Hiss Reasserts Innocence as Family Greets Him at Gate of Federal Prison

LEWISBURG, Pa. (U)—Alger Hiss, convicted of lying when he denied giving government secrets to a Communist spy ring, was released from federal prison today. He immediately proclaimed he was innocent, asserting the charges against him were "untrue."

Hiss, wearing a hat and well-worn grey topcoat brought to the penitentiary by his wife, told newsmen at the prison gate:

"I shall renew my efforts to dispel the deception that has been fostered on the American people."

Hiss spent 3½ years of a 5-year sentence in the penitentiary at Lewisburg. Specifically he was convicted of lying at a congressional investigation which looked into charges by Whittaker Chambers, admitted Soviet spy courier, that he had obtained government documents from Hiss, a former State Department official.

Hiss was met by his wife, Priscilla; his 13-year-old son, Tony; and two attorney friends, Chester Lane and Robert M. Benjamin. As he walked through the door of the prison, the former prisoner No. 19137—was surrounded by nearly 100 reporters and photographers.

The drone of a helicopter over head almost drowned out Hiss' words as he shouted:

"I'm very glad to be out but I want to reassert my complete innocence."

He said that in his years in jail he did not have the opportunity to answer "falsehoods" made by "politicians and the press" about his career.

Hiss, appearing somewhat haggard but smiling with his son at his side, said he hoped to tell the story behind his conviction and "to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Istanbul's Famed Covered Bazaar Destroyed in Fire

ISTANBUL, Turkey. (U)—Fire gutted Istanbul's famous covered bazaar today, destroying thousands of small shops. Damage was estimated at 300 million dollars.

The big market, picturesque trading center for everything from electrical appliances to antiques, was one of the city's chief tourist attractions.

Fire brigades from four suburbs got the fierce blaze under control early today but all the shops were burned out except those in sections where jewelry, carpets and secondhand clothing were sold.

Thirty small stores, seven houses and a few business buildings in the vicinity also burned.

Unofficial reports said the blaze, which broke out last night, started from an electrical short circuit in a restaurant.

Or Maybe She Merely Wanted to Get a Map

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (INS)—The Navy strongly suspects that a Los Angeles woman has taken to heart the idea of seeking a husband where there are lots of men.

A letter was recently received at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center addressed to the "Chamber of Commerce, Great Lakes, Ill."

The letter said:

"I am planning a trip to your city and would like a map."

The Navy sent the woman a large map of the naval area and one of nearby Waukegan.

Ike Bares Shifts in Envoy Posts

Henry Byroade Named Ambassador to Egypt; Mid-East Post Filled

AUGUSTA (INS)—President Eisenhower has made public the long-expected shifts in three diplomatic posts each of them key positions involving U.S. policy in the troubled Mid-East and Asia.

As announced by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty yesterday at the President's vacation retreat, the shifts thus far include two new appointments:

1. Henry A. Byroade as ambassador to Egypt succeeding the retiring Jefferson Caffery.
2. George E. Allen to succeed Byroade as assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern, South Asian, and African affairs.

Elks Lodge 810 Donates $810 to Civic Foundation

A check for $810 was turned over to the Pontiac Foundation today by Elks Lodge 810 "as an expression of confidence in the foundation."

This week has been proclaimed "Pontiac Foundation Week" by Mayor William W. Donaldson. The foundation is a trusteeship through which funds for civic improvement are being gathered.

The foundation's first goal is a municipal auditorium.

"It's something the City of Pontiac has long needed," said Russell M. Dodd, exalted ruler. "And anything we think is good for the city we are willing to back."

"One of our prime motives is to stimulate community activity," The Elks lodge membership voted unanimously to contribute the money to the foundation, according to Walter Giddings, secretary.

The amount—$810—was hit upon as symbolic of the local lodge's number.

U. S. Launches Drive to Free China Captives

Tries to Rally Opinion of Allies Against Reds in Jailing of 13

WASHINGTON (U)—The government has decided to press a vigorous campaign for release of 13 Americans imprisoned in Communist China by rallying international opinion in the free world against the Red "outrage."

