British Isles Gripped in Mixed Emotion as Meg Says, 'No'

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret's decision to give up Peter Townsend sent a wave of mixed emotions racing through the British Isles today.

Public and press reaction was compounded of resentment, approval, and downright confusion.

Some newspapers predicted an outbreak of popular feeling against the Church of England and the Duke of Edinburgh—both strongly identified by many Britons with the unhappy ending of the romance.

Among those of conservative views, Margaret was warmly praised for putting her duty to the throne, church, and British Commonwealth above her normal desire to marry the man she loves.

To the great mass of the British people, the big question appeared to be the human one:

"Is the Princess now condemned at the age of 25 to a life of spinsterhood?"

Churchmen generally praised Margaret's decision not to marry Townsend, father of two sons. He divorced his wife in 1952 on grounds of misconduct. She has married another man.

"I thank God," said the Rev. Douglas Lockhart, an Edinburgh clergyman who was outspoken in opposition to a Margaret-Townsend match. "She will have the love and sympathy of Christians everywhere."

Dr. Leslie Wetherhead, president of the Methodist Conference, said: "I think that it, (Margaret's decision) is very courageous, absolutely right, and I think it will endear her more than ever to the hearts of all our people."

The Rev. Henry Cook, president of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, issued a statement saying:

"All honor to the princess." The archbishop of Canterbury, ranking prelate of the Church of England of which Margaret's sister, Queen Elizabeth II, is the constitutional head, had "no statement," his chaplain announced.

SOME BRITONS ARE DISAPPOINTED

But many ordinary Britons — those who watch Margaret admiringly whenever she appears in public and who beam beneath her warm smile — obviously were disappointed by her blighted romance.

A girl who performs in a cabaret was standing outside Clarence House, the Princess's London residence, when Margaret's statement of her decision was issued.

"It takes a lot of guts to give up the man you love," the girl said. "I think she has more courage than her uncle."

She was referring to the Duke of Windsor who, 19 years ago, abdicated the throne he had ascended as Edward VIII to marry "The woman I love" — the twice divorced American Wallis Warfield Simpson.

"It's the only thing she could do, poor kid," Mrs. Mary Keller, a factory worker in London's East End, said. "I wouldn't be a member of the royal family for all

Legislature Opens Quickie Session

Solons Aiming for Adjournment by Week's End

Fear Political Battles Will Erupt of Meeting Lasts Longer

LANSING (AP)—Senate leaders, opening a special legislative session heavy with political overtones for the 1956 fiscal year, started a drive to clean up the session's business this week.

They appeared to be motivated by a belief that the longer the lawmakers stay in the Capitol the more chance they will fall into political squabbles which might affect the 1956 campaigns.

The Senate chiefs prepared a resolution to adjourn Thursday or Friday after a majority of the chamber expressed a desire for speed rather than a recess until next week.

Speaker of the House Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) said he was agreeable but would await the decision of a Republican caucus later today. The Senate, too, planned a similar caucus.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, which rejected an invitation yesterday to confer with Gov. Williams and raced off to inspect the Farmington Children's Hospital, came back today expressing fears that the institution was not safe to house children.

Gov. Williams has proposed buying and remodeling the institution for $1,160,000 to house mentally retarded children.

* * *

Sen. Elmer R. Potter (R-Blissfield), the Senate committee chairman, said that the Farmington hospital boilers were old and were located underneath the hospital. Expressing fear that an explosion would cost the lives of many children, Porter dispatched state fire marshals to give him an expert opinion on the institution.

The same committee planned to go to Battle Creek this afternoon to inspect the idle Ft. Custer Station Hospital which Williams wants to lease.

Both institutions are key points in his $2,500,000 program to absorb 1,221 mentally retarded children who are waiting admission to overcrowded state hospitals.

Woodward Case Under Probe

District Attorney Doubts Answer of New Widow

Shotgun Killing Reveals 'Forgotten Father' Now Living in Gaylord

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

NEW YORK—Police and district attorney appeared today to be at loggerheads over whether to investigate the reportedly stormy marital life of the late William Woodward and his wife.

The two officials who questioned the blonde and beautiful widow for 40 minutes last night in her New York Hospital suite where she is recovering from shock took different viewpoints on future actions in the case.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Frank Gulotta disclosed that the case was still "open" and under investigation and would go to the grand jury sometime this month.

Assistant Nassau County District Attorney Edward J. Robinson said "We dont plan to question her any more because we got as full and complete a statement out of her as possible."

He said he didn't ask her any questions pertaining to her marital life with the millionare sportsman whom she says she mistook for a prowler and shotgunned to death early Sunday morning.

But Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau County Detectives, had a different version.

Pinnell said he felt the shooting was an accident but that he planned to look into her private life fully and question her again.

Robinson said there was no major discrepancy in her statement last night and the one she gave to police after the shooting.

At Gaylord, Mich., a retired Detroit streetcar conductor, living in this Michigan resort community, says Mrs. Ann Woodward, "could very well be" his daughter.

Jesse Claude Crowell, 64, was informed that a check of school records, relatives and other sources indicated the society matron is his "Cinderella" daughter.

Crowell said his daughter isn't 32—the age listed for Mrs. Woodward by her investigators. She is about 39. He said she was born Angeline Lucille Crowell in a farmhouse near Pittsburg, Kans., on Dec. 12, 1915.

DALE CARNEGIE

Famous Author Succumbs at 66

Carnegie Attained Fame by Stressing Values of Public Speaking

NEW YORK (AP)—Dale Carnegie, author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People," died today in his home. He had been ill for some time.

The author and lecturer, whose book sold approximately four million copies, had for years been giving courses in public speaking.

Carnegie, 66, attained wealth and fame by stressing the value of public speaking in the social and business fields.

Carnegie was born Nov. 24, 1888, on a farm near Maryville, Mo. At the time of his death he lived in Forest Hills, a residential section of New York City.

Carnegie, born in virtual poverty cast about at various jobs before settling on the career that made him famous.

Carnegie was married in 1944 to Mrs. Dorothy Price Vanderpool, whom he had met while lecturing in Tulsa, Okla.

Despite his success in the field of how to influence people, he later commented that "it took me eight years" to influence her to become his wife.

Molotov Sidesteps Israeli Demands to Halt Arms Sale

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was reported today to have made a new move to inject Russian power and influence in the troubled Middle East.

Israeli informants said Molotov's strategy was indicated when he answered Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett's protests against the flow of Red arms to Egypt.

At Molotov's insistence, Sharett and his aides refused to disclose the precise nature of his reply. But this much did come out of the meeting last night between Molotov and Sharett:

The Soviet foreign minister did not turn a completely deaf ear to Sharett's complaint that the sale of submarines, tanks, guns and MIG fighters by the Soviet bloc imperiled Israel's existence.

Talks on the military and other aspects of the Middle Eastern situation will be continued between the two countries, probably in Moscow through diplomatic channels.

Molotov sidestepped Sharett's direct appeal to stop the sale of arms to Egypt, Israel's bitter and avowed enemy. He explained it was Czechoslovakia, not Russia, which was selling the arms, and anyway the deal was a "normal" commercial transaction.

But he expressed some appreciation of Israel's opposition to the Baghdad pact. This is the alliance of Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan, the so-called "northern tier" of countries in the Middle East, to which Britain is linked and which the United States may join in 1956 or 1957.

Russia previously has bitterly protested against the creation of this alliance.

Before flying back home today, Sharett conferred with Israeli ambassadors to Washington, London, Paris and Moscow in an effort to pull together the results of his week-long talks with the foreign ministers in Paris and Geneva.

Safe Driving Campaign Planned in City Dec. 1

President Eisenhower's second annual nation-wide Safe Driving Day will be Dec. 1, the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce announced today.

In Pontiac, chairman of the program for the second time will be Clyle Haskill, also chairman of the Safety Committee.

"S-D Day last year proved a terrific success," Haskill said today. "We found this out: 15 days before and 15 days after S-D Day, the accident rate in Michigan dropped.

"Now, we know that if the State of Michigan can go for one 24-hour period without a traffic death, the same can be accomplished on a yearly basis.

CLYLE R. HASKILL

"Provided, of course, that John Q. Public is ready to do his part.

"As important as the number of traffic deaths cut down is the fact that several hundred people, who were statistically due to be injured in accidents, weren't hurt.

"We hope the officials and citizens of Pontiac will cooperate in making S-D Day a greater success than ever."

Ask Court Order to Move House Fraction of Foot

A Ferndale couple are seeking an Oakland County Circuit Court order requiring their neighbor to move her house and fence a fraction of a foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Gasper Enrico Jr. filed a suit yesterday claiming they own a 33-foot lot in Little Farms Subdivision and Irene Maria owns another adjacent to the west.

Their neighbor's house, they allege, encroaches on their property, .4 feet at the front and .45 feet at the rear. At another point her fence is .5 feet over the line, they charge.

They ask a mandatory injunction forcing the defendant to move the house and fence alleging that water from her roof runs onto their land causing it to be "unusually and unnaturally damp." No hearing date has been set.

Russian Roulette Fatal for Youth

Pleasant Ridge Teener Killed When Teaching Game to Friends

A Pleasant Ridge youth died on the second pull of the trigger last night as he gave a car full of friends a fatal lesson in Russian roulette.

Frank Connolly, 18, of 15 Cambridge Rd., died at William Beaumont Hospital, shortly after arrival.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Connolly, the boy used a long-barreled .22 caliber revolver which he had picked up when returning briefly from a dance at St. Mary's High School in Royal Oak.

According to companions, Connolly removed the shells from the gun when riding back to the dance. The first pull of the trigger brought only a click, they said this morning. An explosion followed the second trigger squeeze, and Connolly slumped over the seat.

GMC Trucks Top Sales Peak

69,276 Units During First 9 Months Higher Than '54 Total Count

More GMC trucks were sold in the first nine and a half months of this year than during all of 1954, according to R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager for GMC Truck & Coach Division.

He said GMC's domestic sales from January to mid-October reached 69,276 units, compared with 67,626 for all of last year.

"New model GMCs did not reach dealers in volume quantities until May of this year and GMC was about 5,000 units behind last year's sales during the first four months," Woodhouse explained.

A sharp increase in retail deliveries in the first half of October sent this year's sales surging past the 1954 mark. During the first part of the month, sales were 66.2 per cent higher than in the same period a year ago.

Chances for Racetrack in Troy Dim as Turf Club Officials Fail to Appear

DETROIT — Chances for construction of a racetrack in Troy Township appeared to be diminishing today after three officials of the syndicate seeking a track license failed to appear at hearings conducted by Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis.

Asked if he believed the officials' absence weakened the Michigan Thoroughbred Turf Club's application, Inglis said:

"I think the application was pretty weak before this. If turf club officials have nothing to hide in regard to Esroh, why don't they come in and tell us all about it."

Inglis adjourned the hearings until Nov. 10 and told Assistant Atty. Gen. Wilbur DeYoung to use subpoenas if necessary to force the appearance of the trio and another stockholder whom he wants to question.

The current series of hearings, which began last Thursday, has centered around the part two Troy officials had in acquiring land for the proposed track at Fourteen Mile and John R Rds.

Testimony has revealed that the officials, Treasurer Fred W. Hildebrandt and Attorney Malcolm M. Heber, stood to share with Heber's law partner, Harry N. Dell, nearly $170,000 profit through the Esroh Development Co., a corporation the three set up.

Esroh (horse spelled backwards) had options on eight parcels of land on the northeast corner of the intersection for $430,697 and an an agreement to turn the property over to the turf club for $600,000, thus standing to make $169,303.

Called to testify today were Edward Rosenberg, club treasurer; Dr. Jack L. Winshall, Detroit dentist and subdivision developer, and Henry C. Murray, club secretary and one of its attorneys.

Sidney Berman, a former auto salesman, who holds stock in the club, will also be called to appear on the 10th, Inglis said. He was not called today because of his mother's death Sunday.

The only witness today was Grant Mageehan, a 43-year-old farmer who owns 80 acres on the Commissioners Named by Judge

3 to Set Land Value for Gas Pipeline After Action by Court

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday confirmed appointment of three commissioners to set values on land sought by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for pipeline right-of-way.

They are A. Floyd Blakeslee, a Pontiac attorney, George Lehman, a Royal Oak realtor and Pleasant Ridge Mayor Arthur C. Kuhn.

Lehmann was appointed after Ernest Skinner, of Royal Oak, said he would not be able to serve.

The commission will attempt to set fair values on land the owners of which have refused to sell at the price offered them by Consolidated.

The company says the land is needed to lay a pipeline 25.5 miles from Willow Run, Washtenaw County, to a point in Milford Township. The commission did not set a date for its first hearing.

Pennsylvania Leans to Dr. Eisenhower

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some Republican leaders are discussing the idea of entering the name of President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, in Pennsylvania's presidential preference primary next year.

Pennsylvania Republicans, who confirmed such reports, emphasized yesterday the proposal is only in the "talking stage." Dr. Eisenhower declined comment.

Rep. Samuel K. McConnell said as far as he knew the idea had not as yet been discussed with Dr. Eisenhower, the youngest of the five Eisenhower brothers and president of Pennsylvania State University.

Financier Refuses Grand Rapids Post

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Financier Frank D. McKay yesterday asked to be dropped from consideration in connection with plans to redevelop the city's lower downtown business district.

A mayor's study committee last week recommended a vast redevelopment plan for the district—termed a blighted area. McKay was asked to head a group to investigate the project, which he estimated at ranging from $30 million to $100 million, and to offer suggestions for the proposed revamping.

In a letter to committee chairman John Vandenberg, McKay said his association with the program had stirred up political rumblings. McKay, formerly a leading political figure, said:

Blockade Moms Accepting Truce to End 'Mob Rule'

TAYLOR TOWNSHIP (INS) — Only two women, both newly deputized sheriffs, were to patrol Telegraph Road at the Cypress intersection in Taylor Township today.

The action was taken last night as part of a temporary truce police made with mothers in an effort to end "mob rule" at the crossing.

Meanwhile, state highway engineers have begun a 30-day study to see whether the mothers' demand for a traffic light at the intersection is justified.

The women deputized are Mrs. Virginia Grubb and Mrs. Clara Tharrett, two leaders of the recent demonstrations at the intersection which is a crossing for school buses going to the Edgewood School.

State Highway Traffic Engineer William L. Marvin, told a meeting last night:

"We are starting a survey of the Telegraph-Cypress corner. It will be finished in 30 days or less and if researchers recommend a traffic light, it will go up."

State Police Capt. Raymond Mohr warned the women last night that he would not tolerate any further demonstrations. He said anyone attempting further blockades of traffic on Telegraph would be jailed.

Far East Airmen Getting Fluorine

3 U.S. Air Bases Adding Chemical to Water Tank at Nickel a Man Yearly

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — An Air Force dental surgeon said today fluorine is being used to reduce tooth decay at three U. S. Far East bases at an annual cost of only 5 cents per person.

Col. Sidney G. Gordon of the 5th Air Force told the Far East Air Force medical conference that the program of adding fluorine to water is being conducted at Misawa Air Base, Northern Japan; Green Park dependent housing area, Tokyo, and Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines.

Gordon said the fluorine compound is used in small portions. It builds a resistance to cavities in children aged six months to 16 years and has beneficial effects on adults.

The surgeon told of an intensive preventive dentistry program conducted throughout the Far East in U. S. Air Force units. It is dependent largely upon early discovery of decay by X-ray.

"Within the U. S. Air Force, the Far East now has the lowest number of man hours lost because of dental trouble," he said.

The three-day conference opened yesterday with delegates from 12 nations present. Thirty scientific papers are to be presented.

Egyptian Infantry Attack Repulsed

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Egyptian infantry platoon last night attacked an Israeli patrol in the Kissufim area east of the Gaza Strip but was repulsed, an Israeli army spokesman announced.

The Israelis suffered no casualties, he said.

The attacking Egyptian unit was supported by fire from positions across the demarcation line, he added.

Two more Egyptian jet planes were seen over Israeli territory yesterday, the spokesman reported. One was over the demilitarized El Auja zone in the southern Negev Desert and the other over the Patish and Gvuloth settlements east of the Gaza stretch.

Israelis reported four Egyptian jets streaked over the border into Israeli territory on Sunday.

Cleveland Releases First Baseman Fain

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today released 1st baseman Ferris Fain, the American League's batting champion in 1951-52.

Fain, who will be 34 in March, signed with the Tribe as a free agent last July following his release by the Detroit Tigers. He played in 113 games for Cleveland and hit .260.

A chronic knee injury has hampered Fain most of the time since he reached the batting king pinnacle. He hit .344 in 1951 and .327 in 1952. Drafted by the Philadelphia Athletics, he was traded by them to Chicago in January 1953, and two years later was sent to Detroit. His home is at Walnut Creek, Calif.

Journey on Film Through Orient Set for Tonight

Formosa, question mark of the Pacific, will be the subject of speaker Margaret Baker tonight in the second program of the Civic Entertainment Series.

She will present a travelog at 8 p.m. in the Pontiac High School Auditorium. The series is sponsored by the Pontiac Kiwanis Club, and proceeds are used for Kiwanis Club youth work.

Recently returned from her third journey around the world, Margaret Baker will include India, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore and Rangoon as side trips in her movie excursion tonight. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

the money in the world."

One teenager in the group outside Clarence House gave the uninhibited reaction of many: "What a shame!"

(See Townsend story on page 7).

Townsend was with Margaret more than two hours just before she issued her statement of renunciation. The Princess spent the night in seclusion at Clarence House, comforted by Queen Mother Elizabeth.

It is not very likely that Margaret or any of her descendants—assuming that she ever marries after giving up Townsend — will occupy the British throne. But royal responsibilities weighed heavily in her decision.

THIRD IN LINE

She is third in line for the throne, coming after the Queen's two small children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

She pointed out in her statement that if it had only been a question of renouncing her rights of succession, she might have contracted a civil marriage. But, she added, she was "mindful of the church's teaching that Christian marriage is indissoluble, and conscious of my duty to the comonwealth."

* * *

Having reached her heartrending decision, Margaret will be swept along in the tide of ceremony and social activity that surrounds the royal family. She must continue to appear in public with no opportunity to hide herself from the world during her emotional stress.

WILL BE ACTIVE

Wednesday evening she will attend a service at St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

Thursday evening she will attend a glittering Buckingham Palace event — a presentation party given by the Queen for the diplomatic corps.

Townsend, an RAF group captain and a fighter pilot hero of the battle of Britain, left Clarence House yesterday after paying Margaret what may be his last farewell. Heartbreak was written in every line of his face.

