Orion Mother Fights for Life After Train Kills Two Children

Two Others Hurt as Family Auto Is Demolished

Woman, 4 Youngsters Trapped on Crossing in Orion Township

A Lake Orion mother hovered between life and death today following an auto-train accident that has left two of her children dead, another injured critically, and a fourth hospitalized.

The tragic toll resulted after Mrs. Gayle E. Smith, 35, of 567 E. Flint St., drove her automobile into the path of an on-coming New York Central Railway train at an unmarked crossing west of Orion road in Orion Township at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Dead are Richard Hal Smith, 4, and his sister, Wendy Marion, 2. Richard died immediately. Wendy died about three hours later in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Smith, who was driving the children home after the oldest one had taken a piano lesson, managed to survive through the night but is in critical condition.

Also critical was the oldest child, Linda Lee, 9, who suffered internal injuries and a broken left leg. She was resting comfortably, the hospital reported last night.

Least hurt was the fourth child, Donna, 6, who apparently suffered only bruises and a cut upper lip. The hospital, however, admitted her last night for further observation.

The accident occured as Mrs. Smith was driving the children home along a private road after leaving the home where the music lesson was held, 2530 Orion Rd.

Headed east, she evidently did not see the train coming.

The engineer, Joseph F. Parrish, 42, of 8077 Mortonville Rd., Taylor Township, said he had sounded his whistle, but Mrs. Smith's car did not move.

Parrish, who was taking a load of coal from Rochester to Oxford, said the train was going 40 miles an hour and unable to stop in time.

Sheriff's deputy George Enners believed that the impact bounced

Old-Time Cold Winters on Way Back

Lay In Big Supply of Red Flannels

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Remember how Grandpa talked about the winters when he was a boy, how the snow drifted to 30 feet and rivers froze solid so you could walk across?

Well, those winters are coming back. That's the opinion of Dr. Hurd C. Willett, professor of meteorology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Willett has made an amazing record of long-range weather forecasts. His predictions include:

1. The next 50 years look promising for ice skating and skiing enthusiasts in America. Weather will be colder and wetter over the long run.

2. There will be fewer hurricanes along the Middle Atlantic and New England seaboards.

3. These storms will return to their natural track in the Caribbean on Gulf of Mexico areas, or will blow themselves out over the Atlantic Ocean.

4. There will be more rainfall and cooler weather in the Middle West, Southwest and South.

"Of course," Dr. Willett said in an interview recently, "these long-range forecasts are only the highlights of what we must expect in the next half century or so as the earth's climate continues a new phase of its periodic changes."

"The weather," he added, "is changeable, as everybody knows, and there will be short periods when it will run contrary to the long range trend."

The weather has been Dr. Willett's business for 41 years, since he first kept a weather diary as a 13-year-old youth on his father's farm near Pittsburgh, Pa. He joined the U. S. Weather Bureau's forecasting section in 1924 after graduation from Princeton.

Dr. Willett said 1957 definitely has been "an abnormal year weatherwise with heavy rains and tornadoes in the Southwest and very dry weather prevalent in the Middle Atlantic areas.

"As a matter of fact, this summer has been the driest on record from Rhode Island to Washington, D. C.

"There is no reason to expect the same conditions in the same areas next year," he continued. "As I said, weather is variable."

Scientists at Harvard View Satellites

Sight Sputnik and Rocket

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Satellite Sputnik and the third stage Soviet rocket were sighted hurtling across the sky this morning by a moonwatch team on the roof of the Harvard Observatory.

The rocket was sighted first at 5:18 a.m. EST, three minutes earlier than scheduled. Sputnik, much smaller and visible to the naked eye, followed just about a minute later.

Both satellites were sighted by a half dozen observers on a crisp, clear morning with temperatures only a few degrees above freezing.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Armand Spitz, coordinator of U. S. satellite observation for the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, one of the few observers to see the satellite itself with the naked eye, characterized it as a white object.

BLUE-WHITE

Fred Berra of Boston, one of the moonwatchers, said the rocket through his telescope appeared to have a blue-white appearance as it streaked across the skies.

Paul Valle of Boston described it as yellow-white.

Prof. Menzell said he was surprised by the apparently terrific speed of the rocket as it appeared to the naked eye.

Observers noted that the rocket appeared to become brighter and then grow faint evidently due to its changing position as it hurtled across the sky.

When the rocket was sideways to the observers it appeared as a star in the gray light of dawn.

Dr. Spitz said the third stage rocket appeared to be as bright as a star of 2½ magnitude whereas the satellite was about of the third magnitude or fainter. By contrast the North Star just to the left of the objects seen in the sky today is of the 2nd magnitude.

Sputnik, reportedly expecting a big brother to join it in its spin, begins its second week in space without any signs that it will soon drop out of the heavens.

More Than 100 Thousand Cheering 2 State Teams

The Spartans of Duffy Daugherty, No. 2 in the nation, are favored by a touchdown over Bennie Oosterbaan's sixth-ranked Wolverines.

The weather was flawless for football as fans began pouring into this gridiron capital this morning.

The skies were clear and there was a little nippiness in the air. The temperature is expected to be around 60 by the 1:30 p.m., EST, kickoff.

Myers was stricken yesterday with a heavy cold, but Oosterbaan said he probably would be able to play.

The Spartans arrived here yesterday from East Lansing and drilled lightly in Michigan stadium. Then they continued on to Ypsilanti for the night. Michigan held a brief workout on its regular practice field.

Pep rallies were held on both campuses last night. State's rally was tape recorded and was to be played for the Spartan team prior to the game.

★ ★ ★

Campus hijinks were prevalent last night. Several Michigan students invaded East Lansing with buckets of maize and blue paint but were arrested.

Brando Weds Indian Actress

Surprise Rite Unites Top Filmdom Bachelor and Anna Kashfi

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An exotic Indian actress honeymooned today with Marlon Brando after an East-West wedding that almost followed the script of the actor's latest movie.

Anna Kashfi, a 23-year-old beauty, thus became the envy of much of the world's feminine population as she snared Hollywood's most eligible and sought-after bachelor.

It also was the first marriage for the actress, whose home in Darjeeling, India, is at the foot of Mt. Everest and the rest of the massive Himalayas.

Brando, 33, first met his bride when she came over here in 1955 to portray a Korean schoolteacher in the movie "Battle Hymn." The two dated occasionally but became serious only within the last six months.

Ruling Monday Could Bar Hoffa From Throne

Federal Judge States He's Studying New York Petition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal District Judge F. Dickinson Letts says he will rule Monday on a move to bar James R. Hoffa from taking over the helm of the Teamsters Union.

Letts yesterday took under advisement a request by a rank-and-file Teamsters group from New York that he issue a temporary restraining order to prevent Hoffa from stepping into the union presidency.

Dave Beck, who did not seek re-election as Teamsters president, said in New York yesterday he is ready to resign, perhaps next Tuesday, to permit Hoffa to move in as head of the union.

Both men have been accused by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee of misusing Teamsters funds and of abusing their union powers.

★ ★ ★

The Teamsters Union is threatened with possible ouster from the AFL-CIO because of corruption charges against Beck, Hoffa and other Teamsters chiefs.

★ ★ ★

The complaining Teamsters members contend Hoffa was chosen by delegates largely handpicked to rig his election. They charge many delegates were picked in violation of the union's constitution.

Beck acknowledged that at least one election requirement under the union's constitution was knowingly disregarded. But he said there was nothing wrong with this action.

The member group seeks not only to set aside the convention election results, but to get the court to appoint a caretaker for the union pending selection of new delegates and another convention.

Elizabeth and Prince Flying Over Atlantic to Visit Canada, U.S.

LONDON (INS)—Queen Elizabeth II and her handsome consort, Prince Philip, flew across the Atlantic today for an eagerly awaited royal tour of Canada and the United States.

An early morning mist hugged the ground around London Airport, but blue skies were overhead as the American-built DC7C carrying the royal party took off at 7:08 a. m. (2:08 a. m. EST).

Her royal highness was due to land in Ottawa about 2:40 p.m. (EST).

The petite Queen and the dashing prince arrived at the airport five minutes ahead of departure time for the state visit to Canada which will be followed by five days in the U.S.

Elizabeth wore a fitted coat of slate blue with a matching frock and a small blue velvet hat for the 12-hour-plus flight to the new world countries which once were British colonies.

CARRIES ROSES

She carried two red roses she had brought from Buckingham Palace, where she bade farewell to daughter Princess Anne. Young Prince Charles is away at boarding school.

Outside the palace, a small crowd of spectators, including American tourists, cheered as the Queen and Philip drove away toward the airport.

At the field, the royal couple spent a few minutes in a special waiting room greeting officials before walking along a red carpet to the gleaming silver and blue airliner.

The royal couple last visited Canada and the U. S. in 1951 when she was still Princess Elizabeth. Since her coronation in 1953, both the Queen and Philip have visited many far-flung capitals of British colonies and the commonwealth.

Ottawa Festive for Royal Pair

Capital City of Canada Jammed, Festooned for Visit of Queen, Philip

★ ★ ★

"All dolled up for the Queen," said the Ottawa Citizen in an eight-column headline nearly two inches high.

The city's largest hotel, the Chateau Laurier with its fairy-book spires and 560 rooms, was chock-a-block. Its only real competitor, the Lord Elgin, was also turning them away from its 300 rooms.

To people like roly-poly Gus Bernard, manager and bell boy of the 50-room Canada Hotel, it strained civic pride.

"All those people," he said. "Maybe 200,000 of them. Almost as much as our population."

There was no shortage of gaiety. Nature set the pace with gorgeous russet and gold touches to the abundant Canadian foliage. The city fathers draped 1,000 lamp posts along the 58 miles of royal travel with blue and gold standards reading "E II R," Canadian ensigns and red bunting.

'Pontiac General — Powerful Engine Without Streamli ned Body'

Hospital Director Cites Need for New Wing

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Pontiac General Hospital could well be compared to a high-powered automobile engine without the streamlined body to enable the motor to show its stuff.

The components of the engine are there — a staff called "a splendid organization in terms of professional and technical skills." But the body — the $4,000,000 addition — is standing almost idle leaving its staff chugging ahead in a Model T-type framework.

VIEWS HOSPITAL

In essence, this is how Carl I. Flath looked at the city hospital a month after he took over the reins as director.

He placed the completion of the new hospital wing as number one on the list of objectives. "Nothing else can happen . . . until the expanded unit is in operation," stressed the veteran hospital authority.

Flath, who took over the $18,500 per year job, Sept. 15, heaped high praise upon the medical, nursing, and house staff. But he was quick to point out that they are under several handicaps.

★ ★ ★

"Pontiac General Hospital is a splendid organization in terms of the professional and technical skills of its major personnel components, and the basic goodness and dedication of all of its employes.

INADEQUATE PLANT

"This asset is not being given an altogether fair opportunity to express itself due to a terribly inadequate physical plant, serious over-crowding and a somewhat apathetic climate of community acceptance."

Property owners in Pontiac will be asked Oct. 28 to approve a $950,000 general obligation bond issue to secure funds to furnish and equip the 200-bed wing.

INSTALLS NEW LOOK

Flath is attempting to install a "new look" at Pontiac General by developing "a climate and environment of mutual understanding" among its 616 employes. "It was glaringly apparent this was lacking when I took over," he said.

The new director entered the hospital management field back in 1936 and has been in the business in either planning, directing, or surveying hospitals ever since.

He called for the support of the hospital by all citizens of the Pontiac area. "The best in organized care of the sick through the instrument of hospitals can come about only in an environment of respectful public confidence and support of its hospitals," Flath declared.

"With Pontiac General Hospital, it seems to me, there has been some breakdown in community-hospital communication arising mainly from ineffective interpretation by the hospital of its true role and how it is filling it.

TWO-WAY STREET

"Yet it is to be remembered that this matter of hospital-community relations is a two-way street, and there must be sympathetic understanding towards hospitals on the part of the public

Weird Shooting Riddle Deepens

Detectives Find Body of Wounded Woman's Cat Beaten to Death

The mystery surrounding the shooting of a Highland Township woman Wednesday night, deepened today with the discovery of her pet cat, Elizabeth, apparently beaten to death.

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives discovered the cat today, but said it appeared to have been dead since Thursday, the day after the shooting.

The cat belonged to Mrs. June Lebel, 59, of 1001 Hickory Ridge Rd., who was shot in the mouth as she peered through a front window after hearing a knock on the door.

Mrs. Lebel, who is in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital, said she saw the cat alive Wednesday.

A post mortem will be conducted on the animal today to determine the cause of death and to try and fix the time more closely.

Meantime the investigation turned to neighboring youngsters. According to Det. Leo Hazen, Mrs. Lebel often employed boys to cut her lawn and do other chores around her home. Sometimes, Hazen quoted neighbors, she refused to pay them.

The officers searched yesterday for youngsters with pellet guns or .22 caliber rifles. They theorize that an angry youngster might have shot at Mrs. Lebel and killed the cat in an effort to frighten her. However the search turned up nothing.

Gunman Terrorizes Crowd in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A gunman terrorized civil service employes, newsmen and police for an hour and a quarter in the Customs House yesterday — until a daring police captain threw paper in his face and captured him.

The man, Ervin Baringer, 43, a former civil service employe, walked into a fifth floor office and announced he'd call a news conference to air his grievances.

Then, at gunpoint, he proceeded to do just that until . . .

Is it true that people feel better when the wind is out of the northwest?

Yes, as a general rule — which has its exceptions — this weather folklore is correct. Benjamin Franklin even detected the good effects of a northwest wind and wrote that the best time to do business with a man was when the wind was out of the northwest.

This is true because usually our high-pressure clear weather systems come from the northwest. This high pressure gives one a feeling of mild exhilaration and a cheerful mood is more likely to be encountered by a salesman during such weather than when the barometer is low.

So, in a general sense, a northwest wind is a sign of cheerfulness and "business" weather.

Still Possibility of Getting X-Way for Pontiac Area, Says Higgins

There is still "a good possibility" that a north-south expressway may be built through Pontiac and Oakland County, George N. Higgins, member of the state highway advisory board, said today.

Higgins was optimistic that such an expressway may be designated by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie in his five-year plans for Wayne County highways next month.

Higgins said he would "press to have Pontiac-Oakland County highway needs fulfilled" in the new highway administration's five-year plan.

"Oakland County was shortchanged on highways for years by the former highway administration. I will try very hard to see the county gets a fair share now," said Higgins.

Higgins, a former state senator, said he would meet Monday with the Oakland County Road Commission to review plans to meet the county's road needs.

He said he may also attend a meeting Wednesday in Lansing, at which Mackie and Pontiac representatives will confer on the city's expressway needs.

Pontiac and Royal Oak were the only Michigan cities of more than 50,000 population that were not promised an expressway in Mackie's five-year plan for outstate Michigan two weeks ago.

The Lansing meeting was called as a result of this. But Higgins cautioned critics of Mackie "to have patience," since he believed an Oakland County highway would be included in the Detroit plans.

Higgins, appointed to his advisory post a month ago, has been chairman for several years of the Michigan Turnpike Authority. In the latter role, he conferred with Mackie this week, he said.

"At that meeting, Mackie told me that his engineers had approved the turnpike's route from Pontiac east of US10 to Flint as the route of a new, toll free, interstate expressway," Higgins said.

This approval, Higgins added, did not rule out building the road as a toll road if state funds are not available.

What the expressway route would be south of Pontiac is still undecided, Higgins said. He believed Mackie prefers a route east of US10 (Woodward avenue), possibly connecting at Eight Mile road with the proposed Hastings-Oakland Expressway in Detroit.

Higgins said he was "almost certain" that next month Mackie will announce plans to push Southfield road as an expressway north to Northwestern Highway.

"But I doubt very much if Southfield will be extended north through Oakland County to the west side of Pontiac, as once announced by Mr. Ziegler (the former highway commissioner)."

The proposed turnpike's route south of Pontiac also lies in this area. Higgins said he was "unprepared to say" whether the proposed Pontiac expressway would follow this portion of the turnpike route, if a route east of US10 is not found.

Higgins said that hopes for a turnpike are not dead, if Mackie decides not to build the north-south expressway.

"I sent a map of the commissioner's five-year plan to our bonding company in New York, where it is being studied right now to see if a toll road is financially feasible.

"The five-year plan may help the toll road, since the bonding company will be guaranteed just what competing free highways will be built in the next five or six years."

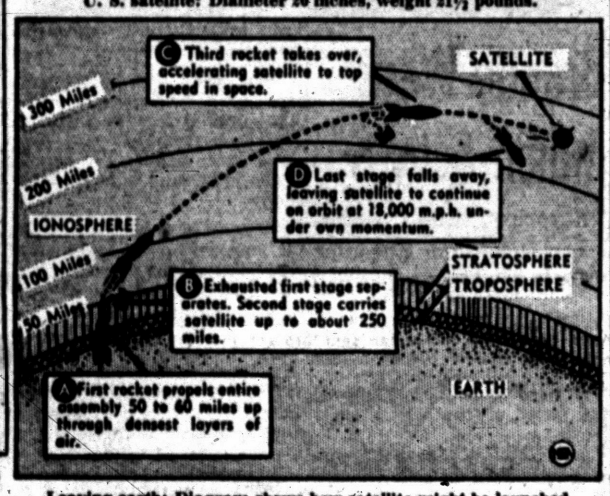

It was Ziegler's threat to build a competing, free expressway along Southfield that killed the turnpike's financial hopes 15 months ago.

Dislike Buying Things 'On Time'

Housewives Explode Ancient Axioms

WASHINGTON (INS) — American housewives exploded two axioms today—they do not like to buy things "on time" and they do not handle the family income.

A strong majority of more than 100 homemakers attending a Congress on Better Living denounced installment buying as "deceptive debt" but one-third admitted they have to use it.

BOTH DECIDE

Of 97 who handed in a questionnaire at the end of the three-day session, 84 said that all decisions about major household purchases are made jointly by husband and wife.

Only 11 of the women solved the household buying questions alone, and two left such matters entirely up to their husbands.

The delegates to the conference, sponsored by McCalls magazine, went on record against venetian blinds, matched sets of furniture and dishes, phony sales and refrigerators that last too long.

They prefer traditional materials to the new synthetics, upright vacuum cleaners, round dining tables with pedestal legs, firm mattresses, soft pillows and electric appliances.

They would like longer sheets and blankets, built-in kitchen ovens, appliances easier to clean, old-fashioned kitchen pantries and sales clerks who know more about the merchandise.

A group discussion leader, Mrs. Mary Ihinger of Tokepa, Kans., summed up the opinions of the housewives. She said they want their home to be "casual, informal and simple without what they call the folderol."

The homemakers took great stock in their appliances. With an average of seven each, they said the appliances had elevated them "to executive positions from the ranks of day laborers."

They were not without criticism, however—electric toasters are "too crumby," for example, and manufacturers should supply information on how to make the best use of them.

The automatic washer won hands down as the most prized appliance although one delegate held out for an electric popcorn popper which she had owned since childhood.

Knowland Drinks Coffee With Ike

WASHINGTON, (INS) — President Eisenhower and Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland held a secret White House conference today on the nation's missile program.

Knowland acknowledged that missiles were discussed during a breakfast meeting with Eisenhower but he declined to specify the details of the discussion.

He also refused to say whether there was any mention of the necessity of speeding up the U. S. rocket and satellite programs in light of the successful launching of Sputnik by the Soviet Union.

The Californian told newsmen, however, that he sees "no likelihood" that a special session of Congress will be called to re-evaluate America's defenses as a result of the Russian achievement.

Knowland said the White House meeting was one of the "customary breakfasts" he has with the President whenever possible and that the agenda included "domestic and foreign problems" which have arisen since Congress adjourned.

Asked if the Little Rock integration crisis had been a topic in his talk with the President, he said merely: "Our talk covered everything since Congress has adjourned."

What'll We Do When We Get to the Moon?

ROME (INS)—In another article in L'Osservatore Romano this week, Catholic writer Nicola Russconi said:

"Now we shall go to the moon . . . when we reach the satellite, what shall we do?

"Shall we start a really new civilization — without power stations, railways and skyscrapers? If we do in the moon what we have been doing so far on earth, it would not be worth moving. Better to stay at home, harming our eyesight by watching television and so forth. . .

"Let us hope the problems which one day will worry the colonists may be different from ours . . . problems also will arise on the moon but let us hope that, for instance, they will not be in the nature of labor salaries and the like."

★ ★ ★

He concluded:

"Those who are working on missiles and satellites for traveling to the moon should guarantee us, as organizers of summer cruises do, that when we leave earth we shall not complain for having left her.

"On the moon we must find what we vainly have sought on earth with the powerful aid of progress, namely, something spiritual that our souls and fantasy long for but no one, so far, has seen in reality."

GOOD WEATHER

Favorable flying weather with broken clouds was forecast for the Atlantic crossing. Conditions in Ottawa were expected to be good when the plane arrived.

Ships and planes along the Atlantic route have been alerted of the royal plane's flight as a safety measure. The Royal Air Force escorted the DC7C to a point 250 miles west of Iceland, where a Canadian air-sea rescue plane equipped with survival gear was to take over the shepherding role.

British newspapers bade goodbye to the Queen and Philip with ringing editorials wishing them "Godspeed" and stressing the necessity of "strengthening the bonds among" the commonwealth nation of Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

Britain's poet laureate, John Masefield, composed a warm and emotional two-verse poem dedicated to the tour. He titled it "On Our Sovereign Lady's Western Journey."

★ ★ ★

Departure eve was turned over to a small farewell party at Buckingham Palace to eliminate the need for an early morning ceremonial send-off at the airfield.

FAMILY FAREWELL

Elizabeth and Philip were joined by the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family for the farewells.

★ ★ ★

Among the guests were Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney and Canadian High Commissioner George Drew.

Whitney departed by plane for New York to be on hand to help prepare for the Queen's arrival in the U. S. after her four-day visit to Canada.