A demand for the prompt release of the 11 military men and 2 civilians was delivered to Red China's diplomatic representative in London yesterday by the British Foreign Office at the request of the U. S. State Department.

Washington officials said the angry note was being delivered also to the Peiping regime through the British diplomatic representative in that Communist capital. British channels were used because the British maintain diplomatic relations with Red China, the United States does not.

And at U.N. headquarters in New York, Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. handed a copy of the protest to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld with a request that it be circulated to all 60 member nations.

The American note was one of the toughest which has been dispatched by the State Department in a long time. It flatly accused the Chinese Communists of violating the Korean armistice agreement by holding the 13 and indirectly warned them there is a limit to the patience of the American people.

It also made a preliminary demand for "punishment of the Chinese Communist officials responsible" and for "compensation for the 'wrong' done the 13."

Authorities said today they are studying all avenues of following up the initial demand, apparently in the belief that even the Chinese Reds, isolated as they are from the Western world, can not ignore the mounting pressures of public opinion.

Adventurer Gets Prison Sentence

Swiss Court Convicts American for Stealing $33,000 in Gold

GENEVA, Switzerland (U)—Harold (Whitey) Dahl, 45-year-old American flier and soldier of fortune, was convicted today of stealing $33,000 worth of gold in order to finance a gay time at Monte Carlo. He was sentenced to two years in prison.

Dahl was found guilty by a jury of five men and one woman of taking the gold from a Swiss plane he was piloting from Paris to Geneva in October, 1953.

The jury said Dahl "carried the gold from the plane and deposited it in the apartment of his mistress."

The jury referred to Dahl's Swiss girl friend, Miss Ella Eppenberger, a former Swiss air hostess. She was arrested with Dahl in December 1953, but later was released.

The prosecution charged Dahl used part of the gold to finance four days of high living at Monte Carlo with Miss Eppenberger. Dahl claimed he won $10,000 from the gaming tables at the famed Riviera gambling resort and used that to take up the tab for their stay. Miss Eppenberger testified (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

To Continue Over Weekend

Smog Grips California for Fourth Day

LOS ANGELES (U)—For the fourth successive day, Southern California was in the grip today of traffic-paralyzing, eye-sparting smog and fog that the weather man says will continue over the weekend.

Indicative of the blinding effect of the fog, which rolled 10 miles inland from the Pacific, was a traffic report of 1,470 crashes since the dense, ground-hugging mist started last Wednesday. However, only two deaths were attributed directly to traffic.

Fog closed Los Angeles International and Long Beach Airports again last night. Lockheed Airport at Inland Burbank, usually free of fog, was closed for an hour and then reopened.

Football games scheduled for last night were postponed. At Long

Stork Loses Out to City Officer in Hospital Race

That hasty stork has lost its race by a nose again to a Pontiac policeman who modestly has kept the contest a secret for three weeks, according to Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The incident came to light today when Straley received a letter of appreciation from Arthur H. McQuinn of 3390 Loon Lake Shores, Drayton Plains, in which he states:

"I was taking my wife through Pontiac en route to St. Joseph Hospital. A very ordinary thing as a rule, but in this particular case, the baby expected was somewhat of a hurry and I found myself losing precious time in traffic."

"Fortunately, I saw this officer and within a block was able to attract his attention. Without asking me time consuming questions, he directed me to follow him and led me speedily and safely to the hospital."

"Without his aid, I am sure the baby (waiter) would have been born in the car, a possibility which I did not relish."

The mother of another 2-year-old boy, Scott, Mrs. McQuinn added:

"We just barely made it. If we had to stop for another red light, that would have been it."

The officer, scoring against the stork, is reported to be Patrolman Gene L. Felker who joined the force last May.

Cold, Snow Flurries in Store for Area

The weather outlook for the Pontiac area continued on the brisk side today as forecasters predicted a cold weekend with snow mixed with rain and a temperature drop to 26 degrees Sunday.

The United States Weather Bureau said tonight will be cloudy with rain or snow coupled with a low of between 30-34 degrees.

Sunday will continue cloudy with occasional snow flurries. Temperatures will range between 34 and 38 during the day, dropping to a 26-30 low at night.

