Viet Cong Push Follows Floods

DOUBLE JEOPARDY — Popular folklore to the contrary, Sandra Hutchinson and David A. Escamilla see Friday the 13th as a day for celebration. Although they have twice as many reasons as most of us to fear bad luck today, their immediate concern is blowing out the candles on their birthday cake. The youngsters, both students at Mabel D. Bensett Junior High School in Holly, were born 13 years ago today.

Ford to Start Layoff Tonight Across Nation

Complete Shutdown Is Possible by Next Week, Official Says

DETROIT (AP) — Strike-plagued Ford Motor Co. starts a huge layoff of workers across the country tonight in a cutback which President Arjay Miller says may become a complete shutdown next week.

Week-old strikes by the United Auto Workers Union at seven factories, including key parts and stamping plants that feed the Ford production scheme, are held to blame by company officials.

If Ford closes all its 90 facilities, a total of 160,000 hourly workers will be laid off.

★ ★ ★

Ford, with 24,100 on strike at seven plants, announced a layoff effective tonight of another 33,500 at eight assembly operations and 16 manufacturing locations.

★ ★ ★

Strike-ending agreement was reached today by Ford and the UAW at the company's assembly plant in Dallas, Tex., one of nine which the union originally struck.

LOCAL DEMANDS

The walkouts were in support of local-level demands being made for inclusion in at-the-plant agreements which supplement the Ford-UAW national contract.

★ ★ ★

The company and union reached a new national contract Sept. 18 but left local-level negotiations hanging.

The union called its members out of nine of the 11 plants lacking at-the-plant agreements a week ago.

NO HINT

There was no indication when Ford's 1,400 assembly plant workers might return to work in Dallas, and a spokesman said in Detroit the Texas agreement in no way altered tonight's layoff plan.

★ ★ ★

The company made its layoff announcement yesterday from headquarters here almost simultaneously with a union charge that Ford's "obstinate attitude" has prevented strike settlements.

Israelis Attack Syria Positions

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli Air Force planes today smashed Syrian border positions after a clash involving tanks and artillery on the frontier, an Israeli military spokesman announced.

The spokesman said there were several casualties on the Israeli side but did not give numbers or details. There was no estimate of Syrian casualties.

★ ★ ★

The Israeli spokesman said the battle started at 1:30 p.m. when the Syrians opened fire on an Israeli patrol inspecting a newly repaired road near the Israeli settlements of Dan and Shaar Hayishuv in northern Galilee.

The spokesman said the Israeli patrol replied with light weapons but the Syrians stepped up the fire, using tanks and recoilless guns from positions in the Tel Hamar and Azyziat areas.

★ ★ ★

Two Syrian tanks were blown up by Israeli counterfire, the spokesman asserted. Some houses were hit and others damaged on the Israeli side, he added.

★ ★ ★

The Israelis said United Nations observers called for a cease fire at 2 p.m. but it was not heeded by the Syrian side.

'CALLED IN'

The spokesman said at this stage the Israeli Air Force was called in and "finally smashed the Syrian positions at Tel Hamar and Azyziat."

The clash died down at 3:30 p.m., the Israeli spokesman added.

The Dan sector lies at the northern end of the Sea of Galilee in a pocket of Israel squeezed between Lebanon to the west and Syria to the east.

★ ★ ★

It has been the scene of sporadic gunfire exchanges for years.

Job Training Now a Reality

Conceived last spring as part of an ambitious vocational-occupational program, Pontiac school officials now view their job training programs like proud parents of a healthy infant.

The vocational-occupational courses have reached the "toddler" stage, but still need to grow.

However, with 88 students enrolled in Manpower Development Training Act (MOTA) programs, job training for youth and adults is a reality.

Adding to the vocational-occupational effort are 150 students in company-financed apprenticeship courses and 340 students in regular adult education classes.

Some MOTA classes still have openings, according to Kenneth L. Huffman, coordinator of apprentice, manpower and technical ecudation.

★ ★ ★

Object of these MOTA programs is to train, retrain and upgrade individuals in skills that are needed, explained Huffman.

The federal government pays the bill for the MOTA training programs.

Pontiac schools first attempted MOTA training last year with a course for practical nurses.

Mrs. Esther Sherrod supervises the nurses program, which runs 40 hours a week for 48 weeks.

★ ★ ★

Two classes or a total of 46 students have graduated from the practical nurses program.

OTHER COURSES

Other job training courses include auto mechanics, which meets for a total of 2,000 hours, ending Dec. 8.

Huffman said there are seven openings. The course is aimed at youths 18-21 years. A 10th grade education is required.

Anyone interested in attending the remainder of the program should contact the Michi-

HOST FOR BARBECUE — President Lyndon Johnson drives Mexico's President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz to a barbecue on the LBJ Ranch yesterday. The Johnsons were hosts to the Ordaz family and party for a two-day visit.

LBJ Vows Mutual Aims

Diaz Ordaz, himself a landslide election victor who will be inaugurated Dec. 1 as the Mexican chief executive, was winding up a 27-hour stay at the Johnson Ranch.

★ ★ ★

Diaz Ordaz was to return with his wife to Mexico City after another formal session with Johnson and a private luncheon.

The order of the day was not confined wholly to business, however. There was the inevitable tour of the American President's 400 acres, with Johnson as the enthusiastic guide.

In welcoming Diaz Ordaz yesterday afternoon, Johnson said: "We are meeting here to talk together and to work together, and to take up arms together against the ancient enemies of mankind — disease and poverty and hunger and ignorance."

★ ★ ★

Diaz Ordaz responded by saying: "I am here to seal a friendship with a warm handshake with President Johnson from me and the Mexican people, and to him and through him to the American people."

The principal reason for the ranch get-together between Johnson and Diaz Ordaz was

Red Guerrillas Move Openly Into Villages

Rioting Saigon Mob Urges Overthrow of New Administration

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong guerrillas, capitalizing on the floods that have laid waste to 10 provinces, are reported moving openly from the mountains into the crippled valley villages of central Viet Nam.

Refugees from the flood told Vietnamese authorities they had been accosted by Viet Cong men and forced to tear up their identity papers.

Widespread elimination of the papers would help the Communists to move with comparative freedom through the disrupted region.

Reliable sources said today the refugees disclosed the Viet Cong movements during interviews in government relief compounds in the coastal resort of Nhatrang and at Quinhon yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Despite the floods, which have drowned more than 5,000 persons and wrecked communications, 1,500 Buddhist students in Saigon stormed past riot police today in a demonstration demanding an end to the new civilian government.

★ ★ ★

A company of airborne troops in battle dress kept the 1,500 demonstrators from marching as planned on Diem Hong Palace, where the new government and the high national council were in session.

Truckloads of troops poured into the city in a show of strength by Premier Tran Van Huong's 10-day-old government. The students then contented themselves with pushing past 40 police and entering the central market, where they shouted: "Down with dictatorship, communism and neutralism!"

Then leaders told the students to disperse.

★ ★ ★

Another band of students, armed with sticks and machetes, tried to storm the Ministry of Public Works but were repelled.

Tentative OK Given to Reserve Facility

A plan to build a 600-man, $500,000 Army Reserve training facility at the Oakland County Service Center was given tentative approval today by the buildings and grounds committee of the board of supervisors.

Following a presentation of the proposal by Ralph Manning, of Sixth Army Corps headquarters in Battle Creek, the committee moved to refer it to the county engineering department and board of auditors for further study and recommendations.

Plans for the training center include a two-story classroom building, an assembly hall which can be used as an auditorium with a seating capacity of 500, a small kitchen, offices and storage and a 300-car paved parking lot.

Manning said it is Army policy to permit public use of the auditorium by nonprofit civic groups for free-admission functions.

Manning showed the committee an architect's concept of the buildings, which are of modern design.

The center will require 3.75 acres of land. Location of the site will depend on the engineering department's recommendations.

The northwest corner of Telegraph and Pontiac Lake Road has been suggested.

If approved, the project will be put up for bids by local contractors.

The proposal has been given high priority by Army Reserve officials, according to Manning. He said construction would probably get under way as soon as plans are approved and bids are let, and it will be completed within a year.

DALE A. FEET

County GOP Picks Leader

Feet Succeeds Lyle; Name Other Officers

A 32-year-old public accountant from Madison Heights, Dale A. Feet, is the new leader of the Republican party in Oakland County.

Feet, formerly of Pontiac, was unanimously elected county chairman last night by the GOP Executive Committee, meeting in a closed session in Birmingham.

The 1964 Republican county election campaign director, Feet, audit manager for Price Waterhouse, Detroit, succeeds Charles L. Lyle. Lyle announced earlier that he was not a candidate for the post.

In addition to Feet, other officers named to the executive committee were Mrs. Daniel T. (Carolyn) Murphy, vice chairman; Chad M. Ritchie, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruth Davenport, secretary.

Active in the Republican party in Oakland County since 1960 and a member of the executive committee for two years, Feet served as the GOP director for the old 6th Legislative District.

FOUR CHILDREN

He and his wife, Marilyn, have four children. They live at 1230 Fontaine.

A 1956 honor graduate of the University of Florida, Feet in 1960 was chairman of the Michigan Week Finance Committee in Wayne County. In college he was a charter member of the Young Republicans Club.

For three years he served as the chairman of the board of trustees of the North Congrega-

Cooler Weather in Area, but No Thundershowers

The weather huffed and puffed and blew cooler weather into the area.

But, we didn't get the thundershowers that were promised. In fact, the weatherman doesn't foresee any rain until Sunday, when precipitation will total about one-half inch.

The low predicted for tonight is 36 to 42, followed by a high tomorrow of 56 to 62.

★ ★ ★

It'll turn colder Sunday or Monday, and be a little warmer Tuesday or Wednesday.

Forty-eight was the low mercury reading this morning. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 54 in downtown Pontiac.

Ex-Irish Minister Dies

DUBLIN (AP) — Robert Brennan, 65, veteran of the Irish independence battles and wartime minister of the Irish Republic in Washington, died Thursday.

Warm Response to Osteopath College

The multimillion-dollar Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine proposed for Pontiac has moved to within $53,000 of becoming a reality.

★ ★ ★

Following an enthusiastic luncheon meeting yesterday where a plea was made to Pontiac area businessmen, civic leaders and property owners for contributions, the fund-raising campaign to purchase the site for the college soared to $322,000.

While Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., in outlining the project to some 225 persons at the Elks Temple, expressed optimism that the remainder would be raised, he emphasized that the funds must be obtained by Jan. 5 in order to complete the deal.

Contributions, which are tax deductible, can be made to the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, which is acting as the agent in the transaction.

★ ★ ★

The property which the fund-raising group intends to buy and deed over to the osteopaths is at Auburn and Opdyke and contains 164 acres. The parcel is part of the Fisher Trust.

Using slides to note the immense potential of the college and its impact on Pontiac, Taylor said, among other things, that the university would have a tremendous economic effect on the community.

It would bring 6,462 more people to the community and 1,638 more schoolchildren; there would be $12.5 million more in personal income and more than $4 million in additional bank deposits.

Projected figures indicate that there would be about $6 million more in retail sales annually, according to Taylor.

★ ★ ★

Some 54 new retail stores could be built, providing an additional tax base for Pontiac of $13.4 million.

Taylor said the deed to the Michigan osteopaths would contain a clause reverting the land back to the purchasers if students were not matriculated by a given date or if construction on the college had not been started by a specified time.

Presently, construction of the college is expected to begin in early 1966 with its doors opening to students by 1968.

Within a four year period the university would produce 229 medical students and 51 post graduate students.

A 440-bed hospital, employing some 1,200 persons, is also planned for the site.

CIVIC-MINDED GATHERING — Over 200 persons yesterday attended a luncheon at the Elks Temple to hear a progress report on the proposed Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine for which a site is sought in Pontiac. Following the meeting, where a number of contributions were made, it was announced that $53,000 remains to be raised to purchase the college site at Auburn and Opdyke.

LBJ Margin 15.6 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has a record lead of 15.6 million votes over Sen. Barry Goldwater as unofficial returns from the Nov. 3 presidential election continue to trickle in.

★ ★ ★

All but 870 of the more than 175,000 voting units having reported, the unofficial vote is: Johnson 42,374,405, Goldwater 26,731,717.

The President has 61.1 per cent of the presidential vote of 69,306,122, including some 200,000 votes cast for Democratic electors in Alabama who were not pledged to Johnson.

With 270 needed to win, Johnson rolled up 486 electoral votes by carrying 44 states and the District of Columbia. Goldwater got 52 with six states.

★ ★ ★

When the still uncounted absentee ballots and third party votes are added about a month from now, the official vote is expected to be close to 70 million compared with 68.8 million in 1960.

East, Midwest Looking West for Drought Relief

By The Associated Press

Residents of the dry East and Midwest, gripped in a deepening drought and taking emergency water conservation measures, today looked to the West for relief.

There were no moisture problems west of the Rockies where storms have dumped copious rain and snow for more than a week. The Weather Bureau said that storm center was ready to spread out on the plains.

A shift of rainy, snowy weather to the eastern drought region from the Rocky Mountains was a possible prospect for next week, the Weather Bureau said.

There was a spread of cooler air which generated some moisture in the Upper Great Lakes region and along the Appalachian highlands. During the night, London, in eastern Kentucky, received about half an inch of rain.

This precipitation, though, was very little compared with the storm which covered most of the great basin with one to five inches of new snow and heaped 14 inches on West Yellowstone, Mont.

Very dry conditions continued from the central Mississippi Valley and some plains sections to the Atlantic Coast.

Forest fires raged, communities sought emergency aid and winter crops wasted away in the warm, sunny autumn. Officials said the drought would cost farmers and other citizens millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

Some communities began drawing water from recreational lakes. Farmers were using tank trucks to haul water to their fields.

Some rain eased the dry spell slightly in the Midwest, but one farmer said, "it (the rain) just didn't begin to soak in."

A four-day rain and snow storm in northern California began tapering off Thursday night. Most of the West Coast was soaked. Other parts of the Northwest lay under show.

★ ★ ★

The New Jersey Conservation Department has directed water suppliers to report to state agencies every other day on the water supply so that state can take emergency action when warranted. Officials said there is enough water on hand for 38 days.

CLASSES FREE OF CHARGE

Anyone who enters these classes now may do so without charge, said Huffman.

Other MDTA programs include a welders class running 18 weeks and a stenography course ending Aug. 31, 1965.

Pontiac schools' vocational-occupational program incorporates an apprentice school, a four-year training course in a specific trade.

Local industrles finance the apprentice instruction, which graduates journeymen tool and die makers, pipe fitters, electricians, machine maintenance personnel and auto mechanics.

Adult education is another area of training for youth and adults. Headed by Roy M. Gallpo, the night school classes include those toward a high school diploma, personal improvement in office skills and trade extension.

A new term of adult education begins in January.

Chou Finishes Kremlin Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Cho En-lai held a final round of talks today with most of the new Soviet leaders and prepared to fly back to Peking.

★ ★ ★

There has been no official word on the outcome of the secret talks that he has been holding here for eight days. The talks were the first face-to-face attempt to solve Soviet-Chinese differences since Premier Khrushchev was deposed Oct. 14.

Some non-Communist observers have taken the total absence of an official account of the talks to mean no substantial progress was made.

★ ★ ★

This impression was reinforced by publication today in the Communist party paper Pravda of a restatement of a number of points of Soviet policy that antagonize China. They included peaceful coexistence with United States and friendship with India.

★ ★ ★

Unconfirmed reports indicated the Russians had agreed to postpone a world Communist meeting, which the Chinese opposed, and hold more bilateral talks instead. The talks were reported scheduled for Peking early next year.

Stores' Donation 'Super'

Three food chain companies representing 14 local stores have been cited by Bruce J. Annett, general campaign chairman, for outstanding support of the current Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Employees of the three firms, Savon Food Stores, Kroger Co., and Wrigley Supermarkets increased contributions by 12 per cent over last year.

Annett stated that the food chain employe contribution of $8,525.50 represented an average gift of $23.46. Firm gifts of $1,700 bring total receipts to $10,225.50.

These same firms have been consistent leaders of commercial division employe contributions. Employes will receive the Pontiac Area United Fund award plaque of outstanding citizenship for the second consecutive year.

E. V. Geizer, 2714 Island Court, was elected mayor, succeeding G. Richard Jarvis, who did not seek reelection.

Thomas J. McHugh, 1485 Benvenue, freshman councilman, was elected mayor pro tem.

do little about Viet Cong activity in the flooded regions. Communications are disrupted and highways and railroad beds washed away in an area the size of New Jersey.

"This flood has hurt our communications more than thousands of tons of Viet Cong explosives could have done," a U.S. military adviser said.

"To rebuild all this," another American adviser said, "will take large engineer units. If the Viet Cong tries to interfere with this work, very large numbers of security troops will have to be brought in to secure the engineers.

"This could be damaging to other areas if we have to divert troops here."

U.S. officials felt that the Viet Cong probably got off lighter because their base areas are on high ground.

Relief supplies were being rushed in from U.S. bases in Okinawa and the Philippines.

Dates Listed for Yule Mail

Dec. 10 Deadline for Overseas Parcels

The Christmas mailing season is here again and, according to spokesmen at the Pontiac Post Office, it's later than you think.

★ ★ ★

The deadline for overseas air mail parcels is Dec. 10, warned Robert J. Featherston, acting assistant postmaster.

There's a limit of 70 pounds and one hundred inches on air mail parcels going abroad.

To find the number of inches, you measure your package around the girth, then add the length. The two must not exceed the 100 inches.

Time is also getting short for domestic Christmas mail, Featherston said. Christmas cards for distant states should be mailed by Dec. 10, and for local delivery before Christmas, mail them by Dec. 15, he urged.

★ ★ ★

Any mail for the Hawaiian Islands or Alaska must be mailed by Nov. 30 to assure Christmas delivery.

PACK IN BOXES

It is suggested that all articles should be packed in boxes made of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard.

The cardboard boxes should be wrapped securely in heavy paper and tied with strong cord.

Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. A list showing the contents and the addressee should be enclosed in the package.

★ ★ ★

Featherston also suggested that the Christmas season provides an opportunity for everyone to advise their once-a-year correspondents of their zip code numbers.

Interest in Library Increasing

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Citizen interest in library service is gaining momentum here, according to Mrs. Horace E. Sheldon.

The chairman of the Citizens Library Committee attributes the kindling of that interest to the Oct. 20 opening of the facility at 4036 Telegraph.

"Now that the library is a reality, plans must be completed for the long - range structure and role of the Citizens Library Committee," she said.

Mrs. Sheldon has called a "reorganization and planning" meeting of the group for 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the library.

Heading items on the agenda will be election of a new chairman. Mrs. Sheldon announced plans to resign following her election to the Library Board last week.

She invited everyone interested in the library and the committee's work to the meeting Sunday.

"The committee now is ready to plan how it can best aid in channeling residents' interest in the developing library program of the area," she said.

The library serves the 22,500 residents of the township, teachers in schools located here and residents of both Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Voted a one-mill operating levy in 1963, the facility now is in a temporary location. Site for a permanent building on the corner of Echo and Long Lake has been donated to the township by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Green.

BIRMINGHAM — Contemporary American painting will be discussed at tonight's Bloomfield Art Association members program.

The 8:30 p.m. program, open to the public, will be held at the Birmingham Art Center, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

Mrs. Charles Rodoff

Service for Mrs. Charles (Minnie) Rodoff, 81, of 4701 Ardmore, Bloomfield Hills, was held at 10 a.m. today at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham.

Graveside service and burial will be 1 p.m. Monday in Van Lew Cemetery, New Brunswick, N.J.

Mrs. Rodoff died Wednesday after a short illness.

Surviving are a niece, Mrs. George Limp of Bloomfield Hills, with whom she made her home, and two nephews.

Big Democratic Majority

Romney Urges Cooperation in Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has urged Republican legislators—in a minority for the first time since 1938 — to conduct themselves "in a way that merits Democratic cooperation in the legislature."

As the result of a Democratic landslide in the Nov. 3 election, Republicans now hold only 53 of the 148 legislative seats. They dominated the legislature 81-63 going into the election.

"I expect to do all I can to make it possible for Democratic legislators to cooperate fully," Romney said at a meeting of GOP legislators and legislators-elect Thursday.

He already has started a series of conferences with Democratic lawmakers, he said, "and I'm prepared to follow any procedure of cooperation they want to suggest, as long as they reciprocate"—in the cooperative moves.

"With some exceptions, I have found that people will respond to the kind of treatment they get," he added.

Several Democratic lawmakers have indicated a willingness to cooperate — one of them adding that they would not treat the minority party as shabbily, he said, as the Republicans did.

Capitol observers are looking forward to the 1965 legislative session. Some feel it will be a test for the Democratic legislature and for the Republican executive office, with public opinion the judge as to who wins.

Three-quarters of the major legislation passed this year was passed on a bipartisan basis, Romney said, "and the percentage is even higher if you include the lesser bills."

The lopsided Democratic margin is temporary, he told the Republicans. It was partially the result of the Democrat-backed legislative redistricting plan approved by the State Supreme Court last summer.

★ ★ ★

The defeat of a large number of GOP candidates was a result of these factors, he said, "and was not in any sense a personal repudiation."

★ ★ ★

The redistricting plan — "a vicious gerrymander"—will not be allowed to stand, he said, because it violates too many sound principles of districting. It even runs counter to the guidelines in the landmark districting decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, under which it was adopted, Romney said.

SMILE OF VICTORY—Here's Miss World of 1964. She is Ann Sidney, 20-year-old hair stylist and former Miss United Kingdom. Ann was picked last night from five finalists in the annual world beauty competition in London. Her vital statistics are 36-24-36.

British Beauty Wins Title

By GRANVILLE J. WATTS

LONDON (AP) — A statuesque British brunette danced into the early hours today to celebrate her coronation as Miss World of 1964.

She is Ann Sidney, 20, a hair stylist whose measurements are 36-24-36. She stands 5-foot-8 and weighs 132 pounds.

"The girls were wonderful. There was no bad feeling," said green-eyed Ann.

She collected $7,000 in prize money and screen tests.

The annual affair in London's Lyceum Ballroom usually produces considerable squabbling among contestants.

After her selection from among five finalists, Ann attended a televised ball at a plush restaurant with the 41 other contestants.

Miss United States, Jeanne Quinn, was among the 16 semi-finalists but failed to qualify in the finals.

★ ★ ★

Ana Maria Soria, 25, a model from Argentina, took second place and $1,400. Then came Linda Lin, 22, Miss Free China, third, $700; Maria Izabel de Avellar Elias, Miss Brazil, fourth, $420; and Lyndal Cruickshank, 21, Miss New Zealand, $280.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Buoyancy.

★ ★ ★

NEEDED: A rubber balloon and a pan of water.

★ ★ ★

DO THIS: Blow up the balloon, and see how difficult it is to push it under the water.

★ ★ ★

HERE'S WHY: The water in the pan is much heavier than the balloon and the air in the balloon.

The force required to move the balloon down into the water is equal to the weight of the water raised or "displaced" by the balloon.

Archimedes discovered this principle more than 2,200 years ago.

★ ★ ★

If we wanted to be strictly accurate we would have to say "the additional force required," because the weight of the balloon, although slight, would displace a small amount of water.

A collection of these scientific puzzles is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is in bookstoresanglibraries.

NASA Trying to Fix Mars Shot in Time

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The federal space agency, blaming last week's Mars probe failure on a faulty covering, is trying to fix a similar craft before the Dec. 2 deadline for another shot to the planet.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said last night scientists believe there is a chance the necessary modifications to Mariner - 4's protective cover can be made in time.

Because of the different orbits of Mars and earth around the sun, the little planet will not be in position for another rocket probe from earth until late 1966.

"We are making an all-out effort to make this launch period," the spokesman said. "We now have no reason to say we can't make it."

★ ★ ★

NASA said the 300-pound fairing, or shroud, that covers the delicate spacecraft during its climb through earth's atmosphere did not spring free of the craft as planned 5½ minutes after launch.

SOLAR PANELS

As a result, Mariner-3's vital solar panels did not unfold to convert energy from the sun into electrical power for the spacecraft.

The 300 - pound shroud's weight also kept Mariner - 3 from reaching the speed needed to send it on the 350-million mile path to Mars.

Scientists believe the one-piece fiberglass fairing was affected by the combination of the extremes of space and possibly cracked, flaked or in some other way interfered with its jettisoning.

★ ★ ★

Engineers now are seeking ways to strengthen an indentical shroud on Mariner-4 to prevent a similar disaster.

CAN BE DONE

"We believe it can be done in time," the spokesman said.

Both Mariners made up a $112-million program to obtain the first close-up pictures of the mysterious Martian surface and to make valuable interplanetary scientific measurements.

Mariner - 3, which died nine hours after launch because of a lack of power, now is in orbit around the sun.

Pope Donates Crown to Poor

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI donated his gold and silver three - tiered beehive crown today to the poor of the world.

Vatican officials said his action symbolized the concern of the Roman Catholic Church for those "who suffer misery and hunger."

The Pope placed the tiara on an altar in St. Peter's Basilica during a special Mass honoring ancient St. John Shrysostom, revered alike by Roman Catholics of the West and Orthodox Catholics of the East.

Archbishop Pericle Felici, secretary general of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, announced during the service that the Pope had decided to give away his crown after hearing the "many and grave words expressed in the council on the misery and hunger of these days."

During a council debate on modern world problems earlier this month many prelates called on the church to help achieve a balance in the world's wealth between rich and poor nations.

Johnson to Go Deer Hunting

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson goes gunning for elusive white-tails Saturday, first day of the deer season in his beloved Texas hill country.

★ ★ ★

"He'll be there, that's for sure," said Simon Burg, a rancher and peach grower across the Pedernales River from Johnson.

★ ★ ★

"That's one thing he never misses," chimed in Kerwitt Hahne, owner of a motel and restaurant in Stonewall, the little town nearest LBJ Ranch.

Nobody is sure when Johnson got his first deer — an accomplishment considered essential to achieving manhood in the hill country — but he probably began hunting at the same age as other boys. The way Hahne says it is "as soon as they're big enough to hold a rifle."

Last year, Johnson killed two bucks during his Christmas visit. He took along former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington who also felled a buck.

Johnson introduced President John F. Kennedy to the deer hunt in 1960 by shooting two eight-pointers at 600 yards. Kennedy called Johnson "the best shot I've ever seen."

A presidential deer hunt, the LBJ kind, gets under way early in the morning. Johnson uses either a jeep or a 30-year-old Ford specially outfitted to take him to a deer stand when the season opens at 30 minutes before sunrise.

This year, he will have plenty of targets. One Johnson City hunter said the deer are "as thick as hair on a dog's back."

DON'T DELAY

NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED — GUARANTEED RENEWABLE

The recent U. S. Surgeon General's Report, "Smoking and Health", leaves little room for doubt but that cigarette smoking causes lung cancer . . . lung cancer kills . . . it will kill thousands upon thousands of people this year.

Evidence, based on scientific studies of more than 1,000,000 men, shows that the death rate for male cigarette smokers is "nearly 70% higher than for non-smokers". Even more startling is the fact that, as to cancer of the lung, the death rate is nearly . . . 1000% higher!

You wouldn't drive a car without insurance because the chance of an accident is within the known realm of possibility. Now, there's no point in smoking without insuring against lung cancer because it also is clearly within the realm of possibility.

Blue Cross Life recognizes lung cancer as a dread disease and now provides the means to insure against it. Logic demands it; common sense demands it. Be the sake of your loved ones demands it! It's simple, it's smart, it's a must . . . . . If you must smoke! Remember, most men that die of cancer, die of "lung cancer".

Hearing Set on Water Main

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — A proposed $1,447,000 water main project which would serve 1,982 of the township's property owners will be the subject of a public hearing Monday.

The hearing is slated for 8 p.m. in the Gold Room at Oakland University.

Representatives of the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) will explain the proposed water system to residents and detail recommended financing arrangements.

The project will cover about eight square miles of the township, serving about half of its area.

The basic area to be served is bounded on the south by South Boulevard, on the west by Opdyke Road and the Pontiac city limit line, on the north by Walton Boulevard and on the east by the township line and Adams Road.

ALSO INCLUDED

Also included is a small triangle bounded by Lapeer Road, Walton and Opdyke, as well as mains for Hatton Road, Zelma drive and Glen Rose Drive.

Financing for the project will come from special assessments and other charges.

Ten special assessment districts have been set up, with an assessment of $330 planned for each lot, regardless of width.

* * *

CONNECTION FEE

The remainder will be raised through a $100 connection fee, which will specifically cover the cost of the transmission lines and pumping stations.

A charge of $138 will pay for the cost of "stubs" from the mains to property lines, regardless of length.

The total cost to residents on the lot who elect to connect in when the project is completed would therefore be $568.

* * *

To that must be added the expense of a house lead from the property line to the home, which is estimated to cost about $1 per foot.

NOT ASSESSED

Township Assessor Clayton Lovelace said that acreage without structures will not be assessed under present plans.

However, developers who later build on such land would be charged a flat $400 plus $100 per dwelling for connection, and would also pay the $138 cost of a "stub" to the property line.

Those who don't want to connect to the water main would have to pay only the $330 assessment.

This could be paid over a 15-year period if desired, at the rate of $22 per year at 5 per cent interest on the unpaid balance.

COST OF WATER

The cost of water itself, using a minimum volume of 4,000 cubic feet per year, would be about $48 per year or $12 per quarter, plus a monthly meter charge of 50 cents.

Quarterly payments are therefore expected, to be $13.50, which compares favorably with other areas, and may even decrease if the minimum volume is lowered at a later date, Lovelace said.

Two pumping stations are planned, both on Squirrel Road. One will be at South Boulevard and the other near Oakland University.

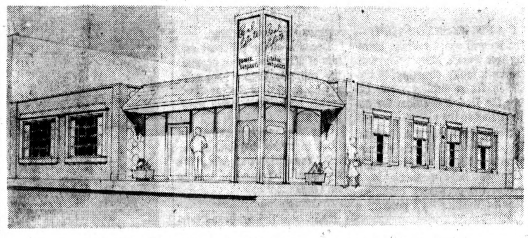

* * *

The County DPW was asked to make plans and estimate costs for the project after a number of residents and businessmen indicated interest in a water main system.

The DPW presented initial recommendations for a water main in April after a month-long survey of the township's local water problems.

* * *

Under Public Act 188, residents could prevent the special assessments by obtaining the signatures of more than 20 per cent of the property owners in the assessment area, representing more than 20 per cent of the land in that area.

Sketch Of Office Building To Rise In Rochester

Expansion Problems Face Novi School Board Again

NOVI — With junior high students just nicely settled in the new Novi Secondary School, board of education members now face the problem of what to do with the upperclassmen.

It is a question they hadn't planned to have to tackle for another year.

But the Northville district, where some 240 Novi students are attending senior high school, is growing faster than anticipated and needs its room for its own youngsters.

Northville educators "have indicated we should attempt to keep our 10th graders next year, our 11th graders the next and 12th graders the next," Novi Schools Supt. Thomas Culbert said.

Novi's new secondary building was financed by a $985,000 bond issue approved in April, 1963 after the Northville Board of Education ruled it would no longer accept Novi ninth graders.

275 ATTEND

The school on Taft Road just south of 11 Mile now houses about 275 seventh, eighth and ninth graders.

It can be expanded to accommodate all six upper grades. The junior high academic wing extends from a central facilities building which includes a gymnasium, library and student commons.

Second stage of the building would be a senior high academic unit, cost of which has been estimated at $400,000.

* * *

But things are moving faster than expected.

NOT GEARED FOR THIS

"Our plans were not geared for this rapid an expansion," Culbert said. "We thought the academic classroom addition on the building wouldn't be necessary until 1966, but now they have indicated it will be sooner."

Plan New Building in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A modern, one-story office building soon will be erected on the site of the old St. James Hotel in the heart of Rochester.

Owner Frank Shepard said the new structure will house his real estate offices and have space for two or three other professional men.

It will be built on the southwest corner of Main Street and University Drive where the old hotel stood until it was condemned and razed a couple of years ago.

Shepard said that work on the 40-by 46-foot building will start early next month. It will have a full basement and off-street parking at the rear.

The entrance-way area of the structure will have cut-stone walls and an overhanging wood shake roof. The rest of the building will be brick.

The interior will be air-conditioned and have paneled walls and free - standing partitions.

The basement will be available as a meeting room for churches and organizations.

Architect Edward J. Heins has designed the building so a second can be added at a future date.

The present Shepard Real Estate office now is located at 511 N. Main.

OK Given for Avon Gas Station

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Shell Oil Co. now has a green light for the construction of a gas station at the northeast corner of Adams Road and Walton Boulevard.

The Township Board has approved the firm's rezoning request, which changed the status of the land from general farming and residential to commercial.

The board's action upheld the recent vote of the zoning board to grant the rezoning request after previously denying it.

Despite recommendations for approval from the planning commission, the zoning board had voted 4-3 against the rezoning.

The issue dropped back into its lap when Shell asked the Township Board to overturn the zoning board's vote.

The Township Board declined to exercise its power to do so, but sent the rezoning request back to the zoning board for reconsideration, which led to the recent reversal in that group's vote.

For Oxford Twp. Library

Seek Millage Vote

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Efforts to make the Oxford Township Library a self-sustaining institution may lead to a millage levy.

The library board decided recently to work toward the goal of self-support for the library.

Petitions are now being circulated for a special election in January.

The election would determine whether the library would get funds for operating expenses and capital outlay by means of a one-mill levy.

At present, the library is given available funds from the general township treasury and minimum bills are covered.

* * *

No money is now available for keeping up with growth through expansion. Use of the facility has expanded from about 7,500 circulation to more than 30,000 expected this year.

NO FUNDS

Under present financing arrangements, no funds are allowed to accumulate in a building fund for remodeling or new construction.

* * *

The millage levy would mean $1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation for 20 years.

* * *

This would provide an adequate annual budget and money to be put toward a badly needed building fund, according to the board.

Fire Hits Barn in Oxford Twp.

Neighboring Houses Threatened by Blaze

OXFORD TOWNSHIP—A fire of undetermined origin last night razed a barn and threatened several houses in high winds.

A barn belonging to James Bartle, 1921 Hummer Lake, was completely destroyed along with seven head of cattle, two calves, some farm machinery and an unknown amount of hay.

Oxford and Brandon townships' fire departments responded to the alarm at about 5:45 p.m. and battled the blaze for an hour before it was brought under control.

The fire was discovered by Bartle's daughter, Lila, and neighbor, Ricky Knight, and was already well under way in the barn's interior.

* * *

Oxford Fire Chief Ellsworth Sage said that the barn was totally enveloped in the flames when the department arrived, and that the high winds were blowing embers toward the Bartle house and two other nearby homes.

PREVENTED SPREAD

The firemen concentrated on preventing the spread of the fire, dousing the Bartle house and the few outbuildings with water.

Fire fighters stayed on the scene until about 11 p.m.

Sage estimated damage at roughly $4,000 to $5,000, depending on the value of the livestock destroyed, and said that the loss was not insured.

Proposed Water System Is Explained to Residents

AVON TOWNSHIP — Armed with maps, residents are contacting home owners in the southeast part of the township to explain a $670,000 water main system that has been designed to alleviate water shortages there.

