SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's ruling junta vowed today to remain in power until next year in blunt defiance of militant Buddhist demands for its dismissal now.

The 23-man military-civilian junta said it would prolong its life by limiting the role of the Constituent Assembly, elected

Sept. 11, to writing a constitution.

It thus rejected the recommendation of its own electoral commission that proposed letting the assembly live on as a legislative body with power to name a civilian government and make laws for it to administer.

The junta's secretary-general, Maj. Gen. Pham Xuan Chieu, said a legislative assembly would be elected three to six months after the constitution becomes law.

Detroit Guilty of Police Bribe

A Detroit man who has been linked with an international crime syndicate yesterday was found guilty of bribing a Pontiac police officer.

A Circuit Court Jury returned the verdict against Angelo (Barrel) Lombardi, 37, after deliberating only 25 minutes.

Lombardi also was convicted of conspiracy to bribe.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem, who presided over the four-day trial, will sentence Lombardi at 9 a.m. on July 19.

Lombardi was found guilty of paying $2,050 over a four month period to Capt. Raymond E. Meggitt, while Meggitt pretended he was cooperating with Lombardi in giving protection to an alleged gambling establishment in Pontiac, the Seaway Civic and Social Club, 118 S. Paddock.

UNDERCOVER WORK

During the trial last week, Meggitt testified that while he was doing undercover work for the department, he was approached by Lombardi and asked if he (Meggitt) could keep Lombardi informed of any pending raids.

With the authorization of Police Chief William K. Hanger, Meggitt carried out his dual role from June to October last year when the establishment was raided by police.

Gambling charges are still pending against Lombardi and several other men arrested in the raid on the club Oct. 2, 1965.

In October 1963, Lombardi was described by the then Detroit Police Commissioner George

Edwards at a U.S. Senate subcommittee hearing as being a section leader of the Mafia.

2 OTHERS CHARGED

Two other men charged with conspiracy to bribe with Lombardi, stood trial at the same time but were not tried by the jury.

The defendants, Charles Roussos, 32, of Detroit; and Odus Tinscher, 49, of St. Clair Shores, had waived a jury trial and their case was being heard by Judge Ziem.

This morning Ziem said he would make a ruling on Roussos and Tinscher at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Should Ziem find the two innocent, attorneys would probably file a motion to have Lombardi's conspiracy conviction set aside because it takes more than one person to be involved in a conspiracy.

Hopefuls Beat Filing Deadline

County Runoffs Slated in All but 1 District

Runoff elections will be required in all but one of Oakland County's legislative districts in the August primary, with the races nearly equally divided between candidates from both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Yesterday was the deadline for candidates to file for the Aug. 2 primary.

In the race for three vacant, six-year positions on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench are 22 candidates. Six will be nominated.

Five candidates filed for the one new Probate Court judgeship.

Two Democrats are seeking the nomination in the 18th Congressional District. They are William H. Merrill, Bloomfield Township, and Theodore N. Kratzel, Royal Oak.

NO OPPOSITION
The incumbent, Republican Congressman William S. Broomfield is unopposed.

In the 19th Congressional District, Billie S. Farnum of Waterford Township, the Democratic incumbent, is unopposed in the primary.

Three Republicans are seeking the party nomination in the 19th. They are Jack McDonald of Redford Township, Richard D. Kuhn of Pontiac, and Larry D. VanderMolen of Farmington.

The following is a list of State Senate candidates and the districts they are running in.

THERE IT WAS—These photos show where a house near Kansas City, Kan., vanished into the earth Monday. In the top photo it's as seen on June 4. On Monday it's gone, with only the side porch clearly visible, while neighbors examine their property. The area is badly stricken as the surface falls into an abandoned limestone mine beneath.

Entire Neighborhood in Disappearing Act

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—It all began when Mrs. Benjie C. Stewart looked out the window and saw her cow disappear right into earth. That was Jan. 3, 1965.

"I couldn't believe my eyes," said Mrs. Stewart. "Our cow was just sinking like she was going down in an elevator. She went down about 12 feet and we had to destroy her."

Eighteen days later the earth opened up beneath the modest home she and her blind husband occupied and broke it in two. They moved away.

Since then, five other houses have broken apart or plummeted into an abandoned limestone mine that runs beneath an irregular area approximately three-fourths mile long.

The latest disappearing act was Monday night. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Monty Black plunged into a 90-foot hole and was swallowed up. The Blacks had moved out earlier when their garage fell into the abyss.

OTHERS MOVED
Others moved too, although their houses were unscathed. Large, sunken areas in a field across the street, the fissures in their driveway and another deep hole in the Black yard are enough for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Crookham who live next door west.

Mrs. Crookham and their son, David, 17, were at their home yesterday, taking up some carpentering.

"We left the next day after the garage tumbled down," she said. "We have rented a house elsewhere."

It is perhaps half a mile wide in some places in the pleasant, modest suburban area at the southwest outskirts of Kansas City, Kan.

Only two families still are in the block along Gibbs Road.

Is Sentenced to Prison

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former New York state Republican chairman L. Jordon Morhouse was sentenced to two to three years in prison today for bribery and accepting illegal fees to secure a liquor license for the Manhattan Playboy club.

The 52-year-old Ticonderoga, N. Y., lawyer and onetime campaign manager for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was convicted May 29 of two counts of a six-count indictment stemming from a scandal involving the state liquor authority.

Last year, 25,064 cars were sold in the June 1 through June 10 period, the highest sales total ever recorded for the first 10 days of June.

393 Seniors at Kettering Get Diplomas

Diplomas were presented to 393 seniors last night during exercises at Waterford Kettering High School.

Speaker Willard D. Cheek, senior physicist at General Motors Research Laboratories, told the graduates to strengthen their faith and to be aware of their inner-worth. He also told them to have pride in their jobs.

He said that in pursuit of happiness and achievement and contribution to humanity, you don't have to go far from home but are apt to find it right here where you live.

Handing out the diplomas was John D. Boardman, president of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

School Principal James S. Fry introduced valedictorian Ellen L. Warnock and salutatorian Judith A. Bellfuss, who both gave talks.

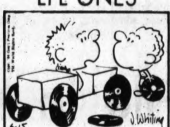

Cheek was introduced by Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools.

The class was presented by Fry.

Forecast Is Sour: Expect a Shower Most Any Hour

Showers and more showers — that's what the Weatherman is showering us with.

He said there's a chance of a few showers tonight with lows of 47 to 55.

Mostly cloudy with more showers early in the morning and highs of 70 to 78 is tomorrow's forecast. Friday is expected to be fair and cool.

West to southwesterly morning winds will continue at 5 to 15 miles per hour.

Fifty-six was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The 2 p.m. reading was 75.

Expect U.S. to Start Shift From France

PARIS (UPI)—The U. S. Air Force soon will start transferring planes from France to air bases in Great Britain, usually reliable diplomatic sources said today.

The transfer will be the first result of French President Charles de Gaulle's order to the United States to remove 26,000 troops and airmen and some 40 army and air bases and depots in France by April 1, 1967.

The sources said agreement is expected in the near future for some transport planes from Evreux Air Base in Normandy, 60 miles northwest of Paris, to be transferred to airfields in the United Kingdom.

Tactical fighter, fighter-bomber and reconnaissance units from other bases in France were expected to move to West Germany and the United Kingdom.

But no date or firm plans for this have been set yet, the sources said.

NO CONFIRMATION

A spokesman for the United States European Command (USEUCOM) headquarters near Paris refused to confirm or deny the report that units from Evreux will be the first to be shifted or that they will go to England.

Combat Police Quell Buddhist-Led Mobs Set for August

SAIGON (UPI) — Buddhists seized three square blocks of downtown Saigon today in their third massive antigovernment and anti-American demonstration of the day.

Combat police smashed through their flaming street barricades and subdued them with clubs and tear gas.

It was the third consecutive day that thousands of Buddhists have battled combat police in Saigon in their attempts to overthrow the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The police hit the rioters with mercy. American newsmen were killed and beaten.

The Buddhists were inflamed by Ky's decision to maintain himself in power well into 1967 by sharply limiting the powers of a constituent assembly called to prepare elections.

Chicago Police Quiet Rioters

2,000 Removed From Streets, 31 Arrested

CHICAGO (AP) — Five hundred policemen removed more than 2,000 persons from riot-torn streets in a predominantly Puerto Rican area Tuesday night and arrested 31.

To "clear the streets and do it with a smile," police held disturbances to a minimum after two nights of rioting.

The arrests brought to 112 the number of persons taken into custody since the rioting began Sunday after a Puerto Rican youth was shot and wounded by a policeman. The policeman said the youth pulled a gun as the officer tried to break up a fight.

Eleven of the arrests were made 13 blocks from the scene of the riot Monday night when two homemade bombs were thrown at a police car. The car was not hit.

POLICE STRATEGY

Police strategy Tuesday night was to stop trouble before it could get started. Groups were not allowed to form. The arrests were made during brief and isolated rock-throwing episodes.

By 11 p.m. the West Division Street area—used as a basis for novels by author Nelson Algren—was peaceful. Two hours earlier, 2,000 persons milled through the streets on a clear, pleasant night.

A lack of communication between residents and police has been blamed by community leaders for the rioting.

The area, colonized in Chicago's infancy by Polish and German immigrants, gradually has been taken over by Puerto Ricans since World War II.

MOSTLY TRANSIENTS

Social workers describe the inhabitants as mostly transients shuttling back and forth to Puerto Rico and having little time for learning English or growing accustomed to city life. The area is 15 minutes from downtown Chicago.

EYE PARLIAMENT

Buddhists want the assembly to become a parliament that will oust Ky.

The Buddhists began their demonstrations today with a street pray-in.

They set up altars which blocked principal streets and prayed for the downfall of Ky until club-wielding police moved in and sent them swarming down the streets in confusion.

They mounted a second massive demonstration from their sacred Vin Hoa Dao Pagoda and again battled police in the streets through clouds of tear gas.

BEAT NEWSMEN

It was then police turned on American newsmen, beat them, seized their equipment and packed some off in a truck.

The third demonstration was the biggest and most convulsive. Buddhist monks beat their alarm drums in the great pagoda, galvanizing their faithful into action.

They issued a communique claiming the pagodas were being attacked and that Ky and the U.S. government were trying to destroy them.

The Buddhists seized three blocks of Cong Ly Street, one of the principal streets of Saigon, and set up barricades of rusty barbed wire, sawhorses and an old water wagon.

BLACK ROADS

They blocked the roads to the huge Tan Son Nhut Air Base just outside the city.

The barricades also cut off the approaches to the U.S. Army and Air Force headquarters and Ky's own residence.

Thousands of combat police rumbled through Saigon toward the area through air hound they did not strike.

They moved rapidly, hurling more tear gas as they stormed the barricades.

The monks and their followers fled from their barricades and ran toward their youth headquarters in the center of the battlefield.

Behind them, they left burning bicycle tires, barricades of flaming sawhorses and a huge flaming flare.

The Vien Hoa Dao Buddhists appealed to the faithful to pray for the country "because of the U.S. plot to eliminate Buddhism."

Dutch Police Brace for More Street Riots

AMSTERDAM, Holland (UPI) — Police braced today for more possible trouble from workmen and unruly youths who joined yesterday in a riot that left some streets looking like a battlefield.

Although there was no demonstration planned, police indicated their belief that trouble could break out anew by ordering reinforcements that were brought into the city to remain for the time being.

At least 25 persons were injured, 12 of them policemen, and 20 were arrested in a riot which grew out of a demonstration by construction workers Monday night.

They were protesting a 2 per cent deduction in their vacation pay to defray administrative costs.

Ex-Marine Testifies Before Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An ex-Marine back from Viet Nam says young troopers are going into battle "high" on barbiturates and beer.

Senators plan to ask the Defense Department to investigate this claim along with another that there are at least 10,000 to 15,000 dope and barbiturate users in the armed services.

The former Marine, a helicopter crew chief identified only as Frank, told a Senate subcommittee yesterday he was a drug addict.

user and that on one mission he shot and wounded two south Vietnamese soldiers while under the influence of four "good balls."

It was his doctor, Dr. Robert W. Baird, director of the Haven Clinic in New York, who told the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee there were 10,000 to 15,000 addicts in the armed forces, and that there "easily" were 100,000 marijuana smokers in uniform.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he would ask the Pentagon to investigate the situation.

A Defense Department spokesman said Saigon would be asked for a report on the shooting incident reported by Frank, but had no comment beyond that.

HEROIN ADDICT

Frank, who was a heroin addict and is under Dr. Baird's care to rid himself of the habit, was a surprise witness at the subcommittee hearing on the administration's narcotics control bill.

The ex-Marine, with his attractive blonde wife sitting next to him, testified he flew 125 missions in Viet Nam from January, 1965, honorable discharge.

He said he was under influence of barbiturates "a good percentage of the time." He said it gave him a sense of "false confidence."

It was "common practice for the younger people to get high on barbiturates," he said.

Senate Unit OKs Debt-Ceiling Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today the House-passed bill fixing a temporary national debt ceiling of $350 billion for the year starting July 1.

Senate Democratic leaders said the bill might be taken up on the floor tomorrow or Friday and sent to President Johnson.

It must be passed by June 30. The present temporary $328 billion debt limit drops to a permanent figure of $385 billion on that day.

Married and the father of two sons, he is president of the Waterford Township Republican Club and a member of the Oakland County Circuit Court Jury Commission.

PLANNING UNIT

He was a former member of the Oakland County Planning Commission and has served as a member of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Mrs. Wolters, a housewife, is a native of Swinton, Mo. She has been a resident of Oakland County 12 years and of Waterford Township 11 years.

Her husband, Glenn M., is employed at General Motors Technical Center in Warren. She is the mother of two teen-age sons.

She is vice president of the Waterford Township Republican Club and has been a delegate to the GOP state convention for several years.

He is Republican director of Waterford Township and a member of the Republican executive board of the 19th congressional district.

A member of Lakewood Farms Civic Association, Mrs. Wolters previously served two years as president of the PTA at Lakewood Elementary School and has been active as a volunteer worker for United Fund.

She is a graduate of Advance, Mo., High School and for two years attended Stearns Business College in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Birmingham Area News Parents, Board to Eye Temporary School Setup without affecting the educational program.

Plan III, which officials feel is most feasible, according to Superintendent John B. Smith, is to place Berkshire Junior High on a short day so that Covington students and faculty could be accommodated by a double session.

The dates were set last night at a special meeting of the board of education at Berkshire Junior High.

Labor disputes and strikes have caused a six- to eight-week delay in construction at Covington.

Three plans were studied by the board and school administration for housing Covington students.

Plan I was to retain the students in the present buildings. This would affect three junior high schools.

PROJECTED ENROLLMENT

Barnum, with a capacity of 750, would have 799 students; Berkshire, with a capacity of 1,000, would have 1,630; and Groves, with a capacity of 1,650, would have 2,310.

Plan II was to set up a special class in a church education facility, but it was found that no church facilities in the area can accommodate the 1,115 Covington students.

Plan III, which officials feel is most feasible, according to Superintendent John B. Smith, is to place Berkshire Junior High on a short day so that Covington students and faculty could be accommodated by a double session.

A full schedule would be retained by reducing Berkshire class periods from the present 45 minutes to 37 minutes. The only extracurricular activity that would be limited would be the physical education program.

BRING LUNCHES

Students would be asked to bring their lunches and transportation would be reduced to a minimum for the period.

Berkshire students would attend classes from 7:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. with Covington students attending classes from 12:40 p.m. to 5:20 p.m.

Any alternate plans will be studied by the board and administration, Smith said.

The board also set up an advisory committee of 46 persons in the community to study school needs. This is the third time such a committee has been asked to assist the board.

DISTRICT'S PROBLEMS

Committee members are being asked to study the district's problems in order to continue to maintain and improve the education program to meet the needs of the individual student and to provide physical facilities.

Primary problems are the increasing enrollment, the rise in building costs and the need to improve salaries in order to attract and retain teachers.

Board: Eastern Is Not Inferior

Dissident Teachers Make a New Appeal

Eastern Junior High School is not an inferior school — it is a school with problems, the Pontiac Board of Education told dissident teachers and parents at a special board meeting last night.

The 28 Eastern teachers who were not in their classrooms Thursday and Friday last night reiterated their request for a public statement of support by the board.

The board issued two prepared statements in answer to the protests of the dissident teachers.

Glenda Belote, a spokeswoman for the teachers, said she was satisfied with the board's statements.

The board noted that Eastern is similar to other Pontiac junior high schools in terms of curriculum, instructional materials, extracurricular activities and teaching staff.

"The board of education recognizes that improvements are always possible in every school. The board believes that school improvement can best be accomplished through a close working relationship between concerned parents, teachers and administration," the first statement read.

Plans are to be made and implemented during the summer to improve parent-school relationships, the board promised, urging all parents and staff members to give the program their full support.

CLEARED OF CHARGES

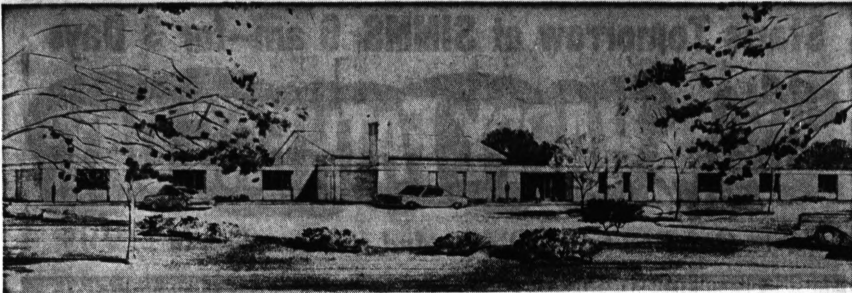

In the other written statement, the board announced that Eastern Principal Theodore Wiersma had been cleared of any criminal charges in connection with a May 23 disciplinary incident which sparked a demonstration by some 175 pupils and parents May 27.

Wiersma had been accused of "manhandling" a girl enrolled in a class for the emotionally disturbed at the school.

Findings of the Pontiac Police Department and school administrators indicate there is no basis for a criminal complaint.

The board noted that a Civil Rights Commission investigation of the incident has not been concluded.

Also filing petitions yesterday were two Democratic candidates for township constable — Incumbent Gerald C. Carter, 48, of 104 Hira and T.W. Greene, 36, of 40 N. Lynn. Two-year positions are at stake.

PROPOSED NEW SCHOOL. — An architect's drawing shows one of the new schools to be built with money from a $3.1-million bond issue approved Monday by voters of the Avondale School District. Anticipating the need for additional buildings, the board of education last January asked its architects, O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham, to draw up plans for a new school with the understanding that they would be paid when a tax increase was approved. School officials estimated they could save between four and six months construction time by this method. The new school, to be located on the Bloomfield Orchards site, will cost about $400,000. It will contain 12 classrooms plus a kindergarten room. The new building is not scheduled for completion until September 1967 or later. Portable classrooms will have to be used when school opens this fall, according to Schools Supt. John Dickey.

