GM Starting on $1 Billion Expansion Program

County Votes Aug. 3 on New Courthouse

Seek Approval for $4,500,000 General Bonds

Supervisors Also Ask Half-Mill Tax Increase for 20 Years

Oakland County will vote Aug. 3 on a proposal to build a new $4,500,000 court house.

The County Board of Supervisors Monday voted almost unanimously to lay their long-dreamed-of project before property owners at a county-wide special election.

Two proposals will appear on the ballot:

One would authorize the county to issue $4,500,000 worth of general obligation bonds to pay for the building.

The other would authorize a half-mill tax increase for 20 years, or 50 cents a year on every $1,000 worth of property as valued by the county, to retire the bonds.

The board of supervisors Monday set aside $10,000 for its special county building committee to inform the public about the proposal.

Supervisors have already chosen the county "center" along Pontiac's West Boulevard boundary line as the site for the new courthouse.

Monday's board action climaxed almost two years of planning by the special building committee, headed by H. Lloyd Clawson of Royal Oak.

This committee, backed by the ways and means committee, proposed April 5 as an election date Monday.

But R. Clare Cummings, a Pontiac supervisor, asked the date be changed. Pontiac city, he said, would ask for more money that day; "and the schools may be in, too." Supervisor William A. Ewart, also of Pontiac, said "Pontiac schools are going to ask for more millage April 5."

(Louis H. Schimmel, member of Pontiac Board of Education, said today that the school board has never considered April 5 as a date for asking for any more millage. He added that he has told city officials this.)

(Pontiac may ask voters to approve continuing the two-mill tax voted some time ago for debt retirement—but using it for buildings and other improvements, as the debt is almost paid.)

Harold K. Schone, Oak Park supervisor, then suggested August 3 for the courthouse bond vote, which won board approval.

Fred W. Smith, ways and means chairman, told the board that the

Dondero to Run for Re-election

Royal Oak Republican Asks 12th House Term; Primary Date Aug. 3

Congressman George A. Dondero revealed in Washington today that he will be a candidate for re-election from the 18th District in the general elections this year.

The Royal Oak Republican will be seeking his 12th term in Congress, to represent the district now comprised of Oakland County. Primary election date this year falls on Aug. 3.

Congressman Dondero was first sent to Washington by the voters in 1933, but his public career started much earlier.

He became Royal Oak village clerk in 1905 and was the first mayor when Royal Oak became a city. He served 18 years on the board of education there. A graduate of Detroit College of Law, he practiced law until his first election to Congress.

He is chairman of the important House Public Works Committee, and has long battled for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

He has been an active advocate of good roads, has fought for economy in federal government, and has waged a continuing campaign against subversive elements in all branches of government.

Clouds Hide Eclipse From View in Pontiac

A full eclipse of the moon came off as scheduled last night but you couldn't prove it by anyone in the Pontiac area.

A heavy blanket of clouds blacked out the moon during the entire celestial performance according to William Schultz, associate in astronomical education at Cranbrook Institute.

An eclipse, the last to be seen here for three years, occurs when the earth, sun and moon are aligned, causing the earth's shadow to be cast upon the moon.

Commies Imply Refusal to Take PWs in Custody

Demand That Indians Reverse Their Policy on Reluctant Men

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Communists demanded today that the Indians "withdraw" a decision to turn back unrepatriated war prisoners starting tomorrow and indicated they will not accept 349 pro-Red POWs.

The Reds insisted on more time for interviews with 20,039 anti-Communist Koreans and Chinese and that all prisoners be kept in neutral custody until a peace conference decides their fate.

The Indians said they would go ahead with the transfer of anti-Communist prisoners back to U.N. custody starting at 9 a.m. Wednesday (7 p.m. EST Tuesday). The Allies said flatly they would be freed at midnight Friday. Pro-Red POWs, including 21 Americans, presumably will remain in Indian custody at least temporarily.

The Communist nine-page letter to the Indian Command angrily opposed the decision to return all unrepatriated war prisoners to their captors.

An Indian spokesman quoted the Reds as saying they will not take back pro-Communist prisoners. And another neutral official said "The implication of the whole message is plainly that they will not take them back."

Statehood Bill Includes Alaska

Senate Committee Will Send Measure to Floor With Hawaii Proposal

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Interior Committee voted today to recommend Senate approval of legislation granting statehood to Alaska as well as Hawaii.

Committee Chairman Hugh Butler (R-Neb) said the actual report on the measure would be submitted to the Senate in a few days pending "perfection of the Alaska bill."

Butler refused to disclose votes taken by the committee but he said the motion to include Alaska as part of the legislation was approved by a vote "just as close as it could be."

The Hawaiian bill approved by the committee is virtually the same measure which the House passed last year, except that it provides two representatives in Congress instead of one and excludes Palmyra Island as part of the Hawaiian Territory.

Butler said that the committee still may make other changes in the legislation after a five-man subcommittee headed by Sen. Guy Cordon (R-Ore) reports back on methods to "perfect" the Alaskan legislation.

Asked whether the Senate might go along with the omnibus statehood proposal, Butler asserted: "It would be my opinion the two bills will be separated on the floor. I don't see how members of the Senate can vote intelligently on a bill combined that way."

Once the committee agreed to combined both statehood measures, Butler said, the group "unanimously voted to report both bills."

Move to Disbar A-Spies' Lawyer for Accusing Ike

NEW YORK (INS)—A secret action has been started to disbar Attorney Emanuel H. Bloch for accusing President Eisenhower of "the murder" of executed atom spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg.

It was learned today that the New York City Bar Association has served the attorney for the husband-wife spy team personally with formal charges of conduct unbecoming a lawyer and "officer of the court."

Five days' notice of intent was served on Bloch that the association was to move in the appellate division of the New York State Supreme Court today for the appointment of a referee to hear the case.

Last June 21, standing over the coffins of the executed spy couple, the white-haired Bloch declared:

"I place the murder of the Rosenbergs at the door of President Eisenhower, Mr. (Attorney General Herbert) Brownell, and (FBI Director) J. Edgar Hoover. They did not pull the switch, true, but they directed the one who did pull the switch . . ."

Under the law, the court disbarment proceedings are secret unless the accused attorney requests that the record be made public.

It was understood that Bloch already has requested that his case not be called publicly when the petition seeking disbarment is presented during the motion period at the close of the court day.

The Rosenbergs were executed at Sing Sing Prison on June 19, 1953, more than 26 months after they were convicted of war time atomic espionage for the Soviet Union. During those 26 months, lengthy complicated legal battles were fought in the federal courts.

The bar association began its action after receiving numerous complaints from lawyers and the Senate Nearing Final Vote on St. Lawrence Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today comes up to what may be the decisive stage in the fight over legislation to authorize the United States to join with Canada in building the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) announced he would move today that further debate on the controversial bill be sharply limited beginning at noon tomorrow.

If Knowland's proposal is accepted by the Senate, and no other amendments to the bill are introduced, a final vote could be reached tomorrow. Only one amendment is pending.

Knowland said yesterday that he will propose that proponents and opponents of the seaway be limited to 30 minutes discussion each on amendments and one hour each on debate prior to a final vote.

Opponents of the Atlantic-to-Great-Lakes waterway, presumably, could offer further amendments in addition to the one proposed by Sen. Long (D-La). In such an event, a final test could be delayed until Thursday.

Long has proposed that the St. Lawrence Development Corp., the federal agency that the bill would create to finance and administer the project, be required to ask Congress for funds. Under the bill, the agency would sell 105 million dollars in bonds to the Treasury Department.

Long, who is opposed to the project, said the seaway is primarily a Canadian project. Canada, he said, is ready and able to build it on its own side of the river without U. S. participation.

Canada has said officially that it might do just that if Congress again turns back the pending legislation.

Firemen Travel Only 150 Feet to Put Out Fire

Pontiac firemen responded to the shortest call in their history last night when Engine Truck No. 6 traveled approximately 150 feet to put out a small fire in the communications room at Pontiac Police Department which adjoins the fire department.

Here's what happened.

Detective John DePauw noticed the blaze while riding in a police car. He radioed in to the police switchboard which is next to the fire department switchboard.

Forest Hatfield, police operator, leaned over about two feet and relayed the message to Ernest McManus, fire department operator who summoned the engine.

The engine rounded the corner at Pike and Mill Sts. and backed into the police parking lot. Within a few seconds firemen had the blaze under control. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Submit Changes in Psycopath Act

County Representatives Seek Revision in State Sex Crime Law

The Legislature will be asked to approve amendments to the state's criminal sexual psychopath law when it meets today, according to Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

Broomfield said amendments provide that the law known as the Goodrich Act may not apply to persons accused of murder, and that even though a person is hospitalized under it he must stand trial after release from the institution.

The proposed bill of amendments was signed by Oakland County Representatives Broomfield, Fred G. Beardsley (R-Oxford), Leaun Harrelson (D-Pontiac) and Walter T. McMahon (D-Hazel Park).

Revision of the law was urged last December by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty after rape-slayer Donald V. O'Brian, 27, was committed to Ionia State Hospital under the act.

Because of provisions in the original bill, O'Brian can never face trial for the slaying of Mrs. Hallie O. Perkins, 55, if he is released from the hospital.

Ziem said he and Pontiac attorney Glenn C. Gillespie worked on the proposed revisions before Broomfield asked the state's Legislative Service Bureau to draw up the amendments.

Gillespie, a former Oakland County Circuit judge, is also the author of the only set of books on Michigan criminal law and procedure.

Senate Group OKs U. S.-ROK Treaty

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today unanimously approved today the U. S. Mutual Defense Pact with South Korea.

Announcement of the action was made by Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland, Calif., a member of the committee.

He said the committee approved an "interpretation" proposed by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) stipulating that the U. S. is not committed by the pact if the government of South Korean President Syngman Rhee takes aggressive action itself.

The treaty pledges the U. S. and South Korea to aid each other in case either is attacked.

Police Rescue Kidnap Victim, Arrest Suspects

Spot Phone Call Asking for $300,000 to Release Rich Western Man

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A wealthy young San Francisco real estate broker kidnaped Saturday and held for $300,000 ransom was rescued unharmed early today by police who arrested the suspects.

The kidnaped man, Leonard Moskovitz, 36, told newsmen with a broad smile:

"It's wonderful. I love the police department."

Dist. Atty. Thomas Lynch, in announcing the break at 4 a. m. identified the two suspects as Harold Jackson, 57, and Joe Lear, 43, both of Sacramento, Calif.

Moskovitz was found shackled in a rented house at 167 Arbor St. a few minutes after two police inspectors picked up Lear as he talked with the victim's family from a public telephone a few blocks away, Lynch said.

Police Lt. Don Scott said Lear squealed and quickly led the officers to the hideout.

Newspapers, wire services and radio stations had known of the kidnaping since shortly after worried members of the Moskovitz family telephoned police Saturday afternoon and reported him missing. All kept it secret while the family negotiated for his release.

Leonard's father, Maurice Moskovitz, a tiny silver-haired man, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Moskovitz, talked happily with 35 to 40 newsmen in the Hall of Justice.

"You're the most wonderful people in the world," Mrs. Moskovitz told Police Chief Michael Gaffey.

The younger Moskovitz, father of two children, appeared rumpled and in need of a shave. He said the kidnapers threatened to mutilate him but actually did him no harm.

"They kept me shackled all the time," he said, "but they didn't harm me. They gave me water when I wanted it, and food."

He said the kidnapers never re-

Division Tactics Will Fail: Dulles

Hopes Reds May Adopt Constructive Attitude at Big 4 Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that if Russia tries to use the Berlin Big Four conference to frighten and divide the West "we will all have wasted our time."

Dulles decared that such "tactics of division" would fail.

He expressed hope that Soviet leaders will take a "constructive" line in which case "they will find us responsible."

He called specifically for action to unify Germany "through free elections" and creation of an all-German government, and for completion of an Austrian treaty.

Dulles announced to a news conference that he will leave for Berlin Thursday noon with a group of States Department, Defense Department and White House advisors for the first Big Four session in five years.

He said bi-partisan advisors from Congress may be called in if needed.

Dulles also:

1. Said that U.S. defense plans are sufficiently flexible to be adjusted if the nation should be surprised by what he calls something new and different in Russia's attitude on atomic controls.

2. Asserted that he still expects to discuss international atomic problems with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at Berlin.

3. Reaffirmed U.S. policy calling for release of prisoners of war in Korea immediately after midnight, Jan. 22.

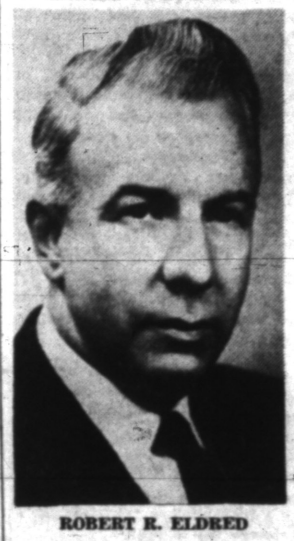

4. Disclosed that career diplomat John Paton Davies has been called home from his post at Lima, Peru, to give what Dulles called certain explanations regarding criticisms that have been made against him.

'Outlook Bright' Says Curtice in Speech to 500

Third Huge Investment Since War II to Be Used in 1954 and 1955

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors today announced another billion dollar expansion program.

Sixty per cent of the funds will be spent this year and the remainder by the fall of 1955. The program is designed mainly to provide additional capacity for GM's automotive divisions.

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, disclosed the undertaking along with an optimistic outlook on business prospects in an address to 500 business and industrial leaders at a luncheon preliminary to the opening Thursday of GM's Motorama of 1954.

He said GM has spent two billion dollars in expansion since World War II.

Curtice predicted a gross national product this year "approximately equal to the 365 billion estimated for 1953."

"No depression is in my vision," he said. "It is my belief the national economy will be strong and healthy throughout the year."

He said he looked for little change in the over-all level of employment. "Consumer expenditures should continue substantially at present high levels as a result of self-sustained incomes and lower taxes," he said.

He predicted General Motors' volume of sales "in physical and dollar terms in 1954 should not be far from the high level attained in 1953." Last year, he reported, GM's dollar sales exceeded nine billion dollars "by a substantial amount."

For the auto industry specifically, the GM president said, "I estimate the domestic market should absorb in the area of Yesterday's dip to five degrees came shortly after midnight. The mercury rose throughout the morning and reached a high of 27. The thermometer registered 28 at 8 a.m. today and 32 at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Temperatures are expected to average near normal in this general region over the next five days.

Supervisors Vote to Take Special Oakland Census

A special census will be taken in Oakland County soon to make sure local cities get their fair share of Michigan tax money returned here.

Oakland County Board of Supervisors voted Monday afternoon to take a new population count.

Michigan returns more than $3,000,000 from tax receipts to Oakland County each year. The money is split between cities, villages and townships according to their populations listed in the 1950 U. S. census figures.

Harold K. Schone, Oak Park supervisor and city manager who suggested the special count, said Oakland County's population was estimated at 475,000 last July—instead of the 396,001 counted in 1950.

Schone says the estimates, made by Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, show much heavier growth in some areas than others — and the growth isn't reflected when tax returns checks are passed out.

Schone estimated his city, Oak Park, has almost three times the people it did in 1950, when 5,267 were counted.

Under Schone's plan, cities and townships will be billed for the census according to how much their population has increased. Charles A. Sparks, county treasurer, will take out one-fourth of each unit's share of census costs from that unit's tax returns checks as they pass through his office four times a year.

Michigan's Legislature has provided laws authorizing counties to take special population counts to re-distribute such money, Schone said.

A second proposal, also approved, urged county's representatives to Michigan's Legislature to try for a state-wide census midway between the federal census taken each 10 years.

Birmingham Given New Idea for Financing Parking Lots

Revenue Bonds Are Suggested

Assessor's Plan Calls for Fee Payment Based on Usage

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners turned their attention to the parking problem again last night and received a fresh financing idea.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert had asked lawmakers for a policy decision on whether providing off-street parking facilities is necessary for the welfare of the city.

If parking is to be provided, Egbert recommended, as a first step, acquisition of land in the southwest quadrant of the city, utilizing special assessments against benefited property to finance half of the costs, and revenue bonds based on parking meter revenues for the remainder.

With the lawmakers pondering the legal possibilities of later selling land acquired via the assessment route, City Assessor Elmer Haack suggested financing lots by issuing revenue bonds and charging a fee based on parking lot usage.

Haack outlined as basic reasons why he thought the idea better than a special assessment as:

1. Nearby property owners could pay by the year or two-year period a fee for off-street parking based on their usage of it. Haack said owners could charge the payments of the fee as a current operating expense, income tax wise, and not as a capital expenditure.

This would enable most of them to pay almost twice as much.

2. Land acquired by the bond and fee basis would not be tied up regarding its later disposition as would land purchased via special assessment.

City Manager Egbert said enabling legislation on this is lacking.

The lawmakers instructed Egbert to proceed with studies for the development of a municipal parking lot in the southwest quadrant of the city as a pilot policy of the Commission.

Tentative approval was given to a plan extending Oak Street to Hunter boulevard at a right-angle intersection, eliminating the dangerous north intersection crossover of Woodward and Hunter.

The lawmakers approved architecture, landscaping and parking facilities of the proposed West side fire station at Chesterfield and Maple, but withheld decision on the setback of the station from the street.

A $225,000 bond issue is contemplated for the April 5 ballot to provide two additional fire stations, on the East and West sides of the city.

Reds Hint Refusal to Accept Prisoners not say flatly that the Communists would refuse to accept custody of the prisoners if the Indians turned them back. But the Reds appear to say so by implication.

The Communists rejected any proposal which would transfer the prisoners from Indian custody before (1) they receive explanations and (2) a Korean peace conference discusses their fate.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said anti-Red prisoners would move southward from stockades in Korea's neutral zone on schedule.

He told a press conference the anti-Communist Chinese and Korean prisoners were overjoyed when told they were to be returned to U. N. custody.

Gen. John E. Hull, U. S. and U. N. Far east commander, flew to Korea from his Tokyo headquarters and said he would consider the anti-Communist prisoners "civilians wherever they happen to be at midnight Friday night."

He said the prisoners would be processed as soon as they are handed over.

Hull and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, 8th Army commander, flew to the U. N. advance base at Munsan to be on hand when the prisoner transfer begins. They were to be joined by U. S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

County to Establish Sylvan Lake Level

Pontiac supervisors failed Monday in an attempt to stall action to set a normal water level for Sylvan Lake.

Oakland County Board of Supervisors approved a resolution from Hiland M. Thatcher, drain committee chairman, asking the county drain commissioner to "proceed to establish the level of Sylvan Lake.

But Harry J. Merritt, county corporation counsel, explained the move is just the first step in a long process and leaves five years for anyone who objects to the level to take action.

Pontiac supervisor William A. Ewart had asked the matter be laid on the table "so we can study it."

Supervisor Lloyd Anderson of Waterford said he didn't think there was anything that could be studied until a tentative lake level is set.

Jury Trial Waived by Pontiac Youth

Leaun Harrelson Jr., 18, of 26 Delaware Dr., waived a trial by jury shortly before his negligence homicide trial was scheduled to start today before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

The youth was charged with negligent homicide in the traffic death of Mrs. Veda N. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave. Mrs. Coon was struck by his car Oct. 9 while walking across W. Huron St. at Dwight Ave.