* * *

The plan covers water mains for an area bounded by John R Road on the west, Deqindre Road on the east, South Boulevard on the south and Avon Road on the north.

Engineers Johnson & Anderson of Waterford Township have determined that the plan is feasible, although a part of the present plan may later be discarded.

The proposed system is the result of home owners' complaints to the Township Board last March about wells running dry.

* * *

The engineering firm made a study of the critical water shortage at the board's request, and determined that it was caused by a number of factors.

CAUSES LISTED

Among them was a below average rainfall over the past five years, drainage of a swamp in the area and runoff from a gravel pit, construction of an underdrain and draining off to build the Southeast Oakland Incinerator Authority facility.

In short, water has been seeping out of the area instead of recharging the underground water table.

This created the most serious water shortage in an area bounded by John R, Dequindre, School and Avon roads.

* * *

Temporary remedies taken in May helped the situation somewhat as draining areas were blocked and rainfall increased.

But the engineers said that the best and permanent solution would be to establish a special assessment district and tie it into the Avon water system.

* * *

Preliminary estimates on the cost of the proposed system put the total cost of trunk lines at $670,000.

Johnson & Anderson suggested in a report to the board in June that part of the cost be financed through a special assessment of $450,000.

The remainder would come from a revenue bond issue of $220,000.

Job Training Rates 'A' at Farmington Schools

FARMINGTON — The school district's experiment in cooperative occupational training, only six weeks old, already has been deemed a runaway success.

So impressed were school members with initial reaction to the project that they agreed to hire a full-time employe to coordinate the office and retail portion of the program.

The move will increase by 200 per cent the staff involved in the program.

For this school year, the board had appointed Earl Baumunk, Farmington High School industrial arts teacher, to coordinate the course on a half-time basis.

But after six weeks, Baumunk asked for help in the popular office and retail end of the training. He will continue to coordinate the industrial trades portion.

ATTRACTED 21

The co-op course this fall attracted 21 students, but already there are 55 applications for next term.

Those participating carry a full academic load and work a minimum of 15 hours a week for a 38-week period. They receive a course credit for their work, are graded by their employers and are paid the standard rate for a part-time beginner.

School officials cite as a chief factor in the success of the program the construction of Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Township.

Hospital administrators have indicated they will employe 55 to 60 students on the co-op program, placing them in various departments throughout the facility.

CATALYSTS

The hospital is but one, if an impressive one, of the catalysts for the program, which school officials say is reflecting the growth of the community in business and industrial areas.

* * *

The program resulted from recommendations made by a subcommittee of the Farmington Schools Citizens Advisory Committee after two years of study.

Pontiac Press Photo

TO PRESENT PROGRAM A Gospel team from the United Fellowship Organization of Detroit will bring Bible messages in word and song to Elmwood Methodist Church Sunday evening. The 7 p.m. program, open to the public, will tell the work the team does in ministering to people in the southern part of the United States and throughout Michigan.

Junior Editors Quiz on X—RAYS

QUESTION: How are x-rays generated.

ANSWER: Early experimenters found that if you had a sealed glass tube from which the air had been drawn, with wires in each end, an electric current could pass through it.

One day the scientist, William Konrad Roentgen, was experimenting with a screen painted with certain chemicals which could be made to glow or "fluoresce."

The screen was a few feet away from a tube such as we mentioned, and the screen glowed in the dark. Roentgen put a piece of metal between tube and screen; the light still came faintly through.

Then he interposed his hand, and to his amazement saw his hand's shadow with the hitherto unseen bones clearly showing. The scientist realized that a new kind of ray was coming from the tube.

He called these "X rays" to show they were unknown. It was a great discovery — doctors could look through their patients' bodies.

Nowadays, in an X-ray tubs, the cathode or negative end is heated so it gives out a stream of electrons which are hurled at a tungsten "target" at the other end.

The atoms in the target are then forced to emit powerful X rays. Most X rays can penetrate such things as metal and human flesh. They are related to other rays, such as radio and heat rays, but have an extremely short wave length.

FOR YOU TO DO: Hold your hand next to a bright light and see if you can see any trace at all of the bones inside. You can't. You will understand, therefore, why Roentgen was so startled when he did see them.

Smoky Fire Kills Mother, 2 Children

BEDMINSTER N.J. (AP) — A mother and her two children died in a smoky fire in their home Thursday night.

Police identified the victims as Janet Bolling, 44, her son Thomas Jr., 12, and daughter Ellen, 9. Authorities said the father, Thomas Bolling, an employe of the United States Lines was in Newport News, Va., on a business trip.

The family's dog was the only survivor.

Progress of UF Drive Sign of Area Support

With three utility companies substantially increasing their United Fund contributions over a year ago, the 15th annual UF campaign has attained well over half its goal of $815,000. But neither solicitor enthusiasm nor contributor participation can diminish in any degree if the drive is to achieve customary fulfillment.

First over the budget top was the Women's Division, headed by Mrs. MERRELL PETRIE. Subscription totals of the other three divisions are accelerating after the lull due to the strike against General Motors.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac area owes a debt of gratitude to the army of volunteer workers whose faithful efforts give yearly reaffirmation of the soundness of the "Give Once for All" concept of charitable donation.

Headed by General Chairman BRUCE ANNETT and four division chairmen, some 3,000 residents make up the solicitation teams upon which the life of 55 welfare agencies depends. These estimable citizens give liberally of their time, often at expense of personal interests.

Back of the actual money-raising campaign are months of preparation. The over-all budget committee began functioning the first of the year, later supplemented by eight budget panels charged with weighing monetary requests of the agencies and making equitable allocation of the total budget.

★ ★ ★

The Press warmly applauds the splendid corps of public-spirited members of the Pontiac Area United Fund team and urges the citizenry of the community to evidence its appreciation by generously supporting the humanitarian activity.

Area School Systems Mark Education Week

Area schools this week have scheduled a varied program of events in observance of National Education Week.

Established in 1921, its purpose is to present for public view the accomplishments, plans and needs of the Nation's multitude of school systems.

★ ★ ★

Toward that end, there have been held demonstrations of instructor technique, expositions of parents' role in stimulating children's progress and presentation of special school activities.

★ ★ ★

Also programmed have been open houses at many schools and addresses by faculty members before PTA groups.

The PRESS commends community school authorities on their keen interest in the period dedicated to education and for the comprehensive programs developed to commemorate it.

Is Open Door Policy Half-Locked Chaos?

Contrary to popular belief, what this country needs is not a good five cent cigar—but an open door policy.

We mean both doors.

Old buildings are modernized, and new buildings rise, complete with modern entrances and exists.

★ ★ ★

But invariably, when there is a double door, only half of it works. The other half is locked. This is all too true for businesses, restaurants, offices, and any building with much pedestrian traffic.

Perhaps the doors don't wear out so fast, with one side locked. Maybe the owners haven't paid for both doors, and can't use both of them until they ante up.

Is it that they have so much business they want to cut it in half?

The approved technique when you run into one of these locked doors is to grasp it firmly by the handle, and shake the daylights out of it.

★ ★ ★

Then examine it closely, blocking, if you can, the single lane on the other side. Enlist some help to attempt to push it open, if it merely appears reluctant. The manager of the place can sometimes be pressed into service.

In any event, register a protest at this inane policy.

ONE reason money is so popular is that it will get you in almost anywhere and out of almost anything.

APPEARANCES are often deceptive, as some one may have said. Many a person who is putting up a good front has his back to the wall.

MANY a person has learned to his sorrow that it's far easier to run into debt than it is to outrun bill collectors.

McNamara Slips on Official Line

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—An apparent slip of the tongue by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara shows how difficult it is to maintain an official line at all times when the realities clash with that line.

"We have no plans at present to send further combat units to South Viet Nam," McNamara told newsmen in Texas after conferring with President Johnson about the budget and other matters.

It was McNamara's use of the word "further" that brought reporters up short. That word suggests the United States already has combat units in South Viet Nam.

The official transcript of McNamara's comments Tuesday did not include the word "further." Newsmen who heard the word at the time and checked on the deletion said the omission appeared to be inadvertent. A tape recording shows that the word was used.

★ ★ ★

Neither McNamara nor any other responsible U. S. official ever has said that any of the 20,000 or so American military men in South Viet Nam are there to fight.

OFFICIAL POSITION

The official position — from which McNamara never before has deviated—holds that the considerable American force has the mission of advising and helping the South Vietnamese to fight for their own independence and freedom.

McNamara gave a succinct summation of the U.S. policy line last Sept. 30 during a television interview.

"It's their war; they must win it. They must fight it, and only they can win it," McNamara said.

★ ★ ★

"We are providing logistical support, military advice, transport assistance. We are not carrying on the battle ourselves. We cannot stand in their place and fight the Communists within the borders of their country."

CLEAR EVIDENCE

The U.S. government has held to this stand in the face of clear evidence that U.S. Army helicopters equipped with rockets and machine guns have mounted attack after attack against Communist guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

This government has continued to insist that many of the bombing and napalm assaults by U.S. planes against Red Viet Cong positions and hideouts are training flights for South Vietnamese Air Force men who go along on such missions.

Crises in U. N.

Wall Street Journal

The crisis confronting the United Nations, originating in the refusal of the Soviet Union to pay assessments for peacekeeping operations, has now been compounded by the threat of the United States to withhold financial support for both regular and special functions of the world organization.

Since the UN is dependent to an abnormal extent on dollars contributed by the United States, the threat, if carried out, would cut UN activities drastically, or even paralyze them altogether, should other Western countries follow the U. S. example.

The issue is whether the United States and other members in good standing should support the UN beyond the call of duty in event the African and Asian countries, which hold the balance of power, refuse to uphold the rules against continued Soviet refusal to pay overdue assessments.

These rules would penalize the Soviet Union with loss of its vote in the General Assembly, but the African and Asian states are loathe to apply them for fear the Soviet Union would walk out of the UN.

★ ★ ★

The United States position is perfectly logical. It refuses to become party to two different sets of rules — one which would oblige members in good standing to pay and the other which would permit delinquent members not to.

The complaint has been voiced that the poor underdeveloped nations, not the Russians, would suffer the consequences if the United States withheld further contributions to UN economic aid programs.

The complaint is hardly well founded. The funds would not be withheld if the underdeveloped nations upheld the UN charter. And if they refuse to do so, the amount we contribute to the UN can easily be added to the U. S. government's unilateral foreign aid fund.

The significance of the UN foreign aid program, which runs to something over $100 million annually, is put in better perspective if it is recalled that this amount represents a relatively insignificant fraction of the billions allocated unilaterally by the United States, Western Europe and Russia.

Red Subsidies

Chicago Tribune

The United States government has announced deals to sell Communist Yugoslavia more than 40 million dollars worth of wheat and tallow on credit, including some on 17-year terms. The announcement did not disclose the prices the Yugoslavs are paying for these commodities or the amount of the subsidy our government will pay commercial exporters who will deliver them.

On the basis of recent prices and export subsidy rates, however, it will probably require more than 4.5 million dollars of subsidies to ship the wheat to the Yugoslavs, who will be getting it at roughly 45 cents to 55 cents a bushel less than prices our own domestic millers have to pay.

This is by no means the first time American taxpayers have been called upon by their government to subsidize Marshal Tito and his Red regime under public law 480, the so-called Food for Peace program. In fact, since 1954 the United States has shipped Yugoslavia wheat and flour, cotton, fats and oils, and other farm commodities which cost our government nearly one billion dollars, including ocean transportation costs.

Before Congress adjourned a few weeks ago it prohibited Food for Peace sales to Communist countries for soft currencies. The law, however, permits long-term dollar credit sales to Red nations designated as "friendly," and Yugoslavia, Hungary, East Germany, and Czechoslovakia have been thus described by the administration.

A few days after the announcement of the Yugoslav wheat deal, Red Viet Cong troops bombarded the United States air base at Bien Hoa in South Viet Nam, killing four Americans and wounding 72.

No Score

Akron Beacon Journal

If the campaign had lasted a few days longer, it could easily have resulted in a scoreless tie.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Aid Is Well-Used –to Bug Our Embassies

WARSAW — The American taxpayer, who often strains the patience of the foreign nation he is aiding by grouchily demanding that his dough be used properly, will be happy to learn that some of it was well spent on the installation of secret listening devices at our spanking new million-and-a-half-dollar embassy here.

CONSIDINE

"The Polish contractors and engineers who built the embassy with our frozen funds purchased only the best microphones," an American official told us today with his tongue prominently in his cheek.

"They did an excellent job of concealing them, too.

CHIEF PROBLEM

"We suspected from the day the embassy opened last year that there would be mikes somewhere about the place. That's standard practice everywhere in diplomacy.

"The chief problem is to keep from getting exposed.

"We had the very dickens of a time finding their apparatus, but we did."

The Polish Embassy in Washington vigorously denied the State Department's charge.

★ ★ ★

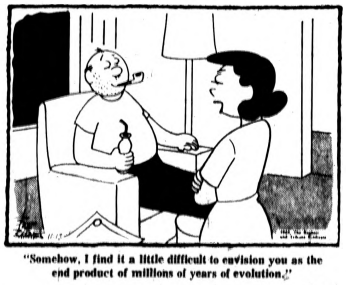

The American Embassy here is of tasteful modern design featuring white marble and much glass.

STANDS OUT

It stands out like a square wedding cake set in a field of mudpies.

The 80-year lease on the land indicates we plan to stay here for some time to come. It is renewable for 20 more years, a somewhat gruelling prospect for the shatterable building but worse, of course, for its 21st century inmates.

The Better Half

"Somehow, I find it a little difficult to envision you as the end product of millions of years of evolution."

Residents Seek Action to Reduce Speed

Residents of Coleman-Friedman subdivision want action. In the past eight months two children have been killed on North Cass Lake Road between Pontiac Lake Road and M59, within 200 feet.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Road Commission tells us 40 miles per hour is a realistic speed limit and was established in 1957. A survey in August 1962 found this a realistic speed. School was not in session, factories were down for model change and people on vacations then. This road is in front of a Junior High and one block from an elementary school.

★ ★ ★

Police recommended this speed limit be reduced. The residents ask for a 25-mile limit before December 1. If this is not done we will take it upon ourselves to slow down traffic.

Relates Feats of Nautical Achievement

With but courage, canoe and compass, two young men recently braved the uncertainties of Lake Michigan.

Parallel feats are the two men who traversed the Pacific Ocean in a dugout canoe, the two who rowed the Atlantic, Joshua Slocum's lone circumnavigation of the globe in a boat less than 50 feet, and the German doctor who battled the Atlantic in a kayak. These men dared to be atypical as they chose paths far removed from those worn thin by the prosaic peers.

Interest in Bonds From Vanished Regimes Puzzles Wall Street

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK—The bonds of some long-gone governments are worth more than the paper they are printed on. A continuing mystery of Wall Street is: Why?

Each year a large number of investors — the precise number is not known — hitch their dollars to the faded stars of Czarist Russia, Estonia or the defunct Republic of Cuba.

* * *

There is a fairly ready market for bonds of vanished governments that once ruled what are now Communist nations. Prices go up and down with the tides of international affairs, even though the tides probably will never bring the investor's speculative ship to port.

OLD BONDS

Part of the lure is that the old bonds can be bought for pennies on the dollar.

When Nikita Khrushchev was ousted as Soviet Premier a few weeks ago, Czarist Russian dollar bonds jumped from $15 to $30.

* * *

Was it speculation that the Romanovs, the Russian royal family, would be returned to power?

Brokers shrug. Even the far-out optimists among them feel that prospects of a Czarist revival are somewhat dim.

Yet the Russian dollar bonds zoomed up, reported Harry Zeeman, foreign bond specialist for the Wall Street firm of Carl Marks & Co. (The firm is not connected in any way, shape or form with Karl Marx, an indirect cause of Czarist bond devaluation.)

Russian dollar bonds are those which once paid their interest and principal in U.S. dollars — the face value of dollar bonds is usually $1,000). Also on the shelves of bond brokers are Czarist bonds which once paid off in rubles.

* * *

The glamor of the Russian dollar bond hasn't rubbed off on to the ruble bonds. Dealers don't know why. One dollar bond trades around $30. With that much cash you can buy more than 100,000 rubles worth of ruble bonds.

Another bond mystery is the trade in Estonian government issues.

ODD CASE

"Estonia's a peculiar case," said Zeeman. "Certainly it is part of the Soviet Union and probably will continue to be."

The Baltic nation was annexed by the Soviet Union in 1940. Nothing has been paid on its bonds since Jan. 1, 1941. Yet, some of the bonds traded recently at $90 each for a $1,000 certificate.

* * *

Zeeman said trading is active in Republic of Cuba bonds in a range between $200 and $300 each.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Growers, processors and scientists are scheduled to delve deeper into problems of Michigan's cherry industry during the Michigan State Horticultural Society meeting Dec. 1-3 here. The problems arise from this year's bumper crop, which left an oversupply of cherries.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Members of the Moscow Art Theatre will hold a series of seminars at the University of Michigan Dec. 4-7. The seminars will be conducted as part of a cultural exchange mission by the Soviet group.

Election Date Set to Fill Judge Vacancy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has announced an April 5 special election date to name a successor to the late Wayne County Circuit Judge Miles Culehan.

Under the schedule as outlined in the governor's call, Dec. 28 will be the deadline for filing nominating petitions, Dec. 31 will be the deadline for withdrawal of candidates and Feb. 15, 1965 will be the date of a special primary if needed.

Threat by Maintenance Workers

Mediators Confer to Avert Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — National Mediation Board officials planned to confer today with railroad union and management negotiators in an effort to avert a possible nationwide strike.

Informed sources said yesterday that leaders of six unions, with a membership of 160,000, were preparing for a strike Nov. 20 or soon afterward to back up their demands for wage increases. Such a strike could paralyze the nation's railroads.

The unions represent workers who repair and maintain railroad equipment and cars. Any strike presumably would tie up the nation's railroad network because other railroad workers would refuse to cross picket lines.

Sources said the unions' attitude favoring a strike was made clear to Francis A. O'Neill Jr., a member of the National Mediation Board, during an hour-long meeting yesterday with representatives of the six unions.

Mediation officials believed they had enough time for negotiations to head off a strike.

Involved in the dispute is a recommendation by a presidential emergency board Oct. 20 that shopcraft workers and others in the nonoperating class get 27-cent hourly pay increases over a three-year period.

The six unions called the finding unacceptable. They have demanded higher pay to widen the gap between skilled and unskilled railroad workers.

Four other nonoperating unions also have asked for severance pay for workers dropped from the payroll because of poor business.

The railroads have indicated they would reject this demand.

★ ★

Common Mart Edges to Accord on Items to Be Exempted From Tariff Cut

BRUSSELS (AP) — Western Europe's six Common Market countries are edging toward agreement over the weekend on how to negotiate with the United States on the late President Kennedy's goal of a 50 per cent cut in tariffs.

It was still uncertain whether they would meet the Monday deadline for declaring which of the 10,000 or more items they trade would not be subject to the cut. This list of exceptions is due to be deposited in Geneva, along with similar lists from other countries.

"The basic question," said Fritz Neff of the West German Ministry of Economics, "is whether a highly industrialized area like the Common Market still needs heavy tariff protection for a period of adaptation."

Neff's country, with a modern, well-equipped industry, does not. But he pointed out that some countries — meaning France and Italy — are worried about the competition from great American industrial enterprises and what would happen if a flood of foreign goods began to arrive in their countries.

★ ★ ★

Neff spoke to newsmen after a night session of the Common Market council, made up of representatives of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

THIRD OF VOLUME

As things stood when the session ended, as much as a third of the whole volume of the Common Market's imports would have to go on the list to be exempted from the 50 per cent tariff slash.

Neff said the West Germans would be content — though not too happy — if the list could be reduced to cover no more than a fifth of the trade.

Delegates said that if this figure could not be approached, the West Germans would rather get the Monday deadline postponed and try for a more satisfactory list next month.

★ ★ ★

At a meeting in mid-December the council will deal with the year's unfinished business, and an attempt will be made for a many-sided package deal.

The package would include an accord on grain prices, over which France and West Germany have also sharply disagreed.

Progress at the night meeting was small. There was an agreement on textiles — to keep raw silk off the exception list and to try for an extension of the international cotton agreement. But nothing could be done on machine tools, where the French and German positions are basically opposed. Italy stood firm on wanting all types of motor vehicles on the list of exceptions.

Experts were to work all day today in the hope of having some acceptable compromises to offer the council of ministers tomorrow.

In Oslo, meanwhile, the newspaper of Norway's ruling Socialist party reported that Norway would claim no exceptions from the 50 per cent cut on industrial products, unless too many of Norway's major exports appear on the Common Market list.

Emotions Rule Japan's Sub Protests

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The demonstrations by Japanese left-wingers against the visit of the U.S nuclear submarine Sea Dragon to Japan reflects a deep political and emotional split within the country that had its beginning on July 8, 1950.

NEWSOM

On that date late Gen Douglas MacArthur signed a letter which authorized the Japanese to set up a national security force of 75,000 men.

MacArthur, supreme commander of allied occupation forces in Japan, acted under the pressure of the Communist attack on South Korea which had started on June 25.

For the United States and MacArthur, it was an act of military expediency.

* * *

For the Japanese who had come to accept their no-war constitution and its Article 9 as the guidepost for all time, MacArthur's letter required a drastic and overnight change in thinking.

RENOUNCE WAR

Article 9 declared that "the Japanese . . . forever renounce war as a sovereign right of the nation. . . land, sea and air forces as well as other war potential will never be maintained."

The argument for MacArthur's action was that Article 9 did not rule out self-defense.

The argument against it was that with a stroke of his pen MacArthur had wiped out Article 9 and opened the way to rebirth of Japanese militarism.

The argument continues to rage.

* * *

On the one hand are the ruling liberal Democrats favoring close ties with the United States including a mutual defense pact.

CLOSER TIES

Ranged on the other are the Socialists who favor closer ties with the Communist nations, and a neutral and disarmed Japan. Naturally, their position is also supported by Japanese Communists.

Further complicating the picture is the fact that Japanese Socialists lean toward the Soviet Union, while the Communists are lined up with Red China.

A Japanese high in his country's defense councils remarked to this correspondent not long ago that the Japanese, with the memory of Hiroshima still vivid, react to questions of war or peace emotionally instead of rationally.

* * *

Certainly emotions have ruled debate over Japan's military links with the United States, and they ruled the demonstrations against the submarine Sea Dragon.

DEEP SEATED

Disregarding political left or right, there is within Japan a deep-seated pacifism as demonstrated by a 1963 public opinion poll which showed that fewer than half of those questioned favored a Japanese defense force.

This deep pacifism, combined with a manpower shortage created by Japan's rapidly expanding industry, has prevented even Japan's relatively small defense forces from reaching full strength and seriously dented their morale.

The delicacy with which the Japanese government views its position was reflected in the first news conference held by new Japanese Premier Eisaku.

* * *

He promised to adhere to the policy of prohibiting introduction of nuclear arms into Japan and promised that any constitutional changes which might lead to general rearmament would be decided "by the people."

Rocky Asked if He'll Run: 'It Could Be'

NEW YORK (AP) —"It could be," said Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York when asked at Kennedy Airport if he planned to run again.

* * *

And when newsmen asked him whether he referred to a third term as governor or another try for the Republican nomination, Rockefeller said smilingly: "Let's leave it a little open."

The exchange came Thursday at a news conference after Rockefeller and his wife, Margaretta, arrived home from a 10-day vacation in Spain.

PARTY UNITY

Rockefeller also was asked what he might do about Republican party unity. "There are 50 Republican parties, not just one," he said. "I'm concerned with revitalizing the Republican party of New York state."

The Democrats won a U.S. Senate seat from New York and control of the State Legislature in the elections Nov. 3.

* * *

As Rockefeller left the airport he was hailed by 17 Democrats sounding duck calls and wearing duck masks. They were protesting his plan for a special session of Legislature — which they call "lame-duck" — to reapportion the state.

The demonstrators, barred from the airport, had lined up along a roadway to salute the governor with duck quacks.

Goldwater Backer Resigns in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government official who campaigned for Sen. Barry Goldwater in Hawaii has resigned.

Yoshiro Kikuchi, 74, gave up the post of vice parliamentary minister of science and technology on Nov. 2, the government announced today. Yazo Kotsuke, 69, succeeded him.

The government ordered Kikuchi home from Honolulu on Oct. 31 after word of his political activities reached Tokyo. Officials felt his campaigning was an interference in U.S. internal affairs.

His Numbers Were Up

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — An unidentified gambler here was so sure of his numbers in a local lottery he placed 300 bets totaling $2,160 on 75 and 77. Lottery officials reported yesterday he won $540,000 in the Oct. 3 play.

Throws Object at Wife; Hits, Kills His Son

NEW YORK (AP) — A pumpkin hurled down in anger from a fourth-floor window by Ralph Pierro, 25, at his wife, Lorraine, missed her but struck their three-month-old son, Ralph Jr., injuring him fatally Thursday, police said.

* * *

Pierro was charged with homicide.

Boston opened the first municipal subway in the country in 1897. It cost more than $4.3 million. New York City had a privately-owned system as early as 1868.

No One Hurrying for Independence

Main Trouble in British Honduras---It's Too Peaceful

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP) — The trouble with this tiny British colony is that it's just too peaceful.

Independence is there for the asking, but no one seems in a hurry for it. This deprives the An AP Special Report colony of international attention as an "emerging, underdeveloped country."

★ ★ ★

It has no Communist threat. This disqualifies it for U. S. aid.

That, in sum, is how some British Hondurans see themselves.

NO RED BASES

"We're too well-behaved," says George Price, the premier. "We're not inviting Russia here to build bases and, instead of communism, we preach Christian democracy. So, everyone takes us for granted."

Price is a good-looking, smooth-talking bachelor of 45 with a huge following among the colony's women.

★ ★ ★

"If he were married he'd have no party," a critic said.

Since 1960 Price has bossed this Massachusetts-sized wedge of land jammed in between Guatemala and Mexico on the Caribbean coast. This is Britain's only colony on the North American continent.

Shipwrecked British seamen settled in what is now Belize, the capital. Although Spain several times sacked and destroyed the settlement, she curiously never bothered to occupy the area. Some 200 years after it was first settled, Britain got around to recognizing it as its own.

The British, disputing the existence of Spanish sovereignty over the area, point to a treaty with Guatemala in 1859 establishing the existing boundaries. The Guatemalans say the treaty is not valid.

Also by right of colonial succession, Mexico claims the northern — and richer — part of the country, including Belize. But the Mexicans, openly sympathetic with local feeling against Guatemala, have let it be known they'll not press their claim unless there is any serious consideration of Guatemala's pretensions.

★ ★ ★

Barber Armando Riverol, 35, who also sells candy and soda pop while trimming your hair, says: "No one here takes the Guatemala claim seriously. We want no part of them."

But a good, hard look at this city of 37,000 is enough to convince anyone of the long, hard pull ahead to make the colony a going concern.

This is a country of heavily wooded mountains in the south and tropical plain in the north with limited natural and human resources. There are less than 100,000 people on its 8,900 square miles.

The all-wood construction makes Belize particularly vulnerable to frequent hurricanes. The city was leveled in 1931 by a storm that left 3,000 dead. In 1961, Hurricane Hattie took 262 lives and caused damage estimated at about $30 million.

Every backyard has a giant wooden vat fed by long drainpipes attached to slanting tin roofs. This is what passes for a water system. Few homes have an interior water supply. It rains 70 inches a year. Sewage runs in open, concrete-lined canals.

"To speak of independence under these conditions is mockery," says Philip Goldson, 31, leader of the opposition National Independence party.

TRADE DEFICIT

An obstacle to independence is a persistent trade deficit — 1963 imports totaled $19.2 million vs. exports of $12.9 million. The British government covers the losses through loans and grants. The British also finance a recurring budget deficit, expected to reach about $4.6 million this year.

The United States is giving British Honduras limited technical aid in the way of 30 Peace Corpsmen and surplus food being distributed by CARE. Private U. S. investment is concentrated chiefly in a resin extraction operation valued at about $3.5 million.

Finals Are Tonight

Cadets Sing to Miss Teen-Age Hopefuls

DALLAS (AP) — Fifty-two talented Miss Teen-Age America candidates met 60 singing Texas Aggies Thursday night for a "lucky Friday the 13th" party.

They got rabbit-foot charms, plenty of wood to knock on, and wells to throw wishes down. Prizes for locating lucky pennies were troll dolls, themselves considered a good luck figure.

★ ★ ★

On this Friday the 13th, one girl will be propelled into the spotlight for a year as Miss Teen-Age America, 1965, with a $10,000-college scholarship and many prizes.

The 10 semifinalists named Thursday were Gayle Brackett, 16, Atlanta, Ga.; Carolyn Magnini, 17, Baltimore, Md.; Nancy Collins, 14, Dallas; Andrea Ayers, 16, Greenville, S.C.. Lana Karen Lack, 17, Memphis, Tenn.; Sherrel Stephens, 17, Oklahoma City; Kathleen Frances Ross, 17, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Linda Licciardi, 17, San Francisco; Diana Lee Clouse, 17, Stockton, Calif., and Debra Diethelm, 15, Toledo, Ohio.

CADET SERENADE

The singing cadets from Texas A&M University surprised the candidates Wednesday night with a serenade outside the pajama party given by the outgoing teenq ueen, Jeanie Zavrel of Falls Church, Va.

But as Aggie James Riggs put it, the serenadew as just a "formal howdy-do; Thursday night was a real mixer."

★ ★ ★

A rock 'n roll band played for dancing between bites of barbecue. Some couples wandered to the edge of the observation deck, 41 stories above the glittering lights of Dallas. And the girls relieved the week-long pageant by seeing movies of themselves.

GIRLS IMPRESSIVE

Most Aggies were frankly impressed with the candidates. Riggs said "they're real nice girls; very poised and, of course, nervous. They're friendly and having a good time, but are tired."

Before the party, some younger contestants had complained that the Aggies looked "ancient." Some Aggies had the same complaint in reverse. Tom Boyd, a freshman, said many of the girls were the same age as his 15-year-old sister — "and that's still young to me."

While the girls rehearsed for tonight's telecast finals the mamas began packing. The average candidate lugged four suitcases of clothes and cosmetics to Dallas, but with all the goodies collected while here, the mothers despaired of closing the lids again.

About 9 per cent of merchandise purchased in the nation's large retail stores is returned.

Fate of Veteran Labor Leader Wrapped Up in Bags of Ballots

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The future of veteran labor leader James B. Carey is wrapped up in dozens of dingy gray mail sacks arriving at headquarters of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

Carey, president of the IUE, is being challenged for the union's top job by executive board member Paul Jennings in the 14-year-old labor organization's first election referendum.

Ballots mailed by most of the union's claimed 275,000 members are coming in by the sackful for sorting, checking of eligibility and counting. Results are not expected to be known until next Wednesday at the earliest.

Five trustees chosen under the IUE bylaws are in charge of the tabulation. They're being aided by the union's clerical staff.

★ ★ ★

Two observers each named by Carey and Jennings also are in the counting room. Special police guard the door.

LED DRIVE

Carey, a top labor leader since the early days of the New Deal, has been the only chief executive the IUE has had since it was created in 1950 to battle the Communist-infiltrated United Electrical Workers (US).

He led the IUE's anti-Communist drive that succeeded in winning bargaining rights away from UE in most of the major electrical plants across the nation in the early 1950's.

Carey is a vice president of the AFL-CIO and secretary-treasurer of the big labor federation's industrial union department.

Jennings, who has powerful backing from the IUE's District 3 leadership in New York and New Jersey, has attacked Carey's well-known low boiling point and general conduct of union affairs.

CAUTIOUS OPTIMISM

Aides of the embattled IUE president, however, expressed cautious optimism that Carey would survive the challenge to win a new four-year term.

The union was wracked by internal dissent a few years ago when A Hartnett, IUE secretary-treasurer, moved to challenge Carey's leadership. That battle ended with Hartnett's ouster from office through the union's recall procedure.

Carey also suffered some loss of prestige in negotiations with General Electric Co., which effectively won a short-lived GE strike in 1960 by settling on the terms it offered before the walkout began.

Chevrolet, Ford in Tight Race for Sales Supremacy

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT — Chevrolet and Ford are staging one of the most interesting races in recent years in their annual duel for the auto sales leadership.

The tussle for the No. 1 sales spot was staged this year against the backdrop of strikes which hit both car-making divisions.

* * *

Chevrolet reported Tuesday it was back at full production for the first time since Sept. 25 when the nationwide General Motors strike was called, with a series of local plant level strikes following that.

Ford was hit by strikes at nine key plants last Friday and indications are that it will be at least several days before they are all settled.

MORE SERIOUS

The Chevrolet production interruption was the more serious, for it came just as the division was getting into full swing in its production of 1965 models. Chevrolet officials said last week they had a backlog of some 250,000 orders to be filled as quickly as possible when production resumed.

Chevrolet finished in the No. 1 spot in eight of the past 10 years, the exception being 1957 and 1959 when Ford Division was the top seller.

* * *

Chevrolet posted one of its biggest leads in calendar 1963 when it sold 2,210,400 cars, compared with 1,600,887 for Ford.

This year, the race is much closer. Registration figures compiled by R. L. Polk & Co., auto industry statisticians, showed:

	First Nine Months 1964	1963
Chevrolet	1,680,230	1,585,994
Ford	1,266,618	1,125,151
	Sept. Registrations
Chevrolet	147,745	104,612
Ford	131,653	83,766

CLOSEST IN YEARS

The Ford-Chevrolet registration figures for September were the closest they have been in several years. Chevrolet accounted for 26.13 per cent of all U.S. registrations, while Ford had 23.2 per cent, leaving it less than 3 per cent behind Chevy.

The GM strike was not reflected very much in September figures, as the strike came late in the month.

* * *

It will be a big factor on October registrations for it is anticipated that Ford will take the monthly sales lead for the first time since September 1961 when GM was hit by another strike.

Polk's official registration figures have not been finalized yet, but Ford Division General Manager Lee A. Iacocca reported that a Ford spot check of several areas, including Detroit, showed Ford outsold Chevrolet in October.

Chevrolet officials, whose supply of cars was practically nil during October, expressed confidence that they would regain the sales lead quickly now that Chevrolet plants are humming again.

Ford dealers, who made sales last month while Chevrolet dealers had practically no cars to offer, found themselves facing the same situation unless there is a quick settlement of the current scattered Ford strikes.

* * *

Chevrolet and Ford agreed on one thing — that they would like to see quick labor peace attained so they can get back to normalcy in the car selling business.

Bonfire Injures 6 at Pep Rally

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An exploding bonfire at a high school pep rally Thursday night injured six students.

Witnesses said the 35-40 feet high bonfire exploded when a student poured gasoline on it from the top.

* * *

Some 300-400 students were gathered around the bonfire at the Northshore High School pep rally when the accident occurred.

Johnny Crenshaw, 18, appeared to be the most seriously injured. He was blown off the top of the fire with his clothes afire. He suffered a possible broken right shoulder and burns about the hands, arms, chest and neck.

* * *

Other injured students who received burns were Weldon D. Hoya, 17, Dennis Whitmer, 18, Donovan Cundy, 17, Joe Pomledge, 17 and Mike Mason 8, an elementary school student.