Palace officials took the pains to deny a rumor that Elizabeth had visited Prince Charles at the Cheam boarding school during the afternoon to say goodby to the young heir to the throne.

Britain's newspapers went to the hilt in playing news and picture stories about Canada and the U. S. and the Queen's visit. But rumors — that she would discuss the possibility of Princess Margaret visiting the U. S. and the Queen Mother becoming the next governor general of Canada — drew frowns from palace officials.

They said it was unlikely she would use her state visit for such purposes, which would be more properly conducted through "usual channels."

Paratroopers guarded an empty school building while elsewhere in the city 85 churches held special prayer services for a solution to the racial controversy.

The third week of integrated classes at Central ended yesterday. As they have since President Eisenhower ordered soldiers to Little Rock to stamp out mob resistance to a federal court desegregation order, nine Negro students entered and left the previously all-white school under protection of the Army's 101st Airborne Division and federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen.

The week at Central passed without incident.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus remained at the mansion for the third straight day yesterday, recovering from an attack of influenza.

He said the federal government would have to spend 24 million dollars in National Guard pay to keep troops at the school until the end of the school year next May—and he added that he expected the troops to remain that long.

"It's his (Eisenhower's) responsibility," Faubus said. "He got himself into this mess. Let him get himself out."

Declares Hospital Needs Addition

together with a willingness by the public to serve, and provide for its hospitals necessary support to keep them abreast of medical progress and community growth.

"Unless this kind of flow of mutual interest goes in two directions, from the hospital to the community and the community to hospitals, they are unable to perform in the public interest with maximum effectiveness."

Taking a look at the overall Pontiac area hospital facilties, Flath observed they were "long on quality but alarmingly short in quantity."

FEARS CATASTROPHE

"Under these conditions a relatively minor disaster or epidemic could easily become a major community catastrophe," the director mentioned.

He cited a present limitation at the city hospital of persons having to wait as long as two months for an operation.

Still looking to the future, Flath stressed the need for the care of the mentally ill and the possibility of establishing a hospital authority in this area.

"I am developing a strong suspicion that the long range solution to providing hospital facilities within the city of Pontiac to serve the burgeoning populations on its periphery, is the creation of a hospital authority.

"This might be of the same sort through which areas served could share proportionately and fairly in capital and other costs," Flath stated.

Fire Department Heads Plan Mutual Aid Talks

BIRMINGHAM — Scheduling a discussion of mutual aid, Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township, Cranbrook and Troy fire department heads will meet next Thursday.

Bloomfield Hills director of public safety, Robert J. Stadler, said lists of heavy equipment available from each department would be posted in other fire halls, so that each would be fully informed on what service is on call.

Stadler, in explaining details of the plan to Hills commissioners, said the aid program goes beyond fire fighting. Equipment such as tractors, bull dozers and other machinery of value in the event of a natural or man-made disaster will also be listed.

At the meeting of department heads, details of the most expedient method of moving into each other's area will be discussed. Routes, most urgently needed equipment and the men needed to operate it will be worked out.

To keep abreast of developments, the four departments will continue with monthly meetings attended by two representatives from each community.

The construction of an annex for the Birmingham post office has been approved by Congressman William Broomfield, according to Roland Reese, postmaster.

Reese said the present office is inadequate to handle the volume of mail being processed daily and in heavy-load seasons, such as Christmas, it is forced to obtain additional space.

He said an additional 5-6,000 square feet of space is needed for efficient, swift operation. Larger parking space also is in demand.

The second in a series of three adult Bible classes will be held at the First Presbyterian Church at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Nursery care will be provided for children from 2-4 years.

It also has been announced that the meetings of the congregation and Corporation of the Church have been called for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 16. Elders, deacons, deaconnesses and trustees will be elected to take office on Jan. 5, 1958, and the annual budget approved.

Mrs. Joseph C. Molin

Rosary service for Mrs. Joseph C. Molin, 54, of 3100 Wellington Ct., Green Lake, will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. The Requiem Mass will be at 11 a.m. Monday from Our Lady of Refuge Church at Orchard Lake.

The former Elsie Marie Dreher of Detroit, Mrs. Molin died at her home Friday, after a prolonged illness. She had been a Green Lake resident for five years, moving there from Grosse Pointe.

She was a member of Our Lady of Refuge Church and the Women's Association of the Green Lake club.

Says Bible-Reader Swindled $26,200

DETROIT (AP) — "I didn't think anyone who knew so much about the Bible could be so bad."

That's what Mrs. Nellie Horkenbach, a 63-year-old Detroit widow, told police when she asked them to try to recover her $26,700 savings.

Recorder's (criminal) Court issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Robert A. Martin, 24, on a charge of larceny by trickery.

Detective Joseph Wallrad said Mrs. Horkenbach told him she and Martin frequently read the Bible together when he lived in a room in her home. She said he occasionally would go into a trance.

She said she withdrew $26,700 from two banks after he suggested it in a trance.

"We were going to start a church together" she said.

She said she put the money in a paper bag at his suggestion and the bag was switched with another paper bag. Martin, she said, took the bag containing the money.

2 Killed, 3 Injured in Crossing Accident

the car off the embankment, set it flipping over and over through the air to where it landed, demolished, but right side up.

Although the two doors of the car were flung open, Enners said, no one was pitched out.

The boy, whose skull was crushed and neck broken, was in the back seat with two of his sisters. The other sister sat in front, next to Mrs. Smith in the driver's seat.

Donna and Linda Lee were screaming and the others were unconscious when help arrived, Enners said.

One of the first persons at the scene was the children's father, Julius A. Smith, 32, a maintenance worker for the Village of Lake Orion. Deputies had to restrain him from helping remove the victims from the mangled car.

Later, at St. Joseph Hospital, Smith had to be given a sedative after learning that his boy was dead. When the news came that his youngest child had also died, Smith was taken from the public waiting room to a semi-private room because of his state of near collapse.

"THE CAR WOULDN'T MOVE"

Donna was able to shed a little light on the accident. Before taken to her hospital room she told her father:

"I told Mommy to back up, she couldn't start the car and back up. She was trying to, but the car wouldn't move."

Deputies theorized from this that Mrs. Smith may have noticed the train at the last moment, jammed on her brakes, but stalled her motor after the car already was on the tracks.

Smith said his wife usually took all the family's four children along, to baby-sit with the younger ones while Linda Lee took her weekly lesson.

The maintenance man had learned of the accident almost as soon as it happened. It had been broadcast over the police radio on the same frequency as used by the Lake Orion maintenance department to keep in touch with its employes.

Smith and some fellow workers drove to the scene in a department truck, arriving there a few seconds before deputies and the ambulance.

The piano teacher, Mrs. Albert Beraud, did not hear the collision and knew nothing of it until one of the train crew came to her house to use the phone to summon aid.

Although the crossing of the single-spur track is unmarked, deputies said that the few trees in the area are not sufficient to block vision of an approaching train.

Originally from Derby, New York, the Smiths have lived in Lake Orion 15 years. In January, they moved to their present address from 500 Conklin St.

Dody Is Television's Newest Dumb Dame

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"What's your I.Q.?" I asked Dody Goodman, TV's newest dumb dame.

Dody was obviously puzzled. "I guess I never had any," she said.

"Well, then, what were your favorite subjects in school?"

"None of the subjects were very favorite with me," Dody said.

WILSON

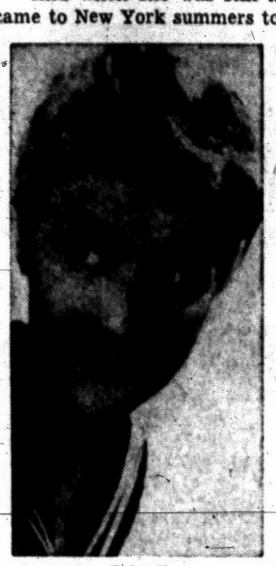

"What did you major in in high school?"

"I can't remember. I guess it was . . . no, I don't know."

Dumb dames are sure-fire on TV, just as they've always been in show business, and Dody's proving on Jack Paar's show—as Gracie Allen and Dagmar proved before her—that it's pretty smart to act stupid.

But Dody's far from dumb. When she was dancing in "High Button Shoes" in Chicago in 1949, she rode the bus out to Northwestern in Evanston to study acting and public speaking.

And when she was still in high school in Columbus, she came to New York summers to study dancing at the American Ballet School and at the Met.

DODY

★ ★ ★

"Do you get many proposals?"

"Well, I got one. From a little boy about 17."

Dody's learned lots of comedy from Jack Paar, but she puzzles him sometimes. He gave her some jokes to do and she didn't use them.

★ ★ ★

"They're so good, I should have kept them for myself," he said. "You didn't lose them, did you? Why didn't you do them?"

"They told me not to," Dody replied, looking down at the floor.

"Who's 'they'?" asked Jack.

"Just they. You know — them! Dody waved vaguely.

"Have you ever been tempted to get married?" I asked Doty.

Other girls would say they jilted several guys, but Dody said, "Yes, but it always just fell through with."

"And if you were choosing a husband . . . ?"

"I don't know whose I would choose," Dody said.

★ ★ ★

One night Dody, quite independently, announced a limerick contest of her own on the program. The mail was so heavy, they called it off.

Thor Missile Performs Well

Unofficial Reports Say Rocket Flew Beyond Intended Range

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — A rocket launch, apparently the second successful firing of the Thor, may have been a test of the so-called "intermediate" missile's actual range.

Unofficial reports in Washington said the Thor flew several hundred miles beyond the designated 1,500-mile scope of the intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM) yesterday.

It couldn't be determined whether the missile's flight represented any progress toward rocketry that enabled the Russians to send satellite Sputnik hurtling around the world.

Sentiment mounted, however, from lawmakers for efforts to unify U.S. efforts toward matching or topping Soviet achievements in plumbing space.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), a member of the Armed Services Committee, suggested appointment of a czar to guide this nation's missile program. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said he was asking Congress to investigate the possibilities of unified control. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) joined with senators calling for an inquiry into why Russia was able to launch an earth satellite ahead of this country.

At the closely-guarded Cape Canaveral missile test center there wasn't even confirmation that an Air Force Thor had been fired. Defense Department regulations limit local announcements to bare statements that a missile was fired.

A second missile, launched during the afternoon, was believed to be a Snark. That is a guided missile which already has been developed to a point that enables its operational use.

The Snark was designed for top speed of 600 miles an hour and maximum range of 5,000 miles. The Thor is believed to be able to reach more than 5,000 miles an hour speed within minutes.

Decide on Cancellation of Movie Stars' Tour

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A proposed nationwide tour of movie stars to hail Hollywood's golden jubilee has been canceled.

The 17-city junket was called off yesterday by the Motion Picture Assn. because, a spokesman said, not enough stars signed up for it.

Dog to Travel Around Earth in Next Satellite

COPENHAGEN (AP) — A dog will circle the earth in the next Soviet satellite, three top Russian rocket experts say.

Lt. Gen. A. A. Blagonravov and Professors S. M. Poloskov and A. M. Kasatkin made the comment as they passed through Copenhagen yesterday on the way home from an international meeting in Washington on space problems.

Blagonravov said radio messages will report to ground observers on the dog's condition. He said his own dog was sent up more than 62 miles in a rocket some years ago.

"The trip lasted about 20 minutes and the dog was all right afterwards," he said.

Tycoon's Daughter Put Up for Adoption

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Millionaire theater owner Eugene Emmick put his own daughter up for adoption because he thought he was too old to have a child around the house, says an attorney.

L. S. Hamm, attorney for executors of Emmick's 3 million dollar estate, said the girl, now 15, is Marilyn Wilson, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Culver City, Calif.

Emmick died in 1956 at 78. The girl's mother, who was 25 years younger than Emmick, since has remarried. Emmick's will, which is being contested by his nieces and nephews, names the girl as beneficiary to about $175,000 or 17 per cent of a trust fund, Hamm said.

Superior Judge Edmund Scott will give his decision later.

Accused Boy to Attend Burial of Slain Father

SPRINGFIELD, Colo. (AP)—Eleven-year-old Earl Wear will attend funeral services tomorrow for the man he is accused of murdering, Leonard Wear, his father.

Dist. Judge George McLachlan of Baca County yesterday gave the boy permission to attend the services at Pritchett.

Authorities said the boy has admitted shooting his 47-year-old father early Wednesday morning because of the father's insistence that he quit a farm job and attend school. Wear, the father of 12 children, was slain as he lay sleeping in the family's two-room home near Pritchett.

No Israel currency of any amount whatsoever may be brought into or taken out of the country.

7 Men, 5 Women Chosen to Try Scott

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven men and five women have been chosen as a jury to try L. Ewing Scott on a charge of murdering his missing wife, Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott.

Prosecution and defense agreed on a jury yesterday after Superior Judge Clement D. Nye announced he would keep the court in session until they reached accord. Jury selection started last Monday.

6 Die as Plane Explodes

Says Rules Scared Student to Death

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—A coroner's court has been told an Indian student was so frightened by the strict rules of his college that he killed himself.

★ ★ ★

David Ronojut Vaspaik, 20, son of the postmaster general of Punjab, was found dead in his room after only four days at Christ's College, one of the subdivisions of Cambridge University.

The coroner returned a verdict yesterday of suicide while of disturbed mind.

Fellow students said Vaspaik worried over such rules as no smoking in the street and wearing of academic gowns after dark. The senior tutor of the college, Dr. Lucan Pratt, said Vaspaik "repeated over and over again that he felt out of place."

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1957

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEMBER OF THE

It Seems to Me . . .

'58 Pontiacs Are Greatest Yet

I've seen those 1958 Pontiacs.

Are they tremendous!

Are they sensational!

General Manager S. E. KNUDSEN and his all-star troopers have really gone to town. They've put their hearts in this job, plus their talents.

KNUDSEN

It doesn't matter whether you look at the Chieftain, the Star Chief, the Super Chief or the Bonneville. They simply drip class. Never have I been as enthusiastic over popular acceptance across the country as I am at this moment.

★ ★ ★

The Top Brass has been touring the U.S. and Bob Emerick says the dealers went wild. This includes the new group, and moderately experienced group and the hard bitten "show me" division which regards every innovation with suspicion.

No group sat on its hands.

These new '58's are the top cars the division has ever produced in all its long and honorable history. Don't take anyone's word for it. Insist on a personal look-see.

★ ★ ★

Of course, a large part of the story lies in mechanical performance which I haven't had the chance to experience, and its in performance that the entire Pontiac staff takes off all the wraps and really carries the mail. This car has the greatest motor Pontiac ever produced and Pontiac has always had a great motor at every stage of the game. The original Pontiac engine was the six-cylindered masterpiece of the industry for a span of several years.

★ ★ ★

Today's Pontiac whips everything in sight in running ability. That Bonneville will go so fast you don't dare let anyone without an Indianapolis Speedway certificate sit at the wheel on a stretch of open road.

The number of "firsts" on these 1958 sweethearts is so great I shan't set them down. Go and see for yourself. The youth and fire of the Pontiac Motor Division is expressed in the looks and actions.

★ ★ ★

Everyone dependent on employment and progress for his prosperity can regard the 1958 offerings as the biggest step forward in many a year.

★ ★ ★

The City of Pontiac and the Pontiac Motor Division can't control the total automotive sales in the next 12 months. But this outfit is going to get its full share of whatever business there is.

We can't control the national output, but we should prosper beyond most places.

These new cars are the real McCoy.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Notes from an Ann Arbor weekend: BILL REVELLI, the nation's greatest band leader, says he'll never O.K. girls for the Michigan marching band. Incidentally, he spoke very warmly of our own DALE HARRIS, a champion in his own right . . . . . FRITZ CRISLER told me Michigan may have feminine cheer leaders in the near future . . . . . Lieut. Gov. PHIL HART confessed he was a little annoyed at our editorial chiding him on his "bicycle economy move" but he took it home and wife JANE chuckled all the way through it, disarming him completely. PHIL made a logical and convincing talk to Michigan editors.

Purely personal nomination for one of Pontiac's most affable citizens: Bill Ewart . . . . . Howard V. (Victualer) Heldenbrand has organized a swim class for middle-aged males. His neophytic aquatiles foregather twice a week at the "Y" pool . . . . . Why do I think most feminine golf professionals are some sort of misfits?

Overheard at the Orchard Lake Country club: "The brain starts working the moment you get up and doesn't stop until you reach the office" . . . . . If you asked me to name the 10 best looking women in Michigan, Mrs. PHIL MONAGHAN would be on the list . . . . . Not many know it, but our own JOHN RILEY was one of Michigan's most celebrated and talented band leaders.

Department of Tremendous Trifles: Champion Carmen Basilio's auto license is KO-1 . . . . . William B. Hartman and Dr. Donald F. Hoyt have long ranked as two of the top bridge players in this area. The late Sammy Hyams was in the same category . . . . . What became of the mass mosquito movement in 1957? And hay fever season?

The People's Business:

Changes Needed

Say State Aid to Schools Must Be Overhauled

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Talk is being heard in Lansing of some far reaching changes in the present system of state aid to public grade and high schools.

But Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), a member of a legislative study group which is weighing the suggestions, looks for no drastic action by the 1958 legislature.

Hutchinson believes that if the state is going to chart a radically different course the tack will have to be set by a new legislature elected next year—or perhaps in 1960.

"You might even have to have a candidate for governor build a campaign largely on a new approach to education support," Hutchinson said.

In that way, he said, it would become clear whether there was real public support for tackling the problem according to specific new lights.

Here are some samples of the sort of suggestions that have come so far to the joint interim committee to study public education and the school aid formula:

1—Hold down on pressure for vastly increased public expenditures for schools by utilizing existing facilities the year around, instead of for nine or 10 month school sessions.

2—Satisfy the money demand by adopting a state income tax on individuals.

3—Gear the state aid formula to a teacher-classroom unit, after the Ohio pattern, rather than to pupil enrollment.

4—Cut out the so-called special aids as separate entities—like allowances for handicapped children, pupil transportation, adult education, etc.—and bulk these monies into a lump sum school district allowance.

5—Open up new avenues of local taxing power so that each district can better meet its individual revenue problem. A property transactions tax was mentioned as a possibility in this area.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Faith strengthened Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and seven men adrift 23 days in the South Pacific in 1942. Escaping on rubber rafts from their crashed plane, they trapped rain water, caught fish and a gull, and prayed. "We did not neglect anything that might help us help ourselves," he relates, but each morning and evening the rafts were gathered together for prayers. "We found one that bespoke our needs: 'Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? . . . Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things will be added onto you.'"

Days of All Faiths:

Observe 'Men and Missions Day'

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Even the most detached observer of the religious scene in these times must be aware that laymen are more interested and more active in their churches than men have been for many years, perhaps even since the early days of the Reformation. This unexplained but happy circumstance seems to be true in all churches and in all parts of the world.

Men and Missions Day, sponsored by United Church Men, is an evidence and a result of this growing interest. It will be observed tomorrow by the men of most of the larger Protestant denominations.

The purpose of the day is to direct the men's interest into definite and practical projects designed to benefit the missionary programs of the denominations.

United Church Men, a department of the National Council of Churches, long ago learned that fine inspirational speeches are pleasant but unproductive. Men and Missions Day is not celebrated by bringing the men in to listen to the eloquence of experts. The local program for the day is in the hands of the men themselves.

In the weeks leading up to Men and Missions Day, each local group has conducted a survey of its own situation, to discover what its own church is doing about spreading the influence of Christianity both at home and abroad.

Then, as businessmen analyzing the problems of "the Lord's business," the laymen decide what they are going to do about their share of the responsibility.

The climax of the study comes tomorrow at a men's breakfast, when all men of the congregation hear the survey report and discuss the adoption of definite projects through which laymen may promote missions.

The threefold hope of United Church Men is that Men and Missions Day will increase the knowledge, broaden the vision, and stimulate the support of Christian missions among the men of all churches.

TWO JEWISH DAYS

Wednesday is Hoshana Rabba, which means literally "Great Salvation." The happy festival of Succoth is now coming to a close.

A procession will make seven circuits of the synagogue, reciting special prayers beginning with Hoshana, "Help, we pray thee." A cluster of five willow twigs is beaten until all the leaves fall off.

The symbolism in this ceremony is that as the trees lose their leaves and are renewed, so will God always give to man new life and hope.

Thursday, called Shemini Atzereth, there are two special features: memorial services for the dead, and prayers for rain to prepare the soil for the next growing season. The book of Ecclesiastes is read to remind the people of the transient character of human life. (COPYRIGHT 1957)

The Country Parson

"A man's life, like his handwriting, may be hard to make out — but still have great meaning."

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Handwriting Is No Proof of Parkinson's Disease

"Please explain how you diagnose paralysis agitans by mail. You said you tell by the handwriting . . . (Miss K. M. A.)"

DR. BRADY

Answer — I made some such crack, yes, but later, when I had accumulated a thick file of letters from persons with paralysis agitans (Parkinson's tremor, shaking palsy) I had to admit I was wrong. Many of them show the characteristic tremor in the handwriting, but some do not. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on shaking palsy.

In any case remember these two facts: Mentally or intellectually, one with Parkinson's tremor is generally a cut above the average. And keeping always busy doing things with the muscles is the best kind of life to lead—just sitting there freezing or stiffening is the worst. Try gardening, strolling, skating, knitting, playing an instrument, bowling on the green, golfing, tying flies, woodworking, painting, whether for pleasure, pastime or profit. Do something, have some activity to take up every moment of your spare time.

"I see your pamphlet Invitation to the Somersaultauqua is free. Kindly send me one. I am 71 and do not expect I'll be able to do them but I'd like to see how to roll somersaults. (S. H.)"

Answer—Gladly if you'll provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope. For one thing, rolling every morning gives one a clear understanding of the cost of postage and clerical time. I do not advise anybody to roll somersaults, I merely say I believe rolling them every morning staves off decrepitude.

"If a person, 30 years old, who has been a heavy smoker quits smoking, how long does it take to get the nicotine out of her system? (D. R.)"

