

The Babe Loses Her Toughest Match

Runway Nearly Ready

Pontiac Airport to Open Strip Next Month

Commercial Companies May Schedule Flights by End of '57

This is the second of three articles describing expansion at Pontiac Municipal Airport. Today's article describes construction of the east-west runway which will enable large two-engine planes to land. Manager Homer C. Hoskins says he hopes the improved facilities will make it possible to bring in regular commercial airline passenger and mail service before the end of 1957.

Pontiac Municipal Airport is constructing a paved, east-west runway 100 feet wide and 4,000 feet long. That's a lot of runway. It will be ready in October.

When you add a clear approach area from the east that is 2,000 feet long, and an equally long clear approach area from the west, you have a stretch of 8,000 feet, more than a mile and a half, in which planes may operate without ground hazards in landing and taking off.

To add further to this safety factor, the Detroit Edison power lines paralleling Williams Lake Road are to be moved further west.

Parallel to the new runway there is also being built a taxi strip 40 feet wide and 5,100 feet long. This connects with the old gravel east-west runway which, in the future, will become merely a part of this new taxi strip.

Fees will taxi down this strip before moving over onto the runway to take off, or will move back along the taxi strip after landing.

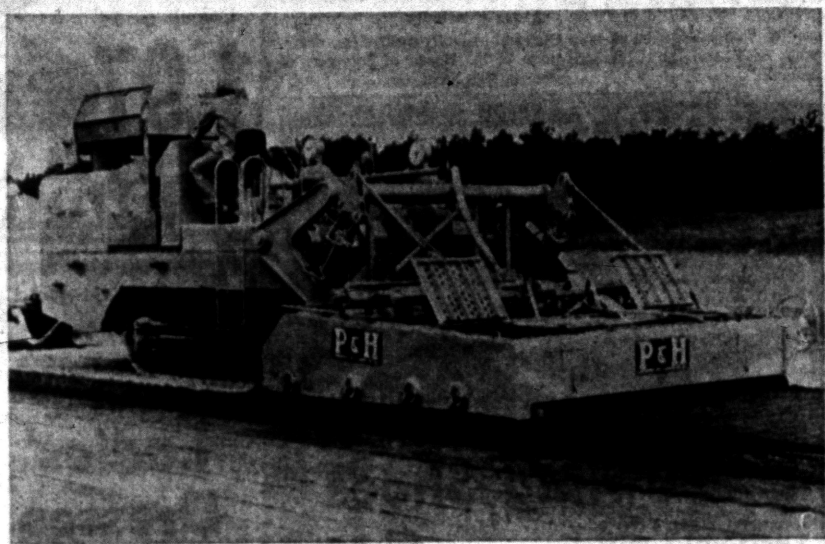

SEVERAL OTHERS

The airport has several other runways. Its north-south runway is 2,500 feet long. Its southwest-northeast runway is 2,400 feet long. Both are paved. Also there is a northeast-southwest, sod runway 3,000 feet long. This is usable in the summer and winter. Being unpaved, it is too soft for use during the spring months. However, these are completely outdated for even medium sized planes today.

All of these runways will continue to be used by smaller craft except the old east-west runway which is being turned into the new taxi strip.

Construction of the new runway has been done under the direction of Robert Peckham, a project engineer employed by the city for this purpose. He has done a fine job, in the opinion of Homer Hoskins, manager of the airport, who is watching every construction detail.

The paving machine is worth an article by itself. It is called (Continued on Page 5, Col. 1)

BUILDS RUNWAY — This is the soil cement machine which is being used to build the new, 4,000 foot east-west runway at Pontiac Municipal Airport. By mixing the topsoil, cement and water, it lays down a hard, solid base for the runway which costs only one-third as much as reinforced concrete. Later an asphalt surface is added.

Soapy Defends Handmade Shoes — 'My Feet Hurt!'

JACKSON (INS)—Gov. G. Meinen Williams confessed today why he wears handmade shoes, reportedly costing $45 a pair, F. O. B. New Jersey.

The governor said: "I've got big feet and they hurt."

He confided a family secret that all the boys in the Williams clan have been bothered by corns and added:

"They hurt too!" Williams' explanation was in response to Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobb's criticism of his out-of-state purchases.

Pontiac Mostly Fair, Says Weatherman

Tonight is expected to be mostly fair with a low near 50 degrees.

Mostly fair tomorrow and a little warmer is predicted. The high is expected to reach from 70 to 74 degrees.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 45. At 1 p.m. today the thermometer registered 64 degrees.

Bucky Harris Quits Detroit Tiger Post

DETROIT (AP)—Stanley W. (Bucky) Harris resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers, saying he could not be the "fiery, aggressive" manager the club's new owners seek to run the fifth-place club.

His resignation ends his second term as Tiger manager and months of speculation since the baseball club was sold in mid-summer for a record-shattering price of $5,500,000.

The successor to Harris was not named immediately.

Ike to Step Up Tempo of Speaking Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is going to make two or three more major campaign speeches than he had counted on.

Eisenhower told a news conference, however, he is not going to do any barnstorming, and not go out whistle-stopping.

He didn't say when or where the extra speeches, beyond the five or six he originally contemplated, will be made.

As for why he is stepping up his campaign pace, Eisenhower said it is simply because so many representations have been made to him by good friends.

He said he found himself a little weak about not accepting.

And, Eisenhower said, as far as he knows there is no health question involved at the moment in increasing his campaign pace.

Even now, Eisenhower said, he is not going to do a tenth as much as people want him to do.

It was a wide-ranging news conference, developing mostly around political questions and issues in one form or another, but with dashes of foreign affairs sprinkled in.

Eisenhower, garbed in a gray business suit with a vest and wearing a dark blue necktie with two white elephants on it, was unusually late showing up—for him. He was 3½ minutes behind schedule.

The President started off with a tribute to Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, famed woman athlete who died this morning.

He said she had won the admiration of all the people of the country. He lauded her last gallant fight against cancer and said that everyone feels sad that she had to lose this last battle.

UAW Ford Council Seeks Shorter Week

DETROIT (AP)—A shorter work week with a boost in pay will be the main targets for the United Auto Workers' National Ford council in 1958 negotiations with the Ford Motor Co.

This became apparent yesterday when the 150-member council, representing 130,000 Ford workers, adopted a resolution listing those demands as the chief objectives in the next round of contract talks. Said the resolutions:

"The vast increase in productivity resulting from automation makes the achievement of this goal not only possible but essential to the maintenance of full employment in our economy."

There was no mention of any specific length of the proposed work week or pay scales.

Fluoridation $500,000

DETROIT (AP)—It would cost about $500,000 to fluoridate Detroit's water supply, water board officials told the City Council. Councilmen are holding hearings to determine whether to submit the issue to a citywide vote next spring. Authorities said a charter revision would be necessary to permit adding fluorides to the water system.

Tito Leaves on Surprise 'Vacation' to Soviet Union

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito left today with Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev for a surprise visit to the Soviet Union.

Tito was accompanied by his wife Jovanka, Vice President Aleksander Rankovic and Djuro Pucar, chairman of the state of Bosnia-Herzegovina and a member of the Yugoslav Communist party Politburo.

Like Khrushchev's equally unexpected trip to Yugoslavia, Tito's latest visit to Russia was described as a vacation.

The official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the party left the military airport of Batujnica on a special Soviet plane this morning and will spend several days resting on the Black Sea coast.

Israeli-Jordan Border Calm

JERUSALEM (AP)—An uneasy calm hung over the Israeli-Jordan border today after a brief flareup of gunfire in this divided city.

A U.N. cease-fire appeal brought the short blaze of automatic weapons to an end last night with no casualties reported. It came less than 24 hours after a bloody Israeli strike into Jordan set off a round of intensive talks among Arab leaders.

In New York, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld called in representatives of Jordan, Israel and the Big Four powers for separate talks. He said he would ask the Security Council to act if the situation is not brought rapidly under control.

The attack at Husan, six miles southwest of Jerusalem and 2½ miles inside Jordan's border, was officially described by Israeli authorities as a warning against Arab "aggression" which the Israelis said had killed 36 of their people in the last six months.