Downtown temperatures yesterday ranged from a low of 33 to a high of 40. At 8 a.m. today the mercury registered 36, dropping to 34 by 1 p.m.

Disabled Children to Get 'Box Seats' for Yule Parade

"Box seats" at vantage points along Saginaw street will again be available for disabled youngsters for the annual Christmas parade scheduled for next Saturday.

Incapacitated youngsters will view the colorful floats and marching bands from behind the second floor windows of merchants along the route, according to the Pontiac Retail Merchants Assn.

Ralph Eastridge, of the parade committee, is contacting the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and the Whittier School to determine the number of places needed.

Parents of disabled youngsters not contacted may call David R. Ewalt, Parks and Recreation Dept. head, at FE 3-3171.

"Parents of disabled children who would like to have them attend the parade should call and tell us about it," Ewalt said.

"We don't provide transportation. But we do provide adequate window space and a warm place from which to watch."

This year's parade will feature a new "Toyland" section, with floats designed and built by 12 Pontiac schools.

Fear 10 Dead; Gale Centered on British Isles

35 Crewmen Rescued From Stern of Tanker Split in Half by Seas

LONDON (U)—Ten seamen were feared dead and the fate of hundreds of others hung in balance today as hurricane-force winds and raging seas battered ships around the British Isles. Two vessels were reported sunk.

The wind and rain threatened England with its worst floods in 30 years. Thousands of acres already were inundated in the south and midlands, and weathermen predicted the storm would continue two more days.

The 20,125-ton oil tanker World Concord broke in two, and its halves drifted miles apart. A German trawler hit a World War II mine. A lightship went aground. An unidentified vessel of about 1,000 tons was feared lost. A Dutch motor ship was swept onto a rock.

Off the coast of South Wales, a lifeboat crew today rescued 35 men off the stern of the 20,125-ton Liberian oil tanker World Concord, which broke apart in the gale.

The lifeboat crew radioed it would try to save the seven crewmen reported aboard the forward section, which was reported sinking.

The Royal Navy aircraft carrier Illustrious stood by to help, and the tug Turmoil, which aided in the drama of the broken Flying Enterprise three years ago, also steamed in to assist. Helicopters flew into the storm to try rescues.

The big ship, just put into service this year, is owned by the World Tanker Corp. headed by Greek Shipping magnate Stavros Niarchos. The vessel was reported bound empty from Britain to the eastern Mediterranean.

The lightspeed South Goodwin, patrolling the treacherous Goodwin Sands outside Dover Harbor in the English Channel, was ripped from her moorings and wound up on her side on a sandbar.

Coastguard reports said seven of the crew of eight were trapped inside. A U.S. Air Force helicopter from Ramsgate Base yesterday two of the infants succumbed to pneumonia.

Los Angeles Police arranged for extra duty officers to handle the anticipated weekend traffic.

A 6-pound girl was born early today in a car when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Crockett, 35, of Norwalk, lost their way in the fog while en route to a hospital. The family finally reached Angelus Hospital, where mother and baby were reported to be doing well.

Divorce Action Like Course in Geography

DALLAS, Tex. (U)—A divorce petition filed here sounds more like a course in geography, court house attaches said today.

The plaintiff is a Chinese doctor living in Dallas who wishes to divorce his wife, also Chinese, who lives in Brussels, Belgium.

The couple was married in Shanghai and separated in Hong Kong, whereupon she moved to Marseilles and Paris, France, before going to Brussels. The plaintiff lived in San Francisco before coming to Dallas.

The test tube detective has admitted he does not know how long that one spot was on the step before he cut it from the wood July 23. Or how it got there. Or whose blood it was. Or who might have carried it there.

The test tube detective, an alert and earnest witness—eager to explain and determined to be understood correctly—took the rugged cross-examination well. He talked with assurance and detachment about what he did and what he knew in the murder investigation.

Moral: Keep Your Dog Out of Bad Company

MARCH, Eng. (INS)—A dog owner pleaded in a police court that his fox terrier had been led astray by a neighbor's Alsatian dog.