Tunnel Collapse Kills 4

BOLZANO, Italy (UPI)—A highway tunnel under construction near the border between Italy and Austria collapsed today killing four workmen. The accident was apparently caused by water seepage.

According to the report made by the President's Council on Youth Fitness, 70 per cent of all U.S. schools have either inadequate physical education programs, or none at all.

Lead May Dwindle, Report Warns

'U.S. Holds 5-to-1 ICBM Edge'

LONDON (UPI) — The United States now holds almost a 5-to-1 lead over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles, the authoritative British Institute for Strategic Studies reported today.

The institute warned, however, that the 1964-65 period may be the last in which Western superiority in long-range strike power is so marked.

It said the U.S. ICBM program will be substantially completed next year while the Soviets are expected to step up production.

The report said Communist China's detonation of a nuclear bomb does not alter Peking's basic military weakness.

It added that China's nuclear technology is now apparently considerably more advanced than had been generally assumed.

The institute is a private corporation which works closely with official defense authorities in the Western alliance. It derives its support in part from the Ford Foundation.

The report said the United States will have 925 ICBMS by early next year, compared with 200-odd for the Soviet Union.

The institute's estimate for early this year was 475 for the United States to 100 for the Soviets.

★ ★ ★

In fleet ballistic missiles, including the American Polaris and its less advanced Soviet counterpart, the U.S. superiority has more than doubled in the past 12 months, the report said. It increased from 2-to-1 to 4-to-1, according to the study.

OVERWHELMING LEAD

The report said the Soviets continue to hold an overwhelming superiority in medium and intermediate range ballistic missiles with 750 of these weapons.

They are aimed at Western Europe and Japan and are based near the western, southern and eastern borders of the Soviet Union, on the Pacific Coast and in Siberia.

The Soviets also have about 1,400 medium-range bombers, the report said, while Western strength in this category has been reduced by about 25 per cent during the past year. The West leads in long-range heavy bombers, 630 to 200.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the number of tactical nuclear weapons employed by the allies in Western and Southern Europe has increased by 60 per cent in the past three years, the report said.

Other data:

● The Soviet Army now is believed to have about 140 divisions, of which only about 70 are at combat strength. The Russian Army is estimated to total 2.2 million men.

● The total active army strength of the NATO forces is 3.12 million.

● Red China can be expected to avoid those areas of conflict which could lead to a world war. But Peking may aid limited wars in Southern Asia.

● There are no signs that the Sino-Soviet conflict has led to any withdrawal of Russian forces from its European satellites.

● The Soviets are beefing up their navy, second largest in the world, with increasing attention on the submarine fleet. Russia is building about 10 nuclear-powered submarines a year.

● The number of American nuclear-powered submarines will increase from 33 early this year to 54 in early 1965.

● Russia spends $30 billion to $35 billion a year for defense. The United States spends $50 billion.

● Communist China is unlikely to develop a missile delivery system for nuclear weapons in the foreseeable future.

● The Chinese Army of 115 divisions and 2.25 million men is short of modern and heavy equipment. Most of its 2,300 planes are obsolete and spare parts are scarce. The Peking regime has about 28 submarines.

★ ★ ★

● Soviet forces in Cuba have been reduced to below 3,000 men. But Cuba has modern weapons, including surface-to-surface missiles with a range of about 25 miles.

There are 24 surface-to-air missile sites on Cuban soil, previously Soviet-manned but now believed to be under Cuban control.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban Army is estimated at 90,000 men, equipped with modern antitank missiles and T54 tanks. The air force is believed to have a substantial number of Soviet MIG jet fighter planes, possibly equipped with air-to-air missiles.

Mountain Lion Prowling England

LONDON (AP) — A lonely mountain lion stared down two British bobbies yesterday and then took it on the lam.

The brief encounter occurred at Stoke Poges in Buckinghamshire, which thus became the fourth English county to be included in the beast's roaming area. He had previously turned up in Hampshire, Surrey and Sussex.

What a mountain lion, or catamount, is doing in the south of England is a mystery. The catamount, or cougar, is native to North and South America but not to the British Isles.

There is some evidence that the roving cougar, or puma, has thought of trying to make it back to the Americas by plane — he has twice been spotted loping around the runways of an airfield at Farnborough.

Astonished golfers at the West Surrey Club in Godalming recently saw him sniffing at the 17th hole.

Near Horsham, Sussex, a woman found him scratching in her garden.

★ ★ ★

In each case the animal fled.

He turned up yesterday in the Stoke Poges churchyard made famous by Thomas Gray in his poem, "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard." Two highway patrolmen saw him and stopped their car.

From a distance of 10 feet, the policemen stared at the mountain lion and the mountain lion stared at them. British policemen do not carry guns on their normal rounds, so there was nothing much the patrolmen could do.

★ ★ ★

The mountain lion finally strode off into a nearby meadow.

TRACKER DOGS

Armed police with tracker dogs were called to the area. They found paw marks of the five-foot cat but that was all.

Testimony Given by Sammy Davis Remains Secret

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The nature of two hours of testimony by entertainer Sammy Davis before a federal grand jury in Kansas City Thursday has not been disclosed.

Davis flew here late Wednesday night from New York and went directly to the airport for the return flight after he left the federal courthouse.

★ ★ ★

Dougald McMillan, government attorney from Washington, who is handling the current investigation, said it would be improper for him to comment on Davis' appearance.

The grand jury has been in session most of this week. The only other witness before a luncheon recess was Marion Sibley of South Miami, Fla.

Cattle Rustlers Also Insulting

TUKWILA, Wash. (AP)—Cattle rustlers added insult to injury when they stole Vincent Scarcella's steers. They made him load the critters.

Police Chief Ed Boze said Scarcella reported it this way:

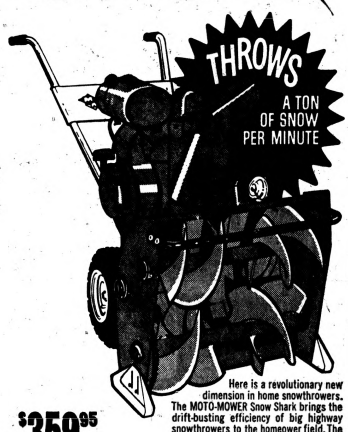

He was awakened by voices in a pasture early yesterday, investigated and was ambushed by three men with a shotgun.

The rustlers forced him to load seven steers into his own truck and drive to a lonely section of highway.

★ ★ ★

There the steers were transferred to the rustlers' truck. They whipped up the horsepower and drove off leaving Scarcella standing tall in the dust.

Budget Is $4 Million

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Libraries has announced it will ask for a $4 million budget this year, to be combined with a $2.1 million federal grant. Dr. Flint Purdy, library board chairman, said the major amount of the money would go to public libraries.

Aberdeen-Angus cattle were imported to this country in 1873. They were bred with native Texas Longhorns.

Education Plaza Planned in New Jersey

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (UPI)— the board of education has unveiled a plan to consolidate this northern New Jersey community's 13 schools on a single site, eliminating de facto segregation and the neighborhood school at the same time.

The revolutionary scheme would accommodate 10,000 students from kindergarten through junior college in a 15-acre education plaza. In addition, nursery schools for children 3 to 5 years of age would be established in other areas of East Orange, a city of 80 000 on the outer fringer of metropolitan New York.

William L. Hoffman, school board president, said the concept of an education plaza was prompted by the "learning demands of the nuclear space age." But he noted that an important by-product would be the end of de facto segregated schools in predominantly Negro areas.

Although the elaborate proposal is the first of its kind formally advanced by a school board in the United States, studies of similar plans are under way by boards in New York, Pennsylvania and Florida.

★ ★ ★

At a news conference, Hoffman formally announced the proposal but declined to estimate its cost. He said the total cost would not be far greater than funds needed during the fore, not be as costly to the taxnext 15 years for additions and renovations to present school facilities.

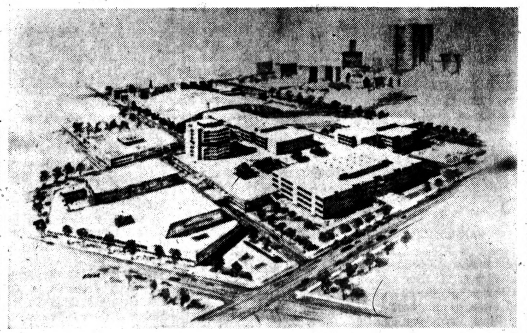

NOT AS COSTLY

"This new plan will, therefore, payer as sinking good money after bad buildings," said Hoffman.

He also noted that the plan calls for the sale or lease of present school facilities, thus adding to the city's revenue-producing ratables. He pointed out that some of the cost might be borne by governmental agencies and educational foundations.

★ ★ ★

Hoffman estimated the plaza could be completed in seven stages within 12 to 15 years.

'A Little Worried About Sharks' —Rescued Flier

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force pilot — plucked from choppy waters of the Gulf of Mexico 40 hours after parachuting from his crippled jet — said today he was "just a little bit concerned" when sharks circled him.

★ ★ ★

"But I hung motionless in the water and they didn't even brush against me," said Capt. Paul Shook, 36, of Merriam, Kan., after his rescue Thursday.

★ ★ ★

A Coast Guard spokesman said the rescue was "a miracle; unbelievable luck."

★ ★ ★

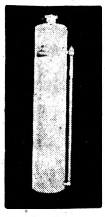

Shook was spotted floating in darkness 85 miles southwest of Fort Myers by the Coast Guard cutter Ariadne. He was suffering from exhaustion and exposure.

Ball to Talk With Germans on NATO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball flies to Germany today to confer with West German leaders on U.S.-European relations and divisions in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ball's mission fits into a pattern of consultations among allied leaders on a variety of Atlantic alliance problems ranging from economic difficulties to the critical dispute over proposed formation of a seaborne NATO nuclear weapons force.

* * *

Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred with Netherlands and Belgian leaders here last weekend. Rusk is scheduled to attend a conference of NATO foreign ministers in Paris in December.

West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe Von Hassel is in Washington talking with Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other officials about the nuclear force issue and other defense problems.

TO SPEAK TO CONFERENCE

Ball is scheduled to fly from Frankfurt to West Berlin Saturday to speak to the Fourth German American Conference, an assembly of distinguished citizens of both countries. He will also meet with Mayor Willy Brandt Saturday and attend the closing session of the German American conference on Sunday morning.

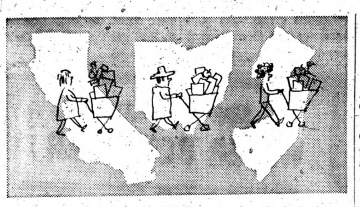

On Sunday afternoon Ball will fly to Bonn, the West German capital, where on Monday morning he will confer with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder. Tuesday morning he is due to confer with Walter Hallstein, president of the European Common Market. He will return to Washington in midweek.

* * *

Ball's major concern, officials said, is to urge settlement within the Common Market of differences over an agricultural pricing policy. Resolution of this dispute, primarily between West Germany and France, is considered essential to the successful negotiation later on of a tariff cutting agreement between the six-nation Common Market and the United States.

Elected Man Dies

LUDINGTON (AP) — Not a candidate for reelection Nov. 3, Mason County Treasurer John A. Butz may remain in office for as long as he wishes, according to County Clerk Jerome Jorissen. Treasurer - elect Fred Adams, 58, who would have taken office Jan. 1, died Monday after a heart attack.

Accused of Adopting Beatle Cut

Prince Charles Resentful of Criticism

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles — 16 Saturday — is developing into an independent, conscientious and sensitive young man highly aware that one day he will be a king.

★ ★ ★

The heir to the British throne has grown up in the relentless glare of publicity. Yet he is extremely self-conscious about criticism, the kind he thinks is an invasion of his privacy.

★ ★ ★

Prince Charles' royal features were ruffled recently when some newspapers accused him of adopting a Beatle haircut. He is reported to have said, with the wounded feelings of an introspective schoolboy: "Beatle haircut, nothing. I was wearing my hair the way I do before the Beatles were heard of."

He was correct.

HAIR ABUNDANT

His dark chestnut hair is abundant and not easily controlled.

Charles is much in favor of the Beatles, however. More than a year ago the corridors of Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle and Balmoral Castle were echoing with the quartet's blasts.

★ ★ ★

The banging and wailing came from the prince's room, from records he had bought at school, paid for from his hardly lavish pocket money.

When he is away from his school, tough Gordonstoun up in Scotland, the prince takes his records with him. He also owns a guitar.

PRINCELY ANGER

The longish royal hair is said to have caused a bit of princely anger down in Athens in September when members of Britain's royal family arrived for the wedding of King Constantine to Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark.

A strong wind was whipping across the airport and it happened to be at the hatless prince's back. Pictures showed him squinting into the sun, his hair in wild disarray.

Court sources said he was not amused.

Charles' head got him into trouble once before. When he was at Cheam School and was answering questions at a geography lesson, he is said to have told schoolmates: "But I do know Malta. I've been there several times. In our ship."

BIG HEAD

"Big head," muttered a chum.

The next thing Prince Charles knew he was getting the business, the traditional business for showing off.

★ ★ ★

He was thrown to the ground after class and several boys in rapid succession sat on his head.

At Cheam this ancient process is called "shrinking the nut," the nut meaning the head.

BEST IN GEOGRAPHY

Charles' best subject is geography, in which he seems genuinely interested. He is also a good sailor. His worst subject is French.

At the queen's and Prince Philip's orders the young prince is called Charles by his schoolmates and friends. Palace servants also address him as Charles. His parents have laid much emphasis on his being treated as other boys. He is given the same spending money as the majority of his schoolmates.

★ ★ ★

For a 16-year-old boy he is an unusually good conversationalist with surprising poise.

If he has a girlfriend, this is a well kept secret.

Without question he will become in a few years one of the world's most eligible young men.

Osceola Goes Dem for the First Time

REED CITY (AP) — Discovery of a 125-vote tabulating error in one precinct has placed Osceola County in the Democrat presidential column for the first time in history, spokesmen reported Thursday.

★ ★ ★

County Democratic Committee Chairman William Landrum discovered the error in the Marion Township presidential results and notified County Clerk Carl Wyman.

The board of canvassers, reviewing the matter, upheld the claim, giving President Johnson 2,891 votes and Barry Goldwater 2,779.

Tourists Only Forgot Their 3-Year-Old Son

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—It wasn't trading stamps or change that a motorist forgot when he pulled out of a local service station.

Attendant Larry Jones had to dash after some tourists when he saw their 3-year-old son emerge from a rest room just as the parents' car was driving away.

Pendulum Has Reversed on Great Lakes Water Problem

By BILL EASTHAM

Thirteen years ago a conference of business and professional people interested in the Great Lakes was called to discuss the high-water problem.

The abnormally high "tides" around Michigan's 3,000 miles of shore line were flooding boat marinas, washing the footings and underpinnings from beneath homes and cottages, carrying away small docks and disrupting commerce in the state's principal ports.

High water damage in 1952 was estimated at $61 million.

Recently a similar conference was called. But this time the problem was different — and the stakes higher.

Albert J. Meserow, a Chicago attorney who is chairman of the eight - state Great Lakes Commission, estimates that low water in the Great Lakes will cost commercial fishermen, shipping lines and recreational interests $100 million this year.

PROPERTY VALUE DROPS

His estimate does not include the devaluation of lake - front residential property, the disappearance of sport fishing waters and the disruption of waterfowl nesting grounds.

Speaking at the conference of some 200 representatives of Great Lakes interests in East Lansing, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley said:

"These low lake levels confront us with an emergency the seriousness of which cannot be overestimated."

According to the September bulletin of the U.S. Lake Survey Division of the Army Corps of Engineers, Lakes Michigan and Huron are at their lowest level in the 104-year history of lake level records.

Variations in the levels of Lakes Michigan, Huron and St. Clair are shown in the graph below.

The two lakes which border most of Michigan's shore line are 12 inches below the levels shown on navigation charts, 2.3 feet below the 10-year average and nearly six feet below the all-time high of 1876.

Lakes Erie and Huron are also far below normal, as is Lake St. Clair.

SERIOUSLY AFFECTED

Lakes Michigan and Huron, the most seriously affected by a 3½-year drought in the Great Lakes Basin, have had record low average readings for nine consecutive months.

★ ★ ★

And the downward trend isn't expected to halt for at least another six months, the U.S. Lake survey reports.

Lake Superior is the only one remaining anywhere near its normal level.

In fact it is preventing the other Great Lakes from drying up faster by providing 90,000 cubic feet of water per second for diversion through the St. Mary's River into Lake Huron.

★ ★ ★

But this is "a drop in the bucket" according to engineers who say it would take an inflow of 480,000 cubic feet per second for a month to raise the level of Lakes Michigan and Huron one foot.

St. Lawrence Seaway traffic, the Port of Detroit, and the Soo Locks are maintaining normal operations. But elsewhere conditions aren't so good.

The list of problems generated by the Great Lakes water shortage is endless. The proposed plans for their solution are few—and expensive.

The Grand Canal project is the most talked-about. It calls for reversing the flow of the Harricanaw River, which flows northward into James Bay in Ontario.

★ ★ ★

A series of canals would be used to divert 100,000 cubic feet of water per second into Georgian Bay, which is connected to Lake Huron. Estimated cost: $1.2 billion.

The most ambitious plan proposed thus far calls for a system of canals and reservoirs running from Alaska to Mexico, dumping water into Lake Superior along the way.

Some experts believe the answer to the problem lies not in obtaining more water for the Great Lakes but rather in controlling what is already available.

Natural overflow, human consumption and evaporation combine to drain the Great Lakes of 704,000 cubic feet (5,266,000 gallons) of water per second.

★ ★ ★

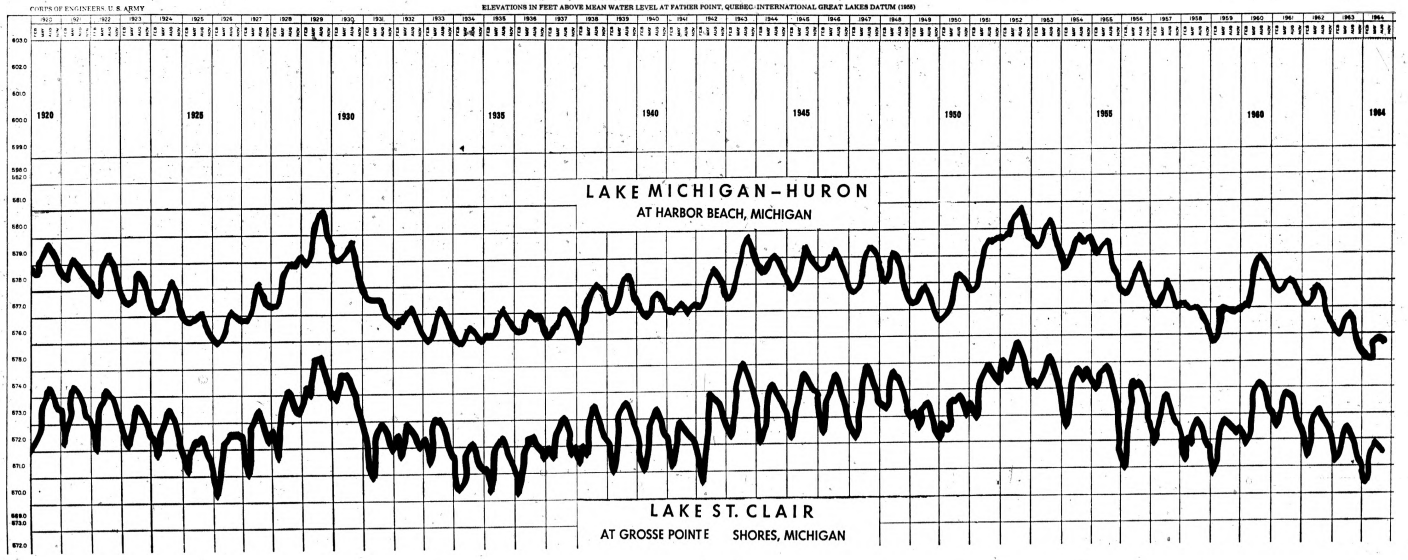

But construction of locks and dams to control the outflow of Lakes Michigan and Huron alone would cost $1 billion, according to G. B. Langford, director of the Great Lakes Institute at the University of Toronto.

POINT TO CYCLES

The only ones who are optimistic about it are the U.S. Lake Survey people, who point out that low-water cycles have been followed by high-water cycles throughout their 104 years of record-keeping.

However, Great Lakes shipping, commercial fishing and recreational interests can't be expected to take a $100 million loss lying down.

If the situation doesn't start to improve pretty soon, either through the works of nature or man, the whole Midwest is going to feel the economic pinch.

Along With Property Value

Lake Levels Dropping

There's a lot of talk nowadays about water shortage — a problem that grows more serious as the population increases.

The emphasis is usually on the steadily increasing demand for water for industrial and domestic use.

Hundreds of Pontiac area lake-shore residents are viewing the water shortage from a different angle, however.

Most of the county's 400 lakes are slowly drying up. And as the water level goes down, so goes the value of lake-front property.

★ ★ ★

The recreation potential of many area lakes has also been seriously hampered by the low water levels.

★ ★ ★

Submerged weed beds that once produced good catches of bluegills have become unsightly patches of cattails and willows.

DANGEROUS DROPOFFS

Shallow, sand-bottomed water where children once swam has receded to dangerous dropoffs or muck.

The whole problem, of course, has been brought on by a protracted lack of rainfall, not onl yin Oakland County but all over Michigan and the entire Great Lakes area.

Oakland County Drain Commission figures show rainfall totals of 21.6, 29.5, 25.2 and 20.9 inches for 1960 through 1963.

★ ★ ★

"Normal" annual rainfall for the area is between 30 and 31 inches, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

INCREASED USE

The lack of rainfall, plus increased use of ground water, has also caused a lowering of the underground water table, which indirectly affects lake levels.

The problem of low water tables can only be solved by nature. Solution of the county's lake-level problem, too, is dependent in large measure on the amount of precipitation we receive in the next few years.

But Mother Nature is being given an engineering boost on many area lakes by the drain commission.

In 1961 the Michigan Legislature passed an act which permits special assessment districts to be established to finance lake-level control projects.

PRIVATE SUBSCRIPTION

Heretofore, the only way to pay for such projects was through private subscription or establishment of a drainage district, a complicated and not always legal procedure when used in a lake development or reclamation program.

The new law cleared the way for worried lake-shore dwellers to start doing something about their disappearing lakes.

The procedure is relatively simple. A petition bearing the signature of two-thirds of the property owners on a lake is all that is needed to start action on a lake-level project.

★ ★ ★

Once the petition is determined to be legal and valid, the drain commission orders preliminary engineering studies on the lake to determine what the normal level should be.

AMOUNT OF BENEFIT

The legal level is then set by the Circuit Court and a special assessment district established, with each property owner assessed according to the amount of benefit he will receive from the project.

From that point on, the routine is the same as any other public works project. Final studies are made, specifications drawn up, bids taken and contracts awarded.

Before contracts are awarded, however, a public hearing is held so that any property owner affected by the project may appeal his assessment.

★ ★ ★

If there is any objection, the project is held up until a board of review examines the assessment of dissenting property owners.

PROJECTS STARTED

Projects have been started on some 30 major lakes in the county since the new act was passed.

Most are designed to restrict the outflow of water.

A few are designed to bring more water into the lake, either with pumps or diversion from another source.

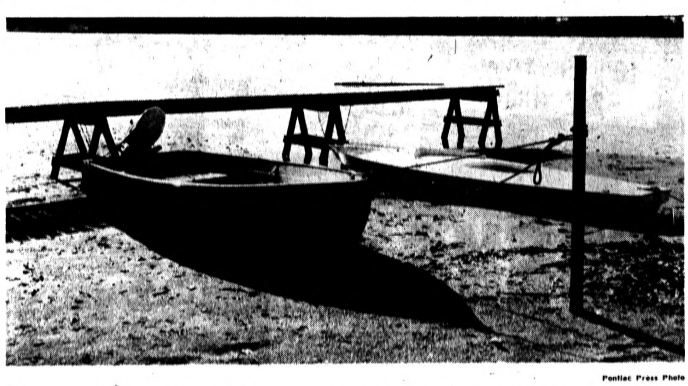

All are designed as permanent, long-range projects which will benefit shore line residents for many years.

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry said few can be expected to show immediate results, but all will eventually accomplish the purpose for which they were planned — making the county's lake shores a pleasant, healthy, safe place to live.

Common Oakland County Scene: Old Mooring Turned Dry Dock

Lake at Camp Oakland Made 'Handsome' Again

Handsome Lake, located at Camp Oakland in Oxford Township, is once more a handsome lake.

Three months ago it was little more than an unsightly mudhole, suffering from a current malady common to most Oakland County lakes — lack of rainfall.

The 50-acre lake is now almost back up to its original level, thanks to a 12-inch well and pump provided by the generosity of the camp's sponsors and the muscle-power of some of its residents.

The success of this do-it-yourself - type lake level project is evident in the photos at right.

★ ★ ★

Camp Oakland is located on a 300-acre site near Oxford. Its facilities provide permanent homes for some 36 juvenile wards and an annual summer camping experience for upwards of 400 underprivileged boys and girls from Oakland County.

DRYING UP

During the past decade Handsome Lake has been slowly drying up.

Camp Supt. William Matus estimates the lake level had dropped seven feet. Children played under docks and fishing piers which stood on dry ground or high out of the water.

Oakland County Drain Commission engineers studied the situation and decided the best solution was to sink a well near the lake and pump water into it.

However, cost estimates for the project ranged as high as $30,000 — a discouraging figure.

Encouragement came in the form of S. H. Niedjelski, a Pontiac drilling contractor, who offered to sink a test well at no charge.

SUPERVISORS RELIEVED

The drilling rig struck water on the lake shore at 210 feet, a relatively shallow depth, and the camp supervisors heaved a sigh of relief.

Niedjelski then proceeded to sink a 12-inch casing and install a pump in a pumphouse built by the Camp Oakland boys.

The whole project, including the first month's electricity bill, cost less than $8,000 and was financed by donations.

The pump started pouring 500 gallons of water a minute into the lake on Aug. 24. Round-the-clock pumping was discontinued recently when the waterlevel returned almost to normal.

Next year's crop of summer campers will be able to enjoy the fun of fishing, swimming and boating that had threatened to become a thing of the past at Camp Oakland.

Huge Hotel to Play Host for Last Time

CHICAGO (AP) — The Reeces were just as happy today as they were on their honeymoon in Chicago 45 years ago — but that was about the only thing that hadn't changed.

The city's skyline has mushroomed, Russell Reece's waistline has expanded and Lillian Reece's hair has turned gray.

★ ★ ★

The Morrison Hotel, where the New Providence, Iowa, couple honeymooned in 1919, had been expanded — but will be demolished beginning next month.

★ ★ ★

When Reece learned last week that the Morrison was to be razed, he wrote the hotel and asked for a memento such as a towel or ash tray.

LETTER ARRIVED

The letter came to the attention of Lester and Samuel Winternitz, president and vice president of the auctioneering firm disposing of the hotel's furnishings.

They invited the Reeces to be their guests and the last to leave when the hotel closes to the public Saturday morning.

★ ★ ★

"I was shocked when they called us," Mrs. Reece said. "The tears just rolled down my husband's cheeks."

After the other guests leave, Lester Winternitz said, the Reeces will tour the 46-story hotel and have their choice of furnishings as their memento.

A SMALL ROOM

On their honeymoon, the Reeces occupied a small room on the fifth floor. Now they have a two-bedroom suite on the 12th floor, complete with bar.

The lobster supper they had on their wedding night cost $7.50, Reece recalled, and brought this comment from his bride: "We'll probably need that sometime for groceries."

Wednesday night they dined on steak and shrimp in a restaurant atop the 526-foot building.

The return to Chicago was well-publicized, but not in the same way as their honeymoon. Reece, now 75, said he accompanied a load of cattle by train to the city in 1919, where his bride met him so they could be married quietly.

FRIENDS KNEW

Then, however, the Associated Press published lists of out-of-towners married in Chicago, and when they returned to Iowa their friends knew of the elopement.

For today's newlyweds, Reece, has this advice: "Don't both get mad at the same time."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Reece, who says she is older than her husband, said only: "I wouldn't be able to give any advice, because life is so different now."

Cart Before the Tax

CIRENCESTER, England (UPI) — Agriculture students Nigel Crosserley and Ian Peill protested against the government tax increase on gasoline by riding to college yesterday in a pony and cart.

About one million Ohio homes are heated by coal.

Almost 16 per cent of the television sets expected to be sold this year will receive color programming. These 1,300,000 color receivers will be a 70 per cent gain over 1962.

NEW RUSSIAN TEAM

LEONID I. BREZHNEV
Party First Secretary

Khrushchev, Brezhnev, Mikoyan and Kosygin view Moscow parade.

Brezhnev greeted by tribal chieftain during state visit to Ghana.

Brezhnev and Josip Tito of Yugoslavia clink glasses in 1962 Belgrade meeting. Brezhnev was on goodwill tour for Khrushchev.

Ruling in the wake of Nikita Khrushchev's dismissal are two of his former chief deputies: Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin. For the time being, they are espousing their predecessor's peaceful co-existence line with a slightly less antagonistic attitude toward Red China.

As first secretary of the Communist Party, Brezhnev, 57, is in the Kremlin's seat of power. Born of working class parents in the Ukraine, he went to work in a steel mill at 15. He attended agriculture school and later took a degree in metallurgical engineering.

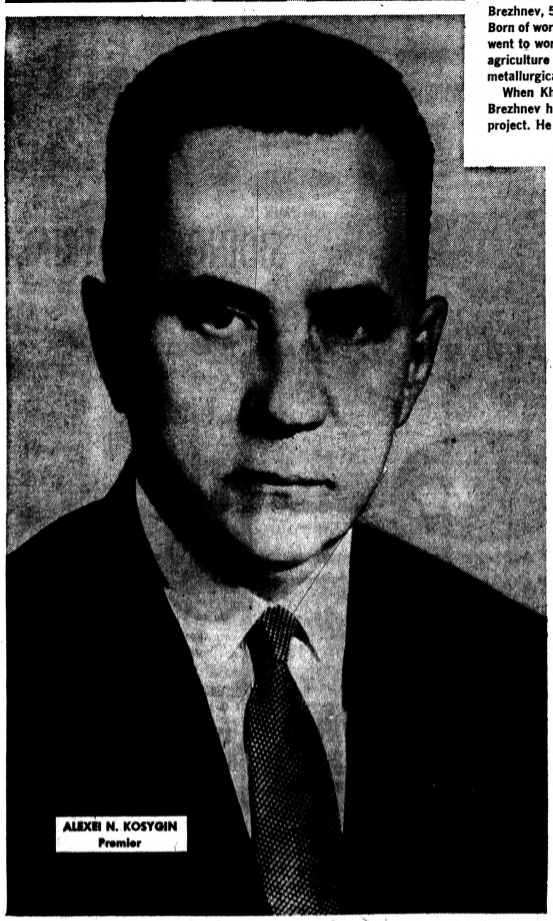

When Khrushchev assumed supreme power, Brezhnev headed the virgin lands development project. He later succeeded in a series of troubleshooting jobs and was rewarded with promotions in the party. By 1960, he was President of the USSR and was prophetically regarded as Khrushchev's heir-apparent.

Premier Alexei Kosygin, 60, is the son of a Leningrad machinist. He joined the Red army at 15, fought in the revolution, and what formal education he has, he got at the Leningrad Textile Institute.

His quiet, almost timid, demeanor won Stalin's trust and he rose rapidly through the party ranks. He was mayor of Leningrad at 34 and held other important posts in Moscow.

He lost his seat in the Presidium in the Stalin purge of the "Leningrad gang" but continued in ministry positions in finance, light industry, consumer goods and planning. Khrushchev readmitted him to the Presidium in 1960 and promoted him to first deputy premier.

In the Soviet power structure, the party secretaryship is the key post since the party dominates the government. In the past, Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev each ruled monolithically, absorbing the post of premier from their positions of party secretary. Measured against this yardstick, the tandem rule of Brezhnev-Kosygin may well be transitional pending an intramural power shuffle in the Kremlin. As first secretary Brezhnev has the historical advantage, but Kosygin has more experience in surviving purges.

Below: Kosygin and Brezhnev raise hands to acknowledge cheers of crowd attending 1960 appearance in Moscow's Sports Palace.

In Italy for trade talks, Kosygin was greeted at Rome airport by Italian oilman Enrico Mattei.

Teen Gang Says Burglary Ideas Came From TV

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Police said 12 high school students, accused of organizing a highly stylized burglary gang, say they got the idea from the new television series, "The Rogues."

★ ★ ★

The boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were rounded up Thursday. Sheriff's deputies said the boys admitted 29 burglaries in the surrounding area, taking in a haul of about $3,500 in money, jewelry, cameras and television sets.

★ ★ ★

The teen-agers also called themselves "The Rogues," after the television series which deals with a group of sophisticated, international criminals.

★ ★ ★

Six were held on suspicion of burglary. The others were released to their parents.

British May Sell Buses to Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Britain's Leyland Motors is negotiating in Peking to sell the Chinese Communists the same type of buses Leyland has sold to Cuba.

★ ★ ★

Donald G. Stokes, Leyland's managing director, said general prospects for a deal are good. He said that an even greater number of heavy duty trucks might be sold to China.

Leyland has contracted to supply Fidel Castro's government with 950 single-deck buses for $24 million, plus $1.2 million worth of spare parts.

★ ★ ★

The United States strongly opposed the Cuban bus deal and said boycott reprisals would be invoked against vessels carrying buses to the Communist island. The British government refused to interfere, saying buses were not on the list of embargoed strategic goods.

'Rails Factor in Location of Industry'

LANSING (AP)—A community with inadequate rail service "in many instances would be absolutely eliminated from consideration by a company seeking a location," a Consumers Power Co. official said Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Horace Brewer, director of area development for the outstate utility company, testified in hearings before Hyman Blond, hearings examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, over proposed rail abandonments in northern and western Lower Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads have asked permission to abandon some 280 miles of track, and the Mackinac Transportation Co.—owned by the two railroads and the Soo Line—seeks to discontinue rail ferry service across the Straits of Mackinac.

The hearing, originally expected to end this week, may be extended for rebuttal by the railroads and the state. The state is fighting the proposed abandonments.

PRIME FACTOR

Because of northern Michigan's large mineral deposits and lumber resources, Brewer said, the availability of rail service is a prime factor in the location of new industry.

"In the wood and lumber industries, we have found that—aside from the availability of the raw material—availability of railroad service is the number one factor considered in making a decision where to locate," he said. "The same principle would hold true for most industries dealing in a heavy bulk product."

★ ★ ★

Consumers, which has built a $27 million nuclear reactor plant near Charlevoix to generate electricity, "is directly dependent upon the economic well-being of outstate Michigan," he said, adding:

"It is my personal opinion that the abandonment of the rail lines here involved would seriously limit the industrial and economic growth of this broad area."

★ ★ ★

Representatives of railroad and maritime unions said the proposed abandonments would immediately affect approximately 145 workers, including some 116 railroad workers and about 29 employes of the straits ferry, the Chief Wawatam.

Capt. Michael Bishop, skipper of the ferry for 15 years before his retirement last Jan. 1, said the hull and engine are in excellent condition.