U. N. truce headquarters announced today that 38 Jordan soldiers were killed and 9 were wounded in the Husan strike. An earlier report said U.N. observers also found the body of a 12-year-old girl at the scene. There was no report from the U.N. men of Israeli casualties.

Electric Dishwasher Attracts Runaway

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—A 10-year-old girl ran away from home because she had to do dishes. She was found working as a kitchen maid and explained:

"I left home because I hate doing dishes. Those folks I worked for have an electric dishwasher."

Host Tito Now Guest

TITO AND GUEST — Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev gestures and his host, President Tito, smiles during their visit to a collective farm at Belje, Yugoslavia. Today it was announced that Tito left with the Red leader for a surprise visit to the Soviet Union. Khrushchev had toured Yugoslavia during the past week on a holiday.

System Claims Perfect Batting Average

The Babsonpoll, four-year old election polling method with a perfect batting average in two national elections, will announce one week from today in this newspaper results of its first countrywide survey of Eisenhower-Stevenson sentiment in the current campaign.

Ballots for this initial sample have been distributed in factories and offices throughout the nation and in today's Pontiac Press for the first time. Returns are now being tabulated in the offices of Babson's Washington Service, weekly newsletter founded by Roger W. Babson, noted economist and statistician.

Next week's report will show early voting trends in the presidential race in those states which either candidate won by a narrow margin in 1952.

Babsonpoll officials point out that, despite the heavy margin by which President Eisenhower won election in 1952, it would take a switch of less than one million votes from the figures of four years ago in about a dozen pivotal states to move those states from the Eisenhower to the Stevenson column in the 1956 election.

These, of course, are statisticians' figures and such a coincidence would envision Stevenson winning all of these states by the narrowest of margins. Yet, they serve to point up the importance of measuring even the slightest movements of voter sentiment in critical areas.

These so-called "doubtful" states are those which were won by President Eisenhower with a majority of less than 6 per cent of the total vote cast.

Death Wins Cancer Bogey Counts Her Out After Long Fight

MILDRED 'BABE' ZAHARIAS

Great Woman Athlete Starred in Every Sport She Tackled

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete the world has known, died today after a stubborn battle with the one competitor she couldn't beat—cancer.

Earlier this morning before her death, George Zaharias, her husband, said:

"She's had enough agony, sadness and pain. And so I'm losing my wife, partner and love. God's will be done. I know she'll live forever in the hearts of millions."

Into her 42 years, she packed athletic triumphs that began with AAU basketball tournaments, included AAU track, then the Olympics and finally the golf courses of the nation.

Almost from the start she was known affectionately to sports fans as 'The Babe, a tag hung on her by her family.

She showed versatility early. She could lick any kid in the block, won a marble tournament, and was first-place winner in a harmonica contest.

Cancer struck in 1953 just after she won the golf tournament named for her—the Babe Zaharias Open in Beaumont.

After she underwent surgery that time, she came back to win seven golf tournaments.

But the cancer couldn't be stopped and her life became a succession of operations and days following days in John Sealy Hospital here.

She died in the quiet of a hospital room, far from the crowds of frenzied sports fans that cheered her every accomplishment.

The Babe never lost consciousness. She never sank into a coma. She slipped off into death during her sleep.

George was in the room. "She died in her sleep," Zaharias said. "It was real nice and peaceful, as peaceful as a baby. She just floated away. It's been a long battle and The Babe fought it the way she knows how to fight, giving ground reluctantly all the way and an inch at a time."

At 1 a.m., all members of the family now in Galveston filed into the room and one by one Babe recognized them and they spoke to her.

"She gave them all the nod," George said.

The big man paced the corridors all during the night. He was in and out of her room as has been his fashion 24 hours a day since she became ill.

For months, the whole world knew that death soon would reach the superb athlete. At times, her husband, George Zaharias, could hardly talk to newsmen as emotion gripped him.

At one time, when her life was fading, a spark of competitive spirit flamed again, and from her hospital bed she shook her fist and declared, "I'll beat this thing yet."

It was not until Sept. 23—Sunday—that the hospital finally admitted the end was inevitable (Continued on Page 5, Col. 1)

Thieves Steal $12,000 in Furs

Police Investigating Birmingham Robbery Last Night

Oakland County detectives joined Birmingham police this morning in an investigation of a Birmingham store burglary which netted thieves over $12,000 in furs late last night.

The looted business was the Fur By Robert store at 550 N. Woodward Ave.

A report of an alarm set off in the break-in arrived too late to enable police to make any arrests at the scene, according to Lt. Merlyn H. Holmquist of the Birmingham department.

He said this was due to the alarm system being connected with Detroit police. "It rang there and then they called us," Holmquist remarked.

Fifteen articles of fur were stolen, six of them valued at $1,000 or more. The furs included six stoles, three coats, and six cape jackets topped by a silver blue mink stole worth $1,500.

SNAP LOCK

According to investigators, burglars first entered the adjacent Jean Morton Millinery shop and attempted to break down the wall leading into the fur shop. After failing to do so, they broke in through the front door of the Robert store by snapping the lock out with a bar or wrench.

Det. Holmquist said he has learned from Sheriff Department Detective Leo Hazen that the break-in was similar to several which have occurred at business places throughout the county in recent months.

U. of M. Rally Speaker

Dewey Says Adlai Would Strip U. S. of Defenses

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said last night Adlai Stevenson threatens to strip the free world of its best defenses through talk of ending the draft and hydrogen bomb tests.

Dewey called Stevenson's proposed halt of selective service, made before the American Legion convention earlier this month, a "sly, smooth bid for the American people to vote for him so that the draft might come to an end."

"If this country should ever elect a man who threatens to undermine our defenses," he said, "that day we will have lost all of our allies and stand naked and alone in a hostile world."

Dewey, twice a Republican candidate for president, blasted the Democratic party nationally and in Michigan in an address before a rally of young Republicans on the campus of the University of Michigan, his alma mater.

He said no dictator would risk war with the United States as long as Eisenhower is president.

Turning to Michigan politics, Dewey observed that "Gov. Williams is running for re-election—or should I say Walter Reuther (president of the United Auto Workers) is running for election?"

Reuther, he said, wouldn't be able to give Williams much time this election year because he has "moved out to the larger scene."

"He has transferred his devotion to a citywide vote next spring. Authorities said a charter revision would be necessary to permit adding fluorides to the water system," Dewey said.

System Claims Perfect Batting Average

The Babsonpoll, four-year old election polling method with a perfect batting average in two national elections, will announce one week from today in this newspaper results of its first countrywide survey of Eisenhower-Stevenson sentiment in the current campaign.

Ballots for this initial sample have been distributed in factories and offices throughout the nation and in today's Pontiac Press for the first time. Returns are now being tabulated in the offices of Babson's Washington Service, weekly newsletter founded by Roger W. Babson, noted economist and statistician.

Next week's report will show early voting trends in the presidential race in those states which either candidate won by a narrow margin in 1952.

Babsonpoll officials point out that, despite the heavy margin by which President Eisenhower won election in 1952, it would take a switch of less than one million votes from the figures of four years ago in about a dozen pivotal states to move those states from the Eisenhower to the Stevenson column in the 1956 election.

These, of course, are statisticians' figures and such a coincidence would envision Stevenson winning all of these states by the narrowest of margins. Yet, they serve to point up the importance of measuring even the slightest movements of voter sentiment in critical areas.

These so-called "doubtful" states are those which were won by President Eisenhower with a majority of less than 6 per cent of the total vote cast.

The race for control of the new Congress, say Babsonpoll officials, will be decided for practical purposes in 121 congressional districts and in 22 Senate battles. (See complete list on Page 5.)

The House seats, now held by 70 Republicans and 51 Democrats, were selected on the basis of relatively small margins of victory in previous elections or the tendency of the district vote to reflect the popularity of a presidential candidate.

Because of the fact that voters frequently leave party ranks in their choice of candidates for the Senate, the list of doubtful races for seats in the upper house is necessarily larger. In all, 55 seats are being contested. Of these, Republicans appear certain to win in four states—New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Vermont.

The Democrats, on the other hand, should have an easy time of it in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, and in two contests in South Carolina.

That leaves 22 senatorial contests in which there's at least some element of doubt. Republicans now hold 13 of these seats; the Democrats nine. The GOP will need to make a net gain of one seat for Senate control if Eisenhower is re-elected (the Vice President would break the 48-48 tie) or two seats if the Democrats win the White House.