Townsend, who will be 41 Nov. 22, looked his age for the first time since his long trial in the public spotlight began. He drove quickly to his London apartment, ran up the steps and inserted his key, then pulled it out and went back to his car.

"I can say nothing at all," he told reporters. "I can't say anything."

Townsend has been on leave from his post of British air attache at Brussels, Belgium. He is expected to resume his duties Nov. 7.

Navy Discloses Rocket Carrier

Converted Ship Armed With Guided Weapons to Protect Fleet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Navy had its first robot weapons warship ready to join the fleet today.

The heavy cruiser Boston—with a battery of dart-nosed, anti-aircraft guided missiles pointing skyward from the after deck — stood at a pier in the Navy Yard here, awaiting an afternoon commissioning ceremony.

At a sneak preview yesterday, Capt. Charles B. Martell, commanding officer, said the Terrier missiles can track down enemy aircraft and "do the job of destruction a good part of the time." He also disclosed for the first time that the missiles have a range of 20 miles.

3 YEAR TASK

The Boston, veteran of gun firing days in the Pacific campaigns of World War II, has been under conversion the past three years to arm her with the weapons of the jet plane and atom bomb age.

The Navy says she marks the advent of the guided missile in the combatant fleet. The five-inch gun, until the last few years the mainstay of protection against enemy aircraft, now have been relegated to the category of a close-in, last resort weapon, top Navy officials have said. Interception of swift jet planes must be made at relatively long distance, by missiles.

PROTECT THE FLEET

The Boston and other converted cruisers and destroyers to follow her will provide, along with fighter aircraft, the protection for today's fast carrier task forces.

The Terrier missile follows a radar beam and finally "homes in" by another self-contained radar unit as it reaches the area of a target aircraft. It has supersonic speed, probably about 1,700 m.p.h.

The Navy aims at a high rate of fire for the Terrier missiles. The Boston is fitted with a completely automatic loading device which can reload the launchers twice within a minute. A salvo of four missiles can be fired in eight-tenths of a second.

A sister ship of the Boston, the Canberra, will be recommissioned sometime next spring as the second guided missile firing cruiser.

Detroiter Killed, 4 Hurt as Car Rams Utility Pole

DETROIT (AP)—Shirley Abraham, 17, of Detroit, was killed and four of her schoolmates were injured when their car struck a utility pole on the northwest side last night.

Shirley was one of four girls riding in a car driven by Robert Champagne, also 17, as the group was returning from a Halloween party. Champagne was injured critically. The others suffered face and head cuts.

Monroe's Marriage Ends With Decree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marilyn Monroe's lawyer went to Superior Court yesterday and obtained a final decree officially ending her marriage to former baseball star Joe Di Maggio.

The actress was granted an uncontested interlocutory divorce Oct. 27, 1954, ending a nine-month marriage. She alleged mental cruelty.

Boy, 2, Hunted by 500 Airmen

Child Vanishes While Mother Is Shopping in Supermarket

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (AP)—Five-hundred airmen from Mitchel Air Force Base today joined a mass search for the missing son of one of their buddies.

They began a house-by-house, ditch-by-ditch combing of this suburban New York community after an all-night search failed to locate little Stephen Damman, 31 months old.

* * *

At one time as many as 1,000 volunteers helped police look for the child, who disappeared after his mother left him outside a supermarket yesterday.

The boy's father, Jerry Damman 26, a continental air command sergeant, joined the search. The mother, Marilyn, was given sedatives.

Mrs. Damman left the youngster outside the market to watch his sister Pamela, 7 months old, who was in her carriage.

When Mrs. Damman came out 10 minutes later she found the carriage and children gone.

Police located Pamela and the carriage around the corner in back of the market. She was unhurt. Police said the little boy could not possibly have pushed her there, since he would have had to get around traffic, cross a driveway and go over rough ground.

northwest corner of Fourteen Mile and John R.

He said he and his brother, Robert H., who owns an adjoining 80 acres, signed a purchase agreement in mid-April with Dr. Benjamin T. Bratt, a Royal Oak optometrist and stockholder in the club.

He testified that the South Oakland Agency, a real estate firm through which they dealt, told them about a week after the agreements were signed that two $500 checks Bratt had given them as down payment were returned because of insufficient funds.

His testimony also revealed that James A. Welsh, of the real estate company, referred the brothers to Heber as a legal counsel.

Mageehan said when they got to Heber's Royal Oak office, the attorney told them that Bratt had called the deal off, but they signed the agreements anyway.

He said he did not question how Heber knew that Bratt had called off the deal. It was a week or ten days later that they were notified the checks had "bounced," he said.

His 80 acres were to be sold to Bratt for $253,160, Mageehan said, and his brother's for $301,840. Bratt testified yesterday that he was out the $1,000 he had given on the purchase agreements and expected he would be repaid by the turf club at some future time.

He said he obtained the northwest site after learning from Heber and Hildebrandt, whom he had first approached when seeking a site, that the 200 acres on the northeast side would cost $4,000 an acre.

Later, the land was found to be available at $3,000 an acre and the original plans were reverted to, he stated.

Reaches Hospital After Three-Day Mountain Descent

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo. (AP) — Rescuers struggling down a steep, tortuous creekbed in a blinding blizzard brought to safety last night a woman hunter ill since Saturday in the mountain vastness of Wyoming's Washakie Needles formation.

* * *

Mrs. Mildred Ernst, 55, of Worland, Wyo., was whisked to a hospital here by ambulance after the ground party took her to the Col. Tim McCoy ranch, 35 miles west of here.

Her doctor said Mrs. Ernst's condition was good. He said she had "blacked out" from lack of oxygen due to high blood pressure. At first it was believed she had suffered a heart attack.

* * *

Mrs. Ernst collapsed at 11,000 feet mark on a steep mountain face after a four and a half-hour horseback ride. Her descent by litter took a little more than three days. She spent two nights on the mountain, often under blizzard conditions.

* * *

With Mrs. Ernst at the time of her attack was her husband, Joseph, with whom she is co-owner of four radio stations in Wyoming, and a guide. The men managed to bring her down the mountain, as blizzard conditions set in, to between 9,000 and 10,000 feet. There they spent the night.

The guide went for help.

The U.S. has about 1,000 residential fires every day.

Rioting Prisoners Damage Workhouse

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Some 250 prisoners rioted in the city workhouse last night, smashing windows and burning furniture.

Police brought the yelling inmates under control early today, herding them out of their cell blocks under guard of riot guns. No one was reported injured.

* * *

The Fire Department quickly doused the fires that had been started with paper, benches and mattresses.

Warden Harold E. Baynes said about 10:30 p.m. some inmates broke out of their cells and released others.

* * *

The warden said he didn't know what caused the riot.

There was no estimate of damage.

It was the second riot at the workhouse in five months. Tear gas was used to put down a disturbance June 8.

The Day in Birmingham

Parking Adjacent to Lot 1 to Receive Added Study

BIRMINGHAM—Street parking in the area surrounding the city's new Pierce-Merrill-Brown Streets parking lot, will receive consideration by the Planning Board and Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley before further action is taken by the City Commission.

The studies were initiated by lawmakers last night after a report was received from the Chamber of Commerce Off-Street Parking Committee, asking that on-street parking remain the same until the need for changes are shown.

"There seems to be a diversity of thought here," commented City Manager Donald C. Egbert. "Part of the parking lot plan is to get parking out of the residential area, which the Chamber of Commerce plan does not do."

Egbert feared that continued use of Pierce street for all day parking will eventually ruin the residential character there, paving the way for encroachment by business.

APPROVE EXPENDITURE

The Off-Street Parking Committee report stated that merchants are also afraid of the effects which any major parking changes might have on existing business.

Other action saw the city approve a $1,000 expenditure to provide music at the Eton Park Ice Skating Rink. The $15,000 originally earmarked to furnish rink parking has been reduced to $8,000, City Engineer L. R. Gare reported and will still provide "a commendable parking area" for about 198 cars on the south side of Lincoln.

All work on the parking strip will be completed this fall, he said, with the exception of the final seal coat, which will be done in the spring.

Anytime after 9 a.m. Thursday, shoppers may deposit their preschoolers in the nursery, stop for coffee and homemade doughnuts, and then start making the rounds at the First Methodist Church bazaar.

They'll find a rainbow of homemade jellies and jams, including the peach marmalade known as "Methodist honey"; decorated recipe boxes; cowboy jackets; decorative Christmas stockings; felt golf mittens; doll clothes, Christmas cactus and other plants; and tea cookies which can be kept frozen until the holiday season.

The women of the church, famous for their peanut brittle, will have over 2,000 pounds of it on hand in addition to their other confections. Then, too, there will be aprons, Christmas wrappings and a fish pond for youngsters. A snack bar will operate during the day in addition to the supper which will be served to the public.

Mrs. A. Frye Ayres, chairman, said the affair will last until 9 p.m.

* * *

The Rev. Robert Gibson, youth minister at First Presbyterian Church, will address the Child Study Club at a meeting at 8 tonight at the Brookside home of Mrs. George Talburtt. Cohostesses will be Mrs. John E. Easterbrook and Mrs. Robert Ellerby. Prospective members are invited to attend and may contact either of the cohostesses or Mrs. Scott Purvis.

* * *

At a dessert luncheon today, the Women's Club heard Mrs. Mildred Perles, marriage counselor, speak on "Understanding Ourselves." Mrs. Perles has taught classes at the YWCA and Community Center in Detroit and her articles have been published in professional magazines.

* * *

"The Library in Community Education" will be the topic of Jeanne Lloyd, Baldwin Public Library librarian, when she is guest of the Unitarian Women's Alliance tomorrow. The dessert meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard G. English, Cranbrook road, Bloomfield Hills.

Miss Lloyd will be introduced by Mrs. Lloyd Linton. Assisting Mrs. English will be Mrs. Peter B. Loomis and Mrs. John K. Bagby.

Dean Awarded Infantry Badge

Tearful General Closes 32-Year Army Career in Presidio Ceremony

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, hero of Taejon, blinked back tears in the ceremony ending his 32 year Army career.

* * *

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, pinned on Dean's blouse at the Presidio Parade Ground yesterday the combat infantryman's badge.

Taylor explained Dean already had won all his country's highest decorations.

"I accept this award that I covet more than anything in the world," replied Dean. "In the name of Sgt. Joe Lynton and for those thousands of other infantrymen killed by the enemy before they were able to wear it."

In the ceremony's final moments when the band played "Auld Lang Syne," the unashamed tears came to Dean's eyes.

* * *

Lynton, Dean later explained, was his driver in Europe. "Killed by an enemy pistol bullet just 16 hours before the war ended over there."

Dean won the Medal of Honor also in the Taejon fighting. After the city's fall he was captured and endured three years in Communist prisons.

Dean will make his retirement home in Berkeley, Calif.

Young Pupils Seeing 'Truer' Report Cards

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — A new look in elementary school report cards has been adopted at Charlevoix where teachers have compiled what they term a truer picture of pupil progress.

The cards were issued last week to 402 pupils in the first through sixth grades. The major change lists 13 traits or characteristics under the heading of Citizenship.

It includes items designed to tell parents of the child's classroom behavior. The various items show how the child does his work; if he finishes on time; works well without supervision; does neat and orderly work; if he reads voluntarily in free time; contributes to classroom discussion; is easily discouraged; is attentive; appears to try; is courteous; has self control; has good health habits; talks too much or appears immature.

Spokesmen said the marking system for both the upper and lower classes remains basically the same. The new cards, they said, aim to portray the child's good points as well as his shortcomings so that parents may encourage or correct their children's classroom efforts.

Detroit-Windsor Tunnel Marks 25th Birthday

DETROIT (AP)—Called the "safest mile in the world," the vehicular tunnel under the Detroit River marked its 25th anniversary today.

The tunnel, linking Detroit and Windsor, Ont., has carried 47 million cars with only two accidents, both fatal.

Much of the 5,168-feet structure lies under the bed of the river. It cost 25 million dollars.

Each year 4,000,000 families in the United States move from one city to another, but not outside their own state.

Nation Watches Voters in Ohio

Union Layoff Pay Plan Referendum Faces Test of General Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The voters of Ohio get a chance a week from today to trigger into effect the supplemental layoff pay plan negotiated earlier this year in the auto industry.

In the five months since the first such union plan was negotiated, nearly one million workers have similarly been covered under agreements that employers will supplement state unemployment compensation payments.

Such labor contracts have spread from the auto industry to scattered plants in the electrical, glass, can-manufacturing and rubber industries. Most provide that the employer will augment the state's payment to give a jobless worker 60 to 65 per cent of his take-home pay, his net wages after federal tax deductions.

TIE-IN PAY

A condition on putting the major plans into effect as scheduled next June 1, however, is that rulings permitting the dual payments must be obtained from states in which two-thirds of a company's employees work. Many states have banned unemployment compensation payments while a worker still draws funds from his employer.

That's where Ohio comes in. Enough states have already okayed simultaneous private and UC payments, so that if Ohio voters approve the idea in a Nov. 8 referendum the condition will have been met. This is true at least insofar as the approximately 700,000 auto industry employes are concerned, including those at Ford and General Motors.

Labor unions tried to get approval from the Ohio Legislature in early summer. The legislature adjourned without acting, although it did boost maximum UC payments by $3 to $4 a month.

Then the CIO, with help from the AFL, collected more than 125,000 signatures on a petition to get before the voters in a referendum not only the dual payment plan but also considerably increased UC benefit provisions. This represents a new labor technique to get directly from the public gains it can't win from legislatures.

VOTERS MUST DECIDE

This is the hotly-contested proposal up before Ohio's voters:

1. Sanction the simultaneous private and state payments.

* * *

2. Increase the state's basic weekly maximum payment from $33 to $50, the minimum from $10 to $15.

* * *

3. Permit a weekly dependency allowance of $3 for each of three children. Present law limits the $3 payments to only two children. This would mean the worker could get as high as $59 a week in state funds compared with the present limit of $39.

* * *

4. Make state benefits payable for 39 weeks, rather than 26 as now.

* * *

5. Tighten rules on disqualifying workers from benefits.

* * *

Employers have put on a statewide campaign to get the referendum defeated, with unions making an all-out drive for its approval.

WILL HIKE TAX

Ohio employers are presently taxed about 60 cents per $100 of payroll to support the state system. They contend the union plan would more than double this.

The Ohio voting comes after two years of considerable change, supported by the Eisenhower administration, by the states and Congress in the public UC system. Practically all the states have voted higher benefits and longer payment periods.

* * *

For the moment Ohio's referendum next Tuesday is the next stop on the fast-moving jobless pay merry-go-round. Special legislative sessions on similar issues are being talked in other states. And Congress is expected to be called upon next year to consider extending UC coverage to some 12 million still exempt workers.

Postal Rate Increase War Looms for New Congress

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration source on Capitol Hill today gave President Eisenhower no better than "a 50-50 chance at best" to get postal rates increased by Congress next year.

* * *

Postmaster General Summerfield yesterday gave notice in Denver of renewal of the rate battle when Congress comes back in January.

The source, declining to be quoted by name, noted that Congress has steadfastly resisted three years of administration efforts to increase postal revenues by raising rates.

Much of the opposition has centered around Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex), whose position gives weight to his stand.

After conferring with the President in his Denver hospital room, Summerfield said Eisenhower had approved a plan to ask Congress for a boost in most rates to help cut down the "staggering" postal operating deficit.

Summerfield told reporters the President may ask for an increase in the first class rate for ordinary letters from three to four cents an ounce, and in the airmail rate from six to seven cents. He said definite rates have not yet been decided upon.

* * *

Economies and changes in postal procedures under Summerfield's direction were successful in cutting the deficit to around 350 million dollars last year, from an annual average of about 500 millions. But the savings have been more than offset by a 160 million dollar a year pay raise which Congress voted postal workers this year.

The big increase in the Post Office payroll, some believe, may induce Congress to vote somewhat higher rates to help Summerfield cut down his operating losses — but not anything like the increases Summerfield is expected to ask.

Some Capitol Hill sources thought the pay raise might cause Rayburn to change his mind on proposals he has turned down in the past.

If past reaction by Congress can be regarded as a guide, resistance probably will come chiefly to proposals to raise postage rates on regular and airmail letters.

* * *

Less congressional resistance is expected to possible proposals involving second and third class mail—newspapers, magazines and advertising circulars — although rates on these were boosted substantially in 1952.

Some indication of the administration's upcoming proposals may be gleaned from recommendations made by Summerfield last January at the start of the present Congress.

* * *

At that time he requested increases in first class mail totaling an estimated 237 million dollars, or a 29 per cent increase; a second class increase totaling 18 million dollars or 30 per cent; an airmail increase of 14 million dollars or 11 per cent; and a third class increase of $72,900,000 a 29 per cent increase.

Blood Circulation Pump Now Subs for Heart, Lungs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today a simple pump which maintains blood circulation without use of the heart and lungs may soon be in use for cases of human heart surgery.

The VA reported that more than 500 successful experimental heart surgery operations had been performed on animals with aid of the pump, which was developed at the VA hospital at Nashville, Tenn.

* * *

Dr. Frank Gollan of the Nashville staff who, with associates, developed the pump, was said by the VA to have "offered the scientifically-cautious admission that it may be used for human surgery in the near future."

* * *

"What this little, inexpensive machine actually does, is to bypass the heart and lungs, and yet maintain circulation of the blood after removing carbon dioxide and supplying new oxygen while heart and lungs are at rest," the VA said.

"That leaves the heart available for surgery. And with the lungs collapsed, there is plenty of room for the surgeon to work."

Bob Considine Says:

Party Talk Set Stage for Society Tragedy

NEW YORK (INS)—The junior William Woodwards returned to their home, and his death, after hours of conversation about intruders. The attractive former model, mother of two and apparently a happy wife, killed her husband with a double-barreled shotgun when she mistook him for a prowler.

* * *

The talk at the party for the Duchess of Windsor which the Woodwards had just attended turned early to the wave of burglaries and near stickups that has hit the "gold coast" of Long Island in recent weeks.

There was a prowler about the Woodward mansion a week before the party. This had impelled the wife to sleep with the loaded shotgun standing near her bed and the husband to maintain a loaded pistol in his own bedroom.

It was unusual talk for that set, usually more concerned with fast horses and who made the dangerous Mediterranean voyage with Adm. Elsa Maxwell.

Ever so tragically it may have conditioned the death of a man who seemed destined to become another hallmark of the perfect American sportsman. And eternal dismay for his wife.

