WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that Red China might soon explode a nuclear device. He said the United States had taken this into account in its military plans and targeting.

Rusk said in a statement released by the State Department that "such an explosion might occur in the near future." If it does he said, "we shall know about it and make the information public."

HARPO MARX

Comedian
Dead at 75
in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harpo Marx, 75, on stage the wackiest of the wacky Marx brothers, but offstage the most normal, most stock member of the family, died last night following surgery.

A terse announcement from Mt. Sinai Hospital said: "Mr. Marx died at 8:30 p.m. following surgery. He was admitted Saturday. His doctor will announce cause of death Tuesday morning following additional tests."

It was speculated that Harpo died following heart surgery, since he had suffered some minor heart attacks in recent years.

At his bedside was his wife Susan and two of his four sons. Surviving brothers, Groucho, Zeppo and Chico were not present when the end came, a hospital spokesman said.

Mostly retired in recent years, Harpo, the silent one of the act, led a quiet life at his Palm Springs home hard by the Fairways of Tamarisk Country Club. In addition to his fame as a comedian, Harpo was one of the world's famed harpists — although he never took a lesson. He couldn't read music, but he often soloed with major symphony orchestras.

Johnson Says
Support for Ike Topped BarryConcerted Appeal to Republicans During
New England Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, responding to wildly enthusiastic receptions in often-Republican sections of New England, has pictured himself as topping Barry Goldwater in support of GOP programs during the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson made this claim part of a concerted appeal for Republican votes during a 20-hour tour of the six New England states.

This journey was capped early today by a visit to the Boston bedside of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who is recuperating from airplane crash injuries.

The President, who saw several hundred thousand cheering welcome during the trip, returned to the White House at 4:22 a.m. with a cut hand, a hoarse throat and a good feeling about his reception in the far northeastern corner of the nation.

Johnson's hand was cut by the fingernails of well-wishers who grabbed for it during the chief executive's repeated forays into surging, roaring crowds. The throat was hoarsened by five formal speeches and at least two dozen impromptu talks.

The New England tour definitely was in the political category, despite appearances at a couple of nonpolitical functions.

OFFICIAL FLIGHT
This afternoon Johnson will hit the trail again — this time making an official flight to the Omaha headquarters of the Strategic Air Command with Manlio Brosio, the new secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson, in picturing himself as a better-than-Goldwater supporter of Republican programs during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, referred directly to his GOP rival for the first time during the campaign.

Paul F. Wagner, the Arizona senator's press secretary, said Goldwater told four reporters in a private interview yesterday he was "thinking about appointing Nixon."

Nixon was not available for comment.

Then he was scheduled for six different appearances at functions on the Eastern Michigan University campus at Ypsilanti.

Staeher had plant-gate handshaking on his morning schedule in Grand Rapids. In the afternoon he was to address the Michigan License Beverage Association convention there.

DUE BACK

He was due to fly back to Detroit tonight for a flametrick reception honoring himself and his running mate for Lieutenant governor, Robert Derengowski. Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski were to be cohorts.

From Hamtramck, Staeher was to fly back to Grand Rapids for another day of Kent County campaigning Wednesday.

Auto Pact Hinges on at-Plant Demands

DETROIT (AP) — Hopes for an early settlement of a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers union against General Motors hinged today on resolving some 17,000 local at-the-plant demands.

With some progress reported at the bargaining table, negotiators for both sides indicated that settlement of the local problems was equally as important to ending the walkout as an agreement on a national contract.

The UAW struck the world's No. 1 automaker Friday when no settlement was forthcoming on the union's non-economic demands covering working conditions, union representation, production quotas and similar issues.

Production of GM's shiny new 1965 models has been halted by the walkout of about a quarter-million workers.

UAW members stayed on the job at the company's plants which supply parts and accessories to its chief competitors — Ford and Chrysler.

OTHER CONTRACTS
The union already has secured new national contracts from both Ford and Chrysler calling for higher pensions as an early retirement incentive, longer vacations, extra holidays and other improvements.

A similar economic package has been offered by GM, but the UAW insists it wanted non-economic improvements as well.

UAW President Walter Reuther and GM Vice President Louis Seaton, who heads the company's bargaining team, told separate news conferences that progress was made in negotiation sessions Monday.

"We did resolve a couple of things . . . and made some progress," said Seaton. But he said that they "were not earthshaking."

ENCOURAGING
IOSPHERE
Reuther said he had found the atmosphere at the bargaining table encouraging.

Murder Warrant
May Be Filed

A former Royal Oak fireman and mental patient, William G. Gravin, 30, was held by police today for investigation of first-degree murder in the hatchet slayings of his wife and daughter and five stepchildren.

The bodies of the seven hatchet victims—all members of the Gravin family — were discovered this morning in their home at 2121 Garson by Troy police.

Troy Police Chief Forrest O. Fisher Jr. said that a first-degree murder warrant would be sought against Gravin, who was picked up this morning walking on Garson.

Dead are Mrs. Betty Gravin, 40; her daughter, Sue Gravin, 5; and Walter, 10, Paul, 12, Dorie, 15, Judy, 16, and Ben Bentley, 17, all children of a previous marriage.

The bodies were found about 8 a.m. scattered throughout the two-story frame house. Each body had a note pinned to it and was covered with clothing or furnishings.

Police said the notes all contained the name of the victim and words to the effect, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to do it."

Chief Fisher theorized that the slayings occurred some time Sunday night. He said that apparently Gravin had been wandering around in the area ever since.

FOUND AT SCENE
A hammer and ax were found at the scene.

Gravin, employed at Temp-Co. in Troy, was picked up this morning and taken to the Madison Heights Police station for questioning.

Chief Fisher said the suspect was in a state of shock. He had burns on the right side of his body.

Troy police learned of the slaying this morning when an unidentified man called and said he had been flagged down on the 175 freeway near the Garson Street house.

The man reported that a man stopped him and said he had just killed his family.

Three police departments — Madison Heights, Troy, and the Oakland County Sheriff's patrol took part in the investigation.

Officers using gas masks entered the Gravin house, giving rise, at first, to the theory the deaths may have occurred some time ago.

Gravin, a former mental patient, had lived at the Garson address as recently as 1961, according to records at Pontiac State Hospital.

School Financing Tied to Economics

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second in a three-part series outlining projected needs for the Pontiac District, financed by an 8.75-mill tax levy which voters will be asked to renew for 10 years Oct. 2.)

By L. GARY THORNE
Which way will it go? How fast . . . and how far?

These questions refer to Pontiac's future — the car, the city and the school district. The three-part puzzle must fit together in order to accurately forecast what's ahead for Pontiac schools.

School officials must determine:
• Will auto production con-

time at its present record-shattering pace?

• How fast will downtown redevelopment occur?
• Will state or federal aid to education increase in the years ahead?

All of these pieces are parts of a puzzle marked "revenue" — the revenue package constituted by the 8.75 mills to be voted on Friday at a special school election.

TWO SOURCES

Operating income for local schools comes from two sources: state aid and tax revenue.

State aid provides about one-third of the district's annual income.

The Pontiac school district received $172 per pupil in state aid last year, totaling $3,737,642.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer says state aid has increased gradually over the years, but not as rapidly as school costs.

While the dollar amounts have increased, the level of state support has not. The trend is expected to continue in the years ahead.

Whitmer says this leaves the burden on Pontiac taxpayers, who already pay two-thirds of the operating costs — the second major source of income.

The Pontiac property tax for school operation is made up of two parts. One part is allocated to schools by the County Tax Allocation Board from the 15-mill constitutional limitation.

In 1964-65, this allocated millage amounts to 9.63 mills in the city.

A second part of the local tax rate is the voted 8.75 mills, which is up for renewal.

The total of the allocated and extra voted millages this year is $18.38 per $1,000 of equalized valuation.

NO CONTROL
School officials do not exercise any control over allocated millage. It varies from year to

Dirksen Behind Mansfield's Proposal

Backs Priority for Assassination Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett R. Dirksen today backed Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal to give legislation on presidential security top priority when Congress reconvenes in January.

Dirksen said in an interview that quick action in the waning days of this session on a single bill to make it a federal crime to assassinate a president or vice president "might mean we would have to do our work all over again" next year.

A White House committee on presidential safety — set up recommendations of the Warren Commission — plans to get started soon on drafting proposals for congressional action early in the new session.

In its report the commission said there were deficiencies in Secret Service preparations for President John F. Kennedy's visit to Dallas. The commission called for "complete overhaul" of the service's advance detection practices and closer liaison with the FBI and other agencies.

FIRST BUSINESS

Mansfield said that new security measures should be "one of the first orders of business" when Congress reconvenes.

Mansfield called Sunday for consideration by Congress of new security measures before adjournment.

But he told reporters Monday it is "perhaps too late" to act on any measures at this session and broad legislative action to strengthen governmental agencies should be put off until the White House committee reports.

Several bills to make it a federal crime to kill a president or vice president are pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which meets today.

The committee may act on another bill — introduced by Mansfield and Dirksen — to provide Secret Service protection for the Republican presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, and for the Republican and Democratic vice presidential candidates, Rep. William E. Miller and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The legislation, if enacted, would extend such protection to all future candidates for those offices.

HAS PROTECTION

The Democratic presidential nominee, President Johnson, has the protection that goes with his office.

Warren Commission called for a drastic overhaul of the system of guarding the president and said that legislation making the murder of a president or vice president a federal crime is needed to avoid the confusion it said surrounded the entry of various government agencies into the Dallas investigation.

Dirksen said that raised the question whether the legislation would be amended to make federal crimes also of assaults with intent to kill a president as well as conspiracies aimed at killing a president.

City Will Eye R20 Contract

A fourth contract for land appraisal in Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project will be awarded tonight by the Pontiac City Commission.

Previously, the commission okayed land appraisal contracts for three other local real estate firms.

Tonight's contract is for Leslie R. Tripp, realtor and appraiser, 75 W. Huron.

In other business, lease for space at Pontiac Municipal Airport will be up for transfer from McCaffery Aircraft Inc. to Pontiac Aviation Inc.

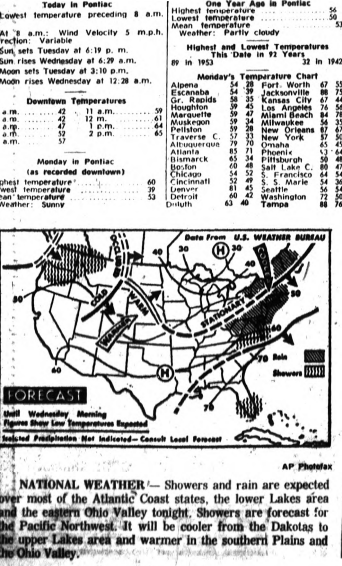

Also tonight, the city manager will present his weekly report on Sam Allen & Son Inc., operators of a scrap yard at 22 Congress.

The commission had deferred action week-to-week on a motion to seek legal action against the junk yard because of noise, dust and odor.

'FBI Agents Disciplined' Claim Two in Oswald Case Are Involved

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald said today in a copyright story that the FBI took disciplinary action against two FBI agents who were in charge of the Lee Harvey Oswald case prior to the assassination of the president.

The Times Herald quoted what it called "unimpeachable sources" but did not name the agents.

The newspaper said one agent was demoted at a loss of $1,000 in annual pay and the other, stationed in New Orleans, La., was ordered transferred but refused the transfer and retired.

Oswald, accused as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22 in Dallas, once lived in New Orleans where he was active in a "Fair Play for Cuba" organization.

The Times Herald article went on:

The New Orleans agent had been assigned the Oswald case while Oswald was in New Orleans. He now works as a private investigator in the Louisiana city.

The Dallas man was on the second level of command in the Dallas FBI office behind the special agent in charge and the assistant special agent.

Soapy to Give Talk at Dinner for Farnum

G. Mennen Williams, undersecretary of state for African affairs, will be the guest speaker at a fund raising dinner Monday for congressional candidate Shille Farnum.

The event at Pine Knob Lodge in Independence Township is the first Democratic 19th Congressional District dinner.

Robert Jackson, district chairman, said the former Michigan governor's appearance will mark "one of his major speaking engagements this fall."

Jackson said about 500 persons are expected to attend the 7 p.m. dinner.

Tickets can be obtained by contacting Charles Nastro, 502 E. Mansfield, or Democratic headquarters, 17 Water.

Pledges Told for New School

Fund raisers in behalf of a proposed Pontiac Catholic High School have collected $208,575 in pledges, it was announced last night.

The first memorial report meeting at St. Michael School featured a tally on the first week's solicitation.

Five Pontiac parishes are conducting the fund drive to raise $1.5 million for a projected high school, which will be built at Walton and Gledings.

The five parishes are St. Michael Church, St. Vincent de Paul, St. Joseph, Sacred Heart in Auburn Heights and St. Benedict in Waterford Township.

Heading the fund-raising committee are William J. Dean, 17 Ottawa, and Dr. William J. Janeczek, 379 W. Iroquois.

The fund drive is being coordinated by John V. McCarthy — Associates, Inc., of Detroit, Catholic financial consultants.

Police Chief Case Under Advisement

The Circuit Court trial challenging the validity of Pontiac Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger's promotion from lieutenant to inspector ended yesterday with Judge William J. Beer taking the case under advisement.

Judge Beer said it will be a "few days" before he would render a decision.

Hanger's promotion was questioned in a suit filed in June by police officers L.L. Raymond, E. Meggett, Capt. Donny Ashley and Capt. George T. Scott.

They charged that competitive examinations for the inspector's post were not offered, which they claim is in violation of city personnel rules.

Anderson Lone Dissenter

Record Budget Approved in Waterford

Despite the opposition of Trustee Loren Anderson, the Waterford Township Board last night approved a proposed 1965 township budget of $665,300.

The board's action followed a public hearing on the budget attended by approximately 50 persons.

Anderson, the lone dissenter on the board, said he felt compelled to cast a negative vote on the entire budget package because it didn't reflect an upgrading of services even though it is the largest budget ever proposed.

Anderson also objected to the $100,000 year-end balance proposed in the budget by Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

He called the figure too high and suggested that a provision equal to 30 days operating expenses—about $75,000—would have been adequate.

DEFENDS BALANCE

Seeterlin defended the year-end balance. He said the generally accepted theory is that a municipality should retain a reserve of 10 percent of the budget to guard against unforeseeable fluctuation in the economy.

James Peters of 3723 Maiden questioned an $800 salary increase to Robert Richmond, Seeterlin's administrative assistant, who previously earned $7,500 annually.

He pointed out that this put Richmond on a level with the police and fire chiefs on the pay scale which he felt was unjustified. Peters said the work of the chiefs was more important in his estimation.