Readers of The Pontiac Press are invited to participate in this nationwide poll by filling out the ballot printed on this page and mailing it to Babson's at the address indicated. Only those of voting age should participate in the poll and only one ballot should be submitted by each person during the entire period between now and Election Day. The Babsonpoll ballot will be reprinted each week for use by additional members of readers' families.

If you've never before been invited to participate in a national poll, here's your opportunity!

Spinster Ends Vigil Over Friend's Body

WASHINGTON (INS)—A 59-year-old spinster was undergoing mental observation today after police halted the 18-month vigil she kept in her apartment over the mummified body of her elderly roommate.

Miss Zita Louise Baker explained to police yesterday that she had been trying to bring her 71-year-old friend, Miss Lila Thomas, back to life through "spiritual healing" but that she had failed.

From then on, she said, "I was praying constantly, praying every day—and last night, I stayed up and prayed all night."

She said Miss Thomas had died "in February"—apparently February, 1955. She said: "I came into the room one night. I leaned over and kissed her on the forehead. She was cold."

The tragedy was discovered only when the apartment house management was about to evict the two women because of a strange odor coming from their apartment and attributed to the numerous cats the women kept.

Council to Hear Both Suez Sides

Debate Set Next Week; U.S. Backs Egypt Plea to Present Its Case

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council has voted to debate conflicting Western and Egyptian charges on the Suez dispute after U.S. refusal to go along with British-French attempts to throw out the Arab complaint.

The United States voted with six other countries, including Russia, to include the Egyptian complaint on the council agenda. Britain, France, Australia and Belgium abstained.

The Egyptian complaint charges Britain and France with actions threatening world peace. The British-French charge protests against Egyptian nationalization of the Suez Canal Co.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the United States wanted to see that all points of view were heard. He said this did not imply support of Egypt's charges.

Prime Minister Eden and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd are conferring in Paris with Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau on united action over the Suez crisis. Both governments agree Egypt's seizure of the waterway cannot be condoned and that international control of the Suez must be guaranteed.

British and French government leaders already have pretty much discounted any chance of achieving their Suez aims through the Security Council in the face of Russia's veto power.

Another Storm in Atlantic Likely Hurricane Wind

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A new tropical storm formed in the Atlantic today and began moving westward under conditions which are "right" for the birth of a hurricane.

A bulletin from the Weather Bureau in San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the storm had a "weak circulation" with highest winds of 25 to 35 miles per hour blowing around a center.

It was located 250 miles east of the Windward Islands, or about 1,630 miles southeast of Miami.

Continued movement toward the west was forecast for the next 12 hours at a speed of 17 m.p.h., which would take the storm into the Caribbean some time today.

The storm was discovered as Hurricane Flossy, sixth tropical disturbance of the year, moved through North Carolina after a long voyage from the Gulf of Mexico.

Absentee Ballots Ready at County Clerk's Office

Applications for absentee ballots are available in his office, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said today.

County residents who will be away Nov. 6 may apply for absentee privileges until Nov. 3 at 2 p.m., Allen said.

Power Saw Stolen

Theft of a $150 power saw from a tool shed behind the Pontiac Senior High School was reported yesterday to Pontiac police.

The saw belongs to a Birmingham company employed on a construction project there. It evidently was stolen three weeks ago, police said.

Pontiac, Saginaw Race to Get Out Largest Vote

It's going to be Pontiac versus Saginaw in the coming Nov. 6 election.

Mayor William W. Donaldson yesterday dispatched a challenge to Saginaw Mayor Maurice E. Brown to "throw his hat in the ring" to see which city turns out the largest number of voters in the presidential balloting.

Donaldson has offered to buy Brown a hat of "unusual quality and style" if Pontiac comes out on the short end of the count. He has asked Brown to reciprocate if Saginaw's vote is smaller.

"I hope this will encourage the good citizens of Pontiac to get out and register so they can vote," the Mayor said. "I chose Saginaw because the two cities are of comparable size and predominantly industrial."

Clarence B. Randall, foreign adviser to President Eisenhower, will speak on "The United States Foreign Economic Policy" Friday at 8:15 at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills.

All funds from the ticket sales for the event will be for the sponsoring school Alumni Assn.

Randall has been associated with the Eisenhower administration since 1953 and took over his present post this summer. He formerly served as chairman of the Commission on Foreign Economic Policy.

Babe Dies of Cancer After 3-Year Fight

and near. A spokesman said this was possible because the Babe had lost interest in newspapers and no longer listened to her radio. They had avoided frank statements earlier for fear they would depress her.

Her final weeks were relatively free of pain, although she was given narcotics at times. This comfort was made possible because surgeons cut a nerve.

Almost to the last, Babe put up a courageous show. But friends were sick at heart to see the decline of the once-great athlete.

When remembrance of her specific feats had faded, sports fans still remembered her gusty outlook on life.

While winning the British Amateur, someone asked how she could drive a golf ball so far.

"I just loosen my girdle and let the ball have it," she replied.

Almost constantly with her in her declining months was George Zaharias, the wrestler turned promoter and real estate operator, whom she married in 1938. He was known as the "Weeping Greek from Cripple Creek." They were married a year after they met at a golf tournament. He is considered wealthy.

Mrs. Zaharias made an estimated million dollars in professional sports.

Six times, sports editors named her "Woman Athlete of the Year" in the annual Associated Press poll. On the 1950 ballot, sports writers named her the woman athlete of the half century.

Runway Completion Expected in Month

A P. & H. soil cement machine. It is big as an army tank and costs $60,000. Two of them are working on the runway.

It mixes soil, cement and water thoroughly to make a soil cement base for the runway. First the runway is graded. Then dry cement is poured out of bags onto the ground and leveled off.

Then the soil cement machine comes along. It agitates the soil and cement, mixing them and adding a metered amount of water.

SMOOTHING IT OUT

Afterward a large, sheepfoot roller comes along and compacts the surface. A road grader then levels the surface and a heavy, rubber-tired roller further compacts it.

Then another machine comes along and again blades, or agitates, the surface. This refines and completes the mixing process. Another rolling with a smooth roller completes construction of the runway base.

After the base has hardened its surface is treated with an asphalt emulsion, two coats of sealer and two coats of crushed stone. This provides the final, smooth surface.

With this machine it has been possible to build this runway at about one-third the cost of reinforced concrete, yet the runway will provide a waterproof, smooth, hard, safe surface which should last many years.

Allocation of federal funds already has been made to cover high intensity lights for the runway, taxi strip lighting, and for removal of the power line along Williams Lake road. This will be done next year.

Construction of the runway costs some $188,000. Land for it cost another $102,000.

GRADING CONTRACTOR
The first grading job was done last year and cost $35,000. John F. Walser of Pontiac, was the contractor. He is also subcontractor for the grading and drainage work under this year's contract.

The federal government provides half the money for purchase of the land and also for the runway construction. The city has to provide the other half for land but only one-quarter for construction. The state puts up the other quarter.

The runway will be ready early in October, making it possible for twin-engine planes to land and take off without danger. Its completion marks a milestone in improvement of the Pontiac Airport.

Pontiac City Affairs

Two File Damage Claims at Commission Meeting

Pontiac city commissioners last night authorized City Manager W. K. Willman to negotiate for two parcels of land needed for the completion of the widening of Bay street south of Mt. Clemens.

Two residents of the area, Earl R. Morrow, 1290 Mt. Clemens St., and Melvin A. Boersma, 1286 Lock St., filed claims for damages of $2,500 and $500 respectively, resulting from the street widening.

Willman said he would negotiate for settlement of these payments while attempting to secure the right-of-ways.

Morrow claimed it would cost $5,000 to relocate his garage necessary in the 60-foot widening. Boersma said the project would result in $500 damages to his property.

ACCEPT LAND CONTRACT

Other business taken up before the commission, which acted on a 10-point slate in less than an hour, was the acceptance of a land contract for purchase of the property at 63 S. Parke St.

Public hearings will be conducted next Tuesday on curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work projects proposed for First avenue from Joslyn to Highwood, and on Hollywood avenue from Kennett to Parkdale.