Answer—It is only a surmise that nicotine gets into the system of a heavy smoker. Whatever the injurious element or elements in tobacco smoke may be, it or they are entirely destroyed or excreted or eliminated within 24 to 48 hours after the use of tobacco has been discontinued.

If damage has been done by such elements (say by the carbon monoxide in the smoke) it may be months before full recovery.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Tells of Help That's Given by Groups in United Fund

For the past year we've had grave sickness in our home. During this time the Pontiac Visiting Nurses have been very faithful in helping in every way they could. The American Cancer Society has furnished all the dressings we've needed and a hospital bed. All this has been a comfort.

Both these organizations receive help from the United Fund and we feel many people will be glad to know of this human service. I want to thank both organizations.

'Russians Must Be Having Good Laugh'

It must be rather humorous for the Russians to see all the commotion and hysteria their Sputnik has caused in this country. Everyone is accusing everyone else of being the cause of our delay, and other people want to have an investigation so we'll know where to place the blame. Besides the glory of launching the first satellite, the Reds are almost certainly having a good laugh.

I've discovered the City has made Wayne Street from Lawrence to Huron a one-way during the evening rush hour. It's just another case of going from bad to worse. I don't know where the traffic is supposed to be relieved by these one-way streets, but they sure have made a mess of Huron Street.

'What Should I Do About My Neighbor?'

Does anyone have any suggestions about what to do with a neighbor that won't keep up his yard and house? One family in our neighborhood is spoiling the looks of all our houses because they let the grass grow forever, never rake leaves or papers on the lawn and let the house go unpainted for years and years. And it's not because they can't afford to have it done. What can we do?

Fingerprint Rule Lifted; Exchanges Foreseen

WASHINGTON (INS)—Increased scientific and cultural exchanges between America and Russia are foreseen as a result of a waiver on the fingerprinting requirement for visitors to the United States.

The 15-year-old regulation, bitterly opposed by the Soviet Union and other nations, was rescinded by the State Department under authority granted in a law approved by President Eisenhower last month.

The revised rules are expected to remove Russia's strong objections to cultural and scientific exchanges. They have insisted that fingerprinting is a practice tainted by longtime association with police methods against criminals.

The issue has provoked continuous bitterness in all East-West talks since the 1955 "summit" meeting at Geneva.

The new regulations, which will become effective in the next few days after publication in the Federal Register, will affect approximately 500,000 visitors to the United States each year.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wives Add Much to Conventions

Notice Dr. Garrett's comment about the value of inviting wives to men's conventions. It applies in the sales field, as well as to medical and dental conventions. For wives are smart and often have a better idea of the typical consumer's attitude, than do the manufacturers themselves. Women are usually better psychologists than men, so admit them to your meetings.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-318: Dr. Steve Garrett, aged about 58, is the former president of his state dental society.

I was in Atlanta recently to address the annual Hinman Clinic of dentists from all over the Southeast and we lunched together afterwards.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Garrett, you certainly had a big crowd at my 11 o'clock meeting," I complimented him sincerely.

"Yes, they were even standing in the aisles," Dr. Garrett assented. "And this was the biggest turnout we have ever had in the 45 years of the Thomas P. Hinman Clinics."

"That is a splendid tribute to your publicity committee," I added.

"Yes, they have done a wonderful job," Dr. Garrett agreed. "But we have learned several new bits of strategy in recent years.

★ ★ ★

"As an example, we now stress the fact that wives are cordially invited to our convention. And we go out of our way to make their visit a happy one.

CONVENTION WIVES

"For we have learned that when a wife is not invited to a convention, she is not very enthusiastic about urging her husband to be present.

"On the other hand, if she is also included in the invitation, then she not only is more in favor of their attending, but will even prod his memory so he doesn't forget the date.

"Besides, when wives accompany their husbands to a convention, the men are not so likely to get into mischief.

"There will be far less drinking and carousing around. Thus the men get to the morning clinics on time and everything works out better.

"Dr. Crane, I presume the same thing is true of sales meetings and other business conventions, isn't it?"

BRING YOUR WIVES

Yes, indeed! And many far-sighted companies not only invite the wives of their salesmen nowadays, but go further than the mere planning of card parties or shopping excursions for those ladies.

Actually, a salesman's best manager is an understanding wife who cheers him on, instead of throwing ice water on his dejected spirits when he returns home from a fruitless day of calling on prospects.

A salesman needs a tremendous amount of enthusiasm and pep. And one good way to perk up a salesman who has gone stale from reciting the same sales story hundreds of times, is to give him a new approach.

If his wife has attended some of the actual sales meetings with her husband, she may then absorb ideas that he missed.

Besides, she always can inject the feminine viewpoint, which often is better than the manufacturer's ideas. For women can approach the product more nearly from the angle of the prospect or customer.

Consequently, a wife who has been in the actual sales meeting can offer her husband an occasional new slant which will perk up his zeal and zoom his success.

WOMEN ARE SMART

Sales managers of the past often clung to the old-fashioned idea that women were not as smart as men.

And when they reluctantly did invite the ladies to their conventions, they carefully shooed them

Instead, they planned card parties or shopping trips and tours of the city for the wives.

Some of that is still O.K., but smart sales managers now include the wives in a few actual sales meetings.

As a rule, women are naturally better psychologists than men, so it is very inefficient not to take advantage of their brains and clever sales ideas.

So send for my booklet, "The New Psychology of Advertising & Selling," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit). Many corporations use it for sales training purposes.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Work Day for Christ' Set by Church Youth

BOSTON (AP) — Young people of the Congregational Christian churches—150,000 of them—are getting set for their annual "Work day for Christ."

On Oct. 19, members of the denomination's youth group, Pilgrim Fellowship, spend the day doing odd jobs—baby sitting, picking fruit, scrubbing floors, cleaning attics, harvesting grain—with all their pay going to the church. Last year, they turned in nearly $50,000.

Confident Living

Each Person Has a Story; Study, Try to Understand

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Not long ago, I had a curious letter from a man complaining about his mother-in-law.

"You are always telling everybody to love people," he wrote. "I've tried that in connection with one person, but without success. I'm referring to my mother-in-law. She has come to live with us, and this is a problem for me. My wife sleeps late and I have to eat breakfast with my mother-in-law every morning. She comes down in a bathrobe and her hair isn't combed. I could stand that, maybe, but never in my life have I heard a person chew her toast the way she does. It is getting on my nerves. Now tell me how to handle this situation."

I know nothing about this particular problem of toast grinding from personal experience, but of course when we let some mannerism or eccentricity of another get on our nerves, it can mark the deterioration of personal relations. So I reasoned with this man about his problem, suggesting that he think creatively about it, as follows:

It's a great function in this world, being a mother-in-law, and most mothers-in-law I've known are wonderful women. But it is important to realize that a mother-in-law is first of all a woman, and a mother before she is a mother-in-law. In other words, she is a human being, and not merely to be regarded as your wife's mother.

So I said to this man, "Since your wife's mother is first a woman, quit treating her like a mother-in-law, and treat her like a woman. Try the psychology of the man-woman relationship on her. Invite her downtown for lunch some day. Take a couple of hours off and invite her to a nice place, one where they have music and an attractive atmosphere. Talk to her about herself. Get to know her and the things she is interested in.

EACH HAS PERSONALITY

Every human being has a story and is interesting as a personality if you approach a person with esteem. Then, ask your wife to stay home with the children some night and take your mother-in-law to a concert or to a show. Buy her a corsage. Treat her like a woman.

I will venture, if you do this, she will stop coming downstairs in that old bathrobe, but in a pretty housedress, with her hair nicely combed. She may even change her toast-eating habit; at least you will be no longer aware of it. And, after a while, you may even get to loving each other."

One of the great problems of human existence is to harmonize yourself with people. We must all learn the science of human relations and develop skill in personal adjustment. Being expert in your own human relations doesn't necessarily mean that you have to agree with everything everybody else says or does. Sometimes you may even have to oppose the other man's ideas or actions. You never oppose him as a person, however, only his ideas and what he does.

"But some people simply annoy me," you may say in exasperation. That is only because you let it be so. You can get along with anybody, even a person you think you can't stand.

I believe firmly that if you study people in the name of God, love them in the name of God, pray for them in the name of God, you will find that, after a while, you can come to an understanding with them.

It is an exciting and rewarding adventure to try to live in harmony with other people and to understand why they do the things that annoy you.

If someone is difficult, there is always a psychological or physical or spiritual reason for it, either in them, or in yourself, or in both. Become objective; study people scientifically and prayerfully. Then you can approach them with spiritual strategy and effect a good adjustment.

That is the secret of becoming expert in your human relations—that and these wise words of the Bible: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Religious Leaders Worry Over Use of 'Peace' Pills

"It's a new aspect of the age-old subject of morals and medicine," said the Rev. George C. Anderson, director of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health.

The disturbing question to ministers is this:

Are people employing drugs to dull conscience and shun realities, to avoid the God-ordained crucibles that forge character and spiritual strength?

"You can't overcome the tests and problems of life by trying to find a way out of them through drugs," said the Rev. Dr. John Thomas, head of the American Baptist Council on Christian Social Progress.

Clergymen emphasize that in cases of serious emotional illness, or exaggerated anxieties, the tranquilizing pills can be a helpful step in treatment, under careful medical controls.

But with the mounting volume of the so-called "peace" pills now being sold across the country, churchmen fear they're often being used to deaden sensitivities and stifle responses needed for inner growth.

"Whenever these tranquilizers are used to the excessive point of blunting man's conscience of awareness, it runs contrary to religious teachings," said Rabbi Dr. Robert Gordis, of New York's Jewish Theological Seminary.

"The very fact that so many people have to turn to these drugs to find an artificial peace with God and the world is a dangerous sign. It's a symptom of the age, of the fundamental unrest of the spirit."

The Rev. Charles J. McManus of New York's Roman Catholic Chancery Office, said the pills, rashly used, could be a means for a person to suppress feelings that "have a providential purpose in his life."

He added:

"It is something less than following Christ when we try to duck all anxiety. He promised a cross to all. But there will always be those who shrink from it."

The Rev. Anderson said that since the pills diminish anxieties, the question for the churches is "to what extent they diminish or distort the moral responses."

Missionaries Receive Honors

Imperial Decoration Given Two Methodist Women by Emperor

Two retiring missionaries to Japan of the Women's Division of Christian Service, Methodist Board of Missions, have received recently high honors from the Emperor.

They are the Miss Barbara May Bailey, Lowell, Ind., and Miss Alice Cheney, Minneapolis, Minn.

At a special ceremony at Aoyama Gakuin Women's Junior College in Tokyo, the following certificate accompanied the Imperial Decoration for Miss Cheney: "The Emperor of Japan invests Alice Cheney, citizen of the United States of America, with the Fifth Grade of the Order of the Sacred Treasurers and causes his Imperial Seal to be affixed at the palace."

Following Miss Cheney's reception of the Order, she was granted the additional honor of an audience with the Empress.

A missionary for more than forty years, Miss Cheney spoke in fluent Japanese to the Empress, whom she described as "friendly and easy to talk with."

Miss Bailey was granted the Order of the Sacred Treasure in absentia, since she had previously returned to America because of illness. She first went to Japan in 1919.

Both women served most of their missionary years at Aoyama Gakuin in Tokyo, an institution related to the Woman's Division.

Miss Bailey has been supported by the First Methodist Church, Topeka, Kan., and Miss Cheney by the Iowa-Des Moines Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service. They are now beginning their pre-retirement furloughs.

Evangelistic Services Ending at Parkdale

The Rev. John N. Nielson, evangelist from Philadelphia, Pa., will conclude revival services at the Parkdale Church of the Nazarene tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, of Owega drive are singers and musicians in the services at 7:30 tonight and at 10:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday.

First Aid Class to Be Awarded Certificates

Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, director of American Red Cross, will award certificates to students of a First Aid Class of the Red Cross at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in Providence Missionary Baptist Church.

Mrs. James R. Fleming of 432 Howland Ave., the instructor, is authorized to teach junior, standard and advanced courses in first aid and home nursing care.

Mrs. Hattie Campbell will be mistress of ceremonies.

First Pakistani Bishop Lists 5 Demons to Fight

The Rt. Rev. Chandu Ray, of Lahore, the first Pakistani to become an Anglican bishop since partition, says the five demons to be exorcised from the churches' environment are poverty, disease, social injustice, illiteracy and superstitious fear.

He calls for more actual demonstrations of Christian living and less reliance on techniques and gadgets in evangelism. "The kind of audio-visual demonstration that is effective," said the Pakistani leader, himself a Christian convert, "are men and women filled with the Holy Spirit."

Welfare Officer Discovers Two Unknown Tribes

Two groups of aborigines before unknown, have been discovered in desert country in the far southwest of central Australia. Even Evangelical missionaries working among other tribes did not know of their existence.

They were discovered by a Northern Territory patrol led by E. C. Evans, who has been an aboriginal welfare officer for 11 years.

Evans reported that members of the Pintibu tribe wear only a necklet and belt made of human hair and have no shelters—they keep warm at night by sleeping between two camp fires.

They keep on the move constantly to find sufficient food, but appeared well fed and healthy.

Minister Urges Calm Integration

Little Rock Clergyman Asks Townspeople to Pray for Peace

Declaring, "We all share responsibility for what is happening in Little Rock," the Rev. Dunbar H. Ogden Jr., president of the integrated Greater Little Rock Ark. Ministerial Association, has called on citizens to pray for peaceful integration.

Mr. Ogden, minister of the Central Presbyterian Church, was joined last week by ministers of several denominations throughout the city in sermons underlining the Christian's commitment to law, order and justice.

A statement addressed to "our ministers, members and fellow Christians in the Little Rock area," pledged the support of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the United Presbyterian Church in their "witness for Jesus Christ."

Signed by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, the statement declared: "Your example should make clear to the whole Church those areas of its life where it has not been faithful and should lay upon it the responsibility to act with similar courage wherever children of God are denied freedom or justice."

★ ★ ★

"Whether we live in Chicago or Chattanooga, Louisville or Levittown," the message continued, "the way of our obedience to the gospel of reconciliation has been marked by your feat."

Dr. Blake signed the statement as stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. He is also president of the National Council of Churches.

EMERGENCY CANTEEN— Ready to operate on short notice is the Salvation Army Emergency Canteen. The Women's Auxiliary of the Salvation Army is training 25 workers who will be available to operate the canteen. Kept at Divisional Headquarters, the unit will enable workers to provide food within a few hours after a disaster has struck.

Scholarships Go to Older Britons

Blind Piano Tuner, Bus Driver Among Last Year's Winners

LONDON (INS) — Britain, with all her old traditions and set ways, does launch some unique ventures.

One of these unconventional projects is to bring university education to deserving persons who missed the opportunity when they were of university age.

A blind piano tuner, a bus driver, a carpenter and joiner and a painter and decorator were among 30 winners of Mature State Scholarships at universities last year.

These scholarships are available to men and women over 25 years old who are normally resident in England and Wales and who were unable to take a university course at the normal age but who have shown through their continued study that they are likely to profit by such a course as a full-time student.

Since the arrangements began in 1947, 294 scholarships have been awarded—232 to men and 62 to women. Most awards have been made in the English, Economics and Politics fields of study, but awards in Modern Languages, Physics, Chemistry and Mathematics have also been made.

In recent years, according to the Ministry of Education, the Natural Sciences and Mathematics have attracted an increasing number of candidates.

Salvation Army Supplies Complete Canteen Unit

The Salvation Army Emergency Canteen is a complete, self-contained, mobile unit, planned for the specific purpose of serving food to workers and disaster victims in time of emergencies.

★ ★ ★

It can be moved into any devastated area and be ready to operate on short notice, being available for immediate serving of 500 people.

The unit consists of a van-type body, with one side being equipped with panels which open to provide counters for serving.

Contained in the unit is a 50 gallon water tank and a hot water heater. A special feature is the ability to heat water enroute so that cooking operations may start immediately after arrival at the scene of disaster.

Cooking equipment consists of a gas stove and two 300 cup coffee urns, as well as a sink with running water. Built in lockers and cupboards provide storage space for food, untensils, and other emergency equipment.

It is also equipped with a refrigerator. There is a built-in power unit in case there is no outside power source.

The Women's Auxiliary of The Salvation Army is in the process of training 25 workers who will be available on short notice to operate the canteen.

The canteen is kept at the Divisional Headquarters and will be immediately available for emergencies by calling FE 2-5122 or FE 2-8734.

This unit will enable The Salvation Army to provide food within a few hours after the disaster has struck, and is one of the many available services of the organization.

New Decorative Effect

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Howard Hurst has a recipe for splattered potatoes.

She baked several potatoes for dinner. At the table, she speared one for her husband and another for her son.

Then she speared a third potato. Pop! By chance, the peel contained more steam than potato. The steam spurted every way and ditto for the potato.

Buys Seeds for Garden, but Gets Only Beets

MINCO, Okla. (AP) — Doug Froneberger brought 60 cents worth of flower seed and tended his garden long hours so he could have the prettiest in town.

After a month he gave up.

The "flowers" turned out to be beets.

A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, the Rev. Mr. Towler received his A.B. degree from the University of Michigan in 1950.

STUDIES IN GERMANY

The following year, he attended Heidelberg University in Germany. In 1952, he returned to the Universtiy of Michigan for his M.A. degree.

He attended Union Theological Seminary, New York City in 1952-54 and was graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary Alexandria, Va. in 1955.

During World War II, he served with the Sea Bees in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific at the Solomon, Peleliu and Palau Islands.

The first year of seminary, he was assistant to the rector of Christ Church, West Englewood, N. J.

Cat's Curiosity Dims Lights in Wide Area

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — A cat's curiosity plunged an area from this south central Arkansas town to the Louisiana border into darkness one night.

★ ★ ★

The cat crawled atop a main electric power circuit breaker here. Power company officials said a charge of 13,800 volts killed the cat.

★ ★ ★

Only Methodist Church Remains in Ghost Town

OLAR, S. C. (AP) — All that's left of the ghost town of Buford's Bridge near here is a Methodist church.

Sherman's troops burned down all the other buildings in the town when they swept through in 1865.

The old church now serves as a site for family reunions of descendants of those who are buried in the churchyard.

WHAT IF THIS SIGN SHOULD BE ON THE CHURCH DOORS IN OUR LAND?

In many countries today the people know what it is to be forbidden to enter the church of their choice. How thankful we should be for a place to worship the Lord as we please!

How careful we should be to avail ourselves of this opportunity that still is ours! Are you in Sunday School each Sunday morning? There's a place in Sunday School for YOU.

Our Sunday School invites you to join us this week as we gather to worship the Lord. You will find new strength for the days ahead as you come to His house on the first day of the week. We have the glorious freedom of worship in America. Let us not neglect such a privilege!

State of Israel Bonds Drive Launched by Jews

Members of the Pontiac Jewish Community are launching a campaign this month to promote the purchase of State of Israel Bonds. These Bonds are helping to provide the means by which the economy of Israel can be maintained and expanded.

* * *

Dr. Harry Arnkoff, a prominent member of the community, has accepted the post as chairman of the bond committee.

Ably assisting Dr. Arnkoff on the committee are Mitchell Bacow and Jacob Meyer as co-chairmen and committee members: Sherwin Birnkrant and Dr. Samuel Chafets.

Others are Rabbi Israel Goodman, Dr. Irving Gordon, Rabbi Nathan Hershfield, Thomas Horowitz, Charles Jacobs, Joseph Jacobson, Sol Newhouse, Fred Niedelson, Dr. Joseph Nosanchuk, Meyer Simon, Irving Steinman, Maurice Thome, and George Wyman.

In an open letter to the Pontiac Jewish Community, Dr. Arnkoff and his vice-chairmen pointed out, "Israel has not permitted the pressures of economic problems or Arab hostility or any other factor to interfere with her committment to welcome all Jews who seek a home.

This year, she is receiving more than 100,000 who are fleeing persecution and unrest in Egypt, Hungary, and other lands.

This increased flow of immigrants has confronted Israel with the pressing need to expand and accelerate her economic development in order to provide homes and jobs for the newcomers.

It is this connection that the drives to sell Israel Bonds takes on added significance. Israel must build 30,000 housing units this year, at a total cost of some $90,000,000. Israel Bonds must provide a major share of these funds.

Mission Board Gives Approval

Executive Committee Leasing Three Floors in Proposed Center

The executive committee of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church gave final approval September 26 to the leasing of about 80,000 square feet of space in the proposed Interchurch Center to be built on Morningside Heights in New York.

* * *

By its unanimous action, the 38-member committee ended almost three years of indecision as to whether the Board would move from the present 67-year-old headquarters, 150 Fifth Avenue, to the new building, which is to house the offices of several Protestant denominations and the National Council of Churches.

The Board of Missions with a staff of about 400 persons is the largest Methodist agency in New York and in the denomination.

Under the terms of a resolution approved by the executive committee, the Board will rent three floors and will negotiate a 10-year lease with an option for renewal of 10 years. Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Atlanta, Ga., Board president, said no move would be made until 1960 when, according to present plans, the building probably will be completed.

* * *

When the move is made, all of the offices of the Board and three of its divisions, the Division of World Missions, the Woman's Division of Christian Service and the Joint Section of Education and Cultivation, will be moved.

* * *

The legal headquarters and part of the offices of the fourth division, the Division of National Missions, will also be moved. Other National division offices will remain at 1701 Arch Street in Philadelphia.

'Religion No Cosmetic'

DENVER (AP) — Dr. Chester M. Alter, chancellor of the University of Denver, says that the problem of separation of church and state in higher education is not going to be solved by "treating religion as a cosmetic on the face of a college campus." He said such superficial attention is often the approach of many institutions.

Presbytery Backs Ike

DETROIT (AP) — The Presbytery of Detroit, governing body for 85 area Presbyterian churches, has telegraphed President Eisenhower to express its support of his stand in the Little Rock, Ark., school integration dispute.

Church Women Laud Ike's Move in Little Rock

"The action you have taken at Little Rock is consistent with the statement of the National Council of Churches on the occasion of the Supreme Court decision on desegregation of the public schools."