COURT MEETING—Singer Vic Damone sits in a Santa Monica, Calif., courtroom with his present wife, actress Judy Rawlins, and confronts his ex-wife, Pier Angeli (right) in a custody battle over their son, Perry 9. The judge yesterday heard brief testimony, then postponed the hearing until Wednesday.

Weigh Murder-by-Fraud Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An appellate court is deliberating today on a new legal concept of murder by fraud, and on its decision hangs the fate of Dr. Marvin Phillips, convicted of hastening a girl's death by quackery.

★ ★ ★

The charge against Phillips, 35, a chiropractor, is second-degree murder and the unique case could have an effect on the revolution of criminal law. For exhaustive research by both the defense and prosecution indicates the case is the first murder conviction rising from a nonviolent fraud.

★ ★ ★

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli asked the District Court of Appeal for a new trial Thursday, contending a law defined medical quackery as a misdemeanor.

"The district attorney's office has wrongfully parlayed a misdemeanor into a second-degree murder case," Belli said.

CANCER VICTIM

Phillips was convicted in Superior Court Sept. 4, 1962. He was accused of shortening the life of Linda Epping, an 8-year-old cancer victim.

Linda, daughter of Herman Epping, a North Hollywood tool designer, had a tumor growing out of her eye, a rare form of cancer which is usually fatal.

The prosecution said an operation was canceled on the strength of assurances of a cure by Phillips, who treated the tumor with muscular manipulations, enemas and vitamin pills.

Linda died Dec. 29, 1961, about six months after the onset of the disease and five months after she was taken to Phillips.

PROLONGED LIFE

The prosecution's main medical witness, Dr. Bradley Stratasma, who diagnosed the cancer, testified Linda's life could have been prolonged a minimum of two months had surgery been performed at the time Phillips entered the case.

★ ★ ★

The murder conviction stemmed from Phillips' $500 fee. Fraud involving more than $200 is a felony in California. And the law, as in most states, says any death growing out of a felony is murder.

★ ★ ★

The felony-death-murder principle was applied to Phillips' case by Dep. Dist. Atty. John Miner, a specialist on forensic medicine.

★ ★ ★

"Quacks have been killing people for centuries," Miner argued. "Sustaining the conviction of this man will help put a stop in California to slaughter for profit."

Detroit Zoo Mother Rhino Dies

DETROIT (AP)—The birth of Manda's second baby has caused her death. And the Detroit Zoo is in deep mourning.

"A tremendous loss," said zoo director Frank G. McInnis today. "Calculating the loss is impossible."

Manda, described by McInnis as "friendly and gentle," unusual for her species, was a 3,000-pound black rhinoceros brought here from Tanganyika in 1957.

Despite the efforts of four veterinarians, including Dr. William Applehof, the zoo's chief medical officer, Manda died Wednesday. She was nine years old.

McInnis said complications from the birth Nov. 1 of Manda's daughter, Beulah, caused death.

The zoo is disturbed, too, whether Beulah will survive, though McInnis terms her a "strong youngster." She weighs 100 pounds. She is only the ninth rhinoceros born in captivity in this country and 24th in the world.

"We'll raise her on a bottle but it will be touch and go since this has never been attempted before," McInnis said.

★ ★ ★

Manda's first-born, a male, Harvey, is at the Lincoln Park Zoo in Oklahoma City. Harvey was born here in 1962.

McInnis said the loss of Manda is severe because her species "is on the extinction list." She was brought to America with her mate, Colo. The two had got along "just swell," McInnis said.

Computer Education Comes to California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —For northern California students next year it'll be reading, writing, arithmetic — and computers.

Some 300,000 high school and junior college students will have the opportunity to learn firsthand about the age of automation. And their teachers will be freed from much of the paperwork that now hinders classroom work.

Core of the program will be a data processing center that will open in July 1965 in the Sacramento Office of Education. A smaller pilot center was tested earlier in Richmond, Calif., schools.

"It's one of the most significant advances in the educational field in recent years," said Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction.

GAIN UNDERSTANDING

"Students will have an opportunity to gain an understanding of the potential and implications of computers in our complicated world," said Dr. Alvin Grossman, a data processing expert for the California Department of Education.

★ ★ ★

"Also, the computing center will allow youngsters to learn about employment opportunities related to the machines."

★ ★ ★

Rafferty said courses in programming and systems analysis and design will be an immediate outgrowth of the center's activities.

The electronic computer complex, developed by the Honeywell Corp., will serve another important function — it will ease the load of paperwork and reports that occupy the time of teachers, counselors and administrators.

MAY SAVE MONEY

All connected with the program agree that the system could save the nation's taxpayers millions of dollars by eliminating duplication of data processing services at the local school level.

★ ★ ★

They anticipate that within the next five to 10 years as many as 10 regional electronic computing centers will be in operation throughout California, hopefully setting a pattern for the rest of the nation.

★ ★ ★

Primary funding will come from local school districts which will contribute 90 per cent of the budget, with the federal government kicking in 10 per cent. Initial cost will be $200,000 for the Sacramento County complex.

The endless possibilities for the computer project has sharpened enthusiasm for educators throughout the nation. The day is arriving when junior no longer can complain that the teacher made a mistake on his report card. Chances are the grade was entered by a machine.

AGE OF AUTOMATION — Dr. Max Rafferty, California state superintendent of public instruction, is shown in Sacramento with a model of the data processing center that will open in July in the Sacramento Office of Education. This is the core of a program that will enable northern California high school and junior college students to learn firsthand about the age of automation.

'Friendship Was Personal'

Cardinal Remembers JFK

BOSTON (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, says he remembers his friendship with the late President John F. Kennedy as "personal, not political; spiritual, not material."

Cushing, writing Thursday in the archdiocesan weekly newspaper, The Pilot, said: "Never did I request one favor from him, but he showered favors of a personal kind upon me; so did Jacqueline."

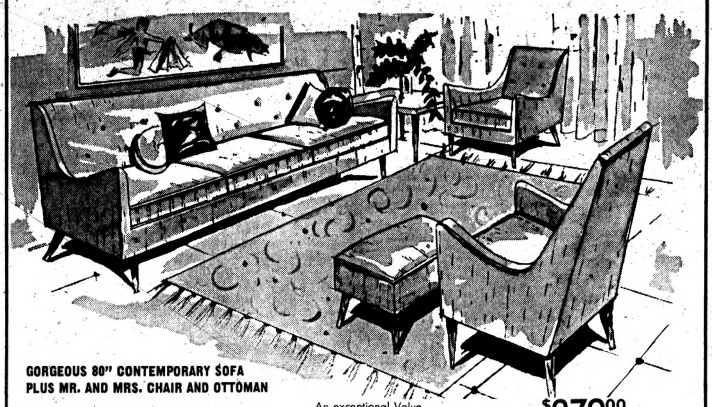

The cardinal said he plans to offer an anniversary Mass in Holy Cross Cathedral on Nov. 22, the date Kennedy was assassinated last year.

"This is the best in which I can remember President John F. Kennedy, a brilliant, courageous, dedicated warrior at all times for the welfare of the United States of America," he said. May God send us more men of his caliber. They are tremendously needed."

Thousands of Garments Received at Ingathering

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Five thousand garments and over $600 were received at the annual Ingathering of the Pontiac branch of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc., Thursday.

All the garments, including dozens of layettes, were distributed immediately to local organizations for their use throughout the year.

The money is kept in an emergency fund to provide additional clothing where needed. Two hundred dollars was spent in this way last year.

NO OVERHEAD

None of the money is used for overhead of any kind—there isn't any.

Organizations receiving the garments include Oakland County Family Service, Michigan Children's Aid, Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association, Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, Oakland County Juvenile Court and the American Red Cross.

In keeping with the Guild's slogan of "One to wash and one to wear," all the clothing is new. There were many hand-knitted items among the sweaters. Some of the little girls' dresses were carefully made by interested members.

Mrs. Donald Bos, retiring president, stresses the fact that everything contributed is kept right in the Pontiac area. The layettes are divided among the three hospitals which never get enough to fill their needs.

"Some of the new mothers bring only an old pillow case in which to wrap the baby when they go home. For them, these layettes are especially welcome."

ANNUAL MEETING

With the exception of the Carol Brooks and Queen Mary sections, the Needlework Guild meets only once a year—the second Thursday in November at the First Presbyterian Church.

There are no dues, no programs, no committee meetings. Each member is asked only to contribute her two garments or money annually.

★ ★

Incoming president, Mrs. William E. Brace, asked that we make it clear to Pontiac Press readers that membership in the Needlework Guild is open to all women and that more members are always needed. Anyone wishing further information may call her.

In addition to Mrs. Brace, other new officers are Mrs. Forest Wood, vice president; Mrs. James G. Aldrich, secretary; Mrs. William J. Freyermuth, assistant secretary. Mrs. Philip L. Francis will continue as treasurer.

Mrs. Chauncey Burke is second vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, third vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Furlong, fourth vice president. These women have all been presidents of the organization.

NEW DIRECTORS

New directors are Mrs. Ben Hawkins, Mrs. Robert Pack and Mrs. Bruce Hubbard.

The Queen Mary section of the guild served coffee at the Ingathering as they have done for many years. They always provide an array of cakes and pastries, many of which are typically English. All members of this section were born in the British Isles.

Already working on reports are the new officers of Pontiac branch, Needlework Guild of America, Inc. From the left are Mrs. William J. Freyermuth and Mrs. James G. Aldrich, both of Mohawk Road, who are secretaries; Mrs. Forest Wood, South Tilden Street, vice president; and Mrs. William E. Brace, West Iroquois Road, president.

Virginia Benson, age 4, tries on one of the pairs of mittens received at the Ingathering. This was a blue pair and its companion pair was red. Bright news for any child. Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Benson Jr., Old Orchard Drive.

Mrs. William Coleman, Michigan Avenue, holds up one of the sweaters she knitted for the 1964 Needlework Ingathering. Mrs. Coleman, with the late Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, helped organize the Queen Mary section in 1936, obtaining the first 40 members of the guild.

Women's

Club Hears Linguistics Discussed

Over 180 women were present when Mrs. Lawrence Flora was installed as chairman of the Christian Women's club at a Wednesday meeting in Devon Gables.

Mrs. Kenneth Pike, teacher of linguistics at the University of Michigan, was keynote speaker. She told of art forms throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

Also engaged in full time work with the Wycliffe translators, she told of some of the unusual experiences encountered in putting the spoken language into writing.

One unusual difficulty is finding words among primitive cultures to explain the meaning of God.

A demonstration of proper skin care and application of make-up was also given.

Mrs. Louis Urse, Mrs. Ralph Salansky and Mrs. Dennis Knight comprised the vocal trio which presented a musical program for the group.

It's Not Child's Play

Sitter in Sad Situation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A 17-year-old girl has been our sitter for three years. She's a lovely, reliable, steady girl, and our children love her.

Certain recent happenings have given rise to suspicion. First, our liquor supply has mysteriously diminished.

Then, she's begun to chain our front door, making it impossible for us to enter until she lets us in.

ABBY

And the last straw came this morning when I found a man's undershirt (several sizes larger than my husband's) wadded up behind the couch cushions.

What do I do, Abby? If I tell her mother, the girl will never sit for me again.

I don't want to lose her. She is a gem in every way.

CHICAGO MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You seem only concerned with the possibility of losing a sitter when a far more serious issue is at hand.

A once "lovely, reliable, steady" 17-year-old girl is in danger of getting into serious trouble.

Confront her with the evidence and have a frank, friendly and sympathetic talk with her.

Impress upon her that she is flirting with tragedy, and any man who would be a party to such behavior is a worthless heel.

She needs to be informed—not informed on! P. S. And if she brushes you off, drop her and tell her mother why.

DEAR ABBY: As a working housewife with many friends and relatives, I find the accepted format of bridal and baby showers a problem for which I would like to offer a solution. The usual procedure is to gather for an evening of cards, games or some other form of entertainment, followed by refreshments and finally, opening the gifts.

This means boredom, weariness and too late an evening for some. Why not serve dessert and coffee immediately after the guests arrive?

Then open the gifts, and let those who have the time and energy for playing games go ahead and play them while the others make a quick and graceful exit?

Thank you.

HALE'S SECRETARY

DEAR SECRETARY: Your suggestion makes so much sense I wonder why others have never thought of it. (Or have they?)

OK to Pay; Don't Stay in the Way

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last night my boyfriend and I were waiting for a bus. There were quite a few others also waiting.

When it came along, I got on in turn. My boyfriend stayed behind in order to let the women get on first, so when I reached the coin box I paid my own fare.

My boyfriend said I had embarrassed him. I would like to know if I was wrong?

★ ★ ★

A: Your boyfriend should have followed immediately behind you but as he didn't, it seems to me that what you did was the sensible thing.

To have stood there waiting for him to come along to pay your fare would not only have been conspicuous but would have blocked the way of other passengers.

Q: What is your opinion of a dinner guest wiping her silver on her napkin before beginning to eat? I was never so insulted in my life when a guest did this in my house.

★ ★ ★

A: I certainly understand your feelings. I can't imagine such rudeness in a private house.

Even in a restaurant, it would be rude to wipe off the silver unless it is obvious that a certain implement is not clean and no waiter in sight to bring another.

Q: When invited to a party in honor of someone, is it considered rude for a guest to leave before the guest of honor?

I have been told that it is very bad manners for anyone to leave before he (or she) does. Is this true?

★ ★ ★

A: If the guest of honor is an important personage, or royalty, it would be bad manners to leave before he or she does; but otherwise a guest may leave whenever he or she pleases.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Working Son Needs to Enjoy Free Time

By MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley:

My 18-year-old son is working full time to help me and his 14-year-old brother with our expenses. I am sick, and had to quit work.

MARY FEELEY

My husband left me and we have a very limited income. Since I live with both my mother and sister, we manage to get along with their help.

My son earns $70 a week. After deductions the take-home pay is $59.52. He gives me $30, and I want him to save at least $10.

He keeps $20 for his expenses, and of course dresses himself, and takes care of his laundry and cleaning. He also pays the phone, and is buying me an electric fan for $20.

★ ★ ★

He is neglecting his dental care, and is wasting his money that is so hard to earn. He works in a kitchen. He spends his money on hunting, fishing and expensive clothes, and I feel in despair. I don't want any more money for me, but would like him to have a definite plan for savings.

Could you please help him and me with your advice?

Mrs. D., Miami, Fla.

Dear Mrs. D.:

I can understand your concern for your son's welfare. But when you put the figures down in black and white, I don't see that he has much to spend or save! Life can look pretty bleak to an 18-year-old who works full-time in a kitchen and doesn't have some chance to enjoy his off-hours.

Certainly he should have his teeth attended to — and keep at him about that. It's more important than anything else, including an electric fan! He may not like any part of the budget I've set up here, but at least you can discuss it with him:

Room and board, $30; other expenses at home, $3; his personal allowance, $8; savings, $6 — which is about 10 per cent of his take-home pay; clothing, $5; recreation, $4; medical including dental (at $10 a month), $2.35; miscellaneous, $1.57. Total, 59.92.

Maybe you and your sister can help him arrange with a dentist for the care he needs, and the payments he can afford to make. Or, maybe you can reduce his weekly room and board charge until he can get his dental work done.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have just started working. I have been engaged for the past month and have a joint savings account with my fiance.

What I'd like your advice on is, how much should I put into this account? And how much should my fiance put in?

He makes $80 a week and I make $70. I also have to consider giving a certain amount to my parents. Thank you for any help you can give us.

C. M., West Babylon, L.I.

★ ★ ★

Dear C. M.:

Maybe I'm reading a little more into your letter than you meant—but it sounds as if you have your back up a bit about who should save the most.

The right answer, of course, is that for anything as important as marriage, you should both put into the savings as much as you can possibly afford.

If you want something more specific, then why not aim for 10 per cent of your salaries — your contribution, $7, and his, $8, each week.

You should continue your contribution to your household, of course. But keep in mind that your fiance probably has more "operating expenses" than you have at the moment — including taking you out for an evening!

If he isn't living at home, that too, would increase the demands on his income. Talk the situation over frankly — you're going to have to do that after you're married, you know. So begin now to think of your mutual needs and benefits, rather than in terms of two separate salaries.

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband and I have put 10 per cent down so far on a new house being built. At the time we didn't know any lawyer, and the real estate operator suggested their lawyer would do the search for us. He said he will give us full title guarantee and deed. The real estate operator is building these homes on their property.

★ ★ ★

What I want to know is, can we trust this lawyer? We intend to put down $14,000 in all on an $18,500 home. We are borrowing $5,000 from a bank at 5½ per cent for 12 years.

Mrs. R.B., West New York, N.J.

Dear Mrs. B.:

You'd be wiser to have your own lawyer to look after your interests. The bank which makes the loan will certainly want to look after its interest. It will require a title guarantee on the property.

★ ★ ★

SPADEA DESIGNER PATTERN

The party-giving party-going mood in which most of us find ourselves happily ensconced at this season is no doubt reflected by the dates already filling up your calendar.

Designed with just the degree of dressiness that offers the widest social opportunities, Anthony Blotta's sleeveless success could easily become the most active party-goer in your wardrobe.

★ ★ ★

It's side-wrapped slenderness is emphasized by a narrow binding of contrast, spiced with three double-looped bows, along the step-in opening edge. The full length center panels are cut on princess lines while a waist seam joins the side bodice to the pleat-eased skirt.

Neither too high nor too low, the bound neckline is the perfect shape for your prettiest beads.

Originally shown in sheer wool with satin accents, this dress displays its seasonless good looks long before dark and continues on into the wee small hours, never missing a fashion beat en route.

For all those wonderful little-evening affairs, we suggest faille, silk or rayon crepe, feathery tweeds, silk and wool blends or chiffon flannel; and for southern wear, shantung, plain or printed silks, linen or novelty cottons. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size charts.

Polly's Pointers

Cover Child's Hair

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—To avoid the need for postmeal shampooing of small children who are learning to feed themselves, let them wear plastic bowl covers over their hair as they eat. They like this hat, too.—MRS. F. R. K.

DEAR POLLY—My tip is for the knitters. If you make a sweater on large needles and wish to give it more body, line it with a big square chiffon head scarf.

They come in so many colors most yarns can be matched. I made such a sweater of white mohair and used two chiffon scarves for the lining and it looks much better especially when I wear a black dress.

This also helps the sweaters to keep their shape. — MRS. V. W. V.

★ ★ ★

GIRLS — Lining adds to the looks and shape of many sweaters.

Machine - knitted sweaters that have been decorated with beads, lace, appliques or whatever should also be lined for a more handsome look and to hide any stitches that show through on the inside.

I also put preshrunk grosgrain ribbon to the back of bands at each side of the front of any cardigan I am knitting to keep it in better shape.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When the plastic covers for my washer, toaster or any appliance were shabby, I took that cover and cut it up for a pattern.

I bought terry cloth, but any other material could have been used, took the plastic pattern and cut a new appliance cover which I stitched up on the sewing machine.

This cover can be tossed in the washer for frequent laundering. I always have clean covers and they last longer. I generally make two covers at one time so I have a change.—EVA

DEAR POLLY—When I read the remedy for insomnia by using the alphabet and thinking of boys' and girls' names, I felt I must send my own remedy.

For years I have begun with Alabama and gone through the alphabet by naming the state and then its capital.

I usually fall asleep before I reach the W's but if not I start doing them backward.—I. S.

DEAR POLLY — Recently I found an old-fashioned wash boiler in a second-hand store.

I cleaned the rust off with a wire brush, painted the boiler and cleaned the copper bottom.

Now I use this filled with ice and bottles to keep drinks cold when we picnic in the back yard.—MARION

She Tickets Own Husband

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — It looked like a simple case of the "Meter Maid Gets Her Man" when meter maid Dolly Wilson wrote up an overparking ticket for a police sergeant.

But the officer was her husband, David Wilson. He was shopping while off-duty, and it was just his luck for her to be on duty.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration rejected a recent request by an unnamed manufacturer for permission to produce and market an "imitation margarine."

Pumpkin Pie Filling Cooked Out of Crust

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

You're probably beginning to think about your Thanksgiving menu. Pumpkin pie usually is featured on this day.

Mrs. William Nesbitt wants Press readers to try her Cream Pumpkin Pie recipe.

The filling is cooked in a double boiler and poured into a baked pie shell. This saves oven space on a day when it is needed for other food.

Our thanks to Mrs. Nesbitt and all the other Pontiac area cooks who send us recipes.

CREAM PUMPKIN PIE
By Mrs. William Nesbitt

¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1 cup pumpkin
2 cups evaporated milk, undiluted
2 egg yolks, beaten

Mix dry ingredients. Add pumpkin and cook in double boiler until thick, stirring occasionally. Fold in egg yolks and cook five minutes longer.

Lst filling cool before pouring into baked pie shell. Garnish with whipped cream. If you like, a few grated nuts may be sprinkled over the top of the cream.

Soap Makes Sleds Slide Smoother

If a sled doesn't glide as smoothly as it should for the small fry, rub soap on the runners.

This treatment — which has to be repeated often — won't convert the sled into a hot rod, but will make the sailing smoother.

Shell Decorations

If you brought home some pretty shells from the seashore, put them to use. For a unique decoration, glue them to cabinets in a child's room. Fold-up metal tubes of glue make this an easy task.

No Younger, Most Youths Say

Teens Favor 18 to Wed Without Consent

Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

At what age should boys and girls be allowed to marry without consent?

Our state laws can't agree on the answer to that question. And neither, apparently, can the youngsters themselves.

But a survey we took among 1,064 teen-agers makes one thing clear; the overwhelming majority of young persons feel they should not be permitted to marry without consent if under 18 years of age.

The old theory that woman mature faster than men was much in evidence in the replies of the teen-agers.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-two per cent felt that boys should be allowed to marry without consent at the age of 18, but 42 per cent would accord girls the same right.

SAME LINES

Along the same lines, 13 per cent said boys shouldn't marry without consent until they are over 21, but only 3 per cent thought girls should wait that long.

Only 5 per cent thought a boy under 18 should be allowed to marry without consent.

Fourteen per cent said it would be all right for girls to do so.

★ ★ ★

In fact, 3 per cent saw no objection to a no-consent marriage for a girl under 16!

WIDE VARIANCE

There was wide variance between what the young people would expect of their parents if they married in their teens—and what they thought the parents actually would do.

Sixty-three per cent said they wouldn't expect any help from their parents if they married early.

But 73 per cent were of the opinion that, actually, the parents would offer such help. As Joseph E. Wiest Jr. of Baltimore put it:

"They would help because they are parents who love their children. Even if they didn't approve, they would still try to help if necessary."

Pamela Hillman, 17, of Lyndon, Kan., felt the same way and based her opinion on the past.

Said she: "They have helped me in everything I have ever done."

Sixteen-year-old Judy Mead of Lomita, Calif., also thought her parents would help "because when they were married they probably had help from their parents."

An opposite opinion came from Charles Estrada, 17, of San Francisco, who said: "They would say that if I was foolish enough to do it, I should be able to handle it."

★ ★ ★

Another Californian, 18-year-old Carolyn Norton, of Palo Verdes, also didn't think her parents would help if she married early.

"It is not their duty," explained Carolyn. "After all, it is foolish to marry so young.

RESPONSIBILITY

"When one gets married, one accepts his or her financial responsibility."

From Thomas Liser, 16, of Paterson, N.J., came this possible tongue-in-cheek reply:

★ ★ ★

"They wouldn't help because they just don't understand me and are constantly hurting my delicate ego."

Mothers Join Teen-Agers in Driving Talk

"Teen-Agers and Driving" was discussed by a panel of four at the Waterford Child Study club meeting.

★ ★ ★

On the panel were Mrs. Norman Cheal, Mrs. William Emerson, Christine Emerson and Richard Cheal.

Mrs. Robert Lewis was welcomed as a new member. Guest at the meeting was Mrs. Robert Crandall.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Sauter welcomed members and guests in her Angelus Drive home with Mrs. Richard McCarius assisting.

Mrs. Morton Jacobs will host the December meeting.

Wild, Wild, Wild and Mix Patterns

Sportswear in '65 will be for the uninhibited. Harper's Bazaar's Fashion Newsletter predicts scrambled prints on scrambled fabrics. For instance, a batiste shirt in wild wallpaper print to wear with linen or chino shorts in wild wild pattern that doesn't match. The only nexus is that the colors must be compatible.

Magnify Unknown With Microscope

Young students and hobbyists can now zero in on the unknown with a low-cost precision microscope that quickly zooms to the desired magnification.

One model of the new microscope produces from 25 to 100 times magnification, the other from 50 to 200.

Need Teachers in Language, Other Areas

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Foreign language teachers — especially those qualified to teach French and Spanish — are in heavy demand this year.

★ ★ ★

The demand for German teachers also is increasing, while that for Latin teachers is decreasing.

★ ★ ★

This was reported by the teachers' placement department at Pennsylvania State University after attempts to fill last - minute vacancies, especially in the rural areas where teachers are less anxious to be placed.

Shoppers' Paradise at Internat'l Mart

The annual Old World Market at the International Institute in Detroit will be held Thursday through Sunday. Hours are from noon to 10 p.m., except Sunday when the doors close at 9 p.m.

In addition to nationality booths offering gifts from many lands, there will be craft demonstrations, movies, slides, dancing and singing. Foreign food will be on sale in the pantry shop. The market is open to the public.

Colored Baths, a Child's Treat

For a treat for the children at bath time, give them colored baths by adding a few drops of food coloring to the water. A blue bath today, a green one tomorrow, etc., will hold their interest.

Beautifully Kept Hair Can Be Yours

Today's fashionable hairdo can be any of a prism of hues and any of a thousand lengths.

But it can always be beautiful.

★ ★ ★

New products are being introduced all the time to make hair care easier and more efficient.

Two manufacturers have introduced new hair setting lotions recently.

SPRAY LOTION

One is a spray lotion Just aim it at each strand as you set it and spray the whole head when you're through and the company promises a hairdo that will last as long as a week.

★ ★ ★

The second new lotion is a clear turquoise-blue light liquid. This you comb into the hair after a shampoo and if needed, between shampoos. The company promises not only a springy quality but also glossy highlights.

★ ★ ★

A well-known hair coloring manufacturer has developed blond toner that uses no peroxide or developer and can be shampooed into the hair.

The new product comes in 12 shades that can be blended by a hairdresser.

OTHER PRODUCTS

Other hair products include: a shampoo with fresh eggs to add body and luster as well as cleanliness; a cream rinse which specializes in coping with snarls for those with too much natural curl or whose hair is too coarse; a clear, fragrant hair rinse that adds body and luster to fine hair.

Whatever kind of hair you have, whatever length it is, it can look wonderful. The elegant arrangement in the picture was created with shorter hair without a wiglet or postiche.

★ ★ ★

Spanish in feeling, there is a center part, with the top brushed smoothly into a slight wave near the eye. The top is very lightly backcombed to create large soft, see-through curls.

Back hair is brushed behind the ear with soft ends brought forward from under the ear. Loose curls cascade down the back.

New Office in Justice Department Lobbies for 'Little Guy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little guy who stands in ignorant awe of the massive process of criminal law now has a lobbyist in Washington.

★ ★ ★

For the present, he is located in a drab, cramped cubicle on the fourth floor of the department whose traditional role has been to prosecute — the Department of Justice.

★ ★ ★

For the present, the little guy's chief lobbyist — Prof. James Vorenberg — spends two days a week on his Washington job, the rest of his schedule taken up with teaching criminal law at Harvard.

But it's a start. That was what former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had in mind, just before he left office two months ago, when he established an Office of Criminal Justice within the Justice Department.

ANNOUNCES INNOVATION

Kennedy put it succinctly to an assembly of criminal lawyers last Aug. 10 when he announced the innovation. The office, he said, would insure "that the department over which I preside is more than a department of prosecution and is, in fact, the Department of Justice."

There are officials within the department today who are convinced that the Office of Criminal Justice not only will catch on but will go down as Kennedy's major contribution as attorney general.

★ ★ ★

The office is still an embryo. Under the direction of Vorenberg, it is still setting down the momentous questions it must ask and answer in its crusade to assure every American his full measure of equal justice under the law.

Was the jury fairly and legally chosen? Was the defendant convicted on Page 1 before he went to trail? Was it right to tap his telephone? was he held by police too long without a lawyer — and too long before arraignment? Was he properly treated while authorities were determining his mental competency?

WAS IT FAIR

Was his 10-year prison sentence fair, when the next man on the docket was given three years on a similar conviction? Did he have the very best counsel available? Was he given a fair chance for parole?

Vorenberg and his handful of lawyers, plucked from around the department, know the answers will be a long time in coming. They'll come only after deep research, extensive consultation with federal, state and local officials, and countless conferences such as the one that focused national attention on the problems of bail last spring.

★ ★ ★

"We're not here to propose a magic formula," the lean, dark-haired, 36-year-old Vorenberg told an interviewer recently. "We're never going to produce the perfect answer. We're not a mediator but a moderator. It would be rather conceited to think our little staff could promptly change attitudes of long standing.

"Our task if to draw together people of sharply opposing views — for instance, those who feel bail is dangerous because it lets criminals roam free, and those who think the present bail system is unjust because it confines innocent men who can't pay their way out."

REMEDY DEFICIENCIES

How will the Office of Criminal Justice try to remedy the deficiencies it finds?

"The nature of the problem will determine what the office will do," Vorenberg explained. "If legislation is needed — like the Criminal Justice Act that passed this year — we'll suggest that the attorney general propose it.

"If we can make headway through a voluntary program of federal- state cooperation, we'll try to foster that. It's possible the attorney general will be able to use administrative orders to correct some of the deficiencies we find."

★ ★ ★

Vorenberg pictures his office as a clearing house for new ideas in the field of criminal justice.

"We've got to know everything that's going on in the field of legal reforms everywhere," he said. "We have to try to inject the products of new learning into the law. We know a lot more now than we did when many of our laws went on the books. The world has changed in many respects.

MANY CHANGES

"Fifty years ago, for instance, electronic surveillance was virtually unheard of. Now wiretapping is a science of its own. Have our laws relating to such practices been reexamined as technology has improved?

Voernberg usually spends Monday and Tuesday in Washington. He bones up for his classes on the plane back to Boston. While this causes some personal inconvenience, he feels the dual life is advantageous as far as the Office of Criminal Justice is concerned.

★ ★ ★

"The link with the academic community is important," he said. "One of my main roles is to be a funnel for new ideas, and many will be generated at law schools. I think that having a little distance from the situation will be an advantage, in the long run. If the time comes that I think it should be a full-time job, I'll recommend that."

The occasion is the annual convention of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, today through Monday.

Members of the Oakland society will be in attendance as well as some 1,500 doctors, nurses, and dentists, who will hold personal conferences with the students.

Chamberlain will champion the cause of crippled children in a conference-demonstration initiating a series of similar events designed to interest young people in entering the rehabilitation professions.

The convention, which has headquarters at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, will feature a banquet on the last evening at which Helen Hayes will receive the highest award of the society for her worldwide leadership in help to the handicapped.

* * *

J. P. W. Brown, National Society president, will present its Distinguished Service Medal to the actress.

SOCIETY MEMBERS

Among those attending the conference from the Oakland County society will be William P. Whitfield, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkby, executive secretary; Mrs. Leon Skelley, teacher; Mrs. Robert Long and Mrs. Conrad F. Students from Oakland County will include 12 from Pontiac Central, 15 from Pontiac Northern, 12 from Waterford Township, and 14 from Waterford Kettering.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the National Society, the National Health Council, the federal Vocational Rehabilitation Administration and 30 other professional and voluntary agencies.

Ship Rescues Downed Pilot

Spent Nearly a Day on Raft After Crash

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A ship early today rescued a civilian pilot who bobbed for nearly 24 hours in a raft after his single-engine plane crashed in the South Atlantic Ocean, the Air Force reported.

Radio reports from the ship said the pilot, Lowell Thompson of Spokane, Wash., was in good condition after his ordeal. The vessel, the S.S. Robin Sherwood, was to take him to Ascension Island, site of a U.S. missile tracking station.

* * *

The pickup scene was about 140 miles west of Ascension.

The Robin Sherwood, a tracking base supply ship, reached the area Thursday night but was unable to spot Thompson because of darkness. It sighted him at dawn not far from the floating wreckage of his Cessna 182.

FERRYING PLANE

The Air Force information office at Patrick said Thompson, who owns a flying service in Spokane, was ferrying the plane under contract from Fort Lauderdale to South Africa.

Early Thursday, shortly before he was to make a scheduled stop on Ascension, Thompson radioed for help. He crashed shortly afterward.

* * *

A Military Air Transport Service C130 aircraft from the tracking station dropped a 20-man raft, food and medical supplies to Thompson and reported he appeared unhurt. The sea was calm.

Two other MATS planes joined the first plane and the trio circled the area until the Robin Sherwood arrived.

* * *

The ship is operated by Pan American World Airways, a missile range subcontractor for the Air Force.

There was no immediate word on what went wrong with Thompson's plane.

Family of 7 a 'Fraternity'

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Guy V. Gooding never expected to live in a fraternity house, but that's exactly what she and her husband, Dr. Gooding, and their five children are doing now.

The family occupies the former chapter house of Sigma Chi at North Carolina State College. The basement, set up for frat parties, makes an ideal playroom for the kids and one bedroom is now a library.

The only problem is the numerous Sigma Chi alumni who drop in, unaware of the new ownership.

Mistrial Called in Case of Man Dead 20 Years

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) —"It ain't fair to me."

That was the reaction of Grover Jones, whose trial for murder in a hit-and-run death 20 years ago ended in mistrial yesterday when the prosecution announced two of his character witnesses were kin to jurors.

AP Photofax

WILL TRY AGAIN — Welby Lee, 51, Tompkinsville, Ky., sits in Clay County Criminal Court in Colina, Tenn., yesterday after hearing Judge John A. Mitchell order a mistrial in the case of a man charged with killing Lee's father in a hit-and-run death 20 years ago. Lee said he spent 18 years gathering evidence against the suspect and has more to present at the next trial.

Defense attorney James Needa said Jones "wants to be vindicated" and would seek retrial "preferably beginning Monday."

Jones, a handyman from Indianapolis, Ind., was indicted for second - degree murder after Welby Lee searched 18 years and 100,000 miles for the man who ran down his father, Newt Lee, Dec. 31, 1944.

★ ★ ★ ★

"I definitely do not feel my search has been in vain," said Lee, who swore he would find the death car driver the night his father died.

"I hope to have some more, and even stronger, evidence the next time the trial is held," Lee said. "I had hoped the case would be wound up and completed today."

The trial focused nationwide attention on this sleepy Clay County seat, which has no stoplights, no new buildings and boasts only two industries —a plant that manufacturers overalls and one that processes strawberries.

Townspeople packed the tiny, rustic courtroom where former Secretary of State Cordell Hull sat on the bench as a young Circuit Court judge.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's crowd accepted the no-verdict ruling in silence, filing somberly from the courtroom. A few old-time acquaintances who had not seen the defendant in perhaps two decades walked by to shake Jones' hand.

REPEATS DENIAL

Jones, 55, denied repeatedly that he ran over the elder Lee. He was critical of the mistrial decision.

"I have the right to see there is another trial, and I'll do it," he said, adding later, "They (the state) knew how it was going."