The canines had been caught in a chicken run with 114 dead birds. The unimpressed court fined the owner of the fox terrier $11.40 and the owner of the Alsatian $14.

Today's air attack on Toumen concentrated on gun positions from which the Communists have been shelling Yiliangshan Island, a nearby Nationalist outpost eight miles northwest of the Tachien.

Official reports said the planes hit their targets and returned safely to their base without meeting any Red interceptor planes. The number of planes involved in the raid wasn't disclosed.

Shortage of Parts Delays Opening of New Incinerator

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Not many realized it at the time but the Square D Co. strike left its mark in Birmingham, according to City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

Slated to begin its voluminous operations Dec. 1, the $1,900,000 incinerator plant of the South Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority has suffered about a two-week setback because of the strike, Egbert said.

He explained that the incinerator is still lacking parts which are to be supplied by the company.

Twelve communities will be served by the plant located in Royal Oak Township. Meanwhile the Walker Gravel Pit, Birmingham property in Troy Township, is serving as a sanitary land-fill for disposal.

An extension on the contract allowing use of the land past Dec. 1 will have to be okayed by the City Commission Monday night, Egbert said.

"Forty Plus and Fancy Free" written by Emily Kimbrough and relating the adventures of three young grandmothers, herself among them, in Paris, Italy and London, is the topic Miss Kimbrough will dwell upon when she addresses the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library at 8:15 p.m. Monday.

Speaking at the Little Theater of Birmingham High School the famous author, editor, lecturer and radio commentator will bring highlights and sidelights of her trip, when she was sent by CBS to cover Queen Elizabeth's coronation.

Alger Hiss Released From U. S. Prison

dispel the doubts" about his position.

Hiss ignored all questions concerning the slaying of William W. Remington in the prison earlier this week. Remington, like Hiss, was convicted of perjury in connection with congressional queries about communism.

However, Hiss and Remington were never linked together in the same Washington Communist associations.

Beyond the brief statement asserting his innocence, Hiss fended off further questioning by newsmen, rushed with his wife and son to a waiting auto and drove away.

It was assumed that Hiss was heading for his apartment in New York City.

As a convict on parole, Hiss must report monthly to a federal officer in New York for the next year and a half on how he is living, how he is working and who are his friends.

After the parole period Hiss will be on his own.

However, Hiss won't be able to retire so soon from public gaze—even if he has that intention. Several congressional committees have announced recently they'd like to question Hiss more about his government associations, before, during and after World War II.

Hiss, before he quit a high post in the State Department under Secretary Dean Acheson, was a close confidant of Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman and was secretary of the 1945 San Francisco conference that founded the United Nations.

After making his statement Hiss sharply cut off all questions with a firm "no more" and walked toward the waiting automobile.

The entire interview—if it could be termed that—lasted less than two minutes.

Hiss was a lawyer before his conviction. The perjury sentence automatically resulted in his disbarment, and as a convict he doesn't have the right to vote.

Five Breakins Reported Here

Cash, Household Goods Taken as Thieves Enter Three Homes

Three homes in the near-downtown area of East Pike street and Quick Ct., were broken into yesterday by burglars who took about $100 in cash and household goods, according to Pontiac Police.

Two other building breakins were also reported yesterday, but Police said there was a possibility that these two were not connected with the first three.

Homes of Mrs. Nicholas Kiriaiko of 373 E. Pike St., Victor Maiden of 333 E. Pike St., and Thomas Aling of 1 Quick Ct., told Police that someone entered their homes between 6 and 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. Kiriaiko said that whoever entered her home evidently had a key. After ransacking two bedrooms, burglars left with about $50.

Aling reported that thieves ransacked his home and then fled with three coin banks containing about $25, a $10 bill, and a gray and white leather suitcase. Means of entry is unknown, he told police.

At the Maiden home thieves cut a hole in the side porch screening for entry and took an electric razor, worth $7.50, $4 in dimes and $1 in old coins.

Mrs. Ida Cunningham of 326 N. Saginaw St., earlier yesterday said thieves broke into her home sometime Thursday, broke open a coin bank, and escaped with an undetermined amount of money. Entrance was gained by unlocking a basement door.