Harrelson signed the jury waiver shortly before noon today.

Newspapers Hit Peak in Circulation, Ads

CHICAGO (AP) — Newspaper advertising executives were told that their business is at a peak level but that they can't relax in the year ahead.

The advice came from Arthur A. Porter, vice president of an advertising firm, Leo Burnett Co. Inc., Chicago.

He spoke at the annual meeting of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Assn.

He said newspaper circulation "has never been in a healthier condition," national advertising revenue has shown gains for 120 years, and the number and variety of advertisers is at an all-time peak.

Lid's Off: Police Find Thief in Garbage Can

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Half a dozen police squads answered the call when the back door of a grocery was found standing wide open last night.

They searched the store for 15 minutes, found nothing amiss, and were about to leave when Police Sgt. Ted Caln and Detective T. T. Lord lifted a garbage can lid.

Inside they found a 19-year-old youth. He was jailed for burglary investigation.

Birmingham Hearing on Fire Station Slated

BIRMINGHAM—A public hearing will be held Jan. 25 on the proposed fire station at Adams and Bowers, City Manager Donald C. Egbert has announced.

This station on the east side of the city, and one at Maple and Chesterfield on the west side of the city, are expected to make up a $225,000 bond issue question on the April 6 election.

The city commission has already authorized the city attorney to start a friendly suit to condemn the zoning restrictions on the west side site which the city owns.

The subdivision restrictions binding the land to residential usage expire Jan. 1, 1956.

Courthouse Bonds Go on Aug. 3 Ballot

20-year plan is flexible enough to allow for any economic conditions.

"If we levy a half-mill a year—and the county keeps on growing, so new buildings, homes and factories bring in more and more money—we can pay this bond issue off in about 12 years," Smith said.

"If something unforeseen happens, we can lower the tax—or cut it out altogether for a while—and still pay off the bonds on time."

Smith commented that Matthew Carey, financial expert for the committee, says the bonds should probably sell for an interest rate of close to 2.5 per cent.

County planners hope to get about $1,000,000 by selling the present courthouse and office building. This will be used to redeem bonds, Smith said.

IRVING A. DUFFY

Ford Motor Co. has announced the appointment of Irving A. Duffy as vice president of the new tractor and implement division located in the former Ford Tractor Division headquarters, Maple Rd., Birmingham. $1 Billion Expansion Now Planned by GM

6,300,000 cars and trucks. Unit production, including Canada and for export, should approximate seven million cars and trucks."

Factory sales in the domestic market last year, he said, totaled seven million cars and trucks. Including Canada and units produced for export industry sales amounted to about 7,800,000 units, the second largest volume in history.

He noted GM produced almost three million cars and more than 500,000 trucks in 1953. Production of GM's 1954 models, he said, required an outlay of about 350 million dollars for equipment, tools, dies and engineering. He said the destruction of GM's Livonia, Mich. transmission plant by fire last August cost about 100,000 units of output.

"There is one danger we must guard against—and that is psychological," Curtice said. "If those who persist in taking a pessimistic view of the future succeed in planting fear in the minds of the public, those seeds of fear could take root and the result might be the very condition we seek to avoid."

Public confidence, he said, "is a key factor in maintaining a high level of economic activity."

Curtice did not detail just where GM will spend the billion dollars involved in the expansion program.

The program, he said, "is being undertaken at this time to assure General Motors adequate capacity to enable us to keep pace with the normal growth of the market as we appraise it for the future."

Demands of the expansion project, he continued, "we're one of the reasons for our recent 300 million dollar debt financing."

Other reasons, he said, included need for working capital occasioned by rapidly growing sales volume; substantial advances by GM to some of its steel suppliers, and for taxes.

Curtice said GM's defense sales last year totaled nearly two billion dollars. "Defense business," he added, "requires proportionately more working capital than does our normal civilian business."

Of taxes, he said "in the last four years, excess profits taxes alone payable by General Motors totaled about 700 million dollars."

"The fact we are embarking on an unprecedented expansion program at this time," the GM president said, "is evidence we have confidence both in the immediate future and in the long-term growth of the market for our products. This program is a measure of our faith in our country."

Other reasons for his belief good business lies ahead for 1954, Curtice said, include: Continuing high capital investment by industry; new housing starts that "should exceed a million again this year," a high rate of commercial building, and continuance of high defense expenditures.

He added: "Although prosperity in this country is certainly not dependent on a continuance of high defense expenditures, nevertheless defense outlays must be given consideration.

"In my opinion they will not be reduced drastically in 1954, although many adjustments will be made as between various categories of defense products.

"I estimate that total government expenditures, including state and local, will be maintained at about the current rate. I am sure it is recognized that we are far behind with respect to schools, highways, hospitals and other public works at the state and local levels."

Considerable credit is due the new administration, Curtice said. "For the many constructive steps it has already taken in the direction of restoring the foundations of a free economy. With the end of controls, the initiative now has passed to private industry.

"Business leaders have the responsibility and must accept the challenge of building on these foundations an economy that will continue to be sound and dynamic.

"In General Motors we are accepting this challenge."

Strong Korean War Policy Awaits, If Reds Open Up

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

Any forecast about Korea is dangerous business.

But as of now, it seems that at 7 p. m. EST (9 a. m. Wednesday, Korean Time), 22,000 anti-Communist war prisoners taken by the United Nations will enter the last mile of the way to freedom.

On that date, the Indian custodians have said they will turn all prisoners back to their original captors.

Three days later the U. N. Command will begin releasing them as civilians.

It will be accompanied by a great din from the Communists who will charge that the prisoners are being "kidnaped," and probably also from India which will charge that the action is one-sided and illegal and that they should be held for the Korean political conference.

However, beneath all the din and fuss it seems probable there also will be relief.

It does not seem likely that the Reds will use the issue as an excuse to resume the war.

The prisoner release is an undoubted propaganda blow to the Reds, and a victory for the United Nations which took as their key position during the truce negotiations the firm stand that no prisoner should be repatriated against his will.

But for the Reds it is no greater a propaganda blow than it would be later. Even should the Korean political conference be held, and the prisoner issue be debated another 30 days as provided in the original truce agreement, the end result could only point up still more the fact that thousands of their soldiers do not want to go back to the Reds.

Manpower-wise, the loss is not important to the Reds. The addition of 14,000 possible troops to Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek represents less than a division and a half.

The addition of 8,000 troops to South Korea is no particular help either. The South Koreans have around 20 divisions but couldn't support more than four without United States help.

While India also will complain, it is doubtful that her feelings of outrage will be as great as her relief at escapeing an impossible situation which made her subject to angry charges from both the United Nations and the Communists.

Meanwhile, as the prisoner issue reaches its climax and U. N. and Red negotiators remain bogged down in talks to arrange talks to arrange still more talks, a new element has entered the picture.

It was made clear by both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

It is that in case of any future aggression, the United States will feel free to retaliate at the source and at a time and place of its own choosing.

Thus, the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria no longer will provide a "sanctuary" for the Reds if they elect to strike again in Korea.

Actress Sentenced on Drunk Charge

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP)—Movie actress Gail Russell has been placed on two years probation with the condition that she refrain from intoxicants, stay away from places where liquor is sold, and obtain medical treatment.

She pleaded guilty yesterday to a drunk charge and was fined $150. Her lawyer told the court she had been under great emotional stress and strain because of her separation from her husband, actor Guy Madison, and the introduction of her name in the recent John Wayne divorce trial.

Miss Russell sobbed and fled from the courtroom as sentence was pronounced.

Wayne's divorced wife, Mrs. Esperanza Wayne, accused him of spending a night with Miss Russell. He and Miss Russell denied the accusation.

Joe Adonis Guilty of Lying in Court

HACKENSACK, N. J. (UP)—Joe Adonis, former kingpin gambler, was another step closer to deportation today after being found guilty of lying when he told a Bergen County grand jury he was born in Passaic, N. J.

Superior Court Judge Lester Drenk decided yesterday that Adonis, whose real name is Joseph Doto, knew his Passaic birth certificate was fraudulent when he appeared before the grand jury.

The state contended that Adonis was born in Montemorano, Italy. So did the U. S. government in issuing a deportation order against him last summer.

Sentencing on yesterday's conviction is set for Feb. 2. He faces a possible maximum sentence of three years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Electronic Company Sells Oscilloclast and Depolaray

(Second in Series)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Who is the leading distributor of quack devices in the United States?

Assistant U. S. Attorney Richard C. Nelson has said that in his opinion the charge could be made against the Electronic Medical Foundation of San Francisco.

At the request of the Food and Drug Administration, a complaint for injunction has been filed by the federal government against the foundation.

It asks that the corporation be prohibited from shipping in interstate commerce machines represented as benefiting some 200 diseases and ailments.

A few it lists are: abscessed teeth, angina pectoris, Bell's palsy, inguinal hernia, tumors, infantile paralysis, vomiting, repeated nervous breakdowns, even missing toenails.

The foundation has filed a motion to dismiss the case and a motion for a more definite statement of charges, both indicating that a trial is likely.

Nelson estimated at the time the complaint was filed that more than 2,000 machines were in use, some of them having sold for as high as $400.

The foundation was charged in the complaint with distributing such devices as the Oscilloclast, Oscillotron and Depolaray and also with selling a "diagnostic" service in San Francisco.

According to the government's complaint here's the way it worked:

The Foundation accepts blood specimens taken from patients of practitioners who use their "therapeutic" devices. Allegedly, "diagnostic" data is obtained through the use of the Radioscope, a machine in which a blood sample may be placed.

With a plastic wand an operator strokes the abdomen of a healthy person who is connected to the machine. If the wand "sticks" to the abdomen of the normal person, allegedly, the operator can determine whether the person whose blood is in the machine is healthy or diseased, and in the latter case, the kind of disease.

Various devices sold by the foundation are designed according to the theories of diagnosis and treatment of the late Dr. Albert Abrams, the complaint declares.

It also points out that he was one of the persons who in 1922 incorporated the foundation under a different name from the one now used.

A controversial figure in his day, Abrams was described as "the dean of Twentieth Century charlatans" in "Nostrums and Quackery," a book published by the American Medical Association.

In connection with Abrams' diagnostic theories it was claimed things other than apparatus entered the picture: a sample of blood taken from a patient while he was facing west; areas of resonance and dullness in a healthy person whose abdomen was being precussed (he too, supposedly, facing west) or even, a patient's handwriting.

For instance, Abrams declared that by subjecting a signature to tests he could say whether that person was suffering from syphilis, sarcoma, carcinoma, typhoid fever, malaria, gonorrhea or tuberculosis.

He could even tell, he said, a person's religion by his "electronic reactions."

In the September, 1922, issue of his house-organ, the doctor published the areas of dullness for Catholic, Methodist, Seventh Day Adventist, Theosophist, Protestant and Jew.

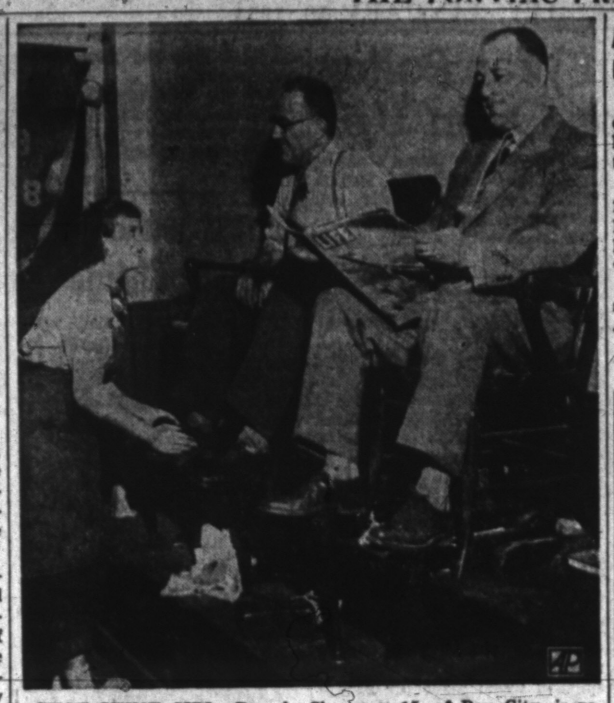

It included no explanation, however, why the area of dullness of a "Methodist" should be in the left lower quadrant of the abdomen while the area of dullness of a "Protestant" was in the right lower part.

To lease one of Abrams' Oscilloclast machines it was necessary to sign a contract promising never to open the cabinet part of the device which was hermetically sealed.

The magazine "Scientific American" once appointed a group to pass judgment on Abrams' Oscilloclast. When they opened one they found a condenser, a rheostat, an ohmmeter and a magnetic interrupter, which put together, the experts said, seemed to do nothing.

In the midst of all the controversy in 1924 fate stepped in. Abrams died, leaving behind his machines and something he himself once said:

"The physician is only allowed to think he knows it all, but the quack, ungoverned by conscience, is permitted to know he knows it all. . . ."

Man Dies in Cell 1 Hour Before He Is to Hang

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP)—A 29-year-old laborer died in convulsions here last night an hour before he was to be hanged for murder.

Henri Seguin, convicted last Oct. 29 of the robbery-slaying of a Maxville, Ont., taxi operator, collapsed in his jail cell as he talked with a priest and a jail guard.

Jail officials said Seguin had shown no previous signs of illness. A post-mortem was ordered.

Ontario's chief coroner, Smirle Lawson, said in Toronto he suspected Seguin had poisoned himself to cheat the gallows.

Miami U. to Investigate Pacific Big Game Fish

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The marine laboratory at the University of Miami will launch a five-year study of big game fish in the Pacific Ocean this summer.

The expedition will seek information on the migratory and breeding habits, as well as food sources, of such big fish as marlin, swordfish and tuna.

TOTAL LOSS!

Could it happen in Pontiac?

Fire Department record show that total losses do occur, particularly during the night when a fire gets a good start before the alarm is given.

2-Headed Baby Leaves Hospital

Cecil Hartley Family Settles Down to Life With Latest Child

PETERSBURG, Ind. (AP) — Mr. Mrs. Cecil Hartley and their three daughters settled down to family life today with their two-headed baby boy, home from a hospital after five weeks.

The baby was asleep after the 122-mile ride from Riley Hospital in Indianapolis last night and his excited sisters jumped out of bed to play with him.

"Isn't he cute?" cried Connie Sue, 4. Shirley Ann, 2, looked in silent wonder.

"Why does he have two heads?" asked Mary Lou, 5, the only one who had been told the baby wasn't normal.

Nobody could answer.

The baby, normal below the waist, has four arms and two legs.

Ire Denzil Hartley, 20, Hartley's son by a previous marriage, had a brisk fire going in a coal stove in the living room, the only source of heat for the four rooms in the Hartley's half of an old duplex house.

A nurse who rode in the heated ambulance with the parents and the baby stayed overnight to get Mrs. Hartley, 27, started on the baby care.

Hartley, a 44-year-old ordnance depot worker who makes $50 a week, was given written instructions on the baby's feeding formula when he took the baby quietly from the hospital yesterday afternoon.

The parents had waited a day after the originally scheduled release, saying they wanted no publicity.

The hospital, where the baby had been since the day of his birth Dec. 12, said there was no longer any need for hospital care.

Dr. J. W. Elbert, the family physician, pronounced the baby in good health after the arrival.

Dr. Elbert himself helped arrange for the Hartleys to move from their virtually inaccessible log cabin in the woods three miles northeast of Petersburg. He had insisted on such a move before the baby was brought home.

The baby had lost some weight, but is now back to his original 10 pounds 7 ounces.

Mrs. Hartley didn't appear at Riley Hospital when the infant was released. When her husband brought the baby to her, she said:

"Gracious, I'm glad this waiting is over."

Father Demands Private Shower at Public School

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—A father told a public meeting last night his twin boys would be kept from school if they had to take group showers.

Norman G. Moe, a service station employee, told some 60 adults at the meeting, "My children are not going to school if they have to go through that.

"There are plenty of places where they can go to school without being run like beets in a market place."

Moe was recently given a 30-day suspended sentence on charges of failure to send his children to school. The sentence was suspended on condition he return his 13-year-old boys to school or that he present a physician's certificate indicating they were not in suitable health. The boys were absent last week with rheumatic fever.

The school board granted Moe's request for the public meeting. School autohorities indicate on arrangement may be worked out to permit his boys to shower separately.

Biggest Airplane Ever Built Is Tagged Howard Hughes' Folly, Still Doesn't Fly

(Editor's Note: This is the second of five stories on Howard Hughes, an eccentric who can afford it. Associates say he shuns the limelight, but here's one time he walked right into it.)

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is the story of Howard Hughes and his Spruce Goose, the world's biggest airplane, and how it flew. Or almost.

It's also the story of how Hughes, who keeps making news while seeming to shun the spotlight, stepped into its full glare and proved that he can talk when he has to.

His plywood monster, also dubbed the Flying Lumberyard, was begun in 1943 at a time when aluminum was scarce. So far it has cost taxpayers 18 million dollars and, says Hughes, another 23 million of his own money.

It was the biggest flying boat ever built in 1943—and in 1954 it still is. So far it's just a vast white elephant. It doesn't fly, yet last fall it cost Hughes an estimated 5 million dollars in repairs when a broken dike poured 30 feet of mud on it.

Hughes' contributions to the history of aviation—speed and round-the-world record flights—rank him with outstanding air pioneers. But if this big ship fails to get in the air again, it could easily make a fickle public remember only Hughes' folly.

But he's confident that she'll fly, and with him at the controls. Airmen who know him won't bet against it.

Hughes, who designed the ship, used high frequency radio waves to uniformly boil the glue in joining the plywood.

Here are some statistics:

Weight—425,000 pounds.

Height at tail—2½ stories.

Wingspan—320 feet, just big enough to touch both goalposts on football field.

Hull—220 feet long, 30 feet high, 25 feet wide.

Engines—eight of 3,000 horsepower each.

Gas load—14,000 gallons, enough to drive your car around the earth more than eight times if there were a highway at the equator.

Pay load—750 soldiers fully equipped or a 60-ton tank, something that 100 World War II cargo planes were needed to carry.

The plane was built at Hughes' Culver City plant. It cost $58,000 just to haul the wings and fuselage 25 miles to Los Angeles harbor.

The press was invited to go along on taxiing tests on Nov. 3, 1947. Tests over, the newsmen disembarked to file their stories.

"The last reporter had barely got off the ship," recalls the AP staffer on the scene, "when Hughes revved her up again and took off across the harbor with about 30 associates aboard. He lifted the plane about 70 feet in the air, skimmed a mile around the harbor and dropped her down again."

It was the big flying boat that put Hughes so brilliantly in the limelight. That was when he tangled in 1948 with Sen. Owen Brewster, then chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee.

The usually reticent Hughes turned into a roaring tiger at the hearings and so nettled Brewster that the Maine Republican withdrew from the investigation.

He said his companies finished 200 millions in war contracts without having to pay a cent of excess profits tax. Then he asked:

"Do you know what the net result of my years in the airplane business has been: 14 million dollars loss. I don't think I have been defrauding the government."

Students Demand Better Name Tag for New School

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Wicomico County high school students don't want their new 3½-million-dollar campus-type structure to be named after one of the famous schools at Oxford University in England.