With these words the Executive Committee of United Church Women, in a telegram Sept. 30, commended President Eisenhower for the action he took in Little Rock.

"The Executive Committee, composed of persons coming from at least 17 states," the message said, "voted in session today to commend your action in support of the community of Little Rock in its attempt to uphold the law of the land and maintain law and order locally."

The UCW, which is a general department of the National Council, represents approximately 10 million women in the nation's Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches. Of its 2,200 state and local council affiliates, 12 state councils and 425 local councils are in the 12 Southern states.

The committee also stated its confidence that the President's "same high principle" would determine his action in his conference with the committee of Southern governors on Tuesday, Oct. 1.

The telegram concluded: "It is imperative that the governors recognize your responsibility for upholding the Constitution of the United States in the maintenance of law and order throughout the nation."

Feel Little Rock Repercussions

Inter-racial Farm Head in Georgia Tells Parley of Demonstrations

Nightriders who continue to burn crosses at the Koinonia inter-racial community farm near Americus, Ga., were joined again last week by people in a speeding car who fired a volley of shots into the buildings, the Rev. Clarence Jordan reported.

* * *

Speaking at a meeting of the National Capital Area Council of Churches in Washington, D. C., recently, the Koinonia director attributed the new outbreak of violence against the beleaguered community to "passions stirred up by Little Rock controversy."

"But," the Rev. Mr. Jordan told the churchmen, "I would rather face the frantic, childish mob with its shotguns and buggy whips than the silent insidious mob of good church people who give assent to boycott and subtle psychological warfare."

As a result of economic boycott, he said, the farm community has stopped growing farm products and will finance itself solely through mail orders for pecan nuts.

* * *

The nut processing machinery now being installed on the farm, he said, was purchased through voluntary subscriptions collected by the national group, Friends of Koinonia, which was organized recently to aid the harrassed community.

* * *

The "psychological warfare" resulted in the recent purchase of a branch farm in New Jersey where its members could find respite while raising produce for sale. The plan suffered a setback this month, the director said, when the Branchburg Township denied permission to the farm to operate commercially.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Jordan, who founded the community in 1942 as a Christian cooperative farm, for all, told the Washington church council that "the words of the few Southern clergymen who have spoken out against prejudice have helped stir the best instincts of man."

Policeman Rules San Marino

Italian Band Around City Relaxes to Let Food Through

★ ★ ★

The Italian police blockade which forced out a rival Communist government still ringed the country. But it relaxed to let through food and other supplies.

Capt. Ettore Sozzi, the police commander, was backed up by about 50 former Italian policemen who resigned to enter the San Marino force.

The regular police force of San Marinese stayed out of the rivalry between red and "white" governments. The Communists, who had ruled for 12 years, and the new government largely composed of Christian Democrats recruited their own armed guards.

★ ★ ★

No shots were fired, however. Italy, which recognized the anti-Communists, sealed off the country. The Communists surrendered yesterday, attributing their defeat to the blockade.

The Christian Democratic government was set up after the Communists lost their parliamentary majority because of defections.

9 Fliers Bail Out, Plane Lands Itself

BUTLER, Mo. (AP) — Nine fliers from Forbes Air Force Base at Topeka, Kan., bailed out of their C47 transport into the darkness last night and the plane made a pretty good landing by itself.

No one was hurt.

Capt. E. P. Zeidler, co-pilot, said he didn't know what caused the plane's two engines to quit. The air base said it was almost home from a routine four-hour training flight.

The C47 came down amid the baled hay in a meadow near the Missouri-Kansas line about 14 miles northwest of Butler. It dropped one engine and one wing came partly unstuck but members of the crew said repairs will be comparatively simple.

Gambles His Life to Save Ship

Potential 'Aerial Bomb' Landed Safely by Pilot

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—You're flying at 18,000 feet on a routine night refueling mission when it happens.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly, the propeller shaft on the No. 3 engine snaps and the prop blade slashes into the fuselage of your 100,000-pound Air Force KC97 tanker plane.

You're no longer flying in an airplane. It's a potential aerial bomb that's fused and likely to explode.

"Bail out," Wittevrongel orders the crew.

One by one the seven crewmen leap into the night and one by one their parachutes open, then drift silently into a thick cloud layer below.

Wittevrongel remains with the plane. Should he jump or fly it down? Somewhere below the clouds are towns—Riverside with a population of 70,000, March Air Force Base.

smoke has disappeared. But there still may be fire in the bowels of the ship. He decides to gamble.

Now he must land the stricken plane alone—a job that normally requires three assistants.

He bores straight ahead toward the base, letting down slowly.

Finally he's there and the landing is good. But he jams on the brakes too soon, blowing out three tires. He taxis off the runway and climbs out quickly.

USAF officials at March herald Wittevrongel's solo landing as "a masterpiece of airmanship." His decision in safeguarding the lives of his crew and his courage in staying with the plane also are commended.

★ ★ ★

The crewmen landed close together in a potato field south of the base. One officer, 1st Lt. Richard L. Plum, La Mesa, Calif., broke his leg. The others, who were unhurt: 1st Lt. Allison A. Fraicer, Franklin, Pa., M. Sgt. Cecil E. Buck, Danville, Pa.; T. Sgt. Teddy Hardesty, El Dorado, Ill.; A.2.C. Garland E. Smith, Bakersfield, Calif.; T. Sgt. Frederick Nadroski, Westfield, Mass., and 1st Lt. Douglas L. Johnson, Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

How did the blond, slender Wittevrongel feel about yesterday's adventure? He shrugged it off.

Justice to Decide If Paddling Pupil Means 'Assault'

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Whether the paddling of a boy student by a high school principal constitutes assault and battery is an issue in Justice of the Peace Harry Sackriter's court.

★ ★ ★

The boy is Larry Lindsey, 14, who, Beggs says, was whopped with a wooden paddle for taking clothing from a fellow student's locker.

After hearing testimony yesterday, Sackriter declared: "This is a very important decision; I'll put this in the hands of God and myself."

Of the paddling, Beggs says, "I was doing it for the boy's own good — I didn't want a habit to form and I wanted him to remember."

★ ★ ★

Young Lindsey testified he was struck 18 times with a wooden paddle. Beggs said it was only eight times.

Beggs is free on $2,000 bond. The charges were preferred by Mrs. Gladys Lindsey, Larry's mother.

Mrs. Lindsey was joined in the complaint against Beggs Sept. 20 by Mrs. Bertha Kwasmy, mother of a 13-year-old boy who, she said, was similarly paddled. Justice Sackriter dismissed charges against Beggs involving the Kwasmy boy for lack of evidence.

U. S. Missile Plan May Get Weak OK

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Neutral diplomats today predicted only scant Assembly approval of a U.S.-backed proposal that would control outer space missiles. Opposition might be heard to the priority the proposal would have over other arms plans, freezing them out.

The 23-nation resolution asks that the U.N. disarmament subcommittee reconvene as soon as possible to give priority consideration to Western arms proposals.

Delegates noted that the resolution made no mention of proposals by India and Japan to break the East-West arms logjam. It also omits reference to the various Soviet suggestions.

Appreciate Freedom of Speech

To bring this one freedom into sharp focus one day was set aside (Oct. 9th). The other 364 days we speak when we please, as we please, to whom we please, and think nothing about it.

Freedom of Speech means so much to us that it should be high-lighted every day; we might appreciate this priceless possession a little more. It is unlawful to tap telephone lines; radio and T. V. carry voices of public officials and citizens; the man on a street corner harangues a crowd; union orators stir emotions to boiling point; old men, in the shade or recreation room solve the woes of the world. Freedom of Speech touches each and all of us at every facet of our lives. It is one possession we use, all the time, without restraint.

No Place for Curves in Curtsy

Shun Pin-Up Pose; Greeting to Queen Is Stiff-Backed

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If you model yourself after a Hollywood glamor girl, don't let your curves get in the way of your curtsy when being introduced to the Queen of England.

This is an important rule of protocol for any woman who follows the advice of Miss Eveline McCullagh, international ballroom dancing instructor and worldwide authority on correct court procedure.

★ ★ ★

Miss McCullagh, who runs London's Finishing School of Social Dancing, is presently teaching court protocol in the United States in preparation for the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip on Oct. 16-21.

AVOID 'LEAN'

She complains that some movie actresses have a habit of bending the wrong way when being introduced to the Queen. And her instructions clearly show that the pin-up pose is strictly out of style at royal receptions these days.

★ ★ ★

"Go down like a ramrod and come up like a ramrod when you curtsy," Miss McCullagh says. She emphasizes your back should be perfectly straight at all times.

Actually there's a good reason for the military-type posture. Miss McCullagh explains it's very easy to fall on your face if you bend your back. And such a mishap could be made even more embarrassing if an alert photographer were standing nearby, she says.

★ ★ ★

The correct way of performing a curtsy has its drawbacks, however. The protocol authority admits it can lead to slightly sore leg muscles. She says her course in court procedure teaches how to prevent this.

HARDER AT NIGHT

But another way to lessen the chances of getting cramps is to meet the Queen in the afternoon. Only a half curtsy is required before the sun goes down. The full exercise is reserved for the formal evening affairs, Miss McCullagh explains.

★ ★ ★

If you should meet Prince Philip by himself, you're really in luck. You can get by with a half curtsy when being introduced to him whether it is night or day.

★ ★ ★

Actually it is not considered a must for Americans to obey protocol rules, Miss McCullagh explains. But she thinks it's a good idea to follow the customs anyway.

Teachers Gather

Refuse to Discard Your Good Idea

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Columbus had the courage to do what he believed in when most of the world insisted he was crazy. More than any of his other accomplishments, I think that's the one that excites us the most.

★ ★ ★

It's one thing to have the imagination and powers of observation to come to a wild conclusion—such as his theory that the world was round.

But many of us fall down on the second part, which is the business of persevering in the face of scorn and derision, especially when scorn and derision come from high places.

ABANDON IDEAS

I think of that often when people tell me of their inventions and ideas for improving products or services.

★ ★ ★

So often they do the hard ground work and stick with it through the development period. But when the experts tell them the idea is no good, they give up.

A week, a month or a year later, they learn that somebody who had perseverance is collecting the jackpot.

★ ★ ★

I don't mean that you must stubbornly resist any good suggestions or pawn the family silver to get money enough to fight for a patent. It's just that you don't give up—you keep plugging.

SIMPLE GADGET

A woman I know invented a simple gadget for the kitchen. Everybody discouraged her, told her it was impossible. She didn't have any capital, but she was smart enough to protect her idea the easy way.

★ ★ ★

She sat down and described the gadget in detail, enclosed the description and a sketch of the article in an envelope which she sent to herself by registered mail.

Then she put the envelope in a safe place and turned her attention elsewhere.

JOB SUGGESTED

I suggested that she get a job in the home appliance division of a department store in her city so that she could get acquainted with the market.

The store was desperate enough for help to let her choose her department as well as give her part-time hours.

She kept her house, took care of her husband and teenage children and put in her three and a half hours a day in the home appliance department.

Because she is a friendly, nice woman, she made friends with the representatives of the manufacturers who called on the buyer of the department.

If the buyer was out in the market, our friend would greet the sales representatives.

One day she discussed her invention with one of them and he offered to show it to his boss. As a result, she was given a small sum of cash plus a percentage of the royalties forever!

MRS. JOSEPH PANTER

She Shows Clubs How to Keep Friendly Order

By GRETTA PORTER

"I think every woman in any organization appreciates the speed by which the knowledge of parliamentary law moves the business meeting," said Mrs. Joseph Panter of Pingree avenue.

Mrs. Panter, an expert on parliamentary law, believes, "It is very important to expedite the work of an organization so there will be time for other things. But," she warned, "this is not the most important part of any club.

"Most important are the first two principles of parliamentary law — courtesy to all and justice to all."

Parliamentarian emeritus of Parliamentary Study Club, Mrs. Panter feels that if one must make a choice between parliamentary law and hurting someone's feelings, the former must be tossed out.

STARTED IN 1924

Mrs. Panter and a group of other Pontiac women organized as a class in 1924 when Mrs. A. H. Crowell from Ypsilanti, a paid teacher, came to help in the formation stages. In 1933 the group organized into the Parliamentary Study Club.

Purpose of the study club, she explained, is to teach officers of local clubs how to preside, write reports, minutes and so forth.

The club forms demonstration groups, and women who are interested in parliamentary law attend these meetings. The demonstrators strive for an informal atmosphere. Motions are made and officers are encouraged to debate the questions.

★ ★ ★

The club sponsors four or five demonstration groups a year. The club has both regular meetings and annual meetings so the clubwomen get experience in both.

"It is amazing," reflected Mrs. Panter, "how women who are very timid will make a motion and perhaps debate it. They are making impromptu speeches and don't realize it."

Two basic books are used by the Study Club . . . Robert's Rules of Order and Emma Fox's book on procedure. Mrs. Panter has an extensive collection of books on parliamentary law but she pointed out that, "Emma Fox is much easier to understand, but the fundamental rules expounded by all are the same."

HELP OTHER CLUBS

The Parliamentary Study Club is actually a service club for other clubs, Mrs. Panter said.

Honored two years ago by the City Federation of Women's Club, Mrs. Panter has been an active clubwoman.

She is a member of the National Association of Parliamentarians, past president and now director of Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, a director of Oakland County Historical Association, parliamentarian emeritus of City Federation of Women's Clubs, past president of Wisner PTA and honorary parliamentarian of Child Study Club Group III.

Mrs. Panter answers questions on parliamentary law, not only for local clubs, but for anyone who calls her on the phone or knocks on her door.

This charming lady who never receives pay for her expert knowledge, said: "It is a civic job and I enjoy doing it and am glad I am able to do it."

Halloween Omission Damaging to Child

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

Is there to be a Halloween party in your child's school? If your youngster is not too talkative about such things, better make a phone call or two and find out. Most schools do have Halloween parties.

The important thing about the party is the costume — that's what it's all about. The children parade about and win prizes for the most outstanding costume. Often there are several categories—the prettiest, the funniest, the most original and so on.

If every child in the class, except one, has some kind of a costume, it's going to be very hard indeed on that one child. Don't let it happen to your youngster.

CASE IN POINT

Mike had just entered school in September. He was in first grade. He was pretty overwhelmed by this whole business of school and lots of the time he wasn't quite sure what was going on.

There was talk about a party next Thursday. He was all for it. Mother didn't seem too interested in what went on at school, so he didn't say anything to her about the party.

Thursday came and every child in the class, except Mike, came in with a big bundle. Mike was a little surprised at all these packages, but there were lots of things he didn't know, so he didn't pay much attention. Ten o'clock came and the teacher said:

"Now everyone can put on his costume and we will all go into the assembly room."

There was a great bustling about, the bundles popped open, witches, ballerinas, clowns, Davy Crockets appeared all over the room. The teacher was jumping about helping Mary with her sash, Bob with his holster and Timothy with his boots.

Poor Mike, he just sat there; nobody paid any attention to him.

Finally Miss Fullerton did see him.

"Where's your costume, Mike?" she asked.

"Didn't your mother get you anything?" Miss Fullerton was very busy and annoyed at this new problem. Her voice was sharp and condemning.

Mike began to cry.

Miss Fullerton was a good teacher, and a warm friendly girl. Quickly she said:

Mike took the things, but he wasn't happy. He felt left out and somehow different from everyone else.

"Look, Mike's wearing Miss Fullerton's hat 'cause his mother didn't get him anything. That's no costume."

THE LAST STRAW

That was too much for Mike. He tore off the hat, gloves and scarf, threw them on the floor, and ran back to his room, where he began throwing all the books from the bookcase on the floor.

★ ★ ★

Children, especially little children, must be like the other children if they are to feel comfortable. You have to be very grown up and mature to be able to be different.

She's Likely to Be Poorly Nourished

Woman Alone Should Watch Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are several groups of women who are most likely to be poorly nourished. I think that of these perhaps the threat is greatest for the woman sho lives alone.

I do not think it makes much difference whether she works or not. As a matter of fact, I believe that the woman who lives alone and does not work may be in the greatest danger.

This woman does not have the impetus which the wish to build strong bodies for children or to protect a husband's health provides. She does not have the stimulation of appreciation from others for any delightful meals she may plan and prepare.

Under these circumstances it is so easy to pick at what is in the icebox or eat out of a can. It takes real determination to obtain the variety she needs because it does not seem worthwhile to prepare a whole meal for herself.

★ ★ ★

Added to this hurdle is the fact that many women who are alone are living on pensions or the income from bonds or savings or have some sort of set income. As you all know, the price of living has zoomed. Therefore a stringent cash situation may be a cause of a person being poorly nourished.

Yet a woman who lives alone can eat well and fairly inexpensively. A pound of butter and a dozen eggs last a long time when used for one.

Frozen vegetables are a boon because they can be used for several meals, staying in the deep freeze between meals. You can vary your fare and not eat the same vegetable two or three days in a row. It is not too difficult or expensive if you eat alone!

The psychological hazard is the main consideration. Make up your mind to take your nutrition seriously.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Vitamin Defense" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 37 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

If you decide for the knee-revealing lengths, sheerest black nylon stockings are fashionable, with daytime and evening dress.

Black and off-black stockings are the most popular shades suggested for day wear, followed by dark brown and deep taupe colors. The darker hose fashion certainly is welcome news for those who need to slim the legs.

Who Pays for Party Photograph?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I asked my best girl to a large dinner - dance given at one of the hotels in celebration of the golden jubilee of our church. During the course of the evening, a photographer took pictures of the whole group and later came around to each table with the developed pictures and took orders for them.

"My girl friend ordered a picture and paid for it with her own money. I did not offer to pay for it as the evening had cost me a good deal and I felt that if she wanted a picture, she should pay for it.

"I think she rather expected me to pay for it. Will you please tell me if I was wrong to have let her pay for the picture?"

Answer: If she expected you to pay for the picture she should have asked you if you would give it to her, before ordering it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has offered to play the organ at my wedding, and her sister wants to sing. Both are professionals and I feel quite honored with their generous gift. Besides giving each one a gift, should I also send each one a corsage, and must I write a note of thanks to them after the wedding?"

Answer: The corsages are not necessary but surely will be appreciated if you send them. You should write a note of thanks telling them how much their playing and singing were enjoyed.

Pole-Climber Killed Trying to Save Boy

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — Howard A. Rogers, 14, was electrocuted yesterday trying to rescue a 5-year-old boy stranded near the top of a 45-foot power pole.

★ ★ ★

Howard saw Rickey Campbell weeping near the top of the pole where he had climbed but couldn't get down.

"If he got up there, so can I," said Howard.

Police officer Vernon Lilley said the pole had a maze of wires carrying from 4,000 to 11,000 volts. Howard touched a hot line as he neared Rickey and fell, burned and unconscious.

You Call This Progress?

Thin Man Peter Lawford Goes From Dog to Dog

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Peter Lawford wonders if this is progress.

Fourteen years ago, he was working on the MGM lot with the famous collie dog in "Lassie Come Home." Today he's back on the same lot with Asta, the talented wire-haired terrier, in the "Thin Man" TV series.

Of course, there is a difference. In the Lassie days, he was an up-and-coming young actor working at a minor salary. Even Lassie was getting more than he was.

Today he outranks Asta considerably, being a partner in the TV series. Peter plays Nick Charles, the suave sleuth originated by William Powell in the MGM films of the '30s and '40s. Phyllis Kirk plays the Myrna Loy part in the TV show, which airs on NBC Friday nights.

I dropped by the stage where the "Thin Man" crew is buzzing along through the first 13 of 26 chapters. Peter was carefully scouring an apartment for clues. When he finished the scene, he came over for a chat.

"It has been fun," he said, "hard work but fun. I had a lot easier time doing the 'Dear Pheobe' series. Comedy comes a lot easier to me. This 'man in the fog' stuff is much harder to do."

But he does it well, according to the critics, who have termed him and Phyllis a lively combination.

"I think we're hitting our stride now," Peter said. "We're aiming more at comedy now and injecting less of the blood and mystery."

That seems a good notion. There is enough blood spilled out of the home screens this season, and darn little good comedy.

Besides drawing a healthy salary, Peter owns one-quarter of the "Thin Man" series. He also controls 51 per cent of "Dear Pheobe," and is collecting nicely.

I suggested that with one more series he could retire and let the films support him, but Peter denied this.

"The only way to get rich in this TV film business is to have three or more series going at the same time, the way Desi Arnaz does it," he said.

Army Releases Secret Order

Southerners Expected to Attack Short-Lived Riot Training Directive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official release of a short-lived and hitherto secret Army riot training order appeared unlikely today to halt criticism from Southern Congress members.

Southerners expressed dissatisfaction with Secretary of the Army Brucker's explanation yesterday of a controversial order directing the formation of task forces to deal with possible civil disturbances of the type which erupted in the school integration dispute at Little Rock, Ark.

Brucker wrote Sen. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, that Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, was the author of the directive. The secretary had refused until then to say who issued the order or to give any information about it.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) raised the question again last night of whether President Eisenhower had ordered Taylor to issue the order. The White House already has denied that Eisenhower had anything to do with it.

The order was issued one day after federal troops moved into Little Rock to enforce a federal court order for racial integration of Little Rock's Central High School. Brucker canceled it hours after word of the order leaked out next day.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va) told reporters in Richmond last night that Brucker still had not answered all his demands for details of the riot-training program. Byrd said he would "get this information if I have to introduce a resolution in Congress."

Twains Meet as Couple Weds on Lonely Isle

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Ignoring the poetic protestation of Rudyard Kipling that East shall never meet West, the "twain" has merged on a lonely island in Chesapeake Bay.

★ ★ ★

The bride is a member of the oldest family on Tangier Island, a five-mile finger of land in Virginia waters of the bay. The doctor is Japanese.

The boyish-looking, 33-year-old Kato came to the island several months ago in response to the islanders' plea for physician. Emma Sue, who is 21, became his secretary.

