U.S. Contribution to U.N. Seen Despite LBJ Silence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western diplomatic sources said today the United States would make a substantial financial contribution to the United Nations soon despite the failure of President Johnson to announce it at the U.N.'s 20th anniversary meeting.

Many diplomats expressed disappointment that the President did not deal with the fiscal crisis in his speech yesterday, but one diplomat familiar with the U.S. position said the omission was not significant.

He said it was simply a case of deciding this was not the time nor place to deal with the issue.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, scheduled to wind up the two-day commemorative session today, was reported ready to emphasize that the United States was eager to end the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the United Nations.

Informed sources said, however, that he, like the President, would avoid any announcement of a voluntary contribution and also would steer away from any back-draw on the enforcement of Article 19 of the U.N. Charter.

This article provides that members two years in arrears in paying assessments will lose their vote in the General Assembly.

The United States was understood to have decided to make a big contribution to the newly created solvency fund and that the action would not be conditional on any similar contribution by the Soviet Union.

The Russians have promised to give a substantial sum but only after the no-vote truce in the assembly is ended and normal voting is resumed.

President Johnson discussed the problem with U.N. Secretary General U. Thant in their long private meeting yesterday, but informed sources said there was no definite commitment.

Among those who spoke publicly in criticism of the President's silence on the financial issue were several Soviet bloc countries. They said this was the most important issue facing the United Nations and it was disappointing that Johnson did not deal with it.

The President said that keeping the peace is the world's most urgent problem.

Seek Clues to Crash of Transport

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — Air Force investigators concentrated today on learning the cause of the crash of a big jet transport plane that took 84 lives, including 72 Okinawa-bound Marines.

The four-engine C135 broke into flaming fragments after it smashed into cactus and brush-covered terrain yesterday less than 100 feet from the top of Loma Verde. It went down in fog and drizzle about a minute after takeoff at 1:44 a.m. from the El Toro Marine Air Station.

The Military Air Transport Service plane, a military version of Boeing's 707, carried a 12-man Air Force crew from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J. The plane was destined for Honolulu.

The 72 Marines aboard, who came from all parts of the country, had been processed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., as replacements to the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. Okinawa is a staging area for troop movements to Viet Nam.

Crash of the transport plane turned the greenish-brown hillside into a mile-square area of fiery devastation. It looked as though the litter had been fired from a giant shotgun.

HUNDREDS HELP
It made husky Marines ill when they visited the scene to remove the bodies and parts of bodies. Hundreds of them swarmed over the rolling hills to help with the recovery mission or fight the many small grass fires ignited by burning wreckage.

The land, which borders the air station, is part of the historic 93,000-acre Irvine Ranch. The property dates back to the days of the old Spanish land grants.

The searchers groped through swirling fog and smoke. Finding a body, they drove a stake into the ground to guide litter bearers to the spot.

Radar Chief Warrant Officer John Andre, a helicopter search pilot, was the first to locate the wreckage.

Andre, 46, told newsmen: "This is the worst air disaster I've covered in 24 years of service, including Korea and World War II."

A copyright news story by Edward W. O'Brien, chief Washington correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, said U.S. authorities have evidence of construction of sites in North Viet Nam for Russian 1,200-mile range nuclear missiles.

The story was published by the Globe-Democrat and the Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot and distributed by the Newhouse National News Service.

Tragedy Toll Includes City, Area Marines

Marine Pfc. Ronald R. Richert, 18, son of Mrs. L. C. Richert, 74 Thorpe, was among those who lost their lives yesterday in the California crash of an Air Force jet transport.

Killed in the same accident was Cpl. George E. College, husband of Betty J. College, 4180 Mavara, Davisburg.

Pfc. Richert had graduated from supply corps school and reported for duty at Camp Pendleton, Calif., last Monday after a month's leave at home.

His main interest was in electronics and mechanics, and he joined the Marines hoping to expand his education in those fields.

Also surviving are three brothers and three sisters. Robert, the older brother, is married and lives in Auburn Heights. His sisters, Peggy, Joanne and Phyllis, live at home as do the other two brothers, Robin and Richard.

A native of Pontiac, he attended Pontiac Central High School but graduated in Monroe, La., where he was staying with an aunt.

Gromyko Keeps Silent on Algeria Opinion
MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko declined today to disclose the Soviet opinion of the new government in Algeria.

Iranian correspondents accompanying the visiting Shah of Iran asked Gromyko at a Kremlin reception what the Soviet Union thought of Col. Houari Boumedienne's Revolutionary Council. He said he had no comment.

The article said the sites are being constructed in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, about 100 miles from the Chinese border.

The newspaper said that the area "has already been heavily armed with Russian IL28 jet bombers, MIG fighters and ground-to-air missiles."

The report, if confirmed, would introduce a new element into the possible expansion of Viet Nam fighting. Previous reports of missile site installations have dealt with preparation for ground-to-air missiles for anti-aircraft defense, rather

8-Day Flight for Gemini 5

ESTILL, S.C. (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced today the next Gemini manned space flight will be an eight-day mission.

This is the same length of time required to fly to the moon, explore its surface, and return to earth.

James E. Webb, administrator of NASA, announced the mission at the 23rd annual Hampton County watermelon festival.

Webb also disclosed that NASA would announce next week the selection of six scientist-astronauts. He said one of them may well become a member of an Apollo manned moon expedition. This will bring the number of astronauts to 34.

Webb said the Gemini 5 flight, expected in mid-August, could provide assurances at an early date that Apollo crews can withstand the stresses of long duration space flight and will operate effectively.

The compromise, worked out this week among the House, Senate and Gov. George Romney's office won 97-0 approval in the House and 91-0 approval in the Senate.

Romney indicated he would sign the bill. Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, chairman of a House committee that worked on the plan, said the governor "has made a commitment to sign it."

The bill gives the governor authority to appoint heads of all but heads of the departments.

3 DEPARTMENTS
The three departments, each of which is headed by an elected official on board, are the attorney general's office, secretary of state's office and department of education.

The bill established a separate department of civil rights — headed by the constitutionally created Civil Rights Commission, headed by O'Brien.

The bill is a combination of earlier proposals — chiefly the rival plans backed by Romney and the House Committee on Constitutional Implementation, headed by O'Brien.

NEW LOOK — Pontiac residents will start seeing more and more women mail carriers if a present trend continues, postal officials said. Mrs. A. Sabisch of 211 Red Mill is one of eight women carriers currently employed by the Pontiac post office. She has worked for the post office for nearly 10 years.

'Mail Will Not Fail by Male or Female'

Do you mentally boggle at the "mailwoman," as opposed to the traditional "mailman?" Better get used to it — the daily avalanche of bills and letters from Aunt Bertha may be delivered regularly by a woman.

Of course you can employ the neutral term "carrier" and put your mind at rest.

The days of only-male mailmen are past.

Female mail carriers are taking their place beside their male counterparts and may frequently be seen totting letters and packages throughout this city.

EXPECT MORE
The Pontiac post office now employs eight women carriers and a present trend indicates that there will be a marked increase in female carriers in the future.

"Patrons within our delivery area may expect to receive their mail delivery from one of our female employees at some time during the year near future," according to R. J. Featherston, assistant postmaster.

Female carriers often are seen during the evening hours driving the red, white and blue postal vehicles, collecting mail from boxes throughout the city, Featherston said.

In addition they handle special deliveries and are called on to assist in carrying all type routes on any street that has delivery service.

IN UNIFORM
After 90 days of employment, the female carriers are required to wear carrier uniforms, similar to the men's uniform, with a skirt replacing the men's trousers.

The women are required to qualify on the same positions and must carry out the same duties as the men.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The businesslike U.S. Secret Service is judging former Postmaster General J. Edward Day's new book by its cover.

"I'd have to assume this is in violation of federal law," a Secret Service spokesman said after seeing the jacket of "My Appointed Round: 929 Days as Postmaster General."

The eye-catching jacket bears the reproductions of 11 U.S. postage stamps in full color — a vivid red.

The federal law prohibiting such color reproductions carries a possible criminal penalty of 15 years in prison, a $5,000 fine, or both. It's the Secret Service's job to enforce this law.

"We'll necessarily have to do something about this," the Secret Service man — a high-ranking official who asked not to be identified — told a reporter whose query had led him to buy the book and study the dust jacket.

CHILLING STORY
Had he looked inside, he would have found a chilling story of a heart attack scare for Lyndon B. Johnson — then vice president — while Day was visiting the Johnson ranch in June 1963.

And he would have read about an outburst of the Johnson temper when some aide forgot to load his newly purchased foam rubber water-skiing outfit aboard the vice presidential plane.

But the Secret Service was more interested, for the moment, in the jacket of the $3.95 book, which is already on the counters of Washington bookstores although the official publication date is July 5.

Teamsters End Strike in Philly

Vote Ends Walkout That Crippled City

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Striking Teamsters voted today an immediate end of their six-day wildcat strike that crippled delivery of food, drugs and other general merchandise in the nation's fourth largest city.

Approximately 5,000 of the 13,000 member Local 107 of the Teamsters Union approved by voice vote a recommendation of their leaders that they return to work. There were some scattered shouts of "No!"

Local 107 is the fifth largest unit of the Teamsters Union, headed by President James R. Hoffa.

The men were summoned to the general meeting in Convention Hall after Judge Leo Winroth yesterday cited 17 of the local's leaders for contempt of court for disobeying an injunction ordering the strikers to return to work hours after the walkout began last Monday.

If the men had turned down the return to work plan of their officers it would have cost the union a fine of $35,000 a day, and each of its leaders $1,500 daily.

HOLIDAY OVER
Michael Hession, the local's secretary treasurer, told the men: "I have to declare the holiday is over and everybody go back to work immediately."

There was some hoos and scattered shouts of "No, no!" Then one voice from the rear asked, "You mean it Mike?" Hession shouted, "Yes, I mean it!"

The walkout was started by the local in support of four platform workers fired by Roadway Express, Inc. The Teamsters demanded that the four men be rehired.

NOT ON JOBS
Hession said today, however, that the strike must end without the four Roadway Express workers getting back their jobs.

Then, local President Edward Rattisford took over the meeting and asked for a vote on the question of ending "the holiday."

He asked for yeas and nays, and then pounded the gavel and announced "The yeas have it."

Man Accused in Death Plot to Face Quiz?

CHICAGO (AP) — A man accused by two persons of offering them $15,000 to kill George W. Jayne, a wealthy Palatine, Ill., horseman, was reported by an attorney to have come to Chicago from Detroit voluntarily to submit to questioning by state's attorney's officers.

George J. Cotsirilos, the attorney, said he would accompany his client Monday to meet Louis J. Garippo, chief of the state's attorney's criminal division.

Garippo said the story would be laid before a grand jury Wednesday. He said the two men now in protective custody, Steven Grod, 25, and Edward L. Moran, 32, related that the man gave them $1,000 as a down payment on the killing of Jayne, 42.

Grod, Moran and Jayne have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Wednesday. The deal the report said, was begun three days after a bomb explosion in Jayne's car killed Marie Rude, 22, a riding instructor at Jayne's Tri-Color Farm in Palatine Township northwest of Chicago. Jayne was not in the car at the time of the explosion.

Government Overhaul Bill for State OK'd

LANSING (AP) — The legislature overwhelmingly approved a compromise governmental reorganization plan yesterday.

The overhaul fits more than 140 state agencies, boards, commissions and departments into a framework of 19 major departments. It prohibits outside employment for any department head.

There was no indication whether their pilots were Russian, Red Chinese or North Vietnamese.

A Defense Department spokesman noted that Communist China had received about 200 of the bombers before the Russian-Red China breach developed.

The IL28 is generally considered an obsolescent plane, but the Russians still maintain that model in their tactical air force.

The plane has a range of up to 1,500 miles, which means it could reach all the southernmost portion of South Viet Nam and return to bases in the Hanoi area.

Dominicans Battle as Peace Talks Go On

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Political tensions in San Francisco de Macoris exploded with sudden fury Friday and at least 16 persons were reported killed in clashes between armed rebels and junta forces.

A four-man team of the Organization of American States said most of the casualties occurred when armed rebel partisans attacked the San Francisco power plant at about dawn. The team picked from the Inter-American peace forces reported after returning from a quick helicopter trip to the city 60 miles northwest of Santo Domingo.

Twelve rebels and four members of the Dominican armed forces or police loyal to the junta were killed, OAS sources said.

A junta communiqué said eight rebels were killed and 30 captured in three attacks on military police and army installations. It said one junta defender was wounded.

CITY IS QUIET

By nightfall San Francisco was described as quiet by the OAS investigators and the junta report, conflicted on the situation in the entire city long regarded as a rebel hotbed.

There was an unconfirmed report that the junta had sent 400 reinforcements to San Francisco.

The Inter-American Human Rights Commission planned to go to San Francisco today to investigate.

Rebel sources said their supporters took refuge in thickly wooded hills near San Francisco, the country's third largest city with a population of 60,000.

