Dulles Assures SEATO of U.S. Armed Support

Says America Intends to Live Up to Military Obligations in Asia

BANGKOK (AP) — The United States today assured the Manila Pact nations it is prepared to stand firmly behind its military commitments in the Far East.

Secretary of State Dulles, speaking at the first closed-door session of the eight-nation conference, reportedly said there should be no mistake about U.S. military obligations in Southeast Asia, and its intention to execute them if the occasion arises.

Dulles told the delegates he wanted to correct any impression that the United States would vacillate in its stand.

The foreign ministers first set goals of military security and economic progress for Southeast Asia, then took up the task of hammering Manila Pact principles into a bulwark against communism.

Dulles, first to take the floor in the secret deliberations, was reported to have given the United States' evaluation of the Asian situation, and assurance that U.S fighting forces in the Far East are adequate to cope with any trouble.

He pointed out the United States has a mobile force in Asia and can move quickly.

His statement was taken to mean that the United States is indifferent to the establishment of a permanent NATO-type military force.

Dulles suggested an immediate meeting of military chiefs from each of the eight nations to discuss the formulation of general military plans for the defense of Asia against Communist aggression.

He also proposed periodic meetings of this group. Philippine sources said the Philippines is seeking the establishment of a permanent and continuing military committee.

Dulles said subversion against member nations demands equal attention with open aggression.

Ike Angrily Accuses Dems of Irresponsible Tax Stand

(FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES)

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower angrily accused Democrats today of scaling a new height of fiscal irresponsibility with their proposals for a $20-per-person cut in income taxes.

The chief executive threw his full personal prestige behind the GOP effort to defeat the tax cut proposal at his weekly news conference.

His jaw squared and his eyes flashing, he frequently pounded the table and raised his voice as he ripped into the opposition party on the issue.

Eisenhower said supporters of the tax cut have not had the courage to introduce it in a separate bill where it could stand or fall on its own merits, but have tied it to the administration's proposal to postpone reductions in corporation and excise levies.

The Democratic move, he declared, would return the nation to deficit spending, which he described as the most insidious thing that can happen to a free economy.

Hammering his fist on the table, Eisenhower declared that we simply cannot have this kind of thing in responsible government.

The President's views constituted a personal appeal to the nation for the White House eas expected to release newsreel films of his remarks for use on television and in theaters throughout the country.

Eisenhower invited the Democrats to try their luck with a separate bill. But he declined to say whether he would veto the whole revenue measure if it should pass in the present form.

The bill, now awaiting Rules Committee clearance for House action, would take effect on personal taxes next Jan. 1.

It would provide a $20 tax reduction for each taxpayer and de-

Detroit to Push Voting Machines

DETROIT—All voting precincts in Detroit may be fully equipped with voting machines within three years, according to Louis A. Urban, director of elections.

Urban said mechanical equipment for the 1,541 precincts will make complete returns available within four hours after polls close. He expressed satisfaction over the fast and accurate count Monday night from the 683 precincts already using machines.

"All had phoned in their returns by 10:30 p.m.—just 2½ hours after the polls closed," he said. "This is about half the time it takes to count and tally a paper ballot precinct."

Ike Raps Dem Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today denounced the proposed Democratic $20-a-person income tax cut as the height of fiscal irresponsibility.

Expect Senate to Approve $7,500 Pay Raise Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate votes today on its $7,500-a-year pay raise for members of Congress and judges.

Although party leaders predict the bill will pass with little change, one of their newest colleagues who has found himself swamped with office expenses wishes the formula could be altered. He doesn't want a raise: He wants ample office allowances.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore), said he would support the expense increase amendments of his colleague, Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) for these reasons:

"The bulk of my salary increase, if it goes through, will be ploughed right back into my office operations. But the people will have the impression I have pocketed a big pay raise.

"I've spent $200 for personal photographs in my first month here—pictures for the press and other requirements around the country. Forty different schools asked for my picture — they're playing senator or something—and the prints cost about a dollar apiece."

Then, said Neuberger, he learned about the stamp situation.

"An allowance of $200 a year in stamps for a senator from the West Coast is ridiculous. Those of us on the coast get the same stamp allowance as a senator from Pennsylvania, but it takes us five days to get a regular letter home, whereas his is there the next day."

That means extra airmail expense for Neuberger.

The former magazine author admitted he also has felt the pinch

Michigan Bonus for Korean Vets Due April First

LANSING (INS) — Michigan's Korean War veterans today were notified they will be receiving their long-awaited bonus by April 1.

The bill has already passed the Senate and should pass the House early next week.

The House Military Affairs Committee sent the bill into its final stages yesterday and Gov. G. Mennen Williams has already given his approval in advance.

The claims will cost about $60 million in payments and interest.

Payments to GIs in the service during the Korean War are set at $10 a month for soldiers stationed in the U.S. and $15 for each month overseas.

GIs eligible for the bonus are those in the armed forces between June 1950 and Decem[illegible]r 1953.

Maximum payment is $500 for next of kin of soldiers who died in service.

Press Search for Subs in East

Sea Frontier Command Probes U-Boat Sighting Off North Carolina

NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern Sea Frontier Command will continue today to search for any evidence of two submarines reported seen off the coast at Nags Head, N.C.

A spokesman for the command said last night the search had failed so far to turn up any trace of the subs, reportedly seen by coast residents three to five miles offshore, heading south.

The Coast Guard at Nags Head relayed the report to the Navy yesterday. A check was made from the air by a plane out of Norfolk, Va., and by a blimp sent from Weeksville, N. C.

There are no American submarines in the area, the spokesman for the frontier command said. He noted that the water along that part of the shore is only 50 feet deep and said the operation of submarines in water that shallow "doesn't make sense."

He said numerous fishing boats work in that area and could have been mistaken for submarines when seen at the reported distance.

Gromyko's Plane in Trouble Twice

LONDON (AP)—A Russian airliner with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko aboard overshot London Airport twice today, but finally landed safely.

Officials said a 70-minute delay in the landing was caused by difficulty in translating messages to the Russian pilot.

The plane, an Ilyushin, was flying from Moscow to London, where Gromyko will represent the Soviet Union at a United Nations disarmament subcommittee meeting opening here Friday. The plane picked up a British Royal Air Force navigator in Berlin.

Paris to Exhibit Appliances Run by Cosmic Rays

PARIS (AP) — Star attractions at the annual household arts exhibition opening in Paris tomorrow will be an electric razor, a kitchen mixer and a vacuum cleaner—all worked by electricity generated from cosmic rays.

The exhibit, arranged by the nationalized Electricity de France, will consist of an apparatus with a Geiger counter for detecting and capturing cosmic rays as they pass through the Grand Palais, where the exhibition is held. Boosted by a special attachment, the rays will set up an electric current to put the domestic appliances into motion.

The exhibit is admittedly a scientific stunt and the experts say it may still be many years before housewives can expect to run their mixers and vacuums by cosmic ray power.

Winds Threaten 3rd Atom Shot

Airmen Report Seeing A-Like Flash Over the Atlantic Early Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Atomic scientists will consult weather charts today to determine whether to fire the third shot of the spring nuclear series tomorrow morning.

Unfavorable winds, which have thrown the series far off schedule, also may force postponement of a test tomorrow.

Flash of the second shot, which lighted the predawn sky yesterday, was seen in San Francisco, Sacramento and Los Angeles, several hundred miles from the test site. The shot from a 300-foot tower on Yucca Flat was the probable prototype for an atomic missile warhead.

From London comes the report that an atomic-like flash was seen over the Atlantic early today.

Navigator M. J. Fuller and third officer John Thomas of a Pan American Clipper flying from New York to London said they spotted the phenomenon and sent a message to the London airport.

Fuller related here:

"We were flying at 21,000 feet 400 miles west of Ireland. Thomas and I were in the cockpit and one hour before dawn we both saw a mysterious explosion. We were too high for it to have been caused by a ship. It was definitely not lightning and the sun had not yet risen.

"When the atomic bomb was exploded at Las Vegas I was flying over Santa Barbara and had been warned to look out for the flash. What I saw this morning looked very much the same."

London airport said no other planes had reported seeing anything unusual in the area.

School Building Plan Faces Final Test in Senate

1 More Vote Needed; House Also Must Act for April 4 Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Senate sponsors of a 100 million dollar state bond issue for local school construction planned to try again today after their proposal was defeated late Tuesday by one vote.

The chamber voted 21-8 against the plan developed by educators, bond men and builders. A two-thirds vote was necessary.

Noting that the measure must still go through the house Thursday if the plan is to go on the April 4 ballot, Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said he planned to put the measure to a second—and final—vote today.

Broomfield, sponsor of the proposal, predicted he would pick up the necessary one vote.

Under the proposal, if approved by the voters, the state would borrow 100 million dollars on its own credit and re-lend it to school districts for construction purposes.

No district would be eligible unless it were already levying 13 mills for existing debts. The borrowing districts then would have to maintain the 13 mill levy for 25 years to repay the state. Districts also could borrow money from the state to refund existing debts at lower interest rates.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) dealt the plan the knockout blow.

Saying he was "sincerely concerned" at the plight of some schools, Hutchinson declared that "I know a good many people think we are short-sighted to say we should pay for benefits for the next generation. But we are awakening to the fact that every year has its own problems, every generation its own problems. I think it is unfair to cast our burdens on the future because it will have its own problems to solve."

Hutchinson said there is no reason to believe the state's present "astonishing" increase in population and birth rate will halt.

"So," he said, "if we build now and ask the future to pay, the future will have to pay both its own and our debts, or ask its

Champion Skater Now in U.S. Zone, Happy to Quit Commie Land

LINZ (INS)—A Czechoslovakian woman skater who "felt like a bird in a cage" said today she fled her Communist-ruled homeland "because I wanted the one thing I could not have—personal freedom."

Mirlova Nachodska 28, who took part in last week's world figure skating championships in Vienna, disappeared with her baggage from the hotel where she was quartered with the rest of the Czech team last Saturday.

She went from the British sector of the city to the American sector and then into the U.S. occupation zone at Linz, where she met reporters today.

"In Czechoslovakia today," she said, "I personally might be considered to have had everything one could hope for.

"Like few others in the country I was well paid, could travel, and could sometimes even buy things abroad.

"I was nationally known. I had everything but freedom and security. I felt like a bird in a cage which had freedom to move about in a cage but not beyond."

Miss Nachodska, who placed 18th in a field of 21 women contestants in the figure skating competition, said that during the world championships she met a former Prague friend, Carol Jean Pachl, Czech-born Canadian national champion skater who probably helped her to make the final decision to escape to the West.

Public Housing Battle Looms

Carry Urges Pontiac Commission to Study Possible Ban

First sign of a fresh battle over public housing appeared last night when Commissioner John E. Carry urged the City Commission to consider banning further public housing developments, at next week's meeting.

Carry's motion followed a mass meeting of about 300 east side residents Monday night.

The meeting reportedly was called by Carry to quell wild rumors about construction of a large housing project in District 6, which he represents.

The rumors apparently stemmed from an informal meeting between the Commission and the City Housing Commission last Wednesday.

It was unofficially reported that the Housing Commission suggested three possible sites for a 300-unit development. One was reported to be on the south side, one on the north side and one on the east side.

The City Commission has taken no official action on any site.

Jan. 4, the Commission unanimously passed a resolution, framed by Carry declaring that "a present need exists for additional low-cost housing in this city."

The Commission then authorized the housing group to negotiate with the Federal Housing Authority for the reopening of an old contract to build 300 units.

(The city's first public housing development, the 400-unit Lakeside Homes project, has been in operation for more than two years.)

Carry's motion last night asking that a resolution be on next week's agenda "prohibiting the Housing Commission from going on with any further extension of the public housing program," met opposition from two commissioners.

Accident Mars Family's Joy Over New Baby

Youngster Is Killed Shortly After Mother Has Fourth Child

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Shortly after she gave birth to her fourth son in a Flint hospital, Mrs. Ida Mae Miller, 34, of Rose Township, was told her 8-year-old son David had died in the same hospital of a gunshot wound in the head.

Flint Osteopathic Hospital authorities, who notified the mother soon after David died at 3 p. m. yesterday, said she required special attention after suffering "emotional shock."

David, according to Oakland County Sheriff's detectives, was shot accidentally by his brother George 11. He said he was not aware that the .22 caliber rifle was loaded when it discharged in the kitchen of their home at 1525 Rattalee Lake Rd.

The youths' father, George F., 38, was with his wife and newborn son, Stephen, in the hospital at the time.

With their older brother John, 14, George and David had planned to shoot pigeons in the barn on their 200-acre farm, about two miles south of Holly. John, who bought the rifle about three years ago, said:

"Around 2 o'clock, we decided to take my .22 rifle out to the barn and shoot some pigeons while dad was visiting mom at the hospital."

The boys were home because schools in the area were observing Washington's birthday.

John, a ninth grade student at Holly High School, continued: "Right after I loaded the gun and we were about to leave the house the phone rang. So I laid the rifle down on the kitchen table. I had my back turned and didn't know

Sir Winston Joins Sons of Revolution

NEW YORK (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill has become an honorary member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The organization, composed of descendants of men who fought for independence of the Colonies from England, announced Sir Winston's acceptance of the membership last night.

The membership was offered on his 80th birthday, Nov. 30.

GOP Solons Show Data Backing Their Road Plan

LANSING (AP) — Republican senators today produced figures which they said proved their "pay-as-you-go" highway program was sounder than Gov. Williams' 500 million dollar bond issue plan.

Using Highway Department estimates and projections, Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) said the so-called Senate plan of increased taxes without a bond issue would produce 440 million dollars of new money in 10 years.

"Compare this," Nichols said, "with the governor's 500 million bond issue which would require 25 years to pay off and cost 148 million dollars more in interest charges."

The Senate plan, still being polished in caucuses, would increase the gasoline tax from 4½ to 6 cents a gallon and boost commercial vehicle license fees 25 per cent.

Tentatively, it would split 75 per cent of the new money to the state and 25 per cent to the local units, the counties getting two-thirds of the 25 and the cities one-third.

Williams talked with the Senate Highway Committee in his office Tuesday and hinted, some thought, that he would yield still further ground on providing more money for local roads if the Legislature would put a bond issue on the April 4 ballot. He has insisted the money be spent on the trunkline system.

Williams has refused to go to a meeting of the House Roads Committee today, but has invited it to his office. Rep. Emil R. Peltz (R-Rogers City) said he doubted whether the committee "will go because Williams won't attend our meeting," but he added he would

Increase in VD Called Alarming

Health Officials Seek More Federal Aid to Stem Trend

NEW YORK (AP)—Three national organizations report venereal diseases are increasing in the United States at an "alarming" rate.

More federal help to stem the trend is sought by the American Social Hygiene Assn., the American Venereal Disease Assn. and the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers.

A joint statement by the groups last night urged that the federal government increase the current appropriation of three million dollars to five million next year to help states fight VD.

The statement said a survey found VD rates rising in 43 states in the last six months of 1954.

Local syphilis epidemics in the early infectious stage were found recently in 18 states and seven major cities, the statement said.

"Although for the country as a whole, the VD rates are not so high as they were 10 years ago," the statement said, "they still represent one of the nation's foremost health hazards."

The report said there were no increases in reported VD cases in only five states—California, West Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama and Rhode Island—from the first to the second half of last year.

On a nationwide basis the three associations spoke of the "manifest grave danger in the present venereal disease situation."

Baby Blizzard Sweeps Across Rockies, Plains

By UNITED PRESS

A baby blizzard and an icy cold wave swept across the frost-bitten Rocky Mountain and Great Plains states today.

The new blizzard was not expected to match the weekend storm which followed the same path and grew into the worst blizzard since 1949.

But it was hard news for the ranchers and farmers who have just finished digging out of mountainous drifts.

Blizzard conditions were expected to strike briefly at parts of Nebraska, Oklahoma and the Dakotas. Meanwhile, warnings of a cold wave and snow were issued for much of Kansas, Missouri, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

The cold front lay across the Dakotas early today. It was expected to move into the Mississippi River Valley by late today, bringing snow and falling temperatures to most of Wisconsin, northwestern Michigan, Illinois and southeastern Iowa.

Another, far more savage blizzard was piling up record-breaking snowdrifts in Alaska.

New Orleans, meanwhile, was soaked by 1.04 inches of rain over a 24-hour period as the city wound up one of the most riotous Mardi Gras blowouts in its history.

future to pay and so on endlessly."

Hutchinson argued that primary and secondary education has always been the responsibility of local government, while the state was responsible for higher education.

Noting a demand the state now take over local responsibility, Hutchinson said the state would do better to admit this frankly and appropriate directly each year to build local schools on a lease-purchase plan.

He said Broomfield indicated not more than three to four million dollars a year would be needed.

Broomfield objected, saying the bond plan was really a method of "helping school districts to help themselves". He said it would help schools obtain lower interest rates at great savings.

Pointer Dog Stolen From Animal Shelter

A pointer dog valued at over $50 was reported stolen from the Oakland County Animal Shelter, 1200 E. Walton Blvd., last night according to Assistant Prosecutor Gerard A. Poehlman.

Entry was gained by scaling a 10-foot high, barbed-wire fence and breaking down a pen door. Several other canines in the pen, including two police dogs, were not bothered, Poehlman explained.

Probe Two Fires on Cutter Eastwind

BOSTON (AP)—Two fires aboard the Coast Guard cutter Eastwind in the past three days were under investigation by a court of inquiry today.

The first fire Sunday caused damage estimated unofficially at a quarter of a milion dollars.

Yesterday's fire started as crewmen were unloading ammunition so the Eastwind could undergo repair of damages caused by the first fire in the forward engine room.

No one was injured in either.

The engine room and magazines were flooded during both fires to prevent spread of flames or explosions.

Yesterday's fire was believed an aftermath of Sunday's blaze.

George picked up the gun. While I was talking with my aunt on the phone, I heard the shot and turned around and saw David lying on the floor near the door."

His aunt, Mrs. Chester Sak of 4970 Langdon Dr., Brighton, had called to ask about the boys' mother.

"I told my aunt, then, what happened and she said she was coming right over."

John told police, "David had a hole in the right temple and his head was bleeding." Both brothers carried the youngster to a living room couch and called for police and an ambulance.

"When the police and ambulance didn't come, we told Mrs. Miner who is our neighbor," said John.

The neighbor, Mrs. Vernon E. Miner of 1415 Rattalee Lake Rd., rushed David to Holly where the boy was hurried to the hospital some 25 miles away. John and George remained with Mrs. Miner's two young children.

Mrs. Sak said she arrived after Mrs. Miner had left and was met by David's two brothers at the home.

"I asked John how David was, but he just shook his head and said, 'I don't think there's any hope. The bullet went right through his head.' George was crying so hard, he was uncontrollable," she said.

David, a third grader at the Davisburg Elementary School where George is in the seventh grade, died shortly after arriving at the hospital.

The father, a laborer at the A.C. Sparkplug Division in Flint, earlier was notified that his wife had presented him with a fourth son. He learned also from medical attendants that Davy died of the head wound in the same hospital.

Questioning George at length, police learned from the youngster:

"I picked the gun up and I didn't know that John had put a shell in it. I just fumbled with it and pulled back the hammer and pulled the trigger."

George sobbed:

"Then I saw Davy fall down. I ran to him and tried to wake him up, but he just stayed still."

Davy never regained consciousness, doctors said.

Both grief-stricken boys were met at their home last night by their tearful father, who returned home at 6 p.m. to notify his boys that their brother, David, had died.

Nationalists Hint Pull-Out From Nanchishan Likely

(FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES)

TAIPEI, Formosa—Signs multiplied today that Nationalist China might be forced to another painful decision—a pull-out from Nanchishan, northernmost anchor of Chiang Kai-shek's offshore island chain.

Official quarters suggested to foreign correspondents that it would be unwise to overestimate the capabilities of the defenders—perhaps 5,000 guerrillas and regulars.

And Nationalist officials suddenly stopped saying that all offshore islands—without exception — would be defended.

They had been saying they would, constantly, since the Tachen Islands were evacuated earlier this month.

These strong hints of a possible evacuation of Nanchishan indicate the United States must have given a flat "no" answer to Nationalist appeals for help if the Reds invade the tiny island.

The situation appears to be this:

The United States, while under no openly announced commitment, might intervene against a Communist invasion of Quemoy or the Matsus. But it does not regard Nationalist possession of Nanchishan as essential to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Without U.S. support, Nanchishan could be cut off by the Reds.

A withdrawal from Nanchishan would almost certainly be quite a different thing from the Tachen evacuation, which was protected by the U.S. 7th Fleet.

This one would be an all-Nationalist affair.

Nanchishan, 120 miles north of Formosa and 20 miles off the Red mainland, is the last island off the Chekiang coast still held by the Nationalists. Its abandonment would roll the civil war front back to the Matsu group, 100 miles northwest of Formosa and also 20 miles off the coast. The Matsus dominate the approaches to Foochow, capital of Fukien province.

A common assumption here is that the United States wanted the Nationalists to withdraw from Nanchisan at the time of the Tachen evacuation.

A big question now facing the Nationalists is how to explain away an evacuation of Nanchishan, if such a pull-out is ordered.

Nationalist planes continued their damaging smashes at Red shipping for the sixth day today and reported hitting two more Communist ships in predawn raids.

The Nationalist Air Force said P4Y bombers, on routine patrol near the Taishan Islands, 100 miles northwest of Formosa, "probably" sank one Red ship and damaged another. No details were given as to the type of ships hit.

The Nationalists have claimed a total of at least 56 Red ships of various sizes sunk or crippled in heavy air-sea action beginning last Friday.

Pontiac Deaths

George Findlay

George Findlay, 52, of Daytona Beach, Fla. and a former resident of Pontiac died in Daytona Beach Monday after a four year illness.

Born in Marine City Aug. 8, 1902, he was the son of William S. Findlay and was married to Floa Newby.

Mr. Findlay, a mechanic, moved from here to Florida four years ago.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Doris Tessiee of Windsor, Ont., Canada and Margie Calhoun of Pontiac. Also surviving are two brothers, Harry of Windsor and Frank of Ontario Province.

Can't Hear? Can't Talk? Can't Think!

Commissioner Harry W. Lutz got a chuckle from the gallery at last night's City Commission meeting after one commissioner complained a minor malady was affecting his hearing and another said a cold was giving him laryngitis.

"You can't hear," croaked Mayor William W. Donaldson to Commissioner John E. Carry, "and I can't talk."

"And I can't think," chimed in humorist Lutz.

Sees Matusow Hurting Others

Watkins Says Witness Is 'Deliberately Trying' to Destroy Ex-Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said today Harvey Matusow apparently is "deliberately trying to destroy" other former Communists who have testified for the government in court trials and congressional Red hunts.

Watkins is a member of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which yesterday ended two days of raking questioning of Matusow, amid threats to prosecute the young New Yorker for his turnabout testimony.

Subcommittee members said they will try to jail him on perjury charges. Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) said the Justice Department had asked for a transcript of the hearings.

Matusow stuck to his story that he has falsely accused "hundreds" of persons of ties to communism when he testified both in courts and on Capitol Hill in the earlier 1950s.

Matusow said he had dates in New York with a federal court and a federal grand jury. Excusing him temporarily, the subcommittee called other witnesses for closed-door questioning about the case.

Matusow told the senators yesterday that other former Communists who have testified about Communist espionage also have given false testimony. He named Elizabeth Bentley, Louis Budenz, Manning Johnson and Paul Crouch, all of them confessed ex-Reds and frequent government witnesses.

Budenz commented in New York: "This is the second stage of the Communist attack on internal security. They have planned since 1950 to attack government witnesses."

Sen. Eastland said he expects the group to call Miss Bentley to reply to Matusow's accusation that she once told him she had lied. Matusow never did give the subcommittee details.

pendent, or a benefit of $100 for a family of five.

Eisenhower said he looks askance at a proposal before him to offer surplus U. S. wheat to Russia because the Soviet Union might twist such a goodwill gesture into our disadvantage.