RESPONSIBILITIES EYED

Anderson also questioned Richmond's salary which is $300 over that of the treasurer. He said the responsibility of the treasurer's job seemed greater.

Seeterlin said that he had recommended to the wages and salary committee that the salary of Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson be raised $1,000.

Mrs. Olson, who serves on the committee, rejected the proposal to raise her own salary.

Birmingham Area News

Judge Dismisses Suit on Cigarette Machines

BIRMINGHAM — The city's cigarette vending machine ordinance was being enforced today following a month-long legal delay.

Yesterday, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore dismissed a suit challenging the validity of the ordinance which provides for the licensing of each machine at a cost of $5.

The purpose of the license is to allow the police department to identify the location of each machine and prevent it from being easily accessible to minors.

The ordinance also allows the police department to confiscate the machine if it is found to be used by any person under 21 years of age.

Judge Moore stated that Birmingham, as a home rule city, has the right to establish regulations governing cigarette vending machines even though the state also requires a license.

TAXING METHOD

Moore said, however, that the state license is not a taxing device but rather a regulatory method.

If the state law established regulations, Birmingham's ordinance would have been preempted, but it does not, said Moore.

The judge's action followed the request of city attorney James Howlett to dismiss the suit, brought by Floyd Joyce, owner of Joyce Vendors, Detroit.

The suit was filed by Joyce in late August. At that time a temporary restraining order was granted preventing the city from enforcing the ordinance.

Joyce claimed that the ordinance was "unreasonable and discriminatory" against him and other persons engaged in the coin-operated vending machine business.

The Birmingham City Commission last night approved an agreement with the City of Troy for the construction of a boulevard type pavement on Coolidge Road from Maple to Big Bear.

The agreement, prepared by Birmingham, was revised by Troy Commissioners last Monday to show it was the intent of Troy, rather than a firm commitment, to extend the improvement on its portion of the road.

Troy City Manager Paul York explained that it was the opinion of Troy's attorney to change the wording to indicate since a special assessment district is involved and is subject to a public hearing.

Birmingham's hearing on its special assessment district adjoining the improvement was scheduled for last night but was adjourned one week.

At least five votes are needed to approve the district, and only four commissioners were present.

COST OF PROJECT

The cost of the project to Birmingham is $27,000, of which the city will pay 25 per cent.

The amended agreement also reflects Troy's intent to study the feasibility of prohibiting right turns from southbound Coolidge at Derby, Birmingham had asked for the traffic control at that location.

The project, expected to be completed this year, is being undertaken in connection with a $50 million development on the east side of Coolidge in Troy between Maple and Derby roads.

TRIAL ORDERED for 21 in Raid

Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn yesterday ordered 21 persons charged with conspiracy and violation of state gaming laws to stand trial in mid-November.

All had been arrested after a state police raid on the St. Stern Assembly Club in Madison Heights last Oct. 11.

Pleas of innocent were entered for each by Thorburn when all stood mute to the charges. Bond was continued at $1,000 each.

In ordering the case to be heard first when the next jury begins Nov. 17, Judge Thorburn, noting the lengthy Justice Court proceedings, said it was an "old matter" that "should have been disposed of long ago."

At the same time, Thorburn granted the request of defense attorney Carlton S. Rosser to be provided with the complete 1,800-page transcript of testimony taken in the lower court.

PRESENTS PROBLEM

Senior Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin said that this might present a "problem" since only 1,200 pages had been typed. "It could take court reporters two to three months to type the remaining 600 pages," he noted.

Templin said, however, that he will make note of this when he files an appeal this week on the dismissal of gambling charges against three other men arrested in the raid.

In all, 48 persons were taken into custody following the raid, but 24 were charged with a misdemeanor of frequenting a gambling establishment and are awaiting hearings in lower court.

School Money Is Linked to Economics

and more was shifted into general operation until today the entire amount is for school operation.

Federal aid to education is a third source of income for Pontiac schools. This has not yet become a major factor in financing local schools.

The key to Pontiac schools' income is still the school district's tax base.

Pontiac home owners are fortunate that the tax base in Pontiac is largely supported by business and industry. In fact, business and industry make up four-fourths of the tax base, said the school chief.

Thus, income projections for the future are largely a matter of predicting the future growth or decline of business and industry.

BASE GROWS

School officials expect the tax base in Pontiac to grow by approximately $30,000 in the next five years.

Hence, local property taxes will gradually give increased revenues to the schools over these years. Income from all sources is projected at $11,400,000 in 1965 to $11,859,115 in 1969.

Whitmer said that this is a favorable trend, but does not appear to be sufficient to keep pace with rapidly increasing school expenses.

Renewal of the 5.75 school millage is essential just to maintain the status quo and a more favorable jump in the tax base could make up expected shortages, he said.

Program to Study Beginning Reading

How much do children know about reading when they start first grade?

The answer to this question is being sought by county educators through a testing program financed by a $30,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

A thousand six-year-olds will try three new approaches to beginning reading during the current school year.

Schools in Pontiac, Troy, Walled Lake and Waterford Township are involved in the study project. Dr. Harry T. Hahn, Oakland Schools director of instruction, is supervising the study.

Twelve classrooms throughout the county will use a language arts approach to reading.

DICTATE STORIES

Under this plan, students will make their own first books by dictating stories to the teacher.

Hahn said that one of the advantages of this method is that big words like "astronaut and satellite," which the six-year-olds use in speech, become part of their reading vocabulary.

The Initial Teaching Alphabet, developed in England, will be used in a second set of 12 classrooms.

A third set of classes in each testing district will have new standard readers and teachers instructed to use a thorough phonics approach.

Pontiac teachers in the project are Miss Aileen Reynolds, Winsor School; Mrs. Helen Henderson, Baldwin School; and Mrs. Kay Smith, Alcott School.

Troy first grade teachers involved in the study included

Start Reseeding Fire-Hit Land

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Forestry workers take on a king-size gardening job today — reseeding 78,000 mountainous acres of watershed burned in the disastrous 8-day Santa Barbara brush fire.

More than 2,000 fire fighters remained on the lines today, mopping up mile-high trouble spots in remote back country.

Flood control officials fear a massive one of mud will develop if the denuded hills are not supplied with ground cover before it rains.

The U.S. Forest Service said it hoped to completely contain the blaze by 10 a.m. Wednesday. Full control was predicted for 6 p.m. Thursday.

SEEK FUNDS

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., told Santa Barbara County supervisors Monday he will seek $800,000 in emergency funds to build 10 debris basins in the burned area.

Eleven of the 46 men injured in the blaze still were hospitalized with burns, sprains or cuts. One fireman was killed and 78 homes burned in Santa Barbara and suburban Montecito.

WHY THE GM STRIKE?

GM workers are on strike because the General Motors Corp. refuses to meet the minimum standards of human dignity and decency to which workers are entitled at their work place. GM workers insist upon being treated as human beings and not mere extensions of the production process.

THE ISSUE:

More Dignity, Not More Money

The real depth of the resentment of General Motors workers against the lack of decent treatment and the denial of human dignity at their work place is reflected in their determination to strike despite the fact that General Motors has offered to meet essentially the benefits of the Chrysler and Ford contract settlements which contain the most attractive economic gains ever won by auto workers in a single set of negotiations. Money is not the basis for the strike. The central issue is how the General Motors Corp. treats its workers on the job.

THE ISSUES IN THE STRIKE INCLUDE:

- Minimum Standards of Humane and Decent Working Conditions
- Fair and Reasonable Production Standards
- Sensible and Enlightened Disciplinary Procedures
- Relief From Excessive and Arbitrary Overtime Work
- Adequate Representation to Insure Enforcement of the Corporation's Contractual Obligations
- Provisions to Improve Job Security for Workers

GM Rejected Arbitration

The UAW did everything humanly possible to avoid the strike. In order to avert a strike, the UAW proposed that all unresolved non-economic matters be submitted to final and binding voluntary, impartial arbitration. Had GM accepted our good-faith arbitration proposal the strike would not have occurred.

GM Rejected Mediation

The UAW proposed that General Motors join in asking Mr. William E. Simkin, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the Representative of the President of the United States in Labor-Management Affairs, to sit in on the negotiations and help resolve the differences. GM refused, despite the fact that Mr. Simkin was in Detroit ready and available to be of assistance.

UAW Has Limited Scope of Strike

Mindful of the consequences that a total shutdown of GM plants would have on the national economy, the UAW has limited the strike to plants that affect GM end-products only. With remarkable self-discipline, approximately 75,000 General Motors workers remain at work in plants making parts and components for General Motors' competitors in the automotive industry and for corporations in numerous other industries.

The UAW will make every good faith effort to bring this strike to an end as soon as possible. GM workers and the union will insist, however, that the General Motors Corp. accord GM workers the treatment and consideration to which they are entitled as human beings and members of a free society.

Barry Packs Them in to Climax State Visit

A capacity throng of 15,000 gave a smiling and confident BARRY GOLDWATER a tumultuous welcome as he appeared at the rostrum in Detroit's Cobo Arena Saturday evening.

It was the windup of a day's area campaigning where crowds at many points were large and friendly.

GOLDWATER'S 30-minute address was enthusiastically received and interrupted by applause so frequently that television time ran out.

The GOP presidential candidate keyed his speech to three issues.

He called for a return to Americans of the freedom that their forefathers had so unreluctantly struggled to establish and from which stemmed our country's greatness. It is this freedom to plan their own lives, develop individual initiative and enjoy the fruits of personal endeavor, the speaker charged, that is being slowly eroded by the Democratic philosophy of paternalism.

Pointing to the frightening concentration of government in Washington, the Senator warned that it would cannibalize the Nation and stressed the urgent need gradually to decentralize the Federal power back to the local and state levels where it once resided.

Goldwater attacked the fiscal and economic policies by which Democratic regimes have become identified as illusory and a primrose path down which the country is being led to eventual ruin. He told his cheering audience that the present surge of business velocity is structured on a foundation of sand and that, despite it, Federal spending mounts by the hour and deficits, planned or unplanned, are the order of the day.

The Republican nominee would initiate long-overdue retrenchment in government spending along with a more realistic and equitable tax program, as a result of which a 25 per cent total reduction in personal and corporate income taxes could be realized over a five-year period.

The candidate was not clothed in shining armor, but few who heard him could doubt that there was a dedicated American, devoted to his country and countrymen, who could and would lead the way to a rebirth of personal self-reliance and integrity in national government.

We need BARRY in the White House.

Justice Called Blind in Acquittal Verdict

Contrary to the classical declaration of Portia in "The Merchant of Venice," that "the quality of mercy is not strained," we think that the mercy of the jury of four women and two men was badly strained when it recently acquitted a 16-year-old boy of the fatal shooting of his father.

Decision for acquittal was based on the incredible grounds that in committing the murder the Oak Park youth "acted upon an irresistible impulse."

The jury recommended out-patient psychiatric treatment for the slayer, but didn't make it mandatory.

We think that the irrational finding of the jury is tantamount to an invitation to other adolescents to vent emotional excess on parents or others by homicidal action.

The law-abiding and responsible citizenry who look to effective legal processes as protection against physical violence can only view this travesty on justice with a large measure of disapproval and alarm.

As result of the unjustified freedom granted the young killer, it may be wondered when he might again act upon an "irresistible impulse" and claim another victim.

"A BABY first laughs at the age of about four months," says a pediatrician. By then baby can focus his eyes well enough to see what his father looks like.

The salary of the Vice President has been raised to $43,000 a year. It has become pretty expensive to keep a spare President in reserve.

BELIEVERS in individual freedom are vigorously opposed to the Government's abolishing any person's poverty unless he consents.

Grid Contestants Reduced to 2,306

Illinois, Packer Wins Jolt Press Entrants

Well! The past few days brought victory to a goodly number of contestants in the Press Annual Football Contest. But since you can't have winners without losers, it was a lost weekend for many others who had set their sights on the $500 U.S. Savings Bond award that awaits the winner.

Saturday, the gridlers from Illinois, who had followed the advice of Horace Greeley and gone West, trimmed California by a score of 20-14. This dashed the contest chances of 1,237 who had seen the gold staters a winner, and along with them were the 57 who had staked their all on a tie.

Incidentally, the result was a bit of a triumph for The Press' peerless grid clairvoyant, the eminent Major Hoople. The Great One had gazed deeply into his crystal ball and read a 21-16 Illinois victory. Close, eh?

This brings us to last evening. Hopes were high at Tiger Stadium and in the hearts of contest fans as Detroit's Lions met Green Bay's Packers.

When the game-ending shot was fired, the pickup representatives of the cheese state had vanquished the Wolverine defenders by a close 14-10 count. And the Major again did himself proud with a 17-14 call.

So now we look to Saturday. The fate of surviving entrants is wrapped up in the Army-Texas encounter. Texas has 1,713 Press fans in its corner — even the corners are big in Texas — while 575 back Army to finish on top. Eighteen call it a tossup, with the teams even when the skirmish ends.

The suspense gets you, doesn't it?

David Lawrence Says:

Need to Act on Criminally Insane

WASHINGTON — Thousands of Lee Oswalds may be living undetected and unnoticed in America today, and the records show that many a murderer and many an assault on innocent persons has already been perpetrated by dangerous individuals in innumerable instances of LAWRENCE crime over the years.

If there is one lesson which the Warren Commission report plainly teaches, it is that, the American people — through their federal, state and city governments — have not given the attention that the problem of the criminally insane deserves.

It requires not merely punishment and watchfulness, thereafter, once the crime has been committed, but prevention, and this is a responsibility of organized society today.

The Warren report tells of how Oswald's mother, who had been twice married, placed her children in an orphan's home, due to lack of funds. It tells how a remarriage resulted in divorce, after several separations and reunions.

The report tells of a "gradually deteriorating school record" and of how young Oswald allegedly pulled out a pocket knife during an argument and threatened to use it on the wife of his half-brother.

PSYCHIATRIC OBSERVATION It tells how Lee, when he was 13, was "remanded for psychiatric observation to Youth House, an institution in which children are kept for psychiatric observation or for detention pending court appearance or commitment to a child - caring or custodial institution such as a training school." He was examined by the chief psychiatrist and interviewed and observed by various members of the staff.

The official report of the psychiatrist in 1953 said:

"Lee has to be seen as an emotionally, quite disturbed youngster who suffers under the impact of really existing emotional isolation and deprivation, lack of affection, absence of family life and rejection by a self - involved and conflicted mother."

In one of the reports in 1953, Mrs. Evelyn S. Siegel, a social worker who had interviewed both Lee and his mother when the boy was confined to Youth House, reported that, while Oswald had suffered serious personality damage, "if he can receive help quickly, this might be repaired to some extent."