On Walled Lake Contract

Teachers, Board in Accord

WALLED LAKE — A new contract for teachers in the district has been approved by board of education and Walled Lake Education Association negotiating teams.

The board gave tentative approval to the agreement at its meeting Monday night. The teachers will meet today to vote on ratifying the contract.

According to terms of the contract, teachers with a bachelor's degree will receive a starting salary of $5,640 and receive $8,750 after 10 years.

The present schedule calls for a starting salary of $5,200 with a maximum of $7,804 after 10 years.

Teachers with master's degrees will receive a starting salary of $6,035 and $9,796 after 11 years. The present schedule is a starting salary of $5,515 and $8,854 after 11 years.

SALARY SCHEDULE

A new salary schedule has also been established for teachers with a master's degree plus 40 hours. They will receive a starting salary of $6,337 with a maximum of $10,285 after 11 years.

The minimum amount of salary increase for each step will be $694. Some teachers will receive as much as $1,335.

Hospitalization costs will be taken from 1.2 per cent of each teacher's salary.

The salary increase is part of the balanced budget for the school district.

In other action by the board, Fred Kassner, presently a school psychologist in Muskegon, was appointed director of special education for the district.

Kassner has worked in numerous projects and centers dealing with emotionally disturbed and handicapped children.

Howard Chenowitch, presently an attendance officer for the district, has been appointed acting principal of the Walled Lake Junior High School.

Chenowitch taught at the junior high. He will serve for one year.

DISTRICT POST

Harry Carlson has been appointed for the same period as administrative assistant for the district.

John Williams, administrative assistant for the district, and Oliver Rose, assistant high school principal, have been granted a year's sabbatical leave by the board.

While working on their doctorate degrees, both will receive a partial salary. The program is sponsored by the Mott Foundation Program.

The two administrators will return to the district for at least a two-year period following their leave.

The board also revised an administrative salary schedule, raising salaries for the assistant superintendent, administrative assistant and director of instruction 5 per cent.

Salaries for director of vocational education, assistant principal, and dean of students were raised 2 1/2 per cent.

Teacher Pact Set in Oxford

OXFORD — The teachers and the board of education agreed to a new contract last night which allows raises ranging from $300 to $1,100.

The new salary schedule starts at $5,000 and goes to $8,622 for a bachelor's degree and ranges from $6,000 to $9,022 for a master's degree.

The old schedule ranged from $5,300 to $7,500 for a bachelor's degree. Teachers with a master's degree received $300 more at each step.

Schools Supt. Roger Oberg said the raises will cost the district about $78,000. He said this is about $43,000 more than was allowed in the preliminary budget.

W. Bloomfield Deadline Set

Teacher Pact Stalled Over Salary Issue

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Teachers represented by the West Bloomfield Education Association (WBEA) have set 12 noon Friday as the negotiation deadline with the Board of Education.

In a resolution presented to Supt. Dr. Leif A. Hogen last night, the teachers agreed to ratify only a master contract and not to return to school in the fall without a master contract.

James Maker, WBEA president, said "The board negotiating team has refused to accept more than minor word changes without board direction."

Present salary schedule for teachers with a bachelor's degree is a starting salary of $5,300 with a maximum of $8,200 after 12 years.

Starting salary for teachers with a master's degree is $5,700 with a maximum of $8,800 after 12 years.

SALARY CHANGE

Teachers are asking for a salary schedule of $5,500 starting salary for those with bachelor's degrees and a maximum of $9,625 after seven years.

They also ask that teachers with master's degrees receive a $6,050 starting salary and $11,550 after nine years.

The last counter-proposal by the board, according to Maker, was a $5,600 starting salary for those with bachelor's degrees with a maximum of $8,700 after 12 years.

Teachers with master's degrees would receive $6,000 starting salary and a maximum of $9,340 after 12 years.

Maker said the teachers rejected this proposal because now that voters have approved a $7 million bond issue, they feel the board can afford more than has been offered.

A teachers meeting is scheduled for Friday to either ratify a contract or report on negotiations.

APPROVE REZONING — In other action Monday night, the council approved the rezoning of 117 acres of the McGregor estate that lie within the village limits.

The 47-acre estate is being developed into a nine-hole golf course, an apartment complex, a shopping mall and residential section.

Representatives of the council and of the Avon Township Board have been discussing a joint program to service the area.

Sinclair said the village has not heard from the township in some time and that councilmen felt that definite steps should be taken soon.

The council is proposing an 18 or 24-inch main at a cost of about $300,000. Sinclair said it has not yet been determined.

The council will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday to discuss a resolution setting an election on incorporation and a city charter commission.

Work on New School to Start July 1 Despite Delay on Bids

FARMINGTON — Although receipt of bids on steel and foundation work for the fourth junior high school will be delayed from June 14 to June 27 or 28, the board of education does not expect the delay to interfere with the start of construction July 1.

Bids on the school, which will name Power Junior High Monday night after Farmington founder Nathan Power, are being postponed until soil conditions at the site can be corrected.

A new elementary school costing $634,754 has been named Forest Elementary by the board. Bids for site clearance will go out June 14 and be received June 27.

All contracts on the school, located in the northwest section of the district, are expected to be approved by Aug. 22.

In other action by the board, a summer Project Head Start was approved. Farmington's budget for the project, serving approximately 20 children, will name Ninety per cent of the budget will be met by federal funds and 10 per cent by local funds.

The board also approved a master contract with the secretaries association containing salary improvements costing $40,892.

Called Spot Zoning

Oakland Twp. Denies Rezoning Bids

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Two rezoning requests were denied by the Township Board last night on the recommendation of the Township Zoning Board and the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Commission.

The board denied a request from Bertin Vervellen to change a parcel of land on Rochester Road near Romeo from residential to commercial to allow the sale and rental of travel trailers.

Also denied was a request to rezone 15 acres on Adams and Stony Creek roads for a riding stable.

Township Clerk Mrs. Lucy Alt said the board felt that the two changes would constitute spot zoning. She said the township board is considering hiring a planning consultant to plan the entire township and wants to avoid spot zoning.

In other action, the board renewed a contract with the village of Rochester for fire protection. The board hopes to extend the contract for a three-year period instead of discussing it each year, according to Mrs. Alt.

The contract sets the rates at $150 for the first hour and $75 for each additional hour for a general alarm and a straight $75 per hour for a silent alarm.

'Police Brutality' Insidious Slogan

Just recently, The Pontiac Press commented editorially upon the misuse of the words "police brutality" and the fact the phrase was misapplied in nearly all instances.

In his June message to the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover discussed the same theme and we are happy to reproduce the bulk of his very pertinent comments herewith:

"Law enforcement is degraded, purposely in many instances by the widespread use of the term 'police brutality.' Just as the word 'juvenile' has been associated with 'delinquency' so often that now, when used alone, it has a disagreeable connotation.

"Police brutality conjures up visions of hulking men clubbing and beating innocent people. Rarely, however, does the term fit. It is used in wild accounts of enforcement officers' lifting demonstrators who block busy thoroughfares, in references to oral commands by policemen who disperse troublemakers, and in describing sworn duties performed by policemen.

"There is a calculated attempt to inflame hostility against law enforcement by charging 'police brutality' without cause. The term is bandied about without serious consideration as to its harmful effect on a profession charged with enforcing the rules of civilized living.

"I agree with responsible news editors, public officials, and law-abiding citizens that it is high time to get this 'pet slogan' into a better perspective. We do not deny there have been instances of misuse of force, but such incidents are not prevalent. A general principle of the law has been that an officer may use such force as is necessary to make lawful arrests, protect his life, and perform specific duties. Frequently, however, the choice is not his to make; he HAS to use force or be maimed or killed and have the rights of all the people trampled by those who have no respect for law or due process. Even then, his best efforts often are not enough, as evidenced by the appalling number of officers assaulted and killed each year.

"Policemen have the same basic rights as others. They should not be singled out for ridicule by blanket accusations. The public, the press, and law enforcement itself should launch a concerted drive to stop the indictment of police. If an officer is assaulted while making an arrest and uses undue force to subdue the person, then call it 'undue force.' If an officer uses profane language, then describe it as profane language. But the constant cry of 'police brutality' is dead wrong. It is a stigmatization of police by rote."

Remember, you have just been listening to the greatest upholder of our laws there is.

Agencies Vie for Control of Amateur Athletics

Probably the most exhausting sports contest of recent years has been the marathon between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The A.A.U.-N.C.A.A. feud concerns primarily the sponsorship of "open" track meets in which both college and non-college athletes compete, as opposed to "closed" meets in which only college athletes are fielded. The A.A.U. for years has certified to the International Olympic Committee the athletes to represent the United States. But now the N.C.A.A. wants a piece of the action—all of the action, in fact.

Attempts by President Kennedy, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the U. S. Senate to iron out the dispute were unavailing. Then, last January, Vice President Humphrey appointed a five-man arbitration board to work out a solution. The board's initial proposal met objections from both sides. So the arbiters will try again in two days of talks opening today in New York.

The A.A.U. and N.C.A.A. could, of course, follow the example of pro football and merge. But when asked about this, the head of the arbitration panel said "a merger is possible, I wouldn't say probable."

If stalemates are ever included as events on athletic programs, the enduring one staged by the two governing bodies should win a blue ribbon hands down.

Supreme Court Faces New Storm

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Another storm seems certain to break over the Supreme Court for a decision it gave Monday, one of its most far-reaching and historic.

Under it the right of an individual not to incriminate himself has been extended and strengthened as never before.

But, as a result of it, far fewer people held as criminal suspects will admit anything; police therefore will have to work a lot harder solving crimes, and perhaps fewer of them will be solved.

In a 5-4 decision, written by Chief Justice Earl Warren, the court laid down these rules which police must follow scrupulously before attempting to question an arrested suspect:

1. He must be told he has the right to stay silent.
2. He must be told anything he says may be used against him in court.
3. He must be told he has the right to have an attorney with him before any questioning.
4. He must be told that, if he wants an attorney but can't afford one, an attorney will be provided for him free.
5. If, after being told all this, an arrested suspect says he does not want a lawyer and is willing to be questioned, he may be, provided he reached his decision "knowingly and intelligently."
6. If, after being told all his rights, a suspect agrees to be questioned, he can shut off the questions any time after they have started, whether or not he has an attorney with him.

BASIS FOR APPEALS
Rule No. 5's requirement — that a voluntary confession or statement can stand up in court only if made "knowingly and intelligently" — will no doubt be the basis for countless appeals from future convictions.

Justice John M. Harlan, one of the four justices who disagreed with the decision, dissented in very strong language. In part he said: "I believe the decision of the court represents poor constitutional law and entails harmful consequences for the country at large. The thrust of the new rules is ultimately to discourage any confession at all."

"We do know that some crimes cannot be solved without confessions. The court is taking a real risk with society's welfare in imposing its new regime on the country."

COURT'S ANSWER
The attorneys general of 27 states urged the court not to put further limits on questioning suspects in criminal cases.

Monday's decision was the court's answer.

Warren said the court encourages Congress and state legislatures to develop their own safeguards against self-incrimination by criminal suspects.

But the chief justice indicated such safeguards won't stand up before the Supreme Court unless they are as effective as the rules laid down Monday. And, of course, the Supreme Court will do the deciding on whether they are.

"You Mean Santa Claus Is Dead?"

David Lawrence Says:

Police Facing New Obstacles

WASHINGTON — An unwitting crime hereafter may never be punished, particularly if the suspect knows enough to keep his mouth shut.

Police officers have just been told by the Supreme Court of the United States that, LAWRENCE immediately after they take a suspect into custody and prior to any questioning, they must warn him that anything he says may be used against him. They must specifically advise him of his right not to answer any question and of his right to have counsel beside him during any interrogation to which he may consent.

If the suspect indicates "in any manner and at any stage of the process" that he wants to consult with a lawyer before speaking or that he does not wish to be interrogated, there can be no questioning.

Unless the prosecution demonstrates that it has used these "procedural safeguards" in behalf of the defendant, even voluntary confessions are not admissible as evidence in a court.

When the Supreme Court, by a five-to-four decision, said this week that these "safeguards" are required by the Constitution, a sweeping change was made in the methods of handling persons accused of crime in America. Law-enforcement agencies now are confronted with new obstacles to the protection of men, women and children and to the prevention and punishment of crime.

The Constitution does say that no individual "shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself," and that an accused person has the right "to have the assistance of counsel for his defense." But until recent years this has been construed to refer to trial procedures, and never before have these rights been extended so broadly to include questioning at the police station.

Police officers in some cases have undoubtedly intimidated persons suspected of a crime, and in other instances have managed in a tactful way to elicit what are called "voluntary" confessions.

Now if a suspect makes any statement which is later used in court, the police have to prove that before the interrogation he was fully advised of his rights and had available the services of an attorney — who must be appointed for him if he is unable to retain one on his own. The suspect can waive such rights only if it is done "voluntarily."

Chief Justice Warren says that the decision this week does not interfere with further efforts in that direction.

But many lawyers will wonder just how any rules can be drawn up that will induce suspects to tell the police anything if even mere conversation with a person in custody cannot be used in court against him and now is regarded as a form of duress.

Bob Considine Says:

Kremlinologists Wearing Rose-Colored Glasses

NEW YORK — What would have sounded to Theodore Roosevelt's ears like a declaration of war is like the cooing of doves to the ears of the trained Kremlinologist.

Premier Kossygin heaped all grades of verbal fire and brimstone on the U.S. for its role in Viet Nam in his recent speech in Moscow. But the N.Y. Times found it worthy of front-page display as a hopeful change of party line, and the N.Y. Post was comforted editorially because it didn't sound like a Cold Warrior speaking.

Kossygin's big change of heart was confined to refraining from blaming President Johnson personally for the Viet Nam war. Unnamed "advisers" are to blame, the Russian said.

He also made the startling discovery that certain Americans in hard places are the second thoughts about the bloody business on the other side of the world.

Most encouraging, the Kremlin-watchers agreed. These people must be listed high among the most accomplished, man-splitters in his country, at least, the world's finest assassins of the muncie, premier detectors of the true meaning of the unuttered word and the pregnant pause.

They can read through a Soviet leader's speech that states flatly we can never win in Viet Nam and still find it encouraging because he was saying it this time to the President's "advisers" and not to the President.

The fact that he was saying it at all does not seem to matter to those in charge of our rose-colored blocal department.

One would wish the Red Chinese had an equally sensitive White House-watching detail on 24-hour duty. We've stepped up the number of friendly waves we've made in the direction of Peking.

But nary a peep out of Peking. If Kossygin or Brezhnev directed remarks at us that were more than as friendly as we direct toward Red China, our Kremlinologists would go cartwheeling down Pennsylvania Avenue blowing New Year's Eve horns.

Conscience vs. Cash

The Portland Oregonian

It is shocking to think that the presence of 60 wounded Viet Nam war veterans would spoil an evening's fun for other Americans living it up with easy money produced by a war economy.

Despite apologies from the top man of the big hotel chain and others, this evidently was the reason the veterans from the Great Lakes Naval Training Hospital were not admitted to the Boulevard Room of Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel.

The hotel manager said he was misquoted by the mayor of Mundelein, Ill., who said that the hotel chain had decided it would be better that the veterans not attend a regular performance of the ice show at the hotel because their presence might be depressing to other customers.

But the manager added to reporters: "Customers pay cover charges and high prices, and they want relaxation and things pleasant." This meant the same.

Perhaps the hotel operator misjudged the American public. One hopes so. There is other evidence, however, that some of us are inclined to shove the fighting in Viet Nam aside to a far corner of the mind while enjoying the fruits of economic prosperity.

It is interesting that Mr. Downes is in favor of better salaries for teachers, but not better working conditions. Has Mr. Downes tried offering his employees a five per cent raise in salary and a 35 per cent increase in work load?

Mr. Downes should invite 40 children into his home and confine them to straight-backed chairs and desks from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. with an hour off for lunch. I would be interested to hear if Mr. Downes still believes working with 40 children is such a snap after such an experiment.

Yes, I'm a teacher. I find that those who are quick to tell us how easy it is to handle 40 children are the same ones who refuse to be scout leaders, room mothers, or let children play in their yards.

As a humanitarian, I object strenuously to the idea of locking up a fellow human being as though he were a wild animal. I want to empty all jail and prison cells at once. We could free all prisoners, apologizing for the society which locked them up. We could say: "We are sorry. We will never lock you up again. Next time, we will shoot you dead."

After that, for a first offense we could give 50 lashes in the public square. For the second offense, a quick bullet. This would be for criminals at any age, young or old.

Sound Warning Against Political Pitfalls

People don't vote for sin; they just practice it. People don't want socialism and its inevitable child, communism; they just want what causes it.

You'd think this generation had invented some new formula for security and ease without work—Federal aid. But the Federal government has no money it doesn't first take from you. And the more it takes from the workers to give to the chiselers, the closer both of them come to poverty. When the time comes, as they must, that is socialism. And, as has been said, communism is simply socialism in a hurry.

But—our standard of living is still high; taxes haven't been made confiscatory. When governments spend more than they take in, the sure result is inflation. And inflation is the cruellest tax of all—it destroys everything everybody has.

Projects at 2 Major Street Intersections Approved

At a total cost of $51,960, the city will rebuild two major street intersections during 1966.

The City Commission, last night okayed the widening and reconstruction of Osburn at Paddock and South Boulevard at Franklin Road.

The commission authorized taking of bids and ordered preparation of detailed engineering plans.

In recommending the two street projects, City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling said specific lanes would be provided for left to be improved as two such hand turns in both intersections.

He estimated the total cost of the Osburn-Paddock intersection improvement at $22,580 and the South Boulevard-Franklin Road reconstruction at $29,400.

CONGESTION HIGH

Neippling said the city has experienced one of the first and most obvious symptoms of an inadequate major street system.

"This symptom is a high level of congestion at various major street intersections throughout the city."

He cited the two intersections to be improved as two such examples.

In related business, the commission last night approved a contract with the State Highway Department for city maintenance of some 14.8 miles of state trunklines in the Pontiac area.

CONTRACT TOTALS

The contract totaled $116,730 or $6,190 over the last year. Neippling reported these state funds for trunklines are proportionately lower than the approximately $330,000 spent by the city for maintenance of its remaining 57 miles of major streets.

Final approval was granted last night to a refrigeration and air conditioning ordinance, governing the installation of such units. A fee schedule ranging from $5 to $25 was also approved by the commission.

