UNANIMOUS CHOICE—A 19-year-old redhead, Shirley Swanson, of Muskegon, was chosen Miss Michigan of 1956 there last night. She was the unanimous choice of the judges, and will represent the state at Atlantic City Sept. 8. At 5 feet, 4½ inches and 110 pounds, the new Miss Michigan's dimensions are 35-22-35. She has deep auburn hair and sparkling blue eyes.

Senate Debates on $35 Billion Bill for Defense

$500 Million Air Force Increase Asked by GOP to Spark Wrangle

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate opens debate today on a whopping 35 billion dollar bill for U. S. defense.

A bristling political fight looms over an increase for the Air Force.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif) told a reporter that while it is too early to be certain of the outcome, "it looks as if we have a good chance to carry our amendment."

He and other Republican leaders are backing a 500 million dollar boost in air funds over the amount recommended by President Eisenhower.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson (Tex) and most other Democrats favor a one billion 160 million dollar air fund increase as recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The larger increase was adopted in committee against a background of Democratic charges that the Eisenhower administration's air program was insufficient to keep pace with that of Russia.

Voting will not start until next week and the first showdown is due on the more moderate, GOP-backed increase. Most estimates are that the vote will be close.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass), who is among GOP leaders backing the 500 million dollar air fund boost, said he was influenced in part by testimony of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command.

Cornerstone Had Service in Past as Tombstone

A mystery turned up at the Board of Education office, 40 Patterson St., this week and the consensus is that it probably will never be solved.

In tearing down the old Cora C. Bailey School, 81 Florence Ave., workers hauled the cornerstone of the building back to the bus garage at the Board of Education office in case anyone wanted to keep it.

But when someone happened to turn the cornerstone over, they discovered that the slab had served previous duty as a grave marker.

Inscribed plainly on the reverse side is "Maria, wife of A. R. Vaughn, Died Aug. 3, 1869, Age 41 years, 9 mos. and 27 days. Thou art gone from our sight But not from our mind. I know it is right, For our Master is kind."

Who Mrs. Vaughn was, where she lived, where she was buried and how such a cornerstone came to be used remains a mystery.

Young Golf Star Writes for Press

Official Reveals 4 Reasons Why Site Is Rejected

Poor Highway Access, Location Behind Army Listed as Factors

Progress toward a new National Guard Armory in Pontiac is at a standstill.

The City Commission has twice informed Guard officers that a city-recommended 10-acre site off Orchard Lake avenue is the only site available for a new Armory.

But Col. Herbert Layle, Quartermaster General of the Michigan Guard, said he "doubted if this was the only site available."

After extensive tests on the site, Guard personnel rejected the plot for three basic reasons according to Col. Layle.

"To obtain federal participation for building the Armory, one criteria is that it must be located on at least one good paved highway with direct access to same," he said.

"We would be behind the (Army) Reserves on this site, thus blocking the direct access," he continued.

OK RESERVE CENTER

On May 1, the City Commission approved a 50-year lease for construction of a new U.S. Army Training Center to be built on a five-acre plot adjacent to the proposed Armory tract.

The second block to the site, according to the Lansing official, was that excessive footings would have to be laid because the site was a former city sanitary fill.

The third reason was that the Guard felt that it would be taking "second place to the Reserves" as outlined in a communication to the City Commission.

CHIDES CITY

"After all, we are competitors," Col. Layle said. "I would think the city would take more interest in the Guard, as we are the designated force to protect the city in case of enemy attack or natural disaster."

Capt. A. J. Largent, commanding officer of Company M, local National Guard unit, said "the Reserves stepped in and got the property we originally wanted."

"We had the idea the commission had more preference to the Reserves by putting them in front on this site," he said.

The Guard has had their sights set on some property near the Pontiac State Hospital grounds.

At present the Guard trains at the Armory, 57 Water St. The Reserves have their headquarters at 37 W. Lawrence St.

Army Reserve Plan Has Many Problems

By PETE LOCHBILER
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

CAMP McCOY, Wis.—The Army agrees it has problems to overcome to make the reserve system work.

Inexperience, a shortage of personnel both in enlisted ranks and company officer grades, plus occasional apathy on the part of soldiers and civilians were listed here as standing in the way of total success for such outfits as Pontiac's 703rd tank battalion.

The battalion is part of the 70th Trailblazer Infantry Division, on two weeks training duty here since Monday and visited this week by press reporters, civic leaders and educators from Michigan.

The division and the Pontiac contingent are reserve outfits of Cadet strength, which means the officers and high ranking enlisted men are trained to form the nucleus of an expanded outfit in the case of emergency.

Higher officers explained the problems while reservists continued training in the field.

'RESERVE BACKBONE'

"The reserve programs of all services are the backbone of the nation's defense today," according to Brig. Gen. L. H. Charbonneau, of Detroit. "Yet hundreds of our right leg removed then in an effort to stop the spread of the malignant bone tumor, Ewing's sarcoma.

He spent several weeks in University Hospital at Ann Arbor and returned to Lincoln Junior High in April.

His second check up showed that the disease had entered his lungs.

He was taken to the Hoxsey Clinic in Dallas, Tex. on Memorial Day and returned to Pontiac two days later. He entered St. Joseph Hospital Monday.

Kefauver Won't Seek Vice President's Post

ORRVILLE, Ohio, (AP)— Denying reports that he might be available for the No. 2 spot on the Democratic national ticket, Sen. Estes Kefauver says he wants it "made clear that I'm not running for vice president under any circumstances."

He emphasized in a news conference here yesterday he is not interested in anything but the nomination as a presidential candidate.

New Job Peak Seen by August

Mitchell Tells AFL 66 Million Will Be at Work in Nation

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of Labor James Mitchell predicts U.S. employment will climb to an all-time high of 66 million in August.

Mitchell, addressing 800 unemployment-conscious delegates to the Michigan Federation of Labor (AFL) convention yesterday, said the August total would be a 500,000 increase over a year ago.

He credited much of the high employment to the 37-billion-dollar federal highway bill, saying many thousands of new jobs will be made available by the 13-year-old program to build 42,500 miles of roads.

Other factors contributing to rising employment are increased building construction and steel production, Mitchell said. He also said "The day will come when the auto industry, like every other phase of our economy, will be prosperous."

Declaring that labor had made big strides forward during the Eisenhower administration, Mitchell urged the AFL delegates to consider proposed labor legislation and the "enforcement of present labor laws."

Poll on Ike Optimistic

Legislators Recess Till July 17

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature, showing signs of pre-election uneasiness, has recessed until July 17 without deciding whether to boost state unemployment compensation.

* * *

The lawmakers left the problem with the Senate and House Labor Committees, whose members said they want more time to study the proposals.

The House group tabled Gov. Williams' plan to boost benefits to 65 per cent of a worker's wage plus $5 for each dependent. The bill also proposed extending the maximum length of payment from 26 to 39 weeks.

The House committee kept another bill alive—the proposal of Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), to extend the maximum duration of payments to 32 weeks.

* * *

A third proposal, filed by Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing), remained alive in the Senate Labor Committee. It would extend the length of payment by eight weeks, but would only remain in effect this year.

WON'T SAY 'NO'

The failure of the House committee to kill the governor's bill outright and its decision to keep Sallade's proposal alive was taken as an indication that committee members are not ready to say "no" to any change this year.

But it was clear from a statement issued by Republican members of the committee that the group has no intention of yielding much ground on the governor's bill.

The statement, read from the floor by Rep. George Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), chairman, called the governor's bill "unsound, unrealistic, irresponsible and politically inspired."

"The real answer to the current problem is jobs, not unemployment compensation, and we have real evidence that the governor's proposal would jeopardize jobs in Michigan in a free and competitive economy," it said.

It went on to say that committee members were impressed by the testimony of auto executives that unemployment has started to decline and would decline all year except for a brief period in the fall, when new models are introduced.

Under the governor's bill, the statement said, a single worker could take a job at 14 weeks at $96 a week. If he were laid off, he could then draw state jobless pay at the rate of $64 a week for 39 weeks.

"The governor's program, we

1,900 Sail on Aquarama for First Detroit Cruise

The largest passenger ship ever to grace the Great Lakes—the S. S. Aquarama—was the setting of a moonlight Detroit maiden voyage last night.

The sleek, reconverted North Star ocean liner played host to some 1,900 Detroit area residents who sometime next year may sail (with the family car) to Cleveland. The 502-foot liner was built for a Detroit-Cleveland run.

At present Capt. Robert E. Leng and his crew of 150 have been jockeying the ship into the major ports of the Great Lakes on an "advertising build-up" cruise. After twice daily excursions through June 29, out of Detroit, the Aquarama moves on to Toledo and Cleveland.

With plenty of salutes from passing ships, the colorful ship left Detroit and sailed up the St. Clair Flats to Algonac. Here Capt. Leng maneuvered the ship around in a narrow canal and headed his charge south to Detroit.

The modern - decorated liner houses nine decks, two for storage of cars. There is a sun and club deck and other interior decks which can hold a maximum of 2,500 passengers.

The ship was delayed in arriving at Detroit yesterday from Green Bay, Wis., where 2,400 packed its decks and had the crew hurrying to prepare it for its Detroit run.

Luncheons and dinners are served. While eating Mom and Dad can cart Junior off to a children's playroom. There is a dance band which plays to crowds on two decks by means of an open deck.

The almost-noiseless ship skims along the lakes at speeds which can reach 22 knots.

Regular runs through June 29 are for departure at 10 a.m. and arrival 3:30 p.m. The night cruise leaves at 5:30 and arrives back in Detroit at 11:30 p.m.

Tito Says Rifts With the Soviet Now Are Sealed

LONDON (AP) — President Tito said today he and the leaders of the Soviet Union have "abandoned all that was bad between us," the Moscow radio reported.

* * *

The Yugoslav leader spoke on his arrival at Kiev en route home after a triumphant three-week visit to the Soviet Union in which he and the Kremlin bosses agreed to cooperate in the future on the basis of complete equality.

Once an outcast of the Communist family by orders of Stalin, Tito was quoted by the Moscow radio as saying in his Kiev speech, delivered in Russian:

"We have embarked on a new path. There is no difference between you, the Soviet people, and the Yugoslav people."

* * *

His emphasis that the Russian people were not responsible for his ostracism by the Communist world appeared to show that Tito still has not forgotten the role played by some present members of the Soviet government who backed Stalin's actions against him.

Complete Work on Highway Bill

House-Senate Unit OKs $33 Billion Measure; Tax Decisions Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees on construction features of the highway bill today completed their work on the compromise $32,900,000,000 measure.

Sen. Chavez (D-NM), heading the Senate delegation, called the measure "the greatest public works program in the history of the world."

"It will be a wonderful thing for our economy and it will bring untold benefits to the American people," he said.

Meanwhile, a second set of conferees went to work to try to compose differences between the two branches over tax features of the bill.

The House voted for $14,800,000,000 of additional taxes over 16 years to help finance the big roadbuilding program. The Senate cut 300 millions from this figure by easing a special levy on heavy trucks.

The conferees arrived at the $32,900,000,000 figure — lower than those used by either the House or the Senate—by limiting to three years the bill's application to primary, secondary (farm to market) and urban road programs.

The Senate's 37 billion dollar program had projected these for five years. The House, in counting 51½ billions, had estimated a 13-year program.

Leaders Ready for Onslaught of 5,000 Girl Scouts

BY JANET ODELL

Adult leaders for the Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Highland Recreation area are making final preparations for the arrival of 5,000 Scouts one week from today.

Mrs. Richard Beckhard of New York City, director of the camp, has been in residence at Haven Hill since June 15. Mrs. Melvin Title, chairman of food services, is taking inventory of tons of canned food.

Marguerite Dixon, director of magazines and newspapers, and Anne New, director of public information, visited the camp site yesterday and will be living there after Saturday.

The Fifth Army, in camp at the scene since June first, has nearly completed its assigned job of readying the camp grounds. They will be on hand throughout the camp session, June 29 to July 11, to assist the Scout organization in various ways.

By Tuesday of next week all of the one thousand adults who will work with the girls will be settled in their tents. Girl campers will add another 2,980 tents to make a canvas city on the former Edsel Ford estate.

Purpose of the Roundup which has been in preparation for two years, is to give teenage girls, through travel, new friends and the Roundup's Americana theme, a greater appreciation of American traditions and heritage.

On July 4 a patriotic pageant will be held in the outdoor arena seating 10,000 spectators. A special message from President Eisenhower will be read at that time.

Major speakers for the afternoon ceremony will include aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran, Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, world famous engineer, and Charlton Heston, star of Cecil B. DeMille's forthcoming picture, "Ten Commandments."

Jo Ann Warren, a fifteen-year-old Girl Scout from Lubbock, Texas, will be present to read her prize-winning Americana essay. In the evening there will be fireworks.

Governor G. Mennen Williams has been invited to be the guest of honor at the July 7 pageant, held in observance of the Roundup's Americana theme. Two thousand campers will be in the cast.

The final spectacular presentation will be held on the evening of July 9. This will be a dramatization of the development and ideals of Girl Scouting since its founding in 1912 by Juliette Low.

Dorothy Fields, author of "Annie Get Your Gun" and other Broadway shows, is the author of this presentation and will be on hand to direct and narrate it.

Two helicopters, supplied by the United States Navy and the Marine Corps as a salute to Girl Wing Scouts, will be on display at the site. On July 4 the United States Air Force and United States Naval Aviation planes will do a fly-past over the Roundup site.

The public has been invited to visit the Senior encampment any day from 10:00 a.m. to sundown.

Search Atlantic for Plane's Dead

Find Parts of 9 Victims of Airline Tragedy That Took 74 Lives

NEW YORK (INS)—Coast Guard search units continued today probing the calm, cool depths of the Atlantic Ocean where most of the 74 victims of the world's worst scheduled airplane disaster may remain forever buried.

The plane, a four-engine Venezuelan Airlines super-constellation, burst into flames and plunged into the sea from 8,000 feet early Wednesday.

Among those killed were 20 Americans. Twenty-four of the victims were teenage children of wealthy Venezuelans. They were returning home for summer vacations after finishing their school terms in the U. S.

The Coast Guard said it would dispatch planes and sea craft to the scene today. Parts of only nine bodies were recovered yesterday before darkness interrupted the search. Not a single whole body was found.

New York police were assigned the task of trying to identify the pieces of human bodies that were recovered.

Meanwhile, Venezuelan authorities announced they would investigate the crash "to the last detail."

The plane plummeted into the sea about 30 miles off Asbury Park, N. J., just 10 minutes from safety. The U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board has no jurisdiction because the crash was outside the 12-mile limit, but it offered assistance, if needed, through the Venezuelan Embassy in Washington.

The craft left Idlewild Airport in New York en route to Caracas at 11:15 Tuesday night. Upon developing engine trouble 200 miles out, it tried to return to the airport.

It was being escorted back to the airport by a Coast Guard plane when it suddenly caught fire and plunged a mile and a half downward into the sea.

AFTERMATH OF AIRLINE CRASH — Clothing and pieces of wreckage lie on East River pier in New York after being salvaged from shattered Venezuelan airliner that carried 74 persons to death in a flaming Atlantic Ocean crash.

feel, completely disregards the needs of unemployed workers, would eliminate the incentive to work and would be a drain on our economic resources," the statement said.

It called Williams' bill "an outstanding example of immoderation"—an obvious slap at Williams' "anti-moderation" speech delivered last year in Denver.

Republican committee members said privately they want time to come up with a "sound program" if they approve any increase in benefits at all.

Republicans hold a 6 to 3 majority on the House committee and a 4 to 1 majority on the Senate committee.

City Will Seek Bids on New Fire Station

Construction bids will be sought "in a week or 10 days" for the new fire station planned for West Huron and Genesee streets, Leo J. Heenan, architect for the building, said today.

He is presently completing working plans for the hall which will cost between $80,000 and $85,000 and financed from the 1956 capital improvement budget.

It will take around five to six months to build, he added.

Drilling Material Stolen

Various materials and equipment were taken from a well drilling rig in West Bloomfield Township sometime Tuesday night, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported today.

Missing from the rig on Middlebelt road were 34 gallons of gasoline and drilling equipment, the officers said.

Army Reserve Plan Beset by Problems

men are not at this summer camp because they were threatened by employers with loss of jobs if they came, and many lost two weeks work," Charbonneau stated.

* * *

Most of the top sergeants and officers are veterans of World War II or Korea. The reserve just now is beginning to use the service of recently enlisted men in special eight-year reserve program.

These are the youngsters age 17 to 18½ who choose six-months of active duty followed by seven and one-half years in the active reserve, attending weekly drills and annual summer camps.

Eight of these reservists are in the Pontiac battalion, but their training here is limited to the infantryman's basics. They are scheduled for active duty after high school graduation next June and will come back to the battalion for integration into the battalion's tank operations afterward.

HOPES ON YOUTH

But the hopes of the Army's reserve rest mainly on such youths. According to Brig. Gen. L. S. Bork, five out of every nine reservists joining local units from now on will be of this classification.

Bork is head of the Michigan Military District in Detroit, and supervises outfits such as Pontiac's for the fifth Army, which opens this camp in the summer for reserve training.

The question arises, and officers worry about it, what will be the attitude of these men towards their mandatory service in hometown units? It was pointed out that this service has advantages, especially for those who choose the six-months active duty way of filling service obligation.

For instance, not only is the period away from home shorter for them, the chance to advance in rank is greater. For men who start earning promotion points at the age of 17, this means a lot by the age of 21 or 22.

According to Lt. Col. Lloyd A. Gabler, commanding officer of the Pontiac Battalion, there are openings now for such enlistments in his outfits. At least 50 recruits are needed he said, including 22 men for a fifth company expected to be formed this summer.

OFFICERS NEEDED

An equally great need, Gabler said, and one not often publicized, is for company officers of the lowest ranks—the second and first lieutenants. Gabler admitted that there is little attraction for them to join.

Right now, he explained, all our higher officer ranks are filled—the captains and the majors. As a result, there are few promotions.

"But if I could sign up 15 lieutenants right now and another three for the new company, what kind of officers would join? The kind that believes in the reserve and its meaning for the country," Gabler said.

"That's the only kind of man we want and that goes for the enlisted ranks, too. When the six-months reservists come back, those who join us with no interest and fail to attend the required number of meetings we'll drop from the battalion and order back to active duty."

Everyone, both youngsters and those past the age for military service, will have to realize that the country depends on the Reserve system for its defense, he said.

Gary R. Thouin

Gary R. Thouin, 14, of 1062 Arlene St., died yesterday in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being ill since February.

Gary was born in Pontiac on August 15, 1941, the son of Ernest and Selma Thouin.

He was a student at Lincoln Jr. High School and a member of the St. Paul Lutheran Church.

He is survived by his mother Mrs. Selma Thouin; his father Ernest of New York City; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ila Gates and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Thompson all of Pontiac.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Friday from Donelson - Johns Funeral Home with burial to follow in Perry Mount Park Cemetery. The Rev. George J. Mahder of St. Paul Lutheran Church will officiate.

In lieu of flowers the family has asked that contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

Vandals Damage School

Sashabaw School officials reported an estimated $25 in damages from broken windows yesterday. Investigators said the windows were apparently broken with the help of a water nozzle taken from the outside of the school.

Police Investigating Smashed Car Windows

Pontiac Police were investigating a malicious destruction complaint from a used car lot operator today.

* * *

LaVerne O. Stewart, owner of the lot at 255 W. Montcalm St., reported windows were smashed in six used cars parked in his lot sometime during the night.

City detectives said a hammer had apparently been used to break the windows. Nothing was known to be missing from the vehicles.

Playwright Miller Announces Plans to Wed Marilyn

WASHINGTON (INS) — Playwright Arthur Miller said today he plans to marry Marilyn Monroe before she leaves for England to make a movie on July 13.

* * *

The 40-year-old Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatist thus confirmed widespread reports that he would soon become the curvaceous 30-year-old Hollywood actress' third husband.

Miller disclosed his marital plans to reporters covering his appearance before a House unAmerican Activities Subcommittee.

Later, he told the subcommittee he hopes to go to England to be with "the woman who will be my wife." This, he said, is his reason for wanting a passport — which the State Department refused to give him several years ago.

The playwright, who admitted in his testimony that he supported Communist causes in the late 1940's because "it suited the mood I was in," also told newsmen he plans to produce his latest play, "View From the Bridge," in England.

Miss Monroe, whose marriage to baseball star Joe DiMaggio ended two years ago, is scheduled to leave for England on July 13 to make a movie, "The Sleeping Prince," with Sir Laurence Olivier.

When she leaves the U. S., the once-wed Miller told reporters, it will be "as Mrs. Miller."

The dramatist flatly denied to the House investigators that he ever was under Red discipline.

State Police Report Breakin Confessions

Brighton State Police who arrested four area men last night today reported the quartet admitted a string of seven burglaries, one involving a post office.

The four are Milton McDowell, 19, and Charles Lee Cone, 19, both of Pontiac, and Harold L. Rice, 21, and Harold C. Hammond, 22, both of Milford.

Troopers reportedly stopped the four for a defective muffler on their car. While writing up the ticket, a trooper noticed two blackjacks on the car's front seat.

Police continued questioning the four today in the belief they may clear up other unsolved burglaries. Postal inspectors will join the investigation later.

The Day in Birmingham

53 Teachers Hired; Play Program Attracts Many

BIRMINGHAM—Hiring of 53 new school teachers and briefing of 20 summer youth instructors were among events at meetings this week.

The teachers were hired as board of education members met Tuesday. Resignations of five, including that of Evelyn Horne who will teach children of army personnel in Germany for the coming year, were accepted.

William Spence will be the board's delegate to the recreation board for the coming four years. The board, will elect new officers July 2.

Playground activities opened this Monday after staffers were briefed at a meeting in which a local woman puppeteer explained how to prepare and present a show with simple puppets. Story-telling was explained by Children's Librarian Mrs. Kathleen Burgess.

Hundreds of youngsters turned out for the first session—there were 70 in the riflery session, 75 for music, 100 at the high school gymnasium, and dozens at most school playgrounds. Equipment is needed, and the recreation director offers to buy used items or accept donations.

Planning board members this week decided to survey the city for similar instances to the proposed change of two corners at Redding and Woodward from business A to business C zoning.

They have outlined an alley that might solve the need for merchandise unloading for Maple stores between Bates and Martin.

MOREL TO THIS STORY — Juliann Cooper, 6, "sponges" on Mother Nature for the trayful of delicacies on her lap. The sponge-like objects are morel mushrooms, prized by mushroom fanciers for their delicate nutlike flavor. Moral to this morel story: If you're a city dweller, don't acquire a taste for morels — they bring several dollars a plateful in New York City restaurants.

France Facing Inflation Threat

Fear Price-Freeze Plan May Not Stop Zooming Living Costs

PARIS, June 20 (AP) — Costly fighting in Algeria and a sharp rise in the price of everyday needs are threatening France with inflation. Frenchmen are wondering if their government's newest plan will meet the threat.

Finance Minister Paul Ramadier is working on a price freeze, to be enforced soon, but the freeze has a lot of warm spots. It may not be able to halt a general thaw in prices that would flood the whole French economy.

• • •

The stepped-up pace of the North African campaign seems likely to cost about a billion dollars this year, nearly 10 per cent of the budget. And the budget is already heavily out of balance. The call-up of reservists has made labor scarcer, especially in coal, where it seems likely that more imports will be needed.

• • •

Increased government spending and shortages of labor make the pressure for inflation harder to resist.

What worries the ordinary Frenchman even more than the Algerian war is that prices of the things he buys every day are going way up. The National Union of family of four in the Paris region needed 73,278 francs—$210 dollars—to get through the month of May decently. That was 11.5 per cent more than it needed for January, and there were plenty of families that didn't have that.

Michigan Democrats Split on Candidates

LANSING (AP) — An Associated Press poll of Michigan delegates to the Democratic National Convention shows strength for Adlai E. Stevenson if Gov. G. Mennen Williams withdraws from the presidential race.

• • •

Since the delegation is pledged initially to Williams as a "favorite son" candidate, delegates were asked to name a second and third preference if he dropped out.

On the basis of returns from 31 of the 88 delegates, eight picked Stevenson for second choice, six named Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and one was undecided between the two. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was second choice on four returns and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri was second on three. The remaining nine delegates who answered the poll said they were undecided and would support the candidate Williams supported.

For third choice, seven delegates preferred Stevenson, six picked Harriman, six liked Symington and one voted for Kefauver. Two delegates expressed no third preference.

• • •

The Michigan delegation this year will not be bound by the unit rule which would throw all of the state's 44 votes to the candidate picked by a majority.

Hen Lays Bargain Egg —Four Yolks in One

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Someone's hen laid a real bargain egg—one with four yolks.

• • •

It turned up yesterday at the Poultry Producers of Northern California plant here—the first in more than 270 million eggs candled there in 30 years. Manager Frank Eggerer said he's seen lots of double yolks and an occasional triple.

• • •

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

DINOSAURS AND CAVE KIDS—4

Primitive Man

Among the early races of man was the one called Cro-Magnon. Long after the dinosaurs, these people lived in caves in France and Spain, and probably were as intelligent as people today.

Tall and handsome, they made tools of stone, and lived by hunting animals.

From wall paintings found in caves, we know they could draw life-like pictures of the animals they hunted. These drawings, colored with red, yellow and brown earth mixed with oil, can still be seen clearly, though they were done more than 50,000 years or so ago.

This picture, a scene from a cave, will make a good background for the pictures of a stone age boy and girl to follow.

Color it with your crayons, making the flaming torch on the left a bright yellow and orange. Paste the picture down on cardboard, and then cut it out.

Cut around the top of the rocks in the bottom panel and fold forward on the dotted line so they will pop up in front. Fold the end panels back and center panel forward, so the whole picture will stand.

(This suggestion was first sent to us by Judy Hole, Dayton, Ohio. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. If so, send it in care of this newspaper, and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Food and Drug Act's 50th Birthday Near

During June's closing days there will be many programs arranged in celebration of the U. S. Pure Food and Drug Law's Golden Anniversary.

It was on June 30, 1906, that President Theodore Roosevelt signed this all important statute. To it the Nation owes its confidence that all foods, drugs and cosmetics legally sold in this country are pure and safe.

The first general food law in the United States was adopted by Massachusetts in 1784. In 1881 pharmacy laws were enacted by Missouri and Illinois, and by 1900 most States had food laws.

These proved inadequate, however, as most state chemists realized. One of them, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley of Indiana, earned recognition as the father of the Pure Food and Drug Act. From the time he became chief chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture he waged a ceaseless and successful fight for Federal regulation.

One of his most effective allies was Edward Bok, editor of the Ladies Home Journal from 1889 to 1920. Through that magazine he fought makers of medical nostrums and carried his crusade successfully through lawsuits.

Today nearly 100,000 establishments doing business of more than $60 billion a year in food, drugs and cosmetics are subject to inspection and regulation. Moreover, no responsible person would think of ending this wise partnership of Government and private enterprise. Instead, the idea everywhere is to strengthen this statutory guardian of the people's health and pocketbooks.

Mayor Breaks Ground for New Hospital Wing

For this growing automotive center the week's big home front news was formal start of the sorely needed addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

The brief ceremony with Mayor Donaldson turning the first sod, was preceded a day earlier by a special meeting of the City Commission. In that session final financial and contract arrangements were completed.

It was in 1954 that voters authorized a $3,000,000 general obligation bond issue for a 200 bed addition to the hospital. Considerable delay was experienced, however, because of rising construction costs and calling for new bids. As a result the total bill now will be $3,500,000.

Thanks to the City's excellent financial condition, the Commission could appropriate $500,000 for the building from the capital improvement fund. Thanks, also, to its good credit standing, it was able to sell the bond issue for $2,900,000 at no premium cost, with an average interest rate of 2.82 per cent.

It will take a minimum of two years to build the wing. Already, however, hospital trustees, who have worked hard on the project, are looking ahead in the hope of getting financial aid under the Hill-Burton program to complete and furnish it.

This week an important milestone was reached on this long planned project. Some time in 1958 it will be completed and thus increase the hospital's capacity to carry on its vital work of fighting human ills.

Pathway to Chaos

The Senate Judiciary Committee has approved a bipartisan bill obviously designed as a legislative slap at the Supreme Court.

Sponsored by a dozen Southern Senators, the bill is viewed by critics as capable of causing endless confusion and legal chaos in the field of Federal-State legislation.

There is little doubt that motivation of the sponsors was the high court's recent decision in the Nelson case. In it the justices held that state sedition laws were invalid because in the Smith Act and other legislation Congress had preempted that field.

The bill would forbid the court from holding that an act of Congress dealing with matters also covered by State law, preempted the field unless Congress specifically said so. Its effect would be to cast doubt on many Federal acts dealing with labor and other matters the courts have ruled take precedence over state laws.

Even worse, the bill would be retroactive. This means that it would apply to all past acts of Congress which don't expressly state that exclusive jurisdiction is reserved to the Federal Government.

Introduced by Arkansas' Democratic Senator McClellan, this reactionary bill rightly is opposed by the Eisenhower Administration. We believe its enactment would be a step backward and that it should be allowed to die an early death.

The Man About Town

Another Big Park

Two in the Pontiac Area That Will Be Quite Alike

Teenagers: Who irritate some people who acted worse than they do.

I have it directly from

R. C. Cummings,

Oakland County's director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, that its new recreational area near Rochester will vie with its Kent Lake Park on the other side of our county. Kent has 4,500 acres with a 1,200-acre lake. The new one will have 3,500 acres with an 800-acre lake. Kent Lake was formed by impounding the waters of the Huron River. The other will be formed largely from the waters of Stoney Creek. They have a natural terrain that is quite similar.

Over the weekend I bumped into my old friend, Secretary of Defense,

C. E. Wilson.

Naturally I asked him what he knew about the President's health. I suppose every member of the Cabinet grows weary over questioning in this connection, but it merely indicates the nation is eager.

"The reports as given out reflect the true state of the President's health," said he. "I think the doctors have made every effort to present the facts just as they are."

The other day I took a little trip with

Robert M. Critchfield.

It was one of those really hot, sticky occasions and the heat was terrific.

The Critchfield equipage was air-conditioned and we bowled along without a thought of the temperature.

It really makes a tremendous difference. I wonder whether there will be a general move to this some time in the future?

For years, the public would only buy black cars. Slowly they changed. Then station wagons were a novelty and now the percentage is increasing amazingly.

Perhaps this will be true of air conditioning. I'll vouch for the fact it works, and can make the cars too cold on the hottest days if you move the thermostat.

Pontiac's two army draft boards are asked to send only 15 men as their July quota. The city board sends 7 and the out-county board sends 8. The induction date for both is July 2.

of Holly. The others are from Saginaw, Midland and Manistee.

The Other End of the Rope

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Illness Overemphasized

WASHINGTON—When presidential secretary James Hagerty said he wasn't going to engage in a debate with newsmen on what some doctors have been quoted in the press as saying about the President's illness because, as he points out, they don't know this particular case, it was, of course, a common sense decision.

There is a certain puzzlement, however, as to why there are such persistent attempts in the press to try to knock down what the President's physicians have said.

It's a strange contrast to the way the press behaved from the time Franklin D. Roosevelt became a candidate for the presidency in 1932 till the day he died in April 1945. Not a single movie newsreel and not a single news photograph that this correspondent ever saw or heard about told the people that the President of the United States actually couldn't walk, that special ramps had to be built at the White House and the Capitol, that he couldn't stand when greeting foreign visitors, or that he never stood up at a single press conference. When he campaigned, his entrances to and exits from meeting places were carefully screened.

DISPATCHES CLAMPED

None of the news dispatches of the President's inauguration on January 20, 1945, moreover, reported that Roosevelt had to be lifted up by members of his family and supported while he took the oath of office and read the inaugural address from the White House balcony. There was no adverse comment on why he didn't go to the Capitol for the occasion.

Throughout Roosevelt's public life—as governor of New York and as a candidate for the presidency and while he was in the White House during a period of more than 12 years—no appreciable number of the American people ever knew of the physical disability of the man they elected four times. Some newsmen hereabouts were told in 1944 about the comment of an eminent Boston physician that a paralysis such as Roosevelt had suffered would cut down his life expectancy. But they didn't write the story.

Was this a mistake on the part of the press and its photographers? Not at all. it was good taste and decency. It was a respect for the high office of president.. The only question that was germane then and that is germane now is whether a president is mentally capable. A man with the type of heart attack Eisenhower has had doesn't suffer any injury to his mind—and neither does anyone with his experience with ileitis.

Then why is so much prominence given to the speculation by one or two doctors that the illness might recur when the doctors handling the case say they believe it will not occur? Why is there so much emphasis on the alleged damage of the stomach ailment expressed by Democratic politicians and their henchmen who keep on thinking up every day new angles for skepticism?

ENTITLED TO FACTS

The theory usually heard in defense of such tactics is that the American people are entitled to all the facts about their President. They certainly are, but the implication that, when once they know the facts, they will not vote to re-elect Eisenhower is just partisan thinking of a wishful nature.

The electorate naturally will discuss a candidate's health because the opposition party spokesmen will inevitably bring it up. But looking back to 1944 and assuming that the Republicans had had the bad manners and bad taste being exhibited today by the Democrats, few persons who have studied the trends in presidential elections will agree that this would have elected Thomas E. Dewey.

Restraint is better in the long run than smear campaigns which violate the nation's sense of decency. Attempts to picture Eisenhower as a hopeless invalid or to imply that he isn't carrying on the duties of his office because he doesn't do everything the partisans want him to do are bound in the end to lose votes for their sponsors. The American people react to wrong tactics because they have an innate belief in fair play.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Ambulatory Treatments Cure for Internal Bleeding

A reader asks for the name of a doctor in her town who uses the ambulant (office, injection) method for piles.

It seems, the reader says, that all the local doctors want to do is operate.

If so, that's too bad. They really should intersperse say an hour a day of golf, fishing, mowing the lawn, weeding the onions, or bowling on the green.

"I hate to have this done," the reader explains, "for my husband has low blood pressure, and it worries me, although they assure me this operation isn't bad."

The poor geek!

The reader says two of her relatives found a doctor in another city who gave them ambulant treatment six year ago, and they have had no trouble since. But her husband doesn't see how he can get away from his work and go 250 miles.

Now I wish I could name a doctor in the reader's city who is skilled in the ambulant method.

In the past I tried to compile and maintain such a medical directory, as a special service to readers who sought ambulant treatment of internal (bleeding) hemorrhoids (piles), diathermy (electro-coagulation) treatment or hernia (rupture, breach), chemical obliteration of varicose veins or some other alternative for a major operation. This proved a costly job and a thankless one. I had to give it up.

If the reader's husband positively refuses to make the trip for a painless treatment which takes five or ten minutes once or twice a week for perhaps six or eight times, let him sojourn for a week or two in the hospital while the clamp and cautery crew work him over.

This ambulant treatment which would be the method of choice if I were the patient, is applicable for internal (bleeding) hemorrhoids (piles), but not for external (most painful) piles.

Likewise ambulant treatment for hernia is suitable only for selected cases, not for any and all cases. If I had a hernia which a good doctor considered suitable for injection treatment, I'd prefer the injection treatment to hospitalization and radical surgery.

The diathermy (electro-coagulation) method, which I'd prefer if I had infected tonsils, is not "removal" or even an attempt to "remove" tonsils. It is merely a rational, safe way to destroy, eradicate, disinfect, sterilize or drain the septic focus in the tonsil.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Group Games Pep Up Party

Linda has a serious problem. She is trying to change modern youth from idle spectators into active performers in deriving their own entertainment. Utilize the strategy outlined below for it zooms the active interest of people in pencil games. But always protect their ego, for they dread being shown up by low individual scores.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-388: Linda L., aged 19, is president of the young people's society in her church.

"Dr. Crane, what can we use for entertainment?" she began.

"I tried some pencil-and-paper games last week, but the kids acted indifferent.

"I really think the girls were afraid of making a low score and thus being humiliated in front of their dates.

"So what else can we do for our recreational period?"

PARTY STRATEGY

Games and puzzles that require use of pencil and paper are usually popular if you protect the ego of the contestants.

But Linda is correct in saying boys and girls hesitate to compete as individuals lest their low scores create the impression they are stupid.

To overcome this disadvantage, divide your crowd into small groups of three or four persons each. Then let them pool their efforts.

This strategy protects their individual ego, for if they fail to win top score, at least the disgrace is spread over several teammates.

It is dangerous to schedule scoring games unless you follow the above advice, for the kids will affect indifference and try to "goof off" about the test items so they will not be shown up.

But don't get the idea that modern youth don't like pencil-and-paper games if you let them combine their resources. They enjoy them.

For instance, here is a problem that is usually good for at least 30 to 60 minutes of good natured arguments and wrinkled brows.

RAILROADERS' PUZZLE

"A conductor, a brakeman, and a porter are employed on a Pullman train running between New York and Chicago. Their names are Tom, Dick and Harry, but not necessarily in that order.

"Meanwhile, on this same train are three pasesngers of the same names—Tom, Dick and Harry. We shall distinguish them from the trainmen of the same names by using the prefix 'Mr.' in front of their names. Now consider the following statements for they are relevant and essential to a correct solution of the problem:

(a) Mr. Tom lives in New York City.

(b) The brakeman lives halfway between New York and Chicago.

(c) Mr. Harry earns exactly $1,700 per year.

(d) Dick beat the porter in a game of pool.

(e) The brakeman's nearest neighbor, who is one of the three passengers mentioned above, earns exactly three times as much as the brakeman.

(f) The passenger living in Chicago has the same name as the brakeman. What is the name of the conductor?"

For the past generation, we have seen Americans change from an active participation in their own entertainment, to the passive role wherein they pay an admission ticket to sit and watch other performers entertain them at movies or sports events.

Now the trend is to restore a more active participation. Instead of being spectators, young people need to become more active again in their own recreation.

The YMCA and CYO offer athletic opportunities to do this, but every church can utilize shuffleboard, ping pong and even volleyball, played with inflated colored balloons, to promote active participation.

Send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It contains several party games, including the answer to the "Railroaders' puzzle" mentioned above.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Real Music Lover' Denies Charges Made About Jazz

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

To Music Lover, may I suggest you put down your scandal magazines and look at jazz in its proper perspective?

In the first place, it is necessary to distinguish between good jazz and fads. In case you don't realize it, rock and roll and the like are not jazz. But it seems to me that anyone who claims to be a music lover should be well-acquainted with jazz, since it is an important part of musical history.

In the second place, good jazz is played by musicians who have studied diligently and know music, both classical and jazz, as well as anyone. It might surprise you that many jazz musicians could walk into a symphony and play with the best of them.

As for the insinuations about drug addiction, it is just silly. There is probably some, but anyone who needs dope to play rarely becomes really good, jazz or classical.

You might be interested in a TV program in England. It is claimed to be so intellectual that only a handful of persons are educated enough to follow it. Louis Armstrong was asked to appear and they did an entire show about him and jazz. If that isn't good enough for Music Lover, we might as well give up.

And if you really want to know about the fine propaganda these musicians promote, just look at some of the movies made at their European concerts. I'm sure they speak for themselves.

Hal Boyle Says:

Doldrums of Middle Age Cripple Many U.S. Lives

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

There is a disease in middle age that cripples more people than penumonia—or so I believe.

This disease is cancer of the mind. It symptoms are an unreasoning discontent with life, a feeling of futility that sears the souls of so many people in their middle years.