RIVAL FOR BENNY

Jack Benny, 39, isn't the greatest laugh-maker who has come out of Waukegan, Ill. My candidate is Robert E. Coulson, its mayor.

Hizzoner swears that people who do not vote are often more intelligent, more fair-minded, and just as loyal as people who do vote.

* * *

How often? Mayor Coulson, writing in the current Harper's, says that public-spirited organizations, the President of the United States, governors of all the states, mayors of all the cities except Waukegan, and newspapers that join them in asking people to vote — no matter how—are stooges of political machines. He writes:

"The notion that 'getting out the vote' makes for better election results is neither non-partisan, patriotic, nor logical . . . it handicaps independent candidates, unfairly burdens the party in power, makes elections more expensive to conduct, greatly slows the tallying, and—worst of all—places the emphasis on the ritual of voting rather than the thought behind the vote."

He stirs up the voting behavior of a mythical Mr. and Mrs. Whipcord and the old lady's brother, Harold. To wit:

"Mrs. Whipcord says, 'I have studied the candidates and have made up my mind. I will vote for Jones.' Mr. Whipcord says, 'I know nothing about the candidate or the issues. I will stay home and allow the election to be decided by the votes of those who have made a study and formed an opinion.

"Harold says, 'I don't know anything about the candidates or the problems, but, by golly, I'm going to vote. It's my duty. I'll pick the fellows with the shortest names.'

"If there is a bad citizen among these three, which one is it? Whose procedure is least likely to bring good government . . . ?"

Mrs. Whipcord, mayor: And if I know Mrs. Whipcord, and I think I do, she'll get those two bums in line before you can say Jackie Robinson. You sound like a man who is runnin' skeered.

Ah, what happened to that lost hour of freedom I recaptured for my very own the other night at 2 a.m. when daylight saving time ended in the area in which I live? I dunno.

That was a day when one kid went swimming, inspected radar builder Steve Lavoie's gun collection and Africana, another kid hit a bucket of golf balls and played basketball, another kid wanted to ride her bike in the street for the first time and needed someone with her, and another kid came home on leave from the Marines at midnight and wanted to talk.

I went the distance. What happened when I inherited that lost hour . . . I'll just never know. Slept right through it, like a clod, instead of hailing it with champagne as if it were heaven-sent instead of man-contrived.

To Dedicate New Church

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Dr. John Thompson Peters of New York City, secretary of stewardship and promotion for the Presbyterian Church of the United States, will deliver the dedication address Dec. 11 at the new $450,000 First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven. The new structure was started July 4, 1954.

Although people of all levels of intelligence have visual defects, they are more common among the mentally retarded and their severity tends to be proportionate to the degree of mental deficiency, says the Better Vision Institute.

Police Radio Picks Up Latin American Waves

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Police Departments radio-teletype equipment may have sounded a little like an off-beat mombo yesterday.

Chief Radio Technician Warren Lane said the equipment picked up interference he figured came from Central America because radio-teletypes there are on a wave length close to that of the Louisville department.

Lane said the noises sounded of an old man's false teeth."

Rider Gives Cabbie $99 Fare Too Much

BOSTON (AP)—There's a $100 bill waiting at police headquarters for the man who overpaid his taxi bill by $99.

Cab driver William Epstein of Revere gave the $100 to police yesterday with an explanation of how he got it.

He said a man handed it to him for a 65 cents fare. Neither noticed the denomination, so Epstein returned 35 cents change and drove off.

Later he discovered it was a $100 bill and not a $1 bill.

Police said they are holding the money for its rightful owner.

Arrested Scotch Price Dissenter Clear of Defraud

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A New York sporting goods distributor—who went to jail rather than pay $28 for a fifth of scotch whiskey at Ciro's night club—has been cleared of trying to defraud an inn keeper.

"Justice has been done," said Richard T. Shubert after being found innocent yesterday by a municipal court jury.

Herman Hover, owner of the plush Sunset Strip bistro, took the verdict philosophically. "Well, that was that," said Hover, who made a citizen's arrest of Shubert when the New Yorker balked last Sept. 13 at paying that much for the scotch.

Shubert's attorney argued he just wanted an adjustment of the bill and did not intend to defraud Ciro's.

Survey Reveals Urgency of 6 County Water Needs

If there remained any doubt about the urgent need of an adequate water source for the metropolitan area, it should have vanished after the report on the survey just completed.

The survey was made for the Supervisors Inter-County Committee. Conducted by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission it covered Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties.

★ ★ ★

Of 295 cities, villages and townships in this area, only 10 failed to answer the questionnaire. Thirty-seven communities reported they weren't equipped to meet current water needs. One hundred others reported they have no municipal water systems at all. Fifty-eight communities reported water supplies adequate to meet present needs.

★ ★ ★

As a statement by City Manager WILLMAN indicates, Pontiac's long range water problem will not be solved until a supply is obtained from one of the Great Lakes. Pontiac got through this year only by dint of overhauling old wells and adding several new ones.

★ ★ ★

Little imagination is needed to realize what an economic disaster would result if our giant automotive industries should be forced to cease operations for lack of water.

The Supervisors Inter-County Committee is planning a more comprehensive study of the situation. Meanwhile there should be no further delay in completing the organization of the projected metropolitan area water authority, already approved by Oakland's supervisors.

Canada's Dollar

Our northern neighbor's dollar, which made history last week by slipping slightly below par at New York, has edged back to decimally above par.

What made this news worthy of comment is the fact that Canada's monetary unit hadn't been at a discount in New York for three and a half years.

Back in 1949 the parity set for the Canadian dollar was the equivalent of 90.9 U. S. cents. On September 30, 1950, however, the Ottawa government after consulting with officials of the International Monetary Fund, announced temporary abandonment of this fixed ratio. This had the effect of leaving its dollar to the forces of demand and supply.

Strange as it might seem, this decision was dictated not by any weakness but because the currency was in too strong demand. Influx of foreign funds confronted Ottawa with two serious threats. These were inflationary pressures and stability in the country's foreign exchange position.

★ ★ ★

By March 1952 the Canadian dollar had crossed the 100 cents mark and the peak was reached last January when it was quoted in New York at a premium of 3 11/16 cents. Since then it has fluctuated and lately declined slowly, largely due to a change of direction in the movement of capital, principally toward the United States.

Some fiscal experts think the time is ripe for Canada to restore the fixed exchange ratio. Others think this would be disadvantageous and that events point toward Canada's emergence into financial and industrial self-sufficiency and as an exporter of capital.

The Old Fox

America's national game lost one of its greatest figures in the death of CLARK GRIFFITH.

As a player, manager and owner of the Washington Senators, GRIFFITH contributed greatly to baseball throughout the 69 years of his active participation in it.

Born in a log cabin in Vernon County, Mo., November 20, 1869, he became interested in the game at the age of 13. The name "Old Fox" was given him by fellow players because of his smart pitching maneuvers.

★ ★ ★

After mound duty for several Midwestern amateur teams, GRIFFITH started his professional career with the old St. Louis Browns of the American Association. Later he pitched for the Boston Club in the same loop and then for the Chicago Nationals and the Senators.

In 1901 he joined a baseball rebellion which resulted in the organization of the American League. Co-founders with him were the late Charles Comiskey and Ban Johnson. Deserved honor came to the Old Fox in 1946 when he was admitted to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

★ ★ ★

One of the finest tributes to GRIFFITH came from WILL HARRIDGE, president of the American League. Declaring that GRIFFITH was a great player and manager, HARRIDGE added that "he was even more outstanding as a league executive whose ability over the years helped build and develop the American League."

A heartwarming sidelight on GRIFFITH's private life is provided by the fact that he and MRS. GRIFFITH, childless themselves, adopted and raised seven children.

"All I Want Is to Ask if They're Running"

David Lawrence Says:

Democrats Emphasizing Negative Outlook Concerning Second Term for Eisenhower

WASHINGTON — Some Democratic senators are scared lest President Eisenhower recover his health to the point where he can be urged to run again for the presidency.

* * *

Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois, Democrat, told a press conference the other day, for example, that Republicans "ought to be indicted for murder in the first degree" if they "force". Eisenhower to seek a second term.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, Democrat, says it is "sadistic" to suggest that President Eisenhower, if not well enough to serve his fourth year might resign, or that, conversely, if he is well enough to stay in office a fourth year he could serve a second term.

What the Tennessee senator thinks is that there should be only one kind of comment on the President's health—a negative one. Apparently he doesn't want Eisenhower to run again, and neither does Senator Douglas.

MANY MEN WORKING

But there are lots of people who feel that a heart attack does not necessarily disqualify a man from serving his countrymen in the Presidency and there are physicians of note who concur.

Many men are today active in business and are carrying big responsibilities, though they suffered heart ailments of a serious nature. The President of the United States has a big job but he can also be protected against the time wasting ceremonies of his office and participation in celebrations of various kinds.

At this time when the whole world looks to President Eisenhower for guidance in the complicated business of the "cold war," it is natural that the people who want his steady hand in the White House should hope that the heart attack will not deprive them of his services.

IKE WOULD RESIGN

If Eisenhower is seriously ill, he is the kind of man who wouldn't stay in office a single day beyond the time the physicians told him so. He would resign. The Constitution takes account of that possibility by mentioning the word "resignation." In fact, Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, said in 1948 before the election that if Dewey won, President Truman should resign. His concern rightly was with the gap in government such as occurred when Hoover was defeated and for four months there was uncertainty about the monetary policites of the incoming Roosevelt administration.

What Fulbright was concerned about holds good in a case of disability or a fatal illness that might strike a president. It is that there should be no interregnum of uncertainty — a period in which the whole world is in doubt as to executive policies in Washington.

Because Eisenhower has been making such a splendid recovery, his many friends are hopeful he will run again. That wish comes from "right-wingers" and "left-wingers" and the only people who seem to be anxious for that not to happen are the Democratic politicians with a stake in the outcome. They want Ike eliminated because they think the Democrats then will win. They are mistaken, of course, because if the election were held today any Republican nominee would win and would carry both houses of Congress.

GOP BOUND TO WIN

What some of the Democratic spokesmen overlook is that their campaign will have to be waged on the Eisenhower record whether or not he is the candidate. The Democrats may find themselves in the position of denouncing Eisenhower politically even though he isn't a candidate.

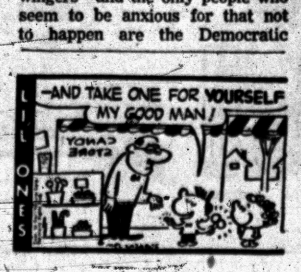

So it is beginning to be puzzling as to why there is so much eagerness on the Democratic side to see Ike decline a second nomination. For, as long as "peace and prosperity" prevail, the Republicans are bound to win the next election.

Actually the Democrats might make a stronger campaign against Eisenhower if he runs than against his record if he doesn't run because he would still be popular but in no position due to illness to answer his critics on the stump.

* * *

That would arouse resentment among the voters and tend to benefit the Republican ticket.

Half of American Youths Fail in Chinning Tryouts

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Michigan reader, telling how her parents lived to the age of 87 and 99 without any teeth or dentures, mentioned that her father could chin himself more times than any of his teenage grandsons could.

* * *

Oh, come, now, isn't that going a little too far? These grandsons, I take it, were or are Americans. Surely, Ma'am, you can't expect young Americans to chin themselves, run a mile, turn handspring and flips and all that there stuff? That sort of thing just isn't done by the namby-pamby youth of today.

In tests of physical strength of boys from 6 to 16 years of age less than a tenth of the European boys failed to pass, while half of the American boys failed. 'We've found so few boys can chin now that we've discontinued the test," said the director of physical educationand athletics at one American university.

The professor of physical education at another said "They still have leg muscles, but muscles in the shoulder girdle and in the arms have almost disappeared."

RAPS FOOTBALL

Isn't it about time to squelch for good and all and for the good of all, instead of the few, the evil of "varsity" football in our high schools? Even if football "training" is beneficial for boys who escape injuries, the benefit is restricted to the few at the expense of the many.

That is to say, not the dimes and dollars the student body is virtually forced to cough up for football equipment, but the cutting of classes and the neglect of proper high school activities in order to pamper and glorify the prima donnas of football.

It is painfully obvious, from the fact that so many boys can't chin themselves nowadays, that physical education in America is a costly farce.

EXPERTS WORRIED

No wonder the experts are worried about what is going to happen to America in the coming Olympic games.

This shameful fact is something for every American to ponder: Nearly four and a third millions of men from 18 to 25 years old were given pre-induction physical examinations in the seven years from 1948 to 1955. More than half of them, 2,248,000 were rejected on physical and mental grounds.

* * *

No, I'm afraid I can't chin myself now. I mean I'm afraid to try. Afraid the attempt might aggravate the pain, in the neck I've had since I last did my morning rolls, three or four weeks ago.

Whatever slight injury I sustained seems to be nearly healed and I don't want anything to interfere with resumption of my regular six rolls before breakfast in the next week.

When I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua we felt sorry for a kid who couldn't chin himself, turn handsprings, cartwheels and airsprings ("somersaults," as the quaint Dr. N. Webster calls 'em). I wonder who's turning them now — if Chapel Street kids are not too busy watching television and studying the comics.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

'Believer in Clean Sport' Grateful to Republicans

Well, this is another first for the Republicans . . . cleaning up the so-called sport of boxing. This disgraceful thing has been going on for years, and no one did anything about it until they got into power.

We sure hope they clean it up once and for all and keep it clean. How can they call it "Sport" when they have in it many pepole with criminal records?

Republicans have the numbers racket pretty well cleaned up, too. There is still a little around, but give them a little more time, and that will have to go, too, as did bingo.

TV has done lots to help clean up boxing. People can see for themselves, unlike when we depended on radio. Then they could say anything and get away with it. Now you can see what's going on and what a shameful sport it is.

Hal Boyle Says:

Poverty Placed Its Mark Upon Tennessee Williams

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's success story:

Tennessee Williams, who once wrote purely from hunger, has become one of the golden boys of the American writing scene.

He has been so successful that his friends have given him a new nickname: "Tennessee Millions."

* * *

At 41 the prolific author has turned out nine full-length plays, a volume of verse, two volumes of stories, and a collection of a dozen shorter plays called "Twenty-seven Wagons Full of Cotton."

He has completed for Paramount Pictures a film script of "The Rose Tattoo," starring Burt Lancaster and Anna Magnani—it is the third of his dramas he has adapted for the movies—and his "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is a top Broadway hit.

* * *

Most successful people credit their rise to hard work. Williams feels that his own fame came, in large measure, from the revolt stirred in him by his discovery of poverty and what it did to people.

Born in the Episcopal rectory of his grandfather in Columbus, Miss., he moved at the age of 12 to St. Louis, where his father worked as a salesman for a shoe firm. The family lived in one of a row of ugly brick apartment buildings "the color of dried blood and mustard."

* * *

In the South the young writer had been unaware of any distinctions based on wealth.

"But," he says, "we suddenly discovered there were two kinds of people. The rich and the poor, and that we belonged more to the latter.

"If I had been born to this situation I might not have resented it deeply. But it was forced upon my consciousness at the most sensitive age of childhood."

The shock resulted in a rebellion and a social consciousness which Williams feels still mark most of his writing. But the shock paid off well.

"I am glad that I received this bitter education," Williams once wrote, "for I don't think any writer has much purpose back of him unless he feels bitterly the inequities of the society he lives in.

"I have no acquaintance with political and social dialectics. If you ask what my politics are, I am a Humanitarian."

* * *

How did he get his odd first name? He picked it out himself.

As a boy he had published some lyric poetry, which he later decided was pretty awful, under his birth name—Thomas Lanier Williams.

"I felt the name had been compromised," he says, "so I changed it to Tennessee Williams, the justifiaction being mainly that the Williamses had fought the Indians for Tennessee and I had already discovered that the life of a young writer was going to be something similar to the defense of a stockade against a band of savages."

* * *

A depression product, it took Williams seven years to earn a college degree. Twice his health broke down in years during which he worked all day and wrote most of the night. He held such odd jobs as elevator operator, waiter, cashier, shoe firm clerk, teletype operator and movie usher.

"But there was never a moment when I did not find life to be immeasurably exciting to experience and witness," he recalls, "however difficult it was to sustain."

* * *

His bread crumb days ended when he left a $17 a week movie usher job for a Hollywood writing assignment at $250 a week.

Williams now can afford to travel anywhere in the world and write where he pleases. An associate recently said:

"The first money Tennessee earned as a writer was $25 for three sonnets. Now he gets at least $10 a word."

* * *

That's not bad—considering that President Calvin Coolidge when he left the White House received only a dollar a word for writing a daily column!

'Psychosomatic Medicine' Brings Cure for Paralysis of Hand After Wedding

Roberta also has a paralyzed right hand, but it was cured almost instantly. This is a perfect teaching case to illustrate what modern physicians call "psychosomatic medicine." Scrapbook these actual office cases, for they give you a chance to compile your own textbook of practical psychology.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-386: Roberta R., aged 23, is a new bride.

"But my right hand is paralyzed," she protested unhappily. "It was perfectly normal until after my marriage last week.

"But the very next morning when I woke up, it was numb. And it has been that way ever since.

"Dr. Crane, I am alarmed, for I don't want to have a paralyzed hand all my life.

"Is is polio or what? Please tell me what to do to make it well."

PSYCHOSOMATIC AILMENTS

A person's hand can hardly become totally paralyzed except by a deep cut that entirely encircles the wrist, for the nerve supply of the hand comes from three sources.

So Roberta had what we psychiatrists call "glove anesthesia". It is a psychological complex, much like the writer's cramp which I mentioned yesterday concerning the successful business executive.

To understand this interesting case, please recall the statement in the Bible:

"If thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and if thine hand offend thee, cut it off."

Roberta has figuratively cut off her offending hand!

There is an age-old tendency in the human race to pass the buck and thus blame segments of our anatomy for our own wrong behavior.

For example, there have been occasional instances where murderers were later so remorseful that they actually cut off the guilty hand that had plunged the dagger into their wife or child.

With this general background, you are ready for a more detailed explanation of Roberta's complex.

PSYCHIC HEIRLOOMS

Her apparent paralysis of the right hand is a psychological heirloom of her childhood training.

For Roberta had engaged in auto erotic practices when she was about 10 years old.

One day her mother apprehended her in the act, and was so shocked as well as incensed, that she forced Roberta to plunge the offending hand into a pail of hot water.

