Red Industry, Agriculture to Get Shake-Up

Learn From Capitalist, K Tells Committee in Long Harangue

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev today ordered a drastic shake-up of Soviet industry and agriculture to spur production of all kinds of goods, and told his Communist party it must "learn from the capitalists."

Khrushchev told the powerful 175-member Communist party Central Committee the primary emphasis would continue to be on heavy industry—and presumably armaments—rather than consumer goods.

But he stressed new efforts to put more food and other consumer goods in Soviet shops.

The program was laid down in a long speech to the committee's special meeting on industry and agricultural reorganization.

Its major recommendation called for tightening of party control over all phases of production.

Khrushchev also told the central committee the Soviet Union should take a thoughtful look at what makes profits for the capitalist in the West.

"There was a time—I mean in the period of the personality cult (a phrase meaning the Stalin era) —when the idea was sedulously fostered that everything that is ours is unreservedly ideal, and everything that is foreign is equally bad," Khrushchev said.

"We should remember Lenin's injunction to be able, if necessary, to learn from the capitalists, to imitate the good and the profitable they have."

Khrushchev proposed two party organizations, one for control of industry, the other for agriculture.

The party should create, he said, organizations paralleling those of specific industries from "top to bottom," to unite all party members of any given industry.

He proposed that the number of regional economic councils and farm production directorates be reduced and consolidated.

Reds Force Withdrawal

2 Critical Indian Posts Taken

NEW DELHI (AP) — Chinese Communist troops, 20,000 strong, overran Se Pass and the next Indian defense position at the eastern end of the fighting front today.

The Reds now stand only 25 miles from the populous Indian Plains of Assam.

The Chinese outflanked the defenders at 13,756-foot Se Pass and forced the Indian withdrawal to Bomdila, 60 miles to the southeast on the next ridge of an Indian-built road running to Tezpur on the Assam Plains.

The next possible defense position, perhaps the only one, is at a place called Eagle's Nest on a range crossed by a road 9,300 feet up.

Prime Minister Nehru announced the fall of Bomdila. As he did so the British High Commission in New Delhi made plans to evacuate approximately 1,500 British subjects in Assam, mostly tea planters and families.

Royal Air Force planes may have to be used to evacuate the planters because India's own transport system's strained rushing troops to the battle fronts.

Nehru's announcement of the loss of Bomdila was made a few hours after the loss of Se Pass was reported.

The loss of the pass came as the Chinese Communists, attacking in waves, pressed their renewed offensive at both ends of the 1,500-mile frontier stretching from Burma to Kashmir.

At the eastern end of the battle line, the Chinese posed a separate threat to the Assam plains in an advance of 12 miles from the key defense post of Walong, which they captured Friday. Walong lies some 300 miles east of Se Pass.

Gaullists Triumph Over Old Line Rivals

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today emerged from the first round of the National Assembly elections with a new and resounding victory over France's old line political parties.

The Gaullist Union for a New Republic UNR, with a one-plank platform of unswerving loyalty to De Gaulle, displaced the Communists as France's strongest political party.

The UNR won 50 of the 104 seats decided Sunday and led in 134 of the 369 districts of metropolitan France where runoffs will be held next Sunday.

The party's share of the popular vote nearly doubled, from 17.5 per cent in 1958 to 31.9 per cent.

Although Interior Minister Roger Frey predicted the UNR would wind up with a majority in the 481-member assembly this appeared unlikely.

Even if it won all the runoffs in the races in which its candidates led, it would still be about 60 short of a majority.

But the Gaullists were expected to draw enough support from segments of the Popular Republicans MRP, the Independents and the Radical Socialists to form the next government.

Alone among the old parties, the Communists registered a gain—a slight one—in voting percentages, 21.78.

★ ★ ★

Berlin General to Be Replaced

JFK Praises Watson, Reveals Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy announced today that Maj. Gen. James H. Polk will replace Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II as commander of U.S. military forces in Berlin in January.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy praised Watson for "an outstanding job" and said he will be promoted to lieutenant general.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the change holds no significance as far as the situation in Berlin is concerned. He described it as "a normal change in military command."

Watson has commanded U.S. forces in Berlin and served as U.S. representative in negotiations with Allied and Soviet commanders on problems arising in the divided city since May 1961.

In announcing that Kennedy has approved a recess appointment to three-star rank, the White House said Watson will become commander of the 3rd Army at Ft. McPherson, Ga.

In that capacity he will succeed Gen. Thomas J. H. Trapnell, who is retiring.

Polk is now commanding general of the 4th Armored Division, part of the U.S. Army in Europe.

He will be assigned to the Berlin command the first of next month, the White House said, and will succeed Watson as commander in January.

Free Parking Site Is Leased

Shoppers Can Use Old Courthouse Spot

The Downtown Pontiac Business Association today leased Oakland County's old courthouse site for a free parking lot.

Max Adams, Chamber of Commerce manager and director of the association, said the cleared site would be resurfaced and ready for use by Christmas shoppers.

Space for approximately 100 cars will be provided in the centrally-located lot.

Work in converting the site at Saginaw and Huron streets into a parking lot will begin immediately, Adams said.

According to terms of the lease, the downtown merchants' group will have the use of the county property for six months unless it should be sold at anytime by the county.

In the event it is sold during the period of leasing, 10 days notice to vacate will be given.

PLAN RULES

Another stipulation by the county is that free parking will not be limited to shoppers alone but also will include those persons doing business with downtown offices.

The lot, however, isn't intended for use by employes or

Expect Another Frosty Night in Pontiac Area

A chilly 25, the second lowest temperature recording for the season, hit the Pontiac area this morning. On Oct. 26 the mercury was 24, the low for this fall.

Mostly cloudy skies will blanket the Pontiac area through tomorrow. The weatherman predicts a low of 30 tonight and a high of 43 on Tuesday.

Today's winds are variable and mostly southwesterly at 5 to 15 miles per hour.

At 2 p. m. the thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac was 40.

U.S. Hopes for Answer Soon on Removal of Cuban Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told the Soviet Union that it hopes to have a satisfactory answer about withdrawal of Russian bombers from Cuba today or tomorrow, State Department authorities said today.

★ ★ ★

This word was given by U. S. negotiator John J. McCloy to Soviet representative Vasily Kuznetsov in New York yesterday afternoon, the authorities said.

As of yet, the authorities added, the United States has not yet received a satisfactory answer from the Soviets on removal of some 30 IL28 bombers.

President Kennedy says the jet craft must be pulled out as part of a Cuba settlement.

DETAILS WITHHELD

A White House spokesman said a report from McCloy, head of the U.S. Coordinating Committee on Cuban Policy, on his talks with Kuznetsoz figured in an hour's meeting Kennedy had today with the executive committee of the National Security Council.

The White House released no word on the nature of the report.

But State Department informants reported that McCloy told Kuznetsov forcefully that the negotiations on a Cuba settlement could not make progress until the bombers are pulled out.

Kuznetsov gave what U.S. authorities described as a confused, evasive and unsatisfactory answer. Thus the negotiations remained deadlocked.

And, informants said, there is no indication as yet that the Soviets are crating up the craft for shipment back to Russia. Approximately 30 are believed to be in Cuba.

State Department press officer Lincoln White declined to make a public statement on the outcome of the Kuznetsov-McCloy meeting which lasted most of yesterday afternoon.

State Department authorities said, however, that it would certainly be helpful from their standpoint if the Russians would supply a clear-cut answer on the bombers by the time of Kennedy's news conference scheduled for 6 p.m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow.

TO SERVE AS REPORT

They said they hoped to have a Russian answer soon—today or tomorrow—and this was communicated to Kuznetsov.

Reid to Seek Recount Fund

Wayne Official Count Cuts Lesinski's Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Incumbent Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, apparent re-election winner Nov. 6, lost part of his statewide vote lead today and Republican challenger Clarence Reid said he desired a recount.

A recount request presumably would be up to the Republican party state leadership, however.

Reid said flatly he would seek a recount but that it would be a question of financing.

The Wayne County official canvass, announced today, cut slightly into Lesinski's prior lead in official and unofficial results reported to the Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

The new statewide vote total was: Lesinski 1,338,072; Reid 1,334,855.

Reid stated his feelings immediately upon learning of the Wayne results.

"I am determined," Reid said, "to go after the recount. It's only a matter of financing."

The official Wayne County canvass gave Lesinski 382 more votes and Reid 545 more.

The official Wayne vote: Lesinski 599,901, Reid 340,912.

The prior unofficial count for overall Wayne County had been Lesinski 599,519, Reid 340,367.

Walkout Date to Be Set Today for Lockheed

Machinists Vote 3-1 for Strike Against Aircraft Firm

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) —An International Association of Machinists (IAM) negotiating committee was to set a strike date today for a walkout against Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Some 8,000 IAM members met yesterday at Valley College stadium in Van Nuys and voted three-to-one for the strike.

Approximately 80 per cent of the other 7,000 members at Lockheed Space and Missile facilities at Van Nuys, Sunnyvale and Vandenberg Air Force Base also voted to strike, a union spokesman reported.

Results from balloting in Honolulu and Cape Canaveral were not completed, but the IAM spokesman said they were expected to follow suit.

The union last week broke off negotiations in Washington, D.C., over a union shop clause and wage and work condition issues.

The spokesman said the union would have to give Lockheed a five-day termination of contract notice before a walkout could occur, and explained, "This gives time for additional bargaining."

The walkout would affect both Lockheed - California Co. and Lockheed's Space and Missile Division which manufactures the Agena B booster used in space probes such as the Samos, Midas and Discoverer satellites as well as the Polaris missile.

Two previous strike dates had been set by the union in the drawn out negotiations, but one was canceled on the request of President Kennedy and the other after a plea from Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz.

The Defense Department stepped into the dispute Saturday and hinted some defense contracts might be withdrawn from Lockheed if agreement cannot be reached and a strike ensues.

★ ★ ★

Department officials did not spell out their plans, but said they were "considering whether alternate means of production can be used."

Pontiac Sends Protest

Hit Fluoride at Hearing

Pontiac was not officially represented at today's fluoridation hearing before the Detroit Common Council, but its antifluoride resolution was to be there.

The City Commission's resolution had been sent both to the Detroit Water Board and the Common Council by Pontiac City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Detroit water will be used in Pontiac's water system in early summer of 1963.

The Detroit Common Council started a public hearing at 10 a.m. today on whether or not to fluoridate its water.

The Detroit lawmakers planned at least a four-hour session to make an attempt at arriving at some agreement on the fluoridation subject.

One of the chief factions at the meeting will be composed of residents of 60 suburban communities that receive water from the Detroit system.

Aside from their individual interest in the thorny question of water fluoridation, many suburbanites feel that because they pay income tax to the city, they should have more to say when city spending involves them directly.

Most cities and townships have refused to take a definite stand on the fluoridation issue.

A notable exception is Pontiac, where residents seven years ago adopted a referendum prohibiting fluoridation.

May Ask Probe by Grand Jury

Rackets Investigated in Royal Oak Township

A petition for a grand jury investigation of illegal activities in Royal Oak Township may be the result of current investigations in the township, according to Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

The prosecutor's office and Michigan State Police have been conducting a program of intensive investigation of gambling, illegal liquor sales, bribery and prostitution for the last seven months, Taylor said.

"We do not yet have sufficient evidence to file a petition for a grand jury," he said. "We feel we can accomplish more by taking each individual case."

A number of arrests and convictions may provide impressive evidence toward justification of a grand jury probe, Taylor indicated.

The investigations have so far resulted in the arrests of Police Lt. Annial Ruffin, 41, on Oct. 5, and township trustee Ernest Wilson on Oct. 30.

Ruffin is awaiting Circuit Court trial on charges of extortion, bribery and conspiracy to obstruct justice. He is accused of taking bribes to permit gambling in the township, specifically of taking $25 a month for two years from a numbers operator.

Wilson is awaiting examination on a five-count charge of extortion, conspiracy and bribery. He is accused of being involved in numerous payoffs or attempted payoffs ranging from $25 biweekly to a lump sum of $800.

One of the five counts charges he demanded a kickback from James F. Eaton, the township's urban renewal program director.

Wilson will appear for examination before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Wilson last week filed suit for a change of venue from the Farmington Township court to Royal Oak Township justice court. But at a Circuit Court hearing this morning, Wilson agreed to appear before Ingle as long as the hearing took place in Royal Oak Township.

At the time of Wilson's arrest, Taylor said it was part of a "planned procedure to clean up the township."

Taylor said, "a lot of good people in Royal Oak Township have been demanding something be done. We are getting better cooperation from the citizens there than ever before."

Another result of the investigations so far has been a $200,000 slander suit in Circuit Court by Royal Oak Township Justice Lonnie C. Cash against Trooper John Aird of the Redford State Police Post.

MSUO Budget Bid Envisions Expansion

By RALPH P. HUMMEL

A bigger university for more students — that's the reason for the gleam in the eye of Michigan State University Oakland officials when they speak of their 1963-64 budget request.

Their plans include a new classroom building, a campus theater, more teachers and an enlarged campus library.

For the next academic year, MSUO is asking for an increase of $403,004 in 1963-64 over this year's state appropriations. That would mean a total tax bite of $1,922,400 in the coming fiscal year.

The total budget — partly made up of student fees — will add up to $2,395,400.

Most of the requested appropriations increase reflects the need for more teachers to teach more students in more space, explains MSUO Financial Director Robert W. Swanson.

There are 1,500 students expected next fall. That's 241 more than the current 1,259 enrolled.

To give them an education, there is a need for four extra teachers, five professional nonacademic employes and three clerks, Swanson says.

FOR PAYROLL

Together these 12 additions to the salaried personnel payroll will mean an increase of $77,760. Another $31,100 will be added to the labor payroll — for maintenance of newly opened buildings and newly landscaped areas.

Supplies and services — from pencil sharpeners to budgeted scholarships — account for $74,022 in increased costs over this year.

A third area for increases is new equipment items, including $125,000 for basic library books which Chancellor D. B. Varner says are needed to get MSUO "over the hump" in providing students a minimum library stock.

Also, an $11,200 increase is set aside for physical plant and grounds-keeping equipment and $48,000 for furniture for new staff. So much for increases over last year, says Swanson.

For the total budget, the breakdown of major cost items looks like this:

Salaried personnel —$1,447,972.
Labor personnel — $244,798.
Supplies and services—$415,822.
New equipment — $286,808.

To the passerby — the motorist on Walton Boulevard — the budget requests will mean easily visible changes in the face of MSUO.

The water tower, whose bold lettering "Meadow Brook Farms" recalls MSUO's heritage and land donors, is bound to grow.

TOWER TO EXPAND

It will be higher and bulkier with its expansion from a present capacity of 60,000 gallons to 90,000 gallons — provided MSUO gets $35,000 from the state.

By the fall of 1965, the campus may boast of a new $2-million classroom-office building to hold an expanding population, says Swanson.

For next year, officials seek only $80,000 to go ahead with architectural plans. No request for construction money has yet been made, since present buildings can take care of the present enrollment.

* * *

A final decision on when the building will be put up will be made when enrollment justifies it.

A former Meadow Brook Farms structure, called the Belgian Barn, may be remodeled into a small theater seating 400 —also usable as a small auditorium or lecture hall. For remodeling, $100,000 has been included.

Another $150,000 has been planned for extension of major campus roadways; while $10,000 would support a preliminary study on possible future construction of a central power plant.

* * *

The power plant might produce MSUO's own electricity as well as providing heat.

Broomfield Upset Over Soviet Tour

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Michigan congressmen, ending a four-day visit to the Soviet Union, complained yesterday that Russia's Intourist organization had kept them so occupied with showplaces such as museums and theaters they hadn't got a chance to see what they wanted to see.

"They wouldn't even let us see a collective farm," said Rep. William S. Broomfield, (R-Oakland). "But they made certain we saw the Bolshoi Theater."

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, a Traverse City Republican, joined Broomfield in the complaint about what they were allowed to see.

Griffin went to a Baptist Church Sunday and found it "jam packed," but reported the congregation consisted mostly of older people.

FOUR ON TOUR

The Michigan congressmen are among four on a European tour as members of the subcommittee on Europe of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. They arrived in Russia Thursday from Germany and left yesterday for Poland.

Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., expressed surprise at the music being played and the prices being charged in Moscow.

"We went to the Praga Restaurant Saturday night," Monagan said, "and about all we heard were arrangements of American songs. I guess this is an indirect compliment to the United States."

Of a trip to Moscow's biggest department store GUM, Monagan said:

* * *

"We were quite surprised to hear 'Ave Maria' coming over GUM's loudspeakers. A pair of good boots costs 70 rubles. I understand the average industrial wage is only about 90 rubles a month."

commuters who might be tempted to park their cars free all day.

Adams said some controls would be instigated to preclude such a use.

The lease is costing the association the nominal fee of $1 and is subject to renewal.

The lease was signed by Adams and county auditors, acting on the authority of the County Board of Supervisors.

* * *

John Austin, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, said the county is "glad to help keep the downtown shopping area alive."

Leasing the site for a free parking lot has the blessing of the City Commission, which felt that it couldn't enter into such a lease itself.

To do so would jeopardize bond issues sold to finance city-owned meter lots, commissioners decided.

Top Physicist Is Dead at 77

Dr. Niels Bohr Second Only to Einstein

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Dr. Niels Bohr, one of the century's leading nuclear physicists, is dead at 77.

* * *

He was stricken by a heart attack Sunday and died in his Copenhagen home.

* * *

Bohr, an absent-minded professor admired by scholars for his inspiring influence, generally was ranked second only to the late Albert Einstein among physicists of the 20th century.

* * *

"Our greatest living physicist has died," said Dr. Hans Bethe, who worked with Bohr on the development of the atomic bomb in the United States. Bethe of Ithaca, N.Y., said Bohr's death "leaves a void which nobody can fill."

* * *

Similar tributes came from Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission; Sir John Cockcraft, the leading British atomic scientist- Japanese Nobel Prize-winner Hideki Yukawa, and other leading scientists.

* * *

Bohr at the age of 28 pioneered exploration of the atom on problems that had puzzled many scientists.

* * *

His explanation in 1913 of theoretical relationships in the energy of atoms was the first in a series of analyses that won him a Nobel Prize in 1922. In 1936 he expounded his theory of nuclear reaction that explained experiments by other physicists on the interaction of the neutron and the nucleus of the atom.

Wants Rec Expansion Considered at Quarton

BIRMINGHAM — Expanded recreational facilities for the northwest area of the city should be considered at the Quarton School site rather than on city property along the Rouge River, according to Donald Martin, recreation director.

Martin, in a report to be submitted to the city commission tonight, said he was not in favor of a proposal to develop the small city-owned parcel on Lakeside Street because its size does not lend itself to the type of facilities needed in that part of the city.

He noted that the comprehensive development plan study for recreation and community facilities, however, shows the elementary school site as serving the neighborhood recreational needs for this area.

* * *

The plan was prepared by Vilican-Leman and Associates.

There is enough undeveloped area at the school site, Martin said, to accommodate two tennis courts or a combination of tennis, basketball, volleyball, badminton courts and skating area.

Maintenance costs would be less because that area is currently serviced by the recreation board, he added.

"A grouping of recreation facilities adjacent to schools is consistent with recommended planning concepts," Martin said.

Martin had been asked to make recommendations on the possible development of the Lakeside property by City Manager L. R. Gare.

Other reasons given by Martin for not favoring the Lakeside property were:

1. It does not serve a functional purpose as a passive or natural recreation area.

2. Constructing single, isolated recreation units on small areas throughout the city increases maintenance costs and lessens the possibilities for supervision and programing.

High Court to Rule on the Agency Shop

The court announced it will review two cases presenting the issue.

JFK Aide, Red Have Long Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — John J. McCloy went to Sunday lunch as the guest of Premier Khrushchev's top negotiator on the Cuban crisis — and stayed five hours.

McCloy, chairman of President Kennedy's Coordinating Committee of Cuba, and Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuzentsov met at the Russians' secluded country house on Long Island.

McCloy tried to play down the luncheon date — set up as he returned from high level talks in Washington Friday. Asked whether the meeting was arranged to deal with getting Soviet IL28 medium-range bombers out of Cuba, he told a reporter.

"Oh, no. I just came down for a social visit."

McCloy took his wife and son, John, along but the atmosphere was hardly all social.

Dem Senator, 74, Dies

New Mexico Mourns Chavez' Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The body of Sen. Dennis Chavez was to be returned to his native New Mexico today to lie in state in the capitol in Santa Fe.

The veteran Democrat died yesterday of a heart attack brought on by cancer of the neck. He was 74.

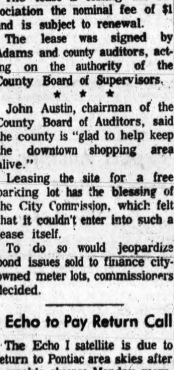
He died in Georgetown Hospital, where he had been since Nov. 7 for treatment of a virus injection. The infection had been cured, and hospital officials had planned to release him yesterday.

Chavez was a liberal, particularly on civil rights matters. He was appointed to the senate in 1935 to fill the unexpired term of Sen. Bronson Cutting, who had defeated him in 1934 at the polls. Chavez was elected in 1936 and never again lost an election.

His body was to be taken to Santa Fe today, where it will be met by an honor guard of National Guard and state policemen.

The body will lie in state in the senate chamber of the state capitol all day tomorrow.

The body was to be taken to Albuquerque late tomorrow for funeral services.



SEN. DENNIS CHAVEZ

An ardent supported of the New Frontier, Chavez stumped the Southwest for President Kennedy, particularly among Spanish-speaking people.

As chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee and of the appropriations subcommittee on defense expenditures, Chavez helped push through billions of dollars in federal outlays.

He felt that the government should be willing to send a lot of money to get what it needed—particularly national defense.

Chavez had a strong hand in New Mexico politics. He campaigned this year for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Jack Campbell, who won the governorship from the Republicans.

But Campbell does not take office until Jan. 1, so Chavez' successor will be named by the Republican incumbent, Gov. Edwin L. Mechem.

Murder Gang Enters Caracas Night School

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — The murder of a high-school teacher before the eyes of his mathematics class touched off demands today for a purge of Communists from Venezuela's school system.

Teacher Jose Damian Ramirez, the father of seven children, was fatally beaten and shot Thursday night, reportedly by a Communist gang terrorizing a downtown Caracas night school.

Students of the slain teacher said the gang burst into the classroom and ordered Ramirez to suspend classes in commemoration of the first anniversary of the death of a terrorist shot while attempting to burn a bus.

Ramirez was killed when he refused.

Authorities obtained a warrant to enter the autonomous Central University of Venezuela and arrested Jorge Ramon Villalobos Anez, 22, who was charged with the murder.

OFF LIMITS

The university, like many in Latin America, is traditionally off-limits to law enforcement bodies.

Villalobos, who graduated last year from the school where Ramirez taught, was identified as a member of the Communist-line movement of the Revolutionary left (MIR).

Police searched Villalobos' room in a dormitory known as "Stalingrad" and said they found radio equipment, hand grenades, a pistol which ballistics experts said was used in the slaying, and a supply of bullets.

The Democratic Action Teachers Union, linked to the party of President Romulo Betancourt, said in a statement that the murder of Ramirez "constitutes the culmination of acts unleashed in obedience to instructions issued in Havana."

Police were seeking a university professor who reportedly tried to help the murder suspect escape.

Our Thanksgiving Barely Echoes 1st Religious Themes

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Thanksgiving Day, which is coming up this week, is often described as a uniquely American institution.

It is, in the sense that no other country observes such a national holiday.

★ ★ ★

But the custom of holding a special harvest festival to return thanks to God did not originate in America.

The Bible-reading Pilgrims borrowed the whole idea from ancient Israel.

The story of the real "First Thanksgiving" is to be found in the 10th and 26th chapters of the Old Testament book of Deuteronomy. They record the detailed instructions which Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the promised land.

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

HOW TO CELEBRATE

Moses was explicit about the manner in which the children of Israel were to show their gratitude.

"You shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you harvest," he said, "and you shall put it in a basket . . ."

The basket was to be taken to the altar of God's house for dedication. Its contents were then to be distributed among widows, orphans and others who had no harvest of their own.

★ ★ ★

The Thanksgiving holiday which Americans will celebrate next Thursday is a far cry from the one which Moses planned more than 3,000 years ago.

We have subtracted a great deal that Moses thought essential, and have added certain things, such as turkey dinners and football games, which he probably would have considered irrelevant to such an occasion.

But one can still detect, in the modern Thanksgiving, at least a faint echo of the original idea that men can best thank God for their blessings by sharing them with others.

During this season, all of America's major religious faiths will be conducting their annual appeals to the public for contributions to overseas relief programs.

Protestants will give to the "Share Our Surplus" drive of Church World Service, which helps to underwrite shipments of U.S. foods to more than 10 million hungry people in 32 countries.

Catholics will donate wearable used clothing, shoes, blankets and bedding supplies for homeless people through the Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection.

Jews will contribute to the world's needy through the United Jewish Appeal.

All of these campaigns have a common theme: "Give thanks by giving."

Moses might not like anything else about the American Thanksgiving of 1962. But he would recognize and approve

7 Would-Be Assassins of Sukarno Executed

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian authorities said Sunday the execution of seven Darul Islam rebels closes the books on the attempted assassination of President Sukarno last May 14.

The Central Army Information Service said the executions were carried out Aug. 16, Sept. 5, Sept. 7 and last Wednesday.

Discuss Princely Pensions

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The growing move to abolish government pensions of the 600-odd princes of old imperial India has reached Parliament in a bill to amend the republic's constitution. It will be taken up at the next session in January.

The patent system was established by Congress on July 4, 1836.

U. S. Moves Nearer Yemen Recognition

CAIRO (UPI) —A move toward U.S. diplomatic recognition to the two-month-old Yemen republic was taken in the Yemeni capital of Sana today, informed diplomatic sources reported here.

They said a message from President Kennedy to Yemeni President Abdullah Sallal was delivered by U.S. Charge d'Affaire Robert Stookey.

* * *

The message reportedly contained a routine request for assurance that the new government, which ousted the monarchy Sept. 26, would honor international commitments.

The sources said that allowing time for Sallal to reply, U.S. recognition should come in two or three days.

Bishops Discuss Mutual Problems in Rome

Vatican Council's Big Achievements Are Intangible

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council entered its sixth week today, the bulk of its tangible work barely begun but considerable intangible achievement to its credit.

With the first recess only three weeks away, the 2,200 prelates here from over the world have produced nothing in the way of decrees.

But if the council were to end today, most sources here agree, it still would go into history as something of a success.

For it has brought non-Catholic observers here for the closest interchurch contacts in Christianity in centuries. And it has given the Roman Catholic bishops themselves an unusual chance to get together, discuss mutual problems and profit from each other's experiences.

The subjects for study, contained in some 70 topics suggested by the world episcopate, have hardly been scratched. The prospect is for council deliberations lasting many more months and possibly years.

In the weeks since Pope John XXIII opened the council in St. Peter's Basilica Oct. 11, the Cardinals, bishops and patriarchs have:

—Spent a week electing members of the council's 10 key commissions. The commissions operate in the manner of legislative committees, studying proposals and suggestions, and revising and recasting projects for presentation to the full sessions.

—Approved a preamble setting the scope for council aims.

— Completed examination of a proposed constitution on liturgy (public worship).

—Started on the second item on the agenda — the question of divine revelation — and plunged directly into a debate on the issue that carries crucial overtones for the future of Christian unity.

* * *

This debate was the first in the council to bring various elements among the bishops into direct conflict. On the one side were conservatives opposed to changes. On the other side were the so-called reformists or progressive groups.

These two factions disputed whether it was wise to bring up once more the Roman Catholic doctrine that both scripture and tradition are sources of the revealed word of God. Protestants maintain that the only source is scripture.

A proposed thesis stating the doctrine caused the flareup. A number of reformists took the view that unless some change was made in the doctrine, it might be better for Christian unity to avoid the question at this time when efforts are multiplying for closer interchurch contracts.

The council steering committee was reported seeking a way to pull the assembly out of the dispute.

E. German OK, Woman Caught

BERLIN (AP)—An East German refugee escaped under gunfire to West Berlin today but his woman companion was wounded and captured.

West Berlin police said Red guards fired about 30 tommy gun shots at the pair as they scrambled through wire fences dividing the city.

The 24-year-old man got through unhurt. The 25-year-old woman appeared to have been hit in the arm by a bullet. Border guards grabbed her as she started to climb through the first of three rows of barbed wire.

* * *

West police also heard eight tommy gun shots on the border with East Germany, near the Glienicker Bridge. Three East German police patrol boats were seen searching a canal on the border with searchlights.

Estimate Fire Caused $200,000 in Damage

DETROIT (AP) — Fire Chief Glenn E. Thom estimated a near-downtown Detroit fire caused $200,000 damage yesterday. It ate the insides out of a pharmaceutical warehouse.

The five-alarm blaze was fought at one time by 120 firemen using 27 pieces of equipment. The warehouse belonged to Monroe Pharmacal Co. and was at 2305 Monroe.

61 Dead, 47 Missing in Ship Collision, Sea Disasters

By The Associated Press

At least 61 persons were dead or missing in a ship collision and other sea disasters that struck over the weekend in Pacific, Atlantic and Mediterranean waters. Another 47 seamen whose ships ran into trouble last week remained unaccounted for.

STORMS HOWLED

Nearly 100 seafarers were rescued from vessels sunk, battered or disabled by howling weekend storms. High waves pounded the coasts of Puerto Rico and Cuba, causing death, injury, and property damage.

The entire 36-man crew of the Japanese gasoline tanker Munakata Maur was presumed killed in a blazing inferno following a collision Sunday with another tanker in a narrow fog-shrouded channel of Tokyo Bay.

Thirty-two bodies had been recovered.

The fire was believed touched off by a barge's funnel sparks dropping on high-octane gasoline leaking from the damaged 1,972-ton Munakata Maru. She carried 950,000 gallons of gasoline.

Three crewmen on two barges caught in the flames also were lost.

THE OTHER SHIP

The 47 persons aboard the 21,634-ton Norwegian tanker Tharald Brovig, the other ship in the collision, were rescued. Ten suffered minor injuries.

The ships crashed and locked 200 yards from shore in Kawasaki Canal 12 miles from Tokyo.

The fire erupted minutes after the crash as a small barge passed nearby. Most of the Japanese seamen were trapped on board their tanker.

ELSEWHERE AT SEA

Elsewhere at sea:

The 11 crewmen of the fishing scalloper Midnight Sun, out of New Bedford, Mass., were unaccounted for after a storm at sea Wednesday. The vessel failed to return to port when due Saturday.

Thirteen Spanish fishermen were presumed drowned in a storm off Spain's north coast Sunday. Their last radioed report said their boat was leaking.

* * *

Five British rescuers and four fishermen perished under a huge wave that capsized their lifeboat Saturday at the harbor entrance to Seaham, Britain. A fifth fisherman was saved. The rescue crew had taken the fishermen off their battered boat.

* * *

A search continued Monday off the Bermuda and North Carolina coasts for five crewmen missing with their 35-foot sailing schooner, the Windfall, since Thursday in a race with another ill-fated schooner from Mystic, Conn., to the Virgin Islands. The other schooner, the Curlew, foundered off Bermuda. Its crew was rescued.

GREEK FREIGHTER

Another search off Bermuda was abandoned for 15 seamen from the Greek freighter Captain George, rocked by an explosion Wednesday. The 25-man crew, unable to contain a fire aboard the explosive-laden ship, took to lifeboats Thursday. Seven were rescued. Three bodies were recovered. Five of the survivors were landed in Philadelphia.

Sixteen of 18 persons from a capsized motorboat were reported missing today by Philippine authorities. The boat overturned Wednesday in the Sulu Archipelago. Fishermen reportedly rescued two persons.

Another rescue in the Far East saved 12 exhausted refugees fleeing Red China in a 14-foot sampan. The sampan, awash in high seas 20 miles off the China coast, sank shortly after a Japanese freighter pulled the refugees aboard Sunday.

CAPTAIN WEEPS

A weeping captain gave the British freighter Ashanti Palm a final salute as she sank in the port of Naples Sunday. A gale ripped the ship from her moorings and battered her against rocks. Capt. Robert Anderson slipped overboard just three minutes before the Ashanti Palm went under with a cargo of cotton. The 46 crew members had been ordered off earlier.

The gale-lashed North Sea sent more than 100 Soviet and Polish trawlers scurrying for shelter off the English Channel port of Folkestone, Britain.

* * *

Off the east coast of Britain, a helicopter Sunday picked up 19 seamen awash in two lifeboats and a fishing boat. The two lifeboats had gone out Saturday to aid the fishing boat Faithful. The crews were unable to make shore in mountainous seas.

* * *

Seven men were taken by breeches buoy from a naval fueling tanker driven on rocks on Britain's north Devon coast.

The 13-man crew on the disabled Canadian freighter East Star were landed at Bermuda and blamed their ship's plight on watered fuel taken aboard in Cuba. Pounded by waves and with bilges clogged by salt in her cargo, the freighter developed a heavy list Friday and lowered a lifeboat. It was smashed immediately, Capt. Edward Clarke said. The crew took to two liferafts. They were picked up by the British freighter San Gaspar after a search plane spotted their flashlight signal about 130 miles northeast of Bermuda.

* * *

One crew member said sharks came so close their fins scraped the raft.

Two persons were reported killed, 10 injured and 500 driven from their homes by high seas pounding Puerto Rico. Some streets in San Juan were flooded.

Capt. Moses Lockward, skipper of the Dominican freighter Golden Star, said waves off Puerto Rico were the worst he had seen in 30 years at sea.

Radio Havana reported storm damage on the waterfront of Baracoa, on the north coast near Cuba's eastern tip.

Confab May Mean New African Union

KITWE, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe met behind closed doors for three hours last night with two Northern Rhodesia African Nationalist leaders — Kenneth Kaunda, head of the United National Independence Party, and Harry Nkumbula, leader of the African National Congress.

There was no announcement after the meeting.

But it was believevd they discussed the possibility of a new federation of central African countries — including a link between Northern Rhodesia and Katanga, both rich in copper, should Northern Rhodesia soon come under African rule and break away from the present white-ruled Central African Federation of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland.

Grocer Finds Theft Chilling Experience

DETROIT (AP) — Being robbed was a new experience for grocer Fred Murad, and it left him cold.

A man "who acted as he was armed" relieved Murad of $4,120 yesterday — and then locked him in his own walk-in refrigerator.

Murad, 40, said the man was waiting at the door when he appeared to open for business and told him he wanted to buy a package of cigarettes.

But once inside, Murad said the "customer" told him: "Come on man, let's go to the safe."

Murad said he gave the man two money bags from the safe containing $4,000, but the robber still emptied his wallet of $120 and then locked him in the refrigerator.

An employe reporting 15 minutes later let Murad out.

Teamsters Bring Assault Charges

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Two Teamster union members who testified for the government in Detroit against William E. Wolff Sr., president of Youngstown Cartage Co., have brought assault and battery charges against Wolff's son, William Jr., of nearby Canfield.

Michael Boano and Eugene Theodore, owner-operators who leased vehicles to Youngstown Cartage and then drove them, were fired after they testified against Wolff Sr. in his trial for alleged violations of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Boano, a shop steward for Teamsters' local 377, said he went with Theodore to Wolff Jr. Thursday to discuss grievances. He charged Wolff Jr. attacked the pair, causing injuries requiring treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Aims of the United Nations Are Extremely Worthwhile

Along with a lot of other people, my personal faith in the United Nations begins to weaken occasionally. At times it seems as though this unwieldly and hegemonic organization is always shadowboxing.

★ ★ ★

And then faith is restored and fortified. Recently, I spent a day at the United Nations with a group of 50 citizens scattered from coast to coast. We were briefed on the general situation and the immediate outlook. It was one of eight or ten similar meetings.

★ ★ ★

Speaker DONALD DUNHAM pointed out the main aims and objectives are to provide:

1—A forum for international discussion.
2—A place for negotiation and quiet diplomacy.
3—Help in preserving world peace.
4—Education of new nations emerging into statehood.