City Engineer Neippling said self-contained refrigeration units commonly used by homeowners are exempted from the ordinance.

Public hearings were ordered for June 28 on three proposed street improvement projects.

ASSESSED COST

Curb, gutter, grade and gravel are proposed for Peacock, Joslyn to Fuller, with an assessed cost of $15,369 and $18,790 paid by the city, for a total cost of $34,160.

Similar work is proposed for Gage, Harper to Joslyn, at a $3,250 total cost — $804 assessed and $2,446 the city's share.

Street work on Fildev, Wrenn to Motor, also scheduled for a public hearing June 28, was estimated at a total cost of $15,440 with an assessed cost of $11,834 and a city share of $4,606.

After public hearings were held last night, the commission ordered special assessment rolls prepared for paving on Arlene, Madison to Perry; Cottage, East Boulevard to Clifford; Linda Vista, Joslyn to the west line of the subdivision; Madison, Emerson to Kettering; Spruce, Mount Clemens to Bigham; and University, Walton to Colgate.

RECOMMENDATION UPHOLD

Also last night, the commission upheld a recommendation that an application for a city billiard parlor license for 326 E. Wilson be denied.

The pool room had been opposed by residents of the area and the Wilson School PTA.

Representation Is Clarified

Taylor Answers Relations Unit Questions

Questions raised on the makeup of the city's new Human Relations Commission have been answered by Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

The questions, concerning the number of local organizations to be represented on the pending commission, were asked by the city's human relations advisory committee.

Headed by Irving Steinman, chairman, this committee is being replaced by the Human Relations Commission, which has been established by city ordinance.

Taylor, in reply to Steinman's letter, has written that the ordinance establishing the commission did not, "nor was it intended" to provide a list of organizations to be on the commission.

He added, however, that a suggestion for 28 groups to be represented on the commission was received from Steinman's committee.

4 DELETIONS

Relating the City Commission's feeling, Taylor said four organizations were deleted. These were:

- A City Commission member.
- A representative of the County Board of Supervisors.
- A member from the County Office for Economic Opportunity.
- A representative of the Pontiac Area Human Relations Council.

Taylor said the City Commission member was deleted because of the seven representatives, one from each district, to be appointed, and the already heavy load of meetings for commission.

The county groups were eliminated because the Human Relations Commission is to serve the city, not the county, explained Taylor.

Deletion of the Pontiac Area Human Relations Council was because it was felt that of the people to be named to the commission, many would belong to other organizations.

HARD TO DETERMINE

"It is also felt that to start recognizing every self-generating organization in our city would make it hard to determine who should and should not be represented on a committee such as we are attempting to organize," wrote Taylor.

The mayor added that he felt the changes made by the commission were "good, well-reasoned changes."

The existing human relations committee had also recommended legislation to provide nondiscrimination clauses in contracts for the sale of city property.

In regards to the second question by Steinman, Taylor said it had been turned over to the city's legal department for study and recommendation.

2 Hospitalized in Car Crash

Two area women were reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered in an accident Monday afternoon.

Hospitalized are Jo Louise Forrest, 24, of 1431 Applefort, Walled Lake, and Carol Wright, 19, of 4720 Arline, West Bloomfield Township.

Treated and released were the driver of the car, Charles DiCicco, 21, of 2227 Ellington, Walled Lake, and Barbara Tate, 5, of 1431 Applefort.

West Bloomfield police said the driver lost control of the car on the wet pavement on Pontiac Trail, east of Green Lake.

The car struck a stone wall and rolled over, pinning two of the occupants inside.

Nursing Homes Await Rush

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

However Medicare weathers its first critical months — the predicted increase of elderly patients July 1 — it will come upon a second deadline that could potentially jam up hospitals even more than the first.

That deadline is Jan. 1, 1967. On that day, nursing home provisions for persons 65 and older go into effect.

The problem is two-fold. First, patients must spend three days in a regular hospital before qualifying for the nursing home care for chronic ailments. Second, there is now and has been a shortage of capable nursing homes and beds.

An Associated Press survey of hospitals and doctors across the country indicates that the great worry is that elderly patients seeking nursing home care, and unable to find it, might back up into the general hospitals.

What Medicare seems to be doing, even before it goes into effect, is to point to some glaring shortages in the nation's medical facilities.

Said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in a report to President Johnson:

"There is a significant shortage of health personnel and certain health facilities that have been evident for some time. Medicare, of course, did not create these shortages, but by putting older people in the same position as others to compete for services, the program will have the effect of adding to the present demand for medical services."

Many hospital authorities fear that the nursing home provisions might backfire.

SEES INCREASE
Clarence W. Bushnell, administrator of the hospital in Bridgeport, Conn., said, "I foresee a massive increase in patients in January 1967 to qualify for nursing home care."

In Michigan, administrators also expressed concern about the shortage of qualified nursing beds.

J. Henry Irwin, head of Reed City Hospital, said: "The thing we are concerned about is that many cases that were being treated at home of a semichronic nature will be admitted because they now feel it is their right and the obligation and duty of the doctor to admit them."

Much the same fear was voiced by Dr. Tenero D. Caruso, a Los Angeles surgeon. "I can say that all of the people in rest homes will want to go into hospitals to conform with these regulations, and this will be a terrific load that the hospitals will have to carry for a while," he said.

OTHER SIDE
Not all the hospitals nor the doctors expressed this kind of fear.

Some said, in fact, that the change would be for the good. Municipal and county hospitals in the more populous, wealthier states like California and New York saw a shift in patient admittance, with many patients now seeking private hospitals rather than government-sponsored institutions because the Medicare bill would now pay their way in the smaller, often more expensive facilities.

In some areas, nursing home provisions were not expected to have an adverse impact, but actually a good one.

George W. Cooley, executive director of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, said the heaviest impact of Medicare will come with the advent of the three-day nursing home rule, and will continue as long as that applies.

GREAT IMPACT
He said he sees "a great impact in those areas with an inadequate number of long-term care beds. The impact will decline as long term facilities become available."

However, he said, the three-day requirement "might well continue to cause great general hospital problems, and must be replaced by some sensible determinant."

Launch of 7 Satellites Is Near

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force rocket will try Thursday to spread a network of seven communications satellites around the world to transmit vital military messages between far-flung outposts.

If successfully injected into separate orbits, the string of jam-proof satellites could hasten the flow of and improve the reliability of military orders flashed between Washington, Viet Nam and strategic bases.

The seven payloads, plus an experimental engineering satellite, are to be hoisted into space between 10 a.m. and noon (EDT) Tuesday aboard a powerful Titan 3 rocket.

Generating 2.4 million pounds of booster thrust, the Titan 3 is to hurl its upper stage — called a transstage — into a 100-mile-high parking orbit. The transstage is to execute a number of orbit-shifting space maneuvers as it climbs to an altitude of 21,000 miles over a six-hour period.

Spring devices then are to kick the eight satellites loose one-by-one at slightly different speeds so they will drift apart in a globe-girdling pattern around the equator.

The engineering payload is to extend two 50-foot booms to test the feasibility of using the earth's gravitational force as an inexpensive means of stabilizing a satellite at high altitude.

Burns Prove Fatal to Grand Rapids Boy

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Timothy Warner, 6-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warner Sr., died Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital of burns suffered May 29 when he fell on a heater outlet in his mother's trailer home in suburban Wyoming. The father is serving with the Army in Viet Nam.

3 Whites to Get Lie Tests in Death of Dixie Negro

NATCHEZ, Miss. (U) — Three white men charged with murdering a Negro man, whose body was found in a creek near here, have been taken to state police headquarters for lie detector tests.

Sheriff Odell Anders said Claude Fuller, 46, of Kingston; Ernest Avants, 35, of Washington; and James Lloyd Jones, 56, of Natchez were being held without bond. He said all three are paper mill workers.

Two of the men charged last night, were listed earlier this year by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as past or present members of Ku Klux Klan organizations.

Authorities charged the three with the fatal shooting of Ben Chester White, 65, in Kingston June 10. White's body was found three days ago in Pretty Creek.

He had been shot 16 times in the chest and arms with a rifle, Anders said, and his head had been partially blown away by a shotgun blast.

NO CONNECTION

White had no connection with any civil rights activities in this area, said Dist. Atty. Lennox Foreman.

Natchez has been scene of Negro demonstrations during the past year, civil rights forces led a boycott of white merchants for many months. The area repeatedly has been described as a hub of Klan activity.

The House committee probed Klan activities earlier this year and on Feb. 4 made public the names of persons it said were employed by the International Paper Co. at Natchez "who are past or present members" of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi or the United Klans of America.

The list included the names of Ernest H. Avants and Claude W. Fuller.

TO TAKE TESTS

Sheriff Anders took Fuller, Avants and Jones to Jacksonville, Miss., for lie detector tests last night.

It was learned that federal authorities kept a close but unofficial watch on the investigation of White's death but did not enter the case, which was handled entirely by Anders department, with the aid of the highway patrol.

The White case was the first with racial angles which had been handled entirely by local authorities in "a long time," said a federal source.

Coed Editor Faces Jail in Drug Probe

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Annette Buchanan, coed editor of the University of Oregon newspaper, today faced a difficult decision — whether to betray the trust of five campus marijuana users or possibly go to jail for failure to do so.

The 20-year-old brunette was ordered Monday to tell the Lane County grand jury the names of student marijuana users she interviewed for an article in "The Daily Emerald."

If she refuses, Miss Buchanan faces a possible contempt of court citation, which carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $300 fine.

Miss Buchanan, refused to reveal the names during a grand jury session June 3. She said she would refuse to again today and would go to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary to protect her news sources.

"I feel I have a duty to myself and these who trusted me," said the student editor, who has been determined to become a journalist since she was in high school.

Her attorney, Arthur Johnson, contends that disclosure of the names would violate the ethics of journalism and constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press and free speech.

However, circuit Judge Edward Leavy ordered her to do so after Monday's two-hour hearing.

Spotlight and Parents Beam as Tots Perform

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

It was curtain time and the atmosphere back stage was tense. No Broadway actor could be happier with a starring role or feel more important than the 31 youngsters at Lakeside Community Center.

The occasion Tuesday was the closing program of project Head Start. These preschoolers have spent the past eight weeks absorbing a variety of new experiences and have a better background for starting school this fall.

All were in costume which seemed to make the little girls happier than it did the little boys.

Out in the audience were children from Bethune and Bagley schools. They sang along with the stage performers.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

Simple finger plays and nursery rhymes were acted out to music. The entire group participated in a rhythm band number.

The "duck" in Old MacDonald kept her finger in her mouth as she quacked softly.

After Jack had fallen down and broken his crown, Jill turned her back on the audience and went to her seat. Maybe she didn't want to get her costume dirty by "tumbling after."

One little boy — the only male in a group with four girls — was stage struck and refused to go on. His mother was hastily summoned from the audience to comfort him after his wails began.

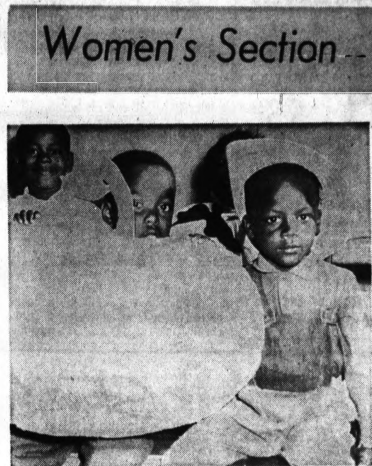

The volunteers who have worked with the children beamed. The mothers beamed. The friends in the audience beamed.

Nearly everyone had a fine time during the performance and even the unhappy little boy enjoyed the refreshments that followed.

SECOND SESSION
A second Head Start program starts June 27 and runs through Aug. 19.

Mrs. Robert Green will head the staff for that session as she has for the past one. Her assistants include Christina Carlson and Mrs. Gladys Smith.

Other volunteers are needed.

Sewing Classes Are Scheduled

Four new classes in Bishop Method of Clothing Construction will be started next week at McConnell Community School. Teachers are Mrs. John Denihan and Mrs. Julian Catlett.

Bishop I will be taught on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; Bishop II on Thursday.

Mrs. Wills Wright will instruct a general sewing class for teenage girls two mornings a week.

Anyone interested in enrolling in a class may contact Mrs. Denihan or Mrs. Catlett, or call McConnell Community School after 4 p.m.

Writers Meet

Members of the Oakland Writers' Workshop will meet Thursday at 1 p.m. in the YWCA.

Forget the Style, Concentrate on Vows

Ties Will Still Be Binding

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This nut I am engaged to says if I want to be married in a formal wedding gown, it's O.K.

With him, but HE is not going to get all dressed up in a "monkey suit."

When we went to the rental place, the man showed Sandor what he was supposed to wear for a formal wedding, and Sandor said, "Over my dead body!"

He would only have to wear it once, Abby, and it could be made to fit him comfortably, but Sandor says he is going to wear his new dark blue suit with a regular shirt and tie. And when Sandor says something, that is final! How do you reason with a man like that?

IN TEARS
DEAR IN: Your fiancé is an individualist. Wear what you wish, and let Sandor do the same. It will appear odd, but the ties will be no less binding.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and no raving beauty, but I am not ugly either. I was over at my girlfriend's house one night and she called up "C"—a boy I like — and she asked him what he thought of me. He didn't come right out and say he LIKED me, but he didn't say he HATED me, either.

I was listening in on the other phone. I was going to ask him to our club formal, but now I'm not sure. He has never asked me out, but whenever we were accidentally thrown together, he acted like he sort of liked me. I am all CONFUSED.

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: Forget "C" and ask a boy who has asked you out. And if you want to be well liked by both boys and girls, don't be a party to calling up boys. And NEVER listen in on the other phone. It's dishonest and childish.

DEAR ABBY: What can be done for a 77-year-old woman with a drinking problem? That woman is my mother, and it breaks my heart to see her destroying herself.

It all began several years ago when dad retired and they started spending their winters in Florida. Why would a loving, respected grandmother turn to alcohol after having done practically no drinking previously?

Dad is strictly a one-drink-before-dinner man. I finally got the courage to speak to mother about it, and she said she could quit anytime, but I know she can't.

She drinks alone and thinks no one knows it. I can't force my mother to go to a doctor, and I can't accuse my father of lying when he says she is "better." I am an R.N. and know where she's heading. How can I help her, Abby?

HEARTBROKEN DAUGHTER
DEAR HEARTBROKEN: No one can overcome alcoholism unless he admits that he is powerless against drink. That is the first step in the Alcoholics Anonymous method. Your mother could possibly be helped by joining that group. It's worth a try.

If she were to see a psychiatrist and he unearthed the reason your mother was trying to destroy herself, he might be able to rescue her. But it is a fact of life that no one can be helped who will not help himself.

Miss Sweeney Takes Vows

After a reception in the Italian-American Club, following recent vows in the Central Methodist Church, the Donald Niel VanDeWarkers (Sandra Delores Sweeney) left for a honeymoon in Canada.

Their parents are the Haven M. Sweeneys of Empire Drive, West Bloomfield Township, and the Neil VanDeWarkers of Marlon, Mich.

A Swedish crown of pearls and crystals capped the bride's illusion veil worn with tiered gown and train of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. Ivy cascaded from her bouquet of white carnations.

Gail Sweeney was her sister's honor attendant with Judy James and Terri Weir as bridesmaids.

George Boyd was best man with groomsmen Robert Harcourt and Kenneth Sweeney. Ushers included Michael Harcourt and Dale VanDeWarker.

Retirees Decide Which Pension to Take

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

"I am to retire the last day of December, 1966. My problem is..."

I'm going to give you the rest of this letter from J. H., in Chicago in a minute. The point I want to make is that many couples planning for retirement don't plan far enough in advance. And I'm entirely sympathetic with them. Trying to figure out some of the advance planning would shorten their lives!

MARY FEELEY

But I think J. H.'s problem must apply to a lot of other people. He must decide whether to take a full pension or a reduced pension. So here we go:

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am to retire the last day of December, 1966. My problem is my wife. I cannot decide what option we should take — the 100 per cent where my pension is reduced, but my wife gets almost the same amount after my death — or the 50 per cent option where my wife gets one-half of my reduced pension after my death.

With the 100 per cent option while we are both alive, the monthly income would be $381. If I die she would get $306 monthly for the rest of her life.

Under the 50 per cent option, we would receive $413. But if anything should happen to me, she would only receive $225 a month.

We own our home. It's paid for and we have no debts. My wife will be eligible for Social Security in 1967, and her pension from them is figured in the option plans.

Could you advise us?

J. H., Chicago, Ill.

Dear J. H.:
The first thing I ask is: do you have any other assets besides your pension which would leave your wife with an income? Such as income from stocks, bonds, mutual funds, an inheritance perhaps?

These things are important, even though they may represent a small amount of money. Any additional income, besides your pension, could make the difference in her way of life—even in the home she might live in. You own your home—but could your widow keep it up?

Now, question two: how is your health and how is hers? Health is bound to be a factor in your decision as to which pension payment you settle for. Let's assume that both you and your wife are in good health. In order to make any progress in your planning, you ought to work backwards. For instance, how much will it cost your wife to get along without you?

Maybe you have some savings in the bank. But maybe you don't, so it's just say you two want to plan to live on the $381 a month, which would represent the 100 per cent pension option.

Take a look at this budget: $50 a month for taxes on the home; $50 for utilities and maintenance; $86 for food (this is figuring $20 a week based on a month of 4.3 weeks); $30 for clothing and upkeep; $15 for insurance and savings; $30 for personal allowances and grooming; $20 for contributions and gifts; $40 for entertainment and recreation; $40 for car operation; $10 for drugs, dentist, doctor; $10 for books, magazines, newspapers.

That's a total of $381 a month. If the two of you can fit into this budget, then your wife could fit into $306 a month if anything happened to you—or so it seems to me. I'd go for the 100 per cent pension option.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.)

TWO DAILY DELIVERIES TO DETROIT AND INTERMEDIATE POINTS

Mrs. Eddie Stephens (Tommi Bogan) has been graduated from Tennessee State University with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bogan, Earlewood Boulevard.

An open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the home of their son, Byron Clements of Clinton Drive, will honor Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Clements, also of Clinton Drive, on their 60th wedding anniversary. There are three other children, Donald of Belding; Mrs. Freeman Cromis of Danville, Pa.; and Kenneth of Pontiac. There are 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Combine Gala, Anniversary

A combined family reunion and golden anniversary celebration will take place June 23 at the Pontiac Yacht Club. The children of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Earl E. Phillips, Detroit, who live in the Pontiac area are hosting the party.

Special guests will be Col. Phillips' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Phillips of Morley, Mich. and Lawrence Fullington, St. Petersburg, Fla., the best man at the wedding in 1916.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson of Featherstone Street will hold open house for her parents June 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Children of the honorees are Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Theodore W. Pohrt, Pontiac; Hugh of Ferndale; Robert, Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Donald L. Wickham, Lansing; and Richard of San Jose, Calif. All, except Richard, will be at the two parties.