The switch from boss-secretary to husband-wife was made in Asbury Methodist Church here by the Rev. Robert A. Mackey. The bride wore a full-length white satin and lace gown, Juliet cap and finger-tip length veil. She was attended by a cousin, Miss May Crockett.

Tangier Island, 15 miles from the Maryland mainland, was settled in 1686 by John Crockett only 78 years after Capt. John Smith had visited the island and given it a name.

Crockett had three daughters who married Virginia eastern shore men named Dize, Evans and Parks. Most of today's 1,000 residents are descendants of these families.

Chiefs Dominate Action to Gain League Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

With its finest-played game in at least three years, Pontiac rose to great heights last night in whipping highly regarded Saginaw Arthur Hill, 20-12, at Wisner Stadium.

Arthur Hill started strong in the first period. The Jacks marched to the PHS 14 midway in the quarter but Harrison Munson fell on Mike Seidel's fumble to stop the threat.

Pontiac moved to the Arthur Hill 34 but had its drive end with a fumble near the end of the quarter.

After 2:30 of the second quarter, Seidel was hit hard and the ball squirted out of his arms into the waiting arms of Dick Whitmer who raced 57 yards for the first touchdown. Mike Hardiman ran the point and the Chiefs led 7-0.

Later, both teams exhanged pass interceptions, and Arthur Hill then gambled with a pass on its own 48 with a fourth down and five situation. PHS stopped the bid and took over.

On the first play, Jim Kellar raced to the Arthur Hill two-yard line for a first down with only 49 seconds left. On the second buck, Nick Shorter went over from the one and the Chiefs led at halftime, 13-0.

The Lumberjacks marched 77 yards and with 3:19 to go in the third period, Seidel went over from the two-yard line to make it 13-6 as Garron Weikker missed the point.

After the kickoff, the Chiefs went 80 yards with Whitmer picking up gains of 13 and 17 yards and early in the 4th quarter Staley went over from the one. Bob Manning ran the point to make it 20-6.

Arthur Hill started on its own 33 after the PHS kickoff and in 14 plays Dave Carpenter went over from the four. Carpenter was the big gainer throughout the game for AH. He picked up 135 yards rushing.

For Pontiac, Whitmer gained 48 yards, Kellar 86 and Douglas 32 by rushing.

"This was truly a team victory, the kids were great," said coach Jesse MacLeay afterward. The smaller Pontiac line showed its defensive best with Willie Duncan, Charley Brown, Mike Hardiman and Whitmer as linebacker playing very well.

Kampe praised Pontiac after the game. "They outplayed us and deserved to win, it was best I've seen Pontiac play."

"We looked bad all week and had no life out there," he added, "and I don't know if the boys were looking ahead to the Bay City game next week."

Next week the Chiefs meet Saginaw, which yesterday lost a close 14-7 encounter to powerful Flint Northern. In the other SVC game, Bay City romped over Flint Central, 46-7.

2nd Half Surge Conquers Bears, Brings 1st Win

By BILL CORNWELL

Waterford, returning to full strength after a siege of flu, came from behind to upset Berkley 12-6 for its 1st victory of the season before a deliriously happy partisan crowd at Waterford. It was Berkley's 1st league defeat.

Defending champion Walled Lake was not so fortunate. The Vikings blew a 6-0 lead and bowed to Farmington by the same 12-6 score on the Walled Lake gridiron for their 2nd straight setback.

Southfield unleashed its heaviest assault of the year yesterday in smothering host Van Dyke 47-0, as halfbacks Tom Ridley and Joe Moore each scored two TDs. The Jays and Farmington now lead the Inter-Lakes race with 2-0 records.

Junior quarterback Wendy Meyer, halfback Bill Loveland and end Bill Cole led Waterford out of the wilderness. Loveland's sensational 80-yard sprint in the 3rd quarter tied the count and Meyer's 16-yard aerial to Cole in the 4th period wrapped up the verdict.

Berkley, which grabbed a 6-0 advantage in the 2nd quarter on Dave Chamberlain's 20-yard pass to end Steve Besevich, completely dominated play in the 1st half. Then the fired-up Skippers seized full control of the situation after intermission as they looked like a solid football unit for the 1st time this fall.

The Bears made one serious scoring threat prior to the aerial strike. They marched to the Waterford seven in the 2nd period where they lost the ball on downs. With 5:15 remaining in the half, Chamberlain and Besevich clicked for six points.

Loveland's touchdown dash was the play of the evening. Apparently stopped just past the line of scrimmage, Loveland emerged from a huddle of players and raced down the sidelines for the tying TD.

After the Bears halted Waterford twice inside their 10-yard line, the Skippers tallied the clincher with 2:08 of game time remaining. Loveland returned a punt to the Berkley 20 and three plays later Meyer connected with Cole.

The Vikings made their only trip into pay dirt in the 1st quarter when Don Yeargan rammed across from four yards out to complete a 50-yard drive.

Farmington scored the tying touchdown on the last play of the 1st half when Al LeSage hit Tom Grimshaw with a pass covering 25 yards. The Falcons drove to their winning TD in the 4th period after pouncing on a Viking fumble. Dave Catherman plunged two yards for the six-pointer.

Luck was not with the Vikings. Yeargan had a 68-yard touchdown jaunt nullified by a holding penalty, Gary Henderson dropped a pass in the end zone and Jim Pierce fumbled on the Farmington two where the Falcons spotted it for a touchback.

Bogues ran 35, 8 and 15 yards for his tallies.

Holly Whips Milford, 21-6; Lakers Win

By CHUCK ABAIR

A fired up herd of Holly Broncos thundered up and down the Milford gridiron and came away with an impressive 21-6 triumph over the previously unbeaten Redskins in the feature game of a slim Wayne-Oakland League schedule last night.

The victory dumped Milford out of 1st place after three straight wins. Holly now leads with a 2-0-1 record. Northville is 1-0.

West Bloomfield turned a close tussle into a rout in walloping Clarkston 33-6 in the only other loop action last night. The Northville-Clarenceville game was postponed by a siege of flue and Bloomfield Hills not scheduled.

Holly won on sheer determination after battling the flu for the past two weeks. Five players missed the game and several others had been ailing during the week. But the Broncos needed this one badly and dominated the action following a fast start by Milford.

The host Redskins raced to a touchdown before Holly ever got the ball but their moments of glory were short-lived.

Quarterback Pat Kelley tallied Milford's six points on a plunge from the one after sparking a 67-yard march with four pass completions good for 51 of the total. He passed for 123 yards for the night but the Holly running attack was too much to overcome.

Holly went right to a TD as soon as it got a chance and the 1st of three successive extra points kicked by Phil Linsman gave the victors a lead they never relinquished. The Holly drive covered 66 yards, mostly on the ground with Bill Taylor scoring from the 13.

Milford made two strong bids to regain the lead in the 2nd stanza but each time the big Bronco line rose up to stop Kelley & Co., just as it had West Bloomfield last week.

The Redskins, weakened considerably by the absence of speedy Jerry Hackett, another flu victim, reached the seven one time and later the four. A field goal attempt failed just before the half.

Holly broke the game wide open early in the 3rd period when Tinsman, on a 4th-and-one situation, ran a fake punt 20 yards for a 1st down. Taylor hit paydirt from the one ending an 82-yard drive. George Coggins went over from the one in the final quarter.

At Clarkston, the Wolves led 6-0 going into the 2nd quarter on a 13-yard TD scamper by Russ Sofredine but from there on it was all West Bloomfield.

The Lakers, inspired by a near upset of Holly last week, went ahead 13-6 at halftime and added 20 in the last 24 minutes for their intial win. John Lucadam scored one touchdown, passed for another and added three extra points and Alan Dubois went over twice to lead West Bloomfield.

HAPPY NIGHT — Pontiac High fans had plenty to cheer about last night as the Chiefs defeated highly favored Saginaw Arthur Hill, 20-12, at Wisner Stadium. The win was the first over Arthur Hill since 1951, giving PHS a 2-1 season record and a 1-0 mark in Saginaw Valley Conference play.

Birmingham Toppled, 19-7

Birmingham's flu-ridden football team fought gamely Friday night, but weakened in the 2nd half and bowed to Ferndale 19-7 in an Eastern Michigan League battle at Birmingham.

Halfback Ken Rogers and quarterback Tom Morey were more than the Maples could handle.

Rogers scored all three Ferndale touchdowns, two on passes from Morey, as the Railsplitters won their 1st game of the season after two failures. It was their opening league test.

The defeat was the Maples' 2nd in four games and their 1st EML setback in two starts.

Birmingham hit pay dirt first, but couldn't reach the promised land again. The Maples marched 58 yards in the 2nd quarter with Chuck Gibson, 220-pound fullback, smashing over from one yard out. Ed Estes booted the extra point.

Ferndale tied the score in the same period when Rogers broke loose for a 68-yard touchown gallop. Mike Crane converted from placement and the count was 7-7 at halftime.

★ ★ ★

Morey and Rogers joined forces in the 4th quarter to doom the Maples. Morey found Rogers for TD aerials of six and four yards to settle the gridiron dispute.

'Hawks' Upset League Leader

Ortonville Surprises Imlay, 19-7, to Share So. Central Peak

They weren't supposed to win, but Ted Freymiller's Ortonville high Blackhawks apparently didn't read the script yesterday. So what happens? They just went out on the football field and thumped Imlay City 19-7. Victory shook the South Central loop co-leaders right out of their high spot and elevated the Hawks into a share of the lead, alongside North Branch. It was Ortonville's opening loop contest.

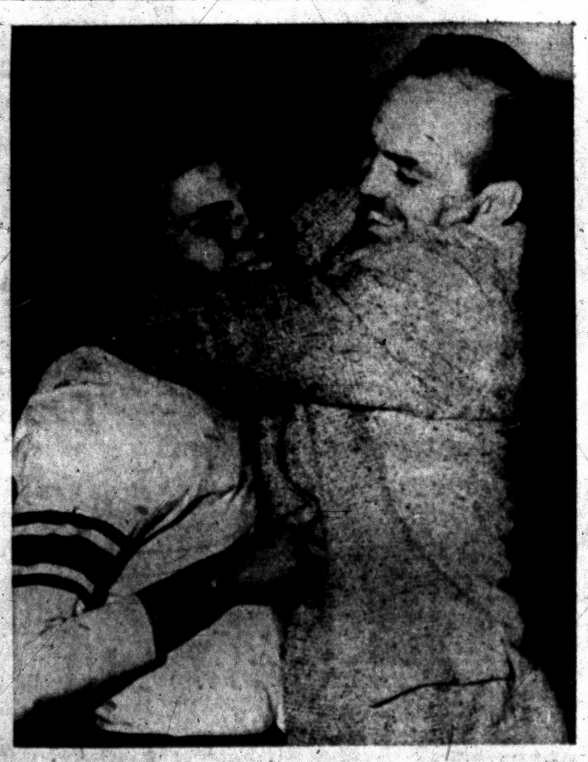

Gil Withey started the ball rolling for the Blackhawks when he galloped 55 yards for a first period touchdown. Chuck Graves added the extra point.

But the Spartans didn't lay down. On the kickoff following the Ortonville counter, Imlay's Jerry Billiet grabbed the ball and set sail 95 yards for a TD. The game's most spectacular run was all for the Spartans, after Dick McKnee booted the extra point.

Hawks iced the victory four seconds from halftime when Graves passed to Earl Richards on the 30, and Earl went the rest of the way. Pat McNulty's pass to Graves in the 4th period produced the insurance marker.

Arnold Hungerford, John Wollerman and Larry Follis played well for the winners.

THAT'S MY BOY — Coach Jesse MacLeay holds on to his sophomore quarterback Fred Staley, who started his first game for the Chiefs and capably led PHS to the upset win over Arthur Hill. Staley is only 15 years old.

Gift Uniforms Assist Bagley 11 in Pee-Wee Loop

A big reason behind the surge of the Bagley Bears in the Pee-Wee Football League this year could be the fact that the team is wearing new dress uniforms thanks to the generosity of the Southwest Civic Association.

The civic group donated $306 to sponsor the Bears this season and is attempting now to raise funds for a youth center in the southwest section, according to Bagley coach Andrew Wright.

The Bears, who played last season without uniforms, meet the defending champion Wilson Rams in a 1st place battle today at Beaudette Park. Each has won four straight games.

Maple Harriers Win Triangular Contest

Lee Tout, who has been Birmingham High's leading harrier this year set a new course record at Birmingham Friday as the team coached by Kermit Ambrose won its 7th meet of the season. Maples outdistanced Royal Oak Dondero and Berkley in a triangular. Birmingham scored 19, Dondero 60 and Berkley 61. Birmingham is unbeaten.

Tout's time was 10:37.

Romeo Takes 4th Straight

The high-powered Romeo Bulldogs and fast-improving Rochester stayed on the winning trail in non-league games last night prepping for competition in the new Tri-County loop later this month.

★ ★ ★

Held to a 7-6 halftime edge, Romeo displayed the balanced attack that has produced four straight triumphs to trounce Brighton, 29-6.

★ ★ ★

Butch Dallwitz passed for two scores and made another himself to lead the last half Romeo surge, Ray Rinke had two TD's and Bud Dodge one with team scoring ace Dave Proper contributing a trio of extra points.

★ ★ ★

Rochester had to come from behind to post its 2nd win in three starts, 20-7. The Falcons trailed 7-6 before halfback Mike Hart and quarterback Carl "Peanuts" Montross took charge in the 3rd period.

Hart, who had scored in the opening quarter, tallied what proved to be the deciding points on a 23-yard TD gallop but Montross made sure by hitting Don Barrick with a 20-yard pass for six more. "Peanuts" also kicked extra points after each touchdown.

Utica, which has now lost four straight, scored in the 1st quarter when Jim Roney plunged over from the three and added an extra point.

★ ★ ★

Leaders Still Roll

So. Thumb Race Tightens

Armada's first victory over New Haven in 13 years and the first time in four years it scored against the Southern Thumb Rockets highlighted yesterday's play in the loop. Tigers made it a good one, 24-7, to retain a share of the league lead with unbeaten Brown City. Almont is also unbeaten but went outside the league Friday and has two wins to three each for Brown City and Armada.

★ ★ ★

Raiders dumped L'Anse Creuse 38-0. Brown City disposed of Memphis 27-0 to share the top. In another League test Capac defeated Dryden 13-0.

Frank Hartway and Larry Ostrander again paced the Raiders, Hartway with two, Larry one. But Jim Ostrander, Gary MacAlvey and Gary Emery also chipped in with counters. Walt Griffin added two extra points.

Bob Fisher, with two TDs, led Brown City's win with runs of 86 and 55 yards. Ron Irish and Bud Graham got the others. Fisher and Irish (2) added extra points.

LONG GAINER — Halfback Jim Kellar races 49 years to the Arthur Hill two yard line to set up Pontiac's second touchdown last night. Nick Shorter then went over for the score.

HOLLY'S BIG THREE — Three key men who sparked Holly to a big 21-6 Wayne-Oakland League victory at Milford last night were, left to right, Amos Bradsher, George Coggins and Bill Taylor. Taylor scored two touchdowns and Coggins the other, while Bradsher's running featured all three drives to pay dirt.

Lions Face Explosive Rams Sunday

Detroit Seeks 2nd NFL Win in Home Start

Only Two Teams Still Unbeaten as Pros Go Into Third Week

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The topsy-turvey National Football League moves into its third weekend of play with a full schedule Sunday and with only two teams unbeaten.

Western Division leaders, the Baltimore Colts (2-0), play against Green Bay at Milwaukee, while the Detroit Lions, one of four teams in the division with 1-1 records, play host to the Los Angeles Rams at Briggs Stadium.

Los Angeles is sprinkled with explosive veterans and outstanding youngsters will test the Lions. The Rams have quarterback Norm Van Brocklin, who is starting his ninth NFL season, and end Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch, who is in his 12th campaign, anchoring a strong offense.

To go with these all-time greats are halfbacks Tom Wilson, Ron Waller and Jon Arnett and fullbacks Tank Younger and Joe Marconi. Top receivers for Van Brocklin and reserve quarterback Bill Wade are Hirsch, Arnett, Leon Clarke, Bob Boyd and former Purdue end, rookie Lamar Lundy.

The Lions are optimistic about Sunday's clash "because this is the first week we've had all 35 players actually running during the week."

John Henry Johnson and Leon Hart apparently have recovered from injuries and should help tremendously with the running and blocking. End Dave Middleton, who according to his coach is the finest pass receiver in the league, sat out the Green Bay game. He should be ready to go Sunday.

Providing the weatherman is kind, the Lions expect something in the neighborhood of 55,000 spectators to witness the clash.

Missouri Engineers Big Surprise

SMU Victim of 7-6 Upset

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprise of the night, Friday, in collegiate football circles was the 7-6 upset victory for the Missouri Tigers over Southern Methodist. Missouri stopped the Big Eight Mustangs on the one-inch line in the final minute to preserve their victory.

Charley Rash, 193-pound guard kept his extra-point record spotless to add the all-important margin for the glittering upset. Rash was also the outstanding lineman on the field and his winning boot was his 7th of the season.

Mustangs had been 13-point favorites.

In other major Friday night games North Carolina whipped the Miami Hurricanes 20-13 and Georgia beat Tulane 13-6. Wofford drubbed The Citadel 13-4 in an afternoon encounter.

George Cramer, who accounted for Missouri's touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Phil Snowden, and tackle Bob Lee shared in the tackle that climaxed the Tigers' goal line stand. They nailed Frank Smith of SMU on the one-inch line on fourth down.

Missouri Coach Frank Broyles termed the goal line stand "the greatest thing that ever happened to us or ever will." His players yelled, "we're going to tear the Big Eight apart," forgetting perhaps that Oklahoma—the nation's top ranked team—is a member of the Big Eight and that they are scheduled to play the Sooners next month.

North Carolina also threw up a strong defense in defeating Miami. The Atlantic Coast Conference Tar Heels throttled five Miami threats in making a 14-0 halftime lead stand up.

Jim Tatum's boys went ahead in the first five minutes on Jim Schuler's 16-yard run. They were never headed.

★ ★ ★

Georgia generally stuck to a running game against Tulane, seldom using its strong passing game. Line plunging by fullback Theron Sapp led the ground attack. Both of the Bulldogs' scores came on the short bucks. Tulane, down 13-0 tallied in the last period on a 35-yard pass from Richie Pettibone to Gene Newton.

GOOD SHAPE — Back in top running form, John Henry Johnson is the Lions' power driver. He leads the team in rushing with 101 yards in 19 carries for a 5.3 average, and will be at fullback against the Rams tomorrow.

Stengel Panned for Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series is over, but there were a few echoes today taking manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees to task for losing the championship to the Milwaukee Braves.

Stengel himself reiterated the better team won and offered no excuses.

"The Yankees never make excuses," said the veteran manager who has led the Yankees to eight American League pennants and six world championships in his nine years with the Bombers.

"And we never say the other fella was lucky," he went on. "Sure we missed Mickey Mantle in the couple of games he was out. And we missed Bill Skowron. But they had a couple of guys out, too, in Red Schoendienst and Warren Spahn who was to pitch the last game. But they had Lew Burdette, they played great ball and they beat us."

Nevertheless, Dan Daniel, recognized as the dean of New York's baseball writers, wrote in the World-Telegram and Sun that "New York was lacking in too many important details" and that "Stengel was not uninvolved in some of these shortcomings."

"It is quite true that with both Mantle and Skowron crippled, Casey had to make shift in some positions. But the fact remains that (Tony) Kubek is not a third baseman. . . . Moving Tony around is not going to do him any good. It hurt him in the series."

Stengel started Kubek at third in the seventh and deciding game Thursday. The rookie made a throwing error to second base on Johnny Logan's grounder in the third that paved the way to four Milwaukee runs.

"With Tony in the outfield," Daniel wrote, "Jerry Lumpe conceivably would have fielded Logan's doubleplay ball in the fatal third."

SKIPPER STAR — Halfback Bill Loveland was a key figure in Waterford's 12-6 win over Berkley last night. The 165-pound speedster, a transfer from Brighton, galloped 80 yards for a 3rd quarter touchdown to send the Skippers on their way to victory No. 1.

Beamer Leads Pack but Northern Wins

Practically getting out of a sick bed to run in the SVC harrier test yesterday, Larry Beamer, PHS state half-mile champion, led the pack home in good time, 10:44. But Larry's effort went for naught as Flint Northern's squad grabbed the victory 26-34.

Rog Coats, Chief's captain and state mile champion, finished in a dead heat with Vikings' Jim Lynch at 10:51.

Logart Scores Win in Detroit Fight

DETROIT, Oct. 12 (AP) — Isaac Logart has been ready for several months to fight for the welterweight championship of the world. Last night's victory over unranked Joe Miceli did nothing but improve the Cuban's title chances.

Logart, 22, the second-ranked contender for the title vacated by Carmen Basilio, called it "my easiest fight in a long time."

He stabbed Miceli, 28, with stinging jabs, thudded powerful hooks against the head of his opponent, and generally won just about as he pleased in the 10-round contest that was nationally televised and broadcast over (NBC).

Marlette Is Edged, 13-12

A two-yard run for the extra point by Tom Wright gave Croswell-Lexington a 13-12 victory over Marlette. Dick Harris scored both Marlette touchdowns on 50- and 30-yard dashes.

Flu Halts 35 Tilts Among State's Preps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The influenza outbreak caused the postponement or cancellation of at least 35 high school football games around the state Friday night.

One of the top Class B games, Alma and Manistee, was moved back because of the flu.

Ann Arbor scored in the final two minutes, beating Lansing Sexton 14-13 when Roosevelt Rowry scored from three yards out and Jim Dixon kicked the game-winning extra point.

In East Lansing's 55-6 win over Bellevue, halfback Art Stanley scored four touchdowns . . . Duane Taylor of Corunna got up out of a sick bed, played part of three periods and scored four touchdowns. But his effort wasn't nough as Elsie grabbed a wild 42-32 decision.

Not Supposed to Hit

Two Grid Games Will Each Attract 100,000

The Associated Press

Notre Dame and Army resume their rivalry after a 10-year hiatus and Michigan and Michigan State go at it in their backyard feud today in the two big "money" college football games.