WHAT'S LEFT?

Recently a man I have known for years came up and spoke with me. In the midst of a casual conversation he suddenly blurted out:

"Tell me, what do you do when you know for sure you aren't going to go any further? What has a guy got left?"

★ ★ ★

My friend was deeply depressed. He was suffering from his first onset of "middle age sickness," one sign of which is that a man gets tired of himself and starts thinking he is a human failure.

For the life of me, I couldn't see why, and I told him so. To begin with he was wrong. His job future didn't lie in the past. He hadn't reached his limit of promotion in his field, and his fears that he had gone about as far as he could go were strictly premature.

★ ★ ★

But even if he had at nearly 50 achieved the top job and income of which he was capable, was that much a disaster?

GOOD FAMILY

This man owned his own home and his own car. He had kept his family comfortably fed, sheltered and clothed, and all were healthy. He had educated his two children and both had turned out well. Neither was a cop fighter or a poolroom shark.

★ ★ ★

By any sensible standard this man was a real success. He had done far better than most men throughout mankind's troubled history, which has been a long search for safety, a full stomach, and a warm place out of the cold to dream in for a while.

Why should it make him either a better or happier man if he should now go on and pile up enough money to become the richest fellow in his part of the cemetery? What if he doesn't ever get a bigger job? Should that make him feel living has lost its luster?

For some reason, although middle age has been in the world for quite some time, it catches most people by surprise—and too often with a deep dismay.

INCLINED TO BROOD

The middle-aged wife, whose children are grown and flown, is inclined to brood that she has fulfilled her purpose in life and is no longer needed. The middle-aged husband, recognizing it is now highly unlikely he can ever realize the grandiose dreams of his youth, feels himself a rut-bound prisoner of time.

★ ★ ★

This "middle age sickness" turns some people crabbed and sour. As any doctor knows, it leads to all sorts of maladies in others. Many even lose all zest for life and shrivel to death, like a flower caught by a late frost.

We laugh in this country at elder lands that still practice ancestor worship. But older lands than ours laugh at us for two of our commonest religions—success worship and youth worship.

BEND IN THE ROAD

A dream is a great thing to live with, but a poor thing to be killed by. It is refreshing to the spirit to admire the stars on a summer night; but only a child weeps because he cannot clutch them in his hand.

★ ★ ★

We are doing a lot of "education for living" nowadays. Why doesn't some philanthropic foundation start a project to teach adults that middle age isn't the critical point of no return in life, but merely another bend in the road—and not a bad place to pause and have a picnic?

Adrian Couples on Budget Excursion in Europe Discover Money Goes Quickly

Three Adrian couples, following a careful budget, planned their own five-week tour of Europe. Their experiences are described in the following account by one of the group, Waldron S. Stewart, county editor of the Adrian Telegram.

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — Transportation, food and lodging are the big items in any vacation trip. But the average traveler doesn't figure in advance on the cost of gifts and personal purchases.

* * *

We've had days on this trip when the francs and marks disappeared like rain in the desert We planned a budget of $250 for "extras" before we started. Now we're making out a new budget.

We've picked up perfume, watches, cuckoo clocks, toys and jewelry en route from France to Switzerland to Germany. And we decided that for an unaccompanied trip through Europe, a short course in public accounting is a good idea.

Although everything is based on the U. S. dollar, switches from one currency to another can be costly if you don't watch your step. Two hotels next door to each other will offer different rates on American express traveler's checks.

SOME SOUND ADVICE

Traveler's checks are accepted anywhere in payment for anything, from gasoline to a bar of soap. There are official and unofficial exhange offiies on every corner. The operators know their business and if you don't, they come out with comfortable profits.

It's a good idea to carry a roll of U. S. $1 bills, the number depending on the length of your trip and the number of countries you plan to visit. Plan your money so you have only a small amount on reaching the border.

If you are carrying $1 bills, it's easy to get them cashed in just the amount you need so that you don't enter another country with a wad of foreign bills. The average loss in exchanging currency of the last country you were in after arriving at the next one is 10 per cent.

POLICE ARE DIFFERENT

It is foolish to make any profound observations after only a few days in a country. But we found everything they say about Switzerland to be true—the people are exceptionally neat, the houses are immaculate and flowers are everywhere

One of the biggest differences we noted from France is in the arm of the law. Swiss gendarmes wear well-fitting green uniforms and are stationed at every intersection. They keep such clo secontrol over traffic that stop lights are a waste of money.

In comparison, French officers seem to pay little attention to anything except women walking in the vicinity. They are of all ages and wear a conglomeration of uniforms.

* * *

In Germany, we found the scars of war evident on all sides but the people are doing their best to forget and forgive. We used our dictionary more often than in France —English is not spoken as freely in Germany.

CUSTOMS ARE DIFFICULT

We have found ourselves getting tired out by being on the go from early morning until late evening. We get under pressure from unfamiliar traffic, foreign customs, language and the fear of missing out on any of the sights.

Some of the customs observed in Europe are difficult for Americans to fathom. The policy of closing stores, public places and tourist attractions for two hours at noon has irritated us.

Because of the noon siesta, merchants stick with their daily chores until 6:30 and 7 p.m. That means the dinner hour doesn't start in most restaurants until 7:30 and often 8 p.m. and they don't open until they're ready to serve We are on the road by 8 a.m. so it makes a long day.

Traveling down the Rhine Valley toward the North Sea is a beautiful trip. Century-old castles stand like giant guardians along the cliffs, all terraced with vineyards.

* * *

We decided a person without the slightest knowledge of a foreign language could get along on his own. He might have to seek out restaurants and hotels where English is spoken. But he would miss out on one of the things we found most interesting — talking to the people.

Federal School Aid Bill Ready for House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The way was open today for the House to vote, probably next week, on a four-year federal aid school construction program amounting to $1,600,000,000.

* * *

The legislation cleared the House Rules Committee yesterday. It had been bottled up there for several months because of the effect it might have on public school segregation.

Southerners on the committee have opposed the bill for one reason: Rep. Powell (D-NY) has said he will propose an amendment on the House floor that would forbid federal grants to schools which maintain segregation.

* * *

Such an amendment would be bound to touch off a major fight. If the amendment were approved and the bill got to the Senate, its chances would be slim in the face of a southern filibuster.

Delegates Selected for Amvets Session

Three delegates and three alternates have been named to represent the Jimmy Dey Post 12 Amvets of Pontiac at the annual state convention in Grand Rapids this weekend, it was announced by Post Commander Leon Sirlin today.

* * *

Delegates from the other Pontiac Posts had been named earlier.

Sirlin, Dan Murphy Jr., and Jacqueline Smith were the delegates appointed by Post 12. The alternates are Richard Moore, Victor Maiden, and Milton Cooney.

* * *

Martha W. Griffiths, congresswoman from Michigan's 17th District, will deliver the principal address at the main banquet.

The convention will be held Friday and Saturday.

Robert Schofield died because he was just toolazy to eat, his brother Harold said at inquest in Nelson England. "He did nothing but drink beer," said Harold.

Orchard Lake Resident Admits Reckless Driving

Gordon McCarter, 28, of 5980 Commerce Rd., Orchard Lake, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of reckless driving and fined $100 and $25 in costs yesterday.

* * *

The arraignment was conducted by Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback. McCarter had previously pleaded not guilty to driving under the influence of liquor.

BAZOOKA IN ACTION — Will it get an atomic load?

Portable Atom Shell Used for 'Brush Fire Wars'

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The U.S. Army is developing a new family of pint-sized atomic weapons.

* * *

U.S. Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray has partially lifted the lid on the subject by recommending to Congress that the U. S. quit making bigger H-bombs and concentrate on producing "tens of thousands of very small" nuclear weapons.

After Murray revealed to a Senate Foreign Relations Committee studying disarmament that pint-sized A-bombs are now possible, Pentagon sources shed additional light on this dramatic new phase of nuclear weapon development.

Reliable experts reveal that atomic bombs can now be packaged in shells as small as four inches in diameter. Previously the smallest A-bomb package revealed was the 280mm.—11-inch—atomic cannon shell, which is five feet long.

'BRUSH FIRE WAR'

The significance of this development is that A-bombs now become a vital weapon in the waging of small, "brush-fire," or "limited" wars like Korea. The smallest Army combat unit, down to a squad, would be able to take them into battle.

They could be carried manually into combat, if necessary, or in jeeps. A-bombs of this size could be fired by standard mortar pieces or by recoilless guns.

Murray's statement has brought out into the open arguments within the Pentagon that too much emphasis on the gigantic hydrogen weapons has weakened America's ability to fight the "brush-fire" wars.

The gigantic bombs tend to force a World War II show-down, critics say.

INEFFICIENT USE

In defense of the big-bomb side of the controversy it is known that the pint-sized A-bombs make somewhat inefficient use of the basic nuclear ammunition.

In other words, a great deal of fissionable material is wasted when packaged and exploded in a small shell. Maximum "boom" is obtained from a given quantity of fissionable material when exploded in larger weapons.

However, the pint-sized A-blasts are still considerably more devastating than detonations of conventional high explosives.

The Murray side of the argument holds that the U.S. now has such a tremendous stock of nuclear raw material that it can well afford to use some for the smaller, inefficient weapons.

LOW-YIELD WEAPON

Simultaneously with Murray's recommendations, a copyrighted article told of the Army's development of a family of "low-yield" weapons. It is the first published account attempting to explain details of the pint-sized A-bomb developments.

The article says that the Army has developed a "hand-carried atomic missile which resembles an oversized bazooka that can be used by an infantry squad." It also says that small atomic shells can be fired from mortars mounted on a light tank chassis and from recoilless guns mounted in helicopters.

Only official reply to these reports by the Army is a terse "no comment."

* * *

Unofficial Army sources say that there would be no need to develop strange new combinations of weapons to fire small A-bombs. They could be fired effectively from tank guns, and by conventional artillery which have already been proved in combat.

Lake Ships Shop at Waterborne Supermarket

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—The men who keep house aboard Great Lakes freighters get nonstop shopping service from a waterborne supermarket. It has been in operation since 1901.

A warehouse below the locks of the Soo Canal has vast storage rooms and contains an inventory of 6,000 items ranging from a 12,000-pound anchor to a box of frozen strawberries or a head of fresh lettuce.

Ships place orders via ship to shore radiophone. On the return trip the ship gets delivery from the Ojibway, a derrick-equipped supply boat which ties up alongside the moving freighter and hoists her order up on deck.

Supplying some 25 ships a day, the warehouse—like the old general store but on a giant scale—keeps on hand a mountain of supplies. Groceries, hardware, dry goods and furniture are available, as well as a sail loft and blacksmith shop. Ships' officers can choose from 25 types of oil, 50 kinds of soap and cleaning compounds; 36 types of scrubbing and paint brushes and 55 types of manila, nylon and wire rope.

Dogs Catch Most Mice

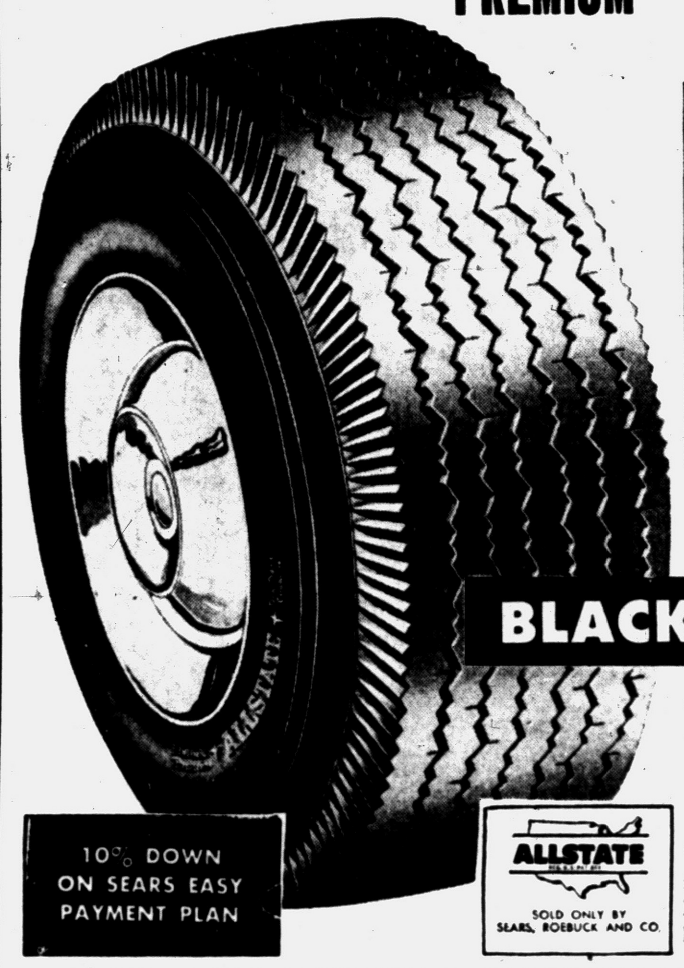

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The right kind of dog has it all over a cat as mouse killer, in the opinion of Dr. William F. Irwin, a veterinarian of Tulsa, Okla.

"A good fox terrier will kill 20 rats or mice while a cat is catching and playing with one," he told a veterinarian convention here.

Pueblo Bills Congress for Damage to Airport

PUEBLO, Colo. (UP)—The Pueblo city government has billed Congress for $4,400 to pay for repairing an airport runway the city claimed was damaged by an Air Force transport flying flood relief supplies to Tampico, Mexico.

Jack Keeler, director of aviation, said the city had to remove the runway blacktop, repack the base and relay surfacing after the transport's landing here.

Honolulu, Hawaii, has an average temperature of 71.5 degrees.

Soo Locks to Remain

SAULTE STE. MARIE (UP) — Don't worry, folks. Barring a catastrophe, the famed Soo locks will still be here next time you drive by. That's the reply of the Chamber of Commerce in response to a letter from Philadelphia saying there's a rumor that the locks are to be replaced by the bridge.

There is a proposal to build a tunnel or a bridge connecting this city with its Canadian neighbor of the same name. But bridge or tunnel, the locks are going to stay.

Bike Parking Problem

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Bicycles, not automobiles, have provided the University of Michigan with a mammoth parking problem. A survey shows the two-wheelers are the most popular form of campus transportation. But students are grumbling because only 1,050 parking spaces are provided on the campus for more than 4,000 bikes.

Teheran Offers Tourists Treat

Famed Capital of Iran Provides Visitors With Interesting Sights

TEHERAN—Travelers who plan to visit Iran this summer when the beautiful and famous Persian gardens are in full bloom will be welcomed to the country's capital of Teheran by the newly opened Iranian Government Tourist Center. The Center was organized to make travel easy in this scenic and historic country, which stretches between the Caspian Sea and the Persian Gulf.

Teheran is the base city for starting sightseeing in Iran. It stands in a circle of the Rocky Elburz Mountains. The highest peak, snow-capped Mt. Demavend, dominates the city from its 18,000 feet. Teheran has many modern hotels, large public parks, and a labyrinthine covered bazaar, where almost everything can be bought—exotic enameled jewlery, embroidered saddle bags, foot-high cones of sugar, and perhaps Aladdin's Wonderful Lamp.

The city's four museums contain both modern art and antiquities which date back milleniums A gem-studded golden peacock throne is a feature of the Gulistan Palace Museum which has a glittering mirror mosaic hall and houses many princely treasures.

At the city's edge stands the tall-towered Tomb of Shah Reza and a small connecting museum containing mementos from the Shah's life. Rug washing is one of the fascinating sights of Teheran. It takes place amid the ruins of the ancient Persian city of Rey in a dark pool at the foot of a towering rock cliff. After rugs are washed in the pool they are stretched out by the hundreds to dry in colorful rows on the rocky sides of surrounding hills.

FABULOUS CITY

Isfahan, a fabulous city of blue-tiled mosques, palaces and ancient crafts, lies south of Teheran, an hour-and-a-half flight. Shah Abbas, who ruled Iran a hundred years after Columbus discovered America, built Isfahan as his dream city. Some of its most impressive monuments surround a vast 550-foot-long square, called the Maidan, where Shah Abbas' soldiers used to play polo.

The best view of the square is from the columned balcony of the Shah's small gate palace, Ali Quapu. Across the former polo field, now a public park, rises the great blue-tiled dome of the Sheik Lutfallah Mosque. Its inwalls, ceiling and floor are made entirely of lapis-lazuli-blue tiles inlaid with quotations from the Koran.

The great Shah Mosque stands at the south, approached by a blue-tiled entrance gate above which rises a series of blue domes. At the northern end of the field are the vaulted covered bazaars. In their dimly lighted interiors, weavers work at the oriental rugs for which Iran has been famous for centuries. Block printers stamp out by hand traditional Persian designs on hand-loomed cottons. Artists paint infinitesimally small and delicate designs on ivory poaques. As in ancient days, long camel caravans with tinkling bells still cross the Maidan on their way to the bazaars.

Cuts in Military Aid to Cost, Says Wilson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson told Congress today that suggested sharp cuts in foreign military aid would make necessary an increase in U. S. armed forces, "at a very much greater cost in manpower and money."

* * *

In testimony before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, Wilson asked approval of funds to finance a three-billion-dollar military aid program under which, he said, this country is "helping to support approximately 200 divisions in the armies of our allies."

The House cut a billion dollars from President Eisenhower's military assistance request in reporting out a bill to authorize a $3,800,000,000 foreign aid program of military and economic assistance.

* * *

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Monday approved an increase of 703 million dollars above the House figure, 600 million dollars of it for military assistance.

Swindler Hunter Retires With 100 'Heads' to Credit

HALE CENTER, Tex. (AP) — J. Frank Norfleet, the man hunter, has retired.

"Of course, you have to tie him down," say members of his family.

He's 91 years old now. It was in 1919 that Norfleet was in Dallas, Tex., when a gang of swindlers got the $30,000 with which he planned to buy a ranch. He resolved to track down the members of the gang.

Over the United States and Canada he traveled. Two swindlers were taken into custody in Los Angeles. Another was captured in Georgia. A fourth was found in Salt Lake City, then another in Los Angeles.

In five years he rounded up the men who swindled him. By this time he was a renowned detective and enjoyed the role. He made a career of hunting down confidence men. At one time he rounded up 41 swindlers in Denver. Many times his life was in danger.

His man-hunting career lasted about 20 years during which he stalked and caught more than 100 swindlers.

Texas Wildlife Facing Scarcity

'Extinct' Label Placed on Increasing Numbers of Western Animals

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS)—The word "extinct" has been stamped on many wildlife species in Texas where game once abounded.

For instance the grizzly bear was eradicated in the Lone Star State early in the 20th Century—killed out by stockmen who could not tolerate its depradations on cattle and sheep.

The black bear was a common meat animal to pioneers but it has just about vanished from Texas except in the Davis Mountains and a few other rugged areas.

Texas once had a few native elk in the Guadalupe Mountains but now these too are gone. However, the sportsmen and conservationists are encouraged by the fact that herds of imported elk are thriving in the state's mountain sectors.

Conservationists in recent years have been concerned about the prairie chicken which now is seldom seen. The so-called "greater" prairie chicken has become extinct. However, the "lesser" prairie chicken exists in small numbers in the South Plains, as does the Attwater's variety on the coastal prairies.

The state's sole remaining herd of bighorn sheep is on a reservation in Hudspeth County. Conservationists are fighting hard to prevent their extinction. Plans are under way to import bighorns from Arizona into the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area near Big Bend National Park in Texas.

The lobo wolf is gone from Texas. But its wiley cousin, the coyote, which has not been the object of extensive efforts of experimination, is not near the danger stage. Its uncanny ability to adapt to changing conditions is its life saver.

The whooping crane, which winters on the Texas coast, now number only 30. It is carefully protected.

Bob Considine Says:

Letter Makes H-Error Seem Unimportant

NEW YORK (INS)—Somehow, it doesn't seem too important whether the H-bomb was dropped an inch or 40 miles off center when you get a letter like this.

"Dear Sir:

"I am the mother of Lt. William R. Payne, navigator-timer of the B52 crew which dropped the H-bomb in the Pacific. I want you to know of the benefit we got from the stories you sent from there in connection with this important event.

"Your correspondence relieved our great tension, lessened our anxieties and consoled us during the long periods of suspense which followed each postponement.

"You helped us over many bad hours for, see, we didn't know the secrets of that B52 getaway power. We could not be sure, until your stories, that our son and the others could escape.

"Mrs. John Payne (205 Lindberg St., Plainview, Tex.")

THEY'RE ALL A'S

The new 1956-57 Manhattan telephone book, now being distributed to the cliff dwellers, has five listings of firms named just "A."

* * *

Irving Zywotow has again been nuzzled out of the cellar of the book by Zye Inc., Oil Burnrs and that sibilant suspect of semantics, Zzyzzy Ztamp Ztudio Co.

"Atomic" listings go all the way from Atomic Associates Inc. to Atomic Undrgrmnt Co., and include the Atomic Bowl Lunchnet, Atomic Handbag Co., Atomic Leather Jackets Co., and Atomic Neckwear, which sounds a bit like a method of hanging a person by means of a chain reaction, but isn't.

There are now 1,678,708 phones on this sometimes tight little island (as opposed to 271 when the Bell people put out the first directory in 1878.

The new book contains 16 pages of timely reminders, including one to the effect that you can be thrown in the clink if you don't immediately relinquish a party line to make way for an emergency call (or if you grab such a line by falsely pleading an emergency.)

IT'S NOT A VAULT

The phone book lover is patiently warned to stop using the ponderous tome as a safety deposit vault. It's a nuisance having people show up at the warehouse to search through mountains of collected old books for missing money, deeds, insurance policies, rent receipts, watches, letters, war medals and the like.

* * *

Couple of years ago a local jeweler banked 15 $100 bills in his phone book one night and upon returning home the following evening discovered that a new book had replaced the old one.

He, his sister, her husband and two nephews spent four days and nights leafing through 75,000 books before the dough fluttered out.

It takes a full-time staff of 730 people to get out a new phone book of this impressive literary significance (five pounds), and 500 carriers to deliver it.

* * *

The phone people feel good about the accuracy of this one. They confidently predict it's a cleaner job than last year's—which had an accuracy rating of 99.975 per cent. That's two errors for every 10,000 listings.

SHREDDED TO BITS

For most users the books will last a year. But the books in Times Square phonebooths are shredded to bits in a week.

* * *

Pepole all over the world seem to want a Manhtattan book. A hotel on the island of Malta applied for the current best seller.

Giveaway Land Lots of Trouble for Maine City

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—A breakfast food promotion of 54 years ago is still making headaches for local tax officials. The breakfast food firm gave away house lots to users of its products.

The lots were laid out on a 300-acre tract without benefit of either sewage or water. The lots were sizes 20x50 and 30x50, mostly the former, too small for houses. Streets were laid out only 16 feet wide.

Newspaper advertisements billed the area as within 25 minutes of City Hall and only 10 minutes from the trolley cars—just right for commuters.

However, few commuted or even built. Over the years, the lots were returned to the city as tax problems and some are still coming in. The city fathers have decided it is wiser to wait until all are in before putting the property up for sale—and in the meantime, Portland has problems of taxless property.

Whatever good the promotion did for the company, it didn't do it for the land values. As Robert E. Jensen of Westbrook, a part owner of 169 lots, said, "The land's not worth any more now than it was then."

He gave his land back to the city, too.

A violation of the law on speeding is a factor in about one-third of all the fatal traffic accidents in the U.S.

The operating costs of automobiles in the U.S. have decreased by about 50 per cent or more since 1926.

Rochester Readies for Pet Parade, Factory to Rise

Annual Event Is Wednesday

Visner Engineering to Start Construction; Flag Presented

ROCHESTER—The Twelfth Annual Pet and Doll Parade sponsored by the Rochester Lions' Club is set for Wednesday, June 27.

• • •

Co-chairmen Lloyd Lake and Bud Maynard have announced that the parade will form at the American Legion Hall Grounds on West Fifth street at 12:30. The line of march will start at 1:30 p.m. and will go East on West Fifth to Main Street, South to Third, West to Walnut and back to Legion Hall.

Included in the parade will be horses, dolls, unusual pets, bicycles, floats, dogs, cats, fowl, hobbies and costumes.

Entry blanks may be had from local business places.

FIRM BUYS LAND

The Visner Engineering and Tool Co. of 1344 Hartwig has purchased 2½ industrial acres of H. B. Littell located adjacent to the Grand Trunk Western R.R. and bounded by Fraser street and Campbell Sub. on the North.

Operations for the construction of a new factory building will start next week.

DAY CAMP

The Girl Scouts Day Camp opened at Crissman's Acres Tuesday with the dedication and American flag presentation by the Women's Relief Corps.

Westacres Sets Teenage Dances

First in Series to Be Friday at Clubhouse; Alma Band to Play

WESTACRES — The Westacres Women's Club will sponsor the first in a series of teenage dances Friday from 8 p.m to 11:30 p.m. at the Westacres Club House on Commerce Road.

The dance promises to be unique in that the orchestra, a group of Alma College students, play a part in the program.

The group, known as the "Velvetones" include a number of local students; band manager Tom Dodd, Clarkston; Ken Smith, Alma; Spence Cordez, Midland; Dick Berry, Monroe; George Huysken, Detroit; Jim Gordan, Milford; and Art Dittenber, Midland.

Guest artists for this first dance include disk-jockey Dick Berry of Saginaw, who will act as master of ceremonies and vocalists Mary Lou Hartwick and Joan Donnelly.

A central theme will be carried out in each dance and every teenage group will have a chance to carry out a theme for a dance. Teenagers from the surrounding Westacres area from age 14 through the June graduates are invited to attend.

'Old Timers' Plan Rochester Reunion

Roberta Chowen Weds Gary W. Falkenberg

WALLED LAKE—With her twin sister Rose Mary as her maid of honor, Roberta Chowen became the bride of Gary Wayne Falkenberg, son of the Wm. M. Falkenbergs of Ann Arbor in a ceremony at the Walled Lake Methodist Church Saturday.

The altar was decorated with white gladioli and daisies and lighted with cathedral tapers for the 7:30 double ring service which was witnessed by 200 guests.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chowen chose white chantilly lace over satin for her gown. The fitted bodice had short scalloped sleeves and she wore lace mitts which came to points over her hands. The floor length skirt of tulle was embellished with scrolls of the lace. Her fingertip veil of tulle fell from a band of flowers. A white orchid and stephanotis was fastened to her prayer book.

Rose Mary's gown was ballerina length velvaray over white taffeta. The bridesmaids were Dawn Falkenberg, sister of the groom, and Jennifer King of Walled Lake. Little Linda Graham of Walled Lake was the flower girl.

The bride's brother, Danny Chowen, was the ring bearer. Richard Arlen of Livonia was the best man and the ushers were Bernard Kisele of Ann Arbor, Herbert Blauvelt of Chelsea, and John Heyde of Ann Arbor.

For a trip to northern Michigan, the bride donned a pink sheath of crystallette with matching coat and pinned on the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return the couple will reside on Ashley street in Ann Arbor. In the fall both will resume their studies at Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, where they are seniors.

Park Residents Asked Views

Board Seeks Opinion on Special Assessment in Donelson Park

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Donelson Park property owners are receiving registered letters from the Waterford Township Board requesting views on the creating of a special assessment district for sewers.

A hearing was held Monday night at the Township Hall to debate the installation of sewage in Donelson Park at the estimated cost of $219,935.87, or $1,072 per lot, on the basis of 205 lots.

A number of residents objected to the plan, stating that the cost was too high although sewage is desperately needed. It was suggested that if the area would wait two or three years, perhaps the whole township would have a plan in which Donelson Park residents could participate.

At the suggestion of Clerk Louis Barry, the Board resolved to send the letters to Park property owners. These must be returned by July 16, at which time the Board will decide whether or not to create the district. It was pointed out that the letters are to be used strictly in an advisory capacity.

French Battle After Ambush

Legionnaires, Algerian Rebels in Pitched Fight; Relief Force on Way

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

ALGIERS (AP) — French Foreign Legionnaires were fighting a pitched battle today with a band of nationalist rebels about 25 miles from the legion's storied headquarters at Sidi Bel Abbes.

The action erupted yesterday with the ambush of a legion convoy.

* * *

The convoy of about 100 soldiers and five vehicles radioed it was hit in midafternoon aad had suffered losses. The French said their troops dug in and fought back, inflicting heavy casualties.

* * *

A battalion of legion troops was dispatched to rescue the convoy, but French spokesmen said it was not yet known whether it had reached the fighting.

In Algiers, military patrols were doubled after a bloody swipe through the city by a rebel commando band.

The raiders swept through the streets, spraying crowded cafes and bars with revolver fire. Two Europeans were killed and 13 wounded, including a 10-year-old girl. Police and military pattols killed two rebels and captured two in a running street battle.

* * *

French officials speculated that the raid may have been in reprisal for the execution of two convicted terrorists Tuesday.

* * *

Scattered clashes were reported in other Algerian areas. The city of Constantine threw up new barbed wire barrcades following a fresh outbreak of grenade thorwing incidents.

In Paris, Defense Minister Maurice Bourges-Maunoury told an Anglo - American Press Assn., meeting Algeria must be won back by a long, slow campaign of pacification.

Lear Flies Over the Iron Curtain

Michigan Inventor Takes First Private Aircraft Into Soviet Territory

BERLIN (AP) — William P. Lear, chairman of the board of Lear, Inc., of Grand Rapids, Mich., flew into Berlin yesterday in the first flight of a private pleasure plane over the Iron Curtain.

* * *

With 54-year-old Lear, the inventor of an automatic pilot system widely used in jet aircraft, was his wife, Moya, 41.

Lear fooled her into thinking he was flying her to their four children in Geneva, Switzerland.

Instead he landed his twin-engine Cessna 310 at West Berlin's Tempelhof Airdrome after an uneventful, 49-minute flight over Communist East Germany from Hamburg, West Germany.

"It was just a breeze," Lear said.

Lear said he didn't know how he got permission for the flight. "I guess no one ever asked for permission before," he said.

Under four-power agreements, flights into Berlin by Western aircraft are limited to Allied military planes and three commercial airlines—Pan American World Airways, British European Airways and Air France. These flights are restricted to three 20-mile wide air corridors for the 110-mile flights from West Germany.

Confusion in St. Louis —Missouri That Is

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — It happens that there is a St. Louis in both Missouri and Michigan and that's why Richard Marsolf's water and electric bill didn't get paid on time.

* * *

A letter containing Marzoff's check was delivered at city hall here yesterday. Since it was addressed simply "Office of the Treasurer, City of St. Louis," it was not hard to explain why it was sent to this St. Louis (pop. 875,000).

* * *

A city employe promptly readdressed it and sent it on its way to St. Louis, Mich. (pop. 3,500), with the "Mich." underscored boldly.

GOP to Plan Convention Without Word From Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican convention arrangements committee, meeting tomorrow, apparently will make its plans without direct word on President Eisenhower's second term intentions.

* * *

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall is expected to tell the 46-member committee he is confident there is no change in Eisenhower's plans to run again, but it will be only an opinion.

The arrangements committee faces the task of picking a keynoter and other officials for the GOP's San Francisco nominating convention, beginning Aug. 20.

Also before the group will be a proposal to shorten the convention from four to three days—a move that would contemplate the speedy approval of a ticket headed by Eisenhower with Vice President Nixon as his running mate. San Francisco officials oppose telescroping the meeting and may carry their viewpoint.

* * *

Hall obviously would like to take to the committee meeting reassuring word direct from Eisenhower that his intestinal operation will not affect his plans to run again.

On the other hand, if there was any positive signal of doubt about a second term bid, Hall probably would feel under compulsion to ask the arrangements group to delay its final decisions.

But Hall apparently is not going to see Eisenhower before tomorrow's meeting. And White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday Eisenhower has no plans to send any message to the group. He added that Eisenhower had not talked politics with any member of his staff, including presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

* * *

In this instance, Hall apparently is caught in the web of one of his own rules—that the national committee will not initiate any of its contacts with the President. Under this rule, the GOP chairman doesn't ask for appointments. He goes to see the President only when the suggestion comes from the White House.

The unwritten rule also bans the national committee from taking issue with any decision of Hagerty's where the President is involved. So far as the committee is concerned, Hagerty's word is final in political matters.

Until Hagerty decides that Eisenhower has reached a stage in his convalescence that he can discuss politics — or the President himself makes such a decision—associates said Hall won't make a move.

Lacking more definite word, Hall's position is that the President spoke out on his second term intentions Feb. 29, that Republicans answered in primaries and conventions by pledging more than 900 convention votes to him, and that nothing has changed.

Rocket Ship Tests 'Barrier'

Bell X-2 'Laboratory' Aims to Crack Control Area at High Altitude

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., (INS) — Test flights of the Bel X-2 "flying laboratory" rocket ship are aimed at conquering the "control barrier," not the "thermal barrier," as commonly believed.

* * *

Brig. Gen. J. Stanley Holtoner, commander of Edwards Air Force Base, on California's Mojave Desert, said that study of frictional heat in flight is only a secondary part of the X-2 test.

He said the main objective is to study flight characteristics of the plane in relation to the violent control fluctuations experienced last year by Majors Charles Yeager and Arthur Murray, both of whom almost lost their lives in speed and altitude flights in the Bell X-1A.

The X-2 tests really are the extension of the X-1A tests, Gen. Holtoner explained.

The new plane is better equipped for the tests because it is fitted with power-boosted controls and has been assembled of high strength stainless steel. It is powered by eight rockets.

* * *

It is being test flown over the far reaches of the vast desert by Lt. Col. F. K. Everest and a crew of assistants. The craft is launched from the belly of a B-50 bomber.

* * *

As for the heat problem, Gen. Holtoner said:

* * *

"About 90 per cent of the energy of the air moving over the plane is converted to heat by friction and the heat causes a rise in the temperature of the external skin of the aircraft."

Family Survivors Benefit From Security Payments

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Just a little over a year ago Cmdr. William McLaughlin started his Navy fighter plane down the flight deck of the aircraft carrier Essex. As the plane gained speed for takeoff, something went wrong. The plane crashed into the Pacific and McLaughlin died in the wreckage.

* * *

Back in Alameda, Calif., he left his wife, Barbara, and their three children, Diane, 8½; Robert, 7½, and Stephen, 3.

Within a few weeks after McLaughlin crashed, someone asked his wife is she and the children wouldn't be eligible for Social Security payments as survivors of a serviceman.

At the Alameda Social Security office a couple of days later, she found the answer to be, yes; that under a number of circumstances survivors of servicemen may claim Social Security benefits.

She was told she was eligible for monthly payments of $128 for her and the children. Part of the payment would be for her and part for the children. The part for her would stop if she chose to remarry but the children would continue to get their share until they reached 18. If Mrs. McLaughlin didn't choose to remarry, she would continue to get payments until Stephen, the youngest child, reached 18. Then, when she reached 65, her payments would start again.

She also found that she was eligible for a lump sum of $211.50.

Why was McLaughlin's family eligible for Social Security payments?

3 TYPES OF BENEFITS

Here's the story:

There are three types of Social Security benefit payments.

1. The lump sum payment.

2. Retirement payments for a worker and his family when he retires after reaching age 65, or at 72 even if he doesn't retire.

3. Survivors payments for certain dependents when he dies, no matter what his age at death.

These benefit payments generally are earned on the basis of three month periods — officially called "quarters of coverage"— worked in jobs covered by Social Security. A person must have a certain number of quarters — ranging from 6 to 40—with the required number depending on date of death or 65th birthday.

The size of the payments generally depend on a person's average monthly earnings in a job covered by Social Security over a certain period of years.

When Congress passed the Social Security law of 1935, servicemen were exempted from coverage. Thus, they weren't eligible to earn benefits.

Later, when World War II came along, Congress decided it wasn't fair that servicemen couldn't earn benefits—benefits they would ordinarily earn if they had stayed in civilian life. So special provisions covering them were added to the Social Security law.

GIS NOW CREDITED

In essence, the provisions Congress has passed have said:

Time spent in the armed forces from Sept. 16, 1940, through March 31, 1956, can count toward earning Social Security benefits as if a serviceman had been working in a job covered by Social Security for wages of $160 a month.

In other words, a serviceman was credited with "quarters of coverage" which could make him eligible for Social Security payments.

The quarters of coverage could be counted toward Social Security for a serviceman's survivors if he should die in uniform, as in McLaughlin's case. Or they could be added to any quarters of coverage a veteran might accumulate in a civilian job before, or after separation from service.

But a veteran could not count the quarters unless he was separated under other than dishonorable conditions and was in uniform at least 90 days. And the quarters couldn't be counted if a monthly benefit, such as military pay, is paid by some government agency other than the Veterans Administration for the same period for which the military quarters are earned.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Defense Brass Meet for Annual Service Critique

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—More than 160 civilians and big brass of the military begin their annual conference at the Marine Corps base here today to tell each other their troubles.

* * *

As has been the case in the last three annual secretaries' conferences staged by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, the conferees will come up with no solutions. Wilson specifies the conference is for discussion and "not reaching decisions on defense problems."

* * *

All the meetings of the civilian secretaries and the military commanders from at home and abroad are behind closed doors. The printed agenda for the fourth annual conference lists the topics only as "problems confronting" the Army, Navy, Air Force, the Defense Department.

* * *

From now until Sunday afternoon, some top ranking figures of the sometimes rivaling services will have a chance to present again their arguments.

During 1955, 245,000 Americans died of cancer, while 36,000 were killed in motor accidents.

Flint Reports Arrest of More Fisher Rioters

FLINT (AP)—Twelve new arrests have been made in connection with the bloody inter-union battle May 25 at the Fisher Body plant in Grand Blanc.

* * *

Hearings also got started yesterday in municipal court for four union officials of Riggers Local 575 arrested previously on assault charges.

All four were also included in the conspiracy warrants taken out by Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke.

Find Tustin Man Dead

TUSTIN (AP)—Jack R. Watson, 30, of rural Tustin, was found dying in a roadside ditch beside U.S.131 south of Cadillac Tuesday. James Livingston, Osceola County coroner, said the death was caused by self-inflicted gunshot wounds. A Grand Rapids truck driver found him near the spot where a friend was killed when cars driven by two young men collided several months ago. Watson was a used car salesman in Cadillac.

Didn't Feel a Thing

BLAND, Va. (AP)—John Richardson walked into his home after work, slipped on his wife's freshly-waxed floor, and broke his leg. Richardson went back to work next day, though. The leg he broke was his wooden one.

Second Thought Helps

FAIRMONT, Minn. (AP)—Three telephone company linemen were at work when a man drove up in a panel truck, grabbed their pole jack and sped away. The three shinnied down poles, hopped into their big truck and gave chase. When the smaller truck out-distanced them, they stopped and telephoned the sheriff's office. The linemen later admitted they had not thought to cut in with the phone each carries and call the sheriff before coming down the poles.

THE ARMY MOVES IN — Three jeeps driven by military police line up in front of U. S. Army tents containing supplies for the army's participation in the Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Highland Recreation Area June 29-July 11. Four hundred members of the Fifth Army moved in June first to assist the scout organization in setting up and maintaining its first large-scale encampment.

City Robust Client for Busy Attorneys

City Attorney William Ewart and Assistant Sherwin Birnkrant.

Like a football team, the city of Pontiac must be on the offensive and defensive in the legal courts. Carrying the ball in the prosecution for the city and its defense is City Attorney William A. Ewart, a veteran of 24 years in this position.