There are 18 grandchildren.

Gritty Graduate
Gets to Her Goal

By JEANNE NELSON
Joining ranks with other graduates at Waterford Township High School this evening will be Mrs. Leo Rickman (Willis) of Aylesbury Road. She has been attending school four evenings a week for the past two years.

A soft southern drawl, winning smile and an intense eagerness to learn have accompanied her through long hours of lectures, tests and assignments.

But the day of victory is here and at least two people in the audience tonight can be especially proud of their graduate. They are Mrs. Rickman's husband, Leo, and their daughter, Janet, who is now a junior at Central Michigan University.

SAME CLASSES

Janet and her mom had some of the same teachers simultaneously two years ago when Janet was a senior at WTHS.

"This of course had its disadvantages," said Janet when she explained that her mother got an A grade in one class while she received a B.

Between housekeeping chores, homework, classes and a full social life, Mrs. Rickman also manages to sew most of Janet's and her clothes.

As the 10th child in a family of 11 children, Willis Rickman wasn't able to complete her education earlier. But she never lost the desire to finish high school and earn that diploma.

"At first," she said, "I felt the time might come when it would be necessary for me to have a high school diploma in the event I had to go to work."

"But," she goes on to say, "now I feel the same way about college."

GOING TO OU

This fall will see Mrs. Rickman hard at work again as a student at Oakland University. The law seems to interest her. Although she laughs at the idea, her family and friends wouldn't be too surprised if she turned up with a law degree in a few years.

An avid bowler, she and her husband bowl on Friday evenings with a mixed league. Now with summer approaching, books will be put aside for awhile and gardening will take their place.

Four Attending
Island Confab

Several North Oakland County women will attend the national convention of Delta Zeta sorority on the Grand Bahamas Island.

Expecting to go from this area are Mrs. Russell T. Costello, Mrs. Winfield Hinman, Mrs. Edward Wirth and Sandra Schetzky.

While at the confab which begins Sunday and runs through Saturday, the women will lodge at the Grand Bahamas Hotel and Country Club.

New officers of the Oakland County group are Mrs. Charles Fleckenstein, chairman; Mrs. George Betker, program chairman; Mrs. Albert Lucas, secretary; Mrs. Edward W. Martin Jr., treasurer and Mrs. Edward Jones, historian.

Mrs. Leo Rickman of Aylesbury Road takes time out to adjust the blue and gold ribbons on her cap before graduation ceremonies of Waterford Township High School this evening. Mrs. Rickman is one of 49 evening class students who will participate in the outdoor event.

OU to Present Play

Tennessee Williams' award-winning play, "The Glass Menagerie," runs in the Little Theatre of Oakland University Thursday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The play, often considered to be William's best, sensitively probes the interpersonal stress in a fatherless southern family rooted in the genteel tradition, but living in a St. Louis tenement.

The mother, Amanda Wingfield, who can't adjust to reality, is played by Mary C. Lyons.

Her son, Tom, an aspiring poet, is acted by Robert E. McGowan who has studied and performed with Canadian mime, Marc Dore.

Merle E. Niemi plays Laura, the clubfooted daughter who hides in her glass animal world of illusions. Her "gentleman suitor," Tom's friend Jim, is portrayed by William P. Watson.

Tom Aston, OU director, designed and directed the play.

After two years of developing OU's theatre program, Aston is leaving to become theatre program director at the University of Windsor.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Oakland

British Showing
Some Leadership
on Safety--Nader

LONDON (AP)—Ralph Nader, campaigner for auto safety, said in London Tuesday that British manufacturers had in some ways shown the lead in safety and design.

The Connecticut lawyer, 32, who is making a 48-hour visit to Britain, said Britain led the world with its disc brakes introduced 10 years ago and only recently taken up by American car makers.

"In tires, too, the American industry is but a pupil of British, Italian and French specialists," he said.

British and European auto design had much to commend it, Nader added. There were fewer external protruberances that could be lethal to the pedestrian.

The average annual cost at a private college in 1965 was about $2,500 and at a state university about $1,700.

BACK TO JAIL—Aubrey James Norvell, 40, of Memphis, Tenn., with dark glasses and in handcuffs, is escorted by Desoto County Sheriff Lee Meredith back to the Desoto County Jail in Ripley, Miss., after a Mississippi circuit judge yesterday refused to lower the $25,000 bond of Norvell, charged in the ambush shooting of James Meredith on June 6.

Negro Voter Drive Snagged in Mississippi

GRENADA, Miss. (AP)—Officials held clerks at the Grenada County courthouse until 8:30 Tuesday night for Negro voter registrants. Only six came.

"Let the clerks go home," decided civil rights leaders who had led the Mississippi march into Grenada.

No one told some 250 Negroes meeting in a church. They marched to the courthouse only to find the office closed.

"If we can't register (sic), we're going to demonstrate," they chanted.

HOLD CONFAB

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other Negro leaders huddled with officials in a doorway. Then, standing at the base of a Confederate statue, King asked the crowd to leave.

"I ask you to be out tomorrow in larger numbers," he said.

The chanting and milling stopped and the demonstrators disappeared. Those who had marched nine miles to Grenada earlier in the day went to tents set up on the Willie Wilson Elementary School grounds. Local people went home.

"It was a breakdown in communication on our part," King told the officials and apologized. King, Floyd McKissick and other Negro leaders, in planning for mass registrations today.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARTISTS

QUESTION: Why do artists hold their arms out with the thumb up while painting?

ANSWER: Not all artists do this. The artist in our picture is a portrait painter, interested in understanding the exact proportions of her model's head, so she can get a likeness.

To help with this, she holds out her arm all the way, thumb up, with a brush or stick of charcoal held vertically.

She is lining up the tip of the brush with the model's eye. And she has moved down so its tip lines up with her sitter's chin.

Next, she will move her hand up until her thumb tip coincides with the model's eye. Then she will check to see where the tip of the brush is (it will probably line up with the top of the sitter's head).

Now she can check whatever proportion she has found with her picture to be sure it is correct.

She will check other relationships in the same way, such as position of mouth between bottom of nose and chin, and width of head in relation to height of head.

All this will be of great value in getting a true likeness. Although of particular value in figure painting, the same method is often used by artists who paint from still life and landscape.

FOR YOU TO DO: Have a friend sit quietly facing you. Now draw an egg to represent his or her head. Hold up your pencil and check to see if the model's eye is halfway between the top and bottom of the egg. Draw the proportion you have found and finish your portrait.

New Hydrofoil Ferry

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP) — A 70-passenger hydrofoil capable of speeds approaching 40 knots will begin a four-month trial out of Falmouth this summer. The hydrofoil, costing $260,000, will serve Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket from Falmouth.

Box Will Contain 'Little Stinkers'

RATON, N.M. (AP) — Raton Humane Officer Jack Rowell is going skunk hunting with a wooden box and his fingers crossed.

Rowell has been assigned by City Manager John Murphy to traps which will be completely dark. Without light, skunks supposedly will not eject their odorous secretion, he said.

Rowell said he will lure the "The skunks will be exterminated outside the city."

College 'Chicks Gone, So It's Back to Work

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — That nesting woodcock which disrupted site-clearing operations for a $1-million dormitory complex at Colby College has hatched her chicks and left.

Earlier this month, college officials decided to leave the nesting bird on her eggs which were discovered less than three feet from where workmen removed a large tree with a chain saw. When workers returned after last weekend, they found the mother and chicks had left.

Liquor Dealers Win; Discount Bill Is Law

LANSHING (UPI)—The state's 2,200 package liquor dealers won a $2.8 million victory yesterday when Gov. George Romney allowed a bill to increase their liquor-purchase discounts to become law without his signature.

But the state's liquor consumers may be faced with a price hike of about 5 cents a bottle as a consequence.

"Aged" into law was a bill to increase the present discount rate of 10 per cent on purchases from state liquor stores to 11½ per cent—thus cutting state revenue by about $2.8 million yearly.

The bill will go into effect next Feb. 27, when new price lists are published by the state Liquor Control Commission. The

The package dealers had sought an increase to 12 per cent, the same as given bar owners. The House overwhelmingly passed the bill at that level, which would have cost the state an estimated $4.6 million yearly.

BROAD HINTS
But broad hints Romney might veto the measure forced the Senate to amend the bill back to the 11½ per cent level.

Last year, Romney vetoed a measure that would have given the package dealers a break by applying the 10 per cent discount after taxes rather than before.

Romney signed 11 other measures yesterday within the constitutional 14 days given him to do so after they reach his desk. Among the bills signed were measures to:

- Permit Michigan servicemen to fish without a license or trout stamp while home on furlough;
- Halt mail-order purchases of liquor by requiring written permission from anyone except the Liquor Control Commission to bring spirits into the state, except when personally transported on reentry for personal use.
- Authorize the use of new types of computer-card voting devices in state as well as local elections.
- Allow combinations of tractor, semi-trailer and trailer trucks to be up to 65 feet in length providing the number of axles does not exceed 11.
- Provide that on adoption papers of a child born out of wedlock the records will not show the names of the child's natural parents or the child's name before adoption.
- Allow the termination and renegotiation of teachers' contracts if the new contract will provide increase benefits.

Seaway Strike Menace Cited

OTTAWA (AP)—A strike on the St. Lawrence Seaway would damage Canada's economy and bring Great Lakes commerce to a standstill, the Dominion Maritime Association warned Tuesday.

"The seaway is a national resource on which thousands of Canadians depend for their livelihood," a statement by the association representing Canada's inland fleet, said.

The federal government is mediating the dispute between the Seaway Authority and Canadian workers who have called a strike for Friday to back up their demands for more pay.

J. W. McGiffin, association president, said a strike would menace not only the income of the western farmers. But would prevent shipments of Nova Scotia coal to Ontario hydro plants and iron ore shipments from Newfoundland and Quebec to the Great Lakes.

Does Osmun's have 45-cent sport coats for Dad?

Children have the best intentions, but Father's Day gift-buying can be quite mysterious to them.

That's why Osmun's is the place to visit for Dad's gift... whether you're a 4-year-old or a 40-year-old. Because we'll help you pick the right thing.

We'll guide you through the world of men's styles, colors, fabrics, and brand names. And we'll show you just the gift for your Dad, whether it's a sweater, sport shirt, sport coat, golf jacket, rain coat, or hat you think he'd like best. (And if you just can't decide, you can get an Osmun's gift certificate—from $5—and let him decide.)

So come to Osmun's and we'll help you get ready for Father's Day. It's Sunday, June 19.

Sorry we can't promise you any 45-cent sport coats. But wait 'til you see what we can do for half a dollar.

DADS!

Be sure you REGISTER for OSMUN'S ANNUAL FATHER'S DAY GOLF TOURNAMENT!

DRUG TESTIMONY — Giving testimony before a Senate judiciary subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency yesterday were a pair named only Frank and Dorothy. Frank is an ex-Marine who told the senators that pep pills, barbituates and heroin are readily available to servicemen in this country and overseas. He also told of shooting friendly Viet Nam forces while under the influence of drugs.

S. Carolina Vote Ousts Incumbent; Illinois Pair Wins

By the Associated Press
South Carolina voters overwhelmingly rejected incumbent Democratic Sen. Donald S. Russell in Tuesday's primary balloting in favor of former Gov. Ernest F. (Fritz) Hollings. But incumbent Illinois Democrats won renomination in the nation's other primary.

Both Senate seats were up for renomination in South Carolina. Besides the Russell-Hollings race, Democratic State Sen. Bradley Morrah won a landslide victory over attorney John Bolt Culbertson, who ran as a pro-civil rights candidate.

Hollings will face State Sen. Marshall Parker, who switched from the Democratic party to the GOP earlier this year, in the November election. At stake is the two-year unexpired term of Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., who died last year. Russell was named to replace Johnston.

Morrah will take on incumbent Republican Sen. Strom Thurmond this fall for a full six-year term.

Tuesday's balloting for Hollings and Morrah was not limited to Democrats, since voters are not registered by party in South Carolina.

The Illinois election was un-in the 1st District, Rep. William L. Dawson, at 80 a longtime leader of Chicago's South Side Negro population, easily defeated two other Negro contenders. One of his challengers, social worker Fred Hubbard, 36, was endorsed by many civil rights groups.

In the 2nd District, Rep. Barratt O'Hara, at 84 the oldest man in the House, stood off a strong challenge from State Rep. Abner Mikva, an independent-minded Democrat.

BONDS APPROVED
Chicago voters also approved a series of bond issues worth $195 million for city improvements by a better than 2-1 margin. Critics of Daley's administration had urged its defeat.

In statewide elections, Republican voters nominated Charles H. Percy, the industrialist who lost a try for the governorship in 1964, for the Senate. His fall opponent will be incumbent Sen. Paul H. Douglas. Both faced only token opposition.

Two other incumbent Illinois congressmen, Democratic Reps. George E. Shiley and Kenneth J. Gray of southern Illinois, won out over primary opposition.

The other congressional incumbents were unopposed.

Two famous names will be on the Illinois ballots in November: Earl Eisenhower, younger brother of the former president, was nominated for Cook County (Chicago) clerk on the Republican ballot and Adlai E. Stevenson III, son of the late U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, will run as a Democratic candidate for state treasurer.

Blackout Is Traced to Electrocuted Bird

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 45-minute blackout of 36 traffic signals and several street lights Tuesday on the city's southeast side was traced to a blackbird. Officials said the bird was electrocuted when it flew into a power plant section and short-circuited a 7,200-volt line serving the lights.

Big Fire Rages On in Wilderness Area

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (U)—A California condor, soaring high above the coastal mountains, could view this scene today: Endless miles of rocky, brush-coated ridges, studded with mile-high peaks and slashed by deep ravines, all of it simmering under a searing sun.

Cut off from the 20th century by lack of roads, it is a wilderness of isolated grandeur, haunt of deer, black bear, puma—and the vanishing condor.

In its heart is an undulating sea of flames.

A plane crash last Saturday set this scene. Two died in the crash. Within moments fire flashed across the rugged, almost inaccessible slopes of the San Raphael Mountains northwest of this scenic resort on the Pacific.

TOUGH JOB
For firemen this is a job as tough as they come. One veteran forester called it one of the worst spots to fight a blaze which, in the first four days, swept across 60,000 acres.

More days—crew bosses won't estimate how many — lie ahead before containment can be expected.

The battle is raging in the center of the San Raphael wild area, so designated because there are no roads. This lack of access is not a fire prevention measure but a government restriction designed to preserve the precipitous mountain terrain in its natural state.

But when fires start in such remote country, suppression crews suffer the handicaps of this protection. Wherever possible, roads must be built to admit men and machinery. This time only one road, across the southeast corner has been gouged out by bulldozers. Elsewhere smoke jumpers are flown in by helicopters.

The vegetation is mostly chaparral—dwarfed evergreens and brush five to ten feet tall. The word derives from the Spanish chaparral, or evergreen oak. There is very little timber, and most of this is confined to the canyon bottoms and to Pine Mountain and Mission Pine Mountain.

Airlines Feel Pinch of Viet Nam Conflict

NEW YORK (AP) — The demands of the Viet Nam war are forcing some of the nation's major airlines to curtail passenger service just as they enter their peak summer season.

Accelerated military needs have caused delays in delivery of new commercial jet craft, leaving some airline companies which had planned to use the new jets without sufficient equipment.

Eastern Air Lines said Tuesday it had to temporarily cancel about 5 percent of all flights in its 100-city system a week ago because of delays in initial delivery of 68 new jets.

A check of a half-dozen major airlines showed at least one other carrier is curtailing some new service and another may have to follow suit.

CANCEL FLIGHTS

A fourth, Pan American Airways, canceled almost two dozen transatlantic flights this summer to divert aircraft to military service in Southeast Asia.

A spokesman for United Airlines said new service planned between New York and the area from Washington, D.C. to Tennessee had been indefinitely delayed. It was to begin Oct. 1 but has been pushed back until after Jan. 1.

Trans World Airlines may delay establishing some new routes if its promised jets don't arrive soon, a spokesman said. Officials of United and TWA reported the Boeing Co. and Douglas Aircraft Corp., two of the nation's major jet makers, have repeatedly delayed delivery of new planes, blaming heavy military commitments and shortage of parts.

CHANGE DATES

"They keep pushing the delivery dates back," the United official said. "They said Aug. 1 and now they say Aug. 18."

The TWA official said the carrier has been told by Douglas

Ford Boosts State Site for A-Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II thinks location of an atom smasher and laboratory near Ann Arbor would boost the auto industry and the nation's economy and make southeast Michigan a "great scientific center."

Ford Motor Co. said Tuesday its chairman urged in a letter to Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, that the Washtenaw County site be given favorable consideration.

The site, in Northfield Township not far from the University of Michigan and less than 40 miles from car-making Detroit, is one of several being considered by the AEC for a multi-million-dollar accelerator laboratory.

"The addition of such a facility... to the very great engineering and scientific resources of this area is all that is needed to create a third great scientific center comparable to those in the Boston and San Francisco areas," Ford wrote. He added:

"...I can think of no way more sure or expeditious to strengthen the peace of American economic growth than to accelerate the infusion of science and applied technology into all aspects of the automobile industry."

The machine which stamps the official Illinois state seal on documents has been in continuous use since Oct. 26, 1866.

Buildup May Include Units of Another Army Division

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands more Army infantrymen are expected to arrive in South Viet Nam this summer to intensify search-and-destroy operations which already may have thrown the Communists off balance.

There was speculation that elements of an additional Army infantry division may be included in the 18,000-man U.S. reinforcement which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has approved for movement in coming weeks.

The Army now has three full divisions and two brigades in action in Viet Nam. Marines have two divisions committed to the war.

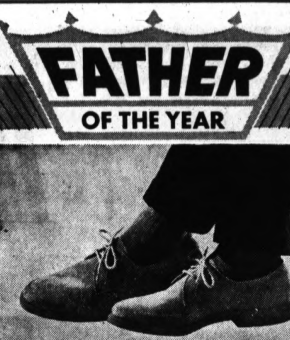

It appeared likely that an additional Army division would be introduced into the Viet Nam theater in stages, perhaps a brigade at a time.

ARTILLERY ADDITIONS

Meanwhile, there are indications that the Army will beef up its artillery in the war theater. Helicopter-hauled artillery has become standard in ground operations against the Communists.

Skeptics had questioned the effectiveness of howitzers and other such weapons in a jungle-type war, but these doubts were dispelled when artillery played a telling role in defeating enemy forces in the Ia Drang battle last fall.