At 26 Bagley St., Arthur Williams told police that someone broke into his home yesterday and took a table model radio.

Envoy Post Changes Bared by President

post was not known, and may not have been decided yet.

Caffery was one of the deans of the foreign service. He capped his long service, which included 20 years as an ambassador with three years in the Cairo post during the delicate Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on Suez in which he acted as an "honest broker."

Allen served in Belgrade just after Marshal Tito broke with the Kremlin. He is a 23-year veteran of the foreign service.

Byroad has been assistant secretary since 1932. He came to the State Department from the Army in 1949.

It was not decided yet whether or not the nominations would be sent up for Senate approval at the current special session called to deal with the censure of Joseph R. McCarthy.

The names of several persons have been rumored in Washington as possible successors to Allen in New Delhi. Among them have been outgoing Kentucky Republican Senator John Sherman Cooper, former Army Secretary Gordon Gray, now president of the University of North Carolina, Chester Bowles who held the post previous to Allen's assignment and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Survivors include his widow, Cora Ann; one son, John C. of Birmingham; and one grandson.

U. S. Presses Drive for Release of 13

The British government, which in comments at the U.N. and in London denounced the treatment of the Americans as "outrageous."

The Chinese Reds announced Tuesday that the 13, captured during the Korean War, had been given sentences ranging from four years to life on spy charges. The 13 already had been held about two years.

The two civilians, listed by the Pentagon as U. S. Army employees, were on a civilian air transport plane under lease to the Air Force which the United States contends was attacked over international waters. The 11 airmen were on a B29 which the United States says was shot down about 15 miles south of the Yalu River in January, 1953.

Peiping Radio yesterday broadcast what it termed extracts from their trial record, saying the "U.S. spies admitted having received specialist training in espionage and guerrilla warfare." It said the two civilians confessed they were trained as agents by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The mother of one of the airmen, Mrs. H. L. Stiller, said at Vista, Calif., yesterday that President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day message of concern was "no more than a form letter" and "about a year too late." Eisenhower had telegraphed the relatives of the 13 with a renewed pledge that every "feasible" effort would be made to free the prisoners.

The American note told Peiping, in demanding the release of the men "forthwith," that the prison sentences were based "on political charges which are without foundation."

"These Americans," the note said, "were in planes which were attacked over the recognized combat zone in Korea, or over international waters in the course of the Chinese Communist aggression in Korea. Their detention is in patent violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

It accused the Chinese Reds of having "willfully and deceitfully" withheld the civilians' names from the list of American civilians provided at the time of the Asian peace talks at Geneva last June.

Do You Know Your Congress?

8 Presidents Never Used Regular or Pocket Vetoes

By Congressional Quarterly

Q—Is there a case on record of a President who never used his veto power?

A—Yes. Eight Presidents—John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor, Millard Fillmore and James A. Garfield—failed to use either the regular or pocket veto power.

Q—What is the difference between a regular and a pocket veto?

A—The president can veto a bill by refusing to sign it into law and returning it to the chamber of Congress in which it originated, without his approval. If he does not act within 10 days of receipt of a bill (Sundays excepted), the bill becomes law automatically, without his signature. But if Congress should adjourn before expiration of the 10-day limit, the bill fails to become law by the process known as the "pocket veto."

Q—I understand the vice president, who serves as presiding officer of the Senate, may vote only in case of a tie. Has a Vice President ever cast a tie-breaking vote on questions of organization or elections in the upper chamber?

A—Yes. William L. Dawson (D-Ill.) used their vote seven times on questions of election of officers or organization. An example was Vice President Chester A. Arthur, who voted on such questions three times during the extra session of the Senate, March 4 to May 20, 1881. Arthur's votes defeated the adoption of the Democratic plan of committee organization, gave approval to the Republican plan, and in a third tied delayed procedure.

Q—Is Rep. Dawson, who is slated to be chairman of the House Government Operations Committee when Democrats take control of the lower chamber in the 84th Congress, the first Negro to hold a committee chairmanship?

A—Yes. William L. Dawson (D-Ill.) was first made Chairman in the 81st Congress when he headed the House Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments. In the 82nd Congress, he was Chairman of the same group, when it became the Government Operations Committee.