And there is plenty of action for Ewart and his newly - appointed assistant, Sherwin M. Birnkrant. "Every action the city takes, or fails to take, is subject to court review," Ewart said.

Suits are filed protesting certain zoning regulations in Pontiac. Some people charge ordinances passed by the City Commission are "unreasonable."

There are claims charging negligence on the part of the city. These are just a few of the "defensive" cases.

Ewart says he cannot say which type of suit is filed against Pontiac the most often. "The law safeguards against fraudulent claims and there are plenty of them," he said. "It is up to me to see if the claims are bonafide."

There was but one zoning regulation contested last year. It was challenged by a gentleman who protested that a change to residential zoning would put him out of business. A Circuit Court judge ruled the rezoning was "unreasonable."

A present "unreasonable" charge against the city's ice cream peddling ordinance is an up-to-date example.

In 1935, the Michigan Supreme Court stepped in and ruled the city couldn't compel used auto lot owners to put rest-room facilities at their place of business.

The high court ruled years later the city was unreasonable in passing an ordinance to limit the size of advertising of the price of gasoline at filling stations. One gas station owner initiated the suit against the city to bring this final answer.

"An ordinance can lay dormant for years and periodically someone will find reason to question it," the city lawyer said.

On suits, pertaining to negligence on the part of the city, Ewart said, there are about five or six per year. "And most of these are groundless where there is no liability on the part of Pontiac."

"The law provides that a city has to have its streets and sidewalks in reasonable repair and not in perfect repair," he added.

A gentleman in 1950 sued the city after his car caught fire while parked over a catch basin on a city street. He charged, according to Ewart, that gas from a leaking main entered the sewer and seeped up from the basin into his car. The spark from the ignition caused an explosion.

The city was found not liable and a gas company made the settlement, the attorney said.

The city must stand guard in cases involving compensation settlements of city employes. "Most compensation cases are legitimate and rarely is it necessary to contest an employe's case," the city's legal head said.

An exception occurred last year when the city contested the case of a Pontiac General Hospital employe who claimed an injury was aggravated while working at the hospital. The city lost the case and a settlement of $3,500 was paid.

Other suits filed against the city include questioned tax problems consisting of special assessments and general taxation, against Pontiac police officers, and for the operation of city vehicles.

Asked if he considered the number of cases of suits he has handled a large amount, he said: "The city is not sued a great deal for we constantly strive to keep our actions within bounds."

"But we have had every case in the municipal field one time or another," Ewart concluded.

Dulles Slashes Red Despotism

Says Present Dictators Are Collaborators and Heirs of Stalin Purges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made a slashing attack on "Soviet Communist despotism" today, assailing its present leaders as "close collaborators" of the late Joseph Stalin and the beneficiaries of his "sadistic" purges.

• • •

The recently disclosed secret speech made by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev on the abuses of Stalin's rule, Dulles said "is the most damning indictment of despotism ever made by a despot."

"It should of itself be sufficient," he said, "to make all free peoples shun that type of despotism as they would shun a plague."

• • •

At the same time, in a speech prepared for the annual convention meeting of Kiwanis International, Dulles challenged the Soviet rulers to put to the test in Germany their argument that communism will be freely accepted by non-Communist peoples on its merits.

Will Become U. S. Resident

Kin of Rescued Flyer Aids Heroic Surgeon

A doctor who rescued a United States officer shot down over Yugoslavia during World War II will arrive in Birmingham Friday or Saturday with his family to make a home.

Sponsor of the Dr. Georg Gavrilovich family is L. W. Rogers, of 1424 Humphrey St., in Birmingham.

Rogers has a personal interest in the Gavrilovich family because it was his brother, Capt. William Rogers, now of Travis Air Force Base, Calif., whom Dr. Gavrilovich rescued.

He hid Capt. Rogers from the Germans, treated his wounds and brought him milk and food.

Mrs. Rogers said that Dr. Gavrilovich, his wife, and two children, Georgina, 19, and Ratimir, 15, have lived in Vienna for a little over a year.

Dr. Gavrilovich and his son escaped from Yugoslavia on the pretext of visiting hospitals abroad to learn about improvements made on operations of the heart and lung.

His wife followed with the cooperation of other physicians by feigning insanity and asking to receive treatment in another country.

"Georgina was left behind," Mrs. Rogers said, "and I'm not too sure how she got out of the country, but she did join them later."

Dr. Gavrilovich was formerly chief surgeon in a Yugoslavian hospital. He was arrested by the communists in 1944, but his life was saved because of the need for physicians.

He spent over a year as surgeon in Marshall Tito's army and according to Mrs. Rogers, was away from his home and family for five of the next 10 years.

The Rogers discovered the Gavrilovichs' whereabouts about a year ago and have worked to bring them to the U. S. since then.

The family was among 1,260 passengers on the transport Langfitt, the largest group of refugees to come here at one time under the Refugee Relief Act.

Mrs. Rogers said she believes that Dr. Gavrilovich hopes to set up his own practice in this country eventually, but "it will take time."

They will reside at the Rogers home temporarily.

Staff of Doctors Cut as Ike Gains Steadily

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower began his 12th day of convalescence today with fewer doctors hovering about him but with political questions buzzing on all sides.

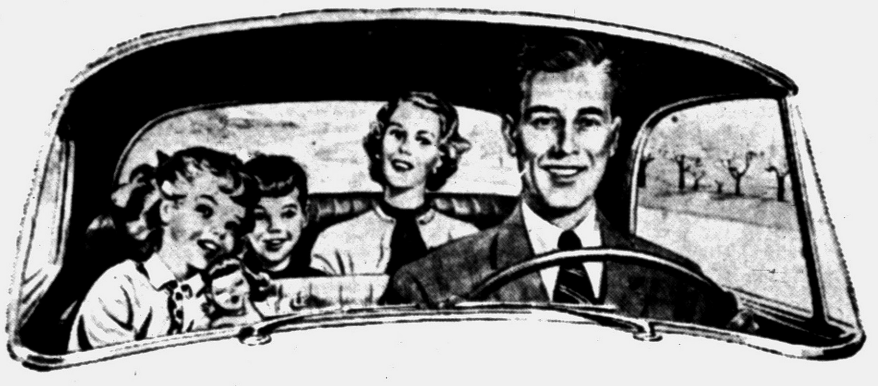

The six Army surgeons who have taken turns staying in the President's room around the clock were relieved of that duty late yesterday — a new indication, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said, that the chief executive's recovery from his June 9 intestinal operation is proceeding "very satisfactorily."

Hagerty responded with little more than genial silence to political questions stemming from Eisenhower's second serious illness in nine months. He wouldn't even say whether the President, who announced Feb. 29 he would seek a second term, can be considered a candidate at this time.

END OF A GIANT — Road-widening made it necessary to cut down this giant elm tree on Skitchewaug Trail in Springfield, Vt. Soviet Air Show May Resolve Fund Row WASHINGTON (INS)—Congressional sources said today that Gen. Nathan F. Twining's trip to Russia this weekend may provide the answer to the multi-billon dollar question of bigger air appropriations.

* * *

Indications are the Air Force chief of staff will be summoned before at least three Congressional groups when he returns from the Moscow air show and other possible inspection tours in Russia.

Senate Democrats won a one billion, 100 million dollar boost in new Air Force funds in the Appropriations Committee. Republicans have countered with a proposal for a more modest increase of 500 million.

Twining has already warned Russia outnumbers the U.S. in combat planes, 2 to 1, and "is closing the quality gap." He leaves Washington tomorrow, accompanied by nine top experts selected for their ability to help determine the status of the Russian air effort.

* * *

Congressional groups who will be waiting for his testimony include the airpower subcommittee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), the Military Appropriations subcommittee under Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), and the Senate Armed Services Committee headed by Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga).

COMPARATIVE POINTS

The main comparative features of the U.S. and Russian air forces known in advance of Twining's trip are these:

1. The Soviets have 150 huge jet heavy bombers compared to fewer than 100 for the U.S., and they have scheduled production at a rate 25 per cent higher. But the eight-engined American B-52 Stratofortress, capable of flying more than 6,000 miles without refueling, is believed longer-range than the four-engined Soviet "Bison."

* * *

2. The Russians have at least 15,000 jet fighter planes—like the U.S. they have completely abandoned propellor-driven fighter types—compared to about 7,500 U. S. Air Force fighters. But the fastest known of the Soviet craft is capable of no more than 850 miles an hour, whereas the U.S. is starting production of the F-104, capable of 1,400 m.p.h.

3. The U. S. has more than 1,800 3,000-mile B-47 jet medium bombers, against fewer than 200 comparable Soviet "Badgers." But in still smaller jet bombers, capable of about 1,500 miles, the Soviets, with more than a thousand IL-28's, far outnumber the U.S. in that category. In fact, the few comparable B-57 Canberras produced in the U.S. are now grounded because of a flaw in the horizontal stabilizer.

* * *

4. The U. S. has a worldwide system of air bases, making possible air-to-air refueling — which the Russians are not known to practice—and the use of shorter-range planes. The Russians are limited to bases within their own country and the Soviet satellites. They also lack the carrier-based aviation which spearheads the U.S. Navy.

The U.S. thus appears to hold advantages in speed, range and strategic possibilities, but Air Force commanders have testified they cannot guarantee these advantages will continue to offset the Soviet superiority in concentrated numbers.

U.S. Agrees to Sell U235 to Australia and France

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has agreed to sell Australia 1,100 pounds and France 88 pounds of U235 to fuel atomic power plants.

The agreements, announced yesterday, are the first of their kind to be signed since those last year with Britain, Belgium and Canada.

Caesar Won in Turkey

ANKRA — Julius Caesar's famous words, "Veni, vidi, vici" ("I came, I saw, I conquered"), were uttered after a battle in Turkey in 47 B.C. in which he defeated Pharnaces II, King of Pontus. The action was near Zile, the ancient Zela, in central Turkey West of Ankara.

South Teams Up to Kill School Integration Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democrats and Republicans teamed in the House Education Committee today to kill a bill calling for the federal government to pay the cost of integrating public schools.

* * *

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Udall (D-Ariz), was tabled by a 14-10 vote.

The motion to table the bill for this session was made by Rep. Landrum (D-Ga).

The shrimp industry is the most lucrative of all American commercial fishing enterprises, producing about 225 million pounds annually valued at about 50 million dollars, says the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Jordan Refuses Jew Peace Bid

Government Head Seeks Homes Lost to Arabs in Palestine

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Premier Said Mufti says Jordan's new government will never conclude peace with Israel.

The new government chief told Parliament he would seek the return to their former homes in Israel of the Arab Palestine refugees, nearly half a million of whom live in Jordan.

He also told the legislators he would work for anti-Israeli military alliances with other Arab nations similar to those Jordan recently concluded with Syria and Egypt.

The intent, he said, is to encircle "the usurped part of the Arab world" with a ring of bases.

Said Mufti reiterated that he intends to seek revision of Jordan's 1948 treaty with Britain, which gives the British right to military bases in this country in exchange for subsidizing Jordan's army.

* * *

(The British Foreign Office said May 2 that Jordan wants the subsidy, which has averaged some 30 million dollars a year, paid directly to its treasury rather than to a military bank account in London whose use has been supervised by British officers attached to the Jordan forces.

The Premier added that his government welcomed offers of financial aid from Egypt, Syria, and Sau Arabia, who have military alliances under Egyptian command. The three nations want to supplant the British subsidy entirely, but so far Jordan has declined to give it up.

* * *

In Jerusalem, a spokesman for the Israel, Foreign Ministry said Israel has accused Syria and Jordan of issuing "threats" against the Jewish state which violates "the spirit and letter of the General armistice agreement."

Naval Reserve Law Unit Plans to Honor Instructor

The Pontiac Naval Reserve Law Unit will hold a dinner honoring instructor, Lt. Commander Donald E. Adams, of Waterford Township, and the completion of studies for the year tonight at 7:15 at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Lt. Commander Farrell E. Roberts, of West Bloomfield, will serve as chairman of the program with Commander James M. Hannan, of Birmingham, the host.

The class of 15 men recently completed a 40-week course on "Naval Justice" under the Naval Reserve program. The group plans to convene again in September with other area Reserve officers invited to join in the study of a new phase of Naval law.

Golf will precede the dinner and various talks will be given. Commander Adams will be honored for his work in passing along legal instruction throughout the weekly classes. He has been active in naval affairs for several years.

Adams' class of 15 included four other attorneys and students with Naval Reserve ranks ranging from Lieutenant to Captain.

Marshall Youth Drowns Fishing in Nottawa Lake

MARSHALL (AP)—Lawrence Eaton Jr., celebrating his 16th birthday by going on a fishing trip, drowned yesterday in Nottawa Lake, seven miles southwest of Marshall.

Cottagers, who saw the boat capsize in the middle of the lake, rescued Lawrence's brother, Daryl, 19, who could not swim, and William Nobbs, 20, also of Marshall. Lawrence sank before rescuers could reach him.

Disabled Veterans Distributing Tags

Disabled American Veterans units throughout the country have begun their annual distribution of DAV Idento Tags, miniature license plates for key chains, it was announced today.

Contributions are used each year for continuing the organization's services. The DAV cares for nonmembers as well as members in the nation-wide program.

The DAV has estimated that approximately 78,573 disabled veterans in Michigan will need help this year if they expect to retain their benefits. More funds are needed to carry on the rehabilitation assistance.

The Idento-Tags are distributed and made by the disabled veterans and their wives through national headquarters.

About a third of U.S. spending units (families and single people) had incomes over $4,000 a year in 1950 compared to half in 1955.

H-Bombed Pacific Atolls Closed to Original Natives

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —The return of natives to their onetime homes on Bikini and Eniwetok atolls in America's nuclear testing grounds may be barred forever by the U. S.

* * *

This possibility was revealed in an official report to the U. N. Trusteeship Council by acting U. S. High Commissioner Delmas Nucker.

The disclosure failed to explain whether the U. S. ruled out the natives' return because the Pacific atolls had been found more or less lastingly radioactive.

But Nucker will deny such a condition exists and will insist that "structural changes" in the topography of Bikini and Eniwetok make them uninhabitable.

STRUCTURAL CHANGE

A U. S. spokesman hinted the "structural changes" were not the result of hydrogen and atomic bomb blasts but of "concrete construction" emplaced variously about the atolls.

The U. N. report was drafted by a "visiting mission" which toured the Pacific trust territories last March.

The trust territory is made up of 97 distinct islands grouped into three archipelagos—the Marianas, Carolines and Marshalls —with a combined land surface of only 687 square miles scattered over 3,000,000 square miles of ocean. In all areas there is an estimated population of 63,000.

The report, while largely favorable to the U. S. administration of the area, stressed that the "major problem" is the displacement of islanders from home atolls so that U. S. tests of atom and hydrogen weapons can be carried out.

DON'T LIKE KILI

In discussing continued requests by the former Bikini inhabitants for resettlement on more suitable islands than the one they are on now, the report states:

"The acting commissioner explained conditions on Bikini (and Eniwetok) precluded the people from returning there for many years, if ever."

The Bikini grievances centered about the fact that Kili atoll to which they were transferred some years ago to clear them out of test and "fall-out" range, has high reefs and hardly any safe shipping approach or outlet.

The Eniwetok people were transferred to Ujelong atoll and the commission found them satisfactorily adjusted.

The report stated that in the case of the natives of Rongelap—another atoll where the U. S. 1954 nuclear weapons tests injured scores through radioactive fall-out —the displacement was temporary and they may be returned to their homes before the end of the year.

* * *

In carefully tracing the injuries and healing progress of the Rongelapese, the U. N. report at one point states:

"At no time has it been necessary to resort to any specialized treatment for radiation effects on the blood such as use of prophylactic antibiotics, blood transfusions and the like. The skin lesions did require careful attention.

"No assurance could be given that cancer would not develop at the site of the skin lesions but it was considered very likely. Fertility did not appear to have been affected in view of the fact that about ten sound babies had been born in the group since the exposure."

Potash Dust Safe

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—The State Health Department says miners face no danger from dust in potash mines. It says a survey shows the dust is soluble and a miner would receive no more potash from breathing the dust than normally would be taken into the system by eating an apple. The Carlsbad, N.M., potash mines produce 90 per cent of the nation's supply.

Future Homes May Be Unique

Plastic and Aluminum, Removable Walls, Odd Shapes Seen Ahead

WASHINGTON — Tomorrow's homes may be made of plastic, steel or aluminum have removable walls, light - diffusing partitions, structural furniture and self-contained utilities.

* * *

They may look like inverted bowls, clusters of domes, or be put together in six-sided sections like the cells of a honeycomb.

Such at least are some of the materials and designs already being tried out by adventurous homeowners, or modeled in the experimental laboratories of engineers and architects.

The six-sided dwelling has been developed, logically enough, by a beekeeper in New Zealand, says the National Geographic Society. All the parts of his house—walls, floors, ceilings, windows, doors—were factory-cut to standard measurements based on the honeycomb hexagon.

* * *

The advantage of nature's six-sided figures over man-made right angles, says the New Zealander, include design variation, the saving of odd bits of material otherwise wasted, and greater unit strength.

ROTATING HOUSE

In Italy, a man who likes a change of view has built a revolving hilltop home that can face both sunrise and sunset. The building is in two parts, the lower circular and stationary. The upper, resembling a ship's superstructure, rests on wheels and rotates by push botton.

Even interiors may someday swivel. An American electrical company predicts a living room "lazy Susan" that will turn sofas and chairs toward picture window, television set, or fireplace.

To meet the modern problem of limited space, an odd house was built in Stockholm, Sweden. It looks like a gabled roof resting on the ground. One of its slanting sides actually is of slate roofing; the other three surfaces are of concrete. The general sloping design was chosen to cut down on unnecessary space toward ceilings, yet provide as much floor area as possible.

* * *

Japan and America are trading many home-building ideas. Contemporary American houses include traditional Japanese elements of sliding panels, pagoda overhang and outdoor view.

One Californian has built a lounging platform in place of living-room furniture, while a Tokyo architect has accented the Western look of his new studio-home by equipping it with furniture old Japan never knew.

Fish Is Sharpshooter

BOSTON — One of the world's most remarkable aquarium fishes is the archerfish, or Toxotes, which obtains some of its food by shooting down insects by spewing drops of water from its mouth at distances up to five feet. The archerfish's marksmanship is highly accurate for at least four feet. The insect is gobbled up the instant it falls into the water.

Top Woman Photographer in America Performed Daring Feats in Lifetime

NEW YORK (AP)—Name the country's better women photographers and it's a sure bet that you'll find one name at the top of anybody's list — Margaret Bourke-White.

This remarkable gal, who has seen and recorded every facet of photojournalism in every corner of the globe for more than 25 years, was stopped long enough in her tracks recently to accept a double tribute.

First came public recognition at the modern shrine of photography, George Eastman House in Rochester, N. Y., with the unveiling of a retrospective exhibition of Margaret Bourke-White's photo bullseyes. A jaunt to Ithaca and a few hours later, a duplicate exhibit was unveiled at Cornell University, her alma mater.

• • •

It seems incredible that one woman could have seen so much and ventured so far as was proved by the 200-picture panorama on display.

BEGAN IN COLLEGE

She studied photography in college only because it might help her art course. In a short time, it helped pay her tuition and established her career after graduatioh as an industrial photographer.

Then Fortune beckoned—Fortune Magazine, that is—in 1930, when it was started, and she accepted the invitation. Six years later, Life began — as a publishing venture and as a career in photojournalism for Miss Bourke-White.

In the very first issue of Life magazine, she made the cover and illustrated the lead picture story with a type of photo essay which established a distinctive style.

COVERED EVERYTHING

Since then she has portrayed statesmen and share-croppers; covered the combat phases of wars, uprisings and rebellions; survived torpedoing, air raids and bombardment; travelled by canoe, muleback, helicopter and jet; burrowed two miles deep in an African gold mine and ascended eight miles into the stratosphere where it took technical maneuvering to make her cameras work at all.

Certainly these dramatic—often brutally gripping—photos on display bear little evidence of a "woman's touch." That is evident only in person with her soft voice, blue eyes and gracious manner.

VIA HELICOPTER — The face of Liberty by Margaret Bourke-White, is one of a series of helicopter views of the United States, in the course of which she survived two crashes. Displayed in her current dual exhibitions, it is one of the highlights of her 20 years as a photographer.

On an assignment, Miss Bourke-White is a tense, determined craftsman whose only thought is to reflect her feelings through the lens onto a piece of film. She is equally adept with 35mm cameras for fast moving or dangerous assignments, a twin-lens reflex for protraits and a view camera for architectural studies.

ASSIGNMENTS VARY

Varied assignments sometimes call for a quick change in equipment, temperament and attire. It's lucky they don't occur often like the one afternoon she spent on the topmost girders of a bridge, dressed for the occasion in dungarees. From there, she was due in the early evening at a swank social affair.

She solved that dilemma by converting a taxicab into a dressing room with a warning to the driver to keep his eyes on the road ahead while she doffed the dungarees and donned an evening gown en route.

In the midst of the George Eastman House activities it took some doing to steer Miss Bourke-White into a corner for a few moments of private conversation. What is woman'a role in photography? I wanted to know.

MUST HAVE DESIRE

"If it is to be a career, a woman must want to photograph,— must feel a need to take pictures," she answered immediately.

"When women make photography a career," she added "they have a feminine advantage in certain specialties such as Baby or Fashion photography.

"However, the barriers are gradually lowering and there is less and less differentiation in photography between men and women photographers.

"But even with no career or serious work involved, it is enough for a woman to express herself by shooting pictures of her family and then it can be lots of fun besides."

There are more than 100 glaciers in the United States, most being in the Rockies and the Cascade range of Washington and Oregon.

East Germany Frees 19,064

Prisoners Liberated in Gesture by Commies to Reunify Nation

BERLIN (AP)—Communist - ruled East Germany announced today it has freed 19,064 prisoners in recent months as a demonstration of the Red regime's strength and its will to reunify divided Germany.

• • •

The announcement followed a general clemency wave throughout the Communist world resulting from the Soviet leadership's drive to lay the blame for previous purges and persecution on Stalin.

The East German government press office said 15,756 of those released were convicted of political crimes, including espionage for the West.

The other 3,308 were Germans sentenced by Soviet military tribunals for war crimes. Imprisoned in Russia since the war, they were turned over to the East Germans during the winter when other Germans held in the Soviet Union were allowed to come home.

HONORS FOR TRUMAN — Former President Harry S. Truman smiles and wears the proper academic hat and gown as he is congratulated by towering Lord Halifax, chancellor of Oxford University after receiving the honorary degree of doctor of civil laws at the famous university in Oxford, England, yesterday. Tears filled Truman's eyes when Lord Halifax conferred the degree with the eulogy: "Truest of allies, direct in your speech and in your writings, and ever a pattern of simple courage."

Barkley's Seat Remains Vacant

Kentucky Dem Split-Up Forces Chandler to Wait on Senate Appointee

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A Democratic appointee to the U.S. Senate has declined the post and the Republican party has delayed selection of a senatorial nominee for Kentucky's November election.

* * *

Joseph J. Leary, 49-year-old Democratic leader, was appointed to the Senate Monday by Gov. A. B. Chandler. In announcing his decision, Leary yesterday told reporters "a sincere desire to bring peace to the ranks of the Democratic party in Kentucky" had led him to consider the senatorship.

Leary, who has served as a speech writer and adviser to both Chandler and Sen. Earle C. Clements, said he was convinced, under the circumstances which now exist, that he couldn't accomplish his peace objective.

* * *

Kentucky's Democratic party is split between two factions, one headed by Chandler and the other by Clements and former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby. The Democratic State Central Committee Tuesday named Wetherby as the party's nominee for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley in the November election. The committee is controlled by forces friendly to Clements.

Chandler said he would try to fill Barkley's seat "in a reasonable time."

* * *

The Republican State Central Executive Committee will meet in Lexington Saturday, but Chairman Dewey Daniel of Hazard announced Wednesday the party's nominee for Barkley's seat will not be chosen then. It had been reported previously that the nominee would be announced at that time with Dr. Elmer E. Gabbard of Buckhorn expected to be the choice.

Denies Income Tax Bilk Scheme Charge

DETROIT (AP)—Two brothers who run an accounting and tax service firm were free under bond today pending examination July 10 on charges they falsified income tax returns in a scheme to balk the government of $250,000.

* * *

Edward J. Zacharski, 39, pleaded innocent at his arraignment yesterday before Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski and was released under $5,000 bond.

Afterward Zacharski told newsmen: "There's no truth to the charges and they can't provo it."

His brother, Norman Zachary, 27, who legally changed his name some ago, had been arraigned the day before and was freed under $10,000 bond.

* * *

Internal revenue agents said the brothers made out more than 68 fictitious income tax returns claiming refunds totaling more than $250,000.

Juliana's Abdication Possible

Domestic Tiff Still Reigns in Royal Dutch Household

* * *

Dutch sources interpreted an announcement that their 18-year old daughter, Princess Beatrix, was extending her holiday in Rome, as an indication that Juliana and her husband had not reached an agreement.

The possibility of Juliana's abdication in favor of Beatrix is not ruled out by those knowing the queen's will and that of Bernhard. The latter's view has been: "In the country it is my wife who rules, but in my home it is I."

However, the palace announced later that Juliana and Bernhard will accompany Beatrix when the princess makes her first official visit to Amsterdam June 30.

SEEKS CONTACT

The government information service said Beatrix, The Netherlands probable future queen, had expressed the desire to have more personal contact with the Dutch people. In line with this wish, the service said, Juliana and Bernhard will introduce their daughter to Amsterdam officials and accompany her to a ballet performance.

Bernhard, who returned to Soestdijk castle Monday night from Stockholm, flew to Brussels today to attend a meeting of the international equestrian federation. A Dutch official spokesman said the visit was "purely private."

Political observers discounted reports that formation of a cabinet after the recent Dutch elections would depend on Juliana giving up her close association with the 61-year old Mrs. Hofman.

They said that creation of a cabinet usually is a matter of weeks because of complicated party deals, and they referred to Premier Willem Drees' statement last week that no constitutional question was involved in the queen's dealings with Mrs. Hofman.

PAPERS REVEAL STORY

The Netherlands people did not learn of the reports of Bernhard-Juliana differences and the role of Mrs. Hofman until last week after various newspapers abroad broke the story.

Mrs. Hofman herself denied as "nonsense" the reports that she wielded an undue influence over Juliana after an eight-year association.

The queen was said to have first turned to Mrs. Hofman for aid in the case of Juliana's youngest daughter, the partly blind nine-year old princess Marijke. The princess has suffered from cataracts.

The healer, a one-time typist, has said she discovered she could aid afflicted persons by dedicating them to Christ.

She conducts her faith-healing sessions on an assembly-line basis, handling ten patients in ten minutes.

The patients wait for their number to be called in a dingy combination poolroom and bar. Mrs. Hofman sits alone on a glass-enclosed porch at the end of an adjoining dance hall. At the left of the sharp-featured graying woman, who is aided by two mannish-looking middle-aged women, is a piano. On her right are shelves with boxes containing dancing shoes.

'Operation White Hat'

MARQUETTE (AP)—A two-month Navy recruiting drive dubbed "Operation White Hat" culminated yesterday with the swearing-in of 81 enlistees from the Upper Peninsula. After the ceremonies and a big lunch, the group was flown to Glenview, Ill., for training. Nearly every Upper Peninsula community was represented.

Heads Dairy Group

EAST LANSING (AP)—Dr. C. F. Huffman, Michigan State University authority on dairy nutrition, today was named president of the American Dairy Science Assn. at the organization's annual meeting in Storrs, Conn., the university announced.

Riesel Says Bridges After Control of Ports

WASHINGTON (INS) — Labor columnist Victor Riesel declared in testimony made public today that West Coast union leader Harry Bridges is seeking to extend his power to the New York and New Orleans waterfronts.

* * *

The writer, blinded in an acid-throwing attack by an unidentified hoodlum, said in a sworn statement to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that Bridges wants to control those ports just as he "absolutely controls" those in Hawaii and San Francisco.

Riesel said: "It would be a serious matter if this man, who is a champion of Communist and Soviet causes . . . were able to extend his influence to the port of New York, for example."

He labeled Bridges' power a threat to national security.

The columnist's testimony, given to staff investigators behind closed doors in New York Tuesday, was placed in the record at the outset of public hearings on Communist infiltration of port areas.

Title Fails to Impress—Just 'Cowboy Lawyer'

LANCASTER, Ky. (AP) — Two boys, ages 9 and 10, stopped at the office door of City Judge Edward R. Roark.

"A-t-t-o-r-n-e-y, what's that?" one asked.

New Magna Carta Urged by Truman for All Peoples

OXFORD, England (AP)—Harry S. Truman has called for a new magna carta to include "economic well-being . . . health, education and decent living standards among our inalienable rights."

The former U.S. president made an appeal for a better life for underprivileged people in a speech last night before 400 graduates of Oxford's Christ Church College.

Earlier yesterday the ancient British university conferred an honorary doctorate of civil law on him.

"Every man should have the benefit of the best in medicine, he continued, and every boy and girl the highest educational training from which they can profit. The aged, he added, should be free of economic worries in their declining years.

"In short, we must declare in a new magna carta, in a new Declaration of Independence, that henceforth economic well being and security, that health and education and decent living standards are among our inalienable rights," Truman declared.

The nations of the West, he said, must extend the benefits of their democracy and abundant ways of life to the rest of the world. Then in an obvious reference to the American Negro, he added:

"In my country, to our sorrow, there are those who are still denied full citizenship in some of our states, and denied full stature as human beings by some of our citizens still living in an intellectual and moral dark age."

MSU Acquires New Physics Equipment

EAST LANSING (AP)—Basic research facilities at Michigan State University will be increased next fall with installation of two major pieces of equipment.

* * *

The new items, a magnetic resonance spectrometer and a cryostat, will be used in the laboratories of the physics and chemistry departments, Dean Milton E. Muelder of the College of Science and Arts announced.

Dean Muelder said only some eight universities in the world have the new type magnetic resonance spectrometer.

Purchased primarily to expand the university's physical research facilities, the equipment will also play an important part in the teaching programs of the two departments.

Equipped with graph recorders, the spectrometer is designed to reveal the molecular structure of various materials far more quickly than older methods of chemical analysis.

* * *

Dr. Robert D. Spence of the physics department is awaiting the fall delivery of the cryostat. He hopes to put it to work in his studies of helium gas.

Stanton Youth Drowns After Diving Off Boat

LAKEVIEW (AP)—Harry Jura, 15, of Stanton, drowned yesterday after diving off a boat in West Lake, about nin miles southwest of Lakeview in Montcalm County.

Jura was diving off the boat with two others boys when it began to droft away. As the three swam toward it Jura went under. His body was recovered by deputies.

Next Flight to Venezuela Loaded; None Cancel

NEW YORK (INS) — A full load of passengers was aboard the Venezuelan airliner which left Idlewild airport exactly 24 hours after the departure of the plane which carried 74 persons to death.

Airline employes said they were amazed there had been no cancellations, which usually "come in droves" following an air tragedy.

But the 46 passengers lining up to board the plane — a much smaller aircraft than the doomed constellation — looked grave.

Their appearance was in marked contrast to the gaiety of passengers crowding around gates for other flights.

Army 'Transceiver' Selects Replacements

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — With a minimum of fanfare, the United States has put into operation the closest thing yet to a robot army.

It's all done with electronic brains and little cards with a lot of punch marks.

Not that the machines do anything quite so frivolous, but if it was urgent they could find a 25-year-old cook with blue eyes, brown hair and an appendix scar in the United States as a replacement and have him in southern Germany in 48 hours.

The gadget is called a "transceiver."

It knocks holes in a card at the European U.S. Army headquarters here and at the same time, by transocean radio, stamps the same holes in a card at Ft. Dix, N.J., where European replacements are selected.

In the old days, the Army, shipped over replacements by the boatload. The replacements landed at Bremerhaven and went 450 miles by train to Zweibrucken. There they spent three days getting placed and, in some cases, wound up back at Bremerhaven.

None of that any more.

Army headquarters here keeps up a continuing file on what replacements are needed for the quarter million U.S. soldiers in Europe.

As soon as someone is transferred, dies, goes over the hill or what have you, the Army machine rattles off a card saying what is needed.

At the same time, Ft. Dix collects cards on personnel available for overseas duty.

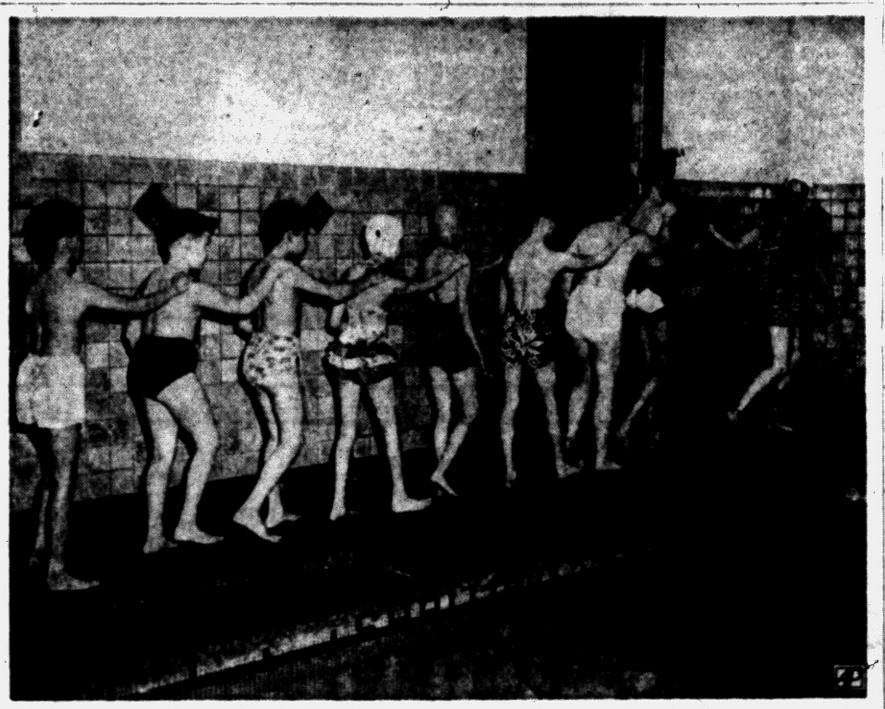

These cards are slammed together in another machine and presto! Out comes the replacement right there on a card. The card even contains his orders. Ft. Dix interviewers take a few moments to confirm the machine, but it's almost never wrong.

Thus, Heidelberg can ask for a replacement on Friday and he can be flown to his new station by Sunday.

* * *

Brig. Gen. Bruce Easley, adjutant general at Heidelberg headquarters, said the machine not only saves some 10 million dollars a year but that it insures against misuse of manpower, saves headaches for the GIs and could be mighty helpful in an atomic war.

The transceiver has handled some 40,000 replacements since it went into operation last fall. Now the Army is trying to set up a massive transceiver card catalogue file that would enable the Pentagon to put its finger on any of its men, anywhere in the world.

SWIMMING CLASS FOR BLIND — Blind grade school children at Nichols School in Detroit are led to the edge of a local YMCA pool by Miss Elaine Demetral, one of their teachers. Swimming classes are held for the sightless youngsters who are learning new poise and self-confidence.

Blind Youngsters Get New Lease on Life at 1st Swimming Class Held in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Blind children, in a gay hour of swimming pool fun, are being freed for a little while from one of their greatest fears.

That's the fear of bumping into things, which disappears for the youngsters shouting and splashing in an indoor pool once a week.

But even more important things are being accomplished in the first swimming classes ever held for blind children in Detroit.

Miss Elaine Demetral, teacher of the 16 sightless youngsters at Nichols School, says the swimming classes give the children "a chance for free movement to let off steam."

Instead of a world of hard objects popping up in unexpected places, the youngsters can move as freely as fish in the water, knowing sudden motion won't mean a bruised knee or bumped elbow.

Their instructor, John Carik, has taught them to swim and even dive in the hour-long classes that started last September. He says:

"There was no difference between these kids and other groups in their ability to learn how to swim. I had to change my method a little, because of course I couldn't show them anything. I had to hold their arms for them and move them in the right way to teach them swimming strokes."

When the children arrive for their lesson, they are led single file, hands on each other's shoulders, to the shallow end of the pool.

FLOP IN

Then, with Carik's guidance, they flop into the water one by one. There is a warm-up romp floating around on plastic doughnuts. After that the youngsters work on swimming strokes and diving.

Their shouts and laughter echo from the churning water. Says their teacher:

"To appreciate what the classes do for them, you ought to see them in school. They are quiet and subdued and always a little afraid. They lose that fear once they are in the water."

Buck-Passing Puts Ike on 'Hot Spot'

Cooper Wants Senate Seat, but Nehru Snags Race

WASHINGTON (INS)—The impending state visit of India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru is playing havoc with Kentucky's GOP political plans.

Ambassador to India John Sherman Cooper, who checked out of a Boston hospital Sunday, is reportedly itching to run for the Senate seat vacated by the death of Alben W. Barkley, but is equally reluctant to inject domestic politics into Nehru's visit here.

Defeated two years for for re-election by Barkley, Cooper will toss his fedora into the border-state political arena this year on only one condition: If President Eisenhwoer will personally ask him to run.

Cooper has already made this stipulation to "assistant president" Sherman Adams and Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who fruitlessly urged him to try for the Senate.

The stipulation puts Eisenhower on a political hot-spot. Both the White House and the GOP Committee are anxious to have Cooper, a proven vote-getter, run for the Senate seat in this crucial election year when control of the Senate is at stake.

If Eisenhower, however, requests Cooper to become an active political candidate on the eve of Nehru's arrival July 7, the sensitive Indian leader may regard the move as a personal affront.

Cooper, as our ambassador to India, will naturally shepherd the prime minister during his four-day visit here. If he previously resigned his diplomatic post to become a Republican candidate, the assignment could become an extremely touchy one.

State Department officials are fearful that Nehru, knowing little of our domestic politics, might consider Cooper's resignation just before his arrival a loss of face for neutral India.

Kentucky's Republican State Committee, which will name the GOP candidate for the Senate, met June 2 to nominate Cooper, but adjourned without making a selection after Cooper said the ambassadorship had a prior "claim on my efforts."

The committee is rescheduled to meet this Saturday, but may again postpone action if Cooper indicates that he will be available after Nehru's state visit.

The three-week wait would probably not unduly upset campaign plans, inasmuch as Cooper—the best—known Republican politician in the state—requires little personal build-up before the November election.

In India last year, the ambassador frankly admitted his homesickness for the Senate and said that he "loves political campaigning from the moment it starts until election day."

In his letter to the state committe two weeks ago he conceded that his "instinct was to respond to the opportunity of this election year," but he felt that it would "not be orderly to quit (the ambassadorship) at this time."

The reference apparently was to the approaching visit of Nehru, and Cooper's unwillingness to embarrass that head of state by thinking only in terms of his own political future.

Cooper has twice served out unexpired Senate terms from Kentucky. The successor to Barkley will have four years to serve, before again facing a re-election campaign.

Cooper, like Ike, has recently had some health problems. Only 54, he has just undergone a successful operation for the removal of a split muscle in his throat. He may have to return to the hospital later for a gallstone operation.