The Communists may expect some relief from air strikes during the rainy period, but they

Palmer, Player Pick Nicklaus in U.S. Open Golf Scramble

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Nicklaus was the favorite — as usual — going into Thursday's opening round of the United States Open Golf Tournament even though the tight, testing Olympic Country Club layout doesn't figure to be his kind of course.

"It's going to be won around the greens, not on driving," said Arnold Palmer. "And Jack is going to be on more greens than anyone else."

It seems a contradiction in terms, yet two members of golf's Big Three start explaining about the other.

GREENS SMALL. "Those greens are very small, and very hard to hold," Player said. "Jack has that soft lob shot that will hold."

Palmer failed to make the cut and Nicklaus finished in a tie for 32nd, 17 strokes away.

Where Bellerive had mammoth greens averaging about 10,000 square feet, "these average about 5,300," said Joe Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Association and the man who gives the word on the condition of the course.

The field of 133 pros and 18 amateurs faces four rounds over a course that has been extremely trying in practice rounds.

"Monbo" Heads for Bullpen

Ortega Pitches Senators Past Billy, Bengals

Victory by 3-2 Count
Ends Losing Streak;
Starter Irks Swift

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Monbouquette finds himself back in the Tigers bullpen today for many reasons: the main one being that Acting Manager Bob Swift doubts that he's a smart enough pitcher.

Monbouquette failed for the fourth time to record his 100th career victory Tuesday night as Washington snapped an eight-game losing streak with a 3-2 victory.

Willie Kirkland hit a two-out single after Monbouquette had him on a two-strike count — in the seventh inning to score Fred Valentine with what proved to be the winning run.

BAD PITCHES

"There were just too many bad pitches out there today," Swift said. "When you are ahead of a batter and decide to throw a waste pitch, you don't throw it to a guy's strength. You knock him down."

"Good pitchers don't make a mistake in that situation — a waste was tied," Swift added. "You would think he'd know better."

Swift said the move of Monbouquette, now 3-6, to the bullpen would give some of the other relievers a little rest.

"We've got the starters now with the addition of Earl Wilson," Swift said. "Some of the relievers need the extra rest."

The Tigers got only five hits off Phil Ortega, who looks like a world-beater every time he faces them.

CREDIT FOR HIT

Dick McAuliffe got credit for a double when he leadoff pop fly in the first inning left between Don Blasingame and Don Lock. He was sacrificed to third by Jerry Lumpe and scored on Al Kaline's single, the 1,999th hit of his career.

Ken McMullen, who put the Senators in front for the first with a two-run single in the sixth inning, stabbed Nicklaus' line drive in the fourth to rob him of his milestone hit.

McAuliffe hit his sixth home-run of the season leading off the sixth to tie the score.

Monbouquette, who struck out six—including 1,000 career victim Ed Brinkman in the second inning — before being relieved, started the winning Washington rally himself by hitting Valentine with a pitch.

Jim King struck out but Don Lock came through with his third single of the game and Kirkland delivered his game-winning hit.

Lumpe raced near the right field foul line to field Jim King's grounder in the sixth inning and left the game after King beat the throw because of a pulled hamstring muscle in his left leg.

"It looks like he could be out for quite a while," Swift said. "He pulled it pretty good."

Latest Tiger Happy With Player Trade

DETROIT (AP) — Earl Wilson who had no complaints with Boston, thought he might be traded to Baltimore last weekend and is "very happy" to be with the Tigers.

"Even though I thought I might be traded, I was a bit surprised when they told me," said Wilson, who reported to the Tigers last night.

Outfielder Don Demeter went to the Red Sox in exchange and each team agreed to send a player to the other's major league affiliate.

"The people in Boston always treated me well and I've got no complaints," Wilson continued.

CHANCE TO GO UP

"But this club definitely has a chance to go all the way. It will be up to me to contribute all I can."

"I understand Baltimore was trying to get me last weekend," Wilson added.

The AP learned that the Orioles had offered second baseman Jerry Adair and outfielder Sam Bowens for Wilson. Adair was subsequently traded to Chicago.

Acting Manager Bob Swift, who says he will use Wilson against the Yankees in New York Friday night, said he didn't learn of the trade until just before it was announced Tuesday.

"I knew there was some talking going on," Swift said. His only comment when Jim Campbell, Tigers' vice president and general manager, phoned and told him of the deal was "beautiful."

The Tigers were to open a series in Boston tonight, but will not play against Demeter. He did not leave for Boston until this morning. His wife is expecting their third child within a month.

NO STRANGER

Wilson is not a complete stranger to the Tigers. He played winter ball with Dave Wickham and was on a service team with Ray Oyler in San Diego.

Wickham, Demeter's closest friend, said the thing Demeter hated most about the trade was the fact that it will end their joint attendance at prayer meetings and Bible studies.

"The thing he likes most about it," Wickham said, "is that Boston ended the season five days ahead of most of the other teams."

Campbell, who admitted the deal for Wilson had been going on for some time, doubted the Tigers would be involved in another trade before the deadline tonight. Teams may trade until midnight on the West Coast.

"There's talk going on all the time, but nothing's hot," Campbell said.

County Golfers Score

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

Oakland County seniors were among top contenders going into the second round of the 36th annual Michigan Senior Golf Association's Spring Tournament, today at Jackson.

The 319 entrants, all 55 or older, shot 18 holes Tuesday and are playing 18 more today at Arbor Hills and Country Club of Jackson.

The leading low handicap player in the field, Joel Shephard of Kalamazoo, playing in Class 7, shot 55-56 in the first two rounds, the field with a two-under-par 70.

His handicap of two gave him a net 68 for the day.

A. O. Thacker of Orchard Lake Country Club was runner-up in the division with a net 69. His gross 78 was also second to Shephard.

The county seniors fared well in other divisions.

In Class D (ages 60-64) Jim Simcock of Jackson led with a gross 76 and net 69, but Taylor Paisley of Orchard Lake took net honors with a 68.

Paisley is an 11-handicap player and fired a 79 at Arbor Hills.

Three others were right behind Paisley in net honors, including N. M. Marshall of Birmingham Country Club with 70, Harold Cregar of Pine Lake with 70 and L. McGowan of Oakland Hills with 71.

Lake Country Club was runner-up in the division with a net 69. His gross 78 was also second to Shephard.

In Class C (65-69) Harvey Olson of Grosse Pointe fired a 77, but again net honors were shared by Ferd Brock of Orchard Lake, Frank Cotter of CC of Detroit with 68.

Clifford Rugg of Oakland Hills took honors in Class B (70-74) with an 81 as his gross score, however Morris Cole of Orchard Lake with an 85-minus-15 had the net medal of 70.

In Class A (75-79) Ray Barry of Ann Arbor fired an 85 and in Class A-1 (80 and over) Fred Rignin Sr. of Port Huron shot a 91.

These are the scores of area Senior golfers:

Oakland-A Ace Cager Will Enroll at OU

Gordon Tebo, captain of Warren Cousino's Oakland A basketball, champions, will attend Oakland University this fall.

Gordon Tebo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tebo Sr., 3121 Marilyn Drive Warren, earned all-league honors and all state honorable mention for Coach Billy Skaggs last year.

O.U. will have its first basketball team next winter.

"There were just too many bad pitches out there today," Swift said. "When you are ahead of a batter and decide to throw a waste pitch, you don't throw it to a guy's strength. You knock him down."

Swift said the move of Monbouquette, now 3-6, to the bullpen would give some of the other relievers a little rest.

We've got the starters now with the addition of Earl Wilson," Swift said. "Some of the relievers need the extra rest."

The Tigers got only five hits off Phil Ortega, who looks like a world-beater every time he faces them.

CREDIT FOR HIT

Dick McAuliffe got credit for a double when he leadoff pop fly in the first inning left between Don Blasingame and Don Lock. He was sacrificed to third by Jerry Lumpe and scored on Al Kaline's single, the 1,999th hit of his career.

Ken McMullen, who put the Senators in front for the first with a two-run single in the sixth inning, stabbed Nicklaus' line drive in the fourth to rob him of his milestone hit.

McAuliffe hit his sixth home-run of the season leading off the sixth to tie the score.

Monbouquette, who struck out six—including 1,000 career victim Ed Brinkman in the second inning — before being relieved, started the winning Washington rally himself by hitting Valentine with a pitch.

Jim King struck out but Don Lock came through with his third single of the game and Kirkland delivered his game-winning hit.

Lumpe raced near the right field foul line to field Jim King's grounder in the sixth inning and left the game after King beat the throw because of a pulled hamstring muscle in his left leg.

"It looks like he could be out for quite a while," Swift said. "He pulled it pretty good."

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Monbouquette finds himself back in the Tigers bullpen today for many reasons: the main one being that Acting Manager Bob Swift doubts that he's a smart enough pitcher.

Monbouquette failed for the fourth time to record his 100th career victory Tuesday night as Washington snapped an eight-game losing streak with a 3-2 victory.

Willie Kirkland hit a two-out single after Monbouquette had him on a two-strike count — in the seventh inning to score Fred Valentine with what proved to be the winning run.

BORROWED ROD — Charles W. Liskey, 1736, Manse, Waterford Township, decided to try his wife's rod (she wasn't alone) last week while fishing Holdridge Lake in the Holly recreation area. The result was this 6-pound, 8-ounce largemouth that is the current leader in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's bass division. Liskey used a nightcrawler for bait.

Olympic Riders at Horse Show

Former Olympic horses, and some which may compete in the 1968 games are among the entries in the Detroit Horse Show, to be held at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, Monday, June 20 through Sunday, June 26.

The Canadian Olympic team will be represented by four of its six riders and eight or nine mounts, it was announced today by Paul Schuster, chairman of the show which is rated as the nation's largest outdoor hunter and jumper competition.

Sleeping Bear Dunes Still Has Opposition

GLEN ARBOR (UPI) — Opposition to the proposed Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore Park has been reaffirmed by two organizations representing property owners in the affected areas.

The present plan is in the House after passing the Senate and involves some 50,000 acres of mainland and island territory along and inland on Lake Michigan from near Point Betsie in Benzie County to the north side of Good Harbor Bay in Leelanau County.

Spokesmen for the Citizens Council of the Sleeping Bear Dunes Area, Inc., and Platte Lakes Area Association, said statements by Washington officials and U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., sponsor of the bill, that opposition has died out are "ridiculous."

The council and association leaders said in a statement that they wished to go on record to "express their concern and disappointment" and to restate their opposition to Senate bill 936.

The organizations also restated a belief that further development of two state parks within the Sleeping Bear Dunes region would be more compatible with the character of the area and far less expensive.

Rain Washes Out City Softball Tilts

Rain wiped out last night's games on the city softball schedule and they've been reset for Friday and Sunday.

Because of a heavy schedule next week, Orchard Lanes and Bob & Larry were given permission to play their game Friday at 7 p.m. at Northside. On the Sunday makeup game at Beaudette Park, Town & Country will meet Ron's Roost at 7 p.m. and Francis Fuel will duel Spencer Floors at 8:30. At Northside Sunday, Grand Trunk Rail Road meets Fredman at 7 p.m.

Farm Concern 'for the Birds'

Flocks of Blackbirds Feast in Fields

LANSING (AP) — Birds are for the birds. They are against people and are costing Michigan farmers many millions of dollars a year.

Blackbirds, especially. Better they should be baked up in a pie — like the nursery jingle says — "four-and-twenty blackbirds baked in a pie."

Hordes of Birds
Hordes of blackbirds, thousands in the flocks at time, descend on Michigan fields to feast on the goodies the farmers hope to harvest and sell.

"The whole world is excited about human population control, but bird controls are being neglected," said C. A. Boyer, chief of the Agriculture Department's Plant Industry Division.

Boyer is a strong advocate of research aimed at keeping the birds from eating the people out of house and home.

The problem areas in Michigan are concentrated near the Monroe and Saginaw marshes, which offer nesting cover for blackbirds. The Grand River basin and the Western Michigan fruit belt also are hard hit by the birds — by migratory flocks as well as the locals.

'Orphaned Animal' Lover in Conservation Dispute

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — James Westra, whose animal pet shop takes in "birds with broken wings which can't fly," was found guilty this week of violating state conservation laws.

The charge, exhibiting and possessing animals and birds without a state Conservation Department permit, climaxes a long series of disputes with the state agency and suburban Wyandotte.

Westra, 37, has been operating the animal kingdom in Wyandotte for 10 years, and has received hundreds of so-called "orphaned" animals, which the Conservation Department claims he should have turned over to the state.

If the animals are injured, Westra has paid a veterinarian to make them well.

Municipal Judge Lawrence D. Beukema, who issued an opinion Monday finding Westra guilty, did not set a sentencing date.

The kids still are riding their motorcycles and motor scooters through the parks and recreation areas.

Have there been any racial incidents yet?
"Nothing serious as yet, but we're holding our breath," said Leeson.

Leeson said once the young people get out of school the park attendance will be mostly family groups.

"It has been pretty well advertised that we are cracking down on the young people drinking, ganging around and speeding those bikes through the parks. We are hitting them pretty hard."

Cooperation from the law enforcement agencies and the courts has been excellent, Leeson said.

They are getting tough on the kids, hoping to protect the parks for adult and family groups. Here are a few incidents that have happened so far:

When the Flint school teachers marched out, some 400 Flint high schoolers were turned loose. They descended on Metamora-Hadley Park, near Flint. The county sheriff had to be called in twice during the day.

"They were milling around, drinking beer and having fun by throwing each other into the lake," reported Charles Leeson, regional park supervisor for Southern Michigan.

Three minors were arrested for possession of alcoholic beverages. They were fined $50 each by the court.

"I hope," Leeson added, "that either the parents or the teachers had to pay the fine."

The Conservation Department specifically accused him of exhibiting "livestock without a permit." Westra, however, said there is no such type of permit in the state because he had tried to apply.

"The Conservation Department has no facility for caring for those animals and birds," Westra said. "They claim they turn them over to farmhands and lab technicians... who do not have a permit either," he said.

Westra is known as "Mr. Jim" to the children and adults who bring him the animals and at a television station where he shows the birds, skunks, and other animals. "The program is an educational-type show."

Ferency, Host of Candidates, File in Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency headed a last-minute parade of candidates carrying boxes of signed petitions to the secretary of state's office Tuesday.

Ferency filed for the Democratic nomination for governor before one hour and 45 minutes before the 4 p.m. deadline for getting on the Aug. 2 primary election ballot.

He is unopposed in his bid for his party's nomination for governor — as is Republican Gov. George Romney.

Republicans are lining up to get their party's nomination in a number of traditionally GOP legislative and congressional districts that went Democratic in the 1964 Johnson landslide.

ROMNEY HAPPY

Romney said Monday he was pleased that Republicans have candidates for all offices in Michigan for the first time in years.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh face each other on the Democratic Senate ballot, while U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin is unopposed in the Republican primary.

Ferency and his son Michael, 18, carried in two cartons, containing 24,853 signatures from 74 counties. He had "signatures to burn," he said, but had encountered difficulties in the past few days getting the signed petitions transported to Lansing.

Mike, he said, took advantage of a new state law permitting 18-year-olds to gather signatures — collecting 400 of them on weekends and in the evenings.

FILED PETITIONS

Romney, accompanied by his son, Scott, and a retinue of executive office and party personnel, filed petitions bearing some 38,900 signatures Monday.

It would be late this week or early next week before a complete list of candidates is compiled in any one place, said State Elections Director Robert Montgomery.

Candidates in those congressional and legislative districts that fall entirely within one county file with their county clerks.

Petitions for 12 of the 19 congressional races were filed in Lansing, as were those for 20 of the 38 State Senate races and 32 of the 110 House contests.

CLEAR SAILING

In the congressional races, U.S. Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., of Grand Rapids, House minority leader, will have clear sailing in the primary, as will former highway commissioner and freshman U.S. Rep. John Mackie, D-Mich., of Flint.

Freshman Democratic Congressman Billie Farum of Pontiac, former state auditor general, also was unopposed for his party's nomination.

A three-way GOP race is shaping up for the 9th District congressional seat held by Griffin before he was appointed to fill the Senate vacancy created by the death of U.S. Sen. Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., in April.

State Sen. Guy VanderJagt, R-Cadillac, faces Grand Haven businessman Edward Maso, former member of the State Board of Education, and Wesley Tebeau of North Muskegon, a member of the Michigan Tourist Council.

A Democratic member of the Legislative Apportionment Commission, Henry Donguillo of Fountain, is unopposed on the other side of the ballot.

A number of legislators are attempting to step up in the elective world. State Sen. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, a one-time self-announced candidate for the U.S. Senate, is seeking the GOP nomination to run against U.S. Rep. Paul Todd, D-Mich., of Kalamazoo.

State Rep. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, and former State Sen. John Smekens, R-Sherwood, are battling for the State Senate seat now held by Roger Johnson, D-Marshall.

A number of former officeholders are trying to make a comeback this year. One-time Republican Rep. George Sallade of Ann Arbor filed on the Democratic ticket in the 18th Senatorial District, to oppose Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, Ironwood.

NO HEMMING AND HAWING — A gatekeeper tells this couple they can't enter the Royal Enclosure at the opening of four days of Royal Ascot racing in London yesterday. However, the reason wasn't the young lady's short-skirt, as several were in evidence in the enclosure. They simply didn't have the proper tickets.

9 E. Asian, Pacific Nations Form Cooperative Group

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Nine East Asian and Pacific nations agreed today to form a new regional association — called ASPAC — for cooperation in economic, political and other nonmilitary fields.

Arrangements for the new organization, which will be an informal one without a treaty basis, were worked out today during the second day of the Asian-Pacific conference of foreign ministers.

It brings together South Korea, Japan, Nationalist China, the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand and Malaysia. A 10th country, Laos, attended the talks here as an observer and may join.

Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand, who will become chairman of ASPAC because its next meeting will be in Bangkok, said other countries such as India might also come in if they desire.

COMMUNIQUE

The new organization is to be announced formally in a communique at the close of the conference Thursday.

An informed source said the communique would also include a statement on the war in Viet Nam and would denounce nuclear tests in the area, the French as well as Communist China's.

The source declined to say what the statement on Viet Nam would say. He said the inclusion in Viet Nam.

of both topics was proposed by the Philippines, which is the new organization or association would preparing to send about 2,000 engineers and security troops to a Conference in Viet Nam. "Council" or "Council for Asian and Pacific Cooperation," he added with a smile.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Try a little FASTER on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder quickly fills with your saliva and more comfortably. No gummy, sticky, overly heavy or feeling. Some most sour. Check "plate odor" (disturbs drug counters everywhere).

QUARTET OF SANDWICHES—Here is a quartet of tempting meat sandwiches. Every one is a winner for flavor and easy making. Try them all—the "bacon 'n'egger," pork sausage-fried apple on raisin toast and the bologna-Swiss cheese and the salami-egg salad roll sandwiches.