The water was so hot and her mother made her keep the naughty hand immersed so long, that it was numb when Roberta finally was allowed to remove it from the pail.

Please note that this situation occurred 13 years prior to her wedding day. And ostensibly Roberta had completely forgotten it, at least until our lengthy interview.

* * *

Meanwhile, she had refrained from any further indulgence in self sex practices.

But her mind had been indelibly impressed with the guilty association of erotic stimulation, followed by numbness of the right hand.

After her marriage, this old thought association was quickly revived, and although her erotic stimulation was not legitimate and a normal function of marriage, her right hand suddenly became numb.

For subconsciously she was again imposing a penalty upon herself, as her mother had so drastically taught her, 13 years earlier.

When I explained the background of her case and positively told her that her right hand would now move normally and she would have full feeling in it, sure enough, her hand was O.K.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Meet the Man Who Lost

Townsend Has Taken Niche in British Romantic History

LONDON (AP)—One day in January 1944, King George VI stepped from his office into a corridor in Buckingham Palace and said to a thin girl of 13 in a knee-length skirt:

"Come here Margaret, I want you to meet Peter Townsend, our new equerry.

"Townsend, this is my daughter Margaret."

That was the begiming of a romance that 11 years later focused the attention of the greater part of the world on the younger sister of Queen Elizabeth II. It was a romance that the memoir writers and historians will recount for generations, the story of the beautiful princess who chose family and duty and rejected marriage with a divorced commoner.

WHO IS TOWNSEND

People who know him casually call him "Sobersides," or "The Quiet One," or even, "a cold fish.' Peter Townsend is a many-sided man.

He spends hours sitting at home in an old robe reading poetry. The next day, as a gentleman rider, he goes out and rides a winning horse before 25,000 persons.

* * *

He kneels in prayer whenever he enters a church. During the Battle of Britain he was an aggressive fighter pilot. He shot down the first World War II German craft over Britain.

BEARCAT IN BATTLE

Just how tough this 5-foot-10, 150-pounder is was shown in the war. He attacked a German bomber formation in his Hurricane fighter. He knocked down one Heinkel but took a German burst in return. He was shot in the foot, soaked in gasoline and had to bail out at 14,000 feet over southeast England.

A big toe was amputated and a serious operation performed on his injured leg.

Two weeks later he was fighting again.

It was because King George wanted to reward gallantry instead of high birth that Peter Townsend was chosen as equerry.

An equerry is an aide who helps boss a large staff of royal helpers.

TOGETHER OFTEN

During the postwar years Townsend and Margaret were together often because of their official functions and because they had many things in common. They both loved horses and planes, and in numerous air races Townsend piloted Margaret's entries.

They especially saw a lot of each other during the annual Scottish holidays the royal family took in August and September at Balmoral Castle. Life was more informal there. They rode together often. There was less work for an equerry.

Rosemary Townsend seldom went to Balmoral. She remained at Adelaide cottage, entering only occasionally the roya social whirl.

During the early summer of 1953, just after the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, stories were published in American papers saying Princess Margaret and Townend were in love. British papers picked up the story. From that day Townsend's life never was the same.

POLITE EXILE

He was soon ordered to Brussels as air attache. Margaret, meanwhile, had gone on a state visit to Africa. When she heard Townsend had been sent off of England, she remained in her room for two days. It was reported that she was sick.

* * *

On an income of something less than $10,000 per year, Townsend has managed to live well in Brussels. His rank of group captain is equivalent to full colonel. But he never wears a uniform if he can go about in brown jodhpurs, a leather jacket and a turtleneck sweater.

Throughout 2½ years of "exile" in Belgium, Townsend remained in close contact with Princess Margaret by writing to Miss Iris Peake, lady-in-waiting to the princess.

Warren Township Votes to Become City

MOUNT CLEMENS (INS)—Warren Township has voted overwhelmingly to become a city.

The 34-square-mile area yesterday voted 4,142 to 1,537 to become a city. Voters also chose a nine-man commission to draw up a charter.

The new city will be the largest in Macomb County with a population of more than 55,000 and a total assessed valuation of $165 million.

It will be important industrially. Within its boundaries are the General Motors Technical Center, the Detroit Tank Arsenal, Chrysler and American Motors plants, the Naval Ordnance plant and several steel mills.

CITY'S BEST YO-YO ARTIST — James T. Bego II, age 10, of 261 Draper, proudly holds the trophy he received Saturday for winning the city-wide Yo-Yo Tournament, held at the Boys Club of Pontiac. Nearly 1,500 boys tried out for the contest, and James was tops among the 75 finalists who competed Saturday. At the left is Tom Thrasher, 13, of 8 N. Paddock, who placed third and won a pen and pencil set. Second place winner is George Prikogan, 15, (right) of 31 Mechanic St., who holds the desk pen set he received as his award.

McCarthy Authorized for Lone Hearings

BOSTON (AP) — Sens. Mundt (R-SD), Dirksen (R-Ill) and Potter (R-Mich) have testified that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was authorized to conduct one man hearings of the Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee.

* * *

The three senators testified yesterday at the trial of Leon J. Kamin, 27, a former Harvard research assistant, accused of contempt of Congress in refusing to name his former Communist associates.

Dirksen said McCarthy's one man hearing — such as the one at which Kamin admitted former Communist affiliations but refused to name his associates — had the subcommittee's tacit approval, at least.

* * *

"The policy of the subcommittee is the same as that on the Senate floor," he said. "If you don't voice disapproval of an action, then it constitutes approval."

Council Deeds Field After Hearing

ROMEO — The Village Council was authorized to give the Board of Education of the Romeo Community School District a deed to the old Athletic Field following a public hearing held last night.

The ends of East Washington and Harriet Streets extend onto the field, and it was necessary for the council to conduct the hearing in order to close the unused portions of the two streets before it could issue the deed.

An offer to purchase the field from the Romeo Lions Club has been accepted by the Board of Education. Now that the way is clear to complete the transaction, the local service club hopes to continue its original plan to develop the sites for use by children and adults of the community.

The council then drafted a resolution to begin blacktopping the Municipal Parking Lot on East St. Clair Street. Curbed gutters and parking meters will also be installed.

Dulles-Franco Meet for Parley

Subject of Discussion Withheld; Talk Lasts Hour and a Half

MADRID, Spain (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles conferred for an hour and a half with Generalissimo Franco today. The conference lated longer than expected and presumably included a renewed bid for increased U. S. financial aid to Spain.

* * *

Neither Dulles nor Franco made any statement on their discussions. Dulles said he would have a brief statement before flying back to the Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Geneva.

PAIR ALL SMILES

Dulles and Franco were smiling as they emerged from the conference. They shook hands and posed briefly for photographers.

Members of Dulles' party and officials of the Spanish foreign ministry were present during the conference. Dulles later attended a luncheon at the foreign ministry.

The conference, in Franco's office, was scheduled as a formal, perfunctory meeting, with the real business of the day to be taken up later by Dulles and Spanish Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo.

Dulles is the first U. S. secretary of state to visit Spain while in office.

Writer Predicts Ike Won't Run

Bob Considine Speaks at Dedication of Lansing Civic Center

LANSING (INS)—Bob Considine, noted International News Service correspondent, predicted last night that President Eisenhower will not run for re-election in 1956.

Considine, speaking at a banquet during the week-long dedication of Lansing's new $5.5 million civic center, said he thought the President would spend the rest of his time in the White House working to achieve lasting world peace.

Considine remarked that Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who addressed the banquet earlier, would attract a lot of attention next year at the Democratic National Convention. However, he declined to predict who would be the Democratic standard bearer in 1956.

The widely read columnist said President Eisenhower might try to arrange a Big Three conference in Washington before his term expires.

Considine said he thought the Republican Party would put great Pressure on Chief Justice Earl Warren to accept the GOP nomination when President Eisenhower steps down.

In recent years, he said, the Republicans' only success in electing a President has been by drafting a public figure outside of politics.

The writer pointed out that President Eisenhower was a military figure and that the last preceding GOP chief executive — Herbert Hoover—was not a practicing politician.

Hollywood Headlines:

Grace Munches Carrots to Keep Her Figure Trim

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Diet-conscious citizens may be happy to learn that Grace Kelly has weight problems, too.

This was disclosed during a call to the set of her first picture in over a year, "The Swan." It was late morning, and she offered some celery and carrot sticks. On her makeup table was a box of dried apricots. Nearby were some graham crackers.

She admitted that she does have to diet now and then.

"My mother is German," she explained. "And you know how the Germans love to eat. We all grew up with pretty healthy appetites."

How does she keep the Kelly curves under control? It starts with oatmeal in the morning.

* * *

"Oatmeal is best," she remarked munching on a carrot stick. "I have to get up at 6 to be at the studio on time. Oatmeal keeps me from getting hungry until 11. If you get hungry before that, then you get started on the doughnut routine, and that can be dangerous."

She has a light lunch, but usually succumbs to a big dinner. And sometimes she backslides with a heavy dessert, as she did at the City of Hope Dinner honoring the Los Angeles publishers. "Then I pay for it all week," she sighed.

* * *

She likes exercise but gets little while she's working. When she's in New York, she does a lot of walking.

She plans to return east next spring. Under her MGM contract, she is allowed a leave of absence to do a play. She's looking for one now.

Muzzle Loaders Being Dusted Off for Turkey Shoot

DEARBORN (INS) — They're going to have an old-fashioned turkey shoot at Greenfield Village Sunday, so bring your gun.

Only muzzle-loaded guns from the colonial to the Civil War period are eligible.

Some 75 members of gun clubs in Detroit and Port Huron will don everything from Civil War costumes to frontier buckskins and the garb of Mississippi riverboat gamblers equipped with dueling pistols.

Instead of Turkeys, supplied by the local inkeeper at Thanksgiving during colonial times, the Greenfield Village marksmen will aim at simulated turkey heads. Live turkeys will be awarded to the most accurate shooters.

An eight-man fife and drum corps from Port Huron will perform and an old-time bullet moulder will cast lead shot which will be given as souvenirs to the youngsters.

The "shoot" will be open to the public at regular Village admission prices.

A NEW HOME — A foster father opens the door for two new "members of the family," youngsters who need the love and care of substitute parents for awhile. They were placed in this home by the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Last year the agency provided 27,409 days of care to Oakland County children.

Children's Aid Society Brings Help to Youngsters Through UF Money

Life might have been different for Susan and Michael if not for the United Fund.

Theirs was an average American home—then their mother died suddenly.

Their father was beside himself with worry. How could he care for his children and still keep his job at the plant? An immigrant from Italy, he had no relatives to help.

Then he learned of the Michigan Children's Aid Society to which he'd contributed through the Pontiac Area United Fund. The Children's Aid told him he would not have to lose his youngsters.

Susan and Michael could be placed temporarily in a foster home, the father was informed.

With aid from the society, the father worked out a budget indicating all he could give toward the children's support. At first the agency helped pay for clothing and medical care. It discussed with him future plans for the youngsters.

The parent paid regular visits to his children at the foster home while saving money to rent a house of his own and hire a housekeeper. The family is back together again now, and the father has repaid every cent advanced him by the Children's Aid.

The agency admitted 172 children for care in 1954. Its services are five-fold: Adoption, aid to unmarried mothers, temporary boarding care, supervision of children in their own homes and institutional care for old girls.

The society is a non-sectarian, state-wide organization supported almost entirely by UF and Community Chest donations, except for funds received from parents.

The Pontiac branch, 318 National Building, serves all Oakland County.

Parents Vindicated for 'Punishing' Son

DETROIT (AP)—A recorder's court jury yesterday acquitted Anthony Meskoutis and his wife, Stella, of a charge of cruelty in switching their 10-year-old son, George.

* * *

The jury heard testimony that little George was punished after pulling several handsful of hair from his mother's head.

Witnesses testified the boy got into an argument with his mother and pulled her hair. The defense also offered testimony that George was an habitual runaway and was "mean" around the house.

Police had accused the couple of beating the boy with a switch from a lilac bush and chaining him to a bed last Aug. 17.

Divorced Gloria Gets Custody of 2 Children

NEW YORK (AP)—Heiress Gloria Vanderbilt says her divorce from conductor Leopold Stokowski restores her maiden name and gives her custody of their two children.

Terms of the divorce, obtained on grounds of incompatibility in a Juarez, Mex., court Saturday, were discussed by the 31-year-old brunette at a news conference yesterday.

She said she has no romantic interest at present.

Stokowski was given unrestricted visiting rights to be with the children, she continued, and would cooperate in rearing them.

The decree was to become final yesterday or today. It provides no alimony, Miss Vanderbilt said, except that Stokowski will support their two sons.

Young Culprits Sought: Thefts Were Revealing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police yesterday reported five break-ins at city schools over the weekend—and they're pretty sure the burglars were youthful.

Stolen from the schools: 60 cents, two pint-sized bricks of ice cream and two children's games.

Road of the Lilacs

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The State Highway Department says its forestry division has purchased 1,000 lilac bushes to plant this fall in the parkway dividing M-21 between Grand Rapids and Holland in a combined beauty and safety project. The program was inaugurated by civic leaders of the area.

He Has Torrid, Dangerous Love --- Africa

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—I've heard sad stories in my life, but none has quite touched the heart as deeply as Weldon King's.

* * *

Weldon is a tall, handsome man, and he's in love.

"I love her, that's for sure, but settling down is impossible," he says. "For one thing, she's miserably hot and offers any number of dangers. Why, the last time I saw her I got malaria and the time before that, blood poisoning.

"A man can take just so much, and then. . ."

By this time, you must have surmised that Weldon King loves a torrid dame with arsenic-tipped fingernails—which just shows how silly surmising can be.

What he's in love with is Africa, land of the Mau Mau and home of the shrunken head, from which he has just returned with hundreds of color photos and a mild case of tick bite fever.

* * *

"Riduculous, isn't it? She's nearly ruined me a couple of times—you should've seen the cobra that nearly didn't get away—and yet I've got to go back." Next January he will, for the fourth time.

EARLY FASCINATION

King is a professional photographer whose works have appeared on the covers of most of the slick magazines, and his fascination for the Congo began at an early age when his father, a foreign sales director for a large company, was the first man to cross Africa by car.

* * *

Papa King brought back souvenirs to little Weldon; spears, knives, snake-belly drums and so on, and Weldon was enamored of the whole idea.

As he was not interested in geology, diamond-mining, hunting or appearing in "Tarzan" pictures, he took up the one profession he thought might get him three: Camera studies.

After a thorough briefing at the New York Institute of Photography, he went to Africa—the first time in '47.

"It was wonderful," he remembers. "That's where you learn the real meaning of live and let live. Most of the people are friendly enough with you, if you're friendly with them. Even the animals will not charge—usually—if you don't molest them."

* * *

When King says "usually," he is making a few minor exceptions.

"The rhinoceros, for instance, will charge with no apparent provocation. Don't know where he got such a civilized man's flaw.

DANGEROUS CLICK

"And some other animals are nervous. For instance, elephants don't generally pay much attention to you, but they will charge if they're surprised. With their keen sense of hearing, the click of a camera is liable to startle them. This is somewhat dangerous."

* * *

Weldon, who has clicked and run twice under such circumstances, knows.

A native of Springfield, Mo., the photographer will spend a brief time at home before returning to his love. There is no change, none at all," that he will marry—as he sees it.

"There are a few girls from time to time in Africa—people like Grace Kelly and Ava Gardner, making films, you know," he says coolly, "but they never stay very long. It's not a country for women.

* * *

"But it sure is the country for me!"

Don't Tip Housemaid After Meal

By EMILY POST

"The other evening, I had a heated discussion with a friend on the subject of tipping. The question concerned the propriety of tipping the maid in a friend's house when invited there to dinner.

"My friend said it is considered an 'international' custom to tip the waitress for the additional work involved. I said that it is improper to do this and, in fact, might be indirectly considered an insult to one's hostess in regard to her not paying an adequate wage.

"My sugestion was to send a little gift (not necessarily personal) the next time you are invited to dinner. I would appreciate hearing from you on this much discussed problem."

Answer: In different degrees you are both wrong. A guest is never expected to tip anyone after merely dining or lunching in someone's house. It is an obligation to tip all who have waited on you when you take leave after being a houseguest for overnight or longer.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When the main course of a meal has been eaten, it was always my understanding that the knife and fork were laid side by side on the plate with the prongs of the fork pointing up.

"My husband always leaves the fork with the prongs down. He says that he was taught to do this at boarding school and that it means you have finished eating. Which is correct?"

Answer: In this country, the fork is usually laid down with prongs up. There are, however, countries abroad in which it is customary to put the monogram (or crest) on the back of forks, and then they are placed with prongs down.

But whenever fork and knife or any two implements are placed close together, this means you have finished eating — whether prongs are up or down.

The 50th anniversary celebration of the founding of Sigma Delta Teacher's sorority was held Saturday at Devon Gables. Mrs. C. A. Harris of East Iroquois road, president; Mrs. Peter Vandermade of Detroit, charter member of the sorority, and Mrs. Elma Waterman of Green street (left to right) chairman of the affair, met for a friendly chat just before dinner.

Brrr! Style World Sees Cold Winter

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The weather prophets are doing a lot of hedging these days about what kind of a winter it's going to be. Even those traditional weather indicators, the woolly bears, seem to be all confused. At last report half of the socalled fuzzy-wuzzies had wide stripes and half had narrow stripes, and it looked like the beginning of a cold war on the weather front.

* * *

As for me, I'll ignore the woolly bears and take my weather predictions from the coat-and-suit manufacturers. And according to the boys in the garment district, this is going to be a winter to remember.

For the first time since most of them can remember, retailers around the country are ordering winter coats for January delivery. Now this amounts to revolution in the garment industry, where they sell winter coats in June and spring dresses in November.

* * *

Nobody seems to know quite why this sudden demand for winter coats has arisen, except that maybe people are better weather prophets than woolly bears or moss on trees. And any merchandising man can tell you that a store buyer has to have a sixth sense about what people are going to wear.

Designer Vera Maxwell says stores are reordering heavy wool dresses and coats right now, while she is opening her spring collection, and adds:

"It's enough to drive you crazy. Maybe if we do have a hard winter it will bring the seasons back to normal in the fashion business.

* * *

"We've been selling full length mink coats all summer in preparation for cold weather ahead," she says. "We've sold more fur coats this year than ever—and we've hardly had the first frost yet."

Just to wrap it all up, Samuel Schulman, president of the Associated Fur Mfrs. says happily:

"Already people have bought more fur coats than ever before, and the winter isn't started yet. Fur coat sales are 15 per cent ahead of last year. Stores are preparing for a long, cold and busy winter. This year people who never owned a fur coat before are buying them."

