected with the business tell me. I guess eight years would be about the limit for a successful show. Then I would hope that I could get another series."

Jim's satisfaction with his lot is unusual in the TV corral. It is also something new with him. He was fixing to get out of the Dillon role, but last season the producers made him a new deal for a better share of the returns. Now he can afford a new ranch and yacht to take care of what little spare time he has on land or sea.

HAIL THE REVOLUTION — Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos and Prime Minister Fidel Castro join a May Day throng in singing the hymn of the July 26th movement. The crowd was no where near expectations. Lower center is a member of the Junior Police Patrol, Lazaro Ventura.

McNamara Sees Aid by Social Security

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) predicts that his Senate subcommittee on problems of the aged will devise a new plan to expand the social Security program to provide medical care for all elderly persons.

McNamara said yesterday a bill probably would be introduced within the next few days designed to set up hospitalization insurance for the 12 million aged under Social Security and four million elderly not covered by the present program.

He said that expansion of Social Security was the proper approach in spite of opposition from President Eisenhower and congressional Republicans.

Among children 10 to 14, and young people 15 to 19, milk is the favorite beverage — soft drinks are second. To sell its best prospects the dairy industry spent an estimated $16,900,000 in newspaper advertising last year.

Castro's May Day Crowd Not Up to Expectations

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro celebrated May Day with another blast at the United States, but the widely heralded demonstration in support of his revolution drew a far smaller crowd than expected.

Between 250,000 and 500,000 Cubans assembled in Havana's vast Civic Plaza Sunday. A million and a half had been predicted. The turnout was one of the smallest of the public endorsements the Castro forces have mustered.

★ ★ ★

The fiery, bearded prime minister himself was not up to his best form.

★ ★ ★

Hoarse and disheveled, he harangued the audience for 3½ hours, rehashing old charges against the United States. However, he gave a new twist, charging the United States is preparing "aggression against Cuba through Guatemala." Previously Castro has accused the United States of conspiring with the Dominican Republic against Cuba.

Castro talked for an hour without arousing much enthusiasm. Many in the crowd were beginning to leave when someone started the chant "Cuba yes! Yankees no!". Enthusiasm whipped up.

★ ★ ★

Castro rejected as "baseless and absurd" a charge by Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras that Cuba is being used as a base to organize an invasion of Guatemala.

The revolutionary prime minister also appeared to sound the death knell for any lingering hopes of government by ballot in Cuba any time soon. He proclaimed that elections were not the only democratic process.

Castro drew rousing cheers with the declaration: "Democracy is where the majority governs. Democracy is this — democracy of the Cuban revolution."

"We have voted for Fidel! We have voted for Fidel!, the crowd chanted for five minutes while the prime minister beamed.

Earlier he watched the nation flex its military muscles during a five-hour parade of the armed forces and thousands of members of his new "people's army"—uniformed workers, peasants and students. Hundreds of women were in the ranks.

Margaret's Wedding Brings Loud Protests

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Poor Princess Margaret! Some of the louder Londoners charge that her wedding's being handled like a funeral. They blame "very top" Buckingham Palace officials. The tourist industry growls that by not jazzing up the nuptials England's missing $100,000,000. Pubs, for example, can't get after-hours special licenses.

★ ★ ★

Beatrice Lillie (Lady Peel) will be going from N.Y. Charmin' Sharman Douglas will be jetting from Hollywood.

WILSON

The Earl of Wilson and B.W. will be covering the blarsted excitement. I personally like Tony Armstrong-Jones. Two of Meg's earlier beaux thought I was a waiter at previous London parties. Each was a duke—and each beckoned to me to fetch more champagne. Tony never did that. No sir! Tony wasn't around yet.

★ ★ ★

Charles de Gaulle enthusiasts are citing his sense of humor. When he was dropping Information Minister Soustelle in the Algérian crisis Soustelle pleaded for another interview and was refused. "Just two words with him," he begged. De Gaulle overheard, stuck his head out the door and shouted: "Au revoir!"

★ ★ ★

When Bob Hope got the National Humanitarian Award in Cleveland from the National Conference of Christians and Jews he said that Hollywood is peopled by all religions. "Bing Crosby's a Catholic, Jack Benny's Jewish and Red Skelton's a Protestant, but they all worship at the same place—their agent's," Bob said. His wife Dolores sent congratulations and Bob said, "She has so many candles burning at our house we can't get fire insurance."