Hearty Eaters Prefer Meat Sandwiches

Lunch and simple suppers will be bright and appealing any time of the year with this quartet of hearty, fast-fixing meat sandwiches.

The handsome sandwich quartet includes a tasty "bacon 'n'egger," a hearty pork sausage-fried apple sandwich and two tempers, a bologna-Swiss cheese and salami-egg salad roll sandwich.

All are made with convenient, prepackaged sausage, cold cuts or bacon slices.

The pork sausage-fried apple sandwich teams golden brown, spicy and tender pork sausage links with fried apple slices. Served on hot, buttered raisin toast, it's a sandwich with a delightfully different flavor. And when fully cooked, brown and serve sausage links are used, the meat is ready in minutes.

"BACON 'N' EGGER" SANDWICH

Arrange 2 tomato slices on a slice of buttered toast. Top with sliced slices with 1 egg, scrambled, and 3 crisp bacon curls. Serve open-faced or top with a second toast slice.

SALAMI-EGG SALAD ROLL SANDWICH

Top a large slice of buttered Italian or white bread with lettuce. Spread a favorite egg salad mixture over 1/2 of a slice of hard or cottage salami. Roll the uncovered portion of the salami slice over the salad. Repeat 2 times.

Arrange 3 salami-salad rolls on lettuce and top with relishes. Serve open-face or top with a second slice of bread.

BOLOGNA-SWISS CHEESE ROLL SANDWICH

Butter inside surfaces of 2 large slices of rye bread and spread with prepared mustard or salad dressing. Top with lettuce, 2 thin tomato slices and 4 triangles of Swiss cheese.

Spread a bologna slice lightly with salad dressing and roll around a dill pickle stick or slender strip of fresh cucumber. Repeat 2 times. Arrange bologna rolls on cheese. Serve open-face or top with a second slice of buttered bread.

PORK SAUSAGE-FRIED APPLE SANDWICH

For each sandwich being prepared, heat and brown 3 fully cooked pork sausage links as directed on package label. Prepare an equal number of fried apple slices.

Alternate 3 sausage links and 3 apple slices on a slice of buttered raisin toast. Top with a second toast slice.

Wine From a Bag May Be New Fad

If you're sick of your crystal wine glasses, if you're tired of the dusty wine bottles on your table, you definitely need a change. Put a little atmosphere in your wine-drinking — drink it from a picturesque wine skin. A modern "skin" will soon be on the market, according to International Management. It is a collapsible bag made of special plastic laminates and housed in a wooden case. It would be great for primitive dinner parties.

Vegetable Rice Dish Excellent to Cook With Charcoal Steak

What can you serve with sliced to order over glowing wood-burning charcoal briquets while a sizzling chuck steak that's spectacular enough to steal the scene? The answer is Garden of Eatin' vegetable mixture, simmers along side it.

Garden of Eatin'
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup thinly sliced onion
3 tablespoons butter

2 cups thinly sliced cucumber
1 tomato, peeled and cut into wedges
1 cup thin strips green pepper
2 cups hot bouillon
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch

2 tablespoons water
1 1/2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
Saute celery and onion in butter in a large skillet until tender. Add remaining vegetables, 1 cup of the bouillon, salt, pepper, and lemon juice. Stir lightly.

Combine cornstarch and water, stirring until smooth. Gradually stir into the vegetable mixture.

Make a well in the center of the vegetable mixture. Place rice (right from the box) in the well.

Carefully pour remaining 1 cup of bouillon over rice, moistening rice evenly. Cover and simmer on the grill for 5 minutes, or until rice is tender. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Marinated Chuck Steak
1/2 cup barbecue sauce with mild garlic flavor.
2 tablespoons water
1 chuck steak, 1 1/2 inches thick

Combine barbecue sauce and water in shallow pan. Add meat and turn to coat all sides with sauce. Let stand to marinate at desired degree of doneness, least 3 hours. (Meat should be refrigerated if allowed to marinate for more than 3 hours.)

Place on grill over glowing wood charcoal briquets; brown thoroughly on one side; then turn and cook until meat is of desired degree of doneness. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Cornmeal Muffins Made With Yeast Have Rich Flavor

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Do you like to fill out your kitchen files so that you have a set of tried-and-true basic recipes?
Then here's an addition for your folder or recipe-box category marked Cornmeal Breads. We discovered that although there are millions of recipes in the world, ones for yeast-risen cornmeal muffins are not plentiful.

Our own file of tested recipes for example, did not until recently hold a single formula of this sort — and our recipe files are pretty full!

Even if you have never before baked with yeast, we think you'll find this recipe entirely manageable.

No kneading is required. You can use a wooden spoon and your sturdy right arm to do the beating necessary.

If you happen to have a number 20 ice-cream scoop, you can use it to fill the minin cups two-thirds full. Using the scoops assures that the muffins will be of one size.

CHOCKFULL OF CORNMEAL MUFFINS

1 package of active dry yeast

1/4 cup warm water

1/2 cup butter or margarine

1/2 cup sugar

2 1/2 teaspoons salt

1 1/4 cups milk, scalded

5 cups sifted regular flour

2 eggs

1 1/4 cups enriched yellow cornmeal

Dissolve the yeast in the warm water. Into a large mixing bowl turn the butter, sugar and salt; add the scalded milk; stir occasionally to melt the butter. Stir in 1 cup of the flour and the eggs. Add the dissolved yeast and the cornmeal.

With a wooden spoon, thoroughly beat in the remaining 4 cups flour — batter will be very thick. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until nearly doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. With a wooden spoon, beat or stir down batter.

Fill greased muffin-pan cups (1 1/2 to 2 cup size) two-thirds full. Cover with a clean towel; let rise as previously until almost double in bulk — about 45 minutes.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until golden brown

— 12 to 15 minutes. Allow muffins to stand in the pans for about 2 minutes, then remove.

Serve hot at once with butter and jelly. Makes 2 1/2 dozen.

Note: If you want to freezer-store these muffins, freeze them in foil. Reheat in the foil in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 20 to 35 minutes.

Bon Voyage Is Said With a Coffee Party

The vacation exodus is beginning and whether it's Europe, the islands or a scenic spot in the country, the nicest going-away present you can give is a bon voyage coffee party.

An after-dinner gathering, a day or two before departure time, is ideal so it won't interfere with that last minute rush of shopping and packing. And the hostess won't have to rush either with a decorative, easy-to-prepare dessert.

Though Caroussel Mocha Refrigerator Dessert looks elegant enough for the most formal occasions, packaged jelly rolls do most of the work. All that's left to make is the luscious mocha filling that holds the little cakes together. Add, if you wish, some fluffy whipped cream for a snow-white halo.

The total effect is delightfully refreshing — and in more ways than one. A refrigerator dessert means no need to warm up the house — and the hostess — with baking on a balmy night!

PERFECT COFFEE

Since the accompanying coffee is at least as important as the dessert, it must be absolutely perfect. Use one approved coffee measure (equal to two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee for each three-quarters measuring cup of water per serving.

Start with a clean coffee-maker and cold water straight from the tap. Everyone will drink to a bon voyage with particular pleasure if the coffee is freshly brewed and rich in flavor and aroma.

Caroussel Mocha Refrigerator Dessert

5 or 6 packages cake rolls
42 individual jelly rolls in each package
1 package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate pieces
6 eggs, separated
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 tablespoons instant coffee powder
6 tablespoons sugar

Cut each cake roll into four slices. Place a row of slices around the sides and on the bottom of a 7- or 8-inch spring form pan.

Melt chocolate pieces over hot, not boiling, water. Remove from water. Beat in egg yolks

Serve Steak Tartare Made With Raw Beef

For steak tartare, use round steak that's been put through the grinder twice. Spread bread slices with butter, then with a layer of the meat; make an indentation in the center of the meat and add a raw egg yolk. Eaters mix meat and egg yolk and add salt and freshly ground pepper to suit their own taste. Have the beef freshly ground and make these open sandwiches just before serving.

Stuffing Mixture Encloses Hot Dog

A pick-up-and-go picnic proportion into a 5-inch square and place a frankfurter on top. Wrap stuffing around frank, using a spatula to lift up edges.

Securely wrap each Snuggle Pup in well-greased foil. Grill these at the picnic site over hot coals for 15 minutes on each side.

Grind Up a Whole Orange to Put in Good Tea Bread

Margarine is a food for which a standard of identity exists. This means that all of the ingredients and amounts of some of the basic ingredients have been defined by the Federal Food & Drug Administration, and all products represented as margarine must meet these requirements.

In addition, all food ingredients used for flavor, color, texture and other considerations must be approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration. To gain such approval each has been shown to be safe and useful for the purpose intended.

All the forms of margarine are spreadable, all may be heated for sauteing foods, all have hundreds of recipe uses. The homemaker's interest about how much of each kind to use in standard measures in recipes is usually answered by label information, also.

As a rule of thumb, however, when margarine is packed four sticks to a pound, each stick equals approximately 1/2 cup. When there are six sticks to a pound, as in whipped margarine, 1 1/2 sticks are equal to 1/2 cup measured for recipe use.

The soft margarine are packed in little "tubs" each of which contains one cup. Margarine adds flavor to this fruit bread.

ORANGE TEA BREAD

1 large seedless orange (or 2 medium size)
1/4 cup margarine
1 envelope active dry yeast or 1 cake yeast
2 1/2 to 3 cups flour
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg

Cut orange in quarters and put through food chopper. There should be a yield of 1 cup pulp, rind, and juice. Combine this with sugar, margarine, and salt in a saucepan, and bring to a boil. Pour into mixing bowl. When mixture has cooled to warm, add yeast. Let stand several minutes to soften, then beat with rotary or electric beater until well blended. Add egg and beat it in well. Stir in flour

Turkey Roll Is Sliced

Turkey is today's nifty convenience food now that it comes to market in frozen rolls or slices. In 1-2 1/2 inch you serve 6 Oriental Turkey Burgers.

Start by combining 1/4 cup Burgundy wine with an equal amount of soy sauce. To this add a sprinkle of ground ginger and garlic powder. Pour this over 6 slices of cooked turkey and let stand for a half hour. Heat in the marinade.

Place a slice of turkey in a hot enriched sandwich bun; spoon a bit of marinade over it and serve.

Food to Please Father Tempts Family

STEAK for FATHER

Beating Is Secret of Good Dressing

Preparing mayonnaise is easier than you think!

Homemade Mayonnaise

1 egg yolk
1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon each sugar and paprika
Pinch of cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 cup salad oil

In a small deep bowl, with a rotary beater (hand or electric), beat the egg yolk until thickened and lemon colored. Add the salt, mustard, sugar, paprika, cayenne and 1 tablespoon of the vinegar; beat to blend.

Beat in 1/4 cup of the salad oil, 1/2 teaspoon at a time; beat in remaining 3/4 cup salad oil 1/2 teaspoon at a time. Beat in remaining 1 tablespoon vinegar.

Mayonnaise should be very thick. Refrigerate for 6 hours or overnight before using to allow flavors to blend.

GREEN and GOLD SALAD

Cook Slowly

If you want that bacon to stay flat, put it in a cold skillet and cook it slowly, turning as necessary. It is not necessary to pour off the fat until all the bacon is cooked.

What's 'Pureed'?

The word "pureed" in a recipe means to strain food through a food mill, press or strainer. Foods must be cooked or canned first. Pureeing removes skins, seeds and fibrous material.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Father's Day is one time the head of the house should have exactly what he wants to eat. The rest of the family can be catered to some other time.

If you provide him with a thick strip steak, father will be more than delighted to cook it on the outdoor grill. In fact, he probably won't let anyone else touch it.

Your job will be to select a steak that is 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick, allowing 1/4 to one pound of meat per serving.

Trim excess fat from the outer edge and score remaining fat to keep edges from curling. Provide hot French bread, a choice of Roquefort or herb-onion butters for the steak with French fried onion rings as garnish. This takes care of the main course.

HERB-ONION STEAK BUTTER

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 small clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons sliced green onion
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon fines herbes blend
Cream butter or margarine. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Yield: About 1/2 cup.

ROQUEFORT CHEESE STEAK BUTTER

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 package (3 ounces) Roquefort cheese, crumbled
1 tablespoon chopped chives
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Cream butter or margarine. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Yield: About 1/2 cup.

There's no excuse for a limp salad, but one served perfectly chilled and crisp is a delight to eat. This one that combines fresh spinach, olives and fruit is interesting.

GREEN AND GOLD SALAD

1/2 cup olive oil
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 clove garlic, halved
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon each: dry mustard salt
Freshly ground pepper
2 fully ripe avocados
6 cups torn lettuce
4 cups torn spinach
1 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
2 large oranges, peeled and sectioned
1/2 red onion, thinly sliced
Combine oil, vinegar, lemon juice, garlic, parsley, mustard, salt and pepper; chill.

At serving time, halve avocados lengthwise, twisting gently to separate halves. Whack a sharp knife directly into seed and twist to lift out. Peel avocado; place cavity side down and slice.

Arrange avocado and remaining ingredients in salad bowl and toss with dressing. Makes 6-8 servings.

Buy fully ripe or ripen at home at room temperature until soft to the touch.

At this time of year the perfect dessert to tempt the male appetite is strawberry shortcake.

Make it Missouri style with layers of thick crisp pie dough sandwiched between sweetened berries and topped with whipped cream.

MISSOURI SHORTCAKE

2 quarts strawberries, sliced
1 cup sugar

1/4 cup lemon juice
2 packages (10 ounces each) pie crust mix
Sugar
1 1/2 cups heavy cream
Combine strawberries, 1 cup sugar and lemon juice; chill 1 hour.

Prepare pie crust mix according to package directions; roll out dough into four 8-inch circles. Place on cookie sheets. Sprinkle with sugar; prick with fork.

Bake in 425 degree (hot) oven 15 minutes, until golden brown. Cool on racks.

Place one pastry circle on large serving plate; spoon some of strawberries on top, using slotted spoon. Repeat layers with remaining pastry circles and strawberries.

Whip cream with 1 tablespoon sugar until stiff. Mound on shortcake. Makes 10 servings. Save remaining syrup for fruit punch, sodas, milk drinks, dessert sauces.

MISSOURI SHORTCAKE

Steak House Catsup

Serves as a Sauce

Tiny meatballs in sauce are perfect hors d'oeuvres. Combine ground beef with egg, bread crumbs, onion powder, salt and pepper, and moisten with steak house catsup. Shape into small meatballs, brown in skillet.

Simmer in a sauce combining bouillon and steak house catsup. Keep warm in a chafing dish or electric skillet.

Ever Try This Idea?

Cold sauce, hot vegetable? If you like sour cream on baked potatoes, this isn't such a surprising idea. Start with a sour cream flocked with vinegar, onion and paprika. Stir in the sunny fruit cocktail then the crisp bacon bits.

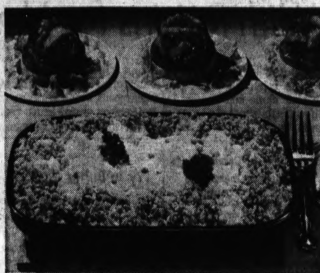

Spoon it over hot, hot green beans, carrots or beets. We'll bet your most stubborn vegetable holdout will take two helpings!

Cool Vegetables

With Batter to Fry

Sweet-Sour Vegetable Sauce
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon onion powder
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
4 slices bacon
Cooked vegetables as asparagus, cauliflower, carrots

Drain fruit cocktail. Mix sour cream with vinegar, salt, onion powder, pepper and paprika. Stir in drained fruit cocktail. Fry bacon until crisp. Drain and crumble into fruit cocktail-cream mixture. Serve over hot vegetables. Makes 2 cups sauce.

CEREAL TOPPED — Nutrition concentrate cereal adds crisp texture and higher nutrition note to this hearty ham casserole.

Cereal Replaces Crumbs on Casserole

Many a fine casserole gets its start from Sunday's leftover roast. By adding a complementary selection of vegetables, seasonings, and sauce, an impressive company main dish is created. Where crisp texture is lacking, convenient ready-to-eat cereals may encircle the top.

Such is the case with this meal-in-a-dish. The recipe utilizes cooked ham which might be specially purchased or be the remains of the Sunday ham.

It also calls for small new potatoes and try new peas. An oniony cream sauce, sprinkling of herbs, and ready-to-eat nutrition concentrate cereal add enlivening flavor and texture.

Breakfast cereals, such as this one, are economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals and the B vitamins, too. While the casserole is baking for 30 minutes, unmold individual gelatin salads on greens and heat rolls and coffee.

Cereal Topped Ham Casserole

1 ½ cup chopped onion
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt

Zesty Dip

Serve this 'Spicy Spring' Dip with tiny new potatoes that have been boiled in salted water. Combine zesty deviled ham, sour cream, horseradish and chopped chives; garnish with

Dash white pepper
1 ½ cups milk
1 ½ cups half and half
¼ teaspoon fines herbes blend
4 cups cooked, small, new potatoes
2 cups new peas, cooked, or 10-ounce package frozen peas, partially defrosted and broken apart
2 cups cubed, cooked ham (about ¾ pounds)
¼ cup ready-to-eat nutrition concentrate cereal

Saute onion in ¼ cup butter or margarine. Blend in flour, salt, and pepper. Add milk and half and half; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Add herbs, potatoes, peas, and ham; stir. Turn into shallow 2-quart casserole.

concentrate cereal. Sprinkle around edge of casserole or over top of creamed mixture.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until hot, 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Veal Chops and Gravy Make Tasty Meat Treat

A succulent chop with plenty of gravy for mashed potatoes, is a meat treat hard to beat. Choose veal chops for a change, and dip them in beaten egg mixed with milk, then fine cracker crumbs, and cook until golden brown in a little hot fat.

Add a little milk to the pan, cover and cook until tender. Serve with milk gravy made by adding milk to drippings and

BOMBAY RAISIN CURRIED EGGS

Prepare Curry Sauce With Raisins for New Egg and Ham Dish

The California Raisin Advisory Board is offering to you its prize-winning collection of recipes in a colorful book entitled "Bonanza of California Raisin Originals."

This recipe book is no booklet! Some fifty collectors' recipes have been gaily illustrated with four color art and photography.

You'll learn all about raisins in the best possible ways. Cakes and pies and cookies you've never dreamed of; special occasion breads and fruit cakes and a amazing raisin entrees.

An amazing example — these Bombay Raisin Curried Eggs in the picture.

This bargain book is available

Veal Isn't Fat

Cooking veal chops in liquid prevents the meat from drying and insures a tender, juicy chop. Because they have little surface fat, marbling or moisture, veal chops should not be broiled.

for only twenty-five cents. To get your copy, mail the coin with your name and address to California Raisin Advisory Board, Dept. NR, Box 2273, Fresno, Calif.