AFRAID TO OFFEND

A dedicated man, Cooper has thrown his heart into the delicate Indian assignment and does not want to crown his 14-months' effort by offending Nehru. Born and bred to Kentucky politics, however, he would infinitely prefer a desk in would infinitely perfer a desk in arena.

The ambassador meanwhile has not endeared himself to the White House by insisting that Ike personally ask him to run.

An official remarked:

"After all, Cooper is a Republican like Ike. He is also a politician. He ought to be able to make the decision himself without putting the President on this spot. He certainly knows Ike wants a Republican Senate next year."

Haitch H'aint 'ad It 'ere

LONDON (AP) — Do you become exasperated by the aspirated? Dither between sounding and suppressing the "H" in "Hotel"?

• • • • • •

If so, take heart. For you are in excellent company if, as so many people believe, a peer of England is excellent company.

This came to light recently in the House of Lords in a discussion of something called "The Hotel Proprietors (liabilities and rights) Bill."

The bill as drafted by the government referred throughout to "a hotel." Lord Faringdon, an old H-suppressor who learned his grammar at Eton, weighed in with a protest. He asked for an amendment making it "an Hotel."

"I take this matter rather seriously," he said seriously. "It is desirable to avoid excessive preciosity, but it is a mistake to throw the baby of elegance out with the dirty water of the precious."

Lord Merthyr, in charge of getting the bill passed for the government, wasn't having any of this. True, he said, the English used to pronounce "Hotel" in the French fashion, without the "H," but, he declared, "the word now is not thus pronounced."

Lord Conesford (heducated at Rugby, 'e was) sided with Lord Faringdon and cited the pertinent English rule of grammar as follows:

"In the case of an aspirated 'H,' the question whether you say 'an' or 'a' depends on whether the first syllable of the word beginning with 'H' is accented or not accented. If it is accented it should be 'A.' If it is unaccented it should be 'An'."

Polar Birds Set for Hatch Time

Male Penguins Ready to Serve as Incubators for Future Chicks

WASHINGTON—While the men of Operation Deepfreeze settle in for the long night in Antarctica, male emperor penguins prepare for Operation Egg-warm.

The only birds to remain on the icy continent throughout the year, the emperors will hatch their young in the dark of the forthcoming winter, says the National Geographic Society.

Though it was long believed that female emperors help to tend the eggs, recent observers say that the males alone deserve the credit. After Mrs. Penguin lays a white, one-pound egg, she places it on her feet for her mate to see. He sings ecstatically.

Then she rolls the egg onto the ice. Clumsily, the male maneuvers it onto his feet, tucking it between his short legs and a warm, enveloping flap of skin that serves as an incubator. There it stays for two months while papa penguin shuffles about or squats on the ice, his back turned against -50 degree blizzards that whistle through his feathers.

MALES FAST

Once the eggs are put to roost, the penguin womenfolk take off for open water. They don't return until the chicks appear. Then the fathers, weakened by two months of fasting, stagger off to feed.

Authorities know little about the pre-marital habits of these birds. Emperors, the largest and most southerly of all penguins, have never bred in captivity. However, Malcolm Davis, bird curator of the National Zoological Park in Washington, once witnessed a courtship.

Except by autopsy, scientists can't tell one sex from another. Even the penguins can't be sure. In Antarctic courtships, observed from a distance, the aggressor (male or female, no one knows for certain) begins by circling another penguin. Eventually it lays some pebbles at the feet of the pursued. If the pebbles are rejected, it simply tries another penguin. When a rock is accepted, the birds become mates.

Davis, the world's foremost penguineer, has traveled to Antarctica three times to bring back birds. Only three emperors weathered his latest trip, and they died at the zoo shortly after his return in April.

Extremely vulnerable to lung infections in captivity, emperors live as long as 35 years in germ-free polar air. They are noted for their strength and size (heights, up to four feet; weights, to 90 pounds). A 74-pound emperor once wriggled out of the grip of five men. Finally the men buckled two leather belts around the bird's middle. They drew back triumphantly and heaved a sigh of relief. So did the penguin—and burst the belts.

Women Golfers Bring Color to Forest Lake Club

LPGA Championship Tournament held today through Sunday will determine the champion woman professional in the nation. Three competitors are (left to right) Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., Patty Berg of Chicago and Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay. Fay is giving the girls a little lesson in Spanish. She says they should know golf terms in her language.

Committees arranging the LPGA tournament were members of Forest Lake Country Club. Cochairman Mrs. Albert C. Yost (left) of Birmingham arranged the dinner party Wednesday evening for the professionals and guests. Photographed with her (left to right) were Mrs. Charles C. Curry Jr. of Bloomfield Hills, who assisted with prizes; Mrs. John F. Hern, chairman of the hostess committee, and Mrs. Leland B. Church, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Ferd M. Broock (left) of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Donald F. Watkins of Birmingham display some of the prizes which will be awarded at Forest Lake Country Club during the LPGA Championship Tournament. Mrs. Watkins is club champion golfer at Birmingham Country Club.

Hobby Doesn't Require Perfection

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The competitive spirit is doubtless a fine thing. Our economy couldn't run as well without it. But I sometimes wish we could relax a little when it comes to our personal lives.

Because of it, many people are prevented from taking up a hobby which could give them great pleasure, for fear they won't excel in it.

If they study French, they aren't happy until they're just perfect at it. They're afraid to enjoy conversing in it for fear they'll make mistakes.

If they go in for gardening or flower-arranging, they feel they've failed unless they win the prizes at the garden club or the honorary award at the woman's club.

If they make ceramics, they are ashamed if they don't immediately get a big market for their wares and run a highly successful business.

MISS THE REAL FUN

And think of the sheer fun they miss!

* * *

Martha Y. likes to sketch little children.

"I've never had formal training," she writes rather sheepishly, "but I just love it and sometimes the sketches come out pretty well.

"When I have any free time, I spend it that way. I'm learning a lot, but sometimes I feel it's a waste of time, because I'm not a pro.

"I'll never sell portraits or anything like that. I probably ought to spend my free time, after the housework is done, in something more productive."

"Productive" is a relative term. Producing for money or fame is not the only kind of productiveness there is.

If Martha gets pleasure, increased skill and observation powers from her sketching, she's productive enough. She's producing a better personality, a more fulfilled life.

She is growing and developing and can, with a hobby like that, remain growing and developing the rest of her life.

Moreover, if she keeps at it, she can't tell what good things might come out of it.

* * *

It will open new horizons to her, she'll meet new people, and she might end up getting all kinds of unexpected benefits. The important thing is to do it for its own sake.

DON'T WORRY

If there's something you honestly feel like "taking up," as the saying goes, don't worry about what may happen to it.

A great deal will happen to you, in the way of self-development—and that can be productive in ways you may never dream of.

Audiences Get Joyride in 'Cadillac'

The golden-hued Cadillac Coupe de Ville on display outside of Will-O-Way Playhouse during the two-week presentation of "The Solid Gold Cadillac," which opened Tuesday night, well reflects the luster of the 24-carat performance inside on the stage of Michigan's oldest "straw hat" theater.

"Chef" Bill Merrill, director of Will-O-Way, has taken all the necessary basic ingredients, mixed them in the proper proportions, and has brought forth a palatable production that should whet the appetite of even the most critical theatergoer.

With Bertha Forman, at her whimsical best, portraying the role of the inquisitive minor stockholder "Mrs. Laura Partridge"; William Smith as the frustrated transplanted tycoon, "McKeever," suffering from "Washingtonitis"; and Danny and Janet Simpson as the love interest, the nightly audiences are virtually guaranteed a rollicking Joyride in "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

The comedy is presented nightly at Will-O-Way Playhouse through July 1.

Corinne Sisterhood Gathers at Dinner

Members of Corinne Sisterhood 184, Dames of Malta, held a dinner Wednesday evening in Malta Temple honoring protectors and charter members of the group.

Following dinner, a brief business meeting was conducted by Orra Schram, Queen Esther. Meetings have been discontinued during the summer months and the next meeting will be held in September.

Retiring Principals Honored at Dinner

The Pontiac Administrators' Association met last night at Orchard Lake Country Club for a farewell dinner for two retiring Pontiac principals, Mrs. Rudolph Kempf from Willis School and Mrs. Welton Sherman from LeBaron School.

About 45 attended the party, which included swimming, golf and bridge.

Quick mending gives longer wear to terry towels. Old bath towels may be used for ironing pads or for wrapping sweaters or other articles after washing.

The new more-hat styles of the season now take to the water. New bathing caps slated for airing on fashionable beaches this summer are designed for glamor, as well as to keep the hair dry. Some are decorated with embossed flowers, others adopt some of the new hat silhouettes such as the beret and the tam o'shanter. Most of the new caps have inner construction to provide a tighter seal against the water and to protect smart hairdos from the surf.

Pro Again Possesses Rabbit Foot

Good Luck Token Donned for LPGA by Marilynn Smith

Sports figures are a superstitious lot. And if there's a good luck charm involved, it often takes more than just an ordinary reason for that man or woman in sports to give up such a token of luck.

For Marilyn Smith, the associate golf pro at Forest Lake Country Club, it was an unheard of situation to be seen on the course without that rabbit's foot dangling from her skirt waistband.

Marilynn got the rabbit's foot just as a joke (because of all her superstitious beliefs) from a friend while still in high school in Wichita, Kan., back in 1946.

Just for laughs, she pinned the foot to her waist and took it with her into the Kansas State Amateur Golf Tournament that year.

She won that championship and the rabbit's foot became a permanent fixture.

* * *

In 1947 and 1948 Marilynn repeated as Kansas amateur champion, and in 1949 she won the national intercollegiate championship before moving into the pro field.

TO HELP BABE

A year ago Marilynn parted with her rabbit's foot. Her reason was her friendship with Babe Zaharias, who has been fighting for her life with cancer. She gave the fur paw to Babe with the hopes it would bring luck to the world's greatest woman athlete.

* * *

"Losing that rabbit's foot was like losing a friend, but if it brought any luck I sure hoped for some for Babe," she told reporters.

When the 1956 pro circuit started the foot was missing from Marilynn's waist, but this week as the LPGA began, a bright and shiny rabbit's foot, twice the size of the old one, was noticed again hooked to her belt.

Her good friend Fay Crocker presented her with the foot as a souvenir and Marilynn is again happy and hooked with a rabbit's foot.

Gathering Is Held by Plymouth Group

Mrs. Cecil Bondurant of Garland avenue entertained the Plymouth Group of First Congregational Church Wednesday evening. She was assisted by Ina Sisco and Ora Hallenbeck.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Leon Putman and a resume of projects sponsored by the group during the year was given by Margaret Steward. Mrs. Bondurant reported on the state conference.

Guests for the evening were Phyllis Pope, Mrs. Geraldine Curtiss and Mrs. Lewis Corbat.

Mrs. Allan Hersee Hostess to Circle

The Elizabeth Circle of First Christian Church met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Allan Hersee on South Jessie street. Mrs. Brady Adams presented the program, "United Witness."

Devotions were given by Mrs. David DuVall, who used "Come Worship the Lord" as her topic. The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Ruby on Hallman street July 17.

Apprentice Theater at Will-O-Way Now Includes Up-to-Date Workshop

When the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater starts its seven-week summer session Tuesday, students from 4-year-olds to adults will have the use of the new Apprentice Theater Workshop.

* * *

The workshop, housing a 40-foot stage 24 feet deep, has a revolving 20-foot stage which can easily be manipulated.

The new building has recording facilities and incorporates all of the new ideas in modern theater production. At the end of the summer term, students will perform before a "live" audience of friends and guests.

Anyone interested in applying for the summer session, may do so by calling Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner, director of the Apprentice Theater, or applying at the theater. Applications will be taken through Saturday. No experience is necessary.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

* * *

The courses are primarily designed to help students acquire poise and self-confidence, in addition to dramatic instructions.

For children and adults with definite theatrical aspirations, more advanced courses in dramatics are available.

The classes begin on Tuesday and continue for seven weeks. The young children will meet in the morning; high school age in the afternoon; and adults in the evening.

Applicants may choose the one-hour classes on Tuesday and Thursday, or Wednesday and Friday.

* * *

Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater is located on Long Lake road, just east of Telegraph road. The theater is on the same grounds, and is affiliated with, the well-known Will-O-Way Playhouse.

Pros Share Spotlight With Young Golfer

One of the "biggest" stars out at Forest Lake Country Club is 19-month-old Heidi Hagge, daughter of Alice Bauer.

This toddler captures the heart of both club members and guests when she swings her club (cut down to size by doting grandfather Dave Bauer) and yells, "Fore."

* * *

Heidi came with her mother and her grandparents in the trailer they use for commuting to tournaments from their home in Sarasota, Fla.

Peggy Kirk Bell flew her own plane from Southern Pines, N. C., for the tournament. Turned pro in 1950, this golfer holds the Curtis Cup for 1950.

Holder of every major tournament title and medal, and leading money winner in 1955, Patty Berg of Chicago began golfing at 15. She also was named AP Woman Athlete of the Year.

Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, entertains the pros and club members with Spanish lessons—golf terms mostly. Fay's father was Uruguayan men's champion 27 times, and her mother was woman's champion six times, so Fay comes by it naturally. In 1955 she won the Serbin Open, Wolverine Open and National Open.

WINNER 29 TIMES

The only tournament she hasn't won, the LPGA championship, is sought by Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga. Winner of 29 pro tournaments, she had her best year in 1953 when she won 10 tournaments and collected winnings never equaled.

Teenagers Remain Loyal to Rock 'n' Roll Despite Alarmed Protests

(Can the teenage music craze known as rock 'n' roll corrupt American youth? Or is it just another way to let off steam? How widespread is the rage? To get the answers to these and other questions about one of the weirdest and most controversial phenomena in mid-century America, International News Service talked to educators, psychologists, clergymen, teenagers and their parents, music dealers and others across the nation. This is the first of four articles.)

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
International News Service

It has been three years now since American youth began to writhe and shake and pound its feet like a Ubangi at the tom-toms.

* * *

Three years too, since parents began to hold their ears and try to act tolerant and laugh, but with a quiver of foreboding, at the frenzy.

In the last two of these years the shrewdest music men in the land have been sitting in their ivory-keyed towers, alternately predicting doom to this savage beat—and eating, distastefully, their words.

But "rock 'n' roll"—the noisy, controversial whatsit of music—goes on.

* * *

Not only has it gone on, it's getting bigger than ever.

STATISTICS LACKING

"We can't give any statistics on how many rock 'n' roll records are being sold because there's no way of making the breakdown between RR and some close classifications, like rhythm-and-blues or race records," reports Norman Orlick, associate editor of Cashbox magazine, the "Bible" of the record followers.

* * *

"But I can tell you it's as fantastic as it's ever been. Everybody thought it'd have a big flash and die. Now the best minds in the record business have to sit back and revamp their opinions . . ."

This is no news to teenagers across the country. Between the ages of 13 and 19, they may be fickle in love, in ambition, in personal philosophy. About rock 'n' roll, though, there's been little wavering. They're still with it.

"Why?" a Boston high school girl was asked.

* * *

"It gives you a sort of feeling of freedom," she said firmly, "it makes you relax and want to jump. Youth's gotta have freedom today. You know?"

DEVOID OF MELODY

For those who have been spared close acquaintance with it, rock 'n' roll is a type of music almost devoid of melody. What strain of tune exists is carried, generally, by a saxophone or an urgent-voiced vocalist who sounds like a spark would explode him.

* * *

The lyrics are repetitive and either suggestive or meaningless. Most parents doubt that their offspring derive any significance from the lyrics ("They don't listen beyond the beat," ventured one mother hopefully).

Some musicians seem to believe that the older RR fans, from 17 on, understand the lyrics and are both shocked and emotionally excited by them.

It is a 2-beat rhythm, with the accent on every second beat, and it's this rhythm that rouses and churns the energies and emotions of youngsters—while it wears down the nerves of their elders.

* * *

It is a combination of many forms of music, from the most primitive jungle beats to the sensuous rhythms of Negro blues to the monotonous cacophony of hillbilly happiness numbers.

PREHISTORIC TYPE

Dr. Jules Masserman, psychiatry and neurology professor at Northwestern University, calls it "primitive quasi-music that can be traced back to prehistoric cultures."

* * *

He also compares it to "Dionysian revels in Greece, where the god of sex (Priapus) and the god of drink (Bacchus) were feted in the same 2-beat rhythms."

It is this association—with Priapus and Bacchus—which, naturally, frightens the protesters against this blaring, curious fad that won't die.

Any adult who has watched the animated bodies of bobby-soxers at a rock 'n' roll record "hop" cannot help wonder if their minds are being twisted like their torsos.

* * *

These rock-roll hops, now being conducted in most large cities by disk jockeys on local radio shows, have occasionally led to riots.

* * *

Massachusetts has had a particularly bad time: In Somerville, a youth was stabbed with an ice pick at a "hop"; a girl was knifed in Everett, Mass.; 30 students rioted at another at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and a boy was paralyzed with a golf club.

CREATES FRENZY

"This music," says Fred Cole, Boston disk jockey, "has stunned them. I suppose the natives must have been worked into a frenzy by tom-toms. It works the same way on kids."

* * *

In Los Angeles, a Catholic priest who heads a local youth movement, deplored RR's emotional impact.

"I think," he said, "that the rock and roll fad is conducive to the lower nature of man and therefore can have an influence on the average teenager to perform certain actions classified as "wrong or sinful."

"Such actions could result in illicit sexual activities or possibly the use of narcotics."

Other educators and clergymen insist that it is not any more harmful than adolescent "crazes" of the past. A Methodist minister in Pittsburgh said this:

"As I was growing up, I'd say our dancing was much more suggestive than what I see my own young people doing."

JUST NONSENSE

And in Chicago, Dr. John C. Kendel, vice prexy of the American Music Conference, insisted that the national worry is nonsense — that the beat only gives young folks a chance to blow off steam and rid themselves of excess energy.

"Granted that there may be more exhilarating sex influence in a rock and roll dance than a Strauss waltz," he said, "I still contend there will be no undue sex significance in the current wave."

The experience of talking to their own children and students, however, is what chills the marrow of the worriers.

Especially when the children are girls, and when the girls are describing how they feel about a sensuous 21-year-old singer of rock 'n' roll named Elvis Presley.

"He hits me right between the eyes," said one teenager. "Every time I hear his records I get weak in the knees. Oooooh . . ."

Virginia Alline Stephens and George Lloyd Foster were married Saturday evening. She is the daughter of Mrs. Levolia Stephens of Mount Clemens street, and he is the son of George Foster of Big Beaver.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE L. FOSTER of Big Beaver.

Virginia Stephens Weds in Rite at Galloway Lake

Virginia Alline Stephens became the bride of George Lloyd Foster Saturday evening in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Merle Brown Jr., brother-in-law of the bride, at Galloway Lake Methodist Church.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Levolia Stephens of Mount Clemens street and the bridegroom is the son of George Foster of Big Beaver.

A waltz-length gown of lace over taffeta was worn by the bride for her wedding. The bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves that ended in points at the wrists.

She wore a taffeta half-hat with a shoulder-length veil and carried a cascading crescent-shaped bouquet of white cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

* * *

Mrs. Merle Brown Jr., served as her sister's matron of honor wearing a blue lace waltz-length gown with a half-hat of ice blue. She carried an arrangement of blue and white daisies with streamers of English ivy.

WEARS PINK LACE

For her duties of flower girl, Wendy Stephens, niece of the bride, wore a pink lace dress with hooped skirt and a pink taffeta bonnet. She carried a miniature bouquet of pink and white daisies.

* * *

The bridal recital was sung by the bride's brother, the Rev. Kenneth E. Stephens, minister of Galloway Lake Methodist Church.

William Foster served his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Donald Marchbanks and Wililam Becker. Billy Brown, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Stephens greeted her guests at the reception held at the Oakland County Boat Club immediately following the ceremony wearing a beige and gold metallic lace dress with light blue accessories. Her corsage was of blue feathered carnations.

For their honeymoon trip to Arizona, Colorado and the Northwestern states, the bride changed to a powder blue cotton and silk dress with white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Exercises Remove Shoulder Fat

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have suggested that it would be a good thing if more of us looked at ourselves—rear view. We often are conscious of faults in figure and grooming front and side view, while we forget those we cannot see.

* * *

Many women write to me about a layer of fat across the shoulders. This bulges around the brassiere. This condition usually is accompanied by too many pounds.

Nevertheless, some women have a tendency to this figure fault even when they are the correct weight. Fat seems to cling to this area until we scare it away with special activity.

If you are overweight, died and exercise. If you are not overweight, rely on exercise alone. The following one will help:

Lie on the floor with your hips about a foot away from the wall, depending on your height. Straighten your legs and place your heels up on the wall in front of you. Cross your arms and extend the fingers of each hand so that you can catch yourself with your hands.

Lift your head and roll from side to side (feet still on the wall.) Catch yourself with your right hand at the end of the roll to the left and with your left hand on the roll to the right.

ANOTHER EXERCISE

This is another fine exercise for fatty deposits across the shoulders: Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Bend the trunk and swing your arms between your legs, reaching back as far as possible as though you were going to spank yourself. Raise the tunk and continue.

If you are overweight, diet and exercise to shed fat across shoulders. If you are not overweight, rely on exercise alone.

* * *

A third one: Stand tall with feet separated. Raise the arms overhead. Keep the arms in this position as you bend the trunk forward to a position almost at right angles to the body.

Keep the arms in the same position as you swing the trunk slowly from side to side, reaching as far in each direction as possible. Do this very slowly so that you feel the pull over the shoulders.

If you would like to have my spinal exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 16. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Protect Eyes Against Sun With Glasses

Your season in the sun can be a carefree one if you'll protect your eyes.

It's fine to wear waterproof mascara and eyeshadow in the interest of glamor if you apply them deftly so that at high noon you do not look like a circus performer. But it is a better idea to concentrate on real sun-protection for your eyes.

* * *

You'll need dark glasses if you'd insure your eyes against sun's rays, whether you wear a brimmed hat or not. Head-coverings do shade you from the sun, but even then you'll probably squint your eyes, another beauty problem. Besides averting those crow-feet lines that might etch their way at the eye corners, you'll avoid a miserable headache and dizziness that comes from eye abuse, if you wear sun glasses.

Wear the glasses on the beach where sand and water are likely to reflect glare. Eye shades are needed too when you engage in tennis, golf or go driving outdoors.

Cheap glasses do not pay dividends, as sometimes these cause more of a strain than going without them. It is possible to have dark glasses ground to your regular prescription. One chic new pattern is available in a batch of new lenses and frames with hues from rose to copper glow. They screen out harmful ultra-violet and infra-red radiation without distorting vision, the makers say.

* * *

If you can combine sunglasses and head covering, so much the better for protection of your hair too. You'll notice that movie stars who are aware of hair glamor are usually photographed in the sun wearing a head covering in addition to dark glasses. Most popular is the scarf tied in a turban effect with a bow at the nape of the neck.

Shades Feature '56 Decor

Rich luminous shades inspired by Persian Miniature paintings, famous for their great beauty of color and perfection of decorative detail, are the featured palette in the advance 1956 Fall and Winter Color Collection for Man-Made Fibers and Silk, just issued by the Color Association of the United States to its members.

* * *

The source of the Association's research for these Persian Miniature Colors, it was explained by Estelle M. Tennis, executive director, were rare illuminated manuscripts in noted museums here and abroad. Reflecting the beautiful tones of these Iranian art treasures are Enchanted Gold, Iran Peacock, the ruby-tinted Rose of Persia, Caliph Green, a tone deeper than emerald, Lazuli Blue, a lapis version, Green Talisman in the chartreuse scale, the orangy Sultan Red and Miniature Violet of rosy tonality.

These glowing shades are destined for restive "after-dark" fashions. They are of timely interest to the fashion world here because of the special exhibition of Islamic and Indian Miniature paintings opening at the Metropolitan Museum of Art December 16.

* * *

Sounding the lighter grace notes of the autumn chromatic scale are a group of Charmtones, mostly in the pastel range. They include Tender Pink, Green Melody, Romance Turquoise, Precious Pearl, Sentimental Rose, Gentle Blue, Golden Charm and Allure Green.

Before applying new paint to your walls, seal all the touched up areas with shellac thinned with alcohol.

3 Pontiac Students Attend Girls' State at UM to Study Michigan Government

Attending Wolverine Girls' State on the University of Michigan campus are Patricia Zielke, Sharon Holland and Ruth Ann Tower.

* * *

Miss Zielke of Berwick boulevard was sent by American Legion Auxiliary, Cook-Nelson Unit 20. She is an 11A student at Pontiac High School, on the Tomahawk staff and vice president of the Y-Teens.

Miss Holland of East Iroquois road was sent by BPOE 810. She is in the 11A at Pontiac High School and is a member of the Quill and Scroll Club at school.

Miss Tower of Moreland avenue is also an 11A student at Pontiac High, a member of the Dolphins Club and the A Capella Choir. She was sent by American Legion Auxiliary, Chief Pontiac Unit 377.

They are among 330 girls attending. Civic, social, fraternal and patriotic organizations, posts of the American Legion and units of the American Legion Auxiliary sponsor girls for the annual event.

STUDY GOVERNMENT

The purpose of Girls' State is to bring to attending girls a knowledge of national state and local government through actual practice.

* * *

Mock officials of towns, counties and the state are elected so the girls will have an opportunity to understand how the government in Michigan operates.

The session, which started Tuesday in Ann Arbor, will continue until June 26.

Two girls will be selected from those attending Girls' State to attend Girls' Nation at Washington, D. C., where they will represent Michigan. They will be given the opportunity of seeing how the national government functions.

A September tea is being planned by Mrs. Robert Conant, Girls' State chairman, at the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue for the three Pontiac girls and members of American Legion Auxiliary units. The girls will then report on their work at Girls' State.

All Saints Guild Enjoys Picnic at Eaton Home

Mrs. George B. Eaton opened her home and gardens at Pine Lake to members of Guild Four, All Saints Episcopal Church, for the annual picnic luncheon.

* * *

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. William Enfield, Mrs. Arman Crecor and Mrs. Sarkis Schnorkian.

Climaxing the gathering was the presentation of a large birthday cake to the hostess. Guests attending were Dora Todd from Sutton-on-the-Sea, England, Mrs. Jennie Bradfield of St. Catherines, Ont., and Mrs. Raymond L. Cole.

Mrs. Laymon Young presided over the meeting, at which members contributed to a project of the United Church Women for supplying materials for the recently donated Harvester Mobile Church.

* * *

Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Maude Turnbull related many interesting experiences of their recent trip through the Western United States and the Canadian Northwest.

Must Man Don Jacket for Guests?

Coat Not Required in His Own Home in Hot Weather

By EMILY POST

The following letter is from a man: "I mind the heat very much and when I get home in the evening I can't wait to take off my jacket and make myself comfortable.

"Should guests drop in in the evening to see us, my wife insists that I put my jacket on. She says it is not good manners to sit in my shirt sleeves in the presence of visitors.

"To me, having to put on a jacket in one's own house when the temperature is in the mid-90s is carrying good manners to a ridiculous extreme. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: In your own house, when the temperature is very high, you certainly do not have to put on your coat—especially if you are wearing a short-sleeved sport shirt. It would be polite to ask your guests to remove their jackets.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married in a few weeks and when I ordered my wedding invitations I also ordered some fold-over cards which seemed just right to me for acknowledging my wedding presents.

"I had them engraved Mr. and Mrs. John Jones. I have just been told that these cards are not correct for acknowledging wedding presents. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: You cannot use these cards before your marriage. But as soon as you are Mrs. John Jones it will be quite all right to use them for acknowledging wedding presents.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to a party in honor of a houseguest, are we expected to invite the houseguest and her hosts in return?"

Answer: There is no obligation, but it is a very pleasing thing to do if you can—especially if the guest is staying with one of your own best friends.

Mary Martha Unit Conducts Meeting

The Mary Martha Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church met Wednesday with Mrs. Leo Minewesser of East Montcalm street. Following the dessert luncheon, Mrs. Minewesser presided and devotions were given by Mrs. Irl Williams.

The group will hold a cooperative picnic with Mrs. Bert Weddle of Oxley drive July 11.

Pontiac Rolladium skaters presented their annual show Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Approximately 150 skaters, pupils at the Rolladium took part in the program. Shown are Judy Fidler and Jack Horner, novice dance champions of 1956. Also participating was Laurene Anselmy, national senior ladies champion from 1951-54.

Skaters of the diaper division taking part in the annual skating show Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Huron Rolladium were Robyn White of Williams Lake and Rolland Lund of Rosette court. Robyn is state Diaper Division champion and Rolland is state runner-up. The division is for competitive skating among children under 6 years of age.

Convert Shirts Into Aprons and Short Nightgowns

There's precious little a man can call his very own these days. Not even the shirt on his back. When he can't wear them any more—as shirts—you can—as shorties. Just because the collar and cuffs have been turned doesn't mean the shirt is gone. Usually the fabric is still good.

A washing clinic shows here how a little ingenuity and a few yards of trimmings can convert pop's shirts into such things as a shortie nightgown or a cobbler's apron.

SHORT NIGHTGOWN

With 4½ yards of eyelet ruffling make yourself a shorty nighty from a man's blue shirt.

(1) First remove collar and cuffs

(2) To give puff-sleeve effect, put a hem in each sleeve and insert an elastic band. Finish off each sleeve with an edging of two inch-wide ruffling.

(3) Edge each side of the button tab with one inch-wide ruffling.

(4) Sew two rows of one inch wide ruffling to neck band.

(5) Add a border of two inch ruffling around bottom of shirt to give added length.

COBBLER'S APRON

Need an apron? Whip up a cobbler-type from a blue striped shirt. You need only one package of red bias tape.

(1) Remove collar, neck band and sleeves.

(2) Round out neck line in back by cutting it boat shape down to yoke line.

(3) Take in sides under arms to fit.

(4) Bind neck and arm holes with bias tape.

(5) Turn up shirt tails to make pockets and bind top of pocket line with tape.

(6) Remove pocket and sew it in place on back of shirt. You wear this with the buttons down the back.

6-21

The cloche of horsehair and flowers is easy to wear. It's somewhat smaller than the bountiful silhouette for talls only.

To go with summer cottons and silks, a garden-type or picture hat so dear to us when we want to be admired. The simple dresses can take a bit of drama at the top and here the oversized hat can be worn by many more women.

Meeting Conducted by Pythian Sisters

Mrs. Wilbur Morey, most excellent chief, conducted the Monday evening meeting of Fanny E. Tompkins Temple 41, Pythian Sisters.

• • •

A letter was read from Wave Wanty, grand chairman, telling of the Grand Temple session to be held in Grand Rapids Sept. 21-23. Delegate to the session is Mrs. Randall Wilson, with Mrs. Wilbur Morgan serving as alternate.

• • •

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the social committee, with Mrs. Isaac Myers as chairman.

Board Will Gather

Mrs. Horace Shaw is opening her home on North Woodward avenue, Bloomfield Hills, for a luncheon meeting of the board of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association Monday at 10:30 a.m.

Extra Storage Space

A well-planned small bathroom utilizes every inch of space. You can safely store linens in a cabinet directly under the basin if tile has been used to waterproof the counters surrounding it.

New Fabrics Can Be Used All Year Now

NEW YORK — Whatever the cause, our weather is changing. From coast to coast, people talk about the way the weather used to be before the advent of the atomic bomb or flying saucers or whatever.

• • •

Along with changing weather, we have changed our way of dressing. Fabrics (and clothes themselves) know no season now. In addition, travel is both cheaper and faster than it used to be and more of us, as a consequence, are traveling.

The role of wool in fashion, then, has become a year-round one, what with wool bathing suits and beach jackets, bulky sweaters, paper-thin wool knits, wool prints, pastel wools.

Wool jersey, wool lace and lightweight flannels are used for the sheath, a strong summer fashion for every hour of the day. Swimsuits in wool have a look of sheath slimness, higher necklines and wide-strapped camisole tops. The flannel swimsuit is new this year, keeping company with the knits, the pastels and black jerseys.

• • •

Summer sweaters can be bulky or lightweight. There are many striped sweater shirts, most of them cut long enough to cover a swimsuit. There are full-length knit coats, too, made on straight and narrow lines.

TWICE THE SPEED OF SOUND—A Convair-designed rocket sled starts its 10,000 foot run at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., to test the effect of rain erosion damage on aircraft and missiles at supersonic speeds. The two-unit, 800-pound sled, which is propelled by 12 rockets, attained a speed of 1,560 miles an hour, twice the speed of sound. This is a new world's speed record for recoverable sleds.

State Leukemia Boy Enjoys Visit to Chicago Zoo

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Mrs. Helen Eckman says her 7-year-old son Randy, a victim of leukemia, has perked up considerably since a visit to the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France.

Mrs. Eckman and Randy returned home yesterday after a two-day visit in Chicago. It was Randy's first trip since February when he and his mother went to the shrine in the hope of a miraculous recovery for the boy—pronounced incurable by physicians.

"He feels good and seems to be improving, and I really think he is improving," Mrs. Eckman said during the Chicago visit. "You'd never think Randy was suffering from an incurable disease," she said. "He's really run us ragged."

Randy saw the Lincoln Park Zoo, the Shedd Aquarium, the Adler Planetarium and the Museum of Science and Industry 8 sights he missed during stopovers here en route to and from France.

He also ate hamburgers, drank soda pop, rode a pony and a miniature train and patted a tame lion on the head and tugged at its tail at the zoo.

Park Named

DENVER (AP)—The City Council has named a new park for Mamie Doud Eisenhower, wife of the President. Denver is the home of Mrs. S. Doud, and has been a favorite vacation retreat for the President and the First Lady. The 20-acre park is in the center of a new development of family homes.

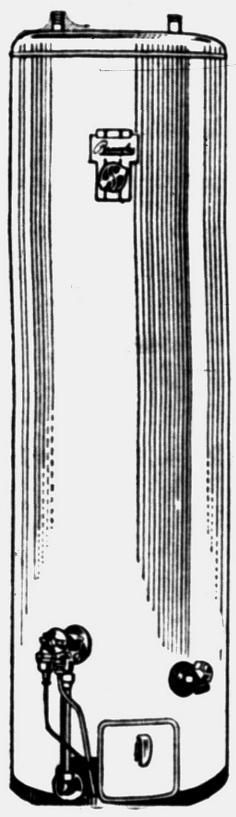

Lost Time Hits Low

Each worker who was out on strike in the nation during 1955 lost an average of 10.2 days, according to a report by Commerce Clearing House, a new low for any of the post-war years. The 10-year average loss amounts to 15.5 days.

A "SPOT" OF TEA — A cup of tea in the late afternoon or before bedtime has not gone out of style. It lifts the spirits, cheers the drinkers and provides a quiet interlude we all need in this busy world. Keep on hand a loaf of some quick bread or make quick baking powder biscuits for an interesting accompaniment.

Beef Is Still a Good Buy; Cornish Hens Featured

Strawberries capture the number one spot on the food list this week, with decreased pork prices and reasonably priced veal running a close second.

FRUITS—This is the best time to enjoy fresh Michigan strawberries, a good time to freeze or preserve some for wintertime enjoyment. According to reports from the Benton Harbor area, this week will be the peak in supply from western Michigan fields. Strawberries from the east side of the state are beginning to turn and a few will be harvested this week.

Since there is as much as a 15 per cent variation per quart, it will pay to be selective. Choose berries that are dry, free from dirt and decay, and a full red color.

For picnic time no dessert could be easier or more welcome than watermelon. A near peak supply is being shipped from Florida and Georgia with sizes ranging between 18 to 25 pounds. Both California and Arizona cantaloupe range from size 36 to 27 and are priced about 29 and 39 cents respectively.

* * *

There is a large supply of Bing cherries, and a smaller supply of peaches, plums and grapes at expected high prices for early summer use.

MEATS — Shoppers will likely find several pork cuts a few cents less per pound than last week. The rib end loin roast or a picnic will fit the economy-sized market list. Pork chops will be offered for a few pennies less, but they still remain high compared to many other meat cuts.

A large variety of cold cuts are reasonably marked for easy summer eating, according to Mrs. Josephine H. Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

Veal is very plentiful and low in cost compared to some other meats. Slightly heavier calves are coming to market. Shoppers will find about a twenty cent per pound difference in the top and lower grades in quality. Shoulder roasts or chops; sirloin and rump roasts; and leg of veal rate a place in most menu plans.

Three beef cuts score in the best-buy column: Chuck roast, ground meat, and standing rib roast. Ground beef made into ½ to 1-inch thick patties, or formed into 1½-inch balls and wrapped in bacon strips alternated with onions and mushrooms on a skewer fit well into outdoor meals.

VEGETABLES—Lettuce makes vegetable news with slightly lower prices. The large 24 size head lettuce is less than 20 cents in many stores. Corn-on-the-cob is a perfect food for outdoor eating. Roasted in the husks is a favorite way of cooking corn.

For a different way to cook corn try cleaned ears dotted with a pat of butter, wrapped in aluminum foil, and cooked in hot coals. Scarce supplies explain the continuing high prices of hothouse tomatoes and potatoes.

POULTRY—For more elegant summer entertaining, tiny one-pound cornish hens (all white meat) are featured in some stores. Small 4 to 8 pound broad breasted turkeys, ideal for roasting or frying, may be the shopper's choice. Broilers and fryers are still an economical buy, but several cents per pound more than last week.

EGGS—Due to warm weather, approximately 20 per cent of the eggs are Grade B quality. Homemakers will find them being sold at about 2 to 4 cents less per dozen than Grade A. Grade B eggs are easily used in custards, souffles, fondues, cakes, puddings and in recipes where eggs are combined with other foods. Large sizes are the best egg value in most stores.

Famous FLAKORN CORN MUFFIN MIX

Apple Bread Furnishes Ideal Tea Accompaniment

A good cup of tea will just about set you right if properly made. Basic requirements—a teapot, boiling water and 1 teaspoonful tea per cup.

* * *

A fruit tea bread keeps well and is handy to serve when friends or neighbors drop in unexpectedly.

The Apple Tea Bread is an old New England recipe that has been in one family for four generations. The idea for Honey Baking Powder Biscuits is a quickie you can use time and again.

Apple Tea Bread

¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup butter or margarine
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup cooking apples, chopped
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup chopped nuts

Cream sugar and shortening. Beat in eggs. Stir in chopped apples. Mix thoroughly.

Sift together dry ingredients. Stir in chopped nuts. Combine with creamed mixture. Mix thoroughly.

Pour into greased loaf pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 45 minutes, or until done. Makes one loaf.

Note: Fruit tea breads keep well for several days.

Honey Baking Powder Biscuits

2 cups flour
4 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup milk
Honey

Combine and sift dry ingredients twice. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until mixture resembles cornmeal.

Gradually stir in milk, with a fork, until a soft dough is formed or until all flour disappears. Turn out on floured board; knead lightly about one-half minute.

Pat out or roll dough to one-half-inch thickness. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Place on greased baking sheet.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 12-15 minutes. While still hot, with a knife, make a deep slit across top of each biscuit.

* * *

Pour in about one-fourth teaspoon honey. Insert half walnut or pecan in each. Makes about 14 biscuits.

Family'll Like This New Plate

Tired of the same old vegetables fixed in the usual way? Why not treat your family to baked kraut and tomatoes—a really delicious combination that will have them asking for seconds.