NO HELP

But Lee Oswald never received that help, says the Warren Commission report, and adds: "Few social agencies even in New York were equipped to provide the kind of intensive treatment that he needed, and when one of the city's clinics did find room to handle him, for some reason the record does not show, advantage was never taken of the chance afforded to Oswald."

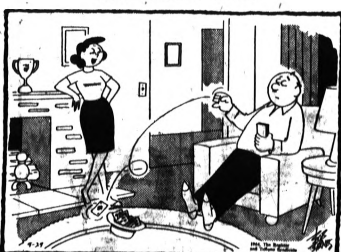

It is no answer to the whole problem to say that the Secret Service should have been more vigilant in Dallas, or that the FBI should have been able to transmit more information about Oswald's record to the Secret Service.

The records of thousands upon thousands of "crackpots" are constantly being filed in government agencies, and it is virtually impossible to find out where these individuals are at a given moment — least of all, to discover that one is hidden on the sixth floor of a big building, where it is easy to conceal a weapon and fire a shot unobserved by a motorcade containing Secret Service men.

The tragic fact remains that crimes like these will happen, and there is no sure way to prevent them. But there is a way to reduce their number and possibly prevent individuals from resorting to crime if their personal lives can be orderly enough and before criminal tendencies really take root.

Society as a whole has a responsibility to face up to the enormity of this grave problem.

I have read "None Dare Call It Treason." According to the author it is fully documented and is well worth reading.

The Bible has been taken from our schools, an effort made to take religious broadcasts from the air, and only the dear Lord knows what is behind the iron curtain in our own America.

'Name Things for Kennedy as Reminder'

I don't know what you mean by having "everything" named after President Kennedy. It seems to me there isn't that much named after him if you'll really think about it. When anything is named after him, it is publicized. This is due largely to the feeling which is still experienced by people concerning him.

People who respected and loved him want to read all they can about him. Therefore, when something is named for him they enjoy hearing of it.

One of the best ways we can remember him is by having his name confront us often. We must be reminded of him. We must look back and recall what he has done for us — the American people.

'Miller Is Poor Running Mate for Barry'

It is not too early in the presidential campaign to make one observation.

The choice of Congressman Miller as Senator Goldwater's running mate was a calamitous mistake on the part of Republican convention delegates. Candidate Miller is winning more votes for President Johnson than for Goldwater.

The thought of this McCarthy-type buffoon as a potential successor to the Presidency is too horrifying to contemplate.

Shades of Gettysburg! To paraphrase our beloved past president Abraham Lincoln in his famous Gettysburg address we might say (in defense of tolerance):

'U.S. Foundation Is Private Enterprise'

Years ago I worked for several years in a non-union shop. We had a bully for a foreman — we needed a union. I have since worked where a union wasn't needed. A union can be an asset sometimes.

Our country is founded upon 'private' enterprise. Crumble our foundation and our country will fall.

Think of the cumulative effect of early pensions upon company overhead. Profits must exceed costs and if a higher price is charged, sales may drop. If too much automation is introduced, unemployment increases and sales will drop. If costs go too high the state may some day take over to keep a moribund company functioning.

With state enterprise we will have maximum security for all. Security we cannot escape because there is nowhere else to go. We shall have killed the goose responsible for all those golden eggs.

Booker T. Edwards Jr., a smiling giant of a Negro, left his home at Monroe, La. a month ago to become a Cleveland cab driver.

He drove a truck back home and knew every byroad in Louisiana. Up here, it's different. With the help of a dog-eared map he is able to get his passengers where they want to go, but he is not really sure yet how he likes it.

"I haven't got used to these people," he said with a grin. "I thought people up north would be kind of different. Reckon I just got to get used to them."

"I don't know what it is—kind of like nobody cares about nobody."

The migration of Booker Edwards and others like him into the already overcrowded urban industrial areas of the north is a familiar story.

SOCIAL REVOLUTION

In Cleveland—as in Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, Detroit and other big cities—it has helped touch off a social revolution.

Cleveland has had—and still has—its racial troubles. The big crisis came last April when a bulldozer rolled over and killed the Rev. Bruce Klunder, a young white minister who lay in the bulldozer's path to force it to stop. The driver didn't see him.

Rev. Klunder and his fellow civil rights demonstrators were seeking to block the construction of an elementary school. They said the site selected for the school dictated that its enrollment would be nearly all Negro.

Pollsters have said the race issue will have its effect when the people of Cleveland and other big cities vote Nov. 3. This is the so-called "backlash"—the revolt of the whites against Negroes who they say are "pushing too hard."

IMMIGRANT AREAS

It is supposed to be most evident in neighborhoods of Eastern European immigrants and their offspring.

Cleveland has many of these neighborhoods, but the people don't talk about backlash when they tell how they will vote.

Balding Richard Maher, the political editor of the Cleveland Press, says "there's been a lot of talk about backlash, but you can't put your finger on it."

He said two councilmen from wards heavily populated with immigrants—Maher calls them "nationality wards"—have told him that their people are talking in terms that would suggest a backlash exists.

WON'T TALK

"But the people there wouldn't tell me and they wouldn't tell you," says Maher. "There's been less talk about it lately."

Mrs. Lucy Hummel, a secretary, is voting for Goldwater, but she has always voted Republican. "I'm not wholeheartedly for Goldwater," she said. "But I would not vote for Johnson or any Democrat."

Mrs. Jeanne Orth, a waitress, voted for Eisenhower, but this time will go for Johnson. And she cites civil rights as part of the reason. She is white.

"I just don't like Goldwater," Mrs. Orth said. "For one thing, his stand against the equal employment part of the civil rights bill is not right. I don't think I'd vote for any Republican this year."

MADE SWITCH

C. W. Fransworth, 31, who does marketing research for a manufacturer, voted for Eisenhower, then switched to Kennedy. "I was a confirmed Republican until Kennedy came along," he said. "I still believe in him."

"I can't see myself supporting anyone who doesn't want the things he wanted. That goes for civil rights, too."

CHINESE PICTOGRAPHS

QUESTION:

How many letters are there in the Chinese alphabet?

ANSWER: Our alphabet is composed of 26 letters or signs, which, in different combinations, give us the sounds of the words of our language. But Chinese writing does not use an alphabet like this. It comes from an earlier system of writing things down, the pictograph, in which the symbols used come from crude pictures of the thing represented rather than the sound of a word.

Our artist has drawn such a pictograph in the upper left. It would carry the idea "boy" to a Frenchman or Spaniard even if they didn't know what the English word "boy" meant. Combining the boy symbol with a hot dog gives an "ideograph" for "eat."

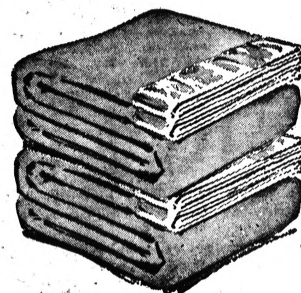

Chinese writing is based on such pictographs and ideographs. Each character stands for a single word. We show some Chinese pictographs such as the dot with a circle, which looks something like the sun. For "up" there is a base stroke across, a line going up, and the opposite for down.

Since each word has its own separate character, you would have to know about 3500 characters to read a simple Chinese novel. This makes it difficult even for Chinese people to read or write. Since 1917, however, efforts have been made to simplify and modernize Chinese writing.

FOR YOU TO DO: Take the simple shape of the boy's head and see if you can do an ideograph given some other idea besides that of eating.

U.S. Warns Reds Against Forcing Expansion of Viet War

TOKYO (AP) — A top State Department official warned the North Vietnamese and Chinese Communists today against increasing their pressure on South Viet Nam. He said they may force the United States to expand the war outside South Viet Nam.

William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, told the Research Institute of Japan:

"Expansion of the war outside South Viet Nam, while not a cause we want or seek, could be forced upon us by the increased external pressures of the Communists, including a rising scale of infiltration."

Bundy did not say how the war might be extended. But a high American source said earlier in Tokyo that the United States has considered the possibility of bombing infiltration bases in North Viet Nam and neighboring Laos.

"We do not aim at overthrowing the Communist regime of North Viet Nam but rather at inducing it to call off the war it directs and supports in South Viet Nam," Bundy said.

SIMILAR DANGER
He warned if South Viet Nam falls under Red control, the rest of Southeast Asia would face similar danger and eventually India, Australia and Japan could be swallowed up.

"If Hanoi and Peking prevail in Viet Nam in this key test of the new Communist tactics of 'wars of national liberation,' then the Communists will use this technique with growing frequency elsewhere in Asia, Africa and Latin America," he declared.

Communist China in turn warned the United States it will "pay dearly" if it ventures across the frontier into North Viet Nam.

"The Chinese government and people again warn the Johnson administration to stop immediately the rash playing with fire," said Peking radio. "If it still plans to carry out enlargement of its war adventure, it will pay dearly for this dangerous adventure."

NEW TROUBLE
Troops and police in Saigon prepared for new trouble as students and religious sects threatened demonstrations to protest the killing of three rioters Sunday in Sui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of the capital.

Government troops shot the three demonstrators and wounded 17 others to end a week of mob control in which youths took over the Qui Nhon radio station and seized the provincial chief. The rioters apparently staged the revolt to protest the continued presence in office of members of the former Ngo Dinh Diem regime.

Salon police kept special watch on the Hoa Hao and Cao Dai, two religious-military sects reportedly angered over the composition of the 17-member council set up last week to pave the way for a new civil government. A Hoa Hao group was reported planning to march on Saigon from the Mekong delta.

U.S. Army officers in central Viet Nam were critical of the U.S. role in the ending of the rebellion of some 2,000 mountain tribesmen the United States had trained to fight the Viet Cong.

PROGRAM IN JEOPARDY
The officers said the program to utilize the tribesmen in the war against the Viet Cong may have been jeopardized by American promises that were made to the rebel montagnards — mountain folk — and then broken.

U.S. Special Forces officers, in charge of the montagnard program, said the tribesmen were assured that American advisers would not be pulled out of the chief rebel camp at Buon Sar Pa and that Vietnamese forces waiting to attack the rebels would not be allowed into the camp.

The 13 Americans at Buon Sar Pa were pulled out Monday and a few hours later the Vietnamese Army occupied the camp. "The promises probably never should have been made. Now officer."

Pneumonia Takes 2nd Siamese Twin
CHICAGO (AP) — The second Jaquet Siamese twin died Monday night of pneumonia. He was 9 days old.

Ronald Jaquet's condition had weakened since Sunday when he had been given a 50-50 chance of survival. He had been on the critical list since Wednesday.

His brother, Donald, died Wednesday. He was considered the weaker twin because of a congenital heart defect and the lack of a large intestine.

The twins were born Sept. 19 in suburban Evanston hospital to Carol Jaquet, 21, of suburban Norridge.

Greek Palace Denies Trouble

Queen Mother Angry Over Press Report

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The antigovernment newspaper Imera reported today that the fuss over Queen Mother Frederika's future is prompting King Constantine to interrupt his honeymoon and return to Athens.

A palace spokesman said the report was baseless.

Imera accused Premier George Papandreu's government of a campaign against the palace and the queen mother.

Frederika wrote Papandreu Monday expressing deep indignation over press reports that the government wanted her to retire to her family estate in Austria and had proposed Parliament vote her an annual pension of $100,000 to get her to leave the country.

NO INTENTION

The 47-year-old queen mother said she had no intention of leaving Greece. She also asked the premier to cancel the proposed pension legislation.

Replying to her letter, Papandreu expressed his sorrow for the "great bitterness" which the queen mother expressed over "the false and insulting reports in certain organs of the press."

He expressed the hope that her human suffering and injured dignity, as demonstrated in the letter, will at least constitute a bridge for the future.

He made no mention of her rejection of the pension.

Panayotis Canelopoulos, leader of the chief opposition party, also came to Frederika's defense. He said when she "risked her life during the Communist guerrilla warfare in Greece, she never imagined that she would have to undergo the bitterness to which she is now subjected."

Canelopoulos said the proposed pension was a subject that did not depend on her will.

Can Burton's 'Hamlet' Win an Oscar?

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Is Richard Burton's "Hamlet" eligible for an Oscar?

As of now, no. The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences requires a film to be shown at least a week in the L. S. Angeles area within the calendar year to be eligible for an award. "Hamlet" was exhibited only two days and two nights last week, and there are presently no plans for a repeat.

Even if "Hamlet" did fulfill the time requirement, there is another matter to be resolved.

THOMAS

Some might argue that the production would not be eligible for a motion picture award; though it was shown in movie theaters on regular 35mm film, it was photographed by electronic cameras as a television.

An academy spokesman said the decision on eligibility would have to be made by the board of directors.

Even if he doesn't net an Oscar nomination for it, Burton has been amply rewarded by an estimated $600,000 as his share of the four-performance, 1,000-theater showing. Not bad, considering he had already been paid for doing the role on stage at the Lunt-Fontanne Theater in New York, where the film was made three months ago.

And, his wife told me in Monterey, Burton now owns the negative of "Hamlet" to do with what he may. There is obviously plenty of loot left in its potential. Variety reported the "Hamlet" film cost a total of $1.1 million and may have grossed $6.5 million. Its success prompted industry circles to speculate the future of such devices as photographing actual stage plays.

Some observers read into "Hamlet's" success a glowing future for pay television. They argue that if a sterling attraction could attract so much patronage in four performances in theaters, it could do three times that amount in one evening on pay-TV.

Possibly. But that presupposes millions of homes hooked up to a pay-TV system, and so far no one has found an economic way to achieve that. And much of "Hamlet's" value would have been lost on the small screen. Most critics pointed out the technical imperfections of the process. With normal stage lighting, the sets were murky much of the time, the actors often indistinct.

NOISE ON TRACK
The sound caught most of the lines, but the voices echoed through the theater. The laughter and applause of the Lunt-Fontanne audience was distracting, rather like hearing the laugh track on a television show. At least two loud coughs could be heard from the audience on the sound track.

But these faults can doubtless be removed. The question remains: what else can be presented after "Hamlet"?

There is talk of Laurence Olivier's "Othello," and that makes sense. But the novelty of watching a filmed play will soon pale unless attractions of the topmost quality can be presented. And how many Burtons and Oliviers are there?

Missing Newspaper Owner Ruled Dead

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Seven years ago Molly Zelko, 47, part owner and business manager of a crusading weekly Joliet newspaper, waved goodbye to fellow workers and said: "So long everybody, I'll see you tomorrow."

She drove home, parked her car and, as was her custom, showed the keys under a seat cushion.

There the trail ended. She never entered the house and she hasn't been seen since.

The mystery of Molly's disappearance eventually led to Robert F. Kennedy, one-time counsel of the Senate racketeers committee. Kennedy once directed a team of investigators to a desolate Joliet farm where they searched in vain for Molly's grave. Kennedy, later U.S. attorney general, is now the Democratic candidate for senator in New York state.