The Wicomico County Board of Education announced last week that the new school, which is to be completed next year, would be named The New High School.

Student leaders said yesterday 800 of the 1,000 members of the student body had signed a petition of protest they plan to present to the Board of Education. The students want the school to be named Wicomico High School or Wicomico Senior High School.

One of the main arguments presented by the students is that The New High School won't be so "new in a couple of years.

G-Man Sees Youth Discarding Morals

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—An FBI man told members of the State Sheriffs and Peace Officers Assn. yesterday the "code of morality which usually guides the lives of most of our citizens is being thrown into discard."

He said this was particularly true with juveniles.

J. F. Rogers, special representative to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, added:

"These youngsters believe that base and vulgar things are the order of the day. Lewd shows and salacious literature are not frowned upon in modern society. There are few taboos in this modern age."

Bishop Clears Two Accused as Reds

BOSTON (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, has cleared two clergymen named as Communists before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

They are the Rev. Joseph F. Fletcher, professor of Christian ethics at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, and the Rev. Kenneth Mughes, rector of St. Bartholomew's Church, Cambridge.

Bishop Nash said in a statement last night both men denied to him "orally and in writing that they are, ever were or ever desired to be members of the Communist party, and I believe them."

Teacher Shortage Grows

New evidence that Michigan's teacher shortage problem yearly grows more acute lies in the statement of Dr. Clair L. Taylor, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Dr. Taylor declared that Kent County's plan to seek teachers in the South isn't the answer. But he called for efforts in Michigan to recruit and train the 32,500 additional teachers needed in the next five years.

Additional light on the situation is provided by Kent County's school superintendent, Lynn H. Clark. The reason he plans to tour Southern colleges in his hunt for teachers is that there simply aren't available in Michigan the 265 additional teachers his county needs now. The situation is this:

The State needs 6,500 new teachers a year because of growing school enrollment. It trains 4,500 a year but only 3,200 of these enter the profession. Losses because of retirement, marriage and departures for better jobs total 4,500 a year.

Educators hold varying views on how to meet such a situation. But there probably is close to unanimous agreement that two important ingredients in the cure are higher salaries and better pension plans.

St. Lawrence Traffic

With the St. Lawrence Waterway high on the Administration's legislative program, added interest attaches to a Board of Commerce report on Detroit's seaway trade.

That trade, according to the report, almost quadrupled in 1953. Equally interesting is the fact that it was carried on at surprisingly large cash savings.

During the year the city has 320 overseas ship arrivals and departures. Total of import-export tonnage handled was 150,708 compared with the previous annual average of 40,000 tons.

Savings on exports shipped from Michigan ranged from $22 per automobile to $112 each on refrigerators. Freight savings on imports via the St. Lawrence ranged from $110 per cargo on cocoa powder t o$1,500 per cargo on wines and champagnes.

These are figures no foe of this long needed facility can talk away. There simply isn't any sound argument against U. S. participation in a project that will give two countries more overseas business at far lower transportation costs.

Ike's Political Faith

President Eisenhower campaigned and was elected on his pledges to give the country a "middle-of-the-road" administration.

He himself was new to the business of politics. The tasks confronting his Administration have been very complex, but a well informed Eisenhower now knows what he wants from Congress and is prepared to use the prestige of his office in getting it.

A greater knowledge of what he means by "middle-of-the-road" will make it easier to weigh his second State of the Union message to Congress. It also will help clarify the legislative program detailed in it and in his later messages.

The President's political beliefs are rooted solidly in conservatism. He wants all possible freedom from economic controls for competitive enterprise. It is his belief that only such a system can produce the highest standard of living and the largest measure of economic justice and individual freedom.

Besides this he wants government solvency, with the budget under control and the people's tax burden reduced.

On the other hand it never has been his intention to turn back the clock of social progress. In fact he is pledged to retain and expand some of the social gains of the past 20 years.

All this plus the new initiative the President has seized in foreign policy and more efficient defense at less cost in cash and manpower, sum up the more important planks in Eisenhower policy. We are convinced this is what the vast majority of the American people want, Democrats as well as Republicans.

We believe that if the Republicans support this well balanced program, they will continue to receive considerable Democratic support in Congress, as well as widespread backing from the millions of people who want a sound, strong Government.

"The time will come when girls will take the initiative in making marriage proposals," asserts a psychologist. And some of these days birds may learn to fly.

Another great trouble with the world is that there are some people in it who are clothed with high authority, when they ought to be harnessed in straitjackets.

Following an advance in price of haircuts in Chicago, two Windy Citizens cut each other's hair. Each saved $1.75 and lost a friend.

Jet plane: One that approaches the speed of gossip.

Next major Oakland County highway construction by the Michigan State Highway Department, according to its road engineer, will be the widening of Grand River Road between Farmington and the entrance to Kent Lake Park, 16 miles. He says plans are drawn to increase this to a divided four-lane road for this distance, which is through Novi and New Hudson, and all in this county. It now is a three-lane road through most of this distance. The estimate on the cost is $6,500,000, and Mr. Nash says the department now is ready to purchase the extra right-of-way required. Construction will be started this year.

C. H. Nash,

A Mother Says Change in Attitude of Public Toward Handicapped Will Help

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

There is a growing awareness in the world today of the urgent need of the handicapped. The things which we take so much for granted, such as being able to walk and talk, become an almost insurpassed barrier to these people who have not been so fortunate.

Many organizations have been formed to relieve the burden, both financially and socially, for our handicapped people, but there still remains an important aspect which must not be overlooked.

While we are trying so desperately to change the attitudes of the general public, are we neglecting to change our own personal outlook?

We have problems when we are given the added responsibility of a handicapped person to care for, but we must learn to grow with our new obligation and accept it as a challenge to work with and conquer.

There is a local organization called "Faith," which needs our help in order to carry out the purpose for which it was formed and that is "to aid and instruct the handicapped."

Says Tattered and Torn Flag Looks Disgraceful

How many of us have driven through Keego Harbor and noticed the American Flag displayed there?

The fact that it is tattered and torn to the extent that it should be destroyed in the manner prescribed, is in itself a disgrace. But, I've noticed that the person or persons responsible for the daily ceremonial, raising and lowering, can't be bothered.

It's just left flying in the breeze in its tattered condition 24 hours a day. I think this matter should be taken care of promptly . . . don't you?

Moscow Sees 4-Power Peace Meeting Solely as Propaganda for Iron Curtain

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Just why did the diplomats wrangle for several days on whether the four-power conference should be held in East or West Berlin?

On the surface, it seems a trivial matter to be arguing about nowadays. But back of it is a significant story which tells a good deal about "cold war" tactics and the way in which the Allies are constantly beset by Communist maneuvers and tricks.

It foretells why the whole four-power conference will be a sham and will reflect only the deliberate effort of the Communists to gain a propaganda advantage.

The Soviet purpose in insisting that at least half of the sessions of the four-power conference be held in East Berlin was to tell the entire Communist world that the Western Allies are coming to Soviet-controlled territory to beg for "peace."

It is essential from the Moscow viewpoint to portray the Allies as craven characters petitioning the Soviet government for a chance to make the necessary concessions and surrenders that will give the Communists the kind of "peace" they want

The Allied negotiators have known all along, the course, the Soviet objective in arguing about the site of the conference, and for a while they stood firm against holding the meetings in Soviet-controlled territory and then proposed a rotation among the four occupied zones, which meant that one in four meetings would be held in East Berlin.

But, as is the case with such arguments, the Communists theorize that, if they bicker long enough the Allies will become exhausted and finally someone on the Allied side will say: "Well, after all, let's get on with the conference. There's no sense in arguing about a mere meeting place. Let's give them what they want or make a compromise."

The Moscow regime, to be sure, has wanted a four-power conference to be held and, rather than see the conference collapse, would have agreed to have all the meetings held in West Berlin, if the Allies had cared to make a stand on it.

The compromise finally reached provides that the first week's meetings shall be held in West Berlin, the next week's in East Berlin, and the following week's in West Berlin again.

The conference probably will last several weeks, if not months, and it has been left open where the fourth week's sessions will be held.

From the Communist viewpoint, it is imperative to show that the Moscow government is dictating to the Western Allies. The argument about the site offered one way to do it.

If, on the other hand, an impression of superiority cannot be attained, then the effort is to achieve at least a position of equality—by rotating the meetings between East and West Berlin.

It will be recalled that, at the time the United Nations organization was first brought into being in San Francisco in the spring of 1945, diplomatic etiquette called for the Amercian secretary of state to preside at the plenary sessions, which were more or less ceremonial anyway.

But Molotov objected at the outset, and finally somebody discovered that he would agree to a formula whereby each of the four nations would select a chairman who would preside at a different session. So four co-chairmen were chosen.

When it came the turn for Foreign Minister Molotov to preside, he opened the session with a remark substantially as follows:

"I am glad to preside over this session of the United Nations and to be speaking to the world in the Russian language."

National pride was strong, of course, but the evident aim was to convey to the people back home that, even when international meetings are held in the United States, the Soviet foreign minister presides.

The forthcoming four-power conference has been sought by Moscow solely as a propaganda maneuver. The Soviet press will use the occasion to enhance, if it can, the prestige of the Malenkov government.

Unquestionably the Moscow regime lives in fear of an uprising. The recent outbursts in East Germany were hurtful to the prestige of Moscow behind the Iron Curtain.

Originally, the Western Allies insisted that some concrete deeds be manifested by the Soviets before there was a four-power conference. But the Western governments retreated on this.

To refuse to talk with Moscow usually brings criticism—much of it inspired by Communist agents or sympathizers, who argue that the West is intolerant or stubbornly unwilling to "negotiate peace."

Plenty of private organizations and individuals in the Western world echo this same thought, so the American government and the Allied governments find it necessary to keep on talking—though they know nothing can or will come of it.

That's because the Soviets are not ready to give up the victories they think they can get through the "cold war" and by pressing constantly against the over-eager, divided and trade-hungry governments which make up the strange alliance in the West.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Says Troubles in Home Reduce Efficiency on Job

The day of the "strong silent man" is passe. What America needs now is strong talkative people who can state their case. Management and labor still misunderstand each other because both have relied too long on "telepathy," which is not the scientific way to produce harmony.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-302: Slim B., aged 26, is a driver of a delivery truck for a big department store.

"Dr. Crane, Slim came to work yesterday on time," his boss told me. "But 15 minutes later he walked out before he had his truck loaded, and never came back.

"So I phoned his home but got no response. Then I called his mother, and she told me Slim's wife was so sick that Slim had been up for two or three night's with almost no sleep.

"The day Slim walked out, his wife had finally been sent to the hospital and Slim was so worried, he just couldn't work.

"Naturally, we'll help him all we can, but it would be more thoughtful if such men would tip us off, instead of walking out without a word of explanation or warning, don't you think?"

Yes, a worker should practice the Golden Rule, too, if he likewise wishes his employer to be fair with him.

"The show must go on," is the motto of the theater. And that is also a law of business as well as industry.

Modern employers are usually fair and honest if you tell your story. But too many people suffer in silence and then "blow their top" or go off on an alcoholic binge or quit without warning.

We psychologists are now realizing that proper personnel strategy is not linked to the 8 hours a worker may be on the job. Conditions may be almost perfect during that hitch at the factory or office or store.

Adequate wage scales may be in vogue. Modern rest rooms and recreational facilities may be available, plus pension plans and medical attention.

But workers may still drop out, as was true of Slim today, because of maladjustment during the 16 hours off the job.

Personnel strategy is now becoming an "around-the-clock" matter or a 24-hour affair.

We are finding that marital feuding or delinquent children or inability to operate a home on a budget, or illness and other worries off the job then reduce a person's efficiency the 8 hours he is on the job.

This column in clinical psychology can, thus be an ally of every personnel department in your area, for it helps eliminate misunderstandings in marriage and child rearing.

And the many educational bulletins offered herein likewise will show you how to be happy the 16 hours you are off the job, as well as the 8 hours on duty at your bench or counter or office post.

But one of the first rules of success is to "air" your problem before your boss or your clergyman or your doctor.

Don't leave your boss in the lurch by being one of those "strong silent men." They are a relic of an inefficient age.

What America needs today are strong, talkative men, who can state their problems, even though simply.

For true understanding between management and labor can't depend on telepathy.

You must verbalize your ideas. Tell your story. State your gripes. And that holds for both worker as well as his boss.

Management has too long been tongue-tied about its aims and purposes and its profits, so the average worker now overestimates corporation earnings by as much as 600 per cent.

I read this motto on a wall . . .
In letters bright and gay . . .
"Today is that tomorrow of . . .
Your worries yesterday" . . . It sounded rather logical . . . And seemed to be quite true . . . Why dwell upon catastrophe . . . Until it comes to you? . . . But then I started thinking of . . . The possibilities . . . The chances that are taken and . . . The sudden tragedies . . . Suppose that some tomorrow now . . . Turned out to be today . . . As much as you had never feared . . . It would become that way . . . And so I worry all the time . . . With caution everywhere . . . And maybe I am safer in . . . That little extra care.

Baering Down

Looking at affaires diplomatique in the potential mood we like the way Secretary Dulles squares off the future.

"Don't pin us down," he said, "we're working on maps and not dress patterns."

This business of being strapped across a peninsula got as monotonous as hammering little tacks.

Dulles didn't exactly say he was going in for a lesson in alphabetical bombing. He sort of hinted the shoe that was on the other foot is the one we're going to drop.

Unless postponed because of Syngman Rhee the big four meet next Monday in Berlin. The object is to find out what objections Russia will agree to.

There is a possibility that Moscow is having trouble with its Oriental help, that the Russian people are getting saddle-sore from pats on the back or Malenkov would like to trade a couple of our old secrets for a new one.

The pattern of the conferences is progressive. The Big Three meet in Bermuda to manipulate the blueprints for the Big Four in Berlin. Who will discuss the possibilities of the Big Five some other place.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not make clean riddance of the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou gather any gleaning of thy harvest: thou shalt leave them unto the poor, and to the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

Dr. Brady States Again His Aversion to Pasteur Treatment After Dog Bites

By WILIAM BRADY, M.D.

What makes me worry about my sanity is the inexplicable fact that a reader's letter set me chuckling to myself (by George, this is worse than I thought) about the antics of the politicians, health authorities, village police officers and dog catchers whenever they can whip up a mad dog scare and get their names in the paper.

Clippings received from papers here, there and everywhere tell of the breath-taking search for a man who was clawed, scratched, licked, bitten or maybe barked at, by a dog that was later pronounced rabid.

At last word the man had been found, and subjected to Pasteur treatment, whether he wanted it or not.

Whatever the outcome was remains unrevealed. That's the way most outbreaks of hydrophobia-phobia end.

When the authorities work up a good case of alleged rabies and frighten a victim into taking Pasteur treatment, they are always safe, no matter what the outcome may be.

If the victim survives, obviously the Pasteur injections saved his life. If the victim dies, it is too bad, but the treatment was too long delayed.

I do not advise anyone in any circumstance whether or not to take Pasteur treatment. I advise every one to leave that decision to his or her own physician.

But I repeat what I have said here many times, namely, that I would not take Pasteur treatment myself under any conceivable circumstance.

If I were bitten or clawed or scratched or otherwise wounded by dog, cat or other domestic or wild animal or bird I'd want immediate surgical care of the wound by a doctor—and immediate injection of a dose of tetanus antitoxin, and 5 to 7 days later a second injection of antitoxin or toxoid against lockjaw, and that's all.

Under no conceivable circumstance would I submit to cauterization of the wound—such treatment constitutes criminal malpractice, in my judgment.

I believe cases of alleged human rabies played up so cruelly are undiagnosed, untreated tetanus.

I think Drs. Dowling and Dennison of the Jefferson County (Birmingham, Ala.) Health Department were honest and right when they concluded from their vast experience with rabies (in animals) in the "rabies capital of America" that the disease, if it occurs in man, is so rare that it is not a public health problem and should be left to the veterinaries.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 190 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Atomic Project Progress Told

Director of UM's War Memorial Work Sees Bright Future

ANN ARBOR—Bright prospects for future research on peaceful uses of the atom and some reassuring progress in the past are outlined in the annual progress report of the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project just released.

Dean Ralph A. Sawyer, director of the project, says that the year was the "greatest since the Phoenix Project was launched."

He cites the following accomplishments for the University's war memorial program, which is dedicated to making the atom work as effectively for peace as it has in wartime destruction:

1. More funds were assigned to research than in any other previous year. Fifty-three research projects are now in progress.

2. The most powerful source of gamma radition (10 kilocurie of Cobalt 60) available in any non-governmental laboratory was acquired.

3. Construction was started on the Alice Lloyd Radiation Theory Laboratory, in which the effectiveness of Cobalt 60 and Cesium 137 in treating cancer will be studied.

4. Plans were completed for the $1,200,000 Phoenix Memorial Laboratory, and its construction will start in March on the new North Campus.

5. A gift of $1,000,000 was received from the Ford Motor Company Fund for the construction of a nuclear research reactor. "When the reactor is finished and in operation, the University will have the most complete and balanced set of intense-radiation sources now available: the reactor and the 10 kilocurie cobalt source of the Phoenix Project, and the synchrotron and cyclotron of the physics department," Dean Sawyer said.

6. The $6,500,000 campaign goal of the project was surpassed, and the total is now over $7,400,000.

Former Army Nurse Wills Estate to U. S.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A former Army nurse who died last week at the Veterans Administration center here left most of her estate to the Federal Treasury, her will, filed in Probate Court yesterday, revealed.

Teckla M. Scheldrup made the bequest "in appreciation of what the U. S. government has given me for my maintenance and support over the years."

James T. Cline, executor of the will, said the estate will exceed $5,000. Miss Scheldrup made specific bequests totaling $1,700, including $200 to the Central Lutheran Church of Stoughton, Wis.

Cline said Miss Scheldrup was a World War I nurse and had lived at the center for many years.

Instructors Needed for Naval Reserves

Instructors are needed in the training program of Pontiac Naval Reserve Surface Division 9-104, according to Lt. C. J. Casserly, commanding officer of the training center.

"Experienced petty officers and veterans of World War II and the Korean War are needed, particularly radarmen, electronic technicians and quartermasters," said Casserly.

"Instructor's get a full day's pay for two and a half hours of duty and going on active reserve duty doesn't increase chances of being called to active service," Casserly stated.

Tokyo Land Boom Reaches New High

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo's skyrocketing inflation in land prices reached a new high today when a downtown restaurant dealer on the busy Ginza listed his 25-by-40-foot lot for sale for $305,000 or best offer.

He reported 20 to 30 inquiries.

Although this is probably a record for Japan business property, the whooping price is in line with an inflation that has boosted land prices here as much as 10 times in three years.

In American terms, a strictly ordinary empty house lot 50 by 100 feet costs almost $8,000 within the 30 minutes driving range from the center of Tokyo.

Experts blame the spiral on the tremendous population growth since the war and on fear buying by businessmen who want land in case Japan's inflated economy collapses.

Year Rule Keeps Pair From Altar

Esteemed Widow and Widower Need Not Wait

By EMILY POST

A man writes me as follows: "I lost my wife a year and a half ago and have asked a widow, who lost her husband eight months ago, to marry me. She is demurring on the grounds that it is not proper to remarry before a year.