★ ★ ★

An international organization on this basis must be tremendously worthwhile. These lofty principles have a high place in all world planning forever.

★ ★ ★

Just a momentary glimpse of that "glass tower" restores a semblance of faith in worldwide amity and concord. Probably too many place too much importance on the extraneous trappings. We are inclined to lose sight of our main global objectives in the creaking of the joints in this ponderous ship of state which seeks to obey 110 masters.

★ ★ ★

One of the speakers developed a fact that was especially intriguing. Millions have wondered why KHRUSHCHEV wasn't tougher in demanding that we renounce our bases in Turkey, when JFK hurled down the Cuban gauntlet. He uncovered a bared fist that was tightly clenched and KHRUSHCHEV stopped in his tracks and immediately wiped the sneer off his face.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. meant business. That was for sure.

★ ★ ★

Many expected the head Red to tack a proviso on his rapid surrender by insisting we give up our bases in Turkey. However, these belong to NATO, and the U.S. is just a small part. Hence, NIKITA is blocked. We haven't any right to dismantle the strong, firm arsenals in Turkey — fortunately. So you see, the sun does shine on both sides of the fence.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, U.N. officials report that the bulk of the delegates from the 110 nations were amazed when President Kennedy took his "or else" stand on Cuba. They were beginning to regard Uncle Sam as a benevolent and kindly old codger who raised his voice on occasions but didn't really mean it. We command vastly more respect today among the world delegates. And we certainly need it.

Russian Lies . . . .

Russian translations of KENNEDY'S "quarantine speech" are drifting back into this country. They're so far from the truth that they're amusing. This gem was culled from the radio in Czechoslovakia.

"Kennedy has even surpassed that most notorious mass murderer, Hitler."

★ ★ ★

And another pearl of wisdom was broadcast in Bulgaria which said:

"The imprudent U.S. provocation against Cuba and world peace has provoked a hurricane of indignation in all countries of the world."

★ ★ ★

The speech was broadcast upon delivery over the most powerful transmitters Radio Free Europe possesses and then was repeated as many as five times in strategic sectors. This was before Russia rewrote the context to suit Soviet purposes.

★ ★ ★

The final results of this impromptu contest may not be known for some time; but the battle between fact and fiction is a stirring one.

Jury Decision . . . .

Criticism, castigation and calumny have been heaped upon this shaggy noggin since I defended that thalidomide mother.

★ ★ ★

I've been vilified as a consort of the devil and accused of trying to play God. Some of the things would insult ALGER HISS, HITLER, or the blackened shade of BENEDICT ARNOLD.

★ ★ ★

Personally, I still vote with the jury. But I've uncovered an earnest flock of critics that classify me with the heretics. Folks, I go to church, too—regularly—and mainly I was trying to agree with the jury.

★ ★ ★

Help! Help!

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Headline: "Russians Spending Million a Day on Cuba." Comment: "Hope they don't consider it a down payment on the U.S." . . . . A week ago, I reported England was finding some success with the 43-letter alphabet and now a few selected New York schools are giving it a whirl with the 6 year olds. . . . . JACK E. LEONARD has shed 153 pounds and that takes a lot of doing. He's down to 207 from 360. . . . .

SUSIE

. . . Corporation donations to higher education rose from $43 million in 1950 to $178 million in 1960. MSUO is getting recognition and is very much in the market for more. It's desperately needed, and you can't find a more worthy local cause.

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie that currently the tallest girl in the U. S. is the visiting Russian basketball player, Ravilar Salimova. She's 6 feet 6. . . . . Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady: My personal pal, Susie Varner, 8-year-old daughter of the D.B. Varners. . . . . Our own Harry J. Reed is a member of the National News Committee of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association. . . . . GM Truck and Coach Division delivered 7,746 units in October—the highest October since 1955. . . . . Since election, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy refers to her three boys as: "my sons, the United States Government."

★ ★ ★

Bridge instructors welcome cruise ship assignments. They get a "free ride," collect $10 for half-hour lessons, and keep all the sugar they win from the fellow passengers. . . . . I don't know how much CAROL BURNETT needs GARRY MOORE, but it's painfully apparent how much GARRY MOORE needs CAROL BURNETT. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—my gal Friday — who leaves me this week—to keep an engagement with the stork; the J's—those Hi Fever Follies sidewalk signs that still disgrace downtown.

'Loves Me, Loves Me Not'

David Lawrence Says:

New Tax Laws Not Saving Money

WASHINGTON — It looks as if every dollar saved in Federal taxes by a reduction in the tax rates of corporations will be offset by another dollar in increased expense due to new tax laws and regulations.

LAWRENCE

American business may not choose to invest vast sums in plant and equipment when it cannot tell for another year or two just what extra levies are to be imposed by the so-called "tax reform" laws.

The government's continuing policy of trying to make up through new tax rules and regulations what it permits corporations to save through a reduction of their tax rates from 52 to 47 per cent will interfere with planning in private business.

Take as one example of increased costs a proposed Treasury regulation dealing with expense accounts.

It has been widely proclaimed that the Treasury plans to require a receipt for every expenditure of $10 or more when a salesman, for instance, takes to breakfast, lunch or dinner a customer or prospective customer or anyone else related to his business transactions. Even tips would have to be listed and a record kept.

All this extra record keeping costs money. Every company will have to keep on file for years the receipts turned in by employes for every item of expenditure which they make as individuals in behalf of the company and for which they are reimbursed.

Perhaps railroads will have to provide receipts at the ticket window when a buyer of rail transportation is on a business trip. Will taxi drivers also have to give receipts?

★ ★ ★

But the most uncertain factor is the coming demand by labor unions for increased wages. Certainly nobody who is realistic thinks for a moment that labor unions will sit idly by after corporate tax rates are reduced from 52 per cent to 47 per cent.

Labor will want its share. Some presidential commission probably will suggest "guidelines" to determine labor's proportion.

Also, the AFL-CIO has announced that it will insist upon a 35-hour week without any reduction in wages.

The unions are in a position, because of their monopoly power, to extort a substantial part of the money saved by the corporations through lower tax rates.

This means that the companies will have to increase their prices in order to keep pace with rising costs and to avoid a further squeeze on profits.

It is significant, moreover, that expenditures by the Federal government are not to be curtailed, and hence the annual deficits will continue to grow. Business will be faced with an inflationary trend in prices which, in turn, will hurt consumption.

Investments in new plant and equipment in America have stood still for many years now. The rate of profits as related to national output has steadily gone down. A high rate of unemployment continues.

All this isn't because of a lack of money available to borrowers but because of a lack of confidence in the future earning power of American business, confronted as it has been by a political bloc in Congress which for years has been and continues to be antibusiness.

It is confidence in the business outlook that is needed, and this will not be restored by increased government spending or by bigger deficits or by interference with American business operations in its efforts to earn money overseas in competition with foreign companies.

Bob Considine Says:

Telephone Girls Impede Calls to Guantanamo

NEW YORK—Our editor, Milt Kaplan, put in a phone call to Guantanamo naval base the other day trying to contact one of his intrepid war (cold) correspondents, Frank Conniff.

CONSIDINE

After a bit, an overseas operator with a Cuban-American voice came in and said, "Sorry, Guantanamo doesn't answer."

Chilled to the marrow, our editor rushed to his neighboring UPI wire, to check on what had happened to our great installation imbedded in the island. There was nothing on the wire.

Then an explanation:

All civilian calls to Guantanamo must go through Havana. The Cuban telephone girls who take calls from the U.S. for Americans in Guantanamo, apparently figure that the best thing to do is to get rid of them as swiftly as possible.

If the switchboard at Guantanamo doesn't answer on the first jingle, it "doesn't answer."

Until Castro goes, and he will, let's renickname Cuba the Peril of the Antilles.

There's an alarming statistic loose. We read so much poetic nonsense about man "reaching for the stars" that we forget that a phone call to the nearest star—though the impulse was speeding there at the speed of light, 186,000 miles per second—would take 20 years.

We've had some restless nights about this. In our anxious dream we call the star that's breathing down our necks.

"Hello," we sing out.

Forty years later a voice comes back. It says, "what was that you said, Buster?"

We reply, "I said 'hello.'"

★ ★ ★

Forty years later, the fellow on the nearest star says "Hello yourself!"

Seems like a wasted lifetime.

Julio Lobo, former Cuban sugar king whose properties were seized by Castro (who had also tapped him for support in the early days), recalls an odd prophesy made just 400 years ago by Spain's Phillip II:

"Whoever owns the Island of Cuba has the key to the New World."

Any questions?

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

The Acquittal

The London Times

Emotion and reason give different reactions to the acquittal of the five people accused of murdering the deformed thalidomide baby. In effect, the trial crystalized a series of numerous and widespread tragedies — that word can be used, though it is profoundly to be hoped no other deformed infant is put to death.

★ ★ ★

It would have seemed cruel if, after all the anguish they must have endured, the accused in this case should have been punished. But this does not weaken the prosecuting counsel's argument that a terrible precedent has been set. The acquittal in this particular case cannot justify, legally or morally, the killing of any other child born similarly deformed.

The truth is that no one can know what kind of a life such a child may have.

Birchers' Defeat

The New York Post

One welcome footnote to the election returns was the trouncing of the Birchites. The three John Birch Society members running for Congress in California (two seeking reelection) went down to defeat. In Wisconsin the upset Democratic victory in the gubernatorial race was partly due to the Birchite albatross around the GOP candidate's neck.

Another lusty blow against the witch hunters was California's two-to-one rejection of a loosely-worded amendment to the State Constitution which would have barred "advocates of subversive doctrines" from holding public office.

Despite the discomfort the Conservative Party caused Gov. Rockefeller, it was, on the whole, a bad day for the Radical Right. We hope Mr. Rockefeller, despite his seeming exasperation about his somewhat minimal returns, gets the point.

Frustration

The Spokesman-Review (Spokane, Wash.)

The most frustrated man in our Armed Forces must surely be the public relations officer who, on the day the Cuban crisis crested, was set to announce the name of the winner of the Navy's bean-soup recipe contest.

Cuban People

The Washington News

Some Cuban exiles are expressing fears that the United States will settle for the dismantling of the Soviet missile bases in Cuba on Khrushchev's terms; that is, that the United States will commit itself to a sort of policeman's role and prevent future efforts by exiles, wherever they may be, to overthrow Russia's stooge dictator, Castro.

President Kennedy's words, spoken on Oct. 22, can be repeated as often as necessary to prevent this notion gaining currency in Washington, Moscow, or anywhere else. Said the President:

"Many times in the past the Cuban people have risen to throw out tyrants who destroyed their liberty; and I have no doubt that most Cubans today look forward to the time when they will be truly free — free from foreign domination — free to choose their own leaders — free to select their own system—free to own their own land—free to speak and write and worship without fear or degradation. And then shall Cuba be welcomed back to the society of free nations and to the associations of this hemisphere."

★ ★ ★

Any other view would repudiate the meaning history of our country. Furthermore, Cubans are Cubans, wherever they are, and their human right to struggle for their country's freedom cannot be taken away from them by anyone.

News

(The Editor and Publisher)

His press clippings must have made Arthur Sylvester realize how he shocked editors with his remark that "News flowing from actions taken by the Government is part of the weaponry." The whole idea is repugnant to a free press, and very damaging to confidence in Government information. As a reporter himself Mr. Sylvester knows this. He must have been suffering an attack of war jitters.

HURT BY HELICOPTER — Gloria Ward, 22, of North Little Rock, Ark., lies injured in a downtown Little Rock parking lot after being struck by a helicopter blown into a crowd of about 550 people as it brought Santa Claus to town. She was one of three injured in the mishap.

Bowles Glad Goldwater's Against Him

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrat Chester Bowles says he's glad Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., doesn't approve of him.

Bowles says he understands Goldwater is "now wrapping his arms around (Republican Gov.) Nelson Rockefeller" and "I'm sorry for Nelson Rockefeller."

Bowles, President Kennedy's special adviser on Latin American, Asian and African affairs, made the remarks on a taped television program last night.

Goldwater recently suggested that Kennedy fire Bowles and United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, among others, on the ground they were "soft on communism and soft on Cuba."

★ ★ ★

Bowles said: "All I can say is I'm in very good company. But I would be very worried if Mr. Goldwater approved of me. I think this would be a very dangerous sort of thing, and I wouldn't be at all happy about it."

Police Fail to Locate Hunter Missing in UP

By The Associated Press

Authorities have all but given up hope of finding a missing deer hunter alive in the eastern Upper Peninsula.

He is 52-year-old Earnest Kaminsky of Livonia. Kaminsky was last seen Friday about 1 p.m. near Moran, northwest of St. Ignace.

State police said "if he is in the area he must be a dead man by now." They pointed out that temperatures skidded to a frigid 18 above zero Saturday night and also were below freezing last night.

More than 100 persons, plus a helicopter and an airplane, took part in the search for Kaminsky yesterday, but not a trace of him was found. He also was hunted all day Saturday.

Thus far six men have died from gunfire in Michigan's deer hunting season.

The latest reported victim was Willard C. Dilts, 48, of Ithaca, whose body was found Saturday in a Roscommon County woods about nine miles northwest of Houghton Lake by another hunter, Albert Montague of Hastings.

* * *

State police said Dilts had been shot in the back and that evidence indicated the person who fired the shot had walked up to the body, looked it over, then walked away.

A 13-year-old Saginaw boy on a deer-hunting outing with his parents was shot accidentally and seriously wounded by his 15-year-old brother near West Branch yesterday.

Terry Flewellinger was shot, state police said, by his brother, Russell, while they were alone in a tent and the parents were hunting in nearby woods.

Police said Russell told them he picked up a rifle to clean it and the gun went off. A 30-30 bullet hit Terry in the back.

telephone operator

Perhaps the person at the telephone company you talk to most often is the operator. On duty day or night, she's always ready to help you make a call, to help you get the most value from your telephone service.

She knows that to most people she is the "voice of the telephone company." That's why she's as friendly and helpful as she can be when you need her. She represents thousands of employees at the telephone company—and she sincerely enjoys her work of serving you.

Austria Voters Back Leader

VIENNA (UPI) — Austrian voters yesterday strengthened Chancellor Alfons Gorbach's hand in running the coalition government and delivered another smashing defeat to the Communists.

Gorbach's Peoples party won 81 of 165 parliamentary seats, an increase of two, while their strongest rivals and coalition partners, the Socialists, dropped two seats for a total of 76.

The right-wing Freedom party retained its eight seats, but the coalition denied it a chance to wield the balance of power.

The Communists, who lost their only three parliamentary seats by Hungary-minded voters in 1959, were shut out again yesterday. They failed to win a single seat and their total vote fell from 142,578 to 135,482.

Warren Man Killed in 20-Story Drop

CHICAGO (AP) — Authorities have identified a man who fell 20 stories to his death Saturday as Leo Litwin, 41, of Warren.

Police said the body was identified yesterday by Litwin's brother, Frank, also of Warren.

Relatives were located through letters and notes found on the body and in Litwin's room in the Lawson YMCA hotel from which he fell.

Fisher Retirees Set Thanksgiving Dinner

Retirees of Pontiac Fisher Body Local 596, UAW-CIO, will be served a Thanksgiving Dinner noon tomorrow at the Local 596 Hall, 821 Baldwin Ave.

Music and entertainment also will be provided, and dancing is scheduled after dinner, announced Pete A. Perry, retirees chairman.

An estimated 125 retirees are expected.

WINS IN POLAND — Charles Treger, 27, a native of Detroit, Sunday won the Henryk Wieniawski violin competition in Warsaw. He is the first non-European ever to win the contest. Treger is an associate professor at the University of Iowa.

Former Detroiter Wins Warsaw Violin Contest

DETROIT (AP)—Charles Treger, a 27-year-old American who won Poland's Henryk Wieniawski violin competition yesterday, is a native of Michigan.

He was born in Detroit and his mother Mrs. Anna Treger still lives there. His father is dead.

Treger, an associate professor teaching violin and chamber music at the University of Iowa, is married to the former Deborah Rosenstein of Hartford, Conn.

In Warsaw yesterday, Treger recalled that he once pitched for a junior baseball team organized by Billy Rogell, one-time Detroit Tiger infielder and now a Detroit councilman.

"I had a good curve ball and slider and was doing well," Treger said. "But I was playing a lot of concerts and there was the danger of hurting my hands.

"I had to make a decision between the violin and baseball. That was the end of baseball."

Nine Civil War Relics Stolen From Museum

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—A watch once owned by William Clarke Quantrill, Southern guerrilla leader in the Civil War, was among nine objects stolen from the old county jail museum during the weekend.

No monetary value was placed on the articles, owned by the Jackson County Historical Society.

2 Tots Go Along

Thief Taken for Ride

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A car thief got a little more than he bargained for—two little passengers.

The passengers, 5-year-old Louis Sulovski and his year-old sister, Anna Rose, were found unharmed yesterday about two hours after they disappeared.

* * *

The youngsters had been left in the family car while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sulovski of Elizabeth, N. J., were in a bakery here.

Police Inspector Thomas Henry said the car thief apparently was not aware children were in the car.

The children were found about two miles from the bakery.

Little Louis told his parents the thief said to him: "Get out and take the baby with you and sit down."

* * *

Louis followed instructions. He and his sister were discovered sitting in a puddle of rainwater, soaking wet and crying.

The abandoned car was found later.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN — available at all drug stores without prescription.

Blow the Budget, Boys! It's Christmas

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — It may delight the financially-harassed constituents of this great democracy to learn that their congressmen — Republicans and Democrats alike — are even less successful at family budgeting than the rest of us.

BATTELLE

Your congressman may scream the House down protesting national overspending and an unbalanced budget.

But in his own house, he and the missus are as bemused with a buck, as spendthrift with a salary, as poor with the planning of a budget, as the average family. In fact, slightly more so, according to a new survey, at least at Christmas.

For example: At this season of the year, one in three U. S. citizens sets a specific budget for Christmas giving. Only one in four U. S. senators and representatives thinks that far ahead, financially.

Of those congressmen who do set a budget for gift giving, 60 per cent exceed that budget. The average American has a much better ratio of living and giving within his self-imposed limit.

SPEND THE SAME

Republicans and Democrats in Congress spend about the same amount of money for Christmas presents for their families — about $200 annually, as compared with $160 for their constituents. But they buy fewer, more expensive gifts — an average of 20 gifts per family, compared with 30 for the average U. S. clan.

Yet the widest difference between congressmen and voters is not so much in amounts spent or budgets over-shot, but in their desires for gifts . . .

Whereas the dominant desire of the U. S. housewife is for a fur piece under the Christmas tree, the wives of Senator Santa and Congressman Claus want most, of all things, some item of furniture for the house. They rarely get what they want.

Next highest on the list of please gimmes from congressional wives were: money, jewelry, vacations.

The average housewife puts these way at the bottom of her list: She prefers (or says she does) household appliances, sweaters and sewing machines.

These revelations were the result of a survey of 100 congressmen and their families, and thousands of non-government families (made by the Chicago Printed String Co., maker of gift wrappings).

The survey revealed that, in only one respect, both Washington's and the rest of the country's families were in complete accord:

Most had a strong desire to "spend less" this Christmas than they did last year.

Both congressmen and constituents were particularly interested in "cutting down on the number of gifts for the children" —probably the hardest Christmas shopping fear any parents, rich or poor, can manage.

Another similarity between the U. S. Representative and the representative citizen — the average male receives three ties a year, the congressman 29.

That is, whether you like it or not, equality.

Scientists have devised a better mousetrap.

In Brunswick, Germany, mice have plagued the people of the farmlands for years. Fairly recently, four French-built Alouette jet helicopters were sent to the area and stationed on a small airstrip there. The mice died by the score, and scientists told the pleased but half-deafened residents the answer:

The jet's screaming sound is fatal to rodents.

★ ★ ★

It is now considered the surest method of ridding a place of mice and rats. Far more effective than pesticides or cheddar.

But it's a high-frequency price to pay.

Junior Editors Quiz on CONGRESS

QUESTION: What are people doing when they are filibustering?

★ ★

ANSWER: It has been a cherished tradition in the United States Senate that each senator has the right to full expression of his opinions, without regard to the length of time he takes to express them.

As long as he speaks as the senator in our picture is doing, he may continue to hold the floor. Because of this tradition, it has been possible for single senators, or small groups of them, to prevent a vote on a bill which they oppose and yet which they believe the majority will vote for.

By making very long speeches, demanding roll calls and so on, they may force their opponents to come to terms with them, even to drop the proposed bill, because of time getting short and there being so much other important business to be done.

The use of such tactics is called "filibustering." Senator La Follette once held the floor for 18 hours and 23 minutes and Senator Thurmond filibustered for 24 hours and 18 minutes. Opponents of filibustering claim that it gives a minority a chance to thwart the will of the majority.

A "closure" rule, adopted in 1917 and amended in 1959, enables the Senate to end a filibuster if two thirds of the members present and voting favor it.

FOR YOU TO DO: You can learn a great deal about how your country is run by taking a part in the elections and voting in your school. When you vote, you have the good feeling that you really belong.

Kennedy Urges Worldwide Bible Reading

By The Associated Press

President Kennedy urges that people everywhere "read the Bible in whatever version or translation they choose." In a message to the American Bible Society in New York, Kennedy said it is not enough that the Bible be translated, published and distributed. "It must also be read," he said.

Prince Albert de Ligne, uncle of the King of Belgium, and his wife, were injured when their car skidded on a wet road and hit a tree in Orleans, France. Both were hospitalized, the prince with a broken left leg and the princess with face injuries.

Sir Osbert Sitwell, poet and novelist, reported the theft from his London home of three silverpoint drawings by Pablo Picasso —drawings made with a silver-lead pencil. The drawings were valued at 600 pounds — $1,680 — each.

Pope John XXIII has been invited to visit the United States. Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, made the invitation when the Pope received in special audience all the U.S. bishops attending the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council at the Vatican.

Cardinal Spellman said Pope John had always wanted to see America, "but his reply was noncommittal." No Pope has been outside Italy since Pius VII went to Paris in 1804 for Napoleon's coronation.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Sens. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., and Benjamin A. Smith II, D-Mass., are in New Delhi on a three-day visit. Mansfield told reporters he carried no message from President Kennedy to India's Prime Minister Nehru. "We just came to talk with the ambassador (John Kenneth Galbraith) and look around," he said.

Leontyne Price, noted Negro singer from the United States, will be among guest performers appearing this season at La Scala Opera House in Milan, Italy. Igor Stravinsky, Russian-born composer now living in the United States, will be among the guest conductors.

Havana Slows POW Talks

Cuban Crisis Fails to Foil Donovan's Effort

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Cuban crisis has not caused an end to negotiations for the release of 1,113 prisoners taken in last year's ill-fated invasion of the island, but further talks are being held up by Red tape in Havana.

New York attorney James B. Donovan, who represents the Cuban Family Committee for the Liberation of Prisoners of War, said yesterday three members of the committee would fly here from Havana to confer with him on progress of the negotiations.

Donovan said their departure possibly today, has been delayed because of the Spanish Iberian Airlines plane they will take to New York put down in Nassau to await air clearance to land in Havana. He said he would hold a news conference on the ransom talks as soon as the committee members leave Havana.

"Negotiations have been kept open with due regard to other international developments," Donovan said in a statement.

Donovan identified the committee members as Mrs. Berta Barreto, chief liaison representative to the Castro government, her husband Jesus and Alvaro Sanchez Jr., national chairman of the group.

The Fidel Castro regime ordered all airline flights over Cuba cancelled Saturday night, but the Iberia plane already had left Madrid when the edict was made.

The Cuban military apparently ordered the flight suspensions so it could try to track U.S. reconnaisance planes over Cuba.

Miss Caroline Is a Little Lady in Church

MIDDLEBURG, Va. (AP) — Caroline Kennedy was on her best behavior Sunday when she went to church with her parents.

She stood at the right time, sat at the right time and knelt at the right time. She fidgeted hardly at all during the 50-minute Mass.

It is the first time she is known to have gone to church with both President and Mrs. Kennedy.

She is almost 5 now, and her conduct was in sharp contrast to that of a Sunday two years ago when her father took her with him to church in Washington. Then she busied herself with such pastimes as climbing over a pew.

'Legends' of Stalin Attacked by Russian

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Marshal Alexander Yeremenko yesterday attacked as "legends" the role played by Stalin in the Soviet World War II victory at Stalingrad.

"His role has been extremely exaggerated," Yeremenko said. "It is necessary to dispel the legends of Stalin's alleged decisive role in planning and directing operations in the Stalingrad area.

"The directions were mostly of a general nature, and some of his decisions were erroneous."

Girl Dies After Crash

LIVONIA (AP)—Donna J. Cassie, 22, of Detroit died yesterday in a Livonia hospital of injuries suffered a week earlier when the car in which she was riding collided with two parked cars on Farmington Road.

Disillusion, Death Grip Men, Nations Around World

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This crisp and lovely autumn has been a time of death, fear, revolution, uncertainty and disillusionment for men and nations, stretching across seas and continents.

Death and disillusionment hit Asia. Swift and sudden revolution burst in the Middle East. There was uncertainty in Europe. Fear of war circled over Cuba and the world.

REALISM IN INDIA

In India Prime Minister Nehru, who ducked reality in trying to play shrewd by playing neutral, talked in terms of brotherhood with the Red Chinese.

This autumn he had to watch almost helplessly as Chinese forces smashed across the Indian frontier, killing Nehru's ill-equipped troops as they went, for reasons they haven't yet chosen to reveal.

★ ★ ★

As this is being written the bewildered prime minister doesn't know whether the Red armies will sweep down out of the mountains and across the plains of India.

He needed time to build a decent society out of the colossal poverty of India. If he didn't have to spend money on arms, he could use it for desperate peaceful needs of his country.

★ ★ ★

REDS ABUSED

He thought the answer to time and money was in staying aloof from the contest between the West and communism. He even thought in the end Russia would save him from the Chinese. It didn't.

★ ★ ★

Now he finds the Communists used and abused him. Meanwhile, his people are dying under the Chinese guns. But even now, in his moment of Indian agony, while he cries for Western arms, he still clings to neutralism.

★ ★ ★

In Yemen revolutionists overthrew the king in a savage stroke which may be only the beginning of bloodshed in the Middle East if the kings of Jordan and Saudi Arabia, fearing their own future, move in.

OTHERS SHAKEN

In Europe Chancellor Adenauer's regime was shaky from the discontent of West Germans with his defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss, for the way he cracked down on his critics on the staff of a magazine, "Der Spiegel."

★ ★ ★

In France, elections Sunday seemed to strengthen the hand of president Charles de Gaulle who has been trying to strengthen the office he holds at the expense of Parliament and the French political party system which in the past has been erratic to the point of irresponsibility.

★ ★ ★

For one week after President Kennedy demanded the Russians get their missiles out of Cuba—or else—international jitters shook the world. If Russia refused, war could have come quickly.

Premier Khrushchev agreed to remove the weapons. Supposedly he has carted them off on ships. But this can't be positively known unless Cuba can be inspected. Fidel Castro refuses that.

Khrushchev left his bombers in Cuba. Kennedy said: Get them out, too. They wrote letters back and forth. Castro made demands of his own.

★ ★ ★

So Cuba isn't settled. It could get nasty. The West doesn't seem to know at this minute whether Khrushchev will turn Berlin into a time bomb by setting a new and quick deadline for settlement on that city.

This day a year ago hardly anything was happening except massacre in the Congo. That quieted down. It may blow wide open again.

Senator in Israel 2 Days for Private Conference

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., will confer with government officials during a two-day private visit to Israel which began yesterday.

Russell, head of the Senate Armed Services Committee lunched yesterday with Ambassador Walworth Barbour and toured archeological excavations.

As Result of 'Awesome Task'

JFK Portrayer May Have Ulcer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cliff Robertson has just finished the awesome task of portraying John F. Kennedy in a movie.

He is 20 pounds lighter and is undergoing tests to determine if he has a stomach ulcer.

"PT109" started in controversy. A magazine writer penned an article in the early days of the Florida location that reported general discontent among the actors and director Lewis Milestone over the script.

THOMAS

Studio boss J. L. Warner fired Milestone, replaced him with Les Martinson and clamped a closed-set edict for the duration of the three-month location and the one month of shooting at the studio.

ALLOWED TO TALK

Having finished the film, Robertson was allowed to talk.

"I think the picture is going to be fine," he said. "We had to fight for certain things, and I may have an ulcer to show for it. But in the end I think everybody was happy. At least Mr. Warner appears to be. I'm told he saw the picture and said, 'For the first time, all the money in a picture shows on the screen.'"

That would be $5.5 million worth. It might have cost less, except that the Defense Department leaned over backward not to give the film any special favors. It offered only technical advice; the studio had to scrape up its own boats.

How did Cliff feel about impersonating Mr. Kennedy?

"It was quite a responsibility," he said. "After all, nobody had ever portrayed a living President in a full-length role. I felt a responsibility to Mr. Kennedy, whom I have never met and probably never will."

"I also had to think about people all over the world who will be seeing the picture," he added. "Even though the story is presented as a war incident that happened 20 years ago, everyone who sees it will be conscious of the fact that it is about the President of the United States."

The actor said he had had no direct contact with the President concerning how the role should be played. But the word was passed along that Mr. Kennedy didn't want an imitation.

"That was fine with me," said Cliff. "I think it would have been a mistake for me to say 'Hahvahd' or try to reproduce gestures. Then the audience would have been constantly aware that an actor was impersonating the President."

Strauss Reported Ready to Leave Bonn Cabinet

BONN, Germany (AP — Defense Minister Franz Joseph Strauss was reported today ready to leave the cabinet and open the way for settlement of an acute political crisis caused by the arrest of the publisher and four editors of the weekly news magazine Der Spiegel.

★ ★ ★

Politicians speculated that Strauss would leave the defense job after the Bavarian elections next Sunday. Persons close to him pictured him as extremely nervous and ready to quit.

Strauss heads the dominant party in Bavaria, the Christian Social Union, an affiliate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats.

Strauss, a chief figure in the three-week-old Der Spiegel affair, incurred the wrath of both the opposition Socialists and the any part in the matter and then conceding in Parliament he was instrumental in the arrest of one newsman.

The five persons under arrest were detained on suspicion of treason. Since the magazine had been consistently opposed to Strauss and critical of his defense administration, the action against it was generally viewed as a reprisal. Strauss has denied this.

Adenauer's refusal to force Strauss out threatened to bring down his cabinet, at least temporarily.

The Free Democrats, the minority members of the governing coalition, were to meet today to withdraw their five members from the cabinet.

★ ★ ★

Party leader Erich Mende said they could not continue to support a government with Strauss in it.

'Hunters' Get Caught on Pheasant Reserve

KANKAKEE, Ill. (UPI) — Willie Miller, Eugene Mitchell, Albert Tuggle and J. D. Nathaniel were fined a total of $454.60 this weekend after opening the hunting season on a pheasant farm.

Farmer Olen Bolin saw them shoot three birds in his pens and put them in a car. Bolin gave police the license number. They captured the "hunters."

Research Grants Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service said today it awarded 1,014 research grants and 474 fellowships totaling $41,247,777 in October.

'W. Europe Farm Import Levies Threaten West's Unity'

PARIS (AP)—The United States told Western European trade officials today that their restrictive farm import trade policies threaten the unity and strength of the West. It warned that Washington has the power to take retaliatory measures.

The American view was outlined in a talk prepared by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman for delivery to the agricultural committee of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. Its membership is made up of Western European countries, Canada and the United States.

Freeman's talk had been approved by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"Not only maintenance of trade but the continued unity and strength of the Western world is at stake," Freeman told the meeting.

COMMON MARKET

He said the United States was concerned particularly about farm policies being developed by the European Common Market composed of France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg. Great Britain may become a member soon.

West European producers of wheat, feed grains, rice and poultry—major U.S. exports to that area—are being given preference over American and other outside suppliers through imposition of import levies.

* * *

Steps being taken by the Common Market, Freeman said, "are going to be the largest single factor determining whether the agricultural systems of the world are mindful of the need for international harmony or whether agriculture retreats into a shell of nationalism."

The United States, he said, has a policy of promoting liberal world trade. Furthermore, he said it believes the balance of the non-Communist world should follow a similar policy.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

"The Congress and the American public find it difficult," he said, "to understand why the United States should maintain liberal access for a wide range of competitive imports if our own agricultural exports are restricted in foreign markets."

"It is essential," he added, "that U.S. negotiators obtain at future trade conferences adequate assurances that access to export markets for our agricultural products is maintained."

* * *

Freeman told the Europeans a trade expansion act passed by the last Congress directs the President to take "all appropriate and feasible steps" to eliminate unjustifiable import restrictions on U.S. farm products.

"Such steps may include," he said, "retaliatory action, if necessary, against imports from the country in question."

WINE IMPORTS

There has been speculation that if Common Market policies are not eased, the first U.S. action might be against imports of Rhineland wines.

Freeman said the United States, contrary to the understandings of some abroad, maintains liberal policies on imports and competitive farm products. He said farm imports into this country are just about as large as farm exports. He added the United States had not engaged in dumping surpluses and had insisted only on what it believed was its fair share of foreign farm markets.

* * *

"It would be difficult to convince our farmers in the United States that they should accept limits on their productive efforts if at the same time farmers in other major producing countries were expanding their production of identical or similar products with government encouragement," he said.

He also emphasized that in future negotiations the United States would refuse to bargain under conditions which separated trade policies on industrial products and farm products.

He warned that existing trade arrangements could not be maintained if the U.S. farm export market in Western Europe is impaired.

Miller to Keep Top Job for GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller of New York said today he wants to stay on the job as Republican national chairman in an effort to elect a GOP president in 1964.

* * *

Miller said he has surveyed and found good the Nov. 6 election results in which the Republicans made some significant gains in important governorships, picked up a net of two seats in the House and lost four in the Senate.

* * *

This outcome has prompted some suggestions that the party needs a full-time, paid chairman who would direct a professional organization drive for the presidential campaign.

* * *

When Miller took office he said that if he found that he didn't have time for both the chairmanship and his duties as a member of the House, he would quit one of the jobs. He serves in the chairmanship without pay.

* * *

Miller said in an interview he believes he has demonstrated in the nearly two years he has held the party post that he has not stinted his work there or in Congress. He added that, as of now, he hopes to continue in the dual role. Few doubted that he would be challenged in that decision.

CALLS MEETING

In a move to cash in on what he said were significant GOP gains in the big cities, Miller called four regional party chairmen into a conference today to map plans for supporting Republican candidates in 1963 municipal and local elections.

* * *

The four are L. Judson Morhouse of New York, Ray C. Bliss of Ohio, Wirt A. Yeger Jr. of Mississippi and John S. Wold of Wyoming.

Miller, who once said the Republicans might have to look under a rock for their 1964 presidential nominee if they didn't make some substantial gains in Congress, shrugged off the virtual stalemate there.

* * *

Instead, he said in a statement Sunday that "our inroads in the traditionally Democratic - dominated big cities in the North and in the formerly one-party Southern states have supplied the encouragement which will make 1964 a Republican year at every level of government."

* * *

Miller called a GOP National Committee meeting here Dec. 6-7, to canvass the election results, and to make organization plans for the 1964 campaign.

Private Services Set for Industrialist

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Private funeral services were planned here today for Arthur Vining Davis, 95, former board chairman of the Aluminum Company of America.

Further services and burial will be at Locust Valley, Long Island, NY., later this week.

Davis, whose wealth was variously estimated at between $350 and $500 million, started his career in 1888 as a $60-a-month clerk.

Population of Latin America, including the West Indies, is estimated at about 175 million, or roughly equal to the current population figure of the United States.

Grandmother's Turkey Has Been Bettered

What was it about Thanksgiving at Grandmother's? Well, frostily it was a bounteous board. There was a high heap of sliced dark meat and another of elegant white meat.

There was the stuffing. One could have mashed potatoes or candied sweets — or both, if desired. There was a choice of vegetables. And always cranberry sauce and cranberry jelly.

Homemade rolls came out of the oven and onto the table piping hot to be eaten with butter and honey.

For dessert there was still a choice — it was either well-spiced pumpkin pie or steamed plum pudding on which rich hard sauce melted.