The President also made these points:

1. Expressed pessimism over the prospects of reaching any agreement on disarmament with the Communist world, but said the U. S. is ready to put everything in the pot and go just as far as anyone else in disarming when there are assurance that other nations are acting in good faith.

2. Said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles carried detailed instructions on the Formosa issue to the Bangkok conference, but declined to predict the prospects of reaching a cease-fire agreement with the Reds.

3. Declared the U. S. will never cease to insist on a just and decent settlement in the case of the 11 American fliers imprisone by the Chinese Communists, but said there have been no new developments on this recently.

4. Angrily invited a reporter to submit his information to the administration if he has any evidence that someone in the executive branch has falsely labeled an innocent person a subversive.

5. Declared he is going to put his full strength behind the ffort to achive ratification of the Paris agreements on European defense before looking for any alternatives.

6. Said the cooperation he has received from the Democratic leadership in Congress has ben completely satisfactory on a personal level.

The President also vigorously defended the accomplishments of the United Nations when asked to comment on a statement by Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland that the U. N. can no longer be considered an effective instrument of collective security.

Seeks Report on Alaska Issue

Solon Wants to Know Why Defense Office Is Opposed to Statehood

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Jackson (D-Wash) of the Senate territories subcommittee today pressed the Defense Department for a quick outline of specific reasons for its opposition to statehood for Alaska.

Jackson told newsmen he was not satisfied with the statement of James H. Douglas, undersecretary of the Air Force, that the military prefers the territorial system at the present time because the transition to statehood is bound to create defense problems of an uncertain nature.

With the hearing of a combined Hawaii - Alaska statehood bill in recess, Jackson said the proceeding will be concluded Thursday unless it becomes necessary to summon Secretary of Defense Wilson for an elaboration on his statement it would be in the interest of National Security to keep Alaska a federal territory at present.

"The committee cannot accept a conclusion without knowing the reasons for the conclusion," Jackson asserted.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) also demanded an explanation of the Defense Department position, noting it clashed with the State Department's flat statement in favor of statehood for both Alaska and Hawaii.

Jackson asked the department to furnish the reason and also to express its views on proposals to give the President authority to create vast military reservations in northern and western Alaska if Alaska becomes a state.

Douglas told the committee yesterday that neither the Defense Department nor Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief of staff, is opposed to statehood for Alaska as a matter of policy.

"If it is the judgment of Congress that statehood should come at this time, the military will perform its defense function and I think with success," he said.

Senators Back Up Highway Program

ask his committee what it wants to do.

Williams made a last-minute appeal to the Legislature last night to put the proposal for the bond issue on the April 4 election ballot.

"Only a few days more remain for action," Williams said in a radio broadcast. "Then it will be too late to submit the program to the people for a vote. If that happens, I think it will be a great mistake, because it will mean we have passed up a chance to get a modern arterial road system in five or six years."

"Those who want to simply raise taxes and issue no bonds say they are for a 'pay-as-you-go' program," the governor said. "The trouble is that, under that scheme, you'd pay all right, but you wouldn't go."

"What Michigan needs is a go-as-you-pay program," he declared.

In his talk with the Senate committee, Williams was asked by Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) whether he would consent to diverting some of the 500 million dollar bond issue money to local roads.

"I am willing to consider any reasonable compromise," Williams said. "Of course, it wouldn't be my program, but I am agreeable to considering it."

"If a majority of the people want an equal division (between the trunkline system and the local system) or more employed on the other system, we'll just have to get together on it," Williams said.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) added a new measure to the growing pile of highway proposals.

Sallade proposed a one-cent gas tax increase, a $500 million bond issue and a 25 per cent increase in truck license fees.

A liberal Republican and a freshman in the Legislature, Sallade's proposal was very similar to Gov. Williams' plan for a half-cent gas tax increase, a $500 million bond issue and a 25 per cent increase in truck license fees.

Sallade proposed, however, a change in the distribution formula to give the state a greater share of money for state trunkline construction.

Thieves Steal Whisky, Cash From City Tavern

Thieves who yesterday broke into Richards Tavern, at 577 N. Perry St., made off with the equipment for a royal spree.

Besides $291 in cash and a box of cigars, they stole 47 quarts of whisky valued at $451 by owner Horace Hatfield. Entry was gained by breaking glass out of the front door.

"If they're having a good time, we hope it will be short-lived," said Detective James H. LaPonsie.

The Day in Birmingham

Rezoning Topics Occupy Planning Board Meeting

BIRMINGHAM—Zoning change requests filled the agenda for last night's Planning Board meeting. After hearing the views of residents in the Maple-Larchlea-Westchester Way area, the board decided to recommend no zoning changes for four lots in the area.

One petition called for changing from single family to two family residence zoning, the lot at the southeast corner of Maple and Westchester Way, plus one abutting lot directly south.

The other two lots, which the petitioners wished changed from one family residence to two family or parking classification, are south of Maple between Larchlea and Westchester Way.

Tabled for further study was a request to rezone the block bounded by Oakland, Lawndale, Madison and Hunter, now residentially zoned. The owners suggested a limited business use, such as an office or doctors' clinic.

Birmingham's zoning ordinance does not now include such a classification, but a rewriting of the ordinance has been under board study for some time.

Also tabled was a request to rezone from single family residence to business A classification, four lots on Southfield, next to a business on the northeast Southfield-14 Mile road corner.

City Commissioners this week amended the recently approved off-street parking ordinance, giving extra benefits to the small businessman.

Where the former rule called for new or expanding businesses to provide such parking on a basis of one square foot of parking space per each square foot of retail floor area, the man whose floor area is 1,000 square feet or less, need not provide any parking under the amendment.

Above that the ratio is figured on a sliding scale basis.

City Clerk Irene Hanley said today an even dozen persons now have petitions circulating for the three City Commission vacancies to be voted on April 4. Deadline for filing petitions is this Saturday.

Petitioners thus far are incumbent Vincent Watkins, Harry M. Denyes Jr., Carl F. Ingraham, Omar Hansen, Sidley E. Sullivan, Atwell J. Smith, C. Watts Wacker, Donald K. Fill, Frederick Fiesselmann, Dr. Bernard A. O'Dell and Donald K. Parry. Lone woman on the list is Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr.

Calihan Reported on Way Out at UD

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today that there is only a slim chance that Bob Calihan will be retained as head basketball coach at the University of Detroit next season.

The News quoted the Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S. J., University president, as saying he was "not happy with the basketball situation. I feel there is something lacking."

U of D's basketball team has lost its last eight games after winning 13 of its first 15.

Calihan, the News said, is working on a year-to-year contract. If his contract is to be renewed, the News said, Fr. Steiner must approve it by April 1.

Expect Senate OK on Pay Hike Today

in welcoming constituents to Washington.

He said: "This week to date, in two days, I've spent $19 for lunches for constituents."

And on transportation: "I'd prefer something like a car pool to a pay raise, too. Why should every little bureaucrat who comes up here to testify need a car if when we have to run errands downtown on official business we must pay it out of our pockets?"

The pending Senate bill, on which debate will be limited this afternoon to half an hour on each amendment, would boost legislative salaries from $15,000 to $22,500 plus travel expense for five round-trips home. The House-passed bill raises the salary to $22,500 plus an additional expense allowance of $2,500.

Neither bill would eliminate the present additional benefit, carried in other law, which exempts $3,000 of their income from taxation to compensate for having to maintain a home in Washington.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), who wants to eliminate the congressional raise entirely, conceded his amendment would be beaten. He said the highest increase he could support would be $2,500.

About 1,400 Americans dies each year from accidental gas poisoning.

Second Man Sentenced in Attack on Officer

Ansell R. Dawson, 28, of 141 Chandler Ave., accused of assault and battery of two Pontiac Police vice squad detectives, was sentenced to 10 days in the Oakland County Jail yesterday when found guilty by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Dawson and Cecil V. Dye, 25, of 26 Mechanic St., were charged Monday after picking a fight with Detective Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt and Detective Herbert C. Cooley in the Central Bar, 12 S. Saginaw St., where the officers had gone to stop a brawl.

Dye, who pleaded guilty yesterday, was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Dawson had pleaded innocent before he was found guilty by Judge Finnegan.

New Hampshire Outlaws Leaflet Scattering by Air

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Crusade for Freedom pamphlets may be dropped behind the Iron Curtain but not on several New Hampshire communites.

Plans to scatter 150,000 leaflets from airplanes as part of a nationwide program yesterday were canceled in Manchester, Concord, Nashua and Portsmouth when police chiefs objected that fluttering paper would be a menace to motorists.

There was no protest from officials in Massachusetts and the promotional project went off as planned.

Calls Road Plan 'Pork Barrel'

Sen. Byrd Claims Ike's $10 Billion Program Is Inflationary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today he is convinced President Eisenhower's 10-billion-dollar highway building program is "just pure pork barrel." Byrd said he would oppose it as inflationary.

And Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), in a separate interview, labeled as "irresponsible financing" the President's plan to earmark for 30 years a portion of federal gasoline and diesel oil taxes for construction of super highways.

But Sen. Case (R-SD), sponsor of a bill to carry out the federal-state program, said Eisenhower has an "open mind" on the controversial issue of how to finance the road modernization plan.

There were indications the President might use the forum of a White House news conference today to expand the views he expressed yesterday in a formal message laying the 10-year program before Congress.

Despite rising opposition, Case said he thinks compromises may be in order. He said he understood Eisenhower would be agreeable to some changes as long as the over-all objective of the program is attained.

Under the Eisenhower program, the federal government share would come to more than 31 billion dollars, with 25 billions of this devoted to a 40,000-mile network of interstate highways. The other six billions plus in federal funds would go for work on roads connecting major cities, on farm-to-market roads, urban streets and highways on federal lands.

To finance the federal slice of the interstate highway cost, Eisenhower proposed establishment of a new federal highway corporation to issue 30-year bonds. These bonds would not be charged against the national debt. They would be paid off from federal gasoline and diesel fuel tax revenues.

IQ, Specific Knowledge Don't Insure Success

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Stanley F. Teele, associate dean of Harvard university's business school, says that "neither intellectual capacity nor specific knowledge alone provide much of a guarantee of success in a profession."

"Performance in those areas," he said in a speech at the University of Michigan, "is determined at least as much by a man's attitude, point of view, emotional maturity or strength of motivation as it is either by his knowledge or his intellectual capacity to think or to use words."

Cancer Is 2nd Killer of Tots

Accidents Head List of Child Fatalities, Doctor Tells Colleagues

CLEVELAND (AP)—More children die from cancer than from any other cause except accidents, Dr. C. Everett Koop of Philadelphia said yesterday.

Dr. Koop, associate professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania, spoke at a convention session of the American College of Surgeons.

He said half the cases of cancer in children were of the central nervous system or eye, or in the circulatory system as leukemia and lymphoma.

In the remaining half of cancer incidence, abdnominal cancer is the chief killer of children, Dr. Koop said.

He urged pediatricians to be more wary of abdominal cancer in routine, well-baby examinations. Dr. Koop said pediatricians often were not alert to the disease. He declared:

"Until they take a different view, little will be done to reduce the present frightful morality. In a conscientious program of abdominal examinations in well-baby clinics, a doctor will not let abdominal tumors slip through his fingers."

Dr. Koop asserted that many children's doctors, suspecting cancer, often took too much time before beginning treatment. He added:

"We have to consider a child with a tumor as critical."

U.S. Ranks Fourth in 1954 Shipbuilding

LONDON (AP)—The United States ranked fourth in the world in merchant shipbuilding last year, trailing Britain, West Germany and Sweden.

Lloyds Register of Shipping last night reported that U.S. shipyards launched 46 vessels, half of them tankers, totaling 476,984 tons. This was 51,323 tons under the 1953 figure.

Britain's total of 253 ships displacing 1,404,874 tons was the largest merchant tonnage launched here since 1930.

Although figures were not available on shipbuilding inside the Soviet Union, West European countries built a total of 54 vessels of 80,441 tons for the Soviet Union.

Hal Boyle Says:

Woman Tests Unusual Appetizers

NEW YORK (AP)—If you don't like to nibble on Mexican fried worms, Mrs. Evelyn Haines won't quarrel with you.

"They taste something like a crisp rice cracker, and make a good conversational tidbit at cocktail time," she said. "But I myself prefer the flavor of Florida rattlesnake meat or French larks stuffed with truffles and goose liver."

Mrs. Haines, a tall, attractive Pennsylvania dutch housewife, has an unusual job. She is a good scout who searches the markets of the world for rare foreign menu items unknown to most American palates. Her own palate has few prejudices, and she feels she has one of the most interesting and enjoyable careers of any woman in America.

"Right now I'm trying to find someone who imports chocolate-covered ants," she said. "They're quite a delicacy in South America, I understand, and I'm very curious to see how they taste."

Other delicacies Mrs. Haines has received orders for, but so far has been unable to fill: Roasted grasshoppers, canned bats from Guam, and French fried bumblebees from Burma.

One customer wanted me to get him some hummingbird tongues, because he had heard the old Roman emperors used to snack on them," she said, smiling. "But I think he was merely trying to send me on a wild goose chase."

Mrs. Haines was launched on her odd career after her employer, Max Hess, head of a department store in Allentown, Pa., returned from a trip abroad convinced his customers might like to try exotic foods they had read about but perhaps never tasted.

Husbands, he soon found, were willing to buy dishes like Japanese boiled quail eggs, but their cautious wives restrained them. They did, that is, until Hess got the idea of having Mrs. Haines open and sample the delicacies before their eyes, and show the wives how to prepare and serve them.

"I had a pretty good background for the job," said Mrs. Haines. "My dad—he was an undertaker—was a gourmet. As a child I got used to eating strange foods such as calves' tonsils and oxtails."

She has found men are far more willing than women to adventure with foreign delicacies. Former servicemen, in particular, like to sample new dishes they ate in other lands during wartime.

"Some people buy things such as the Mexican fried worms only as a gag," she said, "and then are surprised to learn they like them. We've had quite a few repeat orders for worms. They're one of our best-selling items. They look rather like empty black locust shells. But they aren't as tasty, of course, as rattlesnake meat. That tastes rather like veal."

Oher food rarities which Mrs. Haines stocks and tastes, with more or less enjoyment, are dried seaweed and octopus from Japan, canned alligator and muskrat, elk steak, buffalo stew, Chilean hot peppers stuffed with red snapper, canned grouse from Scotland, and Snapish stuffed cuttlefish canned in its own ink.

(The ink tastes fine, but the cuttlefish is more on the order of a rubbery sardine.)

"Sometimes I bring new foods home to let my 80-year-old mother taste them," remarked Mrs. Haines. "She took a bite of rattlesnake, then said:

"Well, I do believe I'd rather have a bottle of beer and a platter of crab patties."

Her husband, a steelworker, refuses to be a guinea pig, sticks stoutly to potatoes, meat and gravy.

Only once has her palate rebelled against Mrs. Haines. That was when she tasted a canned brood of eels in olive oil.

"They are like a nest of small threatds, each about a half inch long," she said. "When I spread them on a cocktail cracker, I could see their little eyes looking up at me . . . Their little black eyes."

After her bout with the infant eels, Mrs. Haines feels sure those chocolate-covered ants will be a welcome appetizer.

Canada Saves Shaft Marking U.S. War

MORRISBURG, Ont. (UP) — Canada plans to save a stone shaft that honors a wartime victory over the United States.

The monument stands near the St. Lawrence River and would be flooded when the seaway is built. Canadians plan to move it 1,000 feet uphill.

The shaft, flanked by two cannon, commemorates the "brave men who fought and fell in the vicinity of Crysler's farm" during the War of 1812.

That was the only time America and Canada were ever at war. A force of 2,000 American soldiers invaded Canada in 1813 to harass the British.

Canadian farmers and militia saw the Americans coming and laid an ambush at a creek on the Crysler farm. They attacked the rear guard and won.

Local delivered price of the 2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster . . . $81.70; Radio & Antenna . . . $92.50.

CHANCES are, you'll be way over if you guess at the local delivered price of a 1955 Buick. Most people are.

And that's easy to understand when you look at a Buick. It's big, broad, roomy—powered for thrilling action. In prestige alone, it would seem to carry a high price tag.

But when you check into things, you discover this surprising fact: Buick is in the nation's top three when it comes to sales volume—and when it comes to low prices that make such huge popularity possible.

The price we show here is one proof of that. And an even bigger one is the soaring success of the 1955 Buick—hottest car in all Buick sales history.

So why miss out on Buick style and power and room and ride when you can have it all if you can afford any new car?

Why do yourself out of the fun and pride and deep satisfaction of bossing a big and brawny beauty like the one pictured here, when the dollars you pay for this Buick buy you so much more sheer automobile?

And why pay extra for things like direction signals, oil-bath air cleaner, full-flow oil filter, automatic lighting in the glove compartment—when such things, and more, are yours in every new Buick as standard equipment at no extra cost?

Drop in for a visit this week and start checking things.

We believe that when you look into this great car—when you see what you get for the low price you pay—and when you discover what happens when you nudge that gas pedal—you'll say it's gospel that Buick's the thrill and the buy of the year, hands down.

Thrill of the year is Buick

Chief Pontiac Buried Here on Apple Island

Whoa, Historians.

Hold everything.

This newspaper files a timid protest with Dr. F. Clever Bald, University of Michigan History instructor. The fact that this same distinguished and eminent academician is also President of the Michigan Historical Society merely makes our anguish the more pointed and poignant.

Dr. Bald suggested to the Lions Club that Chief Pontiac is not buried on Apple Island in Orchard Lake.

Doctor, Doctor. How can you!
Of course, he's buried there.

Nearly 500,000 people in Oakland county know that a stalwart party of sorrowing braves bore the body of their great leader by canoe to Chicago from East St. Louis. Then, they paddled around the Great Lakes to the St. Clair river, down that to Lake St. Clair, and ultimately up the Clinton river to this district.

Thus he was reverently placed in his permanent, official and final resting ground on Apple Island in Orchard Lake.

This is indisputable.
It's a known fact.

We believe Mr. Harold L. Ward of Ottawa Drive possesses a history book which chronicles the the episode beyond peradventure of doubt. Furthermore, Mr. Ward's father, the late Willis Ward has told one of our editors about the affair in some detail, as it was all related to him from pioneer citizens of that area whose veracity, honor and probity were beyond question.

Apple Island and Orchard Lake in whole and in part have belonged to the Ward family almost since Chief Pontiac first donned that necklace of bear claws which his official pictures show around his neck.

We hold the University of Michigan authority in the highest regard. We are practically disciples at his knee. But we are equally firm on Chief Pontiac. Bury Tecumseh where you will. Inter Geronimo in the east or west. Let the powdered bones of Sitting Bull remain beneath the vast and verdant plains.

But Pontiac, we claim.
He's ours.
He's here on into Eternity.
The subject is closed — forever.

Hoover Group Urges More Policy Posts

As its first report indicates, the second Hoover Commission hasn't hesitated to examine the controversial issues of civil service and policy making jobs in Government.

Far from criticizing the institutions of civil service, the commission recommended that more positions be brought into career service status. But it has been quick to recognize difficulties created by the career service's speedy and uneven expansion.

The result has been that the Eisenhower Administration found itself unable to make as many political appointments to policy making jobs as it needs to carry out its programs. To remedy this condition the commission makes three very sensible proposals.

The first is that there be an increase in the number, and improvement in the quality, of non-career employes. Third, the commission is that there be sharper definition of the functions of career and non-career empployes. Third, the commission proposes creation of a senior civil service group of highly paid administrators with special prestige and authority.

These proposals deserve the sympathetic study of Congress. It is logical to believe the country will benefit if the political command can be strengthened without weakening the career service.

Society Shares Blame in Child's Slaying

Prosecutor Ziem is moving promptly in the slaying of nine year old Kathleen McLaughlin.

We hope the Juvenile Court will grant his request and waive jurisdiction over 16 year old, mentally retarded Floyd Diamond who has confessed this horrifying crime.

There seems to be no answer to the case but speedy action to remove the unfortunate lad from society. Prosecutor Ziem obviously believes that trial in Circuit Court is the best means of accomplishing this.

The courts can't control untaught juveniles. These unfortunates only reach Law and Authority when it's too late. Oakland County is blessed with an especially understanding judiciary and a kindly group of law enforcing officers. Unfortunately, some crimes transcend their united efforts. They never have a chance to function. Extreme misfits must receive especial action.

The Man About Town

Boosting Oakland

Home People Too Modest in Telling About County

Henpecking: What sometimes drives a husband to another chicken.

In trying to induce Michigan's thousands of service clubs to get behind plans to observe

Michigan Week, May 15-21,

the sales training expert in charge of the work,

Merrill Graham,

says we are too modest. We do not boost our state like the residents of other states do theirs. Man About Town feels the same way toward residents of Oakland County, which surely has more to brag about than any other county in the entire nation. Let's now make a firm resolution to miss no opportunity, either verbal or written, to boost what we have. We can do it without being elastic with the truth, a common diversion in other areas.

The fellow scribe at the next desk, who drives out from Detroit every day, tells me that he passes a laundry sign in that city: "Why kill yourself washing? Let us do it."

Oakland County Director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, says this will be the greatest year in Michigan's outdoor recreational history. The authority's facilities in this area are nearing their top development and will bring millions in intimate contact with the great outdoors.

R. C. Cummings,

As our pioneers pass away, it is the opinion of

and many others that we are not doing enough toward assembling the historical data that only they can give us. Wish we had more people like

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Going and Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Adams, to mention only a quartet of the few who are doing some work in that line.

As the spring training season draws near,

George Winters,

Pontiac Manager of the Detroit Tigers, predicts nothing above second division.

Rounding out 37 years in the newspaper business,

Henry Congdon,

Publisher of the Oxford Leader, is nominated for the Oakland County record for being the longest continuously on the job.

In spite of his efforts to discard those "W. E. C." initials in front of his name, says they still pursue him although he likes "Ernie" much better.

Ernest Huthwaite

In a conversation some time ago with

Congressman George A. Dondero,

he stated that his home area is not subject to the extremes in temperature, either summer or winter, that they get in Washington, smilingly adding, "It often is torrid in Congress when it's too cold outdoors."

And She'd Better Show Up PDQ!

David Lawrence Says:

Dems Rapidly Becoming Socialistic Party in U. S.

WASHINGTON—There's an even more penetrating way to "share the wealth," as the late Huey Long phrased it, than the Democratic Party leaders have thought of with their $20 cut in taxes for everybody. It's equally logical and it could mean an even bigger potential in vote getting.

Thus there are about 55,000,000 citizens with incomes under $5,000 a year. This is a sizable number of voters and enough to win an election if they vote solely on selfish grounds.

A scheme could be devised to free this entire group from the payment of any federal taxes whatsoever. It would cost the Treasury of the United States, $8.5 billions. But if demagoguery is to be the rule, then there's a simple way to make it up—just increase the taxes on the persons with incomes of $25,000 a year or more.

They're paying $8.7 billions a year already. The addition of $8.5 billions in tax payments would, of course, virtually confiscate the incomes of the most thrifty and the most successful citizens. Confiscation, however, is the eventual goal of the Socialists, and the Democratic Party is rapidly becoming the socialistic party in America anyway.

It so happens that there are about 800,000 taxpayers in this country whose incomes are $25,000 a year or over. They pay more in total taxes than do the 55,000,000 who have incomes under $5,000 a year. They are carrying the heaviest tax burden already.

If the "share the wealth" doctrine is to become dominant, it would mean the eventual destruction of incentive and a consequent drop in the incomes of all persons now earning incomes over $5,000 a year. The goal of communism—as well as of its twin brother, socialism—is to do away with the managerial class or so to weaken its spirit as to cause the whole private-enterprise system to collapse.

Union labor, which has thrived under the system of risk capital, would not be able to get the increases in wages or pension benefits now enjoyed if the management class in America were wiped out as it has been in Soviet Russia or in countries where state capitalism is in vogue.