The mythical national championship won't be at stake in either game — since Oklahoma hasn't given up football — but each is expected to draw about 100,000 spectators.

Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan played in the last two Army-Notre Dame games, so this appearance at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium marks the renewal of an old acquaintanceship.

Army rates a six-point favorite for no fewer than 25 members of the Notre Dame team have been bitten by the flu bug and Brennan said his club is not quite recovered. The game will be televised in the East on NBC.

Coach Earl "Red" Blaik of Army said his club is ready. Blaik could stand a victory. His all-time record against the Irish stands at 2-3-2.

A strange aspect of the game that the mass hysteria of a decade ago — in fact, one of the reasons why the series was terminated — is missing even among the student bodies of the two schools.

"After all," observed one spokesman, "Notre Dame students and Cadets were 10 years old or younger when the last game was played."

★ ★ ★

As for Michigan State-Michigan, this one will have a great bearing on the national rankings behind Oklahoma.

State is second-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, also is a six-point favorite.

SCL's Spotlight Falls on Eaglets

Sunday's Postponement of Mike-Fred Contest Changes Grid Scene

The Orchard Lake St. Mary-Ferndale St. James game takes the spotlight in Sunday's Suburban Catholic League football action following the postponement of the annual city battle between St. Michael and St. Frederick.

★ ★ ★

Rev. John Rakoczy's Eaglets clash with the Dales tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 on the Orchard Lake gridiron. The Eaglets have lost their only previous contest while St. James is undefeated in three starts.

The St. Mike-St. Fred game was officially postponed yesterday after 21 cases of flu crippled St. Mike's varsity squad. The game was scheduled Sunday at Wisner Stadium.

Next Tuesday night has been suggested as a possible game time, but agreement to that proposal appears unlikely. As of now, the date is still up in the air.

★ ★ ★

This will mark the 2nd straight week of idleness for St. Fred. The Rams had flu problems of their own a week ago, causing postponement of their game last Sunday with the Orchard Lake team.

Troy's Colts Gallop Over Fitzgerald 26-0

It was just a gallop for Troy High's football Colts, yesterday afternoon, when they won 26-0 over Fitzgerald in an Oakland-B league contest. Win was Troy's 4th in an unbeaten string.

★ ★ ★

Colts scored in every period, starting with Jerry Cochran's 1-yard plunge in the opener. Wayne Figley got the next two one in the 3rd. on a 52-yard sprint, his 1st in the 2nd period was a 3-yarder. Cochran is a Roseville transfer. Stokes ran 36-yards for the 4th period marker. Figley was outstanding, gaining 95 yards on 5 tries.

Brother Act Sparkles as South Lyon Wins

The Underhill brother act was the story as South Lyon blasted Dexter 26-0 last night. Tom Underhill scored on 20 and 51-yard runs, and younger brother Paul went 25 yards for another marker and added two points. In the other TD Paul passed to Doug Kinne 13 yards.

Tom is a senior and Paul is a junior and both are also used defensively as ends.

Hold Benefit Shoot

Metamora Lions Club will sponsor a trap shoot Sunday, at the Laper County gravel pit, two miles east of Metamora. There will be 25 targets. Prizes will be awarded winners.

Lions will use the proceeds toward their annual Halloween party for the children of the community. They also send gifts to the aged and needy at Christmas.

Game Director Paul J. Schissler, representing the sponsoring Los Angeles Newspaper Publishers Assn., announced that for the first time the game will be televised nationally, with Southern California screened out, by the National Broadcasting Co.

4 Other Big 10 Tilts on Tap

Illini at OSU in TV Test

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Michigan and Michigan State are staging their annual battle, at Ann Arbor, there will be four other Big Ten grid engagements under way today. Surprising Wisconsin is at Purdue. Unbeaten also, is Minnesota, at Northwestern. Iowa's defending champs, still rolling, are at Indiana and the Illini and Buckeyes tangle on TV at Columbus.

Wisconsin, having rolled over Marquette and West Virginia, meets a tougher foe in Purdue which has lost to both Notre Dame and Minnesota. The Badgers say their defense is untested. It'll get a good test against the Boilermakers.

Iowa slipped past Washington State, 20-12, last week after a siege of flu but shouldn't encounter any difficulty against Indiana, which has failed to score a point in its two losses.

Minnesota seeks to avenge a 0-0 tie against Northwestern last season which deprived the Gophers of the title. Northwestern coach Ara Parseghian believes his young club has improved fast enough to cause Minnesota trouble.

Both Illinois and Ohio State came up with 1-1 records in two non-conference games. The Bucks faced tougher opposition and are rated favorites.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame and Army resume their rivalry which has been dormant the last 10 years. Both teams are undefeated and will play before 100,000 at Philadelphia.

Pistons Edge Lakers 102-101 as Time Ebbs

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The Detroit Pistons edged the Minneapolis Lakers 102-101 here last night on a field goal and a free throw by forward George Yardley in the final seconds of play.

With three seconds to play, Yardley grabbed a bad pass by the Lakers' Ron (Hot Rod) Hundley, streaked the length of the floor and dunked in a layup shot. Fouled in the act of shooting, he got credit for the basket and was awarded a free throw. Yardley made it to break the tie.

Gene Shue was high for Detroit with 25 points.

Ike Watches Air Force Lose Grid Game, 20-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower pulled hard for the Air Force Academy football team last night. But his rooting wasn't enough — the Falcons lost to George Washington University, 20-0.

It was the first gridiron contest Eisenhower had seen since becoming President. For that matter, it was his first football game since the fall of 1952 when, as president of Columbia University and a candidate for the White House, he watched Columbia play Army.

Conservation Department Asks $26,300,000 in '58

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — The legislature next year will be asked to approve a record $26,300,000 budget for the state conservation department, including nearly nine million for the state park system.

Approved by the State Conservation Commission, the expenditure program compares with this year's $17,400,000 budget.

One-third of the increase is sought for land acquisition in the state park program. Another $3,600,000 was asked for park development and improvement and the rest for salary increases and higher costs.

Gerald E. Eddy, conservation director, told the commission that about 10 million dollars of the total budget will come from various license monies. The legislature will be asked to come up with the rest.

In a brief discussion, the commission talked over proposed regulations for private shooting preserves, legalized by the 1957 legislature.

Public hearings scheduled next month will give citizens opportunity to express their viewpoint before final approval is made at the commission's November meeting.

Real Cause to Crow Over Flu Vaccine

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WYCKOFF, N.J. (AP) — The invasian of Asian flu in the United States is creating a new sort of national hero.

He is the apparently tireless, early rising American rooster.

The farm's major activity is supplying embryo eggs to Lederle Laboratories, one of six drug houses designated by the U. S. Public Health Service to produce Asian flu vaccine.

Spring Lake, a 12,000-chick farm, has been supplying Lederle for 20-odd years.

OUT OF EGGS

But the threatened plague of Asian flu has boosted demand even beyond Spring Lake's tremendous production facilities. Eggs have to be imported to fill orders.

The additional eggs — fertilized but not incubated — come from smaller farms in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania which do not have Spring Lake's incubator capacity (410,000 eggs at a time) or its laboratory outlet.

An egg has to pass a stiff test to become eligible to produce vaccine.

It must be of a certain size, running 23-24 ounces to the dozen. This standardizes the amount of vaccine obtained from each egg. The National Institute of Health says one egg provides about five shots.

★ ★ ★

The egg must be 11 days old when shipped to the laboratory. This insures that the embryo is large enough to grow economically the virus from which the vaccine is made.

★ ★ ★

And the egg must be white for ease in candling, i.e., determining if the embryo inside is alive. For this reason all Spring Lake's laying chickens are white leghorns, producers of white eggs only.

★ ★ ★

There are two shipments to the laboratory each day. Their exact size is a deep, dark, competitive secret. But a Lederle spokesman places the larger of the two at 20,000 to 25,000 eggs.

★ ★ ★

High School
Safety-Economy Run

It's a big day tomorrow for both Socony Mobil Oil Company and your high school students. We're joining forces to promote better driving practices through the Mobilgas High School Safety-Economy Run.

In tomorrow's Safety-Economy Run, young drivers (both boys and girls) will compete to see who can negotiate a 75-mile course using the least amount of gasoline per ton of vehicle per mile. Each contestant will be accompanied by an observer who notes all violations of safe driving procedure. At the end of the run the driver is penalized for each safety infraction by having 1/10 of a gallon added to his or her total gasoline consumption. Thus the winner must be not only a skillful driver but a safe one as well.

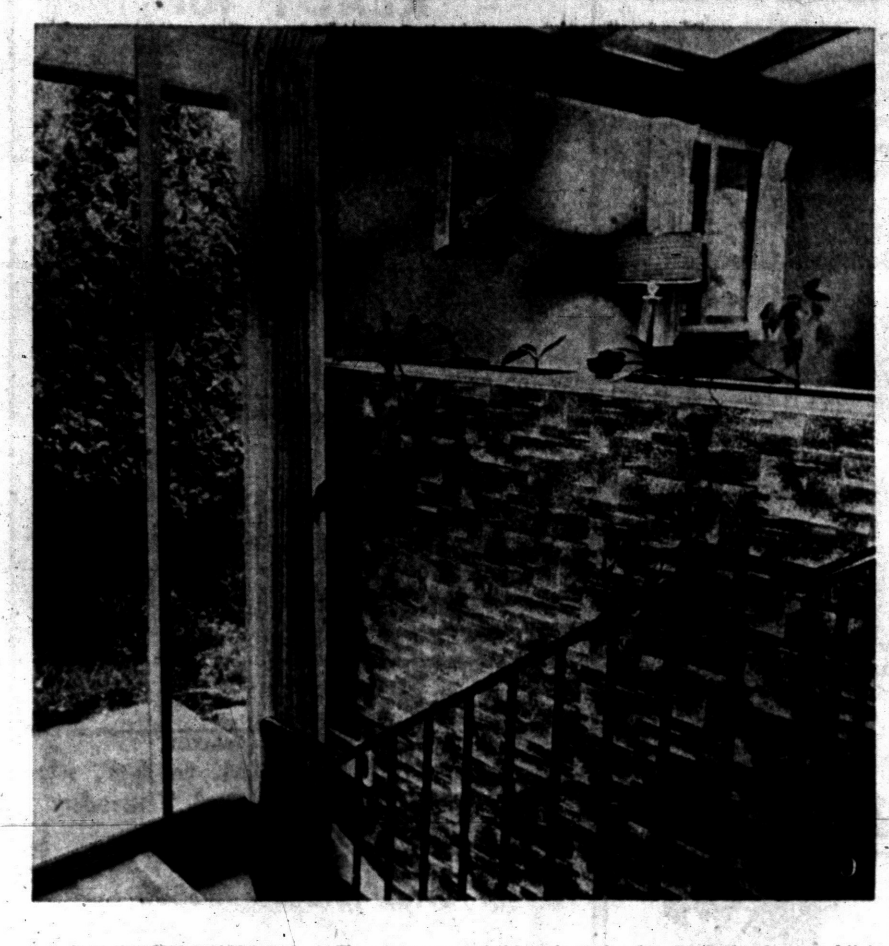

The growth of traffic accidents has become one of our major national problems. The simple fact is, however, that the vast majority of all these accidents could have been avoided — if normal safe driving procedures were observed. Socony Mobil believes that a Safety-Economy Run offers an excellent way of dramatizing the benefits of safe driving to those young men and women who are the drivers of tomorrow — our high school students. Accordingly, Socony Mobil is making possible a wide-spread program of High School Safety Economy Runs in the belief that through competition such as this, high school drivers can be made to feel a pride in their ability to drive an automobile skillfully and economically. This pride will be reflected in better driving practices and increased safety on our nation's highways.

Dream of Home on Walnut Lake Realized

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You wouldn't have to be endowed with second sight to know what interests the John R. Phelps family. Their new home on Walnut Lake is dedicated to music, as are Mr. and Mrs. Phelps. Both teach music; both play; and Mr. Phelps composes music and directs choirs.

★ ★ ★

Their studio living room with a wall of windows overlooking the lake is dominated by the concert grand piano in the center of the room. A spotlight on the center ceiling beam is placed so that its light is focused on the keyboard. Against one wall there is an electric organ.

★ ★ ★

Two walls of the room are painted pale aqua. The window wall is white like the ceiling. The floor is polished oak, made of boards only an inch wide.

★ ★ ★

Along the side walls there is indirect lighting. Table lamps are brass and white. White rayon draperies, shot with gold thread, cover the lower section of the windows. Through the upper triangular shaped windows one sees only trees.

★ ★ ★

Apart from the music areas there are two conversation sections. One is around the yellow brick fireplace. On the raised slate hearth there are fat comfortable pillows for sitting. At one side an opening provides space for wood storage. Above in the Philippine mahogany paneled wall there are closed cupboards. A yellow arm chair and a blue barrel chair are placed for relaxing.

★ ★ ★

A half wall divides the living room from the stairwell. In this corner there is a tan and gold sectional sofa. A rug marks off this reading area, for the half wall is a bookcase on the room side. The top is a planter.

The stairwell itself is interestingly papered in gold and white. Next to the entrance there are floor-to-ceiling windows. Five steps go up to the living room level. A curving stairway goes down to the lake level.

The bedrooms are on the same floor as the living room. The largest one that is shared by the Phelps' has white walls and mahogany furniture. Rugs and curtains are aqua; the spread is white.

Nine-year-old Janis has a pink room. Her bed is covered by a brown chambray spread over a plaid ruffled skirt. Her creamy white curtains have a gold thread in them just like the ones in her parents' room.

Nancy is seven and a luscious red head. Nancy was home sick the day we took pictures. She has a yellow room. Her spread and dust ruffle are just like Janis' and she has plaid curtains to match.

The bathroom is pink and blue with pink walls, pink ceiling and pink fixtures. Around the two-sink vanity there is blue tile. The shower curtain has gold and black musical instruments on a white background.

The floor is tiled in large squares of brown and gray. Walls are mahogany paneled except around the fireplace. Here cement blocks have been used and painted white. Blue sailcloth makes the floor length curtains.

The little fireplace sets in one corner. Next to it is a wrought iron sofa and arm chair. This is cushioned in an aqua and pink design on a gray cotton fabric. Cattails and birds in flight (all brass) are mounted on the wall. There is a second piano in this room.

The other half of this area is the kitchen with eating space at one end. It is separated by a half wall against which range and counter space are placed. Cupboards are all mahogany with round copper handles.

The walls in the kitchen, the double sink and the corner oven are all pink. A drop lamp fixture over the blond table provides softer light than the fluorescent fixtures in the kitchen. Mrs. Phelps uses an attractive pink burlap table cloth.

The rear part of this level is devoted to storage, a utility room and Mr. Phelps' private bathroom. Swimmers come in through the utility room and into the shower; this means the up-

ATTRACTIVE STAIRWELL — The main entrance to the Phelps' house is on the side. Once inside, you can go down to the family room-kitchen level or up to the living room-bedroom level. Gold and white paper covers the walls. A full length window lets in plenty of sun and light. The graceful railing is wrought iron. Beyond the planter on top of the wall can be seen a portion of the living room wall. Notice the violin used as a wall decoration.

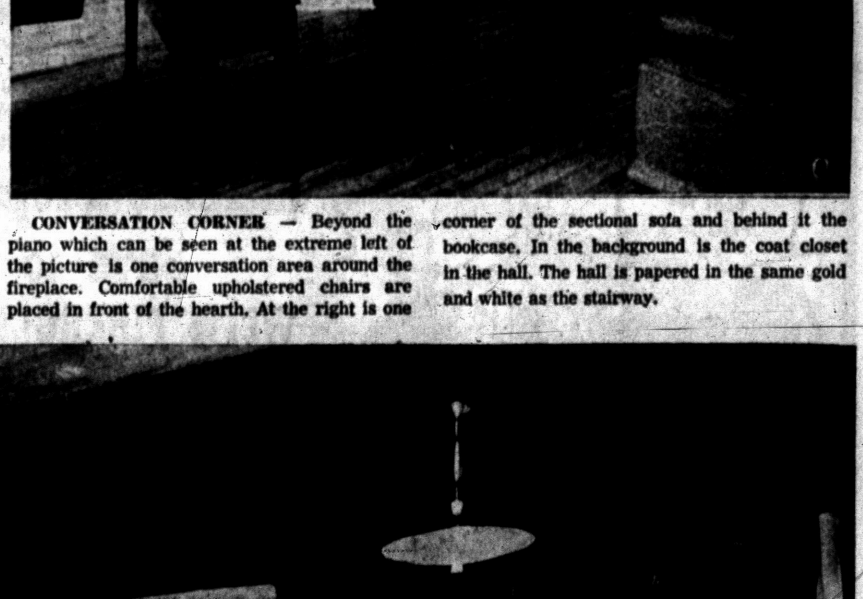

FROM THE LAKE — The John R. Phelps home on Walnut Lake is two-storied on this side. Upper windows are in the studio living room. The lower windows are in the family room and the kitchen. There is a barbecue terrace just outside the kitchen. Constructed of yellow brick, the house has panel trim on the side. Jack Huber of Birmingham was the builder and shared the planning with Mr. Phelps.

LITTLE CONVALESCENT — Little Nancy Phelps was coping with a "bug" when we photographed her house. She was allowed out of bed temporarily and came downstairs to pose with her pet cat. The other cat in the family, a handsome long-haired one, refused to be in the picture. Just to the left of the sofa on which Nancy is sitting is the little fireplace. Behind her, the stairs that go up to the living room and bedroom level are visible. This lower level opens onto a terrace on the lake side.

MUSICAL HOMEMAKER — Mrs. Phelps combines homemaking with the teaching of music. In addition she spends many hours at the organ and the piano perfecting her own skill. There is indirect lighting behind the wooden strips above the organ. Around the fireplace the wall is paneled in Philippine mahogany. The floor is made of inch-wide oak boards.

CORRIDOR KITCHEN — The kitchen is long and narrow with eating space at the window end. All cupboards are made of mahogany with round brass handles. The wall at the left, you can see is just a half wall. The ceiling is interesting because it is the underside of the floor above and rests on exposed beams. The floor down here is brown and gray squares of tile.

FOR WOOLENS — Lining an out-of-use toy box with aromatic red cedar closet lining provides an attractive and safe storage place for woolens and other moth-vulnerable materials. The cedar is tongued and grooved for easy application and snug fit. Small finishing nails hold the wood in place.

Cedar Chest Easy to Build

Most homes don't have enough storage space for winter clothing, fur coats, blankets and other woolens during the long summer months when moth damage is most likely to occur. This problem is partially solved if the family has an old wooden toy box with a hinged lid which the children have outgrown. Several blankets, suits, or woolen dresses may be stored safely in such a toy box if the box is lined with moth-repellent aromatic red cedar closet lining.

Red cedar closet lining is available at most lumber dealers in handy packages containing enough pieces of the rose-colored wood to cover at least 32 square feet of area. The pieces, ranging from 2 to 4 inches in width, are tongued and grooved for close fit and easy installation.

The bottom of the box should be lined first. Small finishing nails will hold the lining securely to the box. Apply the cedar lining horizontally, one strip above another. The first piece of wood should be applied with the grooved edge against the bottom of the box and the grooved end against the adjoining side, making it easier to apply the next piece. The lid also should be lined with the fragrant wood for thorough protection against moths.

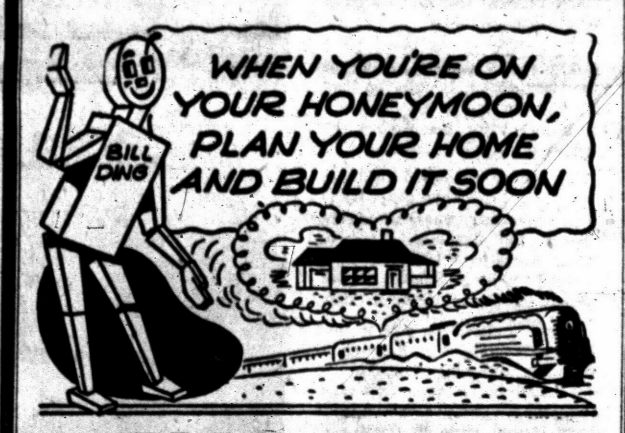

Don't paint or varnish the cedar when the lining job is finished, since that seals in the aroma from cedar oils which repels moths.

Should such a large, wooden toy box not be available, one may easily be made of sufficient size to hold the family's woolens. Cover a framework of two by two inch lumber with the aromatic red cedar closet lining for a practical and attractive cedar storage box.

Narrow Widths Enlarge

One way of making a small home appear larger is to use narrow widths of drop siding. Six and eight inch wide drop siding can be obtained in any of several popular wood species such as west coast hemlock, western red cedar or Douglas fir.

Beautify Stairway for Looks, Safety

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "Watch your step" is an important warning to children and grown-ups alike. Keeping it in mind, you can avoid the treacherous tumbles that sometimes result when you fail to look where you are going. In your household, "Watch your step" should also be an admonition to focus your attention on both the appearance and condition of the steps that facilitate your progress from one level to another. Your main indoor staircase, your porch and cellar steps both merit and require frequent check-ups.

Before winter storms begin, give careful attention to the steps that lead to your porch or entranceway. If the steps are of wood, make sure that they are adequately paint-protected and that destroying moisture has not gained unexpected entrance and rotted away the steps themselves or their supports. If the paint has worn thin or is blistered in spots, it's high time that you give the steps renewed protection.

Before recoating them with porch-and-deck enamel, make sure that they are sanded smooth — that they are clean and dry. If it has been necessary to replace any part of the steps with new lumber, this wood should be primed and allowed to dry thoroughly before installation. After installation, one or more finish coats are applied.

Your cellar steps, of course, do not have to withstand the attacks of the elements, but they provide a problem of visibility. In winter time, your visits to your heating unit increase in number, depending upon the type of fuel used. But whether you descend to the cellar once a day or half a dozen times, you must be able to see the steps clearly in order to avoid dangerous falls.