But while grandmother's turkey was good, today's turkey stands every chance of being better. Through scientific breeding and research the turkey growers are able to give us birds completely oven-ready.

Stuffing comes in a package and, with the addition of your own individual touch in the way of chestnuts, sausage or other savories, is likely to taste better than when laboriously made from bread you've crumbled.

Cooking methods too have been made easier and speeded up. Here is a roundup of turkey information to help make it easy for you to prepare Thanksgiving turkey and turkey for any dinner at which you wish to serve the beautiful, delicious bird.

Defrosting frozen turkey: the Poultry and Egg National Board says that frozen turkeys should be placed on a tray in the refrigerator and defrosted without removing wrappings. For speedier defrosting, the turkey may be placed under cold running water.

It will take 3½ to 4 days to defrost a 15-pound turkey in the refrigerator; 6 to 7 hours under running water. Giblets may be removed when the turkey begins to soften. Start preparing for roasting as soon as pliable.

Preparing for roasting: if turkey drumsticks are tucked under band of skin, they may be left that way, but cut skin 1 hour before end of roasting so inside flesh may cook. Trim off neck skin, if too long. Cut out oil sac above tail. Rinse turkey both inside and out and pat dry.

★ ★ ★

Rinse giblets and place in pan with water and seasonings. Simmer gently until tender. Remove liver after 10 minutes' cooking. Use broth in gravy.

Fill neck and body cavity lightly with stuffing if desired, but you'll get the turkey in the oven faster, if you prepare stuffing while turkey roasts and bake it separately the last hour.

No fancy trussing is needed. Simply wrap string around bird to bind wings close. Partially close front opening with one or two toothpicks. Cross drumsticks and tie to tail. Fasten neck skin to back of turkey with a toothpick.

Brush turkey all over with soft shortening and sprinkle with seasonings.

Meat thermometer: insert in thickest part of thigh without touching bone, when the foil is turned back for browning or removed. Turkey is done when it registers 190 degrees.

Here are directions and time tables for two roasting methods:

FOIL ROASTED TURKEY

High-Temperature, Quick Method: Place bird on back on Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap, (small turkeys across width of foil; large turkeys, lengthwise). Put small folds of foil over wing tips, tail, and ends of drumsticks to prevent puncturing. Bring ends of foil up, overlapping on breast of bird 3 inches. Close ends by folding foil up 3 inches to hold juices. Wrap loosely and do not seal airtight. Place wrapped bird in shallow pan, breast up, in preheated 450 degree oven. Roast according to the following time chart. Open and turn back the Reynolds Wrap 20 minutes before roasting is finished to brown turkey.

★ ★ ★

TIME TABLE FOR ROASTING TURKEY IN ALUMINUM FOIL

Ready-to-cook weight (Before stuffing)	Oven temperature (A very hot oven)	Total cooking time (Hours—approx.)
7-9 pounds	450 degrees	2¼ to 2½
10-13 pounds	450 degrees	2¾ to 3
14-17 pounds	450 degrees	3 to 3¼
18-21 pounds	450 degrees	3¼ to 3½
22-24 pounds	450 degrees	3½ to 3¾

Tent Method: place bird on rack in shallow pan. Place large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil over bird, tucking it down around sides. Roast in a preheated 325 degree oven, according to following time chart. Lift foil once or twice and baste. Remove toward end of roasting time for final browning, if desired.

★ ★ ★

(From USDA Bulletin No. 45)

Ready-to-cook weight	Oven temperature	Total cooking time (Hours—approx.)
8-12 pounds	325 degrees	4 to 4½
12-16 pounds	325 degrees	4½ to 5
16-20 pounds	325 degrees	5½ to 7
20-24 pounds	325 degrees	7 to 8½

Making gravy: lift turkey onto a warm platter. Ladle juices into saucepan and skim off fat. If juices are not brown, place a small amount in a foil pie plate and return to oven for about 10 minutes to caramelize. Add this to gravy for additional color. Add broth from giblets, correct seasoning and thicken in usual manner.

Stuffing Given Gourmet Taste With Wine

In the "believe it or not" category is the comment that some cooks do not stuff the holiday bird. Now this seems unbelievable to those who enjoy stuffing as much as, if not more than, the turkey itself. Especially, when delicious stuffing can be made as easily as opening a package.

Wine Stuffing

To 3 cups packaged herb seasoned stuffing add ¼ pound melted butter, ½ cup Sauterne or Chablis, ½ cup crisp, crumbled bacon and ¼ cup finely chopped parsley. Mix thoroughly and pack loosely into turkey just before roasting. Note: If desired 2/3 cup milk may be substituted for the wine.

Slices of Turkey Baked in Casserole

Here's how to serve turkey "just one more time."

Turkey 'N' Asparagus Bake

2 cups cooked asparagus
2 cups sliced turkey
¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
¾ cup shredded American cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt butter. Blend in flour and gradually add milk. Cook over medium heat until thick. Add cheese, stir until melted. Stir in turkey and asparagus. Salt and pepper to taste.

Pour into 1½ quart casserole. Top with biscuits. Bake in hot oven 425 degrees for 10 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake 5-10 minutes longer or until golden brown. Serves 4.

Try an Ice Cream Pumpkin Pie

At Thanksgiving almost everyone lists pumpkin pie as a best-liked dessert, and most cooks have favorite recipes.

Nevertheless, you'll want to try this fabulous Frosty Pumpkin Pie.

FROSTY PUMPKIN PIE
Pastry

1 cup sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water

Frosty Pumpkin Filling

1 cup cooked pumpkin
½ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened slightly
3 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons sugar

To prepare pastry: Mix flour and salt. Cut lard into flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible.

Roll to about ⅛ inch thickness and line pie pan, allowing ½ inch crust to extend over edge. Crimp edge of pastry. Prick pastry with a fork before baking

Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

To prepare filling: Combine pumpkin, brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg. Add pumpkin mixture to ice cream and blend well. Pour into cooled pie shell. Place in freezing compartment until ice cream mixture is firm.

Just before serving beat egg whites and ⅛ teaspoon salt until egg whites are stiff. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed.

Spread over ice cream pie; seal carefully to edges of crust. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 2 to 3 minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Second Time Around in a Casserole

Sometimes, it pays to plan two company dinners in a row. After all, the hard work has already been done: housecleaning, polishing the good silver, bringing out the extra chairs. And there is usually lots of good food that can be party fare for a second get-together.

For the big holiday, there's nothing like having the family in for a traditional turkey dinner with all the fixings. Then, instead of just serving "leftovers" (it has such a thrown-together sound) the next day, you can turn that tasty meat into "Party Turkey Casserole," another party-pretty main dish.

"Party Turkey Casserole" is basically a combination of diced turkey and instant mashed potato, highlighted with good herb seasoning. Criss-crossing the casserole is an unusual topping made of convenient sour cream sauce mix flavored with prepared mustard. It's a wonderful one-dish meal your family will enjoy, too.

Party Turkey Casserole

¼ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups slant-sliced celery
1 can (3-4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons onion flakes
2 cups diced cooked turkey
1½ cups cooked sliced carrots
2 cups leftover turkey gravy
½ teaspoon herb seasoning
1 envelope (4 servings) instant mashed potato granules
1 envelope sour cream sauce mix
¼ cup milk
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
paprika

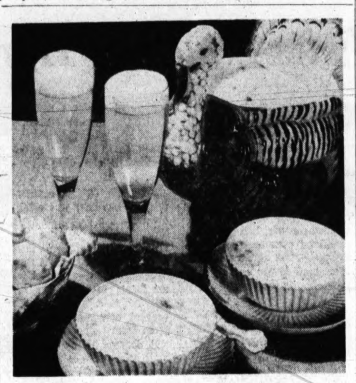
Combine in a small saucepan, butter, celery, mushroom liquid, water, onion flakes. Cover. Simmer about ten minutes. Remove cover, continue cooking until only a tablespoon or so of liquid remains.

In a 2½ quart casserole, combine saucepan's contents, mushrooms, turkey, carrots, gravy, and herb seasoning. Prepare instant mashed potato as envelope directs. Spread potato mixture over turkey mixture in casserole dish.

Blend together the sour cream sauce mix, milk, mayonnaise, cheese, and mustard. With a teaspoon, spoon this topping in a criss-cross pattern over the potatoes; sprinkle topping with paprika.

Bake in a 350-degree oven 40 minutes, or until casserole is heated through and topping is lightly browned. 6 servings.

PARTY TURKEY — Instead of "just leftovers," serve "Party Turkey Casserole" the day after Thanksgiving. Combined with instant mashed potatoes and topped with a sour cream sauce mix, it's a delicious one-dish meal. Spiced apple wedges make a colorful accompaniment.



TURKEY STEW — There's no problem of what to do with leftover turkey when you have this recipe for turkey stew. The tang of beer and ale adds subtle flavor to this appetizing dish.

Even Carcass Goes Into Turkey Stew

What to do with the leftover turkey carcass and the scraps of meat clinging to it? Very simple; make a savory turkey stew flavored with the tang of golden beer or ale. This is a veritable meal in a turkey tureen, as we've pictured it here, chock full of frozen peas and carrots, canned onions and potatoes for ease of preparation (or the fresh if you prefer), light cream, and such pungent spices as thyme, basil and marjoram.

Turkey Stew

Turkey carcass
3 cups turkey meat
Celery leaves
3 cups water
12 ounces (bottle or can) beer or ale
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon basil
¼ teaspoon marjoram
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
12 small white onions*
6-10 small potatoes*
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas and carrots
1 cup light cream

Pick meat from turkey bones, reserving 3 cups turkey meat. Place bones, celery leaves, water, beer and seasonings in large kettle. Bring to boil; reduce heat; simmer with cover on, about 1 hour. Strain stock. Add onions and potatoes to stock, simmering until vegetables are tender.

Combine flour and butter and slowly stir into stew until mixture thickens. Add peas and carrots and turkey meat. Simmer 10 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in cream. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

*If canned onions and potatoes are used, add with turkey meat.

FOIL WRAPPED — Keep turkey moist and tender by roasting in aluminum foil. Use it also to line casserole of brown sugar-topped onions and cling peaches and to shape pumpkin tarts for an easy and delicious dinner.

Schedule Benefit Programs

Pontiac Press Photo

Not since the days of World War II have needles clicked so fast and furiously. Twice a week knitters gather at the Lowell Court home of Mrs. A. O. Thalacker (left) and work on sweaters to be sold for the benefit of the American Field Service. Mrs. D. L. Dickinson of Birmingham (center) and Mrs. S. F. Leahy, Orchard Lake, are two of the regular knitters. A preview Christmas sale will be held at Mrs. Thalacker's home Nov. 27 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Two events have been scheduled for those interested in the American Field Service program.

Saturday at 8 p.m. in Groves High School on 13-Mile Road, Stanton Waterman will present his action color film "3000 Years Under the Sea."

★ ★ ★

Nov. 27 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Mrs. A. O. Thalacker will open her Lowell Court home for a preview Christmas sale of handknit sweaters, "different" Christmas decorations and unique gifts from all over the world.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Waterman's expedition in 1959 discovered remains of a cargo ship sunk during the Late Bronze Age. The adventure film features this treasure hunt and exploration of other wrecks in the same area.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Waterman narrates the film in person, accompanied by a special musical score.

★ ★ ★

Tickets are on sale at all area high schools or from any AFS member. Half the proceeds will be kept by the local chapter.

★ ★ ★

The preview sale at Mrs. Thalacker's home is the second one sponsored by the local AFS chapter for benefit of the students' exchange program.

★ ★ ★

Assisting Mrs. Thalacker will be Mrs. Charles Kleinsmith and Mrs. Guy Pitts, in charge of international gifts; Mrs. J. Reed Alexander, Mrs. Vaughan Garrison and Mrs. Henry Griksheit, in charge of knitting.

★ ★ ★

Area women have been meeting twice a week at Mrs. Thalacker's home to turn out the custom-designed sweaters.

★ ★ ★

After the preview sale they will start work on articles to be sold at the AFS Festival next April.

Sorority Places Fund Canisters

Preceding their meeting Thursday, members of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority distributed canisters to local merchants to aid the area Muscular Dystrophy Drive.

Mrs. Edmund O. Smith and Mrs. Edward Hummell directed this activity. The evening's hostess was Mrs. Calvin C. Warner of Ascot Road.

A benefit sale was announced for Saturday, Dec. 8 at the United Rubber Workers' Hall on Pike Street. The annual Christmas dinner is slated for Dec. 13 at Devon Gables.

Mrs. William Kay of Royal Oak was welcomed into the chapter. She was formerly with the Epsilon Rho Chapter in Oklahoma City, Okla. She will assume the duties of volunteer project committee chairman.

President Mrs. Anthony Grand presented Mrs. Paul Lampkin a pin of honorary membership.

The Christmas welfare work will be completed during the next meeting at the home of Betty Lou DeGroot of Denby Drive. A revision of the chapter by-laws will also be made at this time. Date of the meeting to be announced.

Joan Elizabeth Lang and John Kemper Cannon, son of the Earl Cannons of Birmingham, were wed Saturday in the Bloomfield Hills home of her parents, the Samuel J. Langs.

MRS. JOHN KEMPER CANNON

The John Cannons

Couple in West Indies

John Kemper Cannon and his bride, the former Joan Elizabeth Lang, left for a honeymoon in the British West Indies following their marriage and reception Saturday in the Bloomfield Hills home of her parents, the Samuel J. Langs.

Officiating at the ceremony was Bishop Marshall R. Reed of Detroit.

The bride's Renaissance gown of crystal white peau de soie featured a deep round decolletage, tapered bracelet sleeves and Empress train. Baroque embroidery of pearls shaped the high waistline.

★ ★ ★

Tiny pearl clusters bordered a curved court cap of pleated silk which held her petal-shaped illusion veil. Phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and ivy rested on her white prayer book.

★ ★ ★

Joan Robertson, the bride's only attendant, appeared in avocado green peau de soie with pleated gored skirt, square neckline and cap sleeves. She carried white Cymbidium orchids and ivy.

The bridegroom, son of the Earl Cannons of Birmingham, had Lee B. Durham Jr. of Birmingham for his best man.

Mrs. Lang chose a cloque brocade gown in star ruby tones and purse corsage of matching Cymbidium orchids. Bronze orchids atop her purse complemented Mrs. Cannon's gown of jacquard matelasse in shades of cafe au lait.

The new Mrs. Cannon is a graduate of Kingswood School and Duke University. Her husband is an alumnus of Yale University and the University of Michigan Law School. They will live in Detroit.

Punching Bag Problem

Urge Visit to Psychiatrist

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After 19 years of marriage, I finally hit my husband with the first thing I could get my hands on.

It was a tea kettle and it caught him on the elbow. He's been using me as a human punching bag (and in front of the children) for years and I finally couldn't take it any more.

ABBY

If I had it coming, I wouldn't complain, but he hits me for thinge like rolling the car window up when he wants it down. If I do something he doesn't like, instead of telling me he just gives me a crack across the jaw. Was I wrong in throwing the kettle at him? He says a wife is not supposed to hit her husband back.

BEATEN AND BRUISED

DEAR B AND B: A man who would repeatedly give his wife a crack across the jaw is sick. And a woman who would stick around for a repeat performance is sicker than the guy who hits her. Find a psychiatrist with two couches.

DEAR ABBY: I am a bank teller and I have a special depositor who comes to my window regularly with his deposit. My last name is TUCKER, and he has asked me several times if I knew where the expression, "all tuckered out" originated. I have tried to find out and have exhausted my sources. Can you help me?

A TUCKERED-OUT TUCKER

★ ★ ★

DEAR TUCKERED OUT: Now, I am also "tuckered out" trying to run down the origin. Does anyone out there know?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were invited to the home of neighbors for dinner. In the midst of the dinner my husband remarked how delicious the "chicken" was. Our host piped up and said it wasn't chicken—it was rabbit.

My husband turned green and left the table. Later he came back and offered a rather feeble apology, saying he had a pet rabbit when he was a boy, and had never eaten rabbit before. Our friends were cool to us all evening.

When we got home my husband told me never to take him anywhere unless we knew the people well enough to ask what they were serving. I told him rabbit never killed anybody and if he hadn't been told it was rabbit he'd have thought it was chicken. Who was right?

SMALL BATTLE

DEAR SMALL: Many people regard rabbit meat as a real treat—others can't even digest the thought of it. Don't subject your husband to another such experience (if you can help it). It's apparent that his prejudices are stronger than his stomach.

Dessert Party Helps Hostess

If entertaining at dinner is difficult at your house, home economists suggest you invite guests for a dessert party instead. Refrigerator desserts, or those that should be served warm can be made hours ahead of time. Pastries, rum soaked cakes and rich coffee cakes can be kept warm in the gas oven, preheated to 170 degrees. Make them look festive by garnishing with whipped cream and nuts. Serve with coffee or tea.

Slacks Not Slack

Nothing slack about the trousers lads will wear back to school. The narrow look expels cuffs and belts. One manufacturer even hides the pockets to assure smoother fit. At the ankle, the pants measure a skinny 13 inches.

'Teens Muffed for Winter

Teen-age girls will be muffled this winter. Chin-deep collars and yards of scarves add up to a muffled look in dashing greatcoats. Snow white wolf makes a fluffy neckline ring for a white wool chinchilla coat, and another chinchilla is dramatized by a chin-kissing collar. Long scarves, often lavishly fringed, trim tweed and plaid coats.

Editor Visits Squatter Home in Hills of Hong Kong

(Editor's Note — Hong Kong, British crown colony off the Red China coast, has one big problem: People. Thousands of people from the China mainland have jammed Hong Kong's housing to an impossible level. In the following dispatch, the first of two on the island colony's people problem, UPI women's editor Gay Pauley tells of her visit to a Hong Kong squatter's village.)

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

HONG KONG (UPI) — To the 11-member family of Lam Chen, (we shall not use his real name because relatives remain in Swatow, Red China) home is a hillside hut the size of the living room of a modest ranch house in the United States.

Its floor is concrete, its walls a makeshift bamboo, sack-cloth and corrugated metal protection against summer's blazing sun and winter's chill.

Its furnishings are little more than three crude cots arranged, two of them, bunk fashion along the wall; the third, suspended from the roof.

★ ★ ★

Sharing the 11- by 20-foot home are Chen's wife, eight children ranging from 10 years to 4 months in age, an elderly grandmother, and four half-grown pigs whose sty is beneath the suspended cot.

Also sharing the place — unbelievably small for such a number of people — is Chen's means of livelihood — a home industry of bean curd making.

HOME INDUSTRY

The day I visited the Chen home, the beginnings of the curd, a food resembling cheese, were steaming in a wooden vat in one corner of the room. Older children were wrapping squares of the finished curd.

Chen is one of the squatters — a half million — by a government count — who have helped to swell the British crown colony's population from 600,000 at the end of World War II to 3,133,131 counted in the 1961 census. Unofficial estimates now put the population at 3.5 million. More than 98 per cent of the population is Chinese.

★ ★ ★

And the government says that since 1949, when the Communists overran the Chinese mainland, one million migrants have come from China.

★ ★ ★

The birth rate runs above 100,000 a year — among the highest per capita in the world. And continuing migration — 50 are admitted legally each day but various sources say the number is closer 200 because of illegal entry — all adds up to one outsize headache for the government.

Where to put the people?

Especially the squatters. The government says that 72,000 of them live in makeshift quarters on rooftops.

SIX FEET SQUARE

Most, like Chen, have moved into the hills with which the cities are surrounded and hung their shacks, one against the other in deep festoons on land bared by the wartime search for fuel.

Many a family of four refugees in the city area occupies a six-foot cubicle. A Hong Kong newspaper recently told of one immigrant who had fashioned a "home" in a basket.

In the early years of the mass migrations, the squatters — most of them farmers in their homeland — went undisturbed, learning new trades with the typical resourcefulness of their people.

But the government moved settlement business when a Christmas fire in 1953, the worst in the colony's history, wiped out a squatter settlement and left 50,000 homeless.

By spring 1954, a resettlement department was established with a three-fold aim: To clear and rehouse the squatters occupying land needed for development (the squatters occupied the land for free); to administer resettlement estates; and to prevent new squatter structures from being built.

It decreed that all shacks built before 1954 — as Chen's almost overnight into the re- was — would at present be "tolerated." Any after 1954, ultimately would be abolished.

★ ★ ★

Martin Chu, assistant resettlement officer, took this reporter, a photographer, and three Navy officers in port with the U. S. air craft carrier Valley Forge on a tour of one squatter village on Kowloon. He said the government hopes to solve the squatter problem — get all resettled —in five years.

"But I don't know," said Chu. "The natural increase of the population is so rapid . . ."

Chen's home industry was one of several we saw in the village. There were a small bakery, a cafe, a barber shop and a carpentry shop.

The squatter is not a relief problem, Chu said. Ninety-nine per cent are self supporting.

★ ★ ★

Squatters live in conditions most unsanitary by any standard — the conditions have to be seen—and smelled — to be believed. Open drainage ditches carry refuse. Toilets are open latrines serving several families.

Water, in the case of the Kowloon village, is brought from taps available at the nearby resettlement estate — and at the moment, water, always scarce in Hong Kong, is available only four hours each day.

MASS INOCULATION

Yet epidemic disease has been kept under control, often through the government's mass inoculations for such as cholera.

A visitor to a squatter village is welcomed, not resented — the Chinese are naturally a hospitable people.

Chen rounded up the other 10 members of his family including the wrinkled, gray-haired grandmother to pose happily for our photographer.

★ ★ ★

A walk through the village, with chickens scattering along the path (there is nothing resembling a street, even an alley), makes one feel like a Pied Piper. In minutes, the children (it was after school hours. Chu said most go to school) were following. Their numbers grew the longer we walked.

★ ★ ★

Their clothes are meager but their smiles are abundant. No one begs. They all practice "Goodby" in English. We also taught them "Hello" and they delighted in shaking hands.

The three servicemen were Marine Lt. Ernest DeSautels of Milwaukee; Reserve Navy Lt. (jg) Charles Bordernkircher of Portland, Ore., and Marine Lt. Raymond Dunlevy of Providence, R. I.

To servicemen, Hong Kong s known as a "R and R" (rest and relaxation) port. But the three instead were spending a rainy day seeing a way of life few visitors investigate.

"I've heard some officers complaining about crowded quarters on the ship," said Lt. Dunlevy. "After this, they'll look like a suite at the Waldorf."

John P. John, the fashion world's "Mr. John," has established himself in the field of fine art as well. Above is "Sylphides," an example of his talents which demonstrates his belief that custom fashion and fine arts are interchangeable and indistinguishable. From the movement and vivid color in the painting, Mr. John also created this portrait hat of Princess Pink straw with its full blown silk roses as found in the painting.

Couple Speaks Vows in Lutheran Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church, Sharon Elaine Wheeler became the bride of Louis Kay Norberg Jr.

The newlyweds and their parents, the Burl G. Wheelers of Ostrum Street and the senior Norbergs of West Brooklyn Avenue, received some 200 guests in the UAW-CIO Hall on Baldwin Avenue.

★ ★ ★

A white satin pillbox with short veil complemented the bride's street-length gown of white satin brocade with elbow-length sleeves trimmed with white fox.

She wore the bridegroom's cultured pearl gift pendant and held a colonial bouquet of white carnations, red roses and lilies of the valley.

Susan Leigh Jones, who was maid of honor, appeared in carnation red silk faille with matching hat and shoes. Her semi-cascade bouquet included white carnations and red roses.

★ ★ ★

Dale Harvey performed the duties of best man and Richard Miller ushered.

The couple will live in Pontiac after a brief northern honeymoon.

Wearing red carnations at their shoulders were Mrs. Wheeler, attired in a royal blue knit costume suit, and the bridegroom's mother who chose a navy blue knit ensemble.

Customer Aggravated

Sloppy Waitress Problem

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE N-479: Tom G., aged 32, is a telephone executive.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "maybe I am unduly squeamish but I get irked by the way many waitresses contaminate food.

"For example, I dropped into a nice - looking eating place this noon.

"Then she plopped my silverware right down on that wet, greasy table top!

"Wouldn't you think a restaurant that didn't use tablecloths would, at lease use paper doilies or lay a large paper napkin down before placing the silverware in front of a diner?

"But that wasn't all! For she held my fork and spoon by the end that goes in your mouth, thus leaving her fingerprints thereon.

"And when she went to get me a pat of butter, she used her fingers.

★ ★ ★

"But she had just made change and handled dirty paper money. Yet she shifted immediately from the cash register to picking up a pat of butter, plus my bread, with her bare fingers.

"Finally, she served me on a cracked plate. Isn't there a public health law that condemns the use of cracked dishes by a restaurant?"

PSYCHOLOGY

A skillful waitress is a tremendous asset to a restaruant, but a sloppy girl can kill off trade faster than paid ads can attract it.

So all you folks who operate sandwich shops or dining places should be sure your waiters and waitresses employ the simple ABCs of restaurant hygiene.

★ ★ ★

First, you wipe off a table top with a wet rag, then carry a towel with which to dry the table.

And by all means keep the knife, fork and spoon encased in a napkin, either cloth or paper.

Don't lay silverware on a wet table top or even a dry one, without placing a napkin under it.

And never carry empty water glasses with your thumb or fingers rammed down therein.

Yet many waitresses will pick up several clean glasses at one time by running a thumb into one and her fingers into a couple more, thus carrying three at a time.

Cracked dishes are likewise taboo in restaurants, for literally millions of germs can hide in the cracks and then contaminate food.

Furthermore, a waitress should not pick up butter pats with her bare fingers, but should use a fork.

GET CHECKS OUT

The same is true for doughnuts or sweet rolls!

And when you have served a diner, by all means lay the check on the table at once!

Many a busy executive growls and becomes angry because he must wait to have the proper waitress come back to his table and fill out the check long after he has finished his food and is in a hurry to leave.

★ ★ ★

And be careful about acting as cashier as well as waitress at the same time. If so, by all means keep your contaminated fingers off the food as well as the mouth end of the silverware!

Finally, wear a smile and greet customers cordially.

Nod at the newcomers and say, "I'll be with you in a moment," even if you are occupied at another table, for customers like to be acknowledged at once!

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Extension Club Holds Dinner, Hears Lesson

Members of the Huron Gardens Extension Club gathered for a co-operative dinner Thursday in the home of Mrs. Charles Sibra on South Marshall Street.

Mrs. Leo Hould and Mrs. Jerry Hould gave a lession entitled "Christmas Workshop". Each member brought a game for the Pontiac Boys' Club.

Secret pals will be revealed at the Christmas party Dec. 5 in Airway Lounge.

Termite mounds, some of them 20 feet high, are used as road-paving material in parts of Africa. The hard, water-repellant mixture of earth and sand is excellent filling for mud holes that form in the rainy seasons.

Plans for Holidays

Auxiliary Convenes

A gift-wrapping and package-decoration demonstration was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson before members of the Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Ostrander of Loch Leven Road was hostess during the monthly meeting. Assisting her were Mrs. Jeffrey Cornish and Mrs. Richard Schwab.

★ ★ ★

The auxiliary plans to assist the Jaycees in their annual Christmas shopping tour, Dec. 20. Children from needy families will be given money and taken out to buy gifts for their families.

The Jaycees will help them wrap the gifts and serve refreshments after the shopping tour.

Final plans for the distribution of Thanksgiving baskets also were made.

Wever Group to Hear Talk

The Wever preschool study group will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the library. Bill Adams will speak on toys.

The White House was first occupied by the family of John Adams in 1800.

Local Callers at Detroit Convention

Thirteen square dance callers from the Pontiac area will participate in the Michigan Square Dance convention Nov. 23-24 in Cobo Hall, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Those participating are Sam Joan, Murray Ostrander, Norman Lock and Douglas Rieck. Others are Santee Brockman, Bob and Maria Spence, Bob Longe and Bob Newill.

The list concludes with Ed Russell, Charles Futrell, Mel Sheffer and Norman Hill.

A recently developed urethane coating is said to protect such diverse articles as shoes, golf balls and floors from abrasive wear.

Effects Way You Look

Flattering Lighting Vital

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Time was when "good lighting" mean enough wattage to be able to read without eyestrain.

★ ★ ★

Today the words have a much more complex meaning. Many companies are doing a great amount of research concerning lighting in order to help us look and feel our best at all times.

Flattering lighting in the home is important. It is also important to know about make-up and the effect of lighting on colors when you are going out for the evening.

Women avoid some restaurants because of the very trying lights. When a woman has spent time and effort on her appearance she dislikes lights which make her look hollow-eyed and washed out.

CANDLELIGHT

No doubt the beauties of the past were flattered by the soft, warm light of wax candle chandeliers. Today, soft pink lighting, or creamy illumination is kind to us.

★ ★ ★

Candlelight is becoming to everyone, except when the entire room is fairly dark and there is a candle just before you on the table. Move it to one side to avoid shadows above your eyes and nose.

When making up, keep in mind the place to which you are going. If the lights are going to be bright, don't use much more make-up than you would for daytime wear.

★ ★ ★

If the lighting is shaded, heavier make-up is indicated. Be careful of rouge. It tends to darken and shadow when the lights are low.

PALER COLORS

Lighting is also important in selecting the clothes you will wear. Black is always black, but harsh white light will intensify colors and may make them look glaring.

You'll be at your loveliest by candlelight, if you remember to select your make-up and your wardrobe with the lighting in mind.

Remember, too, that any lighting which has a color tone will turn white or beige or pale pastels into the same color cast. Deep reds and blues will appear black in dim lighting.

★ ★ ★

A good rule of thumb is to save your paler colors for the brighter lights at night and the very vivid ones for the candlelight cafe. Sparkly beads or sequins are also effective in soft lighting.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Clothes to Suit Your Figure and Personality," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 54 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Entertains OES Group

Mrs. Samuel Gray entertained members of Group No. 4, Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 228 at a luncheon Thursday. Mrs. Marie Gix was cohostess.

Plan Benefit for Hospital

The Boosters of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital plan a dinner dance at the Birmingham Country Club Dec. 1, 6:30 p.m. Proceeds from this affair will help complete the hospital employes' cafeteria.

This project of the boosters, now in its fourth year, completes assistance given the administration in decorating the hospital.

Chairman for the dinner dance is Dr. E. C. McPhee. Assisting with plans are Marie E. Hickey, Dr. Michael Kozonis, George Taylor, Mrs. John Petrakis, Mrs. James Hannan and Mrs. John Mahoney.

Also working on the project are Mrs. Charles Klinesmith, and Drs. Raymond Gagliardi, Thomas Sansone, Mrs. Meyer Simon and Norman Gehringer.

Now Mrs. Bowes

Peggy Wilson Wed

The Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was the setting for an evening reception following the Saturday vows of Peggy Ann Wilson and Ronald Gary Bowes, pledged before Rev. Theodore Allebach.

A gown of white rose point pattern sequined Chantilly lace over nylon tulle for the daughter of the Jesse W. Wilsons of East Tennyson Avenue swept into a chapel train.

French illusion fashioned her veil caught by a double pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Kathleen O'Brien served as maid of honor. Mrs. Anthony Buscemi and Mrs. Edwin Murray, both of Detroit attended their sister as bridesmaids.

Kimberly Ann Donahue of Detroit was her aunt's flower girl.

They wore Kelly green embossed taffeta with matching net headpieces and carried green-tipped white carnations.

★ ★ ★

William Bowes, Clarkston, was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy R. Bowes of Chamberlain Street. Ushers were Donald Alexander, Clarkston, and Thomas Simpson. Stephen Fritz, Drayton Plains, carried the rings.

White pompons accented Mrs. Wilson's aquamarine silk suit while the bridegroom's mother wore emerald green puffed brocade and corsage of butterscotch pompons.

Children Won't Accept an Unreal Choice

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In the park's playground Philip is deeply involved in the fascinating business of straining sand through the sandpile's sieve into his bright, new, red pail.

★ ★ ★

Notified that lunchtime is approaching, he ignores his mother. So she says coaxingly, "Wouldn't you like to come home and have some of that good chocolate pudding you liked so much last night instead of just going on straining sand through that dirty old sieve?"

"No," says Philip.

Whereupon his mother — who has not at all intended to give him his choice between chocolate pudding and sand-sieving — becomes impatient and resentful. She seizes the sieve and, pulling Philip to his feet, carries him kicking and screaming over to his stroller.

Offered a choice that is not a choice but is actually the other fellow's choice, we all scream and kick in our different ways.

Writes Dr. Beulah Parker, Clinical Instructor in Psychiatry at the University of California:

"Parents think they ought to feel permissive toward children but in reality they do not. They really feel that they should have some control over a child's choices but feel guilty about exerting it.

★ ★ ★

"They want to make him self-reliant by permitting him choices between two alternatives — but if he chooses the one they cannot accept, they try to make him change his mind without letting him know that they are manipulating him.

"This makes for a lot of confusion in his mind which I will not elaborate. I would like to elaborate the point:

"When your employer offers you a better job and then hires someone else to do it, you don't trust his reliability again.

FEEL RESENTMENT

"When your husband promises to buy matinee tickets for you and your visiting mother only to forget to buy them, you feel resentment at his pretense of interest in your wish that he has not genuinely felt.

"When an upholsterer says he'll re-cover your sofa for $150 and then sends you a bill for $200, you feel outrage at his abuse of your desire for a re-covered sofa to milk you of more money."

So did Philip feel distrust, resentment and outrage at the mother who offered him freedom to continue play while secretly planning to remove him from it.

As Dr. Parker suggests, it would have been less wasteful to say to Philip:

★ ★ ★

"You must stop playing now. It's time to go home for lunch."

Frost Nip—Frostbite

FROSTBITE

A. Continuation of the discussion of last week. True frostbite, even in mild form, causes some real damage to affected tissues. Do not try to rewarm frostbite on the trail. Contrary to popular belief, a person can walk long distances on frozen feet without further injury — and thus get himself to a treatment area without much assistance. If frozen feet or toes are rewarmed on the trail, the patient immediately becomes a litter case. No patient should be permitted to walk on thawed feet or toes, because very serious loss of tissue is almost certain to result. Give warm liquids and sandwich the patient between two warm people under blankets after removal of his cold outer clothing. He should not be permitted to smoke or drink alcohol during the recovery phase. Get the patient to a hospital or doctor's office as quickly as possible. One last bit of advice. A frozen part should never be rubbed before, during or after rewarming, or rubbed with snow or thawed in cold water. Cold applications to a frozen part makes as much sense as treating a burned foot by putting it in an oven!

It's Proper to Clap for Your Son

By the Emily Post Institute

Q. My son played a very difficult piece on the piano at a recital recently. He played it very well and received a great deal of applause from the audience.

I applauded along with them. My husband who was seated beside me did not applaud and told me later that I should not have done so either.

He said it is not proper to applaud a member of one's family. Will you please tell me if this is true?

A: It was entirely proper to join the rest of the audience in applauding your son's playing. It would not, however, have been in good taste to have applauded conspicuously or longer than the others.

* * *

Q. Is it permissible to correct visiting children in the presence of their parents when the children are proving destructive and the parents sit by and say nothing?

I have many lovely ornaments around my house and whenever I see the children touching them I get nervous for fear they might break them.

I suppose I could put them safely out of reach but I don't see why I have to rearrange my house just because they are not taught to keep hands off other people's possessions.

A: Whether the parents like it or not, you have no choice but to say, "please don't touch that," unless you are willing to have your things broken.

County Agent Offers Advice on Laminates

"Laminates aren't difficult to sew with if you handle them properly," says Mary Hardy, Oakland County Extension Agent, Home Economics.

Your pattern should be simple in design, and it should have as few seams and extra details as possible.

Mrs. Hardy points out that the grain or rib of the fabric cannot be seen from the foam side. You should straighten fabric ends perpendicular to the selvage to keep the grain straight.

"For easier passage through the machine, you may sew strips of tissue paper, fabric strips of organdy or batiste or seam tape into the seam," Mrs. Hardy says.

"Press laminates with a steam iron from the right side of the fabric," the home economist says. "If you are pressing plain seams on the wrong side, you should place strips of paper under seam edges to protect the foam."