NAME ATTACKERS

The junta charged that the attackers included persons regarded as members of "pro-Communist factions." The outbreak came, the junta said, just as OAS peace efforts appeared to be making some progress in ending the conflict.

Day, telephoned at his Washington law firm, told a secretary to refer all inquiries to his New York publisher.

"You may say that Holt-Rinehard and Winston, Inc., is interested but has no further comment," said Arthur Cohen, an official of the publishing firm, in New York.

But in a sober vein, Day recalled that he was visiting the LBJ Ranch over the 1963 Fourth of July weekend. The two men were returning from horse races at the Fredericksburg County Fair.

"During the drive back with the vice president from that hot, close county fair grandstand, with a Secret Service man at the wheel, I had one of the most chilling moments of my life.

"As we drove along, LBJ suddenly said to the driver: 'Quick, turn up the air-conditioning. I feel I can't get any oxygen. I feel just like I did before I had my heart attack.'

"I remembered to my horror that Lyndon Johnson had his 1955 heart attack while riding in a car... but when the air came on strong, he was all right again. It was just an attack of indigestion."

FBI Hunts for Absent Mob Figure

CHICAGO (UPI) — Federal agents searched today for Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, the first mobster to duck a grand jury investigation which put the crime syndicate's reputed boss behind bars.

FBI agents today watched Humphreys' ritzy apartment high in Chicago's prestigious Marina City and his $250,000 mansion at Key Biscayne, Fla., where the aging mob mogul goes by the name of Lewis H. Hart. Hart tells his neighbors he is a retired oil man.

Humphreys, 66, is reputed to be the crime syndicate's top "fixer" with police, courts and lawmakers. His high school education, urbane demeanor and command of the English language have earned him a scholarly reputation among his coarser colleagues.

DEMAND EXISTS

The demand for public housing exists in the midst of an obvious boom in apartment and rental living. Multiple housing units are springing up not only in the city, but across the country.

In addition to the recently completed Pontiac Township project on East Pike, there are several other developments pending.

A township project similar to the one on Pike is slated for land across from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, a higher-cost development is projected for nearby land and still a third apartment project is planned for the corner of Square Lake Road and Opdyke.

News Analysis

While supporting the trend toward apartment living, these projects do not meet the demand for low-cost housing for the elderly or low-income group.

Public housing is the only answer, according to housing proponents.

SENIOR CITIZENS

According to 1960 census data, Pontiac has 9,971 senior citizens. An estimated 1,833 of these are living in rented housing.

Teachers Participate in Kindergarten Confab

BIRMINGHAM — Fifteen kindergarten teachers, three remedial teachers and two elementary counselors completed a one-week kindergarten workshop yesterday at Westchester Elementary School.

The workshop was designed to help kindergarten teachers learn more about the methods used to evaluate mental development, emotional growth and physical maturation of kindergarten children.

Directly related to the Academically Able Program, the workshop was designed to help teachers do a more effective job of identifying individual differences and to recognize vibrations in learning patterns.

A group of children who will be entering kindergarten this fall attended the programs in the mornings.

The sessions include normal kindergarten activities and a some individual testing.

DEMONSTRATE METHODS

Jack Molloy, public schools psychologist, and Mrs. Naomi Erdmann, reading consultant, demonstrated methods which the teachers will use.

Afternoons were spent discussing and evaluating methods used during the morning sessions.

A number of elementary principals also observed the workshop.

Red Cross Has Little Luck Contacting Cong Captives

WASHINGTON (AP)—American Red Cross officials appeared today to be losing hope that contact can be established with American servicemen held prisoner by the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

"I see no basis for optimism," one official said. The Red Cross was asked for a status report on the situation after the Viet Cong announced Friday they had executed Sgt. Harold B. Bennett, an American prisoner.

More than two months ago the Red Cross disclosed it had received word from the International Red Cross that the Viet Cong had agreed to deliver mail to American servicemen held prisoner in South Viet Nam.

At the time, it was thought that such contact, if it developed, might lead to other measures to make easier the lot of the American servicemen in Viet Cong hands.

NO INDICATION

However, Red Cross officials said there has been "no advancement" — that so far they have received no indication that any of the mail had been delivered.

"The news is not good," the official said. He added that the Red Cross had been candid with the families of the men.

Bennett of Perryville, Ark., was captured last Dec. 29. The Viet Cong said they executed him in reprisal for South Vietnamese executions of Viet Cong terrorists. U.S. officials called Bennett's death a cold-blooded murder.

Bennett was one of 13 American soldiers listed as "detained" by the Viet Cong. One other is listed as in the hands of the North Vietnamese.

CAMBODIAN UNIT

The contact with the Viet Cong has been handled by the Cambodian Red Cross. The International Red Cross, with headquarters in Switzerland, has been the link between the Cambodians and the American Red Cross.

No attempt has been made by the American Red Cross to establish a direct contact with the Viet Cong.

MRS. GERRIT B. LEMMEN

The Double Standard Is Still in Great Evidence

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Our pastor said in a sermon recently that the white wedding gown and veil should be denied the unchaste bride.

I know he felt compelled to preach a sermon on this topic because he has been put in the embarrassing position lately of having to "baptize the babies of brides" whom he had married in white bridal costumes only five and six months earlier.

He said that our young people should know that there are penalties for unchastity and rewards for purity.

I would like to ask if this applies only to women. How about the men? Should we not expect them to be chaste as well? And what should the penalty be for a man if he is not?

We hear so much about the "fallen woman." How about the fallen man?

CURIOUS: I know it's unfair, but somehow the men seem to escape the stigma. The unchaste woman has "fallen." The unchaste man has merely "slipped."

DEAR ABBY: A very attractive young woman has come to town from a foreign country. The trouble is — she doesn't speak a word of English.

SMITTEN: I am very much attracted to her, and if I can read the universal language in her eyes, she seems to be attracted to me, too. How can I communicate with her if she makes no effort whatsoever to learn my language?

DEAR SMITTEN: Learn hers.

DEAR ABBY: I am also a nurse who didn't take up nursing to fight the patients, but I have fought a few in my time. I'll never forget the wrestling match I had with a 240-pounder who refused to take off his money belt when we were preparing him for an emergency kidney stone operation.

If you are going ahead full speed with a patio or sun porch, you may be glad, later on, that you remember to: (1) install some overhang to provide a small area of sun protection on "beasty" days; (2) extend gutters, where necessary, on existing roofs, to hasten drying after rains; (3) lay tile or flag-stones to expedite water run-off; and (4) locate electrical sockets conveniently, requiring a minimum of extension cord.

Federal Reserve Head 'Coins' Poor Reward

In public life, the rewards of devotion to principle must often seem frustrating to those public servants endowed with this by no means common attribute.
Currently, Federal Reserve Bank Board Chairman WILLIAM MCCHESENEY MARTIN JR. is getting his lumps for voicing some timely and realistic observations on the status of the booming American economy, now in its fifth year of upsurge.

In pointing out both similarities and dissimilarities between the current tide of prosperity and that of the roaring Twenties that preceded the Depression, the chairman, we think, but offered some basic morsels of economic life for the populace to chew on.

Needless to say, his detractors gave him the hand-wringing treatment, particularly as they lifted out of context several of the official's more somber comparisons and came up with an attributed warning that another depression was imminent.

Spearheading those who saw gloom-and-bust in the chairman's summation was Texas' arch inflationist and chairman of the House Banking Committee, Democrat WRIGHT PATMAN, who even went so far as to call for MARTIN's resignation for pointing out what must be apparent to every thoughtful American.

MARTIN, as head of the Nation's banking system, had a distinct obligation to sound a warning at a time when taxes are being cut, the debt ceiling again raised, as talk prevails of "coin clipping" and fiat money, and as inflation threatens to make further inroads into our economy.

He did his job well and deserves thanks for his courage and foresight, not subjection to unfair criticism by congressional politicians and a few astigmatic business leaders.

Psychologist Claims 'Scaring' Public an Art

In view of the likelihood that health warning labels will eventually be required on cigarette packages, it gives one pause to be told that scaring people is not necessarily the best way to get them to do, or not to do, something for their own good. This conclusion about human behavior comes from a psychologist with the University of North Carolina School of Public Health and is based primarily on a study of an oral polio vaccination campaign in Florida.

There it was found that the fear of a disease or the risk of getting one doesn't seem to encourage people to seek a way of preventing it or reducing the risk.

Excessive scare campaigns may, in fact, have just the opposite result. Fear of cancer, says the authority, has actually driven some women away from screening clinics.

Apparently the need is to create a moderate degree of concern in people—something more than apathy but less than fear.

Yet some of the people in Florida took the vaccine because "it was the thing to do. It was socially fashionable. It was a way to become part of the community."

The psychologist credits newspapers with doing a better job of conveying health information to the public than any other communications medium.

Unfortunately, teaching facts doesn't always motivate people's behavior. "There are more emotional factors involved in behavior than a string of facts," he says.

Around $4 billion a year in the U.S. is spent on weddings, including trousseaus, gifts, etc. This represents an appalling loss of $1 billion, as 25 per cent of marriages end in divorce.

AMA Fight Led to Coincidence

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON — The American Medical Association ran up against City Hall and then occurred one of the strange coincidences of history.

For 15 years the AMA and its presidents successfully fought the passage of a federal medicare program which would provide health care for the aged through a Social Security tax.

The AMA spent a bale of money doing it, this year almost $1 million in the first three months. Among other things, the organization, with a membership of about 206,000 doctors, argued medicare would introduce a third party, the government, into the doctor-patient relationship.

But the tide was running against the AMA at last. Under President Johnson's prodding, and with his own Democrats in overwhelming control of Congress, approval of his medicare plan seemed certain this year.

ENDORSED ANOTHER PLAN

Last February, still butting its head against medicare, the AMA endorsed another plan called "eldercare."

Then last April 8 the House by a 313-115 vote approved medicare. Senate approval and final passage seemed certain after the Senate Finance Committee gave its okay and sent it up for a vote.

The AMA, facing this prospect, met this week in New York and some doctors promptly submitted 10 strong resolutions urging physicians to boycott the health plan if it became law.

This was too much for the new president, Dr. James Z. Appel, 58, a surgeon of Lancaster, Pa., who sternly warned his fellow-doctors such a boycott would be unethical as well as "impractical and not good citizenship."

CHANTED SUPPORT

But out on the sidewalks old folks marched and shouted support of medicare, chanting as they picketed: "Two-four-eight, A-M-A cooperate."

Then Thursday came the coincidence: The Senate Finance Committee approved the medicare bill and will send it up to the full Senate which is expected to pass it after the July 4 recess.

And the AMA turned aside the boycott proposals although it warned it would not cooperate in any health program that interferes with a doctor's judgment and skills.

And it decided to look over the situation again when, and if, the medicare plan becomes law.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

WOMEN OF FAITH IN THE OLD TESTAMENT-3

DEBORAH
Deborah, renowned judge and prophetess of ancient Israel, had a faith and sense of justice that united all her people. A woman of great gifts and insight, sensitive to the will of God and the political climate of the time, she inspired Barak, captain of the Israelites, to victory at Taanach on the plain of Esdron.

The victory of Deborah and Barak is celebrated in the Song of Deborah. (Judges 5:1-31). It is considered a masterpiece of Hebrew poetry and according to Biblical scholars, the oldest Hebrew literature in existence. Deborah's faith has lived for 3000 years.

Days of All Faiths:

St. Paul I Succeeded His Brother

By Dr. HOWARD V. HARPER
Monday belongs to St. Paul I. The number refers to the fact that he was Pope Paul I, not the first saint named Paul. That distinction belongs to the great missionary Apostle Paul.

This Paul was Pope from 757 to 767, which was a completely peaceful time in the life of the Church. He is a saint because he was a saintly man, not because he did anything spectacular. He was the sort of man who slipped out at night, with no easy thing for a Pope, and went about Rome visiting the sick. He put up the money to get debtors out of prison. If a man is put in prison for debt, he is cut off from all chances of ever paying the debt. It was a stupid, self-defeating law, and Paul knew it.

There were times, too, when Paul stepped in and got pardons for prisoners under sentence of death. In an easy, uneventful time, Paul was just a kind, loving man, and what better qualifications are there for sainthood?

Paul is noteworthy, however, in two other ways. First, he succeeded his brother as Pope. His predecessor - brother was Pope Stephen III. The case is rare, if not unique.

Second, because things were quiet and untroubled, he was able to do some much-needed housekeeping in and around the city of Rome. The bones of the early saints, buried in the catacombs, were poorly preserved and poorly identified. Paul was able to get them moved from the damp caverns and decently reburied in churches.

The most famous of the relics he moved were those of St. Petronilla, daughter of St. Peter. This lady is never mentioned in the New Testament and it may come as a surprise to many that St. Peter had a daughter. Certainly there are those who do not believe he did. There is no way of proving either side of the argument.