"She lives alone and works for a living. I am well able to take care of her and give her a good home and am very much in need of companionship.

"There is no real reason to delay our marriage except for her hesitency on account of convention. If you say it is all right, I am sure she will agree to marry me without delay."

Answer: If you are both held in esteem in your community, I am sure that sympathy with your situations would counteract criticism of your failure to pay strict attention to the completion of the full year.

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me the proper way for mother and me to sign greeting cards and cards enclosed with gifts, in both instances sent to intimate friends. Mother is a widow and I am not married. We live together.

Answer: To those who call your mother by her first name, sign the cards "From Anne" (your mother) and "Lucy" (you).

To those who do not call her by her first name: "From Anne Jones and Lucy." On occasion you might write "Mrs. John Jones and Lucy Jones send you their best wishes." (Note: This last third person message is not anyone's signature).

Dear Mrs. Post: When passing a plate at the table for a second helping, shouldn't the knife and fork be removed and held in the hand? A friend of mine tells me that both implements should be left on the plate. Which way is right?

Answer: Your friend is right, but a note should be made that the implements should be placed well in toward the center of the plate close together to prevent their toppling off.

Minister's Widow Proves the Value of Typing as Cushion for Hard Days

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some months ago I made the statement that every woman should know how to operate a typewriter — that it is frequently the ace in the hole that saved her life.

As a result of that column, some interesting letters have come to me from women whose own experiences have proved the point.

"I am a minister's widow," Mrs. J. S. says, "and if I hadn't picked up typing years ago, I wouldn't be eating today.

"Through the years, I handled all the duties of a minister's wife, including the correspondence and the typing of sermons and articles. My husband was a wonderful man, and we had a fine life—but money was always very scarce.

"After his long illness, I was actually penniless when he died. Friends were very kind and offered me places to stay. But I was only 50 years old and could not live on charity for the rest of what might be a long life.

"If I had not known typing," she goes on, "I would have had to take a domestic job. But, with my excellent typing, an employment agency sent me to a busy doctor who needed a receptionist-typist.

"He had an office nurse who handled the technical work, but he was a prolific writer and he wanted someone who could type his manuscripts, as well as make appointments and soothe the nerves of waiting patients. It was just about the kind of help I had given my husband, and so the doctor hired me.

"I love my job and am entirely self-supporting.

"Please urge every woman to learn how to type, even if she has to do it while the baby is napping. It isn't easy, but it isn't impossible — and look at the difference it has made in my life!"

In this day and age, a woman's lot is not a predictable one. Most of us go through many changes of status, both social and economic, in our lifetime.

Instead of fretting and worrying, pick up this one skill which can make your transitions painless — and lucrative!

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Overnight Success Hard on 'Lucky' One's Balance

I get a vicarious thrill when the young understudy scores a triumph the night the star comes down with laryngitis. I rejoice to read that a poverty-stricken farmer has suddenly discovered that those greasy spots in the south forty are oil. I applaud with the rest of the world that shy youth who labors unobtrusively in his laboratory until he comes up with a new wonder drug.

At least this is the way I reacted to such stories until I met Wendell Johnson, semanticist and expert who gets people out of quandaries. Since then I've been wondering what happened afterwards to these sudden successes I was so excited about.

MISS McBRIDE

"I remember one 25-year-old teacher catapulted to fame who collapsed from it," Dr. Johnson declared. "He was going along comfortably in his job and helping to get a boys' club movement started in his city and one morning he woke up to find himself hailed in headlines as the outstanding young man of Hightown.

"From then on the telephone in his boarding house never stopped ringing. He was photographed, interviewed, stared at. It was just too much. He went to bed and stayed there for three days. He didn't know what to do. He didn't know what to say. He didn't even know what to be.

"At the banquet where the mayor gave him the key to the city, the poor newborn celebrity made his entire response supported by the chair in front of him—literally standing on his hands because the muscles of his knees refused to hold him up. When he went back to his English classes, he had to keep on standing on his hands. He ended up at a psychiatrist's."

Sometimes, though, according to Prof. Johnson, success is expected and prepared for. Then the brilliant new star or the sensational first novelist can handle himself with poise and assurance because he has been working and growing gradually. His foundation is too secure for rave notices to topple.

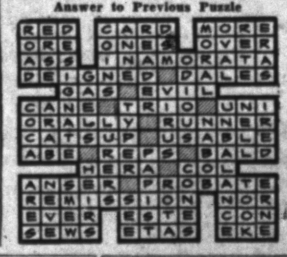

I'd never thought of it before but now I realize that Wendell Johnson's theory explains such behavior as that of the obscure chemist who, after turning up a formula that may prevent a terrible disease, began to act like a man pursued by demons.

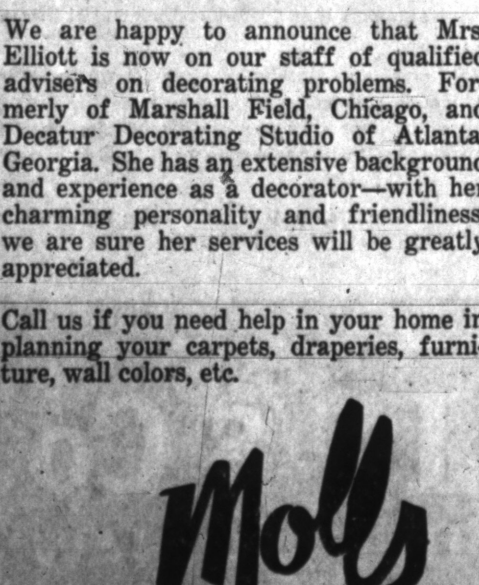

Then there ws the brand-new novelist who scored a phenomenal success and started living in a trailer with doors double-barred against visitors.

In the same category undoubtedly would fall the Texas farmer who struck oil and started acting like the hero of a cowboy picture, complete with six-shooters. Perhaps that was what ailed Charles Lindbergh who puzzled the world by his attitude 27 years ago when he found himself a world hero overnight.

Maybe vicarious success is more fun than the real article. Certainly it is easier on the knees.

Disconnect Radiators, Then Paint

By HUBBARD COBB

Few things can get us in quite so bad a frame of mind as trying to paint the section of a wall in back of a radiator or trying to refinish the floor under the radiator.

We worried about this for a time and then made a test which proved that it's usually much quicker to disconnect the radiator and move it out of your way than try to work with it standing right in the way.

Needless to say, you don't want to disconnect a radiator when you've got a head of steam in the boiler, so let the fire go down low.

If you have a hot water radiator, remove enough water from the system so that the water level is below the radiator in question.

Turn off the radiator shut-off valve and then place a pan under the union between valve and radiator. The purpose of the pan is to catch the water that is probably sitting around in the pipe and the radiator.

When the union has been disconnected, the radiator is ready to be moved out of your way. Don't try sliding it on the floor because the legs will not do the floor one bit of good.

Your best bet is to get an old piece of carpet or heavy cardboard under the radiator and slide carpet and all out of your way.

Replacing the radiator is easy except that you'll have to fool around a little to get the radiator properly lined up with the valve.

Be sure that the nut on the union does not become cross threaded. As you tighten up the nut it will pull the radiator close up to the valve.

IF tall, stately—

You need tunics, overblouses, broad and contrasting belts, large dramatic prints. Rosebuds, round lines are too babyish for you.

Community Often Shunts Them Aside

Educators' Woes Described in Book by Virgrinia Chase

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN

NEW YORK (NEA) — Homemaker, novelist, lecturer, magazine writer — these words indicate the varied career of Virginia Chase, author of the recently published novel, "The End of the Week."

Miss Chase's background also happens to include 25 years of teaching. And it's teachers that her book is about.

"In 'The End of the Week' I hope to acquaint the reader with teachers as human beings. I have tried to tell a realistic story, not to present an argument. And to insure the realism I have had several teachers check every chapter."

Miss Chase was speaking from an easy chair in the library of her publisher's office. Already her earnestness had deepened the color of her direct blue eyes.

While agreeing that teachers today are underpaid, Miss Chase contends that what teachers need even more than more money is acceptance.

She means acceptance into the community as neighbors, not merely as teachers, and acceptance by the educational hierarchy as thinking people.

"The public knows little of one problem confronting teachers: So many are torn between the direction they receive and what they are teaching.

"On the one hand they are to allow their pupils self-expression and on the other they are subject to a seemingly endless procession of directives. The very people who teach self-expression, then, are often not free to practice it.

"Again, while they are expected to uphold all that is puritanical, they are not generally welcomed into the comfortable, safe society of the community. They are left to themselves."

The teachers' community within a community is portrayed in 'The End of the Week." It is a disturbing picture. Miss Chase's hope is that it will be disturbing enough to be stimulating.

For one thing, Miss Chase hopes that parents will be stimulated to widen the scope of the PTAs.

"As they are now," she said, "most of them are 50 per cent for the parents and 50 per cent for the pupils. The PTAs could help a great deal to improve both the working conditions and social lives of the teachers."

As revealed in this book, the teacher's life is one that will allow the development of too few teachers like Virginia Chase.

Few will know the love and companionship of husband and children (she is Mrs. Wallace W. Perkins); the stimulation of addressing audiences from the lecture platform; the excitement of sharing their thoughts with thousands of readers.

Of course, others can break through the bonds of the educational hierarchy and the community to similarly full lives. But the majority, Miss Chase warns, are succumbing to sensitivity and circumstances.

And gaining less by being shut out of community life, they have less to give. That is one point for parents to ponder.

Not everyone can be an interesting conversationalist—but anybody can be a good listener—if he is really willing to listen with his whole mind. That means looking at the person who is talking, concentrating on what he is saying, and asking the kind of questions that will show genuine interest.

You can't fake attention, for nothing is so apparent as a wandering mind.

Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary Observes First Year of Service

Volunteers Bring Cheer to Patients

Group Also Sews Pediatric Gowns, Mends Linens

By MAUDE DONAHUE

During visiting hours at Pontiac General Hospital they wheel their carts through the wards, supplying toys, reading matter and other services for the patients.

They are members of Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary, and the carts they maintain are just a sample of the services performed by the group to aid the hospital.

The auxiliary, which is observing its first anniversary this month, was formed by various churchwomen in the area at the suggestion of Lauretta Paul, director of the hospital.

With the assistance of Mrs. C. F. Sprinkle, president of Michigan Hospital Auxiliaries; Mrs. O. W. Picard, chairman of Detroit Area Hospital Auxiliaries, and W. F Maybury, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees, the women set up the program and chose Mrs. William B. Dean as temporary chairman.

Later Mrs. Dean was elected president and Mrs. P. E. Miller, vice president. Five working committees were also formed.

Play ladies committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Blakeney maintains a cart, fashioned like a large toy engine, which can be wheeled into the children's ward during visiting hours. It is supplied with dolls and other toys for the children.

The magazine cart, which is supervised by Mrs. Miller, provides books and magazines for the patients. Many are contributions from individuals, and some of the magazines come from subscriptions purchased by the auxiliary to provide recent issues.

The sewing committee works behind the scenes making pediatric gowns, mending sheets and pillow cases, hemming towels and doing other sewing tasks. Mrs. G. G. Purkiss, chairman of the committee, announced that 1,500 pediatric gowns is the goal set by the committee.

Visiting ladies are under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Bedard, and Mrs. Ruby MacKinder has charge of tray favors.

A new cart for notions will soon be available. Mrs. Russell Eakle will direct the project, which will be stocked with items such as stationery, cigarettes and cleansing tissues. These will be sold to the patients to finance projects of the hospital.

The auxiliary worked during National Hospital Week to further the interest of the community in the hospital. Members held open house and presented talks in the schools.

One of the projects planned for the coming year is a junior auxiliary for high school girls.

The auxiliary, which meets once a month, numbers over 100 members from all over the county. Besides its projects, the group had two social affairs in its first year. They were a picnic at Mrs. D. R. Wilson's Watkins Lake summer home and a membership tea at Mrs. Dean's home on Ottawa drive in September.

E. Miller (right) of Lower Straits Lake, vice president and book cart chairman.

Mrs. William B. Dean (top right photo) of Ottawa Drive, president of the auxiliary, was caught in a typical pose as she contacted members about their duties, and in the lower photo, Mrs. Ruby MacKinder (center) of Drayton Plains shows Mrs. G. G. Purkiss (left), sewing committee chairman from Drayton Plains, and Mrs. William Bedard of Crescent Lake Road, visiting ladies chairman, favors which have been used on the trays.

Lists School Legislation

R. A. Ambrose, superintendent of the Oxford Schools and a member of the governing board of the Michigan Association of School Administration, spoke on bills which have been proposed for the benefit of teachers and school children when members of Alpha Beta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society met Monday evening in Dcneison School.

The evening program was planned by Mrs. Iva O'Dell, chairman of the legislation committee, and the subject of the meeting was "What is in store for us in important legislation?"

In his talk, Mr. Ambrose said that the Conlin proposal would pay state aid to schools out of the current sales tax collection. The Smart proposal also would use the current sales tax receipts for state aid, but would appropriate an exact amount per child, which would aid in balancing the schools' budgets.

According to the speaker, a retirement bill is being studied which would raise the minimum benefit from $900 to $1,200 per year, with a maximum of $2,400 per year.

The bill would provide a graduated benefit for all teachers failing between the minimum and maximum, he said.

Mr. Ambrose cited the proposed bill for special education which is planned to provide schools and more adequate instruction for the handicapped.

He discussed the refresher course which has been suggested by Wayne University to enable any person who has had college work in fields other than teaching to take enough education courses to qualify for a teacher's certificate.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. David Turo, Aldine French and Mrs. Helen Sanford. Mrs. Albert Kohn, president, appointed Miss French to serve as chairman of the public relations committee for the ensuing year.

Germany's Fate at Stake in Imminent Big 4 Parley

(Editor's note: What is going to happen at the Big Four conference which starts in Berlin next week? Questions concerning the conferences are dealt with in a series of four articles by Kingsbury Smith, European General Manager of International News Service.)

By KINGSBURY SMITH

BERLIN (INS)—Germany's destiny, the fate of Europe and perhaps of the world will be at stake in the momentous talks due to start in Berlin next Monday between the foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia.

Failure to reach agreement on a German settlement will mean, in effect, that Germany is to remain divided indefinitely between East and West and the Cold War will continue in Europe.

It also will mean that Western Germany is likely to be brought, in one form or another into the Allied security system.

The major issue at the Big Four Conference in respect to Germany will be whether a unified German nation is to have the right to join the Western Allies, if it wishes to do so, or whether it is to be neutralized militarily.

It is considered highly improbable in Allied diplomatic circles that Russia will acquiesce to the Western position that a unified Germany must be free to decide what it wishes to do in respect to foreign policy.

On the other hand, no prospect is seen of the Big Three Western foreign ministers, and especially U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, agreeing to the military neutralization of Germany.

The only possible grounds on which it is thought the Western powers might be disposed to consider favorably some arrangement for the military neutralization of Germany would be the willingness of Russia to restore political freedom to Eastern Europe, withdraw all Soviet military forces within the borders of the Soviet Union and accept an effective international system for the reduction and control of all types of armaments.

However, Western diplomats think it is virtually a foregone conclusion that no basic settlement of the German problem will be achieved at the Berlin conference.

In addition to the formal Big Four conference-table discussions on the German and Austrian problems, there will be informal and highly secret talks between the Western foreign ministers and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov.

These conversations will be on both a bilateral and joint basis.

Many Western diplomats believe that if there is to be any real progress at Berlin, the first sign of it will come in these private talks rather than at the formal conference meetings.

In return for Western acceptance of the military neutralization of Germany, Allied diplomats believe Molotov will be prepared to offer:

1. Soviet participation in President Eisenhower's proposed atomic pool.
2. Acceptance of the Western plans for a unified Germany based on free elections.
3. Withdrawal of Russian military forces from Eastern Europe but not abandonment of Soviet political domination of the satellite states.
4. Calling off the Indo-Chinese conflict and assurances that Russia would not support in any way a resumption of Communist hostilities in Korea.

While these might prove tempting offers to a good many members of the French parliament, they are not likely, even if made, to be accepted by Dulles or Eden. And West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer already has warned that a neutralized Germany would in a very short time become totally dependent on Soviet Russia and degenerate into a satellite state.

Farm Surplus Plan Proposed

President May Suggest Gift of $1 Billion in Food to Non-Red Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported today about to propose giving up to one billion dollars worth of farm surpluses to non-Communist countries in exchange for pledges to undertake economic projects.

Officials helping draft the plan said the governments getting the products would be asked to sign agreements to undertake specific projects aimed at bettering the living standards of their people.

Countries which would be eligible would be those hard-pressed for funds to finance such projects, such as India, Pakistan and others, mainly in Asia.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson told the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday the President in his budget message Thursday would suggest a one-billion-dollar program, covering a three-year period, which would "complement our general program of economic and technical aid" to friendly governments. Benson provided no further details.

It is not clear whether this new program would replace the current law which authorizes the government to sell for local currency up to 250 million dollars in farm surpluses.

Some administration planners acknowledge it may be necessary to combine the two because of likely opposition to a "gift" approach.

Although wheat and cotton are believed to be the products most likely to find overseas markets, some fats, oils and dried fruit may also be disposed of if Congress approves the idea.

Officials said that foreign governments which received American farm surpluses would be allowed to sell it at the going local price to their people. The money realized from this sale would be specifically earmarked for the development project guaranteed in advance.

FBI Grabs Convict on Its List of Ten

CHICAGO (AP)—Franklin James Wilson, 52-year-old former convict and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives, was seized by federal agents yesterday.

He offered no resistance as four agents arrested him in a South Side hotel. Kline E. Weatherford, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Chicago, said Wilson was wanted for jumping a $30,000 bond in Chicago in August 1951. He was named as one of four bandits who attempted to rob the home of Mrs. Violet Bidwill Wolfner, owner of the Chicago Cardinals football team, on Aug. 4, 1951.

Court Takes Over for Sick Boy of 4

CHICAGO (AP)—Superior Court made 4-year-old Mitchell Adams its ward yesterday so he could have hospital care that would strengthen him for an operation to correct a deformity.

Judge Daniel A. Covelli ordered the boy, born with his bladder outside his body, placed in Sarah Morris Hospital and directed his parents, Theodore, 25, and his divorced wife Marcella, 27, to pay the bills.

The court acted when a physician said the child was dangerously undernourished and the father accused the mother of delaying the operation.

Brass Yields to South Boston; Will Parade

BOSTON (AP)—The Pentagon yielded yesterday to a protest by officials of South Boston's Evacuation Day parade against an order banning participation of armed services troops in the March 17 celebration.

Army and Navy headquarters in Boston had informed parade officials their services would not be represented because of past "disrespect to the troops."

Residents of South Boston notified the Pentagon, through Parade Marshal Patrick F. Sheehan, of the local order and protested that they are most hospitable toward the troops.

In Washington, the Pentagon told Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) there had been a mixup over budget cuts but that the armed services would parade.

South Boston marks both Evacuation Day and St. Patrick's Day with a big parade and other festivities March 17.

Spirited Band Is Now on TV

Inspiration Came From Train Whistles and Rail Clickings

NEW YORK—A pair of chair rungs and a bread board started Lindley Murray Jones Jr., long since known as Spike Jones to his myriad admirers, on the road to his present position of prominence in the music world.