It is a paradox that the labor-union leaders in America have lined themselves up politically with the Democratic Party, whose latest program confirms a suspicion that the party is bent on imparing the very economic system that has benefited labor so widely. But the rank and file of the workers do not have much to say about the political maneuvers of the labor bosses.

Their dues, which are supposed to be used for union benefits, are applied to pay big salaries to executives of the unions who spend a large part of their time in political activities.

The Democratic Party in the last election said through its leaders that it would support the President and promised also to favor policies of fiscal soundness. But the Democratic-controlled Congress has been here less than two months, and it is becoming crystal clear that such campaign pledges have already been abandoned.

A pattern of strategy is emerging. The Democratic leaders favor more and more spending—more billions for all kinds of socialistic adventures, including a program of government-owned electric-light-and-power projects. They also favor more and more exemptions from taxation for the maximum number of voters.

Both approaches, while contradictory from any standpoint of fiscal soundness, mean a budget unbalanced by a wide margin. Then the Democratic Party spokesman will claim that the Eisenhower administration has failed to balance the budget as promised in 1952.

The Democratic argument was that a depression was coming and that the number of unemployed would increase.

It turns out now that the mild recession was short-lived and that business is booming because, in making 1955 plans, business men have had confidence in the fiscal policies of the Eisenhower administration.

If, however, the budget is to be heavily unbalanced and the Democratic Party in Congress—which never balanced a budget in 20 years—is to continue in power after the next election, the country will experience a real inflation. That would come from a rapid increase in the cost of living and a severe drop in the purchasing power of the dollar.

That threat apparently has no terrors for the Democrats, who are out to win in 1956 by what Representative Daniel Reed of New York, a veteran member of Congress, describes as a scheme for buying the electorate. It remains to be seen whether the electorate can be bought by a $20 tax cut per voter, and whether socialism, as offered by the Democratic Party leadership, is going to be accepted in preference to a sound dollar and a system of private enterprise.

'An Honest Citizen' Believes Policemen Should Not Have to Work on Two Jobs

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Mine is a question which has troubled me for some time. Of late there has been some question regarding City employes. I don't know how we can operate a fair and unbiased Police Department when our policemen are able to work two jobs. One of these jobs must be part time, which one is it? I believe every citizen should be entitled to a free and honest police department.

That our policemen must cater to their part-time employers and show partiality to them when in violation or in need of assistance is a rumor which I have heard. If this is true, let's give our policemen more money so they will not have to seek part-time employment elsewhere.

If available could you reveal the percentage of city policemen who are employed at part-time jobs?

An Honest Citizen

Editor's Note: Perhaps the Police Department could answer your question.

Fluoridate 'Neopit' With Medicine Dropper

"Truth Will Win" pointed out in triumph that the fluoridation machinery broke down in Neopit, Wisconsin and it was never repaired.

Well, sir, this is certainly a very important fact. I went through Neopit once but I couldn't see it very well as a big truck passed me at that moment.

"I'll bet a whole pound of jelly beans no one in Pontiac has ever heard of Neopit. I challenge the whole statement, anyway. They wouldn't need machinery to fluoridate their water.

They could fix two years' supply with a medicine dropper and let every home sprinkle all summer both years.

More Truth Will Win More

Believes $1.50 Plenty to Pay for Haircut

I understand that one county and a portion of another county in California are to raise the price of $1.50 haircuts. Perhaps $1.75 will be the price after March 15, and it is not far from $1.75 to $2.

We wouldn't be so unwise as to say that the prices of the 25 cent haircut and a dime for a shave should prevail now; certainly not, but it seems that $1.50 is high enough.

There seems to be a proneness to raise rather than lower prices at the present time. Barbers should have their raise but not an excessive raise. If it soars too high, some of us might be obliged to let our hair last another week or cut our own.

Of course, wage earners of the present time, I suppose, do not mind high priced haircuts, but the fellow who does not get high wages feels the pinch somewhat and, after all, a person with self respect does not like to look too much below the average.

A Self Respecter

'Let Unemployed Eat Nation's Surplus Foods'

Our army of men in the Marine Corps and Air Force draw their food from the nation's food supply. The army of unemployed men, who are able-bodied and willing to work but who cannot get a job because they are too "old," should be able to draw their food from the $7 billion worth of surplus foods stored in government warehouses. The cost of storing this food is expensive and, incidentally, is paid by these same men who are taxpayers. Let no one go hungry.

Should Fine Dog Owners When Pet Bites Person

I think that a person, who lets a dog run loose forgetting all about it and it bites someone, should be made to pay a fine or put on probation if he cares enough about the dog to keep it.

When dog owners take proper care of their dogs, keeping them penned up and away from other dogs, the pets are usually healthy and maybe don't need rabies shots. People who appreciate their pets take them to a vet when they think they need medical attention.

Sometimes I wonder why dog owners who observe all these good health rules about their pets and hunting dogs have to pay dog taxes, especially when I see so many loose cats in our neighborhood.

They are natural predatory animals and will kill just for the pleasure of killing. If the hunters in Oakland County have complained about not seeing so many rabbits or pheasants last fall maybe the answer is—too many cats on the loose.

If anyone cares enough about a cat, he should be willing to pay a license fee for it. People have complained about our dogs barking but it is usually at other loose dogs and cats. I wonder if those same people have ever been awakened by a tom cat prowling at night. I have and it sounds like a child in distress or perhaps even worse.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Bachelor-at-arms Martin is sure no gavaleer Bayard. He says he never got married because he never was tempted.

Joe, that's a slap in the makeup for some beautiful hostesses. And we do mean Perle and Claire.

A man isn't tempted when he gets married. The temptations arrive about ten years later.

We didn't wonder why a Republican stays single during a Democratic administration. He doesn't make enough to put in separate income returns.

But being a bachelor is pretty much like living the life of a rustler on the old Chisolm Trail. You save yourself a lot of trouble joining a posse.

What do you think of a bachelor who says, "The right girl never asked me?"

Case Records of a Psychologist

Don't Fear Day You Need False Teeth . . . They Often Improve on Originals

Beth's fear isn't limited to the female sex, though more women grow upset about it than do men. But thousands of husbands likewise worry secretly when they feel they are giving up their barometers of youth and virility. Face this problem intelligently and you can banish fears.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-357: Beth D., aged 47, faces a common problem.

"Dr. Crane, I never took care of my teeth properly in my youth," she admitted, "so now I am about ready for false teeth.

"My dentist says I should have my few remaining teeth removed and get new dentures.

"But I can't bear the thought of losing all my natural teeth. It makes me feel old and on the shelf.

"I've cried about it for weeks. In fact, I am driving my husband almost crazy. So he says we must have a showdown, which is why I've come to you for some positive psychology."

Beth's upset state is very common, especially among women, for they view their teeth as a badge of youth and physical charm.

But many men also debate, like Hamlet, in futile fashion, over the decision to get false teeth.

This fear of losing our symbols of youth is one reason why women formerly went into a mental collapse at the menopause. They felt that the stoppage of their uterine function dated them as being old, on the shelf, etc.

It is high time we used more horse sense regarding ourselves. The human body is not adapted to meet all the situations in life. Thus, our feet cannot stand sharp stones or intense cold, so God Almighty planted a unique brain in our skulls by which we could make countless improvements on our physical body.

As a result, we have added snowshoes and skis, plus ice skates and roller skates, as well as tennis shoes, galoshes, and dozens of other coverings for our feet. In fact, we have even added iron shoes to protect the horse's hoof, too.

When we break a leg, our brain permits us to substitute a wooden crutch to serve in lieu of that fractured limb.

When our eyes grow farsighted, we can remedy that defect with eye glasses.

Hearing aids likewise permit us to restore defective hearing to millions. And dentists are giving wonderful cosmetic improvement as well as better health, to millions of people of Beth's age.

False teeth often make you look better than you did with your original teeth. So we should be grateful that God has endowed us with a brain that lets us improve our body.

In fact, God didn't coat our skins with scales or feathers or thick fur, for he must have foreseen that we human beings would like to shed or molt faster than a hen or a wild animal.

So our brain lets us use the fur of animals for clothing, plus cotton and linen from plants, as well as nylon from coal, etc.

If we experience a prematurely hot spell in spring, we can shed our winter underwear and even adopt a bathing suit, all in 5 minutes of time.

But a hen or furry creature can't adjust rapidly to such quick alterations in temperature.

The human male and female were also created anatomically so they can satisfy each other sexually!

As a result, our human brain has been forced to evolve an improvement in that realm, too, in order to prevent divorce and keep a couple contented in monogamous marriage through their Golden Wedding Day.

Send for my medico-psychological bulletin "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. If you wish to learn this new invention of the human brain to improve on our marital behavior.

By giving us a brain, God made us his own children so we can thus become miracle workers, too, in each new generation.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Bad Effects of Smoking Due to Carbon Monoxide

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Anoxia means without oxygen, oxygen lack, insufficient oxygen, oxygen deficit in the cells, tissues and organs. Sometimes physicians refer to anoxia in a particular area, say in vital brain centers or the heart muscle, as ischemia. Then there is the older, more familiar term, asphyxia, which means literally no throb, no breathing, suffocation.

The importance of anoxia is indicated by the fact that some good physicians today believe angina pectoris (breast pang) is due to anoxia in the area of the heart (muscle) to which a branch of the coronary artery delivers or should deliver, oxygen via the blood, of course.

The best and quickest relief for anginal distress is nitroglycerin, a tablet containing 1-100th of a grain placed under the tongue, which is absorbed and acts as quickly as any hypodermic injection can be; nitroglycerin relieves the distress by relaxing, dilating or opening up the contracted coronary artery branch or rather its smallest terminals (arterioles), thus permitting delivery of the needed oxygen to the heart muscle.

It may be true, although I have never seen evidence of it, that nicotine in tobacco accounts for the ill effects of excessive smoking. Chemical analyses show that various kinds of tobacco contain from 1 to 5 or 6 per cent of nicotine, whereas chemical analyses of tobacco smoke show little or no nicotine—the nicotine in the tobacco is destroyed by combustion. But this trifling discrepancy doesn't worry the old timers at all. Once they have pronounced an opinion, you had better swallow it without question. Otherwise you're likely to get a kick in the teeth.

There are many reports of ill effects of excessive use of tobacco in current medical literature, in most instances from cigarette smoking, in some instances from cigar smoking, but only rarely from pipe smoking and I cannot recall that I have ever seen or read of a case of serious ill effects from chewing tobacco. Not that the habit of chewing is to be commended if one associates with human beings, but if the old timers are right and the chemists are not kidding, a fellow who decides to take a chew of tobacco ought to make his will and call the coroner first.

What really accounts for the ill effects of smoking, as the scientific evidence indicates, is the carbon monoxide in the smoke, or to state it precisely, the anoxia produced by inhalation of even a minute quantity of carbon monoxide. This holds true whether it be the awful sickness many youngsters suffer from their first adventure in smoking or the condition called thrombo . angiitis obliterans (Buerger's disease) which is probably due to excessive cigarette smoking, although physicians have reported cases in non-smokers.

The blood of normal individuals in industrial communities contains a small amount of carbon monoxide, about 1.5 per cent saturation, but the blood of smokers in the same community contains from 3 to 6 per cent saturation. As a rule no noticeable symptoms of anoxia occur until carbon monoxide saturation of the blood reaches 10 per cent, and then the individual feels tightness across the forehead, slight headache, flushing of the skin. Time for the smoking hog to quit hogging it, get out in the open air and to the B.B. exercise. As described in "How to Breathe," for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Science Finds Mid 70's Best for Mental Labor

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (UP) — Science has found out that persons engaged in mental work are at their best when the temperature reading is about the middle 70's.

A recent study of office workers performing their tasks at varying degrees of temperature showed that efficiency dropped rapidly when the mercury went up because the atmosphere was unable to absorb the extra heat generated by the body.

In the average vineyard, each acre contains from 50 to 80 vines.

Coed Launders Bat Hair During Research Project

LOS ANGELES (UP)—No joking—Frances Benedict of the University of California at Los Angeles has a job shampooing bat hairs.

Miss Benedict, a graduate student in zoology, performs this odd task as part of her research which is concerned with the size and scale structure of bat hairs.

Because particles are apt to lodge under the scales which make up the outer part of the hair, she shampoos the hair prior to the study to remove the particles.

Scale structure of bats distinguishes their genera.

Churchill Joins Retirement Talk

Adopts New Philosophy About Once Hush-Hush Topic of Conversation

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill has adopted a new philosophical attitude to all this talk about his retiring as prime minister. He has joined in the talk himself.

Not many months back even closest associates dared only to drop delicate hints in sounding out the unpredictable "old man."

Now he frequently brings the subject up himself. And he gives the impression there's nothing than the quiet life away from high public office.

But there is a suspicion that it's just talk—and he has only deepened the bewilderment of political friend and foe.

With election talk in the air they are more interested than ever to know just what he intends to do.

One thing is certain: Churchill is still guiding British government policy, both at home and abroad.

Now in the third month of his 80th year, he still has shown no signs of relinquishing this leadership, at least while in office.

It's made easy for him, however, as he thinks the same in foreign affairs as his political heir-apparent Sir Anthony Eden, and in domestic affairs as Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler.

The Prime Minister looks physically fit for his years. And he's still looking ahead.

He made that clear during short but sharp skirmishes with Laborite critics in the House of Commons only last week.

A Socialist suggested inviting President Eisenhower to London or that Churchill should go to Washington to discuss the international situation, particularly Formosa.

Churchill retorted quickly:

"The President has long known how glad we should be to welcome him in our country to which he has had cordial invitation. I have in fact been to see him three times in the U.S. or in Bermuda since he was elected President and I would glady go again if the occasion was opportune, but I must be the judge of that."

Big Four talks? Yes, he still favored them but not until after ratification of the Paris agreements providing for rearming West Germany.

The old man's tone and manner did not give the impression of a prime minister thinking of immediate retirement.

Yet the time is nearing when he faces a decision, especially if the government decides to call a general election this year.

The Churchill regime's present term has until October 1956 to run —but he can set an election before then and there's talk he may do so this fall.

Churchill reportedly tells intimates that he would like to get away to relax—painting, writing, and just strolling in the gardens of Chartwell, his country estate.

Award Psychiatrist Highest Paid Post

LANSING (AP) — The highest-paying job in the history of Michigan state government will go to a Miami psychiatrist.

The state and Wayne University today chose Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb to head the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit.

The job will pay $25,000 a year, more than Gov. Williams' annual salary of $22,500. The state created a special Civil Service rating for the post to attract quality candidates.

Gottlieb is currently professor of psychiatry at the University of Miami and director of the psychiatric institute of the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami.

Charles F. Wagg, director of the Mental Health Department, said Gottlieb's background is "very well rounded." He was chosen from among 22 candidates.

The clinic, operated jointly by the Mental Health Department and Wayne University, will serve as a center for psychiatric training and research.

New Mexico Hits Religion in School

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—The New Mexico attorney general has ruled nondenominational, nonsectarian religious meetings held weekly at Roswell High School are "constitutionally objectionable."

The opinion, handed down yesterday, said, "Only the principle is clear, church and state must be kept separate. At what stage fusion becomes constitutionally objectionable depends upon that particular situation."

But in the Roswell case, it continued, "the students know that on Wednesday morning at 8:15 a.m., religious services will be held upon their public school grounds."

Air Force Beefs Up West Pacific Force

HONOLULU (AP)—Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, Pacific Air Force commander, indicated last night the Pacific air arm is being strengthened to meet any Communist threat from Hawaii to Southeast Asia.

Smith told the Hawaii reserve officers: "For obvious reasons I am unable to detail for you the Air Force units that are now and will be transferred to my command . . . However, we will possess those forces necessary to maintain a military position against Communist aggression, including air defense forces for U.S. positions in the Pacific."

Sen. Jackson Urges Administration to Draw Comprehensive Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), claiming that "a lot of valuable time has been lost," today urged the Eisenhower administration to submit at once a comprehensive civil defense plan.

"I don't think we have any such plan now," he said in an interview. "Yet it is a year and a half since the Russians first exploded a thermo-nuclear device, and a year since our own big H-bomb test at Bikini.

"We know perfectly well now there is going to be total destruction at the center of any target area where such a bomb is exploded."

Jackson is a member of an Armed Services subcommittee which yesterday opened a series of hearings on civilian defense problems.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming, speaking for the administration, told the subcommittee yesterday a special group like the Hoover Commission should be set up to study all aspects of civil defense in the light of new developments.

The Atomic Energy Commission reported last week that deadly radioactive fallout from a hydrogen bomb like that tested in the mid-Pacific last year could contaminate an area of roughly 7,000 square miles — about the size of New Jersey.

Dr. Flemming said such a commission as he proposed should report by May 15 so this session of Congress could act on its recommendations.

But Jackson declared "there is no need for any study groups" because "we have the facts about the problem we need to know."

He said the heart of the civilian defense problem is quick evacuation of cities, and then the provision of shelter, food and other supplies for uprooted populations.

"The most important thing," he said, "is a system of superhighways leading in and out of every major city in America.

"All cities will have to build them eventually. But, in the light of the civilian defense problem, we must start right now."

Jackson said the federal government would have to make large grants to get the program rolling. He suggested it might tie in with President Eisenhower's proposal for a vast 101-billion-dollar highway building program.

Kefauver Sure Senate Will OK 50 Pct. Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kefauver voiced confidence today that the Senate—"by a substantial majority"—will approve a 50 per cent boost in pay for members of Congress.

Kefauver, floor manager for the bill, said in an interview he thinks there are 60 or more votes for the bill. He said he thinks all the amendments proposed will be beaten.

A time limit on the debate appeared to insure final action late in the day.

That would send the measure to conference with the House, which earlier okayed a congressional pay hike to $25,000 yearly. The Senate bill provides for $22,500. Both contain comparable increases for federal judges.

Both bills would retain the present $3,000 exemption for income tax purposes which Congress has voted its members. The theory is that this repays them in part for the expense of maintaining two residences.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore), who upset plans of Senate leaders to rush the bill through last Monday, has put in a series of amendments.

One would boost the special tax emption to $5,000. Others would increase the funds congressmen now get for office staffs and their expenses.

Morse also seeks to require publication of the names and pay of all congressional employes. This information now is available on staffs of House members but not on senators, unless authorized by individual senators.

TRAGIC MARRIAGE—British police are investigating the claims of two young orphans that they married and had two children before learning they were brother and sister. Marjorie Hughes, 24 and Geoffrey Hughes, 26, are shown above in Hereford, Eng., with one of their children prior to their separation five months ago, when they learned of their blood relationship. The tragedy began in 1934 when their parents died and they were sent to separate orphan homes, where they grew up unknown to each other.

Zhukov Lashes U.S. in Address

Accuses Americans of Openly Planning War Against Soviet, China

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Russia's new defense minister, today accused "United States monopolists" of "preparing openly a new war" against Russia, Red China and their allies. He made the charge in an order of the day for Soviet Army and Navy Day.

Zhukov, wartime friend of President Eisenhower, said the "monopolists" head "aggressive forces in imperialist countries" who are "setting up political groups and military blocs and exerting every effort to resurrect German militarism."

He declared today's Army and Navy Day celebration is being held in an "atmosphere of successful struggle for fulfillment and overfulfillment of the fifth five-year plan, further powerful development of heavy industry as the basis of the upsurge of all branches of the national economy, and of the consolidation of the might of the Soviet state and the growth and well-being of our people."

His emphasis on heavy industry was in line with recent speeches by other leading government officials and newspaper editorials.

17-Hour Ordeal in Snow Fatal to Ohio Motorist

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Frank Shields, 50, of Painesville, Ohio, who was trapped in his car for 17 hours after it crashed in a snowstorm, died yesterday of pneumonia and internal injuries.

Shields' auto hit a tree Feb. 10 and overturned. Snow quickly covered it, and it appeared to be a large boulder to passing motorists. A farmer found Shields and took him to a hospital.

Dismembered Bodies Found

Corpses of 2 Brothers Unearthed in Houston; Mother Sought

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Packages holding the dismembered bodies of two small boys were unearthed last night by a 19-year-old youth.

Police say the bodies are those of the 9 and 8-year-old sons of Mrs. Ann Williams, 28-year-old 10-cent store clerk of suburban Pasadena, who has been missing six days.

Clayton Johnson Jr. said Mrs. Williams, a friend of the Johnson family, had asked permission to dump packages of spoiled venison behind his father's garage. He volunteered to bury them.

Johnson said he returned about nine hours later with a friend and dug up the packages after learning that Mrs. Williams and the boys had been missing since last Thursday.

Galveston County Deputy Sheriff Curt Monceaux told the Galveston Daily News he planned to file double charges of murder against Mrs. Williams.

Justice of the Peace A. M. Hickey returned a verdict of murder in the death of each of the boys. He said they had been dead three or four days.

Mrs. Williams, a slim, quiet-mannered brunette, has been living at a Pasadena tourist court in suburban Houston with the two boys, Calvin, 9 and Conrad, 8.

Pasadena police said the boys' father Hoyt J. Williams is serving a three-year sentence in federal prison in Atlanta, Ga., for interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

Police said Mrs. Williams had told friends she might go to Fairmont, W.Va., to talk with the judge who sentenced her husband last month, that she had expressed hope a personal interview might persuade the judge to reduce the sentence.

GOOD GROOMING

. . . is an indefinite quality and probably means something a little different to each of us. But basically, we will no doubt agree it can be defined as that polished, cared for look. The hair is an important part of our good grooming and fortunately there is much we can do about it.

To be attractive, the hair must be smooth, elastic, and have a natural luster and be becomingly dressed. The brush will do more than any other one thing to keep the hair lustrous and manageable.

The soft sheen of healthy hair, well cared for, must not be mistaken for the high artificial shine produced by many shampoos.

Some vegetable rinses rob the hair of its natural gloss and elasticity. Mild soap, soft water, good hair cream, daily use of the brush and a good permanent properly given is the surest way to that lovely hair you dream of. Let us help you to a lovelier head of hair.

"Have a stuffed vine leaf," says Barbara Bryant to Janet Odell, Pontiac Press Food Editor. Barbara Steckling offers Kugelhopf, a rich cake, and Karen Eicher holds a plate of Flaksrulader, a Swedish meat and fruit dish. All the girls live in Westacres and are members of Girl Scout Troop 205 which held an international dinner in honor of Thinking Day Tuesday.

Scouts Invite Food Editor to Dinner

By JANET ODELL

Twenty young ladies asked us to have dinner with them Tuesday evening. Girl Scout Troop 205 of Westacres held an international dinner in honor of Thinking Day.

While Feb. 22 is an American holiday, it has special significance for all Girl Scouts.

It is the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, the founders of Boy and Girl Scouting and is the day when Girl Scouts give special thought to Scouts all over the world.

We had Swedish Flaksrulader (pork stuffed with prunes); Dolmades (stuffed grape leaves), Hungarian goulash, Hawaiian salad, Greek bread and German Kugelhopf (a rich cake). Our digestive system, seemingly international, accepted all this with pleasure.

All but one of the eleven and twelve year olds prepared alone or helped prepare the dishes they brought. There was a wide variety.

We might have chosen Danish Beef, John Mosetta (an Italian noodle dish) or Italian spaghetti. Other salads offered included three varieties of French and one Italian salad, also a smorgasbord salad.

As would be expected, the dessert section drew the girls more than once. Most popular was the plate of French chocolate eclairs (at their age, they can eat two or more desserts like this!)

The German cake had been baked in a special fluted ring pan and was a picture-pretty dish. A carved Swiss plate held Swiss cookies, while English crumpets and Danish nut torte were offered beside it.

If none of these pleased the diner, Apfelkuchen (German apple cake) and English Trifle were there for the taking.

We were impressed with the girls' willingness to try these unusual foreign dishes. Some, of course, only tasted the concoctions they chose. None of us were sure we liked pickled grape leaves stuffed with rice, spices and pine nuts. The Greek olives were less popular than olives usually are.