RULED DEAD

Monday a Circuit Court judge legally ended the mystery by officially ruling Molly dead under existing Illinois missing persons statutes.

Joliet residents say they've known Molly was dead all along.

WIDE RESPECT

Molly's newspaper, the Spectator, had gained wide readership and respect for its campaigns against gambling in Will County. Over the years, the newspaper had taken sides in bitter political campaigns and published personality stories reported to be displeasing to the subjects.

"She was a courageous newspaperwoman," her brother, Dr. Joseph W. Zelko, 56, of Joliet, said Monday. "We tried to tell her to take it easy, but she had an awful lot of nerve."

"I think she stuck her neck out too much," elko said, "and I guess she just stuck it out too far."

Adding to Molly's mystique was her premonition that something was going to happen to her. Police said she once told associates on the Spectator to destroy her files if something did go wrong.

OFFICE RANSACKED
Three years earlier, the Spectator's office was mysteriously ransacked and in 1948 the paper's chief stockholder, William B. McCabe, was ambushed and clubbed near his home.

MCCabe, who was hospitalized a year, and Molly charged that gangsters and politicians were responsible for the beating, but no charges ever were filed.

In 1959 James V. Rini, an inmate of Joliet State Penitentiary, told the Senate Racketeers Committee during a pinball machine investigation that he had been paid $3,000 to help murder Miss Zelko. He said he could lead investigators to her grave.

Kennedy ordered Rini brought to the farmyard but no body was found. Rini later admitted his confession was a hoax.

"We haven't had a solid clue in five years," Police Sgt. Archie Kerr of Joliet said Monday. "Everything's exhausted."

"She was grabbed by somebody, but we don't know who," Kerr said.

"All I can say is she's now legally dead."

Also watch how you fold the sleeves back at the shoulder line to lay parallel to the rear. Smooth creases out carefully.

Fold sweater neatly in half.

Smiling Wife Helps an Aspiring Politician

NEW YORK (UPI) — From the highest to the lowest public official, a smiling wife's more than an adornment at office-seeking time.

The growing importance of wives in the political arena isn't a recent phenomenon.

IMPORTANT ROLES

Encyclopedia International reports that since the earlier days of the republic, the wives of presidents and presidents-to-be have played important roles in their husbands' political careers.

Abigail Adams, wife of our second president and mother of our fourth, is one example.

Area Pair Is United in Marriage

Mary Rose Donigan and Kenneth Lloyd Allor of Berkeley were recently wed at a high Mass in St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills.

Parents of the couple are the Frederick H. Hamiltons of Devonshire Drive and the D. Lloyd Allors of Pennsauken, N.J., formerly of Birmingham.

Designed by Galina, the bride's Empire gown of white silk organza over taffeta featured a bodice edged with Venice lace which also bordered her court train.

PETAL CROWN

A lace petal crown held her imported French illusion veil. White grapes and ivy accented a cascade bouquet of miniature white carnations and ivy.

Theodore Ostrowski of Detroit was honor maid for the rite performed by Rev. Edward J. Wilk of St. Bede's Church, Southfield.

BRIDEFAST

A breakfast in the First Federal Savings of Oakland building followed the ceremony.

The evening dinner reception was held in the Armenian American Veterans' Building, Detroit.

After a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale, the couple will reside in Berkeley.

The bride attended Michigan State University, and her husband is enrolled at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Though she lived in a period when women were supposed to be neither seen nor heard in matters of government, Abigail was involved in the decision-making of her husband, both before and after he became chief of state.

She read and approved all of her husband's speeches before he delivered them, influenced him tremendously during his time in office, and actually became something of a campaign issue when he made his unsuccessful bid for a second term.

The Encyclopedia's historians said that opposition newspapers claimed Abigail had too much influence on her husband's policy-making and at least some of the voters apparently took the warning to heart.

Thomas Jefferson, who defeated Adams, was a widower.

Dolly Madison, wife of President James Madison, was another first lady.

LARGE DIFFERENCES

While her mate was secretary of state, Dolly exhibited a talent for making political enemies forget their differences.

Helen Herron Taft was another continually planning for her spouse's political advancement.

The wife of William Howard Taft is credited with prodding him onward and upward from judge of Cincinnati's Superior Court to the White House.

MOST ACTIVE

The most active first lady in the country's history, and the one to carry the title for the longest period, was Eleanor Roosevelt.

She attended her first political convention in 1912, took an active part in her husband's campaign for the vice presidency in 1920 and remained in the limelight for the rest of her life.

More recently, though neither Bess Truman nor Mamie Eisenhower was overly active in political life, Jacqueline Kennedy was a true campaigner.

It's likely, whatever the outcome of the November election, wives of both candidates will have followed suit with an eye to influencing voters.

Plan Style Show

The Fashion Your Future Club will sponsor a fall style show and card party, Thursday, in the First Federal Savings of Oakland civic room.

Mrs. Harold Swackhamer demonstrated gift-wrapping and Mrs. Odes Case and Mrs. Alfred Post showed new trends in flower-arranging Thursday in Adah Shelly Library.

One of the first Girl Scouts in the United States, Mrs. Edward R. Shields, North Oakland Avenue, looks at the 1965 Girl Scout calendar with senior Girl Scout Ruth Neville, Cadillac Street. The annual calendar sale began Monday and will continue through Nov. 21. Individual troops use this as their means of replenishing the treasury.

Pontiac Press Photos

Just the day for suits—members of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall arrive for the meeting. From the left are Mrs. Andrew Gulacsik, Mohawk

Road; Mrs. Donald Seed, Rochester; and Mrs. Harry T. Baker, Nacayo Road. The Town Hall series begins Oct. 14.

18-Year-Old Son Resents Being Ordered by Mother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 18.

He is 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. He has good character and has worked after school and on weekends ever since he was 16.

He bought himself a car and pays the upkeep and insurance. ABBY himself. He also buys his own clothes.

His father and I have just started our own business and I work every day so we won't have to hire a cashier.

I also like to keep my home nice, so I do all my heavy housework on the weekends in addition to the regular washing and ironing.

When I tell my son to scrub the bathroom and kitchen floors and to wash the windows and woodwork, he gets real ugly and says that's MY job, not HIS.

We have had some very hot battles over this. Am I wrong to demand that a healthy 18-year-old son help me?

TIED MOTHER

DEAR TIED: Your son sounds like a good boy who would probably give you a hand with the heavy work if you asked him — not told him.

Teen-agers become hostile and negative when commands are fired at them.

If you were to make him feel like a man whose help you needed rather than a little boy who had better take orders from his mother, or else, he'd probably sail right through the chores without a gripe.

DEAR ABBY: What would you think about a girl who told you she was sorry she couldn't go to a certain dance with you because she didn't have anything to wear, and then she showed up at the dance with another guy?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If she showed up without a dress, I'd believe her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NEEDS" TO KNOW

Hostess Should Do Inviting

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Is it proper or polite to extend an invitation to dinner through another person?

To explain further: The other day my sister called and told me that Mary Jones (a mutual friend) had invited her and her husband to dinner and that she (Mary Jones) had asked her to call me and tell me that my husband and I were also invited. I resent this second-hand invitation.

If I were living with my sister, that would be one thing but as I am married and have a home of my own, I think I should have been accorded the courtesy of being invited by the hostess herself.

My sister thinks I am being very picky. I think I am perfectly right in feeling as I do. What is your opinion?

A: You are quite right. The hostess herself should have called you to invite you and your husband to dinner.

Q: My husband and I received an invitation to the wedding and reception of his boss's daughter. There was a no reply card enclosed and I am at a loss to know how to answer it. Will you please help me out?

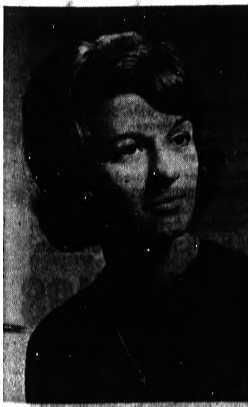

A: Write on your best note paper.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones accept with pleasure (or regret that they are unable to accept) Mr. and Mrs. Brown's kind invitation for Saturday, the tenth of October.

Q: My fiancé and I are planning to have matching wedding rings when we are married. Do I buy his ring or is he expected to buy both rings? I have had several opinions and would like yours.

A: You buy his ring and he buys yours.

Leaving for a New Hampshire honeymoon were the couple whose parents are the Andrew C. Andersons of Gateway Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Welch of Otter Drive.

The bride's gown of white tulle was styled with bodice and skirt medallions of Chantilly lace. A pearl and crystal tiara held her illusion veil. White roses rested on her white Bible.

The bridegroom had Gary Hockey for best man. Ushers were Kenneth Banks, James Welch, Roger Lewis and John Kretschmer.

Rev. Floyd McCallum of Owosso, the bride's uncle, officiated at the evening ceremony.

MRS. GARY C. KLEPPER

St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills, was the setting for the recent nuptials of Susan Jeanette Schultz and Gary Constant Klepper.

A reception in the Gingsville home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Schultz, followed the ceremony performed by the Very Rev. Msgr. E. A. Fournier.

With her tulip-shaped gown of white Rochelle lace over silk and matching bolero, the bride wore a floor-length veil of lace. Ferns and chrysanthemums comprised her bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Delores Sabo attended as maid of honor. Linda Schultz, Carol and Connie Klepper, sisters of the bridal couple, were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of the C. L. Kleppers of Beverly Hills, had Tom Angell for best man. Seating guests were Richard, Norman and William Schultz, Ray and Robert Klepper.

The couple left for a tour of northwestern Michigan and will make their home in Troy.

MRS. DAVID H. LEACH

Sharon Kay Heliker and Seaman David Howard Leach, U.S. Coast Guard, were wed Saturday in the First Baptist Church of Wixom.

The pastor, Rev. Robert Warren, was assisted by Rev. Welburn Smith of the Northwest Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, at the evening ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Richard Helikers of Fourteen Mile Road, West Bloomfield Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Leach, North Pontiac Trail, Commerce Township.

BEADED BODICE

A beaded bodice highlighted the bride's gown and train of white silk organza over tulle, worn with bouffant illusion veil. Buttery roses rested on her small white Bible.

With Bonnie Harris, maid of honor, were bridesmaids Connie Heliker, Shelby Gibby and Mrs. Scott Wright. Annette Leach was flower girl. Kevin Leach carried the rings.

Denys Williams was best man. Seating guests were Daniel Leach, Russell Heliker, Scott Wright, Larry Brock.

Sponge Helps Clean Up

If a spill occurs, the sponge absorbs it. The same idea works with a teen-age daughter's fingernail polish.

Cream of Tartar Removes Lime

Lime deposits on aluminum utensils may be removed by filling the utensil with water, adding one teaspoon of cream of tartar to each quart of water and boiling for five to 10 minutes. Pour out water and scour.

Polly's Pointers

Short Cut Is Neater

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—I always use regular scissors when cutting material for a dress or anything with a pattern. Immediately after I saw the seams and before pressing them open, I trim the seams with the pinning shears.

Hold over a wastebasket as you cut and there is no mess. This is much easier than trying to cut out the garment with pinning shears.—MRS. S. H.

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. L. B.'s pointer for using an aspirin as a marker for patterns is wonderful but it could be dangerous for small children as every child's dream is to get into a button or sewing box. Be sure to keep the aspirin in a container children cannot open.—MARIE.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

Needlework Kit

Tulips on Towels

These "welcome" towels will delight your guests — and you can make them easily.

Pretty as a picture, with rows of pert tulips on each side of a hearty "Welcome," the towels are made of fine imported cream linen with completely finished, hem-stitched hem. They will hand launder and press beautifully.

The tulips are to be embroidered in easy cross-stitch with a bit of outline for rounded form. The lettering is all cross-stitch.

The colors are lovely and were chosen so that this one combination will harmonize with any bathroom color scheme. Tulips are watermelon pink and yellow with bright sky-blue accents. Lettering is a soft neutral green. Each kit contains a PAIR of towels already stamped for embroidery with the enclosed floss. Easy instructions, too. Remember the hems are already finished so very little work is required to make this handsome duo.

You can make the towels for yourself or as gifts for showers, anniversaries and church bazaars.

Purse Size Gets Smaller

The trend in handbags is to small, more compact looks, moderate sizes replacing the huge carry-alls of former seasons. In part, this change is due to the overall fashion trend to the casual look.

Young women, for instance, won't be carrying around so many cans of hairspray as teasing and bouffant coiffures give way to the sleek, casual cuts.

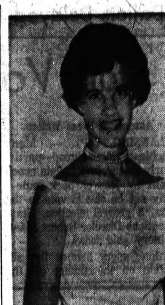

Button Necklace

As you remove buttons from a garment, string them on a thread and tie the thread ends together.

When you want to reuse them, you won't have to rummage around in your button box or bag to find them.

For Discoloration

A paste of cream of tartar and peroxide applied with a stiff brush will help remove the discoloration left by a drippy faucet.

Ballots Delayed by Districting Problem

State Voters Abroad May Miss Election

Associated Press Writer
LANSING (AP) — Many Michigan voters abroad—particularly those whose ballots reach them by jeep or pack mule—may not be able to vote in the Nov. 3 general election, State Elections Director Robert Montgomery said today.

Montgomery blames the situation on the timing of the primary election—put back a month, from Aug. 4 to Sept. 1, because of the state's legislative districting problems last spring.

Because a districting plan was not selected until mid-June, a delay was necessary to allow elections officials time to prepare for the election.

Local clerks, Montgomery said, will be hard pressed to get the ballots in the mail early enough to get them all back by Nov. 3.

LATE DELIVERY

"We're just getting the proof ballots back now," he said. "And they are liable to be too late to be sent out and returned by Nov. 3, for some."

County clerks must deliver the absentee ballots to local elections clerks by Oct. 14—leaves little or no leeway in the scheduling.

And there's no indication that the county clerks will get the ballots in time to get them out before the deadline.

"I am urging clerks to use the special envelopes that allow them to send the ballots by air mail, free," he said. "This means that the ballots would get to the airports in a foreign country quickly."

LONG TRIP

"But I don't imagine too many of our servicemen live right around the airports," he added. "If they must be taken into the interior by jeep or mule and brought out the same way, there probably won't be enough time."

Montgomery said he has received two letters of complaint from the families of voters. Overseas who did not get their ballots in time to return them before the primary election.

Dems Change Story to Suit Occasion

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — President Johnson and his running mate "seem to have a policy and a program for everyone" as they travel about the country, Rep. William E. Miller said Monday night, but "they don't seem to really have a principle anywhere."

In a round of speeches Monday, Miller accused the Democratic nominees of adjusting their views to suit the prevailing political winds in the locality they happen to be visiting.