One juror, Jack Butler, told newsmen the panel had decided to acquit Jones.

★ ★ ★

Dist. Atty. Gen. Baxter Key Jr. moved for the mistrial when the jury reconvened for deliberations that morning. He said Mrs. Eldon Long was juror Robert Jackson's sister, and Lester Brown was the brother-in-law of juror Eula Copass.

NO JEOPARDY

A double jeopardy charge would not stand, Key said, adding, "I checked on that before I requested a mistrial."

He said the state probably would move for a retrial "possibly in July."

The victim's son testified during the trial he investigated 18 other men in his long hunt for the killer. Asked if he still believed Jones is the man who killed his father, Lee replied: "I certainly do."

Fear E. Germans Won't Reopen Wall During Yule as Planned

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin officials fear that East Germany won't reopen the Berlin wall at Christmas to let West Berliners visit relatives in the Communist sector of the divided city.

Red border guards closed the wall on schedule at midnight after a 14-day visiting period expired. It was the first of four periods within a year authorized by an agreement between the East German Communist regime and the West Berlin government. Nearly 600,000 West Berliners visited the East during the past two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The next visiting period is scheduled to run from Dec. 19 through Jan. 3. Thursday the Communists made a veiled threat to call off the Christmas visits unless West Berlin banks and exchange offices quit selling East German marks below the official rate.

A high West German official said there were indications that former Premier Khrushchev put strong pressure on the East Germans to conclude the pass agreement.

★ ★ ★

"Things may be different with the new regime in the Kremlin," the official said. "We have some indication already that the East Germans now may want to back out."

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Congolese rebel leaders in Stanleyville have assured Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya that foreign civilians there including 60 Americans, are in no danger.

★ ★ ★

Kenyatta said he received the assurance in reply to an appeal he made to the Stanleyville rebels that they not mistreat the nearly 900 foreigners in rebel territory.

Kenyatta is chairman of the Organization of African Unity's Congo Reconciliation Commission.

ROME (AP) — Owners of Rome's bars, restaurants and shops called off a citywide business shutdown next week to protest high operating costs after the government extended rent control for a year.

The strike had been planned for next Wednesday. The owners still want reductions in taxes and licensing costs, but they were so pleased by the rent concession that they decided not to strike.

A government spokesman said the other demands were being considered.

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser says the presence of U.S. and British forces in neighboring Libya, Cyprus and the Arab world is imperialism and something that the Arabs can't accept.

Nasser, speaking at the opening of the second session of his one-party National Assembly, suggested that the United States is aiding Egypt — with more than $100 million worth of wheat a year —as a weapon to keep him silent.

"We cannot bargain," Nasser declared. "They cannot convince us to keep silent even if they give us one billion pounds."

★ ★ ★

Both the United States and Britain have agreed in principle to withdraw from bases in Libya, but the date of the withdrawals is still to be negotiated.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Chen Yi, Communist Chinese foreign minister, said today that if "imperialists dare to launch a major attack against Cambodia, 650 million Chinese will give Cambodia total support."

★ ★ ★

Chen Yi left for home after attending the celebration of Cambodia's 11th anniversary of independence.

★ ★ ★

He said the wreckage of an American airplane shot down over the border area and put on display in a Phnom Penh was "proof of the heroism of the Cambodian people who dare fight and wrench out a victory."

4 Die in Crash of Texas Plane

FREEPORT, Grand Bahamas (AP) — A Texas plane crashed on takeoff here Thursday, killing the pilot and three businessmen.

★ ★ ★

The pilot was identified as Daniel T. Culotta of Houston, Tex. With him were George C. McAlpin, executive of an oil company at Houston; Gerald W. Nicholson and Hershel E. Whitehead, both of Miami, Fla.

★ ★ ★

The plane, a Lockheed Lodestar, was registered to the Madrid Oil and Gas Corp. of Houston. Witnesses said it raced down the runway for takeoff, veered off on the grass, back onto the concrete and took off. It climbed steeply, the left wing dropped and the plane went down.

COMPANY OWNERS

An attorney said Nicholson and Whitehead owned United Mechanical Contractors Inc., a Miami firm.

Campaign Not Chintzy—Burch

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Republican party emerged from the election in the black, but the contributions that enabled it to do so were received too late to be spent in a "reasonable way," Republican National Chairman Dean Burch said yesterday.

Burch said the GOP "didn't run what I would call a chintzy campaign. We ran a well-financed, well-organized campaign. So I think we spent enough money."

In a radio interview, Burch said, "We ended up with a surplus of money toward the end of the campaign. But we didn't get it soon enough so we could properly manage to spend it in a reasonable way."

Burch was interviewed at Montego Bay, Jamaica, where he was conferring with Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William Miller, top men on the GOP ticket.

★ ★ ★

Burch said he did not think that spending all money in the GOP war chest "would have made any big difference."

DENIES ALLEGATIONS

Burch denied allegations that the national committee failed to distribute some campaign contributions fairly to congressional and senatorial candidates.

He noted it was not "traditional" for such funds to come from the committee.

Burch urged Republicans to "wash our linen in private" or the GOP never will present the image of "a party that can manage itself and manage it well."

Unless this image is acquired, he said, Republicans should not "be surprised if they don't get a mandate from the people to manage the country."

BLAMES PRESS

He noted that Democrats did not hesitate to "fight Republicans and the Republicans seem to be more interested in fighting among themselves publicly."

He blamed the press in part for encouraging the intra-party squabble.

Burch said the Republicans were hurt by charges that Goldwater was a "reckless person."

★ ★ ★

He called it "a phony charge, a bad charge and one that we just couldn't seem to get around. We had a problem with just plain imagery during that campaign."

Two Missing; 1 Body Found

DETROIT (AP)—The body of one of three Detroit area men unreported on a Canadian fishing trip was found Thursday in Mitchells Bay on the far side of Lake St. Clair.

★ ★ ★

A U. S. Coast Guard boat recovered the body of Frederic Prag, 31, of Oak Park in the Canadian waters.

★ ★ ★

A search continued for Prag's companions—Ben Weitzman, 51, of Oak Park, and Dr. A. H. Grossman of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard said Prag was wearing a life jacket. The body was turned over to Canadian authorities who arranged to return it to Oak Park.

CAR FOUND

Ontario provincial police earlier came upon the men's car and trailer in the vicinity of the Thames River in the province.

★ ★ ★

The men had left on their trip at 3 a.m. Wednesday. The Coast Guard said there had been bad weather with storm warnings on the lake since then.

Group Seeks U.S. Funds for School Plan

A small delegation of Pontiac men, headed by School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer, will journey to Washington, D.C., today in a quest for funds to develop an area blueprint for vocational-technical education.

The group, including Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Manager Max Adams, seek a planning grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

★ ★ ★

The grant is to be used to develop a plan or blueprint for vocational-technical education in the Pontiac area.

Whitmer said the grant would be used to finance a study of the needs of the community and then explore means of providing job training.

Actor Paul Muni Still Serious With Heart Ailment

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Academy Award-winning actor Paul Muni, 66, remained in serious condition with a heart ailment today in Cottage Hospital, attendants reported.

Muni, who rose to stardom in 1928 with his gangster role in "Scarface," was admitted into the hospital Oct. 30 for pneumonia.

Doctors said the pneumonia cleared up, but Muni now is suffering from a serious heart condition.

Muni won an Oscar in 1936 for his portrayal of the discoverer of pasteurization in "The Life of Louis Pasteur." He later won an Academy Award nomination for his role as the Chinese Peasant in "The Good Earth."

Seek to Avoid '65 Steel Strike

Industry, Union Chiefs Pledge Cooperation

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—With a pledge to "solve our problems cooperatively," the basic steel industry and the United Steelworkers Union (USW) turned today to the task of averting an industrywide strike next spring.

★ ★ ★

USW President David J. McDonald and chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper, cochairmen of the joint Human Relations Committee (HRC), announced in a statement yesterday the committee will step up its efforts to reach an understanding before formal contract negotiations begin.

The Human Relations Committee was set up to provide a continuing conversation between industry and the steelworkers union after the 119-day steel strike in 1959.

The 1.2 million-member union announced its intention last Tuesday to reopen the contract, which may be done Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

Ninety days later (May 1), the union is free to strike if no settlement is reached.

The McDonald-Cooper statement said:

★ ★ ★

"It is our determination to cooperate to solve by agreement such problems as may come before the parties in collective bargaining without the need or desire on either side to precipitate a crisis on May 1, 1965.

NO PREDICTION

"While it is obvious that we cannot now forecast the outcome of proceedings not yet commenced, we intend to solve our problems cooperatively and in timely fashion. Thus we can best serve the parties we represent and the nation at large.

"Our experience in recent years, including successful negotiations of new agreements in 1962 and 1963 without a crisis, provide a solid basis for believing it can be done."

The statement came in the midst of a power struggle within the USW. Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel has announced his candidacy for McDonald's $50,000-a-year post.

WANTS TO PROVE POINT—Mrs. Thedma Keitlen, 42, of New York complains she is tired of being mistreated in public places where she appears with her leader dog. The blind woman has filed a complaint in Criminal Court charging a restaurant refused her service because of the animal with her, contrary to laws of the state.

Charges Blind Are Abused

NEW YORK (AP) —Not the blind, but the people who can see need help in coping with blindness, says a vivacious, blind woman who's gone to court to make her point: Where she goes, so goes her guide dog, Duchess.

"I've been thrown out of some of the best hotels, restaurants and museums in the world," Thelma Keitlen said today.

★ ★ ★

"I've been relegated to freight elevators.

"I've been passed countless times by empty cabs.

BEEN ACCUSED

"I've even been accused of pretending I'm blind so that I can get Duchess into the passenger compartment of airliners with me.

"And I've been playing ball, explaining my rights, writing letters later, but now I find this most unsatisfactory."

★ ★

Thursday Mrs. Keitlen, 42, executive vice president of Bonnie Prudden, physical fitness counselors, filed a complaint in criminal court.

Her argument: State law forbids "discrimination against sightless persons accompanied by a dog guide" that would exclude them from inns, common carriers, theaters, restaurants and hotels.

REFUSED SERVICE

She alleges that on Oct. 16 she was refused service at a restaurant when she entered with her dog. The owners said it was a misunderstanding with his hostess. Health laws ban dogs from eating places, except guide dogs. The case was postponed.

"I'm sorry to have to make an example," Mrs. Keitlen said. "But maybe if the word gets around, then people will learn what my rights are."

"Nearly every time I go to a new place that doesn't know me, I go through the same humiliation," she said. "Twenty-five per cent of a blind person's problem is adjusting and 75 per cent is getting the public to adjust."

She lost her sight nine years ago but still skis, swims, rides horseback, plays golf, climbs mountains and travels.

"Blindness is an inconvenience, not a handicap," she said.

Gives Husbands Beating Who Denounce Cheating

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—How do you feel about all this talk about husbands being unfaithful? Couldn't it give husbands a bad name?

Groucho Marx was at a private party at Danny's Hideaway watching the new Les Crane ABC-TV show which took up the subject of faithless husbands. When one husband denied that 90% cheat, Groucho shook his head sadly.

WILSON

"I hate to hear husbands knocking infidelity," he lamented.

As Groucho was leaving Danny's with several women, a doorman said, "Mr. Marx, you left your bag inside." Groucho snapped: "Why, they're standing right here!"

Sophia Loren's Producer-"Husband" Carlo Ponti just conferred with French President Pompidou . . . he'll give up his Italian citizenship, become French, marry Sophia under French law around Christmas, and erase the bigamy charge forever hanging over them in Italy. It recalls a time a reporter asked Carlo if he'd give up Sophia due to all their difficulties.

Carlo's succinct Italian reply was: "Are you out of your mind?"

Victor Borge's new show at the Golden—95% new material—is classic. I confess a weakness to hearing him say, "I had lunch at the White House . . . actually, I was munching a sandwich while following a guard around . . . I had the pleasure of meeting the President . . . Gentleman Bird Johnson . . . he approached me at 70 miles an hour, picked me up by the ears, and pronounced me a Great Dane."

There were explosions of laughter, too, when he said that "Leonard Bernstein, in college, majored in talking."

To Reveal JFK Grave Design Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) —Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plans to reveal Monday the design he has approved for a permanent memorial grave at Arlington National Cemetery for the late President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

McNamara announced Thursday he had approved the design by architect John E. Warnecke. He said it has also been approved by Kennedy's widow, the Kennedy family, government authorities concerned with the design, the Commission of Fine Arts and the chairman of the National Capital Planning Commission.

★ ★ ★

Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., the late President's brother, will represent the family Monday at the presentation of the design at the National Gallery of Art. A model of the grave will go on display at the gallery for four weeks starting Tuesday.

Kennedy's grave on a slope at Arlington has been without a permanent marker since his burial last Nov. 25. The Army, which runs the cemetery, put a wooden fence and temporary walkways around the grave and its eternal flame.

So far millions have visited Kennedy's grave.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has thrown out of court a lawsuit in which the National Education Association sought to force the Defense Department to pay higher salaries to the 7,000 teachers in its overseas schools.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Dist. Judge George L. Jart Jr. gave no reason for dismissing the suit but indicated the case might have better been taken to Congress.

★ ★ ★

The NEA said it is considering an appeal.

The suit, filed last March by the NEA and its affiliate, the Overseas Education Association, said the Defense Department has ignored a 1959 law taking teachers at schools abroad for U.S. dependents out of civil service and pegging their salaries to those paid in the nation's larger cities.

The NEA charged that the department has not paid teachers according to that formula and has not asked Congress for enough money to do so.

★ ★ ★

The average teacher salary in overseas schools is about $4,720 compared with $6,660 in large U.S. cities, the NEA said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil Aeronautics Board investigators are looking into the sudden, violent descent Tuesday night of a jet airliner carrying 100 persons from Honolulu to Los Angeles.

The incident occurred some 200 miles southwest of Los Angeles as the Pan American World Airways plane prepared to descend. The Boeing 707 shifted suddenly at 37,000 feet, started to drop swiftly and then leveled off a few seconds later after having dropped to 25,500 feet.

★ ★ ★

There were no reported injuries among the 91 passengers and nine crew members, though some passengers said they became airsick. The plane landed safely at Los Angeles International Airport some 55 minutes later.

The flight-recorded tape was removed from the plane and sent to CAB headquarters here for analysis of its data on changes in altitude, heading, speed and gravity forces. Other officials were examining the plane carefully in Los Angeles.

Says Baker-Vending Firm Suit May Be Settled Out of Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An attorney handling a $300,000 suit against former Senate aide Robert G. (Bobby) Baker is confident an out-of-court settlement will be reached before the suit comes to trial.

★ ★ ★

David Carliner, counsel for Capitol Vending Co., insisted in an interview with United Press International yesterday that he had not been subjected to any White House pressure to terminate the civil damage suit against Baker. "There has been no pressure on me," he said.

Carliner said there had not yet been agreement on the dollar amount of a settlement. He said negotiations were still under way with Baker's attorneys, but "I am confident we will reach a settlement."

Capitol Vending contended Baker accepted money to obtain for it a contract with Melpar, Inc., a Falls Church, Va., electronics firm. But, Capitol said, Baker subsequently used his influence to have Capitol machines ousted from the plant. The contract later was given to Baker's own vending firm, Serv-U Corp.

Capitol's suit triggered a politically explosive inquiry by the Senate Rules Committee into Baker's outside business activities while a $19,600 a year Senate employe. The committee plans to resume hearings Dec. 1.

NO SECRET

Carliner denied that Capitol had agreed to a $30,000 settlement and that the agreement had been kept secret until after the Nov. 3 elections. Newsweek magazine reported this a few days ago. Baker also subsequently denied it.

★ ★ ★

Carliner said the dollar amount of a settlement was still under discussion. He indicated he felt the final figure would be more than $30,000.

Tree Farm Is Hit by 300-Acre Fire

HASLETT (AP) — Fire swept over some 300 acres of open land Thursday night, damaging a tree farm but mainly scorching only stubble, police said.

Some 150 police, firemen and National Guardsmen turned out for the 4½-hour battle to control the blaze. As it died down, the guardsmen went over the area with shovels, turning under still smoldering patches.

No houses were touched by the flames and no injuries were reported, police said. Cause of the fire was undetermined and there was no immediate dollar estimate of damage.

He's More Confident

Mellower Godfrey Looks Fit

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—It was a mellower, more confident Arthur Godfrey who dropped in town this week to perform his daily radio show and emcee a "Hollywood Palace" for ABC.

The mellowness comes partly from age and he surprises you when he says, "I am 61 years old—be 62 next August if I live that long." He looks scarcely over 40, his hair still rust-colored and unthinned, his face unlined.

THOMAS

His confidence? Some of his detractors might argue he never lacked it. He says it is a recent acquisition.

"I never realized the dimensions of what I had acquired over the years," he commented at the Brown Derby between his radio and television commitments. "I didn't really find out until three years ago, when I started to go out and face the public.

SMALL STUDIO

"When you've spent most of your working life in a small studio, sometimes completely alone, you don't develop any understanding of what you are capable of. Besides, there were plenty of people who helped to keep my confidence from growing.

"When I was doing well in television, the old, established entertainers wouldn't accept me. They told gags like: 'Arthur Godfrey is a new kind of act in show business — all you have to do is show up.'

★ ★ ★

"Sure, that hurt me, but I knew why they did it. I was something new, something they didn't understand. When they started in radio, they came on with 'Hello, ladies and gentlemen,' and they went into the same kind of acts they had done in vaudeville and on Broadway.

"When I was in the hospital in 1931, I studied radio before I decided to get into it. I knew there were no 'ladies and gentlemen' out there. There was just one guy and maybe he was in the bathroom or in his car and I had to reach him.

OLDER COMICS

"The older comics couldn't understand what I was doing, so they knocked me."

★ ★ ★

Godfrey figures his turning point came three years ago when he was recording his radio show in Miami. The hotel management asked if visitors could be admitted to the broadcast in the dining room. Godfrey agreed and was astonished to see that he and his troupe could hold a big audience.

★ ★ ★

He recalled: "I decided to try a show in the dining room at night. It worked. I got an offer to play Las Vegas at $100,000, which was too good to pass up. I was so scared I spent most of the $100,000 on acts to surround me. Then I discovered that wasn't necessary."

★ ★ ★

Since then he has played night clubs and theaters including a run in "Our Town" last summer. Now he is talking about a tour of "Never Too Late." He'd like to take along a combo with which he would appear in night clubs after the play.

LOOKS FIT

Godfrey looks fit for anything. It is six years since he came through an operation for lung cancer.

Settle Property in Divorce Suit

TRENTON (UPI) — J. Seward Johnson of the wealthy pharmaceutical family, seeking a divorce on adultery charges, and his attractive German-born wife yesterday reached a property settlement.

The 35-year-old Johnson, heir to the multimillion-dollar Johnson & Johnson empire, accused his red-haired wife, Barbara, 33, of relegating him to the status of servant while she took two other lovers.

In a countersuit, Mrs. Johnson accused him of adultery and abandoning her. She has been awarded temporary alimony of $900 a week until the divorce case is settled.

Johnson's divorce action was recessed yesterday after the property settlement and was expected to resume in two or three weeks. Details of the settlement were kept secret but it was believed to involve only property and stock.

Key Rivalries Close '64 Prep Football Campaign

Waterford vs. Kettering

Waterford's Skippers will be trying to square their short series with Kettering at two apiece when the two square off at 8 p.m. on the WTHS field.

Like the previous three tilts, this one is rated a toss-up. Kettering owns a 7-1 mark and the Skippers have compiled a 6-1-1 record.

★ ★ ★

In the three games the Captains have scored a total of 39 points. Waterford has posted 38.

Kettering won the first game in 1961, 13-12, and came out on top last year, 13-7. The Skippers sailed home in 1962, 19-13.

Romeo vs. Utica

Romeo will be looking for its first win over Utica since 1957 when the Chieftains arrive for the 8 p.m. encounter.

The Bulldogs (5-3) jumped on the Utica eleven in '57 and came away with a 25-0 triumph. After a tie in 1959, Utica has dominated the series which stretches back some 25 years.

★ ★ ★

Utica moves into the game sporting a 6-1-1 record that includes the Bi-County League championship.

The Chieftains have won five in a row, while Romeo has taken three of its last four encounters.

Lake Orion vs. Oxford

One of the oldest rivalries in the area will continue this evening when Lake Orion moves into Oxford. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

In 33 meetings, Oxford has posted a 17-11 mark with five games deadlocked. The Wildcats (2-6) are favored to bag win No. 18 in the series tonight.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion (0-8) has won five of the last seven tilts. The Dragons dropped a 25-7 decision last year that snapped a series winning streak at four games.

The Dragons will also be trying to end an 11-game losing string that began last season.

Dondero vs. Kimball

The deadlock in the Royal Oak Kimball-Royal Oak Dondero series should come to an end when the two tangle at 8 tonight.

The two have met six times and each has emerged with three decisions.

★ ★ ★

The series opened in 1958 and Dondero proceeded to take the first three. Kimball has won the last three by lopsided scores.

Kimball has compiled a 6-1-1 record and wound up third in the Southeastern Michigan Association. Dondero sports a 4-3-1 mark.

Duffy Gives Irish Foe Phone Jitters

Words of Woe to Notre Dame From Spartans

Daugherty Tells Rival MSU Is Prepared for Big Game

AP Photofax

SEEKS NINTH — Michigan State football teams have defeated Notre Dame eight straight times under the direction of coach Duffy Daugherty. The Spartans try for No. 9 tomorrow at South Bend, Ind.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty put in a telephone call this week to his friend, Ara Parseghian, and wryly told the Notre Dame coach:

"Ara, we're going to do you a favor Saturday. We're going to knock you off and take you off the spot.

"You know, if you go through unbeaten your first season, you'll be in trouble. Your red hot alumni will be expecting it every year. So if you lose a couple, they'll be yelling for your scalp. But we'll fix that."

★ ★ ★

Parseghian, a very serious and intent young man, was still gulping for a reply when the telephone clicked.

REFRESHING

Daughterty is a refreshing departure from the average football coach, who grimly frets over charts and electronic machines, who whips players through their routines like a Captain Bligh and who thinks the world spins or stops spinning on a football victory.

★ ★ ★

Duffy, a round little Irishman built like a tree trunk, is a serious and astute coach but one who never has lost his sense of humor. Ever loose and jovial, he laughs his way from one pressure-packed Saturday to another.

"I don't have to worry about getting the boys up for Notre Dame," Daugherty cracks. "This week I had to shake the trees to get them down for practice."

ASKED OF SECRET

Once asked about his secret for beating the Irish (he's won eight of nine meetings), Duffy said, "They had two Catholic All-Americans, we had four."

The Michigan State coach acknowledged that he has one superstition. "I think's it's bad luck to lose."

He doesn't worry about alumni and is constantly ribbing the grads, such as the one who wired him: "We're behind you, win or draw."

★ ★ ★

Duffy said his wife is understanding after an important game. "When I get home, she always has my robe, slippers and hot water waiting for me. She hates for me to wash the dishes in cold water."

Last year Duffy described his All-America halfback Sherman Lewis as a great player with one weakness — "he's a senior."

Daugherty's wife did a book on favorite recipes of football coaches' wives and somebody asked him if he'd read it. "No, I haven't," he replied, "I'm waiting for the movie version."

Wolverines Must Be at Best for Iowa

★ ★ ★

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan football Coach Bump Elliott says his team will have to be at its "very best" to beat Iowa at Iowa City Saturday.

The Wolverines, who still have a chance at an outright Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid, will face an Iowa team led by one of the nation's top passers in Gary Snook.

★ ★ ★

Iowa, 1-4 in Big Ten play, has lost its last three games by a total of eight points.

"The Hawkeyes have one of the finest passing teams in the country," Elliott pointed out.

The Michigan defense will be weaker for the game. Tackle John Yanz is out for the season because of a knee injury and an ankle injury is expected to sideline defensive halfback Dick Rindfuss.

TOTAL OFFENSE

The game, 24th in the series between the two schools, shapes up as one which will pit Michigan's running power against the Iowa aerial attack.

Michigan, which still leads the Big Ten in total offense and defense, tops the league in average first downs per game, 21; net yards gained, 350.8; yards rushing per game, 242.8 and opponents' net yards, 211.8.

Iowa leads the league in a number of passing categories. The Hawkeyes have averaged 274.8 yards through the air, completing an average of 19 passes in 39 attempts. They also lead with an average of 5.3 yards a play.

★ ★ ★

Snook, the Hawkeyes' razzle-dazzle quarterback, has a big lead in individual passing and total offense.

He has completed 97 of 197 passes for 1,374 yards and eight touchdowns. His total offense is a yard under his passing figure since he has been thrown for a yard loss in 34 rushing attempts.

But in Bob Timberlake, the Wolverines feel they have a player who can counter Snook's passing.

Timberlake, though far down the list as a passer, is the league's fourth leading rusher with 335 yards in 87 carries and is third in total offense with 764 yards.

Michigan holds a 16-4-3 record going into the game. Last year's game ended in a 21-21 tie and Iowa last won in 1962.

This will be the last meeting between the two teams until 1969 when the game again has been scheduled for Iowa City.

NL HONOR—Former Detroit Tiger pitcher Jim Bunning, who posted a 19-8 record last season with the Philadelphia Phillies was honored in the Associated Press poll as National League comeback player of the year. He was 12-13 with Detroit in 1963 and was traded last December 5th.

Jim Bunning Named for Comeback Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bunning, the first big league pitcher in 42 years to pitch a regular season perfect game, was named the National League's comeback player-of-the-year for 1964 Thursday in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 33-year-old Philadelphia right-hander polled 49 votes in the balloting by 83 baseball writers. Vernon Law of Pittsburgh was second with seven votes followed by Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs, six.

★ ★ ★

Bunning, who won 12 games and lost 13 with Detroit in 1963, compiled a 19-8 record last season. His .704 winning percentage was the fourth highest in the circuit and his 219 strikeouts was the fifth highest. He also had a 2.83 earned run average, the lowest in his eight years in the majors.

TRADED

Bunning, a 20-game winner for Detroit in 1957 and a 19-game winner in 1962, was traded to the Phillies on Dec. 5, 1963 with catcher Gus Triandos for outfielder Don Demeter and pitcher Jack Hamilton. He pitched the perfect game against the New York Mets last June 21, the first such achievement since Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox in 1922.

Law, 34-years-old, also made an excellent comeback, winning 12 games, including five shutouts. A 20-game winner with the pennant-winning Pirates of 1960, he was hampered by a sore arm the next three seasons. His 1963 record was 4-5 when he worked only 77 innings.

Jackson was the majors' biggest winner, putting together a 24-11 mark, including 19 complete games and three shutouts. He had had a 14-18 slate in 1963.

Ernie Banks of the Cubs was fourth in the balloting with five votes. Then came Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, four and Joe Nuxhall and Deron Johnson, Cincinnati, two each.

Players with one vote were Joe Christopher, New York, Bob Bailey, Pittsburgh, Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, John Callison, Chris Short and Frank Thomas, Philadelphia and Dick Groat and Lou Brock, St. Louis.

League Titles End; Prestige Now at Stake

Dwindling Schedule Around County Has Rival Contests

With league titles safely tucked away, most of the area elevens will close the 1964 campaign tonight in tilts loaded with prestige.

In a lone conference tilt, Pontiac Central plays host to Saginaw Valley foe Flint Northern.

The Chiefs will open the battle at 8 p. m. at Wisner Stadium and they will be looking for their third win of the season.

★ ★ ★

Central will also be trying to cut into the big lead which the Flint squad has piled up in the 33 times the two have tangled. The series stands 25-7-1.

OTHER GAMES

Elsewhere on the schedule, Clarkston (1-7) entertains Rochester (4-3-1), Fenton (8-0) invades Holly (7-1), Birmingham Brother Rice (0-7) meets Birmingham Groves (2-6) and South Lyon (2-6) travels to Milford (7-1), Wayne-Oakland League champion.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake (7-1) will be looking for its eighth win at Southfield (2-6), Berkley (6-2) plays host to Oak Park (6-2), Port Huron (3-4-1) travels to Ferndale (6-1-1), Hazel Park (3-5) has a date at Roseville (3-4-1) and Birmingham Seaholm (3-4-1) journeys to Madison (5-3).

On the Saturday schedule, Farmington takes on cross-town rival North Farmington at 2 p. m., Cranbrook (2-5) plays host to Gilmour Academy at 2 p. m. and Flint Central (6-1) entertains Midland (4-2-2).

Farmington (5-3) will be looking for its first victory over the North Farmington (7-1) eleven. The Raiders took the first tilt in 1962, 7-0, and posted an 18-6 decision last year.

Braves Losing in Popularity

Club Officials Admit Milwaukee Problem

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Milwaukee County and the Milwaukee Braves finally agree on one point: the club's officials aren't too popular in the city they want to abandon.

"We're not too popular in Milwaukee, to say the least," Braves' Executive Vice President Tom Reynolds told an Atlanta news conference Thursday. "If we were running in an election tomorrow against Adolf Hitler we would lose up there."

★ ★ ★

In Milwaukee, county board chairman Eugene H. Grobschmidt went along with Reynolds.

"I agree with that 100 per cent," Grobschmidt said. "I could think of some worse guys than Hitler who could beat them."

Reynolds said that the Braves still would like to play in Atlanta in 1965, but he admitted hopes are slim. The National League has ordered the club to fulfill a contract to play at Milwaukee County Stadium in 1965. Reynolds earlier this week signed a 25-year contract for the Braves to start playing home games in Atlanta in 1966.

Pontiac Pro Quint in Opener Saturday

The first court appearance of the Pontiac Nationals in the North American Basketball League offers few prospects for a rosy beginning.

Certainly the Grand Rapids Tackers will make the visiting Nationals feel at home when they warm up Saturday night on the Godwin High School Field House floor.

But once the 8:30 p.m. tip-off has been dispensed with, the Tackers can be expected to do everything legal to make the Nationals uncomfortable.

Grand Rapids is the pre-season favorite for the NABL title based on its successful two-year reign in the Midwestern Professional Basketball League — forerunner of the new circuit.

The Tackers, Muskegon and Chicago were all members of the Midwestern league and have transferred their franchises intact.

TOP SCORER

The leading scorer from the defunct league, Nick Mantis—former Northwestern University star, leads the Tackers. The 6-3 guard led with a 22.3-point average and was voted the Most Valuable Player award.

He has been joined by former Detroit Piston Willie Jones in the backcourt. Michigan State's Horace Walker and M. C. Burton, Michigan star, are on the front line.

Grand Rapids' center is 6-8, 230-pound George Knighton, an All-American at New Mexico State. As a team last year the Tackers averaged better than 100 points per game.

The Nationals, meanwhile, bolstered their roster by signing Willie Merriweather and 6-5 John Morgan to contracts Wednesday.

Merriweather, who was the fourth leading scorer in the MPL last year with a 20.9 average at Holland, will move into one of the starting guard slots Saturday.

Playing coach Bob Bolton has announced Al Cech will be the other guard; Charlie North and Henry Hughes will be the forwards.

The 6-10 Bolton will start at center. Morgan and Dick Dzik will provide front line depth, while John Hannett, Frank Chickowski and Manny Jackson are backcourt reserves for the first game.

The team will depart at 4:45 p.m. Saturday in a three-car caravan leaving from the Wixom exit of I-96 Expressway. The Godwin court is located on West 36th in southwestern Grand Rapids.

Tickets will be available at the door. They are priced at $1 for students, $1.50 general admission and $2 reserved. The field house seats 3200.

The other NABL opening contest will have Muskegon at Benton Harbor.

O'Connor, 20, an amateur and a student at Los Angeles State College, was one stroke ahead of professional Doug MacDonald.

U.S. Now Totals 34 Paralympic Medals

TOKYO (AP) — The United States pushed its gold medals total to 34 with a victory in the archery competition and won the best team trophy as the Tokyo International Wheel Chair Games closed Thursday.

Dan Kotter, a 23-year-old from Urbana, Ill., who was struck by polio at the age of 18 months, finished first in the Columbia round competition for intermediate skilled competitors. Kotter, who has been practicing archery as a member of the Illinois Archer Association, scored 586 points.

★ ★ ★

The silver medal went to Italy's Raimundo Longhi, who scored 584 points and the bronze to George Pasipanki of the United States, who scored 580. All three bettered the existing U.S. national wheel chair record of 574 points in the Columbia round set last June by Billy Simmons of Illinois and Al Long, Buffalo, N.Y.

Pasipanki, an ex-serviceman who was injured in a motorcycle accident said, "It was the best score I ever shot."

Tabulation of the medal winners continued even after the impressive ceremonies which ended the five-day, 22-nation event. The 69-man American delegation was reported to have catured 34 gold and eight silver medals.

The Americans were presented the best team trophy by Dr. Ludwig Guttmann, founder of the International Wheel Chair games.

An unofficial count also gave Italy 17 gold medals, Rhodesia 11, Israel 10, The Netherlands four and France, three.

Lonely Liston Figures Title Only Way Back

BOSTON (AP) — The last 38 weeks have been the loneliest of all in the troubled life of ex-champion Charles Sonny Liston. He figures he can change all that by regaining the heavyweight boxing crown from Cassius Clay next Monday night.

"I just want that title," said the man Clay calls that Big, Ugly Bear. "That's all there is in all this world."

★ ★ ★

"When you wake up and find you're not the champ any more you're all alone. The guys with the big mouths are out talking about you, not to you, and what they say ain't what they said the day before. It's a big price to pay.

"Never mind what Clay has to say. I don't want to hear them or read them. Let him talk. A scared man talks like that. I'm going my way this time and I'm working hard.

"I'm going to get that title and keep it a long time. I'm going to like it and with it I won't be lonely."

Three Teams Tied in Hockey League

Cleveland Title Hopes at Stake

Lions' Hex Over Browns May End

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Before the 1964 NFL season started, there were many who looked at this Sunday's game between the Detroit Lions and Cleveland Browns in huge Municipal Stadium as a possible preview of the title game which will most likely be held there, December 27th.

Chances are Cleveland will be host to the NFL title game and there will 82,000 on hand to see it. But chances also are that it won't be the Lions who will be gain of a championship share which should be the highest in pro football history.

What the Lions could do Sunday is something they've managed to do year after year as far as the Browns are concerned —ruin them.

DOMINATE SERIES

No team in pro football has held such a convincing edge over another as Detroit has held over Cleveland. Last year, the Lions with a 4-7-1 mark at the time, ruined the Browns' title hopes with a 38-10 decision.

Through the years the story has been pretty much the same and this is how the rivalry stands in the record books:

Pre-season: Detroit 13-7-1
Regular season: Detroit 5-0
Championships: Detroit 3-1
Playoff Bowl: Detroit 1-0
Overall: Detroit 22-8-1

With the loss of Joe Schmidt because of a dislocated shoulder, and several other players nursing injuries which may keep them out of action or hamper their effectiveness, the Brown's position in the favorite's role appears much more formidable.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland of course has the great running of Jimmy Brown who recently recorded his 10,000th yard rushing. He has gone over 1,000 yards rushing in all but two of his seasons, but ironically the only team he has yet to gain 100 or more yards against in a single game is Detroit.

In fact, in the last three regular season games against the Lions, Brown has not scored a touchdown.

★ ★ ★

Kickoff in Cleveland Sunday is 1:30 p.m. and it will be the first regular season appearance in the lake city stadium for Milt Plum who left here in a trade three years ago.