Q—I understand Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), the Senate's only independent, will be in a key position when the closely divided Senate convenes in January. Has an independent or group of independents ever had the power to swing control of the Senate or the House?

A—During the 65th Congress, the House lineup was 210 Democrats, 216 Republicans, and nine members of other parties. The Democrats teamed with the other-party members to overcome the Republicans' numerical edge and elect Champ Clark as Speaker.

Q—I understand President Eisenhower made about 200 civilian appointments to federal posts in the Aug. 20 to Nov. 7 period when the Senate was recessed. Do recess appointees get any pay before their nominations are confirmed by the Senate?

A—Yes. Under the law, most persons appointed to fill vacant positions when the Senate is not in session receive salaries until the end of the next Senate session, even if their nominations are not acted on during that time. A recess appointee gets no pay.

10 Feared Lost in Gale Off Coast of England

snatched the eighth crewman from the vessel.

The rescued seaman said four shipmates were trapped in the gale and the other three in an airtight compartment. He said there was little hope they could have survived.

The helicopter returned to the ship with a cutting torch and diving equipment.

One unidentified ship of around 1,000 tons was feared lost without a trace off the Southeast England coast. The Liberian tanker Casino reported seeing it go down.

On the continental side of the North Sea, the 568-ton German trawler Wellington flashed an SOS 10 miles off the Dutch Island of Terschelling. Dirkzwagers Shipping Agency in Amsterdam said the trawler struck a mine and a tug and lifeboat were speeding to its aid. No further details were immediately available.

Crewmen of the new 498-ton Dutch coaster Gramsbergen radioed they were abandoning ship after the vessel smashed against a rock in Fishguard Harbor, Wales. Rescue vessels later got all 11 crewmen ashore.

The Polish trawler Penguin ran aground on Shipwreck Sands, 15 miles from Harwich, but was refloated without damage.

The Polish trawler Penguin ran aground on Shipwreck Sands 15 miles from Harwich, and a lifeboat went to her aid.

The Norwegian steamer Granfos radioed she was "sinking fast" off the northern tip of Britain. A salvage tug put out to take her in tow to Lerwick, Scotland.

A Dutch destroyer, the Evertsen, escorted the Danish schooner Svaerdfisken toward Norway from Scotland after the schooner suffered storm damages.

An urgent call for help was sent by the 6,908-ton Swedish freighter Los Angeles. The message said she was handicapped in her battle against the heavy seas by a fire in her hold.

The crew of the 193-ton Danish coaster Vega abandoned ship in the English Channel near Dieppe. While the British destroyer Vigo stood by, the crew went aboard a lifeboat and made for the port. A Dutch tug stood by the Vega after the rescue.

While ships tossed like corks in mountainous seas surrounding Britain, the 81,000-ton liner Queen Mary left Southampton for Cherbourg, France, and New York early today after a 24-hour delay caused by the weather.

The wind was still gusting strongly but tugs maneuvered the liner safely out of the ocean dock. A heavy damage toll was reported from West England where small boats and pleasure craft were smashed and cast adrift in harbors and swollen rivers.

High water stalled road and rail traffic in many parts of Britain. The heavy seas hammered at coastal walls rebuilt and fortified after Britain's disastrous floods and storms of 1953. Churning water tore a 20-yard gap in the sea wall at Seaford, on the channel.

The main street of Christchurch, a Hampshire seaport town, was under four feet of water, the worst flood there since 1917.

Firemen sang nursery songs to calm children they rescued from sea front homes in Cornwall. Hundreds of householders there moved their belongings to the top floors.

JAMES HEAVEY

Alleged Heckler Is Suing Nixon

Says Vice President's Agents Assaulted Him at Rally; Asks $150,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Vice President Richard Nixon faces a $150,000 suit, charged with assault, battery and false imprisonment by a man ejected from a political rally last month after a heckler shouted, "tell us a dog story, Dick."

The heckler's remark came as Nixon was finishing a speech at a San Mateo, Calif., rally Oct. 29. Guards began escorting James Heavey, 33, of San Francisco, from the auditorium, but when the speech ended, Nixon called him back and lectured him on freedom of speech.