Baked Kraut and Tomatoes

1 No. 2 can sauerkraut
1 No. 303 can tomatoes, drained
1 cup grated processed Cheddar cheese (about ¼ pound)
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
4 slices rye toast, cubed
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Combine kraut, tomatoes, cheese, onion, sugar, oregano, salt and pepper; mix well. Arrange alternate layers of toast cubes and sauerkraut mixture in four greased individual casseroles or in a greased 1½ quart casserole.

Pour butter or margarine over ingredients in casserole. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated.

CEREAL FRUIT CRISP — Whole wheat flake crisp is quick and easy to make. It adds interest to meals in addition to valuable protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals and food energy. Ready-to-eat whole wheat flakes, corn flakes or bran flakes can be used in making the crumb topping.

Apple Crisp Adds Interest

For a quick and easy hot dessert make whole wheat flake apple crisp. A baked fruit crisp adds variety and is an ideal dessert.

The crumb topping for fruit crisp is just one use for versatile breakfast cereals. Many cooky, bread, pie crust, muffin, meat loaf, dessert, and candy recipes call for the use of hot or ready-to-eat cereals.

Breakfast cereals are excellent for ingredient use in recipes because they are inexpensive, add flavor and texture, and make important nutritional contributions of protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals and food energy.

Ready-to-eat whole wheat flakes, corn flakes or bran flakes can be used in making the crumb topping for the fruit crisp.

For the best possible flavor and texture plan to have the fruit crisp baked in time to allow just a short time (10-15 minutes) to cool before serving.

Apple Crisp

4 cups thinly sliced apples*
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup whole wheat flakes, bran flakes or corn flakes
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-3 cup melted butter or margarine

Arrange sliced fruit in baking dish. Sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice. Combine dry ingredients. Add melted butter. Blend until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle crumb mixture over fruit. Bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees; 30 minutes or until fruit is tender. Serve warm or cold with top milk, cream, or ice cream. Yield: 6 servings.

*Drained canned sliced peaches, or apricot halves may be substituted, if desired.

Patio Casserole Designed to Spur Faded Appetites

For summertime casual living and simple patio meals — your family will welcome tempting, nourishing hot foods as well as cold dishes.

Serve it with a crisp salad and cooling iced coffee for the quick meal your family will ask for again—indoors and outdoors

Patio Rice Casseroles

1½ cups (about 4 ounces) cut dried beef
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1⅔ cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk
¼ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons sliced green pepper
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1 cup cooked rice

Place dried beef in a strainer. Rinse with hot water. Drain well. Melt butter in a saucepan over medium heat. Add flour, salt and pepper. Stir until smooth. Gradually add evaporated milk.

Cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well.

Place about ¾ cup of rice mixture in 4 individual casseroles. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until bubbly. Serve immediately, oven 15 to 20 minutes or until cake clean. Makes 12 to 18 muffins. Serves four.

No-Trouble Way to Sandwich In Extra Guests

Outdoor eating is rapidly becoming a summer habit, and one that is looked forward to with pleasure. No wonder! It's so little work to provide the food, whether guests are expected or arrive on the spur of the moment.

Meals may be much less formal than usual as the pleasant outdoor surroundings invite gaiety and informality.

Easy to make sandwiches on yeast-raised bread and rolls make an admirable repast with assorted salads, olives, pickles and other finger foods and of course plenty of long cold drinks. Here's a new and easy way to make imposing-looking sandwiches to which guests can help themselves.

Select a variety of thinly sliced bread (it should all be the same shape however) and popular fillings such as ham, salami, Swiss cheese, cheddar cheese, chicken or corned beef. Spread the bread liberally with margarine or butter and alternate fillings and bread.

Pile them up to make 7 or 8-decker Tower Sandwiches and let guests help themselves to one, two or more layers as appetites dictate.

This type of menu will be as appropriate away from home as on the porch or in the backyard. Just wrap the sandwiches in aluminum foil or waxed paper to keep them fresh and carry the food in insulated or refrigerated containers.

There are many attractive plastic containers now on the market which have tight fitting covers that are ideal for carrying and serving the salads, relishes and desserts you'll need to fill out the meal.

CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICHES—It's a good time to rediscover the virtues of cheese for sandwiches. One of the all-time favorites among cheese sandwiches is the ham-and-cheese combination pictured above. Trim the bread slices for a perfect appearance. Use salad-style mustard on one slice of bread, salad dressing on the other. Use boiled or baked ham. Garnish with pickle slices, and olives.

Smooth as Silk Lemon Dessert Right in Style

"Did you really make it?"

You'll have a mighty affirmative answer to this question, if you'll try Frozen Lemon Cream, because it's so easy, yet a real taste winner.

The delicious fresh citrus flavor, plus velvety smoothness contributed by condensed milk, assure you that Frozen Lemon Cream will become an oft-used favorite in your recipe box.

It's right in style, too, since the flavor in fashion this year is Lemon Yellow.

Frozen Lemon Cream

2 eggs, separated
1 can (1⅓ cups) sweetened condensed milk
½ cup fresh lemon juice
¼ cup fresh orange juice
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
4 tablespoons sugar

Beat egg yolks until thick and yellow; add sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice and grated orange peel. Beat egg whites until frothy; add sugar gradually and continue beating until soft peaks form. Fold into lemon mixture; pour into 2 refrigerator trays and freeze. Garnish with orange slices. 6 to 8 servings.

Corn syrup is often called for in candy recipes because it helps prevent the formation of large crystals that interfere with smooth texture.

Chicken Any Day

Chicken every Sunday now can be changed to chicken any day, says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent. Better methods of breeding, feeding, processing and marketing have brought reasonably priced chicken to American tables any day of the year.

Salads, Desserts, Spreads Better With Pineapple

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you use fresh pineapple as often as we do at our house? Unless I keep some out of the dish when I fix it, there isn't any left for a second meal. We all dip in with our fingers.

Either pineapples are sweeter than they used to be, or we like less sugar. At any rate, I seldom add any sugar to a fresh pineapple. You must do what your family prefers, of course.

In the past year I have learned several interesting facts about fresh pineapples. Trained home economists were my source of information and I have no reason to doubt them.

There are male and female pineapples. If you want the sweetest, best tasting one, pick out a female pineapple. How can you tell, for heaven's sake? Have you ever noticed a pineapple with what seemed like miniature fruits growing around the top? That's a female pineapple and the one you want.

Just recently Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, told me that every pineapple, regardless of size, has the same number of eyes in it. That bit of information is of no great importance, but it's interesting.

Do you need some new ideas for ways to serve the Hawaiian fruit? First of all, here's a salad recipe that should be a help in hot weather. Add hot rolls and a dessert for a luncheon party.

Hawaiian Salad

1 12-ounce can luncheon meat, cut into thin strips
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 cup mayonnaise
2 cups shredded cabbage
2 cups coarsely diced celery
¼ cup minced green pepper
2 cups fresh cubed pineapple

Blend vinegar and horseradish with mayonnaise. Toss with remaining ingredients. Serve in lettuce-lined salad bowls. Yield: 6 servings.

* * *

Strawberries are now in season. They are an excellent fruit to combine with pineapple, not only for looks, but also for taste. Mix the two in this deliciously different shortcake recipe.

Strawberry Pineapple Shortcake Meringues

2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
1 cup fresh pineapple tidbits
2 cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
6 shortcake dainties
2 egg whites

Crush 1 cup of the strawberries. Combine remaining strawberries and pineapple. Sweeten with ⅔ cup sugar and chill.

Beat egg whites until they are frothy and form soft peaks; add salt. Fold in crushed berries and vanilla. Beat until thick adding remaining sugar gradually.

Arrange half of the shortcakes hollow side up. Fill generously with pineapple-strawberry mixture. Cover each with another shortcake, hollow side up. Top with high mounds of meringue; serves 3.

If you have a small amount of pineapple in the refrigerator, use it to dress up a meat dish. When you're frying ham or sausages, add drained pineapple pieces to the skillet just before the meat is done. Stir so that the fruit will brown quickly.

Heat leftover pineapple in melted mint jelly and serve with lamb chops or roast lamb. Or add pineapple pieces to any fish salad for an intriguing taste treat.

Although not made with fresh pineapple, here is a salad dressing that uses canned pineapple juice. It is good to serve on any fruit salad, preferably one made with fresh pineapple.

Fruit Cream Dressing

½ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup orange juice
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 eggs
Dash of salt
½ cup sugar
½ cup evaporated milk, whipped

To whip evaporated milk, chill it in refrigerator tray in freezing unit until fine crystals form at edges. Put into chilled mixing bowl and whip with rotary egg beater until stiff.

Combine pineapple, orange and lemon juices in top of double boiler and heat over boiling water. Beat eggs slightly; stir in salt and sugar.

Slowly stir a little of the hot fruit juices into beaten egg mixture; gradually add to remaining hot mixture, while stirring constantly. Cook two minutes longer over hot water, stirring constantly. Chill. Just before serving, fold in whipped evaporated milk or cream.

Our last recipe is for a sweet spread. You can serve it as a jam for toast or hot breads. You can use it as a cake filling. It goes well in sandwiches also.

Pineapple Apricot Spread

1 large pineapple
1 large orange
1 package (11 ounces) dried apricots
4 cups sugar
2 cups water

Pare pineapple and cut away "eyes" with a small sharp knife; slice. Wash and dry orange. Wash apricots in hot water and drain.

Put pineapple through fine blade of food grinder; there should be about 1 cup pulp and 1 cup juice; to measure turn pineapple and pulp into a strainer to drain. If there is not 1 cup juice, add water, orange juice or canned pineapple juice to make up that amount.

Put whole unpeeled orange through fine blade of food grinder. Put apricots through coarse blade of food grinder.

Turn pineapple pulp, pineapple juice, ground whole orange and apricots into a large kettle with sugar and 2 cups water. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves.

Cook rapidly, stirring about every 5 minutes to prevent scorching, until thickened—about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 pints. Store in refrigerator.

NOTE: This makes a spread that is not oversweet.

USING YOUR SPREAD

Add brandy flavoring to the spread and use as a filling for a layer of sponge cake. (Cut the cake in half crosswise with a serrated bread knife). Frost the cake with whipped cream sweetened with confectioners' sugar and flavored with vanilla; sprinkle with chopped toasted blanched almonds if desired.

Make sandwiches using the spread as a filling. Cut each sandwich into three strips. Dip strips in a French toast egg-and-milk mixture and fry in butter until golden brown. Serve at once; dust with a little confectioners' sugar.

Serve the spread with well-buttered toasted English muffins; it's just tart enough for this use.

Potatoes in Jackets Save More Vitamins

Steaming potatoes in their jackets will save more of the vitamins and minerals than any other form of preparation. Next in line is boiling . . . boiling in a minimum of water.

Mashing the boiled potatoes will entail some losses, but you still benefit from the nutrients if the mashed potatoes are served absolutely fresh from the range, not an hour, or a day later.

By baking the potato in its jacket, you're conserving most of the nutrients, but still not as much as steaming or boiling.

The worst damage to a potato's nutrient ego occurs in frying, and hash-browning left-overs. That's the story on preparation of potatoes. The next time you cook potatoes, compare your methods with these and see how you rate as a first-rate potato cook!

If you want party-style raw-vegetable appetizers to look and taste their best, serve them on a bed of crushed ice in a crystal bowl or on a glass serving plate.

Cheese and Noodles Have Italian Touch

This casserole is a relative of Italian Lasagne.

Italian-Style Cheese Casserole

8 ounces wide noodles
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
2 cups creamed cottage cheese
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup finely diced onion
½ pound processed American cheese (thinly sliced)
½ cup buttered bread crumbs
¼ cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese

Cook noodles according to package directions; drain and rinse. Mix tomato sauce, cottage cheese, basil, salt, Worcestershire sauce and onion. Arrange alternate layers of noodles, American cheese and sauce mixture in 2½-quart casserole.

Top with crumbs mixed with grated cheese. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until thoroughly hot — about 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Topping for Spice Cake

An easy topping for that spur-of-the-moment spice cake combines an 8 oz. can of apple sauce and a cup of dairy sour cream. Spoon the mixture over individual servings of cake, and sprinkle with brown sugar and chopped nuts.

Berry Freezing Time Has Come

FREEZING STRAWBERRIES — Mrs. Dan Bowers of Crooks road, Rochester (left) and Mrs. F. H. Williamson of Pontiac Lake road (center) watch Mrs. Mary Hixon, county Home Demonstration agent, as she prepares strawberries for freezing. Mrs. Hixon conducted a freezing clinic recently.

Oakland county homemakers had a chance recently to see the approved methods of freezing fruits and vegetables. Mrs. Mary Hixon, county home demonstration agent, conducted a 2-hour session for freezer owners and others interested in home freezing.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, consumer marketing information agent, reminds shoppers that this week is the expected peak in supply of strawberries from the west side of Michigan. Quality and price are in the consumer's favor now. Strawberries in this area are beginning to turn, so within this week and next, locally grown berries will be ready for picking.

Strawberries that have a full solid red color will have the best flavor. Check boxes when shopping and select strawberries that are dry, free of dirt and decay spots, and that have bright green stems attached.

At home, roll strawberries carefully from the box into a flat dish or pan. Pick out the slightly decayed or softened berries, cover with wax paper, and place in the refrigerator. Use as quickly as possible.

Prepare strawberries just before planning to serve them. Wash gently and quickly in a bowl of cold water. Lift the berries from the water and remove caps after the berries are clean and dry. This keeps the juice inside the berries.

When planning to freeze, choose the strawberry varieties recommended for Michigan. These include Premier, Dunlap, Catskill, Sparkle, and Gem. One crate of 16 quarts will yield 20 to 14 pints of frozen berries. Choose a moisture-vapor proof freezer container and fill, leaving ½ to 1 inch head space.

United States Department of Agriculture tests have shown that for fullest flavor in frozen strawberries, the best sweetening is dry (granulated) sugar mixed thoroughly with the fruit. But for appearance—that is, for holding shape or texture of whole berries, packing in syrup has the advantage and is less likely to bruise the delicate fruit.

Because syrup contains water, it dilutes strawberry flavor more than dry sugar. In the test, 1 part sugar to 4 parts by weight of halved strawberries rated best flavor, but next best was 40 per cent sugar syrup or a syrup mixture of 1 part light corn syrup to 3 parts sugar syrup.

Readers wishing a copy of the Michigan State University Bulletin, "Freezing for Michigan Homes," may write or call Mrs. Lawyer at 1260 West Blvd., Pontiac.

CHOCOLATE MILK DRINKS — Chocolate milk forms the base of these four delicious beverages. Take your pick of a chocolate milk pear, banana, root beer or licorice drink. Let the youngsters make their own and they'll be apt to consume more milk than ever. You won't complain about that.

Let Frozen Chicken Thaw While Cooking

The new fast way to cook frozen chicken is to place the chicken right in the frying pan . . . without thawing; then apply heat.

Here is the recipe: Place contents of 1 package (1 - pound size) frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks or wings in skillet with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted. Sprinkle with ¼ teaspoon salt. Cover tightly and cook over low heat about 30 minutes.

Turn chicken, cover, and continue to cook for 30 minutes more or until chicken is tender. Remove lid during last 5 minutes to evaporate excess moisture. 2 to 3 servings.

Combine Lettuce, Bacon

The flavors of crisp lettuce and bacon seem to be made for each other. For a delicious change pour about 3 tablespoons of hot bacon drippings spiked with a tablespoon of fresh lemon juice over a head of sliced lettuce. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Toss together and garnish with crumbled bacon.

Your brown sugar lumpy? Sieve it before measuring when you are baking cakes or cookies.

Give 'em Sodas Made With Milk

No question about it, children just love "sodas."

It's a wise mother who lets her youngsters drink as many as they want—the homemade variety, that is.

The trick lies in making the sodas from a nutritious chocolate milk base. They're easily and quickly done if you keep a bottle or container of chocolate milk on hand in the refrigerator at all times.

• • •

Chocolate Milk Pear Foam

1 No. 303 can pears, drained
1 quart chocolate milk
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine pears and chocolate milk; beat until foamy. Fold in cream. Garnish with pear segment and maraschino cherry, as desired. Makes 4 servings.

Chocolate Milk Root Beer Soda

1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 quart chocolate milk
1 12-ounce bottle root-beer

Put scoops of ice cream in tall glasses. Fill ¾ full with chocolate milk. Fill glasses with root beer. Makes 6 servings.

• • •

Chocolate Milk-Banana Double Float

2 medium-sized bananas, mashed
1 quart chocolate milk
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 small banana, cut in sixths
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine mashed bananas and chocolate milk; blend. Place two small scoops of ice cream in glasses. Fill glasses with chocolate milk mixture. Brush banana with lemon juice. Garnish with cream and banana. Makes 6 servings.

Licorice Chocolate Milk

1 quart chocolate milk
2 teaspoons anise seed

Heat milk to boiling point. Add anise seed and cook over low heat 3 to 5 minutes; chill. Strain and serve. Garnish with licorice stick straw, as desired. Makes 4-6 servings.

Homemade Frosting Tops Package Cake

Cake from a package and a homemade frosting!

Black and White Cake

1 package white cake mix
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 to 2 tablespoons light cream

Use a cake mix that can be baked in a 9 by 9 by 1¾ inches cake pan; bake according to package directions; turn out and cool on rack.

Melt chocolate and butter over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat. Add vanilla, sugar and salt. Stir until blended. Add cream, a teaspoon at a time, until frosting is right spreading consistency. Spread over top of cooled cake.

Add pure vanilla extract and sugar to taste to sour cream and serve over fresh strawberries for a real taste treat.

Easy Ham Balls Different, Zesty

Meat balls . . . quick and easy — that's ham balls with sour cream.

• • •

It's a perfect way to use the last of your baked smoked ham and a sure way to culinary fame.

Ham Balls With Sour Cream

½ cup lard or drippings
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
3 cups ground cooked ham
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon horseradish
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, well beaten
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup water
1 cup sour cream
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Cook onion and green pepper in lard until lightly browned. Remove onion and green pepper. Save drippings for browning the ham balls.

Mix together onion, green pepper, ham, bread crumbs, horseradish, pepper and eggs. Shape into small balls about the size of a walnut. Brown balls on all sides in hot drippings.

Remove balls to a hot platter or serving dish. Pour off drippings, reserving 2 tablespoons for gravy. Add flour to drippings and stir well. Add water and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Stir in sour cream and salt and cook until heated through.

Pour gravy over the ham balls and sprinkle with parsley. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

JUNE SALAD DRAMA — Creamy cottage cheese is the perfect foil for any combination of fresh or canned fruit in a dramatic salad plate. The greater the variety of fruit, the more colorful the salad appears. Here strawberries and grapes add seasonal touches to a beautiful fruit and cheese salad.

Beauty, Drama in Salad Choice

A garland of fruits—and a heaping bowl of cottage cheese! This is drama, pure and simple, for any table and any group of guests.

For all its simplicity, the service of summer's choice fruits and berries with snowy cottage cheese makes an appeal to the most sophisticated of tastes. The very color and taste of summer are here, spread forth for the selective taste of the most discriminating.

And climax of the whole engaging summer drama is that the combination of cottage cheese and fruits is so wonderful for weight watchers. (Since watching weight is the great national past-time, this includes most all of us!)

As all efficient calorie-counters know, cottage cheese is a perfect treasure house of balanced nutrients—high quality protein, important milk minerals—easily digested and happily low in calories. Just half a cup provides more than a fourth of the protein recommended daily for the diet of vigorous adults. Seldom is so much nutrient virtue contained in so charming a package—for most everyone loves the milk-mild, subtly characterful goodness of cottage cheese.

Fruits—any and all of them—provide vitamins, important bulk and natural fruit sugar in a form that everyone finds irresistible. Low in calories, too, the colorful varieties of fruits available everywhere in the marketplace now invite all dieters to enjoy themselves without fearing unwelcome pounds.

The combination of fruits with cottage cheese may be arranged with as much variety and charm as any flower arrangement.

Use your favorite chop plate or tray. Surround a heaping center bowlful of cottage cheese with fresh berries, any fruits in season, or canned fruits which are in season the year round on your pantry shelf. The greater the variety of fruits, the gayer and more colorful the plate.

Arrange like fruits or berries together, or alternate shapes and sizes and colors to suit your most poetic fancy. The combination is bound to please the eye and tempt the palate as it makes an important contribution to sensible dining.

Bake Tit-Tat-Toe Cake to Delight Youngsters

For a special treat, make your youngsters a Tit-Tat-Toe Cake. Use a cake mix, if you like, for the base, baking the batter in two round eight-inch layer pans. When the cake is cool fill and frost it with a fluffy white icing.

Then make a tit-tat-toe design on top of the cake, using long gumdrops of one color, cut in halves lengthwise to make each line. Make the "X's" with long gumdrops of different colors, cut in halves lengthwise and crosswise. Use round gumdrop rings to make the "O's."

Good partners for smoked tongue: Mustard mixed with currant jelly and chili sauce mixed with horseradish.

Applesauce Tops Luncheon Meat for Dinner Menu

Canned luncheon meat can be a dinner treat—even if your husband is an ex-GI.

It sounds good—baked luncheon meat with a topping of spicy applesauce—and it tastes wonderful.

This economical recipe is easy to prepare. It won't be long after you place this attractive dish on your dinner table before you'll get requests from your family for second helpings.

Baked Luncheon Meat (with Spicy Applesauce)

2 12-ounce cans of luncheon meat
Cloves
½ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 20-ounce can applesauce

Place two cans of luncheon meat together to form a loaf in a shallow baking pan. Score top of the loaves as you would baked ham, and stud with cloves.

For the fruit topping: Combine brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg and vinegar. Add can of applesauce.

Place ¾ cup of the applesauce mixture over scored meat loaf and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. Serve meat slices with an additional helping of the spicy sauce. Yield: Eight servings.

Creamed Beef, Peas Over Snowy Potatoes

Dried beef, creamed with bright green peas and new potatoes, is just bound to be more nutritious than when it stands alone. This is one way to turn ¼ pound beef into a dinner worth sitting down to!

Pour hot water over 4 ounces, thinly sliced, dried beef to remove excess salt. Drain and shred. Brownbeef and ¼ cup chopped onion in 2 tablespoons buter or margarine. Stir in 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of celery soup and ½ cup milk. Mix in ½ cup unsalted cooked green peas, drained.

Heat; pour over 1 pound new potatoes, cooked in unsalted water. Makes 4 generous servings.

Keep your baking powder can tightly covered or there will be a gradual loss of leavening strength caused by the action of air moisture on the baking powder ingredients.

Deviled Crab Meat Served Bubbling Hot

Easy way to prepare crabmeat.

Deviled Crab Meat

1 can (6½ ounces) king crab meat
2 teaspoons finely grated onion (juice and pulp)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons finely diced green pepper
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup (undiluted)

Turn crab meat into a strainer to drain. Mix grated onion, lemon juice and mustard together in a bowl. Remove any cartilage from crab meat and add, flaking any large pieces.

* * *

Mix in green pepper and undiluted celery soup. Spoon into 5 individual baking shells. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) or hot (400 degrees) oven until hot and bubbly — 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 5 small servings.

Like the flavor of curry powder? Then add a little to the salt and pepper you use when cooking pot roast. A dash of sugar may also be added with the curry powder — makes for good browning as well as flavor.

Wrapped Food Makes Fun for Porch Picnic

Youngsters get a kick out of wrapped sandwiches even when the picnic is on the porch.

Wrap sticks of celery and carrot in sturdy foil; tie a wide blade of grass around each packet just for fun. For a well-rounded lunch, include plenty of milk, cookies, fruit.

Take along extra spoons and let the small ones enjoy strained peaches or junior apricot-applesauce right from the container. What could be easier?

As for sandwiches, why not utilize the few tablespoons of fruit which remained from baby's dinner serving. Carry crisp, washed sandwich greens and/or olives in a separate packet.

Peanut Butter Special

¼ cup cottage cheese
¼ cup any strained fruit
2 tablespoons peanut butter

Mash cottage cheese or put through a coarse sieve. Blend well with strained fruit and peanut butter. Spread on bread or toast. Good in cut-out sandwiches, too. Makes about 2/3 cup.

Improves Applesauce

Grated lemon or orange rind—or both — can do wonders for canned applesauce. Add the citrus rind, too, when you are preparing the applesauce at home; stir it in, after cooking the apples, when you add the sugar.

Principal industry of Nevada is the raising of livestock.

Here comes "The Trickster" again to give you another crack at some big money! "The Trickster" is JOY'S exciting new kind of crossword puzzle. It's simple. Great fun. And worth a cool $32,000 to you if you get the right solution.

Most of the puzzle, as you can see, is filled in already. All you do is figure out the missing letters from the clues. But look out! "The Trickster" is clever. Take 26, Down, for instance. The clue is, "It's generally hard for anyone to TRA—E stolen property." Should it be "trade"? "Trace"? Or does some other word fit the clue better?

Only one word is right in each case. The fun is in figuring it out. Got your thinking cap on? Then read the rules carefully and get going. You may be the one to walk off with the $32,000 cash!

EASY RULES FOR WINNING

1. PRINT clearly in the puzzle the letters you think will form words that best fit the clues. After you have filled in the puzzle, PRINT your name and address clearly on the entry blank. Be sure also to print the first letter of your last name in the box provided. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight August 6, 1956, and must be received no later than August 20, 1956. Mail all entries to: "The Trickster", Box 91, Cincinnati 1, Ohio.

2. You may submit as many solutions to this puzzle as you desire, using official entry blanks. With each entry send a boxtop from any size bottle of JOY (if you have one) or a facsimile copied from any source—OR enclose a separate sheet of paper on which you have copied the number from the bottom of any size JOY can, which now may be seen at your store. In this ad are pictures of the New Milder JOY bottle carton and can.

3. Carefully study the clues before writing your answers. The right solution requires the most appropriate and suitable word in each blank. The judges will determine which word is the most appropriate and suitable to the clue in each case. The judges have been appointed by Procter & Gamble to consider all entries and select the prize winner. Decisions of the judges are final.

4. Procter & Gamble will pay $32,000 for the right solution to this puzzle. If no correct solution is received, the most nearly correct solution, based on the number of correct words, will be the winner. One prize will be awarded.

In the event of ties, a separate "Trickster" puzzle and sentence for completion, "Joy makes dishwashing almost nice because . . . (25 words or less) . . .", will be mailed to those who have tied. No JOY boxtop or can number will be required with a tie-breaking entry. Entries in the tie-breaking contest will be judged on the basis of the puzzle. In the event of ties, the prize money will be paid to the tying entrant whose sentence for completion is judged most apt, original and sincere.

5. Entries limited to residents of the continental United States (including Alaska) and Hawaii, except employees of Procter & Gamble, its advertising agencies, and their families. Government regulations apply.

6. All entries become unqualifiedly the property of Procter & Gamble for any and all purposes. No entries returned. Except for incidental, uncompensated help from family and friends, entries must be wholly the work of the person in whose name the entry is submitted, and will be disqualified for outside professional or compensated help. Mechanically reproduced facsimiles or numbers are ineligible. The winner or tying entrants will be notified by mail about 8 weeks after all entries are received.

CLUES ON JOY TO HELP YOU WIN

Procter & Gamble's new JOY is the liquid that makes dishwashing—no, not fun—but almost nice. Takes the greasy smell and look and feel out of dishwater. Gets the job over quick, leaves your dishes sparkling clean. And it's milder than any other leading liquid—gentle to your hands. JOY saves you money, too. Penny for penny it does more dishes than anything else. Just one capful makes nice-smelling suds billow up. You try it. Get JOY today in the nice new can or the gay bottle.

Steak, Cutlets or Hamburg Suitable for Pan Frying

Cooking tender cuts of meat in a skillet in a small amount of fat is called pan frying. It is recommended particularly for thinly cut steaks because, when pan fried, the outside of the thin steak can be crisply browned while the center remains rare and juicy.

Liver, veal cutlet and hamburger can be pan fried, also. A quick browning on both sides plus a few minutes additional cooking does these meats to a turn. The small amount of fat used prevents sticking and aids in the browning.

Hamburger often has enough fat of its own, so additional fat may be omitted. (The method is then called pan broiling.)

Country-Fried Steak

Have steak cut ½-inch thick. Preheat heavy skillet or griddle. Add three tablespoons butter or margarine. As soon as butter is melted, add steak and brown quickly on both sides.

Do not cover pan. Reduce heat and cook slowly to desired degree of doneness; rare, medium or well done. Season before serving. Add small amount of water to pan drippings for gravy.

Hamburger Special

1½ pounds ground beef
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons water
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine meat and monosodium glutamate and form into one large cake. Preheat heavy skillet; do not add fat. Place meat in skillet and brown quickly on both sides. Do not cover pan.

* * *

Reduce heat and cook slowly to desired degree of doneness. Transfer to hot platter and slash top of meat in three places.

Combine remaining ingredients in saucepan or skillet; mix until smooth. Place over heat and stir until butter is melted. Pour over meat.

Peppers With Steak

For a good steak accompaniment serve broiled green peppers. Cut the peppers into quarters, having first removed membranes and seeds, dot with butter and put under the broiler a few minutes before the steak, or hamburger, is ready to be taken out.

Hors D'Oeuvres of Lettuce, Fish

We usually use head, or iceberg, lettuce for its crisp texture and color in salads. It is easily the most generally used of all cold salad ingredients and incidentally, second only to tomatoes as our most valuable truck crop.

* * *

Another interesting lettuce idea calls for using it as an hors d'oeuvre. Hearts of lettuce can be used as cups and stuffed with a seafood mixture. Each heart is then served as an hors d'oeuvre.

Seafood Stuffed Lettuce

Hors D'Oeuvre

½ cup shredded crab meat, shrimp, lobster or tuna fish
3 tablespoons minced celery
2 hard cooked eggs
1 tablespoon chili sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons shredded lettuce
20 small hearts of lettuce cups
Parsley for garnish

Combine first 9 ingredients. Pile lightly into small hearts of lettuce cups. Garnish with a sprig of fresh parsley. Arrange on an hors d'oeuvre tray. Yield: 20 servings.

Serve as an appetizer with fresh vegetable juice or cocktails.

Punch Bowl Easy to Copy

The basket punch bowl pictured above can be easily copied. Use any inexpensive basket of any shape or size and simply put the nearest sized bowl or container you have handy in the basket. If there are any gaps of space between your basket and the rim of the bowl, fill them in with fresh flowers or colorful crepe paper.

Youngsters or adults will equally enjoy tropical punch which is one of the new non-frozen concentrated fruit juice beverages which require no thawing, no mess or fuss.

Open a six-ounce can, mix with four cans of water and you have a full quart of deliciously flavorful fruit punch. Add ice cubes. For a festive touch float thinly sliced bananas, strawberries or lemons on the top.

Buying Watermelons? Follow This Suggestion

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent says a velvety appearance of bloom on the surface of the rind and a yellowish color on the underside are the best guides when selecting watermelon. Any discoloration or softening of the stem indicates decay, and at the blossom end decay appears as a flattened, dry leathery spot about the size of a silver dollar.

The old method of thumping a watermelon may help separate the ripe melons from the unripe, but is it not reliable when judging melons that are dead ripe with those that are over-ripe.

Turkey Teenies for Buffet Affair

Turkey Teenies are irresistible dainties for an anniversary buffet. You will delight in seeing your guests enjoy them while musing the tender memories of your wedding day.

The Turkey Teenies are delectable three-bite morsels. They're made with chopped cooked turkey meat blended with just enough peppy barbecue sauce to hold the meat together, and small homemade or bakery rolls of the Parker House variety. One Turkey Teenie will meet small appetities; heartier appetites will relish two or three.

TURKEY TEENIES

Sauce

1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon sugar
½ clove garlic or ⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
1 cup catsup
1 medium onion, finely chopped
½ cup water
½ cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup butter or margarine

* * *

2 cups cooked, chopped turkey
8 dozen miniature soft rolls

Blend sauce ingredients and bring to a boil. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until thick. Add turkey. Continue cooking over low heat, 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, to blend and heat thoroughly. Cool about 15 minutes before filling rolls.

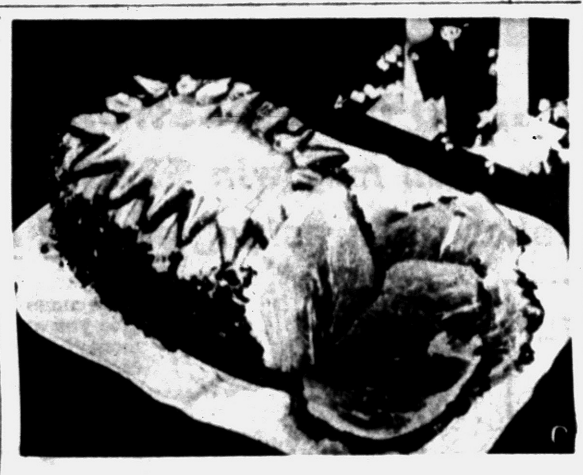

Split rolls almost in half, horizontally. Place one level tablespoon turkey filling in each roll. Makes about 60 Turkey Teenies.

Honey on Pancakes

Some Sunday soon when you're having pancakes, waffles, or French toast for a Sunday Brunch, make this Orange Honey Butter to serve with them — it's something they'll rave about. Just blend together ½ cup butter, 1½ teaspoons finely grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons orange juice and ½ cup honey. Cook for a few minutes over moderate heat.

Tomato Salad Treat

The spring's easiest tomato salad is made with one envelope of unflavored gelatin softened in ½ cup vegetable juice cocktail, then stirred into one cup of hot vegetable juice cocktail . . . a 12-ounce can in all. No other seasoning is needed. Pour into molds or a loaf pan and chill until set. Serve on bed of lettuce leaves.

JELLIED CANNED HAM — This beautiful platter of ham will grace any festive table, be it to honor the graduate, the bride, or just your favorite guests. Lemon-flavored gelatine forms a smooth glaze on the meat. Halved strawberries and chopped parsley add decorative touches.

Jellied Canned Ham Tops Any Home Festive Table

Here's a party suggestion for June or any other month of the year.

A 5-pound canned ham may be cut into 20 generous or 30 thinner slices. The pictured Jellied Ham may be prepared a day or so ahead of service time and kept in the refrigerator.

First, brush the jelly and juices off the ham, then slice into uniform portions. Tie a string around the ham to hold the slices in place. Set it, fat side up, on a wire rack over a tray.

Pour cooled, lemon-flavored gelatin over the cold ham to form a smooth glaze. (Follow directions on a package of lemon gelatin. Let cool until the consistency of cream.)

Press halves of strawberries into gelatin glaze to give a decorative touch.

Then press chopped parsley against the sides to cover rough spots. Chill.

At service time, place ham on a platter and remove the string holding the slices in shape. The clear gelatin topping makes it easy for the host or the guests to see the slices when serving.

Canned hams vary in weight from the 1 to 2-pound part hams up to large 12 to 13-pound hams. The 3 to 6¼-pound ones are popular for home service. Note that canned hams over 3 pounds must be kept in the refrigerator.

Canned hams are a true convenience-quality meat, excellent served as taken from the can or heated, sliced or unsliced.

An elegant trick you can borrow from expensive restaurants is to dip lemon slices or wedges in paprika. They make an effective garnish for fish, asparagus or new potatoes.

HOT SANDWICHES — Serve hot sandwiches right from your outdoor fireplace, if you want to this summer. All the sandwiches in the above picture can be made ahead of time and wrapped in foil. Heat them over the coals when you're ready to eat. Be sure to use long tongs to prevent burned fingers.

5 New Sandwich Treats to Serve Hot Off the Fire

Sandwiches are always welcome fare for summer meals. But when they are served piping hot right from the oven or backyard fire they're special.

Be sure to take advantage of the many varieties of yeast-raised breads you find at the bakery or supermarket—white, whole wheat, protein, rye and others, and the interesting selection of rolls, too.

To make all the sandwiches below, make them ahead of time—even a day ahead — and wrap them tightly in foil. Then just before serving bake them in the oven at 375 degrees about 15 minutes, to heat them through.

If you have an outdoor fire going it's fun to heat them right over the coals. Be sure to have long tongs to keep from burning fingers when retrieving the sandwiches from the fire.

Spicy Corned Beef Hash Sandwich

¾ cup corned beef hash
1 tablespoon catchup
1 tablespoon pickle relish
2 teaspoons minced onion
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
4 slices cheese

Combine corned beef hash with catchup, pickle relish, onion and prepared mustard. Spread between buttered slices of enriched bread or rolls; top with cheese. Makes 4 sandwiches.

* * *

Salami-Cheese in the Loaf

1 loaf unsliced Italian, French or Rye bread
Sliced salami
Sliced Cheddar cheese
Sliced onions

Slash bread into diagonal slices almost through to the bottom crust. Spread cut surfaces of bread with butter mixed with a little mustard. Then insert slices of salami, cheese and onion into each.

Tangy Egg and Cheese Sandwich

1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
¼ lb. Cheddar cheese, grated
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons cream
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients and stir until well blended. Use to fill 4 sandwiches.

Swiss Chicken Sandwich

4-8 slices of chicken
4 slices Swiss cheese
3 tablespoons picallilli

Arrange slices of chicken, Swiss cheese and picallilli between slices of buttered enriched bread or rolls to make 4 sandwiches.

* * *

Deviled Burger Sandwich

½ lb. ground beef chuck
3 tablespoons chili sauce
¾ teaspoon prepared mustard
¾ teaspoon horseradish
¾ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

Cook beef chuck in skillet, breaking it up with a fork, until cooked. Drain excess fat. Stir in remaining ingredients. Spoon between buttered enriched bread or hamburger buns to make 4 sandwiches.

Cut Biscuits 'Clean'

Cutting out biscuits? Be sure to flour the cutter each time you use it. And don't twist the cutter if you want your biscuits to look their best; use the cutter "straight on" and pull it straight up when you remove it.

CARAWAY CHEESE ROLLS — The one hot dish in a summer meal might well be these flavorful Caraway Cheese Rolls. They are of the "no-knead" variety which will appeal to many of our readers who are afraid of kneading bread. Evaporated milk and sharp cheddar cheese both add goodness to these golden brown rolls.

Too Tempting to Pass Up Caraway Cheese Rolls

Hot rolls can add the extra touch that makes any meal special. And these caraway cheese rolls would make any meal extra special. Flecked with flavorful little caraway seeds and golden with Cheddar cheese they're just too tempting to pass up.

These rolls are of the "no-knead" variety, so they should appeal especially to those who are a little cautious about making kneaded rolls and bread.

The dough is allowed to rise, then simply beaten again and spooned into muffin pans to rise a second time. The rolls bake to a beautiful golden brown in just about fifteen minutes.

Two members of the fine family of dairy foods are used in these caraway cheese rolls — evaporated milk and sharp cheddar cheese. The ease and convenience of using evaporated milk which is concentrated to double richness and the fine flavor of the cheese make these two ingredients invaluable.

Serve the rolls hot and with lots of butter. One recipe makes twenty rolls which will probably disappear before they get so much as a chance to cool off.

Caraway Cheese Rolls

½ cup boiling water
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup evaporated milk
1 package dry granular yeast
¼ cup warm water (not hot)
2 eggs, beaten
3½ cups sifted flour
1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
2 teaspons caraway seeds

Pour boiling water over salt, sugar and shortening in a medium size mixing bowl. Stir until shortening is melted. Add milk. Dissolve yeast in warm water, then add to first mixture. Stir in the beaten eggs.

Beat in half the flour. Add remainder of flour and beat until smooth. Let dough rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1-½ hours. Add cheese and caraway seeds to dough and beat again.