In addition to this array of foreign food, the girls brought foreign articles to display. These ranged from a hand made, German pewter coffee pot a hundred and fifty years old to 1955 imports.

There was an Irish linen damask napkin from the trousseau of an 1812 bride.

Some girl's mother contributed the menu from the SS Europa in 1937, a souvenir of her trip abroad. All the girls were intrigued with the Japanese coloring book, brought home no doubt by a GI father.

There were cups and saucers from Denmark, Japan and Mexico. From France came a Faience butter spreader and knife rest.

The history of this Faience ware goes back to the time of Louis XIV who confiscated all the gold for his treasury and left the nobles no choice but to put pottery handles on their table ware.

We were given one of the fragrant bunches of Scotch heather that had been a centerpiece. We don't need it as a reminder of a pleasant evening.

The young girls dressed in costumes of their ancestors, eating an international dinner and displaying the culture of the world in harmonious mixture are unforgettable. Mrs. David Eicher, troop leader, Mrs. John Harlow, her assistant, and the entire troop committee, headed by Mrs. John Ashby, are to be congratulated.

LAURETTA FISHER

Mrs. Robert Bailey of Auburn Heights announces the engagement of her daughter, Lauretta Ann Fisher to Samuel Coffelt, son of Mrs. Robert Rogers of Davis Court.

MARILYN J. LeBLANC

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence LeBlanc of Clifford are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Jean, to Wade Johnson Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Johnson of West Rundell street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Beverly Mead Is Married

In a double-ring ceremony in St. Michael Church, Beverly Mead became the bride of Eugene Janes.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mead of Whitfield street and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Janes of Lockhaven road.

Mrs. Richard Eyman, the bride's sister was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Alma Ansman of Detroit and Judy Ohngren.

Edward Janes was best man for his brother and seating the guests were Roy Janes Jr., Gordon Janes, Edward Mead and Robert Mead.

The wedding breakfast was held in Hotel Waldron and Gingellville Community Center was the setting for the reception. The newlyweds will reside in Berkley.

Silver Tea Held in Lempke Home

The Anna Gordon Circle of WCTU held a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Fred Lempke on Judson court, in commemoration of Frances Willard.

Mrs. George Perkins of Royal Oak gave a reading at the recent gathering and also sang a solo. Speakers included Mrs. John Little, Mrs. Eleah Patten and Mrs. George Perkins.

Two Leaving for Israel Honored

Mrs. Stenbuck, Mrs. Newhouse Leave Today

Mrs. Sol Newhouse and Mrs. Herman Stenbuck, who left today for a trip to Israel, were honored at a reception given by the Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah in Temple Beth Jacob Monday evening.

The program opened with Mrs. David Utley, president of the organization, greeting the guests and wishing the honorees farewell.

Mrs. Irving Schlyfestone, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Sylvia Serwin of Detroit, formerly of Pontiac, who sang several Israeli songs dedicated to their coming trip.

A message from Rabbi Sanford Saperstein of Temple Beth Jacob related that the trip is symbolic since Mrs. Stenbuck and Mrs. Newhouse had once gone together to Williamsburg, Va., which is the "cradle of American liberty" portrayed and frozen there as a symbol.

"It is only right and symbolic that they should now take a trip together to Israel, the Fountainhead of Religion and Liberty," said Rabbi Saperstein.

Meyer Simon, president of Congregation B'nai Israel, also wished them well. He elaborated on their great efforts and work in Hadassah. He stated the emancipation and rehabilitation work being done by Hadassah and said they are building a new land in Israel; a new civilization on an old foundation.

The program concluded with community singing led by Mrs. Serwin and Mrs. James Rosenthal. Mrs. Newhouse is past president of Hadassah.

Mrs. Ellen Boyd and Mary Parker were hostesses and Beverly Graham of Lake Orion was a guest.

White Buttons Brighten Dress

Spruce up a favorite black or navy dress, by stitching four, five or six white buttons of varying sizes here and there on right shoulder.

Use dark thread for sewing buttons. Then embroider stems and leaves from each button to make spray of "flowers."

You can do the embroidery work as well as attach the buttons with a sewing machine. Button bouquet is pretty, too, on a full skirt.

Black Chiffon Back

Black chiffon is back for evening, in both short and long versions. It's touched up with velvet for pretty contrast.

MARILYN HEWES

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hewes of Voorheis road announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn to James S. Konkle, son of Mrs. Greta Konkle of Boston avenue and Emerson Konkle of Detroit.

Winds Blow Cold in Sunny Florida

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI—Sitting around the fireplace was the main pastime this week—yes, right here in sunny South Florida.

Mercury took a nose dive down to 35 degrees—and that's cold for Miamians — they were shivering. Even the northerners admitted it was cold.

The sun's out again and there's enough crispness in the air to make you want to get outside on the golf course, the tennis court, or just taking a stroll through a tropical garden.

The typical Florida sun shone brightly last Tuesday to greet Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eames on their arrival in Hollywood.

And again Wednesday when they drove to Miami's International airport to meet Mr. Eames' sister, Mrs. George McFarlane of Toronto. She'll be here with the Eames for three weeks.

And arriving Thursday were the Eames' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Thompson.

After Hollywood they'll drive down to the Florida keys for a week of fishing at the Ocean Reef Club on Key Largo.

While the Thompsons are there, Mr. and Mrs. Eames will drive down to join them for a day. And on their way through Miami, they'll stop by to see Mr. & Mrs. Clinton Parr and hear about the Parrs' new house now being built.

From their Fort Lauderdale vacation spot, Mr. and Mrs. David Edstrom packed up their traveling clothes for two weeks of island hopping.

With Miami so close to the Caribbean islands, vacationers can take in plenty of the sights of Jamaica, Haiti, Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico in a two-week journey—and that's what the Edstroms are doing.

Miami portion of their winter's vacation ends this weekend for Sunday they'll drive across the state to spend six weeks in St. Petersburg. There they'll see her brother and sister-in-law, the W. R. Streeters of Dearborn, Mich.

In Miami, they've been seeing other Michigan friends—Mrs. C. A. Sinks of Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. Claire Titus of Rochester.

The E. J. Fraumanns of Pontiac have been enjoying Miami's off-again, on-again tropical weather. They've been getting together with the D. S. Higgasons, who go up to Pontiac each summer.

A former Pontiac resident living right next door to the Higgasons in Miami is Mrs. George Anderson. Recent visitors at the Anderson home were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hergenreader of Kingston, who have a cottage at Walled Lake. They and their grandson, Richard Stowoski spent a few weeks here.

Mrs. Anderson gets together frequently with her sister, Mrs. Richard Felster of Ferndale. She's here for the year while daughter, Ina, attends freshman classes at the University of Miami.

Driver Gives Up Rides to Town

MEDINA, Tenn. — A familiar combination of ancient auto and aged driver is missing from the streets of Medina these days.

Mrs. Mattie Seat, 83, recently developed eye cataracts and had to give up driving "Precious," a model-A Ford she purchased in 1929. But she said she will be back behind the wheel just as soon as she has an eye operation.

"Precious" is the name residents here gave the car. It has hauled nearly everyone in this small western Tennessee town to church at one time or another.

Mrs. Seat has been the church organist since she was 12.

The car may be old, she said, but except for the battery, temporarily run down, it's clean as a whistle and in top operating condition.

GOLDIE STRINGER

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Bondale avenue announce the engagement of their niece, Goldie Stringer to Bob McCallum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCallum of Lyford street. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mike Stringer of Capac. A fall wedding is planned.

Outdoor-Indoor Designs Herald Spring's Promise

NEW YORK (INS)—Spring is not very far away—so raise your standard of outdoor living before the annual spring fever "virus" hits.

The most economical furniture to buy is the outdoor-indoor, convertible type. Buy chairs upholstered in fabrics that will weather storms but still look pretty and can be used inside the home.

Take advantage of those wonderful spring evenings by investing in a few "convertible" lamps. With proper lighting outdoor meals, reading and even bridge parties are all possible.

One of the newest models has a stake-base that can be driven into the ground so lamps can be placed anywhere and in any arrangement. For indoor use the stake fits into a stand.

Seam Binding Ends Hem Line Troubles

You can put an end to hem line problems in circular skirts by following this tip. When making a circular skirt—or to remedy dipping in one you now wear—first, set hem line straight.

Then stitch lengths of seam binding from waist to hem on all seams to hold hem permanently in line through washing or dry cleaning.

Contour Sheets Require Special Hint on Folding

Folding fitted contour sheets can be a bit baffling at first attempt but there are simple steps that make the process much easier.

The sheet should be removed from the dryer or line while it is still a little damp. This will eliminate curled selvages.

Fold the sheet in half lengthwise, selvage to selvage and right side out. Tuck pockets of one side into pockets of the other side and the sections of the sheet which cover the two sides of the mattress will then fold over smoothly.

The fitted sheet which is designed for a double bed measures about 27 inches wide after this process is completed and can be put through a regular size ironer without further folding.

If your ironer has a shorter shoe or you are using a hand iron, fold the sheet again lengthwise.

After ironing, bring the ends to the middle and fold to the required size for your linen closet storage space.

Patriotic Program Is Given

Junior American Citizens Club of Malkim School presented its 5th annual patriotic celebration Tuesday at the school.

The club, sponsored by DAR is the only school club accepted by the United States Congress.

A play entitled, Malkim School 1865" was presented by the club for sixth grade parents. A tea followed.

The purpose of the play was to show how pupils attending classes on the Malkim School site about 100 years ago would celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.

Cast members used the names of known early settlers in the area and authentic props were used to carry out the historical theme.

Included in their play was excerpts from the life of Lincoln, a choral reading on the Gettysburg Address and a recitation on Lincoln.

The life of George Washington was told in the recitations of five students.

After the play a meeting of the club was held to show the parents its aims and purposes which include the teaching of the fundamentals of American government and patriotism.

Rosamond Haeberle conducted a program of patriotic music.

Child Study Club Hears Police Official

Detective Sergeant Farrell Babcock of the Michigan State Police was guest speaker Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Bruce Hubbard opened her home on Cherokee road to members of Child Study Club Group Three.

"Narcotics and Alcohol With Relation to Teen-agers," was the subject discussed by Sergeant Babcock, who was introduced by the hostess.

The speaker pointed out that the problems of narcotics and alcohol are always preceded by the problem of delinquency. He said, "The juvenile delinquent of today is the potential criminal of tomorrow.

"He is not born with a tendency to be a criminal but is the product of an environment where someone has failed in the proper training."

He listed the broken home, indolent parents, lack of understanding, intemperance, failure to set good examples in the home and the absence of love and religion as some of the major causes of delinquency.

Sergeant Babcock discussed and exhibited some of the different types of narcotics and concluded by cautioning parents to be on the alert, for the narcotic problem is always a potential threat.

During the business meeting Mrs. Robert Knight and Mrs. Donald Hausen were elected to membership. A floral arrangement of red and white tulips, flanked by blue tapers on the refreshment table carried out the patriotic theme suggested by George Washington's birthday. Mrs. William Hurlburt presided at the tea table.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Carl Bird, Mrs. Milton Hathaway, Mrs. Charles Rogers and Mrs. E. W. McGovern.

Mrs. Floyd Smith announced that the annual meeting and luncheon will be held March 22 at Haven Hill Lodge.

Some People Just Can't Be Heroes

MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

For all I know to the contrary, I may be one of the bravest people alive. I may even be of the stuff that earns medals of honor. It's a lovely thought that anyone can hug to his bosom if like me, he has never walked into a situation from which he must emerge definitely either hero or coward.

A man who has been excessively tested in this way is a motion picture production manager named Oren Haglund who became a hero for the fourth time the other day when at considerable risk to himself he saved the life of a stunt man by blocking his 30-foot fall from a catwalk.

This Haglund apparently attracts dramatic situations the way bee-balm draws humming birds. On one occasion he pulled actress Geraldine Fitzgerald from the path of a runaway horse.

On another he snatched an actor practically from under the wheels of a speeding truck. That time he was hurt slightly. When he was able to get around again he rescued actress Kathryn Grayson from a charging elephant. I've thought that perhaps his proneness to be in a place where things happen to other people may be an occupational hazard.

For while there is hardly ever an elephant or a catwalk where I am, there certainly are plenty of trucks and now and then horses, yet I have never had a chance to save a life nor have I ever seen anybody else do it.

At least not if I don't count the night I entered my kitchen and saw flames leaping out from a gas oven and scorching the eyebrows of a friend who was playing chef.

The friend reports that I stood wringing my hands while a grocery delivery boy who luckily had arrived one minute earlier put out the fire. But of course, nobody knows what I'd have done if the boy hadn't been there.

I suspect it's best for my peace of mind that I don't get tested often by such emergencies. Even as it is, I am a good deal like a young woman I know who has gone through life suspecting that her instincts are basically anything but heroic.

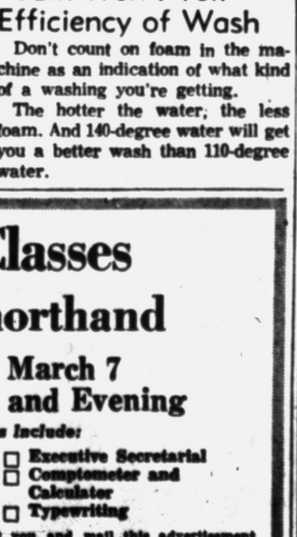
When this woman was 14 and had just sewed proudly onto her bathing suit a Junior Life Saver emblem awarded by the Red Cross, she went swimming.

As she was about to climb onto the float, a little girl within a few feet of her got into serious difficulties and, panic stricken, started to thrash around and call for help.

The Junior Life Saver took one look at the child in distress and swam like mad in the opposite direction. Safely away, she started to shriek at the lifeguard and point. The lifeguard made the rescue so all was well with everybody except the humiliated Junior Life Saver.

Remembering her experience and that kitchen incident, I guess I'll just give thanks that my occupation seldom offers me the chance to be a heroine.

IF good figure—



Well-cut dress with an uncluttered line is the beautiful simplicity to show off a good figure.

Miss G. F.—An antidote to the February doldrums is the fresh, spring-like look of a kid lined cardigan coat over a lightweight gabardine dress. To give a dressed up feeling to the costume, dress has a scooped neckline and brief sleeves.

Foam Won't Tell Efficiency of Wash

Don't count on foam in the machine as an indication of what kind of a washing you're getting.

The hotter the water, the less foam. And 140-degree water will get you a better wash than 110-degree water.

Wants Rule for Steady Dating

Suggests Weekend Plans Should Be Something Special

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

You want somebody to go places and do things with. You want someone to like you best. You want everybody to know you've made a conquest. You want someone to moon over, someone to dream of, someone to brag about. So you agree to go steady.

You pledge yourself to love, honor and cherish—and not look at anyone else. You promise not to date anyone but the one and only. You agree to pay no attention to anyone who might be considered a rival. You're linked together privately and publicly for as long as the deal lasts.

And that all sounds fine in theory. The trouble is that some of you get tied up in a steady deal without really knowing what you're in for and what's expected of you. As this girl did.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I ned some rules for both the boy and girl to remember when you're going steady. I get quite a lot of criticism because of things I do and don't do! I love my boy friend very much but sometimes he can be very jealous over things I do and say. I'd like to know what he should expect of me and what I should expect of him. Please hurry!"

If you live near enough you should expect to see each other every weekend. A date every night in the week is too much of a good thing. And no dates at all makes of going steady a hollow sham.

Make each date a specific event. Something planned instead of just killing time together. Glad to see each other, all spruced up and on your best behavior.

Don't kid yourself into thinking your steady will love you forever—no matter what you do. You can't play childish tricks, go in for heavy teasing, be insulting or high-handed—and expect said love to stick.

This rules out telling little white lies, trying to pull the wool over the eyes, playing kittenish and hard to get, squabbling for the sake of making up, trying to hurt out of a misplaced sense of power.

You don't have the right to criticize and find fault and say exactly what you think all of the time. Neither of you can control the other's behavior, opinions or habits. Neither of you is likely to change just to please the other, either.

Both of you should respect your dating arrangement and each other. No horsing round to stir up jealousies.

And there's even more you should expect of each other, and it's in my free booklet, "How 'Bout Goin' Steady?" I'm rushing you a copy, and I'll gladly send anyone else a free copy, on receipt of a request for same, plus a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Your Clothing Should Pass Safety Test

CHICAGO (INS)—Your clothes may pass the fashion test, ladies, but do they pass the "headlight" test?

For reasons of safety, in winter especially, women should wear something light in color when they go outdoors at night.

Headlight tests show that going out into the street at night in winter wearing dark-colored clothing can be hazardous.

The tests, made under "ideal" night-time driving conditions, show that light-colored clothing can be spotted six times easier than dark by motorists.

Pedestrians wearing black clothes could be seen only within 75 feet of a car's headlights which is about the distance it takes the average driver to stop from a speed of 25 miles per hour.

Light gray clothing could be seen at a distance of 379 feet while white could be spotted from 480 feet.

Visibility distances drop even further under conditions such as mist, haze, rain and snow, common weather phenomena during winter months.

Can Be Cleaned

Washable light - switch plates made of glass or ceramic tile can be cleaned by sudsing with a cloth or sponge. If they are made of metal, follow this washing with a brisk polishing.

'Consolation Prizes' Made Necessary by Basic Unhappiness Are Costly

Decide What Really Counts and Save

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Budgeting is a subject to which, it seems to me, most business girls pay too little attention.

It's hard, when you're in your first job, away from home, to live a decent life on the low salary you're apt to get. Many girls are constantly in debt, live lonely and penny-pinching lives, or just drag along, getting none of the little extras.

This isn't necessary, though, because, with a good plan, a girl can manage beautifully.

Helen J. does it better than any girl I know, so I asked her for some pointers.

Helen makes a small salary, and lives really well in a big city.

"First of all," she told me, "you have to figure out what is important to you, and what you are willing to do without.

"For example, take housing, which comes first. You can do much better in the suburbs, but then you have commuting, and lose an hour or two every day.

"I made a list of all the things that were desirable, and then eliminated the ones I could do without. I like to be near my job, which means midtown, where rents are apt to be high.

So I took one tiny room, with a kitchenette and good closet space. But it had no light, was on a court, was four flights up, and had a very old-fashioned bath. Therefore, it was inexpensive.

"The plus side was that I saved time and carfare money, could go home for lunch, and could entertain. And since a working girl is home mostly only at night, daylight wasn't too important.

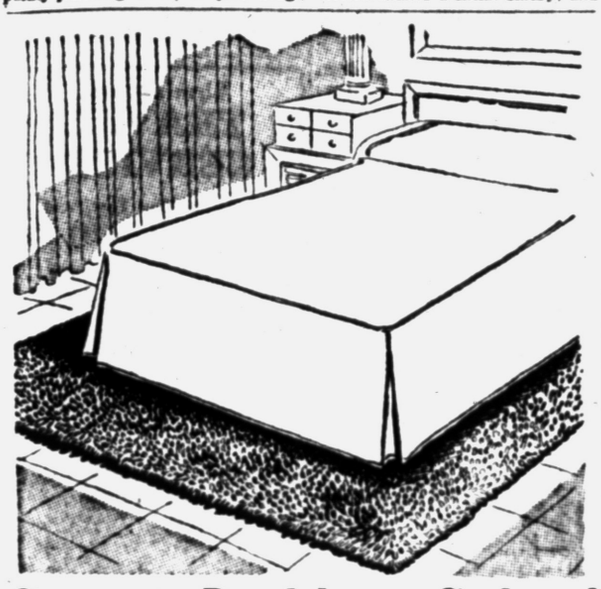
"Second, you have to decide what you're willing to do without. On a small salary, you can't have everything, but many girls try, with the result that they're constantly in debt.

"I like to entertain, and I like to dress decently. That means learning to cook cheap things attractively, and being willing to devote time to intelligent marketing.

It means buying my clothes at a good second-hand shop, because I cannot learn to sew and I cannot afford new clothes. It means, in my case, cutting down on all other recreational pursuits that cost money. I can entertain friends for supper, and therefore I must give up all movies and plays, unless a beau takes me, all fun after work with the girls, all restaurant lunches or dinners.

"With this kind of a plan," she concluded, "I'm basically happy. I have what I want out of life, so I never have to buy myself 'consolation prizes.'

"For I have found," this wise young woman said, "that most leakages in budgets come from being basically unhappy and having to cheer yourself up with a spur-of-the-moment purchase which you can't afford, such as a hat, a box of chocolates, an expensive movie, a bottle of wine, a facial, or some other 'consolation prize.'"



Carpet Problem Solved With This Clever Trick

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

A room-size rug in a bedroom makes a lot of sense. It adds so much comfort to the room—makes it gently quiet. But if the big rug must wait a little longer, there's still a way to avoid stepping out of bed onto a cold floor of a morning with an idea like this. Sew small washable rugs together, one after the other, so they outline the bed. Careful there, of measurements, because the U-shape the rugs will be in when they're joined must be the right size to tuck under the bed neatly all around.

Rugs plotted this way will improve the looks of the room as well as making it more comfortable. They add a look of luxury and can contribute to the color scheme, chosen as they so easily can be in one of the especially beautiful shades cotton rugs come in. And while there may be no intent to deceive, no one will guess that the chain of little rugs isn't actually a big one.

Report Given on Job Study

There has been an increase of two million in the number of women employed in clerical jobs, and nearly a million more women are in operative occupations, according to a government study in the changes in women's occupations, 1940-1950.

Secretaries, typists and stenographers alone account for a rise of half a million.

The greatest increase in operative jobs for women occurred in apparel factories, electrical supply plants and laundries.

Crinoline Storage Problem Solved

The problem of storing bulky crinolines in crowded clothes closets is solved by a new cone-shaped garment bag made of clear plastic with embossed taffeta trim.

The petticoat is rolled and slipped into the bag, waistband first. The bag may then be hung in the closet.

Cobb Tells How to Fix Furnaces

By HUBBARD COBB

A good many of us heat our homes with old-fashioned gravity warm air furnaces originally designed as hand coal fired jobs. When we got sick and tired of shoveling coal and ashes we installed some sort of conversion burner — either oil or gas — right into the old furnace.

Now one of the things about these old-fashioned furnaces is that they are made up of several sections that were assembled in the basement and then covered with a metal jacket. A special cement is used to make the joints between sections air tight, because, if they aren't, fumes from the firepot of the furnace will enter the system and be circulated about the house.

When these furnaces burned coal this cement would stand up for a considerable time because coal burns with a pretty even heat and there wasn't much expansion and contraction going on.

With oil, and even more so with gas, however, the firepot alternates between being very hot and then cool. This causes the cement to fail and pretty soon you get strange odors about the house.

The solution here is to replace the cement but this is sort of a problem. The outer jacket of the furnace must be removed and then the sections unbolted and taken down.

The old cement must be scraped out of the joint and then a fresh coating of furnace cement applied. Finally you have to put the sections — they are sort of heavy — back up and install the jacket.

If you have a strong friend who doesn't mind work of this sort it can be done by the homeowner, and it can, of course, be done by a heating serviceman. But if your system is several years old and you begin to smell funny odors about the house, it should be done by someone and done pretty good.

Friend's Gift of Magazine Not Liked

There May Be Way to Make Known a Preference

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "I have a friend who for the past two years has sent me a subscription to a magazine which I do not like, for a birthday present. She has done it again this year.

Please tell me how I can tell her that I wish she wouldn't send that particular one, and still not hurt her feelings. There are many others I do like and would appreciate receiving one of these instead. The particular magazine she sends is one that happens to be a favorite of hers."

If it is a magazine that she has a personal interest in there is nothing you can do. But if it is a magazine that she likes and thinks you will like it too, then I think it is very wasteful not to tell her that you do not happen to be interested in the subjects of that particular magazine and that your own favorite magazine is . . .

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is a clergyman in a rather large parish. When writing to members of his congregation what is the correct way for him to sign his name?