Heavey's suit charges he was assaulted, battered and falsely detained by 12 men under Nixon's supervision, suffering "grave and severe humiliation, embarrassment and shame, including shock and injury to his nerves and nervous system."

The complaint describes the man who seized Heavey as "agents, servants and employees" of the vice president who "were at all times acting within the course and scope of their employment and under the direction and control and supervision" of Nixon.

The suit asks $50,000 general and $25,000 punitive damages for assault, and the same amounts for being "restrained without his consent."

also that Dahl won large sums playing roulette.

Dahl has clung steadfastly to his claim that he is innocent and that the package he was seen carrying from the plane contained only two bottles of cognac.

In a faltering voice after hearing the verdict, he said:

"I am simply amazed at this example of justice in Switzerland, a country that is supposed to be famous for its justice."

It was a low ebb in the career of Dahl, who sprang into international prominence during the Spanish revolution which put Gen. Francisco Franco into power.

Second Hunter Loses Leg; Death Toll Stays at Seven

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Michigan man lost his left leg as the result of a deer hunting accident near Iron River Friday. But the gunfire death toll remained unchanged at seven Saturday as the regular big game season moved into its last four days.

Glen Gault, 38, of Gastra in Iron County, lost his leg after accidentally shooting himself while loading his rifle for a shot at a buck.

Gault was returning from a hunting trip when he spotted the deer. He jumped from his car and his rifle discharged as he tried to load it on the run.

A passing motorist took him to Stambaugh General Hospital where physicians amputated the leg.

Gault was the second person in two days to lose a leg because of a hunting accident. Alvina Holm, 31, daughter of the mayor of Iron River, suffered an amputation of her leg Thursday when a hunter's rifle accidentally discharged in downtown Iron River.

In a hunting accident near Cheboygan Friday, Marvin Gilbert of Rt. 1, Onaway, was wounded by a shot fired by his father-in-law, Earl Byrnes, of Rt. 2, Onaway. Gilbert was taken to Cheboygan Community Hospital where he was reported in serious condition.

So far this season, eight hunters have died of heart attacks. The latest reported death was that of William C. Chapman, 48, of Marcellus. Chapman suffered a fatal attack while hunting Thanksgiving Day in Newaygo County.

Last year 13 persons were shot to death and 61 were wounded in the 16-day regular season.

Bottom Tumbler Makes the Top

George Hamid Is Now Millionaire After Fifty Years as Showman

NEW YORK (INS)—The standard American success formula involves starting at the bottom and working to the top.

But occasionally, someone reverses the pattern, as did George A. Hamid, who worked from the top to the bottom, in order to reach the top again.

Hamid came to the United States back in 1904 as an immigrant boy of nine. He was top man with his uncle's troupe, known in circus circles as the Abou Ben Hamid Tumbling Arabs.

While the crowd goes wild with excitement when the top acrobat mounts to the apex of the pyramid, the true connoisseur of tumbling recognizes the bottom man or the "understander" as the real hero of the act.

It took George exactly eight years to work his way down to the understander. But, from that low man position, he swiftly bounded to the heights of spectacular and profitable showmanship.

Today, Hamid owns more than $3,000,000 worth of Atlantic City (N. J.) boardwalk, under which he once slept when he was stranded and broke.

Hamid also owns the famous Steel Pier, an Atlantic City landmark; the Hamid-Morton Circus, seven traveling Broadway shows which he brings to America's rural populations; the New Jersey State Fair, White City Park, Worcester, Mass., and the world's largest circus and thrill act booking agency.

Hamid's American debut took place in the old Madison Square Garden. There, as a top mounter, he thrilled thousands with his grace and acrobatic skill as a boy wonder

Area Goodfellows Plan Paper Sales

Dates Scheduled in 3 Townships

Drive to Aid Needy Set at Addison, Waterford, West Bloomfield Twp.

"No Child Without a Christmas" again was the slogan, as three townships scheduled their annual Goodfellow paper sales.

Beginning at 4 p.m. Dec. 3 and continuing Dec. 4 Addison Township firemen will peddle their papers and pocket the change to buy Christmas gifts for the kiddies who otherwise might wonder what happened to Santa.