Recognize a Hard Villain

Hard water is a villain that's hard to recognize. It puts scale in the water heater, plumbing and pipes. It turns colored clothes dull and white clothes gray. It deposits lime scale and soap curd on the inner parts of the washing machine and dishwasher. What can be done about it? The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests the use of packaged softeners and synthetic detergents or a mechanical water softener. The saving on soap and equipment will more than pay for the water softener over a period of years.

Polly's Pointers

Use Vinegar Primer

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Ever notice how paint peels off galvanized pipe, such as down spouts or duct work in the basement, wash it with vinegar and let it dry. A white substance will form which can be washed off—then paint. Acid is sometimes used for this but it is dangerous because it may give you a severe burn or eat a hole in clothing.

J.F.

DEAR POLLY — To the ladies who like to knit socks: knit the toe with a different color yarn. When a hole appears, it is quite simple to ravel these stitches and reknit a new toe instead of darning.

DEAR POLLY — If your walls are painted, fill a screw-top baby food jar with leftover paint for touching up chipped places. Just stir with an ice cream sucker stick and paint with a cotton swab.

DEAR POLLY — I carry a clip clothespin in my purse with my name on it and clip my galoshes together when I attend any large gathering.

Junior Musicians Hold Thanksgiving Meeting

The Pontiac Junior Musicians answered roll call Saturday afternoon in the home of Ruth Ann and Deborah Garner on Lonedale Road by giving personal reasons for Thanksgiving this year.

The "Prayer of Thanksgiving," a Netherlands melody, was played by Deborah Garner. The lyrics, written by Dr. Theodore Baker, were then sung by Denise Mae Roderick.

Glenda Farnsworth, program chairman, who told the story of Johann Strauss, played "The Emperor's Waltz" and introduced Kurt Anselmi, Mark and Debi Davis, Ruth Ann Garner, Pamela Martin and Denise Roderick who played piano numbers. Ann Latoza gave a Thanksgiving reading. Games and a social hour followed.

Heather Sue Lockhart will assist the chairman in planning the Dec. 15 Christmas program with the theme "What Christmas Means to Me."

* * *

The senior group were guests of Mrs. Oscar Schmidt Friday evening in her Utica Road home. Pamela Pillow and Daniel Arnold assisted during the social hour.

* * *

Violinists Belinda Keefer and Patti Swartz played the hymn-of-the-month, "Come Ye Thankful People, Come," with Daniel Arnold at the piano. Peggy Jones and Pamela Pillow presented solo numbers.

* * *

Elizabeth Crocker is chairman for a special guest night program Jan. 18.

Big Dems Map Tactics

LANSING (UPI) — The top brass of Michigan's Democratic party — save lame duck Gov. John B. Swainson — held a preliminary meeting yesterday aimed at setting up a party program for the next two years.

Among the major decisions reached were these:

—The Democrats will cooperate with the Republicans in staging official functions at the Jan. 1 inauguration ceremonies, but social affairs will remain on a strictly two-party basis.

— John J. (Joe) Collins, who gave up a well-paying insurance career last February, will apparently remain as chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee for at least two more years.

AREA NEWS

— And Gov. Swainson, even after his term expires, will continue to be recognized as titular head of the party.

Following the five-hour meeting here Collins said party harmony had been the keynote of the affair.

He said, "This was a preliminary meeting to bring everybody's mind together on how to operate during the next two years in relation to party organization. The administrative board agreed to meet often as a group and the party will set up much the same organizational machinery as the governor ordinarily does."

Collins said by setting up organizational machinery he meant the state central office would be responsible for much of the research and drafting of legislative proposals the Democrats will make after Republican George Romney is inaugurated.

Because of the loss of the governor's office in the Nov. 6 general election, Collins said, "There is now a need for much closer liaison between the party and the ad board members."

AD BOARD PRESENT

All of the ad board members — Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, Secretary of State James M. Hare, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, Auditor General Billie S. Farnum, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett — were present for the meeting.

Also on hand were Collins, Neil Staebler, the party's national committeeman who was elected congressman-at-large in the Nov. 6 balloting, and National Committeewoman Millie M. Jeffrey of Detroit.

It was learned the elected officials and Mrs. Jeffrey unanimously voted to ask Collins to hold his party chairmanship for another two years. Since the election Collins has served without pay and it had been indicated earlier he might resume his insurance work in Jackson.

However, he said because of the action by the rest of the party leaders, he will be a candidate for re-election to the chairmanship at the party's spring convention. From Feb. 1 of this year until the general election Collins received pay of $25 a day plus a car and telephone. It is believed if he is retained in the job it will be made a full-time, salaried position.

Collins said in reply to an invitation made by Romney for a bipartisan inauguration it was "agreed to follow the procedures of 1950 and 1952 when the situation was reversed and the Democrats held only the governor's office.

BIPARTISAN SERVICE

"The party will carry on with its normal social functions but I will get in touch this week with George Van Peursem (Republican state chairman) and try to work out on a bipartisan basis the inauguration ceremonies on the Capitol frontsteps and the joint reception in the governor's office."

Collins said no specific action was taken concerning the constitution which will be presented to the voters at the spring election. "The State Central Committee will set the party position on that point sometime in December," he said.

★ ★ ★

Other Democrats said spring campaign strategy was also touched upon but none would indicate what specific issues might have been taken up.

This 'Going' Candle Shop Is Just 'as Busy as a Bee'

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — There's plenty of "goings on" in a fascinating little shop near Holly as the Charles Goings produce dripless, smokeless and "bendless" beeswax candles.

★ ★ ★

And these are not ordinary candles.

★ ★ ★

Each one is individually created by Going who is a go-between gift agent for business and industry. He makes the job of finding unusual gifts for employes easier for company officials.

The thrill of his weekend hobby of creating beautiful and unusual-shaped candles is beginning to pay off and may end up a full time operation.

FOR ALL OCCASIONS

There are candles for every occasion. Like slim, orange-colored spears decorated for Thanksgiving with tiny pumpkins sticking to the sides. There are life-like bats and witches clinging to long tapers for Halloween.

★ ★ ★

Red, white and blue "twists" are for the Fourth of July, along with foot-high beeswax missile shaped candles.

The Goings and Their Candles

Now the little shop, Going Enterprises, is a "beehive of activity," getting orders ready for the big Christmas rush.

The inevitable holly (made of beeswax) adorns the base of a towering three-foot honeycomb tree. Ribbon candystripe swirls look almost good enough to eat and sparkling white Christmas bells are all over his shop.

STARTED 5 YEARS AGO

It all started five years ago when Going was asked by one of the Big Three automakers to "find something different in the way of a Christmas candle."

★ ★ ★

Most companies have holiday parties for their employes and to find an impressive take-home gift is of utmost importance.

★ ★ ★

The Goings' traveled far and wide seeking an unusual candle, and finally in disgust returned home to design and create one of their own.

The auto company men were so pleased with the results that Going—without any candlemaking experience — has "gone on from there."

As for his experience as an artistic candlemaker, Going said, said, "I never had an art lesson in my life, and I never saw anyone make any kind of a candle."

However, his natural flair for putting unusual colors together with unusual shapes is slowly winning the gentleman fame in Michigan and throughout the country.

Pair on Honeymoon

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Touring northern Michigan on their honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dale Lawson, who exchanged vows Saturday in the First Methodist Church of Clarkston.

Rev. William Richards officiated.

The bride is the former Lynda Lou Coleman, daughter of Mrs. Wendell Coleman, 3177 Caroline St., and the late Mr. Coleman. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson, 6075 Orion Road, Independence Township.

MRS. ROBERT D. LAWSON

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white silk net over taffeta featuring a molded bodice touched with white seed pearls, cap sleeves and a chapel train. Her waist-length veil of silk net was held by a crystal tiara crown.

★ ★ ★

She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and miniature white rosebuds centered with a corsage of yellow roses.

Maid of honor was Susan Hayes of Rochester. Mary Joyce Petty of Lake Orion and Carole Kassube of Warren were bridesmaids.

William Shriber of Sawyer assisted as best man. The guests were seated by Robert Vihburt of Birmingham and Harvey Petty of Lake Orion.

Following the 2 p.m. ceremony a reception was held at the Clarkston Community Center.

The couple will reside in Independence Township.

Troy Group to Hear Cuban Refugee Talk

TROY — A Cuban refugee will discuss her adjustment to life in the United States at tomorrow's meeting of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church here.

Mrs. Jose A. Costillo, of Detroit, will speak at 1 p.m. in the church. The public is invited to attend her talk.

Prior to her lecture there will be a 10:30 a.m. executive meeting of the association, a business meeting at 11 a.m. and a pot luck luncheon at noon.

Announce Engagement of Rochester Girl

ROCHESTER — The engagement of Barbara Jean Werth to Dr. Arnold D. Levine is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Werth of 908 Fairveiw St.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Levine of New York City, N.Y.

Suffers Cuts in Avon Crash

Severe lacerations of the head and face were suffered by a Dearborn man Saturday when his car left the road and rolled over in Avon Township.

Charles H. Kiser, 56, is in satisfactory condition at the Avon Medical Center.

Sheriff deputies said Kiser apparently was traveling too fast and lost control of his car. The accident occurred near 885 Parkdale at about 5:30 p.m.

NANCY LEE MYERS

The engagement of Nancy Lee Myers to Dennis J. Peltier is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Myers of 520 W. Third St., Rochester. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Peltier of 211 Helen St., Rochester. A February wedding is planned.

Strike Ends at Dearborn

Mobil Oil Co. Workers Both Lose and Gain

DETROIT (AP) — A five-month-old strike at the Mobil Oil Co. terminal in Dearborn was ended yesterday as Local 7-389 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union ratified a new contract.

A strike by Local 7-456, however, continues at Mobil's refinery in Trenton, where 246 workers walked out Sept. 28, in support of the June 26 walkout of their fellow unionists at the Dearborn terminal.

★ ★ ★

The terminal strike at times was marked by violence.

Local 7-389 finally gave in on the issue on which it called the terminal strike, but won other concessions.

The strike erupted over the company's decision to transfer six loaders to other jobs at the terminal and require drivers to load their own tank trucks.

Several loaders refused to work on their new assignments and were disciplined. The strike followed.

WIN CONCESSIONS

In the settlement, the union won a union membership clause, a dues checkoff, a funeral-leave clause and the right of any employe to apply for any jobs open in the company.

The company also agreed to pay those of 166 union employes who had vacations coming during the strike.

★ ★ ★

No wage agreement, however, was reached. The union has the right to negotiate for a new wage rate after a national pattern has been established, and, at the same time, has the right to strike over wages by giving 72 hours notice.

★ ★ ★

In addition to those at the Trenton refinery, the Oil, Chemical and Atomic workers are on strike at Mobil refineries in East Chicago, Ind., and East St. Louis, Ill. The refineries, however, have been kept in operation by supervisory personnel.

Highland Twp. Man Dies While Hunting

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — A 62-year-old Highland Township man died yesterday while hunting near Rose City.

Glenn Hutchings, of 2338 N. Milford Rd., was found dead in woods north of Rose City in Ogemaw County last night.

The county coroner said death was from natural causes.

Antitax Signature Drive Reaches Halfway Point

The Vigilance Tax Committee's drive to outlaw Detroit's income tax on nonresidents is near the halfway point, according to Berkley Mayor George Kuhn, committee chairman.

Kuhn said 105,000 signatures have been collected on petitions which will ask the legislature to outlaw Detroit's 1 per cent income tax becouse it is levied against nonresidents who work in the city.

The committee is shooting for 250,000 signatures although it needs about 216,000 to call for such a law.

Kuhn said the group hopes for the extra signatures in the event some petitions were challenged.

The deadline for the drive is Dec. 15 and public officials plan an all-out push for more signers on Nov. 26. They will gather at key intersections in the area to pass out petitions to morning rush hour motorists.

Kuhn said petitions will also be circulated during the J. L. Hudson Thanksgiving Day Parade in downtown Detroit.

More than one-third of the signatures obtained to date have been from Warren, Royal Oak and Dearborn.

The committee was formed last spring to fight Detroit's income tax. It received about $20,000 in contributions and tested the legality of the tax in Wayne County Circuit Court. It has appealed the court's adverse decision to the State Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

If the petition drive is successful, the legislature would have to put the question to the voters in a statewide referendum and let the people decide if they want such a law.

House Ruined by Blaze in White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Fire destroyed the second house in two weeks here yesterday, leveling the summer home of James Hoomaian, 10834 Hillway St., on Bogie Lake.

Firemen arrived at 7:15 p.m. and found the house "just about gone," according to Fire Department Lieutenant James Gilmore.

He said efforts were concentrated on keeping a neighboring house from burning.

Cause of the fire and estimates of damage were undetermined.

Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz said one-third of the house is covered by insurance. No one was in the home when the fire occurred.

Farm Taxes Up by 6.3 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farm real estate tax levies in 1961—generally payable in early 1962—totaled $1,329,500,000, up 6.3 per cent from 1960 levies, according to the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service (ERS).

The levies of 1962, payable early next year, are expected to increase to about $1.409 billion. This would bring taxes per acre of farmland to $1.38 compared with $1.30 in 1961, and an average of about $1.06 in 1957-59.

ERS said farm real estate tax levies comprised 6 per cent of total production expenses in 1960. In general, the proportion of total production expenses accounted for by farm real estate taxes has been rising since 1944. The 1961 percentage is the largest since 1941.

Three states — California, Illinois and Iowa — accounted for more than one-fourth of the taxes levied on farm real estate in 1961. These levies were California, $150.3 million; Illinois, $126.5 million; and Iowa, $107.6 million.

Taxes per acre of farm real estate in 1961 were higher than in 1960 in every state except Rhode Island, which showed a very small decrease. The greatest increase, 59 per cent, was found in Alaska.

Six other states showed increases of more than 10 per cent. In 28 states the increase was from 5 to 10 per cent, and in 14 states it was less than 5 per cent.

As in recent years, 1961 taxes per acre of farm real estate averaged highest in New Jersey at $10.16 and lowest in New Mexico at 15 cents.

In 16 states the average tax per acre was more than $2, in 13 states it was between $1 and $2, and in 21 states it was less than $1.

Variations among states in average tax per acre reflect differences in the value of farmland and the relative value of improvement, as well as the role given to the property tax in state-local fiscal systems.

Thus, in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Rhode Island, where taxes per acre average highest, the property tax occupies a relatively important place in the tax structure.

In addition, agriculture in these states is characterized by small, intensively operated farms having high values per acre and large average investments in improvements.

MOLASSES PUDDING — Old-fashioned molasses pudding has a delightful gingerbread flavor. Excellent when served warm, it tastes almost as good the day after. Serve with cream cheese and orange topping.

Fragrant Molasses Pudding Is a Gem

Molasses pudding is a good keeper, remains fresh several days to a week. It can be reheated or served cold with a warm sauce and can be varied in serving with many toppings. It takes to all kinds of fruit sauces, whipped cream, or ice cream.

Old-Fashioned Molasses Pudding

Two and one-quarter cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup water
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
2 tablespoons milk.

Sift together flour, sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt. Add butter or margarine; cut with two knives or pastry blender to resemble coarse meal.

Combine unsulphured molasses, water and soda. Alternate crumbs and liquid in a greased 8x8x2-inch square pan, beginning and ending with crumbs. Stir gently only 2 or 3 times with a fork.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour. When ready to serve, blend together cream cheese on top of each square. Top each serving with orange sauce. Makes 9 servings.

Orange Sauce

One tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 orange, sectioned

Mix together cornstarch, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Blend in orange juice gradually; add orange rind. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add orange sections; heat. Makes 1¼ cups.

Flavor of Tuna Comes to Fore

A small amount of mayonnaise is used in this salad — with weight-watchers in mind.

Mary's Tuna Salad

1 can (7 ounces) tuna, solid pack
½ cup finely diced celery
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
Salad vegetables

Drain tuna; break up with a fork; mix with celery, onion, mayonnaise and salt and pepper. Arrange on salad greens; garnish with sliced cucumber, green pepper strips or radishes. Makes 3 servings.

Turkeys Classed by Age

Fryer-roasters, young, yearling and mature are broad classes into which turkeys are classed. A more exacting definition of each is:

Fryer-Roaster Turkeys: young immature turkeys, usually under 16 weeks of age, of either sex. Tender-meated, with soft, pliable, smooth textured skin and flexible breastbone cartilage. The fryer-roaster turkeys range in ready-to-cook weight usually from 4 to 6 pounds up to 10 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Young Turkeys, Young Hen Turkeys and Young Tom Turkeys: are usually between 5 and 7 months old. Hen turkeys are female birds; Tom turkeys, the male birds, while a Young turkey may be of either sex. They are tender-meated with up, soft, pliable, smooth-textured skin, and breastbone cartilage that is somewhat less flexible than in a fryer-roaster turkey. Young Tom and Hen turkeys range in ready-to-cook weight from 6 to 24 pounds, and up.

Yearling Hen and Tom Turkeys: are fully matured turkeys usually under 15 months of age, that are reasonably tender-meated, with reasonably smooth-textured skin. Ready-to-cook weights range from 10 to 20 pounds, and up.

Mature Turkeys Or Old Turkey Hens Or Toms: are birds of either sex, usually in excess of 15 months with coarse skin and toughened flesh. Weights, ready-to-cook, range from 10 to 20 pounds, and ROUND SERVINGS — This is the way you may be buying ice cream in the near future — packaged by the quart in a polyethylene wrapper. To serve, you slice through the plastic film and the ice cream just as you do for slice-and-bake cookies. Jess Cummings, president of the Pontiac company that licenses the new process, says smaller packs to make two cones are being considered. At present only a couple of stores in Dearborn have the new ice cream rolls.

Bake a Souffle Loaf, Top With Asparagus

Here's a festive holiday dish that can attractively supplement any leftover meats or poultry.

Molded Cheese Souffle With Asparagus

15-18 spears of cooked asparagus
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
4 eggs, separated
1 cup grated cheese
Dash of cayenne
2 tablespoons diced pimiento

Melt butter in a saucepan; blend in the flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese and beat in egg yolks one at a time. Add pimiento. Carefully fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into a well greased 2-quart loaf pan. Place in pan of hot water and bake in a 375 degrees F. oven for about 50 minutes. Let cool 2 or 3 minutes; run knife around edge of pan and unmold on serving dish.

Arrange well-drained asparagus on top of souffle. Serve in slices. 6 servings.

POETIC DESSERT — Banana Kataif is a modern version of an ancient recipe praised by the Arabian poet, Masudi, who lived ten centuries ago. This sumptuous dessert of honey, lemon juice, almonds and delicious flavorful bananas will delight your guests as it did the caliphs of Persia ages ago. Black coffee with it, please.

Beat Egg First

Know how to divide an egg when you are halving a recipe that calls for only one egg? Beat the egg lightly with a fork in a cup and then measure with a tablespoon.

West Germans annually send Germans in East Germany between 30 million and 40 million gift parcels.

Bananas, Honey, Nuts Team Up in Dessert

If we were to compile a "Social Register" of recipes, one of the candidates for the elite list would be Kataif. Its proud lineage goes back many centuries. The famed Arabian historian and traveler, Abu-Al-Hasan Ali Al-Masudi, who died in 956 A.D., wrote of the popularity of this delightful concoction of almonds, honey, nut oil and bananas . . . and here we find the earliest references to the luscious bananas still enjoyed so much.

★ ★ ★

To suit our modern taste, a touch of lemon juice has been added to the honey, and, together with crunchy chopped almonds and chunklets of creamy bananas, it's served in featherly light pastry shells. It's the simplest thing to prepare (you can use convenient frozen patty shells) . . . but, oh, what a conversation piece it makes when you serve it!

Try also Bananas Jubilee . . . another old-time favorite . . . so festive as a party dessert. Black coffee (the Turkish variety, if you prefer) is a must with both.

Banana Kataif

¼ cup chopped blanched almonds
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup honey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 package (6) frozen patty shells, baked
3 medium bananas, all yellow

Cook almonds in butter until golden. Stir in honey and boil rapidly, stirring occasionally, 5 minutes or until well thickened. Stir in lemon juice; cool to lukewarm. Slice bananas and layer alternately with honey mixture in patty shells, ending with honey mixture. Chill. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: If desired, arrange additional banana slices around top of each patty shell in petal design just before serving.

Bananas Jubilee

½ cup strong coffee
1-3 cup coffee liqueur
½ teaspoon cornstarch
4 medium bananas, all yellow
2 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds
2 tablespoons brandy

Mix coffee, coffee liqueur and cornstarch together in chafing dish or skillet. Slice in bananas. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, 2 minutes or until slightly thickened. Sprinkle with almonds. Heat brandy slightly; ignite and pour over bananas. Serve banana jubilee over ice cream or cake. Makes 6 servings.

UNBAKED COOKIES — High protein cereal is combined with peanut butter and a sugar syrup to make cookies you let set in the refrigerator. Over the pan of uncut cookies you spread a mixture of chocolate and butterscotch. Sweet and simple.

Chill Cookies Before Frosting

A snack that's quick to catch on and become a past favorite is K-Bars. Cookie-like, yet unbaked, the bars consist of a combination of ready-to-eat high protein cereal, a sugar syrup and peanut butter. When this mixture has set, top it with a satiny icing blending milk chocolate and butterscotch pieces.

K-Bars can be cut easily and neatly to serve at gatherings of youngsters or teenagers.

K-Bars

½ cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
¾ cup peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
4 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
3 1-ounce milk chocolate bars
1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) butterscotch pieces

Combine sugar and syrup in medium-sized saucepan. Cook over moderate heat until mixture boils. Remove from heat. Stir in peanut butter and vanilla; mix well. Add cereal; stir until well-blended. Press mixture into buttered 9x9-inch pan. Let stand in cool place to harden.

Melt chocolate bars and butterscotch pieces together over hot but not boiling water, stirring until well-blended. Remove from heat. Spread chocolate-butterscotch frosting evenly over cookies. Cool until firm. Cut into bars. Yield: 32 bars, 2x1 inches.

You Can Choose Any Size Bird but Have Enough

Many of us recall the Thanksgivings of our childhood as occasions when the groaning board groaned with the sheer weight of the turkey. It didn't matter much what size the family was the giant turkey towered over everything on the table. Times and turkeys have both changed. Now you can get turkeys any size you like, from six to thirty pounds, to fit any size gathering.

For a successful Thanksgiving feast, there are just a few rules to remember about the turkey. Theoretically, you allow three-quarters of a pound of turkey per serving.

Actually, it's safer and more gracious to allow a pound; in other words, a six-pound for six and an eight-pound turkey for eight. Then, there will be turkey enough for second servings. You'll have a little meat left over—just enough for sandwiches or a quick turkey casserole the next day—and you'll be spared the embarrassment of using every last scrap at Thanksgiving dinner.

Nutty Chocolate Flavor

Make a smooth frosting with nutty flavor by adding peanut butter to frosting mix. Add ½ cup of peanut butter thinned with ½ cup of water to chocolate fudge frosting mix. Blend as label directs. Use for chocolate or white layer cake or cupcakes.

Lusty Education Industry Boosts Sickly UP Economy

HANCOCK, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's Upper Peninsula has one booming industry. It has been growing over the last decade and expects multimillion dollar expansion over the next five years.

★ ★ ★

The industry is higher education—as represented by Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie, Northern Michigan College at Marquette, Suomi College here at Hancock, Gogebic Junior College at Ironwood, and Escanaba's proposed Delta Community College that won voter approval in the Nov. 6 election.

Enrollments at the four established colleges have more than tripled in the last 10 years — from 2,162 in 1952 to 7,467 in 1962.

And the educators believe their institutions possibly hold the key to a general economic comeback in the 16,500 square miles of Michigan that lie above the Straits of Mackinac.

Although rich in natural resources, the Upper Peninsula has been sliding backward economically in recent years. It lost 65 industrial plants and 4,000 jobs between 1954 and 1959.

★ ★ ★

Several high-cost, deep-shaft iron mines have been forced to close, and so have some similar copper mines.

Some new wood-using industries and a tremendous growth in tourism have slowed the slide.

ECONOMIC SPARKS

Dr. M. E. Volin, director of Michigan Tech's Institute of Mineral Research, has come up with two developments that may turn the economy upward.

★ ★ ★

One is a new method of briquetting iron ores with an aim of making deep-shaft mines once again competitive. And Dr. Volin said recently: "I think it can be done."

Another Volin development is a new method of reclaiming copper that now escapes with ore wastes in milling processes. Being tested in a pilot plant at White Pine, it holds promise of getting a fifth more copper out of each ton of ore.

Northern Michigan College, which is going to shoot for university status in the next session of the legislature, established through the Area Redevelopment Administration a training center to upgrade workers in such needed skills as welding, machine tool operating and secretarial services.

The Marquette institution also has inaugurated the Northern Michigan College Press to make its research results and other printed materials available to more people.

CAMPUS GROWS

Northern Michigan's growth has been phenomenal over the last decade. For instance, in 1952, enrollment was 586 and today it is 3,064. The campus has grown from 80 to 160 acres, the number of buildings from 7 to 28, and the physical plant investment from $4.7 million to $14.9 million.

★ ★ ★

Of the enrollment increase, 199.6 per cent has occurred under Dr. Edgar L. Harden, a Michigan State University go-getter aide to President John Hannah before becoming Northern president in 1956.

★ ★ ★

The Harden administration broke ground last month for a new $2.6 million fine and practical arts building—the 17th new unit added since 1956.

Already approved for No. 18 is a $1.5 million addition to Northern's student center.

After that, Harden has plans calling for a natural science building to house five departments, a new education and laboratory school building, and an additional residence hall of 600 beds.

OTHERS BUILD

Michigan Tech broke ground Sept. 17 for a new $2.7-million math-physics building, the first classroom structure built on the Houghton campus with tax monies since 1957 and only the second in 30 years.

But President John R. Van Pelt has catch-up building plans for Tech. An ambitious five-year program calls for expenditure of $14.6 million on the Houghton campus and $3 million at the college's Sault Ste. Marie branch.

★ ★ ★

Including such self-liquidating projects as dormitories and student center, Tech has carried out $10.8 million in construction work in the last 10 years.

Tech's Houghton enrollment now is 2,765. The Sault Ste. Marie branch has 608. Ten years ago the enrollments were 1,150 and 274, respectively.

Suomi College at Hancock also has had growing pains and is planning a $500,000 expenditure within the year for a dormitory and student center, and an additional $150,000 for a library within the next two years.

Suomi is one of 21 colleges operated by the Lutheran Church in America. It originally was founded by the Finnish Lutheran Church, which consolidated with the United, Augustana (Swedish) and American Evangelical (Danish) Lutherans to form the Lutheran Church in America.

★ ★ ★

Suomi had only 75 students in 1952. As late as 1956 it had only 114. Now it has 234.

ATTENDANCE UP

Gogebic Junior College at Ironwood was founded in 1932. It had only 77 students in 1951-52, down from a peak attendance of 325 in 1946-47 when iron mining flourished in the Ironwood region. Now it has 236 enrolled.

Delta County voters gave a rousing 6,862-to-3,231 margin to a proposal on the Nov. 6th ballot authorizing establishment of a new two-year community college at Escanaba.

★ ★ ★

A tax millage increase to finance the new institution won by a margin of 5,149 to 4,515. Six trustees also were elected from a 14-candidate ticket.

★ ★ ★

The Delta County Board of Education will operate the college, but plans call for its expansion to also serve the adjoining counties of Menominee and Schoolcraft. An enrollment of some 200 is expected.

State aid is expected to provide about a third of the necessary funds, with local taxes and tuition charges providing the remainder.

To Give Talk on Exporting

How a Detroit firm found new profits and growth by entry into foreign markets will be the topic of a Detroit businessman who will speak at an Export Sales Workshop Nov. 27 at Michigan State University Oakland.

Charles Letts, exexcutive vice president of Letts Industries in Detroit, will give a speech entitled, "Success Story," describing the effect of exporting on his firm, a manufacturer of industrial equipment.

Other panelists at the all-day workshop will discuss promoting and advertising of the export business, government services, shipping, documenting, financing and insuring export sales.

The workshop is planned for businessmen whose firms have done little or no export business but want to learn how to enter foreign markets.

Cosponsors are the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. Small Business Administration and the Division of Continuing Education, MSUO. Reservations may be made by calling the latter.

Transit Organizer Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—John Van Der Kolk, 68, who organized Holland's bus transportation system in 1945 and had managed it since, died yesterday in a Grand Rapids hospital of a long illness.

Dr. Wayne Brandstadt Says:

Confinement Discouraged After Surgery

Not many years ago when a person had his appendix out he was kept in bed for at least two weeks. In that way supposedly he got a good rest and there was no strain on the incision.

I knew a surgeon in those days (we will call him Dr. Otto) who used to make his patients get up on the second day after he had taken out the appendix.

BRANDSTADT

His colleagues in the medical profession thought he was touched in the head and believed that his victims would have a heart attack or some unwelcome complication.

After all, keeping a man in bed after an operation had been the usual practice for as long as any one could remember, so it must be the proper thing to do.

All of his patients got along fine, however, and were back at work a full week ahead of the patients of the other surgeons.

Several years later some research-minded surgeons studied the matter.

They let a person sit up on the day after an operation with feet over the side of the bed.

On the next day they let him stand by the bed and allowed him to use a commode chair instead of a bed pan.

On the third day they encouraged a brief walk around the room and sitting in a chair for an hour or two. From then on activity was increased rapidly within the limits of the patient's strength.

INACTIVITY NO GOOD

Well, it turned out that Crazy Otto was right.

We now know that one can get weary just lying in bed doing nothing, and that doing nothing makes you restless rather than rested.

Enforced inactivity isn't good for anyone. It causes the muscles to get weak and flabby and that includes the muscles of the heart.

It causes the circulation to become sluggish thus increasing the danger of clots forming and plugging the smaller blood vessels.

It causes the digestion, especially the lower tract, to slow up so that gas pains become a very annoying problem.

* * *

Inactivity also causes certain essential nutrients in the blood to escape through the kidneys thus robbing the body of the very sources of strength needed for recovery.

If continued for too long, bedsores can develop in spite of meticulous cleanliness and measures taken to prevent them.

Surgeons have now learned how to sew up a wound in layers with strong sutures that will withstand normal strain.

These are the reasons surgeons now get you back on your feet as fast as possible.

The person who says, "I'm so tired, I could sleep for a week" never does sleep that long, and if forced to stay in bed more than two days after an operation he would rebel.

It is true that after certain delicate operations on the eyes a person must stay in bed for longer periods but this is accepted as the lesser of two evils when precious sight is at stake.

Squash and Onions Fine for Holiday

Here are some vegetable recipes for Thanksgiving.

Scalloped Butternut Squash

2 pounds (2 medium) butternut squash
1 large orange, peeled and sliced
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

* * *

Wash squash, cut in half, lengthwise, and scrape out seeds and stringy portion. Peel and cut into crosswise slices ½-inch thick.

Place a layer in a buttered 1½ quart casserole. Top with a layer of orange slices. Sprinkle with half the sugar, orange rind and salt. Dot with 1 tablespoon of the butter or margarine. Repeat, using remaining squash, orange slices, sugar mixture and butter or margarine.

Cover and bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour or until squash is tender. Yield: 8 servings.

Onion and Mushroom Casserole

12 small whole onions
½ cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups sliced fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1 cup medium white sauce
1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
½ cup soft bread crumbs

Peel onions and place in a saucepan with boiling water and salt. Cook over medium heat 10 minutes. Drain and arrange in a 1½ quart casserole.

Saute mushrooms in 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine and lemon juice. Add to the cream sauce. Pour over onions. Cover and bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

* * *

Remove cover. Sprinkle with grated cheese mixed with bread crumbs. Dot with the remaining 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F.

* * *

Bake, uncovered, 20 to 25 minutes or until crumbs are brown. Yield: 6 servings.

Chrysler Executive Heads Fund Drive

Chrysler Corp. executive Rinehart S. Bright of Bloomfield Hills has been named general chairman of Junior Achievement's 1963 fund campaign in southeastern Michigan.

The announcement was made by JA Board President Ben D. Mills, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Lincoln-Mercury general manager.

Bright, of 335 Cranbrook Court, is group vice president of Chrysler Corp.'s Automotive Manufacturing. He was cochairman of JA's record-breaking fund drive when a total of $270,000 was raised.

To Honor Israel Official

DETROIT (UPI)—Abba Eban, Israel's minister of education and president of the Weizmann Institute, will be honored Nov. 26 at a tribute dinner in the Cobo Hall grand ballroom. The dinner is sponsored by the Detroit Israel Bond Committee.

Makes the Honor Roll

Named to the recently released Dean's List of Hillsdale College students attaining grades of all "B" or better for the past semester was William H. Bryce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bryce, 3622 Lansdowne, Drayton Plains. He is a junior at the 118-year-old liberal arts institution.

Missouri and Idaho are the top lead-producing states.

Discover the old-time goodness in Silvercup

In the old days, Silvercup bread was known for natural goodness, flavor and aroma. It still is.

The bakers of Silvercup use more pure whole milk than all other bread bakers in your area combined. Silvercup is made with the finest natural ingredients . . . kneaded like old time homemade bread . . . and baked slowly and carefully. What's more, it contains no chemical preservatives.

Many breads look alike, but there is a difference. In Silvercup, the difference is old-time goodness. Yet Silvercup costs no more than ordinary bread.

If you haven't introduced your family to the toasty old-time goodness of Silvercup, you should—immediately. The flavor's great because the ingredients are nature's finest. Pick up a loaf (two if your family loves good bread) and see for yourself!

Silvercup... the world's finest bread and buns ...naturally

Be Alert on Attitude

Parents Can Help Child in High School

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

Parents quite rightly are concerned about what happens to their children.

DR. NASON

Yet, at the same time, when the children reach high school age, they should take over more and more responsibility for their own lives.

How can parents help their high school youngsters solve their problems without seeming to interfere? What is the correct balance between parental control and student responsibility?

Parents of high school students should be on the alert for changes in attitude.

If your son or daughter stops talking about school or stops bringing home assignments, something is wrong. You should search promptly for the underlying cause rather than wait until drastic behavior sets in.

A student's behavior depends largely upon what he thinks his parents want for him; how capable he thinks he is; what he thinks his future may be.

THINKING WRONG

Often, what the student thinks may not be the actual situation.

The direct approach to such a problem gains little. You can't convince a student that he is brighter than he thinks he is merely by telling him. The feeling of inadequacy is at the bottom of many behavior problems at the high school level.

Working with hundreds of such cases I have found that these students lack some needed study skill. It may be facility in handwriting. It may be skill in taking tests.

These students need help since they obviously have not hit upon the right techniques. If a student knows how, he will try. Few students are lazy at this age.

* * *

I have found that, in most cases, when a student has established an efficient plan of attack on his school work, other situations improve as well.

GOAL NEEDED

A high school student should have at least some general goal of vocation or college. Lack of such planning may be a danger signal.

A student may feel he is not capable of reaching a goal acceptable to his parents, school counselors or fellow students.

It is of little avail to tell a child he can become a good machinist or a carpenter if he lacks confidence in his ability to work with his hands. Only successful experience in training his hands for these skills will bring about a change.

A student may feel that his parents would not approve of his plans. Misunderstanding is easy in this area. Usually, it has an adverse effect on the student's school work.

A parent may want his child to go to college. But the son or daughter may get the idea from other family discussions that there will be insufficient funds — and that his parents would resent spending the money for college.

I suggest that parents first discuss problems with the school counselor. Parents need to know something of their child's abilities before they try to help him solve his school problems.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

There have been so many requests for hands illustrating the Jacoby Transfer bid that the columns this week will discuss it.

JACOBY

Basically, the JTB makes it possible for the partner of an opening no-trump bidder to let the opener play the hand. Thus, after an opening no-trump and a pass by the next player, responder bids two diamonds if he has a heart suit and two hearts if he has a spade suit whereupon the no-trump bidder is forced to bid his partner's suit.

The transfer bid can be made with any sort of a hand. The strength is shown later. Thus in today's example, North had some mild interest in a slam after the opening no-trump, but he also new suit is a force to game.

South's four clubs suggested that if North wanted to go to a slam he was ready to go along. North had already set spades as the suit and South really liked spades.