I think he should sign The Rev. John Blank. To sign simply John Blank does not seem right to me for a man in this position. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

To sign his name with title would be in bad taste. He should sign his name plain John Blank. If he is not writing on church stationery where his full name is included on the letterhead and those he is writing to might not know who he is, then he might write his title in parentheses before his name.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day while coming out of the apartment house where a friend of mine lives, I stopped and had a short conversation with the doorman. He kept his hat on the entire time he was talking to me. Wasn't this rude?

The hat of a doorman may well be considered a part of his uniform and certainly he should not be criticized for keeping it on especially when out of the building.

A married man might as well forget his mistakes. There's no sense in two people remembering them.

Lou Gehrig's Widow Leads Battle Against Sclerosis

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—There is no sensation of laying open old wounds and there is no talking in soap operatic whispers when you meet Eleanor Gehrig, widow of the "iron man" of baseball.

She is as frank and talkative as Lou Gehrig was shy, and although her work for years has been what she refers to as the fight to find a cause and cure for the disease that killed her husband—she's a businesswomen about it, not a martyr.

"It's corny, I know, but it's true," she said, shrugging out of her smart tweedy coat and flagging a waiter in one efficient movement. "If we ever hit the answer and find out what causes this strange, fatal thing, he won't have died in vain."

Mrs. Gehrig suddenly blushed a tinge. "Forgive me if I act embarrassed when I talk like this," she said. "I always act like I'm sounding like Mary Backstage, noble wife, and I don't feel the part at all."

A sweet-faced woman, now in her early forties, Mrs. Gehrig knows as much as most doctors do about the disease which is medically known as amyotrophic lateral sclerosis. And popularly called Gehrig's disease. She's happy it's called Gehrig's disease—"anything to make it easier to understand, and to dramatize its importance is good.

"One way you look at it, I suppose, it's fortunate that Lou got it—for the sake of science. He was well known enough that people all at once got interested, and started contributing money toward finding out what it's all about."

Mrs. Gehrig is a vital person, a soft and apparently happy one. She dressed herself up in a cheerful smile 15 years ago, when Lou was making his last stand, and after his death from the rare form of polio, she never let down. "It was wartime," she says simply, "so I kept myself busy by working for the Red Cross motor corps during the day and the Stage Door Canteen at night.

"After the war, it was time to start working for Lou."

So she took the job of sort of contact woman for the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America. Gehrig's disease is one of the several forms of mysterious muscular paralysis (in grandmother's day, she says, it was called "creeping paralysis")—the form that strikes healthy people between the ages of about 25 and 40.

"Lost all my pride, I'm afraid," she says. She put all of Lou's old baseball friends, and many of his wealthy fans, to work for the associations in gathering money for research.

"I even go to the firemen's ball, now that the lovely, wonderful International Association of Fire Fighter (AFL) and the International Association of Fire Chiefs and thousands of volunteer hook and ladder boys have been so helpful. Love it, too!" The fire organizations, she pointed out, have already contributed nearly four-million-dollars to solving the crime of creeping paralysis.

There is still no solid clue to the cause of Gehrig's disease, which hits about 2,500 Americans a year, but since Eleanor started working on it, the research has jumped amazingly. There are now 65 research projects in 50 leading medical institutions here and abroad working on the allied muscular rarities.

After Gehrig died, Eleanor moved from their New Jersey home into a small apartment with her mother in Manhattan. She's lived there ever since, and probably will remain. What's the point in having a house if you're not married, she asks. And after being married "to a guy like Lou," who would need —"or deserve"—to try marriage a second time?

Mrs. Gehrig still sees all the New York Yankee games, either on TV or at the stadium, and keeps in close touch with Lou's old friends in the business. They love her because for two years she knew her husband was slated to die and kept the secret from him; but when you ask her how she could have done it, she brushes it off.

"Don't underestimate the human will-power," she says. "If it happened to you, you'd be a Helen Hayes on the job, too."

REVIEW ROTARY HISTORY—Hiland H. Thatcher (left), first president of Pontiac's Rotary Club, and Dr. H. A. Furlong, current president, review highlights of the organization since a city club was formed here in 1922. Pontiac Rotarians will observe the 50th anniversary of Rotary International tonight at a banquet at Devon Gables.

City Members Mark Rotary's 50th Anniversary

The 132 members of the Pontiac Rotary Club today join their counterparts in 8,400 clubs around the world in celebrating the fellowship's 50th anniversary.

As part of the observance, local Rotarians and their wives will attend a "Golden Anniversary Party" at Devon Gables tonight.

The Pontiac club, founded in the winter of 1922, will honor charter members at the affair.

Dr. H. A. Furlong, club president, will preside over charter member recognition ceremonies. Rotary history will be reviewed by Dr. L. A. Farnham, one of the 22 original members.

Rotary, now a globe-girdling organization with 400,000 members in 89 countries and territories, was founded Feb. 23, 1905 by Paul Harris.

Harris, a small-town fellow in a big city, was a lawyer and a bachelor in Chicago when he got the idea for the club now known as Rotary International.

Born in Racine, Wis. and raised in Wallingford, Vt., he went to the University of Iowa Law School, roamed through the United States and Europe for five years, then settled in Chicago.

Harris had business friends but they were not social friends. He wondered why they couldn't be both and discussed the problem with three clients who also were comparative strangers in Chicago.

On that winter night in 1905, the four men met in the small office of Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer, in the Unity building in Chicago's Loop. The others were Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant, and Hiram Shorey, a tailor.

Harris, a tall, spare, intense man, outlined his ideas for a club this way:

If businessmen could get together periodically, they could become better acquainted and, perhaps, help each other obtain more business.

There would be a member for each type of business or profession to ensure a broad range of friendship.

It would be called the Rotary Club because the meetings would be held in rotation, in the business places of the members.

Harris said later: "We found a cure for loneliness."

But presently they found that back-scratching friendship wasn't enough. They decided the club, in order to have purpose and direction, would have to perform services for the community.

Rotary thus became a service club—and the prototype of a dozen men's service club organizations which now have a total membership of about 1,300,000.

Rotary's aims, briefly put, include developing friendship, serving society, enlarging international understanding.

The second club was started in 1908 in San Francisco. A national association was set up in 1910, when there were 16 clubs, and the movement became international in 1912.

Rotary flags were borne on flights over the North Pole (1926) and South Pole (1929) by Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd. Prof. Auguste Piccard carried one in his balloon when he soared into the stratosphere in 1932.

Adenauer and Opposition to Debate Rearmament

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the opposition Socialists marshaled forces today for the crucial parliamentary debate on the Paris treaties rearming West Germany.

The debate begins tomorrow, with Adenauer's foreign policy — and perhaps his political future — resting on the outcome.

The 79-year-old chancellor sent parliamentary leaders of his four government parties to make last-minute appeals for the solid support of the 336 coalition deputies in the 487-member Bundestag (lower house).

Adenauer also summoned the Cabinet to a final meeting before the House begins the three-day debate on the decisive second and third readings of the treaties. Adenauer, four Cabinet ministers and 48 deputies were scheduled to speak during the session.

Campaigning under the slogan "Let's talk with the Russians now," the Socialists have warned at hundreds of public meetings and through an elaborate propaganda drive that approval of the Paris treaties will wreck all hopes of uniting Germany and could lead to World War III.

The Adenauer forces maintain the West can negotiate successfully with the Russians only from a position of strength. They say therefore the treaties to create a West European military union including West German manpower must be ratified first.

Adenauer is assumed of a massive majority in the Bundestag for all the treaties except the unpopular French-German agreement on the Saar.

Airman Finds Soothing Moms Is Tough Chore

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Col. Robert Gideon Jr., bachelor chief of staff for the Air Force Academy to be built near here, is up to his insignia in problems he never encountered flying an airplane.

Gideon has the job of answering letters from anxious mothers who want to know how the Air Force will treat their sons if they enroll at the academy. The first class of 300 will begin training in temporary quarters at Denver's Lowry Air Force Base this summer.

Gideon has to say "no" in most of his replies—but in such a way that potential Air Force generals won't be lost to the service.

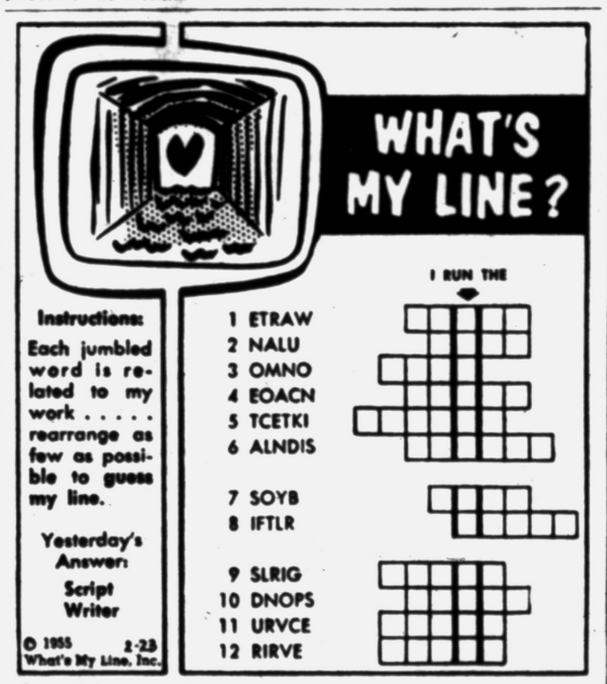
A Montana ranch woman wrote: "If my son becomes a cadet, can he send his laundry home every week? He always sleeps in flannel pajamas and they shrink if they're not washed right."

Gideon answered that pajamas, like all 60 articles of clothing to be worn by the cadets, will be issued and laundered by the Air Force.

He gave much the same reply to the mother who wanted to know what color to knit her son's Argyle socks for his possible stay at the academy.

And there was the Tennessee woman who inquired if she could send a bottle of homemade blackberry brandy along with her son. "We always use it for colds and upsets," she wrote. Gideon said no. Alcoholic beverages won't be allowed on or near the academy premises.

Gideon and his staff are becoming experts in other domestic fields.



Commission Approves Plan to Halt Representative Cut

The City Commission last night authorized presentation to the State Legislature of a proposal to head off a slash in city representation on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The proposal, as drawn up by a committee of five city supervisors and five township supervisors, was outlined to the Commission by Clare Cummings, one of the 10 Pontiac supervisors.

Cummings said the plan will be submitted to the legislature for legal action as soon as the governing bodies in other county cities approve.

Under current state law, the number of city supervisors would be cut back 60 per cent when their number reaches 75. The number of township supervisors would remain at 25.

The proposal, which proponents hope will be incorporated into the state law, sets up a city representation of one supervisor for 4,000 people or fraction thereof, two for 4,001 to 9,000, three for 9,001 to 15,000, four for 15,000 to 25,000, additional supervisor for every 25,000 people or fraction thereof over the 40,000 mark.

Cummings said under the proposal Pontiac would have seven supervisors. This compares with the present 10 and three under current law when the total city supervisor representation reaches 75. There are presently 64 city supervisors.

He said the measure must be presented to the legislature before March 10, last day on which new bills can be filed.

Fast Driver Deceived by Slow Speedometer

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Paul L. Nadeau, 24, told the policeman his car wouldn't go that fast when Patrolman Wothern Muzzey handed him a ticket for going 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Patrolman Edward Manning got into Nadeau's automobile; Muzzey and Nadeau got into the patrol car. After a short run the man agreed his auto was doing over 50.

Manning reported the speedometer stopped at 40.

Assault Charge Trial Slated to Start Today

The trial was slated to begin today, before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, of two 20-year-olds charged with assaulting a 16-year-old girl in Royal Oak last Nov. 24.

Accused are Donald A. Loveday, of 2208 Barrett, Royal Oak, and James P. Jacobs, of 19350 Carrie, Detroit. They stood mute on an assault-with-intent-to-rape charge last Dec. 13 and an innocent plea was entered for them.

Leading Industries Expected to Follow GMC in Supporting Education Program

DETROIT (UP) — Many of the nation's leading industries and businesses may soon begin programs of support to higher education similar to one recently announced by General Motors Corp., GM officials predicted today.

The officials said the company had received letters from many of the nation's leading educators saying they believed the program would serve as a model for other corporations seeking effective ways to contribute to education.

Many of the educators wrote that the program, and others similar to it which may follow, may prove to be the salvation of small, private institutions which have reached a financial crisis.

The program, which will total $4,500,000 when it is fully operative, is actually made up of three plans.

One plan provides 250 scholarships to 107 private colleges and public institutions in 38 states which were picked on the basis of the number of graduates employed by General Motors.

In addition, private institutions will be awarded grants-in-aid equivalent on the average to some $500 to $800 annually per student.

Additional scholarships will be awarded annually in a national competition with recipients permitted to select any accredited college or university.

Unrestricted grants of $10,000 each to foundations representing colleges in six states will make benefits available to many schools not eligible under other parts of the program.

3 Named to Discuss MSC Name Change

LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Agriculture, Michigan State College governing body, today named a three-man committee to meet with a committee from the University of Michigan board of regents to discuss a name change for MSC.

The committee: Clark L. Brody, chairman of the board; Dr. Connor Smith of Standish and Frederick H. Mueller of Grand Rapids.

The board of regents is expected to name a similar committee at its meeting Friday.

The Legislature now has before it a bill to change the name of MSC to "Michigan State University." A similar measure was introduced last year but withdrawn after the University of Michigan objected it would lead to confusion.

3 Incumbents Reappointed

Commissioners Approve '55 Budget for General Hospital

Three veteran incumbents were reappointed to the Board of Tax Review by the City Commission last night.

Named to the one-year terms were James F. Spence, secretary-manager of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.; Gerald W. Kehoe, Fisher Body Division employe, and Vernon K. Archer, realtor.

Spence served in 1936 and then continuously from 1938. Kehoe has been a member since 1949 and Archer since 1951.

In other action, the Commission approved the 1955 Pontiac General Hospital budget and authorized signing Adolph H. Rocsling as architectural consultant for the new $3,000,000 wing approved by voters in November.

First reading was made of a revised dog ordinance which provides for keeping dogs on leashes or under "reasonable control" the year around. Second reading is slated for ext week. The measure stems from complaints about dog packs around schools.

Purchase of a four-family flat at 1622 S. Parke St. for $25,000 was authorized. Plans call for the building, across the street from the new City Hall, to be torn down eventually to provide a park-like area between the new city offices and the Clinton River.

James M. Stone, of 651 E. Mansfield Ave., was appointed municipal court process server.

Public hearings for March 29 were set on vacating an alley parallel to Stanley avenue from Sheffield to the Belt Line Railroad and an alley at the rear of 465 E. Pike St.

The Commission concurred with two City Plan Commission reports denying requests to rezone to manufacturing the area bounded by University, Ypsilanti, Columbia and the Pontiac, Oxford and Northern Railroad, and to commercial property at 61 School St.

A Plan Commission report approving the Herrington Hill Subdivision plat was received and filed.

A public hearing was set for March 15 on a new ordinance to change to commercial 1 classification the west side of Bagley street from Orchard Lake avenue to Hibbard court. A copy of the ordinance was sent to the plan board.

Two requests for rezoning — one on the west side of Summit street between Jefferson and LeGrande, the other on the west side of Baldwin avenue near Terry Lake — were also sent to the planners for study.

Dates of public hearings on four zoning changes set originally for March 8 were set back a week.

Public necessity was declared for sidewalks on both sides of East boulevard from Perry to Linda Vista Subdivision.

A public hearing was held and confirmation deferred on a special assessment roll for a water main along Second and Laurel avenues.

A second public hearing was held for vacating parts of Pontiac and Court drives as requested by the Board of Education.

16 Bodies Brought From Plane Wreck

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (INS) — Rescue workers brought the bodies of 16 persons killed in the crash of a Trans-World airliner on a New Mexican mountain peak Saturday back to Albuquerque last night.

Only three of the bodies have been identified positively. They are Sharon Schoening, 23-year-old hostess from Kansas City, Mo., the Rev. Earl Davis of Albuquerque and Homer Bray, also of Albuquerque.

The twin-engined airliner plowed into 10,682-foot Sandia Peak, 12 miles northeast of Albuquerque, within minutes after taking off from Albuquerque on a 29-minute flight to Santa Fe.

An inquest will be held today.

BOOMING ALREADY — If didn't take Pontiac motorists long to discover the city's second municipal parking lot was open for business. Before DPW crews finished installing the final meter yesterday afternoon, the 83-car lot on Mill street was filled. The meters are installed on temporary woodenbases. With warm weather, the former county market site will be blacktopped and cement islands will be installed to serve as permanent meter bases and guides. Immediate impact on the first city parking lot, seen in the background across the Clinton River, is a drop in business as motorists choose the site closest to the heart of downtown. But city officials aren't worried. They expect the 339 spaces in both lots will be filled easily on even fairly busy days. In the 30 weeks the first lot has been in operation collections totaled $10,712, an average of $357 a week. At that rate, the new lot is expected to gross around $115 a week.

Chicago Mayor Kennelly Defeated by Regular Dem

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, fighting the regular Democratic organization which once put him in office, was defeated yesterday in the party primary. He is serving his second four-year term.

County Clerk Richard J. Daley, 52, the organization candidate, won by more than 100,000 votes.

Opposing Daley in the April 5 election will be Alderman Robert E. Merriam, 36-year-old Democrat-turned-Republican, who had little opposition from two candidates in the GOP primary.

Bitterness of the campaign between Kennelly, 67, a tall, white-haired bachelor, and Daley was reflected in the mayor's terse statement last night conceding defeat. He did not congratulate Daley, as did another defeated candidate, Benjamin S. Adamowski, but said:

"I concede the election to Mr. Daley. I want to thank all those who gave their time and effort to my campaign."

Kennelly, who acquired much wealth in the storage and moving business, first entered politics in 1947 when the organization Democrats drafted him as mayoral candidate. He also had their support in 1951, but they dropped him this year and selected Daley. Democratic leaders said they did not consider Kennelly an asset to the party.

The mayor, however, decided to fight the organization and seek nomination without its support. He claimed the party regulars refused to back him because they wanted to run the city "for themselves, not the people."

Daley, a Roman Catholic, was elected Cook County (Chicago) clerk last November. He is the father of seven children. He got his start in politics in 1927 as secretary to the late Joseph B. McDonough, alderman of the 13th Ward, in the stockyards district—the same back-of-the-yards area where Kennelly was born.

He was a state representative, state senator and was state director of revenue in former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's cabinet.

Merriam won attention in the City Council as a reform and economy bloc advocate and spokesman. He was chairman of the Council's special committee investigating possible alliances between crime and politics but gave up the chairmanship when he decided to seek the GOP nomination for mayor. He is married for the second time.

Counts 1,162 Whales Near Pacific Coast

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Raymond M. Gilmore of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, who directs the annual census of whales, said 1,162 had actually been counted as they migrated close to the Pacific Coast.

They were enroute from their arctic feeding grounds in the Bering Sea to mating and calving lagoons on the Lower California, Mexico, coast.

Gilmore estimated that the herd, twice hunted nearly out of existence, now totals 3,000. He expressed doubt that the number would again reach the 25,000 to 50,000 he figures may have existed before the hunters started their slaughters.

The group, which wound up its annual convention here yesterday, is made up of Catholic priests, Jewish rabbis and Protestant ministers and representatives of labor organizations.

One of its final acts was adoption of a resolution endorsing the guaranteed wage principle and calling for effective agreements at the bargaining table. It also went on record against "right-to-work" laws.

Wounds Wife Twice in Month

Seek Ex-President of Hollywood Law Group in Shooting of Mate

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A former president of the Hollywood Bar Assn. shot and wounded his estranged wife last night for the second time in a month, police reported.

Once again officers spread through San Fernando Valley searching for Ernest E. Walker, 57. He was free on $5,000 bail on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in the previous case.

Mrs. Alice Walker, 41, is hospitalized with a serious wound in the right side and a creasing wound on the head.

Last Jan. 19 she was wounded twice in the legs. The shooting that night occurred in front of her apartment. She and a friend, aircraft worker Jack Leff, 38, Canoga Park, had just driven up in her car. Leff also was wounded, in the left arm.

They told police that Walker either had followed or waited for them. Mrs. Walker told officers that Leff was a friend who had had automobile trouble that night and needed a ride so she had picked him up in her car.

Police said Mrs. Walker told them last night that her husband had called, asking to take her to dinner to talk things over. On the way back he shot her, she said.

She staggered from the car, ran to nearby Ventura Boulevard and hailed a passing woman motorist.

The Walkers separated last summer for several months, reconciled then split up again in January.

State Republicans Mapping Strategy

LANSING (AP)—Republican candidates and party officials scheduled a meeting today to map strategy for their spring election campaign.

"We are planning an intense, hard-hitting campaign to save our schools and courts from falling into the hands of Walter Reuther, Gus Scholle and the CIO-PAC," said John Feikens, newly elected to a second term as State Central Committee chairman.

Feikens said the Republican program will be aimed at preserving local autonomy and helping local communities solve their school problems.

Others expected to attend the meeting, besides newly nominated candidates, are: Mrs. Catharine Gibson, state vice chairman; Mrs. Rae C. Hooker, national committeewoman, and John B. Martin Jr., chairman of the state convention resolutions committee.

Bob Considine Says:

Non-Frozen Orange Juice Will Stay Fresh

EUSTIS, Fla. (INS) — A selfless doctor named George Sperti Sperti engaged in an almost sleepless quest of a cure for cancer, has become the new wonder of Florida's billion dollar citrus industry. For Dr. Sperti it is but a passing thing that provides more money for cancer research. For the industry it promises a shot in the arm comparable to the development of concentrated juices.

Americans just can't get enough oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes, and tangerines. Florida alone will provide 110,000,000 boxes of oranges toward the enormous task of slaking the thirst and appetite (and vitamin needs) of the land during 1955, twice the pre-war out-put. The U. S. trend is always toward "make it easier."

About 65 per cent of all the oranges picked in Florida today go to the public in concentrate form. The concentrate process relieved the housewife of the job of squeezing the fresh fruit. But a great percentage of the flavor disappears in the process. Though not as much as evaporates during the hot pasteurization of ordinary canned orange juice.

The goal of pickers and packers for many years has been a packaged juice that tastes freshly squeezed and will keep under ordinary refrigeration. Dr. Sperti found that process down a by-path in his search for a cancer cure.

The dedicated and youthful-looking Sperti, head of the famed Institutum Divi Thomae of Cincinnati and Palm Beach, research centers devoted to greater Catholic participation in the march of medical science, chose the X-ray as his first avenue into the baffling mystery of the causes and cures of cancer. Soon he was deep into the magic of the ultra violet rays' spectrum and the effect of those rays on the enzymes.

Enzymes are organic matter that cause milk to sour, and fruit, meat and vegetables to rot, and juices of all edibles to change taste when neglected. Deep-freezing retards the putrefying enzyme action. But not too many people own deep freeze appliances.

For 20 years Dr. Sperti pursued this particular will o' the wisp in the broader picture of cancer research, and in time came across the combination of violet rays that will render food enzymes inert and keep them that way for several weeks at normal ice-box temperatures without a change in the product's taste.

General Foods gave him $300,000 for the process and a share in the profits of two sub-companies. Dr. Sperti gave and gives all this money to the Institutum, as he gives every material product of his inventive genius. He could be one of the richest men in his field. Instead, he lives on what amounts to the salary of a clerk . . . or an industrious orange picker.

The Institutum is the beneficiary of the money he is currently receiving from Golden Gift, a comparatively small orange and grapefruit juice company at Eustis and Deland, Fla., which uses his irradiation process. Refrigerated trucks take the fresh-squeezed product to markets and dairies over the eastern half of the U. S. Few drops are more than three days away. The Sperti process holds the enzyme action at bay for at least three weeks, and sometimes more.

It retains the vitamin C content that fades in so many other treatments of that most volatile of berries, the orange, and improves the vitamin D content.