If some members of that world are slightly confused as to how the music generated by Spike's spirited ensemble should be classified, they are forced to admit that it is at least unique, and most certainly inimitable.

Railroads play an interesting part in the background of Maestro Jones, whose City Slickers currently not only can be heard but seen on TV's Saturday night series, The Spike Jones Show.

This influence, in fact, is readily discernible in Spike's music, which one purist has likened to the sounds induced by a fast freight train passing through a hardware store.

Spike, whose father worked for the Southern Pacific, spent part of his boyhood in Calexico, Calif., a small town in the Imperial Valley.

The family always lived near the railroad, and in time young Spike began to hear melody in the whistles of the trains and the clicking of the rails.

When he was 11, he fashioned a pair of drumsticks from the rungs of an old chair and rolled them on a breadboard to the tune of "Corolina in the Morning," sung in duet with the short-order cook at the station house.

Band engagements on the Al Jolson, Bing Crosby and Fibber McGee and Molly radio shows heightened Spike's career.

In 1942, Spike organized a group to play novelty tunes, more for amusement than anything else. An RCA Victor official heard them and signed them.

Their first recordings were mildly received, and it was not until they turned out "Der Fuehrer's Face" that they caught on with the public in a big way. Thereafter, they went nowhere but up.

To date, Spike's records have sold well over 20,000,000 copies.

On July 18, 1948, Spike married beautiful Helen Grayco, who sings on the show. They live in Pacific Palisades and have two children: Spike Jr., and Leslie Ann

On his new TV show, which also features such guest stars as Harpo Marx and George Gobel, Spike and the City Slickers will play all of the wildly imaginative selections that their fans now regard as old favorites.

Among these are "Black Magic," "Chloe" and "Cocktails for Two."

SPIKE AND WIFE—Adding his own special brand of madness to TV each Saturday night is the inimitable Spike Jones and his attractive spouse Helen Grayco. Conductor of the nationally famous City Slicker Band, "The Spike Jones Show" is designed especially for music lovers, or as the star himself puts it, "Our half hour is an inspiring lesson in music depreciation."

New Auto Switch Gives Delayed Light

NEW YORK (UP)—Do you park your car in the garage at night and then stumble about in the dark trying to get out?

A small delayed-action switch for auto headlights solves this problem. Mounted on the dashboard, the gadget keeps the car lights on for as long as one and a half minutes after you snap off the lights with the regular switch and then press the "Lite-Ur-Way" switch.

The lights then cut off automatically. This gives you time to leave the garage without groping around or, on a road, permits you to walk 100 feet in a lighted path.

The switch is molded of bakelite phenolic plastic which is durable and non-conductive. Designed for easy mounting, it is connected with one wire to the battery contact and another wire to the regular switch for car lights.

A screw in the end of the switch permits the turn-off action to be adjusted up to a maximum of 90 seconds (Edco International Corp.)

Physically, the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico belong to the round-headed Mongoloid people who followed the long-headed Basket Makers into the Southwest.

Montana Man Celebrates His 100th Birthday Today

KALISPELL, Mont. (UP)—William McKinley, who owns 10 homes but "never could afford a wife," observed his 100th birthday yesterday.

The spry, energetic oldster attributes his long life to giving up tobacco and liquor 40 years ago.

He says "only two animals use tobacco—humans and the African goat."

Duck Track Permanent

POCATELLO, Ida. (UP)—Policeman Al Kuta acted quickly when a call to headquarters said: "You'd better send someone over right away or there's going to be a dead duck here." Kuta found a duck trapped in the wet cement of a new service station driveway.

Has Kruger Souvenir

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (UP)—America's oldest active banker, 102-year-old Henry Bailey Little, wears as a watch fob a South African sovereign given him some 60 years ago by "Oom Paul" Kruger, the South African statesman.

Schools in Russia Called 'Superior'

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest who is a professor at the Russian Institute at Fordham University says schools in Russia "may be superior to American schools."

The Rev. Maurice Meyers told a religious meeting at Xavier University yesterday the Soviet educational system has been particularly successful in "achieving discipline and a spirit of devotion to school work."

He said the Russian school system is "now effectively operating throughout virtually the entire land and that attendance at elementary and junior high school is now obligatory for all the children. While strongly tinted with Soviet propaganda the text books in use are interesting and seemingly effective."

Father Meyers warned that Russia wants the ultimate destruction of religion despite a current policy of concession to some religious groups.

Paul D. Smith, 17, of 1976 Bacon St., Berkley, was placed on three years probation and assessed $200 costs Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick on a charge of attempted breaking and entering.

Smith pleaded guilty Jan. 11 to trying to break into a Royal Oak tailor shop with a juvenile companion.

SAY "AH"—Twenty-two cerebral palsied children were examined in the orthopedic department of Whittier School yesterday in the first of a series of state-wide speech clinics sponsored by the University of Michigan and the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Michigan. Above, Dr. D. E. Morley, assistant director of U. of M.'s speech clinic, examines Bobby Dale Reynolds, 9, of 4441 Fenmore Ave., as Miss Eleanor Traut (left), of 3498 Winterberry Rd., Walled Lake, a speech therapist, and Miss Beverly Eaton, 146 Jackson St., look on. At least 80 per cent of cerebral palsied children have speech difficulties, Dr. Morley said. The CP program is supported here by the United Fund.

Board Accepts Dog Clinic Plan

Supervisors Also Want to Plug Loophole Letting City Evade Rule

Two measures to strengthen Oakland County's rabies control program won approval of the County Board of Supervisors Monday.

The board accepted Oakland County Veterinary Medical Association's offer to stage this year's non-profit rabies vaccination clinics for county dogs.

And supervisors urged their corporation counsel, Harry J. Merritt, and legislative committee to try to plug the loophole in Michigan's law that let Pontiac issue licenses to unvaccinated dogs last year.

The veterinarians' association left exact dates and places of the rabies clinics up to county health officers, but asked they run between 1 and 4 p.m. on Sundays.

The county will furnish sterilizers, tables, buildings and other non-expendable equipment. The cost of vaccines, needles, cotton and other "throw-away" items is to come from receipts from the clinics.

Vaccination charge will be $1.50 a dog.

The association says all money left after paying clinic expenses will be turned over to the American Medical Association's research fund to help the study of rabies and related diseases.

Gauthier said he had seen one of the men earlier in the evening in a bar on N. Saginaw street. He described him as being about 22 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds. He said he was wearing a light-colored jacket.

State Will Get Bill This Week

Supervisors Will Study Need, Report Findings to Legislature

State Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today he will introduce a bill in Michigan's Legislature this week asking for a fourth circuit judge for Oakland County.

Broomfield said several "key members" of Oakland County Board of Supervisors called him late Monday and told him to "dust off the bill."

"I'll introduce it to get it in ahead of the Feb. 12 deadline," he said, "then wait for an approval from the supervisors before we push it. But I think most supervisors favor a fourth judge."

Supervisors Monday told their legislative and ways and means committees, headed by William F. Nern and Fred W. Smith, to study the question together and relay their decision to Michigan's Legislature.

Monday, Nern asked the board to order the two committees to report back to a board meeting Feb. 15. Broomfield, however, had warned earlier that Feb. 15 was three days too late to introduce a bill this year.

Nern pointed out the county has more than 400,000 people now —twice the 200,000 it had in 1927 when a third judge was named. Cases take eight months to come to trial, he said.

Supervisor David Levinson, suggested the committee either strike out the Feb. 15 date or be empowered to act so the full board won't have to come back for a special meeting.

About an hour of discussion followed Nern's motion. Someone suggested the legislative committeemen, being practicing attorneys, might be in an "embarrasing position" when it came to deciding on the need for a fourth circuit judge. Others said not. Another supervisor suggested the ways and means committee be given sole control.

Alger Zapt appealed for referral "to the proper committee or committees" according to orderly procedure.

The matter of a forth judge has been debated for almost three years.

In May 1951, the board of supervisors, learned that State Rep. Leaun Harrelson (D-Pontiac) had introduced a bill into Michigan's Legislature calling for a fourth circuit court for this county. Supervisors sent the matter to committees for more study. Legislators, hearing of the board's uncertainty, let the bill die.

The fourth judge proposal cropped up again in January 1952 when Rep. Broomfield introduced a bill in the Legislature. This time, supervisors turned thumbs down on the proposal.

Fred W. Smith, supervisor ways and means committee chairman, pointed out the county had no courtroom for a fourth judge and said non-jury cases reached trial here in only about four months.

But those advocating a fourth judge said that in 1950, the last year for which they had complete figures, the three judges here handled 555 trial cases each—almost 200 more tha any other circuit judge in the state.

A statistical report compiled by Oakland County's adult probation department for 1953 shows a total of 405 men and 23 women on probation as of Dec. 31, including 205 placed under supervision during the year.

Safety Seminar Set for Jan. 25

Chairman Weil Claims $1 Million Cheap Price to Curb Traffic Deaths

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan legislature is being asked to privide one million dollars to combat traffic accidents which last year killed 1,925 and injured 58,000 persons in the state.

Most of the money would be for moree state policemen and more effective driver licensing.

F. Granger Weil, chairman of the second Michigan highway safety seminar, to be held at East Lansng Jan. 25-26, called the proposed spendig a small price compared with the 1953 state traffic toll's economic loss of $90 million.

Weil, executive vice president of the Port Huron Times-Herald, told newmen last night the seminar will try to shape a legislative program to cut traffic accidents.

Maxwell Halsey, executive secretary of the Michigan State Traffice Federation, advocated more state police for highway control, tightening up driver licensing, and setting day and night speed limits. commissioner, said a pe ding budgetary proposal to add 105 state policemen is inadeauate "to solve the problem," but the increase would help.

He said Michigan motorists now drive 71 million miles a day and to ontrol the traffic he recommended at least 150 more state troopers.

Of the present frce of 678 state police employes, he said only 205 are available for traffic patrol duty daily—or about 70 for each eight-hour shift.

He said that is why one can drive the length and width of the state without seeing more than one or two state policemen.

Public to See Plans First

County Will Accept Bids for New Farmers Market

Market committeemen of Oakland County Board of Supervisors Monday won the right to take bids on a new $65,000 farmers market for Pontiac.

But supervisors specified that the committee can't take bids until it holds up architect's plans for inspection at a public heating.

Norman R. Barnard, market committee chairman, said new market would be located on Pontiac Lake road just west of Telegraph road.

Rough plans, he said, include a parking lot big enough for 270 customers' cars, a concrete block building for 40 stalls for a year-round market and an open shelter for 32 more stalls to be used during warm weather.

Farmers, temporarily without a market of their own, have formed Oakland County Co-operative Growers, Inc., and borrowed a building on the county 4-H Fairgrounds at Perry street and Walton boulevard for Saturday markets.

The former city-county market at 40 Mill St., now owned entirely by the city, is being used for parking.

Barnard said the new market will probably be self-supporting, and its building costs can be taken out of existing market funds.

Barnard, backed by the buildings and grounds committee, had asked permission to have detailed plans drawn and bids taken.

Supervisor E. H. Waterhouse asked "What's the hurry?" commenting that construction probably can't get started until mid-May because of weather. Roy F. Goodspeed, another supervisor, suggested the hearing on plans.

Supervisor Cyril E. Miller remarked that the board of supervisors is getting more unwieldy all the time because "one memner gets up and holds up the progress some committee is trying to make."

But Mrs. Helen P. Roberts heatedly replied that "Mr. Waterhouse is getting up for the sake of good county government—I don't think you need to pop off here."

Goodspeed's amendment carried. So did the motion as amended.

Economic Fear Blamed on Reds

Dondero Says Commie Agents Foster Talk of U. S. Depression

Communist agents were blamed today by Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich) for starting "loose talk" about prospects of a depression in the United States.

But the congressman said he believes these "depression prophets" will fail to bring on an economic setback.

"It may be true," said Dondero, "that we will have an economic readjustment this year with a small downward turn, . . . but there is no single sign of a setback anywhere as severe as that which took place in 1948-49."

He said the Kremlin ordered its agents in the U. S. to propagandize the prospects of a depression and that the cry has been taken up by persons standing to gain politically from an economic crisis.

"It is a regrettable fact that some left-wing elements in this country, disappointed when the voters disavowed their socialistic designs, now appear ready to foster economic recession by any possible means, in order to regain political favor," said the congressman.

Dondero indicated he based his optimism largely on the steadily growing national income and reports that there will be no major declines in expenditures for industrial expansion or home construction.

Office Hits Top Place as 110 Enlist Here

With 110 men already enlisted this month, the Army and Air Force recruiting station at 53½ W. Huron St. ranks top in the state and expects to set a new monthly record, according to Sgt. P. R. Moore.

Nearly all the volunteers are Oakland County men, said Moore. He attributed the enlistment jump to end of the holiday season and an increased tendency for 17 and 18 year-olds to volunteer.

Student Seeks News of Reported Meteor

A University of Michigan student, Arthur E. Pearlmutter of 405 Michigan House, Ann Arbor, is seeking information on a meteor believed to have flashed through the skies in this general area early Wednesday morning.

Pearlmutter said any information of the "fireball" will be forwarded to astronomy experts for further research.

10 SECONDS TO LIVE — He massaged his eyes with thumb and middle finger, trying to rub out some of the sand.

9 SECONDS TO LIVE — He'd driven almost eight hours since lunch and was beginning to feel it. Tired . . . tired . . .

8 SECONDS TO LIVE — Lousy driving in rain. Headlight beam just seems to soak in along with the water.

7 SECONDS TO LIVE — Probably need a new windshield wiper blade. Get one tomorrow—or next time it rains.

6 SECONDS TO LIVE — A cigaret flipped from an oncoming car. The red glow dissolved before it landed.

5 SECONDS TO LIVE — He planted his heels on the floorboard, squirmed back in seat, trying for comfort. Shouldn't drive so long without a break. Will sure be good to get home and stretch out on the couch.

4 SECONDS TO LIVE — At 60 miles per hour, a car covers 88 feet of pavement every second. Four seconds, 352 feet. Hard to make a quick stop on this wet pavement. 352 feet — from here to Eternity.

3 SECONDS TO LIVE — Something looked wrong through the blurry windshield. A tentative dab at the brake stiffened into desperate pressure as he made out an old, unlighted, slow-moving truck ahead.

2 SECONDS TO LIVE — Panic moved in. Turn to the left. No. There's a car coming. Headlights too close. Can't make it. Turn to the right. That's no good either. Too close to the roadside ditch.

1 SECOND TO LIVE — Horror numbed everything into slow motion. He was floating right into the near corner of the truck bed. He opened his mouth to scream. NO SECONDS TO LIVE.

TV, Movie Cameras 'In' on Conferences

Millions Get Front Seat as Ike Interviews Press

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For the first time in history, millions of American citizens now have a front-row seat while their Chief Executive suffers the unique democratic ordeal of being put on the griddle by newsmen.

That's the revolution President Eisenhower has brought about in the White House press conference in his first year in office.

He did it by breaking precedent and letting television and movie newsreel cameras in the door.

He's letting the still newspicture photographers, pop a lot more bulbs than ever before. And he's permitting complete recordings of selected conferences to be aired on radio and printed in the press as direct quotes.

Nothing like this has ever happened since the presidential press conference had its meager beginnings back in Woodrow Wilson's day, and some of the Washington press corps is upset about it.

But that hasn't kept Ike's conference from showing a better reportorial box office than any before.

More than 300 correspondents attended the first session a year ago, and an average of 175 have been showing up regularly since then, which packs the conference room in the old State Department Building across the street from the White House.

In that year, the White House press corps agrees, President Eisenhower has consistently improved both the way he handles the sessions and the contents of his answers.

"He's mor erelaxed and friendly, and his answers are getting more precise," says one veteran reporter, "On top of that he's learning a lot more of the detail of goverment than he had when he started.

How does Ike feel about the sessions? Inside reports say they leave him stimulated and he enjoys them more and more each time. This is apparent in the increase of good-natured banter with the reporters, although he still doesn't call any of them by their first names as his predecessors did.

He hasn't tossed any barbs at the reporters, either.

"As yet, at least, he hasn't taken to coming to the conferences with a chip on his shoulder the way Harry Truman and FDR used to," one old-timer observes.

Aug. 3 Ballot Set on Annexation

Vote on Joining Troy Site to Birmingham in Special Election

Voting to decide whether Troy Township's 45-acre "island" inside Birmingham will become a part of the city has been postponed until Aug. 3.

Oakland County Board of Supervisors Monday morning had set April 5 as the special election date for "island" along Adams road between Maple and Lincoln roads.

Supervisors also set a special election on Wolverine Lake's incorporation and okayed changes in Lake Angelus village boundaries Monday.

Norman R. Barnard, Troy township supervisor, asked Birmingham date change Monday afternoon after supervisors postponed a special election on the county building until Aug. 3. Barnard explained his township didn't want to stand the expense of two elections.

The board set April 5 as the date for a special election in the Wolverine Lake area in Commerce Township. Petitions have been filed to incorporate Wolverine Lake as a village.

Supervisors also approved a resolution changing Lake Angelus Village boundaries.

Village attorney Robert W. Hodge explained the village was trying to pull in its limits to existing roads, instead of having "long, long stretches that are just lines on a map." The village, he said, will drop all land north of Lake Angelus road, south of Lake Angelus shores and annex a 45-acre township game refuge bounded by Pontiac City limits, Gallogly road and Baldwin avenue.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions for both municipal judgeships and the seven city commission seats is Feb. 9. A primary election is scheduled for March 1, with the general election April 5.

Carl Bolton to Ask New Trial on Theft

Carl Bolton, acquitted in 1950 in the Walter Reuther shooting, plans to seek a new trial in Oakland County Circuit Court on a 1949 burglary conviction which resulted in a 10 to 15-year prison sentence.

Bolton, of Highland Park, was convicted on May 18, 1949, before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland of breaking into the Pontiac Consumers Cooperative store at 489 Madison St. An all-woman jury returned guilty verdicts against him and his two companions.

Joseph Kolodzewski and John Pantella, the two principal witnesses in the Reuther-shooting trial, also were principal witnesses against Bolton in the trial here.

It is Bolton's contention that if the two key witnesses were disbelieved by a Detroit Recorder's Court jury in the Reuther case then their veracity is subject to question in the burglary trial here.

County Will Sell 4 Plots of Land

Properties Include Site Formerly Considered for Farmers Market

Oakland County Board of Supervisors voted Monday to sell four pieces of land, including a 14-acre site on Oakland avenue.

With supervisors tackling one of the heaviest agendas in board records, Monday's "marathon" meeting started at 10 a. m., a half hour late, and ran until after 4 p. m.

The land sale proposal was suggested by the board's building and grounds committee, headed by Harry W. Horton, Royal Oak.

The Oakland avenue property, once considered a possible site for a new farmers market, lies between Oakland, West boulevard and the Grand Trunk Railroad belt line.

Another 40-acre chunk of wooded land lies in Pontiac north of Walton boulevard near the city limits.

Also up for sale are lots 239 and 240 of Bloomfield Hills Addition, and lots 42, 43 and 44 of Crystal Lake Bloomfield subdivision.

The board, however, agreed not to sell the Oakland avenue or Walton boulevard property until the welfare committee and Oakland County Social Welfare Board approve the sale.