Comparing GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and President Johnson, Miller said at an airport rally in Oklahoma City, that:

"I would rather have a man in this day and age who is elected president because of what he believes in because he has the courage of his convictions, rather than some man who changes his opinion every week in order to get votes wherever he happens to be."

ST. LOUIS SCHEDULE

Miller flew from Oklahoma City to St. Louis late Monday night. His schedule in St. Louis called for a speech, a television interview and a news conference before leaving for Hutchinson, Kan.

The GOP candidate addressed a full house of 700 Republicans in Oklahoma City and received a cheering, enthusiastic welcome.

Miller remained aloof from group singing of songs that contained sharply etched lyrics about topics that included Mrs. Johnson's financial holdings. Lyrics of other songs referred to the acquisition of the Johnson family fortune.

ARMORY BEING BUILT

GREENVILLE (AP) — Completion is expected early in 1965 on the new $280,000 National Guard Armory now under construction here. The multipurpose structure will embrace some 25 rooms and also provides a 1,000-foot outdoor rifle range.

Although he has been critical

In charging the Democratic nominees with revising their views, Miller offered an example, the stand of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his opponent for vice president, on the issue of oil depletion allowances.

The allowances are tax benefits given to oil producers to encourage them to discover and develop oil wells.

Humphrey, Miller said, had a long history of supporting efforts to reduce the oil depletion allowance, while Goldwater and he had opposed such efforts. Last week in Texas, Miller continued, Humphrey expressed uncertainty about his present stand on the subject.

REVISED VIEWS

"What kind of politics is this?" Miller asked. "I say beware of any man who attempts to change a whole record and whole philosophy in order to win votes in any election year."

FUNERAL FOR EXECUTIVE

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for R. Wade Willey, 56, vice president of Kirkhof Manufacturing Corp. since 1962, who died Sunday while undergoing heart surgery.

Civil Defense Confab

MARQUETTE (AP) — Approximately 400 civil defense representatives from five states are expected here for the annual conference of the Michigan Civil Defense Directors starting Oct. 7. Officials have been invited from Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio. The conference lasts three days.

ELEGANT SHOES FOR FALL

Crocodile-grained calfskin brings new look in footwear fashion

Feet first into fall comes the elegant new pretender to the fashion footwear throne, Congo Crocco. And just in time to show itself off proudly in the wildest season for reptile shoes and boots in many a moon. Congo Crocco is a soft, supple leather embossed to resemble the real thing so cleverly that only a real crocodile would know for sure. Fits into a budget so beautifully you might very well walk away with a style for every occasion, and a color to match your mood.

Fleming Joffe, one of America's most creative leather tanners, has developed Congo Crocco exclusively for the shoes shown here in these latest fashion plates from Brown Shoe Company.

The easy life calls for pants... and pants mean boots, to complete the picture. A great way to carry off the long, leggy look is with Miss America boot-shoes, the slip-on variety that just meet the cuffs of slim tailored, sharply creased pants.

The plush touch for skirts that move, move, move can be found in gleaming black Congo Crocco Naturalizer pumps—especially attractive with the latest hand-finished maple heels.

The walking shoe? Air Step and Congo Crocco make an exciting combination. Lots of crocodile-y touches in a traditional walking shoe to go with gently shaped daytime fashions.

Another great daytime look combines school girl appeal with smashing sophistication. Softly tailored skirts or shifts that bare the knee accent the active, casual life. They should be worn with brilliant colored textured stockings. The logical shoe? Congo Crocco slip-ons by Life Stride to finish it off with a flair.

Young and breezy is the feeling when you wear a simply styled Congo Crocco flat. Risqué has them in many hues and colors—made to match with fall's newest fabrics.

And, of course, the grade school set goes Congo Crocco too. Buster Brown's T-straps in Congo Crocco get A-plus for fashion.

Glistening black Congo Crocco pumps by Naturalizer match perfectly with a full-pleated black and white wool skirt that just skims the knee. A pencil-slim skirt of wool and cotton gives a rich nubby texture to the shades of autumn colors... just the right companion for Congo Crocco walking shoes by Air Step, in the new color called, peanut brittle.

Big sister goes a little wild with her brilliant red stretch socks and Life Stride slip-ons in a rich cinnamon color. Little sister also copies the fashion trend in Congo Crocco with her Buster Brown T-straps with matching handbag.

Pants that fit the leg like a long narrow sleeve are much in demand. Here we see unlined wool pants worn with a Miss America boot-shoe of gleaming Congo Crocco and smooth leather.

The young in heart are wearing Risqué flats in the subtle shade, wet sand. Just the right touch for that Saturday safari party, with bamboo sticks and warrior's shield as props.

Moves Approved After Hearing

Rochester Okays Urban Renewal Plan

By LEE OLSON
Area News Editor

ROCHESTER—Creation of an industrial park in the "blighted" East Third Street area of the city moved a step closer to reality last night.

After a 2 1/2-hour public hearing, the village council adopted three resolutions approving the urban renewal plan and the conditions under which the $700,000 project can proceed.

Chief objections raised at the hearing were from long-time residents of that 33-acre section who for sentimental and financial reasons protested against being forced to relocate.

There are 26 tenants and eight home owners now living in the area designated for rehabilitation under the urban renewal program.

Most of the home owners are older or retired who have been living there for a number of years—one said he bought his property in 1900.

PROGRAM HALLED

Most of the businessmen and residents present who hailed the program cited it particularly as a "necessary project" and one that "offers us an opportunity to get some of our tax money back so it can work for us."

The first resolution passed by the council formally designates the project area as a "blighted" area as required for the village to qualify for federal assistance.

The Urban Renewal Administration (URA) had placed $535,928 in reserve to cover three-fourth of the project cost.

The second resolution approves the conditions under which relocation payments will be made and designates the village's urban renewal director Ernest Reschke to approve all claims for such payments.

SET IN MOTION

Finally the feasibility of the renewal plan was determined and machinery set in motion to effectuate the program.

These are the legal steps required before the plans are submitted to the URA for final approval.

To open the hearing, Reschke showed colored slides of the project area after which village planning consultant Edward Hustoles of Villan & Leman & Associates, Southfield, gave a brief rundown on the studies undertaken and various aspects of planning that have already gone into the program.

Covered were the probable acquisition of properties, their marketability, demolition or removal of buildings and the installation, construction or reconstruction of necessary streets, utilities and other site improvements.

AREA BOUNDARIES

The area of the project is bounded on the north, by part of Third Street and the New York Central Railway, on the east by the village limits, on the south by Grand Trunk Western Railroad along the south bank of Paint Creek and Mill Street and on the west by East Alley and 60 feet on Main Street.

After final approval of the plans, execution will move ahead with acquisition of property. A fair market value will be offered to the citizens as established by two appraisals.

Then the relocations will be carried out — each family to receive $200 to help them move.

Also available under the program will be rent supplementation payments for relocated residents.

RETURNS ON TAXES

Forty-year mortgages also would be available. Tax returns now realized from that area total $17,000 annually and when the full development is completed the income would be swelled to $33,000 annually.

The buyer of the land will have to use it for light industrial, himself — it cannot be a speculative venture.

Under URA requirements and restrictions, the village has the prerogative to give first choice of sale to contiguous property owners, such as the Rochester Paper Co., next to village residents and then to outside interests.

Financing of the project was outlined by village attorney Arthur Cox.

MOVE EXPLAINED

He explained the next move will be to set up a special election to get approval of Rochester property owners for issuance of general obligation bonds.

"We need $177,000 as the village share of the project cost, but we will probably ask for $190,000 to also cover bonding, attorney and consultants' fees and to have a contingency factor," Cox said.

He added that the village can issue bonds within 10 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the village which is $8.7 million.

Two ways the bonds could be paid off with no increase in taxes would be to retire them as a budget item at the rate of $24,000 over a 10-year period, $17,000 over 15 years or $14,000 over 20 years — based on an interest rate of four per cent.

SECOND METHOD

The second is to pay just the interest rate for five years and then use the tax revenue to retire the bonds. This would amount to about $7,600 a year.

Also on the proposed special election ballot would be a request for approval from the electorate to amend the village charter to allow sale of property in the blighted area.

The village wants to dispose of more than $12,000 worth of land in that section.

Under present charter provisions, the village does not have the right to sell property "in excess of $2 per capita."

The date for the special election is expected to be set at the next council meeting Oct. 12.

Math Gets 'Overhaul' in Avondale

AVON TOWNSHIP—Under the guidance of a consultant, Avondale School District teachers are learning new methods of teaching modern mathematics to their students.

Dr. David Wells of the Oakland Schools conducted the first of five modern mathematics workshops for Avondale teachers recently.

He singled out understanding, foundations, individual differences and the ability to think, use concepts and skills effectively as important learning factors.

The four remaining clinics will deal with problems of specific grade levels.

Teachers will be grouped into formal classes in modern mathematics, and will be offered college credit.

PLANS COMMITTEE

School Supt. George E. Shackelford plans to form a committee from the workshop and college credit classes to study the Avondale elementary mathematics program.

The committee will determine curriculum needs and select a series of modern mathematics texts to meet them.

The services of consultants such as Dr. Wells are free to the schools through the Oakland County Board of Education.

All of the school district's employees, including about 550 teachers and administrators and about 250 custodial and clerical staff members, will be permitted to participate in the program. There are two insurance plans available.

ALLOCATED $75,000

The board allocated $75,000 in the 1964-65 budget to initiate the program.

It will become effective Nov. 1 and be retroactive to Sept. 1 for those previously carrying one of the plans.

In other action, the board granted permission to the Farmington Board of Commerce to promote and sell adult tickets to the annual Farmington-North Farmington high school football game.

The price will be slightly higher than usual, with the difference retained by the Board of Commerce for community betterment projects. This year's game is scheduled for Nov. 14.

May Examine Plans for M59

Highway Relocation Detailed for Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — Plans for the relocation of M59 south of Auburn Road are now available for inspection by residents.

Supervisor Cyril E. Miller has received detailed plans from the Michigan State Highway Department covering an area bounded by Auburn Road on the north, South Boulevard on the south, Dequindre on the east and Livernois on the west.

The highway department is slated to take bids soon on the project to be completed in the third quarter of 1967.

Residents have been awaiting word on the state's plans for several years.

Previous plans released covered the relocation of M59 only as far as Auburn Road, and work on that portion is not yet completed.

Miller said that residents may examine the plans at the township office.

Utica Schools Told No State Bus Relief

UTICA — The Utica School District will get no relief from state laws governing transportation of schoolchildren, at least from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Utica Schools Supt. Fred Atkinson informed the school board last night that he was notified yesterday that the state superintendent could not interpret a state statute on the 1 1/2-mile limit the way Atkinson had hoped.

Atkinson and two board members went to Lansing Wednesday with attorney Roger Roemisch, who had suggested that the board try to obtain relief from the 1 1/2-mile limit and a penalty levied by the state for transportation of ineligible children.

The statute defines the limit for transporting school children as "one and one-half miles by the nearest traveled route."

Atkinson asked State Supt. Dr. Lynn Bartlett if this could be interpreted as meaning "one and one-half miles by the nearest traveled route that is reasonable for schoolchildren to walk."

NO PENALTY

Such an interpretation would allow the board to bus some of the children inside the 1 1/2-mile limit to school without incurring an $8 penalty per child and losing state reimbursement for expenses, amounting to $14 per child.

The board has curtailed transportation of children inside the limit for financial reasons.

Roemisch said last night that the next step in efforts to obtain relief from the penalty and/or the 1 1/2-mile limitation would be to obtain an opinion on the interpretation of the statute from Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

He also urged some 70 residents at the meeting to write their legislators, asking that the laws covering the 1 1/2-mile limit and $8 penalty be changed or abolished.

Board Okays Benefits Plan

School Employees Get Insurance Program

FARMINGTON — A cost-sharing program for employee medical and hospital insurance was approved by the Farmington Board of Education last night.

The board will pay half of each employee's premium up to $15 a month.

In agreeing to do so, it accepted the recommendation of an employees' committee which has been studying the insurance program since June.

The committee early this month endorsed the idea of the board paying for half of the insurance premiums. It did not forward the suggestion that life or wage indemnity insurance be supported in part by the board.

All of the school district's employees, including about 550 teachers and administrators and about 250 custodial and clerical staff members, will be permitted to participate in the program. There are two insurance plans available.

ALLOCATED $75,000

The board allocated $75,000 in the 1964-65 budget to initiate the program.

Parks Taking on Colors of Fall Panorama

The color pageant in southeastern Michigan is slowly sweeping across the countryside, and persons taking a scenic drive might well include a trip to two area Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks.

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist, stated that the peak of the color season in this area usually takes place between Oct. 1 and Oct. 18.

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, located between Rochester and Romeo, covers 3,500 acres of rolling, hilly countryside which is expected to provide a new treat for color tourists.

Entrance to the park is at the junction of Shell and Mount Vernon roads, which can be reached through Utica by traveling 8 miles north of Utica along Van Dyke (M53) to 28 Mile Road, where traffic should turn left.

The winding roads at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park are open for the first time this autumn.

BLAZING ORANGE

Blazing orange clumps of assafras trees are visible on the east side of the park and variety is supplied by the red hues of oaks and sumacs and the yellows of hickory and aspen.

Scattered native white pine trees, supplemented by the plantings of the same species, offers the green foliage of evergreens as a contrast to the vivid colors of the deciduous trees.

Persons traveling along the park roads will find many views of the shimmering waters of Stony Creek Lake, which has undoubtedly enhanced the natural landscape and was created by the construction of two dams, one at the south and one at the north end of the lake.

The park's three picnic areas and boat launching area remain open through October.

NATURE CENTER

Separate from the main park area is the nature center, which can be reached by traveling along 28 Mile Road (West of Van Dyke) to Mount Road, and then drive north about 1 1/2 miles to Inwood Road, then travel west one mile to the entrance.

The nature trails and nature center are closed Mondays, with trails open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday during the week from Oct. 5 to 4 p.m. and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Long a favorite with persons taking a drive to view fall color is Kensington Metropolitan Park, located along the 196

Most of the landscape surrounding the nature center is mature.

After viewing exhibits—available from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays—visitors should find a walk along one of the three nature trails most rewarding.

Hopkins recommends use of the landscape nature trail for the fall season since it has several hills from which to view the colorful countryside.

COLORFUL SHRUBS

Colorful shrubs bordering Stony Creek, a small stream that was meandered through Macomb and Oakland counties for centuries and from which the park derives its name.

The nature trails and nature center are closed Mondays, with trails open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday during the week from Oct. 5 to 4 p.m. and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Long a favorite with persons taking a drive to view fall color is Kensington Metropolitan Park, located along the 196

(Grand River) Freeway, near Milford.