Divi Thomae's fundamental research scientists are now at work in 14 schools and hospitals, attacking cancer largely with funds derived from the public's taste for good orange juice. In time Israel will be contributing to that work, for it is becoming a licensed producer under the Sperti process, and the citrus trade is that nation's largest export business.

A happy figure in the picture is the grower. Because of Dr. Sperti, cancer hunter, he is more secure than ever. If he doesn't realize 15 per cent on his grove investment, he somehow goofed.

Nixon Appeals to Costa Rican to Quit Feuding

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon headed for Panama today after a midnight appeal to Costa Rican President Jose Figueres to ease off in his quarrel with President Anastasio Somoza of neighboring Nicaragua.

The results of the Nixon-Figueres talks were not announced. But before coming here on his Caribbean good will tour, Nixon expressed confidence that Figueres would go along with Somoza in a pledge to end tension.

Nixon told the Costa Rican Legislative Assembly yesterday that if "we could think less of the past and more of the future we could create a climate for greater peace and progress in this hemisphere."

Costa Rica recently crushed a revolution which a peace commission from the Organization of American States said received men and aid from Nicaragua. Somoza denied supporting the revolt. He charged in turn that Costa Rica had sparked an attempt last year to assassinate him. Figueres denied that.

Police arrested several members of opposition political parties.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Here Is One Answer To The Bad Comic Book Problem*

*Noted Psychiatrist Explores "Seduction of the Innocent"

Dr. Fredric Wertham has published a book wholly devoted to the problem of what's happening to your child's mind when he is exposed to comic books of all kinds. His conclusions reviewed carefully by the nation's leading papers, reveal that parents might well be concerned.

WHILE Congressional committees and scientists explore the effects of comic books on children's minds, we at Wrigley's Super Markets have done something about it. We have produced a unique scientific "Space Kit"—giving your children all the thrills of comic books but built by educators to teach boys and girls about the most exciting subject in the comic book field — Interplanetary Space.

Working with distinguished scientists and book publishers, we have produced a new, dramatic, colorful answer to bad comic books. It makes the world of Interplanetary Space new and attractive — takes your child into the realm of the unknown. The price? It's FREE — yes, FREE with every $39 in cash register receipts.

Make sure your child gets all the thrills of Interplanetary Space—and be sure that you're protecting his mind from the evils of horror comic books. This Space Kit actually cost thousands of dollars to produce but it is yours FREE of extra cost. Simply save $39 in cash register receipts and exchange them for your FREE Space Kit.

• CASH GUARANTEE: If, after taking the Space Kit home, and checking with a teacher or a psychologist, either is not satisfied that the Space Kit is superior to any comic book of your choice, we will pay you $2.50, the equivalent retail price on its return.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

OLD TIME FURNITURE—3
A Little Cuckoo Clock

The "Pennsylvania Dutch" settlers were skilled wood carvers and often made cuckoo clocks to decorate their homes. Here is a cut-out clock you can make for your old-fashioned "Dutch" room.

If you wish you can color the clock blue and give it a bright red flower, a yellow dial and pink tulips with green leaves. The clock's weight and chain could be light brown. On the smaller picture you can color the bird yellow and the door red.

Paste both pictures on stiff red paper. Cut them out along the heavy outlines. To make an opening for the bird, slit the dark portion on the clock by cutting out the white space in its center. Fold the picture with the bird forward along the dotted line. Push the folded part through the slit. Paste the right side of the door to the clock. The back of the clock should look as it does in small drawing B.

When you open the door the cuckoo will come out. When you close it the bird will be hidden. The front of the clock should look like small drawing A.

Make a hole near the point of the roof of the clock. Put a string through it and you can hang it up on the cardboard wall of your colonial room.

Mock Warfare in Final Week

'Battle' Rages Toward Climax in the Cold, High Colorado Rookies

LEADVILLE, Colo. (AP) — Mock warfare in the chilling cold of the high Colorado Rockies is pushing toward a climax.

This is the final week of Exercise Hailstorm, a mountain and cold weather training maneuver which began Jan. 3 for more than 3,000 troops from Ft. Carson, near Colorado Springs. The troops are operating at altitudes of 9,000 to 13,000 feet.

Under yesterday's plan for the maneuver, fighting broke out at the right sector near U. S. Highway 6 and "enemy" forces occupied Copper Mountain and the northwest slope of Jacque Ridge.

Defending forces took up new positions running in almost a straight line from the ridge to Union Mountain and State Highway 91.

At least 20 "aggressor" tanks were reported seen moving southeast on Highway 6 Monday night. The "aggressor" forces are made up of the 4th Field Artillery Battalion and the 8th Reconnaissance Company.

The battalion combat team resisting the invading force is made of the 1st Battalion, the 61st Infantry and other elements of the 8th Infantry Division.

When the present tactical maneuver ends Saturday, the troops will chalk up six rugged days in the field, living under snow and cold conditions their leaders say are almost as difficult as those they might encounter in actual combat.

Mules are being used to carry weapons and equipment into mountain hideaways that can't be reached even by jeep or tracked vehicles.

First recorded suggestion that the earth and other planets revolve around the sun is attributed to Aristarchus, astronomer who lived on the Greek island of Samos about 265 B.C.

Chief of 5th Air Force Inspects Formosa Bases

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Lt. Gen. Roger Ramey, commander of the U.S. 5th Air Force, arrived today on a visit reported connected with the defense of Formosa. The 5th Air Force maintains a Sabre Jet squadron in Formosa.

Ramey will inspect air bases and confer with top Chinese Nationalist officers, particularly Gen. Wang Shu-ming, commander of the nationalist air force.

He was accompanied by Ellis O. Briggs, U.S. ambassador at Seoul.

Atom Heat Reduced by Artificial Smoke

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—The chief chemical officer of the Army announced last night that artificial smoke can be used to reduce effects of the searing heat from an atomic bomb blast.

Maj. Gen. William M. Creasy said such smokescreens ward off some of the heat just as clouds stop some of the sun's warmth. In addition, he said, the number of secondary fires in buildings and trash of a city would be reduced.

• • •

The general told the local chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers that preliminary smoke tests have been made at the nuclear proving ground in Nepada and that a ful-scale test will be made during the present experiments by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lonely Arctic Airfield Takes High Priority

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Reporter

GALENA, Alaska (AP)—This U.S. airfield must have high priority on the potential war target list of the Russian air and army forces.

Only 350 miles away—a half hour by jet fighter, only two hours by troop carrier lane—lies the tip of Soviet Siberia.

The Soviets know the precise position of the Galena Airfield. They should. Russian pilots flew in and out of here throughout much of World War II, ferrying American made aircraft to Russia in the days when the two nations were allies.

Virtually no one expects the Russians to seek destruction of such airfields as Galena. They would be too valuable as springboards for attack on the continental United States. To seize them by airborne attack would be tempting for Russian strategists. To hold or retake them, the United States would have to fly troops in from the south.

How fast or, indeed, whether, such an operation could be conducted would depend, as most matters do in the arctic and subarctic, on the weather. Fog and wind and icing conditions over the mountain ranges to the south would determine whether present troop-carrying planes could get through and whether paratroopers could jump with any expectancy of being ready to fight when they landed.

Galena has no miles of paved roads, homey quarters, officers' clubs or trim new buildings.

It stands, tattered and weather-beaten by a decade and a half of arctic storms on the lonesome reaches of the lower Yukon. Icy winds pick through loosely fitting doors of Quonset huts. Bare electric bulbs light the huts dimly. Close to the oil stoves it is hot; five feet away water freezes.

Air Force and Army personnel use sleeping bags at night to keep off the chill. Entertainment is confined to occasional movies in a crowded, small mess hall.

The nearest city is Fairbanks, 250 miles to the east.

The village of Galena is a cluster of about 30 crude buildings, occupied by Indians of the Athabascan tribe, who make their living from traplines and fishing; a white schoolteacher and his family; and a storekeeper.

American jets keep constant watch over these frozen wastes.

You obtain clearance to make a patrol in a Northrop F89 Scorpion fighter - interceptor of the 66th Squadron of the 10th Air Division, which with the 11th Air Division based at Ladd Air Force Base, 250 miles north, keeps watch for invaders from across Bering Strait.

The pilot, Maj. Amos E. Waage, of Argyle, Wis., helps you wedge yourself into the radar observer's seat. Buckles are snapped and a tangle of microphone and earphone wires plugged into jackboxes.

The pilot edges cautiously out over a patch of ice, the engines screaming a little louder, points the nose down the long strip of snow covering the runway, shoves forward the throttle.

There is a muffled boom as the afterburners cut in to give a surge of added power and speed. The runway streaks past—and past and past. Then you are airborne.

The big fighter slides skyward, smooth as silk, hurled forward and up by 11,200 pounds of thrust.

Ice-jammed rivers unreel swiftly, far below, and the high, serrated ridges, snow-blanketed, reach up suddenly. A tight turn, with the left wing point straight toward a frozen lake 10,000 feet below, and centrifugal force pushes you down heavily in your seat. You come to even keel and fly alongside the ragged, rocky crest of a snaggle-toothed mountain.

Let's suppose you're looking for an enemy, somewhere up in this empty sky and concealing clouds.

The chances are you will never see that enemy bomber. Your pilot has been following the directions of air control, which has the target located on its radar. You vector in toward the general area—the intercept course. The Scorpion's own radar search gear begins probing, finds the target, looks on it, heads the Scorpion in.

Even then you may never see your enemy, himself flying toward you with jet speed. The combined closing speed of the two aircraft may be 1,200 miles an hour. Radar does the work, aims the fighter and its ordnance. Out in pods at the wing tips are 2.75-inch rockets. Today's speeds are too fast for conventional machine guns, the planes too tough for knock-downs with such outmoded ordnance.

One hour and several hundreds of miles have gone by. Head back toward the field. Begin letting down. The runway is ahead, coming toward you fast. The touchdown for all the weighty tons and burning speed, is gentle, greasing smoothly in. A long, long roll as the decelerons bite into the air stream. Brakes taking hold now, and you are back at the huddled, lonely village of Galena.

Goebel...first American beer to win acclaim in Holland

Director of Amstel Brewery, Amsterdam, calls Goebel "one of world's great beers"

Director Hooft van Woudenberg, surrounded by trophies from The Royal Netherlands Hunting Club, shown enjoying a glass of Goebel Beer in the Amstel taproom.

"Having had the opportunity of sampling Goebel Beer here in Amsterdam, Holland, we are happy to find that it meets the exacting requirements we have demanded in our many years of brewing Amstel Beer (by appointment to H.R.H. Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands).

"It is light and dry with a full-bodied flavor. The distinctive personality of Goebel Beer combines qualities which place it among the world's great beers."

Jhr. Hendrik Hooft van Woudenberg
Directeur, Amstel Brewery

When brewers from Holland, Germany, England, Switzerland, and Belgium praise the quality and flavor of Goebel, it must be good. For never before has one brewery praised another—never before has an American beer won recognition in Europe, the traditional home of fine beers.

Enjoy Goebel, today . . . judge its superb qualities for yourself.

Gentlemen Will Chase Redheads in New Play

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Now it's the redheads getting the full treatment from Anita Loos. Her new musical, "Gentlemen Chase Redheads," will star Carol Haney and Gwen Verdon on Broadway.

This comes to me from Mary Loos and Dick Sale, who returned to Hollywood today after making "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes" in Europe with Jane Russell and Jeanne Crain.

When "Gentlemen Chase Redheads" completes its New York run, Mary and Dick will bring it to the screen with Carol and Gwen repeating in the movie.

I wonder if Anita Loos realized when, 25 years ago she wrote the sensational "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" on the train going east with the mother of Norma and Constance Talmadge, the idea would go on and on through all the hair colorings. Anita always credited "Peg" Talmadge with making that original remark about blondes.

Things are happening to Carol Ohmart so fast, it makes me dizzy to type it all. The pretty chestnut-haired Carol was discovered doing TV and radio in New York by Carmel Myers, whose husband is Paramount biggie Al Schwalberg.

The very day she made the test in Hollywood she was stricken with appendicitis and rushed to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for emergency surgery.

Carol was so ill a week passed before the studio could tell her that she was elected for the top femme role in "The Kiss-off," a suspense drama.

Best of all, Carol's screen debut will be directed by Michael Curtiz.

One way to get an actor to accept a story is to casually leave a script on the desk. That happened when Tony Quinn walked into Maxwell Shane's office, picked up Shane's original script, "Man in the Street," read it, and said he would like to do it. They shook hands on the deal.

Katherine De Mille (Mrs. Anthony Quinn), who hasn't made a picture in years, will have an important part, and the Quinns' 10-year-old son will play the boy in the picture. The whole Quinn family will be on the payroll—not bad!

When Dorothy Dandridge was nominated as one of the five top actresses by the Academy for her performance in "Carmen Jones," Otto Preminger was so happy he volunteered to direct Dorothy in her night club act. He asked for no credit and it's the first time that he's ever had a hand in putting on a night club act.

He flew to Denver to supervise her break-in at the Park Lane Hotel and helped select her material and her gowns. He was very much present Monday night when she opened at the Last Frontier in Las Vegas.

Dorothy, herself, is very appreciative of his direction of her and definitely hopes to makes another musical for him.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Gregory Peck has rented a house down by the sad sea waves at Malibu.

Ricky De La Vega, who concentrated on Sonja Henie for so many weeks, was concentrating on Beverly Tyler at the Plymouth House one night, and on the same girl at the Bantam Cock the next.

Ann Blyth's 8-month-old son, Timothy Patrick, surprised his mother and father and cut his first tooth

Anybody want a penthouse with a price tag of $150,000? Well, Kathleen Winsor has put hers on the market. She's writing "America, With Love," her play, and the place is too big for creative thinking.

The 20-year-old daughter of Sessue Hayakawa plays in "House of Bamboo" for 20th. She's been coached by her famous father as well as her mother, Tsure Soki, a star on the Universal lot in 1925.

Neighbors Don't Meet Until There's a Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—This is a town where you take a taxi a couple miles to go to a cocktail party to get introduced to your next-door neighbor.

Janis Page, the lovely red-haired star of "Pajama Game," and Jackie Gleason live in the same 5th Ave. building . . . but just met at a soiree. At this party, a beautiful girl hardly older than an autograph fan said to Gleason:

"I've been trying to get Daddy to introduce me to you for years."

Jackie looked at her wonderingly. "My daddy," she said, "is Jack Benny."

Turn to Motive in Phenix Killing

Prosecuting Attorneys Are Silent on Rumors of Surprise Witnesses

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Prosecuting attorneys turned back to the motive for A. L. Patterson's murder today with silence on persistent reports of surprise witnesses coming up against Albert Fuller.

Chief prosecutor Cecil Deason placed a blackout on the identity of those who will be called to the stand before the state rests its case, probably late this week.

Deason told newsmen merely that he would offer fresh testimony today about vice and racketeering that flourished in Phenix City before the crusading crime fighter was slain June 18, and about Patterson's vow to drive out the racketeers.

Meanwhile, a state toxicologist who made ballistics tests on the bullets taken from Patterson's body faced continued cross-examination by defense attorneys.

Toxicologist W. L. Sowell told the jury yesterday that although two types of .38-caliber slugs — one a snub-nosed bullet, the other copper coated — were recovered from Patterson's body, tests indicated they were fired from the same gun.

He also said one of the bullets was identical in texture with another of the same type found at Fuller's home. Fuller was chief deputy sheriff at crime-ridden Phenix City when the 59-year-old former state senator was shot down after winning the Democratic nomination for attorney general of Alabama.

Ike Expected to Lead GOP in Tax Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans looked to President Eisenhower to take a personal lead in his news conference today in battling a powerful drive by House Democrats to cut everybody's income taxes next year.

The showdown on the House floor is due tomorrow.

Signs indicated the President was preparing a strong attack on the Democratic move to vote a $20 tax cut for each taxpayer and each dependent. This would reduce federal revenues slightly more than two billion dollars a year.

The House Ways and Means Committee voted 16-9 yesterday to send the bill to the House floor. The income tax cut was wrapped up with Eisenhower's request for postponement of almost three billion dollars in corporation income and excise tax cuts, now set for April 1.

House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) expressed confidence the combined bill would pass the House. Prospects appeared dimmer in the Senate, where some veteran Democrats oppose the tax cut.

Rep. Halleck (R - Ind), assistant GOP leader, stuck by a prediction that House Republicans could defeat the move.

Margaret Goes to Steak Roast in Mountains

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Dressed in a native Jamaican costume, Princess Margaret ate charcoal broiled steak at a huge open air barbecue last night in Mandeville, 55 miles up in the mountains from Kingston.

The princess, here on a tour of the British West Indies, sat on a platform built on a small slope overlooking a grassy field dotted with tables. With her on the platform were officials of a Jamaican Aluminum Co., who gave the barbecue.

Three large bonfires crackled at strategic points throughout the field. About 500 guests attended the affair.

The princess wore a black blouse and a white skirt embroidered with Jamaican figures. She carried a white Angora sweater in case the mountain air became too chill. The men in her party wore bright sport shirts.

The royal party rode back to Kingston after the barbecue on a one-car diesel trolley, freshly painted for the special trip. It covered the 55 miles in 75 minutes.

Storm May Block Removal of Bodies

RIETI, Italy (AP) — —Snowstorms swirled about Mt. Terminillo today, threatening to block efforts to recover the 18 remaining bodies in the wreckage of a Belgian airliner. All 29 persons aboard, including four Americans, were killed when the plane crashed in the Apennines Feb. 13.

A total of 11 bodies had been recovered by nightfall yesterday. Nine of the bodies have been identified.

Despite today's bad weather, national police patrols set out on skis for the crash scene, 4,500 feet up the mountain, 60 miles northeast of Rome.

The United States issued its first three cent stamp in 1851.

Skippers Stun Milford; Oxford Ends Falcon Streak

By JACK SAYLOR

It is probably prophetic that the season's biggest basketball upset in Oakland County should come in the final week of the regular campaign—just before the start of the often upset-ridden tournaments.

A determined band of Waterford Skippers, winners only twice in 14 previous games, invaded Milford and knocked off the unsuspecting Redskins, 59-57, on a basket by Joe Umphrey with 35 seconds remaining.

Of the nine basketball victories registered by Skipper teams in their brief 4-year cage history, it was the first on the road—and likely the most significant even though a non-league game.

In other games, Oxford went along with the upset pattern and ended Rochester's 7-game winning streak, 67-53. West Bloomfield was nearly a surprise victim at Ortonville, but eked out a 47-46 triumph.

Cranbrook avenged an early season loss to Walled Lake by thumping the Vikings, 62-43, and Troy whipped Lake Orion for the 2nd time, 63-44. Utica clinched at least a tie for the Bi-County title by drubbing Eastland, 64-44.

Waterford had to overcome a 10-point deficit in the 2nd half to win despite a 42-point output by Milford's one-two punch of Jim Davidson and Tom Gould.

Following a close 1st half, Davidson and Gould gave the Redskins a 10-point lead late in the 3rd quarter, but the Skippers wouldn't quit. Two free throws by Jerry Kruskie put Waterford ahead, 53-52, with three minutes left.

Then the lead seesawed until another Kruskie foul shot tied the count at 57-all. With 35 seconds left, Waterford cashed in on an out-of-bounds play under the offensive basket as Umphrey dropped in the lay-up for the deciding points.

The Skippers regained possession and stalled out the last half minute. Gould had 22 points for Milford and Davidson added 20. Sophomore Chuck Gillis bagged 19 and Umphrey hit 17 for the Skippers.

The victory margin actually came at the foul line. Milford outscored Waterford from the floor, 21-20, but had 15 of 28 free throws against 19 of 37 for the Skippers.

Oxford also used free throws to victory advantage against Rochester. Each team had 20 field goals, but the Wildcats netted 27 of 40 charity tosses.

Rochester played without Earl Kitchen, who suffered an ankle injury in practice. In addition, the Falcons' close-checking defense cost them the services of Pat Nunn, who fouled out in the 2nd quarter.

A 23-point 4th quarter by Oxford put the game out of reach. Dwight Spiker enjoyed his best night of the season, collecting 23 points, and the Wildcats got 29 points from Fred Bergin and Larry Spencer before they fouled out late in the contest.

West Bloomfield almost lost a 7-point lead in the last two minutes, but held on for a 1-point verdict over Ortonville, whose Cliff Filhart was top scorer with 13 points. Myrel Taulbee of Walled Lake and Cranbrook's Pete Bedford each had 17 points in their ball game, and Rod Wiley's 17 points were high despite Orion's loss to Troy.

MOTHER HONORED—Tom Gould, captain and center of the Milford High basketball team, pins a corsage on his mother, Mrs. John Gould, 537 West Huron, Milford. Tuesday was the 7th annual "mother's night" ceremony in which Milford varsity and reserve players honor their mothers. The "pinning" preceded the Milford-Waterford game and the happiness of the occasion was short-lived as the Skippers pinned an upset on the highly-rated Milford 5.

The action took place in the 2nd period of Tuesday night's game at Milford, won by Waterford, 59-57.

Big Man Gets Bigger!

Gophers' Simonovich Wins Cowles' Praises

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Vast and once-timid Bill Simonovich, who left one college in a moment of despondency, today got a warm salute from Minnesota Coach Ozzie Cowles "because he wouldn't let himself quit."

The remarkable showing this season of the 6-10½ giant has meant more to Cowles than Minnesota's first place basketball standing in the Big Ten and its first chance at a conference title in 18 years.

"It's a heartening experience to see a fellow like that succeed," Cowles said. "It's hard for me to remember when anyone has worked to make good as Bill has."

Cowles happens to have two of the lights of the college basketball season in Dick Garmaker and Chuck Mencel. Cowles is a practical man. Without them Minnesota would scarcely be challenging for seventh place much less fighting for a title.

"But Simonovich has been the big difference for us this year," the little strategist says. "We knew before the season started that we wouldn't get very far unless we had a dependable big man."

Simonovich wouldn't have qualified about three months ago. He appeared lost in the hurry around him and lacked confidence. So much so that veterans like Garmaker and Mencel were wary of passing into the pivot to him.

Cowles has used the same techniques with Simonovich that DePaul's Ray Meyer worked with George Mikan. That includes barbell work, calisthenics and hours of jumping exercises.

The payoff is a 16-point average, steady rebounding and stolid defensive work.

Gavilan Picked to Beat Hector Constance on TV

Ex-Welterweight King 2-1 Choice in 10-Round Bout at Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Kid Gavilan, former welterweight champion, was a 2-1 favorite to whip Hector Constance of Trinidad when they square off in the Auditorium Arena tonight in a 10-round nationally televised fight.

Gavilan expects to weigh in at 152 pounds while Constance probably will weigh 148 at fight time —10 p.m. (EST).

The fight will be carried on the CBS network.

Gavilan is trying to stage a comeback after losing the title to Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia Oct. 20. He won a split decision over Ernie Durando on Feb. 4 in New York but wasn't too impressive in that appearance.

Gavilan said after the fight with Durando, a welterweight, that he planned to fight only welterweights with the aim of getting a return shot at Saxton.

The Cuban "Keed" has never been knocked out in 118 fights and is expected to volley the Trinidad youngster with his usual assortment of hooks, jabs and his bolo punch.

Constance, 24, has engaged in only 38 fights, winning 24 and drawing in 8, with 5 defeats and one termed "no contest."

In previous fights in this country, Constance has beaten Chico Varona and Ralph (Tiger) Jones and gained a draw with Johnny Brown twice. He twice outpointed Wally Thom, European welterweight champion.

Other bouts on the card include a 10-round semifinal between middleweights Charley Cotton and Kid Charolito and a 6-rounder between Kid Gavilan II, brother of the former champion, and Bid Nethers.

A sellout crowd of 3,500 is expected.

Hendricks Ties Hurdles Record in Easy 'M' Win

Runs 65-Yard Race in 7.4 Seconds for Third Straight Time

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Tom Hendricks, speedy football halfback who couldn't make Michigan's 1st team, has carved his own special niche in Michigan track—the 65-yard low hurdles.