I've always thought it's idiotic, anyway, to sell winter clothes in May and June and summer clothes in January."

Clear Out Closets

Do you clear out the clothes you don't wear at least twice a year? Or do you let them hang there, taking up closet space they don't deserve? Best plan is to weed out the ones that never go places and give them to someone who can use them.

Marriage Vows Repeated by Suzanne M. Fairbanks

In an 8 o'clock candlelight ceremony Oct. 22 in the First Assembly of God Church, Suzanne Martha Fairbanks became the bride of Robert Bruce Fields.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Jane Fairbanks of Walled Lake and Henry Fairbanks of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Fields of Lincoln Avenue are parents of the bridegroom.

A floor-length gown of French Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was worn by the bride. Her fingertip veil was secured by a Mary Queen of Scots cap trimmed with seed pearls.

A double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry, and she carried her prayerbook on which an orchid was arranged with orange blossoms and ivy.

* * *

Joan Gore of Walled Lake was maid of honor wearing a floor-length gown of rose velvet with a matching headpiece. She carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

ATTEND COUPLE

Robbie Shafias, niece of the bridegroom, served the bride as flower girl and David Fairbanks, the bride's brother, was ringbearer.

* * *

Performing the duties of best man was Len Drake of Walled Lake. Howard and Nelson Fields seated the guests.

Mrs. Fairbanks was wearing a pink satin sheath dress with matching accessories when she received her guests at the reception held in Knights of Pythias Hall immediately following the ceremony. An orchid corsage completed her costume.

A beige lace dress with matching accessories was chosen by the bridegroom's mother. She also wore an orchid corsage.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home in Pontiac.

Glamor Pays Off to Tune of $50-an-Hour for New York Fashion Model

This is the second of ten articles by a famed reporter on the professional and private lives of America's top models.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

Glamor plays off.

At least it does for sleek-looking Jean Patchett, the "92-cents-a-minute" New York fashion model whose first job was in a grocery store in her home town of Preston, Md.

* * *

Patchett, as she is known in the trade, is just about the "No. 1 model' in town, although there are several others who might dispute this envied distinction. She makes $50 an hour posing for fashion advertisements and is in such demand she could step her rate up to $60 an hour if she wanted to.

She is referred to by some competent judges in the profession as "the queen of the models."

She is slim, 5 feet 9 and weighs 117 pounds in her stocking feet. She always looks as if she had just emerged from the bathtub. She has blonde hair, dark brown eyes and photographic features.

Virtually every magazine on the nation's newstands carries advertisements which are glamorized by the face and form of the stunning-looking Jean. She has "what it takes" to show off an expensive mink stole, a Paris-inspired gown, an opera coat or a pair of spike-heeled sandals. She looks classy in a limousine, too, or at the wheel of a motor boat.

DOZEN PERSONALITIES

Jean is as versatile as she is photogenic. She seems to have the ability to assume a dozen different personalities in an incredible short space of time.

I had an 11:45 a.m. appointment to interview Miss Patchett at Somoroff's Photographic Studio in Manhattan, where she was due to pose before the camera for a variety of fashion pictures at noon.

She showed up right on time.

"I'm always on time," she said, in her brisk, business-like way. "I think when you are paid 98 cents a minute—or is it 92 cents?—you ought to be on time. It's an insult to be late for any appointment."

* * *

As she deftly applied her make-up before a mirror in her dressing room, Miss Patchett reeled off some facts about herself and her job.

HUSBAND A BANKER

She said she is 29 years old and happily married. Her husband is Louis Auer, a New York banker. They were married four years ago in the Church of the Ascension in Manhattan. They have no children —as yet.

In response to questions, Miss Patchett said:

"I love modeling. I adore New York. I wouldn't be modeling if I didn't like it.

"Every day is different in this business. It's rather exciting. Of course, there's a bit of tension in it at times.

* * *

"But it enables you to make your own life. Now that I'm doing well in the profession, and am in demand, I don't have to work if I don't want to. I can write my own ticket, pick my own spots.

TRAVELS ABROAD

"Modeling has its alluring angles. It has paid me well and enabled me to see all kinds of interesting places. In my modeling for the fashion magazines I've had trips to Paris, to Spain, Mexico, Peru, Cuba, Nassau, Bermuda, Canada and elsewhere."

Jeans life story to date is that of a small-town girl who made good in the big-time. She was born in Preston, Md., population 395, the daughter of J. Frank Patchett, a plumbing contractor. She has two sisters and a brother all married, with children.

"This sounds like a tape recorder," she quipped, as she reeled off the facts.

* * *

Her first job was in a grocery store in Preston. But she was pretty and she dreamed of bigger and better things. At the age of 16, she went to a secretarial school in Baltimore.

ATTENDS COLLEGE

She worked as a secretary for a year and a half but knew this was not what she wanted. She then went to Goucher's College in Baltimore, a girl's school, for three years. After this educational stint she returned to Preston.

But she was "quite unhappy" in the home town and decided to strike out for New York. She was smart, good-looking, practical and ambitious. She borrowed money from her dad and headed for the big town.

She tried for a modeling job. For three months she couldn't get any work so she switched agencies. She joined up with the important Ford Model Agency, run by Eileen Ford, a former model, and her husband, Gerard.

$600 1ST MONTH

Jean began to click at once and she has been going great ever since. The first month with Ford—March, 1948—she earned $600. She promptly paid back the money she borrowed from her father.

* * *

Today she is just about tops in her profession and one of the most sought-after models in the business.

"I work from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., keeping appointments here and there around town," said Miss Patchett. "I work three and one-half days a week.

"No, I'm not a $60 an hour model —I'm $50 an hour. I could get $60. But $50 an hour is enough. If you take $60 it puts you in a higher bracket, tax-wise. If I took $60 I'd have to take off another day a week so as not to get up into that higher bracket, and I won't do that."

'NOTHING OFF-BEAT'

Questioned about her private life, she hastened to say there was "nothing off-beat" about it.

* * *

"There wasn't anything off-beat before I was married, either," she smiled. "I ran my business professionally even when I was single."

She said she and her banker-husband lead "quite normal" lives. They go to the movies a great deal and rarely visit night clubs. They eat home five nights a week. Jean says she can cook "pretty good—considering the little time I have to devote to it."

Her hobby is golf. The best score she ever shot, however, was 106. She and her husband golf together in West Hampton, L.I., where they have what Jean describes as "a little house."

Asked what is her ambition, now that she has done so well as a model, she replied:

"Only to have a family. I have no ambition to go into the movies, or anything like that. I have been asked to go into the movies about twelve times but I turned the offers down."

STOPPED ON STREET

Commenting on the anonymity of fashion models in spite of the fact that their faces are familiar to the readers of newspaper and magazine advertisements, Miss Patchett said:

"Thats where we've got it on the movie stars. We keep it professional-like. And yet I am often stopped on the street and asked if I don't pose for the magazines."

She added that she doesn't have time to answer her fan mail.

As she put it:

"I haven't time to write to my own Mother."

Helen Stringer Wed in Italian Lace

A gown of Italian lace and nylon tulle was worn by Helen Goldie Stringer Saturday noon when she became the bride of Robert Jay B. McCallum. The Rev. Theodore Scala of St. George Greek Orthodox Romanian Church performed the ceremony.

The neckline of the bridal gown was trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. Her headpiece trimmed with seed pearls secured a finger tip veil of illusion. A pearl necklace and tiny pearl earrings were her only jewelry. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias centered with two pink cymbidium orchids.

Guardians of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Bondale street. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCallum of Lyford street.

Bridal attendants wore waltz-length gowns of chiffon with picture hats and matching satin slippers. Their flowers harmonized with the shade of their dresses. Attending Helen were Mary Cojocar, Margie Stringer, Ann Davis, Donna Lou McCallum, Janet Zatik, Carol Borsvold and Nancy Bohas of Dearborn and Eleanor Davis. They were gowned in shades of pink, orchid, aqua, yellow, mint-green, powder-blue, periwinkle-blue and dusty rose respectively.

* * *

Gerald McCallum was best man. Ushers were Paul Miller, LeRoy Brock, Kenneth Ish, Gus Cojocar, Bud Lane and John McCallum of Detroit and Bill McCallum of Owendale.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Davis wore a blue chiffon gown with a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. McCallum wore a rose crepe dress and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The bride changed to a cocoa brown suit with dark brown accessories and wore the pink orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet when the couple left on their honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and New York City.

United at a noon ceremony Saturday were Helen Goldie Stringer and Robert Jay McCallum. The bride's guardians are Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Bondale street. Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCallum of Lyford street are parents of the bridegroom.

Compromise Might Have Saved Romance

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Parents have a right to their own opinions. They also have the right to inflict them on their offspring. The trouble starts when those opinions are thrust down the throats of other people's offspring Boy friends of yours, I mean.

* * *

If only you could be left to work things out for yourself. If you could be allowed to obey your parents in principle, — while you get things smoothed out according to your own ideas with the person most concerned.

* * *

Compromise would have been possible in this case. This girl and her boy friend could have stayed friends if her parents hadn't insisted on literal obedience. But here's the story.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went steady with him for about two months. Then my mother and my teacher got together on the subject and decided that my boy friend was interfering with my schoolwork, so they made us break up.

"I like him so much and I hear that he still likes me. I think the real reason mother made us break up was because he came over every night and always seemed to call at the wrong time.

"When I heard he still liked me, I tried to talk to my mother but she said I'm too young to be thinking about a boy all the time. (After all, I'm almost 15).

"We're in the same class so I see him every day. We always talk to each other, but that's as far as it goes. Is it too late to do anything? Please tell me how to get straightened out with him, and with my mother?"

Answer: Your breakup was very sudden and complete. And it hasn't really achieved its purpose. You're still thinking about the boy all the time though you aren't having your home disturbed by his constant presence.

The strain of liking him without being permitted to be with him comfortably haunts you. The awkwardness of not knowing what he thinks about you rides you hard.

Your parents could have told you that you were seeing too much of the boy and insisted that you slow things down. And you could have broken the news to your boy friend and, between you, arrived at a new routine.

He would have understood that his regular evening visits kept you from doing your homework. He could have been made to see that you have to work hard for your marks — and you weren't working at all because of him. He'd have cooperated by showing up only on weekends, or for short spells after school in the afternoon.

Is it too late to do anything now? What can you do but explain to him fully just what went wrong? Don't blame it all on him, either.

Tell him you still like him, and hope out loud that he still likes you. Hold out the promise of better days when you get on top of your schoolwork. See, too, if that promise won't sway your parents.

Mrs. LeDoux Uses Chocolate Bits to Make Brownies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When we attended a meeting recently at the Mothers' Club of the Boys Club, we acquired a number of interesting recipes—and met some nice people. Mrs. Edna M. LeDoux gave us her special recipe for Brownies.

Mrs. LeDoux, of course, has a son in the Boys Club; that explains her membership in the mothers' group. She also belongs to a household club where members meet to exchange homemaking ideas. Her favorite occupation is cooking and finding new recipes.

BROWNIES

By Mrs. Edna M. LeDoux

1 package chocolate bits
½ cup shortening
2 eggs
1½ cups sugar
½ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate with shortening over hot, not boiling water. Beat eggs until thick, add sugar and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and add to eggs and sugar. Add chocolate mixture and vanilla. Pour into a greased pan and sprinkle nuts on top. Bake 25 minutes in a 375-degree oven. Cool before cutting into squares.

Select Volunteer Work You Enjoy

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many a woman who has done volunteer work all her life, and suddenly needs a paying job, finds that nobody values her past experience.

* * *

Too often, she moans: "It's all been wasted." But if she had selected her volunteer work correctly in the first place, it would not have been wasted.

So, before you become a volunteer-martyr, make sure you aren't doing the wrong kind of work.

TO DEVELOP TALENTS

Volunteer work, remember, is done not only to help the organization but also to develop you as a human being.

* *

Therefore, if it is not the right work for you, work that you do with pleasure and skill, it defeats its purpose on both counts.

The sociable, gossipy, friendly woman should be raising money, ringing doorbells, or answering phones. She should not be keeping files, ordering supplies, or handling the deliveries.

If you like children and are impatient with the elderly, don't go hogwild as a do-gooder and work in geriatrics. You belong with the kids and should stick with them.

That way, you will be of maximum help and you will be developing your own skills and aptitudes at the same time.

Most organizations know this. Many of them have broken down all their jobs into categories, based on individual aptitude and interest patterns.

* * *

If the organization you want to serve has not yet done so, have a talk with them before you begin and tell them where you would like to work.

Even if this makes them impatient in the beginning, it will be far better for them in the end, because you'll show up more regularly, stay longer and do better work.

* * *

And then a miracle happens.

You will develop and grow in your work, so that when the day comes that you want to go into a paying job, you take with you an aura of success and self-confidence and you get hired!

I recently analyzed over a hundred cases in my files, of women who successfully made the transition from volunteer top aid jobs, and in over 80 per cent of the cases the women had selected the right volunteer work in the first place.

Chapter of Story League Marks First Anniversary

The Pontiac Branch of the National Story League is now one year old, having been organized in Oct. 1954 at the home of Mrs. J. R. Shaffer on State Avenue. Present at the organizational meeting were Mrs. Oscar Schmidt, Mrs. R. K. Boggs, Laura Cobb and the hostess, Mrs. Shaffer.

During the first year of organization the group has met the requirements of the National Story League and has become affiliated.

Service is stressed within the club, and members respond to calls for service in schools, churches, children's and old folks homes, hospitals and wherever there is a need for a story.

In ancient days story telling was the greatest of all arts. It was looked upon with as much reverence and consideration as painting or sculpturing.

ART REVIVED

For a time the art of story telling died but was revived again on the campus of the University of Tennessee when the National Story League was organized.

There are now 150 Story Leagues over the nation, divided into three districts. A national convention is held every two years and in the intervening year the districts meet.

This year two delegates from the Pontiac organization, Laura Cobb and Julia Dalzell, attended the 16th biennial convention of the Central District held at Terre Haute, Ind.

Surgeons Probe Excessive Fees

Medical Group Studies Complaints of 'Too High' Operating Charges

CHICAGO (AP)—Do some or many surgeons charge fees that are too high?

* * *

The American College of Surgeons today announced it is launching a special study of surgical fees.

A committee of "six or seven distinguished surgeons" will investigate the fee matter, making a preliminary report to regents of the college about mid-December, said Dr. I. S. Ravdin, of Philadelphia, chairman of the ACS board of regents.

"Statements have been made that in many instances exorbitant fees have been charged. We intend to look into this matter, and find out if it is so," Dr. Ravdin told newsmen.

NOT WHITE WASH

He said the regents had unanimously approved appointing the investigating committee. He declined to name the members, saying they could best do their work if their names were not made public.

"This is not a white-washing committee," Dr. Ravdin declared. "We will make public whatever it finds, if there is anything to make public. We won't hide anything when we get the report."

* * *

The College of Surgeons made news several years ago in announcing its opposition and a campaign against fee-splitting. It defined fee-splitting as a sharing of a fee between a surgeon and a physician who referred the patient to the surgeon, without specific billing for the services that each had performed.

Holland Plant Opening

HOLLAND (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce announced Monday that a branch of the Vanderby Co., of Hammond, Ind., established in this community, expects to begin operations before next weekend in the production of kitchen cabinets and sink tops.

Sea pressure reaches seven tons per square inch at a depth of 6½ miles.

Rip Van Winkle

In colonial days a Dutch settler named Rip Van Winkle lived in the Hudson River Valley. With his dog Wolf he was hunting in the Catskill Mountains. As he started home near sunset, he was called on to help a weird little man carry a keg up a steep cliff. They met a group of other little men playing ninepins, a bowling game. Not a word was spoken.

The sound of the rolling balls echoed through the mountains like peals of thunder. Rip and Wolf watched from a rocky point nearby and at last Rip fell asleep.

When he awakened it was a bright sunny morning. His dog was gone. An old rusty gun lay beside him. His clothes were in rags, and he had a long gray beard.

When he hobbled back to his hometown, no one knew him. Children stared at him fearfully. Dogs barked.

Finally someone remembered the story of a man who had disappeared 20 years before. Rip's little daughter, now grown up and married, welcomed him to her home.

Paste this picture on cereal box cardboard, color it and cut it out. Fold the back part forward at the dotted line. Fold back the small support. Cut out around Rip along the dotted line. Fold him forward. Now he and Wolf can watch the game of ninepins.

Surplus Stocks Hurt Farmers

Excessive Productions Prevent Rise in Prices, Senate Delegation Told

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP) — The traveling Senate Agriculture Committee is finding that many farmers look upon the government's seven billion dollar stock of farm surpluses as the villain back of their troubles.

* * *

At the hearings here, as well as at hearings in the Midwest last week, farmer after farmer expressed the view that if the government would only get rid of its big stocks of wheat, cotton, and other products, farm prices would rise quickly to satisfactory levels.

Some farmers said they saw little chance of better time for agriculture as long as the surpluses exist.

* * *

Proposals that the surplu be destroyed were made by two farmers at the hearings here yesterday.

Many farmers told the committee they could not understand why, with so much hunger in the world, the surpluses cannot be put to use abroad. Some blamed State Department "interference" for what they considered inadeqate efforts to sell the surpluses abroad.

* * *

The committee found support here for Midwestern suggestions that the government undertake a broad program of curtailing production until the surpluses can be disposed of and until farm production is adjusted to needs.

Experts say that no gland extract treatment has been found to help mentally deficient people.

Michigan Still 3rd Despite Great Win Over Iowa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maryland, Oklahoma and Michigan, continuing a race that's knotted up like a coach's nerves on the eve of a big game, still are 1-2-3 in the national college football ratings.

* * *

The seventh weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters drew the season's heaviest vote, but it left the situation unchanged with Maryland on top by a scant handful of points.

The tabulation of 220 ballots brought Maryland 74 first-place votes and a total of 1,884 points—counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Just behind came Oklahoma with 54 firsts and 1,852 points then Michigan with 63 for 1,774.

A week ago, with fewer votes cast, Maryland topped Oklahoma by just 30 points.

* * *

The fact that Michigan outscored Oklahoma on the first-place ballots but trailed on points, wasn't voting. Navy, soundly beaten by Notre Dame, didn't drop into the obscurity usually accorded to losers. The Tars lost their fourth-place rating to Michigan State but salvaged ninth place. The victory of the Irish impressed the voters so much that they hopped from ninth to sixth and almost drew even with UCLA.