Assessed cost of the First avenue job will be $18,620.40. City cost will be $2,831.24. Total cost will be $21,451.64, while cost for a 50-foot lot will be $200.

The city will pay $1,871.82 for the Hollywood avenue project. Assessed cost will be $1,902.28. Total cost will be $3,774.10 while cost for a 120-foot side lot will be $288.

Kutchins Co. of Lansing will be awarded a contract for paving, curb, and gutter work for several projects in Pontiac after submitting a low bid of $186,000.00 for the work.

Commissioner Philip Rowston set four assessment payments for the water main in Telegraph road from Orchard Lake to Golf drive.

Commissioner Roy Cooley set three payments for a similar project in Pearsall avenue from Bagley to Wrenn, while Commissioner Floyd Miles established two payments to pay off the assessments for Durant street from Ingewood to Pershing.

Commissioners referred a communication from the State Highway Dept. concerning possible city participation in the widening of M218 to Willman.

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel work for Carlisle street from West Columbia to Cornell was declared a public necessity after Commissioner Miles offered a petition for the work signed by residents of the area.

Combustion Causes $60,000 Barn Blaze

Combustion was blamed today for a $60,000 fire which destroyed a barn in Brandon Township Monday afternoon.

The announcement was made by a spokesman for the Oxford Fire Department which extinguished the blaze aided by the Brandon Township unit.

He said the fire apparently started somewhere in the hay-loft.

The barn was on the G. A. Bass farm at 631 Hurd Rd. Lost in the blaze were a wheat combine, 3,000 bales of straw, and 30,000 bales of hay.

STATE GROUP WILL SEEK PROTECTION OF HISTORIC SITES

State Group Will Seek Money From Solons to Hire Archaeologist

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Historical Commission will ask the Legislature for money to hire an archaeologist to explore historic sites that might be destroyed by the stepped-up highway building program.

Dr. Lewis Beeson, commission executive secretary, said although many states have pushed ahead with such programs of archaeological salvage, Michigan is lagging behind.

"Some sites many thousands of years old will be bulldozed and their interpretation lost forever unless something is done in the near future," he said.

The commission voted to ask the 1957 Legislature for $205,000. Of this, $30,000 would be earmarked for the historic site-marking program.

The present budget is $119,000, with $25,000 for the site-marking program.

The commission also urged that the state take over the site of Michigan's only known Indian rock carvings in Greenleaf Township, Sanilac County.

Dr. Beeson said the Conservation Department would like to protect the site but cannot fit the project in its program at the present time.

"Relic hunters already have been busy up there," Dr. Beeson said.

Mother Pulls Baby From Rubbish Fire

DETROIT (INS) — A heroic Detroit mother pulled her 11-month-old son out of a fire yesterday and saved his life.

Richard Salzman crawled into an unattended rubbish fire. His screams brought his mother, Mrs. Helen Salzman, 34, rushing to the scene.

She found him sitting in the fire.

The baby is in Childrens Hospital with second and third-degree burns over 60 per cent of his body. Mrs. Salzman was hospitalized with hand burns.

Can Makers Sign 3-Year Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new contract between American Can Co. and United Steelworkers of America will go into effect Monday, providing 21½ cents an hour in wage increases over a three-year period.

The agreement, covering 20,000 workers in 37 plants from coast to coast, was signed here yesterday.

Wages will be increased 7½ cents an hour Oct. 1, 7 cents Oct. 1, 1957, and 7 cents Oct. 1, 1958. The current basic starting wage is $1.82 an hour.

Mental Tests Ordered for Sweepstakes Winner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Municipal Judge Alvin Weinberger ordered psychiatric examination for Joseph Francis O'Brien, 56, winner of $140,000 in Irish Sweepstakes money two years ago.

O'Brien, a $65-a-week night hotel clerk when he won the sweepstakes prize, came before Judge Weinberger on a drunk charge. O'Brien said, "Don't let anybody ever tell you it's lucky to win money. I wish I had never seen the dough." Much of his money, he said, had gone in Nevada gambling.

Fire Slows River Work

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Deepening of the St. Joseph River Turning Basin has been delayed at least a month by fire that heavily damaged a sandsucking dredge Tuesday. A crewman, Otis Edmonston, 43, of Euclid Center, was burned on the legs and jumped overboard to escape.

DATE NUT TWISTS — They look elegant but are easy to make. If you're serving a late morning brunch you can make these little sweet rolls just before your guests come. A hot roll mix is used as the base.

Sunday Breakfast Special: Food Convenience Is Modern Trend

Easy-Do Date Nut Twists

Sunday breakfast calls for something kind of extra special in most homes. You're sure to make a big hit with the family when you serve them homemade Date Nut Twists. These sweet rolls with a fancy look are really easy to make. Served with fruit and steaming hot coffee, they make a delicious satisfying breakfast.

Or serve them as a breakfast "dessert" following cereal or bacon and eggs. Either way they'll get Sunday off to a wonderful start.

With hot roll mix, you can "do it yourself" and get compliments galore. All the preliminary measuring has been done—just add water and mix up the dough. While it rises, prepare the date-nut filling. Then spread it over the rolled-out dough and follow the simple directions for folding and shaping. Allow the rolls to double in size, and they're ready for the oven. Topped with vanilla glaze, Date Nut Twists will give your breakfast table an air of festivity. Here's the recipe.

Date Twists
1 package Hot Roll Mix

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups chopped dates
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Prepare Basic or Richer Dough and let rise according to instructions.

Cook dates, water and sugar over low heat for 10 minutes or until thick, stirring occasionally. Cool; add nuts.

Roll dough on floured board to 18x12-inch rectangle. Spread with date mixture. Fold one-third of dough along 12-inch edge over center. Fold other side to overlap. Cut into 1-inch strips; twist each strip twice. Place on greased baking sheet; cover.

Let rise in warm place (85 degrees to 90 degrees) until doubled in size, 30 to 60 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes. If desired, drizzle with Vanilla Glaze while warm. Makes 18.

Vanilla Glaze:
Heat together 1 1/2 tablespoons milk and 1 tablespoon butter over low heat until butter melts. Remove from heat. Blend in 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until smooth.

When the grocery bill at the checkout counter seems high, it might help to consider that about a third of the items in the basket scarcely existed two decades ago. Another third now comes in an entirely different form.

Instant pastry mixes and desserts; frozen juice concentrates, frozen fruits and vegetables; prepared meats and dinners are mostly things new and different. Fresh foods which used to be available only "in season" now are available the year 'round.

Convenience foods have risen remarkably. In pounds per person, baby foods have jumped 1,300 per cent since the 1935-39 period, frozen vegetables 1,275 per cent, frozen fruits and juices 850 per cent, canned fruits and juices 275 per cent, and canned meat 200 per cent.

Smooth Welsh Rabbit
A velvety smooth Welsh rabbit made with easy melting processed cheese, tastes just that much better when a fleck or two of powdered ginger is stirred into the saucy mixture.

Spark Up Menu With Mexican Stuffed Tomatoes

Getting stale on menu-making? Try this one!

Mexican Stuffed Tomatoes
1/2 pound bacon (diced)
1 small clove garlic (minced)
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup large firm tomatoes
1 cup enriched cornmeal
2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 cups water
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/4 teaspoon cumin seed

Cook diced bacon in a skillet until crisp; remove bacon bits. Pour off all but 1/4 cup of the drippings. Add minced garlic and onion to bacon drippings and brown lightly. Cut off a thin slice from stem end of tomatoes; remove core. Scoop out pulp and juice. Add tomato pulp and juice, cooked bacon and remaining ingredients to garlic-onion mixture; continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Fill tomato shells with the cornmeal mixture. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate (375 degree) oven 10 to 15 minutes. Serve at once. Makes six servings.

Try Molasses Malt

Try this malted milk with a brand new flavor — a molasses malt! Blend together a tablespoon of molasses and three tablespoons of malted-milk powder. Gradually add a cup of cold milk and beat with a rotary beater until the mixture is full of froth.

History of Rice Traces Back 5,000 Years

The history of rice traces back more than 5,000 years. Rice has long been one of the world's staple foods. But the story of rice in the United States began in the 17th Century.

Legends attribute the source of our first rice seeds either to a pirate ship wrecked off the Carolina coast or to a sailing vessel blown off course near Charleston, S. C.