In another action, the board urged its legislative committees and Harry J. Merritt to try to get Michigan Act 246 of 1945 changed so townships with local ordinances can set their own fines and fees and use receipts for whatever expenses they choose. Fines now go to the state library fund.

Frank H. Williamson of Waterford township complained the county board of auditors had paid him "only the beef price at the Detroit stockyards" for seven cows bitten by rabid dogs.

He claimed the beef price gave him about $900, while five of the cows, he said, were Angus breeding cattle worth twice as much.

2 Fires Cause $5,000 Damage

West Side Apartment, Home Burn Monday Afternoon

Two fires reported only two minutes apart caused an estimated total damage of $5,000 to a west side home and an apartment Monday afternoon, according to Pontiac Fire Department.

Assistant Fire Chief Max W. Wells said that Arthur McVean, an occupant of the apartment at 239 State St., refused medical treatment after suffering arm and face burns when the blaze was caused by overloading the fireplace in the living room.

A quantity of paper around the fire place caught fire. Flames spread through the living room and an adjoining one. Smoke and water damage also was caused to a lower apartment.

Capt. Sidney S. C. Owen blamed defective wiring for the second fire at the home of Samuel London of 138 Palmer St.

Workmen arriving at the house to repair sidings noticed smoke and called the fire department. Sidney said that Mrs. London was in the kitchen unaware of the flaming wires throughout the home.

2nd Degree Murder Warrant Expected

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor Donald Plankel said he expects to approve a second degree murder warrant against Mrs. Louis Cottrell today for the death of her three-year-old daughter, Lois Ann, on Saturday.

Mrs. Cottrell, of 823 Etowah, Royal Oak, admitted to police Saturday that she has beat the child almost daily since last Oct. 4 because the girl "wasn't exactly right." The expectant mother is being held in Oakland County Jail.

The child died Saturday while being rushed to Royal Oak General Hospital after the family doctor was called to treat her. The father, Martin, 27, who also admitted beating the small children occasion, was taken to Royal Oak jail last weekend on investigation of cruelty to children.

Mrs. Cartrette is charged with shooting her husband, Scarborough, 32, last Aug. 29.

May Cancel Warrant for Robbery Suspect

Pontiac Police Capt. Clark M. Wheaton said today a week-old armed robbery warrant against a man held in northern Michigan probably would not be used.

James Taylor, 45, now held in Sandusky, was identified last week by Mrs. Alice Herrick of 74 Hill St., Pontiac, as the man who robbed her of $15 Dec. 13 at a drug store here at 164 Auburn Ave.

The man faces a similar charge in Lapeer County. If convicted there, said Wheaton, Pontiac probably will not try the man for the local robbery.

State Health Department to Stop Blood Service

The Michigan Department of Health bloodmobile service will be discontinued Feb. 26, it was disclosed this week. This leaves the job of collecting fresh blood to local blood banks and the Red Cross.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said that sources of blood for the manufacture of blood derivatives by his department are sufficient to allow discontinuing the bloodmobile. After March 1, the State Health Department will be unable to provide emergency supplies of whole blood as it has in the past.

ferred to each other by name except Jackson was called "Dutch." He said they talked about a third party as if he were a boss, but "I think that was just a cover up."

Jackson and Lear glared at newsmen as they were led into the crowded press room at the Hall of Justice.

Here is the way the case developed:

Leonard Moskovitz left his office on Outer Geary St. at 11 a.m. Saturday to keep several business appointments. He didn't keep any of them.

Five hours later his family called the Missing Persons Bureau. Almost simultaneously a special delivery ransom demand arrived at the father's home in the exclusive Seacliff district overlooking the Golden Gate.

The letter, in Leonard's handwriting, demanded $500,000 and gave directions for contacting the kidnapers through the personal columns of the Examiner.

The father immediately called police and the biggest San Francisco manhunt in two decades was under way. It turned up Leonard's car Sunday in a downtown public garage, but there were no immediate developments.

Late Sunday night a second special delivery note asked the family to hurry ransom arrangements.

Police traced the first ransom call from a telephone booth in the Mission district and all officers had been instructed to pick up anyone using the booth.

Two inspectors cruising in the area spotted Lear talking on the telephone and made the arrest, Lynch said. He called it a "natural."

Just after noon on Monday, a man telephoned the elder Moskovitz' home. The caller asked for "Allie," who is Leonard's twin brother and business partner, Alfred.

"How much can you raise by midnight tomorrow night?" the caller asked. "Get $300,000.

"The kid is sick. We want to get rid of him." Then he hung up.

Two and a half hours later, a third special delivery letter, again in Leonard's handwriting, gave instructions for assembling $300,000 and threatened mutilization to Moskovitz.

Moskovitz' wife, Lesley, and their two sons, David, 4, and Michel, 6, went into seclusion with other family members at the elder Moskovitz' home. Police and FBI agents were in the house and kept the neighborhood under surveillance. Leonard's home is in suburban Burlingame.

The family said all the ransom notes were in Leonard's handwriting.

The first one read:

"I am being held prisoner by some men. They want $500,000. I won't be turned loose until it's paid. There are five men . . . get it for them right away or you won't see me again. . . .

"Do not tell the police or let the authorities know or they'll kill me if it comes out in the newspapers . . .

"If there is any interference they'll stop at nothing. Please do as they say. . . ."

The note demanded payment in old, unmarked 20, 50 and 100 dollar bills from different federal reserve banks. It instructed the elder Moskovitz to insert this ad:

"L ready to conclude sale. Please advise when and where to deliver."

With the family unable to raise any sizeable sum Sunday, Inspector James English placed this ad in the Monday morning Examiner:

"L unable to raise sale price. Wish to negotiate. Please contact us."

The second note, delivered at 9:50 p.m. Sunday, read:

". . . It's Sunday morning and I am well and alive. But please hurry for they are afraid you may try to cross them by taking the numbers off the bills. . . . If the police . . . try in any way to trap them, they will kill me. . . .

"Nothing reported to the papers, for which I thank God. . . . Tell Lesley to have faith. . . ."

Inspector English said the next telephone call was received at the Moskovitz' home at 12:25 p.m. Monday. Besides reducing the ransom demand to $300,000, the caller told Moskovitz to place the original ad in the paper when the money was ready.

The third note, delivered Monday, read:

". . . It looks bad for me. They are really mad because your ad in this morning's Examiner said you did not have the money. . . . They are willing to turn me loose for $300,000, but not a penny less. . . .

"Please for God's sake don't try to bargain. I swear to God they mean business. . . ."

Moskovitz wrote his captors had threatened to castrate him and send the evidence to his family "if there is any further stalling."

Following instructions again, Inspector English placed the original ad in the Tuesday Examiner, on sale Monday night.

Police were assisted by FBI agents as observers, rather than participants. Regulations preclude the FBI from coming officially into a case until seven days after a kidnaping, or until there are indications the kidnapers crossed state lines.

Leonard and his brother operated the Moskovitz Realty Co., a real estate and insurance firm. Their lives have been closely linked, even to enlisting in the Air Force together and marrying on the same day. They live in adjoining homes.

Their father is a personal friend of San Francisco Mayer Elmer Robinson.

The last kidnaping for ransom in the San Francisco area was in 1940, when 3-year-old Marc de Tristan Jr., was abducted from his home in exclusive suburban Hillsborough. The kidnaper demanded and was paid $20,000 by the boy's father Count Marc de Tristan.

The boy was returned unharmed. The kidnaper was caught a short time later and is serving a prison term.

Hartrick Sentences Pair for Robbery

Two Farmington men were sentenced to 3 to 10 years in prison Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick on a charge of unarmed robbery.

Commission to Get Report on Rape-Slayer Reward

Pontiac City Commission tonight is scheduled to hear a committee recommended allocation of the $5,000 reward posted Sept. 1 for aid in apprehending the slaying of Mrs. Hallie Perkins.

City Manager Walter K. Willman, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and City Attorney William A. Ewart form the committee selected by the commission.

Rape-slayer Donald V. O'Brian was caught Sept. 9 as he attempted to attack Mrs. Mary Forgette of 20 Oriole Rd. Her screams attracted James Brown, 18, of 37 Vinewood St. who tackled O'Brian, and Jack Seebald, 48, of 27 Oriole Rd., who helped hold him until police arrived.

Commissioners are also expected to hold a public hearing on the proposed budget for 1954 of $4,122,019, approximately $246,000 more than the city's budget for 1953.

A communication is expected from Michigan Public service Commission in reply to a resolution passed Jan. 5 asking the state group to investigate street-railway crossing in Pontiac and compel installation of traffic control devices where it deems them necessary.

A report is expected from City Attorney William A. Ewart asking withdrawal of parcel "A" from condemnation proceedings started by the city to obtain property at 11-49 Parke St. for a public parking lot.

Ewart is also expected to ask the commission to authorize purchase of parcel "A" by the city.

Ask for Disbarment of A-Spies' Lawyer public about Bloch's funeral speech. The association quietly summoned the attorney before its grievance committee to give his version of his outburst at the President and the American judicial system.

After the hearings, the committee headed by Eli Whitney Debevoise recommended to the association's executive committee that court action seeking disbarment be started.

Legal circles said they could not recall a previous case of a lawyer being brought up on charges for statements made outside a courtroom.

They said the referee and the court probably will base their decision on whether the statement was calculated to bring disrepute upon the administration of justice.

Lizabeth Scott Exclaims 'Ugh' to Boyish Garb

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — American women should give the heave-ho to the mannish styles that France is trying to foist on them, Lizabeth Scott counseled today.

"Oh, they're awful!" she exclaimed in her foggy voice. She had seen some pictures of the late Paris styles. The models had boyish haircuts and their outfits lacked the curves that are customary with most females.

"Terrible, terrible," she said. "It's absolutely subversive! What will happen to the institution of marriage? No man wants to marry someone who looks like his brother. Or, if he's an older man, like his son.

"This could upset our whole system. It's the women who keep men from fighting. If men lose their respect for women and treat them as men, it could lead to chaos!"

Miss Scott emitted a laugh that sounded like an off-center buzzsaw, so I gathered that she wasn't entirely serious. Perhaps she was putting it a little strongly. But there was no doubt that she was perturbed by the Parisian trend in women's styles.

"I think it's all right for women to wear trousers," she commented. "But I favor the fitted, toreador pants that cling to a woman's figure and show her contours. I also like with them a blouse that will reveal the outline of her bosom, not conceal it.

"I'll go halfway on the mannish look. If a woman appears mannish below the neck, her face and hair should be feminine. If she wants to wear a short haircut that looks like a man's, her clothes should be feminine.

"But I can't think of nothing worse than a woman wearing one of those flat-chested, narrow-hipped outfits and a short haircut with little makeup. That's supposed to be the new style too—heavy eye makeup, a thin line of lipstick and a white face. Ugh! I suppose some of the ultra-smart women will dress up like that, and you'll see such things in the high-fashion magazines.

"Most American women wouldn't think of sacrificing their glamor so. They would love whatever charm they have for men."

James Roosevelt Sues Second Wife

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — James Roosevelt, 46, who separated five months ago from his second wife, Romelle Schenider Roosevelt, 38, has sued for a decree of separate maintenance, alleging that she caused him "mental and physical anguish and distress."

They were wed in Beverly Hills, Calif., in 1941 in a civil ceremony. They met in 1938 in Rochester, Minn., when Miss Schneider, a hospital nurse, was assigned to Roosevelt's case when he had an abdominal operation. They have three children.

Roosevelt's lawyer, Samuel B. Picone, said negotiations for an amicable settlement of financial issues were started last Sept. 1 but have been unproductive. The complaint stated that Roosevelt had made numerous requests to his wife for return of such items as the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's wrist watch, cigarette holder, ring and similar articles of sentimental value.

Population Up 78,999 in Area

County Gain Estimated at 19 Per Cent; Regional Figure Jumps

The Detroit Metropolitan Area—composed of Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties and four eastern townships of Washtenaw County—has grown an estimated 11 per cent since 1950.

The Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission reported today that 3,398,000 persons resided in the area as of July 1.

Wayne County had the greatest growth, 209,765. Oakland gained 78,999 persons and Macomb, 45,639.

Macomb led percentagewise, with a 24.4 per cent gain. Oakland registered a 19.9 per cent population increase, while Wayne's was only 8.6 per cent.

The planning commission said the majority of the overall growth, 54.6 per cent, came in the difference between birth and death rates." The remainder was new residents.

Ball Players Eye TV as Wedge for Salary Increases

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—It looks like a long, tough winter for the ball clubs with holdouts sprouting in the collar. Loud wails are drifting back from the outlands as "feeler" contracts find their way into mail boxes along the R.F.D. routes.

Some of the owners may have a tough time explaining to the hired hands how much money they lost and how far attendance drooped. The athletes are quite hep to the fact that television contracts often run into six figures in the balance book. It's no secret that a few clubs figure on the TV dough to meet the player payroll.

So far the players are asking only for the World Series and All-Star TV cash. Some of these days the boys may start gunning for a cut of the daily TV take, just as the boxers demanded—and got—$4,000 each Friday night from the IBC.

The painful aspects of pennant-winning always come to light about this time of year. When a club wins, the players naturally want more money. When they lose they don't want to take a cut. Many a beautiful friendship between player and club has cracked up on these rocky shoals.

How would you like to have George Weiss' job of signing the Yankees? Five straight pennants, five straight World Series—the greatest. Add to that the complication of the stadium sale last month. The ballplayers read all about it in the papers, how Del Webb and Dan Topping sold for 6½ million dollars something they bought for $2,800,000 a few years back and still own the ball club.

Last year most of the Yankee regulars didn't sign until spring training time. Whitey Ford, Eddie Lopat, Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds, Billy Martin, Joe Collins, Johnny Mize, Phil Rizzuto, Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle and Gene Woodling waited until they got to St. Petersburg. Only Gil McDougald, Yogi Berra and Johnny Sain, of the "big names," signed early.

Ford already has said he wants more. Yogi is angling for $40,000 salary and McDugald wants a raise. Don't think Lopat, Rizzuto and some of the others are going to be easy to rope.

But the Yankees are used to this sort of thing. How about the others?

When the Phillies can ask Robin Roberts—the best pitcher in baseball—to take a cut, where does that leave men like Sal Maglie, Larry Jansen and Ferris Fain?

CHARLEY TELLS A STORY—Three younger members of Michigan's football coaching fraternity listen to the veteran Charley Bachman, former Michigan State coach now at Hillsdale, tell a story. From the left are Wayne's Lou Zarza, who played under Bachman at MSC; new Spartan head man, Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty; Bachman; and assistant coach Bill Orwig of the University of Michigan. They were among the guests at the annual sports father-son banquet at the Pontiac Elks Lodge 810 Monday night.

'Duffy' Hails Biggie's Spartan Grid Record

By JACK SAYLOR

An overflow crowd of nearly 500 fathers, sons and guests packed the main ballroom of the Elks Temple Monday night for the annual Father-Son sports banquet of Pontiac Elks Lodge 810.

Several sports were represented by the many celebrities on hand, but football was the dominating subject.

Youngsters in the audience got first-hand evidence that overpowering size is not all-important to success in sports.

Among the guests were George Guerre, pint-sized former Flint Central ace, who went on to football stardom at Michigan State; Syl Thiel, who weighs only 135 pounds, but is one of Detroit's better bowlers; and Sherwin (Sonny) Gandee of the Detroit Lions, small by National Football League standards, yet one of the loop's better defensive ends.

Crowd gave a fine reception to Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, newly-named head football coach at Michigan State.

The Spartan mentor hailed the record of the man he succeeds, "Biggie" Munn, and reflecting on the Spartans' recent Rose Bowl victory, he cited an inspirational halftime speech by Munn as being instrumental in the triumph.

Also heard were assistant coach Bill Orwig of Michigan; new head football coach Wally Fromhart of University of Detroit and one of his assistants, Eddie Barbour; Lou Zarza of Wayne and Charley Bachman of Hillsdale.

Still others on the program were Phil Hart, legal advisor to Gov. Williams and a director of the Detroit Lions and Tigers; Gandee, and big Gus Cifelli, ex-Notre Dame and Detroit Lion star, now with the Green Bay Packers.

Baseball was not entirely forgotten. The Walker brothers, Hubby and Gee, were on hand and Tiger-Lion sportscaster Van Patrick was there. Patrick spoke in an optimistic tone regarding the Tigers' prospects for the coming season.

Others in attendance included golf professional Bob Waara of Indianwood, bowler John Paulus, and local coaches Ed Graybiel, Art Van Ryzin and Fred Zittel of PHS; Bob Mineweaser of St. Michael; Chuck Talbot and Alger Connor of St. Frederick; and Niles Freeland of Walled Lake.

Detroit sportscaster Bob Reynolds handled "emcee" duties, while Exalted Ruler Elmer Rossmeisl and committee chairman Bob Owen of the Elks also were heard. Rev. Edward D. Auchard gave the invocation and benediction.

Dinner music was played by Dick Dengate and his orchestra and a youngsters' tumbling act was presented by the Pontiac Tumbling Club.

Waterford Keglers Lead in Captain-Sponsor Event

A pair of Waterford bowling teams walked off with top honors in the annual Captain-Sponsor tournament conducted by the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Pontiac Saturday at West Huron Recreation.

Leo and Joe's Shell Service and Waterford Market each rolled 1148 to share 1st prize. Leo & Joe's were paced by sponsor Joe Micelli's 589, while captain Marv Downing threw 5599.

Waterford Market's total came on a 604 by Alma Cheslik and sponsor Sam Felice's 544.

Micelli's 589 was tops among sponsors, followed by Fred Figa of the Polish Falcons who had 583. Highest scoring captain was Jim Shortt of Cooley Lanes, who fired a 608.

Mrs. Cheslik's 604 was 2nd best and tops among women captains. Leading the women sponsors was Genevieve Bradley of Service Window Cleaners with 543.

Top individual games were turned in by Jack LaFay of Kelley's Hardware, Clarkston, with a 256, and Joe Sarvis, also of Clarkston, 242.

Approximately 200 participated in the tourney and banquet, which followed at Indianwood Country Club. Mrs. Barbara Howe of Howe's Lanes was chairman of the affair.

Sponsor-of-the-Year trophy went to Progressive Pattern of Pontiac.

Canadien's Rocket and Wings' Lindsay Follow in NHL Scoring Race

MONTREAL (AP)—Gordie Howe, 25-year-old right winger of the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings, held a comfortable five point lead in the National Hockey League scoring race today.

Penn Trustees Want Ivy Loop Affiliation

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—University of Pennsylvania trustees adopted an athletic committee report Monday calling for "a closer athletic relationship with the 'Ivy Group.'"

Full details of the plan, in effect an Ivy League round robin in all sports, must wait until it is approved by the trustees of all member schools.

Robert T. McCracken, chairman of the trustees, said final announcement will be made by Dr. Grayson Kirk of Columbia University, possibly this spring.

Off-Hand Items About Sports

A pair of Pontiac football players received words of praise from their coaches, who attended Monday night's Elks Father-Son Sports banquet in Pontiac.

Silver-haired Wally Fromhart, who succeeds Dutch Clark as head football coach at University of Detroit this year, was high in his commendation of Pontiac's Dave Kline, former St. Frederick's grid star.

Fromhart said the UD staff didn't play against or see a finer quarterback last fall than Kline.