* * *

All-winning West Virginia, a 39-0 winner over Marquette last Saturday, held onto seventh. Resurgent Georgia Tech and Texas Christian took over the 8th and 10th places the only oddity of this week's as Auburn and Southern California dropped out.

* * *

Maryland first moved to the top this year in the second regular-season poll after beating UCLA 7-0. Although the Terps have continued by imposing scores, Michigan ousted them from the top for a couple of weeks, only to drop back after two close calls.

* * *

Meanwhile it dawned on the experts that Oklahoma's "rebuilding year" team was walloping its Big 7 rivals just like the great Oklahoma teams of past years had done and the Sooners began attracting support. West Virginia, the only other unbeaten team in the Top '10, hasn't met opposition of the same calibre played by the first three.

* * *

Next Saturday may provide additional data to compare the top three teams. Missouri, which lost to Maryland by a point and to Michigan by 35 in its first two games, is Oklahoma's next opponent. Missouri finally got off the losing side last week by upsetting Colorado.

* * *

Maryland plays Lousiana State, a team which has occasionally disturbed the ranking powers but hasn't beaten them, and Michigan takes on the same sort of rival in Illinois.

The leading teams with won-lost records and first-place votes in parentheses (points on 10 for first place, 9-8-7, etc.)

1.	Maryland (7-0) (74)	1,884
2.	Oklahoma (6-0) (54)	1,852
3.	Michigan (6-0) (63)	1,774
4.	Michigan State (5-1) (7)	1,312
5.	UCLA (6-1) (3)	1,213
6.	Notre Dame (5-1) (1)	1,207
7.	West Virginia (6-0) (16)	869
8.	Georgia Tech (6-1)	597
9.	Navy (6-1)	305
10.	Texas Christian (6-1) (2)	282
	THE SECOND TEN
11.	Ohio State (4-2)	161
12.	Texas A&M (5-1-1)	135
13.	Miami (Ohio) (6-0)	91
14.	Auburn (4-1-1)	79
15.	Mississippi (6-1)	70
16.	Southern California (5-2)	35

Title Decided, Stress Is Off

INTER-LAKES LEAGUE

	W	L	T	PF	PA	OA
Van Dyke	5	0	0	102	38	6-1
Waterford	4	1	0	178	35	5-2
Southfield	3	2	0	77	59	4-3
Farmington	2	3	0	47	84	3-4
Walled Lake	1	4	0	114	73	2-4-1
Berkley	0	5	0	6	207	0-7

Last Friday's Results—Van Dyke 20, Walled Lake 19; Waterford 7, Southfield 0; Farmington 13, Berkley 6.

It's all over but the shouting as far as conference play is concerned for Inter-Lakes gridders. This Friday will write an anti-climax, last chapter, to the season's record book as four I-L elevens clash with non-league opponents to close out their campaigns while Berkley and Van Dyke each has 2 non-league games left.

What shouting there is to be heard seems to be coming from the direction of Van Dyke, Waterford and possibly Farmington. From Berkley only a faint soon-to-die-out yell.

There is plenty of reason for cheer around Van Dyke for the Abes took home the I-L crown last Friday night for the only perfect mark in the circuit. Skippers are proud of their 1st winning year in football since 1947, not to mention that Dave Freeman's boys finished close on the heels of the champion Abes.

Celebration at Farmington is for the Falcons, who pulled out of their last place finish of last year and gathered in 4th place honors this season. The dim sound from Bearland is for senior quarterback Marv Bennett who scored Berkley's lone TD of loop play against Farmington last week. Bears had a winless league season after being 1954 I-L champs.

For the remaining two schools, Southfield and Walled Lake, there is not too much joy. Jays have nothing to sob about but head mentor Monte Charles has the answer why the Blue and White are not celebrating their 3rd place finish.

"The boys all felt this was our year for the title and they worked hard for it. The game with Van Dyke (Jays lost 25-7) took everything out of us," he pointed out.

Vikings from Walled Lake fell from their 1954 tie for 3rd place to finish 5th this season. Tom Evans and company will probably never forget that they came within one point of upsetting Van Dyke.

Final card for I-L teams Friday: Milford (W-O) at Waterford, 3:30, Plymouth at Walled Lake; Red ford Union at Southfield, 3:30; Ypsilanti at Berkley; Bentley at Farmington, 3:30 and Hazel Park at Van Dyke.

Colorado Aggie's Weber Gives 'll' Title Dreams

DENVER (AP)—The play of center Bob Weber, a key man in the Colorado A&M football team, has caught the eye of the Rocky Mountain board that nominates players for the AP All-America team.

Weber is singled out as one of the reasons the C-Aggies are undefeated in five Skyline Conference games and are close to their first league title since 1927.

* * *

"There isn't a better center in the conference," said Coach Bob Davis of the Aggies. "He's a very fine blocker and an even better tackler. He's our defensive quarterback—he calls our defensive formations."

Along with being smart in football ways, the 22-year old, 190-pound junior, is an inspirational leader for the team. Although a junior, this is Weber's third year of varsity ball. He played as a freshman and sophomore, went into service, and then returned to A&M.

* * *

"He's the take-charge guy of the Aggie line which has been vastly underrated in the team's success," reported J. D. Kailer, sports editor of the Albuquerque Journal and a member of the regional nominating board. "He's a vicious all around player."

Tracy Makes Pro Star Team

Ex-Maple, Vols Ace, Only Ottawa Player on Offense Team

TORONTO (AP)—Montreal Alouettes today placed seven players on the 1955 Big Four (Canadian) all-star offensive football team.

It is a squad that for the 3rd straight season includes only one Canadian, emphasizing once again the key roles that imports play in each club's attack. The Canadians, however, gave the import talent a better battle for spots on the defensive all-star and another going to a former American now ranked as a non-import.

The teams were selected for the Canadian press by football writers, sportscasters and coaches in the four league cities.

The offensive team—Flying wing—Joey Pal, Montreal; half (plunging)—Pat Abruzzi, Montreal; half—Lou Kusserow, Hamilton; half—Tom Tracy, Ottawa (Birmingham, Mich.); quarter—Sam Etcheverry, Montreal; center—Tom Hugo, Montreal; guard—Herb Trawick, Montreal; guard—Bill Albright, Toronto; tackle—Tex Coulter, Montreal; tackle—Billy Shipp, Toronto; end—Red O'Quinn, Montreal; end—Al Pfeifer, Toronto.

The defensive team—Safety—Johnny Pedosoff, Hamilton; half—Hal Patterson, Montreal; half—Avatus Stone, Ottawa; half—Lou Kusserow, Hamilton; secondary—Tom Hugo, Montreal; secondary—Frank Dempsey, Ottawa; guard—Vince Scott, Hamilton; guard—Eddie Bevan, Hamilton; tackle—Tex Coulter, Montreal—Tackle—Billy Shipp, Toronto; end—Doug McNichol, Montreal; end—Pete Neumann, Hamilton.

Injuries Hit Rams Prior to 49er Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams will be without the services of their star pass-catching end, Bob Boyd, and may not have quarterback Norman Van Brocklin when they line up here Sunday against the San Francisco '49ers.

Boyd was hurt last Sunday by a crushing tackle by George Connors of the Chicago Bears and left the game for good, Van Brocklin hurt his passing hand early in the game but stayed on for some time. The hand is badly swollen and indications are that Billy Wade will run the Rams Sunday.

The Rams and the Baltimore Colts are tied for first place in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

Providence Line Leads Scoring Race in AHL

NEW YORK (AP)—The high-scoring forward line of Zellio Toppazzini, Paul Larivee and Camille Henry of the league-leading Providence Reds paces the American Hockey League in scoring, according to statistics released today.

Toppazzini, who has had several tryouts in the National Hockey League, was the pace-setter with 20 points on 9 goals and 11 assists.

EYE CATCHER — Brooklyn's Danny Giovanelli can't quite get his guard up as he takes a short right on the corner of his eye thrown by Italian-born Paola Melis in 9th round of bout in St. Nicholas' Arena last night. Melis, who now hails from Montreal, dropped a unanimous decision to the Brooklyn boxer.

Giovanelli Downs Melis to Brighten Ring Future

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Giovanelli, once a bright young prospect in the welterweight class wants to prove his 1953 victory over Vince Martinez was no fluke.

The lanky Brooklyn boxer made the top 10 of the class two years ago with an upset decision over Martinez at Madison Square Garden. But he faded fast.

Last night's unanimous decision over Paolo Melis of Italy at St. Nicholas Arena revived Danny's hopes for the future.

* * *

"Give me a few more fights and I'll take Martinez or anybody else," said the 23-year-old Giovanelli. "All I need is a few fights under my belt."

Willie Gilzenberg, St. Nick's matchmaker, plans to give Danny a December date against a ranking welter.

Giovanelli, 150½, used superior reach and boxing ability to whip Melis, 148½, in 10 rounds. The stocky Italian now fighting out of Montreal, managed to break through his defense in the second, third, ninth and tenth. Most of the time, Giovanelli was able to keep Melis outside with his long left.

* * *

Melis needed six stitches to close a cut on his left eyebrow after the hard-fought match, witnessed by 1,300 fans paying $2,022.

Referee Barney Felix and Judge Bert Grant saw it 6-3-1 and Judge Harold Barnes scored it 6-4, all for Giovaneli. The AP card also was 6-4 for Danny who has a 27-5-1 record for 33 pro fights.

Racing Leaders Return

HIALEAH, Fla. — The leading owner, trainer, jockey and horse at Hialeah Park last winter will be back for the 1956 meeting. They are, in order, Hasty House Farms, Harry Trotsek, Ted Atkinson and Nashua.

Future Is Uncertain for Belair Stables

NEW YORK (AP)—The future of the famous Belair Stud, which has produced many of America's foremost race horses, including Nashua, was in doubt today following the shotgun death of its millionaire owner, 35-year-old William Woodward Jr.

* * *

Young Woodward, who took over the stable after the death of his father in 1953, was killed Sunday by a shotgun blast which police said was fired by his wife when the two left their separate bedrooms to investigate a possible prowler on their country estate in nearby Oyster Bay.

* * *

Mrs. Woodward, 32-year-old former model, is interested in horses even to the extent that she has a 2-year-old filly in training to race under her own silks. But some horsemen wondered today if she would carry on with the well known red and white polka dot silks in view of the circumstances surrounding the death of her husband, shown an avid interest in the sport.

Actual team scores:

Joe Foster	204	221	205—630
Emerson Berney	191	182	236—609

Ex-Sandlot Ump Takes Big Step Into NL Ranks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Henry C. (Shag) Crawford, who was calling the close ones in sandlot baseball games here a few years ago, came home from his truck driver's job last night to find himself a National League umpire.

The 35-year-old father of four was purchased by the Nationals yesterday. He had been an arbiter in the American Assn. last season.

"I wasn't just happy when my wife told me the news," he said. "I was elated. It's the goal I've had my eye on for a long time."

Crawford, who has been working in the minors for five years, was added to the National League umpiring staff as a result of the resignation last week of Lon Warneke.

Mustang Guard Reduces

DALLAS — Tiny Goss, Southern Methodist's guard, is at the lowest weight he can attain—256. When he came out of service in August, he weighed 296.

International Jumping Test Highlights National Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Horse Show, strictly for the horsey set of the equine world, opened an eight-day run in Madison Square Garden today.

* * *

The official opening is set for tonight when Lieut.-Gen. Thomas W. Herren, Commanding General of the 1st Army, takes the salute of the four international teams. But by that time, more than a dozen events will have been run off.

* * *

As usual, most of the attention was focused on the international jumping which pitted the United States against teams from Mexico, Ireland and Canada.

The American team, one of the youngest ever to represent the United States, is composed of Billy Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., at 29, the oldster, Hugh Wiley of Towson, Md., 28, and Charles Dendehy of Lake Forest, Ill., 23.

This trio won four events at the Harrisburg show last week as did the Mexicans. Steinkraus has been a member of the United States team for several years, but Wiley and Dennehy are newcomers.

* * *

Uncle Sam's representatives also are handicapped by the fact that their No. 1 mount, Nautical, who won many a blue ribbon as an open jumper under the name of Injun Joe, injured a foreleg at Harrisburg and will be unavailable.

Steinkraus probably will do best on his own mount, Wonabet, but the other horses the Americans will ride are borrowed.

Gen. Humberto Mariles, a long-time favorite of the Garden crowds, and his Mexicans always do well here and it will be a surprise if they don't win a major share of the honors. Gen. Mariles' little mount, Chihuahua II, probably is the sharpest jumper on the international teams.

SPARTANS' LOSS — A knee injury, suffered in the Badger game, last Saturday, has sidelined big Embry Robinson, MSU's chunky 1st string left guard. Robinson was due for an operation tomorrow on the knee, and will be out for the balance of the season, MSU officials reported today.

Creighton Hits Peak of Career

New York Hockey Star Shares Scoring Lead With Jean Beliveau

MONTREAL (AP)—After knocking around for seven years in the National Hockey League, Dave Creighton looks like he's finally come into his own with the New York Rangers. He shared the scoring lead of the NHL with Montreal's Jean Beliveau today.

The 25-year-old center, who was far down the list with only 17 points in 63 games with Toronto and Chicago last season, is atop the standings with 13. Beliveau, third in the league last season, also has 13 but is listed behind Creighton with one less goal.

Creighton has 4 goals and 9 assists, Beliveau 3 and 10.

Another surprise is Ron Murphy, playing on Creighton's left wing for the Rangers. He's tops with 8 goals so far and is tied for third among the point-scorers with Detroit's Gordie Howe. Both have 12 points.

OCSC Riflemen Victors Over Detroit Squad

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club rifle team defeated shooters from Wayne County Sportsmen's Club last weekend at the OCSC. Host club's top five shooters posted an actual score of 921 and a handicap total of 1030 compared to Wayne's 816-955.

Kjell Danielson and Nancy Newman recorded high actual scores with 187 apiece, followed by John Treeful, 183 and Jane Martini and Robert Gubbins, 182 each. Ted Vitasinski was top handicap rifleman with a total of 221, followed by Carolyn Henry, 205, Robert Gubbins, 203, Frank Stephens, 201, and Jane Martini, 200.

Wayne rifiemen were led in both actual and handicap scores by Stan Stroebel, who shot 180-200.

IHL Goalie Bill Tibbs Setting Shutout Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Tibbs, Troy Bruin goalie, set an International Hockey League record by stringing together 184 minutes and 34 seconds of scoreless hockey.

The 24-year-old native of Winnipeg, Man., shut out Grand Rapids twice in a row and then blanked Toledo-Marion.

Yank Pair Pitches NY to 7-0 Victory

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — The New York Yankees trimmed Japan's Chunichi Dragons 7-0 today behind the three-hit pitching of righthanders Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant.

It was the Yanks' seventh win without a loss in a tour of Japan.

The Yankees got eight hits, including a 2-run homer into right field by first baseman Eddie Robinson in the fourth inning.

A crowd of some 20,000, including many U.S. servicemen, saw the game.

Parents of Alma College Players Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ayling of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Greenlees of Auburn Heights were dinner guests at Alma College's annual Parents Night last Saturday in Van Dusen Commons for mothers and fathers of the Scots football squad members.

Dick Ayling, star quarterback for the Scots, played only part-time in Saturday's easy 31-6 victory over Olivet and completed five passes in six attempts. John Greenlees, freshman center, was a standout performer defensively as Alma limited Olivet to 48 yards rushing.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenlees live at 3036 Margaret. The Aylings reside at 86 North Edith.

Willed Rich Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The $350,000 estate of Albert A. Baroni, racing owner whose Top Row won the 1936 Santa Anita Handicap, will go to his widow, Ann, and his son, Albert Jr., under a will filed yesterday.

Baroni, beset by ill health, fatally shot himself at his San Gabriel home Oct. 11.

Stevens Point Fullback Star Sought by Pros

"Nubbs" Miller Gets Offers From Packers, Los Angeles Rams

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP)—The town that gave Ted Fritsch to professional football is readying another explosive package and, by the looks of things, there'll be plenty of takers.

He's Norbert (Nubbs) Miller, a 185-pound fullback who has averaged 156.8 yards rushing in each of Stevens Point State College's seven consecutive victories.

* * *

The 21-year-old dynamo already has received applications from the Los Angeles Rams and the Green Bay Packers, who train here during the summer, and more are sure to come because Miller is the kind of ballplayer the pros like to get.

State Boasts Terrific Three in Scoring Race

Clark, Raterink, Raab Place 1-2-3 to Grab Small College Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For statistics, no state in the union can match the terrific three of Michigan football — Hillsdale's Nate Clark, Central Michigan's Bernie Raterink and Alma's Marv Raab.

Combined, they have scored 44 touchdowns this season for 264 264 points, and have rolled up well over a mile in rushing — 2,188 yards.

According to statistics compiled by the Associated Press, Clark retained his state scoring lead this week with 96 points, although Raterink moved into a challenging position by scoring four times Saturday to give him 90 points.

Raab, the 1953 state scoring champion, is a close 3rd with 78 points. Both Clark and Raab tallied twice Saturday.

Raab gained 154 yards last Saturday and moved into the ground gaining lead in the state, and possibly in the entire nation. He has gained 766 yards in 75 attempts for an average of 10.21.

Raterink is next with 732 yards in 94 carries for a 7.79 average. Clark, last week's rushing leader, made only 47 yards Saturday and slipped to third place. He has 690 yards in 125 tries for a 5.06 mark.

The national statistics aren't compiled until later in the week, but it's a safe bet that all three will be at, or near, the top in ground gaining.

All three are outstanding candidates for little All-America honors. Their last two games may decide which one, or ones, makes the team.

While these three continued their hot individual duel, Russ McLean of Ferris quietly added another touchdown Saturday to hold his No. 4 spot with 54 points.

The leading "big college" scorer is Michigan State's Jerry Planutis, who has scored four touchdowns and kicked 13 extra points. Michigan's Ron Kramer, returning to action, is next with 34 points.

Lions Drop Ricca; Bring Up Ted Topor

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Lions Monday asked waivers on defensive lineman Jim Ricca and brought up linebacker Ted Topor of Michigan to replace him.

The departure of the 6-foot-4, 270 pound Ricca emphasizes head coach Buddy Parker's disappointment over the trade with Washington that sent all-star Lavern Torgeson to the Redskins for Ricca and lineman Walt Yowarsky. Yowarsky was eliminated from the roster weeks ago.