Hugh Downs'll pull down $7,500 in one week to stage-act at Warren, O., in "Happy Anniversary" in August . . . Mike Todd Jr. wants to make a B'way musical out of his dad's "Around the World in 80 Days"—though his elders say he shouldn't.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Beatrice Lillie bought a new hat to wear to Princess Meg's wedding—in a store at Darlen, Conn. . . . Joanne Woodward writes from Israel that she cut her hair "out of boredom and now I look like the poor man's Shirley MacLaine."

The Manning Gurians (actress Julie Harris) hit more oil in Bakersfield, Calif. . . . TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's now a crime in New York to make threatening phone calls, and Johnny Carson hopes the loan companies remember that.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's an art to baby-sitting. It isn't easy to watch TV, read a book and eat a sandwich while the kids are crying.

The amazing thing about that TV satellite in the sky is that the pictures it's sending back aren't interrupted by commercials . . . That's earl, brother.

Pay TV Off to Good Start

Sponsors, Fans Like Experiment in Toronto as Program Grows

TORONTO (AP) — Canada's pay TV experiment seems off to a good start.

It's too early to tell whether the project will prove successful, but several customers and the sponsors say they are happy.

The operation began two months ago with installations in 1,000 homes in Etobicoke, a Toronto suburb. The system now includes 2,500 homes, with about 300 more each week. The aim is 10,000-12,000 by the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

The project, called Trans Canada Telemeter, has overcome many of the difficulties which beset other pay TV plans.

Installation is simple. The customer pays $5 to connect to the service. Then he drops coins in the slots whenever he wants to watch a first-run film, a hockey game or some other program.

This system was developed by Paramount Pictures in experiments going back to 1951. Trans Canada Telemeter is owned by a Paramount subsidiary, Famous Players Canadian Corp., Canada's biggest distributor of movies.

★ ★ ★

Eugene E. Fitzgibbons, director of TV activities for Famous Players, says: "We are delighted with the way things have gone so far, but it may take a year of study before we know the full results."

The main unanswered question is whether customers will pay enough to make the project yield a profit.

Langford Show Loud, but Definitely Not Good

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Among showpeople, there is a saying that assures us, "Loud is good."

Making its annual appearance on NBC-TV last night, "The Frances Langford Show" proved to be the exception to the rule.

It was loud, but not good.

The wobbly format was loosely dedicated to Mother's Day, exemplified by the organization called "The Motion Picture Mothers of Hollywood," whose membership was introduced from the audience.

Except for a brief, amusing hotel lobby number that had some freshness, the hour could offer only a hurried series of conventional musical numbers, all performed with pre-recorded gusto and staged with battering-ram subtlety.

★ ★ ★

The aforementioned hotel number involved some silent impersonations of well-known Hollywood landmarks and included the Nikita Khrushchev-Disneyland episode. I have a hunch that last bit would have been more hilarious if done, say, six or eight months ago.

★ ★ ★

Appearing with Miss Langford were singers Johnny Mathis and Mary Costa, Bob Cummings, Don Ameche and Hermione Gingold. The Three Stooges presumably hired for comedy relief, also saw limited service.

★ ★ ★

They were unequal to the task and succeeded only in depriving the show of the humor it sought. Cummings appeared in two roles: Himself and his own grandpa. He was most charming as the latter.

Young Mathis displayed his basketball dribbling and high-jumping prowess. Let Elvis and Ricky and the rest try that with their guitars.

Also brought into the hour was a revival of the delightful old battlers, "The Bickersons," with Don Ameche and Miss Langford recreating their old radio routine. I have a hunch that last bit would have been more hilarious if done, say, six or eight years ago.

★ ★ ★

DIALING AND FILING

"CBS Television Workshop" presented an actor-less, dialogue-less drama, "Afterthought," yesterday. Guy Parent's play told the story of a crime of passion via sound effects and props. It was an interesting but notably unsuccessful experiment. Too studied and too confusing to be compelling, the play didn't come to life until some blurry camera effects were used in a final prison sequence.

"Baseball's Changing Profile," Saturday night's "Wide World of" hour on NBC-TV, completely destroyed the legend that Abner Doubleday gave us our national pastime. The rest of the report struck out. In fact, it barely got the bat off its shoulder.

THE CHANNEL SWIM

A half-hour variety show starring Spike Jones will replace CBS-TV's "Ann Sothern Show" this summer. Miss Sothern's filmed series moves from Monday to Thursday nights next season.

The Crosby brothers—Dennis, Lindsay and Philip—are Perry Como's guest stars for his May 25 NBC-TV hour. . . . Nanette Fabray and Tony Randall will star in NBC-TV's May 31 "Startime," a musical in which Miss Fabray portrays famous women in history.