Winding highways give visitors a marvelous view at every turn and at each hilltop, with the changing colors of sumac, maple and sassafras followed by aspens, oaks, tamaracks and beech trees, contrasted to the blue waters of Kent and Wildwood lakes.

POW! FREQUENT

Many visitors find the Canada geese near the nature center or on Wildwood Lake an attraction, and other waterfowl also frequent the park.

Individuals and family groups are free to take a nature hike over the several nature trails which surround the nature center. Exhibits may be viewed at the nature center on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and daily from 2 to 4 p.m.

Picnic tables, shelters and stoves are among the facilities. Also available are boat rental service and an 18-hole, 6,400-yard golf course.

Food service is available at the Golf Course Starter Building.

Decision Due on Stengel's Future

NEW YORK (UPI) — Casey Stengel's future with the Mets will be publicly announced today and regardless of whether he stays or goes, put your money on him to have battled, kicked and scratched right up until the end.

The Mets' front office didn't quite know which way to go with Stengel for next year. On one hand, there was a minority group which wanted him out and Alvin Dark in.

This faction argued that Stengel already is 73 years old, the club is about to finish 10th for the third straight year under him and it was time for a change to a man like Dark, who was a favorite here when he played for the New York Giants.

On the other hand, another group, headed by club president George Weiss, wanted Casey back next year.

This faction had a number of compelling arguments, too, not the least of which was the Mets' amazing home attendance of 1,732,597 this year.

Even Stengel's detractors concede he was primarily responsible for that total.

WANTS JOB
Although the usually talkative Casey would not say flatly one way or another, he gave every indication he would like to be back with the Mets next year.

And in the final analysis, the spunky old warhorse is likely to have his way even though it won't cause a spontaneous burst of cheers from all the Mets' stockholders.

The entire matter was resolved Monday when Stengel and Weiss had a heart-to-heart talk about 1965.

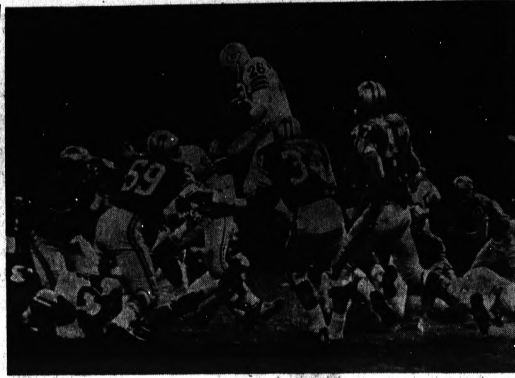

Before they even sat down, Weiss said, "I know there has been a lot of talk one way and the other about Casey, but the final decision will rest with me."

That in itself augurs well for Stengel's cause because he and Weiss have been close friends for decades and Weiss still hasn't forgotten how Casey came out of retirement to take over the Mets in 1962 as a personal favor to him.

There has even been some talk the Mets might try to move Casey up into the front office but Weiss, when asked about that, said it was all news to him.

It is more likely that Bing Devine, recently deposed general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, will join the Mets, probably as assistant to Weiss, and then take over the general manager's post when Weiss calls it quits in another year or so.

No matter how things go for Casey Tuesday, however, he's a cinch to be back in baseball next year.

HIGH FLYER — Herb Adderly (26), former Michigan State who runs back kick-offs for the Green Bay Packers sails high into the air trying to get through a host of blue jerseys, Roger Lalonde (65), Ernie Clark (59), Nick Ryder (34) and Wayne Rasmussen (47). Adderly ran back the second half kickoff to the 23 yard line.

MSU Prepares for Trojans; 'M' Relaxes

EAST LANSING (AP) — Heavy hitting resumes in earnest today as Michigan State's football fans prepare to stand off an extremely formidable opponent — Southern California — in their home opener Saturday.

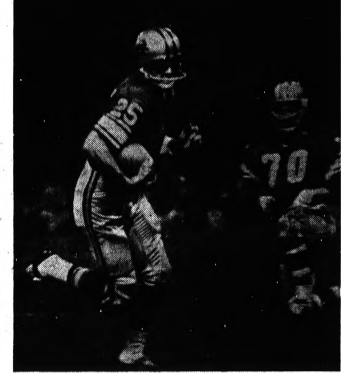

While MSU was losing 21-15 to North Carolina last Saturday, Southern Cal was rolling over Oklahoma 40-14.

The Spartans' trouble last Saturday was a slow start in which everything went wrong. But, said coach Duffy Daugherty, "any team that can come back as we did from a 21-point deficit can't be all bad."

LIGHT DRILLS
ANN ARBOR (AP) — The first two units of the University of Michigan football squad held light drills Monday while the reserves scrimmaged with the freshmen.

Coach Bump Elliott temporarily shifted right end John Henderson from the first string to the second unit, promoting Craig Kirby. Elliott said he would decide later in the week whether the switch is permanent.

Fighter Substitutes
NEW YORK (UPI) — Don (Toro) Smith will face undefeated heavyweight Lee Carr of St. Petersburg, Fla., in Madison Square Garden on Friday as a substitute for Tony Doyle of Salt Lake City.

LONE TD — Pat Studstill crosses the goal line with guard Darryl Sanders as his lone viewer in the final quarter against the Green Bay Packers. Studstill took a pass from Earl Morrill and scored on the 15 yard play.

Injuries Major Topics in Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest football briefs:

Illinois — Tackle Archie Stout, feared lost for the big game against Northwestern because of a hip injury.

Purdue — The Boilermakers worked out briefly Monday, then retired to watch films of Saturday's 17-0 victory over Ohio. Coach Jack Mollenkopf said there were no serious injuries in the game and that no lineup changes were expected for Saturday's game against Notre Dame.

Indiana — The Hoosiers concentrated on blocking drills. Coach Phil Dickens blamed the lack of adequate blocking for last week's 14-13 defeat at the hands of Northwestern.

Ohio State — Coach Woody Hayes indicated he might make a couple of changes in his starting lineup with Tom Feierle taking over the starting center spot from sophomore Kin Anderson.

Green Bay Tops Lions by 14-10

ense led by Joe Schmidt made two determined stands for no gains on the five-yard line.

It was evident the Lions wanted the Packers to go for the field goal and had to stop them on the third down. But Starr, faking a pass, hit over his right guard for the five-yard TD to make it read, 14-3, with the point.

Walker made a try for a 52-yard field against the wind in the final seconds of the half but it fell just short and it was his first miss in seven tries this season.

In the second half, the Lions looked like the Lions of old. They battered Starr on the first play with an eight-yard loss, and held the Packers to a total of 33 yards for the entire second half.

Starr had to leave with a shoulder injury after the first series of the second half and Zeke Bratkowski took over.

Earl Morrill came into the game and for seven minutes in the game the Lions had control with Lewis hitting for yardage and Morrill completing short passes.

The threat ended however when a pass intended for Pat Studstill was intercepted by Hank Gremminger on the Packers 15 yard line.

In the final period, after Hornung missed a 46-yard field goal try, Morrill started hitting, but he was fighting the clock. With 4:00 left, he flipped to Studstill in the left flat and the little flanker back reversed his field and went 15 yards to score. Walker converted to make it 14-10.

The Lions still had a chance with 1:36 left. Taking over on their own 33, Morrill completed a series to Pileggi for 14 yards. But the play ate up a lot of time.

He then completed a pass to Studstill on the 45, but Studstill fumbled. The ball hugged the chalk mark without going out of bounds and was finally grabbed by Gremminger on the Packers 49.

"Any other time that ball would have gone out of bounds, it would have been a touchdown."

Iowa Sophomore Has Early Lead Among Scorers

CHICAGO (AP) — Dalton Kimbel, a sophomore halfback at Iowa, has taken the early all-games football scoring lead in the Big Ten.

Kimbel scored three touchdowns against Idaho for a total of 18 points. He has a one point lead over Purdue sophomore Bob Griese who has 17 points with two touchdowns, a field goal and two conversions for 17 points.

Kimbel is a former Flint Northern prep star.

'Sugar Ray' Robinson Earns Comeback Win

PARIS (UPI) — "Sugar Ray" Robinson, the "toast of Paris," is gunning today for another shot at the middleweight title.

Robinson, a former welter and middleweight king who has caught the fancy of the Champs Elysee crowd with his fists in the ring and previous night club tap dancing stunts, won the most important victory on his comeback trail Monday by outpointing France's Yolande Leveque in a 16-round bout.

HIS CUP OVERFLOWETH — Australia's Roy Emerson is jubilant following 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Chuck McKinley yesterday at Cleveland. Victory clinched Davis Cup for Australia.

Australians Pack Davis Cup for Trip

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Davis Cup is headed back across the Pacific to Australia, and the United States is faced with an old, familiar question. How and when can we get the tennis trophy back?

The answer is obvious: Maybe not for years.

In the last 15 years the United States has won the silver cup three times — 1964, 1958 and 1953 — and each time failed to defend it successfully.

The pattern was repeated here Monday.

CLINCHING BLOW

Roy Emerson, the Australian who has continued to punch the pros, delivered the clinching blow when he turned back Chuck McKinley of San Antonio

Tex., in the fifth and final match 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

This gave the Australians a 3-2 victory, but their superiority in world amateur tennis seems more pronounced than that.

In Emerson they have the undisputed No. 1 amateur in the world. He is the holder of the Australian, Wimbledon and United States championships and winner of his last 48 singles matches of any description.

McKinley was victim No. 48. Fred Stolle, Emerson's team mate, has a good claim to being either No. 2 or close to it. Runner-up at Wimbledon and Forest Hills to Emerson, he beat Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., in a key singles match here but lost to McKinley on opening day.

BUSINESS BECKONS

McKinley and Ralston may not be available next year to try to win back the cup.

"I have several business opportunities and I doubt that I can get away," said McKinley. Ralston said he would be back — with an improved game — but friends say he is seriously considering turning pro, perhaps before next summer.

The United States has nobody in its tennis "bull pen" able to threaten seriously Australia's hold on the cup.

Best prospects are Arthur Ashe, the 22-year-old Negro from Richmond, Va., and Los Angeles; Marty Riessen, son of the tennis pro at Northwestern University; Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., with one of the hardest services in the game but no standout victories; Clark Gable of Cleveland, and Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

The loss of the cup was a disappointment but not unexpected. The Aussies have an unending assembly line. Most of the boys quit school at 15, or 17 at the latest, and concentrate on tennis. Our youngsters go to college until they are 22 or 23 and then get jobs.

The Australians and Americans now have won the cup 19 times each. Twelve of the last 15 have gone to Australia.

Notre Dame 11 Begins Assent Among Top 10

Irish Rated Ninth After Upset Victory; Texas Voted No. 1

By The Associated Press
Ars Parseghian doesn't believe in marking time. It took him only 60 minutes to snap Notre Dame out of a five-year coma.

The Irish haven't had a winning football season since 1958 — they were 2-7 last year — but they're off to a flying start under new coach Parseghian and it shows up in the national rankings.

Notre Dame rode last Saturday's 31-7 romp over favored Wisconsin into ninth place among major college evens in The Associated Press' first regular-season poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Texas, given lukewarm support in pre-season balloting despite its 1963 national championship, reclaimed the top spot. The Longhorns blanked Texas Tech 23-0 and climbed from fourth to first place.

Both Mississippi and Oklahoma, Nos. 1 and 2 in the pre-season poll, were ambushed and dumped, from, top 10. Kentucky surprised Ole Miss 27-21 and Southern California, one of Notre Dame's 1963 victims, took over the runner-up spot by trouncing the Sooners 40-14.

The Trojans actually outlived Texas 11 in first place balloting but the Longhorns came out on top by virtue of twice as many runner-up votes. Texas amassed 395 points to 357 for USC and 347 for third place Illinois.

The Illini, hard-pressed before defeating California 20-14 in their opener, and fifth-ranked Ohio State, 27-8 victory over Southern Methodist in its debut, were the only teams to hold their original position. Alabama jumped from sixth to fourth, Navy from 10th to sixth and Auburn from eighth to seventh.

Michigan moved into eighth place with a 24-7 victory over Air Force. Washington beaten by Air Force in its opener, rebounded with a 35-14 decision over Baylor but slipped to 10th.

The Huskies show the only loss among the elite. Texas, USC, Alabama, Navy and Auburn have won two.

Navy and Michigan collide next Saturday in the only meeting involving two members of the top ten. Texas may have its hands full against a rugged Army team and Auburn goes against gallant Kentucky.

Book Outlines Fiscal Plan

New U.S. Policy Is Proposed by Author

The National Dividend

John H. Perry Jr.

By CORENNA ALDRICH
John H. Perry Jr. is a man who, like many others, sees an impending disaster in present national fiscal policies and who, unlike many of the others, offers a solution.

"The National Dividend," in the author's words, "... offers a bold but simple plan to make every American voter a profit-sharing partner in the free enterprise system ... the plan sets up the machinery for coping with, and solving, the many economic and social problems certain to confront the American people in the technological revolution already upon us. . . ."

Perry believes strongly in the greatness of American free enterprise and feels the present system of federal subsidy, deficit spending and overlapping taxation can lead only to ultimate financial disaster.

His plan would keep economic control out of the hands of a mushrooming and self-perpetuating bureaucracy and allow our capitalistic system to operate naturally and successfully. With his plan, every voter could share the profits of efficient government without risking losses or sacrificing individual freedom.

SUMMARY DIFFICULT

The difficulty of summarizing discussions of this nature makes it essential that this book be read in its entirety.

While "The National Dividend" deals with a topic of enormously broad scope and complicated concepts, Perry presents it clearly and makes it readily understandable to the layman.

Though not light reading, the book is very thought-provoking and will prove stimulating to interested readers.

China Signs Order for French Ships

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today it will order ocean-going cargo ships from France under a new commercial agreement.

The New China News Agency said the agreement was signed Monday by the Peking government's China National Machinery Import and Export Corporation and two French companies, Ateliers et Chantiers de Dunkerque et Bordeaux (France-Gironde) and Societe des Forges et Chantiers de la Mediterranee.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has promised "vigorous efforts" to protect U.N. diplomats on New York streets, but it questioned charges that a recent attack on an African diplomat was provoked by his color.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson sent Secretary-General U Thant a letter Monday answering a charge by the U.N.'s Asian-African group that Youssouf Gueye, first secretary of the Mauritanian delegation, had been assaulted for racial reasons.

Stevenson said the youths who attacked Gueye told police they thought he was a member of a rival gang.

Stevenson expressed regret that such attacks have occurred in New York, but said they "do not reflect in any sense the attitudes and actions of the vast majority of citizens of New York, or of federal, state and city governmental authorities."

Ambassador John Bourkeim Kabore of Upper Volta told a news conference Monday that there had been four such attacks on African diplomats in New York in the past two years and protests to the United States did not stop them. As a result, he said, members of the 57-nation Asian-African group live in an atmosphere of terror.