However it got its start, rice first was produced commercially in South Carolina. From there, the growing area spread into today's major producing areas of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, and California.

It has become a highly mechanized crop, with much of the seeding and spraying done by airplane.

When World War II started, total U. S. rice production amounted to less than 25 million hundredweight. During the war years and immediately afterwards, sharp increase helped relieve world scarcity.

High production, stimulated by war demand, continued. In 1954, it reached a record of nearly 74 million hundredweight. But world acreage expanded after the fighting ended, and other countries have become better able to supply their own needs—some becoming active competitors.

Here in the United States, rice has reached the status of an important agricultural crop, valued at about $285 million annually—an important source of income in many areas.

Combine Applesauce, Jellied Cranberries

What goes with pork? Applesauce and cranberry sauce, of course. But for a doubly delicious accompaniment, combine the contents of a 1-lb. can of jellied cranberry sauce, crushed, with a 1/2-cup applesauce. Add 1/4-cup of raisins and 1/4-teaspoon cinnamon; chill.

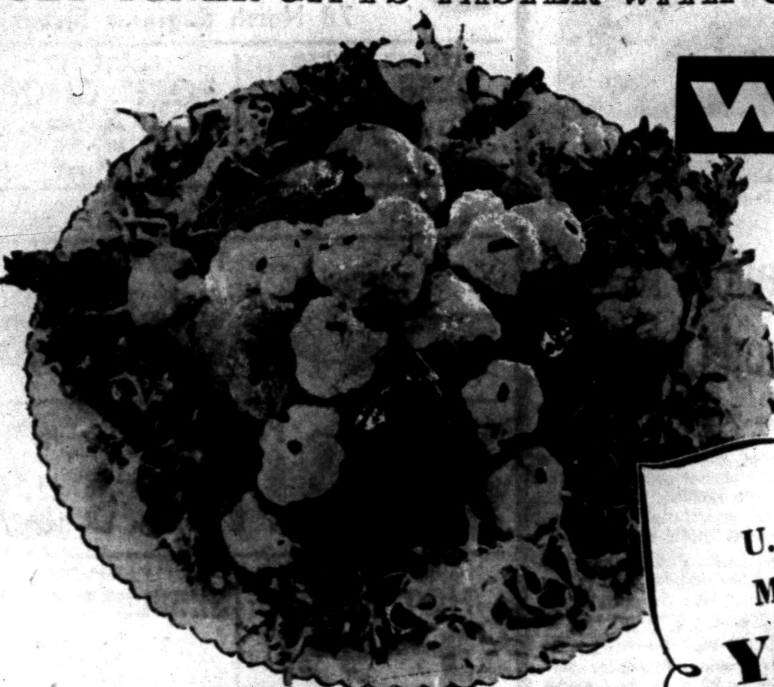

Relish the spicy, tart-sweet flavor that complements your favorite pork main dish!

Small fry like creamed spinach when it is topped with bits of crisply-cooked crumbled bacon.

Ideas to Make Meatless Meals More Exciting

Do you know that... Cheese supplies fine protein to meals and can be successfully used in place of meat. Try it in any course of the meal from soup to dessert. Its flavor will enhance foods with which it is served.

You can add taste appeal to creamed salmon or tuna with a sauce made by adding one-third cup mayonnaise to 2 cups medium cream sauce.

If you add a little blue cheese to American or cheddar cheese when making grilled cheese-tomato sandwiches, you will have results to your liking. Sour cream spread generously on top and sides of an angel food cake and then sprinkled generously with brown sugar, will make a new and exciting dessert. Refrigerate before serving.

For fast days, cottage cheese with its high quality protein will contribute much to meatless meals.

Glamorous Dessert

Want a glamorous and glorious dessert? Fold whipped cream into slightly whipped vanilla ice cream and use as a topping for sweetened strawberries.

Give Your Nerves an Even Break

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We are repeatedly awed by the wonder of today's mechanical devices while we take for granted much more complex and miraculous procedures which occur in our own bodies. I am thinking today of the nervous system.

The nervous system governs the body. It controls both the voluntary and involuntary muscles and guides many vital processes such as respiration, circulation, digestion, and others. It also is responsible for our thoughts.

The central nervous system consists of our brain and our spinal cord. The peripheral nervous system is made up of 12 pairs of nerves originating in the brain, 31 pairs of nerves coming from the spinal cord, plus the nerves which go to the internal organs and the blood vessels.

In a recent article in the magazine, "Today's Health," J. D. Ratcliff wrote: "But for our magnificent nervous system we would be a chaotic mass of individual cells, each cell going its own way independent of the others."

MILLIONS OF MESSAGES

When mentioning the fact that we take our nervous systems for granted he said, "Millions of messages pour through its billions of cells, telling the heart when to beat, glands when to secrete, lungs when to suck in air."

This gives us just a glimpse of how crucially important our nervous system is to us, of how it controls our actions, the working of our bodies, our health, and even our success and happiness.

Many diseases and disabilities arise from injuries to the nervous system. These usually are due to actual injury of the nerve or nerves, to infection, systemic diseases or deficiency states.

For instance, pernicious anemia may have resulting unhappy effects on the nerves. Deficiency states can come from tensions and strains, poor nutrition and infections. A chronic state of anxiety can have far reaching effects on health because it can change body chemistry and glandular performance.

Take care of your nervous system with a splendid health routine, mental discipline and a happy outlook.

Take care of your nervous system with a splendid health routine, with mental discipline and a happy outlook.

Girl Ignores Doorbell, Is Criticized

Told She Did Right Since She Was Clad in Nightclothes

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening at about 9 o'clock, I took a shower and got ready for bed. That is, I put on my pajamas and a housecoat over them and had intended to sit and watch television for a while and then go to bed. No sooner had I done this when the doorbell rang.

"As I was not dressed to receive callers I did not answer the doorbell. The visitor rang several times and after getting no response, finally went away. The visitor turned out to be my sister-in-law who called me the next day to tell me that she thought I was very rude not to answer the doorbell.

"She knew I was at home as she could see the light from the street. When I explained that I was not dressed to receive visitors, she said that I might have at least answered the doorbell and explained rather than pay no attention to her ring. Was I wrong not to have answered the door?"

Answer: As you were undressed and ready for bed and didn't know who was at the door, you were quite right in not answering the bell.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does an engaged girl's fiancé, who is almost a stranger to us, have to be invited with her to our wedding reception? This will be limited just to relatives and a few intimate friends. If I include him it may cause hurt feelings among others who have to be left out. Yet somebody tells me it's a strict rule that he be invited everywhere with her.

Answer: Very definitely he should be invited just as though they were married.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is being married and has asked my small daughter to be a flower girl.

"I was under the impression that the bride paid for the child's dress but have been told by several people that I am supposed to pay for it. Will you please tell me what is correct?"

Answer: As a rule, the mother pays for her child's dress.

Full-sleeved sport shirt of absorbent wool jersey has cut-away button-down collar, decorative cuff stitching. Styled in California, it is light gray in color and ideal for cool wear.

6 Rules for Painting Wood

Here are six rules for applying opaque house paints to wood:

1. Banish moisture troubles before you paint. Opaque paint won't stay on surfaces that remain moist.
2. Give the paint something to "bite" into. Paint can't stick to dirty, greasy, or slick surfaces. A wire brush is best for eliminating these.
3. Spread the paint so that it covers the square footage planned for it. Follow directions on the label; don't tamper with the mix.
4. Wait for good painting weather and for thorough drying between coats of paint.
5. Work in the shade. Paints are not made to go on hot surfaces.
6. Don't expect the impossible. No paint lasts forever. The best quality gloss house paint must be renewed every 5 to 6 years if it is the self-cleaning white type or every 6 to 8 years for deep-tone colors.

Men Take Note

Men would do well to copy a few of the grooming health aids the so-called weaker sex has been employing for a long time. This is particularly true of eye care. Good grooming habits will help take care of the appearance angle and adequate rest and regular use of a little eye lotion will help to keep them refreshed and on the job.

'Babe' Zaharias Was Known as World's Greatest Woman Athlete

GALVESTON, Tex. (INS)—The death of Babe Didrikson Zaharias takes from the American scene the greatest woman athlete the world has ever known.