But we know Peter was a married man and most married men have children. There is no known reason why he could not have had a daughter. Legend says she was with her father in Rome, that she died there and was buried in the catacombs, and that St. Paul I moved her bones to the church that later became known as the Chapel of the Kings of France.

THE MONTH OF JULY

This month, which was in ancient Roman times called Quintilis, was renamed July in honor of Julius Caesar, because it was the month in which the great emperor was born. The change in name was brought about by Mark Antony, and one wonders how he got the privilege of naming the months.

Besides the fact that it was Caesar's birthmonth, there seemed to Mark Antony to be other logic in support of the choice of this month to honor the world's then most powerful man. July is the hottest month in the year. This indicates that the sun is now at its peak of potency. If this is true, then what other month could be as appropriately dedicated to the potent emperor of the world?

The Anglo-Saxons called this month 'Iley-monath' - it was now that they harvested their hay.

DOG DAYS

Beginning Saturday, and continuing to August 11, we are in the "dog days." Most people vaguely connect the term with the fact that the heat at this time of year makes dogs uncomfortable and irritable. The real reason the period is called dog days is because the star Canicula (Little Dog) rises and sets exactly with the sun during this time.

Voice of the People:

Readers Voice Opinions on Noise of Motorcycles

We agree wholeheartedly with "Responsible 22-Year-Old" that the City should enforce an ordinance against noisy motorcycles. The same noise has been going on in our neighborhood until 2 or 3 a.m. and we feel this should be stopped.

A PONTIAC RESIDENT

Concerning the irresponsible "punk" on the noisy motorcycle, I am sure that the police received several complaints they would investigate and take proper action.

The motorcycle is built according to what the riding public wants in a bike and is more of a sporting means of transportation from which the rider expects good performance and reliability. Granted, there are those who "let their hair down and howl" on their "noisy contraptions," but would you also look around at the automobile drivers who tear from here to there.

When will the motorcycle be accepted by many of our "responsible" citizen as being here to stay? I am sure that grandpa and grandma felt the same way when the first cars appeared to frighten their horses.

A CYCLE RIDER

About the motorcycles that make too much noise and of the man's appeal to quiet them down, let us also have something done about the roaring cars.

'Not Upset Over Enforcement of Law'

Regardless of what Bill Brooks thinks, I'm not upset over any law Judge Beer may care to enforce as I've been married over 34 years and don't anticipate any changes. However, that 88-year-old law that he dug up seems like a politician's dream. One wonders why in a circuit court of seven judges he is the only one who feels that it is necessary to enforce it.

I sure hope some lawyer with aspirations doesn't dig up the law that says you can't have both a cat and a canary. SAMUEL E. HAGON 3110 GARDEN

Says Opinion of Counselor Is Appalling

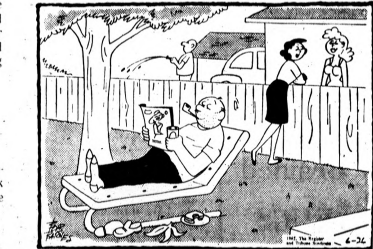

I could not help reacting to the article in Monday's paper on the lagging Detroit Youth Employment Program. What dismayed me was not the poor response of the school drop-outs to the government job program, but the opinion of the government counselor who sees "... no future in the gas station and grocery store jobs."

I was appalled at his downgrading these very necessary jobs. Just how long does he think any one of us could get by without people working in these businesses?

Before we can hope to change the attitude of young people disinterested in work, maybe there needs to be a change in thinking on the value of all kinds of work on the part of the government counselors.

ly after the furor broke, the affable Conner was asked: "Is it true you snub politicians?" "To paraphrase an old saying," laughed Conner, "politicians are among my best friends."

Commerce Secretary John Conner — in hot water with Ohio's Democratic congressional delegation because of his failure to yield to their political patronage demands — isn't losing much sleep over the matter. Appearing before Washington's National Press Club short-

A reporter had a better idea: "You can yell your vote down." Dirksen responded: "Say, that'd be a novelty, now, wouldn't it?"

Health Center Go-Ahead Included in Unit Report

Three recommendations of the ways and means committee, including a go-ahead on the $750,000 South Oakland Health Center, will be presented Monday to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Specifically, the committee will recommend that the full board of auditors be authorized to proceed with design drawings and specifications allowing for possible future expansion of the Southfield center.

In conjunction with the health center, the committee also will recommend a non-discrimination policy in the operation of the facility.

A third ways and means recommendation is that the full board reaffirm previous action by the committee of the whole to appropriate $29,600 for a proposed six-county transportation and land use study.

This outlay would represent Oakland County's maximum initial expenditure for the $3.6 million study sponsored by the Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

ANNUAL REPORT

In other action at the 9:30 a.m. meeting, the board will receive an annual report from its buildings and grounds committee based on a recent committee inspection on all county-owned property.

The board's by-laws committee will recommend dissolution of the tuberculosis sanatorium committee and creation of an institutions committee.

Due to the closing of the TB sanatorium, the former committee is no longer operative.

The new committee would be the liaison between the board of institutions, which administers the medical care facility where TB patients now are housed, and the board of supervisors.

Several recommendations by the board of public works also will be considered.

Bids, Permits Face Board in Waterford Twp.

Bids for workmen's compensation and comprehensive liability insurance for township employees will be opened Monday night by the Waterford Township Board.

Also slated for board attention is a request for a carnival permit from the Pontiac Lions Club for its annual circus at the Pontiac Mall Aug. 11.

Another request for board consideration is for a pool room permit at 4283 Windlane.

In other business, the board will set a public hearing date for sidewalk improvement on Pioneer.

Firm Will Abandon Sunken Freighter

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp. informed the Army Corps of Engineers Friday it intends to abandon its freighter Cedarville in the Straits of Mackinac where she sank May 7 with loss of 10 crewmen after a collision.

The Cedarville, a cement carrier out of Rogers City, and the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord collided in a fog. The Cedarville sank in 80 or 90 feet of water east of the Mackinac bridge. The Topdalsfjord stayed afloat.

To Teach Volunteers

Peace Corps Worker Home

Home again—after two wonderful years working as a volunteer for the Peace Corps in Senegal, West Africa—is Nancy G. Raymond of 3279 Winderott, Waterford Township.

Nancy is so enthusiastic about the Peace Corps and what it is doing for peoples of the world, that she will round out her service as an adviser on the staff of the University of Southern Illinois for the next 10 weeks.

Here she will assist in teaching other volunteer groups going to Senegal.

"A good way to give aid to underdeveloped countries is for young people to offer service to other peoples of the world. It is not so much a moral duty as plain practical sense," said Nancy.

"We are living in a world that is becoming smaller and smaller, due to faster means of transportation and communication. If we don't concern ourselves with the development of these small emerging nations, it will be to our detriment," she added.

Fifteen haired Nancy became interested in the Peace Corps while in Washington D.C. in 1963.

TRAINED IN KENTUCKY

A graduate of Alma College, she spent three months at Berea College in Kentucky where she received training in an English teaching project.

During her stay 14 students from the University of Dakar, West Africa, visited the college, and Nancy and her group were required to speak to them in French, the language used in Senegal, a new country on the coast of West Africa.

After flying to Dakar, a city the size of Grand Rapids, Nancy was stationed at Thies 42 miles inland. There were not enough teaching positions so she was placed in a clinic doing social service work, and helping native doctors.

Afternoons were spent teaching a sewing and knitting class for women in their early 20s.

"Medical missionaries and doctors are doing what they can to heal and cure diseases but it isn't enough. A program for preventing disease is so important," Nancy said.

Many missionaries in Thies are working with Wycliffe Translators in putting the Wolof dialect in written form. They interpret Christianity as they teach adults to read and write.

More than 80 per cent of the people in Senegal live in the bush country in huts of mud blocks and thatched roofs. Several generations may be found living together.

Most of the missionaries in Thies are doing translation work and interpreting Christianity as they teach adults to read and write.

Elementary education is provided for boys and girls in Thies. Some young people receive high school and normal school training under the French system. Senegal, a former French colony, received its independence from France in 1960.

The people are pleasant and courteous. The language is composed of one and two-syllable words.

When bidding someone goodbye cross hands and say djani, djani, meaning "go on your way with peace."

BRING GIFTS

Nancy brought many hand carved pieces of jewelry and ebony to her family.

Those who viewed the exhibition of items found in King Tutankhamon's tomb at the Detroit Institute of Arts two years ago will remember the intricate handwork on necklaces, rings and bracelets.

A croix d'agallace (cross) she brought her mother was equally as lovely. Nancy was wearing a bracelet carved from a sheep horn and inlaid with silver.

Nancy will enter Stanford University in the fall to study speech correction and the teaching of the deaf for a master's degree.

And what will Nancy do then?

"I want to be of service in helping families, perhaps here, perhaps I'll return to Africa," was her reply.

It was the late President John F. Kennedy when addressing a group of outgoing volunteers who said, "I hope that when you get back we can persuade you to come and serve in the United States Government in other areas, particularly the Foreign Service."

"I hope you will regard this as the first installment in a long life of service in the most exciting career in the most exciting time."

Father Kaiser Heads CCD

An innovation in parish organization known as the Christian Community Development (CCD) program is being tried at Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Rev. Lawrence H. Kaiser, coordinator of the program, appointed directors at the first board meeting Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keller have been named lay directors. Assistant lay directors are the Ari Hoovers.

With the aim of bringing the parish community closer together, three main committees were formed. They hope to actualize their goal through faith and communication on an individual level.

Committee directors include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobson, heading the adult formation committee; the Paul Shaughnessys, directing the school of religion committee; and the Robert Whistons with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weiss coordinating activities for the home visitor committee.

MEET FAMILIES

The home visitor committee will divide the parish so that each visitor will have a chance to become acquainted with 10 families in his area. Welcoming new parishioners, lending a helping hand, and bringing fuller church participation will be the goals sought by this group.

In addition, the adult group will seek to stimulate thinking, search into the meaning behind the recent changes in the Catholic Church, and to share ideas and experiences with other parishioners.

Contact with those of other faiths is planned for greater understanding.

The school of religion committee will experiment with revolutionary new teaching methods for students attending public schools. Their aim is to interest the student in learning and putting that learning into practice.

PLAYS KORAS — Entertaining her mother Mrs. Kenneth L. Raymond with the kora, a stringed instrument from Senegal, West Africa is daughter Nancy, who has just returned from serving there as a volunteer worker of the Peace Corps. The kora, similar to the mandolin, is made of a large gourd and covered with antelope hide. The Raymonds make their home at 3279 Winderott, Waterford Township.

Dedication of St. James Church Sunday

The new St. James Missionary Baptist Church, 345 Bagley will be dedicated at 3 p.m. tomorrow with Rev. T. H. Holt Jr., pastor of Greater Mt. Calvary, conducting the service.

Pastor Lewis received his education at State Normal in Montgomery, Ala., and Selma University where he studied theology. He was graduated in 1943. During his pastorate in Montgomery, he built the Bell Street and St. James Baptist churches.

Members first worshiped in Masonic Lodge Hall, 128 Western. Membership presently stands at 275.

Walls of the new sanctuary are of oak paneling. Floors are of holly tile. Aides and chancel area are carpeted in turquoise flecked with brown.

The large windows are in various shades of red, gold, blue and green. The nave will seat 375 persons with space for an additional 27 in the choir loft.

The new building also contains a pastor's study, trustee room, kitchen, class and rest rooms on the first floor.

France Won't Sell Back U.S. Skyraider Craft

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has tried in vain to buy back from France about 50 propeller-driven Skyraider fighter-bombers, a workhorse of the Korean war and still useful in Viet Nam.

The planes are no longer being manufactured, but many have been sold to France and other countries. State Department and Pentagon officials said Friday the French replied that they were all in use and none were for sale.

State GOP Refutes Link With Free Society Group

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's Republican State Central Committee charged Friday that representatives of former Sen. Barry Goldwater's Free Society are soliciting illegitimately for funds.

Mrs. Ely Peterson, committee chairman and former assistant to the national GOP chairman, issued a statement warning "all Michigan Republicans" against such solicitations.

Mrs. Peterson said the society is not a Republican organization "nor does it have anything to do with the Republican party in Michigan or nationally."

She said she made her statement after hearing "from several sources" that FSA representatives were "soliciting known Republicans for funds, implying that such donations are on behalf of or connected to the Republican party."

ANNOUNCEMENT

Goldwater, defeated GOP 1964 presidential candidate, recently announced the society's organization. He said at the time it was to be an educational group. National GOP chairman Ray Bliss criticized Goldwater's step, denouncing what he called formation of party splinter groups.

"Let me make it very clear,"

Area Cancer Drive Nets Over $15,000

The combined areas of the City of Pontiac and the townships of Waterford and Bloomfield contributed a total of $15,667 in the door-to-door drive for the American Cancer Society.

This was an increase over last year's total of $14,108 of last year, according to John D. Dingell, chairman. He attributed the added contributions to the increased number of volunteers contacting their neighbors.