49ers to Start Mira in Green Bay Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Mira, a surprised and admittedly anxious rookie quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers, will start his first National Football League game when the 49ers meet the Green Bay Packers here Sunday.

Coach Jack Christiansen, making major changes in the 49er line-up, replaced veteran John Brodie with Mira and Bill Kilmer with rookie halfback Dave Kopay from the University of Washington.

Buffalo Looks for Revenge

The undefeated Buffalo Bills will have more than this year's eastern division title in mind when they face the Boston Patriots Sunday afternoon.

They'll also be seeking revenge for the pasting the Pats dealt them last December in the divisional playoff.

★ ★ ★

Boston and Buffalo finished the 1963 Amerian Football League season with identical 7-6-1 marks and met Dec. 28 in War Memorial Stadium, Buffalo, before a full house for the right to meet San Diego, the western winners.

Boston won it, 26-8.

This year it appears as though the Bills are headed for the title game. A victory Sunday would place former Boston Coach Lou Saban and his clhb within one win of their first conference crown and nearer to the first unbeaten season in professional football since the Chicago Bears survived the 1942 season without a defeat.

Pistons Win 2nd Straight Under Dave

DETROIT (AP) — Dave DeBusschere's home debut as a new playing-coach of the Detroit Pistons turned into a huge success Thursday night in a 121-99 Piston victory over the San Francisco Warriors and a hot Wilt Chamberlain.

★ ★ ★

DeBusschere, now 2-0 as coach, led two Detroit rallies that contributed to the triumph despite 53 points by Wilt the Stilt.

The Warriors, with Chamberlain dumping in eight of his 22 field goals and a free throw, led at the half 49-45 but a Detroit offensive headed by Ray Scott and Terry Dischinger turned the tide in the second half.

★ ★ ★

Dischinger led Detroit with 30 points while Scott registered 24 and DeBusschere 13. Big Dave took down 13 rebounds.

Tributes Pour in for Hutch

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Tributes continued to pour in today to Fred Hutchinson, the former Cincinnati Red manager, who died of cancer at the age of 45 early Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Dick Sisler, the man who replaced Hutchinson when the grim-faced manager no longer was able to run the Reds, said "I am very deeply saddened by the loss of a good friend. Baseball has lost a good man and a good manager. We were very close to his family and our thoughts are with them today."

Sisler will serve as one of 12 honorary pallbearers at Hutchinson's funeral service at Rosen Memorial Church on Anna Maria Island Saturday. Burial will be early next week in Renton, Wash.

OTHER BEARERS

Other pallbearers will be William O. DeWitt, president of the Reds; Cincinnati coaches Jim Turner and Reggie Otero; Walter (Hoot) Evers, a former teammate of Hutchinson's and currently vice president of the Cleveland Indians and George (Birdie) Tebbetts, Cleveland manager.

Also Bill McKechnie Sr., former major league player and manager; his son Bill Jr., owner of the Atlanta baseball team; Hank Greenberg, former big league player and executive; Dr. George Ballou; J. D. Webb and Bennie Scanio.

★

Commissioner Ford C. Frick released the following statement in New York.

"All of us in baseball will feel deeply the loss of Fred Hutchinson, both as a baseball figure and as a man. He brought credit to baseball at all times both on and off the field. I am proud that I was his friend."

Stretch Drive for PGA Lead

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus will stage a stretch duel for the 1964 fairway money championship in next week's sixth annual Cajun Classic Golf tournament — final PGA event of the year.

★ ★ ★

Joe Black, PGA Tournament supervisor, notified Cajun Classic officials Thursday that Palmer would appear in the tourney, which starts Nov. 8 over the rolling, 6,700-yard Oakborne Country Club course.

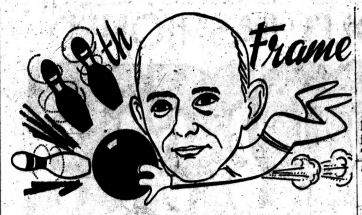

Palmer leads Nicklaus by $319 in official earnings on the golf-for-gold circuit this year.

Tourney officials upped the purse for this year's Cajun Classic from $20,000 to $23,000 and hope to add another $2,000 to the pot by the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Palmer has pulled down $111,703 in official prize money this year. Nicklaus, winding up his second full year on the circuit, has picked up checks totaling $111,384.

By JERE CRAIG

Pontiac's 300 Bowl American Bowling Congress team champions' trip to Venezuela should serve as a reminder to local bowlers desiring to compete in this year's ABC tournament.

Although the 1965 ABC Tournaments' first ball will not be rolled until March 25th at St. Paul, Minn., the deadline for preferred reservation dates passed last week.

Now all entries are processed on a first come, first served basis until the final Feb. 23 deadline. Already, nearly 4,000 reservations have been received.

And 400 of the 480 ABC Masters Tournament berths have been filled. It will be May 22-26 in the St. Paul Auditorium.

The situation is much the same for local female bowlers who want to compete in the Women's International Bowling Congress championships.

The reservation deadline passed Nov. 1st with more than 1,400 teams entered. Final registration date is Jan. 22nd for the Portland, Ore. affair which will open April 8th.

★ ★ ★

The WIBC Queen's Tournament also is passed the halfway mark in entries and has a Jan. 1st deadline.

Local men and women who would like the chance to represent the U.S. in international competition are urged not to wait with their applications to the ABC and WIBC.

The Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's holiday periods are rapidly approaching with their numerous distractions. Now is the time to take care of the administrative details.

SPARE PINS

According to the WIBC's most recent release, the Alcamo Hall Catering team of Detroit has the second highest three-game team series among U.S. women for this year.

They posted a 2986 this fall, only two pins below the top national series. The Helin Tackle team had a 1049 game which is sixth best in the country.

★ ★ ★

When Monroe Moore, Pontiac's regular Professional Bowlers' Association tour participant, was leading at San Diego this year, he ran into Billy Welu in his first head-to-head match.

"Mo" lost to Welu and eventually slipped back to 10th place. Ironically, Welu started Moore's downfall using a ball that the Pontiac kegler had fitted for him.

Speaking of tournaments, don't forget the 4-event Pontiac Bowlerama starts next week and handicap singles' deadline is next Wednesday night.

Women's Record Set in Jet Powered Car

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Mrs. Paula Murphy, 29, streaked to a land speed record for Women Thursday in a 10,000-horsepower jet car.

The San Fernando Valley, Calif., mother averaged 226.37 miles per hour in two trips over the measured mile, breaking her own previous record of 161.2 m.p.h.

Bluth on Top in PBA Open With 2,762

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ray Bluth of St. Louis rolled a 1387 in the second qualifying round Thursday night to take the lead after 12 games in the Professional Bowlers Association's $27,500 Columbus Open with a 2762 total.

Bluth had rolled a 1375 in the first round Thursday afternoon.

Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., took over second place with a 12-game total of 2740, and Bill Bunetta of Fresno, Calif., was third with 2730.

★

Bill Golembiewski of Detroit was fourth with 2728 and Dave Soutar of Detroit fifth with 2679.

Two more qualifying rounds were set for Friday before the top 16 moved into match play in Saturday's finals.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

MIAMI, Fla. — Gordon Lott, 151, Savannah, Ga., stopped Jim Beasley, 151, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 4.

LOS ANGELES — Raul Rojas, 126, San Pedro, Calif., knocked out Porfirio (Blackie) Zamora, 131, Corpus Christi, Tex., 6.

BOWLING

There was only one sweep last week in the Huron Bowl Classic. Farm Maid Dairy blanked Gary Brothers as Dick Viles hit 234—682.

There were several good efforts by individuals: Norm Keeley hit 277—668, Skee Neal 256—676, and Bob Vackaro and Ron Rothbarth both had 257.

Huron's Monday Pontiac General Hospital League was paced this week by Helen Stone's 221 for the second place Sterling Auto Parts squad.

Chuck Evans followed up his 219—604 of last week with a 211—601 Monday morning in the Montcalm Bowling Centre Men's Trio loop.

The women have been doing well at Orchard Lanes recently. Phyllis May hit 200—529, Erma Steed 219—529, Jean Williams 202 and Marianne Moore 211 in the Eastover Ladies League.

Ellen Boone had 208 among the Wednesday Coffee and Doughnut bowlers; Dorothy Puvagel rolled a 212 in the Bloomfield Corners Mixed League; and Sue Foster hit 211 in American Legion bowling.

Chuck Meadows bowled 205-207-216—628 in 300 Bowl's Friday Guys & Dolls circuit.

That same night at East Highland Recreation, the Mixed League posted 228 for Maynard Chose.

The top scores to date in the 60 and Over League at Elks 810 are 234—541 by Orville Judd, 221—546 by Burton Schoolmaster and 548 by Wilbert Davies. Clarence Huck had a 168-169-170 progression early in the season.

Bantamweight in Debut

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gerry Lott, the 1963 National AAU bantamweight boxing champion, makes his pro debut tonight in an eight-round bout with Mexican Bolero Padilla.

State Farm Bureau Blasts Federal Controls, Wheat Program

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Farm Bureau Thursday denounced what it called "the thicket of government controls" and said the government's 1964 wheat program cost Michigan growers at least $17 million.

Urging repeal of the wheat program, the 69,000-member bureau said the plan "has lowered the price of wheat to farmers but has increased the price to consumers."

In blasting government controls, it said:

"We must always remember that the farm family lives on 'income' not on 'prices.' A high price with a limited production does not produce a satisfactory income."

It contended commodities not subject to quotas, allotments and controls generally are in a more healthy condition than those "which have lost markets through high supports and production controls."

The bureau's delegates, meeting at East Lansing, rejected a resolution supporting the so-called dairyman's class I base by a 234 to 214 vote. Instead, it adopted a resolution taking a flexible stand on the issue.

The defeated resolution said farmers "are forced to compete against each other to maintain a high base and a resulting favorable percentage of Class I sales within the market." It called for allotting each producer a share of the class I milk sales within the market.

On state issues, the bureau called for legislation to "reduce or substantially reduce personal property taxes." It also asked for "significant tax relief on real property."

To replace revenues lost from property taxes, it proposed a statewide flat rate net income tax.

The tax resolution said, "based on income, farmers pay two to three times more property tax than any other groups."

The bureau supported legislation that would allow establishment of marketing and promotional programs by issuance of marketing orders.

Its resolution recommended that each commodity group decide for itself whether to allow individual producers to remain free of the order's provisions.

The bureau also reaffirmed a previous policy urging laws against "price discrimination which would have the effect of substantially lessening competition or tending to create a monopoly" in dairy products.

Gov. George Romney has appointed a committee which is tudying dairy pricing matters.

The bureau concluded its three-day meeting, which drew some 2,000 farmers from around the state, with elections.

Harvey Luenberg of Saginaw County was elected to the board of directors post now held by Floyd Shankel of Gratiot County.

Reelected directors were Dean Pridgeon, Branch County; Walter Frahm, Saginaw County; Wilbur Smith, Calhoun County; Elton Smith, Kent County; Ward Hodge, Sanilac County, and Edgar Diamond, Alpena County.

The average United States household consists of 3.33 persons, about the same as 10 years ago, but the average number of children younger than 18 years old increased while there was a decline in the number of adults.

1965 Plates Selling Like Hot Cakes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's clean new license plates are selling like tickets to the sold-out Michigan State-Notre Dame football game, reports Secretary of State James Hare.

Hare estimates 200,000 of the new plates were purchased in the first week after they went on sale Nov. 2.

The new plates are maize and blue — the University of Michigan colors—and not all the sales are due to the U. of M. Big Ten and Rose Bowl hopes, speculatives Hare, an avid football fan himself.

"Virtually all our branches are not only reporting record sales," Hare said,

Hare reminded that the old plates still are valid until next Feb. 28 and advised buyers of new plates to keep their old ones in a safe place until they no longer are valid.

Dem Ralph Rivers Retains Alaska Seat

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — With only a handful of ballots remaining to be counted, unofficial tabulations early today showed Democrat Rep. Ralph Rivers definitely will retain the House seat he has held since Alaska became a state in 1959.

Rivers had 34,503 votes and his Republican opponent, Lowell Thomas Jr., had 32,877 with all but 240 absentee ballots and only one of the state's 361 precincts uncounted. Thomas, local television commentator and son of the nationally known traveler and commentator, also failed to defeat Rivers two years ago.

Market Irregularly Higher

Key Stocks Counter Motor Dip

NEW YORK (AP)—Weakness in some of the motors was countered by selective strength in key stocks and the stock market edged irregularly higher early this afternoon.

Trading was moderately active, but below yesterday's pace.

Weakness in Ford was an early feature as many of its employes were idled by strikes and layoffs. The stock trimmed a loss which at one time exceeded a point.

MADE RECOVERY

As Ford made a partial recovery, however, General Motors enlarged a fractional decline to a loss of more than a point. Chrysler eased fractionally.

★ ★ ★

Rails held a slight rise on balance while steels were mostly easy.

Some of the farm implements, nonferrous metals and utilities helped keep the list as a whole narrowly within plus territory.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 328.2 with industrials up .3, rails up .5 and utilities up .3.

Rails kept to the upside despite a strike by six shop unions scheduled for Monday against most of the nation's railroads.

ON AMERICAN.

Prices moved generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gains exceeding a point were scored by Acme Missiles, Old Town, Molybdenum and Massey-Fergusen. Syntex added a point.

★ ★ ★

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. U.S. Government bonds weakened on profit taking.

School District Not Changed

Sought Transfer Into W. Bloomfield Zone

A petition to transfer 300 acres of land — the Sagamore Estates Subdivision — from the Walled Lake Consolidated School District to West Bloomfield was denied yesterday by a unanimous vote of the County School Board.

★ ★ ★

All 44 residents of the subdivision, had sought the land transfer, which would have switched 45 children to West Bloomfield schools.

The land, valued at $604,000, is located along Pontiac Trail and Arrowhead Road near the border of Orchard Lake, south of Upper Straits Lake.

Spokesman for the petitioners, William A. Wieland, 4949 Arrowhead, Orchard Lake said that West Bloomfield schools are closer than Walled Lake schools.

★ ★ ★

He claimed that this gives the youngsters from the subdivision longer bus rides, and it is inconvenient for parents to transport children after school hours to sports and social activities.

ORIENTATION

In addition, he said the neighborhood is oriented to the east and south, not the west and north toward Walled Lake.

Clifford H. Smart, Walled Lake school supt., spoke against the land transfer. He said the Sagamore subdivision children would be riding school buses anyway.

Granting the transfer, according to Smart, would be a piecemeal approach to the countywide problem of school district boundary lines.

The five - member board denied the transfer petition without comment.

ALTER BUDGET

In other business, the County School Board directed Supt. William J. Emerson to alter the budget to allow for a vocational education consultant.

★ ★ ★

The county school budget for 1964-65 contained $22,000 to provide for the vocational education position, but this was eliminated when the allocated millage was cut.

Emerson said the consultant would replace a language arts director who resigned and whose post has not been filled.

Weapon Warrant Sought Against 3 City Youths

Pontiac police will seek a concealed weapon warrant today against three 17-year-old youths arrested last night on a charge of stealing a flashlight and night stick from a police car.

The police property, valued at $14, was taken from the car of Officer Travis Lively at 11:10 p.m. while it was parked in front of the Oakland County Jail.

★ ★ ★

Police later found the missing items in a car occupied by David Jones, 361 Wessen; Autrey Green, 343 Howard McNeil; and Marvin Taylor, 44 Clovese.

Police said a knife with a 4¾-inch blade also was found in the car. The knife will be the basis for the concealed weapon warrant being sought, police said.

CARS AND STRIPES — Pontiac Motor Division has returned to the fine art of paint-striping their automobile bodies. The stripes, running the full length of the car, are available on all 1965 Pontiac 2 Plus 2 and GTO orders. A frame mounted to the car by suction cups (top) provides a guide line for the painter. A double stripe (bottom) is applied to the 2 Plus 2 while a single line goes on the GTO.

Revived Art

Stripes on New Pontiacs

The almost forgotten art of paint-striping automobile bodies has been revived and modernized at Pontiac Motor Division.

Started with the first Pontiacs in 1926 and then discontinued, paint stripes are now being seen on new Pontiacs for the first time since the post war years of 1946 and 1947.

Unless otherwise specified by the customer, a single stripe running the length of the car is applied to the Pontiac GTO and a double stripe goes on all 2 Plus 2 orders.

Stripes come in three colors; white, red or black and are applied to complement the trim combinations.

The meticulous job of applying the stripes calls for a man with steady hands and long job experience. Pontiac's Jack Cole has both.

OLD PAINT HAND

Cole joined Pontiac on Jan. 11, 1928 as a dock loader. By 1929 he had transferred to the paint shop and has been there ever since.

Cole begins each job by placing a fixture to each side of the car. The fixture clings to the car body by suction cups and provides a base line from which to paint.

He then uses a gauge to measure the exact distance from the fender peak to make sure the base line is positioned correctly and accurately. The stripe is painted 1 and a fourth inches from the fender peak.

★ ★ ★

"I'm right-handed so I start at the back on the left side and work up and then go to the front on the right side and work toward the back," Cole explained.

OPPOSITE WAY

"A left-handed man would probably paint the opposite way," he added.

Cole uses a paint gun which consists of a small container to hold the paint and a tube with a roller on the end.

When the tube is depressed the paint is discharged and the roller applies it. Cole guides the gun along the base line with one steady movement.

Different from this modern method was the striping procedure in 1926 when it was done strictly by a man with a hair brush, or in 1946 when an air gun was used.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am 46 years old. My wife and I work for Dow Chemical and have accumulated 170 shares of Dow stock through the employe stock purchase plan. We want to continue that and start now to invest $100 a month in some other stocks. We have adequate savings, insurance, and a big equity in our home. What would you suggest for two stocks that won't have to be touched for 15 years?" R. D.

A) I suggest that you take out a Monthly Investment Plan with one of the member firms that offer such a service.

I would start my first plan with Texaco, nationally the most effective distributor in its field. After building a position here, I would move on to Montana Power — a strong utility for growth, and follow this with Procter & Gamble, leader in soaps and detergents.

Economy Feeding on New Optimism

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Recently growing business confidence is now feeding on itself. Even the dangers that some observers glimpse on distant horizons are paradoxically promising a fatter economy in the weeks and months just ahead.

These are DAWSON signs that inflationary psychology may be starting at last to build up; a flood of new orders that point to a growth in inventories after long stability; plans to increase spending for new plants and equipment; blossoming of consumer optimism through talk that recessions are things of the past; shrinkage of excess production facilities that long have provided strong competitive forces.

★ ★ ★

Alone or in combination, these could cause trouble some months from now by bringing on excesses that would destroy the current business upswing.

But in the immediate future each holds promise of pushing the economy to still loftier levels.

EXPECTED RISES

Inflation psychology usually leads industrial purchasing agents to advance their timetables to beat expected price rises, and thus they spur tomorrow's production schedules of suppliers. Inflation also fires labor's demands for more pay and generally means rising personal incomes. It feeds management's desire to raise prices to protect future profits from increasing costs, so dollar sales figures expand. Consumers also usually cut down on saving and spend more when inflation is in the air, and merchants and purveyors of services seem more prosperous.

In time, inflation defeats itself, or worse. The early glitter means only a drop in the purchasing power of the dollar.

The growth in inventories which apparently is starting will mean higher sales totals for producers in the months ahead. The economy will glow. Whether it's a healthy glow will depend on the inventories being passed along in consumer sales. Otherwise, businessmen will start living off these accumulations and stop ordering.

★ ★ ★

One of the current signs that the economy should keep on growing for a time is that industry is announcing plans to spend more for new plants and equipment. Suppliers will prosper. And the plans are based on confidence that the economy has new heights to climb. But workers can point out that in the past overexpansion has led to idle production facilities.

TV Definitely Interferes With Learning

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: Does television viewing interfere with good study habits? I have a daily fight with my youngsters about this. They insist they can study and listen, too. Mrs. H. D., Los Angeles

DR. NASON

Young minds can handle a lot of ideas, perhaps as many as 1400 a minute. This means a boy reading 200 to 300 words a minute has part of his mind for use on something else. But this part of his mind should be used exclusively for studying what he is reading.

If he uses the extra capacity for television then, of course, he is not studying what he is reading and his study becomes very inefficient and, in most cases, he might just as well not study at all.

Dear Dr. Nason: Recess is the only part of school that my child dreads. I don't understand it because recess was the part I liked best. Is this the case with many children? G. W., Chicago.

★ ★ ★

Your child and the others like him who stand aside rather than enter the games on the playground, usually have a fear of failure. They have not developed the coordination which gives confidence.

It is important that something be done since lack of confidence carries over into the classroom.

You can help your child develop the necessary coordination. Play ball with him. Encourage other children in the neighborhood to play ball with him.

★ ★ ★

Supply climbing and jumping apparatus. Teach him to swim. Keep him busy at physical activities.

He will need to keep at it to catch up with his playmates.

Dear Dr. Nason: My son is in first grade this year in a school system which teaches modern math exclusively. Next year he will be attending second grade, and finishing his elementary education, in a state where modern math is not taught.

He is of average ability and I worry that this change might throw his math off for quite a time.

Do you have any suggestions that might make the change, when it comes, easier for him? Mrs. E. J., Langley AFB, Va.

★ ★ ★

Experience so far in the transfer from modern math to regular math has uncovered no severe problems. Make sure your son gets enough practice in number combinations for their use to be automatic.

★ ★ ★

Other than that the new mathematics provides a better background for understanding traditional math and the transition should be uneventful.

(You can write Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press.)

Red China Chief Talks on Afghanistan Ties

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist Chinese President Liu Shao-chi said Red China and neutralist Afghanistan would "develop economic and cultural relations."

Liu was quoted by the official New China News Agency as making the statement at a banquet in Peking for Afghan King Mohammed Zahir Shah and Queen Homaira at the conclusion of their state visit.

Although Venezuela finished 10th in the World Bridge Olympiad and Thailand 17th, the Thai team won its match against Venezuela.

JACOBY

Here is a hand in which Venezuela went down both ways of the table.

The bidding in the box took place when Venezuela held the North-South cards.

There wasn't much to the play at four spades. East and West held all four aces and took them rather quickly and cheerfully. South took the rest, but he was down one for minus 100.

At the other table the Venezuelan West chose to bid two clubs rather than to double. North bid two spades and East raised to three clubs. South looked at his two nice suits and singleton club and tried three hearts, whereupon North jumped to four spades.

East thought that four spades was going to make, and he decided to sacrifice at five clubs. As you can see, it turned out to be one of those phantom saves. West had to lose one club, two hearts and two diamonds for minus 500.

East looked rather imprudent, but I am inclined to blame West for the trouble. West didn't have much in either hearts or diamonds, but he could stand either suit and West had tremendous strength against his opponents. Hence a double would have been a far better bid than a two club overcall.

Of course, a double might have started East on his way to five diamonds. It might, but again there would be a good chance that East would hope that his ace of hearts plus the defensive tricks indicated by his partner's double would lead to a defeat of the four-spade contract.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	Double	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	Pass	2 ♠	3 ♥
Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠3 2 ♥A K 6 ♦K 5 4 ♣A Q 9 8 2
What do you do?
A—This is an absolute guess between pass and four hearts. It depends on how conservative your partner is.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two hearts, your partner bids two clubs over your double. What do you do now?

Post Goes Biweekly to Improve Finances

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John McLean Clifford, new president and chief executive officer of the Curtis Publishing Co., says the firm "is not in any immediate cash danger," and predicts that a new publishing schedule for the Saturday Evening Post and other moves will restore it to financial health.

The Curtis board of directors, besides promoting Clifford from executive vice president to president yesterday, also announced that the Post will be published 26 times a year instead of weekly and said two special consultants had been named to aid the financially troubled company.

Newton N. Minow, 38, former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and A. Edward Miller, 46, a New York publishing executive are the consultants.

Curtis, which also publishes Jack and Jill, American Home, Holiday and the Ladies Home Journal, reported a 1964 third quarter loss of $4,219,000.

For the first nine months, the reported loss was $8,097,000. The firm reported losses of $3 million in 1963 and $18.9 million in 1962.

Clifford, 59, has been acting executive officer since Oct. 19 when Matthew J. Culligan resigned as president. Culligan has remained as board chairman.

DREWRYS LTD., U.S.A., INC., SOUTH BEND, IND.

Who is beer made for anyway?

Beer is an adult drink.

It should have a taste that appeals to adults.

It shouldn't appeal to anybody but an adult.

Drewrys brews beer strictly for adults and adults only.

That's why Drewrys Beer is not bland.

We believe that bland things are strictly for babies.

And Drewrys doesn't ever intend to treat adults like babies by making bland beer.

We feel anyone who is past the age of 21 should enjoy the opportunity to act his age.

Our brewmaster uses only expensive fuggle hops to give Drewrys more beer taste, more beer feel and more beer smell.

These are the things that a professional beer drinker looks for in a bottle of beer.

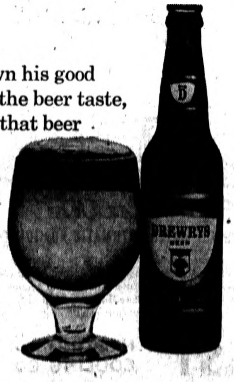

That's why Drewrys puts them there.

We figure that anyone, whether he's 21 or 81, who plunks down his good money for beer deserves the beer taste, beer smell and beer feel that beer should have.

Drewrys is in bars and stores for all professional beer drinkers to enjoy.

They're paying for this kind of beer.

We figure they should get exactly what they're paying for.

This 1964-65 Annual Report is published by the Waterford Township Board of Education to partially convey the story of its comprehensive educational program for the children and adults of its community.

Dr. Don O. Tatroe
Supt. of Schools

Waterford Township School District

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT
3101 West Walton Boulevard
PONTIAC, MICHIGAN 48053

Dear Waterford Citizens:

We often wish we could sit down with each of you to talk about your school system. We're proud of the many things which are happening to improve your school's program, and want you to know of them, too. Since we can't meet with each of you, we have prepared this Annual Report which represents another of our continuing efforts at informing you of the progress we are making in educating the children of our community. Since you are the "Stockholders" in your wonderful public school system we felt we should communicate at least once during the year with every citizen in the community; thus, this report to you. We also want to thank you for your help in the past and express our hope to receive your continued support.

This year we are focusing our efforts in two broad areas. One of these we call the Community School. Through this program we are simply trying to make the schools more useful to everyone. Educational and recreational programs will be available for people of all ages around the clock and throughout the year. And we have committed ourselves to help work toward community improvement.

The second emphasis is known as the Project on Instruction. Waterford Township Schools have been known in the past for offering an outstanding instructional program. But we need to do an even better job; and our staff will be continuing their efforts this year to study ways to improve the quality of our curriculum. During the 1964-65 school year we are beginning an intensive effort to do this through our Project on Instruction.

It would take a very long letter to tell you about the many exciting things that are happening in Waterford Township Schools. This report briefly highlights but a few of these activities for you.

We look upon our responsibility of providing a good education for children as one we share with other agencies in the community, and particularly with parents. Close understanding, cooperation, and support for each other is most important, if this job is done well. We like to communicate with you through newspapers and newsletters to keep you informed of our activities. But we need your opinion and advice, too, and for this reason we invite you to write your comments, questions, or suggestions to us. Please feel free to send your thoughts or questions to school with your child, or mail them directly to the Board of Education Office, 3101 West Walton Boulevard, Pontiac, Michigan.

Waterford Schools Are YOUR SCHOOLS

YOU GIVE IN THEM . . .

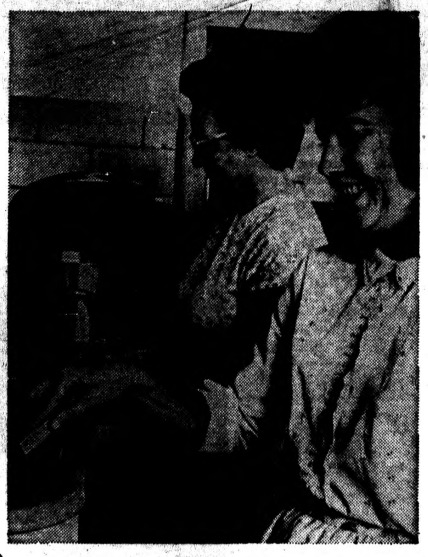

Citizens' Advisory Committee

In the past two years several hundred Waterford residents have actively participated as members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee. Studying and evaluating such problems as school sites, plans and facilities; community resources; teacher recruitment and orientation; and the community-school program. The interest and enthusiasm of these citizens have produced many fine recommendations which your Board of Education is attempting to effect as soon as possible.

On the Spot Observation

Taking a group of Mohammeds to the mountain becomes a difficult task for one classroom teacher, unless he or she has some adult assistance. Here again Waterford parents exhibit their willingness to serve their schools by accompanying field trips such as this one.

The Next Best Thing To Being There

These youngsters have been transported to Japan, in their imaginations, as they listen to stories of her native country from a Japanese mother who lives in their community. In the clothing of her former homeland Mrs. Williams is demonstrating the ceremonial tea ritual. The boys and girls have learned far more from this mother's voluntary visits to their classrooms than they could have learned even from the most descriptive book.

Helping with Hot Lunches

Waterford's elementary schools are not as yet equipped with facilities to serve daily hot lunches to children. But they are equipped with a remarkable group of parents who provide low cost lunches in all of the elementary buildings on a regular weekly or monthly schedule. These Mothers have been at school since 9 a.m. cooking up a mountain of hot dogs and a barrel of Sloppy Joes. It's hard to tell who enjoys it most, the children or the parents.

YOU RECEIVE FROM THEM

The Waterford school system is not only for the children. Many new skills and experiences are being acquired by adults in our rapidly growing program of adult education and recreation. This program enlists the total community in projects aimed at individual enrichment and community improvement. Bolstered by a $50,000 grant this year from the Mott Foundation, the Waterford Township Board, the Recreation Board, and the Board of Education joined forces to share support of a Waterford Community-School Program. New avenues of service are open to all the people in the community as well as new opportunities for social, educational and cultural activities. The groups shown are: women learning the art of cake decorating, women keeping physically fit in a fast-paced volley ball game, adults concentrating on office skills, parents attending a PTA meeting, a group of adults taking advantage of a new math program and learning its new jargon.

A CHILD'S EDUCATIONAL WORLD

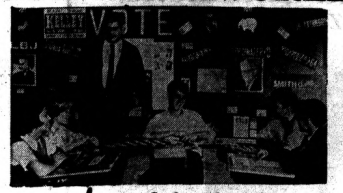

Members of an elementary teaching staff evaluate materials for an improved reading program.

Teachers continue their educations to learn the newest in teaching materials and technology.

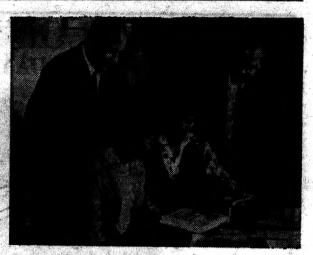

Reading together at home is a rewarding experience.

Students learn from each other through group activities.

Parents and teachers volunteer their time to read good books to the children.

A committee of teachers and administrators confer on a new textbook selection.

A school district reading consultant discusses the reading program with parents at a PTA meeting.

The ITA (Initial Teaching Alphabet) approach is being used as an experimental method in some classrooms for the first time this year.

Books and audio-visual materials are available at the Curriculum Materials Center to enrich classroom studies.

Mothers volunteer their services to staff the elementary school libraries.

An individualized reading program is used to reach each child.

A teacher candidate is interviewed by Assistant Superintendent Barrett Vorce.

Field trips provide experiences which enrich classroom activities.

The crossing guard and the bus driver assist in the safe transportation of the child to and from school.

A student obtains guidance from his counselor in the secondary schools.

Physical skills and coordination play an important part in the school's program.

Parent-Teacher conference creates better understanding.

Much lies "behind the scenes" in the development of an effective educational program if it is to appropriately provide for each young person. New educational materials and techniques are continuously evaluated; adequate facilities and materials are planned and acquired; public understanding and advice is sought; time for staff planning and improvement is provided; and continuous appraisals of the curriculum is carried on.

We Build On Readin' . . . 'Ritin' . . . and 'Rithmetic

TODAY'S STUDENTS ARE TOMORROW'S CITIZENS

It's only a hop, skip and jump from kindergarten to first grade and into the world of learning to read. Learning to read requires coordination, among other skills, and the development of such coordination is the aim of many kinds of activities in kindergarten.

Helping children to learn to read well is one of the major undertakings of the Waterford elementary schools. Teachers use many methods and materials with groups and individuals to keep improvements in our reading program. Here, children are using Science Research Associates materials designed to meet individual reading needs and accomplishments.

The ability to solve technical problems such as these being tackled in a Waterford high school geometry classroom is a step to advanced studies leading to many professions. The new math program in Waterford schools, unified from grade one through twelve, provides a wide variety of math experiences to meet all pupils' needs. It isn't always a snap, but most students find it's fun.

Children and parents in Waterford schools have long been familiar with the so-called "new math." These second-graders are solving problems with the aid of an abacus-like number frame. Your teachers are alert to new methods and promising changes, sensibly trying out whatever will improve teaching and learning.

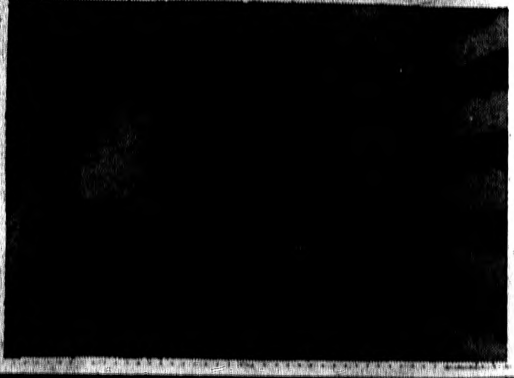

Elementary vocal classes such as this one enable the student to learn and appreciate music at an early age. The study of the history of folk songs and lore add interest and enrichment to the student's life.

A primary child's world is small, and as he grows, his world expands and grows with him. First he learns about his community and the people who work and live there with him. Waterford's community helpers often visit the classroom to help the boys and girls know them better.

Later the child learns to know his state: about its location, its heritage, its products and its leaders. Each year this knowledge is brought into sharper focus as students and teachers plan a colorful and informative observance of Michigan Week in the Waterford schools.

A knowledge of the cultures of people in other countries rounds out his awareness of the rest of the world. Maps and globes, used generously in small groups, make learning more meaningful and complete and help to prepare youth for this world of today and tomorrow.

In the secondary schools students really become citizens of a miniature community within their building and assume the rights and responsibilities that accompany that status. One of their duties as school citizens is the selection of representatives to their legislative body, the student council. This student has just cast his ballot for student council officers, using a voting machine made available through the cooperation of the Waterford township board.

Preparing For a Place in The Community

Students in both Waterford high schools have an opportunity to become well acquainted with the world of work while still in school, through the cooperative training program. Following morning classes some students spend the afternoon on the job where the employer and counselor cooperate to make it profitable learning experience for him. These boys, having completed the unique chef's cooking course at Waterford Kettering High School, are now employed part-time in the school cafeteria where they have an opportunity to practice their new skills.