Waterford Goodfellows will be on the streets Dec. 4 to sell newspapers and press their drive for the needy.

And in West Bloomfield Township, the fire department sponsoring the campaign has set Dec. 18 as the day for the sale.

Some 18 firemen of Addison Township will take part in the 2-day sale there. Donations will be used for a kiddies' Christmas party Dec. 18, as well as for regular Christmas baskets, toys and clothing.

Waterford Goodfellows will be hoping to top the $1,000 they collected last year. Over 50 men will be out on the streets in Drayton Plains, Waterford Center, and at busy highway intersections to sell a Pontiac Press for "as much as the traffic will bear."

Last year, some 400 children were visited by Waterford Goodfellows and 100 baskets were given out. In addition, emergency help was given throughout the year where fire had burned homes or similar disasters had occurred.

West Bloomfield Township hopes to top last year's collection of close to $1,300 by selling a total of 1,000 more papers. A goal of 3,000 papers and 2,000 collection has been set by the West Bloomfield Fire Department, which is sponsoring the drive.

Union Lake and Westacres volunteer fire departments will assist the 40 West Bloomfield firemen who expect to sell papers.

Working right with them will be volunteers from the West Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, as well as police from Orchard Lake, West Bloomfield and the city of Sylvan Lake.

"We want to be sure no needy family is overlooked this Christmas," Ben J. Mosher, West Bloomfield fire chief said.

Council Holds Zoning Hearing

Property Owners Object to Proposed Change at Rochester

ROCHESTER—A public hearing was held at the regular Village Council meeting, Monday on rezoning of heavy industry to light industry for Lot 45 and part of Lot 46 and 47 of supervisor's plat No. 2 owned by John Dahlmann on South Street. Also to rezone Lots 53, 54, 55, of the same plat from residential to light industry.

Richard Wright, Hugh Bissett, James Murkin and Mr. Roiss, property owners of the lots were present at the hearing and voiced objections to the proposal.

A motion was made by S. Q. Ennis and supported by Paul Hoffmeister that lots 53, 54, 55 of plat No. 2 be deleted from the amendment to the zoning ordinance and lot 45 of supervisor's plat No. 2 be interpreted as being presently zoned as single family residence and that it also be deleted from the proposal. The proposal was placed on the second reading.

The council also took action on zoning Lots 46 and 47 of Richardson and Adams Subdivision from heavy industry to light industry.

It was the thinking of the council that individual members of the council should view this property before the next regular meeting with possibility of changing Lot 46 and 47 from heavy industry to multiple family zoning.

Families to Mark Advent With Symbolic Tradition

WALLED LAKE —Many members of St. William Church here will start off the Advent season today with the use in their homes of the Advent wreath, a tradition sponsored by the Rosary Altar Society.

Also the church has announced that a Cana Conference for married couples will be held Dec. 5 from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., ending with the renewal of marriage vows and benediction.

All parishes in the area are invited to participate in the conference, which will be conducted by the Rev. Robert Koch, SJ, president of U. of D. High School. A child care nursery will be provided during the session. Reservations may be made with Mrs. John Flannery, parish family life chairman.

The Advent Wreath, composed of evergreen boughs with four candles, is used as a centerpiece for the family dinner on the Saturday preceding the first Sunday of Advent, which ushers in the pre-Christmas season and at each evening meal thereafter until Christmas.

Its four candles symbolize Christ as the light of the world, and also the four eras during which the world waited the coming of Christ. The evergreen circle represents the unceasing flow of time.

The traditional ritual includes the blessing of the wreath and the prayer that those who use it may prepare their hearts for the coming of Christ.

A special prayer is spoken over the wreath each night of the first week of Advent, with the youngest child of the family lighting the first candle, which is left burning during the meal.

The second week, another prayer is said and two candles are lit, this time by the eldest child.

Another prayer, with three candles which the mother lights, is said during the third week. The fourth week, the father lights all four candles.

Following the Christmas Eve dinner on Dec. 24, the candles are extinguished and placed beside a replica of the Christmas manger scene.