Total raised by the drive in the Detroit area was $175,000 to date, an increase of $17,000 over last year, Dingell said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The No. 1 social problem in Washington today is: Who won the battle of the parties—the Ted Kennedy or Perle-Mesta?

Sen. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy threw a big event at their Georgetown home Friday night in honor of Sen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, observing their wedding anniversary.

At the same time, Mrs. Mesta, one of the capital's best known party-givers, staged one for Senate Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

The Senate probably never faced such a conflict of party interest. Some observers sized up the situation as a social showdown.

Mrs. Mesta gives an annual party for the Senate majority leader, and the date first was set for June 24. She said she didn't know about the Kennedy affair until this week.

Mansfield said the mixup occurred because the date of a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner was juggled from June 3 to June 24.

This developed about a month ago, he said, and when Mrs. Mesta then suggested switching dates for her party, he agreed.

In the end, the solution to the case of conflicting invitations seemed to be that some guests moonlighted and made both parties.

But even among the senators the question was: Who would draw a quorum? In Senate parlance, that means enough people to transact business.

WHO'S AHEAD

Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., stood outside the Kennedy home glancing up and down the streets for arrivals, and yelled: "Who's ahead? Perle or—?"

Television news commentator

Chet Huntley was among the guests at the Ted Kennedy home, where a huge marquee was raised in the garden. The matriarch of the clan, Rose Kennedy, arrived on the arm of George Stevens Jr., who filmed a movie about the late President John F. Kennedy for the U.S. Information Service.

Sargent Shriver, another of the New Frontier clan, chauffeured his wife, Eunice, in their limousine. Another Kennedy sister, Mrs. Stephen Smith, arrived with her husband.

And more senators: Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah; Sen. and Mrs. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.; Sen. and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio; Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio; Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore.; and her doctor husband; Sen. and Mrs. Vance Hartke, D-Ind.; and Sen. and Mrs. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

AT MESTA'S

At Mrs. Mesta's penthouse, where cocktails and dinner preceded late dancing, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D - Minn., and Mrs. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

and his wife, Abigail, would indulge in a bit of biparty-ship. They also would go to the Kennedy's.

Mrs. Mesta made it impossible to tabulate exactly who came and who didn't.

She told inquiring newsmen: "I never bother to keep anything so cumbersome as a list. I even forget sometimes whom I ask. I'll just wait and see who shows up."

Among those who did show at her penthouse were Sen. and Mrs. Jacob K. Javits, R-N. Y.;

Sen. and Mrs. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash.; and Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La.

WENT ELSEWHERE

The Magnasons accompanied the Mansfields later to you-know-where.

Late arrivals for the Kennedy affair included Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and Mrs. Katzenbach; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Mrs. McNamara; and the guests of honor, Sen. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, who arrived at 12:10 a.m.

Road in Park to Be Opposed

CADILLAC (AP)—Delegates representing the 60,000 members of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs voted Friday to oppose a suggested highway extension through the wilderness of the Porcupine Mountains State Park.

The controversial road-building measure earlier inspired Gov. George Romney to announce plans to take a hike through the 58,000-acre Upper Peninsula park to gather information about the proposal.

The State Conservation Department opposes the road, but a legislative bill would say the commission lacks authority to prohibit it.

Meanwhile, MUCC President O. Stewart Myers of Grand Rapids called Romney a "good conservation governor" in his address to the delegates.

Myers, however, differed with Romney's advocacy of naming the conservation director by appointment.

The convention warmly debated the merits of spear and hook and line fishing for muskellunge in Lake St. Clair. Muskies in the lake have been reduced in number but size in recent years.

E. M. Lalita, conservation commission chairman, warned of needs for Michigan's conservation future as open land diminishes. He said, "We must shoot at the future with 100- and 200-year powerscopes."

The MUCC called on Congress to approve the Sleeping Bear Dunes lakeshore park project.

PENNSYLVANIA MARRIAGE — Charles Dormer, 49, wealthy British executive, was married to the former Roslyne Rothchild, 16, of Rydal, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb, last May 4, but the marriage was kept secret. The girl's deceased father was a scrap metal dealer. Dormer is said to be worth $60 million.

Rich Britisher Weds Teen

LONDON (U) — Charles Dormer, a publicity-shy 49-year-old British trucking magnate, has sworn his employees to secrecy about his marriage to a 16-year-old American girl.

"We have all been told to say absolutely nothing," a member of his firm said today. "It must be kept very quiet, as Mr. Dormer does not want publicity can't say where he is just now or when he will be back."

Dormer, managing director of the huge Bain and Hodge transport group, married the former Roslyne Rothchild in Philadelphia City Hall May 4. The bride lived in the Philadelphia suburb of Rydal. The couple came to London after honeymooning in Rome and left Tuesday for Philadelphia.

The marriage was disclosed Friday by Judge Joseph E. Gold of Philadelphia Common Pleas Court, who performed the service. Gold said he was asked to marry the couple by the bride's mother, Helen Rothchild Blumberg, widow of a structural steel and scrap metal dealer.

COLD CASH

"I understand this fellow is worth about $60 million in cold cash," the judge said of Dormer.

Dormer's former wife, Elsie Dormer, said, "I have absolutely no comment to make." They were divorced in 1962 and have a son, William, 24, and two daughters, Rita, 16, and Josephine, 7.

A friend of dormer's said the magnate met his new wife in the Dorchester Hotel, a block from his London apartment.

"It was a whirlwind courtship and he flew to America at least twice to see her after she went back," the friend said. "I believe he bought her a $28,000 engagement ring."

Underwater Month Due for Astronaut

WASHINGTON (U) — Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, who once circled the earth in space, now is going to live under the sea.

Officials of the Sealab II research program said the astronaut and an unnamed companion will live for a month in a structure located off the coast of La Jolla, Calif., more than 100 feet beneath the ocean's surface.

They are expected to enter their 57-foot long steel house sometime in August. Most of their time will be spent inside, although Capt. Lewis B. Melson, project director, said the two will make some dives into a nearby canyon which drops off to about 350 feet.

Officials said Carpenter was chosen for the assignment "because he has had very intensive training in working in a hostile environment."

Leaves State for Reno

ANN ARBOR (U) — Dr. N. Edd Miller, president of the Ann Arbor Board of Education and University of Michigan administrative aide, left Friday to become chancellor of the University of Nevada at Reno.

WASHINGTON (U) — Mariner 4 has gone more than 303 million miles on its outward-bound journey to Mars. The space probe is expected to pass within 6,000 miles of the Red Planet on July 14. It is to take 21 pictures of Mars and radio them back to earth over a 19-day period.

Not every family can boast of a "pistol-packin' mama," but the Dean Coffin household on Indianwood Drive, Lake Orion can.

Professionally known as Winnie Coffin, Mrs. Coffin played the feature role of Mrs. Emma Brown, the town's culture-conscious dowager, on a recent "Bonanza" television program.

Mother of two sets of grown twin sons, Howard and Tristram and William and Fred, one daughter, Mrs. Cella Alderson, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Coffin is presently commuting between her Hollywood apartment and her gracious country manor.

"When my husband and I first came out to look at this house," said Mrs. Coffin, "it was early evening.

"The former owners showed us through and as we looked at the lake, wild geese flew into the sunset.

DINNERTIME
"Come on," I urged my husband, "I've got to get home and cook dinner for the family."

"What do you mean, get home," he answered, "we are home."

"And so we were."

Walking into the immense living room, Mrs. Coffin pointed to an undraped arched window.

"I picked out the drapery material, brought it home and promptly tucked it away in a closet.

"I couldn't bear to drape out the moon. It's so beautiful when it shines in at night."

"I put philodendron plants on either side of the window sill and I'm training the vines to frame the window. That way the moon can shine through."

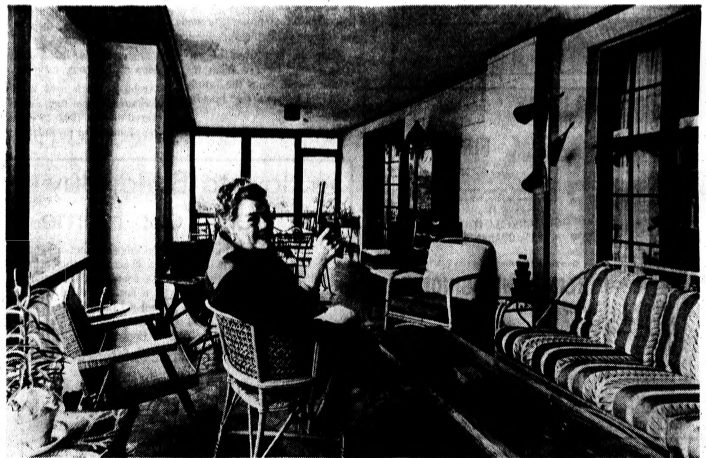

FIREPROOF LIBRARY
The nearby library is completely fireproofed. Its white metal ceiling depicts characters from Greek mythology.

Complementing the rich dark-stained oak paneling, with hand-carved accents, are draperies of green, blue and red on a natural linen background. The Flemish block print of the fabric presents a stained-glass effect.

A Prestige Edition of the Bruce Rogers World Bible stands open before one of the leaded glass windows.

"I gave it to my husband one year as a gift," said Mrs. Coffin. "Because it's so large you don't just pass it by. You stop and read."

Sofas flank either side of the outside fireplace for comfortable chatting, fire watching or quiet contemplation.

Two-Story House Utilizes Small Plot

The two-story house has maintained its popularity over the years because it provides more living space on a smaller plot. Among its other desirable qualities is the privacy afforded by having the bedrooms on the second floor.

It is important these days, however, that a two-story house have a modern look.

Care must be taken to avoid a too-vertical appearance. And there must also be the central arrangement which has caught the fancy of the public because it permits good traffic circulation.

In the latest House of the Week, architect Herman H. York has given us just such a home, with heavy emphasis on the kitchen and family room area at the rear.

RAISED LIVING ROOM

Incorporated in the plan, too, is a raised living room, two steps above the main floor level.

Since a four-bedroom house needs ample living, dining and washing facilities to handle a large family, care has been taken in planning the room layout to balance room areas with proper relationship to their uses.

The family room-Kitchen complex, totaling 36' in length, is conveniently located in relation to the rear dining and lounging terrace.

It also is positioned to avoid a direct view from the more formal living and dining areas at the front of the house.

Resilient flooring is recommended for the kitchen and the fireplace family room, carpeting for the living and dining rooms.

Design H-89 is no exception to the trend toward generous foyers for that all-important first impression.

The double front door, located in a covered entry, adds a touch of luxury in a dignified manner.

OPEN BALUSTRADE

The open balustrade stair railing adds to the spaciousness of the entrance hall and to the raised living room.

In selecting bluestone, ceramic tile or paving tile for the foyer floor, care must be taken to select a pattern in proper scale with the stair railing design.

The balance of the first floor includes all essential elements. The wash-up lavatory and toilet are near the kitchen and the garage.

The laundry is handy to the service area. A mud closet, broom closet and pantry round out a complete living unit.

Note the two ways of getting to the terrace from the house—one from the laundry room, one from the laundry room.

This makes it possible for

H-89 STATISTICS

Design H-89 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, laundry and foyer on the first floor, with 1076 square feet of habitable area. Four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor total 940 square feet. The garage has a storage area at the rear, with an entrance to the laundry and adjoining kitchen or an exit to the terrace. Overall dimensions are 55' by 27' 8". A basement plan is included.

NO UPRIGHT, THIS — The often-criticized upright appearance of some two-story homes has been bypassed in this pleasant, four-bedroom house by the creation of horizontal lines, achieved by roof overhangs and other design features.

Glazed Tile Won't Stain

Glazed ceramic tile is one of the few building materials that has a jewel-like surface.

It is this hard, fired-on glaze that makes glazed ceramic tile waterproof and impervious to staining.

One of the most colorful surface materials in modern home building, and long familiar as a bathroom surface, glazed tile is now found in many areas of the home.

Large Porch Disappears

A form of Americana fast fading from the scene is the porch that large wooden expanse that was popular when Victorian mansions were in vogue.

Owners of older homes in increasing numbers are converting that space in living quarters.

If you are cramped for space, it might pay to have an architect look at your home. He can give you professional advice on how you can best transform waste space, often found on a porch or patio, into a roomy family room or bedroom.

While you're at it, you may want to add a ceramic tile bath. To obtain top quality specify ceramic tile that is "quality certified" by the Tile Council of America to equal or exceed U.S. government standards.

Ceramic tile is ideal for bathrooms because it cannot be stained or scratched. And it now comes in over 250 decorative colors and shades, so that it can easily be matched or blended with any decor.

FLOOR PLANS — Rear kitchen-family room area, with two exits to the terrace, would be considered the focal point of this house by those favoring informal living; the dining and living rooms at the front can handle the formal entertaining.