Good meals won't happen by accident when these young ladies step into the role of homemaker. Waterford girls actively practice homemaking skills as they invite parents and teachers to be their guests at a luncheon. The clothing problem should be well in hand, too, for several of the girls are modeling items of apparel they completed themselves under the guidance of their homemaking teacher.

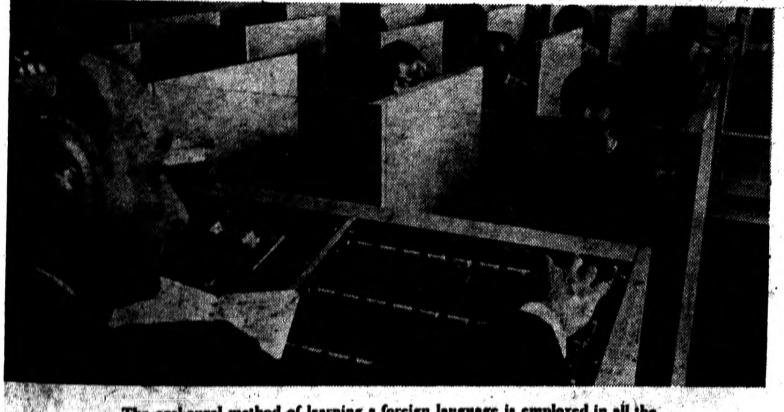

The industrial arts program provides many useful skills for boys. Mechanics of the automobile for example are taught by actual repair and work problems. This on-the-spot, on-the-product experience provides realistic and challenging experience both for personal and vocational training.

Creative talent is discovered and nurtured through such classes as those in elementary art. Waterford schools attempt to provide ample opportunity for the development of talent and for the appreciation for that which is artistic and beautiful.

Another important step toward developing talent is the elementary instrumental music class. Here the student is exposed to music at an early age which enables him and his talent to grow up together. This year Waterford elementary schools introduce a program of instruction on stringed instruments, leading to a richer and more rewarding participation in the junior and senior high school orchestra.

The oral-aural method of learning a foreign language is employed in all the secondary schools in Waterford Township. Here the students acquire conversational skills using electronic equipment which allows them to hear their own voices as well as that of their instructor through recorded lesson materials.

The phenomena of microscopic organisms is being observed in this high school chemistry workshop. Such observations lead the student to new understanding, opening wide avenues of thought and enabling him to experience the excitement of finding out.

WHAT'S IN STORE FOR THE FUTURE

A Good School Must Continue to Improve

Recognizing that rich educational experience now is the best preparation for the future, Waterford Schools attempt to implement curriculum improvements as they are developed and evaluated. At the same time the staff is engaged in a series of curriculum studies known as the Project on Instruction which will lead the school system to still better programs in the future. On order now, for example, is equipment for a new electronic data processing laboratory; Waterford will be one of only three school districts in Michigan offering instruction in this area to high school children. Studies are under way of programs designed to improve the offerings for employment-bound children. And the school district also is working under a United States Office of Education grant examining several approaches to reading instruction. A committee exists for promoting and developing projects leading toward future instructional programs. Composed of teachers and administrators representing all grade levels and curriculum areas throughout the district, this group convenes monthly to help identify areas of curriculum for further study and to enlist teachers for carrying on the investigation. It is hoped that through these efforts an ever-improving program of instruction which will prepare Waterford young people for their roles in the world of today and tomorrow will emerge.

WATERFORD MARCHES FORWARD . . .

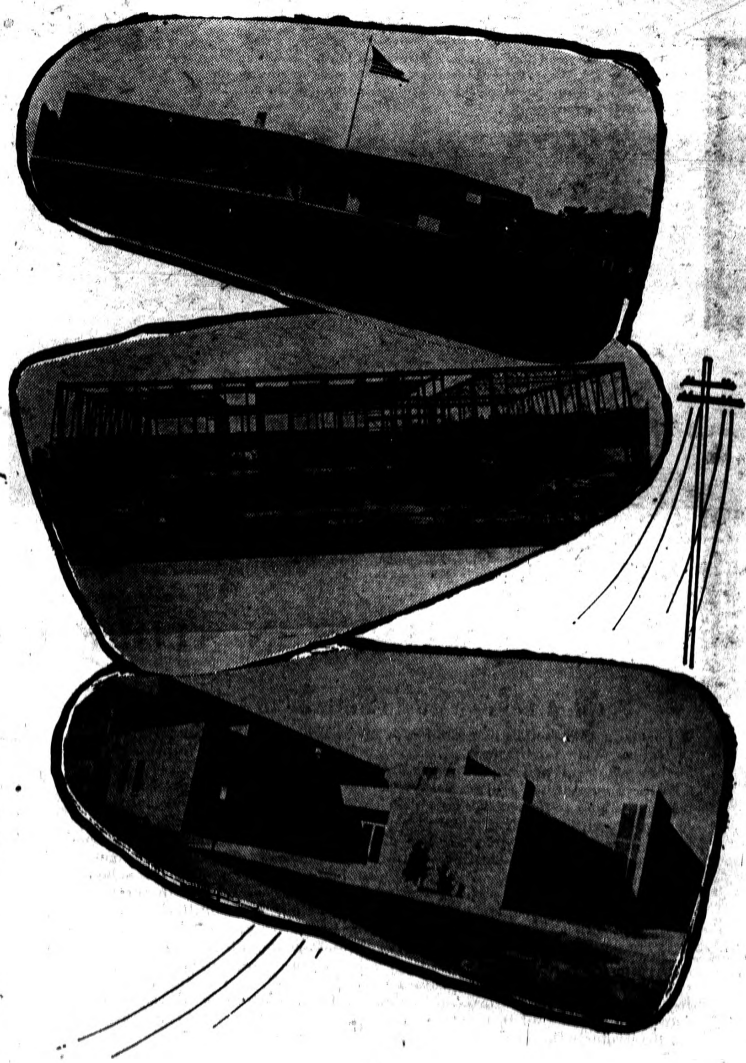

A New School Building Program

Several new facilities were opened in the school district this year. Additions were completed at Burt, Cooley, Grayson, Leggett and Monteith Elementary Schools, as well as at Waterford Township High and Crary Junior High Schools. The new Riverside and Silver Lake Elementary Schools were opened and dedication services for both of these buildings are scheduled for Sunday, November 22: 2 P.M. at Riverside and 3:30 P.M. at Silver Lake.

Under construction is the new Mason Junior High School on Walton Boulevard between Silver Lake and Sashabaw Roads. This school already boasts a somewhat unique history, for it has been specifically planned to accomodate an educational program carefully designed to meet the needs and characteristics of junior high school youngsters. Planning committees of teachers and parents worked many long months to identify and reconcile the program and the facilities. This school is scheduled to open its doors to students in September 1965.

Still available are funds for the provision of three additional elementary schools and one small elementary school addition. The district also has plans for providing new bus garage facilities and is planning to remodel the "A" Building on the Waterford Township High School campus, into a Curriculum Materials Center.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY — Popular folklore to the contrary, Sandra Hutchinson and David A. Escamilla see Friday the 13th as a day for celebration. Although they have twice as many reasons as most of us to fear bad luck today, their immediate concern is blowing out the candles on their birthday cake. The youngsters, both students at Mabel D. Bennett Junior High School in Holly, were born 13 years ago today.

Ford to Start Layoff Tonight Across Nation

Complete Shutdown Is Possible by Next Week, Official Says

DETROIT (AP) — The strike-troubled Ford Motor Co. starts a huge layoff of workers across the country tonight in what Ford President Arjay Miller says may become a full shutdown by next week.

Week-old strikes by the United Auto Workers at eight factories, including key parts and stamping plants that feed the Ford car production setup, are held to blame by Ford officials.

If Ford closes all its 90 plants, a total of 160,000 hourly workers will be laid off.

Ford, with 25,500 men on strike at the eight plants, announced a layoff Friday night of 33,500 more at eight assembly operations and 16 manufacturing locations in several states, including key Michigan installations. This will be an immediate total idle of 59,000 men.

★ ★ ★

The company made its announcement late Thursday from Dearborn headquarters almost simultaneously with a union charge that Ford's "obstinate attitude" had prevented strike settlements.

FORD REFUSES

Ken Bannon, director of the UAW Ford Department, issued a statement saying Ford "stubbornly refuses" to agree to terms at some plants which he said management already had accepted at other plants.

Ford made no immediate comment on the charge.

The separate, local strikes bear on individual at-the-plant issues. Local agreements supplement the national Ford-UAW contract.

★ ★ ★

Ford, like rival General Motors and Chrysler, came to national agreements with the union weeks ago, although GM was troubled into last week by local disputes, all now settled.

GIVE UP

Ford and the UAW gave up Wednesday in efforts to settle four of the strikes in top-level negotiations here.

The union ordered its national Ford bargaining committee to Detroit and proposed a further meeting next Thursday.

Ford's president Miller said in San Diego, Calif., Thursday that a national Ford shutdown could result from a shortage of car parts from the interlocking production system.

★ ★ ★

So far in the strikes Ford has lost more than 10,000 units of car and truck assemblies. The company's sales reports have indicated no strike effects.

A petition to transfer 300 acres of land — the Sagamore Estates Subdivision — from the Walled Lake Consolidated School District to West Bloomfield was denied yesterday by a unanimous vote of the County School Board.

★ ★ ★

All 44 residents of the subdivision, had sought the land transfer, which would have 46 children to West Bloomfield schools.

The land, valued at $604,000, is located along Pontiac Trail and Arrowhead Road near the border of Orchard Lake, south of Upper Straits Lake.

Spokesman for the petitioners, William A. Wieland, 4949 Arrowhead, Orchard Lake said that West Bloomfield schools are closer than Walled Lake schools.

★ ★ ★

He claimed that this gives the youngsters from the subdivision longer bus rides, and it is inconvenient for parents to transport children after school hours to sports and social activities.

ORIENTATION

In addition, he said the neighborhood is oriented to the east and south, not the west and north toward Walled Lake.

Clifford H. Smart, Walled Lake school supt., spoke against the land transfer. He said the Sagamore subdivision children would be riding school buses anyway.

Granting the transfer, according to Smart, would be a piecemeal approach to the countywide problem of school district boundary lines.

★ ★ ★

The five-member board denied the transfer petition without comment.

ALTER BUDGET

In other business, the County School board directed Supt. William J. Emerson to alter the budget to allow for a vocational education consultant.

★ ★ ★

The county school budget for 1964-65 contained $22,000 to provide for the vocational education position, but this was eliminated when the allocated millage was cut.

★ ★ ★

Emerson said the consultant would replace a language arts director who resigned and whose post has not been filled.

HOST FOR BARBECUE — President Lyndon Johnson drives Mexico's President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz to a barbecue on the LBJ ranch yesterday. The Johnsons were hosts to the Ordaz family and party for a two-day visit.

LBJ Vows Mutual Aims to Mexico President-Elect

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, pledging to "take up arms" with Mexico in fighting disease, poverty, hunger and ignorance, pressed ahead today with final talks with Mexico's President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Diaz Ordaz, himself a landslide election victor who will be inaugurated Dec. 1 as the Mexican chief executive, was winding up a 27-hour stay at the Johnson Ranch.

Diaz Ordaz was to return with his wife to Mexico City after another formal session with Johnson and a private luncheon.

The order of the day was not confined wholly to business, however. There was the inevitable tour of the American President's 400 acres, with Johnson as the enthusiastic guide.

In welcoming Diaz Ordaz yesterday afternoon, Johnson said: "We are meeting here to talk together and to work together, and to take up arms together against the ancient enemies of mankind — disease and poverty and hunger and ignorance."

★ ★ ★

Diaz Ordaz responded by saying: "I am here to seal a friendship with a warm handshake with President Johnson from me and the Mexican people, and

LBJ Lead at Record 15.6 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has a record lead of 15.6 million votes over Sen. Barry Goldwater as unofficial returns from the Nov. 3 presidential election continue to trickle in.

All but 870 of the more than 175,000 voting units having reported, the unofficial vote is: Johnson 42,374,405, Goldwater 26,731,717.

The President has 61.1 per cent of the presidential vote of 69,306,122, including some 200,000 votes cast for Democratic electors in Alabama who were not pledged to Johnson.

With 270 needed to win, Johnson rolled up 486 electoral votes by carrying 44 states and the District of Columbia. Goldwater got 52 with six states.

★ ★ ★

When the still uncounted absentee ballots and third party votes are added about a month from now, the official vote is expected to be close to 70 million compared with 68.8 million in 1960.

LOWER PERCENTAGE

But the percentage of those of voting age who cast presidential ballots apparently will be less than the 63.1 of four years ago.

A preliminary study showed that 60.8 per cent of Americans of voting age voted this year.

The figure is based on the Census Bureau's estimate that 114 million Americans were of voting age on election day.

★ ★ ★

But estimates of state officials and other observers were that only 88.9 million of the 114 million were registered or otherwise qualified to vote.

STRONG UPSURGE

There was a strong upsurge of votes in the South.

Five of the six states he carried are in the South.

Red Guerrillas Move Openly Into Villages

Students Protest, Urge Overthrow of New Administration

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong guerrillas, capitalizing on the floods that have laid waste to 10 provinces, are reported moving openly from the mountains into the crippled valley villages of central Viet Nam.

Refugees from the flood told Vietnamese authorities they had been accosted by Viet Cong men and forced to tear up their identity papers.

Widespread elimination of the papers would help the Communists to move with comparative freedom through the disrupted region.

Reliable sources said today the refugees disclosed the Viet Cong movements during interviews in government relief compounds in the coastal resort of Nhatrang and at Quinhon yesterday.

Despite the floods, which have drowned more than 5,000 persons and wrecked communications, students in Saigon staged new antigovernment demonstrations today.

DEMAND END

Shouting demands for the end of Premier Tran Van Huong's infant civilian government, several hundred students shoved through police ranks and assembled before the central market. About 1,000 persons gathered to shout "down with dictatorship, communism and neutralism."

Another group of students, armed with sticks and machetes, were repelled in an attempt to crash into the ministry of public works.

The Saigon government can do little about Viet Cong activity in the flooded regions. Communications are disrupted and highways and railroad beds washed away in an area the size of New Jersey.

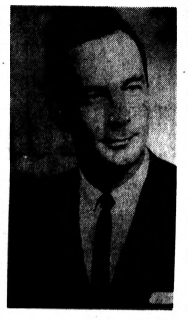

"This flood has hurt our com-

School Job Training Now Off the Ground

Conceived last spring as part of an ambitious vocational-occupational program, Pontiac school officials now view their job training programs like proud parents of a healthy infant.

The vocational-occupational courses have reached the "toddler" stage, but still need to grow.

DALE A. FEET

However, with 88 students enrolled in Manpower Development Training Programs, job training for youth and adults is a reality.

Adding to the vocational-occupational effort are 150 students in company-financed apprenticeship courses and 340 students in regular adult education classes.

Some Manpower classes still have openings, according to Kenneth L. Huffman, coordinator of Apprentice, Manpower and Technical Education.

★ ★ ★

Object of these Manpower programs is to train, retrain and upgrade individuals in skills that are needed, explained Huffman.

GOVERNMENT PAYS

The Federal government pays the bill for the Manpower training programs.

Pontiac schools first attempted Manpower training last year with a course for practical nurses.

Mrs. Esther Sherrod supervises the nurses program, which runs 40 hours a week for 48 weeks.

★

Two classes or a total of 46 students have graduated from the practical nurses program.

OTHER COURSES

Other job training courses include auto mechanics, which meets for a total of 2,000 hours, ending Dec. 8.

Huffman said there are seven openings. The course is aimed at youths 18-21 years. A 10th grade education is required.

County GOP Picks Leader

Feet Succeeds Lyle; Name Other Officers

A 32-year-old public accountant from Madison Heights, Dale A. Feet, is the new leader of the Republican party in Oakland County.

Feet formerly of Pontiac, was unanimously elected to the top county post last night by the GOP Executive Committee, meeting in a closed session in Birmingham.

The 1964 Republican county campaign director, Feet, the audit manager for Price Waterhouse, Detroit, succeeds Charles L. Lyle, who had announced earlier that he was not a candidate for the post.

In addition to Feet, other officers named to the executive Committee were Mrs. Daniel T. (Carolyn) Murphy, vice chairman; Chad M. Ritchie, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruth Davenport, secretary.

★ ★ ★

Active in the Republican party in Oakland County since 1960 and a member of the executive committee for two years, Feet served as the GOP director for the old 6th Legislative District.

FOUR CHILDREN

He and his wife, Marilyn, have four children. They live at 1230 Fontaine.

A 1956 honor graduate of the University of Florida, Feet in 1960 was chairman of the Michigan Week Finance Committee in Wayne County. In college he was a charter member of the Young Republicans Club.

Cooler Weather in Area, but No Thundershowers

The weather huffed and puffed and blew cooler weather into the area.

But, we didn't get the thundershowers that were promised. In fact, the weatherman doesn't foresee any rain until Sunday, when precipitation will total about one-half inch.

Fair skies are expected until then.

The low predicted for tonight is 36 to 42, followed by a high tomorrow of 56 to 62.

TURN COLDER

It'll turn colder Sunday or Monday, and be a little warmer Tuesday or Wednesday.

Forty-eight was the low mercury reading this morning. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 53 in downtown Pontiac.

Warm Response to Osteopath College

The multimillion-dollar Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine proposed for Pontiac has moved to within $53,000 of becoming a reality.

Following an enthusiastic luncheon meeting yesterday where a plea was made to Pontiac area businessmen, civic leaders and property owners for contributions, the fund-raising campaign to purchase the site for the college soared to $322,000.

While Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., is outlining the project to over 225 persons at the Elks Temple, expressed optimism that the remainder would be raised, he emphasized that the funds must be obtained by Jan. 5 in order to complete the deal.

Contributions, which are tax deductible, can be made to the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, which is acting as the agent in the transaction.

★ ★ ★

The property which the fund-raising group intends to buy and deed over to the osteopaths is at Auburn and Opdyke and contains 164 acres. The parcel is part of the Fisher Trust.

Using slides to note the immense potential of the college and its impact on Pontiac, Taylor said, among other things, that the university would have a tremendous economic effect on the community.

It would bring 6,462 more people to the community and 1,638 more schoolchildren; there would be $12.5 million more in personal income and more than $4 million in bank deposits.

Taylor said the deed to the Michigan osteopaths would contain a clause reverting the land back to the purchasers if students were not matriculated by a given date or if construction on the college had not been started by a specific time.

CIVIC-MINDED GATHERING — Over 200 persons yesterday attended a luncheon at the Elks Temple to hear a progress report on the proposed Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine for which a site is sought in Pontiac. Following the meeting, where a number of contributions were made, it was announced that $53,000 remains to be raised to purchase the college site at Auburn and Opdyke.

Chou Finishes Kremlin Talk

MOSCOW (UPI) — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai has concluded his secret talks with the Kremlin's new leaders and may leave for home tonight.

Communist sources said he will carry with him an agreement to continue the new Sino-Soviet dialogue in Peking early next year.

Details of the week-long talks here have not been disclosed, but the sources described them as "business-like."

They were reported free of the personal animosity which characterized former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's relationship with the Chinese.

★ ★ ★

Although Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev agreed to the Peking talks, diplomatic sources in Moscow said there was little chance of Russia and China solving all their differences immediately.

MEETING POSTPONED

However, the Russians have agreed to postpone a meeting of 26 Communist parties which Khrushchev had called for next month.

Emergency Water and Aid Sought in Drought Areas

By The Associated Press

Communities turned to emergency measures for water over the eastern half of the nation today as one of the most severe droughts in history took a costly toll.

Forest fires raged, communities sought emergency aid and winter crops wasted away in the warm, sunny autumn. Officials said the drought would cost farmers and other citizens millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

Some communities began drawing water from recreational lakes. Farmers were using tank trucks to haul water to their fields.

Some rain eased the dry spell slightly in the Midwest, but one farmer said, "it (the rain) just didn't begin to soak in."

4-DAY RAIN

A four-day rain and snow storm in northern California began tapering off Thursday night. Most of the West Coast was soaked. Other parts of the Northwest lay under show.

The New Jersey Conservation Department has directed water suppliers to report to state agencies every other day on the water supply so that state can take emergency action when warranted. Officials said there is enough water on hand for 38 days.

★ ★ ★

Residents in the North Jersey community of Franklin Lakes are borrowing water for bathing. The last measurable rainfall in New Jersey was .01 inch Nov. 5.

Light showers Thursday in New England did little to alleviate the drought, which passed its 195th day. A Massachusetts official estimated that the state's dairy industry and produce farmers alone would suffer $6 million damages.

NEED RAIN

Officials in Fitchburg, Mass., said the community must have plentiful rain by mid-December or face the prospect of no water at all by February.

New York City has been supplying water from city reservoirs since September 10 nearby towns which have shortages.

★ ★ ★

Many Pennsylvania farmers are trucking water for livestock and for winter wheat. Twenty-seven communities are using emergency water supplies. Officials said the forest fire situation is getting worse.

Forty-eight forest fires broke out in Pennsylvania Wednesday, destroying 575 acres. Fires have been averaging 25 a day since the first of the month.

BONE DRY

Farmers in the Midwest, who stand to lose about $100 million from expected income, gazed on bone dry fields.

More than 4,500 acres of brush and timber have been scorched in the past two days in Indiana, where the last rain was Oct. 18. The state is 4.46 inches below last year's rainfall.

★ ★ ★

Illinois struggled through one of it's most disastrous autumns in history. Wheat was stunted, and the southern half of the state fought hundreds of brush and forest fires. Southern Illinois has gone 45 consecutive days without rain, a record.

★ ★ ★

A fire which started in an abandoned building in Chicago Thursday was whipped by 59-mile-an-hour winds, and embers blown two blocks away started a blaze which burned out an apartment building.

WISCONSIN SOAKED

Heavy rains struck virtually all of Wisconsin Thursday accompanied by wind gusts up to 58 m.p.h.

Although Missouri woollands were bone dry, the deer season began on schedule and one forester said: "The more hunters there are afield, the better the chance of stopping a forest fire before it spreads."

West Virginia was still in the midst of a severe forest fire season. More than 200 fires burned Thursday.

gram should contact the Michigan Employment Security Commission, 242 Oakland.

Openings also are available in a machine operators course. The same requirements prevail.

CLASSES FREE OF CHARGE

Anyone who enters these classes now may do so without charge, said Huffman.

Other MDTA programs include a welders class running 18 weeks and a stenography course ending Aug. 31, 1965.

Pontiac schools' vocational-occupational program incorporates an apprentice school, a four-year training course in a specific trade.

★ ★ ★

Local industries finance the apprentice instruction, which graduates journeymen tool and die makers, pipe fitters, electricians, machine maintenance personnel and auto mechanics.

ADULT EDUCATION

Adult education is another area of training for youth and adults. Headed by Roy M. Gallipo, the night school classes include those toward a high school diploma, personal improvement in office skills and trade extension.

A new term of adult education begins in January.

CARTLOAD OF MONEY — Representatives of three food chain stores bringing their United Fund contributions in a shopping cart are (from left) Jack Masek of Wrigleys, Andy Lelli of Savon Food Stores and Harold Little of Kroger Co. The money represents a 12 per cent increase over their gift last year.

Stores' Gift 'Super'

Three food chain companies representing 14 local stores have been cited by Bruce J. Annett, general campaign chairman, for outstanding support of the current Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Employes of the three firms, Savon Food Stores, Kroger Co., and Wrigley Supermarkets increased contributions by 12 per cent over last year.

Annett stated that the food chain employe contribution of $8,525.50 represented an average gift of $23.46. Firm gifts of $1,700 bring total receipts to $10,225.50.

These same firms have been consistent leaders of commercial division employe contributions. Employes will receive the Pontiac Area United Fund award plaque of outstanding citizenship for the second consecutive year.

New Officers Are Elected at Sylvan Lake

New city officers were elected last night at the organization meeting of the Sylvan Lake Council.

E. V. Geizer, 2714 Island Court, was elected mayor, succeeding G. Richard Jarvis, who did not seek reelection.

Thomas J. McHugh, 1485 Benvenue, freshman councilman, was elected mayor pro tem.

LARGE UNITS

"To rebuild all this," another American adviser said, "will take large engineer units. If the Viet Cong tries to interfere with this work, very large numbers of security troops will have to be brought in to secure the engineers.

"This could be damaging to other areas if we have to divert troops here."

U.S. officials felt that the Viet Cong probably got off lighter because their base areas are on high ground.

Dates Listed for Yule Mail

Dec. 10 Deadline for Overseas Parcels

The Christmas mailing season is here again and, according to spokesmen at the Pontiac Post Office, it's later than you think.

★ ★ ★

The deadline for overseas air mail parcels is Dec. 10, warned Robert J. Featherston, acting assistant postmaster.

There's a limit of 70 pounds and one hundred inches on air mail parcels going abroad.

To find the number of inches, you measure your package around the girth, then add the length. The two must not exceed the 100 inches.

Time is also getting short for domestic Christmas mail, Featherston said. Christmas cards for distant states should be mailed by Dec. 10, and for local delivery before Christmas, mail them by Dec. 15, he urged.

★ ★ ★

Any mail for the Hawaiian Islands or Alaska must be mailed by Nov. 30 to assure Christmas delivery.

PACK IN BOXES

It is suggested that all articles should be packed in boxes made of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard.

The cardboard boxes should be wrapped securely in heavy paper and tied with strong cord.

Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. A list showing the contents and the addressee should be enclosed in the package.

★ ★ ★

Featherston also suggested that the Christmas season provides an opportunity for everyone to advise their once-a-year correspondents of their zip code numbers.

to him and through him to the American people."

WORK TOGETHER

He said he was sure the two leaders "will be able to work together with reciprocal respect and joint cooperation to maintain the principles that have inspired our two peoples."

The principal reason for the ranch get-together between Johnson and Diaz Ordaz was simply to become acquainted.

Johnson acknowledged problems — such as over Cuba — do exist between the United States and Mexico.

"We are here to discuss them," he said. "And in the days ahead we will resolve them in peace, with reason, with justice to each other."

EXPRESSED HOPES

The President and Mrs. Johnson welcomed Diaz Ordaz and his wife with a Texas-style barbecue. And it was there that they publicly expressed their hopes for a close working relationship and amicable relations between their neighboring nations.

In the evening, there was a dinner for six and Johnson proposed a simple toast to Diaz Ordaz: "May Mexico prosper in peace under your leadership."

Interest in Library Increasing

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Citizen interest in library service is gaining momentum here, according to Mrs. Horace E. Sheldon.

The chairman of the Citizens Library Committee attributes the kindling of that interest to the Oct. 20 opening of the facility at 4036 Telegraph.

"Now that the library is a reality, plans must be completed for the long - range structure and role of the Citizens Library Committee," she said.

Mrs. Sheldon has called a "reorganization and planning" meeting of the group for 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the library.

Heading items on the agenda will be election of a new chairman. Mrs. Sheldon announced plans to resign following her election to the Library Board last week.

INTERESTED INVITED

She invited everyone interested in the library and the committee's work to the meeting Sunday.

"The committee now is ready to plan how it can best aid in channeling residents' interest in the developing library program of the area," she said.

The library serves the 22,500 residents of the township, teachers in schools located here and residents of both Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Voted a one-mill operating levy in 1963, the facility now is in a temporary location. Site for a permanent building on the corner of Echo and Long Lake has been donated to the township by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Green.

Big Democratic Majority

Romney Urges Cooperation in Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has urged Republican legislators—in a minority for the first time since 1938 — to conduct themselves "in a way that merits Democratic cooperation in the legislature."

As the result of a Democratic landslide in the Nov. 3 election, Republicans now hold only 53 of the 148 legislative seats. They dominated the legislature 81-63 going into the election.

"I expect to do all I can to make it possible for Democratic legislators to cooperate fully," Romney said at a meeting of GOP legislators and legislators-elect Thursday.

He already has started a series of conferences with Democratic lawmakers, he said, "and I'm prepared to follow any procedure of cooperation they want to suggest, as long as they reciprocate"—in the cooperative moves.

"With some exceptions, I have found that people will respond to the kind of treatment they get," he added.

Several Democratic lawmakers have indicated a willingness to cooperate — one of them adding that they would not treat the minority party as shabbily, he said, as the Republicans did.

Capitol observers are looking forward to the 1965 legislative session. Some feel it will be a test for the Democratic legislature and for the Republican executive office, with public opinion the judge as to who wins.

Three-quarters of the major legislation passed this year was passed on a bipartisan basis, Romney said, "and the percentage is even higher if you include the lesser bills."

The lopsided Democratic margin is temporary, he told the Republicans. It was partially the result of the Democrat-backed legislative redistricting plan approved by the State Supreme Court last summer.

* * *

The defeat of a large number of GOP candidates was a result of these factors, he said, "and was not in any sense a personal repudiation."

* * *

The redistricting plan — "a vicious gerrymander"—will not be allowed to stand, he said, because it violates too many sound principles of districting. It even runs counter to the guidelines in the landmark districting decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, under which it was adopted, Romney said.

NASA Tryng to Fix Mars Shot in Time

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The federal space agency, blaming last week's Mars probe failure on a faulty covering, is trying to fix a similar craft before the Dec. 2 deadline for another shot to the planet.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said last night scientists believe there is a chance the necessary modifications to Mariner - 4's protective cover can be made in time.

Because of the different orbits of Mars and earth around the sun, the little planet will not be in position for another rocket probe from earth until late 1966.

"We are making an all-out effort to make this launch period," the spokesman said. "We now have no reason to say we can't make it."

* * *

NASA said the 300-pound fairing, or shroud, that covers the delicate spacecraft during its climb through earth's atmosphere did not spring free of the craft as planned 5½ minutes after launch.

SOLAR PANELS

As a result, Mariner-3's vital solar panels did not unfold to convert energy from the sun into electrical power for the spacecraft.

The 300 - pound shroud's weight also kept Mariner - 3 from reaching the speed needed to send it on the 350-million mile path to Mars.

Scientists believe the one-piece fiberglass fairing was affected by the combination of the extremes of space and possibly cracked, flaked or in some other way interfered with its jettisoning.

* * *

Engineers now are seeking ways to strengthen an indentical shroud on Mariner-4 to prevent a smilar disaster.

CAN BE DONE

"We believe it can be done in time," the spokesman said.

Both Mariners made up a $112-million program to obtain the first close-up pictures of the mysterious Martian surface and to make valuable interplanetary scientific measurements.

Mariner - 3, which died nine hours after launch because of a lack of power, now is in orbit around the sun.

Pope Donates Crown to Poor

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI donated his gold and silver three - tiered beehive crown today to the poor of the world.

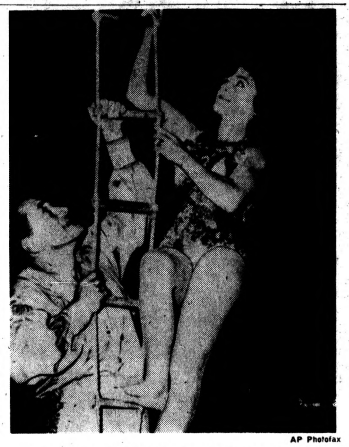

Vatican officials said his action symbolized the concern of the Roman Catholic Church for those "who suffer misery and hunger."

The Pope placed the tiara on an altar in St. Peter's Basilica during a special Mass honoring ancient St. John Shrysostom, revered alike by Roman Catholics of the West and Orthodox Catholics of the East.

Archbishop Pericle Felici, secretary general of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, announced during the service that the Pope had decided to give away his crown after hearing the "many and grave words expressed in the council on the misery and hunger of these days."

* * *

Johnson to Go Deer Hunting

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson goes gunning for elusive white-tails Saturday, first day of the deer season in his beloved Texas hill country.

* * *

"He'll be there, that's for sure," said Simon Burg, a rancher and peach grower across the Pedernales River from Johnson.

* * *

"That's one thing he never misses," chimed in Kerwitt Hahne, owner of a motel and restaurant in Stonewall, the little town nearest LBJ Ranch.

Nobody is sure when Johnson got his first deer — an accomplishment considered essential to achieving manhood in the hill country — but he probably began hunting at the same age as other boys. The way Hahne says it is "as soon as they're big enough to hold a rifle."

Last year, Johnson killed two bucks during his Christmas visit. He took along former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington who also felled a buck.

Johnson introduced President John F. Kennedy to the deer hunt in 1960 by shooting two eight-pointers at 600 yards. Kennedy called Johnson "the best shot I've ever seen."

A presidential deer hunt, the LBJ kind, gets under way early in the morning. Johnson uses either a jeep or a 30-year-old Ford specially outfitted to take him to a deer stand when the season opens at 30 minutes before sunrise.

This year, he will have plenty of targets. One Johnson City hunter said the deer are "as thick as hair on a dog's back."

DON'T DELAY

NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED — GUARANTEED RENEWABLE

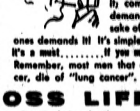

The recent U. S. Surgeon General's Report, "Smoking and Health", leaves little room for doubt but that cigarette smoking causes lung cancer . . . lung cancer kills . . . It will kill thousands upon thousands of people this year.

Evidence, based on scientific studies of more than 1,000,000 men, shows that the death rate for male cigarette smokers is "nearly 70% higher than for non-smokers". Even more startling is the fact that, as to cancer of the lung, the death rate is nearly . . . 1000% higher!

You wouldn't drive a car without insurance because the chance of an accident is within the known realm of possibility. Now, there's no point in smoking without insuring against lung cancer because it also is clearly within the realm of possibility.

Blue Cross Life recognizes lung cancer as a dread disease and now provides the means to insure against it. Logic demands it; common sense demands it; the sake of your loved ones demands it! It's simple, it's smart, it's a must. . . . . If you must smoke! Remember, most men that die of cancer, die of "lung cancer".

Progress of UF Drive Sign of Area Support

With three utility companies substantially increasing their United Fund contributions over a year ago, the 15th annual UF campaign has attained well over half its goal of $815,000. But neither solicitor enthusiasm nor contributor participation can diminish in any degree if the drive is to achieve customary fulfillment.

First over the budget top was the Women's Division, headed by Mrs. MERRELL PETRIE. Subscription totals of the other three divisions are accelerating after the lull due to the strike against General Motors.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac area owes a debt of gratitude to the army of volunteer workers whose faithful efforts give yearly reaffirmation of the soundness of the "Give Once for All" concept of charitable donation.

Headed by General Chairman BRUCE ANNETT and four division chairmen, some 3,000 residents make up the solicitation teams upon which the life of 55 welfare agencies depends. These estimable citizens give liberally of their time, often at expense of personal interests.

Back of the actual money-raising campaign are months of preparation. The over-all budget committee began functioning the first of the year, later supplemented by eight budget panels charged with weighing monetary requests of the agencies and making equitable allocation of the total budget.

★ ★ ★

The Press warmly applauds the splendid corps of public-spirited members of the Pontiac Area United Fund team and urges the citizenry of the community to evidence its appreciation by generously supporting the humanitarian activity.

Area School Systems Mark Education Week

Area schools this week have scheduled a varied program of events in observance of National Education Week.

Established in 1921, its purpose is to present for public view the accomplishments, plans and needs of the Nation's multitude of school systems.

★ ★ ★

Toward that end, there have been held demonstrations of instructor technique, expositions of parents' role in stimulating children's progress and presentation of special school activities.