The Detroit flash tied the Yost Field House record of 7.4 seconds for the 3rd time in a row yesterday while Michigan was stopping a weaker Ohio State team, 77-37.

It was the 3rd straight dual meet victory for the Michigan track team and it could have been worse for the Buckeyes.

Michigan pulled Grant Scruggs out of the 440-yard dash to run in the non-competitive 600-yard run. Pete Gray, another Michigan distance man, was yanked from the 880 to compete in the non-competitive 1,000-yard run.

Scruggs turned in a fast 1:11.9 in the 600, just five-tenths of a second off the Big Ten indoor record in the seldom run event.

Gray ran the 1,000 in 2:14.6, just one-tenth of a second off the field house record he set last year.

But neither event counted in the lopsided Michigan score. Both were run with only Michigan competition as added features.

The Ohio squad took 1st places in the broad jump, the 440 and the 880, the last two events only after the Michigan men were withdrawn. Lee Williams sophomore from Springfield, Ohio, brought in nine of the Buckeye points by winning the broad jump, running 2nd in the 65-yard lows and 3rd in the 60-yard dash.

Canada's John Moule, running for Michigan, was all alone in the mile, but still managed to turn in a time of 4:13.9.

Final Practice Tests Today for Houston Open

Crooner Cherry, Bolt Win Tilt With Demaret, Packer Gridder

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Over 150 pros and amateurs took their final practice rounds today for Thursday's start of the $30,000 Houston Open.

Three amateurs and 47 professionals turned in scores of 74 or better Tuesday to qualify for the $6,000 first prize.

Ray O'Brien, PGA tournament supervisor, said he expects a field of about 152 Thursday. The field will be cut to 60 after 36 holes.

Howie Johnson, a Houston amateur, and Billy Capps, a pro now playing out of St. Louis, led the qualifiers over the par-72 Memorial Park course with a pair of 69s.

It was the second time for Capps to share medalist honors here. While playing out of Greenville, S.C., last year, Capps' 69 placed him in a five-way tie.

A gallery of about 2,500 followed a nine-hole exhibition match placing two hometown favorites, Jimmy Demaret and Tobin Rote, against another Houston star, Tommy Bolt, and Don Cherry, the crooning Walker Cup player from Wichita Falls.

Cherry turned in a four-under-par 32 as he and Bolt turned back the colorful Demaret and the Green Bay Packer quarterback, 1-up.

Elks Retain Unbeaten Mark

But Boys Club Wins to Remain Close in Class D Race

Elks 723 remained undefeated in Class D City League play Tuesday, drubbing Slaybaugh's, 64-27, but Boys Club kept on the leaders' heels by routing the Hawks, 72-17.

In other "D" games, Blue Devils nipped Wolverines, 47-41, and the Lakesiders nosed out Spartans, 41-39.

Neither Elks nor Boys Club had any trouble winning their games. The unbeaten Elks had a 22-6 lead in the first period. Brooks' 16 points set the pace. In the one-sided Boys Club triumph, Herb Butler and George Thrasher each collected 26 points.

A big 3rd quarter helped the Blue Devils to their victory as Tresace led the way with 19 points. Hooper had 10 for the Wolverines.

Dave Hensal had 12 points to spark the Lakesider's win including three baskets in the final period. Hernandez had 14 points for the Spartans to take top honors.

Benham Named on U.S. Bobsled Team

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—A 15-man bobsled squad has been chosen to represent the United States in the 1956 winter Olympics. It includes former world champion Stanley Benham, supposedly barred from such competition by the International Bobsled Federation.

Benham, from Lake Placid, was in the group selected by the U.S. Olympic Bobsled Committe in an unusual unanimous decision. The names were announced at a dinner of the Adirondack Bobsled Club Tuesday night.

Record Timber Sales

LANSING (AP) — Sale of timber on state - owned land during January netted $100,387 — a record for a one-month period, the state conservation department reports.

Timber sales from July to December, 1954, totaled $267,862, a record high for a six month period.

The department said more methods of utilizing wood accounted for the boom in sales.

108 Point Output May Be U.S. Mark

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A St.Joe, Ark., boy may hold the all-time record for high school basketball team to score more than 100 points. But Morris Dale Mathis of St.Joe recently plunked in 108 points by himself as his team defeated Witt Springs, Ark.

'Mo' Quits Tennis for Love

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Tennis lost out Tuesday night to Cupid as Maureen Connolly suddenly gave up her court comeback plans in favor of a June marriage.

The blonde, brown-eyed miss, who at 20 has captured most of the world's tennis crowns and still holds some of them, picked "The Month of Brides" for culmination of her engagement to Norman Brinker, 23. They had been engaged since November 1953. But marriage plans had been indefinitely postponed.

The announcement surprised even close friends who had watched the determined girl's preparation for a return to her meteoric tennis career, which was interupted by a horse riding injury to her right leg last July.

"I just don't enjoy tennis any more," said Miss Connolly. "I've lost that old spark, the drive one must sustain to go through a long season's campaign like I have for several years.

"If I don't have that keen interest for tennis, a tour would be no good."

Miss Connolly said that after she was settled in domestic life she might try a comeback aimed at regaining her National Championship, and possibly a short tour of Europe.

"But as for tennis in my future, I look forward toward the teaching end," she said. She said she would enjoy passing on her experience to other hopefuls.

Until Tuesday night's surprise announcement, Miss Connolly's dominating ambition had appeared to be the regaining of the U. S. Women's crown. She won that coveted title when she was only 16 and held it for three straight years. The riding accident prevented defense of it last September and it was won by Doris Hart of Florida.

Miss Connolly began her tennis career when she was 10 years old. At 14 she captured her first National Junior Crown. Her victory came when she was a year younger than Helen Wills at the time the Berkeley, Calif., girl first won the same title.

When Miss Connolly won her first U. S. Women's Singles title in 1951 she was the youngest player ever to hold the crown. The next year she captured the All-England Championships at Wimbledon in her first attempt. She retained the Wimbledon title the next two years.

She has also won major championships in other countries including national titles of France (twice), Ireland (twice), Italy, Australia, Germany and Sweden.

Boston Doge 'Dark Horse' for Saturday's Flamingo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Paul Andolino's unbeaten Boston Doge is the real "dark horse" in Saturday's $100,000 added Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park.

Trainer Frank Andolino said today he intends to start the winner of eight straight races, including two Hialeah stakes, in the mile and a furlong fixture for 3-year-olds.

Boston Doge has not raced since he won the 7-furlong Bahamas three weeks ago, but the little dark bay colt galloped a mile Tuesday and came back playing.

The Bahamas was his longest race and the jockey who rode him that day — Eric Guerin — won't be available on Saturday. Guerin has accepted the mount on Paul Mellon's Cup Man.

Willie Hartack, who previously rode Boston Doge to victory at Tropical Park and again in the Hibiscus at Hialeah, likewise won't be available because he is assigned to pilot Maine Chance Farm's Apollo.

Frank Andolino said he wouldn't select a jockey until after the colt breezes today or Thursday and that he might send to Sunshine Park for Vernon Bush, who rode Boston Doge to four victories in New England last summer.

Davis Cup Star Gets Welcome at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — National Amateur Tennis Champion Vic Seixas gets a welcome home parade today from Philadelphia for his part in bringing the Davis Cup back to the United States.

Scheduled in Seixas' honor was a parade featuring civic, business and sports leaders, Fairmount Park mounted guards, police and firemen's bands and a lengthy motorcade.

Seixas defeated Australian Ken Rosewall and teamed with Tony Trabert to take a doubles match as the United States won the Cup 3-2.

Linscott's Comeback Continues March 8

Pontiac's Gene Linscott will make the 2nd bout of his comeback campaign March 8 at the Motor City Arena in Detroit when he tangles with Randy Huff, Detroit middleweight, in a 4-rounder.

Theodore DeGroff of Pontiac carries a 145 bowling average, but it couldn't be proved by his work in last week's mixed league competition at the East Highland Recreation on Duck Lake Road. DeGroff, who lives at 1890 Ward, rolled three straight lines of 160 for one of the season's latest triplicates.

He was signed yesterday by head coach Dan Devine, a former backfield coach at MSC.

In a dual meet against Colgate yesterday at Payne Whitney Pool, the winning Yale trio was clocked in three minutes, 20.5 seconds to break the mark of 3:21.9 set by the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 13, 1954.

Sammy Eyes Master's Title

Cards 10 Under Par to Set Course Record in Practice Match

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Sam Snead gave notice today that he is ready to resume tournament golf after a three-month layoff and will be out to retain his Master's title.

Snead set a new course record of 61—10 strokes under par—at the Lagorce Country Club here Tuesday to go with his 64 scored in a practice round Monday.

Playing in the club's Wainwright Churchill Memorial Tournament Tuesday, Snead had four birdies and three eagles on the 5,850-yard course where par is 35-36—71.

The old course record of 63 was held jointly by Bobby Cruickshank, Johnny Farrell and Johnny Palmer.

The Maxwell Team Trophy is presented annually to the team winning the National Collegiate Golf championship.

Richard, Two Mates Near 100 Goal Mark

MONTREAL (UP) — Veteran Maurice Richard, with two Montreal youngsters to help him, today was on the verge of repeating a scoring feat he last performed 10 years ago.

Richard, Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion had a total of 99 goals between them after 57 games of the National Hockey League season. All they need is one goal in the remaining 13 games to make a prophet of coach Dick Irvin, who predicted last fall that the trio of "flying Frenchmen" would hit the century mark this season.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Maryland Senate was asked Monday to throw its weight against the doors of the exclusive Turf Club at Laurel Race Track.

Sen. Philip H. Goodman, Baltimoe City Democrat, wants the Senate to urge the racing commission to request Laurel to let everyone into the club "upon the payment of a reasonable admittance charge."

The club now admits only members who are invited by the track to join. A clubhouse and grandstand is open to all.

Stock Car Mark Set by Air Pilot

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Four records have been set in speed week here. The latest was set Tuesday when an airplanes pilot drove a 1955 Chrysler "300" at an average of 127.580 m.p.h. over the measured mile.

The driver, Warren Koechling, 33, of Miami, made the south run over the Ocean Beach course at 124.395 m.p.h. and came back north with a tailwind at 130.786.

The previous mark for late model U. S. production stock automobiles was 117.065 m.p.h. set last year by Brewster Shaw of Daytona Beach in a 1954 Chrysler.

Russian Hockey Team Stronger This Year

KREFELD, Germany (AP)—Pavel Korotov, leader of all Russian ice hockey, says his team for the World Championships starting Sunday is "stronger than the Russians who won last year."

He expects Russia, Canada, the United States, Sweden and Czechoslovakia to challenge for the title. "They are the strongest and have equal chances," he said. "I would not pick among them."

Texas Christian, Columbia Upset in College Cage Action, Little Hofstra Dumps Manhattan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just when the college boys finally seemed to be playing true to form, old man upset aroused himself and whacked Texas Christian, Columbia and Manhattan in basketball last night.

TCU appeared to have the Southwest Conference race under control, but Baylor, a 50-50 team in league play, smacked the Frogs 79-68. Manhattan, all set for the NIT as the best of the crop in metropolitan New York, was spilled by little Hofstra 81-74 in overtime, and Columbia said goodby to its Ivy League title hopes as Dartmouth came up with an 84-63 decision.

TCU's Dick O'Neal, the scoring sophomore, totaled 35 points but it wasn't enough and came too late. Jerry Mallett was high for Baylor with 32 points.

TCU needed only a split in its final two games to clinch at least a share of the championship. Now the Frogs (8-3) will have to get past Arkansas March 1 to hold that guarantee. The Razorbacks just dropped out of the race last night in an 83-69 defeat by Southern Methodist (7-3), hot on TCU's trail with two games remaining.

Dartmouth's victory over Columbia, which had been tied for second behind Penn in the Ivy, was the work of Captain Glenn Wilson. He got Dartmouth off to a 10-4 lead and then hit for 17 points in the final 10 minutes to set a one-game scoring mark for the Indians with 35 points.

Colorado bolstered its Big Seven lead with an 80-69 triumph against also-ran Kansas.

North Carolina State wrapped up first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference by defeating North Carolina 79-75.

Duke outlasted Virginia 108-92 as Ron Mayer and Junior Morgan combined for 58 points.

Richmond defeated high-scoring Furman and Darrell Floyd 79-73 from the free throw line. Floyd, No. 1 scorer in the nation, got 34.

Skyrocketing Scores Mark Negro Golf Open

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Skyrocketing scores featured opening play in the North-South Open Golf Tournament for Negroes at the Miami Springs Country Club Tuesday.

Only Clifford Brown, 22-year-old amateur from Cleveland, was able to break par with a 69 to take medal honors. Low among the pros were Herbert Dixon of Bartow, Fla., and Bill Spiller of Los Angeles with one over 71s.

No tie games were played in the National League in 1954. The last time there were no ties was 1925.

PHS Tankers Hold Final Home Event

Pontiac High School's swimming team makes its final appearance of the season in its home pool tonight in a dual non-league meet with Plymouth High.

Time for the event is 7:30 p.m. Des Boyce's tankers have won 9 of their 11 meets and wind up dual competition Friday in a Saginaw Valley Conference meet at Bay City.

The season winds up with the Saginaw Valley Relays at Flint March 4 and the state meet at East Lansing, March 11-12.

Active Spring Is Predicted for Boat Sellers and Buyers

By JACK PATTERSON

When and if spring comes to this northern latitude it's going to be a wet one for the outdoorsman. Doesn't matter a bit what the weatherman should arrange in the way of fair weather or foul, either. For it seems that manufacturers of sporting equipment have discovered water and, by George, if they get their way, your outdoor moments will be spent in, on or under it.

PATTERSON

Boats will be very much in evidence in the spring spotlight.

Presumably there are citizens now boatless who plan to remedy the situation in the event the ice goes out sometime during the calendar year. These people face a mighty tough choice from the array offered the prospective buyer.

Without going into detail, there are some basic considerations which the buyer should know. First of all, pick a boat that will do the job you want it to do.

There is no such thing as an all-purpose boat. If portability is the important thing, the many lightweight cartop boats fill the bill perfectly, with aluminum or plastic favored over wood or plywood because of ease of maintenance. But these boats are poor performers in heavy water.

If heavy duty, big water use is called for, notions of lightweight can be forgotten. Good old solid wood has yet to be surpassed.

For the popular family runabout, for average small lake use, neither extreme ruggedness nor ultra-lightweight ofers any particular advantage, the choice is almost limitless, in models, makes and materials.

Again for ease of upkeep, aluminum or plastic is hard to beat, but wood or plywood has it's admirers among those who don't mind the considerable effort of annual refurbishing. Aluminum and magnesium boats are noisy to a certain extent, but make up for it in requiring no upkeep whatsoever. The same is true, to a certain degree of plastic models.

Along with the boats there will be an almost equally endless array of outboard motors this spring, with quiet, vibrationless operation stressed. Although electric starting isn't new, conversion kits for manual starting motors are, and at least two are currently on the market, both a little long on price.

For the underwater operator news from the manufacturers is mostly good. Competition has reared its head and prices of underwater gear are steadily declining. Complete self-contained outfits should be on the market by spring for under $100.

That favorite character of ours, the fisherman, who spends some of his time on the water, much of it in the water and, not a little under it is the beneficiary of some price warring, too. Such things as the five dollar, double taper, fly line are on the market now, with other items showing signs of similar trends.

So it looks as though it will not only be a busy season on the water, but a somewhat more economical one, too.

Battle Rages Over 'Any-Deer' Continuation

Proposal to Maintain Discretionary Power Is Apt to Die

LANSING (UP) — Deer shot three months ago came back to haunt conservation experts this week as controversy over merits of an "any deer" season raged with new vigor in the legislature.

The fight centers on a proposal to continue the conservation commission's discretionary power over the state's deer herd—which all boils down to authority to stage "any deer" kills.

"We're still getting letters and petitions about the needless kill during the last 'any deer' season," house conservation committee chairman Kenneth Trucks (R-Baldwin) said.

Trucks, who has agreed to give the matter a public hearing once it is introduced, stuck to his prediction last week that the bill would die.

When the 15 members of the house committee were asked to sponsor the discretionary measure not one volunteered.

"It's a hot potato," Rep. Fredric Marshall (R-Allen) said.

"I wouldnt stick my neck out," Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City) said. "It would just get chopped off. The bill hasn't a chance."

"I'm too busy," Rep. Peter Kelly (D-Detroit) said.

Kelly, Marshall and Peltz said they favored continuation of the discretionary power but other members are opposed or are waiting to see which way the wind blows.

Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) who is not a member of the committee ,told conservation officials yesterday he would be willing to sponsor the bill because "what's good for the conservation department is good for me."

Dog Keeps Vigil by Lake Where Friend Fished

Angler Now Dead, but Animal Returns Each Day to Lakeside

TRAVERSE CITY (UP) — Fishermen at nearby Elk lake are puzzled by the behavior of a collie dog standing guard near the spot where a Traverse City man died Feb. 13.

The dog, they told Traverse county sheriff's deputies, has stationed himself there every day since Robert Muschott, 68, collapsed and died of a heart attack as he was preparing to go ice fishing. The animal refuses to let anyone onto the lake at that point and has driven away several fishermen who tried to do so.

Area residents said Muschott befriended the dog and it accompanied him on several fishing trips at the lake.

Sheriff's men said they would attempt to locate the owner of the dog and ask him to remove the animal from the lake.

Bloodhound in Line for Title

Bombadier Seeks 2nd Straight Best-in-Show Honors at Boston

BOSTON (UP) — Ch. Fancy Bombardier, a bloodhound who works for the Connecticut police, today tries to become the third animal in the history of the Eastern Dog Club's show to win the best-in-show title two years running.

Bombardier easily won best-of-breed honors Tuesday night in the first of the 2-day sessions of the 42nd annual Eastern Classic at Mechanics Building.

A pair of wire-haired terriers, Ch. Welwire Barrington Bridegroom (1924-25) and Ch. Weltona Frizette of Wild Oaks (1930-31) are the only dogs to accomplish the feat in the past.

Bombardier is owned by Thomas and Pearl Sheahan of Torrington, Conn.

The International Tuna Cup Match will be held on Sept. 7, 8 and 9 at Wedgeport, Nova Scotia.

Number of Deer Killed by Cars on the Increase

LANSING (UP) — Number of deer killed by motorists is increasing, the conservation department said Tuesday.

In 1954, motorists killed 378 deer on Lower Peninsula highways. This compared with 361 during 1953.

"If the southern deer herd continues to increase at the present increased traffic problem in rate, we are going to have an years to come," said D. H. Raess field administration supervisor of the Jackson district.

Raess said deer damage to crops in the area is also expected to increase in future years.

State game workers say the deer herd in the southern part of the state is due for a big increase because of better food conditions.

Art Larsen Begins Defense of Crown

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Defending champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., swings into action in the Masters Tennis Tournament today meeting Joe Jacinto of East Rockway, N. Y., in the feature match.

Tuesday, Jacinto defeated Hal Schauss of Tallahassee, Fla., 6-3, 8-6.

In other first round matches, second-seeded Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., beat Hugh Peacock of Toronto, Ont., 6-3, 6-3, and Lonnie Jordan of Montgomery, Ala., trimmed Tom Mickler of Jacksonville 6-1, 6-4.

Mark Wittock, Wayne sophomore forward from Rhinelander, Wisconsin, is the son of one of Coach Joel Mason's boyhood friends from Stambaugh, Michigan.

Brilliant Runs in First Tests

Second Group of 16 Dogs Runs Today in National Event

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. (UP)—With the caliber of competition already set by exceptional opening day performances, another 16 dogs will be tested over quail-laden Sedgefield Plantation today in qualifying runs of the National Shooting Dog Championship.

Eight of the 16 pups to be put down are from Alabama. None is from Georgia, which produced the standouts in Tuesday's competition.

Thirty-five coveys were turned up by the eight braces displaying their form Tuesday, but hunting conditions may not be so favorable today after the scent-killing drizzle which started Tuesday.

Mills' Plowboy owned by Herbert Ingram of Cuthbert, Ga., and Joy, owned by Frank Hutchinson of Rossville, Ga., both uncovered three coveys and displayed championship form.

Spear-Fishing Ends Feb. 28 on Lakes

LANSING — Fish spearing through the ice of inland waters ends for the year on Feb. 28.

However, some restricted ice spearing is permitted on the Great Lakes and on Great Lakes' connecting waters after that date.

The enthusiast may also spear carp, redhorse, suckers, mullett and certain other fish during April and May.

All these regulations are detailed in the present fish law digest, obtainable from any license dealer.

Rocky Sledding!

'Discretionary Power' Idea Appears Doomed

Extension of the Conservation Commission's "discretionary power" over Michigan's deer herd faces rocky going in the Legislature where, to date, no member has been found willing even to introduce the measure, much less support it.

At this point, the odds appear strongly against renewal, despite the official backing of Michigan United Conservation Clubs and some other interested groups.

Yet, just three years ago, the legislative atmosphere was different. With the grisly memory of more than 50,000 deer starved to death during the previous winter fresh in their minds, the lawmakers gave the commission a three-year blank check to take any measures felt necessary to control the deer herd.

Details of those measures don't require review here. But one important point should be made and emphasized: The controls thus far without exception have involved killing more deer to reduce the herd to what biologists call "the carrying capacity of the range."

This is essentially a negative approach. No real, large-scale effort has been made on the positive side — improvement of the range so it can carry more deer. And that, in this writer's opinion, is what has gotten the legislators and their constituents so riled up.

It's true that experiments are being carried on in controlled burning and treatment with weed-killers to encourage growth of new browse plants.

There's been agitation, but no action, for changes in forest management practices to promote more deer food. Suggestions for emergency winter feeding—through planting, cutting, airdrop or what have you — have been thumbed down as "too expensive" or "impractical."

Majors Optimistic as Training Season Nears

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the Boston Red Sox fret about the intentions of Ted Williams who is spending the week fishing off Florida, at least one of the first-liners is in an optimistic mood.

Catcher Sammy White, like Williams unsigned, said Wednesday he expects to be aboard the train heading south for the Sox training camp in Sarasota Sunday. Furthermore, he sees a big improvement in the club's pitching.

"Last year the loss of Mel Parnell early in the season put a strain on the rest of the boys right down the line," he said. "If Mel is all right again—and I don't see any reason why he won't be—that pressure will be released.

"I'm also high on Frank Sullivan. I don't see how he can miss winning 20 games this year, barring injuries. He has the know-how and the desire. He's one of those guys who stay up with you all night after losing a game to see what he did wrong.

"Another years experience should improve the control of some of our young pitchers and that's important. When you know the pitcher is going to throw the ball where he wants to, you can station your fielders in one place and play percentage the whole way.

"A lot of ball went through our infield last year that weren't the fault of the fielders."

No one in the Sox organization knows exactly what is on Williams' mind and they probably won't until the end of the week. He has a contract—or, at least one has been mailed to him—but he has done nothing about it.

Meanwhile, signed contracts continued to dribble in.

Chuck Diering, who probably will play a major role in the success or failure of the revamped Baltimore Orioles, came to terms for an estimated $2,000 raise. But no figure on the contract was given.

Only four Orioles have not signed and none is expected to pose a problem so Paul Richards should have a happy club.

The Milwaukee Braves and Pittsburg Pirates each brought one of their regulars into the fold. Johnny Logan, the National League's top fielding shortstop for the past three years, agreed with the Braves, while infielder Dick Cole accepted the Pirates' terms.

The Detroit Tigers, who recently turned down an offer of $100,000 for outfielder-catcher J. W. Porter, signed the youngster, who is returning from the Armed Forces.

Tribe, With New Talent Appears to Be AL's Best Bet, With Yanks in Opposition

NEW YORK (AP)—Six new managers face the gun in the American League this season but it looks like another race between the same old rivals, Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees who finished one-two or two-one for the last four years.

With Ralph Kiner, acquired from the Chicago Cubs, added to the slugging array that helped the Indians win 111 games last year, and rookie Herb Score on the pitching staff, Cleveland is the likely favorite to repeat.