The mighty heart that carried Babe to victory across the world's athletic fields and golf courses for 24 years was still there after her last and greatest battle—with cancer.

Babe was an Olympic record-holder, three-time U.S. Women's Open Golf Champion and the first American to win the British Women's Open.

She also was a skilled basketball, tennis and billiard player, and even managed to play football with Southern Methodist and to pitch for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Babe had been ill for four years, and through all that time the amazing woman was an inspiration to millions in her fight against death as in her fights to win other contests.

Although she always asked the doctors at Galveston's John Sealy hospital to tell her the exact truth about her condition, Babe never gave up hope.

In one of her last interviews with any newsmen, Babe said: "I just can't eat, doggone it. I've got to get back on my feed and get me some strength. Remember when I was up around 160 and had all those muscles?"

"I'm down to about 118 now, I think, and I'm so doggone weak I can't even boost my bottom off bed. But, shucks, you know soon as I start eating I'll be okay."

"I'll be up and out of here..." That statement was made in July from her hospital bed when Babe was fading rapidly.

Babe was born to Norwegian parents in Port Arthur, Tex., on June 26, 1914. One of seven children, she was named Mildred Ella Didrikson.

Childhood friends dubbed her "Babe" when Mildred showed a tremendous ability to wallop home runs in baseball like Babe Ruth.

Even as a child, the Babe spurned such girlish pastimes as playing with dolls for more rigorous games. At the height of her fame, she told International News Service:

"I am what I am today because I had three brothers who were plenty rough and I lived at Beaumont, Texas, where the boys weren't any nicer to little girls than my brothers were to me."

Babe, whose mother excelled as an ice skater and skied in Norway, dreamed of competing in the Olympics "when I was 14."

"In fact," said Babe, "my sister Lillie and I began training for the games." Mildred stole the spotlight at the games four years later in Los Angeles.

Babe, however, made a rather inauspicious sports debut. She couldn't make the girls' basketball team as a freshman at Beaumont High School. She practiced diligently until her junior year when she finally made the team and promptly became an all-city, all-state player.

The late Col. M. J. McCombs, a Dallas insurance executive, saw her play at Houston and persuaded her to join his company's team after graduation.

The Babe led the team, the Dallas Cyclones, to three National AAU championships in 1939, 1939 and '31 and twice was named to the AAU all-American team. Her one-game high with the Cyclones was an amazing 106 points.

Babe Didrikson was a one-girl team at the National AAU track and field championships in Chicago in 1932. This Texas dynamo won first place in the 100-yard dash, the 80-meter hurdles, the 220-yard dash, the javelin, the discus, the broad jump and the high jump. In addition, she tied for first place in the 50-yard dash and placed second in the shot put.

But it was in the Olympics that the Babe earned herself the right to be called the female counterpart of the great Jim Thorpe.

She set a new world record in the javelin with a heave of 143 feet, four inches. She also established a new record in the 80-meter hurdles, with a winning effort of 11.7 seconds. Both marks have since been bettered. Babe missed being a triple winner when her head-first effort over the high jump, good for five feet, five inches, was disallowed by the officials as "illegal."

Not long after her sparkling Olympic triumphs, Babe's amateur status was revoked by the AAU because her picture appeared in an automobile advertisement.

It was the late Grantland Rice who introduced Babe to golf, or rather, golf to Babe. Beginning her amateur status in 1935, she once won 17 straight tournaments, including the American and British amateur crowns. Babe turned pro in 1947.

She copied the coveted women's title at Tam O'Shanter in the plush All-American tourney three times and in 1947 became the first American to win the British Women's Open.

In what amounted to a great tribute to Babe's ability, the United States Golf Association amended its entry rules to permit Babe to compete in the 1948 men's National Open at Los Angeles.

In a supposed man's world, the Babe hit her tee shots better than many of the male golf stars. Once on a radio show, the singer Hildegarde complained to Babe:

"I can't understand why I don't hit a golf ball as far as you do. It seems to me I swing the club the same way."

Babe's answer was a classic. "Hildegarde," she said, "it's not enough just to swing at the ball. You've got to loosen your girdle and really let the ball have it!"

From the time she began playing golf in 1935 to her first bout with cancer in 1953, Babe Didrikson won 82 tournaments and a husband. She met husband George Zaharias on a golf course. The Los Angeles open in 1938 was a man's event but Babe wasn't barred by the rules.

George, a professional wrestler known as "the crying Greek from Cripple Creek," was playing an opening-day threesome with Babe and a Presbyterian minister.

"One minute we were saying hello, and the next minute photographers were crowding around and calling for him to put wrestling holds on me," Babe used to explain it. "George put his arm around me, pretending to apply neck holds and stuff. And I didn't mind it at all."

Dancing and romancing followed and George and Mildred were married in St. Louis on Dec. 23, 1939. Baseball's Leo Durocher and Joe Medwick were witnesses. Their marriage to the end, was one of mutual love, devotion and admiration.

An accomplished billiard player, bowler and swimmer as well, the Babe did some boxing, once practiced with the SMU football team, pitched for the Cardinals in an exhibition game against the Brooklyn Dodgers, and hit three home runs in a women's amateur baseball game.

It was just ten days after she had won the Babe Zaharias open in Beaumont in the spring of 1953, that the Babe learned she was stricken with cancer.

"Lord knows it wasn't easy to face," she recalled. "George says I didn't bat an eye when the word came. But I did, inside. I never in my life played at anything, including living, that I didn't expect to win. Now, all of a sudden, maybe I wasn't going to win the big one."

In April of that year, Mrs. Zaharias underwent an operation at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Beaumont for cancer of the sacrum, at the base of the spine.

She won round one and four months later thrilled countless fans by shooting a 307 for third place in the world championship at Tam O'Shanter.

Apparently recovered from her illness, the Babe was terrific in 1954, winning five golf events, including the U. S. women's open. She started 1955 strongly, winning at Tampa and Spartanburg, S. C., before the disease struck again.

Harris Resigns

DETROIT (AP)—Bucky Harris resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

His resignation is effective at the end of the season, Sept. 30.

The resignation ends the 59-year-old manager's second term at the Tiger helm.

President Walter O. (Spike) Briggs accepted the resignation immediately. Harris mailed his resignation Sept. 5 while the Tigers were in Kansas City. He himself asked that it be released today.

Briggs issued this statement:

"I have personally admired Bucky all my life, and feel that this move of his will work out for the best. We have had our ups and downs, but I shall always have great respect for Bucky as a gentleman and for his ability as a manager. I hope our friendship will be solid for the future."

"The way Bucky has brought the club back during the final two months of the season is tremendous. I wish him the best for the future."

GREATEST WOMAN ATHLETE — Always referred to as the "World's Greatest Woman Athlete," Mildred (Babe Didrikson) Zaharias was a star in many sports. At the left she was known most prominently for her greatness in golf. She even boxed in New York in 1934 and she was always known for keeping physically fit. Here she is shown (third photo) working out at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., in 1932, the year she turned pro. At Beverly Hills, California, she played an outstanding game of tennis. In the final picture she is shown as she played the game in 1934. Her death today resulted after a courageous battle with cancer in a Galveston, Texas, hospital.

Phils Put Cuffs on Dodgers, 7-3

GOLLY, HERE'S SOLEY — Solly Hemus, Philadelphia second baseman, skids past Brooklyn's catcher Roy Campanella to score on pitcher Robin Roberts' fly at Ebbets Field. Plate umpire Augie Donatelli watches the play as Campanella takes the throw from centerfielder Duke Snider. The Dodgers lost, 7-3.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Can the Braves do it?

With a one-game lead and three to play, can they sweep their wind-up series opening tomorrow night at St. Louis and win their first National League pennant since 1946?

Manager Walter Alton, whose Brooklyn Dodgers were kept from a tie for the lead by Philadelphia and Robin Roberts 7-3 yesterday, says Milwaukee won't do it.

"We'll win three from Pittsburgh; the Braves will lose one to the Cardinals—and the season will start all over again Monday with the playoff opener in Ebbets Field."

"No dice," says Milwaukee boss Fred Haney. "We're going to win it by Sunday. We won't settle for a playoff."

A three-game sweep is a must if Milwaukee wants a neat, no-fuss title. Then no matter what Brooklyn does the Braves have it.