Bombay Raisin Curried Eggs

1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons curry powder
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup raisins
2 cups chicken broth

2 cups half and half
1 tart apple, peeled and diced
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
10 peeled hard-cooked eggs

Fry in Butter

If you want your toasted cheese sandwiches to taste out-of-this-world, fry them very slowly in hot butter in a heavy skillet. By the time the bread is toasted, the cheese should be at least partly melted.

8 slices Canadian bacon
4 English muffins
Heat butter, curry powder, ginger, salt and garlic salt until bubbly. Add onion; cook until wilted. Stir in raisins. Blend in flour, then chicken broth and half and half.

Cook, stirring until mixture thickens. Stir in apple, lemon juice and rind. Turn into casserole or skillet.

Cut cross in top of 8 eggs. Cut a slice from bottom of each; place eggs upright in sauce. Chop remaining two eggs and sprinkle around outside edge.

To serve, place slice of cooked Canadian bacon on toasted buttered English muffin half. Spoon egg and sauce over all. Makes 8 servings.

Luncheon Dish

Thicken stewed tomatoes and serve piping hot over sliced hard-cooked eggs arranged on buttered toast. Top each portion with one or two rolled anchovies.

That Would Satisfy
Every Woman's Taste?*

Impossible?
Of Course!

We feel the same way about coffee. We don't believe one blend can satisfy every taste.

That's why we have three blends of A&P Bean Coffee. Some like a mild, mellow coffee. That's our Eight O'Clock.

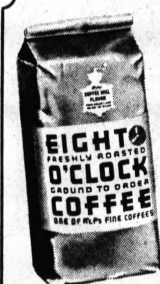

Some like a medium blend that's rich and full-bodied. That's our Red Circle.

Some like a strong blend that's vigorous and winery. That's our Bokar.

Each is a blend of the finest coffees of its type.

In fact, there are no finer coffees in any package at any price.

Is A&P Coffee a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Grill Cubes of Lean Pork Shoulder on Skewers for a Treat

SKEWERED PORK-SASATIES

Skewer cookery has a long and glorious history. It had its beginnings back in the dawn of history, when Asian nomads strung meats and vegetables on a stick, and cooked them over a campfire; it is currently in favor as one of the easiest, most effective, and most adaptable ways to cook meat and vegetables over an open fire.

Almost any combination of meat, fruit and vegetables may be skewered. A skewered dish may serve as appetizer, main dish, or — without the meat — even dessert.

Skewers may be slender bamboo slivers, massive sword-like shafts of stainless steel, or a simple broken green twig. Skewer cookery is nothing if not versatile, adapting to any mood and almost any menu.

In general, meats to be cooked on skewers are marinated for several hours or longer, depending on the tenderness of the meat. Vegetables may be brushed with butter or dipped in the marinade.

As a rule, three items are strung together on a skewer — usually a meat and two vegetables which are different in color and taste. Rice is the usual accompaniment.

Although tomato wedges, green peppers and onions are perhaps the most common vegetables for skewer cookery, many others are good choices: eggplant, zucchini or other squash, fresh or canned whole mushroom crowns, or whole canned potatoes.

Fruit can also be skewered, for an unusual accent. Good choices are pineapple chunks, mandarin orange sections, and bananas.

Any kind of meat may be skewered: beef, lamb, pork, poultry or seafood. Meat combinations are good, too, when care is taken to balance flavor and texture.

If you've never tried a skewered pork combination grilled over charcoal, here's a delicious new recipe.

Sasaties
2 pounds boned lean shoulder of pork
1 can (12 oz.) apricot nectar
1 can (8 oz.) broiled mushroom crowns, drained.
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 tablespoon Kitchen Bouquet
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 tablespoons mild curry powder
2 teaspoons salt
2 cloves garlic, crushed
2 dashes Tabasco

Cut pork into 1½-inch cubes, discarding any excess fat. Place in shallow container, cover with mixture of remaining ingredients and refrigerate overnight. Remove from marinade and thread on 4 skewers with drained mushroom crowns. Reserve mushroom broth for use in soup, sauce or gravy. Broil slowly over moderate heat, turning and basting several times with marinade, for about 45 minutes, or until done. Snip into a piece of meat to test — there should be no pinkness left. Makes 4 servings.

Bob Evans FARMS SAUSAGE

fully seasoned, self-basting

READY TO COOK!

Tastes extra good 'cause it's so lean and absorbs open-fire flavor when charcoal broiled. Try it!

Pork sausage because of its versatility and nutritive value fits into any mealtime picture.

SKINLESS SMOKED SAUSAGE

Wait 'til you try these large skinless links cooked over charcoal. Cook slowly until the outside turns a rich red-brown. The juicy flavor comes from pre-smoking with green hickory chips. Serve on a long bun or try it for an evening meal with your favorite vegetable. Here's a tip: serve with horseradish!

FARM BOY PATTIES

These bun-size patties absorb the open-fire flavor! Made especially for sandwiches, they're firm and will hold together. Space out patties over glowing coals, cook slowly for a special grill treat. Serve on a warm bun with your favorite garnish. The whole family will go for them.

SMALL CASING LINKS

These juicy, tender links cook quickly. The distinctive open-fire flavor penetrates thoroughly. For convenient handling, fasten three links together loosely with toothpicks. They'll never fall through or roll off. Also delicious when cut into small pieces and served as appetizers.

Top Mailmen Check Their Own Service

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The Post Office Department has been accused of complicating the nation's mail service through new and fancy schemes. The following dispatch, last in a two-part series, examines one of the department's most controversial innovations.)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office Department is giving itself a put-up-or-shut-up test.

Faced with charges that the nation's mail service is getting worse instead of better, the nation's top mailmen have been mailing letters to each other.

They'll be checking each other on the results towards the end of June.

For several weeks in May, unidentified test letters and other mailings of all classes were sent through the mails.

The exact time and place of posting and the precise moment of delivery were recorded. The information was sent to Washington for analysis.

TO PINPOINT PROBLEMS

The report is expected to pinpoint any problems arising from the department's new "sectional center" program.

That program has come under heavy fire since it was launched last July 1 with the announced intention of guaranteeing overnight delivery with in each state.

The reaction in many states was, "hat!"

IDENTIFIED BY NUMBERS

The area served by each center is identified in the first three numbers of the five-digit zip code another bugaboo of modern mail-haters and the precise community by the last two.

All post offices within the area, as well as those elsewhere, send their out-of-town mail to the designated center, where it is routed to its destination.

Frederick D. Belen, deputy postmaster general, said the concept "is working fine."

Christmas mail was 7 per cent heavier last year than in 1964, he said, but was handled practically without a hitch.

TESTS LOOK GOOD

William J. Hartigan, assistant postmaster general said tests late last year in Montana, Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota, and Louisiana showed 97 to 99 per cent next-day delivery of newspapers and first class intrastate mail.

Committee members asked the officials about complaints that letters mailed to adjoining communities sometimes must be sent many miles more than under direct routing — going to the center and then back-tracked to their destination.

Belen said some communities inevitably will get circuitous delivery. If next-day delivery is assured, he said, the routing does not matter.

Many complaints arose because the mailer was not aware of mail schedules between his post office and the sectional center, he said. A call to the postmaster could solve such problems, he said.

CRITICIZED BY PAPERS

Newspapers have been eloquent critics of the new system's effect on their out-of-town deliveries. Hartigan said, and each complaint has been investigated.

"... Without exception. I do not know of any case where we have not been able to answer favorably for the department," he said.

"Our file is loaded with apologies from newspapers for articles they have written on this."

Hartigan said investigators discovered a heavy mailer had advanced the date on his postal meter machine, thus indicating delays which actually did not exist. But for the most part, he said, complaints stem from resistance to change.

OPPOSE CHANGE

He added: "Just because you are changing it, people are interviewed by newspapers and they are quoted as saying it is no good. Why is it? 'Because you have changed it.'"

Killed in Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Spec. 4 Kenneth E. Somero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Somero of Greenland, Mich., Tuesday was listed by the Defense Department as killed in action in Viet Nam.

Professors at Provo Are Prolific Papas

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Brigham Young University says 149 of its 800 faculty members have six or more children, led by athletic trainer C. Rodney Kimball who has 14.

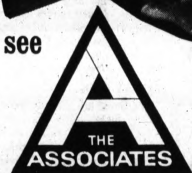

Modern language professor Vernon L. Anderson has 13 and accounting professor H. Verland Anderson (no relation) has 11. Six have 10, 16 have nine, 20 have eight, 28 have seven and 78 members of the faculty have six children.

Researchers at Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, are working on a bilingual computer that they suggest could be used to translate English into French for quick reports of debates in Canadian Parliament.

'WATCH DOG' WITH CLAWS—Hoodlums aren't likely to give gas station attendant Harry Fitzgibbon of Mill Valley, Calif., any more trouble. After a helper was beaten, Fitzgibbon ordered this 150-pound jaguar, trained for protection work, to back him up. Off duty the beast is considered a safe pet for his four children. On duty is something else.

Severe Storms Pound Texas

By the Associated Press

Violent weather pounded Texas today as storms loosed strong winds, hail and rain.

The Weather Bureau said tornadoes touched down near the Texas towns of Pampa and Dumas, causing some property damage.

Hail the size of large pearls fell in Pampa, along with rain that measured more than 2 inches.

Winds gusted up to 75 miles per hour near Amarillo, Tex.

Thunderstorms moved across the South and from the southwest Plains to the Missouri Valley.

About 80 per cent of all the people of the U.S. over the age of 30 years drink coffee at a rate of 3½ cups per day.

He Fills Your Tank With 'Tiger' Outside

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Ever since a gang of hoodlums beat up an attendant at Harry Fitzgibbon's gasoline service station, a 150-pound guard has been on duty. He is a South American Jaguar.

Fitzgibbon had a Richmond, Calif., importer ship the year-old animal—trained since birth for protection work—from Paraguay.

The Jaguar, Kitty, operates at the end of a 15-foot chain.

"Kitty responds like a police dog, if not better," says Rich Brammar, one of the station attendants.

"He will lie down, sit up or go get something the minute he's told. Sometimes he sleeps in the office window. But he also will go after somebody on command."

CHILDREN'S PET

Off duty, the jaguar is regarded as a nice, safe pet by the four children at Fitzgibbon's home.

But he has a look of fury at the station.

In the early hours of May 30, a roving band of youths plagued attendant Joe Ghazar for 30 cents worth of gas, then "a penny more, now another penny more." When some of them tried to steal oil, Ghazar told the youths to leave. They beat him up and tried to set fire to the station.

The nights are quiet now at Harry's place.

House in Slap at McNamara

Pentagon-Nixed Items in OK'd Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House, in a direct slap at Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, has approved a $17.8 billion defense bill that includes nearly $1 billion for projects the Pentagon chief opposes.

The action, on a 356-2 vote yesterday, was a victory for chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S. C., of the House Armed Services Committee, who had urged approval of the extra funds.

But there was no assurance that the Senate would go along with the House or, if it did, that McNamara would ever spend the additional money.

The bill would authorize appropriations during the fiscal year starting July 1 for ships, missiles, planes, tanks and related research and development.

It now goes back to the senate, which previously passed a $17.2 billion measure.

The House bill also carried authority for an across-the-board, 3.2 per cent pay raise for all members of the armed forces. Bearing the imprint of Rivers and his strongly held views on military policy, the bill would direct McNamara to move fast in building a nuclear navy and commit him to develop an advanced conventional bomber for the 1970's.

She Does TV; He's in Film

Married Life Starts Apart

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — She is making a television series in Universal City. He is filming a Western movie in Kanab, Utah. Is this the way to start a marriage?

"Naturally we don't like being apart," says green-eyed Kathryn Hays, who became the wife of Glenn Ford in March.

"But we realized the hazards of having two acting careers, and agreed before we married that we would make sacrifices if we had to."

"Glenn knows how much my career means to me. I've worked too hard to give it all up now."

So Kathy remains here to star in the new NBC series, "The Road West," while her husband is galloping over the Utah range in "The Long Ride Home." It might be added that the pair did not rush into marriage. Both had been wed previously, and they waited until two years after they had first met at a Hollywood dinner party.

BOTH HAVE CHILDREN

Both had children — she an 8-year-old daughter, he a grown son by his marriage to Eleanor Powell.

"That was another consideration — my daughter Sherri," said Kathy. "She and Glenn spent a lot of time together before we decided on marriage. Fortunately, she adores him, and vice versa."

Not the least of their problems was Glenn's house, built entirely to his own specifications — as a bachelor. How could it accommodate a wife and young daughter?

"It can't, so we are building on," Kathy explained. "It seemed like too much of an imposition to ask Glenn to move all his things. The new addition will have a suite for me, as well as a playroom for Sherri."

A practical girl, this Kathy Hays. She has been supporting herself during most of the time since she left junior college in Joliet, Ill., her home town. Her first job was as a department store model, then she advanced to television commercials in Chicago.

LEAVES MODELING

After a session as one of New York's highest-paid models, she moved into acting and worked most of the television series in New York and Hollywood, plus four Broadway shows. Now she is a regular in "The Road West."

What's it about?

"It's a dramatic series that is located in the West," she said with care. The term "Western" is shunned out here. "Barry Sullivan is a widower."

It began to take on a faintly reminiscent ring. But Kathy assured that "The Road West" is no ersatz "Bonanza."

"I wouldn't be doing the series if it was just another Western," she commented. "I play a doctor, so that gives me something more to do than hold someone's hand."

"Eventually Barry and I will get married, but that will take a little time. You shouldn't rush into marriage on television, either."

NATO Studies French Pullout

July 1 Deadline for Troops in Germany

PARIS (UPI)—France and her 14 North Atlantic Treaty Allies today tackled the thorny question of what to do with the 60,000 French troops in West Germany after President Charles de Gaulle withdraws from NATO next month.

Ambassadors of the 14 countries planned to ask the French representative, whether de Gaulle would keep his troops in Germany after July 1, and if so under what status.

Bargaining in earnest on this issue was not expected to start at today's regular session of the NATO council. But the ambassadors hope to get some indication from Paris about exactly what it plans to do about the troop situation.

The question of the French air force in Germany was another point expected to be raised at the meeting. France told West Germany yesterday it is withdrawing some of its air units as soon as the NATO pull-out begins.

Franco-German talks on the troop question also began yesterday but were suspended after the Germans told France they preferred to have the matter thrashed out first at the NATO council meeting.

Today's negotiations were a result of the NATO foreign ministers' session in Brussels last week. France agreed there that the council was the place to settle the troop issue.

Tax Man Is Calling

Profit Taking Weathered

Market Up in Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP) —

The stock market weathered some additional profit taking and was on the upbeat again early this afternoon. Trading was the heaviest of the week.

The ability of the list to climb back above the psychological barrier represented by 900 in the Dow Jones industrial average brought in some additional buying. It also caused some investors, who were late in unloading on the way down, to sell their stocks.

The clash between the two forces at the significant level increased the volume of trading.

After some hesitation, the list began to gain again.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed at noon was up 1.00 at 904.17. It was ahead as much as

3.12 at the end of the first half-hour.

AVERAGE UP

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 324.2 with industrials up .7, rails up 1.1 and utilities up .1.

All Big Three motors were losers. Ford and Chrysler slipped nearly a point each,

General Motors a fraction.

American Telephone and Jersey Standard also dipped fractionally.

Prices on the American Stock

Exchange were generally higher in active trading. Gains of 2 or more points were made by

Equity Corp. preferred, Domini-and Rogers Corp. and Simmons Precision. Up a point or better were Conductor, Giammini Controls, Gulton Industries,

Walker Kidde, O'Kiepp Copper-and Signal Oil "A."

Hospitals Told to Obey Law

LBJ Calls for Bias End Before Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — President

Johnson today told on hospitals to obey the law against discrimination, and on leaders in the health professions to ward off abuses in the Medicare program that starts July 1.

Johnson told a conference at the White House the countdown has started — that in 15 days

the country embarks on the greatest contribution to the well-being of older citizens since

Social Security began 30 years ago.

And perhaps never except in mobilizing for war has the government made such extensive preparations, he said.

But he said too that there will be problems.

RIGHTS LAW

First of all he listed the one of compliance with the civil rights law that denies federal funds for any activity involving discrimination because of race, religion or origin.

"We believe the answer to that problem is a simple one,"

Johnson said, "and we ask every citizen to obey the law."

More than 80 per cent of the country's hospitals, he said, have given assurances they will do so. This would be about 6,000 out of a total of 7,500.

The President called the one-day conference of administrative officials and 300 officers of national and state medical and hospital associations to review the almost-completed plans for the universal health insurance system.

Secretary of Welfare John W.

Gardner was expected to announce at the conference the latest tally on how many of the country's approximately 7,500

general hospitals have enrolled in Medicare and met the test of compliance with the Civil Rights Act.

PREDICTS MAJORITY

The secretary said last week that 531 had met the non-race discrimination rule so far. He predicted that virtually all the others would be in compliance

by July 1.

But officials are concerned that hospitals, physicians and nurses are reluctant to insure that patients do not occupy hospital beds after they could be discharged, or after they have recovered to the point at which visiting-nurse or nursing-home care would suffice.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — This is tax day for the nation's corporations. And the bill is a hefty

25 per cent higher than last

June 15. One way or another,

big and little business firms

must fork up more than $8 billion today for

the U.S. Treasury.

Higher interest rates and a scarcity of money available for borrowing will squeeze many companies.

The purpose of the new law was to put corporations on a pay-as-you-go basis by the end of next year — something like the withholding tax on personal paychecks. In the long run, corporation's total tax bills remain the same. But getting closer to the pay-as-you-go schedule is putting a special, if temporary, squeeze on corporate treasuries

this year.

It's also putting a squeeze on many loans. The demand for loans has been soaring with the big sport in economic activity.

The demand for tax loans is just that much more of a burden to banks hard pressed to lend find-able funds.

DRAWN DOWN

And some of the funds the banks have built up will be drawn down by the tax deadline. These are the Certificates of Deposit which corporations have bought from the banks, many with the aim of meeting the tax bill. Nearly $4 billion of these CDs come due this month,

$717 million of them today.

The CDs are a favorite device of corporations to keep idle money busy — now at around

5½ per cent — until needed.

Many of the certificates are bought with the idea of cashing them to pay the tax collector.

Other big corporations have bought tax anticipation Treasury bills. The Treasury has a total of $4.5 billion of these maturing this month. These will pay the tax bills of many companies, who have been collecting interest on them while the

of the money in advancement of tax payment date.

Some corporations issue commercial paper to raise cash.

These forms of IOUs have been paying interest as high as 5½ per cent. Other companies may sell various securities, both federal and municipal, to raise tax money.