The rest of the bidding was simple enough and so was the play. South won the club opening, drew trumps, discarded one of dummy's hearts on a good club and eventually lost a trick to the ace of hearts.

Six no-trump could not be made and if North had played spades a heart opening would have cost him the first two tricks.

For Tuesday

"The wise man controls his destiny. Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Gain admiration from associates, fellow workers. Do so by being congenial, bright, cheerful. Listen to problems of others. Offer suggestions. Day when people see the best in you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Bring goals into view—and down to earth. Make changes. Rid yourself of problems which are mostly phantoms. Face issues squarely. Excellent for dealings with business associates.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Desire for perfection now serves as driving force. Don't hurry. Base decisions on careful analysis. Intuitive insight at peak. Obtain help from Pisces individual. Be considerate, jovial.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Moon-Pluto conjunction in Third Sector stimulates ideas, travel, chats. Finish one thing at a time. Avoid scattering your forces. Tonight encourages exchange of ideas.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Avoid making rash promises. Keep eye on budget. Be generous without being extravagant. Avoid friction with loved ones. Cultivate taste for art, literature. Know whims. Live up to potential.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): Answer is yes, strive for added independence. Cycle remains high. Speak to superiors about advancement. Offer suggestions. Strive to help yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Support ideals. Refuse to be "bluffed." There are those behind the scenes who back you. Know this and act with confidence. Your attitude is of utmost importance. Be a winner!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Whatever friendship you can exhibit will rebound in your favor. Be expansive. Accept rather than reject. Show that you can be "big," forgiving. Avoid anything petty.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Remain firm about convictions. Those who attempt to modify your views may not be aware of all the facts. Move toward goal. Check investment program.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Like Aries, show what you can do. No time for false modesty. Minor conflict can easily be solved. Answer rests in your willingness to compromise. Think it over.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): The more you "push," the less you accomplish. Take relaxed view. Money matters present problem. But you soon overcome key obstacles. Success indicated. Financial cycle improves.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some "facts of life" must be faced today. Means attend to details. Get routine tasks out of way early. Avoid disputes which could lead to legal difficulty. Be discriminating. Tonight relax.

Jail Demonstrators in Johannesburg

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Thirty-one persons, including four whites, were arrested in Durban Saturday night after another street demonstration against the government's practice of placing alleged subversives under house arrest for up to five years without trial.

A similar protest meeting had been dispersed earlier in the day in Capetown.

Justice Minister Balthazer Vorster, who imposed the house arrests and has published the names of hundreds of persons, to brand them publicly as subversives, says these and other, perhaps sterner, measures are needed to save South Africa's white government from white leftists and African nationalists.

Cubans Taking to 'Fur'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert McNeil, a National Broadcasting Co. correspondent just released from a Cuban jail, said yesterday a beard has become a status symbol in Havana.

McNeil said in a television interview that another imprisoned newsman, Don North of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., was told he would have to shave off his beard before being released.

He said a guard told them "beards are a symbol of distinction in Cuba, and only certain persons may wear them."

Claims Cubans Watered Fuel

13 Men Taken From Helpless Ship

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—The captain of a freighter abandoned in a storm that wreaked havoc with Atlantic shipping has accused Cubans of filling his vessel's fuel tank with water instead of oil.

"We took on 18 tons and 88 gallons of fuel in Havana, and it was 15 tons of water," Capt. Edward Clark, 61, of the East Star said yesterday.

Clark and 13 crewmen were brought to Bermuda after they were rescued from the helpless 155-foot freighter East Star which today was reported to be still afloat.

The captain said the freighter's engines were idled for nine-days by lack of fuel and it had no power to navigate or use its radio.

* * *

The 643-ton vessel was tossed around by mountainous seas, unable to get aid from passing vessels until the tanker San Gaspar sighted its flares Saturday night.

The flares were first spotted by a plane searching for 18 missing crewmen of the Greek freighter Captain George, abandoned after it caught fire and exploded.

Seven members of the Captain George crew survived, but the Coast Guard gave up the search for the missing 18 men.

* * *

Clark, of St. Joseph's, Newfoundland, said waves were breaking over the East Star and it was listing 25 degrees with water in the No. 1 hold when the San Gaspar arrived.

He called the harrowing nine days adrift "the worst experience of my life."

Sicilian Soccer Fans Go After the Referee

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI) — The visiting Massiminiam team tied the local Leonzio soccer team last night and the fans got mad.

Five soccer players were hospitalized after the riot and police had to escort the referee out of town.

Cubans to Protest FBI's Arrest of Attache

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cuban delegation readied a formal protest to the United Nations today seeking the release of an attache, one of three men charged in an alleged Cuban sabotage plot.

An FBI spokesman said the arrested trio was believed planning to blow up oil refineries in New Jersey, set off incendiary bombs and smoke devices in New York's major department stores and throw hand grenades into crowds of Christmas shoppers here.

"It was a question of moving in before they had a chance to use their equipment," said John Malone, agent in charge of the New York FBI office. He referred to a cache of explosives and incendiary devices which the FBI confiscated.

The FBI also disclosed, in making the arrests Friday night and Saturday, that 10 others were being trained here in the art of sabotage. All 10 have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury, the FBI said.

One of the three arrested, Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 27, is an attache at the Cuban U. N. mission. He arrived here Oct. 3 on a plane bringing Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos to New York for a U. N. session.

Authoritative sources at the U. N. said they believe the Cuban delegation would protest today to Acting Secretary-General U Thant that Santiesteban has diplomantic immunity and cannot be held under arrest.

APPLIES FOR IMMUNITY

The FBI said Santiesteban had applied for diplomatic immunity but the State Department had not given the application final approval at the time of his arrest.

* * *

Ambassador Carlos M. Lechuga, head of the Cuban delegation, said in a statement that he was "asking the United Nations to see that the international agreements on diplomatic immunity are carried out."

A U. S. delegation note to the Cuban delegation Saturday said two other Cuban U. N. attaches took part in "a criminal conspiracy" with the sabotage ring, and demanded that the pair leave this country.

The two, Jose Gomez Abad, 21, and his wife Elsa, 20, furnished the explosives to be used by the saboteurs, the FBI said. But they were not arrested because of diplomatic immunity.

Lechuga said the FBI accusations against all three members of the Cuban U. N. mission were "false" and "based on ridiculous facts."

The ambassador also charged that the FBI had used brutality in arresting Santiesteban.

CARRYING PISTOL

The FBI said Santiesteban was carrying a fully loaded pistol when arrested and that he struggled violently before agents could subdue him.

* * *

Lechuga said the United States made the charges to cover up "war measures adopted by the U. S. government against Cuba . . ." He said it "proves once again that the U. S. territory is inadequate to house the United Nations."

FBI agents said they confiscated an arsenal of weapons when they arrested the trio. Included were six delayed-action incendiary devices, 12 fuses, three fragmentation hand grenades, two pistols with ammunition and six TNT concussion hand grenades.

The cache was found in a Manhattan jewelry manufacturing shop of one of the accused plotters, Jose Garcia Orellana, 42, the FBI said.

The detonating fuses were said to have been found in an envelope bearing the Cuban U. N. mission's address.

The third person arrested was Marino Antonio Esteban Del Carmen Sueiro Y Cabrera, 22, a college student who worked part time at the jewelry workshop.

* * *

Also held, as a material witness, was Ada Marie Dritsas, 26, who accompanied Sueiro when he was picked up. She was described as a teacher and recreation supervisor in Manhattan.

The arrested trio was charged specifically with conspiracy to commit sabotage and failure to register as agents of a foreign power.

* * *

If convicted, maximum sentence on each count is 10 years in prison, with fines of up to $15,000 against each. They were held in a total of $450,000 bail.

An FBI spokesman said the bureau had "information" that the Cuban group had selected as targets New York stores and New Jersey oil refineries.

Theater Chain Head's Body Is Returned to New York

NEW YORK (AP) — John Shubert's body has been returned to New York after his death in Florida, amid speculation today as to who will succeed him as head of the vast Shubert family theater chain.

* * *

The Shubert empire includes 24 theaters of the legitimate stage, among them 17 of the 33 on Broadway. Other theaters in the Shubert enterprises are located in Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati and Boston.

* * *

A family spokesman said the value of the Shubert holdings, including real estate housing movie theaters, is several hundred million dollars. But the business is so vast, the spokesman said, that even the Shuberts can't pinpoint an exact figure.

* * *

John Shubert died of an apparent heart attack Saturday at 53 while aboard a train en route to Clearwater, Fla.

A porter who had been instructed to wake him found Shubert's body in his private compartment on the Atlantic Coast Line's West Coast Champion.

* * *

The founder of the Shubert enterprises, John's uncle, Sam S. Shubert, also had died aboard a train—when it was involved in a wreck near Harrisburg, Pa., in 1906.

* * *

A Shubert always has headed the organization. After Sam Shubert, brother Lee Shubert took over. Upon Lee's death on Christmas Day, 1953, the youngest brother, Jacob J. Shubert, took command of the business.

* * *

J. J. Shubert's death left only two other Shuberts still active in the business. They are John's first cousin, Lawrence Shubert Lawrence (he changed his name), manager of Shubert's Forest Theater in Philadelphia, and his son, Lawrence (Larry) S. Lawrence Jr., manager of Shubert's Majestic Theater on Broadway.

Morrall Comes Out of 'Bullpen' in 17-6, Victory Over Vikings

No Looking Ahead Now for Lions, Big Game 3 Days Away

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—There's no more looking ahead for the Detroit Lions.

The big game is only three days away and if the Lions want to prove that the Packers can be beaten, they will have to do it themselves and do it with a much healthier effort than yesterday's 17-6 victory over the Vikings.

Playing with three top flight players on the sidelines and two others not in best condition, the Lions overcame a sluggish first half by calling on "fireman" Earl Morrall to pull out the victory in the third quarter.

Referring to Morrall's performance coach George Wilson said, "We've got the best 1-2 quarterback punch in the league, and like major league baseball, the team with the best bullpen usually is the best contender. But, here we are with the best bullpen and still two games out."

HURTING PHYSICALLY

Actually, the Lions were not planning to put forth a full physical effort against the Vikings unless they really had to.

"We were without Pietrosante, Barr and Lewis. Gibbons and Watkins both played despite injuries, so it was as good an offensive effort as could be expected," said Wilson.

Watkins received some running relief and in kick returns from Bruce Maher and rookie Larry Vargo saw action in Gibbons' spot on occasions.

Despite their handicaps, Watkins and Gibbons were the key figures in the victory along with the pass receiving of Gail Cogdill who is now making a habit of performing the impossible.

Defensively, the Lions again had a first class performance especially in the second half. Take away the 59 yard pass play on the last play of the game for the Vikings, and they would have had a total of only three yards in the second half.

In the first half, Minnesota had 73 yards rushing. When the game ended the Vikins' rushing total was 73. They had 43 yard passing in the first half and with the one second on the clock their total was 46 yards passing.

The last play which resulted only because of a penalty that gave the Vikings another chance, was a short swing pass from Fran Tarkenton to Tommy Mason. Mason was pushed out of bounds on the Detroit 25 by Dick LeBeau as the game ended.

Minnesota got the first crack in the scoring column in the first period when a pass bounced off of Pat Studstill's finger tips into the hands of Billy Butler. Butler returned 13 yards to the Detroit 32.

Highlighted by an 18 yard pass from Tarkenton to former U. of D. star Steve Stonebreaker from Utica, the Vikings got to the Detroit 9, but had to settle for a 16 yard field goal by Jim Christopherson with 5:01 to play in the first quarter.

After the kickoff the Lions moved to the Viking 19 and Wayne Walker's field goal try from the 26 was wide.

★ ★ ★

Early in the second quarter Milt Plum again moved the Lions to Viking 19 and Walker's try from the 26 was again wide to the left.

Two plays later, Mason fumbled when hit by Alex Karras and Sammy Williams recovered for the Lions on the Viking 33. Once again the offence stalled on the 25 and this time Plum came in and booted a field goal from the 32 to tie the score at 3-3.

The Vikings then moved from their own 22 to the Detroit 7 and Christopherson booted a 3-pointer from the 14 to make it 6-3.

★ ★ ★

Morrall started the second half and on the third play from scrimmage, Watkins broke loose around right end and raced 60 yards before being brought down from behind by Jim Marshall on the five.

GIBBONS' RECORD

Morrall then pitched over the middle under the cross bar to Gibbons for a five yard touchdown. The pass caught by Gibbons tied him for the all time Lions' pass receiving of 174 held by Leon Hart.

Morrall's passing arm was in shape. He hit on his first four passes and connected on 11 of 18 in the second half.

After three unsuccessful plays, the Vikings had to punt out and the Lions again marched from their own 24 for another touchdown, a two yard pass from Morrall to Gibbons. The ball deflected off Rip Hawkins' hands into Gibbons arms in the end zone.

★ ★ ★

The "unbelievable" play in the series as another catch by Cogdill to the six yard line. Cogdill and defender Dean Derby both went up for the ball and in midair, Cogdill pulled the ball away from Derby for a 29 yard completion.

Derby and Cogdill were both amazed that the pass was complete. In fact Derby walked away shaking his head.

After Watkins gained four yards to the two Morrall then hit Gibbons with the TD. The three passes caught by Gibbons, now gives him a career total of 197, a new Lions' record.

In the 4th quarter, the Lions got to the Minnesota 10 and 17 yard lines. The first drive ending in an incompleted pass play and the second ending on a fumble by Maher.

REPEAT SHOW

For Morrall, it was a repeat performance of last year's game at Minnesota when he relieved Jim Ninowski in the second half, completed 13 of 17 passes for 154 and three touchdowns.

Yesterday he picked up 137 yards in his 11 completions and two TD's.

★ ★ ★

The Lions planned a workout today at Tiger Stadium and are hoping that all ailments will be mended by the noon kickoff Thursday.

Lewis, Gibbons and Watkins are sure they will be ready. Barr expects to play, but the question mark is Pietrosante, who did not dress yesterday and still found it difficult to bend his knee.

Green Bay's Versatility Produces Triumph

Adderly Stars as Champions Oust Colts

103-Yard TD Dash, Interception Keep Packers Perfect

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers are proving very versatile, indeed, in defense of their National Football League title. Stopped in some departments, they merely shift to another to win.

The undefeated Packers withstood a breakdown in their high-powered attack and earned their 10th consecutive 1962 victory by edging the stubborn Baltimore Colts 17-13 Sunday with the aid of Herb Adderley's 103-yard kickoff return and two tremendous goal-line stands.

The Colts outplayed Green Bay by a decisive margin, piling up 380 yards to a mere 116 for the Packers, but were halted at critical times and were eliminated from the Western Division race with a 5-5 record.

KEY PLAYER

Adderley, the Packers No. 1 draft choice in 1960 after three years as a brilliant running halfback at Michigan State, was the key man in keeping alive the Packers' bid for an undefeated campaign.

Now a defensive specialist, the fleet halfback took the kickoff after a 42-yard field goal by Dick Bielski in the first period and launched his field-length dash from 3 yards inside his end zone.

A few minutes later, he intercepted a Johnny Unitas pass and raced 21 yards to the Baltimore 17 to set up a 24-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer.

The Packers, led by veteran linebacker Bill Forester, stopped three Baltimore running plays cold from the Green Bay 1 in the second period and then took possession of the ball on the 14. Forester dropped Unitas for a 13-yard loss on the vital fourth down play.

The Colts came back to tie the count 10-10 at the half on a 34-yard pass to Jimmy Orr in the end zone and then went ahead in the third period on an 18-yard field goal by Bielski.

Tom Moore, going all the way for Paul Hornung who has seen little action since suffering a twisted knee against Minnesota Oct. 14, regained the lead for Green Bay with a 23-yard scoring dash on a tackle trap maneuver early in the finale. Then the Packer defense held on.

AP All-State Teams Start With D Today

The Associated Press All-State high school football teams are being announced this week starting with today's class D team. Tomorrow the Class C team will be announced, followed by Class B on Wednesday and Class A on Friday.

Two other sports features in The Press this week will be the pre-season basketball, swimming and wrestling sections on Friday and then the annual All-County Football team on Saturday.

Giants, Steelers Triumph in East With Field Goals

From Our Wire Services

Neither rain, snow nor mud could prevent Don Chandler of the New York Giants from the swift completion of his placekicking rounds.

Chandler kicked four field goals in wretched weather conditions to keep the Giants atop the Eastern Division of the National Football League with a 19-14 come-from-behind victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Giants had trouble with the Eagles, falling behind 14-7 in the second period when Timmy Brown raced 61 yards for a touchdown. However, the Giants' defense held Philadelphia scoreless thereafter and Chandler wiped out the Eagles' lead with his field goals.

The bald Giants placekicker, who had booted a 28-yard field goal in the first quarter, added a 20-yard kick in the second period, a 37-yard go-ahead field goal in the third quarter, and finally a 26-yard insurance kick in the final period.

49ers Shed Losing Ways, Cowboys Miss Costly PAT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quarterback John Brodie threw two touchdown passes and guided San Francisco on three long - range scoring drives Sunday to defeat the Los Angeles Rams 24-17 and snap a four-game losing streak by the 49ers.

The outcome of the National Football League contest, played before 42,554 under bright skies in Memorial Coliseum, left the Rams in the cellar of the Western Conference with a 1-9 record and the 49ers with a 4-6 standing.

The Rams opened the scoring with a 43-yard field goal by Danny Villanueva and finally got two touchdowns in the last quarter—their first in three games and 11 quarters of football.

GAIN LEAD

San Francisco went ahead in the second quarter when Brodie passed three yards to Bill Kilmer, capping a 71-yard drive enhanced by a 35-yard pass from Brodie to Bernie Casey.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Roger Leclerc kicked a 12-yard field goal with 31 seconds left Sunday and the Chicago Bears won a come-from-behind 34-33 victory over the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League.

Joe Fortunato blocked Sam Baker's try for point after the first Dallas touchdown in the second period and that was the eventual difference.

Billy Wade passed for 470 yards, two touchdowns and scored a touchdown himself in leading the Bears to victory before a chilled crowd that huddled in 44-degree temperatures.

Wade also contributed to all the other Chicago scores with his deadly passing although given a terrific rush by the Cowboy linebackers.

Houston, Dallas Have Edge

AFL Crown Appears Texas Fight

By The Associated Press

An all-Texas American Football League championship seemed in the offing today as the two closest rivals of the division-leading Dallas Texans and Houston Oilers began to fade from sight.

The Texans still will have to contend with the second-place Division, even after handling them 24-3 Sunday, but the biggest break has gone to the Oilers—and against the Boston Patriots.

Houston, now atop the Eastern Division by one-half game following a 21-17 victory over the Patriots , may find the pressure eased since Boston's veteran quarterback, Babe Parilli, has been lost for the rest of the season with a broken collarbone suffered in Sunday's clash.

10TH SETBACK

Buffalo, with five victories and a tie in its last six games, handed winless Oakland its 10th loss in the only other scheduled game, coming from behind for a 10-6 victory.

Dallas (8-2) will have played two fewer games than Denver by next weekend as the Broncos have a Thanksgiving Day game at home against the New York Titans. Denver has suddenly lost its once-powerful attack, getting only 81 yards passing and 91 on the ground Sunday, and still must face an improving Dallas team once more.

The Texans' ace quarterback, Len Dawson, bombed Denver's secondary with three TD passes, raising his league-leading total to 24. Gene Mingo's first period field goal was the only offense Denver (7-4) could produce.

Parilli had thrown one touchdow pass for Boston before his crippling injury. Oilers' quarterback George Blanda tossed a pair to overcome Boston's 7-0 lead and Charlie Tolar added the last Houston (7-3) TD.

YEWCIC TABBED

Tom Yewcic, rarely used this year, stepped in for Parilli and threw a 69-yard scoring toss to Ron Burton. He is expected to handle the Pats (6-3-1) quarterbacking for the remainder of the season.

Making his first appearance for the Bills since being obtained from San Diego, Jackie Kemp hit ex-Raider Wayne Crow with a 27-yard touchdown pass in the third period. This wiped out a 6-3 Oakland lead fashioned by a pair of field goals by 43-year-old Ben Agajanian.

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's Eagles' back Howard (Hopalong) Cassady suffered a fractured right leg in the second half of Sunday's game with the New York Giants and club officials said he is finished for the remainder of the season.

Cassady, a former All-America at Ohio State, came to the Eagles earlier this year after being released by the Cleveland Browns.

Offensive end Bobby Brown also was injured during the first period and will have his right forearm X-rayed.

All-Staters in 'D' Hit 190 Average

By The Associated Press

A backfield blending power with speed . . . a line that's quick and mobile and opens the holes any runner needs.

Those are the qualifications of the 1962 Michigan class D all-state high school football team announced today by The Associated Press.

The All - Staters from Michigan's tiniest schools don't surrender anything in poise, ability and class to the stars of big city high school football.

The class D dream eleven earned their places through a statewide screening system involving hundreds of coaches and sports writers.

REPEATER

Scott Emlong, a repeat All-Stater from St. Joseph Catholics unbeaten second - ranked team, and Terry Barta, giant workhorse of undefeated Deerfield's backfield, supply the running power. Anson Mitchell of Michigan School for the Deaf and Gary Miller of Fowler give the speed.

Up ahead of this 193½-pound backfield is a quicksilver line averaging 190 pounds.

The line is anchored by its heaviest member, 220-pound guard Warren Cook of Mio. His running mate at guard, 170-pound Floyd Brandt of Potterville, gives the line blocking quickness.

The rest of the line consists of lean, spry six - footers. The ends are a pair of quick, glue-fingered 185-pounders Roger Welch of Gobels and Larry Trost of Caseville.

$48,000 Bowling Tourney

Weber Leads Field in Prelim Round

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Weber, with a record 3,999 for 18 games, led the field in today's last games of the preliminary qualifying round of the $48,000 World's Invitational Bowling Tournament.

★ ★ ★

The 32-year-old shooter from St. Louis, who was named Bowler of the year in 1961 and is current holder of the All-Star singles, doubles and team titles, fired a 1,300 in Sunday's six games. His total topped the old record of 3,960 set by Pat Patterson of St. Louis for 18 games last year.

Despite Weber's high scoring—averaging about 222 for the 18 games—he held only a three-pin lead over a darkhorse in the tourney, Jim St. John of Chicago.

AVERAGED 236

St. John, formerly of Minneapolis, averaged 236 in his last 12 games with six game blocks of 1,410 and 1,398 to take second place with 3,996. Harry Smith of St. Louis was in third place with 3,981.

The men fire the final six games in the qualifying round today, with the high 47 shooters joining defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis for the 12 game semifinals starting Tuesday.

After the semifinals, the 15 leading scorers and Carter will start the match-game finals on Wednesday, with each bowler meeting each other finalist in four games. The tourney will end Sunday, with $7,500 going to the winner.

Mena Degymas, a 40-year-old Chicago secretary, moved into the top spot in the women's division, shooting 819 to give her a total of 2,393 for 12 games.

MRS. CARTER 2ND

Jumping into second place was blonde Laverne Carter, the wife of the defending men's champion, who checked in with 2,367 for her 12 games. Pat Senning of Chicago was third with 2,365.

Shirley Garms of Chicago, the current All-Star champion and woman Bowler of the Year in 1960 and 1961, shot a 267 second game, the highest for a woman thus far. However, she fell off in her final two games and finished in fifth place.

The women will bowl four games today with the high 31 joining the defending women's champion, Marge Merrick of Columbus, Ohio, in the eight-game semifinals.

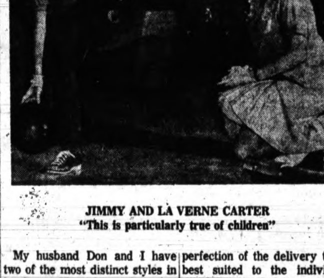
STRIKING LADIES
by La Verne Carter



JIMMY AND LA VERNE CARTER
"This is particularly true of children"

My husband Don and I have two of the most distinct styles in bowling. They have, however, been quite successful for us. In both of our cases the styles were developed through trial and error until we found a delivery that is both comfortable and effective. Our success does not mean that others could become champions by following our technique.

Each bowler must work at the perfection of the delivery that is best suited to the individual's capabilities. This is especially true of children who are more apt to be influenced by noting the styles of the champs on television and at major tournaments. Because of our own unorthodox deliveries we continually stress this point to Cathy and Jimmy. You should do the same with your children.

Rangers Keep Hex Over Maple Leafs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto Coach Punch Imlach today has an unusual and embarassing problem: His Maple Leafs just can't seem to handle the lowly New York Rangers.

The Rangers, who haven't caused major discomfort among the rest of the National Hockey League for some time, have made the playoffs only once in the last four seasons and currently reside in fifth place.

They have played the Stanley Cup champion Maple Leafs five times this season and have skated off with victories three times. By contrast, Toronto has lost only four games to the rest of the league.

STREAK SNAPPED

The Rangers turned the trick again Sunday night, snapping a five-game Toronto winning string 3-1 and delaying, at least momentarily, the Leafs drive to overtake the leaders. Detroit beat Boston 3-1 and Chicago and Montreal played to a 1-1 tie in the other games.

Second period goals by Ken Schinkel and Jean Ratelle and the steady, often spectacular goaltending of Gump Worsley were the keys to the Ranger victory.

Worsley turned back 31 shots, 15 in the scoreless first period before the Rangers got organized. They dominated play the rest of the way, out-shooting the Leafs 29-17 over the last two periods.

Veteran Red Kelly spoiled Gump's bid for a shutout late in the middle period, cutting New York's lead to 2-1. Bronco Horvath's goal, on the rebound of an Al Langlois shot, took the pressure off in the final period.

LONE GOAL

Jacques Plante, of Montreal, kicked out 33 shots in an outstanding performance, but it took Jean Beliveau's goal early in the third period for the Canadiens to salvage the tie with Chicago. Bob Turner scored Chicago's lone goal in the second period while teammate Bill Hay was in the penalty box.

In Saturday games, Chicago beat New York 4-3 and Toronto edged Detroit 3-2.

No games are scheduled tonight.

Bowl Picture Begins to Clear

Southern Cal, Ole Miss Fight for Honors

By The Associated Press

Southern California and Mississippi settled down today for the race for the national college football championship while bewildered Alabama, the defending champion, picked up the pieces of its shattered 26-game undefeated streak amid a bowl picture beginning to come into focus.

Southern Cal and Ole Miss are the only undefeated-untied ranked powers, following Alabama's 7-6 defeat by Georgia Tech last Saturday. Besides having gone undefeated (once tied) in 26 games, the Crimson Tide had run up a 19-game winning streak over three years.

The Trojans, with one foot in the Rose Bowl door, whipped Navy 13-6 while Mississippi, which appears to be heading for the Sugar Bowl, turned back Tennessee 19-6.

TWO TOUGHIES

Southern Cal still has two toughies ahead—UCLA in the Coliseum Saturday and Notre Dame on Dec. 1. A victory by the Trojans and they are in. If they hope to win the national title, though, they'll have to get by both UCLA—which beat them last year—and Notre Dame.

Ole Miss has an open date this week, then meets Mississippi State in its finale. This should prove no problem as State has dropped five of its eight games.

★ ★ ★

Alabama was No. 1 in the current Associated Press weekly poll, but is certain to tumble. Southern Cal is No. 2 and Mississippi No. 3.

Meanwhile, Wisconsin, No. 4, can make reservations for its trip to the Rose Bowl. The Badgers whipped Illinois Saturday 35-6 to nail down the bid if not the Big Ten championship.

Here is how they could wind up:

Rose Bowl—Southern California (8-0) vs. Wisconsin (7-1).

Sugar Bowl—Mississippi (8-0) vs. Arkansas (8-1).

Cotton Bowl—Texas (7-0-1) vs. Louisiana State (7-1-1).

Orange Bowl—Oklahoma (6-2) vs. Alabama (8-1).

Gator Bowl—Florida (6-3) vs. Penn State (8-1).

BOWL BOUND

Miami of Ohio and Houston have been officially tapped for the Tangerine Bowl.

Arkansas, which probably will wind up the runner-up to Texas in the Southwest Conference, is the logical team to oppose Mississippi. All Texas needs is a tie against Texas A&M Thursday to wrap up the conference crown. LSU looked good polishing off Mississippi State 28-0 Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Oklahoma, which hasn't allowed a touchdown in its last four games got over a major hurdle in Missouri Saturday, 13-0. Bud Wilkinson's Sooners can sew up the Big Eight title against Nebraska this week. Alabama was ripe for an Orange Bowl invitation until it lost to Georgia Tech. But the Crimson Tide probably will get it. A single one-point defeat does not make the season a washout.

Florida has won five of its past six games, culminating in a 20-7 decision over Florida State Saturday. If the Gators beat Miami on Dec. 1, they are certain to get the bid.

Gambles Failed to Pay for Crimson Tide Mentor

ATLANTA (AP) — Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, by reputation a conservative architect of football defense, pulled out all the stops in the manner of a riverboat gambler in a vain effort to beat Georgia Tech.

And the Bear was quick to admit that three of the gambles which backfired were his ideas. Tech wrapped a bushel of revenge into a 7-6 upset here last Saturday that snapped Alabama's victory string at 19 games and halted an unbeaten string of 26 for the Crimson Tide.

Two of the three decisions were mistakes, Bryant said, and handicapped his defending national champions considerably, but he stoutly defended the gamble for two points after Alabama's fourth period touchdown.

'DO IT AGAIN'

"I had no hesitation," Bryant asserted. "I'd do it again. We came here to win."

Bryant said going for a first down at midfield late in the first quarter was a mistake. A quarterback sneak on fourth down missed by inches, and Tech got possession.

★ ★ ★

"I thought we could make it, but that was the wrong time to try to make a yard."

Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech agreed.

"In a situation like that, you haven't accomplished much if you make the first down," Dodd said. "You're still a long way from the goal line. Alabama could have punted and had us backed up near our goal. As it turned out, we got field position, and we scored in that quarter."

The other error, Bryant said, was his decision to pass on first down at Tech's 14 with about a minute left to play instead of going for a field goal. Tech intercepted the pass and ran out the clock.

"We should have run two quarterback sneaks and then kicked a field goal," Bryant admitted.

Dodd declined to comment directly on the Alabama conversion attempt, but he recalled earlier statements he had made on the subject.

"We just don't think like some other coaches do on the two-point conversion," he said. "I know we have enough trouble scoring from the 3 with four downs, much less just one, so we don't try it.

"Our opponents have gone for the two points five times this year. They haven't made it yet."

2 Mich. Entries Suffer in International Hockey

By United Press International

Michigan's two entries in the International Hockey League absorbed losses in play last night, including the Port Huron Flags' third in a row.

★ ★ ★

The Minneapolis Millers downed the Flags, 6-3, at Port Huron and the Muskegon Zephyrs also went to defeat on home ice before the Sudbury Wolves, 7-6.

Young Scores 3rd Goal of Young Season

Boston Coach 'Hanged' in Effigy Last Night by Home Fans

DETROIT (UPI)—Home should look good to the Detroit Red Wings today — but then the way they've been skating this year a rink's a rink.

The Wings rounded out a six-game road swing last night with a 3-1 victory over the Boston Bruins at Boston. Floyd Smith and Parker MacDonald scored before the first four minutes of the opening period ticked off and left the rest up to goalie Terry Sawchuk, who rose to the occasion.

The victory gave the Wings a 2-3-1 mark for the swing. This year's aggregate bears only a slight resemblance to the Detroiters of last year as far as picking the spot to win.

Of their 16 games so far this season, 10 have been on the road. All they need is eight more points in away-from-home play to eclipse their total points in the entire 35-game road schedule of last season.

YOUNG SHINES

Defenseman Howie Young continued his enlightened play, scoring the third Detroit goal in the second period. Prior to this season, Young had not blinked the light in regular National Hockey League season play. So far he has scored three times in league action.

Jerry Toppazzini scored Boston's only counter, his second of the season. It came only 95 seconds after Young blasted the puck into the upper corner of the net.

Smith banged in Norm Ullman's rebound at 1:48 of the opening period and MacDonald scored his ninth goal of the campaign one minute and 55 seconds later.

Alex Delvecchio, Wing captain and leading scorer in the league with 19 points set MacDonald up on the left wing. MacDonald fired and Goalie Ed Johnston was able to slow the puck down but it skittered over the line.

MacDonald, one point behind Delvecchio in the scoring race with 18, kept on his heels on Young's score. He hit Young at the center of the ice and the penalty - prone defenseman skated pell-mell for the Boston net. Enroute he sailed around Bruin defender Pat Stapleton and fired, just catching the upper corner of the cage.

PLAY THURSDAY

The Wings have plenty of time to rest up for their next encounter, a Thanksgiving night date with the Montreal Canadiens at Olympia.

★ ★ ★

Sawchuk ended the game with 28 saves and Johnston had 27. But the Bruins bedeviled the masked Detroit netminder in the opening and final periods when he was called on to make 11 and 13 stops respectively. During the same two stanzas, Johnston stopped six and 11 Red Wing shots.

Detroit: Goal—Sawchuk. Defense—M. Pronovost, Barkley, Young, Gadsby, Goegan. Forwards—Faulkner, McGregor, Jeffrey, Delvecchio, Howe, MacDonald, Ullman, Smith, Stasiuk, McNeill, Fonteyne.

Cold Shooting Chills Pistons

By JERE CRAIG

DETROIT—The Detroit Pistons failed their promotion examination last night.

When the Syracuse Nationals pinned a 110-107 defeat on the Chicago Zephyrs in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Convention Arena, the stage was set for the Pistons to move out of the Western Division basement with a victory over second place Los Angeles.

However, cold shooting hands by the Detroit forwards doomed the home team to a 116-98 defeat, their first in three starts. Elgin Baylor pumped 22 of his 36 points through the LA net in the second half as the Lakers broke a 69-69 tie late in the third quarter and gradually built their winning margin.

Jerry West added 17 and Rudy LaRusso 15 to their first half totals and finished the game with 26 apiece to aid Baylor. Frank Selvey hit 13 markers as the only other visitor in double figures.

DUKES STARS

Walter Dukes played, perhaps, his best game of the season for the Pistons, hitting five of eight from the floor and five for five at the foul stripe for 15 points. "Big Waldo" led both teams with 20 rebounds. Willie Jones came off the bench to top the Detroit scoring with 16, while Bailey Howell added 13, Don Ohl 12, Ray Scott and Bob Ferry 10 each.

* * *

Dukes and Howell had 13 and 11 in the first half as the home team took an early 10-1 lead and stayed with the defending division champions all the way. While hitting only 36 per cent to the Lakers' 45 per cent, Dick McGuire's team was tied at half-time, 52-52, because it managed 16 more shots from the floor than the Lakers.

However, when Scott, Howell and Dave DeBusschere began the final half with the same cold hands they finished the opening 24 minutes with, it was only a matter of time before the LA team pulled away.

While Fred Schaus' team ended the night hitting 50 per cent of their field goal attempts, the Pistons continued at their poor first half percentage.

DeBusschere (4 for 16), Scott (3 for 13) and Howell (6 for 16) were the chief culprits for the losers as 7,188 spectators watched.

The Lakers led 32-24 at the end of three quarters and continued to build their advantage in the late going. The biggest lead came at 112-93 with 40 seconds remaining in the game, following two foul shots by LaRusso.

Baylor, in addition to hitting 14 of 28 from the floor and eight for eight from the charity stripe, gathered in 14 rebounds to lead his teammates and assisted on six baskets which tied him with Laker backliner Selvy as high in the game.

The win moved LA within one game of the western leaders, St. Louis. Detroit will play Syracuse Wednesday night at Convention Arena in its drive to overcome 2 horrendous start.

Staid Old Ivy League Hit by Illegal 'Play'

By The Associated Press

Its really a bit embarrassing, you know. This situation where one of the members of the staid, proper and de-emphasized Ivy League resorted to an illegal play.

* * *

It's responsible for the present, rather awkward silence. No one saying much of anything. Chances are, since the play in question produced a touchdown but didn't change the outcome of the game, nothing will be said.

Besides, most of the league attention is centered on Dartmouth's clinching the league title and bidding for an unbeaten, untied season.