The Dodgers, however, can't win it alone anymore. They need help from the Cards. One Milwaukee loss could mean a tie. Two could give the world champs a repeat pennant.

The Cincinnati Redlegs' best hope is a major league home-run record. They need two more. They no longer can win the flag without a playoff, and they must sweep their remaining two games, starting Saturday at Chicago, and hope for a Cardinal sweep and two Brooklyn losses for even a tie.

Chicago's last-place Cubs won 3-2 from the Cardinals, who had 15 hits in 13 innings in the only other NL game yesterday. Solly Drake's single did it. Old pro Murry Dickson, beaten despite a five-hitter, not only lost his 11th but also was eliminated as a starter against the Braves.

In the American, southpaw Whitey Ford, scheduled to open the World Series for the champion New York Yankees, muffed his chance for a 20th victory with a wild pitch as Baltimore won 1-0 on a four-hit major league debut by righthander Charlie Beamon.

Detroit, behind Paul Foytack's three-hitter, defeated Chicago 4-1. Boston smacked Washington 8-4, and the Cleveland Indians downed the Kansas City Athletics 8-4 in a night game to clinch at least a tie for second place.

Braves Pow Wow for Cards

'3'—Heap Big Number

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The magic number is three for the confident Milwaukee Braves as they await the opener of their final three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals tomorrow night.

"The combination is three," said Manager Fred Haney, "three Milwaukee victories. We're not counting on Brooklyn losing. We've got to win 'em all. There has been no question in our minds but that we feel we can do it. And we're not ready to settle for any tie or playoff. We want to win it outright."

Haney huddled with Charley Root, his pitching coach, to study charts of pitching performances against the Cardinals before naming his pitching selections. Bob Buhl was expected to work the opener, probably followed by Warren Spahn Saturday night.

The Braves, who have displayed no great surface enthusiasm down the stretch, happily discussed Brooklyn's 7-3 defeat by Robin Roberts and the Phillies which gave them a one-game edge.

"I never thought I'd be rooting for Roberts," said shortstop Johnny Logan.

"We're in good shape," said catcher Del Crandall. "But we're still got to win our games."

Several Braves were discussing possibilities with newsmen in the hotel lobby as they lounged around during yesterday's offday. It was pointed out that a combination of a Brooklyn defeat and a Milwaukee victory Friday night would assure the Braves of no worse than a tie. If this should happen and Brooklyn should lose a Saturday game to Pittsburgh, the pennant could be clinched before the Braves took the field for their Saturday night game with the Cardinals.

scouting report on the New York Yankees, prepared by Billy Southworth and Paul Waner.

"I hope we can keep swinging like we were at Cincinnati for the next 10 days," said Haney, indicating he expected the Braves to be in the series.

When asked if he had sensed any panic among his Braves in their days of decision, Haney answered: "The only panic I saw all year was Ruben Gomez when he was being chased by Joe Adcock."

Braves Trounce Lincoln, 25-0

Washington Passes 20th Test Without Defeat in Junior High Football

Defending champion Washington, under new head coach Don Kelly, walloped Lincoln, 25-0, in the opening game of the 1956 Pontiac Junior High League football season Wednesday afternoon at Wisner Stadium.

Halfback Isaac Jones galloped for two touchdowns in the first quarter to get the Braves off to a flying start as they extended their unbeaten skein to 20 games.

Jones tallied 1st with a 14-yard punt 50 yards for another.

Jim Watkins scored on a 12-yard run in the 2nd period and quarterback Fred Staley sneaked over from the Rallapier three in the 3rd quarter for the final TD.

The Jefferson and Madison varsity teams clash today at Wisner while Lincoln and Washington tangle in a JV game on the Lincoln gridiron. Both games start at 4 o'clock.

Foytack Chalks up 15th as Tigers Close at Home

DETROIT (AP)—In baseball as in horse racing, a late spurt and a fast finish make for an interesting contest but they don't pay off unless you finish in the money.

The Detroit Tigers are winding up the 1956 American League campaign as one of baseball's hottest outfits, but a finish in the money is almost out of the question.

They whipped the Chicago White Sox in the Briggs Stadium finale, 4-1, yesterday, but the 4th-place Boston Red Sox defeated Washington and the Tigers remain two games out of the 1st division with three games to play.

Detroit has won 15 of its last 19 games and 26 of the last 36. The Tigers' 80 victories are the 4th-most they've had since the 2nd-place club of 1950 rolled up 95 decisions. But their 6th consecutive 2nd-division win streak appears almost insurmountable. Boston meets New York three times and Cleveland entertains Detroit for three final games.

Paul Foytack, who could not claim a single major league pitching victory prior to the 1956 season, came through with his 15th triumph yesterday on a masterful three-hitter.

Foytack, who has been defeated 13 times, lost his shutout in the 8th inning when Larry Doby slammed his 23rd home run into the upper deck in right field.

Bill Tuttle, one of the club's major disappointments, swatted a home run, a double and a single in four trips to lead Detroit's attack.

Detroit took a 2-0 lead off Jack Harshman on Tuttle's two-run blast in the 2nd. Singles by Tuttle and Red Wilson around a triple by Frank Bolling—his 100th base hit of the season—produced two more runs in the 4th.

Syron's Pupil at Orchard Lake CC

Pontiac Area Was Babe's 1st Golf Classroom

By BRUNO L. KEARN
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Pontiac area and one of the old pros of golf, Frank Syron, can modestly take much of the credit for the great golfing prowess of Babe Zaharias.

It was at Orchard Lake Country Club, back in the spring of 1933 when the Babe really got into the game of golf.

She had played one round previously with Grantland Rice in Los Angeles in 1932, and when she came to Detroit immediately afterward on a business proposition with an auto company, she became Syron's prize pupil at Orchard Lake.

"She came out at least 5 days a week for a month," said Syron, "and after three weeks she was breaking 85."

They laughed at Syron when he said she would be the next world's champion.

"I never saw anyone drive a ball like she could," Syron added, "and I knew she was destined for greatness in the game."

One of the widely recognized feats during her stay in the area was the day she outdrove Clarence Gamber, who was then, known as the world's longest hitter.

Gamber visited the club as a guest at the time and Syron, attempting to prove Babe's power, arranged the driving match between the two.

It was Syron and Floyd Blakeslee, former Oakland County prosecuting attorney, who arranged Babe's contract when she decided to play baseball as a pitcher on the men's House of David team of Benton Harbor.

"They were going to sign her for $250 a week," said Syron, added, "and I knew she was destined for greatness in the game."

Phils to Seek Talent Outside United States

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies announced today the National League club will go beyond the borders of the United States in search of player talent.

General Manager Roy Hamey announced the appointment of Lloyd Brown, former major league pitcher and minor league manager, as a scout for the Phillies in the Caribbean countries.

Crackers, Chicks Meet

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Crackers and the Memphis Chicks met tonight in the final game of the Southern Assn. playoff series. Each team has won three games.

The winner will be host to Houston's Texas League champions in the opener of the Dixie Series, probably starting Saturday night.

"but Floyd and I told her to wait. She did, and she got $1,000 a week."

Babe came to Detroit after her acclaim in the Olympics in 1932. The Dodge automobile company contracted her for commercial reasons.

She was to appear in an advertisement showing her running against the start of the automobile. It was for this reason the AAU took away her amateur status. She was accepting money for the advertisement.

While at Orchard Lake, Syron said, "the Babe would never walk around the fences, she always hurried them."

"So one day I told her to let her hair down, that is, to let it grow and get a little more feminine."

She replied, "I guess you're right, my dad says I should stick to golf, because it is more ladylike."

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—The 2-3 combination of Princess Aly ($45.50) and Direct Price ($84.10) paid a record of $17.10 daily double at Yonkers Raceway last night. The previous highest at Yonkers was $719.10 on Oct. 13, 1952.

Chiefs Polish Defenses, Dales Do Same

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
If coaches Ed Graybiel of Pontiac and Ted Meister of Ferndale accomplish what is foremost in their minds this week, the clash between the two teams at Ferndale Friday night could be another affair like the PHS-Lansing Sexton thriller last week.

Graybiel was very disappointed with the defensive play of the right side of the line last week. "If we don't polish up our defenses on the right side, Ferndale will eat up yardage at will," he said. "They are a same type of team as Sexton but even faster," he added.