★ ★ ★

Also programmed have been open houses at many schools and addresses by faculty members before PTA groups.

The Press commends community school authorities on their keen interest in the period dedicated to education and for the comprehensive programs developed to commemorate it.

Is Open Door Policy Half-Locked Chaos?

Contrary to popular belief, what this country needs is not a good five cent cigar—but an open door policy.

We mean both doors.

Old buildings are modernized, and new buildings rise, complete with modern entrances and exists:

★ ★ ★

But invariably, when there is a double door, only half of it works. The other half is locked. This is all too true for businesses, restaurants, offices, and any building with much pedestrian traffic.

Perhaps the doors don't wear out so fast, with one side locked. Maybe the owners haven't paid for both doors, and can't use both of them until they ante up.

Is it that they have so much business they want to cut it in half?

The approved technique when you run into one of these locked doors is to grasp it firmly by the handle, and shake the daylights out of it.

★ ★ ★

Then examine it closely, blocking, if you can, the single lane on the other side. Enlist some help to attempt to push it open, if it merely appears reluctant. The manager of the place can sometimes be pressed into service.

In any event, register a protest at this inane policy.

ONE reason money is so popular is that it will get you in almost anywhere and out of almost anything.

APPEARANCES are often deceptive, as some one may have said. Many a person who is putting up a good front has his back to the wall.

MANY a person has learned to his sorrow that it's far easier to run into debt than it is to outrun bill collectors.

McNamara Slips on Official Line

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—An apparent slip of the tongue by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara shows how difficult it is to maintain an official line at all times when the realities clash with that line.

"We have no plans at present to send further combat units to South Viet Nam," McNamara told newsmen in Texas after conferring with President Johnson about the budget and other matters.

It was McNamara's use of the word "further" that brought reporters up short. That word suggests the United States already has combat units in South Viet Nam.

The official transcript of McNamara's comments Tuesday did not include the word "further." Newsmen who heard the word at the time and checked on the deletion said the omission appeared to be inadvertent. A tape recording shows that the word was used.

★ ★ ★

Neither McNamara nor any other responsible U. S. official ever has said that any of the 20,000 or so American military men in South Viet Nam are there to fight.

OFFICIAL POSITION

The official position — from which McNamara never before has deviated—holds that the considerable American force has the mission of advising and helping the South Vietnamese to fight for their own independence and freedom.

McNamara gave a succinct summation of the U.S. policy line last Sept. 30 during a television interview.

"It's their war; they must win it. They must fight it, and only they can win it," McNamara said.

★ ★ ★

"We are providing logistical support, military advice, transport assistance. We are not carrying on the battle ourselves. We cannot stand in their place and fight the Communists within the borders of their country."

CLEAR EVIDENCE

The U.S. government has held to this stand in the face of clear evidence that U.S. Army helicopters equipped with rockets and machine guns have mounted attack after attack against Communist guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

This government has continued to insist that many of the bombing and napalm assaults by U.S. planes against Red Viet Cong positions and hideouts are training flights for South Vietnamese Air Force men who go along on such missions.

Crises in U. N.

Wall Street Journal

The crisis confronting the United Nations, originating in the refusal of the Soviet Union to pay assessments for peacekeeping operations, has now been compounded by the threat of the United States to withhold financial support for both regular and special functions of the world organization.

Since the UN is dependent to an abnormal extent on dollars contributed by the United States, the threat, if carried out, would cut UN activities drastically, or even paralyze them altogether, should other Western countries follow the U. S. example.

The issue is whether the United States and other members in good standing should support the UN beyond the call of duty in event the African and Asian countries, which hold the balance of power, refuse to uphold the rules against continued Soviet refusal to pay overdue assessments.

These rules would penalize the Soviet Union with loss of its vote in the General Assembly, but the African and Asian states are loathe to apply them for fear the Soviet Union would walk out of the UN.

★ ★ ★

The United States position is perfectly logical. It refuses to become party to two different sets of rules — one which would oblige members in good standing to pay and the other which would permit delinquent members not to.

The complaint has been voiced that the poor underdeveloped nations, not the Russians, would suffer the consequences if the United States withheld further contributions to UN economic aid programs.

The complaint is hardly well founded. The funds would not be withheld if the underdeveloped nations upheld the UN charter. And if they refuse to do so, the amount we contribute to the UN can easily be added to the U. S. government's unilateral foreign aid fund.

The significance of the UN foreign aid program, which runs to something over $100 million annually, is put in better perspective if it is recalled that this amount represents a relatively insignificant fraction of the billions allocated unilaterally by the United States, Western Europe and Russia.

Red Subsidies

Chicago Tribune

The United States government has announced deals to sell Communist Yugoslavia more than 40 million dollars worth of wheat and tallow on credit, including some on 17-year terms. The announcement did not disclose the prices the Yugoslavs are paying for these commodities or the amount of the subsidy our government will pay commercial exporters who will deliver them.

On the basis of recent prices and export subsidy rates, however, it will probably require more than 4.5 million dollars of subsidies to ship the wheat to the Yugoslavs, who will be getting it at roughly 45 cents to 55 cents a bushel less than prices our own domestic millers have to pay.

This is by no means the first time American taxpayers have been called upon by their government to subsidize Marshal Tito and his Red regime under public law 480, the so-called Food for Peace program. In fact, since 1954 the United States has shipped Yugoslavia wheat and flour, cotton, fats and oils, and other farm commodities which cost our government nearly one billion dollars, including ocean transportation costs.

Before Congress adjourned a few weeks ago it prohibited Food for Peace sales to Communist countries for soft currencies. The law, however, permits long-term dollar credit sales to Red nations designated as "friendly," and Yugoslavia, Hungary, East Germany, and Czechoslovakia have been thus described by the administration.

A few days after the announcement of the Yugoslav wheat deal, Red Viet Cong troops bombarded the United States air base at Bien Hoa in South Viet Nam, killing four Americans and wounding 72.

U.S. Aid Is Well-Used –to Bus Our Embassies

WARSAW — The American taxpayer, who often strains the patience of the foreign nation he is aiding by grouchily demanding that his dough be used properly, will be happy to learn that some of it was well spent on the installation of secret listening devices at our spanking new million-and-a-half-dollar embassy here.

CONSIDINE

"The Polish contractors and engineers who built the embassy with our frozen funds purchased only the best microphones," an American official told us today with his tongue prominently in his cheek.

"They did an excellent job of concealing them, too.

CHIEF PROBLEM

"We suspected from the day the embassy opened last year that there would be mikes somewhere about the place. That's standard practice everywhere in diplomacy.

"The chief problem is to keep from getting exposed.

"We had the very dickens of a time finding their apparatus, but we did."

The Polish Embassy in Washington vigorously denied the State Department's charge.

The American Embassy here is of tasteful modern design featuring white marble and much glass.

STANDS OUT

It stands out like a square wedding cake set in a field of mudpies.

Residents Seek Action to Reduce Speed

Residents of Coleman-Friedman subdivision want action. In the past eight months two children have been killed on North Cass Lake Road between Pontiac Lake Road and M59, within 200 feet.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Road Commission tells us 40 miles per hour is a realistic speed limit and was established in 1957. A survey in August 1962 found this a realistic speed. School was not in session, factories were down for model change and people on vacations then. This road is in front of a Junior High and one block from an elementary school.

Police recommended this speed limit be reduced. The residents ask for a 25-mile limit before December 1. If this is not done we will take it upon ourselves to slow down traffic.

Threat by Maintenance Workers

Mediators Confer to Avert Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — National Mediation Board officials planned to confer today with railroad union and management negotiators in an effort to avert a possible nationwide strike.

Informed sources said yesterday that leaders of six unions, with a membership of 160,000, were preparing for a strike Nov. 20 or soon afterward to back up their demands for wage increases. Such a strike could paralyze the nation's railroads.

The unions represent workers who repair and maintain railroad equipment and cars. Any strike presumably would tie up the nation's railroad network because other railroad workers would refuse to cross picket lines.

Sources said the unions' attitude favoring a strike was made clear to Francis A. O'Neill Jr., a member of the National Mediation Board, during an hour-long meeting yesterday with representatives of the six unions.

Mediation officials believed they had enough time for negotiations to head off a strike.

Involved in the dispute is a recommendation by a presidential emergency board Oct. 20 that shopcraft workers and others in the nonoperating class get 27-cent hourly pay increases over a three-year period.

The six unions called the finding unacceptable. They have demanded higher pay to widen the gap between skilled and unskilled railroad workers.

Four other nonoperating unions also have asked for severance pay for workers dropped from the payroll because of poor business.

The railroads have indicated they would reject this demand.

★ ★

Railroad officials also have said they will not go above the 27-cent hourly figure recommended by the emergency board for the 10 unions.

Thousands of Garments Received at Ingathering

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Five thousand garments and over $600 were received at the annual Ingathering of the Pontiac branch of the Needlework Guild of America, Inc., Thursday.

All the garments, including dozens of layettes, were distributed immediately to local organizations for their use throughout the year.

The money is kept in an emergency fund to provide additional clothing where needed. Two hundred dollars was spent in this way last year.

NO OVERHEAD

None of the money is used for overhead of any kind—there isn't any.

Organizations receiving the garments include Oakland County Family Service, Michigan Children's Aid, Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association, Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, Oakland County Juvenile Court and the American Red Cross.

In keeping with the Guild's slogan of "One to wash and one to wear," all the clothing is new. There were many hand-knitted items among the sweaters. Some of the little girls' dresses, carefully made by interested members.

Mrs. Donald Bos, retiring president, stresses the fact that everything contributed is kept right in the Pontiac area. The layettes are divided among the three hospitals which never get enough to fill their needs.

"Some of the new mothers bring only an old pillow case in which to wrap the baby when they go home. For them, these layettes are especially welcome."

ANNUAL MEETING

With the exception of the Carol Brooks and Queen Mary sections, the Needlework Guild meets only once a year—the second Thursday in November at the First Presbyterian Church.

There are no dues, no programs, no committee meetings. Each member is asked only to contribute her two garments or money annually.

* * *

Incoming president, Mrs. William E. Brace, asked that we make it clear to Pontiac Press readers that membership in the Needlework Guild is open to all women and that more members are always needed. Anyone wishing further information may call her.

In addition to Mrs. Brace, other new officers are Mrs. Forest Wood, vice president; Mrs. James G. Aldrich, secretary; Mrs. William J. Freyermuth, assistant secretary. Mrs. Philip L. Francis will continue as treasurer.

Mrs. Chauncey Burke is second vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, third vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Furlong, fourth vice president. These women have all been presidents of the organization.

NEW DIRECTORS

New directors are Mrs. Ben Hawkins, Mrs. Robert Pack and Mrs. Bruce Hubbard.

The Queen Mary section of the guild served coffee at the Ingathering as they have done for many years. They always provide an array of cakes and pastries, many of which are typically English. All members of this section were born in the British Isles.

Already working on reports are the new officers of Pontiac branch, Needlework Guild of America, Inc. From the left are Mrs. William J. Freyermuth and Mrs. James G. Aldrich, both of Mohawk Road, who are secretaries; Mrs. Forest Wood, South Tilden Street, vice president; and Mrs. William E. Brace, West Iroquois Road, president.

Virginia Benson, age 4, tries on one of the pairs of mittens received at the Ingathering. This was a blue pair and its companion pair was red. Bright news for any child. Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Benson Jr., Old Orchard Drive.

Mrs. William Coleman, Michigan Avenue, holds up one of the sweaters she knitted for the 1964 Needlework Ingathering. Mrs. Coleman, with the late Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, helped organize the Queen Mary section in 1936, obtaining the first 40 members of the guild.

Women's

Club Hears Linguistics Discussed

Over 180 women were present when Mrs. Lawrence Flora was installed as chairman of the Christian Women's club at a Wednesday meeting in Devon Gables.

Mrs. Kenneth Pike, teacher of linguistics at the University of Michigan, was keynote speaker. She told of art forms throughout the world.

* * *

Also engaged in full time work with the Wycliffe translators, she told of some of the unusual experiences encountered in putting the spoken language into writing.

One unusual difficulty is finding words among primitive cultures to explain the meaning of God.

A demonstration of proper skin care and application of make-up was also given.

Mrs. Louis Urse, Mrs. Ralph Salansky and Mrs. Dennis Knight comprised the vocal trio which presented a musical program for the group.

It's Not Child's Play

Sitter in Sad Situation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A 17-year-old girl has been our sitter for three years. She's a lovely, reliable, steady girl, and our children love her.

Certain recent happenings have given rise to suspicion. First, our liquor supply has mysteriously diminished.

Then, she's begun to chain our front door, making it impossible for us to enter until she lets us in.

ABBY

And the last straw came this morning when I found a man's undershirt (several sizes larger than my husband's) wadded up behind the couch cushions.

What do I do, Abby? If I tell her mother, the girl will never sit for me again.

I don't want to lose her. She is a gem in every way.

CHICAGO MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You seem only concerned with the possibility of losing a sitter when a far more serious issue is at hand.

A once "lovely, reliable, steady" 17-year-old girl is in danger of getting into serious trouble.

Confront her with the evidence and have a frank, friendly and sympathetic talk with her.

Impress upon her that she is flirting with tragedy, and any man who would be a party to such behavior is a worthless heel.

She needs to be informed—not informed on! P. S. And if she brushes you off, drop her and tell her mother why.

DEAR ABBY: As a working housewife with many friends and relatives, I find the accepted format of bridal and baby showers a problem for which I would like to offer a solution. The usual procedure is to gather for an evening of cards, games or some other form of entertainment, followed by refreshments and finally, opening the gifts.

This means boredom, weariness and too late an evening for some. Why not serve dessert and coffee immediately after the guests arrive?

Then open the gifts, and let those who have the time and energy for playing games go ahead and play them while the others make a quick and graceful exit?

Thank you.

HALE'S SECRETARY

DEAR SECRETARY: Your suggestion makes so much sense I wonder why others have never thought of it. (Or have they?)

OK to Pay; Don't Stay in the Way

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last night my boyfriend and I were waiting for a bus. There were quite a few others also waiting.

When it came along, I got on in turn. My boyfriend stayed behind in order to let the women get on first, so when I reached the coin box I paid my own fare.

My boyfriend said I had embarrassed him. I would like to know if I was wrong?

* * *

A: Your boyfriend should have followed immediately behind you but as he didn't, it seems to me that what you did was the sensible thing.

To have stood there waiting for him to come along to pay your fare would not only have been conspicuous but would have blocked the way of other passengers.

Q: What is your opinion of a dinner guest wiping her silver on her napkin before beginning to eat? I was never so insulted in my life when a guest did this in my house.

* * *

A: I certainly understand your feelings. I can't imagine such rudeness in a private house.

Even in a restaurant, it would be rude to wipe off the silver unless it is obvious that a certain implement is not clean and no waiter in sight to bring another.

Q: When invited to a party in honor of someone, is it considered rude for a guest to leave before the guest of honor?

I have been told that it is very bad manners for anyone to leave before he (or she) does. Is this true?

* * *

A: If the guest of honor is an important personage, or royalty, it would be bad manners to leave before he or she does; but otherwise a guest may leave whenever he or she pleases.

Mistrial Called in Case of Man Dead 20 Years

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) —"It ain't fair to me."

That was the reaction of Grover Jones, whose trial for murder in a hit-and-run death 20 years ago ended in mistrial yesterday when the prosecution announced two of his character witnesses were kin to jurors.

AP Photofax

WILL TRY AGAIN — Welby Lee, 51, Tompkinsville, Ky., sits in Clay County Criminal Court in Colina, Tenn., yesterday after hearing Judge John A. Mitchell order a mistrial in the case of a man charged with killing Lee's father in a hit-and-run death 20 years ago. Lee said he spent 18 years gathering evidence against the suspect and has more to present at the next trial.

Defense attorney James Needa said Jones "wants to be vindicated" and would seek retrial "preferably beginning Monday."

Jones, a handyman from Indianapolis, Ind., was indicted for second - degree murder after Welby Lee searched 18 years and 100,000 miles for the man who ran down his father, Newt Lee, Dec. 31, 1944.

* * *

"I definitely do not feel my search has been in vain," said Lee, who swore he would find the death car driver the night his father died.

"I hope to have some more, and even stronger, evidence the next time the trial is held," Lee said. "I had hoped the case would be wound up and completed today."

The trial focused nationwide attention on this sleepy Clay County seat, which has no stoplights, no new buildings and boasts only two industries —a plant that manufacturers overalls and one that processes strawberries.

Townspeople packed the tiny, rustic courtroom where former Secretary of State Cordell Hull sat on the bench as a young Circuit Court judge.

* * *

Yesterday's crowd accepted the no-verdict ruling in silence, filing somberly from the courtroom. A few old-time acquaintances who had not seen the defendant in perhaps two decades walked by to shake Jones' hand.

REPEATS DENIAL

Jones, 55, denied repeatedly that he ran over the elder Lee. He was critical of the mistrial decision.

"I have the right to see there is another trial, and I'll do it," he said, adding later, "They (the state) knew how it was going."

One juror, Jack Butler, told newsmen the panel had decided to acquit Jones.

* * *

Dist. Atty. Gen. Baxter Key Jr. moved for the mistrial when the jury reconvened for deliberations that morning. He said Mrs. Eldon Long was juror Robert Jackson's sister, and Lester Brown was the brother-in-law of juror Eula Copass.

NO JEOPARDY

A double jeopardy charge would not stand, Key said, adding, "I checked on that before I requested a mistrial."

He said the state probably would move for a retrial "possibly in July."

The victim's son testified during the trial he investigated 18 other men in his long hunt for the killer. Asked if he still believed Jones is the man who killed his father, Lee replied:

"I certainly do."

Key Rivalries Close '64 Prep Football Campaign

Waterford vs. Kettering

Waterford's Skippers will be trying to square their short series with Kettering at two apiece when the two square off at 8 p.m. on the WTHS field.

Like the previous three tilts, this one is rated a toss-up. Kettering owns a 7-1 mark and the Skippers have compiled a 6-1-1 record.

★ ★ ★

In the three games, the Captains have scored a total of 39 points. Waterford has posted 38.

Kettering won the first game in 1961, 13-12, and came out on top last year, 13-7. The Skippers sailed home in 1962, 19-13.

Romeo vs. Utica

Romeo will be looking for its first win over Utica since 1957 when the Chieftains arrive for the 8 p.m. encounter.

The Bulldogs (5-3) jumped on the Utica eleven in '57 and came away with a 25-0 triumph. After a tie in 1959, Utica has dominated the series which stretches back some 25 years.

★ ★ ★

Utica moves into the game sporting a 6-1-1 record that includes the Bi-County League championship.

The Chieftains have won five in a row, while Romeo has taken three of its last four encounters.

Lake Orion vs. Oxford

One of the oldest rivalries in the area will continue this evening when Lake Orion moves into Oxford. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

In 33 meetings, Oxford has posted a 17-11 mark with five games deadlocked. The Wildcats (2-6) are favored to bag win No. 18 in the series tonight.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion (0-8) has won five of the last seven tilts. The Dragons dropped a 25-7 decision last year that snapped a series winning streak at four games.

The Dragons will also be trying to end an 11-game losing string that began last season.

Dondero vs. Kimball

The deadlock in the Royal Oak Kimball-Royal Oak Dondero series should come to an end when the two tangle at 8 tonight.

The two have met six times and each has emerged with three decisions.

★ ★ ★

The series opened in 1958 and Dondero proceeded to take the first three. Kimball has won the last three by lopsided scores.

Kimball has compiled a 6-1-1 record and wound up third in the Southeastern Michigan Association. Dondero sports a 4-3-1 mark.

Duffy Gives Irish Foe Phone Jitters

Words of Woe to Notre Dame From Spartans

Daugherty Tells Rival MSU Is Prepared for Big Game

AP Photofax

SEEKS NINTH — Michigan State football teams have defeated Notre Dame eight straight times under the direction of coach Duffy Daugherty. The Spartans try for No. 9 tomorrow at South Bend, Ind.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty put in a telephone call this week to his friend, Ara Parseghian, and wryly told the Notre Dame coach:

"Ara, we're going to do you a favor Saturday. We're going to knock you off and take you off the spot.

"You know, if you go through unbeaten your first season, you'll be in trouble. Your red hot alumni will be expecting it every year. So if you lose a couple, they'll be yelling for your scalp. But we'll fix that."

★ ★ ★

Parseghian, a very serious and intent young man, was still gulping for a reply when the telephone clicked.

REFRESHING

Daugherty is a refreshing departure from the average football coach, who grimly frets over charts and electronic machines, who whips players through their routines like a Captain Bligh and who thinks the world spins or stops spinning on a football victory.

★ ★ ★

Duffy, a round little Irishman built like a tree trunk, is a serious and astute coach but one who never has lost his sense of humor. Ever loose and jovial, he laughs his way from one pressure-packed Saturday to another.

"I don't have to worry about getting the boys up for Notre Dame," Daugherty cracks. "This week I had to shake the trees to get them down for practice."

ASKED OF SECRET

Once asked about his secret for beating the Irish (he's won eight of nine meetings), Duffy said, "They had two Catholic All-Americans, we had four."

The Michigan State coach acknowledged that he has one superstition. "I think's it's bad luck to lose."

He doesn't worry about alumni and is constantly ribbing the grads, such as the one who wired him: "We're behind you, win or draw."

★ ★ ★

Duffy said his wife is understanding after an important game. "When I get home, she always has my robe, slippers and hot water waiting for me. She hates for me to wash the dishes in cold water."

Last year Duffy described his All-America halfback Sherman Lewis as a great player with one weakness — "he's a senior."

Daugherty's wife did a book on favorite recipes of football coaches' wives and somebody asked him if he'd read it. "No, I haven't," he replied. "I'm waiting for the movie version."

Wolverines Must Be at Best for Iowa

★ ★ ★

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan football Coach Bump Elliott says his team will have to be at its "very best" to beat Iowa at Iowa City Saturday.

The Wolverines, who still have a chance at an outright Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid, will face an Iowa team led by one of the nation's top passers in Gary Snook.

★ ★ ★

Iowa, 1-4 in Big Ten play, has lost its last three games by a total of eight points.

"The Hawkeyes have one of the finest passing teams in the country," Elliott pointed out.

The Michigan defense will be weaker for the game. Tackle John Yanz is out for the season because of a knee injury and an ankle injury is expected to sideline defensive halfback Dick Rindfuss.

TOTAL OFFENSE

The game, 24th in the series between the two schools, shapes up as one which will pit Michigan's running power against the Iowa aerial attack.

Michigan, which still leads the Big Ten in total offense and defense, tops the league in average first downs per game, 21; net yards gained, 350.8; yards rushing per game, 242.8 and opponents' net yards, 211.8.

Iowa leads the league in a number of passing categories. The Hawkeyes have averaged 274.8 yards through the air, completing an average of 19 passes in 39 attempts. They also lead with an average of 5.3 yards a play.

★ ★ ★

Snook, the Hawkeyes' razzle-dazzle quarterback, has a big lead in individual passing and total offense.

He has completed 97 of 197 passes for 1,374 yards and eight touchdowns. His total offense is a yard under his passing figure since he has been thrown for a yard loss in 34 rushing attempts.

But in Bob Timberlake, the Wolverines feel they have a player who can counter Snook's passing.

★ ★ ★

Timberlake, though far down the list as a passer, is the league's fourth leading rusher with 335 yards in 87 carries and is third in total offense with 764 yards.

Michigan holds a 16-4-3 record going into the game. Last year's game ended in a 21-21 tie and Iowa last won in 1962.

This will be the last meeting between the two teams until 1969 when the game again has been scheduled for Iowa City.

NL HONOR—Former Detroit Tiger pitcher Jim Bunning, who posted a 19-8 record last season with the Philadelphia Phillies was honored in the Associated Press poll as National League comeback player of the year. He was 12-13 with Detroit in 1963 and was traded last December 5th.

Jim Bunning Named for Comeback Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bunning, the first big league pitcher in 42 years to pitch a regular season perfect game, was named the National League's comeback player-of-the-year for 1964 Thursday in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 33-year-old Philadelphia right-hander polled 49 votes in the balloting by 83 baseball writers. Vernon Law of Pittsburgh was second with seven votes followed by Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs, six.

★ ★ ★

Bunning, who won 12 games and lost 13 with Detroit in 1963, compiled a 19-8 record last season. His .704 winning percentage was the fourth highest in the circuit and his 219 strikeouts was the fifth highest. He also had a 2.63 earned run average, the lowest in his eight years in the majors.

TRADED

Bunning, a 20-game winner for Detroit in 1957 and a 19-game winner in 1962, was traded to the Phillies on Dec. 5, 1963 with catcher Gus Triandos for outfielder Don Demeter and pitcher Jack Hamilton. He pitched the perfect game against the New York Mets last June 21, the first such achievement since Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox in 1922.

Law, 34-years-old, also made an excellent comeback, winning 12 games, including five shutouts. A 20-game winner with the pennant-winning Pirates of 1960, he was hampered by a sore arm the next three seasons. His 1963 record was 4-5 when he worked only 77 innings.

★ ★ ★

Jackson was the majors' biggest winner, putting together a 24-11 mark, including 19 complete games and three shutouts. He had had a 14-18 slate in 1963.

Ernie Banks of the Cubs was fourth in the balloting with five votes. Then came Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, four and Joe Nuxhall and Deron Johnson, Cincinnati, two each.

Players with one vote were Joe Christopher, New York, Bob Bailey, Pittsburgh, Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, John Callison, Chris Short and Frank Thomas, Philadelphia and Dick Groat and Lou Brock, St. Louis.

Braves Losing in Popularity

Club Officials Admit Milwaukee Problem

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee County and the Milwaukee Braves finally agree on one point: the club's officials aren't too popular in the city they want to abandon.

"We're not too popular in Milwaukee, to say the least," Braves' Executive Vice President Tom Reynolds told an Atlanta news conference Thursday. "If we were running in an election tomorrow against Adolf Hitler we would lose up there."

★ ★ ★

In Milwaukee, county board chairman Eugene H. Grobschmidt went along with Reynolds.

"I agree with that 100 per cent," Grobschmidt said. "I could think of some worse guys than Hitler who could beat them."

Reynolds said that the Braves still would like to play in Atlanta in 1966, but he admitted hopes are slim. The National League has ordered the club to fulfill a contract to play at Milwaukee County Stadium in 1965. Reynolds earlier this week signed a 25-year contract for the Braves to start playing home games in Atlanta in 1966.

Big Payoff at Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Cocktail, Stormy Coast, Nevele Meadow and Proclaim combined for a $98,237 twin double at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night.

Two tickets were sold on the 5-5-7-4 combination. The persons or person holding them were not identified.

This is the fourth highest TD payoff on record. Tops is the $172,726.80 at Roosevelt Raceway Sept. 10. Second is the $171,084.60 at Yonkers Oct. 21 and third the $132,232.80 last April 28.

Pontiac Pro Quint in Opener Saturday

The first court appearance of the Pontiac Nationals in the North American Basketball League offers few prospects for a rosy beginning.

Certainly the Grand Rapids Tackers will make the visiting Nationals feel at home when they warm up Saturday night on the Godwin High School Field House floor.

But once the 8:30 p.m. tip-off has been dispensed with, the Tackers can be expected to do everything legal to make the Nationals uncomfortable.

Grand Rapids is the pre-season favorite for the NABL title based on its successful two-year reign in the Midwestern Professional Basketball League — forerunner of the new circuit.

The Tackers, Muskegon and Chicago were all members of the Midwestern league and have transferred their franchises intact.

TOP SCORER

The leading scorer from the defunct league, Nick Mantis—former Northwestern University star, leads the Tackers. The 6-3 guard led with a 22.3-point average and was voted the Most Valuable Player award.

He has been joined by former Detroit Piston Willie Jones in the backcourt. Michigan State's Horace Walker and M. C. Burton, Michigan star, are on the front line.

Grand Rapids' center is 6-8, 230-pound George Knighton, an All-American at New Mexico State. As a team last year the Tackers averaged better than 100 points per game.

The Nationals, meanwhile, bolstered their roster by signing Willie Merriweather and 6-5 John Morgan to contracts Wednesday.

Merriweather, who was the fourth leading scorer in the MPL last year with a 20.9 average at Holland, will move into one of the starting guard slots Saturday.

Playing coach Bob Bolton has announced Al Cech will be the other guard; Charlie North and Henry Hughes will be the forwards.

The 6-10 Bolton will start at center. Morgan and Dick Dzik will provide front line depth; while John Hannett, Frank Chickowski and Manny Jackson are backcourt reserves for the first game.

The team will depart at 4:45 p.m. Saturday in a three-car caravan leaving from the Wixom exit of I-96 Expressway. The Godwin court is located on West 36th in southwestern Grand Rapids.

Tickets will be available at the door. They are priced at $1 for students, $1.50 general admission and $2 reserved. The field house seats 3200.

The other NABL opening contest will have Muskegon at Benton Harbor.

Mickey Wright, the women's tour's top money winner this year, was in a three-way tie for seventh with a one-over-par 73.

The $10,000 tournament has a first prize of $1,500.

U.S. Now Totals 34 Paralympic Medals

TOKYO (AP) — The United States pushed its gold medals total to 34 with a victory in the archery competition and won the best team trophy as the Tokyo International Wheel Chair Games closed Thursday.

Dan Kotter, a 23-year-old from Urbana, Ill., who was struck by polio at the age of 18 months, finished first in the Columbia round competition for intermediate skilled competitors. Kotter, who has been practicing archery as a member of the Illinois Archer Association, scored 586 points.

★ ★ ★

The silver medal went to Italy's Raimundo Longhi, who scored 584 points and the bronze to George Pasipanki of the United States, who scored 580. All three bettered the existing U.S. national wheel chair record of 574 points in the Columbia round set last June by Billy Simmons of Illinois and Al Long, Buffalo, N.Y.

Pasipanki, an ex-serviceman who was injured in a motorcycle accident said, "It was the best score I ever shot."

Tabulation of the medal winners continued even after the impressive ceremonies which ended the five-day, 22-nation event. The 69-man American delegation was reported to have catured 34 gold and eight silver medals.

The Americans were presented the best team trophy by Dr. Ludwig Guttmann, founder of the International Wheel Chair games.

An unofficial count also gave Italy 17 gold medals, Rhodesia 11, Israel 10, The Netherlands four and France, three.

Lonely Liston Figures Title Only Way Back

BOSTON (AP) — The last 38 weeks have been the loneliest of all in the troubled life of ex-champion Charles Sonny Liston. He figures he can change all that by regaining the heavyweight boxing crown from Cassius Clay next Monday night.

"I just want that title," said the man Clay calls that Big, Ugly Bear. "That's all there is in all this world."

★ ★ ★

"When you wake up and find you're not the champ any more you're all alone. The guys with the big mouths are out talking about you, not to you, and what they say ain't what they said the day before. It's a big price to pay.

"Never mind what Clay has to say. I don't want to hear them or read them. Let him talk. A scared man talks like that. I'm going my way this time and I'm working hard.

"I'm going to get that title and keep it a long time. I'm going to like it and with it I won't be lonely."

State Farm Bureau Blasts Federal Controls, Wheat Program

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Farm Bureau Thursday denounced what it called "the thicket of government controls" and said the government's 1964 wheat program cost Michigan growers at least $17 million.

Urging repeal of the wheat program, the 69,000-member bureau said the plan "has lowered the price of wheat to farmers but has increased the price to consumers."

In blasting government controls, it said:

"We must always remember that the farm family lives on 'income' not on 'prices.' A high price with a limited production does not produce a satisfactory income."

It contended commodities not subject to quotas, allotments and controls generally are in a more healthy condition than those "which have lost markets through high supports and production controls."

The bureau's delegates, meeting at East Lansing, rejected a resolution supporting the so-called dairyman's class I base by a 234 to 214 vote. Instead, it adopted a resolution taking a flexible stand on the issue.

* * *

The defeated resolution said farmers "are forced to compete against each other to maintain a high base and a resulting favorable percentage of Class I sales within the market." It called for allotting each producer a share of the class I milk sales within the market.

* * *

On state issues, the bureau called for legislation to "reduce or substantially reduce personal property taxes." It also asked for "significant tax relief on real property."

REPLACE TAXES

To replace revenues lost from property taxes, it proposed a statewide flat rate net income tax.

The tax resolution said, "based on income, farmers pay two to three times more property tax than any other groups."

The bureau supported legislation that would allow establishment of marketing and promotional programs by issuance of marketing orders.

Its resolution recommended that each commodity group decide for itself whether to allow individual producers to remain free of the order's provisions.

The bureau also reaffirmed a previous policy urging laws against "price discrimination which would have the effect of substantially lessening competition or tending to create a monopoly" in dairy products.

Gov. George Romney has appointed a committee which is tudying dairy pricing matters.

The bureau concluded its three-day meeting, which drew some 2,000 farmers from around the state, with elections.

Harvey Luenberg of Saginaw County was elected to the board of directors post now held by Floyd Shankel of Gratiot County.

Reelected directors were Dean Pridgeon, Branch County; Walter Frahm, Saginaw County; Wilbur Smith, Calhoun County; Elton Smith, Kent County; Ward Hodge, Sanilac County, and Edgar Diamond, Alpena County.

...The average United States household consists of 3.33 persons, about the same as 10 years ago, but the average number of children younger than 18 years old increased while there was a decline in the number of adults.

PROBLEM: Buoyancy.

* * *

NEEDED: A rubber balloon and a pan of water.

* * *

DO THIS: Blow up the balloon, and see how difficult it is to push it under the water.

* * *

HERE'S WHY: The water in the pan is much heavier than the balloon and the air in the balloon.

The force required to move the balloon down into the water is equal to the weight of the water raised or "displaced" by the balloon.

Archimedes discovered this principle more than 2,200 years ago.

* * *

If we wanted to be strictly accurate we would have to say "the additional force required," because the weight of the balloon, although slight, would displace a small amount of water.

A collection of these scientific puzzles is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is in bookstoresandlibraries.

1965 Plates Selling Like Hot Cakes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's clean new license plates are selling like tickets to the sold-out Michigan State-Notre Dame football game, reports Secretary of State James Hare.

Hare estimates 200,000 of the new plates were purchased in the first week after they went on sale Nov. 2.

* * *

The new plates are maize and blue — the University of Michigan colors—and not all the sales are due to the U. of M. Big Ten and Rose Bowl hopes, speculatives Hare, an avid football fan himself.

* * *

"Virtually all our branches are not only reporting record sales," Hare said, "but nearly without exception volume twice as high over the last time we issued new plates in 1962 and more than three times the sales in the tab years. Michigan's motorists just seem hungry for those shiny new plates."

* * *

Hare reminded that the old plates still are valid until next Feb. 28 and advised buyers of new plates to keep their old ones in a safe place until they no longer are valid.

Market Is Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford was weak in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was fairly active.

Most changes of key stocks were small.

★ ★ ★

RAILS STEADY

Rails were fairly steady on balance despite a strike scheduled for Monday morning against most of the nation's railroads by six railroad shop unions.

★ ★ ★

Steels were narrowly mixed.

Madison Square Garden was unchanged at 2 on a block of 20,700 shares as interest continued in its reported deal with ABC-Paramount.

Kennecott was a 1-point gainer in an irregular nonferrous section.

Polaroid fell more than a point.

Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained .5 at 327.8.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.