SECOND TITLE

Coach Bob Blackman's crew of Indians from Hanover, N.H., nailed down their second league title in five years with a 28-21 edge over scrapping Cornell Saturday. The victory, Dartmouth's sixth without loss in the league, assured the Big Green of the title regardless of what happens in the season finale this week against Princeton.

Dartmouth will be bidding for its first perfect season since 1925 in that one. Ivy League teams are not eligible for post-season bowl games.

* * *

The illegal play came in the Yale-Princeton game, won by Princeton 14-10. Both coaches, Jordan Olivar of Yale and Dick Colman of Princeton, agreed after the game that the play which produced Yale's third period touchdown was illegal. There was no protest at the time, and none yet.

* * *

The play started with quarterback Ed McCarthy taking the snap from center and pitching out to fullback Pete Cummings. Cummings then passed to McCarthy in the end zone for a touchdown. Since McCarthy started the play as a T-formation quarterback, less than a yard behind the line of scrimmage, he was an ineligible receiver.

STORMED BACK

It gave Yale the lead, but Princeton stormed back with a 67-yard fourth period drive, climaxed by Dan Terpack's 8-yard run, to win it and keep the Tigers in contention for the No. 2 spot in the league.

* * *

Harvard rolled over Brown 31-19 to advance to a tie for second and Columbia defeated Penn 21-7 in the other Saturday games.

Dartmouth was forced to come from behind for only the second time this season in the Cornell game. Bill King scored three Dartmouth touchdowns and directed the drive for the other. He passed for 146 yards and ran for 106. Cornell quarterback Gary Wood passed for 55 yards and ran for 161 against Dartmouth's defense, ranked second in the nation.

* * *

Senior Bill Taylor scored all four touchdowns for Harvard, one on a 77-yard pass play from Mike Bassett. Columbia quarterback Archie Roberts, completed 11 passes against Penn, running his season total to a school record 94.

In addition to Dartmouth's visit to Cornell, Saturday's slate also features Yale at Harvard in their tradition-filled game, Rutgers at Columbia and Cornell at Penn. Brown's loss to Harvard closed the Bruin schedule.

Accident Ends Race Early, Marshman 1st

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Bobby Marshman of Pottstown, Pa., won Sunday's accident shortened 100-mile Bobby Ball Memorial auto race.

The race was stopped by United States Auto Club officials after a car driven by Elmer George of Speedway, Ind., hurtled into the crowd of 12,000 and injured 21 persons.

* * *

George was taken to a Phoenix hospital, where he underwent immediate surgery for a shoulder injury.

Marshman was leading on the 51st lap when the accident occurred, and pocketed $3,909 of a $15,636 purse.

Second place went to A. J. Foyt Jr., of Houston, Tex. Lloyd Ruby, also of Houston, was third. No time was given.

Fourth was Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif.

They set out on a road trip last Tuesday with a 7-3 record and the No. 1 spot in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

Today, 6 days, 5 cities and 5 times later, they headed home in third place, two games back of leading St. Louis with only one victory to show for the five games.

WEARY TEAM

The Warriors, too weary to hold off Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman in a last half Cincinnati drive, blew an eight-point halftime margin and lost to the Royals 132-120 in the windup of their road trip in Cincinnati Sunday night.

The loss, coupled with Los Angeles' 116-98 triumph over Detroit, dropped the Warriors out of a share of second place, a full game back of the Lakers. Syracuse nipped Chicago 110-107 in the first half of the Detroit doubleheader, the only other game on schedule.

* * *

Robertson scored 20 points and Twyman 26 in the last half as the Royals charged from behind. Each finished with 32 for the game, and Wayne Embry contributed another 25. Robertson and Twyman led a late burst in which Cincinnati outscored the Warriors 11-2 and put it out of reach.

Wilt Chamberlain threw in 59 points for San Francisco, but got little help from his mates.

BLEW LEAD

Syracuse blew leads of 13 and 15 points, then put on a scoring burst late in the final period to pull it out against Chicago. The Nats led only 89-88 when Joe Roberts hit three straight baskets. Syracuse wasn't troubled again. Johnny Kerr had 22 points for the winners, Woody Sauldsberry 26 for Chicago.

In Saturday games, Detroit beat New York 121-113, Boston beat San Francisco 127-109, Los Angeles edged Chicago 110-109 and St. Louis got by Syracuse 113-107.

There are no games scheduled tonight.

Hawaiian Aloha for ABL Chiefs Finds Success

By The Associated Press

There'll be no surfboarding under moonlit skies or sipping pineapple juice under swaying palm trees, but the Long Beach Chiefs of the American Basketball League seem to be enjoying the move to the mainland from their Hawaii outpost.

* * *

The Chiefs, who called the islands home last year, won their second in two starts at their new Long Beach base Sunday night by again beating the Kansas City Steers. They did 103-74 after a 105-96 decision Saturday.

The triumph left the Chiefs with the only unblemished record in the league in the early-season going.

* * *

In other games Sunday, the Oakland Oaks won their first in three starts with Joe Gardere providing the impetus for a 119-115 overtime victory over the Chicago Majors and the Pittsburgh Rens rolled to an easy 113-83 triumph over the Philadelphia Tapers.

Santa Ana 'Bowl' Host

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Ana College was named Sunday as host team in the 17th annual Junior Rose Bowl football game Dec. 15.

Offense vs. Defense in Big Ten Showdown

By the Associated Press

Offense vs. Defense. That's what the big football race settles down to when Wisconsin and Minnesota clash at Madison Saturday for the Big Ten Conference football championship.

* * *

Wisconsin, the nation's scoring leader with an average of 34½ points a game, sealed a bid to the Rose Bowl with a 35-6 rout of Illinois Saturday.

Minnesota, one of the year's outstanding defensive teams, came from behind and defeated Purdue 7-6. The Gophers, who are not eligible to appear in the Rose Bowl this season, held the Boilermakers to two field goals, marking the sixth time in eight games they have kept the opposition from scoring a touchdown.

NATIONAL HOPES

Neither team will be lacking incentive. Needing only the formality of an athletic directors vote to become the official Rose Bowl representative, Wisconsin also has a chance to win the national championship.

* * *

The Badgers were ranked fourth in The Associated Press poll last week and should climb at least one notch this week following top-ranked Alabama's loss to Georgia Tech.

* * *

Minnesota, the Rose Bowl representative the past two seasons on the strength of a title tie in 1960 and a second-place finish last year, has not won the undisputed Big Ten championship since 1941.

Minnesota's victory over Purdue and Northwestern's 31-7 loss to Michigan State Saturday brought about the title match between the Badgers and the Gophers. In other games Saturday, Iowa defeated Michigan 28-14 and Ohio State slugged Oregon 26-7.

Wisconsin probably will be a slight favorite Saturday if for no other reason than the Badgers will be at home. Also, in comparison against common foes, Wisconsin has been far more impressive as might be expected of a high-scoring team.

LONE DEFEAT

Northwestern was the only team to solve Minnesota's defense and handed the Gophers their only loss, 34-22. Wisconsin smothered Northwestern 37-6. Minnesota blanked Iowa 10-0, Michigan 17-0 and Illinois 17-0. Wisconsin defeated Iowa 42-14, Michigan 34-12 and Illinois 35-6.

Wisconsin's lone loss was 14-7 at Ohio State. Aside from the Northwestern defeat, the only other blemish on the Gopher record was a season-opening scoreless tie against Missouri.

In the shadow of the championship struggle, other Big Ten teams will close the season this weekend. Northwestern will be at Miami, Fla., Friday night and Saturday's encounters find Iowa at Notre Dame, Michigan State at Illinois, Michigan at Ohio State and Indiana at Purdue.

Spartans Defense Wildcat Passer

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Barring an unthinkable upset, Michigan State should wrap up the season next Saturday with a 6-3 slate —good, but not good enough.

The Spartans finally ironed out the kinks in their always potential squad at Evanston, Ill., Saturday and handed the Northwestern University Wildcats a sound 31-7 thumping.

It was the defense that did it —if you can discount a 31-point offensive effort. But the burly Spartan line snuffed out the vaunted Wildcat passing attack and coasted the rest of the way.

Northwestern, in contention for the Rose Bowl before the contest, saw ace passer Tom Myers thrown for losses seven times totaling 48 yards while attempting to throw.

* * *

He completed only eight of 25 passes for only 47 yards. To heap insult on injury, two of his areials were intercepted by Herman Johnson and returned 51 yards.

NO RUNNING

The Wildcats picked up only 39 yards on the ground and totaled only 130 yards in all their offensive endeavors.

As it was, fumbilitis—the bane this season — gave the ball to of Dunffy Daugherty's existence Northwestern on mid-field. Their offense still stalled and they were forced to punt.

Dewey Lincoln lapsel mentally and failed to fall on the punt when it hit him and Northwestern recovered on the Spartan 14. Larry Benz finally went over from the two and the Wildcats picked up seven points on one first down and only 23 yards gained.

Sherm Lewis opened the scoring for MSU with a two-yard plunge in the first period. In the second quarter, the Spartans added 10 points on a three-yard spring by Earl Lattimer on a blocked punt and a field goal by Jim Bobbitt.

* * *

Saimes plunged over from the one yard line in the final period and Pete Smith hit Hubert Benson with a 21-yard pass to round out the scoring.

The Spartans next tangle with hapless Illinois, which has managed only one win this season.

MSU Harriers Picked to Cop IC4A Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State, minus only one member of last year's team, ruled the strong favorite to win the IC4A Cross-Country Championship for the sixth time in seven years over the 5-mile Van Cortlandt Park course today.

The Spartans warmed up to their IC4A task last Monday by winning the Big Ten title with 39 points.

Gerry Young, who was fourth in 1961, has been graduated, but Don Castle and Bob Fulcher, 12th and 15th, are back. Other Spartans who could score include Jean Bowen, Gardner Humberger, Mike Kaines, Ron Berby and Pat Stevens.

Wolverines Dominate Statistics

Iowa Game 3 Minutes Too Long for 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan has just returned from a football game that ran three minutes too long.

The Wolveriens looked as if they had battled the Hawkeyes of Iowa to a 14-14 standoff Saturday. But the two Iowa passes turned into touchdowns in the final three minutes of play.

Michigan lost 28-14 — its first defeat at Iowa City — after leading 6-0 and 14-7 early in the game.

With 12 minutes of the last quarter gone, starting quarterback Matt Szykowny lofted a pass to Iowa flater Sammie Harris, who stepped away from Michigan halfback Bob Timberlake at the five and scooted across for a touchdown.

On the first play after the kickoff, guard Earl Mc Quiston intercepted a pass from quarterback Bob Chandler intended for Timberlake.

HAWKEYES MOVE

The Hawks moved 13 yards in four plays for a touchdown with 45 seconds remaining — and most of the unofficial predictions came out right.

The Wolverines outgained the Hawks, 198 yards to 147; outpassed them, 105 yards to 11, and made eight first downs to Iowa's six.

They trailed only in rushing (93 yards to 136) and in penalties.

But, in the second and third periods, they made only one first down, gained only 80 yards and allowed Iowa 31.

Michigan coach Bump Elliott, cautious as ever, said the Wolverines "played as well as they have all season." The line, he added, turned in its finest game of the fall.

Michigan's first touchdown came on an explosive play that included an element of luck. The second time Michigan had the ball, Chandler passed to end Jim Conley but it skipped off his hands and into the arms of Timberlake, who charged to the 16 before he was dropped.

The Hawkeyes tied the score with seconds to go in the first half on an 82-yard punt return by floater Paul Krause.

Authority on Passers Gives Boost to Gross

DETROIT (AP) — Marvin Bass, after building a defense to combat four of the nation's leading eight passers, ranks as an eminent authority on the 1962 quarterback crop.

And Detroit's Jerry Gross, in Bass' opinion, ranks on a par with any quarterback in the country.

"He's as good a passer as ever. And he netted only 18 yards running but his passes accounted for Detroit's two touchdowns in its seventh loss in eight games.

"If he had a little more pass protection and if his receivers didn't drop so many right in their hands, Gross would be unstoppable," said Bass.

After next Saturday's finale at Memphis State, Gross will look ahead to the professional draft.

PRO PROSPECT

"He's a fine pro prospect and his size won't make any difference," said Bass, who used to help the Detroit Lions with their talent scouting. "Small size doesn't hurt the good ones. Look at Eddie LeBaron."

The five-foot-10 Titan missile thrower actually was outshined by South Carolina's Dan Reeves.

Reeves, an 18-year-old sophomore, ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more. He exploded 44 yards for a touchdown on South Carolina's second scrimmage play and later scored on a three-yard run. Reeves clicked on touchdown passes of 23 and 46 yards.

* * *

Gross, harrassed all game, threw a four-yard touchdown pass to Dick Johnson in the thrid quarter and a 14-yarder to Tom Bolz in the final minute.

"But Gross had to do it almost all alone," Bass said. "I feel my boy had a little better team to help him."

Kazoo '11' Ends Season With Best State Record

The Kalamazoo Hornets just sat back and looked at the record book today — smiling all the way.

They had plenty of reason to smile — they wrapped up the 1962 season Saturday with a 21-7 win over Augustana, Ill., to give them the only unbeaten, untied mark in Michigan.

The win was the 12th in a row for coach Rolla Anderson's squad that marched to the first Michigan Interstate Athletic Association conference for the Hornets in 25 years. It was also the first unbeaten slate the Kalamazoo eleven put together in 46 years.

Findlay, Ohio and Hillsdale each scored a second half touchdown Saturday night and battled to a 6-6 tie at Ohio and Wayne State University was thumped, 21-6, in its homecoming game with Bethany, W. Va.

Hornet quarterback Jim Harkema ignored the rain Saturday and passed for three touchdowns to give the Hornets the victory. The first was from seven yards out in the second period to Tom Vandermolen.

* * *

In the third period, Harkema combined with Johnny Persons for a 64-yard pass play and then in the final period, he hit Bob Sibilsky from 27 yards out for the clincher, which capped an 80-yard drive.

CELEBRATION

It was the first unbeaten season for Kalamazoo since 1916 and a wild demonstration was immediately set off by cheering students.

Wayne's Tartars ended a winless season, their worst in 31 to make it worse, vandals stole the goal posts the night before the game. It marked the fourth time in school history, the last was 1931, that Wayne State failed to win a game.

Bill MacKenzie plunged over from the three-yard line early in the fourth period with the touchdown that gave Hillsdale a 6-6 tie with Findlay.

WMU Improves Log Despite 32-16 Loss

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Western Michigan University, despite a 32-16 loss in Saturday's finale, finished with the best team mark since 1950.

* * *

The Broncos lost to Ohio University and finished the campaign with a 5-4 mark. The win for Ohio gave the team an 8-1 mark and clinched second place for them in the Mid-American Conference.

Ohio took advantage of the breaks to move to victory and snip a four-game Western winning streak. The Bobcats broke into the lead with two touchdowns and a field goal in the opening and were never headed.

* * *

The Broncos were behind 24-0 before Riger Theder hit Jim Bednar with a 19-yard scoring shot. They scored their other touchdown on a 20-yard pass from Ken Barnhill to Tom Patterson.

DeVicenzo Wins Again, Takes Tourney at Olivos

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Roberto De Vicenzo, one week after capturning the individual trophy in the Canada Cup, won the second South American Golf Masters Invitational Tournament Sunday when the final 18 holes were rained out.

* * *

De Vicenzo was accorded the victory for his 195 total after the 54 holes concluded Saturday, when the husky Argentine pro fired his second straight 63 for a South American record. Bob Charles of New Zealand was second with a 207.

Lema by Seven Strokes

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—In racing, you could have said he lapped the field; in boxing it probably would have been a TKO; in football, or just about any sport, it was a runaway.

* * *

Tall Tony Lema won the fourth annual $15,000 Mobile Golf Tournament by a seven-stroke margin —the most since Arnold Palmer captured a PGA sanctioned tournament title by a seven-stroke edge earlier this year.

The 28-year-old Lema was two strokes off the pace in the opening round Thursday, took a stroke lead Friday, built it to seven strokes Saturday and finished Sunday with a 70 to maintain his edge.

The San Leandro, Calif., pro's card read 67-68-68-70—273 over the par 36-36—72, 6,800-yard Mobile municipal course.

TOP PRIZE

The $2,000 top prize boosted his official winnings this year to $28,488 and moved him from 17th to 14th place among the leading pro money-winners of the year.

Some Gains Are Sliced

Stock Market Turns Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned mixed in fairly active trading early this afternoon, slicing some gains made at the session's start.

Gain and losses of most pivotal issues were fractional, but a few went to a point or so.

After three weeks of advance, the list moved raggedly higher in early trading, then bogged down into irregularity.

Some brokers saw it as a "tired" market deserving of some consolidation of recent gains.

Although some steel producers reported incoming orders for non-automotive items are improving, the leading steels were narrowly mixed.

STRONG POINT

Chrysler, up more than a point, was the outstanding strong point in the motor section as talk continued about its improving stature in the industry. General Motors dropped a fraction. American Motors and Ford eased.

Detroit Steel cut the dividend to 15 cents from 25 cents but the stock, trading far below its year's high, anyway, was unchanged.

* * *

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. A feature was resumption of trading in E.L. Bruce Co. common. The stock opened on 18,300 shares at 10⅞.

Bonds Mixed in Quiet Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices opened the week's trading on a mixed note.

Over the counter dealers in U. S. government issues quoted intermediate and long maturities down 2/32 in extremely quiet dealings. One dealer guessed that the holiday week won't produce anything much different.

Rails and industrials inched upward in early corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Utilities were irregular.

Teamsters Win Big Election

Beat Challenge by 600 Votes in Truckers' Tally

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James R. Hoffa's followers have withstood a major assault on their control of over-the-road truckers in parts of four states, but the margin in the representational election was less than 600 votes.

The victory Sunday apparently brought the Teamsters Union a step closer to their goal of a nationwide bargaining unit.

A defeat would have stripped them of their fourth largest local and made it nearly impossible for Hoffa to bring the Philadelphia area into his regional bargaining network.

Philadelphia is the only trucking center not yet tied into the network, reportedly the basis for nationwide bargaining in the future.

The Teamsters polled 3,870 votes; the independent Voice of the Teamsters, 3,274. A total of 392 ballots were challenged.

The four-day election ended a year-long bitter, sometimes violent campaign. At one point, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy telephoned Mayor James H. J. Tate to ask assurance that police would provide adequate supervision to maintain peace during the election.

The Voice, which said it would have affiliated with the AFL-CIO, said it would decide later whether to appeal the election on the basis of alleged coercion or intimidation of the truckers.

Demand Moderate for Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand for grain futures was moderately active today during the first several minutes of transactions on the board of trade and prices were firm to strong.

All commodities started off with gains which ran to more than a cent a bushel in soybeans an drye. However, soybeans came under increased selling on the advance and prices backed down slightly.

Brokers said the support included buying on both speculative and commercial accounts.

Hedge selling in corn was understood to have been a lighter although receipts amounted to 931 cars. But dealers said a good deal of it was on direct assignment.

Tax Cut Plan Involves Our Whole Way of Life

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—A whole way of life is involved in the plan to cut taxes and reform the system. And that's likely to complicate action in the next Congress far beyond the simple popular slogan of lower rates and fewer loopholes.

* * *

An entire generation of business executives and countless other individuals are addicted to what is known as half price thinking. Many products and programs wards are worth only half what the ticket says because of the tax saving. Or, the other way around, many seeming advantages or rewards are worth onl yhalf what they promise because of the extra tax liability.

CHARITIES WONDER

For one example, charitable organizations know that much of the gifts from corporations is tinted by the knowledge that if it wasn't given, taxes would take half of it anyway. Some charities are wondering today if their income will drop if tax rates do.

Or, the other side of the coin, many with executive skills know that a better paying job will net only a part of its face value. In the higher tax bracket a large part of the raise will melt away.

Critics of the present high tax rates argue that often it doesn't seem worth the effort to try to produce more and earn more. Or those at the top turn to other forms of compensation—stock options, company bought insurance, salary payments deferred until after retirement.

And the tax laws are now so complicated, especially at the corporate level, that perhaps 100,000 tax specialists work full time tackling others' problems.

Corporations also hire executives and countless clerks to handle the many official forms and seek out the most advantageous approach.

AN ART

Avoidance of taxes is an art in itself, both for corporations and for individuals. Many business brains that might be concentrated on earning more income are occupied in trying to save on taxes. Business and individuals often find they're ahead this way in the long run.

Advocates of tax cuts and simplication say that the general economy suffers as a result.

Economists at the First National City Bank of New York put it this way: "In high brackets, extra work is no longer worthwhile. Our punitive tax rates have led to the enactment of countless special reliefs that have complicated the tax laws and made them costly and difficult to administer and obey."

Morgan Guaranty economists add that half price thinking has played a part in the wage-price spiral of inflation since World War II, since companies have felt that half of the wage increase would go for taxes otherwise and so haven't tried, until lately, to halt the spiral.

EXPANSION AFFECTED

Half price thinking also affects the manner of financing business expansion. Instead of offering new stocks many companies have relied on borrowing money. Interest payments are charged off before taxes, and thus seem half price. Stockholders expect dividends, but these are paid out of a company's after tax net income, and thus seem full price.

So, there's more to tax rates and systems than just the pain of filling out tax forms and getting up the payments.

Successful Investing

(Q) "I own 200 shares of Vornado, which pays no dividends. I am thinking of switching into American Bakeries or Detroit Steel, which give a very high yield. Which do you think would be better?" H. C.

(A) If you don't mind my saying so, I think you'd make a serious mistake to switch your Vornado into either of the other two stocks you mention.

American Bakeries' earnings per share have declined in each year since 1956 and continued down through July of this year. The dividend was cut last May, and the present quarterly of 45 cents looks insecure.

Detroit Steel directors delayed action on the quarterly payment at their last meeting Oct. 26. They will meet again in the third week of November to consider dividend action. A cut seems probable.

I advise you to keep away from the very high yield stocks. If you need income, I would switch Vornado into General Motors.

(Q) "I would appreciate your opinion on buying more Grand Union at present low levels as an offset to an average purchase price of 33 on present holdings. I can afford to wait but not to be foolish. I personally feel there is some future here but will defer to your seasoned judgment." A. W.

(A) I thank you for your courtesy. My judgment may be sometimes mistaken, but it is undoubtedly well seasoned!

I would hold Grand Union, but I would not buy any more, even at present depressed levels. Like many of the other great food chains, Grand Union has been hurt badly by excessive competition and a sharp drop in profit margins.

I would avoid any situation and any industry where profit margins are falling. More than any other factor, the trend of profit margins represents the key to successful investing. With expenses rising and prices remaining constant, the food chains to me represent a group where new commitments should be avoided.

Military Supply May Leave Detroit

Consider $100-Million Business Move

DETROIT (UPI) — The Pentagon is expected to decide in a few days whether to move from Detroit to Columbus, Ohio, a $100 - million - a - year military supply business with a planned payroll of 2,000 people.

"I don't know at the moment which way this decision will go," said Navy Capt. Viggo Bertelsen, commanding officer of the Defense Automotive Supply Center (DASC).

He denied reports he already has received orders to move by April 1.

* * *

Bertelsen said that a meeting is still being planned for the first week of December to plan a move of the newly-formed DASC from its present quarters in a 26-year-old reconverted factory building to a recently-vacated post office building in Detroit.

That move would take two years and cost about $2 million. Figures were not available on a similar move to Columbus, if it is made.

The DASC went into operation last month as part of a defense reorganization plan. It buys repair and replacement parts for U.S. military vehicles.

By next summer, it will list 250,000 parts and employ 2,000 persons.

The plan to move the DASC to Ohio — even though this is the center of the auto industry — is one of several proposals under study designed to eliminate duplication of services and lower defense costs.

In the DASC case, some data processing work is now being done in Columbus and some in Detroit. A final decision has to be made whether to shift the whole operation to Ohio.

The old Ordnance Tank Automotive Command (OTAC) used to buy all vehicles and parts for the military. But as part of the reorganization, OTAC became ATAC (Army instead of ordnance) and was limited to vehicle purchases.

Its Military Automotive Supply Agency (MASA) became the DASC. The 500 employes who handled the $100-million-a-year business went to work for the DASC.

* * *

The DASC is one of several such centers under the Defense Supply Agency (DSA). One DSA center is in Richmond, Va., and buys material-handling equipment.

'Somebody Else, Not Me'

Seems Nobody Wants GOP Nod

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican big shots who might be nominated for president in 1964 have something in common with the late, great blackfaced comedian, Bert Williams.

Anyway, they have more in common with Williams than with, for example, the late Wendell L. Willkie. Willkie bolted for the 1940 Republican presidential convention bawling:

"I wanna meet the champ."

He met him. The 1940 champ was Franklin D. Roosevelt. The current champ is John F. Kennedy.

Bert Williams' most famous stage line was "Somebody else, not me."

And that is what the Republican big shots seem to be saying to themselves and to others in this 1962 election afterglow.

* * *

Or, if they don't say it themselves, someone is saying it for them.

The word from New York is that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's handlers are counselling him to tuck his presidential aspirations under the bed for the time being.

They want the governor to take a hard look at his chances of defeating President Kennedy in 1964 before committing himself to an all-out reach for the Republican presidential nomination.

ROMNEY BUSY

Republican Gov.-elect George Romney of Michigan speaks distinctly for himself. Three days after the election, Romney said:

"I will not be a candidate for president in 1964."

* * *

He didn't say positively, nor that he would discourage efforts in his behalf. But persons who know Romney well believ him to be a man of his word, so much so that his post-election statement should not need to be examined for double talk.

Moreover, Michigan's state government is in a bad way. Romney faces problems of complexity and magnitude sufficient to destroy him politically.

It is fair to assume that Romney will be too busy in Michigan during the next two years for much outside endeavor.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., seemed to be moving himself away from the 1964 spotlight in a recent interview in Santa Clara, Calif., Goldwater said that "Rockefeller is much closer to the conservatives than most conservatives want to admit."

The implication of that remark is that Goldwater would not mount a holy conservative crusade against Rockefeller's nomination.

Goldwater is a realist who does take his own presidential chances as seriously as do some of his numerous conservative friends.

Neither is Goldwater devious. His friendly reference to Rockefeller probably was not a feeler toward a 1964 Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket.

* * *

That would be a strong ticket, however, with political sex appeal. There was a somewhat similar presidential ticket in 1932—Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner. They won.

U.N. to Call for Renewed Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A resolution calling for new disarmament negotiations and a progress report by mid-April was expected to win overwhelming approval in the United Nations today.

Another resolution recommending that nuclear weapons be barred from Latin America faced an uncertain future because of Cuban demands that it apply to U.S. bases in the Caribbean.

* * *

The General Assembly's 110-national main political committee scheduled morning and afternoon meetings in an effort to reach a vote today on the two proposals.

The first resolution, sponsored by 31 countries, calls on the 18-nation disarmament committee to resume its negotiations in Geneva "expeditiously and in a spirit of constructive compromise, until agreement has been reached" on general and complete disarmament with effective controls.

* * *

The proposal asks the disarmament committee to report to the assembly on its progress not later than the second week of April. The committee, which recessed Sept. 8 to allow for the U.N. debate, is scheduled to meet again Nov. 26.

The second resolution recommends that the countries of Latin America agree to dispose of any nuclear weapons or nuclear delivery vehicles which may be on their territory and not to manufacture, receive, store or test such devices. It calls for verification procedures.

* * *

Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador, sponsoring the proposal, were expected to confer on their future course in view of the Cuban-U.S. disagreement. There was speculation that they might withhold the resolution from a vote for the time being.

'No Harm to Foodstuffs by Legal Spray Use'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Byron T. Shaw, head of the Agriculture Department's research services said today there is no evidence that legal use of pesiticides and weed killers leaves harmful residues in food.

"Rather extensive investigation has been made on this question," Shaw said in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, "but so far as we know now, not a single incident of harmful reaction has come to light."

Were Calm on Freighter —Survivors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Five survivors of the Greek freighter Captain George said last night there was no panic aboard their burning ship before they abandoned it in the Atlantic Ocean near Bermuda.

The five were the only survivors of 23 crewmen who presumably went down with the vessel in the storm - tossed Atlantic last Tuesday.

* * *

They arrived here aboard the Liberian flag tanker Trinity Navigator, which was carrying crude oil to the Gulf Oil Corp.

The survivors said they spent the 18 hours before their captain ordered them to abandon ship, in jettisoning ammunition and performing other emergency duties.

The weather was against them, they said, as they went over the right side in one of the two life boats. As it turned out, they said, they made it to safety while their 18 fellow crew members went over the left and safer side later, and vanished.

* * *

Two of the crewmen said that, once in the water, they did not think they would survive.

One of the men actually slipped from the lifeboat into the water for about a minute. The five said they were in the sea about an hour before they were picked up by the Trinity Navigator.

The five were given immediate examination by a doctor, who said that none was seriously hurt.

The crewmen departed immediately for New York, where they will enter a hospital for further examination.

Hospital Trip Delays Bride

ATLANTA (AP) — An emergency trip to a hospital couldn't keep Matilda Powell, 19, and Charles Miles, 23, from becoming Mr. and Mrs.

Matilda became ill Saturday just a few hours before her wedding. She was rushed to a hospital where her illness was diagnosed as a perforated ulcer.

After blood transfusions, the wedding proceeded 15 minutes behind schedule.

Ex-Ferris President Succumbs at 66

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Byron J. Brophy, 66, president of Ferris Institute for six years until his retirement because of poor health in 1952, died last night at Big Rapids Community Hospital.

He assumed the Ferris presidency in 1946 when the school reportedly was on a shaky financial basis and is credited with eliminating its indebtedness, starting a complete campus and curriculum renovation and achieving state support status for Ferris in 1950.

Brophy was named president emeritus upon his resignation. He was succeeded in the active presidency by Dr. Victor Spathelf, incumbent Ferris president.

Germans Talk Over Border

FULDA, Germany (UPI)—Several East German army officers exchanged cigarettes and gossiped with West German border guards yesterday along the barbed-wire frontier barriers.

It was the first such confrontation Westerners could recall for at least 10 years.

The Communists usually are aloof and refuse all overtures. There have been recent gunfire incidents in the same general area.

Traffic Tolls Evened Up

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have taken 1,366 lives on Michigan highways this year, according to provisional figures compiled today by state police. The annual toll was the same on this date a year ago.

5 Quit Periling Bonn Regime

BONN (UPI) — The five Free Democratic Party (FDP) members of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's coalition cabinet resigned today, threatening the government with collapse.

The party announced it was quitting Adenauer's government because the chancellor had refused to meet its demands to fire Defense Minister Franz Josef Straus. A short time later the party announced the resignation of the ministers.

A spokesman for Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party (CDU) said the chancellor will meet tomorrow afternoon with party leaders to discuss the best course of action.

* * *

Adenauer now has eight seats too few for a majority in parliament. The CDU and FDP together had 309 seats, of which the FDP suplied 67. Without the FDP Adenauer can muster only 242 seats, eight less than the 250 seats he needs for a majority.

Find 5 Bombs Inside Cuban Embassy

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Scores of riot squad police were placed around the Cuban Embassy last night when five unexploded bombs were reported found inside the building.

* * *

Police also guarded the Russian Embassy, which was hit by homemade fire bombs—known as Molotov cocktails — tossed from two speeding cars Saturday night while a cocktail party was going on inside.

One of the bombs crashed through a window and started a blaze, which was put out by embassy personnel using fire extinguishers.

The Cuban Embassy charged that the five bombs discovered in its building were all of "the type manufactured and used by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency."

The United States Embassy declined comment on the charge.

* * *

Firemen who were called on to remove the bombs said they did not appear to be homemade. Examination of the bombs was planned by Mexican authorities.

Cat Owner Says Bye to 25 Pets

NEW YORK (UPI) — A retired schoolteacher has reluctantly sent her 25 cats away to 25 veterinarians.

Only a court order was able to part Ethel Hunt from her menagerie. She was told to get the cats out of her apartment or be evicted with them today.

* * *

Miss Hunt, 55, and her cats were brought before the law after neighbors complained about noise and odors. A veterinary society reported yesterday that all of the cats were out of the apartment, each turned over to a different veterinarian.

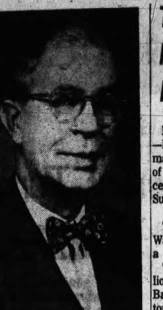
* * *

The retired teacher asked only to be allowed occasional visits to the cats after they are placed in new homes.

Sight 200 Red Trawlers in the English Channel

FOLKESTONE, England (UPI) — Nearly 200 Soviet and Polish trawlers were sighted yesterday in the English Channel, about 40 miles east of the Thames River.

The British Navy sai d the fishing vessels either were taking shelter or were fishing the area. Another large trawler fleet was reported in the same area last week.



RALPH LEE

Cancer Foundation Honor Volunteers

The annual volunteer recognition meeting of the North Oakland unit of the Michigan Cancer Foundation will start at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Pontiac City Club, according to Dr. Glenn W. Bylsma, board president.

* * *

Dr. Ralph L. Lee, nationally known author and lecturer, will speak on "People — As They Come and Are."

Dr. Bylsma said tribute will be paid to area workers who have volunteered their efforts to the foundation.

Alfred C. Girard, president of the Community National Bank, has been named chairman of this year's Cancer Crusade. The crusade, a program to promote cancer education, will be held in April.

Serving on the dinner committee are Mrs. E. M. Estes of 1085 Waddington Road and Mrs. Milo D. McLintock of 1084 Waddington Road, both of Bloomfield Township; and Mrs. Ray C. Kingsbury of 2409 Silver Circle Drive, Waterford Township.

GM Issues Catalog of Service Films

General Motors this week issued the 22nd edition of its catalog of motion picture films which the corporation makes available free of charge for showing by schools, civic groups, service clubs and other organizations.

* * *

The 1963 catalog lists 48 16mm sound films that takes the audience behind scenes in industry and cover a variety of other subjects ranging from driver education and highway safety to sports and the fundamentals of science and mathematics.

The films may be obtained locally by contacting General Motors Corp., Public Relations Staff Film Library, General Motors Building, Detroit 2.

Infant Abandoned in MDs' Coat Room

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A baby girl only a few hours old was found abandoned in a doctor's coat room in a Fort Smith hospital yesterday.

Sister Mary Maurelia, hospital administrator, said the child was doing well.

The baby was wrapped in a blanket from which laundry markings had been removed.

Swainson Slates Talk

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Swainson and Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, will speak Dec. 1 at a testimonial dinner honoring August Scholle Michigan AFL-CIO president.

The dinner, honoring Scholle for his contributions to the organized labor movement will kick off a fund-raising campaign for the Labor Education Foundation, Inc., established last June by the 650,000-member Michigan AFL-CIO.

"Our Great-West Insured Group Annuity Plan is a Sound Investment"

When arranging an employee pension plan for your company, consider these four important factors:

COST — New and important changes in Great-West's methods of funding its group pension plans mean lowest possible ultimate cost.

FLEXIBILITY — Our pension plan assures flexibility in providing guaranteed employee benefits — in determining the annual premium — in effecting possible future changes in plan design.

SECURITY — Our plan not only guarantees the benefits, it also provides absolute security for your pension fund. At the same time, your investment will earn an exceptionally high rate of interest.

SERVICE — Our sales, actuarial, administrative, and investment services are fully integrated to guarantee top performance of your pension plan.

Another Southern College Taken to Court

ANDERSON, S. C. (AP) — The school segregation barriers of South Carolina, the only state which has not admitted a Negro to a tax-supported white institution of learning, were to be assailed in U.S. District Court today.

* * *

Lawyers for Harvey G. Gantt, 19, a Charleston Negro, will ask that he be admitted to Clemson College, an all-white school since it was founded 73 years ago.

Gantt has been studying architecture at Iowa State University in Ames.

His case was to be tried by U.S. Dist. Judge C. C. Wyche of Spartanburg, who recently denied a request for a temporary injunction requiring Gantt's immediate admission to Clemson.

Clemson President Robert C. Edwards testified at that hearing that Gantt had not completed his application properly. He also said Clemson has no policy in regard to admission of Negroes.