To safeguard your life and limb, it's wise to paint the steps in a tough floor enamel of a color that's easily seen. Some householders paint the edge of each step in a color that contrasts with the balance of the staircase. An additional safeguard is to paint the bottom step in still a third easy-to-see color so that your eyes can tell for sure that you've reached the bottom of the stairway.

As far as your main staircase is concerned, you do not have to protect it against the rigors of the weather, nor do you employ lively warning colors on its surface. You do, however, wish to keep it smooth and beautiful with the type of finish that will enhance its appearance.

If the treads have been varnished or shellacked, tuch up the worn places carefully. When they are dry, go over the entire tread. Risers and the spindles of the railing are usually painted to match the surrounding woodwork, but the handrail is often finished in the same manner as the treads.

No matter which staircase you're painting, it's usually wise to do it in two or more sessions. Paint every other step. Leave alternate ones uncoated so household traffic may continue uniterrupted. If you forget, you may have to slide down — and up — the bannister!

Barbecue Goes Fast

An outdoor barbecue can be built in less than an hour with cinder blocks and fire bricks. The cinder blocks are stacked without mortar leaving a U-shaped opening at the top which is lined with the fire-resistant bricks. Top the finished job with an iron grate.

Weave Rope Chair Seat

No Unfinished Sides Now

Furniture manufacturers cater to the American desire for open-plan houses by applying fine finishes to chests, desks, cabinets and sideboards on all sides. Thus, these pieces may stand away from the wall to designate space division. In other instances, the pieces may be grouped with related pieces to serve as room dividers.

Camp Fire Girls have 480,000 members.

Ceilings Need Careful Handling

The color of your ceiling has become a matter of importance. No longer is one satisfied with just a lighter shade of the same color as the wall. Time was when ceilingswere white without argument or inspiration. All this has changed.

Recent stories of the decoration of the British Embassy in Washington in anticipation of the Queen's visit emphasize the sky-blue ceilings in the formal rooms. The effect is not only beautiful, according to those who have seen it, but color at the top is known to act as a light-absorber in the large rooms all done in pale paints.

In over-bright rooms sometimes filled with too much sunshine, we let painted ceilings serve to protect our eyes.

If you have a problem of a too-dark room—a room perhaps, with small windows, shadowed by adjoining buildings or heavy foliage, you'll do well to consider the amount of light reflected by a color before deciding on your ceiling's hue.

White, of course, tops the list. It reflects at least 80 per cent of ivory has a 70 per cent rating—apricot-beige, around 65. Lemon yellow is slightly less, white ivory reflects around 60 per cent, and light bluff, 55. Peach, salmon and light pearl gray are still farther down the scale.

Pale apple green scores around 50 per cent and medium gray comes next with 45. Both light green and pale blue have a rating around 40 per cent and deep rose, with 15 per cent, is next to dark green, which has less than 10.

To make sure that light is reflected evenly—so there are no highlights, it's wise to use flat paint on the ceilings of all rooms other than the kitchen or bathroom. In the kitchen and bathroom, however, where walls, woodwork and ceilings are more frequently washed, it's better to apply a gloss or semi-gloss to all surfaces.

There is still another way in which ceilings can serve you these days, As sound absorbers. Our current love for huge glass walls and picture windows sometimes brings the problem of excess noise — from TV, from the clatter of dishes—or merely from lively conversation. Sound bounces from the hard surface of glass. It does, also, from some of the new floors and floor coverings.

Heavy draperies, upholstered furniture and deep carpets absorb sound, but many modern rooms do not contain sufficient sound-absorbing materials. Sometimes acoustic ceilings are used to solve the problem. These, with their tiny sound-tapping cells, need to be carefully painted so the cells are not "bridged"—or closed—and the acoustic properties impaired.

The painting of acoustic tile is successfully acomplished with a brush, a spray gun, or a roller. If any of the cells become clogged with paint, you can prick them open with a pin. Flat paint, somewhat thinned should be used.

Before thinning your paint, however, be sure to talk to your paint dealer about your project. He can advise you whether the paint you are planning to use can be thinned successfully. Some paints are so formulated these days that it impairs them if anything is added.

Attractive Finish Protects

Picnic ice-boxes have become an accepted part of summer recreation equipment. They are protected against rust and corrosion by smooth and attractively painted finishes.

Cut Coal Consumption

The rate at which your coal furnace is consuming fuel sometimes can be retarded with very little effort. Dissolve a half pound of washing soda in a gallon of water and sprinkle the solution over the coal in the bin a few days before using it. You may find that the coal will last longer and also give off more heat.

Make Household Cement

Litharge and glycerin mixed together into a smooth thick paste will make an excellent waterproof cement for any number of home repair jobs. Allow the cement to harden overnight. This is a good way to replace plastic or bone handles on knives or forks.

An early fall forecast of builders is that the best-seller in the fourth quarter of 1957 will be a four-bedroom, two-bath home priced around $21,000 and featuring quality materials such as brick, ceramic tile and hardwood.

Cartons Are Handy

The top flaps of some cardboard cartons make convenient accessories when you're painting. They can be used as trays for both paint and brush. The 'tray' makes it easier to move paint and brush from place to place.

Paint Across the Ceiling

When painting a ceiling, work across the width — rather than the length — of the room. This enables you to begin a second lap before the first has dried completely. Never try to paint a strip more than two feet wide.

No Color Choice Too Old

Any woman's whim may now be satisfied in her preference for a certain colored kitchen. Built-in kitchens, all gayly painted in the most beautiful color combinations of enamel finish, are readily obtainable.

Maple Floors Are Sturdy

Northern hard maple is ideal for "family" room floors. Rugs can be rolled up for dancing parties. The wood will take scuffing and traffic marks without undue maintenance. Maple is the hardest of the popular hardwoods used in the manufacture of flooring. It is pleasant and warm and fits in with all modern furniture and furnishings.

Ball Eases Painting

Wood Paneling Is New Way to Dress Up Kitchen

That urge to dress up the kitchen has been so widely heeded that this area, once almost exclusively the housewife's domain, is becoming a focal point of family living. In fact, in many new homes, the kitchen is an open one combined with either a dining area, a family room, or the living room. Style and color so important in design of appliances are reflected in the over-all decor of these areas.

One of the most popular methods of adding life and warmth to the newly high-styled kitchen is the use of wood paneling. Because of their adaptability, wide availability, economy and ability to accept a wide variety of finishes, the ten wood species from the western pine region are found in every type of home from ranch house to apartment.

The first step in planning your kitchen is to lay it out in rough diagram form, placing the appliances in best work-saving relation to each other. The layout also should include proper storage facilities designed to keep utensils and appliances handy to where they are most frequently used. There is no need for inadequate storage space if good planning is carried out and the kitchen is not basically too tiny.

When your planning and measuring have been done, you are ready to select the components. If you choose colored appliances, you will want a finish on the wood that fits well with them. If a light effect is desired, then ponderosa pine, Idaho white pine, sugar pine, Engelmann spruce, white fir or lodgepole pine will fill the bill.

Douglas fir is intermediate in color while for a deep-toned rich effect there are larch, inland red cedar and incense cedar. All of these woods accept a wide variety of finishes readily.

Paneling and cabinets may be matched by using the same variety of wood for each, or interesting effects may be achieved by using different varieties for contrast. Both are in good taste.

When the paneling and cabinets have been installed and you are ready to finish them, you may want to consult your paint dealer who can advise on correct color co-ordination. Increasingly popular now are color treatments that allow the grain of the wood to show and permit the natural warmth of the wood to be enjoyed.

For an Interesting Floor

Third Grade maple flooring is a good grade! The interesting grain formations and more pronounced variations in coloration permitted in the Third Grade classification, provide pattern and contrast that appeal greatly to the artist who admires fine wood for the beauty Nature put into it. A sound grade, entirely suitable for floors in bedrooms, dens and family rooms. Third Grade hardwood flooring is inexpensive, too.

Paint-Saving Tip

Paint will not form a surface crust while stored if a small amount of mineral spirits or turpentine is poured on top of the paint before the can is re-sealed. Care should be taken not to shake the can when it is put away.

Color Can Be Dramatic

Wood Is Comfortable

Ever wonder why so much outdoor furniture is made of wood? The West Coast Lumbermen's Association says that tables, chairs and patio or garden furniture made from such durable and weather resistant woods as Douglas fir or western red cedar is popular because it not only withstands the elements but is always comfortable to the touch—never unbearably hot or clammy cold.

Clean It or Replace It

If water comes from your bathroom shower in a stream instead of a spray, chances are your showerhead is just clogged with mineral deposits. Simply remove its face, free the holes with a coarse needle or wire, and clean the back surface. The, if the water still won't come out in a spray, it's time to order the new showerhead.

Take a Tip From Nature

When choosing exterior paints, it is well to remember that earth pigments are generally more permanent when exposed to weather and sunlight than chemical colors and that tinted paint is more durable than white. The principal earth pigments are ochre, the siennas, umbers, red iron oxides and "earth" browns and blacks.

Paint Masonry in Pastels

Transforming a basement into a recreation room sometimes presents problems of expense and suitability. This is especially true where walls are unadorned masonry. The least expensive method is this: simply clean the surface of the stone walls with a wire brush to remove all loose particles and apply a coat of paint. The proper paint for this is available in soft pastel colors and produces a much to be desired flat finish.

Must Control Moisture

Moisture in the air is necessary to sustain life. Uncontrolled moisture in excessive amounts is dangerous and can ruin a building. Eternal vigilance and corrective steps are necessary to see that moisture does not win the continual battle against man-made structures.

Costs Double in 10 Years

Average construction cost of a new private one-family house rose from $6,750 in 1947 to $12,225 last year; it's going still higher this year. True, houses are bigger and better, but the small supply of lower-priced new homes boosts demand for older ones.

Lake Home Has Studio Living Room

Ham radio equipment fills a large section of one room. That's just another hobby for the man of the house. This summer he worked on landscaping—carefully, of course, as he laid up rock walls. Musicians must care for their hands.

Mr. Phelps owned this lot for many years; in fact, he used to take Mrs. Phelps out boating on Walnut Lake, long before their marriage, show her the lot and tell her he'd build her a house there sometime.

Now it's built. It has been lived in about a year. Jack Huber of Birmingham did the construction work. He and Mr. Phelps did all the planning.

Washable Fabrics Are Ideal for Bedrooms

AP Newsfeatures

Now that the children are back in school, many mothers are finding that they have time to get in a little redecorating. First chore often turns out to be the bedrooms.

Washable bedspreads, slipcovers and drapes are a necessity, especially in homes with children and puppies. Now it's possible to make spreads and curtains of topsail, that long-wearing, gay and washable lightweight sailcloth that has been a standby in small-fry play clothes and now is available in decorator widths of 48 inches.

The decorator topsail comes in patterns coordinated with solid colors. You may choose stripes, checks or plaids teamed with matching plain colors.

Local sewing center experts suggest making a reversible bedspread, plain on one side, striped on the other, to go with a solid color dust ruffle. One full width of fabric goes down the middle of the bed, with a half - width stitched to each side to form the overhang.

Slab-on-Ground Homes Can Have Oak Floors

An outstanding example of the plus value being offered in new houses this year is the presence of handsome oak floors in more and more homes erected on concrete slabs, building trade observers note.

Floors of oak or other durable hardwood are especially desirable over concrete, builders point out, because of their warmth and resiliency.

Many builders also are taking advantage of a relatively new procedure which permits economical installation of the popular strip style of oak flooring over concrete. In this system the pieces are nailed to short lengths of lumber called screeds, placed at specific intervals and adhered to the concrete by mastic.

Ancient Designs From China Put Into Rugs

The legendary beauty of ancient China is coming to life on the floors of modern American homes with the introduction of a new line of area rugs decorated with traditional Chinese motifs.

★ ★ ★

The rugs, which are made in Hong Kong, are harmonious with contemporary decoration but several of the patterns would be at home in a traditional room. The rugs range in size from small ones to be used in front of a divan or a love seat to those for larger rooms. However, all of the rugs were obviously designed for a frame of polished floors, thus emphasizing the steady trend toward easy-to-keep floor treatments.

Homemakers are finding these easy-to-move rugs practical as well as smart as they can be taken up in summer and cleaned at small expense. Simultaneously, the floors which they decorate are as easy to maintain as the rugs, only periodic applications of wax being necessary.

Also from the Orient, this time Japan, is a group of all-wool needlepoint rugs. These, however, have no foreign flavor, being adaptation of French needlepoint rugs. One of their appeals to American homemakers will be their reasonable price, a nine by twelve rug costing under $250. Shapes are frequently unusual, the octagonal rug being shown in a number of designs.

Shades of many of the newest rug introductions are undeniably lush. Melon is a high style color, pink, terra-cotta and coral are other first division hues. Semi-tropical colorings are designed to give the bermuda look to the floors of less formal rooms.

Shower Head Size Has Decreased Greatly

Shower heads have been doing a midget act in recent years. Once they were large, around 6 inches in diameter, then they dropped down to around 4 inches, and now many typical shower heads are from 1¾ to 2 inches in diameter. A few are even smaller.

Aside from the obvious economy in original first cost, there is also an advantage in operating cost because the smaller heads take less water, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out. Less hot water means less money for heating water.

Yet despite its vest-pocket size, the smaller shower head provides a better shower than the older larger models. When installed at the typical height of 5 feet, 6 inches, the smaller head describes a shower pattern of 20 inches in diameter.

You don't need a toothpick, screw driver, or ice pick to clean a modern shower head. Many can be cleaned by turning a lever which allows a full stream to wash scale and sediment away. Others are cleaned by turning a knob which permits the face to come out for cleaning.

The installation of a shower, either over a bathtub or in a separate compartment, is an ideal modernization project. Shower equipment is available especially for old bathroms where it can be installed over the bathtub without marring or breaking into the wall.

Heaters Have Many Uses

Although more portable electric heaters are purchased for the bathroom than for any other single use, owners have found them to be among the most versatile of household appliances, according to a recent survey.

As with most products, however, buyers have adapted them to a multitude of other uses.

Amateur photographers have found that the heaters equipped with fans perform excellently in darkrooms, speeding the drying of film as well as providing warmth. Thousands are used to warm entire home workshop areas.

This same situation is true in attics where a person occasionally must work even in cold weather. They even have been used to help thaw out frozen water pipes.

Some of the more normal uses are to warm up a bathroom in the morning, to keep a nursery comfortable for small children, or to provide additional warmth on a sun porch or in an office. In some of these cases, Engineers pointed out, forced air type heaters are best while in others a radiant heater is more suitable.

Undercoating Gas Tank Would Save Trouble

Motorists sometimes discover to their inconvenience that the lack of undercoating on the gasoline tank of a car can cause real trouble. One such car owner was troubled with excessive condensation inside the gasoline tank of his new car.

He found that although the lower surface of the tank had been sprayed when the car was undercoated, the upper portions and filler neck of the tank had not, because of their inaccesibility. The temperature differential between the coated and uncoated portions of the tank caused water vapor in the air inside the tank above the gasoline to condense against the surface of the uncoated metal.

Man Made Cocoon Protects Locomotives

OGDEN, Utah—When emergency strikes, 100 locomotives at the U.S. Army depot here, literally will be removed from cocoons for action. At a cost of $2200 per engine, whose average value is $90,000, cocoons cover locomotives ranging from 45 to 131 tons.

Cocooning consists of a layer of burlap-like cloth wound about the engine, three coats of plastic sprayed on, a coating of tar and an outside film of aluminum paint.

Save on Cheaper Grades

You don't always need to buy the very best grade of lumber. Sometimes it is smart to buy a few pieces of the low cost economy grades of Douglas fir or west coast hemlock. By cutting out a few knots, it is often possible to get sufficient clear lumber for most home repair jobs, at a real saving.

THIS SEVEN ROOM house has two living rooms, an interior gallery and smart styling throughout. Horizontal wood siding and asphalt shingles make a pleasing exterior, with flagstone trim on the bedroom walls.

Trim Ranch Home Has Twin Living Rooms

An adequate living area is the goal of any home. When you have a home with two living rooms, you know it's been designed for maximum living. And if this has been accomplished without an airport-sized plot, you have a design achievement.

★ ★ ★

This, happily, is the case with The House of The Week, HW-72. It has unusual features to recommend it to the home buyer looking for something special but at a price within his means. You can build this luxury house and still stay out of the luxury price range because it has a total of only 2,118 square feet.

This handsome ranch house was designed by Architect Alan Wood Fraser. Here are some of its features:

Three bedrooms. The master bedroom is 16 feet by 13 feet. Two baths. They're back-to-back for ease of plumbing installations.

The two living rooms! One is 20 feet by 15 feet. The other, for informal living, is on a higher level and is well over 400 square feet in area. Its actual dimensions are 21 feet by 21 feet.

AN UNUSUAL GALLERY

An interior gallery! This is a unique contribution to the features of this home and can be put to many exciting uses.

STATISTICS

The overall dimensions of The House of The Week, HW-72, are 70 feet by 38 feet, 4 inches. The main level of the house has 1,572 square feet. The informal living room area has 546 square feet.

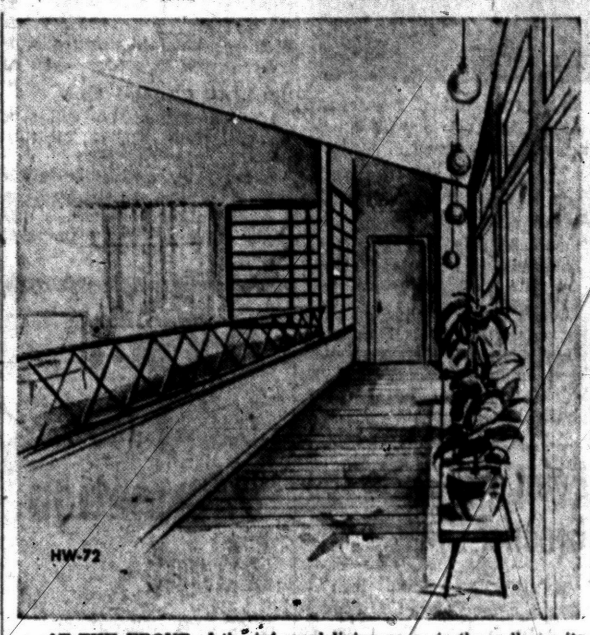

A flagstoned entrance patio. This is a practical feature and also adds a mark of distinction to the exterior design.

This house lends itself to any locale and any climate. It is a year-round beauty for any American, anywhere.

The exterior design has been meticulously executed. The size, style and arrangement of all windows add unusual charm to the styling of this house; fullest use is made of all natural light sources.

Flagstones, used on the entrance patio, also have been selected as exterior surfacing material for the front of the bedroom wing. Horizontal wood siding, asphalt shingles and a decorative overhang on the roof add contrast.

AT THE FRONT of the informal living room is the gallery; its uses are varied. This area has two-story windows and is separated from the living room by an openwork railing.

Inside, there is a center hall. An angled lattice wall is a modish touch between the front door and the living room. The latticed wall also forms a vestibule which enlarges the apparent space of the living room but at the same time maintains the center hall plan.

Each of the three bedrooms has corner windows, good wall areas and spacious wardrobe closets. Double closets in the master bedroom form an unusual entrance; they also serve as insulation against noise from other parts of the house.

One bathroom is convenient to the center hall. The other, with a stall shower, is private for the master bedroom. A lavatory for the living areas could be installed in the corner of the informal living room marked "storage" on the floor plan.

A graceful, open stair takes you from the dining room to the higher informal living room. A wrought iron railing gives a balconied effect to this room.

A striking feature of this house is the gallery. It has a "two-story" window exposure, offering a wide and high vista. The gallery floor is reached by going down two steps from the kitchen hall. An openwork railing separates the gallery from the informal living room.

SPACE FOR THE HOBBYIST

There is a closet at one end of the gallery for storage purposes, and there is ample space for the hobbyist to move around below in the gallery. In this plan a bench has been placed for potted plants. This area could serve as an indoor greenhouse. But it also could be used for other purposes. The "two-story" windows would provide abundant natural light for sketching and painting.

The gallery has a cement floor, easy to keep clean. The gallery's uses could be as varied as the interests of the homeowner. Also, there is space for an optional door from the outside leading into the kitchen and down into the gallery.

The basement could be finished into still another living area. There is space, too, in the basement for an optional fireplace.

The kitchen, nearly square in shape, combines ease-of-wark area and room for a family snack bar. The L-shaped counter area is convenient to the dining room.

Throughout this comfortable, spacious home, full advantage is taken of the views at both the front and the back. The dining room captures the rear view through a huge bow window.

The living room next to the master bedroom has a picture window nearly 10 feet wide. The master bedroom has corner windows — and the front bedrooms have full scale windows.

Should you wish to further exploit the views from this trim house, build it on an elevated plot, or on top of a hill. You'll be living on top of the world!

Federal Housing Administration regulations now state that a smooth material, like masonite underlayment, can be applied on subflooring and carpeting or flexible flooring laid directly on these hardboard panels.

Consider All Members of Family in Home

A home should reflect the personalities of the inhabitants—and the best time to plan for this is when selecting the decorations. Give the children their wide open spaces with bright colors and upholstery and floors that will wipe clean with a damp rag.

Favor father with a quiet spot to rest after work, and mother with a touch of feminine elegance where she spends most of her day. Include a special recreation center for your television set, hi-fi or electric organ that will be accessible to the whole family.

No Shellac Outdoors

Shellac tends to glaze or crack and should never be used as a sealer prior to painting outdoor furniture. Instead, apply a half-and-half mixture of boiled linseed oil and turpentine. When this is dry, brush on a coat of spar varnish or paint.

NEWS VIEWS

A New York sports writer claims that football is a sissy game. At first glance this seems like saying the longshoreman's union is made up of ballet dancers. However, the writer goes on to say that "the triple-threat has given way to the specialty artists, and any coach who doesn't have a point-after-touchdown kicker, a punting specialist, a spot-pass receiver, and a half-dozen other virtuosos on the bench, just doesn't belong in the business."