Lou Zarza of Wayne reported pleasure in the progress of ex-Pontiac High gridder Maurice Stack. Though only a freshman, Stack was 1st string quarterback for Zarza's club before the close of the season.

Another of Zarza's backs, Ned Kramer of Traverse City, played his high school ball under Ed Graybiel, now the PHS coach.

Bill Orwig, end coach at University of Michigan, reportedly has received an offer for the vacant head football post at Toledo University. Orwig has sent his terms to the Ohio college and a decision likely will be forthcoming this week.

Eddie Barbour of UD, who also attended last night's affair, appears to have the inside track for the athletic directorship at UD. Catholic prep coaches in Detroit and Oakland County, too, are stumping for him.

Golf pro Bob Warra of Indianwood, who spends his winters selling cars in Pontiac, will go south in March to play in a couple of tournaments — the Pinehurst Open and the North and South.

Another local car salesman, Lou Creekmur of Bob Oliver's, was unable to attend the banquet. The star Detroit Lion lineman was in California where he played in Sunday's Pro Bowl game. Creekmur is a member of the Elks here and was on the banquet committee.

Chisox Obtain Signed Contract From Pierce; Sauer OK's Pact

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Cubs each had another big catch in the contract bag today. But Milwaukee slugger Eddie Mathews joined the increasing group of dissatisfied major leaguers.

Lefty Billy Pierce, who along with Virgil Trucks kept the Chisox in the American League pennant running last season, came to terms for 1954 and "became one of the highest paid pitchers in the club's history," according to General Manager Frank Lane.

Pierce won 18 games and dropped 12 last year, finished second in earned runs with a 2.72 mark and had a stretch of 40 1-3 scoreless innings. Trucks already is in the White Sox fold.

Hank Sauer, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1952, signed a Cubs' contract and promised to "fight with all I've got" to return to his form of two seasons ago. He slumped to 19 home runs after hitting 37 the previous year. Ralph Kiner, the Cubs' other home run threat, signed last week.

Mathews, the National League's home run king last year, hasn't talked turkey with John Quinn, Braves' general manager, since last fall but he said he "may hold out."

Besides Sauer, the Cubs also signed outfielder Hal Jeffcoat and rookie infielder Don Robertson. The Philadelphia Athletics signed five players, including outfielder Ed McGhee and pitcher Bob Cain, recently acquired from Baltimore.

Phils' Manager Fears Dodgers

O'Neill Cites Need for Better Bench, Outfielder Who Can Hit

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Manager Steve O'Neill of the Phillies thinks the Dodgers are still the club to beat this year in the National League pennant race.

Stopping off at the Phillies' office enroute to a Wilmington, Del., sports writers' dinner, he added that "Milwaukee is going to be very tough too."

O'Neill was pleased with the recent acquisition of Murry Dickson, former Pirate knuckleballer to improve the team's mound strength, but he admitted the Phils need a beter bench, including a .300 hitting outfielder, in order to give the Dodgers a fight.

"We are still trying to swing a deal that might help" he explained, "but at the moment everything is static."

O'Neill said the team had made strong bids for Solly Hemus of St. Louis; Bobby Adams, of Cincinnati; Bob Hofman of the Giants; Ransom Jackson and Roy Smalley, of the Chicago Cubs.

O'Neill threw cold water on statements that Robin Roberts had been sent to the well too often last season.

Wrong Way Keglers Pace Chicago Affair

CHICAGO (AP)—A pair of wrong way bowlers, Tess Johns of Cleveland and Lou Campi of Dumont, N. J., paced the 224 bowlers in the National All-Star bowling tournament today as the keglers made ready for their last day of qualifying trials.

Campi moved into the men's lead with a 3696 total for 18 games, four more than Earl Johnson of Tacoma, Wash., and 12 ahead of veteran Pete Carter of Detroit.

Mrs. Johns, a 34-year-old housewife, only throws the experts for a loss as she throws the bowling ball with her left hand rather than her right. If she managed to win the qualifying trials, she will be the first left-hander in history to do so.

Will Face McKenley

Sprinter Mel Patton in Comeback Attempt

By JACK STEVENSON

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Sprinter Mel Patton, who set existing records in three events more than four years ago, figures he'll give Australians a good run for their money next month.

But the long-legged former University of Southern California star, now 29, lets it be known his living will continue to come from teaching, not sprinting. He'll train whenever he can sandwich it in.

Patton confirmed the announcement from Melbourne yesterday that he has agreed to race against Jamaican Herb McKenley and leading Aussie pros in what is billed as the world professional foot racing championships. He declined to say how much cash he'll get.

Since the races are Feb. 12 and 19, he'll have to get in shape in a hurry Weighing 152, or just four pounds more than when in college, he thinks he can do it—but doesn't expect anything like his 9.3-second record in the 100-yard dash or 20.2 in the 220-yard and 200-meter events. He explains:

"In college I could run 9.6 or 21 flat with five or six weeks' training after a complete layoff and I've been rather active the past few years with general conditioning, golf, handball and such sports. I think I'll be in good running shape but frankly I have no idea of how fast I'll be able to run."

* * *

He termed acceptance of the offer "a spur-of-the-moment type of thing." Negotiations started and stopped last summer with disagreements on time and money, then started again a few weeks ago.

Before that, he says, "I thought my running days were over."

There's just one possible hitch. He still needs approval of a nine-day leave from his job as track coach and counsellor at Long Beach City College.

Clarkston Five Stays Unbeaten

Merchants Still Lead Waterford Cage League With 5-0 Record

Clarkston's merchants stayed at the top of the Waterford Township Recreation basketball league Monday night by downing Manny's Ringside, 57-41, at Waterford High School. Percy Moore and Ed Hintz directed the Merchants to their 5th straight victory with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

Drayton Drug and Beattie Motors continue to run neck-and-neck in the runnerup slot. Frank Keelean sparked Drug to a 38-34 win over the Waterford High Faculty, and Beattie routed Briggs, 73-36.

Jerry McKay tossed in 27 points for Beatties and Stu Hutchinson and Chuck Whitfield added 16 and 15.

Poole Lumber was 3 points down to Davis Machinery after three quarters, but pulled to a 48-all tie with two minutes left. Then Chuck Gillis clicked on a pair of jump shots and Poole's took a 52-48 win. Gillis had 19 points, but game honors went to Chris Babler of Davis with 23.

Bronko Beats Keough; Pontiac Boxer Loses

DETROIT (UP)—Henry Bronko, rising Detroit middleweight, boosted his fistic stock at Motor City Arena Monday night by gaining a unanimous decision over Jackie Keough of Cleveland in the feature eight-round bout.

Bronko, unbeaten in his professional career, was out-boxed by the veteran Ohio stylist during the 1st two rounds. Then his punch started taking effect and he had Keough in trouble during each of the final three rounds.

John Barnes, 135, Detroit, decisioned Gordon Meadows, 143, Pontiac, in a four-round lightweight match.

Next Detroit Lions Task: Sign Up Coaching Staff

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football League, today are without a coaching staff.

No one is worried, however, since it concerns a mere technicality.

Detroit Football Co. boss Edwin J. Anderson said Coach Buddy Parker and the staff haven't signed their 1954 contracts and haven't even talked terms. But he doesn't anticipate trouble.

Contracts will be up for signing when Parker gets back from Los Angeles where his Western All-Stars lost a 20-0 game Sunday to Paul Brown's Eastern All-Stars.

"Before Parker left Detroit we had an understanding that contract talks would wait until he got back," Anderson said.

He added:

"One thing is certain. The coaching staff will be signed before we go into the draft meeting."

The Parker crew of George Wilson, Aldo Forte, Russ Thomas and Buster Ramsey is looking toward Philadelphia and the annual draft meeting Jan. 26.

Porterhouse, Turn-To, Artismo, Hasty Road Seem to Be Most Promising Derby Hopefuls at This Time

By GRANTLAND RICE

ARCADIA, Calif. — Your wandering correspondent was making a belated check over the John B. Campbell's rating of this season's three-year-olds.

As you look over the list and do your guessing about the possible winner of the Kentucky Derby, you are forced to admit this is about as wide open a matter as you could find.

Here are the ten names listed: Porterhouse, 126; Turn-To, 126; Artismo, 124; Hasty Road, 124; Double Speed, 121; Errard King, 121; Fisherman, 121; Correlation, 120; Goyamo, 120; Best Years, 119.

Evening Out, a filly, who gets an impost of 118 pounds, must also be rated in this list as she gets five pounds off from her real rating at 123.

With Mrs. M. E. Person's horse, Porterhouse, it is largely a matter of having him ready to run. He already has proved that he can run and there isn't much worry about him going the Derby distance. He is a big, powerful animal who can run his full share.

On what they have shown so far, Porterhouse, Turn-To, Artismo and Hasty Road are certainly the four top colts at this spot in the proceedings which are still over three months away.

Hasty Road is the leading all-time money winner for a two-year-old. Hasty Road earned $277,132 during 1953. That's quite a financial mop-up. He also has run a mile in 1.36.

The Widener selection, Evening Out, has her chance although a filly is always up against a tough job in facing a colt.

There is a colt at Santa Anita known as the Pie King. His owner and trainer say that they will train him here in California and then ship him East to run in the Experimental in New York if he is ready.

* * *

Pie King was one of the Best Irish horses before he was purchased and brought across to run in the big race at Garden State. He was forced out by a bad foot, but is reported working well now.

Waiver Asked for Youth Who Stabbed Cager

16-Year-Old Admits Near-Fatal Attack on McKenzie Star

DETROIT (INS) — Police today asked a juvenile court waiver for a 16-year-old high school student who, they said, confessed the near-fatal ice pick stabbing of a star athlete last Friday.

The incident followed a night basketball game between Central and McKenzie High Schools in Detroit and prompted school superintendent Arthur Dondineau to cancel further night athletic contests.

Central station officers said the youth admitted stabbing 17-year-old Ross DeBoskey, star center on the McKenzie team, with an ice pick shortly after Central lost a court decision to DeBoskey and his teammates.

Young DeBoskey only yesterday was removed from the critical list at Receiving Hospital, where he had undergone surgery for removal of the ice pick blade from a lung.

The youth was quoted as saying: "Somebody else had his head and everybody else was beating him so I stuck him."

He was said to have admitted being among 200 Central students who thronged the McKenzie gymnasium Friday with the avowed purpose of starting a fight.

CHICAGO (INS) — Nation's top-ranked three - year - olds have been named for next summer's $155,000 Arlington Classic race at Arlington race track.

List of 192 nominees announced include such standouts as Mrs. M. E. Person's Porterhouse and Hasty House Farm's Hasty Road.

Porterhouse was rated in most polls as two-year-old champion last season and Hasty Road earned $277,132 in 1953.

Other top horses entered include Harry Guggenheim's Turnto, James Cox Brady's Artismo, Woodvale farm's Gyamo, C. V. Whitney's Fisherman and Joseph Gavegnano's Errard King.

Fiore TKO's Herman for His 6th Victory

NEW YORK (INS)—Rugged Carmine fiore, hard-punching Brooklyn welterweight who stretched his victory string to six with a 3rd-round TKO over Los Angeles' Freddie (Babe) Herman, clamored today for a shot at the winner of the Vince Martinez-Rocky Castillo fight.

Fiore was awarded a TKO over the Mexican welter last night at the Brooklyn Eastern Parkway arena when Herman was unable to come out for the 4th round in their televised fight.

The Brooklyn slugger pounded Herman around the ring late in the 3rd stanza and had him on the ropes blistering him with savage body punches when the bell sounded.

Hickey, Odom Expected to Pace Spartan Ringmen

EAST LANSING (UP) — Tom Hickey and Herb Odom are expected to set the pace for Michigan State boxers when the Spartans open their season Friday by hosting a veteran Quantico Marines squad.

Hickey, defending NCAA 165-pound champion, and Odom, undefeated in 1953, are the only experienced standouts on MSC's sophomore-studded team.

Hoosier Ace Sets Two New Cage Marks

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—At his present pace big Don Schlundt is going to run out of records to break long before he finishes his spectacular basketball career at Indiana University.

The 6-foot-9 center, just approaching the midway point in his junior year, already owns the individual scoring records for many of the Midwest's main basketball arenas. Last night, he added two more prizes to his long string—the Big Ten mark and the record for his home floor at Bloomington.

Shooting with amazing accuracy, he scored 47 points as the hurrying Hoosiers ran away frm Ohio State 94-72 for their sixth straight conference triumph.

The old Big Ten mark of 43 by Iowa's Dick Ives had stood for 10 years. Schlundt's total was 11 above the former Indiana fieldhouse mark as he connected on 16 field goals in 27 attempts and on 15 of 17 free throws.

Indiana, No. 3 behind Kentucky and Duquesne, was the only member of the nation's top 10 teams in action last night. Three of the second 10 were busy with Maryland, No. 14, whipping Virginia 70-56; Kansas, No. 17, defeating Iowa State 76-61; and Illinois, No. 20, getting beaten by Iowa 79-70.

Wisconsin made 25 of 30 free throws in defeating Michigan State 57-53 in a Big Ten game. Two foul shots by sub Bobby Delpit with seven seconds left gave Tulane a 63-61 Southeastern Conference decision over Tennessee. Davidson surprised Virginia Tech with a second-half splurge that brought an 87-69 Southern Conference victory.

Tulsa held Murray State to four points in the final 15 minutes in scoring a 61-51 overtime verdict.

Wyoming climbed into a tie with Colorado A&M in the Skyline Conference by edging New Mexico 56-53. West Texas State took over the lead in the Border Conference with its fourth in a row, 67-60 over New Mexico A&M.

Tulane's triumph over Tennessee put the Green Wave in third place in the Southeastern behind Louisiana State and Kentucky as Vanderbilt stumbled before Mississippi 78-74.

Kentucky 5 Still Leads Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Until one of the five top teams takes a resounding tumble, the race for the top of the college basketball heap looks like a closed affair, with five "haves" outdistancing a large group of "have nots."

The first five teams in the weekly Associated Press poll remained unchanged this week, although there was one change in their order, as 127 sports writers and broadcasters sent in ballots.

The undefeated (11-0) Kentucky Wildcats remained in the No. 1 spot with first-place votes from 42 of the 127 experts. Their point total, on the usual basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc., mounted to 1,106.

Duquesne, in second place, received 30 firsts and 995 points and third-place Indiana 16 firsts and 905 points.

Western Kentucky, running its winning streak to 16 straight games, moved ahead of Oklahoma A&M into fourth place, reversing their positions of a week ago. Western polled 769 points to the Aggies' 697.

Then came a big drop in the point ratings and, indicative of the quick changes that can take place when one of the leaders is beaten, Notre Dame was ranked sixth with 221 points.

A week ago the Irish collected only a few scattered points in the poll, but Notre Dame handed Holy Cross its first defeat last week. And this, combined with an otherwise good record, moved the Irish into the place vacated by the Crusaders.

Holy Cross dropped to eighth behind Oklahoma City. Other major switches in the rankings saw George Washington, also beaten for the first time, slip from seventh place to 10th and Duke, taking its fourth defeat, from ninth to 13th.

The leading teams on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 point basis (first-place votes in parentheses):

1—Kentucky (42)	1,106
2—Duquesne (30)	995
3—Indiana (16)	905
4—Western Kentucky (9)	769
5—Oklahoma A&M (7)	697
6—Notre Dame (2)	221
7—Oklahoma City (3)	211

Youthful Hawks Defeat Illinois in Late Rally

Iowa Solidly in 2nd Place in Big 10 List After 79-70 Win

By TOM BRANNAGAN

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's intent young Hawkeyes gave Big Ten basketball fans something to ponder beyond the awesome proportions of Don Schlundt and the Indiana Hoosiers last night.

Hawks, making their 1st appearance away from their home floor this season, rolled to a clean-cut 79-70 victory over Illinois as sophomores Carl Cain and Bill Logan contributed vital points in a 4th-quarter breakaway.

Meantime, the 6 feet 10 inch Schlundt was setting a Big Ten individual scoring record of 47 points as the Hoosiers posted their 6th straight Big Ten win with a 94-72 victory over Ohio State.

The Iowa win established the Hawks firmly in 2nd place in Big Ten standings and did much to dispel speculation they'd fold once they got out of Iowa City.

On their home grounds, Hawkeyes won three straight before losing to rough Minnesota, 59-55, Saturday.

Cain scored six of his evening's point total of 24 in the 4th quarter against Illinois. Logan, who sat out much of the game because he was near the foul limit, came back in to rack seven.

This enabled Hawks to break out of a 52-52 deadlock and win going away. The win was Iowa's 1st at Champaign in 26 years.

Schlundt was beyond stopping against the Buckeyes. He hit on 15 of 27 floor shots and 15 of 17 free throws. He scored 13 points in the first quarter, when Indiana ripped to a 27-15 advantage, and Ohio State never could get back in the game.

In the night's only other conference activity, Wisconsin won a slow game from Michigan State 57-53.

Indiana (6-0), Iowa (4-1) and Minnesota (2-1) now are the only teams that can boast more victories than defeats in Big Ten play.

Only conference games left this week are Saturday's clashes between Iowa and Purdue, Ohio State and Michigan State, and Minnesota and Northwestern.

Baltimore Club Sells 14 Players

Minor Leaguers Are Transferred to New I-L Team, Richmond

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, now in the American League, sold rights to 14 of their minor league players yesterday for $50,000 to Richmond, their International League successors.

Seven of the players played for the Orioles in the International last year, five didn't play anywhere and two were in military service.

Last year's performers were pitchers Ken Heintzelman, Dick Starr, and Wimpy Nardella, 3rd baseman Russ Kerns, outfielders Marv Rackley and Roy Weatherly, and catcher Marty Tabacheck. Rackley was the team's leading hitter at .317.

Balanced Scoring Helps

Milford Five Hoping to Avoid Letdown in Season's 2nd Half; Seek 7th Straight

Followers of Milford High School basketball fortunes are hoping this year's Redskins are not early bloomers.

Jack Menzie's club has won six straight games, but Milford fans are crossing their fingers. Two years ago, the Redskins won four of their first five games, then faltered and finished at .500, 8-8.

Again last year, Milford started fast, winning six of its first 9 contests, but skidded to an identical 8-8 record. Both years, the team lost its 1st game in tournament play.

Menzie has a tall, high-scoring team and hopes he can avoid that collapse in the 2nd half of the season. Milford has averaged over 56 points while winning its 1st six games.

Balanced scoring has been a feature. Jim Davidson leads with 86 points, followed by Bob Stallsmith (65), Jerry Winterhalter (61) and Fred Baker (48).

Depth also is apparent. When Davidson was unable to get started in a crucial game at Northville last week, John Sherwood came off the bench to score 20 points and spark a 57-47 victory.

Milford seeks its 7th win in a row at home tonight against Clarenceville, OL St. Mary, another of Oakland County's three unbeaten quintets, entertains St. Benedict's in a vital Suburban Catholic League game.

Other county fives playing at home tonight are Clarkston against Northville, Holly against Brighton, Southfield with Dearborn Lowrey, Avondale with Lake Orion, and St. Fred's against St. Rita.