The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Judge Wyche's denial of the injunction, and sent the case back to him for trial.

Judge Wyche has lived all of his 77 years in South Carolina. He has been on the federal bench since his appointment by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1937. He is a former law partner of James F. Byrnes, once a former associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Byrnes and other trustees of Clemson College have been subpoenaed in the case.

* * *

There have been past attempts to integrate the University of South Carolina at Columbia and Winthrop College, the state school for women at Rock Hill. In each case, the applying Negroes failed to press their attempts to a conclusive decision in the courts.

More than 2,000 Negroes are now enrolled in formerly white colleges in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas and Mississippi.

The University of Alabama admitted Autherine Lucy, a Negro girl, several years ago. She was expelled for making charges against school officials, and the university now has no Negro students.

* * *

At the University of Mississippi, a lone Negro, James H. Meredith, is attending classes.

Gantt is described by faculty members and classmates at Iowa State as quiet and studious. He has been a good student, but not a brilliant one. His Iowa grades were slightly below the "B" average level.

* * *

He wants to finish his study of architecture at Clemson, the only school in South Carolina where that type of instruction is available.

AERIAL CONTRASTS — Capt. Gene Brown of Coral Gables, Fla., stands in the cockpit of the Pitcairn Mailwing in which he flew the first mail load, 350 pounds, into Washington in 1928. Dying Pair Leaves Tot at Church

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — A husky 3-month-old boy was found Saturday on the steps of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church.

Pinned to the boy's clothing was a note:

"We have no relatives or relations with which to leave our son. Please ask your household to pray for us now and at the time of our death."

The note then explained that the tot's parents were dying. It read:

"Being at this time of a sane and sound mind and will, we hereby renounce all present and future rights and knowledge of our beloved son, whose Christian name is Richard. Our faith has been one of consolation in our hour of despair. With the knowledge that our son is safely in the church's loving arms, we are at peace."

Attached to the note was the baby's feeding schedule. There was a shopping bag filled with clothing beside the basket holding the infant.

★ ★ ★

The parents asked in their note that Richard be placed in a Catholic home through a Catholic adoption center and raised as a Catholic. The note said the father was a victim of spine cancer and the mother was suffering from a brain tumor.

The note contunued:

"I am writing this so in your wisdom, piety and goodness you will understand the heartbreak with which I must explain the terrible and heart-rending circumstances which have forced us to leave our son at your doorstep and consign him prayerfully, objectively and humbly to your care, love and guidance.

It was signed, "A loving and sorrowful mother and father."

Indian Examines Reds' Motives

'China Out to Ruin Way of Life'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Destruction of India's way of life is Red China's prime object in its attack on India, says Indian Ambassador B. K. Nehru.

★ ★ ★

He says he believes this "because the Indian way of life through freedom and democracy was achieving a degree of success which if it went on would have convinced, or helped, other people to the concept that this is the way to develop."

Nehru, in a television interview —Meet the Press, NBC—said Sunday:

"After all, this is a problem of the underdeveloped countries. China and India have adopted different systems of development. Ours has been a little more successful, I think. The best way to destroy it has been to force us to divert our resources—very limited, resources—to defense rather than development."

Brazil Pupils Visiting Flint Praise U.S.

SAN PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — A spokesman for the newspaper O Estado de Sao Paulo said today letters from 25 Brazilian children living with American families in Flint, Mich., under "Operation Friendship" indicate that they are very enthusiastic about the United States.

★ ★ ★

O Estado is a sponsor of the program. The spokesman said the letters singled out George Eyster of Flint, coordinator of the student tour, for praise.

The students were living with American "foster families," to learn something of American home-life during their visit.

When they return they will participate in an essay contest on what they got most out of the visit to the United States.

Topp to Plead He Was Insane

Insanity at the time of the crime will be 17-year-old Sheldry Topp's defense against a charge of first-degree murder next Tuesday when Topp will go on trial in Oakland County Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

Notice of the insanity defense was filed by Topp's appointed defense attorneys, Gilbert H. Davis and James S. Thorburn, both of Royal Oak.

Topp is accused in the fatal knifing of the county's first assistant corporation counsel Charles Davis May 16 when he broke into Davis' Pontiac Township home hours after escaping from Pontiac State Hospital.

A resident of Mount Clemens before he was committed to the hospital, Topp three times has been found mentally competent to stand trial—twice in sanity hearings before Circuit Judge William J. Beer in June and again by a jury Oct. 26.

★ ★ ★

The insanity defense notice said the defense will call Topp's parents and two psychiatrists to testify to Topp's insanity at the time of the alleged offense.

Man's Car Smashed by 2 Deer and an Auto

SAUGUS, Mass. (UPI) — Two deer smashed into the side of Nicholas Nigoghasian's car yesterday while he was driving on U.S. Route 1.

When Nigoghasian pulled to the side of the road to inspect the damage, another car slammed into the rear of his car and sped away. So did one of the deer.

Expect JFK to Seek U. S. Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A domestic Peace Corps of volunteers to tackle the problems of slums, migrant workers and American Indians was expected today to become one of President Kennedy's major legislative requests when Congress convenes in January.

On Saturday, Kennedy named his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as head of a task force to study the feasibility of such a program within the United States.

A preliminary report prepared under the direction of the attorney general observed that some 32 million Americans live at a lower economic level than the nation is capable of providing.

White House Will Hop to First Jazz Concert

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cool culture comes to the White House today.

★ ★ ★

A jazz concert—the first ever held in the stately old executive mansion—will be presented by a young sextet that wants President Kennedy to keep on sending U.S. jazzmen abroad in the cultural exchange program.

The jazz session is the fifth of a series of Concerts for Youth sponsored by Mrs. Kennedy.

OFFICIALS ATTEND

Sons and daughters of ambassadors and chiefs of diplomatic missions here will join the children of Cabinet officials for the late afternoon concert in the East Ballroom.

Leader of the sextet is Paul Winter, 23, a saxophone player from Altoona, Pa. A 20-year-old Korean pianist, Ton Il Han, will be featured.

Winter and his buddies, college students from Chicago area universities, won an international jazz festival award in 1961. As a result they were sent on a tour of Latin America last winter.

They were the first student jazz group sent abroad under a student exchange program and the enthusiasm with which they were received startled them.

In fact, says Winter, the six were so impressed with the effect their music had in South America that they decided to put aside other careers for the moment to devote themselves to cultural exchange music projects.

RESCUE TRY FAILS — A neighbor, attempting to rescue two small children who were suffocating in their Los Angeles apartment yesterday, is driven back by smoke and flames as he stands on an overhang outside the building. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation attempted by firemen failed to revive the children, a boy, 4, and girl, 3.

Hagerty Defends Disputed Show

'Hiss on TV Right of Free Press'

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadcasting executive James C. Hagerty says the appearance of Alger Hiss on the television program about Richard Nixon was an exercise of freedom of the press by the network.

★ ★ ★

The American Broadcasting Co. had a right to interview Hiss, a convicted perjurer, along with others on the program, Hagerty said in a taped statement aired on the ABC-TV last night.

Hagerty, ABC vice president in charge of news, special events and public affairs, had the ultimate responsibility for broadcast of the Nixon program a week ago yesterday.

"I'm against Hiss and everything he stands for. I have no use for him — never had, and never will have.

"But that doesn't alter the fact that he did play an important part in the political career of Richard Nixon."

FREE PRESS ATTACKED

Hagerty, amplifying his defense of ABC during last week's criticism of the television appearance of the man whom Nixon helped send to prison, said: "In this situation, the principle of a free press has come under attack."

In the course of his six-minute statement, Hagerty also said the program on which Hiss appeared was supported by many "sincere people — it has been assailed by others—equally sincere."

"In addition to the program itself," he continued, "a more fundamental issue, in my opinion, is presented.

"That issue deals with the basic American principle of freedom of the press, or the exchange of free ideas, free speech, free assent and dissent."

Nixon questioned the importance of the appearance of Hiss on the program about Nixon's political career.

In telegrams sent to several newspapers Saturday Nixon asked: "What does an attack by one convicted perjurer mean when weiged on the scale against the thousands of wires and letters from patriotic Americans"

The telegrams to the newspapers confirmed that Nixon does not plan to run again for public office and discussed his 16 years in public office.

The controversial television program, in which commentator Howard K. Smith appeared with Hiss and three other persons in their pro-and-con comment, was entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

The program was taped after Nixon's defeat by Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the gubernatorial election in California Nov. 6.

Linda Has a Sad Tale— She Still Loves Tyrone

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It was a sad 39th birthday for Luscious Linda Christian . . .

Summoned to Hollywood by income taxers demanding she pay $120,000 for '55 and '56, she told me with quivering lips that she can't raise it even selling the big Bel-Air house where her nude statue smiles openly upon the world.

WILSON

"That amount's sheer nonsense!" blazed Linda.

In a beautiful sari, she was Twisting and Bossa-Novaing with escorts George DeWitt and Robert Hadjob—never forgetting she's married to Edmund Purdom.

"For the first time"—we were side by side at the Encore at a big soiree—"I'm trying to sell the house."

★ ★ ★

"Some rumor-mongers," I ventured, "think you're staying away from Purdom rather long." (He's in Europe, filming.)

"Oh, no, he's so loyal. He understands," Linda said.

"Understands what?"

"That I'm still in love with Ty. On my birthday four years ago I did not get a card or telegram from Ty for the first time. Two days later I learned that he was dead."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Take a look at your tax bill, and you'll quit calling them "cheap politicians."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Voters are asked to remember that, no matter who wins, the American way is to join hands after the election—and blame everything on the new administration.

EARL'S PEARLS: The average wife is endowed with three voices—a telephone voice, a voice she uses with company, and a voice she uses on her husband.

"If you really want your friends to remember you this Christmas," suggests Arnold Glasow, "—give 'em something cheap." . . . That's earl, brother.

Father, 5 Children Killed in Stove Blast

POULSBO, Wash. (UPI)—A father and five of his 11 children were killed yesterday when an oil stove blew up in their home.

The victims were Richard H. Jarman, 40, dauhters Kerry, 9, Tami Kay, 4, and Kimberly Ann, 1, and sons Michael Wayne, 3, and Russell, two weeks.

Jarman's wife, Dawn, and five of the children escaped the blaze. A 17-year-old son was not at home at the time of the fire.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Jarman was listed in critical condition today at a hospital. The children who escaped the blaze suffered minor burns.

Seidman Gets Special Post

Romney Names Loser in Election as Aide

LANSING (AP)—Gov-elect George Romney has appointed Grand Rapids accountant L. William Seidman as a special assistant on state financial affairs.

Seidman was the Republican candidate for auditor general who lost out in the Nov. 6 election as Romney was winning the governorship for the GOP.

Seidman, a partner in the nationally known Seidman and Seidman accounting firm, will serve until Romney's inauguration Jan. 1, the governor-elect said. He will assist Romney in the areas of the "budget, spending control and revenue reform."

While announcing Seidman's appointment, Romney at the same time broke with tradition by inviting Democrats to share in planning and carrying out his Jan. 1 inauguration.

★ ★ ★

Romney also promised to share with the Democrats any proceeds over and above the expenses if they would agree to make the customarily elaborate occasion a joint affair.

Romney made the offer formally in a "Dear John" letter to Democratic Secretary of State James M. Hare Saturday.

As a rule, election winners of the past have made the inaugural pretty much a one-party show—the winner's. Profits, if any, from the balls and parties have been tucked away in party coffers.

JOIN PLANNING

Romney's invitation, directed expressly to members of the State Administrative Board, invited them to join in the "planning and execution" of the inauguration. All the board members are Democrats.

Romney, addressing Hare as "Dear Jim" in his inaugural invitation letter, said the "primary meaning" of the Nov. 6 election was that the people expect their public officials to "work together to meet the challenges facing this state without primary concern for party labels."

Romney said both parties could demonstrate they wish to meet the desire of the people by joining together in the inauguration.

Jet Forced to Drop Fuel After Engine Trouble

TAMPA (UPI) — Tampa residents were alarmed yesterday when a huge Air Force jet streamed overhead spewing flames from one engine. But the KB 50 jet tanker landed safely minutes later.

The plane, carrying a crew of six, developed trouble shortly after takeoff and was forced to jettison its fuel into Tampa Bay before landing.

Want to Slash Billions Off U.S. Budget? Use Computers

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Thanks to my no-nonsense midwestern upbringing, this correspondent hates waste in any form.

RUTH

As a consequence, I have developed a sensational plan to slash our governmental expenditures by many billions of dollars, and eventually to eliminate government entirely.

The idea is so simple that some economy-minded legislator should have thought of it, but since candidates like to keep on being elected, they rarely think in such enlightened terms. The plan will, after all, obviate the necessity for congressmen.

The thought came to me when I began worrying about what to do between elections with those super-brained computers that eat early returns, and then disgorge the outcome many hours before a ward boss knows what is happening to his candidate.

Why not, I decided, put these machines to running the government? Before our millions of government workers begin screaming about technological unemployment, I hasten to explain that for the time being their paychecks would remain intact.

★ ★ ★

The computers are becoming less complicated and more all-knowing with each election, but for a few years yet mere mortals would be needed to compile the research that is fed into the hungry machines.

Normal attrition — death, resignation and defeat at the polls — would automatically reduce the public payroll while the computers were developing into super-colossal giants.

One of the immediate benefits of the plan would be a tremendous reduction in the military establishment. Because a democracy cannot strike first, we must be prepared at this point to fight a war of the opponent's choosing on any front. This is expensive.

Under the plan, however, selected information would be fed into a computer, and the system would operate something like this:

"White House calling defense. Bob, what does it look like the Communists are up to for the next year?"

McNamara: "Just a moment, JFK, and I'll press a button. Here we are. Only seven key counterspies have reported to date, but on the basis of that our computer projects that the Kremlin is merely bluffing on Berlin.

★ ★ ★

Quemoy and Matsu are off-limits for at least 18 months, Fidel Castro will soon call it quits in Cuba, and the Red Chinese will back down the Himalayas when the snow flies."

'CUT BUDGET IN HALF'

Kennedy: "Great news, Bob. Better muster out a million troops, cut your budget in half, and . . . oh, Bob . . . better think about getting your job back at Ford's, too. We may not need a defense secretary much longer."

★ ★ ★

The President then calls the secretary of state and asks: "On the basis of computer No. 2, which countries should continue to have foreign aid?"

Rusk twirls a couple of dials, pulls out a punch-card and reports: "On the basis of incomplete reports from nine nations located in strategic spots around the globe, computer No. 2 projects that the only remaining Communist threat is in the northeast corner of Africa, and 91½ per cent of the other nations will be able to balance their budgets better than we will.

It declares, therefore, that only $210,000 will be needed next year."

The President lops off another four billion from the budget, and sends it up to Congress. The lawmakers, using their own computers, have meanwhile figured where they can unload the farm surplus without upsetting the world market, by letting the satellites eat their way out of communism.

With practically no appropriations bills to wrangle about, and with sharp tax cuts flooding the taxpayers pockets with ready cash, no new social welfare legislation is needed, so they adjourn.

By the time the next campaign rolls around, the computers are so greatly advanced that no elections are necessary. The winners can be projected in advance.

★ ★ ★

This saves so much money that Congress does not bother to meet. After all, the hidden taxes are bringing in enough to run what is left of the government.

Shortly thereafter, the computers can take over the reins of government entirely. Only one person — an office boy with good eye sight — will be needed to read the computers, and eventually a machine will replace him, too.

The rest of us will meanwhile be employed in building bigger and hungrier computers.

Small Change Big Problem in Midwest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, which holds dear to its heart such price tags as $1.98, $49.95 and $2.99, is running short of change.

★ ★ ★

The shortage of coins seems to be most acute in the Northeast and Midwest, and threatens to harass merchants and customers alike during the Christmas season.

Treasury and federal reserve officials say pennies and nickels are in the shortest supply, and the possibility of a "grey market" in small change has arisen.

A retail chain store in Chicago, where the problem is worst, spent $10,000 to bring in coins from other cities and is considering offering customers scrip instead of hard currency in making change and cashing checks.

★ ★ ★

The treasury would like to increase production at the Philadelphia and Denver mints, but it doesn't have the money.

Officials hope to get quick approval from the Budget Bureau and key members of Congress to spend funds not specifically earmarked for production costs.

The problem is reported to arise from Congress' failure to pass a supplemental appropriation bill in its rush to adjournment last month. The bill that died contained $500,000 for the Bureau of the Mint.

Miss Eva B. Adams, director of the bureau, estimated that the $500,000 would finance production of an extra 420 million coins. If the money had been made available, she indicated, a substantial proportion of the coins would be coming out of the mints now.

Federal reserve banks in several cities reported "alarmingly low" coin reserves as of Nov. 1. They have been unable to fill all coin orders from commercial banks, which in turn have had to ration coins to stores.

The business world's need for coins is always greatest during the Christmas shopping season. Officials are worried that the lack of change may dampen customer-store relations. Some stores may refuse to cash checks unless they are for round dollar amounts.

One trade publication has advised banks they may be able to buy coins from vending machine firms or municipal parking authorities. There is no law against selling coins at a premium price.

Explosion Rips British Carrier

LONDON (AP) — The British carrier Centaur reported today that an explosion aboard had caused a number of casualties, the Admiralty announced.

The Centaur was off Point Lynas on the north coast of Wales when the explosion occurred.

★ ★ ★

The carrier said it was sending the casualties to a hospital in the Welsh city of Bangor.

An Admiralty spokesman said the first radio report from the ship indicated the explosion was in a boiler room.

The Centaur, a 27,000-ton vessel, has a normal complement of 1,028 sailors and approximately 300 airmen. It carries 45 fighter planes and helicopters.

The ship went into navy service in 1953.

Reds Cut Off Indian Retreat

AP Photofax

RED CHINA ADVANCES — Map of Red China-India frontier locates Chinese offensives as they outflanked Indian troops at Se Pass (1). Another Red spearhead advanced beyond Walong. (2). In Ladakh, the northwest end of the disputed border, the Chinest captured an outpost guarding the vital Indian airfield at Chushul (3).

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Chinese Communists have cut off Indian troops retreating from their overrun defense positions on the Se Pass and fighting is now going on 32 air miles to the southeast, in the outskirt of Bomdila, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced today.

★ ★ ★

The Indian army had planned to place its next defense line behind Se Pass at Bomdila, but the surprise Chinese sweep around the northeast end of the defenses brought the attackers to Bomdila last night.

The spokesman said Bomdila is now threatened.

Indian troops from Se Pass, caught between two Chinese forces, are now trying to fight their way back to a link with the Indians around Bomdila.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Nehru had announced earlier the fall of the vital Himalayan Se Pass to a prong of a massive Red Chinese offensive probing toward the densely populated plains of Assam.

TROOPS OUTFLANK

The Chinese outflanked Indian troops on 13,756-foot-high Se Pass, forcing them to withdraw, Nehru told Parliament.

The loss of the pass came as the Chinese Communists, attacking in waves, pressed their renewed offensive at both ends of the 1,500-mile frontier stretching from Burma to Kashmir.

★ ★ ★

At the eastern end of the battle line, the Chinese posed a separate threat to the Assam plains in an advance of 12 miles from the key defense post of Walong, which they captured Friday. Walong lies some 300 miles east of Se Pass.

★ ★ ★

In Ladakh, at the northwest end of the disputed border, the Chinese have taken an outpost guarding a vital Indian airfield at Chushul and fighting is continuing in the area, Nehru said.

★ ★ ★

His announcement of the new reverses came after a speech last night in which he said the Chinese offensive is threatening Indian independence. He said other countries are now beginning to realize that this is not a border dispute but "naked, crude and shameless aggression."

★ ★ ★

Today Nehru told Parliament's upper house India is in "a full-fledged war—a kind of brutal and callous war. We are treating it as such."

But he hedged when asked if the government would break relations with Peking or would declare war.

★ ★ ★

A Peking broadcast quoted Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai as saying U.S. arms aid to India will enlarge the conflict "to the detriment of the Chinese and Indian people and of the Afro-Asian peoples."

About $5 million worth of badly needed infantry weapons have been flown to India by the United States.

Khrushchev Orders:

'Learn From Capitalists'

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev today ordered a drastic shake-up of Soviet industry and agriculture to spur production of all kinds of goods, and told his Communist party it must "learn from the capitalists."

Khrushchev told the powerful 175-member Communist party Central Committee the primary emphasis would continue to be on heavy industry—and presumably armaments—rather than consumer goods.

But he stressed new efforts to put more food and other consumer goods in Soviet shops.

The program was laid down in a long speech to the committee's special meeting on industry and agricultural reorganization.

Its major recommendation called for tightening of party control over all phases of production.

Khrushchev also told the central committee the Soviet Union should take a thoughtful look at what makes profits for the capitalist in the West.

"There was a time—I mean in the period of the personality cult (a phrase meaning the Stalin era) —when the idea was sedulously fostered that everything that is ours is unreservedly ideal, and everything that is foreign is equally bad," Khrushchev said.

"We should remember Lenin's injunction to be able, if necessary, to learn from the capitalists, to imitate the good and the profitable they have."

Khrushchev proposed two party organizations, one for control of industry, the other for agriculture.

The party should create, he said, organizations paralleling those of specific industries from "top to bottom," to unite all party members of any given industry.

He proposed that the number of regional economic councils and farm production directorates be reduced and consolidated.

De Gaulle Cohorts Drub Rival Parties at Polls

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today emerged from the first round of the National Assembly elections with a new and resounding victory over France's old line political parties.

The Gaullist Union for a New Republic UNR, with a one-plank platform of unswerving loyalty to De Gaulle, displaced the Communists as France's strongest political party.

The UNR won 50 of the 104 seats decided Sunday and led in 134 of the 369 districts of metropolitan France where runoffs will be held next Sunday.

The party's share of the popular vote nearly doubled, from 17.5 per cent in 1958 to 31.9 per cent.

Although Interior Minister Roger Frey predicted the UNR would wind up with a majority in the 481-member assembly this appeared unlikely.

★ ★ ★

Even if it won all the runoffs in the races in which its candidates led, it would still be about 60 short of a majority.

But the Gaullists were expected to draw enough support from segments of the Popular Republicans MRP, the Independents and the Radical Socialists to form the next government.

Alone among the old parties, the Communists registered a gain—a slight one—in voting percentages, 21.78.

All other parties lost ground—a development dramatically spotlighted in the crushing defeat of ex-Premier Paul Reynaud by a colorless Gaullist in the north, and a sharp rebuff to a comeback attempt by ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

Downtown Park Site to Be Free

The Downtown Pontiac Business Assn. today leased Oakland County's old courthouse site for a free parking lot.

Max Adams, Chamber of Commerce manager and director of the association, said the cleared site would be resurfaced and ready for use by Christmas shoppers.

Space for approximately 100 cars will be provided in the centrally-located lot.

Work in converting the site at Saginaw and Huron streets into a parking lot will begin immediately, Adams said.

According to terms of the lease, the downtown merchants' group will have the use of the county property for six months unless it should be sold at any time by the county.

In the event it is sold during the period of leasing, 10 days notice to vacate will be given.

PLAN RULES

Another stipulation by the county is that free parking will not be limited to shoppers alone but also will include those persons doing business with downtown offices.

The lot, however, isn't intended for use by employes or commuters who might be tempted to park their cars free all day.

Adams said some controls would be instigated to preclude such a use.

The lease is costing the association the nominal fee of $1 and is subject to renewal.

The lease was signed by Adams and county auditors, acting on the authority of the County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

John Austin, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, said the county is "glad to help keep the downtown shopping area alive."

Leasing the site for a free parking lot has the blessing of the City Commission, which felt that it couldn't enter into such a lease itself.

Expect Low of 30 Tonight in Pontiac

A chilly 25, the second lowest temperature recording for the season, hit the Pontiac area this morning. On Oct. 26 the mercury was 24, the low for this fall.

★ ★ ★

Mostly cloudy skies will blanket the Pontiac area through tomorrow. The weatherman predicts a low of 30 tonight and a high of 43 on Tuesday.

Today's winds are variable and mostly southwesterly at 5 to 15 miles per hour.

At 1 p. m. the thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac was 38.

HITTING THE BEACH — A machine gunner is tossed and another soldier jarred as a jeep of the First Armored Division hits the beach from the end of a 500-foot steel "causeway" at Hutchinson Island, Fla. Action took place in the first war games of the Cuban crisis, in progress near Fort Pierce, Fla.

See Early Break in Deadlock on Jet Removal From Cuba

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Administration officials today appeared to expect an early break — one way or the other — in the Soviet-American deadlock over removal of jet bombers from Cuba.

On the whole, they appeared optimistic that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was on the verge of agreeing to pull out the more than 30 IL28 aircraft which President Kennedy considers "offensive weapons."

However, if Khrushchev stalls much longer, they said, the President cannot delay the imposing of tougher pressure — presumably a tightening of the U.S. naval blockkade around the island.

On another matter, a primary reason behind the Cuban government's grounding of domestic aviation may be radar difficulty in detecting and tracking U.S. reconnaissance planes.

The planes were grounded yesterday, following Prime Minister Fidel Castro's warning late last week that surveillance craft flying over Cuba will be destroyed.

Low- and high-flying American reconnaissance planes, keeping tabs on former missile sites and other military developments, aroused Castro's ire.

Military radar for locating and tracing aircraft has been installed recently by the Soviet Union for Cuba but there appears to be some question about its efficiency in its present form.

Military radar must be able to from a tru target. This requires considerable "sophistication" in the equipment and in the ability of crews to interpret radar signals.

By clearing the air of commercial planes and of all but military and other known aircraft, Cuba has made easier the job of locating foreign planes.

At Guantanamo Bay, the commander of the Marine ground forces guarding the big U.S. naval base in Cuba said it is highly defensible because Castro can not isolate it.

Brig. Gen. William R. Collins said: "If we control the seas around the base and the air, we control the base."

He noted Cubans are working

Pontiac Protest at Hearing

Send Fluoride Resolution

Pontiac was not officially represented at today's fluoridation hearing before the Detroit Common Council, but its antifluoride resolution was to be there.

The City Commission's resolution had been sent both to the Detroit Water Board and the Common Council by Pontiac City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Detroit water will be used in Pontiac's water system in early summer of 1963.

The Detroit Common Council started a public hearing at 10 a.m. today on whether or not to fluoride its water.

The Detroit lawmakers planned at least a four-hour session to make an attempt at arriving at some agreement on the fluoridation subject.

One of the chief factions at the meeting will be composed of residents of 60 suburban communities that receive water from the Detroit system.

Aside from their individual interest in the thorny question of water fluoridation, many suburbanites feel that because they pay income tax to the city, they should have more to say when city spending involves them directly.

Most cities and townships have refused to take a definite stand on the fluoridation issue.

A notable exception is Pontiac, where residents seven years ago adopted a referendum prohibiting fluoridation.

Machinists Poised for Lockheed Strike

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI)—An International Association of Machinists (IAM) negotiating committee was to set a strike date today for a walkout against Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Some 8,000 IAM members met yesterday at Valley College stadium in Van Nuys and voted three-to-one for the strike.

Approximately 80 per cent of the 800 union members at Lockheed space and Missile facilities at Van Nuys, Sunnyvale and Vandenberg Air Force Base also voted to strike, a union spokesman reported.

Results from balloting in Honolulu and Cape Canaveral were not completed, but the IAM spokesman said they were expected to follow suit.

The union last week broke off negotiations in Washington, D.C., over a union shop clause and wage and work condition issues.

The spokesman said the union would have to give Lockheed a five-day termination of contract notice before a walkout could occur, and explained, "This gives time for additional bargaining."

★ ★ ★

The walkout would affect both Lockheed - California Co. and Lockheed's Space and Missile Division which manufacturers the Agena B booster used in space probes such as the Samos, Midas and Discoverer satellites as well as the Polaris missile.

Two previous strike dates had been set by the union in the drawn out negotiations, but one was canceled on the request of President Kennedy and the other after a plea from Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz.

The Defense Department stepped into the dispute Saturday and hinted some defense contracts might be withdrawn from Lockheed if agreement cannot be reached and a strike ensues.

★ ★ ★

Department officials did not spell out their plans, but said they were "considering whether alternate means of production can be used."

Lockheed board chairman, Courtland S. Gross, said the company would continue its operations even if a strike is called by the machinists.

Gross said the IAM had 5,700 members of a total work force of 31,200 at the Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. and 10,000 of the force of 24,000 at Lockheed-California Co. were IAM memebsr.

Reid Gain Slim in Wayne Audit

Seeking Financing to Pay for Recount

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County reported its official canvass today, giving both Democratic incumbent Lt. Gov. T John Lesinski and Republican Clarence Reid additional votes but making no material change in Lesinski's apparent margin of victory.

★ ★ ★

Reid said immediately that he would ask a recount of the Nov. 6 election if financing could be arranged.

"I am determined to go after the recount," Reid said. "It's only a matter of getting the financing."

The official Wayne canvass gave Lesinski 382 more votes and Reid 542 more, reducing Lesinski's official canvass reported to to the Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

The official Wayne votee: Lesinski 599,901, Reid 340,912.

The prior unofficial count for overall Wayne County had been Lesinski 599,519, Reid 340,367.

Reid, the only member of victorious Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney's ticket to come close to victory, said the reported Lesinski margain was "not too bad."

Declaring "I can't figure out how I lost," Reid said he would like to recount 3,500 of Michigan's 5,199 precincts.

★ ★ ★

"Now that this is almost firm, I will start to work," he said. "I was more or less figuring it (the margin would be 4,000 and I was kind of worried."

★ ★ ★

Reid said such a recount would cost an estimated $17,500. He indicated a decision on financing a recount would be left up to the Republican Party leadership.

May Ask Probe by Grand Jury

Rackets Investigated in Royal Oak Township

A petition for a grand jury investigation of illegal activities in Royal Oak Township may be the result of current investigations in the township, according to Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

The prosectuor's office and Michigan State Police have been conducting a program of intensive investigation of gambling, illegal liquor sales, bribery and prostitution for the last seven months, Taylor said.

"We do not yet have sufficient evidence to file a petition for a grand jury," he said. "We feel we can accomplish more by taking each individual case."

A number of arrests and convictions may provide impressive evidence toward justification of a grand jury probe, Taylor indicated.

The investigations have so far resulted in the arrests of Police Lt. Annial Ruffin, 41, on Oct. 5, and township trustee Ernest Wilson on Oct. 30.

Ruffin is awaiting Circuit Court trial on charges of extortion, bribery and conspiracy to obstruct justice. He is accused of taking bribes to permit gambling in the township, specifically of taking $25 a month for two years from a numbers operator.

Wilson is awaiting examination on a five-count charge of extortion, conspiracy and bribery. He is accused of being involved in numerous payoffs or attempted payoffs ranging from $25 biweekly to a lump sum of $800.

One of the five counts charges he demanded a kickback from James F. Eaton, the township's urban renewal program director.

Wilson will appear for examination before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Wilson last week filed suit for a change of venue from the Farmington Township court to Royal Oak Township justice court. But at a Circuit Court hearing this morning, Wilson agreed to appear before Ingle as long as the hearing took place in Royal Oak Township.

At the time of Wilson's arrest, Taylor said it was part of a "planned procedure to clean up the township."

Taylor said, "a lot of good people in Royal Oak Township have been demanding something be done. We are getting better cooperation from the citizens there than ever before."

Another result of the investigations so far has been a $200,000 slander suit in Circuit Court by Royal Oak Township Justice Lonnie C. Cash against Trooper John Aird of the Redford State Police Post.

MSUO Budget Bid Envisions Expansion

By RALPH P. HUMMEL

A bigger university for more students — that's the reason for the gleam in the eye of Michigan State University Oakland officials when they speak of their 1963-64 budget request.

Their plans include a new classroom building, a campus theater, more teachers and an enlarged campus library.

For the next academic year, MSUO is asking for an increase of $403,004 in 1963-64 over this year's state appropriations. That would mean a total tax bite of $1,922,400 in the coming fiscal year.

The total budget — partly made up of student fees — will add up to $2,395,400.

Most of the requested appropriations increase reflects the need for more teachers to teach more students in more space, explains MSUO Financial Director Robert W. Swanson.

There are 1,500 students expected next fall. That's 241 more than the current 1,259 enrolled.

To give them an education, there is a need for four extra teachers, five professional nonacademic employes and three clerks, Swainson says.

FOR PAYROLL

Together these 12 additions to the salaried personnel payroll will mean an increase of $77,760. Another $31,100 will be added to the labor payroll — for maintenance of newly opened buildings and newly landscaped areas.

Supplies and services — from pencil sharpeners to budgeted scholarships — account for $74,022 in increased costs over this year.

A third area for increases is new equipment items, including $125,000 for basic library books which Chancellor D. B. Varner says are needed to get MSUO "over the hump" in providing students a minimum library stock.

* * *

Also, an $11,200 increase is set aside for physical plant and grounds-keeping equipment and $48,000 for furniture for new staff. So much for increases over last year, says Swanson.

For the total budget, the breakdown of major cost items looks like this:

Salaried personnel —$1,447,972.
Labor personnel — $244,798.
Supplies and services—$415,822.
New equipment — $286,808.

To the passerby — the motorist on Walton Boulevard — the budget requests will mean easily visible changes in the face of MSUO.

The water tower, whose bold lettering "Meadow Brook Farms" recalls MSUO's heritage and land donors, is bound to grow.

TOWER TO EXPAND

It will be higher and bulkier with its expansion from a present capacity of 60,000 gallons, to 90,000 gallons — provided MSUO gets $35,000 from the state.

By the fall of 1965, the campus may boast of a new $2-million classroom-office building to hold an expanding population, says Swanson.

For next year, officials seek only $80,000 to go ahead with architectural plans. No request for construction money has yet been made, since present buildings can take care of the present enrollment.

* * *

A final decision on when the building will be put up will be made when enrollment justifies it.

A former Meadow Brook Farms structure, called the Belgian Barn, may be remodeled into a small theater seating 400 —also usable as a small auditorium or lecture hall. For remodeling, $100,000 has been included.

Another $150,000 has been planned for extension of major campus roadways; while $10,000 would support a preliminary study on possible future construction of a central power plant.

* * *

The power plant might produce MSUO's own electricity as well as providing heat.

Broomfield Upset Over Soviet Tour

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Michigan congressmen, ending a four-day visit to the Soviet Union, complained yesterday that Russia's Intourist organization had kept them so occupied with showplaces such as museums and theaters they hadn't got a chance to see what they wanted to see.

"They wouldn't even let us see a collective farm," said Rep. William S. Broomfield, (R-Oakland). "But they made certain we saw the Bolshoi Theater."

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, a Traverse City Republican, joined Broomfield in the complaint about what they were allowed to see.

* * *

Griffin went to a Baptist Church Sunday and found it "jam packed," but reported the congregation consisted mostly of older people.

FOUR ON TOUR

The Michigan congressmen are among four on a European tour as members of the subcommittee on Europe of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. They arrived in Russia Thursday from Germany and left yesterday for Poland.

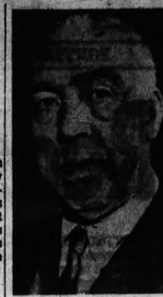
Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., expressed surprise at the music being played and the prices being charged in Moscow.

"We went to the Praga Restaurant Saturday night," Monagan said, "and about all we heard were arrangements of American songs. I guess this is an indirect compliment to the United States."

* * *

Of a trip to Moscow's biggest department store GUM, Monagan said:

"We were quite surprised to hear 'Ave Maria' coming over GUM's loudspeakers. A pair of good boots costs 70 rubles. I understand the average industrial wage is only about 90 rubles a month."



DR. NIELS BOHR

Top Physicist Is Dead at 77

Dr. Niels Bohr Second Only to Einstein

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Dr. Niels Bohr, one of the century's leading nuclear physicists, is dead at 77.

He was stricken by a heart attack Sunday and died in his Copenhagen home.

Bohr, an absent-minded professor admired by scholars for his inspiring influence, generally was ranked second only to the late Albert Einstein among physicists of the 20th century.