Topor, 6-foot-1 and 225 lbs., was drafted by the Lions in 1953 but Uncle Sam drafted him soon thereafter and he was not discharged from the army until just prior to the start of this season.

Santee Poised to Battle Ban Imposed by AAU

Denies He Was Given Excessive Expenses; Plans Early Appeal

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Marine Lt. Wes Santee, America's star miler, was poised today to fight a permanent suspension as an amateur athlete which would bar him from the 1956 Olympics.

Santee, a former University of Kansas runner, said last night he planned an immediate appeal of the suspension voted Sunday by the Missouri Valley AAU Registration Committee. It said he had accepted excessive expense allowances for competing in three California track meets last May.

* * *

An official of the registration group said it was found Santee received $1,200 in all from sponsors of the three meets, whereas AAU rules allow amateur runners up to $15 a day in expenses, plus travel costs.

Word of the suspension action reached Santee yesterday at this Marine Corps base where he is stationed. He said he had never done anything to violate amateur athletic standards.

The committee gave Santee, the American-mile record holder, five days to appeal its 5-2 action to the Missouri Valley AAU's Board of Managers. Santee said at his home in Triangle, near here, he was "in the process" of preparing that appeal and he indicated it probably would be in the mail by today. Santee did not say what the appeal would contain.

If the suspension sticks, Santee would not be able to compete in next year's Olympic games in Australia. This obviously was uppermost in his mind.

* * *

"I would hate to miss the Olympics," he told an interviewer.

The registration committee informed Santee in a telegram that it had concluded "you had violated the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union relative to expenses allowable for travel and subsistence. . . ." thus, it told Santee, he was suspended "from further competition as an amateur athlete."

The committee said its action stemmed from expenses received for competing in meets at Fresno, Los Angeles and Modesto May 11-22, 1954.

Maryland University's Poor Relative Headed for Fifth Undefeated Season in Eight Years

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—Four undefeated football seasons in the last seven and well on the way to another is Maryland State's record today.

That's Maryland STATE — not the University of Maryland which you might think at first glance. Maryland State is the poor, Negro relation of the university which also wins a lot of football games but gets more national recognition.

* * *

This year they're going side by side down the football victory trail with seven apiece and no defeats. Maryland State has scored 176 points to 19 for the opposition.

Behind the team which was unbeaten in 1949, 1950, 1953 and 1954 regular season schedules is Coach Vernon McCain. In his seven years he has the imposing record of 61 victories, 1 tie and 5 defeats. And he's only 36 years old.

A modest man, he prefers to talk about a 67-19 game. That was one he lost to Florida A&M in a postseason game in the Orange Bowl last December.

* * *

But there was some reason for such an unusual licking. With only 31 players to begin with, three of the regulars were out with injuries before the game started. They still were losing by only 26-19 late in the third quarter before four more got hurt. Florida had 72 players dressed.

Maryland State, a small school devoted to teaching Negroes trades and agriculture, has no scholarships or such inducements to offer football payers.

* * *

"We couldn't do the job without friends, valuable contacts through the country," Coach McCain says. "I have two high school coaching friends in Oklahoma who send me boys almost every year.

* * *

"There are other fellows looking out for us in Augusta, Ga., Columbia, S.C., Milwaukee, and Coatesville, Pa., to name a few.

Segura Joins Tony on Kramer's Tour

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pancho Segura again will be a member of tennis Promoter Jack Kramer's professional tennis tour.

Kramer announced yesterday that Pancho will join him and former amateur titlist Tony Trabert. A fourth competitor will be selected. Kramer plans to talk further with Richard (Pancho) Gonzales.

The promoter is back from Australia, where he tried unsuccessfully to sign Davis Cup stars Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

MELBOURNE (AP)—Toparoa won the Melbourne Cup, Australia's biggest horse race, today from the hot favorite Rising Fast. Sir William was third.

About 72,000 fans saw the race at Flemington Track. All of the first three horses were from New Zealand.

Dodgers' Podres Up for Physical

Hero of World Series Takes Exam in Albany on November 14

WITHERBEE, N.Y. (AP)—Johnny Podres, the Brooklyn Dodgers' lefthander who pitched them to two World Series victories, has been ordered by his draft board to report for a physical examination.

Miss Mary Podres, his sister, said last night that Johnny had been ordered to take the examination in Albany Nov. 14.

Podres pitched Brooklyn to an 8-3 victory in the World Series on his 23rd birthday and went on to shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 in the final game last month.

Johnny was rejected by his selective service board because of a back injury when he was called up in 1952. He was playing with Montreal in the International League then.

Kramer, Maentz Give 'M' Biggest Punch

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some fans figured that the performance of Michigan's fabulous Touchdowns Twins in the Iowa game Saturday would put the Wolverines back on top in the national college football ratings.

Left end Ron Kramer and right end Tom Maentz teamed up to smash Iowa 33-21, but the critics still aren't convinced.

The victory, however, kept unbeaten Michigan a solid 3rd, behind Maryland and Oklahoma, in the 7th weekly Associated Press poll.

And if it's high scoring the nation's football experts like, Kramer and Maentz may yet recover top rating for Michigan.

Considering the opposition, Saturday's performance against Iowa was Michigan's most dazzling offensive display of the season, and it was the 1st time this year Kramer and Maentz had been on the field together.

Calling Kramer and Maentz "twins" is no baseless comparison. Maentz stands an inch shorter than Kramer's 6lfeet-3 and he weighs three pounds less than Kramer's 222.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, an All-America end himself in his playing days at Michigan, says, "They're the greatest ends in the country, and Maentz rates just a shade behind Kramer."

This comparison is a close one. Both Kramer and Maentz have played in four games out of Michigan's victory string of six. Maentz missed the Missouri and Michigan State games with an injured back. Kramer missed the Northwestern and Minnesota games with an injured chest.

Still, like twins, they both wear protective plastic shields over their injuries. Kramer has snagged nine passes over the season for 188 yards and four touchdowns. Maentz has nailed 10 passes for 238 yards and three touchdowns.

Maentz has the better yard average, Kramer has the better scoring total.

But it must be remembered that every team Kramer has played against has set up a special defense against him. Two and three men cover him every time he goes out for a pass.

On the other hand, Maentz has not been a consistent Michigan target until the Iowa game. Then he gained a lion's share (169 yards) of his yardage total and doubled the number of passes he had caught in three previous games.

Kramer keeps saying that Maentz, who worked on wind sprints all summer to improve his speed, is a "terrific end."

But Maentz looks to Kramer as the master of the situation. He told how he and Kramer teamed to stop Iowas speedy Earl Smith. Kramer would signal Maentz on which way Smith was heading by watching where Smith would line up in the Iowa offensive formation. Then either Maentz or Kramer would cut to turn Smith back.

"And I'll take a tip from Ron on how to get rid of a tackler too," Maents added. "did you see the straight arm he gave Jerry Reichow (the Iowa quarterback) when he was going down the sidelines to score that touchdown?"

Kramer, who also kicks Michigan's extra points, still leads the team in scoring with 34 points, 10 of them conversions.

Maentz has only his three touchdowns for 18 points, 12 of them scored against Iowa.

Kramer and Maentz both punt. Kramer led the Big Ten in that department last year with a 41 yard average. This year he has had less luck, punting 10 times for a 36.5 average. Maentz has punted 11 times for a 39.4 average.

USF finished as No. 1 team in the nation last year and Coach Woolpert is hoping for a repeat performance. Those gathered around the coach are (L to R) — Hal Perry, Carl Boldt, Capt. K. C. Jones, Mike Farmer and big Bill Russell. Perry, Jones and Russell were all members of last year's starting team.

SMU's Mustangs in Spot to Toss Aggie Title Hopes for Resounding Title Loss

DALLAS (AP) —Southern Methodist's Mustangs play Texas A&M Saturday in a position to do to the Aggies what was done to them last season—knock them out of a share of the Southwest Conference championship because of a tie game.

SMU had high hopes last season when it came up to the game with Baylor with only a tie on its record—a 13-13 affair played with Texas two weeks before. If the Methodists could finish the season without a loss they would win the conference title because they had licked Arkansas, which had wound up the conference race with a 5-1 record.

* * *

But Baylor rose up and whipped the Mustangs 33-21 and that settled it. Arkansas was champion and played in the Cotton Bowl.

Last week the Aggies, riding on top of the race, were battled to a 7-7 deadlock by Arkansas. They stayed in the lead because SMU, the only other unbeaten team in conference play, took a 19-18 defeat from Texas.

But just one little slip the rest of the way and Aggie championship hopes could go glimmering.

Canadian Seeks to Crash World Speedboat Mark

Baden's Supertest II Sets a New Record in Warm-Up

PICTON, Ont., (AP)—Bill Baden of Hamilton hoped to break the world mark of 178.6 m.p.h. for motor-driven speedboats today and perhaps crash on past the 202.32 record set by Donald Campbell's turbo-jet Bluebird last July.

* * *

Baden warmed up for the attempt by cracking the Canadian record of 154.0 over a "beautifully calm" Picton Bay yesterday in his Miss Supertest II.

North American racing officials recognize the 178.6 mark set by Stan Sayers of Seattle with Slo-Mo-Shun in 1952 as the world record for speedboats, ranking Campbell's record of 200-plus in a separate category because of the Bluebird's jet power.

* * *

Baden skimmed across Picton Bay three times in breaking the Canadian record of 138.58 set by Harold Wilson of Ingersoll in Miss Canada IV in 1949. His boat, owned by Jim Thompson of London, Ont., developed motor trouble on the fourth run and was docked for repairs.

Irish Roll on Old-Fashioned Power

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame, shunning razzle-dazzle football, is relying on old fashioned power and ball control in pounding away to another successful season.

* * *

Hopes of an undefeated season vanished with a 21-7 loss to Michigan State but Notre Dame appears well on its way towards duplicating last year's 9-1 record.

Navy was a big hurdle Saturday for the Irish who now face weaker opposition in Penn ad North Carolina before finishing up against Iowa and Southern California.

* * *

After the 21-7 triumph over Navy, Iris hCoach Terry Brennan said: "The main difference was in those seven guys up front. They opened the holes and we controlled the ball."

Control the ball they did. Notre Dame had the ball for 79 plays and ran 68. The harassed Middies tried 32 running plays and went to the air 26 times. Navy had 13 completed passes and 3 Notre Dame interceptions.

* * *

Throughout the season in which the Irish have won five or six games, ball control has been the story with the idea you can't lose if you keep the ball.

* * *

This calls for a powerful ground attack in which Notre Dame excels. In six games this year the Irish have picked up 1,626 yards on the ground for a 271-yard average. Against Navy, Notre Dame backs piled up 323 yards on the ground.

Fullback Don Schaefer is the key man.

* * *

"He's the most underrated and certainly best player I've seen around," says Brennan. "When he's not carrying, he's blocking. He threw the main block in Aubrey Lewis' touchdown run."

* * *

Lewis came off the bench for his first and only play against Navy and went around right end for 12 yards and a touchdown, with Schaefer paving the way.

* * *

Schaefer has carried 97 times this year for 387 yards but he's not alone. Paul Hornung, who Brennan says is "a real quarterback for my dough," is anything but ball shy.

The controversial Irish general who some observers insist is not a first-rate passer, has carried 64 times for 292 yards. Seven of those yards came at a crucial point in the Navy game where Hornung gambled and won.

He elected to try for a first down on a fourth-and-six situation with the ball on the Navy 37 early in the game. Hornung not only gambled but carried himself for a first down which led to Notre Dame's first touchdown. Later, one of the few passes he threw, was to end Gene Kapish for a touchdown.

* * *

Navy quarterback George Welsh probably summed up Notre Dame and Hornung better than anyone.

"Notre Dame is head and shoulders above any team we've played this year," Welsh said. "It's a team of power. Hornung is one of the best. He runs the team well and throws good. I don't know where anyone got the idea he couldn't throw."

Robinson Lost to State Team Rest of Season

First String Guard to Undergo Operation on Injured Knee

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's football team will finish out the season without the services of Embry Robinson, chunky 1st string left guard.

Robinson suffered a severe injury in the Wisconsin game Saturday and Spartan coaches learned yesterday that he'll be sidelined for the rest of the 1955 schedule. He is scheduled to undergo an operation on the knee tomorrow.

Robinson, a 5-foot-8, 185-pound lineman from Pittsburgh, started in all the Spartans' 1st six games and his loss was a blow to their Rose Bowl hopes.

Dan Currie, 6-foot-3, 210-pound sophomore from Detroit, moved up to replace Robinson yesterday in practice, which was limited to signal drills.

The team viewed movies of Saturday's Purdue-Illinois game last night and heard a scouting report from Asst. Coach Lou Agase. Michigan State and Purdue will clash this weekend in a crucial game for MSU.

A loss would virtually knock Michigan State out of contention for the Big Ten title and a trip to Pasadena in January.

SLIDE FOR REACH — Until you finish with a slide you can't know the feeling of smoothness at the foul line, and of a reaching follow through. Slide and reach go together. Long slide, long reach. Quick stop, ball thrust. Only with a slide will the left leg brace solidly so that the arm swings on out and through with control.

How far to slide? I suggest you begin to slide about three feet from the foul line, pointing the left foot straight ahead. Practice "riding" on the left leg during the slide, and you'll soon catch the rhythm of the reaching swing as the slide ends with a right foot "brake", as sketch shows.

Slide brings timing — if you go into stride slowly, wih an easy, short first step, and if you permit the swinging ball to increase the momentum of your footwork to the slide. Don't rush.

Boxes in YMCA

Ageless Walcott Spars in Hollywood Setting

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was upstairs in the Hollywood YMCA and two old men were sparring in the ring. One of them was Jersey Joe Walcott.

An onlooker called "time." It was obviously the end of a two-minute round.

"Whadday'a want! We ain't fightin' for no title, are we? So demanded the other, his professional pride injured at the very question of so brief a round for an old pro like Walcott.

* * *

Jersey Joe, the ageless ex-heavyweight champion of the world, merely smiled pleasantly. He was puffing a little and sweating a lot, trying to knock off 18 or 20 pounds he has picked up since he retired.

Jersey Joe is here to act a part in a movie about boxing, "The Harder They Fall." He plays a trainer but he wants to look in shape for one brief boxing sequence.

* * *

It was suggested that perhaps he intended to have a round or two with another actor in the play, the well known sports writer, Humphrey Bogart. But it was recalled that Jersey Joe never touches the stuff.

* * *

As for the fight game, well, Walcott says he won't even watch a bout any more. They wanted him in the ring at the recent Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore match. Joe stayed at his home in Camden, N.J.

* * *

"The way it is," he said, "I'm afraid if I got to watching I'd see something about one of the fighters—some weakness or something—and I might get the idea that I could beat him, that maybe I could make one more fight.

Historic Trumpet Call Blares Defiance at Oppressors of Poles for Centuries

CRACOW, Poland (AP)—It's noon in Cracow and from the tower of the Cathedral of St. Mary a trumpet blares a weird series of notes.

The trumpeter repeats the performance from each of the four apertures.

For 700 years this has been going on, commemorating the heroic trumpeter who warned the populace that the Tartars were approaching.

That's the atmosphere in which Cracow still lives, despite occupation by the Nazis, war and now domination by a Communist government. The Reds call the "City of a Thousand Churches" a reactionary town. They grumble about "reactionary bars" where oldfashioned Poles sit around and speak French in an odd kind of resistance.

Cracow is Poland's shrine city and the Communists wisely make no effort to change it. Here in the Wawel Castle are buried all the Polish kings except the first two, Mieszko and Boleslaw, who are entombed in Posen. Hans Frank, the Nazi butcher of Poland, lived in the castle to show his power.

But Frank pleaded guilty at Nuernberg and said his crimes would stain Germany for a thousand years. He was converted to Catholicism and the Poles of today will tell you it was Wawel that did it.

Above the alter in the golden chapel of the castle is the silver casket containing the bones of St. Stanislaus, murdered on the altar by a Polish king.

In the catacombs, a place of honor is given the tomb of Thaddeus Kosciusko, aid to Washington in the American Revolution and leader of the Polish fight for independence against the Russians and the Germans in 1794.

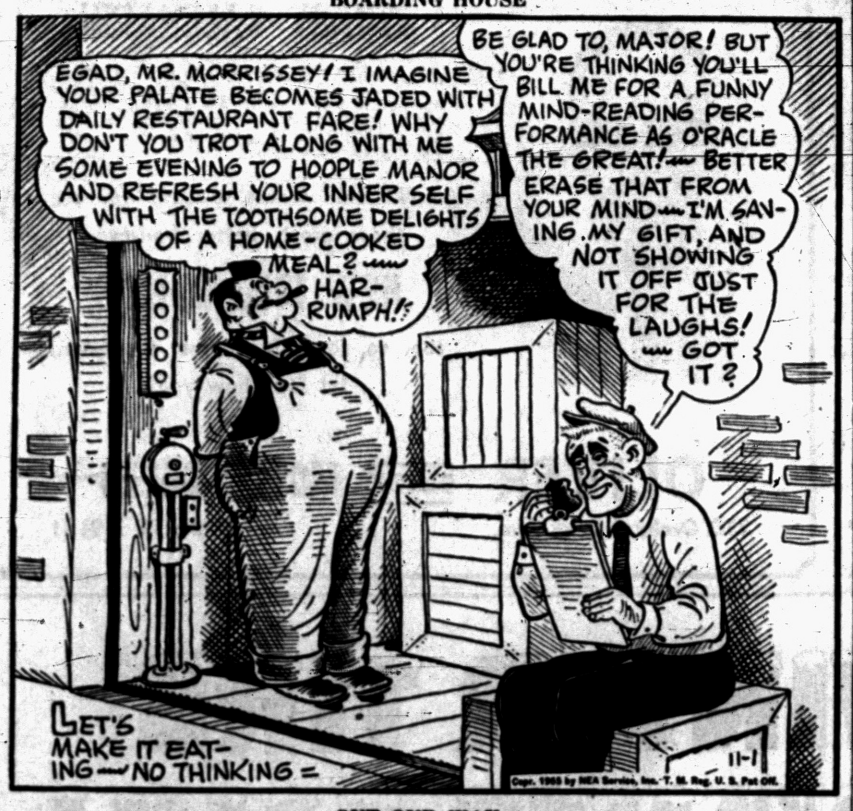

* * *

Directly in front of the altar is the resting place of Cardinal Sapieha who won lasting fame among the Poles for his conduct during the Nazi occupation. The cardinal invited Frank to dinner and served him the miserable black bread and porridge ration the Nazis were giving the suppressed Polish population. Frank was enraged but helpless. He had to eat it.