Spoon dough into well greased muffin pans. Let dough rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees) until rolls are golden brown, about 15 minutes. Makes 20 rolls.

Avocado Enriches Pale Green Salad

This molded salad is a pretty pale green color.

Molded Avocado Salad

¼ cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup very hot water
1 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon finely grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper
1½ cups sieved avocado
6 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salad greens
Orange and grapefruit sections

Pour cold water into medium sized mixing bowl; sprinkle gelatin over water; let stand for 5 to 10 minutes to soften. Add very hot water; stir until gelatin dissolves.

Stir in lemon juice, onion, salt and pepper, then avocado and mayonnaise.

Turn into 6 or 7 individual molds (each holding about ½ cup); chill. Unmold. Serve on crisp greens with orange and grapefruit sections. Pass salad dressing if desired. Makes 6 to 7 servings.

Tangy Meat-Noodle Dish

Serve canned meat balls and gravy over caraway-seasoned noodles. Cook the noodles as usual and season with a big pat of butter and a generous pinch of caraway seeds. Arrange on a heated platter and cover with hot meat balls and gravy.

Fill sponge cup cakes with apple sauce; sprinkle with chopped nuts. Top each with a generous spoonful of whipped cream.

Satisfying Noodles Baked With Cheese

Nice and nutritious, too!

Baked Noodles

6 ounces (1½ cups) fine broken noodles
1½ cups milk (scalded)
1 cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup coarsely grated sharp cheddar cheese (packed down)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon minced onion
3 eggs (slightly beaten)

Cook noodles in 2 quarts boiling water 5 minutes; drain. Mix milk, bread crumbs, grated cheese, butter, salt and minced onion; stir into slightly beaten eggs. Add noodles and mix well.

Turn into 1½-quart baking dish. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

Try Broiled Tomatoes With Herb Butter Dish

If you like to enchant guests with interesting buttery things to eat, here's something to try next time you entertain — Broiled Tomatoes with Herb Butter. Take 4 firm, ripe unpeeled tomatoes and cut into thick slices.

* * *

To ½ cup softened butter blend in 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon savory, 1 teaspoon thyme, ½ teaspoon tarragon, salt and pepper to taste. Spread tomato slices generously with the herb butter. Broil under moderate heat for 10 minutes or until tender.

Celery Seed Toast

Butter slices of bread; cut each slice into six equal strips and sprinkle with celery seed. Bake in a moderate oven until crisp. Nice to serve with soup or salad.

STRAWBERRY BUTTERMILK SHERBET — Serve this petal-pink dessert in wedges like pie. Top with several whole perfect berries. Buttermilk gives fruit a distinctive flavor and cuts the number of calories in the dessert. Try this at your next luncheon.

Berry Sherbet Piquant Dessert

Completely feminine in appearance—dainty pink with pieces of bright red strawberries peeking out—best describes this tempting sherbet.

It is made with buttermilk which gives it a very distinctive flavor. Buttermilk combines well with fruits to add a piquant flavor that makes a refreshing treat.

Buttermilk is produced from skim or partially skim milk, which means it is low in calories.

For the calorie conscious, buttermilk sherbet should be of interest for it containes less calories than many other desserts and yet tastes just as good.

Also, it's quick and easy to make. If you put it in a refrigerator tray to freeze, cut it in wedge-shaped pieces to simulate a pie.

For garnish top with several strawberry halves. With an interesting dish to frame it, you can have a deluxe dessert that isn't hard on the budget or calorie counter.

Strawberry Buttermilk Sherbet

1 package frozen strawberries or
1 pint fresh berries
½ cup liquid drained from berries
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1½ cups buttermilk
½ cup liquid drained from berries
½ cup sugar
½ cup strawberries, well drained
Whole strawberries for garnish

Drain frozen strawberries or slice the washed, fresh berries and sweeten to taste. Let fresh berries stand at room temperature for 1 hour after adding sugar. Then crush and drain.

Soften gelatin in the 1-3 cup strawberry liquid. Dissolve over hot water. Add to buttermilk along with the ½ cup strawberry liquid, sugar and lemon juice.

Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until mushy. Remove to mixing bowl and beat until smooth. Fold in crushed berries. Return to refrigerator tray and freeze until firm. Serve garnished with whole strawberries. Serves 6.

2 tablespoons lemon juice

Pep Up Your Cole Slaw

For cole slaw with a fascinating and subtle touch of garlic mix three cups of finely cut cabbage with this easy "shake up" dressing.

Measure ¼ cup salad oil, ¼ cup evaporated milk, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 small clove garlic, ¾ teaspoon salt and 1-16 teaspoon pepper into a half pint jar. Cover tightly, shake vigorously for about a minute and then chill. Don't forget to remove the garlic clove before using! Makes 4 servings.

So many toppings to choose from when you are making Pizza! Choose from these. Mushrooms, anchovies, salami, cooked pork sausage.

SAVORY FLANK STEAK — This rich and flavorful flank steak was braised in consomme to which a grated fresh carrot was added. Accompaniments include green peas with onions and fluffy whipped potatoes. During the hot days cook this on top of the stove or in your electric skillet. Then your kitchen will stay cooler.

Try Savory Flank Steak Simmered in Consomme

Give the family a treat by serving flank steak—not stuffed and rolled as usual — but left "steak style" and cooked to juicy tenderness in a vegetable sauce.

* * *

The diagonally scored steak that's all meat and no waste make a handsome addition to the family dinner table and best of all it's a thrifty meat, well-known as a budget stretcher.

For a menu featuring savory flank steak, include fluffy whipped potatoes on which to serve the rich gravy, and tender green peas with pearl onions.

Add a salad of tomato and crisp cucumber slices on lettuce, and for dessert, serve a simple cornstarch pudding with fresh rhubarb and strawberry sauce. Crusty water rolls and coffee, tea or milk could complete the menu.

* * *

Flank steak is a lean, fan-shaped muscle with no bone. The meat fibers run lengthwise, and therefore the meat is often scored before cooking, so that the cooked steak is fork-tender when served. (To "score" flank steak, make light cuts across the grain ¼ to ½ inch apart.)

Braising is the recommended cooking method for flank steak—whether it is stuffed and rolled or cooked "steak style."

In this recipe for savory flank steak, carrots and consomme are added to the flour-dredged meat after it has been well browned in fat.

Savory Flank Steak

1 flank steak, 1½ to 2 pounds
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Flour
2 tablespoons fat
1 can (1¼ cups) consomme or 1¼ cups bouillon
½ cup grated carrot

Have steak scored into diamond shapes. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper, then dredge in flour. Brown on both sides in hot fat, using a large, heavy skillet. Add consomme or bouillon and carrot, cover pan, and cook slowly on top of the range or in a 325 degree oven until meat is tender, about 2 hours.

Remove steak to warmed serving platter and thicken drippings, if necessary, with a flour and water paste. Pour gravy over steak and serve. Cut steak diagonally across length of meat to serve. 4 servings.

Did you know? There's no stickiness or gumminess in your food chopper blades if you put a few slices of lemon through the chopper before grinding fruit.

Nuts Enhance Maple Topping

Remember the old-fashioned maple nut sundaes? The walnuts were in a rich maple sauce . . . and we watched eagerly, and hopefully, to see if the "man behind the counter" would give us an extra spoonful of the delicious stuff.

Nowadays, with ice cream in the home freezer, we can help ourselves to wonderful maple nut sundaes — and a pitcher of this homemade maple sauce with the old-fashioned soda fountain flavor provides a wonderful "pour-on."

Good idea: Keep the pitcher filled at all times, too!

Maple Nut Sundae Sauce

4 tablespoons butter
½ cup chopped nut meats
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup maple-blended syrup

Melt butter in small saucepan. Add nuts and saute over low heat until nuts are lightly browned. Add cornstarch and salt and blend. Add syrup and cook over low heat 2 to 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve warm on ice cream or pudding. Makes 1½ cups sauce.

Peas Always Good

As welcome as the first violets are the garden-fresh vegetables. And take peas—to enhance their flavor, add butter to the bright green cooked peas. For about 2 cups cooked peas add ¼ cup butter. And to the buttered peas you might add one of these for a taste treat—½ cup thinly sliced water chestnuts or 2 tablespoons drained pickled onions or 1-3 cup toasted, slivered almonds.

the SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

SHRIMP KABOBS are good indoors or on the outdoor grill—take your choice. For best results you need the very large shrimp, cleaned and boiled with mixed pickling spices not more than five minutes. For four good appetites use:

24 very large shrimp
Sliced bacon cut in 1-inch pieces
Green pepper cut in 1-inch squares
Fresh mushrooms about 1-inch in diameter.

If you are to serve four, you'll need 48 pieces of bacon, 28 mushrooms, 20 pieces of green pepper if you arrange your skewers as we do, i. e., start with a mushroom, then bacon, shrimp, bacon, pepper, mushroom, bacon, shrimp, in that order, ending each skewer with bacon and a mushroom.

We precook the mushrooms until about half done, and ditto with the bacon pieces, then arrange per the above floor plan. Paint with butter and start either on coals or under the broiler. Paint and turn them as they cook. Give them about five minutes under the broiler, maybe longer over the coals, depending on the heat. For a wonderful barbecue sauce try this one:

CHABLIS BARBECUE SAUCE, from Gordon N. Davidson, Tacoma (Wash.) News-Tribune Chapter, who "has had enough of so-called barbecue sauce with tomato base and brown-sugared to death." He uses this for everything broiled outdoors, and it is equally good indoors on the rotisserie.

Take equal parts of melted butter, any salad oil, and Chablis wine. Melt butter but do not brown—then add oil, cool slightly, and add the wine. Season to taste with garlic salt. "The trick, and wonderful flavor," says Mr. Davidson, "is the Chablis—NOT just any 'white wine.'"

A FAVORITE SALMON MOLD is another excellent summer dish, from Mrs. H. St. John, Vancouver (B. C.) Province Chapter.

½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons dry mustard
½ cup vinegar
2 egg yolks, well beaten
3 teaspoons plain gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 tablespoon grated horse-radish
1½ cups canned salmon
1 cup diced celery
½ cup whipped cream

Combine the sugar, salt, mustard, vinegar and egg yolks in the top of a double boiler and cook over boiling water until mixture is thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Dissolve gelatin in cold water and stir into the egg mixture, then stir in the horse-radish.

Pick and flake the salmon and when the mixture is cooled and slightly thickened, add to it, and stir in the celery. Mix well and fold in the whipped cream.

Turn the whole into a lightly buttered mold, and chill thoroughly until firmly set. Unmold on a chilled platter and serve garnished with watercress or lettuce leaves and stuffed olives. This is a fine place for one of those fish molds, using olive slices for his reproachful eyes.

Try Deviled Toast

What's better than toast to add crisp contrast to morning eggs, luncheon soups, creamed dinner entrees? Deviled Toast is better! Just butter toast while it's hot, then spread thinly with spicy deviled ham. Whole, quartered or cut in strips, this toast twist can give food familiars a surprise flavor lift.

OUTDOOR SUPPER—Why not eat outside often? It isn't much more work if you're well organized, and it's such fun. Serve kabobs, raw fried potatoes, relishes and a fruit-cheese tray for dessert. For a special treat fix a loaf of French bread with herb butter and heat it 10 minutes before serving.

Vanilla Tops for Toppings

"Can you top this?"

That's the question most good cooks continually ask themselves. No matter how good yesterday's dessert was, can it be topped today? One way to accomplish this is to build a repertoire of delectable dessert toppings.

Here are three imaginative sauces—Vanilla-Pineapple, Golden Vanilla, Vanilla-Fudge—all designed to glorify such everyday favorites as puddings, cakes and ice cream.

In each one, vanilla is the dual-role factor that puts the toppings in the gourmet class. It adds its own well loved deliciousness and at the same time steps up the goodness of other sweet flavors.

Incidentally, these glamour sauces, and the basic desserts they will top, provide an interesting example of a flavor discovery that quality bakers and ice cream manufacturers have made. It is that a good quality, pure vanilla extract mirrors good quality in the other ingredients of a dish or product.

The gentle flavor of the pure extract will actually bring out the freshness of such as the eggs and milk in ice creams and baked goods. To the homemaker, using only the freshest and best ingredients as a matter of course, this point about the pure extract is worth remembering.

Vanilla Fudge Sauce

1 square unsweetened chocolate
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ cup white corn syrup
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup water
1/16 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Melt chocolate and butter or margarine in a saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently. Blend in corn syrup and sugar. Gradually stir in water. Add salt. Bring to boiling point and boil slowly 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Add pure vanilla extract. Serve over ice cream, cake, or puddings. Yield: Approximately ¾ cup.

Golden Vanilla Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch
⅔ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Stir in cold water. Gradually blend in boiling water and cook until slightly thickened 8 to 10 minutes, stirring constantly.

Carefully add a little of the hot mixture to the beaten egg yolks, then stir the egg yolks into the hot mixture. Cool 1 minute stirring constantly.

Add butter or margarine. Cool and stir in pure vanilla extract. Serve over puddings, cake, gingerbread or ice cream. Yield: Approximately 1 cup.

Vanilla Pineapple Sauce

½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Combine the first three ingredients in a saucepan. Add crushed pineapple and lemon juice. Cook to medium thickness. Remove from heat and cool. Stir in pure vanilla extract.

Serve over cake or puddings. If you wish to serve this sauce over ice cream, reduce the cornstarch to 1½ tablespoons. Yield: 1 cup.

Baked Potato Tip

When Chicago's International Club in the exclusive Drake Hotel serves a baked potato, it's fit company for their famous steaks and chops. Their secret? They mix up chopped chives, crumpled bacon, parmesan cheese and lots of butter and serve it right on the open top potato.

Let's Eat Outdoors—and Make Mine Kabobs!

How cool and refreshing the backyard or park is after a stifling hot day. Why not enjoy supper outdoors more often!

Kabobs are the perfect food for the outdoor meal. Here's how to make the kabobs in the photo.

Form balls of seasoned ground beef centering them with small chunks of sharp cheddar cheese. Wrap each ball with a half-slice of bacon.

Alternate these on skewers with mushroom caps, small onions or onion wedges, and tomato wedges.

• • •

Grill the kabobs from 10 to 15 minutes. Baste the vegetables with butter while cooking. This gives extra good flavor to each bite.

REGULATE SPACING

If you want the meat to be rare, slip the morsels rather close together on the skewer. For well-done meat, separate the pieces slightly.

• • •

Make the meat balls about one and a half inches in diameter. If they are too large, they won't be cooked through by the time the other food on the skewer is done.

Start thinly sliced potatoes frying in butter in the skillet on the grill before cooking the kabobs. The potatoes will take about 20-30 minutes to cook over a moderate heat.

To round out the menu, munch on relishes of green onions, celery, carrot sticks, and radishes. Serve herb butter French bread to go with the kabobs.

WITH COOL MILK

Pour fat mugs of milk when you're ready to eat. Leave the milk in the refrigerator until the last possible moment so it will be served icy cold.

Dessert is simple—a cheese tray accompanied by fresh fruit.

Herb Buttered French Bread

1 long loaf or 2 small loaves of French bread
½ cup softened butter
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon sweet basil
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt

Combine seasoning with softened butter and mix well. Make diagonal cuts ½ to ¾ inch apart almost through the French bread. Spread herb butter on top and between the slices of bread.

Place loaf on aluminum foil and wrap loosely. Place on grill for 10 minutes, turning often. Or, wrap in foil and heat in a 400 degree oven for 10 minutes.

Leftover Treat

Let leftover macaroni and cheese chill and firm up in an oblong pan. Cut in squares. Roll squares in seasoned beaten egg then in bread crumbs and brown lightly in frying pan. Serve with a sauce of condensed tomato soup. It's so good you'll be making a double recipe of macaroni to be sure of this second-day dish.

A two pound smoked boneless pork butt may be roasted on a rack in an open pan; it will need about an hour and a quarter in a moderate oven.

For a bright addition to the snack tray pack a mixture of shrimp and cream cheese into a scooped out whole green pepper. Chill, slice in wedges and sprinkle with paprika.

Psychology May Be the Answer

Amusement Park Thrills Hard Finding

DETROIT (AP) — A guy with a college education — in psychology — is trying to put the fun back in the amusement park fun house.

* * *

He is Milton C. Wagner, who wants to find out what will draw teenagers away from their hot rods to the dodgem and like thrills of the amusement park.

Wagner, 31, has been named managing director of Detroit's two big amusement parks. He says business isn't failing — but it isn't booming, either.

Each year about a half million people test their skill at knocking down milk bottles, swooping up and down on roller coasters or jerkily riding the track of the "bug."

But the best that can be said is that attendance is holding its own. Wagner wants to get the crowd mark up with splashy new attractions — but he doesn't know exactly what will do the trick.

TV STILL TOPS

"Television and cars take up a lot of the teenagers' time these days," he said. "They have more spending money than their parents did and they look for more expensive thrills."

* * *

"Youngsters are livelier today," Wagner adds. "Holding hands on a moonlight ride on the ferris wheel appeals to a few. But too many others get a thrill holding hands at a rock 'n roll session."

Believing young people would go for something like a jet plane, Wagner imported a $40,000 roto-jet ride from Germany. It turned out to be only mildly popular.

He lost money on two ventures, one bringing in name bands and the other paying $1,500 for a single appearance of Lassie, the TV dog star.

"Kids might enjoy seeing that sort of thing on television," Wagner says ruefully, "but seeing stars in person doesn't seem to score any more."

Wagner isn't losing heart. He thinks the youngsters might go for a high flying jet ride. He envisions a bright painted "satellite" floating high over the park.

"A moon ride might do it," Wagner muses. "The only trouble is that by the time we could get it, that sort of thing might be old hat."

Lodge Pinpoints U.N. Nations' Obligations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. today said the existence of the U.N. depends on the willingness of its members to back up words by deeds and the blood of their sons.

* * *

Lodge spoke briefly at the unveiling of a plaque honoring the men of U.N. member countries who died in Korea fighting the Communist forces. Among those present for the ceremony in the public lobby of the U.N. Assembly building was Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble, member of the U.N. military staff committee who commanded the naval forces in the Inchon landing operation during the Korean War.

Speaking on behalf of the 16 U.N. members who sent troops to Korea—Australia, Belgium, Canada, Colombia, Ethiopia, France, Greece, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand, Turkey, South Africa, Britain and the United States—Lodge said that men of those countries plus those of the Republic of Korea sustained the losses and won a victory in Korea.

Spurn Fishing Lodge —No Air Conditioning

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—In Oklahome even the fishermen demand the comfort of air conditioning.

The state's Planning and Resources Board says anglers have refused to stay in the state's new 20-room fishing lodge at Lake Texoma because it is not air conditioned.

A nearby million-dollar lodge, completely air conditioned, is booked up solid.

Radar Warning System Helps to Relieve Terrors

WASHINGTON—Though science knows no defense against the spinning winds of a tornado, a new radar warning system may reduce the spring season's annual harvest of destruction.

* * *

Inn a network of cities east of the Rocky Mountains, Weather Bureau observers scan radarscopes for the appearance of any distant squall line. Not every line bears a latent twister. But it is these frontiers of thunder, wind and rain that breed nature's most violent storm, the National Geographic Society says.

When one is spotted an alert is flashed and hundreds of volunteer ground corpsmen begin watching for possible formation of the dark pendant cloud that swings down to earth like an elephant's trunk, wrecking nearly everything in its narrow path. Even a few minutes, warning saves lives.

The first widespread network of radar was established in Texas in 1954. Since then the Weather Bureau has extended the system to neighboring states in "Tornado Alley."

BETTER REPORTING

By the spring of 1957, the Bureau plans to complete radar installations in strategic weather stations throughout the eastern United States. These will serve the dual purpose of tracking hurricanes as well as looking out for tornadoes.

Dr. Morris Tepper, chief of the Weather Bureau's severe-storms research unit, attributes an apparent sharp increase in tornadoes to better reporting. "From our studies of the energies involved," he said, "we know of no atmospheric changes that would cause more tornadoes."

Tornadoes are a peculiarly American problem and the continental interior is the favorite spawning ground. Most occur in spring and early summer when masses of warm, moist air drift northward and collide with cold, dry fronts from the Pacific.

FEW LIVE TO TELL

Meteorologists know much about unstable atmospheric conditions. But no one knows the combination of factors that sends winds whirling at speeds up to 500 miles an hour. As instruments cannot survive the devastating wind, the vortex remains a mystery. Few people have looked up into the terrifying funnel of a tornado and lived to describe what they saw.

Tornadoes can and do strike the same place more than once. Codell, a town in western Kansas, was hit three years in succession every May 20. The approach of the date unnerves Codell citizens to this day.

The worst tornado in United States history combed a path across Missouri, Illinois and Indiana in 1925, killing 689 persons and injuring 1,980 others.

An earlier tornado thrust a pine plank through a steel girder on Eads Bridge at St. Louis. Legion are the stories of denuded chickens, straws driven into fence posts, water sucked from wells, and delicate objects surviving the explosion of houses caught in the partial vacuum of the tornado's vortex.

* * *

Tornadoes play many other curious pranks, but meteorologists discount the claim that one twister turned an iron kettle inside out.

Crippled 'Fagin' Jailed for Part in Home Thefts

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — William L. Forster, 20, of Somerville, paralyzed from the waist down and unable to walk, was sentenced yesterday to seven to 10 years in state prison for a series of house breaks last month.

While sitting in a wheel chair, Forster pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and thefts from homes.

He admitted sitting in a car while a colleague, Robert Masterson, 20, acting on his directions, committed the actual crimes. Masterson also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to four to six years.

Forster was shot and paralyzed by a police bullet during an attempted liquor store robbery in 1955. His condition won him a parole last December.

Divorce Permits Mating of Separated Love Birds

DALLAS (AP)—The only property Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer had to divide when they were divorced yesterday was a pair of love birds.

Judge Dallas A. Blankenship awarded the male bird to Spencer and the female to Mrs. Spencer.

Mrs. Spencer pointed out that this is the mating season and to separate the birds would be a cruel injustice.

The judge amended his order to provide that "reasonable visitation periods are granted for the male bird to visit the female bird during the mating season."

Old Men of the Mountain

By DAMON RUNYON

A careless commentator on Runyon fostered a legend about Damon's start as a fiction writer. He was on the skids, it reported, when Cosmopolitan Magazine published "Romance in the Roaring Forties" in 1929 and "made" Runyon as a fiction-writer overnight.

The facts are that Runyon was under long term newspaper contract at about $500 a week, and had scores of short stories behind him when he wrote "Romance in the Roaring Forties."

This, The Old-Men of the Mountain, is one of them. It came from the same vein of reminiscence and imagination from which he obtained "At Dead Mule Crossing" and "A Right Good-Looking Gal," two previous stories in this series.

(PART ONE)

Many a strange thing happens back in my old home town out West, but nothing stranger ever happens than the time old Zeb Griscom suddenly hauls off and drops out of sight, leaving his wife, Mrs. Griscom, mourning for him more than somewhat.

* * *

My Grandmaw says that as far as she can see Mrs. Griscom gets a pretty good break one way and another, because old Zeb Griscom is not much husband. In fact, Old Zeb is a good deal of an old sot, going around getting his pots on very often, and only going home when there is no other place to go.

My Grandpap says he does not blame old Zeb for this, because the best he gets when he does go home is plenty of cold shoulder and tongue, what with Mrs. Griscom being no rose geranium when it comes to temper, which is a crack that starts some little talking back and forth between my Grandmaw and my Grandpap.

But no matter what he is, old Zeb is too prominent as a pioneer to be allowed to haul off and disappear without somebody asking questions, especially as Mrs. Griscom is going down to see the authorities every day, and threatening to give them a good stirring up if they do not do something or other about it.

SEEN TRAVELING

Finally, when it begins to look as if old Zeb is gone sure enough and it does not look as if he is coming back, the authorities get to snooping around on this proposition, and it comes out that the last seen of Zeb he is traveling on foot off in the direction of the Greenhorn Mountains with a pack of what seems to be supplies on his back.

The man who mentions this to the authorities is a party by the name of Diggers, who keeps sheep, and is therefore very unreliable, so nobody pays any attention to him for a couple of weeks.

Then as old Zeb is still missing, and cannot be located any place, somebody decides that maybe the sheep party is partly telling the truth. In fact it commences to be the opinion back in my old home town that maybe something happens to old Zeb, because it does not stand to reason that a man rising sixty years old, will suddenly disappear from the earth leaving no word, even if he is married to Mrs. Griscom.

SHE IS ONE OF THOSE

So three of old Zeb's best friends decide to go off toward the Greenhorn Mountains to see if they can find a clue of Zeb. These friends are old Joe Calkins, the horse trader, Mr. Hathaway, the banker and Weed McCullough, the dry goods man. They are all pioneers of my old home town and highly respected by one and all.

I remember my Grandpap saying at the time that he does not see how Joe Calkins ever gets his wife, Mrs. Calkins, to let him go on the search, and my Aunt Margaret says it is a sure thing that Mr. Hathaway chloroforms Mrs. Hathaway before she lets him out of her sight, because it is pretty well known in my old home town who wears the pants in these families.

It comes out after they leave that Weed McCullough never asks his wife, Mrs. McCullough, if he can go, and there is plenty of talk about what will heppen to him when he comes back, because Mrs. McCullough is one of those women.

GET THEMSELVES A TEAM

Well, sir, what happens but the searching party does not come back. When it is gone a week, with no word from anybody, there is plenty of excitement back in my old home town. Somebody figures that there must be a band of outlaws, or maybe Indians, out there toward the Greenhorn Mountains grabbing up these citizens and robbing and murdering them, and one thing and another.

So finally my Grandpap goes around town and gets up a posse of seven men, all of them old-time Indian fighters, and they get themselves a team and wagon which they load up with plenty of supplies, including food, although my Grandmaw afterwards says she notices they do not forget to take more or less liquor with them.

In fact my Grandmaw says it is more than less, and there is plenty of talk back and forth between her and my Grandpap asking her if she has the heart to talk to him like that when his dear old comrades may be perishing out there in the hills, and my Grandmaw saying yes she has.

But my Grandmaw says she guesses she can spare him all right if old Pete Dillaway's wife, Mrs. Dillaway, can let Pete go; old Pete being one of my Grandpap's posse, and a very much henpecked man. It comes out afterwards that as soon as the posse gets out of the city limits, old Pete lets out a big whoop, and when somebody asks him why he does this he explains it is because it is the first time in twenty-five years he dares raise his voice above a whisper.

Well, it is quite a sight to see this posse of old gentlemen loaded in the wagon and carrying rifles, and six-pistols, and one thing and another, driving to the rescue of their old comrades. My Grandpap is in the front seat wearing the old coonskin cap he wears when he first comes up the Arkansaw Valley with Kit Carson, and Marshal Pat Dillon has a skinning knife in his belt with which he says he expects to scalp any hostile Indians they come across, and he hopes they will be Kiowas, these being the Indians he especially hates, because they run him knock-kneed back in the early days.

The last word of the rescue party comes from this same man Diggers, who keeps the sheep, and he says when they pass his place they seem to be quite jolly, and that a man in a coonskin cap takes an off hand crack at him with a Winchester rifle from about two hundred yards off, but misses him quite some.

* * *

My Grandmaw says when she hears this news that it confirms her suspicion about the liquor, because it does not stand to reason, she says, that my Grandpap will miss a sheepman at two hundred yards if he is perfectly O.K., although my Grandmaw admits when somebody calls her attention to the matter that my Grandpap is not as young as he used to be.

Fire Hits Firefighters

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Firemen got burned up while fighting a grass fire near here. So did the fire truck. The smokeaters had to stop working on the burning brush to douse a blaze in a $10,000 truck, apparently caused by faulty ignition. Damage was estimated at $2,500.

Rats Imported to Clear Lakes —of Vegetation

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An aquatic rodent with webbed hind feet has been put to work here clearing lakes of vegetation.

The rodent, known in its native South America as Coypu, weighs 20 to 25 pounds and resembles the muskrat although it is much larger.

* * *

C. G. Hewitt, who imported a male and two females from Grapeland, Tex. by special permission of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish commission, said 17 states have imported the rodents to rid lakes and ponds of vegetation.

Their food includes water moss, water hyacinth, sword grass, bull rushes and duckweed. Also, Hewitt reported, their meat is palatable.

"SHRIEK SHOW" ATTRACTION—The Strand Theater will usher in a "big city" innovation Friday night when a 24-hour Shriek Show will be shown. Two terror pictures, "The Werewolf" and "Earth vs. Flying Saucers," will start at 11:45 p.m. Friday and will continue all day Saturday to midnight. This is the first time any such show has been held in Pontiac. Scene above is from "Flying Saucers," which stars Hugh Marlowe and Joan Taylor, with Donald Curtis.

Hollywood Headlines

Gable Playing New Role as Filmdom Businessman

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Meet Clark Gable, businessman.

* * *

It's a new role for the longtime king of the movie stars. During his lengthy MGM contract, he was considered an actor only. He wasn't encouraged to peer behind the scenes. The studio attitude was: "Just come in and read your lines, boy. We'll do the rest."

PARTNERSHIP DEAL

Now, he's making "The King and Four Queens" on a partnership deal between Russ-Field Productions—Jane Russell and Bob Waterfield—and his own outfit, Gabco. And he's taking part in all phases of production.

* * *

"Wow, it's a big job, making a picture," he observed between scenes. "I learn something new every day. This time I'm sticking with the picture from the beginning to the end. I was in on script sessions and other matters, and I'll be with it until we finish the cutting and scoring in August."

One function he does not intend to perform: salesman. Many stars who turn producer go out on the road to peddle their product. Not Clark.

* * *

"That's up to United Artists, to sell the picture," he laughed. "I went through that routine in the early days. I was in a picture with Joan Crawford called 'Dancing Lady,' and MGM had me appearing four times a day at the Capitol Theater in New York. It was murder!"

SELF-COMPETITION

The bad part of it, he recalled, was that he was competing with himself. MGM had insisted on the personal appearance because he was also appearing in New York in another picture, an item called "It Happened One Night." That all-time hit did better than Gable in the flesh.

* * *

I happened on the set when Gable was singing, of all things. Surrounded by his four queens—Eleanor Parker, Barbara Nichols, Sara Shane, Jean Willes—he was pedaling an oldtime pipe organ and singing hymns.

* * *

He laughed about his vocalizing later. "There's one good thing about being in on the production end," he said. "I have insisted on the right to dub in someone else's voice if the singing sounds too bad."

Zanuck Prepares Film on Stalin Secret Crimes

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Plans for making a semidocumentary movie called "The Secret Crimes of Joseph Stalin" have been announced by producer Darryl F. Zanuck.

It will be done in color and wide screen by Zanuck's independent company and released through 20th Century-Fox Studio.

Pineau, Dulles Split on Russia

Frenchman Goes Home After Failing to Sway U.S. on Red Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — A French-American split appeared evident today over the problem of how to deal with Russia despite a round of diplomatic talks between Foreign Secretary of State Dulles.

* * *

Pineau arranged to leave for New York by plane today enroute home after apparently failing to convince Dulles the West should adopt a more daring trade and cultural contact policy toward Russia.

Five and possibly six differences cropped up during the Dulles-Pineau talks, although top American officials sought to minimize them as the kind of differences that were to be expected among free peoples.

The officials stressed Pineau and Dulles were agreed on the over-all objective—that of encouraging development of a peace-loving Russia. The Dulles-Pineau differences that were disclosed, they said, were over how best to achieve this.

* * *

Despite this on-the-record optimism, many top American officials were known to be concerned lest Pineau's ideas win wide acceptance among other Western countries at a time when Moscow appears to be trying to drive a wedge into Allied unity.

Senate Begins Lobby Probe

Listens to Testimony on Natural Gas Bill Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate lobby investigators today trained their sights for the first time on organizations active in the fight against the natural gas bill.

* * *

Called to testify at a public hearing were John E. Heyke of Brooklyn, N.Y., president of the Brooklyn Gas Co., and other officers of the Council of Local Gas Companies.

The Council, with Heyke as chairman, was composed of gas distributing companies that opposed the bill to free natural gas producers of direct federal price controls.

* * *

Charges of lobbying for and against the gas bill led to creation of a special committee to inquire into any improper or illegal attempts to influence senators or other government officials.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), already has taken testimony from officials of two organizations that favored enactment of the gas bill.

* * *

President Eisenhower, is vetoing the gas bill, said he was in accord with its basic objectives but he denounced what he called "arrogant" and "highly questionable" activities in its behalf by a small segment of the industry.

New Air Age Pioneer Gets Civilian Medal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A presidential Medal of Freedom, highest honor for a civilian, was presented last night to Dr. Theodore Von Karman at an Institute of Aeronautical Sciences dinner in his honor.

* * *

Dr. Von Karman's complex theoretical work is crediated by by aviation leaders as providing much of the foundation for modern aerodynamics.

Dr. Vaon Karman, born in Hungary and a U.S. citizen since 1936, served as director of the Guggenheim Aeronautical Laboratory at California Institute of Technology from 1930 to 1944. He is now chairman of the NATO advisory group for air research and development.

The federal reserve bank system was inaugurated in 1914.

Dry Run — No Decision

Russian Embassy Ignores Vodka Contest in Capital

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Soviet Embassy today ignored a challenge to help decide which is better — American or Russian vodka.

The embassy declined to accept an invitation from the Arrow Liquers Corp. of Detroit to take part in a taste-test contest at which, as it turned out, neither vodka won — or lost.

The invitation went to Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin Monday. A publicity man for Arrow spent an hour on the telephone today trying to talk the Russians into accepting the challenge.

They didn't turn him down in so many words. They didn't say da; they didn't say nyet. They merely failed to show up.

So the contest was held without them. Two "acting" Russians joined five newsmen from Washington, Baltimore, London and Paris in sampling one Russian and three American brands of vodka.

The "acting" Russians were identified only as Georgi Dudenkov Popov and Alexander Oustirov Strogenoff. Nobody asked who they really were; nobody cared. The 200 or so Washington newsmen who attended the contest had spent 90 minutes sampling the vodka themselves before the judging began.

Anyway, when the whole thing was over, the publicity man, James P. Chapman, announced that the question hadn't been answered, that "unfortunately, the two Russians didn't agree with the other four and exercised their right to veto."

"No decision," proclaimed Chapman, although he whispered that "actually," if the contest had been on the up-and-up, "the American vodka would have won."

Arrest Factory Man in Boy Scout Slaying

PAW PAW (AP) — State Police Det. Sgt. Victor Beck said a 50-year-old factory worker is being held for questioning in the slaying last summer of Boy Scout Peter Gorham.

* * *

Beck identified the man as Arthur Frederick Ruff of Eau Claire, who was picked up Tuesday on a charge of indecent liberties involving a 12-year-old Keeler boy.

Beck said Ruff had stopped at White Cloud near Muskegon while on vacation last summer, about the time the 12-year-old Gorham, of Evanston, Ill., disappeared from a nearby scout camp. The boy was reported missing July 5. His body, shot through the head, was found 10 days later.

* * *

Ruff denied any knowledge of the slaying. He was held at the Paw Paw state police post. Beck said Ruff would be questioned further and asked to take a lie detector test.

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

If it's sports you're looking for this weekend, there's little need to go out of the Pontiac area.

For the next three days sports fans can get their fill of everything from boat racing to horse shows.

The big event naturally is at Forest Lake where the nation's top pros started this morning in the LPGA championship.

Any man who still refuses to concede ability of women in the game of golf has only to watch the proettes in action. The tourney runs through Sunday and if it means going out on the limb we would like to go along with Louise Suggs as the new LPGA champion.

★ ★ ★

Miss Suggs plays every stroke with the utmost confidence and this is the only tournament she has yet to win.

For the lovers of horses, the colorful show at Bloomfield Hills Hunt Club will continue a five day stand through Sunday. There's plenty of horsemanship through Sunday.

Boat enthusiasts can gather out at Sylvan Lake where the annual Pontiac Invitational Regatta has set up a two-day show for Saturday and Sunday.

★ ★ ★

A display of water showmanship on skis and boat racing should catch the fancy of boat and water fans.

Boxing moves into the area with a one night stand of amateur bouts at Waterford High School Saturday night for the benefit of the Nephrosis Foundation.

Former boxers Dick Bell and Stan Allen have set up an attractive 10-card evening with a host of local boys matched against fighters from Detroit and Flint.

★ ★ ★

Dick Dewey, the new owner of the Pontiac Speedway, has an exciting evening of midget racing planned for Sunday night.

"We will have some of the leading midget racers in the midwest here Sunday," said Dewey.

Major League baseball will have the Tigers entertaining the Baltimore Orioles at Briggs Stadium over the weekend, and for local sandlot fans there's baseball scheduled Sunday afternoon at Wisner field.

★ ★ ★

A holdover from the rains last weekend is the Jaycee Junior Tennis Tournament at Oakland Park Saturday afternoon with winner and runnerup vying for a trip to the state Jaycee tournament at Kalamazoo.

The Press fishing derby may offer some incentive for the bass anglers and the numerous Oakland County lakes will send swimmers scurrying to their waters.

Put them all together and you will get one of the biggest weekends in sports ever available for area folks. The Pontiac area is truly the hub of Michigan sports this weekend. Anyone for croquet?

Mickey Wright in LPGA Darkhorse Role

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor Pontiac Press

It's anybody's guess who will win the LPGA or the Wolverine Amateur tournament which started today and continues through Sunday at Forest Lake Country Club.

But while prognosticators make their selections from the old vanguard of pros which always include Patty Berg, Louise Suggs, Betsy Rawls, or Marlene Bauer Hagge, there are two ladies who have given strong indication they will have to be reckoned with in the tourney.

This twosome is pro Mickey Wright and amateur Helen Grinnell. Miss Wright and Miss Grinnell teamed up to win the best ball tourney yesterday with a 32-35—67.

Three strokes behind were the pro-am teams of Betty Jameson and Sally Sharp and Beverly Hanson and Norma Labisky each with 70's.

* * *

Miss Wright, a 21-year-old power-hitter from San Diego who has been rated the most improved feminine pro of the 1956 circuit, also won the driving contest with a 272-yard blast. Miss Wright was the long ball winner in the Wolverine Open last year, with a 227-yard drive.

She won the Jacksonville Open this year for her first big tourney victory since joining the pro ranks a year ago.

Miss Grinnell, from Detroit, looms as a leading contender for the Wolverine Amateur with Sally Sharp and Mrs. C. U. Wilson still among the strong choices.

* * *

The youngest pro-am team in the field, Diane Garrett, 19-year-old pro from Houston, Texas, and Mary Mills, 16-year-old amateur from Gulfport, Mississippi, posted a 33-40—73 yesterday.

* * *

The 29 amateurs in the field started teeing off at 10:30 this morning with the 25 proettes opening play at 12:30.

The pros are shooting for a $7,500 purse plus the LPGA championship which currently is held by Beverly Hanson.

* * *

Miss Hanson won the first LPGA title at Fort Wayne, Ind., last year by defeating Miss Suggs 4 and 3 in the finals.

Among the newcomers to the pro ranks, Pat Devany, daughter of Grosse Ile Country Club pro Joe Devany, offers Michigan its best representation for winning.

Miss Devany tied with Marlene Bauer Hagge and Fay Crocker last year in setting a woman's course record of 71. Since then she has turned pro and still aiming for her first win on the circuit.

* * *

Playing in her first LPGA tournament is Irene Bretzlaff of Redford Golf Club in Detroit.