There's no doubt a lot of truth in the statement . . . but those specialists still hit hard and get hit hard. It's still no tea dance assignment to buck a line of solid built buckos. Football may be a sissy game . . . but it just seems they can't get enough sissies to play it.

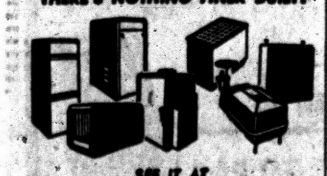

I just read about a tenant, who left her landlord $10,000 in her will . . . which should prove that nothing's impossible in this land of the brave and the free. We suspect there's some of our readers who are getting tired of "paying the landlord" . . . and others who might like to become landlords themselves. In either case, see us for choice listings in residential and all kinds of income property. Always remember Partridge is the "bird" to see, 1050 W. Huron St., FE 4-3581.

Don't Select Paint Blindly

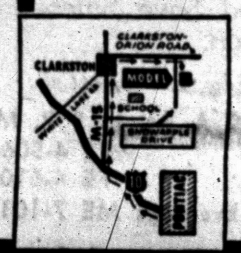

When you are buying white paint for the exterior trim of your house, tell your dealer what material was used in the construction of the body of the house. The self-cleansing type of exterior paint can be used on the trim of the house only when the body is also painted white. Otherwise, use an exterior enamel, a trim and trellis paint, or a house paint that has only a limited degree of self-cleansing.

Showerheads Are Smaller

A showerhead, in order to provide lasting satisfaction to the user, must be more than a couple of holes drilled in a piece of brass.

In contrast, the modern showerhead is a precision made unit that provides an even flow of water at all times without the annoyance of distorted or irregular spray patterns due to clogging.

Latest types of showerheads reflect the trend in the plumbing industry toward economy in water consumption. New showerheads take less water while providing a zestful and stimulating bath. As compared with the old-style large-diameter showerheads, modern heads, using less water, save fuel as well as water.

Not many years ago the 4-inch showerhead was the standard in the plumbing industry, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. Some manufacturers offered a head 6 inches in diameter."

Today the smaller showerhead is firmly intrenched in the market because it provides a better and more economical shower. In contrast to the old 4- and 6-inch heads, many of the modern heads available today measure only 1¼ inches in the circle from which the stream emerges. Some heads have another smaller circle of stream in the center to avoid having a dry space in the center of the stream.

Ironing, Pressing Tips Will Smooth Lady's Labor

Away from home and faced with ticklish-to-iron pleats, ruffles, slacks, shorts and bias-cut garments? Doubtful about what not to iron?

For easier ironing and pressing, here are some suggestions:

Bias-cut garments: To prevent sag, iron with grain of fabric; that is, iron in the direction in which the fabric has the least "give." Pull seams taut and iron them first.

Pleats: Work them into place with fingers, a few pleats at a time. Pin or even baste at hem if difficult to keep pleats in place. Iron hem first and work upward, pulling garment slightly against the iron. Work on the wrong side of the fabric if possible.

Bias-cut or circular ruffles: Work point of iron from outside in toward the heading in oblique, crescent curve. Shift article and repeat until entire ruffle is ironed.

Gathers or straight gathered ruffles: Manipulate the garment (or iron) so the point of the iron works into the fullness. Use in-and-out stroke. Don't iron over the gathers.

Ironing may be detrimental to elasticized portions of garments, fabrics waterproofed with waxes, rubber or other coatings which may melt easily.

CHECKING HIS UNDERCUT BY FEEL — Blind "tree farmer" Fred Robison begins thinning timber. He'll ask his wife to tell him how the tree should fall to avoid harming smaller growth.

Blind Lumberer Swinging Axe

Chops Down Tall Firs With Same Expert Skill of Other Woodsmen

Although he lives in a world of darkness, 55-year-old Fred Robison can cut down a tall fir with the same expert skill of any other woodsman. In fact he wields his axe through 55 acres of tall timber.

The Moscow, Idaho, farmer is one of many throughout the country who is growing wood as a crop. Sponsored by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc., this private tree growing program helps increase valuable United States timber.

Since felling a huge tree requires as much surgical precision as brute strength, most woodsmen need eyes as sharp as their axes. But Robison requires only his wife to tell him which direction to swing so the tree won't smash down onto smaller, growing timber.

The blind woodsman uses the inferior trees for firewood. Without any help he saws them into logs. Then he lifts them onto a pickup which his wife drives.

Unless a job is just too big for one man, Robison also insists on running the rest of the farm by himself. Without aid he tends another 25 acres of oats and wheat. He sells eggs furnished by 100 hens and is raising 200 fryers. Three milk cows and five calves receive his care every day.

At community dances he plays the guitar and can swing his partner with the best of them.

A severe case of influenza, which he suffered at 16, is blamed for taking his sight. High fever damaged the optic nerves of both eyes. Within two years, he was completely blind.

Call on Math Formula

How many gallons of hot water a day does your family actually require? According to engineers of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, it is best to allow 30 gallons daily per person. So, multiply the number of people in your household by 30 and you have the answer.

If you have to keep an eye on the supply, maybe your present water heater is not adequate to do the job. The new models have temperature controls so you can raise or lower the temperature, depending on the current needs of the family.

Paint Will Give You Greener Grass

MANHATTAN, Kan., (INS) — Kansas State College Horticulturist Ray A. Keen has come up with a sure way to have green grass all winter!

Use paint.

Keen, who has been experimenting for three years with grass paints, says he has found two good ones. One is an interior house paint with a rubber base. He squirts it on a lawn at the ratio of one part paint to 10 of water.

★ ★ ★

Generally, according to Keen, two sprayings are needed to keep a lawn green all winter.

Be a Sleuth, Then Buy

The automatic gas water heater is the hardest working appliance in your home; it's on duty 24 hours a day. Before you buy a new one, ask your neighbors and friends who have been using new models for a period of time. Compare operating costs as well as capacity, construction and recovery rate. The male heir might well assume the sleuthing project for you.

A good cleaning with sandpaper may put your washbowl or bathtub stopper in better shape.

3. Straight row perforated wood-fiber acoustical tile—drilled with holes aligned in precise, even ro

REGULAR CEILING TILE

Chinese Bones Await Reburial in Homeland

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some 1,300 Chinese skeletons, disinterred 10 years ago, are stored in San Francisco warehouses and mortuaries awaiting the collapse of the Communist regime in China so they can be shipped there for reburial in accordance with tradition.

Francis M. Yee of the Chinese Cemetery Assn., said yesterday that the reburial in family home districts "is a very solemn, religious thing. And the Communists do not believe in the religion and will not allow the ceremonies."

He said some families are taking the remains out of storage for reburial here because they now regard this as the "happy land, beautiful land, choice land."

Youths Guests at Ford Showing

Teenagers Represent Newspapers at Annual New Car Preview

DEARBORN — Two hundred and thirty journalists and 145 teenagers — each representing a major U.S. newspaper — will gather in Dearborn next week to preview the 1958 line of Ford cars and trucks and take part in a two-day national press conference.

A highlight of the October 15-16 affair will be a press conference where teenagers, as well as the adults, will be given an opportunity to ask questions of top Ford officials.

★ ★ ★

Each youth was selected by his hometown newspaper to attend Ford's National Teen-Age Press Conference because of promise he showed for becoming a successful journalist. From among those attending, the one youth who demonstrates the greatest aptitude for an editorial career will receive a four-year college scholarship from Ford and his sponsoring newspaper.

Allan Higgins, a Pontiac High School student, is sponsored by The Pontiac Press at the Ford conference.

The youths will be given complete editorial freedom to seek out news stories and to send the reports back to their editors.

While the youths are here, they will hear Louis B. Seltzer, widely-known editor of the Cleveland Press. Also, they will have an opportunity to see and test-ride the 1958 Fords. The youths and the adults will attend all sessions together.

★ ★ ★

A Tuesday night banquet will include entertainment by Tennessee Ernie Ford, singing star and comedian whose Thursday night TV show reached the top 10 the first season it was on the air.

Upswing Next Week in Car Production

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's Automotive Reports says that car output will take a sharp upward turn next week with all makers in 1958 model production. Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Cadillac and Ford, it said, will join in 1958 model work.

The agency estimates this week's output at 37,999 cars and 18,763 trucks compared with last week's 21,975 cars and 11,678 trucks. In the like 1956 week 70,175 cars and 21,028 trucks were built in U. S. factories.

Canada's output this week is placed at 855 cars and 321 trucks against last week's 1,290 cars and 305 trucks. In the like 1956 week dominion factories produced 4,242 cars and 1,541 trucks.

Ward's noted that Chevrolet and Buick started 1958 model work this week only about 3½ weeks prior to their public announcements Oct. 31 and Oct. 29 respectively.

GM's German Plant to Establish Record

RUSSELSHEIM, West Germany (AP)—President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors said today GM's Adam Open plant here will produce a record 231,000 vehicles this year, or at least 10 per cent more than last year.

Curtice, commenting on West Germany's economic comeback since World War II, said its car production this year should be 1,200,000 units or about 24 per cent of total West European automobile output.

Market Suffers Setback

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market this week suffered a break equal to the one in the week ended Oct. 1, 1955, the first week following President Eisenhower's heart attack.

★ ★ ★

To find a worse weekly setback you have to go back nearly 24 years, to the third week of July 1933, in the hectic Depression days of the early New Deal.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 10 billion dollars was clipped this week from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the average.

Since the first of this year, the stock market's estimated cash drop has been roughly 22 billion dollars, putting the quoted value of all listed stocks down to the neighborhood of 198 billion dollars. The fall-off since Dec. 31, 1956, has been about 10 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The battering the market took this week accounted for more than a third of the decline so far this year. The turnover of shares soared to 15,575,710, or a daily average of 3,115,710. This was the biggest weekly volume since the first post-heart attack week. It placed great emphasis on the decline.

★ ★ ★

The week brought the highly unsettling news that Russia had launched its space satellite, or "Sputnik," and this created a shaky atmosphere for the market as a whole.

In addition to this, there was a series of unfavorable business news — cutbacks, layoffs, lower earnings, and so on. It became apparent that the traditional autumn pickup in business was just not coming off.

Added to this were a number of technical market factors.

Nations Failing to Back UNEF

U.N. Secretary General Says Middle East Force Needs Funds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold reported today that the U.N. Emergency Force (UNEF) in the Middle East is in the red because many nations have not been paying their share.

★ ★ ★

He called it one of the key factors in maintaining military calm in the Middle East but estimated it would cost a total of 50 million dollars to keep going through next fall.

Hammarskjold described the force which was set up after last year's Suez Canal fighting as a "unique and pioneering peace effort."

He said that only $5,643,644 of the 10 million dollars requested by the General Assembly last year has been paid. All this was in voluntary contributions.

Early this year the U.N. asked for another 6½ million. Hammarskjold said it received only $586,550.

With costs through the first 10 months of UNEF's life at 14 million, that means that it is more than six million dollars in the red. By the end of the year, Hammarskjold estimated, UNEF will be $12,800,000 in debt.

Noting the "extremely limited response" to the appeal for voluntary contributions, he suggested that the financing be put on a more regular basis. He is understood to favor a regular cash assessment which would be tacked onto U.N. member dues.

NEW LOCATION — Brown Bros., founded in 1885, is now doing business at a new modern location at 704 W. Huron St. Started as a book and stationery store at 26 N. Parker, the firm is at only its third location in its 72 years. It carries a complete line of name-brand interior decorating items. Brown's former location at 4 N. Saginaw St., continues to house a book and stationery store, under new management and the name of Pontiac Stationers.

Tries to Form Government

Pinay Called On in France

PARIS (AP)—Ex-Premier Antoine Pinay tried his hand today at welding a new coalition to replace the government which his independents and peasants helped topple two weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

President Rene Coty called in Pinay last night. Two other former premiers, Rene Pleven of the Democratic and Socialist Union of the Resistance and Socialist Guy Mollet, earlier had failed to form a government.

Scattered Rains Dampen Nation's Western Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered splotches of rain dampened the nation's western half Saturday, but pleasant autumn weather was on deck from the Mississippi River eastward.

Only exception to a dry pattern in the East was a smattering of occasional thundershowers over the southern Appalachians.

Showers that had ranged through the Southwestern States Friday diminished considerably during the night in southern California but continued from Nevada and Arizona eastward into the western slopes of the central Rockies.

Warm air flowing northward over the southern Plains produced cloudiness from Kansas and Missouri into the Dakotas while scattered light showers and drizzle were maintained in the central Plains.

★ ★ ★

NATO to Select Low-Level Fighter

PARIS (AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is trying to select a lightweight, subsonic strike-fighter plane — of simple design and short range—capable of giving low-level support to troops.

Several competing models have been developed on the continent and are now being studied and tested.

Mackinac Is Newest, Costliest of 'Wonder Bridges'

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

MACKINAW CITY, (AP) — On a silvery, spidery web sweeping across the Straits that divide Michigan now hangs the newest and costliest of the world's wonder bridges.

It is the 100-million-dollar Mackinac Bridge, a thing of awesome beauty stretching five miles. Its tremendous suspension span's length dwarfs that of any other.

Rising from either shore in graceful might it bridges the Straits of Mackinac that divide Lakes Michigan and Huron, as well as the State of Michigan. Both the Bridge and the Straits are pronounced Mackinaw.

The towers from which its web of steel is spun reach up the equivalent of 47 stories from treacherous, blue-black currents. And they probe down almost half as far to reach bedrock.

On Nov. 1, or possibly a few days in advance, vehicular traffic for the first time will move directly between the big peninsulas that form the Automobile State.

With the span's opening will go a fleet of ferries that have tried and tried, but never been quite able to cope in season with traffic headed from the densely populated industrial lower peninsula to the rugged vacation, hunting and fishing lands of the upper peninsula.

The State Legislature ordered the Michigan Highway Department to operate ferries in 1923. The fleet grew to five ships employing more than 400 men afloat and ashore. One, the sleek Vacationland, could carry 130 cars and break her own ice through waters where it sometimes freezes three feet thick and windrows up to 20.

Weekend auto pileups at docks became the rule, rather than the exception, in the tourist season and waits up to three hours not uncommon. At the opening of the deer season, Nov. 15, lineups stretching back 15 miles and 24 hours of ferry waiting have happened. The ferries carried 753,980 vehicles across between Jan. 1 and Sept. 24 this year.

Before these ferries, automobiles got over, a few at a time, in railroad ferries that shuttle cars between tracks on either shore. And the railroad boats succeeded barques and canoes of the fur traders and Indians in this land of Hiawatha.

But now there is a four-lane bridge. A 10-minute drive will get you across, and the span's capacity is 8,000 vehicles—3,000 each way — an hour. All the ferries couldn't haul 500 at once and a one-way trip took 30 to 55 minutes.

Bridge traffic, however, won't be non-stop. There are toll booths at the northern end. The fee will be $3.25 per automobile, regardless of the number riding in it. Ferries charged $2.75, plus 25 cents for the driver and each passenger.

The Mackinac Bridge was built by the Mackinac Bridge Authority, a state agency, which sold $99,800,000 in revenue bonds and pledged tolls to repayment.

DESIGN BY STEINMAN

It was designed by Dr. David B. Steinman, a New York consulting engineer who has dreamed into being 300 bridges on five continents. The substructure was built by Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp.; the superstructure by American Bridge Division of U. S. Steel Corp.

It has taken four years to build and five men have lost their lives in its building. It really will not be finished until mid-1958, when finally workmen get on the 27,000 gallops of paint it takes to cover the green superstructure and the ivory towers.

Both Lakes Huron and Michigan are weather factories of sorts and the Straits nearly always are windblown. But Dr. Steinman says aerodynamics built into the bridge give it strength to withstand unheard of winds — 632 miles per hour. Highest winds ever recorded in the Straits were 78 m.p.h.

Its massive anchorages and tower piers are built to withstand ice pressures to a hypothetical, but impossible ice pressure of 115,000 pounds per lineal foot. The highest pressure ever obtained in the field was 21,000 pounds; in the laboratory, 23,000 pounds.

If a Great Lakes freighter, carrying thousands of tons, were to hit a steel-encased tower pier or anchorage, the Authority reports "the boat would probably sustain severe damage; the bridge none."

From anchor block to anchor block the bridge's cables span 8,614 feet, compared to 6,450 between those of San Francisco's Golden Gate. The Mackinac's total suspension is 7,400 feet, against the Golden Gate's 6,450.

The California bridge's towers, however, are further apart and taller; 4,200 to 3,800 feet and 746 to 552.

New York's George Washington Bridge across the Hudson is 4,600 feet between anchor blocks and it has a 3,500-foot suspension — less than half the Mackinac's.

Concrete cable anchors of the Mackinac Bridge weigh 360,380 tons — not much less than all the steel and concrete in New York's Empire State Building.

42,000 MILES OF WIRE CABLES

The cables themselves are made up of 12,580 wires, which end to end would reach 42,000 miles.

Each of the two towers that lift the roadway 199 feet above the Straits contains 6,500 tons of steel. In all, the bridge has 4,851,700 rivets and 1,016,600 bolts. Approach spans — 5,694 feet on the south and 3,610 feet on the north — are supported by 32 separate piers.

Its cost is 100 million dollars, compared with 35 million for the Golden Gate completed in 1937, and 78 million for the San Francisco Oakland, finished in 1936.

The Michigan Wonder Bridge will link U.S. 31 which sweeps up the west coast of lower Michigan, U.S. 27, which splits it, and U.S. 23, along the east coast, to U.S. 2, which swings down from Canada and across the upper peninsula to Wisconsin. All three of the former start their trans-continental courses from Mackinaw City.

Already there is talk of freeing the bridge of tolls.

Rep. Victor Knox (R-Mich) suggested that since the bridge has been designated a part of the nation's interstate highway system it could be freed by the State's contributing 10 million dollars and using 90 million in federal funds under the United States' new 90-10 aid program for this system.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie says it isn't quite that simple. The state's allotment for interstate highways this year is 16 million dollars; next year, 71 million. Diversion of any of this would have to come out of new construction allotments.

Mackie is including the bridge cost in a report to Congress showing what Michigan spent on interstate system construction before the 90-10 matching program was enacted.

Congress may or may not decide to give the states credit on interstate construction meeting federal specifications before the new program was inaugurated. All states have been asked to submit figures. Some highway experts think they'll tote too much for even the U.S. government to cope with in any retroactive matching plan.

The twin-engined Neptune came in for a landing at Adak, far out on the Aleutian Island chain, but hit the runway too hard and damaged its nose landing gear. Gunned into the air by the pilot, the plane failed to gain altitude and dropped into the water a thousand yards offshore.

The co-pilot, Lt. (j.g.) Delbert L. Brown of Louisville, Ky., drowned. Dead of exposure when pulled from the near freezing water were Lt. (j.g.) Jack C. Zenor, navigator, of Madrid, Iowa, and Neil W. Downing, a technician from Rantoul, Ill.

Posse, Bloodhounds Track Armed Killer

PAISLEY, Ore. (AP)—A posse of 16 men aided by bloodhounds were continuing to track an armed killer in the sage brush country near this southern Oregon town early today.

The gunman, whose identity had not been learned, shot and killed John T. Lawson, 60, in the $160 robbery of the Paisley Post Office Thursday, law officers said.

Aroused ranchers set up a road block and forced the gunmen to abandon their car. The captured man gave his name as Donald Ferguson, 32, of Bakersfield, Calif., he gave up after he was wounded in the arm by a log truck driver who had joined the posse.

★ ★ ★

Police said they were unable to get much information out of Ferguson about the killer. They quoted him as saying he had met the other man recently in California. Ferguson was unable to explain why they were carrying a number of guns in their California-licensed car, police said.

Shah's Daughter Weds Engineer Without Fanfare

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The only child of the Shah married a young agricultural engineer in a ceremony without the usual royal fanfare yesterday.

Princess Shahnaz Pahlevi, 17, and Ardeshir Zahedi, 25-year-old son of ex-Premier Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, took their vows in the Mirror Hall of the royal palace. It was the first time a Shah's daughter had married someone from outside the court.

The Shah dispensed with the tradition of seven days and nights of feasting for a royal wedding, saying this would not be fitting in a country of poor and hungry people. Only 150 guests were invited to a dinner party after the wedding.

★ ★ ★

Detroit Girl Accused in Strangulation Death

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A Detroit girl and four other young persons are charged in the strangulation death of a 64-year-old Canton man last August.

Each of the five was indicted on charges of abduction resulting in death, armed robbery and operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. They are Miss Phyllis Carr, 17, of Detroit; Sylvester Semedo, 22, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Thomas J. Whatley, 22, Alfred Hunter, 25, and Miss Lita Jean Ingram, 24, all of Canton.

To Mark 85th Birthday With 1,500 Mile Hike

The east Texas octogenarian was ready to start a 1,500-mile hike to Los Angeles, where he expects to arrive by early December after wearing out two pairs of shoes.

"I don't see why I can't make it," he said with a grin. "I got two good feet, two good legs and a light head."

Understudy Called in Middle of Scene

LONDON (AP)—An actress's understudy took over her part in the middle of a scene last night—and the show went on smoothly.

The understudy, Shella Mercier, was waiting. She immediately appeared on the stage and repeated Miss Paget-Bowman's previous line. The play continued without a hitch.

Build Own Sidewalks

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. (AP) — A group of property owners got fast service and saved the town several thousand dollars with a do-it-yourself sidewalk construction project. The town provided cement and equipment and the property owners did the work.

Curiosity of Youth, 13, Leads to His Arrest

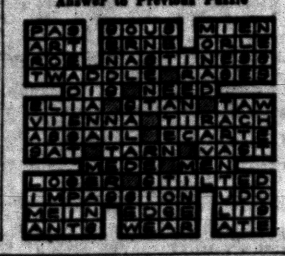

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The curiosity of a 13-year-old boy led to his arrest on burglary charges.