But a lot of firms have arranged — or tried — to borrow from their banks. The big problem here is that the banks refuse to lend money to companies that are short of money to lend. And the borrowing by member banks from the Federal Reserve System to get more lendable money is now at the highest level in six years.

So, today, the tax collector be sure is happy.

5 Teachers Are Feted in Waterford

Five retiring teachers, who have served in the Waterford Township School District, were honored this morning at a breakfast at Pierce Junior High School.

Honored in the program, jointly sponsored by the Waterford Education Association and the Waterford Township Board of Education, were: Mrs. Phillip Aspinwall, Mrs. Marguerite M. Baumgartner, Raymond Docksen, Mrs. Flora Lackie and Mrs. Arden Newell.

Each was presented with a pin and certificate from the Michigan Education Association by Robert Crumpton, WEA vice president.

In addition, their respective principals introduced them and gave them flowers.

Also participating in the program were Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of schools, and Robert Hutchinson, WEA president.

Mrs. Aspinwall, a teacher at Sandburg Elementary School, has been employed in the Waterford Township School District for 16 years.

22 YEARS.

Mrs. Baumgartner served 20 of her 22 years in the Waterford Township system as a teacher at Drayton Plains Elementary School.

Docksen has been in the Waterford Township district since 1947. A graduate of Hope College, he has been a mathematics teacher at Waterford-Kettering High School.

Mrs. Lackie served 21 of her 23 years in the Waterford Township district as a teacher at Donelson Elementary School.

She has served as a PTA vice president, as a MEA representative and as a third grade chairman for social studies. For five years, she was in charge of the school library at Donelson.

Mrs. Newell, an English instructor at Waterford Township High School, came to the Waterford Township district in 1950 from Adrian where she had taught the previous five years.

City School Board OKs Proposed Teacher Contract

A proposed 1966-67 teachers' contract was approved by the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

The Pontiac Education Association, negotiator for the district's 947 teachers, has scheduled a ratification meeting on the contract for 4 p.m. today at Pontiac Northern High School.

The proposed contract would jump the base salary from its current $5,500 to $5,500 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and no experience.

In other action last night, the board awarded a $64,976 contract for a boiler room addition at Henry J. Owen Elementary School.

The contract went to E. M. S. and Brown, Inc., of Pontiac, lowest of two bidders.

BUILDING DAMAGED — Three cars, an armored truck and a building were damaged yesterday when a 2½-ton air-conditioning unit being hoisted to the top of an addition at a Flint bank dropped 80 feet as a cable broke. There were no injuries.

Township Hall Officials Get Unexpected Visitor

Meetings of the board of trustees aren't the only interesting occurrences at township halls.

At noon yesterday, as personnel at the White Lake Township headquarters were beginning to think about lunch, a car roared up to the front of the building and an excited man leaped out.

Township Supervisor Edward Chey, who noticed the arrival from his front office, stepped outside and learned that an expectant mother was in the back seat and that time had nearly run out.

Other township people rushed from the building to help while

Chey raced back inside to telephone a doctor.

He quickly contacted Dr. I. B. Posner, of 8000 Cooley Lake and Dr. Posner was there in a matter of minutes.

BABY GIRL.

But, in the meantime, a dark-haired girl was born to Mrs. Richard Wells, 23, of 118 E. Washington, Milford.

Aiding in the delivery were Township Clerk Ferdinand Vetter, fireman Herman Merglewski and secretary Mrs. Tina Forsythe.

Moments after Dr. Posner completed the delivery, an ambulance arrived and hurried the new mother and baby to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital behind a police escort.

Both are doing fine, hospital officials said.

The baby's father, home on leave from Air Force duty, was fishing when the emergency suddenly developed.

His grandfather, Leon Nye, with whom the couple lives, began the drive to the hospital that ended abruptly at the township hall.

Rival Gangs in Shoot-Out; 16 Arrested

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — Police with shotguns and attack dogs broke up a shopping center shoot-out between rival gangs early today. Sixteen youths were arrested.

One gang member was believed to be wounded and was being sought.

Several state policemen were hit but not injured by shotgun pellets in a barrage of shots exchanged by the gangs at a shopping area in this Washington suburb.

Police said the gangs — "The Avengers" and "The Pagans" — had clamed before.

Their most recent fight last weekend was the apparent spark for the shooting that started shortly before midnight yesterday.

WEAR JACKETS

The gangs are motorcycle and not rod drivers who wear the black leather jacket of the motorcycle rider. The Avengers decorate theirs with a German Iron cross, the Pagans use a skull and crossbones.

Detective Charles Mackey of the Arlington County Police Department said he and his men were tipped in advance about the fight but had to stand aside as the Avengers gathered.

"There was nothing we could do," he said. "They were on the world in 1964 amounted to 25,810 tons at a price of more than $600 million."

County Official Is Head of State Veteran Advisers

Duane W. Shaw, director of Oakland County's veterans affairs department, has been elected president of the Michigan Association of County Veterans Counsellors.

A former member of the organization's board of trustees, Shaw lives at 2416 Holland, Orion Township.

He will serve a one-year term. Elected to a two-year term as a trustee of the association was Robert D. Kohnert of 444 Nakomis, Orion Township.

Rescue Try off Course

SOUTH EL MONTE, Calif. — Bart Natsin, sheriff's deputy, was standing in front of a flaming house here when he thought he heard a woman's scream coming from inside the blazing building.

Dashing in, he found the smoke so thick he had to crawl around on his stomach.

While searching, he looked out the back door and saw the screaming woman in the back yard, where she had been all the time.

Natsin is recovering from the effects of smoke inhalation.

NASSAU, Bahamas (U) — In converting its currency from the British pound to the U.S. dollar, the Bahamas government decided to name the basic monetary unit a dollar.

Rejected were these suggested names: conch, carib, Bolivar, colon, cruzeira, sol, pscu, sucre, wahoo, crown, cay, angel, nobel, sovereign, mark and sand.

Said one official: "I cannot imagine what the old lady of Mars Bay, Andros, would say if she was told that her chickens or her pig had sold for 'three wahoos' or 'five conchs' and 'two cays'."

Ethiopian Stay Begun by Kennedy

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., arrived here today to meet with Emperor Haile Selassie, dedicate a university built with Peace Corps volunteers.

Kennedy flew in from Nairobi, capital of Kenya.

On his arrival, the senator described his reception in Kenya as warm and said he was "gratified" to have met President John Kennedy.

Kenya told Kennedy that the country "cherished" U.S. aid and he congratulated Kennedy for his "courageous visit and sincere speeches" in South Africa.

Kennedy was to make a major African address in Ethiopia.

POLICY RAPPEL

At one point during his Nairobi visit, a large crowd gathered to meet the senator, carrying signs praising the late President John F. Kennedy but condemning U.S. African policy.

The signs apparently were prompted by an official statement from Kenya's Kenya African National Union (KANU) party which said the United States claimed to oppose South African racism but did nothing about it.

"We look to the United States," the statement said, "to come down off the fence and take positive action among the ranks of those who are struggling to see an end of apartheid (the official segregation policy of South Africa's government)."

Kennedy, who with his wife, Ethel, had arrived in Nairobi yesterday from a game preserve, addressed about 1,500 persons at Kenyatta's Heroes College.

He told them Kenya had proven that all races can live together. His speech also touched on South Africa's racial segregation.

On that, Kennedy said men of good will must decide non-whites are not second class citizens.

Aussie Wondering Where Girls Went

MELBOURNE (U) — A staff employment expert, Malcolm Riddle, has gone to Britain to lure Australian secretaries back to Australian business and industry.

Riddle said before he left here that many Australian girls were working for low wages in Europe, but could get highly paid jobs in their homeland. They had gone to Europe on working holidays and got themselves into a rut, he said.

As well as persuading Australian girls to return, Riddle hopes to encourage European girls to come to Australia on working holidays or to take permanent positions.

U.S. Responds to Cambodia

'Willing to Help Pay Inspection Costs'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has indicated formally that it is willing to help pay the cost of international inspection of Cambodia territory against use by Vietnamese Communists, diplomats disclosed today.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk sent a message to that effect just over a week ago to Norodom Kanol, Cambodia's prime minister and acting foreign minister. Rusk's letter has not been made public.

At last report there was no reply from Cambodia.

Rusk's overture responded to repeated suggestions by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, for expansion of the International Control Commission (ICC) to inspect Cambodia, which the United States believes has been used by North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong as a haven and supply route.

GENEVA ACCORDS

The Cambodian ICC, composed of one official each from India, Canada and Poland, plus a small staff, was set up under the 1954 Geneva accords, which halted the French-Indochina war.

More specifically, Rusk was replying to a press statement by Sihanouk May 28 calling on the "well to do" countries which participated in the 1954 conference to finance ICC teams "numerous enough to control effectively" the Cambodian frontiers.

Rusk's message was delivered by the Australian government. The United States and Cambodia ended direct diplomatic relations in May 1965.

Administration officials have doubts that the inspection plan will ever materialize, in view of Communist resistance built into the Geneva machinery. The ICC has never acted on Sihanouk's proposal. Britain and Russia, the Geneva "cochairsmen," would presumably have to approve it, and Russia has shown no interest.

WORTH BACKING

But the administration believes the idea is worth backing on the chance it could be a breakthrough in international action to deal at least with the fringes of the Viet Nam war.

The United States has never borne the expenses of the Cambodian ICC, because it never signed the 1954 accords. But U.S. troops paid for the Laos ICC, tipped up in the 1962 accords, which it did sign.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — When a trash truck here caught fire, the driver drove his vehicle to Fire Station No. 35 only to find that only one fireman was on hand. The others were testing their equipment at the Fire Department Academy. The lone fireman had only a garden hose, so he called for help.

He had to put in a call to Fire Department Station No. 4 to property value decision "must be based upon actual comparable sales."

Heart Care Unit Slated

A special intensive care unit for heart attack victims is to be established at Pontiac General Hospital.

The hospital's board of trustees last night approved a $200,000 expenditure to set up a specialized coronary care unit.

Most of the funds, $14,500, are to be used for the purchase of the bedside monitoring equipment. The balance of funds will be spent for the alteration of a three-bed room.

The trustees also set Oct. 1 as the target date for opening the new unit.

The heart care units, similar to present intensive care units, are equipped with a monitoring system to provide a constant watch on the hearts of heart attack patients.

Irregular heart activity would be immediately noted by personnel manning a master control board linked to all the patients in the unit.

Various estimates have been made on the effectiveness of such coronary care units. One estimate has been

Ruling Made on Felony Plea

Court May Accept Guilty or Not Guilty

LANSING (AP) — In a felony case involving a jail sentence a court may accept only one of two pleas—guilty or not guilty—the Michigan Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday.

The intermediate court threw out the plea of "nolo contendere" ("I do not wish to dispute the charge") in the case of Anthony Franchi, charged with larceny from a building in Grand Rapids last year.

Instead of taking the plea as an implied admission of guilt, and allowing the defendant to be sentenced, Kent County Judge John Vander Wal should have never been dealt with in the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The question is a new one, said Fitzgerald, never having come before an appellate court in Michigan before.

COMMON LAW

The nolo contendere plea comes from common law—but never has been dealt with in Michigan statutes, he said.

The Legislature has provided specifically that when a defendant does not plead guilty or not guilty, a plea shall be entered for him, the appeals court judge said, adding:

"It seems that for an orderly approach to the entry of a plea in Michigan trial courts, there is no good reason to recognize a plea that is neither a plea of guilty or not guilty."

In another decision, the court ruled that appraisers estimates—and not the sale price of comparable property—are admissible as evidence in a condemnation suit.

It overturned a highway condemnation ruling by Judge Arthur E. McDonald of Eaton County Circuit Court, who said the Department Station No. 4 to property value decision "must be based upon actual comparable sales."

Mishap Is Pinned on Batman's Pin

CINCINNATI, Ohio (U) — The caped crusader did not make the scene but one of his pins caused some trouble.

Three-year-old James Moss was released from a hospital yesterday after doctors removed a "Batman" pin he had swallowed. A hospital spokesman said the lad suffered a throat scratch and some blood loss.

FASCINATING MUSIC — An old Vietnamese woman and child give full attention to a concert by the U.S. 3rd Marine Division band at Cam Ne, South Viet Nam. Band music is part of a concentrated effort by U.S. forces to win over population of Viet Cong-influenced villages near Da Nang.

LAST STYPS—Sculptor Joseph Kieselevski completes bust of Sylvanus Thayer, founder of U.S. engineering education. It will be installed in the Hall of Fame.

Says Official

1966 Tax Hike 'Doubtful'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commerce Secretary John T. Connor says he does not expect the Johnson administration to seek an economy-cooling tax increase this year.

Connor told a news conference yesterday there were some inflationary pressures still operating, but it was his "personal opinion, unless there is some drastic change, that no tax increase will be advanced in this session of Congress."

Asked about Connor's remarks, White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said "I do not believe he has made any decision" on taxes and that he believed Johnson still was unwilling to speculate or make predictions on the matter.

Connor said the President was still considering the possibility of higher taxes to keep the lid on the economy, but current signs of slowing growth in it led him to believe no increase would come.

Among the signs he saw of a slowdown were moderate increases in U.S. personal income, a slight rise in the May unemployment rate, declining auto sales, fewer housing starts, and

Statue of JFK, Son to Be Dedicated Soon

FRANKLIN PARK, N.J. (AP) — A life-sized marble statue of President John F. Kennedy standing with his arm around his son, John Jr., will be dedicated Sunday at the St. Augustine school here.

The six-foot-tall statue, called "A Father's Love," has been appraised at $40,000 and was carved in Italy on commission by the Rev. John J. Reilly, pastor of St. Augustine.

Wilson Firm on Proposed Strike Offer

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson held firm today to the position that the striking National Union of Seamen should accept a special court of inquiry's proposals to end its strike against the nation's ship owners.

Wilson made this clear yesterday in a meeting with the Trades Union Council, the large labor organization which had tried to mediate the dispute, and before the House of Commons.

He was expected to reiterate his position at a meeting today with leaders of the seamen's union.

Wilson told the Trades Union Council, British equivalent to the AFL-CIO, the government will make no concessions to the seamen beyond those contained in the proposals of the court of inquiry.

'FAIR SETTLEMENT'
In the House of Commons, Wilson said the inquiry's proposals were "a fair settlement and the basis of a discussion and debate."

The proposals, rejected by the seamen only hours after they were issued last week, called for an immediate reduction of the work week from 56 hours to 48 and a further reduction to 40 hours in a year.

The seamen want a 40-hour week now, and the shippers have offered a 40-hour week in two years.

Wilson's position on the court of inquiry proposals increased speculation that the strike, which began May 16, could last another two weeks.

So far, the walkout has idled 826 of the nation's 2,500 merchant vessels and 24,955 of the 62,500 men in the National Union of Seamen.

Detroit Board OKs Half-Days

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Board of Education yesterday confirmed half-day sessions for first and seventh graders to begin in the fall.

The cut was adopted on the recommendation of Superintendent Samuel M. Brownell as a means of lowering expenses to fit reduced income and increased costs.

Detroit voters recently rejected a proposed millage increase earmarked for growing school expenses.

The spokesman, Mrs. Earl Tate, called for a greater effort to obtain money from the state and other sources.

She recommended that schools continue to be run on a full program until funds run out and they are closed.

Bandits Rob Opydyke Mart

Two masked bandits, armed with rifles, held up the Opydyke Market, 2485 N. Opydyke, Pontiac Township, shortly after 10:30 last night and escaped with $300.

Ben Newton of the Opydyke address told sheriff's deputies he was in the rear of the store when the intruders entered the building.

He said they ordered him to lie on the floor and that one of the holdup men kept repeating, "shoot him."

Newton described both bandits as short and weighing about 120 pounds.

Tribe Support Said Growing

Ex-Ruler in Yemen
Claims Area Control

CAMP AL MANSUR, North-west Yemen (AP) — Yemen's deposed ruler says practically all important Yemeni tribes have rallied to him and most of Northwest Yemen is under royalist control.

Imam (King) Mohammed Al Badr said in an interview Tuesday that the powerful Hashid tribe is the latest to join forces with the royalists.

The imam said the Hashids turned on their Egyptian-backed republican chief, Abdullah Ibn Hussein Al Ahmar, and forced the Egyptian garrison out of the town of Hajja last month. He said they also warned the interior minister in the republican government in San'a, Ibn Al Ahmar, not to return to Hajja, his hometown.

FULL CONTROL

The imam said the Hashids turned over full political and military control of royalist forces to his cousin, Prince Hassan Al Hasan. An announcement at the time said the imam's "chronic ill health, including renal (kidney) colic attacks, keep him largely under doctors' care at a time when very vigorous leadership is required."

The royalist position has improved since their backer, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, and Nasser signed a truce last August. The two factions had been fighting since the republicans overthrew the imam in 1962.

Lunar Night Descends on Surveyor 1

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's efficient eye on the moon, Surveyor 1, will be permanently blind if its electric heart fails to survive the super-cold lunar night, scientists report.

Surveyor, the brilliantly successful first attempt by the United States to land a spacecraft gently on the moon, was engulfed by the lunar night Tuesday after sending more than 10,000 high quality photos.

The night holds the peril of temperatures near 260 degrees below zero Fahrenheit—cold enough to freeze and perhaps destroy Surveyor's battery, its heart. Lunar night is two weeks long in earth time.

In the last rays of sunlight Tuesday, Surveyor recorded a vivid show, picturing bright, high ridges accented by deep shadows, an eerie, almost surrealistic display.

SPECTACULAR SHOT

The most spectacular shot, perhaps, was a picture showing the elongated shadow of the spacecraft cast a great distance across the lunar surface.

Other pictures, made as the sun dipped slowly over the horizon, showed a faint glow on the horizon which scientists said might indicate the moon has a light atmosphere. The gas, they said, could come from the sun or even from the moon's interior.

Quake Is Reported in South Pacific

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo's Central Meteorological Observatory said its seismographs recorded a powerful earthquake Tuesday centered somewhere in the Solomon Islands area of the South Pacific.

The quake had a force of seven on the 12-point Richter scale.

Mexico's Tacubaya seismographic station also recorded the quake and said the epicenter was apparently about 7,500 west of Mexico City.

The U.S. sponsors medical research in about half of its 37 penitentiaries, involving over 3,000 men a year.

Did You Know?

Determined to satisfy the needs of radial arm saw users everywhere, our hardware buyer designed a saw with an incredibly-deep 3 3/4-inch cut and a 17 1/4 inch crosscut! He developed a Universal Motor that outperformed all others! Like this buyer, all Wards buyers build quality into a product long before a single bolt is turned, a stitch sewn. They don't just buy goods, they actually create the very best merchandise for you!