Miss Bretzlaff turned pro two months ago. She was 4th among the amateurs last year in the Wolverine which was won by Fay Crocker of the pros and Wiffi Smith the amateur medalist.

Associate pro at Forest Lake, Marilynn Smith, sees a very good chance of a new woman's record being set in the tourney.

* * *

"The way the girls have been shooting we should see some real good scores," she said.

Tickets for the 4-day affair are available at the entrances to the club.

Sharp Shots at LPGA

Anything can happen in golf, and in tournament play it usually does.

After the pro-am exhibition yesterday we can just call Pat Devany the "Mickey Mantle" of golf. Pat's drives were really teeing into the pros, one of which helped her to an eagle on the first hole.

SALLY SHARP

She drove her approach shot toward the green and it struck Bonnie Randolph in the leg, taking a "Devany" roll toward the cup. Pat sunk it for a three on the ladies par five hole.

A little later Pat teed off and the long drive just nipped Gloria Armstrong.

If this keeps up we may be measuring Pat's drives like they do Mantle's homers.

Patty Berg drew a laugh from the crowd at the golf clinic yesterday when she gave her definition of golf. "Golf is like a hoof and mouth disease," she said, "you hoof it during the day and mouth it all night."

Louise Suggs admits there is only one thing she likes to do as much as playing golf and that is to hunt. It seems Louise carries quite a bit of hunting skill onto the course, especially when it comes to getting "birdies."

When the pairings jammed up somewhat at one of the holes yesterday, the best reason came from Blaine Eynon. "There must have been someone who played the front nine in 36 and the back nine in 1½ hours," he said.

Final Uprising Wins for Elks

Elks No. 723 struck for three runs in the 7th inning to nose out Fowler's Fine Foods, 4-3, in a Class A City League baseball game Wednesday night at Wisner Field.

Singles by Robert LeRay and Clay Williams plus two costly errors brought victory to the Elks in a last-ditch rally. Eight batters strolled to the plate before pitcher Delmo Chapdelaine could retire the side.

Bill Hurd worked the distance for the Elks and allowed seven hits, three by Mike Slivensky, while fanning five men. Chapdelaine gave up eight safeties and struck out nine.

Putting Luck Brings Yowls at Trans-Miss

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The emphasis was placed on putting today as the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament headed into the second round.

* * *

Most of the players complained about their putting luck after first-round matches, but Johnny Dawson of Palm Springs, Calif., had the loudest "holler." He three-putted six greens, four of them in a row, but still managed to beat Tommy Black of Oklahoma City 1 up.

* * *

Dawson was one of four former champions who were good enough to reach the second round in a tournament overladen with talent.

Olympic Trials June 28

Cornell Crew Top Seeded

NEW YORK (AP)—Cornell's crew, Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. (IRA) champions, and Yale's eight which split two races with the Big Red were top seeded for the Olympic tryouts June 28-30 on Onondaga Lake at Syracuse, N.Y.

Cornell will meet Navy's Admirals, the 1952 Olympic titlists, who are trying for an unprecedented second consecutive tryout win, in the first heat. Washington, fourth in the IRA and Stanford, fifth, round out the first heat starters.

Yale's crew will row in the second heat against the Detroit Boat Club and the Wisconsin eight.

The shells will race over a 2,000-meter 1-mile, (427 yards) course the standard Olympic distance.

The Admirals, winner of 29 straight races in three years at the Naval Academy, have been improving each outing beating Princeton on June 9 and figure to reach the four-team final with Cornell. Yale and one of the others.

Horse Show in Full Swing

County Riders Star at BOH

By BILL CORNWELL

Youthful riders from Oakland County dominated Wednesday's limited program as the 39th annal Detroit Horse Show began a five-day stand at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club in Bloomfield Hills.

Yesterday's opening day was largely devoted to Junior riders and area youngsters made the most of it by winning five classes and capturing a like number of runner-up positions.

The Bloomfield Irishmen won the 1st round of the Junior Equestrian Team competition in Division A.

Composed of Zander Duffield, Paul Garlick, Howard Miller and Rick Otto, the Irishmen took the team jumping event with nine faults. A score of 14 faults gave the Birmingham Outlanders 2nd place.

The Bloomfield Thunderbirds, comprised of Marie Lindquist, Cindy Scott, Randie Grant and Gretchen Raeder, were winners in the B Division with a faultless score. The Outland Bees were 2nd on three faults.

Designed to prepare young riders for Olympic competition, the Junior Equestrian class has two events to run off before winners can be determined in the Detroit show. The Junior Prix de Nations this morning and the relay jumping event in the afternoon still remain.

Bwana, a horse owned by Dr. Earl Millard of Chicago, eliminated a huge field to win the Junior Open Jumper, one of Wednesday's more important classes for younger riders.

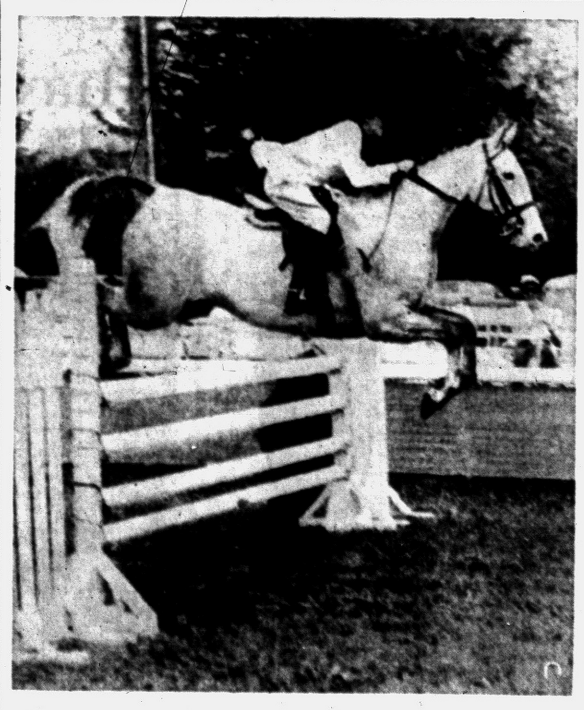

Ridden by Sandra Friedlander of Chicago, Bwana claimed honors after two jump-offs. Blue Imp, ridden by Marie Pope of Toledo, finished 2nd.

The horsemanship over fences class for 13 to 18-year-olds was won by Kitten James of Birmingham, astride Good Time, and the same event for riders 12 years old and under was taken by Barbara Stirling of Rochester.

Peter Fisher of Bloomfield Hills won the horsemanship class for riders 12 years of age or less and the beginners horsemanship class for 9-year-olds or below went to Pinky Ziessow of Franklin. Fireball, owned by the Thimble Farm of Bloomfield Hills, gained honors in the Ponies Under Saddle event.

In the most significant adult competition yesterday, a pair of horses owned by Si Jayne of Park Ridge, Ill. won the Open Jumper class. Bubbling Over came in the winner and Happy Landing took 2nd spot.

The Detroit show now picks up momentum, with three performances scheduled today, Friday and Saturday before winding up with a double-session on Sunday.

Kocsis to Play in U.S. Tourney

Changes Mind, Says He'll Defend Title in San Francisco in July

DETORIT (AP) — In a sudden change of mind, Sam Kocsis, defending U. S. Public Links champion, says he will enter the national tournament at San Francisco next month after all.

Kocis notified Edward A. Atlas, section Publinx chairman, yesterday that he had been upset Tuesday when he said he would not defend his title. He contended at that time that as defending champion he should not be required to qualify at San Francisco in advance of the tournament.

Under a revised ruling, he must compete with other sectional qualifiers for the 64 places in the tournament finals.

Kocsis carded a 138 to lead the Michigan trials at Western and Meadowbrook courses Tuesday, although his title exempted him from the sectional trials.

Missed Signals!

Cost Boys' Club 1st Loss

Boys' Club Junior American Legion team met with defeat for the 1st time this season as it dropped a 4-3 decision to Rochester, at Rochester, last night.

Boys' Club nine was leading 3-1 with two out in the final frame when Jerry Orr and Chuck McIlreth missed their signals on a routine infield popup which would have meant the final out and another victory.

The ball dropped between them as they collided and this set the stage for a three run scoring rally culminated by a single by Denny Evans who had a 3 and 2 count on him with the bases loaded.

The thriller was marked by brilliant play on the part of the Boy's Club until the final inning, as well as some timely hitting by Bob Reeves and excellent base running by Dave Simmons.

Jerry Orr was charged with the defeat, despite a good mound performance as he limited Rochester to 5 hits. Bob Reeves had a perfect day with two singles and a walk in as many trips.

Pontiac will be host to Clawson, Sunday, at Washington Junior High School. Joe Tinson will pitch for Boys' Club.

Mrs. MacKenzie Tops

In Wednesday's weekly play in the Highland Golf Club's Ladies' League, entitled a "throwout," Mrs. Roland MacKenzie led the championship flight, Mrs. Syd Ayles first flight; Mrs. Robert Ganshaw 2nd flight; Mrs. Robert Jones 3rd flight and Mrs. Roger Bass 4th flight.

Loses Unanimous Decision

Summerlin Pounded

CHICAGO (AP)—A boxing "dud", who keeps exploding, Chicago's Bob Satterfield today drew a bead on a heavyweight match with equally unpredictable Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

* * *

Satterfield, a 3-1 underdog, last night pounded an end to young Johnny Summerlin's 12-bout winning streak with a unanimous 10-round decision in a nationally televised scrap at Chicago Stadium.

The 32-year-old Satterfield, outweighed by 11 pounds, nearly knocked Summerlin out of the ring in the third round with ponderous rights and then went on to win by a substantial margin.

Satterfield weighed 183 against Summerlin's 194.

* * *

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said he favored a Satterfield - Jackson meeting this fall because of their "interesting styles."

That wouldn't cut any ice in the heavyweight title elimination picture, because Floyd Patterson already has brushed aside Jackson and Satterfield doesn't seem to be going any place particularly.

* * *

However, the nation's TV audience last night saw Satterfield unlimber the punching TNT which has given him 31 KO's in his present 41-21-4 record.

Satterfield's third-round explosion, a series of five terrific rights to the head, sent the 24-year-old Summerlin sprawling through the ropes onto the ring apron. The bell sounded at the count of seven and it was doubtful whether the Detroit battler could have remained in business if the rest period gong hadn't sounded.

* * *

The defeat was Summerlin's fifth in 37 pro starts and knocked out his chance for a match with Pittsburgh's Bob Baker in the elimination series for Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight crown.

Benefit Boxing Show Has 10 Bouts on Card

A 10-bout card has been announced for the benefit boxing show being Saturday night at the Waterford High School gym.

Highlight of the card is the heavyweight bout between 225-pound Danny Haggon of Pontiac against 210-pound Sam Jones of Detroit.

A featherweight get-together between Tony Joe Peres, 128 pounds of Pontiac against Willie Page, 128, of Detroit will open the show at 8:30 p.m.

In three middleweight fights, Troy Griffen of Pontiac will meet Clarence Foust of Detroit, both at 160; Pete Romeo of Pontiac will face Bob Wardkley of Detroit and Roy Griffen of Pontiac is matched against Art Valpey of Detroit.

* * *

Jim Cassil and Harry Tusk both of Detroit open the light-heavy card which also features Jack Austin against Chester Tims and Larry Avis against Jim Owens.

Numerous business establishments in Pontiac, Drayton and Waterford are handling tickets for the fights and they will also be available at the gym.

* * *

A feature attraction will have 4-year-olds Terry Sevrais and Michael Allen putting on an exhibition in three 1-minute rounds.

The regular fights on the card will be three 2-minute rounds each.

DUSTWEIGHTS TO MEET—Two 4-year-olds, Terry Sevrais (left) and Michael Allen will meet in a three-round feature at the Nephrosis benefit boxing bouts Saturday night at the Waterford High School gymnasium. A 10-bout card has been scheduled. Allen is the son of former AAU bantamweight champion Stag Allen.

Power Boats Race Aug. 5th

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Hundreds of power boats will vie for trophies and $2,400 in prizes in the annual Top-O-Michigan Marathon race on the Cheboygan River Aug. 5.

The American Power Boat Assn. bills this year's race as the world's largest boating marathon. Some 212 boats took part in the 25-mile run last year.

Tom Hatcher of Detroit will act as referee.

Yanks Dis-'Mantle' Tigers, 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — The slump-ridden Detroit Tigers had a day of rest today, and it would be hard to find a team that needed it more.

A 4-1 loss to the New York Yankees last night before 47,756 fans was the club's 5th in succession and sent them spinning 3½ games out of the first division.

When the Tigers began their losing streak last Saturday against Boston, they were tied with the Bosox for 4th place, seven games in back of the New Yorkers.

Most of the damage can be traced to Mickey Mantle. He left it to someone else last night to assure the league leaders their 7th straight victory, but capped the evening with two bursts into the upper stands in centerfield for his 26th and 27th home runs of the season.

All the New York runs came on home runs, with Andy Carey's drive off starter-loser Billy Hoeft in the 6th inning starting the trouble. Hoeft faced only 15 men in the first innings. He gave up just one single, but pulled out of that one with a double play.

Billy Martin led off the 6th with a bunt single down the third base line. Carey then pumped his fourth home run into the lower left field deck to score two runs and send righthander Johnny Kucks to his ninth win of the year. He lost three.

Even after Mantle hit home runs in the 7th and 8th inning, manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees refused to take chances.

The Tigers scored in the 8th on Al Kaline's first hit in 18 times at bat. Harvey Kuenn led off the inning with a pinch single off Carey's glove at third. Frank Bolling, who had a perfect night at bat with three singles and a base on balls, singled pinch-runner Jim Small to second and he went to third on a double play. Kaline brought him home with a shot to center.

Stengel summoned lefty Whitey Ford to pitch the dangerous Charlie Maxwell, and the Yankee ace retired him on a grounder to second. Then he set the Tigers down 1-2-3 in the 9th to give the Bronx Bombers a sweep of the 3-game series, and a 6-5 edge in games played.

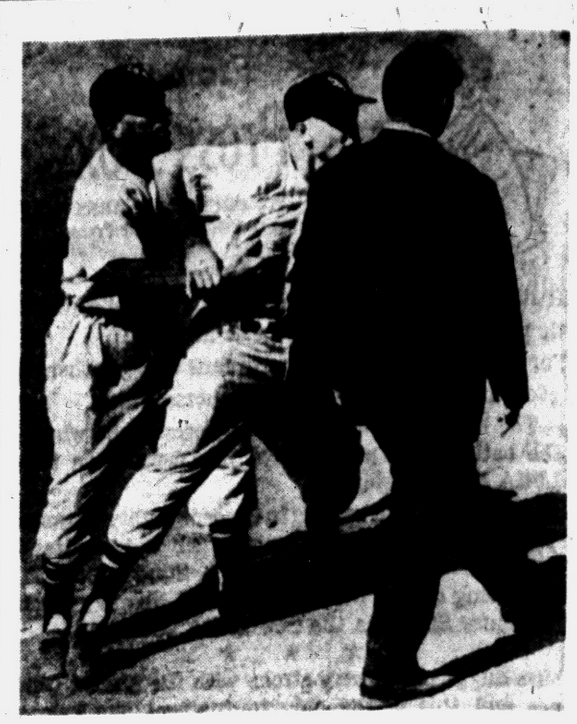

The Tigers get back into action Friday night against Baltimore, then play a day game Saturday and a twin bill Sunday against the Orioles. Paul Foytack will start Friday night's contest.

Thirty Colleges Have Entrants Going After Championship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The National Collegiate Golf Tournament, which was a stepping stone to golfing greatness for many of the current crop of professionals, will offer 244 players from 66 universities at the week-long 59th running of the fixture starting Sunday.

* * *

Ohio State University's 7,120-yard par 72 Scarlet course will provide the test for the fourth time. The rolling, tree-infested layout has two lake holes. A creek meanders across five fairways and parallels another. The rough is high and thick.

Sunday two 12-man teams, representing the East and West with the Mississippi as the dividing line, will battle in a best-ball fray.

* * *

Monday and Tuesday call for 18-hole qualifying rounds, sending 64 players into the match play bracket through Saturday. All matches will be at 18 holes except the grand finale, which is booked for 36.

Thirty other colleges have entrants seeking the individual championship.

Louie's Tavern Rebounds With 2-1 Softball Win

Louie's Tavern returned to its winning ways and Walled Lake Market, GMC and Lunsford Market gained easy victories in City Softball League games Wednesday night at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Louie's bounced back from Monday's 1st setback with a 2-1 decision over the North Side Merchants at Beaudette. Jack Avery singled and raced home on an outfield error in the 6th inning to break a 1-1 tie and give pitcher Wilbur Wright the nod over Jerry Bantin.

Walled Lake Market, the team that dumped Louie's rolled to a 14-4 win over Pontiac Select a Drink on the Beaudette diamond. Walled Lake amassed 13 hits, one a 6th-inning home run by Jerry Taylor with two men aboard.

GMC scored five times in the 1st two stanzas to coast to a 6-3 verdict over Stadium Inn on the North Side field. Doug Hall, GMC mound ace, hurled a 5-hitter.

Lunsford Market backed Gil Luebke's 6-hit pitching with 11 safe blows for a runaway 13-2 triumph over Franklin Products at North Side.

Scotsota Wins Feature

DETROIT (AP)—Scotsota, trailing in 5th place most of the race, surged up to catch Jimmy's Champ just before the wire and win the featured pace before 3,945 fans last night at the Wolverine Harness Raceway. Mighty Brewer was 3rd half a length back. Scotsota covered the distance in 2:05 2-5 to pay $26.80, $6.20 and $4.80. The mutuel handle was $236,983.

Pontiac JC Golf Event Carded Monday

State tournament berths will be at stake next Monday morning when the annual Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament gets under way at the city's rolling Municipal Golf Course.

* * *

The three low shotmakers will qualify for the state Jaycee tourney, which is scheduled July 9-10 in Kalamazoo. The three state qualifiers will receive trophies from the local Jaycee chapter.

Victory in the state meet entitles the young linksman to enter the national Jaycee competition Aug. 20-25 at Fargo, North Dakota.

Monday's 18-hole test will start at 8:30 a.m. The hopeful contenders will tour Municipal's north and south layouts in threesomes.

Two of last year's state qualifiers, medalist Tom Cross of Pontiac and runner-up Mike Conroy from Birmingham, are expected to be on the firing line again.

* * *

Competition has been made stiffer for this year's event by lowering the number of state qualifiers to three. Last summer the low five shooters were eligible for the advanced tourney.

Junior Chamber of Commerce tournaments have proved a boon to young golfers in the past. Gene Littler, fast-rising professional, was a national Jaycee champion.

Chairman Bob Weddle has announced that post-entries will be accepted at the Municipal links. Weddle also said that entries would be accepted by him over the telephone. His number is FEderal 2-7076.

Tuesday Tennis Lessons

Adult Net Clinic June 26

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a tennis clinic for adults, starting Tuesday, June 26. Classes will be held every Tuesday night on the Oakland Park courts at 7:30.

All men and women interested in learning how to play tennis or improving their game are invited to attend.

There is no charge for the clinic, but players are required to bring shoes and racquets. Adult tournaments are planned as the season moves along. Don Grothe of Birmingham will be the instructor.

For further information, adults should call the Department of Parks and Recreation, FEderal 3-7131.

Tennis instruction for boys and girls 8 through 14 years old, also under the guidance of Grothe, is now in session. Classes meet Monday through Friday mornings, beginners at 9 o'clock and advanced netters at 10:15.

Monday and Wednesday classes meet at Murphy Park, Tuesday and Thursday classes at Oakland Park, and Friday sessions at Beaudette Park. The clinic, which began Tuesday, will run eight weeks and conclude with a tournament.

Youngsters still interested in signing up for the clinic should check with their local playground directors.

Summer Recreation Program at Vaughan

A summer recreation program, sponsored by Bloomfield Hills High School, will start Monday, June 25, and run through Friday, July 20, high school athletic director Don Hoff has announced.

The program will be held at Vaughan School on East Long Lake Road just off Woodward. Boys and girls from grades 4 through 12 are invited to attend the 4-week session, which will feature a variety of activities from horseshoes to baseball.

Activity will be held Monday through Friday of each week from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Interested students may sign up at any time at Vaughan School. Hoff is in charge.

Tennis Exhibitions Sunday at Pine Lake

Pine Lake Country Club's tennis courts will be the scene Sunday of interesting net exhibitions, involving some of the metropolitan area's top talent.

* * *

Starting at 2 p.m. there will be singles and doubles matches, with Stan Drobac, Andy Paton, Len Bross and Jim Bickner in action. All are among top-rated net performers.

Mrs. Jean Hoxie is again in charge of the club's tennis events for the season.

VFW Wins Via Forfeit

Keego Wins, Jones Tosses No-Hitter in Junior Play

Keego Harbor Boys Club walloped the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 11-0, behind Bill LaPratt's 3-hit pitching, to feature Wednesday's Junior and Midget pre-season baseball action on four city diamonds.

LaPratt struck out 10 batters during his shutout stint in the Class D-E encounter at Columbia-Joslyn's south field. Dick Baker, Auburn hurler, fanned 11 and allowed eight hits, two by Don Gibbs.

In other D-E activity, the Pontiac Boys Club defeated the Clarkston Merchants, 9-6, at Columbia-Joslyn north, and the Mets forfeited to the Pontiac Police in a scheduled game at Washington Junior High.

Dave Jones grabbed his share of the limelight yesterday by pitching a no-hit, no-run game as Boys Club No. 1 blanked North Side Kiwanis in Class F, 4-0. Jones struck out 15 foes.

The Pontiac Sluggers nipped Osmun's, 10-9, and Boys Club No. 3 outscored Arnold's Drugs, 15-9, in other F contests at Columbia-Joslyn.

Highlighting yesterday's Midget play on the new Jaycee Park diamond was the Indians' 32-2 massacre of Wing Lake. The losers were guilty of 24 errors while the Indians were making 11 hits. In the other Midget battle, the Whitfield Cubs nosed out Mahan Realty, 7-6.

Tuesday's results:

Class D-E
Clarkston 1, Keego Harbor 0
Mets 7, Auburn Heights 6
Police 5, Boys Club 1

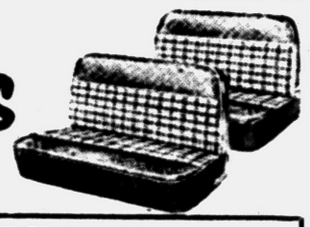

Class F

Braves Jump From 5th to 1st in Four Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What is it with Fred Haney? He takes over from Charlie Grimm, who resigned as Milwaukee manager under fire after losing 12 of 17 to tumble from first to fifth, and four days later the Braves are leading the National League.

The Braves haven't lost since Haney, who never finished better than last in three other shots as a NL skipper, reluctantly took over in Brooklyn last Saturday night. They made it five in a row last night, sweeping three from the plunging Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3 to move back into the top spot as last-place Philadelphia junked Cincinnati's hold on the lead 3-2.

That caused yet another revision in the hectic NL standings, giving Milwaukee a 13-point edge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who snapped a three-game losing streak with a 4-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards hold fourth, 2 points back of the Redlegs, who in turn are 2 points behind the Brooks.

The Pirates, with five straight defeats, are fifth.

New York's Giants reclaimed sixth place from Chicago, beating the Cubs 4-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees made it seven in a row as Mickey Mantle jolted his 26th and 27th home runs in a 4-1 10 innings. Washington came from behind to beat Kansas City 5-4.

* * *

The Braves have just been playing like most folks figured they could since Haney took charge. Question is, why? He's the same type of "nice guy" manager as was Grimm—and in his 15 years as a pilot, he's had only one pennant winner (Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League in 1952).

* * *

Haney, 58, hasn't juggled the Braves' lineup or junked Grimm's pitching order, but he's had results. Gene Conley, for instance, pitched his first complete game since last July 10 for his second victory last night while Danny O'Connell and Bobby Thomson each batted in a pair of runs as the Braves scored five in the fifth to beat Vern Law.

* * *

Al Rosen's single drove in the big run for the Indians to beat reliefer Tom Hurd. Gene Woodling had tied it with a solo homer in the eighth. Jackie Jensen homered with one on in the first off Tribe lefty Herb Score, who fanned 10 in his six innings. Don Mossi won it in relief.

Washington put together an error, two walks and a sacrifice fly in the ninth to beat the A's, who fell into the cellar with their 19th defeat in 25 home games this season.

Earl Sande rode Osmand to victories in the Capitol and Laurel Handicaps in 1927.

M. D. Clark of Woodbury, Conn., has won the national doubles trapshooting title three straight years.

Mat 'Business' Under Inquiry

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Justice Department is investigating "commercial wrestling," Herbert Brownell said last night.

* * *

The attorney general made the disclosure in a passing reference to investigations during a speech before a business executives conference on administrative policies at the University of Pennsylvania.

He did not elaborate and justice officials in Washington refused to disclose the exact nature of the investigation. They said it was not possible to discuss the inquiry at present.

Brownell had told the business executives that the administration's antitrust prosecutions had ranged from shipping companies and airlines to sex hormones, theater scenery haulers and boxing. He went on:

* * *

"And blending theater with sport, as well as with a sense of humor, we now investigate our nation's commercial wrestling."

Eight Tryout Camps Planned by Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers will conduct a series of tryout camps during the months of June and July for baseball prospects recommended by Michigan high school coaches.

Field director for scouts Don Lund, along with scouts Duncan Lectka and Ray Meyers, will run the camps in cooperation with local recreation departments.

The camps will be held in these cities:

June 22, 23—Detroit, Butzel Field
June 25, 26—Detroit, Manz Field
June 27, 28—Flint, Atwood Stadium
June 29, 30—Ypsilanti, College Field
July 5, 6—Mt. Pleasant, College Field
July 9, 10—Muskegon, Marsh Field
July 11—Cheboygan, Recreation Field
July 13—Marquette, City Park.

TV Aids Conservation

LANSING (AP) — Three Michigan television stations will help the State Conservation Department in its fight against forest fires this summer.

The department said WNEM-TV, Bay City; WWTV, Cadillac and WPBN-TV, Traverse City will broadcast forest condition reports as part of their daily weather forecasts during the fire seasons.

Southern Net Meet Reaches Semi-Finals

ATLANTA (AP)—A South African who plays for the University of Miami met a Brazilian member of the Tulane tennis team today in one of the featured quarter-final matches at the Southern Tennis championships.

The South African, top-seeded Johann Kupferbueger, faced Jose Aguero, ranked No. 7 and last year's National Intercollegiate winner.

Other quarter-final matches: Third-ranked Alex Olmedo, of Lima, Peru, vs. Ray Garrido of Cubs; Armando Vieira, of Brazil, first among the foreign contingent, vs. Pancho Contreras of Mexico; and Allen Quay of Miami, Fla., vs. Jack Frost of Los Angeles.

Swimmers Set AAU Records

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A Greensboro girl and a Philadelphia boy, set records in the Dixie AAU swimming and diving championships yesterday.

Betsy Glynn, 14, of Greensboro and Bruce Lundy, 13, of Philadelphia each claimed a couple of records as marks fell in 10 of the 12 events reeled off yesterday.

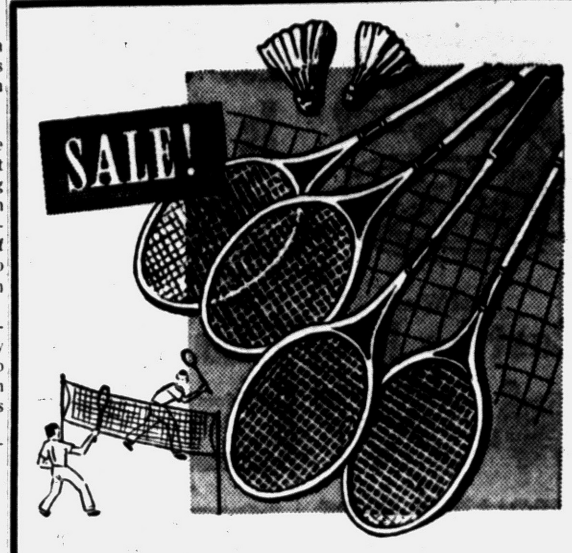

Miss Glynn wrapped up the 40-meter breaststroke in the girls division with a 32.6 seconds. She added a new record of 55.8 seconds in the junior women's 80-meter freestyle.

Lundy set records in the 40-meter breaststroke and 40-meter backstroke, both in the boys' division. His breaststroke time was 28.4 seconds and in the backstroke 26.7 seconds.

No 'Slush Fund,' Says Stanford Sports Boss

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Al Masters, Stanford athletic director, said today he has discovered "minor violations" of the Pacific Coast Conference code on football in an investigation for J. E. Wallace Sterling, Stanford president.

"There is no slush fund here, and there is no organized alumni payoff system," Masters told reporters.

Contact Sports Are Defended

CHICAGO (AP) — The new chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission says an "undercover attack" appears to be directed against contact sports, such as boxing and football, in the United States.

* * *

Frank Gilmer, guest of honor at a meeting of the Chicago Boxing Writers and Broadcasters Assn., said last night:

"If Russia wanted to make sure the United States becomes a nation of 'softies' the present trend in contact sports would indicate a good start in that direction.

* * *

"Eight colleges have dropped boxing recently," he added.

"In pro boxing, a charge of crookedness persists. In college boxing, the complaint is that head injuries prevail.

"If boxing goes, what's next? Probably football. Then ice hockey, wrestling and what have you in the contact field. Then what's left? Sports that will leave us softies."

Gilmer, a veteran boxing referee, recently succeeded the late Livingston Osborne as head of the Illinois commission.

The Kodiak, biggest of all bears, averages about 1,000 pounds in size.

Skiers Prep for Regatta

With not enough proper weather-conditioned days to afford much practice, members of the water skiing teams for the Oakland County Boat Club's two-day regatta have had to concentrate on the last few days.

"For instance," says Alice Shotwell, who with brother Jerry Brace, Chuck Cummins of Sylvan Village and Wally Turner of Sylvan Village, put in an afternoon and evening yesterday, "we worked until 9 o'clock last night."

Two of the area's water skiing clubs will produce the Saturday afternoon feature marking start of the annual APBA sanctioned inboard races. At least a dozen of these clever, capable youngsters will take part in the program that promises some really spectacular features.

"We haven't had much time to prepare for this show," says Mrs. Shotwell, "because of bad weather. But I believe it will be a good one."

Race entries for the Sunday card are coming in good says Tom Comps, regatta chairman. "Some of these boats are capable of more than 100 miles an hour" and some real speed may be expected.

Four Boys Qualify for Jaycee Event

OXFORD, England (AP) — Harry Truman refused to kiss a baby today because he said it wasn't sanitary.

Nehru Starts Out on Month's Tour; Visits Ike in July

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru flew to Damascus today on the first lap of a month-long tour slated to take him to London, Washington and other capitals.

Nehru planned a night stopover at the Syrian capital before pushing onto the London meeting of British commonwealth prime ministers.

* * *

The Indian leader is scheduled to visit in Washington with President Eisenhower July 7-10, but there has been speculation the President's illness may force a change in plans.

* * *

Nehru's itinerary also includes stops at Frankfurt, Hamburg and Bonn in Germany, and visits to Paris; Brioni, Yugoslavia; Cairo, and Beirut, Lebanon.

Commerce Drive-In May Open July 2

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A new Drive-In Theater—the first in the Commerce area—will be open to the public about July 2, it was announced today by William (Bud) Harris, a co-owner.

Having accommodations for more than 1,000 cars, the outdoor theater is being erected on Haggerty road at the foot of Union Lake road.

The project will feature a 51x117 foot screen, and a complete playground will be available to children.

A cafeteria offering everything from refreshments to complete dinners will be in operation, with outdoor patio dining a feature.

PTA Plans Institute Re-Slated Next Year

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Another program planning institute will be scheduled next spring. A key committee of township PTA representatives made the decision when they met recently at Covert School to evaluate the program planning institute held in May at the CAI Building.

Dr. John Holden and Russell Jenkins, Michigan State University experts in the field of adult education, led the conference.

Written reports, evaluating the institute, were reviewed by the committee, along with many requests for the additional workshop.

GENERAL TWINING

AF Chief, Aides Fly to Moscow

Twining, 9 Others Due to Arrive in Red Capital Saturday Noon

WASHINGTON (INS)—Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining left today "with an open mind" for an unprecedented post-war view of Russian aviation.

Twining was acompanied on his trip to Moscow by nine other U.S. air officers. They took off from Military Air Transport Terminal in Washington amid rain and fog.

The four-star general said before embarking that "we're going over with an open mind."

He added: "We're going to see and listen and when we come back we will report to the President, then to my peers in the Pentagon and after that to the American people."

Twining's visit will be the first ever made to the Soviet capital by a U.S. chief of staff and the first to Russia by a top ranking American officer since President Eisenhower, then supreme allied commander in Europe, went to Moscow shortly after World War II.

Twining said he hopes to arrive in Moscow at 4 p.m. Saturday after stopowers at an American base in Berlin.

The group is going to Russia at the invitation of the Soviet Union and under the direction of President Eisenhower.

He revealed that late last night the Russians provided "a brief itinerary" which "showed some interesting points fo rus to visit."

Twining was asked whether he had assurances from the Russians that the Air Force men would be permitted to travel outside of Moscow.

He replied: "That is clear in the itinerary. We will go out of Moscow."

Twining said he was taking with him "the very best men we have in the Air Force to go on a trip like this."

He said they expected to be gone 10 to 12 days.

In deference to custom, the party will pick up a Russian navigator and radio operator in Berlin to shepherd them on the last lap of their 5,000-mile flight to Moscow.

Soviet Air Marshal Pavel A. Zhigarev, chief of Russia's air forces, is virtually certain to be invited to the U.S. soon to receive treatment paralleling that accorded Twining this weekend.

The Soviets are expected to bring out many of their latest jet fighters and bombers to put on an impressive air show.

Grocer Is Found Guilty of Health Code Violation

A 10-woman, two-man jury deliberated 40 minutes yesterday afternoon before convicting Leonard Grocer Thomas E. Flood, 22 Elmwood St., of permitting unsanitary conditions in his store.

Flood charge that a state food inspector promised him there would be no inspections if he gave the inspector $50. Flood will be sentenced July 2 by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Suspect in Shooting Taken Into Custody

Charlie Hampton, 51, of 593 Franklin Rd., was arrested yesterday afternoon by Pontiac police pending investigation of an alleged murder attempt at his residence June 9. He is in the Oakland County Jail.

Hampton, who was taken into custody at 8 N. Perry St., is alleged to have wounded another roomer with a shotgun at the Franklin road address.

Maben told investigating officers he had been hit by shots through the door of his room.

Annual Clifford Homecoming Set for July 6, 7, 8

CLIFFORD — A parade and talent show is among events being organized for the annual homecoming scheduled by the Clifford Oddfellows and Rebekahs for July 6, 7 and 8.

Parade volunteers are being organized by Albert Hyslop, Harley Hobson, Cecil Cotter and Grant Travis.

Talent is being recruited from surrounding areas by Mrs. Joe Baumgartner, Mrs. John D. Willson and Mrs. Floyd Kelley.

Queen candidates are in charge of Mrs. Clinton Long of Clifford and Mrs. Floyd Vollweiler of North Branch. Crowning will be July 7, at 10 a.m., with the parade following.

Chrysler May Seek British Firm Control

LONDON (INS)—Chrysler Corp. was rumored in London today to be attempting to gain financial control of one of Britian's "Big Five" auto manufacturers, the Standard Motor Co.

A spokesman for Chrysler denied that the American concern was involved in the recent heavy buying of stock in the $72 million British company.

Alan Dick, managing director of Standard Motors, confirmed the probability of a struggle for control of the company.

He said:

"There has been a pretty big buying from what we think is one source, which adds up to more than two million shares. The mystery man may be just buying for investment purposes, but we think he is going for control."

Boy, 16, Confesses to Double Slaying

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—A 16-year-old reform school inmate has confessed the year-old slaying of two teen-age girls in a park near the University of Maryland, State's Atty. Blair H. Smith of Prince Georges County reported today.

Smith said the youth, committed to the Maryland Training School for boys several weeks ago for car theft, gave police investigators a detailed account of ambushing the girls in a park with a .22 caliber repeater rifle. The scene is a few miles outside Washington, D. C.

Nancy Marie Shomette, 16, and Michael Ann Ryan, 14, were killed the morning of June 15, 1955, as they walked through the suburban park to get Nancy's report card at Northwestern High School.

"We are only checking out one or two inconsistencies before charging the boy, probably today," Smith said.

Not Yet, Friend

CARMI, Ill. (INS) — A. B. Cox, an ardent Democrat and supporter of Adlai E. Stevenson, has been charged with changing his Illinois ...se plate slogan from "Land ...oln" to "Land of Adlae."

Auto Rams House; Passenger Injured

Margaret A. Mason, 38, of Walled Lake, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after being injured Wednesday morning when the car in which she was riding went off the road and struck the side of a house.

The house, located at 3046 Southwind Dr., Commerce Township, was damaged to the extent of an estimated $2,000, according to deputies of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

They reported a bedroom wall was torn out in the crash and the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oathout, were thrown from their beds but were not hurt.

Thomas J. Elston, 42, of 1547 W. Long Lake Rd., the driver, later pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly when arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Steelworkers, Big 3 Resume Joint Talks

NEW YORK (INS) — Two four-man committees representing the United Steelworkers of America and the "big three" steel producers are meeting today to resume joint contract talks.

The union representatives of 650,000 steel workers switched strategy from efforts to sign steel firms individually to new contracts to replace the pacts expiring on June 30.

* * *

Joint talks with U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic were recessed on Sunday after a deadlock developed over management's proposals for a five-year wage contract. Since that time the union has sought more favorable terms from a dozen major steel companies. But the companies were offered the identical terms as presented by the "big three."

Spokesman for the producers indicated they plan no retreat from their offer of a long term pact calling for a fixed annual wage increases averaging 7.3 cents an hour, a full year layoff pay plan and other concessions.

The union has rejected the offer as "completely inadequate."

Fine Boys $25 Each for Mailbox Harm

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Four of five Detroit youths who Bloomfield Police say tore down about $70 worth of mail boxes and name plates from near local residences have been fined $25 each, plus being required to make restitution.

The fifth youth had returned to military service before Chief Stanley Kevern was able to track the partially-correct license numbers secured, to one of the youths.

Kevern phoned the youth, talked him into coming to the Hills station, and then persuaded him to bring his companions out to share costs and charges with him.

The boys, 18 to 22, gave no explanation of why they destroyed the boxes while they were driving through the area on a return from swimming.

Gas Fumes Take Life of Lake Orion Resident

A Lake Orion woman was found dead on the rear seat of her car early this morning on Indian Lake road, in Orion Township, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported today.

Mrs. Peggy M. Solan, 26, of 977 McClellans St., was pronounced dead from gas fumes by Dr. Isaac Prevette, deputy Oakland County coroner.

Investigating county deputies said a vacuum hose had been run from the exhaust pipe of her car in through the trunk.

Joanne Hunt, Detroiter Are Wed, Visit Wisconsin

ORCHARD LAKE — Following the wedding of W. Joanne Hunt of Orchard Lake to Detroiter William S. Weir, the couple left on a Northern Michigan and Wisconsin honeymoon.

* * *

On their return, they will reside at 233 Girard, Royal Oak.