"Our greatest living physicist has died," said Dr. Hans Bethe, who worked with Bohr on the development of the atomic bomb in the United States. Bethe of Ithaca, N.Y., said Bohr's death "leaves a void which nobody can fill."

Similar tributes came from Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission; Sir John Cockcraft, the leading British atomic scientist- Japanese Nobel Prize-winner Hideki Yukawa, and other leading scientists.

EARLY SUCCESSES

Bohr at the age of 28 pioneered exploration of the atom on problems that had puzzled many scientists.

His explanation in 1913 of theoretical relationships in the energy of atoms was the first in a series of analyses that won him a Nobel Prize in 1922. In 1936 he expounded his theory of nuclear reaction that explained experiments by other physicists on the interaction of the neutron and the nucleus of the atom.

Bohr was at Princeton University with Einstein in 1939 when he received word that three European physicists had split the uranium atom. With this information, he worked out a theory of nuclear fission with Dr. J. A. Wheeler that was used in making the first atomic bomb and that still is the basis for work in atomic energy.

He fled from Denmark after the Nazi occupation and went from Britain to the United States.

After the war, he returned to his beloved Copenhagen and the Institute of Theoretical Physics, which was founded in 1920 largely through his efforts. He was head of the institute from 1920 until his death.

Since the war, he also had turned his attention to the threat of the atomic arms race. In several public appearances he called on the nuclear powers to break down barriers hampering scientific progress in employing the atom for peaceful purposes.

Bohr and his wife had five sons. One was killed in an a ccident shortly after World War II.

Snow Falls in Northeast, Over Plains

By The Associated Press

Wet, cloudy and cool weather covered broad areas of the nation today.

Heavy snow fell over the weekend in the Southern Plains, the Rockies and sections of the northeast but the Weather Bureau reported no major storms were in progress during the night.

Up to five inches of snow covered the ground in Colorado, southwestern Nebraska and western Kansas. Heavy snow also was reported in parts of New Mexico.

More than six inches of snow was reported in Salisbury, N.Y., while five inches fell in Syracuse. Amounts were up to nine inches in northern New England and four inches in southeastern areas. Lighter falls powdered areas in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Former Socialist Mayor

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Jasper McLevy, 84, former socialist mayor of Bridgeport, died today at his home here.

He had been ill for two years. McLevy suffered a stroke in October 1960 and had been in failing health since. He served as mayor for 24 years.

Birmingham Area News

Wants Rec Expansion Considered at Quarton

BIRMINGHAM — Expanded recreational facilities for the northwest area of the city should be considered at the Quarton School site rather than on city property along the Rouge River, according to Donald Martin, recreation director.

Martin, in a report to be submitted to the city commission tonight, said he was not in favor of a proposal to develop the small city-owned parcel on Lakeside Street because its size does not lend itself to the type of facilities needed in that part of the city.

He noted that the comprehensive development plan study for recreation and community facilities, however, shows the elementary school site as serving the neighborhood recreational needs for this area.

The plan was prepared by Vilican-Leman and Associates.

There is enough undeveloped area at the school site, Martin said, to accommodate two tennis courts or a combination of tennis, basketball, volleyball, badminton courts and skating area.

Maintenance costs would be less because that area is currently serviced by the recreation board, he added.

"A grouping of recreation facilities adjacent to schools is consistent with recommended planning concepts," Martin said.

Martin had been asked to make recommendations on the possible development of the Lakeside property by City Manager L. R. Gare.

Other reasons given by Martin for not favoring the Lakeside property were:

* * *

1. It does not serve a functional purpose as a passive or natural recreation area.

2. Constructing single, isolated recreation units on small areas throughout the city increases maintenance costs and lessens the possibilities for supervision and programing.

Teamsters Win Big Election

Beat Challenge by 600 Votes in Truckers' Tally

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James R. Hoffa's followers have withstood a major assault on their control of over-the-road truckers in parts of four states, but the margin in the representational election was less than 600 votes.

The victory Sunday apparently brought the Teamsters Union a step closer to their goal of a nationwide bargaining unit.

A defeat would have stripped them of their fourth largest local and made it nearly impossible for Hoffa to bring the Philadelphia area into his regional bargaining network.

Philadelphia is the only trucking center not yet tied into the network, reportedly the basis for nationwide bargaining in the future.

The Teamsters polled 3,870 votes; the independent Voice of the Teamsters, 3,274. A total of 392 ballots were challenged.

The four-day election ended a year-long bitter, sometimes violent campaign. At one point, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy telephoned Mayor James H. J. Tate to ask assurance that police would provide adequate supervision to maintain peace during the election.

The Voice, which said it would have affiliated with the AFL-CIO, said it would decide later whether to appeal the election on the basis of alleged coercion or intimidation of the truckers.

Dem Senator, 74, Dies

New Mexico Mourns Chavez' Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The body of Sen. Dennis Chavez was to be returned to his native New Mexico today to lie in state in the capitol in Santa Fe.

The veteran Democrat died yesterday of a heart attack brought on by cancer of the neck. He was 74.

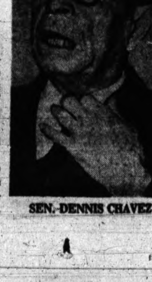
He died in Georgetown Hospital, where he had been since Nov. 7 for treatment of a virus injection. The infection had been cured, and hospital officials had planned to release him yesterday.

Chavez was a liberal, particularly on civil rights matters. He was appointed to the senate in 1935 to fill the unexpired term of Sen. Bronson Cutting, who had defeated him in 1934 at the polls. Chavez was elected in 1936 and never again lost an election.

His body was to be taken to Santa Fe today, where it will be met by an honor guard of National Guard and state policemen.

The body will lie in state in the senate chamber of the state capitol all day tomorrow.

The body was to be taken to Albuquerque late tomorrow for funeral services.



SEN. DENNIS CHAVEZ

An ardent supported of the New Frontier, Chavez stumped the Southwest for President Kennedy, particularly among Spanish-speaking people.

As chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee and of the appropriations subcommittee on defense expenditures, Chavez helped push through billions of dollars in federal outlays.

He felt that the government should be willing to send a lot of money to get what it needed—particularly national defense.

Chavez had a strong hand in New Mexico politics. He campaigned this year for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Jack Campbell, who won the governorship from the Republicans.

But Campbell does not take office until Jan. 1, so Chavez' successor will be named by the Republican incumbent, Gov. Edwin L. Mechem.

Teacher Killed in Red Terror

Murder Gang Enters Caracas Night School

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — The murder of a high-school teacher before the eyes of his mathematics class touched off demands today for a purge of Communists from Venezuela's school system.

Teacher Jose Damian Ramirez, the father of seven children, was fatally beaten and shot Thursday night, reportedly by a Communist gang terrorizing a downtown Caracas night school.

Students of the slain teacher said the gang burst into the classroom and ordered Ramirez to suspend classes in commemoration of the first anniversary of the death of a terrorist shot while attempting to burn a bus.

Ramirez was killed when he refused.

Authorities obtained a warrant to enter the autonomous Central University of Venezuela and arrested Jorge Ramon Villalobos Anez, 22, who was charged with the murder.

OFF LIMITS

The university, like many in Latin America, is traditionally off-limits to law enforcement bodies.

★ ★ ★

Villalobos, who graduated last year from the school where Ramirez taught, was identified as a member of the Communist-line movement of the Revolutionary left (MIR).

Police searched Villalobos' room in a dormitory known as "Stalingrad" and said they found radio equipment, hand grenades, a pistol which ballistics experts said was used in the slaying, and a supply of bullets.

The Democratic Action Teachers Union, linked to the party of President Romulo Betancourt, said in a statement that the murder of Ramirez "constitutes the culmination of acts unleashed in obedience to instructions issued in Havana."

Police were seeking a university professor who reportedly tried to help the murder suspect escape.

Our Thanksgiving Barely Echoes 1st Religious Themes

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Thanksgiving Day, which is coming up this week, is often described as a uniquely American institution.

It is, in the sense that no other country observes such a national holiday.

★ ★ ★

But the custom of holding a special harvest festival to return thanks to God did not originate in America.

The Bible-reading Pilgrims borrowed the whole idea from ancient Israel.

The story of the real "First Thanksgiving" is to be found in the 16th and 26th chapters of the Old Testament book of Deuteronomy. They record the detailed instructions which Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the promised land.

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

HOW TO CELEBRATE

Moses was explicit about the manner in which the children of Israel were to show their gratitude.

"You shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you harvest," he said, "and you shall put it in a basket . . ."

The basket was to be taken to the altar of God's house for dedication. Its contents were then to be distributed among widows, orphans and others who had no harvest of their own.

★ ★ ★

The Thanksgiving holiday which Americans will celebrate next Thursday is a far cry from the one which Moses planned more than 3,000 years ago.

We have subtracted a great deal that Moses thought essential, and have added certain things, such as turkey dinners and football games, which he probably would have considered irrelevant to such an occasion.

But one can still detect, in the modern Thanksgiving, at least a faint echo of the original idea that men can best thank God for their blessings by sharing them with others.

★ ★ ★

During this season, all of America's major religious faiths will be conducting their annual appeals to the public for contributions to overseas relief programs.

Protestants will give to the "Share Our Surplus" drive of Church World Service, which helps to underwrite shipments of U.S. foods to more than 10 million hungry people in 32 countries.

Catholics will donate wearable used clothing, shoes, blankets and bedding supplies for homeless people through the Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection.

Jews will contribute to the world's needy through the United Jewish Appeal.

All of these campaigns have a common theme: "Give thanks by giving."

Moses might not like anything else about the American Thanksgiving of 1962. But he would recognize and approve

Bishops Discuss Mutual Problems in Rome

Vatican Council's Big Achievements Are Intangible

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council entered its sixth week today, the bulk of its tangible work barely begun but considerable intangible achievement to its credit.

With the first recess only three weeks away, the 2,200 prelates here from over the world have produced nothing in the way of decrees.

But if the council were to end today, most sources here agree, it still would go into history as something of a success.

For it has brought non-Catholic observers here for the closest interchurch contacts in Christianity in centuries. And it has given the Roman Catholic bishops themselves an unusual chance to get together, discuss mutual problems and profit from each other's experiences.

The subjects for study, contained in some 70 topics suggested by the world episcopate, have hardly been scratched. The prospect is for council deliberations lasting many more months and possibly years.

In the weeks since Pope John XXIII opened the council in St. Peter's Basilica Oct. 11, the Cardinals, bishops and patriarchs have:

—Spent a week electing members of the council's 10 key commissions. The commissions operate in the manner of legislative committees, studying proposals and suggestions, and revising and recasting projects for presentation to the full sessions.

★ ★ ★

—Approved a preamble setting the scope for council aims.

— Completed examination of a proposed constitution on liturgy (public worship).

—Started on the second item on the agenda — the question of divine revelation — and plunged directly into a debate on the issue that carries crucial overtones for the future of Christian unity.

This debate was the first in the council to bring various elements among the bishops into direct conflict. On the one side were conservatives opposed to changes. On the other side were the so-called reformists or progressive groups.

★ ★ ★

These two factions disputed whether it was wise to bring up once more the Roman Catholic dictrine that both scripture and tradition are sources of the revealed word of God. Protestants maintain that the only source is scripture.

A proposed thesis stating the doctrine caused the flareup. A number of reformists took the view that unless some change was made in the doctrine, it might be better for Christian unity to avoid the question at this time when efforts are multiplying for closer interchurch contracts.

The council steering committee was reported seeking a way to pull the assembly out of the dispute.

WELCOMED BY POPE—Pope John XXIII shakes the hand of Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, as James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles completes the smiling group at special audience in Vatican City for the Catholic bishops of the United States. Some 220 members of the American Roman Catholic hierarchy were greeted by Pope John over the weekend in the Clementine Hall of the Papal Palace.

E. German OK; Woman Caught

BERLIN (AP)—An East German refugee escaped under gunfire to West Berlin today but his woman companion was wounded and captured.

West Berlin police said Red guards fired about 30 tommy gun shots at the pair as they scrambled through wire fences dividing the city.

The 24-year-old man got through unhurt. The 25-year-old woman appeared to have been hit in the arm by a bullet. Border guards grabbed her as she started to climb through the first of three rows of barbed wire.

★ ★ ★

West police also heard eight tommy gun shots on the border with East Germany, near the Glienicker Bridge. Three East German police patrol boats were seen searching a canal on the border with searchlights.

Estimate Fire Caused $200,000 in Damage

DETROIT (AP) — Fire Chief Glenn E. Thom estimated a near-downtown Detroit fire caused $200,000 damage yesterday. It ate the insides out of a pharmaceutical warehouse.

The five-alarm blaze was fought at one time by 120 firemen using 27 pieces of equipment. The warehouse belonged to Monroe Pharmacal Co. and was at 2305 Monroe.

U.S. Moves Nearer Yemen Recognition

CAIRO (UPI) —A move toward U.S. diplomatic recognition to the two-month-old Yemen republic was taken in the Yemeni capital of Sana today, informed diplomatic sources reported here.

They said a message from President Kennedy to Yemeni President Abdullah Sallal was delivered by U.S. Charge d'Affaire Robert Stookey.

★ ★ ★

The message reportedly contained a routine request for assurance that the new government, which ousted the monarchy Sept. 26, would honor international commitments.

The sources said that allowing time for Sallal to reply, U.S. recognition should come in two or three days.

7 Would-Be Assassins of Sukarno Executed

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian authorities said Sunday the execution of seven Darul Islam rebels closes the books on the attempted assassination of President Sukarno last May 14.

The Central Army Information Service said the executions were carried out Aug. 16, Sept. 5, Sept. 7 and last Wednesday.

Discuss Princely Pensions

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The growing move to abolish government pensions of the 600-odd princes of old imperial India has reached Parliament in a bill to amend the republic's constitution. It will be taken up at the next session in January.

The patent system was established by Congress on July 4, 1836.

Bowles Glad Coldwater's Against Him

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrat Chester Bowles says he's glad Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., doesn't approve of him.

Bowles says he understands Goldwater is "now wrapping his arms around (Republican Gov.) Nelson Rockefeller" and "I'm sorry for Nelson Rockefeller."

Bowles, President Kennedy's special adviser on Latin American, Asian and African affairs, made the remarks on a taped television program last night.

Goldwater recently suggested that Kennedy fire Bowles and United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, among others, on the ground they were "soft on communism and soft on Cuba."

* * *

Bowles said: "All I can say is I'm in very good company. But I would be very worried if Mr. Goldwater approved of me. I think this would be a very dangerous sort of thing, and I wouldn't be at all happy about it."

Heating Firm Founder Dies of Heart Attack

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Earl J. Gossett, 75, chairman and co-founder of Bell & Gossett Co., heating and air conditioning equipment firm, died Saturday night after suffering a heart attack at the Michigan State-Northwestern football game.

Surge Entering Fourth Week

Stock Market Maintains Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market kept plugging ahead in early trading today, pushing its rally into the fourth straight week.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional, a few going to a point or so, and there was a liberal scattering of losers.

The weekend news seemed fairly good but many market observers were looking for some kind of consolidation of gains made in the extended rally.

The prospect of a market holiday on Thursday for Thanksgiving Day heightened expectations of a less vigorous market.

U.S. Steel traded about unchanged despite reports that the company plans a cut in management personnel as an economy move. Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel added fractions while Bethlehem eased.

* * *

IBM dropped 2 points or so. Merck was off about a point.

Gains of around a point or better were scored by Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, and Homestake (ex dividend).

AUTOS MIXED

In a mixed auto section, Chrysler posted a fractional gain, Ford was steady, General Motors about unchanged and American Motors easy.

* * *

Kennecott posted a 1-point gain. Anaconda was steady.

Fractional gains were made by Public Service Electric & Gas, Santa Fe, Liggett & Myers, Pfizer, American Cyanamid, Radio Corp., Goodyear, and International Telephone, among others.

* * *

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. O'Okiep Copper rose a point.

Asks Speed-Up of Hoffa Trial

Judge Will Hold Court on Thanksgiving Day

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The slow-moving conspiracy trial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa opens its fifth week today with attorneys under warning from the judge to speed things up or suffer the consequences.

U.S. District Judge William Miller told both sides in no uncertain terms Friday to streamline the case.

* * *

The case, which has featured frequent squabbles over evidence, procedure and documents, has been ordered by the judge to continue through Thanksgiving without a holiday. This may have started another squabble.

Hoffa said his attorneys would present a motion today protesting holding court on Thanksgiving Day.

Walter Hansz, former treasurer of Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit trucking firm, was still testifying when the weekend recess came.

Hoffa and commercial carriers are charged with conspiring to set up automobile truck lease companies for Hoffa's financial benefit.

In earlier testimony, Hansz listed one such firm as Test Fleet Corp., later known as Hoben Corp. It was chartered here by an attorney for Commerical Carriers.

Hansz testified that Commercial Carriers was reluctant to pull Test Fleet' trucks out of Commercial Carriers Cadillac terminal, its most profitable terminal, because of the adverse effect it might have on Carriers' labor relations.

* * *

Hoffa has pleaded innocent to the federal charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting a payoff for labor peace.

Tax Cut Plan Involves Our Whole Way of Life

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—A whole way of life is involved in the plan to cut taxes and reform the system. And that's likely to complicate action in the next Congress far beyond the simple popular slogan of lower rates and fewer loopholes.

* * *

An entire generation of business executives and countless other individuals are addicted to what is known as half price thinking. Many products and programs wards are worth only half what the ticket says because of the tax saving. Or, the other way around, many seeming advantages or rewards are worth onl yhalf what they promise because of the extra tax liability.

CHARITIES WONDER

For one example, charitable organizations know that much of the gifts from corporations is tinted by the knowledge that if it wasn't given, taxes would take half of it anyway. Some charities are wondering today if their income will drop if tax rates do.

Or, the other side of the coin, many with executive skills know that a better paying job will net only a part of its face value. In the higher tax bracket a large part of the raise will melt away.

* * *

Critics of the present high tax rates argue that often it doesn't seem worth the effort to try to produce more and earn more. Or those at the top turn to other forms of compensation—stock options, company bought insurance, salary payments deferred until after retirement.

And the tax laws are now so complicated, especially at the corporate level, that perhaps 100,000 tax specialists work full time tackling others' problems.

Corporations also hire executives and countless clerks to handle the many official forms and seek out the most advantageous approach.

AN ART

Avoidance of taxes is an art in itself, both for corporations and for individuals. Many business brains that might be concentrated on earning more income are occupied in trying to save on taxes. Business and individuals often find they're ahead this way in the long run.

Advocates of tax cuts and simplication say that the general economy suffers as a result.

* * *

Economists at the First National City Bank of New York put it this way: "In high brackets, extra work is no longer worthwhile. Our punitive tax rates have led to the enactment of countless special reliefs that have complicated the tax laws and made them costly and difficult to administer and obey."

Morgan Guaranty economists add that half price thinking has played a part in the wage-price spiral of inflation since World War II, since companies have felt that half of the wage increase would go for taxes otherwise and so haven't tried, until lately, to halt the spiral.

EXPANSION AFFECTED

Half price thinking also affects the manner of financing business expansion. Instead of offering new stocks many companies have relied on borrowing money. Interest payments are charged off before taxes, and thus seem half price. Stockholders expect dividends, but these are paid out of a company's after tax net income, and thus seem full price.

* * *

So, there's more to tax rates and systems than just the pain of filling out tax forms and getting up the payments.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I own 200 shares of Vornado, which pays no dividends. I am thinking of switching into American Bakeries or Detroit Steel, which give a very high yield. Which do you think would be better?" H. C.

(A) If you don't mind my saying so, I think you'd make a serious mistake to switch your Vornado into either of the other two stocks you mention.

American Bakeries' earnings per share have declined in each year since 1956 and continued down through July of this year. The dividend was cut last May, and the present quarterly of 45 cents looks insecure.

Detroit Steel directors delayed action on the quarterly payment at their last meeting Oct. 26. They will meet again in the third week of November to consider dividend action. A cut seems probable.

I advise you to keep away from the very high yield stocks. If you need income, I would switch Vornado into General Motors.

(Q) "I would appreciate your opinion on buying more Grand Union at present low levels as an offset to an average purchase price of 33 on present holdings. I can afford to wait but not to be foolish. I personally feel there is some future here but will defer to your seasoned judgment." A. W.

(A) I thank you for your courtesy. My judgment may be sometimes mistaken, but it is undoubtedly well seasoned!

I would hold Grand Union, but I would not buy any more, even at present depressed levels. Like many of the other great food chains, Grand Union has been hurt badly by excessive competition and a sharp drop in profit margins.

I would avoid any situation and any industry where profit margins are falling. More than any other factor, the trend of profit margins represents the key to successful investing. With expenses rising and prices remaining constant, the food chains to me represent a group where new commitments should be avoided.

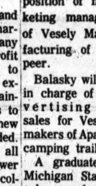
Business Notes

W. I. McMillin, 3466 Meinrad, Waterford Township, was recently named to the seven-man advertising committee of Michigan Dairy Queen stores.

McMillin will represent metropolitan area Dairy Queen stores on the committee.

Donald T. Balasky, 2345 Cheltingham, Sylvan Lake, was recently appointed to the newly created position of marketing manager of Vesely Manufacturing of Lapeer.



BALASKY

Balasky will be in charge of advertising and sales for Vesely, makers of Apache camping trailers.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Balasky was formerly general merchandising manager of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

Appointment of Conrad J. Friedemann of Romeo as manager of quality methods for Chrysler Corp.'s quality control office is announced by Harry E. Chesebrough, vice president and director of quality control.

In his new position, Friedemann, 11870 W. 31-Mile Road, is responsible for recommending corporate policy, procedures and methods for the achievement, measurement and maintenance of product quality for the corporation.

He joined Chrysler in 1955 as a member of the planning staff in the engineering division. He has been administrative assistant to the vice president for personnel for nearly three years.

Ghana is about twice the size of Mississippi and has a population of 5 million.

News in Brief

The Calabrese Market, 238 S. Telegraph Road, was burglarized and $250 stolen after entry was gained by breaking a front door window, Sam Calabrese, 38, reported to Pontiac police Saturday.

A tape recorder valued at $90 was stolen from the office of Robert Hodge in The Pontiac State Bank Building, he reported Sunday to Pontiac police.

Waterford Township' Community Activities, Inc., teen club will have a record hop Friday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the CAI building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd. The dance is open to all grade 9 through 12 students.

Robert Logsdon, 12644 Greenfield, Detroit, told Waterford Township police Saturday that an aluminum rowboat valued at $200 was stolen from his summer residence, 157 Leota Drive at Pleasant Lake.

Vandals broke 29 small windows over the weekend in a quonset hut at Holiday Park, 4300 Cass-Elizabeth Road, Waterford Township. Damage has not been determined.

Diners' Club Credit Extended to Cars

More than one million Diners' Club members may make credit purchases at Sunoco service stations in the United States and Canada, beginning Dec. 1.

This new service was announced today by T. S. Horrocks, Sun Oil Co., vice president, and Maury Ash, Diners' Club vice president.

Under this new arrangement, Diners' Club members will be able to charge their purchases of gasoline, motor oil and other automotive products, accessories and services at Sunoco service stations.

Payroll Planned at 2,000

U.S. May Move Facility From Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—The Defense Department is studying a plan to move a $100-million-a-year military supply business with a planned payroll of 2,000 people from its present location in Detroit to Columbus, Ohio.

* * *

Navy Capt. Viggo Bertelsen, commanding officer of the Defense Automotive Supply Center (DASC), said no final decision had been made on the transfer. He denied reports he had been told to prepare to move by April 1.

The DASC went into operation last month as part of a defense reorganization plan. It buys repair and replacement parts for U.S. military vehicles.

By next summer, it will list 250,000 parts and employ 2,000 persons.

The plan to move the DASC to Ohio — even though this is the center of the auto industry — is one of several proposals under study designed to eliminate duplication of services and lower defense costs.

* * *

In the DASC case, some data processing work is now being done in Columbus and some in Detroit. A final decision has to be made whether to shift the whole operation to Ohio.

The old Ordnance Tank Automotive Command (OTAC) used to buy all vehicles and parts for the military. But as part of the reorganization, OTAC became ATAC (Army instead of ordnance) and was limited to vehicle purchases.

Its Military Automotive Supply Agency (MASA) became the DASC. The 500 employes who handled the $100-million-a-year business went to work for the DASC.

* * *

The DASC is one of several such centers under the Defense Supply Agency (DSA). One DSA center is in Richmond, Va., and buys material-handling equipment. A center at Columbus buys bulk construction supply items.

The DASC now handles 83,000 items. By April it will handle 106,000 parts and by next July 254,000. These are processed through computers.

* * *

The DASC has no computer but uses ATAC's for part of the work and one at the Columbus center for the rest.

About 30 people work for the DASC in Columbus and others make trips there with data for the computer.

Want to Slash Billons Off U.S. Budget? Use Computers

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Thanks to my no-nonsense midwestern upbringing, this correspondent hates waste in any form.

RUTH

As a consequence, I have developed a sensational plan to slash our governmental expenditures by many billions of dollars, and eventually to eliminate government entirely.

The idea is so simple that some economy-minded legislator should have thought of it, but since candidates like to keep on being elected, they rarely think in such enlightened terms. The plan will, after all, obviate the necessity for congressmen.

The thought came to me when I began worrying about what to do between elections with those super-brained computers that eat early returns, and then disgorge the outcome many hours before a ward boss knows what is happening to his candidate.

Why not, I decided, put these machines to running the government? Before our millions of government workers begin screaming about technological unemployment, I hasten to explain that for the time being their paychecks would remain intact.

* * *

The computers are becoming less complicated and more all-knowing with each election, but for a few years yet mere mortals would be needed to compile the research that is fed into the hungry machines.

Normal attrition — death, resignation and defeat at the polls — would automatically reduce the public payroll while the computers were developing into super-colossal giants.

One of the immediate benefits of the plan would be a tremendous reduction in the military establishment. Because a democracy cannot strike first, we must be prepared at this point to fight a war of the opponent's choosing on any front. This is expensive.

Under the plan, however, selected information would be fed into a computer, and the system would operate something like this:

"White House calling defense. Bob, what does it look like the Communists are up to for the next year?"

McNamara: "Just a moment, JFK, and I'll press a button. Here we are. Only seven key counterspies have reported to date, but on the basis of that our computer projects that the Kremlin is merely bluffing on Berlin.

* * *

Quemoy and Matsu are off-limits for at least 18 months, Fidel Castro will soon call it quits in Cuba, and the Red Chinese will back down the Himalayas when the snow flies."

'CUT BUDGET IN HALF'

Kennedy: "Great news, Bob. Better muster out a million troops, cut your budget in half, and . . . oh, Bob . . . better think about getting your job back at Ford's, too. We may not need a defense secretary much longer."

* * *

The President then calls the secretary of state and asks: "On the basis of computer No. 2, which countries should continue to have foreign aid?"

Rusk twirls a couple of dials, pulls out a punch-card and reports: "On the basis of incomplete reports from nine nations located in strategic spots around the globe, computer No. 2 projects that the only remaining Communist threat is in the northeast corner of Africa, and 91½ per cent of the other nations will be able to balance their budgets better than we will.

It declares, therefore, that only $210,000 will be needed next year."

The President lops off another four billion from the budget, and sends it up to Congress. The lawmakers, using their own computers, have meanwhile figured where they can unload the farm surplus without upsetting the world market, by letting the satellites eat their way out of communism.

With practically no appropriations bills to wrangle about, and with sharp tax cuts flooding the taxpayers pockets with ready cash, no new social welfare legislation is needed, so they adjourn.

By the time the next campaign rolls around, the computers are so greatly advanced that no elections are necessary. The winners can be projected in advance.

* * *

This saves so much money that Congress does not bother to meet. After all, the hidden taxes are bringing in enough to run what is left of the government.

Shortly thereafter, the computers can take over the reins of government entirely. Only one person — an office boy with good eye sight — will be needed to read the computers, and eventually a machine will replace him, too.

The rest of us will meanwhile be employed in building bigger and hungrier computers.

Small Change Big Problem in Midwest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, which holds dear to its heart such price tags as $1.98, $49.95 and $2.99, is running short of change.

* * *

The shortage of coins seems to be most acute in the Northeast and Midwest, and threatens to harass merchants and customers alike during the Christmas season.

Treasury and federal reserve officials say pennies and nickels are in the shortest supply, and the possibility of a "grey market" in small change has arisen.

A retail chain store in Chicago, where the problem is worst, spent $10,000 to bring in coins from other cities and is considering offering customers scrip instead of hard currency in making change and cashing checks.

* * *

The treasury would like to increase production at the Philadelphia and Denver mints, but it doesn't have the money.

Officials hope to get quick approval from the Budget Bureau and key members of Congress to spend funds not specifically earmarked for production costs.

The problem is reported to arise from Congress' failure to pass a supplemental appropriation bill in its rush to adjournment last month. The bill that died contained $500,000 for the Bureau of the Mint.

Miss Eva B. Adams, director of the bureau, estimated that the $500,000 would finance production of an extra 420 million coins. If the money had been made available, she indicated, a substantial proportion of the coins would be coming out of the mints now.

Federal reserve banks in several cities reported "alarmingly low" coin reserves as of Nov. 1. They have been unable to fill all coin orders from commercial banks, which in turn have had to ration coins to stores.

The business world's need for coins is always greatest during the Christmas shopping season. Officials are worried that the lack of change may dampen customer-store relations. Some stores may refuse to cash checks unless they are for round dollar amounts.

One trade publication has advised banks they may be able to buy coins from vending machine firms or municipal parking authorities. There is no law against selling coins at a premium price.

Explosion Rips British Carrier

LONDON (AP) — The British carrier Centaur reported today that an explosion aboard had caused a number of casualties, the Admiralty announced.

The Centaur was off Point Lynas on the north coast of Wales when the explosion occurred.

* * *

The carrier said it was sending the casualties to a hospital in the Welsh city of Bangor.

An Admiralty spokesman said the first radio report from the ship indicated the explosion was in a boiler room.

The Centaur, a 27,000-ton vessel, has a normal complement of 1,028 sailors and approximately 300 airmen. It carries 45 fighter planes and helicopters.

The ship went into navy service in 1953.

Christeners Cut, Soaked

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three pretty stewardesses simultaneously smashed champagne bottles against a pillar yesterday to christen the $10-million passenger terminal at Idlewild Airport shared by Braniff International Airways, Northwest Orient Airlines and Northeast Airlines.

Northeast stewardess Helen Stillman got a slight glass cut on her hand, Braniff stewardess Sheila Dixon got champagne all over her face and 16-gallon hat and Northwest stewardess Bette Budd got her kimono costume bathed in bubbly champagne.

Boy Plays With Bomb, Blows Out Windows

LEICESTER, England (UPI) — Andrew Fildes, 15, said today he planned to apologize to his headmaster for blowing out the school windows.

He did it with a bomb he innocently made in chemistry class.

RESCUE TRY FAILS — A neighbor, attempting to rescue two small children who were suffocating in their Los Angeles apartment yesterday, is driven back by smoke and flames as he stands on an overhang outside the building. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation attempted by firemen failed to revive the children, a boy, 4, and girl, 3.

Hagerty Defends Disputed Show

'Hiss on TV Right of Free Press'

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadcasting executive James C. Hagerty says the appearance of Alger Hiss on the television program about Richard Nixon was an exercise of freedom of the press by the network.

★ ★ ★

The American Broadcasting Co. had a right to interview Hiss, a convicted perjurer, along with others on the program, Hagerty said in a taped statement aired on the ABC-TV last night.

Hagerty, ABC vice president in charge of news, special events and public affairs, had the ultimate responsibility for broadcast of the Nixon program a week ago yesterday.

"I'm against Hiss and everything he stands for. I have no use for him — never had, and never will have.

"But that doesn't alter the fact that he did play an important part in the political career of Richard Nixon."

FREE PRESS ATTACKED

Hagerty, amplifying his defense of ABC during last week's criticism of the television appearance of the man whom Nixon helped send to prison, said: "In this situation, the principle of a free press has come under attack."

In the course of his six-minute statement, Hagerty also said the program on which Hiss appeared was supported by many "sincere people — it has been assailed by others—equally sincere."

"In addition to the program itself," he continued, "a more fundamental issue, in my opinion, is presented.

"That issue deals with the basic American principle of freedom of the press, or the exchange of free ideas, free speech, free assent and dissent."

Nixon questioned the importance of the appearance of Hiss on the program about Nixon's political career.

In telegrams sent to several newspapers Saturday Nixon asked: "What does an attack by one convicted perjurer mean when weiged on the scale against the thousands of wires and letters from patriotic Americans"

The telegrams to the newspapers confirmed that Nixon does not plan to run again for public office and discussed his 16 years in public office.

The controversial television program, in which commentator Howard K. Smith appeared with Hiss and three other persons in their pro-and-con comment, was entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

The program was taped after Nixon's defeat by Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the gubernatorial election in California Nov. 6.

Linda Has a Sad Tale— She Still Loves Tyrone

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It was a sad 39th birthday for Luscious Linda Christian . . .

Summoned to Hollywood by income taxers demanding she pay $120,000 for '55 and '56, she told me with quivering lips that she can't raise it even selling the big Bel-Air house where her nude statue smiles openly upon the world.

WILSON

"That amount's sheer nonsense!" blazed Linda.

In a beautiful sari, she was Twisting and Bossa-Novaing with escorts George DeWitt and Robert Hadjob—never forgetting she's married to Edmund Purdom.

"For the first time"—we were side by side at the Encore at a big soiree—"I'm trying to sell the house."

★ ★ ★

"Some rumor-mongers," I ventured, "think you're staying away from Purdom rather long." (He's in Europe, filming.)

"Oh, no, he's so loyal. He understands," Linda said.

"Understands what?"

"That I'm still in love with Ty. On my birthday four years ago I did not get a card or telegram from Ty for the first time. Two days later I learned that he was dead."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Take a look at your tax bill, and you'll quit calling them "cheap politicians."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Voters are asked to remember that, no matter who wins, the American way is to join hands after the election—and blame everything on the new administration.

EARL'S PEARLS: The average wife is endowed with three voices—a telephone voice, a voice she uses with company, and a voice she uses on her husband.

"If you really want your friends to remember you this Christmas," suggests Arnold Glasow, "—give 'em something cheap." . . . That's earl, brother.

Seidman Gets Special Post

Romney Names Loser in Election as Aide

LANSING (AP)—Gov-elect George Romney has appointed Grand Rapids accountant L. William Seidman as a special assistant on state financial affairs.

★ ★ ★

Seidman was the Republican candidate for auditor general who lost out in the Nov. 6 election as Romney was winning the governorship for the GOP.

Seidman, a partner in the nationally known Seidman and Seidman accounting firm, will serve until Romney's inauguration Jan. 1, the governor-elect said. He will assist Romney in the areas of the "budget, spending control and revenue reform."

While announcing Seidman's appointment, Romney at the same time broke with tradition by inviting Democrats to share in planning and carrying out his Jan. 1 inauguration.

★ ★ ★

Romney also promised to share with the Democrats any proceeds over and above the expenses if they would agree to make the customarily elaborate occasion a joint affair.

Romney made the offer formally in a "Dear John" letter to Democratic Secretary of State James M. Hare Saturday.

As a rule, election winners of the past have made the inaugural pretty much a one-party show—the winner's. Profits, if any, from the balls and parties, have been tucked away in party coffers.

JOIN PLANNING

Romney's invitation, directed expressly to members of the State Administrative Board, invited them to join in the "planning and execution" of the inauguration. All the board members are Democrats.

Romney, addressing Hare as "Dear Jim" in his inaugural invitation letter, said the "primary meaning" of the Nov. 6 election was that the people expect their public officials to "work together to meet the challenges facing this state without primary concern for party labels."

Romney said both parties could demonstrate they wish to meet the desire of the people by joining together in the inauguration.

Jet Forced to Drop Fuel After Engine Trouble

TAMPA (UPI) — Tampa residents were alarmed yesterday when a huge Air Force jet streamed overhead spewing flames from one engine. But the KB 50 jet tanker landed safely minutes later.

The plane, carrying a crew of six, developed trouble shortly after takeoff and was forced to jettison its fuel into Tampa Bay before landing.