He suggests the use of one color, plus white, to keep the exterior simple and restrained. Horizontal lines are achieved with the use of a cornice over the front entrance and adjacent living room.

Home Workshop Enthusiast Finds Drill Press a Help

By the time a home workshop enthusiast gets around to buying a drill press, he has had considerable experience with a portable electric drill.

This stands him in good stead in the operation of the stationary power tool.

Many of the basic rules governing the use of the drill press are the same as those which must be followed in handling the portable drill.

When the material can be brought to the machine, nothing equals the drill press for precision drilling.

In addition, the drill press has a surprising versatility, being capable of such other operations as mortising, routing, shaping, planing, sanding, grinding, sawing and polishing.

New attachments for this machine are constantly being introduced, enabling it to be used on virtually any type of material.

Old-Time
Radiators
Are Eyesore

Professional decorators tell us that a piece or two of Victorian or other period furnishings may be blended successfully with a contemporary theme.

Maybe so, but the advice sure doesn't apply to old-fashioned radiators that date back to guest parlor days. These antique heating units are an eyesore in any setting and should be replaced as one of the first steps in re-decorating a home.

Convectors are suggested as a highly satisfactory replacement for old-time radiators. The changeover can be made by a qualified heating contractor with a minimum of inconvenience to the home owner, since convectors are installed with the same piping connections used by the radiators.

Here's how a convector works. Supplied with hot boiler water, it draws air in a bottom opening, heats it and sends it out a top opening. Operating in this manner, convectors blanket outside walls and windows with warm air, shutting out cold and blocking drafts.

It has a definite advantage over other heating methods, since half of the heat provided is convected, half radiant—radiant being the sunshine-like variety that emits warm rays. Heating engineers consider such a convection-radiation balance ideal.

Neatness is another of the desirable features of modern convectors. The cabinet enclosure presents a smooth, attractive front, broken only by openings at the top and bottom. Painted to match room decor, they are a practical and efficient improvement over any "radiator relic."

Shelves Are Easy for Home Project

Too much optimism and enthusiasm have led many do-it-yourselfers into starting projects they are unable to finish. Often, it's because the projects take too long, aren't truly needed or require skills the average home handyman just doesn't possess.

But one of the quickest, simplest and most practical home improvements that seldom is abandoned is the installation of shelves to meet storage needs.

Wood shelves are usually chosen over metal, and the easiest way to install them is to put up standards and brackets to secure them in place. The brackets come in various sizes, to hold shelves up to 20 inches wide, and height is adjustable.

The project requires only a screwdriver, a hand drill and a saw, and a full 8-ft.-long wall of shelves from floor to ceiling can be installed in about two hours.

Before summer heat melts away your comfort, have a reputable cooling contractor install an efficient air conditioning system in your home.

Major Bugaboo*Cutting in Corners

A major bugaboo of amateur painters is the problem of painting a ceiling or wall one color and the other walls another color without overlapping colors at the corners where the two surfaces meet.

Here are some tips to "cut in" the second color:

• If a ceiling is involved, paint it first.

• Let the first surface dry well before starting the second surface. The corners are the last place to dry out, and if both colors are wet they will dissolve each other and blend together. If time is no great factor, the ideal situation is to let the first surface cure for 48 hours.

• Use a good quality 3-inch or 4-inch brush and load it with plenty of paint. It will be steadier and more effective than a small brush.

• Do not use pieces of cardboard or tin to protect the dry surface. Paint invariably will "sneak" under the material.

• If using latex paint, have a wet cloth or sponge handy and immediately wipe off any smears. If using an oil-based paint, have a clean cloth available and wet it with paint thinner. In either case, it is important to take just one light swipe. This method will remove enough of the newly-applied paint so that it won't show.

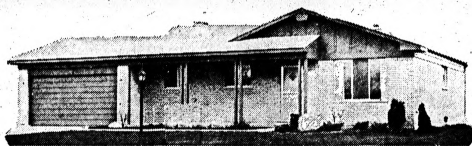

• If you have more time than confidence, use masking tape on the dried surface before attacking the other surface.

Use the best quality paint and follow all directions on the can. It will flow on better and wear longer than inferior brands without losing or changing color.

Whether you're in the market for a new refrigerator now, or are planning on replacing your old one at some future date, you'll enjoy having a new 16-page booklet called "What Should I Look for in My New Refrigerator."

This informative booklet, which is yours free for the asking, is authored by Helen Kirtland, director of General Electric's famous Consumer's Institute.

"How about operating cost?" "Can I trade in my old refrigerator?" "How do I know what size to get?" are just a few of the typical questions Miss Kirtland answers for today's buyers.

She also offers advice on what to look for in newest convenience features, and how to evaluate the dependability and durability of the refrigerator you select.

Ask your local appliance dealer for a copy of "What Should I Look for in My New Refrigerator", or send your name and address with your request to Miss Helen Kirtland, Consumer's Institute, Department 284-H, Appliance Park, Louisville, Kentucky.

Here's another bonus from home air conditioning: Since windows are kept closed, the house stays cleaner.

Move Plan Rules Out Drudgery

If you'll be moving into a new home soon, it will pay to take as much time making plans for getting settled in your new domicile as you do for moving out of your old one.

Careful planning, can cut out hours of unnecessary drudgery and give your home that comfortable "lived-in" look in a short time.

Why not try the following:

- Draw a floor plan of your new home, more or less to scale, and make a moving-in blueprint. If your new home is about the same size and shape as your old one, your problem is relatively simple. If you face a reshuffling of virtually everything, take time to work on your floor plan several days before moving.

- When you have a reasonably good idea where everything will go, tag or label each article as to its room location in the new home.

- Be on hand during the unloading to point out where the furniture is to be placed. Have your floor plan with you for reference. This will spare you hours of frustrating confusion trying to direct busy moving men and making on-the-spot decisions at the same time.

REARRANGING

- After your furniture and furnishings are in place, you may want to do some rearranging. This can be done gradually over a period of days. Remember, the mover is required to place everything only once.

- By knowing where everything is to go on moving day, you will also be spared the drudgery of lifting a lot of heavy furniture and the possibility of damaged backs or floors.

- If your mover packed you, he will also unpack you. Whoever unpacks, places all barrels and boxes in one room. You will find that the remainder of the house can be put in order soon after the move and unpacking will not be a house-wide problem.

OPTIMUM—Both the interior and the exterior of Beauty Rite Home, Inc. Optimum model reflect the Spanish influence. Found in the new Westridge-of-Waterford subdivision at 4177 Conne Mara, the three bedroom home features 44-feet of formal and informal living

LE GRANDE—Beauty Rite Homes, Inc. of 3526 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, introduce the LeGrande, a three bedroom ranch, at 4165 Conne Mara, Waterford Township. The model can be duplicated on your lot for $19,750. Located in Westridge-of-Waterford, it and three other furnished and landscaped models may be seen from noon until 8 p.m. daily.

Westridge-of-Waterford Features Four Models

Prospective home buyers will enjoy touring the new models constructed by Beauty Rite Homes, Inc. of 3526 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, in the recently opened development, Westridge-of-Waterford. All are furnished and landscaped in a fresh and colorful manner.

The subdivision is located west of Dixie Highway and north of the Williams Lake-Walton Boulevard intersection.

Exclusive sales agent is O'Neil Realty of 3520 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township.

Open daily from noon to 8 p.m., the homes feature electric kitchen by Frigidaire.

WIDE VARIETY

Beauty Rite has considered all tastes and budgets in the creation of these models which include a colonial, ranch, raised ranch and a Spanish H-house.

Elegant, the three bedroom colonial at 4141 Conne Mara, Waterford Township, gives a nod to the home handyman with a workshop off the ground floor utility room. The model may be duplicated on your lot for $24,750.

Adaptable to either traditional or contemporary oriented individuals, the Trieste raised ranch at 4153 Conne Mara, may be built on your lot for $24,750.

All models have two and one-half car garages for storage convenience of yard equipment as well as cars.

Paved streets and city water add urban conveniences to the suburban development.

Safety Hint for Painters

Floor paint, enamel, floor varnish, stain or shellac can be used to paint stairways.

For added safety, paint the risers white to define stepping areas.

In extremely dark areas, paint the first two or three inches of the tread white, using a darker shade for the risers to accent the stepping areas.

Paint Delay Is Expensive

If you wait too long to paint, you may be forced to make costly repairs. Wood that is not fully protected against the weather can rot away.

Tin, iron and steel will rust. If the surface has cracked and peeled, roughness will have to be removed before the new paint can be applied.

Paint does so much and costs so little that it's the wisest economy to renew the surface when all you need to do is dust it off and repaint it.

Summer Presents

Own Fire Hazard

Summer presents no less a fire hazard than any other season. Don't let the languor of warm weather dull your family into carelessness.

In checking your home periodically for overload electric outlets, rubbish in basement corners and matches accessible to children, consider remodeling floors and walls with ceramic tile, a material that is as fireproof as it is beautiful and easy to clean.

Approximately 225,000 Americans are so deaf that they cannot hear human speech, according to the National Health Education Committee, Inc. One of every 10 has some degree of hearing loss.

Two Ex-Champions Ousted in State Amateur Play

Special To The Pontiac Press
CHARLEVOIX — Pontiac's Mike Andonian was one of two ex-champions ousted yesterday in the first two rounds of match play in the 54th annual Michigan amateur golf championship.

Andonian, who defeated Bud Stevens of Western for the title here in 1962, fell to Chris Mel of Stanton, 1 up, in a second-round, five-time champion Glenn

Johnson of Grosse Ile joined Andonian on the sidelines after dropping a 2 and 1 decision to Ken Potok of Jackson in the first round.

Two area players who squeezed out victories yesterday were Tom Draper of Birmingham and Pete Green of Franklin. The two were scheduled to meet in the quarter-finals today.

The opening two rounds also featured a disagreement over the use of an illegal ball which eventually brought Charles West of Birmingham a victory.

ILLEGAL BALL
 Playing Jim Baske of Benton Harbor in a first-round match, West called Baske for using a ball that recently was ruled illegal by the United States Golf Association.

Tournament officials ruled that Baske had disqualified himself by using the ball. West's move came on the 18th hole of the match all even.

Baske, who shared the first round qualifying lead with Draper with a 70, asserted many of the golfers had used illegal balls the first two days during qualifying rounds on the Belevedere Country Club course.

Tourney officials said they became aware, after a number of golfers had finished their rounds that some were using the jugged-up balls. But, they said, it would have been difficult to penalize the golfers who were on the course or who had not yet left off for using the balls.

Draper had little trouble disposing of Terry Noble of Roseville, 2 and 1 in the morning match, and he came back with a 3 and 2 verdict over Jerry Lefer of Jackson in the afternoon.

BREEZES BY

Green breezed past Ben Smith of Detroit, 6 and 5, and dumped Dick Norton of Grand Rapids in the second session, 2 and 1.

Stevens advanced to the third round against Jim Gittleman of Alma, who eliminated Robert Neller of East Lansing, 8 and 7. Gittleman's victory was one of the most lopsided of the day.

Medalist Bud Reniger of Lansing advanced to the third round after winning in 20 holes over Phil Marston of Jackson.

Reniger won the match with a par on the second extra hole.

The eight survivors from this move into the quarterfinals this afternoon. The final two rounds will be played Sunday.

Resting Tiresome for Texan Matson

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Randy Matson, the talented Texas A&M weightlifter, finds resting is the worst thing he can do.

He lost 12 pounds doing it and now finds he's going to have trouble getting into shape for the U.S.-Russian meet July 31.

That is, if he gets into that meet in spite of the NCAA-AAU track feud. He thinks he has an excellent chance but won't know for sure until the National Track and Field Committee rules on an application he made Friday.

Matson didn't complete in the NCAA and the AAU meets because of a legament strain in his left knee. The U.S. team is supposed to come from the AAU meet but Matson couldn't compete in it anyway because of the feud.

TIGER IN THE DIRT — Detroit's Don Wert hits the dirt and hangs onto his bat after jumping away from an inside pitch tossed by Minnesota's pitcher Dave Boswell.

Aaron Leads With 133

Arnie's Army Marching in St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — That pounding noise behind Tommy Aaron, halfway leader in the St. Paul Open, is a familiar sound to the 28-year-old golfing professional from Gainesville, Fla.

It's the Arnold Palmer-led pack waiting for Aaron to falter again.

He's slumped twice on this year's pro tour after holding the halfway lead in a major tournament. The result — Aaron still is looking for his first victory on the pro tour.

JUMPS AHEAD

Aaron jumped ahead in the $100,000 St. Paul tourney Friday with a five-under-par 66 that gave him the 36-hole lead at 133, nine under-par. Palmer and five others were two strokes back going into today's third round.

Palmer missed a four-foot eagle putt on the 12th hole and had to settle for a bogey on the 18th after hitting a trap. That

RELATIONS STRAINED

Clifford Buck, president of the AAU, said today he anticipated no improvement over relations with the national collegiate body and the AAU championships would go on as anticipated tonight and Sunday.