The bride, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hunt, 7106 Arrowood Dr., wore a chantilly lace gown as she repeated vows before 200 guests in Orchard Lake Presbyterian Church.

Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Weir of Detroit.

The bridal gown was styled with tapered sleeves, a full skirt and chapel train, and a scalloped, boat neckline on the fitted bodice. A crown of lucite set with pearls and rhinestones held a fingertip veil of silk illusion. Stephanotis was knotted in streamers of her orchid bouquet.

MRS. WILLIAM S. WEIR

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Jean Hunt of Farmington. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Helen Lutz, of Staten Island, N. Y., and Virginia Soens of Detroit, while flower girl was Lynn Hunt, niece of the bride.

Aiding the bridegroom were James K. Hunt, his brother, as best man, and John Allen, his brother-in-law, and Kenneth Frink, as ushers.

A reception after the service was at the bride's parents' home.

SECTION 3. In consideration of the rights, power and authority hereby granted, all of which shall vest in the Grantee for a period of thirty (30) years as aforesaid, said Grantee shall faithfully perform all things required by the terms hereof.

SECTION 4. No highway, street, alley, bridge, or other public place used by said Grantee shall be obstructed longer than necessary during the work of construction or repair, and shall be restored to the same good order and condition as when such work was commenced. No part of the highways, streets, alleys, bridges or other public places of said Village shall be permitted to remain in a dangerous or unsafe condition by reason of anything done or omitted to be done by the Grantee, and it shall be liable for such damage as may be suffered by any person or corporation by reason of its negligence in the use of such highways, streets, alleys, bridges or other public places, and shall save harmless said Village from all damage and liability on account thereof.

SECTION 5. The Grantee shall be entitled to charge the inhabitants of said Village for gas, the rates as shown by the schedule now on file in the office of the Village Clerk. Said rates shall be subject to review and change at any time by the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, upon proper application by either said Grantee or the Village, acting by the Village Council, being made thereto, and the regularly filed rate as approved by said Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, as applicable to said Village of Wolverine Lake, shall at all times be the lawful rates.

All bills for gas furnished by the Grantee shall be payable monthly. The Grantee may collect the minimum charges as specified in said schedule. The Grantee shall also furnish and maintain commercially accurate meters to measure the gas so furnished, and it shall, by its representatives, have at all reasonable times, access to the premises of its customers for the purpose of reading, inspecting, removing and replacing such meters.

SECTION 6. Said Grantee shall construct and extend its gas distribution system within said Village, and shall furnish gas to applicants residing therein, whenever the amount of gas to be furnished thereby shall provide an adequate and reasonable return upon the cost of making such extensions and providing such service.

SECTION 7. The rights and authority herein granted are not exclusive. Either manufactured or natural gas may be furnished hereunder.

SECTION 8. Said Grantee shall, as to all other conditions and elements of service not herein fixed, be and remain subject to the reasonable rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, applicable to gas service in said Village.

SECTION 9. The franchise granted by this ordinance is not subject to revocation, and shall be and become valid and binding only upon its approval by the affirmative vote of at least three-fifths of the electors of the Village voting thereon at a regular or special municipal election to be held in the manner provided by law. Such franchise shall not be submitted to the electors unless the Grantee shall, within thirty days after the adoption of this ordinance, file with the Village Clerk its written acceptance thereof, subject only to such approval and such franchise, when accepted by the Grantee and approved by the electors as herein provided, shall constitute a contract between the Village and the Grantee, and shall be in force and effect for the term of thirty years from and after the date of approval by said electors.

We hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was duly enacted by the Village Council of the Village of Wolverine Lake, Michigan, on the 18th day of June, 1956.

ORDINANCE NO. 27
TOWNSHIP OF PONTIAC
ZONING ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE, enacted under Act 184, Public Acts 1943 of the State of Michigan, to provide for the establishment of zoning districts lying wholly within the unincorporated parts of the Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, within which zoning districts the use of land, natural resources and structures, including tents and trailer coaches, the height, area, the size and the location of buildings hereafter erected, the light and ventilation of such buildings, the area of yards, courts and other open spaces, and the density of population shall be regulated; to provide further for a method of administration, and to prescribe penalties for the violation of its provisions.

The Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, Ordains:

ARTICLE I
SHORT TITLE AND INTERPRETATION

Section 1.1—This Ordinance, of which the annexed zoning map is a part, shall hereafter be known and may be cited as the "Pontiac Township Rural Zoning Ordinance." In interpreting the words and terms used in this Ordinance, when not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the singular number include the plural number, and words in the plural number, include the singular. The word "shall" is always mandatory and not merely directory.

ARTICLE II

Definitions. For the purpose of this Ordinance, certain terms and the words used herein are defined as follows:

Section 2.1 Alley—A public thoroughfare or way which affords only a secondary means of access to abutting property.

Section 2.2 Alterations—Any change, addition or modification in construction or type of occupancy, any change in the structural members of a building, such as walls or partitions, columns, beams or girders, the consummated act of which may be referred to herein as "altered" or "reconstructed."

Section 2.3 Basement—That portion of a building, wholly or partly below the average grade of ground level adjoining the building is a basement when the height from grade up to the first tier of floor beams or joists is less than the height from the grade down to the floor; provided, however, that if the vertical distance from the grade to the first tier of floor beams or joists is five (5) feet or more, such basement shall be considered a story.

Section 2.4 Building—A structure having a roof supported by columns or walls for the shelter, support or enclosure of persons, animals or chattels, is a building. When any portion thereof is completely separated from every other part thereof by division walls from the ground up, and without openings, each portion of such building shall be deemed a separate building.

Section 2.5 Building, Accessory—A subordinate building, or structure, or a part of the main building, occupied or devoted exclusively to an accessory use, or a use purely incidental to that of the main building.

Section 2.6 Building Permit—A building permit is the written authority issued by the Building Inspector of the Township or by the Appeal Board permitting the construction, removal, moving, alterations or use of a building in conformity to the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 2.7 Canal—An artificially constructed or excavated channel connecting two bodies of water; used for navigation purposes or boat docks or providing means of ingress or egress to a body of water for the use of internal building lots, shall be known as a canal and must have a minimum width of fifty (50) feet and a minimum depth of water at the centerline of ten (10) feet. All banks must be at a maximum angle of 45 degrees, an upslope of one (1) to one (1), and completely sodded to prevent wash or erosion thereof.

Section 2.8 Dwelling—A dwelling is any house, building, structure, tent, shelter, trailer or vehicle, or portion thereof, except railroad cars on tracks or rights-of-way, which is used wholly in whole or in part as the home, residence, living or sleeping place of one or more human beings, either transiently or permanently. A house trailer or other vehicle, when occupied or used as a dwelling shall be subject to all the provisions of this ordinance, except that house trailers or other vehicles, duly licensed as vehicles may be occupied or used as a dwelling for reasonable periods or lengths of time, without being otherwise subject to the provisions of this Ordinance for dwellings, when located in a park or place designated or licensed for the purpose by the Township and State: Provided, that such parking sites are equipped with adequate safety and sanitary facilities.

Section 2.9 Dwelling One Family—A building used or intended to be used as a dwelling by not more than one family, and so designed and arranged as to provide living, cooking and kitchen accommodations for one (1) family only.

Section 2.10 Dwelling Multiple Dwelling—A multiple dwelling is a dwelling other than a single family dwelling designed with separate facilities for use by more than one family and with a minimum floor space of five hundred (500) square feet or more per family.

Section 2.11 Existing Building—An existing building is a building existing in whole or the foundations of which are complete and the construction of which is being prosecuted on the date of this Ordinance or of the original Interim Zoning Ordinance.

Section 2.12 Erected—Includes built, constructed, reconstructed, moved upon, or any physical operation on the land required for the building. Excavations, fill, drainage, and the like shall be considered a part of erection.

Section 2.13 Family—One or more persons occupying a dwelling unit and living as a single, non-profit housekeeping unit.

Section 2.14 Farm—All of the contiguous neighboring or associated land operated as a single unit on which bona fide farming is carried on directly by the owner-operator, manager or tenant farmer, by his own labor or with the assistance of members of his household or hired employees, provided, however, that land to be considered a farm hereunder shall include a continuous parcel of more than ten (10) acres in area; Provided further, farms may be considered as including establishments operated as bona fide greenhouses, nurseries, orchards, chicken hatcheries, poultry farms and apiaries, but establishments keeping or operating fur-bearing animals, riding or boarding stables, commercial dog kennels, game, fish hatcheries, piggeries, stockyards, stone quarries or gravel or sand pits shall not be considered farms hereunder unless combined with bona fide farm operations on the same continuous tract of land of not less than forty (40) acres.

Section 2.15 Farm Buildings—Any building or structure other than a dwelling, moved upon, maintained, used or built on a farm which is essential and customarily used on farms of that type for the pursuit of their agricultural activities.

Section 2.16 Garage, Private—A space or structure suitable for the storage of motor vehicles having no public shop or service in connection therewith, for the use solely of the owner or occupant of the principal building on a lot, or of his family or domestic employees.

Section 2.17 Garage Public—A space or structure other than a private garage, for the storage, care, repair or refinishing of motor vehicle; Provided however, that a structure or room used solely for the display and sale of such vehicles in which they are not operated under their own power, and in connection with which there is no repair, maintenance, or re-finishing service, or a storage of vehicles other than those displayed, shall not be considered as a public garage for the purpose of this Ordinance.

Section 2.18 Garage Community—A community garage is a space or structure or series of structures for the storage of motor vehicles having no public shop or service operated in connection therewith, for the use of two or more owners or occupants of property in the vicinity.

Section 2.19. Gasoline Station—A building or structure designed or used for the retail sale or supply of fuels, lubricants, air, water and other operating commodities for motor vehicles, and including the customary space and facilities for the installation of such commodities on or in such vehicles, but not including space or facilities for the storage, repair, refinishing or other servicing thereof.

Section 2.20. Grade—The mean curb level; or when the curb level has not been established or all the walls of the building are more than fifteen (15) feet from street lot lines, grade means the mean elevation of the ground adjoining on all sides.

Section 2.21 Highway—A public thoroughfare or street, except alleys, but including Federal, State, and County Roads appearing upon plats recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Oakland County, Michigan.

Section 2.22 Lot—A lot is a piece or parcel of land occupied or to be occupied by a building and its accessory buildings or by any other activity permitted thereon and including the open spaces required under this Ordinance and having its frontage upon a public street or any private way used for street purposes. A lot may or may not be specifically designated as such on public records. Provided however, that the owner of any number of contiguous lots may have as many of said contiguous lots considered as a single lot for the purpose of this Ordinance as he so elects, and in such case the outside perimeter of said group of lots shall constitute the front, rear and side lot lines thereof.

Section 2.23. Corner Lot—A corner lot is a lot of which at least two adjacent sides abut for their full length upon a street, provided that such two sides intersect at an angle of not more than one hundred thirty-five (135) degrees. A lot abutting a curved street or streets shall be considered a corner lot if the tangents to the curve at its points of beginning within the lot or at the points of intersection are not more than one-hundred thirty-five (135) degrees. In the case of a corner lot with a curved street line, the corner shall be considered to be that point on the street and lot line nearest to the point of intersection of the tangents herein described.

Section 2.24 Lot Line, Front—That boundary of a lot which abuts on a highway or street unless such lot extends between a highway and a lake or river, in which case both the highway boundary line and the lake or river boundary lines shall be considered as front lot lines.

Section 2.25. Lot line, Rear—The rear lot line is that boundary which is opposite and most distant from the front lot line. In the case of a lot pointed at the rear, the rear lot line shall be that assumed line parallel to the front lot line not less than ten (10) feet long lying farthest from the front lot line and wholly within the lot.

Section 2.26. Lot Line, Side—Any lot boundary line not a front lot line or a rear lot line. A side lot line separating a lot from a street is a side street or side road lot line. A side lot line separating a lot from another lot or lots is an interior side lot line.

Section 2.27. Motor Courts; Motels—A building or a group of buildings in which overnight lodging is provided and offered to the public for compensation and catering primarily to the public traveling by motor vehicles; But not including hotels, tourist homes or rooming houses.

Section 2.28 Occupancy Load—The number of individuals normally occupying the building or part thereof, or for which the existing facilities have been designed.

WHEELER, Texas (INS)—Left-handedness is not always inherited, as many people think, but may be the result of improper training in infancy.

* * *

That is the opinion of H. M. Wiley of Wheeler who has conducted an extensive survey of left-handedness in Texas schools and industrial plants.

Wiley, a retired gas company official, who now is president of the Wheeler County School Board, is a left-hander himself.

He explains he is trying to eliminate left-handedness because it handicaps many persons throughout their lives. He says our entire economy is geared for right-handers. Wiley says he discovered during his survey that many industrial plants will not hire left-handed persons because the machines they use are made for right-handers.

Wiley says mothers start teaching right-handedness as soon as their babies can grasp toys.

He reports that he has found left-handedness on the increase, at least in Texas, and that it mounts during periods of stress, such as war or depression.

He interprets this to mean that such times of tension cause neglect in the proper training of children.

Heine Dead 100 Years

DUESSELDORF, Germany—The 100th anniversary of the death of Heinrich Heine, the German poet, is being marked in Germany this year with a number of ceremonies. His Duesseldorf birthplace is being rebuilt and a commemorative postage stamp will be issued.

Bus Driver's Hobby: Collects Bus Tokens

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Johnny Jones, a bus driver, collects more bus tokens when he's out of the driver's seat than when at the wheel. Jones is a vecturist.

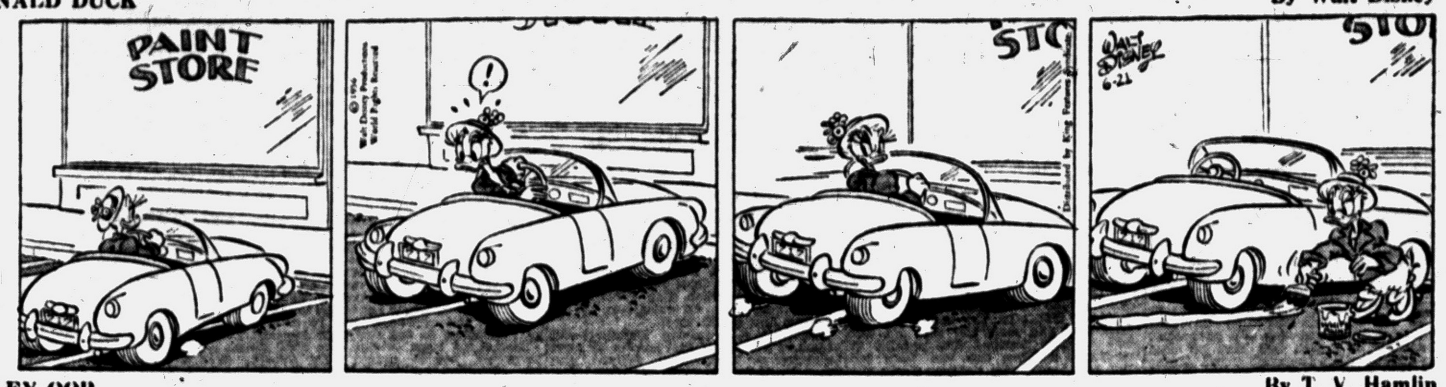

Vecturists collect bus tokens for a hobby. They also collect any other kind of transit token they can get their hands on.

He has tokens from each state and every U.S. possession. They are all sizes and shapes: Stars, diamonds, crescents, ovals, and some that defy geometrical classification.

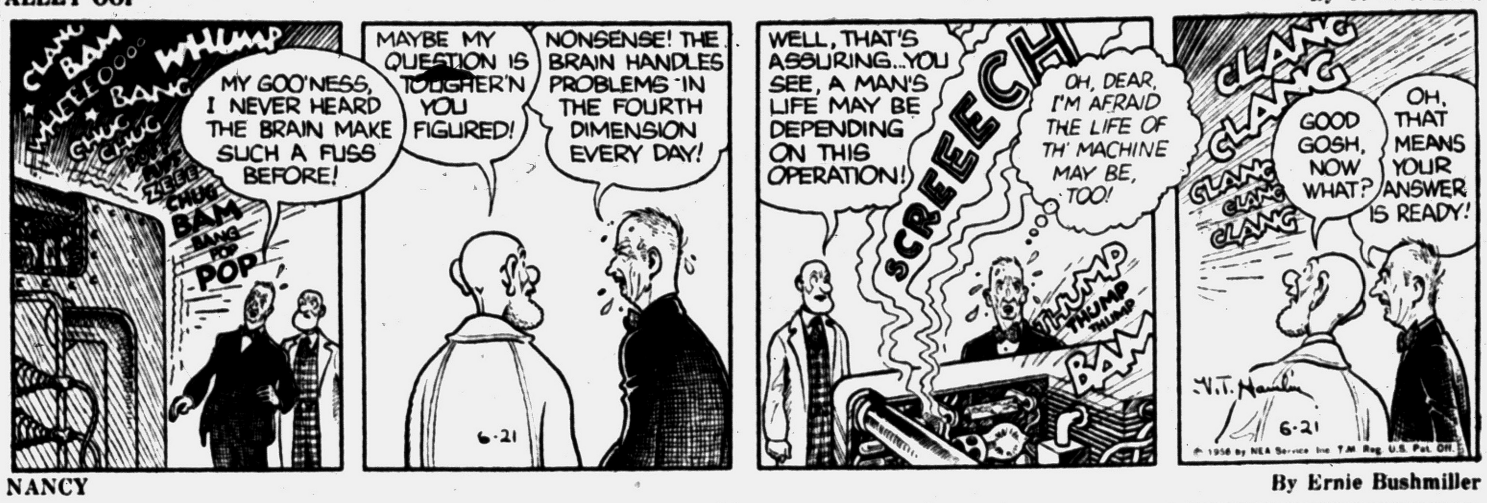

There are tokens used all the way back in the mid-1800s. But the one that really is his favorite comes from a small California town. It dangles from the end of his watch chain. The token has a big "J" in the center and the legend around the initial reads: "Jones Transportation Company."

Well, bus drivers can dream, too.

Wheat Market Sales Quiet

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat eased slightly in quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today. Other cereals started a little higher but new crop soybeans turned downward as trading progressed.

Dealings were rather slow and the market seemed to lack incentive. Failure of Greece to buy soybeans oil overnight was a disappointment but this export business was still expected and helped July soybeans.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅜ lower, July $2.08¼; corn ⅜-¾ higher; July $1.48¼; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, July 66⅛; rye unchanged to higher, July $1.23; soybeans unchanged to ¾ lower, July $3.00; lard unchanged to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.00.

Petroleum Firm Picks New Regional Manager

Henry J. Muller, assistant manager of Socony Mobil's central region since November, 1955, has been appointed manager of the region, effective July 1, it was announced today by Vern A. Bellman, manager of domestic marketing.

MULLER

Muller was manager of the company's White Star division with headquarters in Detroit from 1946 to Nov. 15, 1955.

He will succeed H. T. Ashton, who will retire after 43 years in the oil industry.

Socony Mobil's central region, with headquarters in Chicago, includes five marketing divisions and covers 16 states, extending from Ohio west to Wyoming, Montana, and Colorado; and north from Kansas and Missouri to the Canadian border.

After having been closed for three years the Cotton Exchange at Alexandria, Egypt, has been reopened to permit "futures" operations.

Market Shows Moderate Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Moderate gains and quiet early trading prevailed in the Stock Market today.

Pivotal issues went ahead fractions to around a point.

* * *

There was slightly more activity in motors than other divisions as General Motors remained firm and Chrysler advanced around a point.

Oils showed a good front of gains. Panhandle Oil, which has figured on the most-active list for the past five sessions, opened on a big block of 15,000 shares, unchanged at 16⅜.

Chrysler opened on a block of 1,200 shares, up ¾ at 64⅞, Peabody Coal on 2,000 shares up ⅛ at 14⅛, U. S. Steel on 1,000 up ⅛ at 55½ and Ford on 1,000 up ⅛ at 54¾.

* * *

Among aircrafts, Douglas advanced around a point while Boeing and United Aircraft rose fractionally.

Yesterday, aircrafts and motors led the market to its first advance of the week. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 30 cents to $181.20 in another slow session

JAMES R. STELT

Former City Official Heads Business Unit

James R. Stelt, 30, onetime city personnel manager for Pontiac, has been named executive director of the Pontiac Lumber, Fuel and Builders' Supply Exchange, President Frederick J. Poole announced yesterday.

* * *

He succeeds Frank Ruf who retired last year, and is the third person to hold the position since the exchange was organized in 1928, Poole said.

* * *

Stelt left his city government position in October 1955 to accept an appointment as city manager of Otsego, a position he held until last month. He had been personnel manager here for over three years.

* * *

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Stelt has done graduate work at Wayne University and before coming to Pontiac was employed as a personnel examiner by the City of Detroit.

News in Brief

DEARBORN (INS)—Ford Motor Co. announced yesterday that increased demand for new cars will result in an eight per cent hike in production of Ford cars next month.

The company added that June sales were running almost six per cent above May.

U. of M. Buys Hoover Company Property

ANN ARBOR (INS)—The Hoover Ball and Bearing Co. today announced sale of land and buildings to the University of Michigan.

* * *

The university will take over the property late next year, moving its plant service department from crowded main campus quarters to the Hoover land.

A spokesman for Hoover, one of the nation's largest producers, said the firm expects to build a modern plant, "probably in the Ann Arbor area."

Township of Bloomfield
Oakland County, Michigan

Water System No. 1, 3¼% and 3½% Revenue Bonds

Dated: May 1, 1956 Due: April 1, 1958-1977

Principal and semi-annual interest (April 1 and October 1, first coupon due October 1, 1956) payable at a fiscal agency to be designated.

Bonds maturing on and after April 1, 1960 will be callable in inverse numerical order on any interest payment date on or after April 1, 1959; provided that no bonds less than the entire issue then outstanding shall be called for redempetion at any time prior to April 1, 1966 at prices downward from 105 to 100½.

MATURITIES AND PRICES

3¼% Bonds Due 1958-1968—Priced to yield 2.20% to 3.20%
3½% Bonds Due 1969-1977—Priced to yield 3.25% to 3.40%

Bloomfield Township is largely composed of high type residential areas which are closely restricted. It includes some of the most exclusive and wealthy residential sections in the State. The Township has no direct debt. It levies no general taxes, as state-shared taxes are sufficient to cover operating costs.

Water System No. 1 largely comprises the area extending from the westerly limits of Birmingham, to Lahser Road, and from Fourteen Mile Road to Quarton Road, except portions of the District located immediately north of Fourteen Mile Road and at the corner of Lahser Road and Quarton Road.

These bonds, in the opinion of Counsel, will not be a general obligation of the Township, but will be payable only from the net revenues of Water System No. 1, including all improvements, enlargements, and extensions thereof. A first lien has been created on the net revenues for the paymnt of thes bonds and any additional bonds of equal standing.

These bonds are offered when as and if issued and received by us, subject to approval of legality by Berry, Stevens, and Moorman, Attorneys, Detroit, Mich.

Proposed Merger Discussed

No Loss of Freedom Seen in Congregational Church

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Congregational Christians were assured today that their traditional "freedom of faith and manner of worship" won't be hampered in a proposed, historic merger with another denomination.

* * *

An executive committee, headed by the Rev. Dr. Raymond Walker, of Portland, Ore., declared that the relationship of individual congregations to the new Congregational Christian General Council moved into its second day.

The committee sought to answer rumblings of complaint that the union might apply central coercion on the keenly-cherished "local autonomy" of Congregational Christian churches.

Brought together in the merger would be two churches of distinctly separate origins and organizational customs—the first such union in America to bridge such a gap in the multiple families of protestantism.

* * *

An opposing group, led by the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, of Pontiac, Mich., proposes that no congregation be considered a part of the union, unless it takes definite affirmative action saying it wants to be in it.

Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, of Boston, moderator of the Congregational Christian Churches, told the meeting last night the vitality of the church has always derived from its ability to progress and adapt to new needs.

"We have the ability to change — to change without losing our faith or our freedom," he said.

Earlier, the delegates unanimously elected George B. Hastings, a Grant, Neb., attorney and a former county prosecutor and state senator, as Council moderator, the church's top elective post. He succeeds Dr. Coe at the end of the current meeting.

In accepting the office, he said "I would plead for unity of spirit, unity of purpose and unity in organization."

Bristling attacks on the proposed church union marked the opening session, and drew a plea later from the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Bradford, of Jaffrey, N.H., that the subject be approached under God's guidance.

* * *

"If this be our way of procedure we shall at no moment cease to be a council and become a crowd," he said.

He said the merger represents "an attempt to give practical expression to ideals cherished for generations."

Congregational Christians, with their strictly self-ruled congregations, have their roots in English protestantism and the early pilgrims, while the Evangelical and Refordmed Church was planted in this country from a German and Swiss background.

* * *

"It has a more coordinated governing system, with individual churches related to the national general synod on principles similar to those by which states are related to the U.S. government.

But the plan of union promises that all congregations in the new church will retain "the rights now enjoyed."

The executive committee, expanding on this, said "there is no power or authority and none is claimed by which the General Council" could make individual churches a part of the union.

* * *

But a subtle question intruded into the discussion: Does a church have to say specifically it wants in the union to be in? Or does it have to take specific negative action in order to keep out?

Excursion Boat Tested

SAUGATUCK (AP) — The Island Queen II excursion boat is getting its shakedown cruise in Lake Kalamazoo following launching ceremonies. Dick Hoffman, owner and skipper of the 60-ft craft, built the diesel powered stern wheeler for Lake Michigan moonlight trips. The first Island Queen carries vacationers around Kent Lake at Kensington park near Detroit.

ALL FOR 50 CENTS—Auto salesman Tom Clark, 32, and his wife, Lucy, also 32, of Richmond, Va., stand in front of their French Renault in New York City shortly before starting their challenging New York to Los Angeles—and return—auto trip. The Clark's hope to cover the 5,750 miles in less than 120 hours to win a 50-cent side pocket to win the 50-cent bet.

Clark estimated it would cost him about $450 out of his own bet.

The Lebanon Mountains in Syria extend for about 100 miles along the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea.

U. S. Schoolteacher Now Israeli Foreign Minister

JERUSALEM, Israeli sector (AP) —A Russian-born schoolteacher from Milwaukee arrived in Palestine with her Zionist husband in 1921.

She wanted to serve her new country, then governed by Britain under a League of Nations mandate. She decided the struggling Zionists needed farm hands more than they needed teachers so she studied poultry raising and became a laborer in northern Palestine.

* * *

That humble beginning started Mrs. Golda Myerson, now 58, on the long career climaxed by her appointment as Israel's new foreign minister this week. She succeeded Moshe Sharett, whose moderate views did not jibe with Premier Ben-Gurion's plans.

For most of her life she has balanced headwork with handwork.

She was born May 3, 1898, in Kiev, Ukraine, the daughter of a Russian Jewish carpenter. Eight years later her family joined thousands of other Jews fleeing pogroms and oppression.

The family — named Mabovitz — settled in Milwaukee. Golda attended primary and high schools and graduated from a teachers' training college. She knew these American opportunities would have been denied her because of her race in Czarist Russia.

She began teaching sixth grades in Milwaukee. Then she got into library work in Milwaukee, Chicago and New York.

* * *

Her marriage to the ardent Zionist Morris Myerson changed the whole course of her life.

She did relief work for Eastern European Jews caught in the economic crisis after World War I. She helped prepare for the World Jewish Congress that demanded minority rights for Eastern Europe's Jewish communities.

During this period she discovered one of her greatest talents — eloquence. When her conservative father learned she was to address a street corner meeting, he said he would go down and pull her off the soapbox.

Instead he was swept away by her words, like the others in the audience.

Then she found another talent — organizing. She moved to Tel Aviv in the midtwenties and took an active part in Histadrut, the General Federation of Jewish Labor. She changed it from a trade union into an all-round enterprise which in time embraced dozens of organizations. They included unions of both workers and consumers, and cultural and welfare groups.

* * *

Politics was the next logical step. The Mapai (labor) party sent her as a delegate to the World Zionist Congress. A year later she represented Palestine workers at the British empire labor conference, persuading Britgain's Labor government to ease some of the restrictions on Zionist laborers.

In 1948 she began what she hoped would be a fruitful diplomatic career as Israel's first ambassador to Russia. Masses of Russian Jews turned out in Moscow to greet her.

Then came disillusionment. The Soviets clamped down on Jewish cultural institutions, seized many Jewish leaders, and executed some of them.

* * *

In 1949 Mrs. Myerson returned to Israel to become ministers of labor.

She led Israel's delegation to the U.N. in 1953.

Now a widow, Mrs. Myerson lives in a three-room apartment in a two-story house in Jerusalem's Talbieh suburb.

Burglars Invade Office, Steal $5 From Drawer

Five dollars in silver was taken and safe ransacked in Wednesday morning breakin at a Holly experimental process firm, Oakland County Sheriff's detective said today.

* * *

The silver was reportedly stolen from a desk drawer.

Owner Samuel Hobbs Jr., told investigators the safe was empty at the time of the breakin except for papers. Entry was gained by a window, according to Detective Leo Hazen.

Steve Allen's Studio Audience Covered by Insurance

MGM Film Invasion Sends TV 770 Shows

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio has announced plans for a full scale invasion of television.

* * *

Some 770 feature films, covering the studio's output from the advent of talking pictures to 1949, will be made available for TV through a distribution organization set up by the studio itself, officials said yesterday.

In addition, some 900 short films will be released for television and the studio will produce new material especially for the home viewing audience. MGM also plans to acquire ownership interests in TV stations.

* * *

Among the feature pictures to be shown on television are "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "Mrs. Miniver," "The Wizard of Oz," "Grand Hotel," "The Good Earth," "The Yearling," "Easter Parade," "Meet Me in St. Louis," "A Tale of Two Cities," "Gaslight," and "Random Harvest."

If their populations continue to increase at the present rates, the Latin American countries will have 550 million people 45 years hence compared to about 181 million today.

Wilsons on Their Way Into Russian Regions

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I'm off to Moscow to have a look at the biggest news story in the world today.

So we're popping into our seats on the Pan-Am double-decker and shooting off to London . . . Copenhagen . . . Stockholm . . . then "On to Moscow!"—in time for the Moscow Air Show June 24.

"Mr. Veelson"—that's how I'm known at the Russian Embassy where I got the visas for the Flying Wilsons—not to be confused with an acrobatic act.

"Mr. Veelson, vee have your weesas," they said one day last winter after we'd waited only about 3½ weeks.

★ ★ ★

Sure we're excited. I saw the Coronation and Grace Kelly's wedding—I was even at the opening of "My Fair Lady"—but seriously what's going on over there in Vodkaland would seem from the headlines to be big stuff—"RRRREALLY BIG," as Ed Sullivan would say.

We'll be in Russia 20 days . . . hitting Leningrad, Odessa, Kiev, Tiflis, where Stalin came from, and the fancy shmansy resort, Sochi.

You won't get much political reporting from me because I'm a square that way.

I hope to run into lots of Americans because the Cosmos Travel agency, one of the Intourist representatives here, tells me about 40 visas are being issued to Americans every week now. Gabriel Reiner, the boss man, predicts next year, when Pan-Am'll probably be flying in, they'll go by the hundreds.

Naturally, I'd like to find out why the Russians are so anxious to have us over there now and why they let us in with so little—you'll pardon the expression—Red tape

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Comic Sam Levenson complained to Perry Como's script chief, Goodman Ace, that one of his best gags had been used on the Como show. (It was the line about a new diet: "Eat all you want—but don't swallow.") . . . Elvis Presley bought his fourth Cadillac, an all-white convertible . . . Margaret Truman was offered a dramatic TV role, non-singing.

TERRY

Mary Pickford sighs about current film stars: "It's a shame they're rated by the inch instead of the talent" . . . The Eastern Dude Ranch Assn. chose a Brooklynite, Terry Williams, as its '56 Queen.

Lillian Roth, refusing to play a drunk, says, "I'll play anything . . . neurotics or psychotics, but not alcoholics."

★ ★ ★

Jack Benny's plotting a return to films; he's reading two scripts . . . Kim Novak's off to H'wood and her new purple apartment . . . Alan Dale and Buddy Hackett are getting offers to team up, a la Martin and Lewis

EARL'S PEARLS—The highways would be much safer if an ounce of prevention were added to every gallon of gasoline.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Florian Zabach recalls this description of a hangover: "When the brew of the night meets the cold of the day."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A very patriotic American, notes Cy N. Peace, is one who won't order from a menu anything he can't pronounce.

Singer Richard Hayes, leaving the Army next week, used to be on TV with Jack Paar, who's leaving CBS. "Awful," says Dick, "—we're both losing our sponsors." That's earl, brother.

Committee OKs 5 Million to Deepen Detroit River

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Louis Rabaut (D-Mich) announced yesterday that the House and Senate Conference Committee on the public works bill has approved a $5 million appropriation to begin deepening the Detroit River channel.

The project is in anticipation of the St. Lawrence Seaway. It is expected to get under way in July.

A study of college students showed they average three colds a year.

Team to Dance Across Skylight

Elvis Presley Eyed for 'Billy the Kid' Role in First Coe Movie

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Lloyds of London has insured the whole studio audience of Steve Allen's premiere comedy hour Sunday because of a "slide for life" dance across a skylight of the TV theater by Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander . . .

Fred Coe's first movie (United Artists) has Fred in a quandary that amazes everyone—he's trying to make up his mind whether to star Paul Newman or Elvis-the-Pelvis Presley in "Billy the Kid."

The move's on again for the film industry to finance its Oscar awards show instead of peddling it down the channels to outside sponsors . . .

The hassle over Gene Autry's fall-out with his chewing gum sponsor (not too pleasant a parting) blew solvently at Pat Buttram, who formerly made a small salary doing the commercials. The sponsor hired Pat to star in his own show in Autry's place at $2,000 per week, more if or when it gets ratings.

NBC will try major changes in its "Weekday" radio series . . .

MacRAE PONDERED

Gordon MacRae seems to be getting every role everywhere this year so he's up for the "Frank Merriwell" part in the TV series of that fine old name . . .

There's a move on to create a "TV Hall of Fame," but we think the medium's too young for it . . . Some pioneers, successful but not very good, could be press-agented into such a collection so we think it's best to wait . . .

Snooky Lanson takes over for nine NBC weeks while Dinah Shore vacations starting July 17.

Uncle Miltie will be sailing for Europe in the fall, at about the time he'd normally be starting another TV season . . .

His sponsors will be paying Walter Winchell $40,000 per week for his fall TV variety.

NEW KIND OF POLL

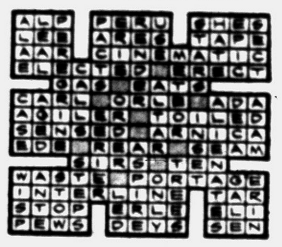

One poll-taker has a rating system for TV shows "people are talking about." You don't have to see them, just mention them.

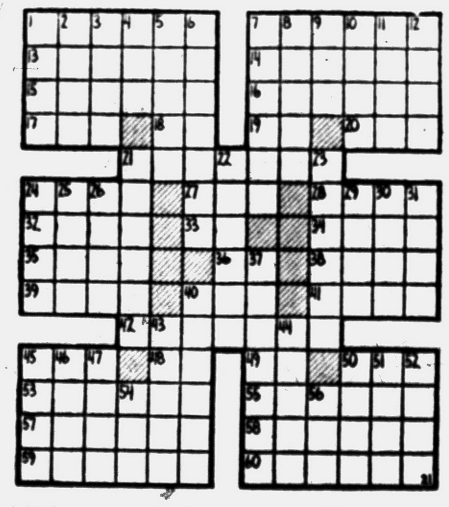

To show there's some connection between polls of all sorts, here are the top 15 "most talked about" in May: $64,000 Question, Lawrence Welk, Phil Silvers, Ed Sullivan, This Is Your Life, Lucy, Climax, Edgar Bergen's wife-truster, $64,000 Challenge, Person-to-Person, Medic, Perry Como, Studio One, Wide Wide World, and Kraft Theatre's "A Night to Remember."

Graham McNamee used one of three mikes at the 1924 Dem convention; NBC this year will use hundreds of mikes and 40 TV cameras . . . at each convention . . .

The song hitting the jukes, "My Home Town," is the original theme of the soap opera "Wendy Warren" . . . written by mood-music organist Clarke Morgan.

But Parents Should Not Exploit Them

Mimic Thinks All Kids Are Natural Actors

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—If you know a small child with vast potential for being an actor, there are two things to do about it:

1.) Don't tell him he's a genius.

2.) Lock him in the basement.

"It always amuses me when a parent says, 'Now watch Johnny, he's a natural actor,'" says a trained actor named Allen Swift. "All kids are natural actors and mimics. Before the parents botch up the job and give them inhibitions, they're good. . .

"But the worst thing parents can do is to think they have a little genius on their hands, and promote him into becoming a professional. Because I've never seen a child actor who didn't turn out to be mixed-up and obnoxious!"

Swift is not speaking with the traditional jealous, sour-grapes attitude of an adult actor who has thrown away too many scenes to child stars. He is speaking as a 32-year-old gent who thought he was pretty great at the age of 8 and was—fortunately—put in his place.

* * *

That was in 1932 when an aunt in Philidelphia took him to see a double-feature movie starring, in order of appearence, Maurice Chevalier, Will Rogers and Zazu Pitts.

STRANGE EXPERIENCE

"On the way to the soda shop afterwards," he remembers, "I had a strange experience. I felt inside me that I could talk like Chevalier and Pitts and Rogers.

"I waited for awhile till I was sure I could do it—kids can convince themselves of anything—and then I popped out with an imitation."

His aunt looked startled. It was "eerie," she said ecstatically.

His father was not so impressed. Any time Allen would start to mimic a movie star or family friend, he was suppressed with the words "everybody can do that if they want to."

And so, in the quite of his own room, Allen Swift practiced glibly to himself—not achieving the applause of the throngs, but achieving perfection, instead. He is known today as "the man with a thousand voices."

* * *

Also an actor, songwriter, dramatist and painter, Swift gets his lucrative income from radio and TV.

On both media, he is the "voice" behind such famed and fascinating personalities as Mighty Mouse, Howdy Doody, Dinky Duck, Herman the Mouse ("I'm known particularly in the rodent field") and many unsual sounds on radio-TV commercials.

When the U.N. planned a show for which they needed the voices of F.D.R and Winston Churchhill, Swift was the man they called upon.

"I've evolved my own theory on simulating voices and dialects," he says, "It is a complex one—involving analyzing the personality of the subject before you try, with your own vocal chords, to imitate his voice.

"The most difficult voices to mimic are the average, or non-characteristic, ones. Naturally.

It's like a charicaturist's art. The more perfect the features of a person, the more tough it is to capture him in carieature."

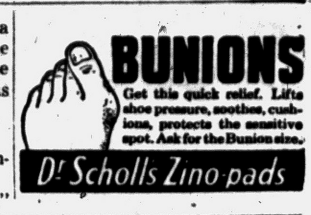

Swifts says there is no such thing as a "normal voice."

"The important thing in the voice of a person is that it must go with his appearance and personality. For instance, a big man with a high and weak voice has a voice that jars. Keep your voice in line with your personality and it is pleasant to the listener."

Swift said my voice was okay.

"Technically, I'd call it a 'woman's fog voice,'" he smiled.

"Fits the personality very well."