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says the Cuban government, which owes an estimated $2.5 billion, "will make any sacrifice before failing to pay a single cent."

"If we ask the people if they prefer a hard year and pay our debts, or fail to pay, we know the people prefer to pay," he told a crowd in Havana's Revolutionary Square Monday night.

Castro blamed the sharp drop in world sugar prices for the lack of foreign exchange which has forced Cuba to curtail imports.

"We have a fixed price for sugar sold to the Soviet Union, but the increases and declines of the sugar price affect us in obtaining dollars," he said.

The world sugar price has dropped from 13 cents to less than 4 cents within a year.

PARIS (AP) — Kidnapers grabbed a 10-year-old farm boy on a roadside 26 miles southeast of Paris Monday but released him when they found out his parents had little money.

CAVALCADE FIRE — Photographers covering President Johnson leap from their car at another vehicle in the procession. The car which burned was transporting the Syrian wanted for the killing of Adib Shisheky, Syria's dictator from 1951 to 1954.

Police are still searching for the abductors of Christine Guilton, 6, her brother Patrick, 5, and Joel Biet, 5. A man and a woman picked them up Sept. 21 near Poitiers and abandoned them unharmed last Friday near Bordeaux.

The request to drop partner Mary Catherine Fortino was granted to Alphonse and Alberta Salvatore.

K9 Dogs Pin Jail Escapee

BOSTON (AP) — "BI agents and police, spearheaded by police dogs Gita and Donner, burst into a back bay apartment early today and captured the last of three men who escaped from a Boston jail earlier this month.

Richard A. Carigna, 31, was taken while half asleep in the second floor apartment. A loaded revolver lay on a nearby table, the FBI said.

Police said it was learned through a tip that Carignan was living in the three room suite.

The K9 corps dogs were sent in from the room first and pinned Carignan to the bed as agents and officers swarmed into the suite.

India Villagers Protest Floods

Demand Government Control High Water

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—About 4,000 ragged villagers streamed into New Delhi today and staged a screaming protest against government failure to cope with floods that have ravaged vast regions of north India.

Grizzled old men with canes, women carrying babies, children running to keep up, they swarmed through the capital's main business district, clogging traffic and sweeping aside pedestrians.

They congregated on a large grass traffic circle in front of the Parliament building. Surrounded by more than 100 policemen armed with lead-tipped bamboo sticks they set up a chant that could be heard for blocks.

Banners and signs denounced Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's government for lack of flood control measures. Some placards said the demonstrators had been homeless for weeks because of the floods. Several members of Parliament spoke to the crowd and received their demands for action.

The monsoon floods have left six million people homeless and covered hundreds of thousands of acres of badly needed crops. Floodwaters had begun receding from villages around New Delhi until a 24-hour downpour last Friday. About 40 villages around the capital have been under water. A flash flood swept one village away Friday and drowned 39 persons.

Says a Moon Landing Will Show U. S. Ability

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Dr. Werner von Braun, the space scientist, says that "when our astronauts land on the moon, it will demonstrate our ability to sail on this new ocean."

He said yesterday in Mobile that the United States chose to go to the moon because "its exploration involves every facet of the over-all space capability which this nation must develop."

Only one out of every four Peace Corps applicants is invited to join. Of these, about 60 per cent accept. Four out of five trainees go abroad.

Halt to Dallas Show Provokes Melee

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Angry fans smashed windows in the lobby of Dallas Memorial Auditorium Monday night after an unscheduled halt in a Ray Charles singers show.

A flying bottle knocked a city policeman unconscious as he and fellow officers stood shoulder to shoulder shoving the unruly crowd into the street. Police jailed four persons.

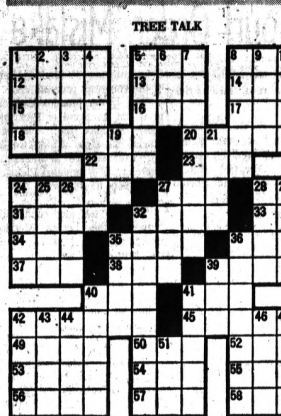

Police Lt. H. C. Hallaway said several hundred spectators tried to storm the box office after an unidentified spokesman for the entertainers announced the performance was ending at intermission. He was quoted as advising the audience of about 4,000 to demand their money back.

Space Heater Blast Fatal to 3 Children

ATHOL, Mass. (AP)—Three children — two girls and a brother — perished Monday night when a space heater exploded in the living room of their two-family home.

Fire authorities said the children might have been saved if the mother had summoned help immediately instead of trying to battle the flames herself.

Sophie's 'All-Fired' Up by 60 Years in Show Biz

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Sophie Tucker wants a woman in the White House. She thinks the woman should be Sophie Tucker. She throws badges out to the audience reading, "Let's Have a Red Hot Mama as President."

Old Soph', celebrating her 60th year in Show Business, is doing her customary act at the Latin Quarter, preaching her platform of love thy neighbor — and anybody else who's handy.

Addressing the old gentlemen who may have given up romance, she says in song: "Go out and have some fun. Because if the dames don't get the money from you, they'll get it from your son."

There's so many standing ovations for Sophie that it looks like the audience might be taking setting-up exercises. For all her red-hot mama routine, Sophie, now in her later 70s, reveals the serious side . . . that she's raised $3.5 million for charities selling her life story and her recordings at the back of the room after the show.

Right up till 3:30 or 4 a.m. she sits there signing autographs and taking in the money for various charities.

As one ringsider said, "I wish my 40-year-old wife had that much energy running the house."

The dream of John Mills, owner of London's popular club, Les Ambassadeurs, to take over Les Morocco here, the most glamorous night club in the world, has hit a very serious snag. The New York State Liquor Authority has disapproved the application for a license filed several weeks ago by the 30 E. 54th St. Corporation headed by Mills. An S.L.A. official who revealed the long-awaited decision to me did not give any reason.

Singer Helen O'Connell, now at the Copa, will use ex-husband Clifford Smith for 35Gs, for unpaid child support . . . Co-workers call Frank Sinatra's private helicopter "The Leader's Ladder."

Refused to Serve Negroes at Cafeteria

Maddox Calls Court Order 'Mistake'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A contempt proceeding brought against Lester Maddox after he refused to serve Negroes at a newly opened cafeteria was called a mistake by the Atlanta segregationist.

Maddox, enjoined from operating a segregated restaurant, opened a cafeteria in the same building Saturday. He barred four Negroes from the cafeteria

Monday, the same Negroes he refused to serve at the Pickrick Restaurant.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper signed an order a few hours after the incident, requiring Maddox to appear Oct. 2 and show cause why he should not be held in contempt.

CLAIMS MISTAKE

"I think it is a mistake on the part of civil rights agitators and their attorneys," Maddox said of the contempt proceedings. "The Lester Maddox Cafeteria is not an agent of Pickrick, Inc.," Maddox said. "The cafeteria has signs saying we do not offer service to interstate travelers. We removed Pickrick signs from the highway."

"I don't see any connection between the Lester Maddox Cafeteria and Pickrick, Inc., which was involved in the court decision."

"We just don't serve integrationists, whether they are black, yellow or white."

WERE ENJOINED

In the case of the Pickrick restaurant, Maddox, his heirs or successors were enjoined by a federal court from discriminating against Negroes. Maddox closed the Pickrick rather than integrate.

Maddox met the four Negroes at the door Monday and shoved them back toward the sidewalk. "We're not going to integrate," he said. "They ought to know that by now."

He said he did not believe the contempt proceeding would result in a fine or jail term.

'FAIR WAY'

"The fair way would be to wait until the U.S. Supreme Court rules on the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act," he said.

Pontiac Has 'Army' —for Public Works

Pontiac maintains a small army! Stationed strategically throughout the city, the local corps is equipped to fight a constant battle against dirt, germs and nature's destructive impulses.

The army, formally titled the Department of Public Works, owns nearly 500 pieces of equipment, some of which will be displayed next Saturday at Huron and Saginaw.

The equipment display will top Pontiac's observance of National Public Works week, which opened yesterday.

DPW performs a wide range of services, from the rescue of stranded kittens to snow removal.

20 PERCENT
In fact, 20 cents out of every city tax dollar goes for DPW services, which extend beyond garbage and rubbish collection.

Sewer and curb and gutter construction is an activity of the city's DPW forces. About three miles of new sewer is laid annually, while 2-4 miles of curb and gutter are constructed.

A similar amount of sidewalk is also constructed each year. At the same time, this "army" builds or rebuilds 100-200 catch basins and the same number of manholes.

COLLECTS WASTE
DPW trucks collect about 265 cubic yards — just under a quarter of a million pounds — of waste material each.

Other public works include street sweeping, snow removal, concrete pavement repairs, maintenance of streets and alleys, cleaning and repairs to sewers, and equipment maintenance.

Two city garages keep city equipment in operating condition. Thirty-seven police vehicles, in addition to 40 other city-owned automobiles, are kept up.

Also, heavy equipment is maintained at the Lake Street garage. The specialized staff includes a blacksmith. Ten rubbish trucks are similarly maintained for daily use.

Overseeing the entire DPW operation is Clyde Christian, department superintendent. Christian has 150 employees in his "army."

LBJ: Supported Ike More Than Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, responding to wildly enthusiastic receptions in often-Republican sections of New England, has pictured himself as topping Barry Goldwater in support of GOP programs during the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson made this claim part of a concerted appeal for Republican votes during a 20-hour tour of the six New England states.

This journey was capped early today by a visit to the Boston bedside of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who is recuperating from airplane crash injuries.

The President, who saw several hundred thousand cheering welcome during the trip, returned to the White House at 4:22 a.m. with a cut hand, a hoarse throat and a good feeling about his reception in the far northeastern corner of the nation.

Johnson's hand was cut by the fingernails of well-wishers who grabbed for it during the chief executive's repeated forays into surging, roaring crowds. The trip was hastened by five formal speeches and at least two dozen impromptu talks.

The New England tour definitely was in the political category, despite appearances at a couple of nonpolitical functions.

OFFICIAL FLIGHT
This afternoon Johnson will hit the trail again — this time making an official flight to the Omaha headquarters of the Strategic Air Command with Manlio Brosio, the new secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson, in picturing himself as a better-than-Goldwater supporter of Republican programs during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, referred directly to his GOP rival for the first time during the campaign.

It was speculated that Harpo died following heart surgery, since he had suffered some minor heart attacks in recent years.

At his bedside was his wife Susan and two of his four sons. Surviving brothers, Groucho, Zeppo and Gummo were not present when the end came, a hospital spokesman said.

Mostly retired in recent years, Harpo, the silent one of the act, led a quiet life at his Palm Springs home hard by the Fairways of Tamarisk Country Club. In addition to his fame as a comedian, Harpo was one of the world's famed harpists — although he never took a lesson. He couldn't read music, but he often soloed with major symphony orchestras.

Barry Eying Nixon as Head of State Dept.

Keynotes Ohio Visit With Demand for War on Lawlessness

ABOARD GOLDWATER TRAIN (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, thinking about Richard M. Nixon as a possible secretary of state if he wins the White House, headed his campaign down the whistle-stop track today.

The Republican presidential nominee rolled into Ohio aboard a 17-car campaign special to make at Marietta the first of 35 speeches scheduled on his five-day, three-state swing after saying the GOP ticket probably will remain the underdog through the whole campaign.

He keynoted it with a demand that President Johnson declare war on lawlessness all across the nation.

"Surely it is time for the White House to break its silence on the matter of local law enforcement and take every step possible to encourage a meaningful crack-down on lawlessness and violence," he said.

Goldwater called for action on the FBI's report on "the riots that recently shocked the nation" and step taken by President Johnson were insufficient.

RIOT-TRAINING
Johnson ordered the FBI to make riot-training available to all local police departments and urged a step-up in National Guard riot-training.

"Simply suggesting that federal agents be used to train local police officers is clearly only a token gesture when compared to the depths of difficulties shown in the FBI report," Goldwater said.

He said that if he is elected president he will assign the best minds in the field to a full study of lawlessness in this land.

As he prepared for his fourth week of campaigning, Goldwater said he already has formed Vice President Nixon in mind as the chief foreign affairs official of a new Republican administration.

PLANS CAMPAIGN
Nixon, who proclaimed himself neutral in the pre-convention competition for the presidential nomination, plans to campaign for Goldwater next month.

Auto Pact Hinges on at-Plant Demands

DETROIT (AP) — Hopes for an early settlement of a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers union against General Motors hinged today on resolving some 17,000 local at-plant demands.

With some progress reported at the bargaining table, negotiators for both sides indicated that settlement of the local problems was equally as important to ending the walkout as an agreement on a national contract.

MSU Enrolls Young Whiz

Full-Fledged Frosh at 10

EAST LANSING (AP) — Mom wasn't much help with calculus, so 10-year-old Michael Grost of Lansing enrolled at Michigan State University as a full-fledged freshman last night.

As a matter of fact, Mike already had dabbled in college subjects for a year, as a special status student at Michigan State.

And he had an "A-minus" average over 38 hours of classroom work in subjects such as history, humanities, natural science and mathematics. That's what sold MSU on waiving requirement of a high school diploma.

Family Father Held by Police

A Troy mother and her six children, found hacked to death in their home today, were tentatively identified by Madison Heights Police as the wife and children of William G. Gravin, former Royal Oak fireman. Gravin was held for investigation.

The bodies of seven persons were found this morning by Troy police in what appears to be a series of ax murders.

According to Troy detective Robert Mortenson, the bodies of three children, a teen-age girl, two women and a man were discovered.

Site of the crime was a house at 2121 Garson, which runs east of John R, about one-fourth of a mile north of 14 Mile Road.

The bodies were found about 8 a.m., Mortenson said. Identity of the victims was not immediately released, but it was understood that they might be members of two families.

A man, tentatively identified as Earl Stone of Troy, was taken to the Madison Heights jail. Stone was believed to own the home at 2121 Garson.

Stone reportedly went out on the 1-75 freeway near the house this morning and flagged down a car.

Deputies said the unidentified driver called police and told them Stone had told him he had killed his family.

Stone then apparently called the Troy police and told them the same thing. Troy police requested Madison Heights police to pick him up, and they did.

"They found him standing on the road and took him to their station."

Officers using gas masks entered the Stone house, giving rise to the theory the deaths may have occurred some time ago.

Sheriff's detectives said unofficially they believed a William Gravin, 30, of Clawson was involved in the slayings.

Gravin, a former mental patient, had lived at the Garson address as recently as 1961, according to records at Pontiac State Hospital.

A former Royal Oak fireman, Gravin now lives at 127 S. Washington. He was admitted to Pontiac State Hospital in October 1961, released on convalescent leave in July this year.