The schedule, following morning preliminaries, was set to get under way at 8 p.m., EST, in Baboosa Stadium. The meet winds up Sunday starting at 8 p.m., EST.

Tonight's schedule includes the 120-yard high hurdles, the three mile run and the discus throw.

Schoolboy Richmond Flowers Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., who upset the veterans in the hurdles recently at Modesto, Calif., meets much the same opposition in Baline Lindgren, Willie Davinport, Don Shy and Paul Jones.

CLOSE RACE

The three mile race promised an interesting contest between New Zealand's Neville Scott; Bob Schul, the U.S. 5,000 meter winner in the 1964 Olympics; and Ron Larrieu.

Ludvik Danecek of Czechoslovakia is favored in the discus and could better this world record of 211-9.

Jumpers Enter to Take Bows

The Fort Riley Classic, premier jumping event of the Detroit Horse Show at the Bloomfield Open Hunt, is named after a Kansas Army cavalry post, but it may have a definite Minnesota-Virginia accent tonight.

Three leading candidates for the Frances Hopkins Duffy Memorial Trophy and $1,000 first prize are the excellent jumpers owned by the Patrick Butlers of St. Paul.

Untouchable, which won the Chairman's Trophy jump last night; Fire One and That's Right, both of which have made impressive showings earlier this week; all are ridden by 1964 Olympic team member Kathy Kusner of Upperville, Va.

None completed in last year's inaugural Classic, which was won by the Imp, ridden by New Yorker Neil Shapiro, another Olympian.

Yesterday, Bloomfield Hills Katie Monahan and Crys Jones, and Meg Woodington of Orionville all gained important laurels.

Miss Monahan won the Skip Couzens Perpetual Memorial Trophy with her horse Tina, a working hunter, and the Tally-Ho Club Combined Events Trophy for equitation event efforts.

Miss Jones won the Oakland Trophy, also for equitation points, and the BOH Equitation High-Score Trophy for All-Round Excellence in horsemanship.

Derby Favorite Wins

DUBLIN, Ire.—Meadow Court the favorite carrying the silks of Max Bell of Vancouver, Canada, staved off the stretch bid of Convamore today and won the Irish derby. Wedding President was third in the field of 21 3-year-olds.

Indians' Tall Sam McDowell Some 'Feller' as Moundsman

By United Press International
 Sam McDowell stands six feet, five inches tall and sets his goals as high as he sets his baseball cap.

Ever since he began pitching high school ball back in Pittsburgh, the gangly Cleveland southpaw has had only one idol and one set of goals. The idol is Bob Feller, who first met Sam when he was 14, and the goals are "to break Bob Feller's records — all of 'em."

And at least in one respect, Sam is right on target.

The 22-year-old McDowell who received approximately $75,000 to sign with the Tribe in 1960, has struck out 17 batters in only 105 innings this year after

Tigers' Wickersham Gives One Away

Twins Winners After Two Out in 9th Inning
 3 Walks, 2 Safeties
 Turn 3-2 Conquest
 Into 4-3 Beating

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pitcher Dave Wickersham of the Detroit Tigers likely will be haunted for days to come by his memory of the night of June 25.

The Minnesota Twins, breaking their Wickersham Jinx, won the series opener 4-3 and ruined an apparent victory for the Tiger right-hander with two runs in the ninth inning.

Wickersham, who up to then had allowed only three hits, appeared to have the game in the bag with two out in the ninth and a 3-2 lead when Al Kaline and Don Lemeter contributed home runs.

Then Wickersham walked two men in a row, opening the door to calamity.

PULPS PITCHER
 Manager Charles Dressen yanked Wickersham. Reliever Fred Gladding permitted two singles and the two runs scored.

The "rally" dropped the Tigers to three games off the leaders' pace.

Wickersham's expensive ninth inning walks — his second and third of the game — went to Harmon Killebrew and Don Mincher. The two prior batters had flied out.

Bernie Allen greeted Gladding with a single in the seventh. Grant, pinch-runner for Killebrew, with the tying run.

PALK ROLLINS
 Walk-hitter Rich Rollins was walked purposely, and then pinch-hitter Joe Nosske hit a soft roller to the right of the mound, sending Mincher home with the winning run.

Demeter hit his fourth homer in the fifth, breaking a 1-1 tie, and drove home Detroit's third run with a bases-full infield single in the sixth.

Mincher slugged a 450-foot homer in the seventh to pull the Twins even.

Giants Triumph 4-1 as Hurler Shaw Puzzles Phillies

By The Associated Press
Bob Shaw's wife probably has another silly question for her husband.

Like why does a 31-year-old pitcher find himself accused of sticking his fingers in his mouth?

Mrs. Shaw, who married the San Francisco pitcher two years ago, said Friday morning that she knew it was love when "I asked silly questions and he didn't laugh."

And Mrs. Shaw may still be a little puzzled by what happened Friday night while Shaw was pitching a one-hitter — allowing only a second inning homer by Wes Covington — and the Giants were beating Philadelphia 4-1.

Pro Grid Tryout Session Slated for Area Players

Local players interested in trying to win a job with the Pontiac Arrows, a pro football team in the Midwestern Professional Football League, will get a chance to show off their talent before coach Lyle Wells Monday evening.

Wells will hold a tryout session on the ball field at the corner of Pontiac Lake and Cass Lake Roads at 7 p.m.

Players should report ready to run, equipped with football shoes and sweat clothes.

Further information concerning the tryout may be obtained by calling Park Parks at FE 5-4201.

French Runner Finds Help in Record Acts

PARIS (UPI) — Michel Jazy of France, who usually breaks records on his own, has added a trio to his act and a number of world relay marks now appear in danger.

Jazy, whose phenomenal hot streak has carried him to three individual world records during the month of June, ran a blistering 3:40.2 leg Friday night to push the French national team to a new world standard of 14 minutes, 49 seconds in the 6,000 meter run.

2 Draftees Sign Pacts

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers Friday signed draft choices Tom Hamm of St. Cloud, Minn., an outfielder, and Bob Felber of Baltimore, an infielder.

Friday's Fights — MELBOURNE, Australia — Lionel Rose, Australian, defended Singing Per Tor, Thailand, 12 (featherweights).

PHILADELPHIA — Stanley Hayward, 151, Philadelphia, stopped Vince Somo, 150½, New York, 2.

Well, Mrs. Shaw, hubby was accused of mistaking the baseball in order to throw a spitball.

He was accused so often by the Phillies, and so vehemently, that he wound up playing catch with the umpires throughout the game. Bob had to surrender the ball 11 times to plate umpire Chris Christakos and two times to the base umpires for inspection.

While Shaw was posting his seventh victory, Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles and Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati became the National League's first 12-game winners as the Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 4-1 and the Reds edged Milwaukee 3-1 in 11 innings.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs pounded St. Louis 12-4 and Houston downed the New York Mets 6-2.

TIGHT GAME

Shaw, now 7-3, never allowed more than one Philadelphia base runner at any one time and Covington was the only one to get past first base. He tagged a long drive over the right field fence in the second inning for his 11th homer.

The Giants, however, had taken the lead with two first inning runs off Bo Belinsky on a single by Jim Davenport, Jesus Alou's double and Cap Peterson's single. Jim Hart doubled in the final two runs in the fifth.

Koufax, striking out 12 while bringing his record to 12-3 with his sixth consecutive triumph, also singled home the tie-breaking run in the fourth inning after John Roseboro walked and Lou Johnson was hit by a Bob Friend pitch.

Ellis, also 12-3, checked the Braves on eight hits through the 11-inning game. Batterymate Don Pavletich provided the decisive runs with a two-run homer off Billy O'Dell.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Recent scientific findings seem to confirm the old folk idea that the phases of the moon affect our weather.

A 10-ounce radio transmitter with a range of 100 miles can be used in rescue work or in the recovery of space capsules.

Reflections

SECURITY OR OPPORTUNITY. We have the term "Security" under many situations; a youth seeks Security in a job, the elderly seeks Security in a Welfare Program; that Security is an illusion, a mirage on the sea of economics. Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, "There is no security on this earth. There is opportunity."

College students sprawled on stairs and floor were forcibly ejected; they chose a form of security while opportunity surrounded them. Men and women marched to demand Security, opportunity was everywhere they looked. Their compatriots have gained recognition and a place in the sun by seeking opportunity, reaching it, holding it and making the most of it.

City government reaches an apex of service when it seeks an opportunity to better serve the citizens. Public schools provide opportunity for every pupil — if he or she wants an education.

Guest Is Hurt as 10 Youths Crash Party

DETROIT (UPI)—Ten youths invaded a private party with tire irons, jacks and clubs Friday night, injuring one of the guests before police arrived to disperse them.

About 20 men were at the bachelor dinner party at the North Dom Polski Association when 10 youths burst into the hall and started downstairs to the party. Most of them carried clubs and other blunt instruments.

Michael Nowak, 20, Warren, one of those attending the party, said he and a companion met the youths on the stairs and ordered them to leave. All but three left.

The three remaining hid in the men's room. When Nowak and Gary Mooneyham, 10, Warren, entered the room, they were attacked by the youths swinging clubs and jacks.

Nowak suffered a head cut and later was treated at Memorial Hospital.

By this time, a group of about 40 youths had gathered outside. They shouted to those attending the party, daring them to come out.

Police arrived and broke up the gathering. They arrested four of the youths on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Four juveniles also were taken into custody and later released to their parents.

Waterford's Cray Junior High student Pat Yingling of 1145 Boston, and two of her friends were impressed with the therapy and training at the society while visiting Miss Yingling's brother, a patient.

Their interest brought about a return visit, in the form of three assemblies, from Society patients and workers.

A spontaneous fund-raising project among the students netted $431.69.

Much of the money was raised by selling 20-cent licenses which allowed students to wear Bermuda shorts to school for one day.

U.S. Contribution to U.N. Seen Despite LBJ Silence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western diplomatic sources said today the United States would make a substantial financial contribution to the United Nations soon despite the failure of President Johnson to announce it at the U.N.'s 20th anniversary meeting.

Many diplomats expressed disappointment that the President did not deal with the fiscal crisis in his speech yesterday, but one diplomat familiar with the U.S. position said the omission was not significant.

He said it was simply a case of deciding this was not the time nor place to deal with the issue.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, scheduled to wind up the two-day commemorative session today, was reported ready to emphasize that the United States was eager to end the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the United Nations.

Informed sources said, however, that he, like the President, would avoid any announcement of a voluntary contribution and also would steer away from any back-drawn on the enforcement of Article 19 of the U.N. Charter.

This article provides that members two years in arrears in paying assessments will lose their vote in the General Assembly.

The United States was understood to have decided to make a big contribution to the newly created solvent fund and that the action would not be conditional on any similar contribution by the Soviet Union.

SUBSTANTIAL SUM
The Russians have promised to give a substantial sum but only after the no-vote truce in the assembly is ended and normal voting is resumed.

President Johnson discussed the problem with U.S. Secretary General U Thant in their long private meeting yesterday, but informed sources said there was no definite commitment.

Among those who spoke publicly in criticism of the President's silence on the financial issue were several Soviet bloc countries. They said this was the most important issue facing the United Nations and it was disappointing that Johnson did not deal with it.

The President said that keeping the peace is the world's most urgent problem.

The federal law prohibiting such color reproductions carries a possible criminal penalty of 15 years in prison, a $5,000 fine, or both. It's the Secret Service's job to enforce this law.

"We'll necessarily have to do something about this," the Secret Service man — a high-ranking official who asked not to be identified — told a reporter whose query had led him to buy the book and study the dust jacket.

CHILLING STORY
Had he looked inside, he would have found a chilling story of a heart attack scare for Lyndon B. Johnson — then vice president — while Day was visiting the Johnson ranch in June 1963.

And he would have read about an outburst of the Johnson temper when some aide forgot to load his newly purchased foam rubber water-skiing outfit aboard the vice presidential plane.

But the Secret Service was more interested, for the moment, in the jacket of the $3.95 book, which is already on the counters of Washington bookstores although the official publication date is July 5.

Teamsters End Strike in Philly

Vote Ends Walkout That Crippled City

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Striking Teamsters voted today an immediate end of their six-day wildcat strike that crippled delivery of food, drugs and other general merchandise in the nation's fourth largest city.

Approximately 5,000 of the 13,000 member Local 107 of the Teamsters Union approved by voice vote a recommendation of their leaders that they return to work. There were some scattered shouts of "No!"

Local 107 is the fifth largest unit of the Teamsters Union, headed by President James R. Hoffa.

The men were summoned to the general meeting in Convention Hall after Judge Leo Winrot yesterday cited 17 of the local's leaders for contempt of court for disobeying an injunction ordering the strikers to return to work hours after the walkout began last Monday.

If the men had turned down the return to work, plea of their officers it would have cost the union a fine of $35,000 a day, and each of its leaders $1,500 daily.