Score comes up with strong boosts from all rival scouts after a sensational year on the Indianapolis farm club of the American Association. They say the young lefty simply can't miss. Adding Score to pitchers like Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and Bobby Feller, gives Cleveland the strongest staff in the league.

Despite the retirement of Allie Reynolds, many think the Yanks traded themselves into another pennant when they lured pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen and shortstop Billy Hunter from Baltimore in the biggest deal of the winter. Stengel already has the makings of a young staff in Whitey Ford, Bob Grim and Tom Morgan plus Eddie Lopat, only survivor of the Yanks' "Big Three" of other years.

The big rookie of the Yank camp will be Elston Howard, a catcher-outfielder, who may become the 1st Negro ever to make the club.

Marty Marion, who takes over the head job at Chicago, has added 1st baseman Walt Dropo, outfielders Bob Nieman and Lloyd Merriman and catcher Clint Courtney from other big league clubs. Minnie Minoso remains the big noise at bat with Billy Pierce, Bob Keegan, Virgil Trucks, Sandy Consuegra and and Jack Harshaman to handle the pitching.

Moving to Detroit, Bucky Harris will find a young, improving outfield of Bill Tuttle, Al Kaline and probably J. W. Porter or Bubba Phillips. A trade with the White Sox brought 1st baseman Ferris Fain to the Tigers to round out the infield of Fred Hatfield, Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone. Ned Garver, Billy Hoeft and Steve Gromek are the big men of the pitching staff and an improvement on last year's 5th place finish is indicated.

Boston, of course, is still cliff hanging waiting for Ted Williams to make up his mind — positively —about his retirement. Jackie Jensen and Jim Piersall are set as the other outfielders but the infield must be worked out by new manager Pinky Higgins.

At Washington, Chuck Dressen will discover he has sound pitching in Bob Porterfield, Chuck Stobbs, Maury McDermott, Dean Stone, Johnny Schmitz and Frank Shea and an outfield that can "go get 'em" but has not much power.

Baltimore's hope under Paul Richards is for some of the ex-Yanks to come through. Hal Smith already is being hailed as the No. 1 catcher before training starts. Gene Woodling is sure to play left field. Rest of the positions probably will be platooned.

Despite the shift from Philadelphia to Kansas City and a change of managers from Eddie Joost to Lou Boudreau, the A's still are in sad shape.

Smarks Heads Movement to Unite Prep Coaches

Michigan high school athletic coaches will make an attempt to organize at the annual coaches "summer school" at Mt. Pleasant next August.

Paul Smarks, Fitzgerald High School athletic director, is in the process of completing a constitution for the proposed Michigan State Coaches Association which will be acted upon at the Mt. Pleasant meetings.

Officers will be elected at that time and chairmen selected from various regions to act as the organization's governing body. The coaches hope to work closely with the state director's office.

Smarks points out that the association will definitely not be a pressure group.

"We have no axes to grind," the one-time Lapeer High School coach says. "We feel that since coaches' organizations in other states are such a great success, a similar group here can also function successfully and do a lot of good for the cause of athletics in Michigan."

Here are some of the aims and objectives, as outlined by Smarks:

1—To stimulate a greater professional spirit and a higher standard of courtesy, conduct and sportsmanship.

2—To secure a better understanding of the problems of high school coaching and to place at the disposal of coaches more sources of information.

3—To have a representative group of coaches to which may be referred athletic problems of general interest in the hope of creating better relationships between schools.

4—To help maintain high standards in high school athletics and the coaching profession and to work together for the improvement of conditions in Michigan high school athletics.

5—Facilitate the exchange of ideas on all phases in school athletics.

Smarks recently stepped into the position of athletic director at Fitzgerald after many years of football coaching. His gridiron job will be filled by Jerry Udell.

Southpaw Bill Werle, getting another major league chance with the Cincinnati Redlegs, showed remarkable control for Louisville in the American Assn. during 1954. In 97 innings he walked only eight men.

Trabert Looks Ahead to Pro Tennis Career

Tony Lays Plans After Beating Richardson for Indoor Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Trabert, new National Indoor Tennis king, reiterated his aim today to score a sweep of the big summer events and go for the professional pot of gold.

"My plans?" The 24-year-old husky from Cincinnati parried a question. "I'll play tennis all summer. I hope to win at Wimbledon and at Forest Hills, help defend the Davis Cup and then, if I'm made an offer, turn pro."

Thick-shouldered Tony looked capable of carrying out his ambitious program as he whipped his Davis Cup teammate, Hamilton Richardson, in the indoor finals Tuesday at the Seventh Regiment Armory. The scores were 11-13, 7-5, 9-7, 6-3.

From a spectator standpoint it was an extremely flat and lifeless match, full of quick kills and with few rallies, but Trabert emerged as a man again on top of his game.

"He looks more like the Trabert of 1953 than any time I've seen him," said Bill Talbert, U. S. Davis Cup captain.

I feel fine and fit," said Trabert. "I had a little cold which bothered me but as for my tennis—well, I'm moving and hitting the ball well. I have no complaints."

He lost his service only twice against Richardson, both in the first set, and then proceeded to take the next three sets with strategic breaks as Richardson, a diabetic, began to tire.

However, Richardson's game continued to reflect the improvement which became so apparent last year and which, if continued, is bound to make him a top U. S. Davis Cup competitor, rather than the perennial sub.

Bob Burrow, 6 foot 7 center for the Kentucky Wildcats, played two years of basketball at Lon Morris Junior College in Jacksonville, Tex.

RECORD BREAKER—Guy Sparrow of Pontiac became the highest scorer in University of Detroit history last Saturday night as he eclipsed Norm Swanson's career record of 1,494 points. Sparrow's 20 points against St. Louis boosted his total to 1,513 and he added 20 more points to the mark Monday night at Toledo. He has 3 more games in which to fatten the total. The ex-PHS star also is only 24 points shy of his single season record of 549 points, set last year. By averaging 25 points in the Titans' last 3 games, Sparrow can hit 600 points for the season.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Arm to Right.

Like the golfer afflicted with an abominable slice, the hook bowler's big pain is hitting the head pin on the nose. Why? Anxiety, usually. The eagerness to fit the ball smack in the 1-3 strike pocket. So he pulls the ball off-line by over-turning the hand, instead of restricting the turn by lifting the arm straight up.

Take the word of stylist Junie McMahon that you're not going to get anywhere until you develop an arm lift. Not fast, mind you. On the contrary, it's got to be a smooth, easy lift, away out there at the end of the follow-through.

It has to be natural, normal. Not one of those zip, smack, bang, get-rid-of-the-ball thrusts, as if the ball were too hot to handle.

In the sketch McMahon's most important control point is illustrated: The arm swings to the right of the desired ball track, and it never passes the line of the right shoulder. Do that, and you'll soon be in the strike groove and stay there!

Wheat Rallies in Active Deals

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat rallied on the Board of Trade today after it and all other grains had sold off at the start. Dealings were active.

On the comeback, old crop wheat futures made up all their early loss and went ahead of the previous close. Other grains were not able to do as well as wheat, merely reducing earlier losses for the most part.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ¾ higher, March $2.20½; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, March $1.48⅛; oats ¼ to ⅜ lower, March 75⅝, rye ¼ to 1¼ higher, March $1.11½; soy beans 1¼ to 1¾ lower, March $2.74; and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.55.

Address Made by Stringfellow

Fake War Hero Talks in Kalamazoo to Launch Comeback

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Former Republican Rep. Douglas F. Stringfellow of Utah, who gave up his try for re-election last fall after exposure of faked war heroics used in his campaign, made an address here last night.

Stringfellow's talk, before the Executives Club, was billed as the first of a series of "comeback" speeches he is undertaking.

His businessmen's audience warmly applauded him after he urged a return to "fundamental Americanism" without what he called dependency on federal bureaucracy.

He said America should be cautious not to follow the course of other nations which revolted against bondage and became independent and prosperous only to sink into indifference and complacency which led to their downfall.

Stringfellow, who is 32, mentioned what he referred to as his "grievous mistake" of the 1954 campaign and said he was "willing to spend the rest of my life trying to make amends to the American people."

He abandoned his election fight last fall after the Air Force disclosed he had attributed false war heroics to himself while campaigning.

Stringfellow, a former serviceman, admitted he falsified a story of parachuting behind enemy lines in Germany.

Stringfellow spoke to a Town Hall lecture circuit audience in Detroit today. He will appear in Jackson March 3.

The increase will bring Chevrolet employes in the Buffalo area to nearly 11,000. Company officials said it is a reflection of record-breaking production in the Buffalo area.

Policeman Won't Reveal His Professional Secret

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP) — Police apparently learn a few professional secrets from burglars they apprehend.

A long distance call from Mrs. Ted Christle, an Austin woman who was out of the city, reported she had forgotten to turn off the electric coffee pot before leaving home.

"The house is locked," Mrs. Christle said, "but break a window to get in."

Patrolman Victor Bauer went to the home. He entered without breaking a window, but isn't saying how he did it.

Surviving besides his wife, Grace, are a son, Kenneth of Roseville, three daughters, Mrs. Aileen Foerster, Mrs. Viola Houghten, both of Detroit, Mrs. Dorothy Gellasch of Utica, and eight grandchildren.

Market Eases; Rails Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market tended to ease in early trading today. But railroads were mostly higher and there was strength among some utilities and aircrafts.

Steels, motors, oils, copper and rubber producers favored the minus column. But losses were mainly minor fractions. Farm implement makers were firm. Distillers and motion pictures were irregular.

Shortly after the opening, the ticker tape began running behind the trading pace with the market slightly lower. But the tape soon cleared and slower and more selective activity followed.

Some large blocks changing hands were mostly at higher quotations: Pennsylvania Railroad 26⅜ up ⅜ on 12,000 shares, Columbia Gas 17 up ⅛ on 7,000 shares, Boeing 83 up 1¼ on 6,000 shares, New York Central 36 up ¼ on 3,000 shares, American Telephone 180⅞ up ⅜ on 2,500 shares, Standard Oil (NJ) 114¼ off ⅜ on 2,300 shares and Gar Wood 7½ up ⅜ on 12,800 shares.

Losing ground were General Motors, Goodyear, Anaconda, Dupont, General Electric, American Woolen, Santa Fe, Texas Co. and Loew's.

Faure Outlines Plans, Cabinet

Asks Assembly OK to Head the 21st Postwar French Government

PARIS (AP)—Edgar Faure laid his program and prospective cabinet before the National Assembly today, asking approval to head France's 21st postwar government. His chances generally were considered good.

Outlining his aims if given the job, Faure said he would work for final ratification of the Paris treaties rearming West Germany. These pacts have been approved by the Assembly but still face action in the upper house.

After final ratification of the treaties, Faure said, new efforts should be undertaken immediately to arrange for Big Four negotiations on both European and Asian problems.

He made no sweeping pledges to any group in the badly divided Assembly. Instead, he suggested unspectacular moves to raise gradually the standard of living in France, further stimulate industrial production and work out distribution problems for surplus farm products.

Faure's bid for the premiership came as the government crisis resulting from the ouster of Pierre Mendes-France entered its 19th day. The Assembly rejected three previous candidates —Antoinne Pinay, Pierre Pflimlin and Christian Pineau.

Political observers estimated Faure would win with around 320 votes. This would give him a working majority — at least for the present — of the 625-seat Assembly.

He-Man Technique OK, if She Locks the Doors

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — If you have to break into her house to talk to a girl, don't be stealthy about it.

Lester Peters wasn't. He rang the bell, told the girl through the door that he wanted to talk, walked arpund the house, rang the bell twice more, tried the front and back doors, then kicked out the kitchen screen and walked in.

The Florida Supreme Court reversed Peters' conviction on a "breaking and entering" charge and ordered him freed. "Breaking and entering," the court said, required the element of stealth.

AMC Engineer Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Robert A. Suzek, chief research engineer for the Hudson Motor Car division of American Motors Corp., died yesterday at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital after a three-year illness. He was 71.

Suzek, a native of Czechoslovakia had lived in Detroit for 25 years.

Auto Factories in Output Race

Speculators Predicting Year's Production May Eclipse '50 Record

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto factories have made one of the fastest and heaviest production starts in their history. And the retailing division isn't very far behind.

So far in 1955 the factories have rolled out more than 1,150,000 new cars. Retail deliveries through last week are estimated at well above 800,000 units.

The industry is operating at higher production and retail levels than even the most optimistic of the general sales chiefs predicted when the new models were introduced several months ago.

So fast has become the production pace some industry analysts are beginning to speculate as to whether output and sales this year could approximate the 1950 record of 6,675,000 and 6,219,450 respectively.

Most of the car makers disavow any such expectations. They agree production and sales are at record levels (if figured on a daily basis) right now. But they indicate they will settle for the production and sale of 5¾ million new cars this year.

Giving impetus to the blistering production and sales pace are separate competitive battles between different groups of the car makers.

Aside from the Ford-Chevrolet fight and Chrysler's effort to regain the ground it lost in 1954, Buick and Plymouth are putting on a rousing battle for third place in industry standing.

At the moment Plymouth is back in its historic place in production volume, but Buick is close behind. A production pause for only a few hours by either could upset the standing.

FTC Keeps Hands Off Price-Cutting Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has adopted a hands-off policy toward the growing rivalry between regular retail stores and price-cutting discount houses.

In a major decision announced last night, FTC rejected a request that it enforce state "fair trade" laws on discount houses that sell to the public at prices approaching wholesale levels.

FTC advised retailers to meet discount house competition by slashing their own prices rather than seeking FTC enforcement of state-sanctioned minimum price agreements.

Dividend Is Declared

DETROIT (AP) — Burroughs Corp. yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share. It will be paid April 20 to shareholders of record March 26. The company paid a similar dividend in the first quarter of 1954. The firm has 5,002,790 common shares outstanding.

Chrysler Contract Accepted by Union

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Officials of the CIO United Automobile Workers Union early today unanimously accepted a wage contract offered by Chrysler Corp., averting a walkout planned for 6 a.m.

Stewarts and committeeman of the Chrysler unit of Local 195 endorsed the agreement at 4 a.m., two hours short of the scheduled walkout. They met behind closed doors for three hours before announcing their decision.

The agreement must be ratified by the 7,500 union members. A membership meeting has been called for Sunday.

The contract gives the workers an hourly increase of four cents, bringing their average wage to $1.75. The union originally asked for 15 cents an hour. Other benefits include two extra paid holidays, bringing the total to eight, and medical and hospitalization and life insurance concessions.

Mueller Dividends Upped to $1.60 on Annual Basis

PORT HURON (AP) — Mueller Brass Co. directors have voted to increase the regular quarterly distibution on common stock to 40 cents a share.

F. L. Riggin Sr., president, said yesterday the increase places the stock on a $1.60 annual basis. In recent years the company paid dividends at the rate of 30 cents quarterly, plus year-end extras.

The 40 cent dividend is payable March 24 to shareholders of record at the close of business March 11.

Long Distance Phoning Rapidly Becomes a Habit

By MARGARET LATROBE

The telephone company has discovered that it pays to advertise. Or at least, that's the news emanating from my radio and television these days.

Minneapolis a mere $1.30, Portland $2.00, if it's Oregon you want. Portland, Maine, is only 55 cents from here. Makes you wish you knew a lot of people in those places.

Within a year or two, depending on your location, you won't need to bother the long distance operators to place a call across the continent. We will be using the dial-it-yourself method of hoisting the monthly phone bill. And it is a scary thought for those who suffer from long distance telephonitis.

It is an ailment pleasantly removed from local telephonitis, which is a bore. There are plenty of folk, mostly women I'm told, who chatter away the hours via telephone to a friend who may live a mere 50 yards down the street. For this Alexander Graham Bell invented the phone? I think not. Local phoning is for fast messages, not a substitute tea party.

But long distance — ah! This is an exhilarating communication with loved ones far away. It's the next thing to a visit home, and you can cover a lot of territory in three minutes. Then if you are feeling flush, carry on until the budget begins making loud noises.

When we went away to college (all of 20 miles), long distance was a novelty in the family. Telegrams meant trouble, and there was no such frivolity as congratulatory wedding or birthday wires. Ours was a letter-writing family. Plenty of time to write the good news. No use frightening folks out of their wits by a sudden telegram.

And as for phoning!

No disaster ever struck which would warrant such extreme measures. But we finally got Mother to the point where she could do better than "Are you all right?" — and hang up with relief. In fact, by the time we lived 2,000 miles from home, she was a delightful and lengthy conversationalist. Relaxed as could be, and the toll higher than a kite.

Explicit details of remote third cousins, while fascinating enough in a letter, left us perspiring with anxiety lest the call be chopped off by a rate-conscious operator before we really got going.

And it's a hard habit to break, once you get used to hearing that familiar voice from home. Then you reason this way — if it's really important enough to write, it's too important to waste time with the mails. And first thing you know, Operator 33 — such a sweet, obliging girl, that one — is putting her whole heart into getting your number in Denver, or Dallas or Dayton.

Oh well! — hello there, sweetie. Guess who this is?

To Ask $15,000 Payment for Shore of Indian Land

WOOD RIVER, Ill. (AP)—"The Indian was a smart cookie," says Mrs. Frank Lamanske who plans to file with the U.S. Department of Interior as a reservation-born American Indian. "He was canny enough to demand payment for what he had already lost."

Upon registration with the department, she will stand to receive $15,000 as her portion of the amount to be paid to the Comanche tribe for tribal lands.

A one-quarter Comanche, Mrs. Lamanske is a great-granddaughter of Quannah Parker, described by her as a fine example of the noble redskin who took at least 100 white scalps.

Dairyman Gets Coveted Award

DHIA Managers Pick Dudley Grayson for Pontiac Press Trophy

COMMERCE — Dudley Grayson of Milford was selected to receive the Pontiac Press trophy for outstanding dairy work at the annual meeting of the Oakland County Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. last night.

The selection was made by the four managers of associations making up the county group.

Grayson was cited for his herd of 20 Holsteins with their record of 13,264 pounds of milk and 469 pounds of butterfat each during the past year.

Others receiving honors were Norman Brucker and Claude Wood of Oxford; Marvin Ludwig and sons of Lake Orion; Mrs. Myrtle E. Hess of Pontiac; G. Garlos Long of Milford; Francis R. Hill of Belleville; Fred W. Johnson of Walled Lake; and Darold Heidt of South Lyon.

In addressing the 85 members and wifes who attended, County Agricultural Agent Lyle Abel condemned the extreme pessimism of dairy farmers regarding the future of dairying.

"Oakland County is in a very favorable location for the marketing of dairy products. There will be good dairy farms in the area for generations yet to come," he said.

"We can still look at our farms for many years as time tested programs of good breeding, good housing, good herd health, and proper management and a forward-looking aggressive marketing program will see us through the present crisis to a favorable future," Abel stated.

Factors used in the selection of the Press trophy are high production as shown by records, and improvement made during the year in housing, breeding and feeding. Also studied are a satisfactory breeding program that will constantly improve the herd, and approved practices of management and feeding.

Previous years winners are barred from receiving the award.

For the ceremony the bride chose a rose pointe lace over nylon tulle and satin gown with long lace sleeves, pointed at the wrists, and a chapel length train.

A Juliet cap of lace covered with seed pearl and rhinestones held her fingertip veil of illusion lace, and she carried her bridal bouquet, a white orchid, on a white prayer book.

Mrs. Dean Hughes of Pontiac was matron of honor, and Jessie Chmielewski of Lake Orion and Mrs. James Addiss of Oxford were bridesmaids.

Howard McMillan of Park Ridge, N. J. was the best man, and Keith Spencer and Burdett Stoddard, both of Oxford, seated the guests.

A reception was held in the American Legion Hall following the ceremony, and the couple left for a trip to New York. They will live in Oxford.

Identifies Author of Attacks on Henry

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Board of Education has identified a former Wayne University instructor as the author of anonymous letters attacking Dr. David D. Henry, former president of Wayne who recently was named president of the University of Illinois.

He is Hendrick P. Zuidema, 54, who now is a consulting geologist in Detroit.

Zuidema immediately denied writing any "poison pen" letters against Dr. Henry or anyone else.

"I doubt whether there are any poison letters," he said. "I've been unable to find anyone who has seen them. I didn't write them. This is obviously a political matter. Both local and federal authorities have kept out of it."

The letters, written as "news releases," were circulated while the Illinois Board of Trustees was considering Dr. Henry for president.

The releases questioned Dr. Henry's qualifications as an administrator and implied that he had been "soft" with Communist-front organizations at Wayne.

Actor Talks to Solons

LANSING (AP) — Actor Thomas Mitchell told members of the Legislature yesterday "servant of the people" is the highest title a man can obtain. Mitchell spoke briefly in honor of Washington's birthday.

Recent tests indicate that auto drivers who have had no accidents usually have better vision than those who often run into trouble.

Robert Young, Joan Davis Out

Low Audience Ratings, High Production Costs Spell Doom for Others

NEW YORK (AP)—Low audience ratings and high production budgets are knocking several more television shows off the air.

Two scheduled for the ax are Father Knows Best, starring Robert Young, and I Married Joan, starring Joan Davis. The Young show bows off CBS March 27 and Miss Davis' program leaves NBC April 4.

Breakfast Club, simulcast on ABC-TV and radio, will drop the TV version Friday for lack of sponsors. The radio version will continue.

Stork Club on ABC-TV, loses its sponsor March 5, although it may be kept on the network in another time period. The venerable Pantomime Quiz closes on ABC March 6 and Horizons folds the same night.

A dwindling audience also is the cause for the demise March 6 of the Johns Hopkins Science Review on Du Mont after six years as an unsponsored feature.

The Jean Davis show is an exa le of too much Mickey Mouse and Walt Disney. When it began in October 1952, the show had the formidable opposition of Godfrey and His Friends on CBS. Miss Davis' slowly gained and caught up with Godfrey about a year ago and all was serene until Disney and his pals moved onto ABC last fall. The Disney show sent ratings for Miss Davis' program into a skid, along with those for the first half of the Godfrey show which Disneyland overlaps.

Sponsors will go along with a show that cost a lot if it delivers a lot of viewers, or with a low rating show if it's also inexpensive. But when the show is expensive and still has low ratings, it doesn't last long.

Paper Will Appeal Antitrust Conviction

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Star today planned to appeal its conviction on antitrust charges to a higher court if its motion for a new trial is overruled in Federal District Court.

A District Court jury found the newspaper and its advertising director Emil Sees guilty yesterday of attempting to monopolize the dissemination of news and advertising in the Kansas City area. The Star also was convicted on another count—actually monopolizing the dissemination of news and advertising—but Sees was acquitted on this charge.

Judge Richard M. Duncan withheld sentencing until he rules on the new trial motion, which defense attorneys said they would file shortly.

Roy A. Roberts, president of the Star, said in a statement immediately after the jury's verdict was announced:

"We sincerely felt the incidents or advertising controversies, if they could be termed such . . . were so flimsy and isolated the case should not even have gone to a jury. We will appeal the case to the higher court in complete confidence of the outcome."

State Residents Collect $88 Million in Insurance

NEW YORK (AP) — Holders of life insurance policies in Michigan collected $87,995,000 on 52,989 policies in 1954, it was reported by the Institute of Life Insurance.

The most money was paid on ordinary life policies. The most claims were filed on industrial life policies.

The institute's breakdown for Michigan showed $47,836,000 paid out on 17,928 ordinary life policies; $32,414,000 on 11,206 group life certificates and $7,745,000 on 23,855 industrial life policies.

Nationally the 1954 totals were 1,578,100 death claims and $2,072,206,000 in payments.

Hanging is the only method of capital punishment in the state of Washington.

Police Stop Driver Fast

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Two policemen ordered Mrs. Esther White, of Plainville to stop when her automobile went through a red traffic signal. She did — by crashing into the rear of the officers' cruiser. She told them she didn't stop because she had no brakes. Officers said she had no driver's license, either.