Police tentatively set the time of death as sometime Saturday night.

Gravin had been committed to the hospital after he was arrested and charged with felonious assault three years ago in the slaying of his cousin's wife with a five-inch garden knife.

Blames 'Deadbeats' for Not Paying Rent

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro indicated last night that his government is in the red economically almost as much as it is politically. He blamed his plight on "deadbeat" tenants living in confiscated houses and apartments.

Castro said the Cuban government, as landlord of the dwellings seized by the thousands from their rightful owners during the past four years, really should evict the delinquent tenants.

"The revolution can never evict a family for not paying the rent," the premier said in a 2-hour speech broadcast by radio Havana. He indicated, however, this generosity wasn't due entirely to sentiment.

"Where would they go?" he asked. "A city the size of Havana would be needed to accommodate all the tenants who could be evicted for not paying their rent." Havana has a population of about one million persons.

Despite the "deadbeats," Castro said, he plans to end food rationing within one year. Food rationing, along with restrictions on clothing and all consumer items, has been in third of the district's annual income.

The Pontiac school district received $172 per pupil in state aid last year, totaling $3,737,642.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer says state aid has increased gradually over the years, but not as rapidly as school costs.

While the dollar amounts have increased, the level of state support has not. The trend is expected to continue in the years ahead.

Whitmer said this leaves the burden on Pontiac taxpayers, who already pay two-thirds of the operating costs — the second major source of income.

The Pontiac property tax for school operation is made up of two parts. One part is allocated to schools by the County Tax Allocation Board from the 15-mill constitutional limitation.

In 1964-65, this allocated millage amounts to 9.63 mills in the city.

A second part of the local tax rate is the voted 8.75 mills, which is up for renewal.

The total of the allocated and extra voted millages this year is $18.38 per $1,000 of equalized valuation.

NO CONTROL
School officials do not exercise any control over allocated millage. It varies from year to year as county government, townships and school districts compete for their shares of the 15 mills.

Backs Priority for Assassination Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen today backed Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal to give legislation on presidential security top priority when Congress reconvenes in January.

Dirksen said in an interview that quick action in the waning days of this session on a single bill to make it a federal crime to assassinate a president or vice president "might mean we would have to do our work all over again" next year.

A White House committee on presidential safety — set up on recommendations of the Warren Commission — plans to get started soon on drafting proposals for congressional action early in the new session.

In its report the commission said there were deficiencies in Secret Service preparedness for President John F. Kennedy's visit to Dallas. The commission called for "complete overhaul" of the service's advance detection practices and closer liaison with the FBI and other agencies.

FIRST BUSINESS

Mansfield said that new security measures should be "one of the first orders of business" when Congress reconvenes.

Mansfield called Sunday for consideration by Congress of new security measures before adjournment.

But he told reporters Monday it is "perhaps too late" to act on any measure at this session and broad legislative action to strengthen governmental agencies should be put off until the White House committee reports.

Several bills to make it a federal crime to kill a president or vice president are pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which meets today.

The committee may act on another bill — introduced by Mansfield and Dirksen — to provide Secret Service protection for the Republican presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, and for the Republican and Democratic vice presidential candidates, Rep. William E. Miller and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The legislation, if enacted, would extend such protection to all future candidates for those offices.

BLAMES SHORTAGE

Admitting that agricultural production is far below the goals of his communist economy, Castro put the blame on a shortage of farm experts and a lack of fertilizer plants and other agricultural industries.

Castro scoffed at predictions by "Yankee imperialists" that the drop in world sugar prices means he will have to default on debts to European nations for such imports as English buses and French machinery.

"The imperialists say we cannot pay but to that we say we are going to pay and we will make the sacrifices to pay," he said.

"A difficult year" lies ahead for the island, Castro said.

"Is it preferable to have a difficult year rather than not pay (our debts)?" he asked.

"To sure the people will say we prefer a difficult year."

Nevertheless Castro was able to predict that "in general, next year will be a year of improvement."

effect on the Communist island since 1962.

Castro did not spell out his plan but he said:

"We must fix a limit, for the coming year, for the end of rationing books. We are going to make a pledge right now to the Cuban people (and rationing) without damaging other efforts in other aspects of the economy."

The bearded premier "suggested," however, that Cubans be prepared to forgo their traditional Christmas feast of roast pork this year and probably next "to conserve the pig supply."

City Will Eye R20 Contract

A fourth contract for land appraisal in Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project will be considered tonight by the Pontiac City Commission.

Previously, the commission okayed land appraisal contracts for three other local real estate firms.

Tonight's contract is for Leslie R. Tripp, realtor and appraiser, 75 W. Huron.

In other business, lease space at Pontiac Municipal Airport will be up for transfer from McCaffery Aircraft Corp. to Pontiac Aviation Inc.

Also tonight, the city manager will present his weekly report on Sam Allen & Son Inc., operators of a scrap yard at 22 Congress.

The commission had deferred action week to week on a motion to seek legal action against the junk yard because of noise, dust and odor.

Council Eyes Marriage Issue

Allow Wedded Men to Become Deacons

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today a proposal that young single men becoming deacons be allowed to marry, but approved a measure permitting Roman Catholic married men to become deacons.

The vote for married men deacons was 1,598-629. The vote against allowing young deacons to marry was 1,364-639. A two-thirds vote of 1,485 was required for approval. The deacons assist priests.

With these decisions out of the way, bishops rallied behind a council declaration on the Jews, asking that it be approved in one form or another. Several insisted it must declare the Jewish people guiltless in the crucifixion of Christ.

Of 20 speakers in the council session in St. Peter's, only one prelate, an archbishop from the Middle East, opposed the declaration in any form.

EXONERATE JEWS

Two Americans and a Briton — Archbishop Patrick O'Boyle of Washington, Auxiliary Bishop Stephen A. Leven of San Antonio, Tex., and Archbishop John C. Heenan of Westminster — strongly urged that the declaration specifically exonerate Jews of deicide — God killing.

Record Budget Approved in Waterford

Despite the opposition of Trustee Loren Anderson, the Waterford Township Board last night approved a proposed 1965 township budget of $865,508.

The board's action followed a public hearing on the budget attended by approximately 50 persons.

Anderson, the lone dissenter on the board, said he felt compelled to cast a negative vote on the entire budget package because it didn't reflect an upgrading of services even though it is the largest budget ever proposed.

Anderson also objected to the $100,000 year-end balance proposed in the budget by Township Supervisor James E. Seetlerin.

He called the figure too high and suggested that a provision equal to 30 days operating expenses — about $75,000 — would have been adequate.

DEFENSES BALANCE

Seetlerin defended the year-end balance. He said the general accepted theory is that a municipality should retain a reserve of 10 per cent of the budget to guard against unforeseeable fluctuation in the economy.

James Peters of 3723 Maiden questioned an $800 salary increase to Robert Richmond, Seetlerin's administrative assistant, who previously earned $7,500 annually.

He pointed out that this put Richmond on a level with the police and fire chiefs on the pay scale which he felt was unjustified. Peters said the work of the chiefs was more important in his estimation.

RESPONSIBILITIES EYED

Anderson also questioned Richmond's salary which is $300 over that of the treasurer. He said the responsibility of the treasurer's job seemed greater.

Seetlerin said that he had recommended to the wages and salary committee that the salary of Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson be raised $1,000.

Mrs. Olson, who serves on that committee, rejected the proposal to raise her own salary.

Judge Dismisses Suit on Cigarette Machines

BIRMINGHAM — The city's cigarette vending machine ordinance was being enforced today following a month — long legal delay.

Yesterday, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore dismissed a suit challenging the validity of the ordinance which provides for the licensing of each machine at a cost of $8.

The purpose of the license is to allow the police department to identify the location of each machine and prevent it from being easily accessible to minors.

The ordinance also allows the police department to confiscate the machine if it is found to be used by any person under 21 years of age.

Judge Moore stated that Birmingham, as a home rule city, has the right to establish regulations governing cigarette vending machines even though the state also requires a license.

Trial Ordered for 21 in Raid

Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn yesterday ordered 21 men charged with conspiracy and violation of state gaming laws to stand trial in mid-November.

All had been arrested after a state police raid on the Sheraton Assembly Club in Madison Heights last Oct. 11.

Pleas of innocent were entered for each by Thorburn when all stood mute to the charges. Bond was continued at $1,000 each.

In ordering the case to be heard first when the next jury begins Nov. 17, Judge Thorburn, noting the lengthy Justice Court proceedings, said it was an "old matter" that "should have been disposed of long ago."

Federal aid to education is a third source of income for Pontiac schools. This has not yet become a major factor in financing local schools.

The key to Pontiac schools' income is still the school district's tax base.

Pontiac home owners are fortunate that the tax base in Pontiac is largely supported by business and industry. In fact, business and industry make up three-fourths of the tax base, said the school chief.

Thus, income projections for the future are largely a matter of predicting the future growth or decline of business and industry.

BASE GROWS

School officials expect the tax base in Pontiac to grow by approximately $30,000,000 in the next five years.

Hence, local property taxes will gradually give increased revenues the schools over these years. Income from all sources is projected at $11,400,000 in 1965 to $11,850,000 in 1969.

Whitmer said that this is a favorable trend, but does not appear to be sufficient to keep pace with rapidly increasing school expenses.

Renewal of the 8.75 school millage is essential just to maintain Pontiac schools and a more favorable jump in the tax base could make up expected shortages, he said.

Anderson Lone Dissenter

Despite the opposition of Trustee Loren Anderson, the Waterford Township Board last night approved a proposed 1965 township budget of $865,508.

Record Budget Approved in Waterford

Despite the opposition of Trustee Loren Anderson, the Waterford Township Board last night approved a proposed 1965 township budget of $865,508.

The board's action followed a public hearing on the budget attended by approximately 50 persons.

Anderson, the lone dissenter on the board, said he felt compelled to cast a negative vote on the entire budget package because it didn't reflect an upgrading of services even though it is the largest budget ever proposed.

Anderson also objected to the $100,000 year-end balance proposed in the budget by Township Supervisor James E. Seetlerin.

He called the figure too high and suggested that a provision equal to 30 days operating expenses — about $75,000 — would have been adequate.

DEFENSES BALANCE

Seetlerin defended the year-end balance. He said the general accepted theory is that a municipality should retain a reserve of 10 per cent of the budget to guard against unforeseeable fluctuation in the economy.

James Peters of 3723 Maiden questioned an $800 salary increase to Robert Richmond, Seetlerin's administrative assistant, who previously earned $7,500 annually.

He pointed out that this put Richmond on a level with the police and fire chiefs on the pay scale which he felt was unjustified. Peters said the work of the chiefs was more important in his estimation.

RESPONSIBILITIES EYED

Anderson also questioned Richmond's salary which is $300 over that of the treasurer. He said the responsibility of the treasurer's job seemed greater.

Seetlerin said that he had recommended to the wages and salary committee that the salary of Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson be raised $1,000.

Mrs. Olson, who serves on that committee, rejected the proposal to raise her own salary.

and more was shifted into general operation until today the entire amount is for school operation.

Federal aid to education is a third source of income for Pontiac schools. This has not yet become a major factor in financing local schools.

The key to Pontiac schools' income is still the school district's tax base.

Pontiac home owners are fortunate that the tax base in Pontiac is largely supported by business and industry. In fact, business and industry make up three-fourths of the tax base, said the school chief.

Thus, income projections for the future are largely a matter of predicting the future growth or decline of business and industry.

BASE GROWS

School officials expect the tax base in Pontiac to grow by approximately $30,000,000 in the next five years.

Hence, local property taxes will gradually give increased revenues the schools over these years. Income from all sources is projected at $11,400,000 in 1965 to $11,850,000 in 1969.

Whitmer said that this is a favorable trend, but does not appear to be sufficient to keep pace with rapidly increasing school expenses.

Renewal of the 8.75 school millage is essential just to maintain Pontiac schools and a more favorable jump in the tax base could make up expected shortages, he said.

'Dems Change Story to Suit Occasion'

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — President Johnson and his running mate "seem to have a policy and a program for everyone" as they travel about the country, Rep. William E. Miller said Monday night, but "they don't seem to really have a principle anywhere."

In a round of speeches Monday, Miller accused the Democratic nominees of adjusting their views to suit the prevailing political winds in the locality they happen to be visiting.

Comparing GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and President Johnson, Miller said at an airport rally in Oklahoma City, that:

"I would rather have a man in this day and age who is elected president because of what he believes in because he has the courage of his convictions, rather than some man who changes his opinion every week in order to get votes wherever he happens to be."

ST. LOUIS SCHEDULE

Miller flew from Oklahoma City to St. Louis late Monday night. His schedule in St. Louis called for a speech, a television interview and a news conference before leaving for Hutchinson, Kan.

The GOP candidate addressed a full house of 700 Republicans in Oklahoma City and received a cheering, enthusiastic welcome.

Miller remained aloof from

of the President on the subject of the acquisition of the Johnson family wealth, Miller has not referred to Mrs. Johnson nor has he accused the President of wrongdoing.

REVISED VIEWS

In charging the Democratic nominees with revising their views, Miller offered an example, the stand of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his opponent for vice president, on the issue of oil depletion allowances.

The allowances are tax benefits given to oil producers to encourage them to discover and develop oil wells.

Humphrey, Miller said, had a long history of supporting efforts to reduce the oil depletion allowance, while Goldwater and he had opposed such efforts.

Last week in Texas, Miller continued, Humphrey expressed uncertainty about his present stand on the subject.

"What kind of politics is this?" Miller asked. "I say beware of any man who attempts to change a whole record and whole philosophy in order to win votes in any election year."

Some Sour Notes Mar Third Quarter

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Only a few sour notes mar the performance as the third quarter of the business years near its finale.

The summer was better than usual on many counts. But even the most optimistic forecaster has to take note of some disturbing trends in the final weeks of the year.

The auto industry had better than usual sales—but also a labor pact that some fear will spread inflationary fires to other sectors of the economy.

And the final days of the quarter were marred by walkouts at General Motors plants and a housing impasse.

And they forecast a 3 per cent rise in industrial production, and a 5 per cent increase in consumer spending.

But the economists do some hedging on these bets. They think the rate of advance in the GNP will be slower in late 1965 than in the early months. They see stability in industrial output after the middle of 1965. And they feel that the higher spending of consumers next year will be in face of a 1 to 2 per cent climb in consumer prices.

BULLISH MARKET
Backing up the economists are a generally bullish, if nervous, stock market and the increasing number of corporations announcing expansion plans.

They are counting on the auto labor situation being straightened out in a reasonable time without too much harm either to production or to other industries that dread trying to match the auto labor contracts.

There are still more sweet notes than sour as the 1964 fourth quarter—and the 44th month of the business upswing—bows in this week.