HOLIDAY OVER
Michael Hession, the local's secretary treasurer, told the men, "I have to declare the holiday is over and everybody go back to work immediately."

There was some boos and scattered shouts of "No, no!" Then one voice from the rear asked, "You mean it Mike?"

Hession shouted, "Yes, I mean it!"

The walkout was started by the local in support of four plant workers fired by Roadway Express, Inc. The Teamsters demanded that the four men be rehired.

NOT ON JOBS
Hession said today, however, that the strike must end without the four Roadway Express workers getting back their jobs.

Then, local President Edward Battistore took over the meeting and asked for a vote on the question of ending "the holiday."

He asked for yeas and nays, and then pounded the gavel and announced "The yeas have it."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said today it knows of no medium range ground-to-ground nuclear missile sites being built in Communist North Viet Nam.

A copyright news story by Edward W. O'Brien, chief Washington correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, said U.S. authorities have evidence of construction of sites in North Viet Nam for Russian 1,200-mile range nuclear missiles.

Seek Clues to Crash of Transport

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — Air Force investigators concentrated today on learning the cause of the crash of a big jet transport plane that took 84 lives, including 72 Okinawa-bound Marines.

The four-engine C135 broke into flaming fragments after it smashed into cactus and brush-covered terrain yesterday less than 100 feet from the top of Loma Ridge. It went down in fog and drizzle about a minute after takeoff at 1:44 a.m. from the El Toro Marine Air Station.

The Military Air Transport Service plane, a military version of Boeing's 707, carried a 12-man Air Force crew from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J. The plane was destined for Honolulu.

The 72 Marines aboard, who came from all parts of the country, had been processed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., as replacements to the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. Okinawa is a staging area for troop movements to Viet Nam.

Crash of the transport plane turned the greenish-brown hillside into a mile-square area of fiery devastation. It looked as though the litter had been fired from a giant shotgun.

HUNDREDS HELP
It made hundreds of Marines ill when they visited the scene to remove the bodies and parts of bodies. Hundreds of them swarmed over the rolling hills to help with the recovery mission or fight the many small grass fires ignited by burning wreckage.

The land, which borders the air station, is part of the historic 35,000-acre Irvine Ranch. The property dates back to the days of the old Spanish land grants.

The searchers grooped through swirling fog and smoke. Finding a body, they drove a stake into the ground to guide litter bearers to the spot.

Radar Chief Warren Officer John Andre, a helicopter search pilot, was the first to locate the wreckage.

SAW LIGHTS
Andre, 46, told newsmen: "This is the worst air disaster I've covered in 24 years of service, including Korea and World War II."

Showers Predicted to End Dry Spell

Farmers and gardeners will welcome the showers or thunderstorms predicted for later tomorrow.

The weatherman reports tonight will be generally fair and warmer, the low 50s to 64. Temperatures are expected to climb into the high 80s tomorrow.

A breezy 52 was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 75.

The article said the sites are being constructed in the Hanoi area, about 100 miles from the Chinese border.

The newspaper said that the area "has already been heavily armed with Russian IL28 jet bombers, MIG fighters and ground-to-air missiles."

NEW ELEMENT
The report, if confirmed, would introduce a new element into the possible expansion of Viet Nam fighting. Previous reports of missile site installations have dealt with preparation for ground-to-air missiles for anti-aircraft defense, rather

The newspaper did not identify the United States authorities it said had the evidence.

SCATTERED WRECKAGE — Air Force men check the wreckage of a transport plane that crashed near El Toro, Calif., yesterday, killing 84 servicemen. The plane hit the ridge in the background and debris was scattered over acres of land.

Tragedy Toll Includes City, Area Marines

Marine Pfc. Ronald R. Richert, 18, son of Mrs. L. C. Richert, 44 Thorpe, was among those who lost their lives yesterday in the California crash of an Air Force jet transport.

Killed in the same accident was Cpl. George E. College, husband of Betty J. College, 4180 Mavara, Davisburg.

Pfc. Richert had graduated from supply corps school and reported for duty at Camp Pendleton, Calif., last Monday after a month's leave at home.

His main interest was in electronics and mechanics, and he joined the Marines hoping to expand his education in those fields.

Also surviving are three brothers and three sisters. Robert, the older brother, is married and lives in Auburn Heights.

His sisters, Peggy, Joanne and Phyllis, live at home as do the other two brothers, Robin and Richard.

A native of Pontiac, he attended Pontiac Central High School but graduated in Monroe, La., where he was staying with an aunt.

Gromyko Keeps Silent on Algeria Opinion

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko declined today to disclose the Soviet opinion of the new government in Algeria.

Iranian correspondents accompanying the visiting Shah of Iran asked Gromyko at a Kremlin reception what the Soviet Union thought of Col. Houari Boumedienne's Revolutionary Council. He said he had no comment.

N. Viets With N-Missiles?

In answer to a question about this, a Pentagon spokesman said:

"There is no evidence of any surface-to-surface missile sites in North Viet Nam."

LAUNCH SITES
"The report may have been confused with the construction of launch sites for surface-to-air antiaircraft missiles near Hanoi."

Construction of antiaircraft missile sites had been disclosed last month.

The newspaper did not identify the United States authorities it said had the evidence.

Step-Up Urged in Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan called today for a naval blockade of North Viet Nam and "a mighty U.S. military air offensive" against Communist strength in both North and South Viet Nam.

Ford said in a statement the Johnson administration should unleash devastating air and sea power against all significant military targets in North Viet Nam.

He recommended that President Johnson "harden the U.S. attitude toward North Viet Nam, including full-scale air attacks on all significant Viet Cong military targets and a naval quarantine to cut off delivery of arms and supplies by sea."

Ford said the execution this week of Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, the threat to kill more prisoners, the reign of terror against innocent victims in South Viet Nam and the constant rebuffing of peace attempts revealed the Communist intention for conquest without regard for human life.

The overhaul fits more than 140 state agencies, boards, commissions and departments into a framework of 19 major departments. It prohibits outside employment for any department head.

The compromise, worked out this week among the House, Senate and Gov. George Romney's office won 97-0 approval in the House and 31-3 approval in the Senate.

Romney indicated he would sign the bill, Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, chairman of a House committee that worked on the plan, said the governor "has made a commitment to sign it."

The bill gives the governor authority to appoint heads of all but three of the departments.

3 DEPARTMENTS
The three departments, each of which is headed by an elected official or board, are the attorney general's office, secretary of state's office and department of education.

The bill establishes a separate department of civil rights — headed by the constitutionally created Civil Rights Commission.

The bill is a combination of earlier proposals — chiefly the rival plans backed by Romney and the House Committee on Constitutional Implementation, headed by O'Brien.

Pontiac Motor Worker Gets $6,000 for Idea viet-built IL28 medium jet bombers had been sighted in North Vietnam.

There was no indication whether their pilots were Russian, Red Chinese or North Vietnamese.

A Defense Department spokesman noted that Communist China had received about 200 of the bombers before the Russian-Red China breach developed.

The IL28 is generally considered an obsolescent plane, but the Russians still maintain that model in their tactical air force.

The plane has a range of up to 1,500 miles, which means it could reach all but the southernmost portion of South Vietnam and return to bases in the Hanoi area.

Dominicans Battle as Peace Talks Go On

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Political tensions in San Francisco de Macoris exploded with sudden fury Friday and at least 16 persons were reported killed in clashes between armed rebels and junta forces.

A four-man team of the Organization of American States said most of the casualties occurred when armed rebel partisans attacked the San Francisco power plant at about dawn. The team picked from the inter-American peace force reported after returning from a quick helicopter trip to the city 60 miles northwest of Santo Domingo.

Twelve rebels and four members of the Dominican armed forces or police loyal to the junta were killed, OAS sources said.

A junta communique said eight rebels were killed and 30 captured in three attacks on military police and army installations. It said one junta defender was wounded.

CITY IS QUIET
By nightfall San Francisco was described as quiet by the OAS investigators and the junta but reports conflicted on the situation in the interior city long regarded as a rebel hotbed.

There was an unconfirmed report that the junta had sent 400 reinforcements to San Francisco.

The Inter-American Human Rights Commission planned to go to San Francisco today to investigate.

Rebel sources said their supporters took refuge in thickly wooded hills near San Francisco, the country's third largest city with a population of 60,000.

NAMES ATTACKERS

The junta charged that the attackers included persons regarded as members of "pro-Communist factions." The outbreak came the junta said, just as OAS peace efforts appeared to be making some progress in ending the conflict.

"You may say that Holt-Rinehard and Winston, Inc., is interested but has no further comment," said Arthur Cohen, an official of the publishing firm, in New York.

The Secret Service's published guidelines to photographers says, "Colored illustrations of U.S. postage stamps, whether or not canceled or denominated, are prohibited." The stamps on the dust jacket are "canceled" with gray, wavy lines.

Day was postmaster general under President John F. Kennedy from 1961 through August 1963. His book is a generally light-hearted, anecdotal memoir.

SOBER PASSAGE
But in a sober vein, Day relates that he was visiting the LBJ Ranch over the 1963 Fourth of July weekend. The two men were returning from horse races at the Fredericksburg County Fair.

"During the drive back with the vice president from that hot, close country fair grandstand, with a Secret Service man at the wheel, I had one of the most chilling moments of my life.

"As we drove along, LBJ suddenly said to the driver: 'Quick, turn up the air-conditioning. I feel like I can't get any oxygen. I feel just like I did before I had my heart attack.'

"I remembered to my horror that Lyndon Johnson had had his 1955 heart attack while riding in a car... but when the air came on strong, he was all right again. It was just an attack of indigestion."

FBI Hunts for Absent Mob Figure

CHICAGO (UPI) — Federal agents searched today for Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, the first mobster to duck a grand jury investigation which put the crime syndicate's reputed boss behind bars.

Humphreys, who reportedly ruled the syndicate following the reign of Al (Scarface) Capone, failed to appear before the federal grand jury yesterday despite a subpoena.

FBI agents today watched Humphreys' ritzy apartment high in Chicago's prestigious Marina City and his $350,000 mansion at Key Biscayne, Fla., where the aging mob mogul goes by the name of Lewie Hart. Mr. Hart tells his neighbors he is a retired oil man.

Humphreys, 66, is reputed to be the crime syndicate's top "fixer" with police, courts and lawmakers. His high school education, urbane demeanor and command of the English language have earned him a scholarly reputation among his peers and colleagues.

It appears the demand for low-cost public housing in Pontiac is not going to abate without some attention.

However, any attention may pose a legal problem for city officials.

Last month, city commissioners were confronted with a plea for low-cost public housing from a contingent of union leaders, senior citizen representatives and Negro spokesmen.

The commission took the matter for discussion at one of its informal meetings. This is where the problem begins. Technically, no city official or employee can do anything at all to encourage more public housing here. A city ordinance forbids it.

Cong Start Big Offensive, Overrun Town, Viet Post

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Nam forces overran a district town and a battalion command post in separate attacks today. It was their first major offensive since the battle of Dong Xoai two weeks ago.

Military spokesmen said 44 Vietnamese infantrymen were killed and another 40 wounded at the command post near Duc Hoa, 20 miles west of Saigon. Viet Cong dead were given as 34.

The Viet Cong overran the district town of Tou Marong, 45 miles north of Kontum, near the Laotian border. Spokesmen said radio contact was lost with the town's 200 defenders.

Fighter-bombers were not able to get to the region because of a low cloud ceiling in the central highlands region, the spokesmen said.

FIVE MARINES DROWN
Five U.S. Marines drowned today, when the M48 tank in which they were riding plunged into a 12-foot hole in a stream, a U.S. Marine spokesman announced. Three other Marines in the tank escaped, he said.

An explosion ripped through a crowded truckload of Australian and American soldiers today, killing one American and two Australians and wounding 10 other Australians, a military spokesman reported.

He said the explosion at Bien Hoa air base was believed to have been accidental, possibly from a grenade.

The new fighting and mishaps came a day after terrorist bombs blasted a crowded food restaurant in Saigon and after the Viet Cong executed an American prisoner.

BLAST FIGURES
Latest casualty figures from the restaurant blast were 42 killed and about 80 wounded, U.S. officials said. The dead included 12 Americans, they said. The executed American was in the county state or federal government's...

This would appear to clamp a silence on official discussion. However, the demand persists.

DEMAND EXISTS
The demand for public housing exists in the midst of an obvious boom in apartment and rental living. Multiple housing units are springing up not only in the city, but across the country.

In addition to the recently completed Pontiac Townhouse project on East Pike, there are several other developments pending.

A townhouse project similar to the one on Pike is planned to land across from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, a higher-cost development is projected for nearby land and still a third apartment project is planned for the corner of Square Lake Road and Opdyke.

While supporting the trend toward apartment living, these projects do not meet the demand for low-cost housing for the elderly or low-income group.

Public housing is the only answer, according to housing proponents.

Trapped by fixed incomes that may start as low as $55 per month, senior citizens are in drastic need of low-cost housing, according to the Pontiac Public Housing Commission.