The schedule:

St. Rita at St. Fred's; St. Mikes at St. James; St. Benedict at OL St. Mary; Lowrey at Southfield; Lake Orion at Avondale; Romeo at Utica; Northville at Clarkston; Clarenceville at Milford; Brighton at Holly; Clawson at Warren; Lake Shore at Fitzgerald; Hazel Park at East Detroit; Unionville at Mayville; South Lake at DUS; Kennedy at Cranbrook; Royal Oak at Fordson; South Lyon at Inkster; Shrine at Redford St. Mary.

Junior Elks Snap Phalanx Win Streak in Class D

Phalanx' winning streak in Class D City League basketball play came to a close at Lincoln Junior High School Monday night.

After winning six in a row, Phalanx bowed to Junior Elks 723, 43-39, and fell into a 1st place tie with Police Department. Police routed Bogie Lake, 69-19, to match the Phalanx 6-1 record.

Panthers stayed close (5-2) by thumping the Lakesiders, 52-15. In Class A, no league games were scheduled, but a pair of exhibition games were played.

Poole Lumber took a 40-35 decision from Stadium Inn of the Class B league, and General Motors also measured a "B" quintet, lacing Oliver Buick, 49-26.

Ed Ringgold sparked the Elks' upset of Phalanx with 19 points. Bob Brennan collected 20 in a losing cause for the Phalanx. Three players hit double figures for the Police against Bogie Lake.

Jom Wiscombe led with 20, while Ted Wharry added 16 and Jack Hopkins, 15. Same was true of the Panthers. Jack Johnson had 15, Paul Emerson, 14, and Ed Macadaeg, 12.

In the exhibition contests, Hodges led the Poole triumph with 15 points, and Bob DeVine and "Soc" Rallis each had 10 points in GMC's win over Oliver's.

Badger Defense Stops Spartans for 57-53 Loss

Sloppy Ball - Handling Also Figures in MSC Defeat at East Lansing

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's Spartans suffered from sloppy ball-handling in the first two quarters and a stiff Wisconsin defense, dropping their 3rd Big Ten basketball game last night 57-53.

Spartans, who have only one victory in conference play, could not cope with the tough Badger defense that kept Wisconsin ahead 32-23 at the half. It was Wisconsin's 3rd win in six Big Ten games.

Spartans found the range in the 3rd quarter, pouring in 12 points to 5 for Wisconsin and coming within 2 points of the Badgers 37-35.

The 4th period was a complete change in pace with Michigan State heading Wisconsin 40-39 midway but with the Badgers, led by high scoring center Paul Morrow, coming back for the margin.

Morrow, a 6-foot 7½-inch giant, dropped in 18 points. Guard Ron Weisner, making 10 out of 12 free throws for the Badgers, had 16.

Forward Julius McCoy and guard Al Ferrari each made 16 for the Spartans.

Badgers connected at the free throw line for 25 of 30 attempts against Michigan State's 17 tallies in 23 tries. Spartans topped Wisconsin in field goals 18 to 16.

Ray Densmore led the Apprectices Monday night as they came from behind to defeat the YMCA, 43-42, in a Pontiac "Y" Intramural Basketball league game.

After leading in the opening period, Apprentices fell behind and trailed until the last quarter, Tom Baytarian was high man for the losers. Another scheduled game went to Greek Orthodox Church over Oakland Avenue Presbyterian by forfeit.

Eastern Schools Seek League Tieup in Effort to Obtain Cut of TV Melon

By HUGH FULLERTON JR

NEW YORK (AP) — If a school doesn't belong to an athletic conference it doesn't stand much chance of cutting into football television money.

That's why there's so much talk these days about organizing new college athletic conferences or reorganizing old ones. And anyone who mingles with the college sports bigwigs knows there is much talk, usually with conferences and TV bracketed as an entry.

The "live" one under discussion now is the proposed Eastern Conference. That's understandable because the East has more football independents who want to gain recognition in the television program.

One canny observer put it this way: "When you think of the East, you think of the Ivy League. So the others have got together to promote themselves and promote football."

A quick look at the 1953 NCAA Television Committee report backs up that remark. On 13 Saturdays last fall, 38 college teams showed on the national network. Of these 32 were members of major conference. The other six were Army and Navy in their annual fracas, Notre Dame, Holy Cross, Pittsburgh and Syracuse (the latter in that better-forgotten "panorama" program).

When you think that the competing teams in the full-game shows cut up an average of over $120,000 each Saturday the sponsors shelled out $50,000 a game for the panoramas, you can see how much TV can mean to a school.

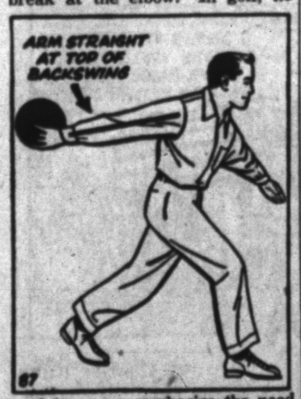

The present plan calls for Army, Navy, Pittsburgh, Penn State, West Virginia and Syracuse to form he league. If Army and Navy don't come in, the guys pushing the plan would consider Colgate and Rutgers, but they're wooing the academies by offering a flexible football program that would let those two play their usual national schedules.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Short Backswing.

Forces Elbow Break—A key point in Hank Marino's teaching is the need of a straight arm. No break at the elbow. In golf, he explains, pros emphasize the need of a firm left arm to keep a right-handed player's swing grooved.

In bowling, the right arm must be straight. Kink it on the way back and you shorten the swing, forcing an elbow break. What happens? Timing goes off. Lack of swing causes ball to be thrown, jerked, out of control. "You can't hit the target board of the spot, whichever system you use," says Marino, and proves it to his pupils.

As sketch shows, arm must be straight-in-line at end of backswing as third step is taken." Allow the ball to swing back dead weight," Marino advises. "Concentrate on it. If anything, develop a long swing rather than a short, choppy one."

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—Central Michigan finally crossed the won-lost border for a 6-5 season recorded by sinking a University of Mexico basketball team 66-40.

Central went ahead 24 to 18 at the half and went on to hand the touring club from south of the U.S. border its 11th loss against one win.

Albion Licks Adrian, Ties for 2nd in MIAA

ADRIAN (AP)—Albion college tied Hope for 2nd place in the MIAA basketball race last night with a 72-60 win over Adrian.

Albion was ahead 37-22 at the half when Adrian began to hit the basket. Adrian pulled to within six points midway in the 4th period before Albion poured on the steam and pulled away again.

Hal Boyle Says:

Hard-Hitting Sen. Green Is Still Pace-Setter at 86

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anybody for tennis?

Well, Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island is. At 86 Green, the oldest U.S. Senator, says tennis is still his best sport—and he prefers to play singles.

"But it is hard to find a good opponent," he complained mildly.

"I got out on the court only once last year."

The Senator hates to miss his tennis because that leaves him only one other athletic exercise—swimming.

"I have given up high diving and wrestling, which was my second favorite sport," he said, "and I just never seem to find the time to go mountain climbing any more.

"I'm interested in too many things—that's my trouble. I like to wander in so many alleys of life. I feel I ought to read this, or do that. I'm curious about everything. I don't know whether it's a good habit or a bad one."

Green, a gray-mustached little man with the spirit of a thrifty cricket, is in many ways the most unusual member of the Senate. Descendant of a three-centuries-old New England Yankee family, he is a New Deal Democrat, a bachelor, and one of the five wealthiest senators. Yet he walks 2½ miles to his office every morning, and usually takes a bus or trolley car home.

Few men in Congress can match his active social life—"I rarely dine alone"—and few have traveled abroad more widely on official missions. A younger congressman who made one trip with him said.

"He wears us out. He's up early and late—and always as fresh as a daisy."

Green, who recently returned from visiting 13 South American countries, likes to eat native dishes wherever he goes.

"I love to meet people and get to know them," he said, "and the best way to get people to accept you as one of them is to follow their customs."

The senator, who began his career here in his 70th year, rarely makes speeches, but is meticulously busy in committee activities, where the real work of Congress is done.

"The Senate is his life," said Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader. "He is one of the wisest men here, but very firm of principle. When it is time for a position to be taken, you won't find Sen. Green heading for the door. And you never have any trouble locating him if a close vote is coming up.

"He is younger than many a man of 60."

Green feels that one way to retain a youthful outlook is to have both an indoor hobby and an outdoor hobby.

"My present indoor hobby—my latest and last love—is Chinese paintings," he said. "But I have collected things all my life, from stamps and shells and seaweeds to etchings and books on Rhode Island history."

Interesting items in his past collections: a piece of the Atlantic cable, a bottle of water from the River Jordan, and a glove he wore as a boy when he shook hands with President Rutherford B. Hayes.

"Unfortunately, I shook hands with Hayes with my right hand but found later I had saved the left hand glove," he said. "It seemed quite a tragedy to me when I first discovered my mistake—but I have gotten over it."

President Hayes died in 1893.

Sen. Green, who once taught Roman law at Brown University, has a long view of history and is optimistic about the future.

"There is a threat to the world in the conflict between liberal and reactionary forces," he said, "but I think the liberal forces will prevail.

"Things may not be as efficient in some ways under a Democracy as under another form of government, but the people are happier. And that's the test. The world is progressing. It is a wonderful thing merely to be alive in it and to have a chance to help make it better."

The senator takes with wry aplomb his reputation of still being one of the capital's most eligible bachelors.

"Is it because of my sweet disposition," he asked with a cricket grin, "or because I could pay a wife's bills?"

Grains Buoyed by Red Wheat

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains fought their way higher against some pretty heavy opposition on the board of trade today. Dealings were active in all pits.

Demand was stimulated by such items as large shipments of red wheat from Chicago and a government inquiry for soybean oil. Selling in wheat and soybeans came mainly from day to day traders who had small profits following yesterday's upturn.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to ¾ cent higher, March $2.13⅜, corn ¼ to ⅜ higher, March $1.52½, oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, March 79½, rye unchanged to ½ higher, March $1.20½, soybeans unchanged to 1¾ higher, January $3.09½, and lard five to 28 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $16.10.

Investment Club Has Guest Night

Oakland Study Group Entertains Wives With Stock Study Program

The Oakland County Investment Study Club, one of 12 in Pontiac, held a unique meeting last night at the Hotel Waldron.

The members, many of whom are employes of GMC Truck and Coach, gathered for dinner and entertained their wives with a typical program analyzing stocks.

C. R. Hobart and W. P. Mallory, both of Pontiac, and G. W. J. Linton of the local Watling, Lerchen and Co. stock brokerage office, gave short talks explaining the history of this club, some facts about the stock exchange, and the broker's relation to his clients.

Elmer C. Rosenberg, president of the club, introduced the members who analyzed four new stocks, all of which were firms manufacturing household equipment and foods (in deference to the feminine guests).

The club is only three years old, but already has an investment total of $3,904, with a total of 221 shares in 21 different companies. These companies represent 12 varied types of American industry.

Stocks Quicken at Noon Hour

NEW YORK (AP)—Trading picked up speed today as the Stock Market advanced moderately.

Stocks moved narrowly at the start and became quiet after the opening rush cleared.

Just before lunch, however, the market pace quickened as prices moved ahead—a development that is considered bullish.

Gains ran to around a point at the best, Despite the rise, however, many small minus signs remained in the list.

General Motors gained a point on the news that a billion dollar expansion program is planned for the next two years.

The increase in trading interest sent the pace up to around yesterday's 1,580,000 shares or a little under.

Nelson Manufacturing Corp. recently completed a reorganization program made necessary by increasing demand for its product.

The corporation's building and real estate were sold to Edward E. Wilson of Birmingham with a long term lease-back provision included in the deal. Wilson also purchased an interest in the corporation and was made a director. Roy Annett Inc. handled the transaction.

Corporation officers were not changed by the reorganization, and are T. Edward Nelson, president and general manager; Robert S. Nelson, vice president; and Roland E. Larson, secretary and treasurer.

The board of directors consists of Victor E. Nelson, T. Edward nelson, Robert S. Nelson, Edward E. Wilson, and Joseph N. Monaghan who also acts as the corporation's legal advisor.

An increased demand for Nelson products, which are used in power steering devices and air conditioning units, is given as the reason for the corporation's need for additional working capital.

AN OPEN LETTER TO ARTHRITIS SUFFERERS
Route 9, Box 372
Kalamazoo, Michigan
August 22, 1953
O-Jib-Wa Medicine Company,
2102 S. Saginaw Street
Flint 3, Michigan
Gentlemen:
After five years, I feel impelled to write you telling of my experiences with O-Jib-Wa Bitters. In August 1948, I was hanging up clothes, when out of a clear sky, I was suddenly attacked with pain so severe in my spine that I was doubled up. This pain continued unabated for the next 10 days and nothing even relieved it. By that time I could do nothing; couldn't walk or even sit up. I was almost out of my mind with pain.
Finally I went to the hospital for x-rays and for treatments. It was diagnosed as acute rheumatoid arthritis of the spine. After 10 days of torture in the hospital, I was told to go home as they could do nothing for me.
By that time, I had suffered 20 days of the most excruciating pain anyone could imagine, and no hope of ever being free of it. I had a home and a baby to care for, so I sunk in despair. The day after I came home from the hospital, my husband saw your ad in the Kalamazoo Gazette and asked me if I would like to try some O-Jib-Wa. I said, I would try anything. I started taking it the same day and in 10 days the pain was gone, and by the end of the second week, I was completely well.
Now and then, however, the pain comes back to me, so I always keep a bottle of O-Jib-Wa in the house, and as soon as the pain comes back, I start taking it. There is something in O-Jib-Wa Bitters that I need, but what? Anyway, it helps me and I am eternally thankful for it.
Sincerely,
Hilda Simons

3 Pleading Guilty in Larceny Case

Girl Is Expecting Child; 4th Person Will Face Marine Officers

Three persons charged with larceny from a building by Pontiac Police pleaded guilty when arraigned Monday before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick. A fourth companion was turned over to U.S. Marine officers to face AWOL charges.

Mrs. Betty Marie Shubert, 21, an expectant mother who rooms at 75 Thorpe St.; her husband, William Shubert, 20, of 145 W. Wilson Ave.; and Doyle R. Goff, 19, of 29 Hillsdale Dr., will be sentenced Feb. 11. They were returned to Oakland County Jail after arraignment.

Pfc. Richard Inglesbee, 22, of 806 Orlando Ave., was turned over to Marine Corps authorities.

Mrs. Shubert told police she has been lifting merchandise from stores in Pontiac since her husband stopped supporting her in December. All four were arrested Jan. 12 when a downtown merchant told police one of the group was in his store trying to refund stolen merchandise.

Gas Station Robbed 10th Time in Year

A breakin last night at the McKibben Super Service station at 8145 Commerce Rd., Commerce Township, brought to 10 the number of burglaries there during the past 12 months.

Paul McKibben of 3115 Massena, Commerce Township, the owner, said thieves smashed in the front door and escaped with $1 in pennies from the cash register.

"Last summer we had a siege of breakins out here and police caught some kids from Walled Lake who admitted the burglaries, so I don't think it is the same ones every time," McKibbon said.

Teenagers, McKibben believes, are responsible for the breakins and are more of a nuisance than anything else. "The largest amount taken on any one breakin was $35 when the thieves found my cash box," McKibben said.

Parking Space Rented by City at Ex-Market

Pontiac has rented about 55 of 71 parking spaces in the former County-City Market, 40 Mill St., according to City Finance Director Oscar Eckman.

An attendent is allotting spaces at $10 per month, Eckman said. Hours are from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m., with no overnight or Sunday parking allowed, he added.

1.3 Million Farmers, Ranchers

Soil Conservation Practice at All-Time High in U.S.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Soil conservation practices are on the upsurge across the nation and more permanent improvements were made on farms in the year ending last June 30 than in any year in history.

The Soil Conservation Service, in a report on fiscal year 1953, said a sharp increase was registered in the number of farmers and ranchers who were given technical and other assistance.

There was a corresponding jump in the number of those who did conservation work on their own.

At the end of the fiscal year there were 2,549 soil conservation districts in the United States and these districts covered about 87 percent of all farms and ranches in the nation.

The report added that 1,300,000 farmers and ranchers actively cooperated with their districts during the 12-month period and indicated that conservation work will be stepped up further.

The SCS made greatest headway in assisting with watershed — or upstream — conservation measures.

Before Congress now is legislation which would establish a long-range watershed program for the nation. This is in keeping with President Eisenhower's pledge to "strengthen agricultural conservation and upstream flood prevention work, and to achieve a better balance with major flood control structures in the downstream areas."

Both houses of Congress have the watershed legislation high on their agendas for this session.

Jewelry, Cash Stolen in Restaurant Breakin

Elders Restaurant at 565 S. Saginaw St., was broken into last night and $200 in costume jewelry was stolen along with an unestimated amount of money from a box, according to Pontiac police.

The breakin was discovered by Burl Mapley, 32 W. Brooklyn St., when he was making a delivery of baked goods to the restaurant this morning. Police said entrance to the building was gained by breaking a front window. The restaurant is owned by Harry Elder, 2295 Bedford Rd.

'WRITES' MICHIGAN LAWS—Mrs. Frances Royce is about the busiest person around the state capitol in Lansing right now. She "writes" most of our state's laws. Mrs. Royce is chief of the bill-drafting section of the Legislative Service Bureau. When a legislator has an idea that he wants to make a law he goes to Mrs. Royce for the "writing."

Woman Asked If Woman Could Handle Presidency

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

WASHINGTON (INS) — It took a woman to pop the question at the latest press conference, about a woman becoming president of the U.S.A., and I've just asked her how she came to do it.

"Did you plan it in advance," I said, "or blurt it out on the spur of the moment?"

"A little of both,' she said. "Call its a sense of showmanship. The idea popped into my head a couple of days back, when I read about somebody asking Harry Truman the same thing, but then it popped right out again, and I clean forgot about it."

She's Hazel Markel, of the Mutual Broadcasting System, the only woman in Washington with a coast-to-coast radio program as a news comentator, and she's also president of the Women's Press Club.

Having reminded President Eisenhower that the ex-president had said it was possible, she ~~tactfully asked, 'I wonder, after a year in your office, conceded to be~~ the hardest job in the world, if you think it possible a woman might handle these arduous duties?"

President Eisenhower remarked that this subject could make for interesting conversation, and the crowded conference laughed expectantly.

He knew no reason, the President went on, why a woman's brain and heart couldn't be used in the presidency, but that out of his deep respect for woman's intelligence, and his admiration for their many other qualities, he might conclude thay had too much sense to want the job.

After our talk, I checked back to find out exactly how ex-President Truman had handled this ticklish little query.

"There isn't any doubt," he's reported as saying, "but what a woman would make a good president. The make good senators, good members of the House of Representatives, and have held other important offices in the government of the United States."

"Nice going," lots of women must secretly feel as they read either of the two replies. But just the same, I'm sure many new generations will be born before any fond parent leans down over a crib and coos to an infant daughter, "Darling, maybe you'll grow up to be president of your country."

It's Cold World for Californian in Wintry East

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rex Tinsley surrendeed to police in New York last week with the statement that he was cold and wanted to come back to sunny California, even though he would have to face the music for taking $368 from the Hollywood Egyptian Theater. He added that he has spent the $368.

"If Tinsley wants to come back, let him make his own way," Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll told newsmen yesterday. "Why should the taxpayers have to spend the money to send a detective to New York to bring him back?

"Let him shiver a while."