The city miraculously escaped damage in World War II. The Poles credit their top Communist, Boleslaw Bierut, for this. They say he interceded with Stalin, asking that the Red army avoid storming the shrine city.

Grains Slowed by Resistance

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains found more resistance to their advance on the Board of Trade today than they did in the previous session.

The market mostly opened higher, although corn showed some reluctance to go along with the upturn, but it wasn't long before hedging pressure and profit-taking threw prices back. They remained above the previous close, however.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ higher, December $2.05⅛; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, December $1.28⅞; oats ¼ to ¾ higher, December 64⅛; rye ¼ lower to ¾ higher, December $1.12½; soybeans ¾ to 1¾ higher, November $2.38, and lard unchanged to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $11.42.

Stocks Follow Narrow Range

NEW YORK (AP)—Narrow and indecisive price movements were accompanied by quiet trading today in the stock market.

Changes rarely went to a point, and many leading issues held unchanged or were laggard in coming to the tape at all.

Armco Steel, which yesterday reported high earnings and a favorable dividend, opened today on 1,500 shares up ¼ at 47.

U. S. Steel started on 4,000 shares off ⅜ at 53⅝, New York Central 2,000 off ⅛ at 43⅜, and Chrysler 1,200 off ⅜ at 92¼.

The start found many prices headed down, but almost immediately there was some slight improvement. Chrysler, for example, quickly turned its small loss into a small gain, and U. S. Steel soon traded unchanged.

Among advancing stocks were Bethlehem Steel, Zenith Radio, American Cyanamid, and Santa Fe railroad. Lower were Youngstown Sheet & Tube, International Harvester, Du Pont, International Paper, and Baltimore & Ohhio.

Harlow H. Curtice Reports on Trip Through Europe

NEW YORK — Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, reported today that Western Europe is experiencing "a high level of prosperity, substantially full employment and a rising standard of living" which has created booming markets for housing, automobiles and other consumer goods.

Curtice, returning aboard the Queen Mary from his annual business trip to Europe, said the "remarkable economic recovery of Western Europe appears to be on a sound and expanding basis."

"There is full employment and a rising standard of living in each of the countries which I visited," the General Motors President said.

Curtice said he was optimistic about the business outlook for 1956. "I am optimistic about all phases of our business in England, Germany, France and other countries on the continent as well as the United States," he said. "I see nothing in the present picture to indicate any change in the high level of economic activity and prosperity which we now are enjoying."

Mr. Curtice said automobile production in England and Germany is reaching record levels this year, 18 to 20 per cent over 1954, and should increase substantially in the next five years. General Motors production of passenger cars, trucks, accessories and household refrigerators likewise is breaking all records this year, the GM president said.

Low Price Venture Successful—Wards

A venture into the low-priced car field last year brought Pontiac Motor Division such success that the company is producing three such models in the 1956 series, Wards Automotive News said today.

And another medium-priced producer, Mercury, is bidding for the same market with a new "Medalist" economy model for 1956.

Two new volume body styles were added to the Pontiac "860" line this year, a two-door and a four-door hardtop, in an effort to push sales higher, Wards reported.

The company's low-priced "860" models made up 25.2 per cent of the record 554,091 cars built by Pontiac in the 1955 model year. This volume is on a par with sales of the lowest-priced Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth cars, the report said.

Bond Issue OK Sought by Consolidated Gas Co.

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. asked the State Public Service Commission today for permission to sell 30 million dollars in bonds and $1,008,000 of stock.

The company said the money would retire existing bank loans floated to finance construction programs between 1954 and 1956.

The company said it planned to take bids on the bonds Nov. 10 and to sell the stock to American Natural Gas Co., its parent concern.

She was found guilty of larceny by conversion Oct. 12 in the removal of a $2,000 diamond ring from an Oxford Township home last May 29. She later returned the ring.

Buick Unveils Its '56 Models

New Automobiles Have 88 Major Improvements in Style, Engineering

FLINT (INS)—Buick, third best seller in the nation the last two years, presented its 1956 models today.

* * *

Featured is a four-door hardtop in every series and more powerful V-8 engines.

The new Buicks will go on display Friday in dealer showrooms throughout the country.

Ivan L. Wiles, Buick General Motor and a General Motors vice president, said:

"We have made 88 major improvements in styling and engineering to give our customers the best possible value for their dollar."

HORSEPOWER HIKED

Horsepower in the Roadmaster, Super and Century series has been increased to 255. Special series horsepower has been boosted to 220 and for the first time the Special will be equipped with the 322 cubic inch engine used in the other three series.

Style highlights include a new front end with a V-shaped grille, a refinement of the rear end design last year. New interiors and a colorful instrument panel are featured in each series.

Safety equipment includes optional seat belts, door locks with an interlocking feature that prevents them from flying open, a foam rubber pad across the top of the instrument panel and more effective brakes.

AN ADDED STATOR

A second stator which increases torque multiplication and boosts performance in the zero to 30-mile an hour range has been added to improve the variable pitch dynaflow transmission which is standard on all but the Special series.

Improvements also have been made in the heating and ventilating system and the air conditioner was redesigned to fit entirely under the hood.

* * *

Eleven new colors have been developed for the 1956 models and coupled with four of the most popular hues used last year, give customers 15 choices in either solid tones or two and three-tone combinations.

Senate to Begin GM Hearings

Operations of Business to Be Aired Along With GOP Housing Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic-controlled Senate subcommittees are launching public hearings this month which might turn up ammunition useful in the 1956 presidential campaign.

One involves a full-scale study of the operations and growth history of General Motors, world's largest manufacturer. The other will delve into Eisenhower administration curbs on financing for home building.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), who will preside at the GM inquiry, was careful to explain it is "not an investigation." But he added the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee has received a number of complaints and charges against GM it wants aired.

In Detroit, General Motors officials declined to comment.

The hearing, opening a week from today, is to run three or four weeks. It may give Democrats some talking points in their general charge that the present administration is a "big business" one.

Consolidated Gas Co. Distributes Refunds

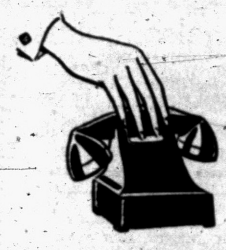

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. began today to distribute a $3,604,294 refund to some one million natural gas customers.

The refund, ordered by the State Public Service Commission, represents the difference between higher wholesale rates of a pipeline supplier and the final wholesale rate as determined by the Federal Power Commission.

The company is refunding about one-fifth of a cent for each 100 cubic feet of gas billed to customers between Dec. 21, 1952 and Nov. 30, 1954.

Closed Circuits Grow Rapidly

Specialized Video Aids Merchants, Moms and Even Gamblers

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—What is it that watches the baby, catches shoplifters, helps the doctor, the preacher and the teacher, and even keeps an eye on the gambling tables in a certain Reno establishment?

Why, television, of course. Closed-circuit television.

* * *

Rather quietly, with a word here and a hint there, the closed-circuit TV age has suddenly descended upon us. What is closed-circuit television? Don't bother with the technicalities. Just think of the TV camera as an extension of human vision, able to perceive and transmit to selected viewers miles away or in the next room scenes and information that cannot otherwise be readily seen.

"This is the point," says John R. Howland, "If I can see in that other room it's going to save me time or effort or money."

* * *

Howland is general sales manager of Dage Television Division, Thompson Products Inc., of Michigan City, Ind., a major producer and pioneer in closed-circuit TV. A year ago there were about 100 such installations in the country. Today there are about 1,500. By the end of 1956 there will be 5,000, says Howland.

Here are not just some of the things closed-circuit TV is capable of doing. Here are some actual accomplishments:

* * *

Department stores in certain cities have installed cameras which keep an unobtrusive eye on shoplifters. Banks are using the system to speed signature verification and customer balances between drive-in tellers' offices and centralized accounting divisions.

Churches are using it to televise service to overflow crowds, thus doing away with the need for two Sunday morning services.

* * *

Closed-circuit TV is making enormous strides in higher education. It's used in lectures to huge classes, in teaching operating techniques, and even to enlarge microscopically small objects in laboratory courses. At Penn State, for example, about 4,500 students are being taught in part with the aid of the method.

In hospitals closed-circuit TV keeps a watchful eye on baby areas, narcotics cabinets, and even back doors. It teaches operating techniques to nurses who cannot crowd—into a sterile oprating room. In certain hospital wings patients can be watched in case of a nurse shortage.

* * *

In a Reno gambling casino there's a camera installed in a chandelier to make sure that the proper money ends up in the proper pockets. The Potomac Railroad Yard in Alexandria, Va., saves thousands of dollars annually by using it to check boxcar numbers. . . . Bay Meadows Race Track in San Francisco installed it over the parimutuel windows so that late bettors could see the track.

Godfrey Attacks Critics in Magazine 'Life Story'

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Arthur Godfrey fired the first round today of a several-thousand word blast against those who have criticized him for most everything from excessive drinking to firing members of his cast for falling in love.

* * *

Beginning the serialization of his life story in the current Saturday Evening Post with writer Pete Martin, the radio-TV star said the public would never know "the guts it took to walk out on that stage every day while the newspapers were trearing my heart out."

Godfrey had this to say about what he called rumors of his indulgence in alcoholic beverages:

"The fact is that while I love a glass of beer or a very dry martini—especially if it's made with vodka—I don't drink enough to keep a barn owl happy."

Flatly denying reports that he fired some of the "Little Godfreys" because they fell in love, Godfrey asked:

"How ridiculous can you get?" He added:

BLAMES NEWSMEN

"The newspaper boys pulled that romantic angle on me three or four times, but I fooled them the last time I dismissed nine employes in a bunch. Unable to figure out any love motif at all on that one, they came up with the remarkable news that I fired these folks without any notice. How much notice did your boss give you the last time you were fired? I gave those nine people two and one-half months' pay!"

Godfrey, who made headlines again last week by dismissing singer LuAnn Simms—the 20th "Little Godfrey" to be axed in less than three years—said that in all the 26 years he has been broadcasting he never said anything derogatory about any individual "except Hitler, Stalin and Tojo and their verminous cohorts."

* * *

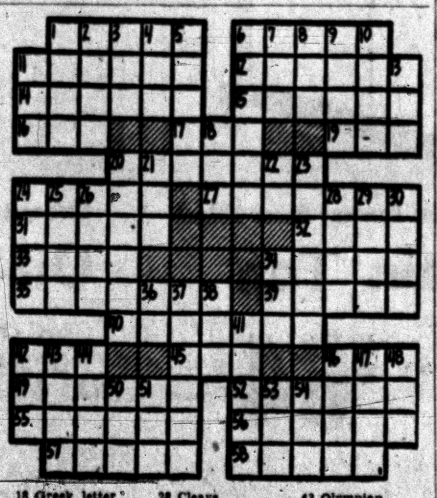

"And, I'm not going to start now," he added.

Remember When Folks Cooled Food in Wells?

NEW YORK — My mother and mother-in-law were invited out to Detroit recently to look at the new 1956 refrigeration gimmicks . . . and it set them to talking about cooling devices in the supposed "good old days."

★ ★ ★ ★

I don't mean merely "the pan under the icebox" — that's recent.

"Do you remember on the farm in Ohio," my mother said, "how some people would hang their milk cans down inside the well to keep the milk cool in the summer?"

ICEBOX, 1919

It was something I'd only heard about, but of course I remembered the community ice houses — how we cut the ice out of the lake or river in the winter, covered it with sawdust—and then used it up pretty fast in the summer.

"We were rather advanced in the 1918s and 1919s," my mother remembered.

"We had what we called a cement-block cellar three steps down into the ground. And in that we had a trough where we kept butter and milk.

"We had a windpump which pumped water through a pipe into that trough, and that kept everything very cool."

★ ★ ★ ★

"I remember it all now," I told my mother. "Because when there wasn't any wind, I would have to pump the water. And I was a very delicate boy as I used to tell you."

"You were only delicate when you were supposed to pump water, or hoe thistles out of the corn, or chop weeds," mother said.

"On days when you had a ball game in town, you were very rugged!"

★ ★ ★ ★

My mother-in-law remembered when housewives used to put food on the window sill to be kept cool, and how tramps stole it. Sometimes it wasn't tramps. Sometimes it was the neighbors' children. Sometimes it was your own children.

BETSY

And now some refrigerator people have gone so far as to claim that for 1956 they've developed a built-in Ice Ejector with no levers, ramrods, pickaxes or derricks which'll eject the cubes simply by sliding the tray into the ejector. You don't have to touch the ice with your pinky or even get your finger wet.

Sounds like a little bit o' heaven, and I wonder if it's true. It seems a long time since ice was such an aristocratic luxury that some of us felt we should only have it on Sundays.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Dick Haymes'll apply for U. S. citizenship shortly in California and put up a hard fight for it . . . Jackie Gleason's "Honeymooners" may switch to eight o'clock to meet Perry Como head-on . . . Bob Mitchum'll sing and hoof on this week's Stage Show.

Figuring Hal March has a big future, the Wm. Morris agency signed him . . . Sheilah Bond's white bathing suit distracts from the plot in "Deadfall" (just opened) so she hides it under a robe . . . Betsy von Furstenberg won the wife's warmest praise for her emoting in "The Chalk Garden."

★ ★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: "Comptometers and bathing suits have a lot of guess work"—Dr. Tennyson Guyer.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Many a twosome that's been keeping company for decades is the happiest unmarried couple in town"—Lou Brecker.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH (but true): Jaye P. Morgan has a rival — a singer calling herself Kaye C. Jones.

"I don't agree with him," said a countrified New Yorker trying to do a Goldwyn, according to Rube Rustic, "but you gotta admit he's right" . . . That's earl, brother.

Man Accused of Having Three Wives, 32 Children

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Police last night arrested a 52-year-old construction worker accused of having three wives.

County Atty. Frank E. Moss said Albert Emund Barlow has fathered 32 children by the three wives. He was charged with "unlawful cohabitation."

"Barlow told me his religious beliefs prompted him to follow polygamy," Moss said.

'Honey Bear' to Wed California Doctor

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A marriage license was obtained yesterday by Nina (Honey Bear) Warren, 22, daughter of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren, and Dr. Stuart Brien, 33, Beverly Hills, Calif., physician.

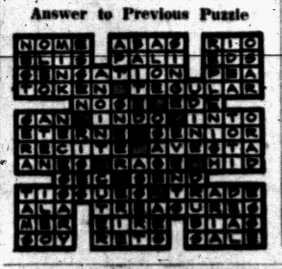

Miss Warren said of wedding plans: "We haven't even thought about it yet." It will be the first marriage for each.

Nina was stricken with polio Nov. 7, 1950, the day her father was reelected for his third term as governor of California. For a time her legs were paralyzed but she recovered fully.

Diocese Plans Census

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A census of the Grand Rapids Catholic Diocese has tentatively been set for January as the first project of the Grand Rapids chapter of the National Council of Catholic Men. About 3,700 churchmen and lay delegates attended a Civic Auditorium rally Sunday as the Grand Rapids group was formally affiliated with the national council.

Disaster Help Bill Promised

Calamity Insurance Aid Measure Will Be Ready for Next Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lehman (D-NY) expressed confidence today that some kind of federal disaster insurance bill will be ready for Congress next year.

* * *

Lehman criticized administration officials, however, for what he said was their "failure" to make specific recommendations at this time on such a program.

The hearing continues today with Sen. Payne (R-Maine) and representatives from the Small Business Administration and the Departments of Agriculture and Interior on the list of witnesses.

It will resume Thursday in New York City and go later to Boston, Providence, R. I., and Hartford, Conn.

NO COMPETITION

The August floods along the Eastern Coast were the immediate cause of current talk on some sort of federal disaster insurance to fill the gap where commercial insurers generally do not operate.

Lehman said there was no intention for the federal government to set up competition against the private insurance companies.

* * *

"If we're going to put in all the provisions demanded by private insurance companies," he said, "I don't think we're likely to get any insurance. I mean, after all, the government owes more to its people."

NO PROGRAM

Roger Jones, assistant director of the Budget Bureau, said yesterday that after consultation with various agencies and departments of the executive branch, he had no specific program to recommend. He did provide some basic assumptions and criteria he said should be included.

His suggestions were largely repeated later in the day by undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams.

* * *

"A limit on the over-all liability to be incurred, on the duration of the program, on coverage to be extended to a single insurer and on the amount of self insurance or 'deductible' required should be carefully examined," Williams said.

Jones had suggested that the insurance cover only claims over a certain amount, like automobile deductible insurance.

* * *

Williams said it was hoped a program would be worked out "which would appeal to commercial insurers on a coinsurance basis; and that they would ultimately take over completely and provide adequate protection to property owners at acceptable rates."

For a Tibetan, sticking out his tongue is a mark of respect.

Philippine Senate Election Result Affects Magsaysay

MANILA (AP)—Filipinos, who love a rousing fight whether in the cock pit, ring or political arena, are choosing sides in the hottest senatorial election campaign of the nine-year-old republic.

* * *

At stake are the popularity of their flamboyant young president, Ramon Magsaysay, the political climate during his next two years at the nation's helm and the warmth of U.S.-Philippine relations.

Hordes of candidates are fighting for nine seats in the 24-man Senate. Senators are elected nation wide. Balloting is next Tuesday.

With the campaign in its seventh week, political arguments have been blamed for at least 12 deaths. Troops have been moved into 13 potentially critical provinces.

The big fight swirls around Magsaysay's effort to bounce his severest foreign policy critic, Sen. Claro M. Recto.

Magsaysay won the first round. He seized firm control of the Nacianalista party machinery in August and blocked Recto from the slate.

* * *

Shut out in his own party, Recto breathed defiance, denounced Magsaysay as a dictator and found a berth as "guest candidate" on the ticket of the Liberals, the main opposition party.

With nationwide balloting for senators, Magsaysay has to drive Recto all the way down below ninth place to keep him out of the Senate.

JOB TOO BIG

The job is a big one—too big even for a president of Magsaysay's immense popularity, most of his opponents and supporters agree. But Magsaysay bluntly announced he would stake his political future on the outcome.

Almost from the day Magsaysay took office, Recto stormed at him for cuddling too close to the U.S. foreign policy line. Magsaysay won on issues time after time.

But Recto in his campaign has soft-pedaled foreign policy differences and attacked Magsaysay as a dictator. That has vote appeal, has won support in both major parties.

* * *

If Recto is reelected, Magsaysay can expect stronger opposition in the next two years.