SENIOR CITIZENS
According to 1960 census data, Pontiac has 9,971 senior citizens. An estimated 1,833 of these are living in rented housing.

Teachers Participate in Kindergarten Confab

BIRMINGHAM — Fifteen kindergarten teachers, three remedial teachers and two elementary counselors completed a one-week kindergarten workshop yesterday at Westchester Elementary School.

The workshop was designed to help kindergarten teachers learn more about the methods used to evaluate mental development, emotional growth and physical maturation of kindergarten children.

Directly related to the Academically Able Program, the workshop was designed to help teachers do a more effective job of identifying individual differences and to recognize vibrations in learning patterns.

A group of children who will be entering kindergarten this fall attended the programs in the mornings.

The sessions include normal kindergarten activities and some individual testing.

DEMONSTRATE METHODS
Dr. Molloy, public schools psychologist, and Mrs. Naomi Erdmann, reading consultant, demonstrated methods which the teachers will use.

Afternoons were spent discussing and evaluating methods used during the morning sessions.

A number of elementary principals also observed the workshop.

Frederick Marriott, 6040 E. Dartmouth, West Bloomfield Township, will present a carillon concert at 4 p.m. July 4 at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Marriott is organist-choirmaster at Detroit's Central Methodist Church.

Dr. John Blackhall Smith, superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools, will accept the 1965 RAPS Jurors.

He also criticized the jurors who accepted Hubbard's hospitality. The steaks and drinks cost Hubbard a reported $300.

"For jurors to accept any reward, whether a steak dinner or something of more substantial value, has a tendency to undermine public confidence in the impartiality of justice," Levin said.

Hubbard termed Levin's statement "an expression of prejudice."

The partly, 62-year-old suburban mayor said that Levin should disqualify himself from a $250,000 damage suit that pends against Hubbard.

The suit has been brought by Giuseppe Stanzione, the government's chief witness in the civil rights case. Stanzione, 29-year-old cement contractor, has sued in connection with a disturbance at his home on Labor Day, 1963.

The same incident was the basis of the civil rights case. The government charged Hubbard and two Dearborn police officers with depriving Stanzione of a citizen's rights to protection by the law. Stanzione said a mob appeared at his Dearborn home in the mistaken belief he was renting to a Negro.

The jury acquitted all defendants, and the happy Hubbard was over state aid to community mental health programs.

HELD OUT
The House held out for an increase from 38 per cent to 75 per cent, saying this would induce more communities to begin such programs.

The county, as a whole, has 42,000 retired citizens.

R. Clayton Jones, housing commission aide, said that many senior citizens, who rent, need some sort of welfare subsidy to cover a portion of their rent if they live in the general community.

In addition to meeting the needs of senior citizens, public housing must answer still another problem, said Jones.

LARGE FAMILIES
Public facilities are needed for the large family that must have a four- or five-bedroom place to live.

"We can't fill large family requests," said the housing official.

Pontiac has only one public housing project and a city ordinance against any more. There are 430 units in Lakeside Homes, 355 Branch.

An estimated 70 senior citizens are housed there. The project has 30 four-bedroom and 10 five-bedroom units.

Nevertheless, support has been indicated for low-cost public housing for the elderly and low-income groups. Establishing such housing remains an uphill battle.

DEAR ABBY: Our pastor said in a sermon recently that the white wedding gown and veil should be denied the unchaste bride.

ABBY

I know he felt compelled to preach a sermon on this topic because he has been put in the embarrassing position lately of having to baptize the babies of "brides" whom he had married in white bridal costumes only five and six months earlier.

He said that our young people should know that there are penalties for unchastity and rewards for purity.

I would like to ask if this applies only to women. How about the men? Should we not expect them to be chaste as well? And what should the penalty be for a man if he is not?

We hear so much about the "fallen woman." How about the fallen man?

CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: I know it's unfair, but somehow the men seem to escape the stigma. The unchaste woman has "fallen." The unchaste man has merely "slipped."

DEAR ABBY: A very attractive young woman has come to town from a foreign country. The trouble is — she doesn't speak a word of English.

I am very much attracted to her, and if I can read the universal language in her eyes, she seems to be attracted to me, too. How can I communicate with her if she makes no effort whatsoever to learn my language?

SMITTEN
DEAR SMITTEN: Learn hers.

DEAR ABBY: I am also a nurse who didn't take up nursing to fight the patients, but I have fought a few in my time. I'll never forget the wrestling match I had with a 240-pounder who refused to take off his money belt when we were preparing him for an emergency kidney stone operation.

Heroic Helen Keller Marks 85th Birthday

To honor Helen Keller's 85th birthday Sunday, the United States Senate has passed a special resolution and the governors of many states across the country have proclaimed the day as "Helen Keller Day."

Miss Keller is celebrating her birthday at her home Arcan Ridge in Connecticut, where congratulatory messages are pouring in from around the world. Through her books, lectures, and trips, and William Gibson's dramatization of her triumph over both blindness and deafness in "The Miracle Worker," she has inspired untold millions in every corner of the globe.

AWARDED MEDAL

Last year President Johnson awarded her the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civil award. At that time the President stated that Miss Keller is "an example of courage to all mankind."

The Senate resolution, which was introduced by Sen. Lister Hill and Sen. Thomas Kuchel, highlighted the work she has done to help others. "She has tirelessly devoted herself to the improvement of conditions for the physically handicapped throughout the world," the resolution states. "As Com-

Check Here Before Building

About this time of year, ambition and enthusiasm are at a peak among do-it-yourselfers.

If you are going ahead full speed with a patio or sun porch, you may be glad, later on, that you remember to: (1) install some overhang to provide a small area of sun protection on "beasty" days; (2) extend gutters, where necessary, on existing roofs, to hasten drying after rains; (3) lay tile or flag-stones to expedite water run-off; and (4) locate electrical sockets conveniently, requiring a minimum of extension cord.

Five hundred guests attend a nuptial Mass offered by Rev. F. J. Delaney for Gayle Marie Crigger and Gary Gordon Heaton at noon today in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church. Their parents are the Harry J. Criggers of Crest Drive and the Gordon Heaton of Ridgeway Road. John Nafajski offered the nuptial Mass for the couple whose parents are the Donald C. Alford of Horton, Mich. and the Daniel C. Godfrey of Wolverine Lake.

August vows are planned by Brenda Kathleen Smith, daughter of the Arnold R. Smith of East Beverly Avenue and Roger Dale Grace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Grace of Garden Court.

To Teach Volunteers

Peace Corps Worker Home

Home again—after two wonderful years working as a volunteer for the Peace Corps in Senegal, West Africa—is Nancy G. Raymond of 3279 Windcroft, Waterford Township.

Nancy is so enthusiastic about the Peace Corps and what it is doing for peoples of the world, that she will round out her service as an adviser on the staff of the University of Southern Illinois for the next 10 weeks.

Here she will assist in teaching other volunteer groups going to Senegal.

"A good way to give aid to underdeveloped countries is for young people to offer service to other peoples of the world. It is not so much a moral duty as plain practical sense," said Nancy.

"We are living in a world that is becoming smaller and smaller, due to faster means of transportation and communication. If we don't concern ourselves with the development of these small emerging nations, it will be to our detriment," she added.

Flaxen haired Nancy became interested in the Peace Corps while in Washington D.C. in 1963.

TRAINED IN KENTUCKY

A graduate of Alma College, she spent three months at Berea College in Kentucky where she received training in an English teaching project.

During her stay 14 students from the University of Dakar, West Africa, visited the college, and Nancy and her group were required to speak to them in French, the language used in Senegal, a new country on the coast of West Africa.

After flying to Dakar, a city the size of Grand Rapids, Nancy was stationed at Thies 42 miles inland. There were not enough teaching positions so she was placed in a clinic doing social service work, and helping native doctors.

Afternoons were spent teaching a sewing and knitting

class for women in their early 20s.

"Medical missionaries and doctors are doing what they can to heal and cure diseases but it isn't enough. A program for preventing disease is so important," Nancy said.

Many missionaries in Thies are working with Wycliffe Translators in putting the Word of God in written form. They interpret Christianity as they teach adults to read and write.

More than 80 per cent of the people in Senegal live in the bush country in huts of mud blocks and thatched roofs. Several generations may be found living together.

Most of the missionaries in Thies are doing translation work and interpreting Christianity as they teach adults to read and write.

Elementary education is provided for boys and girls in Thies. Some young people receive high school and normal school training under the French system. Senegal, a former French colony, received its independence from France in 1960.

The people are pleasant and courteous. The language is composed of one and two-syllable words.

When bidding someone goodbye by cross hands and say djam, djam, meaning "go on your way with peace."

BRING GIFTS

Nancy brought many hand carved pieces of jewelry and ebony to her family.

Those who viewed the exhibition of items found in King Tutankhamon's tomb at the Detroit Institute of Arts two years ago will remember the intricate handwork on necklaces, rings and bracelets.

A cross of agalace (cross) she brought her mother was equally as lovely. Nancy was wearing a bracelet carved from a sheep horn and inlaid with silver.

Nancy will enter Stanford University in the fall to study speech correction and the teaching of the deaf for a master's degree.

And what will Nancy do then? "I want to be of service in helping families, perhaps here, perhaps I'll return to Africa," was her reply.

It was the late President John F. Kennedy when addressing a group of outgoing volunteers who said, "I hope that when you get back we can persuade you to come and serve in the United States Government in other areas, particularly the Foreign Service."

"I hope you will regard this as the first installment in a long life of service in the most exciting career in the most exciting time."

Father Kaiser Heads CCD

An innovation in parish organization known as the Christian Community Development (CCD) program is being tried at Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Rev. Lawrence H. Kaiser, coordinator of the program, appointed directors at the first CCD board meeting Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keller have been named lay directors. Assistant lay directors are the Art Hoovers.

With the aim of bringing the parish community closer together, three main committees were formed. They hope to actualize their goal through faith and communication on an individual level.

Committee directors include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobson, heading the adult formation committee; the Paul Shaughnessys, directing the school of religion committee; and the Robert Whistons with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weiss coordinating activities for the home visitor committee.

MEET FAMILIES

The home visitor committee will divide the parish so that each visitor will have a chance to become acquainted with 10 families in his area. Welcoming new parishioners, lending a helping hand, and bringing fuller church participation will be the goals sought by this group.

In addition, the adult group will seek to stimulate thinking, search into the meaning behind the recent changes in the Catholic Church, and to share ideas and experiences with other parishioners.

Contact with those of other faiths is planned for greater understanding.

The school of religion committee will experiment with revolutionary new teaching methods for students attending public schools. Their aim is to interest the student in learning and putting that learning into practice.

Giants Triumph 4-1 as Hurler Shaw

By The Associated Press
Bob Shaw's wife probably has another silly question for her husband.

Like why does a 31-year-old pitcher find himself accused of sticking his fingers in his mouth?

Mrs. Shaw, who married the San Francisco pitcher two years ago, said Friday morning that she knew it was love when "I asked silly questions and he didn't laugh."

And Mrs. Shaw may still be a little puzzled by what happened Friday night while Shaw was pitching a one-hitter — allowing only a second inning homer by Wes Covington — and the Giants were beating Philadelphia 4-1.

French Runner Finds Help in Record Acts

PARIS (UPI) — Michel Jazy of France, who usually breaks records on his own, has added a trio to his act and a number of world relay marks now appear in danger.

Jazy, whose phenomenal hot streak has carried him to three individual world records during the month of June, ran a blistering 3:40.2 leg Friday night to push the French national team to a new world standard of 14 minutes, 49 seconds in the 6,000 meter run.

Well, Mrs. Shaw, hubby was accused of moistening the baseball in order to throw a spitball.

He was accused so often by the Phillies, and so vehemently, that he wound up playing catch with the umpires throughout the game. Bob had to surrender the ball 11 times to plate umpire Chris Pelekoudas and two times to the base umpires for inspection.

While Shaw was posting his seventh victory, Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles and Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati became the National League's first 12-game winners as the Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 4-1 and the Red Sox edged Milwaukee 3-1 in 11 innings.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs pounded St. Louis 12-4 and Houston downed the New York Mets 6-2.

TIGHT GAME

Shaw, now 7-3, never allowed more than one Philadelphia base runner at any one time and Covington was the only one to get past first base. He tagged a long drive over the right field fence in the second inning for his 11th homer.

The Giants, however, had taken the lead with two first inning runs off Bo Belinsky or a single by Jim Davenport, Jesus Alou's double and Cap Peterson's single.

Koufax, striking out 12 while bringing his record to 23 with his sixth consecutive triumph, also singled home the tie-breaking run in the fourth inning after John Roseboro walked and Lou Johnson was hit by a Bob Friend pitch.

Ellis, also 12-3, checked the Braves on eight hits through the 11-inning game. Battery mate Don Pavletich provided the decisive runs with a two-run homer off Billy O'Dell.