Meanwhile Meister, who watched PHS against Lansing last week, is figuring on sitting up his defenses to check some of the speedy Chiefs backs. "If we clog up those openings in a hurry, we can give Pontiac trouble," he said.

Ferndale won its opener by trouncing Berkley 19-0 and last week the Dales fell by the same score to Grosse Pointe.

Grosse Pointe however took advantage of a couple of early breaks, a fumble and an intercepted pass in first few minutes of the first quarter, to take a 13-0 lead.

Suzie Barred by NCAA Rule

BOSTON (AP)—Suzie Sims won't be able to serve as coxswain of the Boston University freshman crew after all.

The 18-year-old girl from Forest Hills, N.Y., turned out for the job Tuesday.

But authorities spotted fine print in the NCAA rules which states: "Only undergraduate males shall be allowed to participate in intercollegiate athletics among member schools of the NCAA."

Full Slate in 3 Circuits

By BILL CORNWELL
Walled Lake and Southfield, the two top contenders for the Inter-Lakes football championship, and Waterford, the No. 1 "dark horse," open their 1956 league campaigns Friday.

The full-slate activity in the Inter-Lakes Conference spotlights this week's accelerated prep action in leagues throughout the Oakland County area.

Besides the three-game card in the Inter-Lakes, play is scheduled on three fronts in each of the Oakland B and Wayne-Oakland circuits to mark the greatest league activity thus far.

Action is still limited in the Eastern Michigan and South Central loops where defending champion Birmingham plays host to Mt. Clemens and Millington visits Oxford in the only encounters.

Waterford's Skippers, unbeaten in two starts, will be visited by defending titlist Van Dyke tomorrow night. The Abes, who appear weaker this season, handed Waterford its only I-L setback a year ago and the Skippers haven't forgotten it.

Powerful Southfield and impressive Walled Lake, both undefeated in two contests, tangle with less imposing foes as they tune up for their possible title showdown a week hence at Walled Lake.

Dave Smith's Vikings entertain Berkley, which hasn't tasted victory in its last 11 attempts, while the Jays go to Farmington for an afternoon game.

Avondale, unceremoniously dumped by resurgent Troy last week, must get by Madison on the Eagle gridiron to keep its Oakland B title hopes alive. Lake Orion's surprising Dragons face invading Fitzgerald and Clawson travels to Roseville in other league engagements.

Clarkston's undermanned Wolves, scoreless after two decisions, meet improving West Bloomfield at home in Friday night's feature Wayne-Oakland attraction. Also on the W. O. agenda are Northville's trip to Milford and Holly's scrap with Brighton at Holly.

A three-game program is slated in the Southern Thumb League. Unbeaten Dryden greets winless Capac, Brown City journeys to Memphis and defending champion New Haven tackles visiting Armada.

Horsman, Hagens Bag 2 Large Elk

Back from an elk hunting trip in the Jackson Hole country of the Rockies, Walled Lake's Walter Horsman and Russ Hagens will soon be displaying a pair of fine bulls. Horsman's trophy sported a fine rack, weighed 750 pounds. But Walt reported Hagens' animal was an 800-pounder "with one of the most beautiful racks I've ever seen."

Horsman, long-time Multi-Lakes official, caught cold on the trip and is now suffering from a touch of pneumonia.

take to the road against Huron Valley Township as they gun for their 2nd Southeast Suburban win.

Royal Oak begins its Border Cities schedule with invading Grosse Pointe while a Bi-County League showdown looms at Utica when the Chiefs battle Center Line.

Two speedy halfbacks Larry Wepling on the right side and Larry Brown will be at their regular posts.

Dick Wyatt, a 200 pound tackle, who has seen only limited action this year, is reported in top form and will be back in the starting lineup Friday.

The Chiefs came out of the Sexton game without serious injury, however several of backs have been limping with leg bruises including Jimmy Shorter, Charlie Spann and Freeman Watkins.

Offensive guard Dick Kors is being worked to go both ways this week. Kors was moved into the right linebacker slot late in the game last week and did good job stopping the Sexton outside running attack.

Otherwise no other changes are expected in the offensive lineup for the Chiefs, although Graybiel is still undecided about several defensive posts.

Game time on the Ferndale gridiron, which is located on Republic Avenue and 9-Mile road about a mile and a half west of Woodward, is 8:00 p.m.

Williams Loudly Boasts: State's Midget Turkeys Outshow Ohio's Finest

LANSING (AP)—Maybe it's because it's an election year. Anyway, the governors of Michigan and Ohio outdid themselves trying to outdo each other in bragging about the turkeys raised in their native states.

Gov. Lausche of Ohio set the tone in inviting Gov. Williams to enter a Michigan-raised turkey in the National Dressed Turkey show at Cincinnati Jan. 8-10.

"I should in all fairness warn you," the Ohio governor wrote Williams, "that Ohio has been preparing for this contest, and I believe Ohio grows the finest and largest turkeys in existence."

"However, should you doubt this, I want to give you ample notice not to send anything but your largest and finest. The officials of the Ohio Turkey Association tell me that their big worry now is to slow down our special entry in order to keep the contest from being a run-away for Ohio."

In accepting the challenge, Williams sent back as good as he got, complaining he understood the show would be limited to birds weighing "a trifling 69 pounds."

This puts Michigan at a disadvantage, Williams said, since it would limit Michigan to its midget breeds and eliminate the larger species more common here.

"I refer, of course," the governor wrote, "to our turkey Michiganus Gigantus. This fine bird stands many hands high, is three whippers across the breast and carries marine diver's weights on its feet as standard equipment to keep it from soaring to altitudes at which it might be mistaken for the flying boxcar type of aircraft."

"We shall immediately put one of our midget birds on a rigorous slenderness diet," Williams wrote, "to reduce its weight to a point where it will be competitive with Ohio's biggest and best."

Stevenson Asks 'Who's at Helm'

Ex-President Smiles His Approval as Adlai Slaps at Ike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, scrapping hard right under Harry Truman's nose, accused President Eisenhower last night of "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

With the former President smiling approval, Stevenson told a cheering overflow audience in the 2,300-seat music hall of Municipal Auditorium:

"There is only one question to be asked about the Eisenhower administration. That is: 'Who's in charge here, anyway? Who in this businessman's administration keeps the store?'"

Only last month at the Democratic National Convention Truman fought to keep the presidential nomination from going to Stevenson. Truman called Stevenson a "defeatist" then.

Last night, in the heart of Truman's Missouri stamping grounds the former President introduced Stevenson as a man with the "ability and experience" required for the White House.

Then Truman sat and beamed as Stevenson ripped into the Eisenhower administration and fired sharp criticism at the President himself.

Stevenson carries his campaign across the Kansas River to neighboring Kansas City, Kan., for a speech at the Wyandotte County Courthouse today, then flies on to St. Louis for a major address tonight.

Jayne Looks Glamorous Even With Multicolor Hair

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jayne Mansfield passed the acid test: she managed to look glamorous even while two hairdressers were applying bleach to the roots of her blonde hair.

That is how I found her in the makeup department at 20th Century-Fox, a studio that has been a haven for sensational blondes (Betty Grable, Marilyn Monroe, Sherree North, etc.). Covered with a smock and with her hair a foamy, multishaded mess, Jayne still looked great.

Maybe that's because happiness was written all over her face. When I saw her in New York a year ago, she was yearning to get back to her pink Jaguar and her movie career. I noticed the car parked outside the makeup building. And there's no doubt that her career is in the pink as well.

"Oh, I couldn't be happier," she said. "The studio is so nice. Just to get me out of the play, they bought it, even though they didn't want it."

How's that again? She explained: "Buddy Adler (studio head) said he didn't want 'Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter.' He didn't think it would be good as a movie. But Frank Tashlin (writer-director-producer) saw my test for 'The Wayward Bus' and flipped."

"He said he had to have me for 'Do Re Mi' and he told Buddy he had a way to lick the 'Rock Hunter' script. So they bought the play and got me out of it and here I am. Isn't it wonderful?"

"The clothes in this picture are fabulous," she enthused. "For the first time, people will be able to see that I do have a 40-inch bust and a 21½-inch waist."
